The Arcadia water bond levy is down to .60 from .70 while North Loup has a new levy of a mill on its funding bond.

FRIDAY is Scrap Day in ORD

Without a doubt every home in Ord, has at least 50 pounds of old scrap iron laying around out in the back yard, barn or garage.

Alone, this is not much but count the homes in Ord and you will find that it amounts to almost two tons of scrap metal which Uncle Sam needs right now, and must have.

He is now asking you to sell it to your local scrap iron dealer.

If you do not care to bother about hauling this down to your dealer, and are willing to donate your scrap material, gather it up and pile it up along the curb in front of your home, and on Friday morning, a city truck will come along and pick it up and haul it away for you.

We are at war for our very existence.

We have the manpower, but need above all else materials and equipment—things mostly made of iron and steel.

The need is to get in all old iron and steel immediately. AMERICA IS IN DANGER and we must try to save it, in order to save our American way of life.

We can help by gathering up all of our scrap iron and having it piled out in our front yard along the curb not later than Friday morning when it will be gathered up and hauled away to be shipped to steel mills where it will be made into essential war materials.

Let's get in the scrap, Friday morning, right out in front of our houses.

Ord Juniors Trim Arcadia, 14 to 1

Faulk's Pitching Baffles His Rivals; Local Boys Get 12 Runs in 8th.

The Ord Junior Legion baseball nine took advantage of their opportunity in an eighth inning rally to score 12 runs which put them well out in front in the game with Arcadia at Ord Sunday which ended in a 14 to 1 victory for Ord. Both teams played a tight game for seven innings when the score stood at 2 to 1 in Ord's favor. Arcadia scored first but Ord soon tied it up 1 all and then went ahead with Bill Novosad's home run in the fifth. Ord scored its 14 runs on 12 hits, seven coming in the long eighth. L. Faulk again performed in outstanding fashion on the mound for Ord, where he struck out 15 men in seven innings, and Novosad struck out three in two innings. Arcadia got only three hits. Faulk gave them two and Novosad one.

Beran led the hitting for Ord with two out of four times up while Johnson, Misko and L. Faule each got two out of five times up to bat. Outstanding for Arcadia was Bellinger who played a fine game at second base as did Evans at third. The victory avenges the defeat Arcadia handed Ord in an earlier game.

Summary: Arcadia, 1 run, 3 hits, 5 errors. Ord, 14 runs, 12 hits, 4 errors.

Ord Entertains Cavalry

Party at Pavement Dance

Ord was host to a party of 34 mechanized cavalry officers equipped with jeeps and army trucks from Fort Crook Thursday evening. The group were returning from Fort Meade in South Dakota and were on a reconnoitering excursion enroute home. They had spent several days in the Sandhills preparing and solving strategic problems. Wednesday night they stayed in North Platte.

Soon after arriving in Ord, the groups' instructor contacted Dr. F. L. Blessing, president of the Ord board of education for permission to stay in the schoolhouse. Dr. Blessing had the janitor build a fire so that there would be hot water for showers.

Ord entertained the cavalrymen at a pavement dance west of the square. Aubles' loud speaking system provided the music and the belles of Ord were eager dancing partners. The men declared that they enjoyed the dance very much and that it was the first time they had been entertained in this manner on their trip.

Suffering Ends for Mrs. Robert Lewis

Ord Woman, Ill 10 Months, Dies Sunday; Was Mother of Five Children.

After ten months illness, Mrs. Robert C. Lewis was relieved of pain Sunday noon for the last time, when she died peacefully at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Lemmon of Ord. Mrs. Lewis was only 51 years, seven months and three days old at the time of her death, but months of hopeless illness with Bright's disease had kept her in bed and made her an invalid.

Lucy Ellen Travis was the daughter of the late Fred and Addie Travis, born on Dec. 29, 1890 at Vinton, dying August 2, 1942. On Dec. 24, 1910 she was married to Robert C. Lewis, and to this union were born Mrs. Alice Lemmon of Ord, Mrs. Catherine Pifer formerly of Tacoma, Wash., whose husband is now stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., Harold Lewis of Tacoma, Wash., Mrs. Margaret Snyder of Grand Island and Lucille, who is at home. The children are left, with Mr. Lewis, to mourn the going of a good wife and mother.

She is also survived by four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Jennie Jewett of Flandreau, S. D., Mrs. Eltie Denning of Elm Creek, Nebr., Chester F. Travis of Ord, Oscar Travis of Ord, Mrs. Christie Dommer of Fort Collins, Colo., Mrs. Helen Aldrich of Ord and Alvin W. Travis of Ord. One sister, Nellie May, passed away in infancy. Fourteen nieces and nephews and numerous other relatives are left, as well as a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Lewis' entire life has been spent in Valley county, with the exception of eight years in Burwell and Taylor. Her health had not been the best for some years, but she was a patient and cheerful person throughout. She was extremely devoted to her family and home, finding her chief joy in making her home pleasant and attractive to her friends and loved ones. No work or fun elsewhere interested her so much.

Hospitality to a fault, company was always a pleasure. She was a member of the Jolly Sisters club for several years. Mrs. Lewis also did a good deal of work with the Methodist church ladies as long as she was able.

On September 23 she became bedfast, and after a few weeks she was taken to the home of her daughter Alice. Mrs. Lemmon and the other sisters hardly left Mrs. Lewis' side, caring for her with the greatest devotion throughout her long sickness.

Rev. Clifford Snyder preached the funeral oration at the Frazer chapel Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Mrs. Mark Tolson sang "The Royal Telephone," and a quartet made up of Mrs. Tolson, Mrs. Clarence Davis, Robert Noll and J. R. Stoltz sang "Abide with Me" and "In the Garden" with Mrs. Noll the accompanist. Mrs. William Zabloudil took charge of the flowers. Pall bearers were Ernest Horner, Axel Jorgensen, Stanley Absolon, Adolph Sevenker, William Dargis and Emil Dlugosh, and interment was made at the Ord cemetery.

Out of town attendants at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dunning and family of Elm Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lewis of Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kull and family of Mason City, Judge and Mrs. Lemmon of Pendleton, Mrs. Joe Snyder, Mrs. Andy Snyder and Mrs. Archie Bangert of Burwell.

Summary: Arcadia, 1 run, 3 hits, 5 errors. Ord, 14 runs, 12 hits, 4 errors.

Let's hope that it will speed the end To a little mustached fool, One hundred fifty thousand pounds It's needed every bit, It takes an all-fired lot of stuff To score an Axis hit, There is a mighty lot of stretch In seven tons, by heck! Let's hope there is enough to stretch Out Hirohito's neck,

George E. Johnson Dies at North Loup

North Loup — (Special) — George E. Johnson, 80, prominent North Loup citizen and former elevator operator, died in his home here Tuesday evening following a stroke. Funeral services will be conducted in the Methodist church Thursday afternoon by Rev. W. H. Stevens, of Overton, who was formerly pastor at North Loup.

He and Mrs. Johnson celebrated their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary in March. He leaves a widow, two sons, Harry of Decatur and Edward of Denver and three daughters, Mrs. R. L. Dunnham of Beverly Hills, Mrs. Marilyn Mayo of Lincoln and Mrs. R. L. Hudson of North Loup, and a number of grandchildren.

Thailand Missionary to Be in Ord Sunday

Mrs. Peter A. Voth, who has spent two terms of missionary work in Thailand will spend a few days at the Rev. Rupu home, coming here from Glendale, Cal. She will speak at the United Brethren church at Midvale at 9:45 Sunday morning and at 11 o'clock at the Ord church.

Mrs. Voth and the three children were evacuated from Thailand a few months before the war began, but her husband, who remained on the field, last December was taken by the Japs and put into a prison camp at Bangkok with 15 other missionaries.

Mrs. Voth is on her way to St. Paul, Minn., and is awaiting the arrival of her husband, who is at present on the ship Gripsholm, expecting to arrive in the states about Aug. 20. Mrs. Voth has many interesting things to tell about the Orient. The public is invited to hear her on Sunday morning.

Cowboy in Hospital Before Rodeo Opens

Fate played a mean trick on Bob Mansfield of Bandera, Tex., one of the cowboys who came to try his luck at Nebraska's Big Rodeo, and instead of thrilling the crowd by riding the broncos, bulldogging the steers, and roping the calves, he is convalescing this week in the Clinic hospital following the removal of his appendix by Dr. Weeks Saturday.

Shortly after reaching Burwell, the cowboy became critically ill and was rushed to the hospital where an operation was found necessary. Many persons have remarked that he was safer in the hospital than contesting with "them ornery critters." He is recovering satisfactorily.

Young Singers to Get Free Ice Cream

Mayor Cummins Gives Rotarians Travelogue

Mayor M. B. Cummins, who recently returned from a trip to California, entertained the Rotarians with an account of his travels at their meeting in the Thorne cafe Monday evening.

The mayor reported that tourists and vacationers are discouraged from visiting San Diego, whose population is swollen several times beyond its normal size by defense workers, soldiers, sailors and marines. He also reported that the military police shoot persons who go into forbidden areas.

The Rotarians voted to aid the scrap drive by enlisting the aid of the state truck to pick up donations in the residential sections of Ord Friday.

He Get Stung. Chester Kirby does not think much of Mr. Kovanda's advice to people to keep bees, at least not the big black and yellow variety. Tuesday while mowing weeds near the Jerry Petska residence he disturbed the home of a colony of bumblebees, who attacked him and his horses ferociously. Mr. Kirby says he has mowed the weeds in Ord for three years, but this was the first time he has ever ran afoul of bumble bees.

60 Bushel Oats at Dobrovsky Farm

Barley at Emil Sedlacek's Makes 53 Bushels; Much Grain Hurt by Hail.

The Dobrovsky brothers' crew of threshers reports that a field of oats at their father's farm went 60 bushels per acre. Each car holds 310 bags. The price on track is $1.75 a bag. Most of these potatoes are Red Triumphant and of excellent quality.

The yield is running from three hundred to four hundred bushels per acre. Dave Sartain and Charley Meyer report their potatoes have been running about four hundred bushels per acre.

On July 27, the first potatoes in the Middle Loup Valley were dug and brought into the Rickert garage where the washing and grading machine is located. The first carload shipped belonged to W. E. Gibbons and were No. 2 reds for which he received around $1.85 hundred in Chicago. A little difficulty was experienced due to the extremely hot weather of the week, three cars having to be re-graded. According to information from the government inspector the potatoes developed a rot due to sun scald and over-heating.

The yields this year are running from 300 bushels to 450 bushels to the acre. Iver Erickson's field turned out the biggest yield per acre. Prices received for the potatoes ranged from $1.55 to $1.85 per hundred and up until the first of this week, six carloads have been shipped. These were all No. 1 red potatoes. Fields belonging to W. E. Gibbons, Glen Nelson, Phillip Dowse, Franklin Holmes, Adolph Bartu, Iver Erickson and Bud Dowse have been dug.

A capacity crew have been working at the washing and grading machine during the week besides a government inspector. A pre-cooling outfit was on hand to cool the cars before shipment.

The nearly done, not any of the white potato fields have been started yet, and there are a number of late potatoes to be dug this fall.

VALLEY COUNTY'S CHANCE

Seldom do the people of Valley county have the opportunity to vote for a home-grown candidate for state office who really has a chance to be elected, but that opportunity is present this year and every Valley county voter should take advantage of it.

Clarence M. Davis, who is a republican candidate for railway commissioner, is conceded to have a splendid chance to win the nomination. If he is nominated he will surely be elected this fall and Valley county will have its first man in high state office since Peter Mortensen served as state treasurer.

When he ran for attorney general some years ago Mr. Davis polled 40,000 votes, yet was defeated. If he should poll half that many in the present race he will surely be nominated, for the vote will be split among 14 or 15 republican candidates. A solid block of votes for Mr. Davis at this election will be priceless and Valley county voters may well decide the result.

Another reason why people here should support Davis is that he is the only western Nebraska candidate on the republican ticket. Eight of the candidates are from Omaha, five from Lincoln. None has a statewide reputation and none is especially fitted for the office. It has been 20 years or more since central or western Nebraska elected a man to the state railway commission and there is no reason why Omaha and Lincoln should hog the offices.

A quarter century of legal practice, much business experience, a wide acquaintanceship over the state and a reputation for integrity and fairness qualify Clarence M. Davis for the office to which he aspires. It is up to the voters of Valley county to help this home man along and we believe every republican voter should mark his ballot for Mr. Davis at the primary next Tuesday.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Last spring we talked with a chap who was willing to pay several dollars for a swarm of bees, but couldn't buy any. Late we've visited farmers with bee swarms in their houses that they would give several dollars to get rid of.

Between these extremes are the many local fanciers who find beekeeping a profitable sideline, and a fascinating hobby. Perhaps a dozen men and women own a hundred or more hives of bees within the city limits of Ord. At Arcadia, there are nearly as many, one man having over fifty hives. North Loup also has its quota of bees.

The need for honey to replace sugar and for beeswax in war industries caused an upswing of interest in apiculture. It was nearly impossible to get an order for package bees filled last spring, but most anyone could have caught stray swarms of bees by putting boxes in trees.

The outlook is the brightest since 1935, when bees were practically wiped out by starvation and disease. The growing of sweet clover and alfalfa on irrigated land assures a dependable source of nectar in the future. Bees will make up to four pounds of honey a day on sweet clover, and fly to fields that are ten miles distant.

Every beekeeper in Valley county will get some honey this fall. A few expect to secure an average yield of 100 pounds of surplus per colony. Honey prices range up to 25 cents per pound, and a shortage looms.

Few enterprises promise so much in return for the small amount of labor required as an apiculture. Expert bee men can be found locally who are glad to give advice. There is no danger of getting stung by bees if proper protection is worn. After all, fear of bee stings won't help to win the war.

AAA News Notes

August 8 is the closing date for the World Herald scrap iron drive. Up to now Valley county has stood fairly well—especially well considering that Valley county has shipped off approximately 700 tons of scrap iron. We still have a good many hundred tons of scrap iron in Valley county on the farms. We know that you farmers are all patriotic. One of your patriotic duties is to see to it that you harvest your grain and take care of your crops. However, we believe that you can find time between now and August to bring in your scrap iron. A good many of you who are of the opinion that you have no scrap iron, have from 500 to 1,000 pounds on your farm, that you will never use. Some school boy in your locality has contacted you or will contact you before the closing date, and if you do not have time to dispose of your scrap, turn it over to this scrap iron captain in your district and see to it that Valley county does its part to keep every smelter in the United States running at full capacity. Valley county can win this World Herald scrap iron contest if we put our shoulder to the wheel and push, as Valley county farmers know how to push. In Arcadia, Dwain Williams is buying scrap. In North Loup, the Johnson and Company Elevator, is buying scrap and in Ord, Tom Rasmussen will load up a car of scrap from the Burlington dock, on the 6, 7 and 8 of August. Loading the iron directly onto the car will save some shrinkage and two handlings.

We started making wheat loans the latter part of last week. The first sample of wheat taken showed a protein test of 16.25. This paid a three cent premium. It sealed at $1.14 plus a three cent premium for protein, plus seven cents storage advance, less one cent per bushel for sealing expense, netting the producer $1.23 per bushel. The quality of wheat in Valley county is high and anyone with a wheat base is almost certain to realize a net of $1.20 or more per bushel. If you wish to seal your wheat, notify this office or one of our sealers and a sample will be taken, and your loan completed in less than a week's time.

Barley loans are now being made on barley that was put in the bin dry. Our barley is of good quality and most of it will seal as No. 1 or No. 2 barley. The prices on these two grades are 55¢ on No. 1 and 54¢ on No. 2. Very little Spartan barley will grade below No. 2 and all barley will grade No. 3 or better this year.

1938 and 1937 corn must be either sold or turned over to the Commodity Credit Corporation between now and August 31, 1942. There is no reason to expect that anyone will turn over any of their corn to Commodity Credit with a market as it is now. However, should they desire to, we have the bins and can accept the corn at any time. 1940-41 corn may be delivered to us during the months of August, September and October, if we are given 30 days notice in advance of delivery.

We are approaching the closing date of 1943 crop insurance. In the past years, a crop insurance representative has visited each wheat farmer and sold a large percentage of the crop insurance. This year, in cooperation with the government we are trying to save tires and gas, and we have not planned to send a crop insurance salesman to every farm. We had hoped that those interested in crop insurance would cooperate with the government and our local association and when in town, stop at the county office and make out their application. To date this has not proven a very satisfactory method and we urge everyone interested in All-Risk Crop Insurance on their wheat to stop at the county office and make application for the crop insurance before the closing date, August 31.

North Loup Milk*Trucked to Grand Island Creamery

From six to eight thousand pounds of milk is being trucked from the North Loup cheese factory to the Fairmont Creamery company at Grand Island daily. The Grand Island milk shed is being extended since a shortage existing in the Grand Island territory is being partially supplied by the best milk from the cheese factory routes. Although in the beginning the Grand Island company was a bit skeptical as to the possibility of getting milk from here in the best of condition, two weeks of trial has proved that it can be done for the product reaches its destination in better condition than some coming from a shorter distance.

The milk is brought in here, as early in the morning as possible, the cans are cooled in an ice cold tank of water and trucked to Grand Island under a wet carpet. Some of the milk is used in the ice cream factories at Grand Island and the surplus goes to the milk drying plant. Ambition of cheese factory employees is to help Grand Island supply Grade A milk, of which there is a decided shortage.

If enough farmers in this territory can afford the required equipment and take the proper care of their product, this ambition can be realized. In spite of the fact that so much milk is being sent, this diversion has cut the cheese making less than half. Clifford Hawkes takes the load to Grand Island each day.

The cheese factory has been hard hit by the war and defense for they have lost four factory men to the service, three drivers and Paul Goodrich and Wayne Cook have left the factory for defense work.

E. T. Woolery Writes.
To the Ord Quiz, Readers and Friends at Ord:

I will write a few lines to let you know we are just fine. I have been working here at defense work. I am till painting and get $1.50 per hour here for five days per week and for Saturdays I get $2.25 per hour. I have been working ever since February. I make a total of $78 per week. Wages are good but living is surely high. Rent is high, too.

Glenn is also working at the big plant here and he draws big money. The two girls live in Long Beach, Cal. Earle is also here with us. Ernest, Jr., is in the air corps. He is stationed at Jefferson Barracks in Missouri. It has been terribly hot here as it doesn't rain here in this desert, but I have gotten used to the climate as I have been here a year now. This leaves us all well and we hope to see this in print.

Miss Lorraine Borg Married at Columbus

Miss Lorraine Borg and her sister Lowene were married Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church at Columbus, Rev. Walter O. Jackson officiating. The former Ord teacher became the bride of Jackson L. Gordon of Stockton, Kas., the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gordon of Burneyville, Okla., while Lowene was wed to Norman C. Ecklund of Lincoln. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Borg of Columbus. They were gowned identically in white embroidered organdy made with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and full flared skirt. Veils were fastened with white asters, and bridal bouquets made of white asters and gladioli.

Gwen Ferlig Marries Pet. Corwin Cummins

The Wedding Bell in Yuma, Ariz., serves as the Grefina Green for many California couples who do not have time for the waiting period of three days required by the California law, was the scene of the wedding July 15 of Miss Gwendolyn Ferlig and Corwin Cummins. The bride had previously accompanied the bridegroom's parents and sisters to San Diego where he is stationed at Fort Rosecrans.

Private Cummins got a twenty-four hour leave and taking his father's car he and Miss Ferlig drove to Yuma, where they were married by a Presbyterian minister. For her wedding gown Mrs. Cummins selected a two piece cocoon brown dress with metallic trim and brown accessories, which blended well with her husband's khaki uniform. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal pair returned to La Mesa, Cal., where his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Earnest gave a wedding dinner in their honor. The bridegroom's cousin, Mrs. L. D. Earnest, baked a beautifully decorated wedding cake for the occasion.

Mrs. Cummins is the daughter of Mrs. Phil Fertig of Grand Island. She graduated from the Loup City high school with the class of 1936 and has taught six years in the rural schools of Valley county. ## Everyone Should Vote at Primary Next Tuesday, Aug. 11 comes Nebraska's primary election, at which candidates will be nominated by republican and democratic voters, to oppose each other at the general election in November. A sample ballot showing the names of candidates for all offices appears elsewhere in this issue.

This war-time election is perhaps the most important the United States has ever seen, for next Tuesday's primary will be chosen the men from whom voters will elect their congressman and senator in November, and upon congress will fall increasingly the task of planning, financing and conducting the war effort. State, local and non-political offices attain great importance in war time also.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 55 ★ How to have more fun during vacation ★ A list of fine foods, low-priced every day ★ What one girl learned about easy shopping

How to keep cooking from spoiling your vacation

Like most of us, you are probably staying close to home for your vacation this year—which means that household duties may go on as usual, vacation or no vacation. But with a little clever planning, you'll be amazed at how much more time there is for leisure. And you'll find vacations at home can really be lots of fun.

Below, the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau has suggested several time-saving ideas. See if you don't think they're good ones.

Plan menus ahead of time. Allow plenty of variety, including a few foods you don't often buy, but choose things that cook quickly, or may be partially prepared in advance. Don't undertake elaborate, time-consuming cookery—unless that's your idea of fun!

Be leisurely. Shop early in the day when stores are less crowded—you are less rushed—and the selection is better.

Be forehanded. Plan foods that can be prepared in advance. Meat loaves, casseroles, molded salads, puddings and cookies are good examples.

Be cool. Do your heavy cooking in the cool of the morning, or even the night before, if possible.

Be smart. Purposely plan meat leftovers every so often for easy second-day cooking. Roasts, fried chicken, baked ham, for instance.

And here's a menu that shows you what we mean by advance preparation and tasty eating.

VACATION MENU

Baked Ham Loaf—Served Hot or Cold
(Mix and mold meat in advance; keep in refrigerator until ready to bake.)

Scalloped Noodles
(Cook noodles; combine with hot cream sauce; keep in refrigerator until time to bake; dot with buttered crumbs and brown in oven.)

Buttered Freshly-Cooked Peas
(Shell and cook just before serving)

Sliced Tomato, Grapefruit Section, and Avocado Ring Salad with French Dressing
(Keep scalloped tomatoes in refrigerator ready to peel; prepare salad at the last)

Heated Rolls Butter
Fresh Peaches and Cream
(Slice fruit just before serving)

Oatmeal Cookies

(Baked in an ambitious moment)

Coffee, Milk, or Iced Tea

They Say . . .

"If you want something done, call on a busy man."

Due to the fact that Uncle Sam has taken four young men from my place of business, it keeps me busy looking after my own affairs and between times, doing something for the Government.

I am proud of my legislative record, with such legislation; Grain Alcohol Bill of 1935; a joke then, but what about it now?

Workmen's Compensation Act; Old Age Assistance; Aid to the Blind; Constructive Truck Legislation; Auto Tax Bill; which saves the tax payers $500,000.00 annually by forcing tax dodgers to pay. Ice Cream legislation and many other pieces of legislation; also, I cast more votes in 1939 than any other member and you always knew where I stood.

I served on the Mexican border and World War, and have offered my services to both the Army and the Marine Corps in the present war, but due to physical disqualifications, I have not been called to active duty by either branch.

This Legislature is going to need experienced men very badly, as many old members have gone in to government services. If you think I am the man for this place,

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Manchester have received several "Victory" letters from their son, Everett, who is with the U. S. air corps in England. The first arrived early in July and has been followed by another nearly every week. He is well pleased with the beautiful English country, says it reminds him of stories he had in grade school of knights and such because of the old, old buildings. The cattle and horses he says are the finest he has ever seen and he speaks of their intensive farming, much of which is done by the women. In one letter he spoke of how they had to walk every place they went and how they would appreciate a bicycle for Christmas. He asked to have a can of Folgers coffee sent by cable and requested his mother to send him a box of candies and some cigarettes. His grandfather, A. H. Jackman, went down town at once and ordered the cigarettes sent.

Everett, who is a sergeant, said they were allowed one small package a month. The Victory letters are filmed and sent to New York where they are printed and mailed to the addressee and the original is kept till delivery is made. One sack will carry the mail which required 35 sacks formerly. Parents and friends are being urged to use the Victory method of communication with their boys in the army, particularly those over seas.

Rosemary Stevens celebrated her eighth birthday Thursday afternoon with a party attended by twelve of her little friends.

Ellen Marie Fogt spent the remainder of the week in the Stevens home while Barbara June was a guest in the Fogt home in Mira Valley.

Richard Babcock, son of R. O. Babcock, is a member of the Seventh class of Reserve Midshipmen and was graduated at New York, August 5, and commissioned as an ensign in the navy.

At present Richard is located on the Prairie Schooner, in the Hudson River and has completed his training there.

Richard Bartz left Friday for induction in the army. He had spent a ten day furlough at home. Monday George Cox went to Omaha to become a member of the U. S. coast guard.

This makes the family of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartz 100% in Uncle Sam's service for Arthur and Ervin Bartz have both been in the service for some time.

Arthur is now at Springfield, Mass., taking some special schooling and Ervin is at Fort Sill, Okla., in radio work. Richard, of course, did not know where he would be sent but was ready to do his bit and George, who is the husband of the Bartz, only daughter, hopes to be stationed some place permanently so that Muriel can eventually be near him.

LaVern Duemey Stationed at Naval Base in Indiana

July 29, 1942

U. S. Naval Reserve Air Base Dear Hank, Gene, and all the folks back at the Quiz, I'm not a very true newspaper man to let my letter writing get as far behind as it did, but this has been a very busy two months.

I spent five weeks in indoctrination training and upon graduation was transferred to the naval air base at Peru, Ind.

The indoctrination training period was spent in drilling, physical exercises, tying knots, learning the things a sailor should know, and in general a hardening period.

The base here at Peru is a new one still under construction. It is expected to be finished early this fall. There are four photographers including myself and we have the building of the photo department as our present task. It is thrilling to see the base grow day by day and be one of those pioneering such a big venture.

At present our job consists of photographing the progress of construction plus public relations material of the personnel on the base. This is supposed to be one of the biggest air bases in the country, when completed. It's photo department and flying school is supposed to be as good or better than Pensacola, Fla., when completed.

Irene and I have a nice apartment and are very happy. We were lucky in getting into Peru while a person could still get rooms. It will soon be impossible to get them when the base fills up. I certainly have missed the Quiz, but since Irene arrived and brought all the back issues, I'm quite up to date with Ord again. I'm glad to hear from Irene that you folks are all well and the engraving is holding up in good shape.

Indiana is a beautiful country. Every farm has several acres of wooded land on it, there are lots of streams and small rivers running about everywhere and crops and everything in general look good. One of the main crops is soy beans.

The town of Peru is quite a famous place. It was known for wintering quartering the big circuses in the old days. It is the home town of many well known people. Some being Tom Mix, Clyde Beatty, Ringling Brothers Circus, Johnson (of Olsen and Johnson) Cole Porter, and several others that I can't remember off hand.

Peru is a very pleasant town and we like it very much. Drop us a line. It's really appreciated to hear from home.

We have two addresses, but our home address is LaVern Duemey Sp (P) 3-c 322 W. 6th Street Peru, Indiana.

Gotta go to work. Let us hear from you. LaVern and Ilene

Dale Hughes Writes.

The following are portions of letters from Dale Hughes, who at present is in Australia, to his family. These letters were written in April and May.

Dear folks:

I just received a Quiz today. It was mailed in January. Also my first letter from you, mailed on March 13th, I should be getting more of your mail from now on.

We are still in Australia although we have moved around quite a bit. Am fine and getting a swell suntan. My wearing apparel consists of a pair of shorts and a pair of shoes. Have all my hair cut off and don't show, really some sight.

I suppose Delbert is very proud of the navy and it's big victory in the Coral Sea. Can't say I blame him for they sure did a swell job. I'm just waiting for the day when they get the rest of them down to the last row boat. Don't forget the army air corps have been doing a little work too, you probably don't hear all about it, but we see it. Have had plenty of excitement lately, except for the past two days, which have been very quiet. But I think we will get a shower today. It's time anyway. They missed a few days so we have had that for the past week. Any way at present I'm not hungry.

My present address is Dale Hughes, 8th Pursuit Squadron, 49th Pursuit Group, A. P. O. 501, Care of Postmaster, San Francisco, California

A NEW FUTURE...

With VICTORY, Nebraska looks to New Horizons, a NEW FUTURE. Agriculture is Nebraska's Biggest Business. As it prospers, so prospers all of us.

Chemists are pointing the way to new uses for farm products. Grain alcohol-synthetic rubber plants should be built promptly in Nebraska. Congressman Harry B. Coffee was the first to urge this on Congress last January.

Some of Coffee's other effective efforts in behalf of Nebraska Agriculture sponsored the 85% Parity Loan Program; authorized disposal of surplus Agricultural products through Relief Channels . . . this resulted in the Food Stamp Plan. He will continue to fight to preserve the American Market for the American Producer. He supported every measure designed to protect our National Security—but opposed all measures he felt would involve us in war.

A NEW FUTURE...

With VICTORY, Nebraska looks to New Horizons, a NEW FUTURE. Agriculture is Nebraska's Biggest Business. As it prospers, so prospers all of us.

Chemists are pointing the way to new uses for farm products. Grain alcohol-synthetic rubber plants should be built promptly in Nebraska. Congressman Harry B. Coffee was the first to urge this on Congress last January.

Some of Coffee's other effective efforts in behalf of Nebraska Agriculture sponsored the 85% Parity Loan Program; author present Federal Seed Labeling Act; sponsored legislation authorizing disposal of surplus Agricultural products through Relief channels . . . this resulted in the Food Stamp Plan. He will continue to fight to preserve the American Market for the American Producer. He supported every measure designed to protect our National Security—but opposed all measures he felt would involve us in war.

FSA Clients in County Winning Production War

Government-Aided Farmers Greatly Increase Food Needed for Freedom

Rapid advances toward winning the battle of production are being made by the clients of the farm security administration in Valley county, according to the report made for the first six months of 1942 by Darrel Bauder, the local supervisor. Mr. Bauder has found that the number of pigs farrowed on the farms of FA clients in Valley county has increased 90 per cent during the first six months of 1942 over a similar period a year ago.

Egg production shows an increase of 242 per cent during the same period, butterfat production was hiked 117 per cent, the number of chickens hatched or purchased rose 45 per cent, the amount of land planted to gardens increased 48 per cent, the number of calves born climbed 18 per cent while there was a 10 per cent increase in the amount of land planted to temporary pasture. Increases General.

Reports for the other six counties in this FSA district show about the same increases as Valley. For the district as a whole the number of pigs farrowed increased 146 per cent, eggs sold 83 per cent, butterfat sold 45 per cent; chickens hatched or purchased, 42 per cent; acreage planted to gardens, 35 per cent; number of calves born, 15 per cent; and acreage of temporary pasture, 24 per cent.

In Valley county on thirteen farms operated by FSA clients, which were chosen at random, 235 pigs were farrowed on these farms during the first six months of 1942, where only 120 were farrowed a year ago. During the same period 6,399 dozen eggs were sold, compared to 1,862 dozen a year ago; 5,296 pounds of butterfat were sold in 1942, compared to 2,433 for 1941; 3,500 chickens were hatched or bought in 1941 and 5,082 in 1942. During the first six months of this year 73 calves were born on these farms, compared to 62 a year ago; 143 acres of temporary pasture were planted this year while a year ago 128 acres were devoted to this purpose.

Makes 893 Visits.

Mr. Bauder made 893 visits to the FSA clients' homes during the first six months of the year. The increases in production is largely due to better feeding practices. Mr. Bauder has aided farmers in working out better balanced rations. He has recommended the feeding of laying mash to hens and grain to milk cows on pasture. He has also encouraged the use of more temporary pastures and the improvement of permanent pastures by preventing over grazing, the mowing of weeds and other approved practices. He reports that so far this year FSA borrowers in Valley county have paid back $51,604.35 to the government. At the present time there are 206 borrowers from the farm security administration in Valley county.

Sixty-nine food for freedom loans have been made in this county. In each instance the money went to persons who previously were not producing, many of them being formerly on WPA. Thirty loans on this 69 went to 4-H club members. A loan to a 4-H club member is limited to $75. The food for freedom loans averaged $152, with a total of $10,510 being borrowed by Valley county residents.

Case Load Heavy.

During the first six months of the year $24,376 was loaned to persons who had not borrowed previously from FSA and $42,641 was loaned to clients who were already borrowers. The program is assisting more people in Valley county at the present time than it has any time since it was started, according to Mr. Bauder.

Attendance Drops at Rodeo Opening

More Cowboys at Burwell Than Usual; Program Up to Standard.

Nebraska's Big Rodeo got off today to what appeared to be an excellent program, but with a crowd somewhat smaller than in former years. The number of contestants was the largest it has been in several years, according to K. M. Parsons, the arena director. Cancellation of a number of shows is believed to account for the raise in the number of contestants as they have fewer places this year where they have an opportunity to win prizes.

The band of Ogallala Sioux Indians under the leadership of their chief, John Compton Crazy Bull reached Burwell Monday from their home in South Dakota all decked out in full regalia.

Johnny Jordan, whose twangy Southern accent delighted the ears of the spectators last year, is the full time announcer this year. Johnny, who comes from Fort Worth, is a champion bronco rider, who besides announcing rodeo events usually cops a good share of the prize money. His experience as a contestant enables him to describe events more accurately and vividly than the layman.

Frank and Bernice Dean, who have been popular with Burwell audiences, are back again this year to perform their fancy trick roping, whip popping, shooting and knife throwing stunts. Frank holds the crowd spell bound when he throws knives all around his wife while she is covered with newspapers.

Bus Carson and his troupe of five entertainers, who are new at Burwell, will entertain with exhibition riding and roping. They come from Hollywood. A six year old boy is one of the members of this troupe. The usual clowns and their trick mules are on hand to entertain.

All members of the armed forces in uniform will be admitted to the grandstands free. Persons bringing a thousand pounds of scrap iron get a free ticket to the grandstand. The management has announced that the proceeds will go into War Bonds.

Red Cross Donations.

Mrs. George A. Parkins, war fund relief chairman of the Valley county Red Cross chapters reports that Mrs. Christine Gudmundsen has donated 50 cents per month and Mrs. John Beams two dollars every month to the Red Cross. Ed Beraneck has contributed $1.50 from the sale of tinfoil.

Dickinson Seed House Damaged by Storm

Here is the result of a small twister which visited Ord last Wednesday night. This large corn crib at the Ord seed house was loosened from its moorings and shoved on to a Burlington side track, which fortunately is not often used.

Tornado Upsets Big Corncrib at Ord Seed House

High Wind Shoves Building On to Track; Tears Roof Off Farmer's Store.

A small tornado and high wind from the west overturned a large corncrib at the Ord Seed house off the concrete piers to which it is bolted and on to the Burlington siding, Wednesday evening. The crest of the storm, which came at 5:15 is believed to have struck the building, which extends to the southeast in such a manner to wrest it off the piers, most of which now lean to the north and a few are even broken. Another crib directly south was not damaged.

When the storm broke the crew of painters at the Union Pacific depot said the rain fell so hard they could not see across the tracks. J. C. VanHouse, the Burlington agent, reports that he heard the building go over. He was putting down a window at the time when the crash sounded which was over in a second. The building is owned by the Albert Dickinson Company of Chicago. Robert Noll, who leases the plant, reports that the loss is covered by insurance. Only a few timbers were broken and it is believed that the building can be straightened back up without wrecking it.

In Ord, 70 inch of rain fell. Two inches were reported at Elyria, a light sprinkle at Burwell, none at Constock, and heavy rains at Arcadia, Loup City and St. Paul.

The high wind got under the tin roof of the F. J. Dworak building, which houses the Farmers Grain and Supply Company store, and peeling the roof off nearly half the building let in a deluge of water which damaged the stock considerably. The store employees worked hard sweeping out the water, moving merchandising to places where the roof didn't leak and covering the counters and such with canvas. The store was closed Thursday while the employees repaired the damages. The loss was insured.

At Elyria a number of basements were filled with water. At the A. J. Ferris farm a chicken house was lifted off its foundation and set down a foot further away without killing a single chicken. A hay rack was also demolished. A large Russian olive tree on the northwest edge of Ord was uprooted and a number of smaller trees were blown over and many limbs broken off. A few tall stones of large size fell and several farmers have reported damage to corn. Many of the stalks were flattened by the wind.

Everett Gross Now Instructor in Army

Everett Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gross was recently graduated from the army's engineer officer candidate school at Fort Belvoir in Virginia and was commissioned a second lieutenant. He will remain indefinitely at the same school as an instructor.

Watch Your Tires. Mrs. Bert Hansen advises people to watch out for their tires. Monday night someone stripped their trailer of two tires at their place and she believes that the same person will probably need two more.

C. M. Davis Ahead in Race for State R'way Commission

Leads Knickrehm by a Small Margin; Foster May Beats Coffee; Griswold In.

Ord's candidate for the republican nomination for state railroad commissioner, Clarence M. Davis, apparently was nominated on the basis of incomplete returns received at noon today. He held a nice lead over his nearest rival, John Knickrehm, and his lead appeared to be growing as out-state precincts continued to come in. O. H. Brinkman was in third place but out of the running.

One radio report heard here at noon gave Davis a lead of 1,780 with 246 precincts still to be heard from, but another report said the race was undecided. Good apparently was nominated by democrats and will oppose the Ord man this fall.

Biggest surprise of the Tuesday primary was the great vote cast for Foster May, Omaha radio announcer running as a democrat for the United States senate. He had a vote of 36,000 to 24,000 cast for Harry B. Coffey and 19,000 for Terry Carpenter. Nomination of May was conceded by Coffee at midnight Tuesday.

Kenneth Wherry made it a one-man race in capturing the republican endorsement for the same office, winning by a big margin over Hugh Ashmore.

Meanwhile Senator George W. Norris' refusal to remove himself definitely from the senate picture made the race confusing. Questioned by telephone as to his intentions, Norris wouldn't say that he is definitely out of the race. Five years ago he ran as an independent candidate and was elected.

Griswold was nominated by republicans for governor by a big vote over Warner while Charles W. Bryan had no trouble getting the democratic endorsement.

The congressional race in the 4th district is still confused but Dietrichs and Lanigan are close together for the democratic nomination while A. L. Miller is leading Rasdal and Howard for the republican nomination. Final result is still in doubt in both cases at noon Wednesday.

Draft Quota for August is Filled

First 1B Men in Valley Co.; Accepted for the Service; Only Three Rejected.

Eldon Lee DeHart and Ivan Bell Olcott both of Ord were inducted into the army at Fort Logan, Colo., Saturday. Three 1B men from Valley county have been examined at Fort Crook and accepted for service. They are Marvin Wilson, who has been inducted at Fort Leavenworth in Kansas, Darrell Bauder and Henry Larson, who after being examined was put into class IA and will be inducted as such.

The following who were examined at Fort Crook Aug. 5 have been accepted for service and will be inducted at Fort Logan two weeks later: Thaddeus Krasnow, a transfer from Wisconsin, Henry Jorgensen, of North Loup, Lou Petska, of Ord, Ray Hurlbert of Ord, Vernon Marshall, of Ord, Richard Karre, of Ord, Edward Visek, of Ord, and Dillard Hunt of Arcadia. Amond Metha and Clarence Ulm of North Loup and Walter Duryea of Arcadia were rejected.

Working with Guy Laverty on the committee are K. M. Parsons, F. A. Johnson, C. C. Scofield, C. R. Igenfritz, Rev. Niles, Mrs. Bessie Moore, W. F. Manash, Robert Ballagh, R. E. Leach, John Beynon, S. O. Mitchell, Hans Rhode, O. W. Johnson, Art Link, and Naomi Fackler.

Many Turn Out to Hear Children Sing

The largest attended community sing of the season was held Sunday night in Bussell park where the musical efforts of two hundred youngsters were rewarded with free ice cream cones, the gifts of the Rotary club, the sponsor of the songs. The children were led by Alex Cochrane. Hymns were featured on the program with "Brighten the Corner Where You Are" and "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam," appearing to be the most popular numbers.

"The Man on the Flying Trapeze," brought forth a great deal of enthusiastic volume. Miss Jean Carlson presented a solo. Another sing will be held in the park Sunday evening, August 26.

Dr. F. A. Barta, a director of the North Loup district, says that the directors of both districts will meet in Ord Thursday evening to select a man to fill the position until Mr. James is again available.

Dr. Weeks has been treating Bill Goff who was badly burned about the face with carbolic acid.

Two Cars of Scrap Loaded at Ord in Three Days

One hundred tons of scrap iron were brought into Ord the latter part of the week filling two cars on the Burlington track. The men in the picture from left to right: A. L. Sucher, John Benson, Frank Beran, Joe Beran, John Klimek, Dick Lombard, J. C. VanHouse, R. Whiting, Charley Klimek, Barney Kuklisch, Leonard Hansen, Aden Schuyler, Max Hester, George Cetak and Dan Lunney, most of whom are Burlington employees, hauled thirteen truck loads of scrap from the homes and business houses in Ord Friday. The proceeds of the scrap will be donated to the USO. The drive in Ord last week was headed by J. C. VanHouse, the Burlington agent, assisted by Len Covert, who was away hunting for more scrap, when the picture was taken.

The Ord high school donated a piano which was scrapped and added to the iron pile. Mr. VanHouse expressed the wish that it would play nice music for the Japs. The Methodist church enriched its coffers by selling among other things a church bell weighing 650 pounds.

The drive in Valley county was not as successful as in some other counties as 600 tons of iron had already been shipped out of Ord this spring.

The iron pile in Valley county was to be all carefully sorted. No pieces less than a quarter of an inch in thickness were acceptable and the person shipping the car is docked a hundred dollars for each unusable piece which gets into it. A higher price is paid for cast iron than for steel. The scrap which was not acceptable to the government was hauled to the dump at the river.

The close of the World Herald's scrap iron drive Saturday found Valley county in sixth place among the counties of the state. During the three week drive 404,169 pounds of scrap were gathered in the county, an average of 49.51 per capita. Grant county with 631.22 pounds per capita were collected was the winner of the $1,000 defense bond.

Twenty-eight counties in the state collected more than one hundred pounds per capita. Garfield county finished in 39th place with 71.11 pounds per capita.

Loup county was in 40th place with a capita collection of 70.95. Greeley county made 51st place with a per capita contribution of 65.64.

Howard county finished in 74th place with a capita collection of 33.71. Custer county, with 33.26 pounds per capita, was 75th among the counties. Wheeler county which turned in 22.18 per capita rated 88th.

John Ward Goes to Pearl Harbor

John Ward received notice from the government Thursday to report at the navy yard in Mare Island near San Francisco Aug. 19 from where he will be taken to Pearl Harbor where he will be employed as a painter.

Mr. Ward will leave Ord Sunday. The Wards will sell their household goods at their home in Ord Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Ward is planning to make her home in Denver while he is away.

Garfield County Meets Bond Quota for Every Month

Committee Headed by Guy Laverty Solicits All the Local Residents.

Garfield county, under the direction of Guy Laverty, bond chairman, may well be proud of the record it has made thus far in bond buying.

In May the quota was $2,700. Garfield county bought $4,556.25, going over the goal $1,856.25.

June saw the quota raised to $4,00— the county bought $6,187.50.

Of the July quota of $7,850, $7,331

were purchased in Burwell and a letter from authorities in Kansas City stated that Garfield citizens had sent to Kansas City for enough bonds that the goal for July had been reached.

The town of Burwell (under the town board's direction) purchased $1,490 of that amount. Garfield county is going to shoot at the $8,150 figure for August.

In the 1940 census Garfield county showed a population of 3,441 people which has been materially lessened by men going to the army and by residents going into defense work. A little long division will show that the per capita rate of buying has been high. Another factor which is rather a drawback to this county is that it has only one town and not a great many people on regular payroll.

After the organization of the county committee Dec. 29, 1941 every school director and school client in every district and many pupils were contacted for a war savings pledge besides all business men and women.

A peak marketing normally comes in December and January," Wickard said. "This year, because of big wartime demands, we need more hogs marketed early. Otherwise we face a serious temporary shortage of pork products. Early marketing far exceeded the highest hopes of the management, who expected smaller attendance than last year.

that the paid admissions were the largest since 1930. Owing to the increased attendance, which was not anticipated, the facilities for handling the crowds were taxed to capacity. ## Rodeo Attendance Is Largest Since 1930 at Burwell

Some Turned Away by Lack of Room Thursday; Cars Clog the Highways.

The largest crowds since the roaring twenties flocked into Burwell last week to attend Nebraska's Big Rodeo. The attendance far exceeded the highest hopes of the management, who expected smaller attendance than last year.

As has been stated, Captain O. L. Nay came up here the fore part of June and has been taking care of the place all summer. He plans on staying well into September and will close the place up when he leaves and I hope he will want to come back next spring for the place has never been as well taken care of, neither has it been as beautiful as it is this summer. I had a lot of fruit trees, plum, apple, crab apple etc., and as they were not where I wanted them, and I am not here in late fall or early spring when they should be moved, I went to work last September early in the month and moved 18 of them to a new and better location. I feared that many of them would be lost but they all came through except two and are making a wonderful growth this year and I believe we will be having fruit on them, perhaps next year and surely in a couple or three years.

We, Flora, Coralee, Tom, Mrs. Johnnie Boquet, and myself, left at 6 p. m. last Saturday. Mrs. Boquet was going to visit her parents at Marshall, Minnesota and we arrived there at 3 a. m. Sunday. She called at their farm and they came after her and we drove on arriving at the cottage here on the shores of Middle Cullen at 9 a. m., making the trip of 550 miles in 15 hours, and without trouble of any kind. Driving at night, it was nice and cool and long before morning we had the car shut up, as it was too cool for comfort with the windows open. Tom and Coralee slept the night through while Flora and I took turns driving. We ambled along just over 40 miles per hour so driving was not hard work.

It rains here nearly every morning, or has since we came and they tell me it has been doing that for some time, a nice shower around five o'clock, then a nice day. So far there has not been a morning or evening when we didn't need a little fire in the heater and some days a little fire feels good all day.

a good crop all the fall. Fishing is good. Walleyes are striking on Pelican and Gull fisherman usually getting their limits. We have fished for enough pan fish for our own use and have no trouble getting them, with a few bass now and then. It didn't take us long to get a nice boy for Flora to send home to her husband.

78 votes to Henry Zikmund, in Dist. 5 gave 46 votes to Walter B. Paddock and in District 7 nominated H. A. Bellinger with 53 votes.

Republicans in District 1 nominated Chris Belers for supervisor with 47 votes, in District 3 gave Evert Smith 117 and in District 7 cast 94 for S. V. Hansen.

There were upsets in the races for irrigation district directors. In the Ord district J. W. McGinnis ran away from Frank A. Baratta, incumbent, 235 to 99, and in the North Loup district C. W. McClellan got 124 votes to only 79 for Roy W. Hudson, incumbent.

Valley county gave splendid votes to "favorite son" candidates. Clarence M. Davis, candidate for republican nomination to railway commission, had 531 votes to only 28 for John Knickerbocker, his closest competitor.

Twelve other candidates split the remaining 151 votes cast.

E. C. James, Valley county's candidate for the 29th senatorial district nomination, was given 697 votes here to only 353 for Doyle and 254 for Frost. In the four-county district, however, he ran second to Doyle, getting 1,363 votes to Doyle's 1,814. Frost ran poor third with 1,032.

Names of James and Doyle will go on the ballot in November. Doyle's principal support came in Greeley county where he got 790 votes to 255 for James and 203 for Frost. Wheeler county gave Doyle 178, James 87 and Frost 112. Howard county gave Doyle 493, James 324 and Frost 463.

Foster May, who ran like a "scared jackrabbit" all over the state in winning the democratic nomination for senator, got 260 votes in this county to only 224 for Harry B. Coffee. Terry Carpenter was a poor third with only 70 votes and other candidates were "also-rans." On the republican senatorial ticket Kenneth Wherry who won the nomination, got 408 votes here to 129 for Ashmore and 77 for Rector.

Dwight Griswold, republican for governor, drew 624 votes in Valley county to 142 for Warner, and on the democratic ticket old "Uncle Charley" Bryan proved that his name is still a magic one to Valley county voters by getting 354 votes to only 92 for Stanley Long and 37 for Roy Harrop.

On the republican congressional ticket Bert Howard was given 143 votes in Valley county to 128 for Earl Rasdal, 105 for A. L. Miller, 61 for Wm. Stewart, 52 for Wellensiek and 33 for Myers. Democrats gave landslide vote here to Tom W. Lanigan, 250 to 118 for Guy Doran and 85 for Sam Diederichs.

Valley county republicans gave high votes to Rufus M. Howard for lieutenant governor, Frank Marsh for secretary of state, Ray C. Johnson for auditor, Carl G. Swanson for treasurer, Walter R. Johnson for attorney general, while democrats voted in greatest numbers for Edward A. Dosek for lieutenant governor, Harry R. Swanson for secretary, Horace M. Davis for treasurer, this former Ord man getting 228 votes to 137 for Walter Jensen and Harry H. Johansen for railway commission.

A complete official summary of Valley county's vote by precincts will appear next week.

bull riding finals, Jim Whiteman of Clarksville, Tex., was judged second and Smoky Snyder, Livermore, Calif., placed third.

Colorful Parade.

The show opened Wednesday with a colorful parade lead by a nine foot Uncle Sam replete with tall hat, white whiskers, striped trousers and long tailed coat. Along with the Ogallala Sioux Indians in full tribal regalia and the cowboys taking part in the show, was a truck decorated in red, white and blue bearing the sign "U.S. Needs Scrap to Win, Is Yours In?". Twelve Burwell riders led by O. A. Norland and D. C. McCarthy executed a drill following the parade, amazing the spectators with the excellence of their amateur horsemanship.

The Final Winners.

Louis Brooks of Pawhuska, Okla., won the finals in the bronc riding contest. Fritz Truman of Salinas, Calif., placed second and Doff Abner of Newhall, Calif., won third in the bulldogging finals.

In the bulldogging finals Bill McMacken of Trail City, S. D., took first with an average time of 35.1 seconds for four steers. Homer Pettigrew was second and Fritz Truman, third. The calf roping finals were won by Tony Salinas of Eincinal, Tex. with the average time of 67.9 seconds on four calves. Juan Salinas with the time of 68.3 was second and Buck Eckals of Liberty, Tex., who roped his calves in the average time of 70.7 was third.

Thursday's winners in the bronc riding contest were Nick Knight 1st and Louis Roberts 2nd. Pettigrew was the top man in the bulldogging contest dumping his steer in 6 seconds.

Dick Griffith of Fullerton, Calif., won first money in the flat. Bill McMahon was second with the time of 8.1 seconds. The calf roping top money Thursday went to Pat Parker, 13.9 seconds; and 2nd to Tony Salinas, 15.9.

Winners of day money Friday were Doff Abner 1st, and Nick Knight and Vic Blackstone who tied for second and third in bronc riding; Bill McMacken 5.2, Hub Whitman, 5.3, and Howard McCrory, 7.7 in bulldogging; Pettigrew, 12. Tony Salinas 15.7 and Forrest Andrews 16 in calf roping; and Herbert Taylor, Dick Griffith and Clyde Herbert were the winners in the order named in the bull riding contest.

Calgary Red Popular.

Calgary Red (Roy Seward) who was actually from Calgary was the most popular entertainer on the evening program. He walked on a loose lariat rope suspended between two poles wearing cowboy boots. While balancing himself on the rope he spun three loops, one in each hand and the other by one foot.

He climaxed his act by balancing a seven foot metal ladder on the rope, hanging on to it with one hand and walking up it while at the same time spinning a rope. Calgary Red sprained an ankle shortly before arriving in Burwell and walked on the ground with a decided limp which did not seem to bother him once he got on the suspended rope.

The Bus Carson troupe, which were booked for the Burwell show, were involved in an auto accident near Provo, Utah, and were unable to get there. Frank and Bernice Dean with their trick and fancy riding, fire jump act, whip cracking and knife throwing were popular with the audience. The Likes family Redskin act received a big hand. An unusual feature of the evening programs was the demonstration of Grand Eagle, a five-gated, American-bred saddle stallion owned by D. C. McCarthy and ridden by A. J. Majors, a trainer from the Lakeview ranch.

The southern twang of Johnny Jordan, the announcer who formerly was a rodeo contestant pleased the ears of the spectators. His experience enabled him to describe the various events vividly and accurately.

Most of the players of the town team were former members of the Legion junior team. The highlight of the game occurred in the last half of the ninth inning when Ray Vogeltanz was hit by a pitched ball, took base, stole second and came home on a single by Faulk.

Vogeltanz also made the junior team's other score when he walked and after stealing two bases in succession came home on a hit by Wilson.

The town team made its lone run in the sixth inning when Misko got on first base by an error and scored from third. The town team had three other men on bases but could not bring them in.

Faulk and Noyosad, on the mound for the juniors, allowed the town team to make only four hits. Allen Zikmund, who pitched for the town team held the juniors down to three hits and struck out five. He was relieved in the seventh inning by Misko, who allowed two hits and struck out two.

Long Life of George Johnson Ends Aug. 4

George E. Johnson, oldest son of Robert and Mary Johnson, was born in Jasper county, Iowa near Newton, January 11, 1862 and died August 4, 1942 at North Loup. When sixteen he came with his parents to Nebraska. The family settled in Hall county. George attended school in Grand Island that winter staying at a hotel working for his board and room and there saw so much evil caused by liquor that it was a contributing factor in making him a strong prohibitionist throughout his life.

The family moved to Valley county in 1878 where his father had taken a homestead on Davis Creek. Being the oldest of the family much of the planning of the work fell on his shoulders and being of a serious trend of mind and interested in governmental affairs his leisure hours were spent in reading along that line which made him very well posted in the affairs of the nation.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Thursday afternoon with Rev. W. H. Stevens of Overton, in charge. He was assisted by Rev. Cash Tanner of Tekamah and Judge Bayard H. Paine of Lincoln who gave a tribute.

Mrs. Fred Bartz, Mrs. H. J. Hoepner, Sterling Manchester and Daryl White sang.

Mrs. M. E. McClellan, Fanny McClellan, Mrs. Sterling Manchester, Mrs. R. H. Knapp, Ruby McGinley and Mrs. Clarence Switzer looked after the many floral tributes.

Pall bearers were Charles, Ernest and Frank Johnson, John Palser, L. A. Axthelm and C. E. Rusmiller.

Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Mayo and daughter of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson of Beverly Hills, Ruth Hudson of North Loup, Mary Mayo of Lincoln, Harry of Decatur and Edward who moved to North Loup to be near his father during his last illness, and to comfort his mother.

Mr. Johnson engaged in the coal business on coming to North Loup, bought grain for an Omaha firm and finally engaged in the elevator business for himself and later added the lumber and banking business. While he was diligent in business, he never allowed it to interfere with his religious life and was active in the work of the church as long as his strength would permit.

He was also interested in Christian education, being a member of the board of trustees of Nebraska Wesleyan University for 27 years. Three of the children are graduates of this university and the other two while they didn't graduate on account of poor health, attended.

He was active in business until a year ago last January when he suffered a stroke which prevented his usual activeness and the following May his son, Harry took over the business. On December 14, 1941 he was only able to go about the house in a wheel chair. January 6 and February 7 other light strokes followed and May 28 he had one from which he never recovered.

For several weeks under the direction of Dr. Hemphill, Eva Portis cared for him at night and Mrs. Howell aided the family by day trying to give every comfort possible.

He leaves his wife and five children, nine grand children and three great grandchildren, four brothers and three sisters.

THANK YOU!

I want to express my sincere appreciation of the wonderful vote my home county gave me. Though there were 14 candidates for the Republican nomination for the Railway Commission, the unofficial vote indicates I received 531 votes to 28 for my closest opponent. I also want to thank those who helped me in many other ways. At the time this ad is written, I was the high man in this race throughout the state, but this may or may not continue. Regardless of how I may come out in the state, I again want to thank the Valley County voters for their splendid support.

Uncle Sam wants every hog raiser to do his best in order to get finished hogs on the market in September and October. He warns that hogs marketed later may have to be regulated so that the market won't be flooded with the late pigs. In addition the armed forces and our allies need a lot of pork RIGHT NOW. So my suggestion is that you see your Norco dealer right away and get a supply of NORCO "40" Hog-Maker Supplement. That's the feed that gets your hogs in market condition months sooner and at the same time cuts the feed bill. Start feeding NORCO "40" right away and have them ready for the Sept.-Oct. market.

Ord Trims Neligh 9 to 1 at Bartlett

Junior Legion Team Beats
Tournament Winner at Wheeler Co. Fair.

In their best game of the season, the Ord Legion Junior nine defeated the Neligh swatters 9 to 1 when they played Sunday afternoon at the Wheeler county fair in Bartlett. Ord held the Neligh boys well in check as Faulk and Novosad, on the mound for Ord, allowed only three hits between them. Faulk permitted one in four innings, striking out two Neligh players while Novosad allowed two hits and struck out batters in five innings.

Neligh threatened to score in the first inning when the bases were filled but the outstanding performance of Shortstop D. Johnson, cut off their scoring attempts at the home plate. In the sixth inning Neligh got its lone run after two were out. Only one put-out was made in the outfield with the infield taking care of the other 26 outs, 15 at first base, ten via the strike-out route and one at the home plate.

Ord scored in all but three innings, taking an early three point lead after three innings had been played. A triple by Bellinger in the second scored Ord's first run ahead of him and he came in on an error. Van Vleck, pitching for Neligh, held the Ord team to three runs, the six innings when he was on the mound but he was relieved by Koenig in the sixth. He was later knocked out of the box when the Ord batters had the bases filled in the eighth. Van Vleck struck out eight Ord men and allowed seven hits during the six innings he pitched while Koenig struck out five and allowed five hits while he was on the mound.

L. Novosad led the batting for Ord with two hits out of four times up. Fryzek and Beran also made two hits apiece. Ord and Neligh will cross bats again at the Greeley county fair at Spalding Thursday afternoon.

Gerald Keim Writes of Bicycle Trip Around Oahu Island

Leaving my home on Alawai Avenue at 7:15 one Saturday morning, my friend and myself made our way four blocks to the famed Waikiki Beach on Kalakaua Avenue. By way of this avenue, we came to the South Sea Aquarium where all known species of mid-Pacific marine life are on display. From this point we continued on the avenue, passing the Elks club, a grand old structure with spacious lawns full of royal palms and flowers of every kind.

Farther along we came upon our first obstacle. A winding road which leads one up part way on Diamond Head crater from which place one commands a view of the blue Pacific and a great portion of the beautiful coast line dotted with people swimming and lolling in the sun. This road gave us a lot of trouble because of its steepness and hair pin curves.

On Kalanianaole highway now we go thru Kahala and Kuliouou, two of Honolulu's most beautiful subdivisions which are composed of estates made of every type of architecture one can conceive. As we leave these places behind the next point of interest that greets our eyes are huge fish ponds in which hundreds of thousands of pounds of fish are raised yearly for the markets of Honolulu.

Along our way a short distance we see Koko Head, an extinct crater, against the blue cloud-dotted sky. This mountain peak is one of Oahu's highest and hardest to scale and is a point of keen interest to all tourists.

Burwell—(Special)—The corn is humming these days as twenty men and women are busy preparing and canning sweet corn.

As soon as the tomatoes come in the number of employees will be doubled. Some beans will also be canned and if a double shift is required, some eighty persons will be employed.

The acreage in surrounding territory has been increased this year. Orville Marquardt, manager checks the fields of corn before any comes into the cannery. If there are farmers who do not belong to the association and have corn they may contact Orville Marquardt to arrange for selling their corn.

Error Ends Hope of Davis Winning

600 Votes Added to Total of Knickrehm; Barber
Wins at North Loup.

After leading Knickrehm by a narrow margin, Clarence M. Davis, Ord's candidate for the railway commission, dropped behind in the race and lost hope.

Since the sun was almost at its peak for the day and we were becoming hungry, we ate our lunch under the palms enjoying the ocean breeze as well as the lunch.

After lunch we again made our way up the cliff to the road and were on our way. Toward the Blow Hole which is a large hole in the shore, table rock under which the waves force the sea water. Having no other alternative, the water is forced through this opening and many feet into the air. Several years ago a fisherman slipped into this place and was drowned by the terrific suction created as the water runs back into this aperture. Needless to say, no more was ever seen of this fellow.

But a short distance further a majestic old light house stands on Makapuu Point all alone but with a look of great importance. Just beyond is the site of an ancient village long since vanished with only the ruins of old grass huts to mark the spot.

While on our way to Kaneoche Bay, we see on the left in the distance The Pali, a famous mountain peak by a pass which leads to Nuuanu Valley. The (Continued on page 10)

AAA News Notes

Farmers Urged to Insure Crop.

The closing date on crop insurance gets closer and there are still some farmers in Valley county who have not availed themselves of this protection.

American farmers lose one hundred million dollars a year in wheat crop failure. If every wheat grower insured his crop one half or three fourths of that loss could be avoided.

Crop insurance is an important part of the Ever-Normal-Granary plan for agriculture. This program gives farmers acreage allotments, wheat loans and marketing quotas for price security, and crop insurance for yield security. Loans have put a floor under wheat prices and parity payments have added to wheat income; but commodity loans cannot help the farmer who suffers crop failure.

Protection Always Needed.

Most of you farmers have fire insurance on your buildings, health and accident insurance for yourselves and damage liability insurance on your cars. You buy such insurance for a long period of time. You pay premiums on all of this insurance every year as a matter of protection to yourselves and your families. Crop insurance works the same way, we need protection every year—not just now and then.

Uncertainties of wheat growing make it unprofitable to insure one year and not the next. If you won't take a chance on your building burning you shouldn't take a chance on your wheat being destroyed by unavoidable hazards.

Deadline Approaches.

Sit down and figure your cost of producing wheat since you've been farming, consider the hazards and the crop losses you have had. Remember it is good business to protect your investments in the light of known risks that are always present and remember August 31 is the closing date for taking crop insurance.

Ten per cent of your income in War Bonds will help to build the planes and tanks that will insure defeat of Hitler and his Axis partners.

—The truckers of Ord were very happy when F. J. Dworak donated the 18-foot 4-inch iron pipe which set in the sidewalk in front of the Savage produce station for many years. The pipe, which was originally used to support a sign, stood squarely in front of the door, and the truckers often hit it when they backed up to the door to load the cream cans. The pipe had been bent by so many trucks that it stood at about a 45 degree angle and looked like an anti-aircraft gun. When Mr. Dworak suggested to Mr. Savage that he have the truckers fix the pipe up straight again, Mr. Savage suggested that the pipe be donated to the USO to help the salvage drive as it no longer served a useful purpose and Mr. Dworak immediately acted upon the suggestion. The Burlington crew tore the pipe loose from concrete and hauled it to the car where it was loaded, and soon what looked like an anti-aircraft gun may actually be one.

Here are some excerpts taken from Menzo Fuller's letters to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fuller. Menzo is with the 94th battalion of the U. S. army in Australia, went over with the first group that was sent. He specializes in mechanics, graduating from mechanics school in Baltimore, and according to this letter is now a corporal technician:

June 6—Dear Mom and Dad:

I've found three fellows here I know but haven't seen them yet. They are Lloyd Johnson of Horace, Howard Krebs of Scotia and James Barta of Ord. They came in this outfit with the last bunch of replacements but none of them are in our battery. I hope to see them some day.

July 17—Since the last episode I haven't been in camp but just a few days. We made two convoys of 900 miles and just after we got back we moved down here to fix up the stuff that came over from the states. What we have seen so far is better than what came over first. I guess they were on the water about four months. We'll probably be here a couple of weeks. The convoys were lots of fun but kinda tough. We drove through mountains, clouds, jungles and what have you. It was a new experience for most of us to actually drive through clouds. We saw some beautiful scenery and the ones who have cameras got a lot of pictures so I'll try to get some prints. We were changed from specialists to technicians the other day. It leaves me wearing corporal stripes with a letter T below. So the address is Tech 5th grade instead of private. The mosquitoes here are the kind that say "Shall we eat him here or drag him down to the swamp and leave him until morning?" I can hear them talking about it already and it is time to turn in anyway.—Your son, Menzo.

Iona Thomas, who has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Merrill Koelling since Sunday, left on the Tuesday morning bus for her home at Eustis. Miss Thomas is teaching in the schools of Illinois.

NUMBER 57 ★ Interesting facts about the world's most versatile food ★ 7 lists of real money-saving foods ★ A four-part story about a great discovery

Things you may not know and should . . . about tomatoes

An article prepared by the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

Tomatoes are without question the most versatile of all foods. They have a place at every meal—tomato juice; soup, salad, sandwiches, sauces, relishes—and they are equally good cooked or uncooked.

Tomato connoisseurs say the best way to enjoy them is to first scald them, then chill, peel, slice, and salt them. But there many other ways, too.

Tomatoes are wonderful for adding sparkle to other foods—meats, macaroni and spaghetti dishes, and vegetable casseroles. You'll find that round steak, pork or veal chops and steaks, shoulder lamb chops, and similar cuts of meat are more tender and flavorful when braised in tomato juice or tomato soup instead of water.

TOMATO JUICE

10 lbs. tomatoes 2 tps. salt
Wash and core but do not peel tomatoes. Cut in eights. Place in large 8-qt. kettle; add 2 cups water; cover; boil 10 minutes. Put through sieve to remove seeds. Add salt and heat to boiling. Pour into hot sterilized jars or bottles; seal, and pasteurize (directions follow). Makes about 7 pts. juice.

Bottling and Pasteurization

Do not use lids with zinc tops. Wash jars thoroughly; sterilize by placing in boiling water for 10 minutes. Heat juice to 175° F. to 180° F. Pour into hot jars, filling just to 1½ inches from the top to allow room for expansion. Seal at once, according to type of lid. Place hot jars in water which has been heated to 160° F. to 185° F. Stand jars upright on rack; have completely covered with water. Heat water to 175° F. to 185° F. and hold temperature 30 minutes. Do not heat higher than 185° F. Remove immediately from hot water. Test seals for tightness. Let cool undisturbed in place free from draft. When cold, wipe off and store.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Housewives should prepare for a mouse invasion in this locality next autumn. Farmers out in the country say that they have never seen mice so thick before. Every grain shock has from one to a half dozen under it. We've seen fields around Ord carrying a hundred visible mice per acre. There are short-tailed mice, white-footed mice, house mice, and other kinds, all doing their bit to sabotage the food production program.

The blame for this mouse epidemic is ours. We've done too good a job of destroying their enemies. Some farmers report they haven't seen a bull snake all summer. It's fun to kill snakes, and most everyone does it, but we may have to import some of these rodent eaters if mice start on multiplying.

Hawks and owls are scarce too. Shooting one of these birds is like turning loose a thousand mice. When the migratory hawks come through this fall they ought not be mistreated, because each bird is capable of catching ten mice per day.

Rodents of all kinds are increasing and they cause damage in many ways. Ground squirrel holes have caused expensive ditch breaks on the North Loup irrigation canals, and consequent drought damage to thousands of crop acres. Ground squirrels have long been known to carry bubonic plague in California. Other diseases spread by rodents in this country are typhus fever by rats, spotted fever and tularemia by rabbits.

I am writing to ask a change of address on our Quiz from 1110 First Avenue to 1211 Baines Street, Charleston, W. Va.

We are having a very wet season here and having lived in Nebraska so many years, I cannot help but wish that farmers there might also be favored with as much rain as the states east.

However, I see in the Quiz that there was a fair crop of small grain and am hoping that there may be a lot of corn.

I think a few months ago it was stated in your paper that the discoverer of butadiene was a cousin of Mr. Leggett. It might interest you to know that an eighty million dollar plant is now being built here for the manufacture of this new rubber substitute. It will be an immense plant when it is finished. The Carbide and Carbon Chemical Company will operate it.

This city claims to lead in the number of navy enlistments in this part of the United States.

A number of Nebraska friends of the Albert Flint family, who have lived here since 1925, may be interested to hear that they are quite well and busy. Mrs. Flint and Virginia are teaching.

Robert is employed by the farm bureau and Fred at DuPont chemical plant. Mr. Flint's health is some better than a few years ago.

Well, the war is making a change in the program of nearly every family in our country and it certainly has in ours.

Dam on Lee Farm Near North Loup Shows Value in Impounding Flood Waters

Three men worked about ten days with horses, tractors and freshoes to build the dam, moving 1,000 cubic yards of soil. It is 99 feet long is across the south branch of Mira creek, a half mile north of bridge on the North Loup-Arcadia highway. The water, impounding from recent rains, is now being used to irrigate crops, but the primary purpose of the dam is to prevent soil erosion.

R. Clare Clement, AAA chairman reports that Mr. Lee received $61.74 in soil building payments for making this dam. Constructions of this type can earn as much as $150 in soil building payments, Mr. Clement says, but Mr. Lee was not eligible for more than amount paid owing to previous earnings. The dam is in a draw just outside of a pasture.

pass is approximately 500 feet above the valley on the side of the range of mountains we are on. Less than a year ago a man dove off the precipice and suffered only one broken member and was otherwise unharmed. The reason for this, being the terrific updraft of air that almost constantly rushes up toward the Pall pass and over its top so strong one can hardly stay one's feet without holding to the rail around the observation platform. To reach the Pall one must take a very winding treacherous road which from our point of vantage looked like a giant serpent winding its way up the mountain side.

Kaneohe Bay is quite large with a beautiful beach and it is the site of Kaneohe Naval Air Station of which little can be said because of the war.

As we left the Bay we saw several native fellows body surfing. This is done without the aid of a board and merely by arching the back and curving in ones shoulders forming a cup shaped surface of the chest on which one allows the waves to hurl them toward the shore at a speed which scares you to death on the first attempt. After two attempts at this with not much success and minus considerable skin from coral cuts we decided if we were to reach Coopers Ranch by nightfall we must be on our way.

At about 3:30 that afternoon we stopped at Kaaawa park to refresh ourselves with a swim and cool our sun baked backs. Although well tanned before we could feel the sun's piercing rays, for we had been out in it six hours.

After our dip we rode for some time just taking in the tropical growth along the highway, when at last we reached Coopers Ranch Inn where we had planned to spend the night. Upon arrival we were disappointed by not being able to get accommodations, so we decided to sleep on the blankets we had brought with us.

After we had eaten a fine meal at the Inn we took a walk to get the kinks out of our legs and then prepared to retire.

The site we had previously chosen for a camp, we then discovered to be inhabited by several hills of large ants. Not caring for their company, we moved to another spot. Just as we got fairly comfortable, the mosquitoes began to pester us and our only alternative was cover up our heads and make the best of it.

At about 6 o'clock Sunday morning we got up. After an almost hour long drive we were again on our way. This time toward the Mormon temple. As one comes upon this place a huge iron gate and entry-way with a background of stately white royal palms and behind those trees a temple of marble and white stucco, fronted by four pools each at a different level, leading to the temple like huge steps of water. This temple is being used by the Mormon people for special ceremonies only attended by a few very high ranking members of the church.

Leaving the temple at 9:30 we made our way toward Kahuku, on the way we saw a huge rock island just off the shore called The Chinaman's Hat because of its shape. We reached Kahuku, a plantation town where most of inhabitants work in the sugar mill or in the cane fields. Feeling the need of a cold drink we stopped for a bottle of soda and while seated on the porch of the store a group of children made of many nationalities came up to us. One little Hawaiian asked us to toss up a coin saying they would scramble for it. This we did and the ensuing battle was very amusing. These children would wrestle like nothing you've ever seen until one got a hold on the coin, then they would stop at once and wait for another. While this was going on each child was talking and swearing part in English and part in his or her own language, unlike anything I've ever heard.

After we left these children, we pedaled about the town looking at the houses and buildings which were constructed for most part in the cracker box fashion.

At noon we were on the north ern-most part of Oahu and in a few minutes we were at the Territorial Industrial school for boys which is much the same as those on the mainland with the exception that here the boys are given more freedom to do as they wish as long as they behave. Haleiwa a few miles beyond the school is rather deserted now. But in peacetime it is a busy spot living on the trade from tourists who come to visit its wonderful beach and coral gardens, well known to all those who visit the islands.

Next we encountered the vast acreages of the pineapple plantations which is one place I shall never forget. The main reason being this: We stopped beside the road and picked two

Hospitality Extended to Chicks Costly

Mr. Mohr Would Appreciate No Unsolicited Orders from Hatcheries.

Giving a home to three hundred yelping young chicks cost P. H. Mohr, prominent citizen of Burwell, nearly ten dollars. Two weeks ago a rural mail carrier called at the Mohr home and notified Mr. Mohr that his bachelor son, Otto, had ordered 300 baby chicks which had arrived that morning c.o.d. The mail carrier's route extended fifty miles, even reaching over into Holt county and as Mr. Mohr's son lives on the end of the route which is the last to be served, the carrier pointed out that as the day was warm the chicks would likely all be dead by the time they were delivered.

Mr. Mohr agreed with him, but since his son never raised chickens, even in proper season, he could not see why he would choose to do so now with winter approaching.

But he went to the postoffice, examined the label which plainly read "Otto Mohr" and after due consideration paid the postmaster a check of $26.38 for the chicks which were declared to be triple A white leg-horns.

He loaded the little peepers into his car and proceeded to deliver them to his son, who lives ten miles north of Burwell. Upon arrival Otto declared, "Why Dad, I never ordered any chicks."

Immediately Mr. Mohr drove back to town with his chirping brood which he returned to the postoffice. He notified the postmaster that there must be some mistake and asked to have his money back. "We're sorry, Mr. Mohr," she declared, "You've accepted the chickens and settled for them and as far as we're concerned they're yours."

Because he could think of nothing better to do, Mr. Mohr took the chickens home where he and his good wife brooded them in the basement. He immediately wrote to a Belton, Mo., hatchery, who mailed the chickens to his son, informing them of his misfortune but they did not choose to answer his letters.

He has enlisted the aid of County Attorney William F. Manasli but to date, the lawyer has received no acknowledgment of his efforts on the behalf of justice.

Meanwhile Mr. Mohr found a buyer for his brood and disposed of the chirpers for $16.80 to Ludwig Gross. In spite of the loving care of Mr. and Mrs. Mohr, twenty of the little darlings passed away during the time the Mohrs enjoyed their company.

Mr. Mohr pocketed a loss of $9.58 on the transaction, to say nothing of the feed his little feathered friends consumed and the wear and tear on their basement stairs.

Next time a hatchery has a mess of chicks for which they want a good home, Mr. Mohr hopes that they send them to some one else other than his son.

Neligh Beats Ord 9 to 4 at Spalding

Local Boys Overworked by Tryouts at Cardinal's Camp in Omaha.

Neligh defeated the Ord American Junior baseball team 9-4, in a game played Thursday at the Greeley County fair in Spalding. The Sunday previous Ord was victorious over the same team by a 9 to 1 score in a game played at the Wheeler county fair in Bartlett.

Neligh started to score at the start of the game, rolling up three scores in the first inning. Neligh made two runs in the second inning, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the ninth. Faulk scored for Ord in the second, Fryzek in the sixth and Novosad in the ninth.

Ord's pitchers were not in the best condition as Faulk, Bill Novosad and Fryzek had spent four days in Omaha where they tried out at the St. Louis Cardinals training camp. The scouts from St. Louis were favorably impressed with the Ord boys and ordered Faulk and Novosad to come back when they had finished high school. The boys went to Omaha Sunday directly from Bartlett and did not return to Ord until Wednesday. The stiff work out they went through in Omaha lowered the usual quality of their performances on the mound.

Upstream Ranch Herd to Be Sold Monday, Sept. 7

The entrance of Al Briggs, manager of the Upstream ranch, into military service, has necessitated one of the largest dispersion sales of the season. All the livestock and equipment will be sold at the ranch 21 miles northwest of Burwell and 16 miles north of Taylor, Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7. The sale is being put on by the Burwell Livestock Market. James Webb of Grand Island will be the auctioneer.

Included in the offering are 290 head of Hereford cattle, nine horses including some fancy saddle stock, and complete line of ranch equipment. The ranch is owned by Dr. J. E. Thomsen of Lincoln. The personal property is jointly owned by Dr. Thomsen and Mr. Briggs.

Mrs. Ray Hunt Taught Here Before Marriage

Mrs. Ada Hunt, wife of Dr. Ray S. Hunt, formerly pastor of the First Christian church in Lincoln, who died August 18, at one time was a teacher in the Ord schools. Before her marriage in 1911 Mrs. Hunt was Miss Ada Bash. Following her graduation from Culver college she taught in Ord two years, being principal the last year.

Mrs. Hunt was widely known and took a prominent part in religious and social affairs in Lincoln. She was stricken with a heart attack July 4 and from that time until recently she was a patient in a Lincoln hospital. The Hunts have lived in Lincoln since 1924. He resigned his pastorate in March to accept a call to the Central Christian church in Texarkana, Tex. Mrs. Hunt suffered her first heart attack when preparing to move and owing to her health their departure from Lincoln was delayed.

Hen Suspected of Subversive Deed

A hen on the Joe Wadas farm is suspected of fifth column activities. Last week she laid an egg with the Japanese emblem of the rising sun plainly imprinted on the shell. Mike Savage, Ord produce dealer, discovered the offending egg in a case which was brought in from the Wadas farm. Immediately he candled it but found the egg was good. He would like to provide Hirohito with a shampoo from the egg. Mr. Savage believes that by the time the egg reaches Japan it will have acquired the proper degree of ripeness. But he is puzzled how to make the delivery. Any one having suggestions is asked to give them to Mr. Savage.

Cars Used in July Require $5 Stamp

Deputy revenue collectors checked cars here for stamps Monday. Owners of cars bearing the $4.50 August stamp were questioned as to whether autos were used in July and those answering in the affirmative were required to purchase a $5 stamp. Dr. Round Sworn in As Army Physician

Dr. John N. Round became a member of the United States army medical corps, with the rank of captain, when he took the oath last week in Omaha. He will be in Ord until about Sept. 20, at which time he will report for army service. His family hopes to join him as soon as he is permanently assigned. He will be attached to the air corps.

Dr. and Mrs. Round returned Saturday noon from Omaha accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Misko and son, Wade, who had been visiting relatives there.

Loup Valley Fair Opens Next Week

Large 4-H Club Exhibits Are Expected; War Stamps to Be Given As Prizes.

The Loup Valley Free Fair takes place next week in Ord. Tuesday, Sept. 1 is opening day and all exhibits must be in place by 4 o'clock. Much interest is being shown this year in 4-H club exhibits, according to C. C. Dale, county agent. An exhibit larger than usual is anticipated of canned goods, owing to the special emphasis put on the Food for Freedom program. The fair will be held on the grounds this year.

No admission will be charged and no program will be given. Premiums will be paid in defense stamps and exhibitors are asked to call for their prizes the last day of the fair (Friday) from the superintendents of the various departments.

Harold Parks Back from Canal Zone

Harold Parks, Jr., of Denver, who is here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parks, visiting Ord relatives, told Rotarians Monday night about experiences while he was employed in the Panama Canal Zone. The Parks family formerly lived in Ord.

While in Panama young Parks worked in the main office of the contractor who was building the new Trans-Isthmian highway connecting Colon, Christobal and Balboa—a stretch of about fifty miles paralleling the Panama railroad. Until now there never has been a highway across the isthmus.

Workmen battled the jungle and its attendant dangers—malaria and snakes—in building the new highway, Parks said.

He described a journey thru the Miraflores and Pedro Miguel locks by boat, stating that each lock is 1,000 feet long, 125 feet wide and 95 feet deep and that ships going through the canal are elevated 300 feet above sea level in making the journey.

Women Invited to Triple A Meeting

Next Saturday at two o'clock will be the first of a series of Triple A meetings being held for the ladies of Valley county. The meeting will be held in the Christian church basement. Ladies of Elyria and independent townships are being asked to attend.

Precinct committeemen's wives from these two townships will be in charge of the entertainment presented. People appearing on the program will be: Mrs. J. A. Kovanda of Ord; Mrs. Bernice Weaver of Elyria; Mrs. Viola Lee of North Loup and Mrs. Leota Runyan of Mason City. Mrs. Inez Burrows, Valley county farmer fieldwoman has planned this meeting. You are invited to attend.

Miss Amelia Mathauser left Burwell Wednesday to return to Washington, D. C., after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mathauser, who live next door.

Valley Co. Needs 12 Rural Teachers

Schools to Start August 31; Preopening Meeting Is to Be Held Friday.

A preschool opening meeting for the rural teachers of Valley county will be held in the courthouse Friday, August 28. The teachers will receive their supplies at this meeting which will commence at 10 o'clock. A session will also be held in the afternoon.

Miss Clara McClatchey, the county superintendent, announces that twelve rural schools are still without teachers.

One rural high school needs an instructor. Teachers who have been hired recently are Miss Mary Callahan of St. Paul, who contracted to teach the Elyria high school, Esther Anderson in District 3, and Mrs. Wilma Hagood True will replace Mavis Warden, who was recently married, in District 25. Miss McClatchey announces that most rural schools in Valley county will commence August 31. The Ord high school opens September 7.

Kenneth Draper Sells Store to A. R. Brox

Tuesday afternoon a deal was completed by which A. R. Brox becomes owner of the suburban grocery conducted in Ord for the past 3½ years by Kenneth Draper. He will take possession Sept. 1. Mr. Draper's plans are still somewhat indefinite. Sunday he went to North Platte to consult Union Pacific officials relative to entering the employ of the railroad as a fireman, and is considering such employment. The Draper family probably will move either to Lexington or North Platte soon after Sept. 1.

Seventy-five carloads of potatoes have been shipped from Burwell so far this season with a large acreage of late potatoes still to be harvested. D. W. Sartain has dug a fifteen acre field which yielded 437 bushels per acre and a twenty-four acre field which averaged 367 bushels.

Selective Service Abandons Class 1B

5,600 Nebraskans Are Now Available for Limited Duty in Army.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 26—Abandonment of Class 1-B by selective service as announced in Washington last week will speed replacement with limited service registrants of men qualified for combat duty who are now assigned to non-combatant posts with the armed forces, Brig. Gen. Guy N. Henninger, state director, said.

There are now approximately 5,600 men classified as 1-B in Nebraska, who during the next four months, will be reclassified. It is expected, he said, that most of these will be placed in class 1-A but some will be turned back with 4-F classifications.

"The abandonment of class 1-B by selective service will add substantially to the 1-A manpower reservoir between now and the first of the year," the general said.

"While this step will tend to relieve the induction pressure from the ranks of men now classified at 1-A and potentially fit for combat service, it will not mean that the induction of married men will stop," General Henninger continued. "The induction rate of married men between now and the first of the year may be lessened a little by the abandonment of Class 1-B but it will not cease."

Men now classified as 1-B are those considered fit only for limited military service. Their ranks include men with deficiencies in hearing, sight and those who are afflicted with other minor physical disabilities.

Registrants of this group who are to be reclassified beginning in September will be entitled to the same deferment rights of dependency and occupation as are accorded to men already classified as 1-A.

General Henninger cautioned registrants that a notice from a local board to report for a preliminary physical examination does not mean "you're in the army." In the case of men already classified such a notice, the general said, merely constitutes the first step of reclassification.

After reclassification is made, the registrant is to receive a proper notice of his new class and, if he has objections, he may then appeal. However, employers who wish to seek occupational deferment for an employee should apply to the local boards for the proper forms when reclassification seems imminent.

Notes From the

VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU
By C. C. Dale

Are Canning Acids Harmful?

Salicylic acid and benzoate of soda are chemical preservatives advertised for home canning.

These and canning powders vary in their effects on the human body. Some are more harmful than others. Therefore, home economists have the same answer for all questions about using chemical preservatives for home canning. It is "Do not use them." The safe way to process food correctly is to use heat correctly and not to use chemical preservatives.

Care of Knives.

Dull and inefficient knives waste time, cause annoyance, and also waste food. Knives are made of valuable metal and should be given good care.

A few points to follow in caring for knives are:

1. Knives keep sharp longer if properly stored. Have a place for each knife. Wall racks or divided drawers where edges of knives will not strike each other are recommended.

2. If a knife blade is heated, the temper of the steel is destroyed. Stir the fried potatoes with some utensil other than a steel knife.

3. Use knives only for the purpose for which they are made.

A bread knife should not be used for meat, a keen edge carving knife will become dulled by cutting bread.

4. Clean knives immediately after use. They will clean with less effort, look better and wear longer.

5. Don't soak knives in hot water. Handles of wood or synthetic compositions may chip, crack or become discolored.

6. Keep knives sharp. A sharp knife saves time and energy. Carborundum stones give ordinary knives the best wearing edge. Do not sharpen knives on a crock or the concrete steps.

County fair attendance is good. Last week we saw a record breaking first day crowd at the Nance county fair in Fullerton. The Spalding fair grounds were full of spectators both day and night.

Broken Bow had a rush at the evening gate. Burwell was obliged to turn folks away. People have more money in their pockets than usual, and are spending it nearer home.

An old fashioned fair, featuring rural exhibits, is planned for Valley county. There will be a nice showing of hogs, beef and dairy cattle at the local grounds next week. The crops display should excel any of former years as weather has been favorable.

The fair will be largely a young peoples' event. They will bring exhibits, put on demonstrations, and compete in a series of judging contests.

Crops judging takes place on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. In addition to the scoring of grain samples, a number of common grasses and weeds will be included for identification.

Livestock judging is scheduled for Thursday morning at the same time. Dairy cattle will probably be included with the other classes. Oral reasons for placings will be required, if enough volunteer help can be secured to assist with this phase of the contest. The competition is open to club members and agricultural students who are undergraduates and live in the county.

V Mail Service

V-Mail letter sheets have been distributed at all post offices, and have been provided all military and naval personnel at overseas points through army and navy post offices and military channels.

Private firms and individuals have also been permitted by the Post Office department to reproduce the letter sheets. The sheets also will be available soon to all stores selling stationery.

Watch Addresses.

V-Mail service provides for the use by patrons of a special letter sheet form which is a combination letter and envelope of uniform size and design. The patron writes his message, completes the name and address of the addressee and the return card in the space provided, folds, seals, and mails the letter in the usual manner. Patrons are warned that only the inner or letter side of the V-Mail letters are photographed, and should be careful to show the complete address of the person to whom the message is sent in the panel provided therefore above the space for the message. It is preferable to print the address in large block letters. Enclosures must not be placed in the letters.

V-Mail letters are photographed on micro-film by automatic machines at the rate of 2,000 to 2,500 per hour and the film rolls containing 1,500 letters each are transmitted to destinations. Reproductions are then made by other automatic machines and delivered to the addressee in the individual sealed window penalty envelopes.

Dr. Kruml is Chief of Staff in Well Equipped Hospital at Training Field

Ord Physician is Now Head of Surgical Service at Jefferson Barracks.

The doctor held his finger to his lips, cautioning quiet.

There were two tiny babies, sound asleep in their bassinets.

The scene could be duplicated in thousands of hospitals throughout America. But not imagined in the military setting of an Army camp in war time, such as Jefferson Barracks today. And with the doctor in khaki, gold-color Caducus on left collar-point, U.S. on the right—signifying his being a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army Medical Corps.

The officer is Maj. Joseph G. Kruml, chief of the Post Surgical Service under Col. James R. McDowell, Post Surgeon and hospital commanding officer.

The "OB" section and the nursery are an excellent example of the Army's all-out effort to help its officers and men.

Big Morale Builder.

"Having his wife and children properly cared for is a big morale builder," Col. McDowell says. "The Army always looks after dependents in peace time. But we make a feature of caring for them here, not only this way but in all medical and surgical care."

The colonel explains that the hospital currently is treating the wife of an Air Forces man in Alaska, one in Panama and one in Australia, besides those residents here.

Probably the most fascinating and unusual point of the Surgical Service, which embraces the big stone main building as well as a number of more recent ward buildings, the "OB" section occupies only a particle of the

Maj. Kruml is proud of the Surgical Service. "We have all up-to-date, modern equipment," he says. "In case of a serious emergency blood is typed immediately, and we can supply a donor and a blood transfusion within 15 minutes."

The service is divided into five main sections: General Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Septic Surgery, and Urological.

One is inclined to ask why such a large surgical department is necessary, in a non-combat zone. The answer is "that much

Cuts Mail Volume.

When V-Mail letters are addressed to places where micro-film equipment is not in operation, the letters are transmitted to destination in original form by the most expeditious means available. Even in these instances savings in weight and space are accomplished since there are approximately 97 V-Mail letters in a pound, whereas, ordinary letters average .40 per pound.

The war, navy and Post Office departments all cooperated in developing this service, largely with a view to decreasing the volume of mail to be carried overseas and providing an expeditious service.

The public is urged to use it at every opportunity.

of the surgery is corrective. Physical defects are remedied. The major says that much of such work is foot surgery, made necessary by ill-fitting shoes in civilian life. And the pleasure car contributes many patients, as in civilian life, from pass leave and furlough accidents.

Nothing Left to Chance.

The number of rooms, number of surgeons, the number of beds and patients cannot be told. Enemy agents could take those figures and draw accurate estimates of the number of men on the Post.

But it is safe to say that there are three operating rooms, one air-conditioned, and one emergency room which receives ambulance patients. There seem to be miles of quiet corridors, white beds. The service is smooth-running, like a well-oiled machine.

Hospitals are clean and efficient, military ones especially so. The one at Jefferson Barracks is considered "excellent plus" in all respects.

Nothing is left to chance at the hospital, larger than most civilian ones. Inter-service consultation is available and made use of at all times," Major Kruml explains. "Any diagnostic measure necessary is employed." He refers to the close cooperation and working together of his Surgical Service, Medical Service whose chief is Maj. Willoughby Park Richardson, and the X-ray Service, until recently under surgery, but now a separate service headed by Capt. Wayne K. Cooper.

Maj. Kruml, 20 months here from successful practice in Ord, Neb., was commissioned in the Medical Corps Reserves in 1929. His experience includes service at Mercy Hospital, Council Bluffs, Ia., and Mercy Hospital, Des Moines. He lives on the Post with Mrs. Kruml and their four children.
