Muny Light Plant's Output Is 2,287,600 KWH, Profit $15,338

Ord Plant Highly Successful in Past Year; Discounts Amounted to $27,304.

Ord's municipal electric plant generated 2,287,600 kilowatts of electricity during the past fiscal year, up more than 8% over the previous year, and made an operating profit of $15,338.95. It was revealed Monday evening when George Allen, city utilities commissioner, presented his annual report to Mayor M. B. Cummins and the city council.

One of the most important points brought out by the report was the fact that, while making this profit, the electric plant allowed discounts totaling $25,304.90 to electric users. These were effected by means of the discount allowed for payment of electric bills on or before the 10th of each month, but since Ord's base electric rates are lower than or comparable to the rates of other Nebraska cities, the discounts reflected a clear saving of more than twenty-five thousand dollars to users of electricity.

Production of 2,287,600 kilowatts compared with 2,150,010 generated during the previous fiscal year and showed the fact that the Ord plant is continuing a steady growth despite war-time restrictions on new electric equipment. Less than a decade ago production was under 1 million kilowatts annually.

Residence lighting accounted for 780,558 kilowatts, the largest item; commercial lighting accounted for 330,967 and power for 218,831. Water heating for $36,562, cooking and heating for 53,107, street lighting for 93,965, and water pumping for 101,024. These were the largest items.

Total plant revenue was $71,372.59, up from $67,007.23, and total operating expense was $56,033.64.

After examining the annual report the city council gave a vote of appreciation and thanks on behalf of electric users of the city, for the efficient services of Utilities Commissioner Allen.

A report on Ord's water plant also was given, revealing that water is sold at cost to citizens of this municipality. Total receipts in the water department were $3,265.31 and total expenditures were $3,283.91, for a net loss of $18.60. Last year a net profit of $635.00 was shown but expense items have been higher this year, with practically the same revenue.

Legion Will Hold Important Meeting

Garfield and Valley county Legion and Auxiliary will assemble on Friday, June 29th in Ord, when an important discussion of rehabilitation of veterans, universal military training and other Legion matters will be held.

Coming to Ord especially to attend this meeting will be Assistant Department Adjutant, Roy M. Lang, Assistant Department Service Officer Elmer A. The afternoon will be a session for post service officers and others interested in the G. I. bill of rights and the new law for pensions for widows and orphans of World War I.

Women of the Auxiliary will also meet during the afternoon, to discuss some of their problems and to perfect their county organization. In the evening a joint meeting of Legion and Auxiliary will be held, and a county organization will be formed at that time. Timely talks by department and district officers will be heard.

The general public is invited to attend either or both of these sessions, since it is known that many people are interested in the welfare of relatives in the service now. Efforts will be made to explain all matters and there will be a question and answer period.

Vote on Airport Is Deferred til August

At the suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce aeronautics committee, and after a full discussion of the subject, the Ord city council Monday evening decided to postpone until August the special election at which the question of purchasing land for a municipal airport will be decided.

The new enabling act passed by the Nebraska legislature does not become effective until August 4, the Chamber of Commerce committee pointed out to councilmen, and the increased levy allowed under this act will be necessary to raise sufficient funds by taxation to purchase the land needed.

Pfc. J. Okrzesa Died in Belgium Wires War Dep't

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Mary Okrzesa, of Ord, received a telegram from the War department notifying her of the death in Belgium on Jan. 22 of her son, Pfc. Julius Okrzesa. He had previously been reported missing in action but the war department now says that further investigation had made it certain that he was killed. Complete particulars are being mailed to Mrs. Okrzesa, the telegram stated.

Julius was one of three Okrzesa boys who are in military service. Rudolph is a petty officer, 2nd class, now serving somewhere in the south Pacific, and Cpl. Joseph has been in the Burma-India theatre but is expected home on furlough or for discharge at almost any time. Julius was inducted Nov. 2, 1942, took training at Ft. Riley Kas., was then on maneuvers in California, completed training at Camp Holt, La., and went overseas in August, 1944. He was in the infantry.

Besides his brothers and his mother, Pfc. Okrzesa is mourned by four sisters, Rose and Ann, of Omaha, and Gertrude and Martha, at home. The family moved to Ord four years ago from a Valley county farm, after the father passed away and the boys were called for military service.

Killed in So. Pacific. Valley county people will be sorrowful to hear the war department reports Pvt. Ivan Madison, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Madison, was killed in action in the Pacific April 11. He leaves a wife and three small children, the baby born about two weeks after he left, about March 1, a year ago. The family home is at Costa Mesa, Calif. The Madisons moved away from here about nine years ago. Mrs. Ben Madison is a sister of Mrs. J. A. Brown.

Packs Kitbag Final Time as a Soldier

Shown packing his kitbag for the last time as a soldier is Master Sgt. Glendall Holm, nephew of Mrs. F. L. Blessing of Ord, who arrived in Ord last week to spend the summer after being honorably discharged from the army at Leavenworth, Kas. Sgt. Holm served in the south Pacific for almost three years and had far more than enough points to be eligible for discharge.

Holm expects to attend university four years, taking up electrical engineering and electronics. How greatly he is looking forward to civilian life after years of warfare is shown by the big smile he wears in this army photo.

New Sewer System, Enlarged Electric Plant, Discussed

Allen Directed to Invite K. C. Engineers to Submit Plans, Estimates of Cost.

City improvements which might cost as much as $200,000 were discussed at great length Monday evening by Mayor M. B. Cummins and city councilmen, the improvements being a new or augmented sewerage system and a rebuilt and enlarged municipal electric plant.

George Allen, commissioner of city utilities, was directed to communicate with Black & Veatch, municipal engineers of Kansas City, Mo., and ask them to send experts on sewerage systems and electric plants to Ord to make surveys of the local situation and submit plans and estimates of cost, this to be done at as early a date as possible.

Several sections of the city have no sewerage system and are forced to depend on cess-pools; other sections are served by a combination storm-sanitary sewer which is not entirely satisfactory. Still other sections are served by sewerage systems installed originally by private individuals or companies and later acquired by the municipality.

In inviting Black & Veatch to survey this problem the council is hopeful that it may be found possible to plan a city-wide system, utilizing such portions as now exist and tying them in with new drains to be constructed. No figures are available on the cost to which such a system might reach, pending completion of the Black & Veatch survey, but the figure $100,000 was mentioned in the discussion, this being the cost to the city of laying main sewers and not including the connection cost which would have to be paid by individual owners in making use of the sewer. All councilmen seemed to agree that an adequate sewerage system should be Ord's first post-war improvement.

The electric plant problem is similarly imperative. With the facilities designed to manufacture 1 to 1 1/2 million kilowatt hours of electricity annually the Ord plant is now supplying a demand for 2 1/2 million kilowatt hours, and the load is growing each year. Equipment now in use there is getting old, there is no stand-by equipment for use in emergencies, and the plant does not contain room to install additional or larger equipment. It might cost $100,000 or even more to enlarge and modernize the plant and install diesel equipment of adequate size to supply the present demand and leave adequate margin for future demands, which might include supplying of a county-wide REA system.

Goodhand Released Moves His Lumber

Released from city jail last Thursday after his $25 fine was paid by friends, C. E. Goodhand took immediate steps to move the building material from sidewalk and street in front of his property on the south side of the square, thereby qualifying for remission of the fine, as promised by Police Judge John R. Haskell.

Mr. Goodhand, it is said, hauled the building material to his home property and has quit construction operations, at least for the present.

Shown packing his kitbag for the last time as a soldier is Master Sgt. Glendall Holm, nephew of Mrs. F. L. Blessing of Ord, who arrived in Ord last week to spend the summer after being honorably discharged from the army at Leavenworth, Kas. Sgt. Holm served in the south Pacific for almost three years and had far more than enough points to be eligible for discharge.

Purple Heart for Raynard Loft, Fighting Ord Leatherneck

"You can now join the order of American knighthood and your country will rely upon you in time of peace as they did in time of war," said Captain James T. Mills, U. S. N., in pinning the Purple Heart upon a fighting Ord leatherneck, Pfc. Raynard Loft, at Great Lakes Naval hospital last week.

Pfc. Loft, only 18, was severely wounded in the battle for Iwo Jima, and was one of 200 marines honored with decorations at this ceremony. Pfc. Loft is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Loft, 1421 M Street, Ord.

May, June of 1945 10 Degrees Cooler, More Cloudy Days

But Rainfall about Same as in 1944, Says Travis; Cold to Continue.

Temperatures for May and the first five days of June in 1945 have averaged about 10 degrees cooler than the same period in 1944 and there have been more cloudy days than rainfall for the periods has been about the same, reported Horace Travis, delving into his weather records Wednesday morning.

Average high for May 1945 was 63 degrees, compared with 73 for May 1944, and average low during the month this year was 44 compared with 52 last year. Lowest May temperature this year was 29, however, compared with 25 on one morning in May, 1944.

May, 1944, brought 4 cloudy, and 9 partly cloudy days, compared with 8 cloudy and 10 partly cloudy days in May 1945. Rain fell on 13 days during May, 1944, compared with 10 days in May, 1945. Every day from June 1 to June 6 has been cloudy this year.

Rainfall in May, 1944 totalled 6.42 inches compared with 5.23 in May, 1945. The 57-year average for the month is 3.57 inches. Wettest May was in 1905 when 7.04 inches fell and this year was the wettest on record here, a total of 42.44 inches of moisture fell during the year. Driest May on record here was in 1940 when only .22 of an inch of moisture was reported.

So far in June the moisture total is 1.64 inches and some has fallen each day during the period. The same period in 1944 brought only .31 of an inch.

To date 1945 is behind 1944 in moisture, last year seeing a total of 15.73 in the first five months and five days, whereas the total to date is only 11.99 inches, this year.

Coldest temperature registered in June this year was 39 degrees, reports Mr. Travis, and although this figure was a record low for June in eastern Nebraska we have had colder June temperatures here within recent years, Travis says.

Weather such as Valley county has had for June is splendid for small grain and it is making rapid progress, believes C. C. Dale, county agricultural agent, but corn farmers are beginning to worry. Much corn acreage is still unplanted and many fields washed out in the flood of 10 days ago must be replanted. Continued rain makes it impossible for farmers to get into the fields and the season is growing late for corn planting, though 90 to 110 day corn planted up to July 1 should mature unless frost comes early next fall. Weather forecasts say 3 to 5 days of continued showers and cloudy weather are in prospect before there is any likelihood of a change and it will be several days after that before fields can dry sufficiently to permit corn planting.

—Mrs. Anna Socha has been having the mumps.

Elyria Farmers Plan REA Meeting Thurs., June 7th

Valleyside Farmers Enthused over Plan; Several Other Districts Interested.

Farmers in the vicinity of Elyria will hold a meeting at the Elyria town hall on Thursday evening, June 7 at 8:30 p. m., to learn about organizing a rural electrification district and have invited C. C. Dale and George Allen to discuss plans for organization of such a district.

The men who are arranging the meeting, James Sobon, Al Radke, and Ed Dubas, invite everyone in the Elyria area to attend this meeting.

County Agent Dale reports that farmers in other sections of the county are showing a lot of interest in the proposed rural electrification district and that requests have come in for meetings in the North Loup, Olean territory as well as Arcadia, Yale and Vinton and meetings will be held at these points in the near future.

Last Thursday evening an enthusiastic group of farmers at Valleyside heard M. L. Gould, Custer county agent tell of the organization of the Custer county district which now has 1800 farmers signed up for electric service, and have received an allotment of $400,000.00 from the Rural Electrification Administration. The group at Valleyside voted to back the organization of a rural electrification district in Valley county to the limit.

Roost to Stage Summer Opening

New Adm. System Planned for Recreation Center; Open Twice Weekly.

Saturday, June 9, is a red-letter day on the calendar of Ord's young people. On that day, the Chanticleer Roost will stage a big summer opening which will feature food, square dancing and games, all for the price of 10c.

At its last meeting, the council discarded the old membership system for maintaining the Roost and has decided to use the admission system. This means that all young people entering the Roost will pay a dime, get stamped, and will feel free to come and go for the rest of the evening.

At the opening, Alex Cochran will lead the singing with use made of the school lantern slide. The juke box has ten new records which have been donated. New hours for the two nights that the Roost is open are: Saturday, from 9:30 to midnight, and Wednesday, from the time band concert closes until 11. There will be refreshments on all the nights the Roost is open.

At the regular business meeting, the council decided to make the Roost available for meetings and parties of all young people's organizations. All the organizations have to do is contact Mrs. John Misko, the council president. Some of the groups included might be church choirs, 4-H groups, Camp Fire girls, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Blue Birds, Sunday schools, etc. Private parties may also be held at the Roost by having the sponsor of the party make necessary arrangements with the council president. There will be a charge of $2 for the rent of the hall. With these new arrangements, the council hopes that more boys and girls will take advantage of the opportunity for recreation at the Roost.

Band Concert Postponed. The band concert scheduled for Wednesday, June 6 was postponed to Friday, June 8, because of the weather, says Director Glen D. Auble, and will be held that evening if weather permits.

Valley Co. Lacks $53,225 of Meeting Goal on 'E' Bonds

Quota on Other Bonds Now Over-Subscribed but Far from 'E' Bond Success.

To assure success in the 7th War Loan, Valley county people must buy $53,225 worth of "E" bonds, preferably within the next 10 days, it was stated this morning by War Finance Chairman C. J. Mortensen. The quota on other bonds has been over-subscribed 9%, he said, but only 70% of the county's $176,000 "E" bond quota has been met, and this is the most important quota of all.

Leading township in bond buying is Davis Creek, which has bought 201% of its quota, or a total of $16,093.75.

Next comes Michigan with 167% of quota, or $3,387.50 and third is North Loup with 157% or $47,206.25. Independent is fourth with 151%, or $10,550. Noble township fifth with 130%, or $10,336, and Elyria township has over-subscribed its quota 126%, or $12,556.25.

Edging close to success is Ord township, which had the big quota of $185,000 and has purchased to date $155,542.25 in bonds of all types. Geranium township has bought 89% of its quota, Enterprise 74%, Vinton 60% and Arcadia 52%. All other townships are lagging with Eureka in last place, having bought only 9% of its small $5,000 quota. Total bond purchases by all Eureka township people is only $468.75.

"Victory is in sight in this bond drive but we mustn't slacken our efforts for that reason, any more than our soldiers and marines on Okinawa could slacken their efforts when they captured Shuri Castle," said Chairman Mortensen this morning.

"Let's buy 'E' bonds and buy them now—$53,225 worth of them—and thus make sure this goal is reached within the next 10 days," pleads Mortensen. "That is the minimum effort which we must put forth; after we reach our goal, every additional bond bought during the remainder of the drive will help convince our soldiers overseas that we're behind them."

Sales of "E" bonds during the past week have totalled only $39,956.75 and during the entire drive total $122,775, the chairman says. Buying of this issue must be accelerated if the quota is to be made within 10 days.

Residents of townships which are far behind in bond buying are especially asked to do their share now. To several townships which have fallen down in previous campaigns the committee assigned very small quotas this time in hope that these quotas would be met and thus permit every township to claim 100% success in the drive. But the same townships, generally speaking, which have fallen before are falling again, and their failure must be made up by the more patriotic citizens of other townships. This condition should not continue, in the opinion of war bond officials. Every township should be easily able to meet the quota assigned to it and where the quota isn't met it will be through lack of patriotism and not through lack of finances, believe the county officials who fixed quotas.

The complete report of townships appears elsewhere in this issue. Another report, which it is hoped will show the "E" bond goal reached, will be printed next week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtasek and son were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schmidt of Hood River, Ore., are parents of a son, Dennis Ralph, born May 31. Mrs. Schmidt was formerly Jeanette Clement, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Clement.

Earl Watts, 80, passed away Wednesday, May 30, at his home in Exeland, Wis., death coming suddenly, and only about twenty-four hours after the funeral of his wife, Ruth C. Watts, who had died on Friday of the week before from a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Watts had not been well for some time and this spring they had sold their stock and rented the farm ground and were planning to take life a little easier. Rev. C. W. Thorngate, who had been pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist church in Exeland, came from his home in New Auburn, Minn., for Mrs. Watts' funeral, and had only reached home when he was called back for Mr. Watts' funeral. The same services with the same singers and pall bearers were held for both. Mr. Watts, who was born in Illinois in 1865, spent most of his boyhood and young manhood in or near North Loup, moving to Wisconsin in the early 1900's. He was the last of his father's family, two brothers, Arthur and Lester, preceding him in death only a few years ago.

Mrs. Clara Holmes arrived on Friday evening from Milton, Wis., and will spend the summer here. Mary Babcock, who had been attending Milton college went to Long Beach, Calif., where the Albert Babcock family are, going by way of Corpus Christi, Tex., where her brother, Albert, jr., is with the navy. She will return to Milton early enough in the fall to stop in North Loup a short time.

The 7th War Loan Is On!

Yes, the Seventh War Loan is on right now. There are new planes to be built, new tanks, new ships. All to bring the war against Japan to an earlier close.

Our fighting men will do their job. But we must do OURS.

And right now the most important job we have is to meet our personal quotas in the Seventh War Loan drive.

Those quotas are big. Uncle Sam needs 7 billion dollars from individuals. For this loan is really 2 in 1—by this time in 1944 there had been two drives. Well now—we've got a two-loan job in one.

But Americans have never failed to meet a War Bond quota yet—and we won't fail now. So find out what your quota is—and meet it!

THE MIGHTY 7th WAR LOAN
THIS YEAR, the 7th War Loan has to raise just about as much as was raised by two loans up to this time last year.
You can see in the picture above one reason why... why that boy and millions like him must continue to have every advantage money will buy to do the job and get home again.
War bond money buys food, clothing, weapons and ammunition. War bond money buys medical supplies and convalescent care. War bond money helps bring him home faster.
That much for your conscience...
This much for your pocket: $4 for every $3 invested, at maturity; guaranteed security—the same security that backs the dollars you put into the bonds; the world's best investment.

Goodies a Mess to Overseas Vets

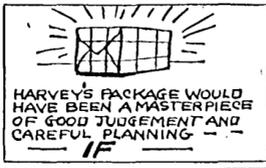

HARVEY MURCH SAYS OVERSEAS IN THE NAVY WAS LUCKY INDEED TO HAVE A WIFE THAT CHOSE HIS PRESENTS AS WISELY AS SHE DID

SHE SELECTED HIS PRESENTS WITH AN EYE FOR PRACTICAL USE - NOT ONE MONSTROSITY DID HE EVER RECEIVE FROM HER

SHE WRAPPED THE ARTICLES SECURELY AND ALWAYS MADE SURE THAT THE ADDRESS WAS CORRECT - AND

HARVEY'S PACKAGE WOULD HAVE BEEN A MASTERPIECE OF GOOD JUDGEMENT AND CAREFUL PLANNING - IF

SHE HAD RESISTED THE TEMPTATION TO PUT IN WITH THE PRESENTS, A BATCH OF HER HOME MADE TAFFY -

DO SEND ARTICLES LIKE - PICTURES, CANNED FOODS, BOOKS, SERVICE WATCHES, SMALL GAME SETS, PLAYING CARDS, PIPES, ETC - - -

DONT SEND ARTICLES LIKE - CAKES, CANDIES, COOKIES, FANCY TOILET SETS, FRUIT, CIGARETTES, KNITTED SWEATERS, ETC - - -

The gifts they want overseas report sailors, marines, and coast guardsmen in forward areas are pictures, canned foods like olives, nuts, sardines, books, writing cases, watches, pipes, pens, engraved identification tags, waterproof wallets, cigarette lighters. Women in service want pictures, books, play clothes, lingerie, stockings, and gloves.

Reports from the front also tell exactly what these boys and girls do not want. They do not want cakes soft candies, cookies, cigarettes and fancy toilet kits. Foods that may have been favorites at home are a battered mass of crumbs and mouldy chocolate when they arrive overseas, so they are not wanted by the people in uniform.

Locker room is limited, with little room for personal items. Ship and shore stations have stores well stocked with items like soap, shaving materials, hair tonics and lotions, gum, cigarettes, easily and cheaply obtained when needed.

Best idea, the wisest of all, is to ask them what they want. Then select wisely, wrap securely and address the gift carefully, ask the officials of the postal affairs section of the navy.

Rhine. After crossing the Rhine they helped clean out the Ruhr pocket before being transferred to General Patton's Third to help in the final grand slam across the Danube to the heart of Bavaria.

Phm. M-3c Kenneth Leach will be given a medical discharge as soon as a veteran's hospital near home has a place to receive him, he writes his wife. Kenneth has been in the hospital six months on June 8th. He contracted pneumonia from a patient, then pleurisy, then tuberculosis. He will not be able to consider working for at least six months after he gets home, perhaps not then. Next Sunday is a very Special Day, in the calendar of the Methodist churches throughout the United States. It is known as "Methodist Student Day."

This special observance has two main purposes. One of which is to assist our young folk in their desire to go to college, and thus prepare themselves to take a larger place in the affairs of men, and more important, to fit themselves to live a better and more constructive life amongst men.

Another purpose is that our people might become better informed concerning their own educational institutions.

We will be fortunate here in Ord, in this respect, to have as our guest speaker, Dr. Schwartz who is chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan University at Lincoln, Nebr. Time, 11:00 a. m.

The singing of the local Methodist Ladies choir is always enjoyable and helpful at these worship services. The public is most cordially invited. For almost two weeks a Vacation Church school has been conducted each morning at the church. Next Sunday morning a program featuring the progress and achievement of this school will start at 8:00 p. m.

Hybrid Corn
We have a limited amount of early Hybrid Seed Corn. Such numbers as 615 and 939 should also be early enough to plant. It probably would be more profitable to let a half stand go than to replant unless you plant a very early corn.

Forage Crops
Many will want to plant Grain Sorghums and regular forage crops now where the corn has been flooded under or washed out. We have Certified Kalo, Early Milo, Grohoma Norkan, Atlas Sorgo, Millets and all varieties of Cane seed. Some of the Forage seeds are rather short but the supplies are available now. If you get your requirements now, you will be in position to start planting as soon as the weather is right.

Alfalfa Seed
Weather conditions are ideal now to start an alfalfa field. We will admit the price of seed is high and the seed is hard to get but you are almost sure of a crop. Why not take a chance on a small field of alfalfa now.

Baby Chicks
Hill Baby Chicks during June, $13.90 per hundred, any variety that they hatch. The last hatch of the season is June 25th. Poultry and eggs are sure to be high for some time to come. If you have the facilities to handle another lot of baby chicks get them now and get them started. They will pay well this year.

Poultry Feeds
Oyster Shell, 80c; Shell-maker, 85c; Laying Mash, at $2.80 and $3.10 per bag. Growing Mash, at $3.65. Starting Mash at $3.95 and $3.95 per bag. Growing Scratch, at $3.25. Chick Scratch, $3.35. Hen Scratch $3.15 per bag. Buy our Poultry Feed and you get the same ingredients in every sack of feed you buy.

Protein Feeds
If you have cattle on feed either in the lots or on range, use our Beef-makr, a feed very high in molasses content. This feed is 12% Protein and carries 45% molasses. You will like it.

For the range man we are ready to take your booking for Linsoy or Soy Bean Pellets now for fall delivery. We have a very attractive proposition on Linsoy and it is a wonderful feed.

ORD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Vencil Ulrich, 74, Claimed Tuesday by Heart Attack

Respected Springdale Farmer Laid to Rest Friday in the Ord Cemetery.

Vencil Ulrich was born in Czechoslovakia on June 13, 1870, and came to this country with his parents to settle in Colfax county when he was seven. Here he grew to be a young man and then moved with his parents to a farm in Hays county. While there he was married to Anna Lang, and to this union were born two daughters, Mary and Anna, and two sons, Fred and John, all now living. After his wife's death 43 years ago, he moved to the Sand Flats locality where he farmed and carried mail from town. He later married Mary Barta and to them were born three children, a daughter Agnes, and two sons, the first of whom died at the ages of one year.

The Ulrich home was moved to the Springdale district and later to a farm east of town. In 1923 he moved to his place just east of town and across the river, where he lived for the last part of his life and where he died the evening of Tuesday, June 5 of heart trouble. Mr. Ulrich was 74 years, 11 months and 20 days old at the time of death.

Left to mourn were his daughters Mary Samla of Ord, Mrs. John Vlasin of St. Paul and Mrs. LeRoy Frazier of Ord, also his sons, Fred Ulrich of Ord, John Ulrich of Ord and Joe Ulrich of Ord. All the children were present at the funeral services. There are 10 grandchildren and one great grandchild surviving. All these relatives and a host of friends have fond memories of Mr. Ulrich, always a helpful and thoughtful father and friend.

Funeral services Friday were held at the Frazier chapel at two o'clock. Rev. R. T. Cordry made a short talk. Music was provided by Mrs. Christine Rathbun and Mrs. Clarence Davis. Mrs. Robert Noll accompanied the singers. Mrs. Alfred Bartunek and Mrs. Emanuel Vodehnal were in charge of flowers. Pall bearers were Joe Novosad, Anton Bartunek, Jgn. Pasha, Frank Kokes, sr., John Moudry. Interment was made in the Ord cemetery.

Clark Jailed for 'Borrowing' Truck

Activities in the office of County Judge John Andersen are varied.

On June 6 John Clark, an employee of the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district for the past two months, was arrested and charged with stealing a car to go joyriding. The young man from South Dakota had "borrowed" a truck from the irrigation district with two drums of gasoline in the back of the truck.

In county court on June 8

Clark pleaded guilty to joyriding charges and was given the minimum fine and sentence, $100 with three months in jail at hard labor.

On Monday, June 11, Helmouth H. Holmgren, son of Henry Holmgren of Naper, applied for a license to wed Ona Hiatt of Lynch, the daughter of Lyde Hiatt. Both of them gave their ages as "over 21."

New Group Goes for Army Service

Reporting for induction this week from Valley county are this list of men: Irwin O. Underberg, Leonard John, Adrian Setlik and Merl Edwards, all of Ord; Frederick Dubas of Burwell; Richard Franzen of Arcadia, and Boyd Cox of North Loup; Milton R. O'Connor of Lincoln and Raymond J. Titterington of Los Angeles, who originally registered here but have been transferred out since they are not now in this locality.

Leslie Paul Leighton of Arcadia leaves for induction with the local group, since he is in this vicinity at present.

Last week several men reported for pre-induction physical examinations, among them Paul Murray and Vernon Einspahr of Arcadia and Ladislav Kvetensky of Elyria. Wallace Elley of North Loup was registered here but took his physical elsewhere since he is not in this locality at present.

—Betsy Kovanda left Monday morning, accompanied by her college roommate, for Minneapolis, where the girls hope to be working this summer.

Need $2,000 Daily 'E' Bond Sales to Meet County Goal

Ord People Have Bought but 56% of E Quota, Reveals Mortensen's Report.

Have YOU bought your fair share of 'E' bonds since the 7th War Loan started on April 1? A lot of Valley county people haven't, or the county wouldn't be $30,000 short of making its 'E' bond goal now, with only 15 days of the drive remaining. And people in the county are going to have to buy an average of $2,000 in 'E' bonds daily till the end of June or the quota cannot be met.

This week's report by C. J. Mortensen, county war finance chairman, is compiled on a township basis to show 'E' bond purchases only and it reveals some surprising facts.

Ord township, which has always exceeded by a big margin every quota assigned to it, has bought only 56% of its 'E' bonds in the current drive. Some other townships have poorer records, but not many.

Elyria leads all townships in 'E' bond buying, having bought 230% of its quota for a total of $11,531.25.

North Loup township, under the able leadership of Ben Nelson, Miss Selma Robbins and C. B. Clark, has bought 'E' bonds to the tune of $26,206.25, or 175% of that township's large quota.

Other leading townships include Michigan, Noble, and Enterprise, all of whom have reached and passed their 'E' quotas.

The over-all bond picture is extremely bright, Mortensen's weekly report says, inasmuch as total bond sales in the county are $458,893.75, or 130% of the county's $351,000 quota. But many of these were bought by corporations, whereas sales to individuals is the keynote of the 7th War Loan. Bonds bought by corporations often are turned in to pay income taxes within a few months and thus do comparatively little to help finance the war, whereas experience shows that bonds bought by individuals are held to a great extent and help almost 100% in war financing for this reason.

"I still am certain that we will make our 'E' quota by June 30," said Chairman Mortensen this morning, adding, "The only reason sales are lagging now is that too many people aren't buying bonds at all, leaving the entire task to be done by a few. If everyone would do his fair share we would have reached our quota before now."

"We realize that farmers are very busy now, but it takes only a few moments to visit your bank or postoffice and make your bond purchase, and now is the time to do it," he continued.

"Buy bonds in the next two weeks as you've never bought them before. Help Valley county keep its enviable record of never having fallen down in supporting the war effort."

REA Meeting at Plain Valley School

Plans for organizing a rural electrification district for Valley county will be discussed at the Plain Valley schoolhouse on Thursday evening June 14 at 9:00.

William J. Novosad and John Kokes Jr. who are arranging the meeting invite all farmers in the northeast part of the county to attend the meeting and learn about the possibilities of getting electric service for farms through a district organization.

Lots of interest and enthusiasm was in evidence at a similar meeting at Elyria last week, reports county Agent Dale, where a nice crowd of farmers and farm women heard Dale and George Allen talk about the plans for organization and the benefits of farm electric service.

Weather Warm Now, Planting Corn Fast

Fair weather has prevailed here throughout the week and farmers, glad to get into the fields after the long period of wet weather, are planting corn at a furious pace. Small grains are making rapid progress and alfalfa will soon be ready to cut.

So far in June the moisture total is 2.63 inches, reports Horace Travis. Highest temperature this week was 81 degrees Tuesday.

On the left sleeve of the uniform worn by passenger conductors, brakemen and flagmen are the insignia indicating length of service; a star for twenty-five years, a bar for each five years.

The proud possessors of "stars and bars" help to form the solid foundation of a railroad's personnel. Because of their intimate knowledge of operating rules, equipment and facilities...the many situations and problems they have met and solved...they are of tremendous assistance to younger men.

Among the 65,000 Union Pacific employees there are approximately 7,000 "old timers"—representing all departments—with twenty or more years of service. These experienced employees have, in a large measure, been responsible for the enviable record maintained by Union Pacific in the face of wartime conditions.

The transportation of many thousand trainloads of troops and materials over the Strategic Middle Route, uniting the East with the West Coast, calls for the wisdom and cool judgment of maturity coupled with the ambition and tireless energy of younger employees.

Union Pacific is proud of all its employees, regardless of length of service, for the job they are doing to help speed the hour of victory.

A letter full of "different" news was the one Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson received from their son M-Sgt. Edwin Johnson who has been with the Eighth Air Force in England for two years. Writing on May 23rd, he says: "Here's a line to let you know I'm O.K. Yesterday I got back from a four-day trip into Norway, Denmark, and Holland. My stops were Edinburgh, Stavogard, Oslo, Copenhagen and some evacuation field in Germany. Spent two nights in Oslo and one in Copenhagen, the others were just for a few hours. In Oslo I met a very nice family, was invited out to dinner and just visited with them till one A.M. That doesn't sound possible but they had both been in America for a number of years and spoke English very well. If I go back I have a standing invitation to come to their home. He is a dealer in jewels and silver, and very high in the underground work. In Copenhagen I met no one in particular until just before I left and then I ran into the man in charge of the movement there. Very interesting and educational trip all around. Later on I may go south, Italy, France and North Africa, all depending on how things come up. Not much news but lots of work, right now I'm crewing on a C-47 and it was the first Allied airplane to land in Norway and was in the newsreels—call letters M347981, if you see it, maybe. Had to run the Germans out of the hotel before there were any rooms. Ate with luftwaffe silverware in some general's private dining room. Love, Edwin."

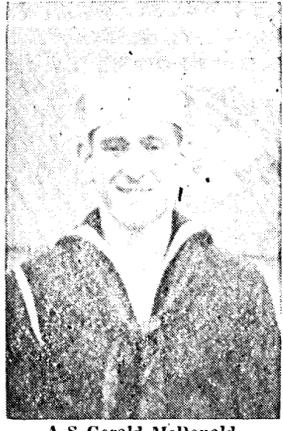

In Thick of Fight.

Leonard Ray Dlugosh, RM2-c, writes his people in Washington and the letter is sent to Ord. He is on the USS Density and has really had the adventures but is as well as ever except that his teeth bother him a bit. He writes "When we left Ulithi we headed northwest. The trip took five days and we wound up in the biggest invasion of the Pacific, with plenty of action and lots of lead flying around. We've been through a lot of air raids but following are some of the closest and most exciting experiences I've had. "When the invasion started we were in there mine sweeping so the bigger ships could come in. These mines are a hell of a thing, cause if a ship ever hits one its pretty apt to sink it. Well we swept day after day during which time we destroyed a few floating Jap mines. Then came the day that we swept a moored Jap mine and destroyed it. We were the first one in our unit to sweep a Jap mine, entitling us to paint a miniature Jap mine on our stack which we did, also a small Jap flag. "Then one day our unit and two other ships came under attack of Jap planes. These Japs have a very inhuman way of fighting. What they do is pure suicide. They don't give you much chance to shoot them. They come over you and then dive right down on you crashing their plane into your ship with the idea of sinking your ship. My general quarters station is right on the open bridge where I can see everything that goes on and I grant you I got my eyes full that afternoon. "There were a lot of Jap planes in this attack and all the ships were throwing lead up at them for all we was worth many Jap planes came down in flames and crashed into the water. But what's this!!! Here comes one diving right out of the clouds at us. Boy did we ever put lead into him, then it wasn't long before we had knocked him out of the sky. He crashed into the water quite a ways from our ship. We all heaved a sigh of relief but there were more Japs in the sky so we didn't have a minute to lose. As the attack proceeded we helped shoot down three other planes. For the day we got credit for shooting down one plane unassisted and assisted in shooting down three others. Pretty good for a little ship like ours with a couple of pea shooters. After the attack we rescued a bunch of sailors out of the water. Outside of being soaked they were O.K. That day I saw with my own eyes 27 planes shot down, a pretty good score I'd say. "Then another night there was a Jap air raid and all of us were at G.Q. A torpedo bomber came along and dropped a fish (torpedo). It missed luckily, and when it went off it lifted me off the deck about two inches giving us a good jar. Late one afternoon another ship and we were out on patrol duty when three Jap planes came out of the clouds. Right away we had our guns blazing at him. One of them took a good look at us, then he came diving down directly at us. I just stood there watching him cause there wasn't anything else I could do. Our gunners were doing good and hitting him but he still kept coming down at us. Well I said to myself "This is it old boy." In the next second or so my whole life passed in front of me and I remembered every one I ever knew. I came out of my daze and took another look up at the plane coming down at us. Then I took a dive into a corner and flattened out on deck, which wouldn't have done any good if he would have hit us. . . . where several other guys were at. Then I heard a heck of a roar and a splash. He crashed into the water a few feet away from us. I was so weak that I could hardly walk around. I'll grant you that both of my knees were red, cause they were really knocking each other around. That night I guess I drank about six cups of coffee and smoked about a package of cigaretts and didn't have the least bit of intention of going to bed. Along about four o'clock in the morning I did get a couple hours of sleep. "Another time we were at general quarters because of a Jap air raid. It was along about two o'clock in the morning and things were pretty quiet around where we were. All at once we saw a Jap torpedo bomber coming and as he zipped by we let him have it. Well all I got to say is that he didn't get any further cause we blew him out of the sky. When the first light of morning came we saw that a wing and part of the landgear of the bomber was still afloat. We steamed over and picked up the remainder of the plane and also the pilot's body. "The captain told us that anyone wanting a piece of the plane for a souvenir could go ahead and start tearing away at it. So now in my drawer I have a small part of Jap plane with Japanese writing on it. On the Jap's body we found some very important papers which we passed on to higher authorities. Several days later we got a two-word message from the commander of one of the fleets out here saying "good work." Well when you get a message like that from as high authorities as that its something to be proud of. "Up to now there hasn't been a one of us so much as scratched by the Japs and they haven't damaged the ship in the least bit. Up to now we have one Jap flag on our stack which was for the Jap mine we swept and sunk. Then on our bridge we have six Jap flags painted which is for the three planes we shot down unassisted and the three we assisted other ships in shooting down. A darn good record for a small ship like ours. "So you see we have been having plenty of excitement out here but there isn't a thing to worry about cause I'm as well as ever and doing fine. The only thing that bothers me is that I haven't received any mail for so long that I don't know how you folks are back there. I guess my mail is fouled up somewhere. I suppose I will get it in time because most of the other fellow's mail is coming through O. K. Write soon and often. Sure hope you are getting better Mother. I will write as soon as there is anything to write about. Lots of love from your son and brother, Lew."

For breakfast—CORN PANCAKES

2/3 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup corn meal
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/8 tsp. soda

2 tbsps. sugar
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs
2/3 cup milk
2 tbsps. melted shortening or margarine

Sift flour, measure, and sift again with corn meal, baking powder, soda, sugar, and salt. Beat egg yolks, add milk and combine with dry ingredients, beating until smooth. Add melted butter or margarine and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop by tablespoons on moderately hot, lightly-greased griddle or heavy frying pan. Turn cakes when bubbles form on top surface. Bake until golden brown. Serve with equal amounts of melted butter or margarine and heated syrup. Makes 10 to 12 medium-size cakes.

For his favorite dinner—Chicken Fricassee or Beef Stew with Dumplings.

Magazine, "Country Gentleman," Has Article on Jerry Kriewald's Experience with Cattle

Valley county people are talked about and pictured in the June issue of "Country Gentleman," particularly 16-year-old Jerry Kriewald, FFA member, whose first project last year was to learn the cattle business, and so he rode the range, dehorned cattle, trailed stray cattle, branded livestock, rode bucking horses and shot coyotes in pursuit of his goal.

"Jerry was a husky 150-pounder when he started high school at 15. He had helped his dad with cows and calves since he was six, but he wanted range experience. So he rented a large sandhill pasture. Since he didn't have enough cattle of his own to fill it he took care of cattle for neighbors also."

Jerry's records show the Bremer brothers helped with a consignment of 188 heifers on Apr. 30th. In the next few days six of his neighbors brought him 64 more head. Every day it took Jerry from 10 until 12 o'clock to count them as they came in to water. He also kept his fences in repair, provided salt and water.

His father, Earl Kriewald, and J. A. Kovanda, FFA adviser, helped the boy, and he licked many tough problems. By October only one cow was left, and that by lightning. A heavy rain washed out some creek fence. Coyotes bothered the calves. Once there were two extra cattle to be got home to their owners. Once a whitefaced steer was missing, but a wanted ad and $2 reward brought it home.

The Ord boy collected "a dandy set of holes in his riding pants, plenty of experience in the cattle business and ended the season with $326 profit," the magazine article reveals.

Graduating from Ord high in 1944, Jerry lost no time becoming a real farmer. The Kriewald home is in the Sumner neighborhood, five or six miles east of Ord near the old soddy that was once a postoffice.

What Chaplains Do in Navy.

"You have every reason to be proud of your chaplains' reports Rear Admiral Robert D. Workman, USN, chief of chaplains who has just completed a 20,000 mile tour of the Pacific, visiting 480 chaplains, practically every navy chaplain in the Pacific Islands, and at bases in the Marshalls, Gilberts, at Tarawa, Guam, the Philippines, Admiralty Islands, New Guinea, Guadalcanal and New Caledonia. Some 30 churches of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths representing organizations set up to pass on the qualifications of chaplains and aid in their procurement attended the meeting.

Navy chaplains conducted a total of 450,294 divine services during 1944, with 37,062,428 in attendance. They married 3,982 couples, conducted 13,710 funerals and baptized 14,973. They accepted 8,072 church members as well as participating in much other special work. There are now 2,648 chaplains in the navy, and 684 more are needed. Some islands have chapels large enough for 800 people. Everywhere chapels are filled to capacity every Sunday and minister to large numbers of navy men daily.

Hansen-Wells Nuptials

In a beautiful and impressive candlelight service, before an altar decorated with pink and white peonies, Miss Lois Hansen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hansen and Lester Wells, of Cotesfield, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wells, were united in marriage in the Zion Lutheran Church, at Scotia.

The altar candles were lit by Mrs. Frank Hruby, Jr. and Miss Mary Plock of Comstock. The white bridal carpet was laid by Elton Walker PHM 2-c.

Rev. Ernstmeier of Staplehurst solemnized the double ring ceremony, Sunday evening, June 10, at 8:00, in the presence of a host of relatives and friends. Mrs. Robert Noll, of Ord, played a piano prelude of the favorite songs of the young couple. This was followed by the Elsa bridal procession from Lohengrin, as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Miss Yvonne Whiting, of Ord, sang "Because." The ceremony was concluded as the bride and groom knelt on white satin pillows before the altar and Rev. Ernstmeier offered the Lords Prayer. The bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride was attired in a gown of sheer white nylon over white satin. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long tapered sleeves. The front princess style panel, extending from the shoulders and ending in a pointed waistline, was edged in rose-point lace, as was the yoke effect in the back. Lace adorned the waistline and also encircled the skirt ten inches below the waist. The full gathered skirt rounded gracefully into a court train. Her two tiered veil was held in place by a tiara adorned with crystal beading. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis. Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Leonard Wells served as matron-of-honor. She wore a gown of pink frosted organza, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, gathered bodice and a full skirt. She carried a bouquet of deep pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Melvin Whitford and Miss Shirley Hansen, sisters of the bride, wore identical gowns of delphinium, blue taffeta and tulle, fashioned with sweetheart necklines, gathered bodices and full skirts. They carried heart-shaped bouquets of blue pink carnations.

Gail Fenton, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a blue satin formal and preceded the bride, strewing petals in the aisle. Leonard Wells, brother of the groom, served as best man. Melvin Whitford, brother-in-law of the bride, and Elton Walker PHM 2-c were ushers. The groom and his attendants wore the conventional blue.

The mother of the bride chose a two piece gown of aqua ripplee. She wore white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of Jacob Jensen uncle of the bride, for approximately seventy five guests. A beautiful three tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table with white tapers at the sides.

Miss Evelyn Johnson presided at the bridal table, assisted by Mrs. Frank Hruby, Jr., Mary Plock, Roberta Cook, Thelma Collins, and Eva Chalupsky. Mrs. James Michelson was in charge of the gift table. Mrs. Leonard E. Hays was in charge of the guest book. The young couple received many lovely gifts and the best wishes of their host of friends. The bride and groom are well and favorably known in their respective communities. After a short honeymoon the young couple plan to reside on the groom's farm east of Cotesfield.

AUTO OWNERS NEED INSURANCE UNDER NEW NEBRASKA LAW

Nebraska's new financial responsibility law, which goes into effect August 10, make adequate automobile liability insurance the most economical and practical method of protecting your right to drive.

Except for motorists having this protection any driver responsible for an accident will have his right to drive taken away unless he pays the damage or files proof of financial responsibility within sixty days.

The world's largest automobile insurance company State Farm Mutual of Bloomington, Illinois, has made provisions to expedite this necessary protection for all auto owners of good reputation.

State Farm Mutual has saved its more-than-1,100,000 policyholders in excess of $50,000,000 in the cost of their auto insurance. Official company for the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, it protects auto owners in cities as well as the country.

Plan Improvements for Ord Schools

The Ord school board has arranged for many improvements during the summer for the Ord city schools. Three janitors, Charles Jones, Tom Williams, and Art Jensen, will be constantly at work during the summer months to repair, clean, wax, polish and paint equipment so all will be in readiness when school resumes. Two of these janitors, Charles Jones and Tom Williams, left Monday morning to attend the custodian's school which convenes for one week at Kearney. This school is held annually to teach janitors from all over the state how to take care of equipment and the grounds surrounding the different schools.

is the principle of the arch. It is very sound from an engineering standpoint, when applied with the laminated rafters. Round roof houses are generally considered more stylish, and less apt to blow over in a wind-storm.

Round roof types are said to require less heating fuel, since they contain about one-fifth less air space to warm up. This would make quite a saving with early chicks.

Farmers in this locality seem to be turning toward the round roof style of brooder house.

Efforts have been made to secure blinds or shades for the sky-lights in the auditorium of the high school so that movies may be shown to the entire student body. The addition of a partition in the girls' locker room will insure convenience during basketball games in the ushering of the band and spectators to their places on the stage. Venetian blinds will be installed in the science room and the social science room and the study hall tables will be sanded and refinished. The junior high social science room will have a new asphalt tile floor, if plans carry out. Another addition will be a rack for chorus robes in the music department. All new files are to be installed in the boiler.

The grade school playground needs leveling and repairs will be made in the roof and on the chimney. With these repairs, the Ord schools will have had their faces lifted for another year of the "three r's."

Two kinds of chick brooder houses may be seen under construction at our lumber yards, and in use over the countryside. They are the shed roof and round roof types.

Some farmers who have used both styles say that either is satisfactory, and they can find little difference in performance of the two kinds. Others prefer one or the other, and argue the merits of their favorite type.

In general, more advantages are claimed for the old fashioned shed model brooder house. It is simple to construct and easy to ventilate; also rather easy to get a good distribution of light, so that relatively less window space will provide maximum lighting service.

The shed type may cost a little less to build. It is also probably cheaper to maintain, because the roof projection throws water away from the sides, and eliminates many of the leaks along the walls.

An advantage which can be claimed for round roof houses,

Ord Golf Club Cuts Dues, Hopes for Busy Summer

7. Guests of members may play without charge. The Ord club is owned by the city, and is jointly financed by the club membership and the municipality. Boasting one of the sportiest sand greens courses in central Nebraska, and perfectly maintained by the venerable Bud Shirley, the Ord club expects a banner year. An unusual and extremely popular feature is the weekly family picnic, attended by old and young alike.

Water holes are plentiful on the Ord course, with three of them crossing a well-filled creek, three of them bordering the creek, and two additional holes bordering an irrigation ditch. Membership dues are so low that everyone can afford to play golf, providing they can find balls.

Drive Being Held to Expand Membership; Weekly Picnics Starting Soon.

Mrs. Mattie Luke Dies at Burkett

Mrs. Mattie I. Luke died Monday at Grand Island at the age of 87 years, eight months and 25 days.

Martha I. Stewart was born at Milton Junction, Wis. on Sept. 16, 1857, living there until she was 16 years of age when she came to Nebraska. Her parents homesteaded a farm near North Loup.

On Nov. 9, 1876 she was united in marriage to John Luke who preceded her in death about 30 years ago. Mrs. Luke made her home in Ord until poor health necessitated her living at the Soldiers and Sailors' Home in Grand Island.

Left to mourn are three nieces, Mrs. Amber Broman and Mrs. Carl Sobraska of Los Angeles and Mrs. Floyd Whiting of Revere, Mass., and Noble Stewart of Burwell who is a nephew. A grand niece, Mrs. Charles Herter of Shelton came to Ord Wednesday to aid the Frazier Mortuary in making arrangements.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at Frazier's. The Seventh Day Baptist church of North Loup provided music and their pastor, Rev. Ehret officiated.

Paper Situation Critical, Salvage Effort Demanded

Millions of Tons Shipped to Europe to Wrap Material for Far East Shipment.

Paper salvage efforts as never before are needed now, with the paper situation the most critical it has been since the war began, according to a letter received by R. Clare Clement from national salvage headquarters. Victory in Europe did not lessen the staggering demand for paper but instead increased it, due to the necessity of packaging supplies and equipment required in the Pacific in double and triple moisture-proof wrappings before re-shipping it to that front.

Since the war began millions of tons of paper have gone to Europe in the form of protective wrappings and this paper is lost forever as a salvageable item. There is increasingly less paper available for salvage in this country and for that reason every salvageable scrap that remains must be saved.

Waste paper directly replaces wood pulp in the production process and salvage is the answer to the wood pulp shortage. American paper mills producing for a war that is yet to be fully won can continue operation only if Americans do a better job of paper salvaging than they have ever done before.

The day is passed when we can get by with saving old magazines, newspapers and items that are easy and convenient to save; the need now is for saving every paper box, every paper bag, every single sheet of wrapping paper. "It isn't waste paper until you waste it" is the slogan of the present drive.

Another carload of paper will be shipped from Ord July 2 and it is going to require the combined efforts of everyone in this territory to salvage enough paper to fill this car. Start now if you haven't already started, to save every scrap of paper and see that it gets into this car.

Need Final Push to Meet 'E' Bond Goal During June

94% of County's Quota Made Need $10,000 Sales within 10-Day Period.

One strong, final heave is necessary to put Valley county over the top in the "E" bond war drive, said C. J. Mortensen, county war finance chairman, this morning. Citizens responded splendidly to last week's appeal and in seven days bought a total of $19,318.75 in "E" bonds, which gives Valley county 94% of its quota. About $10,000 worth of bonds remain to be sold in the ten day days remaining.

While expressing satisfaction with the rate at which people bought bonds during the past week, Chairman Mortensen has warned that there must be no let-down in buying between now and June 30. "Our job now is just like General Patton's was in Germany—we've made a break-through and now we must keep going."

Leading in today's report is Elyria township which has sold 234% of its quota; in second place is Noble with 188% of its quota, in third place is Michigan with 178% of quota and in fifth place is North Loup with 177% of quota. Other townships who have passed their "E" bond quotas are Arcadia, Enterprise and Vinton.

While Ord township has improved its position since last week, residents here have purchased only 68% of the "E" bonds expected of them and Ord people, especially, are urged to purchase bonds at a rapid rate in the next 10 days. Only three townships, Independent, Eureka and Springdale, are below Ord township in the "E" bond drive.

"If we can make our 'E' bond quota we will have met every quota assigned to us in the 7th War Loan," said Mortensen this morning. Over-all and individual bond quotas have already been met, the latter by 131%. Only two counties, Lancaster and Hooker, stand ahead of Valley in the general bond picture and Valley has a chance to go clear to the top if sales are heavy during the final 10 days of the campaign.

Crippled Children's Clinic on June 23rd

Another of the fine clinics for crippled children will be held at Broken Bow on June 23, Saturday of this week. The Elks Lodge is furnishing without cost a noon lunch to all children and their parents who are registered for the clinic examination.

Four children from this territory will attend this clinic, as far as is now known. Anyone desiring further information is asked to get in touch with Mrs. Colver at the court house.

Rotary Starting Attendance Drive

Irrked by failure of some members to attend meetings consistently, which has resulted in the Ord Rotary club remaining low for the past several months in 120th district attendance standings, the Ord club has started a drive to improve attendance.

Secretary John Haskell was instructed to notify all members that hereafter the rule will be enforced under which Rotarians are dropped from membership if they miss four consecutive meetings without a suitable reason such as illness.

AUTO OWNERS NEED INSURANCE UNDER NEW NEBRASKA LAW

Nebraska's new financial responsibility law, which goes into effect August 10, make adequate automobile liability insurance the most economical and practical method of protecting your right to drive.

Except for motorists having this protection any driver responsible for an accident will have his right to drive taken away unless he pays the damage or files proof of financial responsibility within sixty days.

The world's largest automobile insurance company State Farm Mutual of Bloomington, Illinois, has made provisions to expedite this necessary protection for all auto owners of good reputation.

State Farm Mutual has saved its more-than-1,100,000 policyholders in excess of $50,000,000 in the cost of their auto insurance. Official company for the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, it protects auto owners in cities as well as the country.

"SOIL-CONSERVATION IS ONE KIND OF SELF-REGULATION"

The thousands of Nebraska farmers who adhere to the sound practices of soil and water conservation not only protect their own interests but the interest of all whose lives and fortunes are dependent on Nebraska's fertile acres.

This activity on the farms yields benefits to the common good much like the Nebraska Committee's self-regulation program in the brewing industry; a program which constantly develops and promotes clean, orderly conditions and observance of law wherever beer is sold, and thus benefits both the industry and our citizens in all walks of life.

Don't Worry About Us!

We'll do it!

THEY tell us that the fat salvage problem has got to be licked in the small cities, the towns and on the farms.

Our country has to have one hundred million more pounds of used fats this year over last. And we're the people who must save it.

We've rolled up our sleeves! We'll save every drop and bit it is possible to scrape—and keep on doing it till the last Jap is licked.

HOW TO DO IT: Save all used fats in a tin can. Keep it handy to the stove. Scrape your broilers and roasting pans, skim soups and gravies, for every drop counts. Keep solid pieces of fat, such as meat trimmings and table scraps, in a bowl. Melt down when your oven's going, add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Take the can to your butcher as soon as it's full. He will give you four cents and two red points for every pound. Your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent can give you full particulars.

100,000,000 More Pounds of Used Fats Are Needed This Year!

Approved by WPA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

Specially blended to give you an extra flavor "lift"

The unusually full flavor of Edwards Coffee comes from the way we blend and roast—a formula slowly perfected over 40 years. It is a painstaking method, but we believe it is the only way to give you coffee of such exceptional richness, strength and aroma. We invite you to try Edwards Coffee for 10 days. Your money will be refunded if it doesn't give you a delightful flavor "lift".

WE SELECT the choicest Latin American coffees—beans of a certain shape, color and size from famous coffee-growing districts. Only when these coffees meet our rigid standards do we blend them; using extreme care to achieve exactly the right combination for full flavor.

WE ROAST by the controlled Thermo process which brings out all the natural goodness in the bean. And because we roast and grind only to your grocer's order, Edwards Coffee is really fresh. Buy a pound. Make your personal test of its fine, rich flavor.

ICED TEA

Allow 1 1/2 to 2 level teaspoons tea per 1 standard measuring cup freshly boiling water. Pour freshly boiling water over tea in heated earthenware, China, glass or pottery pot; cover and steep 5 minutes. Strain hot tea immediately onto cracked ice or ice cubes. Allow 2/3 glass of ice per serving. Garnish with lemon or orange slices, maraschino cherries or sprigs of mint.

- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 4 standard measuring cups freshly boiling water
- 8 tps. tea leaves
- 1 pt. ginger ale
- 1 pt. orange, lemon or lime sherbet

Mix lemon juice and sugar, stirring until sugar is well combined. Pour water over tea in heated container; cover; steep 5 minutes; pour tea immediately from leaves. Cool. Add tea to lemon juice and sugar. Just before serving, add ginger ale. Pour into tall glasses over crushed ice or ice cubes. Top with sherbet. Serve immediately. Serves 8.

Our Fighting Men

Pfc. Louis Kapustka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kapustka, writes from Amberg, Germany. "A long time since you heard from me, you said one month. That's darn funny as I sure do write often now, being the war is over. You may get a bunch of them at once, hope so and don't worry about me. This war is over, there was a little fighting after VE day but we didn't get in on that. We were about 40 miles from Prha, like they call it in Bohemian. We stayed nine days in Klatown, that's in Czechoslovakia. I didn't hear of any sickness there but I don't find out everything. Yes these SS troops are the bad ones, they set Prague on fire and killed about 500 civilians just for fun, after VE day.

"Boy Poland lost a lot of civilians too, everyone I talked to from there had their families killed off and what was left they took them for slave labor to Germany. That's why there are a lot of Poles here. We are not allowed to talk to anybody besides American soldiers, if we did it would go pretty tough with us. It's been two weeks since I heard from Leo. I am sending two pictures, not so hot. I sent one of me about one month ago, you probably got it by now. I will get some more about tomorrow so will send a few more if they turn out alright. I guess Dad is about through planting corn by now. People here in Europe don't raise any corn, they don't know what it is.

"Hardly any horses cause they used most of them for pulling guns around and they are all killed off just like the German soldiers. You probably didn't believe the radio when they said so many were killed but it's true, just like flies. It's a rough old world, a fellow would be surprised but I saw many of the Americans pray out loud to the Good Lord, and I will admit I did the same. Well I hope you got some of my mail by now, as ever, your son Louis."

Pvt. Joseph F. Absalon of Camp Fannin, Tex., has been made an acting squad leader at the infantry replacement training center here. A member of Company A, 65th battalion, 14th training regiment, Pvt. Absalon's leadership ability won quick recognition in his basic training cycle and he now leads the 12 men in his squad during field maneuvers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Absalon of Ord.

Pfc. Lynn Frost left from Grand Island Friday evening for Ft. Meade, Md. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Frost and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hughes took him to Grand Island. He came from Camp Howze, Tex., Tuesday morning for a short visit with his parents, stopping on his way to Ord to see a brother, S. Sgt. Nile Frost and family at Chickasha, Okla. It was the first time Lynn and Nile had seen each other in five years. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Frost.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

He'll Take Nebraska.
Albert Babcock, who moved to Long Beach, Calif., last summer to work in the shipyards as an electrician, writes his brother, Ted, answering a query about how he liked California. He'll take Nebraska. He says it like this:

"Before I answer your question I must read my Morale Uplifter, which consists of a card with newspaper clippings attached, the first one describing subzero weather in Nebraska and others telling about the mild weather in Los Angeles—I never saw so many colds in my life. It seems to be the normal state to blow and snort and cough and spew cupfuls of phlegm. I have had one cold after another since I have been out here.

"Never in my life suffered so with the cold. In Nebraska you can get into a warm room, sit by the fire and get a real enjoyment out of its warm coziness, but not in California. "The cold here follows you wherever you go. It goes right through to the inside of you and gets into your bones so they crackle when you move. It tricks you in the daytime by hiding out for a few hours and when it gets you off your guard it sneaks up on you from behind. It gets in your backbone where it seems to make a circuit like a high voltage power current. It shakes you like a ferocious puppy with a rag doll.

"Nebraska has a quantity of cold but California has a quality of cold that gives it more than double power. If you are idle and put on clothes enough to keep warm then you sweat and steam as soon as you start to move. If you take off some of the clothes you will soon be freezing. When you go to the park for a picnic on Sunday noon you always take your fur coats along. It may be unhandy to carry it but it is too warm to wear it and the cold will get you if you don't have it.

"Many a time I have come home and stood so close to the stove I fairly fried on that side and bones rattled on the other. I'd get in bed and pile on covers as thick as I ever used in Nebraska before I would stop shaking and then I would soon find myself sweating. If I take some of them off I rattle the bed till it wakes the neighbors in the nearby houses.

"Of course I have been sick a lot, never missed a day of work. Just sick enough to keep going. Whenever I begin to pull out of it along comes one of those California drizzles to catch me unawares, makes me work all night in wet clothes or wet feet and then there we are again. Sometimes the icy wind blows till you can hardly stand on the deck of a ship. For days you don't see the sun and you wonder if it is going to rain. If you take your raincoat and rubbers it probably doesn't but when you finally decide to leave them home then it starts in and soaks you plenty. Now there are the plain reasons why I LIKE California. I hope I have not said anything that Sister Ruth would censor out."

The Big Wind
The big wind in Ireland refers to a storm which began January 1, 1839, and raged for two days and nights along the coasts of Ireland and England. It was the most devastating storm in Ireland within the memory of man. Many lives were lost in Dublin and Liverpool, the Irish sea was strewn with wrecks of ships, and hundreds of houses were blown down in Galway, Limerick, Athlone and other places. Much additional damage was caused by fires started and fanned by the gale. The storm made such a deep impression on the people that for a generation it was customary to divide history into two periods—before and after the "big wind."

++ Something Different ++

Arcadia has mounted a handsome sign at a centrally located corner of the town, bearing the names of all the young men who have gone from that community to don uniforms on behalf of their country.

It is ironic that County Judge Andersen's crops should be covered by tons of water in the recent heavy rains for he is in one farmer who really grows things, and not just the "resident of a farm."

The Valley County Implement company made a real improvement in the appearance of their building, where a big truck once hooked the bricks overhead and hauled down all the top brickwork over a door. That side of the building is again intact, and some show windows have been arranged where their implements will be displayed to advantage. The filling station in the corner has been razed by these enterprising new Ord business men Messrs. Allen and Good.

That reminds me, did you ever see the Worm Brothers stationery? Their letterheads cleverly combine two wiggling worms. Capitalizing on the family name in a remarkable fashion, aren't they?

Another Ord man who believes in signs is Ellsworth Ball, jr., who for years has driven a truck with a big baseball painted in white on his cab door. And alongside the white ball are "E" on one side of it and "Jr." on the other.

This long wet spring may have been perfect "small-grain weather," but it surely hasn't been very good "small kid" weather.

Little boys and girls are itching to get at their vacationing, their swimming, sunning and running, and how could they hold holiday in all this drizzling?

The weather man needs a dehydrator it seems. Frank Fafeita has about decided to hire out as a weather-maker. Every time he plans to take a few days away from the air base and enjoy a brief holiday in Ord the weather changes.

Frank feels that he has "brought on" at least three changes of weather trying to catch himself a vacation. Once it was rain, lasting several weeks, once it was a blizzard, and another time a good old-fashioned storm.

Much as I dislike agreeing with Mr. Ickes about anything, I feel sure President Truman is right and senators, representatives and even the president himself do need their salaries raised.

You can't expect first-quality men in those jobs as long as the pay is inadequate. You may find politicians, but what this country needs is statesmen. Let's make it possible for any man to afford to represent his country in the halls of state. This privilege and it is a privilege, shouldn't be restricted to men with "private means."

Two Are Given High Rank.
Eluta Camp Fire girls received promotions on the evening of June 7th at the home of their guardian, Mrs. E. L. Kokes, at what was probably the first Ord council fire to award all four ranks.

LaVonne Stone became a trail seeker; Beverly Burrows, Shirley Nelson and Vivian Zulcoski were made wood gatherers. The rank of fire maker was awarded to five candidates: Barbara Andersen, Bette Lu Andersen, Coralee Anderson, Esther Greathouse, and Rosellen Voegtanz. These candidates have worked a year and a half finishing the requirements. Mrs. A. J. Cochran, local examiner, judged the written tests given in absentia, Mary Travis and Dot Kokes were given certificates for the torch bearer rank. They became the first leadership torchbearers in Ord and entitled to wear the two half-circle insignia. Each had completed a set of requirements for torch bearer craftsman. Mary

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 mils. of kidney urine flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

chase nature and literature, while Dot worked out citizenship and literature. They finished the last ten steps for final rank and prepared a written report to national headquarters.

Both girls earned special recognition for meritorious work a part of each report will be published in the national magazine. Mary was asked to illustrate hers in black and white sketches similar to the water-color illustrations in the original. Dot was invited to write an article for publication in the autumn on one of four suggested topics.

The 1945 birthday honor was awarded the Eluta girls also. Beverly Burrows and Norma Manchester prepared the leathers for it. A total of 610 honor beads was awarded the girls of the first three ranks. Mary and Dot received their five-year symbols and craftsman trail.

This was the last meeting with Mrs. Kokes as guardian. Mrs. Carol Simpson is starting with the summer program, the main feature of which is camping.

Keith Lewis Buys Business Property

A deal was completed Monday in which Keith C. Lewis purchased from J. R. Stoltz and William Misko the large brick business building at the southeast corner of the square occupied by the Brown-McDonald store, the Western Auto supply store, and the Johnson beer parlor. These tenants will continue to occupy the building, Mr. Lewis said. He bought the building as a private investment and the J. C. Penney Co., for whom he is local manager, has no connection with the deal. Purchase price was not disclosed but it is rumored to have been in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The building was erected by C. E. Goodhand and was acquired by Messrs. Stoltz and Misko after they and other bond holders got the property by foreclosure. It is one of the finest business buildings in the city and has several apartments on the second floor.

IRRIGATION AND SOIL FERTILITY

by Harold W. Benn, Agricultural Agent, Union Pacific Railroad, Omaha, Nebr.

Sooner or later farmers in every irrigated area have to develop a program to improve the fertility of the soil or see crop yields steadily decline. From all appearances this time has arrived in the Loup Valleys. On many farms, plants with a yellowish color and low crop yield show that there is a shortage of plant food. In the days before irrigation there was usually enough plant food to support the smaller amount of growth. Also there had been a considerable acreage of alfalfa and sweet clover before the drouth, and these crops had added plant food to support the smaller amount of growth before the drouth, and these crops had added plant food to the soil. With the coming of irrigation, the picture was changed. Production sky-rocketed and yields as high as 100 bushels of corn began to draw the fertility from the soil at the rate of 100 pounds of nitrogen and 45 lbs. of phosphorus per acre. The final outcome was inevitable. The soil is like a bank account—it is not inexhaustible. Huge quantities of plant food can't be removed without depositing more in their place. Unless this is done the "soil bank," and eventually the farmer, will be bankrupt.

There are several ways to add fertility to the soil. Probably the easiest and cheapest is by growing legumes such as alfalfa and sweet clover. These crops are able to take nitrogen from the air and convert it to plant food. One of the quickest methods of building up the soil is to seed sweet clover with oats or barley and plow under the clover the following spring when it is 6 to 8 inches tall. About 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre will be added, and the 'green manure' will decay making the soil more porous so that it absorbs irrigation water more readily. This plan permits growing a cash crop every year while at the same time enriching the soil. It is recommended that clover be grown on several acres each year so that the entire farm can be fertilized as soon as possible; however, at the same time a stand of alfalfa should be established. This crop has an important place in the long-time crop rotation and fields should be seeded as soon as possible; however, merely growing the alfalfa does not fertilize the land as many people falsely believe. Little if any increase in soil plant food is obtained when the tops are removed as hay. Therefore old stands should be allowed to make a good growth before plowing under, and the fertility in the hay returned to the soil by feeding it to livestock. This brings up another important source of plant food—manure. Livestock provides the "go-between" which takes the plant food in the alfalfa tops and in other crops back to the soil. This is not accomplished just by having stock on the farm. All of the excrement must be utilized to obtain the greatest benefit. The rain-washed pile of manure, found behind many barns, has lost most of its value.

Start Thursday to Load Car of Salvaged Paper

Clement Urges Everybody to Help by Taking Paper to Burlington Dock.

Thursday morning, June 28, at the Burlington dock in Ord, the county salvage committee headed by Chairman R. Clare Clement will start loading a carload of salvaged paper for shipment to the paper mills. The car will be at the dock until Monday, July 2.

Cooperation in filling this car to the brim is requested by Clement. People who have been saving waste paper must see that it gets to the car. Highest prices are being paid and all grades of paper are wanted. About half enough to fill the car is already in storage at the old Stara building in Ord but at least 10 more tons will be needed.

There is a nationwide shortage of paper right now and many mills are having to close several days a week for lack of waste paper. By autumn, it is hoped, increased shipments of wood pulp from the Scandinavian countries and from Russia will alleviate the shortage but now the only answer is salvage on a greater scale than ever before.

Salvage all the paper you can and take it to the car in Ord this week.

Gowen Critically Hurt in Runaway

Taken to Lincoln Tuesday in Ambulance, Doctors Say His Neck Is Broken.

North Loup—(Special)—George Gowen was critically injured Tuesday when the team with which he was cultivating corn ran away and threw him under the cultivator. He is now in General hospital at Lincoln where physicians say his neck is broken but that 48 hours must elapse before they can determine severity of the fracture and decide on the method of treatment.

Gowen was cultivating in a field near the house and his son Richard, enroute to the mail box, saw the team running and caught and tied the horses. He then went to his father, who he found unable to move his arms or legs but able to talk. He told Richard to call the doctor and Dr. W. J. Hemphill was summoned.

It was decided best to take the injured man to Lincoln and Frazier's ambulance took him there. Mrs. Gowen riding in the ambulance. Their daughter, Geraldine, is employed at General hospital, so Mr. Gowen was taken there.

Governor Griswold's Proclamation

WHEREAS, Nebraska has been signally honored by the splendid record of the Fighting 134th Infantry, and its great commander, Brigadier General Butler B. Miltonberger, and

WHEREAS, Nebraskans have an opportunity because of the return of General Miltonberger to honor him and the brave men of his command, who have acquitted themselves so nobly on the field of battle, and

WHEREAS, the people of Nebraska have already demonstrated their willingness to back up not only the Fighting 134th, but all of the hundred thousand or more Nebraska men and women in the armed services, by exceeding quotas for food production and war material production, and

WHEREAS, Nebraska has never failed to oversubscribe its E Bond and Individual quotas in every previous War Loan drive.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that the week of June 23 to June 30 be set aside by the People of Nebraska for the purchase of additional E Series War Bonds in the Seventh War Loan, as a tribute to General Miltonberger and the Boys of the Fighting 134th, and every Nebraskan in the armed services.

Valley County 100% in 7th Loan Drive, Passes "E" Quota

Clark Congratulates — Says Drive Extended to July 6 Because State Lagging.

At 4:30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, June 26, four days before the scheduled finish of the Seventh War Loan Drive, Valley county took its place in the charmed circle of Nebraska counties who have met all 7th Loan obligations by passing its $176,000 "E" bond quota by the narrow margin of $243.75. Overall and individual quotas had been passed previously—in fact, Valley county people have purchased a total of $560,424.75 worth of all types of bonds during the current drive and this county ranks 3rd in Nebraska as a result.

Informed by telephone that Valley county is over the 'E' top, State Chairman W. Dale Clark gave hearty congratulations and thanks to County War Finance Chairman C. J. Mortensen and to bond buyers of the county in general.

But, said he, the "E" bond drive will continue until July 6. It has been extended, he said, because less than one fourth of Nebraska's 93 counties have met their "E" quotas and it is thought a few additional days will permit all or most of them to make their goals.

Extension of the campaign does not subtract from Valley county's splendid achievement in buying $176,243.75 worth of "E" bonds four days ahead of the scheduled close; instead, it gives this county a possible chance to reach the very "top of the heap" among Nebraska counties.

If local people continue buying "E" bonds at the present clip through July 6 there is little doubt Valley will be the foremost county in the state in all divisions in the 7th War Loan, commented Chairman Mortensen. "Only two counties—Lancaster and Hooker—stand ahead of us in the over-all bond picture and we can pass them both if we try."

To count in the 7th war loan all issues of market bonds must be bought by Saturday afternoon, June 30, but E, F and G bonds bought up to the evening of July 6 will be counted, Mortensen said.

"It may take several days for the Federal Reserve Bank to tabulate Valley county purchases and show that we have exceeded 100% in 'E' bonds but that can't delay our personal satisfaction in the achievement," Mortensen commented.

Especially praiseworthy, says he, is Noble township's gain of 66% in a single week, which boosted that township's percentage to 254% of "E" quota and causes it to lead the county. Next comes Elyria with 236%, third is Michigan with 176% and fourth is North Loup with 176%. Other townships who surpassed their "E" quotas are Vinton, 120%, Arcadia, 116%, Enterprise, 119%, and Geranium, an even 100%. Ord township, assigned the enormous quota of $93,000 in "E" bonds or more than one-half the quota for the entire county, did wonderfully well in buying a total of $67,818.75 worth, or 73%, boosting its total 5% in the past week. "We're proud of Ord's record and admit that the quota assigned it was too high proportionately," said Mortensen. He is hopeful, however, that Ord township will make 100% of its high quota by July 6.

Governor Dwight Griswold, in honor of General Miltonberger's return to Nebraska, has proclaimed this as "War Bond Week" and Mortensen says he believes every person who hasn't already bought "E" bonds to the limit should heed the governor's proclamation and keep on buying them now.

The Valley county chairman thanks all bond buyers and all who helped in making the 7th War Loan drive so successful. "It's a wonderful community and our people did a wonderful job in this campaign; it will hearten our boys who are fighting the Japanese and those who have fought the Germans when they hear about it," he said.

Reclamation Bureau Has Surveyors Here

Three surveyors from the U. S. bureau of reclamation are working in Valley and Garfield county at this time, their work having to do with the proposed Missouri river flood control plan. Surveying is being done with an idea of building eventually a dam near the mouth of Davis Creek, with a reservoir of considerable size above it. Waters from this reservoir would be used for irrigation purposes in Howard, Hall and Merrick counties. There has been no appropriation for such a dam and reservoir and preliminary engineering studies are being made from regular bureau funds, with the surveying now being done to furnish the basis for this study.

Small Grain Harvest Within Two Weeks

Harvesting of small grain will start in this area "within 10 days to two weeks, depending on the weather," was the consensus of opinion among grain raisers and elevator men today. Usually some cutting of wheat is started by July 4th but this is not likely this season as the crop is much later than usual.

A good yield of wheat, barley, oats and rye is prophesied, on the basis of the condition of grain fields at present. Warm weather the past few days is hastening the ripening of the crop.

Arduous Washing Not Needed for Curtains

When curtains are removed from the window, first shake them out of doors to remove excess dust. Then inspect them closely for worn or torn places and mend before laundering, for delicate curtain fabrics fray easily.

Long soaking is not necessary for curtains. A 10 to 15 minute soaking is sufficient to loosen soil. Soak in water not hotter than 95 degrees to 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

Quick washings (two or three minutes mechanical washing) in several suds waters are better than long washings without changing to fresh suds water. For washing a temperature of about 110 degrees Fahrenheit produces best results. Always use a mild soap, and in hard water areas use a mild water softener together with plenty of soap so that a good rich suds can be obtained.

Finally, rinse in clear water (100 degrees Fahrenheit) four or five times. If using a wringer type washer, wring under loose tension; if using a spin basket type, spin only one minute.

Penicillin's Power Lies in Ability to Kill Germs

The remarkable properties of penicillin are due to its ability to kill bacteria. In certain infections it kills the causative organisms, or stops their growth entirely, without harmful effect on the patient. It is not, however, a cure-all, since it is not effective against all types of infection.

Among the diseases known to be routed by penicillin are osteomyelitis, pneumonia, gas gangrene, and gonorrhea. It cures certain types of infection against which the sulfa drugs fail. Penicillin is being used with great success in the treatment of infected wounds. One of the most dramatic effects of the drug is the almost immediate relief from pain that it affords.

Penicillin is administered externally, in the case of wounds or surface infections, or by injection, but is ineffective when taken by mouth. The amount required for a cure ranges from 100,000 to 1,500,000 units for gonorrhea to a million units or more for most other infections.

Oil Production

Attempts to stimulate oil production in southeastern Illinois fields by flooding underground sands with water and forcing the oil to the surface give promise of success and are being watched with keen interest by industry. Many of the shallow oil fields in the southeastern part of the state appear to be well-suited to this method of recovering the petroleum which was not brought to the surface in primary operations. If water-flooding of oil-bearing sands becomes successful in Illinois, this state will join the ranks of Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and Kansas, where systematic recovery of oil by this method is well-established. Under controlled water-flooding, the injection and production wells are arranged in patterns so as to drive oil toward each producing well from several directions.

Store Leaves

It is a simple task to gather leaves and store them in the back garden for future use. Pack the leaves and dried plant tops in flat piles, and wet them if they are dry, to speed their decay. A little superphosphate fertilizer or manure mixed with the leaves also speeds the rotting. The top of the pile should be flat or slightly higher at the edges so that rain and snow will soak into the compost instead of running off.

Leaves will improve the workability of the soil; will make a light, sandy soil less subject to drought and more fertile; and will open up a heavy soil and let in the air and rainfall. One conservationist says leaves are as close to being a cure-all in gardening as one can hope to find at one's doorstep.

Mulching Flowers

The majority of perennial flowers are mulched in the winter, not to keep them warm, but to keep the ground uniformly cold.

Through mulching, the home gardener can prevent the alternate freezing and thawing of the soil which causes the heaving so injurious to plants. The protective mulch should not be applied too early in the fall but rather after some cold weather has been experienced and the ground is frozen.

Leaves sometimes are used as a mulch for perennial beds and borders, but these are often unsatisfactory because they pack down too tightly when wet.

Remove Scorch

If the threads of the material are not too badly charred to "take it," scorch is simple to remove. On long-nap woolen garments, dry brush the stain to remove charred fibers. On white wool and silk, moisten the area with peroxide weakened with 50 per cent water and place garment in sun. This procedure should be repeated until the spot is gone. Colored fabrics should first be tested, where possible, to see if the color can withstand the peroxide which, for such fabrics, should be diluted by more than 50 per cent. Don't place colored fabrics in sun. Flush peroxide out with water.

NOTICE!

Your Cemetery Board would like to express their appreciation of the many expressions of approval, of the appearance of the cemetery on Memorial Day.

The answer is, the cooperation of the many lot owners that take an interest in what the Board is trying to do, to the extent of assisting by furnishing the means whereby the work can be done.

More have been taking interest, to the extent of paying annual care and still more are seeing the advantage of a perpetual care contract. By this means your Board can know just what is available for use, in care and improvements.

A good many lots in use are left with no one interested, no friends or relatives to see to them or take interest, in their care and a good many are owned by those who could care for them and who are able to see that they are cared for, but do not. If more of the lot owners would respond to the wishes of the Board, they would soon be able to care for the cemetery as it should be cared for. But this is not possible with present income. If the balance of the lot owners that could and do not, would respond, this could be done, to the satisfaction of the public in general. Many have expressed the desire that all could be cared for. We are living and working in hopes this may be accomplished in the near future.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When a disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause dragging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Why my personal formula gives you coffee with an extra flavor "lift"

Here at Edwards we roast and blend coffee by a formula slowly perfected over 40 years. Our method is not an easy one or one that's easily learned. But we feel it does give you coffee with an extra flavor "lift"—rich, mellow and completely satisfying. Try Edwards Coffee for just 10 days. If you don't thoroughly enjoy it, your money will be refunded.

WE'RE VERY EXACTING about the coffees we buy. Without question, they must be the choicest coffees from only the finest growing districts of Latin America. Although the shape, color and size of the beans tell us much about their quality, we buy only after roasting and carefully tasting actual samples.

WE BLEND these beans not by weight but by flavor... for richness, smoothness and strength. We roast only by the controlled Thermo process which develops all the natural flavor in the bean. And because Edwards is roasted to you at the peak of freshness.

Congratulations and Thank You!

People of Valley County

We are indeed proud and happy today to announce that through your patriotic and unselfish purchases of War Bonds of the various types and denominations Valley county has now met all of the quotas assigned to it in the 7th War Loan Drive.

Our over-all quota, our individual quota and our "E" bond quota have all been met or exceeded and at the present time this county has bought a total of $560,424.75.

We want to thank everybody who bought bonds, all city, village and township chairmen and bond sellers, the various bond issuing agencies and all who helped with the campaign in any way.

Because some counties haven't yet made their quotas the 7th War Loan in Nebraska has been extended through Friday, July 6. All market bonds bought up to June 30 and all E, F and G bonds bought up to July 6 will be added to our quota and we urge you to continue bond buying until the end, even though we have already made such a fine record.

As long as the war continues it must be financed and it is our duty to see that the financing is adequate to the end that our fighting men and women may be properly equipped and supplied. Although the 7th War Loan is almost over there will be more drives in future as long as the war lasts and we know Valley Countians will always do their share.

Again we thank you, one and all, for your patriotic efforts during the 7th War Loan.

Faulty Ventilation

Frost on the ceiling and rafters of a poultry house does the chickens no harm as long as it stays on the ceiling. It does indicate that something is wrong with the ventilation.

Sugar Cane

Sugar cane requires a warm climate, good soil, and considerable moisture. Conditions in Cuba are excellent for economical production. The growing time is from 12 to 15 months, with replanting only every 5 to 20 years, depending on the fertility of the soil and the variety of cane.

Cpl. Henry Larsen Mastering New Pastime

Not strictly in the line of military duty perhaps, but this snapshot received by Jim Larsen from his son, Cpl. Henry Larsen, shows how well G. I.'s fit in wherever they go. Now in the China-India-Burma theatre, Cpl. Larsen is shown in a line of basket-carrying native women but it is noted that he still uses both hands to balance the basket on his head.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

From Ball in Canada.

June 15, 1945.

To the Editor of The Quiz:

As I have just received a copy of the Quiz of the May 31 issue, sent to me from Merritt W. Fuson, formerly of Ord, now in Portland, Oregon and have noticed the column containing the article in connection with the death of Dutch Burger. It recalls to my mind the different things which happened years ago while I was a resident in the Sand Flats north east of Ord and during those days when at so many different times I played base-ball with or against Dutch, as he was known, and brings back all the thoughts and remembrances of the good and bad times we went through; it brings a lump in my throat and I can not help feeling a loneliness which time has been unable to heal. It seems as if we can never erase those memories, whether good or bad and they always bring us back to take time to think of all those good old friends we had and, circumstances unavoidable took us apart; I am glad to know that time has never erased the memories of my boyhood days and also the days when I started out in life, as the saying goes, on my own hook; little did I realize when I left, good old Nebraska, that I was tearing myself away from the old friends and possibly, never to see the greater part of them again; this to me has been the saddest part of my life as, whenever I do think of the old ties, I always feel that lump coming up in my throat.

I can still see the Loup River as we crossed the bridge before entering Ord from the north east, and the old Will Hather farm situated just northeast of Ord. I can remember this farm when Lon Perkins owned it and lived there.

I am wondering if the Will Stanton families; the McLane's, VanWie's; Rob Nay's, Jason Abernethy's are still there and intact. Mamie Siler and the Bailey's were the chief Mercantile stores at that time, while the Cornell Bros. were the chief hardware. I noticed your mention of the Misko Harness shop, I used to play ball with Hank Misko and they were then in the harness business on the north side of the square. I can yet see, as if only yesterday, the old Ord square, and can remember the day and time that William Jennings Bryan spoke from the south side of the square, and what a crowd there was. While Bryan was speaking, an onlooker was braying like a jackass and Bryan stopped his speech long enough to request some one in the crowd to give the jackass some hay which was a very appropriate request at the time. These things and, thousands of others will, or can not ever be erased from the memories of man's mind; we regret at times, that we had to make the decision and move to other parts in order to better meet the obligations of life and better do our parts. In writing this letter I am wondering if I will ever see these old friends, or any of them, and wonder how many are still alive and living in the vicinity of Ord, or moved, as I did to other parts of the world to try and better their circumstances.

There is one thing I have always been proud of, and more so since this European war started, and that is, that I was born in the good old U.S.A. That is one thing time can never take away from me and a thing to never be ashamed of as long as the U. S. carry on as they have in the past.

In comparing the U.S. with the general run of nations of the world, and compare their sociability and courteousness and good will with others, it is greatly in their favor. You can not, or never will be able to feel the same free spirit in other countries that you receive and give in the sociability and good will shown in the U.S.A. They have built up the greatest nation ever known to mankind all through their fair play, sociability, courteousness and good will shown to others, of foreign tongue, who have chosen to make the Great Nation their permanent home; they have made the peoples of all nationalities who came there, feel as if they were really wanted and were a part of the great nation; it has been for years, the melting pot of the world where peoples of foreign birth and tongues were welded together in one great brotherhood of mankind, each working for the advancement and betterment of the nation; prejudices of races were forgotten and they are all working as one unit; it has been, and still very noticeable, that in going over the names of the leaders in the United States you can find names of all origins and they are all working for one cause.

I was at the depot here one morning when a special train was carrying American Air Force personnel through here and was present when the roll call came and I noticed in particular that hardly any of the names happened to be of English origin but of foreign extraction; it is very noticeable in the American army officers. We are not given the same advantages here as they seem to wish to be sure the control stays within the grip of the English origin and, I fear, at times we make a great mistake in not realizing the worth of some of those who have originated from some foreign country as, other countries produce great men as well as we do. There is something instilled in you, as a boy when you are living in the U.S. that can not be taken out by fair means or foul; it becomes a part of you and you carry that feeling towards others throughout your entire life, no matter where you may be. I know the people in the good old U.S.A. have a number of faults, but take them as a whole, no matter where their origination is from, they are the most broad minded and generous people in all the world, and do not ever forget that fact.

I have made thousands of friends here in Canada, both through social and business channels, but, never friends like the old boyhood friends whom I never can or shall forget and, if Mr. Editor, you will be kind enough to grant me the space and print this letter in your columns, then I can and will hope that some of my old friends may happen to see it and that they too may remember the old friendships and think of me, as I so often have of them.

I have two sons fighting in this terrible war, one in the Canadian Air Force and the other in the navy, and I know a lot of my old friends have

Clear Drains
Introduction of copper sulphate into sewers or drains partially blocked by tree roots may clear the obstruction. There must be flow of water enough to bring the chemical in contact with the roots or the treatment will not be effective. Copper sulphate should not be placed in lines which have metal traps because the metal will be corroded. Two or three pounds of the chemical is used at a time, and the treatment can be repeated when required.

TO THE FARMER WHO IS A BUSINESSMAN

A good businessman keeps a watchful eye on the money market. When money is "cheap"—which means interest rates are low—he knows this is the time to refinance his high interest debts on a long-time basis, if he can.

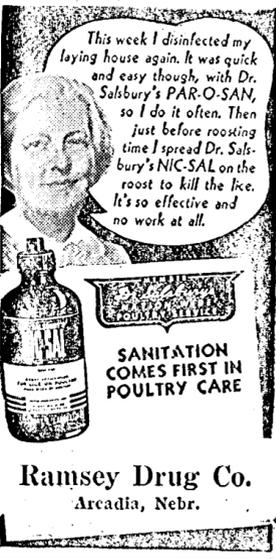

Money is "cheap" for you NOW. The Federal Land Bank gives you the lowest interest rates ever offered the American farmer—only 4%. Think of it! If you refinance your debts with a Land Bank loan NOW, you will never pay more than 4% a year for the 3 1/2 years the loan runs—no matter how high the price of money may go meanwhile.

No man knows how long money will be as 'cheap' as it is today.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Dutch Blessing has the right idea. He is taking his annual vacation and his idea of a vacation is to sit on the porch and smoke and read and let his women folks mow the lawn.

I had planned on doing a lot of work in the garden, setting out strawberries and tomatoes and then my back went on a rampage and so far Ol' Doc Noy hasn't been able to get the kinks out of it. And that puts me right in the same class as Dutch Blessing. I have to let the women do the work.

And there is right smart of it to do, for we bought the Desch place in east Ord, found a nice strawberry bed that has supplied us with many quarts of the finest fruit, a couple of rows of peas that have supplied all we wanted with a few left over to freeze, nice onions and lettuce, all we want. I am a little peeved because Charley Desch didn't have a row of radishes and some beets planted also.

But then Jack Brown has a big garden planted on my ground and I plan on getting in on some of that sweet corn later. At least Jack won't have the nerve to charge me a very big price for some garden sass as it comes along.

We talk about going out to the farm in a joking way, and every day sees us out there, for with the remodeling, pulling weeds and making numerous improvements, we have been hurrying out there (it is just 4 blocks east of the Quiz office) as soon as 5 o'clock comes and staying till dark.

Of course it takes a lot of planning and talking. I want to keep a few chickens, some rabbits and pigeons. I suggested buying one of Ernest Coats' Jersey cows, a real, gentle one. One neighbor suggested that I get a goat and let it run in the yard.

I remember some years ago Clyde Hawthorne kept goats and milked them too. He would go out at milking time, hit a box a few sharp raps and the goats would take turns jumping up on the box to be milked. As lame as I am right now I would have to have a box high enough so I could stand up to do the milking, but I guess goats could climb a ladder to the box.

So far I haven't had nerve enough to suggest keeping a pig and grow our own meat because the neighbors might object, but I used to keep bees and might try that again and then I wouldn't have to buy honey of Pete Darges or Port Dunlap or Frank Vodehnal. When I was a boy my father kept bees and Julian Pulsipher came over one day and asked if he could borrow a hive of bees long enough to get in the way of bees.

We haven't decided on a name for our place as yet but have thought "The Outlook" might be a good name. Anyhow we do have a good outlook on the Shanty Irish over in Kizer Town, the John Masons, the Merrills etc.

I have still got a few April and May Quiz expirations that I am going to stop. I know they want the paper continued but Uncle Sam says I must not continue to send them and Uncle Sam is trying to regulate most of our living these days. Another thing, we do not accept less than a 6-months subscription, yet there are a few who enclose a dollar bill and say extend it. The price is $2.50 a year, but a few send 2 dollar bills and say send it another year. Of course I send it just what they pay for, but it is cheaper for the subscriber to pay for a year at a time. It costs money to cut new stencils and I want to have to cut only one a year. Another pet peeve, not a week passes that some subscriber whose subscription is within 30 days out, writes to have their paper address changed. I have to cut a new stencil, then perhaps in a week they send a renewal and it has to be done over again. They could as well look at the date on their paper or wrapper and send the renewal with the order for a change of address. There.

I always like to get away from home and get a good, clean meal. Sunday we were invited over to Albion to have dinner and spend the day with our good friends Frank Gross and Mrs. Gross. The rain in the morning almost scared us out but we thought of the dinner and said we would try it anyhow, and we ran out of the rain by the time we reached Scotia. The dinner was ready when we got there and as we had the foresight to go without breakfast we were able to do full justice to it. It was a wonderful dinner, the same kind I have been eating at the Gross home for more than 25 years. Then, after the dinner was disposed of the women retired to the front room and just talked, probably didn't really say much, but Frank and I remained at the table and talked over many of the pleasures of the past and expressed to each other our hopes for the future. Anyhow it was a grand afternoon for we pretty much speak each others language.

I have been accused of being lazy for not writing this spasm every week but when you see what this effort is like I guess there won't be any more demands that I write it.

Washing Wool Never soak wool. Wash by hand if you can. Squeeze suds through fabric. Rubbing shrinks and hardens the wool.

License Jeeps Iowa is one of the first states to classify the license status of the jeep, the much publicized army vehicle which civilians in increasing numbers desire to own. If owned by a civilian, the jeep in Iowa is classified as a commercial vehicle subject to truck license laws. The cheapest license for a jeep costs $15, which means that the vehicle can be operated up to three tons' gross weight. As a truck, the jeep must carry three fuses and be equipped with reflectors on each side and at the rear.

Nuts in Forests More different kinds of native edible nuts are growing in the northeastern quarter of the United States than in any other area of equal size in the temperate zones, north and south, culturists of the department of agriculture say. The list includes black walnut, butternut, shagbark and red hickories, pig-nut, mockernut, American and beaked filberts, chinquapin (a dwarf chestnut), and northern pecan. There were also vast forests of chestnuts before they were largely destroyed by blight.

Something Different

Did you ever have the mumps?

It seems they are strictly an underground ailment. They incubate from eight to 28 days. (They are give - able four days before they swell up.)

Well in 28 days anyone would forget where he had been and up to what? Then all at once, like a mole to the surface, those treacherous mumps break forth. They break forth into a firm lump just under the end of the jawbone. A lump as big as an over-grown tonsil. Or a lump like a robin's egg. A sort of soft swelling all around the firm lump camouflages it.

It makes you - no, me - have a big full throat like an over-stuffed old lady, fat but without room for double chins.

Kerry's mumps made a thick pad between the ends of his jaws - at least he thought he couldn't shut his teeth together. He also got pain twinges when he tried to eat or drink. The electric pad banishes these pains 'til the next eating attempt.

Mumps have long been the joy of the comic strip artist, who finds his fun in exaggeration. My mumps didn't reach the ridiculous size, nor did Kerry's, nor his little brother Wade's (-that's where we got them.)

No, I just looked related to someone with a goiter.

When Wade's cheeks swelled up, he was only mildly ill - with no pain. Since Ord had been full of gland swellings all winter, we wondered if it was that, and questioned the doctor.

He gave one of those answers "Gland swelling, mumps, who can tell which is which? Of course you know mumps is a gland swelling."

Advised ever-helpful friends: "Just try eating a sour pickle, then it's mumps!"

We gave Wade a pickle, which he loves. He asked for another pickle!

So I asked Dr. Barta about the pickle-test

"Pooh!" said he. "That's another one of those old things. Nothing to it! Nothing to it!"

Evidently Dr. Barta was right about the pickle test. Evidently Wade really HAD mumps.

Or Kerry and I wouldn't have swelled up with them, after the correct time of incubation.

A heck of a way to spend a vacation, isn't it? —Irma

NORTH LOUP

The Loup Valley tractor and implement company unloaded eight mechanical corn pickers Monday off the freight. Last year pickers did not arrive till almost too late to pick the corn in crop but these should be in plenty of time for the bumper crop of corn which we hope to have.

Mrs. Lella Green who has been in Grand Island and Council Bluffs most of the winter with her children has returned home.

Mrs. Lanningham of Grand Island called on Mrs. Stella Kerr Friday afternoon. Accompanying her were Mrs. Johnson and Miss Mitchell. Mrs. Lanningham worked next to Mrs. Kerr while she was at the Q. O. Plant in Grand Island.

Miss Mary Lou Andrews of Bridgeport, Ill., is a guest this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson.

Mrs. Agnes Manchester went to Grand Island Friday morning to begin work at the Q. O. plant again.

Let's Give the Final Push in the 7th War Loan

Valley county is still several thousand dollars short of making its E bond quota in the 7th War Loan drive which comes to a close this week. Now is the time for everybody to join in a final push which will carry us over the top.

If you haven't bought your share of bonds, do so now. If you have, buy one more bond and make sure the quota is reached.

Manure should be applied to the land as soon as possible after it accumulates, and if immediate hauling is not possible, it should be placed in a water-tight storage protected from the weather. Farmers in old irrigation districts have learned about the value of manure. Feed lots are scattered, and straw bedding is used liberally in feed lots and barns in order to collect the liquid manure which contains more than half of the plant food excreted. Probably the day will come when the Loup Valleys will look like the Scottish Valley—every farm will have a feed lot for beef cattle or sheep, or equipment for dairying. Perhaps hog yards will be paved with concrete in order to save fertility for the soil.

Commercial fertilizers also have a place in irrigated sections. They provide a means of quickly enriching the soil and of supplementing the plant food provided by animal and green manure. It is impossible to predict the exact results which will be obtained by applying fertilizer to any particular piece of ground. The best test is to apply it to a portion of the field and observe the effect. It is a good idea to harvest small areas of the same size from the fertilized and unfertilized areas in order to compare the yields.

Eleven essential plant foods are obtained by plants from the soil, but only three are commonly contained in commercial fertilizers—nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. The available amount of each is expressed on the bag in percentages in the same order as the elements are listed above. For example—10-20-4. Nitrogen is the plant food most likely to be lacking in the land which has not been adequately fertilized with legumes or manure. There may also be an insufficient supply of phosphorus, but it is not likely that application of potassium will be necessary, and therefore the discussion which follows will be confined to the first two.

Deficiency of nitrogen becomes evident quite quickly, particularly in corn, and this is why many fields have had a yellowish color during the last two or three years. Immediate relief can be provided through the application of fertilizers such as ammonium nitrate at the last cultivation. 125 pounds per acre is the recommended rate. Such applications will pay good dividends and provide quick relief particularly while the fertility is being built up with legumes and manure.

Superphosphate will give good results in many cases, but it is advisable to try some on a small piece of ground to determine whether increased yields will be obtained before making large purchases. Some western Nebraska farmers apply superphosphate at the time of seeding alfalfa. A double effect is obtained since barley is used as a nurse crop, and it responds readily to phosphate. Superphosphate may also be applied to established stands of alfalfa, either in the fall or early spring. It is less easily dissolved than nitrate and therefore, if the application is heavy, usually affects crop yields for two or more years.

In conclusion, I want to emphasize the fact that commercial fertilizer is not a substitute for legumes and manure, but can in many cases be used to supplement them. Commercial fertilizers are new in the Loup Valleys and it will be well to see your County Agricultural Agent before buying or applying them.

Time Loss on Farms
The National Safety Council estimates that 25,000,000 man-days are lost annually by farmers through accidents.

Pressure Supports Roofs
Roofs can be supported by mere air pressure. Tests on a 12-foot diameter laboratory model of a 500-foot diameter structure indicate the possibility of using thin, steel sheets for a roof erected flat and then expanded and raised at the center by air pressure of perhaps 40 pounds per square foot. After the original forming, the pressure required to hold the roof would be only about 1-7 pound per square inch, hardly enough to be noticeable.

Cost is $1.00 for a single lot and a lesser price where two or more vacant lots are contiguous.

NORTH LOUP

Monday marked the fifth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Ehret and a large number of their friends planned a surprise for them in the evening, going to their home with lunch baskets and gifts appropriate for a "wooden" wedding. But it was almost a surprise for those who had planned the party, for Rev. and Mrs. Ehret had gone away for the evening and did not return till all the group had gone home but a very few.

Mrs. Tom Williams and two sons came down from Ord on the Sunday morning bus and spent the day with Mrs. A. H. Jackman. Mrs. Jackman and Mrs. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mulligan and Larry were guests in the Sterling Manchester home, enjoying a visit with Evert Manchester, home for the first time in nearly five years.

Harriet Manchester, who is working in Grand Island came home with her family early on Sunday morning when they had been to Grand Island to meet Evert. She returned Wednesday morning.
