Free Movies for Participants in Dandelion Derby

C. of C. Sponsors Move to Clean Weeds from Ord, All Children Invited to Take Part.

In cooperation with Clean-Up Week, which Mayor M. B. Cummins has proclaimed to start May 11 and continue through May 17, the Ord Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a unique event which will, it is hoped, rid Ord of dandelions to a great extent.

Ord's first "dandelion derby" will start next Monday and continue throughout the week and all children of school age are eligible to take part. Cash prizes of $2.50, $1.50 and $1.00 will be paid and in addition every boy or girl who digs a bushel of dandelions will receive a free ticket to the movies Saturday afternoon, May 17, where the feature picture will be "Back in the Saddle," with Gene Autry, and the companion feature "Jennie," as well as a sport reel.

Committee in charge of the event for the Chamber will include Hilding Pearson as chairman, A. L. Hill, K. W. Peterson, John R. Haskell and E. C. Leggett.

All any boy or girl has to do to get a free ticket to the movies, good for the show Saturday, May 17, is to dig a bushel of dandelion plants and turn them in to a committee member between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. of that day, on the vacant lot back of the building in which Ben's Grill is located.

By "a bushel of dandelions" is meant a bushel basket of the plants and roots, well packed down. Children may bring their dandelions in a gunny sack or other receptacle, as they please, and they will be measured in bushel baskets by the committee.

To each child who turns in a bushel of dandelions a free movie ticket will be given, and as prizes for those boys and girls who want to compete, $2.50 will be given to the child who digs the most bushels of dandelions, $1.50 for the second largest quantity, and $1.00 for the third largest quantity. As each child turns in his first bushel he will be asked if he wants to compete for the prizes, and if he does a record will be kept of all he turns in. Only one bushel of the plants is necessary to get the free movie ticket.

Mrs. Anna Socha Now Running Swift Station

A deal was entered into yesterday whereby Mrs. Anna Socha has taken over the Swift cream station located in the first building east of the Co-op Oil company and across the street from the postoffice.

Ben Weisker, who has been in charge of the station for some time, will return to his home in Ashton. Mrs. Socha is well known in the Ord territory, and for this reason she should have a good run of business.

Senior Play Aably Presented Tuesday

A jam-packed house laughed the evening away Tuesday when the senior class of the Ord high school gave the play "What A Life," which is built around the troubles of young Henry Aldrich. Bob Gruber as the young hero tried to hem and haw his way out of a succession of dilemmas, and Phyllis Munn capably played the part of his sweet, attractive girl friend.

David Milliken as the sympathetic assistant principal was adult and competent, and Mr. Bradley, the principal, was efficiently portrayed by Orville Stoddard. Their smart-cracking secretary was Phyllis Dodge, well cast in the part. Dean Misko was the smooth young villain satisfactorily, and Warren Allen was super in the role of the wise detective from headquarters.

Carol Hall was good as the distracted mother and Calvin Ferris did all right as a bewildered parent of foreign background. Thelma Richardson as the fluttry music teacher was satisfactory, and there were many others in the cast who did bit parts to the joy of the audience. Among them were Vernor Bartholemew, Myrnie Auble, Harvey Dahlin, Betty Flynn, Maxine Long, Gerry Noll, Marian Wardrop, Maxine Zukoski, Doris Cushing, Margaret Petska, Jim Oillis and Bob Klima. The life-like troubles of Henry more than entertained the crowd, which thought the senior class did itself proud. Miss Wilma Shavlik coached the production, Miss Slot and Miss Kernodie are class sponsors.

Cetack Catches Large Catfish. Joe Cetack qualified as the champion fisherman of 1941 when he pulled a 9 pound, 10 ounce catfish out of the North Loup river last night. He wouldn't tell where he caught it, as he seems to be afraid he would have too much competition there in the future.

Dr. Auble, Dick Koupal, To Conduct Three Bands

At a meeting held in Taylor Friday evening the people of the community decided to have Dr. Glen D. Auble and Dick Koupal help them out with developing a community band this summer. They had approached Dr. Auble about the proposition in the past, but he felt that the Constock and Sargent bands were taking all the time he could spare. However, he has made arrangements with Dick Koupal to work with him in handling the three bands this summer, and in this way all of them can be taken care of. This arrangement is meeting the approval of the bands of all three towns. Taylor already has a school band of 20 pieces, developed by the music instructor, Miss Mary Matthews.

Ord Golf Team Played at Kearney State Meet

Supt. C. C. Thompson took the Ord high golf team, Ray Furtak, Bill Malolepszy and Raymond Vogelitz, to Kearney Friday, where they entered the competition in the state high school golf tournament, in which a total of 14 schools were entered. The Ord team landed in sixth place, and Malolepszy was fifth in the individual competition. He lost a tie for fourth place by one point. The four low men stayed over and played Saturday to determine their individual standing. It was a bad day for the competition, and none of the scores made were near a record.

Derrick Going Up Now, Bredthauer to Drill for Oil

Vogeler Land West of No. Loup Site of Valley County's First Test Well.

Drilling for oil will start at once on the Vogeler land, three miles west and a half mile north of North Loup, it is stated today by Henry Bredthauer, Scotia man who is spokesman for a group of Grand Island, St. Paul and Scotia men who have invested money in the attempt to find oil in Valley county. Cost of the test well will be $22,500 and the money has been deposited in escrow in a Grand Island bank. A driller from Wichita, Kas., will drill to a depth of 4,000 feet if necessary to determine oil and gas possibilities of this region.

Experienced derrick men from the Kansas field are at work now preparing the foundation for the derrick, and the steel derrick pieces are on the ground. The first location will be the northwest part of what Mr. Bredthauer calls "the Scotia structure" and drilling by the rotary method will start shortly, he says.

Bredthauer has been actively engaged in preparations for this test well for some time. He has signed up a large block of acreage in Valley and Greeley counties. Geologists and seismologists say the chance of striking oil is good, the Scotia man says. The first well will be drilled almost on the top of a high hill 1/2 mile north of No. 56 highway. When Quilz men visited the site Tuesday afternoon wood pyramids to support the steel derrick had been built, and the square hole in which the rotary drilling rig will work had been cased and was being filled with pieces of cement.

This marks the first attempt to find oil in Valley county, though at intervals throughout the past ten years reports have circulated that such an attempt would be made.

Fort Hartsuff Bill Now in Select File

Should Be Advanced to Final Reading Within Few Days, Passage is Expected.

L. B. 424, known as the Fort Hartsuff bill, the object of which is to acquire historic forts for memorial purposes, especially Fort Hartsuff, was advanced to select file Saturday. This guarantees that it will be acted upon by the unconfidential session, and it should be advanced to final reading within the next few days.

While this of course does not assure its passage, it is understood that it is being looked on with favor by many of the senators. The fact that it is the only bill that was proposed by Senator Joseph T. Knezacek is strongly in its favor. Our senator is popular with his fellow members, and they will hesitate to vote against the only bill he has proposed.

Also strongly in favor of the bill is the fact that it is an enabling act, and does not carry an appropriation. The way is left open in the bill for an appropriation to be made at some future session, should the legislature decide to do so. In the meantime, if it passes, a fund can, and doubtless will, be started by subscription for acquiring the fort.

Will Represent Ord at Boys' and Girls' State

GOULD BAILEY FLAGG.

Ord will have a representative at both Boys' State and Girls' State this year, the persons having been selected from the junior class of Ord high school, as the rules require. Those who are sending these young people worked with the cooperation of the teachers, and gave consideration to every qualification of those eligible.

Mr. Flagg for his ability in scholastic work, in music and in athletics. He is a member of the mixed chorus, the boys' glee club, the boys' octet, the madrigal group, the Hi-Y club, the "O" club, the French club, participated in football and track and is class president. He took part in the junior class play, "Wanted, a Hero," and participated in the declamatory contest. He is taking a college preparatory course.

Miss Iwanski is taking a normal training course. She is a member of the senior band, the mixed chorus, the girls' glee club, the Ordettes club, the French club, the elementary club, and the senior Theatians. She had a part in the Thespian play, "Sunbonnet Jane of Sycamore Lane."

Mr. Flagg is being sponsored by Fidelity Post No. 38, American Legion, and the Chamber of Commerce. Miss Iwanski is sponsored by the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, with the cooperation and assistance of the Business and Professional Women's club of Ord. They will be a credit to their school, their town, and to the organizations that made it possible for them to attend.

IRYNE IWANSKI.

Warren Allen and Bob Gruber Jr. Rotarians

Warren Allen and Bob Gruber will represent the senior class of Ord high school as junior Rotarians for the month of May, and both were installed Monday evening as temporary club members. Each month since January seniors have chosen two of their outstanding boys for this honor.

Speaker Monday evening for the Rotary club was Horace Travis, who gave an interesting outline of the history of the United States weather bureau, and the services it performs. Records have been kept locally for 53 years, Travis said, and at North Loup for 54 years.

Discussion of the Boy Scout troop which the Rotary club sponsors was held and the club voted informally to continue this sponsorship provided cost does not exceed $75 to $100 per year. The hope was expressed that Rex Jewett may be induced to return as scoutmaster. A committee was named to investigate the Scouting problem and report later.

100th Birthday Tuesday of Leander Williams

(Special to the Quiz) Scotia-Leander Williams, former Valley county man who now makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Stillman, near this village, was 100 years old Tuesday.

Fifty relatives helped him celebrate the important occasion including his daughter, Mrs. Stillman, his sons, Henry and Bert, 13 of his 20 grandchildren and two of his twelve great grandchildren. The Scotia high school band serenaded him, many gifts were received including four birthday cakes, and pictures were taken.

For a man 100 years old Uncle Lee Williams' mind is remarkably clear and keen. He retains his interest in world affairs and also enjoys keeping track of the activities of the various members of his family.

He was born in Allegheny county, New York on May 6, 1841 and spent his boyhood there. In 1871 he came to Nebraska, later moving to Wisconsin, but in 1876 he came back to Nebraska and this state has since been his home.

Wallace Maxwell of Scotia was a business visitor in Ord between buses Tuesday.

Ericson Highway Assured, Burwell Detour Relocated

State Agrees Tuesday to Furnish Drainage Structures, Gravel, for WPA Road to Ericson.

A change of plans for detouring traffic this summer while No. 11 highway to Burwell is under construction, and new developments in the problem of getting a surfaced highway to Ericson came late Tuesday afternoon after the Valley county board of supervisors had adjourned its May meeting.

The state has given up the idea of completing the Haskell Creek road for use as a detour, County Clerk Ign. Klima was told over the telephone by M. R. Jones, head of the highway construction department, and instead will reshape and gravel 16 miles of road following the river on the north side.

Traffic will be routed across the Ord river bridge and north as far as the Haldeman place on the Haskell Creek road, and from there will follow the winding road along the river, Jones told Klima. State cost of reshaping and graveling this route will be about $9,000, it is thought.

The Haskell Creek routing would not serve intermediate traffic, notably traffic to Elyria said Jones in explaining the change.

In the same conversation he made certain commitments regarding the Ord-Ericson road which pleased Ord business men and farmers of the communities affected. The state will furnish all materials for drainage structures, including steel culverts, on the entire nine miles still unfinished, and will also gravel the road as rapidly as it is completed, providing Valley county will set up a WPA project to provide labor. The state also will furnish the plans and as fast as the road is completed will take it over for maintenance.

Only cash outlay required of Valley county will be for right-of-way, if this plan is followed. A group of Noble township farmers were present and heard Klima's conversation with state Engineer Jones, and all expressed satisfaction with this plan for completing an all-weather road to connect up portions already completed.

While Ord people are sorry that the Haskell Creek road will not be surfaced to connect up with No. 53 highway, the present detour plan will give the county 16 miles of gravel that it would not otherwise get, so everybody is fairly well satisfied with the detour plan as now presented.

Baird in State Office. At the annual convention of Spanish-American War veterans held this week in Lincoln, Clyde Baird was appointed to the state commander's staff as patriotic instructor. Two Valley county men, E. C. James, of Ord, and Hal Cooley, of Arcadia, attended the convention.

2 Birkes' to State Prison Tuesday, Plan Commit Willard to Ingleside

Guilty, Says Jury in John Birkes Case Friday Morn

Jurors Deliberated 14 Hours and Found that Older Man Killed Sheriff George Brock.

John Birkes is guilty of murdering Sheriff George Brock, of Loup county.

So decided twelve Valley county men last Friday morning when they brought into court a verdict of guilty of first degree murder, with a recommendation of life imprisonment, after a night of deliberations.

Their verdict, say jurors, was reached at 6:00 a. m. Friday, which means they deliberated 14 hours and 2 minutes, as the case was given to them at 3:58 Thursday afternoon.

The verdict was signed by E. E. Vodehnal, whom the jury chose as foreman, and then jurors left their room and went to a cafe for breakfast, retiring to their room at right of the jury box soon after 7:00. At 7:30 a. m. they rattled the door and told Bailiff A. J. Cook to call the court into session, that their verdict was ready.

Cook summoned District Judge E. G. Kroger, attorneys and court attaches, the defendant was brought into court by Sheriff George S. Round and his deputies, the jury filed into its box and Judge Kroger called for the jury's verdict.

In a sealed envelope it was handed to him by Foreman Vodehnal. He opened it, read it in silence, his face impassive, and handed it to Alfred Wiegardt, clerk of the district court. Wiegardt scanned it, affixed his official seal to it, made an entry in a book, then stood and read the verdict to the court.

John Birkes gave a scream of rage as he heard the verdict which will send him to prison for the rest of his natural life.

"A miscarriage of justice," he shouted.

His attorneys, Thomas W. Lanigan and William P. Mullen, asked that the jury be polled. The judge so instructed and Clerk Wiegardt began to ask each juror if the verdict he had just read was his "true verdict." Each juror answered "yes" without hesitation except Hilding Pearson, who hesitated a few seconds, apparently only because of nervousness.

As Wiegardt polled the jury, Birkes, in a frenzy of rage, shouted at each juror: "Say No, Say No!" and kept up a muttering, numbing stream of invective against each juror as he answered "yes," calling down God's wrath on the heads of the jury and cursing them individually and collectively. He also cursed Judge Kroger, accusing him of bias and calling him "a Dutch ---" the same as Scherzberg.

All efforts to quiet him were unsuccessful and after he was removed to the sheriff's custody and was led from the room he continued to scream invective, saying over and over: "He's a biased judge, he's a biased judge," and threatening him with the punishment of God. Even after he was in a cell upstairs his screams could be heard in the court room.

Ord Athletes Compete in Meet at Albion

Coach Tolly took nine of his athletes to the big track meet at Albion Thursday. The competition was the fastest they have met this season. Albion was high with 24 1/2 points, followed by Norfolk, Plevna, St. Paul, Columbus, Pierce, Stanton, Bellwood, Princeton, Scotia, Petersburg, Ord, Furlerton, Elgin, Spalding, Genoa and St. Edward in order.

Duncan, David City, O'Neill and Oakdale failed to score a single point. Gould Flagg made two points for Ord by taking fourth in both the high and low hurdles. Harold Christensen took 1 1/2 points for Ord by tying for second, third and fourth in the high jump with Petersen of Albion, Christensen of Genoa and German of Spalding. The event was won by Boyd of Pierce, with 5 ft. 8 in.

Commencement Speaker to Be Herbert Cushing

Kearney College President, Once Ord Superintendent, to Give Address Here May 21st.

Herbert L. Cushing, president of Kearney State Teachers college, will be the speaker at commencement exercises for Ord high school graduates Wednesday, May 21, announces C. C. Thompson, superintendent of Ord schools.

Born in Valley county, President Cushing served as county superintendent of schools, was superintendent of the Ord city schools, and went from here to Lincoln to serve as deputy to the state superintendent of schools. His appointment as president of the Kearney college followed.

Events incident to graduation of the 1941 class began last evening when the annual senior class play was presented. On May 13 comes the junior-senior banquet, on May 18 the baccalaureate program, on May 19 the senior picnic, on May 20 class night, and on May 23 school closes.

May 8 and May 9 are other dates of importance. On the former date 8th grade examinations are held and in the evening the Kearney capella choir gives a concert in Ord; on May 9 is the national music contest in Topeka, Kas., which will be attended by several Ord musicians under Professor Henry Deines' leadership and also the Nebraska scholastic track meet at Lincoln, which will be attended by a group led by Coach Roscoe Tolly.

Miss Luella Naab, who is employed in the Cram hospital in Burwell, was in Ord Tuesday visiting the Leggett and C. A. Anderson families.

State Accepts 2nd Degree Murder Plea of Richard Birkes

Judge Kroger Sentences Boy to 25 Years at Session Tuesday; John Gets Life Term.

To the stories of John, Richard and Willard Birkes, the end came in district court at Ord Tuesday afternoon.

All three were charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of George Brock, sheriff of Loup county, on Oct. 16, 1940, at Valley View.

John Birkes, 48, was found guilty on this charge last Friday by a Valley county jury.

About mid-afternoon Tuesday his nephew, Richard Birkes, 22, who also was charged with first degree murder, appeared before Judge E. G. Kroger and filed a plea of "guilty of second degree murder," and it was accepted by the state. He was sentenced to serve 25 years in state prison.

A few moments later John Birkes, 48, came before the court for sentence. In line with the jury's recommendation, Judge Kroger sentenced him to serve the rest of his natural life in the penitentiary at Lincoln.

Willard Birkes, 55, who also was charged with Sheriff Brock's death though he was not present when the crime was committed, will appear before a Valley county insanity commission and be committed to the state hospital at Hastings where he will be treated for paranoia. The state expects to withdraw first degree murder charges to permit this action.

Thus, within a space of less than two hours a crime which was called "worst Nebraska crime of 1940" was disposed of and the slate was wiped clean.

Richard Birkes was first to appear before the court. William Mullen and Thomas W. Lanigan, his attorneys, pleaded that he be treated mercifully, after his admission of guilt in Sheriff Brock's death was put on record.

The youth's life story was told to the court by Mr. Lanigan. He was the son of Richard and Claudia McClintock, of Burwell, and when his mother was drowned in 1919—murdered, her brothers claimed—he was legally adopted by his two bachelor uncles, John and Willard, in spite of his father's attempts to secure legal custody. By these uncles he was reared, and by them his ideas of life were shaped.

Up to the eighth grade—which was as far as Richard progressed in school—he was a brilliant student, Lanigan told the court. His grades ranged from 96 to 100, beat in the county, the attorney said.

"Richard Birkes never was a criminal," said his lawyer, in telling the court it was necessary to take into consideration his lack of opportunities, his lack of proper guidance, his lack of proper religious training, before placing the blame upon him.

"He is a first offender, never has spent a day in jail, and was induced and led into a circumstance over which he had no control," said Lanigan.

He suggested that a sentence of 10 years, minimum allowed for second degree murder, was sufficient punishment for Richard.

To this Assistant Attorney General Rush Clarke, who followed Lanigan, could not agree.

"This man, after fighting the state almost up to the last ditch, and now realizing the futility of fighting further, has now pleaded guilty of second degree murder," Clarke said.

"It is necessary that he be treated as a murderer—as a 'bad man' . . . and the state urges a penalty suitable to that type of crime," said the prosecutor.

The plea of second degree murder was accepted by the state with "regret," the prosecutor said. He asked that Richard be given a sentence of life imprisonment or a sentence which the court considered tantamount to life imprisonment, on the ground that society must be protected from a "paranoid" who undoubtedly has homicidal tendencies.

Clarke's sentiments were echoed by A. F. Alder, attorney for Loup county, who said:

"This is a very, very grave matter. It is not an ordinary murder case but one of the most unusual in the state's history and throughout it this young man shows the most utter disregard not only for human life but for law and order generally."

The evidence would have shown, said Alder, that Richard was "a cool, deliberate murderer."

He pointed out that George Brock the slain sheriff, was a young man also, and that his slaying left a family of young men and young women without a father.

TREES WERE NOT KILLED.
When winter struck suddenly and with terrific ferocity last November 10th, it found many trees all over Nebraska still in full leaf.

There is no doubting that it was a severe ordeal for the trees, and many an expert in tree culture made the statement that without doubt a great many of the trees would die, especially the apple and other fruit trees.

Something Different

It doesn't seem to me that when you have given a man an honor for something he has done that it can be undone.

By such remarks I mean to say I do not think Lindbergh has been rightly treated these past few days.

We admired him, didn't we? For something he had accomplished? He won honors for it.

The theory was that this is a free country. Isn't that right? I think Lindbergh is sincere in his attitude and in openly announcing his beliefs, because he thinks it is for the good of the United States.

We haven't had any yard and garden contests for several years, and I am wondering if Ord doesn't need this prodding.

Birkes Trial

The defense attorneys had shared in the attempts to quiet Birkes, no more successfully than the sheriffs and deputies.

When Birkes was removed from the room, Attorney Lanigan called state attorneys to the judge's bench and produced a fragment of hard rubber and fitted into the broken handle of a .32 revolver which had been dramatically placed in evidence the previous week as the gun which they claim Birkes carried at Valley View. It was buried by Willard Birkes, evidence showed, and dug up by Fred Miller.

The fragment of the butt plate, Lanigan told the court, was found in the sand in front of Valley View store the previous afternoon by Fred and Etta Miller, their daughter and Mrs. Lanigan. On the basis of this new evidence, the defense filed a motion asking the judge to set aside their rest and allow the defense to present more evidence. Finding the fragment in front of the store, they said, proved conclusively that John Birkes had a .32 calibre gun as he had testified, and therefore could not have fired the .33 calibre bullet which killed the sheriff.

Their motion was overruled and Judge Kroger discharged the jury.

Everyone connected with the Birkes trial is surprised at the speed with which it progressed, once a jury was selected. Pre-trial estimates had been that 20 or 30 days would be consumed but actually it was only 7 1/2 days from the time first state testimony was given until the case was in the jury's hands.

Arguments to the jury began last Wednesday with A. F. Alder, county attorney in Loup county, summing up first for the state.

He reviewed for the jury events which led up to the shooting of Sheriff Brock, starting with the visit of Brock and his brother-in-law to the Birkes farm on Oct. 1. He recalled that Birkes became angered when Brock served a writ of restitution calling for removal of livestock from land the Amos Grant company had bought, and that he and Willard took hold of Brock and forcibly ejected him from the house.

Alder reminded jurors of a threat made to Brock by John Birkes that he would be "a dead man" if he tried to move any livestock, and also that Birkes kicked the sheriff as he walked away from the house.

He also recounted that Brock and Sheriff Raymond Johnson, of Garfield county, went to the Birkes place Oct. 5 to arrest John and that they faced guns from all three of the Birkes'. He permitted Brock to read the warrant only through the window, and told Brock he would not go to jail and if Brock tried to enter the house he would blow his brains out.

He Defended Birkes

Thomas W. Lanigan, of Grand Island, was chief counsel for John Birkes in his fight against conviction on first degree murder charges and also represents Richard and Willard Birkes. Mr. Lanigan, former Greeley attorney, had a distinguished career as assistant attorney general of the United States, and recently returned to Nebraska to re-enter private practice, locating at Grand Island.

No. Loup Seniors Banquet Guests

(Special to The Quiz)

North Loup—On the deck of the good ship USS N. L. H. S. in the music room of the school house 55 seniors, juniors and faculty members were served the annual junior-senior banquet Thursday night at seven o'clock. With an ocean scene as the background, a cleverly arranged ship in blue and silver, the senior class colors, was made. Seven tables with a steering wheel of a ship as a centerpiece were set. Favors were nut filled suitcases and place cards were life savers. Menu cards and programs were clever blue and white sail boats. The menu was prepared and served by seventeen of the junior mothers, with Mrs. T. J. Hamer, Mrs. J. S. Manchester and Mrs. Albert Babcock the committee in charge.

"Bon Voyage on the Sea of Life," was the theme of the program. Frances Goodrich, president of the junior class acted as toastmistress and spoke on "Smooth Sailing." Clifford Barnes, president of the senior class replied with "Enroute." Mary Babcock sang, as a solo "Air," Marcella Noldie gave the class well entitled "Old Stuff," and Muriel Hamer, the prophecy, "Future." Graco Manchester gave a reading, "Laughter," and Donald Hutchins had as his subject, "It is Time to Hoist Anchor." Supt. Willis gave the farewell and Harriet Manchester and Audrey Babcock sang a duet, "Entering the Harbor."

Nearly all the girls were dressed in gay formals which added much to the pretty picture under the blue lights. The new door made last summer by Junior Cloyd Ingerson made it possible to serve the banquet in the music room next to the home laboratory, thus lightening the work for the mothers. It is a time honored custom for the junior mothers to prepare and serve the meal. Several this year were having their first experience, some their last. For two of the seventeen it was the fourth time and for two the sixth. Mrs. Elley and Miss Green acted as faculty sponsors.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Some youngsters left a nice nearly new scooter in front of the Will Misko home two or three weeks ago and has never come back for it. It is rather large for such a vehicle, and besides, he has a car. Mrs. Misko would like to find out who the owner is. Any youngster short of a scooter would do well to investigate.

The writer received a very fine letter from Joe Cupl, jr., who teaches at Prague, Nebr., in which he disclaims all knowledge of having a wife. It is all our fault. We naturally figured that a young man with the personality of Mr. Cupl would have difficulty keeping away from the fair sex. Joe has already promised us a cigar when that "fatal day comes around."

There is a "swat the dandelion" campaign on, we are told. Such a campaign should be a great success and if it should fail, it will not be for want of material to work on. They are bad enough in yards where they have been kept down in the past, but in those where they have been allowed to grow, the crop is certainly a great success.

Peter Petersen Funeral Sunday

(Special to the Quiz)
Burwell—Funeral services for Peter N. Petersen, who for many years conducted a livestock market in Burwell in partnership with J. V. Johnson, were held in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. Rev. M. M. Long, pastor of the Methodist church in Ord, conducted the service which was largely attended. A mixed quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gruneweyer, Mrs. Maynard Lokin and Lloyd Alderman sang.

Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery when the Masonic lodge conducted the last rites of their order. Mr. Petersen died in his home following a paralytic stroke Tuesday evening at the age of seventy-four years and four months. He was born in Jesing, Hostrup, Denmark, Nov. 28, 1866. With his parents, he came to America when he was fourteen years old and settled on a farm near Chapman.

He was married to Nancy T. Campbell, who survives him, at Palmer, March 9, 1896. Mr. and Mrs. Petersen were the parents of seven children, one son of whom died in infancy. They came to Burwell in 1904 where they have since made their home. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. L. D. Herman of Bridgeport, Mrs. A. R. Evans of Lincoln, and Mrs. H. F. Bodyfield of Ericson, three sons, Victor of Julesburg, Colo., Chester of Burwell and Harvey of Camp Roberts, San Miguel, Calif., four sisters, Miss Sadie Petersen and Mrs. Thelma Jessen of Sioux City and Mrs. Mamie Olson of Des Moines, (who were present at the funeral as well as all six children) and Mrs. Kate Geddes of Los Angeles, two brothers, Chris Petersen of Baldwin Park, Calif., and Max, and seven grandchildren. As a boy Mr. Petersen was confirmed in the Danish Lutheran church.

Valley County Red Cross Makes Report on Its Work

The local Red Cross chapter has shipped out the product of the knitting unit members working the past few months. The shipment contained 9 men's sweaters, 6 women's garments, and 3 children's sweaters, a total of 19 items of the local quota, and was sent directly to the east coast for early export.
Reports submitted to local chapter show that 3,300 chapters of the Red Cross are carrying on this work through volunteers and average half a million garments each month for victims of war abroad. The work is to continue as new production quotas are given out to chapters every four months. This insure sturdy garments at lowest expense to answer demands for woolen garments of every description coming from Great Britain where the damp climate makes warm clothing a necessity all the year round.
The Red Cross is also appealing for more young doctors and nurses for blood donors, and is stressing the need of more first aid classes in every community in order that as large a per cent of the population be familiar with emergency aid as possible. Much of national defense plans are tied closely to Red Cross organization.

Elyria Wins Annual Athletic and Scholastic Meet for 2-Room Schools

The annual Valley county athletic and scholastic competition of two room schools was held at Ord Saturday, the athletics on the new athletic field, and the scholastic contest in the high school. The competition was under the general supervision of Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent.
She was assisted in the work by Rev. Clifford Snyder, Lloyd Geweke, Orel Koelling and Clarence Romans who had charge of the athletic competitions with Paul Covert and Kenneth Tatlow assisting them. Mrs. A. W. Cornell was scholastic conductor, with Mrs. G. W. Taylor, Mrs. Mark Tolson and Mrs. Adolph Sevensen as Judges. Miss McClatchey was time keeper and score keeper.
Four schools entered the competition with entries in both the scholastic and athletic events. They were Valleyside, No. 10, Davis Creek, No. 36, Haskell Creek, No. 45, and Elyria, No. 63. Competition was keen throughout, with each school making a good showing and with Elyria finally winning the trophy.

In scholastic competition Haskell Creek had 36 points, Elyria had 28, Valleyside 19 and Davis Creek 17. In athletics Elyria was 37 1-6 points, Davis Creek, 33 1/2 points, Valleyside, 32 points, and Haskell Creek, 16 1/3 points. The totals were: Elyria, 65 1-6 points, Haskell Creek 53 1-3 points, Davis Creek 50 1/2 points and Valleyside 32 points.
The day was perfect for such an event, and the competition was the keenest for a long time. Elyria took the title away from Davis Creek, last year's winner. There were a number of outstanding students and athletes, among whom might be mentioned the following:
Richard Palsler, who had much to do with the Davis Creek win last year, took first in the running and standing high jump and the running broad jump, and Mildred Athey of the same school did well in athletics, competing in both boys' and girls' events. Elinor Jablonski of Elyria also made a fine showing in this department.
Avery Noll of Valleyside was first in the high school current event quiz, won twice in algebra and once in Latin in the high school division. Ferrol Hopkins and Lyle Flynn won first and second, respectively in the 8th grade history quiz. Elyria was strong in the scholastic events in the 1st to 5th grades, inclusive, getting 14 points in these grades to 9 for their closest competitor, Haskell Creek.

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Conveying Irrigation Water.
Bill Pierce, acting extension engineer at the College of Agriculture, passes along a few tips to Valley county farmers who plan to irrigate this year and who are finding that water has to be carried to higher parts of farms through pipe lines, elevated ditches or flumes.
Elevated ditches should be well packed with a tractor, or team at the time of construction, he says. When completed, the top should be wide enough to make a thick ditch bank. One weakness of elevated ditches is that the ditch banks are thin and have a tendency to wash out. Water should be turned into the ditches at first to allow them to soak up.
The ditches themselves can be thrown up with such equipment as a slip scraper, Fresno or an elevator grader. However, one big source of trouble on elevated ditches is gophers and moles.
Sometimes a metal or wood flume is used instead of an elevated ditch or pipe line. The flumes can be made of metal, semi-circular in shape, or wood. A rectangular wood flume 18 inches wide and 12 inches deep will carry as much as 1600 gallons of water per minute if it has a fall of one-inch per rod.
More detailed information about methods of conveying irrigation water can be obtained from Farmers' Bulletin 864.

Soybeans for 1941.
Soybean production is coming in for increased attention by Nebraska farmers in 1941.
D. L. Gross, extension agronomist at the College of Agriculture, points out several reasons for this increased interest. Soybeans for one thing can be used as a replacement crop for winter killed wheat. They can be used as a substitute for oats and barley where such seeding was delayed by weather conditions. In addition, the crop can be used as a replacement crop for corn, barley or other crops which may be damaged early by chinch bugs.
The agronomist points out that early varieties of soybeans may be planted as late as July 1 with good prospects for maturity—at least for hay purposes. The Dunfield variety, a medium early type suitable for both grain and hay production in eastern and central Nebraska, is one of the best for planting, possibly as late as June 15 to 20. It can be expected to yield about as well as any variety for hay or grain.
Gross says the Habero and Richland varieties, earlier than the Dunfield, will make a lower yield of both hay and grain in eastern Nebraska but can be planted later. For normal planting, the Illinois, Dunfield and Manchou are recommended for eastern Nebraska, and the earlier types such as Richland, Habero or Minsoy for western Nebraska.
In central and western Nebraska rabbits are quite destructive to stands of soybeans. Unless this pest can be controlled, small plantings of soybeans are likely to be destroyed. In Valley county both rabbits and grasshoppers have been destructive to soybeans the past few years.
Because of the loss of alfalfa stands, many farmers are turning to soybeans as a substitute which will provide a high protein hay. For this reason, and because soybeans used for hay are classified as non-depleting by the AAA program, the acreage of soybeans in Nebraska has risen from 4,000 or 5,000 as an average for the period of 1920 to 1930 to well over 30,000 acres as the planted acreage for 1940. The greater part of this acreage was planted for use as hay. Where the crop is grown strictly for hay, the Kingwa variety is said to hold its leaves better than most varieties.
Yields of hay at the Nebraska Experiment Station have averaged about one and one-third tons per acre. Grain yields have averaged about 15 bushels. Detailed information dealing with soybean Liquidate the Rooster.

They used to say "swat the rooster" but now Extension Poultrymen at the College of Agriculture have changed the saying to "liquidate the rooster."
J. R. Redditt points out that because roosters are a double risk or liability, they should be "liquidated" at the end of the hatching season. Male birds not only consume enormous quantities of feed which could well be fed to layers, but they are also responsible for fertile eggs which deteriorate and spoil rapidly.
Since enactment of the Lend-Lease Bill, a greatly expanded market has developed for many surplus products. Eggs are among the products in greatest need and for which a ready market has been established. Such eggs of course must be of good quality. Because fertility is cause for much of the great annual loss in eggs, a greater effort could well be given to the production of infertile eggs.
It is said that four hens may be kept for the feed consumed by three roosters. If this is true, it is apparent that much better use can be made of feed supplies by feeding laying hens rather than roosters.
Poultry producers are asked to increase egg production ten million cases during the next fifteen months and while this may be considered great expansion, it, after all, is moderate. As a matter of fact, our annual loss from spoiled eggs totals five or six million cases. If we did no more than prevent this loss, we would account for half the expansion.
In addition to disposing of the mature male birds, it is also recommended that cockerels and pullets be separated. The cockerels should be fed out for market and the pullets developed into fall and winter layers.

GROHE'S ACCLIMATED NUBRED SEED CORN
A glance at the calendar shows corn planting time is here. What kind of corn are you going to plant? If you are planting for yield and quality, plant Nu-Bred, the modern corn that produces more pork and beef per acre than other corn. Here is an example taken from a North Loup farmer. John Guggenmos planted some open-pollinated corn beside his Nu-Bred. The Nu-Bred out yielded the open-pollinated corn 17 bushels per acre. Mr. Guggenmos paid $4.00 per bushel for his Nu-Bred seed corn and in the fall he had 136 bushels of extra corn from his bushel of Nu-Bred seed. You can do the same if you will give Nu-Bred a chance. The extra moisture in our subsoil does not make planting modern controlled corn a gamble, it is an investment and you will be well paid. You can plant Nu-Bred seed for only 15c per acre more than open-pollinated corn.
Nu-Breds are grown and sold by farmers for farmers in this territory.

Double Birthday.
Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bartley and daughter arrived from Denver, and that day they ate dinner with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ramsey. Also present was Billy's mother, Mrs. Frank Flynn. It was a real occasion, since it was Mr. Ramsey's 7th birthday, and Bartley's 29th. Sunday they all went out to the Flynn home for dinner. They left for home Monday morning.

Jolliate Club.
The Jolliate club held their winners-loser party Monday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. Ben Clark, Mrs. C. A. Anderson, Mrs. Wilmer Anderson, and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen. Lunch was served at Ben's Grill, after which they played bridge at the Clark home.

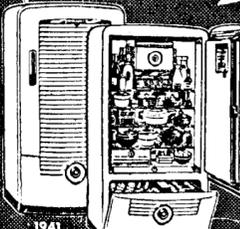

At Earl Hansens.
Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Haught and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Anderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Treptow and Misses Vera Severns and Audrey Turner all were supper guests at the Earl Hansens farm home east of Ord Sunday.

Surprise Breakfast.
Twenty-five attended a Christian church surprise breakfast at the John L. Ward home Thursday morning. These breakfasts are conducted by the ladies as a means of raising funds, and are quite successful in this respect. The hostess gets whatever she has on hand for breakfast for the group. Each person pays for the meal and the money goes into the church funds.

Here For Week End.
William Jorgensen and daughters Helen and Caroline and son, William, Jr., from Minden, came to Ord and spent the week end with his sister Mena, and brothers Henry and Walter Jorgensen and their families. They and Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jorgensen and son Larry were guests for Sunday dinner in the Henry Jorgensen home. Rev. Clarence Jensen, who was in Minden for a church meeting Friday evening, came to Ord with the Jorgensens.

To the jurors he also recalled that when John and Richard Birkes were driving to Valley View on October 16, they conversed, but "they have refused to disclose the nature of that conversation because it might show premeditation."

He also dwelt upon the fact that Alfred Scherzberg testified he saw Birkes shoot the sheriff and saw his head go back and his face change color as though he had been hit.

"After the sheriff lay wounded on the ground, John Birkes, not satisfied with what he had done, pointed his gun at close range at the sheriff's head and would have shot if Scherzberg hadn't shouted 'don't do that, John,'" Alder pointed out.

"Nobody else except John and Richard ran from the scene of the shooting. If they didn't realize they had done a thing wrong, why did they run away," he said.

Both Richard and John were shooting at the sheriff, the former with a .32 calibre revolver and the latter with a .38, he said. It was at this point that John Birkes threw court into confusion by shouting "You're a liar, Bert Alder; you lie, you know you lie, you know I had the .32 and I'll ask God to hold it against you," which required a recess while he was quieted.

The Loup county attorney concluded his summation by saying: "I ask not only that you bring in a verdict of guilty of murder but also that you will bring in a recommendation that he pay the penalty in the electric chair."

Next argument was that of Glenn E. Runyan, the Burwell lawyer who was employed as a special assistant to the state. In an able address, given slowly and forcefully, he reminded jurors of the confusion among psychiatrists themselves about insanity. Admitting Birkes to be a paranoiac, as both defense and state experts testified, he reminded jurors that Drs. Young and Dishong had commented on the inconsistency of John's denial of the crime when usually paranoiacs admit their actions freely and even glory in them.

There is only one safe place for such a "dangerous, potential homicide" as doctors had testified Birkes to be, he said, and that is the penitentiary. He reminded jurors how frequently people are released from state insane asylums on parole and concluded by asking the jury to find Birkes guilty and recommended that he be imprisoned for life.

William P. Mullen summed up defense testimony, recalling the hundreds of exhibits the defense had entered to prove Birkes insane and the long period of his delusions. He said John had many other and better chances to kill Brock than the one at Valley View, if he had wanted to kill him.

Poor judgment on the part of Sheriff Brock precipitated the shooting at Valley View, he charged.

The state had failed to show that the Birkes' ever were on the offensive, he said, and they carried guns only to defend themselves.

He spoke at some length on the testimony of alienists, which agreed in all particulars that Birkes could not know the difference between right and wrong at the moment of the affray in which Brock died, and also said the state had utterly failed to prove premeditation.

All witnesses agreed, said Mullen, that Brock drew his gun first and tried to hit Richard over the head with it.

He cited Scherzberg's testimony that Brock was shot from a distance of 2 to 6 inches and asked why, if this was true, there were no powder marks on the sheriff's face. He also asked jurors if they noticed the thickness of Scherzberg's glasses, implying the witness possibly could not see well enough to be sure of everything that day.

He asked the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity."

When court convened Thursday morning Tom Lanigan made the final argument for the defense.

"A bomb shell came into this court yesterday morning (a reference to testimony of Drs. Young and Dishong) and blew this case higher than a kite," he said.

In determining sanity, he stated, the law doesn't count five minutes before a crime or five minutes afterwards, but asks if a man knew the difference between right and wrong at the instant the crime is committed. The state's own experts had testified, he said, that John Birkes did not know the difference at the instant Brock was shot.

He talked for an hour and 48 minutes, with one recess, and concluded with a plea that Birkes be found not guilty by reason of insanity and that he be institutionalized.

If he had a physical disease instead of a mental ailment, said Lanigan, the court would order the trial stopped and Birkes would be rushed to a hospital for treatment.

He blamed County Attorney Alder for the shooting affray in which Brock was killed, because Alder had not previously seen to it that three men whom he knew to be mentally ill were confined to asylums. Alder was now asking a jury, he said, to correct his own omissions in public office. Loup county, he charged, is now spending a fortune to do something that could have been done for nothing a few months or years ago.

Rush Clark, assistant attorney general, made the state's final argument to the jury, talking for more than 1 1/2 hours, partly before the noon recess and partly afterwards.

He compared John Birkes' alleged insanity at the moment of the shooting with an "irresistible impulse" common to normal men, and said "irresistible impulse is not a defense to crime under Nebraska law."

Paranoiacs killed Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley and were punished and it was a paranoiac who shot at Franklin Roosevelt. Adolph Hitler is recognized today as the world's outstanding paranoiac, said Clark, but he asked the jury, "would Mr. Lanigan try to convince a jury Hitler should go free if he could be called before a jury to account for his crimes?"

He recommended what he called "the defense's unfair attack on Alder" and said the Loup county attorney was willing to let his conduct as a public officer speak for itself. The county attorney has nothing to do with originating insanity charges, he stated.

"I think the state has proven beyond all doubt that this man killed Brock, and that he is responsible for his act in a legal sense. If you think him guilty we ask for the highest penalty the law provides," Clark concluded.

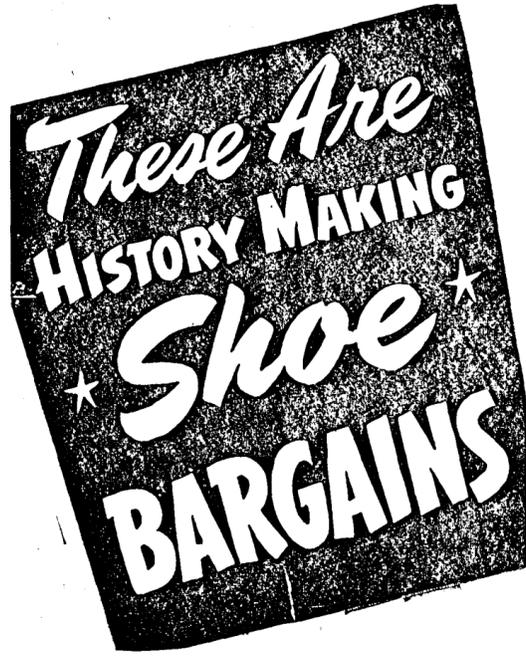

Judge Kroger, in his instructions to the jury, gave five alternative verdicts it might bring in. They were: not guilty; not guilty on grounds of insanity at the time of the homicide; guilty of murder in the second degree; guilty of murder in the first degree with life imprisonment as the penalty; guilty of murder in the first degree with death in the electric chair as the penalty.

There were 19 separate instructions read by Judge Kroger to the jury, and at 3:58 they filed out of their box and into their room to elect a foreman and start work on the case.

At 5:50 p. m., through Balliff Cook, they called Judge Kroger and the court reporter, Hugh Schooley, into consultation and asked that the testimony of Hesselgesser and Scherzberg, and also all of John Birkes' direct testimony, be read to them.

The judge informed them it was their privilege to have this testimony read, if it was useful in arriving at a decision, but it would take at least three days for this mass of testimony to be read, and asked them first to see if they could arrive at a just verdict without this being done. The jury retired again and the next morning found John Birkes guilty in the first degree, thereby concluding the case.

BURWELL COMMUNITY PLAYERS TO PRESENT DRAMA MONDAY NIGHT

Here are the characters in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," the three-act play which the Burwell Community Players will present in the Burwell school auditorium Monday evening, May 12 at 8 o'clock. At the extreme left is Closs Blake, who has the part of an unscrupulous Jewish investment broker, next is Alaire Pulliam, the daughter of the retired major, Eben Moss, and his wife, Huldah Bennett, who are seated to the left of the tea table. Pauline Bonnell portraying the part of an affected, over-painted old maid with a caustic tongue, is seated in the wicker chair between them. Seated further in the rear is Dorothy Paulin, who personifies a haughty, selfish woman with aristocratic ambitions. Standing on the left side is Philip Beckwith, a young poverty stricken painter, who is in love with the major's daughter. Directly behind the tea table is Luther Pierce, the unsuspecting stranger who influences the other characters into leading better lives. Attending him is Nina Nickells, the maid of all work who is fresh out of prison. Seated in front of her is Marie Pierce, the hard-boiled landlady. Marion Bonnell, who has the part of a young artist about to sell his birthright for a mess of pottage. On the extreme right is Rulon Leach, who plays the part of a wealthy gambler to whom the major and his wife attempt to marry off their daughter for their own financial advancement even though he is repulsive to them and the girl. The play is directed by Miss Anna Cameron who supervised the production of "Our Town" last year. Tickets are on sale at Walker's Pharmacy in Burwell for 25c. For reservations write or call Leonard Johnson at Burwell. Elaborate preparations have been made for presenting this play. A. I. Cram is making special stage sets for the production. Mrs. K. M. Parsons is in charge of stage properties. An intricate lighting system necessary for the proper stage appearance has been improvised by Marlon Donsoll. Musical effects will be supplied by P. H. Mohr, well known accordion player. Mrs. Osce Johnson and Mrs.

C. W. Hughes are in charge of the ticket sales. Those having parts in the play have worked for months to properly characterize the roles assigned them. The play is written in the time of 1906 and the characters will be dressed according to fashions of that day. Puppets, which are exact replicas of each character in the play, are now displayed in the window of Mitchell's hardware store. The puppets were made by the persons they represent. A free puppet show will be given Saturday night by members of the cast. The Burwell Community Players is an outgrowth of the adult school of education which was conducted last winter. Adv.

Delos Bell's Funeral in Colorado Saturday

At Sterling, Colo., Saturday was held the funeral of John Delos Bell, 43, son of John Bell of Mira Valley, and it was attended by several Valley county people among them his father, John Mason, Mrs. Halsey Schultz and her daughters, Bess Mason Miller, of Fort Collins, and Paul Hayes, of Sterling, also were present. Both are former Ordites. Mr. Bell was killed April 28 near Granby, Colo., where he was employed in the Colorado river-Big Thompson diversion tunnel. The automobile in which he was riding collided with another car. Four fellow employees were seriously hurt, the driver of the other car was killed and occupants injured. He was born May 1, 1897 at Ord and was graduated from Ord high school. His marriage to Miss Elsie L. Rendell took place at Loup City in 1918. The family left Valley county in 1929 and went to Sterling where Mr. Bell operated a taxi line for a time. He had been employed on the water diversion project at Granby for about a year. His wife and son Donald continued to live in Sterling but often met him in Denver for week ends. A daughter, Donna Beth, lives in California. The accident was doubly tragic to his wife because word did not reach her till Monday morning, although he died at 11 o'clock Saturday night. Mrs. Bell has no telephone and the messenger evidently left the message in the screen door, where it was blown away by the wind. Donald was told of his father's death by school mates Monday morning and about the same time Mrs. Bell was told by neighbors who heard about the accident over the radio.

43 Seniors to Get Burwell Diplomas

(Special to the Quiz) Forty-three seniors, the largest class in the history of the school, will be graduated from the Burwell high school next Wednesday evening. Val Peterson, secretary to Governor Dwight Griswold and formerly superintendent of the Elgin schools will deliver the commencement address. Those who will receive diplomas are: Jack Anderson, Beverly Ballagh, Gerald Bishop, Betty Ann Bratka, Joe Borden, Leslie Ciemny, Delvin Conner, Alvin Dearnmont, Keith DeLashmutt, Beth Dittmar, Orville Eberle. Eldon Finlayson, Roy Gerdes, Vivian Frederick, Mildred Faye Gideon, Corinne Haines, Frank Hlavica, Ella Mae Hoppes, Mildred Hummell, Genevieve Johnson, Virginia Johnson, Martha Kozel, Ruth Langstrom, Rita Linkswiler, Amella Mathauer, Wilma Mathauer. Harold Malicky, Howard Maxson, Cecilia Meunett, Betty Moss, Virginia Patchen, Lavern Petska, Lawrence Powers, Erwin Rhode, Dean Rowse, Bernice Schubert, Robert Swanson, Joe Van Lund, Victoria Walachowski, Don Wilson, Bill Wright. Rev. H. R. Carlberg, pastor of the Full Gospel Tabernacle, will be the baccalaureate speaker Sunday night. The service will be held in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Monday the seniors will celebrate excursion day. They will go to Omaha where they will see all the points of interest. Their sponsor, Mrs. Carmen Hornby, will accompany them. Last Monday the seniors presented their class play "Jumping Jewels," a comedy-mystery, to a well-filled house in the school auditorium. Those taking parts were Keith DeLashmutt, Corinne Haines, Virginia Johnson, Leslie Chaffin, Ruth Langstrom, Gerald Bishop, Vivian Frederick, Bobby Dick Swanson, Orville Eberle, Mildred Faye Gideon, Roy Gerdes, and Mildred Hummell. Miss Audrey Smith directed the play assisted by Beverly Ballagh.

Rain Cancels Ball Games.

The Loup Valley league is having a rather tough time getting under way this spring. The first games were scheduled for April 20, and were rained out. The schedule was set back a week, and three games were played April 27. Last week rain came just before the games were scheduled to start, and none were played. Next Sunday the Ord team goes to Arcadia to play, weather permitting.

1000 EXTRA MILES OF TRAVEL PER TIRE

Too good to be true? Not at all. In the famous 5-million mile Florida Road Test, first-line Lee DeLuxe Tires, pitted against other leading brands, showed 6 per cent slower tread-wear than the average.

Think of it... 106 miles for Lee, for every 100 miles averaged by the other tires. This means you ought to get at least 1000 extra miles out of top quality, guaranteed Lee Tires... even though they cost no more than other leading makes. Actually, they cost less than you guess!

Besides, the test proved Lee's extra cord-strength, and greater resistance to bruises and to ply-separation.

Now Stocking Nebraska Lakes from The Missouri

The State Game Commission is trying a new idea this spring, that of taking 2,000 catfish from the Missouri river and using them to stock rivers and lakes in the state. The work has been delayed somewhat by high waters this spring, but about half the fish have already been distributed.

Cold weather delayed the Nebraska fishing season considerably, but good catches of bass are reported from Lakes Ericson and Pabel, and the catfish began to bite the past two weeks in the North Loup river. Those who want them have been able to get carp and suckers for a long time, and they are of high quality because of the cool weather.

Reports for all sections where pheasants are plentiful indicate that these birds got through the winter in good condition and that they are getting a most favorable start this spring. Many small sand hill lakes again have water in them, and will form nesting places for ducks. Flocks of ducks planning to nest in Nebraska are observed occasionally.

Supreme Court Rules Against Gable Appeal

The state supreme court held last week that an osteopath may not practice surgery but may engage in obstetrics under the state statutes. The decision was on an appeal by the state from a Scotts Bluff district court ruling for Roy Jackson Gable, a licensed osteopath, in a suit to prevent his performing surgical operations.

In the opinion of Justice Carter, the practice of operative surgery requires a license to practice medicine and surgery. The subject of the controversy, Dr. R. J. Gable, was a practicing osteopath in Ord some years ago.

Ord Auto Sales Company Has Fine April Business

Proof that the improved weather conditions, and probably the defense program as well, have helped business, is given in a report of the April business done by the Ord Auto Sales company. The best single day's business was the day before Easter, when three new Chevrolets were delivered.

They went to Ed Jablonski of Elyria, who got a special sport sedan, H. M. Reed of Burwell, a sedan, town sedan, and Bill Lautenschlager of Palmer, a deluxe 5 passenger coupe. Earlier sales in April were to George Gutschaw, a special sport sedan, and Mrs. Ruth Hutchins of North Loup, a deluxe sport sedan.

More recent new sales were a Chevrolet truck to K. W. Peterson, a Chevrolet deluxe to Charles Burdick, and a half ton pickup to F. N. Waller. Dick Peterson of Burwell bought a used coach, and Frank Kapuska a 1937 Plymouth.

Other used car deliveries were Mrs. Jake Gydesen, Scotia, a Chevrolet coach; Guy Burrows, Ord, a Buick sedan; W. B. Clingman of Ericson, a Chevrolet coupe; C. L. Bennett of Burwell, a Chevrolet coupe; and Pete Thornton of Loup City, a Ford coach.

Club's Milk Program a Boon to Students

A splendid thing for pupils of the Ord grade school has been the free milk program sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club. The program started Dec. 2, 1940, and will continue until the end of the school term, thanks to the contributions of the public and to the donations of club members themselves.

Average cost per week of serving milk to 126 boys and girls has been $12.67, of which half has been paid by parents of some children and the other half by the club itself. The students gained in weight from 1 to 6 pounds each during the quarter in which milk was served to them at school, as compared with a gain of 0 to 4 pounds during the first quarter when milk was not served.

Several families are buying more milk at home so their children may have it at each meal, teachers have learned. Five children who were drinking coffee are now drinking milk at home. Thirty-six pupils show definite improvement in school work. In general, the pupils do not complain of hunger and rest better at rest periods, say teachers. Improvements in mood, energy, study habits is noticed, especially in underweight students.

Next Week Will Be CLEAN-UP WEEK

IN ORD, NEBRASKA

By authority vested in me as Mayor of the city of Ord, Nebraska, I hereby designate and proclaim next week, May 11 to 17, 1941, as CLEAN-UP and FIX-UP WEEK in Ord, and request the cooperation of citizens in seeing that our city is at that time made more sightly.

During Clean-Up and Fix-Up Week you should mow and rake your premises, trim shrubbery, haul away the winter's accumulation of rubbish, make minor repairs about the premises, plant new lawns, flowers and shrubbery, grub out dandelions and other unsightly weeds, paint houses and outbuildings, make minor repairs, paint screens and do everything possible to make Ord more beautiful and to reduce fire hazards.

If you own vacant lots you should see that they are cleaned up, as well as your home property. If you own rental property, solicit the cooperation of your renters. See that trash is hauled away from alleys back of your homes. Lets all cooperate toward a more beautiful Ord.

Do it during CLEAN-UP and FIX-UP WEEK, May 11 to 17.

M. B. CUMMINS

Food Prices and Profits

A Statement of Safeway Policy

THE forces of market disturbance, fear, and speculation, are at work. Prices for some basic commodities have already gone up. Increases in Safeway's retail prices on these items reflect the rise in wholesale cost, over which Safeway has no control.

It is a fundamental Safeway policy to earn only a small profit on each sale. Safeway pledges that during the period of war emergency it will not change this policy; and that in the future, as heretofore, it will make every effort through improved methods to reduce distribution cost—the difference between what the farmer gets and the consumer pays. You will always be able to buy from Safeway at the lowest prices available anywhere.

Consumers may assist materially in preventing unwarranted price increases by continuing their purchases on a normal scale. There are adequate supplies of food stuffs for every American. Hysterical buying which strips retail and wholesale stocks creates artificial scarcity, which pushes prices to abnormal levels.

Machinery exists within the government to control production, storage and release of commodities, imports, exports, quotas and prices—if it should become necessary to employ these methods to protect the economic welfare of the country.

Safeway further pledges complete cooperation with the governmental agencies and with farmer producers in all efforts to stabilize prices; discourage profiteering; and maintain orderly facilities for food distribution.

QUIZ FORUM. Union Fees Main Object. To the Editor of the Quiz: Since reading your comments relative to the existing situation, Labor vs. Capital, also the comments of columnist George Gowen in a recent issue of the Quiz, I feel the urge to make reply. To begin with I was amazed that George, a man so widely read and so well qualified to discern the truth or falsity in regard to the existing conditions betwixt labor and capital, should take the attitude which he has. But knowing that the people of Nebraska have not had the vast manufacturing plants as the coast states, it can be readily seen that they have not come in contact with a situation that has become intolerable. To illustrate this condition, the following facts are submitted: Arbitrary acts and lawless interference with the rights of other people are today being treated as such acts were tolerated when labor was weak and fighting for a fair wage and decent working conditions, etc. But such conditions have not existed for years and the people have provided every fair and necessary protection to all workers by legislating such measures as the Workmen's Compensation Law; the Wage and Hour Law; the Sanitary Inspection Laws; the Wagner law that gives the workers the right to organize, and finally the Social Security law, that provided against unemployment and old age; so what more can any honest group of workers ask? The people should awaken to the fact that the agitation and threats of a strike and demands being made of these union busybodies (the outside paid organizers), is nothing more than a fight to force men into the unions where they can collect fees and dues from them and the fight for such groups as the Ford workers at Detroit, is a battle between two groups to see which will be permitted to collect some $2,400,000 in dues alone each year, to say nothing of the high initiation fees and assessments, etc. Yours very truly, M. E. Getter, Tujunga, Calif.

deputies brought John into the court room for sentence.

"Have you anything to say before I pronounce sentence?" asked Judge Kroger.

"Yes sir, I have," answered the convicted murderer, who wore the same greenish-blue suit he wore throughout the trial. A newer brown suit hangs in his cell, jailers say, but he will not wear it in court because "a wise man" told him he would be assassinated if he did so.

His attorneys intervened with a motion for arrest of judgment, but this also was over-ruled. Then John Birkes started a long rambling statement with the words: "God of heaven, he's in my soul. I'm an innocent man, and under this great flag my nephew has been sentenced to serve a crime that he has not did... Alfred Scherzberg is the killer of George Brock."

"This is a railroad job," said Birkes, "and Bert Alder will have this to face."

"Let me say a few words to Alder, I won't touch him," said Birkes, but the judge told him his remarks should be addressed only to the court, and he continued:

"I am an innocent man, so is Richard and so is Willard... I hope you will live to see the day when the truth in this case is known and you will know we are innocent men."

Much more in the same vein followed, but the judge heard him out in silence, and at the end of his discourse pronounced sentence, ordering that he serve the "rest of your natural life" in the state prison at Lancaster, Sundays and holidays excepted, solitary confinement to form no part of the sentence.

"What is that?" asked John, and the judge explained to him what the term solitary confinement meant.

"I will get along fine down there," answered John, and as he was led from the court room he tried to thank Attorneys Mullen and Lanigan for their services in his behalf.

"I'll see you before you go," answered Lanigan, as John passed from sight in the custody of Deputies Cohen and Keep.

Soon after the hearings, John and Richard were taken to Lancaster penitentiary by Deputy State Sheriff Harold Hultfish, who was in Ord throughout the court proceedings, Sheriff Frank Strohl of Taylor and Deputy Sheriff Fred Cohen. They made no trouble on the trip, says Sheriff George Round, and were safely lodged in the state prison "before dark" Tuesday night, he stated this morning.

To people of Loup county this sudden ending of the Birkes cases should be hailed with pleasure, for Richard's plea and the imminent commitment of Willard to an insane hospital will save the cost of two more trials.

How much money the John Birkes trial cost Loup county is not yet known but Alfred Wiegardt, clerk of the Valley county district court, said this morning it will be "several thousand dollars."

Cost of the jury alone was $556.00, he said, and witness fees will total three to four hundred dollars more, exclusive of fees paid to alienists which probably will be several hundred dollars. In addition there is the cost of a court reporter, special counsel, meals, doctors and dentists' bills for the prisoners, food, lodging and travel expense for lawyers, police, court attaches, and many incidental expenses.

Former Ord Athlete
Now Aircraft Worker

GERALD (BUD) CLARK.

Word has been received by the Fred Clark family that their son Gerald has graduated with high honors from a diesel school of Los Angeles and is now employed by the Douglas Aircraft corporation in their new plant at Long Beach. He took preliminary training with pay, first at the Douglas plant at Santa Monica on night shift while he was finishing his diesel school work.

The company sent a man to the school to get trained men to work at the aircraft factory, and there were three students that were qualified for immediate work. One requirement is that they must have their birth certificate. Bud likes his work fine and sees quite a few Ord people there. He saw many of them at the Rose Bowl on New Year's day. He had a good location to see Allen Zikmund make his spectacular play.

Ord City Council
of Fiscal Year

Reports of Allen, Ollis Heard; Bowling Alley Ordinance is Discussed and Passed.

At the first meeting of the Ord city council last night for the fiscal year beginning May 1, the yearly report of George Allen, city light and water commissioner, was read and approved. This showed that about $31,000 had been taken out of the electric fund, which was used to retire bonds and for city equipment, which meant a direct saving to the city taxpayers.

Charles Goodhand and Jason Lathrop appeared asking for a bowling alley license and asking for a reduction of the age limit of patrons to 15 years, an extension of the closing hour to midnight, and a permit to run at certain hours on Sunday. After discussion their permit was granted by the passing of a new ordinance which included all but the Sunday open hour feature.

Steve Carkoski discussed the plumbing and electrical situation and requested that the city council either make the electricians' and plumbers' ordinance effective by enforcement, or else throw the town wide open and repeal the ordinance. It was decided that the ordinance gave all the authority that was needed, and the mayor notified the council that it would be enforced, starting this morning.

Mark Gyger discussed in detail the baseball grandstand at the athletic field, and the baseball committee turned over to the council the sum of $182 contributed by business and professional men, and asked that the city sponsor the erection of the grandstand under WPA construction.

The new sewerage district was brought up and discussed and it was felt by the council that if the new district was desired, the interested persons should make their wants known, either to their councilmen or to the council as a whole, and then action could be taken in the future.

The request for more tennis courts for the athletic field was heard and discussed. There will be a checkup made of users of the courts and the results of the checkup will be brought back to the council.

The proposition of planting the athletic field to buffalo grass by WPA was taken up, and the report of the committee by Dr. J. W. McGinnis, chairman, was heard. It was stated that two large tracts of grass died out in the past year, and it is doubtful whether sufficient grass can be located. If it can be found the WPA is ready to proceed with the planting.

The annual report of James B. Ollis, city treasurer, was taken up. It showed total cash and securities on hand approximately $45,000. One year ago it was $59,000. The difference is accounted for in the paying off of $29,000 in bonds and the purchase of equipment in the various departments, and really shows a gain of $16,000 in cash, securities and maintenance equipment.

Chapter BB, P. E. O.

Chapter BB P. E. O. met Monday evening with Mrs. Gould Flagg, with Miss Gertrude Hawkins as co-hostess. A very interesting report on the state convention was given by the delegates, Mrs. Mark Tolson and Mrs. C. C. Thompson.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Radloff of Council Bluffs, Ia., were taken to Council Bluffs today by their son, Rev. W. Ray Radloff, after visiting two weeks in the Radloff home. Rev. Radloff will attend the fiftieth anniversary of the Omaha Presbyterian Theological seminary today, and also the annual commencement exercises. Rev. Radloff is a graduate of this institution, class of 1930.

—M. Blemond underwent surgery while in Omaha a few days ago for the removal of a growth on the left side of his lower jaw. He is able to be about, but of course is still wearing a bandage.

—Mr. and Mrs. John L. W. Nelson left for their home in Omaha Tuesday morning, and Mrs. W. A. Bartlett went with them for a short visit there and also at the Gilmore in Lincoln.

SEEDS.

A number of varieties of seed are getting hard to obtain, such as Bromo Grass and certain kinds of Alfalfa and Sweet Clover seed. If you are planning on sowing permanent pasture and alfalfa this year be sure to book your seed soon or you may not be able to get just what you want in that line.

We have our stock of Sudan, Canes, Sorgos, Milos, Early Kalo and Millets in now. The price is low and you can expect to see much higher prices before the planting season arrives.

We have good quality Goldmine and Red Cob White Seed Corn. A very few bushels of Pfister, Funk G and 939 Hybrid corn in good planting grades.

WOOL.

We have a good market on wool and will pay you a good price for wool that is clean and free from burs and chaff. Let us bid on your wool before you sell it.

HAY.

We have two tons of cheap prairie hay and some very choice feeding hay.

"It is the court's duty," asserted Alder, "to mete out a sentence in keeping with this atrocious crime."

He pointed out that Sheriff Brock was an officer who was killed in the performance of his duty, and that he was warned in advance by the Birkes' that he would be killed if he tried to perform his duty and that he attempted it "in the most judicious manner" despite the warning.

"As county attorney and as representative of the people of Loup county who placed me in that office, I think Richard Birkes ought to be punished by life imprisonment at least—nothing else begins to be a payment for the crime he has committed," concluded the attorney.

Judge Kroger, in pronouncing sentence, said it was impossible for him to do so without considering the case of John Birkes. The state showed, he said, that John Birkes fired the shot that killed Brock, and that Richard was merely present and participating. Courts at all times consider the difference between the one who did the act of shooting and one who was an aider and abettor, he said.

"I can't overlook the fact that Richard Birkes is still a boy," he stated, "and that for twenty years he has been under the influence of two men who are mentally deficient."

Doctors, Judge Kroger said, had told him Richard has the same mental condition as his uncles, except that his paranoia has been brought on by inducement—not inherited but acquired.

"Richard Birkes, on October 16th, would have done anything John Birkes wanted him to do," stated Kroger. For that reason he should not be given the same punishment as John Birkes was given.

"I must do what I think is right," said the court, and added that he could not consult with the people of Loup county but that if he could he did not believe they would wish Richard Birkes sent to prison for life.

He then told Richard to arise and sentenced him to serve 25 years in prison, advising him to perfect his education there and to throw off the mental attitude brought on by association with his uncles. If he did so, said the judge, some "modification" of his sentence no doubt could be arranged.

"I thank you. I think you have dealt wisely," answered the youth, who comported himself quietly while in court. He was dressed in a dark blue suit with white shirt and dark tie, his hair was neatly combed, and he seemed even younger than his 22 years.

Attorneys for John Birkes then filed a motion asking for a new trial, which was over-ruled, and

Dandelions may be dug anywhere within the limits of the city of Ord but it is hoped that children will confine their efforts to lawns, parkings and vacant lots. If you want to dig them from a neighbor's lawn, or the lawn of a stranger, ask permission first. In digging dandelions use a long knife and sever the root at least two inches below the surface of the earth. Be careful and do not tear up the sod any more than is necessary. Pick up all stray blooms that fall from the plant and put them in your basket also, so seeds may not be scattered as result of the digging.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to entertain 400 or more children at this "dandelion derby" show on May 17. Boys and girls may start digging dandelions any time but they cannot be turned in until 10 o'clock on the morning of May 17. The contest closes at 2:00 that afternoon, at which time the cash prizes will be awarded. The show will start at 2:30 p. m.

Get busy, boys and girls, and take part in Ord's first "dandelion derby." See a fine Gene Autry show without cost, win a cash prize perhaps, and share in the efforts being made this spring to make Ord a more beautiful city.

Next week is "dandelion derby" time in Ord.

Entre Nous Club Meets.

Mrs. John Misko was Entre Nous hostess at her home last Friday afternoon, asking as guests Mrs. Olof Isson and Mrs. H. E. McClure. Mrs. Forrest Johnson and Mrs. Emil Fafetta were absent. The next meeting, in two weeks, will be with Mrs. Horace Travis.

—Roy McClimans of Burwell was in Ord for the day today. He lived for a time in Custer county but of late has been staying with his mother, Mrs. Alta McClimans, in Burwell.

Ord, North Loup Churches Dedicated 55 Years Ago

Last week marked the passing of another anniversary of interest, when the First Presbyterian church of Ord reached its 55th milestone Friday, May 2. The same day the Methodist church of North Loup was 55 years old. The only difference being that the Ord church was dedicated at the morning service, and the North Loup church in the evening. The following is the story of the dedication 55 years ago as it appeared in the Quiz:

"Sunday last was a prominent day for the dedication of a fine church. In the morning the Presbyterian church at this place was formally set apart for the service of the Lord. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Johnson of St. Paul, Neb., who delivered a fine discourse.

"After the sermon the financial condition of the church was announced, showing there still was needed $837.54 to clear the indebtedness. Mr. D. N. McCord did the talking while this amount was being raised, and without much begging and with little hesitation the necessary subscriptions were handed in.

"The new Presbyterian church is a very neat and finely furnished building, costing as it now stands, exclusive of lot, $2,600. The pastor, Rev. E. L. Dodder, is a very genial, able man and a preacher of ripe experience. All things considered, the outlook for this church is flattering indeed."

Mrs. Frank Naperstek was dismissed from the hospital. Edward Weekes is a patient in the hospital. Mrs. Anton Guggenmos is a surgical patient of Dr. Gard.

Ord City Council in First Meeting of Fiscal Year

Reports of Allen, Ollis Heard; Bowling Alley Ordinance is Discussed and Passed.

At the first meeting of the Ord city council last night for the fiscal year beginning May 1, the yearly report of George Allen, city light and water commissioner, was read and approved. This showed that about $31,000 had been taken out of the electric fund, which was used to retire bonds and for city equipment, which meant a direct saving to the city taxpayers.

Charles Goodhand and Jason Lathrop appeared asking for a bowling alley license and asking for a reduction of the age limit of patrons to 15 years, an extension of the closing hour to midnight, and a permit to run at certain hours on Sunday. After discussion their permit was granted by the passing of a new ordinance which included all but the Sunday open hour feature.

Steve Carkoski discussed the plumbing and electrical situation and requested that the city council either make the electricians' and plumbers' ordinance effective by enforcement, or else throw the town wide open and repeal the ordinance. It was decided that the ordinance gave all the authority that was needed, and the mayor notified the council that it would be enforced, starting this morning.

Mark Gyger discussed in detail the baseball grandstand at the athletic field, and the baseball committee turned over to the council the sum of $182 contributed by business and professional men, and asked that the city sponsor the erection of the grandstand under WPA construction.

The new sewerage district was brought up and discussed and it was felt by the council that if the new district was desired, the interested persons should make their wants known, either to their councilmen or to the council as a whole, and then action could be taken in the future.

The request for more tennis courts for the athletic field was heard and discussed. There will be a checkup made of users of the courts and the results of the checkup will be brought back to the council.

The proposition of planting the athletic field to buffalo grass by WPA was taken up, and the report of the committee by Dr. J. W. McGinnis, chairman, was heard. It was stated that two large tracts of grass died out in the past year, and it is doubtful whether sufficient grass can be located. If it can be found the WPA is ready to proceed with the planting.

The annual report of James B. Ollis, city treasurer, was taken up. It showed total cash and securities on hand approximately $45,000. One year ago it was $59,000. The difference is accounted for in the paying off of $29,000 in bonds and the purchase of equipment in the various departments, and really shows a gain of $16,000 in cash, securities and maintenance equipment.

Chapter BB, P. E. O.

Chapter BB P. E. O. met Monday evening with Mrs. Gould Flagg, with Miss Gertrude Hawkins as co-hostess. A very interesting report on the state convention was given by the delegates, Mrs. Mark Tolson and Mrs. C. C. Thompson.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Radloff of Council Bluffs, Ia., were taken to Council Bluffs today by their son, Rev. W. Ray Radloff, after visiting two weeks in the Radloff home. Rev. Radloff will attend the fiftieth anniversary of the Omaha Presbyterian Theological seminary today, and also the annual commencement exercises. Rev. Radloff is a graduate of this institution, class of 1930.

—M. Blemond underwent surgery while in Omaha a few days ago for the removal of a growth on the left side of his lower jaw. He is able to be about, but of course is still wearing a bandage.

—Mr. and Mrs. John L. W. Nelson left for their home in Omaha Tuesday morning, and Mrs. W. A. Bartlett went with them for a short visit there and also at the Gilmore in Lincoln.

Ord Young Men Singing With a Capella Choir

A total of 71 young people, the a capella choir from Kearney State Teachers' college, will appear in Ord at the high school auditorium tomorrow, Thursday evening. The choir is being brought to Ord under the sponsorship of the Ord Cosmopolitan club, and the girls of the five Camp Fire groups have been looking after the sale of tickets.

This organization would be of interest at any time, and is an outstanding organization in every respect. What gives it special interest to Ordites, however, is the fact that three Ord young men, Cornelius Blemond, Darold Petersen and Capron Coe, are all members of the choir.

Harley Eschliman and Amelia Adamek Married

At St. Mary's Catholic church Thursday morning, with Rev. Thomas Siudowski officiating, Miss Amelia Adamek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Adamek, became the bride of Harley Eschliman, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Eschliman. Both are well known Ord young people, the groom being a 1937 graduate of the Ord schools.

They were attended by Paul Adamek and Miss Laverna Novosad, cousins of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Eschliman left for Scottsbluff for a visit with the bride's sister, Mrs. Steve Sowikinos and family, returning to Ord yesterday.

They will make their home for the present in rooms in Mrs. Bouda's home. Mr. Eschliman is associated with his father in the seed business here.

Burwell Junior High Wins Track Meet at Ord

Burwell junior high boys carried off track and field honors in a dual track meet held on the Ord field yesterday, by piling up a total of 57 points to Ord's 38. Burwell made a clean sweep of the 100 yard low hurdles, and Ord did the same in the 100 yard dash.

Ord won two first places in the eleven events: Cetak took first in the 50 yard dash, and L. Haribert first in the 100 yard dash. Haribert was high with 16 points, Cetak second with 14, Satterfield had 3, A. Stewart had 2 and Johnson and Sowers, one point each.

—Miss Zola Cetak left on the bus this morning for Seattle, Wash., where she will visit a sister, Mrs. Alden Abbott.

Douthit Buys Property.

Walt Douthit has purchased the residence property of the late Anton Loeffler from the heirs, and is now busy painting and getting it ready for occupancy. As soon as the decorating is completed they plan to move.

Hastings Buys Property.

George Hastings, Jr., of Arcadia, was in Ord Saturday and he and his father-in-law, Ed Zikmund, that day closed the deal by which Mr. Hastings will open a funeral home. He expects to get possession about May 15 and will immediately start remodeling operations.

Ford Tractor Ferguson System

A WORD FROM OUR BOSS

I have long held the conviction that something should be done about farming. In too many cases, farming has not only ceased to be profitable; it has also ceased to be interesting.

The land itself has not collapsed either in expanse or productivity. But means have not been at hand whereby the family unit, on which the well-being of the land must depend, could produce at a profit and at the same time have the leisure to enjoy the fruits of their labor.

When Mr. Ferguson approached the problem of mechanization in terms of fundamental principles, and solved it in terms of the average farm family, our purposes became as one.

We both believe farming can and must be made profitable.

That is why we introduced the new Ford tractor just a few brief months ago.

Rev. W. R. Radliff to Give Sermon at Baccalaureate

Graduation Week Festivities to Open Sunday Eve, Conclude May 21 with Commencement.

Rev. W. Ray Radliff, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ord, has been selected to give the sermon at baccalaureate exercises for the graduating class of Ord high school, at the school auditorium at 8:00 p. m. Sunday, May 13. Activities traditional to graduation week open with the baccalaureate program Sunday and culminate in commencement exercises next Wednesday evening, May 21, with Herbert L. Cushing, president of Kearney State Teachers' college, as the speaker.

Other graduation week festivities include class night May 19 and the senior picnic May 20. The annual junior-senior banquet was held Tuesday night.

This spring Ord high school will graduate eighty-three seniors, second largest class in its history. The largest class was in 1933 when eighty-seven won diplomas.

The 1941 graduates are: Hilda Adamek, Robert Adamek, Warren Allen, Myrtle Auble, Earl Barnes, Verner Bartholomew, Harold Christensen, Frank Beran, Norma Blaha, William Blaha, Lily Christoffersen, Kathryn Clement, Thelma Collins, Doris Cushing, Harvey Dublin, Salamae Danczak, Marguerite Dlugosch, Phyllis Dodge, Florence Duda, Evelyn Dvorak, Cleora Edwards, Calvin Ferris, Beatrice Fischer, Betty Flynn, Patricia Frazier, Burdette Fredriksen, Lloyd Gewcke, Ray Furtak, Robert Gruber, Carol Hall, Therese Hansen, Floyd Iwanski, Norma Jorgensen, Robert Klina, Pearl Knecht, Angeline Koelling, Mary Kovarik, Harold Kusek, Vesta Lange, Orville Leach, Maxine Long, Bill Malolepszy, John Marker, Lydia Mathausser, Loreen Meese, David Milliken, Elwood Miska, Dean Misko, Virginia Moon, Elder Mottl, Phyllis Munn, Mildred Nay, Geraldine Noll, Lyle Norman, James Ollis, Evelyn Parkos, Margaret Petska, Peter Petersen, Cassius Pickett, Dorothy Piskorski, Ernest Piskorski, Thelma Richardson, Doris Robertson, Carson Rogers, Clarence Romans, Orville Stoddard, Betty Strong, Roberta Timmerman, Madeline Tyrrell, Ernest Ulrich, Adolf Urbanovsky, Dean Veloc, Vera Vegin, Marian Wardrop, Iris Warford, Jack Weaver, Elizabeth Wiberg, Vivian Wiegardt, Kathryn Work, Eva Zikmund, Charles Zlomke, Matilda Zulkoski, Maxine Zulkoski.

Gen. Henninger Here Saturday on Inspection

Brigadier General Guy Henninger of Lincoln was in Ord Saturday morning on an inspection tour of the state, in which he is meeting with the local draft boards and giving out information relative to late rulings. He was well pleased with the showing made by the local draft board, and had no fault to find with the way in which affairs have been conducted here. The members of the local board are W. J. Ramsey, Arcadia, chairman; L. D. Milliken, secretary; and W. T. McLain, A. A. Wiegardt is clerk. Gen. Henninger stated that getting married on the spur of the moment was not being considered a reasonable excuse for change in classification of enrollees, and advised would-be husbands to consult their draft board first. The general gave an address before the Chamber of Commerce at Callaway Thursday evening.

Returns From Kansas.

Mrs. Reginald Beeghly of Winner, S. D., returned to Ord from Abilene, Kas., Saturday evening. She was brought here by an uncle and aunt whom she had visited. They returned to Abilene Sunday evening, and Dr. Beeghly and wife returned to Winner Monday morning.

Slick Thief Steals Mayor's Cash Box

Burwell—Mayor Phillips and the local peace officers are still looking for the thief who made off with the cash register in the mayor's feed, seed and fur buying establishment in the northeast corner of the square last Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock. About $35 in cash and a number of checks were in the register when it was taken. Edgar Sherman, who was in charge of the place at the time, was in another part of the building grinding feed and saw no one enter or leave the building.

3 Girls Are Scholarship Winners at Burwell

Miss Mildred Hummell, at left, daughter of Mrs. Agnes Hummell, who has the highest grades of the 43 seniors who will receive their diplomas from Burwell high school this evening. Miss Hummell will have choice between a normal school or a denominational college scholarship. Miss Hummell, who took a commercial course, has already secured a position in the law office of Judge B. A. Rose.

Miss Vivian Frederick, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Frederick, is salutatorian of the class of 1941. She, too, completed the commercial course and will be employed in Guy Lavery's law office.

Miss Ruth Langstrom, right, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Langstrom, ranks a close third in scholarship, there being but a small fraction of difference between her's and Miss Frederick's grades. She is the last of four sisters to graduate from Burwell high school.

Mrs. Blessing Died Wedn'day; Funeral Held at Ord Sunday

Resident of County Since 1885; Death Followed Long Period of Serious Illness.

Following a long period of sickness during which she had been bedfast many months, Mrs. Clarence Blessing passed away quietly Wednesday at the home of her son, Lorenzo, in west Ord. She was born Sept. 23, 1877, and was 63 years, 7 months and 14 days of age at the time of her death.

Edna Mae Hull was born in Geneseo, Ill., Sept. 23, 1877, and came to Valley county with the family in 1884. She was married to Clarence Blessing March 18, 1896. They made their home on a farm west of Ord until the year 1901, when they moved to Ord, which was then her home until the time of her death.

There were born to Mr. and Mrs. Blessing seven children, all of whom are living: Two daughters, Mrs. Opal Burrows of Ord and Mrs. Jeanette Miller of Grand Island; five sons, Lorenzo and Dean of Ord, Clinton and Ross of Los Angeles, and Paul of Kearney. She is survived also by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Una Bartlett, of Ord, and ten grandchildren.

Irrigation Will Start in Valley

Water will be turned into the Taylor-Ord canal Thursday, into the Ord-North Loup canal next Monday and into the Burwell-Summer canal next Tuesday or Wednesday, says L. E. Walford, watermaster for the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district.

It will take about five days for irrigation water to reach the Ord end of the Taylor-Ord canal, estimates Mr. Walford.

Wet spring weather has been a boon to the irrigation district and to all farmers interested this season. The district is allowed no seepage and consequently any seepage losses, had water been turned into the ditches April 1 as usual, would have been charged up against the district's 12 inch quota. Much water that can be used during July and August was saved by delaying start of irrigation until now.

This week the district has had several calls for water to irrigate alfalfa and a few calls from the Burwell area to irrigate tomato plants, but otherwise farmers have got along well with rain-fall.

Chicken Thief Killed.

Burwell—Lawrence Franssen shot and killed a chicken thief who was stealing his turkeys about 10 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Franssen, hearing a commotion in the poultry yard, looked out and saw that the thief had already made off with five birds. He loaded his gun, aimed it at the thief and pulled the trigger. The thief died instantly. A female coyote, the mother of six babies, was the guilty party.

Dandelion Derby Saturday Brings Free Movie Show

Also $5 in Cash Prizes for Ord Children Who Dig the Most Yellow Pest Plants.

Next big event for Ord children is the dandelion derby sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, which starts this week and ends Saturday with a free movie show for each child who digs a bushel of the yellow plants which are such a pest in Ord lawns.

To get a free ticket to the big double feature at the Ord Theatre, good at the Saturday matinee, any boy or girl should dig within the limits of Ord a bushel of dandelions and deliver the plants to the vacant lot at rear of Ben's Shoe Store between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Saturday.

A committee headed by Hilding Pearson and having as other members K. W. Peterson, John Haskell, E. C. Leggett and A. L. Hill will be on hand to check in the dandelions and hand out tickets.

The Chamber of Commerce also is offering $5.00 in cash prizes for boys and girls who dig the most bushels of dandelions. First prize is $2.50, second prize is $1.50 and third prize $1.00. Competition for the cash prizes is optional, as only one bushel of plants need be dug to get a free movie ticket.

Feature at the Saturday matinee will be Gene Autry, the popular western singing star, in his new picture, "Back in the Saddle." Companion feature is the full length picture "Jeannie."

The dandelion derby is being put on in connection with Clean-Up Week which is being held all week by proclamation of Mayor M. B. Cummins. Cleaning dandelions out of lawns, curb spaces, parks and vacant lots will improve the appearance of the city to a great extent. Children should get permission from owners before digging the plants on private property, and the Chamber of Commerce hopes all Ord residents will cooperate by getting such permission.

This is the children's opportunity to help grown-ups make Ord a more beautiful city, and in addition to the satisfaction that will come from helping this worthy cause they will get to see a fine movie program free and three boys and girls are going to win handsome cash prizes.

You may start digging dandelions any time you choose but don't turn them in until 10 a. m. Saturday when committee members will be present to keep a record for prize awards and to hand out free movie tickets.

5 Music Students Rated Superior at Nat'l Contest

Entire Group Taken by Deines Made Fine Showing Sat'day; Stop-over at Lincoln.

Five of the Ord high school soloists were taken to the national music contest held Saturday in Topeka, Kas., and all were rated superior by judges there.

The group included James Ollis, Jr., cornet; Marian Wardrop, tenor saxophone; Patricia Frazier, girls' medium voice; Alex Cochran, boys' low voice; Harvey Dahlin, boys' medium voice.

Professor Henry Deines, director of musical activity in the Ord schools, headed the group. James B. Ollis took part of the musicians in his car. A stop-over was made at Lincoln.

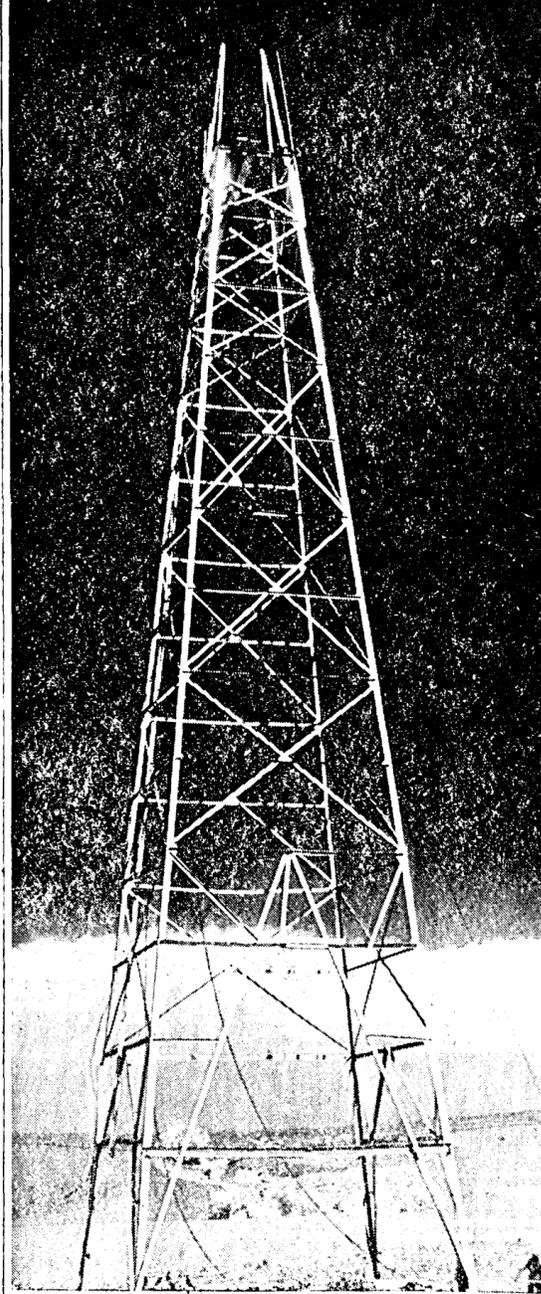

From all over the United States high school musicians came to this contest. Ratings were highly superior, superior, excellent and good, and to have all soloists rated superior was a splendid tribute to Professor Deines' instruction and to the ability of the young people themselves.

No Settlement Yet in Willard Birkes Case

Willard Birkes, third of the Loup county trio who were charged with the murder of Sheriff Brock, is still being held in the Valley county jail and no disposition of the case has been made as yet, stated A. A. Wiegardt, clerk of the district court, this morning.

A. F. Alder, attorney for Loup county, and Attorney Glenn Runyan, of Burwell, were here Tuesday and went on to Grand Island and Hastings to confer with Birkes' lawyers and with Ingleside officials.

Central Nebraska's First Oil Test Starting

Beneath this steel derrick, which towers 96 feet into the sky of Valley county, the first drilling for oil in central Nebraska will start soon. The derrick is located on Vogeler land 4 miles west of North Loup and a mile north of No. 56 highway, and just 11 miles southeast of Ord.

Workmen are putting finishing touches on the derrick today and by the first of next week the big rotary drilling equipment will be in place and the test well will be "spudded in."

The derrick rests on a concrete foundation, is 24 feet wide at the base and 96 feet tall. It is located on a northeast slope about a mile north and a half-mile west from the location originally contemplated by Henry Bredthauer and his associates, who are financing this attempt to strike oil.

Water Rate Reduced Same as Last Summer

At their council meeting last week the proposition of reducing the rate on water came up, and it was decided to do the same as last year. This does not affect the minimum rate, but makes a reduction of one-third of all water used above the minimum.

Up to the present time very little water has been used on lawns or gardens, but its use is being started now, and will increase unless rain comes soon. Because of the over-supply of water so far this spring the need of water becomes apparent sooner than in a drier spring.

K. of C. Boy Scout Investiture Sunday

At 4 p. m. at the Ord Catholic church will occur the investiture of the Knights of Columbus Boy Scout troop. At that time they will all subscribe to the Boy Scout oath and the Scout law.

The boys of the troop have all passed the tenderfoot test, a necessary preliminary to the investiture. The affair will be open to the public, and all Scouts and all members of the Scout committee will be present. It is planned to make this ceremony a regular feature with each new class of Scouts in the future.

Formal Tea Sunday.

The Business and Professional Women's club are giving a formal tea to the girls of the graduating class, Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4, at the home of Mrs. Wilmer Anderson. The committee in charge of arrangements is Mrs. Olof Olsson, Miss Wilma Cochran, Miss Louise Eberspacher, Miss Vera Frederick, Miss Bernice Stote and Miss Lois Buckley.

Charles Anderson Dies Suddenly at Home in South Ord

Found Dead in Bed by Sister Early Sunday Morning; Was Born in Sweden.

Death came suddenly and peacefully to Charles Anderson, 70, at his home in south Ord, at about 3 a. m. Sunday morning. He lived with his sister, Mrs. Emma Harder, in the place known as the Baker property on R street in the south part of town.

Mr. Anderson had been troubled with high blood pressure for some time, and for this reason did not get about much. Last spring he came to Ord and he and his sister established their home, which they have developed into a lovely little place.

Apparently he was not feeling any worse than usual when he went to bed Saturday evening. His sister heard him up in the night, but thought nothing of it. Monty Dalley, 8-year-old son of Mrs. Theodosia Dalley, next door neighbor, was spending the night there and sleeping with Mr. Anderson, and he passed so quietly that the boy was not disturbed.

Charles Anderson was born in Sweden in 1871, and would have been 70 years old, May 27. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. August Anderson. He came to America many years ago, and prior to coming to Ord was living at Arcadia. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Harder, and by two brothers, George Anderson of Detroit, Mich., and Al Anderson of Kirby, Wyo. Pearson and Anderson were in charge of funeral arrangements, and the services were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the Methodist church in Arcadia, Rev. Smith in charge. Burial was made in the Arcadia cemetery, with the members of the Arcadia Masonic lodge in charge of the services at the grave.

Extensive Damage Early This Morn by Freak Wind Storm

Out-buildings Blown Down and Trees Broken Off; Summer Heat Began Monday.

Summer heat made its appearance Monday, when an official temperature of 83 was recorded in Ord, and continued Tuesday with a high reading of 81. Today promises to be hotter.

Along with the heat came a freak wind-storm which hit this region about 2:30 this morning and did extensive damage to small buildings and also to trees.

At the Morris Kirby farm home two miles southwest of Ord the wind apparently reached its peak velocity, for five small buildings including a garage were leveled by the wind. A section of the garage roof was blown a distance of one hundred yards across the highway.

A straw shed built two years ago on the Bals ranch west of Ord was demolished. There probably are many other instances of damage not yet reported.

The old Sharp place in Union Ridge vicinity also felt the full force of the wind. A windmill there was blown down, the pump pulled up, the barn doors blown from their hinges and minor damage done. At several Mira Valley farm wind damage is reported also.

In Ord a great many fine old trees were broken off by the wind, including one of the big maple trees in the Quiz office yard.

The high line went out of commission shortly after the storm struck and the city plant began operating within half an hour, and was still carrying the load at noon today. The wind also caused a number of local breaks, all of which were cleared up this morning, and all patrons are now having service.

The storm lasted only a few minutes and there was no rain, although showers are forecast as long as the present hot, sultry weather continues.

Mrs. Laura Newbecker Dies in Los Angeles

North Loup—(Special)—From Harold Hoepfner comes word that his mother, Mrs. Laura Newbecker, died at 7:55 p. m. Monday in Los Angeles. She had been seriously ill several days and though her son went to Los Angeles last week to be with her she remained unconscious to the end. His sister, Mrs. Leslie Flynn, also lives in Los Angeles. The funeral arrangements have not been made, but it probably will be held in Los Angeles. In former years Mrs. Newbecker lived in Ord and she has many acquaintances throughout the Loup valley region.

HIGHWAY TROUBLES.

Decision of the state highway department to use the road along the river as a detour between Ord and Burwell this summer was regarded with mixed feeling by Ord...

While it is admitted that it was necessary to make some provisions for mail, bus and truck service in and out of Elyria, it is also agreed that the detour now decided upon has too many handicaps to make it satisfactory for the amount of traffic which will pass over it while repairs are being made to Highway No. 11...

A check-up shows there are 28 turns on the proposed detour, most of them are short and at square corners. Persons used to traveling over state roads are certain to travel faster and approach these corners at a greater rate of speed than is safe...

The Ord Chamber of Commerce offered to pay for right-of-way in Garfield county in order to have the Haskell Creek road used as a detour. The Haskell Creek road is detoured to the county line and most of it is gravelled. Cost of extending this road straight on north and thereby forming a permanent highway on state specifications would be no greater than the state now proposes to spend on a purely temporary road along the river...

The detour as now proposed may answer the purpose of furnishing mail and bus service through Elyria during the summer but when No. 11 is again reopened to traffic it will become only a local road, while the Haskell Creek routing would have been an ever-important link in the highway system of central Nebraska...

On the bright side of the picture is the fact that the state now proposes a plan by which the Ord-Elyria highway may be completed. The state will furnish plans and specifications, all materials for drainage structures including lumber, cement, sand, steel culverts, etc., and also will gravel the road as it is completed...

But central Nebraska needs both this road and the Haskell Creek road, and the Haskell Creek road must be completed some time anyway. The citizens of that section are demanding it and they will have it in time. Valley county has gone as far as it can in completing this road and Ord business interests went far more than half way in trying to get it finished...

This North Loup River Bridge Still Serves After 40 Years

More than 40 years ago the bridge so well known to Ordites of today was built across the North Loup river at Ord, supplanting an earlier one built near the same location by John L. Means of Grand Island in the early history of the county...

Some will recall that there was in the first place three different sections of bridge across the river. Then there were two islands instead of one, as it is today, and so of course three bridges were necessary...

Today a low spot to the west of the first bridge shows where the first section of the old bridge used to be, but nobody now thinks of it as once having been a part of the river...

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Written by GEORGE GOWZN

Pegged Farming Strawberry Days The Other Side Short Shavings

Properly seems to have arrived in this country. Although most people have had nothing to sell yet, things surely look brighter. Along with the rains, the government has pegged the price of butter, eggs and pork...

With all the extra hens we have on hand and all the extra hogs and brood sows, what will happen to the market should England fall? What would happen should England win soon? It is a little too deep a problem for me but it is nice as long as it lasts.

The strawberry beds around North Loup are getting more numerous all the time. There must be at least ten acres by now. Merrill Anderson has just set out 3 acres and Cloyd Ingersoll one. Sterling Manchester has one or more, W. T. Hutchins one, Gus Wetzel one or two besides some small patches...

Some think the market in another year will surely be flooded; other think the more berries, the better. The people in this nearby territory cannot eat all these berries, that's a cinch. But so far there has been no trouble selling them if they were taken a short distance. Sterling sold berries in Kearney, Grand Island, and Burwell at good prices last year when he could not move them in North Loup...

It is thought in another year some sort of a marketing arrangement will be made and with all these patches there would be enough berries to load a truck and make it worth while for the trucker to peddle the fruit to more distant places.

The Other Side.

There is an important "other side" to this hog buying question of which the Ord Chamber of Commerce so nobly sent a protest to Joe and the legislature. I am not trying to decide what is best but it is not, by any means, a one sided affair...

try when every farmer raised a bunch of hogs and they were called the mortgage lifters...

Whether this direct buying of hogs was the cause of this decline of hog profits or whether it was only a coincidence, I do not know, but I do know both began about the same time.

I am not so sure I'd sign a petition to send to Joe about this hog buying affair. I believe he is smart enough to do what is best without my put in.

It has been told around that the lady at Tekamah whom Harry Johnson married is wealthy. Whether or not she is, they attended the Kentucky Derby while taking a wedding trip in the South, and for a fact, to do that, they would have to have more money than I have right at this minute.

Greeley county, or the commissioner, or someone with a big cat and grader, is grading the roads east and north of the river bridge. I do not know whether I have mentioned it before or not, but those roads were surely gosh-awful.

This club held its first meeting of the season Sunday, May 11, at the Ben Maly home. New pamphlets and records were distributed to the members. Lunch was served at the close of the afternoon. The next meeting will be held June 1, at the Pete Duda home.—John Duda, reporter.

South of the A. F. Kosmata porch was a good-sized patch of charming tulips, mostly in the soft pastel shades with only an infrequent red one for accent. They were a pretty sight.

A bush of beauty was blooming at the Gnaister home a few days ago, the place where Keith Lewis formerly lived. It was green, about waist high, with many growing red flowers showing down in the heart of the bush. I believe it is called a flowering quince or a red quince. By whatever name it was scarlet and red beauty!

++ Something Different ++

Well now, did you drive around Ord and see the lovely tulips? You did? Did you go by Moser's, you know they have a horde of beauties swaying on tall stems every spring, in a host of colors...

Did you go by the former Lola place where the Dworak's now enjoy the tulips growing at the curb, mostly red and white ones? Near the park entrance, you know.

Over in east Ord Miss Lois Finley and her mother have a truly gorgeous display of tulips, and they should have, since some 500 new bulbs wintered in their yard and awaited spring-blooming for the first time.

As usual Mrs. Will Zabloudil has planned her color effect carefully, and the delicate pink of her tulips mingles with the soft blue of what's-that-flower's-name? Is it mountain aster or mountain phlox, I can't think of it just now. A wall of greenery behind it adds to the storybook air and general charm of the view.

Mrs. Mat Kosmata ever has a well-tended yard, and her tulips are ever attractive too, lending piquancy to her big yardful of greenery and lawn. No wonder visitors brag of the beauty of Ord when they see a place like Kosmata's, one of the first to be glimpsed on entering town from the southeast.

I thought Dr. Blessing's flowers pretty, and his color scheme is the same as Mrs. Zabloudil's. Dr. Blessing is quite a yard-minder and is often seen out there raking or dandelion-evacuating.

Mrs. Clarence Davis is another who goes quietly about her gardening year after year. Her backyard is always worth more than a casual glance. Sometimes she sets Clarence out there too, on the top end of one of those long-handled dandelion diggers. They do have a thick handsome sod.

I am much thrilled over the many things Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deines have done to beautify the place next north of us. And their landlord, Frank Dworak, senior, his place is a model of orderliness and green beauty. No, he doesn't tend his lawn with a pocket comb, but weeds and intruders such as dandelions do live a brief life when they nominate his yard for a habitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sticher, earlier, had two or three dozen of a lovely new tulip showing. You are too late to see it blazing in its colorful fire tones. Big blooms on long, heavy stems were orange-red, shading to almost yellow at the edges.

Thoughtless boys are knocking down Bud's birdhouses nearly every night, he declares. These little birdhouses are real problems of architecture which he has solved in many hours of work and planning. They add to our park, no doubt of it. Perhaps boys aren't doing it, but they are getting the credit for it. And in the house-hunting season for birds, too.

Studying birds, their nests and eggs and habits like one boy's group in Ord is doing would provide those boys with a great deal more enjoyment. If they only knew it.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Frank Fryzek and son did a mighty fine job redecorating the ceiling and walls in Auble Bros. building recently, but there was left the job of fixing up the inside of the showcases that line the wall, and which could be done only a little at a time. Friday evening Jay and Glen were busy putting the finishing touches on the cleanup job, and it now presents a very fine appearance.

A most unusual quarter was taken in at the Russell Drug store Saturday. It is really an old timer. On the obverse side it has the full length figure of Liberty seated on a throne, scepter in hand, with marks on either side where the pin and hook were soldered on, and the date, 1854, below. The reverse side has the word "Eliza", etched upon it, with ornamental etching all around. It may be somebody's keepsake, and if so the owner can get it at Russell's by paying a quarter. If not claimed in a reasonable time, Mr. Russell says he will keep it as a relic.

Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Hardenbrook had the real pleasure of seeing the one and only Smiley Burnette, alias Frog Millhouse, while they were in Fremont. He and four other western comedians were appearing at the Fremont theater in connection with a Gene Autry picture being shown there. After the picture was shown he came out on the stage and put on a comedy line in his inimitable style. They enjoyed it about as much as any entertainment they ever saw.

As long as we are getting away from Ord anyway, we might as well tell about that doughty trio of Ord fishermen, Jim Gilbert, Mark Gyger and Harry Wolfe, who made a trip Sunday to the wilds of the Cedar on what is known as the Kruml ranch, for the reason that the owners' name is Kruml. They got a lot of rock and black bass, with an occasional blue-gill here and there. Meanwhile Frank, sr. and jr., and Emil Wafelita, and Billy and Jimmie, were further up the river, and they got plenty of bluegills, with now and then a bass. Pretty soon a mug came a party from still further up the river, and they had a very nice catch of trout. They all agreed that fishing was fine Sunday.

Mrs. Branting Writes. Writing from Bauxite, Ark., Mrs. Louise Misko Branting makes a correction on our naming of the young ladies in the April 30 edition of the Quiz. We had them named left to right, but the names run right to left. Also the one at the extreme left is not Lottie Chotena, but Ola Vavra. She has been getting the Quiz cookbooks and enjoying them very much. She says every recipe she has tried has been a success.

Mrs. B. A. Rose was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Highland Woman's club in the home of Mrs. Ralph Sperling Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Rose told the true story of Evangeline, the heroine immortalized in Longfellow's poem. On her recent trip to Louisiana Mrs. Rose learned that the poet had to improve upon the truth to get the romanticism for his poem. Basil did not remain true to his first love when he became separated from his bride-to-be when the French were driven out of Acadia. After teaching many years for him Evangeline found him married to another and the father of several children. Brokenhearted she entered a convent and became a nun. Longfellow heard about Evangeline's thwarted romance from a grandson of Basil who attended Harvard university while the poet was teaching there. While in Louisiana Mrs. Rose visited the home of Basil which has been converted into a museum and Evangeline's grave at St. Martinsville where Dolores Del Rio has erected a life statue. The actress once portrayed Evangeline in a film production.

County Agent Notes

Corn Test Plot Planted.

Farmers of Valley county will be interested in the outcome of a hybrid corn test plot planted on the W. A. Rogers farm in Ord township on May 10th. The test will include 23 different hybrids and one good open-pollinated variety which was furnished by Floyd Hutchins of North Loup.

The planting was done by a crew from the Nebraska Experiment Station. The entire plot was hand planted and each variety was planted at six different places in the plot. The entire planting will be first to a uniform stand after the first cultivation.

One interesting feature of the test is the fact that the rows of the test varieties run cross-wise of the way the plot will be irrigated. Thus a difference in water application will affect all varieties and not a single variety as it would if the rows ran the same direction as the water will be run.

This is an official state yield test and the results will be included in the state report which is published each year, summarizing the tests in all sections of the state. It is one of four irrigated tests in Nebraska, all others being on dryland.

Food-For-Defense Meeting. Food is playing a big part in national defense and Valley county homemakers, both town and country, are going to hear the latest details about their contributions to the program in a meeting scheduled for Ord on May 20th.

Leaders of all women's groups throughout the county are being invited to attend this all-important meeting which will be held in the American Legion hall starting promptly at 9:00 a. m. The agricultural extension service is sponsoring the gathering as a part of the "food-for-defense" drive which now is being conducted on a nationwide scale.

Groups invited to be represented at the meeting besides extension project clubs are study clubs, church groups, Parent-Teachers association, 4-H clubs and others. These leaders then are expected to take the information back to their individual groups immediately so that all Valley county women will be fully informed about recent developments in the "food-for-defense" program.

Preservation of fruits and vegetables is one of the key points in the program in addition to the increased production of family gardens. As a result, Mrs. Alta Benesh of the extension service at the College of Agriculture will present a canning demonstration on the program. She will demonstrate the latest and best methods of properly preserving all fruits and vegetables this summer and fall.

The details of the "food-for-defense" program will be presented by Mrs. Inez Burrows of the AAA. County Agent Dale will preside over the day's gathering.

Leaders of the various organizations expected to be represented at the gathering are urged to be on time for the meeting. The importance of the meeting has also been stressed in invitations sent to them.

Treat That Sorghum. It won't be long until some Valley county farmers will be planting grain or forage sorghums and now is the time to consider treating the seed for the control of kernel smut.

Sorghum seed may appear to be perfectly clean but it may have the seeds or spores of smut clinging to it ready to germinate and attack the sorghum seedling at planting time warns Extension Plant Pathologist Jesse Livingston of the College of Agriculture. These spores, however, may be easily destroyed by treating the seed with new improved Ceresan or Copper Carbamate.

When treating, the seed and dust must be thoroughly mixed. This may be easily done by running it through a homemade mixing machine such as the Minnesota seed grain treater, barrel mixer or a concrete mixer. Directions for the treating and a diagram for treaters are contained in Extension Circular 148, "Seed Treatment for Cereals," which farmers may obtain from the county agent's office.

The seed treatment costs about 2 cents a bushel. It is an inexpensive crop insurance.

More Conservation Minded. Farmers throughout Nebraska are becoming more conservation minded.

For the state as a whole, approximately 5 1/2 times as much acreage of old crop land was seeded to permanent grasses in 1940, as in 1939, according to records of those participating in the AAA program each year.

Likewise, seed used last year in reseeding old pastures amounted to nearly four times as much as the seed used the previous year, and the acreage of pastures rested in 1940 was 140 per cent of the 1939 figure.

Commenting on this development D. L. Gross, Extension Agronomist at the Nebraska College of Agriculture, said, "No higher type of soil conservation can be carried out than that of putting land back to permanent grass or preserving and improving grass land that is already established. Nebraska farmers are to be commended for the rapid forward strides they are taking in this respect."

CHASE'S

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redlon, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal and their daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill and daughter spent Sunday at Erlson.

North Loup and Boelus played ball at North Loup Sunday, Boelus winning 15-5. The North Loup team have new suits, purchased last week. Mills Hill and Darwin Sheldon went to Lincoln Thursday after them.

A triple A meeting held Thursday night at the school house was attended by a good sized interested crowd. Mrs. Ed Burrows presided. Mrs. Dorothy Momeekin, state field woman and Mrs. Esther Raasch, assistant, were present and spoke. Herbert Woette was also present and showed two talkie pictures, Farmers in a Changing World, and Plows, Planes and Peace. The theme of the entire program was Agriculture's Place in Defense. Eula Brown and Steven Clement presented a short one-act play and the Burrows girls each gave a reading.

A number from North Loup went to Ord Thursday night to hear the Kearney a capella choir. Muriel Bartz and LaVerne Hutchins are members of the choir. LaVerne returned home with his people and a family gathering to celebrate his birthday was held later in the evening. Friday he went to Central City and Gibbon where the choir heard Muriel Bartz and several others returned to North Loup after the Gibbon concert Friday night. They went back to Kearney Monday morning.

Mary Ann Bartz, Roberta Maxson and Ruth Lee came up from Lincoln Saturday evening and spent Mother's Day at their homes, returning to their work Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robinson returned Wednesday evening from the northern part of the state where they have been for several months. They came home because of the illness of Mrs. Robinson's mother, who lives in Scotland.

Ann Johnson was given a handkerchief shower Wednesday evening honoring her birthday. The evening was spent playing pinochle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bowen and Bob of Kearney were Sunday guests of Mrs. Bowen's mother, Ann Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Christensen and Phyllis, Mrs. Harlan Brennick and Jeanne and Carolyn Hamer were Grand Island visitors Saturday afternoon.

Chas. Clark of Lincoln and Nettie Clark of Madison spent the week end at home. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Clark were also Sunday dinner guests in the C. B. Clark home.

Mrs. Lena Toyler and Mrs. A. E. Baruhart spent Friday in Ord, the guests of Mrs. Jim Misko. The rural school and their teacher, Hazel Stevens gave a Mother party Friday afternoon. Ten mothers were present to enjoy the program and lunch. Mrs. Leslie Wilson and Mrs. Otto Bartz went out from town.

Berniece Wilson was a Saturday guest in the C. J. Goodrich home. She is recovering nicely from her recent operation and hopes to be back at her place in the IOA store soon.

Virgil Annys has severed his connection with the Farmers store where he has been employed for some time and has gone to work in the cheese factory.

Everett Stewart who has been employed in the cheese factory for several years has quit to drive a truck for Romans of Ord. He will continue to live in North Loup. His place in the factory is being filled by Victor King.

Hazel Stevens spent Saturday night at the Gilbert Babcock home and Sunday accompanied them to Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hudson and Barbara went to Lincoln Saturday night to spend Sunday with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Scott spent Sunday at the O. C. Reams home near Scotia.

Twenty-one seniors will be graduated from the North Loup schools Thursday night, May 22. Rev. A.

C. Ehret will deliver the address and the exercises will be held in the South Day Baptist church. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday night in the Methodist church, with Rev. Adams the speaker. Wednesday night the seniors will give their play, Poor Father. Friday morning they will take the juniors at the annual breakfast which is to be an outdoor one at the chalk hills, weather permitting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Roby were hosts at a Mother's Day dinner Sunday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Don Tolbert and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post, Mrs. Maggie Annys, Carol and Virgil, Bernice Wilson, Mrs. Della Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Lavelle Hicks and Dee Marcella and Mrs. Morris Davidson and Luella of Hastings and Mrs. Fanny Weed. The Howard Dunbar family spent Sunday with relatives at Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Eriam Barnhart and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Knapp and daughters and Dale Stine were Sunday dinner guests in the Chas. Meyers home.

Mrs. Jim Coleman and Janet and Mrs. C. D. Knapp and Beverly and Janice were in Broken Bow on business Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Robbins were in Omaha from Wednesday to Friday. Mr. Robbins shipped two car loads of cattle Wednesday.

Tulips in all their gay color meet the eye wherever one looks. The spring moisture together with the irrigation water used last fall has helped to make them more beautiful than ever. Mills Hill has a fine bed on the west side of his house, Mrs. Ed Knapp, Mrs. Fanny Weed, Mrs. Anna Tappan, Mrs. C. B. Clark, Dr. Hemphill and many others have beautiful beds of the flowers. Perhaps the most showy of any are those in the M. Fisher yard. A large bed fills the back yard and are some in the front yard and by the south side of the house, is a bed of a new variety, large red blossoms with a tiny white edge. They present an extra brilliant appearance. It is worth one's time to take a walk about town to see the varieties.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and Charlotte went to Lincoln Sunday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schudel. While there they called on Ed Heibig of Sterling, Colo., who is in the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln. The Heibigs had planned to visit in North Loup last week but he has not been well for some time and they decided to go to Lincoln where he is under the care of Dr. George Misko. Mrs. Heibig is also in Lincoln at the Misko home. They have leased their filling station at Sterling for six months.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie went to Murdock Saturday to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Gillespie's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Desack. Mr. Gillespie returned on Monday but she will spend the week in Murdock. Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cornell accompanied them as far as Friend and were guests of Mrs. Cornell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gordon.

Mrs. Walter Pauss and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hansen Saturday and Sunday.

The last quarterly conference session of the year will be held at the Evangelical church in Mira Valley Thursday night. Rev. Adams expects to leave Tuesday of next week to attend the conference of the Evangelical churches.

Arthur Bartz of Camr, Riley, Kas., and Richard Bartz of Omaha spent Sunday in the Fred Bartz home. Mr. and Mrs. Don Paddock and Lyde Smith accompanied them up from Omaha. Mr. Paddock returned with them Sunday evening but the ladies remained for a longer visit. Merle Curtis, a friend of Richard Bartz, also accompanied him here.

Kenneth Barber took his sister, Jeanne, Muriel Bartz and LaVerne Hutchins back to their work in Kearney college Monday morning.

Seventh and eighth grade students were given county examinations here Thursday and Friday by Alice Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vogeler went to the barn about 9:30 Sunday night to look after the baby chickens and left their small son Robert eating a lunch at the table. When they returned a short time later they could not find him and became alarmed. The neighbors and a number of townspeople joined the search which lasted for nearly an hour when Robert was discovered fast asleep behind the stove.

Andy Purcell is 83. Tuesday of last week Andrew S. Purcell passed his 83rd birthday, but he is busy as always working at the carpenter trade, and did not take time out to celebrate. With no young fellows learning the carpenter trade, Andy continues to carry on, and has already taken two contracts this spring. Incidentally Mr. and Mrs. Purcell had their 61st wedding anniversary on Feb. 4. They are both in quite good health at present.

Valley County Has No Auto Deaths for 1941

According to a letter received this week from Capt. R. T. Schrein of the Nebraska safety patrol, Valley county is still in the list of those counties which have had no auto fatalities in 1941. At the close of the first four months of 1941, only 29 counties had reported fatalities, as against 64 in which none had been killed.

Fine cooperation has given the state successive fatality reductions in the months of March and April, according to Capt. Schrein. However, the trend in May was in the opposite direction, with one fatality per day for the first ten days. This was the first report since the uncameral combined the departments of law enforcement and public safety.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

May 11, 1931.

Arcadia won the Loup Valley track competition with 36 points, with Comstock second and Sargent third. A half point by Don Lashmett saved Ord from a complete shutout.

Martha Mae Barta was Ord's highest ranking student, with an average of 94.87. Miss Greta Brinker was second with 94.61.

Nebraska's 39,000 acre bird sanctuary in Garden county was taken over by the federal government. Robert Preston bought the Arlington Hotel in North Loup at auction for $1,850. Arthur Malottke bought the Mrs. Moggie Vanscoy farm for $50 per acre.

Eighty-one homes were entered in the yard-garden contest. The C. A. Hager company has leased the Keown building north of the Quiz office, and were to move there June 1.

L. M. Real was a graduate of the Omaha Presbyterian Theological seminary, at a special service held at the First Presbyterian church there.

May 12, 1921.

P. S. Penny, highway department man, thought he was being held up by Joe Rybin, who was walking to town and wanted a ride.

The Ord city council hired Bill Wolters as city light and water commissioner for another year. Surveyors were at work on the North Loup-Arcadia highway preliminary survey.

Loup City golfers were too much for the Ord players, but they had one M. Diamond playing with them.

The Clarence Bresley family living northeast of Ord all became poisoned from eating rhubarb. They all recovered.

A Ford car driven by Sigurd Moller overturned near Elyria with considerable damage to the car and occupants.

A new bandstand was being planned for Arcadia, the Methodist minister having submitted a plan for its financing and construction.

May 11, 1911.

Plans were under way for improving the valley road between North Loup and Ord, which at that time did not amount to much as a road at that time.

On a busy Saturday afternoon Mamie Siles's delivery team took a notion to have a trip around the square all by themselves. So they upped the wagon, threw out the driver and caused plenty of excitement.

Because of the fine work the Ord volunteer fire department did in fighting the Bailey fire in March, the Baileys mailed them a check for $150, together with a letter of appreciation.

The Quiz made note of the fact that Bud Shirley was going around a stranger in his own town, all because he had his mustache shaved off. Not many Ordites ever saw Bud without it.

Lincoln was making great plans for a three day aviation meet of Glenn Curtis birdman on May 24. An airplane in those days was some sight.

The Ord Independent Telephone company were extending their lines toward Wilson and were promising Ord subscribers direct connection with Erlson phones. We don't have it today.

It was reliably reported that the Union Pacific was to build from Callaway west to Arnold, Ganley and Tryon.

Bailey and Detweiler were advertising about the first sties to be offered for sale in this section, according to the Quiz.

May 17, 1901.

Saturday afternoon, May 11, one hundred $500 bonds of the Ord Irrigation district were burned in the street in front of the postoffice by the officers of the district. The board declared the district reorganized. The total expenses of the district were $2,789.72, and nothing was done toward irrigation.

The Baileys were advertising a sale of men's all-wool suits for $4.75 each. Believe it or not, they were all wool.

Dr. Haldeman and daughter Irma were having excellent luck raising Belgian hares, which were pretty much of a novelty at that time.

W. Stoddart, railroad contractor of St. Paul, Minn., had his dirt-moving outfit on the Burlington tracks and was busy filling in the space occupied by the east half of the Burlington railroad bridge. The work continued all through the summer, and the bridge was shortened by one half.

W. T. Draper had been appointed police judge to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. A. Laverty.

Grant Cruikshank was seriously hurt when the horse he was riding fell with him.

May 11, 1886. Harry Coombs had opened a land office at Arcadia and was doing a good business.

The president of the Valley County Agricultural society was requesting schools of the county to help out with the exhibit at the fair.

The Quiz was receiving a new Gordon job press and was making a bid for the job work of the business men.

The school census of Valley county, taken in April, showed that there were 2,079 children in the county between the ages of 5 and 21 years.

In digging a well on the Judge Laverty place, a well preserved petrified bone was found at a depth of 120 feet below the ground.

A lot of trees had been set out on the school house lots, the site of the present grade school building. Doubtless some of the trees now there were among those set out.

Inhalator Fund Dance by Ord Firemen May 21

A dance for the benefit of the inhalator fund will be put on Wednesday, May 21, by the members of the Ord Volunteer fire department. The dance will be held in the Bohemian hall, and the music will be by Joe Luken and his KMMJ orchestra.

When the inhalator was purchased there was a sum left over to take care of the upkeep expenses for a time. It was understood that when the inhalator was used, those able to pay the actual cost would do so. However, the fund is now about exhausted, and the firemen have decided to give the public an opportunity to help replenish it.

State Osteopaths Win Contest for Operative Surgery

Bill Would Counteract Recent Ruling of Supreme Court Against Dr. Gable.

After considerable argument Friday morning, the unicameral special committee approved LB 513, a bill sponsored by Nebraska osteopaths to counteract a supreme court decision refusing them the right to practice operative surgery. The measure was reported out by the 15-man committee with an amendment which would give licensed osteopaths the right to practice manipulative surgery but would require those who desired to practice operative surgery to pass an examination given by a board of three. This board would consist of the deans of the medical schools at the University of Nebraska and Creighton university, and an osteopath appointed by the governor. The amendment was first rejected 8 to 7. Then the bill in amended form was reported out, 9 to 6. Although LB 513 has 23 signers, only five of them are on the 15-man committee. A motion to report the bill out in its original form was lost, 8 to 6, one man not voting. As drawn it would permit licensed osteopaths to practice operative surgery with instruments as taught in osteopathic colleges recognized by the American Osteopathic association. As a result of the recent state supreme court ruling against Dr. Roy Jackson Gable of Scottsbluff, a large number of osteopaths from all over the state were in Lincoln in the interests of the bill. The measure was opposed by several Omaha and Lincoln medical doctors. Clarence A. Davis, Lincoln attorney appeared in behalf of the osteopaths, and said that the effect of the ruling was that they dare not practice anything that could be construed as surgery. He also stated that investments worth between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in seven hospitals established in the state would be defunct unless the bill passes. Dr. H. N. Norris of Ord was among those active in the fight for the bill, which was brought out as an emergency measure following the supreme court reversal of a Scotts Bluff district court decision in favor of Dr. Gable, as it was then too late for the introduction of regular bills.

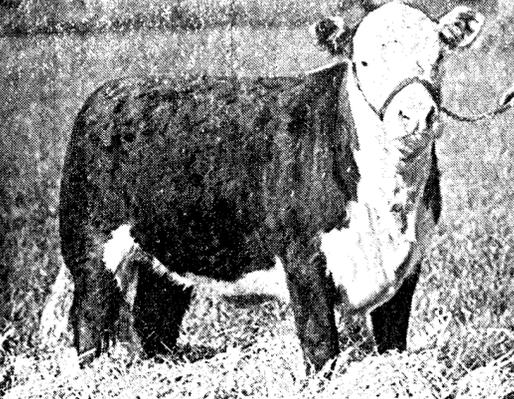

Parkins Fits the First Pair of Contact Lenses

The first pair of the new type of glasses known as contact lenses ever fitted by Dr. George A. Parkins, and possibly the first pair ever fitted in Ord, were being worn Monday by Mrs. Parkins. These lenses are made of extremely thin glass and fit directly over the eyeball. They may be put on or removed in an instant with a little rubber device having a suction cup on the end. Once they are in place, it is impossible to tell that a person is wearing glasses. Mrs. Parkins had an operation for removal of cataracts a few years ago and suffers considerably from astigmatism. She says that the contact lenses give her better vision than she ever has had and that they are not uncomfortable. Dr. Parkins says that about 60 per cent of people who now have to wear exceptionally thick and unsightly glasses for major corrections may eventually be benefited by contact lenses.

Grade School Notes

The end of school picnics will be held next week. The kindergarten, grades 1 and 2 will be on Tuesday grades 3 and 4 on Wednesday, and grades 5 and 6 on Thursday. In Miss Swain's room Mother's Day booklets were made by the pupils. Each child drew a picture of himself, colored it as he was dressed and wrote a verse to his mother. The kindergarten had a Mother's Day visiting day on Wednesday, May 7. A short program was given by the pupils and consisted of songs, verse speaking, choir, playlet and rhythm band. After the program ice cream and cookies were served. Nineteen visitors were present. They were: Mrs. Clayton Gilroy, Mrs. Bessie Achen, Mrs. George Vavra, Mrs. J. S. Clayton, Mrs. J. E. Cook, Mrs. Ed Dahlin, Mrs. H. L. Dahlin, Mrs. Roger Benson, Mrs. Chet Austin, Mrs. R. S. Craven, Mrs. Jack Romans, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Lloyd Wilson, Miss Viona Wolfe, Mrs. Q. E. Witherwax, Mrs. Ross Leonard, Mrs. Alberta Bleach, Mrs. Ray Atkinson and Mrs. Elmer Christoffersen. Birthdays: Charlotte Svoboda, 6; Jeannine and Jeannice Fox, 11; Walter Sowers, 9; Dorothy Parkos, 7; Betty Bruho, 11. Rev. E. F. Halst Visits. E. F. Halst, district superintendent of the Evangelical churches, came in on the bus from Burwell this morning. He met with the Taylor congregation and their pastor, Rev. W. G. Loder, last evening. He said he has a meeting with the Mira Valley Evangelical group tomorrow, and a meeting at Scotia Friday. Rev. Halst has been making this territory as superintendent for a great many years, and he is very popular here. Never Missed Col. Matt J. Winn of Kentucky Derby fame has never missed a running of that famous race. He saw the first one ever run, in 1875, when he was 13.

Zangger's Polled Herefords Top Two Iowa Sales

Here is pictured Lady Fae 2nd, top price Hereford female at the auction held in Des Moines on April 22. She was purchased by Philip Leinweber, of San Jose, Ill., for $225, and was bred and owned by W. O. Zangger, of North Loup. Bess Advance, a 2-year-old Hereford also bred by Zangger, topped the auction held in LeMars, Ia., on April 24. A young Zangger-bred bull sold for $250 and another for $260 at LaMars and he sold 17 head at the two sales, all at splendid prices.

Old Settlers Picnic Will Come on June 22

If the annual old settlers' picnic is held according to schedule, it will come Sunday, June 22. In view of the fact that the picnic has not been held in Ord for several years, Alfred A. Wiegardt, secretary of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, has written Thurman A. Smith, cordially inviting the group to hold the picnic here this year. While it is not known at this time what Mr. Smith's reaction will be, members from this territory are hoping that the answer will be yes. Bussell Park is more beautiful this year than for many years, and ample facilities are provided for as large a crowd as is expected to attend. Tuesday evening.—A letter just received from Judge Smith by John L. Ward, secretary of the Old Settlers' association, states that he is in favor of holding the picnic in Bussell Park this year, and to go ahead with the arrangements. He says he is certain that a large delegation will attend from Taylor, where the picnic was held for the past two years, and from all the other towns in the valley.

Tawanka Camp Fire

This group of girls met Friday evening, May 9, with Miss Blanche Hutar. They held their regular business meeting, and then a new guarilian was appointed, Mrs. Joe Osenkowski. They also planned for a bake sale later. The next meeting will be held with Miss Willa Joyce Achen May 16.—Jeanne Covert, scribe.

GROHE'S ACCLIMATED SEED CORN

Do not make a mistake and plant varieties of corn that are not adapted for this territory, because you farmers will be the losers if you raise a poor quality of feeding corn.

You can plant NuBred and be sure of quality. NuBred can be planted up to June 1, because NuBred matures in 103 days. You do not take a chance when you plant NuBreds because they have proven their value to local farmers who have grown them.

All the NuBred seed we are offering for planting here was grown in this territory by local farmers for local farmers.

Flowers in Ord Are Beautiful This Year: Here Is the Proof

Albion Man Buys 32 Defense Bonds

"I am not going to allow anyone in Albion to outdo me in my support of the administration and my country in this time of need," said Frank M. Gross, and he counted up his grandchildren and great grand children, twenty-six of the former and four of the latter, and adding a couple more bonds for himself and wife, started them all on the way to own $25 government bonds, the first man in Boone county to do anything of the kind. Mr. and Mrs. Gross are frankly worried about the war and the conditions in this country. They formerly lived in Ord and were in the meat market and stock business.

Heuck, his wife, and Otto Heuck, deceased, real names unknown, all persons having or claiming any interest in Lots 3 and 4, Block 15, Haskell's Addition to Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, real names unknown, and all persons having or claiming any interest in Lots 6, 7 and 8, Block 7, Hillside Addition to Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, real names unknown, defendants:

You, and each of you, will take notice that on the 7th day of April, 1941, the plaintiff, City of Ord, Nebraska, a municipal corporation, filed its petition against said defendants, and others, and commenced an action in the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, the object and prayer of which is to foreclose certain Tax Sale Certificates issued by the County Treasurer of Valley County, Nebraska, on November 1, 1937, and which Certificates convey to the plaintiff the real estate above described; that said Tax Sale Certificates were issued for all delinquent taxes and special assessments against the respective tracts of land above described which were due and delinquent on the date of said Certificates.

Said petition further prays that subsequent taxes and any special assessments upon said several tracts of real estate be included in said foreclosure and that all of the defendants in said action, including those above named, be foreclosed of all right, title and equity of redemption in and to said real estate; that said real estate be sold as provided by law and the proceeds applied to the payment of the costs of this suit, including statutory attorneys' fees and the payment of plaintiff's liens and general equitable relief. The defendants above named are required to answer said petition on or before the 9th day of June, 1941.

The City of Ord, Nebraska, a municipal corporation, Plaintiff by Clarence M. Davis, City Attorney, and E. L. Vogeltanz, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

BURWELL

The people of Burwell were disappointed when their track team, which appeared to be invincible, failed to win the Class B championship at the state meet in Lincoln. The Longhorns placed third, being surpassed by both Oshkosh and Ravenna. Burwell outclassed the latter school in two meets earlier in the season. Jack Anderson, Burwell's main hope and stellar performer, placed first in the high hurdles but failed to complete the race in the low hurdles. Leslie Chaffin won second in the 100 yard dash and third in the 220. Archie Ray placed fourth in the half mile. Burwell lost the relay race to Ravenna. In the Wranglers meet they tied Ravenna and at the Seven Valleys meet they came in ahead of Coach Gentry's boys. A large delegation of Burwellites drove to Lincoln for the meet including W. P. Mansell, K. M. Parsons, Connie Swanson, Philip Beckwith, Bob Bangert, Bill Iwanski, Austin Anderson and Deak Owens.

Today marks the beginning of a new era in Burwell. The rough uneven streets for which the town is noted are being paved. The work commenced today. A number of men have received assignments from the WPA to report for work on the project. The replacing of iron water pipes with copper ones will be the first step in the process.

Guy McMillans Visited for Short Time Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Guy McMillan and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Demel of Glendale, Calif., were in Ord a short time Monday afternoon, and visited the Gilbert Clarks. Mrs. McMillan is a sister of Mr. Clark's father.

Mr. McMillan grew to manhood in Ord, and will be remembered as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMillan. They came here from Fremont, and went on to Hyannis for a visit before returning to California.

Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Holloway and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loeffler and family were among the Burwell visitors in Ord Monday afternoon.

Aonakiya Camp Fire.

This group held a picnic May 7, each member inviting a guest. They all met at 4:30 p. m. at the school house and then rode in cars to the Fred Kuehl home. They all rode in a wagon up in the hills. After returning home they gathered up their covered dishes and held a picnic in the trees. They had a wiener roast and each girl had brought a covered dish for their supper. The evening was spent in playing games and later two cars from town came for them. There were 26 present and the guardian, Mrs. Cochrane.

The regular business meeting of this group was held May 12, Charlene Munn being the hostess. Twelve members were present. The Camp fire treasury was discussed, and plans are now being made for summer camp and means of earning money. The hostess entertained the group by taking them to a cafe for a light lunch.—Luetta Kuehl, scribe.

Fafeta Front Repaired.

The damage to the adjoining Hasckell building two months ago did some damage also to the corner of the Fafeta building occupied by the Safeway store. Monday Hower and Harris built a staging at the corner and John Mason put a coating of stucco over the brick on the corner, thereby making the front more substantial and adding to its appearance.

Fortnightly Club Host to Juniors

(Special to The Quiz) North Loup—The Fortnightly club entertained the junior club at a luncheon held Wednesday afternoon in the parlors of the Methodist church. Hostesses were Mrs. W. O. Zangger, Mrs. J. S. Manchester, Mrs. Albert Babcock, Mrs. C. J. Goodrich and Mrs. A. C. Hutchins. The two course luncheon was served at small tables with red, white and blue appointments.

After the luncheon the program which had been arranged by the courtesy committee was given. Roll call was about mothers. Mrs. J. A. Barber gave a report of the state convention which she attended at Gordon. Mrs. H. J. Hoepner sang "Wonderful Mother of Mine," and Mrs. Mark Tolen, of Ord, gave a demonstration of the new talking books which the Ord library recently purchased to be used in the children's hour.

The junior club then presented their play, "On to Rockville." Other guests were Mrs. Noll and Mrs. Rasmussen of Ord and Mrs. Jim Harrison of Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyth Habig and family drove to Grand Island to spend the day with relatives Sunday.

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on light-weight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Sunnyside, Wash.

The Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebr. Dear Sirs:

Herewith enclosed check for $2.00 for subscription to the Quiz. See from reports coming in and from people that came here lately from Nebraska, that you are having a lot of moisture, which will no doubt insure a good crop, which we all here from Nebraska would like to see, even if we don't live there any more. I don't think that we talk to one person from there, but says, "Hope they get a good crop." We have had a wonderful spring here in the valley, the fruit trees are all blossomed out and it will not be very long when the first fruit will come and that is the cherry crop.

We, around Sunnyside, are in the heart of the largest asparagus district. They started cutting asparagus about March 30th and this will continue till 1st of July. This gives employment to several thousand people, as they load several carloads of this daily, besides what goes to the canneries around. This Sunnyside asparagus is shipped from coast to coast, and brings a large return to the farmers. Our payroll now alone runs about forty thousand dollars a week, besides the return to the farmers, which will come close to a million dollars this year, as the price is very high.

Labor is very scarce this year, and children are taken out of school and out during early hours in the morning in the asparagus fields, and then hauled in trucks to their classes, as it is impossible to get that much labor with all the men about exhausted in service and in the great building program that is going on on the coast.

In the sugar beet fields mostly Mexican labor is imported this year. This work is also progressing very rapidly and they are blocking and thinning beets for the last two weeks.

We see several Ord folks here in the valley, one especially very often and that is Dahline. Mr. Dahline works for the May Nursery here in the valley.

We are looking forward to a trip back to Nebraska this summer, as it has been nearly seven years since we have been back and no doubt we will see quite a change.

One thing is we simply can't get along without the Quiz.

CHICKS.

We have about 10,000 chicks bought to come in during the next three weeks. Good Chicks are not plentiful and in many cases they have to be ordered a couple of weeks in advance. Breeds coming are Leghorns, Austra Whites, Rocks, Wyandottes, Reds. Come in and ask for dates that chicks are available.

STARTER.

Are you buying our good Starter at $2.15 per zwt., or are you being penalized and being forced to pay for some long freight hauls and high priced radio and other advertising? State laboratory tests show that our Starter contains all the fine necessary ingredients and that the Protein, Fat and Carbohydrate contents are in line with feeds selling as high as 85c per bag higher than our starter. Use this Starter; you will like it or your money back.

LAYING MASH.

Laying Mash at $1.85 per bag. Grower at $2.00 per bag. Scratch at $2.00 per bag. Chick Starter at $1.50 per bag.

New Cookbooklet Fully Describes Making of Candy

No. 15 in Quiz Series Goes on Sale Today; Get Complete Set Now If you Want Them.

Vernon Moore submitted to an appendectomy in the Ord hospital Saturday. Dr. Smith took him to Ord.

Will Rice visited his daughters, Mrs. O. L. Rieck in Lincoln and Mrs. Ernest Wheeler in Friend Saturday.

Fined $1 for Failure Heed Egg Candling Act

On complaint of H. E. Tagg, special inspector for the Nebraska department of agriculture, Roy Price, manager of the Safeway store, this morning was fined $1.00 and costs in county court. Specific charge was that he accepted eggs at the store and paid for them in full before candling them, as Nebraska law requires.

The legislature recently provided funds to make egg candling enforcement possible, says Tagg, and he and 14 other inspectors comprise the enforcement staff. If general observance of the law can be obtained, Nebraska eggs will bring 1c per dozen more on the eastern market which will mean 3 to 3 1/2 million dollars more per year for Nebraska farmers, Tagg claims.

The law requires, he says, that all egg buyers must candle eggs within 24 hours after receiving them and shall not pay for eggs unfit for human food. When eggs are paid for before candling it cannot be determined if inedible eggs are included, says Tagg, and as a result many inedible eggs reach eastern markets, which lowers the regard in which Nebraska eggs are held.

Strict enforcement of the law henceforth is promised by Tagg, and he advises Valley county produce men to candle all eggs and reject inedible ones before they pay the producer.

How to make two hundred fifty different kinds of candy is told in the new Quiz Cookbooklet, No. 15 in the series of 20, and it goes on sale today at the Quiz office and by associated news dealers including Ord City Bakery, Vochal's Pharmacy, North Loup, and Rex Wagner, of Burwell.

Since home-made candy is one of America's favorite foods the new cookbooklet is bound to be one of the most popular in the series.

The Candy Book—"the sweetest story ever told"—is the most comprehensive guide to successful candy making at home ever published. In it you'll find all the old favorites and hundreds of new candies. Every home with children should have one of these books.

Just a word to the wise to those housewives who have said: "Oh, I'll wait until all twenty books are out and then get them all at once." By the time No. 20 is released, we may be out of some of the earlier issues. If you expect to get the whole series, or if you want earlier ones that you missed when they were released, better get them without further delay. Early numbers are going fast and we will not reorder them and run the risk of having some left unsold.

Now is a good time to get that looseleaf cover which holds all 20 books so conveniently, also. It costs only 30c, keeps all the booklets together and lets you take out any book you want to use in an instant and replace it just as easily.

Cost of each of the 20 books, including No. 15—The Candy Book—is only 10c, plus a coupon from any issue of the Quiz.

Books released to date are as follows, and a plentiful supply of each one is still available:

- 1. 500 Snacks—Bright Ideas for Entertaining.
- 2. 500 Delicious Dishes from Leftovers.
- 3. 250 Classic Cake Recipes.
- 4. 250 Ways to Prepare Poultry and Game Birds.
- 5. 250 Superb Pies and Pastries.
- 6. 250 Delicious Salads.
- 7. 500 Delicious Soups.
- 8. 250 Ways to Prepare Meat.
- 9. 250 Fish and Sea Food Recipes.
- 10. 300 Ways to Serve Eggs.
- 11. 250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables.
- 12. 250 Delectable Desserts.
- 13. 250 Ways of Serving Potatoes.
- 14. 500 Tasty Sandwiches.

Still to come are 5 more booklets fully as interesting and exciting as those named above. In future weeks we will offer:

- 15. The Candy Book.
- 16. 250 Refrigerator Desserts.
- 17. The Cookie Book.
- 18. 250 Delicious Dairy Dishes.
- 19. 2,000 Useful Facts About Food.
- 20. Menus for Every Day of the Year.

And here's a tip to the men: If your wife, sweetheart or mother hasn't been getting the booklets, an ideal gift for any of them would be the complete set of 20 put up in the handsome leatherette looseleaf cover. Cost of the entire set, plus cover, is $2.99, surely not too much to pay for a gift that will be so greatly appreciated.

Ord Lost to Arcadia There, Sunday, 16-7

A combination of plenty of wildness by one Arcadia pitcher and plenty of errors by the Ord players, turned the baseball game at Arcadia Sunday afternoon into a farce. Barney Kuklesh pitched the first three innings for Ord, and Bill Novak finished, pitching well enough to win, if it had not been for the many errors.

Ord started out well enough, earning two runs in the first inning. They got five more during the rest of the game, all of them without a hit. However, Arcadia did even better, getting all their 16 runs without a hit. The Boelus team came to North Loup and won, 15 to 5. The result of the Ashton, Rockville game at Ashton has not been reported here.

Burwell Cannery Almost Assured

(Special to the Quiz) Burwell residents believe they are practically assured a canning factory. Their hopes were confirmed by a telegram which William F. Manastil received Friday from Congressman Harry B. Coffe, stating that the proposal had been well received in Washington and that the matter had been referred back to FSA regional headquarters.

According to the conditions which must be met in order to obtain a farm security loan for a cannery, a thousand dollars must be raised by the community requesting the loan. A committee has been at work on this job for a week and most of the money has been collected. Each business man and job holder in Burwell is asked to contribute ten dollars to this fund. Those supplying the money will be given certificates of indebtedness which will be paid off out of the first profits of the cannery.

The producers will run the business. They will elect a board of directors who will in turn hire a manager who will operate the plant. According to the present plans the cannery will be housed in the garage building on the north side of the square. This fall a permanent building will be constructed, which will probably be located on the railroad right-of-way.

A large part of the seventy acres of tomatoes which must be planted in order to assure the cannery of a supply for canning have already been planted and more acres will be seeded before the end of the week. Some of the farmers intend to put out plants.

13-Year-Old Owes His Life to This Pair of Boys

Here are Max Anderson, left who plunged into water 13 feet deep below the Burwell dam and dragged to safety by a 13-year-old boy who was drowning, and Harold Pray, who applied first aid knowledge learned in a CCC camp to resuscitate the boy after he was brought to shore. Burwell people hope to get a Carnegie medal for Max. The Pray boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pray, of Ord.

Leland Eberle, 13, Nearly Drowns in North Loup River

Swept 267 Feet by Strong Current Below Burwell Dam; Pneumonia Is Feared Now.

Burwell—An act of heroism never equalled in the annals of the town occurred Wednesday evening when Max Anderson and Harold Pray saved the life of Leland Eberle, 13. Leland, who was with a group of boys who had been swimming, jumped off the piling on the west side of the spillway of the dam. The place where the boy struck the water is about eighteen feet deep and the current is twenty feet per second, according to L. E. Walford, watermaster of the North Loup Irrigation district.

Max Anderson, who was on a sandbar a short distance from the hole into which the Eberle boy plunged, saw a body being washed down stream and immediately swam to the rescue, not knowing who had fallen into the water. He swam for a distance of seventy feet in water ranging from eighteen to eight feet in depth. Leland was washed down stream by the current 267 feet. At the point where he was rescued the water is 3 1/2 feet deep. He was unconscious when reached. Max Anderson put both arms around his left shoulder and dragged him to shore where Harold Pray applied artificial respiration and restored him to consciousness. Pray learned the science of resuscitation in a CCC camp where he was enrolled until a few weeks ago.

Memorial Poppies to Be Sold Saturday

Organization of the corps of volunteer workers who will distribute memorial poppies here on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 24, is being completed by Fidelity unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The corps, working under the leadership of Mrs. Alfred A. Wiegardt, Poppy Day chairman, will be on the streets throughout the day offering poppies to be worn in honor of the World War dead, and to aid the disabled veterans and dependent families of veterans.

More than 25 women and girls have volunteered for Poppy Day service. They are being organized into teams and each team is being assigned a location or neighborhood in which to distribute poppies. All will serve as unpaid volunteers, meaning that every penny of the contributions made for the poppies will go into the welfare fund of the Auxiliary. Team leaders, or sub-chairmen, will include Reva Lincoln and Evelyn Fredrickson.

Ord Ball Team Loses Game to Rockville

The Ord baseball team went to Rockville Sunday and lost the third game of the season by a score of 23 to 9. As in the past, the Ord team did not do so badly on the offensive, but their defense was very bad indeed, the thirteen errors being enough to lose any game. The score was Rockville 23 runs, 13 hits and 4 errors, and Ord 9 runs, 8 hits and 13 errors. The battery for Ord was Novosad, Kuklish, Piskorski and Krikac, Furtak; for Rockville, L. Schinkel, Colmer and Bartunek. This coming Sunday Boelus comes to Ord, and the local team will make a mighty effort to break into the win column. The game is called at 2:30.

Commencement Program Tonight, 83 to Graduate

Prof. Cushing's Address Climaxes Busy Week for Seniors of the Ord High School.

Eighty-three seniors of Ord high school, largest graduating class in almost a decade, tonight will receive diplomas at graduation exercises to be held in the Ord high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The commencement program climaxes a busy week for seniors.

Sunday afternoon girls of the class were entertained by Ord Business and Professional Women's club at the traditional senior tea. That evening all seniors took part in the baccalaureate program, with Rev. W. Ray Radloff, of the Ord Presbyterian church, giving a powerful sermon on the subject, "Unclaimed Dividends."

Invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Clifford Snyder, of the Ord Christian church, the professional and recessional were played by Angelina Wachtel, and a large audience heard two anthems by the high school choir, Robertson's "Celtic Hymn," and Christiansen's "Beautiful Saviour."

Two beautiful soprano solos by Mrs. Mark Tolén, "I Need Thee Saviour," by Shure, and "How Long Will Thou Forget Me," by Pfleger, completed the baccalaureate service.

Willard Birkes' Commitment Ends Loup Murder Case

Oldest Brother Sent Saturday to Ingleside; John, Richard to State Hospital Also.

With the commitment of Willard Birkes, 50, to Ingleside State Hospital Saturday, came the end of the Loup county murder case which was tried in Ord by reason of a change of venue.

Willard, eldest of the three men charged with murdering Sheriff George Brock, was examined by the Valley county insanity commission which is composed of Dr. F. A. Barta, Clarence M. Davis and A. A. Wiegardt. Commission members accompanied A. P. Alder, Loup county attorney, and Glenn Runyan, special state counsel, to Hastings Friday to interview Dr. Jaul C. Nielsen, head of the insane hospital.

The eldest Birkes was taken to Hastings on Sunday with the assurance that he will be confined to the hospital there for the rest of his life. Paranoia, the form of insanity from which he suffers, is incurable.

Least he escape from the hospital, or be paroled by some future superintendent, the first degree murder charge filed against him after Sheriff Brock's death will not be withdrawn, say state attorneys. He can be prosecuted on this charge at any future date, they say.

From the state penitentiary at Lincoln comes word that John Birkes, who was sentenced to life imprisonment, and Richard, who was given a 25 year term, will be given treatment in the state insane hospital at Lincoln rather than being treated as ordinary criminals are treated in the penitentiary. Hope that Richard may be cured is expressed.

So ends one of the most colorful cases in the history of Nebraska crime. It was costly to Loup county but not so costly as it would have been had Richard been tried for murder instead of pleading guilty, or had Willard been tried instead of being committed to the state hospital.

Barn, Feed, Harness Burn in Morning Fire

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a large barn on the Otto Radil farm in Geranium township Sunday. The fire was discovered about mid-morning in the hay-mow by the Edward Radil family, who live on the place, but it was so far advanced that nothing could be done, and it was impossible to get anything out.

Luckily there was no stock in the barn at the time, but the building, 36 by 50 feet in size, was completely destroyed, together with 9 tons of hay, 6 tons of barley, 3 sets of good harness and 1 set of old harness. The owner, Otto Radil, figures his loss at not less than $2,500, and he had only a small amount of insurance.

Fair Board to Meet and Decide Program

Directors of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society will meet in the AAA office at 8:00 Thursday evening, announces President R. Clare Clement, and probably will make some decision regarding the type of program to be given at this year's show.

Chamber of Commerce directors are being invited to meet with the fair board, he says.

Dandelion Derby Winners Wear Broad Grins as Prizes Presented

1.61 Inches Rain in Ord Monday

Total rain fall in Ord Monday night was 1.61 inches, according to Horace Travis, but elsewhere in the county, particularly to the southwest of Ord, the rain was even heavier.

During the day Monday 30 of an inch drizzled down and that night a heavier shower brought 1.31 inches. The storm followed a hot, dry Sunday when a strong south wind took much moisture out of the ground and dust clouds filled the air much of the day. Since Monday night's rain, field crops and gardens look better than they have for many years.

Temperatures have been normal for the past few days after last Wednesday's 1941 high of 95 at Mr. Travis' home, which means 97 to 98 down town. Low mark of the month came Tuesday morning with a 52 degree reading.

Piskorski to Handle All Texaco Products

A deal was closed this week by which Frank Piskorski, who has for several years been local bulk agent for the Phillips Petroleum company, bought from A. C. Husbands the local Texaco franchise and will become the Texaco consignee in place of Husbands.

With the end of school this week, the Husbands family will move to California where Mr. Husbands expects to secure employment in the aircraft industry.

A new bulk agent has not yet been employed by the Phillips people but Floyd Nordstrom, district manager, is expected to arrive from Omaha today to look into the situation.

Shed Destroyed Sunday

Firemen were called to the Glen Cochrane home in northwest Ord Sunday afternoon to extinguish a blaze in a fuel shed at the rear of the house. Other out-buildings were threatened by the flames, which were fanned by a high wind, but firemen put out the fire in a few minutes. Damage will not exceed $15 to $20, says Fire Chief George Anderson.

David Milliken Gets Award Tho in Hospital

Announcement that David Milliken is the 1941 winner of the Haskell-Mella award was made last evening at the Class Night program by Robert Klima, president of the student council of Ord high school, but because David is ill and confined to a hospital bed, official presentation of the trophy was made to him there.

Winner is decided each year by the faculty by means of a secret ballot. Scholarship, participation in school activities and character are bases for selection. The Haskell-Mella Memorial trophy was established by the class of 1937 in memory of two members, Harold Haskell and Harold Mella, who met death in an automobile accident.

Gerald Clark won the medal in 1937, Ernest James, Jr., in 1938, Allen Zikmund in 1939 and Gerald Stoddard in 1940.

Kathryn Work Is Ord's Valedictorian, Also Wins Regents' Scholarship

Double victor in Ord high school scholastic competition is Kathryn Work (left), daughter of Mrs. Lois Work, who had the highest scholastic average of any student in the high school and thereby is declared valedictorian, which carries with it a scholarship to any church college in Nebraska that Miss Work may select. In addition to being valedictorian, she placed highest in the competitive examination for the University of Nebraska regents' scholarship.

Second highest average grades were made by Angelene Koelling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Koelling, who thereby was declared salutatorian. She receives her choice of a scholarship to any of Nebraska's normal colleges. Given honorable mention for the regents' scholarship were Miss Koelling and Jack Weaver.

Pony Earns a Rest Carried His Master 8,640 School Miles

Burwell—A little brown pony has traveled 8,640 miles in the four years he has carried his young master, Alvin Dearnont, to high school in Burwell. Alvin received his diploma last Wednesday completing a perfect attendance record of four years with never an absence or tardy mark on his report card.

Alvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Dearnont, who live in Valley county six miles south of Burwell. The weather never got cold enough, the snow too deep, or the wind too fierce to keep Alvin and the pony from making their twelve miles round trip each day.

"The one morning when I did want to come in the car, we couldn't get it to start," Alvin declared, and he had to fall back upon his dependable pony.

Daniel S. Bohrer Claimed by Death

Long Time Business Man in No. Loup Passes During Night; Was 72 Years of Age.

North Loup—(Special)—Daniel Solomon Bohrer, who was the son of Jethro K. and Mary Markel Bohrer, was born in Decatur, Ill., Feb. 19, 1869. He was 15 years old when his parents came to Nebraska and bought a farm midway between North Loup and Scott. He attended the district school nearby, then came to North Loup for high school work. Next he took a course in a Grand Island business college. Though he helped his father on the farm at times, his chief interest was in mercantile business, and he began this by clerking for W. C. O'Connell and Mr. Holworth of Greeley. He was a most obliging clerk and one old lady felt she could not do any trading unless Dan waited on her.

June 15, 1898, he married Miss Ora Arpold, and they spent two seasons on the farm, but the call of business was too strong, so he again entered a store, this time in Kearney. After six years there and an equal length of time at Arnold in a bank, he took a position in the Farmers State bank and moved his family to North Loup. This was largely to be near his mother who had been left alone upon the death of his father and his sister.

From then on he was one of North Loup's prominent business men, going later into the furniture and undertaking business and then into insurance. He was intensely loyal to all the home interests, served on the school board and took an active part in all that was for the good of the community. As a boy he joined the Presbyterian church of Scott, later transferred to the Methodist, and all his life was an active supporter of and worker in the church wherever he lived. The minister came to him with his troubles, and if there was a job no one wanted it was generally put on his shoulders and he bore it cheerfully. No one asked a favor of him in vain.

250 Children Took Part in Ord's First Dandelion Derby

Winner Dug 60 Bushels, Others Close Behind; Movie Tickets to All Who Competed.

Between 600 and 700 bushels of dandelions are gone from the lawns, vacant lots and public places of Ord, as result of the "dandelion derby" sponsored last week by the Chamber of Commerce.

Two hundred and fifty boys and girls took part, most of them digging only a single bushel of dandelions to qualify for a free movie ticket but several of them vieing for $5.00 in cash prizes.

Winner of the derby was David Maurice, who with the aid of Donnie Hill and possibly other playmates, dug a total of sixty bushels of the yellow topped plants. He received as an award $2.50 in cash.

Second prize of $1.50 went to Kirk Lewis, with 47 bushels, third prize of $1.00 to Gordon Sorenson with 45 bushels, and because so many other boys took part the committee added three prizes of 75c, 50c and 30c, which went to Billy Anderson, who dug 36 1/2 bushels, Duane Ludington, who dug 28 bushels, and Donald Andersen, who dug 19 1/2 bushels.

Several others dug more than the single bushel required for a movie ticket but failed to win cash prizes, this group including Laddy Cochrane, 6 bushels, Danny Mason, 5 1/2, George Marshall, 6, Don Habig, 11, Patty Thompson, 5 1/2, Jay Stoddard, 10, and George Dworak, 8.

Dandelions were turned in to the committee members on the vacant lot back of Ben's Grill, and from 10 until 2 that day a steady stream of boys and girls with baskets, sacks, boxes, tubs, wash boilers and other receptacles, all filled with dandelions, could be observed going toward the rendezvous afoot, in cars, in coaster wagons or on bicycles.

Hilding Pearson was general chairman of the Chamber committee in charge and presented checks to the winners. His assistants included John Haskell, K. W. Peterson and E. C. Leggett.

Through the cooperation of Mayor M. B. Cummins, the city's dump truck with Chief of Police Covert, L. R. Screeley and Charlie Kingston in charge, was parked on the lot all day, and into this the dandelions were dumped and hauled to the city dump. Three big truck loads were hauled away during the event.

Dr. Cram Heads Wranglers Club

Burwell—Dr. Roy S. Cram was chosen president of the Wranglers club at the annual election held in the Burwell hotel Monday evening. Other officers selected were Attorney William Monast, overseer, Clyde Hegenritz, storekeeper, and Dr. R. W. Wood, ironman.

The next meeting of the club will be held June 9 when pictures of outdoor Nebraska will be shown by a representative from the state game, fish and forestation commission. The members of the Sargent Commercial club will be guests at this meeting.

Cannery Machinery Bought for Burwell

Burwell is definitely going to have a cannery. The machinery from the Two Rivers plant near Omaha which was purchased last Monday will be trucked into Burwell before the end of the week, according to Osee Johnson, of the Wranglers' club. The machinery which consists of practically everything needful for canning tomatoes, corn and peas, cost $455. It will be temporarily installed in the garage building on the north side of the square, which the Bredthauer Motor company is vacating so that it may be used for this purpose.

In a telephone conversation which D. C. McCarthy had with the state Farm Security office in Lincoln Monday morning he was told that a representative from that office would be in Burwell this evening to organize the producers. At the present time about fifty acres of tomatoes have been planted in the vicinity of Burwell and more acres are still to set with plants.

A planting demonstration under the supervision of James Dutt, a specialist in the culture of vegetables from the college of agriculture, was held at the Loren Butterfield farm this morning.

The producers of the vicinity will be the owners of the cannery. The enterprise will be controlled by a board of directors selected by the producers from among themselves. They, in turn, will hire a manager who will operate the cannery. The business men and other public spirited citizens of Burwell who have raised the greater part of the thousand dollars necessary to insure the operation of the plant, will each receive a certificate of indebtedness which will be paid out of the profits from the cannery. They will have no voice in the administration of the enterprise.

Vitamins in Omar Flour Building Better Health

Vitamins have come into their own! Acknowledged by science and medical authorities for years as essential to the prevention of acute deficiency diseases, vitamins now have the sanction of government and the cooperation of industry toward getting into everyone's diet. The approach to the problem is being made from the angle of food rather than medicine—which is as it should be.

White flour was the food designated to be "enriched" first. Before public preference and improved milling methods refined vitamins out of white flour, bread was actually the "staff of life". The important vitamins contained in the bran and the germ were present in the coarse but wholesome bread made from flour milled from the whole wheat berry. But such whole grain flour was hard to store and people seemed to prefer the finer lighter bread made from white flour—so it came to be used almost exclusively, despite the fact that it was less healthful. Now, with "enrichment", the vitamin content of the whole-grain flour is restored to white flour without detracting from its fineness or light texture.

Among the first to cooperate in the plan for improved national health, Omar Milling Company has brought to the market this month "Enriched Wonder Flour"—fortified with the vitamins and minerals found to be most generally wanting in American diets. These are Vitamin B1 or thiamin—the "energy" vitamin, essential to body growth in children, to healthy appetite and steady nerves in all; nicotinic acid—the pellagra-preventive factor essential to proper maintenance of special tissues; and iron—without which the body cannot maintain a supply of red blood corpuscles. Omar is also launching a wide-spread educational program to bring before the public the value of a vitamin-rich diet. Health authorities hail this "enrichment" of a staple food employed in the diet of people from all walks of life as an epochal advance in health history. They expect it to rank in importance with the discovery of diphtheria toxoid and smallpox vaccine in its contribution to longer and more useful life.

Seventeen North Loup Children Enjoy Their First Train Ride

In this group of 20 North Loup first and second grade students only three had ever ridden on a train before Thursday, when the group embarked on the motor and rode to Ord where they enjoyed a picnic in Russell Park. Needless to say, the train trip was a thrill for all the children and each clutched his own ticket to give to the conductor. Another thrill came when LaVern Duemey, Quiz photographer, was waiting at the depot to take their pictures as they got off the motor.

The children were accompanied by their teacher, Miss Edith Jefferies, and by Mrs. Jim Coleman. Later several of the parents drove to Ord and took them to their homes.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES.

The Ord grade school fifth and sixth grade boys held their annual track meet at the new athletic field last week. Thirty-seven boys competed and of this number twenty were superior enough in their respective events to win ribbons. Edward Piskorski, a fifth grader, came out in first place with 16 points, having taken first place in the broad jump, second in the 50 yard, 220 yard dashes, second in the 400 yard race and third in the high jump and chin-up. Verden Valasek was second with 13 points. He was first in the 220 yard and 100 yard dashes and second in the high jump. Martin Piskorski was third with 10 points having taken first in the 440 yard race and the high jump. Roger Dahlin was fourth with 9 points. He was on the relay team and took second in the broad jump and third in the 100 yard dash.

Summary of the meet:
50 yard dash—Won by Eldon Loft, second Edward Piskorski, third Jay Stoddard. Time 6.9 seconds.
100 yard dash—Won by Verden Valasek, second Eldon Loft, third Roger Dahlin. Time 14 seconds.
220 yard dash—Won by Verden Valasek, second Edward Piskorski, third Leonard Svoboda. Time 33 seconds.
440 yard race—Won by Martin Piskorski, second Edward Piskorski, third Edmund Swanek. Time 76.7 seconds.
High jump—Won by Dannie Mason and Martin Piskorski, second Verden Valasek, tied for third, Billy Anderson, Jay Stoddard, Douglas Dale, Lores Stewart, Edward Piskorski, Gene Draper and Glendall Hollander. Height 4 feet.
Broad jump—Won by Edward Piskorski, second Roger Dahlin, third Dennis Rupp. Distance 13 feet 6 inches.
Pole vault—Won by Gene Draper, second George Sowers, third Loyal Hiner. Height 6 feet 11 inches.
Chinning—Won by George Sowers, second Bobby Sprague, third (tie Arden Valasek and Edward Piskorski. 11 times.

Blood Clot Causes V. Moore's Death

(Special to the Quiz)
Burwell—Vernon Moore, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert J. Moore, died suddenly in Dr. Miller's hospital Monday morning. He submitted to an appendectomy Saturday, May 10, and had made a satisfactory recovery. He had dressed and was sitting up when he was stricken. Death is believed to have been caused by a blood clot lodging in a vital place.

Funeral services were conducted by Lyman Kern in the Methodist church this afternoon. Interment was made in the Banner cemetery.

Hartsuff Resolution Passed Unanimously

Letters received by those interested in the Fort Hartsuff resolution Saturday from Senator Joseph T. Knezacek stated that the bill had passed in the uncameral by what amounted to a unanimous vote. There was no opposition and the 41 senators present voted for it.

The letters read as follows: "I am happy to inform you that Legislative Bill No. 424, the Fort Hartsuff bill, passed the legislature with 41 voters in favor of it, none against, and two members absent."

Needless to say, those who have been working for years to get some kind of action in regard to the Fort are very happy that this enabling act has been passed. There is little doubt but that Governor Griswold will append his signature to the bill.

While the bill did not carry any appropriation, it gives all the power necessary to acquire the property, and to proceed with the raising of funds for the acquisition of the fort as soon as the necessary setup is made.

The enabling act is now a permanent part of the statutes of Nebraska, and the proposition of purchasing the site can be taken up at any time, either soon, or in a few years, if it is deemed inadvisable to make the effort now.

Another angle that should be of interest is the fact that the government is always on the lookout for suitable employment for CCC camps, and the purchase of the site will bring with it a CCC camp for the purpose of improving the property.

Mrs. A. J. Swanson Passes Thursday at the Age of 68

Homesteaded At Rosevale With Husband in 1892 and Lived There Until Her Death.

At the Pearson-Anderson chapel at 2:00 p. m. Sunday were held funeral services for Mrs. Andrew J. Swanson, who passed away at her home in the Rosevale community Thursday, May 15, at the age of 68. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Elizabeth LeMasters was born in Indiana July 30, 1872 and as a young girl came to Valley county with her parents. Her marriage to Mr. Swanson occurred Dec. 7, 1892 and immediately they moved to Garfield county and took up a homestead, which remained Mrs. Swanson's home until her death. Her husband and one infant son preceded her in death.

Peterson Speaker at Commencement

(Special to the Quiz)
Burwell—Val Peterson, secretary to Governor Dwight Griswold, declared that it is possible for a person to become educated by merely reading a good daily newspaper regularly, a few magazines every month and several books each year, in the address which he made at the commencement exercises in Burwell Wednesday evening.

The program was interrupted by the sound of the fire alarm which summoned aid to the dam where Leland Eberle narrowly escaped being drowned. The first report which was relayed through the audience almost instantaneously was to the effect that the boy had been drowned. Later the correct version was circulated through the crowd of several hundred persons present.

The report was kept from Leland's brother, Orville, who was president of the graduating class, and his mother, who was also present until the close of the exercises.

Mr. Peterson stated that the ability to discriminate between matters of importance and non-importance was one secret of success in life, and that the ability to reach the correct decision was an accomplishment much to be desired.

He said that an educated person does not make a decision until all evidence has been submitted and that a sure mark of an ignorant person was the hastiness and absoluteness of his opinions. He stated that he believed that President Roosevelt was guilty of forming a hasty opinion when he censured "a well known aviator."

Forty-three students received their diplomas which is the largest class ever to be graduated from Burwell high school.

Debt Adjustment Part of FSA Work

The Valley county farm debt adjustment committee has been quite active this spring. The committee, composed of local farmers and business men of Ord working in conjunction with the local FSA office, serves without salary and sits in an advisory capacity. It brings creditors and debtors together to reach agreements satisfactory to both.

"The adjustment of top-heavy debts by extension of time or by reduction of interest or principal quite often is a most important part of farm planning by families who have just about hit the bottom," Darrell Bauder, FSA supervisor says.

Quite a number of such farm families have been able to continue farming through certain farm and home planning adjustments involving rehabilitation loans and debt adjustments. April debt adjustments handled in Valley county have involved an original indebtedness of $7,677 and a payment of $3,551 has been virtually assured.

"These debt adjustments are entirely voluntary and may be requested either by the farmer who knows he can't repay his debts under present conditions, or by his creditors who know the same thing," said Mr. Bauder. The arrangements are confidential and often result in preventing bankruptcy or forced farm abandonment. Plans are worked out according to a reasonable paying ability of a farmer and the farm he is operating over a period of time. A debt reduction or some other arrangement often makes it possible for the over-burdened farmer to repay, or arrange to repay, a certain definite part of his debt. In some cases nothing whatever could have been repaid without the adjustment. This service is available to anyone in the county who is over-burdened with debts.

When Grant Shaved Beard
Gen. U. S. Grant liked his beard and didn't want to be seen without it. But once while he was President he shaved it off just to accommodate the treasury department. Officials of the department wanted to use his picture on an issue of paper money—without the beard. So he shaved it off, posed, and let it grow again. And then—the treasury department decided not to use the picture.

MRS. A. J. SWANSON.

Surviving are two sons, Roy and Herman, and one daughter, Norma, all of Erlson; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Patrick, Erlson; and five brothers, Hubert LeMasters, Ord, Charles LeMasters, Eureka, Kas., Sherman LeMasters, Grand Island, John LeMasters, Marysville, Kas., and Jonas LeMasters, of Fullerton.

Rev. M. M. Long had charge of the funeral rites and pallbearers included Earl Bebee, York, Pave and Lloyd Patrick, Erlson, Everett Bebee, Grand Island, Guy and Bert LeMasters, Ord.

Husband of Ruth Holson Canadian Naval Officer

The Quiz is in receipt of a clipping from the Lethbridge, Alberta, Canadian Herald sent by Dr. J. C. Holson of Burwell. It tells a most interesting story of Lieutenant William Mahan, husband of Ruth Holson, and recently appointed to command his Majesty's Canadian ship, Lethbridge. He was to be honored at a dinner in a Lethbridge hotel.

Lieut. Mahan was born in Scotland, and served in the merchant marine in the first World war. He went into the service of the Chinese government in 1924, and continued there until last October, the last nine years as a captain. He came back to Canada and enlisted and was at once made a lieutenant. His wife is a member of the faculty of the University of Washington.

Ellora Jane Cook is spending the week with her grandmother, Mrs. D. S. Bohrer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lundsted and Charles left for their home in Salina, Kas., Monday afternoon, having been called here Thursday by the death of D. S. Bohrer. Their two younger children were ill with the measles and so had to be left at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson arrived Thursday from their home at Decatur for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. George E. Johnson. Saturday afternoon and evening Mr. and Mrs. Johnson treated everyone to ice cream and cake. In honor of their recent marriage, treats were served at the Ideal Cafe and Vodehall's drug store, Monday. Mr. Johnson left for a short business trip and Mrs. Johnson remained here.

Mrs. R. L. Dunham of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Mayo of Lincoln arrived Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Mayo returned Friday and came back again Sunday bringing their daughter, Marilyn, with them. A family dinner was held Sunday at the Geo. E. Johnson home celebrating the birthdays of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Geo. E. Johnson and Marilyn Mayo. The Roy Hudson family were also present. The Merlyn Mayos returned home Monday morning. Mrs. Dunham will visit her parents for some time.

George and Erlo Cox returned Thursday from Falls City where they have been the past month putting down some wells on a government farmstead.

Mrs. Roy Cox spent Monday in Ord with Mrs. Ernest Horner. Alden Swanson of Ord was a week end guest in the Clyde Willoughby home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby, and Duane and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sintex spent Tuesday in Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wolfe of Hastings were Saturday night and Sunday guests of the Bates Copelands and Wm. Worrells. Sunday all attended the picnic at the Wildwood school.

59 of an inch of rain fell Monday night. Surrounding territory received much more than North Loup.

The BPW club were guests of Mary Frances Manchester at an Italian dinner party Monday night. After the dinner all attended the theater in Ord. Mrs. A. L. Millhollin and Edith Jeffries were each presented with a gift. Miss Jeffries' marriage is an event of the near future. Avona and Marcella Nolde were guests at the dinner and the theater party.

Bernice Wilson is back at her place in the IGA store after an enforced absence following an appendicitis operation.

Ladies employed in the sewing center enjoyed a picnic dinner Friday at the home of Mrs. Lela Green.

Leander Williams, who recently passed his hundredth birthday is justly proud of a letter of congratulations he received from Congressman Stefan of his district.

Edna Hawkes was home from her work in Central college over the week end. She was accompanied by a friend, Herbert Ellis of Allen, who is also a student in Central college.

Frieda Madsen, daughter of Mrs. N. C. Madsen, was married Saturday, May 17, at Papillion to Maurine Mason of Lincoln. They were accompanied by his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Mason. Mrs. Mason has just finished a successful term of school in the third and fourth grades at Butte.

The fifth issue of the Crystal, North Loup high school paper was put out Tuesday. It is dedicated to the senior class and is nearly all the work of the junior members of the staff.

C. J. Goodrich went to Overton Monday to attend the funeral of a small carrier friend. Paul Jones accompanied him and spent the time with Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sheldon at Kearney.

The Neighboring club celebrated its twentieth birthday with a party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Fisher with Mrs. Edgar Davis assistant hostess. A birthday cake with twenty candles centered the table and was a part of the lovely lunch served. This club has a splendid record for a club in a country neighborhood where the population is constantly changing. At present there are nineteen members, five of whom are charter members who have been active throughout the twenty years. They are Mrs. Annual Frazer, Mrs. Boyd Mulligan, Mrs. Lee Mulligan, Mrs. Edgar Davis and Mrs. Rasmus Peterson. Previous to the day of the meeting letters had been sent to all who had once been members and had moved away and responses from sixteen were received and read. Among them was a letter from Mrs. Albert Flint on the Atlantic coast and one from Mrs. R. P. McCune and Mrs. John Miller on the Pacific coast. People in the Barker district are loyal to their school and their neighborhood and to each other and no doubt the Neighboring club has had a large part in this spirit of cooperation.

Scout hiking honor. They took most of the day for the trip, but say they enjoyed it very much. Last week the Quiz's copy of the Aurora Republican-Register arrived in a neat little wrapper with the words "New Year's Greetings" in fancy type on the outside. No the Aurora paper is not that kind of grass that was growing up tall enough to make nice hay. He says far behind the times. They were just using up some old greeting bills for wrapping paper.

Wednesday of last week Ray Scarborough had a real load on the morning bus from Grand Island, when he had fifteen hundred noisy passengers aboard, all of whom were trying to express themselves at once. Again Friday morning he had eight hundred more of them, and they were also plenty noisy. No, we didn't say people. They were all chickens, baby chicks, if you please.

INTERESTING ITEMS

RURAL DISTRICTS

An unusually large amount of legal advertising makes it impossible to print correspondence in full this week, as it also forced curtailment of other news departments. These interesting items were sent in by Quiz neighborhood writers.

Miss Waller closed a successful term of school at Union Ridge with a picnic Friday. The school board furnished five gallons of ice cream and most families of the district were in the crowd that enjoyed it with the students. Miss Waller will teach at Rural next year.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brickner, of Vinton, included Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stroud, of Boelus, and their son Glen, of Kearney, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Christensen, of Dannebrog.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tschudy, of Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Goldfish and family, of Scotta, and Mrs. Sam Drawbridge and children, of North Loup, were Sunday dinner guests in the Pleasant Hill home of the Frank Abel family.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wolf and son, Keith, of Hastings, who spent the week end in the William Worrell home in Union Ridge, say they were in the big hall storm which hit Hastings Thursday, where hallstones as large as baseballs fell. The Wolfs attended the picnic dinner at Liberty school house Sunday.

Lois, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Quartz of Davis Creek, is very ill with heart trouble and rheumatism which came as after effects of the flu. She will be confined to her bed for some time.

Grasshopper damage is reported in the Riverdale community and correspondents everywhere say that cutworms are damaging small grains. The cutworm infestation is the heaviest in years, it is agreed.

This is sheep shearing season and this week several Riverdale farmers have the shearers working, among them being Claude Thomas, Vernon Thomas, Alfred Christensen, August Kriewald and Martin Markvicka.

Mrs. Ernest Johnson, of Davis Creek, is looking forward to a visit from her mother, Mrs. Peterson and daughter Ella, of Redlands, Calif., who are expected to arrive this week.

The missionary society met at Mrs. E. Rahlmeier's in Mira Valley Wednesday. Mrs. J. A. Adams led an interesting lesson and fourteen ladies were present.

Several Valley county people were entertained Tuesday in the Walter Cummins home near Cotesfield, the group including Mrs. Albert Haught, Mrs. Bill Earnest, Mrs. Wayne King, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. Anthony Cummins and children.

The Chris Larsen family, who moved to Missouri a few weeks ago, were back in Valley county over the week end and visited friends at Davis Creek and in Ord and North Loup.

Visitors in the Joe Sonnenfeld farm home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent, of Ashton, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sample. They also called in the Ed Burrows home this evening.

Tenth grade graduates at Davis Creek, Richard Palser, Evelyn Long, Albert Segel and Lester Williams, were honored at Baccalaureate services in the Methodist church Sunday evening. Rev. Andrew Olson being the speaker.

Because of the death of Mrs. Rudolph Kokes and also of D. S. Bohrer, who is Mrs. Victor Cook's father, the school picnic in District 51 was postponed and will be held some time this summer. Miss Smith, the teacher in that school, will teach in Olean next term.

Here from Kansas City to Have Car Overhauled. Believe it or not, there is a man in Ord this week all the way from Kansas City, Mo., for the purpose of having his car overhauled by one of Ord's expert mechanics. He is Paul Duemey's brother Ben, and their mother, Mrs. Sabina Belk and Homer (Tarzan) Hegeggmann, came also. They arrived Saturday and will remain until next Saturday and visit while Paul handles the car job.

Ben is a steam pipefitter and engineer in the employ of the International Shoe company, and is an inventor of no small ability. He has had a prominent part in the abating of the smoke part in Kansas City, and has invented an electric eye which detects any smoke going past it, and which turns on a red light to warn the engineer. He has been to Ord before, but Mrs. Belk is making her first visit here.

Flavia Twombly Swarzel and Husband to Visit Here. Word has been received by Ord and Arcadia relatives of the coming visit of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swarzel of Meadville, Pa. Mrs. Swarzel will be remembered as the former Flavia Twombly. They will arrive in Arcadia Saturday of this week, and visit there until next Wednesday.

They will then come to Ord and visit until Saturday, when they will leave for home. A picnic in their honor will be held Memorial Day, May 30, at Bussell Park, and all their friends are invited to attend. It is also understood that a picnic for them is being planned Sunday, May 25, at Arcadia.

Social Forecast. The H. O. A. club will hold its next meeting with Mrs. Sam Wirick Friday, May 23.

Tuesday night came the class program with the class president, Clarence Romans, presiding. For the first time were introduced the class valedictorian, Kathryn Work, and the salutatorian, Angeline Koelling. The class poem was read by Thelma Richardson, the class history by Myrtle Auble and Orville Leach, the class will by Phyllis Dodge and Harold Christensen and the class prophecy by Jack Weaver and David Milliken, the latter being ill and unable to be present.

Announced as winner of the Haskell-Melia award was David Milliken, the announcement being made by Robert Klima, president of the student council. Actual presentation of the award was made by Klima and a delegation at the Ord Hospital where young Milliken was taken Monday.

Musical numbers by James Ollis, Jr., Patricia Frazier, Adolf Urbanovsky, Marlon Wardrop and Harvey Dahlin were included in the class night program and it ended with the Ord high loyalty song, sung by members of the 1941 class.

A senior picnic scheduled for Monday was interfered with by rain and was held in the gym. Tonight will come the commencement program, climax of senior week.

Principal speaker will be Ord's own Herbert L. Cushing, now president of Kearney State Teachers College who once headed the schools of Valley county and later the Ord school system. His topic was not announced in advance but Ord people know President Cushing as an experienced speaker who is certain to have an address of interest and inspiration.

Rev. M. M. Long will give the invocation tonight and the high school orchestra will play. The speaker will be introduced by Ralph W. Norman, secretary of the board of education, and board president Dr. F. L. Blessing will present diplomas. Presentation of awards to the honor students will be made by Principal F. L. Stoddard.

North Loup Items. Harold Hoepfner returned home Tuesday from California where he was called by the death of his mother, Mrs. Laura Newbecker. Last services for the former Ord woman were held Friday, after which interment was made in the beautiful Forest Lawn Memorial park cemetery.

Albert Babcock has been notified that his score on the examinations he wrote recently entitles him to the regents' scholarship of the University of Nebraska. Alternate winner was Harold Van Horn, with the next highest score.

MEMORIAL DAY. May 30th is Memorial Day and you will want Fresh Flowers and flowering plants for use at the cemetery that day.

We will have a large stock of Fresh Flowers on hand and will be able to take care of all orders received up to the night of May 29th. Place your orders early and you will be sure of having your order filled as you want it. We have many orders on file right now.

To non-residents: We will take care of all flower orders for you and place the flowers in the cemetery as you order them, providing we have your order by the day before Decoration Day.

Bouquets will be priced at 50c, 75c, $1.00 and higher. Peonies, Roses, Carnations, Snapdragons, and many other kinds of fresh flowers.

8th Grade Promotion Comes Next Tuesday

Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, has completed arrangements for the 1941 eighth grade promotion program, which will be held at the Ord high school auditorium, Tuesday evening, May 27, at 8 p. m. The general public and especially the parents of the 96 graduates are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Wilma Shavlik of the Ord high school faculty will deliver the address of the evening. Miss Joy Lott will give a musical reading. Music will be furnished by the high school music department, under the direction of Henry Deines. Plans include a part to be taken in the program by some of the eighth grade graduates. The honor students and complete list of graduates will be given next week.

Charlotte Blessing Honored.

Mothers of her little students surprised Miss Charlotte Blessing Friday at her Red Cloud school-room. They came bringing materials for lunch and a party, presenting Miss Blessing with a gold bag as a farewell gift. Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing will drive to Red Cloud Friday to bring their daughter to Ord.

—Mrs. Arthur Hurdur of Berwyn is in Ord staying with Mr. Hurdur's mother, Mrs. Emma Hurdur, and recovering from a tonsillotomy.

Warning to the Public

At the request of the Ord Volunteer Fire Department this warning is given to citizens of this city: STAY AWAY FROM FIRES WITH YOUR CARS.

The city ordinance provides that when the fire siren sounds, all drivers of motor vehicles must pull over to the curb and stop until the fire truck has passed.

At the Cochran fire Sunday afternoon countless motorists tried to beat the fire trucks to the fire, practically all cars failing to stop at the curb and some even failing to pull over to let the trucks pass. Work of the department was hampered considerably by this situation and if the fire had been a serious one excessive property loss might have resulted because of the lack of cooperation shown by citizens.

Keep your cars at least one block away from fires and obey the city ordinances in other respects, or prosecutions will be made.

THE RED CHANCELLOR. Years ago Sir William Magnay, Bart. wrote a purely fanciful book known as "The Red Chancellor," which enjoyed a large sale, especially in England, and which was also translated into several foreign languages, and read with much amusement at the fanciful ideas of the writer, as well as with interest in his literary ability.

The story dealt with one Chancellor Rallenstein of a mythical European state whose capital city was Buyda. While he was not the king, he was the ruling power in the kingdom. He did not openly quarrel with those in the kingdom who incurred his displeasure, but in the end he saw to it that they disappeared by apparently natural accidents or by suicide.

The chancellor had a plan for the marriage of the heir to a neighboring kingdom, Prince Theodor, to the local princess, Casilde. Count Orsova, not in the chancellor's plan, was married to the princess secretly, and several of his friends knew of it. He could not kill them openly but got rid of them in various apparently natural ways.

First, Orsova was compelled to commit suicide. One friend, named Du'uban, was drowned when he went boating alone. An attempt was made to poison a certain Von Lindheim, but it was prevented. A man named Szalay was forced to fight a duel, and, through great good luck, he won, for the time being. Later he was poisoned.

Through the aid of an English friend Von Lindheim later managed to escape from the country, and eventually went to England with the Englishman who had aided him to escape. In time the despotism of Rallenstein was overthrown, and Von Lindheim was able to return to his native land and once more take his place in public affairs.

Through all the story ran the indomitable purpose of the mastermind, the man who would sacrifice his dearest friends on the cause of developing his country into the most powerful in Europe. It was a great story, but few people of the time understood what Sir William had in mind when he wrote it. It now appears that he had a keen insight into the future, and that he wrote of conditions that were to come.

Today we have that condition in Europe, on a greater scale than the English writer even imagined. The Red Chancellor is Hitler. The several other persons of the story are represented by those who have come under Hitler's displeasure, some of whom have committed suicide and others who have met with accidental death—in planned accidents.

Now, last week, we have the spectacle of Rudolf Hess, the Von Lindheim of the Englishman's story, making his escape, apparently from the displeasure of the Red Chancellor, Hitler. He went to England, or rather, Scotland, and landed on the estate of a former friend, the Duke of Hamilton, the one place in all Europe where he could be certain of finding an asylum.

Einac Magnay's story has come to pass thus far, may we not hope that the rest will come true also, that Adolf Hitler will come to the end of his power as did the Red Chancellor, and that some day Rudolf Hess may return to his native land and enjoy peace and quiet that usually follows the overthrow of tyrants. Whatever else may be said of Hess, it must be admitted that he came seeking peace.

WILDLIFE CONSERVATION. A news item carried by the Quiz last week is of more than passing interest. It was the one telling of the fishing that was done by several groups of men on the Cedar preceding Sunday. Fish caught included rock bass and black bass, bluegills and trout, and they all got their limit for the day.

It is about time that we people quit grousing about the regulations imposed by the state fish and game commission, and get to appreciating what this same commission has been doing and is doing, to make the state a better place in which we may live and enjoy ourselves.

In the old days, when settlers were scarce and game and fish were plentiful, there were no game laws. Nobody thought it necessary then to protect wildlife. About fifty years ago the first regulations began to appear, and they were met with vigorous opposition.

People felt that their personal rights were being imposed upon, and there is nothing that the average man prates more about than his "personal liberty". Men are prone to forget that personal liberty ends where license begins. What many had in mind was not the right to catch a few fish, but to catch all that would bite, pick out the best to take home, and leave the rest to die.

In the early days it was not considered illegal to break the hunting or fishing laws. A man who could do so and get by was looked upon as a man demanding and enforcing his rights. If he happened to get caught it was too bad, but nobody considered it a disgrace.

That attitude has changed materially with the passing of the years. First, the first chronic offenders are nearly all gone, and a new crop of sportsmen with a new viewpoint have taken their place. This new group never knew what it was to hunt unmolested. Their sport has always been supervised, and so they do not mind it.

It is possible that hunting and fishing will never be as good as they were in the early days, but it is certain that there would be none if it had not been for the game laws and the enforcement thereof. Early day fishing in central Nebraska was restricted to bullheads, catfish, chubs and sunfish, and very little else.

Today we have a great variety of fine game fish, the kind that are a joy to catch, and a pleasure to eat. Fish that sportsmen once went hundreds of miles to catch are now to be had right at home. Then only those who could afford it could catch a trout because of the travel involved. Now for the price of a license you have that privilege.

Our game laws came too late to prevent the almost complete extermination of prairie chickens and quail in central Nebraska, but we have the pheasant to take their place. Not only that, we are told that both chickens and quail are making a comeback, and that some day we may be able to enjoy an open season on them again.

So the next time you think evil thoughts about the men whose duty it is to enforce the game and fish laws, please remember that they have a job to do; that they are here to make Nebraska a more pleasant place in which all of us may live and enjoy many of the pleasures of the pioneers without the inconveniences they had to put up with.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. It was the writer's pleasure to attend an AAA farm meeting at Dist. No. 28 in Noble township in company with C. C. Dale and Charles Veleba Friday evening. It was a fine meeting and was a revelation of the way in which the work of the AAA is done. Most interesting, however, was the school itself. It was neat in every respect. The silk fringed American flag was hung in the center of the front of the room, and it was flanked by fine pictures of Lincoln on the left and Washington on the right. On the other walls were copies of some of the world's most famous paintings. In such surroundings any pupil should grow up with a high regard for our nation.

Mrs. Arthur Klein of Scotia came to Ord Friday evening and visited at the W. P. Donnelly home. Saturday afternoon she returned home and Miss Peggy Donnelly went with her to Scotia, from which place she was going to O'Connor to spend a week in the home of her uncle, John Burns. Miss Peggy was very much elated over the trip ahead of her, and here's betting that she is having the time of her life with the pigs and the chickens and all the other wonderful things to be found on a farm.

Valleyside Progressive Club. The Valleyside Progressive club held its first meeting of the year at Albert Peterson's, May 19. This group of girls is taking Girls Room, a Place to Live, with Mrs. Geo. B. Clement as leader. The following officers were elected: Louise Bredthauer, president; Kathleen Clement, vice-president; Betty Jean Fuss, secretary; and Roberta Cook, news reporter. The next meeting will be held at George Clement's at which they will study pictures and picture framing.—Roberta Cook, news reporter.

Automatic Milk Bottler. A machine that makes and fills 45 fiber milk bottles a minute has been perfected by General Machinery corporation of Hamilton, Ohio. Assuming continuous 24-hour operation, it is estimated that one machine at this rate could supply a quart of milk daily to each family in a city the size of Milwaukee.

Money Has Wings. There are so many bills to pay, so many extra calls for cash at the time of year. But, turn about is fair play. Put wings on your money cares. Consolidate your bills here at UNITED and also get the extra cash you need for other things.

PERSONALS

—Miss Claris Kusek of Elyria completed the year's work teaching at Comstock last Friday. —Shirley Norton of North Platte drove to Ord Sunday to bring his wife and little daughter, Nancy, to visit his parents and hers. —Mrs. Alexander Long and her daughter are expected Thursday for a week's visit at the F. A. Barta home. The Longs now live in Washington, D. C.

—The infant daughter of Rudolph Kokes, left motherless last week, is at the home of Mrs. Joseph Osentowski, an aunt. The little girl weighs 3 1/2 pounds, and her name is Constance Martha. —Mrs. Buck Parkins and children are expected Sunday for a visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Parkins, before returning to their California home. They have been in Broken Bow several days.

—Junior High Coach Warren Reeves went to Omaha Saturday where he passed the examination for flying cadet. He will doubtless be called to the service soon. Of the total of 47 who took the examination only 11 passed.

—Miss Mildred Rumsell completed her school work at Shelton Friday and her mother, Mrs. C. E. Rumsell, drove there and brought her home. It was her first term of school after graduating from Kearney, and she has signed a contract for another year there.

—A card from Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Jensen tells that they went to Marcus, Ia., where they are conducting evangelistic services. They plan to return to Ord tomorrow and services will be as usual at Bethany Lutheran church Sunday.

—Carl Gausman, who has been employed in the Quiz photoengraving department several months, with Mrs. Gausman, left Tuesday for Alliance which will be their future home. Mr. Gausman will work as an engraver for a newspaper there. John L. Ward is taking his place at the Quiz Studio and for the present will work part of the time there and part of the time on the Quiz newspaper staff, pending employment of either another fulltime engraver for the studio or fulltime reporter for the Quiz.

—Mrs. Frank Fafetta, Jr., drove to Grand Island Thursday to meet Mrs. Brookshire of Los Angeles, the mother of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emmanuel Gruber. Mrs. Brookshire came to be with Mrs. Fafetta's mother, Mrs. E. W. Gruber, who is packing and disposing of her household effects. Mrs. Brookshire and Mrs. Gruber will drive to California together in a few weeks.

—The mother of Mrs. E. C. Whelan, Mrs. Weppner, suffered a bladder attack Saturday night which became worse Tuesday, so that day Mrs. Weppner was taken to the Ord hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weppner of Cheyenne, who were in Omaha, drove to Ord Sunday bringing his sister, Mrs. Leo Ryan, who is staying here for a few days. Another son, F. B. Weppner is enroute to his mother's bedside from Pittsburg but it has not been considered necessary as yet to send for a third son, Al, whose home is also in Cheyenne. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weppner have returned to their Cheyenne home, and the family are hoping Mrs. Weppner, who is only 74, will recover her health without an operation becoming necessary.

American Hogs. Studies show that about one-half of America's hogs are raised west of the Mississippi, while about three-fourths of the pork is eaten east of the Mississippi.

Nevada Ghost Towns. The old ghost mining towns of Rhyolite and Belmont, Nev., will become state parks if the state government follows a recommendation from Nye county commissioners.

Lady Mendl. Lady Mendl, American-born wife of the British diplomat, achieved stardom on Broadway as Elsie de Wolf.

Aquatic Bladderwort Catches Fish. The aquatic bladderwort catches young fish that venture into its trap by means of a valve that shuts behind them. The Venus fly trap of ferns entrance to insects and frogs and locks them in with its sensitive triggerlike hair. Pitcher plants are full of water in which their victims drown. One species of Borneo pitcher plant is 12 inches in diameter and holds seven pints of water. Its prey consists of small rodents and birds.

Attended Brick School. The following letter is of special interest, since it comes from a lady who attended the brick school, No. 28, at the time the old time picture of it was taken by Mr. Anderson. This picture was published on the editorial page of the issue of May 7. Mrs. Woolery writes as follows: Dear Friends: If some one hasn't already told you who those children in front of the old brick school house are before you get this, maybe it will help you out, as I was one of them, but I didn't get one of the pictures. We were looking right at the sun just as it was up. My eyesight isn't very good but I believe I can name all of them. Robert, Florence and Oscar Nay are brothers and sister. I am not sure if the girl beside Oscar Nay is Mary Evans or not, as she and Emma Holman were not old enough to go to school, but it sure looks like her, and she was there. She is a half-sister to Nettie and Daisy Brox. I thought Guy Mapes was there but I don't see him. He must have been helping in the field. We all went over to Mr. Mapes' grove for a picnic. It is the old Chris Lindhartsen place, but the trees are gone now. Will Anderson is Tillie Hather's brother-in-law and she got him to come out and take the picture. It sure looks good to me as I and my sister, Mary Fairgates, are both in there. Mary's name is Mrs. Earl Cramer now. She lives in Alberta, Canada. I live on the edge of Erickson on the highway to Bartlett, on the right side of the highway on the second corner from town. I haven't time to write any more now, as I am busy with spring work. As ever, your friends, Mrs. Charles C. Woolery, formerly Jennie Fairgates.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

The second largest graduating class in the history of the Fullerton schools is receiving their diplomas this month. There are 65 of them.—The Fullerton Community club is working on a plan to bring a poultry processing plant to that community. D. Z. Mummert, 74, retired Blair lawyer and financier, died at his home there Wednesday evening of a heart attack. Mr. Mummert was well known in Ord and elsewhere because of the fact that he bought tax certificates and figured in a large number of law suits. M. Lorkosky, editor of the Howard County Herald, was taken ill last Tuesday evening with a heart attack while working in the office. He had been busy the past few days in beautifying his home lawn. Medical aid was called, and he was reported improving. St. Paul has organized a six-team city softball league, and the games started at the City Park diamond Thursday evening.—Softball seems to have lost out in most other towns in this section, probably because of the increasing interest in baseball. A fine poem boosting Poppy Day and written by Miner Harris appeared in the Palmer Journal last week.—Outstanding event of the school year at Palmer was a pageant by high school students, entitled "Our War Way." It was directed by Martin Carlson. Mrs. R. M. Chamberlain and Miss Charlotte Kasal of Wolbach entertained a number of guests last week at a shower honoring Mrs. Florence Neve Kellogg.—The annual festival at Wolbach will be held early in August, it was decided by the Community club at their meeting last week. A free electrical show was held at Loup City Thursday and Friday of last week and was largely attended.—One hundred and fourteen eighth grade pupils received promotion from Sherman county at a special exercise held in Loup City last Saturday evening. Roland W. Dolly, with the State Bank of Scotia since 1935, has accepted a position with the Bank of America in California.—Barbara Hatch and Carol Jean Jeffers of Scotia won first place in an amateur contest held in Greeley recently. Olsen and Anderson of Oakland recently completed a new city well at Broken Bow, making a total of four wells to furnish the city's water supply.—Lights are being installed for night shooting at the Broken Bow gun club, located west of Broken Bow. Miss Evelyn Bussell, daughter of Mrs. Mary Bussell of Comstock, has announced her marriage to Elden V. Bass, of Kearney, Oct. 24, 1940, at Phillipsburg, Kas.—Comstock high school graduated a class of 17 seniors at the high school auditorium Thursday evening.

PERSONALS

—Miss Claris Kusek of Elyria completed the year's work teaching at Comstock last Friday. —Shirley Norton of North Platte drove to Ord Sunday to bring his wife and little daughter, Nancy, to visit his parents and hers. —Mrs. Alexander Long and her daughter are expected Thursday for a week's visit at the F. A. Barta home. The Longs now live in Washington, D. C.

—The infant daughter of Rudolph Kokes, left motherless last week, is at the home of Mrs. Joseph Osentowski, an aunt. The little girl weighs 3 1/2 pounds, and her name is Constance Martha. —Mrs. Buck Parkins and children are expected Sunday for a visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Parkins, before returning to their California home. They have been in Broken Bow several days.

—Junior High Coach Warren Reeves went to Omaha Saturday where he passed the examination for flying cadet. He will doubtless be called to the service soon. Of the total of 47 who took the examination only 11 passed.

—Miss Mildred Rumsell completed her school work at Shelton Friday and her mother, Mrs. C. E. Rumsell, drove there and brought her home. It was her first term of school after graduating from Kearney, and she has signed a contract for another year there.

—A card from Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Jensen tells that they went to Marcus, Ia., where they are conducting evangelistic services. They plan to return to Ord tomorrow and services will be as usual at Bethany Lutheran church Sunday.

—Carl Gausman, who has been employed in the Quiz photoengraving department several months, with Mrs. Gausman, left Tuesday for Alliance which will be their future home. Mr. Gausman will work as an engraver for a newspaper there. John L. Ward is taking his place at the Quiz Studio and for the present will work part of the time there and part of the time on the Quiz newspaper staff, pending employment of either another fulltime engraver for the studio or fulltime reporter for the Quiz.

—Mrs. Frank Fafetta, Jr., drove to Grand Island Thursday to meet Mrs. Brookshire of Los Angeles, the mother of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emmanuel Gruber. Mrs. Brookshire came to be with Mrs. Fafetta's mother, Mrs. E. W. Gruber, who is packing and disposing of her household effects. Mrs. Brookshire and Mrs. Gruber will drive to California together in a few weeks.

—The mother of Mrs. E. C. Whelan, Mrs. Weppner, suffered a bladder attack Saturday night which became worse Tuesday, so that day Mrs. Weppner was taken to the Ord hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weppner of Cheyenne, who were in Omaha, drove to Ord Sunday bringing his sister, Mrs. Leo Ryan, who is staying here for a few days. Another son, F. B. Weppner is enroute to his mother's bedside from Pittsburg but it has not been considered necessary as yet to send for a third son, Al, whose home is also in Cheyenne. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Weppner have returned to their Cheyenne home, and the family are hoping Mrs. Weppner, who is only 74, will recover her health without an operation becoming necessary.

American Hogs. Studies show that about one-half of America's hogs are raised west of the Mississippi, while about three-fourths of the pork is eaten east of the Mississippi.

Nevada Ghost Towns. The old ghost mining towns of Rhyolite and Belmont, Nev., will become state parks if the state government follows a recommendation from Nye county commissioners.

Lady Mendl. Lady Mendl, American-born wife of the British diplomat, achieved stardom on Broadway as Elsie de Wolf.

Aquatic Bladderwort Catches Fish. The aquatic bladderwort catches young fish that venture into its trap by means of a valve that shuts behind them. The Venus fly trap of ferns entrance to insects and frogs and locks them in with its sensitive triggerlike hair. Pitcher plants are full of water in which their victims drown. One species of Borneo pitcher plant is 12 inches in diameter and holds seven pints of water. Its prey consists of small rodents and birds.

Attended Brick School. The following letter is of special interest, since it comes from a lady who attended the brick school, No. 28, at the time the old time picture of it was taken by Mr. Anderson. This picture was published on the editorial page of the issue of May 7. Mrs. Woolery writes as follows: Dear Friends: If some one hasn't already told you who those children in front of the old brick school house are before you get this, maybe it will help you out, as I was one of them, but I didn't get one of the pictures. We were looking right at the sun just as it was up. My eyesight isn't very good but I believe I can name all of them. The teacher was Miss Matilda Hather, sister of Will Hather, better known as Tillie Hather. First row in front of teacher, standing, left to right: Clifton Tidd, Robert Nay, Bertha Holman, Jennie Fairgates, Emma Vanscoy, Amanda Vanscoy and Alfred Holman; middle row: Nettie Brox, Bertha Mopes, Florence Nay, Daisy Brox, Jennie and Minnie Arnold; front row: Oscar Nay, Mary Evans, Pearl Coonrod, Nannie Tidd, Mary Fairgates, Emma Holman and Carl Coonrod. Robert, Florence and Oscar Nay are brothers and sister. I am not sure if the girl beside Oscar Nay is Mary Evans or not, as she and Emma Holman were not old enough to go to school, but it sure looks like her, and she was there. She is a half-sister to Nettie and Daisy Brox. I thought Guy Mapes was there but I don't see him. He must have been helping in the field. We all went over to Mr. Mapes' grove for a picnic. It is the old Chris Lindhartsen place, but the trees are gone now. Will Anderson is Tillie Hather's brother-in-law and she got him to come out and take the picture. It sure looks good to me as I and my sister, Mary Fairgates, are both in there. Mary's name is Mrs. Earl Cramer now. She lives in Alberta, Canada. I live on the edge of Erickson on the highway to Bartlett, on the right side of the highway on the second corner from town. I haven't time to write any more now, as I am busy with spring work. As ever, your friends, Mrs. Charles C. Woolery, formerly Jennie Fairgates.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

The second largest graduating class in the history of the Fullerton schools is receiving their diplomas this month. There are 65 of them.—The Fullerton Community club is working on a plan to bring a poultry processing plant to that community. D. Z. Mummert, 74, retired Blair lawyer and financier, died at his home there Wednesday evening of a heart attack. Mr. Mummert was well known in Ord and elsewhere because of the fact that he bought tax certificates and figured in a large number of law suits. M. Lorkosky, editor of the Howard County Herald, was taken ill last Tuesday evening with a heart attack while working in the office. He had been busy the past few days in beautifying his home lawn. Medical aid was called, and he was reported improving. St. Paul has organized a six-team city softball league, and the games started at the City Park diamond Thursday evening.—Softball seems to have lost out in most other towns in this section, probably because of the increasing interest in baseball. A fine poem boosting Poppy Day and written by Miner Harris appeared in the Palmer Journal last week.—Outstanding event of the school year at Palmer was a pageant by high school students, entitled "Our War Way." ORDINANCE NO. 119.
An ordinance prohibiting any person or persons, operating any bowling alley in Ord, Nebraska, from allowing or permitting any minor, under the age of 15 years, to play or bowl on any alley kept by him, her or them, for public use or for pay or hire, in said city, or permitting or allowing any such minor or minors to loaf in, on or about said alleys or in the hall or room in which said alleys are located; providing that every game, or part of a game played by such a minor, shall be deemed to be a separate offense under this ordinance; fixing the hours that it shall be lawful to keep the said bowling alleys open for business; prohibiting keeping said bowling alleys open for business or permitting bowling in said bowling alleys at other hours of the day or at any time on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday; providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions of this ordinance; repealing any parts of Chapter 3 of the municipal code or other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith; providing that no other provisions of said Chapter 3 of said Municipal Code, and certain other provisions of said code or other ordinances of said city are not affected or repealed hereby; and providing when this ordinance shall take effect.
It be ordained by the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska:

Section 1. It is hereby made unlawful for any person or persons, operating any bowling alley in said City of Ord, Nebraska, to allow or permit any minor under the age of fifteen (15) years to play or bowl on any alley in said bowling alley, kept by him, her or them, in said city, for public use or for pay or hire, or to permit or allow any such minor or minors, under said age of fifteen (15) years, to loaf in, on or about said alleys, or in the hall or room in which said alleys are located; provided that every game, or part of a game played by any such minor on any such alley, shall be deemed a separate offense under this ordinance.
Section 2. It shall be lawful for any person or persons to keep any room or hall used as a bowling alley open for the public between the hours of seven (7) o'clock A. M. and twelve (12) o'clock midnight of each day except the first day of the week commonly called Sunday. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to keep any room or hall used as a bowling alley open for business or for the purpose of allowing the public to play or bowl on any alley in any such bowling alley in said city between the hours of twelve (12) o'clock midnight and seven (7) o'clock A. M., on any day of the week or at any time on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday. The permitting of bowling in said alleys at any other times of the day than above permitted or permitting of bowling in said alleys on Sundays is hereby made unlawful.
Section 3. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, if convicted, be fined in any sum not less than $1.00 (one dollar), nor more than $100.00 (one hundred dollars), and the costs of prosecution shall be taxed to the party so offending, and he or she shall, upon conviction, be committed to the City Jail until such fine and costs be paid, secured or otherwise discharged according to law.
Section 4. All parts of Chapter 3 of the Municipal Code of said city, being part of Ordinance No. 85 of said city, and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed; provided that nothing in this ordinance shall repeal any part of said Chapter 3 of said Municipal Code which applied to Pool Halls or Billiard Halls or the other parts of said Chapter 3 applying to bowling alleys, and their operations, except as expressly changed or modified by the ordinance and nothing herein shall repeal or modify the provisions of said Chapter 3 of said Municipal Code, or other provisions of said city with reference to securing a license to keep or conduct a bowling alley in said city or paying an occupation tax for running, keeping or maintaining such a bowling alley.
Section 5. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law.
Passed and approved this 6th day of May, 1941.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Rural school children were also given a train ride Thursday night when their teacher, Hazel Stevens, took them to the chalk hills for a weiner roast on the afternoon freight. Their parents went down after them later in the evening also. If beaming faces meant anything both groups were thrilled.

The first and second grade children with the help of Mrs. Elley gave Miss Jeffries a surprise and a gift of a table cloth and napkins last week. Type-written clues led the children and Miss Jeffries to various places around town and then back to the school house where the nicely wrapped gift was found on Miss Jeffries desk.

The senior class play, "Poor Father" was presented Wednesday to a large crowd. Winsome Meyers as a French maid, Harold Van Horn as a negro and Edward Hudson as a student of physiology and Albert Babcock as Poor Father were exceptionally well played. The play was coached by Mr. Willis. Between acts five little girls, students of Mrs. Elley's tap dancing class, pleased the audience.

Seniors gave their annual breakfast to the juniors Friday morning at the Chalk hills. The shower Thursday night made it rather damp but foresighted seniors provided dry wood and the bacon and eggs and coffee were cooked over a camp fire. Several slumber parties Thursday night had drawn the group closer to the school house and a start was made by six o'clock. Grace Manchester entertained a group of junior girls and Dorothy Wetzel a group of senior girls.

After the play Wednesday night a group of high school students and Mr. and Mrs. Elley went to the Floyd Hutchins home where they had been invited to surprise Donald on his birthday. The remainder of the evening was spent playing cards and at a late hour Mrs. Hutchins served ice cream and cake.

Delmer Van Horn was back in school Thursday after a week's absence because of a severe illness. Baccalaureate services were held Sunday night from the Methodist church. Rev. J. A. Adams gave the address on Christian Living. Rev. A. C. Ehret assisted with the services. Harriet Manchester sang a solo, and the high school girls glee club sang an anthem.

Leo and Lyle Gilmore, of Idaho, spent several days last week in the home of Mrs. Margaret Gilmore.

At the Baptist parsonage in Holdrege Wednesday afternoon occurred the marriage of Ann K. Johnson of North Loup to Alfred L. Millhollin of Omaha, the single ring service being used. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bowen of Kearney. The bride wore a navy blue dress with navy blue and white accessories and she and her attendant had corsages of sweetpeas and roses. Rev. Bransted, pastor of the Holdrege Baptist church officiated. After the ceremony a family dinner was given at the Midway hotel in Kearney and the couple went for a short trip to the northeast part of the state to visit friends. They returned here late Friday evening. Mrs. Millhollin is well known here having been the owner and operator of Ann's Beauty shop for several years. Her husband is a representative of the Underwriters Insurance association and has visited here often. They will make their home in North Loup and Mrs. Millhollin will continue to operate her beauty shop and Mr. Millhollin will continue his work for his company with North Loup his home.

George McGee will make his home with Mrs. Stella Manchester for a time. Elsie Mason has been caring for him for several weeks but Monday went to Wisconsin where he hoped to find work.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz spent Sunday in Burwell.

Hazel Stevens attended the Olean school picnic held Sunday. Members of the Junior Fortnightly club honored their mothers with a party Friday afternoon in the parlors of the Methodist church. Hostesses were Mrs. A. L. McMinder and Mrs. S. C. Hawkes. Roll call was a mother's verse and each mother was presented with a gift. Mrs. George Eberhart gave the welcome and Mrs. W. O. Zangger the response. Mrs. H. L. Hoepfner sang two numbers and Mrs. W. J. Hemphill presented an interesting travelogue of her trip in Florida last year. The program was in charge of Mrs. Jim Coleman and Mrs. E. C. Hawkes. A two course luncheon of yellow and white, was served at tables centered with yellow tulips. Out of town guests were Mrs. Hugh Harvey, Mrs. Arnold Harvey and Mrs. Lena Baxter of Grand Island.

A nice rain which measured .27 inch fell Thursday night. Another shower fell early Monday morning that measured .05 inch. This followed a hot windy day Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Halverson of Broken Bow were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. George S. Mayo. Mrs. Goodin and Byron Fuller of the Merna school teaching staff accompanied them to North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hamer went to Comstock Friday afternoon after Louise whose school at Comstock closed that day.

Andrew Olsen went to Davis Creek Sunday evening where he delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the Davis Creek graduating class.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barber left Monday morning for their home in Albion, Wis. Est Maxson accompanied them to Wisconsin and Donzella White went as far as Toulon, Ill. All expect to leave work.

Mrs. Hillis Coleman entertained the Bunco club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Clyde Willoughby won high score and Mrs. Jim Johnson low. Mrs. Coleman served a lovely lunch late in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Scott and Mrs. Ed Knapp spent Sunday afternoon in Ord with Mrs. Marilla Flynn.

George Eberhart has set a large patch of irrigated ground to cabbage plants the past week. Many of the plants were cut off by cutworms and had to be replaced.

V. W. Robbins was in Grand Island on business Sunday.

Final exams were given in high school Monday and Tuesday. Eighth grade commencement is to be held Wednesday night with eight students, four boys and four girls graduating. High school commencement will be Thursday night with twenty-one students receiving diplomas. A PTA picnic Friday will close the school year.

Mrs. M. R. Cornell was given a surprise birthday party Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp. Ice cream and birthday cake were served. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elley, Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Pokrha and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cornell.

Representatives at Girls State and Boys State

Frances Goodrich, junior in the North Loup schools and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goodrich, will represent that community at Girls State at Lincoln in June. Dale Mulligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mulligan, will attend Boys State.

Both have been outstanding in school activities. Frances was cheer leader and took first place in the North Loup dramatics contest while Dale, who formerly went to school at Barker, lettered in football and basketball. Both he and Frances had parts in the junior class play.

Burwell News

Written by Rex Wagner

Jupiter Pluvius changed the plans of the Burwell Community Players who had intended to have a picnic in the park Monday evening. The picnic was held in the old high school building. After the food had been consumed a business session was held. Mrs. Marjorie Bonnell was elected president, and Miss Florence Grabowski, secretary. The organization is planning two presentations in the near future. They will stage Oliver Goldsmith's "What a Life," and are considering dramatizing "The Battle of Peble Creek for the Old Settlers' Picnic in June. A script of this event has already been prepared by members of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simons of Sparks were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Langer.

Mrs. C. W. Hughes entertained the members of the sewing club in her home Thursday afternoon. Five visitors, Mrs. B. A. Rose, Mrs. Glow Packer, Mrs. Harry Hughes, Mrs. Osea Johnson and Mrs. Everett Johnson, were present. Mrs. Neil Sloan entertained the club this afternoon. The Sloans are moving back to the Lakeview ranch for the summer this week.

Farm seeds, hedge posts and miscellaneuous. E. C. Rousselet, Farmers phone 128. Opposite Butter Factory, Burwell.

Bernard Beck took Miss Gertrude Elm to Genoa Sunday where she will remain until the first of June when she plans to make a trip to California.

Claussen's Bakery hired two new employees last week. Miss Rita Linkwiler has been engaged to wait on the trade while Roy Marth of Broken Bow will assist with the baking. Mr. and Mrs. Marth are making their home with her sister, Miss Myrtle Clark. Miss Dorothy Claussen has been compelled to stay in bed for several weeks and she will not be able to do much work for a while owing to a heart ailment.

Arthur Meyer started for California Monday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Adams, who expects to visit her brother, Jess Pearl in Los Angeles, and, Henry Misko of Ord.

Attorney Glenn Runyan accompanied Austin Anderson to California Saturday. He plans to spend a week on the west coast.

Residents of Burwell have won the first prize two weeks in succession in the World-Herald's snap shot contest. Sunday's issue contained a picture of June Phillipps, her sister, Bulla, her cousins, the Hald boys and her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Phillipps, looking at a pheasant hen setting on her nest only a few feet from highway No. 11, north of Burwell. A picture of the nest with eighteen eggs in it was also published. The week before Miss Dorothy Duncan won the prize for a picture taken at the dam.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie, Mrs. J. L. Alloway and five children drove to Missouri Monday. The Alloways will visit friends at Fillmore where they formerly lived.

Mrs. Honor Freese and her daughter, Sharon, arrived from Venango Friday evening where she has been teaching in the city schools. Sharon will spend the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Cram. Mrs. Freese plans to attend summer school at the College of Agriculture at Ames, Ia.

For four years his health has been failing but not for a day would he give up his business, even when he had to be propped up in bed to write letters.

He leaves to mourn his going, his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Cook, of Ord, and Mrs. Gertrude Lundstedt, of Salina, Kas., the two sons-in-law, Victor Cook and Fred Lundstedt whom he regarded as his own sons, two granddaughters and three grandsons. His oldest child, a son, Charles was drowned while they lived in Arnold, and a daughter, Mary Elouise, passed away in April, 1935.

When Mrs. D. S. Bohrer arose about 5:30 Thursday morning and went to her husband's room to see how he had spent the night she found he had died during the night. Mr. Bohrer had not been well for some time and much of his time for several months had been spent in bed in an effort to give his weak heart a rest. He was better and had been up a week or so and then had to go back to bed again. The first of last week he seemed much stronger and Wednesday late in the day had been dressed and in the evening was in the yard and garden where Mrs. Bohrer was working. He retired about nine o'clock and at ten Mrs. Bohrer went to bed also and contrary to their usual custom went to another room to sleep, thinking they would both rest better. She had told him to call her if he wanted anything and when she wakened early in the morning her first thought was that he must have had a good night. It seems likely that he died shortly after she retired and that he never wakened.

Mrs. G. A. Butts was the commencement speaker at the graduation exercises for the high school at Ericson Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Austin drove to Taylor Sunday where they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robyler.

DAN BOHRER.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Methodist church with Rev. Andrew Olsen, pastor, in charge and Rev. W. H. Stevens, of Overton, former pastor and close friend, bringing the message. A quartet of Mrs. H. J. Hoopner, Mrs. Fred Bartz, J. S. Manchester and Daryl White sang and Mrs. M. R. Cornell was at the piano. Mrs. Otto Bartz, Fannie McClellan and Mable Leo looked after the many floral offerings, many of which came from the gardens of Mr. Bohrer's friends around town.

Bearers were James Cook, C. W. McClellan, Claud Thomas, Otto Bartz, Allen Sims and H. J. Johnson. H. T. Frazier was the undertaker in charge.

Out of town relatives attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lundstedt and Charles of Salina, Kas.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold of Fullerton, Mrs. Grace Arnold, Lincoln; Mrs. Henry Engel, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Linn Downing and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Downing of Arnold; Mrs. Anna Krebs and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Krebs of Scotia, Iris Krebs of Ord and Chester Krebs of Palmer. Present from the Fairview neighborhood were Mr. and Mrs. James Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Zabloull, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hohn and Mrs. Charley Veleba.

Opening Ak-Sar-Ben's 1941 calendar will be the spring running races, Tuesday, May 27, through Saturday, July 5, at Omaha.

The Ak-Sar-Ben races make an important contribution to the live stock industry of Nebraska, Iowa and other nearby states, points out W. H. Schellberg, racing chairman, by encouraging the breeding of good horses and providing revenues to defray expenses of the fall live stock show at Omaha.

Another important Ak-Sar-Ben activity, the den show, will have its annual inaugural on June 9. It will be presented in the Coliseum at Ak-Sar-Ben Field each Monday evening of June and July. Title of the 1941 show is, "Tribute to the Tropics." It depicts army men of Nebraska and western Iowa transported to Puerto Rico and is chock full of tropical romance, songs and dances.

As in former years, citizens of various Nebraska and Iowa communities will be guests on special den show nights, as well as on certain days at the races. Admission to the den show is free. Also free is the buffet lunch, which follows each Monday night. For stockmen the high point of the year will come in the annual Ak-Sar-Ben Live Stock and Horse show, dates for which will be October 5th to 11th. The fall exposition will again feature the world's largest 4-H baby beef show and auction sale, a big carload showing and sales of commercial meat animals, a flower and garden show with new features, band and drum corps competition, and special entertainment to be announced later.

Sixty per cent of Canada's rich fur crop comes from trapped wild animals, the remainder from fur farms.

William R. DeHart Dies, Cancer Cause

Burwell—(Special)—Funeral services for William Richard DeHart, 83, were conducted by Lyman Kern in the Methodist church Sunday afternoon. Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery. A quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Grunkemeyer, Mrs. Arthur Langstrom and Lloyd Alderman sang, with Mrs. Robert Dietrich at the piano. D. T. Price, Joe Wright, Charles Ashman, Ross Fitzgerald, Henry Poling and Frank Malicky served as pall bearers.

Mr. DeHart, who was afflicted with a cancer and suffered for many months, died early Thursday morning. He was born at Buckham, Ill., June 2, 1857. He was married to Jennie Freedy, who survives him, August 18, 1883. Mr. and Mrs. DeHart were the parents of ten children all of whom are living with the exception of one. For the last thirty-seven years Mr. and Mrs. DeHart have lived at Burwell.

Their children are George and Frank DeHart and Mrs. Grace Davis all of Burwell, Rolla DeHart of Lincoln, Tom DeHart of Mitchell, Mrs. Dolly Shelby of Rapid City, S. D., Julius, Charles and Everett who live in Washington. Mr. DeHart also leaves thirty-eight grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren, one brother, Grant DeHart of Lincoln and a sister, Mrs. Anna Spines of Lincoln, Ark.

Methodist Parsonage Gets General Overhaul

Considerable work is being done on the Methodist parsonage this spring. Last week Flower and Harris and the Karyl Hardware did some reshingling and put in new gutter on the roof to replace the old, which had rusted out. Frank Fryzek and son Joe have the contract for repainting the building and plan to start in a short time. Last week Mrs. Bessie Achen and Mrs. Glen D. Johnson washed the paint on the walls of a large room in the basement.

—Harold Dahlin held a sale of his household goods at the residence north of the Catholic church Saturday afternoon, and plans to leave Saturday of this week for Pasadena, Calif. The sale was conducted by Herman Rice, was well attended and good prices prevailed.

—Miss May McCune went to Scottia on the bus Thursday afternoon to be present at the graduation exercises at the Scottia Consolidated schools that evening. A niece, Miss Gertrude McCune, daughter of her brother, Frank McCune, was among the graduates.

—Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Val Petersen and Harold Hulfish of Lincoln visited a short time in Ord and at the Quiz office. They were on their way to Burwell where Mr. Petersen was to give the commencement address. Mr. Petersen is secretary to Governor Dwight Griswold and Mr. Hulfish is a deputy state sheriff.

—Word has been received by Ord relatives of the death at Taft, Calif. of Mrs. Ralph Calkins, sister of Mrs. Margaret Milligan. The Calkins family lived in Ord at one time, but left for California thirty years ago. Mrs. Calkins' death was very sudden, as a niece, Mrs. John L. Ward, received a fine letter from her last Saturday, in which she spoke of coming back to Ord for a visit, and her death occurred two days later, May 12.

8th Grade Honors for Scholarship to Mildred Fish

96 Students Promoted Tuesday Eve at Exercises Held in High School Building.

To Mildred Fish, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Devillo Fish, and a student in District 14, go honors for making the best scholarship record among 8th grade students of Valley county in the term just completed.

Second place went to Lillian Geneski, 12, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geneski, of District 30. Her grade was 97-1. Only one other 8th grader in the county, Eva King of District 23, had an average above 95 but 23 others had averages above 90.

MILDRED FISH.

At promotion exercises here Tuesday evening, Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of schools, presented diplomas to 96 students who have completed the 8th grade work in the rural schools of the county.

Miss Wilma Shavlik, dramatics instructor in Ord high school, gave the principal address, and other features included two skits by Miss Joy Loft, "When Visitors Come to Our School" and "The Fly in Church"; a vocal solo, "Two Roses," sung by Patricia Frazier; and a vocal solo, "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," sung by Alex Cochrane, Jr.

Two 8th grade graduates from District 30, Lillian and Norma Geneski, sisters, sang "My Nebraska," and the honor graduate, Mildred Fish, read an original composition.

Light-Hitting Ord Team Loses to Boelus, 7 to 1

Their failure to hit, plus two costly errors, cost the Ord baseball team of the Loup Valley league a game on the Ord diamond Sunday when Boelus defeated the locals, 7 to 1. The game was a thriller through three scoreless innings and then Boelus went into the lead 1 to 0 with Ord threatening through two more innings before Boelus drew farther ahead.

Leonard Collins, who started the game as catcher for Ord, had an ear almost torn off by a foul tip but resumed play after being given first aid. Novosad and Kuklish handled the Ord pitching burden capably, limiting Boelus to 7 hits.

DECORATION DAY SERVICES

in Ord, Nebraska MAY 30TH, 1941

The parade will form at the Memorial Plot, next to the north gate of Bussell Park, marching off through the cemetery at 10:30 A. M. (over same route as in 1940) to the Legion Memorial Plot.

ORDER OF MARCH AND PROCESSION: Colors, Band, Firing Squad, Civil War Veterans, Spanish War Veterans, American Legion Auxiliary, Junior Auxiliary, the American Legion, and others.

(The Ladies of the G. A. R. will gather at the small gate immediately at the south entrance to the Legion Memorial Plot, and will march into the plot from the south, at the same time that the main procession enters the plot from the north.) (All organizations or groups including the band, participating in the program, take their proper places inside Memorial plot during services.)

Ericson Highway to Be Constructed As a WPA Project

Supervisors Agree on Details at Special Meeting, Plans Go to WPA for Approval.

Unanimous agreement on plans to bring about construction of 3.9 miles of the Ord-Ericson road as a WPA project this summer and fall was reported by Ellsworth Ball, chairman of the county board of supervisors, after a special session of the board Wednesday evening.

Cost of the project will be about $31,000, of which the county will put up approximately $3,000 in cash and get credit for another $3,000 through use of the county road machinery, Chairman Ball said.

The state highway department will furnish complete engineering service, also all materials used for culverts and bridges, and when the grade is completed to state specifications will gravel the road and take it over for maintenance. It will be designated as No. 57.

With agreement of the Valley county supervisors, plans went to the state highway department for approval and then must be approved by WPA authorities at Washington. Mark Gyger, WPA head for Valley county, thinks there is no doubt the project will be approved, Ball says.

It is not known when work can be started, pending official approval, but it may be as early as June 15 and certainly not later than July 15.

Between 60 and 70 men will work on the road and it should be completed rapidly.

Boy Loses Eye from BB Gun Injury

(Special to The Quiz)

Burwell—a safari with BB guns which generally results with no more serious damage than broken windows in unoccupied buildings resulted in a catastrophe Friday afternoon when Merle, the four-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson was hit in the eye with a shot accidentally fired by a companion. The boys were at the fairgrounds where they were hunting sparrows.

Merle was taken by his uncle, R. S. Banks, to Hastings where Dr. Foote, who attended him found it necessary to remove the injured eye. Doyle Horwat loaned his car for this drive. Merle was brought home Monday. He believes that troubles never come singly, for Sunday his jaws began to ache and swell and he came down with the mumps. The injury was very painful and Merle has sustained considerable suffering and nervous shock following the operation.

Five More Selectees to Entrain June 3rd

Five more young men selected by the Valley county draft board for military training will entrain for the induction station at Fort Crook on June 3, reveals Alfred Wiegardt, clerk of the board. This comprises Valley county's quota for the month of June.

The men are Robert D. Ackles, Emanuel J. Cadek, Laverne L. Tallow, Edward L. Knebel and Joseph L. Wegrzyn.

They will report to the draft board at the court house at 10 a. m. of that day, where their transportation orders will be issued.

Legion Will Sponsor Dailey Bros. Circus

The American Legion post in Ord completed arrangements Tuesday to sponsor two exhibitions by Dailey Bros. Circus on the afternoon and evening of June 10th. The big circus tent will be pitched on the fair ground and performances will be given at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m. The Legion will receive a percentage of the gross receipts.

Dailey Bros. Circus is a popular priced circus presenting his shows in two rings and in mid-air. It travels by truck and has a fine menagerie including three elephants. There will not be any street parade.

Since this is the first circus to appear in Ord for several years, circus day, June 10, should be a big day in Ord.

Sale of Poppies Hits New High

Poppy Day sales in Ord reached a new high of $115.33 this spring, announces Mrs. Alfred Wiegardt, who was in charge of the local campaign. Highest individual sales honors Saturday were won by Mrs. John Ward, who took in almost $20 for the little red paper flowers made by soldiers of other wars. And $20 is a lot of money at ten cents a flower.

Boys and girls of the Junior Auxiliary sold most of the flowers, a few adults assisting them. Both business and residential districts were fairly well covered, and the rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. Cecil Clark, was much pleased to find that more flowers were sold in Ord than ever before.

The poppy poster contest which was conducted through the schools resulted in some excellent entries. First prize of $1 was given to Mildred Seveker, whose poster will be sent to Lincoln to compete in the state contest at the state convention June 14. Second prize of 75c was given to Norma Vavra and third prize with 50c in prize money went to Maxine Wegrzyn. All three prize-winning girls were fifth or sixth grade students.

Senator Knezacek Wins a New Title

"One-bill" Knezacek is what the boys around the state house were calling Senator Joseph T. Knezacek as the 1941 session drew to a close Friday. His record, they said, was the finest of any senator. He introduced only one bill—the Fort Hartsuff resolution—and it was passed by a unanimous vote.

Slightly ill when the session closed at 7:08 Friday evening, the senator did not return home until Monday evening. He and Mrs. Knezacek will remain in Ord and Senator Knezacek will resume his business now that his maiden term as this district's solon has ended.

Attend G. I. Meeting.

Postmaster and Mrs. Alfred L. Hill of Ord, Postmaster Naomi Fackler of Barwell and Postmaster Anna Sauter of Cotesfield made up a party that went to Grand Island Sunday to attend a meeting of the resolutions committee of the Nebraska chapter of the national association of postmasters, held at Hotel Yancey. Mrs. Fackler, as chairman, presided at the meeting, and Mr. Hill, president, and George Taylor, Geneva, secretary, of the state chapter, took part in the discussions.

Fair Board Asks Chamber Provide '41 Entertainment

Fair Will Be Held Aug. 26-29, Says President Clement; Discussion June 5th.

Officials of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, including C. C. Dale, R. Clare Clement and M. B. Cummins, met with directors of the Ord Chamber of Commerce at a special session Tuesday evening and asked the Chamber to assume responsibility for providing entertainment at the 1941 Valley county fair which will be held August 26, 27, 28 and 29.

If the Chamber does not care to do this the fair will be held only as an exhibition and livestock show, President Clement said.

After considerable discussion, Chamber directors passed a motion agreeing to undertake arrangements for a 2-day show only, probably on August 28 and 29, and President C. J. Mortensen appointed a committee to investigate various types of entertainment that might be offered.

Chairman of this committee is Dr. Glen Auble and other members named were John Misko, R. E. Teague, E. L. Kokes and Hilding Pearson. The committee was instructed to make recommendations at the next general meeting of the Chamber June 5, at which time the entire membership may discuss the subject.

Mrs. A. Fuss, 77, Passes Sunday at Grand Island

Born in Germany But Came to This Country in 1886 and Won Respect of All.

At Grand Island early Sunday morning after a lingering illness occurred the death of Mrs. Adolph Fuss, 77, who was a highly respected resident of the community south of Ord for forty years.

Mathilde Augusta Bloch was born Feb. 10, 1864 at Labischin, Posen, Germany, where she was baptized in early infancy and confirmed in the Lutheran faith on June 30, 1878.

MRS. ADOLPH FUSS.

She came to America in 1886, making her home with an uncle in York county. Six months following her arrival she married Adolph Fuss.

They made their first home on a farm in York county, spent two years in Heron Lake, Minn., and returned again to York county. In 1894 they moved to a farm south of Ord where they lived until March, 1926, when they retired and went to Grand Island to spend their declining years in comfort and where they were faithful members of Trinity Lutheran church.

Five sons and four daughters were born to this union, two sons and two daughters preceding their mother in death.

Besides her husband Mrs. Fuss is mourned by three sons, William, Walter and Martin, all of Ord; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Hellewege, of North Loup, and Mrs. Elfrida Poth, of Ord; also 23 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Reinhard Fuss, of York.

The funeral services were held Tuesday morning, first at Trinity Lutheran church in Grand Island and later at the Lutheran church in Mira Valley. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

Gets Divorce from Pishna.

In district court here recently, Elizabeth Pishna was granted a divorce by Judge Spikes from Kenneth Pishna, to whom she was married about a year ago. Non-support and failure to provide a home were grounds alleged in the complaint. Her maiden name, Elizabeth Walachowski, was restored.

A Sample of Valley County's Crop of 8th Graders

Sisters, and resembling each other enough to be twins, are Lillian Geneski, 12, and Nora Geneski, 14, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geneski, of District 30. They are representative of the 96 Valley county girls and boys who completed eighth grade work in the rural schools this term. The Geneski sisters sang "My America" at promotion exercises held in Ord last night.

Find Shot Gun Shells, Boys Burned by Powder

Four young Ord boys suffered burns Sunday from burning powder, and were taken by Chief of Police L. H. Covert to the Ord hospital where Dr. J. N. Round treated the burns and administered anti-toxin. They were two of the little Sowers boys, a Turk boy and a Crosley boy, and all are under 10 years of age.

In playing at the city dump the boys found some old shotgun shells which somebody carelessly had thrown away. Thinking the shot was what did the damage, they unloaded the shells, put the powder in a paper, rolled it up and set it on fire. They were all burned about the face and hands quite severely, but there will be no permanent harm done.

Raise $104 in 'Dawn to Dusk' Scouting Drive

Twenty-eight workers under the chairmanship of John P. Misko conducted a "dawn to dusk" drive Friday for funds to aid the Boy Scout program, and a total of $104.05 in contributions was reported at close of the day. The drive started with a group breakfast at Thorne's cafe.

Proceeds are used to further Boy Scout work through the state and national organizations, for Scout summer camps and other purposes.

Hugo Players in Ord Next Week

With the arrival of summer comes also the annual trek of the famous Hugo Players, who will appear in Ord in their tent theatre all next week. The tent will be pitched as usual on the lots south of the Bohemian hall and the opening play, "For the Love of Henry," will be given Monday night.

Harry Hugo, genial manager of the troupe, will be here to greet his many friends, as will his talented wife, Larry, the leading lady. Skip and Patsy Hawkins, who pleased Ord crowds last season, will appear again, and there are several new members of the troupe including Connie and Johnnie Spaulding.

Vodvil acts will be given as always and the Hit Parade will play during each performance. Merchant tickets are again being given by several stores.

Will Vote on Wheat Quotas on May 21st

May 31st has been announced by Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture, as the date when wheat farmers will vote to determine whether quotas shall continue in effect on the big 1941 crop. Current estimates say that farmers of this nation will have enough wheat on hand after harvest to supply this country's expected needs for two years.

Any wheat grower who planted an acreage of wheat for 1941 harvest which, multiplied by the normal yield will total 200 bushels or more, is an eligible voter.

Voting will take place at the AAA office in Ord from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturday, May 31.

Candy Went Through English Blockade Area

Hitler's "tin fish" did not get one treat, at least. Mrs. E. O. Kull received word from her uncle of the receipt of a large box of mixed candies received at Bishopston, South Wales.

The candy was intended for refugee children there, and was divided among them. It proved a great treat, since the only thing they have been getting that they can't get is candy. Mrs. Kull's class at the school year, is now employed full time.

New Plea Is Made for Haskell Creek Hi-way at Lincoln

Group Visited Scott Thursday to Ask Farm-to-Market Aid on Important Route.

Unwilling to give up the fight for development of the Haskell Creek road north of Ord as an all-weather highway connecting with No. 53, a group of Ord business men and Garfield county people visited Warden G. Scott, state engineer, and Governor Dwight Griswold in Lincoln Thursday.

In the delegation were Mrs. Victor Johns, Garfield county commissioner, George Watts and Dave Guggenmos, farmers who live near the road, Mayor M. B. Cummins, Fred Coe and A. A. Wiegardt, of Ord.

Since the No. 11 detour was established along the river route and the highway department has begun advertising for bids for reshaping and surfacing this route, the delegation asked Scott to work out a plan by which the Haskell Creek road could be reclassified as a farm-to-market highway and improved under this program; thereby not interfering with the No. 11 detour or the Ord-Ericson road already planned.

A petition signed by 124 Garfield county farmers who live in the territory affected, and another signed by some 275 others, were presented to the highway department.

The Haskell Creek road is graded to within three miles of the Garfield county line now and will be surfaced this summer by means of a WPA program, the group pointed out. Mrs. Johns, Garfield county commissioner district has no funds to improve the final three miles, which would cost $9,000 as a straight-line highway or about $3,000 as a winding road following the present route.

If the road could be completed and surfaced following either of these routes, heavy through traffic would follow the route in preference to the No. 11 detour along the river, while traffic to Ellyria and intermediate points could follow the regular detour, the group told Scott. The road is important to farmers who live in the southern part of Garfield county because a 14 mile detour is involved to reach Ord in wet weather, if they cannot travel this road.

Little encouragement for immediate development of the road with state aid was given the group at Lincoln but some other possibilities are now being explored and Ord business interests will continue to cooperate with the Garfield county group until the desired result is attained.

Ord People Invited to Ak-Sar-Ben Races

Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, sponsors of Omaha's annual spring running races, May 27 through July 5, again invite people of the middle west to their guests at the greatest racing event of the Year in this section.

Ak-Sar-Ben hospitality, therefore will be extended to residents of Ord and its surrounding territory at the races on June 4th. Complimentary tickets may be obtained from the local ambassador, E. C. Leggett.

Other communities from which large delegations are expected at Omaha on that day include: Elgin, Albion, Bartlett, Ericson, Spalding, Greeley, Stuart, Atkinson, O'Neill, Burwell, Sargent, Taylor, Clearwater, Ewing, Loretto, Oakdale and Petersburg.

An annual invitation to the races is extended by Ak-Sar-Ben in keeping with its steadfast desire to promote good will among all midwestern citizens. Everyone in the above communities who possibly can is urged to accept the organization's offer on the day mentioned.

2nd Draft Registration Ordered for July 1st

Young men who have reached the age of 21 since last October 16, or who reach that age in the next five weeks, must register for possible military service on July 1, it was ordered by President Roosevelt Monday.

Selective service boards will conduct the registration in the same manner as the first registration was conducted, and priority for training will be determined by another draft lottery.

Judge Spikes to Speak at Jungman Hall June 1

In accordance with their annual custom, members of the Jungman Hall lodge will hold Memorial services on Sunday, June 1 at 1:30 p. m., and the public is cordially invited to attend. Principal speaker will be District Judge William F. Spikes.

Musical features will include solos by Patricia Frazier, Margaret Petska and Harvey Dahlin, and a vocal octet composed of these three young people and also Mae Klein, Mrs. F. J. Osentowski, Lyle Norman, Dr. Osentowski and Alex Cochran.

OUR ROAD PROBLEM.

Prior to May, 1886, Ord and Valley county had no road building machinery with the exception of the small scraper, or slip, with which low spots were filled in and approach grades were built to the few bridges.

There were very few laid out roads in those days, the most travel was over roads which were constructed with two objects in mind, to pick the most direct route and also to select a road that would fit to travel under all weather conditions.

In May, 1886, the Ord village board, after much argument, finally decided to buy a road grader. The idea was opposed by many people, including the editor of the Quiz, who was very outspoken against the unnecessary expense.

Some of the streets were laid out then, but much of the town consisted of vacant lots, and in several places the roads, consisting of two wagon ruts and the spaces worn by the horses in walking, cut across toward the main part of town by the most direct route.

After the grader had been bought there was considerable opposition to grading up the streets in the middle. The experiment of digging ditches for drainage along the curb had been tried in places, and a heavy rain had washed them so deep that they had to be filled in again.

To cure the summer dust situation the sprinkler idea came into being around the square, but nobody seemed to be able to figure out a cure for the mud. Finally, nearly 30 years ago, Dr. R. A. Billings conceived the idea of a street roller, and he had one made at his own expense to prove that it was a practical thing.

This roller had to be made big, he decided, or it would not roll easily, but he made the mistake of making it solid and of concrete. One spring day he had a tractor pull it around the square. It was in the early spring and the streets had just thawed out and were muddy.

The graveling of the streets of Ord is now a thing of the past. The graveling of the streets of Ord is now a thing of the past. The graveling of the streets of Ord is now a thing of the past.

The ORD QUIZ

Ord not already paved followed as a matter of course, so that today practically all the traffic ways of Ord have some kind of all weather surfacing.

One thing has developed through the years, and that is that the streets, as well as the highways, make better roadways when they are worked immediately after a rain.

In the matter of highways, first the roads were put on the section lines, except in cases where such procedure entailed little expense, and then the gradual process of developing highways paralleling the railroads was started.

The cost of roads in pioneer times was comparatively small, but the land was cheap then also. Today the building and maintaining of highways has become one of the major items of expense in our nation, and the cost will continue to mount through the years to come.

We are guaranteed so many things under the constitution and especially under the bill of rights that we are inclined to resent any regulation of any kind that we think infringes a little on our rights as a free people.

In a way, perhaps it is right for us to know all that our government is doing in our preparedness program. Most of us would like to know. But the trouble is, we cannot know without others knowing all that we know, and too many of those others, enjoying the same rights that we do are potential or active enemies of democratic government.

Regardless of what our government does under present conditions Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, Churchill and Japan know it as soon as we do, and in many cases, even sooner. The radio and the press, knowing the public's thirst for news, put out the things they should, and many items of news that we consider important should be suppressed.

The movements of battle ships, movements of troops, details of the general plan of defense, these are vitally important. But since the general public cannot know them without foreign powers knowing them as well, we should be patient if the men entrusted to these things do not choose to make us their confidants in everything they do.

In England a far greater degree of secrecy was kept than is kept here, and yet it was found that every airplane, every landing field, every munitions factory, in fact every site of any military or special value to the enemy was known to them, and these have had to be moved. Even after they were moved the new location was soon found by the enemy.

It is a known fact that carefully drawn plans of everything of military value in a certain middle west city were made and sent to the Hitler government. After a time these plans were returned to the sender, with the notation in German to check them over and bring them up to date. Quite by accident the plans were discovered.

There is no question but that Hitler knows more about the man-made geography of America than Americans do. Already general plans are in the making for the conquest of the western hemisphere. We cannot prevent him from knowing what he has learned already, but we can prevent him from finding out what takes place in the future.

So if we are not at once notified of the whereabouts of the battleship Ord or the cruiser North Loup, let us possess our souls in patience. We may be assured that our government is not sending them to Europe as a gift to Hitler. And we may be assured that we will be informed promptly of anything that is proper and fair for us to know.

OUR SHIFTING POPULATION. The way in which our population is shifting about in recent years is startling, while the cause of the shifting is obvious. In strenuous times such as we have faced and are facing, people move about much more than they do in normal times. They do so through the necessity of making a living.

Here in central Nebraska the chief cause is the lack of employment and the consequent necessity of going where employment may be found. The result of this is shown in the decrease in population all over Nebraska with the exception of a few spots not directly affected by drought conditions.

It takes nerve to start out in entirely new surroundings, as many have had to do in the past ten years, and it is no discredit to a man when he tries to better his condition. When it comes to a question of sheer nerve, the people of the United States are ahead of any nation in the world.

Two years ago the Ord Cosmopolitan club had a photo taken, in which were 26 of its members, all alert and progressive business men of Ord. A glance at that photo today reveals the startling fact that 7 of those pictured, also one member not in the photo, have sought employment in new fields.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

A Longer View.

The winnings of Adolph Hitler and his gang are discouraging to us peace-loving and liberty-loving people. Lindbergh and Wheeler, we get to thinking, are too near right, but apparently our president and the most of us are taking a longer view of this war situation.

Hitler may take all of Europe, as he has most of it taken now. He might take Gibraltar and the Suez with possibly no more loss than when he took Greece. The British Isles may fall too and if they don't they may be annihilated. Russia is more afraid of Hitler than anything else.

But even then, that is a long way from taking the Western Hemisphere. It is generally supposed if Britain falls their navy will go to Canada and Australia or other British possessions. They have promised never to turn it to Germany and they usually keep their word. Canada and Mexico are cooping up to U. S. already and Australia will too, far in preference to chance of going it alone and having Japan conquer their continent.

South American nations are showing a more friendly spirit toward the United States the last year. Along this line it might be said that Hitler nor his gang are sailors. They never were or never will be. They can fight on land but are stopped by the sea. They are even stopped by twenty miles of the English channel. The British have long been the world's greatest seamen. Americans, too, who are sons of England, are sailors, the tike that was never known or never whipped. They even whipped the English a few times and Paul Jones an American, when most men would have given up or scuttled their ship (like the Germans do), "had just begun to fight."

A combination of the U. S. navy and the British navy, along with an organization of the democracies of the Western Hemisphere would be a hard nut for even Hitler to crack. And more than that, much of the Europe he has taken and plans to keep, will have to be held for these people of France, England, the low countries, Norway, Denmark and others are not in the habit of being under totalitarian rule and it will take a long time to bring them willingly to it, if they ever are.

Hitler, too, will not live forever. It is doubtful if he can arrange a successor that will fill his place. Napoleon, Alexander or Caesar did not. Their organizations fell with them. Democracies, at least those of Great Britain and the United States have proved to be more perpetual than one-man governments ever were. By the time our turn comes in Hitler's line of march, something may happen to him. Surely he and his band of vandals, their hands smeared with blood, cannot go on for ever.

It seems to be the opinion of Roosevelt and the most of the people that we better help (the cause now—throw our weight in with those in distress—than to wait our turn and be stricken down so easily as France, Greece and the dozens of other small countries.

Yes Hitler has been very successful. He has taken all the little countries near him, whipped all the small fellows who did not have a chance in the first place. Hitler has taken France, too, a country that was divided among itself and consequently weak. But he has not taken the one or two prize packages, the one or two that he has to take before he will have his own way, the one or two that will forever be a thorn in his side—Oh yes, who are those one or two? They are Great Britain and the United States, of course.

School Notes. Albert Babcock (Bab), who is the "valldict" at the North Loup school this year, has received 30 A's out of the possible 32 in his four years. He not only earned those grades but he has been a star footballer, has worked at the Farmers Store, and has taken his part in most other activities of the young folks in school and church.

Beckie Kriewald, who lives closer to N. L. than any other town, was the salutatorian at Scotia. Ruth Cook, daughter of Will Cook living one mile east of N. L., is a high school student of the Scotia schools and has been all along. She is a sophomore.

Duck Soup. Among the many other activities of Vern Robbins, he has now gone into the duck business. Somewhere he bought two ducks for $2.00 and turned them loose on his ranch east of town where the Mira Creek winds it way gently. Now these ducks swam up and down the creek and each morning planted two or more eggs on the here, now has a business of his own at Jerome, Ida. Helmut Brockman, then Ord coach, is now doing well in a similar job at Kewanee, Ill. Harold Taylor, then with the Nebraska State bank, is now an employee of the Bank of America in California. Irwin Underberg, then with Aulsebrook Bros, now with the Elgin Watch Mfg. Co., Elgin, Ill. Dr. J. G. Kruml, then an Ord physician, is now Lieut. Kruml of Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo.

Ord has a number of organizations and each can note the changes that occur from time to time as the result of the need of seeking more remunerative work elsewhere. Now that a rainy year has come again, let us hope that the loss of population in central Nebraska will end and that the shift will turn our way for a time.

Tomato Growers Choose Officers

Burwell—The tomato growers of the vicinity met in the old high school building Wednesday night where they organized a cooperative. Directors were elected to represent Valley, Garfield and Loup counties. Those chosen were Leo Nelson, Frank Stanek, Osce Johnson, L. A. Butterfield and C. W. Newbecker. L. C. Way of Lincoln, who is in charge of the loans which the farm security administration makes to cooperatives, attended the meeting and encouraged the farmers to continue the planting of tomatoes, corn and other crops for canning.

The five directors who were elected Wednesday night will hire a manager for the proposed cannery. The factory will be owned by the producers and all profits will be returned to them. The businessmen who subscribed money to help launch the project will have no voice in operating the enterprise.

The machinery which was purchased from the defunct Two Rivers plant near Omaha has been moved to Burwell and is being set up in the garage building on the side of the square. According to present plans a more suitable location will be selected and a building erected this fall.

James Dutt, a specialist in the culture of vegetables from the agricultural college had charge of a tomato planting demonstration at the L. A. Butterfield farm Wednesday morning. Twelve varieties with twenty-five plants of each were set out. They were spaced four apart each way. The varieties planted were Ruby, Alford, Fire-stead, Pritchard, Victor, Penn State Earlina, two strains of Bounty and four new varieties which have not yet been named. This fall from observations of the plot it can be ascertained which variety is the best adapted to this locality.

Mr. Dutt advised the farmers to run two ditches down between each row when the plants are small in order to give them plenty of water. When the plants have grown larger he recommended that the ditches be abandoned and that water be run down between the rows in a larger, single ditch. For foliing the cutworms, Mr. Dutt advised placing a nail by each plant. He said that the cutworm curls itself around the plant which it destroys. The nail makes added diameter for the worm to reach around and being usually a cold object the worm shies away from it and though the worms are equipped with fairly sharp teeth they scarcely are able to chew through a nail.

A potato test plot has been planted on the F. M. Butts farm on land which is rented to Frank Malicky. Ten varieties have been planted here, namely, Mesaba, Irish Cobblers, Red Warba, Chippewa, Kathmandu and five different strains of Triumphs. County Agent Monson will check the plot for stand and percentage of emergence this week. A test plot of grain sorghums and one of soy beans will also be planted in the Burwell district.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD. Last Monday 5-year-old Jennie Munk of Blair disappeared. After officers, CCC boys and an airplane had hunted her in the timber for hours, she came back. She had been in a granary asleep.—Bud Snyder, a project foreman of Blair, was drowned in the Missouri river when he fell from a barge last week.

A mattress making project started at Loup City this week. NYA girls make the ticking, and a carload of

The position of the United States in the war seems to grow more serious all the time. More and more former opponents of our entering the struggle are swinging over to the view that all out aid to Britain is necessary and the "short of war" phase is no longer being tacked on. No doubt powerful interests are preparing the minds of this country for the time when we will be in the thick of the fight. From a reading of the papers and magazines there seems no other course.

England would now be in much better standing in this country had she paid her war debt from the first World war to this country.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Two ladies of Ord, standing on the Hastings and Ollis corner one day last week noted a peculiar sight at the southeast corner of the Quiz lot. They thought they saw some kind of a hide hung up there to dry, perhaps the editor's hide.

The next day one of ladies went down that way to see what kind of a hide it was and found that it was only the broken part of the limb of a tree. It certainly looks like a hide from a distance.

Sunday was a fine time for people to get in their cars and take a drive. But that was no excuse for a group of young people hogging the road between Burwell and Ord, taking their time and crowding over every time people behind them tried to pass. The Lord knows there are enough people killed in auto accidents as it is without any monkeyshines by a bunch of nitwits who should be in kindergarten instead of out of high school.

Again John S. Hoff is in the lime light, this time because he has what seems to be the largest early field of corn in his part of the county. He has 65 acres that was up Friday, May 16, and which is being cultivated at the present time. May 16 is not so early for corn in a normal year, but it must be remembered that the season is exceptionally late this year.

No Home Garden. Last year there were 36,400 farms in Indiana which had no home gardens.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

As always, we at the Quiz office are glad to send in your daily paper renewals. The World-Herald has just announced an advance of $1 on the daily only for a year, making the price now $6. They say this is necessary because of the ever mounting of prices of practically everything that goes into the making of a newspaper. Everything is going higher, some items already as much as fifty per cent higher than they were a few months ago.

The constantly increasing costs is a big factor in forcing the Quiz to change its policy on subscription credits. All losses must be eliminated. For many years the Quiz has extended credit. We feel now, since fast changing conditions require it, that you subscribers should cooperate with us. Look at the dates on your paper and see that it is renewed before the date of expiration.

When you take advantage of our offer of 15 months for $2 the paper costs you $1.25 less than it does when you buy it week by week at the news stand. In other words it costs you $3.25 to buy the Quiz 15 months at the news stand and by subscribing you get it 15 months for $2 if you pay in advance. Now that it is strictly a pay in advance proposition there is not much point in allowing your paper to lapse. We are not playing favorites. Everyone is being treated exactly alike.

If former Ordites who now live in other states realized the pleasure all Quiz readers get from letters, more of the former Ordites would send us letters for publication.

When you read this item I will be either on the way or at the cottage on Cullen lake, as we plan on leaving Thursday the 29th of May. As we won't hurry, we will likely get there some time Friday morning. The place will have to be unlocked, the pump primed, the gas and oil cans filled, the place aired out after many months of being closed up, then to work on varnishing the boat so we may go out as soon as possible and try to get a mess of pike or a nice northern, as we are fish hungry. I will try to give you an account of the trip next week, with early impressions of the camp.

Several members enjoyed a round of golf before the supper was spread invitingly on the big wooden tables. The committee in charge included Mrs. Olof Olsson, Miss Vera Fredericks, Miss Wilma Cochran, Mrs. Orin Kellison, Miss Eulalia Chase, Mrs. Kenneth Draper.

Something Different

First Ord was a tulip city... or was it a spirea city? So many and so beautiful, growing so profusely that we could plant a few more, set aside a day or two for festival and call ourselves Spirea-town, or something like that.

And now we are come to the iris again. I have told you before how easily they grow, how natural to our climate they seem to be. Well, once more the town is bulging with frothy iris blossoms. Some of them are topping the spiky green rows in nearly every yard.

A good many yards have half-a-dozen or so varieties. Miss Finley and her mother have beautiful iris, not satisfied to have fine tulips a couple of weeks ago.

At the L. D. Milliken home Mrs. Milliken cherishes some fifteen varieties in her backyard, affording herself and her neighbors much delight.

Down on the road to the fairgrounds you should keep an eye on the Jensen place for it is ever so attractive. The fenced in garden with little pool and bridge was gay

A long distance call brought forth news that Copron's alarm clock had failed to work and so he had missed his bus. Consequently, he also missed his sister's marriage ceremony.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leon Warner and two small children came from their home near Eriksen Saturday to spend the day with her sister, Mrs. Ralph Misko and Mr. Misko.

—Alvin Gross of Hastings was in Ord Thursday and Friday, looking after the interests of the local Food Center store. Mr. Gross is supervisor of 17 stores and spends the greater part of his time going around visiting them. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Gross of Burwell.

—County Judge and Mrs. John Andersen with Barbara and Donnie will leave Friday for Kirksville, Mo., where Dr. Laughlin will operate in hope of making Barbara more comfortable. Barbara, now 11, had polioyletisis as a five month old baby, and the operations are to move muscle tissue that is healthy and strong and graft it where it is needed to stabilize one knee and one ankle. Because her mother was a nurse and has faithfully massaged her legs, Barbara is in much better shape than she would have been otherwise and has worn no braces for a year or two. Mrs. Andersen will stay with Barbara for three weeks or so, but the Judge and Donnie will return to Ord Sunday, probably.

Ord Woman Speaks to a Burwell Group (Special to the Quiz)

Burwell—Mrs. Crawford Mortensen, departmental national defense chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, spoke at the meeting of the Auxiliary in the American Legion hall in Burwell Tuesday afternoon. Other Ordlites present were Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt, past chairman of the Forty and Eight, Mrs. Maude Cochran, past departmental president, and Mrs. John Ward. It was the annual visitors day and every member of the auxiliary brought a guest to the meeting.

The Misses Alaire Pulliam, Betty Horner, Marcella Wheeler and Marietta Udell were initiated into the organization. After the business meeting the ladies adjourned to the Congregational church where a musical program was given under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Johnson. Miss Marcella Wheeler and Paul Runyan presented saxophone solos, June Hornby a vibra harp solo, Bonnalyn Zalud a piano solo, Marietta Udell a vocal solo and Miss Betty Horner gave a reading. Miss Mae Meyers and Miss Dorothy Duncan played accompaniments for the musical numbers. After the program the hostesses, Mrs. Emily Mitchell, Mrs. Stanley Mitchell, Mrs. Wilfred Haines, Mrs. Austin Chambers and Mrs. L. D. Pierce served strawberry shortcake and coffee.

PROCLAMATION....

Decoration or Memorial Day is fixed by the laws of Nebraska as one of our holidays. It is the day of the year when we look backward rather than at the troubled present or uncertain future. On that day we live again with our loved ones who have passed away but who are still present in our memories. The decoration of their graves is the outward manifestation of the fact that they are all still remembered. Aside from this more personal side, this day has also a broader and a patriotic significance. On Memorial Day we pay proper respect to the memories of all those who have passed away in the defense of our country or who died after having had some part in that defense and we listen to the inspiring talks and music which helps keep alive in our hearts what our country really means to us.

So that we may again have a special day on which to remember our dear departed friends and relatives, pay proper respect to the departed soldiers of our land and consecrate ourselves anew to the service of our country, its freedom and best traditions, I, in company with the executives of the other cities, states and this nation, do hereby proclaim Friday, May 30, 1941, to be Decoration or Memorial day and request that as many as possible attend the special commemorative program held in Ord on that day and that the stores and other places of business close at 10 a. m., and remain closed until after the services are completed.

M. B. CUMMINS
MAYOR OF ORD, NEBRASKA

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

News of the marriage of Carla Rasmussen to Irvin Van Horn, both formerly of North Loup, has reached our relatives here. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rasmussen, formerly of Scotia, and now living in the state of Washington. She is a graduate of the Scotia schools and accompanied her parents when they moved to Washington two years ago. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Van Horn who moved to Iowa in March. He graduated from the North Loup school in '35 and for a time attended the Nebraska University, later going to Marshalltown, Ia., where he was employed as an electrician. About a year ago he secured a civil service job with the census bureau in Washington. His bride met him in Washington, D. C. and they were married at the Baptist church by Rev. Abernethy, on May 6. They are at home in an apartment in the capitol city.

Mrs. A. L. Sims has been sick the past week with kidney infection but is improving at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sheldon and son and Mrs. Huldah Goodrich, Merna, Irma and Thelma spent Sunday at the Henry Bridge home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson arrived Friday and Friday evening left for a three months' trip, their first destination being Denver.

W. H. Vodehnal, W. W. Wills, Cloyd Ingerson and H. L. Gillespie spent Monday at Ericson fishing.

Twenty-two FFA boys, Robert Hammond and four other drivers went to Omaha early Friday morning to spend the day. They visited the South Omaha Stockyards, the Crowell Elevator, Union Station, Swift and company and the Grain Exchange. They returned late Friday evening.

Dr. Hemphill accompanied Mrs. Hemphill to Pawhuska, Okla., last Thursday evening, returning Saturday. Both attended the graduation of their grandson, William Hemphill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hemphill. The Hemphill family was well represented on the platform at the graduation. Billie was president of his class, Dr. George Hemphill, president of the school board, and had a part on the program while Dorothy Hemphill was a member of the quartet which sang. Mrs. Hemphill remained in Pawhuska for a few days.

Members of the Legion and Auxiliary met Monday night at the Legion hall to make final arrangements for the Memorial day services to be held Friday at the cemetery. The services are to be at 10:00 and will begin with the professional, led by the band and followed by the flower girls. After soldiers' graves are decorated Commander Frank Schudel will have charge of the program. Frances Goodrich will give "Flanders Field" and Dale Mulligan the Gettysburg Address. Rev. A. C. Ehrhart will deliver a short address which will be followed by the Tribute to the Unknown Soldier, Salute to the Dead, Taps and the Benediction by Rev. Adams.

Mrs. A. H. Brink arrived from Scranton, Pa., on the Monday evening bus and plans to dispose of her household goods before returning. Robert Hammond is living in her house and will move away during the summer.

Mrs. Robert Hammond is spending several days with her people in Fullerton.

Mrs. Wayne King, Mrs. Albert Haught and the Will Earnest family spent Friday in Ord.

Mrs. D. S. Bohrer expects to continue with the insurance business which Mr. Bohrer had maintained for some time. Mrs. Bohrer had helped him a great deal with the work since his health had been failing and the companies have agreed to make her the agent.

Sunday afternoon callers on Mrs. D. S. Bohrer were Mrs. Anna Krebs, Mrs. Jake Everett and Mrs. J. H. Sautter, all of Scotia.

Mrs. Victor Cook spent Friday with her mother, Mrs. D. S. Bohrer, Ellora Jane who had spent the week with Mrs. Bohrer returned home with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worrell, Mr. and Mrs. Bates Copeland and Maxine and Berniece Wilson went to Trumbull Sunday to see the peonies and to Hastings where they were dinner guests in the Leon Copeland home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ingerson, Birdine and Willard, the Cloyd Ingerson and Irving King families went to Rose Sunday to spend the day with the Van Creager family.

John Greene of Grand Island spent Monday with his mother, Mrs. Leila Greene.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins returned Sunday from Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Sheldon and son Bobby, of Kansas City were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Sheldon, and other relatives, several days last week. Friday, accompanied by Mrs. L. R. Sheldon, they went to Kearney and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sheldon. The Ross Sheldons of Denver were also in Kearney at that time. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nelson and boys went over for the day too and David remained for a longer stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moore of Omaha were in North Loup a short time Thursday on their way to Burwell where they were going to attend his brother's funeral.

Mrs. Oyce Naeve is spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ingraham. She plans to go to California soon for a short vacation.

Myles Nelson accompanies C. B. Clark to Ord each morning to take his parents for his eyes from Dr. Parkins. He comes back on the motor.

Members of the school district 46 held a picnic in the Ord park on Sunday. Mary Frances Manchester and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Manchester were among those who went.

Guests of Mrs. Anna Crandall at lunch Tuesday to celebrate her birthday were Mrs. Ches. Johnson and Eva, Mrs. Reuben Athey, Mrs. Bert Cornell, Mable Lee and Mrs. Elmer Williams. Mrs. Crandall left Wednesday for Brookfield, Mo. for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie went to Tobias Wednesday and remained till Thursday. They went to attend the graduation of a niece of Mr. Gillespie's.

Gladys McMIndes was down from Atkinson Thursday night. Anna Belle McMIndes returned with her Friday and will have work in Atkinson.

The Joe Armstrong's and Harold Jackson's of Farwell were Thursday evening guests in the A. L. McMIndes home coming up to attend the commencement exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger entertained the Dinner-Bridge club at their home Tuesday night. This was the last meeting of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman went to Julesburg, Colo., Monday afternoon after Mrs. Merrill Sample and two children who will visit here for a time. They returned Monday night.

Mike Whalen celebrated his 74th birthday Sunday with a family supper. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman and the Ross Williams family.

About forty women attended the inter-denominational fellowship luncheon last Tuesday at one o'clock in the parlors of the Seventh Day Baptist church. Mrs. R. O. Babcock, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Mrs. Edwin Miller and Mrs. John Manchester were hostesses for the luncheon which was served cafeteria and for which all furnished. Mrs. G. L. Hutchins was in charge of the program, the theme for which was United Effort.

Ward Stewart of Washington, D. C., arrived Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday, in company with his mother, Mrs. W. T. Hutchins, he left for Eugene, Ore., where he will be married. Mrs. Hutchins will return by train in about ten days.

Herb East of Lincoln was in North Loup on business Wednesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Helbig of Douglas, Wyo., were guests of relatives here Tuesday and Wednesday. They had been to Edison, to see Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helbig, who are at the home of Mrs. Helbig's mother, Mrs. Rich and where Mr. Helbig is convalescing.

Word from Mrs. A. G. Springer, who went to Illinois recently says that she has secured work in a nursing home at Bennington which is only six miles from Algonquin where the Ford Eyrlys live.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Halverson came over from Broken Bow Monday and are at the home of Mrs. Geo. S. Mayo.

Mrs. Anna Watts of Grand Island and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Watts of Hastings were Sunday dinner guests in the Martin Watts home.

Rev. A. C. Ehrhart took his Sab-bath school class of boys and girls to the chalk hills Monday for a picnic. The boys spent the time fishing.

Mrs. Tony Preston came home from Exeter on the Monday evening bus. She had been down to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irma Baker to attend the graduation exercises. One of Mrs. Baker's daughters was a graduate. Mrs. Preston was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jackson, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Tom Williams came down from Ord Thursday evening to attend commencement. Mr. and Mrs. Jackman took her home after the services.

Ord Township Library Notes. The Saturday morning children's hour has been discontinued until in July. We wish to thank Mrs. Tolen for the time she has so graciously given us to help make the story hour a success.

Dr. G. A. Parkins has given the library a copy of his book "Handicaps in Reading." Thank you, Dr. Parkins.

The current issue of the Atlantic Monthly has an article in it by Anne Lindbergh, called "Reaffirmation." If any of you disagreed with her book, "Wave of the Future," you might enjoy reading this article.

Ord Legion Juniors Win Game from Plain Valley

The Ord Legion Junior baseball team went to Plain Valley Sunday afternoon and won a fine game from the Plain Valley team, which consisted largely of older and more experienced men. When it is considered that all the Legion Junior boys are under 17 years, it means a lot to win from an older team.

The final score was 10 to 6, with Jerry Fryzek and Darrell Johnson pitching for Ord and Otto Marsh catching. Falk of Ericson held the Ord boys to 3 hits for the first 7 innings. Kizer, Patrick and one of the Lockhart brothers finished, while the other Lockhart caught the whole game.

In addition to pitching a fine game for 6 2-3 innings, Fryzek was the batting hero of the day, with three out of five times at bat, one of them a home run. All the Ord boys showed the never-give-up spirit that wins ball games. Plain Valley will come to Ord for a return game next Sunday.

The Ord starting lineup Sunday was as follows: Fryzek, pitcher; Marsh, catcher; Alex Cochran, first; Johnson, second; Frank Misko, third; Donald Peterson, shortstop; Bill Malolepszy, left field; Junior Wilson, center field; Ray Vogeltanz, right field. Bill Novosad will join the boys this week and will probably be starting pitcher Sunday.

Ila Ackles Is Married to Everett E. Williams

At 8:00 a. m. Saturday at the Evangelical parsonage in North Loup occurred the marriage of Ila Ackles, of Comstock, to Everett E. Williams, of Ord, in the presence of their parents and a few guests.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ackles, was a 1936 graduate of Arcadia high school and has since been a successful teacher in rural schools of that community. Mr. Williams was graduated from Ord high school in 1938. He has since done farm work at Brady and North Platte, and since September has worked at Mrs. Lydia Koelling's where he and his bride will live in a comfortable trailer home. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Williams.

After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served at the home of the bride's father. Centerpiece of the table was a beautifully decorated 4-tier cake with candles. Besides the wedding party, Miss Grace Sheppard and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruickshank of Arcadia were guests.

Sunday evening, and again Monday evening, about 60 relatives attended receptions for them at the John Williams home and they received many handsome and useful gifts. They will move soon to their new home.

LeRoy Fraziers Honored

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Frazier have been the inspiration for several pleasant gatherings since they came for a visit a few days ago. Tuesday noon they were invited to the Joe Ulrich home for dinner, and that evening they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bartunek at their country home. Monday they drove to St. Paul to see a sister of Mrs. Frazier's, and Thursday evening they will be guests at the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Draper are giving for them.

Party Postponed

Delta Deck club postponed the usual winner-loser luncheon which was scheduled for Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Albert Jones. The very serious illness of Mrs. Weppner, the mother of Mrs. Ed Whelan was the reason for the delay.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ranz, of Overton, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to Lloyd W. Rusk, deputy county clerk, of Ord. Miss Ranz has been a kindergarten teacher in West Lawn school, Grand Island, for the past seven years. The marriage will take place some time in June.

K. C.'s Will Elect

The annual election of officers of the Knights of Columbus will be held the next regular meeting which will be Thursday, June 5. Originally planned for June 3, the meeting has been postponed due to conflicting events on Tuesday.

Odd Alimony

Rather than enter a legal row with her divorced husband over alimony, Mrs. Bertha Ross told an Omaha, Neb., court that they had reached a settlement. Every time she happens to meet him downtown, he will pay her whatever money he has in his pockets.

Mrs. Ray Atkinson was hostess Friday evening at her home for Miss Twila Brickner, who is soon to become the bride of Glen Stroud of Kearney. A miscellaneous shower featured the party.

Birthday Surprise

A group of friends pleasantly surprised Mrs. Raymond Huribert Wednesday evening in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in playing cards and visiting. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knecht, Mr. and Mrs. David Dobberstein, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maslonka. Mr. and Mrs. William Eberle, jr., of Burwell were unable to attend. Mrs. Huribert received many lovely gifts. At a late hour a delicious lunch was served.

Ord Pinochle

The Ord Pinochle club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. James Patska. Mrs. Ray Mella played for Mrs. Will Treplow and Mrs. E. L. Voegtanz for Mrs. Anna Socha. Mrs. John Ulrich won the high prize and Mrs. Guy LeMasters low. Mrs. Mella won the door prize. The final meeting of the year will be held with Mrs. Ulrich June 10.

Cochranes Entertain

For dinner Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cochran invited as their guests Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kovanda and Elizabeth and Keith. Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Tolley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deines.

Kovandas Honored

A group of girls were hostesses Thursday evening at a dancing party honoring Elizabeth Kovanda and Joyce Clark. The young ladies were the Misses Irene Auble, Darlene Carlson, Jean Carlson, Beverly Davis, Phyllis Dodge, Alberta Flynn, Patricia Frazier, Loren Meese, Mary Miller, Geraldine Noll, Margaret Patska, Norma Radliff and Kathryn Work. The party was given at the Knights of Columbus hall, where the long fluffy dresses of the girls made lovely spots of color, and the parents of the young hostesses acted as chaperones. A Victrola provided the music.

Wednesday evening a theater party has been arranged by their friends for both Elizabeth and Keith Kovanda.

Island Populated by Cats

Frigate Island, a low coral rock with hardly any vegetation, 500 miles northeast of Mauritius in the Indian ocean, is populated by hundreds of thousands of cats. They live in burrows and are extremely savage. Their food is fish which they catch at night by forming a wide semi-circle just before low water, and cutting off all the fish left in pools and channels as the tide ebbs. The cats are said to be descended from a number of cats which landed on this 'Isle of Cats' after a shipwreck many years ago.

You, and each of you, will take notice that on the 19th day of May, 1941, Lois Finley filed her Petition in the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, against you, and each of you, the object and prayer of which is to exclude the Defendants in said action, and each and all of them, from any and all claim, lien, interest or title in and to the above described property and to quiet and confirm the title of the Plaintiff therein as against said Defendants and for general equitable relief. Due Order for Service by Publication in said action has been made in said Court.

You are required to answer said Petition on or before the 30th day of June, 1941. Dated this 19th day of May, 1941. Lois Finley, Plaintiff, May 21-41

Nebraska State Bank Making Improvements

Modernization of the interior of the Nebraska State bank began last week with E. Hower and Foot Harris applying a new ceiling of celotex which not only presents a handsome appearance but also absorbs echoes and thereby improves acoustics of the rooms. The high railing in front of the tellers' cages is being shortened also, and the walls will be painted in a lighter color. Cost of the redecoration will be about $400, Cashier Emil Fafeita estimated.

Lots of Food

More than $2,000,000 worth of food products were shipped into New York city in 1939.

FROM THE 1940 ANNUAL REPORT "The wide public acceptance of Phillips products is reflected in an unbroken record of increased sales each year since marketing activities began in 1927. During 1940, total sales of finished products amounted to 1,174,000,000 gallons. The increase of 66,000,000 gallons over 1939 volumes represented a greater percentage gain than for the industry as a whole." K. S. ADAMS, President FRANK PHILLIPS, Chairman

Off the Beaten Path

In 1927, only an idea... today, sales of more than a billion gallons a year.

In 1927, Phillips 66 was the name of an innovation in motor fuel, a gasoline off the beaten path. Today, 66 million is the 1940 increase in gallons over the sales for 1939.

From the beginning, Phillips has devoted itself to producing and delivering "greater value for the money." From the beginning, Phillips has never hesitated to step from the beaten path in search of any product improvement which might give finer performance or money savings to motorists.

A company, and a product, which have grown so swiftly in so short a time must have supplied special benefits to car owners, must have given extra value to win such rapid recognition.

First to offer high test gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel... first to match gasoline to weather... first to offer at all its stations the extra-powered gasoline resulting from the patented POLYmerization process...

Phillips is a leader in research, ready at all times to leave the beaten path to make Phillips 66 an unexcelled gasoline in its price class.

On this record, and on this determination, we sincerely believe today's summer-grade Phillips 66 Poly Gas merits a trial by every car owner. We invite you to stop for a trial tankful... at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Old Settlers Picnic Plans Going Forward

Following the invitation of the Ord Chamber of Commerce to the Old Settlers of the Loup Valley to hold their annual picnic in Bussett Park at Ord this year, interested parties all up and down the valley are voicing their approval of the location.

With the promise of a crop this year, and with everything at the park looking better than it has for a long time, it is believed that many more will attend this year than have in the past. Large delegations will attend from Taylor, Burwell, North Loup and Scotia, with quite a number from other towns in the territory.

The day has been set at June 22, the fourth Sunday of June, upon which day it has been held for several years. Families will bring their basket dinners, and there will be enough extra to take care of any single people who wish to come. Other arrangements about the dinner will be mentioned in the Quiz a little later.

In the past there has been considerable misunderstanding as to just what constitutes an old settler. The term includes the few original settlers still remaining, their descendants and any others who have lived in the valley for a considerable number of years. No one is excluded from attending, but special honor is paid to those who have lived here the greatest length of time.

C. O. Ike Will Solicit Children's Home Funds

Carl O. Ike, of Lincoln, field representative for the Nebraska Children's Home Society in this district, will be here very shortly for the annual solicitation of donations.

The Society is a private agency licensed by the state for the care and placement of normal children of all ages, regardless of race or creed. It is statewide in its service and supported almost entirely by voluntary donations. It does not receive tax funds.

The work of the Society is well known in Valley county from which a large number of children has been taken for care and placement. Also a large number of babies and older children have been placed in good homes here. Since the Society was organized in 1893, seventy-five children in this county have been cared for.

Members of the local board are Mrs. Walter Noll, Mrs. Crawford J. Mortenson and Dr. Glen Auble.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ollis and Evelyn and Marilyn drove to Hastings on Monday to meet Catherine, who is to be married June 18 to John W. McPheeters, Jr.

The five groups of Ord Camp Fire girls were hostesses Saturday to a Loup valley play day in which 51 visiting girls joined with the local 52 Camp Fire girls and their guardians to carry out a program under the direction of Mrs. Roy Magill of Holdrege, the state field director. The main theme of the program was nature study which was presented in a variety of ways. After the girls registered at the high school gymnasium they all hiked out to Anderson's Island. There they divided into nine "bands," each of which was responsible for their own fire and clean-up project at which Mrs. Magill demonstrated the outdoor cooking of a "stick-meal." The menu consisted of two "angels-on-horseback" and one "heavenly delight" supplemented with fresh fruit and vegetables brought from home. This was one meal at which no one dared to complain of the fare served them or the quality of the cooking, for each girl did her own and got credit for its being good or bad. After the noon meal during the "rest period" on a pleasant sandbar the girls were taught to make summer mats out of cat-tail rushes which after proper weaving and finishing at the ends can be shelacked at home to use on porch or veranda. Then they organized for a Nature scavenger hunt for 25 items which taught everyone something new in the study of trees, wild flowers and weeds. After the return hike to the gymnasium the girls checked on their collections of stones and greenery and found many right and wrong items in their possession, ranging from false Solomon's seal to wild onion. Through proper identification beforehand no one gathered poison ivy, and many were surprised to learn what giant ragweed, dandelion bloom and buck brush looks like. At an "I" game Darlene Puncchar, a local Camp Fire girl, won the prize with 39 stones, the prize being a nature booklet on butterflies. At the nature scavenger hunt Geneva Wallace, a Broken Bow girl, won with 24 items a prize of a nature booklet on insects. The Camp Fire girls of Ansley came accompanied by Mrs. Edna Chandler, their guardian, Mrs. Edna Anderson, the assistant guardian, and Mrs. Beulah Gardner, their sponsor. One group of the Scotia Camp Fire girls came up in the "station wagon" accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Stillman, their guardian, and the assistant, Miss Wauweta Burns. From Broken Bow the Camp Fire girls came with Mrs. H. A. Schroeder, their guardian. The Camp Fire girls of all three groups from Burwell came to Ord accompanied by Mrs. Carmen Hornby, Miss Virginia Beck, and Miss Mae Meyers, the guardians. The local guardians were all present: Mrs. A. Cochrane of Awakia, Mrs. Ed Gnaster of Checkamam, Mrs. E. L. Kokes of Soangetaha, Mrs. F. J. Osentowski of Tawanka, and Mrs. John Andersen of Eluta. Mrs. Schroeder of Broken Bow brought her girls prepared with drums to help present an Indian dance under her direction, in which all the girls joined. The arrangements at Ord were made by Mrs. Kokes, the local secretary, and Mrs. Magill prepared the program. By 3:45 there were 103 rather dusty and very tired girls ready to pick up their belongings and call it a day. They plan to have another such meet next year, built around some other phase of Camp Fire work.

21 Win Diplomas at North Loup, Honor Awards Made to Six Young People

Graduation exercises held Thursday night in the Seventh Day Baptist church marked the finish of high school work for twenty-one students.

Mrs. W. G. Johnson and Mrs. A. H. Babcock played the processional on the piano and organ which ushered in the senior class, faculty and school board who were led by the junior class.

Audrey Babcock, accompanied by Muriel Hamer, sang "At Sunset," and Winsome Meyers played a clarinet solo, "Concerta." Clifford Barnes gave the salutatorian's address and Dorothy Brannon played a piano solo, "Gypsy Rondo." Albert Babcock then gave the valedictorian's address.

Rev. A. C. Ehret was the speaker of the evening, speaking on Gold Seekers. Following his address Clair Barber played, Willow Echoes as a trumpet solo. Supt. Willis then presented the class and R. H. Knapp, president of the board of education gave out the diplomas.

Awards and scholarships were presented by Supt. Willis. Albert Babcock was given a regents scholarship to the state university and Clifford Barnes, one to any of the state normal colleges. Winsome Meyers and Harold Van Horn tied for third place and were very close to Clifford Barnes and a scholarship good in any of the state colleges in Nebraska was divided between them. Charles Klinger who was next in scholastic standing received a scholarship good in either Hastings Business College or North Platte School of Commerce.

For a number of years medals have been given by the North Loup schools. This year Albert Babcock was given the scholarship medal. A medal for activities, awarded the student outstanding in activities, music, athletics, and all extra-curricular activities and this also went to Albert Babcock. The third medal for outstanding athletic work was awarded Arnold Leonard.

The exercises closed with a bass horn solo by Albert Babcock. Rev. Andrew Olsen gave the invocation and the benediction.

The motto of the class was Build For Character, Not For Fame, and this motto in blue and white made a fitting background for the blue and white streamers and the many flowers on the stage of the church. As always the church was filled with friends and relatives of the graduates to wish them well on their graduation.

On Wednesday night at the school house the eighth grade graduation exercises were held, there being only eight graduates from this class four girls and four boys. Of these Gwendolyn Eberhart had the highest average and Donald Babcock was a close second. All students passed the county examinations with an average of eighty or above and three of the class had perfect attendance records. They presented a short play and gave their class history in a very unique way. Each student had pictures of his life which he placed on a flannel board placing his name and date of birth first and all important events to the present and what the future should be. Marcia Rood is teacher of this room. After the program the seventh and eighth grade students had a party in their room.

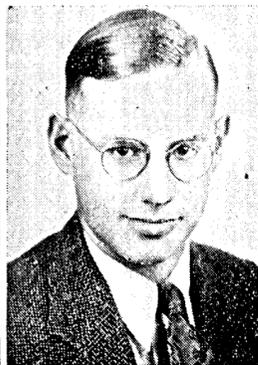

Thursday morning awards and letters were given out in the high school. Letters for football were awarded to Dean Adams, Dale Athelm, Albert Babcock, Carroll Babcock, Iradell Babcock, Clifford Barnes, Lyle Cox, Maynard Desel, Dale Gilmore, Virgil Nold, Martin Sonnefeldt, Arthur Watts, George Waller. For basketball, to Dean Adams, Albert Babcock, Clifford Barnes, Lyle Cox, Edward Hudson, Grover Jorgensen, Arnold Leonard, Dale Mulligan, Virgil Nold and George Waller. Nine boys were given Varsity belt buckles: Clifford Barnes, Robert DeNoyer, Maynard Desel, Dale Gilmore, Edward Hudson, son, Donald Hutchins, Charles Klinger, Dale Mulligan and Martin Sonnefeldt. Five were awarded letters for track. They were Albert Babcock, Robert DeNoyer, Dale Gilmore, Arnold Leonard and Dale Mulligan. Winsome Meyers was awarded a certificate for perfect attendance and Grace Manchester, Frances Goodrich and Esther Smith were given certificates for cheerleaders. Forensic pins which come from the National Speech Honorary Society were given to Grace Manchester, Frances Goodrich and Albert Babcock.

School closed Friday with the PTA picnic which was held at the school house. Mrs. Howard Barnes, Mrs. Clark Roby and Mrs. Don Talbert prepared the dinner which was served cafeteria style in the music room.

Thursday afternoon the third and fourth grades with their teacher, Agnes Manchester and a number of parents went to the Scotia recreation park where they enjoyed an afternoon of fun finished with a Weiner roast and ice cream.

The same afternoon the first and second grades went to school dressed in long dresses, high heels, rouge and lipstick. Each took a sack lunch and after an hour or two of fun were dismissed for the summer. Miss Jeffries reports that the high standing students in her room are Sylvia Ingerson for the first grade and Connie Eberhart for the second. In the third grade Joe Babcock, Barbara Hudson and Lyle

HAROLD VAN HORN

McMindes were highest. In the fourth grade, Beverly Goodrich, Beiva and Phyllis Babcock tied in the sixth grade while Myles Nelson was highest in the fifth. Donna Manchester was highest in the seventh grade and Gwen Eberhart in the eighth. In the grades those having perfect attendance records were Donna Portis, Donald Babcock, and Boyd Cox, Loren Walkup, Ronald Goodrich and Evelyn Hamer.

The first year typing class had practical experience in their shorthand and typing the last two weeks of school when Mrs. Elley got them jobs down town where they did secretarial work. Grace Manchester and Frances Goodrich worked at the bank and Mary Babcock, Marjorie Brown and Virginia Kerr at the Loyalist office. Of the first year, Muriel Hamer has the highest speed test and Harriet Manchester was second. In the first year class Mary Babcock and Frances Goodrich were highest and Velma Jacobs and Max Sims second.

Mr. and Mrs. Elley moved Saturday to their new home and on Monday left for a few days in South Dakota before going on to Los Angeles where he will attend summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis will be here till June 6 when they will go to Fremont. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn will spend most of the summer in North Loup.

Miss Rood and Mrs. Manchester will also spend their summer here while Miss Porter will go to her home in Byron, Ill. Miss Jeffries left Saturday to be married and Miss Green went to her home in Sterling, Colo.

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Sorghums Still Worthwhile. All reports indicate that the abundant rains this spring may mean a smaller acreage of sorghums in Nebraska. Last year, the sorghum area hit a record of more than two million acres.

But in spite of more favorable moisture farmers in Valley county and throughout the state do well to continue to plant a considerable acreage in this crop that helped so many farmers pull through the drought years, in the opinion of D. L. Gross, extension agronomist at the Nebraska college of agriculture.

On many of the sloping fields in Valley county, the subsoil is moist to a depth of less than 30 inches. Corn planted on such soil is apt to be badly damaged or destroyed again by a brief dry spell during the summer, because there is not enough reserve moisture.

"Spring rains do not guarantee summer rains," the agronomist comments. "Where an adequate supply of soil moisture is not available, it seems only logical that we plant a goodly acreage of both the grain and forage sorghums again this year."

For central Nebraska, Leoti sorgo is the best forage variety for dry land. Early Kalo, Day Milo, and Sooner Milo are the most reliable grain sorghums. Eastward, Atlas Sorgo is superior for fodder and because of the possible chinch bug damage, the Club, Pink, and Blackbull kafirs are best for grain.

In western Nebraska, the Leoti, Early Sunac, and Black Amber are the best fodder or silage types. Sooner Milo, Coes, and Highland are the most reliable grain sorghums.

No farm should be without a sufficient acreage of sweet sorgos to supply the fodder and silage needs. No other crop will produce the high tonnage of palatable feed obtainable from the better varieties of sweet sorghums.

Sweet sorghums are usually planted in 40 to 42 inch rows at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds of seed per acre. Grain sorghums are often planted too thickly. Two to four pounds of seed are sufficient. Planters should be carefully calibrated to determine the exact rate of planting. Placing the seed about four inches apart in the row makes a good planting for grain sorghums in central Nebraska. Slightly thicker planting for eastern Nebraska and thinner seeding for western Nebraska is advisable.

Sorghums are best planted in late May or early June. Plowing or listing the ground early and working to destroy a crop of weeds before planting helps greatly to establish uniform stands.

All sorghum seed should be treated with copper carbonate dust to destroy smut.

Planter and Lister Adjustments. Proper rate of planting is virtually as important as high quality seed in getting high yields of grain and forage sorghums, as many farmers have learned through practical experience.

County Extension Agent Dale passes on some suggestions received from E. A. Olson, assistant extension engineer at the Nebraska college of agriculture, that may help in adjusting planters and listers to get uniform sorghum stands.

Rev. Adams came home from the Evangelical conference at Hastings Friday night to perform the wedding ceremony. He returned Saturday morning accompanied by Mrs. Adams and Miss Edna Boettger. All returned home Sunday evening. North Loup people will be glad to know that Rev. Adams was returned to the church here for another year.

Other Mira Valley people who went to Hastings Sunday for the services included the Harry Foth family, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cook, Ed Cook, and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Kooling and son. Rev. and Mrs. Nathan Thomas came up from Hastings Saturday night and were guests in the Merrill Kooling home. They have been living at Winslow and will be transferred to Eddyville.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins went to Omaha Thursday to spend a few days with the George Hutchins family. Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock accompanied them for a visit with her daughter, Kathrine. She planned to go on to Lincoln to spend a few days with the Edwin Babcock family before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz drove to Fullerton Saturday morning taking Hazel Stevens to her home. She will attend summer school in Kearney this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Bartz were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carpenter till Sunday afternoon. While away they went to Genoa fishing. Mr. Carpenter is recovering from the accident which he suffered several months ago but is still under the doctors care.

While attempting to pass another car on the Preston corner Thursday night, Max Sims tipped over, wrecking the car he was driving quite badly. No one was seriously injured although all the five occupants of the car were shaken and bruised.

Richard Bartz, Merle Curtis and Don Paddock came up from Omaha Saturday afternoon and returned Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Don Paddock and Lyle Smith who have been guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, for two weeks accompanied them home.

Members of the Methodist choir and their families enjoyed a picnic and Weiner roast near the Scotia bridge Friday night.

Miss Annie Sink of Grand Island was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willis.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Lille of Fremont arrived Monday for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. Willis.

Myrtle Green went to North Platte Saturday to spend a few days with friends. She will return here before going on to her home at Sterling, Colo.

Eighth grade students assisted by the seventh grade students made posters for Poppy day. Carol Leonard won first prize and Merna Van Horn second. The posters were displayed in the windows of the business houses

Last week, Donna Manchester and Gwendolyn Eberhart had charge of the Poppy sales.

Mrs. R. L. Dunham went to Ord Friday evening to spend a few days with Dr. and Mrs. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weed and two daughters of Green River, Wyo., arrived Saturday for a week's visit with his mother, Mrs. Fanny Weed and other relatives.

Tuesday Mr. Weed took Mrs. Weed and the girls and Venetta and Ila Roby to Woodriver to spend a few days with Mrs. Weeds mother, Mrs. John Manners.

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Sorghums Still Worthwhile. All reports indicate that the abundant rains this spring may mean a smaller acreage of sorghums in Nebraska. Last year, the sorghum area hit a record of more than two million acres.

But in spite of more favorable moisture farmers in Valley county and throughout the state do well to continue to plant a considerable acreage in this crop that helped so many farmers pull through the drought years, in the opinion of D. L. Gross, extension agronomist at the Nebraska college of agriculture.

On many of the sloping fields in Valley county, the subsoil is moist to a depth of less than 30 inches. Corn planted on such soil is apt to be badly damaged or destroyed again by a brief dry spell during the summer, because there is not enough reserve moisture.

"Spring rains do not guarantee summer rains," the agronomist comments. "Where an adequate supply of soil moisture is not available, it seems only logical that we plant a goodly acreage of both the grain and forage sorghums again this year."

For central Nebraska, Leoti sorgo is the best forage variety for dry land. Early Kalo, Day Milo, and Sooner Milo are the most reliable grain sorghums. Eastward, Atlas Sorgo is superior for fodder and because of the possible chinch bug damage, the Club, Pink, and Blackbull kafirs are best for grain.

In western Nebraska, the Leoti, Early Sunac, and Black Amber are the best fodder or silage types. Sooner Milo, Coes, and Highland are the most reliable grain sorghums.

No farm should be without a sufficient acreage of sweet sorgos to supply the fodder and silage needs. No other crop will produce the high tonnage of palatable feed obtainable from the better varieties of sweet sorghums.

Sweet sorghums are usually planted in 40 to 42 inch rows at the rate of 5 to 6 pounds of seed per acre. Grain sorghums are often planted too thickly. Two to four pounds of seed are sufficient. Planters should be carefully calibrated to determine the exact rate of planting. Placing the seed about four inches apart in the row makes a good planting for grain sorghums in central Nebraska. Slightly thicker planting for eastern Nebraska and thinner seeding for western Nebraska is advisable.

Sorghums are best planted in late May or early June. Plowing or listing the ground early and working to destroy a crop of weeds before planting helps greatly to establish uniform stands.

All sorghum seed should be treated with copper carbonate dust to destroy smut.

Planter and Lister Adjustments. Proper rate of planting is virtually as important as high quality seed in getting high yields of grain and forage sorghums, as many farmers have learned through practical experience.

County Extension Agent Dale passes on some suggestions received from E. A. Olson, assistant extension engineer at the Nebraska college of agriculture, that may help in adjusting planters and listers to get uniform sorghum stands.

Seed of high germination is not enough, it should be carefully planted to eliminate large and small kernels. Uniform stands can be obtained much easier if graded seed is planted.

Most crops are planted at the rate of a given number of pounds per acre. However, we find that the size of seed of the different sorghum varieties varies considerably. Some varieties have 12,000 seeds per pound while others have as many as 30,000. A more uniform rate for sorghum planting is possible if a given number of seeds are dropped for each foot of length in the row.

When using seed of high visibility, it has been found that only about one-half of the kernels planted will produce a plant. Therefore it is necessary to plant about twice as many seeds to obtain the correct number of plants. The number of plants vary, depending on the variety of sorghum, whether grain or forage, and for the different regions of the state.

Every farmer could insure himself if he would check the rate of planting of his planter or lister. A little time spent in this manner may mean the difference between success and failure. The following method can be used for checking the rate of planting:

1. Block the drive wheel of the lister or planter off the floor.

2. Measure the circumference of the drive wheel and record this in feet.

3. Place seed in the box, engage the seed-shaft clutch, and turn the drive wheel several times after the seed begins to come through.

4. Place a pan under the seed tube. Make 10 revolutions of the drive wheel, catching the seed in the pan.

5. Count the seeds in the pan. Divide the number of seed by 10 times the circumference of the drive wheel (in feet). The result will be the approximate number of seeds that would be planted per foot of travel.

The rates of planting will vary for different parts of the state. Recommendations for counties can be obtained through the County Extension Agent. Most information on adjusting planters and listers can be obtained in Circular 64, Adjusting Planters and Listers for Sorghum planting.

10 Room Modern House - All Household Goods

This house is completely modern with full basement, a big hot air furnace with 28 inch fire box—an easy heater—5 big bedrooms and bathroom upstairs, an entrance hall, sitting room, kitchen and three other big rooms downstairs.

Part of the floors and woodwork in this house are of hard wood and the house is well constructed.

A few months ago a portion of the roof was damaged by fire but all the walls are intact and cost of repairing it in tip-top conditions would be very low, considering the value of the house.

This house will make an ideal residence property, is well located on one of the best residential streets in Ord, or could be converted into a four-family apartment house.

It will be sold subject to the unpaid taxes against it, with the buyer assuming all tax obligations.

THIS HOUSE POSITIVELY WILL BE SOLD TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER AT THIS AUCTION.

Complete Outfit of Household Goods

Consisting of parlor and dining room furniture, chairs, rockers, beds, springs and mattresses, stoves, rugs and carpets and everything in the furniture line used to furnish a big family house.

Cancer Victim
Is Laid to Rest

(Special to The Quiz)
Burwell—Funeral services for Dr. Clifton Carter, 61, who died in Dr. Cram's hospital last Tuesday were conducted by Lyman Kern in the Methodist church at Burwell Thursday afternoon. The local Masons had charge of the services at the grave in the Kent cemetery.

A male quartet composed of Dr. H. W. Wood, J. E. Ham, Lloyd Alderman and Tom Banks, sang. The church was filled with people whose friendship Dr. Carter had made in the earlier years of his life. A representation of the Elks lodge from Grand Island was in attendance. The floral tributes were the most beautiful ones which have been seen in Burwell for several years.

Dr. Carter, who never married, is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Louis Boby and Mrs. Marcella Smith. He was born in Hardwick, Vt., June 22, 1879 and when six years old came with his parents to Loup county, Nebr., where the family played an active role in the development of the country. They built the Pavilion hotel in Taylor.

In 1892 they moved to Tekamah where Dr. Carter graduated from high school in 1898. In the same year he entered the University of Nebraska from which he received his bachelor of arts degree four years later. In 1902 he returned to Loup county where he farmed for two years. When the late Thomas H. Doran was elected to the state legislature he became his secretary and served in this capacity during the two terms Mr. Doran represented this district.

Next he took a civil service examination and received an appointment as an inspector in the stock yards at Kansas City. While there he enrolled in a night school, became a graduate veterinarian and secured a position with the federal bureau of animal husbandry. His work took him in many sections of the southwest. He lived in Midland, and Dalhart, Tex., Salt Lake City, U., and in many other cities. His last appointment was at Roswell, N. M.

He resigned his position about a year ago when he learned that he was afflicted with a cancer. The malady which caused his death. Three months ago he returned to the locality where he spent the earlier years of his life and entered Dr. Cram's hospital, where he was able to receive medical care and at the same time be near his sisters.

Dr. Carter was a member of the Presbyterian church, the Elks and the Shrine lodges. He was a York Rite Mason. Being a man of high native intelligence his advice was sought by many people. He was well informed on national and international affairs and followed the present day world events with apprehension. During the years he spent in the southwest he made many widely scattered friends and acquaintances who will miss him.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sweetland arrived from their home at Alliance Thursday and will spend most of the summer with Mrs. Sweetland's father, Robert Van Horn and with Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Van Horn.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Scott spent Sunday with the Harold Keeps near Cotesfield. Fourteen members of the Variety Club and Mr. Elley went to Ericson Sunday to spend the day fishing. Winsome Meyers went to Ord Monday to begin work in Millers hospital.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

March Field, Calif., May 19, 1941

To the Editor of the Quiz: No fact seems more obvious to me at this moment than that most of us are searching too diligently for someone to blame for whatever is wrong. We find fault with our representatives in government and with the qualities of our associates wherever we happen to be. All of this is well, but our problems should only begin, and not end there. Petty derogations of the Quiz occasionally find their way to me as they do to each of you, while I contend that the editors shouldn't have to shoulder the blame alone. It seems that the time is waning when the local paper was a forum of local opinion expressed by all who are willing to contribute. Some of us may make our first contributions seemingly without judgment as to the propriety of a view or the method of presenting it. But by incurring the criticisms of those who reply in the next issue, we may all gain in wisdom and force of expression.

And where are my high school classmates, all of whom are older than I? Surely there are some who are willing to add to the diversity that the editors try to offer the readers of the paper. I should like to see the time when the editors do not need to clamor for letters from those who still enjoy the Quiz. I should like to see articles and essays written for the Quiz by the people I know. Perhaps the answer coming from you will be a subconscious shrug of the shoulders with words to the effect that it would not be lucrative. To which I answer that we all consider the verb "to have" too much oftener than the verb "to be".

Now for the brass tacks of giving an account of myself. From August 17 to Sept. 23 of 1940, I spent at Chanutte Field in Illinois in what is known as recruit training. We learned to march and were duly smoked at in preliminary lectures on guard duty, parachute use, chemical warfare, etc. Quite a momentous event to me was the first morning we went to the range to use the Colt .45 pistol with real cartridges. After Chanutte Field came the six months that a class of two dozen of us spent at Parks Air College in East St. Louis, Ill., to learn to be airplane mechanics. We then came out to California about six weeks ago, those of us who were not assigned to the air base in Alaska. Here at March Field, we maintain the airplanes in flying status, rotating of course, in the performance of the menial tasks of janitor and K. P., and the more soldierly duty of airplane and hangar guard, as they need to be done.

We all get some time to nurse our pet peeves, one of the favorites being the public opinion that no one but a dogface ever volunteered into the army. People in town seem to us to search for an opening to ask us if we are from camp Haan, which is the place across the street where the draftees are kept. Maybe they think it a compliment but we don't, since all draftees look just as dogfaced to us as the most of our fellow fellows in the Air Corps.

Again, in closing, may I admonish you to ask the Quiz to print articles of your writing, and those of us who like literature can criticize one another's progress as we drive on whatever comes to mind.

Sincerely,
 Everett W. Gross

After 5 Years in Elevator Business, Johnson Retires

North Loup—After 54 years of business service in North Loup, George E. Johnson has retired. The elevator business which he at one time owned and for several years has been running for others, has been purchased by Harry J. Johnson and several associates who have already taken over the business. L. A. Axtel is in charge and Helen Munson is bookkeeper. Mr. Johnson has seen the elevator business grow from the time when a carload was 28,000 pounds to the present weight of 150,000. He has seen hard times and good times, has lived through drouth and grasshoppers. Prices on wheat in the 54 years ranged from 35c to $2.50 a bushel, on corn from 8c to $1.95 and on oats from 6c to $1.00. Mr. Johnson's health has not been the best for some time and he will spend most of his time in his yard and garden.

CHICKS.
 This week we will have a large stock of Leghorns and Reds. Chicks are still hard to get on short notice so let us have your order early.

SORGHUMS.
 We are just unloading another carload of Cane and Sudan seed this week. Several varieties of Cane, Millet and Certified Sudan are getting very scarce and we believe that long before the planting season is over some of these varieties will not be obtainable. Here are some of the varieties that we have in stock, Texas and Certified Sudan, Certified and Affidavit Atlas Sargo, Hegari, Grohoma, Kafir, Sooner Milo, Day Milo, Early Kalo, German, Common, Siberian, Hog and Jap Millet; Black Amber, Leoti Red, Sumac, Orange and Honey Drip Cane. We carry by far the largest stock of seeds in the Loup Valley.

ALFALFA.
 We have limited quantities of Hardistan, Grimm, Cossack and Dak. 12 alfalfa seed. This is a great year for getting a stand of alfalfa and there is still time to plant a field of alfalfa seed.

SEED POTATOES.
 We have a small stock of Cobler seed potatoes. Plant them soon.

HAY.
 We have about 10 ton of high grade prairie hay that we will make a very attractive price, delivered to your farm. This is really extra choice hay.

School Faculty Complete for Fall

For the first spring of the five which Superintendent C. C. Thompson has spent in Ord, not a teacher is being sought for Ord faculties for next fall. True, there may be resignations later in the summer, although a teacher must pay a $50 penalty for breaking a contract after it is once signed and turned in by the deadline date of July 10 to the school board. Mr. Thompson says that, contrary to the general impression, teachers are scarce and getting scarcer, with government and defense demands absorbing many teachers and calling for more.

Superintendent Thompson and High School Principal Stoddard plan to spend the summer quietly in Ord, keeping in close touch with school activities. Music director Henry Deines of course will be busy with a number of young musicians over the summer, and Roscoe Tolly also will remain in Ord. Mr. Reeves, who was called for the draft in March but secured a deferment, very likely will be in the aeronautics service by fall so he has no vacation plans.

Mr. Hester will work in Ord, helping District Maintenance Engineer Roy Randolph keep the highways in condition. Both Miss Bernice Slole and Miss Lillian Kidder will work for their master's degrees at the University of Nebraska and both of them have secured assistantships in English for the time they will be in Lincoln.

Miss Ruth Kernodie left immediately after school was out for California where she will visit relatives, and Miss Shavlik goes to Denver for a short visit before going to her home at Morse Bluffs. Miss Iris Krebs, home economics teacher, will necessarily spend half the summer at work in Ord, as will Edwin Rousek at his Smith-Hughes and agriculture business. Mr. Rousek fills J. A. Kovanda's position while the latter has a leave of absence. Mr. Kovanda's plans are rather uncertain as yet, he said Sunday when he was in Ord.

The summer plans of the Misses Emma Steele and Helen Prouty are not known.

At the grade school, Miss Aldean Swanson plans to go to Kearney for a few weeks' instruction. Miss Inez Swain and Miss Lucy Rowbal plan a trip east with stops at Des Moines, Zion City, Ill., and Chicago to see relatives. Miss Robinson went to her people at Primrose to spend the summer, and Miss Koch to her home at Ashton. Miss Eberspacher will go to Kansas City to see a sister. Mr. Eddy plans to summer in Ord with his family. Miss Daisy Hallen is due home from her studies at Kearney any day now.

Grand Island Will Play Football Here

Already there is a feeling that Ord's football team next fall is going to be something hot, with a number of dependable veterans bolstered by smart, agile new material to make a cracking good team. And this new fall team is not only going to perform but is going to be handsome in action, for orders for their new suits have already gone on file.

A big game on the schedule will be the opener, when on September 19 Grand Island will come to Ord to play, and so people even think, to be defeated. September 26 is an open date, but on October 3 a real game is scheduled when Ord goes to Broken Bow to play that city's best. October 10 will see Burwell trying her darndest to beat Ord on Ord's own ground, and on October 17 Ord goes to Albion to do battle with a historic enemy. On October 24 Ord will go to Havana for a tough one, and on October 31 Loup City will come to Ord for one of the usual fall struggles. November 7 Ord will go to Arcadia to play, and on November 14 Sargent will come to Ord for a football game. November 21 is an open date as yet, but the Thanksgiving game, always a big event, is scheduled to see St. Paul playing football against Ord on her home field.

Two Ord Girls Graduate from St. Francis School

Two Ord girls, Evelyn Kokes and Alyce Verstraete, are graduates of St. Francis Hospital Nursing School at Grand Island, according to an item appearing in last night's Independent.

They are members of a senior class of 24, and the services for their graduation will take place June 5. Miss Verstraete is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Verstraete, and Miss Kokes is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kokes.

Aircraft Worker Writes.
 May 24, 1941

To the Editor of the Quiz: I was just sitting here wondering what could be causing all the heat. I have a few moments left before going to work so decided to write.

I am working for the Lockheed Aircraft factory in Burbank, Calif. I started work May 28th, and aircraft work is everything I ever hoped it would be. We work eight hours a day, six days a week, receiving time and half pay on Saturdays.

It is surprising the number of Nebraska cars you find here but outside of seeing Virginia Sack in Los Angeles I haven't seen a familiar face yet. It certainly has been warm here the past three weeks. Temperatures hovering around 85

20 Sets Wheels Here for Soap Box Derby

Members of the Cosmopolitan club announce arrival of 20 sets of wheels to be used by Ord boys in building racers for use in the Soap Box Derby, which will be held under Cosmo sponsorship soon. Date will be fixed at a meeting Thursday night.

Seventeen sets of the wheels have been definitely spoken for by boys who want to build racers but three sets are still available. Cost of the wheels is paid by Ord business firms, each boy stands additional expense of building a racer which usually is slight.

Ed Gnaster is chairman of the Derby committee and can furnish information to anyone interested.

Rent is quite high here. A very small five room house rents from $45 a month on up. Royal Fredrickson is working for North American.

He is only 22 miles from here but I haven't been able to go to see him yet.

I live three miles from the Lockheed plant in Burbank where I am working. I am working on the shift from four in the afternoon to 12:30 at night so I have found that about all I have time to do is eat, sleep and work. It has its advantages though. It is much cooler to work and I manage to save a little lettuce out of the weekly payroll. I am working on the wings of the P-38. The P-38 is the fastest pursuit plane in the world at the present and I enjoy working on this place a great deal. Lockheed is hiring 150 fellows a day at the present time. They employ 25,000 workmen. I wish I could recommend some of the Ord boys to come so as there have been so many come out but I would be afraid to do so as there have been so many come out and not receive employment after driving so far for work.

The state of Kansas is well represented here also. Especially from Wichita. I haven't seen any rain since I came here but the natives are still talking about the soaking they received this winter. Glendale received 45 inches of rain. I am enclosing a picture of the P-38 for the benefit of the readers that aren't familiar with this type of plane. I wanted to take a picture of the plane myself but they won't allow cameras near the plant. The theme song at the plant is, "There Will Be Some Changes Made." I have just time to eat and go to work now so I will close. My address is 1018 Irving Ave., Glendale, Calif.

Rebekahs Will Hold District Meet Here

A district meeting of Rebekah lodge is scheduled for Ord at the I. O. O. F. hall Thursday, June 5. Representatives from Burwell, Wolbach, Ericson and North Loup will be present.

A meeting will be held at 5 p. m. which will be open to the public, and in which a memorial drill will be put on by the North Loup team. In the evening the Ericson degree team will exemplify the initiatory work.

Ford Tractor Ferguson System

We will unload a car of tractors in Burwell this week so all of you boys up in the north country had better get in the saddle, get your tractors and mowers, and be ready to take care of your hay when the proper time comes.

And say, you haven't seen anything until you see the Ford mowing outfit working off the Ferguson System the same as all other implements.

O. K., come in and get yours bought before we have any further raise in price.

Scouts Went Yesterday on Ornithological Hike

The members of Ord Troop No. 194, Boy Scouts, went for an all day ornithological hike yesterday under the leadership of Elliott McClure, assistant leader, Upland Game Survey. They went to a point two miles above Elyria and spent the day there, returning home about 5 p. m.

The hike was for the study of pheasants. There were 12 in the party, and they covered about 100 acres, looking for pheasant nests and eggs, the idea being to gain some data as to the number of pheasants this year. The boys also had an ice cream feed and a swim, and a most enjoyable time.

Knezacek Favors Limiting Senators to 5 Bills Each

Unicameral Doesn't Have Time to Give Full Consideration to Greater Number, He Says.

A limit of five on the number of bills each member of the Nebraska legislature may introduce at any session is favored by Joseph T. Knezacek, 29th district senator, he told the Rotary club of Ord in an address Monday evening.

The unicameral legislature is an improvement over the old bicameral body, Knezacek thinks, but it is humanly impossible for its 43 members to give proper consideration to an unlimited number of bills.

Highlights of the 1941 session, said Senator Knezacek, included the old age assistance bill, wherein all liquor and beer license revenues plus 1c per gallon on the gas tax fund, were appropriated for such use.

The redistricting bill, made necessary by Nebraska's loss in population during the past decade, puts Valley county in the 4th congressional district.

Senator Knezacek praised especially the fine record made by A. C. Van Diest, of Loup county, and said that Tony Asmus, of O'Neill, was a valuable legislator also.

He described the work of the unicameral in a manner interesting to all the Rotarians and said he enjoyed his first term in the senate greatly.

Mrs. Anna Weppner Dies at Ord Hospital

Mrs. Anna Weppner, mother of Mrs. Edw. Whelan, died Thursday at the Ord hospital where she had been cared for several days.

A long-time Nebraska resident, Mrs. Weppner was the widow of a prominent Omaha, Albert N. Weppner. Her home was in the Adelphi hotel, Omaha, but for several years she had followed the custom of spending summers with her daughter, Mrs. Whelan, and she became ill a few weeks after coming to the Whelan home for her summer visit.

She is mourned by two daughters, the other being Mrs. Leo Ryan, of Omaha; and by three sons, Fred, of Pittsburg, Albert and Joseph, of Cheyenne. All were with their mother when she died.

Services were held at 9:00 a. m. Monday at the Ord Catholic church with Rev. Thomas Sadowski conducting and afterward the body was taken to Omaha for interment at St. Mary Magdalene's cemetery at 4:00 p. m.

Asks Cooperation in Survey of Pheasants

Now that alfalfa mowing has started many nesting pheasants will be injured and numerous nests destroyed, says H. Elliott McClure, inspector on the upland game bird survey. Studies in Ohio have shown that 30 out of every 100 hens flushed off of nests during alfalfa mowing were killed or injured, thus removing them from further nesting, he says.

"In the investigation of pheasant nesting in Valley county we are anxious to find out what the losses are from mowing," Mr. McClure says. He asks the cooperation of farmers in accumulating the following information: 1. How many acres of alfalfa are cut. 2. How many nests were found. 3. The number of hens injured. 4. The number of eggs in each nest. 5. The number of eggs broken in each nest.

Mr. McClure's telephone number is 407, Ord, and he will appreciate receipt of this information from any and all farmers.

Garfield Co. Wins $20,000 Law Suit in U. S. Supreme Court

Burwell - (Special) - Garfield county is $20,000.00 better off financially than it was a week ago. Monday County Attorney William F. Manassil received a telegram from Washington stating that the United States Supreme Court had denied the writ of certiorari for which the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance company had applied.

Annual Estimate Again Fixes City Needs at $48,000

Council Complies with Formality Tues. Eve; Sewer Problem, Athletic Field, Discussed.

The city council, holding its June session Tuesday evening, fixed upon $48,000 as the sum necessary to raise by taxation during the coming year, this estimate being the same as was made last June though not nearly this much money was finally levied.

Estimates in the various funds are as follows: Water fund, $500; general fund, $19,000; road fund, $2,000; park fund, $2,000; cemetery fund, $2,500; fire department fund, $1,000; band fund, $600; street lighting fund, $2,500; sinking fund, $10,000; interest on bonds fund, $3,000.

Principal matter of business taken up by councilmen and Mayor M. B. Cummins Tuesday night was the problem of extending the sewer system of the city to serve a section of northwest Ord which has hitherto been without a sewer.

George Allen, the official sewer commissioner, recommended that a competent firm of engineers be employed to make a survey of the city's sewer needs, and that a sanitary or combination sanitary-storm sewer system be installed in compliance with whatever recommendations that the engineers might make.

The question of seeding the athletic field also was discussed and a committee was empowered to negotiate with owners of buffalo grass sod, which may be used. If such sod cannot be secured it was decided to seed the field to rye grass.

The city council voted to accept the bid filed by the Ord Auto Sales company and purchase a new 115 inch wheelbase Chevrolet truck, trading in the present city truck and paying a difference of $350. Three other bids were on file.

The North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district is going to have to move 13 poles between Ord and Elyria because of the new highway, it was brought out, and since the city is being paid $100 per month for maintenance of the district's power lines, the district may expect the city to move these poles without extra compensation.

Rainfall General Over Territory, Farmers Rejoice

1 to 3 Inches of Moisture Fell Sunday, Monday; Some Hail Is Reported at Burwell.

Rainfall varying from 1 to 3 inches fell over the upper North Loup valley territory Sunday night and Monday, adding to the general belief that the drought definitely is ended and the wet years back again.

Ord had a total of .99 of an inch Monday, reports Horace W. Travis, and at least this much rain fell in every section of Valley county. In Ord the rain came slowly and soaked in well but elsewhere harder rains and much run-off is reported.

At North Loup the Monday total was 1.45 inches, to which was added .45 of an inch which came in a brisk shower early Tuesday evening. Only a trace fell in Ord Tuesday night but east of the river a quarter of an inch fell.

Sunday afternoon in Mira Valley 2 inches of rain fell and the next day came an even heavier rain which brought Mira Creek to the highest level in several years. Some farmers on lower Mira Creek and upper Davis Creek estimate the Sunday and Monday total as high as 5 inches but no official figures are available.

Between Ord and Arcadia a near cloud-burst came about the middle of the afternoon Sunday and in one small section 3 inches of rain fell within a half hour. Arcadia reported 1 1/2 inches by late Monday afternoon.

At Burwell 66 of an inch fell last Friday night, according to William Becker, the official observer. On Sunday .10 of an inch fell and on Monday 1.23 inches.

Hail fell in a number of Garfield localities last Friday night but most of the damage was confined to a narrow strip commencing south of Valley View and extending into Valley county about 15 miles east of Burwell.

The Pebble Creek bridge in Garfield county was washed out, as well as some roads. Minor damage to roads in Valley county is reported.

Daughter of Pioneer Dies in New Jersey

Mrs. Ericka Larsen, of Ericson, is leaving today to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Marie Anderson, who died Saturday at North Bergen, N. J., where she and Mr. Anderson were visiting a son. She was 60 years of age and a heart attack caused her death.

Besides Mrs. Larsen she leaves another sister, Katie Jensen, of Canada, and a brother, James Frey, of Wilmington, Calif. Their father was Christian L. Frey one of the first five men to settle in the North Loup valley.

17 Errors Spell Loss for Ord Baseball Team

The Ord baseball team lost a loosely played game to North Loup Sunday, the score being 18 to 7. Ord took an early lead and when three innings had been completed led 6 to 1, but the team then went all to pieces and North Loup scored ten times in a single inning. Seven errors were made by the Ord players during the game. Hits were 8 for Ord, 14 for North Loup. The Ord team plays at Ashton Sunday.

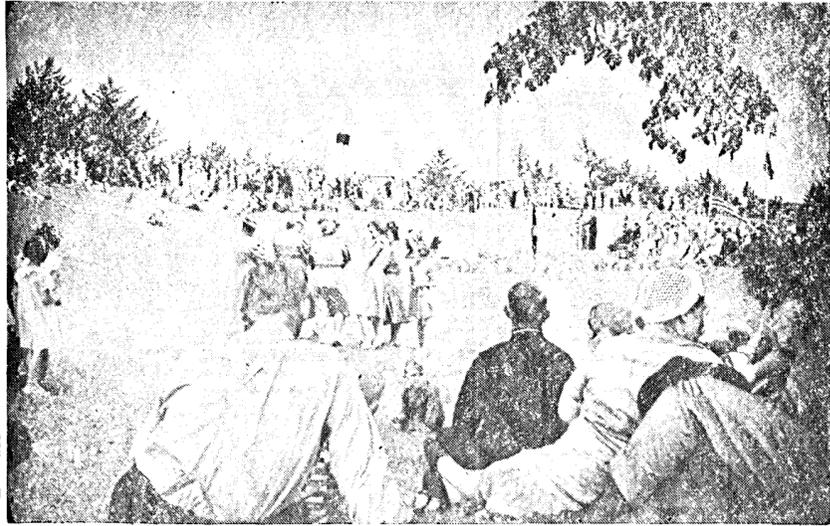

Softball Meeting Friday. Ord men interested in softball are urged to attend a meeting at Thorne's cafe at 7:30 Friday evening, at which the subject of organizing a league will be discussed. Refreshments will be served.

Cemetery Beautiful As Ord Holds Annual Memorial Day Exercises

This picture was taken at the memorial plot in the Ord cemetery Friday morning as Ord people held their traditional Memorial Day exercises under sponsorship of the American Legion. The cemetery was more beautiful than ever before, with more reasonable flowers than usual used to decorate graves because of the lateness of spring.

Ord Girl Graduates from Hastings College

Miss Dorothy Auble, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Glen D. Auble, was one of 73 seniors who were graduated from Hastings College Monday, June 2, Commencement services were held Monday morning in the college gymnasium, with Dr. G. W. Rosenlof of the University of Nebraska delivering the address.

A talented vocalist, Miss Auble has been prominent in musical activities during her four years at Hastings. She has been a member of both the college choir and the church choir, and of the women's trio. With other choir members, she toured central and eastern Nebraska early this spring, presenting concerts in a number of towns.

Miss Auble has served as secretary-treasurer of the senior class, treasurer of Chi Omega Psi society, secretary of Westminster Guild, and secretary of Taylor Hall, girls' dormitory. She is also a member of the Women's Athletic association. A music major, she has done practice teaching in the Hastings high school this year, and plans to become a music supervisor. Miss Auble was graduated from Ord high school in 1937.

Grasshopper Poison Plant in Operation

Grasshoppers are prevalent in large numbers in most sections of the county south of the North Loup river, according to reports received at the County Agent's office, and several farmers have started poisoning operations. The county mixing plant has begun operations at the fair grounds in Ord and poison bait is now available.

The pest control committee has secured four bait spreaders from the federal government and they are available for the use of farmers. These spreaders are of the trailer type and can be pulled by car, tractor or truck and it is possible to treat 40 to 60 acres per hour, with these machines. Farmers are urged to make use of the machines, and there is no charge for using them provided they are returned promptly.

Now is the time to poison the hoppers in fence rows, waste land, alfalfa fields and similar places, before they spread out into the grain fields where they will do a lot of damage, should the weather turn dry.

Chamber to Meet Thursday Evening

The Ord chamber of commerce will hold a general meeting for all members at the K. of C. hall at 8:00 Thursday evening. Principal topic for discussion will be what the Chamber should do about providing entertainment at the Valley county fair later in August. Dr. Glen D. Auble heads the committee investigating this matter.

Status of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company's offer to install a new common battery system in Ord will be reported on by E. C. Leggett, who is interviewing members of the Nebraska railway commission upon this matter Thursday morning.

Several other matters of community interest will come up for disposal at the Thursday meeting and all members are urged to be present.

Obituary of Mrs. Laura A. Newbecker

Laura Alice Siler was born in Eaglesport, O., Febr. 26, 1873, the daughter of Sarah Jane Morrison and George Frederick Siler, and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. E. Flynn, in Los Angeles, Calif., on May 12, 1941, at the age of 68 years.

She leaves to mourn her passing two children, Mrs. Flynn and Harold J. They took home to Auburn their daughter, Mrs. Fritz Rother and children, who had been visiting in Ord, and were accompanied home by another daughter, Miss Ruth James. While away they enjoyed a fishing trip to Lake Okoboji, Iowa, a prize won by Mr. James for his work with the Equitable Life Insurance Society.

9c a Lb. Offered by Ord Dealers for Old Roosters

Hatching Season Ends, So Old Roosters a Liability; a Premium Price Now.

"Liquidate the rooster" is the idea behind the premium price of 9c per pound being offered by all Ord poultry dealers Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. This price applies to all roosters, both heavy breeds and Leghorns, and is 2 to 3 cents higher than market prices.

Roosters are a double liability now that the hatching season is ending, point out experts at the Nebraska agricultural college. Male birds not only consume great quantities of feed which could well be fed to layers, but they are also responsible for fertile eggs which deteriorate rapidly.

Since enactment of the Lend-Lease bill, a greatly expanded market has developed for many surplus products, eggs among them. For shipment to Great Britain eggs must, of course, be of good quality. Because fertility is cause for much of the great annual loss in eggs, a greater effort will be made this year than ever before to remove old roosters from farms and thus assure more infertile eggs that will keep well.

The premium price offered for roosters the rest of this week by Ord poultry dealers should do much to rid the farms of Valley and near-by counties of all old roosters.

Still your roosters in Ord this week and assure continuing good prices for your eggs.

Butter Institute at Court House Tonight

At the court house in Ord at 7:30 o'clock tonight, under the auspices of the Nebraska department of agriculture, a butter institute is being held, purpose being to acquaint cream buyers with the new state and federal regulations in regard to cream.

H. E. Tagg, state inspector, will be a speaker and presiding officer will be Fred W. Coe, manager of the Ord Cooperative Creamery. Cream buyers from North Loup, Elyria and Arcadia, as well as Ord, are expected to be present. A similar meeting was held Monday night at Loup City, another at St. Paul Tuesday night, and another will be held Thursday night in Burwell.

The federal government is seeking to improve quality of dairy products by condemning at central markets butter, cheese and ice cream made from cream or milk that is regarded as unfit for human consumption. New tests recently devised detect the presence of dirt or mould in butter even though it was made from pasteurized cream, and penalty for selling such butter or other dairy product is confiscation of the product itself plus heavy fines. The new regulations will be explained to cream buyers at the meeting in Ord tonight, and by them will be passed on to producers.

Ideal Conditions Attend Observing of Memorial Day

Judge Spikes of St. Paul Spoke; Legion and G. A. R. Ladies Take Usual Part.

Friday was an ideal day for memorial services, and at the usual hour of 10:30 a. m. a large crowd had assembled in the Ord cemetery for the program. It was partly cloudy during the forenoon, and a light sprinkle fell at 10 a. m., not enough, however, to make the day too wet.

The procession formed, as usual, at the south gate of the cemetery, and followed the winding road, ending at the memorial plot. This year, due to the courtesy of car owners, the path of the procession was clear all the way, a fact that was very appreciated by all who marched.

At the head of the procession marched the colors and color guard, Archie Geweke, Bob Hall, Bill Heuck and C. J. Mortensen. The Ord band followed, playing music suitable for the occasion. Other groups in the parade were the firing squad, the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, and other organizations.

At the end of the march all groups marched into the memorial plot, which had been enlarged and improved by the American Legion this spring, and each group having a part in the program took its appointed place, the others remaining in the shade of the trees in the rear.

All stood at attention and the firing squad stood at parade rest while Rev. Clarence Jensen of Bethany Lutheran church delivered the memorial prayer. Following the prayer the rifles were stacked, the colors placed, and these groups fell back to await their part of the program.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. next gave their memorial service, those taking active part being Mrs. Ivan Lotts, Mrs. Emma Hanson, Mrs. S. W. Roe, Miss Mary McCune, Mrs. H. H. Horn, Mrs. C. W. Clark and Mrs. James Holsington. The male quartet, Arden Clark, Gould Flagg, Orville Stoddard and Gerald Jirak, then followed with a selection. This group also sang again later.

E. L. Vogeltanz introduced the speaker of the day, Judge William F. Spikes. This was the judge's first appearance in a speech before a general Ord audience, but he made a very fine impression with his talk. He has a voice well suited for the microphone, and he was heard by all whether near or far.

He began with the original idea of Memorial Day and carried the theme through to the present time, dwelling for a time on the conditions of the future. His theme, in the main was "Americanism." It was generally agreed that his talk was exceptionally well suited to the time and place.

The salute to the dead by the firing squad followed. Emil Fafella was commander of the squad, and the members were C. W. Clark, Frank Piskorski, Harry Wolfe, F. J. L. Benda, John Horn, James Gilbert, Cecil Wardrop and Mark Gyer. The band, which had played earlier in the program, then played the national air, followed by "Taps," first by the band, and then echoed by James Ollis, jr., from a distance.

Much of the success of the program was due to the new arrangement of the memorial plot by the Legionnaires, who moved the heads further out, raised a sodded space for the program, and a grave mound for the Ladies of the G. A. R. ceremony. Also the use of the public address system, with A. J. Auble and Hilding Pearson in charge.

DECORATION DAY.

The first printed account of a Decoration Day service in Ord, so far as can be found, appeared in the June 4 issue of the Ord Weekly Quiz in 1886.

A large concourse of people assembled at Ord on Monday to witness the decoration ceremonies. The exercises were begun at the bandstand, the meeting being presided over by S. H. Webster.

A selected poem was read by W. A. Wotherspoon, and the little folks sang "The Star Spangled Banner," when the procession was had to the grave yard to decorate the one soldier's grave there.

CAPT. S. H. WEBSTER.

Since that day the people of the Ord territory have gone to the cemetery once each year to decorate the steadily increasing number of graves.

The contrast between the first decoration day service and the one of last Friday is startling. In the first place, in the early days the people went out into the fields and meadows and gathered wild flowers for decorating.

The "little folks sang the Star Spangled Banner." This year the young people played the national anthem in a way that the pioneers would not have deemed possible.

Then the program was held from the bandstand, which was located at the southwest corner of the courthouse yard. At the end of the program all who desired fell in line and marched to the cemetery, going by way of the present location of the Ord Catholic church across the bridge near the Prince place, and on to the cemetery, which then had no permanent fence if any at all.

This year the program was held in one of the finest natural amphitheatres in the country, a public address system carrying the words and music to all parts of the cemetery. The band marched out from the high school, through the park that was a cow pasture then, beneath towering trees where in those days there were no trees at all except a few scrubby willows along the creek.

Perhaps it did not occur to any who passed through the park Friday or stopped to eat and rest beneath the shade of its trees that Russell park was a gift of Uncle Jimmy Bussell, whose body now rests in our beautiful cemetery.

Part of our heritage is this park, his gift, made beautiful by the labor of those who followed him, some of whom have already passed through the park to their eternal resting place.

A SENSIBLE RULING.

That was an important and sensible ruling made by District Judge E. B. Chappell last week in the Loup River Public Power district's suit against the North and Middle Loup irrigation districts, and it constituted an important victory for the cause of irrigation.

The Loup district at Columbus, which uses water only for the purpose of manufacturing electrical energy, had sought to limit greatly the amount of water that the North and Middle Loup districts might divert for irrigation use, on the ground that manufacture of energy is "domestic" use of water, which in Nebraska statutes is given priority over irrigation.

Judge Chappell ruled that production of electrical energy is manufacturing, not domestic usage, and that agriculture shall have prior right to water over power.

The decision surely must be regarded as a sensible one in an agricultural state like Nebraska. It will not be liked by advocates of big power production but after all the bulk of our population is composed of farmers and people who live off buying and selling, shipping and processing the products of the farm.

There is no reason why Nebraska may not have power and irrigation too but when the Loup district attempts to put the cart before the horse and advocates power production at the expense of irrigation it is time to call a halt. This Judge Chappell has done.

His decision, unless it is overturned by a higher court, confirms central Nebraska farmers in their right to use the waters of central Nebraska rivers to grow bounteous crops on central Nebraska's fertile soil.

Power can be produced by other methods but only water added to the soil at proper times will produce crops.

OUR FLAG DISPLAY.

Decoration Day called out all the flags still serviceable about the business section of Ord, but most of them were not at half mast as they are supposed to be in the forenoon, for the reason that many of them are no longer moveable, but are fastened solidly to the pole.

It has been a long time since the uniform flag display was adopted in Ord, and in that time a number of the flags have been lost or spoiled until they can no longer be used. In many cases the original pole was broken, and the owner is using it on a shorter pole, making it impossible to display the flag without having it drag on the ground.

It would seem, with flag day approaching (June 14) and with the Fourth of July and other holidays coming in regular order, that some organization should take up the idea of having a new uniform flag display. Events in the world and in our nation today demand that the flag be displayed and displayed properly every time there is a proper occasion.

The present flags, such as are left, are larger than is necessary, and also larger than is now customary. The usual size used at present is the 3 by 5 foot size, and a splendid flag in this size can be had for about a dollar and a half. This size of flag could still be accommodated on many of the poles still in use.

Quite a number of new business men since the display was bought and a number who have changed location do not have a standard flag at present, and a majority seem to be in favor of the new flag idea. Some organization could do the town and the community a real service by seeing that this need is supplied, and soon.

A GOOD JOB WELL DONE.

Senator Joseph T. Knezacek returned the past week from his job at Lincoln, and he was glad to get home. He worked hard while there and took his job more seriously than many senators do. It is said that he won the esteem of his colleagues for his untiring efforts on what he thought to be right.

Perhaps he made some mistakes. It is not human to be perfect, but on the whole, Knezacek did as well as any first term man this district has ever had. He went there with the idea of economy and as few laws as possible, and he did not vote for any unnecessary legislation.

While in Lincoln he made the statement: "What my people need is rain, and not more laws." He did not introduce many laws, the only one being the Fort Hartsuff resolution, but we must admit that we are getting the rain. Whether Joe had anything to do with that or not, the moisture is certainly appreciated.

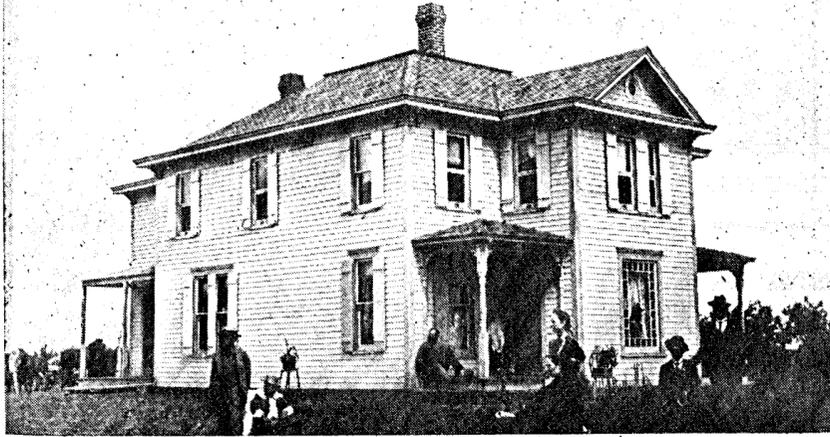

The Fort Hartsuff resolution took a lot more work than most people suppose. The fact that it did not carry an immediate appropriation may have been a disappointment to many, but it is true that it could not have passed at all if it had. Now we have the enabling act, and the purchase can be made whenever the funds are raised without any further trouble.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Poultry Column Short Shavings

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Poultry Column.

Several people have inquired of me lately about raising their little chickens, as if I should know more or have any better luck than many others. However I was at a poultry meeting in Greeley county held by J. H. Claybaugh of the University extension department and here are a few things I learned.

He gave us a formula for mixing a mash for poultry called Nebraska Dry Mash Formula No. 8 which anyone can get from the county agent or the university, and which is pretty long to give here.

The University people have used this mash for nine years and they feed it to old laying hens, baby chicks and growing chicks. They feed it to turkeys, too, but Mr. C. said they found it better to increase the protein for the turkeys. One can start the chickens with this mash and it need not be ground fine. Chickens really prefer the coarser grinding and when a few months old can be fed whole grain very well.

Mr. C. advocated several neighbors go to the elevator and contract with the manager to grind and prepare a ton or more and the buyers then figure the cost for their own share. Also a person can buy his feed and in a wagon box mix one half ton easily. Scooped out a time or two in the wagon and again in the bin, it is mixed well enough, and the price of this feed is reasonable.

Mr. C. said one should build a cheap summer shelter and take the pullets off to some alfalfa patch or grove away from the old hens, until they are about six months old and ready for the laying house. He advocated feeding whole grain and growing feeds, not trying to make the pullets lay much before six months old for Leghorns and seven for heavier breeds. Pullets laying early usually lay small eggs and do not lay so long later in their life.

He said, too, one should start soon to culling his laying flock, selling a few every week, in place of all at once later. Watch for the hens with the yellow legs or any that seem to be in any way not well. Kill any sick hen for fear she might spread some disease and sell any hen that ceases laying early. He said tramping had proved that the hen that lays good in the summer also is a good winter layer and vice versa. Even with the price of eggs up, one cannot afford to feed hens that do not lay.

If you want to keep old hens over, one might stop culling when the hens have laid about ten months, keeping those that are left. All of them will molt sooner or later but it is the later molters only that are worth keeping over. He said usually, unless one is keeping hens for breeding purposes, it would not be wise to keep more than 25% of the old flock over.

Paint the roosts and coop with a wood preservative such as creosote for mites, and dope each hen with blue ointment for lice. A small pile of sand or gravel is good for grit, and shell make, perhaps to produce better egg shells.

If one raises forty pullets from a hundred baby chicks that is very good, and the University has done better than that, feeding nothing but the mash formula No. 8.

Short Shavings.

Ruth Babcock was showing me a picture of Shirley Lane of Scottsbluff, who graduated this year and was valedictorian at that place, in a class of 200. Now that is something, I'd think. Miss Lane is the daughter of Earle Lane, who lived here for a few years, and Mrs. Lane was Elsie Van Horn, who was raised here.

In Believe It or Not picture last week there was a drawing of a stingless bee developed by Dr. L. R. Watson of Alfred, N. Y. It happens Dr. Watson is a very close friend of Rev. Ehret and was deacon of the latter's church in New York.

He lived neighbor to Rev. Ehret and was known the country over for his bee knowledge. He had been called to Washington and different states about bees and had had men sent from Japan to consult him. He worked out a way of artificial insemination of bees so he could keep the strains pure. Rev. Ehret was with him when he found his experiment had worked and

Rev. Ehret said that man, fifty years old, was as tickled over it as a child. When the Agricultural Department heard of his success they called him to Washington for consultation. He was treated royally there and would have been given a nice job had he not been two years too old.

Wm. Schudel drove up in the sandhills somewhere to look for a milk cow he heard was for sale. When he arrived and looked the herd over he found the owner had 12 milk cows and not another head of livestock on the place.

Bill asked what he did with the skimmed milk and the owner said they fed it back to the milk cows after separating. Bill picked on one cow but the wife did not want to sell her very badly because that cow drank the skimmed milk the best of any in the herd. She said some of them objected to the milk lately because it tasted of weeds.

Now maybe this method of feeding cows is common practice, but I had not heard of it before. Rev. Ehret never saw listed corn before he came here to Nebraska last year.

Many people have lost some of their Chinese elm trees this spring. Wes Hutchins had quite a few at his place but he says he will never set out another because he has lost so many. Another person who has several large ones and lost some, showed me where some sort of borer has been working on them. A third person said the only reason why they should die that he could see was that there was too much moisture this year. They are supposed to be drought resistant.

There are three varieties of trees safe to plant in this country. The cottonwood for the lower and more wet locations; the hackberry and the cedar. All others just die too often for safe planting. It is no pleasure to plant and nurse a tree for a number of years just to have it die as it gets to a nice size.

Annual School Meeting Will Be Held June 9

Many thousands of patrons who are interested in providing and maintaining good schools for the boys and girls of Nebraska will attend their annual school meeting on Monday, June 9. Some districts in the state plan for a social hour and refreshments at the close of the business meeting. This plan brings about more interest and increased attendance.

Patrons often take an inventory of equipment and needs of the school at the annual meeting. Many school districts at this time check the equipment of their schools with the Nebraska rural school standards. The effect of environment on the education of children cannot be ignored.

This annual school meeting will be held on June 9, the second Monday in June, in the school-houses of all school districts in the state of Nebraska that are organized under Article 3 and Article 6.

One of the important transactions is the election of at least one school board member. The district school boards have the general care of the schools. The annual report by the director will be given at each school meeting.

This report includes the number of children of school age in the district, the number of pupils attending during the year, the number of pupils of compulsory school age in the district, the length of the school term, an itemized account of expenditures, a detailed account of receipts, and similar data. Within ten days previous to the annual district meeting the director shall take the census of the district. This report includes those children who have reached the age of five years on or before September 1 of the current year and shall exclude all such persons who have attained the age of 21 years on or before September 1.

—Mrs. Frederick Campbell and son John of Minneapolis are expected in Ord sometime in June for a visit of several weeks with her parents, Sheriff and Mrs. George Round and other members of the family.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I Knew It Would Happen.

The Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebraska.

Hey! What's the idea of crowding out Hank Leggett's own column, recently?

That is probably the worst column in North America and I save each one as a horrible example of how not to write a column. I show it to young fellows with journalistic aspirations and to young fellows with republican leanings.

Stop crowding out that feature or I shall withdraw my advertising support of your publication, which, you know, would mean bankruptcy for you.

Pat.

I have been telling Eugene and John Ward something like this was going to happen if they kept on leaving my copy out of the paper. Now one of our best and oldest customers has gone and got mad on us just because he has been taking the Quiz all these years to read my column and thus keep himself informed. Unless they start to print my stuff and by doing that we can win him back there is going to be quite a dent in the subscription list. If Jake Shoemaker, Bud Shirley and Herman Timmerman will all do as Pat has done, no doubt it would have some effect on the managers of the Quiz editorial department. If all four of them should get mad and quit that would be a dent in the twenty-eight hundred subscribers that the cashier would notice when she balances up the cash that is left at the end of the year.

As I told you last week, the Missus and I took off for Middle Cullen at 7 a. m. Thursday, May 29 after a hearty breakfast of bacon and eggs etcetera which is French or Mexican or something for fried potatoes, hot biscuits, strawberries and cream and coffee.

But before ten o'clock we were both hungry and at eleven o'clock we stopped at a school house a few miles south of Yankton to eat an early noonday lunch. Then we drove until we got into camp before we ate again, and that was 9 p. m.

We made a short stop at Neligh to call on the Rev. Robbersons and found them well and apparently happy.

It was pretty warm driving the first half of the day but it was cloudy about half of the time, which made it much nicer than it would have been otherwise. Crops looked fine all the way. North-eastern Nebraska is surely a garden spot this year and it looks from the highway to be mostly farmed. Corn everywhere was up and some was being cultivated. Small grain is heading and the few alfalfa fields look good. There appears to be a good deal of new alfalfa planted all along.

We turned onto 81 from No. 20 and crossed the Missouri at Yankton, a way we have not gone for several years. Found a good road as far as Stanley, then turned east on 15, a paved road to Sioux Falls, then north to Lone Tree and angled over to Pipestone from there and continued north on 75 through Lake Benton, Ivanhoe and Canby and on north another 20 miles where we turned onto a paved road through Dawson, Montevideo to Wilmar. Soon after we left Pipestone we ran into a dense fog. It had already turned colder and threatened rain. We drove for nearly a hundred miles through the fog, where every car was driving with lights on. At Dawson it started to rain while we were buying gas and it was soon pouring and continued to rain hard for a couple of hundred miles. Sometimes it rained so hard that the windshield wipers had little effect on it and sometimes we had to slow up to a 20-miles speed.

The next stop for gas was at Little Falls and there the station attendants told us it had been raining for three days almost continuously. The country looked it for it was all under water. But we ran out of the rain just above Little Falls and while it stayed very cloudy and looked like a downpour any moment, it didn't rain any more. We had intended to stop at St. Cloud for the night but when we arrived there we were detoured off the highway where most of the tourist camps are located and anyhow it was raining so hard that we thought it was just as well to keep on driving as to stop and hunt a camp, so we kept right on. We drove into camp here at just 9 o'clock, found plenty of kindling and wood in the woodbox, built a fire, finished the lunch we had brought and turned in. The speedometer showed that we had driven 577 miles and we were tired enough to enjoy a good nights sleep and rest.

We found everything in and about the place as we had left it last fall. Today a man showed up and began cleaning up the Fenner place. He is a Mr. Hiatt who formerly lived in the Burwell territory but has been up in this country for a few years.

This letter is being written Friday evening. It has been dark and cloudy all day and about 2 p. m. it started raining here and has been at it steadily since, some of the time sizzling right down. Such a rain in Nebraska would be hailed with delight at any time but here, where they have had more rain than they needed all spring, most people would be glad to see the sun shine.

Everything is looking grand here. Corn is up about as it was at home, trees are in full leaf, gardens look good in fact the season seems to be fully as early here as at home, though it is usually two or three weeks later. The Dr. Gelows of Grand Island have been in their cottage for several weeks, but left yesterday for home. We met them down on 75, recognized their car and license number as we met but didn't have a chance to talk to them. We had hoped they would be here when we arrived. H. D. Leggett.

Mrs. P. E. Clement came up from Omaha Friday and was a guest of her mother, Mrs. Genia Crandall till Sunday. Mrs. Crandall returned to Omaha with her for an indefinite stay.

Donnie Smith and her mother, Mrs. Florence Smith, went to Grand Island Wednesday afternoon, taking Mrs. Anna Crandall down to take the train for Brookfield, Mo., where she will visit relatives for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Meyers and Phyllis came up from Grand Island Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers returned Saturday but Phyllis remained for a longer visit.

Bessie Eberhart came home from Blair Thursday where she has just closed another successful term of school as principal of the grades. She expects to attend summer school at Boulder, Colo.

Charles Clark returned to his work at Lincoln Saturday after spending memorial day at home.

Muriel Bartz, Jeanne Barber, Harriet Brown and LaVerna Hutchins returned Thursday from Kearney where they have attended Kearney college the past year. Muriel Bartz will return Tuesday for the summer session.

Hazel Stevens called at the Otto Bartz home Sunday morning on her way to Ord to attend a family picnic in the Ord park. She is attending summer school in Kearney this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schudel, Dorothy Schudel, Mary Lee, Florence Hudson and Florence Hamer came up from Lincoln Thursday night and remained till Sunday afternoon. Final exams were being given at the university and all had a few free days. Florence Hudson and Florence Hamer plan to attend summer school the first six weeks. Mary Lee is working in Lincoln.

Word was received Sunday of the death of O. Harley Greene in the state hospital at William, Minn., where he had been confined for several years. On April 1, 1925 he was injured and gassed in an explosion in the factory where he was working in Duluth, Minn., and he never recovered. Death came as a release. Mr. Greene was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Greene, was born and raised here and in later life moved away. A talented musician, his work here was largely that of music teacher although he also taught school. He is survived by his widow, three sons, two daughters and two sisters.

Sunday callers at the Otto Bartz home were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Baumelster of Chapman and Mrs. Viola Jonson and daughter, of Montgomery City, Mo.

Will Moore of Los Angeles was a guest of friends and relatives here the last of the week. Sunday he was a dinner guest of Mrs. B. B. Buten and then went to Scotia to the Eugene Brown home on the evening bus.

Irene Hansen of Ord spent Memorial day and the week end at the Hugh Adams home.

Charles Bebec accompanied his aunt, Mrs. A. F. Grabowski, to North Platte last week and will spend part of the summer there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers and two children are visiting in the Hugh Adams home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Sommers will return to Colorado the last of the week but Kenneth will spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Adams. Thursday the Sommers family and Mr. and Mrs. Adams spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Coleman.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thelin were Mr. and Mrs. John Rockhold of Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rockhold and son James of Lead, S. D., and Miss Florence Rockhold of Denver. The Ed Rockholds and Miss Florence remained overnight and went on to Washington, D. C., to attend the wedding of another son. They were to stay enroute in Chicago for a third son who lives near the Reuben Rydbergs. Ed Rockhold is superintendent of the Homestake mine at Lead.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Norton of North Platte were Friday and Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCall.

Mrs. Earl Howell arrived home Wednesday evening from Iowa where she has been working for the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Fanny Weed were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post. All spent the afternoon with Mrs. Della Manchester.

Mrs. Earl Howell and Mrs. A. H. Brink were dinner guests Thursday of Mrs. Ed Post.

Fred Bartz spent the week end in Omaha with his son Richard. Arthur Bartz was also there from Camp Riley, Kas.

While playing on the loading platform at the depot Friday afternoon six-year-old Janice Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker of Ericson fell, breaking the large bone in her wrist. She was taken to Ord for medical attention where she was kept overnight before going on home. The Stanley Bakers, George and Raymond Baker, Mrs. Ruth Warner and Gordon, according to their usual custom on Memorial day came down for the services at the Scotia cemetery and then spent the day at the Fred Bartz home.

A large attentive crowd listened to Rev. A. C. Ehret speak at the Memorial day services at the cemetery Friday morning. He spoke on World Brotherhood and Peace. Albert Babcock acted as master of ceremonies for the program. Frances Goodrich gave "In Flanders Field," Dale Mulligan gave the "Gettysburg Address," and Gloria Graf placed the bouquet on the soldiers monument. The North Loup band led the procession and the graves of the veterans were decorated. From early morning, cars made their way to the cemetery to place flowers on the graves of their loved ones and by ten o'clock the hillside was well covered with beautiful bouquets, many of them from the many gardens about town.

Charlene Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lind Nelson of Auburn is spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson and the R. H. Knapp family. Her parents plan to come for her later.

Mrs. Englebrecht and daughter of Elba spent Thursday at the A. L. Sims home.

Merlyn Clark is driving a new Chevrolet pickup.

J. A. Manchester accompanied Charles Clark to Lincoln Saturday. His son Donald was to be there to attend an alumni banquet at Wesleyan but did not have time to come to North Loup. By going down Mr. Manchester was able to have a short visit with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannte Mason of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller of Sidney were Friday guests of Mrs. N. C. Madsen and family. Mr. and Mrs. Miller remained over till Sunday.

Among the excellent new books in the Ord Library which you may be interested in, if you have grade-school-size children is one called "Exploring Religion with Eight-Year-Olds." I am sure you will enjoy it, although there is not a great deal of religion in it, the title is misleading. Rather it is a study of a class of alert-minded and interesting children who meet for three hours each Sunday. It is the story of what they actually say and do, and how their very wise teachers teach them to correlate life, modern and hard-to-explain-life with the rules. The rules are old, the same old rules perhaps, but their interpretation is different in this case and it is made appealing to the youngsters.

Without doubt all Sunday school teachers will want to read this book, many parents will enjoy reading it, numbers of children and other people will enjoy it.

Although it doesn't have any answers for questions such as my little three-year-old nephew of Anselmy asked upon his return from Sunday school a couple of weeks ago: "Mama, what does God do when Jesus is naughty?"

There are lots of us these days who would like to be able to find the answers in books. They say history repeats itself but I don't seem to see the parallel, so far. When was the world involved and apparently all of it bound up in a single war?

It gave me rather a turn last week to glance at a letter from a reader in the Quiz and see it signed "Everett Gross" for the reason that I remember the day he won a spelling contest and the Quiz presented him with a free trip to Omaha. I led him into the Quiz office and it to him and him to it, for he was the winner of the spelling contest and had won the free trip.

If he is army size now I reckon he must be bigger than he was that day. He was a little fellow who won out against many larger spellers. Of course I admit size has little to do with spelling, then or now.

Echoes of a long-dead cooking column: Mrs. Joe Kokes of Atkinson would like the recipe for Lazy Pickles that was printed in the Quiz several years ago. If you have this recipe and the time to write it on a penny postal, I am sure she will be very grateful to you.

If you haven't seen these new Quiz cookbooks, stop in. The one that is educational is especially fine. It tells the different kinds of coffee, where they grow, the differences and advantages, the best way to buy them, to use them, for instance. The kind of information about food that grocers and chefs usually know and the rest of us blunder along without. It is chock full of fascinating food-facts.

Of course you may prefer the fish book or the egg book or even the potato book. Or, now that summer arrived with a rush, the refrigerator dessert book!

Pocket Knife Violin
Violin making—both in miniature and standard size—is a hobby of Anthony Klonaris, of Youngstown, Ohio, whose only tool is a pocket knife. Klonaris has been making violins for the past three years.

recently, and raised in the Petska yard, went Robert Ripley one better. Last week in his column, "Believe It Or Not," he told of a tulip with three blossoms. The Petska's, not only had the four-blossomed tulip, but also had a three-blossomed plant growing right beside it. Archie Rowbal got busy and rigged up a sample soap box derby racer with a couple of sets of wheels and a cardboard body, and had it on display Saturday. Needless to say, it was a most interesting sight for the kiddies, and for some who were kiddies a long, long time ago, as well. There is hardly a garage in Ord that does not have a soap box racer in the making somewhere about. John Ward has been writing poetry ever since he was a lad, which was at least 50 years or so ago, while his wife hasn't done much in the rhyming line, but when both submitted jingles in the WOW contest on the same day last week it was Mrs. Ward who won the first prize.

Large Feet
Not 1 woman in 10 in London can get her foot in a size three shoe, and 25 per cent of them require larger sizes.

Circus Coming Tuesday

Under Legion Auspices

After a number of years, this city is to be entertained by a real circus. Dalley Bros. Circus is the title of the attraction, the date will be Tuesday, June 10, the place will be the fair grounds and the sponsors will be the American Legion.

Dalley Bros. Circus is new in this section but it is a well established show and tours about twenty states annually. The management does not boast of its magnitude but rather insists that they maintain an exceptional high standard of performance, introducing for the first time in Nebraska several features.

The slogan of Dalley Bros. Circus is "never before so much, so good, for so little." In addition to quality as to the merit of their show Dalley Bros. have been fortunate in their organization and thereby are proving that after all there is something new under the sun with a circus. A very pleasing feature with this show is the presence of a score of young ladies in the personnel of the company. Any one of them could win a beauty contest on account of their beauty and perfect figures. Not only are these young maids good to look upon, but during the two hour performance they will repeatedly demonstrate their courage and bravery as they execute gracefully and with apparent ease, death defying stunts.

Most of the circus celebrities of Europe fled to America on account of the war, only to find that the number of shows in this country had been reduced by the draft. This circumstance enabled Dalley Bros. to contract the cream of the circus talent on a salary basis which permits them to offer the greatest amusement bargain ever known in circus history.

Original novelties, sensational thrills, plenty of clean comedy, trained animals, presented in a rapid and attractive manner will give the spectators at Dalley Bros. Circus much pleasing entertainment. The program is presented in two rings, on the hippodrome track and in mid-air. There will not be any street parade.

The American Legion will receive a liberal percentage of the gross receipts of all performances given on the Ord fair ground Tuesday, June 10.

McCall-Harmon.

Sunday morning at 8:15, at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. M. Marvin Long performed the ceremony that made Donald Clinton Harmon and Miss Virginia Padelford McCall man and wife. They were accompanied by Melvern and Miss Dorothy Ferris, and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Harmon is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Harmon of Newton, Ia. He and Miss McCall, accompanied by Mrs. Harmon and Doris, Bobbie and Clarkie, drove to Ord, arriving Thursday night, and were house guests in the home of Mrs. Harmon's sister, Mrs. A. J. Ferris.

Immediately following the ceremony the party drove to the A. J. Ferris home, where a lovely breakfast of creamed chicken and other delicacies had been prepared for 13 guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Kent Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark and Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Clark, and the Ferris's and Harmon's.

Sunday noon the visitors left for Newton, Ia., where the bridegroom has prepared a home for his bride. Mr. Harmon is employed in a Newton hotel, and his father is employed in another, both of which are owned by Grandfather Harmon.

Deines' Entertain.

At Bussell park Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deines provided a spring picnic breakfast for a number of guests. Included were Superintendent and Mrs. M. C. Huff and Jacqueline and Billy of Sargent, Superintendent and Mrs. C. C. Thompson and Mary of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Stoddard, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Eddy and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Tolly. After breakfast a round of golf was the program. At dinner time the Thompsons and the Huffs were guests at the Deines' home.

Young Robert Clark entertained a group of boys and girls at the park Wednesday afternoon with games and a picnic, to help him celebrate his birthday. A very fine time was had.

At Farm Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason entertained at a fried chicken supper Sunday evening at their home, her brother, Olof Olsson and his wife and little daughter, Sharon, also Postmaster and Mrs. Ivan Mattson of Kearney. Madams Mason and Mattson are sisters. The Mattsons did not stay overnight.

Jolliate Hostess.

Mrs. Lester Norton entertained her Jolliate clubmates Monday afternoon at her Elyria home, with five guests present. They were Madams Carl Sorenson, Albert Jones, Ed Holub, John Ambrose and Frank Fafeita, jr. High score was made by Mrs. F. A. Barta.

For Miss Radliff.

A surprise party was held in honor of Miss Norma Radliff on her seventeenth birthday, last Monday evening. Her birthday was not until June 3, but it was held early so that Miss Joyce Clark could attend. Guests were Pat Frazier, Kay Work, Joyce Clark, Myrtle Auble, Margaret Petska, Marian Wardrop, Phyllis Munn, Betsy Kovanda, Darlene Carlson and Irene Auble.

Legion And Auxiliary.

Last evening was the June meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary. The men found difficulty in securing a quorum, due to other attractions. The reports on the Decoration Day activities and the Junior Legion baseball team were heard, and minor items of business transacted. The ladies elected and installed officers as follows: president, Mrs. K. C. Lewis; vice-presidents, Mrs. V. W. Russell, Mrs. Syl Furtak and Mrs. Roy Severson; secretary, Mrs. Horace Travis; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Hill; chaplain, Ign. Kluma; sergeant at arms, Mrs. Harry Wolfe; rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. C. W. Clark. A lovely lunch was served at the close of the meetings by the committee, Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, Mrs. Frank Piskorski, Mrs. Forrest Johnson and Mrs. K. C. Lewis.

Many Entertainments

For the Schwarzes
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schwarzel of Meadville, Pa., visited in Ord and vicinity several days last week, and they were entertained in a number of places. They and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bose of Ansley were dinner guests of Mrs. Arnold Wednesday, the day they came to Ord from Arcadia.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Waterman entertained at a dinner in honor of the Schwarzes. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ferris and the Misses Lucy Rowbal and Inez Swain. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger called in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brox entertained Mr. and Mrs. Schwarzel Thursday noon and also Mrs. Brox parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wittsche of Burwell. The Schwarzes and Miss Maggie King were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ferris Thursday evening.

A picnic was held at Bussell park Friday in honor of the Schwarzes. A large crowd was in attendance, and the day was ideal for the occasion. In addition to those who went to the picnic, a number of friends called to visit with them in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger entertained Mr. and Mrs. Schwarzel at supper Friday evening. They left for their home at Meadville, Pa., Saturday.

Auble Picnic.

Members of the various Auble families met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schudel of North Loup Friday evening for a picnic, enjoying the occasion very much. Mr. and Mrs. Lou Schwaner of Scottsbluff were special guests, and also present were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Auble, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Auble and Dr. and Mrs. Glen Auble and members of their families.

Mrs. Stanton Honored.

At the Walter Guggenmos home on Haskell Creek Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stanton were given a wedding reception on June 1, some 35 friends of the bride and groom enjoying a cafeteria dinner and a happy day.

On June 3 more than 50 friends and relatives of the former Evelyn Banks, now Mrs. Vernon Stanton, met for a miscellaneous shower in her honor. The house was adorned with pink and white

Popular Ord Young People Married Tuesday

MR. AND MRS. FLOYD BERANEK.

On Tuesday morning at nine o'clock occurred the marriage ceremony which made Miss Eloise Norris, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris, the bride of Floyd Beranek, the son of Mr. and Mrs. El F. Beranek. Rev. M. Marvin Long of the Methodist church read the lines at his church, with Miss Mary Beranek and Lloyd Zikmund attending the happy couple. Only the parents of the bride and groom were present. The bride was charming in a "prairie sand" dress of dull surfaced rayon and linen, marked off into large plaids with dark brown. A brown jacket completed the dressmaker type costume, which had large wooden buttons marked in green descending the front of the frock. A massive wooden necklace of natural colored links and green links was worn at the throat. An enormous hat of matching tan cocoanut straw was simply trimmed with a green band, and white shoes with lizard trim harmonized perfectly. Her flowers were gardenias. Miss Beranek appeared in a light weight woolen suit of green, with matching hat. The bride graduated from the Ord high school in 1939, and the groom graduated from the University of Nebraska college of pharmacy in 1938, since which time he has been associated with his father in his drug store in Ord. Both young people have many friends throughout this territory who wish for them every happiness. Following a four day trip they will be at home in apartments at Miss Sutton's.

Angelina Wachtler Married Tuesday to Eugene Petska

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE PETSKA.

At a nuptial mass at 8:00 Tuesday morning in the Ord Catholic church, Miss Angelina Wachtler, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wachtler, became the bride of Eugene Petska, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petska. Rev. Thomas Siudowski officiated.

The bride wore a dress of white satin with a train and full length veil with a tiora of seed pearls. She carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Lois Schultz, of Cheyenne, Wyo., a cousin of the groom, wore a floor length gown of blue net and lace with pink accessories. The bridegroom was attended by Eldon Wachtler, brother of the bride. Mrs. Syl Furtak played the wedding march. After the ceremony, dinner for the immediate relatives of the contracting parties was served in the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Petska was graduated from Arcadia high school in 1938 and his bride is a 1940 graduate of Ord high school. A talented musician, she was active in music circles while in school and since her graduation.

After a wedding trip to Cheyenne, Mr. and Mrs. Petska will be at home to their friends on a farm four miles north of Ord.

Mrs. Misko Hostess.

Mrs. Ralph Misko assembled a group of old friends Thursday at her home for lunch, and a delightful time was had. Present were Mrs. George Parkins, jr., who is visiting here from California, Mrs. Oriu Kellison of Ord and Mrs. Frank Andersen of Lincoln. The four former teachers were formerly Misses Ellen Servine, Mildred Jacobson, Viola Crouch and Lucienne Hardin.

Alice Holoun Becomes

Bride of Wm. Petzka
At the Geranium Catholic church at 9:00 Tuesday morning, Rev. Michael Sezesny performed the ceremony which united in marriage William C. Petzka, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Petzka, sr., of Elyria to Miss Alice Holoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holoun, of Comstock. Only immediate relatives and close friends attended the ceremony and also the wedding dinner served afterwards at the home of the bride's parents.

Attendees of the couple were Vencil Prackic and Miss Edith Holoun, the bride's sister. Mr. and Mrs. Petska will make their home on the Louis Parkos farm near Elyria.

Bethany Circle Picnic.

Miss Leota Crosby was chairman of arrangements and was assisted by Mrs. Helen Hill and Miss Wilda Chase when Bethany Circle of the Presbyterian church had a picnic Tuesday evening at the park. The Bethany Circle always meets in the evenings, since most of its members work in offices, stores or schoolrooms during the day.

Married June 1st.

On Sunday, June 1, Miss Adelaide May Leach, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Leach of Comstock, became the bride of Verl K. Ackles, son of Ralph Ackles of Comstock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Adams, North Loup pastor.

Actual paving operations in Burwell commenced Tuesday. Two trucks are used to haul away dirt from the streets which is replaced by cement mixed and dumped automatically into trucks and hauled from the John Gerdes place near the river to the square where it is leveled into place on the east side of the square.

Miss Berniece Myers visited a friend in Elwood Decoration day. Dr. G. L. Mills of Hot Springs, New Mexico, arrived in Burwell Saturday. Sunday Dr. and Mrs. Mills, Mrs. M. B. Goodenow and Claude Kennedy drove to Wall Lake, Ia., where they are visiting friends and relatives. Dr. Mills expects to spend several weeks visiting the Goodenows and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Mills will return home with him.

Axis and Arliss Abbey, twin granddaughters of Mrs. Mills and great granddaughters of Mrs. Goodenow arrived in Burwell on Wednesday from their home at Tinton, S. D. That evening a family picnic in their honor was held in the Goodenow farm home.

Mrs. Mary Gruber and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gruber and their niece of St. Louis visited in the W. G. Hemmet home from Thursday until Sunday. They are Mrs. Hemmet's mother, brother and sister-in-law. When they returned to St. Louis she accompanied them. Mrs. Hemmet will spend several weeks as their guest in St. Louis.

Mrs. Huckfeldt and son, Wendell, arrived in Burwell from California Thursday where they have been visiting in the home of her son, Vernon.

Graduates at Hastings.

Arcadia—(Special)—Miss Lucille Starr was graduated Monday morning from Hastings college. Miss Starr was secretary of Kappa Rho Epsilon sorority and a member of Theta Alpha Phi which is a national honorary dramatic society. She was a member of both church and college choirs. Miss Starr plans to teach English and music next year.

Young Eels Swim Over

Everything but Niagara

"Glass fish," which hatch from eggs of eels, are tiny swimmers and grow to be two or three inches long before they start to change.

The glass fish is as flat as an elm leaf, which it resembles in shape. Its parents are dead, and its only comrades are orphan eels like itself.

Some strange force, or race memory, leads many glass fish to swim northeastward across the Atlantic toward Europe. Others head toward North America.

The young eels which swim toward Europe spend about two years in the form of glass fish. Then they stop eating, or at least eat very little. During this time they shrink in size! Their bodies lose much of their width, and take on a rounded shape.

At this stage, the young eels are known as "elvers." They look more like their parents, but are extremely short, measuring only about two inches.

The life course of these eels (but not of all kinds of eels) calls for them to enter fresh water. This they do. Those which enter European rivers are about three years old. Those which go into North American rivers are about a year younger, but have gone through the same stages.

Making their way upstream, the young eels are able to pass over rocky ledges in the river bed. One place where they are "stopped" is at Niagara falls. At certain times there have been enough eels in the waters near Niagara falls to fill scores of trucks.

Eels which are stopped in an upstream journey may leave the river at night or early morning and crawl overland. Moving through dewy grass, they seem to get along almost as well as when they are in the water. They try to find ponds or some other body of water. Eels are found in ponds located miles from any river.

Great Difference Noted In Musical Instruction

Some interesting comments and insights on the teaching of music in the schools and on methods of teaching are made in an interview by Mr. Hubert Martindale of Toronto. First and foremost Mr. Martindale finds a great difference now as against conditions 10 years ago. The teaching of music in the schools in his opinion has wrought a great change for the better and he sees no reason why there should not be a continued improvement.

The main point that is pertinent in his remarks concerns the method of teaching, for Mr. Martindale belongs to the school that believes in production of sound by means of the vocal cords and air passages in the head. This theory holds that the lips and teeth have nothing to do with voice production, but only to speak the words.

Following up on this theory Mr. Martindale's idea is that the best preliminary training for music is reading aloud. He contends that many children do not sing well because they do not know how to articulate properly, and that there are many good voices. Certainly the teaching of music has a fine background effect, even though children never become singers. It is all part of the general cultural effect and certainly a benefit to the child.

Takes His Iron Straight

R. A. Clark, South Dakota, takes his iron every day for health's sake—and he takes it straight. His unusual diet consists of such metallic delicacies as fish hooks, razor blades and thumb tacks, and electric bulbs. He took up this unusual way of making a living 17 years ago after watching an old Indian do it. To date he has eaten approximately 30,000 razor blades and 10,000 fish hooks. He claims to be the only one in the world who eats fish hooks. But eating shatterproof windshield glass is the hardest of all, he revealed, as "it takes a lot of chewing for what little good you get out of it."

To save wear and tear on his teeth, Clark had them plated with platinum and gold alloy some years ago and despite his years of eating metal and glass his teeth are in perfect condition. Clark is a vaudeville actor.

Slot-Machine Chances

You have one chance in 1,000 of getting the jack pot in a slot machine, according to the late Dr. E. E. Free, scientific consultant and member of New York university faculty. He discovered this after an extensive investigation. The average slot-machine pays out, on the average, only about three-fifths of the money taken in. You have one chance in 500 of getting 16 coins or slugs; one in 83 1/2 to get 8; one in 16 1/2 to get 4; and one in 11 1/9 to get 2. There are various ways of fixing these machines so they won't pay the jackpot, or to increase or decrease the odds against the player.

Indian Summer

In England and France, the period known here as Indian summer, is known as St. Martin's summer because of a legend that after St. Martin had shared his cloak with a beggar on a wintry day in November, summer came back again, because of his kind deed.

Mrs. Holman Observes 89th Birthday in Hospital

Unique was the birthday celebration of Mrs. Mary Holman held at the Ord hospital Tuesday, the day she became 89 years old. Ladies of her Methodist Sunday school class showered her with birthday cards and many of them came to call. Mrs. Holman, with some of her callers and the bouquets they brought, are seen above. Mrs. Jack Brown and Mrs. Alvin Wells fixed a nice lunch for the guests. Those who stopped in during the afternoon included Mrs. Peter Hallen, Mrs. Dean Moser, Mrs. Geycke, Mrs. Henry Marks, Mrs. Anna Marquardt. Many lovely bouquets were brought to Mrs. Holman, who has been in the hospital about 3 1/2 months since she broke her hip. Mrs. Holman hopes to go home this month.

SAFER TIRES

9.1% Stronger Cords after 5-million mile test

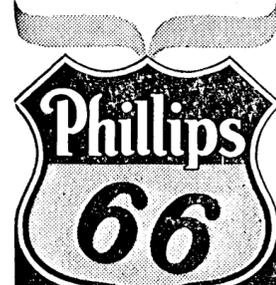

Back and forth, up and down, with every roll of your tires, the cords are constantly flexing... until sometimes they break because of flexing-fatigue.

There is one way to prevent or reduce this type of tire failure. That is to strengthen the cords, which is exactly what Lee has done!

After the famous 5-million mile Florida Road Test, Lee cords averaged 9.1 per cent stronger than the average of the other tire cords.

This extra safety... and extra miles, too... cost nothing extra in first-line Lee DeLux tires. They sell for less than you guess!

When You And I Were Young Maggie

June 1, 1931. F. J. L. Benda had leased the south store room in the new Ord Theater building and planned to open a haberdashery there as soon as his goods arrived. Miss Marjorie Hostetter of Douglas, Neb., sister of Mrs. Gould Flagg, was elected to teach in Ord high school. Thieves broke into the Joe Clemm pool hall at Elyria and stole $25 and a similar value of cigars and cigarettes. Jimmie Blessing, 1 1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blessing, was unharmed after a fall from a two-story window to a cement sidewalk. The Union Pacific railroad was announcing a new pick up and delivery freight service, subject to the approval of the state railway commission. The home on the Bill Preston farm near North Loup was destroyed by a fire, probably caused by rats gnawing matches in the pocket of a pair of overalls. Two hundred sacks of North Loup popcorn was on its way to England under the Johnson elevator company's label. It was again stated that Ord was to be included in a million dollar gas line construction program. We are still without gas.

June 2, 1921. Rev. Chudacek lost his car in a fire while returning from a Knights of Columbus meeting held at St. Paul. Irl D. Tolen and Alvin Blessing appeared before the state board of control to present the claims of Ord to having the new state reformatory located here. Dr. Floyd Collins was married to Miss Clara Beck at Central City May 21. They now live at Mitchell, Neb. Pat Pardue lost all his clothing, except what he had on in a fire at the home just south of the Ravenna creamery building. A list of one hundred and fifty eighth grade Valley county graduates appeared in the Quiz. Miss Leila Moorman was superintendent. The merchants of Ord were planning big things for their next bargain day, June 15. Manager Bates Copeland protested an Ord-Greeley baseball game because of interference by the crowd. The final score was 4 to 3.

June 1, 1911. John Schmid returned from Omaha with a 40 horse power Auburn car. Clarence Bailey and Anton Kosmata accompanied him. They left Omaha at 8 a. m. and were in Ord at 7 p. m. (same day). Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Westberg and daughters left for Roseborough, Ore., where they expected to make their future home. The first number of the Burwell Tribune off their new press had appeared the week before. C. J. Mortensen had accepted a job in the First National bank and was to work there during the summer vacation. J. J. Kepner and wife were moving to Grand Island to make their home. They drove there in a new Ford that they had purchased from George Newbecker. The four year old daughter of

We Remember Your Meat Preferences

"How did you come to remember that I like my bacon cut a little thicker?" one of our customers asked the other day. That's our business, to remember the meat preferences of our customers and try to give them what they want. So if you are one of those people who likes some special cut of steak or roast, who wants his steak sliced extra-thick, who wants sweetbreads saved for him, or has any other preference, we invite you to get in the habit of trading at our market. Let us know what you want and how you want it, and you'll always get it that way here. Its our business to please you. North Side Market JOE F. DWORAK, Prop.

Mr. and Mrs. Thearon Beehrle died of scarlet fever. The following officers were elected for Ord's first commercial club: President, J. C. Work; vice-president, A. J. Firkins; secretary, P. C. Perryman; treasurer, Vincent Kokes.

June 7, 1901. The famous "Century Class" of the Ord high school put on their equally famous "Reunion of the Centuries" at the old Reithardt opera house, located on the south lot of the present Sinclair station site. This play was written by members of the class under the direction of Miss Alta Jones, and staged by Mrs. Ben Bridgford. Ed Kates of the 1901 graduating class went to Lincoln to make his home, as he had employment there. A new cement crossing was installed between the postoffice and the court house by Marshal Phil Busby. It is all gone now. Harry Scott took his moving picture machine to Ericson, where he was scheduled to give a show. That was 40 years ago. Judge R. L. Staple issued a marriage license to Harold O. Cooley and Miss Lura Round, both of Arcadia. The Ord Alumni association tendered a reception to the 24 members of the Ord high school graduating class, the affair being held at the Oddfellows hall.

June 1, 1886. There was much complaint of the condition of the road between Mira Creek and Ord, and the farmers there were trading in North Loup until the road could be improved. The postmaster at Vinton, name not given, had started a grocery store in connection with the office. The kindergarten department of the Ord schools put on a special program at the opera house, which merited, and received, a long write-up. The board of county commissioners formally accepted the court house built by O. S. Haskell, June 1, 1886. Johnny Gard, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Gard, died at Kent, Neb., June 1.

LOCAL NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. George Misko and son Billie were Decoration day visitors of Dr. Misko's mother, Mrs. James Misko, and other Ord relatives. The Roy Randolph family returned home Saturday from Lincoln where they visited Mrs. Randolph's mother, who is not well. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams accompanied Judge and Mrs. Ben Rose, of Burwell, to Kearney where they attended the graduation exercises of Kearney State Teachers college. Their grandson, John Thomas Snyder, of Nemaha City, was graduated with the degree of B. Sc. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snyder, also were there and he accompanied them home Friday. The Ord and Burwell people returned home the same evening. J. A. Kovanda came from Lincoln Thursday and spent the week end with his family here. He was accompanied by Mrs. Edgar Servine, at whose home he rooms while in Lincoln, and Mrs. Servine visited her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Misko and husband. Saturday afternoon Madams Servine and Misko drove to Ericson to spend the night and Sunday with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Leon Wagner and family. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wiegardt and Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Russell spent from Thursday until Sunday on a trip through the Black Hills, spending one night at Hot Springs and two at Rapid City and seeing most of the places of interest in the Hills. They also visited two nephews of Mrs. Russell. In a cafe at Hot Springs they saw Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cito, who now live at Ogallala, and also Wayne Johnson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Johnson of Ord.
