Knezacek Favors Limiting Senators to 5 Bills Each

Unicameral Doesn't Have Time to Give Full Consideration to Greater Number, He Says.

A limit of five on the number of bills each member of the Nebraska legislature may introduce at any session is favored by Joseph T. Knezacek, 29th district senator, he told the Rotary club of Ord in an address Monday evening.

The unicameral legislature is an improvement over the old bicameral body, Knezacek thinks, but it is humanly impossible for its 43 members to give proper consideration to an unlimited number of bills.

Highlights of the 1941 session, said Senator Knezacek, included the old age assistance bill, wherein all liquor and beer license revenues plus 1c per gallon from the gas tax fund, were appropriated for such use.

The redistricting bill, made necessary by Nebraska's loss in population during the past decade, puts Valley county in the 4th congressional district.

Mrs. Anna Weppner Dies at Ord Hospital

Mrs. Anna Weppner, mother of Mrs. Edw. Whelan, died Thursday at the Ord hospital where she had been cared for several days.

A long-time Nebraska resident, Mrs. Weppner was the widow of a prominent Omaha, Albert N. Weppner. Her home was in the Adelphi hotel, Omaha, but for several years she had followed the custom of spending summers with her daughter, Mrs. Whelan, and she became ill a few weeks after coming to the Whelan home for her summer visit.

She is mourned by two daughters, the other being Mrs. Leo Ryan, of Omaha; and by three sons, Fred, of Pittsburg, Albert and Joseph, of Cheyenne. All were with their mother when she died.

Services were held at 9:00 a. m. Monday at the Ord Catholic church with Rev. Thomas Sludowski conducting and afterward the body was taken to Omaha for interment at St. Mary Magdalene's cemetery at 4:00 p. m.

Asks Cooperation in Survey of Pheasants

Now that alfalfa mowing has started many nesting pheasants will be injured and numerous nests destroyed, says H. Elliott McClure, inspector on the upland game bird survey.

Mr. McClure says he asks the cooperation of farmers in accumulating the following information: 1. How many acres of alfalfa are cut. 2. How many nests were found. 3. The number of hens injured. 4. The number of eggs in each nest. 5. The number of eggs broken in each nest.

Mr. McClure's telephone number is 407, Ord, and he will appreciate receipt of this information from any and all farmers.

Garfield Co. Wins $20,000 Law Suit in U. S. Supreme Court

Burwell — (Special)—Garfield county is $20,000.00 better off financially than it was a week ago, Monday County Attorney William F. Annual Estimate Again Fixes City Needs at $48,000

Council Complies with Formality Tues. Ev.; Sewer Problem, Athletic Field, Discussed.

The city council, holding its June session Tuesday evening, fixed upon $48,000 as the sum necessary to raise by taxation during the coming year, this estimate being the same as was made last June though not nearly this much money was finally levied.

Principal matter of business taken up by councilmen and Mayor M. B. Cummins Tuesday night was the problem of extending the sewer system of the city to serve a section of northwest Ord which has hitherto been without a sewer.

George Allen, the official sewer commissioner, recommended that a competent firm of engineers be employed to make a survey of the city's sewer needs, and that a sanitary or combination sanitary-sewer system be installed in compliance with whatever recommendations that the engineers might make.

The question of seeding the athletic field also was discussed and a committee was empowered to negotiate with owners of buffalo grass sod, which may be used. If such sod cannot be secured it was decided to seed the field to rye grass.

The city council voted to accept the bid filed by the Ord Auto Sales company and purchase a new 1941 Chevrolet truck, trading in the present city truck and paying a difference of $350. Three other bids were on file.

The North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district is going to have to move 13 poles between Ord and Elyria because of the new highway, it was brought out, and since the city is being paid $100 per month for maintenance of the district's power lines, the district may expect the city to move these poles without extra compensation.

Rainfall General Over Territory, Farmers Rejoice

1 to 3 Inches of Moisture Fell Sunday, Monday; Some Hail Is Reported at Burwell.

Rainfall varying from 1 to 3 inches fell over the upper North Loup valley territory Sunday night and Monday, adding to the general belief that the drought definitely is ended and the wet years back again.

Ord had a total of .99 of an inch Monday, reports Horace W. Travis, and at least this much rain fell in every section of Valley county. In Ord the rain came slowly and soaked in well but elsewhere harder rains and much run-off is reported.

At North Loup the Monday total was 1.45 inches, to which was added .45 of an inch which came in a brisk shower early Tuesday evening. Only a trace fell in Ord Tuesday night but east of the river a quarter of an inch fell.

Sunday afternoon in Mira Valley 2 inches of rain fell and the next day came an even heavier rain which brought Mira Creek to the highest level in several years. Some farmers on lower Mira Creek and upper Davis Creek estimate the Sunday and Monday total as high as 5 inches but no official figures are available.

Between Ord and Arcadia a near cloud-burst came about the middle of the afternoon Sunday and in one small section 3 inches of rain fell within a half hour. Arcadia reported 1 1/2 inches by late Monday afternoon.

At Burwell 66 of an inch fell last Friday night, according to William Becker, the official observer. On Sunday 10 of an inch fell and on Monday 1.23 inches.

Hail fell in a number of Garfield localities last Friday night but most of the damage was confined to a narrow strip commencing south of Valley View and extending into Valley county about 15 miles east of Burwell.

The Pebble Creek bridge in Garfield county was washed out, as well as some roads. Minor damage to roads in Valley county is reported.

17 Errors Spell Loss for Ord Baseball Team

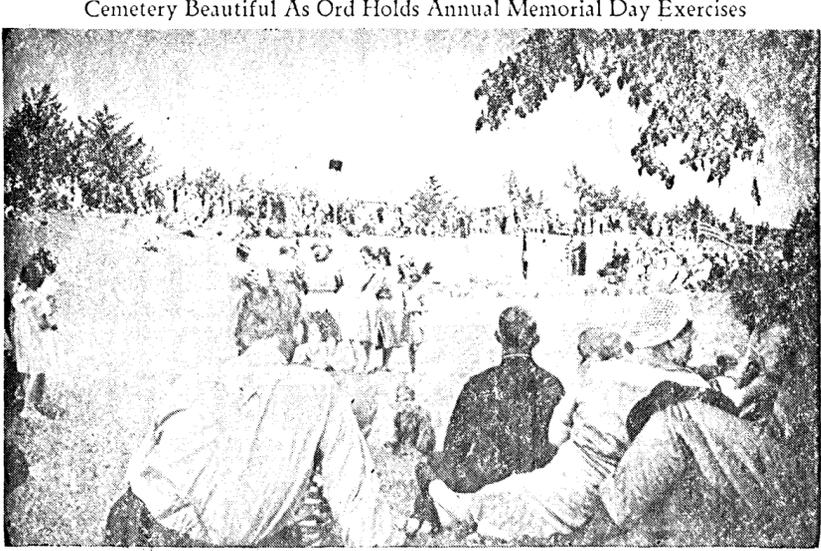

The Ord baseball team lost a loosely played game to North Loup Sunday, the score being 18 to 7. Ord took an early lead and when three innings had been completed led 6 to 1, but the team then went all to pieces and North Loup scored ten times in a single inning. Seventeen errors were made by the Ord players during the game. Hits were 8 for Ord, 14 for North Loup. The Ord team plays at Ashton Sunday.

Grasshopper Poison Plant in Operation

Grasshoppers are prevalent in large numbers in most sections of the county south of the North Loup river, according to reports received at the County Agent's office, and several farmers have started poisoning operations. The county mixing plant has begun operations at the fair grounds in Ord and poison bait is now available.

The pest control committee has secured four bait spreaders from the federal government and they are available for the use of farmers. These spreaders are of the trailer type and can be pulled by car, tractor or truck and it is possible to treat 40 to 60 acres per hour, with these machines. Farmers are urged to make use of the machines, and there is no charge for using them provided they are returned promptly.

Now is the time to poison the hoppers in fence rows, waste land, alfalfa fields and similar places, before they spread out into the grain fields where they will do a lot of damage, should the weather turn dry.

9c a Lb. Offered by Ord Dealers for Old Roosters

Hatching Season Ends, So Old Roosters a Liability; a Premium Price Now.

"Liquidate the rooster" is the idea behind the premium price of 9c per pound being offered by all Ord poultry dealers Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. This price applies to all roosters, both heavy breeds and Leghorns, and is 2 to 3 cents higher than market prices.

Roosters are a double liability now that the hatching season is ending, point out experts at the Nebraska agricultural college. Male birds not only consume great quantities of feed which could well be fed to layers, but they are also responsible for fertile eggs which deteriorate rapidly.

Since enactment of the Lend-Lease Act, a greatly expanded market has developed for many surplus products, eggs among them. For shipment to Great Britain eggs must, of course, be of good quality. Because fertility is cause for much of the great annual loss in eggs, a greater effort will be made this year than ever before to remove old roosters from farms and thus assure more infertile eggs that will keep well.

The premium price offered for roosters the rest of this week by Ord poultry dealers should do much to rid the farms of Valley and near-by counties of all old roosters.

Still your roosters in Ord this week and assure continuing good prices for your eggs.

Butter Institute at Court House Tonight

At the court house in Ord at 7:30 o'clock tonight, under the auspices of the Nebraska department of agriculture, a butter institute is being held, purpose being to acquaint cream buyers with the new state and federal regulations in regard to cream.

H. E. Tagg, state inspector, will be a speaker and presiding officer will be Fred W. Coe, manager of the Ord Cooperative Creamery. Cream buyers from North Loup, Elyria and Arcadia, as well as Ord, are expected to be present. A similar meeting was held Monday night at Loup City, another at St. Paul Tuesday night, and another will be held Thursday night in Burwell.

The federal government is seeking to improve quality of dairy products by condemning at central markets butter, cheese and ice cream made from cream or milk that is regarded as unfit for human consumption. New tests recently devised detect the presence of dirt or mould in butter even though it was made from pasteurized cream, and penalty for selling such butter or other dairy product is confiscation of the product itself plus heavy fines. The new regulations will be explained to cream buyers at the meeting in Ord tonight, and by them will be passed on to producers.

Ideal Conditions Attend Observing of Memorial Day

Judge Spikes of St. Paul Spoke; Legion and G. A. R. Ladies Take Usual Part.

Friday was an ideal day for memorial services, and at the usual hour of 10:30 a. m. a large crowd had assembled in the Ord cemetery for the program. It was partly cloudy during the forenoon, and a light sprinkle fell at 10 a. m., not enough, however, to make the day too wet.

The procession formed, as usual, at the south gate of the cemetery, and followed the winding road, ending at the memorial plot. This year, due to the courtesy of car owners, the path of the procession was clear all the way, a fact that was very appreciated by all who marched.

At the head of the procession marched the colors and color guard, Archie Geweke, Bob Hall, Bill Heuck and C. J. Mortensen. The Ord band followed, playing music suitable for the occasion. Other groups in the parade were the firing squad, the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary, and other organizations.

At the end of the march all groups marched into the memorial plot, which had been enlarged and improved by the American Legion this spring, and each group having a part in the program took its appointed place, the others remaining in the shade of the trees in the rear.

All stood at attention and the firing squad stood at parade rest while Rev. Clarence Jensen of Bethany Lutheran church delivered the memorial prayer. Following the prayer the rifles were stacked, the colors placed, and these groups fell back to await their part of the program.

The Ladies of the G. A. R. next gave their memorial service, those taking active part being Mrs. Ivan Bolts, Mrs. Emma Hansen, Mrs. S. W. Roe, Miss May McCune, Mrs. H. H. Hohn, Mrs. C. W. Clark and Mrs. James Holsington. The male quartet, Arden Clark, Gould Plagg, Orville Stoddard and Gerald Jirak, then followed with a selection. This group also sang again later.

E. L. Vogeltanz introduced the speaker of the day, Judge William F. Spikes. This was the judge's first appearance in a speech before a general Ord audience, but he made a very fine impression with his talk. He has a voice well suited for the microphone, and he was heard by all whether near or far.

He began with the original idea of Memorial Day and carried the theme through to the present time, dwelling for a time on the conditions of the future. His theme, in the main was "Ameiticism." It was generally agreed that his talk was exceptionally well suited to the time and place.

The salute to the dead by the firing squad followed. Emil Pafelta was commander of the squad, and the members were C. W. Clark, Frank Piskorski, Harry Wolfe, F. J. L. Benda, John Horn, James Gilbert, Cecil Wardrop and Mark Gyger. The band, which had played earlier in the program, then played the national air, followed by "Taps," first by the band, and then echoed by James Ollis, jr., from a distance.

Much of the success of the program was due to the new arrangement of the memorial plot by the Legionnaires, who moved the hedge further out, raised a sodded space for the program, and a grave mound for the Ladies of the G. A. R. ceremony. Also the use of the Auble public address system, with A. J. Auble and Hilding Pearson in charge.

DECORATION DAY.

The first printed account of a Decoration Day service in Ord, so far as can be found, appeared in the June 4 issue of the Ord Weekly Quiz in 1886.

A large concourse of people assembled at Ord on Monday to witness the decoration ceremonies. The exercises were begun at the bandstand, the meeting being presided over by S. H. Webster.

The Webster mentioned above was Captain S. H. Webster, who at the time was commander of Foot Post No. 40 Grand Army of the Republic, located at Ord, and M. E. Getter, still living at Tanjung, Calif., was the adjutant.

CAPT. S. H. WEBSTER.

Since that day the people of the Ord territory have gone to the cemetery once each year to decorate the steadily increasing number of graves.

The contrast between the first decoration day service and the one of last Friday is startling. In the first place, in the early days the people went out into the fields and meadows and gathered wild flowers for decorating.

The "little folks sang the Star Spangled Banner." This year the young people played the national anthem in a way that the pioneers would not have deemed possible.

Then the program was held from the bandstand, which was located at the southwest corner of the courthouse yard. At the end of the program all who desired fell in line and marched to the cemetery, going by way of the present location of the Ord Catholic church across the bridge near the Prince place, and on to the cemetery, which then had no permanent fence if any at all.

This year the program was held in one of the finest natural amphitheatres in the country, a public address system carrying the words and music to all parts of the cemetery. The band marched out from the high school, through the park that was a cow pasture then, beneath towering trees where in those days there were no trees at all except a few scrubby willows along the creek.

Perhaps it did not occur to any who passed through the park Friday or stopped to eat and rest beneath the shade of its trees that Bussell park was a gift of Uncle Jimmy Bussell, whose body now rests in our beautiful cemetery. Part of our heritage is this park, his gift, made beautiful by the labor of those who followed him, some of whom have already passed through the park to their eternal resting place.

In the rush of making a living it is good for us to pause, once each year, to consider just how much we owe to those who have gone before. Comparisons are so futile. How can we compare the conditions in which we live today with the simpler life of the pioneer? But we owe a full measure of respect to the memory of those who have made it possible for us to live as we do today.

A SENSIBLE RULING. That was an important and sensible ruling made by District Judge E. B. Chappell last week in the Loup River Public Power district's suit against the North and Middle Loup irrigation districts, and it constituted an important victory for the cause of irrigation.

The Loup district at Columbus, which uses water only for the purpose of manufacturing electrical energy, had sought to limit greatly the amount of water that the North and Middle Loup districts might divert for irrigation use, on the ground that manufacture of energy is "domestic" use of water, which in Nebraska statutes is given priority over irrigation.

Judge Chappell ruled that production of electrical energy is manufacturing, not domestic usage, and that agriculture shall have prior right to water over power. The decision surely must be regarded as a sensible one in an agricultural state like Nebraska.

There is no reason why Nebraska may not have power and irrigation too but when the Loup district attempts to put the cart before the horse and advocates power production at the expense of irrigation it is time to call a halt. This Judge Chappell has done.

Power can be produced by other methods but only water added to the soil at proper times will produce crops.

OUR FLAG DISPLAY. Decoration Day called out all the flags still serviceable about the business section of Ord, but most of them were not at half mast as they are supposed to be in the forenoon, for the reason that many of them are no longer movable, but are fastened solidly to the pole.

It has been a long time since the uniform flag display was adopted in Ord, and in that time a number of the flags have been lost or spoiled until they can no longer be used.

The present flags, such as are left, are larger than is necessary, and also larger than is now customary. The usual size used at present is the 3 by 5 foot size, and a splendid flag in this size can be had for about a dollar and a half.

Quite a number of new business men since the display was bought and a number who have changed location do not have a standard flag at present, and a majority seem to be in favor of the new flag idea.

A GOOD JOB WELL DONE. Senator Joseph T. Knezacek returned the past week from his job at Lincoln, and he was glad to get home. He worked hard while there and took his job more seriously than many senators do.

Perhaps he made some mistakes. It is not human to be perfect, but on the whole, Knezacek did as well as any first term man this district has ever had.

While in Lincoln he made the statement: "What my people need is rain, and not more laws." He did not introduce many laws, the only one being the Fort Hartsuff resolution, but we must admit that we are getting the rain. Whether Joe had anything to do with that or not, the moisture is certainly appreciated.

The Fort Hartsuff resolution took a lot more work than most people suppose. The fact that it did not carry an immediate appropriation may have been a disappointment to many, but it is true that it could not have passed at all if it had not been for the enabling act, and the purchase can be made whenever the funds are raised without any further trouble.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Poultry Column.

Several people have inquired of me lately about raising their little chickens, as if I should know more or have any better luck than many others.

He gave us a formula for mixing a mash for poultry called Nebraska Dry Mash Formula No. 3 which anyone can get from the county agent or the university, and which is pretty long to give here.

Mr. C. advocated several neighbors go to the elevator and contract with the manager to grind and prepare a ton or more and buyers then figure the cost for their own share.

Mr. C. said one should build a cheap summer shelter and take the pullets off to some alfalfa patch or grove away from the old hens, until they are about six months old and ready for the laying house.

He said, too, one should start soon to culling his laying flock, selling a few every week, in place of all at once later.

Rev. Ehret said that man, fifty years old, was as tickled over it as a child. When the Agricultural Department heard of his success they called him to Washington for consultation.

Wm. Schudel drove up in the sandhills somewhere to look for a milk cow he heard was for sale. When he arrived and looked the herd over he found the owner had 12 milk cows and not another head of livestock on the place.

Bill asked what he did with the skimmed milk and the owner said they fed it back to the milk cows after separating. Bill picked on one cow but the wife did not want to sell her very badly because that cow drank the skimmed milk the best of any in the herd.

Rev. Ehret never saw listed corn before he came here to Nebraska last year. Many people have lost some of their Chinese elm trees this spring.

There are three varieties of trees safe to plant in this country. The cottonwood for the lower and more wet locations; the hackberry and the cedar. All others just die too often for safe planting.

Annual School Meeting Will Be Held June 9. Many thousands of patrons who are interested in providing and maintaining good schools for the boys and girls of Nebraska will attend their annual school meeting on Monday, June 9.

Patrons often take an inventory of equipment and needs of the school at the annual meeting. Many school districts at this time check the equipment of their schools with the Nebraska rural school standards.

This annual school meeting will be held on June 9, the second Monday in June, in the schoolhouses of all school districts in the state of Nebraska that are organized under Article 3 and Article 6.

One of the important transactions is the election of at least one school board member. The district school boards have the general care of the schools.

This report includes the number of children of school age in the district, the number of pupils attending during the year, the number of pupils of compulsory school age in the district, the length of the school term, an itemized account of expenditures, a detailed account of receipts, and similar data.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I Knew It Would Happen.

The Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebraska. Hey! What's the idea of crowding out Hank Leggett's own column, recently?

That is probably the worst column in North America and I save each one as a horrible example of how not to write a column. . . . I show it to young fellows with journalistic aspirations and to young fellows with republican leanings.

Stop crowding out that feature or I shall withdraw my advertising support of your publication, which, you know, would mean bankruptcy for you.

I have been telling Eugene and John Ward something like this was going to happen if they kept on leaving my copy out of the paper. Now one of our best and oldest customers has gone and got mad on us just because he has been taking the Quiz all these years to read my column and thus keep himself informed.

But before ten o'clock we were both hungry and at eleven o'clock we stopped at a school house a few miles south of Yankton to eat an early noonday lunch.

We made a short stop at Neligh to call on the Rev. Robbersons and found them well and apparently happy.

It was pretty warm driving the first half of the day but it was cloudy about half of the time, which made it much nicer than it would have been otherwise.

We turned onto 81 from No. 20 and crossed the Missouri at Yankton, a way we have not gone for several years. Found a good road as far as Stanley, then turned east on 15, a paved road to Sioux Falls, then north to Lone Tree and angled over to Pipestone from there and continued north on 75 through Lake Benton. Ivanhoe and Canby and on north another 20 miles where we turned onto a paved road through Dawson, Montevideo to Wilmar. Soon after we left Pipestone we ran into a dense fog. It had already turned colder and threatened rain. We drove for nearly a hundred miles through the fog, where every car was driving with lights on. At Dawson it started to rain while we were buying gas and it was soon pouring and continued to rain hard for a couple of hundred miles.

Among the excellent new books in the Ord Library which you may be interested in, if you have grade-school-size children is one called "Exploring Religion with Eight-Year-Olds." I am sure you will enjoy it, although there is not a great deal of religion in it, the title is misleading. Rather it is a study of a class of alert-minded and interesting children who meet for three hours each Sunday. It is the story of what they actually say and do, and how their very wise teachers teach them to correlate life, modern and hard-to-explain-life with the rules. The rules are old, the same old rules perhaps, but their interpretation is different in this case and it is made appealing to the youngsters.

Without doubt all Sunday school teachers will want to read this book, many parents will enjoy reading it, numbers of children and other people will enjoy it.

Although it doesn't have any answers for questions such as my little three-year-old nephew of Ansley asked upon his return from Sunday school a couple of weeks ago: "Mama, what does God do when Jesus is naughty?"

There are lots of us these days who would like to be able to find the answers in books. They say history repeats itself but I don't seem to see the parallel, so far. When was the world involved and apparently all of it bound up in a single war?

It gave me rather a turn last week to glance at a letter from a reader in the Quiz and see it signed "Everett Gross" for the reason that I remember the day he won a spelling contest and the Quiz presented him with a free trip to Omaha. I led him into the Quiz office and it to him and him to it, for he was the winner of the spelling contest and had won the free trip.

If he is army size now I reckon he must be bigger than he was that day. He was a little fellow who won out against many larger spellers. Of course I admit size has little to do with spelling, then or now.

Echoes of a long-dead cooking column: Mrs. Joe Kokes of Atkinson would like the recipe for Lazy Pickles that was printed in the Quiz several years ago. If you have this recipe and the time to write it on a penny postal, I am sure she will be very grateful to you.

If you haven't seen these new Quiz cookbooks, stop in. The one that is educational is especially fine . . . it tells the different kinds of coffee, where they grow, the differences and advantages, the best way to buy them, to use them, for instance. The kind of information about food that grocers and chefs usually know and the rest of us blunder along without. It is chock full of fascinating food-facts.

Of course you may prefer the fish book or the egg book or even the potato book. Or, now that the summer arrived with a rush, the refrigerator dessert book!

Pocket Knife Violin
Violin making—both in miniature and standard size—is a hobby of Anthony Klonaris, of Youngstown, Ohio, whose only tool is a pocket knife. Klonaris has been making violins for the past three years.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Oscar Goff, realizing that necessity is the mother of invention, has devised a method of getting the sod cut away from the edge of the walks around the grade school, and doing it in a short space of time. The other day he got busy with a garden plow with the regular plow blade, and he certainly did a fine job and did it in a quarter of the time it could be done any other way.

Two lovely baskets of flowers in the Petska store windows made one of the finest Decoration Day displays in Ord. By the way, that 4-blossomed tulip pictured in the Quiz recently, and raised in the Petska yard, went Robert Ripley one better. Last week in his column, "Believe It Or Not," he told of a tulip with three blossoms. The Petska's, not only had the four-blossomed tulip, but also had a three-blossomed plant growing right beside it.

Archie Rowbal got busy and rigged up a sample soap box derby racer with a cardboard body, and had it on display Saturday. Needless to say, it was a most interesting sight for the kiddies, and for some who were kiddies a long, long time ago, as well. There is hardly a garage in Ord that does not have a soap box racer in the making somewhere about.

John Ward has been writing poetry ever since he was a lad, which was at least 50 years or so ago, while his wife hasn't done much in the rhyming line, but when both submitted jingles in the WOW contest on the same day last week it was Mrs. Ward who won the first prize.

Circus Coming Tuesday Under Legion Auspices

After a number of years, this city is to be entertained by a real circus. Dalley Bros. Circus is the title of the attraction, the date will be Tuesday, June 10, the place will be the fair grounds and the sponsors will be the American Legion.

Dalley Bros. Circus is new in this section but it is a well established show and tours about twenty states annually. The management does not boast of its magnitude but rather insists that they maintain an exceptional high standard of performance, introducing for the first time in Nebraska several features.

The slogan of Dalley Bros. Circus is "never before so much, so good, for so little." In addition to quality as to the merit of their show Dalley Bros. have been fortunate in their organization and thereby are proving that after all there is something new under the sun with a circus. A very pleasing feature with this show is the presence of a score of young ladies in the personnel of the company. Any one of them could win a beauty contest on account of their beauty and perfect figures. Not only are these young maids good to look upon, but during the two hour performance they will repeatedly demonstrate their courage and bravery as they execute gracefully and with apparent ease, death defying stunts.

Most of the circus celebrities of Europe fled to America on account of the war, only to find that the number of shows in this country had been reduced by the draft. This circumstance enabled Dalley Bros. to contract the cream of the circus talent on a salary basis which permits them to offer the greatest amusement bargain ever known in circus history.

Original novelties, sensational thrills, plenty of clean comedy, trained animals, presented in a rapid and attractive manner will give the spectators at Dalley Bros. Circus much pleasing entertainment. The program is presented in two rings, on the hippodrome track and in mid-air. There will not be any street parade.

The American Legion will receive a liberal percentage of the gross receipts of all performances given on the Ord fair ground Tuesday, June 10.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClellan, of Fremont, came Friday and remained until Sunday visiting their nieces, Miss Norene Hardenbrook and Mrs. Forrest Johnson, and in the home of their nephew, Daryl Hardenbrook.

Young Eels Swim Over

Everything but Niagara "Glass fish" which hatch from eggs of eels, are tiny swimmers and grow to be two or three inches long before they start to change.

The glass fish is as flat as an elm leaf, which it resembles in shape. Its parents are dead, and its only comrades are orphan eels like itself.

Some strange force, or race memory, leads many glass fish to swim northeastward across the Atlantic toward Europe. Others head toward North America.

The young eels which swim toward Europe spend about two years in the form of glass fish. Then they stop eating, or at least eat very little. During this time they shrink in size! Their bodies lose much of their width, and take on a rounded shape.

At this stage, the young eels are known as "elvers." They look more like their parents, but are extremely short, measuring only about two inches.

The life course of these eels (but not of all kinds of eels) calls for them to enter fresh water. This they do. Those which enter European rivers are about three years old. Those which go into North American rivers are about a year younger, but have gone through the same stages.

Making their way upstream, the young eels are able to pass over rocky ledges in the river bed. One place where they are "stopped" is at Niagara falls. At certain times there have been enough eels in the waters near Niagara falls to fill scores of trucks.

Eels which are stopped in an upstream journey may leave the river at night or early morning and crawl overland. Moving through dewy grass, they seem to get along almost as well as when they are in the water. They try to find ponds or some other body of water. Eels are found in ponds located miles from any river.

Great Difference Noted In Musical Instruction

Some interesting comments and sidelights on the teaching of music in the schools and on methods of teaching are made in an interview by Mr. Hubert Martindale of Toronto.

First and foremost Mr. Martindale finds a great difference now as against conditions 10 years ago. The teaching of music in the schools in his opinion has wrought a great change for the better and he sees no reason why there should not be a continued improvement.

The main point that is pertinent in his remarks concerns the method of teaching, for Mr. Martindale belongs to the school that believes in production of sound by means of the vocal cords and air passages in the head. This theory holds that the lips and teeth have nothing to do with voice production, but only to speak the words.

Following up on this theory Mr. Martindale's idea is that the best preliminary training for music is reading aloud. He contends that many children do not sing well because they do not know how to articulate properly, and that there are many good voices.

Certainly the teaching of music has a fine background effect, even though children never become singers. It is all part of the general cultural effect and certainly a benefit to the child.

Takes His Iron Straight R. A. Clark, South Dakota, takes his iron every day for health's sake—and he takes it straight. His unusual diet consists of such metallic delicacies as fish hooks, razor blades and thumb tacks, and electric bulbs. He took up this unusual way of making a living 17 years ago after watching an old Indian do it.

To date he has eaten approximately 30,000 razor blades and 10,000 fish hooks. He claims to be the only one in the world who eats fish hooks. But eating shatterproof windshield glass is the hardest of all, he revealed, as "it takes a lot of chewing for what little good you get out of it."

To save wear and tear on his teeth, Clark had them plated with platinum and gold alloy some years ago and despite his years of eating metal and glass his teeth are in perfect condition. Clark is a vaudeville actor.

Slot-Machine Chances

You have one chance in 1,000 of getting the jack pot in a slot machine, according to the late Dr. E. E. Free, scientific consultant and member of New York university faculty. He discovered this after an extensive investigation. The average slot-machine pays out, on the average, only about three-fifths of the money taken in. You have one chance in 500 of getting 16 coins or slugs; one in 83 1/2 to get 8; one in 16 2/3 to get 4; and one in 11 1/3 to get 2. There are various ways of fixing these machines so they won't pay the jackpot, or to increase or decrease the odds against the player.

Indian Summer

In England and France, the period known here as Indian summer, is known as St. Martin's summer because of a legend that after St. Martin had shared his cloak with a beggar on a wintry day in November, summer came back again, because of his kind deed.

Vitamins Drafted for National Defense

White flour has been enriched with vitamins and minerals in an attempt to raise national health standards and to safeguard national morale. Science, government and industry are cooperating in a plan to incorporate these "spark plugs of the human system" in the diet of all citizens.

as fat; another is essential to the maintenance of special tissues. Acute deficiency of vitamins results in scurvy, rickets, pellagra and other frightful scourges. But doctors are attributing a growing list of ailments to vitamin deficiency. Too, deficiency of one vitamin usually means an insufficient supply of most of them.

Governments have concerned themselves with vitamins in the diet of their peoples for various reasons. Germany employs vitamins by issuing high vitamin-value rations to her soldiers to increase their physical stamina and mental alertness, and by subjecting the peoples of occupied territories to vitamin-starvation, so that they will be reduced to such a state of depression and despair that they will be easy to hold in subjugation. The importance of vitamins was called to the attention of England in studies of "night blindness" in pilots of the Royal Air Force. Acting on the knowledge revealed by these studies, England legislated vitamin fortification into foods generally to aid the populace to withstand the nerve strain of bombing raids and the crowded conditions of air-raid shelters.

Our own government became concerned over vitamin deficiencies through the campaign against pellagra in the South and through the studies of diets of people on relief rolls. Strangely enough, they found that people of all income classes suffer from vitamin deficiency—that those most able to buy anything they want to eat sometimes suffer most through improper choice or improper preparation and cooking of foods.

Flour was designated as the first staple food to be fortified because flour—bread—is eaten by everyone in some form or another every day. By the enrichment of flour, vitamins can be brought into the diet of all people, rich or poor. Also foods which naturally contain the vitamins are logical carriers for enrichment. The whole wheat-kernel is rich in Vitamin B1 but such whole-grain flour spoils in storage. Moreover, many people do not like bread baked from it. Enrichment restores the vitamins and minerals of the whole wheat to white flour without detracting from its keeping qualities or from the fine texture of white bread baked from it.

Cooperating with the recommendations of the Committee on Nutrition of the National Research Council, the Federation has agreed to "enrich" white flour with the vitamins and minerals found to be most generally lacking. The Omar Milling Company was one of the first large companies to cooperate in this plan for improved health standards. On the market last month went "Enriched Wonder Flour" fortified with the vitamins and minerals specified by the Committee—Vitamin B1 or thiamin—essential to body growth, steady nerves, healthy appetite and proper utilization of food; nicotinic acid—the pellagra-preventive factor, which is also found in milk, lean meats, liver and green vegetables; and iron—without which the body cannot maintain its supply of red blood corpuscles. Omar is going a step farther than most concerns and launching an educational campaign in a wide range of newspapers and magazines in an effort to answer the public's questions about vitamins and to enlist their support in this worthwhile government-sponsored undertaking for national health.

It happens sometimes that the by-product of an industry turns out to be its most important product. Health authorities expect vitamin fortification of foods to make an epochal advance in nutrition, to be as great a contribution to longer and more useful life as were diphtheria toxoid and small-pox vaccine. It may well prove to be that the heightened health standard of the nation may be the most important accomplishment of the whole defense movement.

NORTH LOUP

A group of people, representatives of the different organizations in North Loup, met Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins to discuss the recreational problems of the village. An organization was perfected with Mrs. Albert Babcock as president, Selma Robbins secretary and Mrs. A. L. McMinder, treasurer. A number of committees were appointed with heads as follows, Girl Reserves, Mrs. Clarence Switzer; small children's playground, Mrs. T. J. Hamer; high school girls vocations, Mrs. J. A. Barber; grounds and equipment for sports, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goodrich; a room for a recreational center, Mrs. John Manchester. When the community building is completed it is hoped some provision for a recreational room can be made there but the need for such a place is keenly felt for the summer. There are a number of vacant lots grown up to weeds that would be ideal for tennis courts, croquet grounds, soft ball and various divisions for the children and young people of the village and this group hopes to have some of these projects in operation before the summer is far gone. Cooperation of all organizations as well as everyone in the village will be needed and will no doubt be given.

56 Pound Sailfish Caught by Mrs. Ign. Klima, jr.

Family of Valley County Clerk Had Pleasant Vacation

Fishing, Sight-Seeing, Visiting Relatives, Made Time Pass Rapidly for Ordites.

The thrill all fishermen dream about came to Mrs. Ign. Klima, jr. on their recent trip to Florida. She hooked and landed a sail fish that measured six feet, eight inches and weighed 56 pounds. Tackling this giant was really sport, she reports, and gave her the thrill of a career of hunting and fishing, at which she is no novice. She landed her fish in only 20 minutes.

Other members of the party also had good luck at deep sea fishing, landing bonito, dolphins, cobia and sailfish weighing from ten to 33 pounds. They fished two days off Salerno, Fla., and regretted they could not spend more time that way.

Mrs. Klima was also most happy to receive a certificate from the skipper of the boat to the Chamber of Salerno, and was then awarded a bronze button and certificate of membership in the Stuart Sailfish club of Salerno, Fla. So when she tells of her big moment, she has pictures and documents to back her story.

Mr. and Mrs. Klima and daughter Doris and son Bob returned to Ord Friday evening from their southern trip. They visited Mr. Klima's two sisters, Vlasta and Wilma at Vero Beach, Fla., and brought his mother, Mrs. Mary Klima to make her home in Ord. For the past five years she has resided in Florida.

Although they did not have much time for sight-seeing, what they had was used to good advantage. They stopped in New Orleans a few hours, they visited St. Augustine, the oldest town in the United States, where the fountain of youth and many historical places of interest are located. They also inspected Miami America's winter playground.

Coming home, they observed that at crops through Nebraska, Kansas, and northern Texas and Mississippi, also in Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee were very good. But in Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida the drouth was felt and citrus growers are becoming much concerned about their crops. Many sections of that country have not had any rain for more than 45 days.

Better Telephone Service Sought by the Ord Chamber

Members Voted Join Company in Asking Railway Commission for New System.

On a record vote, members of the Ord Chamber of Commerce voted Thursday evening to join forces with the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, owner of the Ord telephone exchange, in an application to the Nebraska Railway Commission for a new system in Ord at a schedule of rates slightly higher than rates in effect here now.

This action climaxed two months of negotiation by the Chamber in which better service for Ord has been sought.

Ord business interests have maintained that the "Model T" equipment in use here is not capable of providing telephone subscribers with satisfactory service, and requested officials of the telephone company to provide more modern equipment.

A. B. Clark, president of Nebraska Continental, countered with an offer to build a new brick building, install the most modern type of common battery equipment, and replace all present telephones with wall or desk type monophones, at rates of $4.25 for business firms and $2.25 for residences per month.

Figures showing that his company would have to make an additional investment of approximately $30,000 to provide over such improved service were submitted by President Clark.

The Chamber sent E. C. Leggett, chairman of its telephone committee, to Lincoln last Thursday to confer with John B. Schnell, chief accountant for the Railway Commission, as to whether the expenditures proposed by the company would require such a rate increase, and to find out whether the rates proposed by Clark were in line with rates charged elsewhere in Nebraska for service of similar quality.

Mr. Leggett's report to the Chamber membership Thursday evening showed that rates ranging from $4.00 to $5.00 per month for business service and $2.00 to $2.75 per month for residence service are charged in practically all Nebraska cities of Ord's size.

Because of the defense emergency, costs of all telephone equipment are rising rapidly. Mr. Leggett was told by the Commission accountants and engineers, and they expressed little doubt that the company could, if a formal investigation and hearing were held by the Commission, justify its request for rate increases after new equipment is installed.

Oil Well Will Be "Spudded In" Soon, Major Companies Showing Interest

RAY E. COLTON, D. Sc., Oil and Gas Science Writer.

Oil, unlike gold, is not where one "may find it," and if the "black gold" is found during drilling operations on the William Vogeler farm located in the northwest 1/4 of section 33, township 18 North, Range 13 west of the 6th principal meridian of North Loup township, Valley county, it will be found under the same conditions under which oil has been found in southeastern Nebraska and other oil and gas producing areas of the mid-continent area.

At this writing, derrick to a height of 66 feet is erected on the scene of coming drilling operations and "spudding in" apparatus preparatory to hooking on to rotary tools, is in place awaiting the signal to "go." Previous geologic studies by Dr. Victor Ziegler, eminent field petroleum geologist, who examined the area during the summer of 1931, reports the site "as offering the best bet for commercial recovery of crude oil in this part of Nebraska." Dr. Ziegler, now in the Falls City area of southeastern Nebraska, has been largely responsible for some of the important fields which have been developed there.

The well will be drilled by Veeder-West Drilling Corporation of Cherryvale, Kas., one of the largest drilling contractors on the North American continent. This concern operates in Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas, Nebraska and as far west as New Mexico. Petroleum data gives them as possessing at least 18 to 25 rotary drilling rigs.

Mr. Bredthauer appears very optimistic over his coming drilling venture, and he is perfectly sincere in his efforts to bring in a producing oil well in this part of central Nebraska. Previous experience of Mr. Bredthauer in the Lance Creek oil field near Lusk, Niobrara county, Wyo., where he brought in two producers, will stand him in good stead in this latest drilling exploit which he is undertaking. The chart is reproduced on the two middle inside pages, and also a second picture of Fuson. The chart is on exhibition at the office of J. T. Knezacek, where it can be seen in the window, and all Pat's friends are invited to have a look at it there.

Flagg Is Named Governor of Boys' State at Lincoln

Ord Athlete Heads 250 Boys at Legion Encampment; Managed His Own Campaign.

Gould B. Flagg, jr., Ord's delegate to the 1941 Cornhusker Boys' State, Tuesday was elected governor of the encampment over Robert Koepcke, of Omaha, after a primary campaign in which he urged the 250 boys at the camp to be patriotic and used the slogan: "Everybody Carry Flagg."

He was the nominee of the federalist party, winning out over eight other candidates, and defeated young Koepcke, who was the nominee of the nationalist party.

GOULD FLAGG, JR.

Sixteen years old, Gould is a junior in Ord high school where he has won letters in football, basketball and track and participated in many school activities.

Young Flagg managed his own primary campaign but in the general election had the backing of the federalist party chairman.

Other officers elected at Boys' State include Frank Stelmans, Scottell F., lieutenant governor, Gordon I. A. Hilton, Norfolk, attorney general, Wilbur Craig, York, chief justice of the Supreme court. Paul Rynyan, Burwell's representative at Boys' State, was the nationalist nominee for attorney general but was defeated. Dale Mulligan, of North Loup, was elected a member of the Boys' State legislature.

Boys' State is sponsored annually by the American Legion and is held on the University of Nebraska agricultural college campus.

Girls' State, sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary, is being held on the University of Nebraska campus this week. Delegate from Ord is Iryze Iwanski, from Burwell is Myrtle Banks and from North Loup is Francis Goodrich.

Rain, Cold Weather, Prevalent in County

Continuing rains and colder weather have been general throughout Nebraska for the past few days, with Valley county no exception although this territory has missed the torrential rains which sent eastern and southern Nebraska rivers into the flood stage.

In Ord rainfall for June totalled 1.59 up to Tuesday evening, reports Horace Travis. This includes rainfall of .47 of an inch Sunday and .42 of an inch Monday. A light shower fell Tuesday night which is not included in the June total, and some rain has fallen this morning.

Coldest temperature was Monday morning with 48 degrees but Sunday morning was only 54 and Tuesday morning 55.

Chamber Planning Old-Fashioned 4th of July Celebration

Soap Box Races, Picnic, Water Fights, Baseball and Band Among Day's Events.

An "old-fashioned" 4th of July celebration to which all of central Nebraska will be invited is being planned by the Ord Chamber of Commerce. Decision to hold the celebration was made last Thursday evening and C. J. Morensen, Chamber president, has named M. B. Cummins, mayor of the city, as general chairman of the celebration committee.

"For the first time in many years Ord will hold a 4th of July celebration," says Cummins in announcing the event. "In fact, the last Fourth of July that was celebrated in Ord is so far back that many children have grown to manhood and womanhood without knowing what Fourth of July means or what a Fourth of July celebration is, so far as Ord is concerned. This year we are going to try and put on a more or less old fashion celebration and we know that it can and will be successful with the united cooperation and support of the various committees."

Feature event of the morning will be the Soap Box Derby, for which plans have been made by the Cosmopolitan club. Ed Gnaster is chairman of the Cosmo committee having this event in charge. Twenty or more cars will compete in these races, which will be held on the South 21st street hill on the morning of July 4th, starting at 9:30. Various merchandise prizes such as air rifles, baseball gloves, flashlights, etc., are being bought and will soon be on display in the store windows of Ord.

Boys are now at work on their racers, some using wheels and axles furnished by Ord business firms and others using strictly "home grown" material. Cosmopolitans emphasize that any boy is eligible to build a soap box racer and compete, provided his car complies with weight and other specifications. Information will be furnished to all interested by Mr. Gnaster.

Although other plans for the celebration are not complete, it is known that a baseball game between Ord and Ashton will be held in the afternoon, Paul Hubert being chairman in charge of this event. There will be horse-shoe pitching contests, which are being arranged by Clyde Baker, Olin Kellison and Charlie Hather. There will be a water fight staged by the Ord fire department. George Munn is in charge of arranging for a 4th of July speech. There will be tennis matches, with Ralph Misko in charge, and free golf play with M. Biemond in charge. Races for boys and girls will be staged under the direction of Fred Coe and Dr. J. W. McGinnis. Band concerts and other music are being arranged for by Henry Deines and in the evening there will be pavement and hall dances with Jay Auble in charge.

The afternoon program will be held at Bussell park and on Ord's new athletic field to the east of Bussell park. The evening program will take place in the business district.

People are especially invited to bring picnic lunches at noon and eat them at Bussell park. Most of the plans are tentative but the various committees met last night and will meet again at frequent intervals to perfect their plans. In the meantime, a cordial invitation is extended to everybody to celebrate the 4th of July in Ord this year.

Golf Club Opens New Night Driving Range

Members of the Ord Golf Club and their wives held a guest night picnic Friday evening at Bussell park in connection with opening of the club's new flood-lighted driving range on the north edge of the golf course. Several Ord couples were guests of club members at the picnic and took part in driving and approaching contests held at the new range.

Another new club policy, free lessons for Ord women who want to learn to play golf, was announced by Mayor M. B. Cummins, at the request of the golf club president, Miss Clara McClatchey. The lessons will be given each afternoon by Bud Shirley, club professional.

Attend Graduation. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cahill and Hugh left this morning for New Haven, Conn., to be present when their son Fred, jr., is given his doctor's degree in political science. They will be gone about two weeks and will visit in Detroit and at Washington, D. C. Fred will not return with them, as he will teach in the College of the City of New York this summer.

INFAMY IS FLEETING.

Last week there died at Doorn, Holland, a broken old man. Because, when he could not do otherwise, he became resigned to his fate, William Hohenzollern is referred to in papers as a mellow old man, not haughty nor austere.

In world affairs a man lives just as long for his misdeeds as does another for his good deeds. Yet, despite this fact, it is doubtful if a very large percentage of the present high school graduate could have told without looking it up just who William Hohenzollern was.

The human soul cannot long maintain the feeling of hate in a world in which there is so much to love. Had the Kaiser succeeded in his attempt to dominate Europe, his name would have found a place among the immortals of history.

We have no quarrel with the sentimentalists who insist on calling the Kaiser mellow, but we cannot help but recall that there is another name applied to over-ripe fruit. The boys who went across the sea to fight against and crush his hopes of world domination still remember him as a ruthless destroyer.

Today another man, transplanted to Germany from Austria, is embarked on a rule of the world or ruin policy, and, like the Kaiser, he will not stop until he is compelled to do so by force of arms.

It does not appear that Hitler will live to see the fulfillment of all the conquests he has planned, nor to see the eventual defeat of the powerful military machine he has built.

Should he live to see some kind of peace at the close of the present war, should he be forced into retirement as was the Kaiser, some day silly sentimentalists will refer to him as a "mellow old man."

Compared with Hitler, the Kaiser had much to recommend him. First, he was a family man, with a strong love of home and children; next, he was a strong believer in church and race liberty, and he did not persecute the church nor the Jews, at least, not to the extent it is being done today.

BURDEN OF GOOD ROADS. The story of the farmer who bought more land to raise more corn to feed more hogs to buy more land, etc., has a parallel in the road situation in America.

Not so long ago Highway 281 north out of Grand Island to St. Paul was paved with the new type of earth surfacing, then considered capable of holding the traffic over the highway.

Meanwhile some newer and better methods of constructing roads cheaply will be devised, and this will be tried out on roads under construction at the time.

There is no criticism of the state highway department, which is doing a fine job of the roads in the state. But it shows the handicap under which these men have to work.

Also, the paved roads in Nebraska and throughout the nation are taking their share of pounding from traffic and are showing the results. In many places at present there are detours where the paving is being repaired or replaced, after being in use only a few years.

COURTEOUS GUESTS.

Bud Shirley, caretaker and general supervisor at Bussell park, tell this story:

One Sunday recently thirty-three cars filled with farm families of the Ord territory came to the park about 10 o'clock in the morning and spent the day. In the afternoon and evening the children and all played happily in the park for hours.

Shortly after their departure, says Bud, he walked through the picnic grounds. The group had picked up every dish, every scrap of paper, all empty cans, bits of food and the other debris incident to a picnic, and placed it in the receptacles provided for that purpose.

That evening says Bud, another group came to the picnic ground. There were thirteen cars filled with people, all residents of Ord. Again there were a number of children who played in the swings and ran about the grounds.

This group had not troubled to pick up paper plates or tin cans or empty bottles. They had simply thrown the debris from the tables to the ground and left it there.

Who appreciates our fine park the most, residents of Ord or the people of our neighboring farm communities? From the record of this one Sunday it would seem that people who have no direct interest in the park, or ownership of it, are more willing to cooperate in keeping it a clean, pleasant place to picnic and to play than are Ord residents who should know better.

Something Different

I am beginning to worry about Mrs. Roosevelt's husband, Mr. Roosevelt. I did not vote for him, but he was elected just the same.

And every recent picture of him shows him so much more aged and tired-looking. He seems to get more haggard daily.

Just as I was about to give up and swear it never rained in this country, that this never was the beautiful valley of my recollections, along comes a spring when it can't do anything but rain, and the valley is more velvety and green than any park could be.

Do you suppose the weather man is contrary, or has a sense of humor? When we get irrigation we don't need irrigation. Each time the authorities turn the water on this spring they turn it off again in a day or two, because we have had another big rain.

And people who want to plant grass seed have to sow it through the rain drops. And ladies who want to clean house have to dash out with draperies and carpets and then run out and snatch them in again when the dark sky opens with another downpour.

When it rains in this country it means business. Another downpour Ord is about to have is one of circuses.

When we have circuses, we have circuses. This spring no sooner had one circus plastered bills on all the old buildings used only for this purpose than Whoop! bills for another circus appeared beside the first.

How will the kids stand it? How will their daddy's pocket-books stand it?

Mrs. Lova Trindle writes from the Masonic home at Plattsmouth that she is homesick and would be glad to hear from or to see any Ord people.

Above is shown a very fine photo of a group of Ord young ladies of about fifty years ago. Standing, left to right are: Mabel Klinckler, Dolly Williams, and a young lady whose name is forgotten. The four seated through the middle, left to right, are: Miss Sarah McLain, Miss Cora McCord (now Mrs. W. L. McCullen, sr., Burwell), Miss Jennie Reed, and Miss Jennie McCord. Below is either Fannie or Ella McCord, and Miss McMullen, sister of Billy McMullen. This is believed to be correct, but with old time photos mistakes are always possible.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

More Letters

The following is a letter written by my mother to her grand children upon her departure to Long Beach, Calif., after visiting here a few weeks.

Thursday, May 10: 4:35 o'clock. We are going into a terrible storm and I can smell the dust. Do not know what is coming. It surely looks fierce. We are somewhere between Sidney and North Platte.

It is Saturday morning about 5:30. We are in the great mountains again; now out in a side valley. Now San Bernardino (5:40) where there is a very nice depot. The Santa Fe stands on the tracks. Seventy minutes to Long Beach.

It is 6:30 and we are between Evanston and Ogden where I honeymooned 44 years ago. This country is vastly green—not rocky mountains—and small plateaus cultivated, with snow capped mountains in the distance.

The Salt Lake Valley is one of the finest I ever saw, commencing narrow with small patches of level land and widening at the Great Salt Lake and snow capped mountains on each side. Then at the west growing narrow again, makes it surely something to see and remember.

Stockton, U. S., 5002 feet. The road was so steep they had to have another engine to push or pull. A beautiful valley but no nice home or farms. The conductor says the reason is there is no water. It is green and lovely now.

Tintic 1:10 in the desert. Wide valley but all sand and sage brush. Just returned from lunch. There are 26 cars on the train and I walked through 13 to the diner. We had fresh salmon with little tomato sauce mixed with onions, mashed potatoes, spinach, pie, 2 cups of coffee, bread and butter and all for 40c.

Milford 3:30. Desert only but mountains in the far distance. Not a living thing in sight for hours but a minute ago we passed a man standing by a sage bush. He could not have been lost for the railroad was near but the desert looks more lonesome than before and makes one think of storios I have read about being lost in the desert.

It is now 3:45. Just saw three calves and a small shack. Someone must live here. Four o'clock: Now I see a small oasis and two calves so I expect someone is near.

It is now 4:10. Stopped only a minute at Milford. The desert goes on, miles in every direction. Sand, sand, no sage even, but in the distance I see a shack. Just saw a tent pitched and an old auto nearby. Must be another oasis.

Caliente, 7:00 o'clock: The road is so crooked here that we often see both ends of the train and think we are coming back. Just creeping up the grade and all around great stone mountains. The highest stone mountains are so close that they shut off the light. Two tunnels in 20 minutes. Cannot see the top of the mountains.

Just passed two railroad houses built on the sides of the mountains. A young woman sat on the steps with 3 babies. Near the top of the mountain on a ledge stands a mountain goat as calm as need be, and how do they get there? Another tunnel. Now I see both ends of the train. Another goat on a high cliff.

It is now 7:30 and the mountains are getting a little smaller. Another tunnel, and another. Now seeing both ends of the train. Just getting out of Caliente and it is getting dark. Will try and sleep tonight and be in Los Angeles in the morning.

as need be, and how do they get there? Another tunnel. Now I can see both ends of the train. Another goat on a high cliff.

It is now 7:30 and the mountains are getting a little smaller. Another tunnel, and another. Now seeing both ends of the train.

Just getting out of Caliente and it is getting dark. Will try and sleep tonight and be in Los Angeles in the morning.

It is Saturday morning about 5:30. We are in the great mountains again; now out in a side valley. Now San Bernardino (5:40) where there is a very nice depot.

Everyone is dressed up to get off this morning and most women wearing slacks and all of them costume jewelry. Many going to the diner now. We are thirty minutes late.

The City of Los Angeles (a train) is all low yellow cars. A young man out with a hook to catch the mail. A long train and very dirty. It must have rained along the route.

About home now. And still it isn't home to me and I'm afraid it never will be. In fact I'm leaving home and am always counting the days until I'll be going back. Too many years living in Nebraska I guess; too many memories. Memories of covered wagons, prairie fires, grasshoppers, droughts, of Indian scares, dug outs, floods, sod houses and the throes of a new country.

Some reason, after having lived 69 years in a place, watching and helping it grow from a great sea of waving grass four feet high to a modern civilization of fine gardens and irrigation canals, it is hard to get pulled away.

Love, Grandma.

School Notes. Beckie Kriewald found out the Monday before she graduated from the Scotia high school this year that she was to be the Salutatorian of the class.

Someone said they sat near St. and his wife and he had nearly dozed off to the land of nod when suddenly he began to perk up and a smile came over his face that pricked his ears. Well, I'd think that would bring joyfulness to his soul, a surprise like that.

Two weeks ago I got things a little twisted when I said Ruth Cook is the high school student of Scotia. Now maybe that is right but it does not sound like I meant it. I meant she is the Scotia school's high student.

More Letters. A fine letter was received from Ed Helbig the other day. Ed has been on the shelf lately and time to read and think perhaps more than before. At any rate he did not think quite like I do about the war business, and told me a few things. That's all right. I'm not sure but I agree with him today. I change my mind so often about this war business that I can't quarrel very long with anyone.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

What We Do Here At Cullen Lake Camp.

Someone asked me, "What do you do there?" and here is the answer. Monday, June 2: We got up at 7 a. m. I was awake more than an hour before that but the Missus was sleeping soundly so I just laid there and listened to the scores of birds singing in the trees around the cottages, until the clock struck seven. Then I got up and started a little fire in the heater and lighted the gas stove and put the teakettle on. It was about 60 so just a little fire felt good. It always seems colder in the house than outside in the morning.

By the time I had coffee made, bacon sliced and a couple of eggs fried and the table set, the Missus came down and we had breakfast and were done eating by 8 o'clock. Then we did the dishes, there are not many when there are only two of us. Last summer for a time we were fifteen and the dish washing was quite a chore, but not too much of a task with Minnie, Christie and Lorettae on the job.

The next chore was to drive into town after the mail, some baking powder, a box of strawberries, and a few nice tomatoes which I found at the store. On the way back from town we stopped at Wallins to get some eggs and milk and I suggested to Mr. Wallin that we go to the upper lake and try for walleyes and though he was mending fence, he said he would be glad to go along. By that time it was ten o'clock. Leaving the Missus to weed the flower beds, we were soon motoring up the lake. Though I had not used the motor since last September and it had laid on the porch floor all the time and I had only fuel that had also stood over winter, the Johnson started at the first pull. It was 11 o'clock when we got anchored on the bar and it was a few moments until I landed a 2 1/2 pound walleye. Then Mr. Wallin got one that weighed three pounds and a half hour later I got another the same size. By that time it was past noon and I was hungry. We are always hungry the first few days we are here. So we went down the lake toward home. Mr. Wallin had a fine mess of pike in the two larger ones and I took the smaller fish and dressed it and by a little after one o'clock we were eating our first mess of pike of the season. It sure tasted good too.

We were a little excited at getting three pike so decided to try it again in the afternoon, this time Esther (Mrs. Ray Luther) going with us. But before going I had to put a coat of varnish on the outside of the boat, then drive to town and get some larger minnows. We had only a couple of large ones in the morning and they were the ones we got our best pike on. By the time the varnishing was done and the minnows were gotten it was 4 p. m. and we hurried up the lake. But the fish were not as hungry as going to set down here the doings of the day and go up to bed. Up at seven this morning, I got breakfast while listening to news, weather and the lady speaker at the big Dayton Store in Minneapolis. We had pancakes and sausage, some of Otto's sausage which I bought and canned and brought along. It is better sausage than I could buy here and it is lots handier to open a can than to go to town. After the dishes were done we cleaned the kitchen and back porch floors, the Missus doing most of the work with suggestions and a little help from me.

It was 9:30 when we had the housework done and I got a bucket of minnows from the live-brook in the lake and we went to the upper lake hoping to get a walleye. But we were disappointed as the walleyes had a different idea and refused to bite. We did catch several pickerel or northern pike, not very large and we put them back in the water, though we noticed some men fishing near were keeping them the same size.

It was 12:30 when we got dinner before going after the mail. We drove into Nisswa and got our usual daily letter from Eugene. On the way home we stopped at the Peter Wallin home and got our daily bottle of milk and after visiting a few moments, drove on down to Alvin (Wallie) Wallins and called on him. More to be saying something than expecting to get them, I said I came to get a quart of fresh strawberries and I was surprised when he said, "Well, you can have them but you will have to wait while I pick them." I waited and went out into the patch and helped to pick them. They were a bit green, would have been better to stay on the plants a couple of days longer, but this is early for fresh strawberries in this country. Wallie said he picked a quart the day before, so we really got the second quart of the season. Wallie has a large family, six besides himself, the mother and five babies, but they are dogs.

With all our visiting and fooling around it was 4 p. m. when we got home. We cut some grass around the walks and flowers and I did some hoeing in my phlox, then decided to go into the lake for the first swim of the season. I have been in when it was colder, but it was still too cold for comfort and I shall wait a few days before going in again. A few days of sunshine like yesterday will make it nice.

As we ate a cold dinner we cooked supper, potatoes and fried ham with fresh strawberries and coffee. After supper we called on the Oscar Wallins. I wanted to see him about helping to put my boats into the water tomorrow morning and the Missus wanted to visit Ruth and see the fine new built-in cupboard and new finish which Oscar spent a lot of the winter building and putting in. Then we drove around the square to the southwest and it was time to come home. We enjoy those little evening rides after supper. There are worlds of flowers in bloom now, the woods and clearings being a regular

Dr. Miller's Family Enjoyed Western Trip

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller and Mary and Roger returned the last of the week from a most unusual trip to the south and west of our land, and report strange sights indeed. They were gone about two weeks.

The first night they stopped at the Colorado Springs, Colo., home of Dorothy and Verne Weller, well known to Ordites, and enjoyed a good visit. Nearby they saw the Mesa Verde National Park, a beautiful spot of Colorado. South then they went to New Mexico, seeing enroute the Painted Desert country of fame, and the fantastic petrified forest. At the Grand Canyon they saw more marvels, stopping at Bright Angel Lodge on the rim.

From there they went to Tucson, Ariz., spending five days with cousins of Mrs. Miller. Next they drove to El Paso, Tex., and like many travelers crossed the border to Juarez, Mexico.

But high spot of the trip was a visit to New Mexico's famous Carlsbad Caverns, which Mrs. Miller calls "indestructible, beautiful and so large." It takes an hour to walk through the "Big Room," alone. The trip is made some 800 feet underground, and the caverns are the largest in the world, situated some 20 miles from Carlsbad, N. M.

To make the trip is a walk of some five hours, but the temperature, 56 degrees, prevents it from seeming too wearing, and lunch provides a rest of 45 minutes. Lunch is served in an underground dining room, one meal to a tray, and with no choice of food offered.

Open the year around, from 800 to 3,000 visitors make the tour daily. The summer rush was not yet on when the Ord people saw the caverns.

Two elevators offer a shortcut to the surface, in place of retracing the same winding trail. Dr. Miller and his family took the elevator, since they had a limited amount of time to spend there.

Next the travelers went to Stillwater, Okla., where they visited Mrs. Bernice Brady and brought her little daughter to Ord.

Burial was in the Ord cemetery by the side of her first husband. Bearers were Paul and Melford Goodrich, Vernon Hal, Alvin and Maynard Smith. Jane Whiting was born April 8, 1855 in Melbourne, Australia and departed from this world June 3, 1941 at the age of 86 years, one month and sixteen days. When two years of age she went with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiting, to England and from there they came to the United States, settling first in Illinois and then in Iowa. At Prairie City, Ia., in 1872 she was married to Henry Smith and came with her husband to Nebraska, settling in Butler county, where they lived till 1885 when they went to Newport. Here she was baptized in the Methodist church and remained faithful to her religion throughout her life. In 1896 the family came to Valley county, near Ord. Four sons and three daughters were born to her, two sons, Clarence and Oscar, with Mr. Smith having preceded her in death. On November 30, 1915 she was married to John I. Goodrich, of North Loup and has since made her home here. She leaves to mourn her going, her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Fannie Shaw, of Pierson, Fla., Mrs. Clara Smith, Wilton, Minn., Mrs. Edna Hatfield, Spalding, Neb.; two sons, Truman of Arnold and Arthur of North Loup; 26 grandchildren and five stepchildren and one sister, Mrs. Mary Fox, of Ord. Those from away here for the services included Mrs. Mary Fox, of Ord, Mrs. Myrtle Steeple and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fox of Ravenna, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shaw, Pierson, Fla., Mrs. Edgar Smith and daughter Hollis and Mr. Keller of Wilton, Minn., Mrs. Alvin Pearson, Bagley, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. George Hatfield and daughter, Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith of Arnold, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Ethel and Elma, Mr. and Mrs. John Mars and two children and Mrs. Clarence Cass, all of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goodrich and daughter, of Chadron. When Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shaw of Pierson, Fla., arrived Thursday afternoon from Schuyler where they had spent several days visiting they were unaware that Mrs. Shaw's mother, Mrs. John Goodrich, had passed away and that the line of cars in front of the Goodrich home were ready to take her body to the church for last rites. They had left home several weeks ago and had made several stops so no word of her sickness had reached them nor had they sent word that they were coming for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw formerly lived near Ord.

Tom Rogers Objects.

Writing from Fort Collins Colo., Tom Rogers corrects the Quiz on the identity of the house on the editorial page in last week's Quiz. He says the house belonged to his late uncle, Judson Rogers, and stood on the place now owned by Frank Hackel. The people in the photo were Uncle Jud and his family. We stand corrected. Tom also says that, if the Boss does not have time to write his column, he will volunteer to go to Minnesota and help him fish. The house above mentioned was built by the late John Wentworth and Frank Glover.

Manasil sang Ave Maria accompanied by Miss Mae Meyers. The bride in a floor length gown of white organza, trimmed with white lace and lilies of the valley with a finger tip length veil of white satin lace entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Meyers. She was given in marriage by her father. She carried a rosary and bouquet of roses and snapdragons.

Miss Evelyn Bartusek, the bride's sister, who wore a pink net formal gown, was the maid of honor. Miss Leona Volf of Arcadia, the groom's cousin, who was bride's maid, wore blue chiffon formal gown. Both young ladies carried bouquets of yellow flowers. Burwell Alumni Held 2nd Annual Reunion Thursday

Rex Wagner New President of Group; Mrs. Hannah Quinn Oldest Alumni Present.

Burwell—(Special)—One hundred and twenty-five former students of Burwell high school attended the second annual alumni dinner and get-together in the school auditorium Thursday night. Mrs. Hannah Quinn, who graduated from the Burwell high school fifty years ago, was the oldest alumna present. All of the classes of more recent years were represented with the exception of '27 and '35. The latter class failed to be represented at the reunion last year.

The dinner was served buffet style. The menu consisted of swiss steak, scalloped potatoes, rolls, preserves, strawberry shortcake, and coffee. After serving themselves those present seated themselves at ten different tables which were decorated with bouquets of purple larkspur and white water lilies, carrying out the school colors. Mrs. Carmen Hornby and Mrs. R. L. Walker were the committees in charge of the dinner.

After eating the group participated in community singing being led by Mr. Struve with Miss Mae Meyers at the piano. Dr. Cram, the association president, welcomed the class of 1941 into the group. Miss Amella Mathausor responded. The business meeting was then held. Rex Wagner was elected president for next year, W. F. Manasil, vice-president, Dwight Johnson, secretary and treasurer and Miss Nina Nickells, corresponding secretary.

After the business session the entertainment committee of Osce Johnson and the Misses Nina Nickells and Alaine Pulliam took charge. They presented a radio truth or consequence skit supposedly sponsored by the makers of Chum gum which Miss Nickells in her introductory remarks guaranteed to be good for all known ailments from dizziness to fallen arches. The broadcast began and closed with an original song by the Misses Virginia Beck, Mae Meyers and Alaine Pulliam. Mr. Johnson in the role of Professor Askit and in an unusual and humorous manner introduced his assistants, Miss Nickells and Miss Pulliam who passed around through the crowd and selected the victims for Professor Askit's questions. Correct answers were awarded with packages of chum gum but those whose wits were less nimble furnished much merriment for the crowd when they were obliged to pay the consequences. The auditorium was filled with roars of laughter by Keith DeLashmutt's interpretation of 'The Mad Dance of the Moon Beams', Bill McMullen's dissertation on ladies' millinery, Florence Hughes' impersonation of Mae West, Robert Penas' imitation of Eleanor Roosevelt chewing gum and Anna Cameron's demonstration of John D. Rockefeller playing golf.

Next year Mrs. C. W. Hughes will have charge of the dinner. She will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. F. B. Wheeler, John Spencer Horner, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. Albin Gaukel. The tables and decorations will be the work of Mrs. Louis Moore, assisted by Mrs. Ben Rose, Mrs. Don Anderson, Miss Virginia Beck, Mrs. Albin Gaukel and Miss Alberta Fredericks. The program committee is headed by Osce Johnson who will be assisted by Miss Anna Cameron, Miss Nina Nickells, Miss Mae Meyers, Miss Alaine Pulliam, Mrs. Sylvia Flint and Bernard Beck. W. F. Manasil will have charge of the ticket sales. Dr. Cram will serve as host and Mrs. R. L. Walker as hostess. Dwight Johnson will be in charge of moving and setting up the tables and he will also investigate the possibilities of having an alumni dance. Mrs. Adolph Severker has been charged with the task of rounding up the score or more of Longhorn alumni now living in Valley county and herding them up to the reunion next year. Those graduates living in Ord have better attendance records than any other group.

District Jr. Legion Baseball Season Opens

There are only three Junior Legion baseball teams competing in District 13 this year, reveals V. W. Russell, manager of the Ord team. The three are Ord, St. Edward and Cedar Rapids. To determine the district champion, these three teams will play a series of games starting June 17 and continuing until July 15, with teams seeing action at least once weekly. Ord meets St. Edward on June 20, July 1 and July 11; and plays Cedar Rapids on June 24, July 4 and July 15. Thus, Ord plays each team three times and the other two teams meet each other three times.

Winner in the district will enter state championship play and Manager Russell is hopeful that the Ord team, which he says is the best Junior Legion team Ord has ever had, will be the district winner.

Rained out last Sunday, the Junior Legion boys will play a Davis Creek team at North Loup next Sunday. Competition is what the Ord boys need most and Russell is trying to line up other games on dates that will not conflict with the regular league schedule.

Harold W. Benn, agricultural agent for the Union Pacific railroad, spent Friday and Saturday in Ord and called on the six boys who received certified seed potatoes this spring from the Nebraska Certified Potato Growers and the railroad. Each of the boys received enough seed to plant one acre. They have formed a 4-H club and will get lessons in potato production from the state 4-H club office. Men from the Union Pacific and from the potato growers association will call on the boys and advise them.

The six boys are Martin Sonnenfeld, George Waller, Robert Timmerman, Richard Maslin, Lonnie Nelson and Junior Dodge. They were selected to receive the potatoes by County Agent C. C. Dale and Robert Hammond and Ed Rousek, vocational agriculture teachers.

"Most of the fields look very good and we are well satisfied with the job the boys are doing," Benn says.

flower garden, much as the sand-hill country north of Ord is at this time. Now for some shuteye.

June 5: When I signed off last night I didn't expect to write this sort of report tonight. When we arose this morning the sun was shining but it was beginning to cloud up shortly after eight o'clock.

As I started across the yard to the other cottage on an errand for the Missus I heard a distinct rumble in the west and walking out from the trees I saw a big black cloud rolling up from the northwest which looked like rain. And in a few moments it came, a drenching shower that didn't last long.

Later after doing some work we had planned we drove into town after the mail. I had asked Oscar Wallin to come down and help me make some minor repairs on a roof that leaked.

I dislike climbing around on buildings. He came shortly after dinner and went up on the roof. I was giving instructions from the ground and he was doing the work when another gloop around and another big cloud was coming east. Oscar said "I don't like the looks of that."

It drove him off the roof before the job was done and did we get a drencher and it had rained all the afternoon and now, at bedtime it sounds like it was coming down in sheets. So this day has not seen much accomplished around this place, though we have plenty to do.

I noticed as I drove to town that Henry Matson had cut his red clover, a field of about ten acres. The neighbors say it always rains when Henry starts haying.

Well, it is time to sign off, we have to take the weather as it comes, so goodnight. H. D. Leggett.

Oil Prospects

for the drilling has been deposited in a Grand Island bank, and the drillers await the word to start the engine, and seek the wealth of "black gold" which field petroleum geologists believe lie beneath that part of Valley county.

Location geographically the northwest one quarter of section 33 of township 18, range 13 west of the 6th principal meridian of North Loup township, Valley county. Detailed location for laymen, directions is one mile north of state highway number 56, 11 miles south-east of Ord and four miles west of North Loup. William James and Dessie Vogeler farm. The derrick is located on a northeast slope of the topographical plane 1 1/2 miles west of the original drilling site selected by Henry Bredthauer and his associates, fosters of the drilling venture, the first attempt with modern drilling apparatus in this part of central Nebraska to seek oil.

To date a total of 20 leases have been filed at the court house in Ord by Mr. Bredthauer, and some of these are as follows:

Filed May 16, 1941, by Henry Bredthauer from Everett R. Hornick and Frieda Hornick, the south 1/2 of the south 1/2 and the east 1/2 of the southeast 1/4 of section 36, township 18 north, range 14 west of the 6th principal meridian, Valley county.

Filed May 16, 1941 by Henry Bredthauer from Clayton E. Gilroy et al (Lucinda Gilroy and Minnie Gilroy) the north 1/2 of section 20, township 18 north, range 13 west of the 6th principal meridian, Valley county.

Filed May 16, 1941 by Henry Bredthauer from Hugh Adams and Margaret Adams the southwest 1/4 of section 30 township 18, range 13 west of the 6th principal meridian.

Filed May 16, 1941 by Henry Bredthauer from Harry Klingensmith and Catherine Klingensmith the northeast 1/4 of section 13, the southwest 1/4 of section 12, township 17 north, range 13 west of the 6th principal meridian, Valley county.

Other leases are being assembled in block form by Mr. Bredthauer for early filing with the county clerk at the court house in Ord. Scouts of the Carter Oil company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey are already in the North Loup and Scottia areas, watching for developments in the coming drilling operations. When a major oil company of this size sends scouts to watch an unproven area, where "wildcat" drilling is in progress, it means that the petroleum industry is very much interested in the potential production of oil and gas in the area.

If gas or oil "shows" are encountered during drilling operations on the Vogeler farm, majors contemplate making a seismograph test of the area and the drilling of test wells to test sub-surface structures of that part of Valley county.

Yes! the search for "black gold" is on in Valley county, and the spudding in of the William Vogeler number 1, will start the "ball rolling" in this part of central Nebraska.

(Special to the Quiz)

Arcadia—Miss Betty Mae Atkins, of Grand Island, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Atkins, was given in marriage last Sunday evening to Charles Robert Weddel of Washington, D. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Weddel of Arcadia. At the single ring ceremony in the Methodist church in Grand Island, Reverend Earl Raitt officiated in the presence of many friends and relatives.

LAND SALES SOAR
Prices Still Attractive!
 LAND is moving faster... Look at the chart. The black columns represent farm sales made during the first five months of 1941 by The Federal Land Bank of Omaha. The white columns show farm sales for the same period in 1940... The increase is 97%.
 Prospects for farm income are the brightest in years. With corn, cattle, hogs, and wheat at record figures, earnings are on a new high level... YET, LAND PRICES ARE STILL LOW!
 Today is a favorable time to buy. This is true whether you are looking to land for a safe investment, a substantial profit, greater security, or as a home seker... Nothing is so certain—so dependable—as a good farm.
 Not only are prices reasonable, but Federal Land Bank terms are liberal. Pay down one-third to one-fifth. The balance at low interest over a long period—like paying rent.
 Investigate these UNUSUAL opportunities. Get land while it is a good buy.

Her father is one of Loup county's commissioners. After graduating from the Taylor high school she has successfully taught for many years in the rural schools of Loup county. The groom is the second son of former Mayor and Mrs. Claude Becker. His grand father operated the first store to open for business in Burwell and up until a few years ago the store was still managed by members of the family. He graduated from the Burwell high school in 1930 and at the present time is the official weather observer and recorder at Burwell. At present the newly-weds are honeymooning in the Black Hills. Time Writes Finis to Ord's First Irrigation Project

Under the heading, A $50,000 fire, a story of special interest to Ordites appeared in the Ord Quiz of May 17, 1901. The fire referred to occurred the Saturday before, May 11, and was fed by one hundred $500 bonds of the late lamented Ord Irrigation district.

Before they were burned the bonds, which had been kept in the First National bank for the past five or six years, were fully identified by J. A. Patton and E. P. Clements, who had signed them when issued, and by other parties beside the officers of the district at the time.

A crowd of people witnessed the fire. One of the lookers-on was R. T. Hounold, who remarked that it was an easier way of getting rid of them than by paying them twenty years from now. The board declared the district disorganized, all the requirements of the law having been complied with.

From this it would appear that the bonds had been prepared for sale, but had never actually been sold. Secretary John Heddle of the Ord Irrigation district had summarized the expenses of the organization from the beginning to the end, which showed the following result.

Engineer on survey, $443.38; labor on survey, $264.43; board of laborers on survey, $114.22; legal advice, etc., $91.80; printing books, etc., $245.65; elections, $61.95; livery, $12; seal, $2.90; confirmation proceeding, $6.73; lumber, 20.54; salaries, $1,112.65; interest, $314.02; total, $2,789.72.

From the list of expenses shown above it appears that all that was done in the district was the surveying, the holding of elections, the printing of the necessary books and papers, and the paying of salaries. There is nothing to indicate that a penny was spent toward turning any dirt, although there is a small lumber item, possibly for stakes used in the survey.

The district referred could not have been the old Ord-North Loup district, which practically paralleled the present Ord-North Loup district, for this ditch was completed and used for a few years at North Loup, and many references are made to it in the columns of the Quiz of that time.

It probably was in reality the lower end of the Burwell-Ord district, organized Jan. 5, 1894, and known as the Burwell and Ord Irrigation and Power company. This company started out with the idea of taking the water out of the North Loup river near Sioux Creek, watering the south side of the river from Burwell to Ord, and also furnishing power to both Burwell and Ord by means of dams.

The Burwell end of this proposition was developed, but it did not get into Valley county. Probably the upper end of the district used all the water that came down the ditch and did not leave enough for further down the valley. The system of those days did not provide a method of keeping the ditch heads clear of sand, and they kept filling in all the time.

Fifty thousand dollars was a lot of money to put into a ditch in those days, but it cost a lot more when it finally was built. Today, after 40 years, a ditch over this same territory provides plenty of water for present needs, and probably for any needs of the future. Our only worry for the future is to see that we get our share of the North Loup river water.

Takes 100 Mile Cycle Trip With Small Son

North Loup—A feature column in the San Diego Sun written by Etta Mae Wallace gives a clever story of a bicycle ride of Mrs. Lester Earnest and her ten year old son, little Lester. Lester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Earnest and grew up in North Loup. Mrs. Earnest, Sue, as the article calls her, teaches speech in the junior high school, teaches an evening extension class, works on her doctor's degree, runs a household with two children in it, carries on a lively social life, an adequate cultural life, writes and stages school reviews, serves on more committees than we could take time to list, also finds time several mornings a week for bicycling with little Lester.

When the small son suggested a bicycle trip to Los Angeles, a distance of nearly one hundred miles, she said alright. Several days later he handed her a folded slip of paper with the request she sign on the back. Came time for the Easter vacation and he showed her the other side which said in case she failed the proposed bicycle trip, she would buy him one pup tent, one Boy Scout outfit, and one set of cook-out equipment. Deciding the trip would be more fun than paying the forfeit they started out one morning at six o'clock. It was well toward night of the second day when they finally arrived at the grand central station at Los Angeles to send their bicycles back as baggage.

Fully Equipped In a bicycle race between 250 youths in Tokyo, each had to carry full military equipment while pedaling more than 13 miles.

Chamber members discussed the telephone situation in detail, several members speaking both in support of asking for better service now even though rates are higher and in opposition to a rate increase, and then a motion was made and seconded that the Chamber support the telephone company in whatever action is necessary to secure Railway Commission approval of a new system.

A written vote was called for and when the result was announced it showed 25 votes for the motion and only 4 against. Two members present did not vote.

President C. J. Mortensen, who presided, then directed the telephone committee to inform the Nebraska Continental Telephone company of the Chamber's action and suggest that such steps as are necessary be taken immediately, so that new equipment may be installed before costs rise higher.

Telephone subscribers will be contacted by company representatives at once, President Clark says, and if a majority of them desire improved service at the slightly increased rates, a formal application will be made with Chamber concurrence to the Railway Commission.

The rate schedule at present provides a monthly charge of $3.00 for magneto grounded service, $3.50 for magneto metallic service, $4.00 for common battery service and $4.50 for common battery-telephone service to business houses; $1.50 for magneto grounded, $1.75 for magneto metallic, $2.00 for common battery and $2.50 for common battery-telephone service to residences. Most business houses have magneto service at $3.50 per month and most residences use magneto metallic at $1.75 per month so the new rates will represent an increased cost of 75c per month to most business men and 50c per month to most home owners.

DAIRY MONTH
 WE ARE COOPERATING

All branches of the dairy industry, thousands of food, drug or variety stores, railroads, civic organizations, national, state and municipal offices are displaying this poster during June, which is Dairy Month through the nation.

THE IDEA OF JUNE DAIRY MONTH is to increase the use of all Dairy Products including BUTTER, MILK, CHEESE and ICE CREAM.

A surplus of butter usually accumulates in JUNE and JULY and this has a depressing effect on prices.

Cream checks have been life savers for many Valley County Farmers in the past few years. With better pasture conditions this spring and good prices for cream a lot more money has been in circulation and merchants as well as professional men benefit when Farmers' incomes are increased.

Town people as well as Farmers can help in keeping surplus dairy products at a minimum by using these products freely and in so doing they will promote good health and prosperity for Valley County.

Mrs. F. V. Haight Seriously Hurt in Auto Accident

Vertebra in Neck Fractured in Upset Thursday; 3 Others Painfully Injured.

Mrs. F. V. Haight suffered a fractured vertebra in her neck, Dave Haight and Mrs. Mike Kosmala were painfully bruised and Mrs. Vernon Anderson suffered a light concussion of the brain when the car in which this family party was riding upset on the highway 5 miles west of Ericson about 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

They were enroute to Oakdale to visit relatives and because of the rain they went by way of Burwell, in order to follow the gravelled road to Ericson. Mr. Haight was driving and the car hit a patch of soft gravel and overturned. He was driving about 40 miles an hour.

Mr. Haight was thrown out of the car, landing on his head and shoulders on the highway. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Haight, and his two daughters were not thrown out of the car but were hurt by striking the top and sides as the car rolled over, landing on its wheels.

Bill Philbrick came along in his car soon after the upset and took the women to Dr. Cram's hospital in Burwell while Mr. Haight followed in his own car, which was not greatly damaged.

There an x-ray examination showed Mrs. Haight's neck was fractured and she was at once taken to Methodist hospital, Omaha, in the Pearson-Anderson ambulance where a head-and-shoulders cast was applied by bone specialists. She will have to remain in this cast about six weeks and then return to Omaha to have a neck brace fitted, which she will have to wear several months. Mrs. Haight returned Monday night from Omaha.

Others in the party escaped from the accident less seriously hurt, though Mrs. Anderson has been told by doctors to remain in bed several days and Mr. Haight's neck and shoulder bruises will keep him from pursuing his duties as court house custodian for some time.

Middle Loup Chamber in Important Meeting

Arcadia—(Special)—The Middle Loup Associated Chamber of Commerce met Thursday evening at the Arcadia Hotel with about 25 attending and A. E. Chase and S. B. Warden reported concerning extending the oil mat from Loup City to Arcadia. Mr. Chase and Mr. Warden had journeyed to Lincoln for the above purpose.

It was stated in a report by J. B. Conrad of Sargent that it was expected to have the irrigation district approved in the very near future.

A discussion was held as to the inconvenience of time of out-going mail. O. F. Hubbel, chief clerk of the railway mail service, Lincoln, suggested that the mail service which now comes from St. Paul to Loup City might be extended to Arcadia so that better service with towns down the valley might be accomplished. The other start route would continue as now routed. It was suggested that the mail would arrive at from 8:30 to 9:00 and return to Loup City some time shortly after noon.

Before adjournment several other matters were discussed and it was decided that the next meeting would be held at Comstock in two months.

Four Valley Countians Called for Army Service

Co. Attorney Refuses to File Short Fish Charge

Arrested at the Ord dam Tuesday with three catfish which Game Warden George Weldman claimed were smaller than the legal limit, Jake Bechtle was released in county court when County Attorney John P. Misko refused to file charges against him.

Measuring the fish in court, Misko announced their lengths as 13 inches, 12 inches and 11 1/2 inches. Measurements made by Weldman with another measuring stick indicated the fish were 10 1/2, 11 1/4 and 12 1/4 inches long. "Game violations have been rampant in this county," said Misko to the game warden in explaining his refusal to file charges, "but in the past year you have brought only three violators before me. One was a 74-year-old farmer who shot a pheasant on his own farm a little before legal shooting time; another was a boy who caught too many sunfish. I filed charges for you on those and have been sorry ever since. The statute gives me discretion as to whether I shall file charges and I'm going to exercise it in this type of case until you catch some of the flagrant violators that you know and I know are busy all the time."

The game warden attempted to dissuade him, saying there would not be any game laws in this county if the prosecuting attorney took that attitude. Misko told him to go out and catch some of the "wifful violators" and he would prosecute them.

"This is the first time I've ever refused to file charges for you or any other state bureau but the law gives me this discretion and I'm using it," he said.

Last Cookbooklet in the Quiz Series Is Released Today

"Menus for Every Day of the Year," the final number in the set of 20 Quiz Cookbooklets which have been released weekly over the past five months, goes on sale today at the Quiz office and also in Burwell, North Loup and Arcadia.

The new cookbooklet makes successful meal planning possible, gives menus for holidays and special occasions, for family dinners, for Sunday night suppers, for bridge luncheons, for outdoor meals for children's lunches. In short, it collates the recipes and food facts presented in the nineteen previous releases and makes more effective use of all cookbooklets possible.

Price of the current booklet is only 10c, the same price charged for each of the other nineteen books in this useful series.

All 20 booklets are now available at the Quiz office, at the Ord City Bakery, at Rex Wagner's office in Burwell, at the Vodehnal Pharmacy in North Loup and at the Ramsey Drug Store in Arcadia. The handsome cover which makes a loose-leaf volume of the booklets also may be purchased at any of the above named dealers for only 39c. Price of the series and the cover is $2.39, and anybody desiring to have the complete set and cover mailed anywhere in the United States should add 25c to pay for postage and handling.

On July 1 the cookbooklets will be withdrawn from sale, so women who want any or all of the books should arrange to get them before that date. At the close of business June 30, any surplus books remaining in the hands of dealers will be called in and, together with surplus books at the Quiz office, will be returned to the publishers, Culinary Arts Institute of America.

The cookbooklets and cover make an ideal gift for any woman for any gift occasion, so if you are studying over what to give some friend for her birthday, wedding anniversary or other occasion, give consideration to this suggestion.

After June 30 it will be impossible to get these recipe booklets issued by the Quiz. A supply of each booklet still is available, though only a few of some issues remain and no more will be ordered.

Taylor Man Safe at Capetown, So. Africa

George Newton, radio operator on the ship Robin Moor, which was sunk in May by a Nazi torpedo, was safe this week in Capetown, South Africa, along with other survivors of the sinking. The Robin Moor was the first American ship sunk by Germany since World War II started.

Newton is a son of Mrs. E. A. Stone, of Taylor, and his real name is Cyril Fuller, his mother said when told by news agencies her son was safe. He changed his name ten years ago to enter the navy and after his enlistment expired he worked for a while at the government monitor station in Grand Island, later entering the merchant marine as a radio operator.

Old Settlers Will Hold Annual Picnic at Ord Park Sunday

Scotia Band Will Play, Burwell Man to Speak; the Public Is Urged to Attend.

Indications point to a large attendance at the Old Settlers' picnic at Bussell park Sunday with large delegations planning to attend from as far away as Taylor on the northwest and Scotia to the southeast. The towns on the Middle Loup will also be represented.

The park is more beautiful this year than it has been for years past, thanks to nature and the untiring efforts of the custodian, Bud Shirley. A committee is working on plans for the program, which is still incomplete, but which will be very interesting.

General plans call for a basket dinner at the park at about one o'clock, which will be followed by the program. Proceeding the program proper a short business session will be held, and any necessary items of business will be attended to at that time.

The main program will open with an address of welcome by Mayor M. B. Cummins, who is also an old settler, having been here all his life. The response will be by Judge Thurman A. Smith of Taylor, who has been president since the death of George W. McAnulty, as he was vice-president at that time.

Senator Joseph T. Knezacek will be present, and has consented to give a talk, in which he will touch upon Port Hartuff and his one bill, the enabling act, which will make the purchase of Port Hartuff possible. After that a number of early settlers will be called upon for short talks. None of the talks will be long, thus giving an opportunity for as many of the old timers as possible to appear on the program.

Henry Deines of the Ord school music department has kindly consented to arrange some special music which will be interspersed through the program. Auble Bros. public address system will be on the grounds as it has in the past. The Scotia band, directed by Don Pescherer, will play and there will be community singing led by Mrs. M. R. Cornell of North Loup. The principal speaker will be from Burwell, with O. W. Johnson in charge of arrangements for this address.

Butler Will Appoint Three to Annapolis

Senator Hugh Butler announced today that he has been informed by the Navy department that he will have three appointments from Nebraska to the naval academy at Annapolis in 1942. This increased number results from the speeded up program of training recently adopted at the academy.

Senator Butler will give competitive examinations under auspices of the civil service commission on Oct. 4, 1941, for these appointments. He requests that all applicants have their intention to compete for these appointments filed in his Washington office by the 25th of September.

Malmsten Buys 7,280 Acre Ranch at Gables

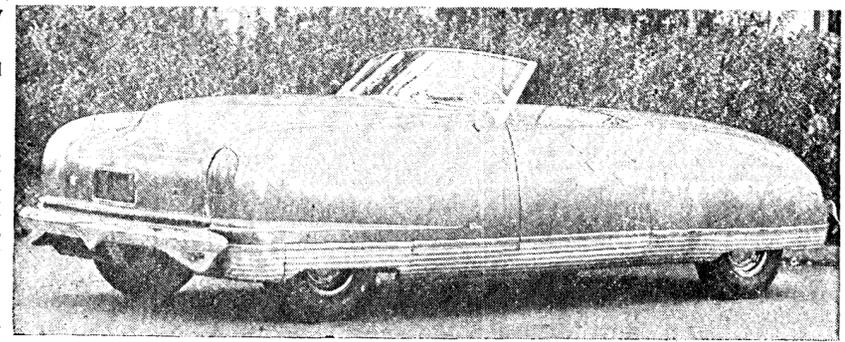

One of the best known ranches in Garfield county, the Gables ranch consisting of 7,280 acres along the Cedar river was bought last week by C. J. Malmsten. The place was formerly owned by the Ohio National Life Insurance company. Mike Shouka represented both parties in the deal.

At one time a store and postoffice were housed in the large residence on Gables ranch, so named because of its ornate gables.

Mr. Malmsten, who once was an executive in the J. C. Penney company, now owns more than 20,000 acres of Garfield county ranch land as well as the Albert Dawe ranch in Holt county.

Ben Rose, the Garfield county judge, was a guest of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening and made an interesting talk dealing with ethics of the legal profession and odd court room incidents he has witnessed. Another guest was Rev. Moore Bell, of Schaller, Ia.

Thunderbolt Welcomed to Ord Monday by Parade of Chryslers, 1,000 See Famous Car

Yes, it was an advertising stunt, but when fifty Ord automobile owners take part in a parade and 1,000 local people inspect the product advertised the whole affair becomes news.

Monday evening the famous Thunderbolt, "car of the future" built by the Chrysler corporation, visited Ord. It is on a tour of the United States and to date has been inspected by over 4,000,000 people. The Thunderbolt visited Burwell late in the afternoon and when it reached Ord about 7:45 in the evening it was greeted at Bussell park by a parade of 1941 Chryslers and Plymouths bought by Ord people since the models went on sale last October. The cars were driven by their owners and most of them were filled with members of the owners' families. C. A. Anderson, local Chrysler-Plymouth dealer, arranged the parade.

Accompanying the Thunderbolt was a sound truck and with this truck in the lead and the Thunderbolt, driven by Mr. Anderson and with Mayor M. B. Cummins as a passenger, immediately behind the sound truck, the parade drove into town on L street and after circling the square went to the Anderson garage east of Hotel Ord where the Thunderbolt was put on display in a roped-off enclosure.

Long, low, wide, the car differs radically from automobiles in use now, but Chrysler officials claim this completely stream-lined car will effect auto designing in the next few years just as the Chrysler Air-flow coupe of 1934 influenced the cars of today.

As the car went on display a lecturer, Mr. Schrader, took over and in a soft, southern drawl informed a crowd estimated at from 800 to 1,000 about the various features of the car.

The low, broad hood cuts down frontal resistance and the smooth-swept surfaces of front and rear, the flush glass and curved, sloping one-piece windshield and the absence of running boards reduce turbulence when the car is in motion, he said.

A unique feature of the Thunderbolt is that it has a steel top which completely disappears at the touch of a button. Automatic push buttons also control raising and lowering of the window glasses. Headlamps have retractable lids. Every accessory on the car's body is in-built, including door handles. License plates are mounted under glass.

The car is green and upholstery is of red leather. The instrument board is leather covered and indirectly lighted dials are of lucite. Simple in design, there is a complete absence of "gimmicks" and a notable lack of bulges, ribs and other devices. The car is 6 inches wider than present automobiles; three large people may sit comfortably in its single seat.

It cost the Chrysler corporation $40,000 to build this car, it is claimed, because the entire body is hand-made. It is powered by a standard Chrysler 8-cylinder motor, identical with motors used in the 1941 model Chrysler limousines. The car is capable of going 140 miles and more per hour.

22 Initiated by K. of C. Lodge

State Officers, Many Visitors, Here Sunday at All Day Initiation Ceremonies.

Twenty-two young men were initiated as members of the Knights of Columbus lodge Sunday at ceremonies which began with mass at 7:30 a. m. and continued throughout the day. The new members included Richard Baran, Merle Donnelly, Edward Visek, Vernel Visek, Syl Papiernik, Francis Keefe, Elmer Golka, Edward McCarville, Dean Barst, Harry Zukoski, Vern Malopeczy, Edmund Osentowski, Paul Rysavy, Michael Kusek, Richard Piskorski, Richard Diessner, Lunir Ptacnik, Joe Absolon, Joe Baran, Chester Dabas, Andrew Hansen and Frank Wear.

Initiates, along with officers and members of the Ord lodge, met at the K. of C. hall at 7:00 a. m. and marched to St. Mary's Catholic church in a group for mass by Rev. Thomas Siodowski. Afterward they had breakfast together at the hall and spent the morning playing games and visiting. At noon came luncheon at Thorne's cafe and in the afternoon came the initiatory ceremony, with the St. Paul team in charge. In the evening an informal dinner was enjoyed at the hall with more than 100 present.

Visitors were here from Norfolk, Lincoln, St. Paul and Grand Island councils, as well as many Ord members. State and district officials present included Dr. J. R. Hughes, of St. Paul, state deputy; John McCarthy, of Grand Island, district deputy; Charles Walters, of Lincoln, district deputy; Leonard Ryan, of St. Paul, district insurance agent; and E. A. Sanders, of Omaha, state insurance agent. Father Murray, of Burwell, Father Barry, of Long Pine, and Father O'Neill, of St. Libory, were among the evening speakers.

C. E. Goodhand Buys the Haskell Building

Bidding was spirited Wednesday afternoon when the Haskell building on the south side of the square, formerly occupied by the Johnson Cafe, was put up for auction by Col. M. B. Cummins. Successful bidder was C. E. Goodhand, who bought the lot and debris of the building for $1,025.

Others bidders included George Gutschaw, C. E. Gilroy, Frank Fafelita, jr., Kit and Hugh Carson. The Carsons bid $1,020 but quit when Goodhand added $5 to this figure and the property was sold to him.

What disposition Mr. Goodhand plans to make of the property has not been announced but he has until August 1 to make final settlement for the building and probably will build something on the lot after that time.

Theron Nolte Crushed Under Car, Injured

An accident in which Theron Nolte was painfully injured but which might have cost him his life occurred last Wednesday at the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district's warehouse in Ord. Mr. Nolte was working under a car which was held up by a chain hoist and when the chain broke he was crushed beneath the car.

Dave Dobberstine and Bernard Hoyt were working in the warehouse also and they immediately lifted the car off Nolte's back and rushed him to the clinic hospital where he was attended by Dr. F. A. Barta. No bones were broken but his back and sides were badly bruised and he will be unable to work for another three weeks. Dr. Barta said this morning. He was in the hospital three days and then was taken to his own home.

Had Nolte been alone in the warehouse when the hoist broke he probably would have died before help could have reached him.

Ord Women Attend Red Cross Meeting

Three Ord women, Mrs. E. C. Whelan, Mrs. Sylvester Furtak and Mrs. Edward Kokes, were among the 75 Red Cross representatives who were present Wednesday at the Grand Island meeting. The Home Service Institute, as the meeting was called, was conducted by St. Louis area officials at the Yancey hotel.

Captain Transeur of Lowry Field, near Denver, was in charge of the round table discussion, assisted by Miss Vogler, the district field representative for this part of Nebraska. Mr. Waudley of St. Louis presided at the luncheon talks.

The ever expanding program of the Red Cross to help our enlisted and drafted forces was thoroughly discussed, and ideas and problems exchanged. Mrs. Furtak especially wanted information about the disaster division's home service work, and Mrs. Kokes asked help on the newly reorganized Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Ed Whelan, Red Cross chairman for Valley county, reports that the Red Cross considers it highly important that every citizen study the first aid course, as an important part of the national defense program.

George Allen Unhurt in Thirty Foot Fall

George Allen, the Ord light commissioner, had what he calls a "fortunate accident" Monday morning when a thirty foot pole to which he was strapped broke off at the ground line and crashed to the earth. Mr. Allen was only bruised and shaken up and was working again later in the day.

The city was wrecking several old poles near the Ralph Norman place and Allen had climbed a pole that seemed perfectly sound and was disengaging the wires near the top when the pole broke. He managed to brace himself away from the pole so that he did not fall on the pole or it on him, he says, or he might have suffered a broken back.

Plans Complete for Ord's Free 4th of July Celebration

Soap Box Races to Start at 9:30 A. M., Other Events Lined Up to Last All Day.

Plans are complete for Ord's all-day celebration on Friday, July 4, says M. B. Cummins, mayor of the city, who also is general chairman of the celebration committee. People of Valley county and the entire Ord trade territory are invited to be guests of the Chamber of Commerce on the big summer holiday.

The program will start, announces Cummins, at 9:30 a. m., at which hour Ord's 2nd annual soap box derby will be run on South 21st street under auspices of the Cosmopolitan club.

There will be at least 20 entrants and 12 to 16 races will be run, with four cars competing in each race. Merchandise prizes to the value of $50 will be distributed among the winners from the court house steps at 7:00 in the evening by Hilding Pearson, president of the club.

The races will last until 12:00 and from 12:00 to 1:00 a community picnic will be in progress at Bussell park. This park has never looked prettier than it does this summer; there is plenty of shade, tables, running water, fire-places and all picnic facilities, and people are invited to bring picnic dinners and enjoy them at Bussell park during this hour. Little children may bathe in the safe cemented irrigation canal, if they like. Ord's 9-hole blue grass golf course will be free to all visitors all day July 4th, as will the asphalt tennis courts on the athletic field.

Decision to have entertainment features of the Valley county fair on the uptown streets of Ord rather than on the fair grounds was announced this week by the Ord Chamber of Commerce, with the consent of directors of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society. Dates of the annual fair are August 26, 27, 28 and 29.

Only exception to the uptown show will be the afternoon program on Wednesday, August 27, which will be given in front of the grandstand on the fair grounds. This will include 4-H club demonstrations, a livestock parade, judging shows and other exhibits, as well as entertainment features. M. B. Cummins is in charge of this portion of the fair.

Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee arranging for the entertainment is Dr. Glen Auble. Other members include Tom Misko, R. E. Teague, Hilding Pearson, E. L. Kokes, Alfred Wiegardt and Bert Boquet. To cooperate with this C. of C. committee, President V. Clare Clement of the fair board has appointed a committee consisting of Dr. J. W. McGinnis, C. C. Dale and M. B. Cummins.

Everything will be free at the uptown street fair. The square will be roped off and rides and other amusements will be set up on the pavement. Efforts are being made to secure a carnival company which also will be uptown. There will be a mammoth bingo game conducted by members of the Chamber. There will be parades and concerts, free acts, pavement dances and other entertainment on the evening of August 27 and throughout the afternoons and evenings of August 28 and 29.

All plans so far are tentative and will be assured of excellent entertainment throughout the fair. Exhibits on the fair grounds will follow the usual plan, with special emphasis on the 4-H club show, say fair officials.

The fair's financial condition precludes having a program of auto races this year and fair directors asked the Chamber of Commerce to provide entertainment. When the Chamber expressed a desire to hold the entertainment uptown and have everything free to the public, rather than to have a show on the grounds and charge admission, and at the same time offered financial assistance to the fair board, the directors decided to accept the proposition for this year only.

More complete details about the program contemplated will be announced from time to time, says Chairman Auble.

THOMAS W. LANIGAN. This 4th of July celebration is the first big event scheduled since Ord's athletic field was completed and the afternoon program will take place on this field. At 1:00 there will be music by a male quartet and a patriotic speech by Hon. Thomas W. Lanigan, of Grand Island, formerly assistant attorney general of the United States.

At 1:45 will come the pet parade which is open to any boy or girl who has a pet and wants to take part. Entries will be judged and cash prizes of $4.75 will be paid to the winners.

At 2:00 comes the saddle horse show, which also is open to the world and carries $4.00 in prize money, and at 2:15 the races start on the cinder track in front of the grand stand while at the same hour a horseshoe tournament gets under way elsewhere on the athletic field. Prizes totalling $10, with $2.50 to the winner and nine other prizes, will be given in the horseshoe contest. There is no entry fee and any pitcher who desires may compete. Clyde Baker is in charge of this event.

On the racing card will be boys' and girls' bicycle races, a 50-yard three-legged race, a 50-yard dash for boys and another one for girls of 12 or under, a 50 yard dash open to boys and girls under 16 and a free-for-all 100 yard dash. A sack race also is planned. Cash prizes will be paid in all races, which are to be conducted by Fred Coe and Dr. J. W. McGinnis.

At 3:00 the baseball game between Ord and Ashton will get under way. This is a regular league encounter and admission to it will be free.

The evening program will take place uptown and will include presentation of prizes to the soap box winners at 7:00, a water contest between two Ord fire companies at 7:30, a band concert from 8:00 to 9:00 by Ord's municipal band directed by Henry Deines, and dances starting at 9:00. There will be dancing in both the Bohemian hall and the Opera House. El Kerchall's orchestra will play in the Bohemian hall and a charge of 50c per couple will be made at the door. The music will be heard in the Opera House also through a loud speaker system and admission to the Opera House will be free.

This 4th of July celebration was planned, not as an elaborate and expensive celebration, but more as a community affair in which all may have a part. A hearty welcome to celebrate in Ord is extended to all.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz Readers:

ARE WE MICE OR MEN?

A photograph featured in the last week showed the soldiers stopping a cavalcade of union workers headed for the gates of the North American aviation plant. They were headed by a sound truck putting out propaganda for the organization. The soldiers forbade the procession and permitted them to drive back individually.

Also at the head of the parade was a man on a motorcycle displaying a most interesting sign which read: "Are We Mice or Men? Six Bits and 10." The "Six Bits and 10" referred to their minimum wage of 5 cents per hour, the six bits of course being 75 cents, with the ten cents added, and was written that way to make a catchy rhyming slogan.

No paper should have a quarrel with organized labor in general. It is the aim of most organizations to play ball with the employer, keep production going, and at the same time safeguard the rights of the members. What seems to have caused the trouble at Ingleswood was not the mass of working men, but rather the radical few in position of authority.

But the thing that looks absurd to the average Nebraska citizen is the use of a wage scale of 85c per hour as an excuse for striking, and inferring that any man who would work for such a wage is a mouse. That may be a minimum wage at the Ingleswood factory, but it is far above the top wage in Valley county.

Here in Ord and Valley county those who are lucky enough to have a job work sixty to seventy hours per week, and $25 per week is about the top figure. Most of them draw from $15 to $20 per week. At Ingleswood the lowest paid workman draws $34 per week for a 40 hour week, a premium wage for overtime, and the rest of the time is his own.

Workers on defense projects should be granted the privilege of arbitrating any conditions with which they are not satisfied, and the farmer should have the same right. But the farmer, who feeds the nation, does not strike, and the worker has no more right than has the farmer. Anyone who refuses to work on defense projects at a minimum of 85c per hour is not a mouse—he is a rat.

OUR NATIONAL FLAG.

Old Glory celebrated another birthday Saturday, the one hundred and sixty fourth. This seems like a long time, but in reality it is not such a long time in the history of nations. In spite of more than 16 decades of national existence, we are still among the younger nations of the world. Much younger than most of the nations of ancient times.

For example, the history of Egypt as a nation began more than 5,000 years ago, and there is still an Egyptian nation today, under British influence. It is true, but still running its own affairs. The Greeks began making history many centuries before the Christian era, and, while they are now under a temporary eclipse, they are still a great people.

Since our nation is still in its youth, it is but natural that we as a people should be more virile, that we should show more ability and enterprise, that we should be one of the wealthiest nations in the world. With all the natural advantages that we enjoy, we owe it to the world to make the most of the opportunities we enjoy.

Our national flag symbolizes the advantages that are ours in this land of liberty. When a thoughtful nation passes a law, it is well to remember that it was only 163 years ago that the flag first waved "Over the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave." As a nation we are a kid in knee pants.

The present flag, the same as the original but for the addition of the stars as states were added, was adopted by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777. Before that time the colonies had tried out three different flags, the Pine Tree flag, the Grand Union flag and the Rat Snake flag.

The early colonies of America used the British flag, a white banner with the red cross of St. George, but in pre-revolutionary times they had flags of different colors with a device in the upper, left-hand corner of a tree, a hemisphere, or some similar emblem. On the eve of the revolution many flags expressed defiance of Great Britain.

After the battle of Lexington a flag bearing the arms of the colony were used, and ships leaving New York carried a flag upon which a beaver was represented. The Pine Tree flag was flown from many ships when Washington was in authority. At Richmond in September, 1775, was displayed a blue flag with a crescent in the upper left-hand corner, which later bore the inscription, "Give Me Liberty, or Give Me Death."

A flag flown by Washington at Cambridge, Mass., in 1776, had thirteen red and white alternating stripes, and the Union Jack where the stars are now. One of the most popular flags at this time bore the device of a coiled rattlesnake, having thirteen rattles and the motto, "Don't Tread on Me." A flag of blue with eight stars was used in Rhode Island, 1776-1777.

The resolution by the Continental Congress, June 14, 1777, read: "That the flag of the 13 states be thirteen alternate stripes, red and white, that the Union be 13 stars in white on a blue field, representing a new constellation." In 1818

This class is unusual in more ways than one. First, three members of one family were members of the class. Second, three members of the class still live in Ord, one at Burwell and one at Greeley. The only Ord graduate before 1898 still living here is Frank T. Johnson, class of 1897. Of the 47 graduates of Ord high before that time, not one is to be found in Ord or the immediate territory.

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Believe It or Not A Crop for Time Eternal

Short Shavings

Believe It or Not. A Believe it or Not incident has been reported to me, happening as I took it to Hank Leggett the fisherman, and as far as I am concerned I believe it, every word of it, that is, every word of most of it.

It seems that Hank sort of got suspicious that some of the folks were not taking quite seriously enough the reports he gave of the size of the fish he was catching so he went and bought a nice small set of scales, something like the vegetable scales in the grocery stores, with a nice chain so he could hang them on a nearby branch and as he yanked out his fish, he immediately weighed them, writing the weight down in a small book something like Earnest Coats weighs the milk from each of his nice yellow cows, after he yanks the milk out, or like Earnest ought to weigh it.

Well, up in Minnesota there was an Indian guide and neighbor who took a strong fancy to those scales and one night he asked Hank if he couldn't borrow them that evening. Of course Hank said he could and in the morning when the Indian returned Hank asked him how much the fish weighed that Mr. Indian had caught.

The Indian grinned a few times and smiled and finally said that it was not a fish he was weighing, but that at his house, or feepee, the day before there had been a baby born and he took the scales to weigh it.

"Oh that was it eh?" Hank returned. "Ha ha. A new little poupoose eh. Fine. And how much did it weigh?" Indians don't very often smile, but this one did, for he was proud of his little off-spring, which was not so little either considering its age, and he replied that it weighed exactly 25 pounds. Now there is the Believe it or Not part, that new born baby weighing 25 pounds but the Indian insisted that was absolutely right according to this nice new set of scales of Hanks.

A Crop for Time Eternal. On the place one mile north of Main street at North Loop, belonging to Hillis Coleman and Hugh Adams, George Maxson, 13 years ago, set out a large wind break on the west and north of Chinese elms and they all died this winter. They are large trees now, some 30 feet high. I was as gully as George for I swallowed the ballyhoo on the radio and in the seed catalogue that the Chinese elms were the only tree for this drought country. We might have known better than to experiment with an unknown and untried article where there is so much involved as there is to setting out a tree or a windbreak. Setting out a tree is not a one year crop but a crop that runs into many years or, to time eternal perhaps, like the Redwoods.

We have trees that have been tried and proven and will stand the rigors of this climate, trees that are many years old and still alive; trees that have not disappointed us when some quirk of our weather turns. We must remember too that the better the article the more it costs and the longer it takes to get in, and trees are no exception. The slow growing trees are always better in the long run and stand the grief the best. And so we get down to two or three or a half dozen tried and proven varieties like the hackberry, the cedar and the cottonwood in the low places. Of course these trees have their faults, but a live cottonwood with the cotton for a few days is better than a dead Chinese elm, and very few hackberry, cottonwood or cedars can be found in the country that are dead. After all, these three varieties come as near being native to this country as any tree there is and perhaps that is one reason they stick. It is a cinch they didn't come from China.

Years ago, on the place belonging to Robbins now, I planted nearly every kind of tree I could find. For years I carried water in buckets to those trees, nurturing and struggling with them until when I left that place there were nice large trees all about the house.

Driving by there now, I notice nearly every tree has died that I set out except two hackberry trees that were south along the road and alfalfa patch where they were sadly neglected. But they were made of the right stuff in the first place; they were natives to this country; they were built to stand the grief this country dishes out, and without someone taking the axe to them, they will probably be there, alive too, a hundred years from now.

Short Shavings.

At the R. E. A. exhibit and fair held west of Grand Island last week, every conceivable electric machine one could think of for the farmer was on display there, including washing machines, refrigerators, stoves, mixers, pumps, etc., everything except one—the electric chair.

Max Klingensmith has planted one field of corn three times and plans to plant it again, all on account of the cutworms. There are many more birds here this year than for a long time. Clarence Brestley thinks the dams built about help the bird population, because around them he says there are hundreds of birds where there used to be none. And I say, that is one good thing to say for the dams for the more birds we have the less grasshoppers and cutworms there will be.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Lebanon, Oklahoma, Star Route, June 11, 1941.

To the Editor of The Quiz: We must let you know how the weather is down here. We have such wet weather that we can't hardly do anything. It rains every two weeks. But mostly every week. And it really rains. Nearly 4 or 5 inches every time. The people are harvesting their oats and barley. But they are having a hard time of it. They can't get in the fields because its too wet. Most of the corn is laid by. The corn is tassling and silking. It looks like we are going to raise a good crop of corn and lots of hay. Johnston grass is 4 or 5 feet high. It looks like there will be plenty of fruit around here. The Red river is higher than it has been for a long time. Also you find enclosed a dollar for six months for getting the Quiz. We are giving our best regards to all of our friends of Valley county. Yours truly, Mr. and Mrs. John Urban and daughter Etta Mae

Ord was having some very fine concerts which were put on by the Ord firemen's band.

The Ord city council opened the bids for the city hall and awarded the contract to C. O. Doggett on his bid of $30,530. A total of six firms submitted bids.

John Sharp, well known farmer living southwest of Ord, was very seriously injured when kicked by a horse, having four ribs broken and three torn loose. He recovered and lived many years afterward.

Ord's big bargain day, June 15, drew a huge crowd from all parts of the territory, and was pronounced a success.

Ord defeated the St. Paul baseballers by a score of 4 to 2, in a game marred by 11 errors. They made 'em in those days, also.

June 15, 1911. Mrs. A. M. Daniels and Mrs. J. Cass Cornell went to Central City as delegates to the P. E. O. convention.

The famous Ord high Invincibles of 1901 held their anniversary June 13, with only ten of the class of twenty-four present. The bandstand at the southwest corner of the square had grown too small to accommodate Ord's 30-piece band, and plans were being made to enlarge it. How about Ord's 50 piece band of today?

Alexander the Great, as the pitching hand of the year, was winning plenty of games for Philadelphia. He had won ten and lost two.

After three years of studying music in Europe, Floyd Robbins sent word to his family that he expected to arrive in Ord in July.

Miss Grace Calhoun returned from Crete, where she had just completed a year's work at Doane college.

Doc Travis was reported critically ill. In spite of the almost continuous rains in the county, Joseph Vodchanel brought in some winter wheat upon which the chinch bugs had been working very effectively.

A cistern in the rear of Barfa Bros. store caved in because of the heavy rains, carrying down a barrel of vinegar, some egg cases and a lot of vegetables.

The Nebraska Telephone company had installed long distance telephones at the two depots in Ord. Peter Mortensen was putting a new sidewalk in front of his new building and the First National bank. It is the brick sidewalk still to be seen in front of Ben's Grill, the Sorensen Drug store, the City Bakery and the Gamble store.

The village of Ord was making plans for a Fourth of July celebration of the arrival of the Union Pacific railroad, which was building into the edge of town.

Nearly all the trees set out in the school house yard in the spring were still living, and promising shade for the future. Some of them are still furnishing shade now.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. The Dalley Bros. show came Tuesday, and those who saw it say that it was not so bad a performance, making up in energy what they lacked in quantity. The only shows we can expect to see in Ord are the small ones. People get so much entertainment from other sources these days that they do not care to attend other shows. Also, for some reason the public is getting a little particular as to how it spends its money. There were a number of hangers-on and panhandlers who made the rounds of the town, especially the business section, during the day. This is the usual thing with circuses, and the management is hardly to be blamed, since they would have a hard job keeping them from trawling along, even if they tried.

Monday Rev. Clifford Snyder dug up some nice little trees that were growing around the parsonage, and, not wanting to throw them away, he planted them outside the curb on the east and north sides of the Christian church. They look like they might grow, which is something for trees set out in June.

Preacher Turns Inventor, Builds Lawn Mower

Because church business often calls him away from home for a week or two at a time and in his absence his lawn grows to high to be cut with an ordinary lawn mower, Rev. Clarence Jensen of Bethany Lutheran church decided to build a mower that would cut grass of any height, and here is the result.

His new type lawn mower is really a hand-made and home-made machine, for the only part purchased by Mr. Jensen was the small gasoline engine which powers the mower, cost of which was $5.00. Total cost of materials, including the engine, did not exceed $6.00, but into the lawn mower went many hours of work during winter and spring months.

Beneath the machine is a whirling blade which neatly shears off grass or weeds of any height with a minimum of effort. The blade, or mowder section, is adjustable to any height and will cut ordinary lawn grass or the toughest weeds.

In the photo at top Mr. Jensen demonstrates how he can mow into a patch of thistles or other weeds with his new lawn mower and cut them neatly, while below he demonstrates how the revolving blade may be adjusted to any height.

For several days Mr. Jensen has been in Cedar Falls, Ia., but when he returns it will be only a few minutes' job to mow his lawn, so efficiently does his home-made power mowing machine work.

Something Different

This man who is writing the articles about Ord for the Quiz is a character for a book.

He makes his living writing such news, after investigating carefully the scene of an oil drilling. Then he interprets what he finds so that the public may know exactly what is being done. And understand it.

He is fiftyish as to age, and has always done this sort of work. He travels constantly, but always on foot. He may perhaps accept lifts, I think he does. He garbs himself in the handsomest leather field boots, and keeps them shining like mirrors. His clothes are immaculate, and his headgear is one of those African bush helmets.

Up and down the United States he has gone, just as he walked up this valley and over the hills to the new Bredthauer drilling, on his way to Ord.

He has written for the biggest newspapers in the country, and carries a wallet-full of their recommendations.

Miss Norma Mae Spell is studying to be a dietitian, but when spring comes she does not leave her college studies behind her.

When she reached Ord last week Guy LeMasters learned she intended to do the family cooking this summer, and keep records of it. And, she informed him, he would have to sign the record sheets, to prove she did it.

"You may be able to make me eat your cooking," he joshed her. "But that's no sign I'll swear I liked it!"

Really, I was awfully proud of the Quiz picture a week or two ago in which Campfire girls and their visitors and guardians were shown. Though there were dozens of faces in that picture, every face was clearly recognizable. This is unusual in a group picture, and difficult to achieve.

I think Laverne Duemey should have one and give Lene a hand-out.

Laverne is quite a hustler anyway, he and Lene get many things done. They bought the former Mons Monson place from Herb Nelson and his wife Leah Hather, and have been busy fixing it over to suit them, inside and out.

Once this spring I walked down there in the evening intending to buy some spring chickens from the Duemey's... yes, they raised a few hundred baby chicks... and where do you suppose I found Lene and Laverne? They were setting out strawberry plants by flashlight, although it was very dark and the little lightning bug beam of that flashlight made working tough going.

They are full of ideas. And energy. In fact I guess their only trouble is that the days aren't long enough... the same trouble I have.

Use More Dairy Products

This is National DAIRY Month

Everyone knows that dairy foods are among the most healthful known to man. Milk has often been called "the perfect food" because it is so plentiful in many of the elements so necessary to health, and of course anything made from milk is a "perfect food" also.

Our market makes a specialty of dairy items—fresh milk, cream, Ord creamery butter, cottage cheese and a wonderful line of cheeses, both domestic and imported.

Use more dairy products during June. Not only will the health of your family be better but you'll be helping our farmer friends also.

PTZ Powder is not only effective but has the added advantage that it is given in the feed. It is a single-dose treatment and is relatively non-toxic. Klima Family Prove Themselves Good Salt Water Fishermen. And here is the proof that not only Mrs. Ign. Klima, Jr., but also her husband, County Clerk Klima, and their children, Doris and Bob, are good salt water fishermen. All these fish were caught by members of the Klima family on a recent fishing trip in the ocean off Salerno, Fla. Largest fish caught was the 56 pound sailfish hooked and landed by Mrs. Klima but others caught some whoppers too, as this photo proves.

New Tail The animal that can grow a new tail is a peculiarity of lizards. When seized by an enemy from behind, the tail breaks off at one of the joints of the backbone. The severed part continues to wriggle for some time, holding the attention of the pursuer while the lizard escapes. Some species will abandon their tails even before they are seized and immediately start growing new ones. Brewers' Committee Begins Fourth Year of Service!

Three years ago our Committee, the first of its kind in the United States, was established in Nebraska with Charles E. Sandall, former U. S. district attorney, as its state director. Today, as we begin a fourth year of service to the people of Nebraska, we renew the promise made to you three years ago: to cooperate with law enforcement officials in keeping beer retailing on a high level and to help them banish from the ranks of the beer retailers the few who refuse to obey the control laws. Public welfare programs often start with a flourish only to be abandoned. Our self-regulation program continues to gain in effectiveness because it fills a gap between the public and the law enforcement authorities. It benefits everyone. You, the public, can assist in this cooperative program by reporting any objectionable retail beer outlet conditions to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission or to us. Ollis-McPheeters.

Miss Catherine Ollis became the bride of the Reverend John W. McPheeters, Jr., of Elvaston, Ill., this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock in the Mira Valley Evangelical church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Harry Hansen of Holdrege, Nebr. Francis Derick, of Troy Grove, Ill., a classmate of the groom, was the best man. "Beloved, It is Morn," and "O Perfect Love" were sung by the Reverend Moore Bell of Schaller, Ia.

To the strains of Wagner's "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. James Ollis, the bridal party was ushered to the altar by James Ollis, Jr., and Ed Armstrong of Kearney. New Tail. The animal that can grow a new tail is a peculiarity of lizards. When seized by an enemy from behind, the tail breaks off at one of the joints of the backbone. The severed part continues to wriggle for some time, holding the attention of the pursuer while the lizard escapes. Some species will abandon their tails even before they are seized and immediately start growing new ones.

Brewers' Committee Begins Fourth Year of Service!

Three years ago our Committee, the first of its kind in the United States, was established in Nebraska with Charles E. Sandall, former U. S. district attorney, as its state director.

Today, as we begin a fourth year of service to the people of Nebraska, we renew the promise made to you three years ago: to cooperate with law enforcement officials in keeping beer retailing on a high level and to help them banish from the ranks of the beer retailers the few who refuse to obey the control laws.

Public welfare programs often start with a flourish only to be abandoned. Our self-regulation program continues to gain in effectiveness because it fills a gap between the public and the law enforcement authorities. It benefits everyone.

You, the public, can assist in this cooperative program by reporting any objectionable retail beer outlet conditions to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission or to us.

A large number of features are being added to make the affair a success.—The annual one-day golf tournament held at St. Paul last week, but the 43 entrants were not nearly through when rain interrupted the proceedings. The rest was decided by the flipping the coin method. Harvey Anderson, Wolbach, was winner and Jim Eoff, Central City, runner-up.

The annual flag raising ceremony was held Saturday morning at the top of Reservoir Hill.—The city council of Broken Bow is taking drastic action to prevent the malicious destruction of property by youngsters. The damage includes about 25 street light bulbs, and the benches at the recreation park.

What is Crude Oil and From What Forms of Life Could It Have Derived? Why Should Oil Be Discovered on Vogeler Farm?

RAY E. COLTON, D. Sc.
Oil and Gas Science Writer.

Crude oil is actually sought in modern drilling operations on the William Vogeler farm four miles west of North Loup in Valley county, an opportunity is afforded for the discussion of the origin of the oil in prehistoric geologic times. A common theory of oil's origin often expressed by the layman, was that oil was derived from dinosaurs—"terrible lizards"—gigantic mammals roaming the earth during prehistoric geologic times. Jurassic geologic times, from colossal whales. This theory will not hold water for two reasons, one being that fossil remains of these vanished forms of land life and marine mammal life most usually found in terrestrial or land strata, which are unavailable for any commercial accumulations of crude oil, and the second being, that there were not enough of these forms of life here any one time to create any commercial amount of crude oil.

Porous reservoir rock containing some shale in which petroleum originated. Gas indicated by vertical hatchings, and petroleum by cross-hatchings. Ground water level indicated by dotted line.

So we can eliminate the dinosaurs and the whales from the oil theory here in Valley county, as being any possible source of crude oil now sought on the William Vogeler farm.

Two theories have been advanced as to the possible origin of crude oil, one being the inorganic theory and the other the organic theory, the latter being most acceptable to the petroleum industry and scientists in general.

The inorganic theory of oil's origin postulates chemical reactions of gases in deep-buried water, which when cooled at the surface, result in petroleum, especially the action of deep-seated water upon deep-buried carbides of iron and nickel. The evidence of gaseous emanations from volcanoes bears out the chemical similarity of this theory, but the commercial occurrence of oil in major oil fields fails to support this theory in any manner.

The organic theories of oil's origin appear the best and the most logical to explain the origin of oil. Such theories fall under the three following categories:

1. Origin of oil from marine vegetable material.

2. Origin of oil from marine animal material.

3. The combination of both marine-vegetable material and marine-animal material.

The word "marine" is used advisedly as the commercial occurrence of oil in Nebraska and other oil producing states, is closely related to sediments which carry large amounts of marine fossil remains, such as crinoids, oysterlike bivalves, ammonites, foraminifera, and other species of mollusca "shell life" in fossil state. It is even thought that oil might have evolved from nonfossil-bearing material upon which the small marine animal forms subsisted. It is certainly true that numerous laboratory tests conducted by the scientific staffs of the Phillips Petroleum Corporation, Carter Oil Company, Sinclair Refining Corporation and others, prove that petroliferous products can be distilled from almost any form of animal or vegetable life.

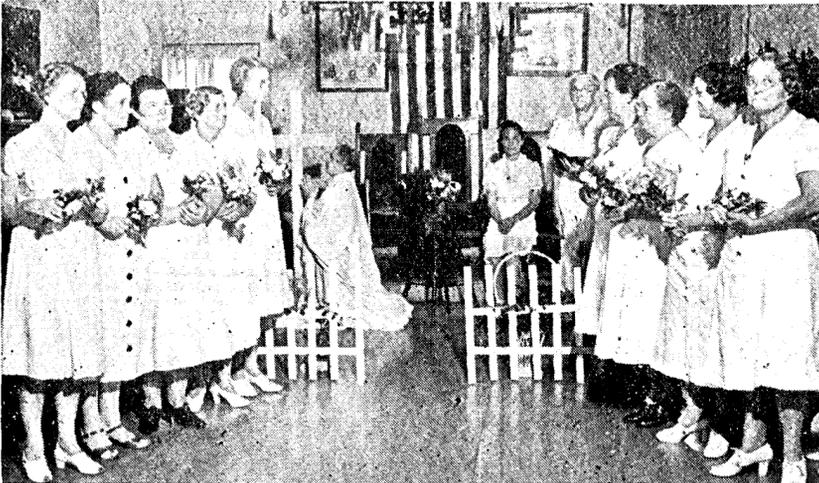

Kelp, a form of seaweed, which today grows in abundance along the southern California seacoast, might have been a source of oil. Kelp would leave little or no fossil evidence, and if the ancient seas, one of which once covered what is today the geographical confines of Valley and adjoining counties of the Ord area, were as rich in kelp as are the present day seas, it might well have been a source of crude oil now sought in this part of central Nebraska.

Bacterial action probably played an important part in the destruction of the animal and vegetable remains and assisted in the chemical action which has given us petroleum.

oil fields proves that the organic theory of oil origin is well substantiated by the evidence in support of this theory which has been obtained. Until a more concrete theory is advanced with adequate scientific basis, the petroleum industry and its geologists and paleontologists will continue to accept the organic origin of oil as final.

In the illustration accompanying this article, you see an actual entrapment of oil in prehistoric geologic times.

NOTE: Dying marine and marine vegetable life formed source beds for oil, and later the mass migrated to adjacent porous strata. This will be discussed in the next issue of The Ord Quiz, exclusively; RAY E. COLTON.

Mrs. Hannah Quinn Was Member of 1891 Class, First Graduating Class of Burwell High School

The Burwell high alumni reunion May 5th marked the fiftieth anniversary of the graduation of Mrs. Hannah McDonald Quinn, from the school. Mrs. Quinn who was a member of the class of 1891 is the oldest and one of the most enthusiastic members of the association.

50 Years Ago... and Today

Great have been the changes in the Burwell schools since that time. According to Mrs. Quinn there were but three teachers in the Burwell school system in 1891. Now there are eighteen. There were five in her class. The class of 1941 had forty-three members. School was held in a small frame building which was later destroyed by fire and replaced by the brick building which is being wrecked at the present time.

No bus stopped at the door to pick up Mrs. Quinn when she attended high school. She kept house for her brother, William McDonald, who was then a bachelor and lived on the Dales farm a mile and a half north of Burwell. She and her brother, Harry McDonald, who is now dead, drove to school in a two wheel cart. Their parents lived in the Erina neighborhood in the Irish settlement of which they were members.

The curriculum when Mrs. Quinn attended Burwell high school consisted of orthography (spelling), civics, reading, physiology, geography, history, grammar, art, arithmetic and penmanship. A. A. Phillips was superintendent during part of the time she attended and a Mr. Jones, the remainder.

The members of her class were Laura McClimans, who later became the wife of Osce Cram and died in 1913, Ethel and Walter Jones, who were children of the superintendent, Ada Patterson and Birdy Coit, who moved to California. Mrs. Quinn today does not know the whereabouts of any of her classmates.

Following her graduation (there were no commencement exercises of any kind in 1891) Mrs. Quinn was granted a teacher's certificate and taught the Rosehill school for years. The years were divided a spring and fall term of three months each. In the winter, Mrs. Quinn returned to Burwell high school for a post graduate course. She pursued the same subjects more thoroughly.

She rode horse back eight miles to reach the Rosehill school which at that time was a sod building. Many of her pupils were older than herself. Eight of them, Jonathan and Tommie Conner, P. H. Mohr, Garfield Erington and his sister, Mrs. Bert Summers, L. A. Butterfield, and Mrs. Andy Abbott still live in the vicinity of Burwell at the present time and several of them reside right in the same school district.

Next Mrs. Quinn taught the Banner school for two years. None of the pupils of this school live at Burwell at the present time. Mrs. Quinn's daughters, Mrs. Mary Brandfas, who died in 1933, and Mrs. Margueritha Quinn Schuldt of Ashland graduated from Burwell high school and became teachers. Last year she saw her grandson, Gerald Quinn, graduate from the same school.

Her daughter Mary taught at Rosehill and later at Banner the same schools her mother taught before her and after attending the Kearney State Teachers college she taught in the Burwell schools where she was principal of the high school for many years. Mrs. Quinn has watched the school grow and improve for fifty years with much enjoyment and satisfaction and can scarcely believe that in fifty years since her graduation the school has developed from a small frame building which could be easily placed inside the auditorium of the present one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollar modern structure. She looks forward to the alumni gatherings with eager anticipation and greatly enjoys having a good time with her school mates of the younger generation many of whom were pupils of her daughter.

Boelus Upset Sunday in Loup Valley League

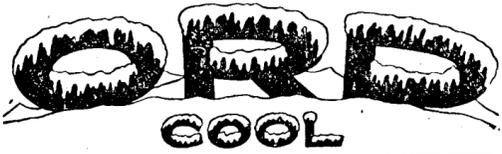

Boelus, leader in the Loup Valley baseball league race, was upset Sunday for the first time when North Loup won, 4 to 0, in a well played game. In other games Sunday Rockville beat Ashton 4 to 1 and Ord lost to Arcadia, 11 to 0. The Ord team made only 4 hits to 10 for Arcadia and made 9 errors while the Arcadia boys played perfect ball. Batteries were: Arcadia—Freeman, Waddell and Braden; Ord—Zikmund, Novosad and Rathbun.

Enjoyable Day Assured All Who Celebrate in Ord

Something to See or Hear at All Hours, Says Cummins; Everything Will Be Free.

From 9:30 in the morning until midnight of July 4th there will be plenty to see, hear and enjoy and all who celebrate the 4th in Ord are assured of an enjoyable time, says M. B. Cummins, chairman of the Ord chamber of commerce celebration committee.

In the morning there will be the Soap Box Derby, at noon a picnic at Bussell park, immediately after dinner there will be music, a patriotic speech by the Hon. Thomas W. Lanigan, of Grand Island, and in the afternoon there will be a pet parade, bicycle and foot races, saddle horse show, horseshoe tournament and baseball game, all on Ord's new athletic field east of Bussell park. In the evening there will be a water contest between Ord fire companies, a band concert and two dances. Everything will be free from morning until night.

The Soap Box Derby starts at 9:30 a. m. and lasts until noon. Twenty cars with Ord lads at the wheel will whiz down the South 21st street hill at speeds of 40 miles per hour and greater, providing fun and excitement for all. Twelve to sixteen events are planned.

All facilities of Ord's beautiful Bussell park will be free to all throughout the day. This includes the 9-hole bluegrass golf course, the tennis courts, children's bathing pool and picnic tables. Music will be provided between 12:00 and 1:00 while the community picnic is in progress.

A male quartet composed of Alex Cochran, sr., Dr. F. J. Osenowski, Alex Cochran, jr., and Harvey Dahlin will sing several selections from a platform erected on the picnic grounds and then will come Mr. Lanigan's speech. He will be introduced by E. L. Vogeltanz.

First event on the athletic field will be the pet parade for which all boys and girls are eligible. The parade will form near the shelter house at the north edge of the field and wind around the cinder track in front of the grandstand. Six cash prizes will be paid to winners.

Next will come the bicycle races on the cinder track. Every boy or girl who plans to enter should arrange for assistants, as the races will be from a standing start with the cyclists mounted.

Mrs. Novosad Dies Saturday

At her home in Ord on June 21 occurred the death of Mrs. Joseph Novosad, 69, after a long illness and the funeral was held in the Ord Catholic church at 9:30 Monday morning with interment in Ord cemetery. Frazier's Mortuary was in charge.

Mary Rozmahel was born in Resice, Moravia on August 28, 1871 and came to the United States with her mother and stepfather in 1888, settling in Saunders county. In 1889 they moved to Hayes county and there she was married in 1893 to Joseph Novosad. Nine years later they moved to Valley county, making their home on a farm in the sand flats 14 miles northeast of Ord. They lived there 20 years, moving to Ord where the rest of Mrs. Novosad's life was spent.

Left to mourn are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Wm. J. Adamek and Miss Emma Novosad, Ord, and by one son, William Novosad, of Ord. A daughter, Amelia, preceded her in death at the age of 8. There also is one brother, John Rozmahel, of Viking, Alberta, Canada, and a half-sister, Frances Kudlack, of the same place.

Mrs. Novosad was a faithful wife and a splendid mother and enjoyed the esteem of friends in every community where she resided. She was a life-long member of the Catholic church.

Beranek Reports on Rotary Convention

Ed F. Beranek, who represented the Ord Rotary club as delegate to the convention of Rotary International held last week in Denver, reported on convention highlights at the Ord club's meeting Monday. There were over 12,000 delegates from 29 countries present. He said, M. Biemond, who with his sons Cornelius and Raymond also attended the convention, spoke briefly.

Principal talk was made by H. Elliot McClure, who is in charge of a peasant survey being made in central Nebraska with funds provided by the Pittman-Robertson act. He also touched briefly upon his hobby, turtle doves. Mr. McClure's talk was greatly enjoyed.

Viner's Big Fish

Even if the camera lies a little in the picture above, John Viner's catfish still is a fine one. He caught it Friday evening in the river near Ord and it weighed 5 pounds. Fishing was slowed up somewhat by muddy water after the recent rains but Viner and other fishermen are having good success, as this picture proves.

Pioneers Picnic Sunday Attended by Crowd of 400

Dr. E. J. Smith New Head of Old Settlers Group; Fine Program Was Given.

Sunday was an ideal day for an Old Settlers picnic, and about four hundred people from all parts of the North Loup valley were in attendance. The rain of the night before had made conditions perfect at Bussell Park, but it kept many from attending, especially from the Taylor territory, which was not represented.

In the absence of Judge Thurman A. Smith of Taylor, Clarence M. Davis of Ord acted as chairman during the business session. Aule Bros. public address system was on the grounds, with A. J. Auble in charge, and with Arden Clark on hand to act as announcer.

All who came early brought their picnic dinner and after the dinner was over the Scotia band, under the direction of Ward Pscherer, music instructor at Scotia, played a half hour's concert, which was followed by community singing led by Mrs. Melvin Cornell of North Loup and accompanied on the piano by Mrs. L. J. Auble.

At the business session which followed Dr. E. J. Smith of Burwell was elected president, John L. Ward, of Ord, vice-president, Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock, of North Loup, secretary, and Harry Miller, of Scotia, treasurer. For directors, L. S. Clark was chosen from Scotia, Sterling Manchester from North Loup, Bud Auble from Ord, Ed Holub from Elyria, F. O. Kellogg from Burwell and Judge Smith from Taylor.

Later Paul Mortensen of Cotesfield was introduced as one of the most enthusiastic boosters for the Old Settlers association, and by acclamation he was elected member of the directors group from Cotesfield. M. G. Williams, president of the Scotia Community Service club, extended an invitation to the group to meet in Scotia next June, which invitation was accepted.

Next the North Loup men's chorus sang two numbers, under the direction of Delmer Van Horn. The other members were Sterling Manchester, George Bell, Albert Babcock, Del Barber, Maynard Schudel, Clara Barber, with Vern Hutchins as pianist. They were enthusiastically received and sang again later in the program.

Mayor M. B. Cummins appeared on the program next and extended the courtesies of the town and the park to the visitors in a way that made all present feel that they were indeed welcome. A. J. Cochran, sr., then sang two fine numbers which were highly pleasing to the group. He was accompanied by Mrs. Syl Furtak.

Senator J. T. (One-Bill) Knezacek then explained to the Old Settlers

Electrical Storm Saturday Eve, 1.66 Inches of Rain Fell

Heavy Wind Came First, Then a Pouring Rain; Some Damage to Roads and Crops.

A wind and electrical storm followed by a heavy rain, was general throughout the North and Middle Loup valley region Saturday evening, striking about 7:00. Ord had 1.66 inches of rain, Burwell 1.36 inches, North Loup 1.50 inches, Loup City 2.15 inches, and amounts varying from 1 to 3 inches elsewhere throughout the territory.

Some damage to country roads and bridges is reported in the Ord vicinity and a few fields of corn were washed so badly they had to be replanted. A trace of hail accompanied the rain in some localities but no hail damage is reported. Some wind damage to small buildings took place and branches were blown off trees everywhere.

The North Loup district's high-line went out of commission early in the storm and the village of North Loup was without electricity throughout the evening. The evening movie show there had to be cancelled as a result. In Ord and Burwell the municipal plants took up the load and lights were off only for a short time in both places.

Between Ord and Arcadia water ran over the highway, especially near the Otto Lueck farm, and north of Burwell traffic was held up Saturday night and Sunday morning because of water on the highway.

Considerable damage to rural telephone lines occurred and in Burwell some telephones were burned out by lightning. The Ord-Burwell toll line was down and service was interrupted for a couple of days.

The storm followed two days of sultry heat, with the highest temperature reading reported by Horace Travis being 92 Saturday Sunday and Monday temperatures were in the 80's but Tuesday was hotter. At St. Paul great damage resulted Saturday night when 4.55 inches of rain fell in the space of a few hours, which is the most reported anywhere in the territory.

At Loup City in the state park four Boy Scout troops including eight Ord Scouts and their scoutmaster, Rex Jewett, were having their annual camporee when 2.15 inches of rain fell, giving almost 100 boys a miserable night. Two troops from Loup City and one from Litchfield were the others at the camporee.

All 21-Year-Olds Register July 1st for Military Duty

Valley Counties Register with Local Draft Board at Court House, Says Wiegardt.

Every Valley county man who has attained the 21st anniversary of the day of his birth subsequent to Oct. 16, 1940 and before midnight July 1, 1941 must register for possible military training on Tuesday, July 1, it is announced by the Valley county draft board which is composed of Wm. Ramsey, jr., L. D. Milliken and W. P. McLean, with A. A. Wiegardt as clerk.

Aliens as well as American citizens must register on this day, the draft board points out. Registration will take place at the draft board's office in the Valley county court house. Special registrars will be provided to register men who cannot appear before the local board because of illness or other incapacity.

A selective service registrant who has more than one place of residence may choose the one which he wants recorded on his registration card as his place of residence to determine the local board that will always have jurisdiction over him.

A Valley county man employed elsewhere, for instance, may choose either the Valley county draft board or the draft board in the county where he is employed to have jurisdiction. Conversely, a man from elsewhere employed in Valley county should register here but may choose to have the draft board at his home as his jurisdictional body.

There is a stringent penalty for failure to register so any man of 21 who did not register last Oct. 16 should do so without fail at this time.

2 Winners Will Compete in the State Finals at No. Platte July 27, Say Cosmos.

Nineteen Ord boys and possibly two or three from rural districts will take part in the Soap Box Derby to be held in Ord the morning of July 4, said Hilding Pearson, president of the Cosmopolitan club this morning. Cosmos will sponsor and supervise the 12 or more Derby races which are being held in connection with Ord's home-grown 4th of July celebration.

With 19 Ord business firms assisting, factory-made wheels and axles were purchased and turned over to boys who wished to build home-made racers. The boys who have built cars are Loyal Hurlbert, Donald Hill, Joe Lola, Clyde Dahlin, Jay Stoddard, Ted Randolph, Norbert Zukoski, Ray Gross, Frank Golka, Donald Walker, Billy Anderson, Donald Behrendts, Bobbie Marks, David Maurice, Richard Radloff, Darrel Johnson, Charles Draper, Donald Andersen and Lyle Manchester.

They will compete for merchandise prizes such as air rifles, baseball gloves and other play articles dear to the hearts of boys, and in addition the two fastest cars and drivers will be taken to North Platte on July 27, with expenses paid by the Cosmo club, to compete in the state finals. Winner of this event, and also his father and mother, will get an all-expense trip to the national finals in Akron, O.

Ed Gnaister is chairman of the Cosmo committee planning the soap box races and he announces that all boys who expect to compete must register and have their cars inspected at the Chevrolet garage on or before Wednesday, July 2. All cars must conform to certain safety standards and must be weighed. Cars will not be allowed to be taken out of the garage after inspection and approval, until time for the races to start.

The Soap Box Derby will form an exciting preliminary to the 4th of July celebration. The races start at 9:30 a. m. on the South 21st street hill and will be finished by 12:00, in time for events at Bussell park.

Drilling Under Way on Bredthauer-Williams Test Well No. 1

Sight-seers by the hundreds are being attracted to the scene pictured above, where the first attempt to find oil in central Nebraska is being made. Already the drill is down hundreds of feet and the 3,500 foot well may be finished within 10 days or two weeks. Here are seen some of the drilling tools.

Local Boy Picked for Test to Decide Driving Champion

Cornelius Biemond One of 24 Who Will Compete at Omaha on July 1 for Honors

Cornelius Biemond, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Biemond of Ord and a student at Kearney State Teachers college, is one of the 24 boys and 12 girls who have been selected to compete for the state championship of Nebraska in the safe driving contest which will be held in Omaha July 1 under the sponsorship of the Ford Good Drivers league.

Young Biemond and the other 23 boys and girls were rated by a board of judges above all the young drivers of the state on the basis of actual road tests, their letters on the subject of safe driving and their answers to a questionnaire on driving.

In the state finals safety experts will rate the boys and girls on their driving ability in actual "on the spot" tests. The winning boy and the winning girl will compete in the national finals at Dearborn, Mich. in August, against two winners from each of the other 48 states and the District of Columbia.

Each of the 98 contestants in the finals will be awarded a university scholarship. The scholarships, identical for boy and girl divisions, are: First prize, $5,000 scholarship; second prize, $2,000 scholarship; third, fourth and fifth prizes, $500 scholarships. The remaining 44 prizes, $100 scholarships each.

More than 170,000 young drivers enrolled this year in the Ford Good Drivers league, from which the contestants in each state were selected.

Father and Son Pay Fines in Police Court

Arrested Monday evening by Chief of Police L. H. Covert for intoxication, Levi Chippis, sr., pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication in police court Tuesday and was fined $10 and cost. At the same time his son, G. G. Chippis, was fined $1 and costs for threats against an officer.

Mr. Chippis, sr., was arrested after an altercation with Chief Covert in front of the Diner cafe. According to Covert, he gave Chippis a chance to go to his farm home but told him to get a drive car. Chippis refused to get out of the car and Covert arrested him. Mr. Chippis' head was cut when Covert pulled him from the car and he was attended by Dr. J. N. Round.

Later the younger Chippis went to the sheriff's office and berated Chief Covert for arresting his father, which brought about his arrest, also.

2 Men Seriously Hurt This Morn

Grant Merritt, 29, and Oscar Jensen, about 40, both from Grand Island, were seriously injured Saturday morning when their Ford coupe struck loose gravel and overturned on No. 11 highway just south of Scotia. Merritt's injuries consisted of a fractured skull and broken shoulder blade; Jensen's of a broken collar bone and internal injuries. Both were attended by Dr. W. J. Hemphill and then brought to the Ord hospital. Merritt's injuries are so serious there is little chance for him to live, doctors say.

The men are Union Pacific employees and were enroute to Ord to work with a bridge repair gang when the accident happened.

Tolly's Eye Hurt.

Roscoe Tolly narrowly missed having an eye put out last week when his little three-year-old son Harry swung a golf club his father did not know he had picked up. Dr. Barta treated the eye and believes it is going to become normal again.

Attempt to Bring in New Oil Field Now Being Made

3,500 Foot Well to Cost $22,500 Being Drilled by Bredthauer; 12 Men Work in 3 Shifts.

At 11:00 a. m. Saturday, drilling of Valley county's first oil well started on the farm land owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, of New York state, 6 miles west of North Loup. The well is to be known as Bredthauer-Williams Test Well No. 1, named after Henry Bredthauer, of Scotia, who raised money to finance the test, and after the owner of the land.

The Williams place was formerly a part of the Bookwalter holdings and adjoins the Vogeler tract first selected as a well site.

The Fowler Drilling Co., of Centralia, Ill., is doing the work with three crews of four men each who work eight hour shifts and thus keep the work going 24 hours a day, seven days a week. From 10 to 30 days will be required to complete the test well, it is estimated.

By Sunday the drill had penetrated to a depth of 540 feet and was through surface formations and water-bearing sands to harder formations where drilling will progress more slowly.

At the 540 foot level drilling stopped while casing was installed and cemented. Drilling was resumed at midnight Monday.

The hole for the first 540 feet is 13 inches in diameter and 10 inch casing pipe was installed in this hole, then the pipe was cemented its entire length. A total of 160 sacks of cement was used. Casing must be installed in the surface structures for the reason that the hole would cave in if this was not done. Below the 500 foot level, in harder formations, casing will not be put in unless the well becomes a producer. The hole below this level will be 8 1/2 inches in diameter.

A vast amount of heavy equipment is used in drilling an oil well, including two big diesel power plants, one to furnish power for the drill itself and the other to produce.

GOVERNMENT PUBLICITY.

No one realizes more than does the editor the amount of free publicity the government of the United States through its multitudinous agencies expects the country newspapers of the nation to publish.

Roughly figured, if ALL this material were printed EVERY WEEK, we would be forced to print a four page supplement, and even then we would have material left over.

The principle of all government publicity bulletins is not to clarify a situation to the reader, but to befuddle him, to bury him under a mountain of multisyllable words where simple words would answer much better.

This proposition of free publicity was bad enough when the government had the regular departments of pre-Roosevelt days, but today, with ten times as many departments and bureaus as there were then, the accumulation of words, bludgeoned about all he can carry out at one load at the end of every week.

The Quiz and other newspapers are supposed to give this publicity free while the local advertisers, who make the publication of the paper possible, are paying the regular advertising rates.

Congressman Carl Curtis of Minden brought this condition to the attention of Congress in a speech he made May 12, and caused to be reprinted in the Congressional Record a letter from Will M. Maupin, publisher of the Clay County Sun.

An Open Letter to Representative Carl Curtis.

My Dear Carl: After a rather extensive investigation of a large number of agencies, I have made a discovery that the initial industry that has been receiving the most publicity has been "helluva lot of" on either the roll or some relief the ever-normal grant for agricultural products, trucking to household plants to propagandists and one Governmental emissaries of the food stamp program drawing good salaries, and so many others that it would fill the pages of the Clay County Sun to enumerate them all.

But, my dear Carl, nowhere can I find a blooming thing calculated to promote, by Federal aid or subsidy the country newspapers, of which the Clay County Sun is one. Oh, yes; the country newspaper is supposed to be aided by a so-called free-postage concession, but all the advantage it is to most of us we could put in an eye and never wink a wink.

Now, my dear Carl, I ask you and your official associates what the heck good it would do to have a small army of propaganda writers living in luxury in Washington, and at the expense of the taxpayers, if the country newspapers refused to print the stuff? How far would all this agricultural relief program get if the country newspapers refused to give the program and progress space in their columns? How far would Uncle Sam get in his efforts to promote the sale of thrift stamps and baby bonds for the financing of the preparedness program if the country newspapers closed their columns to that patriotic program?

Yet, my dear Carl, everybody but the country publisher is paid, and he is expected, and usually does, to spend his money for composition, paper, ink, press work and postage to get the program across to the public. While doing this the country publisher is paying his share of the taxes and often more than his share in comparison with many others. Your Federal propaganda artist can have his stuff printed for nothing in the Government printing office and can mail it free under a frank. But we country publishers must pay for having the stuff set up in type and then pay postage on the newspaper in which it is printed.

The propaganda writer gets his fat Government check every month, often twice a month, while the average country publisher just don't. He gets his if, as, and when he can. Now we country publishers claim to be and are as patriotic as any man or woman on the pay roll as manager or employee of the many Federal spending agencies. But there is a financial limitation to the country publisher's ability to demonstrate his patriotism. Paper houses insist on being paid for their wares; printers must be paid on dot. The presses stand idle when the pressman is unpaid. And strange as it seems, the editor and publisher and their families must eat, and there is a law against appearing nude in public.

In view of all this, my dear Carl, don't you and your colleagues think it is about time to give some consideration to the country newspapers while all this Government promotion work is going on? We are not asking for relief, merely asking that we be given a break.

It might be possible to dispense with the services of about nine-tenths of the propaganda writers now on the Federal pay roll, thus saving their salaries and expense accounts, and the cost of getting their editorial sheets printed at the Government Printing Office, and spend the huge sum thus saved in paying the country publishers a little for the space they give to the promotion of the preparedness plan?

As for the Clay County Sun, one of the humble country newspapers of the nation, it will gladly give up a major part of its columns to Federal promotion, free and without price, just as soon as the rest of them give their services to the nation free and without price. Until then the editorial wastebasket yawns, and does not yawn in vain.

With highest personal regards and best wishes, my dear Carl, this country newspaper remains, as ever

Yours sincerely, The Clay County Sun

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Miss Pansy Hunter calls it "The Senate Chamber." She is of the Des Moines Hunters. No doubt you have heard of them. She has a summer cottage on the north side of our Middle Cullen, comes in April and stays till November. Oscar Wallin calls it a "Biffy" but I looked in Webster's dictionary and he fails to throw any light on the reason for the name. Pat Fuson was 13 years old before he ever used one or knew what it was for. He wouldn't then buy the traveling shoemaker came along the fall. Pat was 13 and as his people had decided that he must go to school that fall, a couple of cowboys were sent out into the hills to rope him and bring him in so his feet could be measured for the first shoes he ever wore. John Haskell has built hundreds of them after the approved Franklin D. Roosevelt pattern. I went to the fair grounds one day to see John about something and happened to take my camera along. Not seeing John, I asked John Benson where he could be found and he blushed and pointed to a little square house at one side. I went around in front, got the camera ready and coughed. John, letting his curiosity get the better of his usual caution and love of secrecy, he opened the door to peek out and I snapped the picture. It is a dandy and shows John seated on the throne in the approved style. Chic Sale has gained fame by writing a book about them but it was left for a little Minnesota wren, just fresh back here after spending her winter in Central America, to gain publicity for our little house which stands under a clump of oaks and white birches just back of the garage. And now Mrs. Ray Luther refers to it as the wren even though she says she never even thought of whether it was instinct or something else that caused Mrs. Wren to choose it for her summer home, I don't know but she and her hubby have a nestful of young there. They seem to think it is necessary every time their home is approached by one of us inquisitive mortals, to fly out and sit on a limb or a timber in the garage and loudly berate us (I suppose that is what she is doing) until we go away.

It was Longfellow or Whittier or John Ward or some of them poets who wrote, "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet." There is a clump of wild roses on the bank of the lake just in front of our cottage. They are a beautiful shade of pink, small very sweet and do well there, probably because they are protected from the north and west wintry winds by a clump of spruce that I had set there a few years ago. These are our only roses, as we have never set any though roses do well in Minnesota. But I made a round of the grounds last evening and counted fifteen kinds of flowers in bloom. The back yard is gorgeous with peonies. (Kate Clark always pronounces it pe-onie with strong accent on the letter o.) I counted forty big blossoms, the most beautiful being the dark maroon red, though the pinks are pretty too. Then there is a big plot of lilies and they are very showy. A plot of blue forget-me-nots about 3 by 5 feet and a solid mass, is very beautiful in front of a bank of ferns beside the back porch and these flowers bloom all summer. Mrs. Gelow gave us our start of these flowers some years ago. Then there are pinks, sweet williams, white daisies, hundreds of them, a pansy bed set out last year by Shirley that is a marvel of beauty and many others. We have a dozen or so clumps of phlox, some beautiful kinds that are just making flower heads and soon they will be giving us lots of flowers too.

We have had about a week of real hay weather now and farmers are making the most of it, those on our route to town having much of the first cutting of alfalfa and clover in the barns. There is a very heavy first cutting this year due to the great amount of rainfall all the spring. The farmers here have been having a shortage of rain for several years, though of course not to the same extent that we in Nebraska have had it. You do hear them saying, now, that they believe the good years of plenty of rainfall have come back. Crops of all kinds are great here.

4-H Club Trouble

A rather interesting incident was told me the other day by the father of a calf club boy. The boy decided to join the calf club and the family being not too rich looked over their own herd of Holsteins and the old man told the boy he would sell him, on time of course, a nice heifer calf from their best cow, for fifteen dollars. This price was not too much but of course, the old man would go more than half way with his own son.

The boy diligently kept track of the feed but the Dad became interested too in the calf and would toss in an extra ear of corn now and then and in feeding it milk he always gave it a big helping until the heifer bloomed into the best one on the farm, and probably as nice as was on many farms. The old man, one might infer, was caring for the calf as much as the boy.

In the dairy calf division, these projects carry for two or three years, until the calf becomes a mature cow or heifer and so did this boy carry on until a neighbor came along one day and offered eighty-five dollars for it. The boy being more of a business man than he was a calf member decided to sell out, take his profit which was rather good by then, and buy a gun and a few other important articles so necessary to a boy's existence. He proceeded to go and tell his father of his decision.

"By Golly you aren't going to sell that heifer," his father answered hotly. "Why, that's the nicest cow on the place."

"But it's mine," the boy said. Then upon second thought he decided to be good to his father, like all boys should be. "I'll tell you, Dad, I'll just sell her to you for eighty-five."

The old man realized that was a magnificent gesture of his son, but the heck of it was, he didn't have the eighty-five dollars or even as many dollars as the profit that had accumulated on the club project of the lad, who up to date had not invested a cent in the cow, unless setting down in a little book is an investment.

Finally the old man stalked off but before he did this stalking he explained in no uncertain tenor, "Son, I don't know how all this is coming out but I do know one thing for sure, you are not going to sell that cow to go off the place."

And that was when I heard the story. As yet there has been no settlement, but the old man said it looked like he would have to give the boy a note for about forty dollars. He said too he hated to do that for no one else would take his note and he felt a little conscience stricken to force one on the kid. I gathered too, that as far as he was concerned there would be no more calf clubs for his son until their finances improved somewhat. In fact he said, "Calf clubs are like most other things, that is, not for the poor and distressed."

News From Afar

Asking Mrs. Richard Sporleder, visiting her from Reno, Nev., what made the town, she answered she did not know for sure only the movie folks and the divorce business. It is, otherwise only a desert town.

She said there is much gambling there and many night clubs. One lady, only a few days before she left, so she heard, lost $5000 in one evening. Mrs. Sporleder left on the train at 5 a. m. and across the street from the depot was a night club and gambling joint still going on.

He baked for him. His mother says he also makes good cakes, in his Mason City, Ia., kitchen.

No, that half-box, half-lattice contraption in our yard is positively not a lemonade stand. Nor is it a toy box. A number of other suggestions have been received as to what this white-painted number might be. But it isn't.

It is a sand box for Teddy. The lattice top is not primarily to keep the sun off but more to provide a place for pulleys, so that the doors may be weighted and not fall on Ted. And cause a clamor. —Irma.

This Group Policed Valley County Fair 30 Years Ago

Shown above are as well known a group of old timers as has been shown in the Quiz for some time. They were the men who acted as police for the Valley County Fair, and the picture was taken in 1912. The old timers will recall that this group did a very fine job in looking after the crowds that came to the fair in those days.

Left to right they are: Harvey Polter, Bert Lashmett, Jake Honeycutt, William Bannister, H. L. York, Silas Clift, Art Petersen, William Wigent, Eugene Madison, Smithy Burrows. We know Bert Lashmett is still living, and possibly Jake Honeycutt is, we are not certain. The rest have all passed on, but they were a fine group of men.

News From Afar Short Shavings

She found it rather amusing whenever she told anyone that she was just from Reno. The people would invariably gasp a little, and raise their eyebrows, and then she would have to explain that her husband has a job there and that was their home.

Short Shavings. The nicest and largest tree in these parts is near the creek east of August Kriewalds home. The second nicest tree is on the West Hutchins place, in the northwest corner, and it has a little park and picnic ground about it. Both trees are cottonwoods.

In surveying the ditch the first time, it would have run so that this tree would have been cut off from West's place. He went to the big-wigs and asked the ditch be put on the other side. "I would not take a hundred dollars for that tree," he said. They granted his request and consequently he made this picnic ground with a swimming pool included.

In getting a package ready to mail, the ladies of Riverdale found upon their arrival at the post-office that they were late and it was very necessary that the package should go out that day and no later.

After the postmaster had cancelled the stamps the ladies rushed to the depot to put it on the train but before they got there they saw the train already pulling out. Not to be dismayed at a little accident like that, instead of turning to the depot they turned south, sped their car up to forty miles an hour, beat the train by several minutes to Scotia and put the package on it there. For some reason Lee Mihane thought that was a big joke.

Little John Sporleder, upon visiting our place and having been shown around, seeing the kittens, calves, pigeons, colts, little mules, dogs, lambs, chicks and poulets, asked Dick if there wasn't some bears too. "I like to look at 'em bears the best," she said.

Red Cross Offers Supervised Swimming in River Near Ord Starting Tomorrow

Ord children are to have a chance to do their swimming safely and under capable supervision, thanks to the Red Cross. Arrangements have been made to have B. A. Eddy keep an eye on water activities of youngsters, and Roscoe Tolly to act as his assistant at the North Loup river bridge "ole swimmin' hole". The guardians will be on duty Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from two o'clock until five, beginning tomorrow.

In this way the Red Cross hopes to provide all children six years or older with a chance to swim, wade or play in the water safely. Farm children are as welcome as town children, but any under six will not be officially accepted for watching unless a parent remains on the bank nearby.

No regular swimming classes were offered in Ord this summer, but since there is little money to spend and no suitable swimming pool, the Red Cross thought that a pair of capable guards would help a great deal. Mr. Tolly and Mr. Eddy will make whatever rules are necessary, limiting swimming days in "bad weather," or on days when the water is too high or too low, seeing that children do not swim too long, sending them home at requested times as far as possible, preventing rough or foolish water play.

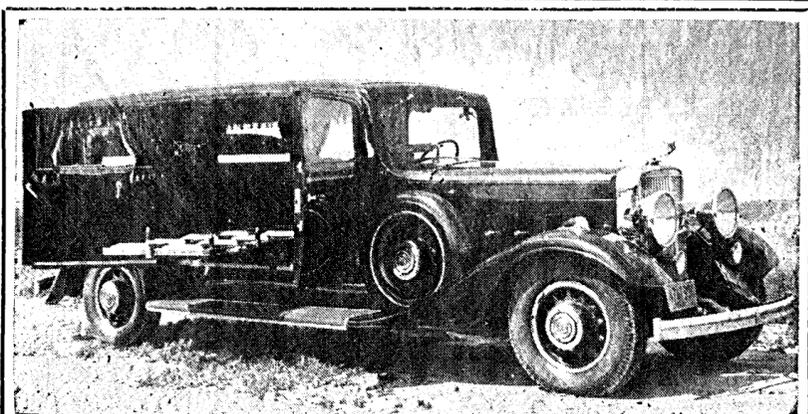

If parents will cooperate, it is hoped that children can enjoy water sports in safety during hot weather. No child will be permitted to stay in the water all afternoon, but the guardians of course cannot be responsible for carelessness on the part of the children. Parents are asked to know when their children leave to go to the river and to check carefully the length of time they may stay in the water. The Red Cross is not making arrangements to take children to or from the river; children will have to get there and back by themselves or with the help of their parents.

Therefore the Red Cross asks that parents and children have definite understandings at home as to the time when the child shall go to the river and shall come home from the river. The Red Cross will do its best to take good care of the young people while they are at the river, only. Any parents having questions are asked to come down to Anderson's Island and talk to either Mr. Eddy or Mr. Tolly.

Areas will be carefully checked as to depth, and a suitable wading spot arranged for the smaller children, and deeper water suitable for swimming and diving marked clearly for the benefit of older swimmers. Children will undoubtedly learn a good deal about correct swimming procedure, although it is not possible now to say just what instructions will be offered to them.

This fine health and safety program for Ord and vicinity is furnished by the Red Cross Water Safety Program because there have been so many inquiries about this phase of Red Cross work. It will be continued about six weeks, or as long as attendance and benefits accrue. Red Cross officials of the local chapter state that the community has been so loyal at roll call time that the organization wishes to show its appreciation by this unusual Red Cross help for the average citizen.

Surely Ord will appreciate this offer, and in return cooperate with the Red Cross in this fine new safety measure.

We Are Pleased to Announce that to Improve Our Funeral Service We Have Purchased a Sayers-Scoville 3 WAY LOADING HEARSE

In conformance with our policy of keeping our equipment constantly at a high level of efficiency, we announce the purchase of the SAYERS-SCOVILLE HEARSE pictured above. It is the first hearse of this modern type to be installed by a mortuary of the Loup Valley region.

Powered with a Buick engine, this handsome hearse is manufactured by a company which deals exclusively in hearses and ambulances and offers the most modern development in hearse design—the 3-way loading feature which permits insertion of the casket from either side or from the rear. The fact that the casket table is considerably lower than in hearses of older model is another decided advantage.

Use of this Sayers-Scoville Hearse makes it possible for use to conduct services of dignity and simplicity under all conditions that may arise.

We invite the public to inspect this new hearse.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Was Enjoyable Affair

Altogether a pleasant evening was the mother-daughter banquet as provided and served Thursday evening to 158 ladies of every age at the Methodist church. Present were many little girls, and even a few great grandmothers, and many of in-between age, but all of them enjoyed the food and the program.

Ladies of the Methodist church prepared the food and sold the tickets and made the arrangements. To eat there was fruit cup, chicken casserole, parsley potatoes, perfection salad, hot rolls, butter, pickles, jelly, with good homemade ice cream and homemade white cake and coffee as a finishing touch. A group of young men handled the serving problem very nicely, and gave that different touch to the affair.

Guests were seated at long tables, and the basement was filled to capacity. Candles and flowers were the decorations, with white programs at the cover bearing a "Whistler's Mother" silhouette in black. The little candy cups matched.

Mrs. Alex Cochrane made a capable toastmistress, and Misses Jean and Darlene Carlson sang a brief grace before the food. Of the toasts given, the first was a short, effective one entitled "To Our Mothers" by Roberta Stoddard, with the response, "To Our Daughters" given by Mrs. Fred Stoddard.

Millicent Mason read lines dedicated to "My Grandmother" and Carolyn Aulsebrook a little poem "My Modern Mother," both of them being given while the lights were lowered for a series of tableaux. The first of these living pictures showed Mrs. E. O. Carlson in costume as Betsy Ross, colorfully. Next "Mother Machree" appeared between the curtains, portrayed by Mrs. Keyth Habig to the strains of the song.

Third portrayal was that of the "Pioneer Mother" by Mrs. Ernest Achen. She brought down the house showing this mother alert with her gun as she worked. A conventional "Red Cross Mother" was given by Miss Darlene Mason. Mrs. M. B. Cummins pleased everyone in her black "Mummy" picture when they saw her holding a little black pickaninny. Mrs. Winnie Finley made a suitable picture of "Grandmother" in costume.

Four pictures of the "Modern Mother" were made by Mrs. Glen Aulsebrook, Mrs. Virgil Cuckler, Mrs. Elmer Zlomke, and Mrs. Ben Clark, snapping her in various phases of her life. Lastly Mrs. M. Marvin Long was shown as "Whistler's Mother," very effectively.

Mrs. Mark Tolen sang songs to help illustrate the feeling of each portrait, with Mrs. Robert Noll accompanying her at the piano. After the tableaux several young daughters lighted the candles throughout the room, singing as they went.

Mrs. Evet Smith offered the closing prayer.

and a group of Scottia young people to Lexington Monday where they will spend the week attending Epworth League Institute.

Mrs. Leah Gosier of Norfolk spent the week end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Adams. Mrs. Gosier had just returned from Atlantic City, N. J., where she had attended a national conference of social workers. Sunday morning she spoke at the morning service in the Mira Valley Evangelical church, telling of her trip and the convention.

Birthday Celebrated.

Friends of Mrs. Archib Bell gathered at her home Sunday for an evening of pinocle and to help her celebrate her birthday, which was Saturday. In the group were Messrs. and Madams Irvin Merrill, Joe Knezacek, Emory Petersen, J. W. McGinnis, Nell Petersen. High scores were won by Mrs. Emory Petersen and Mrs. Bell, low by Mrs. Merrill and Dr. McGinnis and traveling prize by Mrs. Emory Petersen.

Elizabeth Flynn Weds.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flynn announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Gordon Cassidy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Cassidy of Burwell, last Wednesday at Broken Bow, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Guildner. Mrs. Cassidy has taught school for the past four years in Sherman and Garfield counties and has worked Saturdays at the Ord creamery. She was graduated in 1934 from Ord high school.

Mr. Cassidy is a 1933 graduate of Burwell high school and is now foreman of the Mains ranch west of Ericson where he and his bride will make their home. They were hosts to a charivari party of friends and neighbors Sunday night.

Entertain Ollis' Guests.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller entertained at a garden party at their home Thursday evening for the friends and relatives who came for the Ollis-McPheeters wedding last week. Preceding the garden party Mr. and Mrs. Will Ollis took their party to the park for a picnic supper.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. James Ollis invited visiting friends and relatives to be their guests at a picnic. Since the evening was a wet one, the picnic was served indoors.

Mrs. Kruml Busy.

Mrs. J. G. Kruml visited with a number of friends during her short stay in Ord, spending Wednesday as a guest at the Frank Fafetta home, and Thursday going to Ericson with the Ed Kruml's. Tuesday of last week the Ed Whelan's had an informal backyard supper for Mrs. Kruml and her children, with the Ed Gnauster family the only other guests.

Methodist Program Full.

For this week, Methodist ladies had a full program indeed. Entertaining at various affairs in hopes of making a little money for their church, a number of women were hostesses. On Tuesday Mrs. R. C. Greenfield asked friends for tea at her home in the country, and Mrs. John Haskell assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Almond Brox was hostess to her study circle Wednesday at her home at a one o'clock luncheon. Mrs. Charles Burdick was a tea hostess on Thursday afternoon at home, and on Friday Mrs. Maude Cochrane asked a few in for tea.

Barbara Anderson's Party.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Leonard Parks assembled her Sunday school class and the girls went to surprise Barbara Andersen, as it was Barbara's birthday. A nice gift from her classmates and lovely refreshments helped to make it a real party.

Adamek-Stewart Nuptials.

Miss Ann Adamek became the bride of Donald E. Stewart Saturday, June 21 at three o'clock at the Presbyterian church in Ord. Rev. Ray Radliff performed the ceremony uniting these well-known Ord young people in marriage, both of whom graduated from the Ord high school. Mrs. Stewart chose a navy blue sheer street length dress trimmed with white organza for her wedding, with a large blue picture hat of straw and horsehair to match.

After a short wedding trip to the eastern part of the state and to Kearney to visit his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart plan to leave next week for Riverside, Calif., where he expects to be employed. They go with the many good wishes of Valley county friends who have known them all their lives.

Family Reunion.

Mrs. W. A. Bartlett had the pleasure of having her four children with her the past week. Mr. and Mrs. John L. W. Nelson and Freddie of Omaha came Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Bartlett and Daniel came from Wilder, Ida., Friday morning. Mrs. J. E. Gilmore and Allen came from Lincoln Friday. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. George Zikmund, Dale and Susan. The Nelsons returned home Sunday, the Bartlett family Monday, and Mrs. Gilmore and son Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Bartlett.

Ord Pinochle Guests.

The members of the Ord Pinochle club were invited guests in the home of Mrs. Ray Melia Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Melia had the pleasure of filling in for absent members a number of times during the past season, so she invited the group to a fried chicken dinner and all the trimmings, including home made ice cream. At pinochle Mrs. John Ulrich held high score, Mrs. Anna Goff, low, and Mrs. Will Treptow, traveling prize.

Fireworks Illegal in Ord!

We wish to call the public's attention to Ord's city ordinance which prohibits the sale or shooting of firecrackers or other fireworks within the city limits of Ord at all times. Especially do we wish people to note that Russell park and the Ord athletic field are within the city limits and that the ordinance applies at these places as it does in the city proper. Every violation of the fireworks ordinance weakens respect for this ordinance and the cooperation of everybody is asked for.

Ak-Sar-Ben Honors Ord June 30 at Show

Ak-Sar-Ben, with a membership of 7,500 Omaha goodwill emissaries, is offering midwesterners another real treat this year. Each Monday evening, from June 9th through July 28th, it invites residents of various communities as its special guests at the colorful den show held in the Coliseum at Omaha.

Citizens of Ord and vicinity will be thus honored on June 30. Free tickets may now be obtained from Ak-Sar-Ben Ambassador E. C. Leggett.

Other communities included in Ak-Sar-Ben's invitation for that night include: Bartlett, Ericson, Spalding, Greeley, Burwell, Sargent and Taylor.

The 1941 den show is called, "Trouble in the Tropics." It is a beautiful musical revue with a mixture of Spanish and tropical background. Set in romantic Puerto Rico, it depicts interesting and amusing experiences of army men from Nebraska and western Iowa transported to gay Latin surroundings.

The annual den show invitation to outstate residents is extended by Ak-Sar-Ben as another goodwill gesture to promote friendly feeling throughout the middle west. A special committee will be on duty at the Coliseum to welcome visitors, who will occupy a reserved section on the night named. As in the past, a free buffet supper will follow the performance.

Jr. Legion Baseball Team Wins Opener

Playing exceptionally fine ball all the way, Ord's Legion Junior baseball team won over the St. Edward Legion Junior team Wednesday at the Ord athletic field, by the score of 6 to 3. The St. Edward team has a deserved reputation as a fine team, but the pitching of Bill Novosad and Leon Faulk for Ord was just too much for them.

Novosad pitched the first five innings, allowed two hits and struck out thirteen. Faulk finished the game, allowed two hits and struck out seven. Twenty strikeouts in a game should win, and it certainly did. Spechel for St. Edward struck out seven in six innings, and Fisher, who followed, struck out four in three innings.

The Ord boys collected eleven hits, and made three errors. One hit off Novosad was a home run, accounting for one St. Edward score, and another score came in on one of the errors when the catcher, throwing to third to catch the runner, hit him instead, and he scored before the ball could be fielded.

Billy Johnson caught the entire game and did a fine job. In fact the playing of the entire team left little to be desired. E. Piskorski played first base, Jerry Fryzek played second, Frank Misko played third, Faulk played shortstop, Alex Cochrane tended the left garden, with Darrell Johnson and Lyle Novosad dividing center field between them, and Bob Severson and Ray Vogetanz doing likewise in right field.

The other four members of the fifteen man squad are D. Faulk, Dan Tromke, Roland Norman and Donald Petersen. Batting honors for Ord were fairly even between Fryzek, Piskorski and Bill Johnson, with Fryzek getting a triple, a double and a single in four times up. St. Edward plays here again next Sunday, and Cedar Rapids is playing here this afternoon.

The preceding Sunday, June 15, the Ord team went to Davis Creek, and with neither of their first string pitchers present, managed to slug out a 17 to 14 victory. In that game the team batting average was .326, and in Wednesday's game it was .366, which is heavy batting in any league.

The Advisory Commission To The Council Of National Defense Has Adopted The Following Resolution:

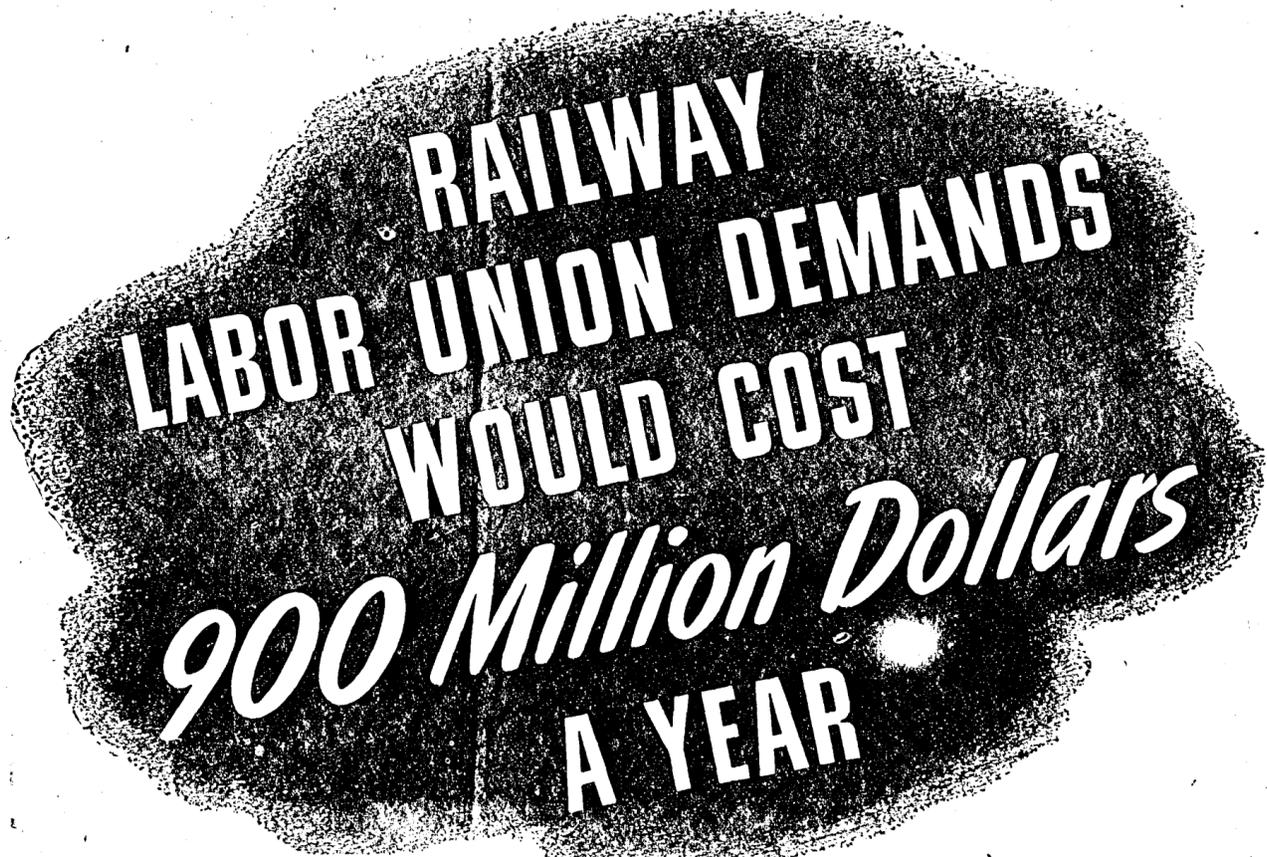

"Whereas, Coal Stocks for use by industries, public utilities, railroads and other consumers have been reduced due to the cessation of bituminous mine operations during April; and

"Whereas, the summer months are normally slack periods so far as coal production and consumption are concerned; and

"Whereas, increased production and storage of coal during the summer months will tend to reduce the peak demand for production and transportation in October and November;

"Therefore, be it resolved: That the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense urges all coal users and dealers to order and store as much coal as practical between now and the first of October."

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States—and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent—averaging 47 per cent—and amounting to 580 million dollars a year—although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.

BURWELL

Burwell continues to lose population to California. Attorney and Mrs. Glenn Runyan and three sons plan to move there the first of July where he will be associated with his former partner, J. L. Pearl, in a credit rating bureau and a collection agency in Los Angeles. The Runyans have spent eleven years in Burwell where they have made many friends who will regret their decision to move from here. Mr. Runyan served as county attorney from 1934 to 1938 and at the present time is city attorney. He has been a member of the board of education and generally taken an active part in civic affairs. The members of the Congregational church will have a pot luck farewell supper in honor of the Runyans in their church on Thursday evening.

Miss Bernice Myers ended her twelfth year of service in the Golden Rule store in Burwell when she handed in her resignation Saturday night. She will be replaced by Mrs. Dewey Meyer. Miss Myers joined the staff of this store shortly after it opened its doors for business in Burwell and has been continuously employed there ever since. She plans to make her home in California where she is considering taking a course in designing. She will go there soon with an uncle who is driving to the west coast where she has many relatives and friends whom she will visit while she is selecting her new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kesterson and their nephew, Robert Kesterson, all of Denver, arrived in Burwell Thursday where they visited his mother, Mrs. Lillie Kesterson, and his sister, Miss Fay Kesterson and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flakus. They returned to Denver Sunday morning. Robert Kesterson is an enlistee in the aviation department of the army and is stationed at Lowry field near Denver. Their visit in Burwell was cut short by the brevity of his furlough.

Everet Kremer and his daughter, Penny, of Bend, Ore., arrived in Burwell Friday where they are visiting his mother, Mrs. Charles Parkos and Mr. Parkos. Ira Beat, who went to California two weeks ago has found employment at Barstowe as a carpenter. He is paid $1.12 cents per hour with double pay for overtime, Sundays and holidays. Mr. Beat writes that he intends to stay in California as long as he can find such remunerative employment.

Que Mathews, of Aurora, spent Monday in Burwell where he visited friends. His sister-in-law, Mrs. A. J. Meyer, who has spent several weeks visiting in the Mathews home at Aurora, returned to Burwell with him. Mr. Mathews reports that his mother is again confined to her bed following severe injuries she sustained when she fell. Mrs. Mathews formerly endured a long term of bedfastness with a broken hip.

Mrs. Francis Thomas returned Thursday from an extended auto trip through the east. She visited a sister living in Chicago and two brothers who reside in Ohio, where she attended a family reunion where her father and all of her brothers and sisters with the exception of one sister living in California were present.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner drove to Lincoln Tuesday morning where he attended a meeting of the William Jennings Bryan Memorial commission of which he is a member. They returned home today. The Fenners doubt if they will spend any time this year at their summer home at Cullen Lake, Minn. Mr. Fenner is very busy superintending the construction of a new house he is building on the lots east of the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Egan, where the Seward Holloway family now lives. He is also making extensive repairs on the W. G. Hemmett residence which he now owns.

John Dean Maxfield returned Saturday from Hartington where he had been a guest in the home of his sister Mrs. Rolland DeLong since Wednesday.

Several practices of the ladies interested in kittenball have already been held and a team will be selected this week. Any women interested in kittenball are urged to report for practice at the new school house Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 6:45. Later they intend to play at the fair grounds where those handling the project hope to have lights arranged so that games can be played after dark.

Definite steps have been taken to establish the food stamp plan in Garfield county, according to Miss Dorothy Paulin, county assistance director. Two meetings were held in Burwell last week to further the promotion of the plan, one with the county commissioners and representatives of the Surplus Marketing administration and the other with the merchants and the Surplus Marketing administration representatives. Miss Paulin says that undoubtedly a meeting will be held in the near future for all persons eligible for participation in the commodity stamp program.

Farmers whose crops are being threatened by grasshoppers are urged to scatter poisoned bran by County Agent Monson. The poison is being mixed in Ord this year and is trucked to Burwell where it is stored in Coffin's barn. Persons wanting to purchase it can do so at the county agent's office any time of the day. It sells for twenty-five cents per sack this year. The poison also destroys army worms which according to Mr. Monson are causing considerable damage to alfalfa fields. The army worm resembles a cut worm except that it is somewhat larger, is rather brownish in color and has stripes on its back. Army worms feed above the ground.

A large number of Burwellites were lured to Ericson Sunday by the fried chicken dinner, John Pesek's wrestling match, the ladies kittenball game and other attractions at the Catholic picnic. Everyone attending came home with reports of a good time. Among the many present were Mrs. W. D. Massey, Miss Nina Nickells, Mr. and Mrs. Knute Peterson, Billie Grunkemeyer, Miss Beth Gyger, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. She was also awarded a point toward a championship. At the Sokie Valley Kennel club show at Stickley, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, Alee was judged the best dog of her breed and the best of all winners. She was awarded three more points toward her championship. Dr. Cram received a beautiful hand carved wooden plaque bearing the likeness of an Indian head and a golden platter as prizes for his dog's accomplishments. He also received an array of ribbons. Alee of Cram is a full sister of the doctor's championship bitch, Cheer of Cram, who is now being trained for field trials.

Pioneers Picnic Sunday Attended by Crowd of 400

(Continued from page 1) the so-called Port Hartsuff bill, the only bill he introduced at the recent session of the unicameral, reading the salient portions of the bill and explaining them. Needless to say, he received the best of attention, since the Port Hartsuff proposition has been near and dear to the old settlers for a long period of time.

Dr. E. J. Smith was next introduced as the principal speaker of the program, and he lived up to the expectations of those who have heard him by delivering one of the finest talks heard at a picnic here in recent years. Included in his remarks was a splendid tribute to the few remaining old settlers, whom, he said, are needed as counsellors for the younger generation.

Clarence Davis then called upon Charles Rood, who will be 90 years old July 4, and Mrs. Babcock, his sister, both of whom came to the valley at North Loup in 1872. They each said a few words. He introduced W. A. Anderson, and Will Crunk, pioneers from Ord, who made brief talks. Rev. M. Marvin Long of Ord closed the program with a benediction.

The bill put through by Senator Knezacek called for the presenting to the governor of a petition signed by at least one hundred citizens of Valley county to start the organization for the acquiring of Port Hartsuff, and Clarence M. Davis had the petition ready and obtained a large number of signers from those present.

The park was in splendid condition and the meeting was considered by those in attendance to be one of the most interesting and enjoyable that has been held. Scotia led in the number of persons present, with a large number from North Loup and Ord, and quite a number from Burwell. The severity of the storm in the Taylor territory doubtless prevented any from attending from there.

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

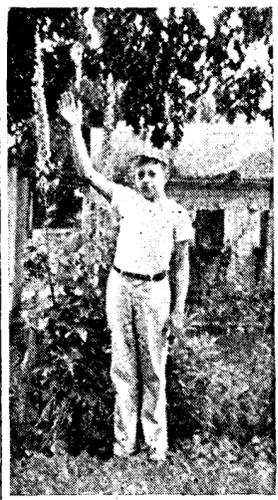

Get Rid of the Weeds.

Valley county farmers who planted trees for windbreak purposes around their farmsteads this spring as urged by County Agent Dale to keep the plantings clean and keep the weeds down.

Growing conditions here thus far for 1941 for the trees have been excellent and survival very high, according to reports received at the County Agent's office. However, in many cases the weeds have grown as fast as the trees and threaten to sap the ground of moisture later on when the trees will need it.

Backward weather conditions have put most farmers behind with their farm work and hence the trees may be slighted in the next few weeks. If at all possible, the trees should be cultivated at the earliest possible moment and the weeds eradicated. Otherwise, they will continue to out-grow the seedlings and take a great deal of moisture from the ground during the hot summer months which are sure to come later.

Delphinium Stalk Is Over Eight Feet Tall

Here is Billy Weddell, of Arcadia, standing by Mrs. Walter Sorensen's delphinium. The warm weather and fine rains have caused this purple flower to grow 27 inches long. From the tip of the flower to the ground, the stalk is over 8 feet tall.

winning by a score of 86 to 72. It was Ord Week at the Ericson pleasure resort, and a large number were enjoying an outing there and catching plenty of fish. Ord people still go there in large numbers.

June 25, 1886.

It was agreed by a mass meeting to go to North Loup to celebrate the Fourth of July, and have a big celebration at Ord upon the arrival of the railroad. Peter Mortensen was chairman of a committee on arrangements.

Will Stevens of Strohl, in Loup county, was in Ord and said he had brought out the location of Strohl as a candidate for the county seat. Strohl lost out in the election, but Bill Stevens still lives in Loup county.

T. T. Bell of St. Paul, who taught the Ord school for some time, had opened a loan and collection office at Scottia.

Plain Valley held a big Children's Day program, with the following persons included in the list of those participating: Lawrence, Evelyn, Howard, Lottie and Leslie Mason, Claude and Mott Rathbun, and Ellory Bohannan.

The ORD QUIZ

Crowding Doesn't Pay.

J. R. Redditt, Extension Poultryman at the College of Agriculture, is one fellow who doesn't believe that chicks or laying hens should be crowded for space.

In fact, he says not a single sound reason can be advanced for crowding the fowl. The food-for-defense program necessitates plenty of room in order to keep production at a high level.

To insure comfort, health, and growth, it is recommended that chicks be started in the brooder house at the rate of 2 1/2 chicks per square foot of floor space, and that this be doubled at the end of the first month. A sun parlor of floor space equal to that of the brooder house and placed in front of the building has proven to be an economical and practical means of doubling floor space.

Cockerels, says Redditt, should be removed at about eight weeks of age. This will make additional space for the pullets.

Crowded roosts, feeders and waterers, range and shade are as bad as crowded houses.

4-H Public Speaking Program.

A public speaking contest in 1941-42 for 4-H club members in Nebraska has just been announced. Valley county boys and girls are eligible to compete in the program.

Sponsored by L. L. Coryell and Son of Lincoln in an effort to encourage 4-H club boys and girls to be able to speak before audiences, the program will be held on a county, district and state level. Club members will be able to speak on any subject related to one or more of the three subjects—agriculture, home economics and national defense.

If there are six or more competitors in the county, a champion will be selected and awarded a prize. Each county champion then will be eligible to participate in a district contest. The district winners then will compete in the state public speaking contest to be held at the 1942 Club Week on the College of Agriculture campus in Lincoln. District winners will get silver medals and Club Week trips.

Winner of the six Nebraska districts, in turn, will compete at Lincoln. The state winner will get a gold medal and a trip to the National Club Congress in December, 1942. Silver and bronze medals will go to the second and third place winners.

Local 4-H club members should begin to think about this opportunity to improve their public speaking, says County Extension Agent Dale. Details of the program will be available later.

The well is being drilled on the basis of thorough surface geological data but no seismograph tests have been made, says Henry Bredthauer. Samples of the different formations penetrated by the drill are being saved for thorough study by field geologists.

Already the well has been visited by hundreds of sight-seers and as it deepens many more will see it. Scouts for major oil companies are said to be watching progress of the drilling closely and any "shows" of oil probably would result in wide-spread attempts to lease other Valley and Greeley county land, though most of the land adjacent to the well site already is under lease to Mr. Bredthauer and his associates.

This marks the first attempt to find oil in central Nebraska and the men who have put $22,500 in escrow in the Bank of Scotia to finance the venture appear confident that oil will be found.

It probably may be deeper here. Next producing formation is the Viola lime, which has not proved productive in southeast Nebraska, but is a fine producer in Kansas, and below that is the St. Peter's, often called the Wilcox sand, from which Oklahoma gets big production. Below that is the Arbuckle lime which is a good producer in the east.

H. C. Kindt, driller on the 4:00 to midnight shift, told a Quiz reporter Monday that he thinks the well will be completed within 20 days unless tools are lost in the hole or other trouble develops to slow up drilling. "This looks like oil country," he said in response to a query about the well's prospects, "but it is such a 'wildcat' that nobody can say."

Water for this purpose is being hauled in a big tank truck from North Loup and dumped into a deep pit north of the well site.

The Taylor Drilling company is one of the largest such outfits in the business, operating ten drilling rigs. The rig being used here was moved from Shenandoah, Ia., where its last work was on a well for the Ohio Oil company. Oil was not struck, the drillers say. This company has two rigs operating in the southeast Nebraska field.

Eight of the twelve men working regularly on Bredthauer-Williams Test Well No. 1 are living in Ord, the other four in North Loup. Each of the three crews is made up of a driller and three helpers. On the 4:00 to midnight crew are H. C. Kindt, driller; Boyd Wright, Loy Phillips and Charles Stewart, who are living in Ord; on the 12:00 to 8:00 a. m. crew are Ed Cordell, driller; J. W. Williamson, U. L. Tiley and a Mr. Prince, who are living in Scotia; on the 8:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. crew are Earl Gramberg, driller; Jim Guthrie, Marius Kleysteuber and Art Huffman, who are living in Ord.

A minimum depth of 3,500 feet is contemplated, unless oil should be encountered earlier, and it may be decided to drill to 4,000 feet. Most likely source of oil is the Hunton lime, from which all southeast Nebraska production comes. In southeast Nebraska the Hunton is found at a depth of 2,200 to 2,700 feet but

Ford Tractor Ferguson System

A generation of tractor experience has proved that the horse cannot be eliminated simply by substituting a good machine in front of the same old implements. So we have thrown overboard all the old ideas about pulling and controlling an implement in the soil and developed a new principle of applying power. This principle is so efficient that this light tractor using little fuel will not only pull tools for which a heavy tractor has heretofore been necessary but will go everywhere and do anything the horse will do and do it better.

Ford tractor with Ferguson system is not just another tractor. It is a new SYSTEM of land cultivation. It is the beginning of a new era of low cost production on the farm.
