Council Postpones Pool for One Year; Bids are Too High

Lowest Figure was $33,527; Officials Will Not Spend More than Authorized

Youngsters of Ord who have wanted to spend their summer vacation swimming in the municipal pool are doomed for disappointment for the bids submitted for the pool were too high and all were rejected by the council at its meeting Monday evening. Mayor Cummins indicated the dozen or so representatives of contracting firms were present at the meeting tasked them to come back with lower bids about a year later. Even though parts of the project were submitted for bids separately, the lowest figure submitted Monday night was $33,527.60. Local builders submitted figures, many of the larger contractors of the state as well as contractors from Los Angeles and Chicago. Mayor Cummins suggested that the project be postponed for a year and the council agreed him without a dissenting voice.

The mayor pointed out that the issue voted by the people to construct the pool was $25,000.00 and that he did not feel inclined to spend more money which the public had not authorized. He said that if prices continue at their present high level possibly the city might authorize the increased expenditure later. If prices go down, however, the council will be able to build the pool for the amount voted.

Architect Frank N. McNett of Ord and Island, who has assisted the building pool project since its inception, told the council members that building costs have increased 33.421 per cent since 1913 that they are now 20 per cent more than they were last October. He related that at North side the voters authorized a $100,000.00 to build a pool, but the lowest bid submitted by a contractor was $81,000 which did not include a house. The council approved the appointment of a liquor store, Ord's fourth building of Will Nelson to operate at the corner of 14th and M streets. A building, formerly used as a filling station and owned by Wentworth, is being remodeled by Cook and Son for that purpose. A new floor has been laid, new windows installed and the walls of the building are to be finished.

Light Plant Work Starts this Week

$25,000 Project Approved By C. P. A.; Building Will Be Enlarged

Work on Ord's municipal light plant will be started by the end of the week, according to George Allen, city engineer. The project approved by the civilian production administration Monday, building will cost $25,000.00. Allen says that employees already on the city's payroll will be the first step in the construction. It will be the removal of the west wall of the present building. The building will be enlarged on both ends to accommodate the new generator which the city has purchased. Attorney Clarence Davis, Mr. Allen went to Omaha Tuesday to confer with officials of the CPA. They also went to Omaha where they consulted with the department of health in relation to Ord's sewage disposal plant. The council passed a resolution recommending the construction of a sewage disposal plant as soon as funds should be available for such a project.

Spring Comes to Ord, Water Taste Tells It

People know spring is here by the bitter taste of the city water supply, even if other tell-tale signs were lacking. Ord's water comes from the North river and each spring after it goes out, roots and other things break loose in the water to take on an unpleasant, bitter taste for a few weeks. For some reason the condition is worse than usual this spring. City water authorities have been adding activated charcoal filtering beds in an attempt to filter the water of its unpleasant taste. The coffee dam built above the river's normal flow on the west side and probably caused condition now existing. The water is as pure as ever, when water now in the reservoir and mains is used it is the bitter taste for a few weeks.

Walter Koinzen Chosen Manager Of Ord Airport

Council Will Make Contract With Flight Instructor From Elgin

Walter Koinzen of Elgin was appointed manager of the Ord airport by the city council at its meeting Monday night. Mayor Cummins referred the matter of a contract with Mr. Koinzen to the streets and alley committee of the council of which Dr. Blessing is chairman. The mayor stated at the council meeting Tuesday night that all questions pertaining to the airport would be referred to this committee which is now to be known as the streets, alleys and airport committee.

Two new councilmen, E. S. Murray and Dr. J. W. McGinnis are members of this committee, which will work out terms of a contract with Mr. Koinzen which will later be referred to the council for ratification.

The appointment of Mr. Koinzen was recommended by the Valley Flyers, a delegation from the group being present at the council meeting to present their interests. Mr. Koinzen is the owner of four planes, the holder of a commercial pilot's license and is a certified aircraft and engine mechanic. He is also a qualified flight instructor. Herb Cline, the president of the Valley Flyers pointed out that it was important to have a qualified flight instructor so that the Ord airfield could be used for giving lessons to veterans under the G. I. bill of rights. Mr. Koinzen is familiar with the provisions of the G. I. bill of rights which provides that veterans may be taught to fly at government expense.

Mr. Koinzen is the manufacturer of an oil filter, and a device for holding welding rods for which he holds patents.

Two Men Pay Fine After Disturbance

Kenneth Lindstrom of Aurora, who has been working on a farm near Ord, and Carl Lindquist, an Ord citizen, were arrested by Chief of Police Covert and Sheriff Hall Friday night after the officers had received complaints that the men were making a disturbance in the room over the Ord bakery where they resided. When the officers arrived Mr. Lindstrom had fallen asleep. The two men were confined in jail until morning when they were brought before Police Magistrate John Haskell.

Both men were fined five dollars and costs. Lindstrom was charged with intoxication and Lindquist with disturbing the peace. Both pleaded guilty. Mr. Lindstrom has since left Ord.

Amateur Show Poorly Attended

B&WPC Gives "Pep Parade"; Well Cast and Played, Deserved Support. Well cast and excellently played was the "Pep Parade," a 3-act comedy given at the high school auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings by an amateur cast under auspices of the Business & Professional Women's club of this city, but sparse audiences were present each night.

Standouts in the cast were Irma Cochran as a domineering wife, Wilma Anderson as the fortune hunter and Marjorie Pouts as a lady osteopath. Also good were Joe Ramackers as a henpecked husband, Virginia Wozniak as the heroine, Roland Norman as her sweetheart. Alma Baker as a wealthy widow, Rosalind Northway as a phony French medium and Irene Anderson as a Swedish maid. Several high school girls composed the choruses which added glamour to the production. Miss Frances Lundell directed the play and Mrs. Vern Andersen was general chairman on behalf of the club. A "tiny tot contest" held in connection with the play was won by Connie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beranek, and Freddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schoenfeld, who were presented from the stage Saturday night. The Ord group announces net profit of approximately $100, of which fifty per cent will be given to the fire truck fund.

Boy Admits Guilt; Taken to Kearney

Extenuating Circumstances Lighten Sentence of Lad Charged with Rape

Melvin Barte, fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Barte, pleaded guilty of statutory rape in the district court of Valley county Saturday afternoon, was committed to the Nebraska state board of control and sentenced to the state industrial school at Kearney by Judge Spikes. The boy was represented in court by Attorney Thomas W. Lammigan of Grand Island.

County Attorney John P. Misko told the court that he regretted there was no lighter charge which he could bring against the defendant. He stated that the defendant had been truthful with him and that he did not believe the boy to be a habitual criminal. The victim or her parents did not appear in court.

Owing to what he considered to be extenuating circumstances, Judge Spikes did not commit the boy to the Kearney school for any definite time. The parents told the judge that they were in hard financial straits and that they needed their son to assist them on their farm. They said that he was industrious and obedient at all times. The father said that since the time of the crime the boy had worked out to earn money to hire an attorney to defend him.

The boy's teacher made a deposition stating that he had never given her previous trouble and that he had been helpful and cooperative in the school room. The judge stated "Such a crime cannot go unpunished." He said he hoped the boy would make a commendable record in the school at Kearney and that after a time he might be paroled to his parents. Sheriff Hall took the lad to Kearney Saturday afternoon.

Meat Shortages Hit Ord; Locals Put Blame On OPA

Local Butchers Stymied By Spread Between OPA Price and Bid

Valley county citizens came to a rude awakening this week, rubbed their collective eyes, and finally admitted that they too, in the heart of the meat producing areas, are faced with a meat shortage. Dealers in Ord presented empty meat cases to their customers -- that is with the exception of a few pieces of processed meats and less desirable cuts of pork. Of the four meat dealers in town, three were out of fresh pork and beef entirely. Another had a small amount of beef and a limited supply of pork. Two of Ord's four meat dealers do their own butchering, purchasing and fattening locally raised hogs and hogs, and do their own curing. The other two buy packing house meat, mainly from Omaha.

"We were getting along all right, and always had all the meat we could sell until the price of cattle started creeping upward. It was possible for us to pay as high as 14c a pound for good steers, with a dress out average of more than 56%, and still stay within the OPA maximum price," Jim Cetak of the North Side Market told the Quiz.

"Today we can't buy cattle for 14c. The average cattle feeder in this community can ship to Omaha and get 15 1/2 to 16 cents and his shipping costs are less than a cent a pound. Or he can sell to one of several order buyers who are in this community and do a bit better."

"We don't blame them a bit for not selling to us for a cheaper price. In fact, it would be foolish for them to do so. But as long as we run an honest market we won't be able to buy local beef under the present maximum price. Let me give you an illustration. The last bunch of hogs we bought were among the best we have ever seen. There were 15 head in the group, and because we needed meat to stay in business, I took a chance and bid them in at 14 cents."

"They dressed out from 59 1/2 to 54 1/2 per cent, with an average for the group of 56 1/2. On that basis the maximum price we could pay the feeder was $13.70 per hundred, and so unless we could make this up on a better purchase on the rest of our butchering quota for the month we were stuck. OPA could have fined or imprisoned us. And, I'll admit it was pure luck, but we managed to buy 4 good hogs which dressed out well." (Continued on Page 7)

Baseball Opener To Be with Mason City

First Game Will Be Played May 12 on Home Diamond; 8 Teams in League

Ord's sandlotters will have their first game May 12 when they will cross bats with Mason City on the home diamond. Walt Douthit and Cash Rathbun, the team managers, are putting the men reporting for practice through a tough training schedule to shape them up for the opener.

Mr. Douthit reports that lots of good material has shown up and that Ord has fine prospects for a winning team. The squad is practicing Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Sunday afternoons. Mr. Douthit hopes to have a practice game Sunday afternoon. Men interested in playing are urged to report at the city ball park at practice time as the team has not yet been selected. New suits have been purchased for the team, which are the gift of the Ord business men.

The Loup Valley Baseball league had a meeting in North Loup on Thursday evening where a schedule for the season was made as well as regulations and rules to govern the games. Ericson was admitted to the league and Arcadia, which had previously dropped out was readmitted, making eight teams now in the league.

Bread Loaves Now 2 Ounces Lighter

Complying with the regulation of the United States department of agriculture and after being assured of the full cooperation of the state department of agriculture the size of loaves of bread has been reduced from 20 ounces to 18 ounces. The bakers of Nebraska commenced making loaves of this size Monday after receiving instructions and assurance from Victor E. Wendelin of Lincoln, president of the Nebraska Bakers association.

The new loaves of bread are as long as the loaves formerly were but they are slightly lower. The regulation reducing the size of loaves is part of the campaign to save wheat for the starving people in Europe and Asia. A later regulation has reduced the amount of flour which the millers release to their customers to 75 percent of what they ordinarily use.

Barney Brown, former paratrooper with the 82nd airborne, got more of a souvenir than expected when he picked up a nylon parachute from a grounded Nazi plane in Europe. Opening it months later at his home at Baldwin, N. Y., he found an ermine wrap worth $2,000 carefully tucked inside.

A woman walked into the city hall at Raleigh, N. C., tossed a tag before a window clerk and said, "I didn't think I parked for over an hour, but maybe I did. Where do I pay this dollar?" The clerk stared at the tag. In each corner was printed "$1 in prominent type. It was a fortune teller's advertisement, used on automobile windshields.

Foreman Jack Cook, 50, of an army quartermaster corps laundry, San Francisco, told the police he toyed with the pocket clip of an object that looked like a fountain pen and was shot. Police tracing the uniform from which Mr. Cook said the gadget was removed, called it a "booby trap," functioning like a gun with the clip for a trigger.

The most carefully guarded secret in Tacoma, Wash., is: Who's on the secret committee which will choose dates for nylon sales at Tacoma stores? The retail trade bureau said the new committee was formed to meet complaints from hoseless women that "tips" had leaked out and favored customers knew when to buy. The bureau adds, furthermore, that feminine wiles can't induce it to disclose the committee's identity.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

After a couple of O. P. A. guys stormed around an Ord business establishment a while the other day, the proprietor, getting madder and madder, handed them the keys and told them to take the place and run it, that he didn't have to do so. Of course they calmed down and soon left. Of course they had no experience, wouldn't know how to run a business if they had one to run.

O—

An Ord township farmer has seven hundred bushels of corn to spare and had promised to divide it among three of his neighbors who needed corn. Then came the 30c bonus above ceiling price and the order that the farmer must sell his corn through an elevator and let the government take it. What will the three neighbors do? Why sell their stock of course. That is all they can do, for they cannot buy corn to feed it. No one is allowed to run his own business any more and he is being told how to run his business by an army of government leeches who don't know how to run it.

O—

I am having a lot of fun these days, while I am so lame that I can do very little work, playing with and watching a bunch of bantams that I have bought. For many years I have had a sort of hobby, fishing when I could get time off. But now, if I was to try to get into a boat I would be more likely to fall into the lake. So I have had to look elsewhere for a hobby and at present bantams seems to be the answer. They are smart little cusses and nice to look at. They will jump onto my arm when I stick it into their pen, and talk to me like nobodys business. When I talk to them they talk right back but neither of us knows what the other says. But it is fun to see the little bantam rooster get into the nest and call his hens, apparently telling them that they should get busy and lay some eggs.

O—

Many people who are not doing so now, could keep a few chickens and raise their own eggs and a large amount of the meat they need and I believe it would be good business for them to do so. As scarce as other meats are getting and are likely to be next winter, the demand for chickens will be greater than ever before. The only fly in the ointment of my advice is whether we can get enough chicken feed to raise the fifty or so chickens we would want to raise in order to have a couple of dozen hens and enough left to dress and put in the locker for winter. One thing seems true, we won't be able to get beef and pork as we have been doing. Better raise good gardens and plenty of chickens than to go hungry.

O—

And speaking of gardens, unless it rains pretty soon, some of us are going to have trouble raising a garden—and I am reminded that some of you are back on your subscription and should be sending in $2.50 right away. A party wants to order a state daily for three years and the daily tells me that one year in advance is the limit. We have been limiting Quiz subscriptions to two years in advance—and we are going to have to raise the subscription price outside Valley and the adjoining counties, that is, everyone outside the Ord trade territory. If they are wise they will renew before that is done if they want the paper.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.

by John L. Ward.

Nathaniel Hawthorne once wrote a story which had quite a vogue among the people of his day, the "House of Seven Gables". Ever since then, either by accident or design, a house somewhere is built with seven gables, and it remains for nosy people like myself to discover them. Perhaps that is the reason I counted the gables on the McClellan ranch house just west of North Loup, and found there were seven of them. There are three large gables, one on the east, one on the south and one on the west, and there are two little gables over dormer windows on the east and two on the south. That makes seven, I believe.

Perhaps the reason houses are sometimes built with seven gables is because of the old time belief that the number seven is lucky. As thirteen is the first number supposed to be really unlucky, and twenty-three is the next, it is hardly likely that anybody will meet with hard luck just because he lives in a house with thirteen gables or even with twenty-three. That many would drive a carpenter crazy, and the OPA would shut down on the job before it was half done. There are other seven gabled houses in the county. I believe the F. C. Williams home is one, and the house on the old John Fish place is another.

O—

Speaking of the OPA, this organization did some praiseworthy work in holding down prices during the war, but it seems to me somebody ought to tell them the war is over, even if it has not been declared over. It may be all right to slap heavy fines on firms who deliberately and intentionally sell goods for higher prices than they are supposed to, but this thing of giving a firm the limit when there is no apparent intent to break the law, is entirely too drastic, and smacks too much of the Hitlerism we just fought a war to eliminate.

O—

I got to thinking about my old friend, Doug Barber this week, and it brought to mind an incident of our school days in which he and I figured. We both played ball in our respective high schools well over forty years ago. I was secretary of the Ord high athletic association, and wrote a letter to North Loup suggesting a series of games with them. Something I said did not please the North Loup secretary, Ren Goodrich, and he wrote a decidedly saucy letter in reply. We did not play that fall, but arranged a game at North Loup in the spring. Before the game started I asked Harold Parks, our catcher, which of the North Loup team was Ren Goodrich, and he pointed out a fellow wearing a sweater with stripes running around it. I could throw some fast ones in those days, and every time that fellow in the striped sweater came to bat, I hit him. After the third time Harold asked me what I was doing it for, and I said, "That's Ren Goodrich, and I'm just getting even with him". "Like heck it is," said Harold, "that fellow is Doug Barber. Ren isn't even playing." And sure enough, there he was taking it easy on the North Loup bench.

O—

If you know your neighbor well enough, you simply cannot hate him. You may still dislike him, but you know that he is an important cog in the community wheel, which would not revolve as well if he were not there. This is true of your own neighborhood, of your own town, of your own state and of the entire nation. Too often neighboring towns fail to work together for the common good because of petty jealousies. The remedy is to meet and know your neighbors, and when you know them, you will like them. Just remember that you cannot kill anything worth while by knocking it, but you can kill yourself in trying it. If it is not worth while it will die anyway.

O—

I have had the honor of living in three of the best towns in Nebraska. I first thought Ord was ahead of any town in the nation. Then I got to know Burwell, and found it fully as good, and in some respects just a little better. Now I am meeting new friends and neighbors in North Loup, and find that this village is no different than the other towns. This brings the inevitable conclusion that any town in Nebraska would doubtless measure up to the same standards as the three I have known and loved. So, if there is a man you think you dislike, get better acquainted with him. When you get to know him as you should, you will find it impossible to hate him.

HAIL Could Destroy Your Entire Crop

It's not a bit too early to make certain that your crops this year will be covered by Hail Insurance. High crop prices make it doubly important to protect your profits by insuring now for the full season. Destruction of your crop this year may mean the loss of your greatest return since 1919—unless you have the insurance to protect it.

Don't gamble on the weather. This year plan your hail insurance as you would your crop planting. See us about your policies now—before the hail season is here.

Meat Shortages
Hit Ord; Locals
Put Blame On OPA

enough that our total purchases for the month put us in the price limit. Otherwise we'd have been in hot water, too, for paying 30c a hundred too much for our beef.

Will Have To Quit.
"Right now, if we buy any beef we're going to have to pay at least 15 cents to get them," OPA says that's too much. So, we're out of the meat business, practically. And if we can't buy to comply with OPA regulations, we will just have to quit.

Otto Pecinka, proprietor of Pecinka & Son Market, who also does his own butchering and curing told the Quiz he had nothing to say about the meat situation.

"I'm in dutch with the OPA now because some bulls I bought didn't dress out as high as I figured they would, and consequently I paid too much for them," he stated. "If I start to tell what I think about this situation they will probably come out and close me up."

Paul Armstrong, Safeway butcher, told the Quiz that his situation was simple. "Saturday night I ran out of meat. I usually reckon on hand at all times, but when the two local markets ran out, the extra demand cleaned out my cases too. I won't have any meat until our regular shipment from the packer comes in today."

Jim Wachtler, manager of the Ord Jack & Jill store told the Quiz that his situation was the same. "We ran out of meat, and are waiting on our shipment from the packers. When that's gone again, well, we just wait again."

Coincidentally, this week's Quiz carries a letter from Ernest S. Coats, assessor of Ord township which delves a bit further into the meat situation as it exists today, and what it will be in the future. Mr. Coats' letter, on page 4 of this issue, states that only 2 of 89 farms in Ord township were carrying the usual number of hogs. Most farmers are culling their herds to one-third of the usual number of hogs.

—Archie Geweke was on the Omaha market Tuesday with three carloads of prime steers. The Romans transfer assisted him by hauling two loads of the cattle to Omaha.

Shaded Store Fronts All Over Nation Are Results of Idea of Auble Brothers

Merchants Want Marquises
Like Ord Business Men
Made for Themselves

Store fronts shaded in a unique manner, which is the development of an idea of two Ord men, are appearing all over the United States. Ten years ago Auble Brothers, in considerable study built a plan for their store front which they call a marquise. Other business men have envied it ever since and wanted one like it. This marquise is the culmination of their thought, experience and work of many years. Protection from the elements was the primary reason for the development of the Shadelite Marquise which they patented in Sept. of 1930. The marquise is entirely made of metal. A rigid steel frame is adjusted to the building, extending over the sidewalk. Strips of galvanized sheet steel, five inches in width, are laid over the frame, being set on edge and leaning about 45 degrees toward the building. They overlap enough so that snow or rain can not fall to the sidewalk below.

Troughs Formed
The lower edge of each sheet is turned or curved so as to form a trough for carrying off the rain or the water from melting snow. All the water that any one trough is required to drain away is that which falls upon its own width exposed to the weather. The little troughs in each strip empty into a larger trough at the end of the marquise and from there the water is discharged in a single volume into a down spout.

Problem Solved
A solid covering over the street made the store interior dark and dreary. They needed something which would afford protection from the sun, rain and snow, would withstand the wind and yet would not stop the light or the circulation of air.

The men were puzzled for a long time in their attempt to work out a plan which would meet their requirements. By constant experimentation they developed the Shadelite Marquise which they patented in Sept. of 1930.

The marquise is entirely made of metal. A rigid steel frame is adjusted to the building, extending over the sidewalk. Strips of galvanized sheet steel, five inches in width, are laid over the frame, being set on edge and leaning about 45 degrees toward the building. They overlap enough so that snow or rain can not fall to the sidewalk below.

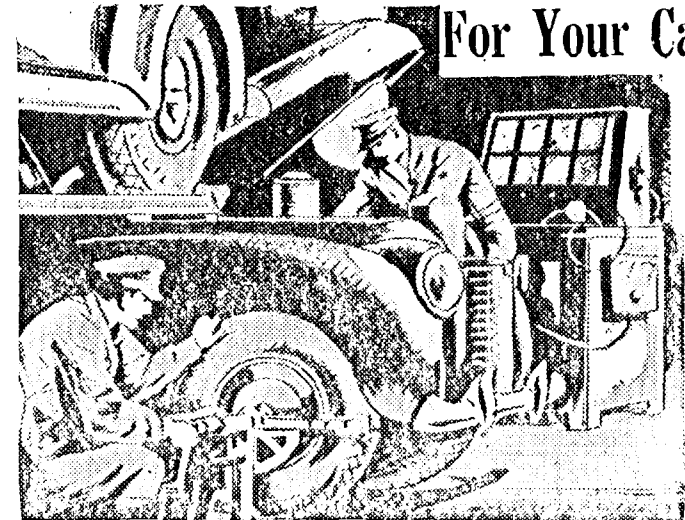

You may be a young married couple living on a slim budget but—in reality—you're "sitting on top of the world" if you're protected with ample insurance. Phone 382 tonight!

The little troughs in each strip empty into a larger trough at the end of the marquise and from there the water is discharged in a single volume into a down spout.

By setting the strips on the oblique, instead of joining them as on a tin roof, light and air currents are permitted to pass through. Direct sunlight does not come through the spaces between the sheets, but refracted light passes unhindered. The customers and passers-by are protected by perfect shade while the refracted light seeping through the strips gives the window displays a much better opportunity to show off to advantage.

Wanted by Others
Auble Brothers did not intend to commercialize their idea when they built the first shadelite but business men flocked in and inquired how much it would cost them to have one like it installed over their store fronts.

The Aubles looked around for some one who could manufacture the product which they had invented and at length made a deal with the Hastings Equity Grain Bin Manufacturing Co. at Hastings. Considerable equipment is necessary to manufacture the marquises.

A machine known as a "brake" bends and shapes the sheets of steel to meet the specifications. Auble Brothers had arrangements completed for the manufacture of the marquises when the depression came along and the business men who admired and wanted the marquises were fortunate if they could keep their establishments in operation let alone spend money to improve their store fronts.

Idea Publicized
However they did sell and install quite a few in spite of the hard times and scarcity of money. Today they are receiving many orders from towns where a business man more prosperous than his neighbors installed a marquise.

The Feb. 28, 1935 issue of the Hardware Age carried an account of the development of the Shadelite Marquises and many orders and inquiries were received from the readers. The magazine also published a picture of hardware stores in Long Beach, Calif., and in West Point, Nebr., which had been equipped with the marquises.

Business was going along fine when the war came along and put a damper on it in the form of a steel shortage. The business was practically inactive the last four years for that reason. Shortage of material is still quite an obstacle to overcome. Jay Auble, who is more active in this part of the Auble Brothers' business than Dr. Glen Auble, says that it is almost impossible to get sheet steel and so they are now using aluminum.

Using Aluminum
He reports that the aluminum costs more per pound but that a pound of it makes more sheets than a pound of steel so that the overall cost is not a great deal higher and a much better looking product results. Many orders are being received from various parts of Nebraska. This week Aubles received an order from a storekeeper in Oak Park, Ill., for a marquise for his 120 foot store front.

The marquises are built in sections 5 and 6 feet long which makes them easier to install. Gene Murray will soon move from Ord to Hastings where he will supervise the construction of marquises. Mr. Murray is an experienced worker with sheet metal and understands all the steps in the manufacture of the marquises.

The original marquise which Auble Brothers erected over their store sixteen years ago is in as good shape now as it was the day it was installed. The marquises require no repairs or replacements and no repeat orders will ever be received unless the storekeeper moves, enlarges his property or acquires another store.

Air Conditioning Tames Diamonds

Cutting Process That Once
Took Weeks of Labor
Reduced to Days.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — The magician's trick of sawing a girl in half is not nearly so fraught with drama as the sawing of a rough diamond in half, where the slightest miscalculation may destroy thousands of dollars of the gem's value.

Hardest known substance in the world, a diamond can only be cut by another diamond, and this delicate, high-precision process formerly took weeks under the watchful eyes of highly-skilled experts.

Now it has been reduced to days by the modern science of air conditioning, which permits precise control of the humidity and temperature of the air in the cutting rooms.

Engineers of the Carrier corporation, Syracuse, N. Y., discovered that when there is an excessive amount of moisture in the air, as on sticky summer days, the fine diamond dust is carried away from the edge of the saw thus delaying the cutting process. Today, with air conditioning units providing air of proper temperature and humidity, the cutting time has been reduced from weeks to days, and the loss of diamond dust has been reduced to an infinitesimal amount.

And How It Bites!

The cutting of the rough stones is a fascinating operation. It is done by a paper-thin, circular steel saw whose edge has no teeth, and does not even feel sharp to the bare hand. This dullness is highly deceptive, however, for the edge of the disc has been impregnated with diamond dust mixed with olive oil. The impregnation is done by a machine which rotates the disc at 3,000 revolutions per minute. The diamond dust and oil mixture, the color of dirty putty, is applied to a steel roller which is brought into contact with the spinning disc. The microscopically fine bits of diamond dust are so hard they readily bite into the thin steel and remain there to a depth of nearly a 16th of an inch, providing an edge which cuts into a steel bar as though it were butter.

So hard are the diamonds it works upon, however, it takes this saw more than three days to cut through a three carat stone.

As the saw bites into the diamond, which is held rigidly between two steel points, it picks up the fine dust from the cut and thus replenishes its cutting edge. It is this loose dust which was formerly lost into the air when the humidity was high.

The largest cutter of rough diamonds in the United States, operating more than 200 machines, is Baumgold Brothers of New York.

In Baumgold's cutting room three Carrier air conditioning units, two 50-F water-cooled and one 50-G air-cooled, are employed to maintain a relative humidity of 47 per cent at all times. The temperature varies according to the season, since only the humidity affects the cutting process.

Two Do Work of Ten.

With this element under control, Baumgold has found that only two men are needed to tend the cutting machines where formerly 10 were employed to watch the unruly behavior of the stones.

The single block between Fifth and Sixth avenues on 47th street where Baumgold's is located has, ever since World War I, been the world's biggest diamond market.

Here millions of dollars of gems are handled monthly by merchants, cutters and polishers as casually as potatoes. It is not unusual for a salesman to stand on the thronged street, open a flat leather case, and exhibit thousands of dollars worth of sparkling gems to a prospective customer.

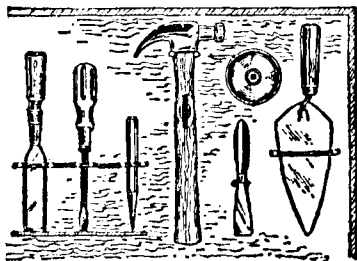

But the salesman is not unaware that this block is the most heavily protected in the city. Lounging against buildings and standing at the curbs are more than 200 detectives representing private agencies. Sitting unobtrusively at a number of windows commanding a good view of the street are men with machine guns. Every diamond office in the block is protected with intricate electrical alarm devices.

Among the aristocrats of labor, diamond cutters and polishers are all members of the Diamond Workers' protective association of America, and earn from $150 to $350 for a 35-hour week.

The Illinois state commission investigating public employee pension funds say that one fund is growing big from penny fines. N. R. Levin, Chicago, secretary of the public library employees' pension fund, said that the fund receives fines paid on overdue library books. In 1941 and 1943 these amounted to $262,000, contributed by borrowers keeping books too long.

City Employees Given Pay Hike By New Council

Members - Elect Take Office Mayor Cummins Predicts Difficult Year Ahead

Mayor M. B. Cummins began his third term last Tuesday night by thanking the retiring members of the city council, Frank Benda, Joe Rohla, and Frank Krikac for their fine work and cooperation and by warning the new members, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, E. S. Murray and Howard Huff that the new term would be a difficult one filled with many problems.

He reminded the councilmen that theirs is a position of much responsibility and that they represent the interests of the people who voted against them as well as those who voted for them. "Taking the right course will not always be easy," the mayor told the councilmen and warned them that they would get a different viewpoint of many of the issues facing the city.

Dr. F. L. Blessing was elected president of the new council, replacing Ed Beranek, who now heads the cemetery and band committee. The other members of the committee are Murray and Huff. The mayor appointed the following committees, the first named being the chairman: judiciary and fire; Huff, Schoenstein and Blessing; auditing; Murray, Schoenstein and McGinnis; streets, alleys and airport; Blessing, Schoenstein and McGinnis; electricity and water; McGinnis, Huff and Beranek; finance; Schoenstein, Beranek and Blessing.

After several hours of discussion the following salary changes were made for the following year:

C. M. Davis, city attorney, annual salary raised from $300 to $335.

Engineer George Allen, monthly salary raised from $237.50 to $275.

Bookkeeper Rex Jewett, monthly salary raised from $130 to $140.

Chester Austin, head linesman, monthly salary raised from $175 to $200.

W. L. Frederick, assistant linesman, monthly salary raised from $100 to $105.

Engineers, Alvin Anderson, Warren Lincoln, Walter Anderson, Wayne Pierce and Don Axthelm monthly salaries raised from $130 to $140.

Guy Burrows, sexton, annual salary raised from $1800 to $1860.

The monthly salary of L. H. Covert as chief of police was increased from $65 to $70 and as street commissioner from $80 to $85. Mr. Covert holds both positions.

Herman Rice, the night police, was raised from $95 per month to $100.

The pay of Jis Mortensen, city hall janitor and day police was not increased. He was raised some months ago from $90 per month to $100.

Manasil Chosen Rodeo Official At Denver Meet

Vice - Presidency of New International Group Goes to Burwellite

Frank Manasil of Burwell was elected vice-president of the newly-formed International Rodeo association. Mr. Manasil went to Denver last week to a meeting of rodeo officials where the new organization was born. He is president of Nebraska's Big Rodeo at Burwell.

The dates of Burwell's rodeo will be August 14, 15 and 16. The last show was staged in 1942 and inquiries received by Ed Sime, the secretary indicated that the American people are most eager to attend rodeos again.

The board of directors has contracted numerous entertainers many of whom have met with the approval of the spectators in the years past. Familiar trick riders and ropers who will return to Burwell this year are Juanita and Weaver Gray of Mansfield, Texas, Chet and Juanita Howell of Ogden, Utah, and Pat Henry of Estes Park, Colo. Miss Jean Allen, who is less well known, will come from Markspur, Colo. to perform in front of the Burwell grandstands.

Spud Richardson, the rodeo clown, and his mule, who have amused Burwell attendants for years will again be there from their home in Natchitoches, La. At the microphone will be Jimmie Hazen, the announcer from Sahuarita, Ariz. whose southern accent has been pleasing to the Burwell audiences.

The procedure necessary to develop the local REA project was outlined by Earl J. Smith of Columbus at the meeting of the directors of the REA district in Ord Monday night. Now that the loan has been approved in Washington the engineers are starting to work out the design specifications this month.

The preallotment engineers, Raymond H. Reed and Co. of Columbus have done some of the preliminary work. The first matter to be attended to by the local district is getting landowners to sign right-of-way easements.

William Bolton, coordinator for the district, announces that 1,178 farmers have signed for service. These farmers live in Valley, Wheeler, Sherman and Garfield counties.

Geo. Hastings, Jr., Hilding Pearson, Form Partnership

Will Operate Ord Mortuary In Masonic Bldg. Continue No. Loup, Arcadia, Service

Ord's big business news of the week is the announcement of the formation of a partnership between George Hastings, Jr., and Hilding O. Pearson, who will operate together in the Masonic building, a mortuary under the firm name Hastings-Pearson Mortuary.

Mr. Hastings has been operating a funeral home in partnership with his father-in-law, Ed Zikmund, at 1225 J street. This address will continue to be the home of the Hastings family. Mr. Hastings came to Ord from Arcadia in 1941.

The mortuary rooms and chapel used in the past by the Pearson Mortuary, one of central Nebraska's finest establishments, will be the home of the new firm. Mr. Pearson came to Ord in 1938 and, in partnership with Wilmer Anderson, bought the mortuary conducted by Orville H. Sowl, this partnership being dissolved when Anderson was called to the service.

About a year ago Mr. Hastings purchased the Frazier mortuary and combined its equipment with his own, and the new firm now established will operate the only mortuary in Ord or, indeed in Valley county. Facilities have been maintained at North Loup by Mr. Pearson and at Arcadia by Mr. Hastings and these will be continued under the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary name.

Since both of the men involved are highly skilled morticians and funeral directors, the new firm should be able to give better service than either has been able to give in the past, and will find it possible to conduct two funerals at the same time when necessary since both own hearses and both will be retained. Day or night ambulance service will be featured also, with two ambulances on call at all times.

Wranglers Club Reorganized at Burwell, May 1

Four Assessors Quit This Year

Abernethy Has Had To Find Others to Replace Those Who Resigned

Four township and ward assessors have resigned their jobs this year and County Assessor Jason L. Abernethy has had to appoint some one to do the work until others are elected. The state department of agriculture has taken two of Valley county's assessors as inspectors in its division of weights and measures. They were Henry Stara, Ord township assessor and Sam Marks, assessor of the first ward of Ord.

Mr. Abernethy appointed Ernest Coats to replace Stara and C. E. Gilroy to succeed Sam Marks. Vladimir Babka, assessor of Noble township resigned when he got a steady job as county A.A.A. committeeman. To replace him Mr. Abernethy appointed Chris Beiers.

The last assessor to resign was Earl Drake of Yale township. Mr. Drake's wife is critically ill. Mr. Abernethy has appointed Carrol Lutz to assess Yale township. Mr. Lutz began his new job the last of the week. In other townships much of the work is completed with Liberty and Michigan townships being entirely done.

Mrs. D. A. Moser, 91, in Good Health, is Believed To be Ord's Oldest Mother; Gets Bouquet

Mayor Cummins Presents Her With Bouquet for Mother's Day

Here is Mayor Cummins presenting a bouquet of roses to Mrs. D. A. Moser, who is believed to be Ord's oldest mother, as a token to Mothers' Day, Sunday. Mrs. Moser celebrated her 91st birthday anniversary April 25 at a dinner in her honor in the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. V. Holloway in Burwell. Mrs. Moser's son, Levi Hunter, also lives in Burwell. At present Mr. Hunter and his wife are enjoying a vacation in California.

In spite of her advanced years Mrs. Moser is in good health. When the Quiz reporter called on her Monday she had a snow-white washing hanging on the line. Tuesday morning when Mayor Cummins and Photographer Swopes called at the Moser home she was busy doing her ironing.

Mrs. Moser's eyesight is failing her somewhat. Mr. Moser's hearing is not as keen as it once was. Mrs. Moser says she hears for her husband and that he sees for her. The Mosers were married in 1922, after both had reared families and had been widowed.

Two other children were born to Mrs. Moser. Her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Ferguson, was burned to death in 1916. Her son, Guy Hunter, was killed in a truck accident in September of 1929. Mrs. Moser's son, Guy, married Mr. Moser's daughter, Elsie. This family was blessed with seven children, five sons of whom were in the armed services during the war. Mrs. Hunter remarried and is now Mrs. Llewellyn Jackson and lives at Cortez, Colo.

Mrs. Moser has ten grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. Mr. Moser has four children. Besides Mrs. Jackson they are Dean Moser of Burwell, Mrs. George Robinson of Omaha, and Fred Moser of Compton, Calif. All the children of both Mr. and Mrs. Moser had reached maturity when they were married.

Mrs. Moser is a Canadian by birth. She was born at Boston, Ontario and moved to Dowagiac, Mich., with her parents when she was three years old. Mrs. Moser was reared in Michigan. She was married June 18, 1879 and came to Nebraska as a bride.

She and her first husband homesteaded on a farm nine miles west of Ord where they lived until 1907 when they moved to Ord. Mr. Hunter died in 1914. Mrs. Moser has lived in the same house in Ord at 117 North 22nd street ever since she left the farm thirty-nine years ago.

Life has brought this good mother a large portion of tragedies, heart aches and disappointments which she has borne with no complaint. Her many years have been spent in doing service for others and she has rightfully earned the title of a good mother.

Better mail service is in prospect for Ord and Burwell after July 1, says Postmaster A. L. Hill, who with Mrs. Glow Packler, Burwell postmistress, attended the annual convention of postmasters in Omaha last week and while there interviewed Superintendent Musgrave, of the railway mail service.

Both 1st class and parcels post mail will arrive in Ord about 8:00 a.m. daily by truck beginning July 1, they were told, and mail will leave Ord at 5:15 p.m. daily instead of 4:45, thus giving business men a later dispatch time.

In addition, it is planned to have a morning outgoing dispatch for 1st class mail each day, probably by means of bus.

Bonus Buying Takes 16,000 Bushels Corn

Valley county farmers have brought 16,000 bushels of corn to market to receive the thirty cents per bushel bonus which the government is paying to get grain for the starving people in Europe. Five carloads have been shipped from Ord to Arcadia and Emil Kokes, AAA committeeman, estimates that around nine carloads of corn have been purchased in Valley county as well as some wheat.

Mr. Kokes does not consider this buying program to be especially beneficial in Valley county as most of the grain here is needed to fatten livestock for market. He points out that the government needs grain badly to save the European peoples and in order to get it in time offered the bonus. Senator Butler has accused the government of black market practices. He favors raising the ceiling price of grain thirty cents to correspond to the government bonus.

The local AAA officials consider the practice to be a temporary measure and have been informed that the bonus payments will cease as soon as the government has fifty million bushels of grain. They have been told that they will be given forty-eight hours notice when they are to cease paying the bonus.

Meat Future Dark, Say Ord Dealers After OPA Meeting

OPA Spokesmen Gives Little Chance For 90 Days; After that?

Ord meat dealers and slaughterers took a brief look in the OPA crystal ball this week and saw nothing but a dark future.

All local dealers have had only small supplies of meat during the past two weeks, and the two local slaughterers who provide a great share of the beef and pork used here have been prevented from doing any killing since the first of the month, unless they can buy local beef for less than 14 cents in the face of a 15 to 16 cent market.

OPA officials who held a meeting in Grand Island Monday evening to explain the situation to butchers and dealers over the territory admitted they couldn't do anything about it either.

According to Jim Cetak of Ord's Northside Market, A. F. Myers, OPA spokesman, was rather vague about the whole affair. "He told us that the price of cattle would soon drop," Cetak told the Quiz, "and that we'd have to set tight until then. I asked him what made him think that the cattle market would go down, and he said that OPA had a new order out putting quotas on direct buyers that would send it down."

"Will 'Try Something Else'" "And if it doesn't go down within 90 days, we'll junk the order and try something else," Cetak quoted Myers as stating.

"Then I asked him what we were supposed to do during the next 90 days and he told me I'd have to answer that question myself," Cetak continued.

"During the past week, Ord's shrinking meat supply continued to dwindle. Dealers' cases held a small supply of luncheon meats and canned meats, practically no beef or pork except for brief hours after shipments arrived from packing plants. Last week the show cases contained wieners and bologna, at least; now there are not even these available.

Local butchers were unable to make purchases of live cattle or hogs during the week, in face of a 2 cent a pound market differential. Direct buyers, who are shipping to Montana, continued to buy cattle in the area with a top price of $17.65 quoted at Billings. Several loads have left the Ord area during the week for Omaha with a top of $16.25 being reported.

People to Vote on $40 per Pupil Plan
Petition Filed To Place
Raising of School
Funds on Ballot

Three statewide organizations have filed with the secretary of state an initiative petition asking for an amendment to the constitution, to provide state funds for the support of local schools. The sponsoring organizations are: The Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Nebraska State School Boards Association, and the Nebraska State Education association.
Their proposed amendment provides that the state supply about one-third of the money required for schools and requires the legislature to raise revenue in an amount of not less than $40.00 per pupil in average daily attendance in the schools—about $3,000,000.
The money thus raised shall be distributed to the schools as follows:
First, $25.00 to each pupil in average daily attendance in the schools—about $5,000,000.
Second, $200.00 to each school district in the state that levies the average or more for schools of its class (provided no portion of this $200.00 shall make the state support greater than one-half this current operating costs).
This will take about $750,000.
Third, the rest of the state money, or about $2,250,000, shall be distributed by the legislature to equalize educational opportunity in the state.
The organizations also ask that the money shall come from sources other than real property tax, because property is now already taxed for 93.5 per cent of the school costs.

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

A letter from Dr. Grace Crandall at Shanghai, to her sister, Mrs. G. L. Hutchins was written April 23, and received here May 4. They hope to rebuild some time, but have labor and material difficulties there also. Dr. Crandall's health is very poor and she has trouble to get the food she needs. She says an orange or an apple costs one hundred dollars, Chinese money. The rate of exchange on American dollars is about 2,000 to 1 of Chinese.

RAVENNA GROWS

An unofficial census survey conducted by the Ravenna Chamber of Commerce indicates that Ravenna's population is now 1700 persons, and indicates a growth of about 300 persons since 1940.

The survey was conducted by A. E. Erazim, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, assisted by his wife. A general canvass was made of the town, with the idea only of counting noses, and no complete census report was taken. The actual count was 1679, but to this figure could be added some individuals like railroad men who do not count this their home officially, but live and work here and for all general purposes could be counted as residents.—Ravenna News.

A Real Step Forward in Irrigation

Plastic irrigation siphon tubes are a real step forward in irrigation; pay for themselves in time and labor saved. Require no digging, will not clog because end is under water. Specially extruded of Tenite plastic with weather, water and sun-resisting properties built in. Transparent to enable you to see air locks.

So light, you can carry a whole armload without difficulty. So tough, even the roughest abuse will not break them. They are much superior to lathe boxes because they require no digging and because they will not clog. Flow of water is greater through plastic tubes because of smooth surface. Much lighter in weight than rubber or metal.

Specially developed for irrigation purposes through cooperation of University of Nebraska, Agricultural Division. Each tube is 4 ft. long, bent to exact curvature for most efficient operation.

Valley County Farmer

TO ALL ORD PROPERTY OWNERS

We want to call the attention of property owners to the fact that many complaints are being received as to the condition of certain Ord sidewalks, and that personal inspection by the street commissioner and ourselves proves these complaints to be justified. If your sidewalks are in such shape that they are dangerous to pedestrians we ask that you have them replaced and repaired at once. As the city attorney interprets the ordinances to us, the city may make such repairs and charge them to the property in the form of taxes when the property owner fails to do so, but we do not want to have to take such action unless your neglect forces us to do so.

We also call your attention to the fact that spring is clean-up time and that alleys and vacant lots are in need of attention. This work should be done before Decoration Day so the town presents a respectable appearance to the visitors who always come then. Clean up your alleys at once and have refuse hauled away; clean up your property and the vacant lots you own. Let's put our city in spic-and-span condition so we can all be proud of its appearance.

Valley Co. Voters Would Keep Butler In Senate; 7 to 3

Poll Taken Saturday Shows Griswold Trailing with Many Undecided

Valley county Republican voters show a preference for Senator Butler over Governor Griswold, according to a poll made in Ord Saturday by the Quiz in cooperation with the Omaha World-Herald. Ten voters were questioned, seven of whom said they intended to vote for Butler and three for Griswold.

To find ten voters, who intended to take the Republican ballot in the June primary and who had decided between the two top senatorial candidates the Quiz had to interview more than a hundred persons. The poll was a selected one as opinions were wanted from a professional man or woman, a business man, two men who were town residents, two women who were town residents, two farmers and two farmer's wives.

The Quiz's experience in taking the poll would indicate that the politicians should center their guns on the farmers and the farmers' wives in the coming battle as the reporter had to interview scores of them before he could find two farmers and two farmers' wives who had a preference for either candidate.

Farmers Uninterested.

The town residents had decided opinions as to their choice however, and it was a simple matter to get a cross section of their views. At this time it would seem as though the farmers are not much interested in politics. Some said they never voted and some said they never took part in primary elections.

One woman said she never voted because politicians are crooked. Another said that her husband had not told her yet how she should vote. Many wanted to learn more about the candidates before forming an opinion and many said they had been too busy to give the matter of voting any thought. One well-dressed farm woman was simply too busy to be bothered by poll takers.

The consensus seems to be that a senator deserves more than one term. Some who preferred Butler said they had nothing against Griswold and consider he has been a splendid governor but believe that Butler will be more valuable to the state as he is already "on to the ropes." The people were not asked to give reasons for their choices but many volunteered their opinions.

No Women Democrats!

One woman was opposed to Butler, declaring that he was "just a tool of the moneyed interests." Some said that they believed Butler to be the more capable. One man declared that Griswold should be elected "since he is our kind of man and will understand our problems."

The strength of the Democratic party in Valley county evidently lies with the farmers. The Quiz interviewed a number who said they would call for the Democratic ballot in June. On the other hand no farmer's wife was encountered who said she would vote Democratic. Very few of the people interviewed were known to the reporter. No town residents were interviewed who said they intended to vote Democratic. The reporter avoided those whom he knew were Democrats, however, since the poll was only on Republican candidates.

Mrs. Clark Gives Talk on Poppies

Wild Flower of Belgium and France Become Symbol Of War Dead

How the wild poppy of France and Belgium became the memorial flower of America's dead of both world wars was described by Mrs. Cecil Clark, poppy chairman of Fidelity unit of the American Legion auxiliary, as the unit went forward with preparations for observance of poppy days here May 24 and 25.

"Amid the desolation of the battlefield in the first world war," said Mrs. Clark, "the poppies were the one touch of nature's beauty that survived. The little red flowers grew along the trenches and shell holes, and over the raw earth of the battle graves. In the minds of the men fighting there, the poppies became associated with their dead comrades."

"Expression was given to this sentiment by Colonel John McGrath, Canadian medical officer, in his immortal poem, with its lines: 'In Flanders fields the poppies blow, Between the crosses row on row' "

"Replicas of the Flanders fields poppy were first worn in America in honor of the war dead in 1918, and the wearing of these flowers on the Saturday before Memorial Day soon became a nation-wide custom. The poppy is also the memorial flower of Great Britain and is worn throughout the British Empire on Armistice Day."

"When the second world war began claiming American lives, the poppy, quite naturally, became the symbol of these added sacrifices for the nation. The largest part of the World War II battle deaths also occurred in northern Europe where the poppy grows, but no matter where Americans died, the poppy pays tribute to them."

Disabled veterans of both wars now make the poppy to be worn in memory of the dead of both wars. Poppy Day contributions aid the disabled of both wars, their families and the families of the dead. Millions of Americans will wear the veteran-made poppies of the American Legion auxiliary this year in silent tribute to those who lie beneath the crosses in Flanders fields and in the American war cemeteries throughout the world."

Her home projects included the designing and making of clothes, hats and costume jewelry. A victory garden was her project one summer. Congress to Vote on Leave-Pay Bill
Before the House of Representatives recessed for Easter the terminal leave pay bill for enlisted men was forced out of the military affairs committee by the petition method and congressmen report that it should come up to vote within a short time. The bill provides that enlisted men who were not permitted furloughs shall be paid for the time they served on duty while they were eligible for leaves. Officers are now paid the accumulated leave time which they did not take. The committee was slow in reporting on the bill and 218 representatives signed a petition asking that the house be given a chance to vote on the measure.

Guy Morrill, 2, had only a cut on the forehead to show for his near-fatal brush with a North Shore line baggage train at Evans-ton, Ill. Guy was sitting on the railway track when the train came speeding along. When the train was 100 feet away, Motor-man Elmer Mink saw the child and began braking. The train struck Guy. Hospital attendants said the child's only injury was a cut on the forehead.

The 150 persons who wanted to bathe at the city-operated bath house in Chicago, were turned away. Officials said there was a possibility that about 500 more would go bathless. Somebody stole the soap—4,000 bars.

LaVonne Jones Wed At Oakville, Conn.

Miss LaVonne Irene Jones daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Jones, Burwell, was united in marriage to John Peter Virbila, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Virbila, Oakville, Conn., by Rev. Thomas B. McGarry at St. Mary Magdalene's church, Oakville. Peter J. Virbila, father of the bridegroom, gave the bride in marriage.

The bride wore a white crepe gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, heart neckline and a full net skirt trimmed with bows of white crepe. A coronet of orange blossoms caught her lace-trimmed fingertip veil and she carried a prayer book marked with orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Virbila

Mrs. William Virbila, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, wore an aquamarine gown with a full net skirt and a matching heart-shaped hat, and carried a colonial bouquet. Her fitted taffeta bodice was fashioned with a heart neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves.

William Virbila, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The mother of the bridegroom attended the wedding in a blue print dress with black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Maud Donahue, organist, presided at the organ and accompanied Miss Betty Maher, soloist, who sang an "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for approximately 100 guests at 103 Green St.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore an aqua suit with a fuchsia topper, matching hat with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Virbila graduated from the Arcadia high school, and attended Kearney state teachers' college. Mr. Virbila is a graduate of Waverly high school and a veteran of 45 months in the marine corps.

No Reserve of Soil Moisture

April Very Dry Month; Rain Must Continue to Assure Bumper Crop

April, 1946 was the driest April recorded in Valley county's weather history since 1934 according to Horace Travis, who keeps records of the rainfall in Ord. During the month .85 of an inch of rain fell. In 1934 .23 of an inch of rain fell at Ord. The wettest April ever recorded at Ord was in 1920 when the town was flooded by 10.70 inches of rainfall. This was nearly as much as fell during the entire year in 1934. In 1937 .93 of an inch of rain fell during April. Last year Ord got 2.88 inches and the year before 5.37 inches which was considerably more than the average for April which is slightly less than 2½ inches.

Sunday Ord and vicinity received .18 of an inch of rain and during the showers Wednesday and Thursday of last week .80 fell. The shower last week was a lifesaver for small grain, alfalfa and pastures which had practically depleted the soil moisture in the soil and in many places were beginning to suffer.

County Agent Dale says that Valley county has enough moisture to "hold things for awhile", but that more rain must be forthcoming as the soil has no reserve of moisture.

Mr. Dale does not believe that recent frosts have damaged fruit crops to any great extent, but that some of the fruit now set on may possibly drop. It is disputed whether it frosted in Ord or not Monday night, but all are agreed that it didn't miss it far. Many farmers report frost both Monday and Tuesday nights. In most instances they lived in valleys where cold air settled. No damage to gardens, potatoes or fruit has been reported.

Actor's Sickness Doesn't Postpone Senior Class Play

A packed auditorium enjoyed the thrills and chills which the senior class play "Ghost Wanted" afforded Tuesday night. The play was a headache and worry for its director, Mrs. J. A. Kovanda. Bud Larsen, who had the leading role, took seriously ill with pneumonia and instead of appearing behind the footlights Tuesday night he was in a bed in the Ord hospital. But "the show must go on" and Mrs. Kovanda drafted Edwin Jirak to substitute. Edwin proved himself to be a man capable of meeting almost any emergency, by stepping into role at the zero hour and giving a creditable performance. He had no time to memorize the lines but read them from a book in a manner which was scarcely noticeable to audience.

Baseball Opener with Mason City

Ord's entry in the Loup Valley baseball league will play its first game Sunday when the Mason City team comes to the Bussell park field. The game will start promptly at 2:30. Baseball interest is running high in Ord and Managers Douthitt and Rathbun expect a good turn-out of fans. The Ord boys won a practice game, 11 to 3, from North Loup here last Sunday, in the presence of a good crowd. Campbell, a slowballer, and Stull a right-hander with plenty of speed, shared the mound duties for Ord, with Don Dahlin behind the plate throughout the 7-inning fray. Veterans made up the Ord line-up for the most part, and the managers substituted frequently to get a line on their material, which looks good for early-season baseball.

Quonset Hangar Costing $2,692 Arrives in Ord

Valley Fliers Raise Nearly Enough to Pay for it; Drive to Continue.

The 40 by 80 foot quonset hangar arrived in Ord Wednesday and has been unloaded at the municipal airport. The delivery was made by the Romans transfer. The hangar cost $2,692. Knocked down, transportation costs and the expense of building it and putting a concrete floor in it are still to be paid. Herb Cline, president of the Valley Fliers, believes that at least $3,000 will be needed to do this.

To date the Valley Fliers have collected $2,500.50 and even though this was not enough to cover the cost of the hangar several public spirited business men advanced the money needed to complete the payment for the hangar.

Help From Burwell The Valley Fliers expect to be soon hard at work setting up the hangar. Roland Norman has had experience setting up and taking down such hangars while he was a member of the seabees. Art Borden, a Burwell contractor, whose son, Joe, is an enthusiastic member of the Valley Fliers, is planning to come to Ord to give the boys a hand in building the hangar. He, too, has had experience in erecting such hangars and like many other people he is anxious to help aviation forge ahead in the North Loup valley.

A number of Ord people are still contemplating donations to the projects and some of the chain stores in Ord have not had sufficient time to get an answer back from their head offices in regard to a contribution to the Valley Fliers.

The Valley Fliers will be most grateful for more funds and a hangar mop up campaign to solicit business and professional men who they may have overlooked is forthcoming.

Most organizations feel that airport facilities are most beneficial to them as it will enable their officials to visit their branch stores with very little time wasted in traveling. Interest in Ord's airport is increasing daily. Tuesday a plane from Ainsworth landed on the field. The pilot was flying a woman from Dunning to Des Moines and stopped at Ord for refueling.

Many Inquiries Mr. Cline receives countless inquiries in regard to Ord's new airport. Last week he received inquiries from parties in Colorado and Oregon in regard to what facilities Ord had to offer. A contractor from Minneapolis who owns a plane wanted to find out if he could land here, refuel his plane, and if a hangar was available for shelter.

As Ord is in a direct line between Denver and Sioux City many fliers are interested in using Ord's airport and eventually passenger and mail service may be offered, Mr. Cline believes. The Western Airlines has shown interest in establishing a transcontinental route over this area and with proper cooperation, Mr. Cline and other members of the Valley Fliers believe that Ord could be a division point of this route.

Chamber Backs Drive

The matter of getting a hangar for Ord's airport was first discussed at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce April 18. The chamber started the drive off with a donation of $350. Within less than a month the Valley Fliers have gotten the hangar for Ord and have collected nearly enough funds to pay for it.

Funeral Sunday for Mrs. Hollingshead

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Ord Methodist church. Interment will be at Arcadia where the Hollingshead family lived for many years. Hastings and Pearson are making the funeral arrangements.

Auto Taken from Burwell Deserted Near North Loup

A car belonging to Lyle Burkholder, a Kansan, was stolen on the streets of Burwell Saturday night and abandoned on the highway about a mile north of North Loup early Sunday morning. Mr. Burkholder is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. James Berryman of Burwell. He and Mrs. Burkholder, who is one of the Berryman twins, were visiting the Berrymans and left their car parked near the Anderson apartments where the Berrymans live.

The car stayed on the highway near North Loup most of the day Sunday before any action was taken to investigate the reason for its abandonment. The people or person who used it failed to leave the keys with the car and Mr. Burkholder had to have the ignition removed and a new key made.

Municipal League To Hold Regional Meet Here May 24

Delegates Expected from 35 Towns; Banquet will be In Methodist Church.

Ord will be host city to the estimated 125 delegates from thirty-five towns who will attend the regional meeting of the Nebraska League of Municipalities May 24. The meeting will be in the city hall and will last but one afternoon. The program has not been announced as yet but it will consist of talks and discussions of the various problems facing town councils. The speaker will be supplied by the league.

In the evening a banquet will be held in the Methodist church. The meal will be prepared and served by the women of the church with Mrs. Orin Kellison being in charge.

The publicity committee of the chamber of commerce headed by Hilding Pearson is making arrangements to entertain the visitors. The delegates' time with the exception of two hours will be taken by the regular meeting of the league. During this two hours a short musical program will be given and the firemen will demonstrate their inhalator and other equipment. If time permits plans are being made to take the visitors on a tour of Ord's new airport.

Dworak and Tolen Place at Lincoln

Ord Wins Third in Shotgun Fifth in Half Mile in Class B Finals.

After participating in the qualifying meet at Albion on crutches where he won first place, George Dworak went to the state meet at Lincoln Friday where he placed third with the shot put. Tom Tolen placed fifth in the half mile. Ord entered but two boys in the state meet this year.

Dworak heaved the shot 42 feet 2 1/2 inches to win the Albion meet. A few days previous he injured a leg while loading some bulls on a truck and the injury hampered his performance at the state meet. He placed third in the shot at the state meet as a sophomore and second as a junior.

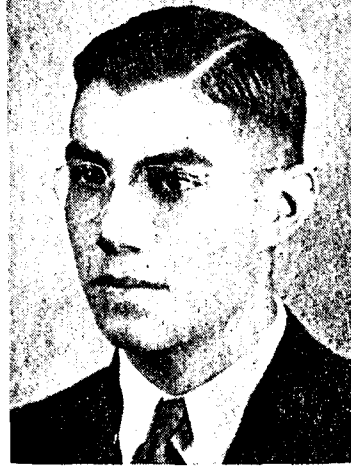

Tolen also won first in the half mile at the Albion meet. He placed third in the preliminary heat at Lincoln and finished fifth in the finals. He made his best time of the season at Lincoln, 2 minutes, 9.2 seconds. Tolen has been elected track captain by his team mates. This is the third time they have seen fit to so honor him. He was chosen co-captain of the football team, and captain of the basketball team.

During the 1946 track season the Chanticleers made 200 and a third points. Of this amount 77 1/2 points were made by seniors and 112 and ten-twelfth by underclassmen, which would indicate that Ord should be able to put out a pretty fair team next year. Tolen with 29 1/4 counters to his credit is Ord's high point man of the season. Dworak made 85 points and Petersen 23. Twenty men won points for the school in some track or field event during the season.

English Bride of Burwell Veteran Arrives Saturday

Mrs. Ralph Liberski, shown above, arrived in Ord Saturday noon to join her husband who had gone to meet her in Aurora. Mrs. Liberski comes from Newcastle or the Tyne in England to make her home on a Garfield county farm north of Burwell.

Mrs. Liberski met her husband while in the service of the Royal Air Force, where she was a mechanic. She has known him for 2 years and five months. Before returning to the states four months ago Ralph took a leave to England where he married the girl whose heart he had won while he was stationed there. Mr. Liberski saw service in England, Belgium, France and Germany.

Mrs. Ralph Liberski America impresses this English war bride "as being very large, indeed." She says she thinks Ord is very nice and that everyone in America has been very nice to her. She reports that Americans are better fed and better clothed than are the British.

Back in England she leaves two brothers, but no parents. When she arrived in Ord she was met by Mrs. Ed Jensen on behalf of the Red Cross. She was a guest in the Jensen home until her husband's cousin, Marshall Sorensen, called for her and took her to Burwell. The veteran and his English wife will make their home on a farm north of Burwell with his father, Charles Liberski. They are planning a honeymoon trip to California and next year they hope to have a farm home all of their own.

Myles Nelson Places 2nd at State Meet

Myles Nelson, North Loup sophomore sprinter placed second in the 100 yard dash at the state track and field meet in Lincoln Friday and Saturday. An hour later Myles placed second in the 440 yard run.

Another year will find nearly all other top sprinters gone. Myles is now less than two seconds off the state record for the 440.

The relay team of Dean Redlon, Dick Hutchins, Gerrold Manchester and Myles Nelson placed second in their heat and fifth in the finals.

All five boys who competed at the state meet are underclassmen which leaves bright prospects for next year.

Dean Redlon pitched North Loup to a 7-0 win in a softball game over Arcadia, Monday, after school. Don Smith homered with two men on to help North Loup's scoring.

Paul Laursen is Selected to Go To Boys' State

American Legion Sponsors Project! Choice Made After Many Tests.

Paul Laursen, son of Mrs. Eljvind Laursen and a junior in the Ord high school, has been selected to represent Ord at Boys' State which will be held in Lincoln the week beginning June 1. The Fidelity post of the American Legion is sponsoring Paul Laursen as Ord's participant in this activity.

To be eligible to attend Boys' state a junior student must be in the upper half of his class scholastically, or have some other achievement to recommend him such as outstanding accomplishments in athletics or other activities. Paul Laursen rated the highest in the tests given the boys in the junior class, which included examinations in civics, general information and ability to follow directions.

Before the selection was made a committee of legionnaires interviewed a number of eligible boys.

Coal Shortage Cuts Up Train Service in Ord

Mixed Freight Scheduled on Tuesdays, Thursdays And Saturdays.

Starting May 13 the Union Pacific railroad will have a train into Ord but three times a week. Because of the coal shortage caused by the strike sponsored by John L. Lewis, branch line service between Ord and Grand Island, and between Kearney and Stapleton will be cut in half. H. E. Shumway, Union Pacific railroad general superintendent of transportation, announced Friday. There will be no change in time schedules.

The mixed train from Grand Island to Ord will run Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, leaving Grand Island at 7:30 a.m., and arriving in Ord at 2:30 p.m.

The mainline Union Pacific passenger-freight train which has been leaving Grand Island daily, except Sundays, at 7:30 a.m., for Kearney will operate only three days of the week—Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Similarly, a local freight from Kearney to Grand Island will run on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, leaving Kearney at 7:30 a.m.

Ivan Davis, the Burlington depot agent says the ODT order will not affect the Burlington service to Ord which now operates but three times each week. The Burlington is making its 50 per cent traffic cut on other lines, Mr. Davis explained.

Alfred Hill, Ord's postmaster, can not see where the change by the Union Pacific will affect the mail service greatly. He says that very little mail leaves on the train and the mail which the train does take can be held and sent out on the truck at 4:45.

FINED FOR SPEEDING

William L. Zabloudil was arrested in Ord for speeding last Wednesday by Sheriff Hall and was tried in county court Tuesday morning when he pleaded guilty. He was fined ten dollars and costs amounting to eight dollars by County Judge Anderson.

Freeze Destroys Fruit Crops Over Most of Nebraska

Gardens, Potatoes Damaged; Moisture Benefits Small Grain & Pastures.

Valley county as well as almost all of Nebraska and adjoining areas will have no fruit crop as a result of the freezes Thursday and Friday nights. With the exception of the fruit, damage to other crops is not likely to be as large as first estimated. In Ord, 76 of an inch of moisture was received improving the agricultural outlook and partly offsetting the frost injuries.

Alfalfa fields which were laid low by the snow and cold have straightened up again and very few Valley county farmers are cutting their fields. Green shoots are appearing in potato fields which were blackened by the freeze. The crop may be set back a week or two but will not have to be replanted.

Very little corn in Valley county was up when the freeze came and most of the fields are showing new growth and may survive. Early plantings of beans were casualties of the freeze as were uncovered tomato plants. Gardeners who covered their plants find that a large percentage survived but will be set back.

Small grain benefited much by the moisture received and in some fields of barley and oats where fire weeds were bad the frost was beneficial as it checked the weeds and damaged the grain slightly if at all. The temperature fell to 25 which was the lowest recorded in the state in May for twenty-six years. The drop was especially noticeable following an unusually warm April.

The freeze may kill some trees. The foliage on black walnuts is withered and brown. Catalpas and some locusts show a similar condition as well as many late budding hackberries. Ash trees show some frost damage but none of the trees will die as a result of the freeze. Trees which leaf out late in the season show the most damage as their foliage was tender and more easily damaged. Elms, cottonwoods, and most maples show no ill effects.

Some farmers around Burwell who raise tomatoes for the cannery had plants set out, which died if they were not protected with hotcaps.

Sumac, which grows in the canyons and along rivers, was blackened by the freeze and its brilliant foliage may be lacking this fall. Poison ivy, oak or sumac was also blackened and may be killed. Woodbine or Virginia creeper vines show severe damage and may not recover.

Gardeners who covered plants and flowers usually succeeded in saving them. Strawberries were damaged to some extent but will likely produce a crop somewhat lighter than usual.

Marquises to be Assembled in Ord

Gene Murray Will Supervise Plant to be Operated By Auble Brothers.

Work of assembling Shadelite marquises, the permanent all-metal awnings for store fronts which Auble brothers invented, will commence in Ord this week. Auble brothers announced Saturday that an assembly line was in the process of being set up in the Detweiler building which they purchased last week.

Gene Murray will be in charge of the work. Jay Auble said leaves for seven jobs had already reached Ord. The fabricating will be done in Hastings by the Hastings Equity Grain Bin Co., which has the necessary machinery for the job.

Auble brothers have purchased 35,000 pounds of aluminum which will be used in the manufacture of the marquises under the War Surplus Commodities corporation. They are receiving orders from all parts of United States as well as many orders from different Nebraska towns where they have already installed one marquee which neighboring merchants have admired and desired to have one like it.

The employment offered in Ord, the Aubles explain, will be piece work. There won't be a great many jobs available at present but employment will increase as the line gets into operation. The employees will be paid by the amount of work they accomplish. The work is light and can be done by high school students and women according to the Aubles.

—Mrs. Edward Johansen and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johansen of North Platte came to Ord Saturday to visit Mrs. Agnes Wigert. They returned home Tuesday.

SAVE IN ALL 4 SEASONS

with the HYDRAULIC FARMHAND

SPRING: A Hydraulic Farmhand takes the rush out of spring work; gives you important extra days for plowing and planting.

WINTER: A scoop handles snow; a steel fork takes hay out of stacks; a Hydraulic Farmhand makes hard winter work fast and easy.

SUMMER: A man can haul and stack hay all alone, if he has a Hydraulic Farmhand. Lifts 3,000 pounds. Makes big stacks.

FALL: Elevating corn, piling logs, clearing land, loading trucks and flatcars; there is no end to labor saving with a Hydraulic Farmhand.

For All 2-Plow or Larger Tractors

To make money from machinery, it has to be at work. Because the HYDRAULIC FARMHAND handles 10 or more farm jobs, it works 12 months in the year... and so it makes more money for its owners than any similar machine. Yet no Farmhand has worn out in the six years they have been in use on farms.

HYDRAULIC FARMHANDS last longer, too. That "Bridge of Steel" that suspends the fork or scoop or basket is the most valuable improvement ever made for farm loaders. It keeps loads equalized; saves the tractor as well as the loader. The FARMHAND has its own specially built pump; is fully hydraulic, easy to operate!

Our dealers join us in making this frank report to THE FARMERS OF AMERICA

INTERNATIONAL Harvester is getting back into production with all possible speed. Extra shifts are being employed wherever conditions permit, to try to overcome the production losses of the recent strike. Everything is being done to get parts and machines to you.

While we and our dealers would like to tell you that this means an immediate end to the shortage of service parts and machines, it is more accurate to say that it means the beginning of the end of it. If illness or bad weather delays you seriously in the Spring, you know how much it throws you off your schedule. The strike has thrown our schedules off balance, too. There are many "chores" we must do before new machines reach you.

duction efforts will mean that your local dealer can expect only a small number of parts and machines at a time. Since we must play fair with all our customers, there will be a sprinkle of parts and machines all over the country—not a downpour in any one section.

You will be glad to know that all repair parts production schedules are far beyond normal.

No hoarding

You may be sure that every machine will be shipped to dealers as soon as completed. We do not and will not hold machines off the market.

At the start of the strike we had on hand at all our factories and branches just 837 tractors of all kinds—less than two days' production—and 405 of these were not completed. Many of those on hand had one or more important parts missing—principally radiator cores. Most of the rest represented the normal daily "float" between the end of the assembly line and the shipping platform. Naturally no tractors were made during the strike.

Material shortages

The preliminary chores of getting our plants back to shape for full production are finished. But disturbances in other industries and resulting material shortages may affect our plans. Light gauge steel sheets, brass and copper, fractional horse power motors, and many other items are all very short. The coal situation may also prove serious—we hope not.

Refilling the well

Both our dealers and our branches have run dry on parts and new machines. So the biggest chore is to get their working stocks back to normal. It will take time to fill the pipeline to dealers—just as it takes time for you to refill a well or cistern after it has run dry.

Stock and display rooms of our dealers represent not one, but ten thousand reservoirs which must be refilled. The most heroic pro-

No cutting corners on quality

There is one thing you can be absolutely certain about: We will NOT cut corners on quality in order to increase production in this emergency. For years we have said: "QUALITY IS THE FOUNDATION OF OUR BUSINESS." Today we say it—and mean it—as much as ever.

We know you need new machines—and need them badly. But we believe it will pay you to wait just a little while longer if you cannot get all you want immediately. By waiting you can be sure your new equipment will have the quality so rightly associated with INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER for so many years.

Donations Slacken With Firemen Still Far From Goal of $6,000

"We need a lot more money than we have received to date," fire chief Vern Andersen told the Quiz today in recounting donations received during the week for the rural fire truck fund.

"We're still only a little over a third of the way to our goal and donations seem to be falling off. There are a lot of farmers in this area who have not been contacted as yet, but we need more voluntary contributions."

Requiem High Mass For G. E. Emery, 86

Nebraska Pioneer, Active in Public Life, Laid to Rest Friday

George E. Emery, a Nebraska pioneer who had lived in the state for more than 85 years died in the Ord hospital May 5, following a long illness. His home had been in Beatrice and Lincoln but in recent years he had lived in Ord with his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Blessing.

Mr. Emery arrived in Nebraska when it was still a territory, coming from Lawrence, Kans., when only a year old. The Emerys settled north of old Fort Kearney where they established a home known as the Liberty farm. They also operated a stage house on their farm to serve the people going over land to California. In 1864 the Indians took to the war path, burning all the buildings at the Emery establishment and driving off all of their livestock. Mr. Emery, his parents and younger brother barely escaped with their lives to Fort Kearney where they found refuge.

In 1867 the Emerys moved oxen and mule teams to Beatrice, which was then just a small settlement. Mr. Emery's father secured a large farm on the Blue river two miles north of Beatrice and later operated a hotel in Beatrice.

In 1884 Mr. Emery married Julia A. McGee at Underhill, Vt. His bride had come from Vermont to teach school in Nebraska. Mr. Emery took an active part in public affairs for many years. He served as county clerk of Gage county for two terms, and was deputy county clerk for three years. Later he engaged in the abstract business in Beatrice.

In 1908 he and his family moved to Lincoln where he was chief clerk of the commission of public lands and buildings and later he was deputy commissioner of public lands and buildings for twenty years. Mrs. Emery died in 1935.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Blessing, Mr. Emery leaves two sons, Calvin A. Emery of Los Angeles, and Paul M. Emery who lives in the state of Washington; two granddaughters, Mrs. Mary Ellen Knutson of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Charlotte Meier of Long Beach, a grandson, Paul M. Emery of Geneva, and a great granddaughter, Pamela Meier of Long Beach.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Thomas Siudowski, who offered a requiem high mass in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church Friday morning. Rosary was said Thursday evening. Interment was in the Ord cemetery with Emil Fafeta, E. L. Vogel-tanz, E. A. Holub, Carl Weckbach, George Allen and Dr. F. A. Barta serving as pall bearers. Hastings-Pearson mortuary were in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Blessing was in California visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Meier at the time of her father's death. She returned to Ord Wednesday evening.

Junior - Senior Banquet Held 40 Fathoms Under the Ocean

Gymnasium Transformed Into Undersea Rendezvous For Whales and Octopi

The high school gymnasium was transformed into an ocean bed for the scene of the junior-senior banquet which took place there May 1. A committee of juniors put in many long hours to achieve the underwater effect. The ceiling was draped by green crepe paper streamers arranged to simulate the waves of the ocean. The walls were hung with yards of green cheese cloth while whales guarded the exits of the gym. Various weird forms of maritime life were arranged about the room where octopi reached out their ugly tentacles in all directions. The oceanic motif was also used in the table decorations. Facsimiles of starfish served as nut cups and lighthouses formed the center pieces on each table. The welcome rain which fell that evening lended a further note of moistness to the occasion even if it was hard on pumps and evening gowns.

Sophomore girls, who served, were dressed as mermaids and the boys who aided them were garbed in white. The Catholic ladies prepared the food. From a stone castle came strains of music during the meal, played by Elmer Hall and his orchestra.

Martin Piskorski, president of the juniors, acted as toastmaster and spoke words of welcome to which Bud Larsen, president of the senior class responded. "Fish-in" was the title of the toast which Joyce Achen gave. Jean Blaha and Edwin Jirak sang a duet "There Must Be Cupids on the Briny".

Norma Long presented a toast on the subject "Chests of Gold". "Beacons in the Night" was the title of the remarks made by Lyle Waldmann. Melvin Mulligan played a tuba solo "Bells of the Sea". Miss Northway presented a toast on "Father Neptune". Mary Ann Gregory sang "My Lover is a Fisherman" and the program was closed by a farewell talk from Bud Larsen.

The affair was planned and arranged by Miss Rachel Shaffer and Miss Dorothy Auble, sponsors of the junior class.

Lutheran Paper Has Picture of Milliken Family

When the Rev. Landgraf, pastor of the Mira Valley St. John's Lutheran church, looked over the publicity sheets sent out as an aid in the campaign his church conducts to collect funds for the betterment of the men in the service he exclaimed, "That woman was a member of my congregation last Sunday."

The picture which caught his eye was that of a naval officer and his wife presenting a fine pair of twins for baptism. No names accompanied the pictures which were selected at random to show the work the church does for the service men and their families.

Lieutenant Commander James Milliken, his wife and their twins were shown in the picture. Mrs. James Milliken's father is a Lutheran pastor in Cleveland, Ohio and when in Ord visiting her husband's parents, she attended the church of her faith in Mira Valley. The parishioners took an added interest in the campaign for funds when they learned that a man of their own community received benefit of the service sponsored by their church.

TO IMPROVE VINTON CEMETERY

It has been forty years or more since the cemetery at Vinton was improved and some of those living in that vicinity think it is time something was done about it. Ralph Burison is starting a movement to that end and is asking all those in the vicinity who are interested to come to his home Sunday, May 26, at 2 p.m., to talk it over and perhaps to look the cemetery over, with a view of doing some clearing up work before Decoration day. It is hoped that there will be enough of those interested to attend this meeting and assist in this worth while work.

Two Ord Boys Meet in Japan

Charles Keown & Lt. Kapustka

The following letter with a snapshot enclosed was received by the Quiz this week. The soldier on the left is Charles Keown and on the right is Lieutenant Kapustka. They write they are soon returning home. Perhaps that is why they look so happy.

Kanoya, Japan
April 22, 1946

Dear Mr. Leggett:

Enclosed is a photograph of proof that this world isn't so large after all. When an occasion like this comes up we feel for a little while that we're hardly overseas.

This is the second time that Killer and I had the privilege of meeting. You probably remember Charles 'Killer' Keown very well. As for both of us, we graduated together from Ord High in 1939. That doesn't seem too long ago, but a lot has happened since. Killer has gained a number of pounds and he carries his weight well. I didn't gain anything but a few more gray hairs.

We'd like to add Mr. Leggett that we certainly appreciate the fine job you have done of keeping track of Ord's young people and what they had done in this war. In most cases your articles have been our only contact with our friends and it meant a great deal to us.

I'm leaving for the States in a few days and Killer will likewise soon, this occupation is mighty dull is all we can say.

Sincerely,
Lt. Kapustka
Killer Keown, Chief
Radio Man

P. S. Killer left early this morning for Guam where he is stationed and was not able to endorse this letter.

U. B. Parsonage Being Repaired

The United Brethren parsonage in Ord is being repaired, remodeled and redecorated. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Hartsaw, is doing most of the work himself with the men of the parish lending willing hands when they can spare a few hours from the rush of spring work.

Persons trying to build with scrap material would profit by an examination of Mr. Hartsaw's building program. The material he is using largely came from the United Brethren church at Davis Creek, which was wrecked and from some of the property of the Evangelical church at North Loup which has been torn down.

The parsonage where Mr. Hartsaw has been batching since he came to Ord last November is in a poor state of repair. The pastor is remodeling the house. Already he has moved the staircase, torn off an old rotted porch from the rear, lathed attic space and converted it into three additional bedrooms and made many other minor repairs. He wants to give the house a badly needed coat of paint, and to build a new front porch. He hopes to have these repairs completed by next month when he will go on his vacation.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Jones, and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Davis have recently moved from Manville, Ia. to Dunlap, Ia. where they now operate a cafe. Sunday Mrs. Jones came to Ord to get her sons. She, Rex Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis and son, and Gary Tooker, all of whom live in Iowa, were dinner guests in Hoon home Sunday.

Each Poppy Has Different Story

No Two Flowers Made by Disabled Veterans are Exactly Alike

There is a story behind every one of the little red poppies which the citizens of Ord will wear in honor of the war dead on Friday and Saturday, May 24 and 25, Poppy day.

Each poppy is different and has its own story, explained Mrs. Clark Weckbach, president of Fidelity unit of the American Legion auxiliary, which is completing preparations for observance of Poppy day here.

The poppies have been received at American Legion headquarters here from Lincoln where they were made by disabled veterans of both world wars. Mrs. Cecil Clark told about them as they were being

"As they are made by hand, no two of the flowers are exactly alike," she said. "Some come from the hands of men who were hurt 28 years ago in the battles of the first world war. Others have been shaped by young veterans, injured in Europe or in the Pacific

REAL FLAVOR IN HOME CURED MEATS

There's nothing quite like the genuinely superb flavor of our home cured, home butchered wieners, sausage and luncheon meats.

First of all — we use nothing but choice cuts of pure beef and pork — secondly, only the choicest spices — thirdly, we know our business and know how to blend all these ingredients.

Every man has a RIGHT TO WORK and Earn a living for his FAMILY!

NO EMPLOYER should have the right to keep a man from working—and earning a living for his family—because he belongs to a union.

NO UNION should have the right to keep a man from working—and earning a living for his family—because he refuses to join a union.

EVERY MAN should have the right—as a free American citizen, as provided by the Constitution of the United States—to give an honest day's work for an honest day's pay, REGARDLESS OF AFFILIATION WITH UNION OR EMPLOYER. That, in a few words, states the position of the Nebraska Small Business Men's Assn. and why we urge you to sign the "right to work" petition now being circulated.

WHAT THE PETITION MEANS:

It merely provides for a vote of the people of the state on the question of a man's right to work and earn a living, regardless of union affiliation.

This petition has nothing to do with the right of labor to organize. It has nothing to do with a man's joining a union if he wants to. It has nothing to do with recognition of a union by employers. It merely provides that NO ONE CAN BE FORCED TO JOIN A UNION AGAINST HIS WILL, or be FIRED because he joins a union!

PLEASE KEEP THIS IN MIND:

- (1) By signing the petition you are not creating a law; you are merely giving the people of this state the right to vote next November on the "right to work" amendment to the state's constitution.
- (2) By signing the petition you are not opposing collective bargaining or any man's right to join a union if he wants to.
- (3) By signing the petition you are broadcasting to industry and the workers throughout the nation that Nebraska is FAIR to industry and worker alike—that every man and woman can work and do business in Nebraska completely free of domination, by either labor or employer.

THIS WILL BRING GREATER PROSPERITY—MORE INDUSTRIES AND MORE JOBS—WITH BENEFIT TO ALL NEBRASKA CITIZENS.

If you wish to circulate a petition in your community, you may obtain one by writing to State Chairman C. D. "Neal" Haskell, Laurel, Nebraska, or to the Secretary, Nebraska Small Business Men's Association, 703 Omaha National Bank Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

The Nebraska Small Business Men's Association is a nonprofit organization. Its purpose is to develop conditions favorable to the business-health and general prosperity of all the citizens of Nebraska thereby creating more jobs—greater payrolls—and better living.

NEBRASKA SMALL BUSINESSMENS ASSOCIATION

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Erickson had for their Sunday dinner guests, Mrs. Erick Erickson and sons, John and Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Minne, Mr. and Mrs. Nile Frost and daughter, Jo Ann of Loup City. The dinner was in honor of Patty's birthday.

For this reason there will be a public meeting held at the high school auditorium Monday evening, May 10, at 8 p.m. If you think there should be a hospital in this community, you are urgently requested to be at the meeting.

Everyone wondered where all the ladies were going Tuesday morning, when they were seen on the streets with funny hats on, some dressed in formals and wearing rain coats, overshoes and carrying parasols. When questioned, they said they were invited to a Tom Breneman Breakfast and as they had heard about the unusual weather in California, they must go prepared. One lady wore her house on her hat, on account of the house shortage, she was afraid she wouldn't have a house to live in when she returned home. One wore a variety of fresh vegetables on her hat so if the food shortage got critical, she would still have something to eat. Well it turned out to be a Tom Breneman breakfast at the hotel, given by the low half of the Up-To-Date club. Mrs. W. J. Ramsey was Carl, the announcer, Leona Rounds, acted as Tom Breneman, and Mrs. Anton Nelson was Corny and was right there with her corny jokes. Mrs. Erickson won the door prize, a box of cosmetics. Mrs. Mary Brown, the oldest lady in attendance won the orchid corsage and got to be kissed by Tom. Several boxes of pep were given to those that had the courage to talk over the radio. No nylon hose could be bought so a lovely box of decorated note paper was given to the funniest hat, which was worn by Mrs. H. D. Weddel. Mrs. Mettenbrink drew the wishing ring and made her wish. Then the good-good neighbor letters were read, and Mrs. Lewin's letter won the prize for Mrs. H. D. Weddel, who was voted by all those present to be the good-good neighbor, and Mrs. Weddel was presented with a beautiful flower vase. The hostesses were happy to have with them the prominent, Emily Post, who demonstrated all during breakfast the proper ways of etiquette in eating, during these modern times.

The poem that won the prize was as follows:
Our Club members are all good neighbors, so it is hard to say Just which one is the best in most every kind of way.
There is one good neighbor, who has been very good to me And if you knew all her good deeds, I am sure we'd on her agree.
She is always very generous with her rolls, and cakes and pies, Crocheting, embroidery, cut work and sometimes spring fries.
She works on all committees and will go from door to door, To do her share for Red Cross, Blue Cross and many more.
If anyone gets hurt, she is Johnnie on the Spot, And if anyone is sick, she is there upon the dot.
You can see her on the street, almost every day
Going with her little needle, to chase someone's pain away.
If there's any task that we all dread to do,
We say, "Let Hazel do it", and she always sees it through.
So when you pass out the orchid or the ribbon, that is blue Pin it on Hazel Weddel and she'll deserve it too.

Mrs. D. O. Hawley went to Carleton, Saturday morning to visit with her son, Harry Weddel and family.

Grains

We are in the market for any of the grain that you have for sale. We need corn, oats and barley. Tell us what you have for sale and let us make you an offer. We have trucks available to move this grain. Ceilings have been advanced and we will pay full ceiling prices, that we are allowed to pay.

Proteins

There has been large increases allowed in the ceiling prices of proteins; and it looks as if proteins will be much scarcer than in the past. We have just unloaded a carload of Hog Supplement in pellet form and Cattle Linsoy. All 40% protein. If you need proteins better get a supply while available. We also have cars of Cattle Linsoy coming in June and July; book what you need and take it off the car.

Poultry Feeds

We have a good supply of Poultry Feed on hand and can take care of your needs. Of course with the increase in cost of grains and proteins the poultry feed has also advanced in price. If you are in the habit of feeding a 32% or a 26% supplement and have some grain, come in and let us know what you have in the grain line and we can probably arrange to make the feed that you need.

Seed Corn

We have some early seed corn in both yellow and white corn. If you need seed corn come in and get what you will need. If you want to speculate on pop corn we have some very good quality pop corn seed. It might be a good plan to have a little pop corn to sell next fall. We feel that it will pay you well to plant white corn if you plan to sell corn next year.

Cobs

We are shelling pop corn now and have a very good supply of good cobs on hand. If you are going to need cobs place your order now.

Forage Seeds

Sudan, both common and Certified; Canes, Black Amber, Leoti Red, Sumac, and Orange; Millets, German & Siberian; Atlas Sorgo; Norkan; Kalo; Milo; Hegari. We have a very large stock of all of these forage seeds and our price is reasonable. Some of these items will be very short later.

Mrs. Clark Says Plans for Poppy Days Completed

Memorial Flowers Will Be Sold on Streets of Ord Friday and Saturday.

Organization of the corps of volunteers who will distribute memorial poppies here on Poppy days, Friday and Saturday, has been completed, Mrs. Cecil Clark, poppy chairman of Fidelity unit of the American Legion auxiliary, has announced.

The corps is composed of members of the auxiliary, both senior and junior, and other young women. Carrying baskets of poppies, made by disabled veterans of both world wars at the Lincoln Veterans hospital, they will be on the streets early on the morning of Poppy day and will continue to offer the flowers, to be worn in honor of the war dead, throughout the day.

Serving with Mrs. Clark, in charge of various sections of the corps, will be Mrs. F. L. Stoddard and Mrs. Alex Cochrane.

In return for the poppies, the Poppy day workers will receive contributions to the American Legion auxiliary's welfare and rehabilitation funds. The money will be used to aid disabled veterans of both wars and to assist families of veterans found in need. The bulk of money will remain in Fidelity unit to be expended in the work of the local legion post and auxiliary unit.

The disabled veterans who make the poppies are the only persons receiving any pay in the auxiliary's poppy program, Mrs. Clark explained. All of the women distributing the poppies donate their services for the day, and every penny of the money contributed goes for the benefit of the disabled men and needy families of veterans.

The local corps will be part of a nationwide army of more than 100,000 unpaid volunteers who will distribute the little red flowers of remembrance throughout the country on Poppy day.

"A flower of hope for the living, as well as of tribute to the dead."

This is the way the memorial poppy appears to Mrs. John Wozab, treasurer of Fidelity unit of the American Legion auxiliary. Mrs. Wozab handles the funds received by the Legion auxiliary on Poppy day. She supervises expenditures of the auxiliary for relief and rehabilitation work, and knows exactly where the poppy contributions go.

"Poppy funds always have been an important source of support for Legion and auxiliary work for disabled veterans and for families of veterans in need of aid," said Mrs. Wozab. "I have seen them bring new hope into homes on the verge of despair and give a new chance to men struggling against the handicap of war disabilities. That is why the memorial poppy is to me not only a flower of remembrance for the dead but also a symbol of hope for the war's living victims."

Ted Slobaszewski Orders Piper Cub

Ted Slobaszewski is the first citizen of Ord to buy a new airplane.

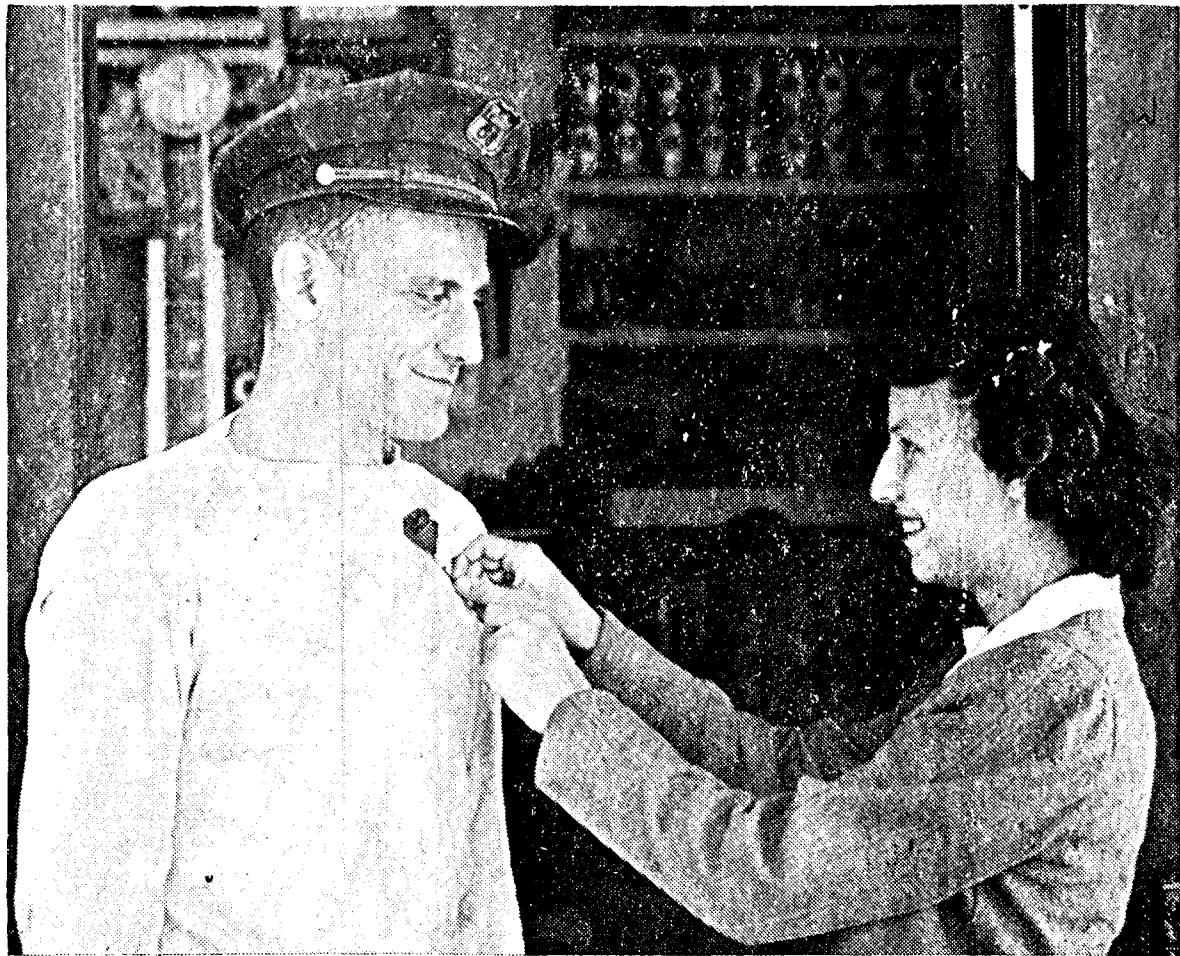

Mr. Slobaszewski has purchased a three passenger Piper Cub super cruiser, which is to be delivered in July or the first part of August. The plane is being manufactured at Lock Haven, Pa. Mr. Slobaszewski now holds a private pilot's license and is working for a commercial license. He is taking flight instruction from Walter Koizen, the manager of Ord's new airport.

Mr. Slobaszewski's father is also a flying enthusiast. Until two months ago he had never been up in a plane but now he is considering the purchase of a plane of his own. He plans to take lessons to qualify for a private pilot's license. Mr. Walter Slobaszewski, the father, has celebrated his 54th birthday anniversary but doesn't feel that he is too old to fly.

Purple Heart Veteran Buys First Poppy

Paul Adamek, Purple Heart veteran, is shown above buying the first poppy sold in Ord in the drive to raise funds to benefit disabled soldiers, sailors and marines of World Wars I and II. The seller is Rosellen Voegtanz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Voegtanz. Rosellen and many girls like her will be on the streets of Ord Friday and Saturday, selling the bright colored blossoms.

Poppies sold in Ord are made by veterans of both wars who are now patients in the Veterans' hospital in Lincoln. Money received from their sale will be used to aid disabled veterans of both wars and members of their families.

Poppy days in Ord are sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Fidelity Post, Mrs. Cecil Clark is chairman of the poppy committee and Mrs. F. L. Stoddard and Mrs. Alex Cochrane are assisting in the drive.

Paul Adamek, who bought Ord's first poppy is eager to help his buddies. Paul, a tank gunner with the First Army, was wounded in the battle of St. Lo and hospitalized for several months. He added a cluster to his Purple Heart medal when he was wounded a second time in the battle of the Colonne plains. This time his injuries were more severe and he was returned to the United States where he was a patient in the Fitzsimmons hospital in Denver for nearly six months. Following his discharge he returned to Ord and he is now working in the Phillips 66 station.

Maxine Wardrop Named Editor of College Annual

Ord Girls Active on Blue & Gold Staff at State Teachers School.

Maxine Wardrop, a former Ord girl, who is a sophomore at the Kearney State Teachers college has been named editor of the 1947 Blue and Gold, the college annual. Her sister, Marian, a junior at the same school, was recently appointed secretary-treasurer of the student council. The Wardrop girls are the daughters of Mrs. Rosio Wardrop.

Miss Hilda Lola, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lola, and a junior at the Kearney State Teachers college, is business manager of the Blue and Gold. Owing to the coal strikes and transportation difficulties the material for the annuals has been delayed and the Blue and Gold will not be delivered until after the college term closes. Miss Lola is kept busy filing addresses of where the students want their annuals mailed.

Valley County Rural Churches Being Wrecked

Two in North Loup, One On Davis Creek, Have Been Abandoned.

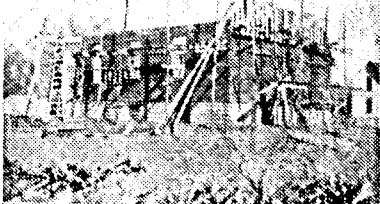

During the last two years four churches in the southern part of Valley county have been abandoned. Better roads and the automobile which permits people to travel farther to attend worship services are ascribed as the chief causes.

The decline in the rural population is another factor in the abandonment of these rural churches. Two North Loup churches are being torn down. The United Brethren church in Davis Creek has already been wrecked and the Davis Creek Methodist church will soon be moved away.

Presbyterian Church.

The Presbyterian church of North Loup was built in 1886, and among the early members were the Samuel McClellan, Van J. Thomas and C. J. Arnold families. Of these, M. E. and C. W. McClellan, Fannie McClellan, Mrs. Ora Arnold Bohrer and C. V. Thomas are still living in the North Loup territory. Rev. Smits was the first pastor. Early in 1900 the Presbyterians joined with the Methodists, and the church was sold to the German Evangelicals, who used it as a church until after the first World War, when the building was sold to the American Legion, who used it as a meeting hall and skating rink. Recently F. J. Schudel bought the building and is wrecking it, using the lumber for his new Studebaker building on Main street.

Friends' Church.

The Friends' church was built in North Loup about 45 years ago. Charter members still living are Mark McCall, Mrs. Anna Tappan and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller. When first erected no basement was built, but later the building was raised and a basement added making room for a kitchen and Sunday school rooms. At one time there was a large membership, but most of them have moved away, and there were no longer members enough to support a church. Jack Craft bought the church from the Friends quarterly conference at Central City and is wrecking it.

Davis Creek Methodist Church.

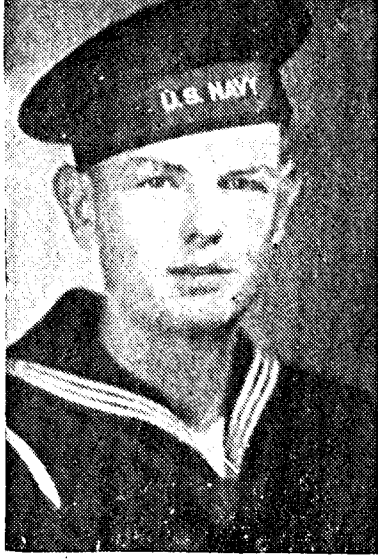

The Methodist church of Davis Creek was built in 1903, according to a sign painted on the north side of the building, and according to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clark, of North Loup, who were among the charter members. The Epworth League received its charter April 11, 1903, and the document is still preserved. This building was sold after efforts to awaken interest in the waning membership failed. Bill Valasek, who lives a mile east of the church location, bought it and will move it to his farm.

Also wrecked about two years ago was the neighboring United Brethren church of Davis Creek, the remaining members attending at Midvale or elsewhere. Lumber from this building is now being used in remodeling the U. B. parsonage at Ord.

A short business meeting will precede the speech.

War Delays Diploma

Leighton McGinley.

Six years ago Walter Leighton McGinley tossed aside his books and left the North Loup high school where he was a junior and enlisted in the navy. Last Thursday evening he received his diploma. Study by correspondence and work in the navy's educational program qualifies him to be a high school graduate.

Leighton served many months in the Pacific theatre and participated in most of the major engagements. In between swabbing the decks and engaging in marksmanship contests with the Japs, he evidently found time to crack a few books. He is now a student at the University of Nebraska.

Present Age Holds Great Opportunity For Young People

Commencement Speaker says Graduates Lucky to be Living in 1946.

Opportunity for Young People . . . Graduates of the Ord high school in 1946 were congratulated on being alive by the Rev. William A. Hubbard, Methodist minister of Grand Island who delivered the commencement address Thursday night. "No other generation has had a better opportunity to accomplish something great," the speaker declared in his talk, the title of which was "These are Mighty Days".

The minister spoke in an entertaining and humorous manner which the crowd, filling the auditorium, found interesting. He urged the graduates not to putter as they stood on the threshold to a strategic age. He pointed out that the world is now in a pliable state and that it can be moulded into any shape with the people of the present generation having the responsibility of determining what design the future world will take.

He used wall paper cleaner as an illustration for his remarks, explaining that the cleaner must be worked in the hands to make it soft and pliable before it is applied to the wall paper and how the dirt removed from the wall paper is worked into the center of the cleaner. He pointed out that it is most important that the people have the right stuff in their hearts and that if the dirt worked to the center as in the wall paper cleaner, that civilization would retrograde rather than progress.

The minister related that when he was a boy he delighted in playing baseball but that his parents were too poor to buy him a ball so he made one out of string. When he finished his ball he could not throw it because it was (Continued on page 5)

Ord Airport Gets $8,145 from State For Improvements

Money will be Spent for Grading, Seeding and Surfacing Runways.

The Nebraska Aeronautics Commission granted $8,145.00 for the development of Ord's municipal airport last Thursday. Mayor M. B. Cummins and Dr. F. L. Blessing, a member of the city council, went to Lincoln last Wednesday to appear before the commission Friday Mr. Cummins received a letter from I. V. Packard, director of the department of aeronautics, informing him that the grant had been approved.

The amount is about a thousand more than the first allocation set for Ord's airport. Nine other Nebraska towns also received sums for airport development. Kimball with $15,601 receives the most. Holdrege will get $3,532, Rushville $8,527, Hebron $9,486, Wahoo $12,603, Wayne $1,531, Mitchell $3,382, Gordon $7,880 and the Stuart-Atkinson joint airport $6,640. The state is spending a total of $85,764 to develop airports.

Ord's grant will be spent for grading, seeding and surfacing. Contracts for this work will be let by the city under the supervision of the state department of aeronautics according to Clarence Davis, city attorney.

The state engineers have estimated that 19,630 cubic yards of dirt will have to be moved to level Ord's airport. They estimate that it will cost thirty-five cents per cubic yard to do this which amounts to $6,870.50 for grading. They estimate that 165,000 gallons of water will be needed to settle the grading and figure that the water will cost $1.50 per thousand gallons and a total of $247.50.

The engineers recommend the seeding of 39 acres to a cover crop and allow $10 per acre for doing this or a total of $390. They require 19 acres to be seeded to a heavy turf which they believe will cost $20 per acre or a total of $380.

For surfacing the runways 103 cubic yards of gravel will be needed at the estimated cost of $2.50 per cubic yard or a total of $257.50.

Geraldine Gowen Wins Fellowship

Geraldine Gowen, who graduates from Nebraska University on May 27, with a major in both dietetics and institutional management, has been granted a fellowship internship at Eastman Kodak Company research laboratories at Rochester, N. Y., and will go to take up her years work soon after the first of July. The course of study which she will take up provides actual experience in the company's cafeteria and medical departments and covers all phases of industrial nutrition. The Eastman laboratories have been approved by the American Dietetic Association and were the first established by an industrial concern in industrial nutrition. The plant has been established within the past year.

Miss Gowen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gowen and graduated from the Scotia high school with high honors, winning the Carl Gray scholarship. During the four years of her work at Nebraska University she has been outstanding. She is one of two girls whose four years have been spent as a resident of Love Memorial hall. She is a member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, the Student Faculty council, of the agriculture executive board, Co-Ed Councilors, of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics society, the Home Ec club and the 4-H club. The Gus Prestegard scholarship was awarded her during her senior year. As a resident of Love Memorial Hall, she has held the office of treasurer for one and a half years. In the recent ceremony of the crowning of the Goddess of Agriculture, Miss Gowen was one of the attendants. Just before the close of Geraldine's junior years, her father passed away suddenly. One of George Gowen's fondest hopes was to have his daughter graduate from the University with honors and Geraldine is certainly fulfilling those dreams.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

The boss is away this week and I am going to try to slip this screed into the paper. I sometimes write it and then it gets crowded out, for the make-up man treats me just like he does the North Loup or Arcadia or any other news. Rex almost cries sometimes because some of his pet news is left out. So I finally decided not to try to write any more.

Anyhow, I am so darned lame that it is quite an effort to write, in fact it really hurts to do so. But I have a new liniment that I am trying out. The friend who recommended it said he used it for years on his horses and mules and he thought it would take the kinks out of my arms and legs. It should. It is hot enough. And when I came into the office Laura got up and opened the door, saying that she thought we needed a little fresh air. I quit, some time ago, trying to keep track of the different kinds of medicine I have tried but I am giving them all a whirl. One might hit the right thing some time.

We are in the chicken business at our house, two ways. First I sent and got a trio of bantams, then they were so much fun that I sent and got more and now have three pens and are they shelling the eggs out. The Missus got a little bit jealous because I had some chickens and she didn't so she sent and got a hundred baby chicks and between doing her work at the office, taking care of her house work, brooding those chicks and caring for me, she is kept pretty busy. But we have had the chicks a week and still have a hundred and they are getting quite a lot of wing feathers and one little upstart acts like he was trying to crow. We expect to partially solve the meat shortage next winter by having about fifty nice roasters in the lockers and enough nice young hens left to furnish us with eggs.

I see by the Sunday paper that the government expects to take a hand and cut down the hog production in the spring of 1947 by limiting the number of pigs that farmers may have farrowed. I think they have already taken care of that problem and that they will more likely be spending government money (taxpayer's money) to hire farmers to produce more pigs. This country is in a hell of a shape now and just so long as the government continues to monkey with every kind of business, it is going to stay in a mess. I don't believe Washington white collar theorists many of whom never saw a farm can tell real dirt farmers like Ernest Coats and W. J. Hather and William Hansen, the best way to do their work.

Anyhow, it don't do any good to bellyache about the way the government runs things. I don't agree with them, but then, they don't agree among themselves. Some think one way and some another. Some do things one way and another bunch do things another way and undo what has been done so that the whole expense goes for naught and you had better quit worrying about it and look at the label on your Quiz and see if by any chance your time expired in March, April or May for there are a lot of such names are coming off the list right soon now.

—The Rysavy blacksmith shop will be closed all day Monday, May 27. William Rysavy, one of the junior members of the force, will be married on that date.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Arcadia were guests in the Cecil Clark home Saturday.

—Mrs. Cecil Clark spent last week in Sargent where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Roy Brush. Mr. and Mrs. Brush brought her home Saturday and spent the day in Ord.

REAL FLAVOR IN HOME CURED MEATS

There's nothing quite like the genuinely superb flavor of our home cured, home butchered weiners, sausage and luncheon meats.

First of all — we use nothing but choice cuts of pure beef and pork — secondly, only the choicest spices — thirdly, we know our business and know how to blend all these ingredients.

Mrs. Mortensen Talks on Radio.
A talk by Mrs. Crawford Mortensen was broadcasted over station KOA at Denver Monday night. The Mortensens went to Denver Saturday and returned Tuesday. Mrs. Mortensen, who is national chapeau of the 8 et 40, told of the accomplishments of that organization in aiding tubercular children in her broadcast.
Mrs. Mortensen was the guest of honor at luncheon Monday noon given by superintendent of the Jewish hospital in Denver. The Denver Post carried a story about the affair as well as Mrs. Mortensen's picture.

After a survey of the various worthwhile projects which the 8 et 40 could sponsor they selected one calling for the aid of tubercular children in the Jewish hospital in Denver. Mrs. Mortensen described this undertaking in her talk.
The 8 et 40 have endowed 18 beds for the afflicted children in the Jewish hospital at a cost of $1,000 per bed. The hospital makes no distinction of race, color or creed. At present it is caring for nine girls and thirteen boys, all of whom are suffering from tuberculosis in various forms. Members of the 8 et 40 remember the birthday anniversaries of the unfortunate children and also provide them with presents at Christmas time. The women in Denver visit the children quite often, Mrs. Mortensen reports, and make Easter, 4th of July and other holidays gala events for the youngsters.
The hospital has a recreation room provided with all sorts of toys, and even a sand pile. Wheel chairs are available for those unable to walk. Members of the 8 et 40 all over the United States contribute to the support of the aid of the tubercular victims.

too light so he rewound the string putting a rock in the center. This worked all right until the rock broke and the ball became lopsided and would not maintain a true course. The speaker related that he had a fairly satisfactory baseball when he wound his string around a smaller rubber ball, illustrating that what was at the heart or center of things and people was the matter of importance.

Worship Essential

Mr. Hubbard declared that people must have something or someone to worship. He related how Hitler called in Rosenberg and asked him to establish a new religion of Nazism. When Rosenberg pointed out to Hitler that the people would have to have a god to worship, the fuhrer, replied, "Let them worship me".

The speaker declared that when man sets himself up as a deity that disaster ensues as the deity has no one to whom he is responsible for his acts. He stressed the point that there is but one deity but also warned that the sacredness of man must not be forgotten.

"War cheapens man", the speaker declared, "it puts him in vast armies and tells him 'You are expendable'". Mr. Hubbard stated that men must cooperate in peace as they have done in war in order to maintain the peace. He pointed out that an injustice anywhere in the world affects the American people since modern means of communication and transportation has shrunk the size of the world. He declared that America should no longer make such mistakes as ignoring the seizure of Manchuria and Ethiopia as such infractions led to larger ones soon involving the whole world in a bloody conflict.

Education Continues

The minister urged the graduate to continue their academic training but explained that education was not merely a matter of academic training. He expressed the opinion that a person's education was never completed no matter how many degrees he held.

The sixty-nine seniors received their diplomas from Horace Travis, vice-president of the board of education, after the class was presented by Principal F. L. Stoddard. Dr. F. L. Blessing, president of the board who was scheduled to hand out the diplomas was in Omaha attending the state dental convention.

Scholarships were presented to Bob Marks and Arthur Larsen, the co-valedictorians, by Ralph Norman, secretary of the board of education. Both Marks and Larsen made 31 A's and 1 B during their four years. A tie also resulted in the third place for scholastic honors with Marilyn Ollis and Norma Long each receiving 29 A's and 3 B's.

How to conserve bread

The Famine Emergency Committee has asked Americans to cooperate during the present food emergency to conserve bread so that starving people in other lands may be fed. We offer in the following suggestions ways to save precious bread.

WHEN YOU BUY BREAD—

Buy the size loaf that fits your family... small loaves for small families, large loaves for large families. Plan to have no bread left over from one shopping trip to the next. If you must buy bread for several days' use, get two small loaves rather than one large loaf.

TO KEEP YOUR BREAD FRESH

—Open the wrapper at one end of the loaf only. Remove the heel, take out only the slices needed, replace the heel, and fold over waxed paper.

TO FRESHEN DRY BREAD

—If your bread becomes slightly dry, sprinkle the wrapper around the bread with water or put the bread in a paper sack and sprinkle. Place in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about 10 minutes or until bread is heated through. Serve immediately for a homemade-bread flavor.

MELBA TOAST—

Use leftover sliced bread. Place on a baking sheet in a single layer and dry out in slow oven (250° F.) about 1 1/2 hours or until a tempting tawny brown. Store in an airtight container and use as needed. Use in place of bread for breakfast, lunch, dinner or as a snack.

Ord is Tenth Inning Winner

Arcadia Ties Score in 9th
Severson Makes Run to Give Game to Ord.

Ord's baseball team nosed a win by one run in a ten inning game with Arcadia at Ord Sunday. A large and enthusiastic crowd turned out to enjoy the game which was Ord's second in the Loup Valley league. After two runs in the first inning and three in the fourth Ord failed to score until the tenth inning.
Arcadia made two runs in the first inning and tied the game by making three more in the ninth inning.

In the tenth inning Paben of Arcadia stole a base but the next three players up to bat struck out. Severson made the run which broke the tie and won the game for Ord. Ord plays North Loup at Ord Sunday. The game will be a double header as the junior team sponsored by the American Legion will play the junior team from Burwell.

Don Dahlin sustained a broken finger in the game Sunday and was replaced as catcher by Shorty Stull.

Score by innings:
Ord 200 300 000 1—6
Arcadia 200 000 003 0—5

North Loup was trounced Sunday at Mason City by the Mason
City team 7 to 0. At Ericson St.
Paul beat Ericson 12 to 6. Elba was the winner over Scotia 20 to 6 at Scotia.

The members of the Ord team feel very grateful to Bud Shirley for the fine condition of the diamond. The managers, Walt Douthitt and Cash Rathun believe that the good field is a big help for their team.

Firemen Get There In Less Than One and Half Minutes

When the Ord fire department received a call Wednesday morning to the George Munn residence the truck was on the way one minute and 25 seconds after the first siren sounded. The firemen were timed by City Clerk
Rex Jewett.

No damage resulted at the Munn residence where a little smoke resulted when the motor of the blower on the furnace became overheated.

The installation of the new of-elected vice-president, and other officers were re-elected. Mrs. Darrell McOstrich is president, Mrs.

Sylvester Furtak is secretary and Dorothy Penas as treasurer.

NORTH LOUP

Seed Corn

We have some very good sizes of Cornhusker 143,
684 and 360, Standard 405,
939 and 615, Hamilton County 939 and 463, and some very good numbers in white hybrid seed. Place your order at once if you need more seed corn.

Forage Seeds

Some of the varieties of forage seeds are getting almost impossible to get. But this week we have been able to get some more Certified Sudan and Orange Cane and Atlas Sarga. Sunac Cane is out of the picture when present supplies are gone. Come in early and get what you need in forage seeds.

Pop Corn

We are still writing Pop Corn contracts and can take care of you on contracts for Dwarf Hulless, South American and K-4 Hybrids. We believe that it would be a good plan to plant a small acreage of popcorn this year.
If you don't care to contract plant it and sell it on the open market next fall.

Grains

We are in the market for any grain that you have to offer. We need corn, oats and barley. Tell us what you have to sell and we will pay the highest ceiling price that the grain will grade.

Chicks

Before many months we believe that we will be hearing about a very great shortage of poultry and eggs. It is not too late to start another brood of chicks. Hill chicks will be available till June 6th. But you should place your order now.

Lincoy

We have just unloaded a carload of Cattle Lincoy and expect another load the first part of June. There is every indication that protein feeds will be much scarcer next winter than they were the past year. Get your supplies while they are available.

It pays to buy from Noll.

COUNTY AGENTS NOTES

A number of farmers in the irrigated area are reporting some difficulty in handling fields of sweet clover which they have planned on plowing under this spring and planting to corn. The dry weather has made it almost impossible to plow some of these fields and others which have been plowed, now have a heavy layer of sweet clover lying between two layers of soil and there is not sufficient moisture to rot the sweet clover.

H. G. Bobst, soil conservationist with the Valley county soil conservation district makes two suggestions for dealing with this situation.

The first is that the field be irrigated before plowing. When a field has been bordered or corrugated this works very well. On many fields, however, irrigation must be done by flooding and this is not satisfactory as such a field will not irrigate evenly and some parts are over-watered, while others remain dry. Another drawback which Bobst points out is that if heavy rains follow irrigation the field may become too wet to work for a considerable period of time and seriously delay planting.

The second method which he suggests is that fields which have been plowed or can be plowed, should have furrows run with some type of furrow opener with the subsoiler removed and then irrigated, using the furrows to carry the water. Following irrigation the field may be prepared for planting by harrowing to fill the furrows, or planted by splitting the middles. The watering will furnish the needed moisture to decompose the layer of sweet clover under the top soil, and make it possible for the roots of the corn plants to root down through this layer into the subsoil.

The practice of seeding sweet clover with small grain on irrigated farms for plowing under the following spring has been proven to be very beneficial, resulting in marked increases in yields due to the nitrogen added by the legume. Farmers should not give up this practice merely because the dry weather this year has made it difficult to handle.

News About Our Neighbors

HELPS CO. FARMERS TO GROW CANTELOUPES.

The sign up for acres in growing cantaloupes this season is in full swing and at this time the project is definitely assured. Only a few acres are yet to be signed to give the minimum amount of acres for the trial this year.

Mr. Hudson will be on hand to hand out the seed to the farmers. Present plans call for the first planting to be made between the second and fifth of June. The last planting will be made on June 6 and 7. In this way Mr. Hudson says that the picking season will not come all at once. While the first plantings are being picked, the later plantings will be getting ready. The pickers can move from field to field in one continuous run in this manner.

All those farmers who are going to plant melons this year are urged to prepare their ground now for the June plantings. Mr. Hudson says to prepare the ground just as you would for a sugar beet field.—Bertrand Herald.

Valley Fliers Have Women's Auxiliary

The women, deciding to have a part in the development of aviation in the North Loup Valley, have organized an auxiliary to the Valley Fliers. Mrs. M. Biemond, Mrs. Harry Zulkoski, Mrs. Ed Swopes, Mrs. Ted Slobazewski, Mrs. Bill Steen and Mrs. V. A. Andersen are among the club's most enthusiastic members.

The women have a project already. They are serving lunches to the people who visit Ord's new airport. Permission to do this was granted them at the meeting of the municipal council May 7. Bud Auble has loaned them his trailer. The women sell sandwiches, pop, peanuts, popcorn and candy to the visitors who throng the airport of a Sunday. The proceeds of the venture will go into the hangar fund.

Herb Cline in discussing the project declared that it was very fine as it gave the women something to do so that they did not have to stay home Sundays, while their husbands went off flying. "And besides," he added, "They can raise some money for the hangar as well as provide us with something to eat".

Many visitors are expected at the airport Sunday. Three planes will be there from Elgin as well as some demonstrators. The fliers will take passengers for rides.

BID ON CUSTER REA PROJECT ACCEPTED

Sealed bids were opened by officials of the Custer Public Power District, Friday of last week, covering the construction of approximately 200 miles of new REA lines in Custer county. Six bids had been received up until the 2:00 p. m. closing time which indicated that construction contractors throughout this area were showing considerable interest in building the "A" section of the Custer District.

The Snyder & Johnson Construction company of Humbolt, Iowa were successful bidders on the job, with a low bid of $182,605.77. Project officials expressed pleasure with the bid price which figures approximately $913.00 per mile for the contemplated construction. Although somewhat higher than previous prices, the per mile construction cost compares favorably with some of the lower bids that have been taken recently by other REA projects in this area, officials stated.—Custer County Chief.

Technical training is available in radar, radio, aviation, mechanics, navigation, aerial gunnery, aircraft engines, propeller instruments, and hydraulics. General duty is also available for those who do not care for aviation duty. Trades such as truck and tractor driving, mechanics, carpentry, machine tool and die making, radio and telephone maintenance may also be learned.

The marine corps stresses the importance of outdoor sports. Plenty of equipment for sports is available at every post no matter how small, Sergeant Hamilton reports.

The boys from North Loup high came back from the track and field meet at Nebraska Central with the coveted trophy, and with a large array of ribbons of all colors. They also won a large number of medals in other contests. This week the coach, Bill Cook, put the trophy and the medals and ribbons in the window of the Vodehnal pharmacy, and there they are being admired by everybody who passes by. I do not know how it affects others, but it makes me feel proud to live in a town where the boys have the ability and the willingness to go out and win trophies for the glory of themselves and the school they represent.

But this also reminds me of how far athletics have come since the days when I and Grover Long and Dow and Ralph Harris, and Fred Coe, and a dozen others, played baseball and basketball and attended track and field meets for old Ord high. Ord athletics really came into prominence under the famous "Century Class", who had the first great Ord football team, and the last for a number of years, at least, as there were not enough young men in school for several years to make a complete team. Ord had less than seventy students in high school then, more than half girls, more than half the remainder in the ninth and tenth grades, and a number of eligibles whose parents would not permit them to play football.

In those days also, there seemed to be a prejudice against athletics of any kind, as detracting from the students' interest in studies. Hard-headed farmers declared that their sons could get plenty of exercise following walking machinery across the fields on Saturdays and in the summer, and husking corn in winter and shocking grain in summer. A guy had to have a lot of nerve to make any effort at all to get into athletics. It took even more nerve to keep going in athletics after you got started, for there were many restrictions and few honors for those who competed for old Ord high.

You furnished your own suits for ball or track, you paid your own transportation to and from other towns, you bought your own meals, and you made up all lessons ahead of time before being permitted to make the trip. If you got hurt, you paid your own doctor bill. If you established a record, it did not count, since Ord was not then an accredited school in state athletics. All this has been remedied since those days, and today athletics have their proper place in our schools. But there had to be a pioneering period, and we of the old school are not ashamed of the part we played in arousing interest in good, clean sport.

Some of those old records were not to be despised, and I believe that they are retained in the records of Ord high school. There was that pole vault of ten and one half feet by Harold Marks, I believe; the high kick of nine feet by Grover Long; the century run in 10.2 seconds, by Fred Coe; the running broad jump of even 20 feet by Dow Harris; the running high jump of five feet, nine inches, by Ralph Harris; and, pardon the blushes the shot put of 48 feet, 6 inches in 1904, which was not equaled for 24 years in high school competition. We got no medals, but we sure had a lot of fun.

I went out to Davis Creek with C. B. Clark to witness the auction sale of the Methodist church there, and learned something I had not known before, that the United Brethren church there had been torn down two years ago. As I stood there on the hill I thought of the changes that had come to the valley and to the world in the 44 years since the church was built and dedicated to the service of the Lord. It was a result of these changes that the church is no longer used. With the coming of the automobile and the resultant good roads, people now prefer to go farther to attend church than they did in the old days, and the little church is a thing of the past.

But those churches served an important purpose over a period of years in Valley county. It seemed that nearly everybody knew where they were, and they were an important link in directing travelers to the homes of friends in the neighborhood. The boys and girls of the time when the Methodist church was built are old men and women now, and they regret that the old church had to go. But it was not used, and the upkeep and insurance was a constant expense, with no adequate return coming in. But all will agree that the church occupied one of the loveliest sites to be found anywhere in the country.

Mrs. Mary Sowers Baked 20 Loaves of Bread in Days When all were Home

In a little brown cottage on the east outskirts of Ord lives, Mrs. Mary Sowers, happy and jolly and looking to be much younger than her fifty-two years. Mrs. Sowers has gone through the shadows of death and borne suffering and pain to bring fourteen children into the world. Eight of Mrs. Sowers' children are living with her at present. The others have left the home to make their own way in the world. Very few threads of silver are noticeable in her dark hair. Mrs. Sowers says that she never worried about her family

William Sowers until the war came along. She had five sons in the service and after they went overseas their safety was a matter of great concern to her. She had two sons in the army, two in the navy and one in the marines. Her son, Charles, who was in the marines, gave his life for his country March 4, 1945 at Iwo Jima.

Now Discharged Her sons Bill and Levi were in the navy and Ed and Henry were in the army. They have now all been discharged. With the exception of Henry, who spent most of his time overseas in Germany, all the other Sowers boys were in the Pacific theater.

Henry Sowers The Sowers family is rather unusual in that it consists of seven sons and seven daughters. Seven of the children have brown eyes and seven have blue eyes. When all of her children were home Mrs. Sowers baked twenty loaves of bread every other day. Until five years ago she did her washing on the board. She now has a machine and wonders how she ever managed to get along without it.

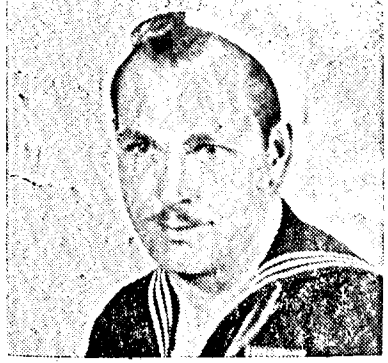

Widow For 5 Years Mrs. Sowers has been a widow for five years. Her husband, Harvey Sowers, operated a dray in Ord. He was afflicted with stomach ulcers and was ill many months before his death. Mrs. Sowers was married when she was seventeen. Although she has no regrets she does not advise other girls to marry quite that young.

Charles Sowers Killed at Iwo Jima March 4, 1945

She was born in Holt county, Nebraska and was reared in Boyd county. As a young woman she moved with her parents to Milford, where she met her husband who was an engineer in the soldiers' home there at that time. They were married at Seward in 1918 and a few months later came to Ord to make their home. All of the children were born in Ord. It has been six years since they were all together.

Grandchildren, Too Dorothy, the eldest daughter, is thirty-one. She is married to Ralph Manchester and has a daughter, Elaine. They live in Sacramento, Calif. The eldest son, Bill, is thirty. He is married and has two children, Richard and Alma. He is employed in a Safeway store in Los Angeles. The second son, Levi, 29, is now in California.

Levi Sowers Ed, the third son, is twenty-eight. After spending six years in the army he is back in Ord and working on the highways in Valley county. Henry, 25, is also back in Ord after being discharged from the army. He, too, works on the highways.

Ed Sowers Mary is twenty-two and lives in San Diego. When she was a little girl she became desperately ill of the flu and had a high fever for a number of days. After she recovered from this illness she never grew any more and she is now several feet shorter than an average person.

Many in School Charles, who was killed March 4, 1945 at the age of nineteen came next. Stella, who is nineteen, is a telephone operator at Milford, Nebr. George is seventeen and a junior in the Ord high school. Letha is fifteen and in the ninth grade. Walter is fourteen and in the sixth grade. Betty is eleven and in the fifth grade. Grace, 9, and Elsie, 8, are both in the second grade. Mrs. Sowers calls them her twins as they are both about the same size, even though there is a year and a day difference in their ages.

If any of the Quiz readers know of a family larger than that of Mrs. Sowers, living in the vicinity of Ord, they are asked to call number 30 or to write or tell the Quiz about them.

Problems Aired Friday at Town Meeting in Ord

Secretary Beals Gives Much Advice to Delegates Who Braved the Rain.

Owing to the rain only five of the thirty-five towns invited sent delegates to the regional meeting of the Nebraska League of Municipalities held in Ord Friday afternoon. Representatives were present from Broken Bow, Sargent, North Loup, Scotia and Burwell.

Mayor M. B. Cummings in welcoming the visitors remarked even though the weather was not conducive to a good attendance at the meeting it might be considered more favorable next fall when the crops were gathered.

Airports were the most discussed subject at the meeting over which Dr. B. Leonard, mayor of Broken Bow, and president of the Nebraska League of Municipalities presided. The program largely took the form of round table discussions with secretary C. E. Beals in charge.

Broken Bow Reports

The progress which Ord has made in establishing an airport was related by Dr. F. L. Blessing, chairman of the airport committee of the city council. Attorney Miles Lee, in describing the progress which Broken Bow has made with its airport, stated that the city had purchased a quarter of a section of land on which it had spent $9,500 for leveling grading and seeding.

Broken Bow, Mr. Lee related, got off to a head start on the airport project as the WPA had commenced such a project there from which the city inherited a hangar 65 by 65 feet which it already considers to be too small. The city council has engaged an ex-service man to manage the airport, who has invested about $10,000 in planes and equipment which are used on the field.

No Written Contract

Owing to the uncertainty facing the development of aviation Broken Bow has not leased its airfield or made any written agreement with the manager. The manager has taken charge of the hangar and set up a repair shop in it and has hired a mechanic to assist him.

The manager maintains the runways. He has forty-seven students, many of whom come from other towns, who are taking flying lessons. He has a plane which he uses for dusting and seeding crops and Mr. Lee said that their manager seeded the runways at Broken Bow with his plane.

Mr. Lee said that Broken Bow was hoping to get aid from the federal government in removing REA power lines from the field, and possibly for other improvements.

Federal Aid Coming

Mr. Beals informed the city officials present that a new law had passed congress providing federal funds to match local money spent in improving airports. He said that it was doubtful if federal aid could be secured in developing a municipal field if it was leased to a private individual and for this reason suggested contracts rather than leases.

He advised the city officials to go slow in making any agreements and said that securing a proper manager was a matter of great importance as the manager could either make or break the airport.

In telling of the experiences of different cities in the state in establishing airports, Mr. Beals related that McCook is the only city which has leased its airport. The city council there has leased the field to the McCook Junior college. Norfolk is the only city, according to Mr. Beals, that is operating a municipal airport.

Conflict Foreseen

Mr. Beals commended the work which the Nebraska aeronautics commission had done in promoting airfields and stated there was a danger of a conflict in authority developing between state and federal agencies which he considers to be most unfortunate. He stated that in a few instances the federal civil aeronautics authority had refused to approve sites which the state commission had already sanctioned for airports.

A better deal for the members of the volunteer fire departments was vigorously advocated by W. G. Ekstrand of Stromburg, a representative of the state fire marshal's office. Mr. Ekstrand urged the city fathers to give a more sympathetic ear to firemen's request for funds to buy needed equipment and said that the firemen should not be compelled to resort to benefit dances and other like projects to finance themselves.

Decries Losses

He declared that it was imperative that something be done to put down the three million dollar loss which Nebraska suffered last year. Mr. Ekstrand pointed out that every time a building burned in a town, that town's tax-

City Officials Meet in Ord Friday

At the right in the bottom row is Ord's Mayor Cummings, next is Dr. B. Leonard, mayor of Broken Bow and president of the Nebraska League of Municipalities, the others are Senator Burnham of Sargent, C. E. Beals of Lincoln, the league's secretary, and Ord's city attorney, Clarence Davis.

Prairie Airways To Seek Route Through State

Alliance Company Asks for Permit to Fly Freight & Passenger Planes.

Prairie Airlines, Inc., of Alliance, capitalized at $250,000, have made application in Lincoln for a certificate of public convenience and necessity and for authority to operate an airlines system within Nebraska.

The application of the organization, of which Christopher J. Abbott is president, stated that passengers, mail and property would be transported on the proposed system. The operations of the new firm would be wholly intra-state.

Routes laid out by the new company would have as important stops Chadron, Valentine, Norfolk and Scottsbluff, North Platte, Hastings, Lincoln and Omaha on a southern route.

This application for a state air lines system is the first of its kind in Nebraska and railway commissioner Duane T. Swanson in Lincoln said that it may be necessary for the railway commission to set up a new department.

The application for permission to fly the above mentioned routes stated that as business became bigger the airline would reserve the right to stop at other points in Nebraska to facilitate air freight and passenger services.

The firm also has an application for inter-state airplane service before the Civil Aeronautics board for lines from Nome, Alaska to Miami and from Seattle and Portland to Chicago, which would include stops at Alliance, Grand Island and Lincoln.

This application is only for routes and is not for rates and fares. It is a test of the authority of the commission, Swanson said, and added that the attorney general had been asked for an opinion to determine if the commission has jurisdiction over airlines in intra-state operations.

Other officers of Prairie Airways are John R. Jirson, Morrill, vice president and director; Harry E. Grantz, Alliance, vice president, director and general counsel; LeRoy Abbott, Alliance, treasurer, director and resident agent; C. H. Hoper, Alliance, director and engineering consultant.

Other directors include Earl L. Mead, Arthur Melville, Henry Spalding, Ben J. Sallows and T. F. Neighbors. — Custer County Chief.

Little Black Sambo Visits Ord Children

Mrs. Ralph Douglas was in charge of the story hour at the library last Saturday morning. As a surprise for the children she asked some women from Burwell to give their puppet show of "Little Black Sambo". From the expressions on the children's faces one could readily draw the conclusion that they got a big thrill out of the show. They are looking forward to having the Burwell women give them another show this summer.

Mothers are asked to remind their children of story hour each Saturday morning. A different woman will sponsor it each week.

California Gets 65 Carloads of Cattle from Valley County

Sixty-five carloads of fat cattle have been shipped out of Ord since December by Mr. Teasdale of Seattle and Mr. Christensen of Missoula, Mont., who buy livestock for the National City Packing company of California. National City is a suburb of San Diego.

These men were in Ord Monday making arrangements to ship cattle to California. Most of the cattle which they have shipped were bought in Valley county but cattle from Garfield, Custer, Greeley and Howard counties were also loaded at Ord. Mr. Teasdale says that many towns have no facilities for weighing and yarding cattle.

Enroute to California the cattle are generally unloaded four times for feed, water and rest. These men buy the cattle direct from the farmers and feeders and have no organized system of locating cattle.

Four Test Plots In Valley County

20 Small Grain Varieties And 25 Kinds of Hybrid Corn to be Compared.

Four different test plots have been arranged in Valley county this year by County Agent Carl Dale in cooperation with agricultural extension service of the University of Nebraska. Varieties of small grains and hybrid corn on both dry and irrigated lands are being tested for yields and disease resistance and fertilizer tests are also being made this year.

On the E. O. Schudel farm in Independent township twenty varieties of barley and oats are being tested for yield and disease resistance. Twenty-five varieties of hybrid corn have been planted in dry land test plots on this farm to determine the yields of the varieties.

On the Lloyd Geweke farm twenty-five varieties of hybrid corn are being tested on irrigated ground. The experiments with fertilizers are being conducted on the Joe Dworak farm which is operated by Darrell Noll.

Here Mr. Dale has arranged for the use of several different types of fertilizer for comparison and also the fertilizer will be applied at different times and a comparison of the results made. The first application was made about ten days ago just as the corn was coming up. Another plot will be fertilized after the corn is laid by. On part of the plot 40 pounds of straight nitrogen per acre is being applied. To do this 125 pounds of fertilizer is required as the remainder of the bulk is inert material. On other parts of the plot the land is receiving 80 pounds of pure nitrogen which requires an application of 250 pounds because of the inert matter. Other combinations of phosphates and potassium are also being tested.

Just In Time

Last Wednesday Duane Armstrong called upon Henry Kusek who lives north of Elyria and convinced him that he should insure his cattle against lightning. Thursday noon Mr. Kusek had a cow struck by lightning and killed.

Ord Wins 10 to 4 Over North Loup

Bob Stull Makes 2 Homers And Pitches Good Game; Ericson Next Sunday.

The Ord Towners, led by the stellar hitting and pitching of Bob Stull, walloped the North Loup team by a score of 10 to 4, Sunday on the Ord Athletic field.

Ord's first score came in the third inning when with one away Bob Stull drove out a double followed by Furtak's single which scored him. Bresley lived on an error and Furtak scored on two wild pitches.

New Plan Would Bring Water to Much of County

Missouri Valley Project Would Irrigate 20,000 Acres in This Valley.

The members of the Ord chamber of commerce were told that more than 20,000 acres of land in the North Loup valley and 95,000 acres in the Middle Loup would be irrigated under the plan proposed as a part of the Missouri Valley basin project by Paul L. Harley in the address he made to them Tuesday night. Mr. Harley is in the Grand Island office of the bureau of reclamation of the department of interior.

In commenting upon the proposed development of the North Loup valley Mr. Harley said the arable land in the valley suited to irrigation would not require a third of the water in the river and the plan calls for a diversion of part of the water to be used in adjacent areas. The project anticipates the building of a reservoir on Davis Creek mostly in Valley county and partly in Sherman county.

Reservoirs Planned

Most of the land in the North Loup Valley to be brought under irrigation by the Missouri valley project will get its water from this reservoir. The plans provide that water needed for the present irrigated acreage in the North Loup valley will be impounded at Burwell and possibly another reservoir will be built near Brewster. The plan also calls for irrigation in Mira valley.

The project provides for the construction of at least seven reservoirs throughout the state. Ericson and Boelus are contemplated sites.

Mr. Harley explained that the development of irrigation in the Missouri valley basin received quite an encouragement when congress decided that irrigation rather than transportation should be given first priority on all the water in the Missouri valley and its tributaries west of the 99th meridian. The 99th meridian passes through Central City and Columbus.

Rates on Fertility

The rates charged for water, Mr. Harley said, would be determined by the ability of the soil to produce and fertile land would pay more for water than land less fertile. He stated that the project would develop power wherever it was possible but that irrigation would be the first concern of the project.

Mr. Harley pointed out that irrigation was a major concern to Nebraska as agriculture was the state's only basic industry and the fertility of the soil its only resource. He stated that every dollar of new wealth produced from the soil was multiplied into seven more dollars by agriculture and industrial development.

In telling of the benefit which a community receives from irrigation Mr. Harley pointed out that during the thirties when most counties in Nebraska were losing population and wealth due to drought and depression, Scottsbluff county, most of which is under irrigation, rated thirteenth in growth of all counties in the United States.

Death Comes to Mrs. Campbell

Funeral Wednesday for Ord Woman Who Attained Age Of 78 Years.

After several months of ill health Mrs. A. J. Campbell died Tuesday in her home in Ord. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Christen Jeppesen of the Bethany Lutheran church in the morning. Burial was in the Ord cemetery.

She was married to A. J. Campbell May 18, 1893 at Spencer, Ia. To this union three sons, Erwin R. Allan James and John W. were born who survive and a daughter who died in infancy.

REA Asks Funds To Serve B Section

District Would Build Lines To 377 More Customers; Getting Easements.

The local REA district is submitting a request to Washington for funds to build lines to serve 377 consumers in the B area of the district, William Bolton, the coordinator, announced Tuesday. The A area of the district has already been approved in Washington. The farms in the B area are located farther apart and more lines will be required to serve a given number of consumers than in the A area.

The REA office in Ord has been kept busy preparing easements for the right of way of the anticipated lines. Mr. Bolton reports that in most cases the land owners call at the Ord office in the court house and gladly sign the easements which permit the power lines to cross their property.

At the present time Mr. Bolton is anxious to contact prospective consumers in Garfield county. Farmers and ranchers who would like to have electrical service are asked to see Mr. Bolton. Tenants can sign up as well as land owners, Mr. Bolton says. If a tenant moves to another farm in the district his membership will be transferred and if he moves out of the district the membership fee will be refunded to him.

Helpful Judge Aids Distant People in Finding Uncles or Holstein Bulls

In the course of his duties as secretary of the chamber of commerce, good-natured Judge John Andersen receives many queries for unusual information all of which he answers to the best of his ability. The requests range in variety all the way from help in locating missing relatives to the whereabouts of Holstein bulls.

One situation which the judge solved to the satisfaction of everyone was a request from a woman in Hartford, Conn., for help in locating her uncle. The man she inquired about was well known to the judge but he died in 1933. However, he sent the woman names and addresses of the man's children living in the community and a correspondence developed amongst relatives who had lost all track of each other.

Last week a man from Ericson wrote the judge asking if he could tell him where he could find a good holstein bull near Ord and Andersen referred him to Evet Smith.

A child in Jersey City, N. J. who was studying geography wrote the judge requesting all the information he could give her about Nebraska. The reply she received did not exactly lead her to believe that Nebraska and Valley county in particular was the Worst place on the world in which to live.

A man in Peakland, Tenn., wrote the judge asking information about Valley county farms as he is interested in buying a farm in this locality. The judge sent him an abundance of favorable information and also referred the man to the real estate dealers in Ord. The judge is anxiously awaiting the arrival of the southerner in Ord.

A Los Angeles file sharpening firm wrote asking for the names of all auto repair shops, garages and body shops in Ord. A Cleveland, Ohio firm wanted the names of Ord's department stores.

A number of inquiries are received from persons interested in securing employment in Ord. Recently the judge got an inquiry from an accountant in Gardiner, Mont., who wanted to move to Ord and wanted a list of firms who employed accountants.

All inquiries are promptly, and if possible favorably, answered. The judge is always eager to put in a plug for Ord, Valley county, and the entire North Loup valley, and he sees to it that any one wanting information from the chamber of commerce gets a favorable impression of the old home town.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.
By John L. Ward

You note that I use the L in the middle of my name, and for a good reason. I often get mail through the Ord office, which is forwarded to me at North Loup. However, son John W. worked in Ord some last winter, and a part of the mail addressed to John Ward belongs to him, so the Ord office forwards it all here to me and I send son, John what belongs to him. When we lived at Burwell there were two John Wards at Taylor, which led to some confusion. An Ord friend saw me one day and said, "I see you are teaching school in Taylor now." I had to explain that it was another John.

Similarity of names leads to much confusion at times. For example, at one time there were about fifty people with practically the same Scandinavian name getting mail out of the Dannebrog postoffice. The postmaster put the ones he wasn't sure about in a box and let the owners pick out their own. Even then they made mistakes at times. There is a story of a married man who got a love letter from his girl friend. His wife got the letter and opened it, and he had quite a time convincing her it was a case of mistaken identity.

All this leads to a similarity of names in North Loup which causes some confusion. This week I saw my friend Art Smith, who is also well known at Ord, and asked him about his wife's health. It had been reported that she was under the doctor's care. He explained to me, as he had to a number of others, that the lady was the wife of another Art Smith living in North Loup, whom I have not yet met. The former Ord Smith is Arthur E. Smith, and the former Greeley county Smith is Arthur W. Smith. Use of the full name would save much confusion.

In my younger years I never met another John Ward, but, while attending summer school in Fremont in 1912 I learned of two John L. Wards, as I received a letter intended for each of two different men of that name. The first came from St. Augustine, Fla., and was from the man's wife, who wrote that if he would return all would be forgiven. I took the letter back to the post office, and then later found the addressee, who was working on a railroad bridge gang. Two weeks later I received a letter addressed to John L. Ward, from a girl in Des Moines, who was trying to find out where the man was who had deserted her. The post office located the correct man later in this case also. These were the first John L. Wards I ever met, and the last, outside the family.

Last week Mrs. Ward and I and Sterling Manchester got I. L. Sheldon to take us to Omaha, where we got grandson, John L. Ward from the hospital. It was a trip we will not soon forget. We got up at 4:30 that morning, and it was after midnight before we finally got to bed. We got along fine until we struck a detour east of Palmer, going south to Archer, then east, and finally back to the main highway on the Central City road north. On the way back we came by way of Grand Island in order to avoid the rough driving and dust of the detour. I might say that Irv Sheldon can herd a car down the road about the best of any man I have seen for some time, which helped a lot.

In North Loup we have two Gusses, Gus Wetzel, the vegetable man, and Gus Eisele, who is janitor at the Methodist church, and does plenty of other work between times. Both are small men, but neither is ready to be laid on the shelf, as both are doing important and necessary work. This week Eisele is in Omaha for a major operation and his friends are hoping he will come out of it with his health much improved, and able to go fishing a lot this summer. Gus is an ardent fisherman, and the fish don't grow too big for him.

However, according to Ray Drawbridge, Gus once nearly met his match. Ray was fishing in the Loup river, and Gus was fishing some distance below him around a bend. A third fisherman came up the river and Ray showed him two nice catfish he had caught. The visitor said, "You ought to see the fish Gus Eisele has got down yonder." So Drawbridge staked his pole and went down to have a look. He found Gus triumphant, but mud all over and soaked to his neck. He had tied into a ten pound catfish and the fish had pulled him down the slippery bank and into four feet of water.

I know a lot of funny jokes about Gus Wetzel also, but the way things have been breaking for him lately is anything but funny. He has been putting his several acres east of North Loup into a garden for a number of years, and that means plenty of hard work. Last fall the hail just about ruined his crop after it was all about ready for market, and this spring the late freeze made replanting necessary, thus doubling the work. But Gus never gives up, and his public can be assured of fresh vegetables this summer and fall.

He was then called to service with the Navy and was stationed at Japan before receiving his discharge a few months ago.

William Cook, vocational agriculture instructor and coach at the North Loup schools, will be the Scotia agriculture instructor, his work here beginning August 1 at the termination of his contract at North Loup.—Scotia Register.

Why YOU should sign the
RIGHT TO WORK
PETITION

The right to work and earn a living for his family is the FUNDAMENTAL PRIVILEGE of every American. NO EMPLOYER should have the right to keep a man from working—because he belongs to a union. NO UNION should have the right to keep a man from working—because he refuses to join a union.

That, in simple terms, states the position of the Nebraska Small Businessmen's Association and why we urge every citizen to sign the "Right to Work" petition now being circulated.

EVERY NEBRASKAN BENEFITS

1. THE WORKER BENEFITS because the "Right to Work" amendment will assure him freedom to work without being fired because he joins a union, or forced to join a union against his will.

2. THE FARMER BENEFITS because the "Right to Work" amendment will be an aid to industrial peace. The city worker, who is the farmer's best customer, will, through steadier employment, have more spendable income for food and other agricultural products. It likewise means that much needed farm machinery and equipment will become more readily available.

3. THE HOUSEWIFE BENEFITS because industrial peace will mean a steadier income for her family and the assurance that more of the necessary goods and services her family require will be available.

4. THE PUBLIC BENEFITS because the "Right to Work" amendment will bring about steadier employment, help build more industries—more jobs—and bring greater prosperity to Nebraska.

PETITION ASSURES VOTE OF PEOPLE

1. By signing the petition you are not creating a law. You are merely giving the people of this state the right to vote next November on the "Right to Work" amendment to the state's constitution.

2. By signing the petition you are not opposing collective bargaining or any man's right to join a union if he wants to.

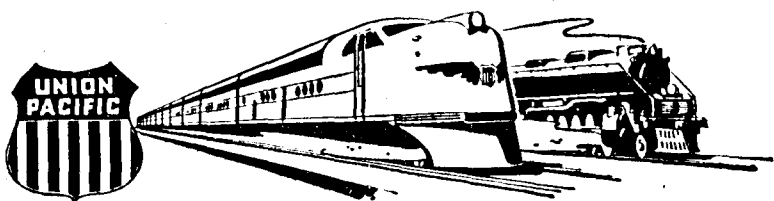

3. By signing the petition you are broadcasting to industry and the workers throughout the nation that Nebraska is FAIR to industry and workers alike—that every man and woman can work and do business in Nebraska completely free of domination, by either labor or employer.

YOUR SIGNATURE WILL HELP! ADD YOUR NAME TO THE THOUSANDS ALREADY ON THE PETITION

Thousands of Nebraskans have already signed the "Right to Work" petition. Signatures are needed in every community throughout Nebraska. If you wish to circulate a petition in your town you may obtain one by writing to State Chairman C. D. "Neal" Haskell, Laurel, Nebraska, or to the Secretary, Nebraska Small Businessmen's Association, 703 Omaha National Bank Building, Omaha, Nebraska.

Problems Aired Friday at Town Meeting in Ord

able property decreased. Possibly a family and a business moved away and perhaps several persons employed in that business lost their jobs.

Mr. Ekstrand in illustrating the significance of the half billion dollar fire loss which the nation sustained yearly stated that it would build a four lane highway from Boston to San Francisco and on every fifty foot lot lining the highway on both sides, a modern home could be built and completely furnished, as well as a garage containing an automobile and that every family living in the homes could be supplied with a nest egg of $1,500.

The speaker emphatically declared that something should be done to cut down the 90 per cent of fires due to carelessness. He said that in European countries people responsible for carelessness resulting in a fire are prosecuted as criminals and that in consequence their fire loss is only a small fraction of that sustained by Americans.

Hits Lax Enforcement

He strongly disapproved of letting a Humboldt barber off with a twenty-five dollar fine when two children were burned to death and the barber shop destroyed by a fire which started when a glass jug containing gasoline was broken. He would have dealt with the barber much more severely and would have also penalized the filling station attendant who put the gasoline in the glass jug which is strictly against the law.

He urged a more rigid enforcement of fire ordinances. Mr. Ekstrand pointed out that every city has adequate laws in its book of Ordinances but that in altogether too many instances the laws are completely ignored. He recommended that inspectors be hired to examine the city for fire hazards and then that the hazards be corrected or removed.

Boosts Fire Schools

Mr. Ekstrand urged the mayors and councilmen to send their firemen to the state fire schools which are held every winter or spring in several Nebraska cities and to pay their expenses while attending such schools. The training the men get is extremely valuable, Mr. Ekstrand says, in that they find out all about the newest equipment and latest methods of fire control. On the other hand he characterized the state convention of firemen as a place where the firemen go largely to have a good time.

Mr. Ekstrand decried the lack of the Nebraska legislature in passing any regulations to govern the use of liquid petroleum appliances and equipment. He said that Nebraska has become a dumping ground for unsafe equipment which can not be sold in other states which have laws forbidding its use. He said that nothing can be done under the present status to prevent the installation of such equipment.

Urges Pay

He urged that the fire chief be paid an adequate and regular salary, suggesting at least $25 or $30 per month and that the firemen at least be paid for the time they spend fighting fires. He also advised against sending the firemen out into the country to fight fires. He related an instance where the firemen were called to the country when a brooder house worth about $150 caught on fire and while they were gone a residence and a church worth about $8,000 burned.

The fire marshal's assistant urged the mayors and councilmen to see that fire hazards are removed which endanger the lives and the property of their citizens even though the buildings in question may belong to their friends or to persons to whom they may feel they are obligated.

Garbage Disposal

In discussing the matter of garbage disposal Mr. Beals recommended that the city charge each householder and business man fifty cents per month and have the department of streets and alleys remove the garbage every day from the business section and twice weekly from the residential section. He related that the city of Chadron was using this method and that the city was making a handsome profit on the service as well as keeping its alleys clean. Persons who do not pay the collection charge are brought into court and fined if they don't remove their own garbage, according to Mr. Beals.

In asking how the problem was being handled in the cities represented at the meeting Mayor Cummins related that in Ord the removal of garbage was the responsibility of each individual citizen and that the city had no method for its collection and removal other than that the city maintained a dump.

Problem Unsolved

Mayor Leonard said that in Broken Bow the householders paid a dollar per month to private individuals for garbage removal but that his city had no method of enforcing the removal of the garbage of those who did not hire this service.

Mayor Green of Sargent said that his town had purchased thirty garbage cans which it had distributed among the restaurants, hotel and grocery stores and that they were depending upon people to gather up the refuse for hog feed. Mr. Beals did not feel that any of these towns had satisfactorily solved the garbage question.

He told those attending the meeting that a bill was pending in congress compelling all cities to construct sewage disposal plants within two years. Mr. Beals pointed out that shortage of materials would make this impossible and that the time would no doubt be extended but that sooner or later every city would have to build a sewage disposal plant. He said that this was a project on which the Isaac Walton league was working, as the league wanted to save the streams from pollution so that they would be available for fishing.

Liquor Problem

The matter of liquor licenses was discussed. Mayor Cummins suggested that the city occupational tax for a liquor store be raised from $150 to $500. Sargent's Mayor Green ridiculed the proposition as "going after chicken feed" and suggested that the city operate the liquor stores themselves and benefit from the enormous profits to be derived therefrom.

Mayor Green said that a town in Minnesota about the same size as Sargent cleared $40,000 in one year from the operation of a liquor store and used the money to pave streets. Mayor Green said that municipalities operated liquor stores in South Dakota and Minnesota and he was interested to learn if towns in Nebraska would be allowed to run liquor stores.

No Discrimination

The matter limiting the number of liquor licenses in a town was discussed and Mr. Beals informed the men that a license could not be denied if the council had no other objection to the man asking for the permit except that it did not need any more liquor stores.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ben Wallace at 7:30 o'clock. A reception for the close relatives and a few friends was had at the Bumgarner home.

Mrs. Christensen's going away outfit was a suit of green with black accessories. She wore a corsage of roses.

prepare outdoor meals

For fun, there's nothing better than eating out-of-doors. This coming holiday or weekend offers a grand opportunity to usher in the season.

PLAN A BARBECUE—If you're an outdoor cooking enthusiast, then it's high time to get the embers glowing in the barbecue pit. But don't be daunted if you haven't a pit over which to cook. Follow the old-fashioned way by digging a hole in the ground about a foot deep and as big around as you need. Then support a grill or wire rack on two stones or bricks over the hole. Start your fire early so that your "pit" will be half full of glowing embers by barbecue time.

Those big green sun glasses that for so long have been standard equipment for hot pilots of the army air forces received a shattering blow. Dr. C. Venard Lyonas, a San Francisco optometrist, said the glasses do more for the wearer's eye than for his eyes. He told the heart of America optometric congress that with some exceptions, the sun glasses could be thrown away and the wearer's eyesight would be just as good or better.

A "for men only" line of 3,000 nylon seekers in New York magnanimously parted for a Fifth avenue street cleaner on duty. "You are gentlemen," said the sweeper, James Mascolo, 49, putting aside his broom. He bought two pairs of nylons for his wife and returned to sweeping the avenue.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass out 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Out of the WEST Comes
A FIGHTING LEADER

Dwight Griswold

The Man for the JOB

IN this critical hour of strikes and shortages all the Nation cries out for Leadership—and Nebraska has a Great Leader to help fight the battle in Washington—Dwight Griswold.

DWIGHT GRISWOLD is the man for the job . . . the tough, six year job that demands vigor and action. Born in Western Nebraska of homesteading parents, Dwight Griswold battled his way from the sandhill country to Nebraska's capitol. He has proved himself a great Governor. He will be a Great Nebraska Senator.

DWIGHT GRISWOLD gets things done. He is still a comparatively young man. He is fit. Dwight Griswold is a fighting leader, with national prestige. He is a Republican, but not the kind who believes we can go back to the so-called "good old days" of 50 years ago. He believes in a Farm Program, REA, Soil and Water Conservation, Better Farm Roads.

AND Dwight Griswold is no fence-straddler. He has the punch and vigor and COURAGE to get something done about these strikes and shortages. He is opposed by Omaha Court House Politicians, but all Nebraska needs him to help stop these Strikes and get Production Rolling.

We wish to thank those who have been so kind in furnishing us with news items and advertising and who have contributed in any way to keeping the Arcadia page alive. We wish, also, to thank the publishers for their kind and considerate treatment. And so, as we suppose real newspaper people would say, Good-bye and 30.

Senator Butler Wins Fight for Feed for Livestock

Senator Hugh Butler's efforts have again "paid off" for the farmers and livestock producers of Nebraska!

When the 30c bonus on wheat and corn threatened to drain all grains into government channels and leave farmers without feed for their stock, Hugh Butler went into action. Through his efforts a law was passed by Congress enabling farmers, producers and feeders to buy and sell grain privately at the same price being paid by the government.

Senator Butler didn't stop here. He has now introduced a bill that will grant a 30c bonus to all farmers who answered the government's appeal for 1945 corn and wheat and sold it before April 19, the date the grain bonus went into effect.

This is real evidence of how Senator Butler operates. And all the more reason why he should be kept in the Senate to look out for Nebraska's interests.

Seed Corn

We have some very good sizes of Cornhusker 148, 681 and 360. Standard 405, 939 and 615. Hamilton County 939 and 463, and some very good numbers in white hybrid seed. Place your order at once if you need more seed corn.

Forage Seeds

Some of the varieties of forage seeds are getting almost impossible to get. But this week we have been able to get some more Certified Sudan and Orange Cane and Atlas Sorga. Sumac Cane is out of the picture when present supplies are gone. Come in early and get what you need in forage seeds.

Pop Corn

We are still writing Pop Corn contracts and can take care of you on contracts for Dwarf Hulless, South American and K-4 Hybrids. We believe that it would be a good plan to plant a small acreage of popcorn this year. If you don't care to contract plant it and sell it on the open market next fall.

Grains

We are in the market for any grain that you have to offer. We need corn, oats and barley. Tell us what you have to sell and we will pay the highest ceiling price that the grain will grade.

Chicks

Before many months we believe that we will be hearing about a very great shortage of poultry and eggs. It is not too late to start another brood of chicks. Hill chicks will be available till June 6th. But you should place your order now.

Lincory

We have just unloaded a carload of Cattle Lincory and expect another load the first part of June. There is every indication that protein feeds will be much scarcer next winter than they were the past year. Get your supplies while they are available.

It pays to buy from NOLL.
