THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1942

Vol. 60 No. 32

Will Register for Gas Ration Books Nov. 12, 13 and 14

Most Drivers to Get "A" Coupon Books Good for Four Gallons Gas Weekly.

All car owners are urged by Vern W. Russell, chairman of the Valley county rationing board to go to their gasoline dealer immediately and obtain an application blank for basic gas rationing, which will take place Nov. 12, 13 and 14.

Registration for coupon books will take place at all school houses in the county on either Nov. 12, 13 or 14, the exact date to be selected by the teacher in each district, says Miss McClatchey.

In Ord registration will take place from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m. of the first day, Thursday, Nov. 12, at the high school building, says Supt. Thompson.

Every car owner must obtain in advance and have completely filled out and signed when he goes to the school house to register one of the application blanks which can be obtained from all tire and gasoline dealers or from Mrs. Grace Sprague, clerk of the Valley county rationing board.

Chairman Russell points out that the registered car owner must sign the application even though his name is on the application at the school house.

Most Valley county drivers will be limited to "A" ration books, allowing four gallons a week. Supplemental books will be issued only to those needing them for essential driving.

The Dunhams' son is in an army camp in Denver and their daughter is attending college. Mrs. Dunham came here three weeks ago and planned to join her husband when he came to Chicago early in November to attend a convention.

Chanticleers Give Loup City 21 to 7 Defeat Friday Eve

The Chanticleers toppled undefeated Loup City 21 to 7 Friday night and thus took possession of the lead in conference play, in a game played on the Sherman county team's field. This is the sixteenth straight game for Ord without defeat, though three ties are included in the total.

George Cetak was back in top form Friday and made two of his team's touchdowns, one on a line smash and the other on a 30-yard runback of an intercepted pass. Floyd Stewart made the other score after a 25-yard run.

Valley Co. Fair Uncertain for '43

To hold a Valley county fair or not in 1943—that is the question. Stockholders in their annual meeting Monday afternoon admitted frankly that conditions are so uncertain it is impossible to plan for the future so the whole question was tossed into the laps of directors, with authority to decide.

Three new directors were elected, Henry Enger, who succeeded himself, Robert Noll and William Zablouil. All will serve 3-year terms.

Blood Poisoning Claims Girl of 14

North Loup—(Special)—Carol Leonard, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Leonard, died at her home here October 28 as the result of an attack of blood poisoning. She was ill only a few days. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church with Rev. Hansberry in charge and classmates serving as pallbearers, and interment was in Hillside cemetery.

The little girl was born on a farm in Mira Valley Aug. 6, 1928 and lived there until 4 1/2 years ago when she moved to town with her parents. She was a member of the freshman class of the high school, where she was popular both with her teachers and schoolmates.

Foster May Choice of School Voters

The Ord high school body evidently votes as it pleases, and not after any family pattern, for on Tuesday at the elections Foster May proved himself the high school's choice with 82 votes to 72 for Wherry and 46 for Norris.

The elections were staged by Mr. Farley's civics class, with members acting as voting officials, to show that civics is not a dry subject, and to interest the whole student body in the privilege of voting which Americans have.

Mildred Athey was head of the democratic committee at the high school; Avery Noll headed the republican committee and Elizabeth Kovanda the independents. A convocation on the subject of elections was held more than a week ago, when Mayor Cummins spoke to the students.

E. C. James polled 130 votes at the high school to Doyle's 75. Dr. Miller won, 104 votes to Lanigan's 99. Governor Griswold was reelected by 127 votes to 69 for former governor Charles Bryan.

Clyde Baker was given 117 votes for clerk of the district court, with Verne Russell, the write-in candidate, getting 77 votes, and 10 votes spoiled. Some ballots were spoiled in nearly every race at the high school, but the students learned how by doing, at any rate.

In the race for Valley county sheriff the high school students decided to give Mr. Hall 111 votes and Sheriff George Round only 89 votes.

All in all the civics class and Mr. Farley were more than pleased at the enthusiasm shown by the young voters, and also at the knowledge of how to vote the students gained in the mock elections.

The high school is agog over the coming carnival, with Friday the big evening. Entertainment will include "telegrams" a lucky fish pool, a chance on $10 worth of defense stamps, bingo, athletic contests and several more features.

Fred Cahill Named to Ord School Board

The Ord board of education at its monthly meeting Monday evening selected F. V. Cahill to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of O. E. Johnson, upon his removal to Norfolk, and Mr. Cahill will take his seat on the board in December.

Bob Hall Elected Sheriff

G. O. P. Makes Clean Sweep of Nebraska, Leads thru Nation

Wherry Gets More Votes than Norris and May Combined; Big Republican Gains.

In Nebraska and throughout the nation the republican party was riding high Tuesday night, electing Kenneth Wherry senator and Dwight Griswold, governor here, as well as sweeping the congressional races and minor state offices, and making big gains in other states.

Wherry polled as many votes as his two opponents, Senator Norris and Democrat Foster May polled together, and was conceded election at an early hour Tuesday evening. Governor Griswold ran 3 and 4 to 1 over his opponent, Ex-Governor Bryan.

Although the race was still close at noon Wednesday it looked like Howard Buffett had defeated Congressman McLaughlin in the Omaha district, while Carl T. Curtis and Karl Stefan, republicans, were reelected and Dr. A. L. Miller was well ahead of his democrat adversary, Tom W. Lanigan.

Over the country the republican landslide continued, the G. O. P. electing five new governors, gaining ten seats in the U. S. senate and 39 seats in the House of Representatives. The New Deal will still have control of congress, but by a small margin.

In the vote for minor Nebraska offices the republican trend continued strongly with Roy William Johnson conceded election as lieutenant governor, Frank Marsh as secretary of state, Ray C. Johnson as auditor, Carl G. Swanson, state treasurer, Walter R. Johnson attorney-general and John Knickrehm railway commissioner.

Apparently Wayne O. Reed has defeated Charles W. Taylor for state superintendent of schools on the non-political ballot though final returns might upset this result.

77 Ord Students Out Picking Corn

Seventy-seven Ord high school boys are taking two weeks vacation from school to pick corn, it was announced Monday by F. L. Stoddard, high school principal. Most of the boys are picking corn on their own farms but several are working for other farmers who need help in getting their crops harvested.

At the request of the USDA war board, the high school decided to grant leaves of absence to boys for corn picking between Oct. 28 and Nov. 14.

Farm Women Certain the War Will Be Won

Women are in the news everywhere and AAA is no exception. Here are the three alternate committeewomen elected in Valley county for the following year. Left to right they are Mrs. Mary Aufrecht of Yale township, Mrs. Ann Mason of Vinton township, and Mrs. Thelma Johnson of Vinton township.

These three women are typical Valley county patriots, says Mrs. Burrows, AAA farmer-fieldwoman who took this picture. Their cellars are filled with fruits and vegetables, their places are well stocked with poultry and not in one yard can a piece of scrap be seen, Mrs. Burrows says. They all believe America will win the war, and in this photo Mrs. Aufrecht's determined look bodes no good for the Axis.

Mrs. E. C. Leggett drove to Arcadia Wednesday afternoon to meet her mother Mrs. H. J. Ellis, who was brought there from Ansley by Dr. and Mrs. Wilcox. Mrs. Ellis has been spending a few days in Ansley and Omaha, and will visit in Ord before going home.

Pheasant Crashes Windshield, Auto Badly Wrecked

Henry Bredthauer, of Scotia, suffered broken ribs and other injuries about dusk Thursday evening when his automobile overturned near the fair grounds. Two pheasants flew up in front of him and one crashed through the windshield of his car, Mr. Bredthauer related, causing him to lose control of the machine. It overturned two or three times and the top was badly wrecked. Bredthauer was cared for in the Ord hospital.

James Defeated by John F. Doyle

E. C. James of Ord, was defeated by John F. Doyle, of Greeley, for a seat in the unicameral legislature representing the 29th district, the election results disclosed. The vote in the four-county district was 3,845 for Doyle and 3,178 for James at noon Wednesday with one Howard county precinct missing. The four counties voted as follows in this race:

Table with 2 columns: Candidate, Votes. James Doyle: Greeley 681, 1129; Valley 1442, 1009; Wheeler 195, 319; Howard 860, 1388

Mr. James pulled out of Valley county with a lead of over four hundred, this vote shows, which was almost as big a lead as Greeley county gave to Mr. Doyle. The big Howard county majority tipped the scales for the Greeley county man, however, as it has done in former 29th district campaigns.

Catholic Bazaar Saturday. The long-planned bazaar, supper and dance sponsored by the Ord Catholic church will be held Saturday, Nov. 7, at the Bohemian hall. Baked chicken will be featured, along with the other good things always served by the Catholic women. Serving starts at 5:00.

Farm Selectees Sent Back Home

Six farm boys who were among the November selectees reporting for induction Monday morning at the Valley county draft board office were sent back home on 15-day deferments, says Miss Virginia Davis, clerk of the board.

New selective service regulations deferring farmers and ranchmen and their employees, under certain conditions, are now being formulated and the November selectees from these classes were deferred pending clarification of these new rulings. At Burwell all but two of the November group were farmers or ranchmen and were told to return home when they reported Monday.

An unofficial list of those who reported at Fort Crook Monday includes Virgil Lunney, Monte Peterson, LaVern Noyes, Everett Howell, Cassius Pickett, Alvin Smith, Larry Bots, Julius Okrzeski, Arthur Mason, Harry Zukoski, James Cetak, John Fredrick, Verl Ackles, Eldon Sintak, Marion Tresfen, Maynard Behrendts, Wilfred Hansen, also two transfers, Robert Lambdin and Walter Wallace. Some of these men are understood to have been rejected while others were held over for further examination.

Several enlistments have been credited to the draft board office recently, including James Ward, Frank Zadina and Henry Benda, navy; John Hamer Warren Allen, Elmer Peterson and Frank Paddock, army.

Pheasant Blamed for Girl's Broken Hip

Burwell—(Special)—Daryce Donnor, 6 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Donnor was injured seriously Saturday evening when the horse she was riding became frightened at the sudden appearance of a pheasant. The child was thrown to the ground with considerable force breaking and splintering a bone just below the hip. Dr. E. J. Smith was called and her leg was put in a cast. Monday afternoon Daryce was resting easier.

Mrs. E. C. Leggett drove to Arcadia Wednesday afternoon to meet her mother Mrs. H. J. Ellis, who was brought there from Ansley by Dr. and Mrs. Wilcox. Mrs. Ellis has been spending a few days in Ansley and Omaha, and will visit in Ord before going home.

Sheriff Round 192 Votes Behind; Evet Smith to Co. Board

Clyde Baker new Court Clerk, Hansen, Barber and Jablonski Are Relected.

By a margin of almost 200 votes—more than the mail ballots could possibly overcome—Robert "Bob" Hall was swept into the office of Valley county sheriff Tuesday in one of the most surprising upsets in the county's political history. He polled 1,454 votes to only 1,263 for his opponent, Sheriff George S. Round, who has served 25 years in the office. Clyde Baker was swept into the district court clerk's office by 2,051 votes to only 589 for Vern W. Russell.

Except for the election of Hall, who is a democrat, Valley county gave a landslide vote to republican candidates. For United States senator Kenneth Wherry polled 1,317 votes here to 770 for the aging George W. Norris and 594 for Foster May, a trend that was apparent all over Nebraska. Governor Dwight Griswold drew a landslide vote of 1,976 to 645 for Charles W. Bryan.

Dr. A. L. Miller got 1,578 votes in Valley county to his opponent, Tom Lanigan's, 962.

But it is the local races in which most Quiz readers will be interested. Ign. Klina, unopposed, polled 2,382 votes for clerk and George Satterfield, unopposed, got 2,463 for treasurer to lead the ticket. Jason Abernethy, unopposed for assessor, got 2,116, John Misko, unopposed 2,189 for attorney, and Emanuel Jetska, unopposed, 1,877 for surveyor.

In the supervisors' races Joe J. Jablonski edged out Chris Beiers, republican, in Dist. 1, 197 to 147, after Beiers had taken a big early lead in his home precinct, Noble. Evet Smith, republican, defeated the democratic incumbent, Henry Zikmund, 233 to 217 in Dist. 3. J. A. Barber ran away from Walter Paddock, democrat, 262 to 137 in Dist. 5 and S. V. Hansen had no trouble liquidating his democratic adversary, H. A. Bellinger, 287 to 167 in Dist. 7.

On the non-political ballot Valley county gave E. C. James 1,442 and John F. Doyle 1,009. Miss Clara McClatchey got her usual big vote for county superintendent 2,314, even though she was unopposed. Charles W. Taylor edged out Wayne O. Reed for state superintendent in this county, 1,194 to 1,127.

Two new directors will be seated on the North Loup irrigation district board as result of Tuesday's election. In Subdivision 2 W. W. McGinnis ran away from Dr. E. A. Barta 325 to 157, and in Subdivision 1 C. W. McClellan had a safe vote of 189 to 160 for Roy W. Hudson, the present district president. Both Hudson and Barta have been members since the district was organized.

But the most surprising upset of all was the race for sheriff in which Bob Hall so decisively defeated Sheriff Round after a quarter century of service to the county. Only Arcadia, his former home, gave Round the lead expected. In this township he drew ahead of Hall 301 to 175. Other townships giving Round the nod included North Loup, 183 to 158; Yale, 53 to 38; and the first ward of Ord city, 157 to 133. Other voting precincts were all in the Hall column, as follows: Ord 2nd ward, 153 to 87; Ord 3rd ward, 137 to 123; Ord township, 106 to 28; Elyria, 119 to 27; Noble, 81 to 25; Eureka, 58 to 38; Germanium, 45 to 43; Michigan, 45 to 19; Springdale, 45 to 20; Enterprise, 71 to 49; Vinton, 55 to 29; Liberty, 40 to 20; Davis Creek, 37 to 29; Independent, 58 to 31.

In the races for minor state offices, Valley county voters gave the Johnson clan a field day. Roy William Johnson, republican was given a margin of 1,600 over Harry P. Conklin for lieutenant governor; Ray C. Johnson, republican, got 1,603 to W. Marsh's 762 for auditor; Walter R. Johnson, republican, got 1,559 to McLaughlin's 807 for attorney general.

The Swanson and Marsh clans did all right too. Frank Marsh getting 1,596 for secretary of state to 859 for Harry R. Swanson, and Carl G. Swanson getting 1,617 for state treasurer to 773 for Walter Jensen, democrat. John Knickrehm, republican, lead Will M. Maupin here for railway commissioner, 1,445 to 847.

Elected in the various townships were: Noble, Wm. J. Novosad, clerk, Henry Enger, treasurer, Will Adamek, justice, Vlad (Continued on page 10)

Notice To Coal Users!

Because of the tire shortage it is going to be impossible for us to give rush service this fall and winter on 500 and 1,000 pound coal orders. We are going to have to wait until we have a full load to haul before we can move our trucks.

Therefore, we ask those people who are in the habit of buying coal in small quantities to place their orders with the coal dealers 3 or 4 days in advance of the actual time when they need the coal. This will permit us to make several deliveries in the same neighborhood with one truck trip which is the only way we can keep our trucks in operation serving you.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Gasoline rationing is about here. Car owners may pick up their mileage application blanks from some local filling station. We are told that farmers can get what gas they need no more, no less. Back east farmers receive enough for 2,880 miles of passenger car travel, all they must have for tractors and for trucks. There has been little complaint.

Reports are that farmers will be subject to the same gas rationing as other groups. They will have an "A" book allowing 150 miles of occupational driving and 90 miles of family driving per month, starting Nov. 22.

This amount should suffice for many farmers, but for others it will not be enough. Those who want more can apply for a "B" or "C" book allowing supplemental rations of motor fuel.

The "B" book, plus an "A" book is good for occupational driving up to 470 miles per month. For still more driving the applicant must belong to the preferred mileage class. Most farmers actively engaged in agriculture are in this group for essential mileage.

The amount extra gasoline farmers can get will depend on how far they live from town, the number of trips necessary, other mileage needed by their business, and the possibility of neighborhood pooling.

Farmers will be expected to live up to requirements for tire care and inspection. These are mandatory for all holders of gasoline rations.

Each motorist will be given a windshield sticker telling if he holds an A, B or C book. He will also get a handful of papers to carry around.

(From the County Records, October 28, 1942).

Gas Ration Books

The "B" book of 16 coupons may be issued an applicant who shows that his occupational driving exceeds the 150 miles per month provided by the "A" book. The "B" book must last for three months, thus giving the applicant a maximum of 320 miles of additional driving a month. This mileage figure is reached by multiplying 16 coupons by four gallons by 15 miles to the gallon, and by dividing by three months.

Thus a total of 470 miles a month—150 from the "A" book and 320 from the "B"—are possible for occupational driving. But an applicant who can show that he needs more than the "A" book, but less than the full amount of the "B" book will have his supplemental ration book "tailored" by extending its expiration date beyond the three month minimum.

A "B" book thus might be made to last five months, six months or a year. Local boards will be provided with tables determining the date of expiration on the basis of monthly mileage allowed in the application.

Before issuing a "B" book a local board must see that the applicant's needs cannot be met by an "A" book, or an "A" book plus a "B" book. In other words his occupational driving must exceed 470 miles a month.

Services for which "C" books may be issued include medical care, maintenance of public utilities, carrying farm labor, giving religious comfort or assistance, and making official trips on government business.

The "C" book will be issued for three months periods. While a full book will contain 96 coupons the board will tear out coupons to "tailor" each book issued to fit the applicant's needs. More than one "C" book may be issued if necessary.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

The Ord Quiz, Gentlemen:

You probably have heard that clever remark that Pat Fuson or was it Curly Clements, made about why they built the ocean so close to the shore. The fact is that they lacked a helluva lot of building it close to the shore. I ought to know, as I saw plenty of it on the way over here, and most of it was out of sight of land. The further out we got the deeper blue the water got, and I know now what ultramarine blue really is. There is nothing more beautiful to be seen than the deep blue sea. Further, I came all the way across without getting seasick, which was more than some of the boys did.

Speaking of that construction job, when they built the ocean, I mean, reminds me of the old lady who was embued with the spirit of helpfulness at the time and added her bit of material at the same time expressing the conviction that it would help. Frankly, I think it must have taken a large number of old ladies, and they must have been busy on the job a long time. The fact that it took so long indicates that it must have been built by the democrats, or possibly the Valley county board under the direction of Ellsworth Ball, jr.

I heard something that made me laugh the other day. It seems that after I left Ord and was no longer there to defend myself, Little Ellsworth started the fantastic tale that he had already chased Pat Fuson out of Ord, and that now he had gone a lot farther than Pat did. It is true that I went a long way, and it is also true that Ellsworth did chase Pat out of town, but he didn't chase me. I ain't afraid of him any time, and I just dare him to come out here and say it to my face. He can bring county attorney John P. Misko with him if he thinks it won't jeopardize his chances too much.

Anyway, what does Ellsworth know about the ocean or my reasons for coming here? All he knows about the ocean is that time he went up to Lake Ericson and fell out of the boat, and if Johnny Lewis hadn't waded out and taken him by the hand he would have been drowned sure. He found out after Johnny got there that he was flat on his bottom on the bottom of the lake, and he was only in up to his shoulders at that, but he was so excited he thought the lake was at least twenty feet deep.

Not so far back I mentioned my lawyer No. 3, John P. Misko. Of course Clarence comes first with me, and Ralph runs a close second, but John will do when the others are out of town. I think I will have John P. start breach of promise proceedings against the Quiz for blasphemy that the Quiz stated that my health has not been good since I arrived here. Perhaps Ellsworth started that report, which is deplorably lacking in authenticity. Except for one short spell of bellyache the night after I arrived I have been feeling fine all the time, and have not missed a minute on the job every day since I arrived.

I recall with some amusement a poem I wrote and gave copies to John Misko and Gus Schoenstain some time in 1941. It was about my desire to find a tropical island far from trouble and strife, and the absurdity of the idea appealed to us at the time. Well, here I am on that tropical isle, and while we may not be entirely peaceful here we don't have a lot of trouble and strife. The dusky beauties are here, but they are not as beautiful as I thought they would be. It all goes to prove the old adage that truth is stronger than fiction.

Roy Nightingale once made a request of me. He asked that I touch a match to some hula girl's skirt and then watch her wiggle. The only hula girls I have seen were in a stage show, and I couldn't get within fifty feet of the stage because all the young fellows crowded in ahead of me. Yes, I am about convinced that an old man don't get a fair chance here.

Emil Fafelita wanted me to send him a hula skirt with the girl in it, and asked me not to say anything about the deal to his wife, which I will not, of course, as I always respect the confidences of my friends. However, it seems that it will not be possible to fill his order at present, as the girls are essential to the war effort. Also, I doubt if I could get him a brand new one. Later I might be able to send a couple of good second hand ones instead.

I am not supposed to tell you anything about my work here, and will not, of course. The boys here are calling me Syl Furtak the second, and with good reason. As to my remuneration, I must admit that I frequently receive more here in a day than I did at the Quiz plant in a week, and I am not working as hard as I did there. So far I have sent home a little more than four hundred dollars, mostly in defense bonds, as the result of fifty days' work, and I have had all I needed to take care of my expenses here. Also I bought a typewriter and a good camera.

This is a tropical climate, but it is far hotter in Nebraska in summer than it is here, and I ought to know. Also, it is much colder there in winter. The people here do not know what snow or ice (natural) is. I can look out of my window at night and see the old north star shining just above the top of a light pole. It is much nearer the horizon here than there, and the big dipper goes entirely out of sight every night. I never tire of looking at the clouds resting on the tops of the mountains in fact they are never entirely

Arden R. Clark.

Pvt. Clark son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark of Ord, arrived safely overseas last week according to a message received by his wife from the war department though she does not know where he is stationed. He is an Engineering and Operations clerk in the army air corps and trained at Lowry Field, in Denver. From there he went to Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis for four weeks. His present address is Pvt. Clark, 37124062, APO 3114, care postmaster, New York City.

free of them, and it is a sight worth coming four thousand miles to see.

It rains in sight of us nearly every day, but it does not rain so much here. We get to see the most beautiful rainbows after these showers, and ever while they are going on. The bow makes a complete sector of a circle to the northeast when the sun is low in the southwest and it is a sight once seen, always remembered. Conditions here are far better than I had expected or hoped they would be, and I am as contented as anybody could be so far from old friends. I have made a lot of new ones, and they are certainly fine. First I met several on the train at Ogden, and some were added to the list when we got our rooms in San Francisco. Then there was an entirely new group of seven on the boat, and there are twelve of us in our dormitory here, only two of whom I knew before we got here. It is interesting to note that they are all as fine men as you could find anywhere, and we certainly have fine times together.

Before coming here I estimated my living expenses would be fifteen dollars per week, and I was slightly high. We live in splendid dormitories, with modern bathrooms and showers with hot and cold water. We have three meals per day, at a price not to exceed fifty cents per meal, and the meals are the best to be had in the islands. Laundry comes rather high, but most of the boys are doing their own, which cut the price materially. We have a canteen where ice cream and pop can be had and there is a store where most necessary items are for sale.

Well, this is quite a long letter for a fellow who can't write about so many things which might be of interest. In closing, I wish the people of the states could be here and catch a little of the spirit of the natives who were here and on the job when the war began Dec. 7. They are in it to win the war and they let nothing else interfere with this one aim. Further they are certain that we are going to win, which should make some weak-kneed brothers and sisters at home hang their heads in shame.

I am sending herewith my complete address, and I will send a letter to any and all Quiz readers who will write me first. It takes time to get a letter through by regular mail but they will arrive some time I have had just five letters in the five weeks I have been here, but that is a fair average.

Very truly yours,

Someone announced recently that this corner of town was Dog Heaven. Come to think of it, Klima's have a small dog. Dr. Barta's have two dogs, Roland Hatfield has a small fat dog, Jack Conroy has a big dog he calls Ide, (pronounced Eye-dee). Deines have a Sergeant, and we have a tiny number called Champion... his name is longer than the dog.

And Inkspot Heuck comes down the street to visit often and so does Satterfield's dog, from his home one block distant.

I wonder if we won't have our lawns in pumpkins and potatoes next year? In World War One I remember potatoes took over the lawns in so many yards, particularly between the walk and the curb. C. J. Mortensen's had a small potato patch in their lawn this past year.

I have already decided carrots and green peppers would make pretty window boxes, and be useful as well.

There is a school of gardening that preaches a formalized arrangement in which vegetables and flowers are grown together not exactly alternating rows of the two, but something similar.

Using pumpkins for Jack-O-Lanterns made me think of it. Probably it isn't patriotic to waste pumpkins that way this fall, but ours are already carved this Friday. To show the trend of the times, one of them has slanty Japanese eyes. The other one's mouth does not turn down grimly but is a cheerful fellow with a bunch of crooked teeth in his smile, and twinkly eyes. The twinkly eyes are made in the shape of an inverted letter U.

Probably those two pumpkins would have made two pies.

After reading the story yesterday about the food shortage we may have in the spring, my conscience is a little prickly.

Are you trying out coffee substitutes at your house? This morning I left last night's coffee grounds in the pot and added less than two-thirds the usual amount of new coffee, plus the usual amount of liquid... we thought it good coffee. We knew it would never be fatal, for there are those who toss new coffee and more water into the pot half a dozen times during the day and bring it to a boil. Maybe they do that for more than one day, I don't know.

Miss Iris Krebs, "home ec" teacher, was the picture of serenity at the luncheon of Business and Professional delegates last Sunday.

Her young students were serving quietly and had cooked the meal as well. They did it beautifully, the plates looked attractive, the food was hot and delicious and the girls served neatly.

Miss Krebs must be a good organizer. Perhaps she'll be a captain or a major in some of the women's army groups soon.

More women are helping with war work than we realize directly.

We read about Tamar Gruber Carson, Mrs. Hugh Carson, joining the WAAC's and we think: "How fine; And she's the very

But she isn't the first, either. For all these women who milk extra cows, all these clerks who are replacing not one who is gone but perhaps two who have gone, all these business women endeavoring to work longer hours themselves or get along with the help of an inexperienced youngster, so many are helping.

Mrs. Fritz Kuehl has been running a tractor and helping pick corn. And she is far from the only one. On nearly every farm the women are skipping the housework as much as they can to help Father do the chores and get the crops in.

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Feed Liberally.

The wise dairyman avoids underfeeding. Roughages and concentrates provide the driving power for the milking herd just as truly as gasoline supplies the motive force to carry out automobiles along the highway. Limit the fuel allowance and the distance traveled is likewise reduced.

This is no time to underfeed herds. Prices offered for dairy products are the highest they have been for years, and should encourage every dairyman to produce as much milk every 24 hours as possible in accordance with safe practices of herd management. This is the dairyman's best opportunity in a decade to build a reserve.

The 1942 pasture season is over, although many herds may continue to roam the bare, dry fields and stock pastures for some time. This is a critical period in the production. Cows allowed to lose flesh and decline in milk flow cannot be restored to a high level of production without the use of much additional feed and the passing of an interval of time when the income is low.

Now is a good time to budget your feed supply. Check this against livestock numbers. Two tons of legume hay, 12 bushels of corn, 10 bushels of oats, and 100 pounds of protein rich feed are needed to carry a cow until the pasture season comes again. If this amount is not available, dairymen will find it profitable to dispose of the less desirable members of the herd. Underfeeding means reduced milk flow and lower production means smaller profits. Liberal feeding of good cows will pay this winter.—G. A. Williams.

Dehorn Calves.

Calves may be dehorned easily, quickly and without injury up to the age of 10 days. The use of caustic potash is highly recommended, providing it is properly applied. A circular area, one inch in radius, should be clipped around the horn button and the outer edge of this area covered with a ring of vaseline. This prevents the caustic from running down the calf's face and causing disfigurement. The tip or center of the button should be roughened so that the caustic pencil may more easily take effect. The moistened, pointed end of the caustic pencil should be worked from the center of the horn button toward where the button joins with the skin. A too-light application will result in an uneven job and the development of scars, while a too-heavy application may result in an unbalanced head. The proper stage is reached when the button is red and about ready to bleed.

Soil District Notes.

With the farm labor and equipment situation getting tighter and farmers casting about for ways to maintain wartime production, many farmers are turning to grass as their way out. They have found provided by law, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the costs of this suit, including statutory attorneys' fees and plaintiff's liens and general equitable relief. The defendants above named are required to answer said petition on or before December 7th, 1942.

Crested Wheat seeded because of its erosion control, soil building desirability for pasture an answer to their problem.

Henry Enger one of the district supervisors, who lives northeast of Ord, has seeded a considerable amount of his old pasture to Crested Wheat grass this fall. Henry says "that we will probably be more short of help than ever the next year or so and the seeding of some of my land back to grass will ease up on the labor problem." He also says "a whole lot of my land should never have been broken up anyhow."

Mr. Enger is having the district men lay out the whole farm so as to control run off, save the moisture and save the soil. The past week, better than 14,000 feet of grade lines were laid out on Mr. Enger's farm. These lines were laid out to regular terrace grade and the regular terrace interval of spacing was followed on the slopes. When the drainageway becomes well established to grass, plow terraces will be constructed to drain into the vegetated drainageway. The drainage was seeded by Mr. Enger to heavy mixtures of Western Wheat grass and Brome and alfalfa. If your particular drainage way will carry a considerable amount of water it should be heavily vegetated to keep it from washing.

The men from the district office, Frank Fafelita, Sac Walford and Eyan Hartman really enjoyed working for Mr. Enger, as Mrs. Enger served such good chicken dinners.

—In an item appearing in the North Loup section last week it was stated that Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ryschon are parents of a son born Oct. 25. This was an error and should have stated that Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ryschon are parents of a daughter born on that date. The Ryschon family live in Loup City but Mrs. Ryschon is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wiberg in Mira Valley, at present. The little girl has been named Kathryn Faye.

—Mrs. Ray Bryan writes from Hollister, Calif., that her son Ray was one of the 400 men who graduated from Radio Materiel School at Treasure Island recently and that one of his classmates was Virgil Cuckler, of Ord. Vegetables, fruits and nuts are the crops and business men have been closing to help harvest them. She sends regards to old friends.

—Tom Lambdin, of Yoncalla, Ore., arrived in Ord Friday for a two or three weeks' visit with friends here. He had been in Savannah, Mo. for surgery on his face and will remain here until it is certain there will be no recurrence of the trouble, after which he will return to his home in Oregon.

—Carson Rogers, who works in the Richmond shipyards at Oakland, Calif., building Victory ships and tank carriers, writes interestingly to the Quiz. The Victory ships are cargo carriers and the tank carriers have a large door in one end and are shallow draft vessels which go up to the beach and open the large doors, permitting the tanks to be driven ashore. The Richmond yard is trying to build a ship in eight days now to beat the record made by the Kaiser yard in Washington which built one in ten days. No other Ord boys are employed in the Richmond yard so far as Carson knows. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rogers, of Ord.

READ Why Safeway Ceiling Prices Are Low

FIRST, WHAT IS A CEILING PRICE?
A store's ceiling price is the highest price that may be charged by that particular store for those items governed by the ceiling price law.

SECOND, WHY AREN'T CEILING PRICES THE SAME IN ALL STORES?
Under the regulations each store establishes its own price ceilings within the limitations of the law. The ceiling price law fixes an amount above which prices may not go, but without restrictions as to how low prices may go.

WHY SAFEWAY CEILING PRICES ARE LOW!
Because every Safeway price has been a very low price month after month, Safeway ceiling prices are naturally very low. For years Safeway has waged war on needless waste in distributing foods... cut out unnecessary expense... eliminated frills. And the savings thus made have been shared with our customers by giving them low prices. The ceiling price regulations will not, in any way, alter Safeway's policy of bringing you the finest foods the markets offer at the lowest possible prices.

Safeway is cooperating with the Government's effort to prevent inflation by rigidly adhering to the spirit as well as the letter of the ceiling price regulations.

AND there is no ceiling as to the number of War Bonds and Stamps you should buy, regularly.

Shop early in the week... avoid crowds... and save money, too!

Two Anti-Aircraft Shells

Any homemaker who customarily makes soap with her waste kitchen fats is to be commended. In these war times, however, waste fats are needed by your country, so the glycerine can be extracted during the soap-making process—for making explosives. Ordinarily, a pound of waste kitchen fats will produce sufficient glycerine to fire two anti-aircraft shells. Think of that! Save and sell your waste fats to Safeway. We'll route 'em to the war.

STILL HAVE SOME COLORADO PEARS

That came by truck. They are BETTER than ever. Delicious to eat raw. Fine for canning. Fill your cans while you can. Bring containers to Co-op Creamery and we will sell you any amount you want.

BAKED PEARS

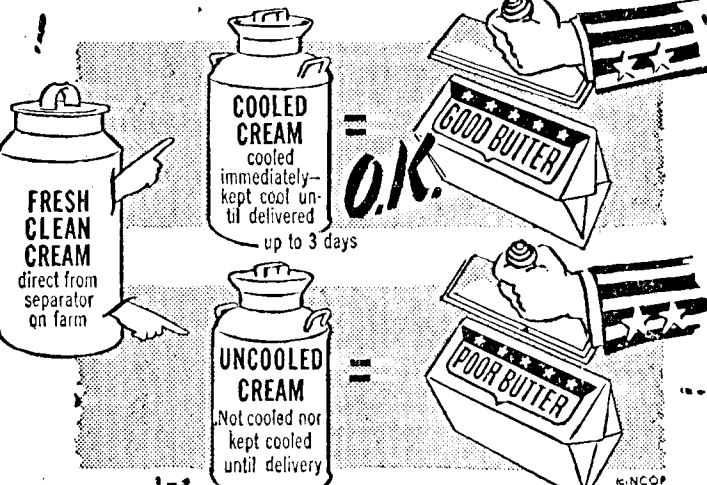

Bake from 12 to 15 at one time. Place in double roaster, stems up. Add one cup of water and bake one hour before starting to sweeten, then begin to add sugar, half a cup at a time, repeating this 3 times.

After which you bake 2 hours at no time letting the liquid be less than 1 cup in the roaster. After they have baked three hours, the liquid that is left in the pan add a tablespoon of butter and one tablespoon of corn starch, which is to thicken. This put over the pears just before serving, as it makes a little glazing, after which put on whipped cream.

Bake in a moderate oven, usually the day before serving them.

FRED W. COE

COOLED CREAM and GOOD BUTTER GO HAND IN HAND

Cream which was not cooled immediately after separation and which was not kept cool all the time it remained on the farm has "three strikes" on it by the time it reaches the butter-making plant. If there is one thing the butter maker has learned over the years it is that the best butter is invariably the product of properly cooled cream on the farm.

Experiments at the dairy department of Purdue University show that through "temperature control" the farmer is enabled to hold the quality of his cream as many as three days and collect a premium price over the next grade product. The creamery striving to manufacture quality butter is glad to pay the premium for cream kept well-cooled on the farm and delivered clean and fresh.

Cold temperatures will not prevent bacterial growth, unless the cream is cooled immediately. Bacteria start their work of destruction in the warm milk and cream. Air cooling, even in cold weather, is too slow to retard bacterial growth. If milk is allowed to stand before it is strained and separated, the damage will be done. Or if the cream is allowed to stand before being put in the cooler, another opportunity will be made for bacterial growth. Water cools cream a great deal faster than the coldest air. A cold water cooling tank will quickly bring down the temperature of warm cream. It will slow down bacteria so that their rate of multiplication will be kept at a minimum.

An efficient cooling tank can be made on the farm from an old barrel. Placed between the pump and the watering trough, with an inlet and outlet pipe, cold water can be kept flowing. Cream cooled in this way as soon as it is separated will have a low bacterial count. If all the other steps necessary to the production of quality cream have been observed, and if the cream is marketed every two or three days, it will grade No. 1 and be bought on quality.

AAA News Notes

There are a good many trucks that have not registered in Valley county. Some of them do not have the form SUA which is sent out from Detroit. As soon as you receive this form you should contact your nearest place of registration and fill out the forms supplemental to form SUA, then fill out your SUA and return it to Detroit immediately. In North Loup contact Clifford Hawks or Inez Burrows. In Arcadia, Jess Marvel or Fred Murray. In Ord, Oriu Kellison or stop in at the AAA office.

The time for sealing corn will soon be at hand. And a word or two relative to those that are planning on erecting temporary cribs is in order. Get them set on ground that drains well. Build them as strong as possible and plan to put the best roof possible on your crib. Build your cribs where livestock cannot bother them.

Some time this next week we will have another car of feed wheat on track. There are already a good many orders in. If you want some of this wheat put in your order now, we'll notify you as soon as the car arrives.

Scrap iron, we are still talking about it, we still want more iron. We know you have all done very well but most of you still have some scrap on your farm. We are in hopes you will make an effort to market it before snow flies. It will be needed before spring. We are not asking you to market iron that you need for repairs or machinery that you may need but we are asking you to sell every piece of scrap that is not needed.

Alfred Wiegardt Resigns as Clerk, Baker Appointed

Newly Elected Court Clerk to Take Office Monday; Board Chose Him Tuesday.

Clyde Baker, who only last week was elected clerk of the district court for Valley county by a big majority, will take office Tuesday, six weeks in advance of the beginning of the term for which he was elected. Until January 1 he will fill the office by appointment of the board of supervisors and after that time will serve his regular four years' term. He qualified by filing his bond and taking the oath Tuesday afternoon. Appointment of Baker by the county board came Tuesday after the resignation of Alfred Wiegardt as court clerk had been presented and accepted. Mr. Wiegardt has been in California several months with his deputy, Mrs. Wiegardt, serving in his place. Now that his successor has been duly elected, Mr. Wiegardt vacated the office by resignation which will permit his wife to join him in California at once. The new clerk of the district court has served many years as deputy county treasurer and thus is familiar with county office routine. He will spend the next few days familiarizing himself with the clerk's duties under Mrs. Wiegardt's tutelage and will take office Nov. 15.

Wilma Klanecky, Geo. Cetak, Chosen by Ord Students as Rulers of Annual School Carnival

Miss Wilma Klanecky became carnival queen Friday night at the high school when she received the most votes for this position. She made a charming picture in a blue net gown with sparkling butterflies of silver paillettes adorning the skirt, as she was crowned on the auditorium stage before the big crowd. Her tall silver crown was exactly like that of the king, who turned out to be popular George Cetak of hard working football fame. The queen then chose the winning number, and a $25 defense bond was presented to Mrs. Fred Kuehl, Jr., amid more cheers. About a hundred dollars was added to the junior and senior class treasuries by the gala evening. Approximately 500 Ord relatives and youngsters attended, finding fun in many ways. Valley Co. Has 115 Trained 1st Aiders

A resume of First Aid activities of the American Red Cross in Valley county for 1942 by Mrs. Mark Tolén shows a total of 115 who have completed the standard first aid course. This includes eight graduated recently by Miss Clara McClatchey within the past two weeks. Within the past three weeks advanced first aid courses have been offered in Ord and Arcadia under the leadership of Dr. Henry Norris and in North Loup by Dr. Hemphill, preparatory to the lay instructors' course to be given in Ord in November. Taylor, Burwell and Greeley probably will send delegates to this school also.

Last January a class of 37 began the standard course given by Dr. John Round, and of these nine took the advanced course and six of these the lay instructors course given in Burwell in May. These six people hold instructors' certificates which are useable until January, 1944. Miss Clara McClatchey, Miss Daisy Hallen, Miss Sylvia Iwanski, Mrs. Carol Mortensen, all of Ord and Mrs. Arletta Robinson Bronson of Cozad and Miss Myrtle Auble of Ogden, U.

After the first class five others were offered in this county, 21 holding certificates issued by Dr. John Round at Arcadia; 26 taught by Dr. Hemphill in North Loup; 11 Ord high school girls taught by Misses Daisy Hallen and Myrtle Auble; 12 Junior Red Cross girls taught by Miss Iwanski and Mrs. Mortensen, and the 8 under Miss McClatchey's instructorship.

After January first as many new classes in first aid will be organized as the public demands. Each person who does not now have a certificate should seriously consider taking this course, and thereby do his or her share in the war effort. The knowledge is vital to national defense.

Christ Ambassadors in State Convention

Between 200 and 300 visitors to Ord came Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday to attend the convention of Christ's Ambassadors, a state meeting of young people of that church. A pastor and his wife and two delegates were invited from each church in Nebraska and are being entertained in local homes. Meetings were held at the Bohemian hall with Rev. Charles Blair, Minneapolis evangelist, the chief speaker. A. M. Alber of Hastings, president of the Nebraska branch of the church, was present, and so too were former Ord pastors, Rev. E. M. Clark, of South Sioux City, and Rev. L. W. Dickinson of Chappell. Rev. E. Wilkins of Ord directed many of the arrangements and Mrs. Joe Rowbal, Mrs. John Chatfield and Mrs. Glen Stroud were the rooms committee.

He brought with him a friend, Konrad Kingshill, who is one of the foreign students at Hastings college. The Kingshill family are refugees out of Germany, at present finding haven in Great Britain. James Ollis and his house guest are putting in their time this week husking corn on the Wilbur Rogers farm, a new experience for Mr. Kingshill.

Must Stop Thinking about Making Money, Think More of Winning War—Mrs. Cernik

By Mrs. Edw. Burrows, Farmer-Fieldwoman of AAA. Everywhere on the street we hear, "how are we farmers going to keep up our production goal?" Newspapers are filled with indignant queries, "if the army takes all our boys and the munitions plants take our hired men how can we produce enough food?" Wanting to know how war mothers think about these things I talked this week to Mrs. Joe Cernik, who is seen here with her husband and their son Frank who was home on furlough recently. She says people must stop thinking so much about making money and think more about winning the war. She fears our soldiers do not have enough equipment and says that if every family had a son in the army we'd all pick up our scrap without constant urging. To her rationing is not an inconvenience but is something she can comply with that will help. Besides doing her housework and the other things a farm wife does, Mrs. Cernik helps with chores and corn picking and says a busy person doesn't have so much time to think about his troubles. I asked her how she feels about farm boys going to the army and find that she thinks 18 is pretty young. She doesn't see, however, how we'll be able to keep young men on the farms when the army needs them too, for there just aren't enough young men to go around.

That's the way a war works. Its disagreeable and expensive for farmers to use green, unskilled help, but its still part of the war. The young dive bomber who was blown to bits over the sea battleships the other day—doubtless expected ordinary times—to live to be 70 and see his grandchildren gather around him just as farmers here at home always before expected to be able to hire an experienced man when they needed one.

Gas Registration Postponed a Week

Nov. 18, 19, 20 New Dates Set by OPA; Printers Couldn't Finish Ration Books.

Registration for gasoline rationing coupon books has been postponed for a week, it was announced Tuesday by Vern W. Russell, chairman of the Valley county ration board, upon orders from Lincoln. Originally set for Nov. 12, 13 and 14 the dates fixed now are Nov. 18, 19 and 20, Russell said.

All other rules previously announced in regard to the registration stand. Car owners must secure application blanks and have them fully filled out and signed when they present them at school houses Nov. 18, 19 and 20.

In Ord the registration and issuance of "A" coupon books will take place at the high school building between 1 and 5 p. m. on Wednesday, Nov. 18, it is planned, and all car owners who possibly can do so are asked to appear for registration during that period. Owners who cannot come next Wednesday afternoon may secure their books on Thursday or Friday at the high school office but only a limited number can be accommodated there, whereas on Wednesday afternoon school will be dismissed and all teachers will serve as registrars.

Registration times will vary in other school districts so car owners should contact their own teachers and find out when to appear and register.

Inability of printers to produce the vast number of basic coupon books in time for issuance this week is the reason for postponement of the registration, Russell is told.

"Rationing of gasoline is the backbone of the plan to conserve the nation's stockpile of rubber," he says, "and Valley county motorists must join those throughout the nation in this gigantic program to keep cars and trucks operating for the duration."

Motorists who own more than five tires must sell the excess tires to the government by delivering them to any Railway Express office before they will be given coupon books, he emphasizes. Since the serial numbers of tires are registered it will be possible to revoke the coupon books of car owners who show up with unlawful tires on their cars in future, he says. This provision is going to be enforced very strictly.

In charge of the evening program.

Thursday evening, Nov. 12, at 7:30 the two winning teams in the intramural football games will meet for the final game of the year under the Bussell park floodlights. There is no admission charge and everyone who is interested in seeing tomorrow's football heroes in action is urged to attend.

Members of the music and drama departments who have been selected for operetta parts are busy practicing. The operetta "Sailor Maids" is to be given in the high school auditorium on Nov. 24 at eight p. m.

Planning for New Star Route Service

Mail to Arrive Daily at 8:07 A. M., Leave about 10:00 A. M., Under New Plan.

E. H. Jeffries, chief clerk of the Railway Mail Service stationed in Omaha, was in Ord Tuesday and in the morning held a meeting in the postoffice attended by interested Ord parties and by postmasters from Burwell, Ord, North Loup, Scotia, St. Paul and St. Libory relative to establishment of star route morning mail service from Grand Island to Burwell and return.

Mr. Jeffries outlined a proposed schedule which met with the approval of a big majority of those present, this providing for the mail to leave Grand Island by star route at 5:15 a. m. daily, arriving in Ord at 8:07 and in Burwell at 8:52. After a brief lay-over in Burwell the carrier would start his return route, carrying mail for out-bound dispatch, and would leave Ord about 9:55. He would arrive in Grand Island about 12:15 in ample time to make all mid-day mail connections.

In the judgment of Postmaster A. L. Hill and of C. J. Mortensen, president of the Ord chamber of commerce, establishment of this schedule in addition to the afternoon mail schedule already in effect would give Ord the best mail service it has had in many years, and they approved the proposal heartily.

Mrs. Glow Fackler, postmistress at Burwell, also spoke in praise of the proposed arrangement, and there was little criticism from other postmasters present, though the problem of late arrival of the mail is not so pressing in towns closer to Grand Island and therefore they are not so interested in the new service.

Only opposition to the change was voiced by C. B. Clark, of North Loup, who said he considered it unpatriotic to haul mail by truck when it could be hauled by train, even at considerable inconvenience to patrons. He also feared loss of the rail service if mail is removed from the train.

Chief Clerk Jeffries told the meeting that he already has received word from the Postoffice department at Washington that it will approve the star route if he recommends it, and he promised that he will recommend it and get it into effect at once. He also told the meeting that officials of the Union Pacific railroad have stated that removal of the mail from the morning freight will not affect the freight service to Ord with possible exception of cancellation of the Sunday freight train. Daily service will be continued by the Union Pacific despite this mail change, it is assumed on the basis of this statement.

The afternoon star route now serving Ord has been consistently on time, in contrast to the morning freight which averaged 1 1/2 hours late last month and has been as much as 3 1/2 hours late already this month. Rural mail carriers will be able to leave on time every day, the city carriers will get mail to their patrons much earlier in the morning and the out-bound morning dispatch will solve many problems of mail service within the

Attends School With a Prince

Wayne Jensen, a Burwell boy, goes to school in Denver with a prince of India. They are both soldiers in the United States army and attend a school for medical department technicians at the Fitzsimmons General hospital. The prince, Nieu Jms Rautulus Sterevanthi Romey, which translated means "the strong pillar of the Rajah's government," was born in Texas when his parents were touring North America. A few months later the Rajah, his family consisting of his wife, two boys, a girl, and the new prince returned to his palace in the province of T-Schangriyn, Ceylon, India. The young prince learned to read Arabic and Hindi in his native schools and was then sent to Oxford where he studied awhile. In 1930 he visited Winnipeg, Nova Scotia and crossed the border into the land where he was born and where he has remained ever since. Upon his entrance into the service he was sent to Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark., and then to the school for medical technicians at Denver to pursue a course in laboratory work.

The prince is very proud in this country and very proud to be a soldier in the United States army. He says that it will take him many years to orientate himself to America's terrific rate of life, and he is determined to do so. While he is fighting for the United States, his uncle, Sha Bak Alla Misca, whose real home is in Bagdad, Arabia, will rule the province and care for his estate, as he is the only surviving member of his family. Should his uncle die, Romey will become ruler of T-Schangriyn and when this day arrives the prince hopes to apply many of the lessons that he has learned in America to his own province in India.

Wallace Hansen Hurt as Pistol Explodes

Wallace Hansen, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hansen, was painfully hurt Monday afternoon when a pistol he was examining at the home of a neighbor, Mr. Philbrick, fell to the floor and went off, the bullet plowing a furrow through one side of his face and emerging through the lobe of his ear. He was brought to Dr. F. A. Barla for treatment and Dr. Barla states that had the bullet struck a half inch to the right the boy surely would have been killed. As it is, the wound is painful but not serious and Wallace is making a rapid recovery.

Catholics Clear $1,000 at Bazaar

Our Lady of Perpetual Help church benefits to the extent of $1,000 or more by reason of the successful bazaar, supper and dance given Saturday evening by local Catholics at the Bohemian hall.

Ladies of the church worked hard and achieved splendid results, serving 551 people supper and selling at auction afterwards a great many embroidered and hand made articles which were on display, having been made by ladies of the congregation.

No small item was the auction of more than $1,000 worth of war bonds to those present, arranged as a patriotic gesture with James Petska, Jr. in charge. War bonds also were given away as prizes, Leo Suchanek, of Loup City, winning the $50 bond and Lloyd Konkolewski the $25 bond. Mrs. Rudolf A. Hosek, of Portland, Ore., won the parlor rug given away and other prizes went to a long list of people. The dance which concluded the evening was largely patronized. Too Much Government Red Tape so Bartz Store Quits, Only 2 Stores in No. Loup Block

North Loup—(Special) - Too many government restrictions and too much "red tape" including ration stamps and surplus commodity stamps are given by Otto Bartz as the reason why he is quitting the store business this week. Closing of the Bartz store leaves only two business places, Weisman's and the Stine cafe, remaining open in the north block.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartz bought out the Earnest store nine years ago and except for a year in 1941 when they leased the store to Miss Donnie Smith, they have always been on the job, selling groceries, dry goods and notions. They have had a good and profitable business and are not quitting on that score, they say but so many items are impossible to obtain and there are so many more requiring much effort to get and sell that they

Louis Flock, 28, Caught at Albion on Theft Charge

Garfield Co. is Holding Man for Taking Truck; Other Charges Investigated.

Louis Flock, 28, a ranch hand employed at the C. J. Malmsten ranch on the Cedar river, was arrested by Boone county authorities Tuesday on a charge of stealing a pick-up truck in Garfield county. Sheriff Raymond Johnson went to Albion and brought him to Burwell Tuesday evening, where he is being held in jail at present.

The Quiz learns that Flock hauled two calves to Burwell last Friday for his employer, who also drove to town in an automobile. When the calves were sold Mr. Malmsten loaded the pick-up truck with lumber and returned to his ranch, leaving Flock to follow with the truck. Flock and the truck never showed up there and Sunday Mr. Malmsten laid the case before authorities at Burwell.

Investigation disclosed that Flock had gone to O'Neill where first reports indicated that he may have abducted a young woman and left town. Later it appeared that the woman may have accompanied him voluntarily. Monday the two were taken into custody at Albion and Tuesday were brought to Burwell where they are being held while authorities investigate the case and decide what charges to file against Flock, who is a married man and has a family residing on the Malmsten ranch.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

The use of hormones is a new development in crop farming. Little is known about them, and less has been written. Greenhouses have been using hormones to advantage for some time. I have seen vegetable gardens in which hormone treated seed apparently out-yielded seed not treated.

Hormones were tried out on soybeans last summer in our church's test plot north of Ord. The two kinds of hormones experimented with are sold under the commercial names of Graino and Staymore. They come in the form of white powders.

The amount put on was so small that such treatment seemed foolish. Maybe it was, but tests at Oklahoma A. and M. college with hormones indicate that this stuff may be as good as the manufacturers claim. Trials at other stations have not been favorable to hormones. Neither were ours.

Soybean yields at Oklahoma were almost doubled through hormone stimulants. Beet yields were boosted from about 5 to 16 tons per acre by Graino treatment. Sorghum, alfalfa and grass yields jumped around fifty per cent. Corn production went up about 4 bushels per acre.

The producers of Staymore declare that their powder will hasten germination and encourage stronger root systems. They also claim it will keep many fruits and blossoms from dropping off. The makers deny that their product is either a fertilizer, disinfectant, or inoculant.

For some strange reason, the benefits from hormone treatment are not apt to show up until crops are almost ripe. Hormone powders don't cost much, are easily applied, and will doubtless get further trial here.

DAD GETS PERSONAL—ADVICE

SON, I DON'T MEAN TO PRY INTO YOUR FAMILY PRIVACY, BUT COULD I ASK A PERSONAL QUESTION?

ISN'T BETTY SPENDING TOO MUCH ON FOOD FOR YOUR SALARY? YOU SHOULDN'T LET HER GET INTO DEBT, YOU KNOW.

DEBT? THAT WOULD GIVE BETTY A GOOD LAUGH.

BUT...HOW CAN YOU MANAGE IT?

What Value INTEGRITY In the Meat Business?

Our customers say that INTEGRITY and REPUTATION mean a great deal when it comes to buying meat, because they can always depend on getting 100 cents value for every dollar they spend with us.

Our more than a half century in serving the people of Ord is of more value today than ever before, for meat prices have risen, there is a shortage of some meat cuts, and customers must depend to a greater extent on the ability and experience of their butcher.

Check our prices and the quality of our meats and learn how you can profit by dealing here regularly.

I think a lot of advertisers are working the "For Your Country" over time.

can always be right. I have always voted for George Norris and I was right five times out of six.

The original intention of union labor was fine and necessary. Business management exploited labor for years and the organization of labor was a self defense movement.

The recent election showed pretty conclusively, judging by the way the voters talk, that they are fed up on the strange hold that organized labor seems to have on the administration.

Do you like squash? I am fond of it and I have found a new way to serve it that is about tops. Cut your squash in slices, dip it in egg and roll it in flour.

In another couple of months we will all have to have a hand bag along to carry our ration books, one for sugar, one for gas, one for meat, one for coffee and several others and more will be forthcoming as the months pass.

And I think the 40-hour week idea, in this time of war, is the bunk. I believe labor in defense plants should work at least ten hours a day before overtime is paid, then if necessary, a few hours of overtime should be put in when necessary and the workers might get paid for it.

Something Different

Writes Frances Zalud, Quiz correspondent, as she sent her news last week: "I hope the news notes pass this week. They seem so disconnected. I am working on the election board today, and have three corn pickers at home."

Which reminds me of what I once heard Bess Streeter Aldrich tell an assembly of women. "I don't claim my writing is literature, for I know it isn't. But I think perhaps it is as much literature as some world geniuses would have produced, if they had sat down to write with four children underfoot, and dishes and housework waiting for attention."

Her appearance? She is tall and thin, with a bony nose and a life-sized face that looks as if she would fit in any small town or any crowd. Once blond, she is graying fast.

Perhaps her writings are rather prosaic, but I feel they picture Nebraska truly. We are fairly prosaic out here in the open-land, small-town, respectable west.

Our days and weeks are patterned. Monday is washday, and well you know it. If you don't wash on Monday "the whole week is upset", as I have heard at least a hundred women declare.

Quaint as it may be to some assorted readers I like to wash. Messing in hot suds and seeing the clothes come out bright or white, the sweet smell they have as they come from the line; all that is inviting. Much more so than shoving a hot iron around to smooth out the wrinkles on those clothes, a little later.

Good Housekeeping states flatly that white clothes do not get whiter when hung in the sun or left out to freeze. But I'll bet 95 women out of a 100 will argue you loud and long on the opposite side.

Washdays are changing fast like all our modern world. Here we are using soap that isn't soap, that makes clean clothes just the same. Maybe we don't have to wring our clothes, for a machine will do it for us and many other wash-day chores too.

Perhaps that picture of the lady in an evening dress perched ornamentally in a fashionable chair while the dear old washing machine washes will come true yet!

Home Grown Meats

Nearly all the meat we sell is strictly "home grown." We go to our good local feeders and from them buy corn-fed steers and heifers and young, tender hogs. We butcher the animals in our sanitary plant, and do the processing in our own market. Thus we are able to bring you meat that is a home product from start to finish.

Under this system we are not nearly so dependent on the allotments of packing plants and are more certain to have exactly the cut you want whenever you want it.

Try our meat market today.

County Agent Notes

Cost of Bindweed Eradication. Cultivation is the most practical and effective method of eradicating bindweed on infestations larger than 1 acre, according to studies at the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station. On such areas tillage proved to be only one-fifth as costly as the sodium chlorate method of eradication.

Total cost per acre of each cultivation, in work conducted in Lancaster and York counties, was 33 cents. The average number of cultivations required to eradicate 95 to 100 per cent of the original stand of bindweed was twenty-seven, making a total average cost of $8.91 per acre. Further supplementary treatment brought the total cost per acre to approximately $10.00.

A 7-foot tractor-drawn duck-foot cultivator was used in the experiments. Costs included depreciation on equipment, labor of the operator, and cost of fuel and oil.

Farm Operators Short Course. Twelve weeks, instead of sixteen, will be the length of the farm operator's short course which starts on November 30 at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture, according to Jerome Srb, supervisor of short courses at the college. The change means that farm boys and girls may have four more weeks during which they may help out with farm and home jobs that are important in the war effort, and yet get practical instruction in war-time agriculture that will help them do a better job on the farm in 1943.

Boys will study pork, beef, mutton and wool production, grain and feed production, animal diseases, insect control, milk and cream production, farm machinery and motors, farm accounts, vegetable and fruit production, and farm topics. Girls will take some of these subjects, so that they may do some of the jobs formerly done by boys, and also will study foods and nutrition, care and use of household equipment, family record keeping and budgeting, and other homemaking topics.

There are two terms of 6 weeks each, and fees are $6.00 for each term or $12 for the entire farm operator's short course. Anyone 16 years old or older may enroll. High school training is not required but is valuable.

Inquiries about the short course should be sent to Supervisor of Short Courses, College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Nebr.

Soil District News. In redesigning the cement culverts for the new Spalding-to-Albion highway, the Nebraska highway department cooperated with the Cedar river soil conservation district to establish one of the measures needed to check erosion and other water damage to land, according to Frank Kaiser, farmer near Spalding and chairman of the district's board of supervisors.

The road grade, Kaiser explained, crosses several steep, narrow drainages which discharge considerable quantities of water after heavy rains and frequently flood the bottom lands.

Original plans were to install straight culverts at the level of the drainage bottoms. The supervisors, however, pointed out that if the upper ends could be raised, part of the flood waters could be held back.

As finally installed, Kaiser said, the upstream ends of the culverts are 3 feet above the bottoms of the drainages. A short distance in, they veer downward and several feet before the outlet they reach the downstream level and are leveled off again.

"If this could be done with the culverts on all the roads across the drainages," Kaiser remarked, "a good share of our flood troubles would be ended because so much water would

OBITUARY

John Nedbalek. (Burwell) John Nedbalek was born in Lippa, Moravia, Sept. 14, 1849, the son of Joseph and Rose Nedbalek. SEPARATING CREAM BY WATER DILUTION COSTLY TO FARMER

WATER DILUTION METHOD	MECHANICAL SEPARATION

On the milk production of four average cows this means a loss of 180 pounds of butterfat a year. At a value of 30 cents a pound this would amount to $54.00

On the milk production of four average cows this means a loss of 3.6 pounds of butterfat a year. At a value of 30 cents a pound this would amount to $1.08

That water dilution is an inefficient and costly method of separating cream on the farm has been shown by laboratory tests at the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture and by examinations of the quality of cream received at its creamery. Of four per cent milk so separated a full one per cent is lost in the skim milk. This compares with the negligible one-fiftieth of that amount lost when a good mechanical separator is used. To the farmer milking four cows and selling his butterfat at 30 cents a pound this means the difference between an annual loss of $54.00 if he uses a water diluter, and only $1.08 a year if he uses a mechanical separator.

But that is not his only loss. Surveys show that only about 40 per cent of the water-separated cream is of No. 1 grade, in comparison with the 70 per cent of cream from mechanical separators which reaches the market as No. 1 grade. Since

Tide of Refugees Engulfs Ecuador

Flee Homes on Final Day of Fight With Peru.

GUAYAQUIL, ECUADOR.—The problems of modern war did not end for Ecuador when her truce with Peru took effect July 31. Today she faces the necessity of feeding, clothing and housing thousands of her people who became refugees over night.

When, on the last day of active fighting, Peruvian troops swept up from the Zarumilla river frontier and Peruvian planes bombed the southern cities of Machala and Puerto Bolivar, the citizens of the province of El Oro abandoned their homes and fled into the tropical jungles.

Thousands of these refugees have made their way to Guayaquil, Cuenca and other cities, creating a problem unparalleled in Ecuador's history. Ecuador is a poor country. It was no simple matter to take over the case of so many suddenly destitute citizens. Yet it has been done through the generosity of the ordinary people.

Most of the refugees have come up the coast to Guayaquil. The story of their trip makes the marches of European refugees look easy by comparison. North of Puerto Bolivar and Machala lies some of the most difficult jungle country in Ecuador. There are no roads.

The thousands of Ecuadoreans who fled before the Peruvian advance, tramped through this country for days before they reached a port from which they could be taken in boats to Guayaquil. They had with them only food and the clothes they could carry on their backs. They were in constant peril of wild animals and snakes. Scores of them fell victim to dysentery, malaria, typhoid and influenza. Many of them died.

What America Eats Is Topic for WPA Writers

WASHINGTON.—The Work Projects administration is going to try to find out why Boston eats baked beans, what makes Dixie prefer hot biscuits and fried chicken and why Westerners are supposed to prefer fried meats to roasts.

"America Eats" is the title tentatively selected for another book in the "Life in America" series of the WPA writers' program.

Each chapter will describe a community meal typical of some phase of American life, a political barbecue, church supper, club luncheon, clam bake, a family reunion dinner, and so on.

Lyle Saxon, New Orleans author and epicure, will edit the volume. Mrs. Florence Kerr, assistant WPA commissioner, said the writers' program, having completed 48 volumes of the American Guide Series, would turn during the current fiscal year to the treatment of individual aspects of American life and culture.

A bid for hemispheric good-will is to be made through the early publication in Spanish of a volume to be known as "The United States: A Pictorial Study of a Democracy." The year's work also will include a national defense series.

300 Tin Can Collectors Swoop Down on Movie

McKEESPORT, PA.—When the rumor spread that a theater would admit any child who had collected a bushel of tin cans, the boys swept through the first ward, cleaning it of virtually every tin can.

Recently more than 300 children appeared at the movie house, loaded down with tin cans, to collect the free admissions. But the movie house said there would be no tickets; knew nothing about the tin can rumors.

That started an uprising. Tin cans flew through the air. The street became so littered that traffic was halted. Police ran to cover; housewives appeared, voicing their protests; some of the boys suffered lacerated heads.

300 in Marital Doghouse To Seek to Incorporate

ST. LOUIS.—The Doghouse Protective association—a haven from marital discord—has applied for a decree of incorporation.

Three hundred husbands want their recently organized club to have an official status.

Its special aim is to console those men whose wives have consigned them to the doghouse—or elsewhere—and to work untiringly to get these men back in good graces. Asked for the formula used to heal marital wounds, Edward A. Morgan, the president, told a reporter: "We just cry on each other's shoulders until we feel better."

Record War Bond Sales Is Goal Of Women At War Week Nov. 22

WASHINGTON, D. C.—America's women in the cities and on the farms—in war factories and in their homes—are determined to make Women At War Week the greatest War Bond selling effort since Pearl Harbor.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sounded the keynote for the Treasury Department's Women At War Week, Nov. 22 to 28, with an appeal to women to save on "little things" to provide money for War Bonds.

During Women At War Week volunteer War Bond saleswomen will wear an armband similar to the one being attached to the sleeve of Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., by Miss Harriet Knott.

WOMEN AT WAR—Overalls, wrenches and drills replaced fineries as these war workers in an Army Arsenal march to tank repair shops. Note the determination on their faces. These women are typical of hundreds of thousands who are working in war factories and investing part of their earnings in War Bonds.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barbed wire used by Uncle Sam's fighting forces is vastly different from that used on American farms. Army and Marine barbed wire is much heavier and the barbs, about three inches in length, are more vicious than ordinary barbed wire.

The Marine Corps pays fifty cents for each twelve yards, or 30 feet of this specially manufactured barbed wire. The Army and Marine Corps needs thousands upon thousands of feet for defensive warfare. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will insure sufficient quantity for their needs. Invest at least ten percent of your wages in War Bonds every pay day.

AAA News Notes

Draft Deferments.
In testimony before the Senate Military Affairs committee Friday, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard urged that all essential farm workers receive occupational draft deferment. Wickard reports that upwards of 1,600,000 workers left farms during the past year. About sixty per cent of that number went into war work, while forty per cent of them went into the armed forces.

Feed Wheat.
A third car of feed wheat will be ordered for the farmers of Valley county if there is sufficient demand. If you want some of this wheat, notify the AAA office, a card will be sent you when the car of wheat is on the track. The price is 79c.

Scrap Iron.
Recent weather reminds us that winter is here with the promise of snow. Let's keep at that scrap before its covered. A tub by the barn or garage makes a convenient place to put small odds and ends of iron, nails and so forth, protects your tires too.

The Anti-Inflation Bill.
It means this to farmers: Price ceilings can be set on all farm commodities by the President or by any agency or government office that he designates. No ceiling can be put on any commodity lower than the higher of these two prices. (1) The parity price. (2) The highest price that farmers received between January 1st and September 15, 1942. Farm commodities that have been selling above parity levels during the first eight and a half months of this year will not be rolled back to parity. A list of Parity Prices for Farm Products is on the bulletin board in the Triple A office.

Paul Carlsen, 23, Ord's 1st Casualty; Killed in Pacific

Sister, Mrs. Cook, Gets Word of Boy's Death "In Line of Duty" Sunday.

Paul Thomas Carlsen, 23, a son of Mrs. Pearl Carlsen who is now visiting children in California, was killed "in line of duty" in the Pacific area recently, according to a telegram received Sunday by his sister, Mrs. Angle Cook. The message was addressed to Mrs. Carlsen but was delivered to Mrs. Cook in her absence.

Signed by the commanding officer of an American warship, the message said simply: "Your son, Paul Thomas Carlsen, was killed in the line of duty."

It was also requested that the family not disclose the name of the ship on which young Carlsen was stationed, or where he was when he last wrote home.

The message said that it was impossible to send the body home for burial.

Mrs. Cook is the oldest sister of Paul and she had a nice letter from him October 9. He was "somewhere in the Pacific" and it is assumed that his death occurred in the Solomon Islands area where there has been much naval activity lately.

Paul had been in the United States navy five years. He was graduated from Ord high school in 1936 and joined the navy the following December.

He is the first Ord boy to lose his life in action during the present war, on the basis of reports so far received. Exact date of his death was not given in the telegram received by Mrs. Cook.

Alaska Lighthouse Keeper Visiting Ord

An unusual visitor to Ord is John Tyake, a cousin of Guy LeMasters, who is a professional lighthouse keeper in Alaska.

Mr. Tyake's lighthouse near Ketchikan is not perched up in the air hundreds of feet like the pictures in the books. Instead it is a modern house with many windows and views, which houses a five-man government crew. The crew keep close watch for vessels at all hours, and give warning. No women may stay there, as a war measure, so the bride Mr. Tyake acquired in September will wait for him until his next six months' vacation. One six months' holiday is earned for every three years' work. Mr. Tyake will be eligible to retire in six years on a pension, which are given when workers reach the age of 65 or have served 30 years.

The Tyake family at one time lived near Burwell and have friends through this country. He was here to visit three years ago during his vacation, also. He came Thursday and will be hereabout for two weeks.

Minute Men May Prove Tough Test for Tolly's Boys

Chanticleers Convincing in a 33-0 Win Over Sargent but Lexington is Stronger.

Coach Tolly's Chanticleers of Ord high school won in a 33 to 0 breeze over Sargent last Friday, playing their most decisive game of football, but the Lexington Minute Men who come to Ord this Friday for their first game may be a tougher proposition. Lexington has looked good in losing to some very strong teams this season while the caliber of Ord's opposition, with the exception of Grand Island, has not been so high. Ord is unbeaten but has two ties to mar its record.

It was the Ord linemen who looked best in that 33 to 0 win over Sargent last week. They blocked punts, intercepted passes, stopped the Sargent ground game cold and broke big holes for Ord's backs, holding the Sargent lads helpless throughout the game. Novosad blocked one punt which James ran back 40 yards to score, Severson ran 50 yards for a touchdown after a pass interception. Novosad took a pass from Junior Wilson and scored, and Marech fell on a punt blocked by Cetak in the end zone for another Ord counter.

George Cetak played his usual splendid game, scoring once on a short plunge after his line had blocked a Sargent punt to put the ball in position. His kicking was a big factor in Ord's convincing victory for he set Sargent back in their own territory throughout. His defensive game was far above par also.

First downs stood 9 to 3 for Ord. Only three of the attempts for point after touchdown were good, Cetak driving through once, Novosad making one point by catching a pass and Stewart scoring once on a fake. Ord has only two more games, the important clash with Lexington here this week and an afternoon Turkey Day battle against St Paul there next week. Both games loom as hard ones but if the Chanticleers get past Lexington they should beat St. Paul. This week's game is a non-conference clash.

Star Route Service Postponed - Jeffres

Deferment of establishing star route service between Grand Island and Burwell until after Jan. 1 is revealed by E. H. Jeffres, chief clerk of Railway Mail Service for the Omaha district, in a letter sent to all postmasters in the North Loup valley late last week, after Mr. Jeffres' visit to Ord.

At the present time considerable change in main line train schedules is taking place, said Mr. Jeffres' letter, and with the holiday season with its heavy big mails almost at hand it is deemed advisable to postpone establishment of the new service for a few weeks.

Railroad schedules are being slowed generally because of heavy traffic in troops and military supplies taking precedence over mail and passenger trains, and it may be necessary to devise a new schedule for the Grand Island-Burwell star route after New Year's, he feared. He pledged quick action after the holidays.

148 Cars of Beets Raised in Valley

The North Loup valley raised and shipped 148 railway carloads of sugar beets this summer, a check-up with the Burlington agent at Burwell and the Union Pacific agent at North Loup reveals. Of this total 106 carloads were shipped from Burwell and 42 carloads were loaded at Olean.

Only Man Ever to Tame Prairie Chickens

Only man ever known to tame prairie chickens is Joseph Fodor, who has lived near Burwell for the past ten years and is pictured here with some of his prairie chicken pets. This statement was made by the editors of Life Magazine after learning of Mr. Fodor's unusual achievements. Mr. Fodor found the prairie chicken eggs and set them under a hen. Now grown to full size, the prairie chickens come at his call and will eat out of his hand. Mr. Fodor has tamed many other varieties of birds, raises fancy pheasants of several species and is a great bird lover. The photo used in making this cut is owned by L. B. Fenner, of Burwell.

North Loup Sailor Wounded in Solomons

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Babcock received a message from the navy department on Saturday night that their son, Albert, jr., (Babbie) had been wounded in action. The message requested that the name of his ship and any other information valuable to the enemy be withheld but it is thought Babbie was in the Pacific, likely in the Solomon Islands. He left here in January 1942 for his training at the Great Lakes and was back late for a furlough. A nice long letter was received by his parents Sunday but that of course gave no information. The Babcocks, who are now living in Scotia where Mr. Babcock is employed in the bank, are anxiously waiting for more definite news.

W. A. Fox Dies at Home in Ord

At his home in Ord Friday evening, Nov. 13, occurred the death of William Alvin Fox, 85, who had been in failing health for several years. Funeral rites were held Tuesday morning in the Pearson Mortuary chapel and interment was made in the Ord cemetery.

Mr. Fox was born in LaPorte county, Ind., Nov. 13, 1857 and his death occurred just eighty-five years to the day later. When he came to Nebraska he first lived in Rock county. He was married to Mary Whiting at David City on Jan. 31, 1883 and forty-four years ago came to Valley county with his family to establish a home.

Despite the infirmities with which he was afflicted Mr. Fox remained of a cheerful disposition to the last. On last Jan. 31 he and his wife observed their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Both knew well the hardships of pioneer life in Nebraska and throughout their lives shared joys and sorrows without complaint.

Besides his wife Mr. Fox is mourned by five sons and one daughter. They are George Fox, Bellingham, Wash., Clarence Fox, Anaheim, Calif., Leslie Fox, Wahoo, Nebr., Chester Fox, Manitou, Colo., and Charles Fox, Ravenna, Nebr., as well as one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Steeple of Alliance, Nebr. Two children died in infancy and one daughter in August, 1929. Twenty-one grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren survive.

472 Tires Turned in to Government

A total of 472 tires, most of which are in usable condition, have been turned in at Ord railway express offices this month, said the agents Wednesday morning, and are being shipped to the Defense Supply Corporation in either Omaha or Lincoln. Under the gas rationing program the government required owners to turn in all tires in their possession in excess of five before they could become eligible for coupon books.

J. C. Van House, the Burlington agent, says Tuesday was his biggest day with 63 tires turned in that day. He reports a total of 253 turned in since Nov. 1. The Union Pacific agent reports 214 turned in there this month.

Quite a number of the castings being turned in are in practically new condition. Mr. Van House states. A few are completely worn out and such tires are sold here as junk rather than being shipped to the Defense Supply Corporation.

Tires shipped in to the government are retrofitted or recapped and then are made available for issuance to gas coupon book holders on a quota basis by counties. Hope is that all automobiles can be kept running for the duration by rationing gasoline and continuing to issue tires under the present system.

Ord postoffice employees are doubling up in their work right now because John Lemmon, city carrier, is taking his annual vacation which he is spending at corn picking on his farm near Ord. He is no tyro at the task, being a former Valley county champion.

Mel J. Rathbun, 53, Drops Dead Sat' day from Heart Ailment

Springdale Farmer Finished Dinner, Was Listening to Radio When Stricken.

Melvin J. Rathbun, 53-year-old Springdale farmer, had finished dinner and sat down with his wife and their two sons Saturday noon to listen to radio news when he suddenly dropped dead, the victim of an unsuspected heart ailment.

Mr. Rathbun had been a resident of Springdale community all his life, being born there June 17, 1889, the son of Dimic and Cornelia Rathbun, and was one of Valley county's best known and most highly respected farmers.

He was educated in Springdale rural school and in the St. Paul business college and was married to Elsie Haught on Sept. 11, 1912. Besides his widow he is mourned by one daughter, Mrs. Genevieve Pierson, of Arcadia, and by two sons, Tracy and Richard, both at home. There also are two grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Waterbury, Glendale, Calif., and three brothers, Claude, Glendale, Calif., Mott, Elmira, N. Y., and Cash, of Ord.

Mr. Rathbun was a life-long Methodist and funeral services were held there at 2:00 Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Mearl C. Smith and Rev. M. M. Long in charge. Burial was made in the Ord city cemetery. The Pearson Mortuary conducted the funeral.

Pallbearers included Verle Arnold, Bud Covert, Lyle Abney, Clyde Baker, Ray McLain and John Koll and honorary pallbearers were James Covert, Dave Arnold, Ed Timmerman, John Mason, Herman Stowell and Harry Wolfe. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Madams Mark Tolen and C. M. Davis, Messrs. Robert Noll and J. R. Stoltz, with Mrs. Noll as pianist. Hunter Commended by His Commander

Friends of Devillo Hunter, son of the late Guy Hunter and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Moser will be interested to read the following letter handed to him:

Commanding Officer M. G. Kennedy D. G. Hunter, SMI USN Commendation

1. During the first war patrol of this vessel your actions were repeatedly noted in a favorable manner. Your alertness on the bridge was outstanding. On almost every occasion that the bridge watch picked up an object, either friendly or enemy you were the first to see it and direct attention toward it.

2. Your aggressive manner and positive action as a member of the fire control party was a stabilizing influence to that group.

3. The commanding officer takes pleasure in commending you on your outstanding performance of duty. Mr. Hunter has been in the navy seven years and his brother Otis has been in the navy six years. Their mother visited here last summer with her father, D. A. Moser, and her husband's mother, Mrs. D. A. Moser, Guy Hunter being a child of Mrs. Moser by a previous marriage, and Mrs. Guy Hunter a child of Mr. D. A. Moser by a previous marriage. So Devillo Hunter is the grandson of both Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Moser of Ord, by an odd quirk of fortune.

Devilleo Hunter was brought back from China last spring to help launch a big new submarine near Boston, and is still serving on that ship somewhere, fighting the axis. The above splendid letter proves there is nothing lukewarm about his fighting.

Mileage Rationing Plan Puts Farmers in Preferred Class

Gasoline and Rubber for All Essential Needs of Valley County Farmers.

Farmers are in a preferred class so far as mileage rationing is concerned, said Vern W. Russell, chairman of the Valley county ration board, Wednesday morning as registering for gas coupon books got under way throughout the county. Not only will there be plenty of gasoline made available for the essential needs of farmers, including deliveries of grain, livestock and produce to market and purchase of supplies, but also tires will be available to keep farmers' cars and trucks on the road for the duration.

Registering for gasoline is taking place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the school houses of the county. Coupon books known as "A" books will be issued to all applicants who have their forms properly filled out but all who want supplemental rations of gas must secure another form at their school house which they will fill out and mail to the ration board. Each such application will be acted on separately as the board has time, said Russell.

If a farmer lives 25 miles from town and needs to make three trips weekly he will be given enough gasoline to do this essential driving, plus his other essential needs. There will be no hampering of farming operations by the mileage rationing program, Russell promised.

Pleasure driving is "out" for the duration, however, he said, and traveling salesmen are going to find their activities greatly curtailed. In most cases salesmen will be allowed a maximum of 470 miles per month, unless their activities are directly related to the war effort. There are twenty "preferred" classes of drivers in instruction sheets furnished, says Russell.

The Valley county ration board has been reorganized on the panel system, with Chairman Russell, Zabloudil and Blessing in charge of mileage rationing and Mrs. Ramsey, Teague and Stoltz in charge of fuel oil, kerosene, distillate and kindred products.

Coffee rationing will be handled by Mrs. Grace Sprague, clerk of the board, unless special problems arise. Merchants will stop sale of coffee Nov. 21 and none may be sold until Nov. 28 when coupon No. 28 in the sugar ration books may be used for purchase of coffee. Any person who, because of having an excess supply of sugar, does not yet have a coupon book, is advised by Chairman Russell to make arrangements to get a book even though it may mean disposing of his excess sugar supply to others.

High school classes were closed in Ord Wednesday afternoon while teachers work at issuance of gas coupon books. They also are accepting applications from 7 to 9 Wednesday night and throughout Thursday and Friday in the superintendent's office.

Orville Eberle Dies in Airplane

Burwell Boy Serving as Aerial Gunner Killed Nov. 13 in North Carolina Crash.

Orville Eberle, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Eberle, of Burwell, was killed Friday, Nov. 13 in an airplane crash at New Bern, N. C., according to messages received by his parents from the War department. First came a telegram that he was missing and later another message announced his death. No further particulars of the crash were given.

The young man was a staff sergeant stationed at Myrtle Beach, S. C., and was serving as an aerial gunner. He enlisted in the air corps May 4, 1942 and had planned to come home on furlough soon.

Handsome and curly-haired, Orville graduated from Burwell high school in 1941, serving as president of the senior class. He was courteous and pleasant to all and was popular with his class mates. Later he worked in Council Oak store and in September, 1941, went to California and found employment as a stock clerk in a store. His parents live on a farm 9 miles north east of Burwell.

Orville's body will be sent home for burial, Mr. and Mrs. Eberle have been informed, but no funeral arrangements have been made pending further word from the war department.

Another Eberle boy, Clyde, is in the service also. He holds the rank of sergeant and is stationed at Shepard field, Texas. There are four other brothers and sisters.

Christmas Mailing 20-25 Days Early, Urges Postmaster

Shortage of Mail Cars, Clerks Makes Package Mailing by December 1 Necessary.

Mailing of all Christmas packages 20 to 25 days earlier than usual is being urged as a necessary measure by the postoffice department, says Postmaster A. L. Hill, which means that every package which has any distance to travel should be in the mails by Dec. 1.

There is a great shortage of railway mail cars and of clerks to handle the mails, says Hill, and with the heaviest Christmas mail in history expected the public will have to cooperate or the whole parcel post system may be hampered.

In ordinary years mailing of packages by Dec. 15 is considered a guarantee that they will reach any destination in the continental United States, says the postmaster. Not so this year when there are millions of soldiers in army camps within this country, most of whom will be showered with presents by family and friends. Civilian mailing will be heavier than ever too because so many people are away from home working at war plants.

Packages for overseas delivery should have been mailed before now to assure arrival by Christmas, while cards and packages for delivery within the country should go into the mails by Dec. 1. Do your Christmas mailing early!

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 69 * Information that will help you buy a better-tasting turkey * Things you need for delicious desserts * Little Miss Pry finds out why

Let's talk Turkey

Thanksgiving time is turkey time—and the turkey has to be one of tempting goodness. It has to be the right type of bird . . . in adequate quantity for the feast . . . properly dressed . . . and definitely good. So to help you when you go abuying this important holiday bird, let's talk turkey for awhile, as you will probably wonder . . .

How much turkey you should buy
An easy rule to remember in gauging quantity is to provide 3/4 to a pound of turkey (dressed but not drawn) for each person to be served. Naturally, the larger the turkey, the more meat you'll have in proportion to bone. And it's really good economy to buy a turkey a few pounds heavier than you will actually need.

What size turkey is best for roasting
Twelve pounds is the maximum weight for a tender roasting hen. If you need a larger bird than this, buy a tom, for a tom weighs heavier for its age than does a hen.

Is there any homework to be done on a turkey drawn at the market
It's your turkey from now until table time and it's wise to roast a turkey within 24 hours after it has been drawn. To get a turkey ready for stuffing, remove any pinfeathers, using a paring knife, a strawberry huller, or old sterilized tweezers. Remove the coarse feathers from the wing tips—pliers work fine—or cut off the wing tips. If any hairs remain, singe them off, using a gas flame or lightly twisted paper torch. Then scrub the outer skin of the turkey with a brush and warm water. Cut out the oil sac on top of the tail-piece and remove odds and ends of lungs and windpipe. Cut off the neck inside the skin down close to the bird's shoulders. Rinse inside and out with cold water; pat dry with paper towel or clean cloth. Sprinkle lightly inside with salt. Mr. Turk is ready to be stuffed!

What is meant by a government graded turkey
Government graders are impartial third parties who grade turkeys according to the way they meet certain stipulated government requirements. They mark each turkey with a tag showing the proper U. S. GRADE—your quality guarantee.

Something Different

After this war we will be using many new delightful products, created because of need out of what we now think of as ersatz material.

I got to considering the other day if perhaps Christianity wasn't the biggest success in the world. Of late years it has been the custom to say the churches were less and less filled and to talk about the trend away from religion.

now going to war to help all the less fortunate? Isn't it the biggest mass demonstration of Christian coloration the world has ever seen in all our 1942 years?

Said the fussy mother in exasperation: "I never can keep my children as clean as other people do theirs!"

Patient old grandma watched placidly and observed the lively children with a happy light in her eyes as she rather sarcastically inquired "Do you want dolls?"

Dr. Barla has a great way with small children and his cheery demeanor rarely fails to make a hit.

A real demonstration of his popularity with one youngster showed up not long ago on the occasion of a seventh birthday party.

"And", announced little Billy Joe Rowbal in choosing the seventh and last birthday party guest "then I want Dr. Barla to come!"

And Dr. Barla went, too. "All the boys had a dandy time!"

ure Island, Calif. He used to be a marine and spent years in service for our country in Tinstew, China. Virgil Cuckler was one of his students, not classmate. What hurts my feelings is when I do send in a writing it is not printed as I wrote.

I received two letters from friends back there asking if my sons were not in service. I am proud to say yes. Two sons are serving, Ray K. and Archie H. Bryan, who is training home guards at Mankato, Minn. After war number 1 Archie lay in a hospital three years and did not raise up but is back doing his part and well.

I regret to do this and will hereafter let others do the writing. I still say good luck and best wishes to all back there.

Soil Conservation Notes.

Contour operations take a little longer but the saving in fuel and reduction in wear and tear on equipment—important war conservation measures more than compensate for the extra time, is the report of George Armstrong, farmer north of Big Springs, Nebr., and cooperator with the Deuel county soil conservation district.

This is the second year that Armstrong has contour farmed. Last year, he said, he tried it for his row crop on a sloping field and for the first time he did not have to replant after heavy rain.

"The contour listed furrows held and there was no soil washing, even though there was one rain of 3 inches in 30 minutes," he reported.

This year he continued. He summer fallowed an adjoining field on the contour. He reports that harrowing the 100 acre field once on the contour resulted in a saving of a tank of tractor fuel compared with what he formerly used on up-and-down hill operations there.

Grade School Notes.

At the grade school last week children joined the Junior Red Cross 100 per cent, bringing their pennies gladly. They also solicited at home for oddments to put in the service kits for soldier boys—buttons, needles, pins, pencils, and thread.

Three children have been damaged while playing within the past few days. Virgil Withers has a broken shoulder, sustained while playing and wrestling at the park. Reynal Suchanek has his ted hair covered with a lot of bandage after injuries made by a car door. By far the most serious was the third accident, to little Billy Beck, when a BB from the gun of a playmate pierced his eye and he had to be taken to Hastings for treatment.

There are now 145 children drinking milk at school, out of approximately 190 students at the grade school.

Miss Lois Finley's pupils have completed scrap books to be sent to hospitals, via Red Cross. Tuesday was to be physical examination day, with four doctors active. Dr. Blessing was to examine teeth; Dr. Barla heart and lungs; Dr. Norris eyes; Dr. Miller a variety of general features, of the children, announced Miss Inez Swain, principal.

BACK FORTY By J. A. Kovanda Dandelions turn many lawns a garish yellow each spring. Then folks commence digging them vigorously, ashamed of what neighbors may think of such weedy yards.

Right now is the best time to kill dandelions, using kerosene spray. Ordinary kerosene works well when temperatures stay below 75 degrees.

For summer spraying of dandelions, iron sulphate is worth a trial. The mixture consists of 1 1/2 pounds iron sulphate per gallon of water.

NEBRASKA'S

Liquor Control

Law

Among America's Best

Judge Charles E. Sandall, State Director

A Statement by Judge Sandall

"I want Nebraskans to know they have one of the best state liquor control laws in the country and one strictly enforced by an honest, alert Liquor Control Commission.

"Serving as a 'shoulder to the wheel' to enforcement authorities is the Nebraska Committee of Brewing Industry Foundation, representing the beer industry of the state. The brewing industry voluntarily checks up on dealers who sell its product. It co-operates with the authorities in taking action against licensees who get out of line. This program is now in its fifth year.

"In my judgment, this system of rigid legal control has great advantages over any other method of handling the alcoholic beverage question. I base this opinion on many years of experience as an attorney, prosecutor, legislator and judge."

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Attention Boys and Girls.

Do you know that the 4-H wartime program is dedicated to winning the victory?

Your older brothers had a choice of enlisting in the army, navy or marines. You too may enlist in three ways.

1. You may join a 4-H club.
2. You may work with an adult and form a pair for victory.
3. Or you may join a War Activities Project.

Your County Extension Agent will gladly explain these plans more fully to you. Joining 4-H club work will give a definite part in winning the war and will recognize your efforts.

4-H club work will:
1. Help members in taking a man's or woman's part on the farm or in the home, thus aiding the labor situation.
2. Help produce essential farm products.
3. Prepare boys and girls for the greatest usefulness within their community.
4. Inspire personal satisfaction which in terms of service and sacrifice may come to 4-H members from having done well the jobs that they have chosen to do.

Twenty thousand Nebraska boys and girls have just finished this year's club year. Already 110 new clubs have been organized for 1943 with a membership of 1,064. This 4-H army

THESE VANDALS IN CREAM DAMAGE ITS GOODNESS and THIS IS WHAT THEY CAUSE!

Under the microscope Bacteria that spoil cream look like Pool Balls, Pool Cues and Cork-Screws

This is the reason dairy authorities urge farmers to separate the milk immediately after milking and then quickly cool the cream. Quick cooling puts a stop to the multiplication of the bacteria and preserves the quality of the cream.

But most of the bacteria which appear in milk get there after it is drawn from the cow. Carelessness in milking or insufficient attention to cleanliness are the principal reasons for the presence of this second batch of bacteria (illustrated above). Dust, loose hair, imperfectly cleaned utensils are among the principal external sources of bacteria. Once the causes are understood, the remedies suggest themselves. Milking a clean cow with clean, dry hands, the use of a seamless, hooded pail, with perhaps a filter-type strainer for further protection provides the complete answer, according to these same dairy authorities.

Bacteria are so very tiny that many thousands of them could be put on the period at the end of this sentence, yet the farmer must wage a continuous battle against them lest they deprive him of his livelihood.

The production of cream is a perfect example of this struggle. From the time the farmer draws the milk from his cow's udder until the minute he delivers the cream to the creamery or his cream buyer, he must be alert every minute lest the bacteria get the upper hand, outsmart him and nullify the hours of care and attention he has invested in his product.

In the case of cream, the farmer must be doubly alert. For here he is dealing with a product which contains a small number of bacteria even as it comes from the cow's udder. Exposure to air causes these bacteria to multiply rapidly and unless this process is halted the product soon becomes unsuitable for food.

1,660 "A" Gasoline Ration Bks. Issued To Date in County

Nearly Everyone Is Seeking Supplemental Ration, Reports Rationing Office.

A total of 1,660 "A" books for the rationing of gasoline were issued during Valley county's registration days last week, reports Mrs. Grace Sprague, clerk of the Valley county board, and four rural school districts have not yet reported. The registration was carried out under the direction of Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of schools.

In Ord 433 were issued, in Arcadia 134 and in North Loup 130. According to George A. Satterfield, county treasurer, about 2,150 sets of license plates have been issued to auto owners this year, so it is apparent that not all drivers have registered as yet under gasoline rationing.

To date 141 applications for supplemental gasoline have been filed at the rationing office, Mrs. Sprague says. "Nearly everyone took out supplemental ration blanks," is her statement, but these blanks which must be acted upon by the board have in most cases not yet been filed.

Coffee rationing to consumers will begin on Sunday, Nov. 29. All retail sales are prohibited at present, orders being ordered to stop selling coffee at midnight Nov. 21 and desist until midnight Nov. 28. Restaurants and other institutional users of coffee are required to register this week.

Coffee consumers will use their Sugar Ration Book No. 1 when sales again are permitted. Stamps No. 20 through No. 28 will be used to ration coffee, each stamp being good for one pound. Only those books showing the holder's age as fifteen years or more will be good for the purchase of coffee. Stamp No. 27 will be used during the first period and will authorize an eligible purchaser to buy one pound of coffee during the period from Nov. 29, 1942 through Jan. 3, 1943, a period of five weeks. Individual consumers who have never received a War Ration book should call at the rationing board office for information as to how to get one for coffee.

This week the Valley county ration office is preparing to mail out fuel oil coupons to consumers and is also busy sorting and processing the gasoline applications.

Undoubtedly the rationing or the restricted use of other commodities will be required later, says Ign. Klima, Jr., chairman of the county defense committee, and since all of this involves a tremendous lot of work upon the part of the county defense and rationing boards, all done on a voluntary basis, it is going to be necessary to ask civilian enrollees to volunteer their services in helping. Civilian volunteers in North Loup, Arcadia and Elyria, as well as in Ord, should contact members of their rationing board and offer their assistance. In Ord those willing to volunteer their services during the week of Nov. 30 to Dec. 5 should call Mrs. R. E.

Ord Schools to Open Thirty Minutes Later

Starting Monday, Nov. 30, both the Ord high school and the Ord grade school will start 30 minutes later in the morning and will close 30 minutes later in the evening. The schools will open in the morning at 9:25 and close at noon at 12:25. They will open for the afternoon session at 2:35 and close at 4:21. This schedule if it proves satisfactory will be used during the months of December and January and probably longer if it is deemed necessary.

Paul Carlson Met Death on Destroyer 'Smith' in Santa Cruz Islands Battle, Report Shows

The United States navy department has made public the facts regarding the naval battle in which Paul Carlson of Ord lost his life, so this information may now be printed, which was not possible last week. Paul was Ord's first casualty in World War II.

He was a gunner's mate, 1st class, on the destroyer "Smith," which was detailed to stand guard over an aircraft carrier during the battle of the Santa Cruz Islands on Oct. 26, it is learned. A Japanese torpedo plane shot down by American anti-aircraft guns, plummeted from the sky and crashed squarely on the forecabin of the destroyer, setting off fires which raged half the length of the ship.

Teague at No. 248 or Mrs. Sprague at No. 151. This week several ladies have donated their services and are busy processing and checking applications in the ration board's offices in the court house at various hours. Included are Mrs. Teague, Mrs. Keith Lewis, Mrs. J. A. Kovanda, Mrs. Floyd Beranek, Mrs. George Parkins, Mrs. W. E. Lincoln, Miss Dolis Waterman, Mrs. Syl Furtak, Mrs. Olof Olsson, Mrs. Edward Kokes, Mrs. Evan Hartman and Mrs. Howard Burt.

Eastern Star Group Entertains Seventy

District Banquet Monday Evening in Ord, Grand Matron Comes from Alliance.

About 70 members of the Order of the Eastern Star convened Monday evening at a district session in the Ord Masonic hall, with Mrs. Mary Finch, worthy grand matron, from Alliance, and Mrs. Mary Farnam of Loup City, past grand matron, the guests of honor. Scotia, Burwell, Loup City and Ord sent representatives to the meeting, among them being Mrs. Mildred Johnson and Miss Mary Jensen, grand representatives, and Mrs. W. C. Parsons, a past grand officer, all three of them from Burwell.

Mrs. Ed Beranek, local head of the organization, presided, and Mrs. Evan Hartman introduced the speakers. Among other matters discussed was the project of buying an ambulance to be given to the Red Cross, sponsored by the grand chapter of the state.

The Study Circle of the Methodist church prepared the delicious 6:30 o'clock banquet, including a menu of tomato juice cocktail, scalloped chicken, candied sweet potatoes, buttered carrots and peas, rolls, cranberry jelly, butter, pickles, cabbage salad, pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee. A group of younger girls did the serving under the direction of Mrs. A. J. Cochrane.

Thanksgiving decorations were arranged by Madams Teague and Klima, and suitably were made from pumpkin, oak leaves, nuts, ears of squaw corn, grapes, into a most attractive picture. Following the session coffee and wafers were served at a long table set in red, white and blue, under the direction of Mrs. E. C. James, with Mrs. William Sack and Mrs. F. L. Stoddard assisting.

Ord Hi Will Issue School Yearbooks

Ord high school will again issue an annual, and the staff, selected Friday morning, is Elizabeth Kovanda as editor, Darlene Carlson assistant editor, Avery Noll as copy editor, Maxine Sorenson business manager, Betty Ann Puncocchar will assist the business manager, Doris Klima will be art editor, Orle Hurlbert the sports editor and Bernard Behrends the sales manager. No theme for the yearbook has been chosen as yet. A good many pictures to be in the annual have been taken already.

Everyone worked so hard on the operetta and was so excited over the costumes and the singing, it kept building up and up. Tuesday night was a big thrill. Wednesday morning a big letdown, but thoughts of the Thanksgiving game made school spirit perk up.

A big attendance is expected at the Turkey Day Tournament in St. Paul, when Ord goes there to play. If Ord can win it will mean the three-valley championship. Seven boys play for the last time for dear old Ord: Floyd Stewart, George Cetak, Alwin Stewart, Bob James, Don Peterson, Paul Covert and Bill Novosad.

Mrs. Ben Shepperd Picks 1,300 Bushels Corn Alone After Illness Costs Husband One Leg

By Mrs. Edw. Burrows, Farmer Fieldwoman of AAA. Although Mrs. Ben L. Shepperd wears no uniform such as a WAAC or a WAVE, she's serving valiantly on the farm front. Mrs. Shepperd has just picked every ear of a thirteen hundred bushel corn crop from their dry land farm 1 1/4 miles east of Comstock.

Like a real veteran, the slim, blonde Mrs. Shepperd brought in between fifty and sixty bushels every day. This farm family has several times refused to recognize the word defeat. Hard times and illness have both knocked at their door. Mr. Shepperd has lost his right leg as a result of blood poisoning but still they proceed, always ahead. Today they live on their own farm and have a thrifty herd of livestock. Thankful they are for good agricultural prices. Kindness and faith of their neighbors and determination in their own hearts to manage by themselves have made it possible for them to win, says Mrs. Shepperd.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepperd have four daughters and one son also apparently imbued with the spirit of their parents. With families like this, how can America fail?

Chanticleers Win over Lexington 6-0, Point for St. Paul

Must Beat Apostles to Claim 3-Valleys Title; Novosad Scores Touchdown.

The Ord high Chanticleers played splendid football Friday night to win 6 to 0 over the Minute Men from Lexington, on a cold and wind swept field before a sparse and shivering crowd. The victory leaves them undefeated this season, though they have been tied by Grand Island and Broken Bow.

Novosad made the Ord touchdown with a short drive over the goal line after he caught a short pass tossed by Junior Wilson into the flat at the left. Apparently hedged in by Lexington tacklers, Novosad reversed quickly and spun across the stripe to tally Ord's only marker late in the first quarter.

Fagot, sprint man playing halfback for Lexington, was always dangerous and twice put the ball deep in Ord's territory on long runs but the Ord line held both times.

The Chanticleers missed two fine chances to score when their drives stalled in Lexington territory. Once Severson recovered a blocked punt and was on his way to a touchdown when he slipped and fell. Cetak's kicking kept Lexington on the defensive much of the time.

Today the Ord team closes its successful season with a Turkey day game on St. Paul soil and must beat the Apostles to hold a clear claim to the 3-Valleys title. A defeat would give the title to Loup City on percentage points, even though Ord has badly defeated the Loup City team.

The Apostles have been pointing for Ord all season, which may be one reason for their 19 to 7 defeat at the hands of Burwell last Friday. Pulliam's passing and kicking and hard running by Swanson and Partridge gave the Longhorns their most potent offense of the season and St. Paul couldn't find a way to stop them. Whether they will be more successful against Ord, which is rated much more highly than Burwell remains to be seen this afternoon.

Loup City Man Heads Boy Scouts

The annual meeting of the Fort Hartsuff district of Boy Scouts was held in the high school home economics dining room Wednesday, Nov. 18 at 8:00 p. m. Fifty people attended the meeting with delegates coming from Loup City, Arcadia, Scotia and Burwell. A program consisting of musical numbers by Mrs. Mark Tolen and Henry Deines; an inspiring address by Ellsworth DuTeau, secretary of the University of Nebraska alumni association, and group singing led by Dr. George Gard, was enjoyed by the entire group. Childless Married Men Reclassified by Draft Board

Are Being Put in 1A Along with 20-Year-Olds; Farm Workers Are Exempted.

At the office of the Valley county selective service board this week the principal work in progress is the reclassification of married men without children, except farmers and farm workers, into class 1A for immediate induction. There are about 130 such men in Valley county, some of whom are farmers and may be exempt for the present under new manpower rulings recently announced.

Youths of the 18, 19 and 20 year old class who are already registered are being reclassified also for immediate induction, says Miss Virginia Davis, clerk of the board. There were about 165 in this group originally but enlistments have reduced it greatly. Questionnaires have been mailed to about 25 youths already classified and more are going out daily.

Under the new dairy-livestock-poultry plan already announced essential workers are eligible for deferment, says the draft board. Any worker or operator who devotes substantially fulltime service to an "essential" dairy, livestock or poultry farm will be deferred. An essential farm is classified as one supplying feed for at least eight dairy cows or other farm stock equal to them, and where such dairy cows or other farm stock are kept and tended. From Feb. 12 to May 12, 1943 such "essential" farm must have and supply food for at least 10 dairy cows or other farm stock equal to them. After May 12, 1943, they must have and supply food for at least 12 dairy cows or farm stock equal to them.

Classified as equal to a dairy cow in new instructions received by the board here, are: 3 beef cows or 5-yearlings, or 4 2-year-old steers, or 4 feed lot cattle, or 16 ewes, or 80 feed lot lambs, or 75 hens, or 250 chickens raised, or 500 broilers or 40 turkeys raised, not including breeding herd, or 9 hogs raised, not including breeding herd.

The dairy cattle or their equivalent must have been on the farmer's place Nov. 12, 1942 and his farm must have supplied the feed for them. However, even if the farmer did not have the necessary farm stock on Nov. 12 to be immediately eligible for draft deferment as an essential dairy, livestock or poultry worker or operator, he will be eligible if he has acquired the necessary farm stock (10 units) by Feb. 12. Until that time the farmer will be judged for classification on the basis of the stock he had on Nov. 12.

The selective service board has instructions to take into consideration the work done by farm women and girls before granting deferments to men workers on that place. For example, a farm might have a total of 14 essential units including a large flock of chickens and turkeys. The farm family includes the farmer and his wife, a son of eligible military age and two daughters, ages about 10 and 15. It is quite likely that in such a case the draft board would classify the son as 1-A and order him inducted on the theory that remaining members of the family could keep the farm in operation.

It is emphasized that each case will be decided separately and individually as the facts warrant. This deferment plan covers only dairy-livestock-poultry farms and does not cover deferment programs still in process of formation to cover grain farms and ranches.

Camp Fire Program for 1943 Outlined

All the Camp Fire groups in Ord are now reorganized and started on another year's work. Each group, with added members and newly elected officers, has a member of the Cosmopolitan club serving as individual sponsor and has discussed plans for the winter's work. At this month's guardian association meeting, with Mrs. E. L. Kokes, who serves as local secretary, the leaders agreed that the new year now needs more service work from Camp Fire girls and that there is much the local groups can do to help in the war effort.

Announcement of the coming Birthday Honor offered by national headquarters confirms this need. Entitled "Serve by Saving" it consists of a three-fold program that all Camp Fire girls, of all ages, may properly undertake and successfully accomplish for the good of family and country. The aims are: (1) to save money to buy war stamps and bonds to serve our armed forces; (2) to save materials needed to make those supplies; (3) to make clothes and equipment last as long as possible and not to spend money for unnecessary things.

Aowakiya, consisting of the oldest Camp Fire girls, with Mrs. A. J. Cochrane their guardian, Edw. Gnanster of Cosmopolitan their sponsor, 12 members with Luetta Kuehl president, are interested in carrying out service projects of hand work and are finishing the Fire Maker's rank by January 1.

Soangetaha, the next older group, with Mrs. Kokes guardian, Hilding Pearson the Cosmopolitan sponsor, 11 members with Joyce Achen president, are taking up a number of Junior Red Cross items in which to serve and now that they have completed the Fire Maker's rank they are discussing their individual projects of craft for Torch Bearers.

Eluta has 10 members, Mrs. C. A. Anderson leader, being one of the new guardians this fall, Dr. F. L. Blessing sponsor, Vivian Zulkoski their president. They are starting work on some material to be sent to army camps under Junior Red Cross assignment.

Chesckamaya has 10 members, Miss Sylvia Iwanski, another new guardian, their leader, Syl Furtak their sponsor, Joan Blessing president. They are busy completing the first rank and studying on the first requirements for Wood Gatherers, which will take them into valuable study in health with charts and discussion of accident prevention.

All the groups are considering plans for earning the Birthday Honor by following the Thirties commanding officers in an effort to serve as well as the WAVES and the WAACS.

It is probable that some form of Christmas entertainment will be provided for children, though the date has not been set. Members discussed the matter at some length at their meeting last week. It was agreed that it will be impossible to give sacks of candy away as is customary because of the shortage of Christmas candy but without doubt a program will be arranged with Santa Claus and sacks containing apples, peanuts and popcorn will be given to all children attending. Directors will make final decision at their meeting next week.

C. J. Mortensen was reelected president to serve a fourth term and E. S. Murray was chosen vice-president succeeding George A. Satterfield. Added to the board of directors were William Goff, Keith Lewis, John Haskell and George Allen.

John Zimmerman of Lincoln, was a guest and spoke briefly also. Earl Hammond, of Aurora, presented an offer to bring his dog and pony show to Ord as a part of the Christmas program but arrangements to have this feature were not completed and will be taken up by directors next week.

THANKSGIVING HARVEST OBSERVANCE

This Thanksgiving, the people of America are honoring their farm families. The men and women who are heroes on America's fighting farm front.

My Own Column

Oscar smokes good cigars and I smoke a pipe. I smoke a pipe for two reasons. It is much cheaper and it helps me kill a lot of time.

I believe the fellow who charges that the government is forcing rationing in the west more to make the people war conscious than from any real necessity, has hit the nail right on the head.

If we could only have full confidence that the war reports that we are getting are true, it would be much better news.

Recently when Chief Mail Clerk Jeffres was here and met with local business men and postmasters from most of the towns in the Loup valley, he promised better mail service and indicated that it would take a couple of weeks to make necessary arrangements.

It is agreed that railroad equipment is needed for hauling troops and supplies and it does seem silly, if this is true, to urge the oil burning homes and plants to change to coal burning equipment.

There is no better Christmas gift that can be sent than a year's subscription to the Quiz.

And we are always glad to have your order for daily papers. We make a small commission for handling the matter and it costs you no more so why not let us have the business.

Something Different

Sometimes it is a bit hard to see that making such a trifling thing as a khaki kit is adding any soldier boy or sailor. Shopping for certain sizes of buttons, for soap dishes of celluloid, for needles and what not? What has that to do with the war?

But more in regard to similarities. I have a counterpart here of my friend John P. Misko and he is remarkably like him in general makeup.

brother Arcadia was making a hundred of the kits when he inquired what war work she was doing. By return mail he told of his experience with them and how happy the men were to grab them, ending "You ought to make a thousand!"

Down in Scotia the prize story of the year... if true... says an in-law has been pressed in to service to run a pool hall since the draft called away the former operator.

The curious little girl was visiting her grandmother in Ord, and while there she and her mother went to the beauty shop. The little girl pried into everything, and asked questions galore.

The high school boys went out to pick corn and help the farmers, but like many another chore such work cannot be learned in a day, and some of the boys who were anxious to earn a good sum of money along with their patriotism were a bit disappointed in the amount of corn they could handle.

It is one thing for a farmer to take care of a hundred bushels in a day and another for a high school boy to toll and sweat all day some hours at work too tired to do anything but fall into bed.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Box 28, Navy Cantonment Honolulu, T. H. To the Editor of The Quiz: Just waded home from supper through some of the coolest mud I ever saw, and as I have nothing else to do I will drop you a few lines.

One of the most interesting things about this place is the fact that I see so many people here who remind me of people in Ord and Burwell. You come in that category, and the fellow who looks like you is nobody to be ashamed of, even if he is half Hawaiian and half Chinese.

But more in regard to similarities. I have a counterpart here of my friend John P. Misko and he is remarkably like him in general makeup.

hour's spread between them, instead of nearly four hours, as it is there. I am looking forward to next June, when the sun will be straight overhead at noon. Like all tropical countries, there is very little twilight, darkness coming on almost instantly on moonless nights.

Weather reports here are (taboo at the time they are news, but it will be ancient history when this reaches you, so it will doubtless be permitted to say that we have been having some rain here, and it is very wet rain, mostly coming down without any electrical demonstrations such as Nebraska has.

The natives were busy in October putting in their gardens and they are growing now and looking fine. The best soil red in color and is a volcanic ash. In most cases it has to be hauled in from pits dug in the side of the mountains, but everything grows surprisingly well when planted in it.

There is a lot of color here in more senses than one. We have them all the way from towheads to jet blacks, with every imaginable shade between to say nothing of the Royal Hawaiians from the Sunny South, who seem to get the best of everything, so far as local people are concerned.

Just quit writing long enough to help a couple of boys in the next room kill a cockroach. It is almost as exciting as hunting pheasants, as they have wings and know how to use them. We finally got him corralled in a corner and it exterminated him with a machinist's hammer.

But here is one for the book. You doubtless remember vividly how I hustled about last December collecting material and pictures to use in telling about one Johnnie Paddock, reported missing in action. I not only wrote the story, but I got his photo and a citation he won from the navy, and helped Duneay make cuts of them for use in the Quiz.

We have no short days here in winter nor long days in summer, there being only about an

While we are on the subject, I might as well add one of those things that simply can't happen, but do. There was a library on shipboard, and I took out a book to read. The one I asked for was "To Have and To Hold". I had read it before, but thought I would browse through it again. On the fly leaf, or rather on the inside of the front cover, I found the remains of one of those stickers Bill Timm used to put inside the books at his library at the time he had one in connection with his restaurant.

I believe I stated in my first letter that I was drawing well over $100 a week at that time. However, our time has been cut to 8 hours per day, so I am getting only $83.08 per week now. They take out each week for a $50 bond, and that leaves me 45.58, which, to tell the truth, is not far from what I thought I would draw each week in all was talking of coming. To date I have sent to the First National bank $550 in bonds and have also sent home $150 in cash, besides having plenty to spend for food and lodging, which costs me about $15 per week.

Speaking locally, people in the states will remember the celebrated Duke Konamaku (well that is part of it, anyway) who broke so many swimming records in the states a generation or more ago. This same Duke K etc, etc, etc, is the present sheriff of Honolulu city and county, and won the election to the job again by getting enough votes in the recent primary. I remembered him at once, but never could spell his name. Talking of primaries, they had one in Nebraska the week before we left, and I voted there. They had one in California the week before we left for Hawaii, but I didn't vote. Since we arrived here they have had a primary and general election here. This is one year in which I have seen plenty of elections.

There is a lot of color here in more senses than one. We have them all the way from towheads to jet blacks, with every imaginable shade between to say nothing of the Royal Hawaiians from the Sunny South, who seem to get the best of everything, so far as local people are concerned.

Your truly, John L. Ward.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Less turkey will be served on Ord dinner tables over the holidays than usual. There is turkey enough, but the price is rather high in comparison with other fowl. Turkeys are bringing 28 cents a pound live weight and up to 33 cents per pound dressed, locally. In cities the cost of turkey runs considerably higher.

The cheapest buy now is goose. These birds can be purchased for 13 cents a pound and have slightly less waste than ducks. The price of ducks is also around 13 cents for colored kinds, or 15 cents for whites. Chicken prices are higher, ranging around 19 cents a pound for heavies. Great quantities of turkey and chicken are going to our armed forces.

Most people want to buy a small turkey. A small bird gets eaten up before folks grow tired of it, and is not quite such a blow to their pocketbooks. The large sized turkey has a greater percentage of edible flesh but a big family is needed to eat it, and big families can't usually afford turkey.

Turkeys are still more economical to buy than they were fifteen years ago. A common charge then was 50 to 60 cents per pound. The big drop took place in 1933, when turkey prices fell to 10 cents a pound liveweight, less than chicken. Farmers in this vicinity eat chicken, duck or goose for Thanksgiving more often than turkey. Not many of them raise turkeys. Some think that turkey meat is too dry. Quite a few of our rural boys and girls have never tasted turkey or goose.

Gloves on Your Pets
Dogs and cats are the cause of almost one-fourth of the runs in stockings. Puppies are the worst. They can ruin a pair of silk or nylon just by brushing their paws against them. Hosts who have this in mind could put small gloves on their pet's paws.
Ice Facts
Glass may be as smooth as ice, but you can't skate on it because it is not the smoothness of the ice that makes it slippery. It is the film of water that forms between your skate and the ice, due to pressure.

AGE LOWERS THE VALUE OF CREAM
AGE TURNS TOP MARKET CREAM INTO POOR MARKET CREAM—AS QUALITY GOES DOWN, FARM PROFITS GO DOWN

This happens when cream is not marketed when fresh, and is ALLOWED TO DETERIORATE

Age, the factor that is so important in making certain cheeses better, works in exactly the opposite direction when it comes to cream. Because good cream is one of the world's most delicate products, it spoils rapidly even under the most favorable conditions.

Cream coming fresh from the separator is "tops" in flavor. But as the above chart shows, there is a decrease in flavor with each succeeding day the cream is kept. After the third day—usually—the original delicious taste flavors give way rapidly to other and undesirable flavors. When this happens the cream also "goes sour" in actual money value. For once the undesirable flavors exceed the desirable ones, the farmer's product enters the stage where it can no longer be sold legally for food purposes.

Holding cream at a low temperature on the farm will not overcome the factor of age. Age affects the fresh, clean smell of cream, as well

1st Aid Instructors Course on Monday

Christmas Plans.

Red Cross workers overseas are making plans for Christmas recreation for soldiers and sailors in true holiday spirit, and will decorate hospitals, and do whatever they can for the boys in service. This also holds true in the United States. In overseas hospitals Red Cross gift packets will give service men cigarettes, playing cards and other items secured locally, helping to make a merry Christmas.

The War department is discouraging gifts and letters from unacquainted donors to unknown recipients, stating that shipping space is needed for war materials and necessities for the soldiers and sailors.
