Tax Sales Give Chance To Get Low Cost Land

360 Acre Farm Brings $2460 No One Wants Many Lots In Arcadia.

Persons wishing to acquire real estate at low cost missed a real opportunity when they failed to attend the tax foreclosure sales at the Valley county court house last Tuesday and Wednesday. Scads of lots in Arcadia were sold for a dollar or less, and for many there were no bidders at all.

Ed Whalen bought 360 acres located about five miles south of North Loup for $2,460.00 which was slightly more than the back taxes against the land which was owned by his aged uncle, Nicholas Whalen. The legal description of this land is the southwest quarter and the southeast quarter of section 25 township 17 range 13 and the south half of the south half of the northeast quarter in the same section.

$20. Per Acre

Everett White paid $800 for 40 acres located about four miles west and one mile north of Arcadia. The legal description of this land is the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 18, township 17, range 16.

Riley Brannon bought 160 acres about 4 miles south and 2 west of North Loup for $1700.00. The legal description of this tract is the northwest quarter of section 15 township 17 range 13.

Mrs. Grace Sprague bid a dollar and became the owner of a tract of land southeast of Ord, the legal description of which is the south 2 rods of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 29, township 19, range 14.

Ghost Town

In the early days of Valley county's existence some promoters with plenty of vision and confidence in the future founded a town in Vinton township. The city-to-be was given the same name as the township but as yet little material progress can be noted in the development of the city and last week no one appeared to bid on a half block of the townsite, whose owners had been neglectful in keeping up the taxes and the county acquired title to the tract for a dollar.

The county acquired title to much real estate in Arcadia in the same manner. No bidder appeared for lot 14 of block 6 in the original townsite of Arcadia or for lots 5, 6, 7 and 8 in the same location and the county acquired them all for a dollar.

No Bidders

The county also acquired the following lots in the original townsite at Arcadia for the lack of bidders, lots 3 and 4 Block 4, lot 1 block 5, lot 2 block 5, lots 9 and 10 block 4, lot 15 block 6, lot 15 block 5 and lots 16, 17, 18 19 and the west 30 feet of lot 20 in block 4.

Ben Mason paid $10 for lots 11 and 12 in block 11 of the original townsite of Arcadia. Downing Rounds got lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13, 16 and 17 in block 13 of the original townsite of Arcadia for $10. For another $10 he acquired 14 and 15 in the same block.

Henry Bellinger paid $200 for lots 10, 11 and 12 in block 14 of the original townsite of Arcadia but for lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 in the same block there were no bidders and Valley county acquired them for a dollar.

Lots Go Cheap

J. Bulger paid $35 for lot 18 (Continued on Page 6)

Former Prisoner Takes Charge of Ord Court House

Because he did his work so well while serving a 45 jail sentence Vernon Marshall was custodian of the Valley county court house while David Haught, the regular custodian took a two weeks vacation. Marshall was sentenced to hard labor by Judge Andersen and the labor provided was to assist Mr. Haught in the upkeep of the court house and the lawn. Vernon did this work in such a way as to gain the confidence of the court house officials and when Mr. Haught suggested leaving him in charge while he went on his vacation, no objection was raised. Upon his return Mr. Haught reports he found everything in fine shape.

69 in County To Get Hike in Age Assistance Pay

Amounts Range from One to Ten Dollars; Increases Expected in 90 Days.

Sixty-nine Valley county citizens who are now receiving old age assistance payments will benefit by the new legislation which Governor Griswold approved Friday at the close of the special session of the state legislature. Valley county has very few persons receiving blind assistance payments and their payments will not be materially affected by the new legislation according to the employees in the local assistance office.

The Valley county people, who will benefit in the way of old age assistance payments, will receive an increase in their monthly checks ranging from one to ten dollars per month. The employees in the Valley county assistance director's office expect that it will be at least three months before any payments will be increased.

Boy Loses Calf Won in Scramble

A fourteen year old boy is feeling mighty blue these days. Billie Stull, who lives east of the fairgrounds, was very happy last Wednesday when he won one of the fine Hereford calves at the calf scramble. But his happiness has changed to sorrow for the calf, which was evidently homesick for his mother and the broad expanses of the Meese brothers ranch, where he was raised, left the pen he was in at the Stull place and struck out for parts unknown.

As yet he has not succeeded in getting back to the Meese ranch. Any one locating the calf can make a boy mighty happy. The calf is a light colored Hereford steer, weighing about 300 lbs. He has a V notched in his right ear and the number 7 tattooed in one of his ears.

John H. Reuber Dies

John H. Reuber, 71 years old, died Tuesday, at the home of his cousin, John Dobberstein, who lives in Mira valley. He was born in Stockholm, Nebr., and had been living with the Dobbersteins during the last year. He was a cousin of Gus Dobberstein of Ord. It is contemplated that funeral services will be in the Hastings-Pearson chapel Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be at Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson of Friend drove to Ord Sunday where they visited her mother, Mrs. W. A. Bartlett.

Popcorn Days Will Be Sept. 10 to 12 With Full Program

Horse Show, Exhibits and Floats Booked for Gala Events at North Loup.

Popcorn Days, North Loup's annual home coming day, will be September 10, 11 and 12 and will be the 45th consecutive celebration held in North Loup. A. L. Willoughby is chairman of the popcorn committee this year. H. L. Gillespie is secretary-treasurer and other members of the general committee are James Coleman, Floyd Redlon, Ben Nelson and Joe Veleba. Floyd Wetzel is chairman of the agriculture exhibit and Mrs. Glen Johnson has charge of the women's exhibits.

A new feature of this exhibit will be a display of interesting dolls, with Mrs. Bates Copeland in charge. A feature of the celebration, inaugurated last year, is the horse show, with James Coleman, Floyd Redlon and Ben Nelson being the committee in charge. They are planning for a fine show and expect horses from a large territory. This will be a feature of the program Thursday afternoon. All horses to be shown must be registered by Thursday noon. Hay will be provided. Polo games and a potato race will be among the number on this show.

The juvenile parade has always been a feature of the first day's celebration and this year is no exception. The Legion Auxiliary will be in charge of this parade and are anxious to have all children in some division of the parade, which has a miscellaneous theme.

A parade of floats precedes the horse show on Thursday and is in charge of the Fortnightly club, with Mrs. Harold Fisher as chairman. This parade is also one that is looked forward to each year and always has many excellent entries.

The Thomas Amusement company, who have been on hand for the last five years with a good clean carnival company will again be here. Free popcorn will be given away both days. A dance at the community hall with Harry Collins orchestra is an event of both evenings. Entertainers from W.O.W. radio station on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and from KFAB on Thursday will be there.

On Wednesday evening the Queen of Popcorn Days will be crowned. Chosen by ballot, her identity remains a secret until the hour of the crowning.

The paving on main street has just been completed and new sidewalks on the south side of main street put in. Schudel's new Studebaker garage and the repaired and painted American Legion building will be a nice setting for the celebration.

Already, people are beginning to arrive for home-coming and many others are scheduled to arrive in time to celebrate.

The float committee wishes to remind the public of the topics for floats which are as follows: Clubs—Nebraska industries. Churches—Bible incidents. Business—Advertisements. High schools—Natural resources of Nebraska. Grade schools—Nebraska history.

Farmers agricultural floats.—This is a new division and one which the committee hopes will bring in some interesting floats. Schools which do not place will be given at least $2.50. Prizes on all floats will be the same as last year.

Positions of floats before parade are as follows: High schools—West of school house. Grade schools—North of school house. Business—West of I. L. Sheldon's residence. Churches—On street south of Hemphill residence. Clubs—On street south of Hemphill residence. Farmers—East of school house.

Failure to Stop After Accident Brings $20 Fine

Because he left the scene of an accident without stopping Harry Brown of Ashton paid a fine of $20 and four dollars costs in the court of Valley county Friday. When brought before Judge John Andersen, Brown pleaded guilty to the charges.

On Aug. 18 he was driving a model A Ford which collided with a Chevrolet driven by Francis Hirsch of Arcadia on the highway one and one-half mile south and one and one-third mile west of Arcadia. Brown said he did not see Hirsch's car. He was arrested by State Highway Patrolman Smith.

For failing to stop his automobile at a stop sign Kenneth Koelling was fined $10 and costs Friday in county court. The offense was committed Aug. 22.

Here's How Boys Go After Calves

Shown here are some of the boys competing for four of the ten calves in the calf scramble at the Loup Valley Fair last Wednesday. The boys who were successful in getting a halter on a calf and leading it out of the arena were Paul Krikac of Comstock, Richard Blaha, Bill Schauer, Mervin Hornick, Billie Stull and Charles Kasson, all of Ord, and Gerald Manchester, Leo Wolf and Gerald Valasek of North Loup. The calves were selected from the Meese brothers herd. The boys who were lucky in the scramble agreed to join a 4H club and to fatten and fit their calves for the baby beef show at the Loup Valley Fair next year. —photo by Swopes

Ord Fair Clears About $2,000; To Improve Grounds

Crowds Pack Stands To See Auto Races; Horse Show Draws Many Entries.

Approximately 5,500 people attended the Loup Valley Fair in Ord last week according to the estimates made by Clark Weckbach, treasurer of the Loup Valley Agricultural society. Mr. Weckbach believes that the society will have several thousand dollars left after all expenses are paid to paint and repair the buildings and to widen the seats in the grandstand.

The grandstands and bleachers were packed Wednesday and Thursday evening by the crowds who came to see the midget auto races. The attendance is estimated at 950 Tuesday and 2,200 each for Wednesday and Thursday. Ticket sales netted the society about $8,200.00. Of this amount about $5,500.00 was received from sales of seats in the grandstands and bleachers.

Help Donated

The expense of putting on the show was about $9,000.00, of which the amount of $2,000.00 is paid by the appropriation of the county. Mr. Weckbach points out that the donation of labor was a large factor in making the fair a financial success. Clyde Baker and the men who assisted him in putting on the racing program which attracted the crowds to the fair, donated all of their work. It would be a difficult task to even estimate the value of the services which were donated to make the fair a success. All of the members of the board of directors as well as many others worked four full days without any pay.

The midget auto races were popular with the spectators. The program was not marred by any accidents and no one was injured during the program. Almost without exception the racers stated their intentions of returning to Ord next year. The outfits assembled for the Ord races scattered far and wide at the close of Thursday's program. Race meets at Tipton, Ia., Stockton, Kans., Oklahoma City, and Cedar Rapids, Ia., claimed the majority of them.

The results of the races Wednesday and Thursday evenings were as follows:

- Wednesday 1st Race, 6 laps—1. Ernie Hubert, Sioux City, Ivory 3; 2. Lloyd VanWinkle, Lincoln, K4; 3. Fred Mullinger, Sioux City, Seven Up.
- 2nd Race, 6 laps—1. Shorty Mueller, Sioux City, Cream 25; 2. Harold C. Smith, Wichita, Red 47; 3. Chester Wilson, Wichita, Red 5.
- 3rd Race, 6 laps—1. Jay Roper, Wichita, Orange 39; 2. H. R. Brown, Cedar Rapids, Ia., Red 66; 3. Martin White, Alta, Ia., White 27.
- 4th Race, 6 laps—1. Eddie Raeynor, Sioux City, White 500; 2. W. F. Robinson, Des Moines, Red 2; 3. Don Oleson, Kinsley, Ia., Blue 9.

Ord Gets Game With Holdrege There Sept. 20

Chanticleers Face Tough Schedule With Only 3 Regulars Back.

Coach Cochrane's football team will open the season at Holdrege where they will play the high school team Sept. 20. The contract for this game was signed this week.

With only three regulars back this fall Coaches Cochrane and Pearson have a tremendous job before them in getting a team shaped up for the Holdrege opener. Ord has signed up games with two schools this year which are far beyond its own in size. The week following the encounter with Holdrege, the Chanticleers go to Scottsbluff to play the Scottsbluff high school team.

The next week they go to Burwell to tangle with Coach Bill Wolcott's boys. Burwell suffered light losses from last spring's graduation and expects to have one of the best teams in the school's history this fall.

Not until Oct. 11 will the Ord people have a chance to see their boys play on the home field. On this date Albion comes to Ord.

The regulars who are back in suits again are Barney Peterson, tackle, Wayne Goff, guard and Ray Timmerman, back. Other lettermen who are back to help maintain Ord's enviable record are Martin Piskorski and Al Blessing, ends, Frank Raemakers, tackle, Ed Piskorski, guard, Merritt Jensen, center and Jay Stoddard, Jack Koll and John Hannah, backs.

Coach Cochrane has lots of promising material but the time for shaping them into a winning team is short. Among the younger boys out for practice who look like they will develop into fine players are Bob Edwards, George Sowers, Allan Blaha, Bill Anderson, Dick Tolen, Adrian Kluna, Ernest Christoffersen, Lores Stewart, Lad Cochrane, Vernon Jobst, Lloyd Guggenios, Dick Malolepszy, Paul Stoddard, Vernon Wells, Dan Huff, Lyle Sevenker, Jack Waldmann, Roger Dahlin, Gerald Sverson, Lloyd Adamek, Donald Beran and Carl Dancek.

Ord may not win as many games as the school has in past years for they have a lineup of strong opponents, who will put plenty of opposition in Ord's long pathway of victories. The schedule for the year is:

- Sept. 20, at Holdrege
- Sept. 27, at Scottsbluff
- Oct. 4, at Burwell
- Oct. 11, Albion, here
- Oct. 18, Broken Bow, here
- Oct. 23, at Loup City
- Nov. 1, Ravenna, here
- Nov. 8, at St. Paul
- Nov. 15, Lexington, here.

North Loup Paving Contract Completed

The paving of the block on the main street of North Loup was completed Saturday by Ray Bissell and son. They completed their contract a week before the specified time. Monday the Bissells moved their equipment to Burwell where they are building an addition to the municipal light plant, which will house a new generator.

The junior member of the firm leaves this week for Kearney where he will enroll in the Nebraska State Teachers college. At midyear he will transfer to the Iowa State college at Ames, where he will specialize in civil engineering.

Ord Schools Show Enrollment Growth

24 More Pupils That Last Year in Attendance on First Day of Term.

The Ord schools show an increase of 24 students over the enrollment at the beginning of the term in 1945 according to Superintendent C. C. Thompson. The reports turned in Monday show that 549 are enrolled this year. Last year the first day of school showed 525 pupils.

Of this number 212 are in the south school and 337 in the north school. Last year the south school showed an enrollment of 197 on the first day and the north school 328. The enrollment by grades for both this year and last is shown below.

Kindergarten	31	35
First Grade	34	29
Second Grade	33	30
Third Grade	35	25
Fourth Grade	26	26
Fifth Grade	27	26
Sixth Grade	26	26
Seventh Grade	31	27
Eighth Grade	31	36
Ninth Grade	78	67
Tenth Grade	66	73
Eleventh Grade	79	55
Twelfth Grade	52	70
Total	549	525

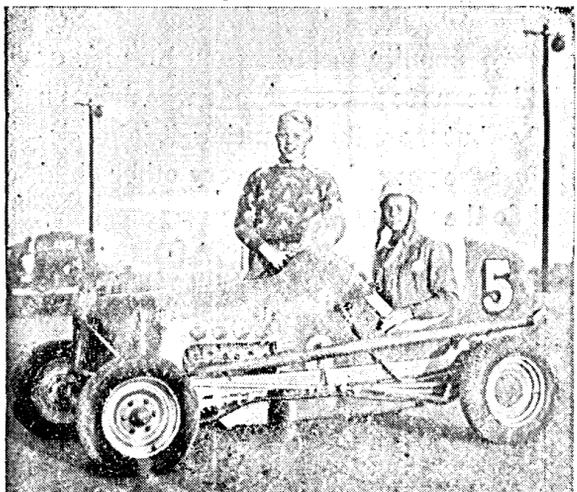

Clare Clement is spending the week in Lincoln where he is superintendent of the cattle exhibit at the state fair. His work will be heavier this year than formerly as the Red Pol association is having its national show and sale in connection with the Nebraska State Fair which greatly increases the number of exhibitors.

Horse Show Winners

Here are the winners in the horse show Thursday afternoon at the Loup Valley Fair. On the left is Martin Fuss, Ord farmer, mounted on the stallion which won first money in his class, next is DeLoss Wilke of Kearney on the palomino mare which won the palomino class and was also grand champion of the show. In the center is Pat Hiser of Burwell on his palomino stallion which was judged the best palomino stallion. Next in line is Elmer Brockman of Burwell, wearing a black hat and mounted on his horse, which won first place in the gaited class. On the end is Charles Ackles of Arcadia, whose horse was judged to be the best cow horse exhibited at the show. —Photo by Swopes

The Big Money Winner

Pictured here is Red 5, the car which won the most money at the Ord auto races last week. The car belongs to Chester Wilson of Wichita. The man in the car is the driver, Jay Booth, of Oklahoma City. The young man standing behind the car is Dan Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huff. Dan formed quite an attachment for Mr. Booth, who became his ideal, during his stay in Ord. Perhaps Ord will be the home of a fast race driver in the future. —photo by Swopes

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

Brannon-Lawton
Miss Dorothy Brannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Brannon of North Loup became the bride of Mr. Leon Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lawton, of Battle Creek, Mich., in a double ring ceremony performed at the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, with Rev. A. Clyde Ehret officiating. Attendants were Miss Elaine Lawton, sister of the bridegroom and Warren Brannon, brother of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Neva Brannon played nuptial music and Mrs. Warren Brannon sang "God Gave Me You" and "O, Promise Me". She was accompanied by Miss Neva Brannon.

Wayne and Allen Babcock were ushers and also lighted the two seven candelabra which with baskets of white gladioli and other pastel shaded flowers banked the chancel.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white with a satin bodice, long pointed sleeves and a lace skirt cut very full. Her finger tip veil was also of lace and was held in place with a wreath of white flowers. She carried a white Bible, with white streamers. Her attendant wore a floor length dress of aqua and her corsage was of pink gladioli. The men in the wedding party wore dark suits and had white aster boutonnières. Both the bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother wore dark blue and had pink gladioli corsages.

Mrs. Lawton grew up in North Loup, graduating from our schools in 1942. She attended the National Business Institute in Lincoln, where she has been employed in Battle Creek, Mich., where she met her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Lawton left immediately after the ceremony for a ten day trip and after their return to Battle Creek, they will go to Salem, W. Va., where he will enter Salem college.

Guests from out of town who attended the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lawton and Miss Elaine, Mrs. Helen Simpson and Mrs. Earnest Thorngate of Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. Roderick Moulton of Kalamazoo, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Green of California and Mrs. Herman Swanson of Ericson.

Thomsen-Madsen
Miss Amy Thomsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thomsen of Springdale and Paul Madsen, son of Mrs. Emma Madsen of North Loup were united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage at three o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Samuel Mitchell officiated at the double ring ceremony. Attendants were Miss Anna Thomsen, sister of the bride, and Will Campbell.

The bride wore a suit of blue with black accessories and her sister wore a black suit. Both had gladioli corsages. The men wore dark blue suits and had aster boutonnières. After the ceremony ice cream, cake and coffee were served to the wedding party at the home of the bridegroom's mother with Miss Edith Stephen assisting. Mr. and Mrs. Madsen left at once for a short vacation, and will return late this week. They will be at home in his house south of main street where Mrs. Agnes Manchester has been living.

Paul Goodrich has bought the Strand theater, both the building and the movie machine from the Protective Savings and Loan Association of Ord. Paul with his father, C. J. Goodrich has been operating the theatre for some time, giving the North Loup public high class picture shows and will continue to put on the same class of shows.

Grifford Hutchins and Devillo Caudill went to Lincoln Sunday morning to spend a few days at the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hudson left Friday evening for Bridgeport, Ill., for a ten day vacation with Mrs. Hudson's people.

Mrs. Harry Strode, formerly Marion Shepard, is a guest in the home of Clifton and Fanny McClellan. Sunday Mrs. Strode was a dinner guest in the Fred Bartz home and Monday she was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schaffner left on the Sunday morning bus for their home in Boone, Ia., after spending more than a week with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wetzel, Sunday of last week a family reunion at the Wetzel home was held with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Holman, all of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Georgeson and son and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Reck and son of Grand Island, the Greeley Gebhart, Floyd Wetzel and Charles Otto families as guests. This was the first time Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel have had all their family together in nearly twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Manchester, Harriett and Gerold, Mrs. A. H. Jackman, Mrs. Edmund Gies, and Patty and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mulligan went to Ord Sunday for a picnic with the Tom Williams family.

North Loup schools opened Monday, classes and lessons were assigned in the forenoon and students dismissed for the day, so that the teachers might arrange their schedules. High school enrollment totals 61 with a possibility of a few more to come in. There are fourteen freshmen, fifteen sophomores, eleven juniors and twenty-two seniors. Fifteen boys are out for football and Coach Cook has a number of games scheduled. Miss Jensen, teacher in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades has twenty-five pupils, and a possibility of two more. Miss Ingerson with the third, fourth and fifth grades had twenty-nine Monday and probably two more to come. Mrs. Hill had only fifteen first and second graders, with only six of the beginners. Janitor Charles Fuller has spent most of the summer getting the building in shape. Floors and desks are newly varnished, windows and curtains are fresh and clean. A new merry-go-round has been added to the playground equipment and the swings and teeter-totters are repaired and painted. The school house lawn is green and well kept, and shows the work of Mr. Fuller.

Gordon Portis went to Lincoln Wednesday to make arrangements for living quarters when he enters the university in another week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl O'iver, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman and Mrs. Harry Tolen drove to Grand Island Tuesday morning to meet their brother, Cecil O'iver, who came from his home in Escondido, Calif., by air for a visit.

The Laverne Peterson family of Denver and Mrs. George Peterson of Brooks, Minn., stopped over in North Loup over the weekend on their way from Minnesota to Denver. Mrs. George Peterson will remain in Ord and North Loup to be here when the Milt Earnest family arrive for the Knapp family reunion.

The Ross and Bryan Portis and Donald Jensen families and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis enjoyed a picnic in the Ord park Sunday. Mrs. Orville Portis and Mrs. A. L. Sims were there in the afternoon.

Guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith included their daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Cannon of Logan, Utah, and Mrs. Hugh Moore, Mr. Moore and their daughter, of Newport, Nebr., and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith of Olympia, Wash.

Mrs. Frilla McIntosh and a niece of Oriskany, N. Y., are guests of Albert Coombs, arriving Monday. Mrs. McIntosh is matron in a Masonic home at Oriskany and is a cousin of Albert's mother.

Rev. and Mrs. Warren Studer left last week for a vacation in Ohio with his people and in Illinois with her people. They plan to return the middle of next week.

Misses Marilyn Mayo and Geraldine Kelly of Lincoln were guests of Mrs. Eva Johnson most of last week. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn Mayo drove up after them.

Dale Halverson arrived Saturday from Chicago to join Mrs. Halverson who has been with her mother, Mrs. Grace Mayo for several weeks. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Halverson took Mrs. Mayo to Lincoln to begin her work as house mother in the Alpha Xi Delta house. The Halversons returned here and will spend the week here and at Scotia with his parents.

Mills Hill and Mrs. Inez Hill went to Kearney Sunday where Mills played in the golf tournament. Mrs. Hill was a guest of Mrs. Mary Thelin and the Reuben Rydbergs. They returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waters of Scotia and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mayo of Indiana were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cress.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cress were guests of the Dale Cress family at Kearney from Wednesday until Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Mitchell and Ramona arrived home from her vacation trip to Colorado Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Connolly, Dale and Clara Mae of Berlin, Wis., arrived Monday and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McClellan. They have been on a trip to Yellowstone park and are returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Raun were Saturday night and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robinson of North Platte came up from Grand Island Sunday afternoon and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger.

Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Boomer were Rev. and Mrs. Zimmerman of Broken Bow and Mr. Kindy of New York City.

Will Drawbridge has rented the J. A. Barber building on the south side of main street and is opening a grocery store, to be known as the Penny Saver Grocery. He expects a full line of fresh groceries in this week and will be open for business Thursday morning.

Mrs. Hazel Paddock, Mrs. Esther Farrell and Randy returned to Hastings on the Sunday morning bus after spending several days at the George Eberhart home.

Frank Johnson went to Geneva Sunday to spend Labor Day with the Howard Hamilton family.

The Young Ladies club met Monday evening at Maxine's Beauty shop for a sack lunch picnic and then went to Ord to the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Copeland spent Sunday in Hastings with the Leon Copeland family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Swanson were Sunday supper guests in the Allen Sims home. Word has come that Harold Swanson sailed August 21 from Okinawa so will no doubt arrive home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Rohlf and daughter of Littleton, Colo., were guests Saturday night of the James Coleman family. Mrs. Rohlf was formerly Bethene Coleman.

The ladies of the Seventh Day Baptist church plan to serve meals Popcorn Day in the west side of the Legion building.

Guests over night for three nights last week in the home of Mrs. Stella Kerr were Rev. and Mrs. George Palsler, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Palsler, Edward Palsler and Miss Carmel Estrata, all of Big Springs.

Guy Kerr came from his work at Superior Saturday night and stayed until Monday. Sunday he and Robert Kerr spent the day at Grand Island with Richard Palsler.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burrows went to Lincoln to the state fair early Sunday morning, taking down the Valley county exhibit. They returned last Sunday night.

Mrs. Ava Johnson presented a class of nearly fifty piano students in a recital at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. There were thirteen beginners in the group and seven of these were boys. Two piano numbers and group playing were outstanding among the numbers given. Mrs. Johnson's recital is an event of each summer looked forward to by music lovers and this one was well attended.

Bissell and son have finished the paving on main street and now are putting in a new walk on the south side of main street. Thursday one of Bissell's trucks got out of hand when it was cranked while in gear and ran over the sidewalk and crashed into one of Frank Schudels new windows. The loss to Mr. Schudel is worse because the glass cannot be replaced for several weeks and he had hoped to be open by Popcorn Days.

Mrs. Glenn Miller came from North Platte on Tuesday of last week and stayed over until Thursday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Emma Madsen. Mrs. Madsen fell one day last week and sprained her knee badly and was unable to be about for several days.

Mrs. Agnes Manchester went to Wood River Friday to begin her work as seventh grade teacher in the Wood River schools.

Miss Edith Stephen arrived Friday from her home in York and will be at the Jim Ingerson home again this year while she teaches in the North Loup schools.

Donna Manchester spent the weekend in Grand Island, as the guest of Avonne Desel.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Babcock arrived on the Friday evening bus. They have spent the summer in Lincoln where he attended summer school. After the close of summer school Mr. and Mrs. Babcock spent a short vacation in Vermont with her people. They will live in Mrs. Berta Barber's house while she is again in Lincoln at the Alpha Xi Delta house as cook. Mrs. Barber will go to Lincoln the last of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Drawbridge and Mrs. Ray Drawbridge went to Omaha Saturday to spend the weekend with the Harold Hosman family.

The Lawrence Honeycutt family of Silver Creek, Wash., had their house and all its furnishings burned recently, according to word received by Mrs. Maggie Honeycutt.

Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Davis and Mrs. Berniece Hooker were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox while they were here. Mrs. Mattie Burdick of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins, and the Davis and Eugene Davis families in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Davis, Mr. and Mrs. David Davis and daughter, Donna, Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, Mrs. Mattie Burdick and Mrs. Berniece Hooker all of Denver, were guests in North Loup from Wednesday until Sunday morning. They had all attended the Seventh Day Baptist conference at Milton, Wis., and were returning home. Saturday morning Eugene Davis spoke at the Seventh Day Baptist church about the work of the Seventh Day Baptist mission in China. Rev. and Mrs. Davis were in Shanghai with the mission school at the time of the beginning of the war and were interned in a concentration camp near Shanghai for six and one-half months. Both are very anxious to return to China as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Eyerly of Algonquin, Ill., arrived Friday evening at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer of Scotia. Saturday evening they were in North Loup greeting old friends. They plan to remain until after Popcorn Days. Their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Barrett, and her husband are looking after things at their home while they are away. Cecil Barrett is attending an air conditioning and refrigeration school in Chicago since his army discharge and will complete his course in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Robinson left Thursday for California and Oregon where they plan to spend the winter with their daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Annys have moved into their house.

The Delbert Bridge family is moving to the Mary Davis house which the Carroll Annys family vacated.

Merlyn Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson has enlisted in the army air corps and is at Camp Beale, Calif. Merlyn was called for his physical for the third time and passed so enlisted. Previously he did not pass because of a foot injury he suffered when he was in a car accident when a high school student. Merlyn spent the years of World War II as an employee of DuPont at New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl O'iver, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman and Mrs. Harry Tolen drove to Grand Island Tuesday morning to meet their brother, Cecil O'iver, who came from his home in Escondido, Calif., by air for a visit.

Guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith included their daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Cannon of Logan, Utah, and Mrs. Hugh Moore, Mr. Moore and their daughter, of Newport, Nebr., and their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith of Olympia, Wash.

Mrs. Frilla McIntosh and a niece of Oriskany, N. Y., are guests of Albert Coombs, arriving Monday. Mrs. McIntosh is matron in a Masonic home at Oriskany and is a cousin of Albert's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cress were guests of the Dale Cress family at Kearney from Wednesday until Friday.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Mitchell and Ramona arrived home from her vacation trip to Colorado Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Connolly, Dale and Clara Mae of Berlin, Wis., arrived Monday and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McClellan. They have been on a trip to Yellowstone park and are returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Raun were Saturday night and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robinson of North Platte came up from Grand Island Sunday afternoon and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger.

Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Boomer were Rev. and Mrs. Zimmerman of Broken Bow and Mr. Kindy of New York City.

Will Drawbridge has rented the J. A. Barber building on the south side of main street and is opening a grocery store, to be known as the Penny Saver Grocery. He expects a full line of fresh groceries in this week and will be open for business Thursday morning.

Mrs. Hazel Paddock, Mrs. Esther Farrell and Randy returned to Hastings on the Sunday morning bus after spending several days at the George Eberhart home.

Frank Johnson went to Geneva Sunday to spend Labor Day with the Howard Hamilton family.

The Young Ladies club met Monday evening at Maxine's Beauty shop for a sack lunch picnic and then went to Ord to the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Copeland spent Sunday in Hastings with the Leon Copeland family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Swanson were Sunday supper guests in the Allen Sims home. Word has come that Harold Swanson sailed August 21 from Okinawa so will no doubt arrive home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Rohlf and daughter of Littleton, Colo., were guests Saturday night of the James Coleman family. Mrs. Rohlf was formerly Bethene Coleman.

The ladies of the Seventh Day Baptist church plan to serve meals Popcorn Day in the west side of the Legion building.

Guests over night for three nights last week in the home of Mrs. Stella Kerr were Rev. and Mrs. George Palsler, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Palsler, Edward Palsler and Miss Carmel Estrata, all of Big Springs.

Mrs. Fiala's Brother Who Has Lived There for 14 Years, Visits Ord.

John Tully, who comes from Palmer, Alaska, has been in Ord visiting his sister, Mrs. Edith T. Fiala. Mr. Tully has lived in Alaska fourteen years. Mrs. Fiala's brother and sisters held a reunion in her home last week, it being the first time in many years since they had been together. Present were her sisters, Mrs. Bashie Brown and Mr. Brown of Denver, Mrs. Bernice Weaver of San Leandro, Calif., Miss Cecil Tully, who operates a large wheat farm at Disbury, Alberta, Canada, and her brothers, Frank Tully of Compton, Calif., and John Tully who came from Alaska. Palmer, the town where Mr. Tully lives, is about fifty miles from Anchorage, which is the largest city in Alaska. His town has about 800 inhabitants. It has stores, theaters, churches and a consolidated school which sends busses out as far as twelve miles to bring children into school. The town did have a hospital, but it burned down. However, the town has a doctor and practically all of the requirements for civilized living. When Mr. Tully settled there the place had mail service but once a week. His town is at the head of the Cook inlet into which the Knick river flows. The Knick river has its source in a large glacier. Sometimes, Mr. Tully says, the glacier shifts and blocks the course of the stream backing up the water for fifteen miles or more and when it finally breaks its way out bad floods result. Mr. Tully reports that fishing is excellent in his part of Alaska and that two salmon canneries are located in his town. Much gold and coal is mined in the locality and lumbering is an important industry. Moose is the only large game in his section which is plentiful. He says that a moose is so large that one supplies the average family with meat for the winter. Each hunter is limited to one moose per season. Pheasants Introduced Spruce hens and ptarmigan are plentiful. In the fall there are lots of ducks and geese which come down from the more northern regions where they breed.

Mr. Tully reports that an effort to introduce pheasants is being made. Last spring residents of his town donated funds which were used to purchase and incubate pheasant eggs. His part of Alaska enjoys quite long growing seasons. The last killing frosts usually come in May and the first frost in the fall happens about Sept. 1. Mr. Tully lived in Alaska three years before he saw the mercury drop to 32 degrees below zero. In the summer the mercury sometimes gets up as high as 85 degrees. The nights in Alaska are quite cool and Mr. Tully says that sometimes they get light frosts in July which do no damage to the crops. Mr. Tully owned part of the land which was taken for the colonists who settled in the Matanuska valley in the early days of the Roosevelt administration. He reports that 58 families remain out of the 208 who originally settled there. The colonists were allotted forty acres per family, and those remaining have largely acquired the holdings of their less hardy ex-neighbors. Land $2.50 Per Acre Government land in Alaska, suitable for farming may be ordinarily purchased for $2.50 per acre according to Mr. Tully. He hasn't heard of any selling lately or of any homesteads being filled which leads him to believe that the government is reserving the available land for returned servicemen and that likely homesteads for veterans will be available in the future. All the land suited to agriculture is covered with forests and the use of modern bulldozers has greatly simplified the work of getting the land cleared of trees. Previously the work of getting the stumps and roots out of the soil discouraged many from attempting to farm. Dairying Profitable Dairying is quite profitable where Mr. Tully lives. Large milk trucks with glass lined tanks similar to those used by oil transports haul milk from his town to Anchorage. Most of the cows in the locality are Guernseys, but he believes that Holsteins are better adapted to the environment. It rains so much in the summer time in Alaska that farmers experience difficulty in getting their hay cut, cured and stacked. Much small grain is planted which is cut for hay while the grain is still in a dough stage. Whole milk sells for 35c per quart in Alaska. The farmers don't separate the milk and sell the butterfat as they do in Nebraska, but sell the whole milk instead. Butter is shipped in from the states and there is scarcely enough fresh milk to supply the demand. Eggs sell for $1.25 per dozen. Mr. Tully reports that poultry does quite well there except that coyotes, foxes and owls catch many chickens. Quite a few hogs are raised even though no corn is grown on which to fatten them. Mr. Tully reports that the porkers do real well on peas, which flourish in Alaska and eat much pea hay as well as the peas. Grows Potatoes Mr. Tully raises lots of potatoes. He plants them in May and around the first of September he digs them getting about sixteen tons (more than 500 bushels) per acre. He reports that Alaska farmers are not bothered with potato bugs and the other diseases which plague potato raisers in the Loup Valley. A root maggot sometimes bothers the tubers as well as some other kinds of root vegetables. The potatoes do not get ripe as they do in Nebraska, but are dug while the vines are still green. The price Mr. Tully receives for his potatoes varies from three to six cents per pound. The potatoes are loaded on airplanes and flown to parts of Alaska where people are hungry for fresh vegetables. Small grain does well in Mr. Tully's part of Alaska. It was formerly believed that corn could not be raised there and the railroad manager, who was hungry for roasting ears, offered fifty cents per ear for any corn raised in the locality. One enterprising farmer cleared a tidy sum by planting sweet corn on the south slope of a mountain where he raised a crop which reduced the railroad manager's bank roll. Lots of Berries Nearly all vegetables and berries do well in the Palmer vicinity. Mr. Tully reports that raspberries grow wild there but that the climate is evidently too cold for blackberries. Much rain falls in the winter which freezes on top of the snow and covers the ground with a sheet of ice which smothers many kinds of crops. For this reason winter wheat can not be grown there. Mr. Tully says they can raise alfalfa but that only one cutting can be harvested as the fields winterkill unless a heavy covering is left on the ground. Many Bachelors Mr. Tully is a bachelor. Many of the settlers who came to the country when he did either had no wives or left them behind, but now, he reports many women have come to Alaska, where they now have comfortable homes. He says that most of the houses in Palmer are of frame construction but owing to the scarcity of sawed lumber, log houses are being built again. At present Mr. Tully is spending much of his time in Lincoln where he owns a house, which he is painting, repairing and getting ready to sell as it is too far away from Alaska for him to manage.

Owing to Scarcity There Is No Open Season on Muskrats
A substantial reduction in muskrat populations in all but the sandhills and panhandle areas of the state made it necessary to close out trapping in all but these areas, according to game officials. A comprehensive survey of last season's trapping success showed a reduction of 50% in the take of muskrat furs in the low population area as compared with the 1944-45 season. This reduction, game officials said, occurred in spite of continued high prices of muskrat furs. Trappers and game officials agree that frequent flooding of streams in the closed-out area may have caused the reduction of muskrat populations. It is believed that closing the low population areas this fall and winter will enable muskrats to multiply.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.
By John L. Ward

Way back in the history of Ord there was a druggist named Ben Bridgford. I believe he sold out to Joel Goodrich and Sons, who later went into the wholesale drug business in Omaha. Ord has and has had many fine druggists, but it occurs to me that the town has furnished druggists for the rest of the county. There is Bill Ramsey at Arcadia, and Bill Vodehnal in North Loup. I might also mention Frank Johnson, who is now running a drug store in the city of Kimball.

Yes, folks, I went to the state convention, white pants and all and I had a fine time, thank you. However, I found, to my great regret, that my old friend, John P. Madgett, passed on about eight months ago. I first met him on the Mexican border in 1916, and we had been great friends ever since. I met a new friend in the person of Luke Parker, whose daughter, Peggy became the bride of Charles Zangger recently.

My good friend, Albert Coombs, had me make him a sign to advertise the fine tomatoes he has for sale. I got the sign ready and put it on the front porch where he could find it when he came for it. The daughter set some of our tomatoes in front of it, and almost before we knew it we had people inquiring about our tomatoes. For this reason I am convinced that advertising pays. If you have never tried, you should give it a whirl.

This is the week of the Loup Valley fair and races, and the Ord Legion boys have drafted me to work one afternoon in their stand on the grounds. It cuts into my fishing, but maybe the fish need a rest, and I have had enough mud baths to last me for some time. Anyway, I'm going to Ord and put in my time for the boys. If they want to be generous and call it work that I will be doing, that is entirely up to them.

Politics isn't what it used to be in the good old days when the men went to conventions and the women stayed at home and took care of the kids. There was a fine representation of women at Hastings, and there are as many committeewomen as committeemen. Also the young fellows, who formerly took no active part unless they were around forty years of age, are now getting interested in the politics of the nation they fought for. When the women and young people have their say, we will be getting somewhere.

Rodeo Side Lights: The crowds that took in the rodeo at Burwell recently convinced me of one thing. The public has been denied enjoyment of the kind so long that they are hungry for entertainment. They came from long distances and in large numbers to see a type of show that many of them had not seen for four years. They came expecting to enjoy themselves, and were thus in the correct attitude right from the start. Hence they all had a good time.

Partly because they came in that frame of mind, the people were all good natured, and cheerfully put up with inconveniences which would have brought many of them to the information desk to register a holler. They came with the money and the intention to buy the high priced seats, but were glad to pay for standing room when they found the seats had all been sold. They were used to being denied.

When people have been denied the things they want over a period of war years, and during the time that has followed, they get in the habit of accepting conditions as they find them. This is the usual attitude of people who have been regimented, but it is not a healthy attitude for a free people. Let us hope that next year the people will demand what they have the money to buy and register a healthy kick when it cannot be obtained. Therein rests the hope of America.

The cowboys were rusty but still among the best left in the country. Many of them had recently returned from the service of Uncle Sam, and now a few are missing from the ranks of rodeo performers. We are all more or less familiar with the war service of Clown Spud Richardson, who is a former home boy who is now making good in the game he loves to play. By next year these men will be back in stride and then we may expect the records to fall.

The problem of feeding the visitors was given much attention before the show, but, as it turned out, nobody went away hungry, although many had to wait in line for meals. After all, they got used to standing in line during the war, so there were no complaints. Rooms were hard to find, and the visible supply had been exhausted in Burwell Tuesday evening. Thereafter many were sent out into the country, some to Taylor, some to Ord, Taylor or Sargent, and a group car napped in their autos. But they all had a good time.

Rex Jewett, City Clerk. M. B. Cummins, Mayor. August 13, 1946

OPENING
The Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska, met in adjourned regular session at eleven o'clock A. M., pursuant to the evening of August 6, 1946. Mayor Cummins presided. City Clerk, Rex Jewett, recorded the proceedings of this meeting.

ROLL CALL
Roll call revealed the following Councilmen were present: Beranek, Blessing, Huff, McGinnis and Murray. Absent: Schoenstein.

ORDER OF BUSINESS
The following Notice to Bidders was then presented and read:

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed proposals will be received by the City of Ord, Nebraska at the office of the City Clerk until 7:30 P. M. Central Standard time on September 3, 1946, for furnishing the following equipment:

3 Single Phase outdoor type oil insulated self-cooling transformers, new or used and within the capacities of 300-500 K.V.A. each, for 60 cycle operation and with nominal 6600 Volt primary and 2200 Volt secondary rating.

New Insurance Law Made for Veterans

Congress Passes Act With Broader Provisions; Men Urged to Seek Advice.

For information of 133,000 Nebraska World War II veterans and service personnel, the regional office of the veterans administration, Lincoln, this week gave the following thumbnail review of the new National Service Life Insurance act which became effective August 1.
The new law:
1. Provides for three types of endowment policies; 20 year endowment, endowment at the age of 60 and endowment at the age of 65.

2. All restrictions on the choice of beneficiaries have been removed. Now the NSLI policyholder may name any person or persons, or a corporation or his estate as beneficiary.

3. In addition to the present optional settlements, lump sum payments has been provided.
4. Provides a new disability income of $5 per $1,000 of insurance for a slight extra charge.

5. All persons not now in the armed service but who served in the armed forces between Oct. 8, 1940 and Sept. 2, 1945, are entitled to apply for NSLI.

6. In an effort to aid beneficiaries of certain veterans who were killed or totally disabled in line of duty, the new law validates applications for insurance which were rejected solely for health reasons between Oct. 8, 1940 and Sept. 2, 1945.

Representatives of the veterans administration are advising veterans to seek advice from their representatives before converting their term policies. John Wozab, Valley county service officer, will be glad to assist any veterans who call at his office with their insurance problems.

Proceedings of the City Council

August 6, 1946

OPENING
The Mayor and Council of the City of Ord met in a Regular Adjourned Session in the City Hall at 7:30 P.M. Mayor Cummins presided. City Clerk, Rex Jewett, recorded the proceedings of this meeting.

ROLL CALL
Roll call revealed the following Councilmen were present: Beranek, Blessing, Huff and Murray. Absent: Schoenstein and McGinnis.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS
The Report of James B. Ollis, City Treasurer, was presented and read, and by motion ordered placed on file.

ORDER OF BUSINESS
The matter of hiring a Supervisor for the Municipal Air Port was then brought up. It was revealed that in as much as Walter Koizen who had been previously offered the contract would be unable to move to Ord and establish his residence as provided for by the contract, therefore the position was declared vacant.

It was then brought up that Mr. Barnett of O'Neil would move to this City and establish his residence here. It was also revealed that he is a qualified instructor and examiner. Moved and seconded that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign a contract with Mr. Barnett for the Management of the Ord Municipal Airport. Carried.

It was moved and seconded that the City be authorized to sign a lease with the Union Pacific Railroad Company for such ground as is needed for City purposes. Carried.

Several residents of the 3rd Ward appeared before the City Council with a Petition asking that a Sewer District be established in their neighborhood. Moved and seconded that the matter be investigated, the boundaries of the district established, and the matter be brought before the council at some future date. The District would be termed Ord Sewer District No. 6. Motion Carried.

William Skala appeared before the Council and asked that action be taken to open an Alley at the North West corner of his property in order that he may have entry and egress to his property from the road. Moved and seconded that the matter be referred to the Road Committee with power to act. Carried.

It was moved by Blessing and seconded by Murray that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign a contract with the REA for the sale of Current by the City to the REA and setting forth certain conditions pertinent thereto. Roll call as follows: Yeas: Beranek, Blessing and Huff. Nays: None. Motion carried.

It was moved and seconded that the City Attorney apply for funds for Airport construction as authorized by law. Carried.

Vodchnal Reunion
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Vodchnal of 1827 W. Capitol Street, Grand Island, and formerly of Ord were hosts recently to their children and families at a picnic dinner at Pioneer park.

The occasion marked the reunion of three sons, two daughters and four sons-in-law, who had been in the armed services, five having served overseas. A grandson, Cpl. Robert E. Volf, is still in the service in Italy.

The eleven children present with their families, included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Volf and sons, of Ericson; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Lowell of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. E. A.

Levitt of York; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Clark and sons of Mesa, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Vodchnal of Rockwell City, Ia.; Mrs. J. G. Kneeland and sons of Chehalis, Wash.; Mrs. M. H. White of Springfield, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vodchnal and family, and Paul, Lloyd and Martin Vodchnal all of Grand Island.

It was the first time in 20 years that this family has been together at one time.

—Mrs. E. C. Leggett and sons returned home Sunday after two weeks spent in Alliance. Mr. Leggett drove there Saturday and brought them home.

Zlomke Picnic
The Zlomkes from St. Paul came to Ord Sunday to attend the St. Paul-Mason City championship playoff game. After the game they enjoyed a picnic supper in the Ord park. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Zlomke, who are the parents of Elmer Zlomke, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Zlomke, Mr. and Mrs. George Zlomke and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Zlomke, the men all being Elmer's brothers, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carstens of Grand Island. Mrs. Carstens is a sister to the Zlomkes.

Pickles and relishes that are easy to make

One of the easiest of all canning jobs—and one that will bring just about the most pleasure during the winter months—is to make plenty of pickles and relishes. Here are two old favorites.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

2½ pounds small cucumbers (about 25) 2 teaspoons celery seed
2½ pounds medium-size onions (about 8) 1 teaspoon turmeric
1 quart vinegar 1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups sugar ½ cup salt

Wash cucumbers; slice; peel onions and slice. Soak separately overnight in cold water; drain. In large kettle combine remaining ingredients. Bring to boil. Pour over cucumbers and onions; let stand 1 hour; bring to boil. Boil 3 minutes. Pack into hot sterilized jars; seal at once. Makes 6 pints.

TOMATO-FRUIT CHILI

2 pounds peaches 8½ pounds tomatoes (about 6 large) (about 30 medium-size)
2 pounds pears (about 6 large) 3 cups sugar
2 pounds onions (about 6 medium-size) 1 quart vinegar
2 buds garlic 1½ tbsps. allspice
¾ pound green peppers (about 3 large) 1 tbsps. salt

Peel peaches, pears, and onions; chop. Seed green peppers; chop. Scald tomatoes; peel; chop. Mince garlic. In large kettle, combine all ingredients. Cook slowly about 2 hours, or until thick, stirring occasionally. Pour into hot sterilized jars; seal at once. Makes 8 pints.

Many Palominos On the program Wednesday afternoon Ord's American Legion Junior baseball team defeated the Scotia team 11 to 6. Thursday afternoon the horse show was the main attraction of the program.

The three year old spotted saddle mare was taken home by Herman Stowell of Ord. Mrs. Lillian Sund of Red Cloud chose to take $2,000.00 in lieu of the VFW airplane.

The winners in the horse show were as follows:

- Palomino Stallions
1. Palomino Horse Ranch, Burwell.
2. Louis Holoun, Sargent.
3. Don Wilson, Burwell.
4. Lloyd Bresley, Ord.
5. Palomino Horse Ranch.

8. L. R. Rickerson, Arcadia.
9. Dean Bresley, Ord.
10. Lowell Jones, Ord.
11. August Kriewald, North Loup.

Exhibits Short The lack of time for preparing exhibits was noticeable in most of the departments. Scarcity of hired help and the rush of fall work prevented many farmers from showing their stock.

W. O. Zangger of North Loup exhibited four polled Herefords all of which won blue ribbons. Other winners of ribbons in the Hereford show were Clare Clement, George Clement, Robert Noll and George Bell.

H. T. Walkemeyer of North Loup showed his herd of purebred Holsteins. He also won some ribbons with his Duroc hog entries. In the swine exhibit H. C. Fisher and son and D. E. Bussell and son both of North Loup shared the honors.

County Agent C. C. Dale announces that the checks for the prize winners were written before the close of the fair and most of them were already delivered.

Tax Sales Give Chance To Get Low Cost Land

A $6 dollar bid made Forest and Carmen Smith the owners of lots 9 and 10 in block 15 of the Arcadia original townsite. By paying $5 Harold Valett acquired lots 14, 15, 16 and 17 of Block 14 of the Arcadia original townsite.

When W. J. Duryea bid $5 he became the owner of lots 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 in block 6 of Hawthorne's addition to Arcadia. Forest and Carmen Smith got lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 of block 3 in Hawthorne's addition for $2.50. Another $2.50 bid made them the owners of lots 9, 10, 11 and 12 in block 2 of the same addition.

W. J. Duryea bought lots 1, 2, 3 and 4 in block 5 of Hawthorne's addition of $2.50 and Lloyd Bulger got lots 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24 in block 6 of the same addition for $5.

W. J. Duryea paid $1,000.00 for the north half of lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 in block 7 of Hawthorne's addition. There is a dwelling on this tract.

Ben Mason became the owner of lots 1 and 2 in block 4 of the original townsite of Arcadia when he bid $1 while no bidder appeared for lots 3 and 4 in block 5 of the original townsite and the county got them for a dollar.

Dwelling Included Forest and Carmen Smith acquired lot 30 in block 11 in the First addition to Arcadia. Ray and Bessie Mae Pester got lot 25 in the same block for $5. Ernest Rambo became the owner of lot 8 in block 3 of the Railroad addition for $5.

Jennie Milburn paid $25 for lots 25 and 26 in block 1 of Reynolds' addition to Arcadia and M. E. Milburn paid $25 for lots 20, 21, 22 and 23 in the same block. Mr. Milburn acquired lots 18 and 19 in the same block for a dollar and lots 16 and 17 still in the same block cost him $2.

Harold Valett paid $1,775.00 for lots 38, 39 and 40 in block 11 of the first addition to Arcadia. There is a dwelling on this tract. Forest and Carmen Smith got lots 35, 36 and 37 in the same block for $26.

Man Who Wanted To Stay in Park Ends Up in Jail

George Scott of Arcadia was found guilty of intoxication when he appeared before Police Magistrate John Haskell in municipal court Tuesday morning. He was fined five dollars and costs amounting to $8.70 which he paid, remarking that he had lost fifty dollars in crap games which hurt him a lot worse.

Mr. Scott came to Ord Sunday to attend the Mason City-St. Paul baseball game. At the close of the game he was unwilling to remove his truck from the ball park when requested to do so by Superintendent A. J. Shirley. Mr. Shirley testified that when he asked Mr. Scott and four of his companions to leave the park they replied they would go when they got good and ready to leave.

He left them for ten minutes and then went back and asked them to leave again which they refused to do and so he called the Sheriff and asked that they be arrested. Sheriff Bob Hall asked them to leave but as his request was not complied with he arrested Mr. Scott and took him to jail. Both Shirley and Hall testified that Mr. Scott showed effects of drinking and the Sheriff said there was an empty whiskey bottle in Mr. Scott's truck.

Mr. Scott entered a plea of not guilty. He admitted he had been drinking but declared that he was able to walk and knew what he was doing and did not consider himself intoxicated. He said the reason he did not leave the park was that he had brought seven friends with him, three of whom had not come back to the truck when he was asked to get out of the park. He also said that he was holding stakes for several bets on the ball game and that he had not found the men who made the bets. He complained that the authorities would not release him on bail Monday because the day was a legal holiday and that he could not for that reason line up witnesses in his own defense. He was given the minimum fine.

California Being Filled with People Looking for Homes

Joseph F. Smith, a former Valley county resident, who now lives in Modesto, Calif., expresses the belief that California is soon to be over crowded in a recent letter to the Quiz. He writes that he believes that within the next ten years there will be a house on every five acre tract in California. He says that most of the people in the middle states are drifting to California.

The Okies are returning by the thousands and the Negroes of the south are coming to this state at an alarming rate, he writes. He also points out that the arrival of European refugees will complicate the condition even more. He expresses the hope that they will soon have a system whereby the moon may be inhabited and that it will supply living room for many of the homeless refugees. He hopes that rockets or an elevator will be perfected to furnish transportation.

Good news for all you homemakers who've asked us to notify you when we got our first, new BENDIX automatic Home Laundry. IT'S HERE, NOW! You don't have to wait any longer! You can see it today! Bring a friend if you like. We want to show you how this astonishing BENDIX washes, rinses, damp-dries, cleans and empties itself and shuts off—all automatically—without your even wetting a hand! Come today! You'll enjoy it—and we're proud of the privilege.

What you do: put in clothes, set a dial, add soap.

What the BENDIX does: fills itself, tumbles clothes clean, thoroughly tumbles rinses, dries clothes ready for the line or dryer, cleans and empties itself, and shuts off—all automatically! The Bendix takes only 4 square feet of floor space—fits perfectly in kitchen, bathroom, utility room or laundry.

ORDER ALLIS CHALMERS PARTS NOW FOR SPRING

Don't think we're attempting to jump the gun. What we have to say is of necessity, and our desire to give you the best possible service in taking care of your Allis Chalmers farm equipment.

Parts for harvesters, tractors, etc., are next to impossible to get right now. The company's factories have been on strike for the better part of this year, and to date, management and labor seem as far apart as ever.

That's the reason parts are so scarce—and that's the reason for this message.

When the factory does go back into production this fall or winter, backlog orders are going to be tremendous. We have a lot of orders on file ourselves. There's going to be terrific confusion.

Here is what we ask you to do. Go over your Allis Chalmers equipment today, and list the parts you will need next spring and summer. Give us this list—we will order the parts at once. Our order will be placed on file with the others—and if you cooperate with us—will be ahead of many. At least we hope so.

We think that this way we'll stand a better chance of getting the parts you will need next year. Will you help us?

Parts for Oliver equipment are beginning to filter through and we expect to be able to fill your orders. At the present, we have a nice stock of tractor tires, a few pump jacks and grease guns and other miscellaneous items needed by our customers. Come in today and look them over.

Pupils of Mrs. Erickson Present Two Recitals

On Tuesday evening of last week the music students of Mrs. Kermit R. Erickson presented their second annual recital at Comstock. The program consisted of a wide selection of instrumental and vocal selections. On Wednesday evening another group presented a similar program at Arcadia, the seventh annual recital to be held at Arcadia.

Mrs. Erickson has a large number of pupils in the two groups, many of whom have outstanding talent. Some of the pupils participated in both programs.

In Comstock the recital was presented in the Comstock Community church and in Arcadia it was given in the Arcadia Congregational church. Both churches were decorated with beautiful flowers and a large appreciative audience was present for both recitals.

Sunday, September 1, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit R. Erickson of Arcadia will leave by train from Omaha for Montreal, Canada, where they will take a boat to Murray Bay, Canada. There they will attend a convention of the New York Life Insurance Company's "Top Club". This group will be made up of the top 200 producing agents, in paid volume, in the U. S. and Canada. There are 6,000 agents employed by the Company. This Top Club convention will be held at the Manoir Richelieu Hotel, Murray Bay, Canada, and will be in session September 4 through 8. Mr. and Mrs. Erickson plan to spend Monday, September 2 in Chicago enroute to Canada.

Mrs. K. R. Erickson entertained with a party Saturday afternoon for 10 friends of Kermit Roland "Sonny" Erickson's. This was in honor of Sonny's seventh birthday. The afternoon was spent in playing games after which a lunch of ice cream and cake was served.

Christian Science Services

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 8, 1946.

The Golden Text is: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright" (Ecclesiastes 7:29). Other Bible citations include, "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Rom. 8:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "In Science man is the offspring of Spirit. The beautiful, good, and pure constitute his ancestry. . . Spirit is his primitive and ultimate source of being; God is his father, and Life is the law of his being" (p. 63).

Arcadia Methodist Church
C. A. Busby, Pastor
Church Bible school, 10 o'clock a.m.

No preaching services next Sunday, September 8, on account of the Pastor will be away attending the Annual Conference in Lincoln. If contact become necessary, this can be done through the St. Paul Methodist church in Lincoln.

Prayer and Bible study, Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock.

Choir rehearsal, Thursday evening, 7:30 o'clock.

Special notice to all members of the Methodist Youth's Fellowship group of the Arcadia church. Since our vacation period has expired, let each of us plan to be present at a special meeting to be held Sunday evening, September 15, 7 o'clock. We would like to call each member's attention to the fact that there has been several young people, who entered high school this year. These we must go after, that they may join in with us in this so important work of the youth in the church. Let's not miss any one.

190 Enroll At Arcadia

The Arcadia public schools opened Monday with an enrollment of 190. The enrollment is equally divided between the grades and the high school. The kindergarten is the largest group in the grades with an enrollment of fifteen while the freshman class is the largest in high school with an enrollment of thirty-one.

The faculty of the school is complete with the following members: Virgil V. ## Separator Blows Up

Injuring Two Men

Two Loup county young men were injured Aug. 24 when a hand power cream separator they were operating blew up and disc and other parts of the machine flew in all directions, with both youths sustaining lacerations on the hands, arms and hips. The accident occurred in the Orval Kraus home in Madison Square community.

Mr. Kraus', overseas buddy, Chester Alder, was visiting him at the time and assisting him with the chores. The separator exploded after the machine reached the required speed and the milk had been turned on. Mr. Kraus required the services of a surgeon to tie an artery in his wrist, which was severed. Both men have been seeing the doctor daily to have their injuries dressed.

Mr. Farmer! Bring us your eggs for highest market price.

—Tom Tolen left Ord Thursday to enlist in the navy. He reported to Omaha and expected to be sent to San Diego.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Webster, of St. Paul, were here Thursday visiting Mr. Webster's sister, Mrs. Ed Gnaster and family, and attending the fair.

Card of Thanks—

To the members of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society and the committee in charge of putting on the horse show at the fair: I was fortunate in winning the saddle mare Thursday and want all of you to know that your kindness is appreciated, that we are proud of this fine mare and are duly grateful to everybody concerned.

Herman Stowell and family.

PLEASE NOTE!

My office will be closed until September 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Noll Have Had 65 Happy Years of Wedded Life

Ord Couple, Who Pioneered in Midvale Locality, Now Live With Daughter.

August 28 was the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Noll, who have lived more than the span of their married life in Valley county. Owing to Mr. Noll's health no celebration was held. The Nolls make their home with their elder daughter, Mrs. Dessie Needham, who lives in west Ord. Mr. Noll has been bedfast since a year ago last February. Mrs. Noll is in good health in spite of her advanced years.

He will be ninety next May 8 and she will be eighty-four October 24. The Nolls have six children, Prof. W. C. Noll, who has taught at York college for many years, Mrs. Dessie Needham of Ord, Mrs. Gertrude Trout of Culbertson, and Walter, Robert and Clayton Noll all of Ord. They have eleven grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. There has never been a death in the Noll family during their sixty-five years of wedded life.

Married in Ord

Mr. and Mrs. Noll were married in the Methodist church in Ord by a Seventh Day Baptist minister. It is believed that the pastor of the Methodists in Ord at that time was not an ordained minister and was not authorized to perform marriage ceremonies. Ord was then a sun-baked frontier village and much different from the beautiful little city it is today.

Mr. Noll was born in Pennsylvania and came to Valley county as a young man. He was the only one of his family to go west. The Midvale school house stands on his original homestead. Mrs. Noll, who was Carrie L. Marks, was born in Germany. The late Henry Marks, well known Valley county farmer and stockman, was her nephew.

When Mrs. Noll's people came to America, Madison, Wis., was their first home. Later they came to Valley county and homesteaded the north quarter of the same section of Mr. Noll's homestead.

Married Young

It was the natural course of events that the young industrious bachelor farmer should woo, win and wed the comely neighbor girl, who became this thrifty housewife before she celebrated her nineteenth birthday anniversary.

The story of the Nolls is the same as that of other Nebraska pioneers. It was no easy job to establish a home and rear a family on the raw prairie. They suffered the hardships and privations of the early settlers and played a permanent part in building up Valley county.

The first Noll home was a sod house where all the children except the two youngest sons were born. There are no buildings now where their first home was established. Later the Nolls acquired the homestead of her parents and the buildings on their own homestead were moved to this farm which is nine miles south of Ord.

Helped Found Church. Mr. Noll took an active part in community affairs. He was a member of the school board and road overseer for many years. The Midvale United Brethren church was established and maintained for many years largely by the efforts of three pioneer families, the Nolls, the George Kellisons and the Charles Leonards.

In 1908 Mr. and Mrs. Noll left the farm and moved to Ord where he operated an ice house for three years and worked for Dan Huff in the Ford garage for three more years. After living six years in Ord they became homesick for the country and returned to their farm, where they lived until a few years ago.

Mr. Noll was an exceptionally strong and hard working man. For many years he and his son, Walter, operated a dairy on the Noll farm nine miles south of Ord. Old age and failing health forced them to leave the farm and they are now spending their twilight years in the home of their daughter. Their children and grandchildren are near at hand to see that they have everything possible to make them comfortable and happy.

This photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Noll and their six children was taken at their farm home in the Midvale neighborhood on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary. Those standing in the rear from left to right are Mrs. Gertrude Trout of Culbertson, Prof. W. C. Noll of York, Robert, Walter and Clayton Noll and Mrs. Dessie Needham all of Ord.

—Mrs. Robert Oliver of Waukegan, Ill., spent last week in Ord visiting her father, Dr. C. W. Weekes and Mrs. Weekes.

—Walt Douthit and the four friends who accompanied him on a trip to Oregon returned to Ord last Tuesday.

—Mrs. Mark Tolen and Dick returned last Sunday from an extended trip through the eastern states. They visited Chicago, Niagara Falls, New York City, Boston, Washington, D. C., and Williamsburg and Jamestown in Virginia. They spent two days in New York City where they visited Mrs. A. S. Koupal, a former Ord resident. In Washington they spent a week where Mrs. Tolen visited friends whom she met when she attended college.

—Miss Clara King, who has spent the summer in Ord with her father, W. S. King, left Thursday for East Chicago, Ind., where she teaches school. Miss King drove and was accompanied by her aunt, Miss Maggie King. Enroute they will stop to visit relatives at Central City, Nebr., and Waterloo, Ia. Miss Maggie King will leave her niece at Osceola, Ia. where Miss Maggie King will visit a nephew, Merritt King.

—Mr. and Mrs. Don Auble entertained a few guests at their home Friday. The guests present were the Misses Vidella Suchanek, Carolyn Auble, Carolyn Anderson, Arlene Timmerman, and Mr. Robert McBeth, Raymond Biemond, Bill Weddel and Max Carmody from Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hansen

On Friday evening, August 23, the Mira Valley Evangelical church was the scene of a beautiful wedding, when Miss Grace Rice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice, became the bride of Mr. Clarence Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen of Scotia. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Warren Studer before the altar decorated with huge baskets of garden flowers. Six candelabra and many altar candles added to the beauty of the scene. At 8 o'clock the church bell rang and Miss Viola Koelling began playing soft marimba selections accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Reuben Cook. Candle lighters entered wearing blue formal. They were Miss Eileen Jeanne Foth and Miss Gladys Rice, sister of the bride. Following the candle lighting, Reuben Cook sang, "Oh Sweet Mystery of Life" and "O Promise Me". A poem, "Why I Love You" was read by Mrs. Warren Studer. Ushers were Harold and Marvin Rice, brothers of the bride and LeRoy Hansen, brother of the groom. All wore dark suits with white carnation boutonnières. Bridesmaids Misses Lila Kirby and Ina Olsen entered dressed in floor length pale blue taffeta dresses carrying colonial bouquets with a rose at the heart of each. First bridesmaid was Miss Doris Mae Beranek. She wore a floor length pink celeneese formal with full gathered skirt and carried a gladioli at the heart of a colonial bouquet. The maid of honor, Miss Doris Rice, sister of the bride was attired in a full length pink celeneese dress with full skirt and sweetheart neckline. She carried pink and white gladioli. Gloria Dawn Burson, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burson, carried the rings on a white and pink heart shaped pillow. She wore a pink net over satin formal with a tiny train and a rose in her hair. Preceding the bride Gale Rice, small sister of the bride dressed in a floor length blue net formal scattered pink and white rose petals from a tiny basket. She also wore a rose in her hair. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white, brocaded, crepe dress which she had fashioned and sewed herself, styled with tight fitting bodice and sweetheart neckline edged with white silk embroidery lace and long sleeves also edged at the wrist with lace. The full skirt fell in a four tier, two yard train. She wore a finger tip veil with lace inserts falling from a beaded crown. Her ornaments were a strand of pearls and matching ear rings a gift of the groom. She carried pink carnations. The bridegroom wore a dark blue suit and was attended by his brother, Marius Hansen, also in blue. Both had white carnation boutonnières. The bride's mother chose a dress of medium blue with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and white dress with black accessories. Both wore gladioli corsages. Following the ceremony the bride and bridegroom knelt on a white pillow while the "Lord's Prayer" was sung by Reuben Cook. After receiving congratulations before an arch of pink and white Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, the wedding party and guests numbering 115 went to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held.

Tables decorated in pink and white with candle light awaited them. A large wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom served as the centerpiece. Ice cream and cake was served. Waiters and waitresses were Wilma Lange, Ida Mae Christoffersen, Mary Kirby, Donnie Coats, James Burns and Lyle Klingsmith. The bride served the wedding cake to all guests. Edwina Burson of Loup City had charge of the guest book. The gifts were in charge of Mrs. Harry Foth and Mrs. Will Foth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansen left immediately following the reception for a short wedding trip. For her going away costume the bride chose a dress of yellow silk with white accessories. Mrs. Hansen graduated from the Ord high school with the class of 1946. She will teach a Valley county rural school this coming year. Mr. Hansen was graduated from the Scotia high school and has served in the armed forces the past three and one-half years.

Guests from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodward and sons and Mrs. Robert Isom of Concord, Nebr., Mrs. Lena Moore of Ashflat, Ark., Mr. Wester Jones of Van Nuys, Calif., and Mrs. Marie Smith of Omaha. Also a large number of friends and relatives from Cotesfield, Scotia, Loup City and Burwell.

Navy Discharges More Than Three and Half Million Demobilization Ends Sept. 1; Medical Corpsmen May Be Retained. Secretary of the Navy, James Forrestal has announced that since V-J Day the navy has demobilized from the commissioned and enlisted personnel of the navy and marine corps, 3,324,620 persons. He further stated that during the month of August an additional 231,250 will be released from the service. This represents an aggregate of more than three and one-half million people demobilized from the navy and marine corps from August 14, 1945, to September 1, 1946.

With two minor exceptions the navy's demobilization program has gone entirely in accordance with the schedule. Recently it was announced that medical corps officers who received all or part of their medical education at government expense are required to serve 24 months on active duty as commissioned officers. The active duty requirements for reserve dental corps officers is to be reduced from 36 to 30 months on September 1. This action in retaining medical corps and dental corps officers beyond September 1 was necessitated by a critical shortage in both branches.

In addition to the medical and dental corps officers, Secretary Forrestal today announced that all male hospital corpsmen with less than 18 months active duty service will be retained beyond September 1 because of the large number of war casualties remaining in naval hospitals. Services of naval reserve and inductee hospital corpsmen are urgently needed to provide care for more than 32,000 sick and wounded patients in naval hospitals. The war casualties include amputees, paralytics, blind, deaf, tubercular and other patients requiring special attention and rehabilitation which the navy has made every effort to provide.

If all reserve hospital corpsmen were to be demobilized by September 1, the release of this trained personnel would create a most critical situation and result in the failure to provide for these patients the expert care to which they are so richly entitled. While it is realized that hardships may ensue in individual cases, the navy believes that the over-all humanitarian needs of the sick and wounded far outweigh all other considerations. The approximately 3,000 hospital corpsmen to be retained beyond September 1 will be released from their duty stations in sufficient time to reach separation activities for discharge at the expiration of 18 months of active duty. The reduction in the number of hospitalized veterans will permit all reserve corpsmen to be released by March 1, 1947. Approximately 500 will be released on October 1 and 500 on the first of each month thereafter.

Lenz' Take Trip To Pacific Coast

4600 Miles Traveled; Many Former Valley County Residents Visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lenz and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lenz returned recently from an enjoyable trip to Oregon, where they visited friends and relatives. Their first stop was at the Black Hills where they stayed a day to take in some of the points of interest including Sylvan lake, the carved faces of Washington, Jefferson, Teddy Roosevelt and Lincoln at Mount Rushmore. They saw several herds of buffalo, one of which numbered over 100 head, and enjoyed the scenic Needles drive where curious formations of rock stand like huge spires and steeples high above the road.

Their next stop was Yellowstone National park where they visited such places of interest as the Yellowstone lake, which has a shore line of 100 miles and a maximum depth of 300 feet, the Upper and Lower Falls of the Yellowstone river, the mud geysers which they watched erupt twice. A few tame bears were seen on the highway, one of which stood on his hind legs by the car begging for food.

Traveling north from Yellowstone park they drove through northern Idaho via Butte, Anacosta and Missoula to Spokane, Wash. This highway passes through range country, irrigated valleys, past several large dams and lakes, through extensive coal and copper mining areas, and several national forests.

Between Spokane and Pasco they saw the largest wheat fields of the entire trip. Driving on west they soon came to Columbia River highway which they followed into Portland. There they visited Irma Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, he being a brother of L. R. Campbell of Ord. They also saw the Rev. F. A. Lenz and his wife of Tieton, Wash., who were attending a church convention in Portland.

At Salem, Ore., they stopped to visit Mr. and Mrs. Will Pahl and their son, Warren and family. Mrs. Pahl is a sister to Mr. Lenz. Sr. At Springfield, Ore., they visited Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cook, who formerly lived at Ord. They all like Oregon very much.

Andy has been very busy at carpentering although lumber is almost as hard to get as it is here. Ray drives a milk truck for a large creamery in Eugene, Ore. The Cooks live in a district where lumbering is the chief industry and logging trucks pass their homes all times of the day and night. Ray took them for a tour of a saw mill where he was formerly employed. Huge logs are swiftly and easily handled by huge band saws, some having 25 ft. blades. The lumber is sorted and dried and loaded on railroad cars. Flooring and siding are also made here. At Salem they were taken through the Keith Brown factory by Mr. Pahl, who is employed there. This factory makes doors, windows and furniture.

Another day was spent at Newport Beach. It is very rocky and rugged at most places and the water is cold even at this time of year. Returning to Portland, they started home on highway 30, stopping at Multnomah Falls and at Bonneville dam which has 18 gates each weighing 285 tons. They can be lifted out by giant cranes on the top of the dam for repair work. They saw two of the three fish ladders by means of which the salmon and steelheads travel up stream and are counted.

Here also is the power house where ten huge generators are driven by five bladed, governor controlled turbines, one blade of which weighs 22,000 lbs. By the power house are the navigation locks permitting ships to go up the Columbia river for a distance of fifty miles more. About twelve ships a day go through these locks. Staying on highway 30 they returned through Boise, Pocatello and Cheyenne. At Kimball, Chap- pel and Sydney they saw thousands of bushels of wheat piled on the ground. 4600 miles were covered in all through seven states without any car or tire trouble.

After Al Harris left his cashier's cage at the State Harris- theatre, Chicago, two men approached. "I ain't kidding," said one as he pressed a sharp instrument against Harris' back. The cashier handed over a coin bag containing $25. Later Mr. Harris found a two-inch slit in his coat.

Record Crowd Comes To See Playoff Game

The largest attended baseball game in Ord's history and one of the largest attended games in this part of the state took place on the Ord diamond Sunday where Mason City won a 7 to 2 victory over St. Paul and became the undisputed champions of the Loup Valley league.

Ord was host to the two teams and their many enthusiastic supporters as well as many people from other towns who came to see a very good ball game and did not go home disappointed. One thousand three hundred and sixty-three people paid admission to the game and all persons under fourteen were admitted free.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Polak and daughter, Anne Ellen of Portland, Ore., returned to Ord Monday evening. —Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geneski and Mrs. Anna Polak drove to Grand Island to meet them.

—Mr. and Mrs. Polak will reside with his mother on their farm northwest of Ord.

Breaks Leg in Auto Accident

Dudley Hurlbert suffered a broken leg and other injuries in an automobile accident which occurred early Friday morning. He was brought to the Ord hospital about 4 o'clock where the fracture was reduced. Dr. C. J. Miller attended him.

Adamek-Ronzo
Miss Rosalie Adamek, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adamek of Ericson, became the bride of Virgil Ronzo, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ronzo of Burwell at a wedding August 20 in Burwell. The couple was married by Judge Rose. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ronzo are living with her parents, while Mr. Ronzo works with a construction company at Ericson.

Florence Anderson Married
Relatives in Ord have learned of the marriage of Miss Florence Anderson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson of Ord. Miss Anderson was married Aug. 17 to H. G. Rickard. They are making their home in Los Angeles. Miss Anderson went to Los Angeles last May shortly after her return from Europe where she spent two years as a civilian employee in the office of war information in Paris and Berlin.

Anniversaries Celebrated
To celebrate the tenth wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Vasicek and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Turek a picnic was held at Ord park Sunday. ### CARD OF THANKS

I wish in this manner to thank my relatives, neighbors and friends for the letters, cards and gifts which were sent me while I was in the Clinic hospital. I also want to thank the blood donors and all of the people who offered to give their blood for my recovery. I also want to express my appreciation to Drs. Weekes and Cram and the nurses of the Clinic hospital for the excellent care I received. My wife and son also wish to express their gratitude.

Harvey Barr.

Seed Wheat and Rye

We have arranged for some Certified Wheat and Certified Rosen Rye Seed & we will have them in just as soon as the State Seed Tests are finished. We believe that it pays the grower to plant the very best seed obtainable and we believe that Pawnee Wheat & Rosen Rye are very well adapted for this section of the State. Prices on this seed are not unreasonable and if you have not placed your order as yet let us have it now. The price on the Certified Pawnee Wheat is $2.85 per bu., and Certified Rosen Rye is $2.75 per bu. As the supplies are not too plentiful you should place your order now.

Hybrid Corn

We are booking Hybrid Seed Corn for Spring delivery now. The price on large and Medium Flats on Cornhusker Hybrids is $9.50 per bu., which is really a much less price raise than we expected. A deposit of $1.00 with your order now assures you of the seed that you want to plant next Spring. Look up the Official test of the Hybrids in Valley County last year and then be sure to rush your order for 148. You will also find that 380, 81, 83 and 85 are adapted for this section of Nebraska.

Alfalfa Seed and Sweet Clover

We are buying a nice lot of Alfalfa and Sweet Clover seed and are paying all the OPA Regulations will allow on these seeds. If you have Alfalfa or Sweet Clover to sell see us, or you may bring it in and we will reclean it and pay the full price allowed by OPA. Anyone needing a large amount of Alfalfa or Sweet Clover seed for Spring planting can get an attractive price by buying it this fall as soon as we have the seed ready to go.

Grains

We are in the market for your Oats, Barley, Wheat and Corn and will pay you a very good price for it. Our grades are correct and you are not penalized too much if you do not have No. 1 grade grains.

Trucks

We have two trucks available for hauling grain all the time. If they are not hauling for us, they are available for outside hauling so if you need a truck for grain and we can help out, just let us know.

It pays to buy from Noll.

Installation Work Complete, Machine Ready for Testing

Erector King and Crew of 4 Men Busy Two Weeks in New Quiz Addition.

To bring its plant to peak efficiency and enable publication of the kind of a newspaper Ord and Valley county are entitled, the Ord Quiz has for two weeks been busy installing a large new printing press, first of its kind to be erected in the Loup Valley region. The new press, known as a Duplex Model E high speed flat bed web perfecting press, will print the Quiz automatically from roll paper, delivering 6,000 completed copies per hour.

It was built by the Duplex Printing Press company of Battle Creek, Mich., largest exclusive press manufacturers in the world, and is being installed by John B. King, of Peoria, Ill., with the assistance of a crew of four local men.

The press weighs 15 tons and was brought to Ord in a large Roman van for erection on a concrete foundation built by John Mason in the new Quiz addition at the east side of the Quiz building. A pit large enough for the pressman to make adjustments and do maintenance work on the intricate mechanism, was also constructed.

The roll of paper that feeds the press is four pages wide and weighs over 1,000 pounds. Almost 8,000 eight page copies of the Quiz can be printed from one roll of paper. The paper is led from the roll the entire length of the press and back again to the folder which is directly over the paper roll. The folder will deliver 100 folded copies per minute.

For over 40 years the Quiz has been printed on a Whitlock hand fed cylinder press, four pages at a time, at a speed of about 1,500 copies per hour. Thus, when 12 pages were printed as is usually the case, the 4,000 press run has required 8 to 9 hours of press feeding. Moreover, the Quiz then had to be separately folded an operation which kept two men busy feeding the folder for about three hours. With the new Duplex press a 12-page edition can be printed and folded in about 1 1/2 hours by one man, leaving other Quiz employees free for other duties.

The new press will be operated by Dick Stanley, who is receiving instruction from Mr. King, the factory-trained expert who is installing the press. Mr. Stanley has operated similar presses on former jobs.

It is hoped to start publication on the new press next week but this may have to be deferred until the following week. The Quiz then will be a larger page size newspaper—8 columns of type to the page as compared to the present 7, with each column two inches longer than present columns. It is planned to continue running a 12-page newspaper most weeks. A number of new departments will be added and pre-war news features restored as rapidly as possible, once a testing period with the new press is ended.

The public will be invited to inspect the Duplex press in operation as soon as Quiz employees are thoroughly familiar with details of its operation.

John H. Reuber Buried at Aurora

Funeral services were held in the Chapman and Higby mortuary in Aurora Friday afternoon for John Henry Reuber, who died in the home of his cousin, John H. Dobberstein, Sept. 3 from a heart attack. Interment was in the Aurora cemetery.

Mr. Reuber had made his home with the Dobbersteins for about a year. He operated a barber shop in Lincoln for more than fifty years. He was born near Henderson, Nebr., May 10, 1875. On April 14, 1902 he married Mabel Palen, who died the following year. He leaves a son, Vernon A. Reuber of Chicago, who arrived too late for the funeral, a sister, Mrs. Karl Kath of Scottsbluff, two brothers, Henry of Grand Island and Carl of Anacosta, Mont., and two cousins, John and Gus Dobberstein of Ord.

"I'll Handle This May Way," Sez He. "The Want Ads Are The Way For Me!"

You can stop that argument right now! The Want Ads in the Quiz are the "way" for hundreds of Valley county residents who have something to sell or trade or want to buy or find something. They're the way, because they're so inexpensive, so quick and so effective. Next time you want to communicate with a lot of people at once, use Quiz want ads.

New Quiz Press Weighs 15 Tons, Will Be In Operation Soon

Pictured is the new Duplex automatic web perfecting press now being installed by The Ord Quiz, which will go into operation within a week or two and which will print copies of the Quiz at a speed of 6,000 per hour, four times the speed of the Whitlock cylinder press used in the past. An automatic folder delivers the papers folded as they are printed at a speed of 100 per minute.

Ord High School Students Elect Class Officers

Joyce Achen Is Only Girl Chosen On Council With Fifteen Boys.

Paul Laursen has been elected president of the senior class of the Ord high school. Other officers selected by the seniors are Bryan Petersen, vice-president, Shirley Anderson, secretary, Verda Munn, treasurer and Cathryn Finley, class reporter.

The juniors elected Lores Stewart, president, Al Blessing vice-president, Duane Ivanski secretary, Robert Dye treasurer and Alice Finley class reporter.

Dick Tolen heads the sophomores. Richard Nelson was chosen vice-president, Harold Hubbard secretary, Dan Huff treasurer and Dick Maloleyszy class reporter.

The seventh graders chose Karen Burrows president, Larry Loft vice-president, Charlene Blessing secretary, Marianne Gnaster treasurer and Marian Severns class reporter.

The seniors elected James Faifeita, Ray Timmerman, Martin Fiskorski, Frank Raemakers, and Joyce Achen members of the student council. Those selected by the junior class are Jay Stoddard, Bill Anderson, Merritt Jenison and James Kucera.

The sophomore members of the council will be Charles Munn, Dan Huff and Thad Meese. Freshmen on the council are Kenneth Clement and James Misko. Donald Sorensen will represent the eighth grade on the council and Ivan Stones will represent the seventh graders.

In all there are sixteen members on the student council all of whom are boys except Joyce Achen, who is one of the senior representatives.

Rev. McConnell Returned to Ord

The Rev. Carl F. McConnell, and Mrs. McConnell returned Monday from Lincoln, where they had been attending the annual conference of Methodist churches in Nebraska.

Rev. McConnell was reappointed to serve the Ord Methodist church. Mrs. McConnell was appointed as supply pastor to serve Ericson and Bartlett.

Minister Drives a Long Way to School

The Rev. J. W. Hartsaw will drive about 125 miles to attend school this year. He has attended at York college where he will study, but he will also serve the United Brethren church in Ord.

Mrs. Hartsaw who has had several years experience as a commercial artist, will teach art at York college. Mr. Hartsaw intended to resign his pastorate when college started this fall but his congregation decided otherwise. Members protested when they heard of his intentions.

The minister's wife had already agreed to serve on the York college faculty and so to satisfy every one the Hartsaws will fill both jobs. He will preach and attend college while she will teach. They plan to spend their weekends in Ord and have arranged their college work to make this possible.

Council Orders 3 Transformers

Plans Made for Supplying Current to REA Lines And Alfalfa Mill.

In preparation for serving the REA lines the city council members voted to accept the bid of the General Electric Co. of $1,307.00 each for three new transformers, at its meeting Friday night. The transformers will be delivered in about a year.

The councilmen also decided to buy two used transformers for the purpose of furnishing current to the O.N.L. alfalfa mill, which it will start supplying Oct. 1.

George Allen, the city engineer, reported that the construction of the addition to the city light plant was being held up because the steel beams for the ceiling had not arrived.

Dr. F. L. Blessing, who heads the street, alley and airport committee of the council, announced that the runways at Ord's new airport had been fertilized and seeded and that the quonset hangar was complete except for the ends. The ends, which came with the hangar were not found practical for local use and they were exchanged for 20 feet of additional hangar.

The council intends to obtain other material to close the ends of the building. Dr. Blessing was given granted authority to buy a 10 by 14 foot building in Ord and have it moved to the airport, where it will be used as an administration building.

Lack of Nurses Closes Hospital

Because it was unable to get enough competent help the Community hospital at Burwell closed Monday after operating about six months. During most of the time the hospital was nearly filled with patients but the board, which manages the hospital, found it exceedingly difficult to secure the services of registered nurses or others who could do the work satisfactorily.

Miss Luella Naab has been a member of the staff since the hospital opened. She is the only staff member who has remained through out the short career of the institutions, and she worked long hours to do the necessary work.

District Legion Meeting Will Be At Ord Oct. 22

Convention To Bring About 250 Here; Kearney Drum Corps Coming.

The district convention of the American Legion and the Women's Auxiliary will be held in Ord Oct. 22. It is estimated that at least 250 people will come to Ord to attend the affair.

R. H. Peard of Hampton, the district commander, was at the meeting of the Fidelity post Tuesday night to help make arrangements for the meeting. The Ord theater has been engaged as the meeting place. A banquet will be served in the evening and a dance in the Bohemian hall will close the festivities.

Harry Collins and his orchestra have been engaged to play for the dance. E. R. Apking heads the committee in charge of the dance. Others on the committee are William Goff, Ed Swopes and Frank Fafaita.

A committee composed of Clark Weckbach, Henry Benda, Glenn Johnson and Butch Kruml will be in charge of the dugout where the delegates will be entertained when there are no business sessions. A drum corps will come from Kearney to furnish entertainment and a parade with other bands participating is being considered.

The members of the post enjoyed hearing Paul Laursen tell of his experiences at Boys' State, which he attended this summer in Lincoln. The matter of acquiring a better meeting place and club room was discussed. After the meeting adjourned the Auxiliary members served the legionaires sandwiches and coffee.

Agent Shows That Insurance Pays As His Own Car Burns

Duane Armstrong, who sells insurance himself, found out last Wednesday by his own experience that it sometimes pays to have insurance. Mr. Armstrong was calling on a farmer about six miles northwest of Arcadia for the purpose of selling him some insurance. He walked out in the field some distance from where he parked his car to talk to the farmer and did not notice anything amiss until the farmer saw that Armstrong's car was in flames.

The fire is believed to have started from a short in the wiring. The automobile, a '36 Chrysler, was damaged beyond repair. The tires were not damaged. Yes, the car was insured. And now Mr. Armstrong hopes some big hearted automobile dealer will be kind enough to sell him a new car.

Cannery at Burwell Begins Operations

The cannery at Burwell commenced operations Monday canning tomatoes, which will be the only crop handled at Burwell this year. The tomatoes growers hope it will be a long time before frost. The fruit has only lately ripened in sufficient quantity to make operation of the cannery profitable.

Frank Manasil, the manager, reports that the rain and cloudy weather last week discouraged the tomatoes from ripening.

Christian Church Minister Accepts Minden Charge

Mr. and Mrs. K. Edgar Harris, who are planning to leave Ord next week, were guests of honor at a fellowship dinner in the Christian church Sunday. This coming Sunday they will be honored at a similar dinner in the Burwell Christian church.

Mr. Harris, who has served both churches as pastor for fifteen months, has resigned to accept a call to the Christian church in Minden. Mr. and Mrs. Harris have made many friends in the course of their work who regret their decision to leave Ord.

Oscar Groves, who comes from Lexington, will preach in the Christian church tonight (Wednesday).

Week End Rains Soak Up County

At Ord 2.47 Inches Fall; Ground in Fine Shape For Fall Seeding.

Valley county like most of Nebraska received a fine soaking rain last weekend. In Ord, where likely the heaviest rain fell, 2.47 inches was recorded by Horace Travis. North Loup reports 1.15 inches. While the rain was spotted at least every place in the county received an inch of badly needed moisture.

Ord got 1.78 inches of moisture Friday afternoon and Saturday night. The rain Friday afternoon extended only a few miles south and North Loup and Burwell received only a few drops.

The rain has left the soil in excellent condition for sowing small grain and large acreages of winter wheat and rye are expected to be planted throughout the county. The price and yield of wheat received this year will encourage many farmers to increase their acreages.

The corn crop on land which is not irrigated is very disappointing. Much of it will not be worth picking. With the exception of the northeast part of the county a few dry land fields will average 20 bushels per acre.

The rains received last week end were fine for the grass seeding which is being done in soil conservation projects. The runways at Ord's new airport were fertilized and seeded just before the rains fell which should insure an excellent stand of grass. Ord's fliers are greatly discommoded by the seeding of the runways as they must keep their planes off of them until the grass gets a start. The runways were so wet over the weekend that the fliers could not have used them any way, however.

The rain was hard on the attendance and program at the Howard County fair at St. Paul Friday night. Heavy clouds discouraged many who would have otherwise attended, and rain interfered with a very fine fireworks display which was the feature of Friday night's program.

Coach Cochrane's Chanticleers, who are most anxious to get in all the practice they can for their opening game with Holdrege Sept. 20, were cheated out of two nights of scrimmage by the rain which made the field too muddy for practice.

Two Boys Fined for Firecracker Scrape

Joe Rysavy, 18 and Edward Fiskorski, 18, were each fined $5.00 and costs of $6.70 in municipal court Friday afternoon, after city magistrate John B. Haskell found them guilty of shooting firecrackers within the city limits and disturbing the peace. Charges against Donald Wozniak, 15, were dismissed by Haskell for lack of evidence.

The trio were arrested Thursday night following an afternoon and evening of noise over town aroused apparently by freshmen initiation activities at the Ord high school.

Mayor M. B. Cummins, who attended the court hearing, stated that the city administration had decided to start "cracking down in earnest on violations of city ordinances."

North Loup Ready For Large Crowd At Pop Corn Days

Huge Poppers Busy Turning Out Treats for Guests; Many Fine Exhibits.

North Loup's 45th annual Pop Corn Days celebration was off to a good start Wednesday morning with the Thomas Amusement carnival on the street, with rides and bingo stand and several other concessions. This is the eleventh year Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have been in North Loup and they have established a reputation for a good clean carnival which makes them welcome. For the first time since the war they have a merry-go-round which is proving the chief attraction for the little folks, many of whom have never ridden on one.

With new paving, sidewalks, Schudlers' building and the other business houses newly painted and repaired, all windows decorated with the pop corn colors, yellow and green, everything points to the best celebration in years.

High lights of Wednesday's celebration are the juvenile parade which comes at 2 o'clock and the crowning of the Pop Corn queen in the evening. The large pop corn poppers were busy Tuesday evening and well into the night popping and sacking the delicious morsels for the large crowd anticipated.

The women's exhibits in the community building is the best in years. A large display of canned goods, flowers, rugs, quilts, and fancy work were put up Tuesday afternoon. In the back of Schudlers' new building, a splendid school exhibit and an agriculture exhibit were put up. Floyd Wetzel has charge of the agriculture exhibit, and Mrs. Glen Johnson of the women's exhibit. In the library room, a 4H exhibit is on display.

Oct. 5 is Deadline for Enlistment With G. I. Bill Benefits

October 5, 1946 is the last day on which applicants may enlist in the regular army and be assured of receiving full benefits under amended servicemen's readjustment Act of 1944 (GI Bill of Rights) for the entire enlistment regardless of date of termination of the war.

By enlisting before Oct. 5, applicants are assured of the following benefits:

1. The man who serves an 18 month enlistment gets 12 plus 18 or a total of 30 months schooling.
2. The man who serves a 2 year enlistment is entitled to 12 plus 24 or a total of 36 months schooling.
3. The man who serves 3 years earns the maximum of 12 plus 36 or a total of 48 school months of any type of schooling he desires.
4. The government will pay up to $500 each school year for books, tuition, laboratory and any special fees.
5. Any type of training may be followed. For example, music, art and writing may be studied under the G. I. Bill of Rights. In addition to the educational benefits, veterans are entitled to the GI loan, readjustment and unemployment benefits under the GI Bill.

Freddie Schoenstein Still Ill, Is Home

Freddie Schoenstein, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schoenstein, was brought home last Wednesday from the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island. The little boy in whom every one in Ord and vicinity has developed an interest continues to remain in a critical condition.

He can no longer move any part of his body and is too weak to talk but recognizes friends. Even though many friends and neighbors have been eager to assist in the care of Freddie, his mother prefers to perform this duty herself.

Hunters May Be Invited Here To Shoot Pheasants

Chamber of Commerce Asks Farmers Who Want Birds Killed To Register.

The Ord Chamber of Commerce plans for the entertainment of pheasant hunters from cities and areas where the long tailed birds are less plentiful than they are in Valley county. The purpose of the organization is two fold. The members hope to help the farmers, whose crops the birds allegedly damage, and to make a favorable impression for the North Loup valley with many visitors far and near.

The idea of inviting many visitors to the Ord territory for the purpose of hunting pheasants will be abandoned if the farmers do not show enthusiasm for the plan. To determine the sentiment of the farmers, John Andersen, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, has prepared sheets of paper which farmers, who would welcome pheasant hunters on to their land, are asked to sign.

The lists have been left with the proprietors of Ord's four hardware stores. Farmers are asked to sign these papers when they are in one of the hardware stores, if they have no objection to pheasant hunters. Farmers may also call at Judge Andersen's office to sign such a list. Any business man or other party interested in helping the plan along may obtain such a list from Judge Andersen.

There is one terrific handicap in the way of any man who wants to hunt pheasants this fall. With the countryside teeming with the birds, the hardware stores in Ord do not have a single shot gun shell in stock, nor have they had any for months. Some have hopes of getting shells by the time the season opens. All have ordered scads of shells and have back ordered them. Some of them have been promised shells but they have learned by experience not to put too much faith in promises when it comes to getting scarce merchandise. If any shells are available at best they will be scarce and the hunter getting a box or two will, indeed, be fortunate.

The hunters invited here will be told to bring along their shells. As several Ord business men have pointed out, an invitation to come to Valley county for hunting will be appreciated by many residents of Grand Island, Hastings, Omaha, Lincoln and many other cities and towns. Not all city dwellers are wealthy and able to afford membership in a gun club or some other organization which provides them with hunting privileges. They all do not own farms in the country or have relatives or friends on farms whom they can visit.

Farmers in Valley county have an opportunity to supply many men and boys with means of wholesome recreation if they choose to do so and the Chamber of Commerce is offering its services in making Valley county's facilities available to people who need them.

Don Kokes Pitches for Lefty Groves' Washington Team

Don Kokes, a former Ord boy, is the pitcher of the Washington All Stars, a junior baseball team managed by Lefty Groves, former American sliteout king. The team plays in Griffith stadium in Washington, D. C., which is the home field of the Washington Senators.

The team for which Don pitches has won eight games in a row. Don, who is now sixteen years old, is the son of the late Will Kokes. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kokes and a nephew of Emil Kokes. His mother now operates a boarding house quite near to the White House and her clientele is largely newspaper reporters.

Don is now six feet tall. As a youngster his mother could never keep him at home if there was a ball game in progress. Even though he was a green country boy he could find his way to the Griffith stadium which is away on the other side of the city from his home.

The sport pages of the Washington papers carried a picture of Don in action prior to the game with the team from Alexandria, Va. J. Edgar Hoover is chairman of the committee which sponsors the team for which Don pitches.

Geranium Church To Have Festival

The fall festival of St. Wenceslaus church will be held Sunday, Sept. 15, in the National hall in Geranium township. The public is invited to participate in the affair which will feature music, entertainment and refreshments. The festival will commence at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Beginning at 4:30 supper will be served and a dance and raffle will be held afterwards.

North Loup Loyalist

MRS. ETHEL HAMER, News and Business Representative.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oliver and Greta and Cecil Oliver of Escondido were supper guests Thursday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman. Carl and Cecil Oliver's birthday was celebrated.

Fred and Otto Bartz spent Thursday and Friday at Lincoln attending the state fair.

Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Ehret and Mr. and Mrs. George Maxson spent Friday in Lincoln. Rev. and Mrs. Ehret attended the Methodist Conference and Mr. and Mrs. Maxson the state fair.

Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock and Mrs. Bird Whitford arrived home on the Thursday evening bus from Milton, Wis., where they had attended the Seventh Day Baptist conference. Mrs. Babcock had spent a few days in Omaha with her daughter, Katharine and in Lincoln with her son, Edwin and his family.

Mr. Bissell was able to get the new glass for Schudels window which his truck ran into and broke last week, and replaced it Wednesday evening just before leaving town. The new pavement and walk which Bissell and Son have just completed are a fine improvement for the town.

Miss Lola Fuller has been quite sick with gall stone trouble the past week. Mrs. Anna Watts of Grand Island spent most of last week in North Loup. She came up on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Roxy Jeffries and returned to Grand Island Friday. Wednesday night and Thursday she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller.

Mrs. Mills Hill gave a party Thursday evening to celebrate her husband's birthday. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dale Halverson of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Vodehnal, Mr. and Mrs. George Zikmund, Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kerchall, all of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Halverson went to Lincoln Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning took the train to return to Chicago.

Mary Ann King who was in the hospital in Ord last week with an infected lung is better and Thursday was able to go home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchins arrived Sunday morning from Kansas City and will spend most of the week with Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins. Their son, Teddy, is in the U. S. marines and is at present in Japan. Sunday was Mrs. G. L. Hutchins birthday and it was celebrated with a birthday dinner.

Hugh Clement and Grant went to Des Moines Wednesday and Hugh returned Friday morning. Grant will make a longer visit with the Garis Clement and Ronald Marks families.

Nettie and Marilyn Clark drove up from Lincoln Wednesday. Marilyn had been attending the state fair a few days. Nettie returned Sunday afternoon.

Marcia Rood came from her school work at Clarks on the Friday evening bus. She returned Sunday afternoon with Mary T. Davis who came from Clay Center for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Babcock were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Babcock.

The Arthur Taylor family came from their home in Larabee, Ia., Thursday to spend the week with the Lloyd Van Horn family and with Mrs. Lena Taylor and Esther. In the afternoon Arthur went to Grand Island to meet Mrs. Lena Taylor, who was returning from Corvallis, Ore., where she has been for the past three months with the Russell Johnson family. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor came up from Omaha and stayed over Sunday.

Cecil Oliver of Escondido, Calif., was guest of honor at a family gathering at the Carl Oliver home. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tolen, Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn Tolen, Frank Seigel and Mr. and Mrs. Irl Tolen of Broken Bow.

The American Legion of North Loup are selling numbers on a new Studebaker Champion which will be given away to the one holding the lucky number on October 17, when the Legion will hold a dance. The car is on display in Schudel's building. Friday night a truck took the car to St. Paul and a number of girls went along and sold numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Earnest and son, Lyle, of Lamesa, Calif., arrived Friday and will visit relatives here until after Pop Corn Days. They are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummins. Sunday they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cummins in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard DeNoyer went to Bellville, Kan., Thursday after peaches. They returned Friday.

Mrs. Wayne Hesselgesser and four daughters between the ages of twelve and two narrowly escaped drowning in the irrigation canal near the Joe Sonnefeld farm Thursday night. They had been to Burwell and were driving home to Grand Island after attending a family reunion in Burwell. Mrs. Hesselgesser fell asleep and ran off the highway into the irrigation canal where the water was quite deep. The car fortunately did not turn over and Mrs. Hesselgesser was able to get the children on top of the car and the girl went to the Sonnefeld place for help. They were brought to the John Ward home and later I. L. Sheldon took them to their home. George Eberhart pulled the car out of the ditch the next morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Portis, Gene and Raymond Paul, came from Lincoln early Sunday morning to spend the week. Their oldest son, Johnny, has been with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klinger the past six weeks and will go home with them.

Miss Ethel Jeffries returned the first of last week to her school work in a suburb of Los Angeles. She left by plane from Grand Island.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Mayo are planning a family reunion this week and some members of the family have already arrived. Mrs. Susan Preston came from York on the Saturday night bus and Miss Pauline Mayo arrived Sunday from Seattle. Mrs. Preston and Miss Mayo with their brother, Lark Mayo, who has been here for some time are at the home of their sister, Mrs. A. H. Jackman. Mrs. Maud Cress, with her husband, C. I. Cress and three daughter-in-laws, arrived Tuesday from Riverside, Ia., and Mrs. Dollie Romine of Broken Bow and Charles Mayo of Ord will be here. If Mrs. C. D. Krebs can come from Boulder, Colo., all living members of the family will be present. Mrs. Gerald Cress and Mrs. Harold Cress are from Riverton, while Mrs. William Cress is from Iowa City.

Mrs. Edmund Gies drove to Grand Island Friday to meet her sister, Mrs. May Ryff of Cheyenne who will visit here this week. Sunday Mrs. Gies and Patty, Mrs. Ryff were guests in the home of their sister, Mrs. Sterling Manchester.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster— Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of getting the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

When a disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

BLAINE COUNTY RANCHER FINDS WAY TO BEAT THE OVERALL SHORTAGE

The current shortage of overalls has caused complications for nearly all farmers and ranchers, but Henry Taylor, Blaine county rancher, has found a solution that might provide the answer for others in the same plight.

Taylor simply exchanged apparel with his barnyard scarecrow, and found that he gained by the trade. Walking through the field recently he noted that the overalls his scarecrow was wearing were considerably better than he himself possessed. A nearby weed patch provided the necessary dressing room and the exchange was made. Taylor said he now has a passable pair of overalls and the scarecrow was doing the same effective work with the poorer pair.—Custer Co. Chief.

U. Of N. Housing Project For Vets To Be Small Town Of 1,000

The University of Nebraska housing project for student veterans will be a small community of nearly 1,000 persons this fall. It will accommodate 250 single vets and 250 married veterans and their families, or an estimated 1,000 persons. The "town," formerly the Lincoln Army Air field hospital area, will have a theater, cafeteria, barber shop, nursery for children, and a general store. University buses will provide transportation to the campus, a distance of five miles. The project has been described by S. H. Rice, district Federal Public Housing administration engineer, as one of the finest of its kind in the cornbelt states, "far superior" to Quonset huts used at other universities. The scene above is typical of the apartment area of the project. (U. of N. Photo.)

The shortage of hay and grain has hit Griffith park zoo, Los Angeles. The park commission wants to sell or swap four elk, six aoudads, seven black and white fallow deer, one Brahma calf, one Utah mule deer, eight karakul sheep and lambs and four mountain sheep and a lamb. Replacements will be animals whose appetites are less difficult to satisfy under current conditions.

A Charleston, Mo., housewife, invited on her first fishing trip, didn't want to buy a license, so she called on a neighbor to see if she could borrow one. "I hardly believe it would be proper for you to use my wife's license," the neighbor explained. "Oh, the silly old game warden won't be around," she countered. The neighbor then introduced himself as George Harris, the game warden.

Robert Wright, Olympia, Wash., veteran of both world wars, is trying to straighten out the war department on a certain little matter. When Mr. Wright applied for a pension, Washington replied that he had been killed in action. His widow was advised to apply for the pension. There's been a slight mistake, says Mr. Wright, who is not only alive but also unmarried.

State University Housing Project Nears Completion

Lincoln Airbase Hospital Will Provide Quarters For 1,000 Students.

The University of Nebraska housing project for student veterans will become a small community of nearly 1,000 persons this fall.

Built at a cost of over $300,000 by federal funds, the housing site is the former hospital area at Lincoln army air field. It will accommodate 250 single veterans in barracks converted into dormitories; and 250 married veterans and their families in apartments.

In addition to the living area the site will include a general store, cafeteria, theater, barber shop and day nursery. Transportation to the campus, a distance of five miles, will be furnished by the university.

Completion Soon Dormitories for single men are completed and ready for occupancy, and the first apartments will be completed late in September. The university will provide temporary housing for married veterans until all are completed, now estimated to be some time in October.

The University of Nebraska housing area has been described by S. H. Rice, district engineer for the federal public housing administration, as one of the finest of its kind in this part of the country.

"The Nebraska project is well laid out; the apartments are better arranged than most university housing setups; the area has central steam heating as opposed to individual oil units in quonset huts; and the covered walkways throughout the area are an advantage over the mud or planks usually found in quonset settlements," Mr. Rice said.

Long Struggle The air base housing project's completion represents culmination of a year long struggle by the board of regents and university authorities against governmental red tape delays, shortages in materials, and financing bottlenecks since the university was devoid of any funds with which to build a temporary housing project, according to L. F. Seaton, university operating superintendent.

Briefly here is the story: August, 1945—War ends with Japan's defeat; September, 1945—University enrollment far below normal; government policy on rate of releasing men from service still uncertain; status of war plant housing uncertain.

Promises Made October, 1945—Board of Regents committee begins inquiry into availability of housing units; November, 1945—University applies for 250 prefabricated housing units to be located on site near agricultural college; December, 1945—University allocated 200 prefabricated housing units but federal public housing administration cannot promise when delivery can be made because of war department delay in declaring war plants and air fields as surplus; December, 1945—FPHA says university can have hospital site of Lincoln Army Air Field as housing site provided release can be obtained from war department; December, 1945—Regents announce first three units of ten unit dormitory system for men will start immediately; initial units to house 260 men, entire ten units, 800 men.

Financing A Problem February, 1946—Application made to war department for release of Lincoln Army Air Field hospital site; university studies ways to finance $250,000 conversion cost, considers RFC loan; April, 1946—War Department releases hospital site FPHA which in turn releases it to university; FPHA agrees to underwrite cost of reconversion estimated at over $300,000.

June, 1946—Contract between FPHA and university completed after numerous delays; July, 1946—Reconversion work begins at hospital site with HH priority; August, 1946—Plumbing bottleneck solved with a cost plus arrangement granted by FPHA; September, 1946—Dormitories for single men completed, apartments rapidly nearing completion; first unit of which is expected to be ready for occupancy October 1.

Land Owners Asked To Sign Easements
REA Progress Speeded Up By Signatures on Right of Way Permits.
The local REA district will get a new coordinator as soon as possible according to Will Foth, president of the district. William Bolton, who has been in charge of developing the district, resigned two weeks ago and left Tuesday. Mr. Bolton has accepted a better paying job with the REA in Washington, D. C. Enroute to their new location, the Boltons will stop in Memphis, Tenn., to visit his people.
Until a new coordinator is hired for the district, Mrs. Lillian Lockhart will be in charge of the local REA office. Mr. Foth declares that the progress of bringing power to the district need not be slowed up by the lack of a coordinator.
"Right now one of the things which is holding up the progress of the district is the failure of land owners to sign easements for the right of way for the lines which will be built," he declares. "Farmers can hurry along the project by stopping at the office and signing these right of way permits," he says, "and also save themselves considerable expense."
Mr. Foth pointed out that the time and work of a man calling to see every land owner for the purpose of signing a right of way permit through his land must be paid for by the district and by coming to the office and doing it themselves much expense can be avoided.
Persons still desiring REA service are urged to come to the office and sign an application. The local district will serve farms in Valley, Wheeler and Garfield counties.

FSA Program and FCA's Feed-Seed Loans Combined

New Agency Called Farmers Home Administration To Merge Older Ones.

The rural rehabilitation or supervised credit program which has been administered by the Farm Security Administration for several years is being consolidated by legislation which created the Farmer's Home Administration, according to word received this week by county FSA supervisor, Joseph W. Ramaekers in a letter from Cal A. Ward, regional FSA director at Lincoln.

The new agency will absorb FSA and the emergency crop and feed loan section of the Farm Credit Administration. Dillard B. Lasseter of the FSA has been named by President Truman to head the new agency. The merger will be completed within 90 days after August 14, the effective date of the bill.

Rehabilitation loans from county offices will be available as at present. Loans for purchase of family-type farm homes will be expanded to include farm enlargement and farm improvement loans. The new agricultural FHA set-up will extend wider farming opportunities to returning veterans. Disabled veterans will be able to purchase farms which, coupled with their pensions, will pay out with their own production.

The new law gives permanent status to supervised credit which provides on-the-farm assistance to farm families whose commercial credit possibilities are inadequate to allow them to carry on the best farming operations.

John A. Reimers Body Recovered

Son-in-Law of Mrs. Henry Marks, Who Drowned, Is Buried at Lincoln.

The body of John A. Reimers, a son-in-law of Mrs. Henry Marks, who was drowned Aug. 22 in Spirit Lake southwest of Aitkin, Minn., was recovered Sept. 4. Interment was in the Lincoln Memorial park at Lincoln Sept. 5.

John Arthur Reimers was born in Doniphan, Nebr. April 22, 1903. When he was seven years old the family moved to a farm near Big Springs where he grew to manhood.

He graduated from the Big Springs high school in 1926 and from the University of Nebraska in 1930. In 1931 he entered the School of Applied Social Sciences of Western Reserve university at Cleveland, Ohio and received his master's degree from that school in 1933.

He was employed by the private family social work agency in Cleveland until 1937 when he became a member of the faculty of the School of Social Administration of Ohio State university at Columbus. He continued to be associated with social work agencies in Columbus and rose to the rank of professor of case work at the Ohio State university.

Early in 1946 he was appointed dean of a new school of social work at the University of Connecticut and he had spent most of the summer in the preliminary work of starting that school. Accidental death came on Aug. 22 while he was vacationing near Aitkin, Minn.

Professor Reimers was a member of the American Association of Social Workers, the National Conference of Social Work and the Family Welfare Association of America. He was active in all phases of professional life and gave of his time and energy without reservation. He had achieved a nation-wide reputation in his chosen field and was the author of several published manuscripts on social work education. Students and associates knew and respected his personal integrity.
 On May 30, 1931, John Arthur Reimers and Ellamae Marks of Ord were married. To this union three children were born, Sandra Jean, 11, Mark Alan, 8 and Jan Elizabeth, 3. He was a devoted husband and father and gave of himself to his family in the same wholehearted way in which he approached all things in life. Besides his wife and children he leaves his mother, Mrs. Ella Reimers of Ogallala, three brothers, Dr. Arthur Reimers of New Orleans, Edwin Reimers of Ogallala and Dr. Wilbur Reimers of Columbus, Ohio; and two sisters, Gertrude Reimers and Mrs. Helen Jeppeson both of Ogallala.

Raise Prices Of Subscriptions To Meet High Costs

Newsprint Has Doubled In Past Ten Years; New High Now.

The pressing problem of newsprint, which has risen 118 per cent in price since the rock bottom of $34 a ton in 1933, is influencing newspapers in many areas to increase subscription rates, reports from publishers indicate.

An examination of available records show that more than 40 newspapers have announced rate increases since July 1, and one, the Batavia, N.Y. Times, said it was discontinuing after 129 years of continuous publication "because of the high cost of paper, labor, and replacement of machinery."

Because of freight considerations, the price of newsprint is regulated by a system of regional differentials established before the war by manufacturers, and adopted by OPA after the agency came into existence.

In January, 1933, newsprint was selling for $39 a ton, but following the bank holiday in March it dropped to $34 per ton, a low never since equaled.

By October it climbed to $41 and the following year to $38.

This condition held until a slight increase in 1937 lifted the price to $42.50.

It jumped again in 1938 to $48 in the United States and to $50 in Canada.

There was no increase in 1939, but in 1940 American mills upped their price to $49, Canadian mills holding at $50.

By March, 1942 newsprint was $55 per ton, and by September $59.

No change was recorded in 1944, but in March, 1945, it advanced to $63, and again in December to $68.

This held until OPA last week upped the port ceiling to $74, and the base to $75.

Many reasons are ascribed for the critical newsprint shortage and to why the United States is dependent on Canadian producers for about 82 per cent of the paper used.

One is that the United States is lacking in vital kinds of wood. Another is that domestic mills prefer to devote most of their production capacity to paper of higher grades which guarantee easier profits and are less hampered by restrictions.

The Quiz As a Gift Pleases Mrs. Alvord

"It's nice to have birthdays but so much nicer when a very dear friend sends you a year's subscription to the old home paper, 'The Ord Quiz', writes Mrs. Orpha Alvord, who now lives at 3536 S. E. 26th St., Portland, Ore. Mrs. Alvord has lived in Oregon since 1928 and thinks it is a grand state but still considers Ord has home.

Her daughter, Mrs. Lucille Gocke, now has a daughter two and a half years old. They live near to Mrs. Alvord. Her eldest son, Jack, and her youngest son, George, both live in Portland. The George Alvords have a daughter, who was born Aug. 29. He is a driver for a trucking firm in Portland after serving two and a half years in the South Pacific with the navy.

Mrs. Alvord spends her vacations in California every year where she meets many Ord people. She has had charge of a Masonic temple in Portland for seven years. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts visited her in June. She writes that she enjoys seeing or hearing from Ord people very much.

An application for enlistment telephoned the recruiting office of the Grand Island army air base and said he was at the depot and would appreciate transportation to the base. "Where are you," a base officer asked, "I'm at the depot," the prospective recruit replied. "Yes, but which depot," the officer asked. "Why, the one down here by the railroad tracks," was the serious reply. The army found him.

Married at Burwell

The Sacred Heart church in Burwell was the scene of the wedding Miss Eunice Donner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Donner and Charles Meuret, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meuret, which occurred Sept. 3.

The bride wore a dress of navy blue velvet with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses and a white rosary and prayer book. The maid of honor, Miss Virginia Wozniak of Ord, was attired in a golden wool jersey dress with black accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Thomas Meuret Jr.

After the wedding a breakfast was served in the Burwell hotel. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Donner, Lois and Elynn, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meuret, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Donner, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kaiser and Sheila, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Darrah, Mrs. Frank Horwart, Mrs. P. C. Donner, and Mrs. Orpha McClimans.

The bride graduated from the Ericson high school in 1941 and has been employed in the County Agent's Thurber's office and more recently in the soil conservation office. Charles received his diploma from the Burwell high school in 1935. He served four years in the army and is a Purple Heart veteran of the European campaign. Since his discharge from the service he has been employed in the Golden Rule store in Burwell.

After a wedding trip to Denver Mr. and Mrs. Meuret will be at home in the Will Peterson residence in Burwell. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson are making an extended vacation tour of the western states with a trailer house.

—After spending 26 months in army hospitals Sgt. Emil John was discharged from the army Aug. 30 and has returned to Ord where he is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John John. Emil was discharged from the William Beaumont General hospital after four years, four months and 29 days in the army. Emil was wounded in the battle of St. Lo in France, July 6, 1944. In spite of everything which could be done he will always have a stiff knee because of his participation in this engagement. Otherwise he is in good health. His wife will continue at her job with the Loup National Farm Loan association.

—Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Murray of Denver arrived in Ord Saturday where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prince.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Frazier returned last Wednesday evening from a seven thousand mile trip throughout the western states. They first went to the Black Hills, next they toured Yellowstone National park and then drove to Jerome, Ida, where they visited their son, LeRoy, and his wife. After a visit in Idaho they took the Columbia river drive to Portland, Ore. They visited friends and relatives in Oregon and then went to California, driving down the coast to Los Angeles. How to plan a lunch that's well balanced

- Make the lunch that's carried a part of your regular meal schedule. Fit it in with breakfast and dinner, so that each meal supplies just about one-third of the day's food.
- Introduce variety by sending jars or covered paper cups filled with hearty salads or extras such as potato salad, cold baked beans, cottage cheese, kidney bean salad, macaroni salad. Other welcome extras are slices of cold roast meat or meat loaf, olives, hard-cooked or deviled eggs.
- Send along either fresh fruits or vegetables as a salad or as a dessert. Crisp celery, carrot sticks, radishes, whole tomatoes, or apples, pears, oranges, and other fresh fruits are welcome additions to the lunch box. Salads such as coleslaw, fruit salad, a wedge of head lettuce with salad dressing in a small covered jar or cup to dip it in, fruit-flavored gelatin salads in which fruit and crisp vegetables are molded—all can go in the lunch box.
- Include a special treat—especially for a child's lunch box—such as a few stuffed dates and prunes, a bag of salted nuts, a candy bar, a few pieces of candy or a sucker.
- Don't forget that a hot soup in the thermos bottle tastes good on a cold day. And if the weather is hot, iced chocolate or tea, or lemon or orangeade is a refreshing addition.

5 EASY STEPS TO BETTER CREAM—BETTER BUTTER—BIGGER CREAM CHECKS

1. Clean milk and cream begin with clean cows. Keep the flanks clipped and wash teats, udder and flanks with a clean cloth and warm water just before each milking.
2. KEEP COWS CLEAN
3. COOL CREAM PROPERLY
4. DELIVER CREAM IN GOOD CONDITION
5. WASH SEPARATOR AFTER EACH TIME USED... IN 2 MINUTES!

USE A NEW DE LAVAL SEPARATOR
A new De Laval Separator will skim cleaner... earn more... and cost less per year of use. It produces smoother textured cream, best for churning, uncontaminated and undiluted. Cream tests do not vary. In short, a new De Laval Separator will quickly pay for itself and earn additional profits for years to come.

KEEP COWS CLEAN
Clean milk and cream begin with clean cows. Keep the flanks clipped and wash teats, udder and flanks with a clean cloth and warm water just before each milking.

COOL CREAM PROPERLY
Cream should be cooled promptly. This can be done by mechanical refrigeration or by a simple, homemade cabinet type of cooler utilizing a continuous flow of cold water.

DELIVER CREAM IN GOOD CONDITION
Cream should be kept cool until delivered to the cream station or creamery. During warm weather covering the cream can with wet burlap will aid materially in keeping cream cool while being delivered.

WASH SEPARATOR AFTER EACH TIME USED... IN 2 MINUTES!
Your De Laval Separator should be washed immediately after each time it is used. With the "wetting agents" now available at grocery stores and creameries it can be done easily and thoroughly in 2 minutes. Because of its design and construction the De Laval Separator is easiest to wash.

Every effort is being made to improve the quality of cream delivered for buttermaking. Poor quality cream cannot make the best quality butter—nor yield the greatest profit to the cream producer. Gravity setting and water separation methods waste butterfat and yield poor quality cream.

Observance of the five simple steps outlined above will result in better cream, better butter... and better income for you. Why not talk it over with us today?

88 Dairy Calves Find New Homes In Ord Vicinity

Loup Valley Farmers Buy Wisconsin Young Stock At Night Sale.

The Ord Livestock Market had its calf sale Thursday night. It was a different kind of a calf sale than those held at Burwell or Atkinson. The bovine babies, which went through Ord's ring, came here seeking homes in a strange land. The bawling whitefaces at the other calf sales in these parts are bidding farewell to the expansive grasslands, which have been their homes here-to-fore and will likely spend their remaining days in an Iowa feedlot.

The calves sold at Ord last Thursday night were of dairy breeding. They came from Wisconsin and will likely spend a dozen years or so in their new homes in the North Loup Valley. The calves ranged from four or five months to only a few weeks in age. Eighty-eight calves were sold Thursday night, ranging from $73 to $30 per head and averaging $13. The ages and size of the calves were important in determining the prices paid. The farmers showed much more eagerness in bidding on a calf showing a month or more age than one but a week or so old. They have learned from experience that the mortality loss on older calves is much less than on newly born ones.

Confidence in Soller

These calves were brought to Ord by Paul Rolfsmeyer of Seward. Bert Cummins and his son, Corvin have confidence in Mr. Rolfsmeyer. They have sold calves for him before and have found the livestock he brings to their market to always be exactly as Mr. Rolfsmeyer represents them.

Wednesday noon Mr. Rolfsmeyer left Wisconsin with a truck loaded with calves. He aimed to lose no time enroute and drove night and day to reach Ord in time for the sale scheduled Thursday night.

The pavillion was filled when the sale began at 8 o'clock but not as crowded as it is when the sales are held Saturday afternoons. Many who regard the sale Saturday as a social institution were absent and nearly every one on the benches was interested in acquiring foundation dairy stock.

Many Holsteins

Holsteins predominated in the offering, graceful, deer-like Guernseys were second in number with several Brown Swiss being offered, which seemed to be popular with the farmers. A number of crossbred dairy heifers were offered which seemed to have plenty of takers. Ayrshires, Jerseys and milking Shorthorns were represented by at least one individual.

It's quite apparent that a farmer buying a baby calf is assuming some risk but that risk can be greatly reduced by proper handling. The calves brought to Ord had been tested for Bang's disease and tuberculosis. They were vaccinated for hemorrhagic septicemia (shipping fever).

Mr. Rolfsmeyer warned the farmers to go easy in feeding the infant bovines. He suggested that the calves be fed small amounts of milk but often until they recover from their period of starvation and the effects of their long, hard ride. He recommended that the largest calves be fed no more than a half gallon of milk and the smaller ones possibly a pint.

Overfeeding Dangerous

A hungry calf, in a weakened condition, can easily be killed by giving it all the milk it will drink. Many farmers find an egg or two given in the milk or forced down the calf's mouth, minus the shell, aids in perking up the babies.

Many of the calves sold by Mr. Rolfsmeyer were the results of artificial insemination. All showed evidence of being well-bred dairy stock. Mr. Rolfsmeyer pointed out that a long slender neck, such as a beef breeder abhors, is the sign of a good dairy producer.

At the opening of the sale Mr. Cummins gave the cattle of Wisconsin a fine recommendation declaring that the poorest of their dairy cattle are better than the best ones in this locality.

The high price of milk and butterfat, which the Wisconsin dairyman receives, makes it almost impossible for him to afford to raise a calf and consequently stock from many of the better herds can be purchased at a better advantage than in some years.

The Spotted Poland Chinas exhibited by Clifford Goff and sons, Floyd and Jim, of Burwell won all the purple ribbons in their division of the swine show at the Nebraska State Fair last week. The hogs which the Goffs showed won thirty-two ribbons, including ten firsts, five seconds and a number of lesser awards.

Mr. Goff repeated his accomplishment of 1941 in winning a boar grand championship with a junior pig. No other exhibitor has been able to do this at the Nebraska fair. Buster's Approval, a boar pig exhibited by Goffs in the junior class, was judged the grand champion Spotted Poland China boar of the show.

In 1941, their boar, Tip Top, then shown in the junior division, was awarded the grand championship. This year Floyd won a purple ribbon in the 4H competition on his gilt, and Jim another purple ribbon with his litter.

NORTH LOUP

Joyce Granowski has gone to Omaha where she is attending the Commercial Extension school.

Gordon Portis, Harold Van Horn and Donna Manchester are North Loup young people who will leave this week for attendance at the University of Nebraska.

Elmer Cox went to Lincoln Wednesday with an ambulance after Will Cox who has been in the Veterans hospital there since early in June.

Card of Thanks—

I wish to thank all my friends who sent me flowers, cards and letters while I was in the hospital. The fine care and kindness of the nurses was much appreciated. Your thoughtfulness will not be forgotten.

Bill Sims.

After you pay your subscription, watch the next paper or two and be sure you were credited properly. We do try not to make mistakes but sometimes we do. And our offer still stands that we will pay a darned good salary to the man or woman who never makes a mistake. Haven't found one yet after hiring from two or three to thirty people at a time for fifty years.

A city council out in California passed a city ordinance prohibiting dogs to do more than merely sniff at municipal power and light poles and dog owners were penalized five hundred dollars for violations. Naturally dog owners were up in the air, so to speak, and they were seen leading their pups down the middle of the pavement, not daring to go on the walks as they would be too close to the city poles. The new ordinance stirred up so much dogon trouble that it had to be repealed.

I was talking to man the other day who had never even heard of tomato gravy, the poor dope. There is nothing better this time of the year than nice baked, steamed or boiled potatoes with a liberal helping of the right kind of tomato gravy. It is good made after most any kind of meat but I like it better after pork chops or pork steak. Leave enough of the grease in the skillet, cut slices of tomatoes into the hot grease and cook until well done, stir in a bit of soda, then pour in enough milk to make the desired amount of gravy and thicken with flour thickening. If you have several in the family, it takes a pretty good skillet full to satisfy them.

And speaking of tomatos, the Missus just made a batch of yellow tomato preserves. We can only have a few pints this year because of the lack of sugar, just as we are unable to can peaches and pears and other things as we would like. Wish I knew where I could get a hundred pound sack of sugar. In other years when we were allowed to in some measure at least, to direct our own affairs, I always bought three or four sacks of sugar a season and now we are allowed to buy five pounds every few months. If the government new deal planners of the more abundant life have their way it won't be long until we will have to get a permit to draw our breath.

For some years the average number of new homes built in the United States was five hundred thousand but since the government took over the management of home building and began unwinding the red tape, the number has dropped to considerably below four hundred thousand.

And I believe that if this government would turn the handling of the mail over to a good business man, probably a Jew, we could have one cent postage instead of three cents postage and then the Jew would have to pay upper bracket income, but what would the politicians do without the hundreds of thousands of jobs that they now have to hand out?

Yes, we are still sending on daily subscriptions and renewals for the Omaha and Lincoln daily papers. It costs you no more and we get

Arcadia School Activities

The Arcadia Kindergarten has an enrollment of fourteen this year; they are James Allen, Stanard Atkins, Donald Beerline, Joe Brown, Karen Brown, Billy Bugbee, Jack Carmody, Edwin Murray, Judy O'Connell, Jeanne Sell, Linda Swanson, Jimmy Tuning, Karan White, and Beverly Whitman.

Harold Oshel, Raymond Williams and Robert Harding are new students in the first grade. James Williams is a new student in the second grade. There are thirteen enrolled in the second grade and ten in the first.

New changes in the primary room this year are new table tops and library cupboards.

The Misner players will again come to the high school auditorium this year. The date has been set for Sept. 19 at 8 o'clock in the evening. The public is invited to attend. The name of the play which they will present or the price of admission has not been learned as yet. Watch the paper for an announcement.

A large number of the students are planning on attending the opening football game at Broken Bow Friday evening. An attempt is being made to find transportation for the entire football squad.

The Arcadia Huskies held their first scrimmage under lights Friday night. The boys were given a stiff workout with Coach Swearingner handling the offensive team and Arnold Tuning the defensive team. Mr. Tuning, former coach at Arcadia, has been helping out in spare moments because of the large size of the squad. From all present appearances the team is going to be heavy but lacking in speed.

Christian Science Services "Substance" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Sept. 15.

The Golden Text is: "Wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the Lord is his treasure" (Isaiah 33:6). Other Bible citations include, "Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life" (John 4:13,14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Which ought to be substance to us,—the erring, changing, and dying, the mutable and mortal, or the unerring, immutable, and immortal?" (p. 278).

Their trip took them almost five weeks.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.

By John L. Ward

By John L. Ward
Pop Corn Days will doubtless bring back a number of old North Loupers who have cast their lots elsewhere, but who take this opportunity to pay a visit to the old home town and shake hands with the old friends. One of the early arrivals was Milt Earnest of Costa Mesa, Calif., who got to town Saturday and doubtless had a sore arm from the pumphandling he got during the day. For him it was a real homecoming, as he knew and could call by name nearly everybody he met.

This brought back to mind the old days, before this former business man and banker of North Loup had left the farm out on Davis Creek. I had heard much of the Earnests, Vol and Jake, through my father, but had never met Vol's sons, Omer and Milt. We really had a chance to get acquainted when our newly organized baseball team of some 45 years ago scheduled a series of games with those tough boys from down south. Believe me, we really did get acquainted.

I can't recall the names of all of them, but Charley Bowers pitched most of the time, Frank Trump caught. Then there were the Earnest boys, Walt and Bert Cummings, Walt Finch, Charley Cress, the Knappes, the Negleys, and a number of others. Boy, how those fellows could bat, especially Frank Trump. Usually our pitchers opened each inning with prayer, and felt pretty good if we kept the team from batting around every time. And every man of them could steal home while the pitcher was winding up.

Over in Fussysville there lived a young fellow named Joe Copeland who gave us no end of trouble. Joe was born out in left field, and he slept there and had his meals brought out to him most of the summer. He knew the location of the residence of every gopher in his part of the playing field in every cow pasture within twenty miles, and he could even call most of them by their first name. Because of his location, Joe played with both Davis Creek and Scotia, and did splendid work for both teams. As I remember it now, Joe never missed a fly in the years we played together.

Speaking of Scotia, we played those boys a number of times. They usually managed to get away with the big end of the score, but we really had fun. Joe played with them every game, and they had one I. K. (Ike) McFarland pitching for them, and a young fellow named Steve Grohosky was behind the plate. Jerry the Miller was a power on their team, but I do not recall what position he played. Mira Valley tangled with them once at North Loup, the writer against Mac, and the Scotchman won out 5 to 4 in the tenth inning.

Let me pay tribute to those team mates of nearly half a century ago, who did so much to make life worth living. There were Wilmer Honnold and Wilmore Gray, who shared the catching duties. There were Ormsby Petty, Claude Honnold and myself, who divided the job on the mound. Ed Armstrong was pretty solid at first base. Then there were John and Lou Bremer, Ollie Bell, Will Hekeler, Gus Schilde and Clem Meyers, all of whom played on occasion. A little later Everett Petty came into the picture.

He and Ormsby, Ed Armstrong and Wilmer Honnold have all passed on, but will never be forgotten. We old timers like to get together and talk over the days that used to be. It seems to us that the present day crop of ball players do not measure up to the standard of half a century ago, when John Bremer actually got behind the plate and caught a game without shin guards, chest protector, mask or even a catcher's mit. It took men to play ball in those days!

When we hear those reports of the bumper crop of corn in Nebraska, it sounds mighty good. But when we drive out into the country anywhere outside the irrigated area and see just how bad the corn really looks, we wonder if they think they are kidding anybody. As one man put it, in many places it looks about as bad as the corn did in 1934. Until the rain quit falling some six weeks ago, the prospect for corn was good indeed, and it may still be good elsewhere, but not here.

This is one year to make comparisons and realize the value of irrigation to the valley. Some farmers claim that they cannot afford to use irrigation water at a cost of four dollars per acre, but an expensive crop is certainly better than no crop at all. At the present price, two and one half bushels extra of corn will pay for the water, and another two and one half bushels should go a long way toward paying for the work of putting it on.

WE'RE AGIN IT
This fall at the general election there will be on the ballot a proposed constitutional amendment titled something like this:

"An amendment to Section 6, Article VII, of the Constitution of Nebraska, relating to free instruction in the common schools, so as to require that the legislature shall raise revenue for the schools from sources other than real property tax in a sum of not less than Forty Dollars ($40.00) per pupil in average daily attendance, and to provide for distribution thereof among the school districts of the state."

While conceding that Nebraska's school system is backward through lack of finances and that we should spend more money on our common schools, we're inclined to say about this proposed amendment that "we're agin it."

That clause "requiring" the legislature to raise revenue for the schools "from sources other than real property" sounds to us suspiciously like a back-hand attempt to put a sales tax into existence in Nebraska. Or if not a state sales tax a state income tax, though it is doubtful if a state income tax would raise the required revenue in an agricultural state like this where farm income is dependent upon the whims of Mother Nature. We want no state sales tax and we want no state income tax. Nebraska has kept free from them so far and we believe the state should continue to be free from them.

This amendment, it is claimed, would increase cost of common school education in Nebraska from around $4 to $44 per pupil. That's a whole of a big increase. It would add, however it is raised, approximately $8,000,000 to the state's tax burden. And that's a whole of a big increase on an already heavy tax burden.

We don't pretend to know how much money is needed to make the common schools of Nebraska the kind of schools they should be but we think we have pretty fair schools now and an increase of 1,100 per cent sounds all out of proportion to us.

We don't like the wording of the amendment anyway. If its backers sincerely believe that this vastly increased sum is needed for common school education even at the cost of putting a state sales tax into effect—and we don't know what other tax would yield sufficient revenue—why don't they say so frankly in the amendment and let people know what they are voting on, instead of using the weasel words "sources other than real property."

Probably there are good arguments for the amendment. If so we'd like to hear them and the columns of this newspaper are open to any person who is for the amendment and will advance his reasons therefore over his own name. Between now and election time we're going to try to find out more about this amendment than we know now—who is for it and why; whether $40 more per pupil is actually needed or what sum is needed; whether or not there are ways of raising the funds needed within the structure of laws as they exist in Nebraska today, without needing an amendment to the constitution. But until we know those things, and on the basis of our present information and opinion, we'll say about this amendment again—"We're agin it."

A. I. Cram & Co. Sells to Spelts

One of the oldest business firms in Burwell changed hands the first of September when the Spelts Lumber Co. of Loup City took over the operation of the A. I. Cram and Co. lumber yard which it had previously purchased. John C. Spelts will manage the yard at Burwell.

Mr. Cram, who established the yard in Burwell forty-nine years ago, still retains a share in the present business, but plans to work less after taking an active part in the business and civic life of Burwell for nearly a half a century.

Asa Anderson, who has been associated with Mr. Cram in the lumber business for many years is retiring to farm his acreage east of Burwell. Mrs. Florida Verley, whose deceased husband was manager of the lumber yard for many years, came to Burwell to dispose of her interest in the yard. She now teaches school in Illinois having recently moved to Illinois from Washington.

The Spelts Lumber Co. now operates thirteen yards in Nebraska located in Loup City, Comstock, Niobrara, O'Neill, St. Libory, Shelton, Grand Island, Elm-creek, Cody, Sargent, Valentine and Burwell.

—Mrs. Larry Adams spent last week in Omaha where she visited her sister, Mrs. Angelina Eymann. —Paul Jeppeson, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Christen Jeppeson, left Sunday to go to Blair where he has enrolled as a freshman at Dana college. Paul spent three years in the army and saw duty with a field artillery outfit in Europe which participated in the Battle of the Bulge and several other major engagements. His entrance into college was postponed several years by his military duties.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dworak, who have made an extended visit in Ord where they have been guests of his father, F. J. Dworak and many other relatives and friends, left last Wednesday to return to their home in Portland, Ore.

Loses Arm On River Bridge

Oscar Johnson, 25, lost his right arm when a wheel of the automobile in which he was riding came off and threw the car into the railing of a bridge across the North Loup river near St. Paul. The injured man, who lives in Canada, was visiting relatives at Wolbach. The accident occurred Sept. 2.

Mr. Johnson was in the front seat on the right side when the accident happened. His brother, John Johnson, who lives in Illinois was driving. Oscar Johnson's arm was partly extended through the car window. The front right wheel came off while they were crossing the bridge. They were driving about 40 miles per hour. The impact threw the car into the railing, shearing the fender and damaging the engine. Only one of the four passengers in the car was injured.

A tourniquet was applied to stop the bleeding and the injured man was rushed to the office of Dr. M. O. Arnold in St. Paul who performed an emergency operation, removing the arm at the shoulder.

How to Get Your New BENDIX automatic Home Laundry

NO doubt you'll want your new BENDIX soon. Most folks do. So come in and see us quickly. Let's talk it over, and get the details done!

Maybe you'd first like to see what this wash-day wonder does—how it washes, rinses, damp-dries, cleans itself and shuts itself off—all without your lifting a finger. Then it's even more urgent that you come in soon—today if you can!

Because if you want your BENDIX quickly—and chances are you will—we'll both be pleased if you are one of our "first-to-be-served!"

What you do: put in clothes, set a dial, add soap.

What the BENDIX does:

fills itself, tumbles clothes clean, thoroughly tumble rinses, dries clothes ready for the line or dryer, cleans and empties itself, and shuts off—all automatically! The Bendix takes only 4 square feet of floor space—fits perfectly in kitchen, bathroom, utility room or laundry.

EXCLUSIVE TUMBLE ACTION: tumbles clothes through suds 60 times a minute, yet so gently that even fine fabrics launder beautifully.

COMSTOCK FLIER DIES IN GERMANY

Word was received Aug. 29, that Lieut. Donald I. Erikson was missing in a flight over Germany since Aug. 22. Monday of last week a second message was received advising relatives of his death. Lieutenant Erikson was the eldest son of Mrs. Roe Allen of Comstock, and enlisted in the service about five years ago, being in the first to enlist. He had served many months overseas, being stationed for a year in India where he flew transport planes over the famous Burma Road under the command of "Bip Cochran." Besides his mother, Donald is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. John Dunbar of California, Mrs. Philip Dowse of Comstock, Staden Erikson of Grand Island, and Richard Erikson, now stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas. Donald returned to the states last fall and was stationed at Monroe, Louisiana, and Long Beach, Calif., following his re-enlistment. He visited in Comstock before leaving July 16 for Europe where he has been stationed in France and was on flight from Paris to Rome when reported missing. A letter received Tuesday morning gave the information that Lieutenant Erikson and the entire crew of a C-47 had been killed in a crash on a mountain-side in which the plane was burned. The remains will be returned to Comstock for burial.—Comstock News.

RATTLER KILLED IN BROKEN BOW PARK Dr. B. Leonard killed a four-foot rattler snake in the street near the North Side park Wednesday evening. The snake was coiled ready for business as the mayor drove past. Dr. Leonard had a chain in his car and used it to kill the reptile. The snake had eight rattles.—Custer Co. Chief.

Ulo and Lambert Laur, twin brothers, 17 years old, have found a home with the Louie Cording family near Cushing. They are Estonians from war torn Europe, brought to this country last June under the immigration laws. The Lutheran church is finding homes for 85. The boys are the only survivors of their family of ten. Howard Co. Herald.

It took an earthquake to make a pinball machine pay dividends for Bob Frank, owner of a Kirkland, Wash., weekly newspaper. Frank was playing the pinball machine in an eating house when an earthquake tilted the machine. The owner gave him three nickles, two more than he put in, because of the circumstances.

CARD OF THANKS

To the people of Elyria and Boleszyn: I would wish to express again the feeling of gratitude that I have for all the acts of kindness that you showered upon me while I was with you. Above all I wish to thank you for the Farewell Party and the generous purse that you offered. Of this purse more than half has been given to the Seminary Fund, with the prayer that some day it may benefit a boy from Elyria or Boleszyn who feels that he has been chosen to study for the priesthood. The rest will be used to keep the promise that I made at the Farewell Party. God bless you all.

Seed Wheat and Rye

We have arranged for some Certified Wheat and Certified Rosen Rye Seed & we will have them in just as soon as the State Seed Tests are finished. We believe that it pays the grower to plant the very best seed obtainable and we believe that Pawnee Wheat & Rosen Rye are very well adapted for this section of the State. Prices on this seed are not unreasonable and if you have not placed your order as yet let us have it now. The price on the Certified Pawnee Wheat is $2.85 per bu., and Certified Rosen Rye is $2.75 per bu. As the supplies are not too plentiful you should place your order now.

Hybrid Corn

We are booking Hybrid Seed Corn for Spring delivery now. The price on large and Medium Flats on Corn-husker Hybrids is $9.50 per bu., which is really a much less price than we expected. A deposit of $1.00 with your order now assures you of the seed that you want to plant next Spring. Look up the Official test of the Hybrids in Valley County last year and then be sure to rush your order for 148. You will also find that 380, 81, 83 and 85 are adapted for this section of Nebraska.

Alfalfa Seed and Sweet Clover

We are buying a nice lot of Alfalfa and Sweet Clover seed and are paying all the OPA Regulations will allow on these seeds. If you have Alfalfa or Sweet Clover to sell us, or you may bring it in and we will reclean it and pay the full price allowed by OPA. Anyone needing a large amount of Alfalfa or Sweet Clover seed for Spring planting can get an attractive price by buying it this fall as soon as we have the seed ready to go.

Grains

We are in the market for your Oats, Barley, Wheat and Corn and will pay you a very good price for it. Our grades are correct and you are not penalized too much if you do not have No. 1 grade grains.

Trucks

We have two trucks available for hauling grain all the time. If they are not hauling for us, they are available for outside hauling so if you need a truck for grain and we can help out, just let us know.

Miss Kriz went to Grand Island Tuesday afternoon where she said she was going to hire an attorney to fight the charges which have been brought against her by County Attorney John P. Misko.

The hearing of the case against Miss Kriz was scheduled for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. When Deputy Sheriff V. A. Andersen went to the Kriz home to bring Miss Kriz to the court room she informed him that she had injured herself in a fall and that her health would not permit her to appear in court that afternoon.

Dr. H. N. Norris was called and as Miss Kriz became emotional he believed it best to administer a sedative which he did and he and Mr. Andersen left the Kriz home believing that Miss Kriz would go to sleep. She did not do so, however, and later in the afternoon, Mr. Andersen was summoned to the Kriz home.

This time Miss Kriz was taken to the county jail where she spent the night. Tuesday afternoon she was limping badly when she entered the court room, assisted by Mrs. Grant Marshall, who served as matron of the jail while Miss Kriz was in confinement.

When Miss Kriz saw her mother sitting in the court room she pointed a finger at her and demanded in a loud voice, "Are you my mother?" "She's trying to ruin me," she's trying to ruin me," she shouted to the spectators present.

During the court proceedings Miss Kriz interrupted the officials repeatedly wanting to tell her side of her disagreement with her mother. She declared that she was ready now to bring charges, presumably against her mother, which she had withheld for many years. When the charges against her were read by County Attorney John P. Misko, she shook her head and loudly exclaimed, "Misrepresentation! Misrepresentation!"

She informed Judge Andersen that her health was not such that she could be kept in jail. She told him she had "gatherings" in her chest and coughed to convince him. When told she would have to deposit a hundred dollar bond to be released from jail or have a person owning property worth at least $200 sign to guarantee her appearance in court Thursday, she declared, "There are lots of people in Grand Island, who will sign my bond." When the judge told her the person to sign her bond must be a local resident she said she had some chickens she could sell and raise the money.

The aged mother sat calmly during the proceedings and offered no objections to the statements made by her daughter. "She says I'm crazy," the old lady remarked after Miss Kriz left the court room.

Joe Rowbal Dies Wednesday Morn.

Ord Plumber Found Lifeless In Basement of His Home; Was in Poor Health.

Joe Rowbal, well known Ord plumber, was found dead in the basement of his home Wednesday noon. He was lying on a bed which was in the basement. Dr. C. W. Weckes, who was called, believed that he had been dead about two hours. Death is supposed to have resulted from a heart attack.

Mr. Rowbal had not been well for sometime and suffered from asthma and heart trouble. Mr. Rowbal was a hard working man, who found idleness difficult to bear.

He leaves a widow, two sons, Richard, who was engaged in the plumbing business with his father, and Billie, who lives in Oakland, Calif., two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Cummings of Mitchell, S. D., and Mrs. Merna Wigent of Ord, a sister, Miss Lucy Rowbal of Ord and four brothers, John and Martin of Ord and Albert of Des Moines, and George. Funeral arrangements are being handled by Hastings and Pearson.

North Loup's Pop Corn Queen

Here Miss Donna Manchester is shown seated on her throne on the float which appeared in the parade Thursday afternoon at North Loup's pop corn celebration.

State Officers Coming to Ord for Convention

Barlow Nye Will Speak at Banquet of American Legion Convention.

The state officers of the American Legion will come to Ord for the district convention of the servicemen's organization which will be held in Ord Oct. 22. Dick Marvel of Hastings, state commander, and State Adjutant Patterson of Lincoln have announced their intentions of attending the convention, according to Edwin Jenison, post commander.

Barlow Nye, a Lincoln attorney and state vice-commander, will be the speaker at the banquet which is tentatively scheduled to be held in the high school gymnasium and will likely be served by the women of an Ord church. The business session will be held in the Ord theater. In the evening the Bohemian hall has been engaged for a dance and Harry Collins and his orchestra have been contracted to furnish the music. A drum corps will come from Kearney for the convention. About 250 people are expected to attend.

Farmers Who Want Pheasants Killed Urged to Register

Farmers, whose crops have suffered from damage done by pheasants, are urged to register their names at one of the hardware stores in Ord where lists of farmers, who would welcome hunters to their fields are being compiled. If sufficient farmers express a desire to have hunters come to their farms to help get rid of the birds which damage their crops, the Ord Chamber of Commerce will work out a program for inviting and encouraging hunters to come to Valley county.

An expression of opinion on behalf of the farmers would be helpful to members of the Chamber of Commerce, who are working on this project. Farmers may also list their names with John Andersen, the secretary, at the court house.

Judge Dismisses Charges Against Edward Danczak

Petty larceny charges brought against Edward Danczak of Arcadia were dismissed by Judge Kroeger in the district court of Valley county Monday morning. Danczak, paid all costs connected with the case.

He had been found guilty in county court of stealing an overcoat at a dance in the Geranium hall west of Ord, Jan. 28, 1945. He pleaded not guilty and was bound over to district court. The charges were dismissed to save the expense of calling a jury to hear the case as there was no other business requiring a jury at this time.

Cattle Poisoned While Farmer is Gone on Vacation

While Mr. and Mrs. William Vogeler were vacationing in Washington twenty-three head of cattle died from eating poisoned grasshopper bait. The Vogelers live three miles west of North Loup. The grasshopper bait was in a granary, the door of which was rooted open by hogs and the cattle got into the building and ate some of the bait. The loss occurred Sunday, Sept. 15. The cattle were taken to the Valley rendering works in Ord.

Teams Ord To Play Off to Fast Start

Two of the football teams that will oppose the Ord Chanticleers during the present season got off to fast starts Friday, and it looks like Coach Cochrane's boys face tough going.

The Scottsbluff Bearcats, whom Ord meets at Scottsbluff on Sept. 28, overhwhelmed Bayard 38 to 0 while Ravenna was holding a strong Kearney team to a 6-6 tie score. Other teams that will oppose Ord this season will open their seasons this week but reports of big squads well studded with 1945 regulars come from Albion, Loup City and other camps. Loup City is said to have 13 veterans and a squad of 50.

The Fidelity post of the American Legion bought a new home last week. A deal was completed whereby the servicemen's organization became the owner of the Kull building on the east side of the square. The building was purchased from Frank Kull, who lives in Santa Ana, Calif., for $7,500.00.

Ed Jenison, the post commander, says that work will commence the first of October to convert the basement into a suitable club room for the legion and its women's auxiliary. The building was purchased subject to the lease to Emory Thomsen and Walter Douthit, which expires in 1948.

The post has at present no plans for occupying any part of the building other than the basement. The problem of getting a suitable front entrance to the basement has to be solved. It is not known whether part of the side walk space may be used for the stairway or if the stairway will be built inside the building. The legion plans to retain its present hall, which it will use until work on the new club room is completed.

Death Comes to Rufus J. Clark

Pioneer Citizen Who Lived In County for 74 Years Laid to Rest Sunday.

Rufus James Clark, who had lived in Valley county for seventy-four years, died in the Ord hospital Thursday, where owing to the poor health incidental to his age, he had lived for a number of months. Mr. Clark was 82 years and 7 months of age.

Funeral services were conducted in the Ord Methodist church of which he had long been a member, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Carl McConnell. Mrs. Mark Tolen sang three of Mr. Clark's favorite hymns accompanied by Mrs. Orin Kellison. Honorary pallbearers were A. J. Shirley, Frank Koupal, Sol Brox, R. C. Greenfield, Sam Roe, Lawrence Mason, Charles Hunt and Ed Wilcox.

Interment was in the Ord cemetery with Leo Long, Elmer Zlomke, Evet Smith, Alfred Hill, Horace Travis, and C. B. Gudmundsen serving as casket bearers. Hastings and Pearson were in charge of the arrangements. Mr. Clark was born Feb. 13, 1864 in Markesan, Wis., to David and Olive Ann Clark. He was one of six children and the last to survive.

On June 7, 1872, Mr. Clark came to Valley county with his widowed mother and brothers and sisters. He was then a boy eight years old. His mother homesteaded the farm east of Ord, which is now known as the Howard Huff place.

Mr. Clark experienced the hardships and dangers of frontier life and early learned the responsibilities of citizenship. His efforts helped to build Valley county into a fine community. On Feb. 2, 1887 Mr. Clark married Mittle Marion Gifford. They experienced fifty happy years together. Mrs. Clark died four days after they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

For many years Mr. Clark lived on the farm. Later he moved to Ord where he operated a dray business. In later years he was custodian of the First National Bank and of the Methodist church, holding the last job until the infirmities of age made it impossible for him to work any longer. Mr. Clark was the father of four sons and a daughter. The eldest son, Melvin, died at the age of twenty-four years. Three sons, Ansel of Frederick, Colo., Bernard of Denver, and Cecil of Ord and a daughter, Ava, who is Mrs. Robert Noll of Ord, eight grandchildren, eleven great grandchildren and many other relatives survive him. During the many years which Mr. Clark lived in Ord and the vicinity he made many friends and acquaintances who mourn his death.

Cochrane Snatches 2 Touchdown Passes

In the first full dress game between varsity and nubbins squads at the University of Nebraska Saturday, Alex Cochrane, jr., of Ord, snatched two touchdown passes tossed by Sam Vaccanti, and was a big factor in the varsity squad's 8-touchdown victory over the nubbins. One running catch by Cochrane drew most favorable comment and he is believed a cinch to make the trip to Minneapolis this week for the opening game against the University of Minnesota.

George Cetak, Ord's other entry on the Cornhusker squad, turned in his suit last week and returned home. Difficulty of finding housing or a job caused him to quit school, he said. He may matriculate at a smaller college or may decide to remain out of school this year and work.

American Legion Bought Building From Frank Kull

The Fidelity post of the American Legion bought a new home last week. A deal was completed whereby the servicemen's organization became the owner of the Kull building on the east side of the square. The building was purchased from Frank Kull, who lives in Santa Ana, Calif., for $7,500.00.

Ed Jenison, the post commander, says that work will commence the first of October to convert the basement into a suitable club room for the legion and its women's auxiliary. The building was purchased subject to the lease to Emory Thomsen and Walter Douthit, which expires in 1948.

The post has at present no plans for occupying any part of the building other than the basement. The problem of getting a suitable front entrance to the basement has to be solved. It is not known whether part of the side walk space may be used for the stairway or if the stairway will be built inside the building. The legion plans to retain its present hall, which it will use until work on the new club room is completed.

Suffering Ended For Mrs. Rassett

After Many Years of Poor Health Ord Woman Dies; Funeral Monday.

Death came to Mrs. William Rassett Friday after several months of suffering and many years of poor health. Funeral services were conducted in the Hastings-Pearson chapel Monday afternoon by the Rev. K. E. Harris. Mrs. Joe Jirak and Mrs. Glen Aulsebrook accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Orin Kellison. Interment was in the Ord cemetery with Ed Anderson, John Mason, William Kessler, George Hubbard, Jacob Hoffman and William Zabulodit serving as pall bearers.

Elizabeth Elmira Stanton was born near La Porte, Ind., Feb. 17, 1880 to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stanton. In 1884 she moved with her parents to Valley county where they settled on a farm in Springdale township. Here she grew to young womanhood and on April 18, 1901 she was married to William Rassett.

Five children were born to this union, three of whom died in infancy. Surviving are the husband, one son, Elwood, a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Hans, seven grandchildren, three sisters, Mrs. C. H. Finley and Mrs. Bill Wiberger of Ord and Mrs. E. B. Gilton of Wayne, and two brothers, Will Stanton of Arcadia and Walter Stanton of Pampa, Texas. A third brother, Joseph Stanton, died in 1920. Mrs. Rassett had been afflicted with poor health for over forty years. She bore her illness without complaint and seldom got beyond the bounds of her own home. She has been as a mother of four grandchildren who have lived in her home for the last twelve years. Death ended the suffering which she endured for several months.

Burwell To Vote on Airport Bonds

The citizens of Burwell will go to the polls Tuesday, Sept. 24 to decide if the town shall issue bonds to raise $16,000 for the construction of a municipal airport. Several Burwellites already own planes and more are awaiting delivery of planes which they have bought. The site of the proposed airport has not been determined. At present most of the fliers are using a field on the George Schulz farm east of the fairgrounds for landing.

Chanticleers Go To Holdrege for Football Opener

Ord Team Shapes Up Well Even Though Only Two Regulars Are Back.

Coach Cochrane's football squad, which has made rapid improvement during the few weeks of practice, but which still lacks seasoned experienced players, goes to Holdrege Friday for the season's opener. The game will be one of the toughest on Ord's schedule. With only two of last season's regulars back it comes at a time when the Ord squad can not have reached its best for the year.

Thursday evening the Chanticleers were given a 40 minute workout on a lighted field for the first time this year. The local fans were favorably impressed by what they saw. The team is whipping into shape and will undoubtedly give a good account of themselves.

They are matched against a much larger school. Last year 273 students were enrolled in the senior high school at Holdrege. Ord has 197 students in the three upper grades of its high school. However the Ord boys and their coaches are not dismayed.

- No. 71, Jay Stoddard, left half, a junior, wt. 145. No. 72, Ray Timmerman, right half, a senior, wt. 130. No. 73, Jack Koll, quarter back, a senior, wt. 150. No. 74, John Hannah, full back or guard, a senior, wt. 160. No. 75, Paul Laursen, right end, a senior, wt. 160. No. 79, Merritt Jenison, center or guard, a junior, wt. 160. No. 81, Wayne Goff, right guard or tackle, a senior, wt. 170. No. 84, Bryan Petersen, left guard or tackle, a senior, wt. 160. No. 87, All Blessing, left end, a junior, wt. 173. No. 88, Frank Ramaekers, left tackle or full back, a senior, wt. 170. No. 90, Martin Piskorski, right tackle or end, a senior, 180. All the above men have won letters. Cochrane's reserves none of whom have letters as yet in football are as follows: No. 70, Dick Tolen, quarterback, a sophomore, wt. 120. No. 76, Jim Kucera, left guard, a junior, wt. 125. No. 77, Alan Blaha, right half, a sophomore, wt. 135. No. 78, Adrian Kluna, full back, a senior, wt. 140. No. 80, Donald Haught, right end, a sophomore, wt. 145. No. 82, Lad Cochrane, left half, a freshman, wt. 145. No. 83, Lyle Sevenker, right tackle, a senior, wt. 152. No. 85, Jack Waldmann, left end, a sophomore, wt. 135. No. 86, Lloyd Guggenmos, left tackle, a senior, wt. 140. No. 89, Bill Anderson, center, a junior, wt. 145. No. 91, Donald Waterman, right guard, a junior, wt. 200.

Meat Shortage Threatens Ord

Meat is getting scarce in the butcher shops and meat counters in the grocery stores in Ord. Most places had enough to supply the demand Saturday but started out the week with a little stock on hand and prospects of getting more rather dark. Local slaughtering is expected to be the only source of meat until shortage caused by the withholding of stock from the market when the O.P.A. regulations were resumed.

Ord is no doubt faring better than many towns. Traveling men in Ord cafes are pleased when they find they can still get meat orders here. Some remarked that Ord eggs and chickens were the only meals available in many towns.

Mrs. Frank Lindsay Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Frank Lindsay of Burwell died in the Clinic hospital early Saturday morning of a heart ailment. She had only been in the hospital a few days and her friends and relatives, who did not realize the seriousness of her condition, were shocked by her death. She was forty-three years old.

Amanda Neumeier Lindsay was born near Burwell and spent most of her life in the vicinity of Burwell. Funeral services were conducted in the Methodist church in Burwell Monday afternoon by the Rev. Hindmand. Interment was in the Burwell cemetery. She leaves her husband and two sons, Arden, who is eighteen, and Terry, who is sixteen, her mother, Mrs. Mary Neumeier of Burwell, two sisters, Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Cecil Lindsay, both of Burwell, two brothers, Walter of Ord and Vernon of Arnold and many other relatives and friends.

Weed Supervisors To Be Elected at Meeting Sept. 27

Nearly everyone went to North Loup for the Pop Corn Days last Thursday and forgot all about the meeting for the purpose of organizing a district for the control of noxious weeds. Not enough farmers came to make a showing and so another meeting will be held Friday, Sept. 27, in the district court room in the court house.

At this meeting supervisors will be elected and assessments will be determined to carry out the work of weed eradication.

Many See Horse Show Thursday at North Loup

Jake Severns Judges More Than 50 Entries at Pop Corn Celebration.

One of the most popular features of the Pop Corn celebration in North Loup last week was the horse show in which more than fifty fine equine specimens from near and far competed for honors. The horses were ridden in the parade Thursday afternoon by the persons who exhibited them.

Early in the afternoon a potato race run on horseback provided amusement for the spectators. The large audience also enjoyed seeing a polo game in which brooms were used as mallets.

The golden palominos stole the show. In the palomino division Pat Hiser of Burwell won first place with Little Sunflower. Glen Bremer of North Loup took second with 'Bud, and Lloyd Bresley of Ord won third with his horse, Champ.

Ben Howell of Ravenna won first in the stock horse section with Honey Bee. Charles Kriewald of North Loup took second on Billie and Charles Ackles of Arcadia was third with Rhody.

In the maiden show of horses three years old or less Martin Fuss of Ord placed first with Banner. F. L. Hutchins of North Loup took second money on Mickey, and Gilbert Babcock of North Loup placed third with Dusty.

Florence Madsen of Arcadia took first honors in the shetland pony show with Dusty. Jacob Welty of Arcadia placed second with Junior, and Jim Karre of Burwell was third with Duke.

Jake Severns of Ord served as judge.

Mrs. Frank Beran Dies After Stroke

Funeral Tuesday for Woman Who Lived in County for Over Half Century.

Mrs. Frank Beran, who had lived in Valley county for fifty-four years, died in the Clinic hospital at 12:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon following a stroke, which she suffered about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening. Mrs. Beran attained the age of seventy-eight years and nine months.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Clarence Jensen, formerly pastor of the Bethany Lutheran church in Ord who now lives at Minden, at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Hastings-Pearson chapel. Interment was in the Ord cemetery with Frank Kasal, Reuben Lincoln Joe Karty, Clifford Flynn, Jim Gilbert and Ray Stewart serving as pallbearers.

Mrs. Beran was born at Lee Center Minn., Dec. 18, 1867. She was married to Mr. Beran Aug. 8, 1892 at Montgomery, Minn. and soon after their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Beran came to Valley county where they have lived for more than half a century. They chose a farm two miles north of Ord for their home. Their son, Stephen now lives on this farm. The hardships of pioneering were well known by Mrs. Beran. The hard work of many like her converted Valley county from an expanse of raw prairie to a settled community.

Crowds Attend Pop Corn Days at North Loup

Many Come Long Distances For Event; Parades and Program Enjoyed.

The largest crowd for many years attended the Pop Corn celebration Thursday afternoon and evening. One thousand pounds of pop corn were popped, sacked and given away during the two day celebration. Forty-six prizes were drawn Thursday evening, first prize, a fine saddle pony was won by Mrs. Victor Benben of Ord. Syl Boro, also of Ord won the radio and Annual Frazer of North Loup the $25. cash prize.

In addition there were seven $10. prizes, seventeen $5.00 prizes and nineteen other prizes, including an electric iron, electric table lamp and many other items given to attendants. All those prizes were made possible by the cooperation and generosity of the North Loup business men and Pop Corn Day boosters.

The juvenile parade on Wednesday afternoon had the usual number of fine entries and was led by the Scotia band.

In the baby buggy division, Carol Sue Sintek, won first as the farmer's daughter. Everett Boyce's twins, as two peas in a pod, were second place winners. Jud Carter won first prize in the scooter section. Philip Van Horn won first and Jerry Stine second in the strollers division. With tricycles, Marilyn and David Barber were first and Linda Williams of Scotia second. Tommy Williams of Scotia was first in the bicycle competition. In the comic section, the Union Ridge school children won first as one large family. With coaster wagons, Judith Ann Andersen of Ord was first and Valerie Joyce Sims and Miss Swanson second. In the miscellaneous division, Delores and Bethene Unger of Ravenna were first and Diane Sheldon and Linda Hawkes second. Lucy Switzer won first in the pets contest and Beverly Ann Allison second.

Following the parade, the Scotia band played on the platform south of the community building. W. O. W. radio entertainers gave a program and North Loup and Scotia played ball.

The evening program was opened with a concert by the Scotia band, which was followed by W. O. W. entertainers. Then came the coronation of the Pop Corn queen, who had been chosen by ballot the week before and whose identity remained a secret until the crowning. The coronation was arranged by the Young Ladies club and members of the club made up the royal party, dressed in pastel colored formal, Marilyn and David Barber were train bearers, Diane Knapp crown bearer and Denny Brown, sceptre bearer. Last years queen, Adella Waller, wore the crown to the platform and the queen, Miss Donna Manchester, stepped from a cleverly concealed booth, to accept it. Presentation was made by Ben Nelson as master of ceremonies. The new queen graduated from the North Loup schools last May and is entering the University of Nebraska this week to take up nurse's training.

The queen's float led the parade Thursday afternoon, preceded by the Ord band in their striking red and white uniforms and the saddle horse show. All entries in this parade were given $3.00. Prizes in this event went to Valley Side and Davis Creek in the grade school division; North Loup commercial department and Scotia high school in high schools, Nola club and Fortnightly club in clubs, and the cheese factory and Mobil Oil Co. in businesses. Julius Rachuy and Frank Beran won as old timers, and Dale Hancock and Alice Meyers as comics. The Fortnightly club had charge of this parade. The horse show followed the parade.

More old time North Loupers were home for the celebration than for many years. A guest book at the community hall in charge of Mrs. Hattie Clement has the following names from out of town:

Mrs. M. D. Earnest, LaMesa, Calif.; Mrs. Merrill Van Horn, Garwin, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Skike, Lamar, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collins, Ozark, Mo.; Maud Mayo Cress, Riverside, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, Amelia, Neb.; Mrs. A. E. Goodrich, Denver, Colo.; Olive Peterson, Brooks, Minn.; Mrs. Lulu Wilson, Arcadia; Mrs. Stella Parsons, Denver; Mrs. Roy Coleman, Littleton, Colo.; Mrs. Harvey Fulmer, Grand Island; A. A. Johnson, Big Springs; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Grow, Texarkana, Tex.; Mrs. Floyd H. Harris, Highland Park, Ill., and many others.

Exhibits were exceptionally good this year in all sections. The school and farm exhibits were in the back of Schudel's new building and the women's exhibits in the community building.

The recent order partially restoring grain allotments to brewers will not mean a sudden increase in the supply of Storz Beer.
Even with this new grain order, beer production is still 15% under what it was in September, October, and November of last year—which was far below pre-war levels.
So additional grain does not mean enough Storz for everyone. Restrictions still limit output. Some beer still must go to the men in our armed forces. And in addition, the demand for Storz beer is greater than ever ... so there just is not enough to go around.
And, it takes time to brew beer of Storz quality. It is "Slow-Aged." With Storz, quality is always first. No shortcuts are ever taken or substitute materials used. No sugar. No wheat. Every drop aged to perfection.
But more Storz is on the way ... and you know that each bottle you get will have real Storz quality, the very best you can buy.

ON GASLESS SUNDAYS
No sir, we haven't a thing against filling stations or the fine men who run them. We think filling station owners and attendants should have a day of rest as those of us have who are in other businesses. But it does make us mad to drive a hundred miles, passing through a dozen different towns, as we did on a recent Sunday afternoon, without being able to buy a drop of gas in any of those towns, finally winding up with an empty tank just 3 miles from home.

Even the smallest of the towns we passed through had two or three stations but every one had its doors locked. And when we finally did get to Ord, thanks to assistance on the highway by Jack Romans and Harry Zulkoski, we visited a half dozen stations here before we found one open. And it appeared to be the only one here that was open for business.

We do think the filling station owners should realize that they are in business because of automobiles and that automobiles are driven more on Sunday than on any other day. We think they should realize that people driving on long trips can't anticipate their needs and buy enough gas the day before to tide them over a long Sunday drive. And having realized those facts they should do something about it.

There would be no need for all the stations in every town to remain open Sundays, thereby depriving all the owners and attendants of their day of rest, but we do think they should get together in each town and formulate a plan by which at least one station would be open each Sunday for the convenience of the driving public, rotating open days among them so no set of service men is put to undue hardship. Or perhaps a station could remain closed on one week day and then stay open Sundays. We don't care how they work it out, but we think it should be worked out some way.

The automobile is no longer a passing fad and we think probably its here to stay Sunday driving is another institution that's here to stay also. Filling station owners please note.

of said day, sell at public auction the above described real estate at the West front door of the court house in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, as a whole or in such parcels as may be deemed for the best interests of the parties, to the highest bidder or bidders for cash. Said sale will remain open for one hour.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PETITION FOR DETERMINATION OF HEIRSHIP

In the Matter of the Estate of Luther McLain, Deceased. To all persons interested in said Estate, both creditors and heirs, take notice That William T. McLain has filed a petition in the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska, alleging that Luther McLain died intestate on January 15, 1941, a resident of Valley County, Nebraska, and being the owner of an undivided one-sixth interest in and to Lots 4 and 5 in Block 4 of Hillside Addition to the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska; that William T. McLain is the sole and only heir at law of the Deceased and is interested in said real estate as such. Said petition prays among other things that the allegations thereof be found true, and further prays for a determination of the time of the death of the said Luther McLain, a determination of his heirs and the degree of kinship and the right of descent of the real property belonging to the Deceased in the State of Nebraska, for a Decree barring all claims against said Estate, and for general equitable relief. Said petition has been set for hearing before said Court in the County Court Room in Ord, Nebraska, October 7, 1946, at 10 o'clock A. M. Dated September 11, 1946.
John L. Andersen, (SEAL) County Judge.

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years to give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Soldiers Return To High School

Two Ord boys, who have come back from the battle fields, have picked up their books, pens and other equipment and returned to school to finish their work for high school diplomas. Both boys were in the service over three years and spent many months overseas.

Dan Trompke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trompke, spent eighteen months with the army in France and Germany where he was a tank driver. Bernard Behrends, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Behrends, was a personnel clerk in the Pacific theater where he rose to the rank of technical sergeant. He saw the war through to the finish and returned home from Japan.

Both boys were drafted shortly after their eighteenth birthday anniversaries and are now over twenty-one years of age and consequently no longer entitled to free high school tuition. The federal government pays their tuition under the G. I. bill of rights.

Neither boy will require a full year of work for graduation. Behrends attends school only half a day.

John Mertz of Granite Falls, Minn., put in a call for a repair man after he detected an odor of gas in his home. The repair man found the gas leak in a hurry, immediately after he lighted a match. The resulting fire was extinguished within a few minutes and caused only minor damage, Mr. Mertz said.

Prospective Tenant: No, but one of my shoes squeaks a little.

Have you been leaving your car in the garage at home because it needed repairing and you couldn't get the part? That's silly—because the chances are we have that part here in our large stock of used parts. Used—yes—but it will probably last as long as your car. Come in and see.

This morning while preparing breakfast we ran across an egg with your name and address on it. I thought you might be interested in knowing where your produce goes and the part it plays in feeding the armed forces.
We are located about 35 miles from Tokyo and about the same distance from Yokohama. The name of our organization is the 4th Replacement Depot. We handle all troops coming into Japan from the states and also the men going home for discharge. No doubt some of your friends, neighbors or relatives passed through here. When the depot is filled we accommodate about 10,000 men. Our mess hall, the one that received your egg, averages about 3,000 men each meal. This probably explains some of your food shortages in the states.
My home was formerly near Sioux City, Ia. After seeing the way these Japanese people live and work, a person really appreciates being an American citizen.
Our weather here in this part of Japan is very similar to that of southern Kansas. The country is very pretty, especially in the mountains. I hope you folks have a good fall and a mild winter and that your crops are very good.
Good luck to you and your family.

Olsen-Olsen

In a double ring ceremony performed Friday evening, August 30, in the First Baptist church at Loup City, Miss Alberta Marie Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Olsen, became the bride of Robert E. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Olson.

The Rev. M. H. Knobloch, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, in Lincoln, read the ceremony assisted by the Rev. H. A. Sanders, resident pastor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue tailored suit with navy blue accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage and carried a white Bible. The maid of honor was Miss Julia McMichael, friend of the bride. She wore a teal blue tailored suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Best man was John Olsen, brother of the bride, Ushers were James Olson, brother of the bridegroom and Charles Graw.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson left that evening for a ten day trip to Denver and Estes Park, Colo. They will make their home in Waco, Texas, where the bridegroom is attending Baylor University.

The Methodist church in Arcadia will on next Sunday, September 22, hold a Church Bible School Rally Day. A very special invitation is extended to everyone to join us in this very special and outstanding service. Every father and mother is invited to come and bring the entire family, we have set a goal for attendance on next Sunday. We want you to help us reach that goal. We believe you will. We will look for you.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. McClary and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McClary of Omaha returned to their homes Wednesday, after being called here by the serious illness of their father, R. P. McClary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mather received word stating their son, Robert, would leave the United States September 17, for Midway Island, where he has a position. His wife will join him there later.

The Happy Hollow Aid met at the Community park Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John Fells as hostess.

Mrs. Fred Whitman Buried at Arcadia

Goldie A. Belling Whitman, daughter of James and Cora A. Belling, was born December 25, 1881, at Alexia, Ill., and died at her home in Arcadia, September 9, 1946, at the age of 64 years, 8 months and 15 days.

In 1889 she moved with her family to a farm west of Arcadia, where she grew to young womanhood.

She was educated in the Arcadia schools and following her graduation, taught six terms in the rural schools. She united with the Methodist church at the age of fifteen years, and was active in church work all her life, having been Sunday School superintendent for many years.

In the year 1908 she was united in marriage with Fred Whitman, of Arcadia. With the exception of three years spent on a farmstead near Mitchell, they have lived in the Arcadia community.

This loving wife and mother is survived by her husband, Fred, of Arcadia; and two sons; Dean Whitman, of Arcadia, and Dick Whitman, of Broken Bow; one brother, Harry A. Belling; three sisters, Mrs. Maude McClary, Mrs. Lily Bly and Mrs. Charles Hollingshead, all of Arcadia; two granddaughters and many other relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church in Arcadia Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. C. A. Busby in charge. Pallbearers were Walter Wing, Wesley Hurlbert, Ralph Porter, Emil Budzinski, Lester Farnell, and John Erickson.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Paben were Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Jewell.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Paben were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Paben.

Don Moody took Mrs. Moody and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mather to Grand Island Monday morning where they boarded the train for San Francisco, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Will White of Kimball, Ida., spent last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John White.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Youngquist and daughter of Loup City were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Shultz moved into the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stanton. Pat will take over the job at the telephone office.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bulger and Mrs. Vashli Hastings were business visitors in Ord Saturday.

Mrs. Ada Waterbury of Ansley spent from Friday until Monday at the home of her daughter and family, Mrs. Wm. Bulger.

Miss Mary Mason, who is attending school in Kearney, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Paben and Bernard spent Sunday and Monday in York visiting friends and relatives.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this means of thanking all those who sent me cards, flowers, and gifts while I was convalescing in the Loup City hospital.

Miss Freda Baller.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all friends and relatives, who remembered me with letters, cards, flowers and other gifts during my stay in the Loup City hospital.

Mrs. Roy Norris.

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for flowers, gifts, cards and help during the illness and passing of our beloved wife and mother.

The Whitman family and relatives.

Christian Science Services "Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 22, 1946.

The Golden Text is: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalms 114:7). Other Bible citations include, "Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens" (Jer. 10:11).

Quality Eggs Bring Better Prices!

● We buy all our farm eggs on a graded basis, paying according to quality, size, clean eggs. It will pay you to give your eggs a little better care. Easy rules that will produce quality eggs, if carried out, and insure greater profit, are as follows:

1. Provide at least one nest for each six hens.
2. Use plenty of clean nesting material. Dirty nests soil the eggs.
3. Cover dropping boards or pits with wire to prevent hens from tracking into nests.
4. Do not crowd your hens, have plenty of roosts and floor space.
5. Keep broody hens out of nests. Shut them up.
6. Gather eggs three times a day.
7. Keep eggs in the coolest place on the farm. A clean, well ventilated cellar or cave free from odors.
8. Market your eggs at least twice a week.
9. Sell your eggs on a grade. We pay you most for quality—"it pays." There is a demand for quality eggs and the consumer will pay the price.

Evergreens Planted Around Court House

A tree planting project was completed on the court house lawn last week. Six Austrian pines were set out to replace the ones planted last spring which failed to grow. The nursery that sold the trees last spring made the replacements as part of its guarantee. Eight spruce trees were also set out on the lawn. The abundant rains received the last two weeks have relieved Dave Haight, the custodian, of a lot of work with the hose.

Junior Wilson Picks Bride in Missouri

Junior Wilson And His Bride

At Wentzville, Mo., the Methodist church, decorated with palms, ferns, gladioli and lighted tapers, was the scene of a beautiful ceremony Sunday afternoon, Sept. 8, when Miss Mary Dean Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Carter, became the bride of Lloyd Wilson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson of Ord. The Rev. Glen Jones performed the ceremony.

The bride, in the absence of her father, who is in a California hospital, was given in marriage by Dean Rigg, a close friend of the family for whom the bride is named. Her dress was of white slipper satin, made with a tight-fitting bodice and full sleeves, fitting tightly and forming a V at the wrist. The V shaped neckline was formed of lace. The long white lace train was held in place by orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a white bible covered with tuberose and centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. H. S. Huffman Jr., matron of honor, wore a blue net gown. Her bouquet consisted of pink gladioli and chrysanthemums. The bride's maid, Miss Margie Primeau, cousin of the bride, was attired in a pale pink net dress. Her bouquet was of orchid gladioli and chrysanthemums. Miss Louise Clark, also a bride's maid, was gowned in pale blue net. Her bouquet was of yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums. All three attendants wore flowers in their hair, which matched those in their bouquets.

H. S. Huffman Jr., was the best man. The bridegroom's other attendants were Hurley Carter, Jr., brother of the bride, and Norman Primeau, the bride's cousin. During the ceremony Mack Pogrelis sang, "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Miss Connie Williams. The usherettes were the Misses Dorothy Huff and Jeanette Reuter.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Collison in Wentzville. About seventy-five guests were present. Cake and punch were served, the table being decorated with gladioli, ferns and candles, centered with a large three tiered wedding cake.

Miss Carter, a graduate of the Wentzville high school, attended the Junior college at Phoenix, Ariz., where she was a member of Eta Chi Epsilon sorority. She was queen of the Wentzville homecoming celebration in 1944. The bridegroom was a graduate of the Ord high school in 1944. He then entered the service and spent twenty-six months in the army air forces as a control tower operator. He met his bride while he was stationed at Luke field near Phoenix.

After a short honeymoon, which they spent in St. Louis, the couple are visiting his parents in Ord. They plan to make their home in Ord.

—Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Witherwax and children spent the week end in Callaway, where they visited relatives.

Standard Oil announces

A great new motor oil

Permalube Removes the 'goo' Improves the go!

Gives you premium-plus lubrication

Here's the latest idea in motor oils... remove the "goo." Get rid of engine deposits of soot, varnish, carbon, and sludge... and you definitely improve the go! There's nothing to stifle power, stick rings, or put a damper on free valve action. You get a sweeter-running engine... a better-lubricated, longer-lasting one, too.

Permalube, Standard's great new motor oil, gives you this premium-plus lubrication. It does more than thoroughly lubricate... it cleans your engine and keeps it clean.

For Permalube contains a patented ingredient that not only cleans up deposits already present, but also prevents new ones from forming.

So, remove the "goo," improve the go! Change to Permalube, Standard's finest motor oil, 35c a quart.

"I never saw oil drain out so dirty!" "Good! That shows Permalube's been taking out the 'goo'!"

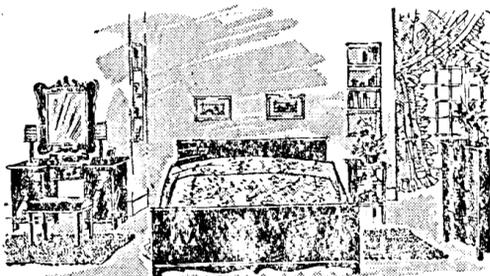

When you wash your hands, the basin water gets dirty. But your hands get clean! Same way when you use Permalube Motor Oil. The oil gets dirty. But the engine gets clean. The dirt is carried out of the engine when you drain out the oil.

Change to Permalube for premium-plus lubrication

Burwell Newly Weds

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meuret. Here are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meuret, who were married in the Sacred Heart church in Burwell, Sept. 3. Mrs. Meuret was Miss Eunice Donner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Donner, who live northwest of Ericson.

Dick Koupal's Bride

—Mrs. Richard Koupal
The marriage of Miss Joan Elaine Harrison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ulen S. Harrison of Neligh, and Richard Franklin Koupal of Ord, took place at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, August 22, in the St. Paul Methodist church at Lincoln. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Gerald Kennedy.

House Warming
Mrs. Dora Jorgensen and Miss Alma Jorgensen were surprised last Wednesday night when a group of friends and relatives arrived at their home in the Jones duplex apartment. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. William Jorgensen, Mr. and Mrs. William Goff, Mr. and Mrs. John Galka, John Jr. and Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Woods, Miss Mena Jorgensen and Will Nelson.

Miss Earlene Ransom, Norfolk, was maid of honor.
Mr. Koupal was attended by Allen Zikmund as best man. Dr. Charles S. Harrison, Chicago, brother of the bride, and Dale B. Ganz, of Lincoln, were ushers. After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and the Reverse S ranch at Deckers, Colo., the couple will be at home in Lincoln after September 15.

Mrs. Koupal was graduated from the Neligh high school and Stephens college and received her master's degree from the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester, N.Y. The last two years she has been professor of a violin class at the Oklahoma City University and as assistant concertmaster of the Oklahoma state symphony orchestra. Mr. Koupal was graduated from Ord high school and will complete his degree in music from the University of Nebraska in January. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, Sinfonia, National music fraternity. He served forty-four months in the United States navy. Mr. Koupal is well known as a tenor soloist.

Dinner For Newly Weds
Baskets of garden flowers graced the Masonic hall Thursday night for the dinner which Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Koupal gave in honor of their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koupal. The tables were decorated with bouquets of asters and other autumn flowers and white candles in crystal holders.

Fifty-five guests were present, most of whom were Richard's schoolmates. The ladies found miniature corsages at the places, which were the handiwork of Mrs. John Haskell.

A chicken dinner was served by the ladies of the Methodist church. John Haskell, who acted as master of ceremonies, made a toast to a bridal pair to which Richard responded.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koupal are gifted musicians. However, they were unable to sing during their visit to Ord as he was suffering of hay fever and she had a cold. They have promised their friends that they will return to Ord in the near future and present a concert.

—Mr. and Mrs. Knute Peterson have purchased the Vascek farm about seven miles north of Ord. They plan to occupy this place the first of March. The Petersons are now living on one of the Brockus farms southeast of Burwell, which was recently acquired by G. A. Butts.

—Bake sale and lunch served by the Bethany Lutheran Ladies Aid, Saturday, September 21, at the North Side Meat Market. Come in to get your lunch. 28-1tp

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noll returned last Thursday from Excelsior Springs, Mo., where they vacationed for two weeks. They had only been home a few hours when they were called to the hospital by the illness and subsequent death of Mrs. Noll's father, Mr. Clark.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Palmatier are in Ord at present visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmatier, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ulrich. Since his recovery from internment in a Jap prison camp and subsequent discharge from the Merchant Marine, Ellery has been working as a printer at Baton Rouge, La., in a plant which specializes in legislative printing.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spilnek and five children have moved to the farm on the north side of the river, which they purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douthitt. They formerly lived south of Scotia. Three of their children are attending the Ord high school while two are in the lower grades.

—Miss Beverly Davis left Saturday enroute to Lafayette, Ind., where she was appointed to an assistantship in the home economics department of Purdue university.

Teachers Attend Lincoln Meeting

Miss Clara McClatchey, Miss Rosalind Northway and Mrs. Winnie Bartz spent Saturday in Lincoln where they attended a school of instruction sponsored by the superintendents and principals of Nebraska schools, the Parent-

Teacher associations and the State School Boards association. The organizations sponsoring the school favor the adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment which was to pay school districts $40 per each pupil from state funds. Mrs. Bartz attended the meeting as a representative of the Fortnightly club of North Loup.

Writer of No Fund Check Fined $35

Bob Kwiatkowski paid a fine of thirty-five dollars and costs in county court last Wednesday because he wrote a no fund check for five dollars last June 18. The check was drawn on the Nebraska State Bank and was drawn payable to the Sinclair filling station in Ord. Complaint was filed by County Attorney John P. Misko.

Ord Hi Golf Team Second at Kearney

The Ord high school golf team placed second in the high school golf tournament held at Kearney Saturday with five teams competing. Grand Island won with a low team score of 216, Ord was second with 246 and Kearney third with 255.

Doug Dale led the Ord boys with a score of 75. Other players were Don Hill, Charles Davis and Al Blessing. Superintendent C. C. Thompson took the team to Kearney.

Asa Anderson Loses Sight in One Eye

Asa Anderson is a patient in the Lutheran hospital in Omaha where the doctors are making tests to try to determine the cause of the blindness which developed in one of his eyes while he was working in the Quiz plant Friday afternoon. Mr. Anderson will be in the hospital for five days. His cousin, Clifford Anderson and his wife of Burwell took him to Omaha Tuesday. Mrs. Anderson is with her husband. Mrs. Don Anderson of Burwell came to stay with the Anderson daughters when the parents went to Omaha. She plans to return to Burwell Wednesday or Thursday. The youngest daughter, Lynne, will likely be taken to Burwell where numerous relatives will care for her. The two older daughters, who are in school, will then stay with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jeffries until their mother returns.

Burwell Legionaires To Build New Home

The American Legion post in Burwell is planning to erect a new and larger building. Last week the legionaires sold their present hall to Dale Bredthauer. A site for the new building has been selected.

Methodist Women Meet

Circle No. 1 of the Sorority for Christian Service of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Clayton Noll Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Martha Schnecko was hostess to Circle No. 2, while Mrs. Bruce Peterson was hostess to Circle No. 3 which met in the home of Mrs. R. C. Greenfield the same afternoon.

Methodists Will Have Dinner for Teachers Sunday

A fellowship dinner will be held in the Methodist church Sunday following the morning service. Each family will bring covered dishes for the meal. The teachers of the Ord schools and the pastor, the Rev. Carl McConnell, who has been returned to the Ord church by the state conference, will be the guests of honor. "The Task of the Church", will be the topic of the sermon which the Rev. McConnell will deliver Sunday.

Shower of .85 Inch Falls Here Friday

Another heavy shower fell on Valley county and much of the state Friday morning. In about two hours .85 of an inch of rain fell in Ord, according to Horace Travis. The rain commenced about 8 o'clock. H. G. Bobst of the Soil Conservation district urges farmers to seed the waterways of their newly constructed projects to grass, as the moisture and weather conditions are ideal for getting a good stand. Valley county farmers are busy getting land ready for fall wheat some of which has already been planted. In some areas the soil is reported to be too wet for plowing. Ideal conditions for fall seeding coupled with fair yields and a high price this year is expected to encourage a record planting of winter wheat in the county.

Now is Good Time for Grass Seeding

H. G. Bobst, superintendent of the soil conservation district in Valley county, is urging farmers to seed the waterways with grass following the weekend rains. He points out that the rains have left the soil in excellent condition and that now is a fine time to seed the areas arranged to carry away runoff water. "There is plenty of moisture now to sprout grass" he says, "and excellent stands should result from seeding done at this time". He also encourages farmer to make seedings in pastures where the grass has died and in fields, which are not profitable for cultivation, and that the owner wants to get back into grass.

Certified Pawnee Seed Wheat

Our stock of Certified Pawnee Seed Wheat is getting pretty low and we will not get anymore this year. Get what you need as soon as possible. Our Pawnee grades No. 1, 98 Germ. and 99.25 pure, no other crop seed.

Brome Grass and Crested Wheat

Brome Grass is the shortest crop that we have known for many years and it is predicted that there will be none available for early Spring sowing. If you plan to sow Brome this season it would be wise to get your seed now. Crested Wheat is a little more plentiful but it is not a large crop.

Sweet Clover and Alfalfa

Ceiling prices are still in effect on both alfalfa and sweet clover if you are in the market or if you have it for sale. We are bidding full ceiling prices but can quote you seed that we have for sale at under ceiling prices.

Grains

We are in the market for your Wheat, Corn, Oats and Barley. If you have grain to sell let us make you an offer or if you want to buy grain come in and see what we have on hand to offer. We have trucks available to haul your grain in or out to your farm.

Proteins

Proteins are definitely extremely hard to get and it is almost impossible to buy Cotton Cake or Soy Bean Meal at Ceiling prices. We will have a few cars of Lincocoy to offer our local trade this year. If you need protein we strongly urge you to lay in your supply as early as it is possible to get it. The price is high but remember that it is very hard to get and we will quote it at Ceiling prices or lower.

It pays to buy from Noll.

Chanticleers Beat Holdrege 6-0 In '46 Season Opener

Stoddard Scores in Last Half Minute After Ord Fumbles Ruined Other Chances.

Set back on their heels throughout by fumbles and offside penalties, the Ord Chanticleers staged a last-quarter march the full length of the field Friday night to beat Holdrege 6 to 0 and thus open the 1946 season victoriously. Jay Stoddard plunged across from the 2-foot line with only 28 seconds of the game remaining and thus scored Ord's only touchdown, but his toss to Blessing for the extra point was grounded and the game ended seconds later.

Ord decisively outplayed the Dusters, making 17 first downs to only 8 for Holdrege, but three times fumbles recovered by the Dusters brought Ord efforts to naught.

The chant goal line was endangered only once. Midway of the final period Holdrege hooked together a series of short and long passes to reach the Ord 5 yard line but four plays later, thanks to an aggressive Ord line and an alert set of Chanticleer backs, they were right where they started and Ord took over. From his own 5 yard line Ray Timmerman scampered 27 yards, touching off an Ord march that carried to pay dirt. A pass from Stoddard to Blessing set the ball up on the Holdrege 2 foot line with only seconds remaining, and Stoddard plunged across the stripe into touchdown territory. When the conversion failed Ord had only time enough to kick off to Holdrege before the final gun sounded.

Ord Team Stadies

It was a well-played and exciting game and Ord fans, a large crowd of whom followed the Chants to Holdrege, were well pleased with the appearance of Coach Alex Cochrane's 1946 team. There were mistakes aplenty, as in any early season game, but the Chanticleers grow steeper as the game progressed and played a heavier Holdrege team literally off its feet.

After the first few minutes, when they were jittery, the Ord forward wall took charge and permitted few Holdrege gains for the rest of the game, the Dusters making their only first downs on passes, aided by offside penalties which were inflicted frequently on the alert and fast-charging Ord forward wall. At ends Coach Cochrane had Paul Laursen and Al Blessing, at tackles big Martin Piskorski and Frank Ramaekers, at guards veterans Wayne Goff and Bryan Peterson, and at center a newcomer, Doc Jenison. All showed promise, of developing into one of the best lines in Ord's history. Blessing, Piskorski, Ramaekers and Jenison did especially well, though few faults could be singled out in the play of other linemen.

T Worked Smoothly

At backs Cochrane started Stoddard, Timmerman, Jack Koll and Johnny Hannah. The T formation worked smoothly for an early season game, with "Tiny Tim" and Stoddard doing most of the carrying. Hannah's blocking and defensive play were noteworthy and Koll, playing safety, handled every Holdrege punt without a bobble and made some nice runbacks.

Also in suit for Ord were Bill Anderson, Don Waterman, Lloyd Guggenno, Dick Tolen, Jim Kucera, Donald Haught, Alan Blaha, Adrian Kluna, Lad Cochrane, Lyle Sevenker and Jack Waldman, but Coach Cochrane substituted sparingly and only a few of these saw service.

Coaches Cochrane and Pearson commented Saturday that they are well pleased with the team's performance against Holdrege. "We were nervous and jittery but this game will do a lot in preparation for Scottsbluff," Cochrane said. Pass defense and offense will be stressed in practice this week, he said.

Omaha Doctors Say Ord Boy Has Polio

Dr. F. A. Barta received a letter from Mrs. Josephine Taylor of Omaha Wednesday telling him that the doctors had diagnosed the illness of her brother, Leonard Pesta as polio. Leonard is a patient in the Douglas County hospital in Omaha. He was taken to Omaha Monday by Hilding Pearson. His mother accompanied him.

Leonard is the seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pesta, who live in East Ord. He has spent most of the summer working in Grand Island and returned to Ord several weeks ago. He became ill last Wednesday. Dr. Barta, who was called Sunday, felt quite certain the youth was suffering from polio when he examined him and rushed him to Omaha.

The Pestas have two other sons at home who are fourteen and nine years of age. The home is under quarantine but Mr. Pesta, who is a junk dealer, is allowed to conduct his business as he comes in contact with no children. This is the first case of polio Dr. Barta has encountered during the thirty-six years he has practiced medicine.

Many Attend Rites For Joseph Rowbal

Methodist Church Filled By Those Who Came To Pay Last Respects.

The Methodist church was filled Sunday afternoon by the friends, neighbors and relatives who came to pay their last respects to Joe Rowbal, Ord plumber who died unexpectedly last Wednesday. The service was conducted by the Rev. A. I. Haun, pastor of the Assembly of God church in Ord.

A mixed quartet composed of John Haskell, James Ollis, Mrs. Mark Tolen and Mrs. C. M. Davis sang three of Mr. Rowbal's favorite hymns with Mrs. Orin Kellison playing the accompaniment. Interment was in the Ord cemetery with Vern Anderson, M. B. Cummins, Roy Severson, John Nelson, John Andersen, and John Mason serving as pall bearers. Arrangements were made by Hastings and Pearson.

Joseph Florian Rowbal, son of John J. and Agnes Rowbal was born on a farm near Elba Aug. 10, 1880. He lived to attain the age of 66 years one month and 8 days. While still an infant he moved with his parents to Grand Island where the family lived for a short time before they moved to Colorado where they resided until Mr. Rowbal was six years old and they moved to Ord, which has been Mr. Rowbal's home ever since with the exception of a few years spent in Omaha and Chicago.

He had been engaged in the plumbing and sheet metal business in Ord since September of 1912 until a few months ago when poor health forced him to retire. However he remained active until the day of his death.

On Sept. 30, 1903 he was married to Miss Anna Butcher of Ord. Four children were born to this union, Mrs. Dorothy Cummings of Mitchell, S. D., William J. of Oakland, Calif. and Richard F. and Mrs. Merna Wigent both of Ord. He also leaves three grandsons and three grand daughters, a sister, Miss Lucy A. Rowbal of Ord, four brothers, John and Martin of Ord, George of Des Moines and Albert of Los Angeles, a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives and many friends.

One brother died in infancy and a sister, Mrs. Anna F. Holmes preceded him in death. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge for many years and of the Ord Volunteer fire department, serving one year as the chief. The Odd Fellows and firemen attended the funeral in bodies. Mr. Rowbal also served as councilman of the third ward for a number of years. He lived a life of usefulness to the community and will be missed by those who knew him.

R.E.A. District Hires Coordinator

The local R. E. A. district has hired a new coordinator according to Will Foth, president of the district. The new man who replaces W. C. Bolton, who left several weeks ago, is C. B. Holland. Mr. Holland expects to arrive in Ord Oct. 1. He is married. The Hollands have a trailer house in which they make their home.

2 Valley Counties Are Cheer Leaders At State University

Valley county students at the University of Nebraska will play an important role in keeping up the morale of the Cornhuskers this fall. Two of them, Doris Easterbrook of Arcadia and Raymond Biemond of Ord, were selected as cheer leaders Saturday. The two Valley counties were selected from a group of fifty-two applicants.

Miss Josie Kriz Found Guilty of Assault Charge

Fined $1 and Pays Cost of $16.85 for Hitting Her Aged Mother.

Miss Josie Kriz is shown above leaving the court room Thursday afternoon after County Judge Andersen had found her guilty of assault and battery upon the person of her mother. Miss Kriz was fined one dollar and was compelled to pay costs amounting to $16.85.

Mrs. Kriz charged that her daughter struck her in their home Sept. 14. Miss Kriz most emphatically denied the charge. She declared that owing to ill health she was forced to leave Ord and go to a warmer climate. She said she suffered from arthritis. "She just wants to humiliate me before I leave," Miss Kriz declared.

She told the court that her mother, to whom she always referred as "Mrs. Kriz", continually nagged her and teased her "because she did not have a man." The court room was packed with many neighbors of the Kriz family. The case was called for hearing at 10 o'clock Thursday morning but the hearing was postponed until 2 o'clock in the afternoon to summon Mrs. Anton Pokorney to the stand. Mrs. Pokorney, who lives on a farm west of Ord came to the Kriz home Saturday to bring them some tomatoes and cucumbers. Her understanding of English was not sufficient that she could testify and Rudolph Krahluk acted as an interpreter for her at the request of Judge Andersen.

Mrs. Pokorney testified that she did not see Miss Kriz strike her mother while she was present in the home but that it was possible that Miss Kriz could have committed an assault upon her mother without her seeing it. As the court could produce no witness who saw Miss Kriz strike her mother, it merely had the mother's word against that of the daughter.

County Attorney John P. Misko, who filed the charges against Miss Kriz upon the complaint of her mother, stated that the family had bothered him with their domestic difficulties ever since he had been county attorney, even though this was the first time that he had filed any charges against either of them. "It's time they should be taught," he declared. "That it's all right if they stay in their own house and fight but when they disturb the peace of the community they must pay the penalty."

Miss Kriz demanded to see the bruise or mark on her mother where she had been struck. "There is no mark, there is no bruise," she declared, "because I never struck her and the Good Lord is my Witness."

"It's all just up here," Miss Kriz concluded pointing to her head.

Ord Airport Is Being Improved

Administration Building Is Moved to Field; Hangar Soon to be Completed.

Development of the airport is moving forward rapidly, according to Gene Barnett, the manager, who has brought one of his planes to Ord and is now making his home here. Mr. Barnett hopes soon to start giving flying lessons under the G. I. training program.

Sealing of the runways has been completed and a small building has been purchased from Frank Piskorski and moved out to the field by Clemens Furtak where it will be used as a temporary administration building. With the aid of state and federal funds the promoters of the Ord airport hope next year to have a larger and better building of a more permanent nature.

Gus Schoenstein and John Beran went to Omaha on business Tuesday.

Tons of Valley County Potatoes Owned by Government are Spoiling

The first pile of potatoes shown above has been seen by many people who travel the highway between Ord and Burwell. It is on the Lech farm about midway between Elyria and Burwell. The potatoes, 109,000 pounds of them, were raised by Joe Lech. At the time they were ready for market no one wanted to buy them and so Mr. Lech sold them to the government.

The government inspector examined the pile Aug. 31 and the potatoes have remained undisturbed since. Mr. Lech is to receive $1.45 for the ones which were graded No. 1 and fifty cents per hundred pounds for the others. The inspector determined the percentage of No. 1 potatoes. The government established a support price of $1.90 per hundred and forty-five cents were deducted from this amount to offset the expense of washing, grading, sacking and the like. Mr. Lech will be paid for delivering the potatoes, when and if he is asked to do so.

He did not sell all of his potatoes to the government. He marketed three car loads from a seventeen acre field which netted him more than the ones he sold to the government. Some of the potatoes in the pile shown above are infested with flea beetle, which makes little brown spots directly under their skins and requires that they be pared more thickly. Mr. Lech intends to raise potatoes next year as he finds they fit into farm management plans. Labor difficulties are the chief drawback in the potato business he says.

Many of the potatoes in this pile are no longer edible. Those on the outside of the pile are sunburned and have taken on a deep purplish green color, and in the bottom of the pile some are starting to rot. A freeze would ruin the entire pile.

The pile shown on the lower picture is on the Smith-Sperling farm south of Burwell. The story on them is much the same as on the Lech potatoes. Most of the potatoes which Ralph Sperling, who lives on the farm and operates it in partnership with Dr. E. J. Smith in Burwell, are Triumphs. The Lech potatoes are Cobblers.

Mr. Sperling sold all the potatoes he raised on a field of about 20 acres to the government. He, too, was rushed with farm work when it was time to harvest the potatoes and many were never picked up and may still be seen in the field. Grass in the field interfered with the work of the potato digger.

Mr. Sperling still considers potatoes a good crop for the irrigating farmer and plans to raise them again. He has a twenty acre field of sugar beets. Mr. Sperling has a fine stand of sweet clover in the field of hybrid corn back of the potato pile. He planted it after the corn was laid by and the sweet clover is now five to six inches tall. Next spring he will plow it under as a green manure crop.

A new grain elevator is being built on the Smith-Sperling farm. The pit and foundation are already completed. Mr. Sperling has much of the necessary lumber on hand for the completion of the building after much shopping and searching in towns near and far.

21 Teachers Take Off-Campus Course

An off-campus course in freshman college English was organized Saturday in the county superintendent's office with twenty-one teachers enrolled. Those completing the course will receive three hours of college credit. Enrollments will still be accepted next Saturday, Sept. 28.

If there are enough students and teachers interested in advanced English, Miss McClatchey announces that another course may be organized. The course under consideration is listed as English 22 in the University of Nebraska catalogue. Persons interested in taking such a course are asked to leave their names at the county superintendent's office.

Sudden Death of Jason Abernethy Stuns Community

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Well Known Farmer and County Assessor.

Jason L. Abernethy, well known Valley county farmer and county assessor, died at his home in Ord about 11 o'clock Saturday evening from a heart attack. His death came as a shock to his family and friends. Mr. Abernethy had not been feeling well and went to see his doctor Saturday morning who gave him some medicine.

Saturday afternoon he worked as a checker at the Ord Livestock Market as was his usual custom. The sale was an unusually large one and as a result Mr. Abernethy's work was heavy. In the evening he told his wife he was very tired, took his medicine and went to bed. About 11 o'clock Mrs. Abernethy noticed that his breathing was very difficult and called the doctor but Mr. Abernethy succumbed before the physician arrived.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Carl McConnell in the Methodist church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Leslie Nash sang three solos accompanied by Mrs. Orin Kellison at the piano. Interment was in the Ord cemetery with Leonard Woods, George Satterfield, John Andersen, Clyde Baker, Charles Marshall and John Miller serving as pall bearers. The arrangements were made by Hastings and Pearson. Many of the friends whom Mr. Abernethy made during his years in Ord came to pay their last respects to him.

Jason L. Abernethy was born to George and Julia G. Abernethy on a farm in Johnson county, Nebraska, May 10, 1882. He lived to attain the age of 64 years, four months and 11 days. His childhood days and early manhood were spent on the farm where he was born. He attended the Pawnee City academy and graduated from the Lincoln high school.

In 1901 he came to Valley county with his parents, who chose a farm in the Joint community for their home. Mr. Abernethy lived on this farm for 45 years. On Oct. 4, 1905 he was married to Miss Mabel Anderson. The Abernethys retired from the farm and moved to Ord last March.

Mr. Abernethy was a public spirited citizen, who took an active part in the civic affairs of his community. For twenty years he was a member of the school board in District 61. He was a member of the township board for many years and was elected county assessor in 1942. He took the responsibilities of a public office entrusted to him seriously and endeavored to perform his duties well. When he became county assessor he found that taxes were being levied in an outdated manner and worked long and hard to devise a better system which has won the praise of many state officials.

He was long a member of the Methodist church in Ord and followed the teachings of Christ in his daily living. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias. Mr. Abernethy greatly enjoyed hunting and fishing which were his principle recreations. Until a few years ago he was well known as a baseball player. He played on the same team with his son. On the baseball diamond Mr. Abernethy made many friends and associations which he cherished. He also enjoyed a game of chess.

His honesty won him the respect and trust of all with whom he had business dealings. His advice was often sought and followed. His many acquaintances have lost a trusted friend in his passing to the other world.

He leaves his wife, a son, Raymond T. Abernethy of Lincoln, two daughters, Mrs. Stewart Hosman and Mrs. George Howard both of Oakland, Calif., seven grandchildren, a sister, Miss Louise Abernethy of Lincoln, and a brother, Ed Abernethy of Elk Creek, Nebr. Two brothers preceded him in death, Harry, who died after service during the First World War and Will, who died in Canada, where he made his home.

Township Caucuses Select Candidates Wednesday Night

Both Parties Choose Same Men in Two Precincts; Many Vacancies.

Political harmony prevails locally in two townships in Valley county where the Republicans and Democrats both nominated the same candidates for township offices at the caucuses held last Wednesday night. In Liberty township both parties named the same candidates: Louis Zadina, clerk; D. W. Nordstrom, treasurer; Clayton Duniap, justice of the peace; Ben L. Sheppard, assessor.

In Yale township the candidates which both parties selected were: W. D. Kingston, clerk; J. A. Braden, treasurer; Ray Lutz, justice of the peace; Carol Lutz, assessor.

In the First ward in Ord the Republicans nominated C. D. Gilroy the assessor and in the Second ward they nominated J. A. Brown. Joe Rohla is the Republican candidate for assessor in the Third ward. The Democrats did not submit any candidates for these offices.

The list of the candidates which have been turned in to the County Clerk, Leonard Woods is as follows. The first named is the candidate for township clerk, the second is treasurer, the third is justice of peace and the fourth name listed is the candidate for township assessor. In some townships both parties did not submit candidates.

WE'RE STILL AGIN IT.

Two weeks ago we stated editorially that The Quiz is against the proposed School Amendment by which it is proposed to amend the state constitution to require the unicameral legislature to raise each year "from sources other than a tax on real property" $40 per pupil based on daily attendance or in other words a sum roughly equivalent to $8,000,000, for support of the schools. Elsewhere on this page appears an able article by Miss Clara McClatchey, our esteemed Valley county superintendent and president of Dist. 4, Nebraska State Education Association, answering our editorial and supporting the proposed amendment. After reading Miss McClatchey's arguments, and having heard the proposed amendment discussed considerably in the past few weeks, we're compelled to say, "We're still agin it."

If our schools need more money in order to educate our children properly we still believe it can be raised within the limits of existing laws, without venturing into such a dangerous field as requiring by constitutional amendment that our legislators raise the vast sum of eight million dollars each year by a sales tax, which Nebraska has always shied away from, and properly so. Even the most ardent advocates of the school amendment concede that a sales tax is the only new tax that could, year in and year out, hope to raise the amount of money required.

Miss McClatchey points out that many school districts are already levying the war emergency levy of 22 mills and implies that funds so raised do not meet existing needs. Where true there is still the remedy of raising valuations of real property, which would accomplish the desired result of raising more money and certainly is justified by increased real property values. Or if necessary the legislature could even increase the levy limit, which would be simpler and less dangerous than to place such a sweeping and far-reaching amendment into our state constitution.

The question has been raised, as Miss McClatchey points out: "How did the sponsors of the amendment arrive at the $40 per pupil proposed state aid?" She answers that this amount is approximately one third the average annual cost in the nation. Then she proceeds to show by statistics that the amount expended per pupil in Valley county last year was $160.00. In other words, the average annual cost in the nation is $120 per pupil and Valley county's rural schools spend an average of $160. under existing Nebraska laws, or $40 above the national average on which is based the argument for the school amendment. Yet advocates of the amendment including Miss McClatchey want an additional $40 per pupil, which if her figures are correct would give Valley county rural schools $200. instead of the present $160 per pupil to spend. If funds now provided are above the national average we certainly cannot understand the demand for this amendment.

Opponents of the amendment have claimed that around 3,000 small districts in the state may not be eligible to receive the proposed state aid under the provisions of this amendment. About that we do not know. But, if a district is eligible, we understand it will receive $25 per pupil per year from the state more or less automatically. If a district has five pupils, then, it will get the munificent sum of $125 per year. But, if the district's levy is equal to or higher than other districts of its class, it will get an additional $200 per year. That provision may be all right. Thirdly, outlines Miss McClatchey, all money left in the fund is to accumulate and is to be distributed as the legislature shall direct to equalize educational opportunity to all boys and girls. With that provision we cannot agree. Such a fund might aggregate millions and what a political weapon it might become in the hands of a small group of men can readily be imagined.

Proponents of the amendment claim that Nebraska teachers are underpaid because of lack of funds. We doubt that statement. In our opinion Nebraska rural teachers, drawing $120, $140, $160 and more per month are about as well paid, their hours of work, educational requirements and other factors considered, as are most other Nebraskans. In fact not long ago we were told of an instance in which a rural teacher, with only a high school normal training education and working under an emergency certificate, was being paid a higher salary than the county superintendent of schools in her county, whose salary is fixed by statute. But elective county officers, who surely are deserving of higher salaries, are not affected by this proposed amendment. Why not another amendment to help them also?

As we've said before, we don't like the idea of this amendment at all for several reasons—because its passage will almost surely force enactment of a sales tax; because it will, to some extent at least, take away local control of the schools; because it will create a vast fund that will be handed out under political pressure; because it may create more inequalities than the inequalities it proposes to correct; because we have yet to be convinced that the professional school people who sponsor

In Favor Of The School Amendment

Thanks, Mr. Quiz Editor, for opening your column to anyone who cares to speak for the School Amendment. In spite of your heading "We're Agin It" your concluding paragraph leads me to believe you still are of open mind and willing to change that heading when and if you are convinced the arguments for the proposed amendment are sound, and I believe they are.

Article VII Sec. 6 of the Nebraska Constitution says, "The Legislature shall provide for free instruction in the common schools of this state of all persons between the ages of five and twenty-one." Is it therefore unreasonable to interpret provide to mean some kind of financial support? The courts of our state recognize that the schools are creatures of the state and the Constitution makes the legislature responsible for the free instruction in the common schools.

In 1869 the state of Nebraska passed a law providing a statewide two mill levy for the support of the schools. In 1907, no one seems to know why, the legislature repealed all laws providing general support of schools. Today practically the only source of revenue for our schools is the property tax. This tax furnishes about 93.5% of all school funds. Isn't it about time the property owner is given some help in supporting the schools?

Many districts are now levying the war emergency maximum levy of 22 mills and many others are levying the pre-war maximum of 20 mills. Mr. Editor isn't that reason enough for the proposed amendment to read "the legislature shall raise revenue from sources other than a tax on real property?"

How did the sponsors of the amendment arrive at the $40 per pupil proposed state aid? That amount is approximately one third the average annual cost in the nation. The fund so raised is to be distributed in three ways by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. First on a per pupil basis, $25 per pupil in average daily attendance. Second on a school district basis, $200 to each school district whose levy is equal or higher than the average of its class. The third sum is to be distributed as the legislature shall direct to equalize educational opportunity to all boys and girls.

Does Nebraska need State Aid? There are many inequalities in the ability of the several local school districts to support an adequate school. Mill levies vary in the state from .2 of a mill in one district to 22 mills in another. In some districts there is one hundred times as much taxable wealth per child as another. How can the local school districts provide the same type of education to all children under such conditions?

Mr. Editor, I am at a loss to understand your statement that the proposed amendment would increase the per pupil cost from $4 to $44. Where in Nebraska or another state can you educate a child for $4, or for that matter, for $44 per year? In the one room rural schools in this county last year our total average daily attendance was 492 pupils. The total cash expenditures in these same schools amounted to $78,693.44. This would make our per pupil cost nearly $160. per year. I can't believe that Valley County is that far out of line with a state or national average.

Who are the sponsors of the proposed amendment? The Nebraska Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Nebraska State School Boards Association and the Nebraska State Education Association.

And why are the sponsors proposing a Constitutional Amendment rather than legislative enactment of a State Aid Bill. For two main reasons. First, because of the permanence of such a measure. Funds voted by any legislature are subject to change by each succeeding legislature. The Constitution can be changed only by the vote of the people.

The second reason is that funds voted by the legislature for a specific purpose have often been diverted by a succeeding legislature to some other purpose. Some of the outstanding examples: The local schools once were given all fines and license moneys, the gasoline tax was originally voted for use of the highways only. In Colorado the income tax was originally voted for the schools but has since been diverted to other purposes. Funds provided by the constitution for schools can be used only as the Constitution provides. We believe in the School Amendment.

Nebraska stands at the bottom of the list of states in their provision for State Aid. She contributes only 1.05% of the total cost. Delaware contributes 92.7%.

When we are told that the nation annually spends for liquor an amount equal to $45 for every man, woman and child, surely $40 per child per year is little enough to ask the state to contribute for the education of that child. Vote YES on the School Amendment.

A subscriber has asked me what percent of the population of these United States are in the service of state or nation in some salaried job. I would be interested to know myself. Wonder who has the answer? What we do know from reading the daily press is that the number is all the time increasing. New boards and commissions and inspectors and investigators are all the time being appointed but we seldom see where one is let out and if so it is for the purpose of putting him in some higher salaried position.

When you have paid your subscription always look at the corrected date and see that it is correct and if not call our attention to it at once. We aim to have it right but sometimes we make mistakes.

And speaking of gravies, Tom Borovka has invented a new kind. He wanted gravy for dinner the other day and his wife said she didn't have anything to make it of. Tom claims to be quite a cook himself so he started browsing around and found a dish of cold beet greens left from the day before. He warmed them in a skillet, poured in some milk and when all was boiling hot he thickened it and claims that it made a wonderful dish of gravy, and entirely different than any he had ever had before.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Most candidates for state and other higher offices seem to think that their campaign printed material must bear the union label, yet there are dozens of non-union print shops in the state to every union shop. I wonder what they would think should the farmers decline to vote for the candidate who hands him a card with the union label on it.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.
By John L. Ward

The publishers have promised me that, when they start putting out the Quiz on the new press, they will be able to use this column all the time—almost. There is no difficulty in writing a column. Even Ed Apking or Rex Wagner could do it, if they took the notion. The chief difficulty in writing a column is to make it different. The same old thing every week would not do. What I need is ideas for this column, and I am free to admit that I have had some splendid help in the past. Keep those ideas coming.

I met with so much success with my column about the old time ball players that many have complimented me on it, and many have asked for some more along the same line. It so happens that a number of old timers have visited in the county the past week or two, which gives me the idea that some of you might like a relish of the days of the long ago, about the turn of the century, say. Two of the real old citizens, Tutton Chariton and Elmer Gard, have been here. I saw Elmer, but missed Tutton.

Going back to 1901, I recall the famous Century class, the biggest class up to that time in Ord high history. Think of it, there were twenty-four of them, but going through high school was not as easy then as it is today. Of those twenty-four, many have passed on, others are scattered all over the nation. Just now I can think of only three, Art Mensing of near Burwell, Mrs. Ava Johnson of North Loup and John Rockhold of Comstock, who are still living within reach of the old home town.

It was about that time that the Ord Christian church was the only building standing on the block, and the rest of the ground there was used as a baseball diamond. Many and exciting were the battles, both on the diamond and on the side lines, that were fought there. Often the police had to take a hand, and on at least one occasion the city marshal was the only man who got hurt in the melee. Those were the days of such celebrities as Bennett of St. Paul, Freer, Reddy Ward and Lewen of the Prairie Dogs, Art Clements, Bud Shirley, John Rockhold and others from Ord.

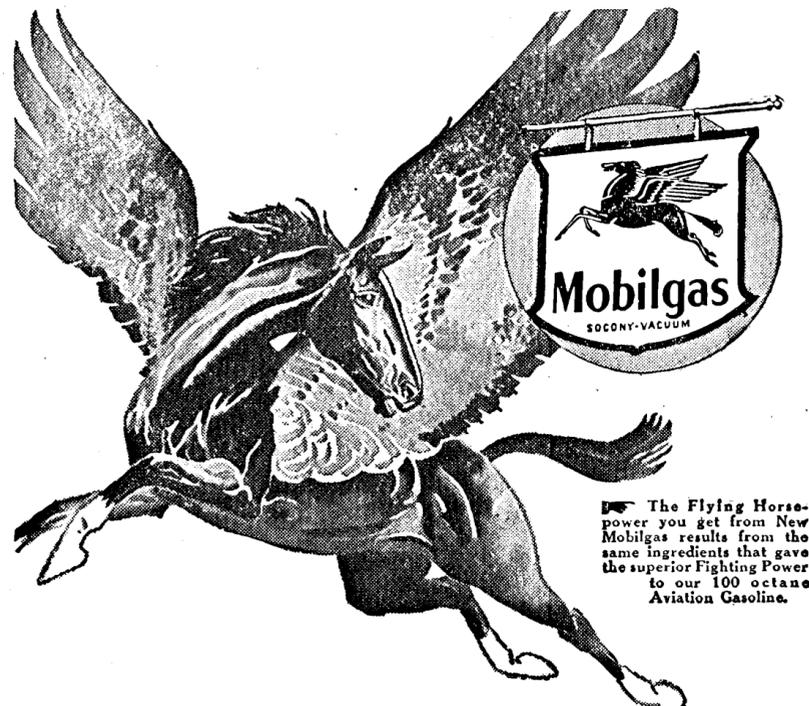

In those halcyon days W. W. Haskell was the young man, running the Ord Quiz, J. L. Claffin was publisher of the Ord Journal, and a good looking young fellow, H. D. Leggett, was putting out the Valley County Times. Kroetch Bros. were running a lumber yard, the present Koupal and Barstow location, I believe. In the mercantile business were Sarah McLain and Manie Siler, L. D. Bailey and sons, F. J. Dworak, Samuel Fackler, G. W. Milford and sons, and Mallory and Perry Co.

Ord had two banks in those days, one of which, the First National, still survives. The officers then were: Peter Mortensen, president, G. W. Micklewait, vice-

To those who eagerly await their new Chevrolets...

Here Is the Latest News about Chevrolet Deliveries

Everybody from factory to dealer is doing everything that can be done to speed deliveries to you

We have been informed by the Chevrolet Motor Division that the past month has witnessed only a slight improvement in the rate of production of new Chevrolet passenger cars. As a result, shipments of new cars to dealers for delivery are still far below the level we and the factory had hoped to attain by this time. In fact, through August, Chevrolet's output of cars in 1946 was only 22.6% of the number turned out during the corresponding period of 1941.

We know that Chevrolet is doing everything possible to step up its production totals—to ship more and more cars to us and to its thousands of other dealers throughout America... and we know, too, that we are assured of getting our full proportionate share of the current output and of future production gains.

Disappointing as the total figures have been—and despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of the year—it is nevertheless true that Chevrolet led all other manufacturers in production of passenger cars during June 1946, and has continued to maintain its lead in total production from that day to this.

We shall continue to make deliveries of new Chevrolets to our customers just as fast as we receive them; we regret delays as deeply as you do; we thank you for your friendly patience and understanding; and we promise you a new high motoring experience when you take delivery of your new Chevrolet, giving BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST!

Keep Your Present Car Alive

Meanwhile, may we suggest that you safeguard your transportation by bringing your car to us for service now and at regular intervals. Let us help you to keep it in good running condition—to maintain its performance, appearance and resale value—until the day when your new Chevrolet comes along.

North Loup Lost First Football Game of Season to St. Edwards. North Loup lost its opening game of the season to St. Edwards by a score of 14-13. The game was played between two well matched teams.

On three occasions North Loup drove inside the St. Edwards 10 yd. line only to bog down and lose the ball. Both of St. Edwards touchdowns were the result of long passes.

The starting line up for North Loup was Redlon, Nelson and Hutchins in the backfield, and Smith, Kerr and Gowen in the line. Dick Gowen received a minor rib injury early in the second half and was removed from the game.

The North Loup offense functioned effectively at times. Defensively, however, much is to be desired and a changed line up is planned for Friday when the team plays at Cairo.

The Methodist church will give a reception for the public school teachers and the pastor and his family, Thursday, September 26, 8 p.m. It will be a social evening and refreshments.

Married Here

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Boro —Photo by Swopes

Miss Mildred Moudry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moudry, became the bride of Sylvester Boro, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boro at a nuptial high mass in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, Tuesday morning, Sept. 17 at 9 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Sadowski.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely to see in a floor length white satin dress with a double net skirt and a sweetheart neckline. She wore a fingertip veil with an orange blossom crown and a three strand pearl necklace with matching earrings. The bride carried a sterling silver rosary and a bouquet of red roses.

Her attendants were Lauraine Boro, sister of the bridegroom and Viola and Darlene Puncuchar, her close friends. They wore dresses of aqua net with lace trim. They had matching net crowns and carried colonial bouquets.

The bridegroom and his attendants all wore brown suits. The best man was Bernard Augustyn and Leonard Moudry and Adrian Kluna, the bride's nephews, were the other attendants. Flower-bearers were Marilyn Rutar, a niece of the bride and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutar, Jr. and Phyllis Vrabel, a cousin of the bridegroom and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vrabel of Columbus. They wore long white net dresses and carried small colonial bouquets of rose buds.

About sixty guests were present at the wedding dinner and supper served in the home of the bride's parents. The table centerpiece was a four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with a miniature bridal pair. The cake was baked by Mrs. Joe Rutar, Jr., sister of the bride.

Elyria Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William Chalupsky —Photo by Swopes

Miss Sylvia Iwanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Iwanski of Elyria became the wife of William I. Chalupsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Chalupsky of Comstock in a double ring ceremony and a nuptial mass solemnized by Rev. Leonard Ziolkowski at the St. Mary's church in Elyria, Tuesday, September 17 at 9 o'clock.

The bride was dressed in a white silk dress, made with a tight fitting bodice and sleeves which formed a V at the wrist. The net skirt was accentuated with a sweetheart neckline and fingertip veil held in place by a white beaded tiara. The bride carried a shower bouquet of pink roses.

Eva Chalupsky, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride. The bride's maid was Miss Marge Trettna of Lincoln, friend of the bride. Both attendants wore fall green dresses and carried fans filled with yellow carnations.

The bridegroom was dressed in a blue gabardine suit. He was attended by his friend, LeRoy Wells, and Richard Beran, cousin of the bride. Both of the attendants wore brown suits.

Following a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Chalupsky are at home in Burwell.

Walter Dobson Weds

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dobson T-5 Walter Allen Dobson and Doris Graves were married July 27 in the Pine Street Christian church in Tacoma, Wash. by Rev. Ernest Durham. The double ring ceremony was used. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Evans. A few friends and relatives of the bride attended the ceremony. At present they are at home at 2009 East 35th St., in Tacoma. Allen is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dobson of Ord and is in the service, and stationed at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

—Mrs. M. Biemond and Cork flew to Omaha Wednesday.

Auxiliary To Make Convention Plans

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held in the Legion hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 1, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired at this meeting where plans will be made for the district convention of the American Legion and the auxiliary which will be held in Ord Oct. 22.

The auxiliary members announce that their door prize is getting larger. All members are urged to attend the next meeting where a name will be drawn. The door prize should be an incentive to encourage a good attendance.

The invalid bed and the wheel chair which the auxiliary has purchased for the use of the people of the community are available to any one needing them.

ANNIVERSARY

On September 28, 1922 our store was established in Ord and it has been in continuous operation since, devoted exclusively to clothing the girls and women of this community smartly and economically. This week is our 24th anniversary and we invite you to visit our store Friday or Saturday.

September 27 - 28

The garments that are featured in this store come from nationally-famous firms, and they are Chase exclusives. We have built our business upon this type of merchandise — all of it is sold with an unconditional money-back guarantee.

NEW FALL STYLES

New fall styles are now on display — and we've a prize assortment that's hard to beat. For styling — for movement — for grace — for roughing it — for city-slicking — for work or play — there's a Chase garment that will suit you to a "T". And in spite of all this talk about inflation — the garments you find here wave a price tag that defies their own elegance. Don't miss seeing the items now on display.

FREE GIFTS

As our anniversary gift to you we will give a pair of Phoenix Nylon Hose to all customers purchasing over $20 worth of merchandise on these two days. A hearty welcome awaits you!

There were about thirty-five present, including Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Weddel of Kearney. Mrs. Weddel is a sister of Mr. Mather.

On Friday, September 20, 1946, Miss Winnie McCall became the bride of Ed. Arnold in the Methodist church. The bride was dressed in a blue street length dress and wore a corsage of white asters. The bridegroom wore a grey business suit and wore a red aster boutonniere. They were attended by Miss Alfreda Collier.
Nineteen members of the Eastern Star went to Loup City Monday evening, September 23, where they were dinner guests of Mrs. Jane Outhouse, who is state Grand Worthy Matron. Candidates for membership of the lodge will be Mrs. Leona Rounds and Mr. and Mrs. Don Youngquist.
Mrs. Sophia Clausen returned to Arcadia Thursday, September 19, after spending several weeks visiting relatives and friends in the east.
Mrs. S. T. Battles of Genoa arrived Friday to visit at the homes of her sisters, Mrs. C. C. Baird and Mrs. Mae Osborne.

John Erickson of Ansley spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eric Erickson, and Irvin Youngquist.
Tom Philbach of North Carolina, Mrs. Lena Hassel and daughter, Jackie, of Rosebud, Arkansas, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Ackles and family of Hastings are visiting at the Ralph Ackles home.
Mr. and Mrs. Richard McIlravy and family of Venice, Calif., are visiting at the Magnus Pearson home.
Mrs. Mae Osborne entertained three tables of pinochle last Friday.
On account of the rain the Arcadia Methodist church was forced to postpone the Bible school Rally Day program, set for September 22, but will hold the Rally Day service Sunday, September 29, at 10 o'clock a. m. Everyone is invited. Come and bring some one with you. Help us reach a record breaking goal. We'll be looking for you.

SET YOUR SIGHTS

It takes planning to achieve a goal

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both.

Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Honorably discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$90 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

HIGHLIGHTS OF REGULAR ARMY ENLISTMENT

1. Enlistments for 1½, 2 or 3 years. (1-year enlistments permitted for men now in the Army with 6 or more months of service.)
2. Enlistment age from 18 to 34 years inclusive (17 with parents' consent) except for men now in Army, who may reenlist at any age, and former service men depending on length of service.
3. A reenlistment bonus of $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service, provided reenlistment is within 3 months after last honorable discharge.
4. A furlough for men who reenlist within 20 days. Full details of other furlough privileges can be obtained from Recruiting Officers.
5. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men who are discharged to enlist or reenlist.
6. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal military service counts toward retirement.
7. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater (of those still open) on 3-year enlistments.

LOCAL NEWS

—Miss Vivian Fredericks was a visitor in Grand Island Saturday.

—A six and a half pound daughter, who has been named Veronica Juliann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Sydzzyk Saturday morning. Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris were in attendance.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fernbaugh, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. George Round, Sr., and her sister, Mrs. Hugh Carson, in Ord left Saturday morning on the bus to return to their home in Santa Barbara, Calif.

—Vern Matolepszy started to work Monday as an interviewer in the employment office in the City hall. He replaces Ross Hill of Arcadia who resigned to enter Creighton university.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Abernethy of Elk Creek, Nebr., were called to Ord Sunday by the death of his brother, Jason Abernethy. Raymond Abernethy of Lincoln also arrived in Ord Sunday. Mrs. Abernethy's daughters, Mrs. Stewart Hosman and Mrs. George Howard both of Oakland, Calif., arrived in Ord Tuesday night.

—Mr. and Mrs. Weldon LeFan and two children, who have been living in Kansas, arrived in Ord last Wednesday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohn. Weldon reports that it rained too much in Kansas to suit him and that much of the country where he lived was under water. He secured employment in western Nebraska.

—Jim Finley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Finley, is now attending the State Teachers college in Kearney. He was discharged from the navy last July. He spent the weekend at home with his parents.

—Elmer L. Gard of Walla Walla, Wash., is making an extended visit in Ord with his brother, Dr. G. R. Gard and Mrs. Gard. Mr. Gard was a jeweler in Ord forty years ago. He also was in the jewelry business in Walla Walla but has now retired.

perintendent of the Ord schools. Rev. Charles A. Arnold was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ord.

When you were born your parents had a choice among Drs. F. D. Haldeman, R. A. Billings or C. A. Brink. Later on when your teeth needed attention you might look forward to visiting Dentists J. C. Holson or H. T. Clark. By the way, Dr. Holson is still practicing dentistry in Burwell. Another doctor of those days was Dr. E. J. Bond. When the angel of death spread his wings over a home, the relatives had a choice of calling either A. M. Daniels or Hadyn Strong.

Ord had quite a fine array of legal talent then, including the Clements trio, E. P., E. J. and A. A., Herman Westover, Charles A. Munn, A. A. Laverty, T. L. Hall, R. L. Staple, George W. Oall and

A. M. Robbins, J. C. Hayes owned the present Quiz building as a residence. Del Chapman was manager of the Woolbury Milling company, later the home of Ord's Big Four, but now torn down.

Misses Minnie and Anna Marks were dressmakers, and Miss Anna is still active in the business. Miss Ella Wheeler Bond was making a name for herself in music and still can show the younger generation how the piano should be played. E. L. Gard was jeweler and optician. (That was before the days of optometrists). H. G. Westberg and F. J. Bell were the Ed Swope's of the early days. J. C. Work and Hewitt and Stafford were the village blacksmiths. Jaques and Barstow bought your grain, Morris and Stroup fixed your bicycle, and last, but not least, Mingserson Coombs was a dealer in new and used furniture.

Good Record Made By Pop Corn Maids In 4H Club Work

The Pop Corn Maids of North Loup have just completed a notable record of first year 4-H Club work. In the project "Learning to be a Homemaker" each of these sixth grade girls has made and exhibited at the county fair and Pop Corn Days a tea towel, lunch cloth and napkin set, comforter protector, and silverware case. Competing in the largest class of exhibitors at the county fair, the five girls were awarded 4 blue, 1 red, 1 white, and 2 pink ribbons on their sewing.

In the individual judging contest two of the members placed first and second. The club was awarded first in the group song contest. The division for individual demonstration was won by the Pop Corn Maids entrant with her presentation of basic flower arrangements. The participant's superior work was rated professionally correct and highly informational.

Earlier in the summer this same demonstration provided an interesting part of a program offered for guests attending the North Loup flower show. The member's individual entries were listed among the prize winners at the show and the club itself placed second in the division showing dinner table arrangements.

Pop Corn Day activities included a prize winning float which portrayed homemaking as Nebraska's finest industry. The club members, Jeneane Brennick, Jo Ann Burrows, Delores Cox, Judy Ingerson, Janet Markvicka, Lucy Switzer, and their leaders, Jacqueline Burrows and Bonnie Babcock, are proud of their first year's achievement record and list mother cooperation and good neighbors as a club's finest assets.

president, E. M. Williams, cashier, and O. R. Paist, assistant cashier. The capital, surplus and undivided profits amounted to $75,000. Compare that with the present bank assets. The Ord State Bank, in the corner of the Hotel Ord, and its officers were F. L. Harris, president, A. E. Charlton, cashier, and Percy Mount, assistant cashier. The capital of this bank was $50,000.

Rollin W. Bond was the leader of the Ord band, known as Bond's concert band. That was before the days of high school bands, and most, if not all the members, were past high school age. Included in the list were Charles J. Masin, George Jensen, A. A. Clements, Frank Barta, James Barta, Rollin Smith, James A. Waters, George Eret, Louis Fletcher, William Gruber, Elmer L. Gard, Curtis Cook, T. Waters and Joseph Eret. Of that group, not one person lives here today.

Vincent Kokes was county clerk and clerk of the district court then. Adam Smith was sheriff. W. B. Keown was county treasurer. Lorenzo Blessing was county superintendent of schools. Capt. Sam A. Stacy was Ord postmaster. W. H. Carson was city clerk. John Rathliff was conductor of the Union Pacific passenger train. Charles A. Munn was county attorney. C. L. Anderson was su-

Farmers Know What a Profit Is For

AS his own boss, the farmer has long since found out that a profit is not just an extra sum, above the bare cost of doing business, which can be used as you please. It is the main source of funds necessary to pay for a new silo, buy better machinery, and improve the house and the barn.

In spite of the great rise in income, farm profits are no more than necessary to keep the farm plant producing efficiently. It's the same with the iron and steel industry which makes the materials for the farmer's tools.

In 1915 steel companies had left, after meeting all expenses but before paying dividends, only a little more than one-tenth of one cent on each pound of steel sold. The profit on each dollar invested was less than five cents. Year by year since 1941, when the war started, earnings have been declining.

Although last year's output of steel was 19 per cent greater than in 1910, the last prewar year, pay rolls were nearly double but dividends were lower.

There are many misunderstandings and misrepresentations about profits. Some people forget that reasonable profits are a necessary incentive of the American system, which results in abundant low-cost farm products and abundant low-cost steel products.

It is up to those who know what profits are for, and what they can do, to see that they are not destroyed—and with them our high standard of living.

Steel mills need all the scrap iron and steel they can get. The shortage is serious. Farmers can get extra dollars and help increase steel output by sending worn-out machinery, etc., on its way to the furnaces. AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.
