Big Crowd to Greet Opening Speaker on Rotary Forum

Over 200 Season Tickets Now Sold, Says Auble; Hanson Visited 37 Countries.

An Institute of International Understanding is a public forum conducted by a Rotary club to study world problems in terms of the relationship of peoples of the world to each other. These institutes are held one evening each week for four successive weeks. At each an outstanding speaker gives an address on the general theme, "Steps Toward World Stability."

Such a Rotary institute is being sponsored in Ord and will start next Tuesday evening, Feb. 12, at the Ord high school auditorium, where the opening speaker will be Wayne Hanson, Oak Park, Ill., an educator and world traveler of international renown.

Following on successive Tuesday evenings will be talks by other famous speakers on the same general theme and when the forum is completed Loup Valley people who attend will have gained a much clearer picture of world problems than they now possess. That is the purpose of the forums, which are being held this year in 450 communities in the United States and Canada, all under Rotary auspices.

A large crowd will greet Mr. Hanson when he opens his address next Tuesday night, reports A. J. Auble, who has charge of ticket sales. More than 200 season tickets have been sold to date and it is thought such sales will total 300 by the time the institute opens. Since single admission tickets may be purchased at the door for each forum it is confidently expected that four or five hundred people will attend the programs.

Mr. Hanson has a splendid background to discourse on the subject of world stability for ever since his graduation from University of Indiana and his completion of special work at Columbia University on international affairs he has been working for better understanding among various peoples of the world. In this service he visited 37 countries of Europe and Latin America and lived for five years in Geneva, Switzerland, headquarters of the League of Nations.

If you haven't already purchased season tickets for your family to attend this forum you may do so at the Auble jewelry store, Arcadia, North Loup and Burwell people, as well as residents of rural communities, are especially invited to be present at these lectures.

Ord Woman Speaker on National Program

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, of Ord, national president of the 8 et 40 organization, a woman's auxiliary to the American Legion, will be one of the speakers over a CBS national radio program on Lincoln's birthday anniversary, Feb. 12. The program will originate at Lincoln's Tomb, Springfield, Ill., and may be heard at 2:00 p.m. over KFAB.

Mrs. Mortensen has for several weeks been touring the east on business for the 8 et 40 organization. Recently she was honored by being a guest at a tea given by Mrs. Truman, wife of the president of the United States.

Mrs. Valasek's Body Is Not Yet Located

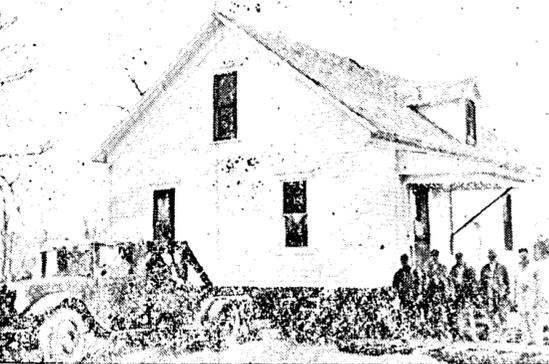

In spite of all efforts by searchers, the body of Mrs. J. F. Valasek, who left her Springfield home about 7 p.m., Jan. 29, has not yet been found. Firemen, the sheriff and the neighbors hunted nearly all that night and most of the next day, but were unable to find a trace of her anywhere.

Her children are using every effort to locate her body, and to that end have offered a reward of $250 to the person or persons who can find her. Since every other possible place has been searched, it is generally conceded that she must be in the river, and may not be found for some time.

Elba Beats Loupers, First Loss of Season

North Loup—(Special)—Elba beat Coach Cook's basketball team Tuesday night 29 to 22, this being the first loss suffered by North Loup in a regularly scheduled game this year, though they suffered a Loup valley tournament loss to Burwell earlier. The local second team beat the Elba reserves 13 to 11.

How Ord Is Meeting the Housing Shortage

There are several ways in which a community can help out the housing shortage situation. Perhaps the quickest and most effective is that shown above, the moving of surplus buildings on the farms into town and preparing them for occupancy. Because so many farmers are farming more land than they did a few years ago, many good residence buildings are being left vacant in the rural districts.

For some time past A. C. Ogle of Loup City has had a good housemoving outfit on rubber, and he has been busy for the past year or two getting these extra farm houses moved into town. He does not recall just how many he has moved into Ord, but he thinks there are about eight. He has also been busy moving houses into other towns in this part of the state.

The house shown above was an extra house on the Howard Huff place south east of Ord. It was built on a low hill south from the highway by Anthony Koupal, now deceased, about a quarter of a century ago, and is still in a fine state of preservation. Richard Rowbal bought it from Mr. Huff, and it is shown as the crew were busy getting it over the basement excavation on lots recently bought by Rowbal three blocks west of the high school.

In the picture are shown Mr. Rowbal, Mr. Ogle and his three helpers, Walter Thornton, Stanley Spotsanski and Fay Carson. This is one more home for a family in Ord. It is understood that there are several more houses available for moving into Ord, and it is hoped that someone will see that they are moved in as soon as possible, as the city has lost several potential citizens recently because they could find no home into which to move.

Jerry Petska saw the possibilities of moving houses to Ord last year, and he is responsible for bringing in two good residences and getting them into shape for occupancy. One of these is west of the home of Mrs. Anna Nelson, and is about ready for occupancy. It will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Petska, jr. The other is in the same block with the Petska, sr., home and is occupied by the Cletus Ringlein family.

In several cases, and in more that are to come, houses have been remodeled from one large home into two or more apartments, thus making room for additional families. This not only helps the housing shortage,

V. J. Dobrovsky, 75, Died Friday

Resident of Garfield and Valley Counties for Past 38 Years.

Another long time resident of this section of Nebraska passed on to his reward in the passing of V. J. Dobrovsky at his home south of Ord Friday, Feb. 1. He was born in Bilancec, Czechoslovakia, and was 75 years old at the time of his death. He came to the United States in 1890.

He first located at Brainerd, Nebr., where he learned the carpenter trade and worked at the trade for several years, building quite a number of houses. He also learned much about the trade of flour milling at the Brainerd mills.

While in Europe he had served in the armed forces of his country. In 1903 he was united in marriage to Josephine Psota in Omaha, where for five years they operated the Prague hotel and dining room. They then moved to Garfield county, where he farmed in the territory about nine miles east of Burwell for a period of 25 years.

He was very active in community and county affairs there serving as county assessor, county commissioner and as director in his local school district. In 1933 they moved to Valley county, where he lived on a farm just south of Ord. In April, 1943, Mrs. Dobrovsky passed away and he continued to live on the farm with his daughter, Regina.

J. F. Valasek, Valley Pioneer, Buried Monday

Came to County in Covered Wagon; Lived Here for More than 65 Years.

Death removed from the scene of his activities February first, one of the earliest settlers of the Bohemian race to come to Valley county. Other settlers began coming in 1872, but there were very few Bohemians in the county before 1880. At that time they began coming in and settling in the best territory still available, the west part of the county, in Geranium, west Michigan and south Eureka townships.

The parents of Joseph Frank Valasek were among those earliest settlers, and Mr. Valasek, then a boy of 7, came with them. He grew up under the difficulties of building a home and community life, had a part in the hardships that always attend the wresting of a living from the virgin soil. He grew up in the fear of God and the respect of his fellow men, a respect which he retained all through his life.

He was born March 31, 1872 in Czechoslovakia and passed away at the Ord hospital, Feb. 13, 1946, at the age of 73 years, 10 months and 1 day. He came to America at the age of 7 years with his parents, Joseph and Anna Valasek. They lived in Omaha a short time and then came to Valley county by covered wagon, locating on a homestead in Geranium township 15 miles west of Ord. He grew to manhood there.

Jan. 24, 1894, he was united in marriage to Anna Frances Jarusek. She was born in Czechoslovakia, July 10, 1874, and came to America at the age of 15 years, coming directly to relatives in Geranium. She worked for several families around Ord, until her marriage to Mr. Valasek. They lived one year in Geranium after their marriage, after which they moved to the farm in Springdale which has been their home ever since.

This union lasted more than 52 years. To them were born 7 children, one dying in infancy. Left to mourn are two daughters: Mrs. Emma Zabloucil of Ord and Mrs. Mary Bouda of Omaha; four sons, Joe, William and George of Ord and Frank of Grand Island, also other relatives and many friends. Mr. Valasek had three brothers and two sisters. Two brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services for Mr. Valasek were held at the Ord Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Rev. Carl McConnell in charge. The pall bearers were Earl Hansen, Ed Timmerman, Dave Arnold, Emery Thomsen, Clarence Pierson and John Ulrich, all old friends and neighbors. Burial was made in the Ord Bohemian cemetery. Hastings and Zikmund had charge of the funeral arrangements.

One other possible source of living space may be found in a number of basements in Ord. Those which were well built in the first place and which have daylight available with windows above the ground level, can be worked over into ideal living quarters, where it is not too cold in winter nor too hot in summer. A hundred families would move into Ord in 1946 if they could find homes here. Let us pull together for more homes in Ord.

Don't Tell OPA, but Sugar Brings $1 Lb.

Don't bring this to the attention of the OPA but sugar sold for $1 a pound in Ord recently, a jar of home canned peaches $1.60 and three pounds of shortening 60 cents a pound.

The prices were the result of a food auction held Tuesday night by the American Legion Auxiliary, receipts from the sale going to the Auxiliary's Little Red Schoolhouse Scholarship fund.

Bad weather kept both food donations and attendance small, but spirited bidding by Legion members made up the difference and the Auxiliary succeeded in making their quota.

Andersen Sale Postponed. Because of the Tuesday storm, John L. Andersen's clean-up sale was postponed until Friday, Feb. 8, at which time it will be held exactly as advertised.

He was a member of the ZCZJ lodge and served as secretary for the Bohemian National cemetery. He is survived by six children: Charles, Joseph, Regina and Mrs. Mary Wozniak, all of Ord; Sgt. Albin of Fort Bragg, N.C.; and Sylvia Willhite of Craig, Colo.; There is also one grandchild, Carmen Dobrovsky.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 1:30 p.m. from the Bohemian National hall, Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkston officiating. Pallbearers were William Misko, Otto Radil, Albert Jones, Rudolph Kerchal and F. J. L. Benda. Burial was in the Ord Bohemian cemetery. Pearson Mortuary had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Frank O. McDermott Says Corn is Short

Shortage of corn and other grain feeds already is a reality in Valley county, according to Frank O. McDermott of North Loup. This was given as his opinion in an interview published in the Omaha Daily Journal-Stockman under date of Feb. 4. McDermott is a well known and popular stockman of the North Loup territory, and many feeders are in agreement with him. The article quotes him as follows:

"Our corn yield was cut by hail and unfavorable weather, and what we did get was of low feeding value. As a result, the local supply is exhausted, and we are trucking in grain. Even corn from the outside is hard to get, and I guess there won't be much for the small feeders to do but to sell their stock. The bigger feeders, of course, will continue in business as usual. They have used to trucking in their grain anyway.

If we get moisture, wheat and rye seeded last fall may come up before spring, but we aren't counting on it. Chances are that most of these fields will be plowed up and seeded to barley this spring. Barley is still one of our important crops, and the two row barley we raise nowadays does better when the season isn't too wet. That was the trouble with barley last year, we really had too much moisture for it."

McDermott's most profitable crop last year was an 8 acre field of alfalfa which he cut for seed. It made over four bushels per acre, and the net returns will be close to $100 per acre, which he figured was twice the value of the land on which it grew. The implement situation also looked serious to him, with most machines worn out, and new machinery hard to get.

Six Veterans Now on Staff of Quiz

27 People Now Employed and More Expansion Planned; Linotypes Moved.

Three more veterans of World War II joined the staff of the Quiz in its various departments Monday, bringing to six the number of veterans now employed and bringing the Quiz staff to a total of 27, including proprietors, H. D. Leggett and E. C. Leggett.

Newcomers include E. R. Apking, who becomes advertising manager; Willard Dietrichs, linotypist; and Ray Hurlbert, who became a photoengraving trainee in the Quiz plant at Grand Island.

Veterans already at work include Frank Absolon, photoengraver in the Ord plant; Ed Hvezda, pressman trainee; and Donald Nielsen, linotypist.

Other Quiz employees include John Hannah, foreman; Kent Ferris and Dick Stanley, pressmen; Cletus Ringlein, floor man; Asa Anderson, linotypist; Mrs. Barbara Cernik, press feeder; Ben Eberhart, janitor; Vida Collins, Mrs. Sam Marks, Mrs. H. D. Leggett, bindery; Mrs. Libbie Merrill and Bess Lecheck, photoengraving; Agnes Hvezda and Mike Hvezda, photoengraving mounting department. John Hannah, jr., is a part time employee.

At the Grand Island plant are Jiro Kawata and his wife Dolores, in addition to Ray Hurlbert, the new trainee.

Front office employees include Mrs. George Anderson, bookkeeper and John L. Ward, in charge of the news department.

Several others work part time in the Quiz bindery department and the shipping room. Another full time printer-pressman will be employed soon.

Freak Storm Monday Ends in a Blizzard

Following an unusually warm Monday, a storm formed about midnight that night, accompanied by quite a display of thunder and lightning, especially in the territory west and south of Ord, where quite a rain fell in places. The storm was accompanied by a strong north-west wind, which by morning had changed the rain into sleet and finally to snow.

Tuesday the storm had all the earmarks of a blizzard, with much snow and a high wind, but the temperature remained around 20 above. The sky cleared during the afternoon, but the reading Wednesday morning remained at 17 above. The cold reading for the week, according to Horace Travis, was 12 above early Monday morning, and the moisture for this storm figured .32 of an inch, from about 2 1/2 inches of rain, sleet and snow.

The Womens club met at the home of Mrs. R. T. Cordry on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Horace Travis gave an interesting paper entitled, "A Few Prominent People of World Peace."

In County Court.

About a month ago Melvin Barla, 14 year old Garfield county boy was brought into Judge John L. Andersen's court and charged with rape. He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court. Wednesday morning the case was returned to county court and the preliminary hearing has been set for Feb. 20 at 10 a.m. The boy's bond was set at $100, and it is understood this was to be raised at once.

Clarence Thompson was brought into Judge Andersen's court last week on a charge of issuing a no fund check in the amount of $15, payable to Gamble Store under date of Dec. 7, 1945. He entered a plea of guilty as charged, paid a fine of $5 and costs of $9.50, and also made good the amount of the check.

Death Comes to Well Known Ord Woman on Sunday

Joy Auble Pettersen Was an Army Nurse Both Here and in Australia.

Joy Auble Pettersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Auble and well known in this community passed away at a local hospital Sunday evening in a rather sudden and unexpected manner. She had not been in good health since the birth of her son, John Peter.

Joy Auble was a graduate of Ord high school, class of 1936. She then entered nurses training at the Omaha Methodist hospital, and did nursing until receiving her medical discharge from the army in January, 1945. She became an army nurse in May, 1942.

In this capacity she served both in this country and in Australia, being overseas from October, 1943 until September, 1944. While in the service she attained the rank of first lieutenant. She was married in Australia to Lt. John N. Pettersen of the Air Corps, whose home was then in Baltimore, Md. Mrs. Pettersen made their home in Sedalia, Mo., where he has been stationed for the past few months.

Before going to Sedalia Mrs. Pettersen visited with her parents in Ord. Funeral services will be held in the Ord Methodist church at 3 p. m. Thursday afternoon, and the body will lie in state from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., with the exception of 11 a. m. until 11:30 a. m. Hastings and Zikmund have charge of arrangements.

Expanded Service for Nelson Motors

"If this keeps up, they'll be calling us the G. I. garage," P. O. Peterson, manager of the Nelson Motor Co. of Ord, smiled to a Quiz reporter. "But I'm only too happy to have these boys with us, because I know they'll be of real service to the people of Valley county."

Three former servicemen are now working with Nelson Motor Co., and the firm is now announcing a new, larger repair service.

In full charge of the firm's work is Vinton Henry, ex-sailor, from Denver, Colorado. Mr. Henry served aboard the USS Apollo, a submarine tender and repair ship in the west Pacific. He and his wife are at present living with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. T. Cordry. They have purchased lots of L street in west Ord and plan on building this summer.

J. D. Campbell, formerly of Washington, D. C. served with an armored division in the ETO during the war and is assistant to Henry. He is the son-in-law of Evet Smith of Ord. Peterson's son, Calvin D. Peterson, recently discharged from the army will take over the firm's parts department, and will keep the firm's books. P. O. Peterson stated.

Leroy Wells Shot in Rifle Accident

Sunday Anthony Walahowski and Leroy Wells went across the tracks from the Wells home about 2 p.m. and were looking around for game in a cornfield. Anthony was carrying a .22 caliber rifle, which accidentally discharged, the bullet hitting Wells in both legs just above the ankles.

They both walked back to the Wells home, and Dr. H. N. Norris was called. He found that the bullet had missed the bones in both legs, but came within an inch of the ankle joint in the left leg. However no serious harm will result, which is extremely lucky. Walahowski is 13 and Wells is about eleven.

A 9 pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marion Medbery of Scotia Tuesday, Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris were in attendance.

Sewer District May Be Formed at March Meeting

City Atty Advises Council Include All Sections Now Wanting Sewer Service.

Prospects for early construction of extensions to Ord's present sewer system became brighter Tuesday night when City Attorney Clarence M. Davis advised the city council that it has the statutory right to organize a district, advertise for bids, and unless 50% of resident property owners in the district object, go ahead at once with construction of the sewer system. This procedure probably will be followed and the district organized at the March council meeting.

According to City Engineer George Allen, several sections of the city want sewer service as soon as they can get it, notably the northwest portion of Ord and a section in the southeast part of the city. Under the plan proposed by Mr. Davis both sections could be included in the same district, even though they are not contiguous. Other sections could be included also, if property owners desire.

First sewer to be constructed will probably be on the street from the creamery to the west end of the street. A sewer on 19th street from K street north to the Catholic church also is in demand, as is a sewer on 17th street north. Several properties on 20th, and 21st street north desire service also.

To block construction of a sewer after the district is established, more than 50% of resident property owners must file remonstrances in writing with the city clerk prior to letting of bids for construction. Various steps in the procedure will have to be legally advertised, which gives objectors time to file such remonstrances.

Frank McNett, Grand Island architect in charge of swimming pool construction, met with the council Tuesday and presented complete blueprints for the pool. Advertising for bids will begin next week and it is proposed to let contracts for the construction on March 11.

Several people interested in the aviation field appeared at the council meeting Tuesday, among them being Joe Kluthe, Elgin, who is teaching a class of would-be flyers here, and Merrill Anderson, resident manager of the Hastings municipal airport. Mr. Kluthe asked the council to take action to bring about immediately designation of the Ord field as state and federally approved, even though construction work cannot start until spring.

There was considerable discussion at this meeting over alley matters, Murray Nelson and others appearing to protest the closing of an alley back of their business houses by Hugh Carson. Attempts are being made to work out a compromise with Mr. Carson to open up the alley for travel.

Threat Follows an Innocent Question

An innocent question sent a Quiz reporter hunting for cover the other day when he queried a group of Ord's ex-servicemen: "Don't you wish you were wearing the glamorous old uniform again for keeps?"

Replies in detail: Paul Armstrong, ex-navy, butcher at Safeway; (Censored); Willard Dietrichs, ex-army, linotype operator; (Censored); Vinton Henry, ex-navy, mechanic at the Nelson Motor Co. "Why, you (Censored)!" Wm. Bolton, ex-Tennessee airman, REA coordinator. "It's a good thing ah got mah hands in mah pockets and it's too darn cold to take them out, or there'd be Yankee blood spilled again."

Sobon Car Wrecked

Saturday night as Leonard Sobon of Elyria was driving along the road west of Bussell Park the end of the tie rod broke off, throwing the car completely out of control. The car went into the ditch and upset, with considerable damage to the car, but Mr. Sobon was unhurt. Luckily he was driving at moderate speed when the accident occurred, or he would have been badly injured or killed.

Catholic Ladies Meet

Catholic ladies met at the K. C. hall Wednesday afternoon. The new officers, Mrs. Joe Osestowski as president and Mrs. Clark Weckbach as secretary, had charge of the meeting. A fine crowd was in attendance. Mrs. Stanley Absolon and Mrs. Emil Sedlacek are the outgoing officers. They served three years. Much was accomplished during the time they were in office and much credit and praise is due them.

Our Fighting Men

★ Pfc. Galen Lashmett arrived in Ord Tuesday of last week and spent a few days visiting friends here. He says his brothers are all in California except LeRoy (rother) who has a store in Ogallala. Galen, who is only 19 years old, has been in the service 2 years, and was on Okinawa shortly after his 18th birthday. He left on the bus Friday for Fort Leavenworth, where he was planning to reenlist.

★ S. Sgt. George Hosek of Comstock came to Ord Friday and left on the bus to visit his father in Omaha. He has been in the service one and one half years, much of it in the Philippines, and he expects to be sent back there when his furlough is up. He is the son of James Hosek.

★ Joe A. Polak, Sic, of Ord served on the LCI (G) 41, a much traveled sea going infantry craft used for landing troops. This vessel served in both oceans, at Sicily, Salerno, Anzio and southern France as well as in the Pacific.

★ Pfc. Thaddeus Krason was discharged from the service not long since, and is now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Krason in Ord. Ted was in the service in the European theatre, and during which time he saw service in France, Alsace and Germany. He had hoped to get into Poland to visit his father's old home, but was not sent there. They know his father's sister is still alive there as they have had two letters from her. He says he saw a lot of bad things, but a lot of good things also, which he really enjoyed. He was a cannoner in the service, one of the crew of a 105 millimeter gun.

★ Edward Fauss Sic, husband of Mrs. Dorothy Fauss of Ord,

Nebr., is one of 1273 army and navy veterans returning to the states for discharge aboard the USS Cowpens, a medium carrier of the "Magic Carpet" fleet, which left Kuba Sakki, Jan. 13, and should have arrived in San Francisco by Jan. 27.

★ Kenneth Shibata is now a member of the U. S. Coast Guard, according to information furnished by Frank Kokes, who came in and ordered the Quiz sent to him at Alameda, Calif. Kenneth graduated from Ord high school in 1945, attended the State Teachers college at Kearney for the first semester of the current year, and then joined the Coast Guard as of January 22, for a period of two years. He writes that he has not found a lot of work to do there yet, but they have him on their football team, which is something he really enjoys, of course.

Arcadia Huskies Get Even Break

Win from Loup City; Lose to Three Loups Leaders at Broken Bow.

Arcadia (Special)—Tuesday of last week the Arcadia Huskies got going in a game played on the Loup City floor and won by the rather close margin of 33 to 28. Moody was high point player on the Huskie team with 15 points. Cox earned 8 points, Christ and Carmody scored 4 points each and Vanchura made two.

For Loup City Brown made 14 points and Turek was second with 10. Loup City led at the quarter 7 to 6, Arcadia led at the half 17 to 11, and at the end of the third period it was 31 to 20. The Arcadia reserves lost their game 8 to 29.

Broken Bow took an early lead in the game Arcadia played there Friday evening, and held it throughout the game to a final score of 39 to 14. Wooters and Lefler made 11 points for Broken Bow in the first quarter, Christ making only two for Arcadia. In the second quarter Moody made the only score for Arcadia.

At half time the score was 23 to 4. The fast ball handling of the Broken Bow players and the exceptional shooting of Wooters in the second half continued, and the Arcadia boys were unable to set up scoring plays under the Arcadia basket. Wooters earned 14 of the Broken Bow points. Bill Doty was next with 9 points.

Broken Bow should show great possibility of winning the Three Loups Tournament at Arcadia this week. The Arcadia reserves played a good game with the Broken Bow reserves. The game was 9 to 9 at the end of the half, but in the second half the Broken Bow boys took the lead and finished 17 to 11.

Next week Arcadia plays Taylor at Taylor, and on Friday, Feb. 15 they play their final game with North Loup. This should be a good game, as North Loup is one of the top teams in the Loup Valley conference.

Seward Defeated Ord Here Friday

Ord Outclassed; Plays Best Game of Season; Final Score, 34 to 24.

"A top fight basketball game" was the verdict of most of the fans as they filed out of the Chanticleer gymnasium last Saturday evening. Seward Blue Jays had just plucked the Chanticleer tall feathers to the tune of 34 to 24. While the margin of victory was a substantial ten points, it was only through the uncanny basket shooting of their center, Relling, that the Blue Jay was able to edge out a decision over the rugged Chanticleer. Time and time again the Ord defense appeared to have the Seward magician cornered only to have him hit the bucket with his specialty, a spinning jump shot.

Three minutes of the game had elapsed before Seward opened the scoring on a field goal by Rivers. Cahill countered for the Chants by flipping one through the meshes from the side. Free throws by Bickel and Rivers put the Blue Jays out in front with a two point margin, and that was the difference in the count at the close of the first quarter, the score board reading Seward 12, Ord 10.

In the second quarter Seward after trading the Chants by 15 to 14, pushed their lead to 20 to 15 at the half time intermission. Break away shots by Tolson and Cahill kept Ord within shooting range of their opponents. In the second half it was all Relling as far as Seward was concerned, with the Merry Magician hitting five times from the field. Baskets by Cahill, Blessing and Hurlbert helped the Ord cause, but the Blue Jays were out ahead and not to be thwarted in their quest for their 14th straight victory.

While the play of the Chanticleer was vastly improved over what it had been in recent games, they still found much to be desired on their free throw performance. Out of 24 chances from the gift toss line the Chants cashed in on but eight. Officials: Woolcott of Burwell and Elley of North Loup.

Frien, Mrs. Dick King, Mrs. Rose Fuss, Richard King and Miss Irene King from North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuss, Mrs. Frieda Poth and Mr. and Mrs. Will Fuss from Ord. The Heydens came to Valley county more than 40 years ago, and lived for a long time near Midvale school, later moving to Scotia. Mrs. Heyden was well past 80 years of age at the time of her death.

Choir Rehearsal, Thursday evening, 7:30 p.m.
On next Sunday, February

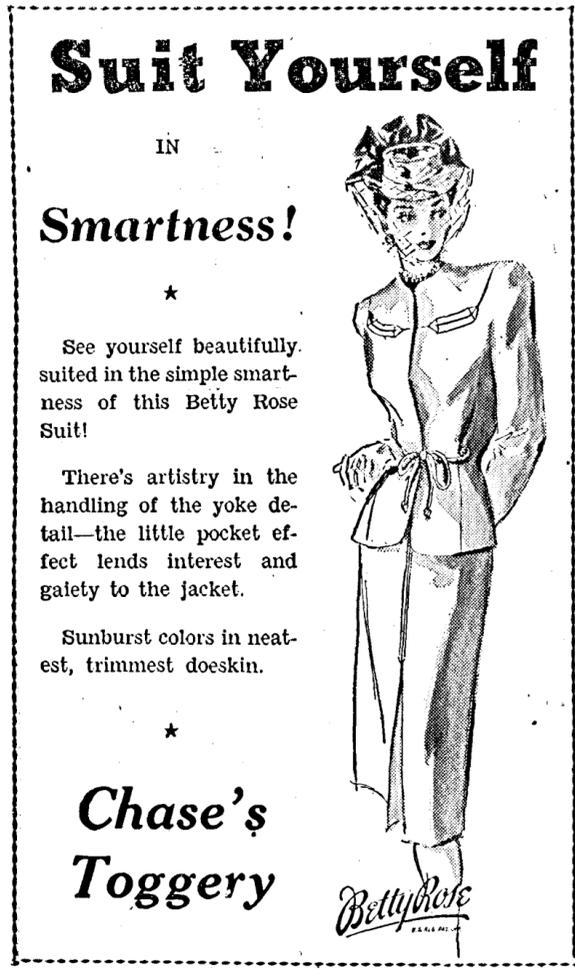

10th, the Arcadia Methodist Church will observe Race Re-lation Day, a special program with a special offering will be held at the church school hour. The offering will be sent to The Phillander-Smith College For Negroes, which is located at Little Rock, Arkansas. This church has for many years been supporting this school, but this year the church has been asked, if possible, to increase its giving, on account of the many service men returning back home and are now crowding the limited facilities of this college. Won't you please give just a bit extra next Sunday for this worthy cause? Thank You.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sack were in Omaha last week attending the state lumbermen's convention.

W. T. Anderson of Burwell Is Dead

In the passing of William T. Anderson at Burwell last weekend, Garfield county loses an official who has been identified with the county clerk's office for nearly 20 years, and the town of Burwell loses one of its outstanding citizens. Retiring from office after 16 years, Mr. Anderson was called back into service after the resignation of his successor, and has been handling the work ever since.

Mr. Anderson was taken seriously ill Saturday, Jan. 26, and the children were sent for. They are: Cecil of Holdrege, Carl of Neligh, Vern of Grand Island, Ray of Lincoln, Mrs. Rozell Graber of Ravenna, Fay Douglas of Aurora and Mrs. Elsie Newberry of Waterloo, Ia. Besides his wife he leaves four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Jane Tangeman, Chambers, Nebr., Mrs. Mamie Alderman, Canada, Mrs. J. N. Johnson and Mrs. Elmer Finkle, Onie John and Asa Anderson, sr., all of Burwell, also many grandchildren and other relatives and friends.

The funeral was held in Burwell Monday afternoon and was very largely attended, attesting to the popularity of Mr. Anderson, who made his motto in life service to others. Attending from Ord were Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson jr., and Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Asa Anderson, jr., and Mrs. George Anderson nephew and niece, respectively, of the deceased, and both employees of the Ord Quiz.

Ord Church Notes

The Methodist Church
Carl F. McConnell, Minister
Sunday, February 10th, is known throughout most of the Protestant churches as "Race Relations" Sunday.
The Methodist church has consistently for years observed this day. It for the most part has used it to give instruction concerning the negro work of the church inspiring those who hear, to help generously this very deserving and needy race in our own land.

In keeping with the Pastor's series of sermons on the Life and Teaching of Jesus. The topic next Sunday morning 11 a.m. will be: "Jesus, and the Rees".
Church School, 10:00 a.m.
Evet Smith, General Supt.
Methodist Youth Fellowship; evening session, 8:30 p.m.
The Ladies Choir will be heard in special numbers at the Morning Worship hour. Come.

Christian Church
K. E. Harris, Minister
Communion and worship service, 9:30 a.m.
Bible school, 10:30 a.m.
Evening Worship Service, 7:30 p.m.
Choir Practice, Wed., 7:00 p.m.
Christian Endeavor, Wed., 7:30 p.m.
Prayer Meeting and Bible Study, Wed., 7:30 p.m.
This Sunday begins a series of sermons on "The Church". The subject for Sunday will be "The Founding Of The Church". We extend a cordial welcome to one and all to come and worship with us.

Service Officer Reports
Report for month of January 1946. Total interviews for month 149. Last month 86. G. I. Loans lead the field with 26 interviews. Next, information on readjustment allowance with 21 interviews. Insurance 16. 5 applications made for admission to veterans' hospital.

Of particular interest to many veterans will be certain provisions of the Revenue Act of 1945 relating to income tax for veterans of World War II. The new bill enacted by Congress excuses enlisted men of all Federal income taxes on their service pay from 1941 until the formal end of the war. Commissioned officers will be granted a three year extension to pay up on their service pay income. Enlisted men will not have to make out income tax forms for the years 1941 on to the end of the war. Any taxes paid on their service pay will be refunded but only if application is made for such refund.

★ Lyle Manchester, S1-C, son of Mrs. Esther Manchester, arrived in Ord Saturday after completing his boot camp training. He will leave again Friday, going to San Diego, Calif., where he will be assigned to his ship, which he thinks will be a part of the third fleet. He says he enjoyed his experience so far, and believes he will like the life of a sailor.

Improved Farm For Sale

150 Acres Close to Arcadia

Accessible to two County seat towns, Ord and Loup City, Nebraska, on State gravel road. Improvements, as follows: 6 room house, with bath and stool, cement basement and furnace, clothes cosets, well painted and in good repair. Large cistern with water to house, hog and barn yards. Large barn, garage, corn crib and granary combined with drive and hen houses. Yards fenced with heavy wire, pasture fenced with three wires, cultivated land hog, or sheep tight. About 70 acres pasture and 80 acres of farm land, level to rolling can all be farmed with a tractor. This farm had a big crop last year and paid a big return on the investment.

This farm is a bargain at $6,750.00, considering the good land, buildings and location and especially with farm land advancing as it is.

The National Farm Loan Association will make a sizable farm loan, if terms are needed, for a period around 20 years. With banks full of money and not being able to pay much interest, this will either make some one a good investment, or a good home to live in and make money. This land is cheaper than if taken from the Government as a homestead and had to break it out and improve same.

This farm will be on sale for ten days and possession given, after that it will be rented. Legal description is, SE 1/4 of Section 21, Twp. 17, North, Range 15 in Valley County, except 10 acres off the south side of said SE 1/4 Sec. 21, being all the land lying South to the public road.

PLANT WITH CONFIDENCE WHEN YOU PLANT Funk's G

Many of our growers are reporting large yields of well matured corn, which is very good for a season of only 60 days of real growing corn weather. Plant Funk's "G" Hybrid and you too will be happy with your corn yield and quality. Next year an early order will secure the numbers and kernel size you want.

A New, Better FORD SERVICE

BETTER REPAIR SERVICE

1 Submarines to Fords! That's a long step in a GI's reconversion, but that's just what Vinton Henry, our head mechanic is doing. Before he joined Uncle Sam's Navy to do repair and maintenance work on submarines, Henry amassed 14 years of Ford Service experience in some of the biggest garages in Denver, Boulder, and Greeley, Colo. He'll do your work and do it right.

Henry is ably assisted by another ex-GI, J. D. Campbell, who in addition to pre-war experience, garnered a lot of mechanical skill in an armored division.

We invite you to take advantage of our Ford repair service. We think we have two of the best mechanics in the country, and our usual guarantee goes with every job.

BETTER PARTS SERVICE!

2 Calvin D. Petersen, son of P. O. Petersen, is taking over our Genuine Ford Parts department. We're planning expansion—contingent with the times—and we know you'll be faithfully served in all your needs. Petersen is fresh from the Army too, and eager to get acquainted with you. In addition to parts work, he will handle the firm's books.

BETTER BODY & FENDER SERVICE!

3 Valley county folks need no introduction to M. L. "Skin" Wright, in charge of our Body & Fender department. Years of experience, and the craftsmanship that only years can bring, are now available to you. From a dent to a smash-up—"Skin" can fix it right.

Meet the Business Men Of Ord

No. 2: The Auto Repair Men.

This week we are taking up the men who have been keeping your cars on the highways for you all through the war. They are not much in the public eye, but they are among the most essential men in any town, especially during these times, when spare parts were not to be had, and practically had to be made. The Quiz is glad to salute them for the good work they have done, which helped materially in the war effort.

To Anthony Thill goes the honor of being the oldest car repair man in Ord, not only in years, but also in years of service. He is now past 67 years. He was born in Meyersdale, Pa., and worked as a steam engineer, machinist and boiler maker before coming to Ord from Lincoln May 22, 1912. He and Mrs. Thill have no children of their own, but a niece, Margaret Whaley, makes her home with them. Anthony remembers that the first work he did in Ord was assembling a tamping machine for making cement blocks for Leggett and Burke. He started his first repair shop on the building now occupied by Hans Larsen's grocery on Sept. 1, 1912 and has been in business continuously ever since, and is now located just west of the Ord Auto Sales.

In those days the cars all had high pressure tires, car batteries and electric lights were almost unknown, and most of the cars were two cylinder Buicks, Reos and Ramblers. He still has two steam engineer licenses, and also an instructor's certificate, which was given him in 1941 when he was instructor in vocational mechanics for a group of young men, he still has a list of their names, as follows:

Elmer Parkos, Joe Klupal, Richard Newkirk, Bill Bouda, Harvey Krahulik, Joe Gregory, Jr., Richard Frien, Richard Klupal, Vernon Nay, Reuben Cook, Richard Burrows, Vere Carson, Boyd Rose, Frank Rybin, and Julius Rachuy, who came up from North Loup to attend. The first class began Feb. 18, and there were two more classes after that.

Assisting Thill is John Janus, who worked with him from 1920 to 1926, again in 1928 and 1929, and again for the past 5 years, farming in the years between. He is 59 past, quit the work 3 times only to be called back, as his employer found him a very essential man.

Thomas Rasmussen, who built last fall on the lots south of the Bohemian hall, and who owns all the rest of the block, including the residence to the east, is 29 years old, was born and raised on the Carl Sorensen place near Elyria, and obtained his schooling in the schools of Valley county. He is married and they have three children, Sharon Mae, Gerald Dean and Marilyn Kay. His wife is the former Venus Bonczynski of Loup City.

He first went into business at Atkinson in September of 1939, and came to Ord in May, 1940 going into the car repair and car wrecking business, in the former location of W. H. Moses on north 17th street. He bought his new location last fall, and he and his assistants moved their car repair business in as soon as the building was ready for occupancy last November. Incidentally the firm has a large stock of glass of all kinds for cars.

Helping him as salesman is Emanuel Petska, who has been with him about a year, and who helps in selling new and used cars and also in arranging trades. Mr. Petska is 29, and his wife is the former Alma Masin. They have three children, Kenneth Ray, Mary Jean and Roger Dale.

Quentin Witherwax has been with Rasmussen since Nov., 1945.

He is 37, is married to the former Helen Nolde. They have 4 children, Virgil, James, Marvin and Doris. He worked four years with Deacon McBurney in auto repair work, was with Howard Huff three years, and two years with the Ord ice plant.

Roland Rhodes remained behind in the former Rasmussen location, where he is employed by Tom in the car wrecking work, and is running a shop of his own in the car repair business. Rhodes is 33, married Caroline Peterson of Mason City, which is also his home town. They have three children, Lela, Russel and Richard. They came to Ord a year ago last August, and he went to work for Rasmussen last April. He is a graduate of the Mason City schools, and was employed by Weston Motor company of Broken Bow and by Custer county 8 years before coming here.

Ord's youngest auto mechanic Arthur White, employed by Rhodes is 17, and married Mary Lou Smith of Ord. He began with Rhodes Dec. 10. He was born at Bottineau, N. Dak., and came to Nebraska in 1940. He was educated in Dakota as well as in grade school and high school in Ord. He plans to make auto repairing his regular business.

Paul Duemey, who has his shop in the A. W. Pierce building formerly occupied by Walt Desch as a monument works, has his home just across the street to the north. His wife died two years ago. He has one son, LaVern, photo-engraver of Lincoln, Nebr., and one daughter, Mrs. Frances Heggemann of St. Louis, Mo.

Paul is a veteran of World War 1, and got much of his mechanical skill while in the service. He was born at Cape Girardeau, Mo., 48 years ago. He first came to Ord in 1914. He worked for the state after the war, later went into business for himself. He did repair work in 5 other locations before moving to his present place, where he has been since 1937.

Assisting Duemey are James Studnicka and Charles Fleider. Studnicka is 38, is married to the former Anna Long. They have four children, Adeline, James, Jr., Betsy and Danny Lee. Next March he completes 4 years with Duemey. He was born in Dodge county, came to Ord in 1935. Before that he worked mostly on the farm. He can speak and understand three languages, English, Bohemian and Polish.

Charles Fleider was born near Pender, Nebr., fifty six years ago. His wife's name before their marriage was Frances Bower. They have three children, Helen, Evelyn and Harold. He came to town and began work with Duemey two years ago last September. Before that time his life was spent on the farm.

Charles LeMasters, works alone in the building he bought on north 15th street, where an implement company held out for many years. He remodeled to suit his requirements, and has a fine place in which to work, winter or summer. He comes from one of the pioneer families of this section, and his father, Bert LeMasters, and grandfather, Jacob LeMasters were among our best citizens.

Charles carries on the family tradition with careful, painstaking work. He was born on the Doran ranch in Garfield county. When he was only a few months old the family moved to what is now the John Pipal place northwest of Ord, where they lived for 5 years, then north of Ord for 8 years. The rest of his life has been spent in Ord. He is married to the former Alice Anderson. They have 10 children.

LeMasters began dabbling in the auto repair business in 1920, and has been at it steady since 1929. He worked with Anthony Thill from 1929 to 1933. Then he was employed by Gould Flagg for 25 months. Then he went into business on his own. First he was located where the Rutar Hatchery now is. Then he moved south across the street to the present location of Ord Motor Co. Then he bought from Frank Stara the building where he is now located.

There are other auto mechanics, but they will be mentioned with other lines of business later on. The mechanics for Ord Auto Sales and Howard Huff, were included in the story of the implement dealers. The subject for story No. 3, which will probably appear next week, will be Ord's blacksmiths.

January 8, 1946.
The Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska, met in an adjourned regular session at the City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Roll Call revealed the following Councilmen present: Joe Rohla, Frank Krikac, F. L. Blessing, Ed Beranek, Gus Schoenstein and Frank Benda.

The matter of the City purchasing additional generating equipment was then brought up and discussed. Bids upon such equipment by Busch-Sulzer Co., American Locomotive Co., and Western Construction Company to furnish this equipment were then opened and read. Engineer Moyle and Commissioner George Allen then proceeded to tabulate and break down and recapitulate all bids with the view of ascertaining which bid best suited the needs of the City.

Upon report of Engineer Moyle and Commissioner Allen a vote was taken by secret ballot with the result that it was decided to purchase a Busch-Sulzer engine as per bid now in the hands of the City Engineer. It was moved and seconded that the Mayor and City Clerk by authorized and directed to enter into a contract with the Busch-Sulzer Company, said contract being already executed in the form of specifications and bids. Motion carried.

It was moved and seconded that the Truck Insurance offered by Armstrong and Armstrong be accepted in as much as the rate offered is smaller than asked. Carried.

Councilman Schoenstein introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Whereas a contract has been submitted for the purchase of the Pocock tract, including terms suggested by the owner of said land, for the aviation field and certain changes have been suggested therein;

Now therefore be it resolved that the city attorney be authorized to prepare a new contract with the changes therein desired and suggested by said city council and submit the same to the owner of said real estate and if signed by him and his wife, that the Mayor and City Clerk be then authorized, on behalf of the city, to sign and seal said contract and to draw a warrant for $10,000.00, the down payment thereof, as soon as the funds are available from said bond issue, and that the city thereby purchase the said Pocock tract of real estate, heretofore selected by the city, and

Be it further resolved that if the said owner of said land shall refuse to sell and so legally execute and sign the said contract therefor, that the said city attorney forthwith start condemnation proceedings to secure the said real estate.

Be it still further resolved that authority is hereby granted to the Mayor and City Clerk to sign a warrant for $14,620.00, the balance of the consideration if said contract is so signed and complied with.

The motion was seconded by Councilman Blessing. The motion was called for. The mayor directed the clerk to call the roll. The roll call resulted as follows: Ayes: Beranek, Benda, Blessing, Krikac, Rohla, Schoenstein. Nays: None. Absent: None. The Mayor then declared the motion carried and the resolution adopted.

It was moved and seconded that the rent at the Cemetery house and grounds be fixed at $35.00 per month for the coming year. Carried.

The request of Melvin Clement for permission to repair the Old Stara Building recently purchased by him was then read. Moved and seconded that such permission be granted.

It was moved and seconded that the meeting adjourn, there being no further business to come before the Council at this time. Carried.

Attest: M. B. Cummins Mayor
Rex Jewett, City Clerk.

and J. H. Capron, secretary. How many of them do you remember?

LOCAL NEWS

—E. G. Brechbill, formerly of near Godenow, now of Rialto, Calif., has sent in to have his Quiz extended another year.

—Writing from Tucson, Ariz., Harry James Johnson, formerly of North Loup, sends in his renewal for the Quiz.

—Ross Fitzgerald of Burwell came to Ord between buses Thursday morning on business. Ross was employed by the Union Pacific for over two years at Grand Island as a member of a track repair crew. When the boys began coming back from the service they were reinstated by his job and is back in Burwell once more. Of the half dozen Fitzgerald brothers in Burwell a generation ago, Ross is the only one left, the others having gone to other fields.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shimek went to Grand Island on the bus Monday on business.

—A. H. Partridge, wife and son of Burwell were in Ord on business Thursday. He told of his son, Marvin who is with the navy in the occupation of Japanese, and who does not seem to hold a very high opinion of the Japanese. In writing home he said that "we might as well catch a bunch of coyotes out in the hills and try to teach them". This opinion seems to differ somewhat from that of others in the papers from time to time.

Another item last week was a little more personal. I wrote the story of the Lions club meeting at North Loup, including the names of the 35 charter members. When Nielsen ran it off on the linotype he got all the names in except my own, which he omitted. It didn't matter to me, except that I figured the North Loup gang would kid me plenty about not wanting my name to appear with theirs, but I sure was lucky. They didn't even notice that my name had been left out, which indicates to me that I am just about as important as the groom at the average wedding.

In rummaging through the really old files of the Quiz last week I found that, in June, 1882, the first meeting in Ord to form an agricultural society was held. That was 5 months before I was born, but the agricultural society, in one form or another, has existed nearly all those years. It certainly has changed a lot, but the display of live stock and agricultural products has formed the basis for the show. The officers of this first Valley County Agricultural society (that was its first name) were: W. J. Wilson, president; A. S. Adams, W. A. Anderson, H. P. Malden, vice-presidents; Charles B. Coffin, treasurer;

25 YEAR FARM LOANS

Lowest rates in our history coupled with 10-15 and now 25 year fully amortized loans are now offered by this old reliable "farmers' firm." Liberal prepayment option—no red tape. Why not patronize a firm that has served the farmers in your area continuously for forty years, a firm with a heart and soul—one which has "tailed up" many a farmer during the hard times?

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.
by John L. Ward.

In writing the news last week we came across an item telling of Clayton Noll being elected road overseer for Ord township which brings to mind that much the same thing happened quite frequently in the early days, when C. W. Noll (Clayt) was elected to the road overseer job any time he would accept it. Clayton the Elder was a good man for the job. He knew how to fix roads. He was a hard worker and never collected a cent he didn't earn. When he had men working under him, he asked of them an honest day's work, and no more. Clayt is still with us, but can no longer work. We can expect his namesake to carry on the Noll tradition, and he will.

Business changes of all kinds have been coming in so fast since the first of January that we have had difficulty in keeping up with them. It is safe to say that nothing like this has occurred before in the history of Ord. The city has had its boom times, but they were in the days when property was comparatively cheap, and the amounts of money involved in those days could not be compared with the present. The most encouraging fact is that a number of buildings, heretofore of little or no commercial value, are to be reconverted into useful places of business. The presence of useless buildings in the industrial area of any town gives a stranger an impression that is hard to eradicate later.

More than sixty years ago the Milford building was built at the southwest corner of the square. It was the finest building in Ord then. The door on the east side led to the stairway, and the second floor was used as a meeting place for the public, and also for the old time dances, where Ole Severson, then a young man, furnished much of the music. The years went by, "Boss" Milford passed on, his sons passed on, and for some years the building has stood like a "grim gray specter of the past". Now it looks as though the Milford corner is to have a new lease on life. We do not know what changes are in the making, but we do know that D. E. Troyer did not buy it just as an investment. There'll be some changes made.

Likewise we can recall when the Ord Opera house was one of the centers of social life in the city. Meetings of all kinds were held there, many an opera company came in to play there for a night or a week, lodges held big initiations there. For a time the silent movies were shown there. To say nothing of dozens of dances throughout the year. But other halls were built, the picture show there became a thing of the past, and of late years it came to be almost unused. Now that is to be changed. "Chuck" Baylor plans to make it into one of the finest bowling centers in this part of Nebraska.

FORESTRY AND JOBS

It may seem foolish to talk of forestry in Valley county, where we have no groves that could even be classed as a part of the forest. But the world forestry embraces much more than work in the forest itself.

Trees have had a major part in making this country what it is today. The first settlers found very few trees anywhere, even along the rivers, where they are now plentiful.

Today we are entering an era of practical and general soil conservation, which will mean more and more use of the principles of forestry, which will employ more and more people in the planting of wind breaks, in setting out groves of trees to help stop soil erosion.

Our universities and colleges are turning out men every year especially schooled in forestry work of all kinds and we should plan to make use of their services. Much of our land, now practically worthless, is ideal for tree planting.

A SERVICE MAN'S PLEA I was a service man. I had a job with Dad on the farm. But they needed me to fight for America.

I lived on warm water and K rations for weeks, when we could get them. We went hungry between times. We waded in mud to our knees, to our waists, finally, with victory in sight, they got me. I came out of it next day in a hospital.

I found men patting themselves on the back because they had stayed on the job at high wages during the war instead of striking. Suppose we soldiers, sailors and marines had struck, suppose the farmers had struck.

Striking decides nothing. It gets you nowhere. The employer, the employee, the consumer, all lose. If you need more money, and can get it, O.K., but striking to get it is the most useless method in the world.

SOCIAL NEWS

Kirby-Pooschke

Wednesday, Jan. 30, Dorothy Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kirby of Ord, became the bride of Harry Pooschke, son of Mrs. Selma Pooschke of Shelton. The wedding took place at Loup City with Rev. Harold Sanders of the First Baptist church reading the marriage vows. They were accompanied by the bride's father, Morris Kirby and her brother, Chris Kirby. The bride chose a royal blue dress with black accessories for her wedding. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. The groom wore a business suit. The young people are both well known here, the bride having lived here all her life. Mrs. Pooschke recently was discharged from the armed forces, having served overseas almost three years.

Sew and So Club

The Sew and So club met Thursday with Mrs. C. J. Miller. Mrs. Cordry is a new member of this club. Her daughter, Mrs. Vinton Henry, was a guest and also Mrs. James Milliken, of Cleveland, Ohio, who is here with her husband and children visiting at the L. D. Milliken home.

Chapter BB, P. O. E.

This group met at the home of Mrs. Alfred L. Hill Monday night. Her sister, Mrs. Elmer Ahlquist, was assistant hostess. The program concerned the state and local bylaws and standing rules and was given by Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mrs. Ahlquist, Mrs. C. S. Jones, Miss Jara McClatchey and Mrs. E. S. Murray. The hostess served refreshments during the social hour.

Mann-Bredthauer

The Henry Bredthauer home at Scotia was the setting for the double-ring wedding ceremony of Miss Clarice Mann, daughter of Mrs. Emma Mann of Burwell, and Dale Bredthauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bredthauer of Scotia, Sunday Febr. 3 at 12:30 noon with Rev. A. H. Wagner officiating.

The home was decorated with baskets of pink and white carnations and white callallies.

Mrs. Roy Webb of Burwell sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Mrs. M. G. Williams of Scotia. Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" was used for the processional.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ralph, wore the traditional white satin long sleeved gown with a lace edged yoke and finger tip veil held in place by a bedded tiara. She wore a gold bracelet, an heirloom of her mothers, her only other ornament being a strand of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and American Beauty rose buds.

Miss Dorothy Mann, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue gown of net and had pin carnations in her hair.

Mr. Bill Bredthauer, brother of the groom was the only other attendant. Both the groom and the best man wore dark brown business suits and boutonnières of white carnations.

Mrs. Mann, mother of the bride, wore a dress of powder blue wool and wore a corsage of white callallies. Mrs. Bredthauer, mother of the groom, wore an afternoon dress of midnight blue silk crepe and also wore a corsage of white callallies.

A three course dinner was served immediately following the ceremony to about thirty-five relatives and friends. The center piece for the bride's table was the three tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Sylvia Flint of Burwell had charge of the guest book, and Miss Alice Lange of Scotia had charge of the gifts.

For her going away ensemble, the bride chose a brown gabardine suit with brown and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink and white callallies.

After a brief wedding trip the couple will make their home in Burwell.

Propose Organize New Bank at North Loup

A group of business men and farmers met Thursday evening, January 31 at the community hall to discuss the advisability of a commercial bank for North Loup. C. W. McClellan, Dr. Hemphill, F. J. Schudel and W. R. Krudop were responsible for the meeting, having spent a great deal of time and effort the past few weeks looking into the matter.

C. W. McClellan acted as chairman of the meeting and opened with a brief address, stating the purpose of the meeting. E. L. Vogelanz and Clarence Davis of Ord were present to answer questions from a legal standpoint that anyone cared to ask. Discussion of the matter was followed by suggestions by the two Ord men. Dr. Hemphill asked for comments from everyone present who might oppose such an organization. Not finding any such opposition he then asked for individual opinions and found the sentiment unanimous for the organization of a commercial bank for North Loup.

C. W. McClellan, Dr. Hemphill, F. J. Schudel and W. R. Krudop were asked to continue as a committee of four to lend their efforts toward the raising of the capitol necessary for the organization.

North Loup's co-operative credit association has served North Loup very efficiently during more than ten years since its organization in every way a co-operative credit bank can and it has grown from a very small beginning to its splendid condition. However there are many ways in which a commercial bank could serve the community that a co-operative credit can not.

To Assessor Meeting

J. L. Abernethy, assessor for Valley county, left Wednesday morning for Omaha, where he will attend the state assessors meeting at Hotel Castle. He expects to be back Friday. The meeting was to hear addresses by Governor Dwight Griswold and by Robert Armstrong, state tax commissioner.

Beran Sells Farm to Raymond Pocock

After spending some time in Ord in connection with the sale of his farm, John Beran left Tuesday for his home at Lubbock, Texas. He said he had disposed of his farm, about 6 miles northwest of Ord, to Raymond Pocock for $35,000 and is now no longer a land owner in Valley county. He said that, during the drought years the farm was more or less a detriment, because then there was no irrigation, and not enough was raised some years to pay the taxes. Since irrigation has been available it has paid him well, but his interests at Lubbock give him all the land he wants to worry about. However, he hopes to be back to Ord occasionally to visit old friends here.

Mrs. Henry Jurgensen returned to her home at Burwell Saturday morning. She had been visiting at Yutan, Nebr., and spent Friday night at the Frank Rakosky home.

Broken Bow Wins In Three Loups By Beating Ord

Ord Outscored Indians from Field, but Lost from the Foul Line.

Friday evening at Arcadia the Broken Bow team managed to hold its victory winning ways by disposing of the Ord Chanticleers by a final score of 39 to 36. The score by quarters was 10 to 10, 23 to 20, 30 to 23 and 39 to 36. Wooters of Broken Bow led the scoring with 18 points; Blessing of Ord was second with 17; Lefler had 8 points for the Indians. Stinehagen had 7, and Tolen had 7 for Ord.

Several factors contributed to Ord's defeat. The loss of Piskorski on fouls in the third period broke up the smooth team play, and the fouls made by Ord were cashed in by Broken Bow, 13 out of 20. The best Ord could do was 9 out of 12 chances, which was not enough. Ord outscored the Indians from the field, 28 to 26, but lost by the free throw route.

Of special interest is the record made by Ord's Al Blessing, a sophomore, who scored 61 points in the three tournament games, an average of more than 20. Ord played its two best games in the preliminary and semi-finals, and fell off just a little in the finals, although the boys were giving the best they had, and Coach Cochran is pleased with them. They scored 141 points in the three games to Broken Bow's 102.

After the games the referee, Dick Pulliam, referee and also the sports writer of the Grand Island Independent, got together and selected first and second teams, based on tournament play. The first team is Moody, Arcadia and Blessing, Ord, forwards; Wooters, Broken Bow, center; Tolen, Ord, and Cahill Ord, forwards; Piskorski Ord, center; Jonas, Burwell, and Christ Arcadia, guards. Arcadia defeated Burwell in the consolation.

The eight basketball teams of the Three Loups conference met in Arcadia for the annual tournament, the preliminary games being played Wednesday evening, and four teams of course being eliminated. In the first contest Broken Bow had little trouble defeating Loup City, by a score of 32 to 18.

Broken Bow was in the lead all the way, 11 to 3 at the end of the first period, 19 to 12 at the half. Haefels led the scoring for Broken Bow with 10 points. Burwell got by St. Paul by a 6 point margin, 26 to 20, but the score was 11 all at half time. A big third quarter put Burwell out in front and they could not be headed off.

Arcadia pulled the surprise of the evening by trouncing the highly favored Ravenna Blue-Jays by a score of 31 to 28. Arcadia was ahead 21 to 7 at the half, and 26 to 19 at the third quarter, but a fourth quarter spurt by Ravenna fell short by three points. Whitcomb of Ravenna led the scoring with 11 points.

The Ord Chanticleers handed Sargent a 57 to 38 pasting in the most open game of the evening, each team concentrating more on offense than defense, as the score shows. Ord was ahead 12 to 11 at the quarter, but made it 24 to 14 at the half. The third quarter score was 45 to 21. Sargent and Mosely got 12. Blessing had 18 for Ord, Tolen hit for 14 and Kominek got 11. Thursday night Broken Bow brushed Burwell aside by a final score of 34 to 22, in what was a very well played game for both teams. In the second game Arcadia trised valiantly but in vain to upset Ord as they had Ravenna the preceding night, but they were clearly outclassed from the start. The final score in this game was 48 to 22. In their first two games Ord had scored 105 points, Broken Bow 66 points, Arcadia 53 points and Burwell 48 points.

Jerry Fryzek Pitches Perfect Game of Ball

Baseball got away to a flying start Jan. 23, 1946, in Calcuta, India, at Sportsman's park. The 598th port battalion, under the masterful pitching of Jerry Fryzek, won their game from the 1944 Ordnance aviation battalion by a score of 5 to 0. This is the second perfect game for Fryzek, who pitched a hitless game at Chung King last year. However, this game, according to the summary, was one in which not a single opposing batsman reached first base. The record shows he pitched 9 innings, allowed no runs, no hits, walked none and allowed no bases on balls. He also struck out 17 opposing batsmen, which is plenty good in any man's ball game.

Livestock Judgés Win at Grand Island

Agriculture students from Ord high school took both individual judging events at the Nebraska Hereford Breeders' Show in Grand Island last Thursday.

Winner of the high school division was Jim Kucera, while Eldon Foth received blue ribbon and first money in the 4-H section. The two boys were featured in a radio program broadcast over station KMMJ that evening.

Team rankings listed Ord in third place among the schools. Not enough boys were taken to give the local group a full team in the 4-H section for counties. Team placings in the high school division were as follows: Kearney, Lincoln, Northeast, Ord, North Loup, Scotia, Ravenna, Newman, Grove, Genoa and Hastings.

Attending from Ord, besides Kucera and Foth, were Gene Swanson, Andy Kusek, Bryan Peterson, Bill Cook and J. A. Kovanda. These contestants all won cash prizes and ribbons. They also enjoyed a free lunch as guests of the association. It was the first judging contest held since 1942. Exhibitors at the show from Valley County were W. O. Zanger, George and Clare Clement. Clare is secretary of the Nebraska Hereford Breeders Association.

North Loup Lions Entertain Group of G. I. Visitors

Make Plans for Holding Farmers Road Show, Also Charter Meeting.

James Minor, president of the Grand Island Lions club, Ralph A. Clark of the Independent, Ira Hunsberger and Vic Thompson, with Prudential Life, and Richard Lockwood, owner of the Grand Island Business and School supply, were visitors from the sponsoring Grand Island Lions club and the meeting Feb. 7, of the North Loup Lions.

Present as a guest also was C. C. Dale, Valley county agent, who was present to offer North Loup the opportunity to sponsor the Farmers Road show. The first part of the meeting took place in the Kingston cafe, but after dinner all adjourned to the Community building for the business session.

Routine matters included the decision to have a 50¢ dinner each meeting night, the voting of dues at the rate of $1 per month, and the acceptance without a dissenting vote of the constitution and bylaws as suggested by the committee. It was also announced that the "March of Dimes" in North Loup had produced a total of $52.10.

The suggestion of C. C. Dale relative to sponsoring the Farmers road show was voted on favorably, and this is being held March 14 in the community building, tentative plans calling for the show as scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. and run until about 4 p.m., with coffee and doughnuts to be served either before the program starts or just after it is over.

President Minor was called upon to make a speech, but before he did so he called Lion Victor Cook to the front of the room and had him try his hand at threading a needle with one eye blindfolded, which he did in 25 seconds, as compared with Lion Keene of Grand Island's record of 15 seconds. Minor spoke of the objects of the Lions club in general and explained much of interest to the members of the new club.

The visiting Lions were here to complete arrangements for the presentation of the charter to the North Loup club, which will be done on the evening of March 14th. Arrangements are being made to hold a dinner at that time to the North Loup Lions and wives who can attend, and for representatives from all Lions clubs in a radius of 100 miles.

The clubs within that radius include Albion, Aurora, Central City, Clarks, Fullerton, Shelton, Wood River, Sargent, Grand Island, Kearney, Hastings, Columbus, Doniphan, and Genoa. The dinner motion was carried without a dissenting vote. The dinner will be held in the Community building, as stated above, on March 14.

Two Divorces Granted.

Elizabeth Long filed a divorce petition against Randolph Long, who filed a cross petition of divorce. Mr. Long's petition was granted, Mrs. Long being granted custody of the one minor child.

Leslie A. Coombs of Arcadia was granted a divorce from his wife, Thaya Coombs, Feb. 6, on a charge of desertion. They were married in 1932 at Huntley, Nebr. Both hearings were before Judge E. G. Kroger.

Vogeltanz Choice of Citizens Party; Cummins Refuses

Present Mayor Renominated by Good Govment Party, Refuses to Make Race.

E. L. Vogeltanz and the present incumbent, M. B. Cummins, were the choices of Ord citizens for the office of mayor at party caucuses held last Wednesday evening but Mr. Cummins has resigned the nomination and refused to make the race, so at this point Mr. Vogeltanz is the only nominee in the field.

Cummins, four times the choice of voters for mayor of Ord, was nominated by the Good Government party and Vogeltanz was the choice of Citizens party members. Both caucuses were held in the American Legion hall and were sparsely attended.

The Good Government party's committee to fill vacancies, composed of Charles Lewis, chairman; Clyde Baker and Dale Norman, has not yet selected anybody to head the ticket of that party.

Mayor Cummins had announced in advance that he felt eight years as mayor was a long enough period and that he would not accept nomination or election again, but Good Government members thought he might be induced to change his mind and nominated him despite his announcement.

Mr. Vogeltanz, the Citizens' nominee, has been active in community affairs and is president of the Chamber of Commerce this year.

Other nominations made by the Citizens party included E. S. Murray for councilman, 1st ward; F. J. Fafelita, jr., for councilman, 2nd ward; and J. W. McGinnis for councilman, 3rd ward; for police judge, John Haskell; for school board, Dr. F. L. Blessing and L. D. Milliken for clerk, Rex Jewett; for treasurer, James Ollis; for park board, Keith Lewis.

Good Government nominees include Frank Benda for councilman, 1st ward; Howard Huff for councilman, 2nd ward; J. W. Severns for councilman, 3rd ward; for police judge, John Haskell; for school board, Dr. F. L. Blessing and E. C. Swopes; for clerk, Rex Jewett; for treasurer, James Ollis; for park board, Harlan T. Frazier.

Vacancy committee of the Citizens party is John Misko chairman; Frank T. Krikac and Wayne Pierce. A. J. (Bud) Shirley was chairman and C. B. Gudmundsen, clerk of the Citizens caucus while Charles Lewis and Clyde Baker held similar positions at the Good Government party meeting.

'Get Your Plates on' Warns Sheriff Hall

While far more car licenses and plates have been issued this year than for the same date last year, there are still quite a few cars being driven under the old numbers. The fact that you may have them in your car does not protect you in case of arrest, and Sheriff Bob Hall warns that licenses must be bought and the new numbers on display on the car.

So far this year the total number of licenses issued is 2516, and the grand total for last year was 3051. It is roughly estimated that about 500 vehicles are still without the 1946 licenses. The above figures include cars, trucks, trailers, motorcycles, etc. A vehicle not being used requires no license, but must not be taken on the highway without a license.

Old Prices Prevail Says Co. Assessor

Returning last weekend from the state county assessors meeting held at the Castle hotel in Omaha, J. L. Abernethy, Valley county assessor, says that practically the same price level for livestock and grain was set, as prevailed last year.

From World-Herald news stories, it seems that Stoinsky, Douglas county assessor, was much in the lime light in regard to real estate values last year in a time when values were rapidly increasing.

Plenty of Grandparents.

A daughter, Marlene Kay, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Timmerman Feb. 10 at the Ord hospital. The little Miss weighed 7 pounds, 7 ounces, and she is especially blessed, in that she has four grandparents, and four great-grandparents. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Timmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Coats. The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Coats and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dowhower.

Ord Expansion Acts Continue Thru Week

Expansion and improvement of Ord business houses continued at a fast pace during the week. Installation of fixtures at the new Safeway store is about complete, and the firm expects to stage a grand opening about March 1.

Remodeling work at the Howard Huff implement firm will near completion about the same time, while Orin Kellison plans to start on his new implement house as soon as the weather opens.

New sheet metal working equipment was received Tuesday by the Murray Furnace & Sheet Metal works which now occupies the former Roost, John R. Haskell, insurance dealer, has leased a portion of the building and will shortly move his office there.

Chuck Baylor, manager of the New Cafe in Ord announced this week that he would build a banquet room seating 30 in the basement below the New Cafe. Remodeling will start at once, he said.

The Ord Hardware is going through an extensive remodeling with the addition of new display fixtures and display shelving. Basement room of the building has been remodeled and redecorated and will be used for an appliance display room.

March 2 Last Day For R. E. A. Applications

REA Offices Established In Top Floor Courthouse; Urge No Delay.

Farmers wishing to be included in the original construction contract for the forthcoming Loup Valleys REA district must make application on or before Saturday, March 2, Wm. Bolton, REA coordinator told the Quiz today.

"After March 2 we will submit our plans to the engineers for surveys and estimates," he explained. "Those making application for electrical service after that date cannot be included until later.

"We operate under what is called the 'block system' and the first group of signers is called 'Block A'. When all plans are complete for 'Block A', they are approved, material allocated and the government machinery set in motion to begin actual construction work.

"Late signers will be put in 'Block B', and cannot be hooked up until 'Block A' customer are cared for. I don't know how much a late signer will have to wait for service after original signers are hooked up, but it will probably be many months," he said.

New offices for the REA have been established in the top floor of the courthouse and will probably serve until the REA constructs or rents a building of its own. Farmers who have not as yet made application for REA service may do so there, or at the County Agent's offices.

Ord Ministers At Loup City

The third "Loup Valley Youth for Christ" rally was held in the Loup City high school auditorium Saturday evening, Feb. 9. These meetings are being sponsored by the cooperation of the young people and pastors in the counties of Valley, Howard and Sherman.

Two Ord pastors had a part in the Saturday night program. J. W. Hartsaw of the United Brethren church was the principal speaker of the evening, and A. I. Haun, pastor of the Assembly of God church was leader of the chorus singing.

Neighborhood News.

Several items of interest appeared in the Sargent Leader last week. Among them was the final settling of the affairs of the defunct Sargent State Bank. In this Benhart-Klappel post of the American Legion bought the building in which the bank had carried on its business, for the sum of $3,500. This was the oldest bank in Sargent, having been opened in 1883.

James P. Murray, former state senator and now a candidate for that office, was badly injured when he was hit by a car at night on a Sargent street last week. He was taken to the Veterans hospital in Lincoln, but his condition is not too favorable. The car was driven by a 16 year old boy, Clinton Lyon, who was being held for investigation. Also from Sargent we learn that Paul Gaukel, formerly of Burwell, is building a mortuary at San Juan, Calif. He was one of the Gaukels famous in football circles in Burwell some 15 years ago.

New Ord Scout Troop Receives Official Charter

Nineteen Boys Members with More Expected; Observe Scout Week.

Ord's newly organized Boy Scout troop has been granted an official charter with nineteen boys now registered as members. More are expected to join the troop within a short time, according to John W. Hannah, scoutmaster.

While organization problems have kept scout activities here to a minimum, the local troop, in observance of National Boy Scout Week made a display of scouting material in the window of the Ord Gamble store which was studied by many passers-by. Sunday, scouts attended services at the Methodist church in a body.

Six of the troop's new members are graduates of the Cub chapter here. The local troop is sponsored by the Ord Rotary club, and meets each Wednesday evening at the new Scout House at the city athletic field.

Two patrols have been formed of charter members. Galen Allen and Charles Munn have been chosen patrol leaders, with Lad Cochran and Dan Huff as their assistants. Dick O'Neil is troop quartermaster, Charles Hannah, scribe, Leland Petersen, librarian and James Misko, bugler. Scouts include Dale Falter, Dick Anderson, Ronald Rodgers, Verdon Jobst, John Misko, Kerry Leggett, Dick Malolepszy, Don Haight, Gerald Severson and Clarence Stone.

George Allen, John Misko and E. C. Leggett comprise the troop committee. Roy Randolph is the Ord member of the district scout committee. I. E. Davis has been selected assistant scoutmaster.

"The fact that the above boys have been enrolled as charter members does not mean that scout membership here has been closed," Scoutmaster John Hannah stated today. "Any boy, whether a former scout, or wishing to begin scouting is urged to contact any member of the troop committee, the Scoutmaster or assistant, or come to the regular Wednesday meetings."

Father, Son Fight, Both Arrested

Saturday night Herman Rice, night marshal, and Bob Hall, sheriff, were called to the Grant Marshall home, where they found Mr. Marshall and his son, Vernon engaged in a fight. They were both taken in custody and when they arrived at the courthouse young Marshall struck rice in the face. They were locked up until Monday, when they were brought before County Judge John Andersen. The elder man charged with intoxication, the younger with resisting an officer.

Grant Marshall entered a plea of guilty as charged. The judge in view of the fact that he had not been arrested on a similar charge since 1940, showed leniency and sentenced him to five days in jail. Vernon Marshall drew a fine of $35. He was told that his fine was made higher because of his lack of respect for enforcement officers, and that he should have more respect for the law in the future.

Special Notice to Taxpayers Given

G. W. O'Malley, collector of internal revenue, announces that a deputy tax collector will be at the below specified places on the dates specified for the purpose of assisting in making out 1945 income tax returns. At the Bartlett courthouse, Feb. 18; at the Burwell Hotel, Feb. 19, 20, 21; At the Ord courthouse, Feb. 25 and 26; At Arcadia, state bank, Feb. 27; At Scotia, bank, March 4; at Wolbach, post office, March 5; at Spalding, bank, March 6 and 7; At Greeley, courthouse, March 8, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15.

Former Ordite Wins Honors in Oratory

The winners in Kearney state teachers college Original Oratory contest recently were Maxine Wardrop for the women and John C. Mitchell, also of Kearney, for the men. Miss Wardrop is the daughter of Mrs. Rose Wardrop, and is secretary of her class. Her winning oration was entitled, "Gold Stars".

Mentioned as a cadet teacher for the second semester in Geometry is another Ordite, Minnie Jensen, who is attending the college, and is a senior. She has been selected as library supervisor for the evening hours.

Corn Yield Prizes Will Be Awarded

Finish up of the Valley county ten acre corn yield contest will feature a meeting to be held at the K. C. hall in Ord on Thursday, February 21 starting at 11 a.m. Last spring the Ord Chamber of Commerce offered three prizes to farmers obtaining the highest yields on ten acre fields as follows: 1st a $50.00 bond, 2nd a $25.00 bond and third $10.00 in cash.

Now the Chamber of Commerce, the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district and the Valley county extension service are combining to sponsor a meeting of recognition to the three winners and the other contestants who took part.

Featured speakers will be D. L. Gross, extension agronomist who will talk on "What We Have Learned From the 1945 Corn Yield Contest in Nebraska" and Walter Fitts who will discuss "Rotations and Commercial Fertilizers". In addition there will be a discussion of proper methods of irrigation by D. E. McCostich of the soil conservation service, and a film or two on irrigation methods.

E. L. Vogeltanz, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce will present the awards to the winners. The Chamber of Commerce is making arrangements for the noon lunch. All irrigators and others who are interested are invited to attend.

March of Dimes Campaign Ended

Arcadia Far Ahead of Both Ord and North Loup In Collections.

The March of Dimes campaign drew to a successful close on January 31, in Valley County. The local directors in Arcadia, North Loup and Ord reported good cooperation from the business people and the public in general.

Kermit Erickson, director for Arcadia, reported receipts of $137.50, L. B. Nelson for North Loup $52.01 and Joseph W. Ramaekers for Ord $13.60. The total amount collected for the county was $303.72.

One half of this amount will stay in the county to be used when needed. The other half will go to the National Foundation for further research work. Mr. Ramaekers wishes to express his appreciation of the hearty cooperation he received during the campaign, and to the business people who gave the little "March of Dimes" banks a prominent place in their stores. It is a pleasure to have a part in work of this kind, especially among people who willingly cooperate.

Nurses Will Meet In Grand Island

The Nebraska State Nurses' Association, District No. 4, will hold its annual meeting Saturday, February 16, 1946, at 2:00 p.m. in the St. Francis Hospital, Grand Island, Nebraska. There will be a business session, including the election of officers. Following this Miss Etta Lubberts, President Nebraska State Nurses' Association, will speak on "The Future of the Nursing Profession", and either Mrs. Judith Whitaker, executive Secretary of the Nebraska State Nurses' Association, or Mrs. Alice Schaefer, Counsellor for the Nebraska State Nurses' Association, will discuss counseling and replacement. All nurses in this area are urged to attend as this should prove to be a very interesting and enlightening meeting.

—Mr. and Mrs. John P. Misko went to Omaha Sunday, planning to be there and in Lincoln for a couple days and to attend Founders day dinner of the republican party Tuesday evening. Mr. Misko also planned a trip to St. Louis on business and will return home this weekend.

—Mrs. Cleg Hughes has been ill the past week and has been confined to her bed.

UNO Is World's Best Chance for Lasting Peace, Says Hanson

Must Raise World Standard of Living, Believes Hanson at Rotary Institute.

The United Nations' organization is the world's best hope for lasting peace, in the opinion of Wayne Hanson, first speaker on the Rotary-sponsored Institute of International Understanding program which started in Ord Tuesday evening. An audience of about 300, many from near-by towns, greeted Mr. Hanson's thoughtful and authoritative talk.

"We are learning that peace is a process," he said. "Long before the guns grew cold we set up the Allied Military Governments and the UNRRA to deal with the desperate problems of liberated and conquered lands. With a long look ahead we planned with other countries for a food and agriculture organization, an international bank, for strengthening of world culture and education, and for a common approach to aviation. At Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco a charter for the United Nations organization, to crown the whole, was drawn up and is now accepted by 51 nations, an amazing achievement.

"This charter provides for a security council of 11 including the five 'big powers' who hold a veto, in response to the cold realities of the present; an Assembly, in which the smaller nations may exert a growing influence on world opinion; an economic and social council to work on these basic problems; a Trusteeship Council for dependent peoples; and an International Court of Justice.

"These world events baffle the ordinary man so he falls into pessimism. 'Statesmen are crooks or cowards!' he is likely to say. But most statesmen are what we make them; they keep their ears to the ground for public opinion. The big job before the people therefore is to overcome influence and prejudice in their own communities, to create a sound public opinion without which no international organization can function."

Mr. Hanson decried those who make such remarks as, "We might as well fight Russia now; we'll have to some day." In his belief Russia is tired and wants nothing more than she wants peace in which to rebuild. There is no reason why the United States and Russia need to clash, he said, but irresponsible remarks like the one quoted might push them into war. Patience with this proud and vigorous people is infinitely preferable to another war.

It is his opinion that the United States may not enjoy permanent prosperity until it cooperates with other nations in raising world standards of living, but such efforts by our leaders are often blocked by selfish shortsightedness at home.

"We paid heavily in the first World War to learn the lesson of understanding, good will and cooperation, and in our haste back to normalcy we forgot it," said Mr. Hanson. "In the second war we paid ten fold to learn it again. If once more we forget, the price of our third lesson will be incalculable."

He was introduced by Fred V. Cahill, president of the Ord Rotary club which sponsored his lecture and sponsors also the three lectures to follow on successive Tuesday nights. Next week the speaker will be Alfred Edwards, member of the British House of Commons, whose topic is "Maintaining World Trade and a High Standard of Living."

All meetings are held at the Ord high school auditorium and are open to the public. Non season ticket holders may purchase single admission tickets at the door.

Candidate, Quiz Wants Your Story

In the weeks to come a number of Valley county people will be filing for office. We believe that the people of this county will appreciate a short story of their lives, so we are asking all candidates to call at the Quiz office and give us some information in regard to themselves. We do not want these to be too long, but we want to give all essential data and at the same time try to keep them as uniform as possible. Since this is not in the nature of regular advertising, of course there will be no charge for this service. Come in and see us.

License Issued. County Judge John L. Andersen issued a marriage license dated Feb. 9 to Ted M. Setlik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kajtan Setlik of Ord, and Lillian Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolf of Burwell.

++ Something Different ++

Though the war is over, short-ages born of war are the cause of some unusual activities.

Since workmen are as scarce as jewels, and so much building and remodeling is going on, many householders are doing their own work. For instance Junior Petska is eager to finish up the big house they moved in from the country, so all the Jerry Petska family have willingly helped him. They have done some of the basement work, scraping bricks and digging dirt and laying cement blocks. They have helped put on some of that fancy siding, and with the finishing and painting.

Out of all the work an attractive home is emerging on the corner next door to Mrs. Dick Nelson.

Places in which to live are at a premium in Ord, though not as scarce here as elsewhere. But everyone is trying to fix up an apartment or to spare a room or two to help out in this crisis.

The Joe Rysavy family had a cottage moved in from he country, and are spending their spare time helping their son, Paul fix it for a residence. Mrs. Paul, the former Ella John, is lending a hand at the painting, and Martha Golka is assisting. The inside of the house is beginning to gleam with pretty pastel paint.

Richard Rowbal is spending off-hours trying to get his house stacked up so they can move into a comfortable modern home. His wife, says he, declares she won't have any bathroom fixtures put in until she can have colored ones. He is teasing her about it, pointing out that it isn't convenient to be without a bathtub for what may turn out to be a matter of months.

There are a dozen more homes in Ord undergoing changes big and little. The Eugene Leggetts are trying to get people to paint, paper, push out walls, put in windows, tear out cupboards, put in cupboards, make book-cases and such like, with the ultimate design of moving in the Pierce house in south Ord.

Queer isn't it? We rip off the old paper and stick on some more paper. We slap the paint on the woodwork, but scrape off every drop that gets on the window or wall or floor. Everything has to be just so. That's being "civilized."

Seems as if it might be simpler to take a blanket and go out and sit down on a sandhill. With a book, please.

But, we keep learning. Whether we want to or not. Probably it is good for us to be forced to acquire new skills, that is probably the only way we'd ever get them.

This soap shortage, now. You've heard of it? So what do you think Mrs. Asa Anderson and I were doing one recent afternoon? You're right, we made soap. And it wasn't much work and it wasn't so difficult. Not much to it. We took a can of lye and an old stick, six pounds of fat and two tablespoons of borax, stirred a while and held our noses a bit now and then.

And the next thing you know we had the bottom of the baby bathtub covered with soap, about 24 bars of it.

Pretty fair soap too, though Mr. Fels and Mr. Naptha don't have to worry about us as competitors yet awhile.—Irma.

—Out of town people here to attend the funeral of V. J. Dobrovsky were Mr. and Mrs. James Dobrovsky and Donald Ptacnk, all of Dwight, Nebr., John Cap and Frank Vitu of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brand of Hastings.

—Mrs. Bess Langstrom of Burwell went to Grand Island Saturday to visit her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barnes.

—Marie Jorgensen went to Grand Island on the bus Saturday afternoon to visit her son Axel and family. She returned home Sunday evening.

We are shipping a car of Waste Paper to the Quaker Oats Company

It will be loaded at the C. B. & Q. dock in Ord on

Febr. 21st and 22nd

Small amounts of paper will be paid for at 70c per Cwt. when delivered to car; larger amounts will be settled for when paper is sold and net receipts are known. This will probably be the last car of waste paper shipped, so bring your paper to this car.

Steaks!

The average easterner would jump up and down for joy if he could get steak like we sell out here in Nebraska. And he'd experience more enjoyment than ever if that steak came from our market because we buy only choice young beeves, fatten them to perfection, butcher them with skill. The meat is allowed to age properly before it goes on our counters.

NATIONAL BOY SCOUT WEEK

We salute the Boy Scouts of America who this week join in observance of their anniversary.

We especially commend ORD'S newly Organized Troop and pledge them our continued support and cooperation.

The principles of Scouting are such that we urge every boy of Scouting age (12-16) to become acquainted with the advantages of Ord's Boy Scout troop at once. And we invite every parent to thoughtful consideration of the values of such membership for their own son.

Theme of National Boy Scout Week is "Scouts of the World—Building Together." Let us help not only ourselves but the war ravaged world as well in establishing the fine ideals of Scouting in the youth of the world.

Further information about ORD'S own troop of Boy Scouts, or membership qualifications can be obtained from John Hannah, Scoutmaster; George Allen, E. C. Leggett and John Misko, committeemen.

CAUCUS RESULTS

The two city caucuses met Wednesday evening and the people spoke their mind as regards the mayoralty of Ord. On a number of occasions Mayor Cummins had publicly announced his desire and intention to quit at the end of his present term. He did not attend either caucus. Yet one group of citizens decided that they wanted him as their candidate for yet another term.

The other group settled on a man well and popularly known in Ord. Mr. Vogelanz has been with us a long time. He has tried and has been found worthy. He is a capable man, well known for his high principles, for his ability to carry through to a successful conclusion anything he undertakes. He is a man who places the best interests of Ord above every other consideration.

Thus we have two men, one whose capabilities have been proven by years of working for the city, the other a man whose ability is too well known to the public to need further comment. The people feel that either man could fill the office with credit to himself and to the benefit of the city. In choosing these men, the people have spoken. They have chosen, and have chosen well.

Perhaps other men would be fully acceptable to the public, but that is beside the point. These are the two that the people want. It is the hope of the Quiz that these two men will accept the nominations that have been tendered them, and will give the people a chance to decide between them at the election in April. And the Quiz further promises the winning candidate its hearty support during his administration.

SAFETY FIRST
There is no substitute for safety. The lessons of life are not cheap. There may not be any tuition fee, but we all pay for it in the end. Safety cannot be bought in the stores, we cannot pick it up at auction sales. Safety is determined only by the willingness of everybody to play the game of life with due respect for the life and liberty of others.

When the man you are riding with exceeds the legal speed limit, when he goes around a curve or over a hill at a high rate of speed, when he gets over on the wrong side of the road, when he drives into a stop light or through a stop sign, he is offering you a substitute for safety. It is time to remind him that there is no substitute.

The man who is learning to drive a car is learning an all important lesson, and the lesson is not cheap, and he must not learn it cheaply. To many men over whom the bluegrass grows thought the lessons of life were cheap. He under rated their value, and it cost him the most valued of his earthly possessions, his life.

The lessons of life must be learned carefully if we wish to enjoy life to a ripe old age. They must be learned, not only by us, but by every person whom we come in contact, and especially those whom we meet on the highways. Of all fatalities on the highways, more than half are innocent victims of somebody else's insane desire for speed.

Life is a class room, and we are expected to be able to pass all tests with high grades every day we live. We have heard much of "survival of the fittest". We think of it as applying only to the dim ages of the past, but there never was a time when the expression fitted the human race more completely and accurately than it does now.

That word "race" is aptly used to describe humanity. We all are a part of the race, we are in the race. But we should remember that "The Race is Not Always to the Swift, Nor the Battle to the Strong". In pioneer days very few people were killed traveling from one place to another, but this thing we call civilization is killing more people by far than war.

As soon as these strikes are settled, cars capable of maintaining a speed of 100 miles per hour will be on our highways. Don't think for a minute some drivers won't try to maintain that speed whenever and wherever they think they can get away with it. If they must kill themselves, we can't help it, but see to it that they don't get you at the same time.

ORD IS GROWING
There is no question about it, Ord is growing. Literally, the town is getting too big for its breeches. It is bursting out at the seams. Without question we have made up the loss caused by the boys going to war and people going to war plants. Many of those same boys are home again, and most of the war workers are.

In addition, a lot of people have come to Ord who did not live here before. Some of these came in from the rural sections, some from other towns in the territory, some from the further reaches of the state, and a few have come here from other states. They have come here with a definite purpose. They are here because they like Ord. That is the kind of growth that is healthy. Those people will stay here, and they will boost for Ord. They expect Ord to grow, and to that end they will boost for Ord. They expect Ord to grow, and to that end they will boost for the home town, they will make Ord a better place to trade in, they will induce other people and other lines of business to locate here, just as they did, and for the same reasons.

Ord had 2240 population in 1940, we should have 2500 by 1947, 3000 by 1950. We sometimes think of Ord as a small town. Do you realize that we probably have today about as many as the capital of Nevada, Carson City, which had 2478 in 1940? Its population has been growing less for a long time. If they have lost 150 and we have gained 100, we are ahead of their right now.

When we pass the capital of Nevada, the capital of South Dakota is next on the list, with 4322 population. We can pass them after a while. Next in order comes the capital of Delaware, the capital of Vermont, and the capital of Washington. Maybe some day we might pass the largest state capital, Boston, which boasts of a population of 770,816.

Do you know that Canberra, the capital of Australia, has a population of only 7,700? Ord has a larger population now than all of Valley County had in 1883. For a long time our growth has been slow, but the time is ripe now for rapid and healthy growth. We need more industries to furnish employment for the people who want to come to Ord.

These industries do not have to be large. Many small manufacturing enterprises are located in the smaller towns, because of lower rents and cheaper power, both of which they can find here, if they can only find suitable buildings, or a suitable place where buildings can be built. It we all boost for Ord, the town is certain to grow.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

A radio announcement said the other day, that the government was shipping ten million pairs of nylon hose to the Philippines for the use of the natives. It doesn't really matter if the ladies in this cold country have to go without, just so the dusky beauties in that hot clime have the latest style in hosiery.

And another radio announcement said the other day that the people of this country were going to have to use dark flours because the government was sending such large amounts of white flour to the hungry of Europe. It does seem like the hungry over there, who have always been used to coarse flours and meals anyhow, could get along with the poorer grades, and let the people here who have to produce the stuff, have the better grades.

And a rather scathing front page article in the Sunday papers from the boss of new home building, roasted all of us for not getting busy building homes for the returning soldiers. And everyone is trying to build, and there is no building material to be had. These white collar government officials apparently don't know what they are talking about. But they have all got to get into print to make their higher up bosses think they are doing their stuff.

And then the politicians have to get into print about once a week by giving out an interview on some subject, it don't really matter what just so they keep their names before the people.

I have to laugh when I think how we mortals change our minds. I happen to be thinking about toast, I never liked it. In fact I always thought I hated it and was not slow in saying so. In fact I was in the habit of making fun of people who liked toast and almost made myself believe that they just claimed to like it. I have not eaten a slice of white bread or a biscuit since I went to the hospital some months ago, and couldn't eat a meal without my slice of toast. And to make the joke better, I now want it crispy and usually push the button down and give the two slices of toast that I always make, an extra touch of brown and sometimes even get it a pretty dark brown, and it is so crisp that it will fly into pieces at a light tap, yet that is the way I like it. My sincere apologies to anyone whom I ever made fun of for liking toast.

People just will forget. We have announced that the only Quiz subscriptions we accept are at $2.50 for a year and at $1.50 for six months, yet every few days someone sends a dollar bill. It costs us at least 10c every time we have to cut a new name stencil and of course a new stencil has to be cut each time a payment is made. During the hard times fully half our list paid three months at a time. Their egg money just wouldn't reach further. But now most people pay a year, and many pay two years at a time. We do appreciate having you renew for a year.

And if you do it before your time is out and your name taken off the list, it saves us considerable time. There are still a few December expirations who have not renewed and whom we are sure intend to do so; there are a considerable number of January expirations who have not renewed and who have all had a second notice. So I feel that they should not be peeved too badly if their name is taken off the list. But I do hate to take the name of a long time subscriber off the list just because he is careless about renewing when I know he wants the paper. Why not, you December and January expirations save me embarrassment by hurrying in with your renewal. And February 15 is almost here and there are 200 of those who have not renewed as yet.

Did you ever eat any fish pancakes? Well, you are missing something good. It is my own invention and if the demand seems great enough I shall probably print the recipe in this column later.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.

by John L. Ward.

My very good friend, Dr. H. N. Norris, better known as Doc, brought in a very interesting clipping from a magazine the other day, thinking I would be interested in it. I was. The first paragraph read like this: "Physicians fees in Sacramento, Calif., from $16 to $32 per visit. The hospital at Fort Sutter, with rates for board and attendance from $6 to $50 a day. A canvas hospital on K street, between 2nd and 3rd, rates from $6 a day for one patient in a room, $12 for two in a room, and $10 for ward beds." That sounded a little steep to me until I happened to notice the date, which was 1850.

Still, when we lived at Hunters Point, a doctor charged $5 for an office call and $10 for a call at the home, a very natural result of the high wages the war workers were getting, and of the scarcity of doctors in all the Bay area. However, that ought to be high enough. One doctor told me that on the preceding day he had taken in, in cash, $225 besides putting a little on his books, which was doubtless all good. Except in rare cases, a professional call there meant not more than five minutes of the doctor's time, with the waiting room full all the time. Our doctors give us a lot more time for much less money.

The weather Tuesday of last week was responsible for many upsets, luckily in most cases with no more serious damage than loss of dignity. Leaving after a call on the court house dignitaries, Dave Arnold stepped down the flight of steps in safety, but as soon as his feet hit the ice on the sidewalk his feet went west, his head went east and he landed square on the middle. Like a kid caught in the jan cupboard, he looked all around to see if anybody had noticed the "Downfall of Man". Then he came across to the south side of the square and repeated the process in the middle of the street. But I promised not to say anything about it in this column, so please forget the whole episode, won't you?

I had a visit with John Beran last week, and he told me a good fishing story about another of my good friends, Seth Mason. He and John were fishing one time down just below the Burlington bridge. John was down the river below Seth, and they were both baiting with live frogs. John was catching a fish now and then, but Seth complained that he couldn't even get a bite. So John called him down the stream and showed him why. Seth's frog was very much alive, and he had swam to the bank and crawled out on a little sand bank at the edge of the water, right in front of where John was fishing. To bite a catfish would have needed legs.

I met a young fellow from Ohio while we were working in Hawaii. He had a really interesting story. His Dad got him a job working for a neighbor. They didn't get along very well, and the neighbor fired him one morning. He didn't want to go home. A car came along and he thumbed a ride. "How far are you going", asked the driver. "Where are you going" he asked in return. "To San Francisco". On the spur of the moment he said: "How, lucky. That's just where I'm going", and he did. He started at Hunters Point, then went to Hawaii, and at the time I met him he was sending $50 a week. "You know", he told me "Dad isn't sore about me running away at all".

Sometimes I wonder what we would do without the old fellows who are still in the harness and rarin' to go at an age when one would expect them to be enjoying their rocking chairs. For example, there are North Loup's two young and vigorous land men, J. H. Eyerly and C. B. Clark. Eyerly is in the 80's, Clark a few years younger, but both of them are literally doing a land office business. If I'm half as good a man as either of them when I reach their age, I should be satisfied. But king of them all is M. E. Getter, former member and commander of Foote Post No. 40, G. A. R., of Ord. At last accounts he was still alive and reasonably active at his home in Tujunga, Calif., and he must be crowding the hundred year mark.

Put 3 or 4 cut-up tops and outside stalks of celery, a peeled potato, a carrot, a large onion, some leaves of cabbage, parsley and any left-over vegetables you have on hand in the kettle with the pot roast. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer slowly several hours or until meat is tender, adding more liquid if necessary. When done, remove meat and press vegetables through colander along with the liquid. Season the vegetable gravy to taste with salt and pepper, a few drops of Worcestershire or gravy sauce. I find the mashed vegetables thicken the gravy sufficiently. But if you like thicker gravy, then it may be thickened with flour and water.

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

Frank H. Wright, formerly of North Loup, and since 1926 of Boulder, Colo., passed away January 26, at Boulder after a long illness at the age of 86 years. He was born in Putnam County, Mo., June 11, 1860. Survivors are his wife, the former Florence Evangeline Green, whom he married at Harrison, Neb., August 29, 1892. Beside Mrs. Wright are two daughters by a former marriage; Mrs. Lydia Kelly, Ocean Park, Cal.; and Mrs. Emma Bartholomew, Janesville, Wis.; seven sons, Willet H. Wright, of Orting, Wash.; Everett D. of North Loup, Neb.; Manley J., Frank D. and Robin E., all of Boulder; Ted R. of Escondido, Cal.; and Maxon E. Wright, a private first class, at present stationed in the Hawaiian Islands. There are also ten grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Everett Wright and son Raymond, S.C. spent a week in Boulder just previous to Mr. Wright's death. Mr. and Mrs. Willet Wright of Orting, Wash. were also there at the same time.

The Union Ridge club met Mr. and Mrs. Tarry Tolen a farewell surprise at their home Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Tolen have bought Mrs. Jennie Schlutz' house where the Comfort Cummins family are living and plan to move to North Loup March 1st. They have lived in the Union Ridge neighborhood for many years.

Mrs. Everett Wright and son, Raymond spent Thursday and Friday in Lincoln with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Nehler and Mr. and Mrs. Will Watson.

Mrs. Harold Hoepfner returned Wednesday evening from Hastings. Bobbie Anderson came home with her and Sunday the Hoepfner family drove down to take him home.

Miss Mable Lee, Calvin Lee and Mrs. Bates Copeland left

Wednesday for Illinois where Calvin Lee will resume his work for Sears Roebuck where he was employed before his army service. Miss Lee will visit relatives in Chicago and Mrs. Copeland at Minonk, Ill. and other points near by. The ladies will return in about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Portis returned Friday on the evening bus from Lincoln. While there they found a place to live and will go down this week. Harold will begin work in National Business Institute on February 18. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Portis and two sons spent the day at the Orville Portis home.

Ben Nelson and two sons, Myles and David left early Saturday morning for Baldwin Park, Cal., where Mrs. Nelson and Danny have been the past month. After two weeks there the family will return together. Mrs. Nelson and Danny went out by train.

Only nine people attended the school and village caucus held Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium. S. C. Hawkes was chosen chairman of both caucuses. W. H. Elley acted as secretary of the school caucus and A. L. Willoughby of the village. Roy Cox and S. C. Hawkes are the two school board members whose terms expire and their names with those of Lee Mulligan and Roy Stine were chosen to be placed on the ticket for the election in April. On the village board, Erlo Cox and A. L. Willoughby, are the members whose terms expire and their names with those of James Coleman and Roy Hudson were chosen. Charles Barber was selected as the candidate for police judge. With a population of more than five hundred, nine is not a very good representation at a meeting of interest to everyone. Perhaps it was not very well known, but notices had been posted for the meeting. Only one member of each board was present.

Thirty-seven cartons of clothing and six bags of shoes were shipped to Kansas City the first of this week to be sent for the clothing relief in foreign countries. 1566 garments and 185 pairs of shoes were gathered. There were 183 baby garments, 116 sweaters, 60 women's coats, 38 men's overcoats, 28 suits of men's heavy underwear and as many of women's. There were six comforters, two of them new, made from material sent in, lined, tied and bound, and the other four mended and in good condition. There was one good wool blanket, one cotton blanket, one coverlet and some other bedding. Mrs. Glen Johnson who was in charge of the collection in North Loup deserves much credit for the success of the drive, and for the excellent condition of the garments sent, as nothing was shipped that had not been mended. Blankets which were to badly worn for use were made into baby blankets, a number of children's coats and dresses were made from worn garments, children's overalls were made from badly worn trousers. Assisting Mrs. Johnson with this work were Alice Johnson, Lola Fuller, Mrs. R. O. Babcock, Mrs. Gus Eislle and a number of others. The missionary circle of the Seventh Day Baptist church tied the comforters and bought the cotton for them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ingraham celebrated their thirty first wedding anniversary Sunday, February 3, with a family gathering which was also a farewell for their son, Weldon, who left on Tuesday for army induction. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ingraham, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Worrell and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walkup and family of Scotia, Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Van Horn and family Sheldon Ingraham, Marvin Ingraham and Mrs. Vesta Noyes and two daughters. In the afternoon the Ralph Sperring family of Burwell were present.

Mrs. Erlo Babcock submitted to an operation for appendicitis at the Clinic hospital in Ord Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Ehret drove to Grand Island Wednesday night, taking Rev. Harley Sutton, of Alfred Station, N. Y., to take the City of Denver for the east. Rev. Sutton had been teaching a class here in religious training for two weeks and had word that his wife's father passed away at Pennboro, W. Va. He went to West Virginia.

Sheldon Van Horn went to the Carl Walkup home at Scotia Saturday night and Sunday accompanied them to the Elwood Van Horn home at St. Paul.

Sgt. Edward Hudson arrived home Saturday evening from Ft. Logan, Colo., where he had been for discharge after three years of service with the army air corps. Recently he has been stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., at Pope Field. His sisters husband, Harry Harter, who had been stationed at Lincoln, was also at Ft. Logan for discharge and the two boys returned to Lincoln together.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Canfield returned Wednesday evening from a two weeks vacation spent at Portland and Seattle, Wash. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Coleman and Janet and Jill drove to Tekamah taking Mr. and Mrs. Canfield to their home there.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Mitchell and Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Ehret spent Wednesday in Grand Island. The men attended the Ladies club while the ladies shopped.

Rev. Ehret and Rev. Mitchell attended the Loup Valley Ministerial meeting held Monday morning at the Fish Creek church with Rev. Arnold as host. Dinner was served at the home of Mrs. Meyer near the church.

The Cecil Severance family and Miss Marcella Rood were Saturday dinner guests in the Henry Williams home.

Mrs. Iver Peterson and Mrs. Paul Gebauer of Hood River, Ore., were weekend guests of the Max Klingensmith family. Other guests for Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whiting of Ord, Tuesday morning Mrs. Gebauer and Mrs. Peterson left for their home with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caddy who also spent two days last week at Klingensmiths.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Waller were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummins.

Mrs. Anna Sautter of Cotesfield was a Sunday guest of Mrs. Emma Madsen. Mrs. Madsen and Mrs. Sautter were dinner guests of Paul Madsen at Kingstons' Cafe.

W. H. Elley went to Dannebrog Friday night to referee the Dannebrog-Elba basketball game which ended in a victory for Elba with a 39-28 score. Altogether 46 fouls were called by Mr. Elley during the game.

Eighteen attended the religious training school held the past two weeks at the school house with Rev. Samuel Mitchell teaching a class on the New Testament and Rev. Harley Sutton one on teaching children in the small church and highways of the Spirit. Classes were held in the evening.

The Nolo club met Thursday with Mrs. R. O. Babcock for a roll call lesson. A new member, Mrs. Grace Thorngate was taken in.

The Fortnightly club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Willoughby. Mrs. M. C. Koelling had charge of the roll call. Red Cross serving was done and a Red Cross quilt tied. Mrs. Roy Stine and Mrs. Opal Beebe were guests.

Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson and two small children returned Sunday from Lincoln where they had spent the week with the Rollan Owen family. The Owen family brought her home and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stine returned Sunday from Lincoln and Ullyses where they had spent several days.

Marcella Rood and Mrs. Margaret Tolbert entertained the B. P. W. club at the home of Miss Rood Tuesday evening.

Mrs. A. L. Willoughby entertained the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Frank Schudel was assistant hostess.

Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. Wm. Plate and Mrs. Elmer Cox helped Mrs. L. A. Axthelm celebrate her birthday Thursday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. McGinnis of Ord were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ward.

Phyllis Stevens spent the weekend at the home of her parents in Taylor. She found her mother again down with sciatic rheumatism. Mrs. Stevens had suffered a great deal with rheumatism last summer but for several months has been quite well.

Berdina Otto left on the Monday morning bus for Kearney where she has work.

The Forrest Hill family spent Sunday in Loup City with Mrs. Hills parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tracy.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Scott and Jerrold went to Cotesfield on the Saturday night bus where they were supper guests in the Harold Keep home. Keeps brought them home in the evening.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Lizzie Knapp were the R. H. and C. D. Knapp families and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson.

Mrs. Lizzie Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Scott and Jerrold were Friday supper guests in the R. H. Knapp home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Hoosen and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Eislle were Thursday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Axthelm helping them celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Mrs. L. A. Axthelm, Mrs. Otto Bartz, Mrs. Elmer Cox and Mrs. Gus Eislle were Monday supper guests of Mrs. John Ward while the men were attending the father-son banquet at the Methodist church.

About sixty men attended the Father-Son banquet Monday evening at the Methodist church. The banquet was sponsored by the Methodist Men's organization and served by the W. S. C. S. Roast turkey with dressing, mashed potatoes and gravy, buttered string beans, hot rolls and butter, home made ice cream and angel food cake and coffee were served. Rev. Mitchell acted as toastmaster. Roy Hudson had charge of the group singing. Address of the evening was given by Rev. Carl McConnell of Ord. A male quartette, Sterling Manchester, Hilding Pearson, Duane Armstrong and James Ollis sang some special numbers accompanied by Mrs. Ollis. Miss Ramona Mitchell played a clarinet solo. Place cards were valentines.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud True of Arcadia are at the John Williams home this week while Mrs. Williams is assisting in the Gerhart Bielke home near Scotia. Friday Mr. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. True went to the Wm. Waddington home in Cairo and also to St. Paul Sunday afternoon they went to the Bilke home.

The Ed Christensen family have moved to the Hoff place near Ord and Phyllis is attending school in Ord. Mrs. Ruth Hutchins plans to move to her farm which Christensens vacated late this week and then the Stanley Brown family will move to the Hutchins house which they bought several months ago.

The high school declamatory contest is being given Thursday evening, February 21, in the high school auditorium with fifteen contestants taking part. Mrs. Hayden is coaching the contestants. For several years contests have been held in the community building but this year the high school auditorium is being used because school funds are insufficient to rent the community building. Admission will be 14 to 25 cents, tax included.

Philip Duane is the name given the nine pound boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Van Horn Saturday, Feb. 9th, at the home of Mrs. Van Horn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goodrich.

Jim Coleman went to Omaha on business Tuesday morning. Tom Hamer and Virgil Amyas accompanied him.

Arnold Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Leonard has been promoted to Lieutenant (J.G.) and is located at Solomon, Md., near Washington, D. C. He is on the U. S. S. Limpkin.

Raymond Wright, seaman second class, spent the weekend with relatives at Burwell. Tuesday he left for San Diego after thirty days furlough to report for duty on his ship, the aircraft carrier, U. S. S. Lexington.

Section 1. In accordance with Section 17-503, Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, the power of said Village of North Loup, Nebraska, to convey real estate not used in the operation of public utilities of said village is hereby executed by the passage, approval and publication of this ordinance. The conveyance of the following described real estate of said Village not used in the operation of public utilities of said Village, is hereby approved and authorized subject to the terms and conditions of this ordinance, which real estate is described as follows:

Blocks 4, 5, 6 and 7, of T. C. Davis' Addition to North Loup, Valley County, Nebraska.

Sec. 2. The chairman and board of trustees of said Village are hereby authorized and directed to do and make a good and sufficient quit claim deed of said real estate for and on behalf of said Village of North Loup, Nebraska, and to attach the seal of said Village to said conveyance, to be made to Albert Combs of North Loup, Nebraska, upon the payment by said purchaser of the sum of $1000.00 to the Treasurer of said village not later than 30 days after the passage, approval and publication of this ordinance, provided, however, said conveyance shall not be delivered to said purchaser until after 30 days after the passage and approval of this ordinance.

Sec. 3. Notice of such sale and the terms thereof shall be published three consecutive weeks in The Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper of general circulation in said Village immediately after the passage, and approval of this ordinance.

Sec. 4. This ordinance shall be in full force and take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication according to law. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed.

Passed and approved this 4th day of February, 1946.

C. D. Knapp, Chairman.

Axthelm-Zabloudil
Before an altar banked with white snapdragons, red carnations and seven branched candelabra, at 2 p.m. Sunday Feb. 31, the Methodist church in Ord was the scene of the wedding of Opal Axthelm, daughter of L. A. Axthelm of North Loup, and Ernest Zabloudil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zabloudil of Ord. The tapers were lit by Misses Roberta and Lois Cook. They wore gowns of pastel shades, and their corsages were pink carnations.
The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Carl McConnell. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Donald Axthelm. She chose a gown of white taffeta with long, tight sleeves, which came to a point

Elder D. Mottl Marries Frances S. Umphlett.

The marriage of Frances Shirley Umphlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Eroy Umphlett, to Elder David Mottl, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mottl, of Ericson, Nebr., took place recently in the David Adams Memorial chapel, naval operating base, Norfolk, Va. The church was decorated with ferns, white chrysanthemums, gladiolas and candelabra. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain William Lockhart Ball in the presence of relatives and friends. Fred Mowlds, USNR, played the wedding music, and before the ceremony John Rice, USNR, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

over the wrist. From a fitted bodice with net inserts fell a full skirt of net and a long train. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a crown of sequins.
She wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, who was attired in a dark suit. He was attended by Malvin Axthelm, brother of the bride. She wore a frock of blue taffeta and net, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and wore a matching tiara in her hair. Vandell Cook, a niece of the bride, scattered rose petals in the aisle. The rings were carried on a white satin pillow by Eugene Cook.
Reuben Cook sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer". The Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Reuben Cook. Mrs. Howard Cook, sister of the bride, had charge of the guest book. Richard Nevrkia and Howard Cook acted as ushers. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors for sixty guests. Sweet peas and candles made a beautiful centerpiece on the table of the bridal party.

Mrs. Maynard and Jerald Heile served. Mrs. Loyal Negley, the bride's sister, cut the three tier wedding cake. Mrs. Malvin Axthelm had charge of the gift table. The bride graduated from Ord high school, class of 1944, and since has been employed in Lincoln by the Union Fire Insurance company, and more recently, the DuPeau Chevrolet Co. The groom has been serving in the U. S. army for 3 1/2 years, 18 months of which were spent in the Pacific theatre. They will reside on a farm west of Ord.

Weekes-Holm

Ord friends will be interested to hear of the marriage of Daniela Weekes to Walter Glendal Holm which was quietly solemnized Saturday noon, Febr. 9, at St. Mary's Episcopal church at Blue Rapids, Kans. at a double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Weekes, and the groom is a nephew of Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing and a grandson of Mr and Mrs. Mark Holm of Elba. Daniela was charming in a suit of winter white, with which she wore an aqua blouse and brown accessories, and an orchid corsage. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gimpel of Grand Island. Mrs. Holm graduated from Lincoln High school, and also has many friends in Alliance and in Ord. At present she is a student at the University of Nebraska, and Mr. Holm is also studying there, as a junior electrical engineering student. He is a veteran of three years service in the South Pacific, where he and Mr. Gimpel were buddies. Mr. and Mrs. Holm will come to Ord this weekend to visit, after which they will make their home in Lincoln. Both young people have many friends here, who wish for them a long and pleasant married life.

Social Short Items.

Saturday evening and supper guests at the Joe M. Jablonski home were Mr. and Mrs. Leon M. Jablonski and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sydzik and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sydzik and family of Grand Island and Miss Iryne Kosmicki of Loup City. Miss Kosmicki remained for a longer visit at the Jablonski home.

TO THE VOTERS OF ORD

Due to many inquiries I am making this public announcement that I have tendered my resignation to the proper officials of the caucus at which I was nominated. This step was taken after due deliberation for the following reasons:

Any business man who is elected to the office of mayor for the next four years must neglect his personal affairs to a certain degree, for the responsibility of the office will be heavy. The eight years that I served in the office have been educational to me and I feel that I was especially fortunate in the calibre of councilmen you citizens selected during the period. For they have been competent and reliable men and have planned and succeeded in reducing your bonded indebtedness from $151,000 to $18,000 on the commercial market. This reduction includes $21,000 held by your electric department and $6,000 by your water department. This reduction has been possible only through the cooperation of the taxpayers and their ability to pay. It has assisted you in establishing an excellent credit for future improvements and since there will be many such coming up it will take careful planning by future councils so that an excessive burden is not placed on taxpayers.

To you in the various departments and also the firemen who have been very efficient and helpful, I want to extend my heartfelt thanks for your cooperation throughout my eight years as mayor. I know there have been some mistakes made but I firmly believe the policy we have followed has brought forth many benefits to the city and trade territory. So, despite mistakes that may have been made, I am not offering any apologies but am just inviting you to look over the record.

For the next administration I wish an efficient and successful term and I shall be satisfied to live in a house on L Street and assist wherever I can.

Respectfully,

M. B. CUMMINS

The HYDRAULIC FARMHAND Does the Work of a Crew of Men!

MOUNTS ON ANY 2-PLOW OR LARGER TRACTOR

Smooth Speedy Safe

Strong Long Lived

Precision Built, All-Steel

Powerful Pump Raises 1 1/2 Tons

Your farming costs go down; your work becomes easy when it's done by The Hydraulic FARMHAND. Whether it's haying, harvesting, loading manure, pulling posts, loading trucks and flat cars, piling logs, building dams . . . or any other of some 30 heavy farm jobs, The Hydraulic FARMHAND does the work of 2 to 4 teams and 3 to 6 extra men. Yet it is so safe, smooth and easy to operate that a young boy can learn to use The FARMHAND in an hour.

Does 30 Jobs . . . Works 12 Months Each Year

The FARMHAND can be taken wherever a tractor could go alone; over rough ground, into sheds, through gates. It stacks your hay in the summer; opens stacks and hauls hay in the winter. Digs through drifts, loads bales on trucks, moves small buildings. And always The FARMHAND is under smooth, positive hydraulic control. Proved by 5 years of farm usage; saves $25 to $35 a day in labor costs alone.

Donald Whitman spent the week-end in Lincoln visiting with his cousin, Doris Easterbrook.

Mrs. Robert Smalley and her brother, Roy Gartske of Detroit, Michigan, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gartske. Roy will return home this week but Mrs. Smalley will remain and help care for her father, who has been very ill and is now bedfast.

Mrs. Robert Kumpf and children, Sharon and Jerry left Friday for Columbus where her husband has employment. They will move their household goods there as soon as they can find a house.

George and Richard O'Connell of Omaha, have been visiting in Arcadia the past two weeks. Richard left this week for California, where he plans to find employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Rowbal of North Platte spent Sunday in Arcadia at the home of her mother, Mrs. Chas. Hollingshead.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murray were Wednesday visitors in Loup City. They were accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Hollingshead, Mrs. A. H. Hastings and Miss Kate Claussen, who spent the afternoon playing bridge at the home of Mrs. George Olsen.

S-Sgt. Ed Hruby arrived home Tuesday. He received his discharge at Fort Logan, Colo. after serving 46 months in the army, 7 months being spent in the Philippines and Dutch East Indies. Mrs. Hruby has been teaching in the rural schools near Arcadia. Mr. and Mrs. Hruby plan to go on a farm this spring.

Mrs. A. J. Nelson was hostess to the Up-To-Date club Tuesday afternoon. After a short business lesson, conducted by the president, Mrs. H. D. Weddel, the lesson on, "Development of the Negro", was turned over to the leader, Mrs. Nellie Royce. Much was learned of the intelligence and ability of the American Negro in the fields of science, art, religion, music, and in the industrial world. Governor Griswold has proclaimed the week of Feb. 10-17, National Negro History week in Nebraska.

Kay Stone of Ord spent the week-end in Arcadia with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Carmody went to Long Pine last Sunday and visited until Wednesday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Dow Walgamoth. Mrs. Carmody's nephew, Pfc. Cassius Airmstrong was home on a leave from overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith had for their Sunday dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Spencer and children. The dinner was in honor of the birthday of her granddaughter, Joyce Spencer.

Mrs. Merle Knapp of Loup City spent the weekend in Arcadia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Darr Lee. Mrs. Knapp is moving to Arcadia the first of March and will live in the house north of the Standard filling station.

Miss Dorothy Hoon of Ord was a guest of her cousin, Oneta Holmes for the weekend.

Miss Betty Rettenmayer was hostess Friday afternoon at the three table Pinochle club. Miss Kate Claussen was a guest.

Mrs. Floyd Bossen and Mrs. Darr Evans were hostesses to the young married couples Pinochle club, Thursday evening at the former's home. Prizes were won by Donald Murray and Mrs. Capt. and Mrs. Darwin D. Lueck of St. Louis, Mo., arrived on February 2nd for an extended visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lueck of Arcadia. Capt. Lueck's wife, Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Zeuschel of St. Louis, Mo. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Lueck, was employed as private secretary to the president of The Interstate Printing Company of St. Louis and, during the war, served at the St. Louis Maternity Hospital as a nurse's aid. The couple were married December 15, 1945 at the Blessed Sacrament Church in St. Louis. Rev. James T. Murphy officiated in the double ring ceremony. Only immediate relatives of the bride attended the ceremony. The bride wore a blue wool dress with a winter wine hat and a white orchid corsage. She was attended by her friends, Misses Ann Hanley and Kaye Hayes, who wore melon colored dresses and gardenia corsages. The groom was attended by Messrs Paul Kordsmeyer and Harold Busch of St. Louis. After a week's honeymoon at the Pere Marquette Lodge at Grafton, Illinois, Capt and Mrs. Lueck returned to the home of the bride's parents where they have resided until journeying by auto to Arcadia. Capt. Lueck's six years of active duty with the Air Force will be terminated upon discharge from the armed forces on March 2. Nearly three of these years were spent in the Asiatic Pacific theatre with the Fifth Air Force. While a member of the Fifth Air Force, he was a ground officer in the 30th Air Service Squadron, a unit of the Fifth Air Force Service Command, and was stationed in Northern territory, Australia, New Guinea, the Philippines and Okinawa. As far as climate is concerned, Capt. Lueck states that the heat and dust of Northern Territory's famous "out back country" and the typhoons of Okinawa made any and all of Nebraska's weather look mild and agreeable in comparison, and, like many others added, "it's surely great to be back in the U. S. A. Okinawa was never like this".

Self-Regulation and Good Government

Self-regulation means that the man in business regulates his own conduct and the conduct of his help and his customers while in his place of business in such a way that constituted officials have little to do about law enforcement and the correction of bad practices. There is a vast difference between a desire to observe the laws and a determination or desire to "cheat the law."

All licensed beer retailers are aware of Self-Regulation and the great majority believe in its principles. Frequent observations and suggestions are made by the Nebraska Committee for better operating practices, and in most instances, retailers readily follow suggestions. If a retailer does not, representations are made to the licensing and law enforcement authorities who will see to it that the offending licensee either corrects his faults or is deprived of his license.

Such a vigilant program assures your city or community of reputable retailers, who sell beer in a legal and wholesome manner.

An administrative NCO and personal technician, Jeppesen has been awarded the Victory and American defense ribbons and the Good Conduct medal. Sgt. Jeppesen plans to enter Wisconsin University to major in business economics.

★ Sgt. Henry Misko got home from the service in the blizzard last week, and is now a civilian once more after three years in the service, all of which he spent in the United States. For the past year he had been stationed at the Walker air field at Victoria, Kan. He had feared he might be kept on longer, as the work that he was doing was classed as essential, but they decided to let him out, probably because he is married. His wife, the former Virginia Bulger of Arcadia, and their son, Henry Jeffrey, have been living in Ord. Henry is thinking of going to school and taking a course in pharmacy under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

★ Lt. (jg) Arnold Leonard, son of Vere Leonard of North Loup, writes his folks that his outfit is busy now at the Solomon naval base, Maryland, and that their job is towing boats up the Potomac to the Washington navy yard. He says he has seen Mount Vernon, and that it is a wonderful place, in a fine state of preservation. The people there prize their historical places more than we do in the west. He says that on their trips up and down the river they see thousands of ducks everywhere, and there are bald eagles along the banks. Lt. Leonard went into the navy Dec. 1, 1942. He spent his first two years at school in Kearney. Then he was sent to Charleston S. C., and from there went on cruises in the Caribbean. He is thankful that most of his work has been in pleasant places.

★ T-5 Loyal Hurlbert is now attending the army university center, Oahu, where he is taking courses in Chemistry and spherical trigonometry. There are more than one thousand students attending the Pacific university, some coming from as far as Iwo Jima. It is anticipated that civilian universities will grant credit for courses completed at the Army university center.

EXTENSION NEWS

On Tuesday, Jan 29th Mrs. Fells leader of the Clever Corner Project club demonstrated the use of a lye solution as a varnish remover, and Mrs. Leonard Evans demonstrated the use of commercial removers to 89 members and a visitor at the home of Mrs. D. O. Hawley.

The different methods of finishing floors, furniture and wood work was discussed, after which a lovely lunch as served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Paul Woody.

The next meeting, "New Views in Cupboards", will be demonstrated at the home of Mrs. E. Hunkins. All members please be present. Mrs. Giles—News reporter. By Mrs. Wody.

The Happy homemakers club of Arcadia met January 31st at the home of Edgina Kamiska. Everyone was present but Elva Bell Beams. Our leader, Mrs. John Welty showed the club how to make the different stitches and assisted us in making our needle cases. Kathleen Piersol led us in singing. The hostesses Janet Wibbels and Edgina Kamiska served us a delicious lunch of cocoa, cake and jello. Phyllis Carmody taught us a folk dance. It was decided our next meeting would be at Doris Welty's home, February 16 at 2:30. The roll call will be Why I joined the 4-If club. Geraldine Richardson will do a demonstration on the needle cases. The meeting ended at 10:25. News Reporter—Norma Blakeslee.

Veterans Honored.

A dinner was held Sunday at the Tony Pawleska home in honor of Dallas McDonald, Evertette Pawleska and Edward Pawleska, all veterans of the Pawleska family. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pilinowski and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Proskocil of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Les Wilson and Gladys of North Loup and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman and daughter of Scotia.

—James Samla of Maxwell, Nebr., was in Ord Tuesday. He arrived Saturday to take treatments from Dr. E. J. Smith at Burwell, and said he would probably have to stay until the weekend. Samla left here in 1940, and has had a shop of his own at Maxwell for the past two years.

—Word from Merritt H. Fuson is that he is again in the Veterans hospital at Portland, Ore., with heart trouble. He doubtless would appreciate hearing from some of his old friends at this time, and he can be reached in care of the Veterans hospital.

Obituary Of

Joycelyn Auble Petterson
Joycelyn Laone Auble was born in Ord, Nebraska on October 18, 1918, the daughter of Pauline and Arthur Jay Auble. She spent all of her girlhood here, and was graduated from the Ord High School with the class of 1936.

In January, 1937, Joy entered nurse's training at the Methodist Hospital in Omaha, where she was graduated in 1940, later taking post graduate work in child care at the Cook County Hospital in Chicago. She then applied this study at the General Hospital in Lincoln, later taking a position in a hospital at Elgin, Illinois, where she remained until joining the Army Nurses' Corps in May of 1942.

As a Lieutenant, Joy was then stationed at Camp Grant near Rockford, Illinois, and later in Louisiana, from where she went overseas in August of 1943. Her assignment was in a hospital in Brisbane, Australia. While there she was married to Lieutenant John N. Petterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Petterson of Baltimore. The marriage took place on July 4, 1944, and in September Mrs. Petterson returned to the states. She was discharged from the army in January, 1945, coming to her home in Ord.

A son was born to Lieutenant and Mrs. Petterson on April 19, 1945, and in September they went to Sedalia, Missouri to make their home. Joy was suddenly taken ill while visiting her parents, and she passed away in Ord on February 3. She leaves, besides her husband and son, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Auble of Ord, a sister, Mrs. Leota Underberg of Madison, Nebraska, a brother, Don of Ord, and numerous other relatives and friends.

Joy's life was one of service to others. She was a serious student, a talented musician, a skillful nurse, and a loving wife and mother. Her greatest happiness came from being with those she loved, and she will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m., Feb 7, at the Ord Methodist church, Rev. Carl McConnell being in charge assisted by Rev. Schenk of Madison, Nebr. Music was furnished by Mrs. Leslie Nash and Mrs. Mark Tolen, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the organ. Burial was in Grace-land, Ord City cemetery. Mrs. Louise McOstrich and Jeanette Clement assisted with floral arrangements. The pall bearers were Lowell Jones, Darrell Noll, Kenneth Koelling, Horace Johnson, Kenneth Eglehoff and Reuben Cook. Hastings and Zikmund had charge of funeral arrangements.

Honoring Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ryan entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peterson and daughter of Redmond, Ore. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dalby and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oliva of Comstock. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peterson and Carol and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Petersen and daughter spent Thursday with their mother, Mrs. Marie Peterson and Esther, at Polk, Nebr.

—Mrs. Lily Coltrane, sister of R. C. Austin, arrived last week for a visit of indefinite length in the Austin home.

Oddfellows Entertain

The Ord Oddfellows were hosts to their wives and to the Rebekahs and their husbands at a card party at the hall Friday night. There were 14 tables of pinochle and one of bridge. Clifford Stone held high score for the men and Walt Neumeier held low. For the women Mrs. Loren Good was high and Mrs. Joe Gregory was low. At the close of play a lunch of sandwiches, potato salad, coffee, cookies and ice cream was served.

Eastern Star.

Eastern Star met Thursday evening for a regular session. Mrs. Evan Hartman of Kearney, who is a grand officer, was present. The officers are practicing for the visit of the supervisor, which will probably be some time in March. Mrs. George Satterfield and her committee, Mrs. E. S. Murray, Mrs. Ralph Douglas, and Mrs. Will Treptow, served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hlavinka sr., and sons, Frank and John, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holzinger and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hlavinka, of Ord were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hlavinka of Scotia.

Card of Thanks—

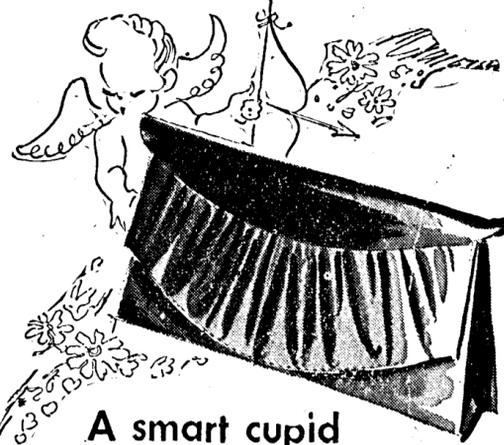

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation and thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Weekes and the nurses, also the many friends who sent cheering letters and cards while I was in the hospital.
Mrs. Merrill Crouch.

Card of Thanks—

We, the undersigned, wish to thank all those who, by their kind words and deeds, have helped in making our sorrow easier to bear. Especially do we appreciate the lovely floral offerings.

Hybrid Seed Corn

We still have a fair supply of Cornhusker No. 148 and have all the numbers of Standard Hybrid; and a good supply of the 100 and 105 day of Lowes White Hybrids. There is a nice premium for White Corn on the market, so if you are growing corn for a cash crop why not try a few bushels of this good white hybrid corn this year?

The Lowe Company is one of the oldest and largest producers of white hybrid seed corn and probably do more experimental work on white hybrids than any of the white hybrid producers. We feel very fortunate in being able to offer you this white hybrid seed. Place your order early for your hybrid corn. It is not too plentiful.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover

We have quite plentiful stocks of yellow blossom sweet clover and Dak. 12 alfalfa seed; but white blossom sweet clover, Grimm and Cossack Alfalfa are very scarce. If you need legume seed this Spring, be sure to let us make your booking now to assure of the seed when planting time arrives.

Bran

For more than a year it has been impossible to carry a stock of mill feeds; however this week we were able to get a half car of bran and offer this to you in limited quantities. Not over 5 bags to a customer; in this way we can better serve more of you.

White Corn

We are in the market for your white corn. We will pay a nice premium over yellow corn celling for your white corn. Ask us for prices on white corn.

Baby Chicks

Our Baby Chicks are starting to arrive. Have you placed your order for your baby chicks for the coming season. We have been able to book your order for just about the time that you want them. Let us book your order now and have them arrive at a later date.

Brooder Stoves

With the steel strike on it is difficult to tell when we will be able to get any more brooder stoves. We still have one 1000 chick size and a very few 500 chick size brooders left. You can order one now and take it out next month if you wish.

'It pays to buy from Noll.

Chanticleers Win Two Games, Curtis Aggies and Albion

Ord Lads Regain Form, Trounce Two Teams in Games Last Week-end

The Ord Chanticleers added a brace of victories to their credit Friday and Saturday on the same floor by defeating Albion 23 and the Curtis Aggies 39-20. The outcome of both games was never in doubt, although Albion threw a scare in Ord by edging them 6 to 5 in the first quarter of Friday night's game.

Once the Chanticleers hit their stride it was a question of how badly they wanted to defeat their opponents. While the Ord team was victor by a wide margin in both games, the team play was far below the standard set in the conference tournament at Arcadia, when the locals set a new offensive record of 141 points in three games.

It is hoped that the Chanticleers will reach a new peak when they compete in the district tournament at O'Neill early next month. To the credit of the locals it should be noted that they were without the services of Joe Kominek during last week's games. Kominek, who ranks second to Blessing in scoring, turned up lame after the conference tourney and was excused from the weeks competition.

Big Al Blessing continued the terrific scoring pace he set for himself at the conference tourney, by running his total for five games to 93 points. "Big" Skorski and Tom Tolon conquered their fine defense play as well as making valuable contributions to the scoring.

Bill and Loft at forwards and their shots rimming the basket, but turned in fine floor passes. They were instrumental to a high degree in bringing the week-end victories to the Chanticleers. The double win last week ran the Ord record to nine out of 15 games played. The Chants have maintained a plus average per game and have scored 547 points to their opponents 520.

Last year's championship had a total of 671 points to their opponents 367 in a total of 19 games played. This comparison indicates that while the present edition of the Chanticleers rates slightly higher on offense, they are weaker on defense than their predecessors.

They won 18 out of the 19 games played. This weeks game ends the Ord team meeting of the Mary's of Grand Island on Saturday's court. Last year's record was 41 to 23 in favor of the locals.

John N. Round Field Base Surgeon

Major John N. Round has been appointed base surgeon at New River Field, California, of the 4th Bomb Group. The major is slated for active duty in September, 1942 and was assigned to the 4th AAF, Salina, Kan., chief of surgery. In July 1944, he was assigned to the Topeka Army Hospital. Two weeks ago he was transferred to Merced as post surgeon. As is well known, Major Round is from Ord, Nebr., where he spent five years in active service following his graduation from the University of Nebraska school of medicine and internship in Cleveland and Chicago.

Many Ordites Attend Grand Island Meeting

The American Legion and Auxiliary held their annual department meeting at Grand Island Sunday afternoon, Monday and Tuesday of this week. Quite a number attended from Ord. Men who went Tuesday included Commander Weckbach, Adjutant Herman Behrends, C. J. Mortensen and Bob Miller. Among featured speakers were National Commander Stelle, General Guy Hemminger and Governor Dwight Griswold. Nebraska received the national award for having the highest membership gain.

Ladies who went Monday were Mrs. Frank Fafetta, Mrs. Syd Furtak and Mrs. C. C. Dale. Tuesday President Mrs. Ella Weckbach, Secretary Mrs. Clark Weckbach, Mrs. John Wozab, Mrs. W. E. Lincoln, Mrs. Horace Johnson and Dolcie Waterman were in attendance. Also attending the entire session was Mrs. Carol Mortensen, national chapeau, 8 et 40.

Worm Bros. Meet With Severe Loss Thursday Morning

Tanker Destroyed by Flames in Spectacular Blaze After Traffic Accident

About one a. m. Thursday morning Fred Worm of Worm Bros. transport service met with an accident which caused the complete loss of the heavy oil tanker and full load of gasoline. Incidentally Mr. Worm narrowly escaped being burned in the fire that followed immediately. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Worm was traveling along highway 31, about 20 miles out of Omaha, and was nearing the junction with highway 30. A tanker from Norfolk had stopped around the curve, and by the time Worm's lights revealed the truck ahead and the fact that he had stopped, it was too late to avoid a collision. He plowed directly into the rear of the parked truck. Both of his cab doors locked from the impact, and he had to climb through the cab window. His turntable broke and the metal punctured one of the compartments of the tank. The escaping gas ignited, and of course there was no possible chance of saving anything. The loss of tanker and load was total, and is partly covered by insurance. It was one of the Worm Bros. best outfits, and will be difficult to replace. Mr. Worm escaped without injury except a severe shaking up, and was back on the job at Ord Friday, feeling very lucky to be alive. The tanker ahead was one owned by Manske of Norfolk, and Paul Miller formerly of Ord was driver.

Red Cross Drive Opens March 1st

Quota for Valley County only About half that Needed For Year 1945

A. J. Auble, chairman for the Valley county Red Cross drive for 1946, announced Monday that the amount of money asked in the county quota this year is only about half that asked during the war years. Further, considerably more than half the money will be kept at home, to help build up a reserve here, this having been depleted during the war. The exact figures are: Total amount asked, $3,110; amount sent away, $1,360, or 43.7 per cent; amount kept at home, $1,750, or 56.3 per cent. It will be recalled that the amount asked for the National Red Cross in 1945 from Valley county was $3,750, or nearly three times the amount the National organization gets this year.

The Red Cross drive will open officially March 1, and will continue throughout the month. Mr. Auble has been busy getting the county organization set up, and seeing to it that every section of the county will be solicited. A list of the various chairmen and their assistants, as well as quotas for the different localities, will be printed soon.

Coop Oil Company Holds its Annual Meeting on Friday

Past Year Very Successful; Many Farmers Were in Attendance

The annual meeting of the Ord Coop Oil company was held Friday afternoon in the American Legion hall, with more than 70 farmers from all over the Ord territory in attendance. They came to hear the report for the year, as made out by the auditor, and as read by the secretary, W.C.H. Noll, and they were not disappointed.

From the records it was shown that the year 1945 was one of the most successful the company has ever had, despite the fact that more than half the year was under wartime restrictions and that lack of supplies is still restricting sales in some departments. However the membership is looking forward to a much better year in 1946.

The most interesting feature of the program was a talk given by Emmet Sallee, Coop field representative for the east half of Nebraska. Mr. Sallee congratulated the farmers on their interest as shown by their attendance at the meeting, explained some features of the oil business, told of the Coop Oil industry in the past year.

He showed how Coop gasoline was just as good as any other of a number of well known brands, since it came up from Kansas to Omaha through the same pipe line as the others, and there was no knowing what gasoline was coming out of the pipe at any given time. Mr. Sallee knows his subject, and is a very interesting speaker. In the business session the members present showed their confidence in their directors by nominating and reelecting the two retiring members, Henry Benn and Arnold Brethauer. Those holding over are W.C.H. Noll, James G. Hastings and Fred Martinsen. The manager, B. C. Boquet, made a report, which was accepted. Henry Benn, president, was in the chair. A dividend of 6% on stock was declared for the past year. Numbers were given out at the door to each stockholder as they entered, and numbers were drawn for ten prizes at the close of the business session. First prize a large pressure cooker, went to Edgar Roe, the other prize winners in order drawn were Joe Vasicek, Alfred Shoemaker, Wayne Stewart, Chester Travis, Edward Lenz, Ed Shoemaker, Joe Rutar, Jr., Joe Wadas and Harold Smith.

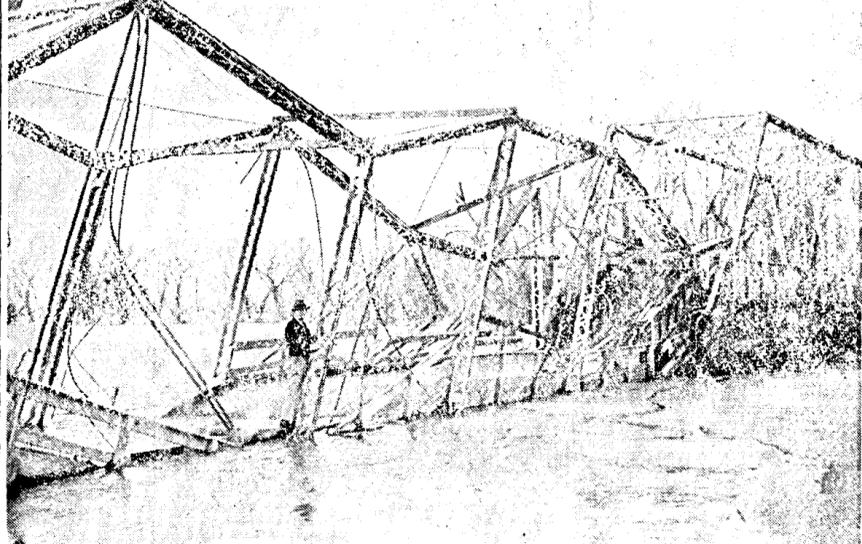

North Loup Earns Loup Valley Title

Defeats Arcadia in Final Conference Game on Friday Night

North Loup clinched their right to the Loup Valley basketball title Friday evening when they clearly outclassed the Huskies of Arcadia on their own floor, the final score being 28 to 18. This game left North Loup the only undefeated team in conference play. The North Loup lads played a pressing game man to man defense, and were headed by Arcadia only once, early in the game. Due to the splendid work of North Loup's guards, the challengers had considerable difficulty in locating the basket most of the time. The North Loup cagers who participated in this final conference game were Wayne Barber, Kenton Kerr, Dean Reddon, Ben Sinteck, Charles Goodrich, Robert Kerr, Dick Hutchins and Dale Hawkes.

North Loup also won their second team game with the Arcadia seconds by a ten point margin. Manchester, Wolf, Mulligan and Don Smith paced North Loup in this contest. The North Loup team has lost only one scheduled game this season, dropping a 29 to 22 decision to Elba about two weeks ago. —Mrs. Richard Lahr and son Stephen of Lincoln came to Grand Island Monday and came home from there with her mother, Mrs. C. C. Dale, for a few days visit here. Her husband is attending Nebraska university.

Lange Truck Trapped When Main Span of River Bridge Collapses

Damage which will require an expenditure of $50,000 or more for a new bridge resulted Monday afternoon when the main span of the bridge across the North Loup river at Ord collapsed, as seen in this picture. Henry Lange's truck was trapped in the wrecked bridge and can be seen in the background.

Labor Member of Parliament Pleads Lend-Lease Need

Britain "Down, Almost Out, and Needs Continuing Help," Is Edwards' Theme

A plea for continuance of lend-lease as the most feasible method of giving England the help she needs in the reconstruction period ahead was made by Alfred Edwards, labor member of the British House of Commons, in the second talk on the Rotary club's Institute of International Understanding forum held Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. A good sized crowd attended the lecture.

England is "down and almost out" was the contention of Mr. Edwards, who says the British people are starving and must have food but most of all must be given financial support so they can get factories into operation and again become self-sufficient. World War II, of which Great Britain bore the brunt, is not ended and will not officially end until a declaration to this effect is made by President Truman, ran his argument, and until hostilities are officially declared closed the lend-lease agreement which prevailed throughout the war should remain in effect.

Mr. Edwards has been an active labor member of Parliament since 1935 and at the same time is managing director of Harrison Brothers, Ltd., a large industrial concern in Middlesbrough, England. He is also a journalist of great ability, a noted author and economist, and has made frequent lecture tours both in his own country and in the United States. The Ord audience found him a keen student of international affairs and a forceful public speaker but was not especially sympathetic to him, as he seemed critical of the great contribution of the United States to winning of the war.

"Maintaining World Trade and a High Standard of Living" was his official topic and he stoutly maintained it is this country's responsibility to see that England's living standard is raised to pre-war level, regardless of cost to the United States. Next speaker on the Rotary club's forum will be Harvey Stowers, of Los Angeles, who will talk on "The Constructive Use of Air Transport."

Goff & Sons Gilts in $175 Average

Fifty-six head of Spotted Poland China bred gilts brought an average of $174.77 at the purebred sale held by Clifford Goff & Son at the livestock market's pavilion here Monday. Top price was $400 and another gilt brought $330. Seven hogs were bought by buyers from out of the state, one going to Callifornia and another to Ohio. Several head will remain in Valley and Garfield counties. A big crowd was present and Mr. Goff was well satisfied with result of the sale, though the average price was slightly lower than his bred gilts brought last spring. —Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing returned last Friday from a month's trip to California where they left the doctor's daughter, Charlotte, and the new daughter in fine health.

Safeway Supermarket to Open Next Week

Ord's newest and largest store, the gigantic Safeway supermarket will be open to the public next week. Adjacent to their present building, the new enterprise practically quadruples their present outlet, and presents the latest in fixtures and equipment.

Three new employees, all veterans, will be added to the store's complement, making eight in all, the Quiz learned today. In addition, several will be employed part time on rush days. Complete stocking of the new outlet will be finished Saturday. Features of the new store include a 28 foot meat counter, with walk in coolers for meats, dairy products and vegetables. Fruit and vegetable display space will be nearly 60 feet. Three checking counters will provide for fast traffic. Next week's Quiz will carry the full story of Ord's new store in words and pictures.

More Paper Needed to Make Car-load

Will Hold Car at C. B. & Q. Dock Until Monday, Says Salvage Chairman

At least ten tons more of waste paper are needed to fill the car being loaded this week at the Burlington dock in Ord, says County Salvage Chairman R. Clare Clement, and since this will be the final car shipped from this territory and no market for waste paper will exist after it is shipped he is hopeful that everybody having salvaged paper will bring it in at once. Small lots will be bought at the car at the rate of 70¢ per hundred pounds, while larger consignments will be paid for later when the car reaches its Quaker Oats factory destination and is settled for. Paper is still in very short supply and it is still a patriotic duty to salvage as much of it as possible, says the chairman.

Clement's Oil Co., Expanding Station

With the purchase and remodeling of the frame building directly north of their station, the Clements Oil Co. will shortly offer an expanded service to their customers. Plans call for the installation of indoor grease and wash racks at the station, a large storage room, and additional display space. The firm will also enlarge its driveway to accommodate additional customers.

Committee Meets. The entertainment committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce met with the secretary, John L. Andersen, Friday, Feb. 15. Present were F. V. Haught, Joe Rysavy, R. E. Teague, and the secretary. The meeting was to arrange for the corn yield contest scheduled for Wednesday, but the committee was handicapped by the absence of C. C. Dale. Mr. Haught was appointed to contact him when he returned. The membership committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce met with the secretary Tuesday evening and completed all plans for the coming membership drive. —Mrs. Anna Nelson was a Grand Island visitor Monday.

Six Valley County Corn Yield Contest Winners Honored

Robert Scott Raised 102.1 Bu. to Place First; Greeley County Held Contest

A yield of 102.1 bushels of corn to the acre in 1945 was posted in the Loup valley region as six Valley county farmers were chosen for honors to be awarded at a luncheon being held at noon today in the Knights of Columbus hall, Ord. The meeting starts at 11:00 a. m. The farmers are to be honored by the Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the corn yield contest. D. L. Gross, extension agronomist of the University of Nebraska, and also Walter Fitts, crops specialist, are to be leading speakers. D. B. McCoskie, head of Valley county soil conservation service, will discuss commercial fertilizers and irrigation. Awards will be made by E. L. Vogelanz, the Chamber president. Carl Dale, county agent, will preside. Here are the prize winning corn yields and how they were secured by the contestants:

Robert Scott, Arcadia, recorded 102.1 bushels per acre. Planted on ground rotated with oats in 1941 and alfalfa in 1942, 1943 and 1944. Used surface planting and irrigated twice. A. H. Easterbrook, Arcadia, had a yield of 91.8 bushels. Surface planted and irrigated once. Planted on land continuously in alfalfa from 1941 to 1945. R. E. Garnick, Elyria, yield of 81.1 bushels. Planted on ground previously in alfalfa. Irrigated three times. Surface planted. Lloyd Geweke, Ord, had a yield of 77.3 bushels with no irrigation. Ground had been rotated in potatoes and corn before planting. Used 100 pounds nitrogen fertilizer to acre. Cash Weiniak, Ord, had a yield of 72.4 bushels on ground irrigated twice. In alfalfa four previous years. Kenneth Brown, Arcadia, recorded 71 bushels. Land planted to corn four previous years. One irrigation.

In the Greeley county corn yield contest, also held in 1945, Frank Sullivan of Spalding was the winner with a yield of 97.4 bushels to the acre. His corn was irrigated twice. The crop was surface planted. Other Greeley county farmers honored: Vandenberg Brothers Spalding, had 94.8 bushels to acre. Used 15 tons of manure per acre. Irrigated three times. James Sullivan, Spalding, recorded 74.3 bushels with three irrigations on surface planting. Tom Joyce, Spalding had a yield of 72.7 bushels with two irrigations. Used some ground in corn for fifth year. Emmett J. Lee, Spalding, followed rotation of oats, corn, barley and corn and had 67.2 bushels per acre. Used 10 tons of manure and irrigated twice. Yield of 58.4 bushels.

In County Court. Vencil Skala was arrested Saturday night by V. A. Andersen, deputy sheriff, on a charge of intoxication, which was filed against him in Judge John L. Andersen's court Tuesday morning, by County Attorney John P. Misko. This was a second offense for Mr. Skala, the first one being Oct. 1st, 1945. He entered a plea of guilty as charged, and was given ten days in the county jail and ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Ord Bridge Across North Loup River Collapsed Monday

County Board Meets, Takes Action; New Bridge Is Contemplated

At 20 minutes past 4 p. m. Monday the south half of the south span of the North Loup river bridge at Ord collapsed suddenly without warning. Apparently the break started about 20 feet from the south pier, as the south end remained on the pier and the north end pulled loose from the pier in the middle of the stream.

Henry Lange had started across this span from the south with his straight job truck, and W. L. Blessing came on the bridge from the north at about the same time. They met in the center of the bridge and Lange had the front end of his truck on the north half of the span when the bridge went down, leaving it with the front end up in the air.

Blessing saw the bridge going down in time, and stopped a few feet short of going over the edge. Later he found it necessary to drive around by Elyria to get home. Lange also got his truck off the bridge with the help of the wrecker and men from the Ord Auto Sales company. He sustained no damage except for three boards broken by a beam of the bridge and possible damage of the engine from water.

As soon as the truck was pulled off the bridge, he was able to drive home with it. He also escaped without a scratch, and says that the truck settled down so quietly that he hardly felt any jar at all. Asked what he thought when he felt the bridge going down, Henry said, "I thought, why did this have to happen to me."

The bridge was built in 1903, at a time when there were no autos or trucks in the country, and the heaviest traffic of the time was the steam traction engine and threshing machine. Ten years later it was reinforced and a concrete floor of 6 inches in thickness was laid to take care of the heavier traffic then developing.

To protect this concrete from the action of heavy trucks, dirt was put on top of the concrete, and this is now about 6 inches thick. According to rough estimate, the weight of this concrete and dirt alone on the 194 foot span is 160,000 pounds, or 80 tons. It is believed that it was this terrific weight, sustained over a period of years, which caused the final collapse of the bridge.

It so happened that the Valley county board was meeting Tuesday morning for a conference with L. R. Jones, district engineer with the state highway department, of Grand Island. The proposition was talked over with Mr. Jones and upon motion by Ball, seconded by Suchanek, it was voted unanimously to enter into an arrangement with the state relative to replacing the damaged bridge.

The exact wording of the motion is as follows: "Resolved that the Valley County board consider entering into an agreement with the State of Nebraska department of roads and irrigation for the purpose of matching federal aid secondary road funds with county funds to construct a bridge over the North Loup river near Ord, together with the approach thereto, to complete construction of the secondary highway between Ord and Ericson."

John R. Haskell Moves His Office

John R. Haskell, Ord insurance dealer, has completed the moving of his offices to the building formerly occupied by the Roost. The L. D. Rodgers Plumbing Service, Murray Furnace & Sheet Metal Works and Mr. Haskell share the building. Last week's Quiz story might have intimated that Mr. Rodgers did not occupy space there but such is not the case.

Two More Dances at Ord Opera House

Two more dances have been scheduled for the Ord Opera House, Chuck Baylor, dance manager, announced this week. On Saturday, February 23, Gay servicemen and his band of all ex-servicemen will play. Feistner recently finished a two year engagement at the Hotel Plaza, San Francisco. Jug Brown and his orchestra will furnish the music for a dance scheduled for March 2.

Meet the Business Men of Ord

No. 3: the Blacksmiths.
Blacksmithing has always been one of the pioneer businesses, a business which is absolutely essential in a new territory. Until an implement was made with plenty of repair parts is established, the settler must depend on the blacksmith to sharpen his tools and to make any repairs when something breaks. Blacksmiths meant much to the county in the 70s. We all heard the story of how Mortensen took his plow to Grand Island to have it sharpened. That is a true story, and many other pioneers of the same thing, before the first blacksmith appeared in Ord.

Just who Ord's first blacksmith was is not known now, but records of the Ord office show who were plying the trade some 63 years ago. In volume 1, No. 4, of the Ord Quiz, dated April 27, 1882, appears the following ad: "F. E. Hewett, blacksmith, Ord, Nebr." A few months later the ad of "S. A. Matt, Blacksmith, Wagon shop connection. Horseshoeing a specialty. All Work Guaranteed," also appeared. He had the spot where Pete Darges shop is now. This same Frank Hewett was in business for a long time, and many of Ordites still remember him. Other famous names of the early days were Johnny Work, Joe Warwick, John and Charley Bokorny, Fred Hather, all of whom have been gone these many years, but they all knew their job and they did their bit to make Ord and Valley county a better place in which to live. Today Ord has three blacksmith shops, all good ones and all run by men who know their business, and who have more business than they can do.

Joe Rysavy was 50 years old Feb. 3, but he don't look that old. He was born in Sheridan county, and when he was three years old the family moved to Colfax county. In 1910 they moved to a farm north of Ord in Garfield county, and while living there, they made Ord their trading place. In 1932 Joe and his family moved to Ord.

He was married to Mary Zabloucil, daughter of John Zabloucil, in 1917 and they have four children: three boys, Paul, William and Joseph, and one girl, Marie Ann, who is still in school. Joe did his first blacksmithing on the farm, but his first shops were located on L street in the block east of the court house square. He bought his present building from the Stara estate about a year ago. This is located on north 15th street.

Mr. Rysavy says that Ord is a nice, progressive town, a town with a great future. He says that when men in business could keep going through the tough years of 1934, 1935, and 1936, Ord must be a good town. He envies the time when he and his three sons will be located in a new shop he expects to build some day on the lots where he was formerly located.

Paul, the oldest Rysavy son, is now 24 years old. He went into the service in July 1942, with the air corps. He was located at first in Newfoundland, and later in Hawaii. He was discharged from the service in November, and is now helping his father, doing the electric and acetylene welding. The second son, William, 21, went into the service in July 1943, and is still there.

Joseph, the youngest son, is now 18, and is learning the blacksmithing business under his father and older brother, Rysavy, sr., is offering his sons an interest in the business, and they will all have a part in it when they are all home again. The plowshares plied in orderly rows show the amount of work there is to be done. Paul was busy changing all metal wheels of a tractor and putting on rims for rubber tires, a job that is quite popular around the country these days.

Farther north on 15th street in the building known as the former Milligan garage, is Ord's youngest blacksmith shop owner, Charles Svoboda is 37. He was born in Howard county in 1908, when he was nine years old the family moved to Valley county and lived out on a farm until Charles was 24 years old. Coming to Ord in 1932, he started working for George Work in 1934, and worked for him three years.

About that time he bought an acetylene welding outfit and started up a shop at his home near the south end of 17th street. He continued to do his work there until 1940, when he moved his shop down town. He first had the building on the lot just north of the Ord post office. Later he moved to, where Worm Brothers transfer is now located.

August 18, 1945, he moved from there to the brick building where he is now located, and which he had bought. During the fall he extended the back of this building and remodeled it into a nice home, so his shop and home are now under the same roof. The family moved into this home, which had cost approximately $1,000, Nov. 1.

Mr. Svoboda married the former Louise Puncocar seven years ago January 16. They have two girls and three boys. The girls are 14 and 11 years old, and the boys are 9, 7, and 4. Charles takes pride in the fact that he has several items of equipment not often seen in a small town blacksmith shop, among them a large lathe and a metal cutting power saw.

Charlie's boys may be big enough to help in the shop some day, but at the present time he is getting a lot of help from his brother Raymond who is just out of the army, having served four and one half years in the American theater of operations. He is showing special aptitude for the work, and expects to remain with his brother right along. Raymond married Mary Frances Manchester Aug. 26, 1944.

Jens Hansen is Ord's oldest blacksmith, both in years and in experience. He is 61 years old, and has been running a shop of his own in the building east of the Noll Seed company's office since 1912, the same year that Anthony Thill started up in business here. Jens was born in Roskilde, Denmark, and came to Ord May 11, 1909, when he was 25 years old.

He had spent 7 years learning the trade in Denmark, and so was well qualified for his work, although of course they had no acetylene or electric welding in those days, a line he and his son have learned since. Hansen started to work for Fred Hather in 1910, in the building on the corner where the Service Oil company is now located. Two years later he bought his present location, which was a former breeding barn.

He put in a plank floor, and since then has recovered the roof. Through the years he has built up his home, located to the east of the shop on the same lots. In 1911 he married Dagmar Lund who was employed in the Rudolph Sorensen home. They have three children, Hans, Mrs. Ada Rashaw and Mrs. Alma Tunncliff. Jens likes Ord. He

Col. Joe Leedom, publisher of the Gordon Journal, has filed for state senator from the 40th district. He is a veteran of both world wars, and has been in the publishing game for nearly that long. In going into the political field the Colonel is following in the footsteps of his predecessor, Dwight Griswold.

Word from James P. Murray of Sargent, who has been in the Veterans hospital in Lincoln as the result of being hit by an auto recently, writes home that he is getting along fine and should be home again in a short time. Luckily for him no bones were broken and he suffered no internal injuries.

From the Ravenna News we learn that the beavers are returning to the Beaver, a creek not far from Ravenna. They may be new to the Beaver, but they have been numerous enough on nearby all Valley county creeks to become a nuisance, and a number of landowners have been granted special permits to trap them and thus keep down the number.

From the Scotia Register we learn that Wayne Franssen has caught three beaver near Scotia, the latest one weighing 30 pounds and the largest, 45 pounds. They were caught on the William Bredthauer farm south of Scotia.

C. J. Malmsten, well known Burwell rancher, some time ago set aside a sum of money for the construction of a community building for Burwell. Because of the war, no action was taken at the time, but last week a committee composed of Ben Rose, Clifford Anderson and Bert Gram, was appointed to have charge of arrangements, and so in due time the building will become a reality.

Bill Williams of Ord spent some time in the Palmer territory last week in the interests of the Saunders alfalfa mills. He was busy part of the time baling alfalfa on the Bahensky farms in Gage valley.

Miner Harris of the Palmer Journal published a poetic edition last week, or at least that is what it appeared to be. It was an eight page paper, with regular news on four pages, and the poetry, which was all blank verse, on the other four.

Schuyler is to have an airport according to the Schuyler Sun. Frank J. Haveika, leased land there, and will construct an airport on it. He will erect a four plane hangar at once. He already has a list of 50 prospective flying students.

Last, but not least is the following item from Edw. Krikao's "Rough Edges" column in his Comstock News: "Today I received a letter from George Hastings of Ord in which he said he wouldn't take my old paper says he had made a good living here, and has found it a good place to raise a family.

His son Hans is now 33 years of age, and is not married. He learned the trade from his father in his younger years, doing most of the acetylene and electric welding and lathe work. He graduated from Ord high school in 1930, and that year they bought their first acetylene outfit. He worked until 1942, when he was called into the service in December.

He served three years, being discharged Dec. 1, 1945, ten months of that time being in the European Theater of operations. In that time he attained the rank of sergeant. Hans says there is about the same amount of work now as in the days before the war, but that tractor machinery means heavier work. There are fewer farmers, but the amount of blacksmith work does not vary much. Like Paul Rysavy, Hans was busy working over tractor wheels for rubber tires.

Steaks!

The average easterner would jump up and down for joy if he could get steak like we sell out here in Nebraska. And he'd experience more enjoyment than ever if that steak came from our market because we buy only choice young beeves, fatten them to perfection, butcher them with skill. The meat is allowed to age properly before it goes on our counters.

SAD STORY

with a happy ending!

"It Happened Once Too Often!"

I knew for a long time that my car needed an overhaul. But, like every one else, I kept putting it off—repair services hadn't been too rapid, and I figured I'd get a new car anyhow.

I put it off too long. And I had to have the old bus towed in. To make it worse, my wife expected me to take her to club that afternoon, and so she decided to ride along as far as the garage. And did she tell me off on the way down town! It was murder!

"Run's Like A Million Now!"

"But things are different now! I had the Nelson Motor Co. give the old bus an overhaul. And what a difference! She purrs like a kitten, and starting on these frosty mornings is duck soup.

"And the way this new car situation looks, guess I'll hang on to the old bus for a while. She runs like a million now!"

RUSSIAN ELECTION It was estimated that one hundred million ballots were cast at an election held Feb. 10 in Russia.

There is but one political party in Russia, and this party sees to it that there is no other party.

The question is, why go through the mockery of an election in which the will of the people cannot be expressed.

But the vital difference is that there were two tickets in the field, and the people had the right to express their choice.

ARE WE WAR MINDED We may not be war minded, but we are a people of an open mind, which means that we are susceptible to argument.

One of these items appeared in the papers about a week ago, under the heading "U. S. First Target in World War III."

Today we stand at the parting of the ways. To the right stretches the pleasant path of rugged individualism which we have been following ever since we became a nation.

Today the trend toward the left is gaining momentum, and, if permitted to continue, it may engulf all of us.

Such is fame The question of slavery came to a head in 1860. The southern states threatened to secede from the union if Abraham Lincoln were elected.

they did, headed by South Carolina. The other southern states were North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Virginia, Texas, and the border-line state of Kentucky.

These states all claimed to hate Lincoln, yet we find that in every one of these states the name of Lincoln is perpetuated either in the name of a town, a county or a parish.

Georgia has a Lincoln, and a Lincoln county; Kentucky and Mississippi each have a Lincoln county. On the other hand, the name of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, does not appear as a separate name in any of the states of the south.

Lincoln was the champion of a winning cause, a martyr to the cause he believed to be right. Oblivion is the fate of the conquered. Davis was defeated. A name as great as that of Lincoln always outlives hate and prejudice.

It is remarkable how little of fact and how much of fable we know about the Father of Our Country. That Washington was a remarkable man we have little reason to doubt, and yet the tales that we learned in childhood about him have been proven in a large measure, untrue.

For example, of recent years plenty of proof has been found that the story about Washington chopping down the cherry tree is not founded on facts, but is rather a work of somebody's overwrought imagination.

Then there is the tale of how Washington threw a dollar across the Rappahannock river at the city of Fredericksburg. Washington as a young man was a great athlete, and no doubt he liked to throw rocks, as all young men do.

When there is so much of magnificent fact clinging about the memory of the Greatest American it is a pity that we must keep clinging to these items of fable.

February is the month of famous birthdays. Here in America we have two truly great men, one of whom made us a nation, the other kept us a united people.

Cold is all a matter of relativity. We may think we are cold, when we really are not. In the early days a certain well known storekeeper got a thermometer.

It was really surprising to note the effect it had on people. On a really cold morning a man might come along, humped over and shivering.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT. by John L. Ward.

Now the secret is out. Somebody has told what DDT really is. It is dichlorodiphenyl ether. Is it any wonder it has such an effect on the bugs? Not that the bugs have such short names, as for instance, leptinotarsa decimlineata, the common potato beetle.

As Ed, the Ad Man, says: "How time flies for an idle mind. It'll soon be fly time again!" And speaking of flies brings back thoughts of fishing, and the scientific names for fish are about as tough as those of insects.

In thumbing through an encyclopedia, Model of 1890, the other day I ran across an interesting bit of biography. It was interesting because I had not noticed the name in any other books I had looked through.

Ralph W. Norman is worried. He spent the greater part of his life on that little ranch in south Ord, just across the line in the third ward. He was getting along in years, so he thought it was time to graduate into the second ward.

My Own Column By H. D. Leggett

Now that I can again eat almost anything that I want (I never expected to do so again) I can begin to talk about good things to eat. Now take breakfast, in my judgment there is nothing better for the early morning meal than a dozen nice pancakes, a few slices of bacon or fresh side meat, and two or three fried eggs.

In writing to renew his Quiz subscription, Chas. H. Gorney of Omaha says that they are always anxiously looking for the paper but that it comes so irregularly, any time from Thursday to Monday.

In looking through a box of "trash" the other day I found a picture. It was a picture of a young man. If I wasn't quite so modest, I would say that he was a pretty good looking guy. He was tall and straight, his hair was black and combed curly, he sported a nice suit with white vest and a nifty bow tie.

I am not surprised when, in writing to renew his Quiz for a couple of years, Harold M. Kusek says that though he has been away from Valley county for 3 1/2 years, he still finds much of interest in the paper and that he would not want to be without it.

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

A North Loup business directory of 1907 or 1908 in connection with a Union Pacific advertisement was found this week in the glass in a picture that Owen found at the depot here, broke and the card on the back of the picture proved to be the directory. At least thirty-five years old, the Union Pacific schedule contains train schedules, a passenger and a mixed train up in the morning and down in the afternoon. Advertisers include the Arlington Hotel, J. H. Eyerly, proprietor, with rates of $2.00 a day; August Eislie, city drayman, all kinds of light and heavy hauling; G. L. Larkin, market; I. J. Manchester, C. E. Bellef, livery stable, special attention given to commercial trade; J. H. Clark and son, lunch, short orders, confectionery, ice cream, soda and oysters in season; C. B. Clark, harness dealer; H. E. Davis, Furniture and Undertaker; G. F. Houtby, dealer in implements, wagons, buggies, lamps, windmills and tanks; E. Miller blacksmithing whose business was for sale and the North Valley Real Estate company, with the names of H. B. Sample, C. C. Sample, J. H. Eyerly and P. E. Pugh. And on the last line the inscription, The quiz print. There were no dry goods or grocery store ads although at the time there must have been at least three of each. Neither were there any automobile or tractor ads.

The Farmers Road show, presented by the Nebraska College of Agriculture in the North Loup community building Friday afternoon, was sponsored by the North Loup Lions club who served coffee and doughnuts between the films shown. Models, pictures, exhibits and demonstrations which mean help to the farmer in labor and crops and soil conservation exhibit, extension exhibit and one on better health were among the exhibits. Films shown were "Betterment of Rural Health," and one entitled "Heaven With a Fence Around It," which dealt with the problems of the returning G. I. County Agent Dale and Miss Phyllis Dodge were present to assist with the show. Bill Cook and his agriculture class helped set the exhibit in place. Committee from the Lions club was Rev. Mitchell, Roy Hudson and Ronald Cress. Mothers and wives of Lions club members made and served the coffee and doughnuts. About one hundred and fifty interested people were present.

Junior league members of the Methodist church enjoyed a Valentine party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Stella Kerr.

Mrs. J. A. Barber arrived home Thursday evening after a five week vacation spent in Minnesota and Wisconsin. At Dodge Center, Minn., she was a guest of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Chas Thorgate and at Montgomery, Minn., she visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. W. W. Balridge and attended the wedding of her niece, Patty Balridge. In Eau Claire, Wis. Mrs.

Barber saw her brother, John Thorgate and her sister, Mary, both of whom teach in the city schools there. At Milton, Wis. she was a guest in the home of Mrs. Melva Maxson.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barber returned Thursday from Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Barber has been a patient in Mayo Bros. hospital. While there he submitted to an operation for a serious throat ailment. The two small children of Mrs. Iris Lefers, Patty and Michael, came to North Loup with the Barbers. Mrs. J. A. Barber also accompanied them to and from Minnesota.

The pinochle and bridge benefit held Wednesday night in the community building was sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Ross Williams won the ladies high prize for pinochle and George Jensen low. For bridge high for ladies went to Mrs. Ruth Duryea of Scotia and low to Mrs. W. O. Zanger. Roy Hudson won high for the men in bridge and Bob Hendricks low. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Babcock and Russell Barber spent Friday in Grand Island.

Sheldon Van Horn was a guest in the Carl Walkup home near Scotia Sunday evening to help celebrate Mr. Walkup's birthday.

Venetia Roby who has been ill with flu and complications for more than six weeks was able to go back to school Monday.

Writing from Greenville, Ia. to renew her quiz, Mrs. Jennie Hawkes says she always enjoys the paper and reads nearly everything in it. Since they were here almost twenty years, there is always news of someone they know. Lt. Ruth Hawkes, who served with the flying ambulance corps in Europe is still near Paris and has been made head nurse so does not fly as much as she did, but has lots of work to look after. She hopes to be sent home soon.

Mrs. Erlo Babcock was able to be brought home from the Clinic hospital Saturday morning and is convalescing from an appendicitis operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Jensen have moved to the Melvin Koelling farm just north of town the past week. The George Jensen's will move to the Jackman place where Ronald Cress lived. Aubrey Davis has bought the place where the Jensen's have been living and Wayne Babcock will farm the place where Aubrey is now living.

Goodrich Gets First Jeep for Mail Route Use

To Clifford Goodrich, North Loup mail carrier, goes the honor and pleasure of obtaining the first standard jeep put out in this section of the country since the close of the war. He went to Omaha not long ago and drove it home. This is not the army jeep, but the type the company is putting out for general post war use.

Last week he drove the vehicle to Ord and took his friend, Judge John L. Anderson, out for a trial spin. The judge is much enthused with it, and hopes to see the time when he can have one of his own. He thinks it should be much easier to guide than a garden tractor and much less likely to run into the river.

During the War Goodrich made himself useful in many ways combatting the manpower shortage by running the North Loup picture show, by crying auctions on occasion, by planting signs, and by doing straight painting when no regular painter was available. To his credit it might be said that he does a good job at all of them. In case you don't know, Goodrich is the short fellow in the above picture.

tended church at the Methodist church in North Loup Sunday morning and spent the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Ward. Mrs. Sadie Armstrong was a former school mate of Mr. Ward and a teacher of Mrs. Ward.

Employee of Ord Firm Killed by a Hit-Run Driver

Paul Taylor, Driver of Worm Bros. Truck, Instantly Killed Friday Eve.

Paul C. Taylor, 44, who lived at 4235 Camden Ave., in Omaha was instantly killed at 2 a. m. Friday by a hit-run driver at 16th and Cuming streets, where he was about to board a street car from a safety zone. He was thrown or carried 44 feet, and one of his shoes was found 105 feet from the safety zone. Police later arrested Richard C. Jacobs, 22, of Council Bluffs, in connection with the Taylor death. He admitted striking something, but said he thought it was a car. He claimed he was driving 35 miles per hour, and was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. Jacobs, a private first class, was recently discharged from the army after serving in England, France and Australia. With him in the car were two sailors and two men recently discharged from the army. One of these men told police that after passing Cuming street Jacobs said "That guy got in my way, and I clipped him." One of the men, Mr. Abels, said he urged Jacobs to stop and go back, which he did not do. Mr. Taylor is married and the father of three daughters, the youngest of whom is 11 years of age. He had been driving the east end of a run for Worm Bros. for the past three or four months, taking one truck out as far as Columbus, and bringing in the other truck. On that run Wilson Chatfield, who has a business of his own here, had the spare time, and took the Worm Bros. truck to Columbus, meeting Taylor there, so, he was the last Ord man to see him alive. Taylor took the truck on his way home when he was hit and killed. Worm Bros. had found him a very reliable and efficient employee. A total of $125 has already been subscribed to a fund for the widow and three children of Mr. Taylor. The fund was started by an Omaha neighbor of Mr. Taylor's, Mr. Albert O. Jensen, who sent $25. World-Herald Good Fellows Charities, Inc. promptly added $100 to the fund. The World Herald will accept further contributions, or checks may be sent to the Ord Quiz who will forward them.

Six Seniors Play Final Home Game

Six of Ord's young men competed in their final home game of basketball Saturday night against the Curtis Aggies. They still have the district tournament at O'Neill ahead of them, but Ord fans will not see them in action in Ord any more. These lads have done a fine job in upholding the honor of Ord high and we are proud of them. They are: TOM TOLAN—a senior, has been very active in sports. He has played basketball 3 years as a guard, lettering all three years. He played quarterback on the football team for three years and lettered for two. He went out for the 880 in track and lettered two years. He also lettered in golf one year. All State honorable mention at quarterback. All Three Loups Tournament guard. LLOYD (BABE) HURLBERT—another senior, has played basketball for four years, playing all of the positions, lettering two years. He played center and guard on the football team and lettered four years. In track he went out for the high jump and broad jump. All Conference football center. JOE KOMINEK—Joe is one of the six senior basketball players this year. He has lettered in basketball for the past two years, playing forward. So far this year, regardless of being out the past 2 games because of a foot injury, he has stayed second high on the scoring list. Besides basketball, Joe lettered in football this year in which he played left halfback. Track also was on his list last spring as helping to get in shape for football. HUGH CAHILL—Hugh is another of the six senior basketball players. This is his second year during which he has played forward and has lettered both years. He played football last year filling the quarter back position, but was unable to play this year because of a hip injury. In addition to basketball and football Hugh also lettered in track in his Junior year. Honorable mention as forward and Three Loups All Tourney team. ROGER MILLER—One of our senior athletes enjoys his basketball and only wishes he could play more. This year he lettered in both football and basketball. LE ROY NOLL—This year LeRoy is a football and basketball letter man having played in 6 football games and 5 basket ball games. His advice as well as example to future athletes is very carefully. Some of the football games he played in this year were: Burwell, Central City, Loup City, St. Paul, Grand Island 2nd team and Burwell 2nd team.

Presbyterians Will Build New Church Here Soon Structure to Be Just West of United Brethren Church; Murray Gives Lots A new house of worship will be built this year by the Presbyterian church of Ord. The new church will be erected on lots just west of the United Brethren Church, and will cost between $25,000 and $30,000. Rev. R. T. Cordry, pastor, informed the Quiz. "A building committee is at present studying various churches in the state and looking over architectural plans," Rev. Cordry said. "Of course, they have not as yet settled on a definite plan so it is impossible to give anything more than an estimate of what the building will cost." On the committee are Roy Randolph, chairman, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, James B. Ollis and Mrs. E. S. Murray Building site for the new church was given by Mr. and Mrs. Murray. The couple had purchased the lots some time ago, intending to build their residence there, but decided that the needs of the community might be better satisfied with their act. Rev. Cordry told the Quiz that at this time he could not state dimensions or projected size of the new church. "We know just about what we want," he said, "and we don't intend to over-build. The new church will take care of the needs of our congregation comfortably and will be in harmonious architectural style. A full basement is planned to include Sunday school rooms, a kitchen and other conveniences."

Scotia Coyote Hunt Was Very Successful

About three hundred men participated in a coyote hunt north of Scotia and west of Horace Sunday. The hunt covered 4 sections, and the men lined up and started toward the middle of the drive at about 1:30 p.m. Sorensen of the Scotia cooperative was in general charge. The men had plenty of fun shooting jackrabbits until the coyotes began to appear. Eleven of the coyotes were in the drive and none escaped. They were later sold in Scotia and the money was donated to the March of Dimes. Lloyd McGrew and Bud Martin from Ord participated, and Russell Jensen, now of Scotia, was in the lineup.

Quiz Readers Warned Of Two New Rackets

Two new rackets have made their appearance in the state, the Quiz learned this week. One of them is perhaps the nastiest trick ever pulled upon parents or wives of service men who were killed overseas. The racketeer usually writes the survivors that he was a friend or buddy of the slain serviceman, and for a small fee, usually from one to five dollars, will send a picture of the serviceman's grave. The picture of course is a stock photo. Quiz readers who may receive such letters are requested to turn them over to their postmaster. The FBI has a steam heated cell for the racketeers. Another racket, reported from Saunders county, is the soliciting of magazine subscriptions with the additional heart appeal that a certain percentage of the funds will go to the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars to be used for wheel chairs and the like for crippled veterans. Sometimes the solicitor will also ask for cash donations. Neither the Legion or the VFW in Valley county have or probably will endorse such a scheme.

The proceedings of the meeting should be of general interest at this time because they have to deal with needed construction on secondary highways and culverts and bridges thereon. They also explain in detail the three-year plan whereby the nation plans not only to improve the highways neglected during the war, but also to furnish employment for a large group of people during the post war period.

Present for the meeting were Joe Jablonski, chairman of the board, Supervisors Suchanek, Ball, Hansen, Smith, Barber and Psota; Tracy Hamilton, county highway commissioner, Leonard Woods, county clerk, A. R. Brox, bookkeeper for the county highway department, County Judge John L. Andersen and Mr. Jones.

Chairman Jablonski called upon Mr. Jones to address the meeting, which he did, explaining that he was meeting all county boards in his district and explaining the federal aid program to them. The proposition is that the state wants to know just how many counties are planning to match federal aid on their road program, so that arrangements can be made to match it.

He said that the past legislature made it possible for county boards to levy the amount of one mill for the purpose of constructing and maintaining roads; that some counties had done this, and that others of which Valley county was one, had not. The county has other funds available, but the funds must be used on the improved secondary road system.

The location of roads laid out for improvement as well as the location of bridges is largely up to the county board, but the state reserves the right to insist on helping plan the location for the best interests of the road system of the entire state. The state maintains these roads after they have been completed.

All federal matched funds must be used in a part of the general secondary road system, and not in some isolated spot. "The state does not require that the counties match federal funds in their road program," Mr. Jones pointed out, "but it is simply calling attention to the fact that this can be done by the counties."

The state highway department must match federal funds on primary roads and this takes up about all the funds available to the state. Once a contract is entered into between a county and the state, the state draws up the necessary plans, looks after the letting by competitive bidding, sees that construction meets all specifications, and finally approves the completed work.

The county makes a request in writing for federal funds, specifies where and for what the funds are to be spent. The state will then make an estimate. When the county approves this estimate, a contract is entered into, and the state makes out a detailed report and lets the contracts at no cost to the county. From then on the county and the federal government match funds.

The money must be made available to the state by the county during the construction period, and any minor amount left over when all bills are paid will be returned to the county. Mr. Hansen then brought up the matter of the North Loup river bridge. Mr. Jones said the state had no funds available for the bridge, which would have to be constructed through federal aid, or wait for a legislative appropriation.

Jones made an unofficial estimate of the cost of the bridge, multiplying the length by $150 per foot, or about $60,000, but warned that these figures could not be accepted as final. He said they had had disappointing results in the letting of contracts recently, especially on bridges. For these the steel is available, but no lumber is to be had for forms except on the black market, and in most cases contractors refused to bid.

He said it would be logical to build the new bridge in a new location, as thus the county board could repair the old bridge and use it while building the new one, and they would not interfere with each other. He said the use of county funds now would make no difference later, as this county would be allocated its full share of any funds made available by the next legislature.

The members of the board were all agreed that a new bridge was a "must" proposition and Mr. Jones stated that he had already contacted the office in Lincoln and they were ready to cooperate in every way possible to hurry the construction of the bridge. The present bridge is composed of four 94 foot spans in two sections, and the new bridge will probably be about the same size.

Most incomed by the loss of the bridge is the Stewart Dairy, located about three miles north of Ord and across the river. They found it necessary

Also partly marooned was Supervisor Evet Smith, who had to travel some nineteen miles to get to Ord from his home north of town. He, too, went by way of Elyria. County Judge John L. Andersen had his sale, but did not get moved in time, so he will either have to remain where he is, or move to town by way of Elyria or Sumter, although the family is living less than a mile from town.

Extension Club News. Feb. 14 the U. R. Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Earl Smith for an all day meeting. There were 26 present to enjoy a very nice dinner. In the afternoon the president, Mrs. Ida Wolf, presided at the business session. Twelve members answered roll call. The project leaders, Mrs. William Graf and Mrs. Ross Williams, gave a very interesting lesson in "New Views in Cupboards, Food Preparation Center, Stove Center, Sink Center and Dish Center". The ladies thought this was about the best lesson of the year. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Ross Williams Feb. 27.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR She's as Lively as a Youngster— Now her Backache is better Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS... HENRY: "I've heard that same thing several times lately... that alcoholics are really sick people. It was news to me. Do you agree with that statement, Judge?" OLD JUDGE: "Yes, it's true, Henry. It's no notion of mine... it's a statement made by scientists who have studied the subject." HENRY: "What did they find out, Judge?" OLD JUDGE: "Well, as a result of their medical research, they found out that approximately 95% of the people who drink, drink sensibly. 5% do so unwisely, at times. Included in that 5% is the small percentage known as alcoholics." HENRY: "But why are they called sick people?" OLD JUDGE: "Because it has been discovered that, in many cases, excessive drinking is a symptom of some physical or emotional maladjustment... not the cause of it." HENRY: "Now I understand it, Judge. I am glad to hear of the modern approach to this problem and that so much is really being done to help these folks." Mrs. Olof Olsson and Sharon went to Grand Island for the day Saturday. Lynn Garrison, who is working for a contractor in Omaha as a brick-layer, went through Ord on the bus Friday to visit his many friends in Burwell, where he was born and raised. George Hastings took Mrs. Babcock of North Loup home from the Clinic hospital Saturday morning. He also took Bruce Covey to his home in Ord Saturday. John Dohrn came from Grand Island Friday to see a prospective purchaser for his large warehouse to the east of the Frazier Furniture building. Fidelity Post No. 37, American Legion, had an option on the building, but found that the job of rebuilding to suit their needs would make it too expensive. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark are the grandparents of a baby boy, David Lee, born to Mr. and Mrs. Arden Clark at Hastings Feb. 3. Mrs. Sarah Lakin went to Grand Island Thursday morning. She was to meet her sister, Mrs. Nettie May of Hastings, and they planned to spend the day together. Mrs. Lynn Beeghly and children, Jerralyn and Johnnie, left the first of the week for their home in Cheyenne, Wyo., after spending ten days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Keep. Mrs. A. F. Kosmata went to Lincoln on the bus Friday to visit her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elm, and family. The Ord hardware building has been getting a thorough paint job the past week or so, and presents a much-improved appearance. Tony Kosmata is the artist who is doing the work. Maggie King went to North Loup between buses Friday to see her brother, Charles, and wife away on their moving trip to Central City. However, they did not get off until Saturday, so she went down again then. Mrs. Elmer Hahn returned to her home in Burwell on the bus Friday, having been to Grand Island to visit her son, James and family. James is a bus driver on the Grand Island Taylor run for the P.C.T. stages. Louella Livermore was an incoming passenger from Chicago Friday where she has been for some time. She was enroute to Burwell, where she plans to remain for the present and assist her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Livermore.

Ord Oddfellows Can't Get Sugar

For some time now the Ord Oddfellow organization has been a very much alive affair. Forty to fifty members meet each regular meeting night, and more on special occasions. Since its organization more than sixty years ago it has been customary for this organization to serve a lunch of some kind at the close of its sessions.

At these times sugar is needed for coffee, and at times for other commodities. Since all the members are rationed and hardly get enough for home use, the secretary, Kent Ferris, decided he would see what the OPA would do about it. He sent for a form, filled it out, had another form sent him and had that filled out.

The second form was a regular restaurant form, and of course there were a number of spaces which could not apply with a lodge, so he had to leave them blank. He got his form returned to him with the annotation by the food rationing specialist, Earl O. Eager, who, by the way, does not seem at all eager to give the lodge a sugar rationing certificate.

He states that there must be an estimate as to the number of persons served during the first 30 day period, and that these persons must be those for whom a charge must be made. No allowances for sugar can be made to persons who do not pay for their lunch. Since this must of necessity apply to all lodges and church organizations where free lunch is served, it looks as though each person would have to bring his own sugar.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Mrs. Swarzel Writes. 68 Williams St. Meadville, Pa. Jan. 28, 1946

Say H. D. you are always saying "Watch your wrapper for expiration date." Well I sent you a P. O. order in Dec. to pay you until Dec. 15, 1946. Didn't you receive it? I have the slip to send a chaser if you didn't.

There has been snow on the ground here since Dec. 9th, and no sign of it disappearing. We bought a little run down farm last summer and had a lot of fun fixing it up. We have ordered seeds, berry plants and bushes to improve it still more. Our friends think we are crazy for working ourselves to death but feel like my foster father, Gene Stacy, use to say, "By gum I'd rather wear out than rust out." No, we are not coming west this year we are going to give our friends a chance to visit us now the war is over.

Up to date the strikes are not affecting us. The Talon (zipper) Inc. struck around Christmas time but ironed out their difficulties without a Gov. Mediation Board.

Sorry you are not up to par. Come east, (you and the Misses) where you can't get rich foods, as butter, pork or sugar and you will soon be up to snuff. Yes I'm teaching 6th grade and Joe is still with the Erie R. R.

Neglected to say my brother, Ord Twombly has recently bought a home in Cambridge Springs, 14 miles north of here. Both his son-in-laws saw service and are home. Of course you know his son, Harold, was killed in action. Ord is working as a carpenter at the new G. E. plant just across French creek, about two blocks from us.

An glad the G. W. Milford corner will soon be humming with action again. G. W. Milford was raised about 32 miles southeast of here.

My 6th grade certainly enjoyed the letters written by the Ord 6th grade.

Matt Klima Writes.

Feb. 10, 1946. Mr. John Ward Dear Friend: Well, here I am I told you I would write when I got to Arizona so here goes. I've been here about three weeks and like the climate fine. It's nice clear and warm every day, oranges, lemons, grapefruit on the trees, just loaded, and all the trees nice and green. Alfalfa knee high, oats and barley stooing out, and the farmers are getting their fields ready to plant cotton.

We just irrigated our alfalfa and oats the other day, and a bunch of kids were running barefooted and with not much clothes on in the water so you can see it was nice and warm. It gets a little cool at night but as soon as the sun comes out it gets warm. The valley around Phoenix is level, surrounded by mountains, and it is all irrigated. My boy, Lumir, has five acres, and it is so easy to irrigate. All you have to do is to pull out the gates, which are of cement with heavy tin slides, and the water goes over every foot of his ground in 24 hours.

We put about 8 inches of water on all of his ground, even the lawn, it just can't be better. As for me, I am painting his buildings, as they needed some paint, and, as you know, I am a good hand at it, and it helped to pass my time. I did some painting for Adrian in Utah, but it got too cold for painting there, so I came here. Here you can work every day in your shirt sleeves and barefooted, if you wish, and yet you perspire if you do any work.

It is the best winter I have ever spent, so far as the weather is concerned. You just can't beat it, and I believe that I feel some better here than I did in good old Nebraska. The living is a little higher here, but not much. As I was going out here I went over some mountains around Jerome, Arizona, that made my blood stop and my ears pop, and I was scared like a jackrabbit. Over 8 thousand feet high without any curb to hold us if anything went wrong, and that I don't like much.

Some people don't mind it much and from Salt Lake almost to Phoenix there is nothing but rocky mountains with valleys between them. Just small valleys but it's all settled, people living all through those mountains. They raise hay and some grain a few hogs and cows and a lot of turkeys and chickens. It's a great world that we are living in, when a person travels and sees how some people make their living, but they all live, and some make good money. Bye, bye. Yes, we eat well here. We are proud of the fine food we grow.

We may not have a California climate, but we relish our Nebraska food something terrific, and we wouldn't consider trading our equity in Valley county for a piece of a New York night club or an extravagant climate. —Irma

Ord People Attend Broken Bow Meet

C. C. Dale, county agent, and Phyllis Dodge drove to Broken Bow Monday morning and attended a two-day meeting held there in the interests of farm building and rural electrification. The meeting was well attended, with all agents from this section of the state present, from North Platte as far east as Grand Island.

It was brought out at this meeting that there is now a terrific demand for building material on the farms in Nebraska. It is estimated that in the next few years the demand for material for remodeling, repair and new buildings will be about fifty million dollars per year in Nebraska, about three times the past demand of seventeen million.

Ex-servicemen have a priority on building materials. It was brought out that farmers should plan carefully to avoid over expenditure. A study should be made of the amount that can be under normal conditions be spent on improvements and repairs. Architectural engineers say that normally not more than 20% of the value of the farm should consist of improvements.

Of this amount usually about one-half is in the house, the rest in buildings. It is up to farm families to decide upon the amount that can profitably be put into improvements on their farm and then stay within that amount. In rural electrification farmers who install electric wiring before the REA becomes a reality should watch carefully the size of wiring used. In many cases this becomes inadequate because of added appliances.

For example, in a kitchen where the wiring job was sufficient at one time the same wiring may not be sufficient to carry the load when several appliances are on at one time. To avoid disappointment, it is suggested that all wiring in modern buildings be at least ten gauge, some of the wiring done a few years back is now entirely inadequate.

—Grand Island shoppers Monday included a group made up of Mrs. D. B. McOstrich, Mrs. C. A. Anderson and Mrs. E. C. Leggett, of Ord, and Mrs. C. W. Wilcox, of Ansley, who came to Ord Sunday with her husband, Dr. Wilcox and their children and spent the night in the Leggett home.

Hybrid Seed Corn

We have received part of our Hybrid Seed Corn. We now have the 613, 939, U. S. 13 and some of our White Hybrid. Place your order now for your Hybrid Seed Corn if you will need more. We can offer you White Hybrid Seed Corn that is early maturing. A White Corn that is adapted to our section of the State.

Seed Oats

We offer a limited amount of Certified Cedar Oats and a very limited amount of non certified Otee Oats. These seed oats are local grown and will do well for you.

Bran

We received another shipment of Bran this week and offer limited amounts to each customer. Feeds of any nature are very hard to get and we believe that they will become harder to get as Spring advances.

Chicks

We have been having very nice orders for Hill Chicks; and in talking with Mr. Hill this week we are allowed to give the early order discount till March 10th. If you have a place to take care of your chicks soon, come in and we will phone the hatchery and we might be able to get your chicks on a few days notice. We feel that we have arrangements to take care of all of our chick customers with all Starling and Growing Mash that they will need. Place your order for your Starting Mash when you order your chicks and be assured of the feed that you will need.

Brooder Stoves

We can supply about 25 customers with new brooder stoves. We have one nearly new used brooder stove. With the steel strike entering the brooder stove picture, we do not believe that we will be able to get many more brooder stoves this year.

Peat Moss

We recently unloaded a carload of Peat Moss. Place your order for your Peat Moss when you place your order for your chicks.

Remedies

We carry a large stock of Dr. Salisbury and Gland -O-Lac Poultry Remedies. Be sure to have your brooder house well disinfected before you have your chicks arrive.

Corn Winners Are Honored at Lunch By C. C. Thursday

Scott, Easterbrook, Arcadia, and Garnick of Elyria Award Winners

A luncheon known as the Valley county corn yield finish up, was held Thursday noon at the Knights of Columbus hall. The Ord Chamber of Commerce made the arrangements and furnished the lunch, which was served by Mrs. Jessie Haught and Mrs. F. V. Haught.

Before the lunch was served Walter Pitts, assistant professor of agronomy at the College of Agriculture, showed a set of colored slides taken over the state and showing the differences in soil fertility, results of fertilizer applications, and irrigation methods.

After the lunch E. L. Vogel-tanz, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, presented the awards to the winning farmers, and E. L. Gross, extension agronomist from the College of Agriculture, interviewed the contestants and brought out salient facts relative to the methods they used.

Robert Scott of Arcadia was winner of first prize of a fifty dollar bond, A. H. Easterbrook of Arcadia received the twenty-five dollar bond, and R. E. Garnick of Elyria won the third prize of ten dollars. Honorable mention went to Lloyd Geweke, Mira Valley, Cash Welniak, Ord, and Kenneth Brown, Arcadia.

In questioning the winners it was brought out that Mr. Scott high point man, had leveled his field in 1940, and that it had been in alfalfa since. Easterbrook and Garnick stated that their fields had high and low places which were difficult to irrigate, which would account for difference in yield.

It was also shown that the best yields followed alfalfa, and that this in general over the state. A close second is corn raised after sweet clover. Corn which received an application of nitrate fertilizer showed a good yield also, there being only about 3 bushels difference in yields from these three practices.

Fields which had received applications of manure, corn on newly broke sod and corn following corn followed in that order. Mr. Pitts then talked on commercial fertilizer, and exhibited samples of the different kinds of fertilizer. He stated that the nitrate fertilizers were the only one that caused any significant increase in the yield of corn in Nebraska.

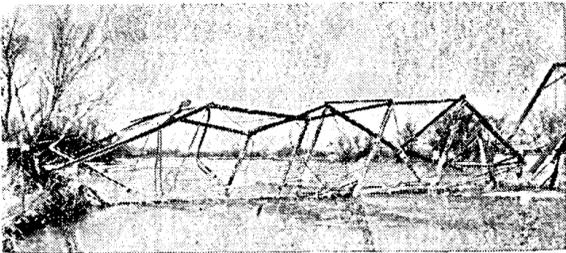

Darrel McCosch of the soil conservation service then talked on irrigation methods, and cautioned about dangers of over-watering, which leaches the nitrogen out of the soil and causes a decrease in crop production.

Jug Brown Orchestra at Opera House Sat.

Jug Brown and his orchestra will furnish the music at a Saturday night dance to be staged at the Ord Opera House March 2. Dancing will be from 8 to 12 according to Manager Chuck Bayle.

Brown's orchestra has been featured for the past two years at Peony Park, Omaha. They have also played engagements at the Plaza Hotel, San Francisco, and Moonlite Gardens.

Loup River Bridge Now Under Water

Following the breakdown on Monday of last week, which cut off traffic across the North Loup river bridge at Ord, the warm weather caused the ice to go out, and the current of the river changed so that at present nearly all the water is passing through the wrecked span. This will complicate the work of repairing the damaged span.

Tracy Hamilton, county road commissioner, stated Monday that arrangements had been made with the Diamond Engineering company of Grand Island to take out the wrecked span and put in a temporary wooden structure to enable light traffic to cross while the new bridge is being built. The Diamond crew was on hand Monday and began work at once.

Mr. Hamilton says that the work of getting the old bridge out of the way would have been much easier if the ice had held, but the warm weather which has prevailed now for some

Veterans Notified Change of Address

All ex-servicemen who are retaining their national service life insurance were notified this week by John Wozab, county service officer, to send their insurance premiums to a new address. The insurance division of the Veteran's Administration has moved to the following address: U. S. Veterans Administration Collections Division, NSLI, 346 Broadway, New York 13, N.Y. All insurance premiums must now be mailed to the new address. Wozab stated that insurance premium checks should be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States as usual. He warned veterans against remitting by cash or currency since all payments are made at remitter's risk.

Ord Business Men Planning for 1946

C. of C. Groups Meet, Membership Committee Busy

The membership committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce met at 10 a.m., Feb. 20, at the office of the secretary, John L. Andersen. As soon as they completed their plans they went to work getting members and raising money for the budget. Tuesday they had raised $1,000 of the $2,400 that had been set by the board of directors.

That same evening the new industries committee met with the secretary. Present were the chairman, E. S. Murray Clark Weckbach, George Allen and John Misko. There was considerable discussion at that meeting, but nothing definite was done. This group meets again tonight to complete plans for the coming year.

The mail, trains and aviation committee met at 5 p.m., Thursday at the office of the secretary, with Chairman Mortensen, Clarence M. Davis, Howard Huff and Alfred L. Hill present. The chief subject of discussion was to get two mails per day in and out of Ord. The chairman said he was going to Omaha Friday and that he would contact the postal department there.

The civic improvement committee, Dr. F. L. Blessing, chairman, met Monday night. Present were Blessing, Robert Noll, C. C. Thompson, and M. B. Cummins. Subjects discussed were resurfacing the paving, benches around the courtyard, street lights along the highway in Ord, a nice electric sign for the city in the square and along the highway.

Also talked of were a municipal auditorium and landscaping the athletic field. There was also some discussion of the financing of the swimming pool and the new sewers, how it would be done and what would be required. This latter of course is the work of the city council, but the idea was to be able to help in any way possible.

There is to be a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the K of C hall Thursday evening at 8 p.m., at which time all the committees will make a report on progress to date. This meeting is important and should prove interesting.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Dworak went to St. Paul to spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kom-sak.

Airplane Advanced 25 Years in 5 by War, Says Stowers

Time & Space Mean Nothing, Opinion of Rotary Speaker; Peace Not Won Yet

That World War II advanced the world's knowledge of air travel 25 years in 5 is the opinion of Harvey Stowers, third speaker on the Ord Rotary club's Institute of International Understanding, who spoke here Tuesday evening. Mr. Stowers is assistant to the president of Aircraft Industries Assn., official organization of aircraft manufacturers, and in this capacity devotes full time to promoting interest in the airplane.

His rapid-fire delivery of pertinent facts concerning air travel endeared him to the audience, and he was regarded as the most interesting and forceful speaker heard so far on the Institute program.

Mr. Stowers believes that the airplane has a great future; that our air industry is now in a position roughly equivalent to that of the automobile industry in 1912. Time and space mean nothing now that the airplane has brought the worlds most remote points only a few hours apart, yet jet propulsion and rocket ships are still in their infancy. He predicted that development in these lines will be a very "hush-hush" subject, officially, from now on.

The speaker was critical of our government's policy of returning soldiers so rapidly from the war zones, for he feels the peace is not won yet. The same mistake was made after World War I, he says. We have weakened ourselves greatly in several ways since termination of hostilities and today the United States could not, in his opinion, win a major air or naval battle if such had to be fought, because we have dispersed our trained pilots too rapidly. Some of our allies are not making this mistake, Mr. Stowers said. Russia does not want a war, in his opinion.

Talking about developments of the past war, he said that Hitler wasn't fooling when he talked secret weapons. Germany had them and only the 1 1/2 years of grace given us between starting of World War II in Poland and the Pearl Harbor attack at Japan saved us from defeat.

Formerly a top executive with the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, Mr. Stowers is one of the nations best informed men on anything relating to air and he proved it by rattling off statistics on every phase of air development, both military and civil. In the afternoon he talked before a high school convocation, winning the interest of young people with talk of a new plane with a take-off and landing speed of 30 miles per hour that will cost only $800 and be available soon for personal use. Every boy and girl in his audience immediately began visualizing himself flying such a plane.

Final speaker on the Institute program will be Hubert S. Liang, native-born Chinese and formerly far-east correspondent for the NANA and the Detroit News. His lecture will be given next Tuesday night at 8:00.

Junior Hi Title Goes to Burwell

Defeat Loup City in Finals; Broken Bow Wins Over Ravenna for 3d.

St. Paul, Arcadia, Sargent and Ord went down to defeat in the first round of the junior high basketball tournament held at Loup City last week. Loup City took Ord out of the running, only to bow to Burwell in the finals. In the semi-finals Loup City won handily from Ravenna by a score of 25 to 13.

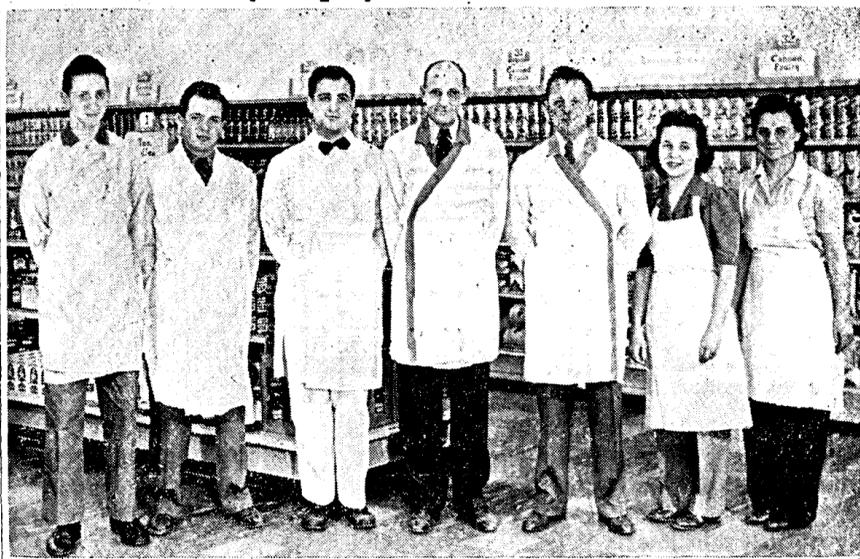

Burwell earned the title by soundly trouncing Loup City by a score of 18 to 7 in the final event, thus becoming undisputed champions of the Three Loups Junior High conference for 1946. They won this game by the most decisive margin of any of their conference contests.

Anderson, Messenger, Leach and Partridge were outstanding for Burwell. Thode, McCoy, Heggerty and Pecht turned in fine performances for Loup City, while Ravenna had a couple of good men in Svanda and Fries. In a final game, played after the conference contests were over, Burwell defeated St. Paul keeping ahead all the way.

New Cars on Display. Two more makes of cars were added to the Ord display list, when the Anderson Motor Co. put their new Plymouth on display, and the Ord Auto Parts brought a civilian model of the Willys jeep to town.

Ord Chanticleers Defeat St. Mary's

Play Final Game at Burwell Tonight; District Tourney Next Week at O'Neill

Ord, 32, St. Mary's, 29. That was the final chapter of the basketball game at Grand Island Friday night, but it gives no idea of what proved to be the toughest game of the season for Cochran's Chanticleers. In winning Ord ran their victory string to three straight and showed that they are primed for the district tournament next week.

With St. Mary's boasting an all veteran team and with every starter back from last year's team, they lost little time in letting the Chanticleers know that they were in for a dingdong battle. The Nambors must have been highly primed for the game, for seldom have the Chants run into such spirited, do or die, competition.

To start the ball game off, "Spunk" Cahill slipped a neat feilder through the meshes from the side, and Blessing hit a hot streak and found the basket with four counters before the gong ended the first quarter's hostilities. Loft's free toss ran the total Ord score to 11 at the quarter post, while Riley kept St. Mary's in the running with three fielders.

During the second quarter the scoring reversed itself, with the Ramblers getting eleven, while the Chanticleers trailed with six. Two baskets by Cahill and one by Blessing was the sum total of the Ord efforts, and the two teams went to rest at the half with the score tied at 17 points each.

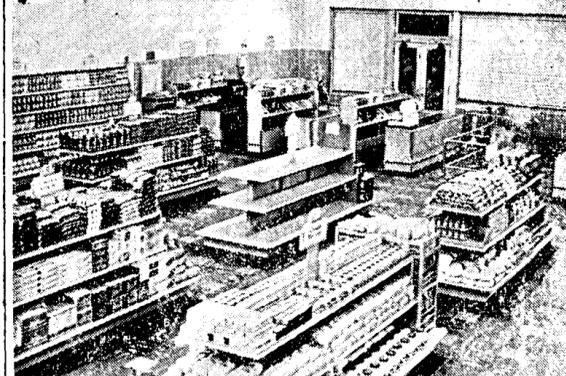

During the third quarter the play remained on an even plane, with the Chanticleers finally edging ahead one point just prior to the rest period. Two baskets by Cahill and one by Martin Piskorski brought the Ord total to 23, while St. Mary's totaled 22.

A last quarter scoring surge by Mester, firebrand center for the Ramblers gave St. Mary's its only lead of the game, 29 to 23, but that was the end of their bid. Blessing potted an under the basket shot and Loft led the basket shot and Loft led Piskorski contributed another nice basket by a drive-in play during the period, and Tolen added a free toss.

The Chanticleers close, their schedule against Burwell this Wednesday night on the Burwell floor. Thursday of next week they open play in the district tournament at O'Neill, their first game being against Creighton. Valentine and Burwell play the first game there Wednesday evening, followed by Nellig and O'Neill in the upper bracket.

The Ord-Creighton game starts at 1 p. m. next Thursday with Bassett and Atkinson competing the lower bracket, and Ainsworth taking on the winner of the Valentine-Burwell game in the second game of the upper bracket. Thursday evening the winners in the upper and lower brackets will contest in the semi-finals, and Friday evening the consolation will come at 8 p.m. with the championship coming at 9:15

Spacious Aisles; Low Counters Feature Ultra Modern Safeway Now Open to Public

Plenty of room for everything seemed to be the motto of Safeway designers when they drew the blue prints for the new Safeway store which opened in Ord this week. The two views above, taken from opposite ends of the store show wide aisles, low display counters within reach of everyone, three checking stands to handle shopping traffic. A view of the 28 foot meat counter will be found in the Safeway advertisement on another page of this issue.

Class A Electric Group Closes Sat.

A check-up Tuesday morning showed that there were approximately 850 farmers signed up for rural electrification at that time, and it is expected that there will be 900 in line when the applications for A section or first construction work close.

The board meets Monday evening, March 4 to select an engineering firm to draft the proposed lines and submit an application for a loan to the R.E.A. headquarters in Washington. The plan is to submit the application before April first. Farmers who want to get into the A section must sign up by Saturday.

B. J. Peterson Buys Store at Osceola

Recently the partnership of B. J. Peterson and Ed Barrett in the Ord Hardware was dissolved, the latter buying the interests of his father-in-law, Mr. Peterson, and this week the latter announced that he has purchased a variety and general merchandise store at Osceola and will move to that city at once to take possession.

Fafeita Resigns From Nebr. State

Emil Fafeita has severed his connection with the Nebraska State bank, resigning as vice-president, cashier and director, the Quiz is authorized to say. He has been with the bank since July 12, 1919.

His future plans are indefinite, Mr. Fafeita says. He will stay in Ord until after March 15, after which date he and Mrs. Fafeita will spend a few months on the west coast before making definite plans for the future. They may decide to locate there or may return to Nebraska to make their home.

Raymond Cronk, now book-keeper, will become cashier succeeding Mr. Fafeita, announces President C. J. Mortensen. Miss Sylvia Iwanski, a former employee, is returning to take charge of the bookkeeping department in which she will be assisted by Miss Phyllis Hill.

—Donald Schultz, ex-serviceman from Grand Island is a new employee of Safeway stores in the meat department.

Thousand Ordites Attend Opening of Huge Grocery

Manager Pays High Tribute To Business Future Of Loup Valley

More than a thousand shoppers and onlookers went through the turnstile of Safeway's new ultra modern store in Ord when it opened its doors to the public Monday of this week.

The opening event had been eagerly awaited by Ordites who marveled at the thoroughness of design and preparation the new store displayed. Doors on the former location were locked Saturday night, and following inventory, the stock was moved to the new location. Fixtures in the old store were disposed of locally.

"We had expected the new store would be received well," Art Kroeger, manager, told the Quiz. "But we hardly expected the whole-hearted reception we got. Our help was literally on the trot all day Monday waiting on customers, checking orders and restocking shelves."

"Naturally, I'm highly pleased, but if this trend keeps up, I'm going to have to buy a pair of roller skates."

C. M. May, district manager for Safeway, told the Quiz that the Ord store was the biggest unit of its kind to be erected or opened in Nebraska this year. "In fact, it is the most complete store on our design books. We have tried to make space for everything possible for the convenience of our customers and the comfort of employees, he stated.

"Do I think the store a bit large for Ord?" he answered. "Not by a long shot! We have a tremendous lot of faith in this fertile section of Nebraska, and there's no way we could demonstrate it better than to invest a good many thousand dollars in a store of this type to better serve the people of this area."

Safeway's new building is 62x 140 feet, one story with basement. About three-fourths of the main floor area are given over to display and shopping space, the remainder is divided into meat, vegetable and dairy coolers, stock room, employees toilets and showers.

The building has fluorescent lighting throughout, is heated by forced warm air. A dozen large ceiling fans will provide summer comfort.

Three check stands have been provided to handle a large amount of traffic. Flanking the check stands are fruit and vegetable racks providing about 60 feet of display space. Scales are on each vegetable rack so that customers may weigh their own selections.

Feature of the new store from a stand point of employee's convenience is a loudspeaker and inter-communication system. Checkers use the system to call the stock room boy when something is wanted. Wall plugs at various spots throughout the store. Other employee conveniences are separate toilet and shower rooms for men and women employees, and lockers for storage of clothing and personal belongings.

To date, two new employees, both ex-servicemen have been added to the store's personnel—Donald Schultz, Grand Island, meat clerk, and Eugene Dickerson of Central City floor man. Both men are single. Schultz a former member of the Army air force, and Dickerson, ex-navy. Paul Armstrong, head meat cutter is also ex-Navy. Other employees at the store in addition to Art Kroeger, manager, are Erma Adamek and Mildred Moudry, checkers, and Louis Stewart, stock boy.

Ord Theatre Installs New Type Equipment

During the past week M. Biemond, manager of the Ord Theatre, has been busy installing new equipment for the projecting room and a new and larger screen which greatly improves the quality of the picture. New coated lenses of the latest type and new strong one kilowatt high intensity arc lamps and rectifiers for the projectors as well as other items, create a different type of light, eliminating the eye-strain caused by the older type equipment.

This is the beginning of a planned program of improvement by the theatre management. New equipment installed is of the latest post-war type and future improvements will be of similar design.

LOWE SEED COMPANY Announces THE APPOINTMENT OF NOLL SEED COMPANY

OKD NEBRASKA

Lowe is the Leader in Hybrid Corn Improvement!

Ever since 1900 when the Lowe Seed Company was established, the name Lowe has stood for quality seed corn. But in the early 1930's Lawrence Lowe, present head of the company and son of the founder, began a new system of obtaining improved inbred lines out of the crosses and back-crosses of older inbreds. By 1938 Lowe was able to introduce into state yield trials new improved hybrids which caused a sensation by taking virtually all top awards.

Each year since Lowe has continued to improve his hybrids through his system of "concurrent" breeding. It was this that made Lowe the leader in hybrid corn improvement and built this old, well-established company into one of the major producers of hybrid seed corn.

Each year since 1938 Lowe sales have increased and everywhere Lowe Improved Hybrids have been planted . . . throughout the corn belt and in several eastern and southern states . . . they have performed satisfactorily. Each year more and more farmers have planted virtually their entire acreage to Lowe Improved Hybrids.

See for yourself how these improved hybrids will perform on your farm. See your new Lowe dealer as soon as you can. Order your supply of Lowe Improved Hybrid Seed Corn.

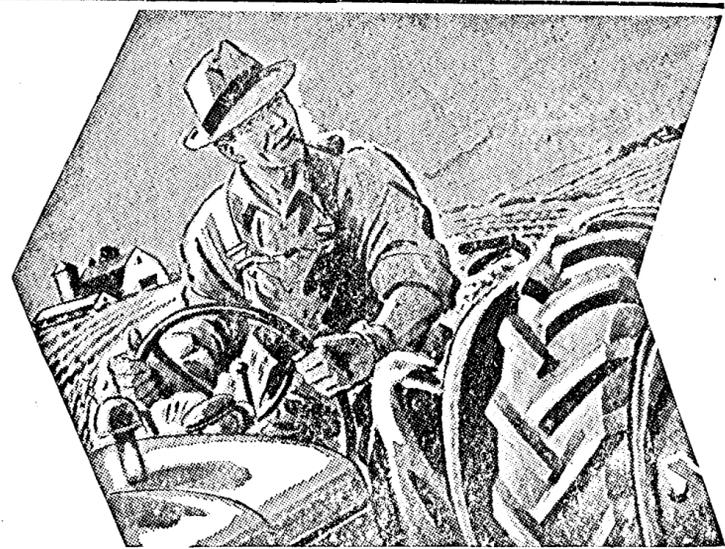

We have three numbers of very early maturing white hybrid that are adapted to this locality. Take advantage of the premium prices paid for white corn! Make the same acre and the same amount of work produce more money for you!

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have excess acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Our Fighting Men

★ Milton Meyers has been given the rating of turret captain 1-c recently. His ship, the USS Los Angeles, is still near Hong Kong, China, although he hopes to be in the States by the first of April.

★ Reinhold Rose states that two of their sons, Boyd and Milo are still in the service, but they have arrived in the state and expect to be discharged in March. Lieut. Boyd W. Rose, who is in the coast guard, will be discharged the last of March, while Lieut. Milo E. Rose, in the marines, will get out the first of the month.

★ Lt. Loretta Mae Achen, ANC, arrived in Ord Thursday evening from Ft. Sheridan, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Will Treptow, and with other relatives and friends. Her ship, the Liberty ship Marine Fox, docked at Seattle, and she had made the voyage all the way from Calcutta, India. She was in India, 6 months and was stationed in Leto, in the Assam valley, in the evacuation hospital there. She expects to return to Ft. Sheridan by March 11, and is hoping to be discharged from the service. She does not hold a very high opinion of India, and says: "Give it back to the Indians." The country is not so bad, but the people are very dirty.

★ Leslie Scott, Y 3-c, arrived in Ord Monday of last week to spend a part of his 25 day furlough here and at Burwell. He is a son of Leslie L. Scott, who lived for a time on the Jack Mogensen place north of Ord, but who moved to Marshalltown, Ia., two years ago, about the same time the son entered the navy. Scott came here from Alameda Naval Air Station, and was lucky enough to get a plane ride from there to Kansas City, coming from there here. While in Burwell he will visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Berryman. He is permanently assigned to the Saratoga, and will have a part in the atomic bomb tests in the Marshall Islands. After that he has hopes of being sent home permanently.

Opens Liquor Store.
 Robert Jablonski, ex-service-man, has opened his package liquor store in Elyria, according to an announcement in this week's Quiz. His store is in the former bank building.

Leaving Ord.
L. V. Kokes has bought a business in Grand Island and is planning to sell his home in Ord and move to Grand Island in the near future to take care of the business. Mr. Kokes ran the present Ord Hardware under the title of Kokes Hardware over a long period of years until he sold out to Peterson and Barrett. He sold because of the condition of his health, which is much improved now. Their many friends here and over the county will learn with regret that the Kokes family is leaving Ord.

Rahlmeyers Leave.
After practically forty years residence in Mira Valley and Ord, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rahlmeyer have leased their Mira Valley farm and are moving to Farnam, Neb. During their long residence here they have made hundreds of friends who are sorry to see them leave. Mrs. Rahlmeyer returned to Farnam recently after spending a few months at Prairie de Sac and Madison, Wis., and other places. The Rahlmeyers lived on their farm since 1908 with the exception of two years spent in Ord because of Mr. Rahlmeyer's health, and Mr. Rahlmeyer lived there many years before that.

New Quiz News Writer.
Rex Wagner, of Burwell, will join the staff of the Quiz on March 11 and will have charge of the news department, taking the place of John L. Ward who was asked to be relieved from full time work but will probably continue to write feature material from time to time. Mr. Wagner as with the Quiz before induction in the army, and has just returned from long service in Australia, the Philippines and Japan.

Attend Hardware Meet.
Ed Barrett and Joe Karty of Ord and Cecil Knapp of North Loup were in Omaha last week attending the Nebraska Hardware Association meeting, which was held at Hotel Fontenelle, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The men came home Wednesday evening, however. There were between 300 and 400 present from all over the state. Points stressed were display and salesmanship, new items new ideas in home appliances, and modernizing and floor planning stores for the proper display of merchandise.

Extension News.
The Happy Homemakers club of Arcadia met February 16th at the home of Doris Welty. Everyone was present. Dixie Owens, Geraldine Richardson and LaVonne Carmony gave a demonstration on the needle case. Mrs. Bridges who visited our club judged the needle cases which the club had brought. Kathleen Piersol led us in the songs, accompanied by Janet Wibbels at the piano. Doris Welty and her mother served a delicious lunch. Our next meeting will be at Kathleen Piersol's. Norma Blakeslee and Kathleen will be hostesses. The meeting adjourned at 5:15. We then hiked part of the way back to town. —News reporter, Norma Blakeslee.

The Feb. meeting of the Jolly Neighbors Club was held Thurs. Feb. 21 at the home of Mrs. Ed Tydik with Mrs. Frank Hackel co-hostess. A very interesting and helpful lesson on "New Views in Cupboards" was given by Mrs. E. O. Hackel and Mrs. E. S. Coates. There were 17 members present and 2 visitors. Several received Secret Sister gifts. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Paul Zentz home on March 21st. A nice letter from a member who is in the hospital was read by Virginia Mason. —Mrs. Willard Conner.

PERSONALS

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Slyke of North Loup were business visitors in Ord Thursday. —William McKay is in the Ord hospital after several weeks of illness at his home. —Bruce Covey, who underwent an operation for hernia at the Clinic hospital recently, is now at home but suffered a back-set this week which will keep him in bed longer than expected.

—George Dworak is now out of the army, and arrived home Thursday of last week. His present plans are indefinite, but he figures he is entitled to a vacation, which he is taking here in Ord.

—Emanuel Sevenker has been sick for some time with an ailment at first thought to be jaundice, but which is now definitely diagnosed as malaria. Dr. C. J. Miller is in charge of the case.

—Mr. and Mrs. Don Patrick are the parents of a 9 pound baby boy, born Wednesday morning, Feb. 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson, Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris in attendance. This makes a total of 20 grandchildren for Mr. and Mrs. Nelson.

—James Turek, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Turek had his left leg rather badly burned at the Turek home in Ord Wednesday morning. The boys had been having a bonfire, and the little boy got into it. Dr. Norris took care of the injured member and he is resting easy at present. His mother is in Lincoln at present with another child, having a brace made for her leg, and Mrs. Albert Turek is looking after the family.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Cetak and Mrs. Joe Cetak went to Grand Island Thursday to meet George Cetak, who came to Ord to visit his brothers and family. —Mr. and Mrs. Hal Pierce were expected to arrive Wednesday from Kenosha, Wis., where they had been living while he was a sailor, second class, with the navy. He received his discharge last Saturday, and they are coming to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pierce, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Haskell.

—A newcomer to Ord is Mrs. William Bolton who arrived here Monday night from Middleton, Tennessee. Her husband, district co-ordinator for the Loup Valleys REA drove to Tennessee over the week-end to bring her and their household goods here. The couple will make their home in the Mrs. E. W. Gruber house.

—Mrs. Paul Armstrong and their two small daughters, Mona and Muriel of Kearney spent the week-end in Ord with Mr.

Armstrong who is meat cutter at the Safeway. Mrs. Armstrong will move here as soon as housing becomes available.

Alva E. Wilcox Dies at Haxtun, Colorado

Death claimed a former resident of Valley county Saturday when Alva Wilcox died in a hospital at Haxtun, Colo., of cerebral hemorrhage following an accident in which he was hit by a car. His hearing and eyesight were poor, and he failed to observe an approaching car until it was too late. He suffered no visible injuries.

Alva Wilcox was born in Boone county Ill., Nov 3, 1863, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilcox. As a small boy he moved with his parents to Butte Co., Ia., and from there came to Valley county with the family in 1885. He took a claim at Holyoke, Colo., in 1908, and for the past 33 years he had lived at Haxtun, Colo.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Shepherd of Ord and Mrs. Pearl McCoy of Grandon, Mo., and by her brother Ed, of Ord. Hilding Pearson and John Misko drove to Haxtun and brought the body to Ord. Funeral services will be held from the Pearson chapel Thursday at 2 p.m. with Rev. R. T. Cordry in charge, and burial will be in the Ord cemetery.

Clinic Hospital Notes.

Patients in hospital are: M. D. McCall, North Loup; Mrs. Lloyd Vavra, Ord; Harry Bresley, Ord; Ed Kokes, Ord; Frank Travis, Ord.

Patients dismissed this week were: Gerald Jensen, North Loup; Ed. Schudel, North Loup; Verna Vance, North Loup; Jeff Post, North Loup; Mrs. Rudolph Plate, North Loup; Mrs. Ronald Rose and baby boy, Ord; Lola Freeman, Ord; Betty Ann Hosek, Burwell; Mrs. A. E. Osenowski and baby boy, Comstock.

For Mrs. Kasal.

The Happy Hour Club was entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. R. L. Lincoln for her mother, Mrs. Kasal. Nine members were present and spent a very enjoyable afternoon visiting and discussing old times. Miniature cherry trees with small hatchets were used for favors. The club was organized thirty-two years ago and seven of the original members are still with the group.

Card of Thanks—

I wish to express my thanks to all my friends, neighbors & relatives for their gifts, letters & cards during my stay at the hospital and also at home.

Adolph Kokes

Card of Thanks—

I wish to take this means of thanking the many neighbors and friends who remembered me with expressions of sympathy and good wishes and who sent cards and letters and beautiful flowers during my stay in the hospital. I also wish to especially thank Dr. Miller and the nurses for their kindness to me.

Harvey Barr

Card of Thanks—

We wish to express our sincere thanks to relatives, neighbors & friends for their kindness and helpful deeds, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. John Zebert and Mr. and Mrs. Edw. N. Timmerman, also the doctor and nurses for their excellent treatment and care during our stay in the Ord hospital. We greatly appreciated the cards and gifts received and the people who came to call on us. Your thoughtfulness will not be forgotten.

Bob Richardson returned this week to Arcadia from Los Angeles, California, where he has been the past three months.

Miss Marie Peterson of Stromsburg was in Arcadia a few days this week visiting at the Elmer Peterson home.

Mrs. Lily Bly accompanied by Mrs. Maude McClary, Mrs. Harry Bellinger, Mrs. Alpha Hiatt and Mrs. C. A. Busby drove to Broken Bow, Monday to visit Mrs. Fred Whitman, who is in the General Hospital.

Claude Williams of Cheyenne, Wyo. was in Arcadia Sunday evening and Monday. He was hired as water master for the Middle Loup Irrigation District and will move his family here sometime in March.

Howard Hawley of Scottsbluff spent the week-end in Arcadia visiting at the home of his father D. O. Hawley.

About thirty members attended the monthly meeting of the Arcadia Community Club, Monday evening at the Arcadia Hotel. Marine Corporal Dwain Lee Williams, recently discharged, and County Attorney John Misko were guests of the club. Attorney Misko was introduced by Ray Lutz and spoke briefly on the Valley County R. E. A. The dead line on signing up for this service is the 2nd of March and anyone interested in signing up should do so at once.

At eight thirty the club suspended its meeting and assembled again as a called meeting for the purpose of forming a Cemetery association. Arnold Tuning was elected temporary chairman and Geo. Hastings temporary secretary of the meeting. It was decided to call the association the Arcadia Cemetery Association and the following were elected to serve as trustees, indefinitely: Mrs. Leona Round, Anton Nelson, Rev. A. C. Busby and Geo. Hastings. Ray Lutz was elected Clerk of the Association. Attorney Misko attended this meeting and acted as counsel to see that everything was done in legal form. It is the purpose of this association to ask the Village Board to have placed on the ballot at the next Village election the question of whether or not the Village Board shall turn over the title, sale of lots and care of the cemetery to the association. Those who are proposing this change of cemetery ownership and operation hope to be able to have a better kept cemetery while others think there would be little to gain in taking it out of the Village Board's hands. Arcadia voters should get both sides of the question before they go to the polls this Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coons left Saturday for Kendallville, Indiana and accompanied her sister, Mrs. Donald Parker and son, Danny back to Arcadia, this week, helping Mrs. Parker to drive her car back.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

OLD JUDGE: "Hank, you're a big grain producer... let me ask you a question or two?"
HANK: "Glad to have you, Judge."
OLD JUDGE: "Do you think the grain used by distillers is wasted as some folks are saying?"
HANK: "I certainly do. Not as a matter of fact, it is just the opposite."
OLD JUDGE: "How do you figure that, Hank?"
HANK: "From my own experience and from reports I've read. For the year endin' last June, the distillers produced over 1,200,000,000 pounds of distillers' dried grains... the best feed supplements we can lay our hands on. They are rich in nutrients. Why... I've never had such fat dairy cows, livestock and poultry as I have since I've been usin' these dried grains."
OLD JUDGE: "How do you use them, Hank?"
HANK: "I blend them in with original grain. This balanced ration has far greater feed value than the original grain itself. I can cut down on my whole grain feeding about 20% and still get better results."

NEBRASKA'S BIRTHDAY
Friday, March first, has long been recognized, especially on the farm, as moving day. Farmers who rent and who plan to move to a new location, usually move that day. This gives them time to get located before the actual spring work begins. By some, it is called the first day of spring, but this usually moves over to a vernal equinox, March 21.

But Friday has a different significance to people of Nebraska, for it is the birthday of our state, which came into being 79 years ago on that date. That was the time the homestead law went into effect, and thus opened all the land in this section of the state for settlement. Naturally the territory farther east and south was claimed first.

It is a remarkable thing that it was only five years later that the upper North Loup territory was organized and settlers began to come in and choose their future homes. But it was a natural situation. Many who had fought through the Civil war, and had become more or less detached from their old homes were looking for a new place to locate. The fortunes of many had been dissipated during the war, and they were looking for a new and cheap home.

Many, in fact, nearly all the people living here today think of Nebraska as the same state as we now know it, but it was different then. The western boundary was indefinite at first, and was not fully determined until a number of years afterward. The land there was not considered worth worrying about but eventually the west line was located where it is now. Wyoming territory was tentatively located in 1867, with the capital at Cheyenne.

The same thing was true of the north line of the state, which followed the 43rd parallel of north latitude the same as it does today, but was different as to the north river boundary. Instead of following the Missouri river all the way as it does now, it followed the Missouri to the mouth of the Niobrara, then followed the Niobrara west to its junction with the Keyapaha, then the Keyapaha northwest to a junction with the 43rd parallel.

Thus nearly all of present Boyd county was left in Dakota territory, as well as the northeast corner of Keya Paha county. Note the river is one word, and the county is two. Nothing was done about changing this line until the admission of the two Dakotas to the union in 1889, when the present correction in the line was made, and a total of 658 square miles of land was added to the area of the state of Nebraska.

EASILY SATISFIED

People soon accept conditions about them as a matter of course. Certain facts have always been, and they always will be. That is pretty much the attitude of the public toward our venerable North Loup river bridge. It was built 43 years ago, and was the standard type of bridge in its day. It would carry the load it was built to carry.

But a lot of changes have occurred since that time, when the writer, and Hank Misko and Jake Hoffman and Allie Pierce and others of that generation were still in high school. We boys went down in the evenings after school and saw the progress being made on the bridge. It was a marvelous thing to us, for we had never seen any big construction jobs before.

I recall asking the boss on the job some questions about the bridge, and he told us that it was designed to hold up a load of ten tons, which was quite a lot for a 94 foot span. The heaviest load of those days, a steam traction engine and threshing machine, would probably have weighed somewhere near that amount, and nobody dreamed of much heavier loads.

Ten years or so later the bridge was reinforced below and the concrete driveway was added, and this, together with the layer of dirt on top, probably weighed 80 tons, eight times the normal load the upper part of the bridge was supposed to hold safely, and still it held for some thirty years. The average man never gave the proposition a thought.

Today we should not be surprised that the bridge broke down, but we should marvel that it held up so great an overload for so long a period of time. We should do honor to the men who built so durable a bridge. And yet about half the people who talk with are still wondering why the bridge broke down, especially when there was nothing on it but an empty truck.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.

by John L. Ward.

For some time I have been wondering why it would not be a good idea to get hold of some of that surplus war material the government is disposing of. It is supposed to be made available for civilians, and especially to ex-service men. That is as it should be. However, I ran across an ad put out by an outfit called Surplus War Property of Washington, D. C., which opened my eyes somewhat. They put out what they call a newsletter each month to all sundry who subscribe, at the very special rate of $75 a year, or $40 for six months. The way it looks, you might save ten dollars on a one hundred dollar purchase of surplus war goods by paying out forty to seventy five dollars to find out how to do it. I still contend that the little fellow doesn't have much of a chance.

Back in 1896 a Mira Valley farmer took a team his father had raised for him, borrowed $20 from the bank, bought a walking plow, a walking cultivator and two section harrow, and farmed a quarter section without any further cash outlay except to pay a neighbor for cutting his grain and for helping put up his hay. He raised a fine crop, and managed to put away some money. Today that man, still alive, could not get into the farming game and make it pay for less than $5,000, and it might cost twice that. It is true he would get a little more for his crop, but he could not raise any more bushels or tons per acre, and the chances are he would raise less. All this might explain the mad rush of the younger generation to get back to the farm.

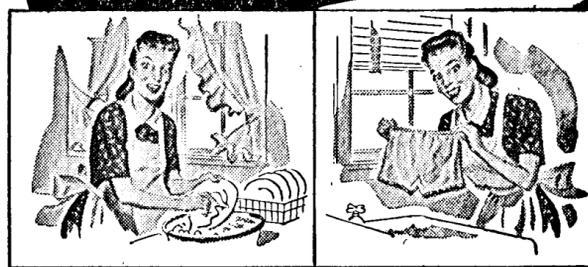

Not long ago C. E. McGrew bought the building in which his shoe shop is located from L. M. Loft for $1,000. This building is old, it is true, but the location is good, and the timbers in that building are much better than any new lumber you could buy today. Mac is getting the place fixed up, and it is going to make him a fine place of business for quite a reasonable price. I remember a man who ran what was called the Depot Pawn shop in Honolulu, opposite the station of the Oahu railroad. He ran it in a building not as good as McGrew's was before he started fixing it up, a building not as large as that one front room of Mac's and he paid rent at the rate of $175 a month, or $1050 every six months. Honolulu may be the Paradise of the Pacific, but it costs plenty to live there.

We get to thinking of the business men of Ord as permanent fixtures. We see them in their accustomed places every day, and we simply cannot think of how Ord would be without them. Yet, the fact is that you can count on the fingers of one hand the Ord men who actively engaged in business here forty years ago. Not only that, but about half of the ones you do find, are not in the same business now that they were four decades ago. Frank Koupal, now mostly retired, is dean of them all, and J. P. Hoffman has worked for him 40 years or more. There are the Miskos, Bill and Hank. There is C. E. McGrew, who changed jobs. An there is H. D. Leggett,

No. Loup Lions Met Thursday at Cafe

The regular session of the North Loup Lions club was held Thursday evening, this time at Kate Shaffner's Ideal Cafe, where a steak dinner was served to 32 members and 3 visitors. The visitors were Rev. Warren Stuten, guest of Sterling Manchester, Ed Swopes, guest of George Hastings, and C. W. McClellan, who was present in behalf of the Red Cross drive.

Also present was Bryan Van Horn, a prospective member, who was taken into membership by an unanimous vote during the business session. Mr. McClellan explained the needs and purposes of the Red Cross drive, gave the amounts raised by the southeast townships last year, and showed that the amount needed for 1946 was approximately half that amount.

For entertainment, Supt. Healy of the North Loup schools had brought the projecting machine and a lovely colored film, "The Canadian Rockies," which was highly appreciated by the Lions. The business session had to do with plans for the Charter Night, which comes March 14. Committee chairman reported everything going ahead according to plan.

WOODMAN HALL.

Robert Jurica and Raymond Coka of Shiner, Texas arrived by car at Adolf Pesek's Wednesday for a few days visit. Robert is a relative of the Pesek brothers and after receiving his discharge from military service decided to visit his relatives in Nebraska accompanied by his buddy, Raymond Coka. The boys were stationed at Scott Field, Missouri.

The Paul Waldmann and Tom McIntosh auction sale was well attended Wednesday and everything sold at a good figure. Although the former member of the firm was not able to be present at the sale on account of the arrival of the new son. Some machinery and furniture was consigned to the sale by neighbors. A large crowd was present at the wedding dance at the National Hall Tuesday night given in honor of Miss Lillian Wolf and Ted Setlik who were joined in wedlock that day.

Rex Morris brought a truck load of corn from South Dakota for Ed Radil last Saturday.

Miss Virginia Petska spent Sunday afternoon with Mildred Waldmann.

A nine pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ptacnik Sunday. Dr. Barta was in attendance. Mrs. Van Hoon is taking care of mother and baby.

About 360 lbs. of salvaged paper was contributed by our school district in filling the car on the Burlington tracks at Ord last week. Ed Radil took some down Friday and Mildred Waldmann hauled some Saturday. The money received will be used to buy some needed furnishings for the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kamarad and Joe Waldmann attended the funeral of Wallace Dye at Comstock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lawrence Waldmann accompanied Paul Waldmann to Loup City last Friday where they visited Mrs. Paul Waldmann and the new son at the Amick hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Waldmann accompanied Paul on the same mission Sunday afternoon.

Adolf Pesek is building a shed that will house his new tractor.

Popcorn Contracts

We are writing our popcorn contracts for 1946. There will be a very limited amount of Dwarf Hulless this year. Most of the processors and users of popping corn want the South American. Come in and talk over your contracts with us. We believe that the acreage will be limited this year.

White Corn

There is a very great demand for White Corn and we believe that it will be a very good plan to plant some white corn this year for a cash crop. We have three numbers of White Hybrid Seed Corn that is adapted to our section. The maturity date is 100 to 110 days on these numbers. We are in the market for white corn for shipping. If you have any white corn for sale, let us make you an offer.

Yellow Hybrids

We have received our shipment of Standard Hybrid Corn. We have supplies of 939, 405, 615, 613 and U. S. 13. We also have some Nebr. 463. If you do not have all of your hybrid seed ordered, let us book you for it now.

Seed Oats

We have a very limited amount of Certified Cedar Oats and non-certified Oat Oats. It pays to sow good seed and we have some very nice seed at a reasonable price.

Baby Chicks

The Hill Hatchery has extended the early order discount to March 10. Let us place your order now for your chicks. Some of the varieties are not too plentiful but we believe that we can take care of your order in pretty fair shape if we have it soon.

Regarding chick feeds; we believe that we have full arrangements for all the feed to take care of all the chicks that we will sell this year. It will be a very good plan to get your feed and have it on hand when your chicks arrive. We have a good supply of Peat Moss and Dr. Salisbury and Gland-O-Lac poultry remedies.

Feeding Corn

We have been getting a few loads of feeding corn and of you are in need of some, we can probably get a load of good yellow corn for you. Ask us for price delivered to your farm.

NORTH LOUP

Ben Naunberg has bought the old Charles Collins farm where Mr. Walkemeyer is living.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vogeler and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gibson and Mrs. Glen Ferguson of Berwyn were Thursday guests in the home of Mrs. Lena Taylor.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ingerson included the Van Creager family of Bassett, the Irving King and Willard Harkness families of Ord, Willard Ingerson of Grand Island and the Dell Barber and Cloyd Ingerson families of North Loup. Mrs. Creager and baby daughter came down last week and Saturday night Mr. Creager and two daughters came after them, returning Sunday evening bus.

Frank Selgel, and Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Tolen took Pvt. Albert Selgel to Grand Island Friday to take the train to return to Camp Roberts, Cal. He had been home on furlough for three weeks.

Bob DeNoyer, C O S, Petty officer son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard DeNoyer, is home for an eighteen day leave. A member of the crew of the U.S.S. Rushmore, he has spent the past eighteen months in the Pacific and is to report back to Portland at the end of his leave.

Phyllis Stevens went to her home in Taylor on the Monday evening bus.

The Will Earnest, Albert Haight and Comfort Cummins families spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson. Hugh McCall of Grand Island was in North Loup Monday. A guessing game, called the "Wedding Parly" was enjoyed by the guests, after which a mock wedding ceremony was performed. The big window was decorated in pink and white streamers and bows, before which the bride, Miss Donna Manchester, groom, Mrs. Grace Nelson, bridesmaid, Mrs. Dorothy Stine and best man, Mrs.

Louise Brennick. Mrs. Elfreda Vodehnal was the preacher and went through her duties very realistically. The bride's bouquet and also the bridesmaid's were very beautiful, consisting of garden vegetables. Little Davie Schudel was the ring bearer and carried the history note book ring, pinned on a pillow, with a safety pin. After congratulations, the real bride, Mrs. Hoepfner, was seated at a table in front of the decorated window and opened her many lovely gifts. The hostesses served a lunch of pink and white cup cakes, pink wafer mints, ice cream and coffee. The napkins were pastel pink with the names "Eileen—Bud" printed in silver. About 35 ladies enjoyed the afternoon and wished the bride many years of happiness. Mrs. Hoepfner graduated from the Ord high school with the class of '39 and Bud from North Loup high school the same year. Bud served three and a half years in the 255th Ord. Co., almost 3 years, being overseas duty. They will live in the college apt's in Grand Island as Bud's employed at the Red Rooster Sales Co. Mrs. Hoepfner assisted her father in his cafe until her marriage.

Mickey Elley celebrated his second birthday Sunday afternoon by having seven of his little friends and their mothers to spend the afternoon with him. A birthday cake decorated to represent a merry go round, circus animals and movies of the party made a pleasant afternoon for the children and grown ups.

Albert Baller of Exeter, known to many here, was buried Sunday, having passed away on Friday at a Lincoln hospital where he had been for some time. Mrs. Baller was the former Irma Preston. They have three children, two married daughters and an eighteen year old son.

Harriett Manchester came from Grand Island on the Friday morning bus. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Manchester and I. A. Manchester spent the day in Grand Island and took Harriett back to her work.

Jim Coleman's Mobilgas Service Station was opened for business Thursday.

Ord Church Notes

Mira Valley Evangelical Church. Warren G. Studer, Minister

Last Sunday, February 24, was the close of the observance of Youth Week in our church. On February 17, the Young People had entire charge of the Sunday School, including the teaching, and the morning worship service. Orel Koelling, Roberta Cook and Thelma Collins gave short talks. The services of youth were well appreciated by all. Then, last Sunday evening the climax was brought to Youth Week through a discussion "Mold The World" in the E.Y.F. period and the sermon: "God Molds Us" with Rev. R. R. Roker of the Kearney Evangelical church bringing the message. A beautiful candle-light consecration service followed. We will look forward to Youth Week again next year.

Seventh Day Baptist Church. Rev. A. C. Ehret, Pastor. Preaching service, each Sabbath morning at 10:30. Sermon "What Will You Give?" Bible school, 11:45. George Clement, Supt. Young People's meeting, 3:00 p.m.

World day of prayer will be observed in this church, Friday, March 8, at 4:00 p.m. Theme for this is "The Things That Make For Our Peace".

North Loup Methodist Church. Samuel Mitchell, Pastor Sunday, March 3, 1946. Church School, 10 a.m., Mrs. Stella Kerr, Supt.

Morning service, 11:15 a.m. Message by the Pastor. Methodist Youth Fellowship Intermediates, 5:00 p.m. Senior Group, 6:30 p.m. This is a union meeting with the Ord Methodist Youth Fellowship. Cars leave at 6:00 p.m. The Missionary Study group of the W.S.C.S. meet at the Parsonage with Mrs. Nina Shultz as Study leader, and Miss Lola Fuller, Devotional leader.

Heroux - Gorney.

At the St. Mary Catholic church in Aberdeen, Wash., Monday morning, Feb. 11, Louise Heroux, daughter of Albin Heroux of Pawtucket, R. I., and Edmund T. Gorney, son of Mrs. Martha Anderson of Aberdeen, were married in a double ring ceremony performed at 10:30 a.m. by Rev. Rafadomski. The ceremony was followed by a nuptial low mass. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Paul Heroux. The bride wore a fitted gown of white slipper satin with a full bodice and long sleeves. Her fingertip gown of white slipper satin with a full bodice and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was caught to a Juliet cap decorated with seed pearls. She carried a pearl rosary, a gift from the groom. Alicia Wright, niece of the groom, wore a white dress and carried the bride's bouquet of red roses. The bride's only attendant was Gertrud Gorney, sister of the groom, who wore a pale blue frock made on formal lines. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Paul Heroux acted as best man. The groom's mother wore a black afternoon dress and a gardenia corsage. A wedding dinner and reception was held at the home of Mrs. William Wright, sister of the groom. The bride's table, lace covered, had as a centerpiece a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. After dinner the couple left for a two weeks honeymoon in the states of Washington, Oregon and California.

Volf - Setlik.

On Tuesday morning, Feb. 19, at 9:30 a.m. at nuptial high mass, Lillian Volf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Volf, and Ted Setlik, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Setlik, were united in marriage. Rev. Stanley Gorak performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was attired in a gown of white rayon organza with three quarter length sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil was held by a cupid crown trimmed with sequins. She wore a double strand of pearls which was a gift from the bridegroom. The bride and groom were attended by Florence Setlik, Frank Zaidina, Jr., Vivian Setlik and Leonard Kokes. The bridesmaids were attired in gowns of pastel blue. The flower girls were Lucille Ann Hulinisky and Marilyn Jean Hulinisky. They both wore pink floor length gowns. Each carried a basket filled with flowers. The bridegroom and his attendants were attired in dark suits. After the ceremony dinner and supper were served at the National Hall, followed by a dance in the evening, with Adolph Urbanovsky's orchestra furnishing the music. The young couple will make their home on a farm west of Ord.

Jablonski - Copeland.

A big dinner was held at the Jos. J. Jablonski home at Elyria Feb. 17, honoring their daughter, Eleanor Jo Jablonski and her fiance, Stanley Copeland, Cook first class, of Denver, Colo. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Novotny, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Chalupsky, Bill and Arthur Chalupsky and Leroy Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Suchanek, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Selacek and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geneski, Donnie, Marion, Lillian and Norma, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gorak of Elyria, Tom Jablonski, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zulkoski, Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Dworak and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. John Ulrich, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bredthauer of Burwell. Immediately following the dinner Miss Jablonski and Mr. Copeland accompanied by Mrs. Jos. J. Jablonski, Robert Jablonski and Marcela Iwanski, left for Denver, Colo., where the wedding took place in the Cathedral Catholic church, Fr. Theobald officiating. Present also for the ceremony were Mr. Copeland's parents, and another sister and husband, also Mr. and Mrs. Copeland. From there the couple left for Chicago on their honeymoon. Mrs. Copeland is a graduate of Ord high school, class of 1944. She then attended commercial school in Omaha for a year and was employed nearly a year in Omaha by the Searle Petroleum company. She met her future husband while attending college in Kearney, Neb. For the wedding she wore an aqua-blue street dress and a corsage of gladiolas and carnations. Her bridesmaid, Miss Iwanski, wore a cream colored dress and a corsage of carnations. Robert Jablonski acted as best man.

Social Shorts.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zikmund and family entertained Sheriff and Mrs. Robert G. Hall and daughter Gall, and George Dworak at a six-thirty dinner last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Parkos and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Cetak and family and George Cetak spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cetak.

Unseasonably Warm Weather Prevailing

While the weather through January and February was quite mild, that of the past week has been unusually warm for late February. The result is that practically all the frost is out of the ground except on north slopes and in the shadows of buildings. A few farmers have already had a try at early farming, and find the ground in fair working condition.

The lack of seasonal moisture shows in the dryness of the soil, and this is giving farmers, especially in the dry land areas, some cause for worry. Unless spring rains start soon, or late snows fall, it is feared that there will not be moisture enough in the soil to insure sprouting of early spring crops, or early growth of alfalfa and grass.

Monday was an unusually dusty windy day, but the wind was not accompanied by a fall in temperature as most winter winds are. All the frost was out on the paving on three sides of the square, and a group of men were busy scraping up the accumulated dirt of the winter and hauling it away. The south side should be ready for cleaning in another day or two.

Camp Fire Groups Meet, Plan Work

The local Camp Fire guardsmen's association met with Mrs. E. L. Kokes Monday at five. Fifteen leaders, assistants and program advisors were present to work and enjoy the supper hour together. Detailed plans were made for the annual celebration in March in honor of Camp Fire's 34th birthday, for awarding the anniversary honors, and for the visit in April of the District VII secretary from Kansas City.

Mrs. Mary Louise Nash outlined and assigned work on the program of music, "Lullabies from Many Lands" which she will direct and in which over sixty Camp Fire members will participate. Viola Puncchar, chairman of the association, is also chairman of Birthday Week plans. Mrs. Gwen Cummins and Rae Jean Brown have charge of program tickets. Marjorie Fouts continues to work once a week directing the folk-dancing among the five groups. This will be a special feature in the annual Play Day program.

Dr. Norris Reports.

The following births are reported by Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris: A 7½ pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Neville Carhill of Scotia Sunday, Feb. 17. An eight pound daughter named Aletha Mae was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Charley Jones. They have two sons, but this is the first daughter. A 6½ pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnson of Scotia Monday. They have named him James Allen. While working on farm machinery Ed Shoemaker broke his glasses when a wrench slipped, and damaged his right eye. He was brought in to Dr. Norris, who took care of the injured member, and it should be as good as ever in due time.

Methodist Church Preaching Mission

The Preaching Mission of the Methodist church in this area, will be known as the Ord, Preaching Mission, will reach out to nine other churches in this section of the state.

The towns involved are: Burwell, Ballagh, North Loup, Scotia, Greeley, Wolbach, Ericson and Bartlett.

They will begin March 13th, Wednesday.

The first four days will be entirely Personal Visitation Evangelism, Preaching Service will begin Sunday, March 17, and will continue to March 22, Friday inclusive. Preaching services each night in the church here and in every town mentioned above.

From sixteen to eighteen Ministers will be working at this task simultaneously. Each morning the entire group will meet in the Ord church for instruction and inspiration. Before going to the respective fields for the afternoon and evening work.

Similar preaching missions are being held throughout the Methodist field. They will be continued for the next three years until each church has been reached.

Dr. Emil B. Frye of Trinity Methodist Church, Kansas City, Mo., will be the leader for the mission, he will also be the guest preacher, during the Mission in the local Methodist church.

Collipriests Leaving.
Ord friends will learn with regret that Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Collipriest of Lexington have sold their home there and are moving to Sacramento, Calif. They made many warm friends while living in Ord, where Mr. Collipriest was agent for the Union Pacific. He worked in a similar capacity while in Lexington, and many of his old friends got to see them occasionally there.

Their son, J. E. Collipriest and family, live in Sacramento and they will make their home with them. Mr. Collipriest recently retired from his long period of service with the railroad. Mrs. Earl Blessing and Mrs. Kenneth Draper came from Lincoln to help their mother get ready to move.

New Rural Mail Carrier.

Loren V. Stones, of Holyoke, Colo., will be the new mail carrier on rural route No. 3, Ord after March 1. He takes the place of Herbert Critchfield, who goes to Stones' old route at Holyoke. The new carrier has bought Critchfield's house here and will move his wife and two sons here this week.
