$197,513 County's War Bond Total at End of Drive

Folks Responded Generously Closing Days, $35,000 of State Funds Allotted.

Valley county went over the top in its campaign to meet a quota of $135,800 in the 2nd War Bond drive.

The drive closed Saturday night and sales totaled $197,513. This total, however, included $35,000 allotted to Valley county by the state of Nebraska, which purchased 11 million dollars worth of bonds and divided the credit among the counties of the state.

Thus, actual sales of bonds locally totaled $162,513, or almost $27,000 above the quota assigned to this county.

Bond sales were lagging last Wednesday but when citizens realized that Valley county would be disgraced if the drive failed of its quota they immediately got busy and bought almost fifty thousand dollars' worth of bonds in the last three days of the week.

Most popular were the regular "Series E" bonds, reports John P. Misko, who was in direct charge of the selling campaign. Total of "E" bonds sold was $109,249.50. Sales of "G" bonds amounted to $22,200, of 2 percent bonds to $20,500, of "F" bonds to $8,463.50 and of tax notes to $3,100.

Sales at the various agencies handling bonds in this county are reported as follows: North Loup postoffice—$6,312.50.

Arcadia bank and postoffice—$18,411.00.

Ord postoffice—$5,756.25.

Nebraska State bank—$67,273.

First National bank—$59,408.50.

National Farm Loan association—$5,351.75.

The North Loup and Arcadia sales do not accurately portray bond buying in those communities as many bonds were sold by Ord institutions to Arcadia, North Loup and Elyria people.

Mr. Misko expressed satisfaction over the way bonds were bought last week. "If our people had bought bonds throughout the campaign as they did in the last three days our total would have reached a million dollars," he said.

Purchases by banks do not count toward the county quota but it is believed Valley county financial institutions bought about a half million dollars' worth.

Another bond campaign is expected next fall, probably in September.

Yesterday Chairman Clement, of the USDA war board, expressed satisfaction at the way the farmers as well as town people bought bonds last week. On the whole he feels that farmers are buying to the limit of their ability, although he admits knowing of a few individual cases that make him "a bit hot under the collar," as he expresses it.

A tabulation of pledges by farmers shows that if all are fulfilled the county will far exceed the $200,000 quota expected by June 30, without taking into account the $35,000 state purchase credited here.

Idle Acres Help Enemy

The patch of ground that could produce food but is not in production is doing its bit for the enemy, believes Joe Ramaekers, County Farm Security supervisor for Valley county. Its failure to produce robs America and the Allies of just that much food energy and makes it just a speck easier for Japan, Germany and Italy to fight us effectively.

Idle acres is a name applied to productive land not in production, or only in partial production due to "scratch farming" practices. Valley county has its quota of such acres, according to reports received from farmers who are lining up to put these acres to work. Perhaps the farmer himself is the only one who knows about his idle acres. Maybe his neighbors know about them. Ramaekers believes there are hundreds of idle acres in this county—acres wholly or partially idle. The state total runs into hundreds of thousands of acres. Every idle acre is a potential threat to the success of the war effort.

Although idle acres constitute a national problem, they are first of all a local problem. Connection of the evil is entirely local, a problem for the home folks to take care of. The farmer himself has the best chance to hange idle acres into fighting acres.

The Secretary of Agriculture has asked each community to help fight the idle acre menace. All member agencies of the war board, the extension agent, FSA county supervisor, Soil Conservation Service, Federal Land Bank and AAA are helping in the program.

The entire program must have the help of every citizen, Ramaekers said. People must become idle acre-conscious, he added, and develop a habit of wanting to do something about it every time they see weeds growing where food should grow. Care should be taken, however, not to plow up grassland that will do a better food production job in grass than in crops.

Idle acres won't help win the war, he concluded. Each local citizen, farmer or town resident, should point a finger at each idle acre just as he points a finger at each idle worker. Then he should point a finger at himself and ask what he can do about it or get done about it.

Rudolph E. Psota Named Supervisor on First Ballot

Succeeds Charlie Johnson as Dist. 6 Representative; No Other Nominees.

Rudolph E. Psota, successful Davis Creek farmer and purebred breeder, was unanimously chosen by the Valley county supervisors to fill the District 6 vacancy left by the resignation of Charlie Johnson, at the board meeting Tuesday.

He sat with the board Tuesday afternoon and will take office as soon as his bond is approved.

Mr. Psota was a "compromise" selection. At the April meeting the board deadlocked 3 to 3 between Will Koelling and Carol Palsler in its first attempt to fill the vacancy and it was apparent at the May meeting that the deadlock would again result if the same two were nominated.

The new supervisor is a republican but has not been active politically and seemed to be acceptable to both factions on the board.

Scrap Drive 'Flops' in Ord, Will Not Be Pushed Until Later

Farmers Too Busy to Haul in Scrap at Present; Giant Campaign Planned Later.

Last week's scrap drive in Ord was a failure, admits R. Clare Clement, county chairman of scrap collections, but not much can be done about it at present due to the fact that farmers are so busy at this time of year they haven't time to gather and haul in scrap, he believes.

W. H. Starkey, buyer from St. Paul, was at the Union Pacific dock from Thursday until Tuesday but only about twenty tons was hauled in, says Mr. Clement. Mr. Starkey will be in Arcadia May 6 and 7 and hopes to get more scrap there.

Official dates for the state-wide drive have been postponed to May 10 to 21 but no drive on a large scale will be held here during the period. Everybody who has time to do it is asked to haul in scrap and dispose of it through Ord's two resident buyers, Tom Rasmussen and R. L. Long, but it will be impossible to get a buyer and a railroad car here during the period.

Some farmers already have started corn planting, others are fixing fence, hauling manure and doing the other spring-time tasks that precede corn planting, which will be in full swing here by the 10th, and since almost every farmer is short of help and is working long hours Clement doesn't think there is much chance of a big scrap drive succeeding now.

Later in the summer, perhaps after corn is laid by, he plans to enlist the support of the Ord Chamber of Commerce and of civic organizations in North Loup and Arcadia, and with their help put on another big drive that will scour the county clean of scrap.

Collides with Three Deer Near Burwell

As Roman Grudzinski was driving to his farm six miles east of Burwell about dusk Monday evening he rounded a curve and collided with three deer which were crossing the road at that point. Two of the deer were unhurt and scampered to safety but one of the animals suffered broken front and rear legs and had to be shot.

Mr. Grudzinski notified County Attorney Wm. Manasil, of Burwell, and he and Henry McMullen drove out and brought the carcass to town. Both had visions of deer steak, which would taste very good these meatless days, but when Mr. Manasil notified the state game commission of the accident he was instructed to have the carcass refrigerated and hold it for use in state institutions, as the law provides in such contingencies.

Council Debates on Purchase of Rural Transmission Line

Consumers Offers Sell Line to Fish Place, Line North, for Total of $5,100.

Discussion on the advisability of the city of Ord purchasing from Consumers Public Power district the transmission line running east of Ord as far as the Fish place and the line running north of town to the corner of the old Goodhand place, with the idea of serving rural electric users with city-generated electricity, occupied the attention of the city council Tuesday evening.

These lines are part of the transmission system built by the North Loup irrigation district and sold to Consumers when the cities of Ord and Burwell ceased taking energy some months ago. Original construction cost was almost $2,000 per mile.

Consumers is removing the line at present, starting from the Taylor end, with the idea of using the material elsewhere. It has offered to sell the Ord portion of the line to the city for about $5,100, or approximately $600 per mile.

Howard Huff, one of the rural customers served by the North Loup district when it was selling energy, appeared before the council with two propositions on Tuesday evening. If the city will buy the line he offered to pay REA rates, which will make his electricity cost about $11 monthly, or if the city does not wish to buy the line he will buy it personally as far as his own farm a mile east of Ord and will then pay the city regular rates for electricity.

No decision was made by the council Tuesday but Huff was unofficially assured that the city will accept one or the other of his proposals, so he may be assured of electric service. There are only about twenty potential customers for electricity at present on the two lines which the city is considering buying.

Records Fall as Chanticleers Win Three Loups Title

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

Roy Cox returned Thursday from the southeast part of the state where he had spent the week on business for his company, the Nebraska Machinery and Supply company. He visited the Hubert Vodehnal family in McCook where the two little girls are just recovering from whooping cough. Mrs. George Cox and Dennis were with Mrs. Roy Cox and Mrs. Williams while he was away.

The dinner bridge club met Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schudel. Mrs. R. W. Hudson won high score for the ladies and H. L. Gillespie for the men.

The library board held an all day meeting Thursday at the library, cleaning and mending books. Mrs. Fred Bartz and Mrs. Otto Bartz were hostesses.

The junior-senior banquet was served Thursday night in the music room at the school house, members of the junior class preparing and serving the three course dinner to forty pupils and faculty members. May-time was the theme used by the juniors; a maypole wound in silver and blue with a canopy of blue and silver streamers making a center for the garden of sweet peas and ferns and baskets of flowers. Small tables with pink and white favors and place cards were set with pastel shaded china and pretty girls with beautiful formals and handsome young men in dark suits completed the picture. Tomato juice cocktail, scalloped chicken, mashed potatoes, creamed peas, spring salad, hot rolls with jelly and ice cream and angel food cake was the menu.

Hazel Stevens and Mildred Fuss went to Ord Saturday morning for their education class. Miss Stevens spent the night and Sunday at the Ralph Stevens home.

Gordon Portis, as president of the junior class was toastmaster and the first letter of the numbers on the program made the words Maytime. Ike Babcock gave Merry Are the Seniors. Mrs. R. L. Hayden sang an Aria. Fern Sims subject was "You wouldn't think", the class prophecy. Mrs. Elley gave a reading, "Twitter a Twit." Adella Weller read Illusions, the class will. Choppy Stevens sang a Melody and Supt. Elley finished with Elley Echoes. All sang together the Star Spangled Banner.

Friday morning the same group went to the chalk hills where the senior class were hosts at breakfast cooking it over a campfire. They served grapefruit, buns, weiners and eggs and cocoa.

The Missionary luncheon is to be held Thursday at one o'clock in the basement of the Seventh Day Baptist church. All ladies of the village are invited to attend. The ladies of the Seventh Day Baptist church will furnish sandwiches, while the Methodist ladies furnish salad. An interesting program will follow the luncheon, the theme of which is, The Christian Home in a World at War.

Seventh day Baptist church notes: Last week was absent member day and a number of letters from boys in the service, young people away at school and other non-resident members were read. Next week special Mothers Day services will be held and the following week will be Sabbath day rally.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Thein spent Saturday night and Sunday in Kearney with the Reuben Rydbergs. Mrs. Rydberg and Skipper accompanied them home.

Fern Sims entertained a number of girl friends at a slumber party Thursday night.

Lt. John Cleary, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cleary of Santa Ana, Calif., stationed at the Orange county airport, has been missing since last Monday morning when with three others he started for a flight over Balboa and Catalina islands, leaving the airport at six in the morning. When over Catalina he radioed his commander that his engine was missing and he was turning back, but the commander failed to get the message. However he soon noticed there were only three in the formation and also turned back but found no trace of Lt. Cleary. He was in a single scatter fighter plane, a B38, and at the last word no trace of the missing plane or pilot had been found. Word of the tragedy came to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz, whose nephew Lt. Cleary is, John Cleary being a brother of Mrs. Bartz. He is also a grandson of Mrs. Paul Hansen, formerly of Ord, but now of Santa Ana. The young man entered the service a year ago in March and received his wings last March at Luke Field. John Cleary, sr., is employed at the postoffice at the Santa Ana airport. Two other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Cleary, Paul, stationed at Camp Wolters, Tex., and Russell, at Lowrey Field are in the air corps of the army. From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

Coming on a little village near here I saw one of the prettiest public gardens you ever saw. As a passer-by explained it to me!

"When anybody has any extra flower seeds they scatter 'em in this plot—and when anybody sees any weeds in the garden, they help to pull 'em out."

Now there's a mighty fine example of how cooperation works. But there are plenty of others too.

For instance the way the brewers and beer distributors are cooperating so with the authorities to see that beer is sold only in clean, decent places.

From where I sit, it looks like a mighty practical example of how honest cooperation works out to everyone's benefit—the brewers, the beer retailers, and us plain citizens that like our gardens and our pleasures—with the weeds kept out.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

You will notice the Americans in North Africa, are doing what the British couldn't do. When it comes to real fighting guts the Americans have what it takes.

If the government has to take over and operate the coal mines why not draft the mine workers and feed them and pay them the same wages that fighters in the front ranks get. That, it seems to me would be fair. If they are not loyal enough and good Americans enough, to go ahead at fair wages, and not try to force increases at the expense of our war effort, then they should be forced to do the work, or refusing, they should be immediately put into the army and made to fight.

And John L. Lewis and the millionaire labor leaders should be put in jail and later tried for treason and if found guilty, which they undoubtedly are, should be dealt with accordingly.

Has anyone heard from John Ward recently? Members of his family are worried because they have not heard in several weeks. It is not like John not to write.

Well, I finally got a letter from Peter Clement of the North Loup Loyalist, dated April 26 and inclosing a list of those who were given the Loyalist by the cheese factory down there. I have had many complaints and those entitled to receive it, couldn't understand why they were not getting the Quiz. Mr. Clement says in his letter that the manager of the cheese company told him not to send it without his permission and that he just got the permission the 26th when he wrote. I of course don't know why this was. Mr. Switzer, I am told, says he never told Clement anything of the kind. So there you are. Anyway, getting it on the 26th, it was too late for me to get the 60 people who were not already getting the Quiz into the list for last week. But they are now on the list and will get the paper this week. I must, when the time paid for has expired, they will like the paper well enough to continue buying it. Of course it will be stopped promptly when the time is out. Those entitled to get it because of the cheese company payment, and who were already on the Quiz list, have been credited three months more from the time they were already paid to on this paper. I just have not the time to cut new stencils at this time, showing the correction on their papers. Their cards in the box, show it however. In due time I hope to get caught up, and being short of help and long of work and old of age I have more in that department than I can get done.

A letter from a friend says she just can't go for my pancakes with fish recipe, but she will never know what she is missing unless she tries it. I enjoyed those Michigan smelts when I was last at her home and I am sure they would go mighty fine with pancakes. If she could live, as I have, with the Minnesota Swedes, and enjoy as I have their fried, boiled, stewed, baked and fricasseed fish and fish soup, she could like the fish and pancakes too.

At the recent sale Mrs. Deines became the proud possessor of this dish, which will no doubt be often used. Particularly since rationing has given new interest to soups.
In every family there are a few choice bits. Often they are unappreciated by those who have perhaps had to wash and wipe them too many times!

BACK FORTY

Spraying fruit trees generally means the difference between a crop and no crop. It has become a necessity if any amount of decent fruit is to be raised.
Fairly good results from spraying can be secured by giving the trees only the so-called second and fourth sprays. These are applied just as the petals drop off, and during the middle of July. Of course four or more sprays give more satisfactory results.
The two important sprays for cherries, peaches and plums are those put on just after the flower shucks have fallen and again three weeks later.
A combination spray is used on most fruit. It is made by dissolving 1 1/2 gallons of commercial lime-sulphur solution, and 1 1/4 pounds of powdered lead arsenate in fifty gallons of water. These ingredients destroy both insects and diseases. Mixed together they should poison codling moth, canker worm, tent caterpillar, curculio, blotch, scab and many other enemies of fruit.
Lime-sulphur kills scale insects if diluted 10 times with water. It is diluted with water 35 times when used against diseases.
Black Leaf 40 is a more powerful contact killer for insects and is often used against green leaf hoppers that eat vines, and other soft bodied bugs. Bordeaux mixture is sometimes sprayed on fungous diseases; it may be used with lead arsenate to make another combination spray. Lead arsenate kills leaf eating insects.
A bucket sprayer can be used where just a few trees need the treatment. It should have an extension hose and rod at least twenty feet in length. Fastened to the end of the rod should be an angle nozzle that throws a fine mist. For the average orchard a single action barrel sprayer with about twenty-five feet of hose is best. The outfit is usually mounted on a sled or wagon.

HOW TO COMBAT SHIPPING FEVER

Staggering losses due to a condition called shipping fever occur during mass movements of animals from grazing regions to feeding centers. In some years as much as one percent of all transit cattle develop this disease—a trouble that in many respects greatly resembles human influenza.

Most authorities believe that so-called shipping fever is caused by a filter-passing virus. In itself this virus is, like the human cold, not so severe. However, when the resistance of animals is lowered by least two weeks prior to the time when they are loaded for shipment. Ample feeding with a good grade of green hay several weeks before loading steps-up the Vitamin A intake and helps to prevent trouble.

One should remember that shipping fever spreads quickly from newly-arrived animals to those on the home premises. For this reason it is especially important to segregate new arrivals for a period of three weeks, so the home herd will not be exposed.

Many other contagious diseases resemble shipping fever. For this reason it is generally wise to obtain expert veterinary advice to be certain of the exact trouble and take steps to prevent undue losses. The fatigue of shipping, inclement weather, change to new feed and water, etc., virulent germs or secondary infections may complicate the virus disease, with resultant lung fever, pleurisy, or generalized blood infection. If the shipped animals are carrying heavy loads of cocci or other intestinal parasites, shipping fever may be especially severe. Veterinarians suggest that, whenever possible, animals intended for shipment should be freed from intestinal parasites and given a dose of preventive vaccine at

Mother's Day

Mother's Day is Sunday, May 9th. Remember Mother with a Corsage, Bouquet, Plant or Plant Combination.

We hear of scarcities so much that we get so we pay very little attention to an item that we are told will be scarce; but really Cut Flowers and plants will be very scarce for Mothers Day.

May we offer a few suggestions for Mothers Day gifts. Gardenia, Rose and Carnation Corsages. Bouquets of either Roses or Carnations. Arrangements of Cut Flowers in a nice container. See one of our South American Water Jugs with a Bouquet of Roses or Carnations. Plants either single pot plants or some of our combinations in a dainty little box. Gladiola Bulbs. Dahlia Bulbs, six different in a box.

May we offer this suggestion also, write your mother on Mothers Day if it is not possible for you to visit her, and go to church Mothers Day. Go to church with your mother if possible, but got to church.

Men who have to carry their food to work every day do well to have two lunch pails and two bottles so that one may be thoroughly cleaned and aired while the other is in use.

GEARED TO BOTH JOBS

Moving the men and materiel of war—those are the Burlington's prime assignments for the duration. One is just as vital as the other, for fighting forces must be sustained by a never-ceasing flow of food and war supplies which come in large quantities from the fields, forests, mines and industries served by the Burlington.

But our job doesn't end with military movements. There is another assignment to be met—the handling of greatly increased civilian freight and passenger traffic, much of which is vitally important to the war effort.

All along the 11,000 mile front served by the Burlington Lines, our equipment and the energy of more than 35,000 workers are dedicated to the greatest possible fulfillment of these wartime obligations.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Quite a stack of newspapers I left you yesterday, Judge. Aren't you in the newspaper business, are you?"

"No, I just enjoy reading different papers so my nephew George sends them to me whenever he takes a business trip. I got a big kick out of some he sent me from several counties where they still have prohibition. Particularly from some headlines that read 'Drunk Driving Arrests Rise'.

"Bootleggers must post Ceiling Prices', 'Federal Agents seize 'Trick' Liquor Truck'. Doesn't that go to prove, Joe, that prohibition does not prohibit?"

"I watched conditions pretty carefully during our 13 years of prohibition in this country. The only thing I could see we got out of it was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor... plus the worst crime and corruption this country has ever known."

Aid to Enemy "Any American who willfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy. . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?' — Secretary Morgenthau."

He said he couldn't tell where he was but flying over the most renowned desert in the world and wouldn't care to make a forced landing there. Said that his last train-ing center was Kearney, Nebr. Corn Contracts

We are still contracting Waxy Corn at 40% over Omaha cash corn. This is a very good corn contract and if you have a field available that you can iso-late, you can make money growing this Waxy Corn.

We can use another 500 acres of Popcorn contracts. We have Jap Hulless, Yellow Pearl and Dynamite to put out on contracts. If interested in them, ask to see one of the contractors.

Seed Potatoes

We have in stock Red Warbas, Red Triumphs, Ohlos and Cobblers. Also about 40 bags of Certified Cobblers.

Names Price Panel for Rationing Board

Ign. Kilma, jr., as chairman of the Valley county defense committee, has appointed the personnel of a price panel of the rationing board, naming Ralph E. Misko, chairman, Mrs. Lucy McClure and Anton J. Adamek as other members. Suggestions was made to Chairman Misko that one additional member be appointed in Arcadia and one in North Loup, to serve as local contact and advisory members.

Purpose of the price panel will be to receive, study, analyze and distribute information, to hear complaints of price violations, and mainly to provide a method of keeping retailers informed of their obligations under OPA regulations.

Kovanda Greatly Improved Tuesday

J. A. Kovanda, who has been quite gravely ill with an infection which developed following a minor shop accident ten days ago, was reported Tuesday to be greatly improved and is now considered out of danger. For a time it was feared that some of his fingers or even his hand or arm might have to be amputated.

Mr. Kovanda was operating the lathe in the manual training shop at Ord high school and cut two fingers deeply. After infection developed he ran a high temperature for several days. Dr. F. A. Barta was his physician.

Military Service, Farming, Teaching, Jobs in Business, Are Planned for by Ord's 1943 Graduates, Quiz Reporter Learns

Over at the Ord high school some 62 young persons are about to be pushed politely out the front door with a diploma in one hand, a diploma which means "finished product" of the Ord high school.

Curious to know what all these lively, ambitious young people had in mind, a Quiz reporter asked them some leading questions, and got the following interesting answers:

Avery Noll, who will be 18 the day before he graduates, likes his normal training work and considers his practice teaching the big thrill to date. For "most unusual experience" he considered holding second high honors at eighth grade graduation.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. H. Noll, and attended country school from the second to the eighth grades at Dist. 15. If not in the army then he wants to enter Kearney state normal in September.

Harold King, the son of Irving King, was 17 on April 14 and is taking a general course. He comes from Dist. 23, or Vinton, and always worked on the farm, he says. Graduating will be his big moment.

Edwin Heisek was 17 on Febr. 18, and is the son of J. W. Heisek's. In high school he followed a general course of study, and plans to ranch in the locality where he has always lived, near Dist. 10 in Garfield county. His happiest grade school recollection is of winning the second highest average, and his most thrilling moment was when he got his car.

Leonard Suminski will not be 17 until Aug. 6, and went to Dist. 8 grade school. He is a son of the B. Suminski's, and has taken an agricultural course and plans to stay on the farm. He thinks nothing unusual happened to him in grade school, and will be thrilled when he is through and graduates.

Bill Fafeita was 18 Sept. 2 and is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fafeita. He took a college preparatory course, and after graduation plans to go into the army air corps. His first trip, of which there have been many, was his thrill of younger days, and he is excited over graduating. He has worked at the Phillips 66 station in Ord for three months, and also at the Ord Auto Sales company.

Harold Robertson, age 18, is the son of I. E. Robertson. He took a general course, attended school at Dist. 14, Olean, has worked on a farm and plans to help his father on the farm after he gets his diploma.

Paul L. Covert was 18 Febr. 26. He is a son of L. H. Covert. He writes "Well, if the army doesn't get me I'll be pulling out for some defense job. When I go I'm hoping to get in the field artillery." He has had a variety of work experience on a road construction job in Washington on the railroad, the farm and in a store. He is anticipating his graduation keenly.

Richard is the sole eighth grader in this school and during the entire eight years of his grade school work he has never had a classmate.

It is a standard joke in the Gowen family that Richard is the smartest member of his class and in fact Proud Papa George has even been known to say that Richard maintains his eminence in his class without ever taking a book home to study!

Next year Richard hopes to enroll in high school where for the first time in his life he will have classmates.

The girls glee club sang "Battle of Jericho" to close the program.

Virginia Davis Resigns as Clerk of Draft Board

Will Attend Summer Courses at College, Successor Not Yet Selected.

Miss Virginia Davis, who has served as clerk of the Valley county selective service board since it was organized, effective June 1, and plans to take summer courses in university. Her successor has not yet been chosen.

This is the second change recently in the personnel of the draft board office. A few weeks ago L. D. Milliken resigned as a board member and Glen Johnson was appointed to the vacancy.

Out of the group who went to Omaha for induction last week, comprising Valley county's May quota, seven were definitely accepted, says Miss Davis. To the army will go Calvin Stevens, Floyd Hiner, and Jack Weaver; to the marine corps Ferol Hopkins and Bill Johnson; and to the navy Robert Anderson and Harold Portis.

Robert James, who was 18 on April 2, is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James. He went to Ord grade school, and got a kick out of being Santa Claus in a sixth grade school play. He took a college prep course and is a V-5 naval aviation cadet who declares: "My plans are definitely up to Uncle Sam for the next four years. I'll go to college until I'm called up in July." He has spent many summers on a farm, and has clerked at Noll Seed company after school and on Saturdays for two years. He worked at the Cornhusker Ordnance plant, last summer, and is now working at the Ord sale barn. He was "thrilled to pass the navy aviation cadet exams."

George Knajnik is 17, was born July 2, 1925, and is the son of William Knajnik. He came from Dist. 59 to Ord to take an agricultural course and won promotion to State Farmer. He plans to stay on the farm and help his father which he likes and has done before.

Lillian Rutar, who is 17, is a daughter of Stanley Rutar. She was born July 18, 1925. She took a commercial and college prep course, and will probably continue it in Omaha. She has worked a few weeks at the Nebraska State bank and the Ord theater, and is thrilled to be graduating.

Sr. Scout Patrol to Be Organized

The Ord Scout troop and troop committee had a buffalo feast at the home of Elliott McClure Tuesday evening. There were twenty scouts and seven members of the local troop committee present. Mrs. McClure prepared the roast buffalo and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Rex Jewett. Everyone enjoyed the buffalo feast.

After the feast a short business meeting was held. The Scout troop voted to buy several new tents and other equipment for the summer camp which will be held June 2 to June 6 at the state park near Loup City. Every scout expressed his desire to attend this camp and it is hoped that it will be possible for all to go. The camp will be under the direction of the Cornhusker Council and an adult Scouter from Ord will be with the troop at camp. The scouts will have an opportunity to pass tests for advancement at this camp as well as have a good time.

The troop committee discussed plans to form a patrol of senior scouts. Senior Scouting will be open to boys between 15 and 18 years of age and who have passed the requirements of a first class Scout. Any boy interested in this advanced Scouting should see Elliott McClure, the assistant scout master, as soon as possible. Mr. McClure has consented to direct the activities of Senior Scouting, if there are enough boys interested to form a patrol. Mr. McClure has been doing an excellent job assisting George Hastings, the scout master.

The radio court of honor will be held Sunday May 16 in the Firemen's hall between 3 and 4. All Scouts, parents and friends are invited to attend.

8 Years of School, Never a Classmate

Grade school days will end this week for Richard Gowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gowen, who completes the eighth grade work at Riverdale school northeast of North Loup.

Richard is the sole eighth grader in this school and during the entire eight years of his grade school work he has never had a classmate.

It is a standard joke in the Gowen family that Richard is the smartest member of his class and in fact Proud Papa George has even been known to say that Richard maintains his eminence in his class without ever taking a book home to study!

Next year Richard hopes to enroll in high school where for the first time in his life he will have classmates.

The program will be held in the high school auditorium starting at 8:00.

25 Lbs. of Sugar Per Person Limit for Home Canning

Ration Office Will Accept Applications May 15 in Person or By Mail.

Twenty-five pounds of sugar is the top limit that will be allowed each person for home canning and preserving this season, the OPA announced Monday, and permits will be issued starting May 15 by all rationing offices.

Home canners who had hoped for unlimited sugar for this purpose are expressing disappointment, though it is pointed out that 25 pounds of sugar will can a lot of fruit if the sugar isn't used too extensively for jam and jelly making.

Within the 25 pound limit, any family may apply for sugar to put up jams, jellies and preserves at the rate of 5 pounds per person. The rest of the 25 pounds per person limit must be used for other canning purposes.

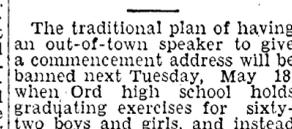

No special form is needed in applying for canning sugar, the OPA said, and applications may be made either in person or by mail. As was required last year, a showing must be made as to what fruits will be processed with the extra sugar.

Except for the specific maximum, sugar will be allotted on substantially the same basis as last year—one pound of sugar for each four quarts (or eight pounds) of the finished product. Thus, a family of four could secure 100 pounds of sugar, enough to can 400 quarts of fruits.

About the only fruit in season now is rhubarb but strawberries will be coming in season soon, followed by cherries, and Mrs. Grace Sprague, ration board clerk, says she has already had many applications for canning sugar. Starting May 15 such applications will be accepted and permits issued as rapidly as the work can be handled.

Wrong Photo Printed Of North Loup Girl

The Quiz regrets an error made last week in which the wrong photo was printed over the name of Miss Marion Maxson, valedictorian in North Loup high school. Photos of two other North Loup girls, Lucienne Fisher and Jo Ann Barber, were correctly printed, but in some way the engraving department of the Quiz produced the photo of a total stranger in place of Miss Maxson's photo and the picture was printed before the mistake was discovered. The cut of Miss Maxson was sent to a Minnesota newspaper by mistake. Miss Maxson's average grade was 10.44 points which gave her the highest scholastic average in the North Loup schools.

Tuesday night Ord received only about a quarter inch of moisture but at North Loup .65 of an inch fell and other communities report more than Ord received.

How severe the damage to food crops will be can only be guessed as this story is written Wednesday morning but it seems certain that damage will be serious. A frost last week damaged fruit crops and gardens also but the warmer weather since has given everything a better start so the 27 degree freeze did more damage this time.

Hawaiian Motif for Class Banquet

Juniors Hosts Tuesday Eve to the 1943 Graduates, 170 Enjoy Dinner, Program.

The juniors were proud Tuesday evening as the seniors, the faculty and the school board entered their banquet hall, which they had cleverly transformed into a picture of Hawaii in honor of the biggest occasion of the upperclass school year.

At the entrance way leis were garlanded about the neck of each guest, and palm trees and flowers lent atmosphere. In the center of the room a tiny pool had been arranged of mirror, rocks, flowering plants, swans. Around the pool was a grassy plot and an iron garden chair waited invitingly.

Over the bleachers to the south twirled strands of blue and white paper simulated the waves of the sea, almost too realistically. Flowers trailed on the walls, and the stage too was a bower, where Harry Collins and his orchestra played for the "prom" following the banquet.

Twelve long tables seated the guests, and an extra long one the speakers and officers. These too were ornamented with tiny pools, with palms and flowers. Nut cups were little brown paper canoes. Programs, marking each of the 170 covers laid, were entitled "memories" but since they were written in Hawaiian words, most of the banqueters simply waited to see what came next. And they were not disappointed.

Don Auble was toastmaster. Luetta Kuehl spoke on the ability to adapt oneself to a new way of life. Following a selection by the girls' chorus, Elizabeth Kovanda spoke about love of liberty and how it must be used. Carolyn Auble did a hula dance.

Mr. Cochrane spoke for the faculty on the subject of the optimistic outlook. Lloyd Wilson, jr., talked on reaching the harbor of happiness. Miss Kidder's subject was aloha, or farewell, and Ralph Norman of the board of education spoke on the achievement of ambition. Another song by the girls' chorus concluded the program.

Catholic ladies prepared and served the dinner. Though the menu was Hawaiian, the food tasted much like some favorite American dishes, particularly fruit cocktail, scalloped chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, creamed carrots and cabbage, spring salad, parker house rolls, apple goody with ice cream and coffee. All the young waitresses were garbed in hula costumes and were the girls who sang.

Overhead a blissful blue paper sky, and many stars and several moons eyed the strange but happy party.

Junior class officers are Don Auble, president, Loyal Hurlbert, vice-president, Arlene Timmerman, secretary, Roberta Stoddard, treasurer. Mr. Cochrane and Miss Prouty are sponsors, Miss Prouty replacing Mrs. Clark, who has been ill.

May 12th Freeze Latest on Record, Big Crop Damage

Temperature Drops to 27 on Wednesday Morn, Coldest May Day in 20 Years.

Damage to fruit and gardens, to small grain and even to early-planted corn was severe this morning (Wednesday) as the temperature dropped to 27 to make this morning the coldest May day in twenty years. A light rain, changing to sleet and snow, accompanied the cold wave which swept out of the north Tuesday afternoon after several days of warm weather.

Not since May 9, 1923 has there been a May morning which approached today in coldness, reports Horace W. Travis, after checking the records. On that day the temperature was 22.

Since 1936 Valley county's latest killing frost has come in April. April 21 was the last frost in 1936, April 26 in 1937, April 19 in 1939, April 18 in 1940, April 5 in 1941 and April 26 in 1942. In 1938, the year omitted from the above tabulation there was a light frost on May 7 but it did no damage.

Tuesday night Ord received only about a quarter inch of moisture but at North Loup .65 of an inch fell and other communities report more than Ord received.

How severe the damage to food crops will be can only be guessed as this story is written Wednesday morning but it seems certain that damage will be serious. A frost last week damaged fruit crops and gardens also but the warmer weather since has given everything a better start so the 27 degree freeze did more damage this time.

Last week's freeze hurt oats, barley and alfalfa to some extent and this morning's freeze will hurt them more, but it will be a day or two before its full extent can be reckoned, thinks C. C. Dale, county agricultural agent. Since so much moisture accompanied the freeze it may not do as much damage as a dry freeze would have done, he thinks, but he agrees that potatoes probably will be frozen off and given a backset, that beans and tomato plants in gardens will have to be replanted and that strawberry and other fruit crops probably will be very short.

Valley county expects to raise a thousand acres or more of field beans this summer but they have not yet been planted, says Mr. Dale. Nor have tomato plants raised for canning by the Burwell factory, but most field potatoes have a good start and will be hurt.

Farmers are waiting now for warmer weather so the damage may be assessed and so necessary replanting may be done.

H. J. Coffin and Wife Celebrate Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage May 2

Reception hours were from seven to ten p. m. and many friends called to extend hearty congratulations and wish the couple continued happiness and good health. The gracious living rooms bespoke friendly hospitality and gift bouquets decorated the home. The bride wore a most becoming soft blue dress and the groom was attired in a dark suit. Guests enjoyed viewing many of the original wedding gifts and the pretty dark red wedding dress which was the height of fashion fifty years ago. The gift table was beautiful and a lovely wedding cake was the center of attraction. Congratulatory cards came from many different states and towns in Nebraska.

The only granddaughter, Miss Margaret Jean Walker looked charming as she and several of her friends served the guests ice sherbet, decorated tea cakes and coffee or punch. A surprise feature during the reception was a serenade by the Burwell Woman's Chorus, led by Mrs. Bess Langstrom. The group was invited into the house and presented a delightful program, including an accordion solo by little Patty Mitchell.

Henry Joseph Coffin was born at Boston, Mass., in 1860. When he was 18 years old he started west to make his fortune and came directly to Schuyler, Nebr. He later went to Inman, Nebr., and in the fall of '83 came to Wheeler county which then included Garfield, and took a homestead in the forks. He homesteaded the land that is now known as the Olcott place, three miles north west of Burwell. At that time the country was a trackless prairie, with a few homesteaders dotting the landscape. There was no bridge west of Ord, the nearest provisional center. There was a post office at Willow Springs and the first store was erected there, soon after Mr. Coffin came. To reach his homestead he went via Pebble Creek and forded swift, tricky Calamus. Quick sand was found and the crossing was especially dangerous in spring and fall. Soon afterwards the railroad came and Mr. Coffin played an important part in getting the county seat changed from Willow Springs to this side of the river, and watched with interest as the town of Burwell developed. After 15 years of farm life, Mr. Coffin decided to go into the lumber business and in '92 came to town and acquired his present lumber yard. A year later he went to Inman and married the vivacious little school teacher, Mary Olive Haloran, whom he had known for many years. They attended the first World Fair at Chicago on their honeymoon. Pioneer life in a struggling new town held no terrors for this bride for she was born at Rockford, Ia., in 1866 in the pioneer part of the new state. When Mary Olive was 14 her parents emigrated to Nebraska and settled on a homestead at Inman in Holt county and thus Mrs. Coffin is a proud pioneer claimant of two states. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coffin were the eldest in their respective families, yet they were the only couple privileged to celebrate a Golden Wedding anniversary.

Mr. Coffin is a most progressive citizen, a builder who has been instrumental in building many fine homes and buildings throughout the community. He built his large home forty years ago, built the immense Hub building in 1906 and was superintendent of construction when the beautiful Congregational church was erected. He has a natural instinct for money making but has befriended many and is noted for his fair and honest dealings. Although 83 years of age, Mr. Coffin leads a very active life in the business world. It was through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Coffin when she was president of the Burwell Woman's club that the city has a Carnegie library. Other organizations as well have benefited by her membership, finding her an inspiring and willing helper.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffin have three daughters, one son died in infancy. There are five grandchildren, Ralph Leo Walker in junior high, Margaret Jean Walker, a junior in high school, Keith DeLashmutt, a freshman at the Nebraska university, Leslie DeLashmutt, a dental technician and a first class private stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., and Harry DeLashmutt, a first lieutenant in the U. S. army at Camp Meade, Md. Pfc. Leslie and Lieut. Harry and Mrs. DeLashmutt were the only members of the family unable to attend.

4-H Club Organized. A new 4-H club was organized May 4 under the leadership of Mrs. Elmer Golka and it will be known as the Clever Corner 4-H club. There are 12 members and Marjorie Swanek is president, Mary Mae Ludington is vice-president, Bernadette Franssen secretary and Reatha Ackles, reporter. The club will meet each Tuesday afternoon at Mrs. Golka's house.

Now in New Guinea, Garner Sends Poem

Mr. and Mrs. Mid Garner the week had a letter from the son, Pfc. Glen Garner, who stationed now "somewhere New Guinea," where he serves with the U. S. soldiers who drove the Japs out of Buna at Sanananda. In his letter Pfc. Garner enclosed the following poem, which he titles "Present and Future Hope."

Out here in New Guinea Where the sun is hot as he And the Japs have evacuated Their hopes as Guinea fell With Buna Land that's conquered

And Rabaul is on the way, When we bomb from here Tokyo, Oh God! That'll be the day For we men of jobs and homes we left, With our loved ones true and dear, The hopes we had were all that

The war would end in a year, But the year has gone by, Our hopes have fled Without our reaching the goal With all the blood we've shed Many brave boys have died For freedom of will, For the Red, White and Blue They've endured...to kill.

And life's been given for our peace to keep, Will cause many heartach sighs and weeps, So boys, one and all, fight hard to the end. To drive the enemy back his den. There we'll hold them at bay whip them till they beg for peace

Oh won't it be great for the war to cease!

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

Canning season just ahead. This year the legion of home canners will be far larger than ever before. And with the canning season just ahead, it's none too soon to start planning now for this food conservation event.

Plan Your Canning Budget. A fair allowance for the average person is 100 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables a year. This figure includes both home and commercially canned foods. Divide that 100 quarts in thirds, one-third for fruits and berries, one-third for tomatoes and tomato juice, and one-third for vegetables with a large portion in leafy and green vegetables, and you have a rough estimate of your family's needs for the year.

Take Inventory. Check your canning equipment first. A large preserving kettle is a "must" for fruits and berries and tomatoes. Unless you have a pressure cooker or can borrow or rent one or share with your neighbor who has one, just forget about canning vegetables, meat, poultry and fish. It is folly to even attempt to can these things in any other way.

Jars, Lids, and Glasses. Assemble all your jars that can be used for sealing. Some mayonnaise and peanut butter jars and other jars can be used if they take the standard size self-sealing lids. Check the mouths of the jars and discard all those with chips, cracks or flaws for such defects make perfect sealing impossible.

Storage Space. Be sure there's a enough storage space for your canned goods before you plan too much canning, for if you haven't a place to keep them, don't can—foods will spoil! They should be stored in a dark, cool place. It is not wise to keep them in the kitchen because of the heat from cooking.

FOR EASY COOKING IN A LIMITED SPACE. If you're cooking on a burner behind a screen or in a very small space, you'll want to read "Cooking In A Kitchenette" in this week's Family Circle. It's free at Safeway—out on Tuesday.

Prices—subject to market changes—are effective thru May 15, in Ord.

Both Kohl Boys Are Airplant Pilots Now

Many Ord friends will be pleased to hear of the latest news from Don R. Kohl, nephew of Mrs. William Heuck who spent his early years in Ord and was raised by his grandmother, Mrs. Ressegue of Madison, after the death of his mother.

Don is now 21, and received his wings at the Alpena army air base on April 29. He was very proud of them and wanted only to fly one of the big B-29 bombers, until he heard about the newly set up air transport command. This service was taking only older, more experienced pilots, but at last they decided to choose a few graduates who had high grades, and let them try the work, which will be the ferrying of planes and cargo, all over the world. To Don's delight he was able to secure one of the few appointments.

Jean R. Kohl, his older brother, who is 23, chose the navy, and is now taking pre-flight training at Moffat Field, after college work at St. Marys college near San Francisco. Jean loves his work, too, and wrote a few months ago that he had encountered Martin Mella, and the two have become firm friends.

They are sons of Clifford Kohl, who at one time was a mortician here.

Junior-Senior Banquet

Even after the invitations had been received, few guessed from them that the banquet was to be the Maytime theme. On Friday evening, May 21, around seventy invited guests arrived at the high school auditorium to partake of the annual Junior-Senior banquet.

Streamers were draped across the entry-way, with a large canopy of rainbow-colored streamers enclosing the room. In the center was a Maypole with the customary pink and white streamers, which was used during the prom for the waiters and waitresses dance. The waiters, Alan Sell, Allen Bellinger, Junior Arthur, Bill Weddel and Gene Anderson, were attired in dark trousers and light sport coats and shirts, while the waitresses appeared in pastel-colored pinafors, white blouses, and anklets that matched their pinafores. The waitresses were Alfreda Collier, Phyllis Anderson, Betty Hagood, Glennola Young and Rae Jean Brown.

After each guest was seated, the waiters and waitresses lighted the centerpieces, which were taper candles with varied-colored streamers leading to each place, which was marked by the nutcrackers. After the cocktail, the auditorium lights were turned out for the remainder of the program. Bill Ramsey served as toastmaster in a most capable manner, with toasts given by Mr. Siekmann, Beryl Owens, Artice Holmes, John Hill, Pete Lybarger, Margaret Christ, and Bonita Adams. Mr. Easterbrook rendered two vocal selections and Rae Jean Brown sang "Will You Remember," both of whom were accompanied by Mrs. Finey.

The crowning of the king and queen and their attendants was the main event of the evening. These students are chosen by a popularity vote. An empty throne was prepared and Clark Scott and Billy Weeks, as pages, summoned the king, "Bob" White and the queen, Bonita Adams. Next the attendants, Boyd Gregory and Arlis Johnson, were called and were followed by the little flower girls, Doris Dean and JoAnn Crist, who dressed in little formal, scattered flowers in the royal pathway. After the recession of the royal party, the students enjoyed a prom in the gymnasium.

The seniors are quite busy these days, putting out the largest issue of the Bugle that has ever been published in the Arcadia high school. It is their aim to make this issue take the place of their regular school paper and in addition give the year summaries usually given in an annual. Plans are in the making for a senior class night and cakewalk, during which there will be the reading of the class will, prophecy and history, and vocal selections, all of which will be senior talent. This will be held in the auditorium Tuesday evening at 8:30. The seniors will also hold their senior breakfast sometime next week. Baccalaureate will be Sunday evening, May 16, with Rev. C. A. Busby giving the invocation and Rev. H. J. Taylor delivering the sermon, "Making the Most of Me." Today we ask: "What can we do? Can we do anything? Is this world turmoil so great and so awful that our contribution is meaningless? Why have we been able to do so little before? Where do we go from here? Are we content merely to meet and talk? Let us lift our eyes to the cross. Jesus has gone on before. His sacrifice and service must be our way. His sense of kinship with God and man must be ours. His zeal for the establishment of a kingdom of love must burn anew in our hearts. We must commit ourselves again to Him."

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCK PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

A $20,000,000 TAX ON HOG RAISING

Like the deadly saboteur which it is, hog cholera exceeds all other animal diseases in the baffling variety of its many disguises.

But all of them are fatal, because cholera is one of the most vicious killers known to the livestock industry, and very few animals have time a devastating, prostrating and fast-spreading sickness will go through the entire herd, leaving a trail of death and costing the farmer his year's hog profits.

Cholera is confusing in another way too—many diseases of swine are characterized by high fever, discoloration of the skin, coughing, scouring and other common symptoms. For example, erysipelas so closely resembles cholera that it is often necessary for the veterinarian to resort to laboratory examination to distinguish between the two diseases, before treatment can be started.

Thank You

Again a hearty "Thank You" for your understanding cooperation when we had to substitute in your choice of flowers for Mother's Day. Decreased production due to a combination of the help shortage, a cold backward Spring and diversion of many greenhouses to the growing of vegetable plants was responsible for the rationing of white carnations and substitution of some of the other varieties which we had ordered.

To the sons and daughters and husbands, who had us deliver flowers; if you could have seen the surprise and joy on the faces of your "Moms" you would have been more than repaid for your thoughtfulness in remembering them on Their Day.

It was a pleasure for us to serve you and them!

Flowers will be short again for Memorial Day. May we have your order early?

Pfc. Rex Wagner Likes Australia

Editor's Note:—The author of this letter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagner, of Burwell, and before he entered the army last summer he was a Quiz reporter and before that was the Quiz' Burwell representative. He is now with the army in Australia and this fine letter written to his parents gives his impressions of the land "down under."

Australia, April 24, 1943

Dear Folks: I never felt better in my life. I am working hard nearly every day and at night sleep most comfortably on a pile of straw. I think Australia is a wonderful country. I think I might stay here when the war is over if they'll let me and I can get a job.

The country is most beautiful but everything is different, even the stars. We can not see the (Continued on page 5)

Boys Win Scholarship Honors First Time in Ord High School's History

Avery Noll, Robert James, Ray Vogeltanz, Elizabeth Kovanda, Wilson Chatfield.

Boys made a clean sweep of scholarship honors this year for the first time in Ord high school's history, it was revealed Tuesday evening at commencement. Valedictorian with 30 As and 2 Bs was Avery Noll, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. H. Noll, who thus wins the $150 normal college scholarship awarded annually. Salutatorian with 29 As and 3 Bs was Robert James, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James, who will not get to use his $150 church college scholarship because he already has enlisted in naval aviation. Winner of honorable mention was Raymond Vogeltanz, with 26 As and 6 Bs. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogeltanz. When the competitive regents' scholarship examinations for University of Nebraska were given a few weeks ago Avery Noll ranked highest, with Robert James and Raymond Vogeltanz second and third respectively, so their scholastic leadership was clean-cut in the big Ord graduating class of sixty-two. Moreover, Raymond Vogeltanz was presented with the Haskell-Melia award on class night. This award, established by the class of 1937 in memory of Harold Haskell and Harold Melia after their tragic death in an auto accident on the eve of graduation, goes each year to the student adjudged by faculty vote to be the leading senior boy in scholarship, character, and all-around leadership.

Pictured here in addition to the scholarship leaders are Elizabeth Kovanda, one of the six high ranking scholars and winner of the Union Pacific scholarship in home economics, and Wilson Chatfield, winner of the Union Pacific scholarship in agriculture. Two other scholarship leaders, Maxine Sorensen and George Krajnik, were honored by being seated on the platform at commencement exercises held Tuesday.

Decoration Day Services Planned Monday, May 31st

Soldiers, Sailors Home on Leave Invited to March in Parade to Cemetery.

Plans for Ord's observance of Decoration Day, which will be held Monday, May 31, were completed Monday by Ign. Klimka, Jr., in charge of arrangements for the American Legion, who will sponsor the program as usual.

The parade will form at the memorial plot next to the north gate of Bussell park, marching off through the cemetery at exactly 10:30 a. m. to the Legion Memorial plot on the east edge of the cemetery. The order of march will include colors, band, firing squad, Spanish-American war veterans, American Legion Auxiliary, Junior Auxiliary, World War II service men, American Legion and others.

Ladies of the G. A. R. will gather at the small gate at the south entrance to the Legion Memorial plot and will march into the plot from the south at the same time the main procession enters from the north. All organizations or groups, including the band, will take their places inside the Memorial plot during the services.

A special appeal is being made by the Legion to all soldiers, sailors and marines who may be home on leave to join in the procession and the services. Legion members are asked to wear their caps.

The program at the Memorial plot will include a prayer by Rev. R. T. Cordry, selections by the high school band, services by the G. A. R. ladies, an address by Edgar S. Farley, a vocal selection, salute to the dead by the firing squad, "Star Spangled Banner" by the band, and will conclude with the playing of "taps" as usual.

Business places in Ord will be closed, by order of Mayor M. B. Cummins, from 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m. and everybody should take part in or attend the service.

Parks Gets Thrill at Equator Crossing

Lloyd Parks, young member of the naval construction battalion, writes relatives that he recently left this country on "the newest and fastest ship yet."

He also tells of the party he was given as a "pollywog," one of those travellers who had never before crossed the equator, hosts being the more experienced "shellbacks" on the boat. Smears of paint, considerable paddling and ducking, and some unique haircuts were features, he reports, with a good time had by all.

Mrs. Lloyd Parks, the former Roberta Chase, plans to come back to Nebraska about June 1st. She has been working at Richmond, Va. near where Mr. Parks was stationed. After leaving Ord Mr. Parks worked at Atkinson, Nebr., for Ernest Weller for several years, then spent a few months on the west coast in construction work before joining the Seabees.

Attend State Meeting. Two Ord people, John P. Misko and Mrs. Clarence M. Davis, were in Grand Island Tuesday attending a meeting of the state republican central committee called for the purpose of choosing a national committeewoman to replace Mrs. Watson, who resigned. Mrs. Donald, of Grand Island, was selected.

Butchers' Troubles Grieve Fred W. Coe

How the Ord butchers can sell hamburger at 25c to 30c per pound is a mystery to Fred W. Coe, manager of the Ord Cooperative Creamery company, in view of the price bologna bulls are bringing now.

In October 1938, says Fred, the creamery shipped a truck load of calves from Minnesota and sold them to members of the 4-H dairy calf clubs. A registered Holstein bull calf was sold to Delivan Kingstong for $27.85 and in the succeeding years this bull calf sired many fine calves. Last week his own-er shipped him to Omaha and although the bull was far from fat he sold for 14c per pound and netted $272.00 after trucking and commission was deducted. Not a bad investment, Fred points out.

"When live bull brings 14c a pound, how can the butchers sell ground-up bull—otherwise called hamburger—for 25c to 30c a pound?" asks the creamery manager sadly.

Syndicate Will Drill Two Wells

Group Headed by Dodge and Pierce Try Near O'Neill First, Also Cotesfield.

Cement is being poured this week for the rig foundation of a test oil well to be drilled near O'Neill by the Loup Valley Syndicate, says A. W. Pierce, assistant manager, and cement work will be done soon preparatory to drilling a second test well near Cotesfield, in Howard county.

Priorities on pipe for the two wells were secured after almost a year of delay and for fuel for drilling after five months of delay. A derrick and drilling outfit for the O'Neill well will be brought in from South Dakota and for the Cotesfield well in the Falls City field, in all likelihood, Pierce said.

The O'Neill well will be located on a drilling block of 3,500 acres and the Cotesfield well on a block of 2,600 acres.

Heading the development is E. L. Dodge, manager, who has had experience in Tulsa, Okla., and also in the Falls City area, and who is firmly convinced there is oil in this part of Nebraska. Several farmers and business men are financially interested in the effort.

Last of E. C. James Children Graduates

With the closing of the Ord schools this spring, there will cease to be a member of the E. C. James family in school for the first time since 1913, when Ralph James entered the first grade shortly after his parents moved to Ord.

Last of the family representatives to finish school in Ord was Bob James, who was graduated Tuesday night and has already been enrolled as a naval aviation cadet.

Between Ralph and Robert there were seven other James children who attended the Ord schools, beginning and concluding their grade and high school studies here.

Late this summer Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James plan to move to Lincoln to make their home.

Made Rapid Advance. A rapid advance in the army is that of Richard E. Vasicek, of Ord, who has been at home on furlough for several days prior to taking up his assignment at Fort Sill, Okla. Inducted through selective service last September, young Vasicek was selected for officers' training school directly from the ranks and recently was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant.

Amphibian Jeep in Motor Convoy from Ft. Crook

Ten Field Officers, Class of 150 Junior Officers, Here for Three Days.

Another motor convoy from Fort Crook arrived in Ord Sunday afternoon with 39 vehicles and about 150 officers and men comprising a regular motor convoy class, in addition to which there were ten field officers headed by Col. Huntington, of New Orleans, who accompanied the class for observation purposes. Captain Lee Huff, jr., was commander of the convoy.

With the convoy on this trip was an amphibian jeep capable of progressing through water as well as on land. Resembling nothing so much as a metal boat with wheels, the jeep got much attention from Ord people, most of whom had never seen anything like it. The water-going jeep was tested in the Loup river and also at Lake Burwell and in the Cedar river.

At 9:00 Monday evening the entire convoy left on a 12-mile dim-out trip up the Haskell Creek road. Patrols were sent out to extinguish their lights while the convoy was in the neighborhood, so proper dim-out conditions could be obtained, and Captain Huff is grateful for the fine cooperation given. Motorists also were halted and asked to turn out their headlights.

Tuesday the convoy held field exercises in the Petersen pasture north and west of Burwell, going through the hills to Gables and back to Ord by way of the Ericson highway. Tuesday evening the group was entertained at a dance in the Masonic hall and a smoker in the Legion hall and early Wednesday morning returned to Omaha. Another convoy will be here in about a month.

R. Severson Gets Bombardier's Wings

Richard R. Severson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Severson of Ord, was graduated last week from the huge air corps school for bombardiers at Midland, Tex., one of four in what is known as the "West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle," and was commissioned as a 2nd lieutenant. Four huge classes were graduated the same day from the four schools, among them five Nebraskans, only Severson being from the Quiz territory.

Lieut. Severson is in Ord this week on a short furlough and will then go to Salt Lake City, assigned to the air corps replacement pool.

J. A. Kovanda was able to meet his classes again this week at the high school.

Respected Citizen Came Here in 1891; Was Active in Church, Club Duties.

Mrs. W. S. King, 72, died Sunday afternoon at her home in Ord after a brief illness, following a long period of ill health, and funeral services were held Tuesday at the Pearson chapel with Rev. P. W. Rupp officiating. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

She was born at Fisher, Champaign county, Ill., on Aug. 5, 1870, the eldest daughter of John and Louisa Cochran, and was married to William S. King on April 24, 1890, in the town of her birth. A short time after their marriage they came to Nebraska, settling first in Holt county and in 1891 coming to Valley county which remained Mrs. King's home until her death.

A farm in Mira Valley was the family home until 1930 in which year she and her husband moved to Ord, occupying a comfortable home in the west part of town. There they observed their golden wedding anniversary three years ago.

In youth Mrs. King affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church but later united with the United Brethren church at Midvale and at the time of her death was a member of the U. B. church of Ord. She was active in church work, serving in various capacities most efficiently. She was a member also of the Jolly Sisters club and of the Woman's Home Missionary society.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Clara Belle, of East Chicago, Ind., and Mattie Grace, of Oxford, Miss., and by two sons, Irving and Theodore, both of Ord. One daughter died in infancy. There are also three grandchildren, one brother, Walter Roy Cochran, of Amarillo, Tex., and several nieces and nephews.

At the funeral Tuesday a quartet composed of Madams Roscoe Tolly and E. O. Carlson, Messrs. Robert Noll and John Haskell, sang "Old Rugged Cross" and "Rock of Ages," accompanied by Mrs. Noll at the piano. Mrs. John Mason and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis were in charge of flowers. Present from out of town were the two daughters and also Mrs. Burt Kilpatrick, of York.

Ord Schools Seek Five New Teachers

Three Ord teachers have definitely declared they will not return to teach here next year; Henry L. Deines, who will teach music at Shenandoah, Ia., a distinct promotion; Edgar Farley, and Mrs. Rhoda Paap.

Ord's three pinch-hitting substitute teachers, who have taught several months each, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Mark Tolen and Mrs. Edward Kokes also will not teach next year, says Superintendent Thompson. A mathematics teacher has already been signed, Mrs. Jean Roe, a University of Nebraska graduate who has been teaching at Liberty, Neb. Mrs. Roe's husband is serving in New Guinea at the present time.

Summer plans of the grade school teachers are in keeping with the times, most of them planning to spend a quiet summer at home, or perhaps go to school a few weeks. Miss Lois Finley, Mrs. Tolen, Miss Inez Swain, Miss Lucy Rowbal are among this group.

Mrs. Jefferies, who has received word that her soldier husband is hospitalized and will undergo a major operation almost immediately, will probably go to Arkansas to join him, and will go to school at Peru later.

Miss Elsner will go to California for part of the summer, and spend some of it at home in Loup City.

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

"Herbie First Date" and "Herbie the Hero" were two one act plays given by the eighth grade graduates Wednesday night at the community hall under the direction of their teacher, Miss Hazel Stevens. The scene of the first play was the Sanders dining room in the late afternoon and found Herbie, Richard Hutchins, getting ready to go to the dance with his first date and discovering that his clothes were too small. Mrs. Sanders, Ila Gilmore, came to his rescue with money for a new pair of trousers, money that had been saved for his sister, Kay's new dress. Kay and Peggy, Phyllis Babcock and Darlene Eberhart, tried to spoil the date with Judy Andrews, Joan Clement, with the help of Jack Bradley, Duane Meyers, and Dick Harding, Deane Reddon, but were unsuccessful. The second play was in the living room of the Sanders camp in the mountains with Herbie, Kenton Kerr, trying to show himself a hero to Judy, Phyllis Babcock, by pretending there was a burglar in the house. Mrs. Sanders, Joyce King, suitcase disappeared and Kay and Peggy, Venetta Roby and Carolyn Brown discovered it where Herbie had hidden it. Mrs. Sanders in the meantime went for the Sheriff, Deane Reddon, but before he arrived Dick and Jack, Harlan Green and Leland Van Horn, arrived and found a real burglar asleep upstairs. By capturing him Herbie did prove himself a hero. Two songs by the class and two by a quartette were given under the direction of Mrs. Elley. Darlene Eberhart read the class prophecy and Miss Stevens presented the class to Mr. Elley who awarded their diplomas. Graduates are Richard Hut-

Women of Nebraska . . .

You Can Help Write America's History!

Women of Nebraska—this is your war, too! You can help hasten the day when our soldier boys will return victorious. That will be a great day for all of us, because every day we shorten this war means fewer lives lost; fewer bodies maimed; less suffering everywhere.

Hundreds of Nebraska women have already accepted the challenge and are now in the service of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. But this is not enough! That's why this special appeal is necessary. The Army needs more Nebraska women for the WAAC—quickly—to keep pace with the growing strength of our armed forces.

Every new woman auxiliary means another soldier released to fight the enemy and hasten the ending of this war! Nebraska women between the ages of 21 and 44, skilled and unskilled—are needed.

On May 16 of this year, the WAAC will celebrate its first birthday. Within just this one year its members have shown by their sincerity, their determination and their devotion that they have an important part in the winning of the war. They are proving that America's women can efficiently take over Army jobs in offices, as typists, stenographers, receptionists, stewards, telephone operators, in the motor corps, and the countless other jobs behind the lines.

Every member of the Corps wears appropriate uniforms, insignia and accessories supplied by the Government. Salaries paid are the same as those paid to men in the Army of comparable grade. Every applicant will have an equal opportunity to be selected for Officers' Training School on the basis of all-around performance and ability.

Women of Nebraska, here's your chance to help write America's history . . . to hasten Victory!

Now -- Farm the Ford Way!

We have had the pleasure of delivering seven tractors and quite a number of implements throughout this territory the past two months. It is interesting to us to note the outstanding farms changing to FORD at the first opportunity, even though they do have to take war tractors on steel.

Some of these men are the Outhouses, who operate extensively in Sherman county in the farming, lumber and banking business; Alyce Wibbles of Wolbach; Paul Scherfeldt in Loup county; Harry Bresley in Valley county; and many others. When such men as these who we believe to be leaders in their line of endeavor change to Ford, why shouldn't you come in and see us before buying any kind of tractor.

We have three new grinders in this week and are really getting quite a lot of new equipment under the rationing program and we believe any one of you will be glad you drove to North Loup when you buy your equipment.

DON'T BE MISLED BY RATION POINTS

Just because a certain cut of meat has a high point value don't get the idea that it's more nourishing than other cuts lower in point cost. Often the exact opposite is the case. Meat is rationed, not by its calories and vitamins, but its demand by the public.

Consult us about the tasty, nourishing cuts of meat that can be bought without straining your point allowance. You'll be surprised what delicious meals you can serve with meats that cost only 3 or 4 points per pound instead of the "luxury meat" that cost 8 or 9. Your pocketbook will see the difference, too.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT "self-cleaning" FOR LASTING WHITENESS

PAINT FOR PROTECTION

DU PONT House Paint gives you the utmost in protection, because it forms a tough, durable film which guards the surface against rot and decay. And it gives you lasting whiteness, too. That's because Du Pont House Paint is "self-cleaning"! Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface, which is washed away by heavy rains. This powder carries the dirt with it, and exposes a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal weather conditions. It may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities. Because this "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the film are not abnormally affected. Du Pont "self-cleaning" House Paint, in white and Tru-Tint colors, costs you no more than other good paints.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT in 5-gallon lots 3.10

Because it protects America's war equipment, paint is a vital defense material. Use point carefully. We will be glad to recommend a reliable painter. He knows how to do the job right, how much or how little paint to use. His skill means savings for you—and paint conservation for America.

ABC's of Home Canning

Victory canning is food insurance. Though conserving on canned goods alters our food buying somewhat, it's no time to slight the nutritional standards of our menus. That's why canning foods at home is becoming a major kitchen industry. Foresight, better means, and more food enjoyment later on.

GET THE LATEST INFORMATION — Old hands at canning as well as beginners should look to the newest information and material on canning for their rules. Grandmother's methods were all right for her day, but new discoveries about vitamins, minerals, and other nutritional facts have outmoded information of even a few seasons back.

CLEANLINESS AND STERILIZATION — One of the first and most important rules in home canning is cleanliness and sterilization. It is not too much to say that you should be almost fanatical on this point if you don't want to lose foods through spoilage. That's why we recommend that canning be done in small lots rather than all at once.

Non-acid vegetables, (which means all vegetables except tomatoes and peppers) fish, poultry, and meats (all of which are non-acid foods) HAVE to be heated to a temperature of 240°F. to 250°F.—far above the boiling point (212°F.)—in order to destroy the organisms which cause botulism (food poisoning) and other types of spoilage. That is why it is imperative that a pressure cooker be used for the sterilization of these foods. However, it is not necessary to have a pressure cooker in order to can fruits, tomatoes, and peppers.

WHEN TO CAN — Can foods when they are in full season. It is more economical then. And can them at their peak of freshness; to capture all their vitamins and minerals.

NEWS ON DUET COOKING — Timely and complete is Julia Lee Wright's article "Cooking for Two" in this week's Family Circle magazine. Get your copy free at Safeway. A new issue out every Tuesday.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Fellow came in the other day and started in to give me heck for stopping his paper. He admitted that he received my notice that his subscription was about to expire; he also admitted that he knew our rule of cash-in-advance still he thought I should have kept his paper going. But when I showed him the losses we had sustained in the past by doing just that, he paid up for another year and said he would do the same as I was doing and he didn't blame me a bit.

But I have hated to stop the paper, especially that of a good friend who has taken it a long time. Still, if one is to have a rule there is only one fair way and that is to make it apply to all; in other words, to treat all alike. A few years ago I so disliked to stop people's paper that I personally took care of the subscriptions of some long time subscribers and old friends, who failed to renew but who I was sure wanted the paper. Most of them paid me and appreciated the favor. But eight per cent of them have not paid and the loss is mine personally. So I learned that lesson. And now there is no foolishness about it. We want you to have the paper, if you want it and if you don't pay up when your time is out, we have to conclude that you don't want it. We will try to send a notice to all before their time is out but we cannot take the time to write several times.

The Quiz now reaches more than double the people in the North Loup trade territory that the Loyalist did when it was running. The same is true of the Arcadia trade territory.

When subscriptions are paid by check or money order I have the name but when cash is sent the sender should put his name on the outside of the coin envelope.

For Senior Girls.

In honor of the 36 senior girls who are graduating from Ord high school in the class of 1943, Business and Professional Women's club of Ord entertained at a tea at the home of Miss Clara McClatchey on Sunday afternoon from three until five o'clock.

A lovely tea table had been arranged by Misses Mary Frances Manchester and Wilma Cochran, dainty with a lace cloth on which a maypole was placed on a mirror plaque. From the end of each tiny streamer of the maypole was fastened a wee bouquet of spring blossoms. Crystal candlesticks held green and yellow tapers.

Ice cream cups were arranged to resemble pink morning glories, adding to the delicacy of the effect. For the first hour Mrs. J. A. Kovanda and Miss Helen Prouty poured, and during the second hour Miss McClatchey assisted Miss Prouty at the tea table. Miss Marilyn Long played soft music during the tea hours.

Misses Viola Puncchochar, Virginia Davis and June Stover were hostesses and welcomed the guests.

In charge of the kitchen was Mrs. Orin Kellison, with Miss Luetta Kuehl and Miss Roberta Stoddard to assist in the serving.

Miss Davis was chairman of the tea committee, and Miss June Stover and Mrs. Olof Olson were her committeemen.

Modern Priscillas.

Thursday Mrs. Esther Manchester was hostess to Modern Priscilla members at pinochle, Mrs. J. W. McGinnis winning both high and traveling prizes, Mrs. Sylvia Stewart the low prize. A lovely lunch was served to the 10 members and three guests, who were Mrs. McGinnis, Mrs. Emma Hurder, and Mrs. Alberta Bleach.

Chris Beters' Birthday.

In honor of his birthday, 30 or 35 good friends assembled at the country home of Chris Beters Sunday late, taking the makings for a fine midnight supper, which was served after a jolly evening together.

Mrs. Koll Remembered.

Honoring the birthday of Mrs. Hartwig Koll, a group of friends surprised her on Wednesday evening, bringing a good lunch with them. On Thursday evening a second group of friends came with another fine lunch, surprising Mrs. Koll again.

P. E. O. Monday Eve

Mrs. J. W. Severns was hostess at an early evening meeting of the P. E. O. on Monday, with Mrs. Sadie Armstrong an out-of-town guest. After a business session the meeting adjourned in favor of the class night exercises at the high school. There will be only one more meeting this year, a picnic, to be definitely planned later.

Jolly Juniors.

Mrs. A. R. Brox was the hostess Friday afternoon to the Jolly Juniors. Following the business meeting Dr. Zeta Nay gave a talk on food values. Two new members, Madams Nash and Tom Williams, were present. A delightful table arrangement had been made, with a low centerpiece like a lily pond, and small individual corsages. Mrs. W. L. Blessing will entertain the ground Friday of next week, when Mrs. Ferd Heunecke will be co-hostess.

Aid Society.

Mrs. J. W. Severns will entertain ladies of the Methodist Aid society Wednesday, today, with Mrs. Ernest Achen assisting her.

For Catholic Graduates.

At the Catholic church Sunday 22 seniors in cap and gown filed in to attend services by Rev. Thomas Siudowski, who had arranged a special mass and special sermon in their honor. The young people seemed impressed with Rev. Siudowski's remarks which dealt especially with choosing a vocation or the need for more education.

Mrs. Pelska Hostess.

Mrs. Jim Pelska was the hostess Thursday to members of her pinochle club, at which Mrs. Guy LeMasters made high score, and Mrs. Anna Socha low score. Two traveling prizes were given to Mrs. Joe Dworak and Mrs. Ray Melia. Next Tuesday, May 25, Mrs. John Ulrich will be the hostess to the ladies.

Mrs. James Pelska will have St. Ann's Study club at her home this Wednesday.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

big dipper and the north star here but instead we can see the southern cross. I have had opportunity to get out and see quite a bit of the city and its environs. The city is just as modern as any American one. It is larger than any city within several hundred miles of home. It isn't a whole lot different in the city than in American ones. They have Woolworth's, Penney and Macy stores here. The street cars, which are called trams, go faster than those in Chicago. Owing to the war the streets are quite dark at night. The traffic keeps to the left side of the road here and the steering wheels are on the right sides of the cars. Most of the cars here are very old models and about the only decent looking ones you see belong to the American government.

The railroads here are very different. In my opinion this is the respect in which Australia is the most backward. The engines are small and look to be about 50 years behind times. The cars are small, both freight and passenger. All the passenger cars I have seen have been painted red. Each state has the rails spaced a different width and all freight has to be reloaded in passing from one state to another. Most of the people live in cities near the seacoast where the climate is more pleasant. They have large ranches here of thousands of acres which they operate by remote control. These ranches are called stations. I have seen none of them yet. The grass grows beautifully in Australia. All the cattle I have seen have been rather poorly fed shorthorn milk cows. The milk here is the best tasting I have ever drunk. We can buy a pint for 5 pennies. Australian pints and pennies are both larger than ours. We get lots of splendid meat here. The beef is very good tasting. The grass grows lush and tall on the "stations" during the rainy season. The cattle are kept off certain ranges until the dry seasons come when the grass dries and the cattle are turned in on it and fatten quickly. Fruit is plentiful here. The pineapple, bananas and grapes are the best I have ever tasted. All are grown here. The bananas are smaller than those we get at home. They and the pineapple are grown in Australia. There are melons and pears in the fruit stores. The peaches are not ripe yet. The apples are inclined to be yellow. They are not as red as American apples, which I think are the better. Australian oranges are yellow. They are sweeter than those in America. The country isn't grapefruit conscious yet.

The vegetables I've eaten are inferior to those in America. The green beans are tough and stringy and the tomatoes are small and of poor quality. The people here make gardens just about any time the notion strikes them. It seldom frosts here.

I never did see so many beautiful flowers. Every house has a yard full. They are mostly kinds which I have never seen before. There are wonderful roses, dahlias, and chrysanthemums. Lantanas grow wild. Some people have hedges of them in their yards. Poinsettias are very common here. Begonias of endless varieties grow as large as small trees. With the exception of fruit trees, I have seen none of the kinds which we have in America. The trees have glossy, waxy leaves and many of them have beautiful blooms. I haven't had opportunity yet to visit any of the parks or botanical gardens, which I want very much to see.

Bob Flynn Died Hero's Death in Air

Ord people who knew Bob Flynn when he and his parents lived in Ord, until the family moved away when Bob was 16, will be proud to know that the young flier died in the finest soldierly tradition. The following story was printed in the World-Herald last week:

Blair, Neb., May 13—Lt. Robert Kelly, 27, died a hero's death over the English channel February 15 as his battered bomber tried desperately to get back to England after a raid on European territory.

Lt. Flynn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Flynn, have received a letter from Lt. William D. Hughes, the co-pilot, who reports the Blair man died after he had saved the rest of the crew by releasing the plane's bombs by hand after the release mechanism had been destroyed by enemy fire.

Lt. Hughes' letter said in part: "We were damaged by anti-aircraft fire and were unable to keep up with the rest of the ships. Without their protection we were the principal object of fighter fire. Kelly's bomb release mechanism had been shot out of commission so that he was unable to drop his bombs. Incidentally, Kelly could drop a bomb down a chimney from five miles up—he knew his business.

"With the weight of the bombs aboard and two of our engines out and one on fire, which left us with practically no power at all, we lost altitude fast. Kelly stuck with his gun.

Lt. Flynn is a nephew of Clifford Flynn of Ord. Until he entered the service of his country he and his father operated a splendid dairy near Blair, their Brown Swiss cattle being one of the show herds of the country.

I haven't seen any kangeroos or any natives. The Australian people are very friendly, particularly the women and children. It is very difficult to understand them and I have to guess at about half of what they say. Many of them speak with a decided Irish or Scotch brogue. To me these are the easiest ones to understand. The English coldness and aloofness have been dropped. Australia is really making an all out war effort. It looks like every able bodied man here is in the army. All businesses not vitally necessary are closed. All men up to 60 and those unfit for military service are drafted for labor. These men are put into the C. C. C. which is a labor corps. They are sent wherever needed and can not quit their jobs any more than a soldier can. I have seen men working who looked to be 80 and others who looked like they belonged in a hospital. The aged, sick and women are doing the work here. The Australian soldier is a picturesque character. He wears a hat, which is a hybrid between the Captain Kidd type and a 10 gallon one. Usually his shirt has short sleeves while his trousers end about a foot above the knees. He wears three quarter length hose. He walks with a swagger and seems to be not the least self conscious about his trousers which no American boy would be caught dead in.

The women are not as well dressed as those in America. I have yet to see one wearing silk hose. They wear cotton or go bare legged. It is not uncommon to see men going barefoot. Many Australians have poor or false teeth. The water here is very soft. It is supposed to be lacking in minerals. The people are reputed to eat few vegetables. The girls are very attractive and seem to be quite fond of the Americans. Many of them have thrown over their Australian boy friends for the Yanks which has tended (censored)—There isn't much here one can buy. Everything is rationed. Prices are government controlled and are cheap. Even the prices of meals are limited, consequently swank and frills are eliminated in the restaurants but the food is good. We can go to free out-of-doors picture shows here but most of the films are very old. The Australians put on some real good stage shows for us.

The birds here are most interesting. The only one common to home is the English sparrow. A bird called the laughing Jackass is the most common and the national bird of Australia. It makes a noise like a rain crow except that it is louder and shriller. One day I worked near a swamp where I saw many birds. They have wild head here which are as large as a chicken. They are coal black and have red workings on their bills and legs about two feet long. I also saw some beautiful white birds in the swamp but couldn't find out what they were. There are some ugly looking buzzards of enormous size. The birds don't seem to be afraid of people and you can get up real close to them before they fly. Beautiful blue water lilies grow in the swamp. I waded in and picked one which was very fragrant. I did mean to tell you what the laughing Jackass looked like. It is a large black and white bird like a magpie but not as pretty. It has a large bill and wings like a red-headed wood pecker.

The houses here are built up on pilings like those in Arkansas. They all have tile corrugated steel roofs and have lots of ornate decorations on them. Well I guess I had better close. I haven't had any mail since I've been here. I haven't had much time to write. This is my second letter. Let me know if you get my pictures. The boys I was with in the cactus country are camped fairly near here but I haven't seen them yet. I hope you are all fine and well settled by now.

Lots of love
REX WAGNER.

District 42 held a community picnic at the school house Sunday. School closed there Friday. Miss Viola Clement, who has been teacher, will return another year.

Dr. George Thorngate and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis have been interned near Shanghai by the Japanese, according to word received by Mrs. Thorngate at Alfred, N. Y., recently. Dr. Thorngate, a former North Loup young man, and medical missionary in China, went to an internment camp the middle of February and the Davises a few days later to a different camp. The letter telling of their internment said they were allowed time to pack their things to be left with neutral friends, and were allowed to take their own bedding, mosquito nets, unbreakable dishes and eating utensils and to bring books and sporting equipment. Mr. Davis had collected seeds and hoped to find a spot where he would be allowed to raise fresh vegetables. Friends who had been interned earlier had been treated well as to food, sanitary arrangements, and exercise so they went off blithely referring to it as a "vacation in the country with friends". There is still a possibility of an additional exchange of civilian internees between Japan and America and Mrs. J. A. Barber, sister of Dr. Thorngate, has hopes that her brother may yet return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Woldemath entertained at dinner and a card party Sunday night in honor of Mrs. Woldemath's father's P. E. Clement's birthday.

Pork is Your Best Meat Buy

American farmers are producing more pork than was thought possible a few short months ago and right now pork represents your finest buy in meat, both from the standpoint of economy and that of ration points.

Come in and let us help you select a pork roast or some pork steak or chops, some pork liver or some of the cheaper cuts of pork which are low in point and money cost.

Its patriotic to eat pork, too, for except for certain cuts that can be smoked or dehydrated for easy shipment the army overseas prefers beef because it refrigerates and keeps better.

The marriage was read by the Father Michael Szeszsy of Sargent. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Eastburg of Brady, Nebr., former pastor of the Westcott church.

The couple were attended by Miss Audrey Emry, sister of the bride, and Norris Eastburg of Brady. THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Our men in the service in this war have pretty definite ideas about what they're fighting for and the way they want to find our country when they come back...don't you think so, Judge?"

"I certainly do, George. Just a week or so ago I was reading in a national magazine the results of a poll taken among our soldiers. Each man was given a questionnaire containing twenty-five 'assignments' for the folks at home. He was asked to check the first five in order of importance to him.

"Out of thousands of replies the first 'assignment' to the folks back home was 'Make sure I'll have a job in my chosen field of work when I get back'. Number 5 was 'Make sure that Prohibition isn't put over on us again.'

"When the men in the last war came home and found prohibition had been put over on them behind their backs they were sore as boils. You can see from what I just told you how they feel about it this time, too."

"NORCO PORKY" Says

IT'S PATRIOTIC TO CONSERVE FEED

It's every hog raisers job to produce the most possible pork out of every pound of feed. The best way to conserve feed is to feed a balanced ration so that the hog will utilize all the feed it eats. Practical hog raisers agree that Norco Hog-Maker Supplement and corn make a well balanced ration that will produce fast gains at low cost. Ask your Norco dealer about the Norco Way to make hogs pay.

Plans for Summer Are Announced by the Ord Teachers

Summer School, Work on Farms and Railroad Are Samples; None Idle.

Ord teachers will pursue the even tenor of their several ways this coming summer, they report, with nothing in most of their plans that is extremely unusual.

J. A. Kovanda, who was back in his classroom the last few days of school but a bit shaky after his recent severe illness, will likely add a few pounds as he visits the projects of his boys, and spends a quiet summer. The Kovanda family probably will visit their Peru, Neb., relatives for a few days, about two weeks from now.

Roscoe Tolly and his family will go to Osborne, Kas., to spend some time with Mrs. Tolly's people. Mr. Tolly will attend a school for coaches in August, somewhere. He also wants to work this summer: "I don't think Uncle Sam wants me to loaf this summer, do you?"

Edgar Farley knows his plans for the summer. He will be in Lincoln, working hard at the University of Nebraska on a scholarship of inter-American affairs. He does not expect to return to Ord next fall.

Miss Elizabeth Lukes has summer plans for working hard in a big Victory garden. She also wants to do some studying, reviewing languages, working on Czech particularly. She has ten hours credit in Czech, as well as 19 hours of German, and would also like to study Spanish this summer. She and her sisters may have to go out to the farm to shock some grain again, as they did last summer.

Mrs. E. I. Clark, formerly Iris Krebs, will be in Ord three weeks during June and three weeks during August, visiting projects. July she will spend with her husband, if he is located so she can. Sgt. Clark is now at Jefferson Barracks, but will be moved before long. Mrs. Clark is feeling fine again after a recent operation and a brief spell with measles.

A. J. Cochrane hopes to drive a tractor on a farm for someone in Valley county, "if anyone will hire me," he says. He likes Ord and plans to teach here again next year.

Miss Wilma Shavlik, dramatic coach and speech teacher, will go to the University of Nebraska and work toward her master's degree in English, attending both terms of summer school. She will have a week to spend at her home in Morse Bluffs, between schools.

Miss Helen Prouty will also go to Lincoln and work on her masters' her field being science and mathematics. Her home is at Shelton, but her visits there will necessarily be short this summer, remarked Miss Prouty as she went ahead with the inventory of laboratory supplies at the high school.

Superintendent C. C. Thompson will spend several weeks of the summer at his desk in Ord, and probably be in town all summer, excepting a two-week vacation in June at Seward with Mrs. Thompson's parents, the Jearns.

Miss Lillian Kidder will go to the University of Nebraska and finish work on her masters' degree in English. She will have two weeks to spend at her home in Salina, Kans., one at the first and one at the last of the summer.

Mrs. Edward Kokes will leave the merry clatter of the busy commercial rooms for the peace and quiet of a big garden and yard, with a good deal of canning in prospect.

F. L. Stoddard, principal of the high school, hopes to follow his usual pattern of doing out-door work, physical work, after an indoor winter at the high school. But he does not plan to go to the harvest fields this summer, as he often has; instead he will do railroad work.

The two janitors, Ralph Hatfield and Tom Williams, have a heavy schedule before them, with dozens of desks to put shipshape, several floors to re-finish, cleaning, scouring, and general straightening to do all over the high school building.

Potatoes a Pay Crop.

Incentive payments will be made in 1943 to growers of Irish potatoes. It is requested that all growers in Valley county who have planted or intend to plant 2.7 acres of potatoes or more to inform the AAA office at once in order that proper record can be made on the listing sheets.

Zikmund Graduates from Uni Monday

Allen H. Zikmund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Zikmund, graduated from the University of Nebraska Monday, May 24. Mr. and Mrs. Zikmund went down to Lincoln Sunday and attended baccalaureate services, and Monday attended graduation exercises.

Allen entered the university in the fall of 1939, and as a freshman won the numeral awards in football and track. He then won three major awards in football and one major letter in track. He may be remembered especially from his performance in the Rose Bowl football game of 1941. As a sophomore, he was selected by the faculty as one of the 10 outstanding sophomores of the year. In his junior year he was elected junior class president. In his senior year, Allen was tapped into the Innocents society, senior class men's honorary. He was also vice-president of the "N-Club." He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Allen graduated with the bachelor of science degree in secondary education, the Nebraska initial secondary certificate, and certificate in physical education.

He is enlisted in the naval reserve, class V-7, and will go into officers training by July 1.

Big Crowd Attends Annual 8th Grade Commencement

Ninety-five eighth grade boys and girls from the rural schools of Valley county received certificates of promotion Monday evening at a well-attended program held in the Ord high school auditorium. The large attendance and the interest shown by patrons was pleasing to pupils and teachers and to Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent.

The program started with a violin solo by Mr. Henry Deines, after which came a reading demonstration by Dist. 54 school, students taking part being Dale Zikmund and Charlene Mulligan. Music by Marjorie and Verlee Mulligan followed. Miss Mathausser teaches this school.

Most interesting was the first aid demonstration by the Hillsdale school, where Miss Leota Crosby teaches. Mary Lou Beran, Marion Geneski, Marvin Jablonski, Donald Geneski, and Marcella Jablonski took part.

Gloria Graf and Charlene Paise of the Davis Creek school gave a song. A puppet show was given by the students of Springdale school, where Mary Frances Manchester is teacher. Miss Elizabeth Kovanda offered a reading, "My Sister Eileen."

Ord Stores Plan to Close All Day Decoration Day

Services Monday Morning at Cemetery to Honor Dead of All Past Wars.

Ord stores will be closed throughout Monday, May 31 instead of only from 10:00 to 2:00 as requested by Mayor Cummins in a proclamation, said officers of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday after sounding out sentiment of business men. Only the stores that usually open Sunday morning will be open at any time Monday and all business places will close during the services.

At the cemetery the program will be carried out under auspices of the American Legion, with the parade forming at the memorial plot in Bussell park at 10:00 and marching into the cemetery at 10:30. There the principal address will be made by Edgar S. Farley.

Service men home on furlough are especially urged to take part in the services. Ign. Klimka, Jr., is in general charge of arrangements on behalf of the Legion.

Bob Dana Accepted as Aviation Cadet

Robert J. Dana, 17 years old, son of Mrs. Agnes T. Dana, Route 1, Ord, has enlisted at the Kansas City Naval Cadet Selection board as an apprentice seaman, V15, in the United States Naval Reserve. He is a 1943 graduate of Ord high school and after he becomes 18 years old, he will be transferred to class V-5, naval aviation cadet, and will begin training leading to a commission as a flying officer in the Naval Reserve or the Marine Corps Reserve. Before his transfer, he may receive a year of college training at the Navy's expense.

The Kansas City board is authorized to enlist each month in naval aviation 200 young men who have reached their seventh but not their eighteenth birthday anniversaries.

Crop Experiments Creating Interest

Two experiments which will be watched with interest by many irrigators in the North Loup valley, were started this past week by the agronomy department of the College of Agriculture.

The first is a commercial fertilizer on sugar beets on the farm of W. O. Zanger. Strips of beets were treated with four different types of commercial fertilizer with varying proportions of nitrogen, potassium and phosphorus, and untreated strips were left as checks against the fertilized beets. The fertilized strips and the check strips which are part of a larger field will be harvested and weighed up separately this fall to determine any increases in yield which may result from the application of fertilizer. Beet yields in this valley have been relatively low in the past few years in comparison with yields in other beet growing areas and it is possible that commercial fertilizers may help to increase yields.

Walter Fitts of the agronomy department and County Agent C. C. Dale planned and worked out the fertilizer applications.

The second test is a planting of various types of waxy corn on the Floyd Wetzel farm. It will be recalled that several farmers grew a total of about 100 acres of waxy corn last year in an experimental way for the National Starch Products Co. This year the company is contracting with farmers on a commercial basis and several hundred acres will be grown in the county.

The commercial waxy corn is an open pollinated corn, and has the disadvantages of all open pollinated varieties, lower yields than hybrids, and a tendency for the stalks to lodge.

Plant breeders of the college and the U. S. department of cross breeding the waxy starch Agriculture have succeeded in character into hybrids, such as Iowa no. 939 and U. S. no. 35. The purpose of the test is to compare the waxy hybrids with the commercial waxy corn and also with other hybrids to get a yield comparison.

The test plots will be separately husked and weighed up this fall and the percentage of broken and lodged stalks of each variety, noted and recorded.

It is expected that in 1944 the waxy hybrids will be available for the commercial plantings.

Plans Finally Completed for Canning Sugar

White Stamps 15-16 Good for 5 Lbs. Each Now; Limit 25 lbs. for Canning.

Final details on how to obtain sugar for home canning are announced this week by Hilding O. Pearson, chairman of the Valley county war price and ration board, who said that the details are part of a simplified plan forecast last week by the OPA.

"According to the revised program, stamps numbered 15 and 16 in War Ration Book No. 1 will each be good for five pounds of sugar for home canning," Pearson said. "Consumers will obtain this sugar by taking their ration books to retailers rather than applying to local boards for sugar coupons as was announced earlier."

Stamps 15 and 16 became valid May 25 and may be used for obtaining canning sugar in the amounts of 5 pounds each thru October 31.

No change has been made in the rate at which sugar for canning will be made available—one pound for each four quarts, or eight pounds, of finished fruit and five pounds per person for making jams and jellies, with a total not to exceed 25 pounds per person, which will provide for 80 quarts of fruit and the jams or jellies.

Consumers who require more than the ten pounds of sugar thus obtainable with sugar stamps may make application later to the local ration board for additional allotments, up to the 25 pound per person limit, Pearson said. Special days for filing such applications will be announced later, when volunteer workers will aid Mrs. Grace Sprague and her clerks in accepting the applications and issuing the certificates. It is believed that the 10 pounds per person now obtainable with stamps 15 and 16 will take care of present fruit crops, and therefore applications for sugar in excess of this quantity are not being accepted at the present time.

Assistance Clients Urged to Take Jobs

"Nebraska is facing a manpower shortage and the state assistance department wants to encourage all employable assistance recipients to contribute to the war effort by securing whatever employment they are able to assume," says a statement prepared by Neil C. Vandemoer, state assistance director.

He emphasizes, however, that eligibility and amounts of assistance payments must continue to be based on the client's needs, and that if the client is meeting his needs from other sources the assistance department cannot legally provide him with old-age assistance.

Small, irregular earnings from employment of short duration will have little or no effect on eligibility for assistance or the amount of the grant, but any regular employment must be considered in determining eligibility and the amount of the payment, Vandemoer said.

DUPONT HOUSE PAINT FOR LASTING WHITENESS

DUPONT House Paint keeps white houses WHITE. That's because Du Pont chemists have made it "self-cleaning."

Here's how it works: Like all paint, Du Pont House Paint collects dirt on exposure. As time goes on, a fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash this powder away, carrying the dirt with it. The newly exposed surface is clean and white. "Self-cleaning" starts after a few months' exposure under normal weather conditions. Unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities may delay it. Because "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

In addition to lasting whiteness, Du Pont Paint gives you real protection! It forms a tough, durable film which guards the surface against rot and decay. Du Pont "self-cleaning" House Paint, in white and Tru-Tint colors, costs you no more than other good paints.

DUPONT HOUSE PAINT $3.10 in 5-gallon lots GAL.

Because paint protects America's war equipment, it is a vital defense material. Don't waste paint. We will be glad to recommend a reliable painter. He knows how to do the job right, how much or how little paint to use. His skill means savings for you—and paint conservation for America.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Just one more question before you go, Judge. What is this thing called propaganda you hear so much talk about these days?" "I'll give you an example, Hank. Last night I was reading an interesting little book called 'Hitler is in Favor'. It told how Hitler would very much like to see Americans fighting among themselves over prohibition because that would create disunity, waste the time of Congress and legislature in arguments and cripple our..."

also mentioned a booklet written about Hitler's government telling how Hitler's gang wants to maintain contact with foreign temperance organizations and how it contributes annually to an international temperance union. "You can bet Hitler's... seeing prohibition..."

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Victory gardeners, who have been struggling against unfavorable weather conditions this spring, must now be on the alert for cutworm damage especially to newly transplanted crops like tomatoes. The weather has been cold and this always increases the damage done by cutworms, as it delays the development from the cutworm stage to the pupa stage of this pest, which later emerges as the gray and brown moths or millers which are so common in the early summer.

The worms are likely to be especially numerous in new garden spots such as vacant lots which formerly grew up to grass or weeds.

There are two generally accepted methods of control. One is to use the small cylinders of heavy paper about the plants, extending one inch below the ground surface and two inches above ground. The other is to use a poison bran mixture, spread over the garden in the evening as cutworms feed largely at night. The poison bait formula follows: Stir 2 level tablespoonfuls of paris green or white arsenic into two quarts of dry bran. Then mix a half teacupful of molasses into a quart of water pour this slowly into the paris green and bran mixture, stirring constantly to insure thorough mixing. If thoroughly scattered there is no danger of poisoning birds, animals or children, but if scattered in lumps the bait is dangerous. The application should be repeated in five or six days if necessary.

Recent legislation passed by Congress and signed by the president has designated the Agricultural Extension Service and the U. S. Employment Service, to handle the farm labor situation in the United States.

At the same time word has come that it will be largely up to local communities to work out their labor problems at home by securing all labor available both skilled and unskilled for such jobs as harvesting small grain, threshing and corn picking. The army is releasing for farm work only a few experienced farmers who have passed the age of 38 years. It is not contemplated that furloughs for farm work will be issued to individuals. In certain areas near army camps it is stated that entire companies may be made available for short periods for such rush jobs as the harvesting of truck crops or fruits. It is probably a waste of time for parents to come to the County War Board and request the release or furlough of men under 38 years of age to help out on the home farm. The army takes the stand that such furloughs or discharges disrupt the training of entire units, and cannot be given if we want a strong, well trained army. Plans for registering all available local workers are being worked out by the Employment Service, Extension Service, and local farm and civic organizations.

Just For Fun—Picnic at Home

Lack of time, tires and gas may mean that picnics in the woods, at the lake or other recreation grounds are out of the question during the week-ends to come. But there's nothing that says we can't picnic at home. A backyard or nearby park offers opportunities to get out of doors. It's surprising how delicious commonplace meals taste when eaten out in the open, even if it is only a few steps from the kitchen.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY—Picnicking is a grand way for the entire neighborhood to get together and have fun. And if there are children of the romping age, the out-of-doors has added advantages.

Everyone can bring one part of the menu and everything can be pooled for a complete meal. Each family can contribute its share of meat, vegetables and the like to be made into sandwiches, salads, and other offerings. Or the neighbor who has chickens, rabbits or eggs might want to make his contribution accordingly as well as the neighbor who has the prize Victory garden. In any neighborhood, there are always some people who are long on some foods and short on others who would welcome this chance to share.

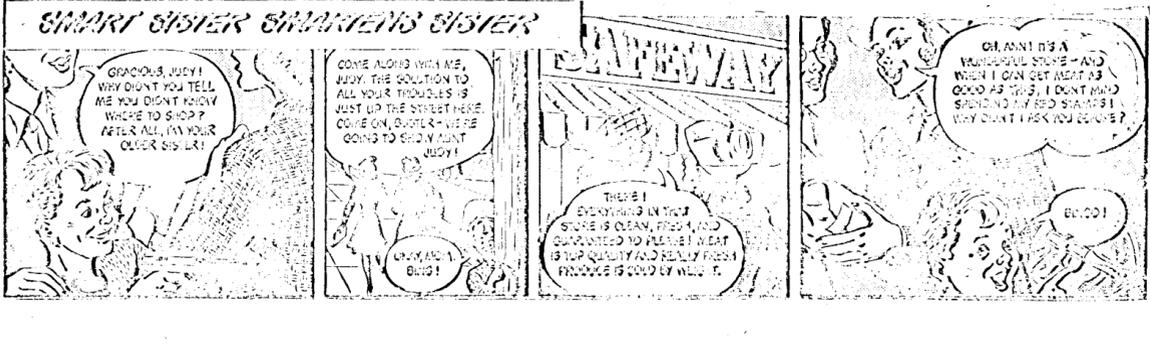

THE PICK-UP AFFAIR—Remember how you used to decide at the last minute to go to the woods for a spontaneous picnic? Pack the same kind of a last-minute lunch or supper and take to the backyard. Plan and pack the eats just as though you were going miles away from home. That eliminates running in and out of doors for something every other minute.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I just read a nice, long letter from John L. Ward, the first one received in a long time. But I can't complain because I don't write to John, way out there away from all his people and most of his friends, except a few new ones he has made among the Hula Hula girls and other natives. Then I sat, looking out of the office window as I thought over the things John wrote. He frankly admitted that he was making several times more than he ever was able to make in his whole life before and he also indicated that he had to do very little in return for the huge stipend he gets. And as I looked out on the lawn, a fat robin was frantically pecking at the ground, stopping, turning her head one way, then the other as if listening, then going after it as hard as she could. And within a foot of her sat a couple of English sparrows, watching closely. Pretty soon the robin brought forth a huge white grub and quick as a flash those sparrows made a dash and one of them flew away with the grub. The robin had worked for nothing. And then I thought some more about John Ward, who always seems to take keen delight in calling attention to the amount of wages he made on the Quiz and the amount he gets now. He makes more money by far than I can and he has no investment while I have many thousand dollars invested, have to meet a payroll every Saturday of around four hundred dollars, have to worry about taxes to pay the government, so they can pay John several times as much a week as my highest paid employee gets. And the employee works hard, mighty hard, while John admits that he don't have much to do. It don't seem right.

Neither does it seem right to me for war factory workers and coal mine workers to strike for more wages, thus blocking the war effort, while Uncle Sam takes the boys and sends them across the sea to fight and many of them to be shot to death, for a mere pittance compared to what the war factory workers and the mine workers and the John Wards, get. And if the soldier boys were to strike they would be tried for treason and be shot against a stone wall.

I know of two good remedies for an upset stomach. One is home cooked baked pork and beans; the other is a good, old fashioned boiled dinner. The latter consists of either pickled side pork or corned beef, I prefer the former, cabbage, turnips potatoes and if you want it extra good, some dumplings. Oh yes, I forgot the carrots. Sometimes we add a couple of parsnips and some beets, too. But in my judgment there are only a few women who know how to cook either. But that is no doubt because I only have experience with the way a few women cook them.

I can't remember a year when garden seeds were so slow in coming up. Guess it has been so cold that they were and are afraid to stick their heads out of the ground. And most of the seed comes so unevenly. A few of each kind came through in a reasonably short time, then the other seeds of the same kind kept coming for weeks. But we are beginning to get considerable good out of my big garden.

And there is another spring dish that is now timely and also healthy. It is greens, Mrs. Clate McGrew knows how well I like greens so the other day when she had enough for two messes and use for only one, she called me and said if I would hurry down there, she would give me some. I was there in three minutes and back in almost as many more, getting those greens ready for dinner. I like greens most any way. One way is to boil them till tender in salted water, pour the water off (and lose valuable properties) and dress the greens with a sour gravy.

Don't be mad at me if I fail to say anything this week about subscriptions, but just the same better check up on your expiration date.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

The growing of potatoes under straw gives best results in dry years, such as this one. And even during good years, as we had in 1942, the mulched plots have shown up to advantage.

We were discussing potatoes in class one day, and four students reported that they used mulches last spring. Their straw covered potatoes out-yielded the cultivated ones, said Ray Van Slyke and Donald Clement.

But two other boys named Robert Kokes declared there was little difference in the production of their mulched and tilled potatoes. First, Robert A.

Kokes told that potatoes from their mulched field were bigger, though fewer. Then, Robert J. Kokes stated that their straw-covered potatoes yielded the same as the others. They were of better quality, however, showing less knobbliness.

The usual way of mulching potatoes is to cover them with a half-foot or more of straw, when the plants have reached a height of 4 to 6 inches. Grown under straw, the tubers are less apt to produce knobs and growth cracks. Another advantage is that mulched potatoes make much better seed. They grow in cooler soil, which tends to hold back diseases.

Straw mulching has also increased the yields of tomatoes, sweet potatoes, egg plant, peppers and rhubarb. Straw will not discourage potato bugs. These pests are usually found in every patch, and must be sprayed against with arsenate of lead.

++ Something Different ++

Over at the high school they have posted some pictures showing the origin of our common measuring terms which are interesting to me.

For instance, the length "of left foot of 16 men, taken as they left church on Sunday morning", in a direct line, equals one rod...so 16th century citizens were told.

The inch and the foot? Well, three barley corns taken from mid-car, placed end to end, that equals one inch!

And in the days of Edward Two, about 1324, a foot varied in length all the way from 9 and 3/4 inches to 19 inches!

The cubit is a measure older yet, perhaps from Biblical days. To measure a cubit, the oldest of all measures, take the distance from a man's elbow to his middle finger-tip!

Most everyone knows about a yard...how it once was from the tip of your nose to the tips of your fingers, held at arm's length!

Once a bushel differed according to the basket in which it was measured, until at last a certain old wicker basket in England was designated "THE" bushel basket, and official measure.

You probably know many more stories of origins—aren't they fascinating to you?

Not all old things are of interest, just because of their age. But if they have either use, or beauty, they are of general appeal.

At the W. L. Blessing home the last of an old counterpane that was once a beauty now covers a couch on the front porch.

I knew at a glance what it was, because one similar to it descended from a sister to my mother's mother.

It was a dark blue and white linen one, woven so the pattern shows alternately on the two sides. At the Blessing home the words "Abram Van Rip" are woven into one end of the spread, probably the name of the owner and ancestor. It was quite worn.

At my parental home the date is woven into the corners, 1848. And a most elaborate pattern of national eagles, the white house, weeping willows and I don't know what all, borders and bands and motifs, ornament the spread in regular shifts. In the family it has always been revered, for the flax was grown on my great grandfather's place, then it was spun and dyed and woven there by his daughter!

The making of heirlooms has never ceased, for there are always women who like to spend every spare minute with some sort of handwork. Needlepoint is particularly fashionable the last few years, and many women enjoy doing it. Mrs. C. J. Miller is a good example locally.

In Grand Island, Mrs. J. E. Gelow has finished seats for all her dining room chairs, each one a little different from the others. And most attractive when assembled.

Perhaps more Ord women are doing fine crochet work, or quilt making than anything else. Most of the younger women seem to do a quantity of knitting, perhaps because it is a method of making such cunning sweaters and caps and mittens for small fry. And because they outwear the "boughten" ones so nobly.

Among the first young mothers to take it up were the Colliery twins who lived here until a few years ago, Mrs. Earl Blessing and Mrs. Kenneth Draper; their children had an assortment of bright hued sweaters.

—Irma.

Sunday honoring their daughter, Alma's 15th birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sich had as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brim, Mr. and Mrs. Vencil Brim and Louis, of Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. John Klat, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cepelcha, Helen and Willie, of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Sich, Emanuel and Eldon. RATION POINTS

Just because a certain cut of meat has a high point value don't get the idea that it's more nourishing than other cuts lower in point cost. Often the exact opposite is the case. Meat is rationed, not by its calories and vitamins, but its demand by the public.

Consult us about the tasty, nourishing cuts of meat that can be bought without straining your point allowance. You'll be surprised what delicious meals you can serve with meats that cost only 3 or 4 points per pound instead of the "luxury meat" that cost 8 or 9. Your pocketbook will see the difference, too.

Pork is Your Best Meat Buy

American farmers are producing more pork than was thought possible a few short months ago and right now pork represents your finest buy in meat, both from the standpoint of economy and that of ration points.

Come in and let us help you select a pork roast or some pork steak or chops, some pork liver or some of the cheaper cuts of pork which are low in point and money cost.

Its patriotic to eat pork, too, for except for certain cuts that can be smoked or dehydrated for easy shipment the army overseas prefers beef because it refrigerates and keeps better.

Cash Routh Dies at the Age of 81

Cash M. Routh was born on a farm near Galesburg, Ill., September 9, 1861, and passed away at his home in Arcadia, Nebraska, May 18, 1943.

When a young man he moved from Illinois to Nodaway county, Missouri, with his parents, where they engaged in farming. There he met Minnie A. Weddel, who was teaching school, and they were married on September 11, 1882, at Marysville, Mo. For three years they farmed in Missouri, and in 1885 moved to Jefferson County, Nebr., where they bought a farm near Steele City. After about ten years they moved to Omaha, Nebraska, where Mr. Routh was employed by Bekins Van and Storage company, and later, by the Hammond Packing Company. While in Omaha Mr. Routh bought his farm north of Arcadia, and in 1907 they moved to it, where they lived until 1919, with the exception of a year or two spent in Omaha. About twenty years ago, on account of Mr. Routh's health, they gave up active farming, and moved to their home in Arcadia, where Mrs. Routh passed on some three years ago.

Mr. Routh's parents, David S. Routh and Eliza Collins Routh, passed on many years ago in Missouri. He leaves one brother, Ed, in Portland, Ore., and a brother, John, in Clarkston Wash., also many nieces and nephews, and a cousin, Mrs. Frank Johnson, formerly of Ord. Relatives in Arcadia are the Percy Doe, Charles and Harold Weddel families, Mrs. Carrie Weddel and the D. O. Hayslets. Mr. and Mrs. Routh had no children of their own, but they were very dear to their nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Routh joined the Congregational church some years ago, and retained their memberships to the time of their deaths. Mr. Routh had served as an officer of the church. He was interested in community welfare, and had served on the village board. He was a staunch friend and good neighbor. Perhaps his most outstanding characteristics were his honesty, and, so long as his health permitted, his industrious habits. He was a good citizen, and will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational church in Arcadia, in charge of Rev. Taylor, who delivered a comforting message to a large crowd. Out-of-town relatives attending were Cecil A. Weddel, Broken Bow, and Mrs. Max Weddel, Kearney. Owing to restricted travel facilities and various duties, others were unable to attend.

Among out-of-town friends present were Mrs. Earl Holcomb, Grand Island, Mrs. Don Pilger, Loup City, and Mrs. Roy Cochran, Kearney. Now you hear a lot about "morale" these days. Well, here's just one verse from a poem I'd like to read you, called "Morale".

*It's the lift you get from a friendly smile...
 A brand new hat in a jaunty style...
 A letter from home that the postman brings—
 Morale is a lot of little things.*

Now, isn't it so? Morale is just a lot of little things. A flower in your button hole, a cheerful word of greeting, a refreshing glass of beer with friends.

It seems a lot of us put a special value on our right to enjoy a good moderate glass of beer—in pleasant company. It's not a big thing maybe—but from where I sit, it's another of those little things that help to add up to morale.

MISCELLANEOUS

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Honolulu, T. H. May 17, 1943.

To the Editor of the Quiz:

As one of my lady correspondents put it, I must be getting lazy, as she sees no letters in the Quiz of late. She is only out here taking it easy under azure Hawaiian skies when I could just as well have been working for a living in Ord. Her admonition has aroused me from my lethargy, and I will try to complete this letter ere another spell of ennui overtakes me. (Emmul is French for stomach ache).

I don't know whether I ever gave a description of my day's work here or not, but I will now. I usually get up promptly at 6 a. m., falling which my friend Harold Penn kicks me out of bed, and I mean, KICKS. After dressing I walk a brisk quarter of a mile to the mess halls, all of which, ladd end to end, would be a quarter of a mile long, and they are busy all the time, from 4:30 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Here I fall in line with a lot of other hungry fellows, grab a tray when my turn comes and pile thereon grapefruit, or fruit juice, toast and eggs, ham or bacon, as the case may be. At other times the menu has hot cakes and sausage, then of course there is a huge cup of steaming hot coffee. Speaking of coffee, do you know that the Islands grow enough coffee for home consumption in ordinary times, with some left for export?

By the time I have wrapped myself around a breakfast such as this, I am able to walk the rest of the way to the shop where I work, which is only about fifty yards away. We punch in there any time before 7 a. m., and continue on the job until 3:30, with a half hour for intermission for dinner. For dinner and supper, (lunch and dinner, they call it here) we have an infinite variety of menus usually our choice of three different kinds at each meal. Breakfast is a la carte and usually costs about 35c. Regular meals are 50c, with a special Sunday dinner of chicken or turkey for 75c.

We have meat every meal except Tuesdays, when there is none, the idea being to provide more for the men on the fighting front. For both dinner and supper there is an abundance of the best iced tea you ever tasted. Tea is one of the items the cooks really know how to handle, but all the meals are improving all the time. The chief trouble is in getting cooks for $40 and up when they can get more money and lighter work elsewhere. I wonder how the cooks in Nebraska would act if they were offered that much a week?

Due to the nature of my work I can speak of it freely, as I will not be giving out military information. All I do from morning to night is to paint signs of various kinds for use about the cantonment. This place is getting to look very much as Burwell did seven or eight years ago with my signs plastered everywhere. The chief customers for signs are the mess hall, the store, the post office, the administration building, the transportation office and the athletic office. We have time enough to do a real job.

In my spare time I devised a special alphabet which is very popular here and which I have named "Pearl Harbor Poster." I am sending herewith a picture of the capital letters. Of course there is a lower case alphabet to match, and we are using it a lot. I also have two new alphabets, one known as "Hawaiian Hula," the other "Oblique Oriental." We have a new boss here now, and he has found out that I can do drafting, so he has me put in part of my time at that.

For the past two weeks I have been on night duty, each qualified man getting a turn at it as the pay is excellent, $129 per week. Of course the hours are long, but usually there isn't much to do. In case of emergency, however, we would have to stay with it all night long.

I do not think I wrote to tell about my son, Jimmie, being here. He is in the service, but details are not permitted. He dropped in on me one Sunday, and it was a complete surprise. I darned near went nuts, more so than usual, at least. He has his Sundays off, and so gets to see me and his father-in-law and brother-in-law, Paul and Arch Pitney, just about every Sunday. Donald is still with the infantry in Kentucky, and probably has been made corporal by the time this is published.

Mrs. Ward has changed her line of work and is now employed in a rivet factory at a higher rate of pay than she got as a nurse, with the chance of a raise in the near future. She seems to like her new work fine, and is very enthusiastic about it. We are both looking forward to the time when we can come back to Ord and Burwell and visit all the old friends and play a few rounds of pinocle.

O, yes, I intended to tell you at the start about the place where I live. It is a lovely apartment, located just across from the administration building in the center of the area. We have two beds, one above the other, in our room, and they are equipped with sheets and blankets, which latter we need part of the time. We each have a locker for our clothes, and there is also a large closet. The bathroom is equipped with a shower and hot and cold water, with plenty of lights, but we must observe blackout regulations, of course.

I have the lower bunk, and the upper is occupied by William A. Cline of Washington Court House, Ohio. He came across last September on the same boat that I did. Of the twelve men who came into this part of the house at that time, seven are still living here, and two others have moved elsewhere in the cantonment. The other three have gone home. I plan to remain here until next March 11, which will complete the eighteen months time required by the government. If I am needed then I am staying even longer. There are worse places than Hawaii, even in war time.

Please don't all write me at once.

Sincerely,
JOHN L. WARD,
Area 3, Box 28,
Honolulu, T. H.

Wouldn't Take $20 for Home-made Knife

Rex Jewett last week received an interesting letter from one of his former Boy Scouts, Melvin J. Moore, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holt, who enlisted in the marine corps and wrote from "somewhere in the Pacific." Pvt. Moore is in an anti-tank battalion.

Climate where he is is similar to Nebraska but it never snows there, writes Moore, and a civilian working in the camp told him he hadn't seen snow in thirty years. "You could have lots of fun here with your sporting rifles, as they hunt deer and wild boar here the year around," he told Jewett.

Some of the boys brought fishing tackle with them and on Sundays they go to the ocean which is only 400 yards from the camp, and put in the day fishing, catching eels and small fish of strange kinds. "Last week we got our first mall since we got across and it was a red letter day for the boys," he said.

Pvt. Moore was fortunate in securing an Australian Enfield bayonet out of which he fashioned a 10 1/2 inch knife for his own use, and although he has been offered as much as $20 for the knife he plans to keep it, saying "it may be worth more than that to me when we get against the Japs." Some of the boys brought their own side arms with them and one sold his 45 calibre revolver for $150, which shows that side arms are worth their weight in gold in the fighting zones.

Pvt. Moore promises to bring some rifles or pistols to Rex to add to his collection when he returns. Several of his mates even have a light Jap machine gun, which he says is quite like the German Brenn gun, having a clip that comes down from the top and holding 20 cartridges.

Of course Moore would like to hear from his friends here and gives his address as 2nd Anti-Tank Bn., A Btry., 7th Fleet Postoffice, San Francisco, Calif.

Health Hints for Livestock

HEALTH HINTS FOR LIVESTOCK
PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

HOW TO PREVENT LIVESTOCK LOSSES

If we could wave a magic wand which would wipe out all the livestock diseases and parasites which prey upon our farm flocks and herds, America could forget her meat rationing worries tomorrow and at the same time have abundant supplies for all lend-lease needs.

That indicates the magnitude of the livestock disease problem which confronts farmers in every rural area today, as they strive to meet the government's stepped-up food quotas. Here, for example, is an estimate of losses annually caused by some of the more common diseases and parasites:

Bang's disease of cattle	$ 30,000,000
Mastitis	19,000,000
Hoag cholera	12,500,000
Swine abortion	10,000,000
Tuberculosis	10,000,000
Internal parasites	125,000,000
Cattle grubs	65,000,000
Poultry diseases	40,000,000
Swine erysipelas	1,000,000
Sleeping sickness, horses	1,000,000

These are just a few of the more common causes of losses. There are many others, including necrotic enteritis, shipping fever, anthrax, swine dysentery, influenza, and a whole galaxy of nutritional maladies.

Prior to more modern methods of animal disease control, these figures were much higher, yet much remains to be done. The importance of application cannot be overestimated. That disease will take an even heavier toll of farm livestock this year, there can be no doubt. Greater crowding of increased herds and flocks in limited quarters, and the present shortage of farm help, means that disease outbreaks may have an opportunity to make rapid headway before they are detected. And this means that many outbreaks will not be caught quickly enough to prevent serious losses.

The wise farmer will take steps to minimize this danger as far as possible, and here are several things he can do which will help to save costly losses:

- Thoroughly clean and disinfect all livestock quarters.
- Raise young livestock on clean pasture, away from old lots.
- Have animals treated for both internal and external parasites, if they need it.
- Have hogs immunized against cholera around weaning time, and in areas where erysipelas is present have them immunized against this disease also.
- Have horses vaccinated against sleeping sickness before the insect season begins.
- Isolate newly-purchased livestock for two or three weeks, before allowing them to mingle with the home herd.
- Check livestock rations to see that they contain adequate vitamins, minerals, and proteins for health and growth.
- If sickness does appear, call a veterinarian promptly, because a few days' delay may mean the difference between saving an entire herd or losing it.

The important matter this year is to keep every farm animal on the production line, in top condition for maximum output, and the more we can keep livestock diseases and parasites in check, the nearer we will come to accomplishing this purpose.

HEALTH HINTS FOR LIVESTOCK
PREPARED BY AMERICAN FOUNDATION FOR ANIMAL HEALTH

HOW TO PREVENT LIVESTOCK LOSSES

If we could wave a magic wand which would wipe out all the livestock diseases and parasites which prey upon our farm flocks and herds, America could forget her meat rationing worries tomorrow and at the same time have abundant supplies for all lend-lease needs.

That indicates the magnitude of the livestock disease problem which confronts farmers in every rural area today, as they strive to meet the government's stepped-up food quotas. Here, for example, is an estimate of losses annually caused by some of the more common diseases and parasites:

Bang's disease of cattle	$ 30,000,000
Mastitis	19,000,000
Hoag cholera	12,500,000
Swine abortion	10,000,000
Tuberculosis	10,000,000
Internal parasites	125,000,000
Cattle grubs	65,000,000
Poultry diseases	40,000,000
Swine erysipelas	1,000,000
Sleeping sickness, horses	1,000,000

These are just a few of the more common causes of losses. There are many others, including necrotic enteritis, shipping fever, anthrax, swine dysentery, influenza, and a whole galaxy of nutritional maladies.

Prior to more modern methods of animal disease control, these figures were much higher, yet much remains to be done. The importance of application cannot be overestimated. That disease will take an even heavier toll of farm livestock this year, there can be no doubt. Greater crowding of increased herds and flocks in limited quarters, and the present shortage of farm help, means that disease outbreaks may have an opportunity to make rapid headway before they are detected. And this means that many outbreaks will not be caught quickly enough to prevent serious losses.

The wise farmer will take steps to minimize this danger as far as possible, and here are several things he can do which will help to save costly losses:

- Thoroughly clean and disinfect all livestock quarters.
- Raise young livestock on clean pasture, away from old lots.
- Have animals treated for both internal and external parasites, if they need it.
- Have hogs immunized against cholera around weaning time, and in areas where erysipelas is present have them immunized against this disease also.
- Have horses vaccinated against sleeping sickness before the insect season begins.
- Isolate newly-purchased livestock for two or three weeks, before allowing them to mingle with the home herd.
- Check livestock rations to see that they contain adequate vitamins, minerals, and proteins for health and growth.
- If sickness does appear, call a veterinarian promptly, because a few days' delay may mean the difference between saving an entire herd or losing it.

The important matter this year is to keep every farm animal on the production line, in top condition for maximum output, and the more we can keep livestock diseases and parasites in check, the nearer we will come to accomplishing this purpose.

Burwell Soldier Now in England Visits Distant Relative of His Father, Finds Photos of His Own Family Displayed on Piano

Just an American soldier with a one day leave in an unfamiliar city in England, thinking to himself as he swung along, "How swiftly the busy days, and the months filled with anxiety and fatigue have passed. And yet such a long time since he left home. A fellow couldn't help but get homesick once in awhile for the quiet peacefulness of a Nebraska farm. Maybe this was the time he should visit the home of his dad's cousin.

That soldier was Jesse L. Williams in Liverpool, England, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Williams of Burwell. Now Jesse didn't know these distant relatives. He knew that his grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Williams who made their home in Garfield county for many years, had emigrated to America from Wales soon after they were married. He knew that many of their relatives now lived in England. He reached the home and found that his father's cousin was gone, that she died shortly after the first bombing of England. Her husband welcomed Jesse and he also met the daughter, charming Nancy Jones. He couldn't help but feel at home for the first thing he saw when he entered the parlor was his own graduation picture upon the piano, along with the pictures of his sister, Luella and his brother Ellis. Corporal Jesse spent such a pleasant day that he is looking forward to visiting the four sisters of his grandfather Williams. If time permits he may visit his mother's relatives at Newcastle on the Thames. Jesse Williams was born and raised in Garfield county. He enlisted September 31, 1941 and was called into service October 6, 1941. He graduated from Keesler field, Miss., April 14, 1942 as an airplane mechanic and was then sent to Brookley Field, Mobile, Ala., for further training. While in Alabama his parents and brother and sister went to visit him in May 1942. The following August he left for overseas. Twenty-three days after sailing his parents received a cable of his safe arrival in England. This picture of Corporal Jesse L. Williams was taken in England May 7, 1943.

Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational church with Rev. Loren H. Brown officiating. Pallbearers were K. W. Parsons, Henry McMullen, K. K. Kull, W. F. Manasil, Charles Green and O. W. Johnson.

Mary Olive Halloran, eldest daughter of John and Olive Halloran, was born in Rockford Precinct, Floyd county, Iowa, on October 29, 1866, and departed this life at her home in Burwell, May 22, 1943.

She came with her parents to Holt county, Nebraska, in the fall of 1880. On her fourteenth birthday they crossed the Mississippi river on a ferry in their covered wagon, and on the twenty-fifth day of their journey reached their home one-half mile west of Inman. Often with pride she has spoken of having pioneered in two states.

Following her public school education she attended Gates Academy in Neligh and for eight years was a successful teacher in the schools of Antelope, Boone and Holt counties. Her untiring efforts as a teacher were rewarded many times in knowing that her influence had inspired many of her pupils to higher ideals in life. Her popularity was in evidence when through the years to follow many of her former pupils called on her when passing through her home town.

On May 1, 1893, Mary Halloran became the bride of Harry Joseph Coffin at the home of her parents near Inman. After a wedding trip to the first world's fair in Chicago, Ill., the young people established their home at Burwell, where Mr. Coffin was engaged in the lumber business. To this happy union four children were born: Frances, Olive, Margaret and Henry Halloran, who died at the age of four months and twenty days.

Mrs. Coffin united with the Congregational church when a young woman and was one of its most devoted members. She lived her religion in her daily living and was ever an influence for the higher and nobler things of life.

Through her membership in the Burwell Woman's club she became the secretary of the library board and played an important part in obtaining the present Burwell Carnegie library building. In the more active years of her life she was a member of the Rebekah and Eastern Star lodges.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffin were privileged to celebrate at the beginning of this month their golden wedding anniversary. They had looked forward with great anticipation to this very special day in their lives and treasured its happy memories.

She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, H. J. Coffin; three daughters, Mrs. Frances DeLashmutt, Mrs. Olive Walker and Mrs. Margaret Walker; two sisters, Mrs. Della Downey of Burwell and Mrs. Lucy Cates of Peetz, Colo.; five grandchildren, Margaret Jean and Ralph Leo Walker, Harry, Leslie and Keith DeLashmutt; and a large circle of other relatives and friends.

Track Team Entertained. Members of Coach Roscoe Tolly's track team, which won the conference championship, were guests of the Rotary club Monday evening at dinner.

Friends are proud indeed of the Citation received by John R. (Jack) Messenger from his commanding officer. The citation read as follows: "You are hereby most highly commended on the outstanding manner in which you performed your duties during the operation of this battalion against the enemy at Guadalcanal, British Solomon Islands on 14, 15, and 16, January 1943. The cool, calm manner in which you so efficiently performed your duties was a very determined factor in the operation, which terminated so successfully." Jack, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Messenger spent more than eighty days in the front lines during this battle and lived in a fox hole. Before leaving Jack suffered five different attacks of malaria and was just a shadow of his former self. He is now in New Zealand and much improved. His parents just received a box of souvenirs from him including a Jap sniper rifle, Jap bayonet, canteen, pack and a Jap sailor cap. He says he got the Jap gear from Guadalcanal off the front lines. He had to discard his own pack so he took the pack from a dead Jap and wore it quite a while. The box also included a clip of thirty rounds of ammunition for a 31 calibre Jap machine gun. There were many machine guns left but he couldn't carry them. There were also several mats made by the natives of Samoa. The Jap souvenirs will be on display at McMullen's store.
