THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1943

Vol. 61 No. 23

School Enrollment Totals 536, Only 8 Less Than in '42

Ord Schools Off Monday to Early Start with Many New Teachers, Pupils.

Ord schools opened Monday with enrollment figures practically the same as last year, Superintendent C. C. Thompson reports to the Quiz. In the high school there are 352 pupils, where last year there were 359. In the grade school there are 184 children enrolled this year, and last year's figure was 185.

A break-down of these figures shows 29 in the seventh grade, 35 in the eighth, 68 in the ninth, 75 students in the tenth grade, 70 in the eleventh, and 73 enrolled as seniors. At the south building there are 27 shiny new kindergartners, 26 in the second, 29 in the third, 29 in the fourth, 23 in the fifth, 28 in the sixth grades.

The new teacher in the kindergarten is Miss Irma King, who graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University, then taught at Clay Center and Silver Creek. Coming from Grand Island Miss King will stay at the Stark home.

In the first grade Miss Myrtle Tracy will teach. She comes from Cairo, attended Nebraska Central college and taught four years in rural schools of Hall county. She will stay with Mrs. James Misko.

At the high school building are several other new teachers. Miss Frances Horinek of Atwood, Kans., will teach English and Latin. She has had experience at Notre Dame Academy and in the schools of Crab Orchard. She too stays at the Stark home.

Miss Helen Kopecky will teach commercial subjects, staying with Miss Clara McClatchey this year. She is from North Platte, and graduated from the University of Nebraska, later teaching at Oconto and Pleasanton. She has taken a room with Miss McClatchey.

Mrs. Jean K. Roe will teach high school mathematics, while her husband fights in New Guinea. She graduated from the University of Nebraska and taught two years at Liberty. Her home town is Fairfield. She will make her home with the Keith Lewis family.

Rosalind Northway of Lincoln will teach social sciences. She graduated from the University of Nebraska and has had experience in Long Pine, Bloomfield and Dodge county rural schools, as well as several years at Sterling, Nebr. In Ord she will stay with Mrs. James Misko.

G. Howard Lockwood will head the music department ably, with a background of 30 years teaching and directing experience. He graduated at Riverview Military academy, and has been at Utica, N. Y., Fort Myers Fla., Hastings, Neb., Bartlesville, Okla. as well as teaching in the public schools of Harvard, Blue Hill and Wyoming. He and Mrs. Lockwood have moved into the apartments at the William Sack home.

Although the enrollment of the Ord schools is down considerably from the peak year of 1938, when 748 students attended school here, the 1943 figures are eminently satisfactory.

It is particularly pleasing to note 151 tuition students registering in Ord, bringing into the school treasury some $15,000. These students thus comprise 52 per cent of the higher-grade enrollment. This $15,000 however is far from the velvet it sounds, since this money is promptly paid out for various school expenses. Only last year the state legislature recognized the need for higher tuition with rising prices, and lifted the depression-time figure of $81 back to its former level of $108, the original figure.

Cigaret Drive Netted $53, New Drive Starts

The campaign held a few weeks ago to raise funds to buy cigarettes for soldiers overseas netted $53.72, reports Frank Benda, commander of the American Legion post which conducted the drive. Leading cigarette manufacturers are selling cigarettes at 5c per package for shipment to the soldiers and thus more than 1,000 packages were sent with the money donated here.

A new campaign for donations is being started by the Legion this week, coin boxes having again been placed in stores around town.

Quiz Circulation Verified by Audit

The Ord Quiz is now a fully qualified member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, the national cooperative organization of publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers, and thus becomes the second Nebraska weekly to be accepted by the ABC. Only other weekly in this state to be a member is The Schuyler Sun. All of the better Nebraska dailies including the Omaha World-Herald, Nebraska State Journal of Lincoln, etc., are ABC members.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is controlled by the buyers—the advertiser and agency members—who have established definite terms and classifications by which circulation values can be judged. The publishers are required to meet these standards. The Bureau maintains a staff of skilled auditors and once a year they make a thorough audit of the Quiz circulation records. Based on this examination the Bureau then makes a complete auditor report, showing exactly what circulation the Quiz has, where it is, how it was obtained and many other facts that are important to advertisers.

The first Audit report is now ready and may be examined upon request by any Quiz advertiser. It shows the average press run of the Quiz to have been 3,525 during the past six months, and the net paid circulation of this newspaper to be 3,269.

Finds Old-Style Pop Bottle in Basement

While prowling around last week through the wreckage of the basement of the Haskell building on the south side of the square, which was being cleaned out by Contractor Charles Goodhand prior to rebuilding, W. S. (Abe) Lincoln found an old-style pop bottle, one used by the Detlef Heuck pop shop when it was located in the basement.

Made of thick quartz glass, the old bottle held at the top a wire-and-rubber stopper which gave the name 'pop' to the beverage, as it caused the bottle to give forth a loud 'pop' when the top was pushed down to get at the contents. This stopper stayed in the bottle at all times. To clean this type of bottles a handful of lead shot were poured into the bottle, and shaken manually by the person doing the bottle cleaning. Familiar to many, the bottle was quite a curiosity to younger Ordites.

WAVE Officer Will Be Here Sept. 11th

There will be a WAVE officer in Ord on Saturday, Sept. 11 to interview interested women between the ages of 20 and 36 for enlisted personnel and between 20 and 49 who have had at least two years of college, for officers' billets in the navy. Women are needed in some 30 different jobs to release men for active sea duty. The visit to Ord by this WAVE officer will be the first official visit made by this organization and it will give women of this vicinity a chance to get first-hand information, about this important branch of the service.

There will also be a recruiting officer present to answer questions pertaining to naval service in all branches. Men 17 and 38 and not over 50 can still enlist in the navy. Also men between 18 and 50 can be enlisted with petty officer's ratings in the navy Sea-Bees if they have had any construction experience.

Johnson Beer Parlor Closed Thirty Days

The Nebraska Liquor Commission last week ordered the Johnson Bros. beer parlor here to close at midnight Saturday for a thirty-day period, this being the penalty for selling beer to a minor a few weeks ago.

Last Wednesday the Douthit beer parlor held an auction sale of its fixtures but there were buyers for only part of them. The Douthit parlor has not re-opened.

The other two Ord establishments that sell beer have been out of stock most of the time, and with the increased demand created by closing of the Johnson and Douthit parlors they expect to have a hard time satisfying the thirsts of Ord beer drinkers in weeks to come.

Missing In Action.

Mrs. M. A. Leckey, of Horace, has received word from the war department that her grandson, Staff Sergeant Jimmie Leckey, is missing in action. He was in the air force and had been stationed in England for some time.

Pop Corn Queen Will Be Crowned Wed., Sept. 14th

Parades, Program, Popcorn for all to Feature Annual North Loup Festival.

North Loup-(Special)- Pop-Corn Days celebration plans are going forward satisfactorily under the direction of the committee, with A. L. Willoughby as chairman. Meeting Thursday night they appointed chairmen for different branches and all are hard at work. H. L. Gillespie, Mills Hill and C. J. Goodrich will have charge of the entertainment. Paul Madsen and Igo Pokraka will see that all have plenty of popcorn and Harold Hoepfner and Ben Nelson will promote the ticket sales. Floyd Wetzel and Edward Christensen will provide seating. Mr. Willoughby and C. D. Knapp will have charge of concessions and C. D. Woltemath and Clark Roby will have charge of community building arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Barber are in charge of the agricultural exhibit and hope for a large display. Better plan now to bring in the best from your Victory gardens and your fields for there will be substantial premiums offered and Mr. and Mrs. Barber are experts at arranging a fine display.

Mrs. Ava Johnson has charge of the women's exhibits and with other members of her committee met Saturday night at the library for discussion of plans for their part of the celebration.

Because of sugar rationing it was decided best to have no baking exhibit but it is believed there will be a good display in other departments. To increase the display of quilts, rugs and fancy work it was voted to solicit articles that may have been shown before, barring only those that won awards last year. The flower show is in charge of Mrs. Erlo Babcock and should be of real interest.

Other department heads are Mrs. Laura Robbins, quilts; Mrs. Margaret Gilmore, rugs; Mrs. Effie Willoughby, fancy work; Mrs. Jennie Brown, 4-H and children's. A chairman for the hobby department has not been secured as yet.

On Wednesday night the crowning of the queen will take place under the direction of the Young Ladies club. Voting for the queen is taking place now at the drug store and will continue till the Saturday night before the celebration, popular vote deciding the queen whose identity remains a secret till she is crowned.

On Wednesday afternoon a juvenile parade, with the Junior Fortnightly club in charge will take place and on Thursday afternoon the floats parade will be in charge of the senior Fortnightly club.

The pop-corn committee realize that this year more than ever, co-operation of everyone in the community will be necessary for a successful celebration. Bring in your exhibits, come prepared for another home coming festival, somewhat curtailed because of war conditions, but a celebration better than ever. Entry day is Tuesday, Sept. 14, celebration 15 and 16.

Sold Scrap at $11, Now Paid for Ducking It

Writing to his friend Rex Jewett from "somewhere in the South Pacific", Melvin Moore, son of Mrs. Norman Holt of Ord, ironically recalls that "not so long ago I sold several tons of scrap for $11 a ton and now am getting paid for ducking this same scrap." The Japanese were America's best customers for scrap iron and it went into ammunition which the Japs were shooting at U. S. marines, of which young Moore is one.

He praises the new light carbine issued by Uncle Sam to his soldiers and marines in the Pacific theater of action and says that if it is possible to "lend-lease" one of them after the war he's going to bring it home for use as a sporting rifle. The Japs have a weapon quite similar to it and recently Moore volunteered to clean one for a U. S. medical officer who was going home and wanted to take it as a souvenir. The Jap weapon had been picked up on the beach and was so rusty the bolt wouldn't work, but Vitall's hair oil from Moore's toilet kit proved off the stuff needed to lubricate it. "Made it smell good too," he wrote.

—Harold Heinrichs, a nephew of Mrs. L. A. Muncy, returned to his home in Kirk, Colo., after spending a month in Ord working most of the time he was here.

Private Joe Psota Seriously Wounded

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Psota, who live between Ord and Arcadia, received the following telegram the latter part of last week:

"The War department regrets to inform you that your son, Pvt. Joe Psota, was seriously wounded in action on 12th of July in the African area. You will be advised as reports of his condition are received."

Of course the Psota's are anxiously awaiting further information about their son's condition. They assume that he was in the expeditionary force which captured Sicily, since military operations there were underway in July.

Last Hope of Good Corn Crop Gone in Many Localities

Valley Co. in Poorest Feed Condition Since 1936-37; Rain North Sunday Eve.

Continuing drought and hot winds during the past week have caused the last hope for a good corn crop to fade in many sections of Valley county.

Sunday night the Haskell Creek community got a fine 1 inch rain and the previous evening Ericson and sand hill regions got a heavy rain, accompanied by some hail, but only a dust-lay fell over most of Valley county.

"In many respects this county is in the worst shape for feed since 1936 or 1937," said R. Clare Clement, of the Triple A office yesterday. "There are more little pigs already on farms or coming this fall than ever before, and little feed available for them, and since central Nebraska generally has the same conditions the market for little pigs isn't what it should be."

Total rainfall for Ord in the month of August was only .40 of an inch. Horace Travis reports, which includes 33 which fell Saturday night, Sunday and Monday morning, and the .07 which fell during the previous twenty-eight days.

Temperatures have not been excessively high during the past week—in the mid-nineties Friday, Saturday and Sunday and in the mid-eighties Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—but drying winds have blown every day, taking still more moisture from the parched fields.

Rains during early September are hoped for so that fall pastures may augment dwindling supplies of winter feed and so fall-seeded grains may get a better start.

Drivers' Licenses Expiring This Fall

Drivers' licenses of thousands of Nebraska drivers will expire starting September 1, warned Sgt. R. C. Biers, of the Nebraska highway patrol, who was in Ord Tuesday on official business. Persons whose licenses to drive expire can have them renewed on the day they expire by taking them to the county treasurer's office in the court house, without taking another examination. Drivers whose licenses have expired over 90 days must be examined by the patrolman-examiner.

The fee for renewal is 75c and the expired license can be brought in by the driver himself, by one of his family or may be mailed to the county treasurer with the required fee, and receive his new license by mail.

Licensed to Marry.

Licensed to marry on August 24 were Miss Mary Kominek, bookkeeper at J. C. Penney's, the daughter of B. Kominek, who will be the bride of Lyle E. Hanson, a son of Earl Hanson. Mr. Hanson is a farmer, and both he and his bride had to provide the written consent of their parents, since he is 19 and she is 18.

3rd War Loan Drive to Start Sept. 11th with Big Ord Rally

$1,000 in Bonds for Every Valley Co. Boy' Slogan in $392,400 Campaign.

A big torch-light rally with patriotic speeches and band music will be held in Ord on Saturday evening, Sept. 11 to start off Valley county's participation in the 3rd War Loan Drive, said John P. Misko, in charge of general sales efforts, yesterday.

The rally will be held in the court house yard weather permitting and will start about 8:30 p. m.

Committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Geo. A. Satterfield, Gus Schoenstein and William Darges and they promise to arrange such a patriotic rally as Valley county has not seen during World War 2.

This county faces its greatest task ever in tackling the $392,400 bond drive, point out Mr. Misko, C. J. Mortensen and R. Clare Clement, the men in charge of putting it over the top. Hard-hit by drought, Valley county's farmers still must do the lion's share of providing the sinews of war for their country's effort, so far as this county is concerned.

Slogan of the campaign is: "$1,000 in bonds bought during September for every Valley county boy in the service." This county has over 400 boys in the army, navy, marines and coast guards.

Measured by normal standards the quota of $392,400 would be difficult of fulfillment but Messrs. Mortensen Misko and Clement believe that Valley county people, who have never yet fallen down on a war bond quota, will find means to meet this quota.

The total amounts to only 35 per cent of the increase in bank deposits this county has shown during the past year, it is pointed out, so the money is available if people will only realize the emergency and buy to the limit of their ability. The quota can be met and normal business and farming operations carried out, it is believed. All banks stand ready to help by loaning money for the purchase of bonds, to aid people who do not have the cash available.

Official opening date of the 3rd War Loan is Sept. 9 but all bonds purchased during September will be credited to the county's quota. People able to do so are asked to invest $5,000, $10,000 or more in bonds for the quota will never be met if those able to buy heavily invest only minor amounts. Of course small purchases will help but there must be many major buyers to assure the quota being met.

Attend the bond rally in Ord on Sept. 11. Soon afterward committees will call on every head of a family in the county to request heavy bond purchases. Get ready to do your share in buying bonds to the total of $1,000 worth for every Valley county boy who is doing your fighting for you.

Dist. 56 Students Still Need Teacher

Wanted: A teacher for the 17 children of Dist. 56, someone who would like the nearly new white school building with its basement and its coal stove, its little entrance hall. Someone who would consider it pretty handy to have the well only across the road. Someone who would like to teach only about six miles from Burwell, where Leonard Bufts is a director of the school. Someone who can furnish character and professional references to County Superintendent Clara McClatchey who has teachers for every single one of the Valley county schools except this one.

It is an attractive little school, and some bright-eyed little youngsters are going to be awfully disappointed if a nice teacher isn't located this week. Can you teach school?

Goodhand Excavates for New Structure

Charles Goodhand last week put a crew of men at work excavating for a basement on the south side of the square, on the lots formerly occupied by the Capron and Haskell buildings, and expects to put up a new structure soon. The sidewalk has been torn up and a catwalk built along the edge of the street to accommodate pedestrians. Mr. Goodhand is said to have enough used material to complete the structure but his plans for its occupancy have not been revealed.

Bredthauer Buys 1,900 Head Cattle

One of the largest purchases of feeder cattle ever made by local feeders was that of the Bredthauer interests, who last week shipped in 1,900 head of heifers. Part of the shipment went into the feed lots of Herbert and Arnold Bredthauer here and part to the feed lots of D. H. and Oscar Bredthauer at Grand Island.

The 1,900 head are heifers and cost $11.75 delivered, the Quiz understands. They were bought from the Abbott interests in western Nebraska. They will be put on short 60-day feed.

Eberhart Recovers $84 of $300 He Lost

North Loup-(Special)—Last week while returning from Colorado with a load of peaches, George Eberhart lost from his pocket a billfold containing $300 in currency. Fearing he would never recover it but hoping for the best, Mr. Eberhart advertised his loss in several newspapers. Already he has recovered $84 of the currency and is hopeful that more will be found. Apparently the billfold fell into the road, was run over and its contents scattered, as two young Shelton boys found the $84 and are searching the countryside for more of the currency.

Parkos Fined $26 on Traffic Charges

Frank Parkos was fined a total of $26.76 including costs in county court Tuesday by Judge John Andersen upon pleading guilty to two charges filed by State Highway Patrolman Biers, relative to an accident which happened on Aug. 15. The first charge of assault and battery grew out of the second charge, which was falling to stop at the scene of an accident to give his name, license numbers, address etc.

The second party to the accident was William Stoeger of Grand Island. Parkos is reported to have said, "You hit me" to Stoeger which made Mr. Stoeger so angry he retorted "You're a liar."

"Say that again!" shouted Parkos. "You're a liar," hollered Stoeger, upon which Parkos is alleged to have hit him twice. The assault and battery charges are the outgrowth, culminating in the trial Tuesday.

7,000 Pheasants Lost By Careless Mowing

During the past season H. Elliot McClure, of the Upland Game Bird Survey, has been handing out questionnaires to farmers to find out approximately how many pheasants are lost through nests being destroyed at alfalfa mowing time. About one-fourth of the cards distributed were filled out and returned to him and on the basis of these cards Mr. McClure figures that in Valley county one pheasant nest is destroyed in each 6.6 acres of alfalfa during the first cutting. Second and third cuttings do not destroy many nests, as they are mostly hatched by then.

Destruction of a nest of eggs is regrettable but even worse is the fact that as farmers have gone more generally to power mowers the number of hens killed or injured has gone up from 36% to 47%. No satisfactory flushing bar has yet been devised for a power mower, McClure states.

Figuring the average number of eggs in a nest as 10, Mr. McClure figures that 7,000 pheasants were lost through nests destroyed by mowing in Valley county this year or a potential loss of a day's hunting to 700 hunters this season, figuring that half the birds lost would have been males.

More careful mowing on the part of the farmers is about the only way to reduce this loss, he says. Because of a cold wet spring alfalfa cutting was delayed an average of six days throughout the Loup Valley, and these six days gave many pheasants a chance to hatch their eggs, or the loss of birds would have been still greater.

Reports Back for Duty.

Alvin Jensen, who spent a few days in Ord after receiving his honorable discharge from the army, has reported back for duty with the Nebraska highway patrol, of which he was a member when he entered service.

—When W. L. (Dutch) Blessing gets in from his mail route today, Wednesday, he will leave at once for Rochester, Minn., to bring his father, Clarence Blessing home. Mr. Blessing is recovering from an operation. Herschel McGrew will go too.

Ord Livestock Mkt. Complete, Layout Is Nebraska's Finest

1000 Hogs, Hundreds of Head of Cattle, Can Be Handled Easily on Sale Day.

Sometime when you wonder why crowds are so thick on Ord streets on Saturday, wander down to the modern, complete plant the Ord Livestock company has lately finished remodeling, and you will understand. Not fancy, it is yet a firm and husky creation, the result of long hours of planning by Auctioneer Bert Cummins and the owner of the building, E. C. Weller of Atkinson. They have done a good job. Ord should be proud of the new arrangements and there is no doubt but what it brings hundreds of people into Ord on Saturday.

A small front office with a regular bank grill houses Walf Noll, Mr. Cummins' cashier and bookkeeper, without whom he could not do business, declares Cummins. A door opens at the east on to a small platform where the auctioneer goes into his selling talks before a small amphitheater or sale ring, board benches rising close on every side of a small enclosure where sale animals are shown. About four times as much livestock can be handled in a day as previously.

The animals travel down a long corridor from the north into the ring. After they are inspected by the crowd and sold by Col. Cummins the animals are shoved out a south door on to scales, taken back through another corridor to the loading chutes.

The new lay-out for selling is a dandy. It is carefully arranged to make buyers, sellers, animals, crowd, handlers and auctioneer as happy as possible. One row of pens under a roof is for horses to be sold. Each seller puts his horses in a separate pen, heavy pens made of two by eights, with heavy creosoted posts anchoring them all.

Many more pens are provided for cattle, and a number of others for pigs, fat hogs, for numbered calves etc. 1,000 hogs can be handled in nice shape. In each case the pen has a cement floor and it is made of heavy lumber but not necessarily new material. These are war days, so when Col. Weller had a chance to buy the materials of the Cody Livestock market and use them in Ord, he did so. It took hours of searching to buy the heavy hinges that operate the gates smoothly, and the many bolts with which the whole is constructed.

The cement floors are planned to drain and wash easily, and they are disinfected in no uncertain manner after each sale. The place is kept as clean as your back porch, and few flies hang around.

Water tanks are big and each one serves two pens. A four-foot piece of hose connects with each water outlet so that one outlet waters four pens. Every pen has water for the stock, every pen is numbered so that it can be easily referred to. Many frequent buyers have their numbers too, which they use always.

The gates are a minor masterpiece, so planned that when opened the gate automatically shuts off the adjoining passage. This prevents the animal from going in or out of any pen where he isn't supposed to go, making life much simpler for the handlers.

A separate group of pens is for the use of Dr. A. J. Ferguson, who is always on hand sale days to vaccinate animals as required by state law.

Everything has been thought of to make men and beasts comfortable. A 40-ton hay barn for example. A small shed to protect handlers from bad weather while they load at the outgoing chutes. 37 of the hog pens are covered, and will be kept from the cold north winds as well. Horse pens are 12 by 20 ft. A hook-up with the Auble loud-speaker carries Mayor Cummins' voice throughout the buildings as he sells.

Last Saturday the sale began at one-thirty and when it ended at seven o'clock $18,000 worth of live merchandise had gone through the ring.

Only one thing would make Mr. Cummins happier than he is now. That would be to have his son, Corwin, back to help him. Just as "Chum" got really hot at the buying and selling game Uncle Sam called him away, and now Corwin is a darn good pastry cook in Alaska, but his heart's desire is to get back home "and sell bulls."

Popular with visitors at Custer county's Fair are the Kennedy herd and the Haumont herd of Shorthorns. These exhibits draw attention because many farmers want a dual purpose type of cattle.

A local breeder of milking Shorthorns is Frank Vodehnal, living west of Ord, who has a small but excellent herd. He regards them as ideal for the man who wants to sell butterfat and also produce a bunch of steers that will not be discriminated against by the packers.

Occasionally some Shorthorn steer, wins the grand championship at Chicago's International, altho this honor usually goes to a Hereford or an Angus. Shorthorns are apt to be too long of leg, but they make fine feeders.

Shorthorns would be a leading dairy breed if their offspring ran true to type. In 1924, the Shorthorn cow Melba gave 1,614 pounds of butterfat in one year, which was the highest production ever made by any cow in the world.

Prices received for Shorthorns range up to fancy figures. In 1873, an eight year old Shorthorn cow named Duchess sold for $40,600, the highest price ever paid for a female. She died two weeks later. At this New York Mills sale, 109 Shorthorns brought $381,990.

Shorthorns were first called Durhams. They are a gentle breed, and not apt to break through fences. They come in red, white or roan, a color claimed by no other cattle.

Laborless Labor Day

How about a laborless Labor Day for you, the Homemaker? Truly you deserve relaxation along with the rest of the family! And it can be done, you know. To make sure the day will be free from cooking, plan your menus for the entire week end so that practically all the meals can be cooked Saturday. Holiday meals needn't follow the regular schedule. With breakfast later in the morning and heartier, too, and a substantial dinner in the offing, lunch can be merely a snack or left out entirely. Of course dinner should be plentiful enough to take care of robust appetites, so we recommend the following:

- LABOR DAY DINNER
Old-fashioned Baked Beans
Hot Spiced Beets
Cabbage, Carrot and Orange Slaw
Whole Wheat or Boston Brown Bread
Butter or Margarine
Applesauce Shortcake Beverage

Ahead-of-time cooking - The beans, beets and shortcake can all be prepared ahead of time so that most of the work is done. Just reheat the beans for an hour before serving time. The beets can be cooked for Saturday with enough left over to spice and reheat for Monday. The shortcake and applesauce can easily be prepared earlier and united at the last moment.

Baked beans can be different - Practically everyone has her special way of baking beans. My favorite method is to put an onion in the bottom of the bean pot, then heap in the boiled beans, add sweetening, seasonings and enough bean liquor for moisture, and bake. The onion flavor permeates each and every bean in a most delicious manner.

JUST DESSERTS - If you want to finish dinner off in a triumphant manner, then look to Julia Lee Wright's article in this week's Family Circle Magazine. It's all about sugar and shortening saving desserts.

One of the most important war-time jobs you can perform is to save every drop of waste kitchen fat. Right now, put an empty can (1-lb. or more capacity) on your range; strain in to it every drop of cooking fat you cannot use again; pop it into the refrigerator every night until the can is full; then bring it to our store, and we will send it on to war.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

A couple of weeks ago I wrote an item in this column in which I used the word "horse" and the typesetter left the letter "s" out of the word. Then in proof-reading the error was not found and the item was printed. My attention was called to it several times but the intent was so obvious that I didn't think seriously about it. It seemed to me and still does that no clean minded person would pay any attention to it. It also seems to me that anyone who would give it a second thought must be woefully ignorant of spelling by no stretch of the imagination could a person who knows how spell in that way the word some peo-

School Lunches

School bells are ringing again and for many mothers this means putting up a tasty, nourishing lunch every day for one or more children. Of course the best thing that can go into the lunch basket is sandwiches made with meat. Our market has the best of meat and we invite you to shop here.

While you are shopping remember that War Bonds are the best bargain you can buy, now and until the war ends. And they're the best investment in America today.

ple try to hang on my pencil point.

And speaking of errors in the newspaper, I got a letter recently in regard to an error that had been made, and the party said, "I should think you would try to get an item straight once in a while." Now that was a pretty serious statement and of course it was said in anger and no doubt the party was sorry, if, indeed, he ever thought seriously of what he was writing. This newspaper and every other newspaper including all the large dailies, make typographical and other errors. It is not humanly possible to eliminate all of them. Hundreds of short stories are printed in the quiz each week and thousands of them in a big daily. Of course there are bound to be errors. And another thing, the editor is not born yet who ever had a subscriber come in and say, "I never saw a newspaper as free from errors as yours," or "That was a bang up good paper this week, Bill." But let a mistake be made and holy cow how they do jump on.

While some people believe the war will be over this year, the best information I can get seems to indicate that the end of the war in Europe cannot come before some time next spring or summer and that it will be a year longer before Japan will be licked. There is no longer any cause to fear that the Allies will be defeated and things might fold up faster than army leaders believe, but it is not likely.

I hate to talk subscriptions in this column but know of no better place. I have just checked the August 15 expiration cards and find that a great majority of those who have not paid up are subscribers that came to us from the Loyalist and the Arcadian. As a rule I know about who wants to continue taking the paper and who might not and accordingly I can extend a little more time to those who I am sure want the paper. But these new ones from those other papers, I don't know about. Their subscriptions expired August 15. After this week I shall have to take them off the list. So if you read this and if you are one of them and if you want the paper please send or bring in a renewal. We are not hard boiled and I think you can all see our position in the matter. We have no desire to try to crowd the paper onto anyone.

Wage earners, now, are making the same mistake that wage earners made during and after the last world war. I well remember when farm hands paid fifteen dollars for silk shirts to wear every day and they thought that wages would never be less. Now it is the same thing over again only worse, for workers have been making larger wages. Two dollars an hour is not uncommon for skilled (not too skilled) workmen and some of them believe that they will never have to work for less. But they will be glad to work for that much a day inside of five years after this war is ended, no doubt. The man who keeps his feet on the ground, saves his money and keeps on earning the big wages as long as possible, will be glad, some day, that he has a nestegg when jobs get scarce, as they surely will.

Something Different

A farm home that has been built up over 45 years into a handsome, substantial and appealing place is that of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thomsen, who live on the river side many miles east of Ord.

When young Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen went to live in this spot it was only a field, like any other, with nary a tree or a shed there. So they started from scratch. But in their minds they carried a clear picture of what they wanted to create.

And from this picture they have built a snug, solid home, one that is equipped to be self-supporting and self-sufficient for years to come. The house and farmyard are not on the highway nor near it, but are set away from the road some distance. It seemed to me that only friends would be able to find the place.

The comfortable big white house has seen six children grow to sturdy maturity, all of them gone except two daughters who can be depended upon for any kind of help their parents need. Last week the girls were in overalls and big straw hats, painting the nice two-story house on the highway which Mr. and Mrs. Thomsen also own. And they can make a garden or dill pickles just as well as they can paint.

The farmhouse sits complacently in a big grass yard, with handsome bushes and vines and trees set in this grassy park. A lilac wall and tall trees shut off any view of the barnyard. Many a chicken house, corn crib, machinery shed and a big barn are so arranged about the barnyard so as to form a hollow square. The dark red buildings do not present one continuous wall, but are in a zig-zag about like a child's blocks might be put. Every building and the house is well painted and has square corners and a true roofline, nothing sagging or careless on this place!

And in the big run are 60 or more ducks and many more chickens than that, all white. Edging this big yard, keeping it nearly snow-free in winter and shutting out cold winds, tall trees grow in a regular pattern, thickly placed for just this purpose. Beside the square of fence grows more lilac hedge, and as if the wind-break were not tight enough, a tidy rick of wood has been cut and stacked neatly about this big square. This wood was cut and laid into shape by the girls. Some girls, I claim.

Referring to the placing of the farm sheds so as to form this protected yard, Mr. Thomsen said, "That's European, that's the way they do it in Europe."

Everything is efficiently planned. There is a small kitchen garden near the house, on higher ground, for early stuff before it gets dry. And there is a big garden down near the river where it is sure to be damp enough for crops for canning and later vegetables. "Yes, we did it all" say the Thomsens.

"My, but when I came to this country I felt sorry for myself," remembered Mrs. Thomsen. "My father had such a fine place down near Fremont, lots nicer than this."

But after looking around, no one would feel sorry for the Thomsens now. Anyone who can build from a field the fine heritage these people have made should be proud.

But they haven't time to be proud; they're working too hard.

Submarine Weather Winter is known to navy men as "submarine weather." In the gales and fogs of the North Atlantic, submarines can approach close to convoys and use their periscope with scant fear of visual detection. Sensitive instruments carried by escorting ships record the presence of submarines, but finding the U-boats by such methods alone is still a game of blind-man's buff.

Slavery in China Industry and commerce developed rapidly in China during the last three centuries before Christ. Contemporary Hellenistic and Roman business men made extensive use of slave labor. Nothing comparable occurred in China. Private and government slavery had a marked growth under the Han empire, but industrialization did not become an important characteristic.

Bill Burry was reflecting back on the last war and what the boys used to do when they got a furlough.

"We weren't a hard-drinking bunch particularly, but that was in Prohibition," said Bill, "and forbidden fruit always seems worth goin' after. We'd hunt up a bootlegger, which was easy, and buy a bottle.

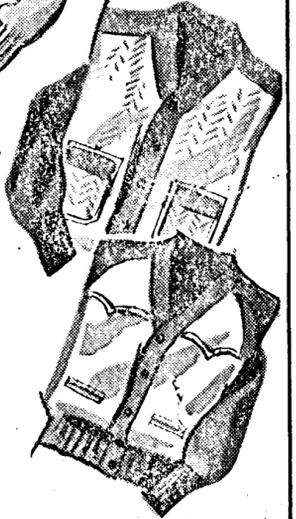

"So, instead of a beer or two, well—I guess we generally drank too much!... wonder what the boys are doing this time?"

More Mosquitoes in Ord than Elsewhere

In conjunction with the army medical division the Department of Entomology of the University of Nebraska has instigated a state wide mosquito survey. Light traps, which attract the mosquitoes and then hold them in a jar where they are killed by cyanide fumes, were sent to various localities of the state where interested people could operate them. This entailed turning on the light two or three times a week and shipping the insects that were caught.

During 1942 the trap was operated by Mrs. Art Larsen and this summer it is being operated by Mrs. John Andersen. The mosquitoes taken this year have not yet been identified, but last year's collections yielded some very valuable information. It was found that there were more mosquitoes in the vicinity of Ord than in any other locality in the state. Over 9,000 were taken one night in September and during the six months from May to October 46,000 were collected. Studies have shown that in a place where a light trap collects 24 mosquitoes in a night they are numerous enough to be a nuisance. At Ord the average was 700 a night for all summer and during September this increased to 1700. This is explained by the marshy meadows along the river and by increased surface water through irrigation.

Nineteen species of mosquitoes were present and 17 of these habitually bite man. The other two were those that bite only animals. Commonest of these was a little biter known as Aedes vexans which included 34,000 specimens. Three other important species were Aedes dorsalis, Aedes nigromaculis and Culex tarsalis. The little Aedes vexans lays its eggs in pools of water such as formed by stock tramping through low meadows. The wigglers hatch, feed on microscopic life and develop very rapidly. Before the puddle dries they have achieved their growth and turned into mosquitoes. The other species also develop in temporary or permanent pools.
Continuing the studies this year Dr. Douglas H. Tate who is in charge hopes to determine further the importance of these human and animal diseases.

Alfalfa Seed Wanted

We always have a very good market for several car loads of good Alfalfa Seed. And again this year we have an extra good market.

There has been many reports on the regulations on buying alfalfa seed this year; but as yet we do not have final instructions. We are prepared to buy any seed you have to offer or we will contract your crop if you care to contract it.

New Equipment

We are putting in new alfalfa cleaning equipment and can buy your seed cleaned and do a good job for you. We are putting in a Super-147B Clipper. This is a 3-screen cleaner especially adapted for our work. This machine will be here next month.

This week we are putting in a Gravity Mill that is made to separate weed seed from the alfalfa and sweet clover seed. There are not many of these gravity mills in this section; in fact we do not believe there is one between here and Denver. This equipment will put us in position to give you the most possible for your alfalfa seed.

Ground Broken for Hay Mill Saturday, Machinery Arrives

Saunders Mills Expect Have Plant in Operation Early in October; Need Men.

Ground was broken Saturday for the new alfalfa mill being built east of Ord by Saunders Mills, Inc., of Toledo, O., and if weather permits the crew will start pouring concrete today, according to George Walker, who has been supervising the initial work.

A crew of sixteen local men has been at work this week and more help is needed on the construction, Mr. Walker stated. Roy Crandall, the Saunders' mill construction man, will arrive this week to take charge of the work.

The plant will consist of a two-story grinding room 25x25 feet in size, a one-story pack-off room 25x27 feet in size, a hay barn 60x80 feet in size and a warehouse 16x20 feet in size, plus some smaller tool sheds, etc.

Grinding and packing rooms will be of reinforced concrete and cement block construction and will be completely fire-proof. Floors will be of concrete. The hay barn will be of frame and metal construction. Conveyors will carry the hay from the hay barn to the grinding room, where it will be ground and separated into leaf and stem meal by immense blowers called "cyclones" which have already arrived. One of the two big grinders is already here. It is a massive piece of machinery weighing four tons. Steel for the building and more machinery is expected to come this week.

Capacity of the mill will be sixty tons of meal per day, states Mr. Walker. The company hopes to secure sufficient hay locally to keep the mill operating at capacity, but the Union Pacific railroad is setting up a "milling-in-transit" rate so baled hay may be shipped, processed here and the meal shipped out again, in case there is not sufficient hay available here at certain seasons.

The dehydrating plant used to process green alfalfa will not be installed until next spring, as there will be no use for it until the first cutting in 1944.

Saunders Mills operate in eight states, Ohio, Tennessee, Missouri, Colorado, Arkansas, Arizona, California and Nebraska. Their trademark name is "Vita-Green" and most of their alfalfa meal is sold to commercial feed mixers. The bulk of meal milled here will be shipped east with much of it going to the New England states for processing into dairy feed.

Mr. Walker expects that the Ord mill will be in operation by October. More men are needed for construction work at the present time and there will be permanent jobs for several men when the mill gets into operation. More hay, both loose and baled, is being contracted all the time.

The Union Pacific is running a spur track to the mill's pack-off room and warehouse, beginning the work of leveling for the track this week.

Teachers Institute Coming Oct. 11-12

Miss Clara McClatchey is making plans for Teachers Institute on Oct. 11 and 12. To save mileage and travel of the speakers she and County Superintendent Evangeling Waite of Sherman county will have the same speakers for their rural teachers, and will hold their Teachers' Institute on the same dates.

Monday, or Labor Day, Miss McClatchey went to Red Cloud, making arrangements to exchange work with the county superintendent there, who is a friend of hers. Thus business and pleasure were combined.

Enroute home Monday evening, Miss McClatchey stopped in Broken Bow for dinner at the Baird home. Miss Mae Baird had only just arrived from New York City, where she earned her master's degree at Columbia University.

Baseball Game for 'Smokes for Soldiers'

Participants will be the Junior Legion team of Ord, with some added players, and the Greeley team. No admission charge will be made but the hat will be passed to raise money, all of which will be used to buy cigars for soldiers overseas.

Jerry Fryzek Leads in Stanford Athletics

C. C. Thompson superintendent of the Ord schools, last week received a letter from Lieut. John S. Farian, in charge of A. S. T. U. athletics at Stanford University in California, which indicates that a former Ord high school athletic star, Jerry Fryzek, is "stealing the show" in army athletics at Stanford.

Young Fryzek, a private first class who is being sent to Stanford for the army for additional training, is the leading hitter in baseball, having an average of .671; is the leading home-run hitter with 12; is the leading pitcher with 7 wins and no losses; in football is an outstanding player with very good judgment and ability has scored 28 points for his team but never takes credit for his team's victories; in track has run the 300 yard dash in 36.5 seconds to establish a new record and has done 11 chin-ups, another outstanding performance; and in the classroom has excellent grades of A and B in all his work.

Lieut. Farian congratulated the Ord school upon turning out such a fine performer. Right now Jerry is recovering from a broken leg suffered during a baseball game. "The army is proud of men like these," his letter concluded.

Class elections at the high school for the new school year make Keith Kovanda president of the senior class, Luetta Kuehl vice-president, Clarice Benn secretary, Elinor Walford treasurer. New Pep Club Members.

Equally exciting to upperclassmen was the selection of Ordette members for this year, half of whom are elected and half of whom are chosen by the faculty. This is the pep club of Ord high, and every girl in school would like to belong.

From the graduating class Lillian Jelinek, Reva Lincoln, Roberta Stoddard, Arlene Timmerman and Elinor Walford are named. Ordette officials, elected last spring who will serve this year, include Luetta Kuehl as president, Dolores Greenwalt as vice president, Marcella Iwaniski as secretary, all of the 12th grade, and also Lillian Geneski as treasurer. Lillian is a junior this year.

Other Junior girls who will be active in the Ordettes this year are Patty Achen, Carolyn Auble, Mildred Fish, Norma Geneski, Patsy Griffith, Darlene Puncocchar.

—Pvt. Alex Cochrane writes his parents from San Diego that he will have basic marine training there for five weeks, and then a ten-day furlough. He was thrilled to earn a swimming medal by swimming 200 yards, and is learning more about boxing.

Jason Lothrop Now in the South Pacific

Jason T. Lothrop, Baker 2-c in the Sea Bees, construction unit of the navy, is now "somewhere in the Pacific," his wife learns. He sailed July 1 and has already notified his wife that he arrived safely at his destination, though he was not permitted to reveal where he is stationed. Lothrop holds the rating of petty officer, 2nd class. His address is Batt. 88, Hq. Co., Fleet P. O., San Francisco, Calif.

Population Loss in Valley County 1,024 in 3 Years

Present Total Only 7,139, on Basis of Ration Issuance; Lowest in 40 Years.

Valley county population figures have fallen with a crash since the official tally taken in 1940, when 8,163 people made their homes here. A check-up of ration books issued through the Ord rationing office reveals a total of 7,139 Valley county citizens as of September 1, 1943, or a loss of 1,024 people.

This loss represents the families who have moved to defense plant areas, and it also includes 371 draftees and 75 volunteers, with a few of the latter in reserve services permitting them to finish school.

The loss over several years is larger. In 1930 official government census figures were 9,533 for Valley county, while in 1929 they were 9,823. Contrast this with 7,139 and a loss of 2,684 is revealed from the population-peak to the population-low of the present.

Janda is stationed on a supply ship and wears the ribbon emblematic of Asiatic service. He was given a 12-day leave but had to use seven days in travel from and back to the Pacific coast.

Two Hurt Sunday Night in Crash at Scotia Bridge

Hugh Clement Car Parked in Road, Struck by Auto of Lyle Jeffries.

North Loup—(Special)—Two cars figured in a head-on collision shortly after midnight Sunday at the east end of the Scotia bridge when the parked car of H. H. Clement, of this village, was struck by the car of DeLyle Jeffries who was returning from Scotia.

Most severely hurt was Mrs. Jeffries, the former Miss Mavis Schudel, who was thrown into the windshield and cut about the face and neck. Dr. W. J. Hemphill took fifteen stitches to close the wounds. Jeffries received a bad bump on his head but was able to run back to Scotia to summon help. Mrs. Jeffries was taken to her mother's home in that village.

Liquor Partial Cause. According to officers, Clement and two Mexicans had been to Scotia and had been drinking. As they started home an argument developed and Clement stopped his car in the highway. The two Mexicans got out and one of them started to walk home. The other Mexican was standing in the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries had been in Scotia visiting his mother and Jeffries did not see the parked car, which is alleged to have been parked without lights. He either had to strike the car or strike the man standing in the road, he told officers, and so he chose the car.

Patrolman Investigates. Clement who was still in the car was thrown out and received a bad bump on his head when he struck the ground. He was taken home and was attended by Dr. Hemphill upon his return from attending Mrs. Jeffries in Scotia.

A state highway patrolman has been in town this week looking into the accident and questioning participants and witnesses but to date no charges have been filed in county court at Greeley.

Adult Education Course Planned

If sufficient interest is shown, Ord may again have an adult education class this winter, presented on Saturdays by Dr. C. H. Patterson, chairman of the department of philosophy of the University of Nebraska. Dr. Broady, director of that school, writes the county superintendent that the classes last year made such splendid records here attending and graduating one hundred percent, that Dr. Patterson indicated he wished his one out-state class to be held in Ord.

The philosophy course taught would be either No. 20, which is rather elementary with a modern every-day angle; or possibly 131, a course on the history of philosophy. It is thought that between 25 and 40 students would enroll, in which case the course would not cost over $5 each for the series of lectures.

Anyone who is interested is asked to phone Miss Clara McClatchey, the county superintendent, at once. While rural teachers will undoubtedly form the bulk of the class many other people will welcome this splendid opportunity to learn, brought to Ord by a splendid instructor.

Will Nelson Named Ord Night Police

Tuesday evening at the council meeting Mayor M. B. Cummins appointed Will Nelson to the position of night policeman left vacant by the recent resignation of Archie Keep. The appointment was confirmed by the council and Nelson entered upon his new duties immediately.

Other applicants for the position included Ole Whitford, Martin Hansen, Dave Haight, Amos Christoffersen, Herman Rice and Otto Radil. The job pays a salary of $85 per month.

Bremer who lives on Rt. 2, Ord, Neb., qualified as a sharpshooter on the carbine rifle with a score of 165 while firing with the 48th Armored Infantry Regiment of the 20th Armored Division at Camp Campbell Ky., the office of Major General Stephen G. Henry announced today.

Allen Zikmund Leads 2,300 Navy Men in Review Before Admiral Randall Jacobs

Allen Zikmund, Ord's own white-haired boy who distinguished himself on Ord athletic and scholastic fields, going on to add polish to his name at the University of Nebraska and a certain famous Rose Bowl football game, is earning new distinctions.

On July 20 Allen was made regimental commander and now has charge of 2,300 men being indoctrinated in the U. S. Naval Reserve school at Columbia University in New York City recently. It is quite a job, Allen writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Zikmund, but he finds it interesting work and valuable experience. High point of his summer, the Ord young man wrote home, was the regimental review on August 28, when Mr. Zikmund presented the regiment in review to Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of the bureau of naval personnel. Also attending the review was the brigadier general of the marine corps.

After the review, Allen met and talked to Admiral Jacobs, who is shown in the Quiz picture complimenting him on the fine work he has done. The same picture appeared in several New York newspapers.

3 1/2 Inch Downpour on Friday Followed by Colder Weather

Rain General over Valley Co. but Heaviest Here; 44 Coldest Temperature.

People who have been complaining about the unseasonably hot, dry weather changed their tune this week as the temperature dropped to 45 degrees early Monday morning, registered 46 early Tuesday and slipped another degree to the 44 mark Wednesday morning. No frost has been reported.

The cold followed closely a 3 1/2 inch downpour which came Friday evening, the heaviest rain Ord has had in many months.

The rain was general over the whole Loup valleys region but appeared to center around Ord. Total reported at North Loup was 1.88 inches, at Arcadia was 1 1/2 inches and at Burwell was 1 inch. Toward Ericson 2 inches fell and southwest of Ord about 2 1/2 inches.

Corn Yield 41%. Although the rain came too late to help drought-ridden corn fields to any extent it was hailed joyfully as putting fields into good shape for fall plowing, rejuvenating pastures and helping late gardens.

On September 1, says C. C. Dale, county agricultural agent, Valley county's corn yield was reported as only 41 per cent of normal as compared with 85 per cent on July 1. This report, believed to be conservative, shows the extent of drought damage to corn during late July and August. Bulk of the county's corn yield will come from the 12,000 corn acres under irrigation, Dale explained.

70-Day Pheasant Season Approved

The longest open season on pheasants since the birds were introduced in Nebraska has been approved by the state game and fish commission for 1943. The season opens Oct. 17 and continues through Dec. 25. The open season on waterfowl starts simultaneously with the pheasant season and continues thru the same period.

Rationing of gasoline and shortage of shotgun shells is going to curtail hunting to a great extent this fall, despite the longer season.

Ord to Open 3rd War Bond Drive at Monster Rally

2 Bands, Soldiers, Sailors, Will Take Part; Mayor of Grand Island Speaker.

The biggest patriotic rally Valley county has seen since World War II began will be held at 8:30 Saturday, Sept. 11 at the court house square in Ord to inaugurate the 3rd War Bond Drive.

There will be music by the Ord high school band and by Adolph Urbanovsky's popular orchestra, with Adolph himself favoring with accordion numbers. There will be patriotic singing led by James Aagaard and Mrs. Mark Tolen.

Ralph W. Norman will be master of ceremonies and the main speech of the evening will be delivered by Harry Grim-minger, mayor of Grand Island, who has few peers in Nebraska as a patriotic speaker.

Soldiers, sailors and marines home on leave are invited to take part in the program. Ord business places which employ bandmen are asked to release them for the program.

Tuesday night the Ord city council voted to invest $7,500 in war bonds. The Ord school district may invest as much or more.

Bond Booths Planned.

Both Ord banks will have booths at which war bonds may be purchased and pledged made.

This rally will be the official start of Valley county's attempt to meet a quota of $392,400.00 in war bonds, actual purchase price, not face value at maturity. It is an enormous undertaking but County Chairman C. J. Mortensen, Rural Chairman R. Clare Clement and the man in charge of sales in the towns John P. Misko, are entirely confident the quota will be met and surpassed.

As a starter toward the big quota the Valley county board of supervisors Tuesday authorized purchase of $29,600 in bonds. Many individuals have been stepping up their voluntary bond purchases since September 1 also and it is believed that by Saturday night at least $50,000 worth, or one-eighth of the county quota, will have been bought in this county.

Monday is when the real drive will start.

Will Work in Trios. That morning, in every rural precinct and in every town, bond committees will go forth to plead, cajole, beg and argue with other residents of their communities to buy bonds to the absolute limit of their ability.

Precinct leaders received their instructions at a meeting held Thursday at the court house. Ord committees will be instructed by Mr. Misko. In this campaign workers will travel in committees of three wherever possible. Their primary object will be to sell bonds but they will accept pledges to buy before the end of September. Where pledges are accepted a second call late in the month will be made to see that the pledges have been fulfilled.

The $392,400 quota must be met by public purchase of bonds, not by purchases made by banks, the treasury department has said. Quota for the nation is fifteen billion dollars which is only a drop in the bucket compared with 100 or more billions of dollars expended this year for war.

A Privilege to Invest. Every citizen of Ord and community will want to attend the patriotic rally Saturday night, hear the music and the speeches and every citizen will want to do his utmost in the buying of bonds also.

"$1,000 invested in bonds for every Valley county boy in the service." That's the slogan of the campaign here and if its lived up to the county quota will be met.

ANNE WRITES TO HEADQUARTERS

WE HAD TEN PEOPLE HERE AT OUR PLACE, ON LABOR DAY. SERVED A PICNIC LUNCH AND EVERYTHING WENT FINE!

WE HAD EIGHT AT OUR PLACE, BUT OH, ANNE, I HAD TROUBLES. I DIDN'T HAVE ENOUGH RATION POINTS—

...TO GET THE THINGS I WANTED AND HAD TO SERVE THE SAME OLD THINGS. I WISH I KNEW HOW YOU MANAGED SO WELL AND WHERE YOU GET SUCH CLEVER IDEAS.

IT'S NOT SO DIFFICULT, MARGE. FOR ONE THING, I PLAN WHAT RATIONED FOODS AM GOING TO NEED, PRETTY FAR IN ADVANCE.

AND TO TELL THE TRUTH, I GOT KIND OF WORRIED ABOUT THIS LITTLE PARTY, WAY BACK IN AUGUST. TO READ SOME OF JULIA LEE WRIGHT'S ARTICLES AND I KNOW SHE WAS AN EXPERT ON THESE THINGS. SO I WROTE TO HER, EXPLAINED HOW MANY I PLANNED TO HAVE HERE.

...AND ABOUT HOW MANY RATION POINTS I COULD AFFORD TO USE AND THAT I HAD A PICNIC LUNCH IN MIND. SHE SENT ME THE NEAREST SUGGESTIONS! I COULDN'T GO WRONG!

SAY, I'M HAVING ANOTHER BUNCH AT THE HOUSE LATE THIS MONTH! WHERE DO I WRITE TO JULIA?

THE ADDRESS IS JULIA LEE WRIGHT, BOX 600-25, OAKLAND 4, CALIFORNIA.

Something Different

Really efficient is one of her county teachers, says Miss Clara McClatchey, Valley county, superintendent. This teacher was re-elected to teach in the same school this fall. So when spring came, and the children "passed" and were through with their textbooks and ready to begin new books and new studies in a higher grade, the teacher had a system. She collected all the books, and re-issued them last spring to the proud new owners who would use them this fall. Not only that, but the children were given their desks. So when school opened this fall, there was no confusion and hubbub for this foresighted little schoolma'am and her pupils. The children came in and went to their new seats to find everything ready to start work on a fine new year. I believe a teacher with a mind as good as that will always be a success, whatever she attempts. One reason for Miss McClatchey's great success in her office is her seeking mind, her broad point of view. She is forever trying to learn and to improve and to help her teachers. And the young teachers have never a problem that doesn't interest her, and that Miss McClatchey will not help to solve. She is not only perpetually interested in schools and their teachers, but even more especially she is a genuine lover of children, and she studies them and learns from them every day.

For example, she walks to work mornings, and she deliberately tries to be walking about the time youngsters go to school, because she likes to hear their chatter. And she learns from it. A few days ago she was delighted at a conversation between some tiny, starched, ruffled and be-curled little girls schoolward bound. "Oh kid!" cried one to a little chum "Did't we have fun with our flash cards?"

This pleased the county superintendent for several reasons, not the least of them being that flash cards are popularly supposed to bore youngsters, and to be rather difficult for them.

Jeweller Muncy hands in a joke he found amusing: "A school boy asked to define anatomy, wrote as follows: 'Anatomy is the human body which consists of three parts: the head, the chest and the stumck. The head contains the eyes and brains if any. The chest contains the lungs and a piece of liver. The stumck is devoted to the bowels of which there are five, a e i o u and sometimes Y and w.'" Irma.

BACK FORTY By J. A. Kovanda

After taking in four fairs at neighboring counties, we believe that it was a good year for Ord to skip having one. In general the attendance, amusements and exhibits at these fairs were below par. Dry weather and dry gas tanks got blamed for the shortages. Livestock at the Spalding fair consisted largely of horses. There were fifteen draft horses in one class. A good sample of the new Mesaba potatoes was on display. We also looked at some Iogold oats, which have been yielding exceptionally well in Greeley county. At Fullerton we saw an exhibit of Nebred wheat that was outstanding until some small boy threw rye into it. About fifty Holstein heifers occupied most of the barn stalls. Fullerton's fair was perhaps the best of any town's around here. Each year they add some new building or improvement to the grounds. And they have public washroom and toilet facilities on the fair grounds as clean and modern as in the best hotels. Judging contests and demonstrations by farm youths featured the Broken Bow fair. More sheep were shown than in previous years; other exhibits seemed fewer in number. Dairy cattle always steal the show at Aurora, and last week's competition was no exception. No other county has typler animals, or wins more consistently with them at the state fair. Attendance at the Aurora fair was quite good.

3 Receive Permits to Sell Milk Here

Three Ord milk dealers were issued permits to sell milk in Ord at the meeting of the council Tuesday evening. The three are Otto Radil, Ben Eberhart and Warner Vergin. To receive permits they filed certificates showing their cows to be free from tuberculosis. The city ordinance requiring that such permits be secured before milk may legally be sold in this city has been in the statute book several years but enforcement efforts started only recently. Every person or firm selling milk in this city will be required to have a permit in future. The three permits granted Tuesday night are the first ones issued.

Dogs Served in Alps In the World war, 1,000 sledge dogs saw active service in the Vosges mountains and the French Alps. On the latter front, a kennel of 150 moved more than 50 tons of supplies in four days from a valley to the fighting line in the heights. In this war, the Germans have reported raids by Russians, firing machine guns from sledges drawn by dog teams.

Soil District News

Right now is the time to plant the brome grass-alfalfa mixture for pasture. Every irrigation farmer in the Loup Valley should have a brome grass-alfalfa pasture to save in feed costs as well as to have a "handy" pasture. A. H. Easterbrook in the Middle Loup Valley east of Arcadia has a very good brome grass-alfalfa pasture that shows what can be done with the pasture mixture. Some results obtained by keeping feeding costs are quoted as follows: Eight and a half acres of irrigated brome grass-alfalfa pasture saved A. M. Ginn, manager of the beet sugar factory at Bayard, $487.25 in feeding costs on 40 cattle in 1942 and the cattle on pasture gained over half a pound more daily than did a same number of like cattle fed in a dry feed lot, he reported recently. Ginn, who is cooperating with the Morrill county soil conservation district, established the brome-grass-alfalfa pasture as part of the farm conservation plan which Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the district had helped him work out for his land. Besides improvements in the irrigation layout, the plan calls for including a grass-legume mixture in his rotation of irrigated crops. The feeding comparison, Ginn said, was made between June 10 and October 13, a period of 136 days, with 40 cattle in the pasture and 40 others in the feed lot. Cattle in the pasture, in addition to the grass, were fed a total of 21 tons of beet pulp, 255 bushels of barley, 8 tons of molasses and 15 tons of alfalfa hay, costing in all $1,008.50, and the pasture was not overgrazed. Ginn reports. Those in the feed lot received 33.7 tons of beet pulp, 316 bushels of corn, 391 bushels of barley, 3 1/2 tons of soybean meal, 34 tons of cured beet tops and 15 1-2 tons of hay, costing $1,495.75. The difference in feeding cost amounted to $57.30 for each acre of pasture grazed. Daily weight gains by cattle on the pasture, Ginn said, were 1.95 pounds per day or a total of 265 pounds per animal for 136-day period, compared with daily gains averaging 1.89 pounds and a total of 257 pounds per animal among those in the feed lot. To top it off, Ginn added, the brome-alfalfa pasture was cut for hay June 1, yielding 1-4 tons of hay an acre.

James Urban Tells Pioneer Experience

James Urban, 74, left for his home at Friend Tuesday on the evening bus, after visiting here with his brothers James, Joe, John, Charley, Emil and Will, and his sister, Mrs. Mary Nemeskal. One brother, Frank, is dead.

Recalling the days of his youth, Mr. Urban began to talk about a team of oxen and the trips he made with them when he was 17. He was hauling grain the 18 miles from Comstock to Ord, etc. He would leave Ord at nine in the evening and get home, two miles this side of Comstock, just at daylight. There were no roads in those days, just a trail.

One night he and the team of oxen were so tired he stopped when about half-way home, unhooked the oxen, took off their yokes, and fed them. He tied the rope around his foot and thought if they tried to get away it would waken him, but he was so tired he must lie down.

There was fine heavy grass, and he went to sleep, but some way the rope slipped off his foot. A storm awakened him, and he jumped up to find the oxen gone. He began to cry and run to find his team. He didn't go far until a flash of lightning revealed his precious oxen lying in a low place just over the hill, resting after their feed.

The same pair of oxen saved the life of Charlie Urban, who lives now in what is called the Charlie Kemp house. When he was five years old he was attacked by a cross cow. The cow tossed him up with her horns; the oxen saw and ran to horn the cow away from the little fellow. Mr. Urban says he remembers the circumstances, and that his father finally sold the cow because she was a continual worry with so many little Urbans playing around.

He tells many other interesting tales of early days.

Jap Athletes Progressed
Japan's biennial track and field competition with China and the Philippines started in 1913. Through the 1930s the Nipponese pointed their athletes and their hospitality toward the 1940 Olympics scheduled for Tokyo, only to have those games cancelled by the war in Europe.

NOTICE to Milk Producers

The state law (Section 81-1004) makes it unlawful to sell or deliver milk or cream for human consumption from any animal that has not been examined and tuberculin tested within three years. The health ordinance of this city requires that an annual permit be issued for the sale of milk in Ord and that such a permit shall only be issued if the cows have been inspected and tested with the tuberculin test and if a certificate to this effect accompanies the application for the permit. Both the state law, as last amended in 1937, and the city ordinance, passed in 1932, were designed for the protection of the health of the people consuming such milk and cream. At a meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, it was the consensus of opinion that the ordinance should be enforced, especially due to the present conditions. To avoid undue hardships upon the producers and sellers of such milk, it was decided to give them until October 1st to secure such a permit and have their cows examined and tested. I feel sure that they will cooperate with the city officials in seeing that this is done by that date, in compliance with the requirements of the state law and the ordinance of our city.

Pete Swanson fancies himself as an armchair strategist. Sometimes he gets so tangled up, I just can't resist tryin' to straighten him out.

For instance, the other day he was waxing indignant about our soldiers being allowed to buy beer right in camp. Said that was just coddling the troops and would ruin discipline.

I told him the actual facts had already been established by a study the Government made. Their report said chaplains and the military police agreed that instead of ruining discipline, 3.2 beers sold in Army camps provides our soldiers with a mild form of relaxation without impairing their efficiency.

Well, Pete allowed that the chaplains and military police are a pretty good authority on what's right for soldiers. I've noticed lately he's been confining his remarks to the broader phases of strategy.

The last car of potatoes was shipped out last Friday which ended the harvest this year. There is still a few acres of late potatoes to be dug but these will probably be sold locally. There were 40 carloads shipped out this year which is at least double that of last year. There would have been several more but for the fact that some fields were affected with howe heart which required grading them out. We understand that hollow heart is caused by a too rapid growth of the potato. While the yields were possibly not as large as former years the price was satisfactory and there is no reason to believe but that there will be another increase in the potato acreage next year.

The Golden Text is: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof." (I Corinthians 10:26).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "In Gideon the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night; and God said, Ask what I shall give thee . . . Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad; for who is able to judge this thy so great a people? And the speech pleased the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing . . . Behold, I have done according to thy words; lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart." (I Kings 3:5,9,10,12).

To the Public

The World-Herald is embarrassed.

For the first time in our history we have to ask the people of this vicinity not to subscribe for The World-Herald unless they are already taking it, as the War Production Board is severely limiting the amount of newspaper that this newspaper can have, as it is doing with all other newspapers.

As a rule, the circulation of The World-Herald goes down each summer 4,000 to 5,000 on account of people going on vacation. For some unknown reason, this year the circulation went up 4,000 to 5,000 during the summer, and as it always goes up in the fall, the probabilities are that if we had the paper the circulation of The World-Herald would be over 200,000 by December.

Unfortunately we haven't the newsprint, and we are not going to have it. So we have had to freeze our circulation at 190,000, and we are forced even to cut off between 4,000 and 5,000 of what we now have.

The remaining old subscribers of The World-Herald, whether by mail or carrier boy, will continue to receive the paper. We merely ask that those taking the paper by mail renew their subscriptions promptly so that they won't be dropped, as, if they are dropped, they will have to take their chances with the waiting list.

People who are not subscribers, we ask not to subscribe at the present time, as we haven't the paper with which to serve them.

Frankly, we don't look for any improvement in this situation. We are afraid it will get worse, as there is quite a shortage of labor in the wood cutting industries and in the paper plants.

To those who are now taking The World-Herald, we give them assurance that we will try to maintain in full the news coverage which we now give our readers. We are refusing advertising and holding it down all we can so as not to interfere with the news columns of the paper, and this practice will be continued as far as we are able.

New Kindergarten Class Begins Work

A Quiz reporter visiting the kindergarten at the grade school Monday learned that children coming in from recess still run to get that coveted first position. And they crowd for the following places, as children always have. And one of the quiet ones earns the privilege of holding the door open!
They were fortunate in having a fine, sunny place to play, with a stout iron "jungle gym" to climb up and down. This continuous circular ladder provides just the proper exercise for growing muscles in legs and arms and backs. Some of them preferred the activity of the merry-go-round (run by leg power) or of the old fashioned but attractive teeter-totters.
Miss Irma King, the tall, slim, dark-haired "new" kindergarten teacher capably but gently herded her peppy little charges into the building, where as the day was cool the boys and girls were hanging their wraps on hooks for the first time. But since Monday morning had been partly devoted to making identification tags for these same hooks, it all worked out well.
Inside the spacious kindergarten, small rag rugs began to appear on the floor and their young owners sprawled on the rugs. Some of the children yawned and appeared drowsy, and I noticed a thumb or two near its owner's mouth. There was some shifting, as pals sought to rest together, gradually the room grew quiet. When voices were resting too, Miss King furnished a bit of soft piano music.
In 10 or 15 minutes all the boys were asked to wake up. They jumped up, folded their rugs and carried them to a stacking place. After girls and boys had seated themselves before Miss King, she wanted to see if their rows were neat, so that she could get down the streets.
Language and dramatization period, following, was a discussion of what our daddies do. One little girl reported her daddy worked in the irrigation office, so there was a brief explanation of irrigating, and what it was. Another little girl said her father painted and papered; one father worked in a grocery store; one father went in a car every day but was at home every night; and one drove a transport. Nearly every business in town seemed to be represented, and a sentence or two of description of the work interested the tots.
The reverse side of the lesson as taught by Miss King went: "Whose daddy works at the dime store? Whose daddy has an office down town? Whose daddy works at the Quiz office? And whose daddy works at a filling station?" which the children also answered. And if you knew the answer, in the kindergarten, you laid a finger over your lips as a signal.
Next came a free period, with each child seeking his own interest. Around the sand table was a crowd of eager little hill-makers, road-builders, car drivers. A group of small girls descended on the playhouse gleefully; a bigger boy sought the reading table. Some children wanted to keep close to a little friend; others wanted to play separately and did.
But all of them are learning those important first lessons in discipline, in considering the other fellow, and getting a most pleasant introduction to school life. Kindergarten is probably one of the most important phases of teaching for that reason, determining the child's attitude toward school for years to come.
Children enrolled in school for their first taste are: Tommy Anderson, Kenneth Babka, Pauline Bleach, Duane Carson, Ray Christoffersen, Helen Clark, Clarice Dodd, Rosalie Dunlap, Katherine Gilroy, Keith Gilroy, Donald Kapustka, Clarence Kilmek, Wade Leggett, Barbara Ann Lint, Sandra Misko, Jeanine Myers, Lynn Nelson, Margaret Romans, Cheryl Smets, Leonard Savage, James Studnicka, George Svoboda, Ema Jeanne Thomsen, Marvin Vascek, Geraldine Wilson, Rita Zulkoski, with Bonnie Clough added on Wednesday, making 14 girls and 13 boys, a total of 27 children in all.

Clement Appoints Precinct Chairmen to Sell War Bonds

Rural Drive to Be Deferred. till Sept. 22, Voluntary Purchases Urged.

Completion of an organization to push the 3rd War Bond drive in rural areas of Valley county is announced this week by R. Clare Clement with appointment of chairmen for each of the 15 townships. Each chairman will name his own helpers. The rural drive has been deferred until Wednesday, September 22, to give farmers every opportunity to make voluntary bond purchases through the banks, and as a means of saving time, gasoline and tires. Records will be kept in the AAA office of voluntary bond purchases made by farmers, and all who have bought bonds to the limit of the quota expected during the drive which starts Sept. 22.

Chairmen named in the various precincts follow: Fred Murray, Arcadia. Will Koelling, Davis Creek. Ben Augustyn, Elyria. Archie Geweke, Enterprise. G. L. Dearmont, Eureka. Anton Kolar, Germanium. Ed Schudel, Independent. Joe Kamarad, Liberty. John Potrzeba, Michigan. John Kokes, Jr., Noble. L. B. Nelson, North Loup. John Ulrich, Ord. Emil Zikmund, Springdale. Lew Smolik, Vinton. Russell Jones, Yale.

All farmers and members of their families who have not made their bond-buying arrangements are urged to do so now, so the reports may be cleared to the AAA office and to precinct chairmen before Sept. 22. Valley county, on the basis of early bond sales, has an excellent chance of exceeding its quota, believes Mr. Clement. No individual township quotas were assigned, but every person is expected to buy to the limit of his ability during September.

Leroy Frazier Likes Red Cross Work

Writing his parents about his work, Leroy Frazier tells of the increased demands on the Red Cross at Boise, Ida., where he is field director for Gowen Field, and the Boise Barracks. Recently a detachment of air cadets at Caldwell were added to his charge, and lastly the navy hospital at Sun Valley, Ida. Leroy says he went to Sun Valley on business last week, and took a swim in the famous pool, where he and his family often vacationed while their home was at Jerome, Ida.

His Red Cross set-up is now handling more work per professional employee than any other Pacific area station. Last month, for example, Leroy writes his father Harlan T. Frazier, they loaned 456 service men money amounting to nearly $20,000. Leroy is in charge of a revolving fund of about $55,000. They send between 600 and 700 telegrams a month, and about 1,000 letters. He has a staff of eight working in his home office in addition to himself.

But he likes the work so much he thrives on it and may continue with it after peace has come again.

Ducks Migrating, Says Jim Aagaard

Cold weather of the past few days has started the ducks southward, reports Jim Aagaard who says that ponds north of his home have been covered with ducks for several days. Not only teal but several species of large ducks are represented. The hunting season does not open until October 17 and sportsmen are fearful that most of the small ducks will be gone by that time.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bert St. John, of Chicago, have arrived in Ord and plan to make their home here. Mrs. St. John will manage The Grill, cafe owned by her brother, Gus Schoenstein, and Mr. St. John expects to find employment also. He has been employed for the past eight years as an addressing machine operator by the Reuben Donnelly Corporation, world's largest printers and publishers.

—Mrs. Bob Adamek and her little son were able to leave the Clement nursing home this morning.

—George Hubbard was a Grand Island business visitor Tuesday afternoon.

Billy Baird, Back Home after 100 Trips Across Atlantic, Will Fly in China Soon

Ord Boy Serves as Clipper Pilot with Pan-American, Tells Unusual Experiences.

A quiet young man with a pleasant smile arrived in Ord a few days ago, a young man whose history as a traveler is already breathtaking at 28. And he is going from here into a vastly strange world, one Ord people can picture only vaguely. Billy Baird was the well-dressed visitor, as a boy who graduated from Ord high school in 1933, whose latest adventures included being a Pan-American Clipper pilot, and whose next 'run' is to be from Calcutta, India, to Chungking, China. Bill's story is a thriller, no matter how matter-of-factly he tells it, but he says he was more thrilled to see Nebraska again, and to get to Ord, than he was over getting the China run he requested. He truly loves this country and wants to settle down here some peaceful day.

Taught Flying in College. After leaving Ord Bill went to Cornell University, studying hotel administration which he liked. His friends were learning to fly and talking about it, and he became interested too. So he started flying in 1937, and earned a commercial pilot and an instructor's rating while he was still in college. He began teaching flying to others, afternoons and week-ends.

He went into the employ of Pan American Airways, where he worked up from fourth officer to third, to second, to first pilot officer. His run of late months has often included the neutral port of call, Lisbon, Portugal, a pretty country where there are hundreds of Germans, of Japs, many diplomats, much money spent, lots of it at gambling tables.

The big Boeing 314, the largest commercially flown ships in the world, carry 74 passengers, 15 or 16 crew, grossing 45 tons, hauling 5,600 gallons of gas, a big picture for any mind. The passengers ride below in comfort, with divans, tables, full course dinners, a bar, everything for comfort and luxury, while above them is the flight deck, where the crew work.

Will Fly Himalayas. Pan-American lines are all out of the United States, with some 88,000 employees needed all over the world, in most every neutral or allied country. Five main divisions of the company are called the Atlantic, Eastern, Africa-Orient, Western, and Pacific. Then there are many subdivisions, one of which is the China National Airways corporation for which the local young man will pilot a plane on the dangerous route through the Himalaya mountains.

Chas. W. Hopkins Passes Thursday

After several years of ill health Charles W. Hopkins, 74, died at 5:15 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 9, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hugh Starr, north of Ord. Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon at the Pearson chapel here.

Pallbearers were Julius Iwaniski, Frank Bartos, Jim Bratka, Joe Faimon, Stanley Petska and Fred Martinson. Rev. R. T. Cordy officiated. Music was furnished by Mrs. Leslie Nash and Mrs. C. M. Davis singing "Old Rugged Cross," "Goodnight and Good Morning" and "Sing Down the Valley." Mrs. Robert Noll accompanied at the organ.

Mr. Hopkins was born at Ord, Ia., Feb. 28, 1869. Much of his youth was spent in Cass county, Nebraska and he was married at Weeping Water at the age of 27 to Miss Katherine Blue. Soon afterward they homesteaded in Garfield county, northeast of Burwell. His wife becoming ill in 1919, the family went by covered wagon to their old home at Weeping Water where she passed away after months of illness. Soon afterward Mr. Hopkins and his daughter returned to Valley county, which remained his home until death.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Starr, he leaves one grandchild and several nieces and nephews. A brother died last January in Burwell.

Burial was in the Ord cemetery.

Two WAVES Visit Ord. Two members of the WAVES, naval auxiliary for women, were Ord visitors on recruiting duty Saturday. They were Miss H. Gallagher Y-3c and Miss R. Colucci, Sp. R. 3c. Anyone interested in joining the navy, naval reserve, Sea-Bees or WAVES may secure information at Grand Island Sept. 16, 17 and 18, as a naval board will be there on those days.

WILLIAM BAIRD.

On his new job the plane will be much smaller than the mammoth Clippers, the C-53 taking a route through the almost uncharted mountains, which rise to peaks 30,000 feet above sea-level, while the plane has a ceiling of 21,000 feet. But this and through Russia are China's only contact with the outside world since the Burma road was cut, and pilots are badly needed. The plane will have a crew of Chinese airmen, and of course works in close harmony with the military.

Sorry for the Chinese. Asked why he was changing jobs, Bill replied that he would get more money, that he wanted a change, and lastly but probably most truthfully of all, he felt sorry for the Chinese. It is a country that he has not seen, although his flights have taken him to many other far places. He has friends there both Chinese and American. In fact he has made friends all over the world.

He spent some six weeks on the longest commercial trip ever taken, when a crew of army officers went some 34,000 miles surveying possible landing sites last year. They looked over a number of islands in the Indian Ocean, and included a fascinating side-trip to the famous Victoria Falls. Here there is a big-game preserve, and they found a laugh watching the elephant herd of 500 to 600 beasts run from them. These giraffes, etc. may only be shot "in season" as pheasants are in Valley county.

Paul T. Carlsen Honored Sunday in Memorial Service

Ord Boy, Football Star, Lost Life in Santa Cruz Island Battle with Japanese.

A final salute was given to Paul Thomas Carlsen Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at the memorial services when Ord friends gathered to honor the local hero in the presence of his mother, Mrs. Carl Alfred Carlsen. He was the first Valley county boy to lose his life in the present war.

Paul was killed Oct. 26, 1942, while serving as gunner's mate first class aboard the U. S. destroyer Smith. The Smith had been ordered to stand guard of an aircraft carrier during the battle in the Santa Cruz Islands between an American carrier, task force and a strong unit of Japanese air and naval ships. At the time of his death he was manning a gun on the top deck. A Japanese torpedo plane carrying a 2,000 pound torpedo was shot down and crashed squarely on the forecastle of the ship. This crash exploded not only the Jap torpedo but scattered sparks and fragments over the entire ship and into the engine room and ammunition rooms crammed with five-inch shells which also exploded.

Paul showed the same courage he displayed on the football field and in battle. For two hours his ship continued in action, shooting down enemy planes while part of the crew fought the flames, with brave Paul fighting to his last breath. Frank Benda, post commander of the American Legion Fidelity Post No. 38, was in charge of the rites, giving the commands to attention, to advance the flag, and to salute the colors.

Alfred Hill acted as chaplain. A. J. Cochrane sang two vocal solos. Ign. Klimka, jr., as chairman of the county civilian defense program, read the obituary of the young man for whom the services were held, and presented Mrs. Carlsen with a certificate of recognition as the first gold star mother of World War Two for this county. Mrs. Sylvester Furtak, head of the Auxiliary read memorial lines from the manual of ceremonies.

Other members of Paul's family, in addition to his mother, are Mrs. Angie Cook of Ord, Mrs. Alta Pearl of Los Angeles, Mrs. Doris McCloud of San Francisco, Floyd and Chester Carlsen of Aladdin, Wyo., Alvin of San Anselmo, Calif., and Arthur of Los Angeles. His father preceded him in death five years ago.

Will Welcome Pastor. The United Brethren churches of Ord and Midvale will hold a joint worship service in the Ord church at 11:00 Sunday to welcome the new pastor, Rev. M. F. Longenecker, and members of his family. Members are urged to bring their dinners and eat together after the service.

Football Season to Open Friday

Through a change in schedule the Ord Chanticleers will open their 1943 season against Scotia on the Bussell park field Friday evening of this week, the game starting at 8:00 p. m. Scotia has a good team this year. It will be the first time the teams have met since 1936. In their fourteen-year football relationship Scotia has won six, Ord six and two games were ties.

Scotia replaces St. Paul on the Ord schedule. St. Paul has abandoned regulation football in favor of the 6-man game this fall. The Ord-St. Paul game scheduled for Sept. 24 has therefore been cancelled.

Ord High School lost eight regulars from the 1942 undefeated football team. Seven are in the armed forces. Along with the three returning regulars are eight other lettermen. Eight games are on the 1943 schedule. Lettermen are: Rose (C), Shibata (G), Huribert (G), Beran (G), Novosad (T), Severson (E), L. Huribert (B), Sowers (B), Wilson (B), Stewart (B), Finley (B).

This year's team will be the lightest and most inexperienced to represent the school for several years.

Other promising candidates on the squad of 40 include Stowell, Jablonski, Kovanda, Whitford, Vancura, Randolph, Kusek, Lewis and Tolen.

Schedule:
Oct. 1 at Ansley
Oct. 8 Burwell
Oct. 15 at Albion
Oct. 22 at Broken Bow
Oct. 29 Loup City
Nov. 5 Sargent
Nov. 19 at Lexington
Thanksgiving open

Bill Novosad Hurls 2-Hit Game Sunday

Brilliant 2-hit pitching by Bill Novosad, plus timely hits by Johnson and Klanecky, gave the Ord baseball team a 4 to 0 win over Greeley in a fast game Sunday afternoon. Ord put three runs across the plate in the second inning to gain an early lead and added another in the sixth when Christensen scored.

Novosad gave a masterful exhibition on the mound, whiffing 17 Greeley batters. Dugan was the only Greeley player able to hit safely. Lyle Novosad turned in a nice job as battery mate for his older brother.

Other Ord players included Johnson at shortstop, R. Beran, centerfield, Christensen, third base, D. Beran, left field, Bresley, first base, Klanecky, right field, Rathbun, second base and Dana, right field.

The game was played under auspices of the Legion and $20 was taken in for the service men's cigalet fund.

Red Cross Sewing Room a Busy Place

The Red Cross sewing room now located in the northwest room on the second floor of the grade school building continues to be a busy place. A goodly quantity of work has been done by volunteer women workers of Ord this summer, reports Mrs. Evan Hartman, Red Cross chairman, and the last of the blouses will have their final stitches this week.

Mrs. James Petska has made 40 blouses, and is eligible for a certificate showing 60 hours or more of work at the sewing center. Mrs. W. E. Lincoln has made 25 blouses. Several other women have been faithful workers this summer. Mrs. Ivan Botts, Miss Helen Collins and Mrs. Hattie Baird. Mrs. Stanley Absalon, Mrs. Frank Fafaite and Mrs. Howard Burt have spent long hours every week at the sewing center, acting as supervisors and sewing.

Mrs. Horace Travis has put in as many hours at sewing as anyone in Ord, having cut out all the slips made here, in Arcadia and in North Loup for many months. Now 150 kits have been cut out and several of them finished up. The room is open to the public Thursday and Friday. It is also open several other days, when certain groups of church women or club women have spoken for it. Many women attend and sew regularly.

No. Loup Popcorn Days Program Is Off to Good Start

42nd Annual Celebration in Progress; Agriculture Exhibit Excellent.

North Loup—(Special)—Off to a good start Tuesday in spite of curtailment due to war-time conditions, the 42nd celebration of Popcorn Days is now in progress here and will continue through Thursday, Sept. 16.

High among the attractions is a booth for the sale of war bonds which is located on the east side of the bank building. L. B. Nelson is in charge of bond sales here. A talk by John P. Misko, of the county bond committee, was scheduled for Wednesday night. Up to noon Wednesday bond sales at the booth had totalled $5,000.

Exhibits in several departments are quite complete. Worth visiting is the women's department, with Mrs. Ava Johnson in charge, and an excellent agricultural display has been arranged under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Barber.

Paul Madsen and Ign. Pokraka worked all day and night Tuesday making plenty of free popcorn ready for all visitors. The Thomas Amusement company arrived with their ferris wheel and other concessions and are ready for business.

On the Wednesday evening program will be entertainment by the Grand Island air base band and coronation of the Popcorn Days queen. There will be movies afternoons and evenings both Wednesday and Thursday. Thursday afternoon will be the special parades and in the evening will be awarding of prizes, band concert and a dance.

North Loup people invite everyone in central Nebraska to attend Popcorn Days and assure them a good time.

Stork Wins in Race to Loup City Doctor

Arcadia—(Special)—Mrs. Dorothy Coalder, her nurse and her brother-in-law, from Sargent, were rushing to a Loup City hospital early Saturday morning, where Mrs. Coalder expected to be confined, but the stork was faster than their car and the party stopped at the Asa Hodgson farm home 3 miles from this village. Dr. Amleck was called but a 7 1-2 pound boy was born before he could arrive and mother and baby were moved to the hospital where both are doing nicely.

Sgt. Marvin Fox Again Wounded in Sicily Campaign

Ord Boy Wounded in Africa Last November, Recovered, Now Injured Again.

Mrs. Cecile Fox this week received a telegram from the War department informing her that her son, Sgt. Marvin R. Fox, was wounded in the invasion of Sicily. This is the second time he has been wounded in action since the North African campaign started.

Last November, as the North African campaign got under way, Sgt. Fox was wounded and sent to a hospital but rejoined his unit after recovering. It is feared that his present wounds may be more serious.

MARVIN FOX.

Only recently Fox wrote his mother that he had received the Order of the Purple Heart because of his first war wound and was sending it to her, to be forwarded to his wife in Vancouver, Wash. This decoration has not yet arrived.

Mrs. Fox is anxiously awaiting further word from the war department about her son's condition.

Marker Erected at Site of 1st Service

North Loup—(Special)—A marble marker, the gift of the Palme Monument company, of Grand Island, was placed on the spot where the first religious service in the valley was held, May 18, 1872, last week, taking the place of the original marker which had been put there on the fortieth anniversary of the service. The first marker was placed by Walter G. Rood, Charles W. Barber and Ray G. Thorngate. The second one, rebuilt and enlarged by the trustees of the Seventh Day Baptist church, Mrs. Nina Lewils, Chas. Fuller and Vernon Williams. The marble slab bore the inscription, "First service of the S. D. B. May 18, 1872." Only surviving member of the group present at the service in 1872 is Chas. J. Rood, now 92. The group of pioneers, with Rev. Oscar Babcock as their pastor, had arrived at the end of their journey and on the Sabbath morning held a service near the river, where they were camped, east of what is now North Loup. From this group the Seventh Day Baptist church was organized and has been a strong factor in the life of the North Loup valley since its organization.

Ray Thorngate, of Milton, Wis., who helped erect the original marker was visiting here and was present when the second service was held last week.

—Staff Sgt. Roy Clement writes to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Clement, that he is in the San Bernardino valley of California on maneuvers and that there is too much sand and heat there for his taste.

Valley County Off to Early Lead but Sales Slipping Now

Ranked 1st in State Sunday but Far Down Now; Rally Results Disappointing.

Valley county got off to a good start in the 3rd War Bond drive which began September 9 and for a couple of days led all Class B counties in the state but since then sales have slipped and last night's total was only $101,370, or only 26% of the county's quota. This county is now in 4th place.

John P. Misko, in charge of sales, said yesterday "we've only started" and expressed confidence that Valley county people will meet the test.

The splendid early showing was due to $26,000 in bonds purchased by the county and $7,500 by the city of Ord, he said. Actual purchases by individuals have been small compared with the quota which must be met.

Results of the bond rally Saturday night were disappointing also, though there was nothing disappointing about the program or the spirit of the large crowd which attended.

A splendid talk was made by Clarence M. Davis, substituting for the mayor of Grand Island, and Ralph Norman, as master of ceremonies, kept the program going at a rapid pace with Mr. Lockwood's Ord high school band and Adolph Urbanovsky's accordion orchestra furnishing the music. The singing of James Aagaard was greatly enjoyed also.

But bond sales during the rally totalled less than $5,000, which was a drop in the bucket with a $392,000 county quota to be met.

Ord committees began their work Tuesday morning and of course haven't covered their territory but Misko expressed disappointment at results of the first day's sales and pledged. People who can afford to buy simply aren't buying enough bonds, he said.

He cited the case of one prominent Ord business man who had been counted on to buy $1,000 or more and who limited his pledge to $200; to another one who is known to win or lose hundreds of dollars regularly at poker games but who could afford to buy only a $25 bond; to another who refused to buy bonds in excess of the 10 per cent which he claims to be investing regularly from his earnings.

"We'll never meet our quota with that kind of a spirit existing," Misko said.

Other counties appear to be doing a better job of buying bonds than Valley, according to state papers. Some counties are nearing completion of their quotas and expect to double them. Valley county people must step up their bond-buying pace if they are to uphold their reputation of always meeting every quota given them.

In his talk at the bond rally Saturday night Mr. Davis pointed out that the 3rd War Loan calls for everybody to put extra money into bonds, not just 10 per cent of earnings. The war can't be won by investing only spare change or left-over dollars. Hard-earned, budget-saved money that represents a real sacrifice must be invested this time, he said.

The set-backs being met by American Forces fighting the Germans in Italy show how far the war is from being won. It will take harsh, bloody fighting to win it. And the war could still be lost, if the people at home don't do their share.

Right now the war job at hand is buying war bonds before the end of September. If you want to do your share—and every American does—go to your bank or postoffice voluntarily and buy to the limit of your ability. Don't wait for a committee or your neighbors to call on you, as too many people seem to be doing. Go on your own responsibility, and buy bonds—till it hurts!

Methodists Return Valley Co. Pastors

At the annual state conference of Methodist churches held last week Rev. M. M. Long was reappointed to the Ord pastorate, Rev. L. M. Hansberry will continue to serve North Loup and Scotia and Rev. C. A. Busby was reassigned to the Arcadia-Westerville charge.

—Dean McGrew, from the navy training school at Farragut, Ida., went through Ord on the bus Wednesday and will spend a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merris McGrew, in Burwell.

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

Funeral services for Howard Swan, 72, formerly of North Loup were held Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church in Scotia, Rev. Arnold, pastor of the Scotia Evangelical church, in charge. Born in Hebron, Ill., July 21, 1871, he was the only son of William and Mary Swan. Billy Baird, Back Home after 100 Trips Across Atlantic, Will Fly in China Soon

Golf Courses in Africa. Cities of that continent are very up-to-date, with a clean modern look. For instance, at Leopoldville in the Belgian Congo, a place with 200 or 300 population, the Pan American officers are delighted to find a handsome 18-hole golf course—although there is only one American couple in the place, and a few British subjects. "The company" keeps clubs and entertainment equipment of various kinds at the outposts where Pan-American men need them.

Another fallacy is that all Africans are ignorant and uneducated. On the contrary many of them have schooling equal to a year or two of college on our shores. Of course they are of many types, and not every native is educated, by any means.

As many as 32 tribes were represented among the workmen who carved a compound out of the jungles of Liberia for the use of the big American Clippers, he reports.

Ireland a Green Land. As beautiful as any corner of the world into which he has peeked is Ireland, the flier tells. "You know it isn't laid out in squares or straight lines like our country seems to be from the air. Instead their fields in Ireland may be in a circle, or almost any shape, and it will not have barbed wire or fence around it, but probably a stone fence, overgrown with green ivy. Yes, it is a lovely green."

More modern, more newly constructed than most cities of this country, a delightful and beautiful place is Rio De Janeiro. Night clubs keep as many as four name bands playing at once, and go in for movie-like effects with floor shows rising out of the floor, etc. But here the Clipper pilot has his problems, going in over mountains 10,000 feet high to find that he must circle tightly down into a blue bowl-shaped harbor. "A pilot's life is easy, nothing to it, but then if something goes wrong he worries enough in thirty seconds to earn his pay for life!"

Young Mr. Baird has crossed the north and south Atlantic at least 100 times, once crossing it twice in 24 hours. Usually the trips are made at night, as celestial navigation is the simplest kind. The big Pan-American clippers cost between four and five million dollars each, and each pilot trained for them represents an investment of between $50,000 and $75,000 of the company's money, what with books, tutors, and special training. It costs approximately $600 an hour to keep a Clipper in the air, not including the salaries of anyone except actual ground crew and flying personnel.

Army Won't Take Them. Pan-American is the company which actually did much of the pioneering and research work which were of so much aid to the allies when all the world suddenly became air-minded. Their pilots are valuable in their jobs, and the army and navy definitely do not want them shifted into uniforms. "We can't quit." Perhaps that is one reason Bill wants to get closer to the real fighting zones, for he mentions that the pilots of his company occasionally find themselves called slackers by some fellow in a uniform who would not believe their story if they told it.

One fact which has impressed him, everywhere he is near fighting men: "They really cry for mail. They fight like hungry wolves to get near the mail bags. Anyone who wants to help the boys has only to write and write often."

Tuesday Mr. Baird went to Atkinson to see his old friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weller. He will spend a few days with them and then return to Ord, where his mother, Mrs. Hattie Baird, is now living. He plans to stay here until he is called, which will be around Oct. 1. From here he goes to West Palm Beach, Fla., where some tests have to be run on the planes which go out to his new area of action. After that, the far east.

STORZ BREWING COMPANY Omaha, Neb. September 1943

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE WHO ALWAYS ASK FOR STORZ

Please don't blame your Storz dealer or tavern owner if he is out of Storz or if you can't get just the size or type of Storz Beer you want.

We wish we could make all the Storz Beer that the retailers want. But that is now impossible due to heavy restrictions on malt, and to the fact that the government has asked us to set aside a large portion of the reduced malt allotment to make beer for the armed forces. For these reasons, we can't begin to supply the dealers with half of the Storz Beer they need.

Furthermore, Storz Beer is so popular it often sells out first and many folks are disappointed. Several towns in Nebraska and Iowa have been completely out of beer for several days.

You can help by getting only a few bottles at a time and by returning the empty bottles promptly. In that way, more folks can enjoy the beer that has been Nebraska's favorite for so many years.

Something Different

These fancy-looking open-toed shoes were never invented for women of gravelly-streetsed small towns.

Every time I cross a street in a pair of these open-front numbers I stop on the far side to shake my feet free of some pesky little bits of stones. Something like a kitty does after stepping through water.

Probably the happiest improvement in Ord, and one of the pleasantest views, is that made next door east of Leo Long, who bought the former Harry McBeth home on the west edge of Ord.

Two or more lots east of this little white cottage had always been neglected, but now, like Cinderella they are charming in their new dress of green grass with flowers in the background. I understand the neighbors from all over that block cooperated to do this improving, with Mr. Long in charge of levelling the ground somewhat. But a pretty little waterway was left to wind through the trees.

Professional city planners have long advocated putting the houses in a block at the street walk or near it, and leaving a huge backyard to be used in common by all the residents of that block. A little private park in the middle of the block, see?

Although these Ord people do not have their little park in the center of the block but on one corner, it shows what ideas, cooperation and hard work can do within a short time.

Bussell Park sparkles again, with a new coat of yellow paint on every piece of picnic and playground equipment. A carn-

val touch is the many colored swings and merry-go-rounds, which Bud planned that way because, as he says wisely, "Haven't kids always chosen their own color...you know we've got to give 'em a choice of colors."

The yellow paint blends agreeably into the green background of the golf course, the leaves and trees. A good choice, and a nice change from the white found in every park in the land.

All of Valley county is handsome this fall, since the drenching big rains of a few weeks ago.

James Aagaard has his little dog Mortimer trained—though of course he claims not. But either the dog is awfully smart, or James is, or James is taking a big chance, or well, you decide yourself.

Recently Mortimer jumped from the car rather mysteriously, and when James walked to where the little mongrel was stationed, found Mortimer had snuck up on a cock pheasant. Like a good pheasant dog Mortimer was holding the bird delicately in his mouth so as not to harm the pheasant.

James says Mortimer has done this several times! Now what do you think???

Grade School News

In the first grade Tuesday afternoon the youngsters were having an art lesson, and about the walls were proofs that the art lessons yielded real pictures and posters, for the room was decorated on every side. Across the top of the front blackboards were colored baseballs, no doubt cut out by little boys, with the stitching carefully marked on. Nearby were rows of little colored dresses cut out and pasted on the line; yes, they were studying color, reported Miss Tracy, the teacher.

Miss Tracy is another newcomer to the Ord school staff. She is young and dark-haired and dark-eyed, and has four years rural teaching experience behind her.

The schoolroom looked like schoolrooms are supposed to look. On the white curtains fluttered colored birds with wings folded up. On the blackboard, close to the door, was a list headed "Noise Makers" and below were listed the names of eight small boys, but not one little girl!

Under the sunny windows a sturdy reading table and matching chairs waited invitingly, with many bright books over its top. (Table and chair sets like this have now been installed in several of the lower grades, usually only one of them a year, so as to spread the expense out somewhat.)

On the blackboard were interesting things to read. A little story the children made up Monday agreeing on sentence after sentence, read "It is fun to jump rope. It is fun to play ball. It is fun to play horse with a rope. It is fun to sing. It is fun to be good." Another little story was printed: "Duke and Ring are little dogs. They have dark brown eyes. We think they make nice pets." A handsome picture of the two dogs sits in a featured spot on an easel.

Finishing their art work, which seemed to be a black kite cut out and pasted on a white background, among other things the children had a free period, during which they might do as they pleased. It was noted they went straight to the blackboards and began to draw. If the artist was a boy, the picture was always of planes and tanks, and some of them were fairly good drawings too. One little girl carried clay to her seat and began to work it. Eight children huddled for the reading table and at once became engrossed. A few of the 23 stayed at their desks. Two boys sat on the floor with the tinkertoys.

Next came about five minutes of finger play—which means the teacher recites a little verse with the children, and all of them use their hands and fingers to act it out—thus three sizes of balls were indicated. The last of the games went "Here is Grandma's glasses; Here is grandma's cap; Here is grandma's hands, The way she lays them in her lap." A bit of action, a little suspense, a legitimate outlet for the little noisemakers and fun for all. And then came recess.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

Almost everybody's figuring what things'll be like after the war. I talked about that today with Jeb Crowell. Jeb—he's a veteran of the last war—says:

"One thing's sure, Joe. The boys this time won't return and find what we came back to."

Among other things, he went on to mention Prohibition. Now Jeb's a man of moderation... a glass of beer or two is all he'll ever take. It was the principle of making fundamental changes in government while he was away fighting that bothered him.

"It don't seem fair to be making changes like bringing back Prohibition while millions of our boys are away fighting for liberty and freedom, and having no chance to have their say about such things." Jeb observed.

I guess most folks admit that Jeb is right. We made a mistake once... but the boys who are fighting this way can be pretty sure we won't make that same mistake twice.

SAUERKRAUT
20 lbs. cabbage
1/2 lb. (7/8 cup) cooking salt

Select firm, mature heads of cabbage. Remove outer leaves; wash well; quarter, remove core; slice very fine. Mix 5 lbs. (about 7 1/2 qts.) shredded cabbage with 2 oz. (3 1/2 tbsps.) salt; place in deep crock or tight wooden keg; tamp down firmly with wooden masher. Repeat until all cabbage is used. Press down, cover with clean white cloth, then with plate or round wooden board small enough to fit down inside crock; weight down with a clean rock to keep cabbage covered with brine that forms. Keep in a warm place, 75° to 85° F. Inspect each day; remove scum with spoon; rinse cloth in clear water.

Kraut will be "cured" (appearance and taste will tell) in 10 to 20 days, depending upon amount of cabbage and temperature.

Kraut may be left in crock or keg all winter, in a cold cellar or basement (take care to remove any scum) or it may be canned from 1 to 3 months after curing. To can: drain off juice, pack cold kraut into hot sterilized fruit jars to 1/2 inch from top; heat juice to boiling, pour over kraut, seal, store in cool dark place. Do not process.

NOTE.—Cooking salt is salt without a filler and comes in bags.

Mrs. H. E. Messenger was pleasantly surprised on her birthday, Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Draver, Miss Meda Draver, Mrs. Emma Austin and Darr Smith arrived just before dinner, bringing well filled baskets and gifts and all enjoyed the happy occasion. She was also well remembered by members of her family and other relatives, and a phone call from her daughter, Marjorie, in Colorado, at high noon, made the day complete.

Mrs. Dean Moser, a soul of hospitality, doesn't want any more callers like the one she entertained the other day. As she sat sewing in the lean-to summer kitchen at the farm home, she was startled indeed to see a four-foot bull snake advancing rapidly toward her. Maybe she isn't afraid of snakes but she doesn't care to have them appear unannounced.

During a night scouting expedition, Gene Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson, became separated from the others in party, and not knowing his exact whereabouts, decided to take a nap. Searching parties found him near the trail in the wee hours of the morning enjoying a sound sleep. Gene says he thought he might stay out alone all night and earn extra scout honors, but his dad says if he doesn't inform the family of his intentions, he may earn honors, but none that he can display.

Coyotes are becoming a real menace throughout the whole community and are real chicken thieves. Eben Moss, who lives west of town says the coyotes have stolen more chickens this fall than at any time since he has lived in the valley. In the John Schere neighborhood in the valley east of town, coyotes are numerous and incredibly bold. They appear in daylight and make off with the choicest hens. The combined loss is serious and the results of the increased production are of no avail. Hunters cannot afford to waste time tracking down the stealthy varmints as the bounty has been removed and the pelts are undesirable at this season.

First Marriage Since New Blood Test Law

First Valley county marriage under the new compulsory physical examination laws was that of James R. Wood of Scotia, 23, who took as his bride Miss Doris M. Burke of Greeley, who is 20 and had the written consent of her father, Elmer Burke. The young people appeared in County Judge John Andersen's office on Thursday, Sept. 16, secured a license and were married by the judge. Witnesses of the ceremony were Clayton Johnson of Dannebrog and Lucille Burke of Greeley.

Young Mr. Wood is employed as worker in an aircraft factory and is the son of Russell Wood.

Following the parade the Scotia band gave a concert at the community hall after which there was a football game between the high school and town teams and foot races for the children.

In the evening the Scotia band again entertained and the drawing for the prizes took place immediately following. First prize of a pure polled hereford calf went to Ralph Misko of Ord, second prize, a fifty dollar bond, to a Miss Long at Shelby. There were twenty other prizes, varying in value from $5.00 to fifty cents which were drawn. Numbers on these prizes had been sold at twenty-five cents each.

Chanticleers Look Good in 1st Game, Beat Scotia 13-0

Wilson's Passing, All Around Play, Best for Ord; Team Green but Coming Along.

Lacking the sheer power of other seasons but making up for it with a fast passing attack and snappy play, the Ord Chanticleers looked good in beating Scotia 13 to 0 Friday night in the 1943 opener.

Junior Wilson, big fullback, was the power-house of Ord's attack but both Chanticleer touchdowns were made on passes, one from Wilson to Randolph in the second quarter and the other on a short toss from Wilson to Hurlbert in the third period. Ord threatened several other times but were set back by penalties and fumbles.

In the first few minutes of the game the Chanticleers marched to within the Scotia 10 yard line but were set back to mid-field when officials detected Bob Severson, Ord end, in the act of fighting with a Scotia player and ejected him from the game. Severson's loss was a blow but Ted Randolph, playing his first game, took his place in fine shape and later caught a pass into the flat to secure Ord's first touchdown. Only once was Randolph fooled and that was by a fake punt play which sent the Scotia speed king, Sternberg, around his end for a big gain, but after that lapse the new end kept things well under control.

The Ord team as a whole is green but game and Coach Roscoe Tolley says he has never seen a group of boys as "keyed-up" as the line-up which started Friday night. In the backfield were Sowers, Wilson, Stewart and Loyal Hurlbert, at ends Severson and Finley, at tackles Lyle Novosad and Keith Kovanda, at guards Beran and Shibata, with the veteran Rose at center. Others who saw service included Kirk Lewis, Kusek, Whitford, Jablonski, Rutar and Tolen.

Ord's line played a heads-up game with Rose and Novosad as the stalwarts. Kovanda, a big boy who has never been out for football before, looked good in his first game. Shibata was smashing into the Scotia backfield to stop many plays.

Scotia was doped to win this game but seriously threatened to score only once and were kept back in their own territory through most of the game. Ord coaches and fans are well pleased with the appearance of the Chanticleers in their initial start and while they probably will lose some games before the season ends they appear to be worthy successors to the great Ord teams of the recent past.

Valley County Reaches Half-Way Mark in Campaign to Sell $392,400 in Bonds

Purchases by Farmer's Lagging but Farm-to-Farm Canvass Started Wednesday Morning; Salesmen Will Cover City District 2nd Time.

Valley county has reached the half-way mark in its campaign to meet the $392,400 quota assigned in the 3rd War Loan drive.

But the drive ends at midnight Thursday, Sept. 30, so only a week remains to sell almost $200,000 worth of bonds.

Tuesday afternoon John P. Misko, in charge of sales, reported to state bond authorities that total sales in this county at 2:00 p. m. totaled $196,000. Per capita purchase here was $27.00 Tuesday and to meet the goal this must reach $55.00.

"It's going to be hard sledding to reach our goal with only a week to go," commented Misko. "Our volunteer salesmen are going to have to work harder and our people must dig deeper into their pockets, or the campaign will be a failure."

He outlined plans to call Ord's volunteer salesmen into another meeting later this week and urge them to again cover their districts. A check-up will be made to see if people have executed their pledges, he said, and in instances where the committee feels that persons didn't buy as many bonds as they are capable of buying efforts will be made to get them to increase their subscriptions.

Both Misko and C. J. Mortensen, the county chairman, emphasize that urging people to buy war bonds isn't asking them for donations. "War bonds are the safest investment it is possible to make right now," Mr. Mortensen said. Several different types of bonds are available, in denominations to suit every purchaser.

To date bulk of bond sales have been made in Ord. The North Loup community has reported sales of approximately $9,200 and the Arcadia community only about $6,000. Some North Loup and Arcadia people undoubtedly have bought in Ord, however, so these community totals are not accurate. At the same time it is believed that both communities and especially Arcadia should double their bond-selling efforts.

And county people are not doing their share in the drive to date, in the opinion of bond officials. A check-up discloses that with a very few exceptions, those farmers who bought bonds voluntarily in advance of the farm-to-farm canvass which started Tuesday have confined their purchases to bonds of small denominations.

Valley county's population is less than 7,500, of whom approximately 3,000 live in the four incorporated towns of the county. This leaves 4,500 rural inhabitants and theoretically these 4,500 should buy two-thirds of the county's quota. But about 70 per cent of the bonds sold to the present time have been bought by town residents, it is believed on the basis of an informal check-up.

AAA officials are keeping a record of the amounts bought by each farmer, from lists compiled by selling agencies, and calls will be made on those who aren't buying their share. Farmers who bought their bonds at postoffices will probably be called on anyway, as the committee has no record of names of people who bought bonds at postoffices.

A good many Ord people are falling to buy their share of bonds too, salesmen claim. There are several instances on record of Ord business men who not only refused to invest a dollar in bonds but were abusive to the salesmen, who are donating their time to this patriotic work and who usually have themselves bought bonds to the limit of their ability.

"Why some fellows act like they think we're getting a cut out of the bonds we sell," commented one volunteer who has bought $5,000 worth of bonds himself but was turned down by men better able to buy than he. "This is the biggest most necessary job Valley county people have undertaken since the war started and we've got to make good on it," comments C. J. Mortensen. He remains confident that Valley county people will do their share.

"When over 400 of our own boys are in the service fighting our battles; when many of them are suffering right now in the jungles of the Pacific or in the cold of the Aleutians or on the sands of Italian beaches I don't see how a single person can hold back with his money," he said.

For people who haven't sufficient cash available both Ord bankers offer to loan money for war bond buying at only 4 per cent interest. A number have already taken advantage of this offer, bankers say.

Only bonds bought in September will be credited to the county's quota and September is almost gone. Do your share; buy war bonds and buy them now.

Sgt. Rysavy Sends Bomb as Souvenir

Jac Rysavy received a long dark blue wooden box in the mail last week which bore official stamps of an army censor and examiner, a mysterious box weighing nearly 12 pounds. Inside was something he had never seen before, a bomb about 18 inches long.

It was a pretty thing, with a little white nose, a front half of red and the slim back half and the circular collar which forms the tail in dark blue. Mr. Rysavy does not know what kind of bomb it is, but a soldier friend on furlough informed him it was a demolition bomb. Of course it was not a live bomb or it could not have passed the censors and been shipped through the mails.

The bomb was sent by Mr. Rysavy's son Paul, but it was not a souvenir from Paul but a sort of thank-you from the 71st airbase headquarters squadron, wherever that might be, possibly in Iceland or Newfoundland though they do not know for sure. It seems that a few months ago Mr. Rysavy was able to send some information the boys needed and this was partly a message of thanks.

Paul Rysavy was promoted a few weeks ago and he is now a sergeant. He has been in service since July 10, 1942. His father was delighted with the souvenir, and plans to have Auble's engraver Paul's name and the date on it. Meantime many Ord people are interested in examining the slim token of destruction.

Corn Benefitted by Sunday Frost

Sweet potato vines, tomato vines and other garden vegetation was frozen back by a light frost Sunday night but the frost was of benefit to the corn crop, believes Horace Travis. This was Ord's first frost of the season and came just about on schedule for this region.

A light shower fell Saturday in some parts of the county, measuring .32 of an inch at North Loup. Slight rainfall is also reported Wednesday morning.

New Regulations Beset Parts Dealers

New regulations issued by the War Production Board require that automobile wreckers and parts dealers, when selling parts, must require that the old parts be turned in as scrap. If the old part has been lost the buyer may make affidavit to this effect, which is the only case under which the regulations about turning in old parts when buying new is suspended.

Dr. Hemphill in Sicilian Invasion, Now Caring for American Wounded on Island

(Editor's Note—This letter is a copy of one written by Dr. Paul Hemphill to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Hemphill, of North Loup. He is a major in the medical corps and is with the 45th division in Sicily. A member of the Oklahoma national guard, Major Hemphill has been in the army three years.)

Today we are having a "Khamseen", or as it is called in Africa a "Siroses." It is a strong wind that burns you up. They are supposed to be over in a day or so, so maybe it won't last long. We had an excellent meal this noon. We bought a 45 lb. steer, and had steak and will have roast and stew etc. The Clearing Co. got half of it so it won't last long at that. Al had lemonade, that was excellent except it wasn't cold. We have no ice and the water cans get pretty hot out in the sun. It is 4:30 p. m. here so it is 9:30 a. m. there.

They have a very hardy geranium here that is planted along the highway like a hedge. It grows to 3 or 4 feet high, is covered with red blossoms and grows so well in this hot, dry climate I believe it would also in Oklahoma—wish I could get a slip of it over there somehow. Along the coastal highway there are several kinds of flowering trees. Looks a lot like California.

Our first mail on the island came in last night and I was the only officer that drew a blank, but I know I have a lot somewhere and will get it before long. I am keeping notes in diary form so when the time comes I can write will have these to refer to.

Wed. 28th
The Khamseen continued all night with occasional showers. There were several grass fires around so all in all it was rather a hectic night. The wind was strong enough to blow down several tents of the field hospital set up near us. We haven't used any tents as yet. Just sleep in the open. This roughing it, mountain climbing and plain food is doing me a lot of good. I am losing weight and getting in good physical shape—the exposed part of me tanned almost black.

Sicily, Sunday, Aug. 1st
This is the other letter I promised to write (not V-mail). It may not get there so quick but I have more room to write. I had three letters from you on the 29th; 2 on the 30th and 1 the 31st. Right now our mail is a month or more late, but when they get caught up I think we will get it about 10 to 15 days after you mail it. That is what the boys in Africa say it took for them.

The locusts are sure singing and as for being hot and dry there is no doubt about that. The radio and newspapers have mentioned this division by name, where we have been and what we have done, so I can write a little about it now. We arrived off shores of Sicily the night of July 9th and could see many fires burning from aerial bombardment. When our naval guns opened up just ahead of the landing, it really was a sight to see. The guns are in a battery of 3 that fire simultaneously. Two of the shells are tracers—one red, one green usually. You could follow them across the sky from the time they were fired until they hit and exploded. A stick of enemy bombs landed between our ship and another transport and really shook us up; but neither ship nor any person was hit. A strafing plane came over and left a few slugs in our deck, but again no one was hit. As I told you I was to be the first one ashore from our Btn. and it happened it also was the first boat from our ship ashore, none of the rest landed for several hours. We left the ship at 7:30 and landed at 8 a. m. We had a very smooth crossing but July 9th a 40 mile wind came up and made white caps all over the place. Our ship (one of the largest) pitched and rolled enough to make a lot seafick. We feared the high seas were going to jeopardize the whole expedition, as we knew we might lose a lot of small boats in the high surf. There were sand bars varying from 50 to 100 yds. off shore, which also added to the hazards. Fortunately the wind went down a lot during the night, but the sea was still rough, enough to break a lot of boats, and many men had to come in, in water up to their necks and we lost a few by drowning in the high surf. There was sniping going on at the beach and it was full of mines. A 1-4 ton truck hit one just 30 yards from me so my first act ashore was first aid to the driver—he is getting along O. K. I took care of two more casualties before I left the beach. Over 300 mines were removed from the beach area later. They were of the type that required considerable pressure, as a lot of us walked over ground on which vehicles were blown up later. I started to walk back, was strafed twice by enemy planes in a mile. Saw my first dead Italian soldier lying along the road, and it really brought home to me that we were now really in the fight. Oh yes! I was on the beach when the first four prisoners were brought in and searched. I saw my first American casualty and it sure gave me a tight feeling in my throat to see the "Thunderbird" on a dead soldier. Found our area about noon and got the Btn. in by about 3 p. m. We were in an olive and fig grove across the sand dunes about 3-4 of a mile from the beach. We dug in and waited. The war ships were firing over our head to give artillery support to our troops until we could get our ashore and in position. The noise and smoke from the naval gunfire, the enemy bombs and our anti-aircraft fire really made it a pretty noisy place. A bomb landed about 200 yds. from us and we got into our fox-holes in a hurry. I slept in my slit trench that first night, and really did sleep some, I was so tired, in spite of the Naval and ack-ack fire. The next day I visited some of our units with combat teams. The casualties were getting rapid and efficient care. I was strafed twice on the trip and saw 4 enemy planes shot down in dog-fights and from AA fire. The enemy was still trying to bomb our ships unloading, and as we were only a little way from the beach, I went back and dug my trench a foot deeper. I was glad I did as all hell broke loose that night on the beach. The enemy attacked the beach for an hour and a half straight. The sky was brilliant from AA fire, using red and green tracers. Saw enough fireworks during that hour and a half to last me a lifetime. The tracers were following the planes as they came close to the ground, so it was practically horizontal fire going over us. It looked like they were not more than 30 feet in the air; but probably were several hundred. Several bombs landed near us and the flack from the AA fire showered all around—you could hear it whistle through the air and then "plunk" it hit the ground. We picked up pieces as big as a dollar all around us the next a. m. but fortunately no one was hit. Four planes were shot down in our area, two of these crashed in flames a few hundred yards from us and burned for a long time. They clipped the tree tops over our heads as they came down, and the flames lit us up like day. Frankly I was scared stiff and very glad I had dug in deeper. The trench was full of ants but I didn't even notice them until later. The next night was quiet and the next day we moved up to a town of about 30,000 and took over a military hospital, which was some help, except the natives were always underfoot. There were no screens and as only about 20 percent of the town had modern conveniences, the flies were terrible. We were glad to move out into the field again where they weren't so bad. I took over the hospital from some paratroopers who moved right on out to join their unit. I was all alone for two hours until I could get one of our clearing platoons moved up. Took care of some civilians that had been hit by picking up hand grenades or duds left by the enemy. One went off in the public square and they brought in seven from that—two of them died, one the boy that picked up the grenade, the other a lawyer and prominent man in town who was standing near. Did an amputation on a woman's leg, took care of a woman shot through the neck with an enemy machine gun and the seven mentioned above before our group got there. I did have some help as there were three Italian doctors and a group of corps men who were prisoners but as I couldn't speak Italian and they had no English we had a difficult time. The inscriptions on all the medicine was in Italian and I couldn't make them understand what I wanted in the way of instruments and solutions. We have been having a hard time, trying to keep the civilians from picking up grenades and duds, and as a result a lot of them have been hit. Twice we have had them carried into our kitchens by someone wanting to know what they were. Fortunately those didn't explode. We captured huge piles of medical supplies at the military hospital, and in several warehouses in other towns. Don't let anyone tell you that they don't have supplies. We got enormous amounts of blankets, linens, instruments etc. They apparently have no shortage of aluminum. We found all kinds of dishes, utensils etc., even portable aluminum mess tables, with leaves to extend them like a dining table at home. Needless to say we have made good use of a lot of this stuff. Most of it however is being turned over to the Red Cross for civilian use—also food from these warehouses which saves our using our supplies for them. We moved on into a town that has been the capital of one of the provinces and naturally filled with "Fascists." This was my first experience of seeing a bombed town. All of the buildings over here are of stone, and of course just a pile of stone after the bombing. In some places the streets were blocked with 15 to 20 feet of stone. The population had been warned to leave by leaflets dropped by the Allies, and many did, but the Germans told them it was only propaganda and we would never bomb any part of the island, and as a result some stayed and the estimated casualties were 700 because of it. The smell in the town wasn't too good, as many bodies were under piles of rock and it took days to remove them. These are some of my experiences for the past week. We are not permitted to talk of it until it is two weeks old. I am sitting in an olive grove, on a terraced hillside on the coastal plane. Within a hundred yards of me are olive, fig, peach, lemon, lime, orange, almond, pear, pomegranate, and other trees of which I do not know the names. The gardens have peppers tomatoes, spinach, watermelons, and so we are eating pretty well right now. We can buy more with candy and cigarettes than we can with money. I went to church this morning in a Cathedral that was built in 1130 A. D. It was surely interesting. There are ruins of old cities built on top of mountains where there is a sheer drop of hundreds of feet. You can't see how they ever got up there, let alone get the stone and masonry up to build it. It would be interesting to know just how many thousands of years they have been there. It is interesting to me to remember the Romans fought over this same ground 2000 years ago. I can't write any more now and probably have already given the censor a headache.

SERVING AMERICA FOR 93 years

Twelve miles of strap rail, one tea-kettle engine and worlds of faith in America—that was the physical and spiritual inventory of the Burlington Railroad in the pioneering days of 1850.

Today, through consolidation and construction, it is a vast mid-continent transportation system of 11,000 miles in 13 states.

During the intervening years, the Burlington has played an important role in the transformation of the great Middle West from a wilderness to a productive agricultural and industrial empire. And, during those years, it has seen active duty in four great conflicts—the Civil War... Spanish-American War... World War No. 1... and World War No. 2.

It is a far cry, indeed, from the Burlington which began in 1850 to the Burlington of today—but the same spirit of faith and achievement has prevailed through the years. The objective which united Burlington workers during the days of the pioneer, Fort Sumter, Manila Bay and Chateau Thierry, unites more than 35,000 Burlington workers today.

We take pride in the Burlington's growth to its present position as one of the country's major railroads—for this development is enabling us to play a very substantial part in handling the biggest wartime transportation job in history.

BACK THE ATTACK BUY WAR BONDS

Farm Work is War Work! Everybody, throughout the great Mid-West, is striving day and night to increase the nation's food supply.

But, it takes more than food to win a war! It takes a lot of money, too! And the 3rd War Loan is your opportunity to help. Besides, your money earns real interest.

Remember—war front action, so far, is only preliminary to the big battle that is coming. To win quickly, with least loss of life, our boys must be given the arms, backed by necessary food, that will help them overwhelm the enemy.

NOW is the time to reach deep and dig out every last dollar we can put into bonds! It is not enough to simply buy with part of our earnings—we must convert our savings, too! Let's overwhelm the Axis, save lives, end the war and get our boys home quickly!

Reading Is Fun In Second Grade

Second grade children are learning to read lickety-cut, and having fun doing it, under the gentle guidance of Miss Inez Swain, who is also the principal of the grade school.

Reading isn't taught much like it was a number of years ago. Even the books have changed for the better, with lovely pictures on every page. Pictures play a large part in teaching reading the newer, easier ways now in style.

Another aid to reading is the manner in which youngsters are shown the words with similar letters. One list on the blackboard included such differing words as cinder, together, singer, walker, worker, mother, other, rider, talker, player and never.

Beside it another list included street, cheer, meet, sweet, sheet, greet, feet, weep, Bo-Peep—do you get the idea?

"Tim Chick Sees the World" was the title of the story, and a sample paragraph was: He had put on his best pants, his very best vest, and his big blue hat. He said, "Mother, I am going out to see the world. I am going far, far away." Some good little readers read this story aloud easily, among them Peggy, Lorraine, Jane, Ruth, Sharon, Margaret Jean. It is wiser not to call on the children in order down the row, just as it always was, so Miss Swain "skipped around."

The room decorations were appealing. On the south wall big red apples on posters bore the suggestive legend: EAT FRUIT! A row of freehand pictures across the front of the room showed a hill with a road going through a group of trees, done in crayola. The alphabet and the numerals also occupied a prominent place across the top of the board.

At recess the bigger children made the merry-go-round go faster. They climbed the jungle-gym faster, and went down the slide faster. They played together more cooperatively. The boys organized a couple of softball games, playing happily until a little villain hurt one of his small neighbors and was chased across the street by loyal little friends. This punishment from his playmates was righteous and effective, removing the smile from the little villain's face. Miss Swain didn't say much to him, simply took him by the hand and kept him with her the rest of the play-time. But losing favor with his little friends, and their ostracizing him from their ball game...that is effective punishment. As always, Miss Swain stayed her serene, patient self.

First and second grade pupils filed back into their rooms, and a review of reading in the second grade saw Sharon H., Marilyn, Marlene, Bernard, Alice, Carol and Karen reading before the class. Those who had finished their reading took out their work books which really might be well named fun books. Pictures to color are matched to the proper words by a pencilled line, while the story usually goes with current reading.

In the second grade this year are Marilyn Absalon, Elaine Cook, Jimmie Douthit, Lorraine Dunlap, Carol Goff, Sharon Mae Hansen, Sharon Hastings, Jackie Holt, Eloise Jobst, Donnie Maurice, Margaret Jean Muncy, Marlene Nelson, Ruth Ollis, Sharon Olsson, Bernard Randolph, Ruby Renfro, Ruth Renfro, Jane Romans, Peggy Russell, Betty Ann Sowers, Adeline Studnicka, LeRoy Wells, Jimmie Wilkins, Richard Ry-savy, Karon Newmeyer, Bobby Bennet, Jay Kay Hackett, Don Ray Carr.

Good Scholastic Record. Raymond Vogeltanz had his picture in the World Herald Sunday, one of a group of freshmen students at Creighton University who made high grades. Enrolled in the college of arts and sciences, Raymond tied for first place in mathematics and took third honors in the psychological examinations.

The university placement tests were given to all freshmen students, and are issued by the American Council on Education. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogeltanz are proud of their sons' fine record in the tests, especially since he made not one but two high marks.

Save Fruit
Wrapping oranges and other citrus fruits in paper treated with diphenyl has been used with success by citrus-fruit growers in Australia. Losses of fruit in the treated wrappers were 3/4 less than losses in control lots of similar fruit kept in ordinary, untreated wrappers.

COAL

We are still harping on this coal situation. Coal is coming pretty freely now but there is no telling what it will be when cold weather comes, so we recommend that you put in your winter supply now while you can get it.

IS THIS ALL THE ORANGE JUICE WE GET, IRENE?
GEE, YOU'RE STINGY WITH ME, TOO—HARDLY ANY IN MY GLASS.
AND HE HAD ONLY ONE KIND OF ORANGES LEFT. THEY LOOKED NICE AND BIG, AND A DOZEN COST QUITE A LOT. I THOUGHT THEY'D BE JUICY.
WE HAD SOME OF THE WORST ORANGES THIS MORNING, NELLIE. THEY LOOKED FINE, BUT THERE WAS HARDLY ANY JUICE IN THEM.
...AND OF COURSE IT'S THE WEIGHT OF AN ORANGE THAT SHOWS HOW MUCH JUICE THERE IS IN IT. BIG, LIGHTWEIGHT ORANGES SIMPLY HAVE MORE PULP AND LESS JUICE.
THAT SOUNDS LIKE THE WAY TO BUY ORANGES! I THINK I'LL TRY SAFEWAY NEXT TIME.
THAT'S OOO, IRENE. I GOT SOME YESTERDAY TOO, AND THEY WERE JUST HEAVY WITH JUICE! AT SAFEWAY, YOU KNOW, THEY SELL THEM BY WEIGHT...

Maxine Copeland Chosen Queen of Popcorn Festival

Both nights Gene Pelper's Swing Kings from Albion furnished music for the dance at the community hall while there was an old time dance at the Legion hall.

The Thomas amusement company, with their ferris wheel, little cars for the kiddies and the bingo stand, were well patronized. Both the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church and the Nellie Shaw society of the Seventh Day Baptist church, served the hungry crowd with lunches and meals. Both have added at least $200.00 to their treasuries by their efforts.

A total of 1500 pounds of yellow Superb corn was popped, sacked and given away. Noticeable about this was the fact that no one wasted any as is often the case. 20,000 sacks were required to sack it. Vere Leonard and Herman Dezel popped it in the large electric poppers, under the direction of Paul Madsen and Ign. Pokraka. A number of boys helped in the sacking and were kept busy most of the time. Some one estimated that if the corn was all together it would more than fill the large auditorium in the community building. Grease was donated by farmers and while the crowd was not as large as sometimes, a large crowd was present both days and well into the night. Only disappointment of the celebration was the delay in the coming of the army air base band. The Consumers Power company furnished the light for both places where the ladies served and the Pop Corn stand and the Fairmont creamery were kind enough to donate the cones used for ice cream in both eating places.

The bond rally, under the direction of Ben Nelson, sold $8,637.50 worth of bonds. A booth had been put east of the bank and a number of girls and men worked constantly. Exhibits were good, a large display of quilts, rugs, fancy work, flowers and canned goods at the community building and the agriculture at the old Farmers store. A service mens' window and a hobby show window each drew its share of attention. If prizes had been given for window decorations, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Hoepfner at the postoffice should have had it for their window with its large green and yellow V in a green frame, with enormous bouquets of golden rod makes a beautiful picture.

Outstanding in fancy work was the collection of pillowcases there being three dozen pair on display and Duane Meyers received first prize on his that he had made while he was in the orthopedic hospital in Lincoln.

A book on display at the community building was much enjoyed and was the work of Mrs. Sam McDonald who has two sons in the service and who had taken all the service men's pictures in the Quiz, pasted them in the book, with a blue star for service of more than a year, a silver star for overseas service and a gold star for a casualty. In the back of the book were blank pages with the request that any parents whose son's pictures were in the book, please sign.

The Pop Corn committee who had the courage to go ahead with the celebration in spite of almost impossible circumstances are to be congratulated on the success of the festival.

North Loup Methodist Church.
Church school, 10 a. m.
Worship service, 11:15 a. m.
We are happy to be back to labor in God's Kingdom with you for another year. A tremendous task lies before us—we can do only as much as each of you will let us—by being co-workers with us. The church needs the help and cooperation of every individual. It needs workers; teachers, officials and more church leaders, so that the same few don't get discouraged having it all to do. (Did you miss the Christmas and other programs last year? There is the reason.) We need more women to help in the growth of our great Women's society, more laymen, more musical ability. Your church needs you, and you and you. Will you answer the call and meet the great need?

We had previously announced that Rally Day would be observed this next Sunday but due to failure of supplies to arrive in time, it has been thought wise to postpone it.

An important event of the near future will be a district meeting at Ord on Oct. 1. Of special interest to the women of the church will be Mrs. Godfrey, the field worker of the Women's Division of Christian Service. She is very good. We heard her a number of times at various meetings at the conference. She is to be the guest speaker at Ord. Keep the date in mind and plan to go.

We need a load of cobs for the church. Before we had finished writing these church notes, we had a volunteer worker. Thank God for such. We hope by next choir practice that some full time, on the job all of the time, pianist will have volunteered their services.

Our Fighting Men

In this column each week we want to print news about Valley county boys in the service. When you get a letter from your boy, tell us what he says; when he is home on furlough see that we are informed. When he is promoted we want to know it, too. This is YOUR column — about OUR boys.

Private Richard Barnhart of Camp Phillips, Kas., arrived on Monday evening at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. O. E. Collins of Ord. He is enroute to his home at Sargent, having a 15-day furlough before going on to Arizona somewhere for desert maneuvers. He was looking first class, after 14 months of maneuvers at Camp Forrest, Tenn., with the infantry, having been transferred to Kansas just a week ago. He went into service July 30, 1943. His brother, Ben, is in Tillamook, Ore., where he has been for nearly a year.

T-5 Corporal Henry Sowers of 148th MVA, building 423 Atlanta Ordnance depot, at Atlanta, Ga., is on a 14-day furlough with home folks. He came on the train Friday evening. Calvin Ferris, private in the communications section of the signal corps of the second infantry, at Camp Wolters, Tex., wrote his people that he was to be on a quiz program Monday evening, and to listen for him. But although all the family tried none of them could find the right time or program, apparently, so they did not get to hear his voice.

Mrs. Cecile Fox was pleasantly surprised Wednesday by her son, Sgt. Clarence J. Fox, who dropped in for a few hours visit. Sgt. Fox is stationed at the Harvard Air Base, and was thrilled to qualify as an expert shot with the new type air force rifle. Mrs. Fox is expecting her son and wife for a longer visit soon.

Pvt. Larry Botts and family from Wood River visited at the Ivan Botts home two days last week, departing Sunday evening for camp, where his address is 5754, Co. G, 121st Inf., APO 8, Camp Forrest, Tenn.

Ed Sowers is in training near the California line, and a third brother, Levi, is now stationed in the south Pacific, says T-5 Henry C. Sowers who arrived Friday, and left today to return to Atlanta, Ga. He reports southern talking gets mighty tiresome; also that he is driving ammunition trucks but has applied for entrance to the paratroops.

Corp. Marvin Wilson writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Wilson, that he is fine and hoping to be home for Christmas. He is in a medical corps, stationed at the 67th static hospital in Africa, somewhere. His brother Bud leaves this Friday for Leavenworth, Kans., going in as a brand new soldier. Chester Bentley, seaman second class, writes from San Diego to his mother, Mrs. Cecile Clark. He will be there at least six months yet, and says he is busy training 17-year olds. From Arden Clark, now in India Mrs. Clark hears that he recently had two weeks' leave to take a British entertainment troupe around to other camps, but that the work he produced and directed will now have to start over, because the personnel has shifted elsewhere. Arden says Hank Larson is stationed only 40 miles away, and they saw one another not long ago. Written Sept. 2, Arden had been in the hospital a few days.

Hosiery Collection to End.
The silk and nylon hosiery collection will officially end on Sept. 30, 1943, and all shipments must be made by Oct. 4.

Those in Ord, who have such hosiery on hand, please get in touch with the county hosiery chairman, Mrs. Edw. Kokes. Mrs. Kokes will announce the Arcadia chairman in this issue of the Quiz. Everyone in North Loup who has such hose will please put in a box placed in the Farmers Store, or call Myra Thornthorn.

The experience of many years has proven that the NATURAL STONE VAULT is one that will successfully stand the test of time. Try Looking Ahead for Ten Years

And it might lead you to buy your own Farm or Home now, while the price is still right and the terms easy and interest not bad. Then in Ten years you may have your farm or home clear, and if you still rent for ten years at the end of that time you can still go on paying rent and then you might think you are too old to ever buy a farm or home and you will be a renter all your life. Think it over and let me show you some places that will make you a real home, and pay the rent to yourself. What do you think of that? Better come and have a look soon.

PATRIOTISM NEEDED.

Are rural Nebraskans less patriotic than those of our people who live in the state's larger cities.

It is inconceivable but returns from the 3rd War Loan drive to indicate it is true.

On the basis of Tuesday's returns per capita bond sales in Omaha were $68.92 and in Lincoln were $45.08. Only outstate county ranking with the leaders in Scottsbluff, with per capita purchases of $60.15, and Scottsbluff is something of a metropolis itself these days. But aside from Scottsbluff the highest outstate per capita bond sales are in Logan county, with $38.50 and most of the counties of the state range far lower down, as low as Rock county's pitiful $2.42. And where is Valley county in the standings? Our per capita sales on Tuesday were only $23.33 or about one-third of Omaha's record.

True, the 3rd War Loan drive is not over until midnight of the thirtieth day of September but the closing date is only a week away. Rural Nebraskans, including Valley countians, still have a chance to redeem themselves and remove the black mark from their patriotism. But the only way they can do it is to buy war bonds, and more war bonds; to meet and surpass the quota given to this county.

And good as Omaha's record is it still isn't good enough. Nor is the record of Nebraska as a whole, for in the nation-wide standings Tuesday this state was in 46th place in war bond sales. Not an enviable record for Nebraska, which usually takes second place to no state in patriotic endeavor.

Buy bonds, Valley countians. Buy bonds, Nebraskans. This isn't Omaha and Lincoln's war, nor the war of the coast states. It is America's war, and only by the patriotic efforts of all can our war be won.

SHALL WE LET HIM COME HOME TO THIS?

We cannot allow inflation, a great and disorderly rise in all prices, to occur in this land.

Either during the war or after it.

That is the supreme reason—among many other sound ones—why every man and woman of us should put every dollar that can be reasonably spared into additional War Bonds now.

It may be shocking to discover that you, personally, may have been actively contributing to bring on such a national tragedy; by mere PARTIAL support of the Government in its efforts to raise money for the war.

Here is a simple basic truth, about the nation's monetary affairs, which every American must understand:

Every available dollar which we fail to put into War Bonds compels our Government to CREATE A NEW DOLLAR—to take the place of the one we do not lend.

This manufacture of new money in great quantities has been the root cause of every disastrous inflation recorded in history.

It is now going on in this country by the billions of dollars monthly.

Our active money supply has ALREADY increased $43,000,000,000 since the war began. It has more than doubled in that time.

If all of us—individuals and business firms—do not lend the Government far more than we did in 1942, this increase WILL GO ON at an estimated rate of at least $30,000,000,000 each year the war lasts.

Should this happen, with two more years of war, our money-supply would be inflated to a total almost FOUR TIMES what it was in 1939.

You do not need to be an economist to realize that this progressive enormous inflation of the nation's money-supply is at the same time piling up the difficulties of preventing a great and disorderly rise in prices.

This wartime manufacture of new money must be LESSEned GREATLY, if such a disaster is to be averted.

It is that necessity which explains the WHY behind the Government's colossal taxation and borrowing program.

You surely know that our Government, if it is forced to do so, could get the extra money it needs to pay its current war bills by running the money off the printing presses, the way Germany did in the twenties.

Have you ever thought, "Why doesn't it? Why does it tax me so heavily? Why does it bother me continuously about loans?"

The answer is: the Government, in your long interests, must do everything possible TO KEEP TO A MINIMUM this wartime creation of new money.

The best way to lessen this perilous swelling of our money supply is by taxation. The next best way is for all of us—every individual and every business firm—to lend the Government every dollar we can reasonably spare.

Whatever you pay in taxes, whatever you lend, LESSENS BY SO MUCH the new money the Government is obliged to create.

This is the crucial role each one of us, as an individual, plays in safeguarding the future of the nation at home, while our boys do so abroad.

Whatever else you may be humbly doing for your country, in this momentous period, this basic responsibility of a citizen must be added to it.

It is hard—and may get harder—on everybody. But whatever the inconveniences and sacrifices may be, how will they compare with what will have been done by the 10,000,000 young men and women who, at their best years, have broken their careers to win the war?

What kind of land shall we let these boys come home to?

INFLATION CAN SURELY BE AVERTED The responsible monetary authorities in Washington know exactly how it must be done, and (on the whole) the nation is on the right track. Taxes have been enormously increased, so has borrowing from other than banks, and the "controls"—to prevent wartime inflation—have been reasonably successful. Over the long period, however, certain avoidance of a disastrous inflation is impossible without greatly increased loans from the people.

YOUR PRIVATE INTEREST AND PATRIOTISM COINCIDE There never will be a time when United States Bonds will not be paid off dollar for dollar, no matter how great the federal debt becomes. The real concern of everybody must be how much each dollar will buy, in goods and services, in the future. But if all of us, through being uninformed or apathetic, compel the Government now to add tens of billions of dollars yearly to our money-supply, that is the very way to lessen the future value of the dollar, the very way every disastrous inflation in history has been caused. Accordingly, the best possible protection to your present savings and your future income—whether from salary or wages or otherwise—is paying heavy taxes now and lending all you can spare to the Government. The only certain way for any person, rich or poor, to "beat inflation," is to help avert it; and this is the only certain way to avert it.

COMMON SENSE:
 Every dollar you put into War Bonds does three vital jobs: it helps to win the war quickly, it protects your own future as an investment, it protects the nation against inflation—during the war and after it.

Hot Dogs and Coca Cola but No Liquor or Tobacco for C. N. Thompson, 100 Monday

Monday, September 20th, was a red-letter day for C. N. Thompson, for on that date he celebrated his one hundredth birthday, at his daughter's home in Burwell.

"Grandpa" Thompson as everyone calls him is a familiar figure on the streets of Burwell. He is eager and alert and moves with amazing rapidity for one of his age. He apparently enjoys the best of health, reads without glasses and drove his own car until about six years ago.

Grandpa Thompson says he attributes his long life to "moderation." He never over eats, nor does he smoke or drink. He however defies many of the health rules and for a "snack" enjoys a "hog dog" and a bottle of coca-cola. He was refused admittance into the army during the Civil war because of his slight physique.

Mr. Thompson is vitally interested in all world events, has his own idea of Churchill and rejoiced at the surrender of Italy. He recalls that the first time he voted, Abraham Lincoln was his choice. His stories of the early days are adventurous and thrilling, and names, dates and places are easily recalled to memory.

Born in New York City in 1843, he emigrated to Iowa with his parents when he was six years old. He received a liberal education and worked as a printer for a year in a printing office. But the wide open spaces called him and he enjoyed cutting hazel brush, breaking prairie with his six yoke of oxen and the many other tasks of a pioneer frontiersman. As soon as he became of age he filed on a homestead.

July 4, 1871 Miss Elizabeth

Hoskins and young Thompson planned to surrender their independence. But when the wedding party reached town, there was no one there eligible to administer the marriage vows and the wedding had to be postponed until July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson made their home in Iowa until 1880 and then with their six oldest children came overland to Nebraska. Oxen pulled their wagon and they drove a herd of cattle before them. It was a long, hard trip. Intending to cross the Missouri at Sioux City, high waters forced them to go as far south as Omaha and cross on the ferry. They first located at Neligh and later lived at Inman and finally located on a homestead seven miles southwest of Amella, in the Swan Lake country, where Mr. Thompson lived for over fifty years. He was a progressive rancher, building the first frame house in the community, putting up the first windmill and he bought the first reaper. He worked with a breaking team, hauled freight overland and often made the trip with oxen to Fort Niobrara, and for many years he owned and operated a harvesting machine. By hard work and good management the worthy couple accumulated several thousand acres of land and many cattle.

In 1921 they were privileged to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. It was a unique celebration held in the beautiful grove at their home. Under a spreading maple tree, the couple renewed the sacred vows made fifty years before. Ninety invited guests and relatives were present and two long tables were loaded with good things to eat. Thirteen children came to bless this union. Religion was never neglected in the home and family worship was a daily ritual. No stranger was ever turned away from the Thompson door.

C. N. THOMPSON

The first break in the family circle came in 1926 when the wife and mother died. A daughter, Laura, Mrs. Charles Lierman died in 1941 and a month later another daughter, Mrs. Gus Fuller died.

After the death of his wife Mr. Thompson continued to live alone on the ranch for several years. Several of his children lived near and finally in 1935 he was persuaded to give up ranch life and held a large sale. He now makes his home in Burwell with his daughter, Mrs. William Carpenter. Another daughter, Mrs. J. W. Kellogg lives near Burwell. The other children are Mrs. Frank Moorman, who lives in Canada, Mrs. Everett Whitcomb, Chehalis, Wash., Mrs. Barnard Gardzewski, Sedro Woolley, Wash., John Thompson, Newport, Nebr., Lester, Tom and William who live in Holt county, Mrs. Fred Watson and Mrs. Richard Kaiser of Holt county, Nebr. There are also 55 grandchildren, 83 great grandchildren and 17 great great grandchildren.

The relatives held a reunion to celebrate this centenary birthday. A granddaughter, Mrs. R. W. Rockett, from Roswell, N. M., who arrived Thursday will have the distinction of coming the longest distance to attend this unusual event.

Seventy-five relatives of Mr. Thompson gathered Sunday at Burwell to help him celebrate his 100th birthday. Dinner was served in a sheltered nook at Riverside park and the tables were attractively arranged.

It was a moment charged with emotion as Grandpa Thompson once more took his place at the head of the table and in the inspired silence that followed, offered grace in a befitting and reverent manner.

Those present were Mrs. Richard W. Rockett of Alexandria, La., Pvt. and Mrs. Verne Kaiser and family of Arcadia, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson and family and John Thompson from Newport, Nebr., Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lelmann and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson and son Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Thompson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schade, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kinney and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Madson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Watson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Simmons and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson Whitcomb and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kaiser and L. A. Thompson from Amella, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kellogg and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Carver and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Carver and daughter of Burwell.

Soldier On Farm Or In Army All Alike

Topeka, Kans. —The side that runs out of food first is going to lose this war," declared Lawrence Norton, chairman of the Kansas U. S. D. A. War Board, in a statement in which he asserts: "The patriotic young farm boy who remains on the farm, producing essential food, is entitled to the same consideration as his red-blooded friend who is in the armed forces."

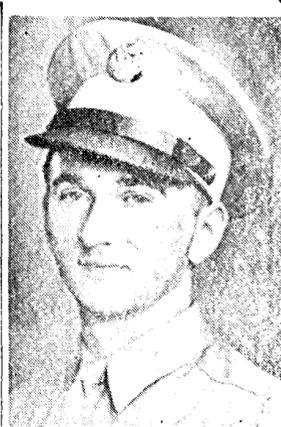

Norton is not spreading alarm about the food situation, as he believes the farmers of America have it well in hand, but he believes the time has arrived when young men give consideration to remaining on the farm.

Draft deferment is now available to all essential farm workers, but despite this, many farm boys are choosing to go to the army even though their leaving seriously cripples an important farm unit.

The war board chairman believes it is the duty of these men to stay on the farm at least until someone can be found to replace them. He thinks public opinion is to a considerable extent responsible for this situation. In some communities young men who have accepted deferment and remained on the farm, have been made to feel that they are slackers.

"If the American people want to jeopardize their food supply, this kind of an attitude is certain to do it," Norton says. "The farm labor supply has been cut reduced further without loss of essential food production."

"The Secretary of Agriculture recently said: Every young man accepting deferment and remaining on the farm, producing food and fiber without which we cannot win the war, is serving his country just as loyally as though he were in the armed forces. The boy's overalls are his uniform, and it is an honor to wear them."

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

The use of concrete as a building material is on the increase since lumber and metals have become scarce. There are no priorities on cement.

Our Future Farmers at Ord high school have secured an iron form to be used in molding concrete troughs. They are making the troughs for their own use on the farm, and also to sell at competitive prices. Profits will go to the treasury of their local F. F. A. chapter. So far, the demand for troughs has been brisk.

These concrete feeding and watering troughs are round in shape, weigh sixty pounds, and hold about two and one-half gallons. Handles are built into the sides, which are reinforced.

The troughs are more durable and sanitary than wood or metal ones. Freezing weather will not break them. Sows cannot upset them and waste feed or wet bedding. They stay where put, and are lifetime equipment.

A good poultry waterer can be made by inverting an old cream can and placing it in one of these troughs. Blocks of salt fit snugly in the troughs, avoiding waste, breakage and loss. The troughs are safer than metal for feeding milk, and are sometimes used as milk containers for bucket calves or poultry.

A mixture of three parts sand and gravel to one of cement is used by the boys in constructing these troughs. No other building material depends so much for its success upon the user as concrete.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

John Trumbull, our postmaster, looks up from his newspaper yesterday and says: "I see they caught another one of them so-called 'gang-lords' of the Prohibition era.

"Wonder how long it's going to take us to wipe out the evil Prohibition left behind... not to mention the billions of dollars it cost the people!"

Well, John's right o' course. Hard to believe America could ever pass a law like Prohibition.

But from where I sit it's a big consolation — now that Prohibition is over — to see how moderation and tolerance have grown up in its place.

Nowadays, if a man enjoys a friendly glass of beer or two after a day's work, he not only can do it in clean, respectable surroundings — but he knows that no bootlegger or gangster is making a red cent on it.

Arcadia and B. B. Football Teams Tie

The Arcadia Huskies clashed with Broken Bow under the lights Friday for the first game of the season for both teams. Although Broken Bow was predicted to win over Arcadia, the game was even.

Arcadia kicked to Broken Bow. Broken Bow was penalized 45 yards the first quarter. During the first quarter there was little action on either side. The ball remained in midfield through most of the second quarter, until Arcadia made a scoring thrust, when Bellinger caught a pass from Arthur and made the first score. Franzen kicked for the extra point—it was good.

Entering the second half Broken Bow kicked and Arcadia received, and ran the ball back to the 40. Arcadia was halted and forced to punt. Broken Bow started their drive and Booth scored their first score.

Arcadia received again but were held by Broken Bow until the fourth quarter. Arcadia took an early lead after the start of the fourth, but again was halted by the stubborn Broken Bow line.

Broken Bow then received Arcadia's punt, and later, after several hard-hitting runs, they scored. They also made their extra point.

Receiving in the latter part of the fourth, Arcadia's big Franzen battered the Broken Bow line. On a fake kick Bellinger ran over center for about 15 yards. Gregory returned with an end run around with 15 or 20 yards.

Arthur threw a beautiful pass to Bellinger on about the 5 yard line, and he carried the ball over. The extra point was no good. The final score was 13-13.

How to keep the Good News Good!

THE WAR NEWS for the past few months has been mighty good for our side.

And you can help keep it good. There's a big price tag on good news, on attacks and victories, a price tag of life, sacrifice, and cold hard cash. Our job here at home is to provide the cash. Plenty of it. Now!

Good news is born of action, action consumes material, material costs money. That's the reason for the Third War Loan that's now on. This Third War Loan calls for every working man and woman to put extra money into Bonds in September.

Not just the 10% of your salary. Not just spare change. Not just left-over dollars. But extra, hard-earned, budget-saved, money. It's the way, today, to back the men who are doing the real job of sacrificing.

Buy Bonds—up to the hilt—today. Keep that news good!

Ord Livestock Market

announces its offering for the regular weekly sale

Saturday, Sept. 25

Sale Starts at 1:15 P. M.

We had a larger consignment of livestock last Saturday, in all classes, than we have had before in a very long time. We thought the cattle market was steady on all stock with exception of heavy steers. It seemed to us that the buyers in this class were not fully decided on what they wanted to pay for that class of feeders.

For next Saturday's offering it looks like:

175 HEAD OF CATTLE

All classes will be included—bucket calves, suckling calves, mixed yearlings, feeder steers, feeder cows, 3 good milk cows, 2 breeding bulls of good ages.

250 HEAD OF FEEDER SHOATS

The market on shoats last week was active to strong and this week it looks like about 250 head of this kind of pigs will be consigned. We also will sell 35 head of wet sows and several breeding boars.

5 HEAD OF GOOD FARM WORK HORSES

Work horses have been selling strong and if you have any to offer bring them in now, to this market.

$73,000 Needed by Saturday to Meet War Bond Quota

Leaders Hopeful, Say More Large Bonds Must Be Sold; Farmers Buying Well.

Still lacking $73,000 of meeting the quota but at least within shouting distance of the goal, Valley county workers in the 3rd War Loan drive will redouble their efforts this week in an attempt to put the county over the top by Saturday night when the drive officially ends.

Total announced yesterday by John P. Misko was $319,000, or 81 per cent of the $392,400 quota. Farmers at last are awake to the seriousness of the drive and at least in Valley county are beginning to buy bonds at the rate expected of them, said R. Clare Clement on Tuesday.

In some townships sales are still lagging but in others the people are making a real record. About $30,000 in bonds has been bought by Elyria township people, with Benette Augustyn, Fred Martinsen, James Sobon and Walter Jorgensen as volunteer salesmen.

Archie Geweke reported sales of $30,000 in Enterprise township last week. Russell Jones is doing a swell job in Yale township again. In townships where sales are meeting quotas the farmers are buying $500, $1,000 and more in bonds each, whereas in townships where sales are lagging the farmers are still buying $18.75 bonds and consider they have done their share, which county drive leaders say is not true.

Such farmers must buy more bonds than they are doing. All pledges must be fulfilled by Saturday or they won't count in the September drive, emphasizes Clare Clement. "It's got to be cash on the barrelhead before midnight Saturday," he said. He promised a check-up of all farmers who signed pledges, to make sure they are fulfilling them, and a similar check-up is being made in the towns.

"We've still got a big job on our hands," C. J. Mortensen, county bond chairman, told the Rotary club Monday night in reporting the drive. At that time the county lacked about $100,000 of meeting the quota and still lacks three-fourths of that amount.

"Only three days remain after today," Mortensen said Wednesday, "and we've got to make them count. It would be an everlasting disgrace to Valley county to fall down on our quota by a small margin, after we have made such a grand effort."

In the state contest, Valley is still running about 10th in counties of the Class B group. Several counties have met and surpassed their quotas, among them being some that were even harder hit by drought than Valley county has been.

If you haven't been approached by one of the volunteer salesmen don't wait until you are but instead go to your bank or postoffice and buy all the bonds you can afford, then buy an extra hundred dollar bond additionally, is the advice of Sales Chairman Misko to Ord people. He is asking volunteer salesmen in North Loup and Arcadia to give their people the same advice.

The quota must be met; $73,000 remains to be raised; there are only 3 days left including today. Buy War Bonds—NOW.

Scrap Iron Drive Coming in October

No sooner will one big drive be out of the way than another one will start in Valley county, says R. Clare Clement, chairman of the agricultural war board. The next chore confronting residents is a scrap drive which will be held on a county-wide scale about October 15.

Last scrap drive, scheduled at a season when farmers were busiest, was regarded as a failure and farm leaders plan to devote extra effort to the coming scrap campaign.

Duck, Pheasant Season Will Open Friday, Oct. 15

70-Day Season Comes Soon, 5 Cocks is Daily Bag Limit on Pheasants.

Only two weeks away is the open season on water-fowl and on pheasants, which opens Friday, Oct. 15, and remains open through Dec. 23, the longest open season in many years.

This year hunters are permitted to shoot from 1-2 hours before sunrise until sunset, which gives a better break both to duck and pheasant hunters. Live decoys are prohibited to duck hunters.

Daily bag limit on pheasants is 5 cock birds and the possession limit is 10. No hen pheasants may be shot legally. Dressed pheasants must be prepared in such manner that the sex of the bird may be told at a glance. Leaving either the head or the tail on the bird will suffice.

Daily bag limit on ducks in ten and on geese is 2, with the possession limit in each case double the bag limit. Not more than three redheads may be taken in any one day.

Hunters are going to get a few shotgun shells this fall, but not many. The WPB has released a small quota of shells for sporting use and each hunter will be permitted to buy one box of shells—if he can find them.

The packages must be mailed before October 15 so the addresses are needed at once, if the cigarettes are to reach the boys by Christmas.

Quiz to Install a Larger Engraving, Lithography Plant

24x24 Inch Camera, Other Photo Equipment and New Offset Press Purchased.

E. C. Leggett drove to Kearney Monday afternoon and, on behalf of the Quiz interests, closed a deal with Paul B. Beshore, of Western Manufacturing Co., for the purchase of a complete photoengraving and offset printing plant owned by that company.

The equipment includes a 24x24 inch ATF precision camera of the latest type, large etching machine, router, beveler, saw and trimmer, plate whirler, vacuum printing frame and all accessories, and also a 16x22 sheet size Webendorfer offset press.

The Quiz has for more than ten years operated a photoengraving plant but the largest size heretofore is the 11x14 outfit now being used. The plant purchased at Kearney will enable the Quiz engraving staff to double its output. At present hundreds of engravings are shipped every week to customers all over the United States.

Purchase of the Webendorfer offset press will enable the Quiz to do photo-lithographic printing. So far as is known there is no other offset plant in operation in Nebraska outside of Lincoln and Omaha. The new press is fully automatic and has a speed of 7,000 sheets per hour on one color work and 4,800 per hour on multi-color work with hairline registration.

Messrs. H. D. and E. C. Leggett have leased through Hastings and Ollis the Williams building north of the Hastings and Ollis office and will establish their photoengraving plant there. The Christian Science building used in the past is not large enough for the new equipment.

Carpenters and plumbers are at work now building a dark room and hooking up the water and drains. The new equipment will be trucked to Ord next week. Purchasing of this plant, which was installed by the Arrow Engraving company shortly before the war began but was never operated because of labor difficulties, gives the Quiz as fine photoengraving equipment as any plant in the United States.

Information About Banding Pheasants

As part of regular State Game Farm operations since 1938, all pheasants reared and released have been banded. In the period 1938 through 1942 117,040 pheasants have been released. From these have been returned over 2,000 bands, a percentage of 1.86. It is not clear why the percentage of return has been so small. There is a possibility that publicity concerning the matter has not been widely enough distributed and the sportsman does not know what to do with a band when he finds one. There is also the possibility that game farm reared birds are weaker than wild stock and are subject to predation and other natural losses to the extent that only a few remain at the time of the hunting season. Most of the releases are made a few weeks to a few months before the hunting season. Of these band returns 76.4 per cent have come in the same year in which the birds were released. Returns from the following year were 15.7 per cent of the total, from the second year 2.5 per cent, from the third year, .5 per cent and from the fourth year 2 per cent. Ninety-three per cent of the total returns have come from the same or adjoining counties in which the releases were made. This is in line with records from other states showing the short range activities of the pheasant. Causes of mortality have been listed as follows: Shot, 69 per cent; unknown, 27 per cent; cars and highways, 1.7 per cent; farming, .4 per cent; trains, .5 per cent; frozen, .3 per cent; predators and raptors, .5 per cent. An interesting age record was acquired when a banded hen was killed on her nest by a blinder July 12, 1943. She had been released in 1938.

Dr. McClure would appreciate the return of any bands found to either him or the Lincoln office.

Ord's New Telephone System in Use Since Saturday Night

Switch-Over Made at Midnight, New Phones Installed

Common Battery Plant Gives Ord Best Service of Any Nebr. Telephone System.

One of the greatest improvements made in Ord in many a year happened quietly Saturday evening, when the old switchboard at the telephone office was abandoned for a fine new installation. As fast as possible a crew of workmen are moving other types of phones out and replacing them this week with new, efficient monophones. The old switchboard had given service for more than 40 years, and threatened to give way like the wonderful one-horse shay.

And not only will Ord have new telephones serviced by a new switchboard, but the new equipment is placed in a new building, only the rear half of which is finished at present. C. E. Goodhand, contractor, is now busy tearing down the ancient wooden structure on the front half of the lot, and expects to complete the new telephone building entirely within some 60 days.

At that time Miss Marie Bell, cashier will take her place in a newly furnished office, the operating rooms, and the terminal, as well as a pay station. The business office has been operating from the Misko Harness shop.

Installed by Experts. William Connors of Chicago came to Ord to see that the control board was correctly installed, a delicate bit of work. His assistant is an able young engineer, Russell Johnson of South Haven, Mich., and together they are responsible for the proper operation of what could be called an electric ringing machine, an automatic interrupter for the ringing machine, which operate on 44 volts of direct current from 22 big glass-sided battery cells. They also directly connect the little wires to the gadgets indicating the actual telephone numbers, about 500 of them city phones and about 400 of them rural numbers.

L. M. Johnson, district manager, has been spending several days each week in Ord, helping smooth things out. His has been a big job, but he says most of the credit should go to W. W. Johnson, general manager of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, and some to E. C. Leggett of the Quiz, who did much to make the new telephone system materialize for Ordites. A. B. Clark of Columbus, predecessor of Mr. W. W. Johnson, also deserves credit. W. W. Johnson is now general manager of the firm, and with a background of some 40 years in the telephone industry, realized Ord's great need for new telephone equipment and housing.

When W. W. Johnson was promoted to general manager last June 7, several towns were transferred from the Kearney district, where he had been, to the Columbus district. Towns thus transferred included Ord, also Greeley, Burwell and Palmer, a shift made practicable because of the heavy load the arm air base at Kearney had added to the work of that telephone district. Mr. Johnson comes to Ord often, and keeps in personal touch with telephone affairs here. So Ord is fortunate in remaining under his personal supervision.

Changing Phones Daily. Work of exchanging the telephones is going forward speedily, with 75 done Monday, 85 Tuesday. The crew includes Jack Richards of Newman Grove, Neil Wycoff of Neligh, James Gilland of Madison, Leal Peterson of Palmer, with Ord's B. J. Peterson sitting at a desk checking the written reports and the in-calls from the crew. Mr. Peterson has been in Ord since 1923, coming from Franklin. Since that time he has given faithful service to people of Ord and vicinity, installing and repairing their phones, and also working in Burwell some. Frank Misko is his young helper.

To take care of the big job of splicing some 1600 little wires, Frank Starkey and Ted Wozny were called to Ord. This week they helped the installation crew. A construction crew spent three weeks in Ord, Bill Gering of Columbus bringing four men to help build the outside lines. This work was finished a week ago.

M. F. Snavely, plant superintendent, is another telephone expert who has been spending a good deal of time in Ord in charge of the outside construction.

12,000 New Connections.

A full basement will be finished in cement. Here some 12,000 careful connections had to be made just so, fitting into the metal conduits that protect them and lead them out of the building. In this same small room an oil burner will be placed soon. Several other rooms in the basement will be utilized for repair and work shops.

Installing a common battery type system in Ord means that all batteries to power the phones is located centrally. This is in contrast to the battery with each phone that Ord has had. The new type calls for no effort on the subscriber's part. It is much quicker and easier for the operators. With common battery phones all over town there will be no bothersome cross-talk as in the past. Farm phones will work better too, and another big difference, telephone users will not need to speak loudly; in fact a voice will simply blur and fuzzle.

Best Service in State.

"Without a doubt, this is the fastest switchboard service anywhere in Nebraska at present," declared Manager B. J. Peterson proudly. And service will become faster yet as the operators become accustomed to the new switchboard, the company officials say. To an ignorant reporter, the switchboard is a first-class mystery—a small neat chest with many little white buttons alternating with small round holes. But two operators will be able to handle local and out-going calls with ease, as soon as they learn the board, which is "blind," i. e., entirely unmarked.

The switchboard was bought more than a year ago, but Stromberg-Carlson, like every other big firm, fills war contracts first. So the new phones waited and waited for the delayed switchboard, and it finally arrived as ordered. On August first the actual work of putting the new materials to work began.

Personnel Unchanged.

Hannah Jensen will continue to be chief operator, a job she knows well after 26 years in the employ of the same firm. Miss Mary Jensen, 25 years with the telephone business, will continue as combination operator, and Vera Frederick, 23 years with the firm will also be a combination operator. Mrs. Anna Nelson will continue as night operator. She too has been with the company many years, 12 years recently, and several more years at an earlier period.

Three young women who began work there within the past few months, Mildred Capek, combination operator, and Loren Rose and Mrs. Viola Christopherson, both of whom work part-time, will also continue in their jobs.

The building, of brick, will be a handsome addition to Ord's business district when it is finished. Within, fluorescent lighting, a ceiling of special acoustical material, walls painted cream, new furniture, everything is planned to make it perfect of its kind.

Hit-Run Victim Dies of Injury

Another victim of a hit-run driver within a few days to succumb to his injuries, Sigurd Moller, 42, of Newport Beach, died early today at the county hospital. He suffered a ruptured spleen, Coroner Earl R. Abbey said.

Moller was found on the coast highway in the Newport area Sunday about 9 p. m. in an unconscious condition, and was rushed to the hospital, where an operation was performed in an effort to save his life. He had apparently been walking along the road in the dimout area when he was struck by an unidentified car, the coroner said.

The body was removed to H. R. Brown colonial mortuary where an inquest is pending. Funeral arrangements are pending shipment to Escondido. Moller was a welder for the American Pipe and Construction Co., in Newport Beach, and had lived in the county only two months. Born in Ord, Nebr., he came to California 17 years ago, and had resided in Escondido.

He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Clarence Stubbs of Escondido, Mrs. Sam S. Long, Douglas, Ariz., and Mrs. George A. Munn of Ord; two brothers, Rolf Moller, Los Angeles, and Eric Moller, U. S. Navy, From Santa Ana Calif. Register.

Mayor Had Honor of Making First Call

To Mayor M. B. Cummins went the honor of making the first call over Ord's new telephone system when the change-over was made Saturday night. The call was scheduled to be made at 11:00 to E. C. Leggett, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce telephone committee which worked with the Nebraska Continental Telephone company in securing approval of the new system and rate schedule by the Nebraska railway commission. But difficulties developed in changing over to the new circuits and it was 11:30 before the first call was made. "This is a wonderful improvement, one that will mean a great deal to Ord," were Mayor Cummins first words.

Ord 3rd Graders Enjoy Singing

Children in the third grade really like to sing. They open their mouths without self-consciousness, and sing earnestly. With Miss Marion Elsner at the piano, they sang "Way Down Upon the Swanee River" with a vim. Next a new song was introduced, and all of them explored the high treble notes, boys as well as girls.

A harvest song pleased everyone, an old French folk song. Next came a jolly tune, something about "Come little leaves, said the wind one day." While a quiet little girl collected the song books, I noticed how many of her chums wore braids. Braids are appearing on so many neat heads, where a few years ago every single little girl tried to have curls. But the tidy old-fashioned braids are fashionable now, as well as having a number of other advantages for an active child.

Back in the schoolroom reading began. The books are attractive, full of gay pictures to illustrate nearly every page and to help the child to learn. For each little story teaches as well as provides sentences for reading. For instance a chapter about an Indian feast told what food Little Eagle and his people had to eat, at their banquet. The class discussed how the maple sugar was made, how wild rice was harvested in a boat, etc.

And the next chapter, also a complete story, described how Little Eagle's mother made his clothes of deerskins and rabbit skins. It told how she cleaned the skins and softened them, how she punched holes, what she used for thread, how his shoes were made.

Several chapters about a new home told how the basement was made, how the bricks were put together, how the family moved in, about the little girls' new playroom.

Other subjects also offer good reading practice, so pleasantly sugar-coated the youngsters hardly know they are learning. In the Health book Friday the third grade was reading about a visit to a museum. There the children in the book saw skeletons of many animals, and one of man. Next they learned that muscles hold these bones together in a man, so that man can move his bones just as we open and shut doors.

A little poem about muscles tickled the young pupils. They giggled each time it was read: "I'm all made of hinges, Cause everything bends, From the top of my neck, Way down to the ends, I'm hinged in front, And I'm hinged in back, But I have to be hinged, Or else I would crack!" But while it amused these little people, it helped them to get the idea of how muscles work and what they do, and get the idea in a way they will remember.

A clever plan to keep her children in active pursuit of health was a chart Miss Elsner had high on the wall, with six colored cardboard balloons sailing near the top. Each balloon bore a label: one was for clean face, neck and ears; one for clean nails, one for clean shoes, clean hanky, clean hair, clean teeth. Down the side of the chart was a row of numbers 27 of them, with 27 at the top. Of course if every single child came to school with all six items of cleanliness, the balloon soared to the top of the big white chart.

Third grade students this year are Earl Achen, Jerry Austin, Gail Benson, Betty Bleach, Meredith Brox, Larry Christopherson, Mary Jo Clayton, Keith Cook, Lyle Gilroy, Leonard Hurlbert, Darlene Janicek, LeRoy Lytle, George Marshall, Laverne Pestal, Agnes Remakers, Claude Romans, John Savage, Karen Smets, Mary Thompson, Marlowe Vavra, Katherine Whitford, Marcelyn Whiting, James Witherax, Virginia Wilson, Duane Wolfe, Arlo Zechl.

Burwell Man Runs Amok, Terrorizes Chas. Meyer Family

Liquor Said Responsible for Tuesday Afternoon Affair; Davis Now in Jail.

Burwell—(Special)—Both Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meyer were painfully bruised and their household was wrecked Tuesday afternoon when Harry Davis, farm hand employed by Everett Satterfield, ran amok after a drinking bout in town. He was arrested by Marshal Pat Brennehan and Sheriff Raymond Johnson and is now in jail here, pending filing of charges by William Manasil, county attorney, who is out of town.

Officers say that both Meyer and Davis were drinking in town Tuesday afternoon and that Paul Banks, operator of the town's only liquor store, asked Davis to take Meyer home. He did so and everything went smoothly until the men arrived at the Meyer farm home and entered the house.

Then, according to Mrs. Meyer, Davis seemed to become insane, started beating her husband and when he had knocked Meyer down started beating and kicking her. Later he wrecked two chairs, threw a cream can through the screen door and then ran from the house, locking himself in the garage.

A threshing crew was working on the place but, fearing that Davis might have a gun, didn't care to enter the garage after him. Mrs. Meyer called officers and Davis permitted Marshal Brennehan to enter the garage but refused to submit to arrest. He broke away from the officers and ran into a chicken house, was chased out of there and again ran into the Meyer home where the officers, aided by the threshing crew, finally subdued him and brought him to town where he was lodged in jail Wednesday morning. Davis said he remembered nothing that happened after he took Mr. Meyer to his home.

Both of the Meyers were painfully hurt but their injuries will not prove serious. It is thought, what charges will be filed against Davis is not known until the county attorney returns. Davis, a married man, is ordinarily of a quiet disposition and is well liked in the community.

Two selective service calls will be issued in this locality for the month of October, states Miss Christina Peterson, secretary of the draft board. This double choice is made so that young fathers may be left at home if possible.

Two others are included in the first group, two who have been transferred from other local boards. They are Raymond Dale Stine of North Loup who registered at Long Beach and Richard Rowland of Oakland, Calif. Stine and Rowland are married men without children; the others in the October contingent in this first call are unmarried. Mr. Stine has also been accepted for service in the Seabees.

Natural Stone Burial Vaults
"THE TOMB ETERNAL"

The experience of many years has proven that the NATURAL STONE VAULT is one that will successfully stand the test of time. Natural stone is the one perfect material for grave reinforcement, it comes originally from the earth and when used as a vault is but restored to its native element where it has already endured for thousands of years. Stone vaults do not rust, crumble or decay; they prevent sinking graves.

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

Safeway for farm-fresh vegetables sold by weight

During these "harvest days" we're offering better-than-ever fresh vegetables, rushed from farm to store just as swiftly as possible! Remember you can buy exactly what you need at Safeway, where all produce is sold by the pound!

Julia says— Here's how with fall vegetables

I FOUND, long ago, that fall vegetables can really be both good and different! Take parsnips and rutabagas, for instances. If your family hasn't been too keen about them before, they might like them this way. I know my family does, and they're inclined to turn up their noses at them served in any other way. Here are some suggestions for those two fall vegetables, and others too:

CANDIED PARSNIPS—Wash and scrape or peel parsnips, and cook whole or cut in halves lengthwise. Cook covered in small amount of salted water, about 30 minutes or until tender. Drain, sprinkle with brown sugar, salt and pepper, and bake in moderate oven about 15 minutes, basting parsnips once or twice with hot water and meat drippings. Serve as you would sweet potatoes.

SPICED RUTABAGAS—(This goes for turnips, too). Wash and slice rutabagas, and cook covered until tender in just enough hot, salted water to create a steam, about 15 minutes. Drain and mash and season with salt, pepper and a little ground cinnamon and clove if you like.

CAULIFLOWER SALAD—Wash cauliflower, and separate into tiny flower-lets or chop coarsely. Add raisins, chopped apple, chopped nut meats and marinate in a tart light dressing. Serve on a bed of shredded spinach. This really tastes better than it sounds!

STUFFED SQUASH—Use small individual squashes like Danish. Split squash, remove seeds and parboil in salted water until almost tender. Drain and fill cavities with chopped, cooked meat and tomato mixture. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) for about 30 minutes or until squash is thoroughly tender and meat mixture is heated through.

F. Carlson of Moorhead, Minn. The wedding took place at the Centenary - Wilbur Chapel Sunday, August 22, at 5:30 p. m. in Portland. Rev. Owen J. Bead-les read the service for the double ring ceremony.

Carrying out the traditional custom, "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue", the bride was beautifully gowned in a two-piece crepe frock of day "blue" and "new" with brown accessories and a corsage of orchids. She wore an "old" gold cross which had belonged to her great grandmother and carried a "borrowed" lace handkerchief belonging to the matron of honor.

Mrs. Mardge Hayes, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a royal blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of tallsmar roses.

Miss Evelyn Bond, bridesmaid, was dressed in a gold colored wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of salmon-shaded carnations.

Russel E. Hayes was best man, Harold P. Hansen, brother of the bride was usher.

A reception followed at the country home of the bride's parents in Canby. A beautiful 3-tier wedding cake topped with a soldier and his bride and two miniature American flags, graced the center of the table.

Miss Luella Hansen, the bride's sister, had charge of the gift table and Miss Joyce Downs of Mulina, took care of the guest book. Mrs. Bernice Kraft another sister of the bride, cut the cake. Assisting in serving were Miss Viola Derfer, Mrs. Ruth Compton, Mrs. Gladys Denny and Mrs. Mardge Hayes.

The Hansens were former residents of Springdale leaving for Oregon in the fall of 1937.

Nephew Home from War. Mrs. Walter Hoon received word this week that her nephew, Billy Kissinger, aviation ordnance mate 1st class in the U. S. navy, is home at Anthon, Ia., after service at Guadalcanal. His greatest thrill, says Kissinger, came when his airplane sank a Japanese cruiser carrying 2,000 men, which sank so quickly there wasn't time for the crew to escape, and his most unforgettable experience was when a Jap anti-aircraft shell tore a great hole in the tail of his airplane, which the pilot managed to land safely. The Japs are cruel, wicked fighters, their Zero planes are very fast and maneuverable, and they are proving to be hard nuts for the Americans to crack, since their equipment is so much better than had been believed.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 3.

The Golden Text is: "If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Romans 8:31).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Every man is brutish by his knowledge; every founder is confounded by the graven image; for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them. They are vanity, the work of errors" (Jeremiah 51:17; 18).

Japs Liked Our Games

Until late in the 19th century combat sports held sway in Japan. Fencing, archery, jujitsu, wrestling and swimming led in popularity. True to their natural inclination to "adopt, adapt and become adept" the Japanese took heartily to western games beginning with track and field athletics in 1883.

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

Sheriff Newill says he read some place that Nebraska's got about the best beer control laws in the whole country.

"The laws aren't complicated," he explained, "and they're being well enforced. They give plenty of protection to the citizens and they preserve an important industry."

That was quite a long speech for the sheriff, who's not much of a talker. Then Ray, the barber, observed that even the best laws haven't a chance if they're not properly administered.

"But," he went on, "our three commissioners—appointed by the governor—have done a mighty sweet job administering the beer laws."

From where I sit, it's a fine thing to know that good laws are getting good administration. And I'm sure the self-regulation of the Brewing Industry Foundation—headed by Judge Charles E. Sandall here in Nebraska—has been a heap of help.

BACK FORTY

If you think pheasants have increased over last year, count again, because Dr. Elliot McClure reports that we have one-third fewer ring-necks here than in 1942. Quail, on the other hand, multiplied until we have four times as many bob-whites as there were last season. For some strange reason, the quail thrived in a year which was hard on pheasants, states Dr. McClure.

He attributes the somewhat reduced pheasant population to a cold, wet spring, which reduced egg laying. It may also have lowered the hatchability of pheasant eggs. Field counts show an average of 5 chicks per hen as compared with 7 chicks per hen last summer. Eggs in alfalfa field nests were down from 10 to 9 eggs per nest. More men than cock pheasants are destroyed by predators and severe weather, says Dr. McClure. He adds that one nest is destroyed in each 6.4 acres of alfalfa, with subsequent killing or maiming of hens. Injured female birds won't mate. Dr. McClure approves of our law which permits shooting of roosters only. He pointed out that some states thinned their males down to only one cock for every sixteen hens; yet the eggs hatched nearly 100 percent. The shotgun shell situation is still confused, but it looks as if hunters would get one box apiece. Last fall the average shooter fired 2.3 shells per bird, 6.4 shells per hunt, and 37.8 shells during the season, according to statistics gathered.

Something Different

Peace isn't so certain nor so near that we can reach out and put a finger on it, in fact I believe there is entirely too much talk about the postwar world. Nevertheless, inconsistently, and before this war is well won, I began to wonder what changes would come to Ord then. Many towns and cities are making definite plans. At the least they are discussing them. An Oklahoma city has even gone so far as to choose the site for an autogiro landing field for after the war, a convenient downtown landing field for the autogiro drivers!

Will many of Ord's sons return to live in this valley, hopefully assuming they come home alive from the wars? Is the trend going to be toward big towns, little towns, or to enterprising of a more individual nature, like farming? In other words, where are people going to live, and what kind of lives? We can't know. Yet it does seem as if the edges of the cities and the small towns have many advantages over apartment-dwelling and terrace-perching. Along with privacy, light and air, room for pets and beasts and playgrounds, all the city-advantages go too. Radios and movies and television and autogiros and electric ice boxes and air conditioning and oil heat, glass walls and electrically-opened doors...all of these treasures of living are going to be equally available in the country PLUS country-advantages.

What will Ord have to offer the returned soldier? At first peace and quiet will be enough. But later with good health the young men will want to find work, congenial good-paying jobs. And if we don't want more depressions, we will have to discover such jobs and many of them. Ord needs new enterprises, new businesses, to furnish such opportunities. To keep her population Ord must find these businesses. Well, this is a good location for any number of businesses, a handsome background for them. For alfalfa mills, cereal mills, the pop-corn industry, for canning factories, stock feeding, purebred stock raising, chicken raising, egg producing, certified seed potatoes, soy beans, watermelon raising and many more. There isn't any reason why the region couldn't become famous for any or several of these. A nursery would flourish here—did you know that one kind of Linden tree is named for Ord? Many kinds of truck-farming would find suitable locations here. There are numerous possibilities. What possibilities can you see in your own line of work? —Irma.

is destroyed in each 6.4 acres of alfalfa, with subsequent killing or maiming of hens. Injured female birds won't mate.
Dr. McClure approves of our law which permits shooting of roosters only. He pointed out that some states thinned their males down to only one cock for every sixteen hens; yet the eggs hatched nearly 100 percent.
The shotgun shell situation is still confused, but it looks as if hunters would get one box apiece. Last fall the average shooter fired 2.3 shells per bird, 6.4 shells per hunt, and 37.8 shells during the season, according to statistics gathered.

++ Something Different ++

Peace isn't so certain nor so near that we can reach out and put a finger on it, in fact I believe there is entirely too much talk about the postwar world. Nevertheless, inconsistently, and before this war is well won, I began to wonder what changes would come to Ord then. Many towns and cities are making definite plans. At the least they are discussing them.
An Oklahoma city has even gone so far as to choose the site for an autogiro landing field for after the war, a convenient downtown landing field for the autogiro drivers!

Will many of Ord's sons return to live in this valley, hopefully assuming they come home alive from the wars? Is the trend going to be toward big towns, little towns, or to enterprise of a more individual nature, like farming? In other words, where are people going to live, and what kind of lives?
We can't know. Yet it does seem as if the edges of the cities and the small towns have many advantages over apartment-dwelling and terrace-perching. Along with privacy, light and air, room for pets and beasts and playgrounds, all the city-advantages go too. Radios and movies and television and autogiros and electric ice boxes and air conditioning and oil heat, glass walls and electrical-ly-opened doors...all of these treasures of living are going to be equally available in the country PLUS country-advantages.

What will Ord have to offer the returned soldier? At first peace and quiet will be enough. But later with good health the young men will want to find work, congenial good-paying jobs. And if we don't want more depressions, we will have to discover such jobs and many of them.

Ord needs new enterprises, new businesses, to furnish such opportunities. To keep her population Ord must find these businesses.

Well, this is a good location for any number of businesses, a handsome background for them. For alfalfa mills, cereal mills, the pop-corn industry, for canning factories, stock feeding, purebred stock raising, chicken raising, egg producing, certified seed potatoes, soy beans, watermelon raising and many more. There isn't any reason why the region couldn't become famous for any or several of these. A nursery would flourish here. You'd know that the kind of Linden tree is named for Ord? Many kinds of truck-farming would find suitable locations here. There are numerous possibilities.

What possibilities can you see in your own line of work? —Irma.

NOTICE OF HEARING FOR DETERMINATION OF HEIRSHIP.
In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska.
IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF LEE DENTON, DECEASED.
To all persons interested in said Estate, both creditors and heirs, take notice that Rudolf C. Plate, owner in fee of a present interest in land formerly owned by the Deceased, has filed his Petition in said Court alleging that Lee Denton, an infant under the age of two years, died intestate on or about February 18, 1890, being a resident and inhabitant of Valley County, Nebraska, and the owner of an undivided one-fifth interest as a tenant in common subject to the Dower use for life of a one-third part thereof and the Homestead rights of his mother Fannie M. Denton, in and to:

All of the Southeast Quarter of Section Ten and the Northeast Quarter of Section Fifteen and the Southeast Quarter of Section Fourteen and the East One-Half of the Northwest Quarter of Section Fourteen—all in Township Nineteen North, Range Thirteen West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska.

Said Petitioner further alleges that Lee Denton died under age not having been married and seized of the above Estate of Inheritance in the foregoing real estate from his deceased father Henry P. Denton who died intestate, and that Lee Denton left as his sole and only heirs at law and next of kin Fannie M. Denton, his mother, Walter Denton, Frederick Denton and Dannie Denton, his brothers, and Clara Denton, his sister, and that said brothers and sister were minors; that Petitioner Rudolf C. Plate has a present interest in and is the owner in fee by purchase of the Southeast Quarter of Section Fourteen, Township Nineteen North, Range Thirteen West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska; that there is no Estate or Inheritance Tax assessable or due upon said Estate or Inheritances and that all claims and demands against said Estate are barred by operation of law.

Said Petitioner prays, among other things, that the allegations of said Petition be found true; for a determination of the time of the death of the said Lee Denton and a determination of his heirs and the degree of kinship and the right of descent of the real property belonging to him

AND, WHEREAS, on the 18th day of August, 1943, said referee made his report to the said Court that the above described real estate could not be partitioned without great prejudice to the owners thereof, which said report was, by said Court, confirmed, and the said referee was directed by the Order of said Court, dated on the 18th day of August, 1943, to sell the above described real estate as upon execution and account for the proceeds from said sale.

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the premises and the authority vested in me, I will at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on the 28th day of September, 1943, offer for sale at public auction as upon execution to the highest bidder for cash, the above described real estate, at the west front door of the County Court House in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska.
