1942 School Census Shows Population of Ord Only 2,049

This Figure Includes About 50 Outside of City; Boys in Army Not Counted.

The population of Ord today is probably at its lowest point in forty years, says Ralph W. Norman, secretary of the board of education, on the basis of the school census completed last Friday by Mrs. Gould Flagg. Total number of people living in Ord school district is 2,049, he said and probably fifty of these people live outside the city limits, so Ord's actual city population apparently is below the two thousand mark for the first time in the present century. The 1940 population as shown by the official federal census was 2,232 and in 1930 it was 2,223.

It is pointed out, however, that Ord boys now serving in the army and navy are not included in the school census, though Ord is their official place of residence and they would be counted here if a federal census was being taken. Ord families who have left to work in defense plants are not counted either, though most of them still count Ord as their place of residence and expect to return here after the war.

Total number of children between the ages of 5 and 21 in the district is 501, Mrs. Flagg's report shows. Total number between the ages of 7 and 16 is only 293. Both totals are considerably below the figures shown by last year's school census.

Mr. Norman says that Ord's school population has been on the decrease for five years, which has resulted in the elimination of four teachers during that period. One more teaching position is being eliminated this year.

Interment Here for Jos. Adamek

Funeral services for Joseph A. Adamek, who was reared in Valley county and conducted in the Ord Methodist church this afternoon by Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson. Music was furnished by a quartet with Mrs. Mark Tolen singing "Going Home." Interment was in the Ord cemetery. Ed Kasper, Edward Adamek, Joe Sobotka, William Klanecky, William Adamek and Henry Bartu served as pall bearers. The Pearson-Anderson Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. Adamek died in the hospital at LaJunta, Colo., June 27. He was 59 years old.

He was born March 25, 1883, in Kanenfsky, county of Hkisko state of Chrudin, Czechoslovakia. He came to the United States in 1884 with his parents Frank and Anna Adamek, direct to Valley county where he grew to manhood.

On Oct. 2, 1910, he was married to Marie Capek at Ord. They moved then to Holly, Colo., where he conducted a jewelry store. In 1918 the family moved to LaJunta, where he has conducted the same business together with optometry.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. R. W. McNeven, Kansas City, Mo., Miss Ann Adamek, Denver; one grandson, Wm. Joseph McNeven; four brothers, Frank, Anton, William, all of Ord; and W. E. of Omaha; two sisters, Mrs. Perry Jones of Great Falls, Mont., and Mrs. Stanley Petska, of Ord. One sister, Mrs. Antonia Kasper preceded him in death in March of 1940.

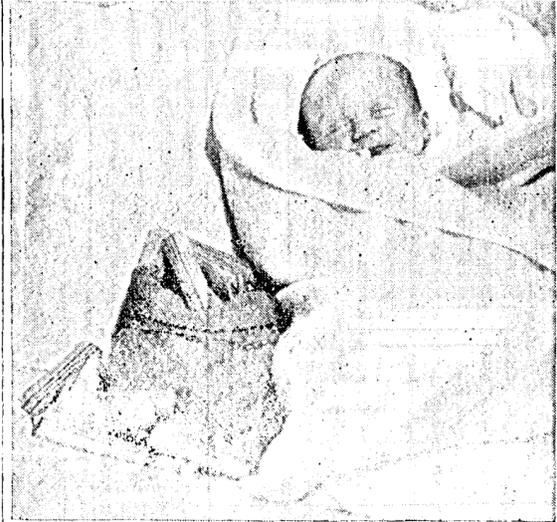

Mr. Adamek was a member of the LaJunta lodge of Elks and members of that order conducted services for the deceased on Monday afternoon at LaJunta.

New First Aid Class Organized

It will be taught by Miss Sylvia Twanski and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen. This is an 18-hour course with each lesson lasting 50 minutes. It will not be necessary for members of this class to buy books, says Mrs. Tolen.

Which Would You Take... 2500 Pennies or Sharon?

Dr. John Round was a surprised man recently when he was given a heavy copper payment for bringing Mr. and Mrs. William Goff their tiny baby daughter on May 31. Right at lunch time that day she arrived, complete with blue eyes and lots of dark hair. Sharon Kay must have been just what the Goffs ordered, and had meant to buy, for they paid for her at once.

Two years next August the Goffs were married, and they promptly began to save their pennies. They did not have Sharon Kay in mind, particularly, but they thought those pennies would come in handy. They did, 2,500 of them.

Dr. Round was glad to receive the pennies in payment. He said it was the first time he had been so paid, but he thought it was a good idea for anyone who intended to become a young parent.

Rotary Sing Sunday Enjoyed by Big Crowd

Despite the storm and muddy roads, a crowd estimated at four hundred took part in the second community sing sponsored by the Rotary club Sunday evening at Bussell park. The sing was even more enjoyable and successful than the first such event held on Flag Day and the special numbers arranged by A. J. Auble, chairman of the Rotary committee, were especially enjoyed.

The next community sing will be held on the evening of Sunday, July 12, and Rotarians are hoping for good weather at that time.

Rubber Collection Totals 98,500 Lbs.; More Coming In Salvage Campaign Extended by President's Order; Hope for 100 Tons.

Valley county's rubber salvage campaign passed the 100,000 pound mark Saturday night, reports Vernie Andersen, chairman for the county, and with a presidential order extending the drive for ten days 100 tons is hoped for.

Already reported is a total of 98,500 pounds, with returns from North Loup and Arcadia for the past week still to come in, Andersen said.

Heavy rains last week end stalled the campaign but farmers are bringing their rubber in this week and by end of the week Andersen believes the county total will be 150,000 to 200,000 pounds.

Quota for Valley county was 63,500 pounds.

Noll President of Soil Conservation

Clayton D. Noll was elected president and E. O. Schudel of North Loup, secretary-treasurer of the Valley County Soil Conservation district at a meeting of the directors in Ord on the evening of June 24. Other members of the board are Ray Lutz, Arcadia, Anton Wehnak, Elvria, and Henry J. Enger of Ord.

H. E. Engstrom of Lincoln executive secretary of the state soil conservation committee attended the meeting to assist the board in their work of organization.

The board formally requested the assignment of one or more technicians to assist farmers in planning for soil and moisture conservation work in the district and were assured by Mr. Engstrom that help was still available and that men will be assigned soon to begin operations.

E. C. James Files for Unicameral

Tuesday morning E. C. (Jesse) James of Ord perfected his filing and became a non-political candidate for the office of state senator, 29th unicameral district. J. T. Knezacek, present senator, had announced previously he would not file for reelection.

John P. Doyle, of Greeley, whom Knezacek defeated two years ago, has filed for the office also.

Mr. James should be a strong candidate and if elected will give the district splendid representation at Lincoln. He is thoroughly experienced in politics, having served eight years as a member of the Valley county board of supervisors, four of which he was chairman of the board. A republican, he has been chairman and secretary of the Valley county central committee and at present is a member of the state committee representing the same district which he now aspires to represent as senator.

He formerly was Burlington station agent in Ord, is a successful life insurance salesman at present, and has reared a fine family in this city. Well known throughout the district, Mr. James will be a hard candidate to beat.

This picture taken on the Ord-Loup City road near the Williamson farm shows the job that Tracy Hamilton, county road commissioner, faced Sunday morning. More than a dozen trees 80 to 100 feet high were blown down by the Saturday night storm. Hamilton and the county bridge crew worked all day Sunday to move the trees and open the road to traffic.

Valley Co. Fair Definitely Off

Federal Ruling Forces Fair Board to Cancel Plans for the 1942 Show.

Valley county will not have a county fair in 1942, in all probability.

So announced President R. Clare Clement after the ruling issued Thursday by Joseph B. Eastman, defense transportation director. Directors will meet next week to make a definite decision.

To save rubber, Eastman ruled out county and state fairs for the duration of the war.

He said that trucks used by farmers must be made to last until new sources of rubber have been developed and that postponement of county fairs "might be a deprivation but certainly not an intolerable one."

It may be decided to have a 4-H club show on a small scale, he said, but until directors meet no definite announcement can be made.

Hail, Wind Storm, Does Serious Harm to Crops Saturday

Buildings Wrecked by Blast Early Sunday Morn; Elm Creek Hardest Hit.

7.49 INCHES IN JUNE.

A total of 7.49 inches of moisture fell in June, reports Horace Travis, which makes the past month one of the wettest Junes in 54 years. In June, 1905, the moisture total was 10.17 inches, far above the average, Travis says. June, 1906, was the driest June in the 54 year period, with only 1.06 inches of rain.

For the first six months in 1942 Ord has had 16.08 inches of moisture, whereas the 51-year average for this period is 12.30 and the average for the past ten years is 11.12. The 51-year average for June is 4.13 inches.

High wind and hail Saturday night damaged between four and five thousand acres of crops in Valley county, according to estimates made by the AAA office. Wind damage extended practically over the entire county while the hailed areas are more spotted. The AAA office estimates that the damage to crops ranges from 20 per cent to a total loss. Barley and rye fared the worst.

The damage was extensive throughout Mira Valley and in Springdale and Elm Creek neighborhoods northeast of Ord. Heavy hail was reported at the Archie Mason farm and east. A large strip southwest of Arcadia was hailed but the damage in the Springdale neighborhood was less severe. Heavy hail damage has been reported at the Walter Foth and Archie Geweke farms.

At the Reuben King farm a double crib was blown off the foundation and completely flattened. J. A. Brown, insurance agent, stated that 30 losses had been reported to him and he expects to hear of more. With the exception of the wrecked crib he does not believe that any of the losses to buildings will exceed two hundred dollars. Many window panes were blown out, he reported and many shingles were torn off. Most of the losses reported to Mr. Brown were south of Mira Valley and he believes that the damage north of Ord will not be as great as was first thought.

Eight wind losses and three hail losses have been reported to Joe Knezacek. He believes that these losses will average about a hundred dollars.

The Continental Telephone company found half of the country lines were out of operation Sunday. Many poles were blown down and the lines badly tangled. The lines southwest of Ord were the worst affected. City electric lines were severely damaged and George Allen and his assistants worked all day Sunday repairing the many breaks.

At the Archie Geweke farm the small grain was completely ruined and the corn badly damaged. Many trees were blown down. At the Clement grove about a quarter of a mile south, a third of the large ash trees were torn out by the roots. The hail started to fall about 2 o'clock in the morning and continued for half an hour. Little rain fell.

Sixty losses have been reported to the Hastings and Ollis insurance office. They have two adjusters here taking care of the damage.

At the Koll farm southwest of Ord a barn was blown off the foundation and twisted out of shape. The house on the Williamson place six miles south of Ord was severely damaged when a large tree was uprooted and blown into the roof. The Ray Peterson family lives on this place.

At the Warren Anthony farm near Olean the barn was overturned and the grain spilled out of the bins. The high wind blew the grain completely away. Damage to trees in Ord and elsewhere was severe.

This was the second quota for June in this county. The men will report for military service July 10.

In the group are Eldon Kokes, Burwell; Richard Nevrika and Paul Rysavy, Ord; Clarence Lee and Myrwin Scott, North Loup.

THESE WAR TIME EVENINGS.

History, even personal history, has a way of repeating itself, and now it looks like those World War I evenings in the harvest field are to be a part of World War II as well. How well this editor remembers those evenings. He was a big lad of 15 or 16 then, and his size if not his age gave him the privilege of serving in Ord's home guard company and also of joining the harvest crews of business men who drove out into the country 100 or more strong on those hot evenings in July to help farmers get their wheat and barley in shocks. Labor was really scarce in World War days, scarcer even than it is now, it seems to the writer, or perhaps there were fewer mechanical harvesters in those days and so more men were needed. How welcome to the wheat farmer were the business men, even though they knew little about the art of shocking bundles! And how muscles ached and blisters on the palms of hands were doctor-ed when the work ended by moonlight.

History repeats itself and so this editor probably will have a chance to join other Ord business men in the harvest fields again this summer.

Wheat may not be worth $2.50 a bushel now but it is a valuable food crop and must not be allowed to lay in the field and mildew after it is cut. Even more important is barley, of which Valley county will have a big crop, for barley makes pork and crop is greatly needed by the U. S. and its allies.

Business interests of Ord will welcome now, as they welcomed in World War days, the chance to help their farmer friends at a time when they sorely need help in the harvest fields. Every one of us who can spare the time should join one of these volunteer crews, and if he can't find time he should provide a substitute. Most of us will be glad to do our bit now as we were glad then.

RUBBER SHORTAGE.

Even as Nebraska's own Dr. Christensen did, another famous chemurgist has testified in Washington that the United States need not face a shortage of rubber. "Give me 10 million dollars and priority on men and materials and in a year I'll produce as much rubber as the nation needs," he told the congressional investigating committee. He proposed to make alcohol from certain types of corn and grain sorghums and process this alcohol into butadiene, from which rubber could be made. Less than 5 per cent of America's corn crop annually would produce all the rubber needed and it could be made at a cost of 15c per pound or less and would be superior in quality to natural rubber.

Such statements as this one by Dr. Hale have been made repeatedly to those in authority at Washington, without refutation by any scientist of repute, but to date no action has been taken to put such a program into effect. Seemingly our rubber shortage is desirable to certain $1-a-year men who formerly were executives in rubber and petroleum companies, and they are willing to sacrifice the national interest to serve their own selfish purposes. Only the president and Donald Nelson, charged Dr. Hale, have not tried to impede in one way or another the proposal to make rubber from surplus farm crops.

Shortage of steel is the reason officially ascribed by the rubber section of WPB for its failure to start alcohol and synthetic rubber plants. But there is steel enough for every other purpose including millions of tons for obsolete battleships. If the entire 100 million dollars asked by Dr. Hale were spent for steel it wouldn't be a pin-prick as compared with the $2 billion dollars authorized last week for new naval construction.

Admittedly the success of America's war effort depends in large degree on our ability to get rubber to keep our motorized army going. If enough rubber can be made from farm crops to supply the army and necessary civilian use at a cost of one hundred million dollars, or ten billion dollars for that matter, why does Washington hesitate? Two hundred billion dollars have been authorized already to fight the war which may be lost because of a rubber shortage. Why, oh why?

HAIL INSURANCE.

For the first time in several years hail has taken a heavy damage toll over a great part of Valley county. There have been losses in certain townships every year but seldom has a storm covered the large area covered by the hail and wind storm of Saturday night, and seldom has loss been so ruinous.

In this connection it is noted that more and more farmers are carrying hail insurance on their growing crops, which tends to diminish the financial loss suffered during a storm like this. Hail insurance premiums are costly, usually $1 per acre or more for $10 per acre coverage, and often our farmers have thought the cost of hail insurance outweighed its benefits.

There are more reliable hail insurance companies doing business now and there will be more, following the court decision in Lancaster district court recently in which Carl Aspegren, of Hildreth, and 20 of his neighbors, won their joint action against a certain hail insurance company for hail losses in 1939. The company refused payment on the grounds that Aspegren and the other farmers had failed to pay their premium notes when due, but Aspegren maintained that the company waived this provision by permitting its local agent to inform the policy holders their premiums could be deducted from their respective losses when paid by the company, and the court upheld this contention.

Hail insurance companies generally have fallen into ill repute because of the practices indulged in by a few of them, but the majority of outfits now writing hail policies in Nebraska are reliable. When farmers pay costly hail premiums they should make sure they are dealing with a reliable company, first of all.

There are all kinds of ways to have band concerts.

They can be friendly affairs where everyone is permitted to sit quietly on the grass... this would be a good plan in Ord with that nice courthouse grass, and no seats offered to the public otherwise. A community sing would fit right in with this enjoyable type of concert.

They can be the band-shell type of concert with wooden benches carefully arranged, and with plenty of parking places for cars.

They can be almost-indoor affairs. This is the way Casper does, and it is nice and quiet at their concerts. Policemen pass up and down the aisles, suggesting that noisy children or adults leave, and so it is possible to truly enjoy the music.

I don't think a band concert should be arranged nor considered a children's carnival. There are those who prefer music to antics.

And surely if you care for music at all, it ruins the concert to hear blatting automobile horns in and off of every key following each selection. If one likes the music why spoil it with this noisy impolite gesture?

Miss Mary Mytton is a good commercial teacher, I have heard, and turns young folks into efficient machines. So perhaps it is fortunate for Ord young people that she is here, particularly since we have no business college.

There is another side to this, though. Ord's young people are draining out of the North Loup valley and into the city offices and war jobs faster than the water runs its southeast river course.

It has to be seen all the young blood move out and away from us. Yet I know they are needed in these wartime jobs.

What I am really afraid of is that they won't come back to Ord and will be lost to us permanently. They will speedily accustom themselves to big-city and big-salary living, and they'll never want to return to a small-town store or country farming job.

There doesn't seem to be any feeling of pride in handicraft in this age. No guilds, no apprentices, no youngsters eager to learn to be expert with carpenter tools, or plastering equipment or gardening implements. Everyone wants a white-collar job.

Perhaps some high-sounding titles would help keep them on the farm, or bring them back to the beauty of well-performed manual labor. We'll have to think up some good handles, as the army has done.

Let's see: Chief Tractor Officer; First Seedsman; Chief of Household Operations; First Assistant Household Operator; Barnyard Boss; Carpenter's Mate; First Assistant Carpenter's Mate.

You think up a few!

Discoverer of Electricity

It is difficult to say who was the discoverer of electricity. It is believed that Thales of Miletus (640-546 B. C.) knew that amber, after being rubbed, acquired the property of attracting light bodies. However, no definite scientific information on electricity was acquired until the sixteenth century, when Dr. William Gilbert of Colchester, England, published his great work "De Magnete," in which he laid the foundations of electrical science. Perhaps Dr. Gilbert can justly be called the creator of the science of electricity.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I don't seem to ever get around to write this column, but I am going to make you a promise to do better for the next week or two at least.

By the time you read this I will be fishing on Cullen Lake. This is a very sudden decision and I suspect that Eugene arranged it because he thought a few days up there might be beneficial.

He suggested Friday that I take my family and Mrs. Burke up and stay for 10 days myself, then come home on the bus, for it is mutually agreed that I am needed here during the mid-July rush of work when we have a couple of magazines to get out in addition to the regular run of work. Of course I am taking Shirley along. About July 10th I will come home on the bus and then about July 20th Eugene will go up on the bus, have a vacation of a couple of weeks and bring his family home.

When he gets home I will drive up taking Flora, Cora Lee and Tom, by or before the middle of August. I will come up for a vacation and we will all be home in time so the children can get started in school September 1.

For a number of years it has been the custom for us to remain there till late September and sometimes well into October, and the fall is always a delightful time of year. I shall hope that by another year I will be able to stay there longer in the fall, for I really expect it is going to be plenty hot when we come the last of August.

And I promise that I will try to get a letter to the Quiz every week that I am up there this summer, whether I write one when I am home or not.

Oscar Nay is up there living in my cottage and he is writing me some very interesting fish stories. Some of the neighbors intimate that he can't even catch enough fish to eat and when I get there I will find out all the facts. I know that I can catch them so he won't have to go fish hungry any more.

County Agent Notes

A new type of 4-H club has been made available to girls who are interested in food preservation. Because war time conditions have made it impossible for many girls to enroll in standard clubs of five or more members the new "pair for Victory" plan has been started.

In this type of 4-H work any girl of club age 10-20 years inclusive may enroll with her mother who will act as club leader. The girls can earn their 4-H club pins and certificates of achievement and also learn more about conserving food.

The plan fits in well with the Victory Home and Garden program.

Instructions will be given in a series of letters and circulars about canning, drying, freezing and home storage of fruits and vegetables.

A simple record for recording the amount of food conserved will be furnished to each member, and the project requires the member to can thirty-five or more jars of fruits and vegetables, including at least three varieties of each.

Any girl or mother can get complete details of the plan by writing or calling at the County Agent's office.

Harvest Laborers

Asked to Register

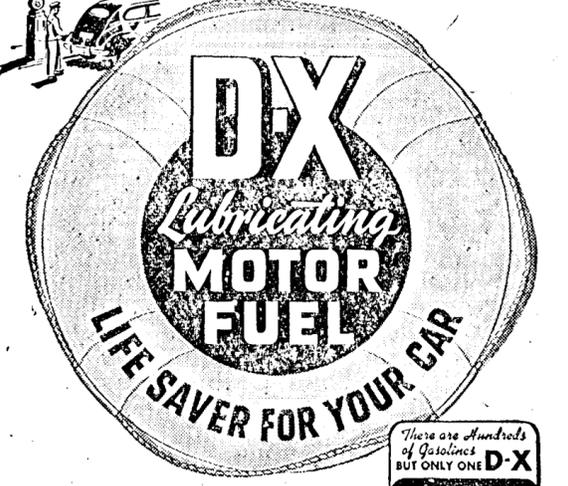

To get together Valley county's man power and the farmers who are producing our share of the nation's food supply is the aim of the Department of Agriculture War Board now organized in a local committee. Labor shortage in rush harvest days is recognized by citizens as a problem of community concern, and plans are being laid to make use of every man-hour available to relieve the situation and save every ounce of food—for victory. Merchants, employers, business and professional men of the county are being recruited and are urged to register as available for emergency harvest labor. Registration for Ord and territory will be handled by Robert Noll in the offices of the Noll Seed company. For North Loup territory laborers will register with Peter Clement at the office of the North Loup Loyalist. In Arcadia, laborers will register with H. D. Weddel at his place of business. Employers are urged to call to the attention of their employees the need of registering at the earliest possible moment.

Register now! Today! The farmers are also being canvassed for their labor needs which will be tabulated and all available labor will then be referred to the farmers for this emergency assistance.

Fucking Ducks

After plucking ducks or geese of the feathers and pin-feathers rub them with cornmeal to remove all down. Another good method of removing down is to pour melted paraffin over the fowl where the down occurs, let it set, then peel it off; with it will come all the obstinate down.

Burwell News

Written by Rex Wagner

Garfield county expects to more than double its scrap rubber quota before the six day extension made by President Roosevelt to the salvage campaign expires, according to the filling station operators in Burwell. Monday evening the five stations had purchased 48,169 pounds of scrap rubber and the public was still bringing it in. The county's quota is 25,850 pounds. The filling station operators report that most of the rubber is being sold by farmers and ranchers. Many children brought in small amounts which helped to swell the total. Demaree's station had bought 4,800 pounds, the Butter factory six and a half tons, Dad Phillips' station seven tons, Albert Boll's station 14,219 pounds and Malicky's station 2,150 pounds. Leroy Anderson, who sold 2,500 pounds of rubber has the distinction of being Garfield county's largest contributor to the scrap pile. Vernon Lowery brought in 330 pounds, C. W. Gumb 550 pounds, Anton Schneider 330 pounds, Fred Hahn 700 pounds and W. S. Peterson 750 pounds. Tires and tubes constituted the bulk of the rubber brought in. Evelyn Kamarad returned home Saturday evening after spending two weeks in the Paul Waldmann home helping her aunt with the work and caring for the baby. Glen Dockhorn and Clayton Sheppard helped Ben Sheppard fix up some buildings and build a hay rack last week. Mr. and Mrs. John Pesek, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Pesek, Sr., visited at the Adolph Kokes home Sunday. They report that the crops were not damaged in that territory nearly as much as at home, in the Saturday night storm. They also went to call on Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Kokes who were just recently married, but the young folks were not at home. Eldon passed his examination for induction into the army last week and is now home on a ten day furlough. He has to leave July 10. A strong wind, hail and rain storm struck our locality about one o'clock Sunday morning, doing much damage to corn fields, gardens and especially the small grain fields, laying some fields almost flat on the ground. The storm lasted about a half hour with better than an inch of rain. Much corn was broken off by the hail or laid flat by the wind and then muddled under. Much rain has fallen in all parts of the country and warm weather and sunshine are badly needed.

Joe Kamarad was a Sunday forenoon caller at Anton Kolar's Woodman Hall. Another terrific storm struck this section Sunday at 1:30 a. m. Severe lightning and hail and rain, driven by a strong wind did much damage to crops and gardens. Sunday visitors at Paul Waldmann's were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waldmann and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Radil and Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Veverka and son Lanny. Sgt. Herbert Clochon, who enlisted in the air corps at Los Angeles, Calif., about six months ago and is now stationed at Davis-Monthon Field at Tucson, Ariz., enjoyed a ten day furlough with home folks. He spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Will Waldmann and family, returning to his army duties Saturday. Bishop S. V. Bona, of Grand Island, administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of 29, part of the class from Sargent, at German church last Tuesday. The following clergy were present and assisted with the ceremonies: Rev. Thomas Stodowski of Ord, Rev. Thomas Murray of Burwell, Rev. C. Szumski of Elyria, Rev. Robert O'Neil of Spalding, and the local pastor Rev. Michael Szczesny. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Waldmann and daughter Barbara Jean were Sunday evening callers at Joe Waldmann's. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph John and Muriel and Mrs. Jacob John were Sunday visitors at Ed Waldmann's.

Runaway Girl
Once there was a girl who always wanted to run away. One day her father said, "I am going to break her of the habit of running away." So one day when her father and mother were going away, she was angry and said, "I am going to run away." Her father said that he would be back in a minute. He took her with him and rode about a mile and a half. Then he said, "You wanted to run away, well, you can start right here." Then he drove off. She tried to run after him but it was no use. In about 35 minutes he went back after her. Since then she never said she would run away.

AAA News Notes

We approach July 4, 1942, facing probably the most critical period in the history of our nation. We have many things worth battling for. Free speech, Freedom of Press, and Freedom to worship as we desire. These are all things that we will lose if we should lose this war. We don't think we are going to lose the war. We are all going to do all that we can to help defeat the enemy. We will sell the scrap rubber, the scrap iron, accept the gas rationing, the tire rationing, sugar rationing, and anything else we are asked to do, gladly, if it will help to get the desired results. All of these are most minor in comparison to sending a son or brother to the battle front. And soon we will almost all have some one very close to us in service for our country.

We will win the war. We did it before, and we can and must do it again. But when the war is over, we will have a job larger than any we American people have ever undertaken. We believe that those at the head of our AAA program realize to a very great extent what problems we will have when the war is over. However, realizing what the problems are and having the proper solution for them will do no good unless we find the farmers in a receptive mood. Medicine will do no good unless the patient takes it, and takes it kindly. And it does still more good when the patient has faith in the medicine. If those practices recommended by the AAA after the war are to succeed, they will have to have the backing of a large per cent of the American farmers. Not 51% for a percentage so small leaves a feeling of insecurity among the people at the head of the organization as well as unrest among those who are trying to keep in line with what is suggested.

If we American farmers are to prosper some one must do some deep thinking and some constructive planning. We must realize that Labor and Industry must prosper along with us. Industry must furnish labor work, and we furnish labor with the food so that they can turn out the work. If labor is poorly paid they are not in a position to eat properly. The results are a poor market for our stuff. When industry is forced to shut down, labor is out of a job, and their buying power is at a low ebb.

We have the greatest country in the world, and yet we are going to have many problems that must be settled soon after the war is won. It will require cool heads, serious thinking, and much hard work on our part if we are to remain in our present place as a great and noble nation. Every citizen has a duty; he should weigh it well and act accordingly.

Last week end a group of Valley county men went over into O'Brien County, Iowa, and purchased a load of steel bins, and brought them back to Valley county. They will help solve part of our storage problem for 1942. It is planned to make another trip to Iowa this week and another load of steel bins will be purchased and brought here.

A LETTER TO UNCLE SAM Dear Unc, The priorities around this house are simply terrific. What a time I had getting at the typewriter to make up this letter of thanks. You see, it's this way. Every Sunday, and after dinner weekdays, Dad used to take Mother and me for a ride. And did we dread it! Mom said Dad used to drive like a maniac... no regard for my tender feelings and stomach. He'd honk and fight his way through traffic, missing fenders by an eyelash, at a speed that made my heart bump my tonsils. Now, boyohboy what a relief!... Dad heard a Phillips news broadcast say that Uncle Sam wants every motorist to Care for his car—For his country. Then he saw a Phillips ad which said that any Phillips Service Station man would be glad to show him how to do it. Well, to make a long story not too long, the Phillips man whispered the magic words to him: DRIVE UNDER 40. You'd never think anything so simple could change my whole life. But it did. Dad now drives like a human being. He has found out that he not only saves rubber, but also gas and oil... and saves his nerves, too. Mom swears that Dad is a different man ever since he started getting gas, oil, and car-care at the Phillips Service Station... you know, the ones that have the big Orange and Black 66 Shield. I guess lots and lots of other folks are going there, too, because I sure hear plenty of talk about Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil. I even hear that you're using some of it yourself. Respectfully, Your Grateful Nephew

OVER SAME TRAIL

Various prohibition . . . organizations have launched the inevitable drive for wartime prohibition on grounds similar to those on which the successful campaign was made 25 years ago.

We should remember, however, that these groups are using the exigencies of war to promote their actual goal of permanent prohibition.

The last experience with prohibition on a national scale is still remembered vividly by most people.

Those who are convinced that morality cannot be legislated should not be misled by the gentleness of the pressure.

DOING A GOOD JOB

For four years the Nebraska Committee of the Brewing Industry Foundation has been telling beer dealers to "clean up or close up"—and it has been getting excellent results.

The Committee has recommended that the state liquor commission not renew licenses of beer dealers found to be operating beyond the law.

As a result, J. A. McEachen, member of the liquor commission, recently told the committee "we're proud of you."

So, licensed operators do not constitute a problem in Nebraska. It is the unlicensed "spike joints" that cause trouble. Self-regulation should be given every encouragement.

REMEMBER THE LAST EXPERIENCE!
THE SOUND WAY IS STRICT CONTROL AND INDUSTRY CO-OPERATION!

300 Men Needed to Shock Small Grain in Valley County

Persons Willing to Assist With Harvest Urged to Register With Noll

Between two and three hundred men are needed to shock grain in Valley county, Robert Noll, employment agent announces and to date two high school boys and three elderly men are all the persons who have registered for employment. As yet no women have offered their services. Cards received by Mr. Noll indicate that 2,418 acres of small grain are ready to cut and shock.

Mr. Noll says that fully half the cards received from farmers needing employment lack signatures and he has no way of sending help to them even though help were available. The replies from farmers indicate that most of them would be willing to pay three dollars per day for grain shockers. A few want help for as low as a dollar per day and one farmer has offered to pay four dollars. Some grain growers are offering to pay twenty cents per acre for shocking. Hiring Mexicans who have been working in the sugar beet fields around Burwell is being investigated.

Valley county's greatest crop of grain in at least ten years is being harvested, with binders starting work last week and a few starting combining operations this week. All combines will be in operation by Sunday, it is believed.

Grain men are very optimistic about the yield, one stating that Spartan barley will average 40 to 45 bushels per acre, oats up to 60 bushels and wheat 20 to 30 bushels.

Threshermen, about eighty in number, will hold their annual meeting at the bus depot in Ord at 9:00 p. m. Saturday, July 11 and decide on a schedule of prices and trade practices. Threshing will get under way next week.

Cards have been sent to the business men in Ord asking them to release all of their employees whom they can spare to furnish farm help in the next several weeks. A number of business and professional men are considering closing their stores and offices at 5 o'clock and working in the harvest fields as long as it is light enough to see. The plan of closing stores early is frowned upon as many farmers come to town in the evenings to buy groceries and repairs. These trips can not easily be arranged before hand and planned for certain evenings because, as Mr. Noll pointed out, a farmer can not tell when his binder is going to break down. Any person willing to assist in the harvest fields is asked to contact Mr. Noll at once.

Volunteer Workers Register 141 Young Men in Valley Co.

Ord Lists 81, North Loup 27, Arcadia 23 and Elyria 10.

One hundred and forty-one youths registered for selective service in Valley county June 30, according to Miss Virginia Davis, clerk of the draft board. Of this number 81 registered in Ord, 27 in North Loup, 23 in Arcadia and ten in Elyria.

No lottery will be held this time to determine the order in which the registrants will be called for military service but the youths will be listed according to their ages. The young man born on Jan. 1, 1922, or as soon afterward as a birth date falls will head the list followed in turn by the other registrants exactly according to their ages up to and including any born on June 30, 1923. In case of several youths being born on the same day they will be listed in alphabetical order.

The men who registered last Tuesday will be placed in the files following those who registered in February. The county selective boards will meet July 20, to determine the order of the cards.

The lapse is provided to allow time for arrival of the cards of men who registered elsewhere, but who are residents of Valley county.

Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state selective service director says that it is probable that some of the youths who registered Tuesday may be called for service in September. The youths will all be class I-A except for physical disabilities. Owing to the bill providing for remuneration for dependents, none of the youths will be deferred for this reason. Those who are farming may be given time to harvest their crops and youths employed in defense factories may be deferred in some instances.

The registration Tuesday was conducted by volunteer workers. Those who assisted in Ord were Muel Lewis, John Ward, George Allen Rev. Clifford Snyder and Mrs. C. M. Davis. The Elyria registration was handled by E. A. Holub and Rev. Constantine Szumski. Carolyn Dean, Marie McMichael and William Ramsey did the work in Arcadia while Roy Hudson handled the job alone in North Loup.

Clarence M. Davis Files Thursday for R. R. Commission

Prominent Ord Attorney Is Republican Candidate for State Office.

Clarence M. Davis, prominent Ord attorney, who has long played an active role in state G. O. P. councils, filed for the nomination of railway commissioner on the republican ticket Thursday.

Davis ran for the nomination of attorney general on the republican ticket in 1936, finishing a close second and receiving around 40,000 votes.

At the present time Mr. Davis is city attorney for Ord. He was born July 12, 1894 at Harrison, Nebr. After receiving his LL. B. degree in 1916 from the University of South Dakota, he practiced law in that state until 1919 when he came to Ord where he formed a law partnership with his brother, Claude Davis, which was dissolved in 1927 when his brother was appointed to the supreme court commission and moved to Lincoln. Claude Davis now practices law in Grand Island.

Mr. Davis then formed a partnership with E. L. Vogeltanz which still exists. He was elected alternate to the national republican convention in Cleveland in 1924 which nominated Coolidge and Dawes and in 1932 and 1940 he was a delegate from this congressional district to the national republican conventions.

He has served several times on republican state committees. He is a past president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce and of the Rotary club. Ever since the organization of the Ord Cooperative Creamery in 1926, he has been a director and the secretary of this organization. He also has large farming interests. Mr. Davis was grand master of the royal and select master Masons of Nebraska in 1927. He is married and has two children.

Mr. Davis' friends believe that he is admirably well-fitted for this office since the railway commission functions like a court and legal training and experience are invaluable.

Stockholders Vote to Hold Rodeo At Burwell, 30 to 12

"Show Must Go On" Decides Special Called Meeting After Discussion.

Burwell will hold Nebraska's Big Rodeo as scheduled, Aug. 5, 6, 7, it was decided in a special meeting of the fair board and stockholders Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house.

Apparently Hamlet in his famous soliloquy "To be or not to be, that is the question," had nothing on the fair board in trying to decide, "to have or not to have the rodeo," with ration conditions as they are. So they asked for a stockholders' decision which brought a vote of 30 for and 12 against in the 42 votes cast.

Frank Manasil, chairman, opened the meeting to discussion and also invited comments from not only stockholders, but others attending who were interested in the outcome of the meeting.

Petitioners Want County Supervisors Reshuffled

A petition signed with 85 names has been filed with Ign. Klima, county clerk, asking that Valley county be redistricted for county supervisors. The petition will be presented to the board of supervisors at their next meeting July 14. Many of the signers live in Noble precinct which generally falls to elect its candidate as the Elyria and Eureka precincts which make up the first supervisor's district along with Noble are too populous to allow a man from the east end of the district to be elected. Valley county was redistricted for supervisors in 1923.

$112.50 of County's War Bond Quota for June Unsubscribed

July Allotment Raised to $22,000, Chairman C. J. Mortensen Reports.

Valley county lacked $112.50 of meeting its War Bond quota for June according to information released by C. J. Mortensen, who is in charge of the bond sales in the county, late Tuesday afternoon. Valley county residents bought $9,087.50 of the $9,200.00 bond quota assigned them.

In Ord $6,881.25 worth of bonds were purchased, in Arcadia $1,850.00 and in North Loup $356.25. For July Valley county has been assigned a quota of $22,000.00 worth of bonds to purchase, according to Mr. Mortensen.

Mr. Mortensen declared that he realizes it will be difficult for the residents of the county to meet this goal as most of the farmers have very little livestock or grain to sell during the month, "but I know the people of Valley county," he declared, "and I feel confident that they will do the very best they can not to let the boys down who are fighting our battles overseas." He said that the sale of bonds will be somewhat stimulated, he believes, by the observance of War Heroes Day, July 17. Plans for celebrating the day in Ord are still tentative.

Tax Levy, Electric Rates, Cut Sharply by Council Tuesday

City Levy Cut to 14.60 Mills, Electric Discount 45% Until January 1st.

Reduction in Ord's tax levy from 15.35 mills to 14.60 mills for the coming year was decreed Tuesday evening by the city council, who found the city's financial condition is in such flourishing shape that less money will be required next year. The general fund has a surplus of about $7,000 so the levy was cut from 4 mills to 2 mills.

It also was voted to transfer $7,500 from the electric fund into the general fund, and use as much of this money as necessary to help the cemetery, park and other funds which are not self-supporting even when the limit permitted by statute is collected.

The electric department, under George Allen's efficient management, has built up a surplus of about $42,000, councilmen learned, and therefore it was decided to increase the discount for prompt payment of bills from 33 1-3 per cent to 45% until Jan. 1, 1943. This additional discount should save electric users 600 to 700 dollars monthly, it is estimated.

Councilmen also voted to pay off $7,000 of city indebtedness out of funds on hand, in addition to the interest on the bonds thus retired. From the perpetual care fund of the cemetery it was decided to buy $3,800 in war bonds.

Earlier in the evening the ladies heard Elizabeth Kovanda give an interesting account of her experiences at Girls' State.

Mortensen; Membership, Mrs. Bob Hall; Employment and Legislation, Mrs. Alfred Hill; Sick and Relief, Mrs. Emil Fafetta; Music, Radio and Publicity, Mrs. Syl Furtak; National Defense, Mrs. Cecil Clark; Colonial America, Mrs. Cecil Wardrop; Community Service, Mrs. F. L. Blessing; Gold Star, Mrs. Harry Wolfe; Civilian Defense, Mrs. Frank Fafetta; Rehabilitation, Mrs. Horace Travis; Junior Auxiliary, Mrs. Verne Russell; Pianist, Mrs. Alfred Wiegardt.

Band Concert As Usual. The usual Ord band concert is being held Wednesday night, although because of lack of space the program cannot be printed.

Albino Meadowlark Found by Ed Pocock

An albino meadowlark, something that happens only once in a million times among birds, is pictured above. It was found by Ed Pocock and was turned over to H. E. McClure, the Pittman-Robertson man stationed here, for photography and observation.

Pure white except for a pale yellow breast, the bird was a young one just learning to fly when Mr. Pocock caught it. The meadowlark was fully feathered and had red eyes. It lived about three days under McClure's care.

The meadowlark is being mounted and will be given to the university museum at Lincoln.

Valley County Goes Over Top in Drive For Salvage Rubber

152,889 Pounds of Scrap Collected; Quota Was 63,500; More Asked.

Valley county contributed more than twice the amount of its scrap rubber quota for June, according to Vern Andersen, who heads the drive. A total of 152,889 pounds was collected while the county's quota was 63,500.

An additional quota of 12,700 has been assigned for the county to raise the first ten days in July. So far 1,849 pounds of scrap have been collected since July 1 which apply on the new quota. No reports have been received from North Loup and Arcadia.

"We can't rest upon the laurels of our past performance," Mr. Andersen explained, "however fine it was. We must keep up the good work and I hope that farmers before they come to town Saturday will scour the place for odd bits of rubber which may have been overlooked." The drive closes this week.

Third Singfest to be Held in Bussell Park Sunday Eve

Girls' Octette from North Loup Will Be Featured On Program.

The third community sing sponsored by the Rotary club will be held in Bussell park Sunday evening at 8:30, according to A. J. Aulsebrook, in charge of the affair. Mr. Aulsebrook announces that he has arranged for the girls octette from North Loup, which won a superior rating at the national regional music contest in Omaha, to present several selections at the sing. The octette is composed of Marion Maxson, Mary Babcock, Charlotte Jones, Esther Taylor, Frances Goodrich, Grace Manchester, Joan Barber, Esther Smith and Lucienne Fisher, the accompanist. The group is directed by Roger Johnson, music instructor in the North Loup schools. Mr. Aulsebrook says that Ord is most fortunate to have an opportunity to hear these girls.

Mayor Bert Cummins will act as master of ceremonies. The singing will be led by several Ord musicians. An organ will be used to furnish the accompaniment. Mr. Aulsebrook suggests that people take their supper to the park, enjoy a picnic and remain for the sing. Mr. Aulsebrook also pointed out that there is plenty of room nearby for people to park their cars who do not care to join in the singing.

Flags Move to Lincoln. The Gould Flagg family, who have lived in Ord 23 years, are moving to Lincoln the first of August to make their home. Mr. Flagg has been employed by the department of agriculture for several months. During their years in Ord the Flags have been active in civic, religious and social circles.

Candidates Few in Valley Co. Primary, Five Are Unopposed

Republicans have 3 Choices to Make in Next Election; Democrats Only One.

Fewer people in Valley county have political ambitions than in years past, judging from the relatively small number of candidates who made filings up to the deadline last Thursday. Twenty-one persons are seeking county offices this year. Four years ago twenty-six contestants were after the political plums on the Valley county tree.

Five county officers are wholly without opposition, Ign. Klima, democrat, who has been county clerk for 16 years; George Satterfield, who has been county treasurer 15 years, ever since he was appointed to succeed Lafe Paist; Clara McClatchey, who has filled the office of superintendent of public instruction for 16 years; and John P. Misko, republican county attorney who is completing his first term.

Emanuel Petska, a democrat, is unopposed for the office of county surveyor.

George S. Round, republican, who is asking the voters for his sixth term as sheriff has no opposition in the primary but two democrats, Robert G. Hall and Nels Hansen, both of Ord, would like to have his job. Hansen, present Ord policeman, filed only Thursday.

Jason L. Abernethy of Ord is opposing A. R. Brox, the incumbent, for the office of county assessor. No democrat aspires to this position.

The clerk of district court is anybody's pigeon as A. A. Wiegardt, the incumbent, has gone to California and is not seeking reelection. Two republicans, Clyde Baker and Edward R. Kerchal, want to replace him. Baker is deputy county treasurer at the present time and Kerchal is bookkeeper for the Ord Cooperative Creamery.

All of the county supervisors whose terms are expiring, are seeking reelection. With the exception of J. A. Barber of North Loup, none of them face any opposition in the primary. Vern Robbins, too, has filed on the republican ticket for county supervisor in district 5. Walter Paddock is the only candidate for the democratic nomination.

Joe J. Jablonski of Elyria, a democrat, will be opposed in the general election for supervisor in the first district by Chris Beiers, of Ord, who has filed on the republican ticket.

In district 3 Henry A. Zikmund, a democrat, is seeking reelection. Evet Smith has filed for the republican nomination. In district 7, H. A. Bellingier of Arcadia, who four years ago was defeated by a narrow margin has filed for supervisor on the democratic ticket. S. V. Hansen, the republican incumbent, is seeking reelection.

In the 29th unincorporated district E. C. James of Ord opposes Jack Doyle of Greeley and Tracy Frost of St. Paul. One candidate will be eliminated in the primary.

For director of district 1 of the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation District, Roy W. Hudson and C. W. McClellan, both of North Loup have filed.

Legionnaires Asked to Help in Harvest Fields

All Legionnaires who can possibly do so were asked by J. W. Gilbert, commander of the local post, to help the farmers with the small grain harvest, at a meeting held Tuesday evening. Wardrop, Travis and Glen Johnson were appointed the nominating committee for next year's officers. Fred Stoddard and Ign. Klima were selected to organize a defense patrol in Ord.

Olof Olsson Victim of Unusual Accident

While attending the circus in Grand Island Tuesday afternoon, Olof Olsson was the victim of a freak accident when he was struck above the eye by a piece of gravel thrown from the hoof of one of the ring horses. The gravel struck with such force that it severed a small artery in Olsson's forehead and he bled freely. He was attended by a nurse with the circus and then was rushed to a doctor. Management of the circus agreed to pay all expense incident to the injury.

Mr. Olsson accompanied the C. A. Anderson family to Grand Island and after the circus met Mrs. Olsson and their daughter Sharon, who were returning by rail from an extended visit in Fort Worth and other Texas cities.

WE'RE FOR E. C. JAMES.
The Quiz believes that E. C. James should be elected to the office of state senator, 29th unicameral district, and believes that he will be. As a Valley county supervisor for eight years he was known as an adroit, but honest representative of his district and of the entire county, and if he is elected to the state senate he will be in position to do similar good work.

Neither of the men who oppose him for the nomination made exceptional records while they held the office to which they again aspire. Both were repudiated by the voters of the 29th district, who apparently looked upon their work and were not satisfied. There is nothing to be gained by returning them to office at this time.

Mr. James, on the other hand, has a fine record of success as a county legislator. He has proved that he can cooperate with his fellow legislators within the county to the benefit of all, and if elected to the senate he will prove his ability to cooperate on a larger scale for the good of the 29th district and the whole state.

Valley county should support him 100 per cent for his record entitles him to such support.

THE RULING ON FAIRS.
The Quiz hesitates to criticize matters outside its own bailiwick, especially when it is not fully conversant of the undercurrents of motive and opinion, but it seems to this newspaper that directors of the Nebraska State Fair and of Burwell's Big Rodeo would have been more wisely advised if they had decided to suspend their shows this year as the federal government requested.

Both are more than "local fairs." Both depend for most of their patronage on people coming from a long distance. Surely vast amounts of rubber must be used and great quantities of gasoline consumed if the shows are to become successful. This rubber and gasoline, and such other transportation facilities as are involved, could be saved if the fairs were called off.

All over the country there are rodeos, race meets and community celebrations being held in defiance of the government's request. This shows either lack of confidence in the government's knowledge of the gravity of America's situation, or else it shows a complacency that existed in France before it was conquered, that existed in Singapore and the Dutch East Indies before they were over-run, and that apparently exists in Alexandria, with the Germans only sixty miles away.

To win this war we are going to have to make sacrifices greater than curtailment of entertainment for a year or two. The sooner we are willing to start the quicker the war will be won.

Hoppers Threaten Crops Around Ord; No Army Worms

Bait Mixing Plant Is Being Operated Again at the Ord Fairgrounds.

Despite the wet weather the grasshopper, who has plagued the farmers of Nebraska the last five years, is staging a comeback and many farmers in Valley county have reported damage to crops with the menace increasing each day, according to County Agent C. C. Dale.

The plant for mixing poison bait has been set up at the fairgrounds again to serve Valley as well as the surrounding counties. To date the farmers of Valley county have taken out 265 sacks of poison, 200 bags have been sent to Sherman county, 125 to Greeley and 65 to Burwell. The bait costs twenty cents per bag this year and owing to the scarcity of sacks each farmer must furnish his own. The plant is open Saturdays until 6 o'clock in the evening and other times by appointment.

Mr. Dale recommends that the bait be spread thinly early in the morning on clear hot days. He said that this year it is practically impossible to get molasses to use for a lure and that banana oil is being used exclusively.

Mr. Dale says that the army worms, which have been ravaging farms in many parts of the state, have so far failed to appear in Valley county. He has received a few scattered reports of chinch bugs.

Minnesota news bulletin from Cullen Lake:

The Mackowskys . . . have been in their nice cottage at the south tip of the crescent-shaped camp for two weeks or so, but left for their Des Moines home Sunday. He looks the best he has in years, after having two needed operations in early May. Now he rises early and out-works everyone in the colony, and looks 20 years younger than he is, to boot. His wife is fine, too. Their daughter, Mary is a busy secretary and careerist of Des Moines, took time out to drive them north and then caught the first bus for home and her job. They have enjoyed their first summer visit to Cullen, though June was mostly coldish.

The Leggett Annex, first-north . . . has been occupied by Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Gelow of Grand Island while they rebuilt their burned-out home four doors farther to the north. Occupied for sleeping and eating, that is, for they rarely had time to sit down on the big west porch and view the lake, a post-card picture through the pines and birches. They left Sunday but will be back.

The Leggett stand-by . . . it has been barbered and groomed for several weeks past by Oscar Nay, expert. With the grass-clipping went most of the mosquitoes. The Captain also got a little dust off the dishes and swept in good style. In his spare time he snagged fish from the lake and cooked his own meals. Whenever he couldn't flatter Mrs. Gelow or Mrs. Mackowsky into doing a fancy bit of dumpling-making, that is, or the five of them didn't decide to throw their victuals into a common pot and see what kind of stew resulted. (They claimed it was good.)

The L. B. Fenner residence is hidden in the tall grass, since it went unattended last summer and so far, has in 1942. It is a lonesome-looking cottage, with blinds drawn, windows, and doors shut. No one runs down to the dock to 'take the tackle box'. No one dashes out the door or pounds in the tool house. No one cracks rocks! No flag tops the tall white birch pole to indicate the Burwell people are in residence.

The Simpson cottage, another lovely one. Rumor says Mrs. Simpson will not go north from Omaha to open it this summer. The house is lucky to be there, and would not be but for the willing Minnesota hands which formed a bucket brigade and kept the north buildings doused during the intense fire at Neighbor Gelows.

The handsome new Gelow cottage, painted and still being finished. Prettier than the one that burned, the house plan improved by a big four-sectioned bay window on the south side. Here a dining table and chairs will sit, near the kitchen door. The outdoor steps to the living room now furnish entrance at the west side of the fire place. The fire place was rebuilt almost as it was before, and the living room is again sealed on every side with knotty pine in a warm honey color. In their fire they lost all their clothes, all their luggage, the doctor's surgical and medical implements and supplies, lost most of the flowers they brought to set out. But they were so lucky to save themselves that they have never added up the material cost of that sudden fire. Only the effort of neighbors saved the Simpson cottage and all the rest of the colony.

The attractive and modern Augustine home, next north, is handsome but solitary. A very roundabout rumor says this Grand Island family will not come north to their second home this summer.

The small Humphreyville-and-Bowman cottage is deserted. Long distance gossip declares it too will stand empty. A wind took a piece off the roof a few nights ago.

The tiny white Page cottage owned in nearby Brainerd, has usually been deserted, aside from a rare week end. And likely will again.

The vacant lot now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Misko of Ord, next to the little white cottage Michaleks own and rent, is lonesome this summer but will not always be unoccupied. The Miskos are occupying themselves this summer with a very large yard and a very small baby. Their little dog doesn't count since the small baby appeared on the scene.

Set north at a distance of 200 yards or more is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Luther. He is a guide and the official caretaker of the camp. They also serve as pinch-hitters for many another need, anything from frying fish for a hundred hungry boys to telling fishing yarns, or hunting blueberries. But whatever it is they can do it and do it well. They are lonesome too; their daughter Ethel was married this spring and their son Jim is in Ohio working as a machinist's apprentice.

The weather? One grand week in early June, since then cool with west winds coming swooping over the lake and in at all the above mentioned front doors. Lots of rain, hence lots of green growing things.

The past few days, sun and blue skies, but a little fire felt good mornings and evenings to sissies, like —Irma

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz Readers:
Last week I promised to write you while I was away so I must keep that promise. I came up here expecting to stay until July 12th, but I have a chance to ride down with Dr. and Mrs. Gelow on the 5th, and am taking advantage of that chance to save $15.

We left Ord at 8:30 Monday the 28th and arrived here at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, the following day. Had good weather and a very nice trip. Found Oscar Nay working around the place (he probably heard us coming and went to work) and he had a nice mess of bluegills on ice for our dinner and of course we soon got busy and cooked them.

It has rained here every day in June and so far in July and they tell me it rained all the time the last week in May. And crops are a hundred per cent good all the way just as they are in Valley county. I believe I have never seen the year when one saw no poor fields of grain or corn. Corn was bigger in northeast Nebraska, through Iowa and in southern Minnesota than at home. Up here the corn is not growing much because it is so cold all the time. We have had to have a pretty good fire most of the time and much of the time it is really too cold to sit out in a boat and so far I have not had a chance to get into the lake for a swim.

But fishing is really good, that is, bluegills and crappies and bass. Bass fishing is exceptionally good and it shows that our lakes are well stocked. Come August, though, they will be sulking in the deep water and will be hard to get and then some folks who don't know will be saying the lake is fished out.

The Gelows have their house furnished and ready to move in but so far they have been living in my other cottage. Their new home is beautiful showing that they have cashed in on their experience in building the other one that was burned. They are going home now to get some things that they need and they expect to come back within a couple of weeks to spend the balance of the summer. Their house burned the morning they arrived here and they lost everything except some bedding that they were able to reach in to the window and get. Their bags had not been unpacked so all their clothing was burned and the Dr. lost quite a lot of surgical stuff that he always carries and their movie camera was burned including numerous reels of colored film, making their personal loss several hundred dollars besides the house which was insured.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackowsky are in their cottage at the south end of camp and that is the extent of the present colony population, except our family.

Mr. Nay has worked long and hard putting my place in as fine shape as it has ever been. Only one fruit tree died out of some 25 that I had in spite of the fact that I moved most of them last fall during September. Mr. Nay plans on staying here well into the fall and will close the cottage when he leaves.

I will be back in Ord some time Sunday evening the 5th of July.

Ord Township Library.
On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock there will be a Story Hour at the Library. Mrs. Tolen will tell the story this week. These Story Hours will be held each Saturday morning and we are very anxious to have a number of children out. Show Mrs. Tolen and the other leaders how you appreciate the time and effort they donate to this project. Have you noticed all the magazines this month are showing the American Flag? To celebrate this nation's first Independence Day as a belligerent in World War II, the covers of 300 magazines are carrying the American Flag. Sponsored by the National Publishers association, this gesture is a salute to the flag, that is a symbol of a nation and of freedom. In recognition of the publishing industry's action, the U. S. Flag association will award the Cross of Honor for the best cover.

During the month of June 43 new books were placed on our shelves. Just to mention a few of them which you will enjoy, they are "Modern American Poetry and Modern British Poetry," "It Runs in the Family," "Raising a Family," "The Children," "America's Strategy in World Politics," "Dearest Mother-Letters from Famous People to their Mothers," and 3 books on Mythology. We also have several new light fiction, westerns and mysteries that will help pass away these hot summer afternoons and evenings. Mothers, please remember to send your child to the Story Hour next Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Prostrated by Bug Bite. A bug, believed to have been a blister beetle, bit Virgil Lunney on the back Tuesday afternoon while he was plowing corn and made him quite ill for a time. He did not see the bug but reached back and smashed it with his hand. Soon he became ill and a blister as large as a walnut formed where the bug bit him. The blister burst and smaller ones formed around it. Dr. Round, who attended the youth, said that it is not unusual for certain individuals to be especially allergic to insect bites.

Don't Let Him Ruin YOUR Tires!

A nailhole or small cut is dangerous if let alone. It grows and grows. Pretty soon unreparable damage will result. And remember—you can't replace the tire. "Mr. Nailhole" is a set-up for our special rubber-welding process which seals up the hole permanently. It's not expensive—especially when you get us on the job in time. Don't take chances with this mileage-destroying tire-enemy!

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide NUMBER 51 Tips worth reading on menu planning A list of foods you'll save money by checking What one girl learned about so-called "week-end specials"

Want to know how to save lots of time in your food shopping?

The main answer to the above question is—"Plan your menus ahead of time". These few tips suggested by the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau, should help a lot. Tip No. 1—Plan menus several days in advance, a whole week if possible, so you'll see your food picture as a whole. Then you can check to make sure you've included plenty of variety and a balance of foods needed for good nutrition. Tip No. 2—For good nutrition, each day's meals should include at least a pint of milk for adults, a quart for children; an egg per person, or at least 3 to 4 eggs a week; some enriched or whole grain bread or cereal; a tomato or citrus fruit or their juices; another serving of fruit; at least two servings of vegetables besides potatoes, one preferably green, leafy, or yellow; a serving of meat, fish, chicken, or sea food; some butter or vitamin A fortified margarine; and whatever desserts and special treats you like. Tip No. 3—Even the best food tastes better served attractively. Be sure to include in every meal a pleasing contrast of shapes, colors, and textures, as well as contrasting temperatures and flavors. Tip No. 4—Decide ahead of time how to serve any leftover foods (with careful planning you won't have many) in appetizing guise. Do your children cook well? Read the article in this week's issue of Family Circle Magazine on getting children interested in cooking. Family Circle comes out every Thursday—free at Safeway.

These specially low prices are good through Wednesday, July 15

Table listing various food items and their prices. Items include Root Beer, Zephyr, Kool-Aid, Malted Milk, Postum, Clicquot Club, Miracle Whip, Duchess, French Dressing, Mayonnaise, Spread SANDWICH, Peanut Butter, Pickles, Liver Loaf, Potted Meat, Cheese, Grapefruit, Pears, Cherries, Peaches, Cocktail, Sweet Potatoes, Peas, Asparagus, Tomatoes, Spinach, Carrots, Corn, Shreddies, Catsup, Tenderoni, Post Toasties, Tobacco, Brooms, Matches, Oxydol, Su-Purb, Camay, Swan Soap, Waldorf.

SAFeway GUARANTEED MEATS. Prices on Safeway Guaranteed Meats are as low as these every day of the week. Beef Roast, Sirloin Steak, Pork Chops, Sliced Bacon, Cheese, Baked Loaves.

Guaranteed-Fresh PRODUCE. These prices are low every day of the week. Carrots, Cabbage, Tomatoes, Plums, Lemons.

WHY DON'T THEY TELL ME THESE THINGS? SAFeway. Why don't you get your "big" order in on a weekday too. Weekends will be much more fun if you get your big grocery order in on a weekday. Then, on Saturday, just fill in your weekend needs. Safeway prices, you know, are always low, on everything, every day of the week.

Mr. Ollis said the special rate will benefit directly farmers in Loup, Garfield, Greeley and Valley counties and part of Wheeler county, who carry their land loans through the Ord office.

On the average this means a saving of about $79.00 in the interest bill of each farmer over the next two years.

Many members of the farm loan associations already have said they will invest their interest savings in War Bonds, Mr. Ollis reported, or will put the savings in a reserve fund with their associations for meeting future payments on their loans.

He pointed out that the farm loan associations and the land bank have been making first mortgage loans at 4 per cent the last six years but before that many loans were written at a higher rate because the land bank had to pay 4 and 4 1/2 per cent for the funds it borrowed to loan out.

The difference between the 3 1/2 per cent rate and the farmer's "contract" rate is made up to the land bank out of the federal treasury.

World-Herald Gives Prizes to Encourage Salvage Collections

The Omaha World-Herald is offering prizes for salvaging scrap iron and rubber which, it is believed, will stimulate collection and sale of these materials. The county in which the largest amount is collected per capita will receive War Bonds valued at $1,000 and the second county will get bonds worth $500.

Business firms, individuals and junior organizations will also be eligible to compete for prizes, but only in counties which have complied with contest requirements. "The people of Valley county should desire to participate in this contest," Ign. Kiliha, county defense chairman declared Tuesday afternoon when informed of the World-Herald's contest by Sylvester Furtak, their representative in Ord.

There is a specified requirement which must be met before any county may enter the contest in that the purpose for which the money is to be used must be determined and announced by the local committee before the contest begins. Some of the suggested uses are the purchase of an iron lung, financing a circulating library, a student loan fund to assist deserving students in completing their education.

Anyone having other suggestions to offer as to the use of these hoped-for prizes is urged to submit them to Mr. Klima. The defense and salvage committees will determine a use which will provide the most popular appeal for action throughout the county. No county may enter the contest until it has announced the purpose for which the funds will be used. The contest begins July 19.

Youth Ill in Hospital

Registered by Miss Davis June 30, the date when youths from 18 to 20 were scheduled to register for selective service found Don Edwards, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Edwards of Burwell, flat on his back in the Ord hospital critically ill following the removal of a ruptured appendix—but Uncle Sam got his number.

Miss Virginia Davis, clerk of the Valley county selective service board, when informed by Dr. Miller of his patient, went to the hospital and registered the youth, who was operated on earlier that day. The rush of work in her own office did not stand in the way of her helping a youth who was "down" but who will soon be "out" of the hospital and possibly into the service of Uncle Sam. His card was sent to the Garfield county office.

—Carlyle Williams and Tom Tolon were visitors in Grand Island Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cronk of Rawlins, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cronk and Alice and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Naprstek and Jo Ann were dinner guests Sunday in the Ed Naprstek home.

Drive for Scrap Iron Continues Another Week

The drive to get in scrap iron is continuing in Ord this week with the Ord Cosmopolitan club providing the prize money for the week. Prizes of $3,00, $2,00 and $1,00 will be given to the farmers bringing in the largest amounts of scrap.

Last week the drive was sponsored by the Ord Chamber of Commerce with the same prizes offered. Largest amount received last week was brought in by Marion Wampole of Ord, 1,820 lbs. Tied for second high were Walter Hughes and George Zaboludil with 1,690 lbs., each, and next was Joe Schumacher with 1,560 lbs.

In addition to the weekly prizes, a $25.00 War Bond is being offered by Howard Huff and Orin Kellison to the farmer selling the largest amount of scrap before August 1st.

The USDA war board of which Clare Clement is chairman and C. O. Dale is secretary, is again urging farmers who have scrap iron on hand to get it to town. Our government needs it and a fair market price will be paid. In addition the seller stands an excellent chance to win a nice bonus in the form of a prize. A ton of iron would have won the $3,00 prize last week, and there are many farms in the county where a much larger amount than this is lying around, cluttering up the premises and doing no one any good. Let's get our scrap iron into the fight to save America.

Small Grain Near Ord Badly Hurt by Windstorms, Hail

Clare Clement Says Barley Crop Drops 500,000 and Wheat 25,000 Bushels.

Valley county farmers bought 18 steel bins having a capacity of 29,340 bushels of grain last week from farmers in O'Brien county, Iowa, according to R. Clare Clement, AAA chairman. The bins will be used to store the county's small grain crop. They were recently emptied when the Iowa farmers sold the grain stored in them, on which they had commodity credit loans. Most of this corn was bought by cattle feeders while some of it was used for making industrial alcohol. Mr. Clement says that the government is trying to keep as much of the newly harvested grain off the market as possible.

He believed that the hail, wind and other unfavorable weather of the last two weeks have cut the Valley county barley crop 500,000 bushels and the wheat crop 25,000 bushels. "There is nothing more delicate than Spartan barley as far as wind and hail are concerned," he declared, "and I believe that fully 90 per cent of the barley in Valley county is of this variety." Much of the ripened grain has been shattered by the wind and some of it blighted.

He believes that in many instances the grain yields will be disappointing to farmers, many of whom declare that their small grain is not as good as it was a year ago.

According to Mr. Clement, most of the wheat losses are covered by governmental all risk insurance, but that wheat is the only crop which the government insures at the present time. He believes that next year the government will also insure the corn. Mr. Clement urges farmers to insure their 1943 wheat crops now.

This is the first year, Mr. Clement says, that Valley county farmers will not have collected four times as much indemnities as they paid in premiums to the governmental crop insurance. He says that the plan has been a losing proposition for the government generally all over the state.

Comstock Program Draws Large Crowd

Promoters Feel Celebration Most Successful One Ever Staged.

Fourth of July celebration in Comstock was the largest attended the town has ever put on and was considered by its promoters to be very successful. Penny showers and races proved to be popular with the crowd. The Comstock band under the direction of Glen Auble presented concerts in the afternoon and evening. Miss Betsy Kovanda of Ord gave a patriotic reading on the program.

The W.C.T.U. which served lunches reported good patronage. A picture show and dance were other attractions.

Clarence M. Davis, Ord attorney, who was the speaker of the day urged those present to safeguard the rights which their forefathers earned by suffering, bloodshed and sacrifice, from continued encroachment by war-breeding despots. He extolled the American standards of freedom, liberty and equality, giving a short history of the struggle in obtaining these privileges and declaring that no sacrifice is too great to pay for preserving the American way of life.

Manderson and Jungman Battle to Tie on Sunday

The Manderson Locals played the Jungman Community baseball team to a 3-3 tie in a thrilling game at the Jungman diamond Sunday afternoon. It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish until the game was called off in the tenth because of time. E. Smolik of Manderson and A. Kamarad of Jungman turned in brilliant pitching performances, Smolik allowing one hit and striking out nineteen batters, while Kamarad allowed four hits and struck out thirteen. Smolik walked two and Kamarad walked three. The errors were five for Manderson and two for Jungman. Hitting honors went to O. Marech of Manderson and Ed Trojan of Jungman, Marech getting a double and a single, while Trojan doubled to score two. The game helped Jungman celebrate their 4th of July activities and it was enjoyed by many spectators.

500 Pound Cow Has Calf at Gowen Farm

$100,000 Available to Local Farmers

Soil Building Payments May Be Earned by Dams and Tilling Stubble.

One hundred thousand dollars is still available to the farmers of Valley county in payment for complying with approved soil saving practices, according to R. Clare Clement, AAA chairman. He says that judging from the returns from crop reporters about 40 per cent of the money paid for soil conservation is still to be earned.

Many farmers, Mr. Clement believes, intend to earn this money by building soil saving dams and as the sites must be approved by a member of the AAA committee, it would be greatly appreciated if the farmers intending to build dams would contact Mr. Clement, Charles Krikac or Emil Kokes as soon as they can, since it will be almost impossible for these men to inspect the dam sites if the farmers wait to call them until they are ready to build the dams. The dams must be completed by October 1. It is estimated that between three and four hundred will be built in Valley county.

He also points out that farmers can earn up to half of the building payments by tilling for the control of grasshoppers. He says that as poisoning has not proved too effective in eradicating the pests, the government is now trying cultivation to destroy the hopper's nests as most of the eggs are laid and hatched out in untilled ground. Double discing is satisfactory for this purpose, according to Mr. Clement, who says that he does not believe that this would cause wind erosion in most parts of the county. He especially recommends that stubble fields be so treated. Many reports of grasshopper damage are in, he says, and in some areas the damage is quite considerable.

The NORCO '40' PORKY

Says: "Get More Pounds of Pork Out of Every Bushel of Corn!"

Hi, neighbors... This is station TIME broadcasting an important message to hog raisers. Uncle Sam needs more pork and he needs it NOW. He wants you to produce it economically and with little feed waste. That means feeding a balanced diet that will get more pounds of pork out of every bushel of corn. Hog men know it takes 12 bushels of corn to make 100 pounds of pork, but if you'll feed your hog only 6 bushels of corn and 40 pounds of NORCO '40', HOG MAKER SUPPLEMENT you still make 100 pounds of pork. That means by feeding NORCO '40' you save six to eight bushels of corn on every 100 pounds of pork you build. So why not start feeding the way that will make you more money and produce more pork for Uncle Sam. See your NORCO dealer right away.

Prostrated by Bug Bite. A bug, believed to have been a blister beetle, bit Virgil Lunney on the back Tuesday afternoon while he was plowing corn and made him quite ill for a time. He did not see the bug but reached back and smashed it with his hand. Soon he became ill and a blister as large as a walnut formed where the bug bit him. The blister burst and smaller ones formed around it. Dr. Round, who attended the youth, said that it is not unusual for certain individuals to be especially allergic to insect bites.

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 51 * Tips worth reading on menu planning * A list of foods you'll save money by checking * What one girl learned about so-called "week-end specials"

Want to know how to save lots of time in your food shopping?

The main answer to the above question is—"Plan your menus ahead of time". These few tips suggested by the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau, should help a lot. Tip No. 1—Plan menus several days in advance, a whole week if possible, so you'll see your food picture as a whole. Then you can check to make sure you've included plenty of variety and a balance of foods needed for good nutrition. Tip No. 2—For good nutrition, each day's meals should include at least a pint of milk for adults, a quart for children; an egg per person, or at least 3 to 4 eggs a week; some enriched or whole grain bread or cereal; a tomato or citrus fruit or their juices; another serving of fruit; at least two servings of vegetables besides potatoes, one preferably green, leafy, or yellow; a serving of meat, fish, chicken, or sea food; some butter or vitamin A fortified margarine; and whatever desserts and special treats you like. Tip No. 3—Even the best food tastes better served attractively. Be sure to include in every meal a pleasing contrast of shapes, colors, and textures, as well as contrasting temperatures and flavors. Tip No. 4—Decide ahead of time how to serve any leftover foods (with careful planning you won't have many) in appetizing guise. Do your children cook well? Read the article in this week's issue of Family Circle Magazine on getting children interested in cooking. Family Circle comes out every Thursday—free at Safeway.

These specially low prices are good through Wednesday, July 15

WHY DON'T THEY TELL ME THESE THINGS? SAFeway. Why don't you get your "big" order in on a weekday too. Weekends will be much more fun if you get your big grocery order in on a weekday. Then, on Saturday, just fill in your weekend needs. Safeway prices, you know, are always low, on everything, every day of the week. MAY BE PURCHASED WITH BLUE FOOD-ORDER STAMPS azines this month are showing the American Flag? To celebrate this nation's first Independence Day as a belligerent in World War II, the covers of 300 magazines are carrying the American Flag. Sponsored by the National Publishers association, this gesture is a salute to the flag, that is a symbol of a nation and of freedom. In recognition of the publishing industry's action, the U. S. Flag association will award the Cross of Honor for the best cover.

During the month of June 43 new books were placed on our shelves. Just to mention a few of them which you will enjoy, they are "Modern American Poetry" and "Modern British Poetry." "It Runs in the Family," "Raising a Family," "The Children," "America's Strategy in World Politics," "Dearest Mother-Letters from Famous People to their Mothers" and 3 books on Mythology. We also have several new light fiction, westerns and mysteries that will help pass away these hot summer afternoons and evenings.

Mothers, please remember to send your child to the Story Hour next Saturday morning, at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Dean L. Clawson, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benn at Ord received a letter Saturday from her husband, who is a lieutenant and an administrative officer in the medical corps connected with a base hospital, that he had landed safely somewhere for foreign service. The letter bore no post mark or other indication to show where he might be. Before sailing he was stationed at Fort Bliss in Texas.

School Finances in Fine Condition

The Ord school district is now in better financial condition than it has been for many years. In April 1936 registered warrants were outstanding in the amount of $20,300. Now these warrants have all been redeemed and the treasurer's books of June 30, 1942 show a balance of $9,541.50. An additional $5000 in registered warrants issued in 1938 for the purpose of building the new agriculture shop has also been redeemed. These warrants drew interest at the rate of 4% until February 1941, and then arrangements were made to reduce this to 2%.

The bond indebtedness of the district was originally $150,000, when the high school building was erected in 1927, but these are serial bonds and a certain number are due each year. The original amount has been reduced to $99,000, at the present time and will be completely paid in 1957.

Wheat Can't Be Sold Without AAA Card

Farmers having wheat to sell must get a card from the AAA office before they can market it without paying a 57 cent per bushel penalty according to R. Clare Clement, the Valley county chairman. The card may be obtained through the mail if the farmers are too busy to call for it. Most farmers, who are in compliance with AAA program, will have no difficulty in obtaining this marketing card, according to Mr. Clement. One instance has arisen where a farmer, not cooperating with the AAA has wheat which he would like to sell. This farmer will have to store his wheat until the surplus is reduced or pay a penalty of 57 cents per bushel which is half of the ceiling price. Any farmer having wheat to market should call at the AAA office at his earliest convenience.

The group, whom he often calls "his children," numbers over 2,000. Among them were greetings from both coasts and from most of the 48 states.

Lieutenant Milliken Is Home on Leave

Ord Boy Returns from Trip to Africa; Had Command of a Gun Crew.

Lieutenant James Milliken will leave Ord Friday to report back to duty with the navy after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Milliken. He recently returned from a trip to Africa where he was in command of a gun crew on a merchant vessel carrying war supplies. Previously an ensign, he was promoted to lieutenant, junior grade, after this trip.

The ship sailed from the east coast of United States around the Cape of Good Hope on the extreme southern end of Africa, north through the Mozambique channel between Africa and Madagascar, through the Arabian sea into the Gulf of Aden and into the Red Sea until they reached Eritrea, which was their destination. Eritrea in East Africa is a former Italian possession which the British have captured. Lieutenant Milliken reports that the trip was entirely uneventful and that no submarines were sighted.

This change was decided on Monday by the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The 10 o'clock closing hour is too early for farmers during the harvest and threshing seasons, it was decided.

Two Ord Women File Suits Seeking Divorces

Two divorce petitions were filed in district court in Valley county this week by attorneys, Munn and Norman. Mrs. Eunice Juanita Hart, the red-haired young lady, employed in Douthit's beer parlor, is asking divorce from Harold A. Hart, whom she married in Sidney, Ia. She charged extreme cruelty and asks alimony and the custody of their two children.

Evelyn Marie Sowokinos asks a divorce from Steven Leo Sowokinos, whom she married Jan. 9, 1935 in Ord. She charges her husband of extreme cruelty and excessive and frequent use of liquor. She asks alimony and the custody of their child. Mrs. Sowokinos is making her home with her parents who live on a farm near Ord.

Large Crowd Turns Out for Third Sing Fest Sunday Night

Projector Used to Flash the Words on To Screen; Affairs Continue.

The largest crowd ever to attend a community sing in Ord was present at the third one of the season held at the park Sunday night, according to A. J. Auble who heads the Rotary club committee in charge of the affairs. The girls' octette from North Loup, composed of Marlon Maxson, Mary Babcock, Charlotte Jones, Esther Taylor Frances Goodrich, Grace Manchester, Joan Barber, Esther Smith and Lucienne Fisher, the accompanist, were very popular with the audience.

A cornet duet by Phyllis Hill and Marilyn Long was enjoyed by those present. "Over There" was the most popular number sung judging by the volume from the songsters' throats. The audience seemed to appreciate the sacred and patriotic numbers and Mr. Auble plans to use more of them on the programs hereafter.

"Deep in the Heart of Texas" and "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," brought forth much volume from the younger generation. The older people do not seem to know the popular tunes, according to Mr. Auble. Both popular and old fashioned numbers were used on the program.

The projector belonging to the high school was used to flash the words of the songs on to a screen. Mr. Auble believes that this worked out better than using song sheets. The next sing fest will be held in the park July 26. They will continue to be held every other Sunday until the end of summer. Persons who have songs which they would like to have sung at these programs are asked to submit them to Mr. Auble who will be glad to receive any suggestions which will make the programs more enjoyable and popular.

Douthit Bond Chairman for the Beer Industry

Chairman for sale of war stamps and bonds in Valley county for the beer and liquor industry is Walter Douthit, of Ord, who received notice of his appointment Monday by James McEachan, member of the state liquor commission and state chairman of bond sales for this industry.

Douthit will contact all operators of liquor or beer stores in the county and urge them to induce patrons to take their change in war stamps. Strange as it seems liquor stores also are asked to urge their patrons to buy bonds instead of liquor in certain instances.

Wheat Crop Is Of Excellent Quality

Elevator Men Say the Grain Is the Best Brought In for Twenty Years.

Valley county's 1942 wheat crop is best in quality for 20 years judging from the crop produced by John S. Hoff, who has brought in 800 bushels to Farmers Grain & Supply company's elevator. To date Mr. Hoff is the only farmer who has marketed any wheat in Ord.

Fred Clark and William Heuck declare that Mr. Hoff's wheat is the heaviest which has come into the elevator for many years. It weighs 63 pounds per bushel and tests 11 per cent protein. The elevator has often received wheat testing higher in protein, however. Mr. Hoff received 94 cents per bushel. The wheat made 28 bushels per acre.

Ord Men Spend Twilight Hours Helping with Valley County's Big Harvest

For the past ten days groups of Ord business men varying in size from 6 to 30 have been working evenings in the harvest field. Pictured here are part of the crowd that shocked on Mrs. Henry Jorgensen's farm, those in the picture being Dave Haught, Vernie Anderson, Jim Cetak, Axel Jorgensen, Rex Wagner, Al Parkos and George Satterfield. Also working were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Worm, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Haught, Mrs. Vern Anderson, Charles Thompson and Billie Fafeita, the latter serving as water-boy. When work was completed Mrs. Jorgensen treated the crowd to lunch at Haught's cafe.

Threshermen Set Rates at Meeting Saturday Evening

Price of 4c for Oats, 5c for Barley and 7c for Wheat Is Agreed Upon.

The threshermen's annual meeting was well attended by threshermen of Valley county at Ord Saturday night. Many of their problems were discussed. Since labor, belting and repairs are about 30 per cent higher this year, a price schedule of four cents per bushel for oats, five cents for barley and seven cents per bushel for wheat and rye was decided upon as a fair threshing price for the season of 1942.

L. J. Auble, Ord implement dealer, reports that he has sold six new threshing outfits this season as well as three used ones. Those who have purchased new machines are Hansen Brothers, Joe Urbanosky, Henry Bredthauer, Elmer Parkos, Archie Hopkins and Earl Plamebeck, who lives near Ashton. Mr. Auble drove to Des Moines Tuesday with two trucks of the Service Oil company to get three new threshing machines which he has sold to farmers near Ashton. He reports that he had been unable to get any combines this year owing to war priorities. An estimated eighty threshing rigs will operate in Valley county this summer.

R. C. Clement Heads World Herald Scrap Drive in Valley Co.

Haskell, Johnson, Leininger, Wintek and Rasmussen, Compose Committee.

R. Clare Clement has been appointed chairman of the committee in Valley county to conduct the drive for scrap iron and rubber, which the Omaha World-Herald is sponsoring. Other members of the committee are John R. Haskell, Tom Rasmussen of Ord, Harry Johnson of North Loup, William Leininger of Arcadia and Philip Wintek of Elyria.

The county collecting the most salvage material per capita during the drive, will receive a $1,000 war savings bond. Other prizes are also offered. In order to qualify for the contest the county must submit to the World-Herald the purpose for which it will use the money if it wins the contest. According to Mr. Clement, most people in Valley county appear to favor the purchase of an iron lung. Persons having suggestions as to how this money should be spent, if Valley county wins it, are asked to submit them to County Clerk Ign. Klima, the county defense chairman or to Mr. Clement at once.

Sugar Available Now for Threshers

Farmers may apply for and receive extra sugar for their harvest hands and other seasonal farm workers, under a new OPA ruling, says Vern Russell, chairman of the rationing board for Valley county. Application for 1/2 pound of sugar per week for each extra hired hand may be made on an OPA form No. 315, the same form used in applying for canning sugar. A showing must be made why the hired hand's regular ration of sugar is not available.

Extensive remodeling is under way this week at the J. C. Penney Company's Ord store, with new fixtures being installed throughout. Messrs. Bliss and Oberg, store construction experts from the Penney head office, are in charge of the work. Harris, Hower, Kingston and Norm Holt are the local craftsmen assisting. The work will be completed this week, it is planned, and Monday a Penney expert will arrive from New York City to assist Manager Keith Lewis and his clerks in rearranging the merchandise.

James Resigns in Middle Loup, May Quit No. Loup Too

Works Most of Time at G. I. Ordnance Plant, RFC Rules Full Time Man Needed.

H. C. James, manager and chief engineer of both the North and Middle Loup power and irrigation districts, Monday presented his resignation to directors of the latter district and it was accepted. He may resign as engineer-manager of the North Loup district also.

Previously, James was loaned by the districts to the Cornhusker Ordnance plant at Grand Island, and had been spending only one day each month in each district.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, holders of bonds of the two districts, have been insistent that a full-time manager be secured.

When he was employed full time by the districts, Mr. James received a stipend of $400 monthly, each district paying half. Since he has been employed at Grand Island he has been paid $60 monthly by each district.

Next regular meeting of the board of directors of the North Loup district will be August 7, so James' resignation here cannot be considered until that time, unless a special meeting is called. Successor to James has not been decided, though the board has in view an engineer now employed by the Nebraska department of roads and irrigation.

A home canning demonstration will be given by Marie G. Burton, an expert from the research and educational kitchens of the Kerr Glass Manufacturing corporation, in the home economics rooms of the Ord high school at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, July 27, according to C. C. Dale, Valley county agricultural agent.

Mr. Dale says that Miss Burton comes highly recommended by the state extension service and he urges all housewives to attend this demonstration which is sponsored by the county extension office and nutritional division of the county defense committee of which Mrs. Lee Nay is chairman. Mrs. Nay will preside at the demonstration.

Business Men Help Save Grain Crops by Working Nights

Many Turn Out to Assist in Fields; Women Prove to be Good Shockers.

The business men of Ord who have turned out in large numbers in the evening to shock grain have helped considerably to relieve the farm labor situation in Valley county, according to Robert Noll, employment agent. Women, too, have gone out to do their bit in helping to save the grain crops. Mrs. Freeman Haught, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Vern Anderson, Mrs. Forrest Worm, Irene Auble, Darlene Carlson and Jean Carlson are some of the weaker sex who have demonstrated that they are not so weak when an emergency arises.

Fifteen business men reported for work at the Will Treptow farm Thursday evening where they labored until there was no more grain to shock. Crawford Mortensen, Mr. Treptow's landlord, rewarded them with liquid refreshments and Mrs. Treptow supplied sandwiches.

Friday night shocking parties were held at the farms of Mrs. Henry Jorgensen and at Henry Benn's, the men and women staying on the job until there was no grain left to shock. Many Ord men have spent the last two Sundays on farms shocking, driving tractors operating combines or doing other work to assist hard-pressed farmers. Walter Douthit and Pete Wilson have been especially active in this respect.

For some it has been a new but enjoyable experience. When Bert Boquet started to shock some one noticed that he placed the bundles with their heads down. When corrected by a co-worker, he said that was the way he learned to do it in South Dakota where they shocked the grain in that fashion so that rain falling on them would run down off the heads. Sunday evening fifteen men shocked 40 acres of grain on the Venard Collins farm.

Some farmers, expecting to thresh in a short time are leaving their grain unshocked. If a rain comes before they get it threshed it will have to be shocked to enable the grain to dry out properly.

Mr. Noll reports that 24 men have registered for work with him. He still has more calls for farm help than he can fill and urges any one not employed who is capable of doing any farm work to register with him.

22 Children Receive 1st Communion on Sunday

Twenty-two children received their first Holy Communion following Mass Sunday in the Lady of Perpetual Help church. The class was composed of Richard Blaha, Raymond Duda, Henry Kasson, Eugene Kusek, Raymond Klimek, Francis Kruml, Thaddeus Meese, Eugene Resta, John Piskorski, Donald Osen-towski, Francis Valla, Emil Valla, Ervin Vodehal, Rosalie Blaha, Delphine Dymek, Euilala Edwards, Carolyn Kokes, Marlene Norman, Darlene Novosad, Arlene Psota, Mary Van House and Mary Vodehal.

—Soangefaha Camp Fire girls met Tuesday afternoon with their guardian, Mrs. Kokes, to organize for their project of selling war stamps during War Heroes' week. They have been offered the opportunity to do so Friday evening at the War Heroes program downtown and will continue on Saturday evening.

Something Different

We have had a varied list of pets at Cullen Lake, the most famous and long-continued ones the "tame" fish, which collected by the bushel-basketful whenever they heard footsteps...

The fish we caught out in the lake one small boy always called the "wild" fish.

One year a Mama Mallard and her kite-tail of little ducklings waddled up to the back door every morning after breakfast and squawked for attention.

Tiny turtles, just hatched, were cunning pets and enjoyed a time or two, but the children never fed them scientifically, and eventually the turtles would be allowed to "escape" by some soft-hearted adult.

Dime stores in nearby Brainerd did a land-office business selling little turtles with bright-painted backs, on each back the sign "souvenir of Brainerd, Minn."

This year Oscar L. Nay, The Captain, as he is more correctly called, has three little chipmunks who report after meals to see what was left for them.

One year Guide Ray Luther had a little squirrel in a cage, and made a treadmill for the little fellow. This amused the squirrel and also the bystanders.

A pair of twin bunnies delighted sleepers at the Annex one summer, playing happily and rollicking under the windows of the one-time E. P. Clements summer cottage as long as things were quiet.

Birds abound here, and were the delight of Mrs. E. P. Clements, who knew a great deal about them, and of her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. D. Leggett.

This summer there are many orioles, more than ever before. A large lovely log-house on a high pole was the scene of a two or three-day battle each year between the martins and another bird family.

This year one pair of loons, large handsome black and white birds standing about 24 inches, settled into the rushes near us and found a muskrat house-top they liked for a nest.

Only one pair of loons will settle on one lake, so we are more than pleased to have them so near us this year for the first time.

Then the Luther dogs have usually inspected our garbage, not wishing us to bury anything unnecessarily, and of course this suited the people doing the spade work.

But Wally Wallin, the doting owner of ever more puppies and pups, has enough small dogs so that one has the habit of coming down here right after lunch each day.

Once upon a time a family of skunks decided to make their home under the cottage south, now called the Annex. And nothing E. P. Clements and his family could do changed the skunk family's minds for a good long time. Skunks occasionally dig out garbage now to see what was in it, and once in a while one of Wally's dogs who has not yet learned better conducts battle with a skunk.

One Gross Boy at Dutch Harbor, Another in Virginia

Pictured above are the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gross, of Ord. Sergeant Everett Gross (left) enlisted in the army air corps and at present is in officers' training school at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Grub worms are practically pets here too; they are rare enough and are hard enough to keep. Their favorite diet in case you don't know, is coffee grounds! No trouble there, grub with the fish either.

County Agent Notes

Here are some ideas that may help to take care of the green beans you produced in your Victory garden.

- 1. Can the tender young beans as soon as possible after picking.
2. Wash carefully and cut into desired lengths, add boiling water to cover and simmer until beans are wilted.
3. Pack hot into jars.
4. Process quarts in the pressure cooker for 35 minutes at ten pounds, pints 30 minutes at ten pounds, or 3 hours in the boiling water bath.

Of course, you can brine vegetables. For brining you will need to use tender, young string beans. Remove the tips and strings and if pods are large, break them in half.

Stored Grain Pests. The Valley County Extension office has received several inquiries recently about how to clean up bins to prevent weevil infestation in wheat that is being stored.

Extension Entomologist O. S. Bare of the University of Nebraska college of agriculture states that all empty bins should be swept well and the sweeping burned or fed to hogs or poultry, or at least carried some distance from the granary.

Infested grain should be fumigated with one of the heavier-than-air fumigants such as carbon bisulphide, or a mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride.

Complete directions for fumigating grain and preventing infestation are in "Control of Stored Grain Pests in Nebraska," which is Experiment Station Circular 62. A copy can be obtained from the county extension office or by writing a request on a penny postcard to the Agricultural Extension Service, College of Agriculture, Lincoln Nebraska.

Letters From Boys In the Service

Private Lueck Writes, July 4, 1942

The Ord Quiz; Ord, Nebraska Dear Sirs: Fate seem to be dealing me a bit kinder hand than a lot of American soldiers and once more an renewing my subscription for the Quiz.

Am very sure that romantic Ireland couldn't give up a dinner like we had today with a big slice of juicy sweet watermelon, two bars of ice cream and pumpkin pie.

The weather is just lovely when it is nice and as I travel around on the frequent week end passes I enjoy it and the scenery a lot.

A couple of weeks ago I saw Plymouth Rock which is interesting because at that exact place a long time ago the Americans first made their resolve to build a new home and to preserve it at what ever the cost and as one thinks about the hardships and battles which at the time seemed impossible to overcome by our forefathers as they lived their lives it gives us courage to stand against odds and hope that the cost will not be too great.

Spent one week end in New York and among the highlights was a climb to the top of our statue of Liberty. As a Goddess of Liberty it represents very well what we have to fight for and its light from a simulated lighted torch can represent to weary ships what a lighted window in millions of contented Americans homes means to us.

Your reader, Pfc. Armin Lueck APO 45% Postmaster New York, N. Y.

Editor's note: Here is a letter from Closs Blake of Burwell written to his father, Will Blake. Closs is attending a school of tank and armored warfare at Fort Knox, Ky., and we believe that much of what he tells will be of interest to our readers.

Dear Dad: I haven't written for some time because, there simply isn't anything to write about. A fellow just brought up the mail while I was writing and I got your letter and the puzzle. We have been having a lot of rain here, too. I haven't heard from Pete (his younger brother who is in the navy) for at least two weeks.

and I would hate the monotony of teaching the same thing day after day and week after week. I think I can make out better in a division than I can in a school. There are a lot of married men wanting to be instructors. That is nice for them because they could bring their wives down here, so I won't stand in their way.

The worst thing about the armored force is that you have to learn so much more than other branches of the service. Each tank has to know all the infantry maneuvers as the tank might break down and they would then have to fight on foot. Then they have to learn machine guns from A to Z. Then we, also, have to know as much about big guns as the artillery forces because we have cannons on the tanks.

Am very sure that romantic Ireland couldn't give up a dinner like we had today with a big slice of juicy sweet watermelon, two bars of ice cream and pumpkin pie. In the center of each table was a large turkey roasted brown and stuffed with dressing and about the only thing that kept it from being home was that instead of father doing the carving, the soldier that was the nearest grabbed his fork and knife and got about half the breast.

The weather is just lovely when it is nice and as I travel around on the frequent week end passes I enjoy it and the scenery a lot. There seems to be no end to points of interest here in the East. As a simple illustration while on a trip in Vermont one day, which by the way was a sight seeing tour as a reward for having one of the nearest bunks or nicest made beds in the company for one of our frequent inspections, there were signs along the road which advertised pure Vermont maple syrup and I thought it was interesting because I remember delicious hot cakes at home with that very brand of syrup for trimming.

A 250 horse power diesel engine will pull more than a 250 horse power gas engine and run on half as much, so you can see the diesel gives you more power and does it on one-fourth the cost. But the big drawback is teaching the drivers to shift gears in time to keep from blowing the heads. The heads won't blow off if the engine is never allowed to run at less than 1,600 (Continued on page 7)

Legionnaires Back Drive for Records for Fighting Men

Ordites Asked to Hunt Up Photograph Discs for Use in Army Camps.

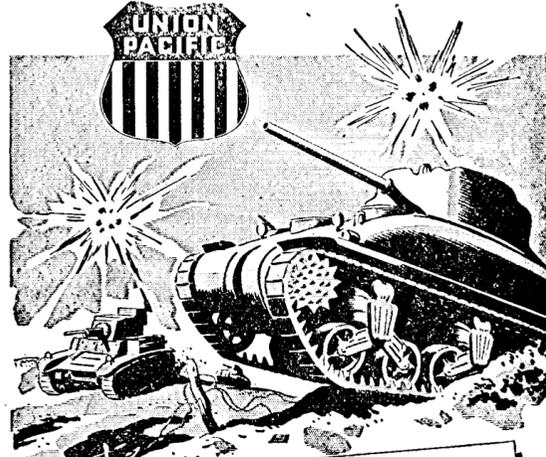

Within a few days the citizens of Ord will be asked to cooperate in a project known as "Records for Our Fighting Men" which will provide a permanent supply of good music for the men in the armed forces. The American Legion and its Auxiliary, working in cooperation with a group of nationally eminent musical artists has mapped plans for a nation-wide door to door canvass for old phonograph records. Proceeds from the disposal of the old records as scrap will be used in purchasing new discs and phonograph players to be sent to every camp, base, post and station wherever there are Americans in uniform. The campaign, beginning July 17 and extending through August 2, has as its goal the collection and salvaging of 37,500,000 old records.

A non-profit agency, Records for Our Fighting Men, Inc., was organized early in June by Kay Kyser, Kate Smith, Fritz Reiner, Sigmund Spaeth and Gene Autry acting as the original incorporators. Some one hundred outstanding instrumentalists, orchestra conductors, band leaders and singers have pledged their support. Following the formation of the new agency the national organization of the American Legion, assisted by the Legion Auxiliary, offered to provide full assistance in mobilizing canvassing and collection operations.

TANKS DON'T FIGHT IN FACTORIES!

These formidable fighting machines can not take part in offensive action until they reach the theatre of war. No matter to what extent production is stepped up, transportation still remains a vital factor. That's where Union Pacific is doing a job of which we are mighty proud.

Over the Strategic Middle Route, connecting the East with the West, gigantic freight locomotives are hauling tanks, guns, plane parts and other war materials. Trainloads of troops roll over the steel rails. A great army—in workmen's uniform—are "keeping 'em rolling." That's their job—and they're doing it!

The local Red Cross chapter received word last week that next March will be American Red Cross month. The nation will during that month have a combined Roll Call and War Fund drive. (2) the combination of effort in organizing and conducting a drive for each of the two regular war time services (membership and war relief) will save time and work for the millions of volunteers as well as for headquarters staff now already stripped down to the utmost.

Ordites Turn In 6,902 Lbs. More in Rubber Drive

Valley County's Per Capita Collection is Far Ahead of State As Whole.

During the ten days added on to the rubber campaign by President Roosevelt 6,902 pounds of scrap were collected in Valley county, according to Vern Andersen who headed the rubber drive. Reports were still lacking from Arcadia and North Loup and it is believed that the filling stations in these two towns will have bought enough rubber to put Valley county over the top in filling its quota of 12,000 pounds for the ten additional days.

Previously the county contributed 152,889 pounds while its quota was 63,500. Nebraska stands tenth in the amount of rubber collected per capita. According to reports from state headquarters Nebraska's per capita collection is 9.89 pounds. Valley county residents have far outdistanced the state as a whole in the rubber drive. The 1940 census credited the county with 8,163 residents (there are probably less now). Multiplying the 1940 population by 9.89, the average per capita for the state, gives 80,732.07 pounds, while to date Valley county has collected 159,791 pounds with incomplete reports from two towns.

Many shoppers in the Safeway store soiled their hands Saturday from the wire handles of the baskets from which the rubber had been stripped. Roy Price, manager of the store received orders from headquarters to remove the rubber from the basket handles and give it to a filling station, which was done. "We'll have nice new baskets when the war is over," he promises.

None of the rubber collected in Valley county has been shipped. Mr. Andersen says that it will be hauled to Omaha either by trucks or train.

"AMERICAN HEROES DAY" is Friday, July 17. Let's honor the Local Heroes of all wars by buying all the War Stamps we possibly can on that day! Get them at Safeway.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 52 * How to save time and trouble in shopping * A list of money-saving foods to check * A timely story with a moral

This is a lesson in shopping that's worth reading

Because the war has made "time" more precious than ever before, it has become practically a patriotic duty to streamline our daily schedules as much as possible. The best way to save time is to cut shopping trips down by planning menus and market lists a week in advance.

Perishability is the best guide for dividing off your purchases. Staples like flour, salt, potatoes, canned and packaged goods can be bought weeks in advance.

Foods that will keep 3 to 4 days without spoiling include most meats; vegetables like carrots, turnips, beets, parsnips, squash, egg plant, corn, tomatoes; most under-ripe fruits and the like.

The most perishable foods; those which will keep only a day or two, are fresh vegetables and fruits; fresh fish, chicken, and ground meats; dairy products; bread, cake, pastry.

To get your money's worth in vitamins and minerals, use fresh leafy and green vegetables the same day you buy them. As soon as you get them home, wash them quickly in a small amount of water, drain, and keep them in a covered container in the refrigerator until just ready to use.

All about cooking weights and measures Read the July 17th Family Circle article, "Kitchen Arithmetic" for complete charts on weights and measures and equivalents used in cooking. Out Thursday, free at Safeway.

Farms Get Checked by AAA Reporters

Jards Mailed to Those With Completed Records; Soil Projects Must Begin.

All farm operators in Valley county whose compliance records have been checked and acreages calculated, received cards this week from the AAA office informing them of their standing, according to R. Clare Clement, county chairman. Mr. Clement stresses that the farmers should examine these cards to see if their wheat and corn acreages are correct and that their soil building allowances are as they should be.

If a farmer has a victory garden that, too, should be included. Mr. Clement points out that each farmer can earn $1.50 in soil building payments by maintaining a garden, which should pay for the cost of the seeds planted. If the information on the cards is not correct the farmer should notify the AAA office at once.

Farmers expecting to earn additional soil building payments should notify the office immediately. Five per cent of the soil building payment applications must be sent in during July, Mr. Clement says, and 20 per cent in August. Only those applications which have been completed can be sent into the state headquarters for approval.

Little Rubber Collected. 427 Chestnut Ave. Apt 15 Long Beach, Calif. July 5, 1942

Ord Quiz Ord, Nebraska Dear Sirs:

Just as a means of comparison this clipping from the "Long Beach Independent" might be of interest to your readers.

I was amazed to find that a city the size of Long Beach (185,000 pop.) should have such a small collection of scrap. I believe that the "Independent" would be interested in Ord's rubber figures also, so I have sent the "Quiz" item concerning the scrap drive to them. I enclosed with the article the picture of the effigies which hung in front of the Phillips 66 station.

Sincerely, Miss Marlon Elsner Editor's note: The clipping from the July 5th issue of the paper revealed that 15,000 pounds of scrap rubber had been collected up to that date.

14,000 Pheasants Lost in Valley County Every Time Alfalfa Is Cut

Survey Reveals Many Nests Destroyed; Flushing Bar Is Recommended.

Every time the farmers of Valley county cut their alfalfa 7,000 potential pheasants are killed according to the results of a survey conducted by H. E. McClure, the Pittman-Robertson game man who is stationed in Ord.

Mr. McClure mailed cards to one hundred farmers asking them how many pheasant nests they destroyed when they cut their alfalfa the first time. Twenty farmers responded, reporting that they destroyed 48 pheasant nests with their mowing machines. These twenty farmers have 320 acres of alfalfa and Mr. McClure has determined that a pheasant nest is destroyed on every 6.6 acres of alfalfa cut.

720 Hens Killed.

The farmers also report that forty per cent of the hens on the destroyed nests are killed or badly injured. There are 12,000 acres of alfalfa in Valley county and according to the rules of ratio and proportion, 1,800 pheasant nests would be destroyed every alfalfa cutting time, and 720 hens are killed.

The reports received from farmers reveal that each nest destroyed contained an average of 113 eggs. The hens which are not killed or injured will nest again so nothing much is lost by these eggs being destroyed, but Mr. McClure estimates that the 720 hens killed would have added 7,000 pheasants this fall to game bird population of Valley county.

Recommends Flushing Bar.

The most effective way of remedying this loss, in Mr. McClure's belief, is a flushing bar. He says that this works better on a tractor than with horse drawn mowers but that they can be used with gentle teams. A pole is fastened to the tractor extending out into the unmowed grass as far as the cutter bar. The pole should be about a foot or eighteen inches from the ground. Lengths of light rope or strong cord should be tied on to the bar about every three inches and an iron bar or some other piece of heavy hardware should be tied on to the dangling ends of the ropes. As these weights are dragged through the alfalfa the pheasants will be aroused from their nests. He points out that it takes quite a severe jar to compel the mother pheasants to leave their nests and that a pole extending ahead of the cutting bar does not agitate them sufficiently to cause them to fly up. The hens are not discouraged by their first unsuccessful attempts to start up housekeeping but in a little while will nest again.

Eggs Can Be Saved.

Mr. McClure reports that the eggs in the disturbed nests can be hatched and the chicks raised with chicken hens. He says that it is necessary to keep the young ones confined with the old hen for a week in order that they become accustomed to her. The little pheasants should be fed an ordinary starting mash with hard boiled egg added as they require a feed richer in protein than chickens do.

No game permit is necessary to raise pheasants in this manner and the game wardens are glad to have the farmers conserve the eggs, according to Mr. McClure. He says that the little pheasants will stay with their foster mothers about six weeks and then they will pull out for the wide open spaces.

Bob Marks has a brood of pheasants at the present time which he is raising with a buff orpington hen. Mr. McClure says that bantams make better mothers but that any ordinary broody hen may be used. The reports which he received from farmers indicates that seven per cent of them have tried their hand at raising pheasants with chickens.

Burwell Gets New Sugar Beet Dump

In the vast program of business expansion and trade activity, the industries of Burwell and territory are receiving some proportionate amount of attention. The sugar refinery people have completed the foundations for new scales and loading dump. Workmen are busily engaged in setting the conveyors and elevator. The entire plant will be up-to-the-minute in type of construction and will materially expedite and economize the delivery of the farmers' product to the refinery yard. Beet growers shipping their crop from Burwell will well take interest in this gesture by the sugar corporation, for it denotes their faith in the permanence of such a crop in the successful agricultural program in this territory. With the presence of Fackler's modern potato grading and storage plant, together with the successful year reported by the cannery, it must appear to even a casual observer that there has been close cooperation between producer and marketer in keeping somebody at the door to answer the first knock of opportunity, when water brought about the intensive culture of new crops. Whether one counts him as a friend or borrows money from him, it is a general opinion that O. W. Johnson has been among the first to find out 'what' and 'how' to get it, and is in a large degree responsible for the advanced strides that have been made for the interests of the farmers in this part of the Valley.

The NORCO 40 PORKY

Says: "Save Up To Four Months Feed Bill"

The time it takes to get your hogs ready for market and the amount of feed they consume has a lot to do with the amount of profit you will realize. A lot of hog raisers try to get their hogs in condition by feeding corn alone. Corn will produce a finished hog, but it takes so much corn and so much time that your chance to make a good profit is lost. There is a way to make every bushel of corn build more pork. Just add NORCO 40 HOG-MARKET SUPPLEMENT to their ration. This supplies the minerals, vitamins and proteins that are lacking in corn and helps the hog get more out of every kernel of corn it eats. If you are feeding corn alone you can save from 210 to $10 pounds of corn in producing a 200 pound finished hog by simply adding NORCO 40 to the ration. See your Norco dealer today.

Tax Report Shows Hike in Prosperity for Valley County

Livestock, Grain and All Kinds of Tools Up in Numbers and Value.

Valley county farmers are a great deal better off this year than they were last year judging from the tax report from the county assessor's office. The farmers were assessed more livestock, grain and equipment of every kind at much higher prices in 1942 than they were a year ago. The largest increase is in hogs. In 1941, 6,149 swine were assessed in Valley county with an average value of $7.61 per head. This year the number increased to 11,951 head valued at $17.38 each.

A year ago Valley county had 18,844 cattle valued at $679,705. Now there are 23,207 head of cattle in the county which the assessor's report show as being worth $1,121,800. Judging from the tax report there is plenty of room for expansion of the purebred cattle industry. The schedules show that there are 118 registered bulls in Valley county and 251 grades, many of which undoubtedly would more truthfully be called scrubs.

Valley county farmers still have more money invested in horses than they have in tractors. According to the report there are 4,570 horses in Valley county valued at $157,395, and 708 tractors worth $143,805. Both the number of horses and tractors in the county increased slightly during the year.

Mules Slipping. There are 241 mules in the county which are valued somewhat higher than horses. The

Ord Men Encounter Law After Long, Loud "Financial Discussion"

John Prien and James Skala, who had a noisy disagreement over money matters involving two dollars, Sunday, July 12, in the home of Mrs. Sarah Anne Adams, Skala's mother-in-law, were fined in Police Judge W. T. McClain's court Saturday morning on the charges of drunkenness, disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct. Prien, who pleaded guilty without a trial, was fined five dollars and costs amounting to $3.50. Skala, who in his own mind apparently doubted his guilt, according to his testimony, was assessed five dollars and costs amounting to $6.50 which were paid by Emil Smolik, his employer, who complained that the amount was too high. "But I've got to have a man," he declared as he signed the check.

Mrs. Adams, the mother-in-law, who was the complaining witness, said that Skala and Prien arrived at her home about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in a state of intoxication. She said they were arguing about a "money deal," and when she requested them to desist they refused. "The noise was so loud the neighbors heard it," Mrs. Adams testified, "and as I did not want them to go fighting I just called the law." She said that when "the law" arrived her son-in-law "had beat it down the alley," while Prien was trying out the springs on her living room couch.

Policeman Covert and his son-in-law, Alvin Axthelm, went to the Adams home where they arrested Prien and Skala, whom they confined in the county jail over night. Skala testified that Prien called at Adams home twice Saturday night, where he was temporarily staying, and got him out of bed, the first visit being about 2 o'clock in the morning.

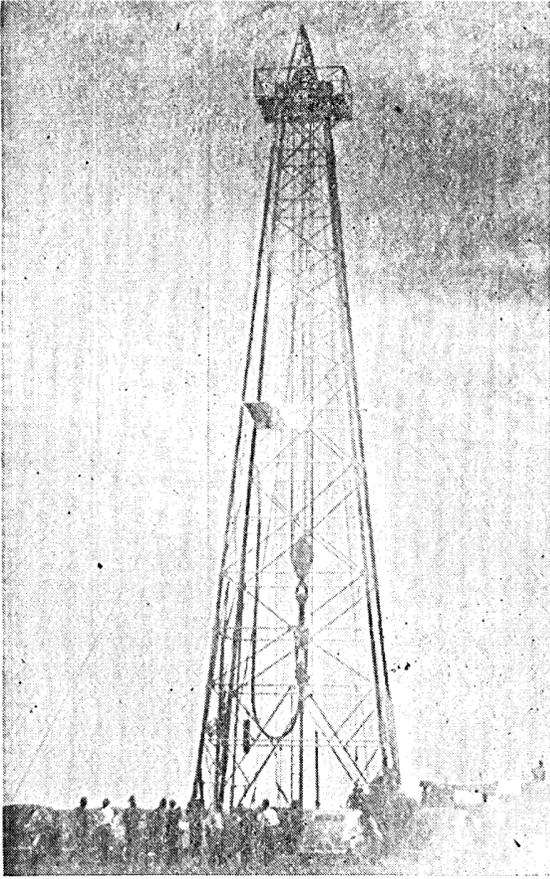

The amount of money involved in the argument was two dollars according to Skala's testimony. He said that Prien insisted upon lending him two dollars, but that he only wanted to accept one. "He got mad and called me bad names," Skala told the court.

When the judge asked Mrs. Adams if Skala lived in her home she replied, "No, he don't. I told them when they got married that they couldn't live with me and would have to get out and make their own home." She said that the young men had no liquor when they arrived at her home Sunday afternoon, but that they brought along "a little beer," which they consumed in her presence.

In the absence of City Attorney Clarence Davis, who was out of town, conducting his campaign for railway commissioner, the case was prosecuted by his partner, E. L. Vogeltau.

Test Well Near Scotia Where Oil Was Found

This is the derrick of the test well on the Bredthauer farm three miles south of Scotia, where what is believed to be certain signs of oil were uncovered last week at a depth of 4,000 feet in the Viola limestone strata.

Oil Indications Found in Drilled Well Near Scotia

Viola Strata Hit at About 4,000 Feet Has Certain Signs of Petroleum.

Unmistakable indications of oil were found in the Viola limestone strata last week end in the test well being drilled by the Taylor Drilling Co., for Henry Bredthauer on land which William Bredthauer owns three miles south of Scotia. Henry S. Thomas of Oklahoma City, geologist, employed by the Taylor Drilling Co., feels certain beyond a doubt that oil has at last been found in the North Loup valley. If the oil is not obtainable in paying quantities in the first well, another will be drilled, the promoters announce. "As we are sure the oil is there."

The favorable indications, according to Mr. Thomas were found at a depth of 4,000 feet. The Topeka limestone strata yielded a fair indication of oil, Thomas said. The indication was very good when the Lansing-Kansas City formation was hit at 2,500 feet and after they drilled 4,000 feet into the Viola formation the drillers were convinced that the area around Scotia is underlaid with oil. The Service Oil company of Ord delivered a casing to the well the first of the week which is being installed. This casing will be perforated with gun shots and later acidized. The is to make a basin at the end of casing for the oil to accumulate so that it can be pumped to the surface. It will be several days before the degree of success of the well can be ascertained.

Directors Decide to Hold Ord Fair

War Stamps to Be Given As Premiums; No Program or Admission Charges.

The directors of the Valley County Agriculture society decided to hold a fair this year at their meeting Thursday night. Present were R. Clare Clement, the president, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, Henry Enger, Chris Belers, Hilding Pearson and David Arnold. The decision was unanimous. Directors Don Round of Arcadia and Bert Cummins were absent. No one has been named to succeed Walter Jorgensen, who was accidentally killed a month ago.

The fair will be held Sept. 2, 3, and 4 at the grounds. No program is planned and no admission will be charged. Premiums will be paid in war savings stamps, according to County Agent C. C. Dale.

The directors decided that the Valley county fair was one of those of which Transportation Coordinator Eastman recommends the continuance as the attendance all comes from the local trade territory. Therefore holding the fair causes no more than the usual amount of travel. Mr. Dale says that they believed the 4-H club members, of which there are 150 in Valley county should have an opportunity to show their accomplishments and that he believes that much good could result from an agricultural exhibition in times when the government is asking for increased farm production.

14 Ord Girls Sell $100 Worth of War Stamps This Week

Camp Fire Group Plans to Operate Booth Throughout the Summer.

Fourteen Ord Camp Fire girls, under the leadership of their guardian, Mrs. Edward Kokes, sold more than a hundred dollars worth of war savings stamps last week. The girls erected a booth on the court house lawn Friday night where they contacted spectators at the Heroes' day program. The girls are planning to conduct stamp sales in this booth each Wednesday and Saturday evening throughout the summer.

They not only sell stamps, they buy them too. Each girl has pledged to invest 10 percent of her allowance in stamps. The girls decided to do their bit to help win the war by selling and buying stamps after they interviewed a number of the leading citizens of Ord, whom they asked for suggestions as to suitable projects for themselves to conduct during the summer. One man interviewed, recommended the stamp drive and the girls have gone for the idea in a big way.

They also have another project in view which was also suggested to them, when they were conducting interviews, which is equally worthwhile, that they will launch later in the summer. C. J. Mortensen, who heads the bond and stamp sales in Valley county, reports that the sales are progressing well and that Valley county residents have purchased a far greater number of bonds than they had this time last year.

In rural areas Mr. Clement, the chairman, explained that the committee and Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, plan to appoint a boy or girl as captains to call on all of the farmers in each school district, who will report the amount of scrap on hand on each farm and ask the farmer to bring it in to a dump. Doctor Seeking News of Wounded Kin Drives 200 Miles to Consult Swanek

An item they read in the Omaha World-Herald about Bernard Swanek, Valley county boy who was on the destroyer Hammond, which a Japanese torpedo sent to the bottom, brought Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Wartman and Mrs. Wartman's brother of Louisville here Saturday morning to confer with First Class Seaman Swanek. Another brother of Mrs. Wartman was also aboard the Hammond. He is in a naval hospital in Honolulu but his relatives had not been informed as to the extent of his injuries.

The Wartmans are intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whelan of Grand Island, former Ord residents whom they visited in Ord on several occasions. Being acquainted with John Misko they called him long distance when they read in the World-Herald that he was going to interview Swanek. They also talked to Swanek Friday night, but being desirous of more information they immediately got in their car and drove to Valley county arriving in Ord early Saturday morning.

Swanek, fortunately, knew the brother and was able to make the Wartmans very happy when he told them that her brother was not seriously injured and that he would no doubt soon be home.

Flume Near Fort Hartsuff Fixed

Burwell-Sumter Canal Will Soon Be Running Full; Washed Out June 20.

Water will be flowing down the Burwell-Sumter canal by Thursday, Water Master Holloway, who has been working diligently with a crew of men, announced Wednesday.

The canal has been out of operation since June 20 when a heavy rain washed out a flume near Fort Hartsuff. Every effort has been made to repair the flume, irrigation officials say, before crops suffer for want of water.

Repairs for the flume were delivered Sunday morning by the K. W. Peterson Transfer service and the crew went immediately to work to repair the damages. Operations progressed more rapidly than was expected as those in charge did not believe the flume would be repaired before the end of the week.

Dr. Thorngate Again Recognized As a Hero

North Loup—(Special)—The name of George Thorngate was among the list of heroes which appeared in the State Journal Friday. Dr. Thorngate received a distinguished service cross in the first world war for rescuing two of his companions in the battle of Argonne. A brother of Mrs. J. A. Barber, he is somewhere in China, or possibly interned in Japan. When his family was sent home, he remained at his post with the Seventh Day Baptist missionary group in Shanghai and no word from him has been received after the Pearl Harbor attack. Specializing in the study of tuberculosis he had done a great deal of work among the Chinese in his years of service in the Orient.

Bernard Swanek Thrills Audience With War Tales

Elyria Youth Swims in Oil-Covered Ocean After Japs Sink Ship.

"The Japs can't get me," confidently declared Bernard Swanek, Valley county youth, seaman first class, who has taken part in every major naval engagement of the present war, in a public interview in Ord Friday evening in commemoration of War Heroes Day. Bernard was interviewed by County Attorney John P. Misko following a patriotic address by George Munn.

The sailor, whom hundreds of people came to honor, is spending a three weeks leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swanek, who live near Elyria. He was recently released from a naval hospital in Honolulu, having sustained a shrapnel wound across the bridge of his nose, and a minor bullet wound on a hand.

Assisted Yorktown. Bernard was on the destroyer Hammond which was sunk by a Japanese torpedo in the battle of Midway. His ship had been detailed to assist the Yorktown, which had been crippled in the battle. The destroyer pulled up alongside of the damaged boat and gave it all the electricity and steam from its engines in an attempt to keep the Yorktown afloat.

The sailors saw the Japanese planes approaching overhead but they could not get up sufficient steam to get away. Bernard reports that the sailors had 90 seconds to abandon ship after the Hammond was hit. The boys got into lifejackets and jumped overboard. Swanek reports that one of his buddies had $600 in a locker on the ship which he did not bother to get before leaving.

Swim Seemed Long. The torpedo struck a 20,000 oil tank and the bops had to swim on water which was covered with a three inch layer of oil. They were in the water an hour and a half but Bernard reports that it seemed more like a day. The ship which came to rescue them first went after some Jap submarines, lurking nearby, leaving the boys in the water until it had taken care of this matter successfully, so the boys didn't mind their lengthy swim too much.

Bernard was sworn into the navy at Omaha three weeks before the attack upon Pearl Harbor. He spent his first three weeks at the Great Lakes Naval Training station near Chicago. He reported that the training there taught him how to take commands but was not of much benefit in actual combat.

Trained at Charleston. When war broke out he was sent to Charleston, S. C., where he was assigned to duty on the Hammond, where he remained until she went down. After a period of training at Charleston, the Hammond was ordered to San Francisco where she remained a day and a half before starting to Pearl Harbor.

Hailstorm Strikes Comstock Vicinity

Crops Destroyed, Chickens Killed, Windows Broken by Falling Stones.

Comstock—(Special)—Saturday afternoon around 5:30 a cloud came up from the west and slightly north and looked very menacing for awhile, you could hear a distinct roar here in town and then hail began to fall with no rain falling at first, however, it very soon turned to rain and 32 of an inch fell west of town, starting in about an Ernie Leeps. The hail fell in large numbers, ruining crops, killing chickens and breaking out lights. Something Different

It seems to me education for girls has gone about as far off center as anything could.

A hundred years ago girls commonly received little education, and boys not a lot more.

But within eight years after they have graduated from high school, where are most of these girls found?

Till tell you; in a little house or apartment, striving to master the mysteries of a washing machine, a stove, a baby, trying to keep the place clean and nice and get the meals on time.

And by just what rule in the book is it assumed that the girl, upon hearing the mystical "pronounce you man and wife," immediately knows how to keep a house and a baby?

I don't think so. A few weeks spent in practical homemaking for a few years out of her school life; a course of study for all girls where at least a third of school studies would prepare them for doing their lifework; show me why it isn't a sensible goal to work toward!

But after all, when the work of women is chiefly homemaking and its various ramifications, doesn't it seem a little silly that girls are taught everything else BUT that in the course of twelve years in school.

It is assumed that girls will learn homemaking at home from their mothers. Why? It isn't assumed that they learn enough about speaking English at home, or about writing a letter, or about singing, or keeping books; reading and arithmetic and letter writing are taught at school, and singing too.

Doing efficient shopping for the table and the house, keeping a budget, raising strong healthy children, darning socks, curtain laundering, and a hundred other angles to the big task of house-keeping are supposed to be absorbed through the pores. The best housewives and mothers study constantly while practicing their trade.

Nearest the perfect solution seems to be the "practice house" type of training, where the girls learn by doing. This is given in many colleges, but why can't it be given happily in high schools where it would be available to many more girls?

Under this system, five or six girls compose a "family," with family problems to solve, and for a certain number of weeks they live together and do all the work. Usually in connection with child care and training courses, a small baby also lives with them and is cared for as a part of their work, feeding, bathing, naps and all.

I don't think so. A few weeks spent in practical homemaking for a few years out of her school life; a course of study for all girls where at least a third of school studies would prepare them for doing their lifework; show me why it isn't a sensible goal to work toward!

County Agent Notes

Garden Pointers for July.

Most Victory gardens have returned good dividends so far this year. Even late peas have done well for a change. But we have had a change from the cool, rainy weather that prevailed in June. A few hot days like we had the past week will ruin the quality of root crops like beets, kohlrabi and carrots.

Up to July there has been little need for irrigation in gardens, but the critical period is here. It pays to irrigate tomatoes promptly when they need it, or blossom end rot is likely to show up.

Before the month is over, most potato patches in the eastern half of the state will be drying up. When this happens, the bare ground tends to heat up, and the potatoes rapidly lose their good cooking quality.

Tomatoes are having their troubles this year. There are several different types of diseases showing up.

Septoria Leaf Spot, brown spots on lower leaves which later turn yellow, can be controlled by spraying with Bordeaux.

Bacterial Speck, shows up as tiny black specks on the fruit. Bordeaux may be of some value in preventing spread, but warm weather will probably be more effective.

Wilt, leaves wilt and die, and finally the whole plant dies. There are no distinct leaf spots, but the stem shows a water-soaked appearance on the outside and streaks of brown on the inside.

Mosaic, there are three or four different types of virus diseases to which the general name "Mosaic" is given. In all cases the diseased plants have light colored leaves, some times mottled with yellow; the leaves are usually smaller than normal. The fruit from such plants will not tender than those maturing during late July and August. But the weather conditions for starting them are much less favorable in early August than in April. Hence, special precautions must be taken for seed germination and development of the young seedlings. The soil must be disced or raked well just before planting. If it is a heavy type of soil, it may even be desirable to plow or spade it first.

After the soil has been thoroughly pulverized, a shallow furrow is made with a hoe or furrow opener. The seed is sown and lightly covered with loose soil. Then a light covering of lawn clippings, straw, or sand, is placed over the row to keep the soil from drying out or crusting over.

Other crops that may be planted in late July or early August are Chinese cabbages, spinach, radishes and cabbage, an early sort like Golden Acre. The seeds of cabbage are planted sparsely in the row, and the plants are later thinned to about 12 inches. Chinese cabbage is handled the same way instead of using transplants.

Where early crops have been removed the immediate replanting is to be done, sweet corn, cucumber, and summer squash may be used.

color normally, and usually is smaller than from healthy plants of the same variety. Insects, like lice and grasshoppers, spread the disease. The disease is usually started by planting infected seeds. Never save seeds from diseased plants. Either remove the affected plants, or control the insects that spread the disease.

Watch Eggs Quality. Warm weather makes it more important than ever that eggs be gathered every day and be marketed every three or four days, according to extension poultryman Jack Redditt of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture. He calls attention to the fact that some flocks still are producing a few fertile eggs, and it is these eggs that deteriorate most rapidly in market quality. Cooling all eggs as rapidly as possible after they are gathered means fewer rejects.

If not disposed of fairly soon we plan to offer our remaining lands in this territory in an auction sale in Burwell about Friday, August 21st. We prefer to sell these properties at private treaty. Bernard Swanek Thrills Audience With War Tales

Bernard related that this trip took two weeks as they sunk several Japanese boats on the way. He said that the convoy he was with consisted of three cruisers and six destroyers. When an enemy ship or sub was sighted, he said, the convoy would all withdraw except one destroyer which remained to battle it out with the enemy.

101 Days in Coral Sea.
The Hammond, Bernard related, spent 101 days cruising in the Coral seas. They visited the island of New Caledonia and Tongatabu. At the latter place, Swanek said, the natives wear no clothes except on Sunday, "when they take a handkerchief and tie it around themselves." At Tongatabu he and another sailor rented the native chief's horse and cart and spent the day driving about the island. They preferred this mode of travel to using an automobile, all of which had the steering wheel on the right side. The chief charged them two dollars for the horse and cart and when they returned they he offered to sell them the outfit for a five spot.

Saves 100 Men.
The Hammond rescued 400 men off the plane carrier Lexington when she went down, Swanek reported. "You don't know how to feel when you see a ship go down," he declared. "It does something to you."

"The Solomon Island fight was no battle at all," he opined, "The Coral Sea wasn't bad, but Midway," the Valley county youth hesitated as his enthusiasm seemed to ebb away momentarily. "Well it wasn't bad either until the fourth day."

Swanek continued to relate how the members of the crew of the Hammond were offered a thirty to forty day leave if they brought the damaged Yorktown to shore. They were thus engaged when the Jap torpedoes changed their plans.

It a Gunner.
Bernard is a member of a gun crew in the navy. It is his responsibility to place the projectiles in the guns, which has to be done exactly proper, "Or they won't explode," he explained. After their ship was sunk, Bernard said, they were picked up by the destroyer Banu and after three days were landed at Pearl Harbor, where Admiral Nimitz, commander of the allied forces in the Pacific, met them and shook hands with each of the men who had been rescued from the Hammond. Swanek declined to state how many men were lost on his ship as that is a military secret.

When asked if he would like to stay home now that he was again here, Bernard replied "No" emphatically. "I want to get back and whip those Japs, we can do it, too, if they'll just turn us loose on them."

Storm Cuts Program.
Threatening clouds, lightning, thunder and a few drops of rain cut the program short. Several selections were played by the Ord band under the direction of Glen Aulsebrook. James Aagaard sang "America," Mrs. Lucille Tolen sang "God Bless America," and Amelia and Hilda Lola presented a baton twirling act.

Attorney George Munn, who gave the address of the evening prophesied that a new and better day would emerge from the present dismal morass. "Out from the valley of shadows bright gleams of hope and peace can still be seen," he stated. Mr. Munn declared that the people had too long listened to idle mouthings of those who preached peace when there was no peace, but instead an Armageddon. He warned those listening that the responsibility for victory rests upon everyone.

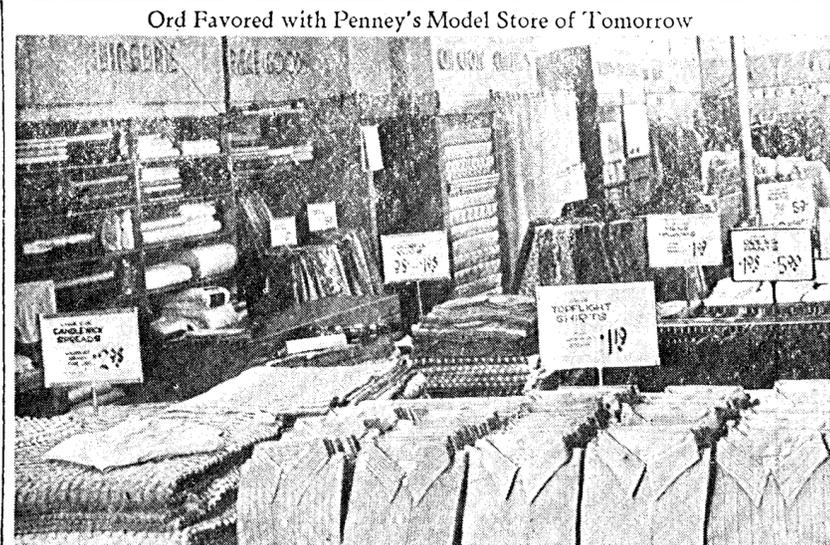

He agreed with the secretary of war in that "This is one war which we cannot buy ourselves out of, product ourselves out of but which we must fight ourselves out of," adding that the cost in blood, sweat and tears would be tremendous. He closed his address with the words of Kipling, "Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget."

Esther Stillman Killed in Car Accident on Coast

Mrs. Esther Eberhart Stillman, a former resident of North Loup, was killed Saturday in an automobile accident near Salina Beach, Calif., where she had made her home for a number of years. Funeral services and interment will be at North Loup, probably late this week.

She leaves three sisters, Mrs. John Kriewald of Ord, Mrs. Vere Leonard of North Loup, Miss Bessie Eberhart of Blair, and a brother George Eberhart of North Loup.

A long distance telephone call to George Eberhart Monday night gave him added information about the accident which took the life of his sister, Esther Eberhart Stillman. She had been living with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stillman. She and Mrs. Stillman were both employed at the Consolidated airplane factory and were in a car accident on the way to work. Mrs. Paul Stillman was badly injured and a boy who was riding with them was killed. Three of the five occupants of the other car were injured. Funeral services for Mrs. Stillman were held in San Diego Wednesday and then the body will be sent here, accompanied by her daughter, Lucille. Services will probably be held at North Loup Sunday afternoon.

Here is a view of the newly redecorated and rearranged J. C. Penney store in Ord, which will serve as a model for all of the Penney stores in the United States after the war.

Ord Favored With Model of Penney's Store of Tomorrow

Streamlined Merchandising Plan To Be Tried Here; Criticisms Invited.

Ord folks will be used as guinea pigs by the J. C. Penney Co., to try out a new merchandising plan which is being instituted in its Ord store this week. There is not another store anywhere like the Penney store in Ord which has been completely remodeled and redecorated. The new store will be open for the public's inspection tomorrow.

Everything in the store has been streamlined. It is a model of what all the J. C. Penney stores will be like after the war, providing it meets with the approval of the local people.

The store glitters with newness and modernity. Shelves have been torn out, counters removed, dressing rooms remodeled, walls redecorated, departments rearranged and everything possible done for the convenience of the shopper.

Gordan Cass, from the J. C. Penney headquarters in New York City, and his wife have spent the week in Ord, where he has supervised the face-lifting operations. Mr. Cass explains that the new aim in merchandising is to get goods out to where people can see it and to display it attractively. In rearranging the store he and the local force have tried to show each item to its best advantage.

Wearing apparel is displayed in recessed alcoves in which indirect lighting is used. The shelves have been torn down and narrowed from 36 inches to 14, to make more room in the store. Bulky counters have been relegated to the discard.

The men's department is now on the north side of the store while the women's apparel is displayed on the south side. New dressing rooms have been built, liberally supplied with mirrors. In the back of the store a chair flanked with mirrors has been arranged, around which a curtain can be pulled where lady can try on new hats and dresses in complete privacy and by merely pulling the curtain, display them to friends accompanying her, without arising from the seat.

A new color scheme has been employed in decorating the store. The fixtures are all painted a light cream with part of the wood being left its natural light finish. Knotted pine is used in the men's ready-to-wear department.

The baseboards are painted Old English blue, with the shelves and mantles higher are painted a dark tan trimmed in cream. Panels above are colored smoke blue, serving as a background for the departmental signs which are made of cutout letters in Old English blue. The walls above are a light cream and the ceiling has been repainted white. Mr. Cass explains that these colors were chosen because they harmonize well with multi-colored merchandise displays.

Keith Lewis, the store's manager, is very anxious to receive the public's reaction to the setup. He would appreciate it if the persons having criticisms to offer would consult him so that the features which the public doesn't like may be eliminated, especially as this store will serve as a model for thousands all over the United States.

Mr. Cass explains that this project has been planned for months and that all new materials were ordered before war priorities went into effect. Most of the fixtures are of wood and were made in Ord. New, heavy piled carpets were ordered months ago but they failed to arrive in time for the store's opening.

Loan on Small Grain Available

Farmers May Borrow 55c on Barley, $1.14 on Wheat, 60c on Rye from AAA.

Conditions necessary for government small grain loans and the amount available were released Monday by R. Clare Clement, Valley county AAA chairman. For barley 55 cents per bushel may be borrowed on No. 1 quality, 54 cents on No. 2, 52 cents on No. 3, 49 cents on No. 4, and 45 cents on No. 5. On rye of No. 2 quality or better, a farmer may borrow 60 cents per bushel. No. 1 wheat may be sealed for $1.14 per bushel with an added premium for wheat that tests high in protein. Mr. Clement explains that to be eligible to borrow on wheat, a farmer must have an acreage allotment and have stayed within this allotment. To borrow on rye or barley a farmer must have planted 20 percent of his farm land to soil conserving crops or have earned at least 60 percent of his soil building allotment. Mr. Clement reports that the storage requirements are quite liberal. About all that is necessary is that the bins be free of leaks and that the sides be strong enough to hold the grain without bursting before April 30, 1943, when the loans fall due. "We aren't particular as to the kinds of bins," he added, "an old house, or lined corncrib may be used. A tight roof is essential."

Applications for loans may be made now at the AAA office, by mail or telephone. The stored grain must be inspected. For Valley county the inspectors are William V. Ernest, Carroll C. Lutz, Rudolph C. Kokes, or any member of the AAA county committee.

On account of the rubber situation and the scarcity of auto tires, I feel that I should curtail driving of my car to save rubber, to a minimum.
So, therefore, I am using the newspapers of the district to get my request to my friends and voters in every part of the district, asking for their votes and support at the Primary Election, Aug. 11th.
I would like very much to visit every part of the district of which heretofore I have always done and met with a great many of the voters.
As to my experience and Legislature record, I refer you to my record of the Sessions that I have served as a member, also refer you to the different Legislative members that I have served and worked with during the different sessions of the Legislature.
Should I receive the nomination and later the Election, I would be pleased to have the people of the district visit me and the Legislature during the session and I invite the council and help of the people from each county of the district and shall be pleased to hear from them on any Legislative matters that they are interested in.
During the past sessions that I have spent at the Legislature at Lincoln I have received many letters from the people of the district, of which I have written them a reply to their letters, many people from each county of the district have paid me a visit during the different sessions which has given me a great deal of pleasure to have them visit me and the Legislature and to aid them in any matters that they were interested, many of them were their own personal matters, business at the State House or in the City of Lincoln.
Yours truly,

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 53 ★ How to cut down on waste by eliminating waste ★ A list of foods that are really low priced ★ An illustrated story worth reading

Haste in shopping makes waste in food and in time too

It has always been our family duty to waste as little food as possible—today it is our patriotic duty. And certainly the most effective way to do this is to plan menus and shopping lists together—a week at a time. For this gives you the opportunity to fit one day's leftovers into the next day's menu—to vary meals—to keep meals well-rounded nutritionally—to stick to the budget—and to plan definite times for shopping, thus cutting down on your shopping trips.

But streamlined shopping schedules take careful planning. And at all times the perishability of different meats and vegetables must be kept in mind.

For meats, you might select shoulder lamb chops, enough ham loaf for two nights, and Swiss steak. If stored in the refrigerator, most meats will keep about a week; cured meats like ham and bacon will keep longer; but ground meats, poultry, and fresh fish should be cooked the same day or day after buying.

For vegetables, you might choose corn, string beans, carrots, tomatoes, cucumbers, green onions, lettuce, and celery. That's not counting the potatoes and onions you'd have on hand already. As soon as you get home, wash the vegetables quickly, dry, and store them in a covered container in the refrigerator. Use green and leafy vegetables that day or the next. Carrots and corn will keep longer.

Tax Report Shows Hike in Prosperity for Valley County

mule industry in Valley county is on its way out judging from tax schedules and melodious braying which used to resound over the rural landscape at sundown is heard no more in Valley county. Last year four jacks were listed on the tax schedule, all of which must have passed away for this year none appear. Valley county residents own or harbor 1,131 dogs. The persons who enjoy canine company are assessed ten dollars for the privilege. Poultry took a sharp upswing this year. In 1941 there were 5,701 dozen fowls in Valley county worth $19,558. Now there are 8,459 dozens of poultry worth $34,595.

Sheep Doubled.
The number of sheep and goats in the county has practically doubled during the past year. Valley county farms now have a total of 2,482, worth $14,390, while a year ago there were only 1,298 sheep and goats in Valley county which were valued at $3,980.

The beekeepers of the county must have had an advance notice of sugar rationing as 85 stands are reported this year while in 1941 only 39 were listed. The bees jumped in value from $105 to $225.

There were 4,560 bushels of wheat on the farms of Valley county against 3,680 bushels a year ago. This year the wheat was assessed at 94 cents and a year ago at 64 cents.

All Grains Increase.
In 1941 there were only 830 bushels of rye in the county but this year the assessors found 4,355 which were valued at 50 cents per bushel. A year ago it was worth ten cents less.

The amount of corn in the county increased to 336,575 bushels from 141,280 bushels. The price increased from 50 to 60 cents. There are 104,000 pounds of popcorn in the county this year but a year ago there were only 19,100.

Oats increased to 23,885 bushels from 4,520 and raised in price from 30 cents to 40 cents. Grain sorghum figured at the same price per bushel at oats both years and increased from 4,520 bushels to 4,685 bushels.

Practical Trend Seen.
The residents of the county had $6,615 invested in jewelry and diamonds and $78,065 in electric and power washers, sewing machines and ranges. Organos, pianos, musical instruments and phonographs were listed at $7,360 while electric and gas stoves, mechanical refrigerators, and sweepers were valued at $25,730, which indicates that people buy what they can use rather than what many would like to own for ostentatious purposes.

The valuation of all land in the county was reduced. Improved land was cut to $18.82 per acre from $20.50 and unimproved land to $15.63 per acre from $16.97. In Valley county 233,833 acres of land are listed as improved and 121,783 acres as unimproved.

A year ago city and town lots which are improved were assessed on the average of $173.18. This year the figure was cut to $170.11 while unimproved lots were reduced in value to $59.39 from $62.16. The large number of vacant, weed-grown lots in the four towns in the county upon which taxes are delinquent indicates that people believe that vacant lots are still valued too highly for the purpose of taxation.

L. F. Kearns Dies from Heart Attack

Lewis Francis Kearns, 74, who had been a resident of Valley county for six years, died at his farm home, six miles northeast of Ord, at seven-thirty Saturday evening, following several week's illness due to heart trouble. He was not confined to his bed at any time during his illness and death came peacefully.

He was born January 26, 1868, in Taylor county, Ia. When a small child, he moved with his family to Illinois, where they lived but a short time before moving to Saunders county, Nebraska, in 1872.

On August 21, 1889, at Chappell, he was married to Millie Ann Kelly. They lived for a while on his parents' farm in Saunders county, then moved to a farm north of Silver Creek, where they lived for one year. Next they moved to their own farm in Polk county south of Silver Creek, where they made their home for 43 years.

Selling his farm near Silver Creek, he moved with his family to Ord in the spring of 1936. Five children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Kearns, all of whom, with his widow, survive him. They are Mrs. Pearl Wieseeman of Osceola, Ray Kearns of North Loup, Mrs. Viva Gassman of York, Delos Kearns in the United States Army Coast Artillery at Long Beach, Calif. All of the children attended the funeral with the exception of Edward. Eight grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Lavina Andrews of Aurora, also survive.

Mr. Kearns was reared as a Universalist, and, though there was never the church of his choice in the communities in which he later lived, those who knew him believe there was never a truer Christian.

Funeral services were conducted in Frazier's chapel Tuesday afternoon by Rev. M. M. Long of the Methodist church. Favorite hymns were sung by a mixed quartette consisting of Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mrs. Clarence Davis, R. J. Stoltz and Robert Noll, with Mrs. Robert Roll at the piano. Burial was in the Ord cemetery with Will Adamek, Anton Adamek, Earl Bartholomew, Albert Evans, Dick Karre, and Wilson Karre serving as pall bearers.

Occupational Cards Should Be Returned

All men of Valley county who have not returned their occupational questionnaires should do so at once as the ten days allowed for their return have expired. Miss Virginia Davis, the secretary of the Selective Service board has announced. Any man between the ages of 21 and 65 who has not received an occupational questionnaire should call at the draft office and those who have received them should return them immediately as failure to return them properly filled out constitutes a federal offense.

Demonstration of Home Canning to Be Held Here Soon

Expert from Kerr Class Co. Will Be in Ord July 27 to Give Advice.

A home canning demonstration will be given by Marie G. Burton, an expert from the research and educational kitchens of the Kerr Glass Manufacturing corporation, in the home economics rooms of the Ord high school at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, July 27, according to C. C. Dale, Valley county agricultural agent.

Mr. Dale says that Miss Burton comes highly recommended by the state extension service and he urges all housewives to attend this demonstration which is sponsored by the county extension office and nutritional division of the county defense committee of which Mrs. Lee Nay is chairman. Mrs. Nay will preside at the demonstration.

The home canning demonstration which will be put on by Mrs. Burton is especially timely for Mr. Dale believes in view of the fact that the government has ordered commercial canners to set aside a large per cent of their 1942 pack for our armed forces.

A few examples of the percentages of the commercial pack ordered set aside are:

- Peaches—38%
- Pears—40%
- String Beans—35%
- Sweet corn—35%
- Peas—35%
- Tomatoes—35%
- Apples—100%
- Apricots—70%
- Fresh Prunes—30%
- Beets—100%
- Carrots—100%
- Pumpkin—72%
- Spinach—58%

This means that a very large proportion of the canned fruits and vegetables formerly used by the housewife will not be available in 1942. The deficit must be made up through home canning, or family diets will be restricted, in these essential foods.

Housewives should plan to do more home canning than ever before, and Mrs. Burton's demonstration will show the latest and most approved methods. Every woman in Ord and vicinity is invited to attend the meeting which will start promptly at 2 p. m.

Write Cheerful Letters to Boys

Don't Undermine Soldiers' Morale by Telling Your Troubles to Them.

The local Red Cross chapter receives the request that they help acquaint the public with the need for writing often to the boys in the service of Uncle Sam, but to write as cheerful letters as possible.

Too many times, the bulletin warns, the loving mother, sweetheart, uncle or aunt may unwittingly be aiding the enemy.

In the majority of cases handed to the camp or base Red Cross staff, the news are found legitimately true, and the Red Cross is in a position to help the service man and his family during an emergency.

Valley county has been divided into three districts for this salvage drive; Ord, Arcadia and North Loup.

Ord Shows Up Well at Legion's Junior Tourny in Neligh

Bloomfield Defeated 13 to 9; Nipped by Neligh 7 to 3 Monday.

Ord's American Legion Junior Sandlotters, more or less neglected in their own home town, made an excellent showing in the tournament at Neligh, Sunday and Monday, where they defeated Bloomfield 13 to 9 and dropped a game to Neligh, 7 to 3.

Frank Misko, who batted 600 per cent was acclaimed the best swatsman at the meet. In the game played Sunday, Bloomfield led in the scoring up to the eighth inning when Ord made two runs, tying the score.

Leon Faulk pitched three innings with Bloomfield and all eight innings with Neligh. Bill Novosad pitched seven innings of the Bloomfield game.

In the game with Neligh Sunday, with Faulk pitching, fifteen Neligh batters struck out. The Neligh boys were especially adept at running bases.

The high point of the game occurred when the Neligh first baseman hit a long fly over the right field and over the center fielder who retrieved it, relayed it to Ord's man on first base, who threw the ball to the catcher who tagged the Neligh player out.

The game was called off because of darkness. The Ord players who went to Neligh were Johnson, Fryzek, Beran, B. Novosad, L. Novosad, Misko, Wilson, L. Faulk and Vogeltanz.

The Ord boys have a game with Arcadia on the Ord diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Vern Russell, manager of the Ord team, is anxious to have a big crowd turn out to see what a really fine team Ord has.

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1942

Fred Fischer, 40, Kills Self; Was Booked for Exam

Elyria Farmer, Terrified by War; Ends His Life at Time for Leaving.

Terrified by fear of the unknown, which he was not strong enough to overcome, Fred Fischer, 40, Elyria farmer, ended his life Thursday morning shortly before he was to go to the bus depot to be taken to Fort Crook for a selective service physical examination. He went to his bedroom where he after writing a note, shot himself with a 22 rifle, the bullet entering his head back of his right ear.

He was brought to the Ord hospital where he died at 11:45. Mr. Fischer had been previously examined by Dr. F. A. Barta, who rejected him because of a nervous condition. He had been treated several months in a hospital for this condition in 1931. The state headquarters insisted that Fischer report to Fort Crook for an examination, despite Dr. Barta's opinion that it was unwise.

Being of a retiring nature, he was greatly alarmed at the prospect of leaving home, and Dr. Barta and others tried to reassure him that the army would not accept him. His greatest fear was not that of the army, but that he would again be sent to a hospital for treatments.

He was born Dec. 3, 1901 on the farm south of Elyria where he always made his home. He was the youngest son of Hans Fischer, pioneer settler in Valley county who died a year ago. He leaves to mourn an aged mother, five brothers, Otto, Henning and Henry all of Disbury, Alberta, William of Vale, Ore. and Hans who lives at home and five sisters, Mrs. Erna Moser of Compton, Calif., Mrs. Elsie Albers of Burwell, Mrs. Emma Fogt of Kansas City, Minnie Fischer of Columbus and Mary who lives at home.

Funeral services were conducted in the Anderson-Pearson mortuary Saturday afternoon by Rev. Clarence Jensen, pastor of the Danish Lutheran church. Mrs. Mark Tolén sang, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Noll on the organ. Otto Pecenka, Bert Whiting, Ed Holub, Henry Benn, Soren Sorensen and Floyd Wozniak served as pall bearers. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

All-Risk Coverage for Wheat Crop

Blanks Must Be Signed By August 31, or Before Crop Is Seeded.

The final date on which the Valley county AAA office may accept application for all-risk crop insurance on wheat is before the date of seeding of Aug. 31, whichever is the earlier, Emil Kokes, member of the AAA county committee announced Tuesday. In Valley county, Mr. Kokes points out, farmers have collected two or three times more in indemnities than they have paid in premiums. The Crop Insurance corporation has now passed a ruling, Mr. Kokes says, which provides that a farmer who has carried crop insurance since its beginning in 1939 and whose premiums exceed the losses paid to him may receive his insurance for the coming year at half the rate formerly charged him.

Crop insurance applications for 1943 will be written for three years.

Persons qualifying for the one-half rate during the time the three year policy is in force will be given the benefit of the reduced premium, Mr. Kokes reports. Formerly crop reporters have visited every farmer in the county having a wheat base to acquaint him with this insurance plan, but this year owing to the shortage of gasoline and rubber the farmers are asked to call at the office and make their applications.

1300 Records Collected. The American Legion and Auxiliary, assisted by the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Junior Auxiliary, have collected 1300 old photographs records to date. These are to be sold for scrap and the proceeds used to buy new records and photographs for the men in the armed forces. If anyone has any old, broken, or cracked records which have not been collected, please call Mrs. Forest Johnson or leave them at Gilbert's barber shop.

Stoddard soon will be ordered to a pre-flight training induction center for three months of physical conditioning under several of the nation's leading athletic coaches, and then will begin preliminary flight training at one of the naval reserve bases.

Valley Co. Needs 21 Rural Teachers

Great Shortage of Instructors, Even Though Wages Much Increased.

Twenty-one teachers are needed in the rural schools of Valley county, Superintendent Clara McClatchey reports. She adds that she sees no way of supplying the teachers. On the average the wages have increased 50 percent over a year ago and in some instances teachers' salaries are doubled she reports. Two high school teachers are needed, one each at the Elyria and Haskell Creek approved high schools.

Of the teachers who teach in Valley county last year ten have contracted to teach in other counties where they will receive higher wages, eight quit to be married, five because their certificates have expired, four to attend school, one went to Washington, where she has accepted a civil service appointment, while one young man, who taught, is soon to be inducted into the army. A number of other teachers in the county are quitting for reasons unknown to Miss McClatchey.

Valley County Is Behind In Bond Sales for July

$10,650 Worth is Purchased; Quota is $2,000.00; City Buys $3,800.00.

Valley county residents will have to do some fast sprinting on the home stretch if they meet the July quota for War Bonds. A check the first of the week indicates that $10,650.00 have been invested in War Bonds during the month while the county's quota is $22,000.00. Reports from Arcadia and North Loup are lacking.

The city of Ord has purchased $3,800.00 worth of bonds this month according to Councilman James Ollis. The postoffice has sold $1,993.75, the Nebraska State bank $3,525.00 and The First National bank $1,331.25 worth of bonds this month. C. J. Mortensen, who heads the bond sales in the county, urges every one who can, to buy bonds yet this week to help fill Valley county's quota. He especially desires the townspeople and wage earners to buy all the bonds they can this week as most of the farmers have little or no money which they can use for bond purchases at this time of year.

A late report from North Loup indicates that $393.75 worth of War Bonds have been purchased in that town.

Write Cheerful Letters to Boys

Don't Undermine Soldiers' Morale by Telling Your Troubles to Them.

The local Red Cross chapter receives the request that they help acquaint the public with the need for writing often to the boy in the service of Uncle Sam, but to write as cheerful letters as possible.

Too many times, the bulletin warns, the loving mother, sweetheart, uncle or aunt may unwittingly be aiding the enemy. The young man in camp or fighting at the front may become a bewildered, worried boy because petty family problems or incidental illnesses are the content of letters from home.

It is the job of the Red Cross then to get more facts for him and occasionally these reveal that illness which had already extended over a number of years now no worse than at any time, had unduly alarmed the soldier, sailor or marine. All because someone wrote that "Mother is seriously ill." Even cases of suicide of service men have been reported to the Red Cross, directly traceable to a thoughtless letter, perhaps of the "girl friend" at home, saying she no longer cared for him.

In the majority of cases handed to the camp or base Red Cross staff, the news are found legitimately true, and the Red Cross is in a position to help the service man and his family during an emergency. That is one of the big services the Red Cross performs all the time. It is the minority of letter writers who may bring about the loss of morale and determination of brave men serving democracy.

Unjustified reporting of bad news or worries can be as damaging to Uncle Sam's armed forces as enemy bullets! Write the boys often, but write as cheerfully and factually as possible.

V-Mail Blanks Now at Ord Postoffice

Letters to men in the armed service, who are now overseas, may be written on the official V-Mail blanks, which are now available at the Ord post office. Postmaster Alfred Hill announces. No charge is made for the sheets, but only three are given to a person at one time.

Letters are written on the V blanks to reduce the bulk of the mail to and from the armed forces outside the United States. The communications are photographed on micro-film and then shipped to their destination, where photographic copies are made of the letters which are delivered to the soldiers and sailors for whom they were intended.

Hundreds of letters can be carried on a small roll of film, which saves much shipping space for other badly needed supplies.

Bring in Scrap!

A special car will be on the Burlington track Aug. 6, 7 and 8 to buy and haul away scrap. The defense committee hopes to have as many farmers as possible bring their scrap directly to this car. But it isn't necessary to wait to bring in the scrap.

If you live near Ord take it to Tom Rasmussen. If North Loup is your town, deliver your scrap to Johnson's elevator. If you live near Arcadia Dwaine Williams will buy your scrap. These dealers pay $7.00 per ton and up for scrap depending upon the kind. For the convenience of people who have but small amounts of scrap, boxes have been set up around the square in Ord where small pieces of metal, rubber or other salvage material may be deposited. Scrap put in these boxes is sold for the benefit of the USO. Now is the time to start scrapping. Let's make Hirohita laugh from the other side of his mouth.

Grimacing Squirrel Hits Woman with Ear of Corn

North Loup—(Special)—Mrs. Otto Bartz was much surprised Monday when hanging clothes to have an ear of corn dropped on her head. Looking into the tree top, she saw a saucy little squirrel, apparently grimacing over what he had done. She says the squirrels in their yard have gotten to be almost a nuisance and that they have driven all the song birds away.

Children's Songs Will Be Featured at Next Singfest

Youngsters Taking Part in Program To Be Given 'Ice Cream Cones.'

The children have just about taken control of the community sings, A. J. Auble, chairman of the Rotary committee sponsoring them, announces. At the singfest Sunday evening, Mr. Auble reports that the large number of children present produced a mighty fine volume. For the next sing, which will be August 9, songs especially suited to children have been selected for the program. To insure an especially fine response from the youngsters, Mr. Auble announces that every child participating in the sing will be given an ice cream cone at the close of the program.

In the absence of Mayor Cummings, who is vacationing in California, Glen Auble acted as master of ceremonies at the sing Sunday evening. The Aubles are wondering if mosquitoes do not like music. They report that the pests are not noticeable during the program but when the music stopped they soon are humming about looking for tender-skinned victims into which to sink their proboscides.

Ord Girl Making Good as Reporter

Lillian Karty, Former Quiz Reporter Gets Position with United Press.

Miss Lillian Karty, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karty in Ord, goes to work tomorrow for the United Press in Omaha where she will cover the police station, postoffice, the federal building and other runs which ordinarily are not assigned to a sob sister. Miss Karty has gone far up the ladder toward success in the newspaper reporter's world since her graduation from the Ord high school in 1938.

During the next year she worked as a reporter for the Ord Quiz, where the series of "success" articles which she wrote found immediate favor with the public. The next year she matriculated at Creighton university where she studied Journalism. She soon became a member of the staff of the Creightonian where she later attained the post of society editor.

She did not find society reporting to her liking at all, for to her accounts of weddings, dinners and parties are boring. She prefers the more thrilling chapters of life, such as fires, murders.

69 Captains, to Scour County in Quest for Scrap

Farmers Will Be Visited by Children to Enlist Their Cooperation.

With the World Herald Scrap Iron and rubber drive ending August 8, R. Clare Clement, who heads the campaign in Valley county, points out that there is not much time left to gather and market the scrap which practically every farmer has, even though many farmers have already hauled in their old iron during the last 6 months. The salvage committee believes that there is still scrap iron on most Valley county farms ranging from a hundred pounds to several tons.

In each rural school district a boy or girl has been appointed captain to visit every farm in his district to encourage the farmer to bring in the scrap. If the farmer is too busy, the children will gather his scrap and see that it is brought to town, if the farmer is willing for them to do so.

Valley county has been divided into three districts for this salvage drive; Ord, Arcadia and North Loup. The district gathering the most scrap will receive a prize of $7.50. A second prize of $5.00 and a third prize of $2.50 will also be paid. The boys or girls who bring in the most scrap will receive a first prize of $3.00, second prize of $2.00 and a third prize of $1.00. All these prizes will be paid in war stamps.

Ord Shows Up Well at Legion's Junior Tourny in Neligh

Bloomfield Defeated 13 to 9; Nipped by Neligh 7 to 3 Monday.

Ord's American Legion Junior Sandlotters, more or less neglected in their own home town, made an excellent showing in the tournament at Neligh, Sunday and Monday, where they defeated Bloomfield 13 to 9 and dropped a game to Neligh, 7 to 3. The Ord boys were a general favorite of the fans in the grandstand.

Frank Misko, who batted 600 per cent was acclaimed the best swatsman at the meet. In the game played Sunday, Bloomfield led in the scoring up to the eighth inning when Ord made two runs, tying the score. Ord won the game in the tenth inning when six runs were made after two players were out. The summary of the game was as follows: Ord 13 runs, 12 hits and 5 errors.

Bloomfield 9 runs, 12 hits, 5 errors.

Leon Faulk pitched three innings with Bloomfield and all eight innings with Neligh. Bill Novosad pitched seven innings of the Bloomfield game.

In the game with Neligh Sunday, with Faulk pitching, fifteen Neligh batters struck out. The Neligh boys were especially adept at running bases. The high point of the game occurred when the Neligh first baseman hit a long fly over the right field and over the center fielder who retrieved it, relayed it to Ord's man on first base, who threw the ball to the catcher who tagged the Neligh player out. In this game Frank Misko, who was to plate four times, made three hits, Jerry Fryzek, Ord's catcher, distinguished himself with his performance. The summary of this game was as follows: Neligh 7 runs, 5 hits, 6 errors. Ord 3 runs, 6 hits, 5 errors.

The game was called off because of darkness. The Ord players who went to Neligh were Johnson, Fryzek, Beran, B. Novosad, L. Novosad, Misko, Wilson, L. Faulk and Vogeltanz.

The Ord boys have a game with Arcadia on the Ord diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Vern Russell, manager of the Ord team, is anxious to have a big crowd turn out to see what a really fine team Ord has. He feels that the team has been handicapped by lack of local interest and support. In their last encounter with Arcadia, Ord was defeated, but Mr. Russell points out that some of the regular players were absent and others lacked training owing to working in the harvest fields. No admission will be charged but the hat will be passed.

Baron Archie Geweke Farm Northwest of Ord Burns Tuesday Morning

Fire, believed to have started by the combustion of oats straw in the hay mow, destroyed the barn on the Archie Geweke farm northwest of Ord early Tuesday morning. A week ago, when threshing oats the mow was filled with straw, which had been slightly dampened by a light sprinkle of rain and it is thought that the straw heated. The loss, which is estimated at $800.00, is covered by $400.00 worth of insurance. Everything was removed from the barn except about $50 worth of oats and ground barley, a dehorning shute and the straw.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Boyce, who are employed by Mr. Geweke, live on this farm. Mrs. Boyce noticed small whiffs of smoke coming from the hay mow when she went into the barn to milk their cow about 6 o'clock. She immediately called her husband who removed the harnesses, cow, and a part of the oats from the barn and then closed all of the doors.

The Ord Volunteer Fire Department, and Mr. Geweke and his son Lloyd, arrived at 6:15. Several carloads of neighbors were already there assisting Mr. Boyce in removing grain from the barn. The firemen pumped water from the irrigation canal on to the blaze, which they were unable to extinguish until the barn was consumed. Mr. Geweke repaired and remodeled the barn three years ago.

Rev. Jensen Called for Army Chaplain

Lutheran Minister Reports for Duty Aug. 9th; Last Sermon Here Sunday.

Rev. Clarence Jensen, pastor of the Danish Lutheran church, will preach his farewell sermon in Ord Sunday. He has been called as chaplain to the armed forces with a rank of first lieutenant and ordered to report at Cambridge, Mass., August 9, where he will take a course of instruction at Harvard university. Rev. Jensen expects to leave Ord next Wednesday.

Mrs. Jensen and their two daughters will drive to Minnesota and Wisconsin where they will stay with relatives until he is stationed somewhere that they can join him. Rev. Jensen offered his services to the government a year ago, but was not accepted until this week. He has been in Ord since 1937. Besides his pastorate in Ord he also serves churches in Elba, Dannevirke and Farwell.

Mrs. Myra Hutchins Receives a Cablegram from Sister in China

North Loup—(Special)—Mrs. Myra Hutchins received a radiogram Thursday from her sister, Dr. Grace Crandall, who is doing medical missionary work in free China, being located at Chang-shun. The message was sent July 18, just five days before Mrs. Hutchins received it. It came through Dr. Charles E. Stewart who operates broadcasting station XGOM at Ventura, Calif. as a listening post. Mrs. Hutchins does not know from where her sister sent the message but this is the second received in three weeks. The message said that Dr. Crandall was near the fighting but that they were not in danger, that she was much better, her daughter, Esther was well and Mrs. Hutchins' letter of December 7 had been received. When Dr. Crandall last wrote she had been very ill from eating too much Chinese food.

Dr. Stewart makes no charge for the work he is doing for the Americans in China, specifying that any contributions made, be sent to Chinese relief. It is a source of great comfort to Mrs. Hutchins to be able to hear from her sister in such a short time, for previously many months have elapsed before her messages arrived.

Scrap Iron Needed Badly by American Defense Industries

Shipyards Closed by Lack of Materials; Everyone Urged to Aid in the Drive.

"The fate of America lies in our backyards," R. A. Kirkpatrick, representing the Union Pacific railroad, declared at the rally to inaugurate the World-Herald scrap drive in Valley county at Ord last Wednesday night. "If we get in the scrap we will win this war," he continued. "If we don't we will lose it."

The speaker related that an American shipyard had recently been compelled to shut down because of lack of steel. He said in making ships, tanks, and guns that scrap can be used for half the metal, and that by using scrap the time required to make the implements of warfare can be reduced 60 per cent.

"Decrees Half-Way Measures. This war is the most terrible thing which has ever happened to the race of mankind," Mr. Kirkpatrick declared. He said that the enemies of the American people do not resort to half way measures but that misinformed and misguided by hateful fanatics, they are making an all-out attempt to stamp out democracy from the face of the earth.

"The Japanese have never really known the true God," he opined, "and the German people have forgotten Him." Mr. Kirkpatrick said he was convinced that 90 per cent of the people with whom he comes in contact do not realize that their country is at war and that they go about their usual way of living wholly unconcerned about the fate of the nation, which hangs in a perilous balance.

"Why Wait? Why wait until our cities are burned, our women outraged and our children starved, before we put our shoulders to the wheel in helping to win this war?" he asked. Mr. Kirkpatrick said it will cost the lives of thousands of American young men to preserve the American way of life. He pointed out that since some were called upon to make the supreme sacrifice that everyone should be glad to go out into fence corners, barnyards, kitchens and shops to look for and to gather in the badly needed scrap.

On the way from Grand Island to Ord, Mr. Kirkpatrick reported that he stopped at a typical farm house and asked the women of the home if he might look about the place. After getting her permission he made a survey of the scrap about this farmstead where he found 3,500 pounds of old iron and steel, which was doing no good to any one. He said that on many farms steel wind mill towers may be seen on which there hasn't been a wheel for years. Mr. Kirkpatrick pointed out that these towers are made of the finest steel, which is very valuable in making tanks, airplanes and cannon.

"Thanks Americans". He related how the Japanese emperor must have laughed when he heard how three young men at Rock Springs, Wyo., ran into town loaded with scrap and wrecked it. The emperor probably said, "Thanks, American boy," he opined. He said that the Jap emperor laughs when he hears that American farmers are too busy to gather up and bring in their scrap, and he probably says, "Thanks American farmers."

Mr. Kirkpatrick said that recently while he was with Donald Nelson, head of the war production board, Mr. Nelson told him that the 185,000 planes, which the President has promised by the end of the year can be produced if sufficient scrap is turned in.

Valley County Now in 24th Place in Contest

With little organized effort having been put forth as yet, Valley county is already in 24th place in the World-Herald salvage contest, according to today's paper. Valley county residents have turned in 119,850 lbs. of scrap, a per capita contribution of 14.98 pounds. Garfield county, right behind Valley, has turned in 48,831 pounds of scrap, with a per capita contribution of 14.18 pounds.

Baby Gets Off to a Sweet Start in Life

John Thomas Sevenker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sevenker, got off to a sweet start in life. When he was twelve hours old his father registered him at the Valley county rationing office and he soon became the owner of four pounds of sugar. Mrs. Grace Sprague, secretary of the rationing board, reports that John Thomas is the county's youngest registrant.

Something Different

Sons and daughters of Ord walk in strange paths, and so do their children.

Once upon a time Clayton Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Burke of Ord, lived in Ord and went to school. In due time he married Gertrude Stacy, also of Ord. Their daughters were Kathleen, and Colleen, and Mr. and Mrs. Burke now live at Cody, Wyo., famous as a gateway to Yellowstone National Park, as a lively western cowtown, and for the wild beauty of the scenery and the many dude ranches in the country.

Surely Colleen Burke, now 14 years young, is spending a most unusual summer, and one that would be entirely strange to the experience of Ord youngsters. Since she was a tiny thing Colleen has loved horses and dogs and the outdoors, and she has rode and roped and called it fun. Many friends of the Clayton Burkes are dude ranch owners and cattle ranchers, and Colleen and her people have spent considerable time out on the ranges.

So perhaps it isn't so surprising, either, that Colleen, at the ripe old age of 14, was "hired" by the famous Pitchfork Ranch of Charles Belden Nash for the summer of 1942. Colleen is to teach children to ride, to jump, to saddle, to mount, to spin a rope. She is to arrange horseback trips for the younger generation, to care for their ponies. In other words she is to "wrangle" this summer. She loves the work, which has always been her play, and while she is enjoying it she is earning a munificent $35 per month, also her board, room, laundry and free what-nots.

Colleen is thrilled and happy. Before this year, Colleen has rode her horse in the evening rodeo which is a daily feature at Cody each summer. She has tackled all sorts of riding, trick and fancy, and come out "on top".

Earlier this summer, during the Three Day Stampede, Colleen had hired out herself and pony to Pat Henry, trick roper of no small fame for daily exhibitions. Here too she was heartily at home. With this money she bought a gorgeous pair of typical riding boots, with a wide top heavily encrusted with color, ornament and stitching; also a handsome new pair of riding pants of expensive cut and color.

The above mentioned Pat Henry performed at Burwell two years ago, later selling his trick horse for $1,000. Colleen's horse "Friggle" did many of the same tricks.

Not long ago a friend spoke of a former Ord girl who had been working in California as a car hop—you know, one of these briefly clad girls who run out of drive-in hamburger places to leap on the running board and act as waitress.

But the girl did not keep at the work long, and so I won't tell you any more about it.

And in addition, I've forgotten her name!

—Irma.

County Agent Notes

Avoid That Summer Slump by Better Feeding.

At the end of the first six months of 1942 U. S. Dairy producers were running about 4 per cent ahead of 1941, which is only about half of the increased production goal set for them. The six months left to go offers an opportunity to reach the record goal, 125 billions pounds of milk. The summer slump in production can be checked by better feeding, care and management of our dairy herds.

Feed Grain during the summer months particularly July and August when the pastures become short and tough. An additional few pounds of grain will go a long way towards maintaining production.

Water Supply provide abundance of clean fresh water at all times. Cows will consume large quantities of water if it is made available to them.

Provide Shade Heat is tougher than cold weather on dairy cows. It will pay to provide plenty of shade, even if a straw-roofed shelter must be built, or they can be kept in the barn with darkened windows during the heat of the day. A little extra precaution along this line will pay dividends as well as contribute to the war effort. It is much easier and more profitable to maintain production than to build it up following the summer slump. Each extra pound of milk produced per cow per day helps just that much in the war effort.

Fall Pasture. In order to have abundance of cheap feed and to save on hay or protein supplements it is advisable for all dairymen to have some kind of fall pasture. Rye seeded early will often make good fall pasture and carry your herd until freezing weather. Rye can be seeded most anytime in August or soon as the seed bed is prepared. Wheat if enough moisture is available often makes good pasture in the fall, however, it cannot be sown as early especially if it is going to be kept for grain later. In order to seed wheat for grain as well as pasture the dairymen should consult with his County Agent on Hessian fly free dates in his county before seeding. Cows in order to get the best results from running on fall rye or wheat pasture should have some grain. If the pasture is good the grain need only be fed at the rate of one pound to eight of milk. Cows fed grain while in pasture will go into the winter in better condition and produce more profitably than where no grain is fed.

Cull Non-Laying Hens. Twenty minutes study and practice should enable the average person to pick out most of the non-laying hens in his flock. County Agent C. C. Dale said this week.

He pointed out that good layers have full, bright red, waxy combs, whereas non-layers have dry, shriveled, scaly combs. Good layers in the yellow-skinned varieties have pale or bleached beaks, legs and toes. The color of those parts in non-layers is yellow.

The good layers usually molt late and quickly shedding their feathers in the fall. Poor layers molt early, in the summer, and slowly. They lay few, if any eggs during the molting period.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Excellent harvest weather has helped to offset the scarcity of skilled farmhands this summer. Most growers are getting the grain in, aided by older men, women, underweight boys, and overweight chaps from town. Gone are those huskies who liked to clog the machine with their fast pitching, and could toss a whole shock on the rack with one swing. Present day helpers fork their bundles singly, relax occasionally, and stay close to the water jug.

Many grain growers have paused between bundles to envy those with combines. Others are studying the advantages of combining, and balancing them against the added risks, in an effort to decide which way of harvesting is best. Binders versus combines makes a good topic for argument.

A few farmers have tried to solve the labor problem by not shocking. But their minds are worried by the possibility of wet weather, and the knowledge that they will be damned by an angry crew of threshermen when they have to pick the stuff up.

Oats are good this season, and Texas Red has proved to be one of the heaviest producers locally. Texas Red may be considered as a kind of "dark horse" here. Twelve years ago, Nebraska bulletin No. 253 stated: "Because of its dark color and failure to excel in yield, Texas Red does not seem to merit farm distribution." The bulletin might be right at that. We cannot base any conclusion on one year's performance.

Barley is poorer than in 1941, but still profitable. It should be remembered that last year's per acre yields set an all-time high record for barley in Nebraska. This year the crop was hurt by a different sort of smut than the kind for which farmers treated their seed. Loose smut is the offender, and not much can be done about it. A complicated hot water treatment, and seed selection from disease-free fields are advised, but most farmers will simply try to forget this new smut and hope it will go away by itself.

GET IN THE SCRAP Nebraska Scrap Metal Drive July 19 - August 8 America needs scrap—iron, steel, copper, brass, aluminum, tin, rubber—immediately if a slow-down of vital war production is to be averted. The value of old metal and rubber has assumed proportions far beyond money considerations on account of the scarcity of new materials and the usability of scrap material in war production. The Burlington Railroad is putting every energy behind the scrap and salvage drive along its 2,779 miles of railroad in Nebraska. At the same time, its employees in 72 Nebraska counties are organizing to cooperate with all other individuals in their local communities to scour basements, attics and barnyards for the scrap material that is so critically needed to keep America's war production running full blast. Start right now collecting your scrap material and give it to your community salvage committee or sell it to your scrap dealer. No item is too small to be worth while in America's all-out war effort. Mrs. Frances Maxson, who reached the eightieth milestone in her life Sunday, was made happy by many cards and remembrances she received. Living alone about a half mile out of town, it is not unusual for Mrs. Maxson to walk into town for her weekly supply of groceries. For a woman of her years she is unusually active.

Funeral services for Esther Stillman, 42, were held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church, with Reverend Wagner officiating. A quartette composed of Mrs. H. J. Hooper, Mrs. Fred Bartz, Roy Hudson and Daryl White sang "In the Garden" and "No Night There" and Mrs. Hoepfner sang "Face to Face". Mrs. Glen Johnson was at the piano. The many beautiful flowers were in charge of Nettie Clark and the six nieces of Mrs. Stillman who were flower girls. Esther Eberhart, daughter of Louisa Lee and George Eberhart, was born in Mira Valley, June 19, 1900 and died in San Deigo, July 19, 1942. Most of her early life was spent in Valley county. September 10, 1921 she was married to Lewis Stillman. For several years she operated a beauty parlor in North Loup and later in Grand Island. Seven years ago she went to Oceanside, Calif., to live, later moving to Salona Beach. At the time of her death she was employed in the mechanical department of the Consolidated Aircraft Company of San Deigo. It was on the way to work, accompanied by four others that the accident occurred which took the lives of two of her fellow workers as well as her own. She was fond of sports and was a member of the ABC bowling team of San Deigo. Left are her daughter Lucille Schmidt of Oceanside, three sisters, Mrs. Alice Kreiwald of Ord, Mrs. Nellie Leonard and Bessie Eberhart of North Loup and one brother, George of North Loup as well as many nieces and nephews and a wide circle of friends. Funeral services were held Wednesday evening at Encinitas, Calif. Her daughter, Lucille Schmidt accompanied the body here. Burial was in the Eberhart lot in Hillside cemetery, with H. T. Frazier in charge. Pall bearers were Earl Smith, August Kriewald, John Lee, Floyd Redlon, Will Schudel and Paul Madsen. Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eberhart and Inez of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Glaus of Archer.

Members of the Junior Fortnightly club prepared dinner and lunch for the family at the George Eberhart home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hellwege and two daughters of West Point were guests in the Adolph Hellwege home last week. Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hellwege, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hellwege and Mrs. Arnold Bredthauer went to York to attend the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. Fuss.

Verna Mae Hellwege came home from Grand Island for a week's vacation.

Winsome Meyers, who has been employed in the Ord hospital came home Friday evening where she plans to remain until September when she expects to attend Wesleyan university.

Mrs. Paul Whipp's son Eugene of Fergus Falls, Minn., spent Friday with Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal and Mrs. Mills Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill and Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal and daughters were in Ord Sunday to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beran held at the Steve Beran home.

Ord Library Notes.
We wish to thank the Valley County Red Cross Chapter for giving the library one year's subscription to the "Red Cross Courier". We will like for you to stop in and read the splendid articles in this magazine.

The Twentieth Century Fund is an endowed institute for scientific, impartial research in the field of economics. The fund's trustees commissioned Stuart Chase to make an exploration of some of the pressing questions we must face when peace returns. The fund gave Mr. Chase advice, consultation and research assistance but left him completely free to reach his own conclusions. "The Road We Are Traveling" is the first of a series of six books being published under the general title "When the War Ends".

What will happen to you when the war ends? Must America have a post war depression or is there a richer and finer future in the making? Read the book "The Road We Are Traveling 1914-1942" and see what Mr. Chase says about the country.

"The Long Ships Passing" by Walter Havighurst, tells a dramatic story of the Great Lakes. The Great Lakes are unique in the geography of the earth and they have a singularly dramatic story. From seas of legend and wilderness waterways they have become one of the great trade routes of the world. "The Long Ships Passing" tells that story... the story of 300 years of history and adventure.

Through June and July about 85 new books have been added to our shelves. Have you been in to look them over? If you do not see what you want, ask for it. If it is not in the library we will be glad to put your name on the waiting list and notify you when you may have it.

Remember the story hour each Saturday morning. This is for the children and we are very anxious to have a large number present. We know you will enjoy the stories.

Fenner Approves Use of Cannon for Scrap

Burwell — (Special) — L. B. Fenner received a letter Friday from Governor Dwight Griswold asking if he would have any objection if the cannon which he presented to the State Historical Society were used as scrap metal. It is now on the Capitol grounds with an inscription of its origin and its donor.

Inasmuch as Fenner prizes the cannon presented to him by the French government during the World War 1 as it is the only momentous of its kind in the nation, Fenner sent the following reply to Governor Griswold:

Burwell, Nebr., July 19, 1942
 Governor Dwight Griswold,
 Lincoln, Nebraska.

There is no sacrifice I would not make to help win this terrible war. If the German cannon presented to me, by the French government, during the World War 1 can be used now to help crush the forces of evil, that seriously threaten every home in America, you have my full approval in using it, red hot, to that end. I have a firm conviction that the spirit of George Clemenceau, who in life gave me the gun, would speak to me from his grave and give me a word of commendation and at the same time a scathing rebuke to his dispicable countryman Pierre Leval who now would give back Germany the cannon which took the lives of many Frenchmen. I will take pride in believing that sixteen thousand pounds of molten steel, of German origin, is hurled back at them now by the Allied nations. May God give us all the spirit, the will, the determination and the power to save the Americas and civilization from the danger that threatens. Thank you, Governor Griswold for this suggestion. Wouldn't it be wonderful if my German Cannon turned the tide for victory.

Signed
 L. B. Fenner

ORD GIRL MAKES GOOD.

Later she did reporting for the World-Herald. But not society stuff, she had enough of that for good and for all. Most of her time was spent around police stations. She has found a police reporter's life is not all beer and skittles. On one occasion she called at a home in Omaha where a story had broken, but the "lady" who answered the door refused to admit her. Undaunted Miss Karty pushed her aside and went in, where the "lady" angered that a nosy reporter had dared to enter her home struck her with a heavy book end. Miss Karty stayed, however, until she had her story. She was quite the hero of the day when she reported back to the office with her coat covered with blood from her injured arm and hand. She still carries the scars of this episode on her arm. Even though women are not ordinarily employed as police reporters Miss Karty is convinced that members of her sex have some advantages in their favor. Often times she finds criminals are more willing to talk to women and usually the cops are more courteous and cooperative to a woman reporter than they are to a man.

Inhabits Police Stations.

Scops Murder.
 About two months ago, Miss Karty, achieved another accomplishment rare to the members of her sex, when she was made night editor of the Fremont Morning Guide. The responsibility for getting out the morning edition was hers and she proved herself equal to battle with deadlines, broken presses and temperamental printers and operators. While at Fremont Miss Karty scouted the press associations on the murder which occurred there about a month ago. She had gotten home about 2 o'clock in the morning and had been asleep but a few hours when she was called out of bed by her editor who informed her of the murder. She dressed and proceeded at once to the scene of the crime. The street sales edition of the World-Herald carried her story in full even though the press association reporters had several hours head start on her.

Scorns Publicity.
 Miss Karty has turned down a recent offer of assistant public relations director of the ordinance plant at Mead. When she found that her duties would be largely to keep things out of papers instead of putting things into papers, she wasn't interested even though she was offered a handsome salary.

She has not attained her ambition as yet even though many in the newspaper game might already be envious of her progress, for Lillian wants to be a foreign correspondent. She especially wants to go to South America. With this aim in view she has studied Spanish for three years, French two and German one.

ed in by the American people. He said that the Americans are planning to make 150,000 tanks, if scrap is available which will greatly out-number the Axis tanks.

"Will Give It, Now."
 Mr. Kirkpatrick pointed out that several years previously Americans had been selling thousands of tons of scrap of the open market, most of which was bought by Japan. He declared that while this was not unlawful it undoubtedly was unwise. "We won't sell them any more scrap," he declared, "We'll give it to them and to insure its delivery, we'll send it airmail and drop it over the cities where it will do the most good."

Joe F. Dworak, Prop.

Vote, Nominate, Elect Tracy T. Frost, St. Paul, Nebr.

To UNICAMERAL LEGISLATURE 29th DISTRICT Comprising Valley, Wheeler, Greeley & Howard Counties NonPolitical Ballot — Primary, Aug. 11th.

On account of the rubber situation and the scarcity of auto tires, I feel that I should curtail driving of my car to save rubber, to a minimum.

So, therefore, I am using the newspapers of the district to get my request to my friends and voters in every part of the district, asking for their votes and support at the Primary Election, Aug. 11th.

I would like very much to visit every part of the district of which heretofore I have always done and met with a great many of the voters.

As to my experience and Legislature record, I refer you to my record of the Sessions that I have served as a member, also refer you to the different Legislative members that I have served and worked with during the different sessions of the Legislature.

Should I receive the nomination and later the Election, I would be pleased to have the people of the district visit me and the Legislature during the session and I invite the council and help of the people from each county of the district and shall be pleased to hear from them on any Legislative matters that they are interested in.

During the past sessions that I have spent at the Legislature at Lincoln I have received many letters from the people of the district, of which I have written them a reply to their letters, many people from each county of the district have paid me a visit during the different sessions which has given me a great deal of pleasure to have them visit me and the Legislature and to add them in any matters that they were interested, many of them were their own personal matters, business at the State House or in the City of Lincoln.

Yours truly, TRACY T. FROST.
