Edwin P. Clements Dies Suddenly at California Home

Stroke Jan. 26th Cause of Death; Serve 20 Years as District Judge Here.

Another rugged individualist is gone with the death of Edwin P. Clements in Ontario, Calif. who died suddenly at his home there Wednesday evening as a result of a stroke.

Judge Clements came to Ord in 1889 and began to read law with his brother, the late Elliot J. Clements, who became a district judge also, serving at Lincoln.

Edwin Perry Clements was born Sept. 15, 1853 at Allegan, Mich., the fourth child of Cyrus and Mary Clements.

Mr. Clements had a truly fair and judicial mind. His cases were not allowed to drag along on technicalities, for Judge Clements would see the point and chop through fancy arguments straight to it, reaching decisions quickly, but justly.

Judge Clements was a splendid father and a model husband and he and his wife raised a family of good citizens, losing one daughter, Zella, by death.

Also surviving are Judge A. A. Clements of Grand Junction, Colo., and Mrs. Daniel Burke, of Ord, brother and sister.

Though the late Judge Clements and his family left Ord three years ago, they left hosts of friends here who remember him as a hearty man, fond of games, of gardening, of golfing, of bridge, and an inveterate reader.

Files Divorce Suit, Recovers Her Baby

Mother and 1-year old baby were reunited last week when District Judge E. G. Kroger issued an order giving custody of Donald Derdowski, jr., to Mrs. Viona Derdowski, of this city.

Mrs. Derdowski had not seen the child since last September when he was taken away from their Alliance, Nebr., home by her husband after a family argument, and placed with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Derdowski, of Loup City.

Early last week Mrs. Derdowski and her father, Harry Wolfe went to Loup City and got the baby from the Derdowski home in the absence of his grandparents. On Thursday the senior Mrs. Derdowski secured a writ of habeas corpus in Sherman county court and came to Ord with Sheriff Earl Hancock in an attempt to recover the baby, but could not get service on the writ.

The Derdowskis were married at Colorado Springs on August 10, 1942. She charges cruelty and non-support in her divorce action.

Orville Noyes, 34, Monoxide Victim

North Loup—(Special)—Orville Noyes, 34, operator of a truck line here and of a filling station in the village, died early Tuesday morning in Omaha from the effects of monoxide gas which he inhaled while resting in the cab of his parked truck, with the engine left running to furnish warmth.

Mr. Noyes and Boyce had gone to Omaha with a load of hogs belonging to Boyce, had unloaded the hogs and parked the truck to wait a few minutes for a garage to open, where Noyes expected to get some repairs for one of his trucks.

It was a chilly morning and Noyes left the engine running to provide warmth in the cab. According to Boyce, he leaped forward and rested his head on his hands and apparently dozed off. Boyce leaned back in his corner of the seat with his head against the door and apparently enough draft came through the door to prevent him from getting enough of the gas fumes to cause his death, though he was rendered unconscious.

A stockyards employee found them and called police. Mr. Noyes failed to revive under treatment. Boyce returned home Tuesday night with Jim Coleman, Ollie Fenton and Vic King who went down to drive the truck home. Miller Bros., of Omaha, brought Mr. Noyes' boy home.

Noyes operated a fleet of trucks, employing several drivers, and seldom drove himself on the trips to Omaha but went down this time because he needed some repairs. Orville Portis, who drives a truck for him went down at the same time with a load of cattle but returned home immediately and knew nothing of the accident until he got as far home as St. Paul.

Mr. Noyes is survived by his wife and two daughters, Connie, 8, and Darla, 2, by his mother, Mrs. Frieda Noyes, and by several brothers and sisters. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Kearney Air Base Military Show to Be Given Thursday

Orchestra, Band, Special Act, Talks by Wounded Soldiers, at Free Program.

At the Ord high school auditorium at 7:30 Thursday evening 40 officers and enlisted men from the Kearney air base will present their famous Military Show, which has been on tour of Nebraska for several weeks and has made a hit wherever presented.

The Kearney air base band, a swing orchestra with a membership that includes several men who have played with big name bands, and vaudeville acts by individual performers who won fame on the professional stage before entering the army, will be included in the 1 1/2 hour performance.

Major Gleason, from the air base, directs the show. There will be talks by T. Sgt. Ramsey, a wounded veteran of the Solomons campaign who won the order of the Purple Heart and the Distinguished Service Cross, and Captain David Steele, fresh from service in Italy.

The show is given in the interests of the 4th War Loan but is a splendid entertainment feature in its own right and will be enjoyed by adults as well as school children.

The starting hour of 7:30 will permit people attending the military show to attend the firemen's ball later if they desire, as the show will be over by 9:00. The Kearney group will spend the night in Ord and will be guests of the Ord Volunteer Fire Department at the annual ball.

Funeral Thursday for L. G. Payzant

Sumter Farmer's Death Was Result of Heart Trouble, Flu; 75 Years Old.

Lethrop Gertrude Payzant died at his farm home Jan. 25, at the age of 76 years, three months and 15 days. Quiet, friendly, likeable, "a mighty nice fellow", is the way he was usually described by those who knew him.

Mr. Payzant was the eldest of five sons of Joseph and Alice Payzant, an only sister dying at the age of two and a half years. He was born in the village of Gaspereau, Nova Scotia on Oct. 14, 1867, and departed quietly from this life at his home about a mile east of Sumter, a victim of flu, heart trouble and other ailments.

He came to the United States with his parents when a small lad and settled near Schuyler, where they farmed with his father's brothers. At the age of 12 he became the sole support of his mother, father and younger brothers.

Gertrude Groat became his bride in Arnold, Neb., on Sept. 9, 1892. They farmed in Custer county and also near Schuyler and near Valley, then moving to the present location, where he had lived 35 or 40 years. Mr. Payzant was quite an extensive livestock feeder.

Though he had no children of his own, two homeless boys were cherished until they became of age. One of them is dead, the other, Leonard, is living in Vancouver and working in the shipyards there.

Left to mourn are also his wife who lives with a sister on the farm, four brothers, John of Calgary, Alberta, Ernest who lives in the west, the twins, Henry of Everett, Wash., and Herbert C. of Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services were held Thursday, Jan. 20 at two o'clock at the Frazier Chapel. Rev. R. T. Cordy officiated. Mrs. Clarence Davis sang, with Mrs. Orin Kellison her accompanist. Pall bearers were Marion Strong, Harold Nelson, Clarence Pierson, Willis Plate, Dave and Verl Arnold.

Boy Scouts Sell All Paper at $15 a Ton

Saturday was a busy day for the Boy Scouts of Ord, for under the direction of Scoutmaster H. Elliot McClure they spent the day loading into a railway car the 12 tons and more of old magazines, newspapers and boxes collected in the recent salvage campaign here. The old paper was sold to Quaker Oats company for shipment to Illinois at a price of $15 per ton here in Ord. The sale gives the Boy Scouts a nice "nest egg" for future troop activities.

Mexican Boy Now Fighting in Italy

Here is a letter from Charlie Lopez, Mexican boy who worked in the beet fields here and in Burwell and who went to the army from Valley county. The letter was written to Mrs. Fern Maxson, who has kept up a correspondence with him since his induction.

Mrs. Fern Maxson: Received your V-mail just today. I am sure glad to hear from you all. I hope you are in the best of health as I am myself, thanks to God.

CHARLEY LOPEZ

Mrs. Fern, I hope you will forgive me for not writing to you more often but the truth is that we have been pretty busy with the Germans here in Italy. We are done with them in Africa, we still got to push them out of Italy.

Yes, I am a machine gunner, and I'll kill every one of them that I can reach so that we can come back home soon.

Well, Mrs. Fern, I haven't received the Christmas gifts that you said you already sent to me but thanks a lot anyway. No matter what they are I am sure that I'll like them. You don't know how much I appreciate so please give my best regards to your mother and father, also the rest of the family. Thanks because you always remember me.

Yours as ever, Charles Lopez.

Red Cross Drive to Come in March

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, Mrs. George Parkins and Mrs. H. E. McClure went to Grand Island Friday to attend a regional war fund conference of the American Red Cross. Registration was held at 9:30, and the last discussion at 3:30, with a short intermission for lunch at noon. Businesslike and brusque, the meeting was streamlined in every particular, declared Mrs. McClure, who will be war fund chairman in March. Mrs. George Parkins, who has done such a fine job in that capacity the past two years, is retiring but will act as her assistant chairman. Mrs. Mortensen is head of the Valley county chapter.

The Red Cross is now sending 1,200,000 packages per month to prisoners of war, it was revealed. Two Nance county boys who are prisoners "somewhere" wrote home to ask that donations of $100 each be given for them, in gratitude for all the Red Cross has meant since their capture.

Curfew Law May Be Enforced in Ord

The curfew law, long on the ordinance book in Ord but never enforced, may have to be hauled out, dusted off and brought up to date if depredations of Ord children continue, city councilmen decided at their meeting Tuesday.

Reports continue to come in of damage to property during the evening and night hours. There seems to be an organized gang of boys who break street lights almost every evening and other property, both public and private, has been damaged.

Night Policeman Herman Rice will be instructed to make a list of children whom he sees on the street after curfew hour of 9:00 and to keep a careful watch for destruction of property, and the children and their parents will be held strictly accountable even if court action is necessary, Mayor M. B. Cummins said Wednesday morning.

The cooperation of parents in keeping children at home nights is requested. Councilmen also decided to stop center parking in the block between the Jack and Jill store and the postoffice hereafter and generally to tighten traffic regulations in the city.

E. C. James was in Ord on Tuesday on business. The James home is now in Lincoln.

News of Our Fighting Men

Staff Sgt. Roy Clement phones that he has been transferred from Beaumont, Calif., to Santa Fe, N. M., and that he is able his mother, Mrs. Elliot Clement to use his foot some. He has been hospitalized for 60 days past, and will not be released for some time. Another son Cpl. Milton Clement, arrived home Sunday from Drew Field, at Tampa, Fla., on 12-day furlough. He was met at Grand Island and brought to Ord.

A-S David Milliken has been transferred from the University of Miami, at Oxford, O., one of the oldest colleges in the United States. He has been in Omaha about two weeks now. Naval Ensign and Mrs. G. W. Stoddard arrived Monday evening enroute from Yorktown, Va. to San Diego, where he will be stationed.

Eldon Kokes, son of Adolph Kokes was home on furlough this week. He has seen considerable duty in the Aleutians. Bob Snyder, husband of the former Margaret Lewis, is home from New Orleans on furlough. His wife has been making her home in Grand Island, but she and the new baby and Mr. Snyder are visiting in Ord and Burwell this week.

Grand Island's Fine Basketball Team Plays Here Friday

Unbeaten Since Opener, Ord Boys Face Worthy Competition on Home Floor.

All season Ord fans have been waiting to see the Chanticleers meet a strong basketball team on the home floor, so they could get some idea of Ord's strength, and the opportunity comes Friday night of this week when the Grand Island team will play here.

Ord has won six of its seven games this season, only defeat being by Hastings in the opener, 21 to 18. Games since have been too easy, including the fray at St. Paul last Friday which the Chanticleers won handily, 52 to 21.

Ord led throughout, having an advantage of 28 to 7 at halftime and play was below par for the home boys because of the small court. A total of 42 fouls were called on the two teams, 23 on the Ord boys and 19 on St. Paul. Ord made good 16 of their 22 gift shots while St. Paul could make only 8 out of 28. Ord had five players retired from the game by having four personal fouls while St. Paul lost three for the same reason, two of whom were permitted to continue play because of lack of replacements. Falk scored 10 points for the losers while Wilson tallied 21 for Ord, Finley making 13 and Satterfield 11.

The Grand Island game Friday, it is feared, will be a different story. Grand Island has lost to Lincoln, Omaha Central and York, while winning from Central City, Hastings, Norfolk and Kearney. Jamson and Hoffman, forwards, have been high scorers for the Islanders to date and while both lack height they have speed to burn. Neitfeld, G. I. center, is 6 feet 1 inch tall and has been a great scorer as well as a key man on defense. Faulk, Lemmon and Rice hold down the guard spots and all three are over 6 feet tall and are keen defensive players.

Ord will have a slight advantage in average height but the easy schedule played this season has not given the local boys a chance to find out what they can do against strong competition, which lesson they will learn Friday.

Wettest January in Last 52 Years

Horace W. Travis got a surprise when he compared the January, 1944, moisture total with weather records kept here for the past 52 years and discovered that last month's total of 1.40 inches was the heaviest in January since January of 1891.

Average moisture for January in the fifty-five years that records have been kept here is only .49 of an inch, he says. January, 1944, was a comparatively warm month also, with an average high of 38 degrees and an average low of 16.7, compared with an average high of 27.8 and an average low of 6.8 in January, 1943.

Mrs. Perry Bell left Wahoo Monday on her homeward journey to Long Beach, Calif., she writes Mrs. Joe Rowbal.

Tale of Japanese Atrocities Fails to Move Bond Buyers

Council Votes Buy $10,000 War Bonds

The Ord city council at its February meeting Tuesday evening voted to buy an additional $10,000 in war bonds with surplus money in the electric fund. The treasurer's report showed $26,000 in cash available in all funds and it was deemed safe to invest $7,400 in bonds that will have a maturity value of $10,000, and still leave ample funds available for emergency needs.

The campaign ends Tuesday night, Feb. 15, and if the quota is to be met Valley county people are going to have to buy bonds at the rate of almost $15,000 per day, an average that wasn't attained even in the 3rd War Loan campaign when more than $400,000 worth of bonds were bought here.

Ord Schools Resume Normal Schedule

Ord schools will return to their usual time schedule next Monday, announces Supt. of Schools C. C. Thompson.

This means Johnny and Mary must be in school at 8:55 a. m. and 12:50 p. m., or be counted tardy. Doors of the grade building will be opened at 8:30 a. m. and at 12:45 noon. Parents are asked to note these times, so that children will not be exposed to bad weather too long, because of too early arrival at the grounds, asks Principal Inez Swain.

Big excitement at the grade school reigned in the sixth grade last week, which won the banner for buying the most war stamps and bonds. This was the first time the banner had gone to the sixth grade pupils. The third grade too was proud to be listed as stamp buyers 100 per cent last week, an honored class in which the fifth grade has been alone for two weeks past.

$153 in stamps and bonds was the total purchase by grade children last week.

Big Program of Land Leveling to Be Started Soon

The biggest program of land leveling the North and Middle Loup valleys have seen since the irrigation projects were built is planned for the spring of 1944, primary purpose of doing the work at this time being to increase food production because of war and post-war needs.

Cooperating are the extension service, the AAA, the two irrigation districts and the soil conservation office, and a series of meetings for irrigators will be held, starting next Monday afternoon at the Community building in North Loup, at which the leveling project will be explained.

Other meetings are announced as follows: Olean school house, 8:00 p. m. Monday. Legion Hall, Ord, 3:00 p. m. Tuesday. Springdale school house, 8:00 p. m. Tuesday. Elyria town hall, 2:00 p. m. Wednesday. Arcadia high school, 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 16.

Meetings also will be held in Burwell, Taylor, Comstock and Loup City, at dates to be announced here.

A big incentive for irrigators to have leveling done now is the Triple A plan of increasing benefit payments on irrigated acreage that is leveled. This plan will be explained at the meetings. Much heavy equipment already has been brought into Valley county by a contractor who is prepared to accept land leveling contracts, and more is available if it is needed. The soil conservation district also has some leveling equipment for rental to farmers who want to do their own work.

Leveling operations are expected to start as soon as the ground is free of frost, which may be at any time in this mild winter.

Valley Co. Sales Still Lag, Only 43% of Quota Sold; Drive Ends Febr. 15.

The War and Navy departments' release of documented stories of the way the Japanese tortured and killed American prisoners of war in the Philippine Islands caused sale of war bonds to jump sharply throughout the nation last week but here in Valley county the horror tales failed to create even a ripple, so far as 4th War Loan officials can discern.

Sale of bonds in this county is still lagging far behind the pace being set elsewhere in Nebraska and the nation.

With more than two weeks of the campaign gone, only 43% of the county's $314,000 quota has been sold and sales of "E" bonds are lagging even farther behind quota.

Tuesday morning Sales Chairman John P. Misko reported the county total as $135,000 sold, of which less than $30,000 are "E" bonds. The "E" bond quota for the county is $193,000 and the general quota of all bonds is $314,000.

The campaign ends Tuesday night, Feb. 15, and if the quota is to be met Valley county people are going to have to buy bonds at the rate of almost $15,000 per day, an average that wasn't attained even in the 3rd War Loan campaign when more than $400,000 worth of bonds were bought here.

War Finance Chairman C. J. Mortensen is still hopeful that Valley county people will do their duty and meet the quota with a last-minute rush of bond buying. Reports from the rural salesmen are only now beginning to come in, he points out, and reports made to date are far from complete.

In the Omaha World-Herald's report of bond progress Tuesday this county was almost at the bottom in Class I, only two counties having a poorer record.

People here simply haven't become aroused to their responsibilities in the 4th War Loan, the officials believe, despite their knowledge that invasion of Europe is near and that the government will need money in 1944 as it has never needed it before, to pay for the weapons that can assure victory and save the lives of countless American boys.

During the next 12 days Valley county people must buy bonds as they've never bought before, to preserve this county's record of never falling in a patriotic undertaking. We can't afford to fall down on the job.

Mrs. John Prien Dies in Hospital

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Honolulu, T. H. Jan. 20, 1944.

Dear Quiz Readers:

I have a lot of interesting items to write about, so I will try to get them out this evening. We put in a very busy day at the shop, ten hours, and I don't feel much like writing, but if I don't now, maybe I'll keep putting it off until I get started for home. That will not be more than six or seven weeks now, that is, if I get away promptly. Of course I can't tell the exact time of departure, and I would not if I could, as I prefer to get there safely, and of course I'll have plenty of time to tell you all about it when I get there.

First let me tell you about the terrible accident that happened to Paul Pitney, president of our Nebraska club and father-in-law of my son James, now in the south sea somewhere. He was going down to the yard early the morning of Jan. 4, when he opened the door of the bus and stepped out backward while the vehicle was still in motion. The result was a badly fractured skull, brain concussion and he remained in a state of coma until a few days ago when he began to recognize people. He is still in a dangerous condition and can have no company yet. His son, Arch, a chief in the coast guard is here, and is doing all the visiting that is being done.

I ran into a young man not long ago who should be of interest to Ord people, as well as readers from North Loup and Arcadia. His name was John R. Davis, 29, military service for 9 years and now employed in the Pearl Harbor navy yard. He is a son of the John Sidney Davis who formerly served as marshal in Ord for a few years, during the first World War, I believe. The family later lived at North Loup, Arcadia and finally in Grand Island, where Davis sr., died in 1935. John was a very small boy when they lived in Ord, but he caused the fire department to be called out when he took a notion one night to go for a hike. He was found down by the ice pond after dark. He told me his brother Sidney is an engineer on the Union Pacific out of Omaha. The daughter, Bessie, now lives at Goldsboro, N. C. David is a carpenter in the coast artillery. Philip is with the ordnance department, somewhere in New Guinea, and the other brother, Charles, is somewhere, but John don't know where.

John is a fine, upstanding young man, and it seems that the brothers are doing well also. Yes, John is working as a shipfitter here, one of the most important jobs to be found in the entire Navy Yard.

I received a letter as secretary of the Nebraska club from one Arnold Gladson, of Alliance, Nebr., now located somewhere on Oahu with the armed forces. He wanted to get in touch with other men from Nebraska. I am not sure but I can't help but think that he is related to the Gladsons who once lived in Ord, where the elder Gladson I was once marshal. I will here from a number of the boys. Otho Ferris still comes to see me occasionally, and Loren Livermore of Burwell talked to me for a short time less than two hours ago. He said he had been in the hospital for some time, and that was the reason he had not been to see me sooner.

Now here is something that interested me, and it should interest all Nebraskans. We were at lunch at the shop today and one of the boys went over to the store and bought a half pound of butter. When he came in he said: "Ever hear of Fairmont's Better Butter? That's what this stuff is." Sure enough he was right, and it sure made me feel good to eat some butter that came from good old Nebraska. If it had been from the Ord Coop or the Burwell Butter Factory, it would have tasted just a little better, but that name sure made it taste good to me.

Speaking of the Ord Coop makes me think of F. W. Coe, and that brings to mind that he was one of the dozens who wrote me during the holidays and made the past Christmas one I shall never forget. It is true that I sent out quite a number of letters myself, and I guess I got answers to all of them, and also from a lot of people who did not hear from me at all. They were certainly welcome, and I'm keeping them all for Mrs. Wade to read when I go back to the mainland. It would be impossible to name all of them, and they were all fine. But I believe Bob and Ava Nell topped the list in furnishing items of interest, many of which were new to me. Then the Sam Marks family wrote me, and Sam enclosed a clipping from the World-Herald of Jan. 1, showing the photo of the Nebraska group at the flag presentation. We had heard the story was printed but this furnished visual proof. Our club here will be pleased to see that clipping. These letters and Christmas cards have been arriving ever since the middle of December and it takes a large box to hold all of them. God bless all of you for your lovely letters, and I will try and see all of you and thank you in person when we come back to Nebraska. I believe we will arrive there about May 1.

Sunday, Jan. 23, will see the opening of the Hawaiian baseball league, with a game to be played here in the Area 3 park. We of the sign shop have been busy all week getting the big new scoreboard ready for the opening day, and it sure was some job. The board is 26 feet long and the figures we are to use in the scoring are 15 inches in height. They have to be seen in the stands from where the board stands in center field, but they sure are big enough.

Our winter, such as it was is about over, but we had very little weather this time. Last year it was plenty wet but we had lovely weather this year.

At the meeting of our Nebraska club last Sunday evening we had seven new members present and a visitor from the armed forces. We are thinking of inviting the men from Iowa to our meetings, as the Iowans have no club of their own as yet. There are even fewer of them than there are of Nebraskans. I am certain that there are plenty of Nebraska boys here in the armed forces, but it sure is a big job to get in touch with them. Will close without saying a word about myself. "There's been too much said already."

Yours truly,
John L. Ward,
Area 3, Box 28.

Miss Shawlik Has Interesting Class

Miss Wilma Shawlik's young normal trainees, senior students who will be teachers themselves before many months, were practicing on one another Friday morning, meantime "reviewing for exams."

The class of a dozen or more young women paid good attention as Luetta Kuehl demonstrated her idea of Teach at work. At the blackboard Luetta had drawn a neat little house, and she told her imaginary second grade how the "ing" family lived there. After some explanation, she said each of her pupils giving an example of an "ing" word would get a stone put into the walk thereby. She made it interesting, made it a game, pleasant enough to entertain children while they learned, and she fulfilled another rule when she repeated "ing" sounds and words over and over. The class voted her quite a satisfactory teacher.

Next Bernice Duda "taught" the second grade. At the blackboard she used for her day's lesson the suffixes all, ell, and ill. She too repeated them over and over, and asked for words using them, writing each example on the board until she had a goodly list. Both would-be teachers showed surprising poise and grasp of essentials.

A discussion of how to memorize a poem followed. It seems there are definite steps, and it is best to view the poem as a whole, not to rip it to bits as was once the custom, ruining any feeling or meaning the poem might have. Try to find the meaning of the poem, Miss Shawlik asked, and if any words in the poem are difficult it would be well to discuss them the day previous or otherwise learn them before tackling the poem.

A twenty-minute study and review period follows in preparation for the semester test on Monday.

An observation of the room showed that the normal training classes are given some instruction in making art projects, for a rollicking row of cut-paper snowmen and a colored cardboard calendar of January were on display.

The members of the public speaking class, the hour following, were learning how to make a proper banquet speech. Simple you say? (Remember all those boring after-dinner talks you've yawned through?) It seems there are rules for such a speech, rules that practically guarantee an alert audience as the banquet speaker puts in the three essentials, a pinch each of sentiment, of poetry and of wit.

There are other rules too. An after-dinner speech should entertain. It should be brief. It should be primed to suit the age of the listeners, the time and the occasion. It should follow theme of the banquet, and the mood.

The chairman also has duties. He should be ready to adapt himself as the occasion demands, he should be full of ideas and originality, and he should stick to the point carefully, so Miss Shawlik taught her students.

Then came a most interesting phase of the classwork, as chairs were put in an oval, and the banqueteers prepared to speak. "Now Remember", Miss Shawlik gave as parting advice, "you have eaten well and are happy!" Short discussion of rules for seating speakers intervened, then Chairman Frank Rutar took over.

He laced the banquet together into a whole, telling a joke occasionally, adding the light touch needed. In turn he called on Marcella Iwanski, Patty Achen, Don Aulsebrook, Carolyn Aulsebrook, Darlene Whiting, Gary Krikac, Bob Kokes and Eva King for banquet talks.

Each young speaker spoke for perhaps four or five minutes, amusingly telling bits of school lore relating to a particular topic which had been previously assigned. The speeches were good and certainly entertaining. There was the joke about the boy who was asked to use the word "notwithstanding", retorting with "I wore a hole in the seat of my pants but notwithstanding." There was the clever poem Carolyn Aulsebrook gave, talking on the topic "English", asking if the plural of cows is cattle, why isn't the plural of bows battle, and so on.

Yes, it was fun. And they were really learning to make a good banquet speech. Or perhaps it was how not to make a banquet speech.

Irrigators! Increase Production by Land Leveling

Through the cooperation of the Valley County Extension Service, the Valley County Triple A, the North and Middle Loup Valley Public Power and Irrigation Districts and the Valley County Soil Conservation Service, equipment is going to be available for land leveling in the irrigated portions of this county.

To acquaint irrigators with the equipment available, either for their own use or for use by contractors, the increased yields that may be made possible by land leveling, the cost of land leveling and the benefit payments that will accrue to land owners who have land leveling done, a series of meetings has been arranged as follows:

NORTH LOUP, at Community Building, Monday, Febr. 7, 2:00 P. M.

OLEAN, at school house, Monday, Febr. 7 8:00 P. M.

ORD, at Legion Hall, Tuesday, Febr. 8 3:00 P. M.

SPRINGDALE, at school house, Tuesday, Febr. 8, 8:00 P. M.

ELYRIA, at town hall, Wednesday, Febr. 9, 2:00 P. M.

ARCADIA, at high school, Wednesday, Febr. 10, 2:00 P. M.

One contractor already has moved some heavy equipment into the county and more is available if the need is indicated. Due to the increased need for food products by the United Nations, and the prevailing good prices, more efficient use of irrigation water that land leveling will make possible is bound to pay immediate dividends, as well as increasing the value of the land for all future years.

The Triple A is offering greatly increased benefit payments for land leveling on irrigated farms, as an incentive to increased production.

Come to one of these meetings and get full information on land leveling, what it will cost and what it can mean to you.

Entertain Wives.

Rotarians took their wives out to dinner Monday evening, arranging for a real spread at the K. C. hall. The hot, tasty dinner was the work of the Catholic ladies who served the large party at long tables joined to form a U. Roy Randolph presided at the close of the meal. Program Chairman C. J. Mortensen introduced Wilma Shavlik, who reviewed the book "Happy Land" by McKinley Cantor. She told it well. It was an engrossing story of a small-town boy who grew up in the good American way, and went away to die as a sailor serving his country, and the impact of his death on his father. A brief songfest preceded the dinner, directed by Hilding Pearson.

New Point Values Now in Effect on Meats

New point values went into effect on meats Monday, with the cost of most cuts of beef, veal, lamb and mutton increased and most cuts of pork left unchanged. America still has plenty of pork but seasonal shortages of the other meats are becoming apparent.

Your brown stamps will go further, allow you to serve meat oftener, if you serve more pork. Its patriotic to do so.

Ask us about the new point values of meat. Let us help you plan your menus for greatest economy in both money and ration points.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

An improved method of raising hogs was explained by Larry Donegan of the Portland Cement Association to our future farmers at the high school last Wednesday.

Pigs are kept on sloping concrete floors surrounded by gutters. They may be changed to green pasture after a few weeks, or else grown to market weight right on the concrete floors.

It is claimed that farmers using this method lose only one pig out of ten, as compared with four lost out of every ten in dirt lots. Freedom from disease makes the difference.

Over fifteen thousand of these concreted feeding plants were constructed last year for Iowa hog raisers alone. They work best where farmers have running water for washing out the gutters.

Farmers owning concrete layouts can provide sanitary quarters without having pigs scattered all over the place. They can stay in the hog business permanently, and have animals to sell when prices are right.

The in and out hog farmers are apt to get caught by low prices, or be driven out of business by diseases. Those who follow the crowd make less money on pork than farmers who stay in the game all the time.

Become an amateur magician and you will be the headlight of any party—because everybody likes magic. Why? Why do we gape when a trickster whisks a rabbit out of an apparently empty hat? Or an egg out of thin air? Because by natural reason we know that things must have a cause; something cannot come from nothing. That is why we are entertained by the magician who appears to produce something out of nothing; but we know all the time that we are being fooled. When a murder occurs, we ask who did it. When the motor of our car develops a knock, we want to know the trouble. When our body aches with fever, we want to know the reason. This universal law of cause and effect is the foundation of all sciences and of our daily actions. It is also one of the proofs for God's existence. If someone told you that your watch or radio or house came into being without a maker, you would laugh. Catholics believe that flowers, chemicals, stars, bodies, and everything else not fashioned by man must have a Maker, God, and they call that Maker, God. It will not do to say: "The universe exists of itself." Everything within our experience, from needles to cathedrals, requires a cause for its production. To say that the countless elements of the universe demand no cause is to contradict experience and another reason itself. It is like saying: One duck requires a mama duck, but a flock of ducks does not. The Catholic has other proofs for God's existence. He can argue from the purposeful character of the things about him; from the universal consent of mankind. But the argument from the principle that every effect postulates a cause is very good. Destroy it and we destroy science, everyday experience, and reason itself.

Something Different

Mayor M. B. Cummins was a mighty happy man to arrive in Ord from Rochester, Minn., the other day. His big booming voice sang out over the telephone wire: "You know, Mrs. Leggett, I never thought Ord people were especially good-looking, before I went up there. But, boy, when I came home every face I saw was beautiful. Never knew there were so many good-looking folks!"

He isn't the first recovered convalescent to think that. It seems that being very sick steps up the emotions and the appreciative facilities of the one so nearly failing to recover.

And always there are a number of acquaintances who have sent cards and notes that you'd never have expected... acquaintances who have moved over into the class of friends.

Two or three people have told me that Mrs. Marie Duemey, who died last week, really was one of those legendary mothers "who never raised her voice or her hand" while she raised her children.

What finer eulogy could be offered than this? The latest person to tell me this was Mrs. Edith Jewett. She lived next door to Mrs. Duemey for many years, and she should know, surely.

I had an acquaintance tell me that about myself once, too. Sadly, I must point out that she was not a close neighbor, or she'd a-knowled better!

While Ord stirs up its own warty entertainments, why can't we have again a fine male chorus like that one so delightful eight or ten years ago?

Ord undoubtedly needs a youth recreation center. But I wonder if the youngsters themselves could not put this over, with very little help from older folk?

They enjoy the most the work they have done themselves, you remember. Well, beginning with the seventh grade and up, all of the young people are old enough to get together and make their own plans with little adult guidance. Old enough to find a place, to clean it and redecorate it, to plan it and to arrange the supervision necessary.

The schools are burdened to death with extra-curricular activities now, patriotic and otherwise.

But this recreation project would surely be near the heart of every boy and girl in high school and fresh out of it, and perhaps the student council could appoint committees and the plan could go on from there.

Business men, and the same ones over and over, are also burdened sufficiently in Ord. Yet I feel there are hosts of them who would think such a cause worth their active and financial backing.

The Rotary club has it under consideration now, so something will be done about it, never fear. The Rotarians do not blow their own horn much, yet this group accomplishes about as many worthwhile things in Ord as any organization you can name me.

Protect Yourself Against Penalties

Here is the LAW: "Every taxpayer . . . shall keep such permanent books of account or records . . . as are necessary to establish the amount of gross income and deductions, credits and other factors required by an income tax return."

Here is the PENALTY: "Any person who willfully fails . . . to keep such records or supply such information . . . shall, in addition to other penalties . . . upon conviction, be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than 1 year, or both . . ."

What It Contains

There is space for each item of income and each item of deductible expense for every day in the year. The income pages contain 23 columns or classifications. The expense pages have 23 classifications. In front of book there is a specific "do" and "don't" instruction for each classification. In back of book are Summary Sheets, Inventory and Depreciation forms, and Individual Records (which have to be kept separate from farm expenses). When you have made the final entry on December 31 you will have a complete and concise picture of your entire year's operations, invaluable for future reference, in addition to its Income Tax angle.

Recreation Center for Young People under Discussion

Rotarians Vote $200 to Help Project, Support of Other Clubs, Persons, Asked.

Need for a recreational center for young people in Ord has long been realized and at a recent meeting of the Ord Rotary club President Roy Randolph appointed a committee headed by John P. Misko to investigate feasibility of establishing such a center and estimating cost of its operation. Monday evening this committee made its report and recommendations.

Several buildings suitable for such use are available, the committee found, with the north room of the Keown building, formerly occupied by Western Auto Supply, deemed most suitable. For such a purpose this building can be rented for only $30 monthly and the cost of heating it for the hours when the center would be open should not exceed $10 monthly, on the average.

To equip the center with ping-pong and pool tables, a juke box to furnish music for dancing, card tables, possibly a reading room, athletic equipment, etc., would probably cost about $500 if used equipment is bought, borrowed or rented, the committee reported.

A supervisor should be employed on at least a part-time basis and volunteer assistants probably could be secured. Small dues might be charged boys and girls who made use of the facilities of the center and some profit might be realized from the sale of soft drinks and candy, so the project could be to some extent self-supporting. A budget of $1,080 per year would be required to keep the center in operation, after an initial investment of $500, it was thought.

After considerable discussion Rotarians voted, subject to approval by the directors, to make an initial contribution of $200 to the project and possibly to give such other funds as could be spared from time to time. It was suggested that other Ord groups share the sponsorship and one, the Business and Professional Women's club, has already agreed to do so. Additional funds can be secured by voluntary contributions.

The committee recommended that the center be governed by a council made up of representatives of sponsoring groups, but that the boys and girls who patronize it form their own organization and be self-governing to as great an extent as possible.

President Randolph continued the present committee until a permanent organization can be formed and it is planned to proceed with the project as rapidly as possible.

Kearney Airbase Gives Great Show for Big Ord Crowd

Soldiers on Bond Tour Are Welcomed Heartily by Children, Grown-ups.

The military troupe from the Kearney air base gave a wonderful show at the high school auditorium in Ord last Thursday evening and one of the biggest crowds ever to pack the place showed appreciation of their efforts by applauding heartily at every opportunity.

In charge of the soldier-troupe was Major Gleason, who spoke briefly, and the master of ceremonies was Lieut. Bolin, public relations officer at the base, who kept younger members of the crowd in an uproar with his humorous remarks. Featured speaker was Lieut. McCune, a young aviator who has flown 58 missions against the Japanese in the New Guinea area.

The band music was especially enjoyed but the caliber of the whole program was extremely high. This troupe has appeared at many places in Nebraska in support of the 4th War Loan drive and its appearance here was for the same purpose.

Chanticleers Hold G. I. Even in First Half but Lose 42-26

Ball Wouldn't Drop for Ord Boys but Big Crowd Saw a Bang-up Game.

Neither Coach Roscoe Tolly nor the members of his cage squad are offering any alibis for their 42 to 26 defeat at the hands of Grand Island Friday evening but all of them are confident that if they could play the Islanders again they could "take" that tough and fast-moving team.

Throughout the first half the two teams battled on even terms. Score at close of the first quarter was 7 to 4, Satterfield and Finley having each scored a basket for Ord with the Islanders cashing in three field goals and a gift toss.

Mid-way of the second quarter Ord forged into a 10-8 lead by virtue of a field goal by Satterfield and free throws by Wilson, Hurlbert and Finley, and fought the Island boys to a stand-still in the rest of the period, which ended 15 to 14.

The second half was a different story, as the Island offensive moved into high gear and Ord's scoring attempts ringed the bucket but failed to drop thru. In fact the Chanticleers were unlucky all evening in this respect, though they were deadly from the free throw line.

A pair of baskets by Wilson comprised Ord's third period total, while the Islanders counted 11 points, and this quarter ended with the score 26 to 18. Four free tosses and baskets by Wilson and Finley pushed Ord's total to 26 in the final quarter, while in the meantime Grand Island was making a tidy 16 points and the game ended 42 to 26 in the Leemans' favor.

Ord had a slight advantage in height over Coach Jerry Lee's team. Janson was the shining star for the Third City crew, using his superior speed to sift through the Ord defense and score consistently, making a total of 21 points. Wilson made 8 points and Satterfield 7 to lead Ord score.

A head injury to Wilson early in the game hurt Ord's prospects for the big center had to leave the game while stitches were taken above his eye and the injury slowed him down to some extent throughout. Ord's starting line-up had Finley and Satterfield at forwards, Wilson at center, Kovanda and Randolph at guards. Hurlbert and Tommy Tolen also saw action during the conflict.

He was united in marriage to Anna Louise Abbott and to them three children were born, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. Grace Sprague, of Ord; Mrs. Frieda J. Howard, Detroit, Mich.; and Muhl K. Hoff, Alexandria, Va.

For a number of years Mr. Hoff was in business at Marietta, O. in a firm known as the Dawling & Hoff Co. Later he went to Oklahoma and engaged in the oil business, moving to Valley county in 1935 to assume management of the extensive interests of his brother, Kingsbury whose principal heir he was. Mr. Hoff farmed on an extensive scale for the past few years of his life, taking pride in the fact that he introduced new seed strains and new producing methods to this region.

Besides his wife and children he leaves one sister, Mrs. Hannah Jones, of Ord, several nieces and nephews, seven grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Dr. Gard Will Move to Theatre Building

After thirty-four years in his present location, the southwest corner of the Auble building, upstairs, Dr. George R. Gard has leased office room in the Ord Theatre building and is having it remodeled and redecorated with the intention of establishing his dental office there soon.

His new office will have the advantage of being on the street and since he will use a basement room for laboratory work he will have more space than he has had in the Auble building.

Firemen Make $170 Profit with Ball

John S. Hoff, 78, Dies at Hospital after Brief Illness

Homesteaded Here as Youth but Most of His Life Was Spent Elsewhere.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Pearson chapel for John Sherman Hoff, 78, who died at an Ord hospital Feb. 4 after an illness of only a few weeks. Rev. R. T. Cordry officiated and burial was in the Ord cemetery. Pallbearers were Alfred Burson, Lowell Jones, Russell Jones, Harold Miller, Westell Rose and Harold Burson.

Born Sept. 13, 1865 at Stanleyville, O., the son of Kingsbury and Maria Hoff, he came to Valley county and homesteaded near Ord as a youth in his early 20's, as did his brother Kingsbury. Soon, however, John had to return to Ohio to assume the care of his invalid stepmother, and did not return here until 1935, after the death of his brother Kingsbury.

Junior Thespians Present Beloved 'Cinderella' Under Miss Shavlik's Direction Tuesday Eve

The dearly beloved story of Cinderella came to life Tuesday evening before the delighted eyes of Ord's young and old, when the Junior Thespians group presented it at the high school under the capable coaching of Wilma Shavlik. The youngsters greeted each new character as if he were a dear old friend, and lived the drama with the actors. Cinderella was a winsome lass as Jean Blaha played her. Ashes was an outstanding characterization, very naughty but very competent and lovable, in Ord known as Beverly Burrows. The stepmother, Dot Kokes, Tilliebell and Gladiola who were Shirley Martin and Joan Biemond, kept in their cruel characters remarkably well for youngsters. Godmother Joyce Achen was sweet and kindly.

The dainty dancing fairies were played by Marianne Gnasster, Doris Dodd, Mershonne Knecht, Joan Blessing, Sandra Norman and Donna St. John.

Biff, the jester, as done by Dick Tolen, was a favorite of the audience every time he frolicked across the stage.

The handsome, dashing prince was interpreted very well by Joe Kominek. And the king, Leonard Roessler, was good in spite of carrying 280 lbs. and the weight of marrying off a son on his shoulders. His queen was beautiful and kind, as Kathleen Clement played her. Princess-in-law was a haughty, beautiful woman as Nancy Sprague did it. Guests included Mary Ann Novosad, Jay Stoddard, Maxine Wolf, Jim Fafeita, Arlene Wolf, David Maurice, Doris Norman, Joyce Grabowski, Bette Lu Anderson, Beverly Whiting, Arthur Larsen, and chancelor, Mary Travis his wife, LeRoy Noll, the prime minister. They were beautifully costumed. Hoops, bustles, full skirts and lovely romantic trappings made the whole play a thing of beauty.

Lackies were Alice Finley, Rosellen Vogelantanz and Florence Christensen, well trained servants indeed.

The production staff included Don Auble, Lyle Novosad, Gerald Krikac and Roland Beran for scenery. Since only about $2 is allowed for expense for such a play, the public speaking class members really test their ingenuity. In this play they outdid themselves. Particularly "works of art" were the hand-pointed portraits and coat-of-arms.

Properties were the affair of Carolyn Auble, Patty Achen, Eva King, Marcella Iwanski, Roberta Stoddard, Hilda Lola, Lillian Klanecky, and Darlene Whiting. Irene Johnson was in charge of the fairies. Ushers were Luetta Kuehl, Betty Whitford, Norma Vavra and Maxine Wegzyn.

Mr. Lockwood and his music department provided orchestra numbers between the acts and scenes.

John McCarty Has Heart Attack, Dies

Funeral services and burial were at Sargent, with Rev. Michael Szczepny in charge.

Zadina Charged Attempted Rape

Thursday a charge of assault with attempt to commit rape upon his 16-year-old sister-in-law, Miss Marian Skala, was filed here against Ed Zadina and upon arraignment in county court that day he made a plea of not guilty. The assault was allegedly committed Jan. 30th.

Zadina was released on $200 bond by County Judge John L. Andersen, for appearance at a preliminary hearing at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. Purpose of such hearing is to determine if a crime has been committed and, if so, if there is reasonable evidence against the defendant.

Fifth Graders Again Win Bond Banner

Grade pupils purchased $180 worth of bonds and stamps last week, the fifth grade again securing the banner with 100 per cent participation. Two or three other grades are almost 100 per cent too.

Fifth and sixth grade youngsters have a popular new Valentine plan. Each child decorated a small envelope for himself, and posted it. Others put as many pennies in the envelope as the price of a Valentine would come to, and the owner of the money buys war stamps. At the high school a special convocation will be held Thursday mid-afternoon when the Hastings college music department entertains.

—The property on North 19th Street formerly owned by Delpha Taylor is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prince. Mr. Prince is busy having a chicken house built on the back of the lot.

Fears Valley Co. Will Fail Quota in Fourth War Loan

Total Sales Far Short and Campaign Ends Feb. 15; Cooperation Sought.

With strong indications that Valley county may fail to make its Fourth War Loan quota of $314,000 and its county "E" bond quota of $193,000 unless every citizen buys his very limit in bonds, the 4th War Loan has entered its final week here.

Sales Chairman John P. Misko, County War Finance Chairman C. J. Mortensen, and R. Clare Clement, who directs sales in rural communities, have issued appeals to all volunteer workers to launch an all-out campaign to put Valley county over the top by Feb. 15.

Total bond sales in this county up to Tuesday morning were only $200,000 and "E" bond sales were even farther from the goal with a total of only $80,000.

"Unless people step up their bond buying in the next five days to a tempo never reached before Valley county cannot count itself in the victory column when this drive ends," Mortensen states.

Purchases of bonds in some Valley county townships have been very disappointing, while others have pleased officials greatly. For instance, Russell Jones reports over $10,000 of bonds sold in the west half of Yale township in the current drive, which is far in excess of that region's quota.

Clare Clement compliments Jones and the other successful salesmen but says too many of the rural workers are too quick to accept "no" as an answer. He urges a re-canvass during the final five days of the drive.

Misko admitted Tuesday that he is very down-hearted over progress of the 4th War Loan. "The people who have the money just aren't buying bonds," he said, pointing to total bank deposits of over two million dollars in Ord banks alone. "With all the patriotism and will in the world those who haven't money can't buy bonds to an extent that would let us meet our quota, and it looks to me like its up to those who have the idle money lying in the banks to assume a larger share of the burden than they are doing."

Asked what approximate bank deposits in this county are at the present time, Mortensen said they are in excess of three million dollars, the highest point in history. Deposits have more than doubled in the past two years, despite purchases of war bonds, he said. "The idle money is here, on deposit in our banks, to put the 4th War Loan over the top, if people who have money on deposit will only invest it in bonds as it is their patriotic duty to do," he stated.

"Valley county has five days to redeem itself for the poor showing made thus far, or we'll forever after go down in the column of counties that were unwilling to do their share," he said.

Loan Association Meets Wednesday

Final plans for the Loan Association's annual meeting of members have been announced by Evet Smith, president of the association. The meeting will be held Wednesday, February 16, in the Bohemian Hall at Ord, Nebraska.

Mr. Smith said the meeting will start with registration at 10:30 A. M. and the program to start at 10:45. Music and entertainment is being arranged for the forenoon session and a hot dinner will be served at noon to the members and their wives. The regular business session will be called to order at 1:00 P. M. following the noon day meal. This will be an important session inasmuch as the members will elect a full slate of association directors.

Mr. Frank Osborn, vice-president of the Federal Land Bank will be present to speak on the reorganization program recently approved by the association and termed "the greatest forward step in the 27-year history of the National Farm Loan associations and the land bank."

Mr. Smith said the annual meeting promises to be "one of the largest get-together of landowners occurring during the year in this four-county area."

Activities of the past year and the improved service to members made possible by the reorganization plan will be discussed by James B. Ollis, secretary-treasurer of the Loan Association.

It will be remembered that Miss Anderson, teacher at the Barker school, was badly burned early in the fall when she poured kerosene on some trash she was burning in a stove in the basement. Deep burns on her arms and shoulders required skin grafting and after several weeks in the clinic hospital at Ord, she was taken to Lincoln.

More than 400 dozen cookies have been baked and sent to the USO in Grand Island by North Loup housewives since November 21, and more go each week. The project was sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary and the various clubs of the village are responsible for the supply of cookies each week. As high as sixty dozen have been sent at one time. Organizations sending the cookies include the Fortnightly, Jr. Fortnightly, Nolo, Young Ladies Class, the Auxiliary, Nettle and Womens Missionary societies of the Seventh Day Baptist church, Pinochle club, Methodist W. S. C. S., B. P. W. club, Needle and Thimble club, Riverday Busy Bee club and the Neighbory club. Mrs. Harold Hoepfner is chairman of the project and gathers the cookies and gets them ready to send. Roy Stine of the Stine transfer is very obliging in taking the cookies to the USO. The USO furnishes the shortening and the sugar and should there be any other organizations who would like to help out, Mrs. Hoepfner would be glad to see they get the materials. Many a service man, visiting the Grand Island USO has been fed with sweets from North Loup and there is a story that some even ask if the North Loup cookies have come in yet.

Reunited in England.

A letter from Cpl. Albert C. Hoepfner (Bud) to his folks, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner, North Loup, Nebr.

Somewhere in Great Britain January 15, -1944.

Dearest Folks:

Guess I'd better get your letter started as I haven't written now in several days. Just got back this morning from spending two of the happiest days since I was home last. Got to London Thursday and met John and Butch. (Not Johnny Hamer and Everett Manchester.) Just missed seeing Edwin Johnson but he had to get back. Was with John and Butch Thursday and all day Friday and we had one swell time. The sooner we get together again the better. They're both just the same as always, and was glad to see me just as I was to see them. While in London we took in some of the big places such as Westminster Abbey. We saw the House of Parl., Buckingham Palace and of course the Big Ben Clock. We took some pictures and if the censors pass them will be sending you some real soon. Hope they turn out good. Yesterday was a perfect day and we didn't even wear our overcoats. Rode in the subways and was at Picadilly Circus. Suppose you have read all about it before.

look swell. I think we will have a North Loup bunch over here yet. Johnny seems to think Bill Sims is stationed close to me, and I will try and find out. I read his letter in the Quiz that time. As yet Johnny has never seen Kenny Jorgensen. I still haven't seen any snow and I don't think they ever have any, the seasons are about the same here as at home but I don't think it gets so cold here. I'm getting sleepy and I can hardly stay awake so will write again soon. Please take care of yourselves.

Soldier Describes Visit to Palestine

Several interesting days in Palestine are described by Pvt. Gilbert Bower, now thought to be in Italy. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bower, of Atwood, Colo., but was born and raised in Valley and Sherman counties. The letter was mailed to the Quiz by Mr. and Mrs. Mell Bower of Mossy Rock, Wash.

Pvt. Bower stayed at the Red Cross Club in Tel-aviu, a nice clean place run like a hotel, where breakfast cost 20c, other meals 40c. He arrived there on Oct. 5 and thought the city looked more like those in the "States" than anything he had seen since leaving a year ago. Window displays are the same and people are friendly, dressing and talking the same as Americans, a real treat. The night club the two young men visited that evening had drinks, dancing, a good orchestra and floor show with actors from the States.

Next day they set off about eight o'clock to tour the Holy Land, arriving in Jerusalem about ten. It is up the mountains, nearly all the old houses being made of stone. People were dressed almost any way, some like we do, others as in Biblical days.

Up on top of Mt. Scopus they had their pictures taken, with Jerusalem in the background, and then drove to the top of the Mount of Olives, and on to a place where a foot print is believed to be that of Christ, in solid rock where he came to bathe.

They entered Jerusalem through the gate of the Virgin Mary, one of the eight old gates through the wall. The gate is about 10 by 14 ft., and the wall about six feet thick and fourteen high. Then they visited the building where the Virgin Mary's parents lived, built in the 11th century of stone. From there they went to the excavated pool where people were bathed for the purpose of healing, while nearby was the pool where animals were bathed before being sacrificed.

After that they drove to Mt. Marion, which has one of the most beautiful dome shaped buildings imaginable. It is built of different colored stones, mostly blues, in small blocks about six to twelve inches square. This temple is over a large rock about 20 ft. square, where people made crucifixions in early Bible days.

At another church they saw the gifts and jewels given to Christ, approximately 120 million dollars in value, the most beautiful jewels there are, says Pvt. Bower.

At the Service Club for soldiers in Jerusalem they had lunch, later going to the Garden of Gethsemane, where one tree is believed to have been growing since the days of Christ. Next they saw a Russian church, very nice, and visited the walling wall where Jewish-faith people come once a year to pray and have their sins forgiven. About 50 people were praying and crying, quite a sight, he says.

On the bus they traveled through the rock plains of Jordan to Jericho, a small place in a valley, probably about 700 population. They can raise almost any fruits or vegetables.

After they went to the Dead Sea, 2300 ft. below sea level, 15 miles long, 10 miles wide and 900 feet deep. About 2,000 people are working there, making explosives and what not, from the sea. "We went swimming, quite an experience because you could not sink if you wanted to on account of the high salt content." They returned to Jerusalem to stay that night at the San Remo Hotel, a place much like any American hotel.

After supper they were invited to a party at John D. Whiteley's, writer for National Geographic Magazine. "He gave us a talk about his home and the surroundings." Prices interested

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I have been neglecting this column but I have a pet peeve that I want to talk about. It is the terrible mail service we now have.

A few months back the powers that be got their heads together and prepared a schedule providing for the Union Pacific freight to carry the mail; to arrive in Ord at 10 a. m. and to leave at 2 p. m. Word of the arrangement leaked out a couple of days before the new schedule was to go into effect, and a vigorous protest was filed, which resulted in the train dispatcher at Grand Island being sent up the line to find out what was really wanted.

He soon agreed that a worse schedule than had been planned.

ned couldn't be devised and it was postponed for a while and arrangements were made to have a truck bring the early mail, arriving in Ord about 8 a. m. and leaving at 4:30 p. m. on the return trip, the carrier spending the day at Burwell. The Grand Island railroad man promised that the mail carrier would usually be on time. He was for a time but for weeks now he has been arriving most any old time but usually at least an hour late. He is followed a little later by the freight which brings the parcel post mail. The freight leaves Ord at 2 p. m. and takes all mail that has been received at the postoffice up to that time. Sometimes it goes into Grand Island on time and often it gets in whenever it happens, depending on whether there are cattle along the line to pick up. Farmers like to get the day's market, then decide whether to ship that day, and if they phone that they are bringing in a shipment, the train is held. I am told that the freight with the mail some times gets to the Island too late to have the mail get the outgoing mail trains which it would have caught had it gone in on the truck that leaves here at 4:30. I am not kicking because the freight is held for the cattlemen. I think that is just what should be done but I don't think the public using the mail service should be punished just to give the business to the Union Pacific. But as one well-posted man remarked the other day, "it looks like the railroad is getting all the favors."

If our morning mail would come in at 8 as it is supposed to do it would not be so bad, though I do think this end of the line is entitled to two incoming and two outgoing mails a day and I believe we could have them at less cost than the government is now paying. At present the morning trucker in knows he has the whole day to kill and he don't care a hoot whether he is in on time or not. I think he admits that.

Bob Hoppes brings the mail from Burwell to meet the outgoing freight each day but is not allowed to take back the accumulation of mail for Burwell and Elvira and it has to lay in Ord till the next day. Bob goes back empty and would be glad to have the mail to take back.

Now for the solution. Why not have Hoppes start from Burwell and the mail truck start from Grand Island each morning, meet at say Scotia Junction, swap mail and each return home and repeat the same operation in the afternoon letting the mail get out of Ord in the afternoon about the time it does now and cut out the train mail entirely. It would be a much better mail service than we have ever had and would cost less than the present poor service does.

Sailor Sees 2.9 Miles A sailor at sea level can see only 2.9 miles in any direction, but on land a person can see at least 2.9 miles plus the distance reflected by his own and the object's height.

In many families more than one boy from one family has married a girl from another. This is understandable, so family characteristics have appeared. And then there's propinquity, whatever that is. You know families do see more of one another, when their children have married.... Take like, (now I think I'm right)...of the Lukes girls, several have married Ptacnik boys. Ptacnik boys. Confusin', Little Elmer would say.

Benda's Ord, Nebraska

Something Different

An Ord young man who loves tomfoolery was the guest of friends, whose small son did not care to leave the scene of the festivities and be put to bed.

The mother wanted to be gentle but firm, as it says in the book. It was bedtime so she took the little fellow upstairs and tucked him in, once, twice, and three times. He would stay quiet for a while then wander down the stairs once more.

The practical joker, our old friend Vernie Andersen, loves children and he asked, "Let me put him to bed. I can put Tom to bed so he will go right to sleep."

Permission was granted. Things above seemed quiet. After a little Tommy came downstairs to say Vernie was asleep!

(Those who know Vernie suspected it was just another of his jokes, and that he had it all planned out when he requested the privilege of putting the little boy to bed.)

Stated young Mrs. Clark Weckbach, wife of the new president of the First National Bank recently, "I've been to three big clubs now, I'm beginning to feel I have met 'most everyone.'"

When I made the depressing statement that there were some 72 clubs and organizations meeting in Ord and this part of Valley county a few years ago when I tried to make a list, Mrs. Weckbach gasped!

Can't blame her, can you? That's a lot. It seems that Ord is quite a clubby place.

Since that day I've never got up my courage to try counting them again.

Another little thing Ord has more of than most middle-west communities, and that is related and interrelated families. We aren't quite so "relative" as North Loup, possibly, but start checking over your acquaintances.

When such large families intermarry, as is the custom hereabouts, of course cousins are multiplied infinitely.

It always called to my mind a girl who stayed with me and went to school a couple of years. One summer day an Ord family appeared on the Minnesota horizon, and Olga announced the head man was her cousin. Sooz, she came back and said she'd been mistaken: he was her uncle. Before long she reversed this decision.

To me that seemed queer, that she didn't know her own kink, and their exact relationship.

But when she explained that her mother was one of 11 children, and her father one of 14 (I may have it reversed), and we began to count the dozens of cousins, the chances for error looked different entirely.

MACARONI AND CHEESE 1/2 lb. uncooked macaroni 2 tpsps. dry mustard 2 cups milk 4 tpsps. shortening 1 1/2 cups grated cheddar cheese 4 tpsps. enriched flour 1/2 tsp. salt

Cook macaroni in large amount of rapidly boiling salted water until tender; drain thoroughly. Melt shortening; blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually; then add 1 cup of the cheese and cook until thick, stirring occasionally. Combine macaroni and cheese sauce in well-greased 1 1/2-qt. baking dish. Sprinkle with remaining 1/2-cup cheese. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) until cheese is melted and well browned, about 30 minutes. Serves 6.

And here's another macaroni-product dish which meets with consistent favor in my home: SPAGHETTI MARCO POLO 1/2 lb. uncooked spaghetti 1 tsp. salt 2 buds garlic 1/4 tsp. pepper 2 tpsps. finely cut parsley 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese 7 tpsps. salad oil or shortening 3 cups cooked tomatoes

Cook spaghetti in large amount of rapidly boiling salted water until tender; drain thoroughly. Sauté chopped garlic and parsley in hot salad oil until garlic is slightly browned. Add tomatoes and seasonings. Cover and cook slowly about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Force mixture through sieve. Add sauce and cheese to hot spaghetti and mix well. Serve at once. Serves 6.

New Point Values Now in Effect on Meats

New point values went into effect on meats Monday, with the cost of most cuts of beef, veal, lamb and mutton increased and most cuts of pork left unchanged. America still has plenty of pork but seasonal shortages of the other meats are becoming apparent.

Your brown stamps will go further, allow you to serve meat oftener, if you serve more pork. Its patriotic to do so.

Floyd Augustyn Weds.
Sergeant Floyd Augustyn, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Augustyn, was married Saturday, January 29, at St. Ignatius Roman Catholic Church to Miss Kathleen Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hope, of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. Glennon at 4:30 p. m. The bride was attended by Mrs. Walter Serviss, and the groomsmen were Corporal John Lutz. The bride wore a radiant blue with white accessories and wore a corsage of white orchids. The family of Sergeant Augustyn was represented by a niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Wright, a brother-in-law, Mr. Leon Carkoski, and Warrant Officer and Mrs. Frank Banks, another niece and nephew.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which a lavish supper was served. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Wright entertained at dinner in honor of the bride and groom. Bower the most: a milk cow $2,200; one pound of meat $1.20; one pound of bacon, $3.20; one chicken $15; an egg 20c; a turkey, $25; a pound of carrots 50c; a ton of wine grapes $12; a small apple 30c. A good car in Iran $25,000. Whittely lives in one of the oldest houses in New Jerusalem, a very nice place with walls three feet, seven inches thick.

That night they slept at the Y. M. C. A., a nice place and large. Across the street is the King David hotel, which Bower calls "the most beautiful hotel I ever saw."

Next morning they started back to Bethlehem, stopping at the tomb of Rachel, where the road forks to Bethlehem and Hebron. They also stopped to view the valley the wise men came through when they followed the star, and the Bells of Bethlehem that ring each New Year's eve. Here they visited the church of the nativity, where Christ was born, the oldest church in the world. It is carved out of solid rock, and in another room the Bible was first translated from Hebrew into Latin.

Then they visited the tomb where it is believed Christ was carried after the crucifixion. After lunch in Jerusalem they started for Haifa, through mountainous country. They stopped to see Jacob's well, where a Samaritan gave Christ a drink, and where Christ visited three days. The well is about 120 ft. deep. Later they stopped at Mt. Maraiith and a valley where several battles have been fought, also at a Jewish settlement. At one place 500 people work, sharing alike in what they make. The children are well cared for and educated, and everyone seemed happy. One lady gave them a glass of milk, and boy did it taste good! It was the first real milk since we left the States a year ago.

That evening they went to a Haifa night club, not a very big place, but all the soldiers thought the floor show the best ever.

Next morning they went to the top of Mt. Carmel. Here is the Mt. Carmel Monastery church, and you can see Haifa real plain and also the place where Napoleon was last defeated in 17-.

Going back to Tel-aviu, they went through a valley which was once a swamp. Now 1,300 farmers live there. People were husking corn and working in the fields. A fellow was baling hay with an old power baler run by one mule walking in a circle. At Tiberias they had dinner at a Red Cross club, later swimming in the sea of Galilee, which wasn't very big.

They saw the Church of the Nazarene where Mary announced she would bear a child.

On the trip they traveled about 450 miles in three days, for about $12 each for everything. Back in Tel-aviu they spent three days more, buying souvenirs and having a good time.

It took him nearly five hours to write about his trip, Gilbert wrote.

First Blizzard of Winter Thursday, Temperature -13

State Highways Kept Open but Country Roads Drifted Badly in Two-Day Storm.

Central Nebraska had its first blizzard of the winter Thursday and Friday, with 6 1/2 inches of snow fanned by a wind that reached velocities of 35 and 40 miles per hour, and with a low temperature reading of 13 degrees below zero after the storm.

Snow began falling early on Thursday morning but did not drift seriously until that night when the wind became stronger. Drifting continued throughout Friday, although only a light snow fell on the second day of the storm.

Low temperature mark Friday morning was 11 below zero and Saturday the low reading was -13. Eastern Nebraska had temperatures as low as -23 at the same time, so Valley county apparently missed the worst of the storm.

State highways were kept open throughout the blizzard but country roads, especially east and west roads, were blocked. In many places drifts were 4 feet deep. Tracy Hamilton had a big crew of men at work opening roads as soon as the worst of the storm had passed and main roads in the county system were open by Saturday afternoon and all county roads were opened by Sunday.

Bus service continued both days of the storm, though the busses ran 30 to 60 minutes late, and the Union Pacific trains arrived almost on schedule. The mail truck failed to bring mail to Ord on Thursday and Friday mornings, though bread trucks and other commercial vehicles traveled on schedule, and the mail had to be brought to Ord on the train, arriving each day about the noon hour. Burwell had no mail service at all on Thursday, but on Friday the postmaster there authorized hauling of a big accumulation of mail from Ord by truck, in the absence of the regular carrier.

Warmer temperatures came Sunday and the snow began to melt but there is still plenty on the ground. Moisture content of the 6 1/2 inch snow-fall was .55 of an inch, Horace Travis reports.

Average Hunter Got 25 Pheasants in '43

Based on the number of "hunter record cards" returned to him at close of the 1943 open season on pheasants, Dr. H. Elliot McClure has compiled a lot of valuable statistics which were sent to all hunters cooperating this week in the form of a report by Dr. McClure.

This report shows that in the 70-day open season the average hunter hunted 9.6 times, with an average of 2.4 hours to each hunt, and that he killed an average of 2.8 birds on each hunt and a total of 25.5 birds during the entire season.

The number of shells used averaged 55.4 for the season, highest in the three years such reports have been made, and that the average hunter fired 2.3 shells for each bird bagged. Percentage of hunters using dogs was 47.

Sunday was the most popular hunting day, 29.4 per cent of hunting time being spent on Sundays, while Monday was least popular with 6.5 per cent.

Lengthening the hunting season to 70 days produced the desired result for better game management, McClure believes, for in the 21 day open season of 1941 hunters averaged 8.4 hunts and in the 70 day season this year averaged only 9.6, which spread the pressure on pheasants over a longer period of time and although the total bag was greater than in the past it was proportionately much smaller in relation to length of the season. The average hunter is going to shoot only about so many pheasants regardless of length of the season, he believes.

Protecting hens again procured the desired effect, says McClure, and over a wide area the sex ratio is now about two hens to one cock. Unless we have bad weather the rest of the winter and a poor hatching season there should be a bumper chop of pheasants next fall.

Goff Sale Febr. 29th. Last Thursday's blizzard forced postponement of the sale of purebred Spotted Fand China Goff & Sons. New date fixed is Tuesday, Febr. 29 and the sale will be held at the pavilion in Ord.

Potato Meetings Are Announced

Two meetings which should be of great interest to potato and vegetable growers of the North Loup valley will be held this week, says C. C. Dale, county agent.

On Febr. 17 a meeting will be held at North Loup in the Community building at 8 p. m. to be followed by a similar meeting at Ord on Febr. 18 at the American Legion hall at 2:30.

Speakers of the two meetings will be H. O. Werner, potato specialist of the College of Agriculture, and J. E. Livingston, plant pathologist of the Agriculture Extension Service.

Dr. Werner is known throughout Nebraska as the man who knows all the answers on potatoes and this will be his first appearance in Ord and North Loup. Potato growers should not miss the opportunity of hearing Dr. Werner.

Livingston is also well known for his work on plant diseases, not only of potatoes but of truck crops and field crops as well.

These meetings are being held especially for growers in this valley where potatoes are assuming increased importance as a cash crop. Last year some men ran into some difficulties which might have been avoided. These men can offer suggestions which will help to avoid losses which can make potatoes a hazardous crop for the new grower.

Suffers Stroke, Dies Wednesday

Funeral services were held at the Evangelical church in Mira Valley Monday for John Frank, 85-year-old early settler of that community, who died Febr. 9 at Norfolk two days after suffering a stroke from which he never regained consciousness. Burial was in the Mira Valley cemetery.

Mr. Frank was born in Wurtemberg, Germany Febr. 23, 1859, and came to the United States in 1882, living two years in Illinois. After ten years spent in Fillmore and Hitchcock counties, Mr. Frank moved here in 1894 and lived here until 1920, moving then to Buffalo county where he lived until 1940. Since that time he has made his home here with his son, Ernest Frank, moving to Norfolk a few weeks ago with his son's family.

He was married in 1892 to Anna Klein and four children were born to them. In 1901 came his marriage to Mrs. Matilda Rachuy and two children were born to this union. Surviving are Mrs. Carrie Bloch, Westbrook, Minn.; Mrs. Anna Wacker, Shelton; John Frank, Osborne, Mo.; Ernest Frank, Norfolk; Alfred Frank and Mrs. Hulda Ohlmann, Shelton; and step-children, Henry Rachuy and Miss Mary Rachuy, Ord; Mrs. Anna Bloch, Ione, Minn.; and Mrs. Martha Ohlmann, Shelton. There are 26 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

Rev. Theo. Harms, of Norfolk, conducted the funeral rites and pallbearers were Elmer Breadthorpe, Walter Fussa, Walter Foth, James Bremer, Wm. Bremer and Ernest Lange.

1943 Business Down, Says Judge's Report

In his annual summary of 1943 activities of his office, County Judge John L. Andersen reports that in most departments business was much lighter than in the previous year. More estates were probated, 43 as compared to 23 in 1942, and more criminal actions were filed, 35 as compared to 23, but in other respects his office was not as busy.

Only 36 marriage licenses were issued compared with 51 in 1942 and Judge Andersen comments that since the premarital blood test law became effective Aug. 28, 1943 only ten licenses have been issued here. Only 155 certificates were issued, compared with 445 the previous year, this applying principally to delayed birth certificates of which 727 have been issued since the law permitting them became effective early in 1941.

His office collected more fines, $215 compared to $156, but total court fees collected showed a considerable drop, $1,741.65 compared to $3,323.85 the previous year. All fees, fines and costs collected are remitted to the county. His office handled $3,738.37 in cash as compared with $5,681.01 in 1942.

There were 7 guardianship proceedings, 2 commitments to feeble-minded institutions, 1 commitment to a home for dependent children, 18 civil actions, 3 mothers' pension proceedings and 2 adoptions handled by his office.

Dr. Van Horn at Hawaii University

Honolulu—Donald L. Van Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Van Horn, formerly of North Loup, has arrived here to become assistant agronomist in the university of Hawaii Agricultural Experiment Station. His parents now live at Garwin town.

Dr. Van Horn graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1939 and received a doctor's degree in agronomy at Cornell University last year.

Mrs. Van Horn, whose home before her marriage was Omaha, has taken a federal government position in Honolulu.

Dr. VanHorn will participate in the Hawaii agricultural experiment station's experiments in forage and pasture crops, the purpose of which is to increase the degree of Hawaii's self-sufficiency in livestock feeds. Since the war began the station has concentrated its attention on the critical agricultural problems of food production.

Ed Kerchal Writes of Defense Plant Blaze

Ed R. Kerchal, former Ord man employed for the past several months at Portland, Ore., where he worked in the West Side plant of the Iron Fireman company which was building engines for Liberty ships at a cost of about $100,000 each, writes and sends newspaper clippings about a fire which on Febr. 2 did 2 1/2 million dollars damage to the plant in which he worked.

The fire broke out a few hours before the shift on which Ed was employed was due to work, so he was not in the big building when it burned but lost all of his work clothing and precision tools worth about $100. A friend of his who was working tried to save Ed's kit of tools along with his own, but had to abandon them to save his own life.

The plant had a contract to build 400 ship engines of the 2,500 horsepower steam-propelled type and had completed all but 77, which were in various stages of assembly in the plant when it burned.

Ed is now employed on the salvage crew cleaning up the plant but probably will have to take other work, as it is probable that the plant will not be rebuilt. He was employed as a machinist.

Gudmundsen Car in Omaha Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Gudmundsen went to Omaha and were gone until Saturday on business. While there they figured in an accident, when another car struck the Gudmundsen car damaging the back door and fender of the Ord vehicle.

Most seriously injured of the people in the Gudmundsen car was Mrs. Fritz Nygard of Omaha, who suffered a broken pelvic bone. Mrs. Gudmundsen's aunt, Miss Ruby Jensen, was bruised and Mrs. Gudmundsen suffered from bruises and shock. The two men, Curt Gudmundsen and his host Mr. Nygard, who were riding in the front seat, were unhurt.

The accident happened near the Union depot. Gudmundsen's were crossing the viaduct, the other car came around a corner.

Nass Selling Thirty Cases Eggs Weekly

The Valley county farmer who has gone into egg production most extensively is perhaps, Herman Nass of the North Loup community, who is marketing 15 cases of eggs twice weekly in Ord. He has a flock of English White Leghorn hens numbering 2,250 and at present is collecting about 1,600 eggs daily.

Mr. Nass feeds two tons of commercial feed monthly, supplementing home grown grains. He says that eggs were more profitable at 15c per dozen when barley was 30c per bushel than they are now at around 30c with barley and other grains costing over $1.00 per bushel.

Burwell Champs of 3-Valleys Circuit with Win Over Ord

Chanticleers' Offense Falters and Burwell Plays Good Ball to Win, 32 to 30.

After going like a house-afire in early rounds of the 3-Valleys conference basketball tournament played at Burwell last week the Chanticleers' offense faltered in the second half of Ord's last-round game against Burwell and the Longhorns cashed in on Ord's temporary lapse, laying smart ball to win 32 to 30.

To win their way into the championship round Ord beat Oup City, 43 to 19, and Broken bow, 51 to 28. In the meantime Burwell beat Ravenna, 42 to 22, and Sargent 41 to 35.

In spite of the sub-zero weather a large crowd welcomed the game contesting for the conference championship Friday evening and though most fans conceded victory to Ord a good game was expected. For once expert opinion was wrong and the fans saw one of the big upsets of recent years as Burwell copped the championship.

Ord went into an early lead and at the close of the first quarter the score was 15 to 3. When the half ended Ord led, 24 to 18, but Burwell came back with a rush after the rest period and scored a field goal and two free throws in the first few seconds of play. The Chanticleer players, nervous as they saw their lead vanishing, made only one field goal in the entire second half, thanks to smart defensive play by Burwell.

According to Coach Roscoe Tolly the Longhorns have made remarkable progress since Ord defeated them early in the season 24 to 9, and deserved to win Friday night on the basis of the game they put up. This Friday night the two teams meet again in a regularly scheduled game at the Ord gymnasium and fans from both towns will have a chance to see which team is the best.

Best Burwell player Friday night was Hansen but it was a fine exhibition of defensive strength that the Longhorns gave. Ord had its usual line-up of Wilson, Satterfield, Finley, Kovanda and Randolph, with substitutes having a chance to strut their stuff also.

Legion Dance Febr. 21.

The Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring a dance to be given at the Bohemian hall next Monday evening, Febr. 21, with music by the Pieper Swing Kings, from Albion. Tickets sold for the last dance, at which the Pieper orchestra was unable to play, will be honored at this dance.

File for Delegate.

Clarence M. Davis has filed for delegate to the state republican convention, and Fred Coe for alternate to the same meeting. Both filings were made on Febr. 15, states Ign. Klimka, Jr., county clerk of Valley county.

WAC Recruiters in Ord This Week

Three fine-appearing advertisements for the Women's Army Corps are to be seen in Ord this week, attracting all local eyes with their trim uniforms and trig appearance.

The three are Lt. Margaret Servine, commanding the U. S. Army recruiting station at Grand Island; Sgt. Rosa Bird of Virginia, late of Camp Hale, Colo., famous for skiing; and Cpl. Mildred Thibodeaux, a Louisiana miss.

Offices of the WACS, while in Ord, are at the Selective Service offices over the Nebraska State Bank. They will be here until Friday, and any one wishing information about the services of women of the WAC forces, their interesting lives, their pay, their duties, is urged to contact the Ord office at once.

All over the world the army is asking more help of women in the WAC service. Success, travel, adventure, a new world await those who enter this work. Have you considered it?

Boy Scout Court Well Attended

Merit Badges, Other Honors, Awarded Several Scouts; 53 Enjoyed Supper.

"The best court of honor we ever had!" was the enthusiastic verdict of the Boy Scouts at the conclusion of the program Sunday evening at the Firemen's hall. Some 20 boys were concerned. There were 53 people who sat down to eat a fine covered dish supper together, and about a dozen more who arrived later. All over the United States a court of honor for the Boy Scouts was held that day, wherever honors had been earned.

Ted Randolph was awarded senior scout rank and life rank. Kirk Lewis had earned a merit badge but was unable to be present to receive it Sunday. Bob Marks was given senior Scout ranking and one merit badge. Lyle Manchester had also earned a merit badge which was awarded him Sunday evening.

Impressive was the candlelight ceremony which gave six young fellows their tenderfoot rank. The little candles had holders made from beaver-felled trees. The boys who had earned this rank were Al Welsh, Charles Munn, Don Haught, Paul Stoddard, Galen Allen, Doug Dale and Erwin Carlson. They were given their troop numerals and their community stripes at this time also.

The Scout oath was recited, their laws told. There are now four active Scout patrols in Ord and more public interest in the boys and their work than has been shown for many years, as new members continue to join the Scouts.

H. E. McClure is Ord's scoutmaster, and John Haskell is his assistant. They and their wives helped make the court of honor a success, and also took charge of making the coffee and cocoa.

General War Bond Quota Reached but "E" Sales Lagging

$334,410 Subscribed Here as General Drive Ends; "E" Sales Still Count.

Valley county has met and surpassed its general quota in the 4th War Loan drive with a total of $334,410 in bonds having been bought here, it was announced Wednesday by C. J. Mortensen, county war finance chairman. The county's general quota was $314,000 and sales to date represent 107 percent of quota.

The campaign started January 18 and officially closed Tuesday evening of this week so far as issues of market bonds are concerned. The campaign for sale of "E" bonds will continue, however, and all bonds of this type bought during February will be credited to the county quota of $193,000.

In respect to sales of "E" bonds to individuals this county fell down sadly during the regular campaign, buying a total of only $136,125, or approximately 65 percent of quota. It is hoped that Valley county people will buy another $75,000 of "E" bonds this month, so the $193,000 quota may be met in full.

Heavy snows and impassable roads last week are believed to have kept many would-be bond buyers at home, Chairman Mortensen points out, and he is hopeful that these people will buy their bonds during the final ten days of February so their purchases may be counted toward quota.

John P. Misko, bond selling chairman for the county, while expressing pleasure over the manner in which the general quota was surpassed, is disappointed with "E" bond sales. There is an over-optimistic, complacent attitude in evidence among individuals, he believes, and this is responsible for their failure to buy "E" bonds as they should. No enough, Valley county citizens have said, "By golly I'm going to get along without something I had intended to buy and put the money into bonds instead," he says.

"If your reasons for buying wouldn't satisfy the boys on the bloody Anzio beachhead in Italy, or the fellows in that bitter Aleutian cold, then they aren't good enough. Can you afford NOT to buy more bonds?" Misko asks.

Helping toward Valley county's success with its general bond quota have been several non-resident buyers, a share of whose purchases were apportioned to this county. Among such buyers are Union Pacific railroad, $21,600; Burlington railroad, $10,000; State of Nebraska, $11,000; army and navy personnel, $2,600; Brown-McDonald Co., $5,000; Lee and Kelly stores, $1,000; J. C. Penney Co., $2,000; Sack Lumber & Coal Co., $1,000. There may be others whose purchases to date have not been reported to local officials for credit.

But it is purely local firms and individuals who have and must account for most of the bond purchases, both in the "E" and other series. Mortensen, Misko, R. Clare Clement and the others who are in charge of the 4th War Loan drive to the utmost those people who patriotically bought bonds to the limits of their ability. They hope that before March 1 many more may be enrolled in this group and that the $193,000 "E" quota, as well as the $314,000 general quota, may be met and surpassed.

Local Photo Printed.

The University of Nebraska Extension News carried a good picture of several interested in the philosophy course recently given in Ord by Dr. Patterson of the University of Nebraska. Included in the picture were Valley county superintendent Clara McClatchey. The picture and notes gain greater interest because of the fact that very likely they were arranged by James Morrison, who is now in that department. As a small boy he lived in Ord; after he was grown he taught at Burwell.

May Slaughter Hogs.

R. Clement of the Triple A office has received a government notice that farmers may continue to slaughter pigs without special permit for the next 30 days. However, the farmer must collect ration points if he sells the pork, and turn the ration points over to the local OPA office.

Raised $111.32 at Theatre.

During the January infant paralysis drive, patrons of the Ord Theatre contributed a total of $111.32 to the fund, announces Manager M. Biemond.

Kenneth Jorgensen Writes from Somewhere in England
From somewhere in England comes an interesting letter from Kenneth Jorgensen, written to his parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jorgensen of North Loup on Jan. 25. He says: "Well, here comes another letter, and it makes me pretty happy to write it, because today I got a large bunch of letters, about six from Maralyn and another from you folks besides another bunch from some other friends of mine."

"I also received the carton of cigarets and lighter you sent and was very glad to get them. Yesterday I received the notice that the money you sent has arrived in London and is in a bank there and I will have to get it sent out. It totals six pounds and some shillings and a few pence, or nearly $25."

"I have found that Grace Hawks is stationed fairly close to where I am. I guess I won't get to see Johnny and the boys. He wrote and told me to meet them in London but I couldn't get away. I do have a furlough coming up, but haven't decided on anything yet though."

"I have been talking to an English fellow who works here. He is from the Jersey Islands off the coast of France in the English channel. We have been comparing notes on cattle, as that is where Jersey cows originated. He cannot go home because the Huns are there."

"We have been having a few dances here and in town. A lot of women of the Royal Air Force called WAAFS to dance with, also ATS girls, a branch of the English army and land army girls, they are the ones who work on the farms. They dance well, but I can't dance with them very well, although better than at first."

"Some of them are very beautiful and they look nice in their uniforms. The ATS girls have uniforms the same color as ours, and look somewhat like WAFS. The WAAFS have blue uniforms. The land army girls dress in corduroy breeches with green sweaters and wear a sort of hat like the boy scouts, in fact their whole dress up uniform reminds me of girl scouts, and the girls in the service here have to join or go to work in factories. Some of them have been in as long as four years and that makes me feel like a recruit. They are doing a splendid job too, they work as hard or harder than the men here. The factory girls put in some mighty long days, while back home the people are griping because they have a forty hour week and time and a half over, here they work for a small wage and one doesn't hear of near as much griping. I knew some girls last fall that were picking apples for five shillings a week and board, living in tents to boot. Five shillings is about one dollar, so most everyone is used to their utmost here."

"Of course there are a certain amount of shirkers in every country. In town there are a bunch of kids following the Yanks asking for American chewing gum. This goes to show a little about conditions here. Write soon. Love, your son Ken."

The Irrigation Farmer is a new magazine published every month at Holdrege, Neb. This paper should be read by every farmer who waters crops. It is full of practical ideas written by irrigation experts of the North Platte Valley, men who know Nebraska conditions. The subscription cost is fifty cents per year. Nearly all country folks take some farm magazines. Most popular of these locally is the Nebraska Farmer, but closely behind come the Capper publications, especially Capper's Farmer. Also popular are successful farming, Country Gentleman and Farm Journal. Two Omaha papers, the World Herald and Daily Journal Stockman, lead among dailies in local farm homes. Many also take the Lincoln Star, or Grand Island Independent. Of weekly papers, the Ord Quiz is received by nearly all. Locally, perhaps one-fifth get no daily newspaper, according to a recent study. The number of publications subscribed to averages about five per farm. It ranges from two to ten, and includes information on a surprising variety of subjects. These publications are read more for news and recreation than for educational purposes. As one farmer said, "I already know how to farm better than I do."

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Finley's sixth grade voted it was their patriotic duty to give up Valentines this year, so the pupils decorated small envelopes and put Valentine pennies and nickels in them. As fast as a boy or girl got 10 or 25 pennies, they bought stamps from a committee including Galen Allen, Erwin Carlson, Paul Stoddard, Richard Heuck, Vernon Wells. Over $10 was spent. The sixth grade slogan is: "you pennies are symbols of freedom! Invest them in war stamps!"

More than $200 worth of stamps and bonds were sold at the grade building in Ord last week. The sixth grade bought stamps 100 percent for the first time, and proudly won the banner. Three grade rooms are now 100 per cent buyers, the third, the fifth and the sixth.

Valentine parties in every grade were the big thrill of the week to the youngsters, particularly the kindergartners.

Mr. Goff was back at his post as janitor at the grade building, as Arthur Nelson will be the high school janitor. Will Nelson helped at the grade school in Mr. Goff's absence.

At the high school the sophomore class leads in bond and stamp purchases and all the grades purchases for the past two weeks total $188.

Something Different

It isn't needful to grieve for the late District Judge E. P. Clements, who died a few days ago at his Ontario, Calif., home at the age of 85 years.

He had a sort of Horatio Alger career, a long and happy life, the ideal sort of life. Consider:

He began as a poor farm boy, eagerly learning to help his father raise barns and build houses. A whole section of northern Michigan dwellings testified to the Clements' architectural skill of 50 years ago.

He read law in his brother's office, and was so successful that he came to be known as having one of the finest legal minds of our times. Fewer of Judge Clements' court decisions were reversed than of any other Nebraska judge, a record which continues to this day.

He was honest, fair and unwavering. Money and oratory and red tape never snarled him up.

He married his sweetheart early, and they had 63 happy years together, raising a big brood of good citizens. They lost one little daughter, but three devoted sons and three devoted daughters testify to family solidarity. Solidarity isn't all global you know.

When it came to hobbies Judge Clements was in a class by himself. When he took up golf, he played it every day, and he got to be good at it. He played in tournaments and worked at it. When he took up bridge, he played contract constantly, morning, noon and night. Abetted by his son Edwin he learned rules, rules and more of them, playing a fine game. The night of his death he had played "the boards" through once and was about to play them back.

Gardening was another hobby by horse he rode. He couldn't rest until his roses were the pride of the town. His evergreens were set where they should be, regardless of work or hot summer sun. One year he raised prized salpiglossis glads and dahlias he raised 12 lower show proportions. The Clements yard was a showplace.

His early knowledge of carpentry he used all his life. It was forever inlaying a chest board or making a new kind of cabinet, or refinishing a table or a lamp. Nothing was ever too much work for him, and when the Clements home on the hill was built in Ord a few years ago, he greatly enjoyed doing a good share of the work, after plans perfected by himself.

Fishing and cooking he also liked immensely.

At the age of 83 he moved to a new location, planned and built a new home and went into a new business. All his children were settled fairly near with the exception of Wayne, who lives at Boulder, Colo.

The day he died he brought the Fenner's home for dinner with them, old friends with whom he had spent many pleasant hours.

A few hours later he was gone. A full life, lived to the last drop as he would have wished.

A humorist could find plenty of material for an amusing book in a good first-class illness. Or a second-class one, like eczema. For every person wants to tell how to fix the trouble and he is certain he knows, too.

One person knows it is the dye in yarn, it is wool, the war you know, my dear, the dyes aren't what they were.

Next someone knows someone who had it. And he went to the drugstore and bought a different kind of salve every day, and the 14th one, the name of it is Blank-Blank, worked like a charm and it'll fix you."

"Nervous people are subject to eczema. You'll get right over it if you rest and quit working."

"I cured mine with shaving cream just ordinary shaving cream, and you can do the same!"

"Well, you know the doctor always tells you to lay off pork and rich foods. That's what causes eczema, every time you'll find. Have you been eating lots of pork?"

"I'll bet you're allergic to something. You'd better go take the tests and find out. You will probably not get a bit better until you do. Have you stopped eating grapefruit? Well, you should, by all means."

"I called up to tell you I know just what causes it, I'm sure you're allergic to printer's ink. I heard of a man once that was and you probably are too! And so on a. I. Fun, hey?"

—Irma.

CATHOLICS SAY . . .
No. 4—What is a Dogma? "You're too dogmatic!"

This is one abrupt way of telling your neighbor that he is unreasonable and stubborn in his opinions. Most questions have two sides, but the dogmatist, as we use the word today, can see but one side and that is his own. You will find such a man in almost every conversational group. He solves every problem from baseball to winning the war with a clamorous voice and a bang of the fist.

However, the man who denies that well-reasoned and proved convictions exist is equally unreasonable. A man can be certain about the size of his hat. Is he dogmatic if he insists on buying the right size? "Advanced tuberculosis, if uncared for, will cause death." Is the doctor too dogmatic when he asserts this?

Every science depends on certain established dogmas or axioms. "A body once set in motion tends to keep in motion," dogmatizes the physicist. "Combine hydrogen and oxygen in the right proportions and you will have water," maintains the chemist. "Put two and two together and you will have four," lectures the mathematician. "Every event in this world must have a cause," postulates the philosopher. Are these men too dogmatic?

Catholics believe that religion, too, has its axioms or dogmas. If religion is the most important thing in life, then it is only reasonable that it should have definite and certain guiding principles. Are natural science and philosophy of more consequence than a man's relationship to his Maker?

Catholics believe that their dogmas come from the lips of God Himself when He spoke through Jesus Christ. God is not like a human teacher. He knows everything and cannot make a mistake. Being all holy, He would not deceive. Hence, if God has spoken, we are certain that we have the unchangeable truth. That is why the Catholic Church has dogmas.

The man who disowns all religious dogmas is dogmatic himself when he denies them.

How to prepare variety meats

SAFeway Homemakers' Guide

Safeway Meats

Ahhh! Can't you almost smell the mouth-watering flavor of that meat when it's just ready to serve? And its taste will be just as excitingly delicious, if you've bought it at Safeway. Buy this week's supply at Safeway!

WE HOUSEWIVES in the United States are learning how truly delicious many of the less familiar "variety meats" can be. And we're keenly interested, because these meats are relatively plentiful in supply and therefore cost us fewer ration points. We're learning, for example, that:

KIDNEYS are especially choice if they're lamb kidneys, but that those of calf, beef, and pork are also good. Simple preparation: wash them well in cold water, and split to make them lie flat; remove white tubes and excess tissue and fat; soak in cold salted water (1 tsp. salt per qt.) about 30 mins.; drain and dry well, cook until just tender, by broiling, sauteing, or stewing.

Kidney Stew saute onion in drippings, melted butter or margarine; add cut-up kidneys, salt, pepper, nutmeg, Worcestershire sauce, and parsley to taste, and water to cover; cover and simmer for 20 mins. or until tender; thicken with flour mixed to a paste with a little cold water, stirring constantly; serve immediately.

Similarly, with HEARTS we're learning that both calf and lamb hearts are tender, that beef hearts take a little longer cooking, and that pork hearts are coarser.

To prepare: wash well in slightly warmed water, take out arteries and veins that may be cut away; simmer slowly in water until tender, adding 1 tsp. salt to each quart of water when half done; allow about 2 hours for calf, lamb and pork hearts, about 3-3½ hours for beef hearts.

And when it comes to TONGUE we're learning that all four kinds are good, with beef the favorite of course. To prepare: wash well, scraping and cutting away any excess tissue; cover with boiling water and bring to a boil; then skim water and simmer tongue gently until tender, add ½ tsp. salt per lb. when half done; allow 2-3 hours for calf tongue, 1-1½ for lamb, 3-4 for beef, 1½-2 for pork.

We all know about LIVER and how appetizing it can be. But not all of us may realize how easy it is to disguise its flavor for those who dislike it. Simply take equal parts of liver and stewing beef or lamb, add 3 tbsps. of flour for each ½-lb. of liver, salt and pepper and grind. Form into patties and fry—or make into meat loaf. If you say nothing about this being liver patties the family will eat and enjoy it!

5,250 Stars
IN OUR SERVICE FLAG
AND WE'RE PROUD OF EVERY ONE
A Washington's Birthday Message

JUST a year ago we paid richly-earned tribute to the 3400 Penney people who had gone off to the war. Today, the number of stars has grown to 5250. And today, again at Washington's Birthday, we honor and salute them!

From every Penney store in America, men have gone to man the Army's guns—to sail the Navy's ships—fly the Air Forces' planes. Hundreds have won citations for their accomplishments and medals for bravery in combat.

Just as an example—one small store in the Pacific Northwest has produced two outstanding heroes. The first has been awarded the Purple Heart, the Air Medal and the D. F. C., three times. The second has also won the D. F. C., taking part in no fewer than 35 combat sorties.

We are proud of these boys. We are proud of all our Penney associates in uniform. We still think of each and every one of them as part of their Penney stores—no matter where the call of duty has taken them, or how long they may be away.

—A. F. Kosmata is painting a bedroom, bath and kitchen at the F. A. Barla home this week.
—Mrs. Asa Anderson and young daughters Peggy and Lynn spent last week in Sarcaston with relatives.
—Mary Miller writes home of a delightful weekend home party at Greeley with five schoolmates at the home of another one. Mary is having fun skiing down the Colorado mountainsides, having taken special instruction last year.

Burwell, With Pre-War Population Only 1,412, Has 135 Men in Service

The plat of Burwell which is reproduced above was drawn by Clyde Ilgenfritz, of that community, and each numbered star represents the peace-time place of residence of a Burwell boy who is now serving in the armed forces. There are 135 stars on the plat, despite the fact that Burwell's normal population is only 1,412. Since the plat was made several weeks ago there probably would be even more stars if brought up to date.

Among the 135 stars are two that appear in gold on Mr. Ilgenfritz' original plat, which is on display in the window of his office there. One, No. 39, is for Orville Eberle, and the other, No. 83, is for Elmer Mathausser, both of whom lost their lives while serving their country in the present war.

Popcorn Contracts

We are very anxious to write as many Pop Corn Contracts as possible in the next two weeks. We had a large acreage of South American and Dwarf Hulleless Popcorn allotted to us for contracting by very reliable popcorn handlers. If growers are interested in these contracts we must get a large acreage placed in the next two weeks or we will lose a large part of these contracts to other districts. These contracts are attractive. Both varieties are contracted at $3.63 per cwt. on the ear and we will take care of the trucking. We have some of the very best seed for these contracts. A large amount of Valley County grown and selected seed. Also a small amount of Minnesota grown seed and we also have enough Hybrid seed for two small acreages, that we paid 75c per pound for. Come in and let us write a contract for the popcorn that you want to grow this year.

Hybrid Corn

We have good quantities of both Cornhusker and Standard Hybrid seed corn. And we have about 25 bu. of early white hybrids, and about 10 bu. of No. 463. We have a hybrid suitable for any type of soil in this section.

Field Seeds

All kinds of Field Seeds will be scarce and high-priced this year. We will have a carload of these seeds in a few weeks and are taking orders now for delivery off the car. Special prices are quoted.

Cattle Feeds

We are unloading a carload of Cattle Cubes this week, priced at $53.00 off the car. And we have a car of Quaker Oats cattle cubes at $1.00 per ton. A truckload of Beefmaker and Lindsay this week. Get your supplies while available.

Chicks and Supplies

Place your order early for your chicks. They are going to be plenty scarce during March and April. We have sufficient proteins to furnish this line of feed for the entire season. Start your chicks with a feed that will be available for the whole season.

Red Cross Quota $4000, Drive Opens Next Wednesday

1944 Roll Call Must Produce More Money Than Ever Before to Fill Needs.

$4,000 is the amount of money requested by the Red Cross from Valley county people, states War Fund chairman Mrs. H. E. McClure in discussing the campaign which opens officially on March first. This amount is only a few hundred dollars more than asked for in the last campaign—and there are thousands more men needing Red Cross help now than then.

Of this amount, as usual, Ord and seven townships are asked to provide three-fifths, Arcadia and four townships one-fifth and North Loup and four townships one-fifth.

It is hoped that no one will be satisfied to give to the Red Cross less than twice as much as last time. Remember "The Red Cross is at his side," and if it is your boy who needs that plasma or those bandages, you want to feel positive he will get them. Give to make this possible.

The meeting at the McClure home Friday was enthusiastic, and the audience listened closely when John Misko described his work as home service chairman. In this work he acts as a connecting link between service man and home folks. If the soldier worries about his people, his officers can relieve his mind by wiring the home service chairman, who will contact them, their doctor, their neighbors or do whatever is necessary to ease the situation.

Thus a dying father wanted his boy home, and the man, in the Aleutians, was sent for and arrived home eight days later, when the home service chairman had verified the real need for the boy at his Valley county home.

Not so lucky was the soldier lad who wired a Colorado camp that his mother was in a serious condition and he must have a longer furlough. Investigation revealed Mother had had two teeth out! Many requests for extensions of furlough time, and for sick leaves are made at holiday seasons, reports Mr. Misko.

The home service chairman also attends to making out many affidavits for dependency claims for service men. Sometimes a good deal of bitterness creeps in, when Mrs. X does not get as much dependency money as Mrs. Y, and refuses to see why!

The home service chairman does anything and everything. If necessary he will arrange a wedding, one time even buying the ring and delivering it to the train. Soldiers cannot fight when their minds are upset about home conditions, and the Red Cross aims to keep their morale high, stated Attorney Misko.

Mrs. Clark Weckbach passed out supplies for the sales workers. Mrs. Parkins and Mrs. McClure furnished coffee and doughnuts at their own expense.

Archie Geweke caused a sensation when he revealed that he had collected nearly all his Red Cross war fundist Learning that he was telling war bonds to his neighbors he killed two birds with one stone and asked for two donations at every stop. This saved car, tires, gas and Mr. Geweke's time. As a result he has already taken in some $230 for the Red Cross, and is not through yet, he declares.

Mrs. H. E. McClure has called a meeting of Ord Red Cross workers for Wednesday, March 1, which will be held from two until two-twenty o'clock in the council room of the city hall. Supplies will be given out at that time for the coming war fund campaign.

Mrs. C. C. Dale will act as chairman for Ord city. In the first ward Mrs. W. E. Lincoln will be in charge. In the second ward Mrs. Frank Fafaita will be chairman. In the third ward Mrs. J. W. McGinnis will be the chairman.

The meeting will be dismissed on time, states Mrs. McClure so that all who wish may attend the church meetings scheduled for that afternoon.

80 Stockholders at Farm Meeting

Loup Loan Association Has Full Slate of Directors; Approval Expressed.

Regardless of the fact that the weather was very cold and the roads were rather bad in country districts, approximately 80 members, wives and other guests attended the annual meeting of the Loup National Farm Loan Association held in the Bohemian Hall in Ord, Wednesday, February 16. Registration for the meeting started at 10:30 in the morning followed by a program of music presented by the Ord High School Pep Band and a boy's octette. Mrs. J. A. Kovanda reviewed the recent book by Ernest Pyle entitled "Here is Your War."

A hot dinner was served at noon by the Ladies of the Methodist church to all those in attendance.

At the business session following the dinner, the Secretary-Treasurer, James B. Ollis, reported that the organization was servicing a total of 606 loans and sale contracts for $1,860,500. Sixteen new loans had been closed during the year for a total of $30,400.

The Loup Farm Loan Association was formed recently by a consolidation of five former associations located in Loup, Garfield, Valley and Greeley counties. This merger of the five associations had been unanimously approved by the stockholders at meetings held last summer.

During the course of the afternoon program, the group heard Mr. Paul Boisschee, Associate Regional Manager for the Federal Land Bank, who discussed various aspects of the farm loan program and system as being carried on by the Federal Land Bank under the reorganization program.

25th Anniversary of Dale and Farm Bureau Febr. 29th

Public Invited to Attend the Program at Which Brokaw and Round Will Speak.

Agricultural extension work was started in Valley county twenty-five years ago last April and twenty-five years ago this month C. C. Dale became county agent. In commemoration of these events the Valley County Farm Bureau is to hold its silver anniversary meeting on next Tuesday February 29, at the Masonic Hall in Ord, announces E. O. Schudel, acting president.

Featured speaker at the meeting will be W. H. Brokaw, director of agricultural extension work, of the College of Agriculture at Lincoln. Also on the program is George S. Harold Benn, former Valley county 4H club member who is now agricultural agent for the Union Pacific railroad, was also invited to take part in the program but was forced to decline because his duties take him out of the state at that time.

The meeting will start at 10:30 a. m. The morning business session will be followed by a lunch at noon. Because of the difficulty of feeding a group of people under rationing restrictions, each family attending is asked to bring sandwiches and a covered dish. Coffee and dessert will be furnished by the Farm Bureau.

The meeting is open to everyone and all are urged to attend but a special invitation is given to farm families, members of women's project clubs and 4H club leaders and members.

Farm Ownership Loan Plan Revealed

Valley county has been selected to make farm ownership loans along with several other counties. Counties selected in which loans can be made for farm purchases under the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act will not make loans where the purchase is based on an inflated price.

No farm will be purchased if it is found that long time earning power at long time farm product prices will not provide sufficient income to pay for it over a 40 year period. The price paid for the farm will have to be in line with the above long time requirements. "The tenant purchase program is not a get rich quick nor a get poor quick program", Administrator Hancock said. The secretary of agriculture has often warned that farmers who buy land at inflated prices are bound to lose heavily in the long run.

The Farm Security Administration will accept applications from tenant farmers who are unable to get credit from other agencies for purchase of a farm under the Bankhead-Jones Act.

Zadina Bound over to District Court

Defense Motion to Quash the Attempted Rape Charge Is Denied by Co. Judge.

After a preliminary hearing in county court Thursday, Edward Zadina was bound over to district court under $500 bond on a criminal charge of assault with attempt to commit rape upon the person of Marian Skala, 16. He was released on bond pending trial of the case in the higher court.

Only two witnesses were heard, the complainant, Marian Skala, and her brother, William Skala. The alleged assault occurred on the evening of Jan. 30th, it was testified.

A motion to dismiss the charge on ground that no evidence of a felony had been presented was made by William Manastil, attorney for Zadina, but was denied by Judge Andersen.

The defendant is married to a sister of the complaining witness and has four small children. He did not take the stand at the preliminary hearing.

Legion Convention Streamlined Affair

Ord sent many delegates to the American Legion and Auxiliary meetings in Grand Island Tuesday. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fafaita, Mrs. Frank Fafaita, Mrs. Forrest Johnson, Mrs. Bob Hall, Dolcie Waterman, Mrs. Warren Lincoln and Reva, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, Herman Behrends, Glen Johnson. They voted the streamlined, one-day meet one of the best meetings ever held in that organization.

In the morning the Auxiliary program centered around the child welfare and rehabilitation themes. Mr. Dixon of the boys' home at Kearney spoke of the strong present-day delinquency tendencies. He stressed the fact that youngsters need help before they ask for it, and before they get into trouble and get kicked out of school. Once the first bit of stigma attaches to them they find companions who are in considerably worse condition, and all of them deteriorate together, and faster. He pleaded for understanding and cooperation to help these young people now.

Mrs. Coggins, the department president, and Mrs. Hubert Anderson, national vice president, talked also. There are now 23 active loans from the scholarship fund, it was reported. The ladies were served dinner at the Episcopalian church, cleverly decorated with vegetables, fruits, and red candles, after the theme, "The Home."

Legionnaires discussed with lively interest the boys who are coming home from war, and what can be done to help them. There are now six interlocking bureaus trying to do this, but so big and new is the task that often it takes an ex-soldier as much as six months to get assistance through them. High light of the evening was the fine talk by National Commander Atherton at the Liederkranz auditorium, following a concert by the Grand Island airbase musicians. The men were served a fine supper at the Elks club.

Married by Judge.
On Tuesday Judge John L. Andersen performed a ceremony at his home uniting in marriage Miss Rozella Murphy, of Elyria, and Paul D. Gregorowski of Ord.

I have only pleasant memories of my stay in Ord, and hope to return some day. I have now been over here in northern Ireland since sometime in October. We are comfortably located in an old castle with ivy covered walls, tunnels, dungeons, winding stairs and creaky doors. It reminds me of accounts in fiction books. Our food is fine but we miss fresh eggs and milk. The morale of our men is very good. We expect to follow the bridehead sometime this spring somewhere. The people here are very friendly to us. I appreciate them and their ways so much. Their history is interesting. I am seeing many points of interest. I visited St. Patrick's grave of 493 A. D. People are many years behind us in improvements. Traffic is on the left side. One horse cart or bicycle is common conveyance. It rains every day. I wish Ord could have some of our moisture. Strawberry is in foliage and many flowers are blooming. My family is comfortably located at Northfield, Minn. By the way, some may be interested to know that some time ago I was promoted to rank of captain. I enjoy my work very much. Kindest regards to all my old friends, Chaplain Clarence E. Jensen." ## Chanticleers End Season with Wins, Go to Tournament

Burwell and Albion Easy for Ord in Season's Finale; Will Play Valentine.

The Ord Chanticleers closed their regular season in a blaze of glory over the week end, defeating their old enemy, Burwell, in easy fashion Friday evening and vanquishing Albion on the home floor Tuesday evening. Next week the Ord boys go to O'Neill to compete in the district Class B tournament, where they are one of the seeded teams, and victory there would send them to the state journey in Lincoln the following week.

The largest crowd of the year and one of the largest ever to crowd the Ord auditorium saw the Chanticleers win over Burwell by a 25 to 10 score with big Junior Wilson making 12 points to halve his team's total.

Burwell, fresh from a Three Loups tournament victory over the Ord boys which gave them the conference championship, had high hopes of winning again and brought a big crowd of fans along to see them do it but the Chanticleers took an early lead and were never headed.

Coach Roscoe Tolly tossed a slightly revamped line-up at the Longhorns, sending Finley and Satterfield to the forward posts, Wilson at center and Hurlbert and Randolph in at guards. Tight defensive ball was played by both teams. Score at the half was 10 to 5 in Ord's favor and final count was 25 to 10.

Tuesday night the Albion boys came to Ord to renew an old rivalry but went home with the short end of a 29 to 13 score. Again Wilson lead the Ord scoring with 11 points while Cooper and Green looked best for the losers.

The Ord reserves surprised themselves and everyone else by beating the North Loup 1st team in a preliminary game, 32 to 18. The North Loup boys are winners of their Mid-Loup conference and scheduled this game mainly to become familiar with play on a large floor, prior to playing in district and state tournaments.

High scorer for the reserves were little Daryl Johnson with 15 and Tommy Tolen with 11. Portis made 10 points for the losing North Loup boys.

Coach Tolly is expecting to run into some tough propositions at the district tournament which starts in O'Neill next Wednesday. His team was seeded, along with Ainsworth, and will play Valentine in the opening game. O'Neill and Ainsworth play the same day. Winner of the Ord-Valentine game will meet Burwell on Thursday and winner of the O'Neill-Ainsworth game, will meet Neligh.

At present the Ord-Burwell score stands at two wins for Ord and one for Burwell and the rivalry may be renewed in the Class B tournament, for Ord is reasonably sure to win its first round game against Valentine, and Burwell is sure to survive this round by virtue of having drawn a bye.

North Loup School Notes. The fifth and sixth grade room taught by Miss Marcia Rood have bought many defence stamps this year and recently collected nearly three and a half tons of waste paper which they sold for $34.00 enough for $2 in stamps for each student in the room. Undaunted by the fact that they could find no one to haul the paper, they took coaster wagons, two wheeled carts, sleds (when there was snow) and went wherever they were called for the paper. Much of it had to be bundled and tied, hard work for even grown-ups, but their teacher says they still want more and will try to get any that anyone has for them. Besides the $34.00 in stamps, an average of more than a dollar has been spent for stamps in this room by each student so far in February. Several have bought enough stamps to turn them in for an $18.75 bond. Instead of buying expensive valentines this year, many of them were home made and each student was delighted to find a stamp in the valentine from their teacher.

Another six weeks is over and report cards are being given out again this week. Four first graders have perfect attendance again. They are Phyllis Christensen, Jackie McCowan, Walter Switzer and George Thorngate. Third and fourth graders who have perfect attendance are Jeneane Brennick, Delores Cox, Judy Ingerson, David Nelson, Lucy Switzer, Idona Vodehnal, Robert Vogeler, Lorraine Cox, Carolyn Hamer, Sylvia Ingerson, Rosemary Stevens and Eulala Davis.

In a contest in stamp buying held in the grade rooms from February 9 to 15, the third and fourth grade won first by buying $7.10. This room presented the Friday morning program last week at the grade room assembly. The third grade gave a "Valentine Greeting" and "An Acoustic". Lucy Grace Switzer gave a reading, "A Valentine". Idona Cox, Rosemary Stevens and Delores Cox each played piano solos and both grades sang The Flag. The Junior high school basketball team played Scotia in Scotia Friday night and won the game 27-5.

North Loup basketball teams play in the Class D tournament at Elba Friday and Saturday of this week.

Mr. Cook went to Lincoln on Sunday evening having been called into the Veteran's hospital. He hopes to return early in the week.

Beginning next Monday, February 28, school will begin at nine o'clock and close at four. Since in November it has been starting at 9:30 and closing at 4:30 but the days are getting longer and faculty members decided to change back to regular time.

Sometimes you have your troubles
Sometimes you lose your stride,
Just think of your buddies fighting
Across on the other side.
Sometimes you hate those orders
Sometimes you think they're wrong,
But think of your pal who is waiting
For a Jap to come along.
Sometimes you work long hours
Sometimes you have no sleep,
Just think what our pal is facing
With a machine gun and a jeep.
Sometimes you have no butter
Sometimes you have no bread,
Just remember it was shipped
To your buddy
Who is facing the enemy's lead.
Sometimes you miss the gas-line
Sometimes you miss the show,
Just remember it was used for
A mother's son
A friend you will never know.
Sometimes you may think you are hungry
Sometimes you may think you are dry,
Just think of that starving buddy
Hasn't eaten in the week gone by.
Sometimes you think you are beaten
Sometimes you think you will tell,
But remember the boys who are dying
In a place that is worse than hell.
Sometimes you will carry the load, boys
Sometimes you will fire the guns,
But above all remember the mothers
Who gave birth to those fighting sons.

Doris Klima has decided talent as an artist, and all through her high school days used her spare moments sketching and coloring. Now she is working at the airbase in Grand Island (meantime saving her money to go to art school) but her drawing continues. She illustrates the airbase news, for one thing. For another, she often illustrates the envelopes and the letters she sends home. Last week an envelope had an enticing female sprawled across the end of it. She was a stunning South American girl in a lace dress, playing a mandolin. Not only was she linked but delicately colored too. And the effective legend was "Let's be neighborly."

Mrs. Dwight Anderson, who lived in Ord as a small girl writes that the new Acan highway is travelling toward their Canadian home at present, and is now only 40 miles away. She is in hopes it will go "right by the door", but "that would be too much to expect." Mrs. Anderson must be a bit homesick for she travelled the 40 miles just to get a glimpse of the fine new road.

Just as prohibition is supposed to have undermined the saloon and brought about a whole new class of drinking public, I am inclined to say that coffee rationing has brought about a greatly increased coffee drinking habit. Mid-morning and mid-afternoon coffee drinking is heard of from busy housewives, from farm workers, from the village blacksmith, from the professional men.

Walk in any Ord cafe along about 10 a. m. or 3:30 p. m. and who will you find? All the Ord business men who can spare ten minutes from their offices and counters.

And every right hand armed with a cuppacoffee.

News of Our Fighting Men

John Wozab Now Stationed Somewhere in Scotland.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
Hello, and through the means of your excellent paper—hello, Earl, John, Ralph, Ign. Clarence, and all the other fine friends who have remembered me from time to time with letters from Ord.

There is, of course, a great deal of interest to talk about but unfortunately we cannot do so at this time, but the highlights of our crossing and the colorful incidents and episodes of our activities "over here" will probably be readily enough recalled when we have again returned to our homes.

As you can understand, the few remaining days before we actually began our journey were full of nervous tension and pleasant excitement of anticipation. The day of our departure finally came, so donning our full battle dress we began our march to the station where the train was already waiting to take us on the first lap of our journey. We boarded the train and with the band playing the Navy's traditional Anchors Awigh we bid farewell to Camp Thomas, wondering how many of us some day will return. The hours pass quite rapidly as our train speeds on; autumn has cast her cloak of fall upon the countryside and we drink in the beauty that is New England. Arriving at our embarkation port the American Red Cross greets us with hot coffee and doughnuts in abundant quantities. Say, did that ever taste good to us. We board the vessel that is to carry us to our theatre of war operations. Some of the men had mattresses to sleep on and some drew hammocks. I slept in a hammock and after the first night actually enjoyed the swaying sensation it gave as it moved about in accordance with the movement of the ship. I can say I enjoyed every hour we spent on the ocean. On one day we were able to see the flying fish which up to now I had treated as a myth. Actually, the fish don't fly but apparently gather great speed in the water and then propel themselves into the air for great distances. A seal broke through the surface of the water one afternoon, looked around in a confused puzzled sort of way and then disappeared into the more secure depths of its ocean sanctuary. When the sun shines the water appears a deep blue, when cloudy or over-cast the sea is a slate gray. At night we stand by the rails and can see the phosphorescent glow of the plant life stirred up by the passage of the ship. The sea was quite calm for most of the voyage but we did have a rough day or two, not exactly a bad storm but white caps were breaking and waves of sufficient strength to cause our vessel to roll and heave. I did not get seasick, in fact, the rougher it got the more I enjoyed the pitching, heaving and swaying of the ship with the waves occasionally sweeping over the prow of the boat. We were again greeted at the point of debarkation by the American Red Cross and treated to hot coffee and doughnuts.

The American Red Cross did much to make our trip as pleasant as possible with gifts of

IT'S NOT always easy to find excitingly different fresh vegetables this time of year—but it is easy to prepare the familiar old favorites in such a way that they take on an entirely new meaning.

All that's required, really, is a dash of daring and a sprinkling of ingenuity!

Here are a few of my own favorites. Perhaps they'll suggest some of the endless variations that can be played on the theme of winter vegetables:

Mask Crab Salad—Combine equal amounts of raw peeled shredded parsnip, carrot, apple and celery. Moisten with lemon juice and mayonnaise. It's really good!

Cabbage Chop Suey—Combine 3 cups shredded cabbage, 1 cup each of sliced celery and onion. Season to taste. Fry covered in 2 tbsps. shortening for 8 minutes.

Pan-fried Turnips or Rutabagas—Peel and slice. Boil slices 5 minutes. Dip in flour and fry in shortening, same as potatoes.

Onion Dumplings—Add 1 cup grated onion to regular 2-cup dumpling dough. Cook on top of stew.

Raw-fried Carrots—Fry peeled carrot circles just as you do raw-fried potatoes.

Cream of Cabbage and Potato Soup—Take equal parts of shredded cabbage and sliced or diced potatoes. Simmer until tender in water to cover. Add 3 cups milk, and season to taste. Serve piping hot!

Parsnip Patties—To each cup of mashed cooked parsnip, add one well-beaten egg. Season and drop by tablespoonfuls into hot shortening. Fry until golden brown.

Turnip Puffs—To 3 cups of hot, well-seasoned, mashed turnips or rutabagas, add 2 well-beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in well-greased baking dish, in moderate oven (350° F.) for 30 minutes.

Glazed Parsnips—Cut cooked parsnips lengthwise. Brown in well-buttered frying pan. Sprinkle with brown sugar and turn frequently.

Baked Onion—Bake whole large onions, dry outer skins and all, on oven rack exactly like potatoes, about 45 min. in moderate oven (350° F.). Serve by breaking open and seasoning with salt, pepper and butter or margarine.

BACK FORTY
By J. A. Kovanda

"Don't buy seed potatoes on looks", advised Dr. Werner to his farmer audience at Ord last Friday. He stated that growers often turn down good tubers that appear rough, only to purchase smooth potatoes that are infested with disease. "Bumpy tubers make just as smooth potatoes as smooth seed" he declared, adding that color in potato seed does not mean a thing.

At this point Dr. Livingston took the floor and discussed potato diseases. He explained that not all diseases can be controlled by treatment, and suggested that farmers get certified seed whenever possible. Dr. Livingston recommended that farmers cut seed sometime before planting to develop a protective wound coat. This cutting may be done several months before planting time. He also urged that seed potatoes be warmed up so that sprouting is under way when they are put in the ground.

"Don't plant potatoes as early as you can," Dr. Werner told the farmers, pointing out that frosted vines may slow up the crop more than delayed seeding. He said that April 15 was a good planting date in the Platte Valley.

Varieties recommended locally by Dr. Werner are Red Warbas for early harvest, and Irish Cobblers for mid-season. Other varieties worth considering are Mesabas, and Chippewas. He is skeptical about Triumphs during hot weather.

Dr. Werner pointed out that fresh potatoes are as high in vitamin C as grapefruit. He also likened a potato plant to a person.

At first it lives entirely off the parent, next, it lives partly off the parent and partly by its own efforts; third, the plant takes full care of itself but does not put away anything; finally, the plant not only supports itself, but also stores away a reserve for old age.

ORD SCHOOL NOTES.

High school students had a special convocation Thursday, when they were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Coop, evangelists who have been conducting meetings at the Christian church in Ord since Febr. 1. The program consisted of chalk talks and songs.

Thursday evening the student council has arranged for a dance which the boys and girls are anticipating eagerly.

Tuesday morning the six lower grades joined to produce a February convocation which all of them enjoyed. All the February birthdays were celebrated, as each grade sang songs about Washington, Lincoln and Valentine's day.

The first grade made a hit at the convocation when Michael Maslonka played George and John Douthit played Father Washington and little George chopped down the famous cherry tree. As blow after blow of the little axe made the small tree tip, the youngsters gasped appreciatively.

And when little George confessed, and Father Washington patted him on the back and told him he did right to tell the truth, every little face beamed.

Donna St. John of the fourth grade gave a pleasing recitation about "My Folks," and a little girl who was too little to stay up at night, but too big to poke in the mornings.

The fourth grade has bought war stamps 100 per cent now, joining the ranks. $130 in war bonds and stamps were sold at the grade building last week, states Principal Inez Swain. The fifth grade leads again, with $41 purchases. The 90 per cent bond buying of the school has kept the banner flying for January, February and now for March also.

Every grade is preparing a page or two to put in a Red Cross album to send to St. Edward Island, Canada, in return for a fine one received from children there. Interesting pictures and bits of history of Nebraska are the material used.

Announcement to the Tax-Payers of Ord

TO THE CITIZENS OF ORD:

The caucuses for both parties of the city are to be held at the Legion Hall March first and, since I feel that there should be more interest in the caucuses of the city, I want to call them to your attention.

There was approximately $150,000 of bonded indebtedness in the city when we went into office in 1938, all of which were owned by outside interests. Today our City owns $72,038 of securities; part of these are our own city bonds and the balance are war bonds. At the present time the bonded debt of the city is $78,000 and the county treasurer has on hand $5,000 which will be applied on the indebtedness April first, leaving a balance due of $71,000. Today, if legally possible and if it were financially sound to do so, the city could sell the bonds that we own and pay all of the bonded indebtedness and still have on hand considerable working capital.

The money for the larger part of the bonds purchased has come from the utilities division, which is under the direct supervision of George Allen. With the large discounts to consumers at the present time we are one of the six lowest towns in the state in K. W. cost when last figures were available. The purchases from taxation have been accomplished with less than 1/2 mill variation in the tax levy in the six years.

I promised you people a business administration and a law enforcement program that would be fair and tolerant to all—that would be beneficial to this city. I know that I have not been able to always please all of you and have not even pleased myself at times, but I have tried to be tolerant and fair and shall continue to be that way as long as I am your mayor.

I have only mentioned a few of the things we have done or tried to do during the time I have been Mayor. If you think we have done a reasonably good job during these trying times, and should be given another opportunity to serve you, I would appreciate your support and advice. I want to publicly express how grateful I am to the councilmen and employees of the city and to the taxpayers and citizens who have been very helpful in many ways.

Again let me urge you to attend the caucus of your choice on Wednesday evening March first at 8 o'clock at the Legion Hall.

Sincerely,

Mayor M. B. Cummins

Our Fighting Men

candy, gum and cigarets, games etc., the combined gifts of American individuals and industry alike. We also received a bag full of toilet articles and a complete sewing kit. I've since learned to swing a wicked needle mending clothes and darn socks. (I usually damn the socks and buy new ones.) We certainly are appreciative of this fine organization and profoundly thankful to those of you back home who are the backbone of it with your generous support, efforts and contributions. The American Red Cross has also prepared adequate facilities in the larger cities of the British Isles for the service men of the United States and her allies, where the men may lodge for the night when upon a liberty or otherwise and might be put to a considerable disadvantage if left upon their own. Food and lodging is provided the service man and directions given to places of interest to visit.

At the present time we are privileged with quite a bit of liberty and I have every other week-end to spend as I wish, which of course I plan to spend visiting every place of interest I can get to. There is an ancient castle to be visited in Edinburgh and of course London is a must. I have already been to Glasgow on liberty. I find this city interesting, picturesque and friendly; the citizens and populace smacking of the soil and country to which they belong. The people appear to build for lasting endurance and much of their architecture is along similar lines. Most of the construction is of stone and roofed with either colored tile or slate. The flat of the city apparently was not laid out in any particular plan or pattern and the blocks are of every size and shape while the streets seem to invite you in any direction you may desire to take. Yet, it is easy enough to find one's way about in this delightfully different city. Each room in the buildings, apartment houses and dwellings seems to have its own fireplace and the chimneys and round stacks jut out the sides of the roofs like rows of carefully arranged chess-men.

I must tell you about the "Locarno". The Locarno is the most modern dance club located in the heart of Glasgow, its interior reminding one of those in New York City. The club has a spacious ball room and the music is modern American supplied by two orchestras playing alternately on a revolving stage. The floor, we are told, is ingeniously set upon springs of some sort or another and it can be seen moving up and down considerably as the couples stamp and step to the tempo of the music. The lighting is furnished by colored lamps affecting anything from dazzling whiteness to a soft moon-like glow. There is the usual array of tables and chairs around either side and a large dining room takes care of the diners, snacks and drinks.

November 23, 1943 We are in the best of health, well fed and adequately clothed. We talk a great deal about the "good old days" of home cooked meals—pies, cakes, ice cream—but mostly our loved ones and our comfortable homes—everything that represents to us what we are here for today. But we all seem to agree that though we want to very soon return to that "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" that we have so much enjoyed, we still would rather stay and see the finish of this job, assured this time that it will not have to be resumed at some later date. I feel that this mighty conflict has given me some new perspectives of life that have hitherto escaped me. Commonplace things taken for granted in the everyday hubbub of civilian life have come to hold entirely new values for me.

The call of a pheasant cock this early morn made me homesick as hell. I'm glad I have a good shotgun as someday we shall hunt again through the valley and hill of our land as we have done so many times in the past. My mouth waters when I reminisce of the days when pheasant was frying in deep butter, french fries sizzling in the pan, the odor of fresh coffee pleasantly and tantalizingly drifting about the kitchen air. But best of all, the memory of my darling wife bustling about in her crisp apron, pert and pretty, babying and pampering and spoiling me with her affections.

December 17, 1943 Thanksgiving has come and gone and here 'tis almost Christmas. Happy New Year! It isn't that time at this writing but it will be by the time you receive this letter. Anyway we had an excellent dinner on the 25th and here was our menu: sliced turkey, sliced baked ham, mashed potatoes and giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, peas, asparagus, salad, pickles, vegetable, dressing, pickled cauliflower, bread and butter pumpkin and mince pie, ice cream and coffee. We were also treated to a cigar, a package of cigarets and a candy bar. All in all a good feed and we groaned with contentment as we loosened our belts. Our thoughts were of course with our loved ones at home.

December 24, 1943 It was the night before Christmas, and all through the camp not even a creature was stirring, not even a Sea-Bee—they were all out on liberty, except me. I am contented to simply lounge around the hut and enjoy the comfort of an easy chair near a warm fire and a good cigar and dream of Christmas Eve at home with my lovely wife.

January 15, 1944 Well, well, it begins to look as though I'll never get this letter finished and it will turn out to be a diary instead. Now that the New Year has arrived I'll tell you how I spent that holiday. Our Chaplain had an invitation for three men to visit the home of a family in a certain city and finally I was one of the three persuaded to go. We obtained our leave of absence, took the address and went ashore, and after groping about in utter darkness for awhile, we finally found the home of our hosts. It was a small mansion of some sixteen rooms, and what rooms. I have never seen so much massive structure—ceiling beams, paneling and woodwork. The furniture was of fine quality and craftsmanship. We have been told the Scots like to celebrate this holiday so we wonder what is in store for us. The party consisted of the host and hostess, their daughter and two other ladies as our partners for the evening, and a young married couple from next door. It was perhaps the happiest celebration for this particular couple, the husband was an RAF flyer and on his fifteenth bombing mission was shot down in Holland. He was a German prisoner of war for nineteen months before exchanged for prisoners in England. He said his treatment wasn't too bad considering everything and certainly became better as time went on and the Germans seemed particularly interested in our American homes, what we have to eat and how our wives are helping out in the war effort. Over here the women either serve in the military service or are drafted for labor in the industrial plants and other jobs. Two of our lady friends were nurses in the military forces of Britain and had been in the blitz of London, Plymouth and Coventry. In their opinion the blitz of Coventry was the most appalling and atrocious; one of our friends lost an arm on that occasion. They told us that at that time there were very few air-raid shelters there and the people had no place to go for refuge from the bombs and the Germans mercilessly machine-gunned the people in the street or wherever they could be seen, women, children and all. Enough of that, I didn't intend to get started on that subject. We were treated to liquors, played a few games of cards for penny ante stakes and then went upstairs for a bite to eat. The kitchen was upstairs too. We ate, drank, smoked and talked for about an hour, then returned downstairs for the approach of the New Year. The carpets were rolled up and the folks gave up a "bit of a scottish dance", as they called it. You should have seen the old man do his stuff, say, could he swing a wicked hip. Their dances are similar to our square dances but performed in kilts to the tune of bagpipes. The New Year arrives so we drink toasts to the American and British Navies, the RAF, to Victory, the King, the President, etc. until the supply of liquor is exhausted. We are then introduced to another scottish custom on New Year's—we go around the circle and kiss each and every one of the ladies wishing her a Happy New Year and then it is their turn to do the same. It was soon time to return to the ship so we bid our friends a pleasant farewell.

February 11, 1944 I am really going to finish this letter tonight. Right at the present time we are stationed in the finest U. S. Naval Base in Europe. Where we'll be tomorrow, we don't know, be it new construction, base maintenance or ship or landing craft. Te Sea-Bees are certainly utilized anyplace, any time and for any purpose and I'm proud to say that under any conditions and circumstances "We Can Do", which is our slogan and which we have proved. I should like so much to tell you of our activities but like all other military preparations and assignments such must of necessity be veiled with the utmost secrecy.

Many weeks ago when I was in Glasgow I joined the ranks of the Scottish clan of "MaGi's" and proof by photograph is enclosed. Really these skirts are too drafty for comfort, but it was fun parading about in the kilts. It is not uncommon to see kilted Scotchmen on the streets of the city.

Through the paper reaches me several weeks late I get a big kick out of reading the news from home. Please convey my sincere regards to your father and let's have some more of his "My Own Column". And so, until the very next time, I remain your European correspondent, and bid you "Anchors Awelgh."

The Red Cross Chapter of Garfield county received its official notice of the quota for the War Fund Drive for 1944 which has been set at $2,100.00. This amount is to be raised by voluntary contributions with the dead line at March 31, and according to the generous support given by Garfield county toward the war effort, this quota will not only be raised, but before the time allotted. This county over-subscribed its quota last year and did it willingly and hurriedly. There will be only one drive, which includes the membership drive, and anyone giving $1.00 or more will be entitled to a membership card for the year 1944. The money so raised will be used toward alleviating suffering for war torn nations and for the comfort and assistance of men and women wearing the uniform of the United States Armed Forces. The War Fund drive is under the supervision of a committee appointed for this purpose, of which Mrs. Bessie Moore, is the chairman. She has appointed all members of the Women's Club and teachers as solicitors to whom the money may be paid.
