Ord to Generate Own Electricity After January 1

North Loup District Rejects City's Offer of 1.1c and May Operate Own Plant.

Unless some compromise agreement is made between the city of Ord and the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district before the end of December, this city will put its municipal electric plant into operation and generate its own electricity starting January 1, said Mayor M. B. Cummins this morning.

The contract under which Ord has been buying electricity from the North Loup district expires December 31.

At the November meeting of the city council Roy Hudson, General Manager of the district and Eugene T. Porter, appeared on behalf of the district and asked that the city renew its contract at the same average price paid during the past year, which is approximately 1.24c per kilowatt hour. After considerable discussion the council made a counter-offer of 1.1c per kilowatt hour.

This offer has been rejected by the North Loup district, Mayor Cummins said, for the reason that it was unable to secure a lower price from the Consumers district from which it purchases electricity for resale. There is too great a demand for energy by ordinance plants, war factories and other industries to permit a reduction at this time, the district was told, according to Mayor Cummins.

Utmost harmony characterized the meeting of district representatives and councilmen in contrast to the acrimonious atmosphere which prevailed when the original contract to purchase energy was signed.

It has been stated by Mr. Porter, who represents the Reconstruction Finance Corporation that if Ord and Burwell prefer to operate their own plants instead of entering into long-time agreements to buy electricity from the district, the district may decide to remove and sell its high transmission line. This could be done now at a price higher than original cost of installation and the money derived from the sale—about $125,000—could be used to reduce the district's indebtedness, Mr. Porter is understood to have told councilmen.

In recent months Ord has received good service over the transmission line, which removed the main objection Ord citizens had to high line service when the original contract was signed. However, councilmen feel that inasmuch as Ord owns its own plant it can manufacture electricity cheaper than it can be bought and even better service can be given than the city is getting at present.

Stocks of fuel oil on hand are ample to run the Ord plant from 3 to 6 months and more can be secured before the present stock is used up, the council feels.

Malmsten Gives $600 to Red Cross and USO

Burwell—(Special)—Largest individual donation made to date in Garfield county to any war fund came Saturday when C. J. Malmsten, Cedar river ranchman, donated $600 to the Red Cross and an equal amount to the USO. The big contributions came as a surprise to Ben Rose, the Red Cross chairman, and Oscar Johnson, USO head, as no drives are in progress at the present time.

No Red Cross Roll Call in November

Combining a covered dish supper with a board meeting Monday evening at the C. J. Mortensen home found the following Valley county representatives present: Clifton McClellan, I. J. Thelin and Miss Marcella Rood of North Loup; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weddell and Mrs. E. C. Baird of Arcadia, as well as a number of Ord workers. Among them were Madams Mark Tolen, Ed Kokes, Wilmer Anderson, George Parkins, C. J. Mortensen, C. C. Dale and E. C. Leggett. Marvin Hershey, of St. Louis, field representative, was the guest of honor and talked about the war fund campaign which will be held in March. No roll call is being made in November as has been customary for many years, but instead the public will have an opportunity to give to the Red Cross in March.

Gerald Goff a Master Sergeant Now

Gerald Goff, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Goff, recently was promoted to the rank of master sergeant and is shown here as driver of an army jeep. For a long time Sergeant Goff was stationed at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii but recently was transferred elsewhere and his parents do not know exactly where he is now, though they think he may be in the Solomons or on New Guinea.

Stanley Golka Drunk, Fined $10

Ran Family Out of the House Early Tuesday Morn and Sheriff Round Called.

Stanley Golka, farmer living near Elyria, was fined $10 and costs in county court here Tuesday afternoon upon his plea of guilty to a charge of drunkenness filed by County Attorney Misko. He paid the fine and costs of the action and was released.

Arrest of Golka was made about 4:00 Tuesday morning by Sheriff George S. Round, who was called to the Golka farm home 2 1/2 miles from Elyria by Marshal Frank Zulkoski, of Elyria.

Golka had gone home about 2 o'clock that morning in an intoxicated condition and "roughed around" until he drove his wife and son out of their home, they told Marshal Zulkoski when they arrived in Elyria. He then locked the door and refused them admittance.

Sergeant Nelson from Guadalcanal

Back from the front line fighting on Guadalcanal Island is Sergeant Norman L. Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson, of Elyria, who arrived on Thanksgiving day to spend a thirty day furlough with home folks. The Quiz has been unable to contact Sergeant Nelson but hopes to have a first hand account of fighting in the Solomons area, so far as military regulations will permit, in an early issue.

Mrs. Wm. Hulinsky Is Seeking Divorce

Mrs. Rose Hulinsky has filed her petition for divorce from William Hulinsky in district court here, charging extreme cruelty and non-support. They were married Jan. 25, 1938 and have two daughters of whom Mrs. Hulinsky seeks custody. She is represented by John P. Misko.

On Nov. 24 District Judge E. G. Kroger issued an order directing Mr. Hulinsky to pay $15 per month temporary alimony to his wife, pending hearing on her request for divorce and permanent support for herself and children.

Wilson New Deputy.

County Treasurer George A. Satterfield has appointed Lloyd Wilson as his deputy to succeed Clyde Baker, who has taken over the office of clerk of the district court. Wilson formerly was bookkeeper in the WPA office here.

St. Paul Stalemate Cost Chanticleers 3-Valleys Pennant

Loup City Edges Ord Out by 30 Percentage Points for Conference Honors.

When the Ord Chanticleers allowed the Apostles of St. Paul to hold them to a scoreless tie on Thanksgiving day they automatically lost the championship of the 3-Valleys conference to Loup City, a team they had previously conquered 21 to 7.

Loup City had won five conference games and lost only to Ord while the Chanticleers had won three conference games and had been tied by Broken Bow. A win over St. Paul would have given the title to Ord but when the game ended with the score 0 to 0 and conference percentages were tallied it developed that Loup City was conference champion with 830 points to Ord's 800.

From a spectator's standpoint the Ord-St. Paul game was a cheerless affair, fought out as it was between the 20 yard stripes. The Apostles, on edge for the Turkey day clash, had developed a defense that anticipated Ord's plays and stopped them before they could get well started. Ord played a fine defensive game also but the spark that means touchdowns was lacking.

Otto Marek's work in the line was outstanding for Ord and George Cetak turned in his usual good performance, though St. Paul had two and usually three men watching him every time he took the ball. Once he intercepted a St. Paul pass and for a moment it looked like he was away for a touchdown but alert St. Paul backs forced him over the sideline and a moment later an Ord fumble lost the Chanticleers a fine chance to score.

Ord's record for the season contains no defeats, inside or outside the conference, but three teams held the Chanticleers to ties—Grand Island Broken Bow and St. Paul. Their victims included Burwell, Albion, Loup City, Ansley, Sargent and Lexington.

Ordites Hosts to Army Officers

Hospitable Ord homes that entertained the visiting army officers and officers at Thanksgiving dinner include the following: C. J. Mortensen, Keith Lewis, Fred Kuehl, Jr., Glen Aule, Jay Aule, Elliot McClure, Clara McClatchey, Delores Redfern, Lucy Rowbal, Inez Swain, Emma Fafetta.

Also Henry Deines, Alfred Hill, Alfred Alberts, Paul Dumez, George Parkins, Bill Darras, Will Bartlett, C. J. Miller, Harlan T. Frazier, Leighton Conn, L. D. Milliken, M. Biemond, L. J. Aule, J. W. Severson, Ralph Misko, Rev. R. T. Cordry, E. L. Vogelanz, John Kokes, Frank Fafetta, Bert Murphy, M. McBeth, and Oscar Goff, Ralph Hatfield, Rev. P. W. Rupp, Bert Needham, Mr. Harkness at Mrs. Dave Wigent's, and Mrs. Hanson at W. A. Anderson's. Willard Connor, Jack Brown, Dr. C. W. Weekes, Gertrude Knebel, R. T. Price, William Heuck, Rex Jewett, Sam Marks, Mrs. Blaha.

Families offering dinners but too late to secure a soldier guest include Hilding Pearson, Amos Christofferson, L. A. Muncy, Roy Randolph, James Ollis, A. J. Ferguson, Ben Eberhart.

Plans were made for 110 men to be dinner guests, so when only 100 appeared, some tables were shy a few guests. Thus Madams Mortensen and Lewis, who planned at first on ten guests, later found they had only two or three soldiers left, and other hostesses clamoring for them. In nearly every case both soldiers and hosts enjoyed the acquaintance exceedingly.

Floyd Stewart Burned When Stove Explodes

Floyd Stewart, senior student in Ord high school, was severely burned on both hands Sunday evening when distillate poured into a stove by his mother, Mrs. Sylvia Stewart, in starting a fire, exploded and threw burning oil about the room. Floyd grabbed a bundle of papers which were burning and carried them outdoors, getting his hands burned in the process. He was attended by Dr. H. N. Norris.

Ed F. Beranek New City Council Member

Tuesday evening Mayor M. B. Cummins appointed Ed F. Beranek to fill the vacancy as first ward councilman existing since Frank T. Johnson moved to Kimball some months ago. Mr. Johnson expected to work there only temporarily so the vacancy was not filled but recently informed Mayor Cummins that he had accepted a permanent position there.

Council member Beranek has been a valuable member of the park board for several terms, is interested in and familiar with civic problems and will be a valuable addition to the city council. His appointment was unanimously ratified by councilmen and he will take his seat at the January meeting.

Owl Has Wingspread of 4 1/2 Feet

When Raymond Zulkoski heard his chickens squawking at midnight one night recently he grabbed his shotgun and ran outside to repel a chicken thief but discovered this huge owl was the marauder. A shot brought the owl down but he was only stunned and Zulkoski captured him alive. He has a wingspread of 4 1/2 feet, one of the largest owls ever seen hereabouts.

Rationing Office 'Snowed Under' by Gas and Fuel Oil

Closed All Day Friday While Clerks Catch Up; Fuel Oil Deadline December 10.

Administration of either the gasoline or fuel oil rationing programs would be a man-sized job in itself but when the two come simultaneously the work is too great for any office force, ration officials agreed yesterday. Consequently the office will be closed all day Friday while clerks catch up with their work.

Members of the board, Mrs. Grace Sprague and Miss Eileen Thomsen, clerks, and their volunteer helpers are literally "snowed under" with applications for supplemental gasoline and fuel oil. All day Saturday, Monday and Tuesday the office has been crowded with people wanting action on their applications but only a limited number could be taken care of.

The deadline for use of fuel oil coupons has been extended to December 10, says Chairman Vern W. Russell, because coupon books were received so late. People needing fuel oil up to that time may sign a slip for it but will have to present their coupons later when they are issued, he said.

In a Sunday afternoon meeting the three members of the ration board in charge of gasoline, Chairman Russell, Dr. Blessing and Will Zabloudil, approved 175 of the most urgent applications for supplemental gasoline. In the group approved were mail carriers, doctors and others entitled to extra gasoline, and also some farmers. In general people are being reasonable in their requests for extra mileage, Chairman Russell says.

There are hundreds more applications which the board will pass on as rapidly as possible, he said.

Under the mileage rationing plan more tires have been made available in Valley county. For December the county has been allotted 7 Grade 1 tires, 17 Grade 2 tires, 58 Grade 3 tires, 47 retreads and 19 tubes; also 9 new truck tires, 11 recaps and 13 tubes. Grade 1 passenger car tires are available only to

Last Teachers' Class Will Meet Saturday

Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of Valley county, announces that the last class of the rural field center group will be given this Saturday at the high school, and the instructors who come from Lincoln will bring Dean Henzlik head of teachers' college of the University of Nebraska as chief speaker for the day.

In order that all those students in both classes may have the advantage of hearing Dean Henzlik, they will lunch all together at noon. About 40 are enrolled in the two classes.

Organizing these classes for present and past teachers, and bringing to Ord university professors for a series of lectures designed to help old teaching certificates become renewed and new credit hours to be added by all who pass the tests is undoubtedly one of the finest things Miss McClatchey has ever done. It is also most unusual for in no other county in Nebraska has equal opportunity been offered. The Ord classes were the first to start in the state this year, with the best of instructors.

Miss McClatchey is receiving much favorable comment from other educators for what she has accomplished.

Mrs. J. Gunnerson Answers Summons

Aurora Woman, Murl Brickner of Ord Before Marriage, Dies November 25th.

At her home in Aurora on Wednesday, Nov. 25 occurred the death of Mrs. Joe Gunnerson who before her marriage was Murl Brickner, of Ord. She has been ill six months and was bedridden during the final weeks of her illness. Funeral services were held at the United Brethren church in Aurora Friday and interment was in the cemetery there. Attending from Ord were Charles and Sam Brickner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolf and family and Mrs. Furr Johnson. Mrs. Kingston had gone down earlier to be with the family and her other sister, Mrs. Anna Holloway, who was with Mrs. Gunnerson when she passed away.

As Murl Brickner, Mrs. Gunnerson went to Aurora from Ord more than 25 years ago and was employed in the Aurora Hardware store. She was an outstanding woman of ability and energy. After her marriage to Mr. Gunnerson she was associated with him in business, served as assistant while her husband was county treasurer and later worked in the Aurora Battery station and with the Non-Stock Cooperative association. Besides her husband she is mourned by one son, Jimmy, now a student at University of Nebraska. Besides her two brothers, Sam and Charles Brickner, and her two sisters, Madams Kingston and Holloway, of Ord, she leaves two other sisters, Mrs. Emma Burkey, of Grant, and Mrs. Rose Howard, of Stiles, Ida.

Those people back east don't seem to have any idea of the distances our people have to drive to get their produce to market or how much this region is dependent on trucks for shipment of livestock and farm crops," Chairman Russell says. Food production will be seriously hampered if trucks are not given enough gasoline to operate, he agrees.

Gas Rationing Fails to Halt 'Sneak Day'

North Loup—(Special)—Sixteen members of the senior class and Mr. Eiley went to Grand Island Monday afternoon, having their annual sneak day which usually comes in the spring but was held now while gas could be obtained. Mrs. Ruth Hutchins and Rev. F. H. Stevens drove cars. They met at the Leschinski studio and had their picture taken, spent the afternoon shopping and sight seeing, attended a show in the evening and returned home. One member of the class, Dorothy Larkin, was ill and not able to go.

How Ord Teachers Spent Holidays

Thanksgiving holiday found Supt. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson and Mary at her parents' home in Seward. Principal Fred Stoddard of the high school and his family were St. Paul visitors. Mrs. Martin McGuire went to her home in Lincoln. Miss Helen Prouty spent the intermission with her people at Shelton. Miss Wilma Shavlik went home to Morse Bluffs and Miss Cleda Munson at Cozad with her family.

Miss June Stover went home to Hastings, and Miss Iris Krebs to Scotia. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deines stayed home in Ord, with four soldier guests. Roscoe Tolly and family remained in Ord. Mr. Farley was in Lincoln. Miss Elizabeth Lukesh remained in Ord.

Four Below Zero Is Ord's Coldest

During the current cold snap Ord has had two 4 below zero mornings, according to Horace Travis, the official government weather reporter. First was Saturday when the mercury dipped to 4 points below the zero mark and the second was Wednesday when the same low mark was reached.

Burwell reports 5 below zero for Saturday morning. Snow flurries and a high wind made Saturday a very cold day indeed and there has been little moderation since though no snow has fallen.

ODT Allotments of Gas Protested by Truck Owners

Will Hamper Food Production Is Plea; Ration Board Here Has No Authority.

A large percentage of truck owners intend to appeal the allotments of gasoline made to them by the Office of Defense Transportation, said Vern W. Russell, chairman of the Valley county rationing board Tuesday evening. For several days the board has been hearing complaints of truckers that they will be unable to continue operations unless they are allotted more gasoline, he said.

The Valley county board has no authority over trucks and other commercial vehicles, Russell emphasized. All such vehicles require a "certificate of war necessity" issued by the Detroit office of the ODT and in this certificate is fixed the amount of gasoline each shall receive. When he gets his certificate the truck owner takes it to the local rationing board and receives a ration book for the quantity of gasoline permitted by the certificate.

The ODT has been very rigidly in granting gasoline to truck owners, cutting the quantity asked for to 25 per cent or even less in some cases. Several truck owners who estimated their 1943 driving needs at 16,000 miles were allowed only 4,000 miles. One was allowed only 3,100. Practically all were cut to some extent. One farmer who lives 12 miles west of Ord and uses a pick-up truck to haul his produce to market was allowed only 13 gallons for the entire year.

The ODT has two offices in Nebraska, one at Omaha and one at North Platte, and most commercial vehicle owners who are dissatisfied with their allotments plan to appeal to one of these district offices, which is permissible if the appeal is made on the form provided for that purpose. The local board is powerless to grant more gasoline than the certificates allow but, aware of the seriousness of the situation, is recommending that truckers appeal.

Those people back east don't seem to have any idea of the distances our people have to drive to get their produce to market or how much this region is dependent on trucks for shipment of livestock and farm crops," Chairman Russell says. Food production will be seriously hampered if trucks are not given enough gasoline to operate, he agrees.

Of interest to many Quiz readers will be news received by Mrs. George Maxson from H. L. Polan of Verona, N. Y., telling that the Polan's son, Dighton, had been reported missing in the Pacific war theater by his commanding officer. The message has been received by his wife and that on October 15 a tragedy occurred and Dighton's plane failed to return to base.

Enlisting in the naval air reserve on his 23rd birthday, December 23, 1940, he was commissioned an ensign on September 9, 1941 and was a patrol plane commander. Married on February 20, 1942, eight days later he was separated from his bride and sent to the Pacific area. His family had only recently received word that he was promoted to a junior lieutenant. The Polans lived here when Dighton was a boy and Rev. Polan was pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church.

Outstanding as a boy in his school work, he continued to be outstanding in college and followed this trend after his enlistment.

HERITAGE DINNER
*Boston Baked Beans
Silver Onions in Cream Piccalilli
Dutch Cabbage Salad
Corn Bread
Apple Crisp with Pour Cream
Hot Beverage

BOSTON BAKED BEANS
5 cups cooked dried beans
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1/4 tsp. prepared mustard
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup water
2 tbsps. dark molasses
3 slices bacon

Place cooked beans in well-greased 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Thoroughly combine other ingredients, except bacon. Pour over beans. Strip with bacon; bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour and 15 minutes or until brown. Serves 6.

HOW TO COOK BEANS
UP-TO-DATE bean cookery suggests that for cooking navy, pink and red, kidney or cranberry beans: Pick over beans, removing damaged beans or foreign particles. Wash in sieve or bowl. Do not soak. Although soaking cuts cooking time, it makes beans mushy. Place in kettle 4 times greater in volume than beans. Cover with hot water; add 1 tsp. salt for each cup beans; cover. Simmer until beans are tender, 2 to 3 hours. Add water as needed.

I would be glad if subscribers and especially those at a distance, would watch the expiration date on their paper each week and see that it is renewed...

Do you remember some time back when President Roosevelt was for inviting the Jews being persecuted in Europe, to come to this country?

press is going to suspend the immigration laws for the duration at the request of the president. I fear for the results.

I bought a Thanksgiving turkey, then got invited out for dinner and had a surplus turkey on hand, so I just baked it...

That is a mighty nice letter which we have this week from John L. Ward and if we can judge by his picture...

I have been wondering why Pat Fuson didn't write us any more and happened to mention the matter the other day when Oscar Nay was present...

Ship your Christmas things soon. The malls are already a mess and as Christmas approaches they are bound to get worse.

We would not be at all surprised if we might have to de-

BACK FORTY
By J. A. Kovanda

Hybrid corn has given satisfactory yields here in most cases this fall. On three Mira Valley farms and one Olean farm...

Hybrids did especially well north of Ord. We heard about one farm on the sand flats where hybrids beat ordinary corn yields by over twenty bushels per acre.

Hybrids were twenty bushels better on a place by Elyria, according to reports. On a field east of Ord the hybrids were fifteen bushels per acre better...

However, information comes from a few farmers living in Sumpter, Mira Valley and Germanum precinct that their hybrids produced no differently than home-raised seed corn.

Many kinds of seed were tried out locally this year. The list includes Stechley's, DeKalb, Nubred, Pioneer, Pfister, Funk, Yager's, Standard, National and others.

Farmers like hybrids because they shuck easily. Over half the state's acreage will likely be hybrids next spring and a seed shortage may develop.

Our Nebraska experiment station recommends the following certified corn hybrids for Valley county: On irrigated land—

On non-irrigated land—Iowa 939; Iowa 306; Indiana 425; Nebr. 463; Iowa 4059.

AAA NEWS

Sealing prices on corn in Valley county will be 77c a bushel and we will begin sealing sometime about December 15th.

We have four sealers: Carol Lutz from Atcacia, Al Radke from Elyria, William Earnest from North Loup, and Vladimir Babka from Ord.

The Secretary of Agriculture has asked an increase for the production of pork for 1943 and a floor has been placed under pork, the figure being $13.25 at a Chicago basis.

It would seem much better to sell pork at $13.25 or above than taking 77c a bushel for corn or 55c a bushel for barley.

Barley and corn should stay right in Valley county and be fed to livestock for producing more meat to feed our soldiers and allies.

There will be a car load of wheat in North Loup in a few days and we are ordering another car load for Ord, hoping it will be in about December 15th.

Some time in the near future we will have a car load of 930 bushel wooden bins. These bins will be for sale and any farmer may buy them.

In case we do not sell them we will erect them at one of the Commodity Loan bin sites and use them to store wheat, corn or barley next summer.

On Friday, December 4th, at 10 a. m., all Community Committeemen are called to an all day meeting at the American Legion hall in Ord.

At this meeting the 1943 program and the 1943 production goals will be discussed. The 1943 program is built around the 1943 production goals.

There has been considerable dissatisfaction with the certificates of war necessity issued in Valley county.

It seems that there has been a serious error made somehow and within the next few days we will have blanks to fill out and file appeals for correcting certificates of war necessity.

We, in the AAA office will help you fill them out and stand behind you until we have them corrected.

Emil Schoening, the scrap iron buyer, shipped a car of iron out of Ord this week.

A large share of the second car is already on the ground and will probably be loaded soon.

There is a market for scrap iron at all times. Bring yours in.

ATTENTION CITIZENS OF ORD!

There have been several complaints which have come to my office of people and children who are violating this ordinance of which I am giving you a copy. It reads as follows:

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to discharge, or cause to be discharged, any toy pistol, toy gun, air gun or any other arm or arms, or any nigger shooter or slingshot loaded with rock or leaden or other dangerous missiles, at any time or under any circumstances, within the limits of this City. Any person violating the provisions of this Section or of the preceding Sections, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars for each offense, and shall stand committed to the City Jail until such fine and costs be paid, secured or otherwise discharged according to law.

I, as Mayor of this city feel that the children are not all to blame for this violation. People who are purchasing this equipment and permitting its use knowingly, I think, are equally guilty. There has been one accident that I know of up to the present time and there may be more. I am ask- ing that all violators cease these violations at once or face prosecution.

M. B. CUMMINS, Mayor

GASOLINE RATIONING AND RAIL TRAVEL

UNDER ordinary circumstances, the Burlington would view the curtailment of inter-city motoring necessitated by gasoline rationing as an opportunity to demonstrate to many confirmed motorists the speed, comfort and convenience of railroad travel.

Unfortunately, we may be prevented from doing this in full measure because:

- 1 - A large part of our power and passenger equipment is assigned to the all-important job of transporting the armed forces.
- 2 - It is not possible at this time to build or buy new passenger equipment.
- 3 - Largely due to the foregoing, the Office of Defense Transportation has "frozen" the number of passenger trains which may be operated.

Nevertheless, the Burlington will devote every effort and resource toward providing the best possible passenger service "for the duration" for all patrons—both old and new—residing along its 11,000 miles of railroad in thirteen states.

Most effective use can be made of available trains and schedules if passengers will—

- ★ Travel during mid-week, whenever possible.
- ★ Purchase tickets and make Pullman reservations reasonably in advance.
- ★ Travel with no more baggage than necessary.
- ★ Consult local agent when planning trips.

The Burlington is grateful for past patronage, appreciates present patronage, and strives to warrant future patronage.

Those present were Walter Blum and Miss Haynes York, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hellewege and children and Mrs. Rose Fuss and family of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harding of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuss and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gausman and Kay and Mrs. Emil Foth, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burson, Mrs. Burson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lenz, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cook and Mrs. Harry Foth and children were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shoemaker of Scotia Thanksgiving day. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rahlmeyer left last Wednesday for Bayard where they will spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Virgil Mayden and family. About forty people attended the charivari on Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Fuss last Tuesday night. Mrs. Schafner is with Mrs. Emil Foth now.

Haskell Creek—Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hoppes were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoppes Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vanslyke and family were supper guests of Carl Hansen's on Thanksgiving. Mrs. Ben Philbrick and Harold visited at Vanslyke's Friday. Mrs. Duane Woods and Julianne spent a few days with Mrs. Romans in Arcadia. Carl Hansens called at Emil Babka's Friday evening to visit with Alfred Babka's who were visiting here from Scottsbluff. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Keefe, Wayne Hansen and Jack Vanslyke were Thanksgiving supper guests of Carl Hansens. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Anderson and Kenneth Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson were Sunday afternoon and evening visitors at the Albert Clausen home. Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell visited friends in Sargent Sunday. James Flynn is visiting with relatives in Iowa. He went last Saturday. Lyle Flynn visited with Joe Lee Miska Sunday and they went hunting. Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Schamp and Harry and Mae were at Miskas for Thanksgiving dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Omar Keezer, Donny and Rosa Lee were Sunday dinner guests at the Miska home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Walker went to Omaha Friday, combining a business and pleasure trip. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Borden and son were guests at the E. J. Fruhling home in Albion on Thanksgiving. Later in the week Mr. and Mrs. Fruhling made a business trip to Burwell and were guests at the A. E. Borden home. Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Horner and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner and daughter of Ord were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Christensen of North Loup Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hall returned Wednesday after spending several days in Omaha. A group of ladies gathered Thanksgiving day at the home of Mrs. Bess Langstrom and enjoyed a covered dish dinner and supper. The table was beautifully decorated portraying a Thanksgiving scene with miniature American and Indian dolls. The guests were Mrs. Emma Mitchell, Mrs. Minnie Cameron, Miss Anna Cameron, Mrs. Alex Jenks, Mrs. Ben Hennick, Mrs. Lillie Mickel, Miss Nellie Cox and Mrs. Luther Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cain, Mrs. Roy Nightengale and Ed Pokorney motored to Grand Island Saturday to meet Mrs. Walter Cain from Axtell, Kas. Mr. and Mrs. Don Hughes were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hughes of Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Clement of Ord were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Meyer left Monday for Omaha and Mr. Meyer will work at the bomber plant. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Swanson spent Sunday and Monday in Burwell visiting relatives and friends. They are located at Wisner, where Forrest is manager of a Council Oak store.

William Udell and Austin Chambers left Monday for Grand Island and will work at the ordinance plant. Miss Lucy Gibson, who is the home economics teacher at Elgin, spent the week end as a guest of Miss Florence Grabowski. Miss Gibson and Miss Grabowski were Sunday dinner guests of Miss Esther Capek. Mrs. Lee Jordan, who has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Pipal, left Saturday for her home in Florida. Thanksgiving dinner guests at the Len Downing home included

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Higgins, Jim Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zabrada of Cedar Rapids and the latter's mother, Mrs. Burnside from Belgrade. The out of town visitors were Wednesday night guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Higgins.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rose spent the week end in Lincoln and Omaha. Mrs. Rose happened to meet Miss Alaire Pulliam, who was leaving for California to join the Misses Nina Nickels, Virginia Beck and Gertrude Elm. En route to California, Miss Pulliam will visit her father and friends at San Antonio.

The J. N. Johnson family enjoyed two Thanksgiving dinners this year. Thursday the family gathered at the parental home and Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson entertained. The guests included their two daughters from Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes and Bruce.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Smith and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Seward Holloway. The group enjoyed dinner at the Parish hall, served by the ladies of the Catholic church. The Burwell Longhorns won the game at Sargent Thanksgiving day 27 to 0. This was the last game for nine seniors. They have won the Loup Valley championship for this year and were winners last year.

Master Sergeant Frank Banks, son of Thomas Banks, was given an honorable discharge from the army and given a civil service position as an auditor in the army camps. Frank had been in the army for three years and nineteen days and his superiors undoubtedly thought that he could serve his country more efficiently in this new capacity. Incidentally there is a $3,500 salary attached.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Adams and family left for McAllister, Okla., the first part of last week where Mr. Adams had employment. But living quarters were so crowded that Mrs. Adams and her two children returned to Burwell and will again rent an apartment in the Butts building. Mrs. Roy Webb returned Monday from Nampa, Ida., where she had gone to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Della Cutter.

Bobbie Hallock, who has never been absent or tardy since he started to school six years ago, thought he was fortunate in having the measles during the Thanksgiving vacation. You may be sure he obeyed the rules and regulations pertaining to the measles, and Monday morning found him in school again.

Sheriff and Mrs. Raymond Johnson took their daughters, the Misses Thelma Mae and Virginia back to their work at Lincoln Sunday. The Bredthauer girls from Scotia accompanied them.

The pupils in Dist. One, who won the tractor during the scrap drive, sold the tractor for scrap and bought a new Victrola and a basketball. Dist. 1 is in the Penas neighborhood and Miss Viola Simpson is the teacher. Mrs. F. B. Wheeler and Marcella and Miss Esther Capek were Thursday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Green at St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson entertained a large group in their spacious home Thanksgiving. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Troxell and Ruth, Miss Maureen Troxell of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnson and family, Miss Sarah Janes of Hastings, Mrs. Lucille Johnson and children of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown of Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Johnson and children and Mrs. New of Omaha.

A six o'clock dinner was held Saturday evening at the O. W. Johnson home honoring the Lincoln guests including Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Miss Sarah Janes and Mrs. New.

Orlin Shirer of the navy, who was an instructor in the Burwell schools last year, and Sergeant Reuben Sorensen visited school last Wednesday and gave a talk before the pep rally.

Supt. and Mrs. C. C. Scofield and children spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Scofield's parents at Allen. Miss Longfellow went to Ansley and Miss Mary Wise to Primrose. Miss Florence Waggoner spent her vacation at her home at Elba and Miss Helen Mussack accompanied her. Mrs. Verley went to Belgrade and Miss Dickinson went to Lincoln.

Mrs. Walter Peterson returned to her home in Denver Thursday. Miss Victoria Walaowski accompanied her. Miss Lella Moorman of Clarks spent her short vacation with her sister, Mrs. Effigene Hallock. D. C. McCarthy drove to Lincoln and Mrs. McCarthy was able to accompany him home after her recent operation.

Dr. and Mrs. Gelow of Grand Island were Thanksgiving day guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner.

828 applications for fuel oil had been filed by Saturday night. C. R. Igenfritz, board member and Miss Margaret Theim worked steadily and they were all in the mail Monday morning, only to receive notice that the time limit had been extended for ten days.

Miss Meda Draver left Thursday for Elm Creek to attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson were guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson. That afternoon Mrs. Asa Anderson accompanied her brother-in-law, Onle Anderson to West Point, where she visited her sister, Mrs.

Ord Livestock Market

announces its offering for the regular weekly sale

Saturday, December 5

1:30 p. m.

In spite of the bad weather last Saturday we had a large offering and a fine sale. All classes of stock were steady to strong.

It looks like that at next Saturday's sale there will be 135 head of all classes of cattle including 40 head of mixed yearlings, 15 feeder cows, 2 extra good young bulls, several heavy butcher bulls and 4 good milk cows. 120 head of feeder shoats and weanling pigs, 2 choice spotted Poland China boars. 4 head of work horses. One large size oil burner, in good condition.

I think that nearly everyone in this territory is assisting in the war effort in every way possible, but if anyone is deserving of extra praise I believe it is the rural people of our territory, many of whom are not only doing their own job but are assisting in other lines of activity that we may still retain this freedom which has been purchased at such a tremendous price and our organization wishes to express our gratitude to these rural folks who are carrying such a heavy burden at this time.

Do not forget the livestock sales of Will Apperson on December 8 and of Roy McGee on December 9.

Any truckers who desire any assistance in filling out of any appeal applications are welcome to come to our office and we will give you all the assistance possible.

New Valley County Group Accepted for Military Service

Latest Selectees Leave Friday for Training; New Registration Opens Friday.

Valley county's December group of selectees will leave Friday for training, reports Miss Virginia Davis, clerk of the selective service board here. In the group are Hans Hansen, Joe Cetak, Randolph Long and Earl Barnes, Ord; Louis Drake and Roy Steele, Arcadia; and Carl Kaczka, Elyria. Another Elyria boy, Joseph Wegryn, left directly for camp after being accepted for service last week at Fort Crook.

From other places are five transfers accredited to Valley county. They include Felix Gregorski, of Oregon; Steven Sowokinos, Gering; Eldon Turner, Grand Island; Eugene Anderson, Kansas City; and Robert Lambdin, of Oregon.

New enlistments reported to Miss Davis by recruiting centers include Arnold Leonard, of North Loup, the marine corps; John Wozab, Ord, in the navy; Syl Furtak, of Ord, army signal corps; and Harold Van Horn, of North Loup, in the army.

Beginning Friday, Dec. 11 and continuing until Thursday, Dec. 31, young men who have reached their 18th birthdays since June 30, 1942 will register at the selective service board's office in Ord.

The local board has received from state headquarters instructions for operation of the farm deferment system which affects hundreds of Valley county registrants. The new system covers all agricultural pursuits and replaces the limited dairy-livestock poultry plan previously announced.

Local boards now have authority to grant deferments to full-time, year-around farmers whose agricultural production gives them a score of 16 "war units." A "war unit" is a measure of production of essential farm products devised by the U. S. department of agriculture to serve as a guide for local boards in classifying "essential" farmers for deferment. The war unit score system is a guide and not a rigid rule. It is stressed, and local boards are authorized to adjust the unit requirements to fit special situations.

For example, the scale says 2 acres of potatoes or beets equal one war unit. On that basis 32 acres of beets or potatoes would give one farmer a score of 16 units—enough for deferment—without further agricultural production. Such an unbalanced application of the war unit guide will not be allowed but adjustments will be made to cover such situations.

Here are the numbers of most Nebraska farm livestock and acres required to make one war unit under the new system:

- Beef cattle—12 in farm herds or 20 in feed lot or 15 (cows and calves) on range or 75 (bought and run on grass) stockers.
- Fresh milk cow—1.
- Hogs—20.
- Sheep—30 in farm flock or 160 lambs in feed lot or 45 sheep on range.
- Chickens—600 broilers or 75 in egg production or 300 in flock replacement.
- Turkeys—40.
- Irish potatoes, sugar beets—2 acres of either.
- Barley, wheat, grain sorghums, oats, rye, dry field peas, cover crops, tame hay and hay crosseds—15 acres of any.
- Corn, dry edible beans, sweet corn—5 acres of any.
- Flaxseed, soybeans—12 acres of either.

In classifying a farmer under the new system the board will consider the availability for work of other persons associated with him, his wife, family members and hired help. Farmers will be asked to submit under oath a summary of their agricultural production on special forms available. Farm registrants who qualify for deferment will be placed in class 2-C if they have no dependents and in Class 3-C if they have dependents. They will be subject to immediate reclassification and induction if they forsake farm work.

Norman Nelson, Marine Sergeant, Only 19 but Veteran of Guadalcanal Fighting

Was in Front Lines Against Japs 64 Days; Bombing Hardest on Nerves.

By Irma Ellis Leggett. Probably the most adventurous year he will ever live ended Dec. 8, Tuesday this week, for young Norman Nelson, 19-year-old marine who is on furlough at the home of his father, John Nelson. Enlisting at Los Angeles at six a. m. the morning of Dec. 9, he has been 20,000 miles and more, seen action in two big battles and scores of lesser engagements, travelled on five different types of boats including an airplane carrier, and not the least thrill, now wears a sergeant's handsome stripes.

Norman was helping his brother and working in a small cafe in California when they heard about Pearl Harbor. He tried to enlist that day, but recruiting offices were jammed and he couldn't make it, but he was there early next morning to be sure of making it that day, and make it he did. After being sworn in he spent a month and a half at San Diego, then was shipped to Pearl Harbor. He was somewhat disappointed in the Hawaiian Islands, for they were not as beautiful as he'd expected. Neither was New Hebrides nor New Caledonia.

But the Fiji Islands' shoreline and scenery was a big thrill and it looked as he thought a tropical island should, lush and gorgeous. Norman liked it the best of any place he has been, and he has really been pleased this year, for he has come directly home after 64 days of heavy action on Guadalcanal.

All those southern Pacific Islands are hot and sultry, but more wearing still is the nerve tension, the constant alertness for sneak attacks and enemy snipers. However Uncle Sam takes good care of his boys, and he knows this high tension cannot be kept up for long without actual injury to his men, so fresh troops are put into line and tired ones sent out to rest. And that is how Norman got to come home for three weeks to the family farm two miles west and south of Elyria.

"Boy, I never appreciated the quiet life so much. Every little thing seems precious, things I never noticed before. And Nebraska looks better to me than anywhere I've been, and I've seen plenty." Norman states it with quiet conviction. An attractive dark-eyed, dark-haired youth, slender and tall, he wears his marine khakis proudly, but something about his eyes tells of grim work he has had to do, and ugly pictures he has in his mind. He does not have that careless gaiety of most Nebraska 19-

Sergeant Norman Nelson.

The story at left was prepared from facts given by Sergeant Nelson in an exclusive interview with the Quiz reporter. Monday evening Sergeant Nelson was a guest of the Ord Rotary club and told Rotarians about the fighting on Guadalcanal. A picture of Nelson's captain appeared on the front cover of Life magazine last week and Time magazine in its last issue featured the exploits of Nelson's squadron of marines.

year-olds, whose most responsible decisions are as to what job to take or what's the best number on the juke box.

Young Nelson wears khakis because the marines have more men than blue uniforms, and mightly proud he is of the marines, too. "They can take care of themselves in any situation, they don't ask for help, and I don't mean to brag. I don't mean in the brawls you hear about in taverns, I mean in action. They are hard fighters, and have had the hardest, and toughest training. I thought I was in good condition when I went in, but I'd be so worn down I might as well fall on the bed. Now we can march 30 miles in a day, easy. I never saw such training; we all lost a lot of weight, but now we are really in condition."

"Of course I might have put on a little weight since I got back," he says with a slight smile.

City Saves $4,000 Interest by Buying Refunding Bonds

Council at Special Meeting Decide Invest $29,500 in Bonds Issued in 1940.

When the city of Ord refunded its city hall indebtedness in 1940, a total of $27,000 of the refunding bonds were bought by the Nebraska State bank of Ord. Since these securities have appreciated in value and last week an eastern bank offered the Nebraska State a premium of $2,500 for their bonds.

Informed of this offer, Mayor M. B. Cummins decided to call city councilmen into a special meeting to discuss buying the bonds as a city investment and this was done Thursday evening. After much discussion it was decided to buy the bonds out of electric department funds and hold the bonds as an investment, and the city treasurer was directed to purchase the bonds at $29,500, which is their face value, plus $2,500 premium.

The bonds draw 3 per cent interest for the first ten years and 3 1/4 per cent for the last five years, and by buying them now the city will save approximately $4,000 in interest.

The electric fund contained about $41,000 in cash before these bonds were bought and there is still plenty of cash on hand to meet running expenses and take care of possible emergencies. Hereafter interest on these refunding bonds will be paid out of the general fund in to the electric fund, thereby keeping the money in city hands, and when they expire the bonds can be paid off in the usual manner.

Boys and Girls Are In This Scrap Too!

Burwell Sailor Wounded in North Africa Troop Landing Tells of His Experiences

Burwell—(Special)—Roy E. Price, first class fireman on the U. S. navy cargo carrier Bliss when it was torpedoed and sunk Nov. 1 off Casablanca, North Africa, during the landing of United Nations troops and supplies on Nov. 12, is at home on leave and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. "Pop" Price. Fireman Price has been away from home 15 years, spending most of this time on a cattle ranch in Wyoming. He enlisted in the navy Jan. 28, 1942 and received his training at Great Lakes station. After his enlistment he married his Wyoming sweetheart and Mrs. Price is with him here. The Bliss, on which Price was a fireman, was one of several vessels in a small convoy which left this country for North Africa. Other ships joined the convoy as it progressed and by the time it reached Africa it was one of the greatest convoys ever assembled. The ships anchored 7 miles off shore to discharge cargo and the cargo of the Bliss had been unloaded and moved ashore when a torpedo discharged from an Axis submarine struck the No. 1 fire room of the ship and caused a great explosion. There was no steam and the pumps were useless. Price was in the engine room at the time and was knocked unconscious when the steam pipes burst. Several of his ribs were broken and he was painfully bruised. When he regained consciousness he crawled from the fire room on his hands and knees and groped through the smoke to the upper deck. Then he jumped into the water and swam until he was picked up by a tank lighter. Loss of life was great because of the raging fire, for although the ship was struck at 5:39 a. m. it did not sink until 2 a. m. the following day.

Fireman Price and the other wounded men were taken ashore and returned to the U. S. on a hospital ship. Price, now fully recovered from his wounds, is anxious to be back on the job of fighting the Axis and will report for duty at Newport News, Va., on Dec. 30.

their scrap drive Mary Ann gave her scrap to the school, other times she uses scrap revenue to buy a "share in America" at the Post office window labeled, Defense Stamps and Bonds.

Mary Ann says gathering scrap has its ins and outs too, she reports that once when the pall was clear full an inquisitive porker thinking the pall was for kitchen scrap upset the whole thing. I asked Mary Ann if she got tired filling that bucket with scrap all the time. "Oh no," said she, "I have to fill the bucket regularly because Uncle Sam wants me to buy defense stamps regularly so he can send war materials regularly to the regular fellows in the armed forces who are serving for you and me."

Have you bought a bond or some stamps this month?

Louis Larsen Run Over by Hayrack, Lung Is Punctured

Haskell Creek Farmer Makes Satisfactory Recovery at Home, Says Dr. Barta.

A crushed collarbone, several fractured ribs and a punctured lung were the serious injuries suffered by Louis Larsen, 68-year-old Haskell Creek farmer, when he was run over by a hayrack about noon last Thursday. He is making a satisfactory recovery at his home, reports Dr. F. A. Barta, but his condition is still quite serious.

Mr. Larsen was loading straw in a field about one-half mile from his home and had stepped in front of his team to replace the neykoke on the tongue of the hayrack, as it had slipped out on a slight slope and started to roll down hill and since the neykoke was not in place it rolled against the team, which plunged, knocking Mr. Larsen to the ground. Two wheels of the wagon rolled across his chest and shoulder.

The team stopped a few feet farther down the hill and Mr. Larsen managed to crawl to them and unhitch the horses, thinking they would go home and someone would notice them and come to his aid. The day was bitterly cold and he soon realized that he would freeze if he didn't get to the house, so he dragged himself to his feet and managed to walk home. Dr. Barta then was called to attend him.

The physician says that Mr. Larsen's collarbone not only was broken but in one place was crushed into small pieces. His most serious injury, however, is the punctured lung. Efforts are being made to prevent pneumonia from developing and though his injuries are very painful it is thought now that Mr. Larsen will recover. He is being taken care of by his wife, daughter Emma and son Oscar, who live at home.

Ten Qualify for 1st Aid Instructors

Valley county was privileged to have a lay instructors' course in first aid offered last week to qualify further teachers of first aid work. LeRoy Snyder, instructor in first aid, water safety and accident prevention, was sent out of Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis to Valley county to conduct a class organized by Mrs. Mark Tolson, county first aid chairman. As a result of the course ten more instructors of first aid in the county. Mrs. J. E. Brew, Mrs. G. G. Holloway, Mrs. E. L. Kokes and F. L. Stoddard, all of Ord; Mrs. Clarence Switzer, Mrs. George Eberhart, Miss Marla Rood, Dell Barber, Merrill Wellman and Alex Brown, all of North Loup.

The class put in 15 hours of intensive first aid review and teaching preparation with Mr. Snyder. They met every evening last week beginning Mon-

Chris Helleberg Claimed Sunday by Heart Attack

Veteran Burlington Railroad Section Foreman Succumbs, Funeral Wedn. Afternoon.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon for Chris Helleberg, 71, who died at 8:00 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 6 at his home in Ord as result of a heart attack. Rev. Harold Milliken, pastor of the Christian church, had charge and interment is in the Ord cemetery. Services were held at the Pearson chapel.

Mr. Helleberg was born in Tversly, Denmark on May 22, 1871, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Helleberg, and came to the United States in 1893. Before coming to Valley county he worked on Erie, Pa., and Woodstock, Ill. His marriage to Christine Jensen took place in 1898 at Ord.

In the spring of 1895 Mr. Helleberg came to Ord and worked at various occupations for a few years, entering the employ of the Burlington railroad about 1902. He worked as a section hand for several years, then became section foreman and served in this capacity until his retirement on his 65th birthday.

Besides his widow he is mourned by one son, William J. Helleberg, of Crete, by one daughter, Mrs. Kent Ferris, of Ord, and by Curtis B. Gudmundsen, of Ord, who lived in the Helleberg home from infancy and was almost as a son to Mr. and Mrs. Helleberg. There also is a brother, Nels Helleberg, and a sister, Maren Helesen, who remained in Denmark. Four grandchildren survive also.

Mr. Helleberg was a member of the Danish Lutheran church and was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen lodge. He was a hard working man, a good husband and father, and was respected by everybody.

Pallbearers at the final rites were Will Nelson, Axel Jorgensen, Jess Mortensen, Hans Larsen, Roy Whiting and E. C. James. Music was furnished by Mrs. Roscoe Tolly and Mrs. C. M. Davis, with Mrs. R. E. Noll at the organ.

Mrs. McClimans, 88, Found Unconscious Feet Badly Frozen

Was Fully Dressed but Wore No Shoes When Found at Early Hour Tuesday.

Burwell—(Special)—Mrs. Alta McClimans, 88, was found unconscious outside of her house early Tuesday morning by John Anderson and Frank Malick, who were on their way to work. She was fully dressed but wore no shoes and her feet were badly frozen. Dr. E. J. Smith was called immediately and said that she apparently had been outside several hours. At first he feared that Mrs. McClimans was beyond help but she rallied and is now resting easily.

Mrs. McClimans, who lives alone from choice, has a modern home with an oil furnace and it is not known why she would be outside the house, shoeless, on a cold morning. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Gaylord Wallace, was called at once from Valley View and is caring for her.

Jack Weaver Now Studying Chinese

An Ord youth studying an unusual subject is Jack Weaver, one of 12 University of Nebraska students who volunteered to study the Chinese alphabet and the customs and philosophy of that ancient land. Jack volunteered for the course, which meets weekly. It is taught by 26-year-old Albert Fenn, assistant in philosophy, who graduated from Park College in Kansas City in 1939 and from the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Omaha. Fenn is a Chinese who first came to this country in 1935, and is happy to be teaching his native language.

day, at firemen's hall, except on Wednesday when the Ord students drove to North Loup to meet with the members of the class there at the high school building. All consider the time as particularly worth while and there would have been a much larger class available themselves of the opportunity to study with Mr. Snyder had it not been for the severe cold weather which made travelling from other points difficult.

RATIONING CALENDAR

Here is your rationing calendar, giving the dates on which the various ration coupons will expire. Watch this calendar, and be sure that you use the coupons shown below, not later than the dates upon which they will expire.

- Sugar coupon No. 9, will expire on December 15th.
- Coffee coupon No. 27, will expire on January 3rd.
- Oil coupon No. 1, will expire on December 16th.
- Oil coupon No. 2, will expire on January 19th.
- Gas ("A" book) coupon No. 3 will expire January 22.
- ("B" book) date stamped on book.
- ("C" book) three months from date of issue.

You will notice that on most fuel oil coupon sheets, there are two rows of coupons for each of the five periods.

Coupon No. 1, is good up to and including Dec. 16, 1942, and must be used in that time or become void.

At the present time, each coupon unit for fuel oil is good for ten gallons.

For a detailed account of how fuel oil rationing has been worked out, one may refer to an article in the Sunday World-Herald of December 6, on Page 11-A.

In case fuel oil coupons have not yet been received, you can purchase your oil by signing a certificate at your dealer until December 10th. After receiving coupons, you will pay the coupons over to your dealer for any purchase you may have made on such signed certificates.

All trucks that have not received Certificates of Necessity, can obtain gasoline at filling stations by signing Emergency Application Form No. 555, in duplicate until December 13, 1942.

COUNTY RATIONING BOARD

Charles Misko, 51, Dies in Lincoln

Ord friends of the family will be sad to learn of the death of Charles Misko, 51, at Lincoln on Sunday morning, following a prolonged illness due to cancer. Last services were held for him on Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. James Misko, John, Ralph and Mabel Misko in attendance. Interment was also made in Lincoln, in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Charles Misko.

Charles was born and raised in Ord, graduating from the Ord high school. He attended the University of Nebraska, and married Miss June Whitford. For a number of years they have lived in Chicago where he has been a commercial artist, doing a splendid quality of work. They have no children.

A few months ago Mr. Misko became ill, and at last came to Lincoln to submit to an operation, but doctors deemed it too late to aid him. After several weeks at the Lincoln General hospital he was taken to the home of his brother, Dr. George Misko, where he has been cared for since that time. Mrs. Charles Misko and Mrs. George Misko are cousins.

Although he has visited in Ord only infrequently he formed a number of friendships in his quiet way and those who knew him will regret his early death.

The Ord relatives left Monday noon for Lincoln planning to return home shortly after the funeral.

Xmas Seals Sold Well.

The Christmas seal sale campaign for aiding children with tuberculosis ended with the finest record of any ever made in Valley county, reports Miss Clara McClatchey, the chairman. From the first through the sixth grade an average of nearly four and one-half Christmas seals per child were sold to a sympathetic public.

Burr Robbins, 61, Dies in Explosion

From Los Angeles comes word of the death of Burr Robbins, former Ord man, on Nov. 22, when he was killed instantly by a refuse which he was preparing to burn in an incinerator at the Firestone Rubber company plant exploding. He had been working at this plant for some time. Exact cause of the explosion was not determined.

Mr. Robbins was born in Hamilton county, Nebr., on Jan. 15, 1881 and was united in marriage in Clay county to Pearl Hull. Later he engaged in farming both in Sherman and Valley counties where six children were born to them. In 1929 the family moved to Los Angeles, which has since been their home.

He is mourned by his widow and the six children of whom Park, Marie, Homer and Virginia were present at the funeral held Nov. 27, with interment in Inglewood Park cemetery following. One son, Sheldon, was employed on Wake Island when it was raided and is thought to be a Japanese prisoner. A daughter, June, is with her husband who is in the navy and stationed at Norfolk, Va., and could not attend the funeral. He also leaves one brother, Frank Robbins, who lives in Denver.

Wozab and Lathrop Enlist in U. S. Navy

On Friday, Dec. 5 in Omaha two Ord men, John J. Wozab and Jason T. Lathrop, completed their enlistments for the U. S. Naval Reserve. John was sworn into service the same day as a petty officer and Jason will be sworn into service next Friday, also as a petty officer. Both men expect their shipping orders early in January. John goes into the service as a yeoman and Jason as a baker. Mrs. Wozab and Mrs. Lathrop expect to stay in Ord while their husbands are in the service of the navy.

—It remained for a Valley county boy, Rolland C. Haught, son of Mrs. C. C. Haught, of North Loup, to originate an idea which has been the means of giving the American Red Cross another ambulance. Mr. Haught, who manages a shoe store in Duluth, Minn., suggested that an employee of the firm he represents contribute a portion of his salary for an ambulance. Initial donation was sufficient to pay the $1,598 cost of one machine—and now employees are campaigning for another. To Mr. Haught went the honor of presenting the ambulance to the Red Cross in Chicago, and Duluth and Chicago newspapers printed his picture.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

No one is to blame for the government having to crack down on people to make them do things. They just won't do the things they should voluntarily. For instance, the speed limit. It will have to be made compulsory because drivers are not observing the rule of 35 miles requested.

But it would be interesting if we could go to Washington and check government buildings and see if they are really holding the temperature to or below 65 degrees as they say we, the people, must do. I haven't hung a thermometer in the Ord post-office lobby but I am willing to wager some that the temperature there is much higher than the rest of us are supposed to have in our homes.

And one could write columns about the seeming silly and unnecessary things being done all the time by the government, but what is the use and who wants to offer criticism unless it is constructive, and who could do the job better than it is being done. Of course many boners are pulled, probably mostly because the government has had to press people into the work of doing things about which they knew nothing.

Take the fuel oil matter. Who is going to waste fuel oil? Most people deplore the necessity of having to spend money for coal and other fuel, yet the government finds out what people used last year, an unusually mild winter, and cuts considerably the amount used this year. It doesn't make sense, and at the same time the government restricts oil production. But what the heck.

When Anthony Cummins came in Saturday and said he wanted to push his subscription up another year and set down a baking powder can, I thought that was a new one, paying subscription in baking powder, but I wrote him out a receipt for $2.50 and was surprised at the height of the baking powder. It proved to be 185 pennies and enough nickels and dimes to make up the amount. And it is an idea and the girls in the office have plenty of time to count the pennies if someone else gets the same idea and finds it an easy way to save up their subscription money.

Rationing of all kinds of food will come on a big scale from January on and will continually grow more strict and extend to more items, and goods of all kinds will continue to grow scarcer, so says an authority from whom I am not allowed to quote directly, but whom I have found almost a hundred percent right in his guesses during the past ten months. I have confidence that this will happen and suggest that you watch and see if I am right.

I never got so coffee-minded that I must go out and get a cup several times a day between meals, but I have, for many years, drank coffee three times a day with my meals and I was afraid that rationing of it was going to work a real hardship. But not so. We at once started having tea at the evening meal and some of the time use tea at the noon meal, dinner to me, but lunch to the 400, and now we agree that it is good and we know what there is going to be no coffee hardship. The same was true of sugar and we had plenty and a good many have told me they suffered no inconvenience from a lack of sugar. Probably the same will be true of meat. And I am already solving the fuel oil shortage by installing a trash burner to use up our waste paper and thus save fuel oil.

Everything points to a food shortage in this country before the end of 1943. An undoubtedly authority says so. It probably wouldn't need to happen, if it was possible to secure competent help to carry on the war work management in this country; if it was possible to eliminate politics; if it was possible to cut the red tape. But those things are impossible. Shortage of transportation will prevent the shipping of fresh fruit and vegetables from distant points and the only remedy is for everyone who possibly can do so, to plan on raising a good garden next year, the best they ever raised. And it is almost time now to begin planning to do so.

Something Different

If the government really wanted to train some crack, gimlet-eyed airplane spotters, I propose the best crew for the job are the avid enthusiasts, the youngsters about 12. With every boy in America airplane-minded these days, and building model planes the hobby of the decade, these sharp-eyed, feverishly patriotic lads would never call one wrong.

Here's a tear for Daisy Halen: in her quiet, smiling way, she made the day pleasant for each one she met. And of how few people can that be said!

Isn't this lovely fox-and-geese playing weather? With lovely scenery for it?

Did you ever hear of the two Ord business men, now large and with several curves, but then more giddy, who played fox and geese merrily one bright moonlit night on an inviting open business lot or two?

What's unusual about that, so very?

Well, one drove an automobile and the other one lead the way in his tractor! And around and around they went.

And did you hear about little Richard Heleberg?

He was spending the day with Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, and to make conversation she inquired "How old are you, Richard?" "Don't you know how old I am?" he asked indignantly, "I'm five and I'm in kindergarten." "Well, how old do you think I am?" asked his hostess.

"Oh, about 85," he answered nonchalantly.

At last reports Mrs. McGinnis had not asked any other children how old she was!

The young marine home from Guadalcanal service reported that the only boy from this part of the country he saw over in the field of action was "Toad" Naab, from Burwell, and "Toad" he had never known before. But they introduced themselves somewhere in Hawaii and had a good visit, anyway. And probably were delighted to see one another.

It is different to get letters from the boys and to talk to them than it is to read about the actions in the paper. It seems vastly more horrible.

Horace Johnson, a happy-go-lucky youth when he was an Ord high student and worked for his uncle, Olof Olsson, at the ice plant, has written as many as five letters home in one day. He doesn't seem the homesick type; maybe there is just nothing else to do over in the southern Pacific islands where he finds himself.

Gerald Hatfield thinks the army has a system for shipping him around; in the summer they send him south where it is HOT and in the winters he is sent to Montana, where it is COLD, or Minnesota, where it is ditto.

As usual, and oddly, of those who are too old for action many of them would like to go. And some of those who are about to be called for service are plain scared to death.

Most of them are happy in service, once in.

Uncle Sam doesn't need much other advertising than the fine-looking, uniform-filling young men he sends home on furlough. All the heads on the street turn to admire, and the furloughed one can't help holding his back a bit stiffer and wearing his cap more jauntily. To most of us, even if we are old and stodgy, he represents Adventure... all the things we have read about but will never see.

—Irma.

At our annual Sunday school election last Sunday the following members were elected to serve for the year of 1943: Sunday school superintendent, Will Foth; assistant superintendent, Elmer Hornickel; secretary, Theima Collins; treasurer, Lloyd Geweke.

Sunday afternoon was a time when people found joy in presenting the proceeds from their God's acre or project on the altar. Melvin Koelling presided at the meeting and short talks were given by Rev. Stevens, Mrs. Ben Nelson and Mrs. Kerr of North Loup. Rev. J. L. Armand of Scotia and Archie Geweke of the local church. When the people responded to the call of their names and presented their gifts and the Juniors had brought forward their barrels and a plate offering had been lifted the total amounted to $331.97 with more to come later. When all who subscribed to the plan had been heard from the amount will come close to the $400 mark. The Juniors gave $70 of the $331.97. This project has made possible the redecoration of the interior of the church and we appreciate the fine spirit manifested as the people voted to continue the plan another year.

County Agent Notes

Valley county farmers more than doubled spring pig production in 1942 over their 1941 spring production, and are planning for another great increase in 1943.

A survey which was made by the County Agent's office shows that the farmers who have returned their cards to date plan to raise 85% more litters of pigs in 1943 than they did in 1942.

If these intentions are carried out this county will have one of the biggest pig crops on record and total production should reach or surpass the high figures of the years from 1925 to 1930, when Valley county led the state in the number of hogs raised per farm. The recent announcement by the Secretary of Agriculture that a floor price of $13.25 per hundred would be maintained on a Chicago basis has taken the gamble out of the price situation and farmers can plan heavy production with the assurance that hogs will return a profit above feed costs.

In the survey just made farmers were asked to list the number of bred gilts or gilts suitable for breeding which they have for sale or the number of gilts they would like to buy. From the information supplied County Agent Dale is compiling a list of those with a surplus of breeding gilts and a list of those wanting to buy, and copies will be furnished to all who are interested.

Farmers who wish to buy gilts are advised to buy them early, so they can care for the gilts the way they want them cared for. It is also a good idea to make selections at a time when you can see the entire herd and satisfy yourself that your breeding stock comes from a thrifty disease free herd, which has been properly handled.

Win Honorable Mention. George Cetak was the only Ord player honored by the World-Herald in picking its all-state football team Sunday. He was given honorable mention among backfield men. Five Ord players, Maresh, James, Severson, Novosad and Cetak, were given mention on the State-Journal honor roll of high school players.

William Gogan of the Hayes Creek school resigned Saturday and will enter the navy at once, he informed County Superintendent Clara McClatchey, Miss Charlotte Williams of Vinton school resigned there and accepted the position left vacant by Mr. Gogan.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

No one is to blame for the government having to crack down on people to make them do things. They just won't do it if they should voluntarily. For instance, the don't limit. It will have to be made compulsory because drivers are not observing the rule of 35 miles requested. An Ord man drove into an adjoining western state lately and he says he observed the requested speed limit, but he says scores of drivers whizzed past him going up to 60 and some much faster. If we won't regulate ourselves then there is only one thing for us (the government) to do, regulate us.

But it would be interesting if we could go to Washington and check government buildings and see if they are really holding the temperature to or below 65 degrees as they say we, the people, must do. I haven't hung a thermometer in the Ord post-office lobby but I am willing to wager some that the temperature there is much higher than the rest of us are supposed to have in our homes.

And one could write columns about the seeming silly and unnecessary things being done all the time by the government, but what is the use and who wants to offer criticism unless it is constructive, and who could do the job better than it is being done. Of course many bones are pulled, probably mostly because the government has had to press people into the work of doing things about which they knew nothing.

Take the fuel oil matter. Who is going to waste fuel oil? Most people deplore the necessity of having to spend money for coal and other fuel, yet the government finds out what people used last year, an unusually mild winter, and cuts considerably the amount used then. It don't make sense, and at the same time the government restricts oil production. But what the heck.

When Anthony Cummins came in Saturday and said he wanted to push his subscription up another year and set down a baking powder can, I thought that was a new one, paying subscription in baking powder, but I wrote him out a receipt for $2.50 and was surprised at the heft of the baking powder. It proved to be 185 pennies and enough nickles and dimes to make up the amount. And it is an idea and the girls in the office have plenty of time to count the pennies if someone else gets the same idea and finds it an easy way to save up their subscription money.

Rationing of all kinds of food will come on a big scale from January on and will continually grow more strict and extend to more items, and goods of all kinds will continue to grow scarcer, so says an authority from whom I am not allowed to quote directly, but whom I have found almost a hundred per cent right in his guesses during the past ten months. I have confidence that this will happen and suggest that you watch and see if I am right.

I never got so coffee-minded that I must go out and get a cup several times a day between meals, but I have, for many years, drank coffee three times a day with my meals and I was afraid that rationing of it was going to work a real hardship. But not so. We at once started having tea at the evening meal and some of the time use tea at the noon meal, dinner to me, but lunch to the 400, and now we agree that it is good and we know what there is going to be no coffee hardship. The same was true of sugar and we had plenty and a good many have told me they suffered no inconvenience from a lack of sugar. Probably the same will be true of meat. And I am already solving the fuel oil shortage by installing a trash burner to use up our waste paper and thus save fuel oil.

Everything points to a food shortage in this country before the end of 1943. An undoubted authority says so. It probably wouldn't need to happen, if it were possible to secure competent help to carry on the war work management in this country; if it was possible to eliminate politics; if it was possible to cut the red tape. But those things are impossible. Shortage of transportation will prevent the shipping of fresh fruit and vegetables from distant points and the only remedy is for everyone who possibly can do so, to plan on raising a good garden next year, the best they ever raised. And it is almost time now to begin planning to do so.

Something Different

If the government really wanted to train some crack, gimlet-eyed airplane spotters, I propose the best crew for the job are the avid enthusiasts, the youngsters about 12. With every boy in America airplane-minded these days, and building model planes the hobby of the decade, these sharp-eyed, feverishly patriotic lads would never call one wrong.

Here's a tear for Daisy Hallen: in her quiet, smiling way, she made the day pleasanter for each one she met.

And of how few people can that be said!

Isn't this lovely fox-and-geese playing weather? With lovely scenery for it?

Did you ever hear of the two Ord business men, now large and with several curves, but then more giddy, who played fox and geese merrily one bright moonlit night on an inviting open business lot or two?

What's unusual about that, so very?

Well, one drove an automobile and the other one lead the way in his tractor! And around and around they went.

And did you hear about little Richard Helleberg? He was spending the day with Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, and to make conversation she inquired "How old are you, Richard?" "Don't you know how old I am?" he asked indignantly, "I'm five and I'm in kindergarten." "Well, how old do you think I am?" asked his hostess.

"Oh, about 85", he answered nonchalantly.

At last reports Mrs. McGinnis had not asked any other children how old she was!

The young marine home from Guadalcanal service reported that the only boy from this part of the country he saw over in the field of action was "Toad" Naab, from Burwell, and "Toad" he had never known before. But they introduced themselves somewhere in Hawaii and had a good visit, anyway. And probably were delighted to see one another.

It is different to get letters from the boys and to talk to them than it is to read about the actions in the paper. It seems vastly more horrible.

Horace Johnson, a happy-go-lucky youth when he was an Ord high student and worked for his uncle, Olof Olsson, at the ice plant, has written as many as five letters home in one day. He doesn't seem the homesick type; maybe there is just nothing else to do over in the southern Pacific islands who he finds himself.

Gerald Hatfield thinks the army has a system for shipping him around; in the summer, they send him south where it is HOT and in the winters he is sent to Montana, where it is COLD, or Minnesota, where it is ditto.

As usual, and oddly, of those who are too old for action many of them would like to go. And some of those who are about to be called for service are plain scared to death.

Most of them are happy in service, once in.

Uncle Sam doesn't need much other advertising than the fine-looking, uniform-filling young men he sends home on furlough. All the heads on the street turn to admire, and the furloughed one can't help holding his back a bit stiffer and wearing his cap more jauntily. To most of us, even if we are old and stodgy, he represents Adventure... all the things we have read about but will never see.

—Irma.

SOCIAL NEWS

For Andersons. Honoring Wilmer Anderson, who will leave soon for war service, Mr. and Mrs. Olof Olsson had a 10:30 o'clock breakfast Sunday morning, asking Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holub, all of Elyria, and Mr. and Mrs. Elliot McClure, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson. Christmas evergreens and poinsettias were used to decorate for the party.

Christmas Tea. Ruth Circle of the Presbyterian church was hostess at a large tea Wednesday this week at the home of Mrs. C. A. Anderson, members of other circles being guests. Mrs. Ralph Misko reviewed the Bess Streeter Aldrich book "The Drums Go Dead", a suitable Christmas story; a group of high school students sang Christmas carols; Mrs. R. T. Cordry gave "The Christmas Story"; and Mrs. Wilmer Anderson played several piano selections. A long table in the dining room had been tastefully arranged by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and her helpers using a Christmas theme. Pouring were Mrs. C. J. Miller, league president and Mrs. R. T. Cordry, wife of the pastor. Mrs. Olof Olsson is chairman of Ruth Circle. About 60 attended. Mrs. W. L. Blessing and her assistants prepared the refreshments.

Junior Matrons. Mrs. Joe Jirak was hostess Friday at her home to Junior Matrons with Mrs. Leo Long the only guest. Plans were perfected for the Christmas party to be held in two weeks at the Will Sack home, in the form of a covered dish luncheon.

At Beranek's. Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beranek entertained the Tuesday Evening Dinner Bridge group at a club meeting which had been postponed about ten days. They want to hold a Christmas party about Tuesday of next week, and are hoping two members, Syl Furtak and Bud Anderson, will be in Ord at that time. Both men plan to join the armed services at once, Mr. Furtak awaiting call now after enlisting ten days ago.

Leut. Garnick Weds. The marriage of Miss Billie Jeanette Mattox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mattox, of Monahan, Tex., and Leut. William Cameron Garnick, a paratrooper with the United States army, and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Garnick of Ord, took place Sunday afternoon, Nov. 29th at 3 o'clock at the Central Christian church in Denver, Colo., where the Dr. Samuel J. Mathleson read the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Dr. William McClurg. The chancel setting was of gold and bronze with green palms. Mrs. Thomas Walker played the wedding music on the organ together with the harpist Miss Florence Wagoner. They accompanied the soloist Robert Braden. The bride, who was given in marriage by her grandfather, W. H. Walkenhorst of Concordia, Mo., wore a gold velvet gown and full length veil of golden bridal illusion, held by a halo of gold velvet and feathers and carried bronze and gold Mums. Mrs. E. C. Robacker of Pueblo, Colo., who attended her sister as matron of honor, wore a rust velvet gown and matching artole creation of feathers and a short veil of the same shade and carried a large bouquet of gold and orange Mums. Miss Jane Underhill of Denver, Colo., was bridesmaid and wore a forest green velvet gown and matching artole creation of feathers with a short veil of the same shade. She carried a large arm bouquet of gold and orange Mums. Lieut. Lee Hamerly of Camp Carson, Colorado Springs, Colo., was best man and Lieut. James Altman of Ft. Logan, Colo., was groomsmen. The bride's veil was carried by little Miss Janice Miller, who wore a gown of golden velvet with matching halo of flowers. Little Frances Percy Green assisted Miss Miller and wore a uniform fashioned after the officers'. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mattox, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Walkerhorst and aunt, Mrs. W. H. Parsons, of San Diego, Calif., received the guests at the social hall of the church following the ceremony. Mrs. Mattox's gown was of Mrs. Miniver rose creation. Mrs. Walkerhorst wore a steel blue crepe gown and Mrs. Parsons wore an aqua blue gown. Their corsages were the same as the bride's. The bride's traveling ensemble was of green gold wool, trimmed with baby beaver and hat to match. The couple left Monday for Atlanta, Ga., where Leut. Garnick will be stationed with a paratroopers corps of the army.

At Horner's. Everbusy Christmas party began today with a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ernest Horner.

Mrs. O. W. Riddle was hostess to the members of the Rebekah lodge at her home last Wednesday at an all day meeting with a covered dish dinner at noon. There were nine members and two visitors present. The afternoon was spent tying a comforter for Mrs. Randy Brecken. After the business meeting the group adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wait, John Stone and Wayne Lewin went to Broken Bow last Wednesday on business. Mrs. Ralph Johnson accompanied them back to her home in Broken Bow after spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. E. G. Stone, Mr. Stone and Richard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Leep left from Grand Island last Wednesday for California where she expects to spend several weeks visiting at the home of her son, Clinton and Mrs. Leep and son, of San Diego. Clinton works in an airplane factory there. Before returning she will also spend some time with Mr. Leep's mother, Mrs. Lavantia Leep at Anaheim and with his sister, Mrs. Edna Yorba, who lives at Anaheim. She expects to call on Mr. and Mrs. Ed Skoll and Mrs. Grace Hovie and family of Santa Monica.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haynes of Judith Gap, Mont. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Haynes and son, Mrs. Floss Stone, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wait. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Stone and Richard and Mrs. J. B. Seelye were invited but were unable to attend.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Emma Rousek last Monday afternoon was turned into a surprise birthday party in honor of E. O. Leep. A very delicious supper was served to a number of neighbors and friends.

The Comstock Business Men's club met at the Methodist community church on Thursday evening, dinner being served by the Rebekah ladies in charge of Mrs. S. V. Emry, Miss Gladys Nelson, Mrs. O. W. Riddle, and Mrs. John Ochsner, to 43 members and visitors. Out of town visitors were Corp. Robert Haynes, and Mrs. George Haynes of Judith Gap, Mont. Corp. Haynes pleased those present with a very fine talk, telling what he could about some of his experiences on Midway, where he was stationed for 15 months. He also passed two pieces of magnesium, a metal, taken from a Japanese plane that crashed about 150 yards from him. President E. J. Crawford also called on Mrs. Haynes for a short talk. The question of changing time to Mountain time came up again and a vote taken. The results were that the time is to remain the same as it is, but the school is operating an hour later, calling at 10 in the morning. The members of the village board are making plans to handle the "blackout" on December 14.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Crawford entertained at Sunday dinner. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cleveland, Mrs. J. B. Seelye, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Granger and son, Miss Dorothy Plock and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Stone and son. It was Mr. Stone's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hughes, former Ord people, are shown here with the 600 lb. elk Kenneth killed near Globe, Ariz., where he is now employed. The elk was killed in the upper Colorado river region and had to be cut in a number of pieces to make loading possible. The spread of its horns was greater than the length of Kenneth's rifle and the head was as heavy as two men could carry. This picture was sent to Kenneth's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clegg Hughes.

Alfalfa seed producers did not raise a bumper crop this fall, but were encouraged to get any sort of yield at all. Most local fields threshed out from three to five bushels of alfalfa seed per acre, a few running up to eight bushels. Some patches would not set seed, so were cut for hay.

Alfalfa growers are having few record harvests this season as occurred during the drought years, when yields of ten or twelve bushels were common. On the other hand, legume seed is worth twice what it sold for a few years ago. Dealers are offering farmers over thirty cents a pound for clean alfalfa seed. And farmers will pay still more when they go to buy it next spring.

Why are yields low? One farmer says that his alfalfa stand blew over and shattered out. Another claims that the weather was too good. This farmer declares that alfalfa must have a "set-back" to produce seed.

He thinks that one can tell about the seed crop by looking to see if alfalfa is sending up new shoots from the crown. If so, there won't be much seed. When shoots are scarce, the seed crop will be good.

The alfalfa plant, he believes,

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Box 28, Cantonment 3, Honolulu, Hawaii.
H. D. Leggett:
Just got a letter from my sis-ter, Mrs. S. W. Roe, in which she said that I should write a lot, as I have plenty of time. I agree to the first part, but not with the second. In fact, with my sixteenth birthday due day after tomorrow, Nov. 21, I never had less time in my life than I have now. So I believe I can do greater good, or harm, to the boys picked up the Bob Hope program over the Honolulu radio by transcription from Jef-ferson Baracks, Mo., last night and it seemed like every other sentence made some reference to that popular song which Dor-othy Lamour also sang, "I'm Dreaming of a white Christ-mas". Believe me, we were all so homesick for cold weather that we wished we hadn't turn-ed the radio on at all.

greater number by writing to you, as I understand you have a system of disseminating news that is very efficient.

Yes, I will be sixty Saturday, but so far as my general health and activities are concerned I might easily be forty. I am gaining weight all the time in spite of all that I can do to pre-vent it, and will soon be in the 200 pound class if I don't stop eating. That is the trouble here. They feed a fellow too well, and I always had a weakness for edible provender. Of course the sign shop work is light, but I do some carpenter work in extra time for the exercise and for what I can make. We need easels, tables, sign boards and similar materials all the time, and I have enough tools to make them.

I told the boys of Fidelity post No. 38 that I would try to write a letter to be read at post meet-ings now and then, but I be-lieve the general public would enjoy reading about the activi-ties of Pearl Harbor post No. 24, department of Hawaii. This post was founded a little more than a year ago, and at that time was the youngest post in the islands, which term includes all islands in the Pacific under the United States flag. Post No. 23 was founded on Wake Island shortly before the war began, and the members still living are doubtless prisoners of war.

Before leaving Ord I called on Harry D. Wolfe and paid my Leg-gion dues for 1943 as I did not know how I would find things here, so I paid no attention to Legion affairs at first. However the post here planned a big party for all members and pros-pective members on the even-ing of Armistice day. I was among those invited, and I wore my cap from the home post. The boys had a big supper for us, with Hawaiian music and a couple of hula dancers, the kind Emil Pafetta wanted one like.

Invited guests were a number of high ranking navy officers stationed here at Pearl Harbor, chief among them being Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who certainly should need no introduction to Quiz readers. By referring to the file you will note that Admiral Nimitz was the man who signed the telegram in-forming Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paddock that their son Johnny was lost in action. I have plenty of cause to remember the in-cident, as it kept me plenty busy gathering the material for the story, helping make the cuts, etc. I had the honor of shaking hands with the Admiral, and now I wouldn't sell my right hand for a thousand dollars, spotted cash, believe it or not. Nat-urally I told him about Johnny, and he stated that the reason for a number of false reports being sent at the time was that a number of men had been transferred since the last per-sonnel lists were made out, and there was no way of checking up on these until they were lo-cated. A visit with a man like Nimitz should convince any rea-sonable man that we simply cannot lose this war with men like him in charge of operations.

Incidentally the Pearl Harbor post was making that supper an occasion for a membership drive. I told them that I was already paid at Ord, but that I would get in here also while I was here and do what I could to help them out. The result is that I am now holding member-ship in two posts. We had a meeting of the post last Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, and we are making plans for a big Christ-mas party to be held here at the cantonment, with anybody wel-come who wishes to pay three bucks for a ticket. The boys are planning on having a thou-sand and guests, and it looks like they will make it. As I paint signs on occasion, they have me on the advertising and decorat-ing committees, so I guess I will find something to do with all that idle time I have.

I did not suppose a person could dislike warm weather in winter, but it is a fact that I am longing for frost, falling leaves, ice and snow and a cold wind now and then. One of the look mighty good to me, but of-ten I get to thinking about some quiet fellow I didn't think much about while I was there, and wishing I could see him again. In my dreams recently I had a wonderful visit with Everett Boettger, and I felt pretty lone-some when I woke up. By the way, please print the new ad-dress at the top of this letter. I am quite sure this will be the last change that will be made in it. It goes without saying that I miss Mrs. Ward. We talked that all over before I decided to come here, and so I manage to get along, especially when I get letters from her. I did have hopes of getting her a job here, but the prospects are not too bright. I am not sure she would like it here if she did come.

I plan to take Friday off (with pay) in celebration of my birth-day, and I also plan to have a little party for the twelve of us who live in this dormitory, poss-ibly Saturday night. Friday I will go down to the Industrial Area, visit Shop 71 and collect my weekly pay check and three fifty dollar bonds which should be there for me. Then I will catch a bus to Honolulu to Sears, Roebuck and make some purchases. In the afternoon I will go out to Waikiki and have a look at that celebrated beach. I will catch a bus back to the cantonment about 5 p. m., and that will be the end of a very exciting day. No we don't have too much fun here, but it is doubtless far better than the boys in the Solomons and in North Africa are having, so we ought to be satisfied.

I hope this letter does not seem as asinine to the readers as it does to me. I could do much better if general news was permitted, but there would be no sense in writing a long letter and having most of it de-leted. I tell you, H. D., it is about like writing the obituary of some old reprobate who never did a decent thing in his life and trying to find something good to say about him. You and I have tried to do it, and we both know how difficult it is. In his case and here also, I might write some things that would curl your hair, but it just isn't done.

When this war is over I plan to write a book on my trip to Hawaii, and all that is now omitted will then be included in it. I hope to make it good enough to provide funds for me and my wife the rest of our lives. The Lord knows I wrote a plenty while on the Quiz force, and, if I didn't learn to write, I must have been wasting my time. I did have an idea I would have some of my poems published in the Honolulu papers from time to time, but there must be at least five hun-dred poets, amateur and profes-sional, in the island of Oahu, and all of them are trying to get their efforts into print. With so much competition it would be

PROBATE NOTICE.
In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska, the State of Nebraska: To all persons inter-ested in the estate of Ole Peter-son, deceased, both creditors and heirs, take notice that the Fre-mont Joint Stock Land Bank of Fremont, Nebraska, has filed its petition alleging that Ole Peter-son died intestate on April 10, 1932, being a resident of Valley County, Nebraska, and seized of Lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 in Section 32, Township 19, North, Range 13, West of the Sixth Principal Meridian in Valley County, Ne-braska, now owned by the peti-titioner; that an administrator has been appointed for said es-tate, but the same is dormant for failure of the administrator to file any report for more than two years, and no decree of heir-ship has been entered in the probate of such estate; that the petitioner prays for a determina-tion of the time of the death of the said decedent, the heirs of said decedent and degree of kin-ship and right of descent of the real property, for a decree bar-ring all claims and demands against said estate and particu-larly as against said real estate, for a finding said estate is not liable for any state or federal inheritance or estate tax and for any other proper order. Said petition will be heard on Decem-ber 17, 1942, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the county court room in the court house in Ord, Nebraska. Dated November 25, 1942.

JOHN L. ANDERSEN,
County Judge.
ORDER.
In the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska.
IN THE MATTER OF THE AP-PLICATION OF CHARLES GRAB-OWSKI AND TONE GRABOW-SKI, executors, FOR LICENSE TO SELL REAL ESTATE.
Now on this 1st day of Decem-ber, 1942, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition, under oath, of Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executors of the estate of Kate Grabowski, deceased, praying for license to sell the following described real estate of the said Kate Grabow-ski, to-wit:
Lot 5, (5), Block sixteen (16), Original Townsite of Ord, Valley County, Nebras-ka;
The East one half (E 1/2) of Section thirty-five (35), Township twenty (20), Range sixteen (16), West of the Sixth P. M., Valley County, Nebraska;
The North one half (N 1/2) of Section one (1), Township nineteen (19), Range sixteen (16), West of the Sixth P. M., Valley County, Nebraska, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate, and al-lowances and costs of adminis-tration, for the reason that there is not a sufficient amount of personal property in the posses-sion of the said Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executor's, belonging to said es-tate to pay said debts, fees, al-lowances and costs.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at chambers in the courthouse of said county in the city of Ord on the 8th day of January, 1943, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to said Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executors, to sell the above described real estate of said decedent to pay the debts and expenses.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served up-on all persons interested in said estate by causing the same to be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper, printed, published and circulated in said County of Valley.
By the Court.
E. C. Kroger,

WATER MORE EFFECTIVE THAN AIR FOR CREAM COOLING

The temperature of a can of cream direct from the separator is about 90 degrees. Place the can in an outside temperature of 16 degrees (a winter day). At the end of one hour the temperature of the cream will have come down to 78 degrees. But take a can of fresh cream and place it in a tank of water 56 degrees in temperature, stir the cream every 15 minutes, and at the end of one hour the cream will have reached 56 degrees—the exact temperature of the water. This is no hypothetical case on the relative merits of air and water as cooling agents. The experiment has been done many times at the Minnesota College of Agriculture. The difference between keeping cream on the farm at 78 degrees or at 56 degrees may make all the difference between a product that will make good or poor quality butter.

Many farmers don't appreciate the urgency of cooling cream quickly or of rushing milk to the separator after milking. The reason is simply this: All milk and cream unavoidably contains some bacteria. These bacteria are not harmful unless they are permitted to multiply—and multiplication begins immediately unless the temperature is lowered. Even a 20-minute delay in separating milk or in letting cream stand before cooling, may give bacteria a head start that cannot be stopped no matter how good the subsequent care may be. The only way to stop this bacterial growth is to separate the milk at once and cool the cream immediately to a temperature under 60 degrees—50 degrees is better—and then keep it cool until marketed.

Agri. Department Acts to Fix Floor for Pork, Eggs and Chickens, Other Crops.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard also has announced other price floors for Nebraska farm production, all of which are effective until June 30, 1944. The price for eggs will be supported at 90 per cent of the parity price but in no event will the price for eggs purchased on an offer and acceptance basis be equivalent to less than 30 cents per dozen in the spring and early summer and an annual average price of 34 cents per dozen on the basis of the U. S. average farm price. Chickens and turkeys, excluding broilers or chickens weighing less than three pounds live weight, will be supported at 90 per cent of parity.

18-19 Registration Off to a Slow Start

Only 5 Registered to Date in Ord Office; Enlistments at Rapid Rate.

Registration of young men who have reached their 18th birthday since June 30, 1942 got off to a slow start in Valley county, reports Miss Virginia Davis, clerk of the selective service board. Only five have registered to date in her office. Registrations are also being made at the office of Superintendent Elley, of the North Loup schools, and at the Ramsey drug store in Arcadia. Young men have until Dec. 31 to make their registration.

Blackout Tuesday Eve Successful

Even more successful than the first practice blackout in October was the 9-state blackout on Tuesday night, in which Ord took part, say A. J. Auble, the county commander, and M. B. Cummins, commander for Ord.

A few minor infractions of blackout regulations were reported here by wardens but in the main citizens cooperated wholeheartedly. The blackout signal by the fire siren was preceded by blinking all lights in the city from the central switch, which did away with complaints made at the first blackout by people who said they could not hear the siren.

Ign. Pokraka and Carl Wolf Hurt in Runaways; First Aiders Help Girl.

North Loup--(Special)--Monday was a day of accidents for this community. Ign. Pokraka was finishing pick-up his corn when the team of colts he was driving ran away. Mr. Pokraka, in trying to stop them, was thrown under the wagon wheels and suffered two broken ribs. He was taken to the Ord hospital where he will remain for a few days. Sgt. Vernon Beran, home on a furlough from Camp Haan, Calif., and Richard Beran of Ord are staying with Mrs. Pokraka and helping with the farm work a few days. They finished the corn picking Tuesday morning.

Minor Epidemic of Petty Thievery

Ord is having a minor epidemic of petty thievery including stealing of gasoline from car tanks and anti-freeze solution from radiators at the present time, say law officers here.

The Ord Artificial Ice company was broken into one night last week and four cases of beer and a case of pop stolen. Officers have recovered part of the property which was in the possession of two boys of high school age but no charges have been filed against them as yet.

After completing this course, he will be sent to one of the Navy's numerous reserve bases for primary flight training.

Vodehnal Re-elected Z. C. B. J. President

Electing officers was the principal business of the Z. C. B. J. lodge on Sunday afternoon, when about 60 members met at their hall. Henry Vodehnal was re-elected president, Mrs. Frank Benda re-elected vice president, Frank Benda re-elected finance secretary, and Mrs. Joe Rohla re-elected secretary.

A new officer will be Henry Misko, who will be treasurer next year, replacing F. J. Dworak, who has served a number of years. This group, which meets the second Sunday of every month, plan to hold a dance about Christmas time. As usual, they had a jolly time Sunday with cards and music and a good lunch. Z. C. B. J. members helped Uncle Sam by purchasing $500 worth of war bonds this year made from dances and rental of their hall. They also paid the government about $200 taxes which they think should help buy a bomb or two.

Klima Re-elected as State Secretary

Ign. Klima, Jr., Valley county clerk, went to Omaha Tuesday, returning home Friday. There he was elected secretary-treasurer of the county clerk's association, and this will be the seventh year he has held this office, a record of some kind.

Mrs. Klima and his daughter Doris and Mrs. Tom Williams, his mother-in-law, accompanied the local official, and so did Maxine Sorensen. Mrs. Klima's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Barnes, came from Chicago to spend two days in Omaha with her relatives. Mrs. Williams enjoyed visiting Mrs. Sandy, an old and valued friend, while in Omaha.

Children Invited to Free Movies in Ord, Tues., Dec. 22

C of C. Sponsors Free Show at Theatre, Santa to Have Treats for Children.

Attention, children of the Ord territory. There will be a free movie for all of you and treats will be presented by Santa Claus in person, on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 22 in Ord. All of you are invited. Arrangements to hold the annual Christmas party for children were perfected yesterday by directors of the Chamber of Commerce and a committee consisting of John R. Haskell, William Goff and Lawrence Dendinger will carry them out. At 1:30 at the Ord Theatre continuous showing of the feature-length comedy, "Go West," with the Marx Brothers, will start, and all children will be admitted free. There also will be an "Our Gang" comedy. The picture show will continue until 5:30 p. m. and it is believed 1,500 to 2,000 children can be accommodated. Christmas candy and nuts are hard to get this season but arrangements have been made to give treats consisting of apples, oranges and cookies to all the children who attend Ord's Christmas party. Santa Claus will appear in person to hand out the treats. Distribution of treats will be made twice during the afternoon at 2:30 and at 4:30, says the committee in charge. Ord children are especially asked to attend the first showing of the movies at 1:30, as children from the country may not be able to get into town this early and seats will thus be available for them later in the afternoon. Remember, children, its Ord's annual Christmas party and everything is free. Have your parents bring you to Ord next Tuesday and get in on the fun. Standing committees appointed Tuesday night by President Mortensen include: Membership—J. C. Van House, chairman; Hilding Pearson, Dr. Glen Auble, James Gilbert. Civic improvements—Ed Vogeltanz, chairman; M. B. Cummins, C. E. Rusmisse, Ralph W. Norman. Entertainment—William Goff, chairman; George Hastings, Jr., Dr. F. L. Blessing, John P. Misko. Retail—Floyd Beranek, chairman; Roy Price, F. V. Cahill, J. R. Stoltz. Roads—Ign. Klima, chairman; Clarence Davis, Ed Kokes. Irrigation—J. W. McGinnis, chairman; R. E. Misko, Robert Noll. Evelyn VanSlyke Better. Miss Evelyn VanSlyke, daughter of Henry VanSlyke, has been ill with pneumonia for the past ten days but is much better, says Dr. F. A. Barta, who is attending her.

Rotarians Hosts to Football Boys

Eight senior member of Ord high's 1943 football team, in addition to Coaches Roscoe Tolly and Alex Cochran, were guests of the Rotary club at dinner Monday evening. The eight included Co-Captains Otto Mar-esh and George Cetak, Bob James, Floyd Stewart, Alwin Stewart, Bill Novosad, Paul Covert and Donald Peterson. Coach Tolly introduced all the boys and commented on their individual records during the season. Assistant Coach Cochran also spoke briefly. Roy Randolph, vice-president, presided in the absence of President R. E. Misko.

Bresley Boy Hurt in Accidental Fall

Lloyd, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bresley, suffered a brain concussion Friday morning when he fell from the running board of a car driven by Harlan Jorgensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen, who was driving to town to attend high school and was accompanied by Ray Van Slyke. The injured boy was attended by Dr. C. W. Weekes, who says his condition is improving.

3 Ord Dens Hold First Pack Meeting

Wednesday evening Ord cubs held their first pack meeting, the three dens and parents and interested friends assembling to see what the 20 youngsters have done since their beginnings a few weeks ago. John Misko as representative of the sponsoring group, the Cosmopolitan club, opened the meeting. George Munn, as cubmaster, was the ranking officer of the organization, and gave each boy his bobcat pin and membership card. Each of the three dens gave their yell, their song and performed exercises on signal from the den chief. The three den chiefs are Bob Marks, Lyle Manchester and Gerald Jirak, with seven, five and eight boys in their groups, respectively. Each den had arranged a table displaying the handicraft done by its member cubs, and also the achievement chart or ladder of each boy, as marked by his parents. Mr. McArdle, official organizer, was also present, coming from Burwell, where new dens also were given their charter. Mr. Munn expressed himself as convinced the dens and cub work is of serious worth, of great value to the cubs. He was delighted with the progress made to date by the boys.

Monday 'Jinx Day' at North Loup--Three Accidents

Proponents of the purchase say the line would enable Ord and Burwell to pool their power resources and help each other out in the event of plant trouble in either city; that it would furnish the nucleus for future development of rural electrification of the valley; that it would protect the cities against possible fuel oil shortages and that, if the cities could buy electricity cheap enough from one of the water power districts it might even be a money-making proposition.

Monday 'Jinx Day' at North Loup--Three Accidents

Monday afternoon Carl Wolf, who was picking corn and nearing the end of the job, was kicked by a horse and suffered several broken ribs and was painfully bruised. Dr. Hemphill was called and made him as comfortable as possible. While Dr. Hemphill was at the Wolf home, Ila Gilmore cut her arm badly on a porcelain faucet in the bath room at her home. Merrill Wellman, I. J. Thelin, Selma Robbins and Marcia Road, all members of the advanced first aid class, stopped the bleeding and bandaged the wound till Dr. Hemphill could get in and put clamps on the cut and dress it. He complimented the first aid members very highly on the service rendered in the emergency. Vern Robbins also had a narrow escape when the ladder he was standing on slipped and fell to the ground. He was badly shaken but otherwise uninjured.

Monday 'Jinx Day' at North Loup--Three Accidents

Although few Ord taxpayers know about the proposal, so quickly has the matter arisen there is much opposition to such a purchase apparent here. Opponents point out that purchase of the line would serve no immediate advantage; that Ord and Burwell have for several years been desirous of manufacturing their own energy and surely should do so now that the highline contract has expired; that Ord's purchase of another diesel engine some years ago was for the purpose of giving duplicate capacity in event of breakdowns and that no additional safeguards should be needed; that upkeep of the line would be tremendous; that partnership purchase of the line would not be desirable since the problems of Ord and Burwell are not identical; and that Ord doesn't have the money to buy it and would have to sell war bonds now held as securities in order to make the purchase. Monday evening when the matter came up for discussion at the meeting of the Rotary club George Allen, electric superintendent, was queried about the deal. Monday 'Jinx Day' at North Loup--Three Accidents

Although few Ord taxpayers know about the proposal, so quickly has the matter arisen there is much opposition to such a purchase apparent here. Opponents point out that purchase of the line would serve no immediate advantage; that Ord and Burwell have for several years been desirous of manufacturing their own energy and surely should do so now that the highline contract has expired; that Ord's purchase of another diesel engine some years ago was for the purpose of giving duplicate capacity in event of breakdowns and that no additional safeguards should be needed; that upkeep of the line would be tremendous; that partnership purchase of the line would not be desirable since the problems of Ord and Burwell are not identical; and that Ord doesn't have the money to buy it and would have to sell war bonds now held as securities in order to make the purchase. Monday evening when the matter came up for discussion at the meeting of the Rotary club George Allen, electric superintendent, was queried about the deal. Under certain conditions the purchase might be advisable, he said. If the cities could buy power at Olean as cheap or cheaper than the

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Mrs. A. L. Willoughby was hostess to the Legion Auxiliary Friday when they met for a covered dish luncheon and a gift exchange. Mrs. F. H. Stevens was taken in as a new member. Guests were Mrs. Jim Coleman, Mrs. Roy Stine and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby. The afternoon was spent sewing quilt blocks. W. T. and G. L. Hutchins and

Mrs. Edward Christensen were Grand Island visitors Wednesday. Dr. Hemphill took Dorothy White to the Clinic hospital on Thursday where she submitted to an operation for appendicitis. Friday Donna Manchester had the same experience and both girls are consoling satisfactorily in the same room at the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz, Mrs. James Johnson, Mrs. Allen Sims and Mrs. Tom Hamer spent Wednesday in Grand Island. Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Babcock drove to Grand Island Wednesday to meet their son, Ensign Richard Babcock, U. S. N. R., home for a short furlough. On Thursday they took him back to Grand Island and he took the train for Norfolk, Va., where he was to report Sunday morning. Richard went with the convoy that landed in Africa and spent about a week there. He had a ten day furlough but spent part of it at Beloit, Wis., with his sister, Mrs. Paul Van Horn and her family. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Babcock and Richard called on friends in North Loup. Dishes that were left at the community hall after the supper Monday night are at the library and can be obtained from there. Mrs. Jennie Hawkes and Mrs. Herbert Ellis spent Thursday in Grand Island. Mrs. Carrol Hopes kept the Ideal cafe while they were away. Pfc. Melford Goodrich left for Camp Barkley, Tex., on the Thursday afternoon bus after spending a ten day furlough at home. Ethel Jeffries came up from Grand Island on the Friday evening bus and spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Roxy Jeffries and Richard. Saturday evening Mrs. Jeffries, Ethel and Richard were supper guests of Mrs. Emma Madsen and Paul. Little Lyle Johnson is very ill at the home of Mrs. Lena Taylor with flu and complications. Dr. Cimfal was over from Scotia to see him Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger entertained their Dinner Bridge club at their home Friday evening. Mrs. H. L. Gillespie won high score for the ladies and I. J. Thelin for the men. The December church social was held Sunday night in the basement of the Seventh Day Baptist church with about sixty attending. Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson had charge of the supper which was served at 7:30. A Christmas program arranged by Mrs. Edward Christensen followed the supper. Group singing of Christmas carols, the story of Christmas in the home of Little Women, a clever play by Kenneth and Russell Clement who were trying vainly to mend their stockings to be hung for the coming of Santa Claus and finally hit upon the scheme of tying a heavy string around the hole in the stockings and writing a note to leave with them. Several pieces of music were followed by a splendid chalk talk by Kathleen Clement with an accompaniment of Christmas music, Phyllis and Belta Babcock and Marion Maxson singing the tunes. Old Santa himself then appeared with a gift for young and old alike. A birthday table decorated with greens sent by Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Polan of New York was an attractive feature of the supper. Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hill have sent greetings to friends here from Farina, Ill., and say that they are in splendid health, in fact that Rev. Hill is better than for some time and is serving the Evangelical church in Farina as well as his own Seventh Day Baptist church. Toddy, small son of the Hills had earned all his Christmas money this year and had divided his earnings into three parts for defense stamps, church and gifts. Murray Cornell went to Ravenna the last of the week to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cornell. Melvin expects to go into the army about February first. Mr. and Mrs. Cash Ashley of Ericson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schudel. Beverly Ann Baker accompanied them and spent the day in the Fred Bartz home. Bert Sayre slipped and sprained his knee one day last week and the injured member kept him confined to the house for several days. Richard Bartz was graduated from an air base mechanics course at Sheppard Field, Tex., on December 7 and was sent from there to Santa Monica, Calif., for further training at a school in Long Beach. He had been at Sheppard Field for four months. Ervin Bartz who is located at Fort Sill, Okla., and is an instructor in radio work in the army is to be home Wednesday this week for a fifteen day furlough. Ladies of the Methodist church held their annual bazaaz and chicken supper Wednesday night. About one hundred suppers were served and after the supper Clifford Goodrich auctioned the many articles of fancy work that had been prepared. Their treasury is $83.00 richer from the supper and sale. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Roby went to Grand Island Monday taking Mrs. Maggie Annays to take the train for Denver where she has work. Mrs. A. L. Millhollin went to Fremont Saturday night where she met Mr. Millhollin and they spent the week end. Kenneth Jorgensen, of the army air corps and located at Lincoln was home over the week end. Irene Barnes, who went to Grand Island with her parents, has returned to North Loup to finish her school year. Irene is a senior this year. William J. Hemphill, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hemphill of Pawhuska Okla., and grandson of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Hemphill, was married November 28, to Miss Mary Long of Oklahoma City, Okla. Both young people are students of the Oklahoma state university at Norman, Okla. Billie, as he is known here, is taking a premedic course. The wedding took place while the North Loup Hemphills were visiting in Oklahoma at Thanksgiving time but was unknown to members of either family till after Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill had started home. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hemphill went to Norman and got the young couple and took them to Pawhuska where they gave a reception for them. They are keeping house in an apartment at Norman where they expect to be till Billie gets his army call, which will probably come soon as he is nineteen. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Portis, Wilma and Shirley, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Portis of Loup City and the Orville Portis family. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Portis went to Scotia in the afternoon where she had some dental work done. Edward Hudson returned Saturday evening on the bus from Omaha where he had made final arrangements for air corps cadet service. He will be here till he is called, perhaps in a month. Alvin Tucker returned Friday to his work in Richmond, Calif., and Mrs. Tucker will remain for a longer visit.

WISH YOU AN ENJOYABLE HOLIDAY SEASON!

The Best Christmas Dinner Ever

Here is a Christmas dinner planned to add special sparkle to your holiday season. Items such as cranberry sauce and holiday pudding may be made ahead of time, and stored until the day of the feast. It saves precious last-minute rushing. And shopping early for the rest of the dinner saves time, too.

THE BEST DINNER EVER

- Roast Turkey or Chicken with Sage Stuffing
- Extra Stuffing
- Candied Yams
- Spiced Pear with Cottage Cheese garnish with Parsley
- Whole Cranberry Sauce
- Hot Cloverleaf Rolls
- *Holiday Pudding with Hard Sauce
- Nuts
- Giblet Gravy
- Buttered Beets
- Jam
- Coffee

HOLIDAY PUDDING

- 3/4 cups flour
- 1 cup grated raw carrots
- 1 cup soda
- 1 cup finely chopped citron or citron substitute
- 1 cup cinnamon
- 1/2 cup cloves
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 3 eggs
- 1 cup grated raw carrots
- 1 cup finely chopped citron or citron substitute
- 1/2 cup finely chopped candied lemon peel
- 1 cup seedless raisins
- 1 cup finely chopped walnut meats

Sift flour, measure, and sift again with soda, salt, and spices. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually, creaming well. Add unbeaten eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add carrots and potatoes. Dredge fruit and nut meats in 1/2 cup of flour mixture. Add flour to shortening mixture gradually, beating well after each addition. Combine with fruits and nut meats, stirring until blended. Fill well-greased 1 1/2 quart mold two-thirds full, cover tightly and place on rack in kettle. Fill kettle with boiling water to 3/4 depth of mold. Cover kettle and steam 3 hours, or until done. Add additional water as needed. Serve hot with hard sauce or a foamy sauce.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Perkins of North Platte have sold their home and will come to Ord to spend the holidays, before deciding what they want to do next. Mrs. Perkins was formerly Miss Eunice Chase.
—The government has now released to the public the entire original uncensored news film made at Pearl Harbor, December 7th, 1941. This film will be shown next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 20, 21 and 22, at the Ord Theatre. 38-1tc
—Mrs. Margaret Scheuerman of Gering left Sunday morning on the bus. She had planned to stay longer with Mrs. Teague, her niece, but received word that all the family could come home for Christmas, so she left for home, stopping first at Hastings with her sister.
—Mrs. Peter Naab telephoned the Ord relatives of the family Saturday to say that Miss Luella Naab has been taken seriously ill and will have an operation at once. Luella has been a nurse in the Ord hospital, in Dr. Cram's hospital at Burwell and more recently in the Bassett hospital.
—Out-of-town patients calling on Dr. Parkinson the past week were Mrs. Paul Holmes, Arcadia; Mrs. J. P. Pesek, Comstock; Ralph Kaiser and Mrs. Otto Kaiser, Spalding; Barbara Ashley, Ericson; Mrs. H. E. Tiffany, Columbus; Mrs. E. B. Gebhardt, Cotesfield; Mrs. C. G. Gunnerson, Sargent; Mrs. Geo. Klein, Scotia; R. L. Sweet, Sargent; Joe Lonowski, Arcadia.
—Rev. Thomas Siodowski, who returned from Chicago a few days ago, reports that a classmate and good friend of his has been elected secretary to the apostolic delegate to Washington, the papal nuncio or representative of the pope to our government. The local man had the honor of dining with the papal nuncio and his friend while in Chicago, which he especially enjoyed.
—Miss Bess Krahulik and Mrs. Joe Osenowski took Mrs. Anna M. Parkos to Grand Island on Thursday where she boarded the Challenger for Los Angeles to visit her daughter, Miss Evelyn Parkos, who works in a defense plant. They plan to spend the Christmas holidays with Pvt. Richard Parkos, who is in an army camp at Alameda, Calif., and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Heacock and daughter at Oakland, Calif.
—Mr. and Mrs. Jake Beehrle left Monday morning for Puyallup, Wash., where they plan to spend the next two or three months with their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Chippis and family. From there they will go to Hayward, Calif., for a visit with Mrs. Beehrle's older sister, Mrs. Bert Pierson and husband. Mrs. Beehrle and Mrs. Pierson have not met in 35 years. Before her marriage Mrs. Pierson was Katie Brady, of Ord, whom old timers will remember.
—Wilmer Anderson received word Wednesday to leave for Omaha for induction at once, but was permitted to return home Thursday evening for a three-day furlough, so Mrs. Anderson drove to Grand Island to meet the Thursday evening train and bring him to Ord. Sunday afternoon he returned to Omaha, Mrs. Anderson accompanying him and planning to stay there a day or two. She intends to take an office job again about January first, but has not decided which one as yet.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burdick and Miss Wilda Chase and Mrs. Keith Lewis went to Grand Island Tuesday for a brief visit with Lloyd Parks, who was going east on the train to begin his career in the new naval "construction battalion" or Seabees, as they are called. He was inducted Saturday near Seattle, Wash., where he has been working. His wife, the former Roberta Chase, also came east as far as Nebraska and may stay here the next few weeks, while Lloyd trains at the Virginia base. He enters service as a carpenter's mate, second class, and is in line for rapid promotion.

—Mrs. Fred Coe is expected Friday from Seattle where she has been with her daughter Evelyn and the latter's new baby. Mrs. Coe is eager to reach home as she doesn't like standing on streetcars and not being able to get to counters to shop because of the crowds, etc. Her mother, Mrs. J. H. Capron, will move to the Coe home to stay the rest of the winter. The Coe's son, Capron, was expected home Wednesday from Lincoln, just released from the hospital after a nose operation which was necessary before the army would take him. Capron is anxious to get into the flying game. His cousin, Joe Capron, has been learning to pilot a glider the past three months or so, spending two hours a day up in the clouds, and making splendid grades. Joe took his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Capron, up for a glider ride and brought them down in fact. Joe is at home in Seattle on furlough at present, hoping to spend Christmas there.
—Mrs. Hugh Carson, only WAAC enlisted from Ord, writes from Des Moines that she will be there several weeks for basic training, and that she does not yet have all her uniform because of the overwhelming number of new WAACs coming all the time. Tamar says she likes the work fine, although it is hard work.
—Mrs. C. J. Wilson and little daughter accompanied Vern Stark to Ord Saturday evening, spending the week end visiting friends. Monday morning they returned to Grand Island on the bus. They live in one of the new houses built out at the ordnance plant, and like it, but say they are lonesome for Ord.
—Pfc. Lloyd L. Hoon was a visitor in the home of his brother, Walter Hoon, from Thursday to Saturday. Friday the Walter Hoon family and Lloyd drove to Cushing to spend the day with another brother, Ray Hoon and family. Pfc. Lloyd is now stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga., in Co. 1, 12th Inf., 4th Division.
—Bob Kinna writes from Waco, Tex., that his people can't give him the Christmas present he really wants, which is a 15-day furlough. He is in charge of planes and rechecking them as they fly in with three or four men working under his direction and finds it very fascinating work, he says.
—The Gould Flagg children always find most unusual jobs, and Bailey is no exception for he is house boy at the mansion of Governor and Mrs. Dwight Griswold. Bailey likes the work very much, for the republican governor and Mrs. Griswold practically make him one of the family.
—David Milliken is expected home Wednesday, Dec. 23 for his Christmas holiday, says his mother, Mrs. L. D. Milliken. Tuesday morning James telephoned from Norfolk, Va., saying he was hoping for Christmas leave, but it was most uncertain whether he would get it.
—Festus Williams has a bad cold, which seems like unnecessary trouble after all he has had. The cast was taken from his leg about two weeks ago, after a year or so of trouble. The knee is stiff but will limber up gradually so that it can be used once more.
—Sigurd Moeller, who grew up in Ord and graduated from high school here about 20 years ago, is now welding in the shipyard at Long Beach, reports Harold Taylor. Sigurd and his brother ran a florist shop at Westwood, Calif., for a number of years.
—Miss Charlene Blessing has been sick most of the time since Thanksgiving, running a temperature. She got up for a day or two but was in bed again this week. She is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Blessing.
—Mrs. C. D. Wardrop plans to go after her daughter Marion Friday, with Maxine accompanying her to Kearney. Amelia Lola will come home with the Wardrops too.

—Tuesday John Dohrn came from Grand Island to spend the day looking after business matters.
—Mrs. C. C. Brown has been ill for a week and more with shingles, at her home.
—Mrs. Arlie Worm is a new

ARCADIA

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Baird and daughter Joan of Hartford, Conn., arrived on Monday for a visit with relatives.
Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Hansen returned from Omaha on Saturday where they visited at the home of their daughter. Mrs. Hansen had spent the past three weeks there.
Mrs. J. Carl Thies returned from Providence, R. I., where she spent several days with her husband, returning as far as Chicago with him. He is being sent to Santa Monica, Calif., for a 30-day period to study the new type airplane engine, after which he will return to the east coast.
Roy Clark and Mark Murray were in Omaha Sunday.
Mrs. Jas. Hagood and daughter, Mrs. Donald True were Broken Bow visitors Saturday.
Saturday, Dec. 12 occurred the marriage of Miss Virginia Bulger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bulger and Henry Misko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Misko, of Ord. The ceremony took place at Omaha at the First Presbyterian church with Rev. Nivem officiating. The couple was attended by Miss Marguerite Misko and Frank Misko, sister and brother of the bridegroom. Sunday a family dinner was given at the Misko home. The bride is the youngest daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Bulger. She graduated from the Arcadia high school in 1940, attended the Hastings college, taught a rural school one year and is now attending the St. Paul Business college. The bridegroom graduated from the Ord high school, attended Santa Monica, Calif., Junior college and operated a confectionery store in Ord the past year. He is awaiting call as an aviation cadet in the army.
On December 4th at the Ft. Logan Chapel at Ft. Logan, Colo., occurred the marriage of Miss Louise Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lee of Arcadia, and Staff Sergeant Donald Parker, Mrs. Parker has been employed in Denver for the past three years. The couple will make their home at 1000 Sherman St., Denver, Colo.
Paul Easterbrook who is in the navy, is attending Northwestern University and when he completes his course will rank as Midshipman. He graduated from the University of Idaho at Moscow and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Easterbrook.
Delmer Dalby, USN, of Jacksonville, Fla., arrived Tuesday for a two-day furlough with home folks.
Louis Drake and Ray Steele left for the service on Friday.
Dr. C. B. Kibbie, who practiced here for seven years, is stationed at Camp Phillips, Kas. He is a 1st Lieutenant in the dental corps.

—The Junior Red Cross Roll Call in Valley county has been brought to a very successful close with all the schoolrooms enrolled except 19. In total, 58 elementary schoolrooms are taking the 1943 program, also the 4 high schools in the county: Ord, Arcadia, North Loup and Elyria.
A committee of "zone leaders" of the rural teachers assisted the county chairman, Mrs. E. L. Kokes, in the Roll Call. Miss Leota Crosby served as chairman. Two zone leaders tied for percentage enrolled in their assigned territory, each having all but one district in the Junior Red Cross work: Mrs. Irma Weller Annyas, of No. 1 Rural, whose husband is in the service, secured all but District No. 46; Miss LaVonne Jones of No. 27 enrolled all districts but No. 47. Other zone leaders helping complete the Roll Call were Miss Alberta Russell, Miss Mary Manchester and Miss Alice Mathauser.
North Loup high school was the first to complete organization of council for the new year: Gordon Portis, president and Calvin Stevens secretary, their assignment for production for the armed forces received. Arcadia grade rooms and Ord grade rooms were the first to complete a Junior assignment sent out of state: Halloween material for Stinson Field, Tex.; Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Fort Sheridan, Ill. All these have sent back reports.
Contributions additional to the enrollment fee by each school, as given to date during Roll Call were: Arcadia high school, Miss Jessie Blakeslee serving as sponsor, $6.73; No. 9, Goldenrod School, Mrs. R. Clare Clements, teacher, 50c; No. 36 Davis Creek school, Misses Genevieve Wilkie and Eleanor Holmes teachers, 20c; Ord Grade School, Miss Swain sponsor $1.15; No. 3 Barker school, Miss Esther Anderson teacher, $8.00, which they raised by a special project. This fund will be for production or National Children's Services and reported on when used.
Aims of Junior Red Cross for 1943 in Valley county are: work on comfort and recreational production to serve armed forces as assigned to individual schools, earnest study of health and diet, first aid and home hygiene for the "home front"; every student in Valley county working on a war stamp book to best of his ability; an effort to be made by each school to participate in the March Red Cross War Relief Drive.

Junior Red Cross Roll Call Completed

—The Department of Agriculture has announced an export program designed to help some of the United States' wheat supply into Mexico, Central America, Cuba, Columbia, Ecuador and Venezuela. The wheat supply in this country as of July 1 was 1.6 billion bushels. The export program provides a 20 cent subsidy until December 22.
Under the recent Byrnes wage stabilization order the Secretary of Agriculture is given control over all farm wages not exceeding $2400 annually. This order also provides that no farm employer can decrease wages below the top wage paid between January 1 and September 15, 1942, for comparable work without approval by the Secretary.
Reports indicate that the general farm price level for the month ending November 15 was 169 per cent of the 1909-1914 average, with the general level of prices paid by farmers at 156 per cent of the 1910-1914 level and farm wages reaching 220 per cent of the 1910-1914 average. The estimated cash farm income, including benefit payments, is 15.6 billion in 1942, which is 79.3 per cent above the 1939 level.
The Department of Agriculture will use every resource at its command to ease the shortage of farm labor in reaching 1943 production goals. This program will be directed to make labor available in six ways. These include: (1) the shifting of workers from non-essential into essential crops; (2) the retention of essential key operators and workers on farms through changes in deferment and employment policies of the Selective Service System; (3) the transportation and training of workers from surplus areas who can become year-around workers in the more diversified areas, particularly the dairy regions; (4) the transportation of seasonal workers to work in the harvest of specialty crops; (5) the use of ever so small. Make Certain of Getting BETTER MEAT

The government is asking that we voluntarily limit our consumption of meat to 2 1/2 pounds per adult each week so there will be plenty for our soldiers overseas and in the army camps at home. Most of us will follow this suggestion as a patriotic duty.
When we limit our use of meat it becomes more important than ever to see that the meat we do buy is BETTER, more tender, richer in food value, mineral elements and vitamins. You can be certain of getting the very best meat by shopping here. A half century of experience qualifies this market in the proper handling of meat and the fact that practically all the meat we sell is home-butchered assures you of its freshness and purity.
Enjoy good meat every day by buying here.

Everyone has heard of baked pork and beans. In fact there is no fruit that I like better and I have made it a point to have that good dish about once a week for many years.

Some folks like their baked beans Boston style, some like them with lots of molasses mixed in, but I always soak them over night, then boil them up with some soda in the morning.

Printers Auxiliary, official organ of the Western Newspaper Union, rather belatedly announces the appointment of May Yard as acting manager of the Omaha branch, a position which she has held with a hundred per cent efficiency for some years.

There is some talk that Ord and Burwell are thinking about buying the high power line that runs up this valley, and over which Ord has been getting electric service.

ready to gamble that the Ord City Council members would not think of spending 25 to 35 thousand dollars of the people's money on such a scheme without giving it careful consideration and without giving the people of this city plenty of time to study and become familiar with the proposition.

With business conditions as they are at present, with so many uncertainties of what the future will bring it is imperative that everyone in business count the cost carefully.

Something Different

Ord is a clubby town, with dozens of organizations meeting often and enjoying every meet of the year.

One club that will have met 28 years in January is the Happy Hour group, composed of older Ord ladies who have had many a jolly afternoon together.

And Mrs. Joe Pecenka remembers it well, because she is treasuring yet a set of dishes the Happy Hour club gave her almost that long ago.

Junior Matron Kensington club is another Ord group that can look backwards at a long series of happy meetings.

A third Ord club of ancient lineage is Radio Bridge. This one is a card club. Once the game was whist, then bridge and now contract, and most of the time it has been a dinner club as well as a group of card players.

Now that cars on the streets of Ord have thinned out with gas rationing, and now that Jack Frost or Santa Claus or someone has touched up the landscape with snow, there is a good coasting hill in Ord that is considerably safer than it used to be.

And children frolic there every playtime hour they can. Sleds and skis are most popular, of course. Even little Duane Wolfe and young Earl Deane Ahen try the sking, and do quite well, too.

Kirk Lewis and Ted Randolph have concocted a toboggan, using their two sleds. After putting the sleds together in a variety of ways, they hit on a dandy that really works and now that particular crowd of young people are having a picnic, with the assistance of the toboggan.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Butterfield received the sad news of the death of their three year old grandson, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parkos of California. The child, who was ill for a very short time died of pneumonia.

Mrs. Leo Nelson was hostess Friday to the Richmond club with Mrs. E. G. Brechbill and Mrs. J. H. Schere assistants.

The Mitchell ambulance took Mrs. Mary Houk, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Jim Butts to the hospital at her home in Aurora, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sartain and children drove to Grand Island last Monday to meet Mrs. Sartain's father, Frank Robke, from Midway City, Calif., who was returning to spend the holidays.

While in Lincoln last week Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker decided to visit one of the big chicken farms nearby. They were directed to the farm by a group of school children whom they had given a ride.

The women teachers of the Burwell school were entertained Thursday evening by the Burwell Woman's club at six thirty.

Private Duane Buhike arrived Friday evening from Rapid City, S. D. Duane was transferred from the Infantry to the air corps Sept. 1, and when he reports back to camp he will be stationed at the new airport at Ainsworth.

Dick Graves of North Platte and Claude Perkins of Sidney visited at the Joe Bartusiak home last week for several days. They left for home Sunday.

Dr. E. Merle Adams, state superintendent of the Congregational churches from Lincoln, preached Sunday at the local church. After the service a covered dish dinner was served in the church dining hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson and family were Sunday evening visitors at the W. D. Apperson farm home. The Appersons, who live on the Clare Bebee farm are moving this week to Missouri.

The Masonic Blazing Star lodge elected officers Thursday evening. C. E. Hallock elected worshipful master; Dwight Johnson, senior warden; John Banks, junior warden; E. E. Troxell, treasurer; and John Beynon, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Meyers, Mrs. Virgil Beck, Mrs. Guy Ward and Mrs. Howard Sherard of Cairo, were Grand Island visitors on Thursday. Mrs. Sherard, a sister of Mrs. Meyers remained in Grand Island with relatives and will enter the hospital later.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner entertained Mrs. Bessie Griffith and Mrs. Carmie Allen, nieces of Mr. Fenner from Ainsworth in their home last week. The ladies also visited their aunt and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. Fenstermacher in Sargent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Parkos of Arcadia were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Parkos' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bartusiak.

The Townsend club which meets every Wednesday evening at the old school building, presented a Christmas program at the last meeting.

Gale Demaree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Demaree, had the misfortune to break his arm last Thursday. The bone was set that evening and Gale was back in school the next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Walker have moved to town and are living in their apartments in the Coffin home. Henry Eckard is now living on their farm.

Little Miss Mary Jane Brockman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brockman celebrated her first birthday Dec. 9. Her four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schultz and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Brockman were present to celebrate the occasion.

Give Him The Greater Gift
A drum, a little red wagon, a picture book... these are gifts that bring joy to a boy's heart. But you can give him a far greater gift. You can give him the right to live as a free American... the advantages of liberal schooling... the freedom to follow his religious beliefs... the privilege of choosing his life-work... yes, even the unquestioned right to gain a world of knowledge and pleasure through travel.
All this you can give him by doing whatever you may - no matter how little - to win this war so that he can live to appreciate fully the true meaning of Christmas... peace on earth and good-will toward men.
Today, in the Union Pacific family, thousands of fathers are working tirelessly to justify the steadfast faith of their children. Theirs is the task of assuring the safe transportation of trainloads of war materials and troops. It is a tremendous job but they are doing it gladly. They know, as do we all, that only through hard work and sacrifice can we give our little ones the greatest gift of all... peace and freedom.

MANY TRAINS WILL BE CROWDED DURING HOLIDAY SEASON

CIVILIANS ASKED TO AVOID OVERCROWDING TRAINS

"It is not easy to ask the American people not to travel at Christmas time. Many families look forward through the year to annual reunions. But I must ask that these family gatherings be foregone this year, if they involve travel. A Christmas without travel may help to win the war. It is a sacrifice that should and must be made."

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN, DIRECTOR OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION

The Burlington joins the Office of Defense Transportation in calling attention to the following facts about the travel situation this holiday season:

- A large percentage of passenger cars and locomotives are required for the transportation of the armed forces — Government and business travel directly connected with the war effort must continue to move — Thousands of service men will be traveling on holiday furloughs — There will be the seasonal travel by students — Gasoline rationing and the rubber shortage have diverted much additional traffic to the railroads.

With the above facts in mind, it will readily be understood that if thousands of civilians travel as usual during the holiday season there may not be enough equipment—after war requirements have been met—to accommodate the traffic.

Because steel and labor are urgently required for war purposes, the railroads are not able to buy or build additional passenger cars. The equipment we now have must do for the duration.

We of the Burlington appreciate your patronage and will serve you to the utmost of our ability. We do, however, join with Director Eastman in urging that, for your own convenience as well as the convenience of those who must travel, you revise your plans to avoid overcrowding especially during the peak holiday period from December 12 to January 12.

Vegetable Proteins for Hogs.

Farmers are having some difficulty in getting tankage for hogs and there are many questions being asked about vegetable proteins for hogs at the present time. The present supply of soybean meal is also limited but this situation is expected to ease when the new crop of soybeans which is the largest on record is processed.

Following are some observations and records on the use of vegetable proteins in hog feeding.

1. Protein supplements of vegetable origin are low in calcium and phosphorus compared to animal proteins. When feeding them, some source of minerals such as the 2-2-1 mixture should be available at all times.

2. Green leafy alfalfa as hay or meal should be available to pigs when they are not on pasture. It supplies essential vitamins and minerals. Pigs from gilts and sows that have had alfalfa during their gestation period will be stronger at birth. Better results can be expected from vegetable proteins like soybean oil meal if alfalfa is available.

3. Soybean oil meal and peanut meal have given better results than cottonseed meal and linseed meal when fed in large quantities. Purdue University trials comparing soybean oil meal with tankage gave the following results:

a. Pigs under 75 pounds on pasture—100 pounds soybean oil meal plus 1 1/2 pounds mineral replaced 85 pounds of tankage plus 28 pounds corn plus 3 pounds shorts. Gains were equal.

b. Hogs over 75 pounds on pasture—100 pounds soybean oil meal plus 6 1/2 pounds mineral replaced 52 pounds tankage plus 58 pounds corn.

c. Hogs on dry lot—100 pounds soybean oil meal plus 4 pounds mineral replaced 58 pounds of tankage plus 64 pounds corn.

Soybean oil meal is palatable to hogs and they may eat more than they need if it is fed alone. This can be avoided by feeding a mixture of 500 pounds soybean oil meal plus 100 pounds minerals (10 parts ground limestone, 10 parts steamed bone meal and 1 part salt). Purdue got good results with this mixture.

4. For the farmer who has been hand-feeding tankage, a good rule to follow is to replace 1 pound of tankage with 1 1/2 pounds of soybean oil meal.

5. Pigs under 75 pounds will give better results if at least 25% of the supplement is of animal origin or supplied thru skim milk.

6. Cottonseed meal fed in large quantities has a tonic effect on hogs. For best results in rate of gain and economy not more than 50% of the protein supplement should be cottonseed meal.

7. Linseed meal is more laxative in effect than soybean oil meal or cottonseed meal and is desirable in the brood sow ration. It is most efficient when making up not more than 50% of the protein supplement.

8. Here are some suggested protein supplement mixtures: a. 500 pounds soybean oil meal plus 45 pounds steamed bone meal plus 45 pounds ground limestone plus 5 pounds salt—selfed on pasture or when hogging down corn—provide green leafy alfalfa in a rack when pasture is not available.

b. 75 pounds soybean oil meal plus 25 pounds alfalfa meal—feed 2121-1 (2 parts ground limestone, 2 parts steamed bone meal and 1 part salt) free choice.

LEGAL NOTICES

John P. Misko, Attorney. In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

Estate of Elsie M. Wiegardt, Deceased.

The State of Nebraska To All Persons Interested in Said Estate:

Take Notice: That Alfred A. Wiegardt has filed a final account and report of administration, and a petition for final settlement and discharge as such, and for determination of the heirs at law of said deceased, which have been set for hearing before said court on December 19, 1942, at 10 o'clock a. m. at the county court room, at Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, when you may appear and contest the same.

JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge. Dec. 3-3t.

ORDER. In the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF CHARLES GRABOWSKI AND TONE GRABOWSKI, EXECUTORS, FOR LICENSE TO SELL REAL ESTATE.

Now on this 1st day of December, 1942, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition, under oath, of Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executors of the estate of Kate Grabowski, deceased, praying for license to sell the following described real estate of the said Kate Grabowski, to-wit:

Lot five (5), Block sixteen (16), Original Townsite of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska;

The East one half (E 1/2) of Section thirty-five (35), Township twenty (20), Range sixteen (16), West of the Sixth P. M., Valley County, Nebraska;

The North one half (N 1/2) of Section one (1), Township nineteen (19), Range sixteen (16), West of the Sixth P. M., Valley County, Nebraska, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate, and allowances and costs of administration, for the reason that there is not a sufficient amount of personal property in the possession of the said Charles Grabowski, executor's, belonging to said estate to pay said debts, fees, allowances and costs.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at chambers in the court house of said county in the city of Ord on the 8th day of January, 1943, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to said Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executors, to sell the above described real estate of said decedent to pay the debts and expenses.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon all persons interested in said estate by causing the same to be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper, printed, published and circulated in said County of Valley.

By the Court. E. G. Kroger, District Judge. Dec. 10-3t.

Davis & Vogeltanz, Attorneys. NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, in an action pending therein wherein City of Ord, Nebraska, a municipal corporation, is plaintiff, and Jake Papiernik alias Jacob F. Papiernik is defendant, I will, at 2 o'clock p. m. on January 5th, 1943, at the west front door of the court house in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, offer for sale the following real estate, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 11 of Haskell's Addition to Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, and sell the said real estate at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy the amount found due the plaintiff, with costs.

Dated December 2, 1942. GEORGE S. ROUND, Sheriff of Valley County Nebraska. Dec. 3-5t.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The ordinary machine gun is too cumbersome for our Marines, especially for parachute troops. So the Marines have adopted new models of the Reising sub-machine gun, a .45-caliber weapon.

The new gun used by the paratroopers is a compact model with a pistol grip and a steel-frame stock which folds out of the way when not in use. You can help buy these for our Boys in the Solomons and elsewhere with your purchase of War Bonds. Join the Payroll Savings Plan and let's "Top that ten percent." U. S. Treasury Department

North Loup has taken on a real festive appearance the past week, with evergreen wreaths on the light posts and a special one with a V in the center on the front of the community building. Christmas trees, colored lights and pretty gifts are displayed in the store windows. Large V's made from cedar boughs and decked with colored lights are in the bank windows. At the school house, Cloyd Ingerson has put up a tree in the lower hall that almost touches the ceiling and it is bright with beautiful lights and tinsel. The grade rooms will share this tree when they have their party on Wednesday afternoon before the school is dismissed for a ten day vacation. Each room has their own Christmas decorations and all the children wear an expectant air. All are working hard on the operetta, "Christmas for Others," which is to be given on Wednesday night, Dec. 23 at the community hall.

Mrs. Elley entertained the girls of the senior class at her home Monday evening. The time was spent stringing popcorn and cranberries to be used for decorations in the operetta.

Eleven boys are out for basketball and Coach Elley says that prospects are good for a winning team. He plans for a game between the high school and the alumni Thursday evening.

This week a physical education program is being started for both boys and girls of high school and this makes the school cooperative with the government program complete. They look part in the scrap drive, bought stamps and are still buying them and organized for Junior Red Cross. A number of new games have been purchased for the game room which the high school students use at the noon hour, leaving the gym free for the grade students. Two sets of ping pong, an indoor baseball game and a dart game are some of the new ones.

Lorraine Lindsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lindsay, and Leonard Otto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Otto were united in marriage Wednesday, Dec. 9, at St. Paul. They were married by the Methodist minister and were attended by the groom's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bjorklund. The bride wore a street length crepe dress of soldier blue with an accordeon pleated skirt, and matching accessories. Mrs. Otto was born and raised in this vicinity, attended the Burwell high school, clerked in the Gamble store and for the past year has been working at the Claussen Bakery. Mr. Otto, whose parents live on the Frost farm, has lived here for three years. A wedding dinner was given Sunday at the home of the bride's parents. A beautifully decorated three tiered cake, made by the Claussen Bakery, made an appropriate centerpiece for the table. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Otto and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Wood and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brockman and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson, Bonita and Shirley.

In honor of Mrs. Donald Bennett, one of the Burwell high school teachers, who was married during the Thanksgiving vacation, a shower was held Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond Johnson. Miss Eleanor McCowin planned for the shower and twenty guests were present bringing many beautiful gifts. The hostess served decorated tea cakes and brick ice cream. Mrs. Bennett's husband is in the army and is stationed at Oklahoma City.

The Evening Bridge club and their families took supper Sunday evening at the Hallowick hotel. Later a party was held at the Osce Johnson home for the children of the club members. The children enjoyed a Christmas tree and the exchange of gifts and were pleasantly surprised by the appearance of Old Santa himself, bringing candy and pop corn and a ticket to the show for the older children. Louis Moore arrived in time to take pictures of the tree and Santa and his small guests. The Evening Bridge club members who were present included the families of W. F. Manasil, K. W. Parsons, G. J. Fackler, O. A. Norland, Russell Mitchell and Wilbert Zorn.

Mrs. Ben Lowery, better known as Betty Moss, returned from Seattle, Tuesday. Her husband, who is in the army, has changed locations.

The ladies of the Anti-Rust club held their annual Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. Frank Malicky, Thursday. The table was beautifully decorated and the food was plentiful. The mystery sisters were revealed and the regular business meeting held. At a late hour the ladies departed, voting this one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year.

Wayne Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jensen, graduated from the Fitchsimmons college in Denver, Dec. 2, with very high honors. There were 650 graduates, comprising five schools, namely, the dental, surgical, technical, X-ray, and medical. One honor man was selected from each group and Wayne won the honors in his group of technicians and was presented with a merit card from the Rotary club of Denver. At the present he is an instructor at the Fitchsimmons college.

CREAM, LIKE BREAD, BECOMES MOLDY WITH AGE

Everyone is familiar with the dark mold found on old, moist bread

Cream held too long gets moldy while acquiring musty, cheesy or rancid flavors

Most every adult is familiar with mold in bread, but mold in cream is another matter. More farmers than will admit it know little about this common and serious dairy problem.

There is nothing mysterious about mold. Mold is a common indicator of food that is old or on the way toward spoiling. Cream as it ages tends to get moldy. The use of a dirty separator and storage of cream in high temperatures or in dirty cans or other utensils are factors favorable to the growth of mold in cream. The presence of excessive mold in butter makes the product subject to U. S. condemnation.

The government's mold mycelia test quickly spots such butter. This test is applied regularly to butter picked up on the open market, long after the farmer has put in considerable time, work and money in getting the cream to market, and the creamery has bought, handled and manufactured it into butter. Here is terrific food waste and trouble and

Ord Councilmen Reject Proposal to Buy High-Line

Secret Ballot Taken Wednesday, Vote Unanimously Against the Purchase.

By a unanimous vote taken on a secret written ballot, and later by unanimous standing vote taken for the record, the Ord city council last Wednesday evening rejected a proposal to buy the Olean-Taylor transmission line from the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district, in partnership with the village of Burwell.

Mayor M. B. Cummins presided at the meeting, which was called specially to consider the proposed purchase, and Councilmen J. W. McGinnis, Joe Rohla, M. Biemond, Ed F. Beranek, Frank Krikac and A. W. Pierce were all present.

Since the question was controversial, councilmen had expected citizens in large numbers would attend the meeting but not a single citizen showed up. Individual councilmen stated, however, that they had been approached by many citizens and that sentiment seemed to be unanimously against making the purchase, which would involve expenditure of approximately $30,000 of electric department funds.

From Burwell, where members of the village board held an unofficial meeting on the same question, the Ord council received word that four board members present all opposed the purchase and that the fifth member was out of town.

Presumably the North Loup Irrigation district will now sell the transmission line either to Consumers district or the Platte Valley district, both of whom made bids on it before the line was offered to the municipalities of Ord and Burwell. Probably the line will be dismantled and the material used elsewhere, while Ord and Burwell will resume operation of their own plants January 1 when present contracts expire.

Grand Jury Indicts Dr. Miller, Thomsen

Dr. C. J. Miller and Emory Thomsen, of Ord, last week were indicted by a federal grand jury at Omaha "for violation of federal game laws," according to an item in the Sunday issue of the Omaha World-Herald. No details concerning the indictment were given but it is understood that a federal game warden, Clyde Licking, visited Ord some weeks ago and secured affidavits from farmers west of Ord tending to show that Thomsen and Dr. Miller shot migratory waterfowl out of season. The two will be brought to trial in federal court early in 1943, it is assumed.

Laurel Gene VanHoosen Hurt Coasting Tuesday

North Loup—(Special)—Laurel Gene VanHoosen, 12-year-old daughter of Cecil VanHoosen, was badly hurt Tuesday in a coasting accident, running a silver 3 inches long and an inch wide into her hip and also fracturing a wrist. She is now in Clinic hospital at Ord. Laurel and her sister were waiting on the hill for the mall man and the little girl coasted into a post.

Send Engravings to Fifteen States in a Single Day

In a single day this week half-tones and etchings made in the Quiz engraving plant were shipped to customers in fifteen different states. Orders went to New York, Michigan, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Arkansas, Indiana, California, Wyoming and Illinois. In addition to Nebraska, reported the astounded Miss Lena Craig, bookkeeper, when she checked up on orders at conclusion of the day. From some of the states there were several different orders.

Since the engraving plant was installed here about ten years ago cuts have been shipped to every state and several foreign countries. Today work is being done for a customer in Jamaica, B. W. I. and another order is being handled for Des Moines firm for shipment to a dozen eastern states.

Ord Business Firms Affected by Priority Regulations, Shortages, Rotarians Are Told

Farm Machine Manufacture Is Cut to 20% of Normal, Reports O. Kellison.

Priorities and shortages, words which are much in the public prints these days, took on new meanings for members of the Ord Rotary club Monday night when a round-table discussion of problems that seriously affect business firms today was held as the weekly program. Several members took part and spoke interestingly on problems peculiar to their own businesses.

Farmers will be wise to buy machinery repairs now instead of waiting until they are ready to send the machines into the field, said Orin Kellison, who sells John Deere products here. The WPB has allotted only 20% of the normal amount of steel for use in new farm machinery, he said, and while 130% of the steel normally used for repairs will be used for this purpose it is feared that demand for repair parts will far exceed supply.

Only 30,000 new tractors are being built in the United States in 1943, stated Kellison, whereas the Deere company alone manufactured 64,000 last year.

Implement dealers will do their best to keep all repairs in stock but cooperation from farmers by ordering repairs early is going to be required, he said, or there isn't going to be enough machinery in usable condition to produce the big food crop desired in 1943.

Fred V. Cahill discussed food shortages and the new ceiling price set-up. If Ord didn't have two meat markets butchering their own meats Ord people would long ago have gone without steak when they wanted it, he said. Packing houses are unable to keep up with demand and meat has been a scarce item for weeks in many parts of the country, he said.

The government practice of announcing far in advance its intention of rationing certain commodities is blamed by Mr. Cahill for several shortages, notably those apparent on sugar and coffee. "People hear there is going to be a shortage of something and they all rush to buy it with result that a shortage is artificially created," Mr. Cahill said.

He analyzed profit mark-ups permitted under new OPA regulations and predicted that food merchants, particularly chain stores operating with only company-owned wholesale houses as their source of supply, will have difficulty in operating at the markups allowed on some items, with quotas reduced as they are.

Speaking on shortages that affect his business, J. R. Stoltz mentioned candy particularly. Ordinarily at this time of year he has 24 kinds of candy in his trays and perhaps 800 to 900 pounds in reserve. On Monday of this week he had only two kinds and less than 40 pounds of candy in all. Shortages of metal and rubber have been especially hard on the variety store business, said Mr. Stoltz.

M. S. Dodd, engineer-manager of the North Loup Irrigation district, spoke on labor shortages. The district is doing much work now that ordinarily would be done in warmer weather because it is possible to get labor now and may not be possible in the spring, he stated. It may prove difficult to keep sufficient men on the job next summer to keep irrigating under way efficiently, he predicted, but said the district would do its best.

C. J. Mortensen spoke about OPA ceilings established on beef at primary markets, saying that some of the government officials know so little about cattle that they speak of "male steers" and "female steers" in official orders. He believes the recent changes in ceilings, particularly in the price of heifers as compared to that of steers, will create much confusion in the cattle market. Mr. Mortensen also analyzed briefly the new income tax law and the victory tax of 5% which goes into effect next year.

R. E. Misko, president of the club, presided at the meeting and the program was arranged by E. L. Kokes. The club's annual Christmas dinner prepared by Thorne's cafe consisted of roast goose with all the trimmings and it was much enjoyed. Next Monday evening Rotarians will entertain their wives.

Grade Children Offer Program

Packed Auditorium Greeted School Program Presented Last Thursday Evening.

Grade school children entertained their friends royally on Thursday evening at the high school with one of the finest Christmas programs ever given in Ord. A jam-packed auditorium greeted the efforts of the youngsters appreciatively, and enjoyed as a prelude a medley of Christmas music played by the high school orchestra under the direction of Henry L. Daines.

Kindergarten children gave "Jingle Bells" singing to their rhythm band, following effectively with "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town," coached by Mrs. Rhoda Paap.

First grade children gave as a choral reading "Christmas Secrets," taught by Mrs. Lucille Tolens. Together the first and second grade children did a cunning play called "The Lovely Little Fir Tree," in which Mary Thompson was the Freg Fairy, Jerry Austin was Mr. Wind and Duane Wolfe was Jack Frost. Carolyn Romans took the part of the Star Child; Ina Collins was the Berry Fairy; Keith Cook the Nut Fairy; little girls were Mary Jo Clayton and Marcelyn Whiting.

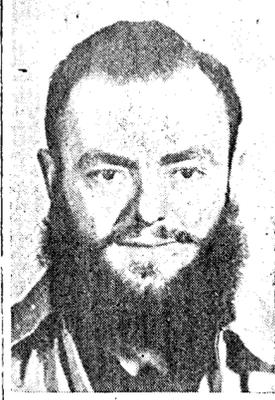

Next the third and fourth grades acted the play "The Little Shepherd Who Was Left Behind," with leading roles especially well played by Margaret Jane Heuck, John Piskorski, Frances Kruml, Gerald Maurice, Charlene Severns, Marlene Norman, John Misko, Barbara Nay and Richard Andersen.

Fifth and sixth grades combined to produce the pageant pantomime, "Lady of the Crossroads," given in three scenes. This too was beautifully done, leads being taken by Charles and Beverly Burrows and Helen Rogene Rogers, Vernon Wells, Betty Lu Anderson, Doane Ludington, Norma Manchester, Gerald Severson, also Richard Malolepszy, Carolee Anderson, Edwin Carlson and Esther Greathouse. When the chorus filed in, the high school orchestra played "Onward, Christian Soldiers." Fifth grade teacher is Mrs. Evelyn Jeffries, sixth grade teacher Miss Lois Finley.

Teacher of fourth grade youngsters is Miss Lucy Rowbal; of the third grade Miss Arlene Elsner; of the second Miss Inez

Lets Whiskers Grow in Alaska, Wins $25

When he arrived in San Francisco recently after several months of work in Alaska this is the way Paul Goodrich, of North Loup, appeared, but a soon as he had collected a $25 bet he headed for a barber shop to lose his hirsute growth. When Goodrich and Paul Mathews, of Loup City, went to Alaska last May they agreed to let their whiskers grow until they returned to the States in December. If either man shaved he was to pay the other a $25 forfeit. Goodrich's whiskers were intact when he reached San Francisco but Mathews had shaved, so he paid his bet to Goodrich.

Army Officers Will be Here New Year's

Another group of army officers under the command of Lt. Lee Huff, jr., will arrive in Ord on New Year's eve and spend the night at the school house, President C. J. Mortensen of the Chamber of Commerce is informed. This group also will be on jeep maneuvers in the sand hills, as have previous groups. About 85 officers will comprise the Huff command.

A New Year's eve dance in their honor at the Bohemian hall will be sponsored by the American Legion and all men in uniform will be admitted free.

Co-op Pays 5 1/2c Patron's Dividend on Year's Business

Creamery Has Biggest Year in Butter, Poultry and Eggs in Ten Years.

A patronage dividend of 5 1/2c on each pound of butterfat bought during 1942 is being paid this week by the Ord Co-operative Creamery company to its patrons as result of the biggest year's business done in more than a decade.

Total earnings of the co-operative, including $1,047 paid to stockholders as interest on their shares, $17,206.86 paid in patronage dividends and $1,000.78 added to the surplus fund, totalled almost $20,000.

Stockholders heard the news of their creamery's successful year at the annual meeting held Thursday afternoon in the K. of C. hall, with vice-president W. C. H. Noll presiding in the chair occupied for so many years by President A. W. Cornell, who died a few months ago.

Carl Oliver was elected a director to take Mr. Cornell's position on the board while Ed Pockock, Henry Enger and Fred Martinson were re-elected directors. The board has not met to elect officers as yet.

Highest patronage dividend previously paid by the creamery was in 1928 and 1930 when 5c on each pound of butterfat was paid. The creamery was organized in 1927 and paid a 4c dividend in its first year of operation. Lowest rebate ever paid was in 1938 and 1939 when only 2c per pound of butterfat was paid.

The annual report of Manager Fred Coe showed that 1942 manufacture of butter topped 1941 by 13 per cent, or about 48,000 pounds; that 30 per cent more poultry poundage was handled and that 60 per cent more eggs were purchased.

Volume of butter made was the largest since 1934, or a total of 404,026. Twice in the creamery's history—in 1932 and 1933, before the big drought—it manufactured slightly over a half million pounds of butter annually and now is climbing toward the half million mark again.

Average price paid for butterfat throughout the year was 36c per pound, not including the dividend. Early in the year the price was comparatively low but the market has been strengthening ever since and now is about 48c per pound on the Chicago market. The government recently established a price floor under butter of 46 1/2c per pound for 92 score in New York.

In his report Manager Coe predicted the Ord creamery will show another increase in 1943. A small but noticeable increase in the butter ceiling price may be expected, he said, since it is now below parity prices. Valley county farmers will go into dairying stronger than ever before so long as prices are at their present favorable levels, he predicted.

Press Faces 24% Cut in 1943 Paper Supply

A 24% shortage of paper faces newspapers of America in 1943, the press has been warned by the WPB, with newsprint supplies especially short. Manpower, transportation and electricity shortages will cause the newsprint shortages rather than an actual lack of wood pulp from which paper is made.

The Quiz, in common with all other newspapers, will be affected by this situation. While exact method of rationing paper to newspapers of the nation has not been worked out it is probably that it will be done through wholesalers. The WPB has warned that every newspaper must be prepared to publish on a percentage of the news print used for net paid circulation in 1941, which will be the base period, with the WPB director having authority to make slight adjustments.

Bresley Boy No Better.

Lloyd Bresley is still confined to his bed and under the daily care of a physician as result of his accident ten days ago, his father, Harry Bresley, said Tuesday. The lad suffered a brain contusion when he fell from the running board of a car driven by Harlan Jorgensen. The Jorgensen boy had stopped for him to ride, then when Lloyd got on the running board, started and stopped the car suddenly as a prank, with result that Lloyd fell and was injured. It is not thought that his condition is serious though he is still suffering from severe headaches.

Christmas Services with Special Sermons, Music, Gift Exchanges, at Ord Churches

True Christmas spirit descended on Ord Sunday, as ministers and choirs of the several Ord churches devoted their attention to the most famous story ever told. At the Methodist church Rev. M. M. Long preached on "Christmas Without Christ" and Hilding Pearson was in charge of the special music. A quartet composed of Irene Aulse, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, Alexis Cochrane and Mr. Pearson sang "Sleep, My Jesus Sleep." Directed by Henry L. Daines, the choir sang "Joy, Joy, Joy" in antiphonal arrangement. Methodist children will enjoy a Christmas eve program arranged by Mrs. J. W. Severns.

Mrs. Leo Long has been in charge of carol music broadcast from the church this week. Bethany Lutheran church services for Christmas will be held Christmas day at 11 o'clock with special music and sermon by student pastor John Schultz, of Blair. The children's Christmas program was arranged Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hansen, Lillian and Thora Rasmussen, with Joy Larsen the pianist.

Rev. L. E. Wilkins delivered a Christmas sermon for the Assembly of God, and treats were given the children that morning. Sunday evening the children sang and spoke their pieces at their own program, with Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Lemoine Wilgen singing several sacred numbers.

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning Rev. R. T. Cordry spoke thoughtfully on the Christmas theme, and anthems and carols were sung by a choir of college and high school voices. Miss Patricia Frazier sang, and a girls' trio gave "Under the Starlight," with Mrs. James Ollis accompanying. Music was particularly featured at the morning service.

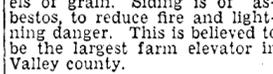

Sunday evening white Christmas services were held by Presbyterians, with special choruses by a boys' group, a girls' choir and girls' chorus. The junior department arranged a tableau and primary youngsters gave assorted songs and poems. Mrs. Edward Kokes spoke on the meaning of white Christmas gifts.

United Brethren church had a fine Christmas sermon and service Sunday morning, Rev. Palmer Rupp officiating. Sunday evening the Women's Missionary Society cooperated with various other departments for a splendid program of Christmas music and brief talks by members of the congregation. Mrs. Ralph Hatfield was in charge, and the children of the church also took part.

At the Christian church Rev. Harold Milliken preached a Christmas sermon at the morning service and communion was held, while at 8:00 p. m. there was a white gift exchange and a program of Christmas music.

Grain Elevator on William Foth Farm

The big grain elevator has just been completed on the William Foth farm and was built by A. N. Cook and son. It will hold between 11,000 and 12,000 bushels of grain. Siding is of asbestos, to reduce fire and lightning danger. This is believed to be the largest farm elevator in Valley county.

Mrs. Hubbard, 35, Passes Suddenly

Young Mother of Three Dies at Lexington Dec. 16th after Brief Illness.

A shock to her family and friends was the untimely death of Mrs. Morace Hubbard Wednesday morning at 2:30 a. m., Dec. 16 at Lexington, Nebr. Young Mrs. Hubbard had been sick only a little more than a week, and apparently had been in superb health this fall, but it was found she had a malignant growth which shortly caused her death. She was first ill and consulted a doctor on Dec. 7, and underwent an operation Dec. 10, but to no avail.

Mrs. Hubbard was 35 years and seven months old at the time she died, and she left to mourn a devoted husband and three small sons, Harold who is 12, Gerry who is nine and Dennis Dean, who is three. Born in North Loup May 16, 1907, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Bryan, pretty, sweet-faced Carmel graduated from school there and attended Kearney Normal college, later teaching in Valley county schools four years. They were married May 30, 1931. A good teacher, she was also a splendid mother who will be greatly missed. One brother, Merlyn, lives at Portland, Ore., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan live in Lexington.

Last rites were held at the Methodist church in Lexington, where Rev. Shedd officiated on Friday. Interment was in Lexington. Mrs. George Hubbard had been in Lexington ten days and was joined by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCall and Mr. Hubbard, senior on Tuesday evening. They returned to Ord Sunday and Thursday of this week Morace Hubbard will bring his three

Henry G. Lee, 67, Found Dead by Son After Heart Attack

John Lee Found Body Friday in Road; Funeral Held Tuesday Afternoon.

North Loup—(Special)—Friday afternoon this community was shocked at news that Henry G. Lee had been found dead by his son John in the road between their farms, apparently as result of a heart attack. Mr. Lee was 67 years old.

That morning Mr. Lee had been in town, returned home and about 11 o'clock commented to his daughter-in-law about how well he was feeling, telling her that he would be over in the afternoon to help his son pick corn.

After dinner John went to the field thinking that his father would walk over to the field, as the two farms adjoin. After he had picked corn awhile and his father had not come he looked around and noticed something lying in the road on the hill. Going to investigate he found his father lying there.

John Lee had to go to his house after the car and he and Mrs. Lee managed to get his father into the car and bring him to Dr. W. J. Hemphill's office here, but finding the doctor out they took him to Dr. Cimfal at Scotia. The doctor pronounced him beyond medical aid and said death doubtless was due to a sudden and painless heart attack.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Methodist church with Rev. W. H. Stevens of the Evangelical church in charge. Pallbearers were James and Will Vogeler, Pete Jorgensen, Frank McDermott, Emmett Frazer and Paul Jones and interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Lee was born in Cass county on May 5, 1875, moved with his family to Clay county in 1883 and with them two years later to Mira Valley. In 1905 he moved to a farm near this village which remained his home until death. He was married in 1909 to Miss Phillipina Tufel and six children were born to them, all of whom are living.

Brought up in the Evangelical church, Mr. Lee was known as a devout man, an industrious farmer and respected citizen. He is survived by his wife, two sons, John, of North Loup, Carl, who is in the army and stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex., and by four daughters, Mrs. Louise Snyder, Council Bluffs, Ia., Mrs. Edna Taylor, Whitman, Nebr., Miss Ruth Lee and Mrs. Mary Scott, both of Lincoln. There also are three brothers, Ed and Paul, of North Loup, and Ernest, of Marsing, Ida., and three sisters, Mabel, of North Loup, Mrs. Ben Eberhart, of Ord and Mrs. Mollie Kunz, of Elmwood.

Desiring to spend his convalescence and the holiday season with friends rather than in the impersonal comfort of a hospital room, Mr. Mach decided to come to Ord but since there is no passenger train now and he might not have proper attendance on the mixed train he had himself shipped by express so that the baggage man could look after his needs, if any.

Strapped to a stretcher but quite comfortable anyway, Mr. Mach arrived Tuesday by express prepaid. Haight loaded the stretcher into his pick-up truck and took Mr. Mach to the Frank Bruha home, where he had planned to go, but finding this family had moved to the country he had Mr. Haight take him to the William Tuma home near Elyria instead.

As soon as he is able to walk Mach plans to return to his job in Fremont.

Food High Priced, Scarce, in California Says Mrs. LaCornu

Seems mighty queer to get back to a country where people can buy bacon and ham again, where chicken isn't 58c per pound, where eggs aren't 58c a dozen, where pork chops aren't 47c a pound and where butter can be bought in more than quarter-pounds, says Mrs. John LaCornu, who returned Sunday evening to Ord after living in California.

Mrs. LaCornu and her 20-months-old daughter have moved to six different places in California within the last year with Major LaCornu, lastly to Salinas. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bradt of Ord, with whom she will make her home for the present, while her husband is on duty.

Major LaCornu is an executive officer in the quartermaster's corps, and most of the troops under his direction are negroes, says his wife.

Man with Broken Leg Comes to Ord Tues.--by Express

Louis Mach Ships Himself Here after Accident in Fremont, Now at Tuma Farm.

Freeman Haight has handled many strange consignments since he took the contract to deliver express shipments in Ord but Tuesday came the odddest and most fragile he has ever handled—a man with a broken leg, who came on a stretcher in the baggage car of the Union Pacific train.

The man was Louis Mach, who formerly was a Garfield county farmer but recently had been laying steel on a job at Fremont. About a week ago he broke his leg in an industrial accident and was taken to the hospital where the fracture was reduced and the leg placed in a cast.

Desiring to spend his convalescence and the holiday season with friends rather than in the impersonal comfort of a hospital room, Mr. Mach decided to come to Ord but since there is no passenger train now and he might not have proper attendance on the mixed train he had himself shipped by express so that the baggage man could look after his needs, if any.

As soon as he is able to walk Mach plans to return to his job in Fremont.

Strapped to a stretcher but quite comfortable anyway, Mr. Mach arrived Tuesday by express prepaid. Haight loaded the stretcher into his pick-up truck and took Mr. Mach to the Frank Bruha home, where he had planned to go, but finding this family had moved to the country he had Mr. Haight take him to the William Tuma home near Elyria instead.

1,000 Children Enjoy Christmas Party

The Ord Theatre was filled Tuesday afternoon as the Chamber of Commerce held its annual Christmas party for the children, an estimated 1,000 attending the two shows given. Feature picture was the comedy, "Go West", and Manager Biemond made a popular choice as proved by constant gales of laughter from the children. Afterward Santa Claus and his assistants appeared and passed out oranges, apples and cookies among the crowd, these edibles given as substitute for hard-to-get Christmas candy and nuts.

Stores were comfortably filled with Christmas shoppers Tuesday afternoon and merchants report one of the good days of the season.

Burwell Townsend Club Is Surprised as Members Wed

Burwell—(Special)—Members of the Townsend club holding their annual Christmas party Wednesday evening were confronted with an event not listed on the program—the marriage of two of their prominent members, Mrs. Matilda Davis and Patrick Murphy. The ceremony was performed by Judge B. A. Rose.

The wedding was a pleasant surprise to friends of the couple and they also enjoyed treats furnished by the happy groom. Mr. Murphy is 60 and his bride is 71.

Merry Christmas

TO OUR DEPOSITORS—Appreciation for the trust you place in us, backed as we are by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, plus careful application of sound banking principles.

TO OUR BORROWERS—May the credit we extend enable you to swell your earnings and climb out of debt and into the position of security so generally aspired to. We'll be seeing you on each due date!

TO OUR OVER-DRAFTERS—Christmas is the time to be charitable and we try desperately to remember all our friends. However it is better banking practice to borrow at the wicket than through the back door. Come up and see us sometime!

TO OUR COMPETITOR—Thanks for applying pretty good banking principles, too. You're supposed to be the "life of trade" you know, and we certainly like to have it have a little spuzz.

TO AFTER-CLOSING HOUR CUSTOMERS—Only politicians are famed for "behind closed doors" business, but we always aim to be accommodating. We could suggest a New Year's resolution about promptness, but New Year's isn't until next week. Besides we would rather see you late than never.

TO THE POLICEMAN—Thanks for looking in frequently during the night. Midnight hour customers aren't the kind we are soliciting. They're too careless about keeping up the payments.

TO THE MERCHANTS—We're not unaware that without your enterprise and enthusiasm Ord would be just another town. It's your fine stocks and attractive prices that keep folks coming here—that make it worth their while to drive here from long distances. Keep up the fight. Chicago wasn't built in a day.

TO THOSE WHO DON'T BANK HERE—There's no crust to bust here. We're shirt-sleeve bankers, doing business with shirt-sleeves farmers and shirt-sleeves business people. No account is too small to grow, you know and we would enjoy helping you nurture your savings into a bumper pile.

TO OUR FARMERS—Congratulations on the comeback you've made since the sorry days of depression. Milking the cows, swilling the hogs and gathering the eggs has become a profession—a profitable one too nowadays—and we are fully conscious that unless farming is prosperous, merchandising and banking in this community cannot hope to be prosperous.

TO ANY AND ALL OTHERS—To the carrier boys who bring the papers, the mail man, the customers with whom we match for coffee—usually losing—to all who pass our window with a pleasant smile and a wave of the hand, may your Christmas joys be more potent than Tom and Jerry's, more lasting than an Axis promise.

—Money to loan on improved residence property. Protective Savings & Loan Association.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cuckler will go to Broken Bow to spend Christmas day with relatives.

—Mrs. John Sharp writes they moved to Las Vegas, Nev., in April, and like it much better than California.

—Friday Roy McGee took the bus to start for Long Beach. He plans to work there and send for his family soon.

—Miss Beverly Davis returned Wednesday on the evening bus from Lincoln, where she attends the University of Nebraska.

—Miss Mary Miller returned Sunday for a two week vacation at home, after stops with school friends at Salina and Junction City, Kas.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oetken left today for Dorchester, and will spend Christmas with their people there, returning to Ord on Sunday.

—Receiving word on Sunday evening of the serious illness of her son Dick, Mrs. Otis Hughes left by bus Monday morning for Amarillo, Tex.

—Miss Mamie Smith, Ord librarian, plans to go to Scotia, Christmas eve to spend next day in the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Sheperd.

—The E. L. Vogelanz family will spend Christmas in Ord, probably going to Wahoo a day or two later, when her sister from Montana will be there.

—The annual meeting of the stock holders of the Protective Savings and Loan Association will be held at the home office in Ord, Nebraska on January 8, 1943, at 4 p. m.

—Miss Geraldine Noll left Monday morning on the bus for Lincoln to join an Iowa lady who will drive to Ballenger, Tex. There she will visit Dean Barla, her fiancé.

—Mrs. Velmer McGinnis and two children came by bus from Manhattan, Kas., arriving Sunday evening. They will be guests at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis.

—Miss Betty Kokes arrived by bus Saturday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kokes. Mr. Kokes is fairly well again. Miss Helen Kokes arrived Saturday by car from Omaha.

—At the M. V. Fredericks home, they are happy because Lela came home on Saturday, bringing her little daughter Catherine Ann. Lela is now Mrs. Clifford Stoegar of North Platte, and her husband is expected to arrive Christmas eve. So is her brother John Fredericks, who is working at Kearney.

—The F. L. Stoddard family are exceedingly happy to have both the older boys home for Christmas. Gerald came from Norfolk, Neb., where he has just finished his pre-flight training, and does not know where he will be sent next. Orville came from Kearney, where he works and attends college. They will arrive by bus Dec. 24th.

—Mrs. Hugh Carson writes her mother Mrs. George S. Round that she expects to be transferred from Des Moines about Dec. 28th but does not know where, having finished her first WAAC training. Dr. John Round likes his work in Kansas very much, he writes, and is getting some fine experience, but thinks another month or two may find him moving too. In Lincoln George Round, jr., expects to be called soon, and in Chicago Bob Gruber, Round grandson, is trying once more to get into the navy, his heart's desire. He has tried twice before. The Rounds are well represented in Uncle Sam's service.

—Old friends of the Claude Davis family will be interested to hear the news written to his brother Clarence Davis this week from Lincoln. Claude's youngest son, Dean, who graduated from the University of Nebraska law school about two years ago, has just been made a second lieutenant at Miami Beach, Fla., and has been doing patrol duty with Clark Gable. He writes Clark is as good looking as his pictures and is a real fellow. Dean had a furlough lately because of trouble with an infected hand, which he spent with his wife in Wisconsin.

—Mrs. Lloyd Wilson hears from her brother that he was tickled to get a big bundle of Quiz lately; also that he enjoyed a fine Thanksgiving dinner where he is stationed in the Hawaiian Islands, and that he likes it there but is homesick for Valley county. He is a private in the quartermasters department. He left April 2 and reached the Islands Aug. 7.

—Mrs. R. C. Austin sends word she will be home by New Year's day, after two months on the west coast. She has been with her daughter Mrs. Acel Vincent at Seattle Wash., where a new baby arrived the last of November, who bears the title of Thomas Daniel Vincent. He is the third child. Mrs. Austin will go to San Diego to see Lila before coming home.

—Capt. Coe went to Omaha this week to see if he could be released from the army reserve so that he might enlist in the air corps, having underwent a nose operation the air corps said he had to have before they would take him. He has been attending school at the University of Colorado at Boulder.

—Miss Agnes Brim has given up her job as household assistant at the home of Dr. C. J. Miller, and will work in the ordnance plant at Grand Island. She left Monday on the morning bus, and after a stop at Alda, will make her home there with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Luedtke and husband.

—A son-in-law of the J. C. VanHouse family, Carl Lamborn, will go into the army Dec. 29th, he writes, having received his call. He has been working at the air base in Lincoln, and has been an Ord visitor a number of times. Mr. and Mrs. Lamborn have been married about two years.

—Miss Irma Kokes reached Grand Island about three a. m. Sunday morning, and was met there by her father, L. V. Kokes, and came to Ord for a ten-day Christmas vacation. She is an instructor in nursing at Washington University in St. Louis, and is happy in her work, she reports.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lehr are expected for Christmas at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dale. Coming from California where he is working while waiting his call (he enlisted in August) they will also visit his people in Lincoln.

—Miss Eileen Thompson quit the rationing office and began work in the AAA office Monday morning this week. In the rationing office, Mrs. Grace Sprague's new helper is Miss Lydia Lehecka.

—Edward and Miss Marjory Naprstek went to Omaha Thursday and will spend their Christmas vacation with their sister, Mrs. Glen McCartney and husband.

—Friday morning Miss Bette Vogelanz arrived from Leavenworth, Kas., and will be home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogelanz, for Christmas.

One and all I wish you a Merry Christmas.

And as 1943 will be with us before many of you get next week's paper I also wish you a Happy New Year and I sincerely hope that 1943 will see the end of this terrible war and that you may all be happy and prosperous throughout the year.

Fred Cahill warned me Monday afternoon that if I wasn't careful I would slip down on the ice and break something and he added that it wouldn't be a record either.

I am satisfied that if the people running the government were spending their own money, that the war would be conducted for about half what it is costing and the same goes for all the spending of this administration during the past ten years.

An Ord man is correspondent for the Grand Island Independent but I never thought of accusing him of disloyalty to Ord for so doing. The editor of the Quiz represents the Associated and the United Press associations, but no one would think of accusing him of being disloyal to Ord. The owner and editor of the Arcadian sends news to the Quiz and no one thinks of him as being disloyal to his town. So why, but what's the use.

The holiday season is here again and we take this opportunity to say "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year" to all our friends and customers.

What the future holds we do not know but to the best of our ability we will continue to serve you, and we thank you all for your patronage and friendship.

Something Different

I've seen it before, but reading it over, it seems amusing yet, perhaps you'll laugh too.

"Lady, if you see me lying on the ground, and maybe dying, Let my blood run bright and free Don't attempt to bandage me. While there's life, there's hope, so pet,

Don't apply the tourniquet; Do not give for my salvation Artificial respiration. Do not stretch my bones and joints,

Do not press my pressure points. If queer symptoms you should see Don't experiment on me. If I'm suffering from a shock, Take a walk around the block. If you must be busy—pray Help the crowd to keep away. So, whatever my condition, Lady, phone for my physician. Let me be, I'll take a chance Waiting for the ambulance. From First Aid I beg release, Lady, let me die in peace!"

I believe Ogden Nash wrote it and it was first published in the Saturday Post; anyway, it's good for nearly a chuckle per line.

So, without too many apologies to that ardent fan of First Aid, that efficient Ord lady who sics us all on her courses but woefully has to admit she is so busy herself that she's never had time to take a course in First Aid, namely, Mrs. Mark (Lucille George) Tolen, I offer you these chuckles as above.

No wonder Lucille is busy. She is really a marvel woman, and how does she do it?

A year or two ago she worked actively with (I believe it was) 19 organizations. Since then I think she has picked up one or two more things to do, in addition to doing her own curtain-airing, floor-dusting, washing, cooking, ironing, much canning, some sewing, and all the things it takes to keep two husky sons and a frail husband going. And since the death of Miss Daisy Hallen Mrs. Mark Tolen has taken over that work, and is teaching every day.

I nominate her for the title of "What-a-woman" Tolen.

And now the time has come to say Merry Christmas once more.

I think you really have the things it takes to make a genuine Merry Christmas, haven't you? Isn't your roof tight, the fire sufficient, the kitchen full of good smells. Aren't your children clothed, your beds comfortable? We take those for granted, don't we?

Mostly we find our Merry Christmas within ourselves, and we can still do that, can't we? It is really a spirit, a happy feeling that we have.

I hope you have a lovely, joyous Christmas. With a letter from your soldier boy. And next year I hope he'll be helping you gobble up that turkey at your own table once more. —Irma.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

For the farmer who likes to try out new crops, we suggest flax. Some of our state agronomists believe that flax can be profitably raised in the Ord area. More flax is wanted to make linseed oil and meal. Flax needs about the same care as oats or barley. It should produce from 8 to 15 bushels on upland and about 12 to 25 on bottomland. The price is around $2.50 per bushel.

Small patches of flax were drilled in test plots this year at Lincoln, Fremont, Ord, North Platte and Allen. In these plots the average yield for Biwing flax was 20.1 bushels per acre. It was an exceptionally favorable year for flax.

Biwing flax is a new hybrid which combines resistance to wilt, rust and pasmo disease with superior oil quantities and high yields. The agronomists wish to distribute some Biwing seed in this locality and have the grower certify it. Cost to the farmer will be around $4.50 per bushel plus certification charges. Flax weighs 56 pounds per bushel, and the recommended rate of seeding is 45 pounds to the acre. Flax is not especially hard on the land.

No farmer is urged to plant flax unless he has his own desire to do so. There will doubtless be some problems as with any new crop. The nearest sure market is at Fremont, and the grain will have to be sacked, unless there is enough for a carload. A tight wagon box is needed to haul it.

If a farmer failed at growing flax, his neighbors would probably laugh at him. But someone has to be the first to experiment with every new crop, and whoever tries flax will be making a patriotic contribution. More linseed oil and meal is needed to help win the war.

1912—CHRISTMAS—1942

By Will M. Maupin

Midst war's alarms, with world at strife From pain and death we seek release;

In war torn lands with horror rife, Once more we yearn for days of peace.

And looking, then we turn once more To Him who in the manger lay, And kneeling at His feet implore A world at peace this Christmas Day.

In time of peace did we forget, And go our ways without a thought On righteous paths our feet to set; To murmur now o'er what we wrought? Had we but kept the faith and tried To do His will along the way, Who doubts that ills which now betide Would not afflict this Christmas Day?

When from His way the world departs To follow lust for place and power; To set at naught what love imparts, Then surely comes the fatal hour That bathes the world in blood and tears.

'Tis then, and only then we pray The prayers forgotten through the years: "Bring back Thy help this Christmas Day!"

And then will come the answer clear: "Have faith as but a grain of sand, Lo, I on mountain top appear To give a war torn world My hand To lift it back to peaceful way When men to men as brothers stand To sing glad songs each Christmas Day!"

Farm light batteries and 6 volt glass batteries are still available. This is a good time to renew your batteries and have your light plant overhauled.

Expect Charges Today Against 2 School Boys

At noon today (Wednesday) no charges had yet been filed in county court against the two high school boys who are alleged to have broken into the Ord Artificial Ice company's plant and stolen beer and pop in case lots about ten days ago, but County Attorney John P. Misko said that he expected to interview the boys and their fathers this afternoon and that some disposal of the case would be made soon. No official arrests have been made as yet and until this is done it is not the policy of this newspaper to print the names of the parties involved.

Smith-Wainright Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Evet Smith announce the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth to Joseph A. Wainright, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Wainright of Galesburg, Ill., which was solemnized the morning of Saturday, Dec. 12, at Bridgeport, Conn. Rev. Dr. William H. Alderson officiated at the ceremony at 11 o'clock at the First Methodist church in that city.

The bride was attended by her only sister, Miss Mildred Smith of Washington, D. C. and the groom by Robert Serle of Schenectady, N. Y. After a wedding trip to Boston the couple are at home at 67 Eaton street, Stratford, Conn. The groom is a graduate of Iowa State college, and is a radio engineer in the employ of the General Electric company.

Mrs. Wainright grew up here, graduated from the Ord schools and acquired a taste for nursing while working at the Ord hospital. She trained at Augustana hospital in Chicago, graduating there, and has since been practicing her profession.

For her wedding she chose a two piece wool suit of soldier blue and wore accessories of neutral brown, with a corsage of tearoses. Miss Mildred Smith wore suit and matching accessories of black, with pink rose in her corsage.

Hosts of good wishes go from Valley county for the long and happy married life of the former Betty Smith and her husband.

The wedding of Miss Ruth F. James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James of Ord, to Master Sergeant Kenneth R. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson of Champaign, Ill., took place Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sieck, sister of the bride. Rev. C. H. Walcott read the marriage service before the fireplace which was banked with ferns and tall baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Preceding the ceremony Master Sergeant Walter S. Wrobel, violinist, played several selections.

The bride appeared in a gown of white slipper satin made with a long waist line and a full skirt ending in a train. The bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the hand. Her double fingertip length veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet of lace and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of small white chrysanthemums and swansonla.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for close friends and relatives of the couple. The lace covered table was centered with the wedding cake and low bowls of yellow and white pompons were used throughout the rooms. Assisting with the serving were the five sisters of the bride.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James and Robert of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rothert of Auburn, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Litzette of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skinner of Herman and Pvt. and Mrs. Sam Schwartzkopf of San Antonio.

Buffalo To Eat.
H. Elliot McClure and Rex Jewett spoke for one of the 1,000 pound buffalo killed each year on the Nebraska reserve, and this week each of them have 400 pounds of meat to consume. The McClures also have the buffalo skin, which he is having made into a rug, with later plans for making a robe from it, possibly even shoes if the war pinches sufficiently.

Family Reunion.
Sunday all the children of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kerchal gathered for a family reunion and enjoyed dinner and supper together in the home of their parents. Present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hybl, Vernon and Eldene, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. AAA News Notes

Starting Thursday, December 24th, precinct committees will be called into the county office to review and correct allotments, yields, and cropland. If your yield allotment is not what it should be, see your precinct committee and state your case to them so that they will be sure to review your yield and allotted acreage for corn.

We have had the promise of appeal blanks for certificates of war necessity for the past two weeks and still no blanks. We had thought that we would mimeograph copies but recent instructions state that we cannot do this. We have a letter from Mr. Stauffer in charge of the North Platte office and he says that we will keep these trucks running until these certificates are corrected and the proper book is issued.

Increased hog production for 1943. Nebraska's goal is set at 140% of 1942. That is a goal that we should try our best to meet as meat is needed and at $13.25 per cwt. or more, it's money in our pocket to increase our pork production. We should feed our hogs so as to get the most out of our grains. To do this we must feed a balance ration, keep our hogs well bedded and see to it that they have all the water they need. Be sure to feed some good protein supplement.

On Tuesday, December 22, the Valley county USDA War Board and Emil Kokes went to Loup City to a district meeting. At this meeting our goals were discussed and plans were made to make sure that we meet our production goals. The members of the War Board in Valley county are C. C. Dale, Evan Hartman, J. B. Ollis, Joe Ramakers and R. Clare Clement.

The Valley County Farm Machinery Rationing Board met Friday, December 18th and issued certificates for machinery that dealers had on hand. At that time no applications were taken for machinery not in the dealers hands. Applications are now being taken for all machinery classed as No. 1. The board will meet some time in early January and pass on applications then in the office.

December 31st, there will be an all day meeting of precinct committeemen. At this time plans will be made for our 1943 production program and sign up.

Library Notes.

We wish each one of you a very pleasant Holiday season. The library will not be open Christmas eve and Christmas, nor New Year's eve and New Years.

We have recently received Cecil Brown's book "Suez to Singapore." Mr. Brown, who was on the Repulse when it went down, in Singapore and Malaya before they fell, writes in praise of brave fighting men and in condemnation of bureaucrats and stultified business men.

Favorable comments are given us concerning "The Robe" written by Lloyd C. Douglas. While this book is entirely different from any others of his, you are sure to find it interesting and impressive.

This is our war, so let us read about it. We have attempted to get what we think to be the best books being published about the different countries involved. By reading some of these, perhaps we can get a better picture of the settings behind the conflicts.

We would like to have more children in the grades use the library. We have so many books which are interesting as well as instructive. The girls would enjoy "The Moffats," and "The Middle Moffats." Also we have several of the new adventure stories. The boys should like our new dog and horse stories.

Are you wondering what career to follow after school? We have several career stories which are fiction but give very good ideas about the different phases of the work.

Several days ago a little boy left a black leather cap in the library. If anyone knows to whom it belongs will he please notify the librarian.

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

The Pinochle club met for a one o'clock luncheon Friday at the home of Mrs. H. L. Gillespie with Mrs. Everett Wright and Mrs. Jim Scott assistant hostesses. Three tables of players spent the afternoon playing pinochle. Mrs. Jim Scott winning the traveling prize. They also enjoyed a gift exchange.

Hazel Stevens was a Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. George Cox in the Fred Bartz home.

The Junior Fortnightly club met Thursday for a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Barber. Mrs. Jim Coleman and Mrs. Vernon Thomas were in charge of the afternoon's festivities consisting of Christmas games and stunts which lasted till 4:30 when Santa Claus himself arrived with gifts for all. Mrs. C. D. Woldemath was a guest.

At the Christmas party of the Fortnightly club held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Bartz, Mrs. Emma Madsen, who was a guest, told of Christmas in Denmark, her childhood home. Games were played and some time spent in singing carols before the gift exchange from a beautifully decorated tree.

W. T. Hutchins went to Grand Island Friday afternoon and from there took the train for Des Moines where Mrs. Hutchins met him and they will spend a few days with members of her family. Mrs. Hutchins has been in Washington, D. C., assisting in the care of a new grandson in the home of her son, Wayne Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maxson and George, Jr., drove to Grand Island Saturday afternoon taking the train for Alfred, N. Y., where he will spend Christmas with Mrs. Ehret and his daughters. Mrs. Ehret, who teaches in the New York City schools did not have a long enough vacation to permit her to come home for the holiday.

Donna Manchester came home from the clinic hospital in Ord Friday and is convalescing from an appendicitis operation at her home. Dorothy White who also had an appendicitis operation in the clinic, came home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Roby, Mrs. Walter Thorngate and two younger children were Sunday dinner guests in the Reuben Athey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goodrich, Frances, Charles, Ronald and Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Goodrich and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Jorgensen and baby spent Sunday at the Claud Barber home on Davis Creek.

Dorothy Thorngate was a Grand Island visitor Saturday. Mrs. Clara Holmes and Mary Babcock arrived home from Milton, Wis., Saturday evening for a two weeks' vacation. Mary is a student in Milton college and Mrs. Holmes is a member of the faculty. Mary will spend most of the vacation at the home of her parents in Scottia, while Mrs. Holmes is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson.

A Christmas program will be given by the choir and the Sabbath school at the regular morning services Saturday morning, Dec. 26. Plans for the annual New Year's dinner for the Seventh Day Baptist church calls for this to be held on New Year's day at the church.

Mildred Hrdy was an overnight guest Sunday of Hazel Stevens at the Otto Bartz home.

Mrs. Arthur Bartz, Mrs. Alice Anderson of Ord and Sgt. Ervin Bartz of Fort Sill, Okla., left on Saturday for Camp Atterbury, Ind., where Sgt. Arthur Bartz is located. Mrs. Bartz expects to spend Christmas with her husband but Ervin will return this week, driving his brother's car back. Arthur expects to be moved soon and could not take his car with him.

Floyd Redlon has a bulletin board in his barber shop on the south side of the street that has pictures of all North Loup boys who are in the service and he keeps an up-to-date list of the boys' addresses. Many people have availed themselves of the directory when writing to the boys.

Mrs. Fred Bartz and Mrs. Geo. Bartz went to Scottia Friday evening to attend the program given by the Scottia schools. Lella Bartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bartz attends school in Scottia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Millhollin are moving to Fremont after the first of the year and Ann's Beauty shop will be closed unless someone to operate it can be found. Mr. and Mrs. Millhollin have made many friends here and regret leaving but his headquarters is Fremont and getting ready to do not make it possible for him to drive home often enough to warrant their continued living here. Mrs. Millhollin has operated Ann's Beauty shop for seven years and has built up a good business as well as made many friends. It will be with regret that North Loup people will see them move away. She hopes to sell or lease the shop.

Lloyd Van Horn, Herman Dezel, Mrs. Mervin Scott and Mrs. Clifford Hawkes went to Grand Island Saturday to take physical examinations for work in the ordnance plant there. All passed the test and will begin working December 28. Selma Robbins accompanied them but did not take the examination.

Mrs. John Spralg, formerly Fern Rich, arrived last week from Chicapee Falls, Mass., and is stopping over Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rich. Her husband, who is in the army air corps has been transferred to Santa Ana, Calif., where Mrs. Spralg plans to go soon after Christmas. Her brother, Leland Rich will accompany her to help drive and will return by train. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Everett Wright and Mrs. Ross Williams gave a shower for Mrs. Spralg at the Rich home with relatives and neighbors attending.

Mrs. Fanny Weed spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. George Sample.

Carl Unger came over from Ravenna Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post accompanied him home. They will stay in the Unger home till after Christmas.

Marjorie and Harriett Brown, Jeanne Barber and Donald Hutchins came home from Kearney Saturday for a week's vacation from their work in Kearney college.

Eula Brown is spending this week and last at Crete with the William Helleberg family. She is expected home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jewell went to Grand Island Monday. They are planning to move to Grand Island soon and took a trailer load of things down on Monday.

Two cars of feeder cattle, one for R. H. Knapp and one for Wilbur Fuss came in from Idaho on the Monday morning freight.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Rydberg and Charles Irwin came over from Kearney Saturday night and visited Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Thelin till Sunday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stine and Larry Trublood left Thursday evening for Denver where the boys have work in a defense plant. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stine took Mrs. Trublood and baby to Grand Island where they took the train for Denver.

George Eberhart took a load of cattle to Omaha Sunday night.

Mrs. Merle Worrel and Lucille Spellman, both teachers in the Cotesfield schools, spent the week end in North Loup. Mrs. Worrel was a guest in the Bates Copeland home and Miss Spellman in the Earl Howell home.

Geraldine Gowen, a student in the college of agriculture at Lincoln will be home for the Christmas vacation Wednesday. Mary Ann Bartz, Dorothy Bran- non and Muriel Hamer plan to drive up Thursday. Winsome Meyers and Virginia Kerr, both students at Wesleyan also plan to spend the vacation at home.

Teachers who will be home for the holidays include Nettie Clark who teaches at Madison, Bessie Eberhart of Blair, Florence Hudson of Plainview and Florence Hamer of Sargent.

County Agent Notes

Cattle Grub Control Circular.
Milk cows and beef animals that were bothered by flies last summer are quite likely to be infested now with grubs. Extension Agent C. C. Dale states. Some of the flies probably were heel flies, which lay their eggs on the hair of the animals.

Extension Entomologist Don Whelan of the College of Agriculture is quoted as saying that the eggs hatch and the creatures enter the skin. Late in December, through January, and until September, young maggots or grubs come from their resting place in the animal's back. The holes which they cause affect not only the beef, but the quality and appearance of the hide, and also result in a decrease in milk production.

Whelan states that when the bumps in which the grubs develop appear in the animal's back, the grubs can be forced out by gently applying pressure from beneath. An ointment made of one part iodoforn and five parts of petrolatum or vaseline, when pressed into the opening of the "bump," will kill the grub, and the opening soon will heal. Rotenone dust or a spray also will kill the germs.

Further information on control of cattle grubs is contained in Extension Circular 1527, available at the county extension office. There is no charge for a copy.

Take Out Non-Producing Hens.

Supplies of protein supplement that are available can be "stretched" to take care of the laying flock for a longer period of time if the non-producers are weeded out. Extension Poultryman Jack Redditt states. Old hens that quite evidently are not healthy should be killed and buried. Young birds of a mealy, thick type should be sold.

A flock owner has about 75 cents invested in a pullet by the time she is 7 months old. If a 7 months old bird has not shown any evidence that she is going to be a good producer, the chances are that she will never be able to clear her debt. Birds with yellow legs and beaks, and small, shriveled combs and ear lobes, are poor producers.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

By Avery Noll.

(Crowded out last week)
The Foreign Language club held its Christmas party last Thursday night. Each member took a sack lunch and after eating everyone enjoyed playing games in the auditorium.

The Elementary club had its Yuletide festivities on Monday night. Games were played, gifts were exchanged and a delicious lunch concluded an enjoyable evening.

Tuesday evening at 6:30 members of the Tri-S met at Thorne's cafe for a brief entertainment and gift exchange.

The Girls Social Service have been collecting and wrapping articles to be sent as Christmas gifts to some orphanage.

Tuesday morning the pupils from the grade school came over to the high school for their first rehearsal on the stage. Wednesday afternoon they gave their program before the student body of the high school. Tonight they give their program for the public.

Wednesday evening a faculty party was held in the home economics room. The advanced home economics girls served a tasty meal about 6:30. Entertainment was planned by Mrs. Jeffries, Miss Elsner and Miss Finley.

To All of You We Want to Say
Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

NOW, when all America looks hopefully to a new and better year, we pause to take stock of our assets, and find that chief among them is the good will of our many customers.

So we renew our pledge to do everything in our power to merit a continuance of your good will. There are clouds on the horizon, and clouds in the zenith, too, but we face the future with the firm conviction that now, on the threshold of 1943, we may truly say, as in the past, we wish you a Merry Christmas and a Very Happy New Year.

Nebraska State Bank

Regardless of what has happened to this queer old world in 1942, there is still love and cheer and friendship out of which we may fashion another happy Christmas season.

We want to say now that we wish all of our friends every success in finding during this Yuletide all the happiness it can possibly bring.

NORTH LOUP

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kunz of Elmwood arrived on the Sunday night bus and are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schidel and two children of Grand Island spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Schidel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie entertained their dinner bridge club Monday evening. Mrs. Frank Schudel won high score for the ladies and Roy Hudson for the men.

Lyle Sintek and Harold Portis came home from Omaha where they have employment in a defense plant, Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson spent Thursday at the Warren Johnson home near Scotia.

Esther Zangger came home from Hastings for a ten day vacation Thursday evening on the bus. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Zangger and Esther were guests in the Albert Babcock home in Scotia.

The Bryan Portis family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Klingensmith.

Mrs. Max Klingensmith entertained the Needle and Thimble club at a Christmas party Wednesday afternoon. Christmas games, an appropriate lunch and a gift exchange made a pleasant afternoon.

Dist. 42 school, with Viola Clement as teacher, held a Xmas program and gift exchange at the school house Tuesday evening.

Mary Frances Manchester is spending a two weeks' vacation at home. Mary Frances teaches in the Springdale district.

The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the church for the annual business meeting. With Mrs. Zangger, president, in charge, reports of committees and officers were given. Mrs. Ora Bohrer had charge of the devotions, using as the subject, "Bells."

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Barber spent Monday and Tuesday in Grand Island.

Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Babcock, Mrs. Jessie Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sayre and the Albert Babcock family were supper guests Sunday night of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill and Mrs. Inez Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill and Mrs. Inez Hill plan to leave on Thursday evening for Scottsbluff to spend Christmas with the Robert Harmon family.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Lena Taylor for Christmas dinner Tuesday evening included the Jim Vogeler, Elvin Barnhart, Mrs. Lizzie Barnhart, Mrs. Amy Taylor and Mrs. Alta Barnhart. The gathering was held early so that Russell Johnson, home on furlough from Camp Swift, Tex., might be present. Russell left for camp Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson spent Wednesday with his people, the Warren Johnsons in Scotia and attended a family dinner in the Robert Mitchell home.

Carl Lee came in on the Monday evening bus from Fort Bliss, Tex., called here for the funeral of his father, Henry Lee.

Velma Howell is assisting in the home of Mrs. Ruth Hutchins this week. Dale Hutchins, who was ill last week with septic sore throat, is still not able to be back in school.

Mary Babcock came over from Scotia Tuesday and visited at school.

The grade operetta, Christmas for Others, was given Tuesday evening at the community building. The operetta, set in the home of the "Little Old Woman" the night before Christmas, was well rendered, under the direction of Mrs. Elley, who was assisted by the grade teachers. Phyllis Babcock took the part of the Little Old Woman, Pierre, her sickly son, who had been feeding the birds with his food, which keeps him from getting well but keeps the birds and rabbits from starving. Pierre was rewarded by a fine Christmas tree, the gift of Santa's helpers, Christmas Star, Cranberries, the Crystal Snowflakes, Pop Corn Ladies, English Walnuts and Christmas Lights. Clever costuming added much to the play.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spratt were taken by Dean Hutchins and Sylvia Ingerson. Myles Nelson was Simple Simon, Thelma Goodrich was the Queen of Hearts, Jean Brenneck, Mistress Mary, Barbara Stevens, Christmas Star, birds were Richard Hawkes and Jimmie Clement; rabbits were Jo Ann Burrows and Santa's helpers, Bonnie Babcock and Ronald Goodrich. Grade children were popcorn children and cranberries. Between acts the high school girls' glee club sang.

The Crystal high school paper was put out this week for the first time this year. The paper is dedicated to the memory of Pearl Harbor. Editor is JoAnne Barber, co-editor, Marjory Hamer, athletics, Gordon Portis, high school news, Audrey Psota, grade school news, Edith Cox, interviewer, Dorothy Larkin, humor editor, Adella Waller and Eula Brown, advertising, Esther Taylor, art, Steven Clement and Donna Manchester, stencillers, Lucille Fisher, Marion Maxson and Charlotte Jones. Mrs. Elley was proof reader and censor. Besides editorials and school news, the paper has three very interesting letters from former graduates of North Loup who are in the service. Everett Manchester, wrote of his life in England, Roy Maxson of Africa and Merilyn Van Horn of Panama. All three express the certainty of an ultimate victory and a return to home and a normal life. The Crystal also has a column dedicated to the memory of Carl Leonard.

North Loup high school basketball team played a game with the alumni team Thursday evening, the alumni winning 36-15. The team's first scheduled game is to be played with Burwell at North Loup on January 7 and a game with Arcadia here on the following Tuesday.

Mrs. Kerr, Berniece King and Mrs. Petty served a chicken dinner to the students and teachers in the hot lunch room Wednesday. School closed Wednesday afternoon with parties and trees with gift exchange held in all the grade rooms and the high school. Mr. and Mrs. Elley left Wednesday evening for Deadwood, S. D., to spend Christmas with their families. Miss Baugh went to her home in York, Miss Stevens to Fullerton, Miss Porter to Ord, Mrs. Hayden to her home in Mira Valley, while Miss Rood, Mrs. Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Cook will enjoy the holiday at home in North Loup.

Sunday visitors at the Carl Wolf home were Mr. and Mrs. Lou Sautter of Scotia and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kingston of Ord. Mr. Wolf is recovering from his accident suffered last week when a horse kicked him while he was picking corn.

Frank Hurley, brother of Mrs. Hemphill and Mrs. Bert Sayre, arrived on the Tuesday morning bus from Humbolt.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

The Ord Quiz:
Once more I will write a few lines to you and all the rest. Wishing you and all the rest a very best of Christmas and New Year greetings. Tell Oscar May he need not think that I am like he said about Pat Fuson. He hasn't anything on me, so I can still say what ever I think without fear of getting balled out for it. I am getting along pretty fair, able to work 6 days a week and like the job and all the bunch I work with. I am getting by fine about our gas rationing. I walk one block, catch the bus and ride to work, only have to go across the street. The only trouble about gas is that the gang I work are trying to work out a plan to ration My Gas. We have had plenty of experiences in blackouts here for more than a week and have regular air raid shelter drills. The gong sounds and every man stops work and marches in orderly manner to an air raid shelter for 30 minutes. Am sending you clippings of the last one. I sure enjoy getting the Ord scandal sheet now. I suppose I am getting out on a limb, anyhow, I still read it. Well I guess enough said for this spasm. I still beg to remain just Plain Old George and wish one and all Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

Hogs Pay Well For Skimmilk

The hogs make a profitable skimmilk market, and Uncle Sam wants hogs about as badly as he wants milk powder. Experiments some years ago at the Indiana Experiment Station proved skimmilk to be the most efficient supplement to shelled corn or corn meal in fattening hogs.

When hogs were fed on corn meal and skimmilk in the Indiana test, they consumed more feed, made a greater increase in live weight with a smaller amount of feed and dry matter, and at less expense than similar lots fed on corn meal supplemented by any one of four other protein supplements. It required only 446 pounds of skimmilk to equal the feeding value of 100 pounds of middlings.

Liquid Protein.
This is significant, because on an average Mississippi Valley farm where six cows are milked and where the milk is separated and sold as cream, there will be a yearly production of approximately 22,200 pounds of skimmilk. This amount of "liquid protein" has a feeding value equivalent to two and one-half tons of middlings.

Skimmilk cannot be excelled as a means of promoting rapid growth and providing health-protecting food elements, and as a supplement to cereal grain products. It supplies the protein lacking in corn, barley, waste wheat and many prepared meals. With pigs in the earliest stages of growth after weaning, the proportion of skimmilk to grain may well be larger than in the more mature periods.

Under practical farming conditions the amount of skimmilk fed to each pound of grain naturally depends somewhat on the relative supply of milk and grains. As a general rule, three pounds of skimmilk to one pound of grain or cereal meal produces good results and the ratio "3 of skimmilk to 1 of grain" is easily remembered.

LEGAL NOTICES

In the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF CHARLES GRABOWSKI AND TONE GRABOWSKI, executors, FOR LICENSE TO SELL REAL ESTATE.

Now on this 1st day of December, 1942, this cause came on for hearing upon the petition, under oath, of Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executors of the estate of Kate Grabowski, deceased, praying for license to sell the following described real estate of the said Kate Grabowski, to-wit:

Lot five (5), Block sixteen (16), Original Townsite of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska;

The East one half (E 1/2) of Section thirty-five (35), Township twenty (20), Range sixteen (16), West of the Sixth P. M., Valley County, Nebraska;

The North one half (N 1/2) of Section one (1), Township nineteen (19), Range sixteen (16), West of the Sixth P. M., Valley County, Nebraska, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate, and allowances and costs of administration, for the reason that there is not a sufficient amount of personal property in the possession of the said Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executor, belonging to said estate to pay said debts, fees, allowances and costs.

It is therefore ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before me at chambers in the courthouse of said county in the city of Ord on the 8th day of January, 1943, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to said Charles Grabowski and Tone Grabowski, executors, to sell the above described real estate of said decedent to pay the debts and expenses.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon all persons interested in said estate by causing the same to be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper, printed, published and circulated in said County of Valley.

By the Court,
E. G. Kroger,
District Judge.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, in an action pending therein wherein City of Ord, Nebraska, a municipal corporation, is plaintiff, and Jake Papernik alias Jack P. Papernik is defendant, I will at 2 o'clock p. m. on January 5th, 1943, at the west front door of the court house in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, offer for sale the following real estate, to-wit: Lots 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 11 of Haskell's Addition to Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, and sell the said real estate at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy the amount found due the plaintiff, with costs.

Dated December 2, 1942.
GEORGE S. ROUND,
Sheriff of Valley County,
Nebraska.

County Board Proceedings.

Dec. 14, 1942, 10 o'clock a. m. Meeting called to order by Chairman with supervisors Surchanek, Hansen, Zikmund, Barber, Johnson and Ball present upon roll call, Jablonski being absent.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved as read.

This meeting was called and held for the purpose of hearing upon the 1943 County Budget Document as submitted and on file and for the purpose of hearing complaints or objections thereto, and was held in accordance with the provisions of the Budget Act, on the day and date, and at the time and place stated in the published notice of said hearing.

The following persons, namely: Thos. Borovka, Vincent Vodehnal, Otto Radil, Louis Penas, sr. and Frank Kokes, sr. appeared before the board at the hour set, for the purpose of inquiring into the necessities and purposes of the various amounts set out as requirements under the said Budget. Questions were asked and answered, and the various items of said Budget explained to the satisfaction of those appearing before the board.

At 12:00 o'clock noon, of said date, there being no further business to come before the board, and no complaints or objections to said Budget Document being on file, the said Budget Document was ordered to be retained on file until further and subsequent action thereon as provided by law, and meeting recessed until December 29th, 1942, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., upon motion duly carried. THE FRESHER THE CREAM THE BETTER THE BUTTER

Butter Judges and University Experts Agree—

GOOD BUTTER from FRESH CREAM 1 DAY

GOOD BUTTER from COOLED CREAM 3 DAY

TODAY FINE QUALITY BUTTER

Cream is one of the most perishable crops on the farm. And as a perishable crop it must be handled carefully and speeded to market if it is to bring top prices.

Cream sold for buttermaking is always best when fresh. Each day it is held on the farm lowers the grade. The older cream becomes, the poorer butter it will make. The price paid for cream depends on the kind of butter it will make. If old cream is delivered, the producer takes a loss in receiving a lower price than top quality cream would have brought.

Here is a simple home test which any farmer can use to determine for himself the quality of the cream he offers for sale. Take a small sample of the batch of cream. First smell and taste it for flavor, then swallow it for palatability. If it smells and tastes so good that you are eager to swallow it, then it is a fine grade of cream. If its smell and taste do not tempt you to swallow it, then it cannot be of such good quality and cannot be expected to bring the best price. If it is not even pleasant to the smell, it is unfit for use and it is illegal for it even to be offered for sale.

There is a mistaken idea that so long as cream is sweet it must necessarily be good. Because of this, producers frequently are tempted to hold cream longer in winter than in summer. It is true that deterioration takes place more slowly in low temperatures. Age, however, affects cream in any temperature. Cream may be sweet and still have such old, rancid flavors that it will not be suitable for buttermaking. Cream should be marketed every three days even in winter. This is the only sure way to protect the quality and get top prices.

That's right friends, the Axis smiles on the farmer with poorly fed hogs because they know it will take months longer for the hogs to reach market. Anything that slows down production helps the Axis. Something for the Believe-It-Or-Not department happened to her Sunday, contends Mrs. Farley, mother of Edgar Farley of the Ord high school faculty. Sunday morning she attended church services at the Methodist church and took a bad fall on the icy steps; Sunday evening she attended Christmas services at the Presbyterian church, again the steps were icy and Mrs. Farley fell again. Luckily she suffered only a multitude of bruises from the two accidents.

—Darold Petersen, who recently joined the U. S. army signal corps and by passing a civil service examination qualified for nine months' technical training in the work, has received orders to report next Monday at a school in Aberdeen, S. D. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Petersen, will take him there Sunday. Another Ord man who qualified for a similar course, Syl Furtak, has been ordered to report a week later. Both men will be non-commissioned officers in the signal corps upon completion of the course.

Red Flags On Windmills
Save Fires, Gas, Trucks
Many schemes devised by American farmers help conserve gas and rubber, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports. Red flags flying from the tops of windmills in Furnas county, Nebraska, are typical of this ingenuity. Where trees obscure the view, the flag may be on the mailbox at the edge of the highway.

The farmer on his way to town knows the red flag means, "Stop here, we need service or supplies." The farmer stops, picks up his neighbor's order. In town he may do errands for several flag-waving neighbors, and so makes one trip do the work of several trips.

City Will Start Operating Plant Midnight Dec. 31

George Allen and Crew Work This Week at Overhaul; Burrows New Engineer.

At midnight Thursday, as bells and whistles mark the coming of 1943 and most Ord people either are making merry in celebration of the new year or are sleeping soundly in their homes as usual, the Ord municipal electric plant will be a scene of activity. At that hour a switch will be pulled disconnecting Ord's distribution system from the highline of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district's transmission line and at the same moment Ord's big diesel engines will throw into action, picking up the task of generating electricity for the needs of Ord's citizenry after three years of comparative idleness.

All this week Light Commissioner George Allen and his engineers and linemen have been overhauling the engines, checking switchboards and otherwise getting the plant ready to take up again the task of generating electricity 24 hours every day.

Ord's contract to buy energy will expire at that time and operation of the municipal plant must be resumed.

J. S. Mortensen and Harry Dye, veteran plant engineers who worked on a part-time basis while the diesels were used only for stand-by service, will be back on the job full time again. To take the place of Vern Stark, who is now working in Grand Island, the city will employ Guy Burrows, who has had considerable experience with diesels.

Rationing Board Enlarged, Panel System Installed

Chairman Russell, All Present Members Retained, 4 News Ones Are Named.

Reorganization of the Valley county rationing board on a panel system, made necessary by constant addition of products to the list of things rationed, is announced this week by Ign. Klima, Jr., defense chairman for the county, after conferences with C. H. Bickel, field representative of the OPA for Nebraska.

Remaining as general chairman is Verne W. Russell and Mrs. Grace Sprague is retained as clerk. All members formerly appointed remain on the board, this group including Dr. F. L. Blessing, Will Zablouid, R. E. Teague, J. R. Stoltz and Mrs. William J. Ramsey.

New appointments to the board include Emil Kokes, Frank T. Krikac, J. T. Knezacek and Mrs. Fred L. Stoddard.

At the same time the board has been reorganized on a panel system, with certain products assigned to each panel for attention.

Panel No. 1, in charge of gasoline, tires, bicycles, etc., has Dr. F. L. Blessing as chairman. Will Zablouid and Emil Kokes as other members.

Panel No. 2, in charge of fuel oils, wearing apparel (if rationed later) etc., has R. E. Teague as chairman, J. R. Stoltz and Mrs. Ramsey as other members.

Panel No. 3, in charge of sugar, coffee, foods, etc., has Frank T. Krikac as chairman, J. T. Knezacek and Mrs. Stoddard as other members.

In addition to her duties as clerk Mrs. Sprague will serve as executive secretary of the board.

In notifying Dwight F. Felton, state director of the OPA, of the rationing board's reorganization Chairman Klima pointed out that all persons on the board are "thoroughly qualified, sincere and trustworthy," and that they "well realize the responsibilities and duties involved and the personal contribution they will be making to the war effort."

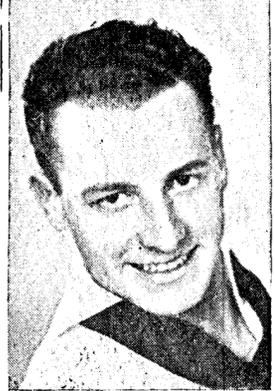

Theron Nolte Serves as New Watermaster

New watermaster for the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district is Theron Nolte, who was promoted from his former position as dragline operator and ditch rider to take the place vacated by G. G. Hollaway.

The Holloway family have moved to the St. Joseph, Mo., region to operate their farm, as their renter has moved to a farm of his own.

Johnnie Paddock Greet Home Folks

To prove that the report of his death about one year ago was greatly exaggerated, Johnnie Paddock was greeting his friends on the Ord streets this past week. He was looking in prime condition.

Johnnie was stationed on the big ship "California" that famous Dec. 7, 1941 of which we read and sing, at Pearl Harbor. First reports in Ord declared Johnnie went down with his ship, on which he had sailed from the west coast to Hawaii. Even the war department thought Johnnie was sunk.

The boat sunk all right, but Johnnie didn't, and now it appears that the "California" has been raised from her watery bed, put in traveling condition and brought Johnnie back to the United States. He was given a ten-day furlough, but had to allow several days for train trips to Ord, and back to port again, so he spent three days in Valley county. John is the son of Mrs. Daisy Paddock.

Ord Cagers Play Arcadia Jan. 8th

With addition of Arcadia to the list of teams Ord will meet, the 1943 schedule is complete, says Coach Roscoe Tolly. The Chanticleers have been inactive since they defeated Burwell in a pre-Christmas game but will resume firing on the Arcadia court Jan. 8. Other games on the schedule include:

Jan. 15—Loup City at Ord.
Jan. 22—Ord at Broken Bow.
Feb. 2—St. Paul at Ord.
Feb. 2—Comstock at Ord.
Feb. 5—Ord at Grand Island.
Feb. 9 to 12—Three Valleys tourney.
Feb. 19—Ord at Burwell.
Feb. 26—Sargent at Ord.
March 3, 4, 5—District tournament.
March 11, 12, 13—State tournament.

New Book Campaign Starting January 5th

Another Victory book campaign, in which the public is asked to contribute interesting and worthwhile books for service men to read, will begin January 5 and continue until March 5. Mrs. C. J. Mortensen has been given notice by Red Cross authorities to see that local efforts for such books are not neglected.

With army and navy forces increasing daily, more and more books are needed, and have been asked for by these men. The United Service Organizations, and the American Library Association are joint sponsors of the campaign with the Red Cross, and will soon announce the name of the chairman who will take charge of the Victory Campaign.

Miss Anna V. Jennings, of Lincoln, will head the Nebraska book-collection work as chairman.

Duck Season Closes, Was Disappointing

The poorest season on waterfowl central Nebraska has had in many years came to a close at sundown on Dec. 23. Seventy days long, the open season brought few birds down the Loup rivers and provided little shooting for nimrods anywhere in Nebraska. On the contrary, South Dakota hunters had their best waterfowl shooting in a decade.

The weather and a change in the flight habits of ducks and geese due to establishment of reservoirs in west central Nebraska are blamed by local hunters for the poor sport they had this season. And with gasoline rationed and shotgun shells not on the shelves of dealers, there will be little duck hunting until the war ends.

General Rationing of Canned Foods to Start in February

Only Half as Much Available Wickard Points Out; Meat Rationing Coming.

Civilians will have available only a little more than half as much canned fruits and vegetables as they have consumed in recent years and therefore over 200 kinds of foods ranging from applesauce to canned soup must be rationed during 1943, said Claude Wickard, secretary of agriculture, in a radio address Sunday night. This general food rationing program will start in February, he said.

With a few exceptions, all canned and dried fruits and vegetables and soups will require ration coupon "points" for civilian purchase.

A point system of rationing similar to England's will be used by means of the new war ration book No. 2. Each individual will have a certain number of points to spend each month. In buying a can of corn, for example, the purchaser will give the grocer a coupon carrying the "point value" fixed for corn at time of the purchase.

The long list of processed foods that will join sugar and coffee among foodstuffs under rationing. Meat and certain fats such as butter, lard and vegetable shortenings and food oils will be added to the ration list very soon, it is promised.

Vern W. Russell, chairman of the Valley county rationing board, said Tuesday that he has no information on the coming program other than was contained in Mr. Wickard's radio speech and since released to the press, but he expects to receive instructions soon. The new war ration books are now being printed and early in February the exact date to be announced later—these books will be issued to the public.

"Next year our armed forces and our fighting allies will need about a quarter of all the food we produce," said Wickard in his radio talk to the nation. Civilians will not get as much of every kind of food as they want, he said, and though there may not be much pleasure in eating there will be enough food for an adequate diet for all.

Before the new rationing program starts, retail sales will be suspended briefly as war don't with coffee, to permit dealers to stock up. The OPA warns that in registering for the new ration books the public will have to declare all rationed fruits and vegetables in their cupboard and that stamps will be deducted accordingly. There is thus no incentive for people to hoard these vital foods during the period before rationing goes into effect. Penalties ranging up to $10,000 fine and ten years' imprisonment are provided for false declarations, the OPA says.

Fresh fruits and vegetables, and those canned or otherwise preserved at home are left free from rationing and need not be declared. To show the coming food shortage Wickard said that "on the average 33 pounds of canned, frozen and dried fruits and vegetables are expected to be available for each civilian in 1943 as compared with an average of about 46 pounds per year from 1937 to 1941."

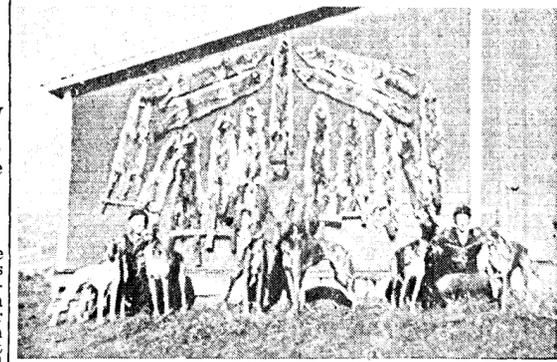

Processed foods to be rationed include all canned and bottled fruits and fruit juices, all canned and bottled vegetables, baby foods, vegetable juices and combinations, canned soups of all types, all dried, dehydrated fruits such as prunes, raisins, etc., all frozen fruits and vegetables.

Exempted from rationing are candied fruits, chili con carne, frozen fruits in containers over 10 pounds, fruit cakes, fruit juices in containers over one gallon, fruit puddings, jams, jellies, meat stews containing some vegetables, olives, paste products such as macaroni and spaghetti, pickles, potato salad, preserves, relishes and vegetable juices in containers over one gallon. On the rationed list, however, are all tomato products including catsup and chili sauce.

Employed as Engineer.

New assistant engineer in the employ of the North and Middle Loup irrigation districts is K. S. Essex, formerly of Bridgeport, who assumed his duties last week and will be located at Arcadia, though he will work jointly for both districts. He has been employed by the state irrigation bureau for the past five years.

George Munn accompanied Fred W. Coe to Omaha Sunday and has been attending the Nebraska Bar convention there.

17 Coyotes Caught by Trojan Netted $100

A profitable investment and not a hobby is the way Joe Trojan, of Comstock, describes his ownership of a pack of fine hounds, and he submits this photo as proof. Since Nov. 1 his hounds have caught seventeen coyotes whose hides sold for over $100, says Mr. Trojan. In this picture with the hounds are the three Trojan boys, Charlie, Frank and Leonard.

1943 License Tags Attach to '42 Plates

County Treasurer George A. Satterfield began issuing the new 1943 auto license tags Saturday and about thirty-five were issued that day, with more going out every day this week. To save steel, the new licenses are in the form of a tag about 2 inches square bearing the numerals "43" and are to be bolted on over the numerals "42" on the plates now in use. The farm truck and trailer tags are even smaller than the tags used on passenger car plates.

Tax Collections Best in Years - Satterfield

Valley county people are more prosperous than last year as evidenced by the increase in early payment of taxes, says George A. Satterfield, county treasurer. In November and December of 1941 only about $38,000 was paid on the new taxes coming due, whereas in November and December of this year about $60,000 has been paid in new taxes. Increased payment of delinquent taxes also is noted.

Social and Personal

Married in Des Moines. The marriage of Miss Evelyn Rothfus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rothfus of Des Moines, Ia., and Lloyd H. Marks, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Marks, of Ord, took place Dec. 5, at eight p. m. at the Avon church.

Terence Rosene of Des Moines sang a solo preceding the ceremony accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Earl Griffin of Avon Lake, who also played the wedding march.

The Rev. Oesterhoff of Scotch Ridge performed the ceremony and the couple was attended by Miss Dorothy Daugherty of Des Moines and Norval Marks of Avon Lake.

The bride wore a gold crepe dress with a white gardenia corsage and the maid of honor wore a blue crepe dress with a pink rose corsage.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents with numerous relatives and friends attending. Out-of-town guests were the groom's mother, Mrs. J. Z. Marks of Ord, and his brother, Pvt. Donald Marks of Camp Cooke, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Marks have an apartment in Des Moines where they will live while he is employed at the Ankeny ordnance plant.

Satterfield Guests.

For Christmas, guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Satterfield, also his sister, Mrs. Miles Ferguson and Mr. Ferguson and their little son Jerry Mack, all of whom live in Taylor.

Guests for Christmas.

Christmas day guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kokes were Mrs. Kokes' brother, Dr. R. A. Hamsa and family of Scotia. This was also the wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Hamsa. In the evening other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Syl Furtak, Mrs. Joe Pecenka and Otto Pecenka.

Christmas Visitors.

Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger and family at their home southeast of Ord were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kovanda and Elizabeth and Keith Kovanda.

Family Reunion Held.

A family reunion was held at the Jess Freeman home on Christmas day, with the whole family present including Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rieck and boys, of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Freeman and baby, Donald Lagay, Ilene and Betty, of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hughes and family, and home members of family, 25 in all. An enjoyable time was had exchanging gifts and a bounteous feast of turkey, duck and chicken was served.

At Crosbys.

Guests at a Christmas spread at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion F. Crosby were Mrs. A. W. Cornell and Mrs. Bess Petty.

P. E. O. Musicals.

For the second year P. E. O. ladies had a delightful concert principally given by children of members, with Mrs. A. W. Cornell chairman of arrangements. Held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. C. J. Miller, Mary Miller, music student at the Colorado Women's college, played several fine piano numbers. Miss Dorothy Auble sang, and Miss Beverly Davis, University of Nebraska student home for the holidays, also sang. Madams Clarence Davis and Mark Tolen sang together. Miss Phyllis Hill played her trumpet, accompanied by Miss Audrey Koll at the piano. Madams Glen Auble and James Ollis played the piano in duet.

Although refreshments are not usual, since it was the Christmas season Mrs. Miller, assisted by Mrs. E. S. Murray, had arranged pleasing refreshments. A beautiful table decoration was fashioned from a small Santa and his reindeers, with tall red tapers on guard. Mrs. Richard Lahr, the former Barbara Dale, was an out-of-town guest for the occasion.

At Dendinger Home.

Ord and Burwell People Hoping for Mail Improvement

Jeffres Agreed to Establish Morning Star Route but No Action Taken Yet.

Among the changes 1943 will bring, Ord and Burwell people hope, is improved mail service in the morning. For more than six months the two communities have been petitioning postal officials for a change but it has been slow in coming.

During the pre-Christmas rush the Union Pacific freight which hauls mail to Ord arrived close to the noon hour almost every day, which meant that people on city and rural routes couldn't get their mail in many cases until mid-afternoon or later. Burwell people living on star routes didn't get their mail until the next day.

When the Christmas rush ended some improvement was hoped for but the freight arrived at 10:30 to 11 o'clock Monday and Tuesday also, thus running two hours or more behind schedule.

E. H. Jeffres, chief clerk of the railway mail service in this district, agreed early in December to establish between Jan. 1 and 10 a morning star route arriving in Ord at 8:00 a. m. but no action to establish such service has been taken yet, according to Postmaster A. L. Hill. Petitions signed by about 600 Ord patrons and a large number of Burwell patrons requesting such a change were sent in some time ago.

Both communities feel they are entitled to two incoming and two outgoing mails daily, as they have had most of the time during the past forty years. Latest suggestion by Mr. Jeffres is that the communities consent to a change to star route service in the morning, which would bring the mail in on time, but content themselves with only one incoming and one outgoing mail each day through discontinuance of present afternoon service. The Ord Chamber of Commerce, which has been taking the lead in negotiations with the postoffice department, no doubt will oppose this plan.

Several alternate suggestions have been made to give the North Loup valley twice-daily service with little increase in expense and these will be conveyed to Mr. Jeffres at once with the hope that betterment in mail service may come soon.

Sportsmen Asked to Return Information

Pheasant hunters and other Nebraska sportsmen are cooperating in a game-bird survey being conducted over the state. More than 28,148 pheasants, quail, and chukar partridge have been liberated in 70 of the state's 93 counties this year, each bearing a numbered band on one leg.

Conducted by the Game, Forestation and Parks commission, Pittman-Robertson division, the survey will help determine how long the bird lives and how far it traveled from point of release before being killed. Other information to be recorded will show whether the bird was killed by sportsmen, weather, predator, automobiles, or by some other means.

Some information has already been obtained on birds killed by weather and automobiles, but not nearly enough to present any definite conclusions. Most of the bands are found on pheasants brought down by sportsmen during the open season which this year extended from October 15 to November 2 and from November 19 to November 30.

The results of the survey will be of benefit to sportsmen as the findings will determine future stocking policies. It is not necessary to return the band. Only the number on the band, the kind of bird, sex if known, cause of death, and date and location where the bird was taken or found is needed. This information should be sent direct to the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks commission at Lincoln, or it may be given direct to any of the conservation officers or field workers of the commission.

Karre Buys DeHart Land.

A deal was closed last week in which Dick Karre became owner of the William DeHart tract of land south of Ord, about 75 acres, and will occupy it in the near future. Mr. Karre has been operating the Weller ranch north of Ord and will hold a clean-up sale Jan. 18, which will be one of the big ones of the season.

Plan Dedication of Heroes' Plaque New Year's Eve

85 Fort Crook Army Officers to Assist in Unveiling C. of C. Memorial.

Plans have been completed for the unveiling and dedication of the war heroes' memorial plaque erected at the west entrance to the court house this chamber under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce, and the dedication will take place at 9:10 o'clock New Year's eve—Thursday, Dec. 31.

Eighty-five army officers from Fort Crook, who will be here that night while on sand hill war maneuvers, will take part in the dedication, announces O. J. Mortensen, president of the Chamber.

The plaque was designed, painted and erected by Sylvester Furtak and contains the names of 380 Valley county men and women now serving their country in the armed forces and space was left for approximately 150 more names. The plaque was erected Monday but has been covered until the official dedication Thursday evening.

At 9:00 New Year's eve the visiting army officers will march from the high school building to the business district, led by the Ord high school band, and at 9:10 the program will open with "America" played by the band. Dr. F. L. Blessing will serve as master of ceremonies, introducing Mr. Mortensen who will make the official presentation upon behalf of the Chamber. Mayor M. B. Cummins will make an acceptance speech for the city of Ord and Lieut. Lee Huff, Jr., commander of the visiting army group, will make the principal address. The national anthem will be played by the band to close the dedication program.

The public is invited to attend this patriotic program and it is hoped that many will respond. The plaque is designed to honor every Valley county person now serving his country, or who in future becomes a member of the armed services. Names on the plaque were compiled from the records of the Valley county selective service office and will be kept up to date in accordance with these office records.

After the dedication program Thursday night the Fort Crook officers and all service men home on furlough will be guests of the American Legion at a dance in the Bohemian hall. The public is invited to attend this dance also.

Lets' Go Friends! IT'S 1943!

By the time most of you read this little message 1943 will have dawned and we will be embarking upon a new year.

Despite the shortages of labor and of supply with which we are confronted we face 1943 with confidence.

Thank you, friends, for the patronage you gave us in 1942, which enabled our business to show its biggest increase. We hope to see you soon and often now that a new year has dawned.

North Side Market

HERE'S WHAT YOUR VALLEY CO. AAA BOARD SAYS ABOUT THE SHORTAGE OF NEW FARM MACHINERY AND THE NECESSITY FOR GETTING VITAL REPAIRS NOW - THIS WINTER!

Your Valley County AAA Committee urges all farmers to get their machinery in shape now to plant, tend and harvest their crops for 1943. We have the amount of new machinery that will be allotted to Valley County and it is so small that it is not worth talking about, for example, we will get one manure spreader, one combine, two grain binders, two hammer grinders, and one corn sheller. Now there are some machines that we will have in considerable numbers, 23 cultivators and 7 discs, but we will have orders for many times the number that we will receive. We have been assured that we will be able to get enough parts if we order them in time. Let's make sure that we order what we need NOW. Take those parts to the blacksmith or welder that you expect him to repair now when he has some spare time.

Production goals have been set for our county. It is our duty to do everything in our power to meet their goals or better still, go above them. To do this we must get the most possible out of our machinery, fix those parts that we now need repaired. There will be many parts break or wear out that we thought were good for much more wear.

Goals have been set for Nebraska and our Valley county goal will soon be released. It will be higher than last year's goals, higher with less labor and less machinery. We will, with favorable conditions, meet our goals and go beyond them. We don't want our boys at the front to want for food. We will do our part, repair our machinery, meet or go beyond the goals and work as we have never worked. We can and we will.

IN APPRECIATION OF YOUR 1942 PATRONAGE

We want to wish all of you a Happy New Year and thank you for the wonderful patronage you gave us throughout 1942. We will try our utmost to take care of all your needs during 1943 and will appreciate your cooperation.

O. A. Kellison Implements

Ord, Nebraska

BUT YOU MUST GET THEM NOW!

Right now we have the biggest stock of repair parts that we ever had but can't anticipate all the needs that are certain to arise when planting and harvesting times come, nor could any dealer. It can't be done.

We urge, therefore, that you look over all your farm equipment NOW and order immediately the parts that you know you are going to need. If we can get that much of the job out of the way early we will then endeavor to carry in stock a large enough supply to take care of all needs that cannot be anticipated now.

Even though the WPB has allotted 130 per cent of normal steel for repairs that doesn't mean that we, as a dealer, can buy all the parts we can pay for simply to pile on our shelves. We can get all the parts for which we can show an actual need and for which we can sign a certificate of war necessity. That is why we ask you, in your own interests and in the interests of meeting production goals for Victory, to look over your machinery now and order parts at once. Have your overhauling done during January and February. Have your blacksmithing and welding done early. Anticipate your requirements as much as possible for you'll have to make your present machinery last.

Lets' Go Friends! IT'S 1943!

By the time most of you read this little message 1943 will have dawned and we will be embarking upon a new year.

Despite the shortages of labor and of supply with which we are confronted we face 1943 with confidence.

Thank you, friends, for the patronage you gave us in 1942, which enabled our business to show its biggest increase. We hope to see you soon and often now that a new year has dawned.

HERE'S WHAT YOUR VALLEY CO. AAA BOARD SAYS ABOUT THE SHORTAGE OF NEW FARM MACHINERY AND THE NECESSITY FOR GETTING VITAL REPAIRS NOW - THIS WINTER!

Your Valley County AAA Committee urges all farmers to get their machinery in shape now to plant, tend and harvest their crops for 1943. We have the amount of new machinery that will be allotted to Valley County and it is so small that it is not worth talking about, for example, we will get one manure spreader, one combine, two grain binders, two hammer grinders, and one corn sheller. Now there are some machines that we will have in considerable numbers, 23 cultivators and 7 discs, but we will have orders for many times the number that we will receive. We have been assured that we will be able to get enough parts if we order them in time. Let's make sure that we order what we need NOW. Take those parts to the blacksmith or welder that you expect him to repair now when he has some spare time. Production goals have been set for our county. It is our duty to do everything in our power to meet their goals or better still, go above them. To do this we must get the most possible out of our machinery, fix those parts that we now need repaired. There will be many parts break or wear out that we thought were good for much more wear. Goals have been set for Nebraska and our Valley county goal will soon be released. It will be higher than last year's goals, higher with less labor and less machinery. We will, with favorable conditions, meet our goals and go beyond them. We don't want our boys at the front to want for food. We will do our part, repair our machinery, meet or go beyond the goals and work as we have never worked. We can and we will.

RATIONED?
Not
FARM MACHINERY REPAIRS!

BUT YOU MUST GET THEM NOW!

Right now we have the biggest stock of repair parts that we ever had but can't anticipate all the needs that are certain to arise when planting and harvesting times come, nor could any dealer. It can't be done.

We urge, therefore, that you look over all your farm equipment NOW and order immediately the parts that you know you are going to need. If we can get that much of the job out of the way early we will then endeavor to carry in stock a large enough supply to take care of all needs that cannot be anticipated now.

Even though the WPB has allotted 130 per cent of normal steel for repairs that doesn't mean that we, as a dealer, can buy all the parts we can pay for simply to pile on our shelves. We can get all the parts for which we can show an actual need and for which we can sign a certificate of war necessity. That is why we ask you, in your own interests and in the interests of meeting production goals for Victory, to look over your machinery now and order parts at once. Have your blacksmithing and welding done early. Anticipate your requirements as much as possible for you'll have to make your present machinery last.

tractedly spotted fever and subsequently spent two months in the hospital. His ship is now in Mare Island awaiting repairs. Carl Augustyn in Navy.

Farragut, Ida.—From now on, Carl John Augustyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Augustyn, Rt. 1, Elyria, Nebr., will be a bluejacket in the U. S. Navy. He reported here this week as a naval recruit and will be taught the fundamentals of seamanship at the U. S. Naval Training Station located here on the shores of Lake Pend Orelle, one of the largest fresh water lakes in the country.

—Mrs. Edith Jones has a letter from her brother, Pat, who is in Honolulu, saying that he learns from the Quiz that John Ward lives only two blocks north of him there. Pat is in the construction gang, working on the naval air base there, deciding if the army wouldn't take him he could help with war work and do a bit of traveling too, in the work crew. Although he likes it he isn't so fond of having everything rationed, and having to go to the movies in the daytime because of the many blackouts.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Refrigerators are out for the duration. Manufacturers have now toiled their plants for production of war materials. Common-sense-folk, however, are saving now, not spending, and building up a fund for purchase of refrigerators and other domestic needs through investment in U. S. War Bonds.

Your Money put into War Bonds today will bring you back $4 for $3 at maturity. So start saving for those domestic needs when you will be permitted to buy them. Join the Payroll Savings Plan at your office or factory and let's all "Top that Ten Percent."

STORZ NEVER CUTS CORNERS—THEY USE THE BEST MATERIALS AND BEST BREWING METHODS

STORZ REALLY KNOWS HOW—THE STORZ FAMILY HAS BEEN BREWING CHAMPION BEER SINCE 1876

Quality Scores Again for Storz

Another year ends with Storz way out in the lead—over 2 to 1 favorite in Nebraska by the official records. That means just one thing, Nebraskans like that extra quality and "know how" that goes into Storz.

Storz has been brewing fine beer for a good many years. Long ago we learned there is no short cut to quality. Storz uses the best of grain—no substitutes, premium hops, the old, proven brewing methods made better by the most modern equipment and science. This all adds up to a fine, slow-aged flavor folks like so well that Storz leads in sales, by more than 2 to 1, year after year. When you buy, ask for Storz, the beer everybody likes.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovando

Last spring one of our agricultural students, Joe Cain, borrowed sixty dollars to invest in a purebred sow. She farrowed seven pigs, losing one, and saving six.

Joe was somewhat disappointed, as a litter of six is considered too small for much profit, especially when one pig is a runt. But Joe is no quitter, so he took good care of the porkers, and raised them all to market age.

Joe now estimates his profit at $125.63, after paying off the note with interest and a hundred dollars for feed. He also has some prizes that he won at the fair.

Meanwhile, the old sow has brought forth another litter. She did better this time, farrowing nine. He expects her to produce a third litter next spring. Two of his best gilts are also bred for spring pigs.

Joe made money on the first litter because he was able to sell three young boars for fancy prices. That is easy to do at present, since the demand exceeds the supply. Never before have grain prices been so favorable toward feeding hogs.

Pigs have always been popular for several reasons. They use less feed to make a pound of meat than other animals. They multiply faster, are more adaptable, and give a quicker turnover than other livestock.

In the afternoon the younger Hastings drove to Arcadia with Mr. Hastings, sr., visiting there that evening too.

Rotary Ann Night.

Rotarians entertained their wives at a holiday dinner party Monday evening at Thorne's Cafe, with Ralph Misko presiding. Covers were laid for 57. After the banquet Mrs. J. A. Kovanda gave excerpts from the delightful book "When We Were Young and Gay," written by Cornelia Otis Skinner and her friend.

Jillson-Blessing.

Paul Blessing of Ord, son of Clarence Blessing, took Miss Juanita Jillson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minard J. Jillson of Dalton, for his bride on Sunday, December 20 at a three o'clock ceremony in the Presbyterian church of York, Nebr. Rev. Kenneth Reeves officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The new Mrs. Blessing attended Kearney college and has been teaching in the Greeley, Nebr., schools. For her wedding costume she chose a two piece white wool suit of tailored lines, wearing gold accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Her maid of honor, Miss Betty Jean Siefert of Dalton, wore a street length dress in the new white, with a corsage of American Beauty roses. Best man was Charles Brugh, jr., of York. Miss Gladee Carter of Grand Island sang "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. Arnold Refshauge and Miss Marie Refshauge accompanying on violin and piano. Preceding the ceremony Miss Gladys Pearson played traditional wedding music at the pipe organ; during the ceremony she played softly "O Perfect Love." The church decorations were candelabra and poinsettias.

On Saturday evening a pre-nuptial dinner for the bridal party was given by Rev. and Mrs. Reeves at their home. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Refshauge entertained the wedding party at dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Blessing came to Ord Saturday for a brief visit. After the holidays Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blessing went to Kewanee, Ill., where he is assistant to Coach H. F. Brockman, formerly of Ord. He has been a member of the faculty there since graduating from Kearney Teachers college. Born and raised in Ord, a football star well known over this part of the state, a member of an old Ord family, Paul and his bride receive many good wishes from Nebraska.

Christmas Guests.

Mrs. Olive Marquardt and Mrs. C. C. Brown invited her sister, Mrs. Will Stanton and Mr. Stanton and their grandson, Arthur White, also Harry Dye and Mrs. Mable Weare to have Christmas dinner with them.

Anderson Guests.

On Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson invited his parents from Burwell, also Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hohn, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecll Clark to come over in the morning and see the little girls open their presents and have dinner with them.

Will Wed Soon.

Announcement is made of the coming marriage of Lloyd Jensen of Ord, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McKay, who will marry Miss Anna Karloff at Yutan, Neb., on January 2. Lloyd graduated from the Ord high school about five years ago, and has been employed at the Martin bomber plant at Omaha for some time. He makes his home at Bellevue and will take his bride there. Miss Karloff is employed in an Omaha office. Lloyd came home Dec. 23rd and visited until Christmas day, when he had to return to his duties.

Judge Marries Couple.

Ben Tyrdik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tyrdik, and Miss Lillian Proskoch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Proskoch, were united in marriage Monday morning by Judge John L. Andersen. Both parties are from the Comstock community.

Travis Family Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Travis were Christmas dinner hosts, asking Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Alquist and Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hill and children Phyllis and Don, also Mr. Travis, sr. For New Year's dinner the family will be guests of the Alquist family at their country home.

James' Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James have nine children, but none of them were going to be in Ord for Christmas with them. So Mr. and Mrs. James invited Dr. and Mrs. George Parkins to be their guests. But on Christmas eve the James family's youngest, Robert surprised his parents and said that he simply had to come home for Christmas. He had been visiting his sister Alice and family at Auburn for the past few days, and assisting with the work at the variety store they operate.

Auble Reunion.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen Auble were hosts at one of the larger family parties for seven o'clock dinner on Christmas day, with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Auble, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Auble, Mr. and Mrs. William Schudel, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens, and Mrs. W. L. D. Auble present, as well as younger members of their families. Miss Myrtle Auble of Ogden, U., and Miss Ruth Auble of Omaha were home for brief Christmas visits and were present, as were Miss Dorothy Auble who teaches at Utica and Miss Irene Auble of Hastings.

Walter Coats' are Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dye and family were invited to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coats Sunday evening, since the Dyes had gone elsewhere for Christmas dinner. So they had two Christmas dinners.

Polak Family Dinner.

Burwell News

Written by Mrs. Anton Zalud.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the home of Mayor and Mrs. H. A. Phillipps of Burwell Christmas eve at six-thirty o'clock when their elder daughter June Marie became the bride of Second Lieutenant Archie Harding Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell of Taylor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Allen Strong of Taylor, a brother-in-law of the groom. The bride was attractive in an afternoon dress of black velvet, trimmed with white and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridegroom wore his army officer's uniform. Miss Luella Campbell served as maid of honor and Dale Phillipps was the best man. Immediately following the ceremony a buffet supper was held. Besides the immediate family, the guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Campbell and two children, Rev. and Mrs. Allen Strong and family, and Miss Luella Campbell of Taylor. The bride, who was born and reared at Burwell has many friends who wish her much happiness in marriage. She graduated from the Burwell high school last June and since then has been secretary for Judge B. A. Rose and Attorney W. F. Manasll. The groom grew up near Taylor and after graduating from the Taylor high school taught three successful terms of school. He was inducted into the army last June and recently graduated from an officers' training school at Camp Davis, N. C. He reported for duty Monday morning at Camp Stewart, near Savannah, Ga. Mrs. Campbell plans to join her husband in Georgia as soon as suitable arrangements can be made.

Christmas eve Charles Smith received a cablegram from his son Jim Smith, who is in Australia, stating that he is alive and well. Jim was one of the first Garfield county boys to land in Australia. He sent his father $300 and Mr. Smith immediately bought bonds for his son with the money.

Mrs. Carmen Hornby came from Lincoln last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Laverty. She was accompanied by her daughter June and the Misses Marie Malicky, Marguerite Grunkemeyer, Ethel Howard and Betty Horner. The entire party excepting Miss June left Monday for Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Partridge and family of Kearney spent Christmas in Burwell and remained until the following Tuesday. The family Christmas dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Brenneman.

Christmas day guests at the Earl Meyers farm home arrived at an early hour Friday morning from Sidney. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Nott and small daughter Helen Kay and Miss Helen Meyers, also Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cowley and son. They remained until Sunday and Miss Helen Meyers returned with them. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Don Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Demaree visited at the Earl Meyers home.

Mrs. Everett Young and baby, who live east of Burwell, spent several days last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bales. Mrs. Young returned home Thursday as her any more money for me, but it might lead to something worth while in time. The personnel of the shop is changing all the time, but I do not think I will be sent anywhere else, as I seem to fit the job, and I am delivering the goods.

Yours truly,
John L. Ward

Tell that Hank Stara 'ed better get out here pretty soon. I have been looking for him every time a new bunch arrives. If he don't come, my advice to Mary is to kick him out and make him come. We haven't a single Bohemian in camp, so far as I know, and a red headed Bohemian would certainly be a curiosity. We could put him in a cage and charge the warden a dollar each to look at him. He ought to be good for at least a hundred bucks a week, just as a curiosity.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Honolulu, Hawaii, Box 28,
Navy Cantonment 3.
H. D. Leggett.

Dear Sir: Your letter was put in the box here Saturday evening and I got it Sunday, just a week from the time it was sent. The paper has not yet arrived, but will doubtless take a great deal longer, as that type of mail has to wait a long time this time of the year. I planned to send you another photo this time, and it may get back from the shop before this is mailed.

I showed your letter to all the boys in the shop, and all the boys here at home read it also. It would have done you good to see how they enjoyed a letter from the States, even if they did not know any of the people or events you mentioned. They read it and asked all kinds of questions about everything you told about. Richard Shun Loy Ching, the Chinese boss, kept me busy answering questions, and asked for a description of you. To tell the truth, I couldn't cite him any comparisons, as there isn't a man in the whole cantonment, possibly in Honolulu as well, who is that large.

There are plenty of small men here, most of them of the average size, and a very few who will weigh over two hundred pounds. There are a surprisingly large number of very tall men, running all the way from six feet up to six feet eight inches. Most of these are here because their draft boards refused to take them into the army because of height, and they wanted to do something to help out, especially at ten bucks a day or more.

Well, the secret is out at last, and now everybody knows what the people of Hawaii have known for a long time, and which I knew only a few days after I arrived. I refer to the government's report on the losses here at Pearl Harbor last Dec. 7. I can also say now that there is still much evidence remaining of the terrible bombardment of that time, but, thank the Lord and pass the ammunition, those scars are being obliterated rapidly. By this time, next year there should not be a single one remaining to remind the people here of that fateful day, the day that Japan signed her own death warrant.

If you don't believe it, I can tell you that the people here are backing the war with their work and also with their money. You may have heard that we had a special bond sale for Dec. 7, 1942. The papers here boosted it to the limit, and it was hoped that we might realize one million dollars in the drive. Now that the smoke of the contest has cleared away, it is apparent that the total will reach five millions, which is some amount of money any way you look at it.

As I write this I stop from time to time to kill mosquitoes as they fly past me in the air. They are the meanest thing we have to contend with here, even worse than the mud, but I do not recall killing many mosquitoes in the air that way at home. They usually are too active for that. Speaking of rain, we are getting plenty of it now, and I guess the information will pass the censors, as it will be a long time before it arrives in Ord. Of course no weather information is given out here, as that would be of value to the enemy.

Impossible incidents happen almost every day, it seems, and I happen to be in on some of them. For example, on the evening of Oct. 16 I stood beside a man and visited while we watched a softball game. We then walked down the street together until we arrived at the place where he lived. I asked him his name and found out it was Robert Markland Mercer. I decided he must be a relative, and asked him about his ancestors. His father's grandfather was named Thomas Lee Mercer, and, unless I am greatly mistaken, this same man was my mother's grandfather. He was called away a few days later and I did not get to see him again.

A fellow in the supper line Sunday evening asked me where I was from, and said he knew an attorney named Alvin Lee, who formerly lived at Ord. It seems that Lee went to Seattle, Wash., where he built up a fine business in a suburb known as the Greenwood district, and this man, Allen Folkes, knew him there. He was a very popular man, and was elected secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. When he was called into the service they gave him a gold watch with his name engraved on it. He is in the intelligence department and located in a west coast city. I know the name, but it would be detected, so I leave it out. I am sure Mr. Lee's many friends will be glad to hear this short resume of his recent activities.

Although we are located only a mile or so from Pearl Harbor, you will note by the address that we are in Honolulu. In fact, there is no postoffice named Pearl Harbor. From here, and stretching around the shore in a moon shape to Diamond Head, ten miles to the southeast, it is all Honolulu. If Ord and North Loup were on the north side of the river, using the river as the shore line and the country to the south as ocean, then Ord would be our cantonment, and Diamond Head would be at North Loup. That will give you some idea of the size of the city, but I can hardly give you a picture of the beauty of the trees, the yards and gardens and the fields. To complete the picture, there are the loveliest mountains you ever saw stretching in the direction of Haskell Creek, more mountains northeast of North Loup, and a valley between, represented by Elm Creek, along which the highway to Wahiawa runs.

I am still in the sign shop, and am slated to take charge in case the Chinese now in charge is sent elsewhere, as he probably will be soon. It will not mean

GRADING OF CREAM TO BENEFIT ALL U. S.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS SAY: Quality Butter begins with Carefulness

GOOD BUTTER

SATISFIED CUSTOMER

MORE BUTTER USED

☆☆ Good Butter Will Help Win the War ☆☆☆

American butter, already rated as the finest in the world, is to have its quality lifted still further. The new federal food act, supported by cream-grading laws in many states and by all elements of the dairy industry from farmer to manufacturer, makes this a certainty.

The new law has given impetus to the grading of cream similar to grades on which most other farm crops are sold. The supporting state statutes are intended to benefit the farmer who complies with their provisions and to penalize the farmer who is producing unfit cream because he will not go to the trouble of taking necessary sanitary precautions which would insure a better quality product.

Cream-grading laws usually provide that if a farmer's cream grades No. 1, it will command a higher price because it can be made into first-grade butter. If cream were not so graded, the farmer who produced top quality cream would get no more than his careless neighbor who produced an inferior grade. The same laws prevent No. 2 cream from being mixed with No. 1, because when this is done, the quality of the butter made from it is all pulled down and everyone concerned suffers a loss. One can of poor cream can spoil a good many cans of top quality if they are all mixed together.

If the cream is grading under No. 1, it is certain that the farmer submitting it is not observing all the principles of sanitation, quick cooling and frequent marketing. A change in his production or delivery practices will soon furnish the remedy. The farmer's income will be steadied and he who exercises careful production and handling will then reap the rewards of his special attention and industry.
