Arcadia Woman Dies Thursday as Result of Stroke

Mrs. Wm. Cramer Found Lying on Floor of Home Where She Lived Alone.

Arcadia—(Special)—A pathetic incident occurred here during last Wednesday night when Mrs. Wm. Cramer, 87, who lived alone in her home on main street, was found unconscious on the kitchen floor, apparently the victim of a stroke some time during the night.

She notified a neighbor, Mrs. Win. Gregory, who called Marshal Braden. He was accompanied by A. H. Hastings, Chas. Scott and W. J. Ramsey and the men removed a screen and entered through a window. They found the house cold, as there was no furnace and the kitchen fire had gone out.

She notified a neighbor, Mrs. Win. Gregory, who called Marshal Braden. He was accompanied by A. H. Hastings, Chas. Scott and W. J. Ramsey and the men removed a screen and entered through a window. They found the house cold, as there was no furnace and the kitchen fire had gone out.

Born at Pittsburgh, Pa., March 15, 1856, she grew to womanhood there and, having devoted her early life to a study of music she began the teaching of music and for several years devoted all her time to this work.

Mortensen Names Nominating Group

A committee composed of J. A. Kovanda, A. J. Auble and George A. Satterfield was appointed by President C. J. Mortensen as a nominating group, at the November meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce held Thursday night.

John R. Haskell was principal speaker Thursday, giving a lucid report of the community club conference at Norfolk which he attended recently as a representative of the Ord chamber.

Robert Noll reported on the alfalfa mill, some discussion was held on the scrap drive and other matters of civic business taken up. Lunch was served late in the evening.

Mrs. Laura Cheyney Dies at Ericson

Hilding Pearson conducted a funeral at Ericson on Friday for Mrs. Laura Cheyney, Rev. Lanum of the Free Methodist church officiated at the final rites and burial was made at Bartlett.

Mrs. Cheyney was born at Hicksville, Ohio, on Feb. 16, 1861, and was an early day pioneer in Wheeler county. She became the bride of William Cheyney in Ohio as a young girl, coming west with him.

Left to mourn are two daughters, Mrs. Cora Wyant of Aurora, Florence who lives in Ericson; four sons, Ora of Omaha, Bill of Aurora, Frank of Aurora, Pete of Clay Center. There are 21 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren as well.

Haskell Named Judge. At the Ord city council meeting Monday night W. T. McLain presented his resignation as police judge, inasmuch as he is leaving soon for the west coast, and John Haskell was appointed to serve McLain's term, until the next city election. He has accepted and will take office at once.

Will Accept No More Want Ads Over Telephone

Effective immediately, the Quiz announces that no more want ads will be accepted over the telephone. Hereafter, advertising for the classified department must be placed in person or by letter and must be paid for at the time it is placed.

Bookkeeping and collection details incident to handling of these little want ads require more time than all other advertising in the paper combined, and the net revenue they produce is very low.

The rate for want ads remains unchanged—5c per line per issue, with a minimum charge of 25c. In figuring the cost of the want ad you want to insert, figure on the basis of five words to the line.

No want ad will be accepted except on a paid-in-advance basis with the exception of ads placed by merchants who carry regular book accounts with the Quiz.

This change in policy is made necessary by shortage of help and war conditions in general. Please do not ask us to deviate from it.

Subsidy Payment Waits Dairymen

A potential 300 thousand dollars on their October production is on the way to Nebraska dairy farmers to cover increased feed costs. R. Clare Clement, Valley County AAA Chairman, announced the October payment under the war food administration's dairy feed payment program, for the last quarter of the year will be made at once.

County AAA committees will, for the first time in any program, have authority to draw drafts on the United States government in direct payment of the subsidy claims. The farmer will present his October sales slips and receive a draft cashable at the bank the same as his cream or milk check.

The deadline for presenting the October evidence to the county AAA office is November 30. Bring in your check stubs or other evidence showing the sale of cream or milk. The minimum payment is $1.00. Any dairyman selling less than 25 pounds of butterfat for the month of October will not receive a payment.

Last Thursday the firemen's inhalator squad was called to the Dale Warwick home by Dr. C. J. Miller to use the inhalator on Mrs. Warwick, who was suffering from an acute heart attack.

7 Valley County Students at N. U.

Of the nine students from Valley county enrolled at the University of Nebraska this fall, seven are from Ord. Eldon Mathauser is a senior in the college of engineering, Virginia Farley, senior, and Betty Kokes, junior, are both in teachers college.

Phyllis Dodge of near Burwell is a junior in the college of agriculture. Geraldine Gowen, sophomore in the college of agriculture, is from North Loup.

Swing Kings Play for Legion Dance

The Gene Pieper orchestra from Albion, known as the Swing Kings, has been engaged by Fidelity Post No. 38, American Legion, to play for a dance at the Bohemian hall in Ord next Thursday evening, Nov. 11. This is the annual Armistice Day dance sponsored each year by the local Legion post.

This orchestra from Albion has played in Valley county a number of times in the past and is a favorite with dancers. The public is cordially invited to attend the Armistice day dance in Ord next Thursday.

—Mrs. Lottie Clark has been overdoing and was ordered to bed to rest once more by her doctor. She is at Mrs. Elliott Clement's.

Success in Sight for UWF Drive but Last 'Push' Needed

$3,156 Total Reported, More Coming In, But Some Communities Are Lagging.

A total of $3,156.65 has been turned in to date in the Valley county United War Fund drive and several school districts haven't reported yet, said Treasurer Clyde Baker Tuesday morning, but since the county quota is $4,050 a final "push" must be given to make the drive a success.

County Chairman E. L. Vogelanz is urging all community chairmen to get out this week and give the drive this final "push." Success is in sight if they will do so, he says.

The city of Ord has safely passed its $1,322 quota with funds to spare and about ten air raid wardens still having funds to turn in, Baker says. Total reported in Ord to date is $1,407.63 and funds already collected but not yet reported are expected to swell this to about $1,500.00. There are still a few business men who haven't contributed, mainly because they were out of town when solicitors called, and these men are asked to make their contributions to Treasurer Baker or Chairman Vogelanz before the end of this week.

Rural school districts have, in general, been surpassing their quotas, Vogelanz says, but about 20 haven't turned in their reports yet. If their collections average as well as those already reported about $500 will come in from this source.

On the basis of the report made to date North Loup is far behind in its drive to raise $327 for the UWF. Only $171.50 had been reported by North Loup up to Tuesday noon. Heads of the drive are hoping this village has more funds not yet reported. No report at all has been received from Arcadia, which has a quota of $377, Baker says, but a drive has been carried on there and Chairman Vogelanz is hopeful that the final report will show that Arcadia has not fallen down on its quota.

The drive officially ended Nov. 1 but the county result will not be reported to the state organization until the end of this week, which gives districts and communities who are lagging a final chance to redeem themselves.

At many schools teachers and pupils are having a gay time and a good excuse for a party while they raise money for the U. W. F. Miss Viola Clement of Dist. 42 and her pupils sponsored a carnival and pie social Friday evening. A novel "touch" they used was to fine each guest who entered. There were fines for wearing red, for wearing overalls, men in business suits were fined, and fines were established for wearers of two-toned shoes and of necklaces but strangely no one came wearing either of these items.

A total of $59 was made. Mrs. Frances Manchester and her Springdale students sold pies and had a card party, raising $53 there with more promised who could not attend.

Worm Takes Over Peterson Transfer

Monday, Nov. 1 the deal made recently by which Forrest Worm purchased the K. W. Peterson Transfer went into effect and Mr. Worm took possession as managing owner. He will continue to operate the transfer line under its former name and will continue hauling the same routes, under a transfer of franchises approved by the Nebraska Railway Commission.

Mr. Worm will have general management of the transfer line and also of his transport service. Howard Williams will be local freight manager. Miss Mary Jean Bremer will be office manager. Ronald Rose will be in charge of the transport service. All of the other Peterson employees are being retained. Terminal arrangements in Omaha remain unchanged.

Infant Buried Wednesday. Funeral services were held in Scotia on Wednesday afternoon for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bredthauer, who died that morning. The baby is survived also by two brothers, Leland and Vernon and by grandparents, Mrs. J. C. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bredthauer. Rev. Wagner officiated and burial was in Scotia cemetery.

—Friday visitors at the Joe Knopik home were Mr. and Mrs. John Knopik and son of Elyria.

Bayonet Favorite Weapon of Marines

Marine Private Robert G. Brown, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Arcadia, is shown here practicing a bayonet charge on a theoretically entrenched enemy as part of his recruit training at Camp Matthews, near San Diego, Calif. Traditionally, bayonets are favorite weapons with the U. S. marines and their proficiency with them is attested by their success fighting the Japs in the south Pacific.

Keller Funeral Held at Aurora

Funeral services were held in the United Brethren church at Aurora on Sunday for Robert Chalmers Keller, 55, who died Oct. 26, in Oakland, Calif., after a brief illness and several Ord people attended including his daughter, Mrs. Chris Beiers and family. Interment was in the Aurora cemetery.

Mr. Keller was born on his parents' homestead in Custer county on April 15, 1888. He was united in marriage Feb. 14, 1912 to Sophia Perlinski and six children were born, Edward, of Sidney, Neb.; Wayne, of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Margaret Beiers of Ord; Cpl. Leroy Keller, at present stationed at Camp Barkley, Tex.; and Eldon and Jimmie, still at home. He also leaves one brother, Samuel Keller, at Aurora; two grandchildren and three nieces and nephews.

Mr. Keller worked as a railroad man for many years till an accident forced him to discontinue that occupation. Later he was a farmer and for the past two years had been working in the Kaiser ship yards. He united with the United Brethren church as a young man.

Rev. Paul Porter, of Aurora, conducted the last rites and pallbearers included Roy McCormick, Cecil Day, Paul Duschus, Levi Humrich, Ed Lewis and Orville Firth.

Temperature Drops to 18 after Storm

A drizzling rain, followed by sleet and light snow and a strong northeast wind brought Valley county its first taste of winter Saturday. The following day brought clear skies but the temperature dropped to the 20's and 18 for the lowest mark reached this fall. Wednesday morning's reading was 19 and warmer weather was forecast.

Total of moisture Saturday was .77 of an inch and it was the first moisture this region has seen during the fall season.

Now Enroute to China. Mrs. Hattie Baird hears from her son Bill that he left the United States Sunday, finally for his big adventure flying in and out of China. He phoned her Sunday evening to say goodbye, and that he would soon be leaving Miami. He will be remembered as the boy who grew up in Ord to become a clipper pilot, only to give that up for more exciting work flying through the Himalaya mountains. He visited Ord a few weeks ago.

Farm Sales Advertised. Clean-up sales advertised in today's Quiz include those of Anton Lebruska on Tuesday, Nov. 9 and Frank Blaha on Wednesday, Nov. 10. Both list very complete offerings. Vivian's lunch wagon will be at both sales.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruha, sr., are having a farm sale on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 10.

He will be transferred to Kingman, Ariz. Cassius Pickett, pfc writes he will be home in about two weeks time, with a 10-day furlough, having completed advanced radio work at the only school of its kind in the world, located at Madison, Wis.

Robert James and Charles Jaekle of New Jersey came on Thursday from Crete, Nebr., where both are in the navy. They left Monday morning.

When Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cushing were in Ord last week they reported their daughter, May Margaret was now living in Omaha, where her husband is in the army but continues his medical studies. Their son Herbert Cushing is in the navy, and located somewhere in the Pacific area.

Warren Reeves, Lt. jg., in the navy writes to Coach Roscoe Tolley that he is getting to coach football and basketball in his leisure times, "way off on some island in the Pacific. Reeves is especially interested in this year's Ord football team as he had these boys to coach in junior high. He is thrilled to have "Special Delivery" Jones, former Pittsburg star, among his players, he writes.

Pvt. Leslie Sindelar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hayek, returned to camp Tuesday after a 15-day furlough from Camp Hood, Tex.

Junior Petska, now staff sergeant, came home for a few hours Friday, bringing four sergeants or half his crew with him. All of them had to be at the field in Grand Island at eight o'clock Saturday morning, but Friday happened to be Junior's birthday and his mother fixed a fine dinner and a big cake and all the trimmings. Then the boys went to the football game and later to the dance, and thought it was a wonderful holiday. Monday they were shipped out of Grand Island for an unknown destination.

He likes it very well down there, the nights are cool and every morning there is a fog. The sun seems hot but doesn't cause perspiration much, Vernon says.

Dr. F. A. Barta has heard from his son Dean that he has landed in northern Ireland, where he will be part of a replacement squadron. Dean writes that he found many fellows there with whom he had taken flight training.

Pvt. H. L. Johnson of Comstock, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, returned to camp Wednesday in Los Angeles, Calif. He brought prisoners back to Leavenworth.

Makes Scrap Gathering a Game

North Loup, Nebr., October 25, 1943. Mr. R. Clare Clement, Ord, Nebr.

I suppose the scrap drive is on. I remember reading, I think it was, or perhaps hearing, that in pre-war days Japs in U. S. A., were observed gathering all bits of scrap or metal along the railroad right of way, possibly on roads, or wherever such bits could be found, and people marveled at their—what shall I say?—cleanliness or saving, or what? Later, so I'm told, we found out why they salvaged every scrap—even pop bottle caps, to make shrapnel to fight against us.

The scrap drive is on. Every where there are bits of scrap. Some of them small bits to be sure. Should we in our time of great need be less diligent about the Japs? As I go about the yard and along the road to the mail box,

Mrs. Ella Hughes writes Dale was sent south to the hospital and while there met Mike Perlinski. Dale said Mike was lean and brown and looked very well, and has a very good job as meat inspector with the quartermaster division. Not long ago there was a long and interesting article in the Long Beach Press Telegram written by a New Guinea newspaper correspondent about Sgt. Mike Perlinski and the load of trained pack mules he had trained in the United States and taken safely across the Pacific. In New Guinea the mules were to be used to haul supplies for our boys, says Mrs. Hughes.

Warren Allen arrived home to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen on Tuesday. He will stay until Thursday when he goes to Lincoln where he is low stationed at the airbase and will be for the next five months.

Mrs. Wilford Williams and daughter Rosemary left Grand Island Wednesday noon for El Paso, Tex., to visit her son Pvt. Harold Williams, who is in anti-aircraft. He called his folks on the phone Tuesday and said it seemed they were preparing to be moved.

County-Wide Scrap Effort Is Urged for 1943 Armistice Day

Farmers, Town People Asked to Quit Usual Duties and Work at Getting Scrap.

Valley county's scrap campaign is bogging down. Unless something drastic is done only a fraction of the big 800 ton quota will be met in the drive which is scheduled to end Nov. 15.

Rural school children are doing nobly but the task is beyond their strength and they are going to need the assistance of adults if an appreciable showing is to be made.

What could be more fitting than that Armistice Day of 1943, which falls on Thursday, Nov. 11, should be devoted to the patriotic task of gathering scrap?

R. Clare Clement, scrap chairman for the county, urges that this be done. He asks that farmers for one day abandon the important work of corn picking and other farm tasks to make an intensive search of their places for scrap and haul it immediately either to the rural school district in their county where it can be credited to that school's quota, or to Ord where it can be sold at once.

Tom Rasmussen, Ord scrap buyer, has arranged to have a railroad car at the Union Pacific loading dock on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Nov. 11, 12 and 13, so all scrap gathered Armistice day may be sold immediately.

Chairman Clement asks town people also to take part in the Armistice day scrap hunt by combing their residence and business premises for every bit of scrap metal that can be salvaged. A little here and a little there will count into a large total when it is assembled, and never has the need been so great.

Steel mills are running low on scrap; some may have to shut down if the scrap isn't provided now. And Armistice Day, with its patriotic significance, is a splendid time to engage in the patriotic activity of scrap hunting.

Let's get in the scrap on Armistice Day.

etc., I have found innumerable pieces of bolts, wire, rusty nails—potential puncturers of our precious tires—scraps of all kinds and almost all sizes, no longer serviceable.

So I have made sort of a game of it and as I go about I gather all such bits, it takes a little extra time, to be sure, to stop and pick them up, but I really have quite a collection. Not much of itself perhaps, but if everyone especially the boys and girls, would gather such bits it seems to me that it would add up tremendously.

And as I have gone about, adding to my piles, for I do have several of them, I have thought of a little slogan. It may not really mean much, but I think it sounds rather good. And here it is (if you are interested). I am gathering scrap for shrapnel. To help ring the Axis-Jap-knell. Yours truly, "XYZ"

Ord Turns in Poor Performance, Wins over Loup City, 19-0

Chanticleers Score Thrice in 2nd Quarter, then Slump; Sargent Next Opponent.

The Chanticleers struck three times in the second period of their game against Loup City here Friday evening, pushing Sowers across the goal line once and sending Hurlbert across twice to take a 19 to 0 lead and then, apparently content with their total, settled down to a full second half of the poorest football they have played all season.

Sowers' score was made on an off-tackle run. Hurlbert's first corner was made on an 11 yard canter and the second on a pass by Wilson from the 23 yard line. Wilson kicked one extra point.

Loup City never threatened and did not have possession of the ball in Ord's territory. Sowers was the sparkplug of the Ord offensive and Kovanda was the outstanding defensive player, with Shibata also turning in a good performance.

What the score might have been had Ord players exerted themselves in the last half is anyone's guess but the game was safely entered in Ord's win column by a 19 to 0 score, giving the Chanticleers an all-victorious record for the year. The Ord team has one of the best records in the state and is in line for conference and state championship consideration.

Ord has an open date this week but on Friday, Nov. 12 will play host to Sargent in a game which will have an important bearing on the 3-Valleys conference title. Sargent has lost only to Broken Bow in the conference so Ord needs only a win over Sargent for a clear claim to the crown. Sargent always comes up with a good game against Ord, however, and the local fans will remember that Sargent was the team that last defeated Ord.

Vegetable Growers Organize Nov. 10th

A meeting of all the vegetable growers in the North Loup territory has been called for 8:00 Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, in the community building, at which time it is planned to proceed with the organization of a cooperative vegetable growers association. Plan is to install a cannery to process next season's crops. All growers are urged to be present.

Fire Destroys Barn at Burrows Place

Just before noon last Thursday the Ord fire department was called to the place west of the fair grounds occupied by the Laverne (Bill) Burrows family, where a barn was in flames. The fire had a big start and the building burned to the ground. Cause of the fire is not definitely known, though it is suspected children playing with matches may have started it unknowingly.

New Junior Rotarians.

Two new members of the Rotary club took their places Monday evening in the persons of Don Auble and Raymond Biemond and will hold membership during November. Both are sons of Rotarians. Each month two members of the senior class of Ord high school hold membership in the club.

Pieper Performance Wins UWF Funds

North Loup—(Special)—Gene Pieper, the "old maestro" from Albion, hasn't lost the musical ability—and showmanship—that used to draw crowds and coin all over the central United States.

Pieper retired from active orchestra work some years ago to carry on an insurance business in Albion but coaches and books a popular orchestra known as the Swing Kings. At a dance here Friday night he played with the orchestra as substitute for a musician who was ill, and the dancers liked him.

In the course of a novelty piano solo in which he pretended that his piano had broken, Pieper announced to the crowd that a nickel would be necessary to start it. Promptly the dancers showered the stage with nickels, pennies, dimes and larger coins and when the orchestra picked up the money they found a total of $7.00.

Pieper, who is chairman of the UWF drive at Albion, announced that every cent of the money would be donated to the UWF—at North Loup.

Taken to the Loup City hospital in an ambulance Thursday morning, Mrs. Cramer died that evening.

Mrs. Cramer had lived alone since the death of her husband a few years ago but her health had been poor and Mrs. May Campbell had been getting her mail and groceries and spent some time with her each day. Going there Thursday morning she found the doors locked but looking through the kitchen door she could see Mrs. Cramer lying on the floor.

She notified a neighbor, Mrs. Wm. Gregory, who called Marshal Braden. He was accompanied by A. H. Hastings, Chas. Scott and W. J. Ramsey and the men removed a screen and entered through a window. They found the house cold, as there was no furnace and the kitchen fire had gone out. Mrs. Cramer was lying where she had fallen between the table and a rocking chair, apparently the victim of a stroke the night before. Dr. Taylor was called and the woman then was taken to Loup City where she died later in the day.

Miss Viola Clement of Dist. 42 and her pupils sponsored a carnival and ple social Friday evening. A novel "touch" they used was to fine each guest who entered. There were fines for wearing red, for wearing overalls, men in business suits were fined, and fines were established for wearers of two-toned shoes and of necklaces but strangely no one came wearing either of these items. A total of $59 was made.

Mary Frances Manchester and her Springdale students sold pies and had a card party, raising $53 there with more promised who could not attend.

Worm Takes Over Peterson Transfer

Monday, Nov. 1 the deal made recently by which Forrest Worm purchased the K. W. Peterson Transfer went into effect and Mr. Worm took possession as managing owner. He will continue to operate the transfer line under its former name and will continue hauling the same routes, under a transfer of franchises approved by the Nebraska Railway Commission.

Mr. Worm will have general management of the transfer line and also of his transport service. Howard Williams will be local freight manager. Miss Mary Jean Bremer will be office manager. Ronald Rose will be in charge of the transport service. All of the other Peterson employees are being retained. Terminal arrangements in Omaha remain unchanged.

Infant Buried Wednesday

Funeral services were held in Scotia on Wednesday afternoon for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bredthauer, who died that morning. The baby survived also by two brothers, Leland and Vernon and by grandparents, Mrs. J. C. Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bredthauer. Rev. Wagner officiated and burial was in Scotia cemetery.

Bayonet Favorite Weapon of Marines

Marine Private Robert G. Brown, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, Arcadia, is shown here practicing a bayonet charge on a theoretically entrenched enemy as part of his recruit training at Camp Matthews, near San Diego, Calif. Traditionally, bayonets are favorite weapons with the U. S. marines and their proficiency with them is attested by their success fighting the Japs in the south Pacific.

Keller Funeral Held at Aurora

Funeral services were held in the United Brethren church at Aurora on Sunday for Robert Chalmers Keller, 55, who died Oct. 26, in Oakland, Calif., after a brief illness and several Ord people attended including his daughter, Mrs. Chris Belers and family. Interment was in the Aurora cemetery.

Mr. Keller was born on his parents' homestead in Custer county on April 15, 1888. He was united in marriage Feb. 14, 1912 to Sophia Perinski and six children were born, Edward, of Sidney, Neb.; Wayne, of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Margaret Belers of Ord; Cpl. Leroy Keller, at present stationed at Camp Barkley, Tex.; and Eldon and Jimmie, still at home. He also leaves one brother, Samuel Keller, at Aurora; two grandchildren and three nieces and nephews.

Mr. Keller worked as a railroad man for many years till an accident forced him to discontinue that occupation. Later he was a farmer and for the past two years had been working in the Kaiser ship yards. He united with the United Brethren church as a young man.

Rev. Paul Porter, of Aurora, conducted the last rites and pallbearers included Roy McCormick, Cecil Day, Paul Dudschus, Levi Humrich, Ed Lewis and Orville Firth.

Temperature Drops to 18 after Storm

A drizzling rain, followed by sleet and light snow and a strong northeast wind brought Valley county its first taste of winter Saturday. The following day brought clear skies but the temperature dropped to the 20's and Tuesday morning it was down to 18 for the lowest mark reached this fall. Wednesday morning's reading was 19 and warmer weather was forecast.

Total of moisture Saturday was .77 of an inch and it was the first moisture this region has seen during the fall season.

Now Enroute to China

Mrs. Hattie Baird hears from her son Bill that he left the United States Sunday, finally for his big adventure flying in and out of China. He phoned her Sunday evening to say goodbye, and that he would soon be leaving Miami. He will be remembered as the boy who grew up in Ord to become a clipper pilot, only to give that up for more exciting work flying through the Himalaya mountains. He visited Ord a few weeks ago.

Dr. F. A. Barta has heard from his son Dean that he has landed in northern Ireland, where he will be part of a replacement squadron. Dean writes that he found many fellows there with whom he had taken flight training.

Pvt. H. L. Johnson of Comstock, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, returned to camp Wednesday in Los Angeles, Calif. He brought prisoners back to Leavenworth.

Makes Scrap Gathering a Game

North Loup, Neb., October 25, 1943. Mr. R. Clare Clement, Ord, Neb.

I suppose the scrap drive is on. I remember reading, I think it was, or perhaps hearing, that in pre-war days Japs in U. S. A., were observed gathering all bits of scrap or metal along the railroad right of way, possibly on roads, or wherever such bits could be found, and people marveled at their—what shall I say?—cleanness or saving, or what? Later, so I'm told, we found out why they salvaged every scrap—even pop bottle caps, to make shrapnel to fight against us.

The scrap drive is on. Every where there are bits of scrap. Some of them small bits to be sure. Should we be in our time of great need less diligent than the Japs? As I go about the yard and along the road to the mail box,

Mrs. Ella Hughes writes Dale was sent south to the hospital and while there met Mike Perinski. Dale said Mike was lean and brown and looked very well, and has a very good job as meat inspector with the quartermaster division. Not long ago there was a long and interesting article in the Long Beach Press Telegram written by a New Guinea newspaper correspondent about S Sgt. Mike Perinski and the load of trained pack mules he had trained in the United States and taken safely across the Pacific. In New Guinea the mules were to be used to haul supplies for our boys, says Mrs. Hughes.

Warren Allen arrived home to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen on Tuesday. He will stay until Thursday when he goes to Lincoln where he is now stationed at the airbase and will be there for the next five months.

Mrs. Wilford Williams and daughter Rosemary left Grand Island Wednesday noon for El Paso, Tex., to visit her son Pvt. Harold Williams, who is in anti-aircraft. He called his folks on the phone Tuesday and said it seemed they were preparing to be moved.

County-Wide Scrap Effort Is Urged for 1943 Armistice Day

Farmers, Town People Asked to Quit Usual Duties and Work at Getting Scrap.

Valley county's scrap campaign is bogging down. Unless something drastic is done only a fraction of the big 800 ton quota will be met in the drive which is scheduled to end Nov. 15.

Rural school children are doing nobly but the task is beyond their strength and they are going to need the assistance of adults if an appreciable showing is to be made.

What could be more fitting than that Armistice Day of 1943, which falls on Thursday, Nov. 11, should be devoted to the patriotic task of gathering scrap?

R. Clare Clement, scrap chairman for the county, urges that this be done. He asks that farmers for one day abandon the important work of corn picking and other farm tasks to make an intensive search of their places for scrap, and haul it immediately either to the rural school district in their county where it can be credited to that school's quota, or to Ord where it can be sold at once.

Tom Rasmussen, Ord scrap buyer, has arranged to have a railroad car at the Union Pacific loading dock on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 11, 12 and 13, so all scrap gathered Armistice day may be sold immediately.

Chairman Clement asks town people also to take part in the Armistice day scrap hunt by combing their residence and business premises for every bit of scrap metal that can be salvaged. A little here and a little there will count into a large total when it is assembled, and never has the need been so great.

Steel mills are running low on scrap; some may have to shut down if the scrap isn't provided now. And Armistice Day, with its patriotic significance, is a splendid time to engage in the patriotic activity of scrap hunting. Let's get in the scrap on Armistice Day.

Ord Turns in Poor Performance, Wins over Loup City, 19-0

Chanticleers Score Thrice in 2nd Quarter, then Slump; Sargent Next Opponent.

The Chanticleers struck three times in the second period of their game against Loup City here Friday evening, pushing Sowers across the goal line once and sending Hurlbert across twice to take a 19 to 0 lead and then, apparently content with their total, settled down to a full second half of the poorest football they have played all season.

Sowers' score was made on an off-tackle run. Hurlbert's first counter was made on an 11 yard center and the second on a pass by Wilson from the 23 yard line. Wilson kicked one extra point.

Loup City never threatened and did not have possession of the ball in Ord's territory. Sowers was the sparkplug of the Ord offensive and Kovanda was the outstanding defensive player, with Shibata also turning in a good performance.

What the score might have been had Ord players exerted themselves in the last half is anyone's guess but the game was safely entered in Ord's win column by a 19 to 0 score, giving the Chanticleers an all-victory record for the year. The Ord team has one of the best records in the state and is in line for conference and state championship consideration. Ord has an open date this week but on Friday, Nov. 12 will play host to Sargent in a game which will have an important bearing on the 3-Valleys conference title. Sargent has lost only to Broken Bow in the conference so Ord needs only a win over Sargent for a clear claim to the crown. Sargent always comes up with a good game against Ord, however, and the local fans will remember that Sargent was the team that last defeated Ord.

Vegetable Growers Organize Nov. 10th

A meeting of all the vegetable growers in the North Loup territory has been called for 8:00 Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, in the community building, at which time it is planned to proceed with the organization of a cooperative vegetable growers association. Plan is to install a cannery to process next season's crops. All growers are urged to be present.

Fire Destroys Barn at Burrows Place

Just before noon last Thursday the Ord fire department was called to the place west of the fair grounds occupied by the Laverne (Bill) Burrows family, where a barn was in flames. The fire had a big start and the building burned to the ground. Cause of the fire is not definitely known, though it is suspected children playing with matches may have started it unknowingly.

New Junior Rotarians. Two new members of the Rotary club took their places Monday evening in the persons of Don Auble and Raymond Bismond and will hold membership during November. Both are son of Rotarians. Each month two members of the senior class of Ord high school hold membership in the club.

Pieper Performance Wins UWF Funds

North Loup—(Special)—Gene Pieper, the "old maestro" from Albion, hasn't lost the musical ability—and showmanship—that used to draw crowds and coin all over the central United States.

Pieper retired from active orchestra work some years ago to carry on an insurance business in Albion but coaches and books a popular orchestra known as the Swing Kings. At a dance here Friday night he played with the orchestra as substitute for a musician who was ill, and the dancers liked him.

In the course of a novelty piano solo in which he pretended that his piano had broken, Pieper announced to the crowd that a nickel would be necessary to start it. Promptly the dancers showered the stage with nickels, pennies, dimes and large coins and when the orchestra picked up the money they found a total of $7.00. Pieper, who is chairman of the UWF drive at Albion, announced that every cent of the money would be donated to the UWF—at North Loup

Mrs. Wm. Cramer Found Lying on Floor of Home Where She Lived Alone.

Arcadia—(Special)—A pathetic incident occurred here during last Wednesday night when Mrs. Wm. Cramer, 87, who lived alone in her home on main street, was found unconscious on the kitchen floor, apparently the victim of a stroke some time during the night.

Mrs. Cramer had lived alone since the death of her husband a few years ago but her health had been poor and Mrs. May Campbell had been getting her mail and groceries and spent some time with her each day.

She notified a neighbor, Mrs. Wm. Gregory, who called Marshal Braden. He was accompanied by A. H. Hastings, Chas. Scott and W. J. Ramsey and the men removed a screen and entered through a window. They found the house cold, as there was no furnace and the kitchen fire had gone out.

Born at Pittsburg, Pa., March 15, 1856, she grew to womanhood there and, having devoted her early life to a study of music she began the teaching of music and for several years devoted all her time to this work. In 1895 she came to Arcadia and not long afterward was married to William Cramer, who died in 1929. There were no children.

Mortensen Names Nominating Group

A committee composed of J. A. Kovanda, A. J. Auble and George A. Satterfield was appointed by President C. J. Mortensen as a nominating group, at the November meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce held Thursday night.

John R. Haskell was principal speaker Thursday, giving a lucid report of the community club conference at Norfolk which he attended recently as a representative of the Ord chamber.

Robert Noll reported on the alfalfa mill, some discussion was held on the scrap drive and other matters of civic business taken up. Lunch was served late in the evening.

Mrs. Laura Cheyney Dies at Ericson

Hilding Pearson conducted a funeral at Ericson on Friday for Mrs. Laura Cheyney. Rev. Lanum of the Free Methodist church officiated at the final rites and burial was made at Bartlett.

Mrs. Cheyney was born at Hicksville, Ohio, on Feb. 16, 1861, and was an early day pioneer in Wheeler county. She became the bride of William Cheyney in Ohio as a young girl, coming west with him.

Left to mourn are two daughters, Mrs. Cora Wyant of Aurora, Florence who lives in Ericson; four sons, Ora of Omaha, Bill of Aurora, Frank of Aurora, Pete of Clay Center. There are 21 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren as well.

Haskell Named Judge. At the Ord city council meeting Monday night W. T. McLain presented his resignation as police judge, inasmuch as he is leaving soon for the west coast, and John Haskell was appointed to serve McLain's term, until the next city election.

Will Accept No More Want Ads Over Telephone

Effective immediately, the Quiz announces that no more want ads will be accepted over the telephone. Hereafter, advertising for the classified department must be placed in person or by letter and must be paid for at the time it is placed.

Bookkeeping and collection details incident to handling of these little want ads require more time than all other advertising in the paper combined, and the net revenue they produce is very low. The Quiz is very short of bookkeeping help and simply cannot continue to handle want ads as in the past.

The rate for want ads remains unchanged—5c per line per issue, with a minimum charge of 25c. In figuring the cost of the want ad you want to insert, figure on the basis of five words to the line. If you are remitting by letter you may send either stamps, coin, currency or a check.

No want ad will be accepted except on a paid-in-advance basis with the exception of ads placed by merchants who carry regular book accounts with the Quiz.

This change in policy is made necessary by shortage of help and war conditions in general. Please do not ask us to deviate from it.

Subsidy Payment Waits Dairymen

A potential 300 thousand dollars on their October production is on the way to Nebraska dairy farmers to cover increased feed costs. R. Clare Clement, Valley County AAA Chairman, announced the October payment under the war food administration's dairy feed payment program, for the last quarter of the year will be made at once.

County AAA committees will, for the first time in any program, have authority to draw drafts on the United States government in direct payment of the subsidy claims. The farmer will present his October sales slips and receive a draft cashable at the bank the same as his cream or milk check.

The deadline for presenting the October evidence to the county AAA office is November 30. Bring in your check stubs or other evidence showing the sale of cream or milk. The minimum payment is $1.00. Any dairyman selling less than 25 pounds of butterfat for the month of October will not receive a payment.

Inhalator Used

Last Thursday the firemen's inhalator squad was called to the Dale Warwick home by Dr. C. J. Miller to use the inhalator on Mrs. Warwick, who was suffering from an acute heart attack.

7 Valley County Students at N. U.

Of the nine students from Valley county enrolled at the University of Nebraska this fall, seven are from Ord. Eldon Mathauser is a senior in the college of engineering, Virginia Farley, senior, and Betty Kokes, junior, are both in teachers college.

Swing Kings Play for Legion Dance

The Gene Pieper orchestra from Albion, known as the Swing Kings, has been engaged by Fidelity Post No. 38, American Legion, to play for a dance at the Bohemian hall in Ord next Thursday evening, Nov. 11. This is the annual Armistice Day dance sponsored each year by the local Legion post.

This orchestra from Albion has played in Valley county a number of times in the past and is a favorite with dancers. The public is cordially invited to attend the Armistice day dance in Ord next Thursday.

—Mrs. Lottie Clark has been overdoing and was ordered to bed to rest once more by her doctor. She is at Mrs. Elliott Clement's.

$3,156 Total Reported, More Coming In, But Some Communities Are Lagging.

A total of $3,156.65 has been turned in to date in the Valley county United War Fund drive and several school districts haven't reported yet, said Treasurer Clyde Baker Tuesday morning, but since the county quota is $4,050 a final "push" must be given to make the drive a success.

County Chairman E. L. Vogelantanz is urging all community chairmen to get out this week and give the drive this final "push." Success is in sight if they will do so, he says.

The city of Ord has safely passed its $1,322 quota with funds to spare and about ten air raid wardens still having funds to turn in, Baker says. Total reported in Ord to date is $1,407.63 and funds already collected but not yet reported are expected to swell this to about $1,500.00. There are still a few business men who haven't contributed, mainly because they were out of town when solicitors called, and these men are asked to make their contributions to Treasurer Baker or Chairman Vogelantanz before the end of this week.

Rural school districts have, in general, been surpassing their quotas, Vogelantanz says, but about 20 haven't turned in their reports yet. If their collections average as well as those already reported about $500 will come in from this source.

On the basis of the report made to date North Loup is far behind in its drive to raise $327 for the UWF. Only $171.50 had been reported by North Loup up to Tuesday noon. Heads of the drive are hoping this village has more funds not yet reported. No report at all has been received from Arcadia, which has a quota of $377, Baker says, but a drive has been carried on there and Chairman Vogelantanz is hopeful that the final report will show that Arcadia has not fallen down on its quota.

The drive officially ended Nov. 1 but the county result will not be reported to the state organization until the end of this week, which gives districts and communities who are lagging a final chance to redeem themselves.

At many schools teachers and pupils are having a gay time and a good excuse for a party while they raise money for the U. W. F. Miss Viola Clement of Dist. 42, and her pupils sponsored a carnival and ple social Friday evening. A novel "touch" they used was to fine each guest who entered. County-Wide Scrap Effort Is Urged for 1943 Armistice Day

Farmers, Town People Asked to Quit Usual Duties and Work at Getting Scrap.

Valley county's scrap campaign is bogging down. Unless something drastic is done only a fraction of the big 800 ton quota will be met in the drive which is scheduled to end Nov. 15.

Rural school children are doing nobly but the task is beyond their strength and they are going to need the assistance of adults if an appreciable showing is to be made. What could be more fitting than that Armistice Day of 1943, which falls on Thursday, Nov. 11, should be devoted to the patriotic task of gathering scrap?

R. Clare Clement, scrap chairman for the county, urges that this be done. He asks that farmers for one day abandon the important work of corn picking and other farm tasks to make an intensive search of their places for scrap, and haul it immediately either to the rural school district in their county where it can be credited to that school's quota, or to Ord where it can be sold at once.

Ton Rasmussen, Ord scrap buyer, has arranged to have a railroad car at the Union Pacific loading dock on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 11, 12 and 13 so all scrap gathered Armistice day may be sold immediately.

Chairman Clement asks town people also to take part in the Armistice day scrap hunt by combining their residence and business premises for every bit of scrap metal that can be salvaged. A little here and a little there will count into a large total when it is assembled, and never has the need been so great.

Steel mills are running low on scrap; some may have to shut down if the scrap isn't provided now. And Armistice Day, with its patriotic significance, is a splendid time to engage in the patriotic activity of scrap hunting.

Let's get in the scrap on Armistice Day.

Ord Turns in Poor Performance, Wins over Loup City, 19-0

Chanticleers Score Thrice in 2nd Quarter, then Slump; Sargent Next Opponent.

The Chanticleers struck three times in the second period of their game against Loup City here Friday evening, pushing Sowers across the goal line once and sending Hurbert across twice to take a 19 to 0 lead and then, apparently content with their total, settled down to a full second half of the poorest football they have played all season.

Sowers' score was made on an off-tackle run. Hurbert's first counter was made on an 11 yard pass by Wilson from the 23 yard line. Wilson kicked one extra point.

Loup City never threatened and did not have possession of the ball in Ord's territory. Sowers was the sparkplug of the Ord offensive and Kovanda was the outstanding defensive player, with Shibata also turning in a good performance.

What the score might have been had Ord players exerted themselves in the last half is anyone's guess but the game was safely entered in Ord's win column by a 19 to 0 score, giving the Chanticleers an all-victorious record for the year. The Ord team has one of the best records in the state and is in line for conference and state championship consideration.

Ord has an open date this week but on Friday, Nov. 12 will play host to Sargent in a game which will have an important bearing on the 3-Valleys conference title. Sargent has lost only to Broken Bow in the conference so Ord needs only a win over Sargent for a clear claim to the crown. Sargent always comes up with a good game against Ord, however, and the local fans will remember that Sargent was the team that last defeated Ord.

Vegetable Growers Organize Nov. 10th

A meeting of all the vegetable growers in the North Loup territory has been called for 8:00 Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, in the community building, a which time it is planned to proceed with the organization of a cooperative vegetable grower association. Plan is to install a cannery to process next season's crops. All growers are urged to be present.

Fire Destroys Barn at Burrows Place

Just before noon last Thursday the Ord fire department was called to the place west of the fair grounds occupied by the Laverie (Bill) Burrow family, where a barn was in flames. The fire had a big start and the building burned to the ground. Cause of the fire is not definitely known, though it is suspected children playing with matches may have started it unknowingly.

New Junior Rotarians

Two new members of the Rotary club took their places Monday evening in the persons of Don Auble and Raymond Blemond and will hold membership during November. Both are sons of Rotarians. Each month two members of the senior class of Ord high school hold membership in the club.

Pieper Performance Wins UWF Funds

North Loup—(Special)—Gene Pieper, the "old maestro" from Albion, hasn't lost the musical ability—and showmanship—that used to draw crowds and coin all over the central United States.

Pieper retired from active orchestra work some years ago to carry on an insurance business in Albion but coaches and books a popular orchestra known as the Swing Kings. At a dance here Friday night he played with the orchestra as substitute for a musician who was ill, and the dancers liked him.

In the course of a novelty piano solo in which he pretended that his piano had broken, Pieper announced to the crowd that a nickel would be necessary to start it. Promptly the dancers showered the stage with nickels, pennies, dimes and larger coins and when the orchestra picked up the money they found a total of $7.00.

Pieper, who is chairman of the UWF drive at Albion, announced that every cent of the money would be donated to the UWF—at North Loup.

BACK FORTY

A few irrigation farmers are wondering if their soils need commercial fertilizer. A good way of finding out is to put some on a small plot of ground. A trial of this sort was made last summer by Raymond (Slick) Outhouse and Leslie Nash, our District Soil Scientist, on the former's land near Loup City.

They applied treble-superphosphate to an alfalfa field whose plants were rather short and spindly, and tested low in phosphorus in the leaves and stems. Treble-superphosphate was put on after the first cutting of hay, enough to last for three years under normal conditions. The experiment was limited to one-tenth acre of land.

At first the alfalfa turned yellow, and it looked as if phosphate would actually be detrimental to yields. Then the alfalfa took on a healthy green color and began to stretch its growth, until it was from a third to a half larger than that in the surrounding area.

The yield was doubled, in the opinion of Mr. Outhouse, who thinks that the increased tonnage of hay from his second cutting alone paid for the cost of the phosphate. He is quite enthusiastic about the value of this commercial fertilizer, which either supplied alfalfa with phosphorus, or caused the soil to release it.

The soil contains an abundance of phosphorus, potassium and lime. It is called Hall very fine sandy loam, shallow phase, and is slightly alkaline. The water table stands about 30 inches below the surface, and drops to 60 inches in October.

Some of our local land gets too much irrigation. When water runs through a field all summer, much of the fertility is dissolved and washed away. Commercial fertilizer may be needed soon in such places.

Dust Affects Lubrication

Wherever gears or chains are exposed and operate in dust, satisfactory lubrication is practically impossible. Less wear may result if they are run dry.

Time-Tested Advice About Chest Colds!

Grandma Was Right Time Has Proved It

Today, the first choice and family standby for relieving miseries of colds in millions of homes is the same home-remedy grandma used . . . Vicks VapoRub! What better recommendation could a product have!

When you rub time-tested VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bed-

time it starts to work 2 ways at once —and keeps on working for hours to relieve coughing spasms and congestion in the cold-clogged upper breathing passages, to ease muscular soreness or tightness. It invites restful sleep. And often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone! Try it.

Doc Mitchell and I were chewing the rag recently about America's aims in this War.

We agreed the four freedoms are O. K., but a letter from Charlie Jenkins, in Italy, comes a lot closer home.

Charlie wrote: "Our home papers mean a lot to us all. For a few minutes we're back again; we see the things we know, and love, and don't want changed!"

Well, we all know the things the boys want left "as is." The corner drugstore; taking a girl to a movie. The right to vote. The right to have a glass of beer if they want it.

Keeping things the way Charlie and the boys remember them is our obligation, here at home.

As far as the glass of beer is concerned, the Brewing Industry Foundation is doing its part. By keeping the sale of this moderate beverage clean and decent, through self-regulation of the industry.

From where I sit, that's part of what Charlie meant. And it's how you feel too, I'll bet.

Time-Tested Advice About Chest Colds!

Grandma Was Right Time Has Proved It

Today, the first choice and family standby for relieving miseries of colds in millions of homes is the same home-remedy grandma used . . . Vicks VapoRub! What better recommendation could a product have!

When you rub time-tested VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bed-

time it starts to work 2 ways at once —and keeps on working for hours to relieve coughing spasms and congestion in the cold-clogged upper breathing passages, to ease muscular soreness or tightness. It invites restful sleep. And often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone! Try it.

Doc Mitchell and I were chewing the rag recently about America's aims in this War.

We agreed the four freedoms are O. K., but a letter from Charlie Jenkins, in Italy, comes a lot closer home.

Charlie wrote: "Our home papers mean a lot to us all. For a few minutes we're back again; we see the things we know, and love, and don't want changed!"

Well, we all know the things the boys want left "as is." The corner drugstore; taking a girl to a movie. The right to vote. The right to have a glass of beer if they want it.

Keeping things the way Charlie and the boys remember them is our obligation, here at home.

As far as the glass of beer is concerned, the Brewing Industry Foundation is doing its part. By keeping the sale of this moderate beverage clean and decent, through self-regulation of the industry.

From where I sit, that's part of what Charlie meant. And it's how you feel too, I'll bet.

S. dropped from about 173,000 in 1928 to around 143,000 in 1942, principally because motor shipments reduced the call for refrigerator cars. Use Quiz want ads for quick results.

FALSE TEETH THAT LOOSEN NEED NOT EMBARRASS Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plate. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. POULTRY LICE ARE THIEVES Kill those lice that cut your egg production. Just put Dr. Salsbury's NIC SAL on the roosts. You get 100% active ingredients for maximum effectiveness. NIC SAL is easy to use. NIC SAL is effective. NIC SAL is inexpensive. We have the genuine. Economy in Meat Buying In the rush of today's worries regarding rationing, those little "points", etc., too many of us lose track of the really vital thing about buying foods—what do they cost in money? Points are important, of course, to women who want to feed their families well and stay within their ration points, but the family budget must be considered foremost. We invite you to compare the prices of our meats with those being charged elsewhere. We are sure you will find that quality considered, it will be to your advantage to shop here. You can save money at our market; and the first place to put savings these days is in WAR BONDS. Buy your meat here and then buy war stamps and bonds with the difference. North Side Market Joe F. Julia says—Don't you believe it! EVERY WEEK I'm amazed at the number of letters we receive, starting off with "Is it true that..." and going on to ask about something which is almost in the realm of superstition. For instance, a surprising number of people still think it's dangerous to eat cucumbers and milk together, yet they will use a sour cream dressing on cucumbers. And so many have been asking questions about canned foods, I thought perhaps you too might like to know some of the answers. HOME CANNED "Is it true that I should cook home-canned vegetables before using?" Definitely yes! Each home-canned vegetable should be cooked for 15 minutes immediately after opening the container, even before tasting, to insure complete safety. And if you put some away for later use, that should be cooked again before eating. COMMERCIALY CANNED "Is it true that the liquid of commercially-canned peas should be thrown away?" No! If the peas are good to eat, the liquid they're packed in certainly is too! Liquid in all canned foods is simply the water in which the food is cooked, it contains valuable food elements, and should either be cooked back into the food or used in sauce or soup. FOOD IN OPEN CANS "Is it true that it's dangerous to leave food in an open can?" No! The Department of Agriculture says of commercially-canned foods: "Whether in the original can or in another container, the principal precautions for keeping food are—Keep it cool and keep it covered." But the opened can must be immediately put under refrigeration. AND FINALLY: "Is it true that you like to answer all kinds of questions on food, Mrs. Wright?" YES! But, please, oh please! Make those questions definite and detailed when you write, and address your letters to Julia Lee Wright, P. O. Box 660-SS, Oakland 4, California. Julia Lee Wright Director Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

A LITTLE LESSON FOR MOM JUST LOOK, MOM! ROBBIE DIDN'T WANT ALL OF THAT SECOND CHOP, DAD ATE ONLY HALF OF HIS POTATOES, JIMMIE DIDN'T FINISH HIS SALAD AND WE'RE ALL STUFFED. NEXT DOOR, THEY FOUND THEY'D BEEN THROWING AWAY LOTS OF FOOD. THEY PUT THE WHOLE FAMILY ON A "CLEAN PLATE" PROGRAM, WENT IN FOR BETTER MENU PLANNING, AND CAME OUT WITH A BIG SAVING. USE, DON'T WASTE! ASKING US TO DON'T SERVE FOOD EACH FAMILY MUST CUT DOWN ON WASTE AND WE CAN DO IT TOO WITH MENU PLANNING.

FALSE TEETH

THAT LOOSEN NEED NOT EMBARRASS

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plate. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Economy in Meat Buying

In the rush of today's worries regarding rationing, those little "points", etc., too many of us lose track of the really vital thing about buying foods—what do they cost in money? Points are important, of course, to women who want to feed their families well and stay within their ration points, but the family budget must be considered foremost.

We invite you to compare the prices of our meats with those being charged elsewhere. We are sure you will find that quality considered, it will be to your advantage to shop here.

You can save money at our market; and the first place to put savings these days is in WAR BONDS. Buy your meat here and then buy war stamps and bonds with the difference.

A LITTLE LESSON FOR MOM

EVERY WEEK I'm amazed at the number of letters we receive, starting off with "Is it true that..." and going on to ask about something which is almost in the realm of superstition. For instance, a surprising number of people still think it's dangerous to eat cucumbers and milk together, yet they will use a sour cream dressing on cucumbers. And so many have been asking questions about canned foods, I thought perhaps you too might like to know some of the answers.

HOME CANNED
"Is it true that I should cook home-canned vegetables before using?" Definitely yes! Each home-canned vegetable should be cooked for 15 minutes immediately after opening the container, even before tasting, to insure complete safety. And if you put some away for later use, that should be cooked again before eating.

COMMERCIALLY CANNED
"Is it true that the liquid of commercially-canned peas should be thrown away?" No! If the peas are good to eat, the liquid they're packed in certainly is too! Liquid in all canned foods is simply the water in which the food is cooked, it contains valuable food elements, and should either be cooked back into the food or used in sauce or soup.

FOOD IN OPEN CANS
"Is it true that it's dangerous to leave food in an open can?" No! The Department of Agriculture says of commercially-canned foods: "Whether in the original can or in another container, the principal precautions for keeping food safe—Keep it cool and keep it covered." But the opened can must be immediately put under refrigeration.

AND FINALLY!
"Is it true that you like to answer all kinds of questions on food, Mrs. Wright?" YES! But, please, oh please! Make those questions definite and detailed when you write, and address your letters to Julia Lee Wright, P. O. Box 660-SS, Oakland 4, California.

—Hilding Pearson was called to Scotia Wednesday and again on Saturday, assisting Miller Brothers with funerals for Mrs. Louise Lowden and Mrs. Amelia Schoening.

—Little Harold Dean Gudmundsen, age 18 months, is beginning to travel at an early age. Friday he went to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barr of Arcadia, staying until Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Curt Gudmundsen went after their boy.

—The George Satterfield family went to Taylor Sunday to spend the day, enjoying a visit with his nephew, Lt. Satterfield, navigator who is home on furlough with his mother, Mrs. Florence Satterfield.

—Miss Inez Eberhart was home from teachers convention at Grand Island to spend the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eberhart. She teaches in Madison and this was her first visit home since school began. Miss Nettie Clark of North Loup also teaches in Madison, and drove her car, so Inez had only to catch a bus from North Loup to Ord.

—Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart and son Jimmie Dale, Miss Alta Stewart, Estell Stewart drove to Grand Island Friday for the day.

—Miss Lella Moorman went through Ord Friday evening on her way to Burwell to see a sister, Mrs. Effegene Hallock for the week-end. Miss Moorman teaches in Clarks, Neb., this being her 18th year there, and her 37th year of teaching, six and one-half of them spent in the Ord schools. She was county superintendent of Valley county for four years, beginning about 1918.

—J. A. Kovanda attended teachers institute at Grand Island last week.

A LITTLE LESSON FOR MOM

WISH I KNEW WHY WE HAVE TO SPEND SO MUCH FOR FOOD!

I WAS TALKING TO ANNE NEAT DOOR THIS MORNING SHE TOLD ME ABOUT A STUNT OF THEIRS, WHICH MAY HELP SHOW US THE ANSWER. CAN YOU GIVE ME A TRY?

SURE I'LL TRY ANYTHING TO CUT FOOD EXPENSE.

THEN THIS EVENING GIVE JUST AS MUCH AS USUAL TO DAD, JIMMIE, ROBBIE, YOURSELF AND ME AFTER DINNER PUT EVERYTHING YOU USUALLY THROW AWAY ON ONE PLATE. I'LL SHOW YOU WHAT I SEE.

JUST LOOK, MOM! ROBBIE DIDN'T WANT ALL OF THAT SECOND CORN, DAD ATE ONLY HALF OF HIS POTATOES, JIMMIE DIDN'T FINISH HIS SALAD AND WE'RE ALL STUFFED!

NEXT DOOR, THEY FOUND THEY'D BEEN THROWING AWAY LOTS OF FOOD! THEY PUT THE WHOLE FAMILY ON A "CLEAN THE PLATE" PROGRAM, WENT IN FOR BETTER MENU PLANNING, AND CAME OUT WITH A BIG SAVING.

I SEE, DUT WITH THE GOVERNMENT ASKING US TO CONSERVE FOOD, EACH FAMILY MUST CUT DOWN ON WASTE AND WE CAN DO IT, TOO, WITH BETTER PLANNING.

But real estate buys such as we offer here, and the others we have listed, cannot last forever. If you intend eventually to buy a farm every day you delay costs you money. Government figures show farm land up 1% a month over the past year, on a nation-wide basis. Our guess is that good central Nebraska land has appreciated even more than that. Buy now—while you can get what you want at a price that can't help making you money, either for a place to live on or as an investment. Look at these values:

- 840 acre ranch and combination farm. 280 acres under cultivation, balance pasture and hay. Priced to sell. Graveled highway, fair buildings.
 - 160 acres, nice 4-room house, good barn, double corn crib and granary, garage, chicken house, milk shed and cattle sheds. Buildings cost $5,000 to replace. Whole thing priced at $2,700.
 - 840 acre ranch on river front. Good pasture and hay, 140 acres under-cultivation. Priced to sell.
 - 240 acres, half pasture and half under cultivation. Priced at $4,250.
 - 240 acres, best land in Mira Valley, 30 acres pasture. Making 25 to 30 bushels of corn this year. Priced to sell.
- Many other farms and also 4 good houses in Ord that we priced at way less than replacement cost.

Lorraine's fears that Mrs. Strickland would disapprove of her vanished five minutes after she had met the kindly old lady. "You're lovely, my dear," she told the girl frankly. "And I know you'll forgive me for being glad Rance is marrying someone with background. He's all I have, and I do so want him to be happy."

"No more than I, Mrs. Strickland. I love him too and I'll do my best to make him a good wife."

"I know you will. You come from a fine family. The Bigelows date back as far as the Mayflower."

Lorraine could hardly wait to get home to tell her own mother the wonderful news.

"Good heavens, child, what's happened?" Mrs. Bigelow exclaimed when Lorraine came bursting through the door.

"Oh, mother, I'm so happy! Rance and I are going to be married!"

"Married?" Mrs. Bigelow stared at her daughter in horror. "You marry a Strickland. Oh, my dear, that's ridiculous. The Stricklands are wealthy and have family background."

"So have we. Background, I mean. Oh, mother, money doesn't matter. Nothing matters when two people love each other as deeply as Rance and I."

Mrs. Bigelow stared at her daughter a moment and there was despair in her eyes. "My child, I should have told you this before. Both your father, before he died, and I thought you would be happier not knowing. But how could we foretell that you would fall in love with a Strickland?" The older lady dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief.

"Lorrie, you—you're not our own daughter. Edward and I had no children. You were adopted."

"Mother!" Lorraine stared at her mother in dumb horror. "Oh, mother, it isn't the truth! It can't be! Tell me it isn't, mother!"

"I'm sorry, child. It is the truth."

Alice Bradley, Lorraine's closest friend and recently married, had been urging her to visit them in the small upstate town of Braebury for months, and it was toward this refuge that she headed.

Alice, unwarned of Lorraine's coming, was not only astonished, but delighted.

"I haven't been feeling too good," Lorraine admitted. "It's going to be fine spending a few days with you, if you'll let me."

"Let you? Now that you're here try and get away at least for a fortnight." She searched the other girl's eyes. "Say, what's this I hear about you and the Strickland millions?"

"Whatever you've heard, darling, it's wrong." Lorraine smiled, blinking back tears. "Anyway, let's skip it. Shall we?"

Two days of fresh air, glorious sunshine and excellent food did nothing toward erasing the pale and wan look on Lorraine's cheeks. Alice, watching her like a mother, became troubled. Secretly she talked the matter over with Ted, her husband, and they decided that something should be done. But what, neither of them at the moment knew. However, Ted was driving into the city the next day, and he promised to call on Mrs. Bigelow.

As it turned out, however, it wasn't necessary for Alice and Ted to put any possible plan into execution. A half hour before Ted was due to leave for the city on the following day, a smart looking limousine drove into the yard. Lorraine, watching from the porch, emitted a gasp when Mrs. Strickland alighted.

Escape was impossible. Neither Ted nor Alice was in sight. Mrs. Strickland came up onto the porch. "My dear, you shouldn't have run away. I've been to see your mother."

"My mother! Oh, Mrs. Strickland, did she—did she—"

"Tell me that you were adopted? Yes." The older woman picked up Lorraine's hand. "Being a foundling is certainly nothing to be ashamed of, my child. There's all the more credit due you."

"But—but you wouldn't want Rance to marry anyone without family background?"

Mrs. Strickland smiled a wise little smile. "My dear, look at me. Haven't you guessed? Didn't it occur to you that the reason I was so eager to have Rance marry someone with background was because I myself was an adopted child?"

Lorraine's mouth fell open. She tried to speak and couldn't. And just then Ted came from the house, carrying a bag. Impulsively Lorraine turned and flew to him.

"Hurry!" she cried. "I'm going with you! Oh, for goodness' sake, Ted, move! Can't you see I—I'm in love all over again?"

Ord School Notes

The Quiz school visitor had a chance Thursday to watch Miss Elizabeth Lukes put her seventh and eighth grade mathematics classes through their paces, as the eighth graders averaged their grades for the period.

Miss Lukes, who is locally famous for her success at teaching math, has them keep their own grades, and average the nine grades, to get their own averages. This has the advantage of keeping the student aware of his own standing at all times. Checking these grades orally with Miss Lukes as they were doing has other advantages. All the class was interested in every grade, and a spirit of competition fostered among the large group. Pride in his own grades was bolstered and every student does his best work.

Assignments for the week are written there in advance, so that any student who wishes may do them all up early! For math sharks, additional projects are provided.

Study period found most of them busy. As in any school room some bright-eyed students jumped eagerly into their work, while a few loafed, slid down in the seats or stared idly. Most of them kept busy, and Miss Lukes kept busy too, giving a simple suggestion to most requests for help.

It was interesting to note that the same pictures that appealed to children years ago are finding places on modern school room walls. The same three peasants were sowing grain as Millet painted them; the same blacksmith shod a horse while two other horses waited.

It was also interesting to note that eighth graders now dress more sensibly than they once did. There was no silk, no satin no lace and few ruffles. Instead, there were open throated shirts on many boys and girls, pull-over sweaters or cardigans on many of them, cotton dresses simply made, nothing elaborate.

A tendency toward crew haircuts is noticeable. Girls wore their hair not too fussy, and it is attractive bound with a ribbon or with a bow or two bows.

A few youngsters with more ambitious mothers wore hand-knitted sweaters, simply made and charming.

Most of the young students were having trouble with problem number ten. Like most of the arithmetic taught these days, it was a more practical sort of problem. It had to do with an inch and a half of rainfall on a quarter acre of ground.

Miss Lukes said she was devoted to the text they were using. It combined some geometry, some algebra, lots of common sense. It has equations and formulae for almost any use, and is meant to be applied to everyday life.

The seventh grade math, immediately following, was also a useable, ordinary lesson. First came a quick oral drill, "What

John Haskell and family drove up from Havelock and visited at the R. C. Greenfield home. Mrs. Peter Mortensen had been to St. Paul to see Mrs. Ches Chinn. Mr. and Mrs. Argyle Tiffin drove to Hastings to see their daughter Marie, who was attending college there.

Moisture Collects in Soot
 Moisture accumulates in the coating of soot or fly-ash which can be found in almost any chimney after the firing season. Despite popular opinion, the sulphur in the coal has very little to do with the rusting of the pipes. At the end of each heating season, you should remove the smokepipe, or have your furnace man do it, and clean it thoroughly. It may be coated inside and out with oil or painted with heat-resisting paint.

THE day that Loraine Bigelow and Rance Strickland decided they were in love with each other enough to get married, Rance insisted that she come home with him to meet his mother. Loraine looked at him in alarm.

"Now? Today? Oh, Rance, suppose she doesn't like me?"

"She'll like you, all right," he grinned. "You're a Bigelow. That's enough for mother. She's a hound for family background." Then he added quickly. "Not that I'd love you any less, no matter who you were."

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Mrs. Mervin Scott has heard from her husband, Pvt. Mervin Scott that he had arrived safely somewhere in the south Pacific, that he was well and the ocean trip did not make him sea sick but he was well tanned. One of Joe Methe's boys was in his division but he did not know his name.

The Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring armistice day services for Armistice Day. A program will be given at the school house and the whistle will be blown at eleven as a signal for meditation. In the evening a covered dish supper for veterans and their families will be held at the Legion hall and will be followed by a program.

Miss Nettie Clark attended teachers convention at Norfolk and then came home Friday evening, returning to her school in Madison Sunday.

The Young Ladies club met Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. A. Barber for a weiner roast and exchange sack lunch. An unusually pleasant evening was spent.

The home of Mrs. Frelda Noyes was the scene of a family gathering Thursday evening, honoring Pvt. La Verne Noyes, home on furlough from Camp Polk, La. Guests included Pvt. and Mrs. Noyes and son Danny, the Herman Desel and Orville Noyes families. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. La Verne Noyes took her husband and Pvt. Glen Warner, also home from Camp Polk, to Grand Island and they returned to camp.

How Time Flies

Twenty years ago Miss Mildred Patton was one of the instructors of the Teachers Institute. A former Ord and Arcadia girl, she came from Kearney, normal.

Freshmen at the high school gave a program, and Thomas Williams was class president. Carlotta Davis sang, Muriel Weekes sang, Elsie Pezanka played the piano and Ellamae Serphen the violin. Lois Wentworth sang, and the Collipriest twins gave "Yes, We Have No Bananas" as a duet.

Colored sateen bloomers were only 79c and 95c at Stoltz Variety store, said an ad. Perryman Hill advertised themselves as the one-price clothiers. Percy E. Lowe was a sign painter, and advertised pains for sale.

Mrs. Bert Cushing entertained Delta Deck; Jolly Sisters met with Mrs. George Newbecker; O. O. S. were entertained by Mrs. A. W. McMinder; So and Sew by Mrs. P. G. Howes; Junior Matrons by Mrs. I. E. Miller at Elyria; Happy Hour by Mrs. Mary Ben. The Fourth annual convention of Pythian Sisters, Dist. 3, was held in Ord, 40 visitors coming from some distance. Mrs. G. W. Taylor gave the address of welcome.

John Haskell and family drove up from Havelock and visited at the R. G. Greenfield home. Mrs. Peter Mortensen had been to St. Paul to see Mrs. Ches Chinn. Mr. and Mrs. Argyle Tippin drove to Hastings to see their daughter Marie, who was attending college there.

Moisture Collects in Soot
Moisture accumulates in the coating of soot or fly-ash which can be found in almost any chimney after the firing season. Despite popular opinion, the sulphur in the coal has very little to do with the rusting of the pipes. At the end of each heating season, you should remove the smokepipe, or have your furnace man do it, and clean it thoroughly. It may be coated inside and out with oil or painted with heat-resisting paint.

Background

By BARBARA BENEDICT
Associated Newspapers.
WNU Features.

THE day that Loraine Bigelow and Rance Strickland decided they were in love with each other enough to get married, Rance insisted that she come home with him to meet his mother. Loraine looked at him in alarm.

"Now? Today? Oh, Rance, suppose she doesn't like me?"
"She'll like you, all right," he grinned. "You're a Bigelow. That's enough for mother. She's a bound for family background." Then he added quickly, "Not that I'd love you any less, no matter who you were."

Still Continues the Parade of

Rare Farm Values

But real estate buys such as we offer here, and the others we have listed, cannot last forever. If you intend eventually to buy a farm every day you delay costs you money. Government figures show farm land up 1% a month over the past year, on a nation-wide basis. Our guess is that good central Nebraska land has appreciated even more than that. Buy now—while you can get what you want at a price that can't help making you money, either for a place to live on or as an investment. Look at these values:

840 acre ranch and combination farm. 280 acres under cultivation, balance pasture and hay. Priced to sell. Graveled highway, fair buildings.

160 acres, nice 4-room house; good barn, double corn crib and granary, garage, chicken house, milk shed and cattle sheds. Buildings cost $5,000 to replace. Whole thing priced at $2,700.

840 acre ranch on river front. Good pasture and hay, 140 acres under cultivation. Priced to sell.

240 acres, half pasture and half under cultivation. Priced at $4,250.

240 acres, best land in Mira Valley, 30 acres pasture. Making 25 to 30 bushels of corn this year. Priced to sell.

Many other farms and also 4 good houses in Ord that we priced at way less than replacement cost.

Loraine's fears that Mrs. Strickland would disapprove of her vanished five minutes after she had met the kindly old lady. "You're lovely, my dear," she told the girl frankly. "And I know you'll forgive me for being glad Rance is marrying someone with background. He's all I have, and I do so want him to be happy."

"No more than I, Mrs. Strickland. I love him too and I'll do my best to make him a good wife."
"I know you will. You come from a fine family. The Bigelows date back as far as the Mayflower."
Loraine could hardly wait to get home to tell her own mother the wonderful news.

"Good heavens, child, what's happened?" Mrs. Bigelow exclaimed when Loraine came bursting through the door.
"Oh, mother, I'm so happy! Rance and I are going to be married!"
"Married?" Mrs. Bigelow stared at her daughter in horror. "You marry a Strickland. Oh, my dear, that's ridiculous. The Stricklands are wealthy and have family background."

"So have we. Background, I mean. Oh, mother, money doesn't matter. Nothing matters when two people love each other as deeply as Rance and I."
Mrs. Bigelow stared at her daughter a moment and there was despair in her eyes. "My child, I should have told you this before. Both your father, before he died, and I thought you would be happier not knowing. But how could we foretell that you would fall in love with a Strickland?" The older lady dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief. "Loraine, you—you're not our own daughter. Edward and I had no children. You were adopted."

"Mother!" Loraine stared at her mother in dumb horror. "Oh, mother, it isn't the truth! It can't be! Tell me it isn't, mother!"
"I'm sorry, child. It is the truth."
Alice Bradley, Loraine's closest friend and recently married, had been urging her to visit them in the small upstate town of Braebury for months, and it was toward this refuge that she headed.

Alice, unwarned of Loraine's coming, was not only astonished, but delighted.

"I haven't been feeling too good," Loraine admitted. "It's going to be fine spending a few days with you, if you'll let me."
"Let you? Now that you're here try and get away at least for a fortnight." She searched the other girl's eyes. "Say, what's this I hear about you and the Strickland millions?"
"Whatever you've heard, darling, it's wrong." Loraine smiled, blinking back tears. "Anyway, let's skip it. Shall we?"

Two days of fresh air, glorious sunshine and excellent food did nothing toward erasing the pale and wan look on Loraine's cheeks. Alice, watching her like a mother, became troubled. Secretly she talked the matter over with Ted, her husband, and they decided that something should be done. But what, neither of them at the moment knew. However, Ted was driving into the city the next day, and he promised to call on Mrs. Bigelow.

As it turned out, however, it wasn't necessary for Alice and Ted to put any possible plan into execution. A half hour before Ted was due to leave for the city on the following day, a smart looking limousine drove into the yard. Loraine, watching from the porch, emitted a gasp when Mrs. Strickland alighted.

Escape was impossible. Neither Ted nor Alice was in sight. Mrs. Strickland came up onto the porch. "My dear, you shouldn't have run away. I've been to see your mother."
"My mother! Oh, Mrs. Strickland, did she—did she—"
"Tell me that you were adopted? Yes." The older woman picked up Loraine's hand. "Being a foundling is certainly nothing to be ashamed of, my child. There's all the more credit due you."

"But—but you wouldn't want Rance to marry anyone without family background."

Mrs. Strickland smiled a wise little smile. "My dear, look at me. Haven't you guessed? Didn't it occur to you that the reason I was so eager to have Rance marry someone with background was because I myself was an adopted child?"

Loraine's mouth fell open. She tried to speak and couldn't. And just then Ted came from the house, carrying a bag. Impulsively Loraine turned and flew to him.

"Hurry!" she cried. "I'm going with you! Oh, for goodness' sake, Ted, move! Can't you see I—I'm in love all over again?"

Ord School Notes

The Quiz school visitor had a chance Thursday to watch Miss Elizabeth Lukes put her seventh and eighth grade mathematics classes through their paces, as the eighth graders averaged their grades for the period.

Miss Lukes, who is locally famous for her success at teaching math, has them keep their own grades, and average the nine grades to get their own averages. This has the advantage of keeping the student aware of his own standing at all times. Checking these grades orally with Miss Lukes as they were doing has other advantages. All the class was interested in every grade, and a spirit of competition fostered among the large group. Pride in his own grades was bolstered and every student does his best work.

Assignments for the week are written there in advance, so that any student who wishes may do them all up early! For math sharks, additional projects are provided.

Study period found most of them busy. As in any school room some bright-eyed students jumped eagerly into their work, while a few loafed, slid down in the seats or stared idly. Most of them kept busy, and Miss Lukes kept busy too, giving a simple suggestion to most requests for help.

It was interesting to note that the same pictures that appealed to children years ago are finding places on modern school room walls. The same three peasants were sowing grain as Millet painted them; the same blacksmith shod a horse while two other horses waited.

It was also interesting to note that eighth graders now dress more sensibly than they once did. There was no silk, no satin no lace and few ruffles. Instead, there were open throated shirts on many boys and girls, pull-over sweaters or cardigans on many of them, cotton dresses simply made, nothing elaborate. A tendency toward crew haircuts is noticeable. Girls wore their hair not too fussy, and it is attractive bound with a ribbon or with a bow or two bows.

A few youngsters with more ambitious mothers wore hand-knitted sweaters, simply made and charming.

Most of the young students were having trouble with problem in the arithmetic taught these days, it was a more practical sort of problem. It had to do with an inch and a half of rainfall on a quarter acre of ground.

Miss Lukes said she was devoted to the text they were using. It combined some geometry, some algebra, lots of common sense. It has equations and formulae for almost any use, and is meant to be applied to everyday life.

The seventh grade math, immediately following, was also a useable, ordinary lesson. First came a quick oral drill, "What Birthdays Celebration.

Honoring Mrs. Roy Randolph on her birthday, the Kaffee Klatch group and their husbands were guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. McClure on Thursday evening. They had a pleasant covered dish supper party together.

Woman's Club.
Mrs. Horace Travis was hostess to members of the Woman's Club of Ord at her home Tuesday afternoon, and was also in charge of a very fine program on "Fashions in Clothing." In her talk she discussed good standards for buying, good lines, good methods to renew old clothing, good basic lines for four types of figures, suitable clothing colors for various skin tones as well as what not to wear. Mrs. R. E. Teague appeared first on the program, playing several hymns and telling of their composers, authors, and how and when they were written.

Schools Have Party.
Miss Ilene Visek and pupils of Dist. 26 asked Miss Irene Visek and her pupils from Dist. 29 to be their guests at a Hallowe'en party on Friday, Oct. 29. A military motif was used in the programs handed out, and the program for the evening, which began with "revellie." Following was a flag salute, patriotic singing, and special numbers by some pupils. After "chow" a mask contest and other games were concluded with prizes.

P. E. O. Monday.
Mrs. Glen Auble was hostess to P. E. O. ladies Monday evening, with her mother Mrs. C. C. Jones acting as co-hostess. The program consisted of a discussion of supreme convention reports. The convention was held at Detroit recently. Mrs. Leslie Nash, a member of the Broken Bow chapter, was the only guest.

Campfire Notes.
Cheschamny Campfire girls met at the home of Charlene Blessing last week. Most of the girls handed in their money from selling tickets. They decided on a scrapbook to send to Mrs. Furtak, their sponsor. After the meeting was adjourned, Charlene served cocoa and doughnuts for refreshments.

Auxiliary Met.
Tuesday evening Legion and Auxiliary meetings were in full swing. Serving committee at the social hour was Mrs. F. L. Stoddard, Mrs. Clarence Switzer and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen.

Military Weddings.

A military wedding was solemnized at Seattle, Oct. 16 at 5 o'clock when Lloyd Zikmund, yeo. 2-c took for his bride Miss Patricia Strong, S K 3-c, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Strong of Milwaukee, Ore. A Methodist Chaplain officiating, the ceremony took place in the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. chapel. Best man was Howard Somers, chief yeoman and the only attendant of the bride was Miss Mildred Wallace S K 3-c. The organ was played by Dexter Conover.
The bride wore the regulation SPAR uniform and carried a single purple orchid. The bridesmaid also wore the SPAR uniform and carried a bouquet of rose buds and chrysanthemums. Immediately after the ceremony pictures were taken by the Coast Guard photographer and a dinner for nine people was waiting for them in the Malson Blancs, exclusive restaurant. Mr. and Mrs. Zikmund will reside in an apartment at Astoria, Ore., where the bride is stationed in the pay office of the coast guard. Lloyd is stationed at Hammond, Ore., U. S. C. G. and has been in the service 1 1/2 years.
Lloyd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Zikmund of Ord, Nebraska. They did not attend the wedding.

Saturday Night Supper.

PM. Wilmer Anderson and Mrs. Anderson returned to the naval base at Hastings, Sunday, taken there by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holub. Wednesday the Andersons and Mrs. Holub drove to Wahoo to see his parents, doing some shopping in Omaha while nearby. They returned home to Ord Thursday.
Pfc. Maynard Behrends, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Behrends, arrived Wednesday on a 10-day furlough. He was in California and is being transferred to Camp Polk, La.
Ensign T. F. Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Meyers of Burwell, passed through Ord enroute to Miami to the naval base there. He had a six-day furlough, and was being transferred from duty on a boat on the Pacific.
Pfc. Lloyd Michalski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Michalski, A battery, 248, Fort Worden, Wash. had a 14-day furlough. He has been in service two years and stationed at the same place all that time. He left Friday noon.
Pfc. Kenneth Ackles and Pfc. Maynard Behrends began the return trip Tuesday afternoon to Camp Polk, La., after ten day furloughs in Ord with their people.
Pfc. Harley Eschliman, has been transferred from Camp Stewart, Ga., to the Blackstone army airbase at Blackstone, Va.

White May Cut Vision
Color may be distracting on certain operations. Yet, all-white may actually cut vision and thus impede production. Records show that white walls have lowered visibility as much as 25 per cent even though footcandles at working level have been increased 5 to 10 per cent. The reason is in the difficulty of distinguishing between dark materials on dark machines or against dark floors where a flood of light constricts the pupil of the eye.

Hunters Asked to Search Out Scrap

Hunters in Valley county report a wonderful season with plenty of game, but this fall there's something more important to hunt for than quail or squirrel or duck. The big hunt that everybody must join now is the hunt for metal scrap.

This is the warning given today by Clare Clement, Chairman of Valley county.

"Scrap is plentiful, too," Mr. Clement declared. "There's some in nearly every attic and farmyard. Perhaps it's not as much fun to hunt for it as it is to hunt for living game, but it's not much fun for the boys over on the fighting front either, unless we all get busy and do some serious hunting around our own homes for the things they need and the things they need most cannot be made without scrap."

Mills are crying for scrap right now, he said. Their surplus inventories are getting desperately low. Unless enough Victory Scrap Banks are made available before winter comes, there is grave danger many of the big furnaces will have to close down.

"And that means the vital supply of guns and planes and bombs for our soldiers will be halted with serious consequences to us all," he pointed out.

Even the hunters of live game can give valuable help in the scrap drive too, Chairman Clement asserted.

"Often some of the biggest contributions to the Scrap Banks are discovered in out-of-the-way spots by our game hunters," he said. "They get in to many remote places which otherwise may not be searched for scrap."

"So we're urging all hunters while they're on the lookout for their living quarry, to be on the lookout also for deserted pieces of machinery, old culverts, pipe, or any kind of metal junk they come across."

"It's worth a lot more in the war effort than one hundred ducks or squirrels. It may not be as good eating, but it's the very food our war furnaces need today."

Young Foresters
Since 1934, 4-H youngsters have planted 13,000 acres to forest trees, improved 16,000 forest acres, protected nearly a half million acres from fire, planted 6,600 acres of food patches, maintained 4,183 feeding stations, and reared and released 71,000 game birds and animals. On the efficiency side, the boys and girls rate right up with the professionals. In Washington, for instance, 37.1 per cent of 29,000 pheasant eggs distributed to 4-H clubs resulted in mature birds—close to the score achieved by more than one state-operated game farm.

White May Cut Vision
Color may be distracting on certain operations. Yet, all-white may actually cut vision and thus impede production. Records show that white walls have lowered visibility as much as 25 per cent even though footcandles at working level have been increased 5 to 10 per cent. The reason is in the difficulty of distinguishing between dark materials on dark machines or against dark floors where a flood of light constricts the pupil of the eye.

Hunters Asked to Search Out Scrap

Hunters in Valley county report a wonderful season with plenty of game, but this fall there's something more important to hunt for than quail or squirrel or duck. The big hunt that everybody must join now is the hunt for metal scrap.

This is the warning given today by Clare Clement, Chairman of Valley county.

"Scrap is plentiful, too", Mr. Clement declared. "There's some in nearly every attic and farmyard. Perhaps it's not as much fun to hunt for it as it is to hunt for living game, but it's not much fun for the boys over on the fighting front either, unless we all get busy and do some serious hunting around our own homes for the things they need and the things they need most cannot be made without scrap."

Mills are crying for scrap right now, he said. Their surplus inventories are getting desperately low. Unless enough Victory Scrap Banks are made available before winter comes, there is grave danger many of the big furnaces will have to close down.

"And that means the vital supply of guns and planes and bombs for our soldiers will be halted with serious consequences to us all," he pointed out.

Even the hunters of live game can give valuable help in the scrap drive too, Chairman Clement asserted. "Often some of the biggest contributions to the Scrap Banks are discovered in out-of-the-way spots by our game hunters," he said. "They get in to many remote places which otherwise may not be searched for scrap."

"So we're urging all hunters while they're on the lookout for their living quarry, to be on the lookout also for deserted pieces of machinery, old culverts, pipe, or any kind of metal junk they come across.

"It's worth a lot more in the war effort than one hundred ducks or squirrels. It may not be as good eating, but it's the very food our war furnaces need today."

Young Foresters

Since 1934, 4-H youngsters have planted 13,000 acres to forest trees, improved 16,000 forest acres, protected nearly a half million acres from fire, planted 6,600 acres of food patches, maintained 4,183 feeding stations, and reared and released 71,000 game birds and animals. On the efficiency side, the boys and girls rate right up with the professionals. In Washington, for instance, 37.1 per cent of 29,000 pheasant eggs distributed to 4-H clubs resulted in mature birds—close to the score achieved by more than one state-operated game farm.

Honest Returns

The Spokane, county, Washington, assessor was surprised recently when a new method for farm personal property assessments resulted in an increase of $600,000 in assessed valuation over the previous year. Instead of employing the usual force of extra deputy assessors to visit each farm, the county assessor mailed returns to taxpayers along with instructions on assessing their own property. In addition to an obvious saving of manpower, the cost per assessment was reduced from $125 to about 10 cents.

Fish Popular Food

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Nov. 7.

The Golden Text is: "Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils; for wherein is he to be accounted of?" (Isaiah 2:22). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him; and he cannot sin, because he is born of God." (1 John 3:9).

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Honolulu, T. H. Oct. 20, 1943. Special to the Quiz:

It has been a long time since I wrote the Quiz, and there have been reasons. What has been happening to me should not happen to Hitler, not if he wanted to keep healthy. It is a long story but I'll tell it as short as I can.

Last Sept. 25, now nearly four weeks old, I ate something at dinner, or lunch, as they foolishly call it here, which did not agree with me. That afternoon I went outdoors and did my first work in the hot sun in six months. I was feeling pretty tough when I went back to the shop at 4:30, and the boss took me over to the dispensary where trouble started almost immediately.

I started throwing up and kept it up until nearly noon the next day, and sweat so much they gave me a quart of liquid by way of a vein to make up the loss. They sent me to Sacred Heart hospital in Honolulu, where they gave me enough dope to put ten men to sleep. However it didn't take effect until the following afternoon. After that all I got done was sleep.

The doctor said it was food poisoning, and at least six others got in on it, most of them light cases. My friend George of the laundry (I never did hear his last name) messed around with it for twelve days and then died. Oh yes, until I got to sleep in the hospital I had cramps in my legs all the time, and that happens to be the worst part of it.

I haven't worked since that time and have spent the past 15 days at a place known as the Kokohahi Rest Camp on Kaneohe bay, on the windward, east, side of the Island. I have not yet recovered the full use of my legs, and probably never will, but I am able to get around pretty well, so what is the difference. I don't blame the navy, the only wonder being that more poisoning don't occur, considering the conditions under which they have to work in obtaining the food, preparing it for a huge crowd of men three times a day. I think they do mighty well.

Now, pardon me while I tell a little about this Kokohahi Rest Camp. It is a USO proposition now, but in peace times was a proposition owned and operated by a group of shareholders on a cost plus basis. It is tucked away in a little spot between the mountains and the sea, and must have been a veritable Garden of Eden before the war. Today it is one of the few bright spots in the Islands, a reminder of the beauty that was once Hawaii's.

It costs 60c to get here from Area 3, and the entire cost of staying here is $2 per day. There are accommodations for about 80 people at a time, but the number is much less than that now, mostly service men, who come from one to three or four days when they are on furlough. All the cabins have running water, and there is a community shower room. All of the cabins have plenty of openings for air all of which are mosquito proof.

Everybody eats at the main dining hall, which is also used as a reading, writing and pool room. Fine, nourishing meals are served three times a day by the superintendent, Harold C. Smith, assisted by a neighbor, Mrs. J. C. Simms, a Japanese lady, and a Japanese girl. The Japanese lady's husband is keeper of the grounds. Mrs. Smith is a teacher in the Kaneohe schools. The soldiers and sailors who come here are fine men, and we all have a fine time.

The buildings are located on the side of the road away from the sea, but a bridge has been built over the road, which leads to volleyball court and down to the pier, which extends about 100 yards out into deep water, where those who wish may have a fine time swimming. There is also pretty good fishing here. I have not tried either sport yet, not trusting my legs for the former and not having any fishing tackle for the latter. There were formerly boats at the pier, but boating is not permitted now.

A camp road leads from the main road through the length of the camp, and on the opposite side of the road from the buildings already named are another group of cabins, each having its own shower and costing $3 per day. There is a softball ground here, and a staff from which the national emblem flies every day. Here also are the community hall where all public meetings are held, and where a motion picture show is put on each Saturday evening. In one corner is a dark room which may be rented at a nominal price by any one who wants to use it. Needless to say, I have found occasion to use it.

There is one building yet to mention, and it is perhaps the most important of all, as the boys spend more time there than anywhere else. Due to the fact that it is low and built in a low spot beneath huge trees, a reading light can be kept on there at all hours of the night. It is called the Shanty, and is equipped with a dozen huge easy chairs, a good radio, and two bunks large enough for a tired man to sprawl on. There is also a fine library, and the boys spend much of their time reading books and magazines.

I expect to remain here until Friday, when I will get back to area 3 and go to work Saturday morning. I have not lost all my time, as I had leave time coming, and have been paid for 40 hours per week. By going to work Saturday and Sunday I will get in 18 hours overtime, all of which helps. I like it so well here that I plan to come back for a few days before I leave for the main land.

By virtue of an order recently issued any man completing a full 18 months here has the privilege of transferring to a similar job on the main land, of course with the same rating he has here. A choice of several locations is also offered, and I plan to take advantage of this opportunity. I am now letterer and grainer, and would work at that work wherever I was sent.

Now, for a little ancient history. Last Sept. 15 a Nebraska state flag was presented to the navy in an impressive ceremony in the Hall of Flags here. Four people had much to do with getting the flag and arranging the program. They were Raymond Peterson of Omaha, Berning of Seward, Paul Pitney of Red Cloud, and myself. There were sixteen Nebraskans on the stage at the presentation ceremony.

Seven months ago I wrote Governor Griswold and found that there was no Nebraska flag available. So the four of us, with the help of Paul Hillig, of Denver, who did the art work on the Nebraska Seal, Richard Shun Loy Ching, Chinese of Honolulu who did the lettering, and Mrs. Selma Osborn of Honolulu, who did the sewing, we made our flag. This is the standard type of flag, established by the Nebraska legislature of 1925, with the great seal in the center of a field of blue. The field is 38 by 57 inches in size, and the seal is 22 inches in diameter. When hung it looks as fine as any flag in the hall, there being 28 to date.

As the oldest native of Nebraska in the Island, as far as we could learn, the boys wished on me the job of making the principal speech of the evening. I took up the high lights of Nebraska history, and from the compliments I received, I guess I got away with it all right. After my talk Peterson presented the flag to Bob Christiansen, also of Omaha, seaman first class, hero of the battles of Midway, Guadalcanal, the Coral Sea and Savo Island, and a member of the crew of the —

Ever since that evening I have been trying to get some of the pictures taken by the photographer of the Pearl Harbor

Banner, Bud Bell, but have not received them yet. When, and if, I do, I will send one to the Quiz. I have already sent copies of the Banner to quite a number of friends in Ord and Burwell, which I hope arrived in good condition.

Due to the shortage of print paper, I bet the Quiz will be glad to come to this final paragraph. If my health permits I will try to write oftener in the future. Oh yes, the other day I ran across a real old friend, a lady bug. Just how they came to be in Hawaii is more than I know, but they are here, and was I glad to see her ladyship. That's all cause there ain't no more.

Yours truly,
John L. Ward,
Area 3, Box 28, Honolulu, T. H.

Error Stalks In.
The Quiz got badly tangled up in the Arnold family last week, when reporting the accident to little Roger Arnold.

Roger is the grandson of Mrs. Tillie Arnold, who has been taking care of him at the home of his daddy, Floyd Arnold. The casualty last week was at the Floyd Arnold home. Roger's mother and the new baby girl were at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Clayton Arnold, and Mrs. Clayton Arnold wishes it definitely known that she is not Roger's grandmother!

Something Different

The modern child has a modern slant on things.

I saw a small boy with a dandy piece of wood for a slingshot recently, and asked him if that was what he was going to do with it.

"It isn't a slingshot. It's a V-for-Victory!" he answered disgustedly. Signs of the times.

The Joe Karly display in his west window has been drawing attention.

It was cleverly arranged so that a number of stuffed pheasants, ducks and other game birds bear conversational banners twitting the reader, particularly the hunter.

Says one: "I am hard to hit with a bow and arrow."

Another: "Load your own, Daniel Boone used to."

"I am not worried, no open season on me."

"Wishing you a ducky hunting season."

"Go take a shot at a Jap."

"I expect to spend the winter down south this year."

"Plenty of cover and no shells."

Nebraska had a wonderful fall, a beautiful fall as well. Weather was balmy, sometimes nearly too balmy. Skies were so blue they hurt. Only a very few days of high winds bearing dirt marred a picture as pleasant as any California scene.

The frost held off for a long time, and when it arrived, Old Man Frost snuck on the stage on his tip-toes, painting only a few leaves and bushes each night.

And add to the list of wartime pleasures: this easy-going fall was easy on that important item, the coal bin.

Potatoes Named

Nov. 'Victory Food'

Good news item of the week: stout folks can help stow away the bumper Irish potato crop, without worrying too much about their waist lines.

The Food Distribution Administration, calling attention to the abundance of spuds, says everyone will be healthier by eating them and will be performing a patriotic service by helping to utilize every single potato. That's why FDA Director Roy F. Hendrickson has designated Irish potatoes as the "Victory Food Selection" from October 21 through November 6.

Nutritionists claim that women (or men) who are trying to reduce shouldn't be too hasty in taking Irish potatoes off their diets. Potatoes are recognized as a starchy vegetable, but one medium sized potato is no higher in calories than many other foods.

In a medium sized potato there are only 100 calories—which is the same number of calories in four medium sized prunes, 1 slice pineapple, 2 tablespoons raisins, 20 peanuts, 1 medium sized pear, 1-2 cup canned corn, 1 strip bacon, or 1 medium sized banana. A medium sized apple has 80 calories, or just 20 less than the same size potato. It's largely the things added to potatoes that run up calories. For instance, one tablespoon of butter contains 100 calories.

Americans who have been to England recently are surprised to find that potato-eating English people have not gained weight but have become healthier. The English people during the war have steadily maintained their consumption of potatoes. Today the average consumption of potatoes per day per person is 12 ounces or so; before the war, this average was 8-1-2 ounces a day. English people eat an abundance of potatoes to take the place of scarce foods. Since oranges and other citrus fruits are scarce in England, quantities of potatoes help supply vitamin C to the English.

Vitamin B-1 is another important food value found in potatoes. There's also iron in this staple vegetable; and the protein in potatoes has higher physiological value than that of grain.

Now's the time for homemakers to feed their families this nutritious food with all their Irish potato recipes—au gratin, scalloped, shoe-string, French fried, lyonnaise, O'Brien, soup, salad and others.

Salvage Waste Paper
At the present time more than 1,600,000 pounds of waste paper, formerly burned, is being salvaged in New York city for defense purposes every week.

U. S. Cultivates Herbs
Progress has been made in the U. S. in cultivation of anise, caraway, celery, coriander, mustard and poppy seeds, and sage and thyme.

Oilve Famine Hits Europe
News dispatches reveal the seriousness of the distress resulting from famine of lives in Italy, France and Greece. In Greece the salt-cured, dried olive, almost unknown in America, is a staple of diet. The fruit serves as milk, butter, eggs, tonic, and soap to masses who may have coffee with bread and oil for breakfast, vegetables fried in oil and saltless brown bread soaked in oil for lunch, and the same plus fish and home-cured olives—for dinner.

Take Pride in Victory
International competition was the decisive factor in introducing western sports in Japan. The visit to Japan in 1913-14 of a touring American professional baseball group and frequent competition of Japanese teams with Philippine and Hawaiian teams established baseball as the most popular "foreign" game. Track athletics progressed slowly until stimulated by a face-losing discovery in 1912. In that year Japan was first represented in the International Olympic games held at Stockholm. The failure of her two representatives spurred adequate training with American coaching aid.

Pop Corn

We have a very good market for popcorn and are interested in buying both South American and the Dwarf Hulless. The price is very attractive on both varieties.

Word was sent out of Washington last Monday that the price ceiling was expected to go into effect Friday of this week. While this is not an official notice for this date, the OPA has issued an order under date of Oct. 22nd giving the price of the corn to be set. We are expecting to receive notice of the date officially any time. We firmly believe it to be to your advantage to sell at this time. Most of the time OPA price ceilings reduce present prices by quite an extent.

Hybrid Corn
Many numbers of Hybrid Corn are beginning to get scarce. We have only 17 bu. of our White Hybrid left. 384 and 360 Cornhusker are getting very low. We expect to be notified any day that they are sold out. At present we have plenty of 583 and 380 in Cornhusker and 615, 613 and 405 in Standard. If you have corn reserved with us we would appreciate it if you would confirm the order soon.

Car of Feed
This week we have on track a carload of Archers Cattle Fattener, Hog Supplement, meal and Hog Pellets. Get your orders right off the car and know you have a supply of feed. We have recently been advised that no Cottoncake will be shipped from Texas to Nebraska this year. We have also been advised that our quota of Soy Bean Meal will be about 20% of our last year's purchases.

Burlington Turns 1,735,000 lbs. Scrap to County's Credit

800 Ton Quota Is Exceeded Thru One Sale; Armistice Day Scrap Hunt Urged.

The Burlington railroad put Valley county over the top in the scrap iron drive, turning over enough scrap iron to meet the goal set, or more than 800 tons, reported Clare Clement Tuesday.

The scrap consisted of old rails removed from the Ord-Burwell branch line and replaced with heavier rails during the past few months.

But Valley county officials of the drive do not want to quit until every available odd bit of metal is in the scrap piles, so individuals are asked to go ahead with their scrap hunts.

It is particularly fitting to celebrate Armistice day by conducting a scrap hunt on your place, the scrap drive committee feels. On the day when peace was once celebrated, do all you can to hurry the return of peace and help our service men to win the war. Scrap is badly needed, hunt out every bit you have.

Boy Scouts have been enlisted to search, and the four troops have divided Ord into quarters, reports Scoutmaster H. E. McClure. Each troop will canvass homes in one quarter, knocking on your door Thursday to ask for your donations.

The Scouts want old nails, old aluminum, lead, copper, brass, all kinds of iron, and urge you to hunt it out and get it ready. They will haul it in small wagons, or if necessary enlist the help of a truck to move your old iron away.

No tin cans and no paper is asked for in this drive, although it will be solicited before long. But no matter how small your contribution, the Scouts want you to give it. They are contesting among themselves to see which of the four patrols will get the most pounds.

Rural schools have mostly done very well in the hunt for scrap. A few schools have passed the quota asked of them, and many have reached their quota.

Persons knowing the location of scrap or having any of their own are urged to see that it is turned in, whether the school has filled its quota and quit working or not.

Mr. Rasmussen will have a car on the Burlington tracks in Ord Nov. 11, 12 and 13 to load the scrap in Ord. In Arcadia Mr. Starkey will buy iron, and Sell Brothers, and Williams and Vallette will buy it until he comes.

In North Loup the Johnson Mill and Elevator are buying at all times, so turn in your collection to one of these buyers.

Remember, it is your duty. Perhaps your boy will need those extra bullets that scrap makes.

Open House Thursday at the Q. O. Ordnance

Thousands of persons are expected to attend the open house Sunday, Nov. 14, marking the first anniversary of the start of production at the Cornhusker Ordnance Plant, operated by the Q. O. Ordnance Corporation, at Grand Island. On November 11, 1942, the first bomb was completed on the COP load lines.

The public is invited to the celebration and the plant will be open all day to receive visitors. Registration will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and will close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Visitors, urged to come early during the day so that all may be accommodated, will be taken on an escorted bus tour of the area. They will be conducted through a portion of a bomb loading line where operations will be explained and demonstrated. In addition to the bomb loading demonstration, visitors will be shown other parts of the area and other activities in the plant. Exhibits depicting various phases of plant operation are being arranged.

The cafeteria on the area will be open during the anniversary celebration so that visitors may obtain meals if they desire. Special arrangements have been made to care for visitors' cars and a large parking space is provided across the road from the main entrance to the Administration Building where the visitors will enter. All roads leading to the plant will be marked giving directions to the visitors' parking lot.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen were in Grand Island Monday to attend a meeting of the 8 and 40 gun group of the American Legion.

Charles D. Cornell and Mrs. Mary Stover left last week on Wednesday for their homes in Lincoln.

Scout Honor Court Comes Friday Eve

A court of honor will be held Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock for Ord Boy Scouts and their parents. At that time a number of boys will be given new honors, one youth having earned an Eagle Scout ranking and one a Life Scout membership.

Parents of Boy Scouts are particularly urged to be present for the impressive ceremonies. F. C. Chase will come from Lincoln to be the principal speaker and give the awards. The meeting will be held at the firemen's lodge rooms on the top floor of the city hall. Mrs. Clara Kin-kade will play musical selections.

Preceding the court of honor, Scoutmaster Elliot McClure will entertain at a buffalo dinner at his home for visiting troop commanders from Burwell, Taylor and Scotia.

UWF $4,050 Quota Met - Vogelanz

The United War Fund drive has achieved the county's goal of $4,050, states the chairman, E. L. Vogelanz of Ord. He is delighted with the response Valley county people made to this worthy appeal, and wishes to thank all who helped.

At North Loup, Fortnightly club mothers of service men were the committee in charge, raising $369.25. As their quota was only $327, this was going over the top in noble fashion.

From Arcadia Chairman Harold Weddel sends words that the quota of $376 for that community has been met, so there is no doubt that Valley county has raised its allotted quota as a whole.

Next week a list of school districts together with the amounts of money raised and the teachers in charge will be available to the public, says Mr. Vogelanz.

Ord School Stamp Sales Total $1,530.10

High school students are buying some war stamps and bonds, but the contest is not heated. Since school began the several grades have purchased these totals: 12th grade, $234; 11th grade, $131.50; 10th grade $449.50; ninth grade, $224.90; eighth grade, $118.80; and seventh grade, $22.

At the grade school the little kindergarten tots have bought a total of $34.85 worth of stamps and bonds. The first grade total is $35.65. The second grade total is $147.85 and the third grade total $67.55. Fourth grade youngsters bought $71.75, and fifth grade students $40.85. Sixth grade students total equal $49.90, bought in the six weeks they have been selling them at the grade building. The grand total of sales to the younger children is $460.40.

The high school total sales figure is $1,170.70, and added to the grade school's $460.40 this gives a grand total of $1,530.10, the war stamp savings in Ord schools this year.

Funeral Saturday of Mrs. Jacob Wells

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Lutheran church in Scotia for Mrs. Jacob C. Wells, 59, who died Nov. 3 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Bredthauer, near North Loup. The Pearson Mortuary was in charge of arrangements and Rev. Wagner conducted the service.

Mrs. Wells was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Karre and was born Sept. 12, 1884, near York, Nebr. Her marriage to Jacob Wells took place Oct. 28, 1905 and four children were born to them, Mrs. Mildred Bredthauer, North Loup, Mrs. Fern Kline, Beatrice, Lester and Leonard Wells, who reside at home. Her husband preceded her in death Feb. 22, 1942.

Temperature Drops in Week-End Storm

Only a trace of moisture fell here Saturday and Sunday in the storm which blocked roads in eastern Nebraska, but temperature dropped to a low of 17 and a bitter north wind blew for 48 hours, intensifying the effect of the autumn's first cold spell.

The storm began Saturday with light rain-fall which changed to driving snow that evening and continued throughout Sunday and part of Monday.

In the Dakotas, Minnesota and eastern Nebraska 4 to 8 inches of snow was reported but Ord was on the western edge of the storm, apparently, and western Nebraska scarcely felt it at all.

Coldest temperature at the height of the storm Sunday was 19, reports Horace Travis, but early Monday morning another 2 degree drop was registered.

Miss Evelyn Paddock and her mother Mrs. Walter Paddock left Wednesday morning for Oakland, Calif.

Three Federal Agencies Send Representatives Here, More Men, Machinery, Needed.

Clare Clement presided Saturday morning at the county court room when a joint meeting of Triple A, Soil Conservation and North and Middle Loup Irrigation district officials met to plan to level more ground for irrigation purposes. The object is to get the maximum amount of acreage into irrigated production for next season's crops. About 40 attended.

William Chandler and Mr. Cox of Washington, D. C., Ernest Luther of Lincoln came to represent Triple A officials at the session. Mr. Jones of Washington, D. C., Mr. Francis of Lincoln and regional representatives Jones and Alfred of Lincoln attended on behalf of the soil conservation program. Mr. Jorder, of Washington, D. C., of the war food administration conservation program was also present to say a few words.

M. S. Dodd acted as spokesman for the irrigators, calling on A. B. Outhouse, Archie Geweke, Art Easterbrook, Charles Newbecker and J. W. Penas to speak. Evan Hartman and Clayton Noll volunteered remarks.

Chief troubles seemed to be lack of workmen and machinery. The Washington men present were impressed with the report and asserted they would help all they could to get more men and machines to help with the ground leveling program as speedily as possible.

3-Valleys Crown at Stake Friday

Chanticleers to Play Sargent on Ord Field; Thrilling 2nd Team Game Played.

"A cracking good football game" is the report of the people lucky enough to witness the Ord second team battle Burwell's second team to a 13 to 0 score Friday afternoon on the local field. Close scored, hard-fought, conscientiously played, it turned out to be one of the best football exhibits of the current crop.

Eldon Keller scored a second-quarter touchdown to provide points and excitement. Lyle Manchester managed another in the last quarter. Tommy Tolen did outstanding quarterbacking, and some fine playing as well, making some nice tackles.

Ord was the first-down maker of the day, arranging a goody number. Probably the big crisis of the contest was the way Burwell threatened to score in the second quarter, but was held for downs on the four-yard line.

Friday of this week the Chanticleers and Sargent will play on the home field, with the championship of the 3-Valleys conference at stake. Comparative scores of the two teams for the season now mostly past indicate tough going for the Ord boys Friday. But loyal fans, happy over the brand of football Tolly's men have shown this season, hope to have once more that old happy feeling as Ord wins the game.

One gap in the Ord wall is the injury Loyal Hurlbert suffered when his foot was hit on the instep. It is bothering him yet. A first class footballer, his loss is noticed.

Ord Lady's Sister Dies at Minot, N. D.

Word reaches Ord of the death of Mrs. John Mickelson, 72, who has lived at Minot, N. D. for the past 30 years. She was Barbara Lukes before her marriage, a sister of Mrs. Albert Lukes of Ord. She had been hospitalized since Oct. 4.

Surviving are the husband, four children, Albert Foster of Tracy, Minn., Mrs. Sam Franklin and Joseph Mickelson of Minot, and McLean Mickelson of Vancouver, Wash., and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Alma Denker. Also four sisters and a brother, Mrs. James Swetska of Reeder, N. D., and Mrs. Joe Ludwig and John Lukes of Tacoma, Wash., also 18 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

$400 Raised at M. E. Lord's Acre Supper

North Loup—(Special)—The Methodist church held its annual "Lord's Acre supper" here Tuesday evening and contributions totalling $400.00 were reported by those taking part in the plan. A few more reports are still to come in.

Feed Wheat in Ord.

Feeders will be interested to learn there were five cars of wheat on the Union Pacific tracks this week, says Clare Clement.

Sheriff Mediates Traffic Accident, Own Car Hit Next.

Two traffic accidents occurred in Ord during the storm Saturday evening. The first happened on L street between 17th and 18th streets when cars driven by Ed Jablonski, who was traveling west out of town, and Steve Jablonski, who was entering town, collided. Both cars were quite badly damaged.

Sheriff Bob Hall was called to inspect the cars and authorize their removal and drove to the Chevrolet garage in that connection, returning to the square a few moments later. As he stopped at a stop sign a car owned by John Ragland crashed into his car, damaging it considerably.

Hi School Students on Ord Honor Roll

High school honor roll lists for the first nine weeks of school, that is, those making no grade less than a B for any subject during that quarter, are now posted.

In the seventh grade list are the names of Dan Huff, Charles Munn, Dick Tolen, Bette Lu Andersen, Coralee Anderson, Ellen Satterfield, Rosellen Vogelanz, Vivian Zulkoski.

Science students organized a club too, electing Lillian Jelinek president, Darrell Johnson secretary-treasurer and chose Mrs. Hohlfield their sponsor. They meet regularly on first and third Monday evenings.

Feed wheat in Ord. Feeders will be interested to learn there were five cars of wheat on the Union Pacific tracks this week, says Clare Clement.

—Fred Sidles of Lincoln came up to hunt with Roy Randolph at the week-end.

News of Our Fighting Men

Pfc. Lloyd L. Hoon came Friday from Camp Gordon Johnston, Fla., where he is in the infantry. He spent a few days with the Walter Hoon's, who took him to St. Paul Monday to visit another brother, Ray Hoon and family.

Sgt. Frank Cernik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cernik of Olean, is home on furlough for 14 days. He returns to Pine Camp N. Y., where he is in a tank battalion, responsible for keeping guns in perfect firing condition.

Cpl. LeRoy M. Keller, son of Mrs. Sophia Keller, returned to Camp Barkeley, Tex., Thursday morning after an eleven-day furlough. He was called home by the death of his father.

Miss Donnie Linkswiler of Burwell was a bus passenger for Omaha Friday morning to take her physical examinations for the WAVES.

Pvt. Warren Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Allen, went to Lincoln Thursday morning, where he is studying aircraft technical training at the airbase.

Bruce Sinkler has been in north Africa for a year, and is now in Italy. He saw service in six African battles, and says they have the Germans on the run. While being transferred to his present location, two ships hit floating mines. One sunk, but no lives were lost. His address is Hgt. 3 BN, 168th Inf., APO 34, Care of PM, N. Y. City.

John J. Wozab has been promoted to petty officer first class. This is his second promotion within two months, and he also had the distinction of having his name placed on the 97th N. C. organization chart, an honor only two yeomen received. Yeoman Wozab is now serving overseas. Mrs. Wozab writes from 5452 Cole St. Oakland, Calif.

Cpl. Harold L. Van Horn of North Loup enjoyed a brief furlough at home, leaving Friday for Pittsburg where he is attending Carnegie Institute of Technology in the army's specialized training program. He has just completed the second of three 12-week terms of basic engineering. He was formerly employed by United Air Lines in Cheyenne.

Cpl. Lillian Kusek, W. R. has been transferred from one North Carolina camp to another at Cherry Point. Her new address is now Barracks 220, MC-AS, she writes her mother, Mrs. Frank Hron.

Word reaches Ord that Capt. John Round has been advanced to the rank of major. As far as known he is stationed as before at Salina, Kas.

Dean Barta writes home from Ireland that he has been in the hospital with the flu.

T-5 Joe Ruziak and Mrs. Ruziak left Wednesday morning for Camp Polk, La. He had a nine-day furlough.

Jerry Vascek went to Omaha Tuesday for a medical examination. He has enlisted in the aviation branch of the service.

Don Peterson and Elton Walker, both HA 2-c in the navy, are on hospital duty at Mare Island, though in different wards. Last week they spent a two-day liberty with Jerry Fryzek who is attending Stanford University at Palo Alto, Calif. They report a grand time together and plan to do it again.

George Kruml is in Veterans' Hospital at Hines, Ill., as he recently had an honorable medical discharge from the army.

Pfc. Milton Purcell went through Ord Wednesday evening, enroute to Burwell. He is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and has a 10-day furlough.

Fair Association May Decide to Sell Property and Quit

Only 9 stockholders present Monday at Annual Meeting, Postponement Necessary.

Only nine stockholders, too few to constitute a quorum, showed up Monday for the annual meeting of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, which in pre-war years sponsored a fair and racing program each autumn in Ord.

The officers, President R. Clare Clement and Secretary C. C. Dale, were present, along with a few of the directors, but only a hand-full of stockholders showed enough interest in fair association matters to attend the called meeting.

In the absence of a quorum an informal discussion of the future of the Valley county fair was held. It was decided to postpone the annual meeting til a later date and then call the stockholders together for the express purpose of deciding whether or not the association should sell its property in Ord and disband.

Considerably in debt when the last fair was held in 1940, the association has paid up all delinquent premiums and most of the outstanding indebtedness with exception of a mortgage on the fair grounds.

With used lumber much in demand now and real estate increasing in value it is felt that the property might be sold to advantage, if the stockholders favor such a course. Successful fairs cannot be held unless stockholders and the general public show more interest than attendance at the annual meeting Monday indicated.

Men Accepted for Military Service

Of the selectees leaving Ord a few days ago, word has arrived that Darwin Sheldon was accepted for army service. A North Loup boy, he has lived in Milwaukee and registered there. Raymond Lonowski of Arcadia volunteered for the army and has been accepted.

Frank Clark was given a 30-day deferment because of the ill health of his mother, and did not report for examination at this time.

William Horner, 82, Passes Quietly in Ord Home Sunday

Respected Ordite, Father of 12, Laid to Rest Tuesday in Ord Cemetery.

William Horner 82, one of Ord's most respected and liked residents, passed away quietly at his home in this city Sunday, after an extended illness. The funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon in the Pearson chapel with Rev. M. F. Longenecker in charge, assisted by Miss Mamie Young, a former Ord pastor, and burial was in the Ord cemetery.

Mr. Horner was born Febr. 27, 1861, in Maryville, Pa., the son of William and Mary Horner, but during the Civil war he made his home in West Virginia with his mother, baby brother and grandmother. At the close of the war, when the Horner family was reunited, they went to Illinois living there a number of years and then to Inland, Nebr. The year following the family moved to Clay Center and Mr. Horner began farming for himself.

There also he met Miss Amelia Turner, who became his bride on March 2, 1887 and to them twelve children were born, all of whom survive. They are: Clarence M., San Diego, Calif.; Della Weber, Ogden, U.; Lida Mitchell, Burwell; Roy W., Ogden, U.; Viola Haas, Ogden, U.; Spencer S., Burwell; Susie Engler, Ogden, U.; Dora Eglehoff, Clarinda, Ia.; Laura Christensen, North Loup; Alice Manchester, Ogden, U.; Earnest R., Ord; Donald D., Red Oak, Ia.

Also left to mourn are his wife, 24 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren; one brother, Taylor Horner, Joplin, Mo.; one sister, Mrs. Mary Mills, Chicago; two half brothers, Charley of Burwell, and George, of Columbus; and one half sister, Mrs. Maude Lotz, St. Louis, Mo.

Soon after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Horner united with the Christian church at Clay Center but after taking up residence in the Davis Creek community they placed their memberships with the United Brethren church, of which Mr. Horner remained a member until his death. When the Horners were married they established a family altar, which probably accounts for their domestic felicity and in large degree for the honor bestowed upon them by the children.

In charge of the music at Mr. Horner's funeral was Miss Ella Bond who was accompanied in the singing of hymns by Mrs. Will Wiberg. Mrs. Mark Tolen sang a solo in closing. Pall bearers were Ernest Horner, Donald Horner, Spencer Horner, Glenn Eglehoff, Carl Weber, and Alfred Christensen, all sons or sons-in-law of the deceased.

The Catholic church supper bazaar, bingo game and dance was a great success Saturday evening, as it is every fall. The ladies served a delicious supper to 581 people, and in the drawing which followed Dr. F. A. Barta won the first prize, a $50 war bond.

Second prize, a $25 bond, was won by Mrs. Alice Melia. Third prize was a $15 chair, won by Glen Johnson. Fourth prize was $5 cash, won by Sgt. —The junior class have begun practice on their play, which will be presented during the first week in December. It is called "Brother Goose."

Blizzard Heroine Dies in Chicago

To mention the death of Mrs. Edgar B. Penney Monday of last week would not mean much to most residents of this part of Nebraska. But to say that Minnie Hickey Freeman, Middlevale school teacher who saved the lives of 17 pupils in the big blizzard of Jan. 12, 1888 by forming a human chain and leading them to safety—to say that she is dead warmly recalls her to Valley county memories, even yet.

Mrs. Penney was a heroine whose name became famous throughout the country after her bravery and resourcefulness were made known. The terrific storm came upon her abruptly just as school was closing and many lives were lost in it.

Although the Penney home had been in Chicago for 20 years past, Mr. and Mrs. Penney retained their legal residence in Fullerton. He is president of a chemical company, and survives her. So do two sons, Freeman S. of Wilmette, Ill., and Fred D. of Libertyville, Ill.

Mrs. Penney was 75 at the time she died. Funeral rites were held Wednesday. She was also the first woman to be a member of the republican national committee, and for many years took an active place in politics and society in Nebraska.

Barker Teacher Severely Burned

Miss Esther Anderson, teacher in the Barker school, suffered painful and serious burns Tuesday evening when she attempted to burn trash in the basement stove at the school house, first pouring kerosene on it to make it burn. An explosion followed, igniting Miss Anderson's blouse and burning her neck and arms severely.

She rolled her body around on the basement floor to extinguish the flames and then went to the upper floor and telephoned for help. Miss Anderson stays at the Fritz Pape home and was taken there, where Dr. Hemphill gave first aid and then took her to the Clinic hospital.

Miss Anderson's burns are very serious, says Dr. Hemphill, but he is hopeful they are only first and second degree burns. All the skin was burned from the lower part of her arms. She was suffering greatly from shock immediately after the accident but the hospital reported Wednesday morning that she spent a restful night under the influence of opiates and that her condition is satisfactory.

Her home is at Upland, Nebr. She has a sister who teaches in District 24 south of North Loup.

Burlington Turns 1,735,000 lbs. Scrap to County's Credit

800 Ton Quota Is Exceeded Thru One Sale; Armistice Day Scrap Hunt Urged.

The Burlington railroad put Valley county over the top in the scrap iron drive, turning over enough scrap iron to meet the goal set, or more than 800 tons, reported Clare Clement Tuesday.

The scrap consisted of old rails removed from the Ord-Burwell branch line and replaced with heavier rails during the past few months.

But Valley county officials of the drive do not want to quit until every available odd bit of metal is in the scrap piles, so individuals are asked to go ahead with their scrap hunts.

It is particularly fitting to celebrate Armistice day by conducting a scrap hunt on your place, the scrap drive committee feels. On the day when peace was once celebrated, do all you can to hurry the return of peace and help our service men to win the war. Scrap is badly needed, hunt out every bit you have.

Boy Scouts have been enlisted to search, and the four troops have divided Ord into quarters, reports Scoutmaster H. E. McClure. Each troop will canvass homes in one quarter, knocking on your door Thursday to ask for your donations. The Scouts want old nails, old aluminum, lead, copper, brass, all kinds of iron, and urge you to hunt it out and get it ready. They will haul it in small wagons, or if necessary enlist the help of a truck to move your old iron away.

No tin cans and no paper is asked for in this drive, although it will be solicited before long. But no matter how small your contribution, the Scouts want you to give it. They are contesting among themselves to see which of the four patrols will get the most pounds.

Rural schools have mostly done very well in the hunt for scrap. A few schools have passed the quota asked of them, and many have reached their quota. Persons knowing the location of scrap or having any of their own are urged to see that it is turned in, whether the school has filled its quota and quit working or not.

Mr. Rasmussen will have a car on the Burlington tracks in Ord Nov. 11, 12 and 13 to load the scrap in Ord. In Arcadia Mr. Starkey will buy iron, and Sell Brothers, and Williams and Vallette will buy it until he comes. In North Loup the Johnson Mill and Elevator are buying at all times, so turn in your collection to one of these buyers.

Remember, it is your duty. Perhaps your boy will need those extra bullets that scrap makes.

Open House Thursday at the Q. O. Ordnance

Thousands of persons are expected to attend the open house Sunday, Nov. 14, marking the first anniversary of the start of production at the Cornhusker Ordnance Plant, operated by the Q. O. Ordnance Corporation, at Grand Island. On November 11, 1942, the first bomb was completed on the COP load lines.

The public is invited to the celebration and the plant will be open all day to receive visitors. Registration will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and will close at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Visitors, urged to come early during the day so that all may be accommodated, will be taken on an escorted bus tour of the area. They will be conducted through a portion of a bomb loading line where operations will be explained and demonstrated. In addition to the bomb loading demonstration, visitors will be shown other activities in the area and exhibits depicting various phases of plant operation are being arranged.

The cafeteria on the area will be open during the anniversary celebration so that visitors may obtain meals if they desire. Special arrangements have been made to care for visitors' cars and a large parking space is provided across the road from the main entrance to the Administration Building where the visitors will enter. All roads leading to the plant will be marked giving directions to the visitors' parking lot.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen were in Grand Island Monday to attend a meeting of the 8 & 40, fun group of the American Legion.

—Charles D. Cornell and Mrs. Mary Stover left last week on Wednesday for their homes in Lincoln.

Scout Honor Court Comes Friday Eve

A court of honor will be held Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock for Ord Boy Scouts and their parents. At that time a number of boys will be given new honors, one youth having earned an Eagle Scout ranking and one a Life Scout membership.

Parents of Boy Scouts are particularly urged to be present for the impressive ceremonies. F. C. Chase will come from Lincoln to be the principal speaker and give the awards. The meeting will be held at the firemen's lodge rooms on the top floor of the city hall. Mrs. Clara Kin-kade will play musical selections.

Preceding the court of honor, Scoutmaster Elliot McClure will entertain at a buffalo dinner at his home for visiting troop commanders from Burwell, Taylor and Scotia.

UWF $4.050 Quota Met — Vogeltanz

The United War Fund drive has achieved the county's goal of $4,050, states the chairman, E. L. Vogeltanz of Ord. He is delighted with the response Valley county people made to this worthy appeal, and wishes to thank all who helped.

At North Loup, Fortnightly club mothers of service men were the committee in charge, raising $369.25. As their quota was only $327, this was going over the top in noble fashion.

From Arcadia Chairman Harold Weddel sends words that the quota of $376 for that community has been met, so there is no doubt that Valley county has raised its allotted quota as a whole.

Next week a list of school districts together with the amounts of money raised and the teachers in charge will be available to the public, says Mr. Vogeltanz.

Ord School Stamp Sales Total $1,530.10

High school students are buying some war stamps and bonds, but the contest is not heated.

Since school began the several grades have purchased these totals: 12th grade, $234; 11th grade, $131.50; 10th grade $449.50; ninth grade, $224.90; eighth grade, $118.80; and seventh grade, $22.

At the grade school the little kindergartens tots have bought a total of $34.85 worth of stamps and bonds. The first grade total is $35.65. The second grade total is $147.85 and the third grade total $67.55. Fourth grade youngsters bought $71.75, and fifth grade students $40.85. Sixth grade students total equals $49.90, bought in the six weeks they have been selling them at the grade building. The grand total of sales to the younger children is $460.40.

The high school total sales figure is $1,170.70, and added to the grade school's $460.40, this gives a grand total of $1,530.10, the war stamp savings in Ord schools this year.

Funeral Saturday of Mrs. Jacob Wells

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Lutheran church in Scotia for Mrs. Jacob C. Wells, 59, who died Nov. 3 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Brethauer, near North Loup. The Pearson Mortuary was in charge of arrangements and Rev. Wagner conducted the service.

Mrs. Wells was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Karre and was born Sept. 12, 1884, near York, Nebr. Her marriage to Jacob Wells took place Oct. 28, 1905 and four children were born to them, Mrs. Mildred Brethauer, North Loup, Mrs. Fern Kline, Beatrice, Lester and Leonard Wells, who reside at home. Her husband preceded her in death Feb. 22, 1942.

Temperature Drops in Week-End Storm

Only a trace of moisture fell here Saturday and Sunday in the storm which blocked roads in eastern Nebraska, but temperature dropped to a low of 17 and a bitter north wind blew for 48 hours, intensifying the effect of the autumn's first cold spell.

The storm began Saturday with light rain-fall which changed to driving snow that evening and continued throughout Sunday and part of Monday. In the Dakotas, Minnesota and eastern Nebraska 4 to 8 inches of snow was reported but Ord was on the western edge of the storm, apparently, and western Nebraska scarcely felt it at all.

Coldest temperature at the height of the storm Sunday was 19, reports Horace Travis, but early Monday morning another 2 degree drop was registered.

—Miss Evelyn Paddock and her mother Mrs. Walter Paddock left Wednesday morning for Oakland, Calif.

Three Federal Agencies Send Representatives Here, More Men, Machinery, Needed.

Clare Clement presided Saturday morning at the county court room when a joint meeting of Triple A, Soil Conservation and North and Middle Loup Irrigation district officials met to plan to level more ground for irrigation purposes. The object is to get the maximum amount of acreage into irrigated production for next season's crops. About 40 attended.

William Chandler and Mr. Cox of Washington, D. C., Ernest Luther of Lincoln came to represent Triple A officials at the session. Mr. Jones of Washington, D. C., Mr. Francis of Lincoln and regional representatives Jones and Alfred of Lincoln attended on behalf of the soil conservation program. Mr. Jorder, of Washington, D. C., of the war food administration conservation program was also present to say a few words.

M. S. Dodd acted as spokesman for the irrigators, calling on A. B. Outhouse, Archie Geweke, Art Easterbrook, Charles Neubecker and J. W. Penas to speak. Evan Hartman and Clayton Noll volunteered remarks.

Chief troubles seemed to be lack of workmen and machinery. The Washington men present were impressed with the report and asserted they would help all they could to get more men and machines to help with the ground leveling program as speedily as possible.

Chanticleers to Play Sargent on Ord Field; Thrilling 2nd Team Game Played.

"A cracking good football game" is the report of the people lucky enough to witness the Ord second team battle Burwell's second team to a 13 to 0 score Friday afternoon on the local field. Close scored, hard-fought, conscientiously played, it turned out to be one of the best football exhibits of the current crop.

Eldon Keller scored a second-quarter touchdown to provide points and excitement. Lyle Manchester managed another in the last quarter. Tommy Tolen did outstanding quarterbacking, and some fine playing as well, making some nice tackles.

Ord was the first-down maker of the day, arranging a goodly number. Probably the big crisis of the contest was the way Burwell threatened to score in the second quarter, but was held for downs on the four-yard line.

Friday of this week the Chanticleers and Sargent will play on the home field, with the championship of the 3-Valleys conference at stake. Comparative scores of the two teams for the season now mostly past indicate tough going for the Ord boys Friday. But loyal fans, happy over the brand of football Tolly's men have shown this season, hope to have once more that old happy feeling as Ord wins the game.

One gap in the Ord wall is the injury Loyal Huribert suffered when his foot was hit on the instep. It is bothering him yet. A first class footballer, his loss is noticed.

Ord Lady's Sister Dies at Minot, N. D.

Word reaches Ord of the death of Mrs. John Mickelson, 72, who has lived at Minot, N. D. for the past 30 years. She was Barbara Lukes before her marriage, a sister of Mrs. Albert Lukesh of Ord. She had been hospitalized since Oct. 4.

Surviving are the husband, four children, Albert Foster of Tracy, Minn., Mrs. Sam Franklin and Joseph Mickelson of Vancouver, Wash., and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Alma Dencker. Also four sisters and a brother, Mrs. James Swetska of Reeder, N. D., and Mrs. Joe Ludwig and John Lukes of Tacoma, Wash., also 18 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

$400 Raised at M. E. Lord's Acre Supper

North Loup—(Special)—The Methodist church held its annual "Lord's Acre supper" here Tuesday evening and contributions totalling $400.00 were reported by those taking part in the plan. A few more reports are still to come in.

Sheriff Mediates Traffic Accident, Own Car Hit Next

Two traffic accidents occurred in Ord during the storm Saturday evening. The first happened on L street between 17th and 18th streets when cars driven by Ed Jablonski, who was traveling west out of town, and Steve Jablonski, who was entering town, collided. Both cars were quite badly damaged.

Sheriff Bob Hall was called to inspect the cars and authorize their removal and drove to the Chevrolet garage in that connection, returning to the square a few moments later. As he stopped at a stop sign a car owned by John Ragland crashed into his car, damaging it considerably.

Fair Association May Decide to Sell Property and Quit

Only 9 Stockholders Present Monday at Annual Meeting, Postponement Necessary.

Only nine stockholders, too few to constitute a quorum, showed up Monday for the annual meeting of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, which in pre-war years sponsored a fair and racing program each autumn in Ord.

The officers, President R. Clare Clement and Secretary C. C. Dale, were present, along with a few of the directors, but only a hand-full of stockholders showed enough interest in fair association matters to attend the called meeting.

In the absence of a quorum an informal discussion of the future of the Valley county fair was held. It was decided to postpone the annual meeting till a later date and then call the stockholders together for the express purpose of deciding whether or not the association should sell its property in Ord and disband.

Considerably in debt when the last fair was held in 1940, the association has paid up all delinquent premiums and most of the outstanding indebtedness with exception of a mortgage on the fair grounds.

With used lumber much in demand now and real estate increasing in value it is felt that the property might be sold to advantage, if the stockholders favor such a course. Successful fairs cannot be held unless stockholders and the general public show more interest than attendance at the annual meeting Monday indicated.

Men Accepted for Military Service

Of the selectees leaving Ord a few days ago, word has arrived that Darwin Sheldon was accepted for army service. A North Loup boy, he has lived in Milwaukee and registered there. Raymond Lonowski of Arcadia volunteered for the army and has been accepted.

Frank Clark was given a 30-day deferment because of the ill health of his mother, and did not report for examination at this time.

Unofficial reports say that of the Ord group Otto Turek was accepted for the navy and Walter Douthit for the army. The Ord selective service office has not received an official report on the group as yet.

—Fred Sidles of Lincoln came up to hunt with Roy Randolph at the week-end.

Respected Ordite, Father of 12, Laid to Rest Tuesday in Ord Cemetery.

William Horner 82, one of Ord's most respected and liked residents, passed away quietly at his home in this city Sunday, after an extended illness. The funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon in the Pearson chapel with Rev. M. F. Longenecker in charge, assisted by Miss Mable Young, a former Ord pastor, and burial was in the Ord cemetery.

Mr. Horner was born Febr. 27, 1861, in Maryville, Pa., the son of William and Mary Horner, but during the Civil war he made his home in West Virginia with his mother, baby brother and grandmother. At the close of the war, when the Horner family was reunited, they went to Illinois living there a number of years and then to Inland, Nebr. Obituary—Mrs. Work.

Funeral services for Mrs. Melva True Work were held Saturday afternoon from the Franzler funeral parlors, with Rev. Hansberry in charge. Mrs. Fred Bartz and Mrs. Harold Hoepfner supplied the singing. Pallbearers were George and Otto Bartz, I. L. Sheldon, C. W. Barber, J. H. Eversly, and Frank Johnson. Mrs. Work's daughter, Mrs. Mina Tagge of Grant, Neb., and Mrs. Katherine Stroud of North Platte, accompanied her body here, arriving Friday morning and returned on the Saturday afternoon bus.

Melva True was the only living child of Rev. and Mrs. Melvin B. True and was born in Berlin, Wis., Dec. 9, 1858. They were living at Westfield when her mother died and her father decided to join the growing colony at North Loup. They reached here by covered wagon on April 30, 1874, and Rev. True immediately took a homestead in Mira Valley, the place now owned by Harry Myers. She soon began teaching school, first in the Mansell Davis district, then at Calamus, Elyria, Barker and one year in the old log school at North Loup.

In 1877 she was married to George W. Work and they took a homestead just north of what was called the Hamilton Ranch, in Mira Valley. Here she taught two more terms of school. After living in town, in Arkansas, Colorado, and Albion, Neb., they returned about twenty-five years ago to North Loup, where Mr. Work died Dec. 17, 1931.

Some years before, Mrs. Work had fallen and broken a hip, and was ever after a cripple, though courageous and uncomplaining. After the death of her husband, she lived for a time with her daughter, Mrs. Fagge of Grant, then she returned to North Loup where she lived with different friends, but when eyesight, hearing and health all failed, she went back to her daughter, but after a time was taken to Mrs. Katherine Stroud's home for old people, in February, 1941. Here she slept peacefully away, Nov. 2, 1943.

Mrs. Work had joined the Seventh Day Baptist church in girlhood. At Albion she united with the Congregational church and back at North Loup with the Methodist. Wherever she lived she was an active church worker, especially among children.

She was the mother of three children, a baby girl who died at birth, a son Jesse, who died at 8 years of age, and a daughter, Mrs. Claus Fagge, of Grant, Nebr., the only surviving relative.

Mrs. Work had an unusually bright mind and a natural teaching ability. She was a valued member of the No Lo club, always willing to do favors for others and appreciative of favors done for her. The following tributes have been paid her: Mrs. Stroud, "A sweet old grandma—so appreciative of all I did for her." Her daughter, Mina, "A wonderful mother—gone to a rest she had wanted so long."

—J. T. B.

Sterling has three brothers, Robert, Reeve and Kent, beside his father, I. A. Manchester in California and Mrs. Manchester's sister, Mrs. Edmund Gies lives at El Centro. While they are away, their youngest son, Gerald, will stay through the week with his grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Jackman, and spend the week-ends at the farm home of his sister, Mrs. Dale Mulligan. He will also take a vacation from his duties as carrier for the Omaha World Herald while they are gone, Myles Nelson taking his place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elley attended the football game in Scotia Friday and after the game were guests in the home of Mrs. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Selk.

Dr. Hunter, district superintendent for the Methodist churches, was a Saturday night guest of Rev. and Mrs. Hansberry. He returned Tuesday evening for the church supper held in the Methodist church and on Wednesday morning spoke at the high school.

N. L. School Notes.

The football game scheduled for Friday night with St. Edward had to be postponed because of illness of two players. Durwood DeNoyer is quite ill with rheumatic fever and Benny Sintex had the flu.

This is National Education week and some special program or speaker is being given each day Monday Mrs. Switzer gave an excellent review before the high school of Mother Russia. Tuesday the home ec class gave a short play. Wednesday Dr. Hunter spoke, Thursday a special armistice day program has been arranged for and Friday the grade children will give a program. Patrons are urged to visit school this week.

Work on the grade school operetta, Christmas and the four freedoms, has begun. Mr. Hinshaw will direct this and it will be presented in December.

First and second grade students are taking up a health study and Monday made life size milk bottles, with the label, Drink Milk.

North Loup Church Notes.

Methodist: Next Sunday is the last opportunity to help in filling a stamp album. If you have not had the chance to help you may bring your stamps or money in an extra envelope and put in the collection Sunday morning. These albums help in serving a double purpose. The stamps help in serving your country and also in liquidating the indebtedness on the Methodist institutions.

The hour for the Sunday evening service has been changed to 7:30. There will be no evening service in Scotia for the winter.

Seventh Day Baptist: The special ordination services held Sabbath Day were well attended and very enjoyable. The ordination service sermon was given by Rev. L. O. Greene at the hour of the regular morning service. Special music added much to the services. Following the sermon, Sabbath school was held and then a dinner served in the basement. Mrs. J. A. Barber was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by a number of other ladies. All had contributed toward the dinner and an abundance of food was on hand. In the afternoon, the ordination service proper was held and three deacons, Aubrey Davis, Vernon Williams and George Clement were ordained. This gives the church two senior deacons, H. H. Thorngate and J. L. Cruzan, two middle aged deacons, R. O. Babcock and A. M. Stillman, and four younger deacons, Cecil Severance making the fourth. Because of the illness of Mrs. George Clement, he was not able to be present but was included in the service.

In the evening a good sized crowd gathered to hear Rev. Earl Cruzan, a former North Loup boy, and now pastor of the Boulder, Colo., church, deliver an excellent sermon.

Deacon Orsen Davis, formerly of North Loup and now of Denver, was present and assisted in the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm Cook and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elley attended the football game in Scotia Friday and after the game were guests in the home of Mrs. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Selk.

Dr. Hunter, district superintendent for the Methodist churches, was a Saturday night guest of Rev. and Mrs. Hansberry. He returned Tuesday evening for the church supper held in the Methodist church and on Wednesday morning spoke at the high school.

Mrs. Wm. Plate received word Monday that her granddaughter, Mary Marie Plate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Plate, of Corning, Ia., had gone to her home to be married. She had been working in Council Bluffs.

Miss Mary McCauley and Miss Edith Stephen attended the Catholic ladies supper.

Mrs. Donald Naeve came down from Ord Thursday and spent the night with her sister, Miss Beulah Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post accompanied the Wm. Waddingtons to their home in Cairo Wednesday evening for an indefinite stay.

H. L. Gillespie entertained at a stag party honoring Merrill Anderson Friday night. A number of the ladies were guests of Mrs. A. L. Willoughby the same evening.

Mrs. Stella Kerr and family were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Rowe.

N. L. School Notes.

The football game scheduled for Friday night with St. Edward had to be postponed because of illness of two players. Durwood DeNoyer is quite ill with rheumatic fever and Benny Sintex had the flu.

This is National Education week and some special program or speaker is being given each day. Monday Mrs. Switzer gave an excellent review before the high school of Mother Russia. Tuesday the home ec class gave a short play. Wednesday Dr. Hunter spoke, Thursday a special armistice day program has been arranged for and Friday the grade children will give a program. Patrons are urged to visit school this week.

Work on the grade school operetta, Christmas and the four freedoms, has begun. Mr. Hinshaw will direct this and it will be presented in December. First and second grade students are taking up a health study and Monday made life size milk bottles, with the label, Drink Milk.

Last week the sophomores started their winter dresses. Most of the girls have them cut out and ready to baste. Half of the class is making jumpers. Colors range from bright red to dark green.

In physiology they discussed and reviewed the nervous system. On Friday they took a test over the week's work and the grades were very high. This week we plan to review some First Aid practices and begin studying the circulatory system.

The ninth grade Home Ec girls are choosing materials and patterns for their aprons. So far many of the girls have chosen the same pattern and many have material alike.

The date for the senior class play, Gone With the Girls, is December 9. The cast has been chosen and practice will begin this week. Mrs. Hayden will direct the play.

The dramatic club met and organized Monday night. The declamatory contest will be given February 2, with twelve or fifteen students taking part. Mrs. Hayden is dramatic coach.

The first issue of the Crystal, high school paper was put out Friday, with Marjory Hamer as editor, Donna Portis co-editor, and an able staff, with Miss Stephen as sponsor. The cover has clever pictures of the three jeeps bought with the bonds sold by the student body and is the work of Donna Manchester. A goodly number of advertisements show the business houses are back of the Crystal.

Mrs. Wm. Plate received word Monday that her granddaughter, Mary Marie Plate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Plate, of Corning, Ia., had gone to her home to be married. She had been working in Council Bluffs.

Miss Mary McCauley and Miss Edith Stephen attended the Catholic ladies supper.

North Loup Church Notes.

Methodist: Next Sunday is the last opportunity to help in filling a stamp album. If you have not had the chance to help you may bring your stamps or money in an extra envelope and put in the collection Sunday morning. These albums help in serving a double purpose. The stamps help in liquidating the indebtedness on the Methodist institutions.

The hour for the Sunday evening service has been changed to 7.30. There will be no evening service in Scotia for the winter.

Seventh Day Baptist: The special ordination services held Sabbath Day were well attended and very enjoyable. The ordination service sermon was given by Rev. L. O. Greene at the hour of the regular morning service. Special music added much to the services. Following the sermon, Sabbath school was held and then a dinner served in the basement. Mrs. J. A. Barber was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by a number of other ladies. All had contributed toward the dinner and an abundance of food was on hand. In the afternoon, the ordination service proper was held and three deacons, Aubrey Davis, Vernon Williams and George Clement were ordained. This gives the church two senior deacons, H. H. Thorgate and J. L. Cruzan, two middle aged deacons, R. O. Babcock and A. M. Stillman and four younger deacons, Cecil Severance making the fourth. Because of the illness of Mrs. George Clement, he was not able to be present but was included in the service.

In the evening a good sized crowd gathered to hear Rev. Earl Cruzan, a former North Loup boy, and now pastor of the Boulder, Colo., church, deliver an excellent sermon.

Deacon Orsen Davis, formerly of North Loup and now of Denver, was present and assisted in the services.

—Miss Thelma Bell left Monday for Ogden, U., to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bell, who moved there a few months ago. Miss Irene Kovarik will work in the office of County Superintendent Clara McClatchey, replacing Miss Bell.

—Kent Ferris was on vacation from the Quiz office last week. Friday he drove to Grand Island with Mrs. Ferris and their small children, taking his brother Calvin and Calvin's "girl" to catch a train for the east. Pvt. Calvin Ferris goes to Fort George Meade, Md., and Miss Karreman to Newton, Ia.

—Charley Roberts arrived in Ord Saturday morning from Lincoln to visit his old friends the Charlie Burdicks. He met with an accident two weeks ago in the course of his duties as building engineer at the Northeast High school there. The gas furnace backfired on him, blowing the doors off the furnace. His right hand was burned quite badly. He has had this job 17 years. Mrs. Roberts is now in Portland visiting Lucile (Ruhl) Alvord.

Further examples of this practical trend in modern home courses is the appearance of the rooms themselves, which the girls have helped to reorganize and redecorate. Learning by doing, they have hung new draperies in several rooms, neatly French-pleating the tops. They have slipcovered a modern leather divan with muslin, then with regular slipcover material in a charming pattern. One straight chair was attractively slipcovered this past fall, and one last year.

In one long, narrow little room which was a true problem-room for any decorator, the girls have painted the walls and also a dado about the lower walls. They have refinished some furniture. And they covered a pair of screens with odd bits of wallpaper. They sewed covers for the tops of the several sewing machines.

This isn't all they have learned about homemaking this year. In the laboratory, or big work kitchen, a menu for the day is decided upon and written on the board. Classes are divided into family units of four, each of whom is responsible for a definite portion of the work. Father provides interesting conversational topics, says grace, does the marketing, helps make plans. Mother checks the recipes and the work as it is being done, helping when necessary, and she sees to arranging the centerpiece.

Big sister is in charge of the cooking, and little sister helps cook and waits table. Real, everyday experience in planning, working and homemaking. Exactly the work most girls end up by performing for most of their lives: what more practical then, than to learn it at school?

And no one visiting Mrs. Clark classes could doubt her home economics girls are enjoying the learning process.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Nebraska's sandhills are often considered the finest cattle producing area in the world. A few of our high school boys come from the edge of these hills. After graduating they usually go back to become ranchers with cattle herds of their own.

One of these lads is Rollin Struckman, who helps his dad on their place in Garfield county when not attending Ord high school. Rollin also has a Hereford cow of his own.

When she produced a calf during late January of this year he let it run with her, as is the custom in range country. It browsed on roughage in the spring and ate green grass all summer. Last week the calf went to market, where it netted around seventy-five dollars.

Rollin estimates his profit on the animal at about fifty dollars. He wishes that he owned several hundred cows, as many sandhill ranchers do.

Feed costs in the sandhills area are not high. Pasture charges come to five dollars for the season on grown livestock. Prairie hay sells for three dollars per ton.

When figuring the profit from his calf, Rollin deducted feed costs for his cow too. She ate two tons of hay and a few bushels of corn in addition to pasture. She has also increased in value. The calf was raised on roughage alone, and at little labor cost. Rollin says that it takes about eight acres of land to carry a cow the year around in their neighborhood.

Home Ec Classes Study Physiology

Young women in Mrs. Iris Krebs Clark's room Thursday afternoon were learning about the endocrine glands, what they were and what they do for the body. They regulate the balance in the body in a variety of ways, revealed blackboard notes.

Items discussed included the pituitary gland—what is the effect of too much pituitin, of too little, where is it located in the body? Can the amount be governed?

And what about thyroid, these girls of the tenth grade were asked? Of what use is it to the body, and what if there is too much thyroid or too little? In children the individual who lacks a great deal of thyroid is called a cretin, they said, describing his characteristics. They also talked about basal metabolism and Mrs. Clark told them how the tests are made by measuring the quantity of pure oxygen the body uses while resting.

The adrenal gland, its effect on the heart, its secretion, and its location, the parathyroid glands and several others, were considered seriously.

The emotions were talked of, their causes and results. A brief review of them was followed by the announcement of a test for the next hour, and the girls gave loud groans. The test would include questions on the alimentary, skeletal and nervous systems also, and would finish the unit on "physiology", Mrs. Clark remarked.

In the home economics department work is coordinated into units of various kinds, and several of these units make up the work of one term. So after the physiology unit is completed work will begin on the art unit, and after that on a winter dress unit and then a Christmas unit. The girls get to help in deciding the particular phases of the work they will study. For instance the art work will likely have something to do with the winter dress they will make immediately following.

The sewing is fitted to the capabilities of the girls also. So in the ninth grade they will make a cotton garment—this year it will especially appeal to them, for they will make themselves a pinafore. And the pinafore will at once become a useable piece of each young dressmaker's wardrobe. In the tenth grade they learn to make a winter or schooltype dress. And in the eleventh grade they try something more elaborate, usually a party-type dress of rayon or similar material. Thus they have the advantage of learning to work on several types of garments, and on several kinds of material and patterns as well. The course is definitely practical.

UNCLE SAM tells us, "Food is the mightiest weapon of them all"—and that statement comes right home to every one of us. Truly, "Food Fights for Freedom" and it's our duty to conserve food, share fairly and plan meals intelligently to help shorten the war. These are some of the ways we can bring Victory closer:

- Waste no food—clean every plate—
- Substitute plentiful for scarce foods—
- Serve the foods that are right for strength and health—
- Accept rationing cheerfully—
- Pay stamps for all rationed merchandise—
- Pay no more than the top legal prices—
- And take it for granted that we'll have to make further adjustments as Victory comes nearer!

Of course, intelligent handling of food isn't the only thing we homemakers are asked to do, to help speed the Victory. For example, we can:

Release nurses for the care of war casualties, by being prepared to take care of the sick and aged ourselves—

Make a determined drive to prevent accidents at home and on the highways—

SAVE AND SALVAGE!
Save and salvage everything that is usable. And that includes taking care of clothing, handling all mechanical equipment gently, making thrift a genuine by-word! It includes going through attics and basements and closets—passing along all unwanted material to the people or agencies who can use them.

Build morale through old-fashioned neighborliness. Don't repeat gossip; talk constructively. Be confident!

In short, we must do everything we can to make the men and boys who are fighting for us feel that the folks at home are behind them!

Legion Meetings.

Legion and Auxiliary members held their regular meeting Tuesday evening. At the Auxiliary session it was decided to make 100 kits for service men, as suggested by the Red Cross, and also to meet regularly to sew carpet rags for rugs for the Soldiers' and Sailors home. Reports of the sixth district meeting at Loup City were heard. The Legion voted to sponsor an Armistice day dance, with music furnished by Gene Pieper and his orchestra from Albion.

Kerchal-Stichwek.

On Nov. 6 Frances Kerchal, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kerchal of Arcadia and Melvine Stichwek, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stichwek of Hastings were united in marriage at Hiawatha, Kans. The bride wore a street length soldier blue dress with black accessories. Upon their return to Omaha a surprise reception was held for them at the home of Mrs. Leo Bray, sister of the bride. Pink and white streamers hung from the lights to the table corners. Lighted candles revealed a three-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Bray and complete even to a tiny bride and groom on the top. Mr. and Mrs. Stichwek had formerly been employed in Hastings, but now plan to make their home at 4713 1-2 Cuming Street in Omaha. Valley county friends will wish the bride and her husband happiness.

How about your house? Joshua 24:15. "Choose you this day whom ye will serve; but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." I wonder how many other fathers could say the same thing as Joshua.

Joshua not only spoke for his house but also for himself. He would serve God too. Too many fathers today say, "As for my house they will serve the Lord."

They say the best way to train up a child in the way he should go is to go that way yourself.

Christ came to save the fathers as well as the wives and children.

Camp Fire Notes.

The Eluta Camp Fire girls met Thursday evening with Coralee Anderson. Nine members and their new guardian, Mrs. Dean Blessing, were present. They had a lively discussion of the birthday honor "Serve by Sharing" and plan to carry out requirements to earn the leather award. The previous week the girls met with Betty Lu Andersen and had election of officers for the new year. Betty Lu Andersen is president; Coralee Anderson is vice-president; LaVonne Warwick, secretary; Barbara Andersen, scribe; Vivian Zulkoski, song leader; Rosellen Voegtanz, pianist. The group started work on the cross-word puzzles for the United Seamen's service, of which they have a quota.

Soangetaha Camp Fire girls met with Shirley Martin Friday evening. Members gave suggestions for new programs to include both service and fun. Committees were appointed by the president, Mary Travis, to make further reports. Members reported on the finish of their Christmas card ordering. The preceding meeting had been with Joan Biemond when all the girls voted to continue their Camp Fire work for another year.

Aowakiya girls met Monday evening with Charlene Munn and worked on the United Seamen's Service recreation material. The Ord work will be ready to be sent to headquarters soon. The preceding week the girls met with Darlene Whiting, discussing reorganization for the new year and paying their dues. Mrs. A. J. Cochrane, their guardian, suggested some interesting service.

There are 13 active members in the Cheskamay group that met Thursday evening with Marilou Arnold to total their honors in their count books for Miss Iwanski's approval. They meet this week with Patricia Ball.

W. J. RAMSEY, Bus. Manager MRS. W. J. RAMSEY, Reporter

Two evenly matched teams went on the field Friday evening when Arcadia and Scotia clashed. The game was close and both teams were doing good running, blocking and tackling. Hanson was the outstanding player for Scotia and Gregory for Arcadia. During the first half there were several good passes and runs but neither team was in very good scoring position. At the start of the third quarter Scotia received and Hansen made a beautiful 70 yard run for a touchdown only to have the ball called back because of a penalty on Scotia. In the last of the third quarter Gregory of Arcadia broke loose for several long gains but no score was made. In the last quarter, with 42 seconds to go a pass by Scotia was intercepted by Bellinger who ran 65 yards for a touchdown. The point was not made so the score ended 0-0 in favor of Arcadia.

We are indebted to Kermit Erickson for the following bit of news. It is another case of a home town boy making good. It is about Kermit's brother, Raymond E. Erickson who graduated from the Arcadia high school several years ago and who later attended Kearney Normal school and afterward obtained his Masters at the University of Missouri at Columbia. He taught school at Edgar, Neb., Canon City, Colo., Des Moines, Ia., and Dallas, Tex. For the past year and a half he has been with North American Aviation, Inc., Dallas, Tex., as Supervisor of Education. Mr. Erickson has just recently published a book in collaboration with Mr. Ross A. Peterson, Director of Education, North American Aviation, Inc. The title of the book is Basic Aircraft Construction and was published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., N. Y.

By way of introducing the Authors the publisher has this to say: Peterson and Erickson, authors of Basic Aircraft Construction, are unusually well qualified by training and experience to write an authoritative, practical book for preparing the new aircraft worker for his job. As Director of Education and Supervisor of Education, respectively, of North American Aviation, Inc., Dallas, Texas, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Erickson have set up and maintained a training program through which thousands have passed and are now doing an excellent job of manufacturing trainers, fighters and bombers for the Allied Nations. How well they have done their jobs is reflected in the fact that their company has been awarded the Army-Navy "E" for Excellence.

Mrs. W. J. Ramsey was a guest of Mrs. Grace Sprague of Ord Sunday and Monday.

Frank Howell of Kearney was a guest at the Claris Bellinger home over the week-end and the men enjoyed some pheasant hunting.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, November 14.

The Golden Text is: "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Romans 8:13.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well—Come now, let us reason together, saith the Lord; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool" (Isaiah 1:16,17,18).

CIVILIAN AWARDS
Testimony to the effect that the stimulus of the Army-Navy "E" and the Maritime "M" production awards has been very great constantly is accumulating. Both management and labor on the home front have been helped to even greater efforts and devotion to the great task of unselfish devotion to the vital materials of war. Now both directors and workers in a category other than those previously recognized are to receive an achievement award for work well done. These are the seasonal processors of food. The fact that they are not year-round operators makes them ineligible for Army-Navy "E" recognition. But if, they are to receive the badge of honor they are to receive the award of the War Food Administration's "A" flag. Qualifications considered in selection for the award will include ingenuity in the development of war food products, low absenteeism, cooperation in the various food purchase programs, accident prevention and the like.
A number of vital factors on the home front still lack recognition in the form of public awards. The power and utility companies, the communications companies, and even the enormously busy railroads do not fall within the technical requirements for existing awards. There would seem to be little reason why the powerful incentive which existing awards for merit have supplied should not be extended to such fundamentally important elements as the electric light and power industry, which has shown an increase of 73 per cent in its kilowatt hour output since 1939; or the telephone industry, which last year handled 93 per cent more long-distance calls than in 1939; or the American railroads, which in 1942 increased the ton miles moved as compared with 1939 by 135 per cent and the passenger miles by 92 per cent in the same period. The service industries have done and are doing an outstanding war job. They, too, deserve an accolade.

Two evenly matched teams went on the field Friday evening when Arcadia and Scotia clashed. The game was close and both teams were doing good running, blocking and tackling. Hanson was the outstanding player for Scotia and Gregory for Arcadia. During the first half there were several good passes and runs but neither team was in very good scoring position. At the start of the third quarter Scotia received the touchdown. During the first half there were several good passes and runs but neither team was in very good scoring position. Mr. and Mrs. John Rowbal of Ord visited at the Chas. Hollingshead home Thursday.

Mrs. Chas. Hollingshead left for Grand Island Friday to visit her husband who is in the St. Francis hospital with a fractured heel caused from a fall off a scaffolding while painting on a housing project.

In a letter received from Clarence Greenland, who is in England, he says it takes some time to get used to finding ones way around in the dark, that it rains a lot and he hopes to see his brother Marvin soon. Marvin and Arnold Ritz, both Arcadia boys have met several times in London.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lewin and little son of Lincoln were in Arcadia on Tuesday. Martin works for the Burlington railroad out of Lincoln and says he likes his work fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Darr Evans and son Charles and Mrs. Don Round were Loup City visitors on Monday.

Mark Murray left for Camden, N. J., to see his brother Joe, who has been very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Cooley were in Ord Monday where Mrs. Cooley was having dental work done.

Mrs. Edward Harrison and children of Denver arrived this week to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Armstrong and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edore Johnson have bought property in the north east part of Loup City and plan to move there the first part of December. They sold their farm to Gilbert Nagorski, of Farwell who will move on the place.

Miss Patricia Holmes of San Francisco, Calif. arrived home Monday and will spend a two week vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Holmes. Patty is a drafting clerk in the engineer's department of the Bell Telephone in San Francisco.

Staff Sgt. Delavan Kingston and a friend, Pvt. Paul Metzger arrived Sunday from the Army Air Field at Sedalia, Mo., for a few days visit with Sgt. Kingston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kingston.

Mrs. Ray Pester and Mrs. Fred Stone entertained Mrs. H. D. Weddel, Mrs. Nell Taylor, Mrs. F. H. Christ, Mrs. Win McMichael and Mrs. Paul Pester at a nine o'clock breakfast Monday at the Ray Pester home.

Kernit Erickson and Ray Lanowski left Friday with a contingent of Valley county men to take their physical examinations in Omaha. Raymond passed and is home on leave but Kernit was rejected.

Word was received here last week that Claude Williams who has been working for the U. P. railroad out of Cheyenne, Wyo., was seriously injured. Claude is a brakeman and they were switching in the yards and apparently a switch was left open. He was riding on the engine and was caught between the engine and the tender as the engine took one track and the tender veered off on another. One leg was broken in two places and he received body injuries.

Oren Lutz was a bus passenger for Grand Island Saturday. The American Legion Auxiliary met on Tuesday Nov. 2, in the Methodist church basement. A large number of ladies attended and helped the Auxiliary sew carpet rags which will be sent to the soldiers and sailors home in Grand Island. It is estimated that about 100 pounds of rags are ready to be sent and there are more to be sewed. $2.25 was sent to the Canteen at North Platte to be used for birthday cakes. After the business meeting a short program was given, in which a group of children from Miss Minnie's room took part and Miss Beth Finey rendered a piano solo. Miss Margaret Siekman sang a solo and led the group in singing "God Bless America". A lovely lunch was served by the Auxiliary at the close of the afternoon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carrie Weddel.

Mrs. Jim Atkeson was a Loup City visitor between buses Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Marvel left Wednesday for Cuba City, Wis., where Mr. Marvel will look after his farms. They expect to be gone two weeks. They were accompanied as far as Omaha by Mrs. Ray Waterbury who returned on the bus Friday evening.

Mrs. Louise Jefferys went to Hastings Wednesday to help her little granddaughter Lovey Ann, celebrate her first birthday. She returned Thursday evening on the bus.

Mrs. Carl Easterbrook spent the week-end in Hastings visiting relatives.

Dick Woods went to Grand Island Saturday. His wife was able to leave the hospital Saturday but will remain in Grand Island a week before returning home.

Mrs. George Olsen of Loup City visited Wednesday and Thursday at the A. H. Hastings home.

We are indebted to Kernit Erickson for the following bit of news. It is another case of a home town boy making good. It is about Kernit's brother, Raymond E. Erickson who graduated from the Arcadia high school several years ago and who later attended Kearney Normal school and afterward obtained his Masters at the University of Missouri at Columbia. He taught school at Edgar, Neb., Canon City, Colo., Des Moines, Ia., and Dallas, Tex. For the past year and a half he has been with North American Aviation, Inc., Dallas, Tex., as Supervisor of Education. Mr. Erickson has just recently published a book in collaboration with Mr. Ross A. Peterson, Director of Education, North American Aviation, Inc. The title of the book is Basic Aircraft Construction and was published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., N. Y.

By way of introducing the

Authors the publisher has this to say: Peterson and Erickson, authors of Basic Aircraft Construction, are unusually well qualified by training and experience to write an authoritative, practical book for preparing the new aircraft worker for his job. As Director of Education and Supervisor of Education, respectively, of North American Aviation, Inc., Dallas, Texas, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Erickson have set up and maintained a training program through which thousands have passed and are now doing an excellent job of manufacturing trainers, fighters and bombers for the Allied Nations. How well they have done their jobs is reflected in the fact that their company has been awarded the Army-Navy "E" for Excellence.

Mrs. W. J. Ramsey was a guest of Mrs. Grace Sprague of Ord Sunday and Monday.

Frank Howell of Kearney was a guest at the Claris Bellinger home over the week-end and the men enjoyed some pheasant hunting.

Something Different

There's some fine hunting or perhaps it should be called huntsmanship, going on in this vicinity, if the hunters themselves can be believed.

For example Mrs. W. C. Pickett defies anyone to better their record of ten birds for ten shells. She and her husband had only 10 shells, 410 gauge. They went pheasant hunting one day last week taking six of their precious shells, and returned home with six pheasants. And next day they went hunting with the other four lonesome shells, and again they came home with one shell per bird—no, I mean one bird per shell. And who can do better than 100 per cent? "And", finishes Mrs. Pickett, "I shot nine of those birds!"

But there are some of these hunters who claim to have snagged two birds with one shell, mysteriously. Hl Anderson is one of these hunters, he shot twice and brought home three pheasants, no mean stunt.

Olof Olsson blasted away at a weed the other day calmly marched over and picked up a pheasant. No one else in his party had seen the bird stick its head around a leaf and peep out, so they accused Olof, the great practical joker, of planting the bird. Every man in the party had to feel that bird, to see if it was really warm, freshly killed.

Mrs. Ign. Klima, as she does every fall, is keeping her neighbors in pheasants. A crack shot, she loves to hunt and ventures out into regular hunting (bad) weather.

(You know, the badder the weather the better the hunting. Hunting is attractive, but personally I'll take knitting before I climb into $600 worth of warm clothes so that I may hunt not only warm but immovable, and tear out into the blizzard for my fun. Just Grandma speaking, folks.)

Another person, feminine gender, who has learned to enjoy fishing and hunting as well, is Mrs. Carl Dale. She often accompanies Carl out into the country for a day of tramping, with a fish pole or a gun also accompanying.

Mrs. Dale is handy about a number of things. She can sew beautifully, and turns out suits that look professional and many another item.

She cooks nearly everything, and is not afraid to venture a new twist to an old job. For example she puts her saurkraut directly into quart jars and packs it down to work. "Oh, it runs over and makes the jars so stained and messy, I don't like to do it that way, I prefer a big crock."

Casually Mrs. Dale answered, "That's why I always set it out in the garage to work. Then when the jars are stained, after the kraut is sealed up, I simply turn the hose on them to wash them off and all the dirty water goes down the garage drain."

Another little touch, it will give you an idea of her ability to plan carefully—for years and years she fed her family on $1 a day for groceries, five of them. And if you think the Dales didn't have enough to eat, and good food, the right foods, take another look at their three youngsters. For their young "advertisements" are sturdy, well built, as husky as any in Valley county.

LEGAL NOTICES

You are hereby notified that on the 29th day of October, 1943, The Lincoln Joint Stock Land Bank of Lincoln, Nebraska, owner in fee of the land described herein, filed its petition in the above matter, setting forth, among other things, that Charles Hall, a resident of Whiteside County, Illinois, died intestate therein on or about March or April, 1887, seized and possessed of land in Valley County, Nebraska, described as follows:

The Northeast Quarter (NE 1/4) of Section Nine (9), Township Seventeen (17), North, Range Thirteen (13), west of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska.

That the sole and only heirs at law and next of kin of said Charles Hall, were: Sissa Hall, his mother, and John Hall, Peter Hall and Albert Hall, also known as Albert L. Hall, his brothers;

That the prayer of said petitioner is for a decree determining the date and place of the death of said Charles Hall, the time of his residence at the time of his death, the heirs of said deceased, the degree of kinship of said heirs and the right of descent of the real property belonging to said deceased, an order barring claims against said estate and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable.

Hearing on said petition will be held in the County Court room at Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, on the 22nd day of November, 1943, at ten o'clock A. M.

Dated this 29th day of October, 1943. By the Court. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge. (SEAL) Nov. 4-3t.

Burwell Livestock Market

Friday, Nov. 12

350 or More Cattle

Yes, we will still have some more cattle for our sale this Friday. Sold over 1,400 head last week, with the market some lower on steers and heifers. Cows and the better grade calves were steady.

For this week's sale we have:

- 100 Hereford yearling steers
- 150 Hereford steer and heifer calves
- 50 head mixed cows
- Several milk cows, some stock cows, bulls and any other cattle

Better get your cattle now as the fall run will soon be over.

There will also be a good consignment of fat hogs, sows and feeder shoats. The market was considerable lower on the feeding shoats last week. Now is a very good time to buy them.

350 or More Cattle

Yes, we will still have some more cattle for our sale this Friday. Sold over 1,400 head last week, with the market some lower on steers and heifers. Cows and the better grade calves were steady.

For this week's sale we have:

- 100 Hereford yearling steers
- 150 Hereford steer and heifer calves
- 50 head mixed cows
- Several milk cows, some stock cows, bulls and any other cattle

Better get your cattle now as the fall run will soon be over.

There will also be a good consignment of fat hogs, sows and feeder shoats. The market was considerable lower on the feeding shoats last week. Now is a very good time to buy them.

Chanticleers Beat Sargent 25-0, Cinch 3-Valleys Title

Ord Only Undeclared Team in Conference; Season Ends at Lexington Friday.

When they defeated Sargent 25 to 0 on the Ord field Friday evening, Coach Roscoe Tolly's Chanticleers won undisputed possession of the 3-Valleys conference crown for another season.

Scoring in every quarter, the Ord team made easy work of beating Sargent. Charlie Sowers was the scoring light for the locals, crossing the goal line three times.

Ord has a remarkable record in football, the Sargent game being the 26th played since an Ord team was defeated, though there have been three tie games during the three-year period.

The Chanticleers will close their season Friday against Lexington, on that team's field. The Minute Men have been beaten only by North Platte and Kearney this year, and despite Ords fine record, may prove too tough competition for Tolly's boys.

In the first seven games this year the Chanticleers scored 153 points to only 7 for opponents, this lone touchdown against them having been scored by Burwell. Last year Ord scored 153 points to 19 for all opponents and the year before scored 212 points to only 6 for all opponents.

Sgt. Richard Bartz Is Presented DFC

From some mysterious spot in New Guinea comes word of the presentation of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Technical Sergeant Richard A. Bartz of North Loup, given for "extraordinary achievement" while participating in 50 operational flight missions in the southwest Pacific area.

Sgt. Bartz has been serving with a troop carrier squadron with the Fifth Air Force, and "the operations consisted of dropping supplies and transporting troops to advanced positions in flights which involved flying at low altitudes over mountainous terrain under adverse weather conditions in a transport plane, and often necessitated landing within a few miles of enemy bases."

"Throughout these flights he demonstrated outstanding ability and devotion to duty," concludes the official notification from general headquarters of the southwest Pacific area public relations office.

Lieut. General George C. Kenney, commander of the allied air forces in that area, recommended the honor for the North Loup man, who is the youngest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartz' three sons. All three boys are in service, Sgt. Bartz being a crew mechanic on a cargo plane.

Air Base Soldiers Give Splendid Show

"It was perfect!" cried delighted high school and grade school students who heard the show staged by 30 Kearney air base soldiers at the high school Tuesday. Lasting more than an hour, the band played spirited marches and dashing popular tunes to the taste of all, while Lt. Bolin as master of ceremonies made laughter ring.

Purpose of the tour was to interest or recruit 17 and 18-year-old high school boys in the air cadets.

Mrs. Mortensen Hurt as Auto Overturns

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen is at the Ord hospital with a choice assortment of bruises and bumps, as well as a badly sprained ankle. Her car too is a wreck since Sunday evening, when it went out of control about 7:15 as she was approaching a brightly lighted car and turned out into loose gravel to pass.

The car gave a big bounce, the door on the left flew open and Mrs. Mortensen was thrown out of the car before it struck a telegraph pole, damaging the car badly.

Mr. Mortensen had walked to his farm, as is his custom every Sunday, and was about to be picked up by his wife. They were enroute to Elyria to spend the evening. When the car was a few hundred feet from him, he saw it bounce and leave the road. If Mrs. Mortensen had not been thrown clear by this bounce, undoubtedly the car would have landed on her.

With the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Greenwalt and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Iwanski, he got to Ord and took Mrs. Mortensen at once to be treated and X-rayed at the Ord hospital. She will be a patient there for 10 days or two weeks, says Dr. Miller. The X-rays revealed no internal injuries.

Vegetable Growers Form Association, Open Stock Sales

Ben Nelson President of New Cooperative; Cannery and Potato Plant Planned.

North Loup has organized its vegetable growers group which will be known as the North Loup Co-operative Vegetable Growers association. At a meeting held Wednesday night in the community hall, a board of directors was chosen. Ben Nelson was elected president, Wm. Cook, jr., treasurer and Dell Barber, secretary, with Floyd Wetzel and Roy Cox the other two members of the board.

The association will be a co-operative marketing system for all types of vegetables and will include a cannery to handle the over-supply of perishable vegetables and a potato sorter and grader. The cannery will be located in one of two or three prospective buildings in the main part of town and the potato sorter on the railroad right of way. Stock at $25.00 a share is being sold this week and can be purchased by anyone interested in this co-operative movement.

North Loup people have always been "garden minded" and last year many vegetables went to Grand Island and other nearby towns at good prices. However, most growers realize that this condition will not always exist with the probable increase in production from this territory and when the boom conditions in Grand Island and other central Nebraska defence areas slow up as the war gradually comes to an end.

North Loup has been producing a quality of vegetables unsurpassed by any other territory and their demand has increased each year. It is the feeling of everyone concerned that a co-operative such as is being organized is the essential need of the growers are to stay in business on a profitable basis.

Two Accidents in George Nay Family

Accidents in the George Nay family do not happen singly.

Monday morning George Nay was kicked by a horse, making a deep cut on his leg midway between his knee and hip. Dr. C.W. Weckes sewed him up and sent him home.

Sunday evening Vernon Nay and two friends, Jerry Polak and Leonard Klanecky, were riding in Vernon's car, when treacherous loose gravel caused the car to swerve and overturn. The car, a Ford, was badly banged up. The boys were well bruised and shaken. Vernon too is a patient at home.

Mrs. Nay is thinking of opening a hospital.

2,000 Turkeys Dressed.

Burwell - (Special) - Turkey dressing began last week at the butter factory here, with a large force of girls and women on the job. To date two thousand birds have been dressed. The turkeys are being shipped to the Chicago market.

Divorce Suit Filed.

Frances Jacobs filed suit for divorce from her husband Leonard Jacobs in Ord on Saturday, charging cruelty and non-support. The Jacobs home is between Ord and North Loup.

Ord Schools Will Close Next Week, Boys to Husk Corn

Over 100 Boys Will Work in Corn Fields; USDA War Board Sought Closing.

The Ord schools will be closed all next week, in order that students can be available for help in corn husking. This action was taken by school officials following a request by the county U. S. D. A. war board. The war board made the request because of the precarious condition of the corn crop in case of unfavorable weather.

Corn all over the county is down badly as a result of high winds, and a heavy snow could do a lot of damage to the badly needed feed supply, and the feed situation is such that no feed should be lost.

Superintendent C. C. Thompson reports that a survey of the high school shows that 45 farm boys will husk corn at home next week and about 30 other farm boys will be available for hire. In addition some 25 to 35 town boys, some experienced and some inexperienced, will be willing to husk corn if given the opportunity. Farmers who can use these high school boys are asked to place their orders immediately at the county agent's office where a list of boys available for husking will be kept.

The farmer's order should specify the number of boys he can use, the yield his corn is making and the wages he will pay. Orders should be placed at once in order that the greatest possible amount of corn can be husked by the boys during their vacation.

Both Clare Clement, chairman of the war board, and C. C. Dale, secretary, urge all farmers needing help to make use of this opportunity, to get more of the corn crop into the crib where it will be safe. A storm such as struck eastern Nebraska on the 6th and 7th of this month might occur here at any time and cause a heavy loss of corn in the field. Some farmers may be inclined to wait until they can hire an expert husker rather than to hire high school boys, but good corn huskers for hire are few and far between this year, and it may be a long wait.

The closing of school will not get the full result wanted unless farmers take advantage of the opportunity to use the boys released from school.

All grades will be closed throughout the week, from kindergarten through high school.

Chamber to Elect Officers, Discuss Industrial Survey

Meeting Friday Night Should Attract Full Attendance; Post-War Plans Up.

The annual meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce will be held in the K. of C. club rooms at 8:00 Friday evening, Nov. 19, it is announced by the secretary, Clyde Baker, and a full attendance of members is desired.

The nominating committee appointed recently by President C. J. Mortensen will report and officers for 1944 will be elected. This meeting is of unusual importance, aside from the election of officers, because a report on the industrial survey made recently by a representative of a Chicago industrial engineering firm will be made, and post-war plans discussed.

There is a possibility of attracting one or more large industrial plants to Ord in the immediate post-war period and officers want the general membership to be fully informed about these prospects.

Precinct Elections for AAA Held Soon

Triple A elections in the various precincts of Valley county will be held on or before Friday, Dec. 10 and the county election will be held on or before Dec. 11, said Chairman R. Clare Clement this morning. Different election dates will be assigned in various precincts, inasmuch as there are several questions that must be explained by county committee-men. Exact dates will be announced next week.

Mrs. Hollenbeck Dead.

Burwell - (Special) - Mrs. Earl Hollenbeck, a resident of the Duff community, died Wednesday at her home. After funeral services here the body was taken to Holdrege for interment.

Alfalfa Mill Ready for Operation Soon

Mill Capacity 72 Tons of Hay Daily, Will Be Enlarged

Trouble with Transformers Has Delayed Starting; 30 Men to Be Used.

Construction of the alfalfa mill east of Ord has been completed and the mill will be in operation within a week, it was stated Wednesday morning by W. E. Helm, manager. Only trouble with the big transformers is delaying the start of grinding and this trouble will be corrected soon, he believes.

The mill is a large unit which will convert alfalfa grown in the North Loup valley into alfalfa meal for mixing with other feeds and its capacity is 72 tons of hay daily. Later a second unit will be built east of the present unit for heat-drying green alfalfa and this will double the mill's capacity.

A force of thirty men will be required to keep the mill in operation. Manager Helm estimates this will include 15 men at the mill itself, five truck drivers and two baling crews of five men each.

At present alfalfa is being bought as far as 80 miles from Ord, but under ideal conditions alfalfa should be grown within a ten-mile radius of the mill to keep it operating full time. To date approximately 3,000 tons of alfalfa has been bought or contracted for.

Manager Helm sees a bright future for the North Loup valley, for he points out that this mill assures a constant cash market for all alfalfa that can be raised, and the raising of alfalfa by corn farmers in a permanent crop rotation program will constantly increase fertility of the farms. All alfalfa that is raised will be bought, he promises, and he is hopeful that vast new acreage will be brought into production next season.

Owners of the plant are Saunders Mills, Inc. of Toledo, who started thirty years ago with one small plant and now have mills in almost every state. Both sun-dried and heat-dried alfalfa meals are produced by the Saunders firm.

Three shifts will be used here when the plant gets into operation, and alfalfa will be ground 24 hours a day. The Ord plant is one of the most modern owned by the Saunders firm.

Make Tray Favors for Wounded Men

Four rural schools have mailed 200 tray favors to hospitalized service men for Armistice day, sending them last week.

Feeling that the men get enough red, white and blue and patriotic motifs, they tried to make something different. Miss Leota Crosby and Dist. 30 pupils made cardboard clowns on toothpicks stuck into gum drops. Miss Clara Jensen's Dist. 38 and Miss Wilma Klanecky's Dist. 17 both made cunning penguins out of peanuts painted black and white, with black jackets and felt ears and shoes.

Mrs. Beulah Clement and students of Dist. 9 made edible favors, tiny animals of prunes, dark and white raisins, nuts and pipe cleaners. Each was different and adjustable. Wrapped in oiled paper, they were sent to the army air base at Great Bend, Kas., and LaJunto air field in Colorado, reports Mrs. Edward Kokes, who is chairman of Junior Red Cross activities.

District Judge E. G. Kroger will hold the fall equity term of court in Ord starting Thursday morning. Only a few cases are on the docket, no jury will be empaneled, and the term is expected to finish in a single day.

Jiro Kawata Gets Eagle Scout Award

Boy Scouts have had a busy week, working hard Thursday to gather scrap. The Wolf Patrol won top honors with three tons they garnered. The Flying Eagle patrol got one ton of scrap and the Beaver and Cobra patrols each found a half-ton. Their scout executives, Roy Randolph and Elliott McClure, found an old steam engine weighing seven and one-half tons, and by working all day succeeded in getting the engine into town to the scrap pile making a total of more than 12 tons of scrap for the day.

Friday evening the district meeting was preceded by a buffalo supper at the McClure home. Frank M. Chase, scout executive from Lincoln was present, also Rev. Brown of Burwell, George Tunkliff of Burwell, Albert Babcock, Elmer Larson, Jim Bryson and W. H. Waters all of Scotia, John Haskell, Roy Randolph, Rex Jewett, Mark Tolen, George Allen, George Munn and L. E. Walford of Ord. A new smaller district was formed with Ord having the central committee and surrounding towns having sub-committees, to facilitate better cooperation among troops. Roy Randolph was elected district chairman.

At the court of honor Mr. Chase spoke, and Mrs. Kincaid played. Jiro Kawata was bestowed the highly coveted Eagle award by Mrs. L. A. Muncy. Dick Satterfield was given the star scout award and five merit badges, Bob Marks had earned one merit badge, Ted Randolph, five merit badges and Kirk Lewis is one merit badge.

John Haskell was given assistant scoutmaster insignia. Donald Hill and Roger Miller earned commando emblems, Leonard Roessler scribe emblem, and the Flying Eagle patrol the honor pennant for highest attendance scoring for September and October.

Furniture Making Occupies Class

Boys in Tolly's Shop Class Choose Own Projects and Make Handsome Objects.

A visit to "general shop" classes, as conducted by Roscoe Tolly at the Ord high school, is both entertaining and enlightening.

Each boy in the workshop was busy with a project of his own, and a project he had selected for himself. So at each worktable something different was to be seen. The most elaborate job in the room was that chosen by Joe Kominick, who will spend his work hours all year long making a walnut cedar chest with 3-8 inch cedar lining. Very beautiful boards had been placed edge to edge, and Joe glued and clamped them together until they became as one board. Now he was at work smoothing and finishing them, after which he would make dovetailed corners. A long, ambitious task for him.

Under the big east windows was a nicely turned-out job, a plant stand or table, made entirely of gumwood by Wayne Goff. Long and narrow to fit before big windows, the table had simple, attractive lines. Wayne is a freshman.

Lyle Manchester had contrived a cunning little signboard, built with a peaked roof and good strong stake to keep it firmly in the ground. It was intended for the use of the Boy Scouts, a group Lyle works with enthusiastically.

Joe Rysavy was busy smoothing end boards of walnut, the pieces to go into a magazine rack later. Walnut is such a hard wood, it takes real patience and skill to work it.

Paul Boesen was busily sawing boards of gumwood. He has chosen an end and book table combination which he will make with the end pieces gracefully curved.

When Kenneth Tatlow discussed his project, his mother urged him to make her an ironing board, and this he has almost completed. It is a fine sturdy one made entirely of wood and looks as if it would give years of good service.

One boy, Jerry Kriewald, brought an old rocking chair to be repaired. The chair seemed hopeless at first glance. But with the reinforcing it will get from three big, heavy oak boards the rocking chair is going to be like new. Just done was a good-looking two-legged ash stand made in a slender, small-topped design from walnut and gumwood and rubbed to a warm glowing finish by Wayne Hoon. A silver-finished tray had been built into the top. Dick Tolen and Charles Munn

Scrap Collection Continues Until Saturday Night

300 Tons Collected Besides the Burlington Scrap Committee Well Pleased.

Approximately 600,000 pounds of scrap metals have been collected in Valley county during the present drive in addition to the 1,735,000 pounds turned in by the Burlington railroad, says R. Clare Clement, chairman of the drive. He is very well pleased with progress of the scrap effort and says the drive will continue until Saturday night of this week.

Buying at the Burlington dock in Ord, Tom Rasmussen took in eighty-six tons of scrap Friday and Saturday. Almost a carload was hauled in to North Loup by farmers in that vicinity and a similar amount at Arcadia. Between 50 and 60 tons of scrap is estimated to be stock-piled on rural school grounds, showing the success of the school's scrap effort.

A small fleet of army trucks from the Grand Island air base will come to Valley county to haul scrap from school yards to the nearest shipping point, Clement says. Arrangements are being perfected through the War Production Board.

There may be trouble in store for ten or dozen Valley county farmers who have sizeable piles of scrap but have failed to dispose of it since the war began. Every chance has been afforded them to sell it voluntarily and now Clement is turning names of such men over to Mr. Shannon, of the WPB, who has promised to have the FBI investigate and to institute legal proceedings compelling disposal of the scrap. Publicity will be given later to such cases. There is estimated to be over 100 tons of scrap in the hands of these ten or twelve individuals. Carelessness, dissatisfaction over prices offered, lack of time, etc., are responsible for their failure to sell, rather than lack of patriotism, Clement believes, but their scrap is vitally needed and they will be forced to sell it since they won't do it voluntarily.

Rasmussen is continuing to buy scrap at the Burlington dock until Saturday, and will load it directly into the cars. Scrap may be sold in Arcadia and North Loup also this week.

made book-ends in an original pattern. They have a small carved dog apparently digging into a stump, while on the other book-end a little chipmunk sits safely on the other side of the stump while the dog works. When Gerald Miska saw the book-ends, he liked them so much that he is making a pair after the same pattern. Various craft books and magazines offer the boys a choice of hundreds of patterns in either wood or metal work.

A class of younger boys also had individual projects to make. Marvin Jablonski had a neat knife-holder almost ready to finish, in a rather large, rather flat and oval shape. Two boys elected to make gun racks of pine, and both racks are attractive, though they are not much alike. Jack Koll and Verne Jobst are the two workmen.

Several ninth grade boys wished to make halltrees. Several boys wanted to make chicken feeders. One crestfallen lad had broken an end of his chicken feeder, and he felt badly at the idea of making a new end piece. "But whatever they make they try to make it the very best they can," their instructor remarked. And since none of the articles in work looked amateurish, it was easily believed.

Leonard Roessler of the freshman shop class, is making a square lamp base of several lengths of wood, glued firmly. Thus a pleasing array of colors will show when the various woods are turned.

Frank Raemakers had made two handsomely turned table legs for an end table of walnut, though he is only a sophomore student. Yes, the legs were exactly alike!

Last year Wayne Rakosky made several chicken feeders and sold them at a profit. It seems the boys pay for all their own wood, though they buy it through the school. So if a boy can make something for which there is a demand, he has found a way to earn money as well as grades.

Make Subsidy Payments. A member of the county AAA committee and a clerk will be in Arcadia next Tuesday for the purpose of issuing checks to farmers and milk producers in payment of subsidies. Similar issuance was done at North Loup on Wednesday.

Chanticleers Beat Sargent 25-0, Cinch 3-Valleys Title

Ord Only Undefeated Team in Conference; Season Ends at Lexington Friday.

When they defeated Sargent 25 to 0 on the Ord field Friday evening, Coach Roscoe Tolly's Chanticleers won undisputed possession of the 3-Valleys conference crown for another season.

Scoring in every quarter, the Ord team made easy work of beating Sargent. Charlie Sowers was the scoring light for the locals, crossing the goal line three times.

Ord has a remarkable record in football, the Sargent game being the 26th played since an Ord team was defeated, though there have been three tie games during the three-year period.

The Chanticleers will close their season Friday against Lexington, on that team's field. The Minute Men have been beaten only by North Platte and Kearney this year, and despite Ord's fine record, may prove too tough competition for Tolly's boys.

In the first seven games this year the Chanticleers scored 153 points to only 7 for opponents, this lone touchdown against them having been scored by Burwell. Last year Ord scored 153 points to 19 for all opponents and the year before scored 212 points to only 6 for all opponents.

Sgt. Richard Bartz Is Presented DFC

From some mysterious spot in New Guinea comes word of the presentation of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Technical Sergeant Richard A. Bartz of North Loup, given for "extraordinary achievement" while participating in 50 operational flight missions in the southwest Pacific area.

Sgt. Bartz has been serving with a troop carrier squadron with the Fifth Air Force, and "the operations consisted of dropping supplies and transporting troops to advanced positions in flights which involved flying at low altitudes over mountainous terrain under adverse weather conditions in a transport plane, and often necessitated landing within a few miles of enemy bases."

"Throughout these flights he demonstrated outstanding ability and devotion to duty," concludes the official notification from general headquarters of the southwest Pacific area public relations office.

Lieut. General George C. Kenney, commander of the allied air forces in that area, recommended the honor for the North Loup man, who is the youngest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartz' three sons. All three boys are in service, Sgt. Bartz being a crew mechanic on a cargo plane.

Air Base Soldiers Give Splendid Show

"It was perfect!" cried delighted high school and grade school students who heard the show staged by 30 Kearney air base soldiers at the high school Tuesday. Lasting more than an hour, the band played spirited marches and dashing popular tunes to the taste of all, while Lt. Bolin as master of ceremonies made laughter ring.

Purpose of the tour was to interest or recruit 17 and 18-year-old high school boys in the air cadets.

The girls of the home economics department served a good hot lunch to the visiting soldiers at noon, preceding the convocation.

Ord Schools Will Close Next Week, Boys to Husk Corn

Over 100 Boys Will Work in Corn Fields; USDA War Board Sought Closing.

The Ord schools will be closed all next week, in order that students can be available for help in corn husking. This action was taken by school officials following a request by the county U. S. D. Chamber to Elect Officers, Discuss Industrial Survey

Meeting Friday Night Should Attract Full Attendance; Post-War Plans Up.

The annual meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce will be held in the K. of C. club rooms at 8:00 Friday evening, Nov. 19, it is announced by the secretary, Clyde Baker, and a full attendance of members is desired.

The nominating committee appointed recently by President C. J. Mortensen will report and officers for 1944 will be elected.

This meeting is of unusual importance, aside from the election of officers, because a report on the industrial survey made recently by a representative of a Chicago industrial engineering firm will be made, and post-war plans discussed.

There is a possibility of attracting one or more large industrial plants to Ord in the immediate post-war period and officers want the general membership to be fully informed about these prospects.

Precinct Elections for AAA Held Soon

Triple A elections in the various precincts of Valley county will be held on or before Friday, Dec. 10 and the county election will be held on or before Dec. 11, said Chairman R. Clare Clement this morning. Different election dates will be assigned in various precincts, inasmuch as there are several questions that must be explained by county committee-men. Exact dates will be announced next week.

Each boy in the workshop was busy with a project of his own, and a project he had selected for himself. So at each worktable something different was to be seen. The most elaborate job in the room was that chosen by Joe Kominek, who will spend his work hours all year long making a walnut cedar chest with 3-8 inch cedar lining. Very beautiful boards had been placed edge to edge, and Joe glued and clamped them together until they became as one board. Now he was at work smoothing and finishing them, after which he would make dovetailed corners. A long, ambitious task for him.

Under the big east windows was a nicely turned-out job, a plant stand or table, made entirely of gumwood by Wayne Goff. Long and narrow to fit before big windows, the table had simple, attractive lines. Wayne is a freshman.

Lyle Manchester had contrived a cunning little signboard, built with a peaked roof and good strong stake to keep it firmly in the ground. It was intended for the use of the Boy Scouts, a group Lyle works with enthusiastically.

Joe Rysavy was busy smoothing end boards of walnut, the pieces to go into a magazine rack later. Walnut is such a hard wood, it takes real patience and skill to work it.

Paul Boesen was busily sawing boards of gumwood. He has chosen an end and book table combination which he will make with the end pieces gracefully curved.

When Kenneth Tatlow discussed his project, his mother urged him to make her an ironing board, and this he has almost completed. It is a fine sturdy one made entirely of wood and looks as if it would give years of good service.

One boy, Jerry Kriewald, brought an old rocking chair to be repaired. The chair seemed hopeless at first glance. But with the reinforcing it will get from three big, heavy oak boards the rocking chair is going to be like new.

Just done was a good-looking two-legged ash stand made in a slender, small-topped design from walnut and gumwood and rubbed to a warm glowing finish by Wayne Hoon. A silver-finished tray had been built into the top. Young McDonald was wounded in the south Pacific area on Sept. 12, 1943, and the citation he received was signed by Admiral Halsey. News reels shown throughout the United States recently include a photo of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt visiting McDonald in a navy hospital.

Scrap Collection Continues Until Saturday Night

300 Tons Collected Besides the Burlington Scrap Committee Well Pleased.

Approximately 600,000 pounds of scrap metals have been collected in Valley county during the present drive in addition to the 1,735,000 pounds turned in by the Burlington railroad, says R. Clare Clement, chairman of the drive. He is very well pleased with progress of the scrap effort and says the drive will continue until Saturday night of this week.

Buying at the Burlington dock in Ord, Tom Rasmussen took in eighty-six tons of scrap Friday and Saturday. Almost a carload was hauled in to North Loup by farmers in that vicinity and a similar amount at Arcadia. Between 50 and 60 tons of scrap is estimated to be stock-piled on rural school grounds, showing the success of the school's scrap effort.

A small fleet of army trucks from the Grand Island air base will come to Valley county to haul scrap from school yards to the nearest shipping point, Clement says. Arrangements are being perfected through the War Production Board.

There may be trouble in store for ten or dozen Valley county farmers who have sizeable piles of scrap but have failed to dispose of it since the war began. Every chance has been afforded them to sell it voluntarily and now Clement is turning names of such men over to Mr. Shannon, of the WPB, who has promised to have the FBI investigate and to institute legal proceedings compelling disposal of the scrap. Publicity will be given later to such cases. There is estimated to be over 100 tons of scrap in the hands of these ten or twelve individuals. Carelessness, dissatisfaction over prices offered, lack of time, etc., are responsible for their failure to sell, rather than lack of patriotism, Clement believes, but their scrap is vitally needed and they will be forced to sell it since they won't do it voluntarily.

Rasmussen is continuing to buy scrap at the Burlington dock until Saturday, and will load it directly into the cars. Scrap may be sold in Arcadia and North Loup also this week.

made book-ends in an original pattern. They have a small carved dog apparently digging into a stump, while on the other book-end a little chipmunk sits safely on the other side of the stump while the dog works. When Gerald Miska saw the book-ends, he liked them so much that he is making a pair after the same pattern. Various craft books and magazines offer the boys a choice of hundreds of patterns in either wood or metal work.

A class of younger boys also had individual projects to make. Marvin Jablonski had a neat knife-holder almost ready to finish, in a rather large, rather flat and oval shape. Two boys elected to make gun racks of pine, and both racks are attractive, though they are not much alike. Jack Koll and Verne Jobst are the two workmen.

Several ninth grade boys wished to make halltrees. Several boys wanted to make chicken feeders. One crestfallen lad had broken an end of his chicken feeder, and he felt badly at the idea of making a new end piece. "But whatever they make they try to make it the very best they can," their instructor remarked. And since none of the articles in work looked amateurish, it was easily believed.

Leonard Roesler of the freshman shop class, is making a square lamp base of several lengths of wood, glued firmly. Thus a pleasing array of colors will show when the various woods are turned.

Frank Raemakers had made two handsomely turned table legs for an end table of walnut, though he is only a sophomore student. Yes, the legs were exactly alike!

Last year Wayne Rakosky made several chicken feeders and sold them at a profit. It seems the boys pay for all their own wood, though they buy it through the school. So if a boy can make something for which there is a demand, he has found a way to earn money as well as grades.

Make Subsidy Payments. A member of the county AAA committee and a clerk will be in Arcadia next Tuesday for the purpose of issuing checks to farmers and milk producers in payment of subsidies. Similar issuance was done at North Loup on Wednesday.

Many school patrons took advantage of the special invitation given by pupils and teachers and visited school last week. Each day, some special program was given. On Thursday morning the Legion Auxiliary presented special armistice day services, with Mrs. J. A. Barber in charge. Several musical numbers were followed by a poetry selection by Mrs. Barber. At eleven all stood for a silent prayer and the flag salute. In the afternoon Mrs. Edgar Davis entertained the entire student body with bird calls and illustrations. Friday morning the grade rooms presented a program in the assembly. First and second grade pupils sang two numbers and gave some choral readings. Third and fourth graders gave some songs and Carolyn Hamer and Rosemary Stevens played a piano duet. Fifth and sixth grade pupils gave a short play, The King's Highway, a modern version of the old fairy tale about the good king who sought the most thoughtful person in his kingdom by placing a large stone in the middle of the highway and then hiding to watch to see who passed by and what they did about the stone. Dale Hutchins was the king, Dean Hutchins his guard and Ronald Goodrich the poor boy who moved the stone and received the reward after many others had left the stone untouched. All these pupils were fitting costumes, largely their own work. Seventh and eighth grade pupils gave a clever scene from the life of the grocer today, showing the necessity of watching ration points and stamps. The program closed with a story of education week, given by Alice Meyers. Many patrons who had come for the program stayed to visit the numerous class rooms and found interest and industry predominating in all classes.

METHODIST: More than $450 has been turned in from Lords Acre projects and there is more to come in. Some projects were unique, one small boy got all the double yolked eggs which the hens laid, sold them for a premium and gave the money to his Lords Acre bank. The tables for the supper were decorated by Donzella White and her group of girls. A thanksgiving theme was used. The program cards were arranged so that the first letters spelled LORDS ACRE.

MIRA VALLEY EVANGELICAL: Next Sunday night a thank offering program will be given. The last Sunday in the month, a fellowship dinner will be held at noon and in the afternoon the ingathering of Lords Acre projects will be brought.

SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST: The November church social was held Sunday night, with Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Babcock in charge of the supper and Mrs. Edgar Davis of the program and social hour. Five were at the birthday table.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held Thanksgiving evening in the Seventh Day Baptist church with Rev. Hinshaw bringing the message. Services will begin at 7:30.

N. L. School Notes. Beginning next Monday school will begin a half hour later, at 9:30. Noon recess will be from 12:30 to 1:30 and the afternoon period will close at 4:30. All students who wish to pick corn next week will be excused from classes for that purpose if they bring a written request from the farmer. Arrangements will be made for the work to be made up. Since Thanksgiving recess comes Thursday and Friday, this will give the students a chance to help in the harvest of corn all week.

Football season for the North Loup team has closed and basketball practice begun. The basketball season will open early in December. Lucy and Walter Switzer brought elephant cookies for the first and second and third and fourth grade rooms Monday afternoon and the two rooms held a little party for Sharon and Wesley Rowe who are moving to Hastings this week.

Fifth and sixth grade pupils are busy filling the "Housewives" for the Red Cross soldier kits this week. They filled twenty Monday morning and were ready for more.

Frank Fafeita was home from Grand Island to be with his family over the week-end.

Something Different

I heard someone say, recently, "Isn't it too bad Dr. Miller is off the school board? Now the children never have any vaccinations, or anything, do they?"

Whether Dr. Miller should have all the credit for such health measures, or whether he should share this credit with others on the school board and Superintendent Thompson it does seem Ord school children should be protected, as far as is possible. Giving TB tests was a fine thing, a few years ago, for this, if I am not mistaken, the P. E. O. ladies are responsible. But there were some vaccines given, too, I have forgotten which ones. Was it diphtheria and smallpox? I believe so. And Ord youngsters had never been so well fortified against enemies of the disease world.

Possibly, just possibly, such vaccines are no longer available, since the government is protecting almost every representative of this country who is sent abroad. Perhaps all such products are used up, except when absolutely necessary to be provided for civilian needs—such as in the case of halting an epidemic.

Sometime I hope Ord youngsters may also have the benefit of a good public school nurse. No chance now, of course, with war needs calling for three times as many nurses as there are trained and able to go.

In China so I have heard, the doctor is paid only while his patients stay well. A right good system, hey? Well, having a school nurse works somewhat the same way—she spots small troubles before they can spread into big ones. She ships home children with runny noses, for example, before their "colds" turn out to be whooping cough.

Last year Miss Inez Swain and her staff of teachers tried as conscientiously as they could to spot the onset of whooping cough. They sent home a number of little victims, and carefully tried to locate each case early. Perhaps a nurse could not have done a bit better. But a nurse's trained eye might have helped in the emergency.

I personally can swear to the fact that the milk program in the schools, the past few years, has put pounds on many children. It is badly needed by some little tykes. The Business and Professional Women are eager to support such a program again. I hope exceedingly much that the Stewart Dairy will be able to find some way to furnish this milk.

It is getting along in the fall, and the children need that afternoon perk-up that milk gives, as cold weather nips them.

Another program I have heard inquiries about, is Ord going to repair any old toys for Christmas giving? This has been done here, well done. I was thinking of the sojourn of Orville Sowl, of Dr. John Round, and I am sure John Misko aided it on many a winter evening. Who else helped fix toys, and are they planning on doing it this fall? Toys were never so "short".

North Loup Churches

METHODIST: More than $450 has been turned in from Lords Acre projects and there is more to come in. Some projects were unique, one small boy got all the double yolked eggs which the hens laid, sold them for a premium and gave the money to his Lords Acre bank. The tables for the supper were decorated by Donzella White and her group of girls. A thanksgiving theme was used. The program cards were arranged so that the first letters spelled LORDS ACRE.

MIRA VALLEY EVANGELICAL: Next Sunday night a thank offering program will be given. The last Sunday in the month, a fellowship dinner will be held at noon and in the afternoon the ingathering of Lords Acre projects will be brought.

SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST: The November church social was held Sunday night, with Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Babcock in charge of the supper and Mrs. Edgar Davis of the program and social hour. Five were at the birthday table.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held Thanksgiving eve in the Seventh Day Baptist church with Rev. Hinshaw bringing the message. Services will begin at 7:30.

N. L. School Notes. Beginning next Monday school will begin a half hour later, at 9:30. Noon recess will be from 12:30 to 1:30 and the afternoon period will close at 4:30.

All students who wish to pick corn next week will be excused from classes for that purpose if they bring a written request from the farmer. Arrangements will be made for the work to be made up. Since Thanksgiving recess comes Thursday and Friday, this will give the students a chance to help in the harvest of corn all week.

Football season for the North Loup team has closed and basketball practice begun. The basketball season will open early in December.

Lucy and Walter Switzer brought elephant cookies for the first and second and third and fourth grade rooms Monday afternoon and the two rooms held a little party for Sharon and Wesley Rowe who are moving to Hastings this week.

Fifth and sixth grade pupils are busy filling the "Housewives" for the Red Cross soldier kits this week. They filled twenty Monday morning and were ready for more.

Frank Fafaita was home from Grand Island to be with his family over the week-end.

Something Different

I heard someone say, recently, "Isn't it too bad Dr. Miller is off the school board? Now the children never have any vaccinations, or anything, do they?"

Whether Dr. Miller should have all the credit for such health measures, or whether he should share this credit with others on the school board and Superintendent Thompson it does seem Ord school children should be protected, as far as is possible. Giving TB tests was a fine thing, a few years ago, for this, if I am not mistaken, the P. E. O. ladies are responsible. But there were some vaccines given, too, I have forgotten which ones. Was it diphtheria and smallpox? I believe so. And Ord youngsters had never been so well fortified against enemies of the disease world.

Possibly, just possibly, such vaccines are no longer available, since the government is protecting almost every representative of this country who is sent abroad. Perhaps all such products are used up, except when absolutely necessary to be provided for civilian needs—such as in the case of halting an epidemic.

Sometime I hope Ord youngsters may also have the benefit of a good public school nurse. No chance now, of course, with war needs calling for three times as many nurses as there are trained and able to go.

In China so I have heard, the doctor is paid only while his patients stay well. A right good system, hey? Well, having a school nurse works somewhat the same way—she spots small troubles before they can spread into big ones. She ships home children with runny noses, for example, before their "colds" turn out to be whooping cough.

Last year Miss Inez Swain and her staff of teachers tried as conscientiously as they could to spot the onset of whooping cough. They sent home a number of little victims, and carefully tried to locate each case early. Perhaps a nurse could not have done a bit better. But a nurse's trained eye might have helped in the emergency.

I personally can swear to the fact that the milk program in the schools, the past few years, has put pounds on many children. It is badly needed by some little tykes. The Business and Professional Women are eager to support such a program again. I hope exceedingly much that the Stewart Dairy will be able to find some way to furnish this milk.

It is getting along in the fall, and the children need that afternoon perk-up that milk gives, as cold weather nips them.

Another program I have heard inquiries about, is Ord going to repair any old toys for Christmas giving? This has been done here, well done. I was thinking of the sojourn of Orville Sowl, of Dr. John Round, and I am sure John Misko aided it on many a winter evening. Who else helped fix toys, and are they planning on doing it this fall? Toys were never so "short".

DESTROYER-ESCORT BUILT IN 25 DAYS

NEW WORLD'S RECORD IN SHIP CONSTRUCTION

Beats World War I Destroyer Time of 45 1/2 Days — Bethlehem Set Both Marks

Has Large Gun-Power for Both Offensive and Defensive Service; Equipped for Surface, Depth Bomb and Anti-Aircraft Combat

Beating all prior records, the destroyer-escort Reynolds was completed and delivered Nov. 3 to the U. S. Navy, by the Bethlehem-Hingham Shipyard just 25 days after keel laying.

The Reynolds is a hard-hitting, fighting unit with great fire-power and speed, a bigger, more powerful ship than the destroyer Reid, which held the previous production record of being built in 45 1/2 days, during World War I. Bethlehem built both ships.

The Reynolds has terrific battle armament for surface, depth bomb, or anti-aircraft combat. Her main battery has guns mounted in three turrets which can revolve in a complete circle to follow a target, and can be fired by a trained crew with amazing accuracy and rapidity. Aft is a 40-mm. Bofors gun, each barrel capable of firing 120 rounds of 2-pound projectiles per minute. She has numerous 20-mm. Oerlikon machine guns with a potential fire-power of nearly 400 shells every 60 seconds. Also, along port and starboard rails aft of amidships are a flock of K-guns which can toss out the famous 300-pound "ash cans" which make it unhealthy for any submarine within hundreds of yards.

designed by the Navy to drive the Nazi subs from the Atlantic and protect American convoys. She can deliver a terrific curtain of fire effective at 2500 yards against air or surface targets. Like some of her sister ships, she is one of Uncle Sam's contributions to the British fleet.

The first group of ships in the destroyer-escort class were built in 302 days.

The next group in this class were built in 206 days.

Now the Reynolds has set the mark of 25 days.

And she is but one of hundreds of warships steaming out of the shipyards of America to speed the day of Victory.

DESTROYER-ESCORT BUILT IN 25 DAYS

Beats World War I Destroyer Time of 45 1/2 Days — Bethlehem Set Both Marks

Has Large Gun-Power for Both Offensive and Defensive Service; Equipped for Surface, Depth Bomb and Anti-Aircraft Combat

Beating all prior records, the destroyer-escort Reynolds was completed and delivered Nov. 3 to the U. S. Navy, by the Bethlehem-Hingham Shipyard just 25 days after keel laying.

The Reynolds is a hard-hitting, fighting unit with great fire-power and speed, a bigger, more powerful ship than the destroyer Reid, which held the previous production record of being built in 45 1/2 days, during World War I. Bethlehem built both ships.

Those present were her daughters, Mrs. James Skala and Carol Jean; Mrs. Hazel Henderson, Gail Adams and a son Kenneth Adams; also her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy from Burwell. Later in the evening another sister, Mrs. Veva Goodwin and son Johnnie arrived from Paonia, Colo. Mrs. Lakin received many useful gifts Mr. and Mrs. Murphy returned to Burwell on the Sunday morning bus.

Mrs. Cook's Birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Peterson entertained in their home south of town Sunday having as guests Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook and their four children, also Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. Tillie Arnold. Mrs. Peterson made a lovely birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Cook's birthday.

Mary Plate is Wed.
In Nesquehoning, Pa., recently occurred the marriage of a former Valley county girl, Mary Marie Plate, to Thomas B. Watkins, aviation mate 2-c in the navy. The ceremony was performed at the home of his parents by a Lutheran pastor.

Miss Plate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Plate, of Corning, Ia., is employed in a Des Moines ordnance plant. Her husband is stationed at the navy air base in Ottumwa, Ia. A brief leave gave him opportunity to take his bride-to-be to his home in the east where the marriage was solemnized. Until two years ago the Plate home was in Valley county.

Austin-Harris.
In a double ring ceremony Oct. 19 at San Diego, Calif., Miss Lyla Austin, a former Ordite and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Austin, was united in marriage to Second Class Machinist Norman Harris. The best man was a ship mate of the groom and the bride's attendant was Miss Hazel Harston of San Diego. The bride wore a blue suit with blue accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses. The attendant of the bride wore a blue dress and carried yellow roses.

Mrs. Harris will continue to reside and work in San Diego where she has been employed in the Vultee Consolidated Aircraft Corp. for the past two years. Her husband is on destroyer duty.

Farewell Party.
Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kasper and Donnie a farewell surprise party was held at their farm home Friday evening. Those present were her daughters, Mrs. James Skala and Carol Jean; Mrs. Hazel Henderson, Gail Adams and a son Kenneth Adams; also her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy from Burwell. Later in the evening another sister, Mrs. Veva Goodwin and son Johnnie arrived from Paonia, Colo. Mrs. Lakin received many useful gifts Mr. and Mrs. Murphy returned to Burwell on the Sunday morning bus.

Mrs. Cook's Birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Peterson entertained in their home south of town Sunday having as guests Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook and their four children, also Mrs. Cook's mother, Mrs. Tillie Arnold. Mrs. Peterson made a lovely birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Cook's birthday.

Mary Plate is Wed.

In Nesquehoning, Pa., recently occurred the marriage of a former Valley county girl, Mary Marie Plate, to Thomas B. Watkins, aviation mate 2-c in the navy. The ceremony was performed at the home of his parents by a Lutheran pastor.

Miss Plate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Plate, of Corning, Ia., is employed in a Des Moines ordnance plant. Her husband is stationed at the navy air base in Ottumwa, Ia. A brief leave gave him opportunity to take his bride-to-be to his home in the east where the marriage was solemnized. Until two years ago the Plate home was in Valley county.

Austin-Harris.

In a double ring ceremony Oct. 19 at San Diego, Calif., Miss Lyla Austin, a former Ordite and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Austin, was united in marriage to Second Class Machinist Norman Harris. The best man was a ship mate of the groom and the bride's attendant was Miss Hazel Hartson of San Diego.

The bride wore a blue suit with blue accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses. The attendant of the bride wore a blue dress and carried yellow roses.

Mrs. Harris will continue to reside and work in San Diego where she has been employed in the Vultee Consolidated Aircraft Corp. for the past two years. Her husband is on destroyer duty.

Farewell Party.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kasper and Donnie a farewell surprise party was held at their farm home Friday evening. To All Hog Raisers

We urge farmers to hold all hogs to 200 pounds or more. The government is going to support the price. There must be orderly marketing. There are not too many hogs. More hogs were raised back in the late twenties and early thirties than in 1943. There is a larger demand for pork than existed at that time. The packer is, however, short of manpower and machinery and he cannot handle excessive runs. The government does not buy live hogs but pays the packer enough for all meat purchased by the government to warrant the payment of the floor price or more. We believe the finishing of live hogs will prove profitable. We are doing all that we can to provide feed to finish these live hogs. We have many cars of feed wheat ordered for this purpose. Failure to market hogs in an orderly manner will necessitate quotas being established. You don't want this; no one else wants it. Let's keep a stiff upper lip and market our hogs in an orderly manner.

BUTTER BOOTLEGGER?

MOM, I HEARD OF A PLACE TODAY WHERE YOU CAN GET ALL THE BUTTER YOU WANT, AND THEY DON'T ASK FOR A SINGLE RATION STAMP!

OF COURSE YOU HAVE TO DRIVE QUITE A WAY AND BE INTRODUCED. WHY, MOM!

YES, JANE, THAT MAKES ME VERY ANGRY!

DON'T YOU REALIZE THAT EVERY TIME RATIONED FOOD IS BOUGHT WITHOUT RATION STAMPS, SOMEONE WILL HAVE TO GO WITHOUT HIS FAIR SHARE?

THE GOVERNMENT IS RATIONING SCARCER FOODS SO ALL OF US CAN EAT WELL AND BE STRONG AND THE ONLY WAY TO MAKE RATIONING WORK FAIRLY IS FOR EVERY ONE OF US TO PLAY SQUARE WITH RATION STAMPS!

I SEE WHAT YOU MEAN, MOM.

Arcadia Department

W. J. RAMSEY, Bus. Manager MRS. W. J. RAMSEY, Reporter

Morris Edelbert Blakeslee passed away quietly at his home Sunday morning, November 14, after an extended illness. The funeral rites were held Tuesday morning at the Methodist church with Rev. C. A. Busby in charge. Mr. Blakeslee was born June 14, 1870 at Maringo, Ia., and was the oldest of five children. In 1889 he came to Nebraska and on the 10th of March, 1898, he was united in marriage to Miss Rebecca Jane Holmes. They lived on a farm nine miles east of Arcadia for twelve years then moved to a farm a mile southeast of Arcadia where he and his family have resided for thirty-three years. To this union was born five children, four sons and one daughter, three of the children having preceded him in death. Thus in the passing he leaves to mourn, his wife, his son Curtis, who lives near the home, his daughter Jessie who teaches in the Arcadia high school, one brother Ambrose, and two grandchildren, Norma Jean and Claralee and a host of friends. The music at Mr. Blakeslee's funeral was rendered by Mr. Lowell Finey accompanied by his wife. Pall bearers were U. G. Evans, E. C. Baird, R. E. Williams, Harry Kinsey, Brady Masters and Allie Wilson. The funeral arrangements were in charge of the Hastings Mortuary. Interment was in the Arcadia cemetery.

Friday afternoon at the Methodist church parlors, the ladies of the W. S. C. S. had decorated and prepared six birthday tables and their guests sat at the table that represented their birthday month. A large crowd attended and the money they received for the lunch is sent to the Chinese Relief Fund. This is an annual affair with the ladies.

The possibilities made by Legislature of establishing a local or county public health department for our health protection was the discussion at the meeting of the Progressive Club, Nov. 10 at the home of Hazel Weddel. A demonstration of clever additions to our letters and cards to boys and girls over seas was given by the leaders, Mesdames Webb, Christ and Marie Weddel.

BACK FORTY

We always supposed that most country girls wished they could be in towns or cities. After asking a class of twenty-seven rural girls this question, we were pleasantly surprised to learn that nearly all of them enjoy life on the farm, and prefer to live there. Many of these local young ladies wouldn't move to town for anything.

Their chief argument for dwelling in the country was that plenty of vegetables, meat and other fresh foods can be produced for farm use.

The point considered second in importance was that children on the farm have more room to play, and need less watching.

Other advantages of farm life are given below in the order in which they were mentioned:

More fresh air and sunshine in the country.

More privacy and room in the country.

Less noise in the country. Healthier in the country. Fuel can be grown on the farm.

Better water to drink on the farm.

More exercise on the farm. Cheaper light and water bills. Don't have to watch husband so closely.

Greater feeling of independence. Better place to raise children. No smoke to dirty up clothes on wash days.

Less affected by rationing. Nicer scenery and closer to nature.

Easier to keep pets. Lower cost of living.

On the other hand, it was admitted that town life also offers many advantages. So many, in fact, that we shall have to wait and list them in next week's column.

NOTICE OF HEARING. In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska. The State of Nebraska: To all persons interested in the estate of Hade H. Canfield, deceased, both creditors and heirs. You will take notice that Vivian L. Maynes on November 3, 1943, filed a petition alleging that Hade H. Canfield died intestate on June 1, 1892, being a resident of Valley County, Nebraska, and seized of the Southeast Quarter of Section 5 and the Northwest Quarter of Section 9, in Township 21, North, of Range 12, West of the 6th P. M., in Wheeler County, Nebraska, leaving as his sole and only heirs at law his widow, Anna Canfield, and his two children, Maude M. Canfield and Richard Canfield and that the petitioner is the present owner of the said real estate and praying for a determination of the time of the death of the said Hade H. Canfield, a determination of the heirs of the said deceased, the degree of kinship, and the right of descent of the real property belonging to said deceased, and a decree barring all claims against said estate. Said petition will be heard before said court on Wednesday, November 24, 1943, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the County Court Room in the Court House in Ord, Nebraska. Dated November 3, 1943. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge of Valley County, Nebraska. (SEAL) Nov. 4-3t.

NOTICE OF HEARING. Estate of Charles Hall, Deceased.

In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska. State of Nebraska,) ss. Valley County,)

All persons interested, creditors, heirs, next of kin, and other, take notice:

You are hereby notified that on the 29th day of October, 1943, The Lincoln Joint Stock Land Bank of Lincoln, Nebraska, owner in fee of the land described herein, filed its petition in the above matter, setting forth, among other things, that Charles Hall, a resident of Whiteside County, Illinois, died intestate therein on or about March or April, 1887, seized and possessed of land in Valley County, Nebraska, described as follows:

The Northeast Quarter (NE 1/4) of Section Nine (9), Township Seventeen (17), North, Range Thirteen (13), west of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska.

That the sole and only heirs at law and next of kin of said Charles Hall, were: Sissa Hall, his mother, and John Hall, Peter Hall and Albert Hall, also known as Albert L. Hall, his brothers;

That the prayer of said petitioner is for a decree determining the date and place of the death of said Charles Hall, the date of his residence at the time of his death, the heirs of said deceased, the degree of kinship of said heirs and the right of descent of the real property belonging to said deceased, an order barring claims against said estate and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable.

Hearing on said petition will be held in the County Court room at Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, on the 22nd day of November, 1943, at ten o'clock A. M.

Dated this 29th day of October, 1943. By the Court. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge. (SEAL) Nov. 4-3t.

tion alleging that Paul Hanson died intestate during the year 1934, being a resident of Valley County, Nebraska, and seized of the Southwest Quarter of Section 35, Township 20, North, Range 14, West of the 6th P. M. in Valley County, Nebraska, leaving as his sole and only heirs at law his widow, Linna Hanson, and his children, Ralph H. Hanson, also known as Ralph Hanson, Seton Hanson, also known as Seton S. Hanson, Pauline Hanson Cleary, also known as Pauline Cleary and Edmonds R. Hanson, also known as Edmonds Hanson, and that the petitioners are the present owners of the said real estate and praying for a determination of the time of the death of the said Paul Hanson, a determination of the heirs of the said deceased, the degree of kinship, and the right of descent of the real property belonging to said deceased, and a decree barring all claims against said estate. Said petition will be heard before said court on Thursday, December 2, 1943, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the County Court Room in the Court House in Ord, Nebraska. Dated November 6, 1943. JOHN L. Munn & Norman, Attorneys. NOTICE OF HEARING FOR DETERMINATION OF HEIRSHIP.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF J. M. FRANSDEN, DECEASED.

To all persons interested in said Estate, both Creditors and heirs, take notice that Agnes Andersen, daughter of the Deceased, has filed her Petition in said Court, alleging that J. M. Frandsen died intestate on or about April 24, 1940, being the owner of the Northeast Quarter of Section Twenty-Nine, in Township Twenty-North, Range Fourteen, West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska, except school house site and less 2.41 acres conveyed to North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District.

Said Petition further alleges that J. M. Frandsen left as his sole and only heir at law Agnes Andersen, a daughter; that the Petitioner is a daughter and the only heir at law of the Deceased. Said Petition prays, among other things, that the allegations of said Petition be found true, and further prays for a determination of the time of the death of said decedent, a determination of his heirs, the Degree of Kinship and the right of descent of the real property belonging to the deceased, for a Decree barring all claims against said Estate; that the decedent died intestate more than two years prior to the filing of said Petition, that no application has been made in the State of Nebraska for the appointment of an Administrator and that said Estate has not been administered and no Administrator has been appointed in the State of Nebraska; that the heir at law of the Deceased as above set forth shall be decreed to have succeeded to the ownership in fee simple of the above described real estate, and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable.

Said matter has been set for hearing before this Court in the County Court Room in Ord, Nebraska, on the Twenty-Ninth day of November, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Witness my hand and Official Seal this 9th day of November, 1943. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge of Valley County, Nebraska. (SEAL) Nov. 11-3t.

Notice to Hog Raisers

Through the local AAA committee, packing houses have asked their buyers in all mid-western communities to notify hog raisers hereafter to telephone buyers before hauling fat hogs to market, in order that packing operations may proceed in orderly manner. It is also requested that no fat hogs be marketed at weights under 200 lbs.

Due to the manpower shortage, packers are now able to process only 60% of the normal quantity of hogs, but by planning the shipment from all buying points it is believed that processing may be increased.

Call your buyer before you haul any hogs to market and you will be adding the war effort. Your cooperation will be appreciated by the U. S. D. A. War Board, the packing houses and by the undersigned Ord buyers.

Armistice Day Dance Nettec Legion $80.00

No formal observance of Armistice Day, the holiday to celebrate peace, was made in Ord in 1943, a war year.

In the evening, the American Legion and Auxiliary sponsored a dance, which yielded some $80 to add to their treasury.

The $18.75 war bond to be given away was won by Syl Pa-plernik, who promptly turned it back to be sold over and over. After the auctions were over the bond had earned $41, altogether, and K. W. Peterson was the final owner.

Hybrid Seed Corn

Let us have your confirmation on your Hybrid Corn orders as early as possible. It is necessary for us to have this confirmation before Dec. 1st. Many numbers are getting very short.

White Hybrid

We have a very limited amount of a White Hybrid that is suitable for this district. Try a bushel of this white hybrid for your lighter soil.

Pop Corn and Sweet Corn

We are in the market for your popcorn and sweet corn. Come in and see us and bring us a sample of your sweet corn.

Brooder Stoves

We have a full line of Poultry and Livestock feeds at all times. Put your Laying Flock on our Laying Mash and get results that will please you at reasonable prices for your feeds.

Feeds

We have a definite promise for a small amount of Brooders to be delivered to us early in 1944. Come in and let us quote you a price on a Brooder and 500 Baby Chicks. We are now booking orders for your Baby Chicks for spring orders. Remember how hard it was to get chicks when they were wanted last year. We have every reason to believe that they will be harder to get this coming year than last year. If in the market for Brooder and Chicks or either one, let us quote you.

Notice to Hog Raisers

Through the local AAA committee, packing houses have asked their buyers in all mid-western communities to notify hog raisers hereafter to telephone buyers before hauling fat hogs to market, in order that packing operations may proceed in orderly manner. It is also requested that no fat hogs be marketed at weights under 200 lbs.

Due to the manpower shortage, packers are now able to process only 60% of the normal quantity of hogs, but by planning the shipment from all buying points it is believed that processing may be increased.

Call your buyer before you haul any hogs to market and you will be adding the war effort. Your cooperation will be appreciated by the U. S. D. A. War Board, the packing houses and by the undersigned Ord buyers.

Waste Paper, Rags, Are Being Collected Now for War Needs

Schools Contest in Paper Drive, Winner in Each Co. Will Receive Big Flag.

The Omaha World-Herald is sponsoring a three-week waste paper collection contest among schools. Starting date is Monday, Nov. 29, and the contest continues through Saturday, Dec. 18th. The school in each county collecting the largest amount of waste paper per student will be awarded a beautiful 3x5 foot American flag.

America's paper mills are facing a shortage of waste paper, which is used in the production of paper and cardboard cartons. Since so many cartons are shipped overseas and none of them sent back, the paper mills must have help. Some mills have already been forced to close.

Although the waste paper contest is for only three weeks, the paper collection program will continue for the duration of the war.

Paper should be clean, folded flat, tied in bundles. Old magazines, newspapers, cardboard and corrugated cardboard is wanted. A list of companies buying paper and the prices offered can be obtained from the salvage committee.

A drive to collect discarded clothing and rags was begun Nov. 22, to continue until Dec. 4. The War Production Board sponsored this drive. The Auxiliary ladies in Ord and Arcadia and the Young Ladies Club of North Loup have been asked to take charge of this collection. Only discarded clothing is wanted, clothing the owner no longer intends to wear. Any clothing which can be used now or in the future is not wanted.

Unwearable clothing which can be reduced to rags is requested, donors being asked to brush woolen garments and see that cotton garments and rags are clean. Mending is not necessary.

Information as to the collection depot will be in The Quiz next week, meantime clothing can be collected and made ready to give. Ten percent of the proceeds of the clothing collection will be held in Valley county to be available for relief work when needed.

Waste fats are also wanted. Two red ration points will be given for every pound of waste fat turned in for salvage, according to the radio reports, says Myra Thorngate Barber, chairman of the woman's division of the Valley county salvage committee.

Diocesan Council Held Here Nov. 17

Some 85 ladies attended the district meeting of the diocesan council of Catholic women and the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine held on Wednesday, Nov. 17 at the Knights of Columbus hall in Ord. Representatives attended from Greeley, Scotia, Ericson, Boleszyn, Geranium, Burwell, Sargent and Ord. The session opened with a 12:30 o'clock luncheon of nice appointments, planned and served by the Catholic ladies of Ord.

At two p. m. Miss Ida Foster, of Greeley, district chairman, opened the meeting. Rev. Thomas Siudowski gave an address of welcome. With "Juvenile Delinquency, its causes and remedies" as the feature topic, Mrs. E. L. Vogelanz read a paper on this subject, written by Miss Katherine Hennessy, Rapid City, S. D. A message prepared by the Most Rev. Bishop S. V. Bona, unable to be present, was read by Rev. Murray of Burwell.

Miss Helen Peets, Sidney diocesan president, gave suggestions for improving the study club work on the text "Safeguarding the Home Front." Msgr. Link, Sidney moderator of the D. C. C. W. spoke on "Building and Safeguarding the Home." Miss Marie Kusek of Elyria played two musical numbers. Benediction concluded the meeting.

Grants Two Divorces. District Judge E. G. Kroger of Grand Island was in Ord Thursday, granting two divorces that day. One divorce was that of Leonore Leonard vs. Ross Leonard; the second that of Alberta Bleach vs. Everett Bleach. The Hulinsky action will come up at the next term of court.

News of Our Fighting Men

From Sunny Italy.

Sgt. Russell Johnson, 3rd platoon, 48th QM, APO 464, N. Y. City, sends his wife and young son a long and informative letter, full of interesting items about "somewhere in Italy." "I went to church yesterday morning in town. They have a beautiful church inside, with an organ up behind in the balcony. It is a real old building, like all the buildings are over here. They are usually pretty nice inside, with marble floors. They have very little lumber here so don't build with it. I don't think I have seen a wooden building since I came overseas, it will seem good to see some once more.

"They have a lot more trees and olive groves here than in Africa or Sicily, and quite a lot of orchards in the valleys. Olive oil is used to cook with in place of lard but it is quite expensive to buy. We bought a quart of it one day for a dollar, and I don't like the taste of the food so well, so peculiar.

"We are bivouacked right beside a house here and treated very nice. We had the lady make us Italian spaghetti for supper one night, it was really delicious for a change. We gave her all the material to make it with and then some stuff for making it. We are going to have cherry pies for dinner that she is making.

"They have a little boy three or four years old, and we are all trying to teach him English. He is doing well all ready and maybe we will succeed. It seems good to see young children around, and we all get a lot of fun out of him. I suppose he will really be ornery by the time we leave. I guess I will really spoil Lyle when I get home. How are you going to like that? Haha.

"I get quite a kick out of these people. The women usually do the hard work over here, sometimes you see a woman walking along with a big bundle of hay on her head and the men coming along with nothing at all. Some of the women carry an enormous load and they always have it on their head and sometimes with something in both hands. They even carry five gallon jugs of water balanced on their heads and I have my first time to see them drop anything.

"The farmers use mostly oxen and a wooden plow which is handmade and queerly constructed. It is a long way from being civilized even though it is an old country. The people are very religious, of Catholic religion. They dress similar to back home but of course since the war they can't get clothes and everything is so high.

Benda Appointed on Draft Board

F. J. L. Benda, of Ord, has been appointed to the Valley county selective service board, taking the place left vacant by the resignation of Will McLain, who left recently for the west coast. Other board members are Chairman W. J. Ramsey, jr., and Glen Johnson.

Approval of Mr. Benda's appointment by state officials is expected upon receipt of which he will be sworn in and resume his duties with the other board members.

Army Trucks Coming to Load Scrap Iron

Emil Kokes, speaking for Chairman R. Clare Clement who is quarantined because Mrs. Clement has scarlet fever, states that a car will be on the track to load scrap iron from the vicinity of Ord on Dec. 2nd, 3rd and 4th. At that time Thomas Rasmussen will be in Ord to buy scrap iron, and any farmer having scrap iron to load is asked to notify the Triple A office.

Hauling equipment from the Grand Island and Kearney airbases will be available for bringing scrap to town. There will be a 20 ton truck with power crane, for heavy stuff, as well as several others. The army trucks will go to St. Paul Nov. 30, to Greeley Dec. 1, Loup City Dec. 2 and Ord Dec. 3.

One carload of scrap was shipped out of Ord last week, and several more will be going soon, unless inclement weather holds up the loading program as it is scheduled above.

Mira Valley Boy Killed Monday as Truck Hits Train

Lyle Vance, 19, Trapped in Burning Truck After a Crash Near Omaha.

Lyle Vance, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Vance, lost his life Monday night when a truck he was driving crashed into a freight train ten miles west of Omaha and burned. Fourteen head of cattle also burned in the wreck and the truck was a total loss.

Three box cars were derailed and one burned. The Omaha fire department sent two trucks to the fire.

The Vance family live on one of the Arnold Brethauer farms and Lyle was driving a truck load of cattle to the Omaha market for Mr. Brethauer, who was about a mile behind with a second truck load.

The truck struck the freight train at a crossing on the cut-off west of South Omaha. It was set afire immediately and burned so rapidly that nothing could be done by trainmen or truckers to rescue the cattle or extinguish the flames. Three cattle, crippled in the collision, lived and were hauled to Omaha. Mr. Brethauer had liability and truck insurance but no insurance on the cattle.

Young Vance, it is thought, was killed in the collision and did not burn to death, as post-mortem examination disclosed that his head was crushed.

Responsibility for the collision has not been fixed, but it is thought that he failed to see the train before he struck it.

Besides his parents, Lyle leaves two brothers and three sisters, all younger.

3 Boys Have Wild Ride on Load of Hay

A wild ride for three small boys, and a good deal of excitement was all that happened Monday afternoon when something much more serious could have occurred. The two small Beck boys, Billy and Jackie, and a little Maurice boy climbed on the back of a truckload of baled hay as it stood in the street in Ord Monday thinking they would get a ride to the alfalfa mill. But the truck went right on past the mill. The Beck boys hung on till they got to North Loup when they dropped off and the third boy rode on.

One of the Beck boys had a bad bump on his head and the other was "seasick" but otherwise they were unhurt when Marshal Harlan Brenneck brought them to Ord. The third boy went back through North Loup on the LeRoy Anderson transport later, as Mr. Brenneck had telephoned St. Paul to have the hay trucker stopped there. Luckily, the small Maurice boy was able to cling to the big load of hay until he was taken down in that city.

—Mrs. F. A. Barta left Sunday for California, where she will spend a couple of months with her daughter and their families at Oakland and Napa.

Ord Fortunate on Coal, Has Plenty for Present Needs

Yards Limiting Deliveries; Stock Piles Low, but More Coal is Expected Soon.

Ord is more fortunate than most small cities when it comes to fuel, a survey reveals. There is enough coal in Ord to keep everyone warm, and Ord schools will continue to operate warmly while schools in some Nebraska towns have been forced to close because of the fuel shortage.

Big reserve piles of coal for the hungry stokers at both grade and high school buildings will enable the schools to operate at a temperature of 72 degrees probably through February, Superintendent C. C. Thompson states. Another car of coal is ordered for the use of the schools and will undoubtedly be on hand by that time. School coal was ordered and delivered early last summer, fortunately and foresightedly.

At the sack yards in Ord, stock piles did not get built up over the summer as they usually do. But by spreading a small supply of coal, permitting each customer to have one ton, the supplies have been adequate so far. A government regulation states that householders having a 30-day supply may not get any until all other orders are filled first. Some five carloads are on order but have been delayed by strikes and transportation problems, but on the whole the fuel situation is well in hand.

Rudolph Koupal of the Koupal and Barstow firm, had a car in Monday and Tuesday, most of which was delivered in half-ton quantities to those who needed it. Some Ord citizens who had bins full wanted to order more, but their orders could not be taken if they had a 30-day supply, until orders were filled for those actually needing coal.

Most householders heeded the government requests to lay in winter supplies early, and so as a matter of fact the community is in better shape to face winter cold than ever.

Ten Flyers Bail Out from Bomber

Much excitement was apparent in Ord Saturday night and Sunday when it was first reported that an army bomber had crashed in the sand hill region to the north, which rumor was later amended to say that ten flyers had bailed out of the airplane but that the plane itself had reached the Grand Island air base safely.

While it is difficult to trace down the various rumors and determine facts, this latter report seems to be the truth. No announcement of the affair has been made by the army but it seems to be definitely established that a four-motored bomber had motor trouble while flying southward to the Grand Island base on a training flight. Three of the planes four motors stopped and the pilot ordered his crew of ten to bail out.

The first man to parachute down landed on a ranch south of Atkinson and, wrapping himself in his parachute for warmth spent the night in the open. Another man landed near the Tommy Connors ranch. Several others landed near the old Dickhute ranch and the Elmer Halllock place. Searching parties were organized and soon all the missing flyers had been located. Staff cars and planes from the Grand Island base joined the search. Sunday morning the men were returned to the base in army cars and trucks. None was injured, as far as the Quiz can learn.

Mrs. Burt Preston Dies at Mitchell

From Mitchell, Neb., comes word of the death of Mrs. Burt Preston on Nov. 14, at the age of 59 years. She leaves to mourn her husband, who lived in this territory for many years. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Thompson of Yoder, Wyo., as well as five sons and two daughters, a sister, a brother and seven grandchildren.

An especially esteemed member of the community and the church, she was known for her devotion to her children and grandchildren. Three sons and a grandson are serving in the armed forces.

Burt Preston is a cousin of all branches of Bursons in this section. His parents are still living and quite well. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Burson went to Mitchell Wednesday to attend the funeral.

Lt. Severson Gunner as Well as Bombardier

Lt. Richard "Buck" Severson, of Ord, has a new job now. He is gunner as well as bombardier in a new type of plane having a nose turret, he writes E. L. Kokes, of Ord. Lt. Severson has been stationed at Biggs Field, Texas, since the first part of September, and the ten-man crew of his plane is shown in this photo. The Ord boy is standing at the right in the back row. Assigned to the new plane, he expected to complete training by the middle of November and be assigned to overseas duty soon afterward.

Mortensen Chosen President of Ord Chamber 4th Term

Noll Elected Vice-President at Meeting Friday; Sign up for Business Survey.

C. J. Mortensen was elected president of the Ord chamber of commerce to serve a fourth consecutive term Friday evening, at the annual meeting of that group held in the K. of C. club rooms in the Bailey building. He was the only nominee for the place presented by a committee headed by J. A. Kovanda, and his unanimous reelection showed the satisfaction chamber members generally feel in his leadership.

Elected vice-president was Robert Noll over the only other nominee, E. S. Murray, and elected members of the board of directors were C. C. Dale and C. C. Thompson.

In a discussion which preceded the election members ratified an agreement entered into previously by directors with the Bentley System, an industrial engineering firm in Chicago, to make a business survey of Ord and vicinity and determine its possibilities as a location for industries seeking new plant locations after the war.

Decentralization of industry in the post-war period is a probability because of labor problems in the larger cities and Ord will be a good location for some plant that utilizes agricultural products that can be raised here, the chamber believes. The Bentley group will act as a contact organization between Ord and such manufacturers or processors.

Other matters of business were discussed and achievements of the year were outlined in the reports of officers. A good attendance of members enjoyed lunch together at the close.

Popcorn Grower's Widow, 84, Is Dead

North Loup — (Special) — Friends here have learned of the death Nov. 9 at San Dimas, Calif., of Mrs. George Smith, 84, widow of the man who introduced popcorn as a commercial crop into the Loup valley region. Her husband died three years ago.

The Smiths came here in 1886 where Mr. Smith engaged in a real estate and loan agency and later was a partner in the Loup Valley bank. In 1891, envisioning the possibilities of popcorn in this valley, he planted 40 acres and harvested a fine crop, this being the first popcorn grown commercially here and establishing the popcorn industry in the vicinity of this village.

Mrs. Smith leaves two sons, Fred, of San Dimas, and Lloyd, of Los Angeles.

More UWF Reports. Three more schools and the amounts they raised for the war fund drive are the German Lutheran parochial school of St. John's $43.40; district No. 2, $23, and the school taught by Miss Leota Crosby $52.50. The last named was omitted from the list published last week, reports Miss McClatchey.

—Miss Mary Beranek will leave Thanksgiving day for Georgia, where her fiance, Dale Bradley, is stationed.

Renewing Drivers' Licenses Slowly

In Ord last Thursday to conduct routine examinations for issuance of new drivers' licenses, Patrolman Guy Smith stated that Valley county drivers are failing to renew their driving permits as they should and that wholesale arrests are going to be the only alternative if this trend continues.

At this time two years ago 1,600 renewal permits had been issued, discloses County Treasurer George A. Satterfield, while to date only 1,300 have been issued this fall. Most licenses to drive were issued in September, October or November originally and were good for two years. Therefore, many drivers are operating without licenses at the present time and in case of accident might be in sad difficulties.

The law allows a 90 day period after expiration of license during which it may be renewed without examination but the expired license is not good during this grace period. After 90 days following expiration, an examination must be given by the patrolman before another license may be issued.

Safest thing for Valley countians to do is to look at the expiration date on their driving licenses and get them renewed at once if they have expired or are about to expire.

Rotarians Have Farmers as Guests

Dr. Keim Speaks and Shows Movies of Foreign Trip Made Before the War.

Seventy-five Ord Rotarians and farmer guests sat down to an enjoyable dinner served in the basement of the Methodist church, and afterward enjoyed a program of speaking and movies by Dr. F. E. Keim, head of the agronomy department at University of Nebraska college of agriculture.

Before the war Dr. Keim attended a meeting of agronomists held in England and afterward toured Wales, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries, Germany and France, taking movies as he went, and he showed the movies for the entertainment of the Rotarians and their guests.

Methods of soil building and erosion control practiced in the foreign countries was the special theme of Dr. Keim's program. He was introduced by Evan Hartman, soil conservationist stationed here. Dr. L. C. Newell, another member of the agronomy department, also was a guest.

In his introductory remarks Dr. Keim spoke highly of a former Ord boy, now Dr. Robert Cushing, of the genetics department at Cornell University. Dr. Cushing was his assistant for a time after graduating from the Nebraska college of agriculture.

The Ord Rotary club makes a practice of entertaining farmers about once a year, each member inviting one farmer to be his guest, and the meeting Monday evening was no less enjoyable than former meetings have been.

Fire at Lewis Home. Fire originating in the apartment occupied by two of the Ord high school teachers did considerable damage to partitions, floors and ceiling at the Keith Lewis home Wednesday. Clothes owned by the teachers were destroyed also.

Chanticleers Beat Lexington 27 to 0 to Close '43 Season

Ord Team Unbeaten in Eight Games, Scored on Only by Burwell Longhorns.

The Chanticleers of Ord high school must have heard some of the confidence stories coming from Lexington last week, for Friday night on the Lexington field they played their finest football of the season to win 27-0 and end 1943 with an unbeaten record.

Champions of the 3-Valleys conference! Undefeated in eight games! Scored 180 points! Scored on only once during 1943, the Longhorns of Burwell having negotiated a lone touchdown!

Those are some of the highlights of the Chanticleers' splendid 1943 football season to which the Lexington game Friday was a fitting climax.

The Lexington Minute Men had been beaten before but only by large schools and they had never been routed. Ord, although undefeated, had made its record principally at the expense of smaller schools, and the Lexington boys were sure they could win.

But soon after the game started it was apparent they were mistaken and that it was Ord's night, for the Chanticleers took the ball and marched relentlessly into Lexington's territory before they lost the pigskin on a fumble.

First Ord score came as the second period got under way another steady drive taking the ball to the Lexington 3-yard line where Finley plunged over. Wilson kicked the extra point. Later in the same period Hurlbert scored on a reverse from the 5-yard line, after a forward pass from Wilson to Stewart advanced the ball to that point from the 30, and Hurlbert tallied the extra point on the same reverse making the score 14-0 in Ord's favor.

Ord scored twice more in the second half, both times on plunges by Wilson. A long 80 yard drive without losing possession of the ball was responsible for the first touchdown by him, and consistent football preceded his second touchdown. One extra point was kicked, on a missed, and the final score became 27 to 0.

Lexington threatened only in the second quarter when the reeled off a 30-yard run, their best gain of the evening, but Ord took over and soon ran the ball out of danger. Not one during the game was Ord forced to punt and the first down stood at 19 for Ord and 5 for Lexington, 2 of the latter being made by the penalty rule.

Coach Roscoe Tolly is authority for the statement that never has he seen a team try harder and deserve to win more completely than Ord on Friday night. It was a clear-cut victory for the best-coached, best-trained team. The 1943 season was one of the most successful in Ord high history, though losses from the 1942 squad made the start look dark indeed. New men rounded into shape to fill vacancies as the team improved from game to game remarkably fast. Six seniors played their last football in the Lexington game, it group including Hurlbert, Sove and Wilson, in the backfield Rose, center, Beran guard and Kovanda, tackle.

With closing of the football season thoughts are turning to basketball and since the fir game is less than two weeks away practice is starting early. The schedule follows:

- 1943-44 Basketball Schedule.
- Dec. 10-Hastings at Hastings
- Dec. 17-Sargent at Ord
- Dec. 21-Burwell at Burwell
- Jan. 7-Arcadia at Ord
- Jan. 14-Loup City at Loup City
- Jan. 21-Broken Bow at Ord
- Jan. 28-St. Paul at St. Paul
- Feb. 4-Grand Island at Ord
- Feb. 11-Conference Tournament
- Feb. 18-Burwell at Ord
- Feb. 22-Albon at Ord

Waste Paper, Rags, Are Being Collected Now for War Needs

Schools Contest in Paper Drive, Winner in Each County Will Receive Big Flag.

The Omaha World-Herald is sponsoring a three-week waste paper collection contest among schools. Starting date is Monday, Nov. 29, and the contest continues through Saturday, Dec. 18th. The school in each county collecting the largest amount of waste paper per student will be awarded a beautiful 3x5 foot American flag.

America's paper mills are facing a shortage of waste paper, which is used in the production of paper and cardboard cartons. Since so many cartons are shipped overseas and none of them sent back, the paper mills must have help. Some mills have already been forced to close.

Although the waste paper contest is for only three weeks, the paper collection program will continue for the duration of the war.

Paper should be clean, folded flat, tied in bundles. Old magazines, newspapers, cardboard and corrugated cardboard is wanted. A list of companies buying paper and the prices offered can be obtained from the salvage committee.

A drive to collect discarded clothing and rags was begun Nov. 22, to continue until Dec. 4. The War Production Board sponsored this drive. The Auxiliary ladies in Ord and Arcadia and the Young Ladies Club of North Loup have been asked to take charge of this collection.

Only discarded clothing is wanted, clothing the owner no longer intends to wear. Any clothing which can be used now or in the future is not wanted.

Unwearable clothing which can be reduced to rags is requested, donors being asked to brush woolen garments and see that cotton garments and rags are clean. Mending is not necessary.

Items not wanted are shoes, rubbers, overshoes, boots, galoshes, slippers, leather leggings or gloves, hats, caps, neckties, collars, garters, garter belts, suspenders, belts, girdles, corsets, brassieres, veils, spats, rubber coats, diapers and masquerade costumes.

Information as to the collection depot will be in The Quiz next week. meantime clothing can be collected and made ready to give. Ten percent of the proceeds of the clothing collection will be held in Valley county to be available for relief work when needed.

Waste fats are also wanted. Two red ration points will be given for every pound of waste fat turned in for salvage, according to the radio reports, says Myra Thorngate Barber, chairman of the woman's division of the Valley county salvage committee.

Diocesan Council Held Here Nov. 17

Some 85 ladies attended the district meeting of the diocesan council of Catholic women and the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine held on Wednesday, Nov. 17 at the Knights of Columbus hall in Ord. Representatives attended from Greeley, Scotia, Ericson, Boleszyn, Geranium, Burwell, Sargent and Ord. The session opened with a 12:30 o'clock luncheon of nice appointments, planned and served by the Catholic ladies of Ord.

At two p. m. Miss Ida Foster, of Greeley, district chairman, opened the meeting. Rev. Thomas Siudowski gave an address of welcome. With "Juvenile Delinquency, its causes and remedies" as the feature topic, Mrs. E. L. Vogelanz read a paper on this subject, written by Miss Katherine Hennessy, Rapid City, S. D. A message prepared by the Most Rev. Bishop S. V. Bona, unable to be present, was read by Rev. Murray of Burwell.

Miss Helen Peets, Sidney diocesan president, gave suggestions for improving the study club work on the text "Safeguarding the Home Front." Msgr. Link, Sidney moderator of the D. C. C. W. spoke on "Building and Safeguarding the Home." Miss Marie Kusek of Elyria played two musical numbers. Benediction concluded the meeting.

Grants Two Divorces. District Judge E. G. Kroger of Grand Island was in Ord Thursday, granting two divorces that day. One divorce was that of Leonore Leonard vs. Ross Leonard; the second that of Alberta Bleach vs. Everett Bleach. The Hulinsky action will come up at the next term of court.

News of Our Fighting Men

From Sunny Italy.

Sgt. Russell Johnson, 3rd platoon, 48th QM, APO 464, N. Y. City, sends his wife and young son a long and informative letter, full of interesting items about "somewhere in Italy." "I went to church yesterday morning in town. They have a beautiful church inside, with an organ up behind in the balcony. It is a real old building, like all the buildings are over here. They are usually pretty nice inside, with marble floors. They have very little lumber here so don't build with it. I don't think I have seen a wooden building since I came overseas, it will seem good to see some once more.

"They have a lot more trees and olive groves here than in Africa or Sicily, and quite a lot of orchards in the valleys. Olive oil is used to cook with in place of lard but it is quite expensive to buy. We bought a quart of it one day for a dollar, and I don't like the taste of the food so well, so peculiar.

"We are bivouacked right beside a house here and treated very nice. We had the lady make us Italian spaghetti for supper one night, it was really delicious for a change. We gave her all the material to make it with and then some stuff for making it. We are going to have cherry pies for dinner that she is making.

"They have a little boy three or four years old, and we are all trying to teach him English. He is doing well all ready and maybe we will succeed. It seems good to see young children around, and we all get a lot of fun out of him. I suppose he will really be ornery by the time we leave. I guess I will really spoil Lyle when I get home. How are you going to like that? Haha.

"I get quite a kick out of these people. The women usually do the hard work over here, sometimes you see a woman walking along with a big bundle of hay on her head and the men coming along with nothing at all. Some of the women carry an enormous load and they always have it on their head and sometimes with something in both hands. They even carry five gallon jugs of water balanced on their heads and I have my first time to see them drop anything.

"The farmers use mostly oxen and a wooden plow which is handmade and queerly constructed. It is a long way from being civilized even though it is an old country. The people are very religious, of Catholic religion. They dress similar to back home but of course since the war they can't get clothes and everything is so high.

"Yesterday these folks here

AAA Elections to Start This Week

First Meeting Friday Eve at Elyria Town Hall, Others to Follow Daily.

Annual precinct meetings for the election of AAA county committeemen will be held in Valley county during the next ten days, beginning Friday, Nov. 26 in Elyria township. This meeting will be held in the town hall at 8:00 p. m. County officers will be present at each meeting to explain matters to be voted on.

Other meetings already scheduled include: Ord and Springdale townships at Legion hall, Nov. 27. Arcadia and Yale townships, in Arcadia, Nov. 29. Geranium township, National hall, Nov. 29. Vinton township, Cottonwood school, Nov. 30. Eureka township, Jungman hall, Nov. 30. Noble township, Brick school, Dec. 1. Michigan township, Fairplay school, Dec. 1. Liberty township, Pleasant valley school, Dec. 2. All these will be evening meetings. Dates of meetings in other precincts will be announced next week.

Benda Appointed on Draft Board

F. J. L. Benda, of Ord, has been appointed to the Valley county selective service board, taking the place left vacant by the resignation of Will McLain, who left recently for the west coast. Other board members are Chairman W. J. Ramsey, Jr., and Glen Johnson.

Army Trucks Coming to Load Scrap Iron

Emil Kokes, speaking for Chairman R. Clare Clement who is quarantined because Mrs. Clement has scarlet fever, states that a car will be on the track to load scrap iron from the vicinity of Ord on Dec. 2nd, 3rd and 4th. At that time Thomas Rasmussen will be in Ord to buy scrap iron, and any farmer having scrap iron to load is asked to notify the Triple A office.

Hauling equipment from the Grand Island and Kearney airbases will be available for bringing scrap to town. There will be a 20 ton truck with power crane, for heavy stuff, as well as several others. The army trucks will go to St. Paul, Nov. 30, to Greeley Dec. 1, Loup City Dec. 2 and Ord Dec. 3.

One carload of scrap was shipped out of Ord last week, and several more will be going soon, unless inclement weather holds up the loading program as it is scheduled above.

Ord Fortunate on Coal, Has Plenty for Present Needs

Yards Limiting Deliveries; Stock Piles Low, but More Coal is Expected Soon.

Ord is more fortunate than most small cities when it comes to fuel, a survey reveals. There is enough coal in Ord to keep everyone warm, and Ord schools will continue to operate warmly while schools in some Nebraska towns have been forced to close because of the fuel shortage.

Big reserve piles of coal for the hungry stokers at both grade and high school buildings will enable the schools to operate at a temperature of 72 degrees probably through February, Superintendent C. C. Thompson states. Another car of coal is ordered for the use of the schools and will undoubtedly be on hand by that time. School coal was ordered and delivered early last summer, fortunately and foresightedly.

At the Sack yards in Ord, stock piles did not get built up over the summer as they usually do. But by spreading a small supply of coal, permitting each customer to have one ton, the supplies have been adequate so far. A government regulation states that householders having a 30-day supply may not get any until all other orders are filled first. Some five carloads are on order but have been delayed by strikes and transportation problems, but on the whole the fuel situation is well in hand.

Rudolph Koupal of the Koupal and Barstow firm, had a car in Monday and Tuesday, most of which was delivered in half-ton quantities to those who needed it. Some Ord citizens who had bins full wanted to order more, but their orders could not be taken if they had a 30-day supply, until orders were filled for those actually needing coal.

Most householders heeded the government requests to lay in winter supplies early, and so as a matter of fact the community is in better shape to face winter cold than ever.

Ten Flyers Bail Out from Bomber

Much excitement was apparent in Ord Saturday night and Sunday when it was first reported that an army bomber had crashed in the sand hill region to the north, which rumor was later amended to say that ten flyers had bailed out of the airplane but that the plane itself had reached the Grand Island air base safely.

While it is difficult to trace down the various rumors and determine facts, this latter report seems to be the truth. No announcement of the affair has been made by the army but it seems to be definitely established that a four-motored bomber had motor trouble while flying southward to the Grand Island base on a training flight. Three of the planes four motors stopped and the pilot ordered his crew of ten to bail out.

The first man to parachute down landed on a ranch south of Atkinson and, wrapping himself in his parachute for warmth spent the night in the open. Another man landed near the Tommy Connors ranch. Several others landed near the old Dickhute ranch and the Elmer Hallock place. Searching parties were organized and soon all the missing flyers had been located.

Staff cars and planes from the Grand Island base joined the search. Sunday morning the men were returned to the base in army cars and trucks. None was injured, as far as the Quiz can learn.

Mrs. Burt Preston Dies at Mitchell

From Mitchell, Neb., comes word of the death of Mrs. Burt Preston on Nov. 14, at the age of 59 years. She leaves to mourn her husband, who lived in this territory for many years. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Thompson of Yoder, Wyo., as well as five sons and two daughters, a sister, a brother and seven grandchildren.

An especially esteemed member of the community and the church, she was known for her devotion to her children and grandchildren. Three sons and a grandson are serving in the armed forces.

Burt Preston is a cousin of all branches of Bursons in this section. His parents are still living and quite well. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Burson went to Mitchell Wednesday to attend the funeral.

Lt. Severson Gunner as Well as Bombardier

Lt. Richard "Buck" Severson, of Ord, has a new job now. He is gunner as well as bombardier in a new type of plane having a nose turret, he writes E. L. Kokes, of Ord. Lt. Severson has been stationed at Biggs Field, Texas, since the first part of September, and the ten-man crew of his plane is shown in this photo. The Ord boy is standing at the right in the back row. Assigned to the new plane, he expected to complete training by the middle of November and be assigned to overseas duty soon afterward.

Mortensen Chosen President of Ord Chamber 4th Term

Noll Elected Vice-President at Meeting Friday; Sign up for Business Survey.

C. J. Mortensen was elected president of the Ord chamber of commerce to serve a fourth consecutive term Friday evening, at the annual meeting of that group held in the K. of C. club rooms in the Bailey building. He was the only nominee for the place presented by a committee headed by J. A. Kovanda, and his unanimous reelection showed the satisfaction chamber members generally feel in his leadership.

Elected vice-president was Robert Noll over the only other nominee, E. S. Murray, and elected members of the board of directors were C. C. Dale and C. C. Thompson.

In a discussion which preceded the election members ratified an agreement entered into previously by directors with the Bentley System, an industrial engineering firm in Chicago, to make a business survey of Ord and vicinity and determine its possibilities as a location for industries seeking new plant locations after the war.

Decentralization of industry in the post-war period is a probability because of labor problems in the larger cities and Ord will be a good location for some plant that utilizes agricultural products that can be raised here, the chamber believes. The Bentley group will act as a contact organization between Ord and such manufacturers or processors.

Other matters of business were discussed and achievements of the year were outlined in the reports of officers. A good attendance of members enjoyed lunch together at the close.

Popcorn Grower's Widow, 84, Is Dead

North Loup — (Special) — Friends here have learned of the death Nov. 9 at San Dimas, Calif., of Mrs. George Smith, 84, widow of the man who introduced popcorn as a commercial crop into the Loup valley region. Her husband died three years ago.

The Smiths came here in 1886 where Mr. Smith engaged in a real estate and loan agency and later was a partner in the Loup Valley bank. In 1891, envisioning the possibilities of popcorn in this valley, he planted 40 acres and harvested a fine crop, this being the first popcorn grown commercially here and establishing the popcorn industry in the vicinity of this village.

Mrs. Smith leaves two sons, Fred, of San Dimas, and Lloyd, of Los Angeles.

More UWF Reports. Three more schools and the amounts they raised for the war fund drive are the German Lutheran, parochial school of St. John's $43.40; district No. 2, $23, and the school taught by Miss Leota Crosby $52.50. The last named was omitted from the list published last week, reports Miss McClatchey.

Miss Mary Beranek will leave Thanksgiving day for Georgia, where her fiance, Dale Bradley, is stationed.

Ord Team Unbeaten in Eight Games, Scored on Only by Burwell Longhorns.

The Chanticleers of Ord high school must have heard some of the confidence stories coming from Lexington last week, for Friday night on the Lexington field they played their finest football of the season to win 27-0 and end 1943 with an unbeaten record.

Champions of the 3-Valleys conference! Undefeated in eight games! Scored 180 points! Scored on only once during 1943, the Longhorns of Burwell having negotiated a lone touchdown!

Those are some of the highlights of the Chanticleers' splendid 1943 football season to which the Lexington game Friday was a fitting climax.

The Lexington Minute Men had been beaten before but only by large schools and they had never been routed. Ord, although undefeated, had made its record principally at the expense of smaller schools, and the Lexington boys were sure they could win.

But soon after the game started it was apparent they were mistaken and that it was Ord's night, for the Chanticleers took the ball and marched relentlessly into Lexington's territory before they lost the pigskin on a fumble.

First Ord score came as the second period got under way, another steady drive taking the ball to the Lexington 3-yard line where Finley plunged over. Wilson kicked the extra point. Later in the same period Hurbert scored on a reverse from the 5-yard line, after a forward pass from Wilson to Stewart advanced the ball to that point from the 30, and Hurbert tallied the extra point on the same reverse, making the score 14-0 in Ord's favor.

Ord scored twice more in the second half, both times on plunges by Wilson. A long 80-yard drive without losing possession of the ball was responsible for the first touchdown. One extra point was kicked, one missed, and the final score became 27-0.

Lexington threatened only in the second quarter when they reeled off a 30-yard run, their best gain of the evening, but Ord took over and soon ran the ball out of danger. Not once during the game was Ord forced to punt and the first downs stood at 19 for Ord and 5 for Lexington, 2 of the latter being made by the penalty rule.

Coach Roscoe Tolly is authority for the statement that never has he seen a team try harder and deserve to win more completely than Ord on Friday night. It was a clear-cut victory for the best-coached, best-trained team.

The 1943 season was one of the most successful in Ord high's history, though losses from the 1942 squad made the start look dark indeed. New men rounded into shape to fill vacancies and the team improved from game to game remarkably fast. Six seniors played their last football in the Lexington game, the group including Harbert, Sowers and Wilson, in the backfield, Rose, center, Beran guard and Kovanda, tackle.

With closing of the football season thoughts are turning to basketball and since the first game is less than two weeks away practice is starting early. The schedule follows:

- 1943-44 Basketball Schedule.
- Dec. 10-Hastings at Hastings.
- Dec. 17-Sargent at Ord.
- Dec. 21-Burwell at Burwell.
- Jan. 7-Arcadia at Ord.
- Jan. 14-Loup City at Loup City.
- Jan. 21-Broken Bow at Ord.
- Jan. 28-St. Paul at St. Paul.
- Feb. 4-Grand Island at Ord.
- Feb. 11-Conference Tournament.
- Feb. 18-Burwell at Ord.
- Feb. 22-Albion at Ord.
- Mar. 3-Class A Tournaments.
- Mar. 10-State Tournament.

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Hoosen left on the Saturday afternoon bus for San Diego, Calif., where they expect to spend the winter, returning in the spring to again take up their work on their truck farm. This will be the third winter Mr. and Mrs. Van Hoosen have spent in California, each year working at a defence plant. This winter they will go back to the jobs they left last spring with United Aircraft. Another attraction this winter will be a new grandson that arrived in June at the home of their daughter, Charlotte and her sailor husband.

Mrs. Albert Babcock and Belva were Saturday dinner guests in the Erlo Babcock home, Mrs. Babcock and Phyllis taking them to their home in Scotia in the afternoon.

Clair Barber returned from Lincoln on the Saturday evening bus.

Mrs. Frances Maxson and Mrs. Sylvia Brannon will be guests of Mrs. Lettie Buten for dinner Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fuller will entertain the children of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams and their families at Thanksgiving dinner Thursday. There will be twenty-four guests if all are able to be present.

The Legion Auxiliary is sponsoring a project to furnish cookies for the U. S. O. in Grand Island and the work of getting the cookies baked and sent to Grand Island is in charge of Mrs. Harold Hoepfner. This week ladies of the Fortnightly club will furnish cookies and next week the Junior Fortnightly ladies. We understand that five hundred cookies a week are given away at the U. S. O. center and North Loup ladies are willing to do their share.

A large crowd attended the Legion auxiliary pie auction and bingo party held Thursday evening at the Legion hall and enjoyed a pleasant evening. Marcia Rood won the low score for pinocle and Cliff Goodrich and W. O. Zangger tied for high. C. J. Goodrich auctioned the pies which brought a nice sum. The Auxiliary furnished coffee. Proceeds go to the Veterans hospital in Lincoln.

Mrs. Ruth Hutchins and Richard, Dean and Dale were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Brannon and Mrs. Sylvia Brannon spent Thursday afternoon in Ord.

Mrs. Harold Fisher was hostess to the Fortnightly club on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. A. L. Willoughby and Mrs. Geo. Gowen gave a cooking demonstration. They demonstrated a meat stretcher, made with hamburger and lima beans and topped with a catsup biscuit. Roll call was my favorite kitchen ware.

Thursday afternoon the Junior Fortnightly club met at the home of Mrs. Claud Barber. Mrs. Nels Jorgensen had charge of the lesson on Alaska which she made especially interesting with talks by her brother, Paul Goodrich, who spent last year in Alaska. Roll call was facts about Alaska. Mrs. C. J. Goodrich and Mrs. Paul Goodrich were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie entertained their dinner-bridge club Saturday night. Mrs. F. J. Schudel won high score for the ladies and R. W. Hudson for the men.

Meeting on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Dollie Clark the Nolo club heard an interesting book review by Mrs. Florence Hutchins who gave Betha Damons "A Sense of Humor." Some work was done on Red Cross soldier kits.

The Needle and Thimble club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Max Klingensmith. The men and children had been invited to attend and share in the covered dish supper. Bingo was played in the evening.

Dorothy Wetzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wetzel and Mr. Paul Paser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Paser, were married at Englewood, Calif., Saturday, November 13, by Rev. Ed Brodner, Methodist minister. They were attended by Robert and Carolee Stocum, friends of the groom. The bride wore a blue dress with a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Stocum's dress was red and she also wore a gardenia corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Paser will make their home in Englewood where he is employed by Consolidated air craft.

Mrs. Kate Schaffner moved her household goods into the Griffith house near the depot Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Benet moved into the house Mrs. Schaffner vacated and S. O. Hawkes truck went to the sand hills after Nels Bakers' goods, moving them into the Marks house which Bakers have bought.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ingraham were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sperling and two daughters of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sperling and family of Spalding and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingraham hear from their daughter, Mrs. Floyd Harris that her husband is still in a critical condition following an accident to his milk truck which he was driving near the Great Lakes Naval training station when a station wagon collided with his truck. He was in the hospital for ten days and now is at his home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates Copeland and Maxine and Mrs. Merle Worrell and Billie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Worrell.

Mrs. W. J. Hemphill returned Thursday evening on the bus from her trip to Pawhawska, Okla., where she spent ten days with Dr. and Mrs. George Hemphill and their three sons and Mrs. Paul Hemphill. Dr. Paul Hemphill was still in Italy when last they heard from him and he tells of many interesting and also many terrible things. Mrs. Paul Hemphill has taken a job with a printing company in Pawhawska.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Tolbert moved Sunday to the Huldah Smith house which they have bought.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Russmiller were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schudel.

Red Cross yarn for mufflers and helmets with instructions for same are in the hands of Mrs. Switzer, production chairman and she says they are simple to make. Mrs. Switzer feels grateful for the way people are cooperating with the Red Cross this year. Response to calls for the work has been much more prompt than ever before. The kits have all been made and many gifts have come in from individuals and organizations to fill them.

Cpl. Vrgil Annys was a Thursday evening dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller and Cpl. and Mrs. Ivan Miller were Saturday dinner guests in the Ralph Stevens home in Ord.

Miss Esther Dally of Lincoln was a guest Thursday of Mrs. Wm. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gillespie of Murdock arrived Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving and the remainder of the week with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie.

Mrs. C. D. Knapp, accompanied by Mrs. Boyd Mulligan, Mrs. Paul Goodrich, Mrs. Mervin Scott and Mrs. Clark Roby spent Friday in Grand Island.

Richard Hutchins was a week end guest of Richard Gowen.

THE OLD American Virtue of Thrift STILL LIVES ON!

BACK in the days when Thanksgiving was new, thrift was the first law and the abiding rule. The happiness and health of the earliest Americans—yes, even their very existence—depended upon their frugal, saving ways. And today, with Americans putting big percentages of their incomes into War Bonds, thrift has come into its own again. We must all sacrifice and skimp and save to help win this hardest of all wars! Please join in this pledge: "I won't buy anything—anything at all—that I don't really need." And for the things you simply can't get along without, come to Penney's! Penney's specializes in thrift and savings. Penney's way of doing business keeps operating expenses very low. The result is savings for Penney's and these savings are passed on to our customers—as they always have been—in the form of lower prices. Shopping at Penney's is so important today—when dollars must stretch further than ever!

Mrs. Gary Flint of Ruyard, Mont., came Monday to visit her folks, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sherman of Burwell. Mrs. M. T. Brayton of Grand Island came to visit her daughter Mrs. R. THE OLD

American Virtue of Thrift

STILL LIVES ON!

BACK in the days when Thanksgiving was new, thrift was the first law and the abiding rule.

The happiness and health of the earliest Americans—yes, even their very existence—depended upon their frugal, saving ways.

And today, with Americans putting big percentages of their incomes into War Bonds, thrift has come into its own again.

We must all sacrifice and skimp and save to help win this hardest of all wars!

Please join in this pledge: "I won't buy anything—anything at all—that I don't really need."

And for the things you simply can't get along without, come to Penney's!

Penney's specializes in thrift and savings.

Penney's way of doing business keeps operating expenses very low. The result is savings for Penney's and these savings are passed on to our customers—as they always have been—in the form of lower prices.

Shopping at Penney's is so important today—when dollars must stretch further than ever!

++ Something Different ++ From North Loup, and undoubtedly from republicans, comes the following bit of mystery and satire. Though I don't know who is concerned, exactly, it is rather interesting. "A good North Loup couple we know of have spent many a day the past few months at the farm across the river and among the numerous jobs they have accomplished along with their fishing, bean picking and hunting, they have piled up a huge pile of scrap iron. Several times they had tried to get a trucker to haul it to the junk dealer, to help "slap the Jap", but were unable to find one. Last week was the deadline for scrap, so, her husband being unusually busy our lady friend accompanied the trucker that she had finally collared, out to the farm where the huge pile was put on the truck.

"They had been told to send it to Ord where a car was being loaded, and where they would be paid the same price as in North Loup. (Incidentally, when returns came in, the price was seven dollars at the car and eight to ten at North Loup.) "Trying still to be patriotic, our friend sent the trucker on to Ord and she started to

Jr. Red Cross News. As the county Junior Red Cross Roll Call concluded this week, the schoolroom population of Valley County is pretty much united behind the program of strength in health, service and citizenship. Mrs. E. L. Kokes, county chairman, reports these figures: 980 grade students enrolled in 65 elementary schoolrooms; 494 high school students enrolled from 4 high schools; Ord, Arcadia, North Loup and Elyria. This makes a total of 1474. There are 14 rural schoolrooms not reported in, tho some will complete roll call by the end of this month. It is noted that on the average Valley County schoolrooms are smaller; compared to 1011 students from 58 grade rooms last year, this year shows only 980 in 65 rooms. High school population is a little smaller also. The county's schools are nearer the coveted 100 percent roll call than last year. Spedal credit is due the zone leaders' committee of rural teachers and all rural teachers enrolled, for in this county membership is on a voluntary basis with the actual student participation stressed. Special attention was given the National Children's Fund which supports projects for refugee children. The Ord high school fund was $19.85; Ord grades, $9.00; Arcadia high, $7.16, a fine per capita offering; Dist. 9, Mrs. Beulah Clement, teacher, 50c; Dist 43 where Miss Birdena Otto teaches 2 pupils, sent 50c making a total of $37.01.

BACK FORTY

Last week's column stated that most of our rural girls enjoy farm life, and are quite content to be there. We now wish to add however that they also recognize certain benefits from living in town.

The one advantage which these local girls think of first and mention most is this: Town folks are closer to markets, schools, churches, libraries, medical aid and other public facilities.

Second, the girls observe that work in town is less strenuous and not so hard for women. In this respect they rather envy their city sisters.

Third came the fact that town women have more home conveniences. Country houses might also provide these, but most of them don't, and for obvious reasons.

Having closer neighbors to visit with was listed next. Isolation is still a problem on farms, and women are apt to get lonesome there.

Other advantages of living in towns or cities are given below, in order of importance.

Town women have more leisure time.
There are more entertainments in town.
Town women can partake of more social activities.

There are fewer chores for town women to do.
It is easier to have a nice home and yard.
There are fewer transportation problems.
It is easier to keep the house clean.

Better schools are built.
It is easier to take a vacation. You can go more places.
Working hours are more regular.

There are fewer accidents than on farms.
More jobs are available for women.
It is easier to get hired help.

Town folks can sleep later in the morning.
Ladies can spend more time on their own beauty.
Ladies can dress more attractively.
Gardens can be watered more easily.

When scarce articles come into stores, town folks get them first.

Grave Blankets
We will deliver orders for Cut Flowers and Centerpieces Thanksgiving morning. We should have your order a day or two in advance so that we can give it proper attention. Call us any time for Cut Flowers; we give personal attention to small or large orders.
We have just received a shipment of Evergreen Grave Blankets. Let us have your order. Owing to gasoline conditions we will make just one delivery of these blankets to the cemetery in a week. If you will phone us we will place the blanket for you on your cemetery lot.

As the county Junior Red Cross Roll Call concluded this week, the schoolroom population of Valley County is pretty much united behind the program of strength in health, service and citizenship. Mrs. E. L. Kokes, county chairman, reports these figures: 980 grade students enrolled in 65 elementary schoolrooms; 494 high school students enrolled from 4 high schools: Ord, Arcadia, North Loup and Elyria. This makes a total of 1474. There are 14 rural schoolrooms not reported in, tho some will complete roll call by the end of this month. It is noted that on the average Valley County schoolrooms are smaller: compared to 1011 students from 58 grade rooms last year, this year shows only 980 in 65 rooms. High school population is a little smaller also. The county's schools are nearer the coveted 100 percent roll call than last year. Special credit is due the zone leaders' committee of rural teachers and all rural teachers enrolled, for in this county membership is on a voluntary basis with the actual student participation stressed. Special attention was given the National Children's Fund which supports projects for refugee children. The Ord high school fund was $19.95; Ord grades, $9.00; Arcadia high, $7.16, a fine per capita offering; Dist. 9, Mrs. Beulah Clement, teacher, 50c; Dist 43 where Miss Birdena Otto teaches 2 pupils, sent 50c making a total of $37.01.

How Time Flies

Twenty years ago Ole Buck wrote that "Hank Leggett says the only table manners one needs to know is how to keep from choking or burning one's self." Farmers Grain and Supply company advertised a minerals mixture to ward off digestive disturbances when hogs are fed new corn. Put up by the Valley county farm bureau, it was sold at 3.75 per 100 lbs. Elmer Bredthauer of Scotia and Miss Wanda Fuss of Ord were married in Council Bluffs. A big community service club orpheum entertainment was scheduled, with special acts by Weller, Dale and Olexa; Capt. Kidd's 16 rainbow queen cadets, and several others. Bill Bartlett, Bill Hawkins, Henry Marquard and John Collison were going to do an Arkansas Traveller act. Mrs. M. Flynn and granddaughters Dola Flynn and Helen Arnold visited the Carl Oliver family near Olean, going down by train, and home by auto. Miss Emma Polak became the bride of Paul Geneski at Geranium church. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Polak, and he the son of Mrs. Lute Geneski. After a big wedding dinner and dance at Elyria, they made their home on a farm near Elyria. Affirmative debaters were William Darges, Rose Perliniski and Thurston Gifford, and negative were Wilma Abernethy, Helen Travis and Harold Taylor, on the topic, "The streets of Ord should be cleaned daily." Mr. Cole was the teacher in charge. John Allen drove to Ord to spend a week with old friends, his home being at Jackson, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Dobrovsky of Burwell brought Charley to take a train to St. Paul, where he was taking a third year of work in Business college. His sister was also going to school there. Jacob Sack returned to his home at Crete, after several weeks in Ord. Clate Gilroy caught a skunk in a trap in his garage, and hurried to move two cars out. Mrs. C. E. Norris returned home from St. Paul where she had been visiting her son Dr. Henry Norris and family. Komensky club gave the play "There is no place like Prague for fun", with the cast being Anton Bartunek, Frank Benda, Mrs. Frank Benda, Al Maracek, Al Haba, Joseph Rohla, Emma Novosad, Bessie Krahulik, Joseph Lola, Anna Haba, Frank Polak, Jerry Cernik, Mary Dana, Frank Hron, Joe Sedlacek.

ELYRIA NEWS Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dubas and Miss Bernice of Hastings spent Sunday here with their daughter, Mrs. John Urbanski and husband. A group of girls surprised Misses Dorothy and Domicella Zulkoski Sunday evening. They came to eat supper with the girls each bringing a covered dish, the occasion being the twins birthday. Wilmer Anderson who has been stationed at the naval base at Hastings spent Tuesday here with the Holub's before being transferred to another station. Mrs. Loretta Iwanski and her pupils presented a Thanksgiving program to a large audience at the school house Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Raymond Zulkoski is spending this week at the Mike Kush farm home east of Ord. During her absence Mrs. Frank T. Zulkoski is taking care of her children Irene and Kenneth. Mrs. Frank T. Zulkoski prepared a birthday dinner for her twin daughters Misses Dorothy and Domicella on Monday evening. Guests included Miss Alice Swanek of Ord, Miss Carol Jean Cienny and Raymond Zulkoski and Irene and Kenneth. Miss Margery Weaver who is attending school in Omaha is spending this week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Weaver. Leon Cienny went to Omaha Monday evening taking down a load of hogs. Mrs. Chas. Dugosh entertained the members of the Jolly Homemakers club in her farm home last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. John Horn gave the lesson on "Fall and Winter Clothes." It was decided to discontinue the extension lessons this winter. The next meeting will be in the Mrs. Forrest Weaver home on Dec. 2 at which time they will have a Christmas gift exchange. Lieut. Wm. Garnick and his wife are here spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Garnick. Lieut. Garnick is convalescing after being in the hospital several weeks following an accident during maneuvers.

BACK FORTY Last week's column stated that most of our rural girls enjoy farm life, and are quite content to be there. We now wish to add however that they also recognize certain benefits from living in town. The one advantage which these local girls think of first and mention most is this: Town folks are closer to markets, schools, churches, libraries, medical aid and other public facilities. Second, the girls observe that work in town is less strenuous and not so hard for women. In this respect they rather envy their city sisters. Third came the fact that town women have more home conveniences. Country houses might also provide these, but most of them don't, and for obvious reasons. Having closer neighbors to visit with was listed next. Isolation is still a problem on farms, and women are apt to get lonesome there. Other advantages of living in towns or cities are given below, in order of importance. Town women have more leisure time. There are more entertainments in town. Town women can partake of more social activities. There are fewer chores for town women to do. It is easier to have a nice home and yard. There are fewer transportation problems. It is easier to keep the house clean. Better schools are built. It is easier to take a vacation. You can go more places. Working hours are more regular. There are fewer accidents than on farms. More jobs are available for women. It is easier to get hired help. Town folks can sleep later in the morning. Ladies can spend more time on their own beauty. Ladies can dress more attractively. Gardens can be watered more easily. When scarce articles come into stores, town folks get them first.

beside us went out to our cemetery and put a bouquet of flowers on every grave which made it look very beautiful. A lot of folks came and said prayers for the boys and really it makes you feel good to think they feel that way toward us. I sure hope it keeps on being that way as we travel along through the war torn countries on our way to peace and happiness once again.

"Children here learn quick what candy is and never fail to ask for 'caramelli' when you go through a town. The soldiers have a habit, including myself, of throwing candy out to them just to watch them scramble and fight over it. The older people never fail to ask you for a 'cigaretta' either and they can be traded for anything they have.

"A few of them speak English and all who can't speak it will stop and jabber until you tell them 'No compish', and then they laugh and tell you goodbye. Most of the boys are getting so they can tell what the people are talking about by their motions, so we get along pretty well.

"Well I suppose by the time this reaches the loving hands of you and Lyle you will be preparing a big dinner somewhere on Thanksgiving. You can think of me while you're eating and know how I wish I were there; because you know how I like to eat.

"I am feeling very well now and weigh 183. These government groceries really do 'the trick' I play a little baseball every day and in the evenings we usually play a couple or three games of volleyball ball, which gives me plenty of exercise."

The Quiz has a change of address this week for Lt. John B. Hawthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hawthorne of Arcadia, who is thought to be stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

Pfc. George Kasper has a 20-day furlough from Fort Lewis, Wash., and is visiting sisters and brothers and other relatives here.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson reports that her brother Everett Mason writes he is on a small island in the south seas, south of the equator, that he receives the Quiz, for which he is very thankful indeed, and that he has already received his Christmas box. He says he is not so well, and has been having foot trouble, has lost 60 pounds and is left with a waist measure of only 30 inches.

Pfc. Woodrow Meyers is home on 15-day furlough from Waterbury, N. C., with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clem Meyers of North Loup.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen Auble learn that Arthur has been advanced from second to first lieutenant at Biggs Field, near El Paso, Tex. He is with the quartermaster corps, and they have a big job looking after the motor pool, writes Arthur.

Milton Clement is being transferred from Camp Crowder, Mo., to Camp Drewfield, Fla., where he is taking up aircraft training. When Mrs. Milton Clement was getting ready to come home from Camp Crowder, they ran across Syl Furtak. They had a nice visit with him, and found out he's been stationed close to Milton all this time. Mrs. Clement reached home Friday evening.

Mrs. Hattie Baird has received word of the safe arrival of her son Bill at an unknown destination, presumably India. She left Tuesday to visit two daughters, Alice and Charlotte, now Mrs. Fitzpatrick of North Platte and Mrs. Jack Peyton of Cambridge, Nebr., for an indefinite time.

Pvt. Edward Trojan of Camp Phillip is with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trojan of Comstock for a few days. He has been in service a year, and has a 12-day furlough from his duties at the station hospital.

Sgt. Vencil A. Visek of Fort Custer, Mich., has a nine-day furlough to spend with his mother, Mrs. Sophia Visek, and other relatives.

Pvt. Joe Trojan, jr., of Reno, Nev., air base, came Friday morning on a 15-day furlough, bringing a friend, Miss Lillian Hofpar of Omaha.

T-5 Lyle McBeth of Camp Opelka, Ala., has a 10-day furlough. He came Friday night to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McBeth. When he returns to camp, he will have the new rank of warrant officer.

2nd Lt. Richard E. Vastek asks his Quiz be changed to Btry. B. 30th Bn., 6th Trg. Regt. Fort Sill, Okla. He says they are now training men on the 155 gun, referred to in the war news as "long toms."

Wilmer Anderson, pharmacist's mate who has been stationed at the Hastings naval base, has transferred to the marines, and leaves Friday for San Diego for commando training prior to overseas duty. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were in Ord and Elyria overnight, then went to Wahoo to spend a night with his people this week. Mrs. Anderson will return to Ord Friday.

from the Ord high school in 1940 and has had three years at the University of Nebraska. The complete army air forces training course has a value of $28,000. Upon graduation he will be commissioned second lieutenant or flight officer, with monthly pay of $291 if single, $327 if married. Emanuel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Smolik of route three, and has been working on the farm.

Aviation Cadet Willard L. Cushing is now in navigator preflight school at Ellington Field, Tex. He will finish there Dec. 23, after which he will go to advanced navigator's school. His address is Group 25 NC4, Navigation Wing, Ellington Field, Tex.

Ord Camp Fire News.
Sponsored by the Ord Rotary club, the local Camp Fire work has been organized for another year, with a new group, the Okihl, made up of girls of the fourth and fifth grades. Okihl was chosen for their name because it is a Dakota word meaning "able to accomplish." At the first meeting at the home of Bernice Walker last week officers elected were Charlene Severns, president, Amelia Novostd vice president, Marianne Gnaster, secretary, Marlan Severns treasurer, Mary Lou Watson scribe, Bernice Walker, song leader. Other girls in the group are Sophia Capek, Gretchen Boesen, Dorothy Rich, Doris Dodd and Sandra Norman. Miss Christina Peterson will be their guardian. The girls began at once to earn money for dues. Next week they will ambitiously sell tickets for the movie "Reveille with Beverly."

A second meeting of the Okihl group was held Monday afternoon with Miss Peterson, and Mrs. E. L. Kokes explained the Camp Fire program to the girls. For the coming year Rotary President Roy Randolph appointed the following club members to the sponsoring committee for Camp Fire girls: Dr. F. L. Blessing, J. H. Lockwood, Robert Noll, Leslie Nash and Ed Gnaster.

Mason Parachute Expert in England

Patterson Field, O.—Believe it or not, the Air Service Command has a few hairy chested soldiers who can give the gals pointers in the proper care of lingerie!

Each a specialist in his own right, these men have charge of keeping in perfect shape the silken parachutes that mean even more to Uncle Sam's crack sky fighters than do life-savers to sailors. These skilled craftsmen labor at ASC depots all over the world in order that their products may not fail in emergencies.

In England, Sgt. Wilford Williams, who hails from 1524 Kipling ave. Houston, Tex., makes sure that every panel in the chute is free from grime, oil or any other substance that might foul the folds in an emergency. What Sgt. Williams doesn't know about cleaning silk is of little consequence.

Still another specialist is Sgt. Arthur Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mason, Ord, Neb. whose duty it is to repair holes or "runs" in the parachutes. His work likewise is highly essential to perfect performance of the "airman's lifeline."

Just to make sure—an ASC axion—"Master Sgt. Oscar," a weight-stuffed dummy, is called upon to make final tests of each chute. A veteran of more than 40 plane jumps, Sgt. Oscar is called upon to test each repaired chute.

Repair of parachutes by these men at an Eighth Air Force Service Command base in England is just one of the many assignments at the station where the ASC makes major repairs to Eighth Air Force planes. While operational stations are equipped for minor parachute repair, major repairs are made by ASC specialists.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gene C. Gergen from Ogden, U., came Sunday to spend Thanksgiving week with the W. J. Stewart family. Mrs. Gergen, before her marriage was Miss Aloha Stewart.

Livestock Haulers to Meet Dec. 2nd

A meeting has been scheduled for all producers, truckers, dealers, and processors of livestock to be held at Ord, Thursday, December 2, at 8 o'clock in the courtroom at which time a local Livestock Industry Transportation committee will be selected, ODT District Manager, Robert S. Stauffer, announced today.

This committee will advise and assist the Area Livestock Industry Transportation advisory committee and the ODT administrator in directing the movement of motor trucks used in the transportation of livestock to or from points in Valley county. This committee shall be representative of persons having control over livestock to be moved within the territory, persons engaged in motor transportation of such livestock, and dealers and processors, if any, who deal in or process livestock within the territory.

In order to conserve and properly utilize vital transportation equipment, materials, and supplies, and to provide for the prompt, continuous, and equitable movement of livestock, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, it is urged that all interested persons attend this meeting.

PERSONALS

—Miss Elizabeth Wiberg was expected home Tuesday from Omaha, after two months of medical attention there.

—Mrs. Axel Jorgensen is a patient at the Ord hospital where she is making a nice recovery after an operation.

—Ed Oetkin has been ill for a week with flu and tonsillitis at his home, improving slowly now.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pierce of Hastings are the happy parents of a baby daughter born on Nov. 9, who has been named Kathryn Kaye. This is their first child. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pierce will go to Hastings to spend Thanksgiving and see the little lady.

—Mrs. Russell Waterman came home from Grand Island Tuesday, where she visited her mother Mrs. John Cooksey and her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Myers. They had a big family gathering, with two great aunts present whom Mrs. Waterman had not seen since she was four years old and needless to report, a grand time was had.

There are just a few farms left under the ditch for sale and still under the $100.00 mark. Better look into it. There are several good farms south of town that will be under the new ditch and yet are dry land now. You will get the benefit of the increased price when the ditch is finished.

beside us went out to our cemetery and put a bouquet of flowers on every grave which made it look very beautiful. A lot of folks came and said prayers for the boys and really it makes you feel good to think they feel that way toward us. I sure hope it keeps on being that way as we travel along through the war torn countries on our way to peace and happiness once again.

"Children here learn quick what candy is and never fail to ask for 'caramelli' when you go through a town. The soldiers have a habit, including myself, of throwing candy out to them just to watch them scramble and fight over it. The older people never fail to ask you for a 'cigaretta' either and they can be traded for anything they have.

"A few of them speak English and all who can't speak it will stop and jabber until you tell them 'No compish', and then they laugh and tell you goodbye. Most of the boys are getting so they can tell what the people are talking about by their motions, so we get along pretty well.

"Well I suppose by the time this reaches the loving hands of you and Lyle you will be preparing a big dinner somewhere on Thanksgiving. You can think of me while you're eating and know how I wish I were there; because you know how I like to eat.

"I am feeling very well now and weigh 183. These government groceries really do the trick. I play a little baseball every day and in the evenings we usually play a couple or three games of volley ball, which gives me plenty of exercise."

The Quiz has a change of address this week for Lt. John B. Hawthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hawthorne of Arcadia, who is thought to be stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

Pfc. George Kasper has a 20-day furlough from Fort Lewis, Wash., and is visiting sisters and brothers and other relatives here.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson reports that her brother Everett Mason writes he is on a small island in the south seas, south of the equator, that he receives the Quiz, for which he is very thankful indeed, and that he has already received his Christmas box! He says he is not so well, and has been having foot trouble, has lost 60 pounds and is left with a waist measure of only 30 inches.

Pfc. Woodrow Meyers is home on 15-day furlough from Waterbury, N. C., with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clem Meyers of North Loup.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen Auble learn that Arthur has been advanced from second to first lieutenant at Biggs Field, near El Paso, Tex. He is with the quartermaster corps, and they have a big job looking after the motor pool, writes Arthur.

Milton Clement is being transferred from Camp Crowder, Mo., to Camp Drewfield, Fla., where he is taking up aircraft training. When Mrs. Milton Clement was getting ready to come home from Camp Crowder, they ran across Syl Furtak. They had a nice visit with him, and found out he's been stationed close to Milton all this time. Mrs. Clement reached home Friday evening.

Mrs. Hattie Baird has received word of the safe arrival of her son Bill at an unknown destination, presumably India. She left Tuesday to visit two daughters, Alice and Charlotte, now Mrs. Fitzpatrick of North Platte and Mrs. Jack Peyton of Cambridge, Nebr., for an indefinite time.

Pvt. Edward Trojan of Camp Phillip is with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trojan of Comstock for a few days. He has been in service a year, and has a 12-day furlough from his duties at the station hospital.

Sgt. Vencil A. Visek of Fort Custer, Mich., has a nine-day furlough to spend with his mother, Mrs. Sophia Visek, and other relatives.

Pvt. Joe Trojan, jr., of Reno, Nev., air base, came Friday morning on a 15-day furlough, bringing a friend, Miss Lillian Hofpar of Omaha.

T-5 Lyle McBeth of Camp Opelka, Ala., has a 10-day furlough. He came Friday night to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McBeth. When he returns to camp, he will have the new rank of warrant officer.

2nd Lt. Richard E. Vascek asks his Quiz be changed to Btry. B. 30th Bn., 6th Trg. Regt. Fort Sil, Okla. He says they are now training men on the 155 gun, referred to in the war news as "long toms."

Wilmer Anderson, pharmacist's mate who has been stationed at the Hastings naval base, has transferred to the marines, and leaves Friday for San Diego for commando training prior to overseas duty. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were in Ord and Elyria overnight, then went to Wahoo to spend a night with his people this week. Mrs. Anderson will return to Ord Friday.

Emanuel R. Smolik has qualified for training as an aviation cadet in the army, the Omaha examining board reports. He will be given five months study along with his dual flying time. He graduated from the Ord high school in 1940 and has had three years at the University of Nebraska. The complete army air forces training course has a value of $28,000. Upon graduation he will be commissioned second lieutenant or flight officer, with monthly pay of $291 if single, $327 if married. Emanuel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Smolik of route three, and has been working on the farm.

Aviation Cadet Willard L. Cushing is now in navigator preflight school at Ellington Field, Tex. He will finish there Dec. 23, after which he will go to advanced navigator's school. His address is Group 25 NC4, Navigation Wing, Ellington Field, Tex.

Ord Camp Fire News.

Sponsored by the Ord Rotary club, the local Camp Fire work has been organized for another year, with a new group, the Okihl, made up of girls of the fourth and fifth grades. Okihl was chosen for their name because it is a Dakota word meaning "able to accomplish." At the first meeting at the home of Bernice Walker last week officers elected were Charlene Severns, president, Amelia Novosad vice president, Marianne Gnaster, secretary, Marian Severns treasurer, Mary Lou Watson scribe, Bernice Walker, song leader. Other girls in the group are Sophia Capek, Gretchen Boesen, Dorothy Rich, Doris Dodd and Sandra Norman. Miss Christina Peterson will be their guardian. The girls began at once to earn money for dues. Next week they will ambitiously sell tickets for the movie "Reveille with Beverly."

A second meeting of the Okihl group was held Monday afternoon with Miss Peterson, and Mrs. E. L. Kokes explained the Camp Fire program to the girls.

For the coming year Rotary President Roy Randolph appointed the following club members to the sponsoring committee for Camp Fire girls: Dr. F. L. Blessing, J. H. Lockwood, Robert Noll, Leslie Nash and Ed Gnaster.

Mason Parachute Expert in England

Patterson Field, O.—Believe it or not, the Air Service Command has a few hairy chested soldiers who can give the gals pointers in the proper care of lingerie!

Each a specialist in his own right, these men have charge of keeping in perfect shape the silken parachutes that mean even more to Uncle Sam's crack sky fighters than do life-savers to sailors. These skilled craftsmen labor at ASC depots all over the world in order that their products may not fail in emergencies.

In England, Sgt. Wilford Williams, who hails from 1524 Kipling ave. Houston, Tex., makes sure that every panel in the chute is free from grime, oil or any other substance that might foul the folds in an emergency. What Sgt. Williams doesn't know about cleaning silk is of little consequence.

Still another specialist is Sgt. Arthur Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mason, Ord, Neb. whose duty it is to repair holes or "runs" in the parachutes. His work likewise is highly essential to perfect performance of the "airman's lifeline."

Just to make sure—an ASC axlon—"Master Sgt. Oscar," a weight-stuffed dummy, is called upon to make final tests of each chute. A veteran of more than 40 plane jumps, Sgt. Oscar is called upon to test each repaired chute.

Livestock Haulers to Meet Dec. 2nd

A meeting has been scheduled for all producers, truckers, dealers, and processors of livestock to be held at Ord, Thursday, December 2, at 8 o'clock in the courtroom at which time a local Livestock Industry Transportation committee will be selected, ODT District Manager, Robert S. Stauffer, announced today.

This committee will advise and assist the Area Livestock Industry Transportation advisory committee and the ODT administrator in directing the movement of motor trucks used in the transportation of livestock to or from points in Valley county. This committee shall be representative of persons having control over livestock to be moved within the territory, persons engaged in motor transportation of such livestock, and dealers and processors, if any, who deal in or process livestock within the territory.

In order to conserve and properly utilize vital transportation equipment, materials, and supplies, and to provide for the prompt, continuous, and equitable movement of livestock, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, it is urged that all interested persons attend this meeting.

PERSONALS

We Are Thankful!

Thanksgiving Day is here again, the first wartime Thanksgiving we have known in 25 years, and though the war clouds that hover overhead are gloomy and we have many domestic problems here at home we still have much to be thankful for. We can be thankful that crops were good this summer and that as a nation we will have plenty to eat and plenty to send to our troops and our Allies overseas. We may be thankful that such excellent progress in the war is being made and that before another Thanksgiving peace may be here again. We can be thankful for good health that enables us to do our part in carrying on our nation's fight for life and, especially, we can be thankful that by our labors we have been able to make our armies the best equipped in the world.

In the matter of the estate of Paul Hanson, deceased, both creditors and heirs. You will take notice that William E. Severns and Alice Severns, husband and wife, on November 6, 1943, filed a petition alleging that Paul Hanson died intestate during the year 1934, being a resident of Valley County, Nebraska, and seized of the Southwest Quarter of Section 35, Township 20, North, Range 14, West of the 6th P. M. in Valley County, Nebraska, leaving as his sole and only heirs at law his widow, Linna Hanson, and his children, Ralph H. Hanson, also known as Ralph Hanson, Seton Hanson, also known as Seton S. Hanson, Pauline Hanson Cleary, also known as Pauline Cleary and Edmonds R. Hanson, also known as Edmonds Hanson, and that the petitioners are the present owners of the said real estate and praying for a determination of the time of the death of the said Paul Hanson, a determination of the heirs of the said deceased, the degree of kinship, and the right of descent of the real property belonging to said deceased, and a decree barring all claims against said estate. Said petition will be heard before said court on Thursday, December 2, 1943, at 10 o'clock A. M. in the County Court Room in the Court House in Ord, Nebraska. Dated November 6, 1943. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, (SEAL) County Judge of Valley County, Nebraska. Nov. 11-3t.

Munn & Norman, Attorneys. NOTICE OF HEARING FOR DETERMINATION OF KINSHIP. IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF J. M. FRANSEN, DECEASED. To all persons interested in said Estate, both Creditors and heirs, take notice that Agnes Andersen, daughter of the Deceased, has filed her Petition in said Court, alleging that J. M. Fransen died intestate on or about April 24, 1940, being the owner of the Northeast Quarter of Section Twenty-Nine, in Township Twenty North, Range Fourteen, West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska, except school house site and less 2.41 acres conveyed to North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District.

Said Petition further alleges that J. M. Fransen left as his sole and only heir at law Agnes Andersen, a daughter; that the Petitioner is a daughter and the only heir at law of the Deceased. Said Petition prays, among other things, that the allegations of said Petition be found true, and further prays for a determination of the time of the death of said decedent, a determination of his heirs, the Degree of Kinship and the right of descent of the real property belonging to the deceased, for a Decree barring all claims against said Estate; that the decedent died intestate more than two years prior to the filing of said Petition, that no application has been made in the State of Nebraska for the appointment of an Administrator and that said Estate has not been administered and no Administrator has been appointed in the State of Nebraska; that the heir at law of the Deceased as above set forth shall be decreed to have succeeded to the ownership in fee simple of the above described real estate, and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable.

Said matter has been set for hearing before this Court in the County Court Room in Ord, Nebraska, on the Twenty-Ninth day of November, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Witness my hand and Official Seal this 9th day of November, 1943. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, (SEAL) County Judge of Valley County, Nebraska. Nov. 11-3t.

Tender Steaks
Long, slow cooking makes pot-roasts and steaks tender. Pork steaks and chops are already tender, but braising brings out their delicious flavor and decreases the amount of shrinkage.

U. S. Highway Equipment
Highway equipment on the road at the start of the war totaled about 27,000,000 private cars, 4,500,000 trucks and some 51,000 buses, not including 93,000 school buses.

First Use of Mahogany
There exists today preserved in the cathedral at Ciudad Trujillo, formerly Santo Domingo, a rough hewn mahogany cross inscribed: "This is the first sign planted in the center of this field to mark the beginning of this magnificent temple in the year 1514." That inscription is our earliest record of the use of mahogany.

Pop Corn

We are buying both South American and Dwarf Hulled Pop Corn at very attractive prices. If you have popcorn to sell see us and let us make you an offer.

Laying Mash

We carry a large stock of Laying Mash and other Poultry Feeds all the time. Prices are reasonable and quality is high. Blue Tag Laying Mash, $2.80; Y-O Laying Mash, $3.10 per bag; Egg Balancer 26%, $3.55; Poultry Concentrate 32%, $3.65.

Hog Feeds

Linsy, Archers and Conkey's Hog Supplement. You will find high protein feeds very hard to get and we believe that you should see to it that your supply does not get too low.

Cattle Proteins

Here is a feed that is really going to be hard to get long before the winter is over. A new directive regarding Insect Meal will almost make it impossible for some feed manufacturers to continue to make Cattle Feeds. This week we tried to buy cattle feed from three large manufacturers and found it impossible to buy any for immediate shipment. Last fall we bought a good many carloads of Cattle Linsy and they have been sold and it will be hard to keep a stock of cattle feed.

Cobs

We are shelling some popcorn at the Seed House and have some popcorn cobs for sale. Priced at $4.00 per ton at the Seed House or we deliver in town at $5.00 per ton. Order early as they won't last long.
