Dog Situation Highlights City Council Meeting

City Dads Condemn Recent Extermination of Dogs; Want Ordinances.

A resolution prepared by the Rotary club for the establishment of a dog pound in Ord and presented to the City Council Tuesday evening by Bill Steen, was shelved by the Council after an hour's round-about discussion.

Council members voted to keep Chief of Police L. H. Covert in the position of dog catcher. However, they also voted that in the future, dogs will be disposed of according to the city ordinances, instead of the method that has been used in the past.

Said Councilman Gus Schoenstein, "The way it is now, the man whose dog is licensed isn't given a bit of protection."

During the discussion, Mayor Cumpkins proposed that prices of dog licenses be raised to $5.00. He said that this action would eliminate the culls and leave only the good dogs.

Councilman J. W. McGinnis objected to the Mayor's proposal and comment strongly. Said Dr. McGinnis: "I don't approve of that suggestion at all. A $5.00 dog license fee would eliminate the poor boy's dog and fix it so that only those with a little extra money could afford to keep a dog."

Other business discussed by the council concerned the construction of sewers in the second ward. At the present time, all the council can do is wait, since the Charles Roebek Co. of Omaha, which has been given the sewer construction contract, is unable to obtain materials.

Ord Host to H. S. Vocalists At Music Festival

Representatives From Eight Schools Are Expected To Attend.

Between 350 and 400 high school vocalists will be in Ord next Wednesday, Feb. 12, to attend a vocal music festival which will be held at the high school auditorium.

Performances by individual groups at 9:00 in the morning will get the festival off to a start. Twenty-five minutes will be allotted to each town for the performance of its vocal groups.

Starting the afternoon session at 3:00, Hayes M. Fuhr, guest conductor and critic from Hastings College, will rehearse a mixed chorus composed of entries from each school. An open discussion of vocal problems will be held by visiting directors from 4:00 to 5:00.

At 7:30 in the evening, a final concert of the day will be held with the presentation of the best entries of the daytime program, along with a 200-voice mixed chorus. There will be a small admission charge for the evening session which is open to the public.

Ord Chamber Will Send Large Group to St. Paul Meet

Will Protest Union Pacific's Plea to Cut Train Service Here.

A large delegation from the Ord Chamber of Commerce is expected to attend a hearing before the state railway commission at St. Paul, Wednesday, February 19, to protest the application of the Union Pacific railroad to substitute tri-weekly for daily train service on lines serving this area.

The Ord Chamber has employed counsel to represent it at the hearing, it was revealed at the regular Chamber of Commerce meeting held Thursday night.

Members of the mail, transportation and aviation committee told those attending the meeting that they had succeeded in getting the State Railway Commission to revoke the temporary permit of the Nielsen-Peterson trucking company to haul freight between Grand Island and Ord for the Union Pacific.

In his report James B. Ollis, chairman of the road committee, said that State Engineer Wardner Scott will be in Ord Wednesday, Feb. 5, to confer with the Chamber of Commerce.

A balance of $318.73 on hand as of Jan. 1, 1947, was reported by Raymond Cronk, Clark Weckbach and Leonard Woods, members of the auditing committee. Total expenditures for the year 1946 were $2,513.32.

Fort Hartsuff Fund Raising Drive To Start February 22

Chairmen Named for Campaign in Loup Valley Towns.

A lively committee, Monday evening decided to get busy at once raising the money needed to develop old Fort Hartsuff into an historic park with a lake and recreation grounds nearby.

The drive will begin February 22 and continue through March 3. Any smaller amount may be contributed but most donors will give in units of $25, $50 and so on.

The finance chairman, Clark Weckbach, announces the appointment of the following chairmen for interested communities: Kermit Ericson at Arcadia, B. W. Wagner at Burwell, Roy Hudson at North Loup, John Haskell at Ord, Ralph Rose at Taylor, Henry Redthauer at Scotia, Ed Krikac at Comstock, Leon Ciemny at Elyria.

It is known that many families are eager to give and only awaiting this drive, hoping to honor the memory of pioneer ancestors to whom Fort Hartsuff of those long ago days was a necessity and a comfort. Now a spot of serene beauty, the idea of a memorial park there appeals also to newer residents of the North Loup valley, and getting funds for the project is sure to be a popular cause.

Postponed Coyote Hunt to Be Sunday. A postponed coyote hunt — originally scheduled for Sunday, February 2, — will be held this Sunday, February 9, according to the American Legion which is sponsoring the event.

Prominent North Loup Resident Buried Tuesday

J. H. Eyerly, Business Man for Forty Years, Died Sunday.

Funeral services were held at the North Loup Methodist church Tuesday afternoon for J. H. Eyerly, 84, who died at his home Sunday following a short illness. Rev. Samuel H. Mitchell officiated at the services.

J. H. Eyerly

A quartette composed of Mrs. Harold Hoepfner, Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson, Ray Hudson and Dell Barber, sang "Going Down The Valley" and "Beautiful Isle Of Somewhere". Pall bearers were Rasmus Peterson, George Maxson, Earl Smith, Bates Copeland, John Palmer and Roy Williams. Mrs. A. L. Willoughby, Mrs. Boyd Mulligan and Mrs. Bates Copeland looked after the flowers. Hastings and Pearson were in charge of arrangements.

James Harlan Eyerly was born in Marion county, Ia., Nov. 11, 1862. He was the youngest and only surviving child of the ten children born to Samuel and Mary Eyerly. The family later moved to Jasper county and then to Madison county where James grew up.

In August, 1884, he was united in marriage to Laura May Ford. In March 1886, Mr. and Mrs. Eyerly, with their baby daughter, Edna, came to Nebraska and settled first in Sherman and then in Valley county. They moved to North Loup in 1906, and have lived there ever since.

For about 11 years the Eyerlys ran the Arlington Hotel. After that, Mr. Eyerly went into the real estate and insurance business, which he followed successfully until his death.

He was preceded in death by his wife and a daughter, Fern. He leaves to mourn five children, Edna Sample of North Loup; Ada Springer of Portland, Ore.; E. Ford of Algonquin, Ill.; Dr. James B. of Chicago, Ill.; Opal Warner of Peetz, Colo. He also leaves 15 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Road Show to Be Held Here Monday, Febr. 24

Show to Be Sponsored By Ord Chamber of Commerce Ag. Committee.

Members of the Agricultural committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce are busy making plans for the presentation of the Central Nebraska Road Show to Valley county farmers. The show will be held in Ord Monday, Febr. 24.

The program is similar to the shows held last year at North Loup and Arcadia. It features exhibits prepared by both the Agricultural Extension service and the Soil Conservation service. These include models of labor saving devices from the Department of Agriculture, in addition to farm water supply and sewage disposal layouts, dehoring and branding chutes and poultry equipment.

Other exhibits feature noxious weed mounts, weed seed samples, native grass mounts, soil conservation and home economics, plus an R.E.A. exhibit and a program of timely moving pictures. County Extension agent C. C. Dale says that the show will be of interest to all farmers and their families. The show is open to the public and the agricultural committee is extending an invitation to everyone.

Committee members are also working out plans for a free lunch and a number of door prizes to be given by Ord business firms. Further details will be given in the Ord Quiz before the date of the show.

New Rural Fire Truck Is Ordered

Ord Fire Chief Vern Andersen announced Tuesday that an order has already been placed for the new rural fire truck. The order was sent Jan. 3 to the Padgett Company at Omaha, with a promise of delivery within six months.

The new truck, says Andersen, has a front end mounted pump. It will carry 400 gallons of water. The truck, mounted on a two-ton Chevrolet truck body, will carry 600 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose, in addition to ladders and other standard fire-fighting equipment.

Now all the fire department has to worry about is the problem of getting enough money to pay for the truck. At present, fire department funds are $2,494.00 short of the purchase price.

State Tax Bills to Be Highest in History in 1948

Governor Whittles Request But Total Is Still Higher Than Before.

Gov. Val Peterson has sent the legislature a budget proposing the expenditure of $65,717,000 by the state of Nebraska and its agencies and institutions between July 1, 1947 and July 1, 1949.

Of this sum, which probably sets a record for state governmental spending in Nebraska, $17,815,000 would be new money derived through the property tax levy.

An estimated $6,183,000 of the $65,000,000 which the governor proposed to spend represents unexpended balances which it is anticipated will remain in the various funds on June 30 and which will be reappropriated. The remainder would come from fees, licenses and other cash items, estimated by the governor at $13,700,000.

Asking of the state departments and institutions for the 1947-49 biennium aggregated $78,223,000 exclusive of an undetermined amount of federal funds coming to such agencies as state assistance, the health department, and roads and irrigation.

The outgoing governor, Dwight Griswold, recommended a budget totalling $70,470,000, exclusive of federal funds, compared to Peterson's $65,000,000 figure.

Not So Great. General fund requests, which are met from the property tax levy, amounted to $23,942,000, with Griswold recommending $20,248,000 compared to Peterson's $17,815,000.

Appropriations two years ago, exclusive of federal funds, amounted to $43,897,000. Federal funds were estimated at $14,600,000. The spread between the Griswold and Peterson budgets is not so great as the comparison of the totals indicates, however. Peterson included no new buildings, in view of a bill pending in the legislature to set up a ten-year state construction program, financed by an annual one-mill levy.

Griswold also included $100,000 in his budget as the state's contribution to the school retirement fund for the coming biennium. Peterson left this item out of his budget, because the legislature may see fit to overhaul the system.

Three Loups B. B. Tournament Begins Today

Ord Team Is Host Eight Team Three-Day Conference Festival.

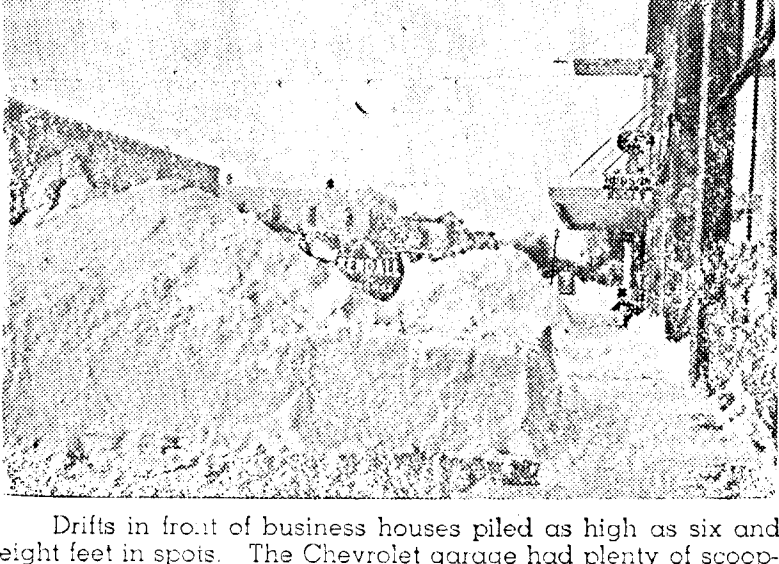

Worst Storm in Years Cripples Local Traffic

Traveling men who spent the night in Ord while the blizzard howled had a difficult time the next morning getting their cars out from under the thick blanket of snow. This shot by Ed Swopes was taken in front of the Ord Hotel.

For business men of Ord, it was scoop, scoop, scoop. Here is a pair whom Swopes caught in action.

Drifts in front of business houses piled as high as six and eight feet in spots. The Chevrolet garage had plenty of scooping before they cleared their driveway and sidewalk.

George Cetak Buys St. Paul Market

George Cetak, who has been working in the North Side Market in Ord, has purchased the IGA grocery and meat market in St. Paul, Nebr., and will move there and take possession March 1. Mr. Cetak plans to expand the meat department of the store, and add several new lines.

F. W. Manasil To Head 1947 Burwell Rodeo Directors

August 13, 14 and 15 Set As Dates For Annual Entertainment.

F. W. Manasil will be president of the 1947 Garfield County Frontier Fair association as the result of an election held by the board of directors in Burwell last week.

The group also set the dates for the annual Rodeo as Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 13, 14 and 15. Other members of the board are Russell Mitchell, vice-president; H. B. Auch Moedy, secretary; Osce Johnson, treasurer; Andy Snyder, W. G. Hall, Albert Bolli and Edward F. Sime, directors.

30th Anniversary Celebration to Be Held Friday

Stockholders Meeting To Be Attended By Farmers from 4 Counties.

James B. Ollis, secretary-treasurer of the Loup National Farm Loan Association, issued a reminder to all stockholders of the organization to attend the annual meeting which will be held in Ord Friday. The occasion will also mark the thirtieth anniversary of the Cooperative Federal Land Bank System.

The meeting will begin with registration of farmers from Loup, Garfield, Greeley and Valley counties, at the Ord Theatre from 11:00 to 12:00. At noon, an anniversary dinner will be served by the Methodist ladies at the Methodist church basement.

Evet Smith will be chairman of the meeting which follows the dinner. Two speakers have been obtained for the occasion. They are A. K. Jones and Paul Boissere of the Federal Land Bank. A representative of the University of Nebraska, Dr. F. D. Keim, will show colored films taken in Europe during and after the war. A musical group from the Ord high school will be an added feature on the program.

Rural Roads Still Blocked; Mercury Falls to New Low

Ten Inch Snow and High Wind Pile Huge Drifts; Coal Supply Is Limited.

A ten inch snow accompanied by high winds Wednesday night and Thursday threw a partial paralysis over this area of Nebraska, burying Ord and vicinity under drifts which have crippled most local traffic.

According to official weather recorder Horace Travis, ten inches of snow fell during the 24-hour period with a moisture content of .87 of an inch.

Freakish temperatures hit Ord during the weekend. Saturday morning the government thermometer registered ten below. Sunday morning temperatures were ten above with the mercury rising to 46 degrees above by late afternoon. According to Travis, the temperature Monday morning was 28 above.

Road crews have been on the job constantly since the storm with the result that as this issue of the Quiz goes to press, all highways are now open. Many country roads, especially those in the hills are still blocked.

Mail carriers have been making their rounds since Friday, although not all patrons in this area are able to receive mail.

W. L. Blessing, whose mail route covers the rugged country north and east of Ord said Wednesday that he still had two patrons who had not received mail. Others on his route are doubling up with those who live on passable roads and are getting mail that way.

Blessing reports north-south roads open now, except in hill country. Generally, east-west roads are hazardous.

Don Stewart of the Riverside Dairy expressed fears for his milk supply the first several days following the storm. Thursday he was able to get only two cans of milk and that was brought in by hand sled. Local deliveries were impossible until Friday.

Ord coal dealers report limited supplies. In general, there seems to be enough coal to burn, but not of the grade and size wanted. Stoker coal, for example, has been non-existent for several weeks. Telephone communication and light and power were not interrupted by the storm.

Ord city streets, due to the freakish nature of the wind, seemed to have caught the brunt of the storm. Drifts ranging from three to eight feet were piled on the north sides of every east-west street in town, and only slightly lesser ones on the west sides of north-south streets.

Street commissioner Len Covert opened trails through most city streets Friday and Saturday. Several gangs of men under Covert's direction have been scooping and hauling snow off main business streets, and most of these have been cleared.

A brief thaw Sunday made traffic conditions hazardous. Streets are now a mass of ice, and driving mishaps, including smashed fenders have been numerous. Few major traffic accidents have occurred, the exceptions being the ditching of one of Roman Motor Freight's big trucks near St. Paul, and that of a candy truck southeast of Ord. Attendance at the Ord public schools fell to new lows Thursday and Friday, with many country pupils unable to attend. Most rural schools in the county also closed Thursday. No school was held in North Loup Thursday. The storm also brought a postponement of many events scheduled for the weekend. Ord high school was unable to keep its basketball date with Albion high school Friday evening. A similar game between North Loup and Palmer Thursday evening at Palmer was cancelled. A coyote hunt planned for Sunday in the area east of town has been postponed until this Sunday, February 9. Farmers and ranchers over the county reported little if any loss of livestock and poultry. Feed stocks, especially hay and alfalfa are ample this year. Most range cattle were able to find sheltered spots. —Tuesday evening dinner guests at the James Ollis and J. G. Hastings home were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Leggett and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kriewald and son.

Arcadia

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the barn on the Darr Lee farm about six o'clock Monday evening. A tractor, three horses, about 125 bushels of oats, 425 bushels of corn and some hay were completely destroyed. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The Arcadia fire department responded to the call.

The Youth's Fellowship Young People of the Arcadia Methodist church attended the Youth's Mid-Winter Institute which was held in the Methodist church in Broken Bow Sunday afternoon and evening, Feb. 2. The program was very interesting. There were 162 in attendance, and everyone reported a good time.

Petition Asking Relocation Vote is Ready for Filing in Blaine County

The battle of Blaine county is about to begin.

Last Tuesday a petition bearing the signature of more than 360 Blaine county residents will be presented to county commissioners at Brewster. The petition will request a special election at which residents of the sandhill county can voice preference for location of the county seat.

The county seat is now located at Brewster. Backers of the petition seeking the special election believe that if brought to a vote, Dunning, the county "metropolis" will be selected.

Circulators of the petition say there are probably about 600 legal voters in the county. At the last general election about 425 votes were cast. The fact that more than 360 people have signed the petition indicates that more than half the people are in favor of relocating the county capitol, Dunning promoters say.

Brewster, the present seat of county government, had a population in 1940 of 55 people. Federal census the same year gave Dunning a population of 272.

The movement for relocating the county seat started about six months ago when the petitions were put into circulation by Dunning promoters. They point out, however, that the 360 signatures have been secured from people in every part of the county.

In supporting their contention as the logical site for the court house, the Dunning backers list several claims, quoted here as they were presented to the Chief:

1. — "From a comparison of the signers of the petition and the late general election vote it is evident that the people know the court house, built at Brewster 58 years ago, is at present a dangerous fire hazard, without light, modern heat or toilet facilities, inadequate in many ways, must be replaced."

2. — "When originally selected for the county seat, a railroad was to be built through Brewster, but its construction has long since been abandoned."

3. — "A fine surfaced highway, the Burlington main line railroad and bus transportation have since been routed through Blaine county but far off the county seat territory. Transshipping from rail and highways is now necessary and very inconvenient and costly to the county. Persons with business and legal transactions must now pass through other towns to reach Brewster. Even the state patrolman must drive off the highway 20 miles to issue driver's permits. The ranchers to reach major trading centers or storage facilities travel to and through other towns and must inconveniently detour many miles to Brewster for any county service."

The railroad, a hard surfaced highway and through bus service have aided in making Dunning the county metropolis, the promoters say, and express the belief the signers of the petition reason the county seat should be located where these advantages are available. Better mail service would be a big advantage, they say.

Dunning promoters believe they have more than sufficient reason for asking the commissioners to bring the question to a vote. The law requires signatures of at least 60 per cent of the votes cast in the last general election. This requirement has been easily complied with. The population of the two towns, they claim, is an important item. Dunning boosters proudly point to their position as "metropolis" with nearly five times as many people as Brewster. Dunning

Brewster became the county seat in 1888 after George Washington Brewster, a wealthy eastern newspaperman, spent a fortune to build the town. Son after the county was organized in 1886, the town of Ladora was platted and built. In a special election in 1886, for county seat, Ladora got 63 votes, Blaine Center 43 votes and Brewster only 21. It was a hotly contested election, but the commissioners declared Ladora the permanent county seat.

G. W. Brewster did not give up the fight and the following year succeeded in moving the county seat to Brewster after another general election. Thurman A. Smith, now of Taylor, but a recognized Blaine county historian, says it is not quite clear just what happened, but by devious wire pulling and unrecorded machinations, G. W. Brewster managed to win the election and moved the court house to his young town on January 1, 1888.

Dunning promoters say they have long felt the people should have a chance to select their county seat, but while the old court house was adequate and safe, no one made the effort because of the expense involved. "Now," they say, "that the ranchers and people realize a new courthouse must replace the old, either at Brewster or Dunning, they want a voice in selecting the site." — Custer County Chief.

MRS. ETHEL HAMER QUIZ REPRESENTATIVE NORTH LOUP

Mrs. Edwin Miller Found Dead

Mrs. Edwin Miller, 72, was found dead near her bed in her home in North Loup Wednesday shortly after noon by Mrs. Roxy Jeffries, who went to her home when Mrs. Miller failed to answer the telephone. Dr. Hemphill, who was called said death was due to a stroke and that she had been dead for several hours. Mrs. Miller had seemed as well as usual for several days, on Monday she had gone to Ord on the bus and when returning stopped off near the highway and went to the home of Mrs. G. L. Hutchins where she spent the afternoon. Tuesday she made several other calls, and a light had been noticed in her home late Tuesday evening. Last fall Mr. and Mrs. Miller sold their home in the east part of town, bought lots north of Dr. Hemphill's office and moved a house in there which they fixed up for a home because of Mrs. Miller's failing health, so that she might be closer to town.

In November Mr. Miller went to Omaha to work and she had been staying alone.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church with Rev. Samuel Mitchell in charge. New Insecticide For Mites, Aphids

Control of mites and aphids in apple orchards is a possibility with an insecticide developed by the Germans during the war. The insecticide, known as "Bladan," has been laboratory tested by United States department of agriculture entomologists and showed qualities to warrant field tests.

Hexathyl tetraphosphate is the active principle of "Bladan". The laboratory tests show it is effective against many of the mites and aphids that are apple pests. The chemical dissolves in water and a solution soon loses its effectiveness. It is unlike DDT because it does not have a lasting residual effect.

Entomologists, however, are much interested just now in chemicals that will kill mites and aphids on apples. DDT is an excellent control for codling moth, but in many orchards mites or aphids multiply destructively on apple trees sprayed with DDT. Therefore, the scientists are searching for a mite and aphid killer. If they can find a good one, they hope to use it as a supplement to DDT, using DDT for codling moth control and the other material for the mites and aphids that DDT does not kill.

John Lavore, passenger on a snowbound bus, in Kansas, struck up a conversation with Passenger Thelma McLean, talked to her two nights in a row and married her the next day.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT

By John L. Ward The other day a friend of mine was waiting for his Quiz in the North Loup post office, and seemed to think the action called for some excuse, so he said to me: "I take the Quiz just to read your column". This made me feel pretty good, but he added: "Not that you ever say anything, but if you ever do, I don't want to miss it!" He is the same fellow who complains whenever my column is crowded out, which is not too often of late, for which I am thankful. Speaking about the Quiz, I hear complaints about the paper, but see many of the same people hurrying up to the post office or to Vodehnal's about mail time every Wednesday evening. It is human nature to complain and find fault, but heaven help the poor dope who is so useless that nobody can find fault with him!

I am good at fault finding myself. Thursday forenoon it looked like it would take a day or two to open up the highway so that traffic could get along, but about ten a. m. along came the maintainer men and opened up the street at the rate of fifteen to twenty miles per hour. There was Ray Wiberg, following right along behind with his bus. In a short time up came the Van Trump truck with the morning mail. Marshal Harlan Brennick arrived at the pump house early and got busy with his shovel, clearing a way to get the village maintainer out of the shop. In a little while he was out bumping and boosting his way along the streets. By night he had most of them open, and business was going on as usual.

Yes, it sure was as usual. About an hour after the maintainer had passed, along came a young fellow from a neighboring town, and he was hitting forty miles per hour when he went past the house, just double the legal limit. If he had skidded and had been killed, everybody would have said: "Wasn't that just too bad!" Anybody who tempts providence that way deserves no sympathy, and, if he kills somebody else he is a murderer. And just ten hours before some Scotia people got their car stuck on the same street and had to leave it there and spend the rest of the night with an acquaintance, the shoe shop man.

"Ah, would some power the Giffie give us, to see ourselves as others see us, it would from many a danger free us, and foolish notion." That is a wonderful thought, and written by one of the greatest poets of all time, Bobbie Burns. Yet Burns did not have that power himself, and lived and died a drunkard. It may be that the reason we so dislike these fellows who are constantly breaking the law is that we are jealous of them. They are doing something we have not the nerve to do ourselves. Every law abiding citizen secretly chafes at the restraint of law, especially the laws he would like to break himself, and nobody is so much a saint that there is no law of God or man he would not like to break himself.

I have heard a lot of talk since the snow as to how big the drifts were, and it is probably true that they are bigger and more difficult to handle than were those of recent years. But, going back into earlier history, we find that drifts as much as ten feet deep were not unusual. In fact, I have actually seen drifts deeper than that in the hills south of Ord. I went out hunting there one winter, walked out on a drift, and broke through just as I reached the edge. I landed about ten feet down, and had to break out a hole sideways to get out. Yes, we had some bad storms in Nebraska, and I hope we never have that kind again.

That old reliable messenger of Uncle Sam's, Cliff Goodrich, took his jeep down to Paul Madsen's blacksmith shop Friday morning and had him put a snow bumper on it, to shove the surplus snow down so that the jeep could go over it on his mail route. I do not know how far Cliff got on his mail route, which is one of the roughest in the country, but I will bet he had a tough time of it getting very far. The worst of a deal of that kind is that he might get part way and get where he could neither go any farther nor turn around to come back to town. Then he might lose the machine in a snow drift and not find it until spring.

I stated that Cliff took the jeep to Paul Madsen's place, which makes me think that North Loup has quite a few men by the name of Paul, all of whom have quite a little to do with the business and social life of the village. Madsen, besides being one of the best welders in these parts, is also a fine blacksmith of the old school, a group of people growing smaller with the passing of the years, not only as a group, but individually. In the old days, the blacksmith was a man of might, like Frank Hewett and Johnnie Work for example. Today, because they have machines to do much of the heaviest work, they are usually about the size of other people. But don't think they are softies. They have plenty of muscle, and they use it a lot.

This Paul Madsen is also a useful citizen in a different sense, being a member of the village board. The Service Oil Company could not get along too well without their Pauls, John Paul Jones and James Paul White. One or the other is always on the job, and in busy times you will find both of them there. Paul Lee is the old reliable for the village, and is always available when there is snow or mud to be handled for the village. Paul started out in life about the same time I did, and we both went to school at Dist. No. 10, now known as Valleyside. The chief difference is that Paul still seems to be able to handle the heavy work, which I don't care much for any more.

There are several other Pauls living in and near North Loup, but, as the time for writing this column grows short, I simply can't think of them. There is also another Paul, Paul Hemphill, who is now a doctor in Oklahoma. Just why the name was so popular about forty or more years ago does not appear, but there must have been a reason. Maybe it is like the Eldons of Burwell, now a sizeable group, most of them named for Dr. Eldon J. Smith, who was present when they arrived.

A drunk who was draped over a parking meter in Portland objected when police removed him. He said, "I put in my nickel and I've got 20 minutes to go."

The Chicago city council's finance committee met to attempt to cut the city's proposed 70 million-dollar corporate budget for 1947. After two hours of debate the committee had reduced the fund to $69,999,900. They had pared $100 from a recommended $2,700 appropriation for court reporting.

The Rev. Vern Ray Willey, 50, Congregational minister-at-large in Iowa, left for his home at Truro, Iowa, bearing a receipt for a $25 fine. He mistook a fire alarm box at York, Pa., for a mail receptacle. He realized his mistake when the false alarm sounded and waited at the scene. Police Magistrate H. Gellard Fickles fined him $25.

Boston firemen aren't going to sleep on the 48-hour weekly tour that voters granted them. Mayor James M. Curley ordered all beds removed from fire houses with the remark that he presumed the firemen would be in the fire houses for eight hours of work daily and "therefore would have no need for beds." The beds were provided originally for men obliged to do 24-hour straight stretches.

State's Tavern Conditions Are Improving Nebraska may well be proud of the conditions under which her taverns are conducted. The Nebraska Committee, through eight years of state-wide publicity, has strongly urged citizens to report any tavern conditions that should be corrected. With special attention thus directed to license renewals, it is impressive therefore that citizens in less than 1% of the towns appeared with criticisms or protests. From only 5 Nebraska towns were protests filed by citizens. Of 1799 applicants, only 14 were denied for reasons of improper conduct. The State can well be proud of this record. Few other states can match it. It means that Nebraska tavern-keepers are cooperating by observing the State's excellent liquor control laws. This Committee will continue to work for further improvement. NEBRASKA COMMITTEE United States Brewers Foundation Charles E. Sandall, State Director 710 First Nat'l Bank Bldg., Lincoln

Free Dental Service Available For Veterans

Under a program developed by the Veterans Administration and the Nebraska State Dental Association, free home-town treatment for service connected dental disabilities is now available to veterans. According to Ashley Westmoreland, manager of the V. A.'s Lincoln Regional office, about half of the dentists in Nebraska are now participating in this program.

Under the program, explains Mr. Westmoreland, a veteran may make application to the V. A. for treatment of the dental disability with the request that the work be done by his local dentist. Upon approval of the application by the V. A., the veteran will be notified of arrangements for a dental examination by either the V. A. or the local dentist.

When the examination is complete, the V. A. will authorize the dentist to proceed with such treatment as is deemed necessary to cover the service-connected disability. The dentist will be paid by the V. A. for his work on the basis of a fee schedule agreed upon by the dental association and the V. A.

Westmoreland stressed that the disability treated must be determined by the V. A. to be service-connected. He cautioned dentists not to proceed with treatment for which V. A. pay is expected until authorization has been received from the V. A.

In determining whether a dental disability is service-connected, Westmoreland said that present law and regulations provide that certain dental disabilities shall be granted prima facie entitlement for treatment if the application is made within one year following the veteran's discharge from the armed forces.

This does not mean, he added, that veterans who have been out of the service for more than a year are ineligible for treatment of service-connected disabilities at government expense. Such veterans, however, must produce evidence, either through service record or other acceptable means to establish service-connection.

To be eligible for treatment, the veteran must have served at least six months in the armed forces and must hold a discharge of a type other than dishonorable.

Ord Employment Office Chosen For Report

The Valley county office of the Nebraska State Employment Service in Ord was the one office out of fourteen sub-offices in the state of Nebraska chosen for operative study by Employment service officials last week.

Dick Bushman, representative of the United States Employment Service from Washington, D. C., and Cecil Dunovan, who is field supervisor of the Nebraska State Employment Service were in Ord Tuesday and Wednesday of last week conducting the survey.

According to C. A. Bellingier, head of the Valley County office, the survey is just one part of a nation-wide plan. Government officials are gathering statistics in every state to determine model office operation.

In addition to the survey in the Ord office, the two men also reported on the head offices at Omaha and Lincoln.

March Of Dimes Top $1200.00

No Returns In from North Loup and Arcadia Yet, Says Satterfield.

Total collections in the March of Dimes campaign for the fight against infantile paralysis may top $1200 before the returns are complete, it was announced Monday by George Satterfield, Satterfield, who is county chairman of the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation, says that collections of $615.49 have already been reported in Ord alone. Of this sum, $148.09 was collected by the Ord Campfire Girls, who canvassed the streets on Saturdays and made house-to-house collections.

This amount, Satterfield added, does not include the proceeds of the March of Dimes dance last week which was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. However, VFW representative Dean Misko, when questioned by a Quiz reporter, estimated that a sum of $200.00 will be turned over to the polio drive when all expenses of the dance are paid.

Kernit Hansen, who is in charge of the drive in Arcadia has received permission from the county drive chairman to extend the campaign there another week. Hansen told a Quiz reporter Tuesday that already more than $300.00 has been turned in there. Of this sum, $69.90 was turned in by the Arcadia Theatre. North Loup contributions have not been reported. Emanuel Kapustka, owner of the Midway Market in Elyria, reports that collections in his store for the drive total $18.00. Added to this amount taken in at a card party Sunday, sponsored by the Elyria Extension club, he estimates that a total of $45.00 will be added to the March of Dimes from Elyria.

Five Licenses Are Issued By County Judge Andersen

Five marriage licenses were issued by County Judge John Andersen last week.

On Tuesday, Jan. 28, a license was issued to Frank Tvrdik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tvrdik of Comstock, and Miss Marion Wood daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wood of Accrington, England. The young couple met while Mr. Tvrdik was on duty with the United States army in England. They were married Tuesday in Ord by Rev. Carl McConnell.

A license to wed was issued Friday, Jan. 31 to James Brittenham, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brittenham of Bayard, and Miss Rose Marie Vala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Vala.

John Leo Blazey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blazey of Loup City, and Miss Irene Alice Vavra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vavra of Ord, also obtained a license to wed on Jan. 31.

Two licenses were issued on Saturday, Feb. 1, one to Eddie Nedbalek, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nedbalek of Burwell, and Miss Matilda Lola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lola, also of Burwell. The second license went to Vernon Marshall, son of Grant Marshall, and Mrs. Lotus Higgins, daughter of Alva Wilson.

Ord Drops Game to Seward Sat.

Seward Team In Control Of The Entire Game As Chants Trail.

Coach Alex Cochran's Ord Chanticleers dropped an important Class B battle to the Seward Bluejays 23 to 45 on the Seward home floor Saturday evening. The Ord team's basket shooting was as cold as the current Nebraska weather.

Stunned by the accuracy with which the Seward team dropped in baskets, the Chants trailed 0 to 11 before Blessing broke the ice with a free toss. Disaster reared its ugly head early in the game as the Chanticleers not only missed scoring opportunities, but also found difficulty in advancing the ball into offensive territory.

On the credit side of the book, it must be recognized that the Chanticleers were definitely off stride. They tried hard to make a ball game of it, but they just didn't have it. The Bluejays, unusually torrid, were in control throughout.

At the quarter post, the count was 13 to 3. Half-time score was 20 to 5, and 38 to 10 going into the stretch. Final quarter goaling by Laursen and Piskorski enabled the Chants to outscore their opponents the final period. Little satisfaction could be gleaned from this, however, as most of the Jay-bird's regulars were riding the bench at the time.

Rose Marie Vala Wed to Bayard Man

At a double-ring ceremony performed at the Ord Catholic rectory Monday morning at 9:30 by Rev. Thomas Siodowski, Miss Rose Marie Vala, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Vala, became the bride of James Brittenham, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brittenham of Bayard.

Attendants for the couple were Miss Evelyn Volf and Joe Vala, brother of the bride.

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin. The bodice had a lace inset with a ruffle effect around the shoulders. The wide skirt fell in a long train. A three-quarters length veil inset with lace fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She wore a four-strand necklace of pearls and carried a bouquet of yellow and white snapdragons and white carnations.

Miss Volf was attired in a yellow marquisette gown. The gathered bodice was ruffled around the shoulders. White lace created a pocket effect on the skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and wore a single strand of pearls.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served to fifty guests at the Masonic Hall. The bride's table was decorated with yellow and white carnations. A three-tier wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom and flanked candles served as the centerpiece. The yellow and white theme was carried out in the centerpieces on the other tables by bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

A wedding dance honoring the couple was held Monday evening at the Ord Bohemian Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittenham will make their home in Grand Island, where the bridegroom is a student at the Grand Island Business College.

Crop Loans Now Available At The FIA Office

Ramaekers Says Loans to Vets Are Given Special Attention.

Farm credit service in the form of annual crop or seed loans, which farmers have formerly received at the crop loan office at the Valley county court house, will be available now at the office of the Farmers' Home Administration. This announcement was made this week by Joseph W. Ramaekers, county supervisor for the agricultural FIA, whose office is located in the Post Office building.

The new agency set up by action of the 79th Congress is making possible the handling of the crop loan service, as well as the various types of supervised credit formerly furnished through the FSA, in the one county office. Types of supervised credit include production loans of one to five years for the purchase of livestock, machinery, necessary farm equipment, and other operating needs.

Also available are farm ownership loans for the purchase of family-type farms amortized over a possible 40-year period. Loans for farmstead water facilities also can be obtained.

According to Mr. Ramaekers, special attention is given to loans for eligible veterans. General eligibility, he says, involves inability, for various reasons, to obtain adequate credit from banks or other lending sources.

Tank Heaters Pay Off In Winter

This is about the time of year most farmers expect an annual slump in milk production. Ice in stock tanks is one of the contributing causes of the slump because it cuts off the continuous supply of water for the cows. They don't have enough water to drink, and down goes production.

Agricultural engineers of the United States department of agriculture suggest that farmers on electrified farms have a simple solution to this problem. Electric stock tank heaters will supply the cows with all the water they need by preventing the tank from icing over.

Most efficient use of electric stock tank heaters is had when the tank is insulated against the weather. A wooden structure is built around the tank by some farmers; and straw, chopped corn, cobs, or some other material stuffed about the sides of the tank. The insulation helps to keep the heat in the tank and cuts down the amount of electricity necessary to heat the tank.

Bureau Cautions Against Giving Clothing To Unknown Solicitors

A warning to the unwary against contributing clothing or food to unknown solicitors representing unfamiliar "drives" has been issued by the Better Business Bureau. According to the Bureau, a scheme has sprung up whereby solicitors ask housewives to give clothes for the needy of Europe.

The unsuspecting house wife, familiar with the unhappy plight of many European countries, gives all her old clothing to the solicitor, who has created the impression that his is a civic project to clothe the needy — whereas it is nothing more or less than the old clothes business. Promoters of this business readily admit that collectors are authorized to pay for the clothing which they receive. Upon receiving the clothing, the operator promptly sells it to a New York pool and it is then taken abroad and sold in Europe to anyone who has enough money to pay the price. There is nothing illegal in the sale of the clothes, but solicitors have frequently obtained them under false pretenses from the housewife who thinks she is donating to charity.

Collectors for these "drives" usually infer that it is part of some local or nation-wide effort for charity. This should be a warning to the contributor, because a genuine, non-profit collection is usually heralded with considerable publicity, and it is not solicited from door-to-door.

Usually complete bona fide information is given as to where the garments are to be taken. So, to be sure you really are giving your clothing to a charitable organization, if you have any doubts at all, the Better Business Bureau says that it has free information on the subject.

State Tax Bills to Be Highest in History in 1948

If the legislature does not set up a building fund and if it takes no action on the school retirement system, these items will have to be included in the budget, Peterson explained. The total of these items in Griswold's budget was $1,870,000.

Building Program

In his budget message, Peterson told the legislature Nebraska had not done a good job of arranging its finances during the "easy money" war years so a substantial surplus would be available for "doing the things so desperately needed" now.

"The ($3,000,000) post-war building program which your body established (in 1945) is splendid and you are to be commended for its creation. However, it would appear that during the so-called prosperous era of the last few years, provision should have been made for the accumulation of larger funds to meet the building needs of Nebraska institutions," Peterson declared.

The governor observed that Wyoming, with but a fraction of Nebraska's population, had accumulated a surplus of more than $6,000,000. He said that Nebraska, on the other hand, "stripped the fat off the animal" to hold the state tax levy down during the war years, so now there is no margin.

"In the last few years accumulated balances and surpluses (in Nebraska) have been used to finance current government expenses thereby reducing the tax levy. Further, little provision was made for future needs. Now, after a period of prosperity, we find no surpluses of reserves remaining. Also, the delinquent taxes which for a few years were pouring into the treasury are now paid up. These factors make our problem more difficult and mean that when the large appropriation which you will be forced to make to meet the increased costs of government is translated into a tax levy next August it will be the highest in the history of the state. There appears to be no escape," Peterson told the legislature.

Sermon topic, "Being A Neighbor" from the parable of the "Good Samaritan."
This is the sixth in the Stewardship Series of Sermons. It is also known in most of the churches as Race Relations Sunday. It has special appeal to many because it is the Sunday nearest to Lincoln's birthday. This makes next Sunday a very fitting day in which to think together about Being a Neighbor.
The choir also will join in this observance and will sing a Negro Spiritual.
"This is the day the Lord hath made, let us rejoice and be glad."

She: Not if you take that cigar out of your mouth.

While land prices elsewhere have soared to as much as 159%, the figure for our State has advanced to only approximately 80%. Considering the present day value of the products of the soil surely Nebraska farms are the best bargains in the country. Nat'l Hereford Show to Be Held With State Fair Premiums Between $11,000 and $12,000 to Be Awarded at Show.

Members of the Nebraska State Fair Board have announced that the National Hereford Show will be held in connection with the State Fair in September this year. Leading Nebraska breeders have voted their endorsement of the State Fair's ambitious plans and have promised their support.

Notification of the decision to hold the show in conjunction with the fair came last Monday from officials of the National Hereford Breeders' Association. Complete arrangements will be made on March 1 by Jack Turner, secretary of the association.

According to Ed Schultz, secretary of the State Fair Board, it is expected that there will be between $11,000 and $12,000 premiums awarded at the show. Schultz adds, "It is definitely the biggest livestock show ever held in Nebraska."

Present plans call for the erection of tents to take care of the cattle expected to come from all over the nation and Canada. The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce will assist in finding housing for the breeders.

The 1947 beef breeds livestock show at the state fair will include: Herefords, Breeding Short-horns, Aberdeen, Angus, Polled Short-horns, Breeding Red Polls, and Milking Short-horns.

No Need For Depression

During his speech, Mr. Jones traced the past and the probable future of agriculture. Using charts to illustrate his talk, he showed the periods of prosperity and depression in agriculture which followed every war in the history of the United States.

According to Mr. Jones, there is no need for farm prices to fall to a rock-bottom. To avert another depression, he said, it is necessary for the nation's farmers to continue their high rate of production.

There is no reason, said Mr. Jones, why the high rate of production both in industry and in agriculture during the war cannot continue in the post-war years.

Another factor cited by Mr. Jones as an aid to averting another depression is the new use of surpluses, such as plants to distill alcohol from grain.

A tragic accident Tuesday afternoon took the life of a prominent Valley county farmer, Walter Coats, 45. He was found crushed beneath a tractor on his farm eight miles north of Ord.

Mr. Coats had left home at noon to pick up hay along a small hillside. He had a hay loader ahead of his tractor and apparently was unable to extricate himself when the tractor started tipping.

At 5:00, Hugh Starr and Jim Smith, who had been hauling coal from the Coats home to the Smith farm noticed the overturned tractor. Upon investigating they found Mr. Coats pinned beneath, and immediately called the George Watts home.

Glenn Watts drove to town and brought back with him County Sheriff Bob Hall and County Attorney Ralph Norman. According to Mr. Norman, the accident apparently occurred at some time around 3:00 p.m.

Irrigation Heads Sit Tight On RFC Finance Proposal

Voluntary Assessment Plan Also By-Passed In Session Until Midnight.

Members of the board of directors of the North Loup Valley Public Power and Irrigation District sat tight and refused to commit themselves on RFC and water users' proposals for refinancing of the nearly bankrupt district.

Board members remained in session Wednesday night to past midnight but were still unable to arrive at a decision on the district's future.

Twice, board members attempted to bring matters to a head by introducing motions for action. Dr. J. W. McGinnis made a formal motion that the board adopt the plan of the Water Users' association of an extra assessment of $2.50 per acre, such extra to be paid before April 1, or no water would be given irrigators.

Edward Dubas moved that the board request the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to take over management of the district, to take whatever steps necessary for operation of the district. This motion also failed to get a second.

Board Defers Action A motion by Dr. McGinnis seconded by Dubas that the board take no formal action at this time on the RFC refinancing plan was carried.

Previous to their business session the board heard a formal presentation of the RFC financing plan for the district, and also presentation of the minutes of the water users' meeting with explanation and interpretation by C. C. Dale, secretary and E. L. Vogelzang, attorney for the water users.

Drunken Drivers To Be Hit Hard Says R. Norman

Co. Attorney Will Prosecute Drivers to Fullest Extent Of the Law.

County Attorney Ralph Norman announced at a session of county court Thursday morning that county law enforcement officials have been told to watch for drunken drivers. Any one caught operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, said Norman.

Declared Norman, "I will show no sympathy and ask for no leniency for a drunken driver. Such people are a menace not only to themselves, but to other people on the road. There will be no easing of the law governing these cases."

The County Attorney made his statement during the trial of George Benda, who plead guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated at county court Thursday. Benda's car had slid into a ditch on the Arcadia highway late Wednesday night, and he was arrested there by deputy county sheriff, Vern Andersen.

County Judge John Anderson fined Benda $50.00 and costs of $9.00 and revoked his driving license for one year.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT
 By John L. Ward

Since the Union Pacific has been in the limelight locally for some time, it calls to mind something I ran across in the old files of the Quiz and also in the commissioners' proceedings in the early days of Ord and Valley County. It seems that the early day railroads were not willing, and possibly for a good reason, to take too many chances in pushing their lines into new territory, and for this reason they expected the settlers to help them out by bearing a part of the cost of construction. I went to Ord and looked through the files for the early years of the '80s, and the following is what I found, or rather, a part of what I found:

In the commissioners' proceedings (they were commissioners in those days) for October 5, 1881, the following appears: A petition signed by ten freeholders of Ord precinct was presented to the board, asking that the proposition to vote coupon bonds in the amount of $5,000 be brought up at an election, the amount to be donated to the Union Pacific railroad to aid the company in the construction of a broad gauge railroad through said Ord precinct, from the east line, on the south side of the North Loup river, to and above the village of Ord to a point where the said railroad might determine to cross the river to the north side, or to cross the west line of Ord precinct at whatever point they might determine. The railroad was to agree to build the depot within one hundred rods of the public square of the village of Ord. The election was held Nov. 8, with 115 voting for the bonds, and 21 voting against them. So far as the commissioners' record goes, the stipulation to build either across the river above Ord, or to build across the west line of Ord precinct, was never rescinded, but the railroad stopped in Ord, probably because the C. B. & Q. came along about that time and built on to Burwell.

In the commissioners' record for December 5, 1881, a petition was presented, asking that they submit to the voters of North Loup precinct the proposition of voting coupon bonds in the amount of $1,000, at a special election January 9, 1882, the money to be donated to the railroad to aid in building through the precinct from the southeast to the northwest on the south side of the North Loup river, with the stipulation that the depot be placed at a point not more than three-fourths of a mile from C street. As a matter of fact, the depot is much closer in than that, although still too far out for convenience. The main part of North Loup is located much too far from the railroad. The village was located first.

October 3, 1885, a petition was presented to the board asking that the proposition that Valley county issue bonds in the amount of $12,000 to assist the Omaha and Republican Valley railroad (Union Pacific) in building to and into the village of Ord. The petition was signed by 66 freeholders, and the election was held Nov. 5, 1885. The vote resulted in 217 voting in favor and 2 against. In the record there is some reference to the railroad surrendering the former bonds, but it is not made clear whether the new county bonds voted were to supplant them or not.

Finally, December 9, 1885, the village of Ord voted on the proposition of issuing coupon bonds in the amount of $3,200 to aid the railroad in building from North Loup into Ord. The vote in this case was 118 for and 2 against. This is all that appears in the records relative to bonds for the railroad, but it makes a total of $24,200, which is certainly a large amount to be assessed against the people of a frontier community. The answer, is that the people wanted the railroad, and the railroad was in a position to demand the money and get it. The chief reason, perhaps, why the money was demanded, was that the Burlington was getting land in alternate sections for building their road in Valley county. There seems to be no indication in the records of the Union Pacific receiving land, although they might have received their share.

Just when the Burlington received their land is not clear, but it must have happened before the organization of Valley county, since there is no reference to it in the records. However, in the commissioners' proceedings of August 10, 1883, the following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, the B and M railroad company refused to pay their full proportion of the taxes assessed against them for the years 1873 to 1878 inclusive, and that there is now due the county a large amount of taxes from said company, and whereas, there has been a pretended settlement with the said railroad company for said taxes, unauthorized by law, therefore, be it resolved that the board of county commissioners take such steps to investigate the status of said taxes and the propriety of collecting the same as is necessary in the premises. Signed, A. H. Schaefer, county clerk.

The county commissioners at the time were D. P. Davis, H. A. Chase and I. N. Swan. July 4, 1884, a contract was entered into by the county commissioners with the law firms of D. J. Martz and Thurston and Hall to collect the B and M delinquent taxes from 1873 to 1878 inclusive, said attorneys to pay all costs and to receive 25% of all taxes and to receive no other fees. Whether any taxes were collected and turned in to the county does not appear in the first commissioners' record book, which contained the records for two years after the above date.

July 7, 1884, the county treasurer was ordered to set apart FOREVER all the taxes assessed against the Omaha and Republican Valley railroad in North Loup precinct for the purpose of paying the precinct bonds of North Loup until same shall be fully paid. Just why this action was taken is not clear, but reading between the lines would indicate that this method was taken to settle the bonds voted for the railroad that could not otherwise be paid. The language is ambiguous, and might apply as well to other bonds, although there is no indication that the precinct owed other bonds. The use of the word "forever" in the order is not clear. Technically, it would mean that the taxes against the railroad in North Loup township are still supposed to be set apart for the payment of bonds, but, of course, this is not the case.

That is the record of Valley county and its dealings with the railroads for the period in which they were building into the county along the North Loup river, and I hope it may be of interest. I am planning to get other early day stories from the records from time to time. If you like this one and want more, tell me, or tell the Quiz, and you shall have them. There are the stories of the incorporation of the villages of Ord, North Loup and Arcadia, in that order. There are stories of early day bridges across the North and Middle Loup rivers. There is a story or two about the first court house, all of which are of interest, and which few of the present citizens know much about. Whether you get them or not is up to you. I shall be happy to hunt up the records for your information and entertainment.

It seems an old dog, or a dog-face, never forgets.
 In Texas Christian U., an English instructor with a class of G. I. students wrote on the board, "Jack is a captain," and went on to explain that in this case the word "captain" was a predicate nominative.
 "Now if I said 'Jack struck the captain,'" continued the teacher, "what would that be?"
 Without hesitation the class in unison answered, "Court Martial."

Arnold-Schudel Rites Solemnized at Scotia

Mr. and Mrs. Schudel

In a double ring ceremony performed by the bride's father at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren church of Scotia Friday evening, Miss Margaret Louise Arnold, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Arnold of Scotia, became the bride of Maynard Gene Schudel, son of Ed Schudel of North Loup.

Delores Babcock and Velma Barnes, attired in pink and blue formals, served as candle lighters. Miss Shirley Smith, played Mendelssohn's wedding march, as the bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father and took her place at the altar before an arch decorated in white crepe paper streamers and pine branches. The arch was banked on either side by a basket of peach gladioli and ferns, at either end of which stood a candelabrum.

The bride was gowned in gold brocaded satin, with a corded scalloped waist line, and long, narrow sleeves, which came to a point over the wrist. Her gown had a sweetheart neckline and a medium train and her three-quarter length veil was crowned with a beaded tiara. The bride's only jewelry was a string of pearls belonging to her mother. Her bouquet was of white roses, centered with an orchid.

Miss Florence Arnold, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of pastel yellow and her half-hat was made of the same material. Other bridal attendants, similarly attired in pink and blue gowns were Mavis Jeffres, sister of the bridegroom, and Zeta Claire Van Kirk.

Serving as best man was Virgil Nolde of North Loup. Ushers for the ceremony were DeLysle Jeffres and John Arnold, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor, which was decorated in blue and white crepe paper streamers for the occasion. Miss Betty Hutchins of North Loup had charge of the guest book. In charge of the gift table were Lucille Hermismeyer and Deloris Babcock.

Mr. and Mrs. Schudel left for a short trip after the reception. The bride's going-away costume was a pink dress and a grey coat with black accessories.

Mrs. Schudel is a graduate of Scotia high school and of the University of Nebraska. The bridegroom was graduated from North Loup high school and has been working with his father since finishing school.

George Dworak Buys St. Paul Meat Market

It was George Dworak of Ord who bought a St. Paul meat market and not George Cetak, as announced in last week's Quiz. One of those slips that pass in the night has left a reporter's face red.

Mr. Dworak will take possession of his new business March 1. The store, operated under an IGA franchise, was formerly owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pittam.

Services Held for E. H. Coleman at Taylor Tuesday

Funeral services for Elmer Henry Coleman, 72, were held Tuesday, Febr. 4, at the Taylor Evangelical United Brethren church. Mr. Coleman was found dead by his son, Arthur, Friday evening, Jan. 31. He was a native son of Nebraska, was active in Loup county public affairs, and served as county commissioner for several terms.

NOTICE! TO ALL MILK AND CREAM PRODUCERS

Two Important Meetings Regarding the Possibilities In Artificial Insemination of Dairy Cattle

NORTH LOUP—Theatre Bldg., Febr. 17th at 2 p. m. ORD—Masonic Hall Basement, Febr. 18th at 2 p. m.

Mr. M. N. Lawritson, Extension Dairyman of the College of Agriculture will be present to show films and answer and discuss all questions that may be asked. There will also be a representative of the Department of Agriculture and Inspection to outline the quality program for the future.

Artificial breeding of dairy cattle is probably the greatest step forward the dairy industry has taken in the last century. Owners of small herds have the opportunity to use the best sires, which they otherwise couldn't afford. Several successful associations are operating in our state. "CAN A SUFFICIENT NUMBER OF COWS BE SIGNED UP IN THIS TERRITORY TO START AN ASSOCIATION?"

All milk and cream producers are urged to attend one of these meetings. Sponsored by:

- Loup Valley Agricultural Society
- Nebraska Extension Service
- Ord Co-op Creamery Co.
- North Loup Co-op. Cheese Co.
- Stewarts Dairy

Who Will Operate Your Taverns Next Year?
 Within a few weeks, the duly elected officials in your town will grant licenses to those who will locally retail beer during the next year.
 Who will these tavern-keepers be? Will they be men of whom you approve? As you may know, you and all citizens have an obligation to take an active interest in these matters.
 If you know of anyone applying for a beer-selling license whose record does not warrant his receiving it, it is your right and duty to protest. A public hearing in your town gives you the opportunity.
 The beer industry backs you in your desire for the best possible beer-selling conditions. It wants, as much as you do, to have its products represented only by those who diligently observe the State's excellent liquor control laws. It urges you to perform your duty as a citizen and help select good licensees.

OWN A FARM

Department of Agriculture statistics indicate that in pre-war 1939 the average price of Nebraska farm land stood at only 65% of the 1910-1914 level. While land prices elsewhere have soared to as much as 159%, the figure for our State has advanced to only approximately 80%. Considering the present day value of the products of the soil surely Nebraska farms are the best bargains in the country.

BUY AT 1939 PRICES

A large Eastern investor has instructed us to offer these few remaining farms in Valley County at prices no higher than those fixed in 1939 and they will be sold to the first buyer who makes an acceptable bid.

Baby Chicks

Baby Chick orders are coming in fine now and we believe that you should place your order now for the chicks that you want this spring. We can furnish you with Chicks from either Hills Hatchery or Fairmont's Hatchery. We have a very special gift for you for an order for 400 chicks or more. Let us have your order soon.

Ear Corn

We have bought several thousand bushels of good yellow ear corn and can use at least 5000 bushels more in the next two weeks. When you sell the corn in the car we will give you a good price on the farm and we feel sure that the cob is carrying so much moisture that you are getting quite a lot more for the corn sold on the ear than if you sell it off the ear. Come in and ask about this ear corn price.

Hybrid Seed Corn

Several of the good numbers of hybrids in flat kernel sizes are sold out and only limited amounts of round kernels are left. We would appreciate a chance to tell you just what is available in kernel sizes of Cornhusker, Standard and Lowe Hybrids.

Seed Oats

We have about 200 bu. of Certified Cedar Oats for sale. This seed is Certified as No. 1, 95 germ, 99.60 pure seed and test weight, 34 lbs. It pays to plant good oat seed and we believe that with good seed and Nitrate Fertilizer that it is possible for you to grow 60-80 bu. of oats per acre under irrigation. Why not try a small acreage of good oats under irrigation this year?

Sweet Clover Alfalfa Seed

If there should be a AAA payment for planting legumes this year, we are going to find that alfalfa and sweet clover seed will be very scarce before the planting season is over. Why not buy your legume seed right now and get it home and be prepared when planting time comes.

Pop Corn Contracts

It won't be too long till we will be writing popcorn contracts and we believe that White or Dwarf Hulless is the most profitable popcorn to grow in this section. One thing sure it is an early maturing variety and you do not have a lot of soft corn on your hands. We have one company that is asking about a limited acreage of Hybrid White Hulless, under irrigation. Would you be interested in a small acreage of this corn? Let us put you on our list now.

Nitrate

We will have another car of Nitrate in about the latter part of March. This fertilizer is really going to be scarce this year and the man that gets his now will be much better off than the man trying to get some next June. Our price is very low off the car. The use of Nitrate has paid well the past couple of years and we believe that the crop will pay the cost of the fertilizer at least five times.

Curtis Aggies Go Down Under Ord Aerial Attack

Four Games Are Scheduled by Ord High Team for the Coming Week.

Coach Alex Cochran's Ord high school Chanticleers downed a powerful Curtis team Saturday evening.

A torrid fourth-quarter rally by the Aggies netted 20 points and threw a real scare into the Chanticleers.

The responsibility of staving off the Aggie rally fell chiefly upon the shoulders of the Ord reserves.

Ord high school's Chanticleers are getting ready to face a tough week of competition in their last four games of the basketball season.

Friday evening the Chants will meet O'Neill on the Ord floor. The O'Neill team is a dangerous one.

Tuesday, the Ord basketballers travel to Ravenna. Although they have downed the Ravenna team once so far this year...

On Wednesday, Cochran's team plays Albion on the Albion home floor. This team, according to the Ord coach, will probably give the Ordites plenty of trouble.

The final game of the season will be played on the Ord home floor when the Chanticleers meet Neligh here Friday, Febr. 28.

Virginia Craig Wed To Paul A. Rupp

At a 7:30 nuptial mass performed by Rev. O'Sullivan at the Blessed Sacrament church in Wichita, Kans., Miss Virginia Craig of Wichita, daughter of Mrs. H. D. Leggett of Ord, became the bride of Paul A. Rupp, son of Alois Rupp of Hays, Kans.

The bride wore a street length dress of pastel green with grey accessories, and an orchid corsage. The matron of honor, Mrs. Mary Ecklor of Wichita wore a matching street length dress of pastel yellow with brown accessories and a corsage of tea roses.

After the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the Wichita room of the Hotel Lassen. Twenty-two guests attended. Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Rupp left on a trip to Colorado.

Stewart Sought on Forgery Complaint

Roy C. Stewart, pressman employed during December by the Quiz, is being sought by Valley county, state and F.B.I. authorities on a charge of forgery.

Obsolete printed checks used by the Quiz some years ago and apparently found by Stewart in storage in the Quiz basement, were used and Stewart made out the checks to himself, forging the signature of H. D. Leggett, which he spelled "Leggette."

While employed by the Quiz the pressman worked a night shift. He received his salary check on the morning of Jan. 4 for the previous week, apparently forged and cashed the six other checks the same day, and left town Sunday morning.

He came here from Mason City, Ia., where he was a member of the pressmen's union, and claimed to have a family in Rockwell, Ia. He claimed to be a war veteran and to have served in the navy.

Ag Man Speaks to Dairymen At North Loup Meet

Films On Milk Improvement Program Are Shown By Bredemeyer.

Walter Bredemeyer, newly appointed chief of the state department of agriculture and inspection, addressed more than 60 farmers from North Loup and Scotia who attended a dairy meeting at the North Loup theatre Monday afternoon.

Mr. Bredemeyer gave the dairymen much necessary information about the milk quality improvement program. A film showing practical, simple methods for producing clean, high quality milk was shown through the courtesy of the extension division of the college of agriculture.

M. N. Lawritson, extension dairyman of the college of agriculture, showed a film about the artificial insemination of dairy cattle and also outlined the procedure for forming an artificial insemination association in this territory.

Plans For Fort Hartsuff Drive Are Progressing

Group Needs Only Enough Money To Purchase Park Site.

Plans for restoring Fort Hartsuff to a memorial park are progressing very fast, according to Dr. Glen D. Auble, who is chairman of the Fort Hartsuff Park Association board of trustees.

At present, says Dr. Auble, committee members are chiefly concerned with the problem of raising enough money to purchase the park site, estimated roughly at $7,500.

A concerted all-out drive for funds will begin on Saturday, Febr. 22. At this time, according to the trustee chairman, citizens will be given an opportunity to contribute to the park fund.

Co-Ops Are In Danger, Says State Co-Op Man

Anti-Cooperative Groups Say Co-ops Are Not Sharing Tax Burden.

Howard A. Hill, member of the Nebraska Cooperative Council, told stockholders attending the annual meeting of the Farmers Grain and Supply Co. in Ord Thursday afternoon that the nation's cooperatives are in danger.

There are several organizations, he stated, who are asking for legislative action to throw out the cooperatives. Among the charges leveled against the co-ops by these groups are that the cooperatives are throttling and eliminating the small merchant and that the Co-ops have mapped plans with the CIO to run industry and agriculture.

But the entire anti-cooperative fight, declared Mr. Hill, is being based on the statement that the cooperatives don't pay taxes — that the rest of America is being forced to shoulder the burden of paying the Co-op's share of taxes.

To disprove this statement, Mr. Hill related that in Ord, alone, the Farmers' Store paid over $6,000 in taxes for 1945. He added that his council was organized for the defense of cooperatives, and that the group believes that cooperatives are a definite asset to the business economy of the United States.

Among the organizations fighting the Co-ops, said Mr. Hill, are the National Tax Equality Association, the Conference of American Small Businesses, the Nebraska Tax Equality Committee, and the Hastings Credit Bureau.

Door prizes were awarded to Frank Vochmal, Fred Kuchl, Charles Cochran, Anton Pota, Jim Vasicek, Jim Bazant, Mrs. John Bremer, Jim Sedlack, Mrs. C. E. Gress of North Loup, Mrs. George Nay, Henry Lange and George Bremer.

The Rotary club of Ord today is celebrating the 42nd anniversary of the founding of the international Rotary organization, having as guest speaker John Moore, of Norfolk, district governor of Rotary International. A dinner meeting is being held at the Jones cafe.

In tracing the growth of Rotary, Hilding Pearson, president of the Ord club, says: "The first Rotary club in the world was organized in Chicago on Febr. 23, 1905. Paul P. Harris, a young lawyer, suggested the idea to a group of his friends and with them, organized the club. It got its name from the fact that the first meetings were held, in rotation, in the offices of the various members."

"During these past 42 years the ideas of Paul Harris and his friends—ideas of friendship, fellowship and service to others—have been accepted by men of practically all nationalities and when Paul Harris died in Chicago last month at the age of 78 he had the deep satisfaction of knowing there are Rotary clubs in North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and in the islands of the Pacific. Today there are more than 6,000 Rotary clubs in 75 different countries, and with a total membership of over 293,000."

The Ord club was chartered in April, 1945 and has held regular weekly meetings ever since. Usual meeting night is Monday but because of Governor Moore's visit the meeting this week is being held Thursday evening.

3 different ways to enjoy potatoes

The white potato is a versatile vegetable that bakes, fries, boils, scallops, mashes and stuffs. And contrary to popular belief, it's not a particularly fattening food either—it's the butter and gravy popped on top which adds the calories!

FROSTED STUFFED POTATOES—Potatoes make a main dish and use leftovers when dressed up this way.

Cut large baked potatoes in half lengthwise, or remove a slice from top. Remove centers; mash thoroughly; add seasonings and hot milk, beating until fluffy. Fill shells with creamed chicken, eggs or sea food, or little pig sausages or frankfurters. Pile mashed potatoes on top. Brown in hot oven (450° F.) 10 minutes. For attractive browning, brush with slightly beaten egg yolks or paprika before returning to oven.

LAZY HOUSEWIFE POTATOES—All will enjoy this oven version of French fries.

Peel 6 potatoes and cut lengthwise into uniform strips 1 inch wide. Dip potatoes in 3 tablespoons melted shortening or drippings. Place in well-greased shallow pan and bake in moderate hot oven (425° F.) 40 minutes. When potatoes are crisp and brown on the bottom, turn carefully. Serves 6.

SHREDDED-FRIED POTATOES—This quick addition to a busy-up meal looks like a large crusty pancake.

Heat a generous amount of shortening or drippings in a heavy frying pan; add coarsely shredded, peeled raw potatoes, allowing one potato for each person. Season to taste. Cook at medium heat until browned. Cut through the center and turn each half carefully to keep shape; brown on second side. Remove to hot plate and serve at once cut in pie-shaped wedges.

Propose Increase State Game Board

New Legislative Bill Would Add Two Members To Commission.

Two new members would be added to the State Game Commission, increasing that body to seven members, under a bill introduced last Monday by Senator Arthur Carmody, Trenton.

It would give better representation from the state as a whole and specify that a portion of the Platte River flow through six of the seven districts.

Senator Carmody would boost from 30 to 45 the number of days on which commissioners could collect their $10 daily pay for state business, and limit one one five-year term the time they could serve.

Any member moving from his legislative district automatically would be dropped from the commission. The districts:

No. 1 — Richardson, Pawnee, Nemaha, Johnson, Otoe, Cass, Lancaster, Gage, Seward, Saline and Jefferson.

My Own Column
 By H. D. Leggett

Came recently a letter from an old timer and his letter will appear in this or an early issue of this newspaper. Though he has been gone from Ord nearly fifty years, he still takes a lively interest in the old home town. While I knew this man real well more than fifty years ago, frankness compels me to say that I had not thought of him in years. The name of the writer of this letter is Frank C. Ferguson. His present home is 5427 Dairy Ave., Long Beach, Calif. It must be close to 50 years ago that he left Ord and I think he must be a little older than I am. Probably his hair is white and perhaps he has to use a cane when that unusual weather that California has so much of, makes the streets of Long Beach slippery with ice. As I now recall, Mr. Ferguson was engaged in the plumbing business when I came to town. I think his father was associated with him. The business office was in the back end of an old one story frame building that stood where the Auble building is now located. I am wondering how many Ordites of today will remember him and I am guessing that very few do.

I stole the following from Senator Lloyd Kain's Lexington Clipper but where he stole it I don't know. A state senator is privileged to do a lot of things that we common mortals dare not do. But anyhow follows the story:

"If it has a bustle it's absolutely new." Do you get the picture? It means in so many words that the little contraption which was used to accentuate the positive in the gay nineties has responded to the cycle of time and is on its way back. Out of the dustbin of time cometh the inscrutable gadget which most of us old timers had come to accept as just a memory. And as it comes creeping out of the archives it will cause our minds to revert back to the days when a lady considered herself half undressed to be without one. It will bring to mind how teacher used to rest an arm on her bustle, as, grammar in hand, she lectured the pig-tailed class, who, after all these years may have a chance to rest a like arm on a like kind of a spot. No doubt, the new version will be a little more glamorous than the kind grandma wore, but in effect it will be the same — exquisitely designed to elaborate the feminine fundament when securely moored to milady's rear — there to challenge all who looketh thereon with one of the stark mysteries of life. And lucky is the gallant swain who will be able to discourse th his sweetheart's charms in the following vein:

"My love wears a beautiful bustle, Not made up of cotton and bran; But out of genuine muscle, According to nature's own plan."

—MOC—
 The price of the World-Herald for daily and Sunday has been advanced to $15.00. Daily only remains at $9.00. I am always glad to send in your new or renewal subscription for either the Omaha or Lincoln daily. It costs you no more.

—MOC—
 Please remember that the Quiz is $3.00 a year in Nebraska and $3.50 elsewhere. If, in sending in your renewals you will remember to send the notice you have received it will save us much time. If you send just a check we may have to look in two or three places to find your card. A new form of notice being tried out on the March expirations ought to save both of us time and money.

—MOC—
 The subject more cussed and discussed than anything else these days is the subject of taxes, but so far no one has come forward with a plan to reduce taxes and at the same time give us a lot of additional services that we have not had before.

—MOC—
 The democrat candidate for governor last year promised, if elected to greatly reduce taxes. That promise probably cost him votes rather than gaining him votes for anyone intelligent enough to vote, knew that he was not sincere in making such a promise. I don't think Governor Peterson promised anything of the kind. He is advocating a lot of things for the alleged betterment of the people, that are going to cost a lot of money and greatly increase taxes.

—MOC—
 The trouble is not so much with the law makers as with the people themselves. We are demanding more and better roads; more and better state institutions of all kinds; more and bigger boards and commissions to examine and snoop; bigger salaries for teachers and preachers and most officers from county officers up. Just as we are demanding new and better cars, less working hours with higher per hour pay so we may have more time to travel and as some of them say, to improve our minds. How are we going to have all these things without paying for them? And how are we going to get the money to do it with?

—MOC—
 Fifty years ago when a young couple set up a home they did it with the idea of being economical and saving, trying to get a home and not only raise a family, but lay up something to care for them in their old age. That idea no longer prevails. The idea now is to have the best time possible, go as much as possible, rent instead of own a home and depend on the government to look after them when they get to be sixty.

These Men Spark C. Of C. Membership Drive

This picture is one of four like it that were found in a 32-page bulletin published in 1898 in the interest of Ord citizens and business interests. These are some of the pioneers whom the Fort Hartsuff Park Association hopes to honor in restoring the old Fort to a memorial park. Other interesting pictures will follow this one from week to week.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce membership committee and their recruits, who collected over $1200 in membership dues in five hours. Bottom row, left to right: George Satterfield, Henry Benda, Duane Armstrong, George Hastings and John Andersen.

Two Out of Five War II Vets Given Unemployment Aid

More than two out of every five veterans of World War II have received federal unemployment benefits, it was disclosed the latter part of last week by the Veterans Administration in Washington.

In three states — Michigan, Arkansas and West Virginia — the statistics showed, 60 per cent or more have taken advantage of the allowances.

In Nebraska and four other states — Idaho, Nevada, North Dakota, Wyoming and Virginia — the picture is different. Fewer than 30 per cent have applied for the payments ranging up to $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks. During 1946, the Veterans Administration said, the great majority of veterans availed themselves of the benefits for not more than eight or ten weeks.

DE LAVAL MILKING Maintains Sound, Healthy, Productive Udders

CENTURIES of breeding for more and more milk production has resulted in the marvelously complex and highly developed udder of the modern dairy cow. It has incredibly large milk producing capacity . . . it is sensitive . . . equally responsive to both proper and improper handling and conditions. It cannot function normally or at full productivity unless it is kept in sound, healthy condition.

At milking time . . . attached to the udder, the De Laval Magnetic Speedway Milker actually seems to become part of it. It is uniform and gentle . . . kind to the sensitive udder. De Laval Speedway Comfort Teat Cups cause no undue pull on or distortion of the sensitive tissues . . . the suspensory ligaments are not strained or distorted. Its uniform, gentle action results in most rapid milk "let down", longer lactation periods and maximum milk yield.

Miss Mary Miller Wed Sunday To Lieutenant J. B. Ferguson at Ord

Miss Mary Louise Miller, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, became the bride of Lt. (j. g.) Joseph B. Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Ferguson of McCook Sunday afternoon at 3:00 at the First Presbyterian church of Ord. Rev. R. T. Cordry performed the double ring ceremony before a background of huckleberry and baskets of white snapdragon and candles in seven branch candelabra. Miss Margie Smith of McCook played the wedding music and accompanied Miss Irene Auble who sang, "Because" and "I Love You". Colonial bouquets of white stock and daisies tied with white satin ribbon lined the aisles.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a Victorian period gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a high neckline finished with satin pleating. The elbow sleeves featured a pleated flare and the skirt introduced a three-tiered pleated flounce caught up at the back in boucle effect. The accented pleated panels extended into a long fan-shaped train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of starched heirloom lace, which was made by her grandmother, the late Mrs. W. L. McNutt. To complete her attire she wore wrist-length satin mitts and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and orchids.

Miss Lou Little of Salina, Kans., attended her as maid of honor, wearing a gown of sapphire blue satin, fashioned in Victorian lines, with high neckline, caplet sleeves and a deep circular flounce which cascaded up the back to the waist and ended in a large bustle bow. In her hair she wore talisman rose buds caught in the loops of a tulle tiara the shade of her dress. She wore long matching mitts of satin and carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses and gardenias.

The bridesmaids, Misses Jeanette Magnusson of Omaha, Mary Alice Cawood of Fremont, and Dona Leigh Brugh of York wore gowns of deep cherry red satin, identical in design with the dress of the maid of honor, and carried colonial bouquets of Briarcliff roses and gardenias.

The tapers were lighted by Misses Darlene Carlson of Lincoln and Elizabeth Kovanda of Ord. Robert Lewis of McCook served as best man. Guests were seated by Roger Miller, brother of the bride, Russell Eisenhart of Lincoln, and Alex Cochran.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where snapdragons of shaded pink and Chinese iris formed a long arrangement on the mantle. Baskets of white snapdragons were at either side of the fireplace, forming a background for the receiving line.

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen met the guests at the door. Mrs. Wade Martin of Omaha invited the guests to the dining room and in charge of the gifts was Mrs. E. W. Parmenter of McCook. Miss Marguerite Cornell of Lincoln had charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was centered with a white, four-tiered wedding cake circled with bowvardia and maiden hair fern. White candles in crystal candelabra lighted the table.

Mrs. A. L. Kee of McCook cut the wedding cake and Mrs. C. D. Cornell of Lincoln and Mrs. E. S. Murray presided at the table. Assisting with the serving were Misses Shirley Staats and Dorothy Gallup of Lincoln and Miss Charis Wells of Fremont and Miss Marjorie Eisenhart of Culbertson.

For traveling the bride wore a soft pea green gabardine dressmaker suit with a black fur coat and black straw hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Following a short wedding trip through the southern states, Lt. and Mrs. Ferguson will reside in Dallas, Tex., where the bridegroom is disbursing officer at the Naval Air Base.

The bride is a graduate of Colorado Woman's College in Denver, Colo., and was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1946. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and P.E.O. For the past semester she has been the home-making instructor in the McCook high school.

Lt. Ferguson is a graduate of McCook Junior College and attended the University of Nebraska where he was affiliated with Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. He also attended Colorado College at Colorado Springs and received his commission at Harvard University. He spent 27 months overseas aboard the U.S.S. Bushnell.

 Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
 If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be over-worked. These filters and tubules are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
 Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Lincoln Parties

Honor Mary Miller

Miss Mary Miller and her mother, Mrs. G. J. Miller were in Lincoln last week attending some parties honoring Mary.

On Saturday, Febr. 8, sorority sisters, Misses Mary Alice Ca-wood, and Charis Wells, both of Fremont, Dona Leigh Brugh of York, and Dorothy Gallup of Lincoln were hostesses at a breakfast at the Cornhusker hotel, following which Miss Miller was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Mrs. C. D. Cornell and daughter, Marguerite were hostesses at a one o'clock luncheon Saturday at their home. The luncheon was followed by a kitchen shower, with the gifts cleverly arranged before the fireplace under a parasol decorated in pink and blue.

Table decorations in the dining room were in a Valentine motif with two bowls of red carnations and white freesia and place cards which also carried the Valentine theme.

Gives Ruling On Land Leases

Legislation which would require granting of renewals to lessees of school lands would constitute bestowal of special privilege and would violate the Nebraska constitution, Attorney General Walter Johnson has ruled in an opinion prepared for Sen. Clyde F. Cret-singer of Paxton.

The ruling does not, however, prevent the lessee from receiving preference in granting a renewal lease, the attorney general added.

Citing a supreme court ruling the attorney general said:

"The Nebraska public school lands are not the property of the state, but constitute a trust of which the state is trustee. The state is without power through legislative means, or otherwise, to bestow special benefit upon any public or private person or corporation at the expense of the trust."

$1,000 Paid For Grand Champion

At the show Thursday the two-year-old Domino bred bull "Bright Domino," raised by the Hagood brothers of Broken Bow was judged grand champion and an animal entered by John Cooksley of Broken Bow was judged reserve champion.

An eight-month-old heifer calf won top honors in the female section of the show. All of the 80 purebreds entered went on sale.

Your County Fair

It happened without warning. The Board of Directors of the Valley County Agricultural Society was in session. President Clement remarked that he thought there should be a weekly column in the Quiz to keep people informed of the Board's activities and objectives; the Board members concurred. President Clement named the Secretary to be responsible for the column.

County Fairs do not "just happen". In the first place your County Fair is continuing year after year with certain definite worthwhile community objectives in mind. In the second place, it comes each year only after weeks of planning, effort and time freely given by those named to the Fair Board. It was to give you something of the objectives and some insight into the efforts put forth to accomplish those objectives that this column was born.

One of the expected features of the County Fair is the Carnival. Last week's Quiz announced the booking of the Curl Amusement Co. Carnival for the Fair next August. Sounds simple, doesn't it. Just sign a contract and there you are. But it isn't that simple. Literally dozens of carnivals are now busy booking their show for the coming season and arranging their itinerary so as to have a steady sequence of show spots without long jumps between. It was necessary to contact many carnivals to find a few who could consider our location and Fair dates in their schedule. Then, having found some that would consider us, came the problem of choosing the one which offered the kind of show we want at our Fair. Our yardstick was "clean shows" and "honest operators". We believe we have a carnival that will measure up to those standards.

We are now writing our Dwarf Hulless contracts for next year. We also have a couple of hundred acres of Hybrid Hulless contracts for next year. We believe that with good seed and the price of these contracts that pop corn will pay well next year. Last year we paid one of our growers $1125.50 for his crop from 10 acres. This was a good farmer and he used Nitrate fertilizer and did a fine job of irrigating. You can do as well under top conditions. Come in and read over our contracts and see about an acreage.

Hybrid Corn

It won't be too long till our hybrid seed is in. If you haven't placed your order before, now is the time to get it booked. Besides our regular numbers at the regular price we have 50 bushels of a very good number at $6.00 per bu., in flat grade. Ask about this special.

Ord Legion Team Loses to G. I. In Town Tourney

Ord Opponents Slated To Go To Finals Against St. Paul.

Ord's American Legion team dropped out in the second round of the Town team tournament held at Loup City Monday evening with a one point loss to the Jameson's Cafe team of Grand Island. Final score was 21 to 20.

It was the second loss to the Grand Island team within a week for the Ordites. Friday evening, following the O'Neill-Ord high school game, the Legionnaires dropped another game to the Islanders, 31 to 26. High point man for Ord, in the Friday tilt was center Hank Adams.

During the other games played Monday evening Burwell won over Pleasanton, St. Paul defeated Rockville, and Mason City downed the Loup City team.

In the first round of the tourney played Sunday afternoon, the Ord team, coached by Don Dahlin, defeated the Kearney Legion team 39 to 37.

Present indications are that Grand Island will meet St. Paul in the finals this evening.

Cigarettes Help Repair House

A carton of cigarettes comes in mightily handy these days in Europe when one is anxious to repair a badly damaged, bombed house, Misses Ludmila and Zdenka Kokes have discovered.

The two girls, nieces of Mrs. Vincent Kokes of Ord, live in Czechoslovakia. Their home was originally in Sudetenland, which bore the brunt of the first German attack. Later, when the war swept over the entire country, they moved near Prague.

After the war, they wanted to repair their house and move back in, but were unable to obtain either the materials for the repair or to hire labor to do the work. That's when the Ord relatives came in handy.

Mrs. Kokes and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fafeita, have been sending packages of food to the girls. In the last package they included a carton of cigarettes and solved the repair problem.

When laborers and lumber dealers heard that the Kokes girls possessed American cigarettes, they begged for employment, and materials were handed over willingly in exchange for the cigarettes. They wrote Mrs. Kokes that cigarettes bring more money in the black market in Europe than the money itself is worth.

Condition is Improved

Patrolman Warns Against Using Old License Plates

Capt. C. J. Sanders of the Nebraska Safety Patrol has announced that a large number of automobiles are still being operated with 1946 license plates.

He is calling attention of motorists to the fact that ALL 1946 Nebraska license plates expired on Jan. 1. All those who have not yet fastened the '47 tabs to their plates, are subject to arrest.

Here in Valley county Thursday morning, state patrolman G. L. Smith arrested Everett Bundy, who was found driving with only his 1946 license plates. Bundy appeared before County Judge John Andersen Thursday afternoon, where he pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10, along with costs of four dollars.

Siphon To Carry Irrigation Water Under Mira Creek

County Soil Conservation Experts Solve Problem of Washed Out Flume.

An inverted siphon will carry irrigation water on the Davis-Vogelzanz farm near North Loup under Mira Creek this year, it has been announced by the county conservationist, Gary Bobst. Previously the water was carried across the creek by means of a flume.

This flume was constantly being washed out by spring floods. Flooding in the creek and erosion around the supporting timbers made it a tough job to keep the flume in repair.

This year, the owners put the farm under agreement with the Valley County Soil Conservation district and a complete farm conservation program has been developed. District technicians designed the 10-inch corrugated, asphalt treated pipe which is to carry the water under the creek. The pipe has been ordered and will be on hand for installation when the frost goes out in the spring.

The Davis-Vogelzanz farm is operated by Roy Jacobs.

Two Ord Stores Buy New Fixtures; Plan Special Openings

Mrs. Leslie Nash To Train City Choral Group

Organization Is Under The Sponsorship of Chamber of Commerce.

Ord and vicinity will soon have the pleasure of hearing its own chorus again, according to an announcement by the Chamber of Commerce entertainment committee sent out last week. Present plans, according to Freeman Haught, who is chairman of the group, call for a chorus of from 75 to 100 voices, with the first rehearsal to be held at 8:30 p. m. on Friday, March 7, at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Weekly practices will follow.

Mrs. Leslie Nash will train the group and Mrs. Syl Furtak will be accompanist.

The first public appearance of the chorus is slated for some time around May 1, when the Chamber of Commerce committee plans to sponsor a May festival or a spring concert.

Selected high school voices will sing with the group, and in addition a trumpet trio including Jay Stoddard, Don Hill and James Misko will play for the May festival, it has been announced by William Nelson, instructor of music in the Ord schools.

A May pole will be wound by Campfire girls of the groups sponsored by Mrs. Alex Cochran and Mrs. Wallace Doe, with Irma King training the little girls.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce group in charge of plans are Joe Ramaekers, George Hastings, Joe Rysavy, Dr. Glen Auble, and Marlin Taylor, as well as chairman Haught.

Ord, Central City Seeded Teams In Class B Contest

Winner Will Play In The State Tourney At Lincoln March 12.

The District Class B Basketball tournament will be held in Fullerton next week, March 5, 6 and 7. Favored tourney teams are Central City and Ord.

Central City holds regular season victories over all tournament teams except Ord. Both teams have lost to Grand Island and Seward by comparable scores while defeating all other mutual opponents by decisive scores. Both Central City and Ord were in the state tournament last year as winners of the district tournaments at Fullerton and O'Neill.

According to tourney dopesters, Fullerton and Loup City are expected to furnish plenty of competition, and perhaps might be able to upset the favored teams. Both Fullerton and Loup City have better than average season records although they have lost to the seeded teams in early season games.

Based on season's records, Albion, Aurora and Ravenna are given only outside chances of winning the championship and the trip to Lincoln for the state tournament the week following.

First round games will be played in the high school auditorium at Fullerton on Wednesday, March 5, with Ord meeting Loup City at 6:15; Central City will go against Aurora at 7:30; Fullerton will oppose Ravenna at 8:45. Albion, in the bracket with Ord and Loup City, drew a bye in the first round.

No Decision Yet Given By State R'way Comm.

Ord Men Testify As to Value of Railroad at St. Paul Hearing.

No decision has been handed down thus far by the State Railway Commission on the request of the Union Pacific Railroad to substitute tri-weekly for daily service on the Ord-St. Paul and Loup City-St. Paul lines. Hearings on the petition was held last Wednesday and Thursday at the Howard county courthouse in St. Paul.

Attorneys who represented the Ord and Loup City Chambers of Commerce and shippers from Elba, Cotesfield, North Loup and Scotia were George Truman of Omaha and John Misko of Ord.

The Wednesday morning session was taken over by representatives of the Union Pacific, who tried to show that the line has been operating at a loss during the past two years.

Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning, the Commission heard testimony from people as to how badly the railroad service was needed, and how much the producer would lose if the tri-weekly service were established in substitution for daily service.

Ordites who testified at the hearing were Bill Heuck, manager of the Farmers Grain and Supply Co., C. J. Mortensen, Rollin Dye, Bob Noll, Art Jefferies, and Chamber of Commerce secretary John Anderson.

Amick Motors To Have Free Dance At Grand Opening

New Hudson Firm Distributor For Eight County Territory.

Grand opening festivities of Amick Motors, new Hudson dealer in Ord will be climaxed by a free dance at the Bohemian Hall Saturday night. Music will be furnished by the Swingsters and dancing will be from 7:30 until 11:30. Door prizes will be given.

Theodore Amick of Elba, owner of the firm, told the Quiz that he plans on making Ord his headquarters for distribution of Hudson cars throughout an eight-county territory. He also maintains sales offices and service departments at Elba and St. Paul.

Mr. Amick leased the former Kellison implement building, owned by Hugh Carson some months ago and has had a crew of workmen busy since that time remodeling and repainting. Paul Duenn who operated a garage north of the postoffice now has his shop in the Amick building and will be in charge of repairs. A body and repainting shop operated by Elmer Christofferson completes the service end of the organization.

Front of the old implement structure has been completely remodeled and repainted. A modern display room with fluorescent lighting occupies the east one-third of the structure.

Mr. Amick plans on having a complete display of new Hudson cars on hand for the opening. Hudson officials from Omaha and Detroit will also be here.

Johnny Douthit, Ord youngster, is going to have $10.00 worth of new bicycle accessories through submitting the right guess on a teaser advertisement appearing in the Quiz two weeks ago.

Mr. Amick's advertisement, unsigned had the question: "What is the biggest event to come to Ord in years?" and brought scores of guesses from Quiz readers ranging from the coming July 3-4 auto races to the agricultural road show held last week. Johnny was the first person to phone the Quiz with the correct answer: "The grand opening of the Hudson garage."

Johnny will receive a ten dollar credit at the Western Auto Store where he plans to buy some new gadgets for his bicycle.

Cost Of Living to Get Another Jolt

Markets Advance; Increase in Cereal, Meat Items Expected; Rye $2.80 Bushel.

Spectacular advances in grains and livestock the past several weeks have made Ord residents prepare themselves for a new jolt in the already high cost of living.

The increases have not as yet been reflected in over-the-counter purchases of food but will be shortly, Ord retailers feel.

Butterfat advanced three cents over the week, Ord buyers were paying 68 cents Wednesday as compared with 65 cents a week ago. Eggs are also up two cents for a today's price of 35 cents.

Bill Heuck, manager of the Farmer's Grain & Supply Co. of Ord told the Quiz that grain markets had been making steady increases the past several weeks. "There seems to be a lot of activity in the market," he said, "and in some cases it's running wild. I rather believe that government purchasing for export has sent a lot of speculators into the market on the bullish side."

Corn has advanced about 12 cents a bushel in the past ten days, while wheat has jumped about 24 cents in the past three weeks, Heuck said. "We're bidding $2.85 per bushel right now for rye, which is up about 50 cents over a month ago. I can't figure that one out, but apparently someone, somewhere, wants rye and is willing to pay for it," he stated.

Livestock prices have increased slowly the past two weeks. Hogs are up about $7.00 per hundred over the January 1 price.

In the face of rising prices, most Ord grocers reported that prices of most of their retail items had been slipping steadily with the exception of cereal and meat products. Some canned goods which were out of sight a few months ago are now dropping to reasonable levels.

—N. P. Jensen of Howard county has moved to Valley county, having purchased the Charley Kingston place on Route 2.

—Joe Karty and John Beran drove to Omaha Tuesday morning, where Mr. Karty will attend the Hardware Dealers' convention.

"Chief" John Moore Is Rotary Speaker

"Chief" John Moore, veteran secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Norfolk and present governor of the 120th district of Rotary International was guest and principal speaker at a meeting of the Ord Rotary club Thursday evening.

He discussed Rotary subjects, telling about the proposed division of the present state-wide 120th district to form two smaller districts to be known as the 115th and 120th. Ord will be in the western district comprising clubs west of a north-south line across Nebraska, passing through Grand Island.

F. A. Asmus, business manager of the Norfolk Daily News, accompanied Governor Moore to Ord and was also a guest of the club. Monday evening of this week the Ord club reverted to its regular meeting time and Rev. Carl F. McConnell was principal speaker, discussing the liquor problem.

Agriculture Road Show Draws Large Crowd Here Mon.

President of the Rural Youth Group Speaks At Meeting.

The agriculture road show, sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce drew a crowd of over 200 persons Monday afternoon. Movies of interest to farmers and their wives were featured at the show.

In charge of the movies sent out by the University of Nebraska extension service was Charles McLain of Lexington. Mr. McLain, who is state president of the state Rural Youth Organization, pleaded for the organization of a club in Valley county.

In explaining the purpose of the group, he said that the club is seeking the membership of those boys and girls who have been graduated from high school and have passed the age limits of 4-H club work. It is more or less, he said, a gathering place for young people who have their rural backgrounds in common.

Other speakers on the program were Valley County extension agent, C. C. Dale, and Henry Janus, chairman of the Valley County Noxious Weed district.

Movies shown stressed the importance of soil conservation, and crop rotation.

Thirty door prizes, donated by Ord merchants, were given out at the close of the show.

O'Neill Downed By Speedy Ord Basketeers 35-12

Chanticleers Regain An Early Season Form To Blast The North Central Champs.

Coach Alex Cochran's Ord High School Chanticleers, displaying the early season form that sent them soaring to second spot in the state's Class B teams, rolled like a mighty juggernaut over the O'Neill Eagles Friday night, leaving Coach Kelly Saindon's men on the short end of a 35 to 12 score.

The Ordites had expected a tough game from the North Central Conference champions; a team made up of the same veterans who downed Ord last year by one point. However, the Chants opened up a blistering attack leaving the O'Neill team dazed and holding them scoreless until the last minute of the first quarter when Saindon tipped a field goal.

During the second quarter, Cochran's boys started a merciless passing attack and the half-time score read 17 to 4.

Ord high's reserves took over during the last four minutes of the final canto, playing a rough and tumble type of basketball, as members of both teams sprawled on the court in a hectic bid by the reserves to chalk up a few more scores.

High point man for Ord was big Al Blessing with fifteen points, followed closely by Loft with ten. Scoring honors for O'Neill were held by Saindon and Tibbetts, each taking six points for the only scores of the game. Referee for the game was Davis of St. Paul.

Tuesday night the Chanticleers scored their second win over Ravenna on the Ravenna home floor by a score of 53 to 21. It was Ord's ball game throughout, with the second stringers taking over during the final canto.

Score at the end of the first period was 11 to 2, with the Chants giving no quarter during the second quarter to hold the Ravenna team 20 to 5. Third quarter score was 40 to 13.

High point man for Ord was Al Blessing with 20 points. Lauren was second high with 9; and Stoddard taking 8; Piskorski 6; Loft 5; Wozniak 4; and Anderson and Hannah each one apiece.

Cochran's men are playing against a handicap this week with guard Roger Dahlin under the doctor's care due to an ear infection. And, unless his condition improves, Dahlin may be unable to play in the Class B tourney at Fullerton next week.

This evening, the Chants play at Albion, where a tough game is anticipated, according to Coach Cochran.

The Chanticleers will play their final home game this season Friday night, when they meet the Neligh team. Playing their last home game for Ord High school will be seniors Martin Piskorski, Paul Laursen, John Hannah, Roger Dahlin and Don Loft.

Your County Fair

Nebraska's primary industry is agriculture and the prosperity of any industry can be improved by proper promotion. These two facts were given recognition many years ago by our Nebraska Legislature when it passed enabling laws authorizing formation of County Fair Associations. County Fairs are the "show windows" of our agricultural industry.

Within rather broad limits the form of organization to be adopted by Fair Associations was prescribed by law. The objective of such associations was also defined by law.

Conforming to the law your Valley County Fair Association, legally known as the Valley County Agricultural Society, is a non-profit corporation organized and functioning to encourage improvement in all things pertaining to agriculture and business in Valley County. As such, it is an organization of interest and support of everyone in the County.

Electric Organ for Seventh Day Baptist Church Hoped for Soon

An electric organ for the Seventh Day Baptist church is hoped for this spring and seems likely, with the continued efforts of the committee who are in charge of the raising of the funds. The organ will be a memorial organ, originally started as a dedication to Dr. Hemphill for his years of service in the community. A campaign for one dollar from each person that Dr. Hemphill brought into the world brought in a nice sum but is not sufficient to buy the organ. The committee has decided to make it a memorial, Dr. Hemphill's name on the plaque, along with other pioneers.

Several have already contributed in memory of parents, former pastor, teacher. While any sum is acceptable, most donors are finding it convenient to contribute $25.00 or $50.00 or more. If there is enough pledged by Easter, the organ can be ordered in April and probably be delivered before the summer is over. For a time, no organ was available, but now they are again on the market. Committee in charge of the project, which is sponsored by the Womens Missionary Circle is Mrs. Ehret, chairman, Mrs. Harlon Brennick, treasurer, with Mrs. Glen Johnson, Mrs. James Johnson and Mrs. R. O. Babcock other members of the committee.

At the Pop Corn meeting held last week, Dell Barber and Vere Leonard were elected to serve a three year term, taking the places of Floyd Reddon and Joe Veleba, whose terms expired and who refused to serve again. H. L. Gillespie who has served on the committee for more than ten years continuously, much of that time as secretary-treasurer, resigned and Vernon Thomas was chosen to fill that vacancy. A. L. Willoughby who has also been a member of the board for many years and for the past two years has been chairman, resigned and Roy Cox was chosen to fill his unexpired term. Jim Coleman and Ben Nelson are the other members of the committee and later the whole committee met to organize. Ben Nelson was elected as chairman and Roy Cox as secretary-treasurer. Plans are already under way for the annual homecoming celebration which will be September 10, 11 and 12.

Leo Wolfe won a first place ribbon in the Hereford livestock judging contest at Grand Island Thursday. Don Smith was the winner of a third place award. Approximately 450 boys from eighteen schools and twenty counties participated in the show and contest. Charles Beebe, Kenton Kerr and Harlon Greene were other North Loup representatives.

Mrs. John Ward went to Burwell on the Thursday morning bus, called there by the death of a three months old grandson, Gary Lee Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, jr. The little fellow had smothered in his sleep, was found by his mother at six o'clock in the morning when she went to feed him. He was sleeping on his stomach and had in some way gotten down under the covers and suffocated. The funeral was Friday afternoon and Mrs. Lee Mulligan took Mr. John Ward and Alice to Burwell for the funeral. Mrs. Ward came home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Manchester were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bridge and Jackie.

Challengers Win Three Games.

North Loup's "in and out" basket ball team won three games during the past week. Arcadia was the first victim in a game which found North Loup winning all the way. The tall Arcadians made several bids before finally dropping a 36-30 decision.

A thrilling game was played at Sargent Friday night and found North Loup taking a 36-31 win over the three Loup Champions. In this game North Loup started with a bang and led by eight points at the close of the first period. Sargent came back strong during the second quarter and enjoyed a five point lead at intermission.

The second half found each team holding the lead several times. During the last quarter, Sargent tired as North Loup sputted to take a five point win. Reddon and Goodrich led the North Loup attack.

Plainly showing the effects of their game with Sargent the previous night, North Loup was forced to come from behind in the fourth quarter to win from Taylor Saturday night by a 28-20 score. Passing by both teams was ragged and only good defense work by the Challengers saved them from defeat. Hutchins and Kerr looked best defensively while Reddon ran up seventeen points for scoring honors.

This week the challengers play in the district tournament at Primrose. North Loup drew a bye the first round and meet the winner of the Primrose, O'Connor game on Wednesday night. Spalding and Primrose have been tabbed by Gregg McBride as the logical winners.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I had another letter this week from another old timer. This time it was from Everett Cromwell. He left Ord forty years ago and is now at Victoria, Texas. The Cromwell home place was in Mira Valley, the place now owned by Joe Z. Marks. Mr. Marks happened to come to the office while I was reading the letter and verifies this statement. Mr. Cromwell married Norah Honnold and she passed away 28 years ago. He says his cousin Oliver Cromwell sent him a few copies of the Quiz and he realizes that many whom he knew 40 years ago have passed on. He mentions Raymond and Guy Burrows as old friends who he remembers and whose names he saw in the Quiz. A heart attack some months ago forced him to give up farming and hold a sale and he is now regaining his health at Ranch Motel, Victoria, Texas. He says he expects to visit Ord within the next few months and renew acquaintance with such of his old time friends as he can find.

As I write this on Saturday everything is closed except those of us who have to work for a living. I sometimes wonder why I didn't go in for banking, public office, government service. Then I could have claimed every few days as a holiday and drawn my pay without working. To heck with the inconvenience it makes for the public who have to pay the bills. If union labor gets all it wants none of us will have to work more than a few hours on a couple of days a week.

The teacher asked little Miss Apking the other day if her father was a golf player. Oh no, she replied. He learned to talk that way in the navy.

I hope our own Sen. John Doyle will look those water bills over carefully, that were introduced by Sen. C. Petrus Peterson. There is no question but that they are in there for the benefit of someone rather than the people who live in the various river valleys. They provide for taking a part of the water from one river valley to another. If they are made into law and the law is upheld by the highest court in the land, no doubt getting them passed will be much more profitable work than would be the filling any office within the gift of the people of this state.

During the last few weeks of 1946 I handled a number of hundred Quiz subscriptions. It was some time before I got caught up on the corrections. Since then a few errors have come to light and I am asking all who paid at that time, just before the new three dollar rate went into effect, to check their date on the paper and if the same is not correct to drop me a card at once telling me about it and when they paid.

Yes, I am glad to send in your new or renewal subscription for either the Omaha or Lincoln dailies. I make a small commission and you save a few cents postage and a little bother. If your paper is about out and you can't get in, phone me and I will send in the renewal and you may pay me when you come to town.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

5427 Dairy Ave. Long Beach, Calif. February 5, 1947.

The Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebr.

My old time friend The Ord Quiz and your senior Editor Mr. H. D. Leggett, who has no doubt forgotten me during these many long years.

By chance I came across your copy of June 30th in which you gave a report from Doctor Lane on Fort Hartsuff, its location etc., and being a boy in and around Fort Hartsuff before and during its construction I thought it fitting that I give you some of the inside memories regarding the same.

There was a company of soldiers, located by Mel Goodenough's home near what is now Burwell. They were sent up there by General E. O. C. Ord, who was the commander of the Department of the Platte. My mother wrote to the Senator, who I think was Manderson, that we were in danger from marauding bands of Sioux and Pawnee Indians and soon after General Ord and an aide came to our ranch on horseback and they and my father spent a day looking over Sections two and ten, Twp. 20, Range 15, near our ranch and the General reported favorable as a site on which to locate a Fort. Congress had about that time appropriated $200,000 for that purpose and construction was soon begun.

The troop located near Goodenough's place was under command of Capt. Munson as I remember, it was Company C of the 23rd Infantry and was moved over to the new camp at Ft. Hartsuff.

The new construction was under the direction of a man named Abramson. The spending of the $200,000 was a great event for the poor settlers of Valley county and surrounding territory for many of them had not been there long enough to begin being productive. Gravel was carted from Island Creek, lime from Beebee's, down near Cotesfield and logs from the Cedar Canyons. They built a saw mill at the site and much of the lumber used there was cut at that mill and it was all of that choice cedar.

During a severe wind and snow storm in the winter of 1874-75 when the officer's quarters were about enclosed fire broke out and that building was destroyed. There are many incidents and minor happenings during that period which could be recounted, but that was so long ago you or your readers would not be interested in them. If any old-timers find discrepancies in this, please remember I too might have a lapse of memory. I am yours of long ago, Frank C. Ferguson.

Home For Sixteen Year Old Boy Wanted

A foster home on a farm or ranch is wanted for a sixteen year old boy, shortly to be graduated from the boys' industrial training school at Kearney, Nebr., according to Mrs. Opal Burrows, county assistance director. The boy has expressed a desire to be paroled to a farm home where he can work with cattle and stock.

Mrs. Burrows told the Quiz that a need exists for several foster homes in Valley county. "Last week we placed two boys—five and ten years old in a foster home near St. Paul. It would have been much better had we been able to find homes for them nearer home. "There is a definite need for more foster homes," Mrs. Burrows stated. "In some cases, parents wish to give up their children—in others there are those parents, who in the opinion of assistance authorities do not maintain suitable homes for their children."

Milk Prices Drop In Nebraska Towns

Schuyler, Nebraska is one of the latest towns in the state to drop prices of retail delivered milk. An announcement by the dairy said the new price would be 15 cents a quart.

In Burwell, the delivered price of milk is 13 cents a quart. Over the counter sales are 12 cents a quart.

Ord prices were 16 cents a quart delivered or over the counter until January 20, when the price was dropped to 14 cents a quart.

It's Your Duty To Help Choose Good Licensees

Licenses soon will be issued to the tavern-keepers who will sell the beer in your town next year. You and your neighbors—not the beer industry—will select the licensees.

The Nebraska Committee, dedicated to maintaining the beer industry on a high plane of public acceptance, has asked all Nebraska mayors to check carefully on the qualifications and past records of licensees.

In addition, all citizens are urged to cooperate with their licensing bodies now. You do not want—no one wants—careless or incompetent beer licensees.

So you are urged to attend the public hearing that will be held in your town to consider all new and renewal licenses. You are urged to report any conditions that should be improved.

Taverns in your community can be as good as the majority of the citizens want them. We urge you to do your part.

Agnes Hvezda Wed To S. Bukowski

At a nuptial high Mass solemnized at 9:00 Monday morning, Febr. 17, at St. Joseph's Catholic church at Loup City, Miss Agnes Hvezda, daughter of Michael Hvezda of Ord, became the bride of Stanley Bukowski, son of Mrs. Mary Bukowski of Loup City. The Rev. Henry Bednarczyk, celebrant of the Mass, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a blue suit with white and brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Her attendant, Mrs. Ben Janulewicz, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a gold suit with black accessories and a corsage of roses. Serving as best man was Ben Janulewicz.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's mother for forty guests. The table centerpiece, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was a three-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Fred Worth.

The bride is employed by the Quiz office and the bridegroom works for Fred Worth. Both will continue with their work for the present.

Miskos Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Misko entertained at their home Saturday evening, guests being Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Apking and Mrs. E. C. Leggett.

Occo Brings that TOP FINISH
Grasses, roughages... even grain feeds, today, are too often deficient in vital minerals. That's why so many farmers, whose feeders are consistently market toppers, feed Occo Mineral Compound. They have found that Occo helps build meat and bones... that it makes for faster, cheaper gains... and aids in getting that finished bloom which makes such a big difference in prices at market time. Let me show you why Occo is so important to the farmer who grows steers.

Report On Activities of Soil Conservation

Below is the annual report of the Supervisors of the Valley County Soil Conservation District presented by the following supervisors: Henry J. Enger, chairman; E. O. Schudel, secretary-treasurer; Leo Long, Anton Welniak and Harold Nelson.

This report is both statistical and narrative. In the following table there are recorded the conservation accomplishments for the year:

The following practices were established in 1946:
Contour planting—1540 acres; Range properly stocked—6153 acres; Seeding of range and pasture—912 acres; Farm and ranch ponds—39; Terraces—28.6 miles; Diversions—87045 lin. feet; farm drains—105 acres; Farm irrigation land preparation—639 acres; Improved methods of water application—1263 acres; Shelterbelt and windbreak plantings—66 miles, 6 acres; Outlets and watercourses—62 acres; Management of odd areas—15 acres; Farm laterals and ditches—233.55 miles; Wells developed—3,219 acres.

The record of the establishment of practices shows a healthy increase over the previous year in a majority of practices.

This year was the first year of operation of this District when our country was not at war. There have been major changes or shifts of emphasis on products during the war years. There are and will continue to be changes for the next year or so, from a war to peace basis of farm operations. Some of these are reflected in the activities of the district. Most important was the change in policy from the laying out of single practices to complete farm planning.

This change scaled down the applications by eliminating those only interested in single practices. It is of importance to note that farmers are applying in numbers for complete farm planning.

We supervisors feel that our district is popular with farmers and believe that with less emphasis on maximum production that most farmers will be looking forward toward the securing of their soils and rebuilding the damage done during the war years.

The work done by the heavy equipment on loan to the district has been somewhat disappointing. A major breakdown in March was not repaired until the middle of June due to the scarcity of parts.

In all, a total of seven operators have been employed on this one piece of equipment. This we believe is due to the generally unsettled condition of labor. It is anticipated that this condition will be much improved during the coming year.

The money won by the district in the World-Herald contest was used together with some money from the district account to purchase a Ford tractor and earth moving equipment. This equipment has been used to construct terraces, build farm ponds and grade up farm drives.

The district is carrying forward a cash balance of about $1500.00 less than a year ago. New equipment purchased accounted for about $1850. Considering depreciation and accounts receivable the year's operations will show a small margin of profits.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT

By John L. Ward
Valley County's first year, 1873. While the settlers came to the North Loup valley in 1872, the first arriving at North Loup May 13, the official record of Valley county did not start until the following year.

There must have been a beginning somewhere, and it does not appear just how these men were chosen for their jobs. They could hardly have been elected, since there is no record of an election being held.

There was no permanent record book at the time, and the record of that meeting and all others that were held in 1873 were kept temporarily by McKenney and were transcribed into permanent record book No. 1, under date of Jan. 2, 1874, by W. D. Long, father of Leo Long and Mrs. Herman Timmerman, both still living near Ord.

There was not a great amount of business done at that first meeting, but that business was very important. At the time, of course there was no money in the county treasury, which might have been the reason Mr. McKenney had time to act as clerk.

was to assess. O. S. Haskell was appointed to assess all the area north of the North Loup river, and George B. Rood was to assess all the territory south of it.

To guide them in their work, the following price scale was set up: horses and mules, from $5 to $10; young stock, from $4 to $8 per head; all other stock at two thirds of its cash value.

All four of the above men were present at the second meeting of the board, held July 1, 1873. At this session the road petition of Charles Badger, Petition No. 1, was allowed, and D. A. Post was appointed to view the road.

Again July 7 the same four met. Apparently a remonstrance had been filed by Charles Badger against the laying of some road, details lacking, but the board voted not to be influenced by such a remonstrance.

There was no permanent record book at the time, and the record of that meeting and all others that were held in 1873 were kept temporarily by McKenney and were transcribed into permanent record book No. 1, under date of Jan. 2, 1874, by W. D. Long, father of Leo Long and Mrs. Herman Timmerman, both still living near Ord.

There was not a great amount of business done at that first meeting, but that business was very important. At the time, of course there was no money in the county treasury, which might have been the reason Mr. McKenney had time to act as clerk.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA

by James C. Olson
Supt., State Historical Society

Someone once called the buffalo, "the department store of the Indian." It is an apt characterization, for the buffalo filled a long list of the Indian's needs, ranging all the way from food and clothing to religion.

Like the modern meat packer, who "uses everything but the squeal", the Indian found some use for virtually every part of the shaggy, thick-set animal which once roamed the great plains by the millions.

Probably the most important product of the buffalo was food. The animal was skinned and dressed where it fell, and the meat was divided according to tribal regulations.

Other sources of food were the intestines and bones. The former were cleaned and eaten raw or baked on hot coals. The latter were cracked after boiling, and the marrow was extracted and kept in bags until needed for food.

The tough, pliable buffalo hide was the Indian's primary source of shelter and clothing. Dressed with the hair on, the hides were used for winter robes, bed clothing and floor rugs.

There was little, though, that the Indian could do to stay this onslaught against himself and his primary source of food, clothing and shelter.

Gradually the boundaries of the buffalo range—which at one time extended over central North America from near the Atlantic coast and by Valley county and the Village of Ord, as outlined in last week. All this occurred more than a decade before the bonds were issued here, but it seems that each community must live and learn for itself.

to Nevada—were pushed toward a center located on the plains east of the Rockies. In 1869, the transcontinental railroad cut the buffalo into two herds. By 1873 the southern herd had been practically exterminated, and within a decade the northern herd met the same fate.

P. S. In my story of the railroads last week I stated that was not clear just how the Burlington acquired the alternate sections of land in Valley county at the time the first settlers arrived. This week I have been reading the book, "J. Sterling Morton," by James C. Olson, and I ran across an interesting statement. It seems that the B. and M. had accepted a grant of land in Nebraska Jan. 16, 1865, the agreement being the alternate sections for ten miles on either side of the track. It seems that this land became theirs as soon as the land was opened for settlement, and the conditions required that the railroad build into the communities where land was given, or later lose the land.

It is interesting to note that Morton, who was a strong booster for the Burlington railroad, was opposed to giving the land to the railroad, on the grounds that this would exclude many would be homesteaders. He also opposed the issuance of bonds by any county as an inducement for the railroads to build into a community, such as was done by Ord and North Loup townships.

New Stamp Good For Ten Pounds

Usual Amount of Sugar Is Doubled by New Stamp Valid April 1.

Another sugar stamp will be validated by the OPA on April 1. This stamp, however, will be good for ten pounds instead of the usual five. This ration will cover both canning and regular home use.

Stamp No. 53, currently good for five pounds, will expire at midnight, March 31, instead of April 30 as originally planned. After April 1, all subsequent stamps will be good for ten pounds.

According to an OPA official, two factors governed revision of the rationing procedure. These, he said, are:

1. By making each new stamp good for ten pounds, OPA will be saved the expense, estimated at around $1,500,000 of issuing new sugar ration books. After stamp 53 has been issued, the books will contain only four and the OPA wants them to last through the year, and possibly beyond.
2. The change will prepare the OPA to handle any increase in the year's total sugar rations for household use.

Fort Hartsuff In 1900

How Will It Look In 1950?

It Can Be Beautiful and a Very Suitable Tribute to the Pioneers of the Loup Valleys.

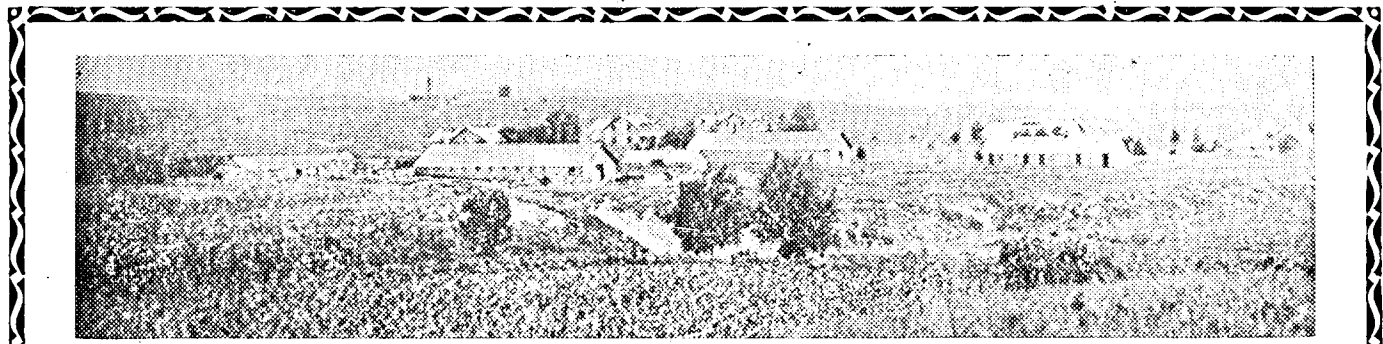

The financial committee has started a drive to raise enough funds to acquire the building site and about thirty-five acres of land. About 15 acres can be converted into a lake to add to recreation pleasure. When acquired the site will be given to the National or State Park Commission to be rebuilt as near as possible to the original.

This is the last chance for Nebraskans to restore an abandoned fort as it is the only one left with buildings standing. Fort Hartsuff restored, will stand as a permanent memorial to all Nebraska Pioneers as well as those of the Loup Valleys.

Presenting a new talent for the screen, it's Ava Garner, with George Raft, Victor McLaglen and Tom Conway, in

"WHISTLE STOP"

A picture that proves it takes a woman to make a good guy out of an all-wrong man! The story of how Mary didn't mean to start a scandal—but she did and almost lost her good name, in a small town!

SECOND FEATURE

Another favorite, from your comic strip story, brought to life in every Sunday's funny-paper, it's Wild Bill Elliott as Red Ryder, and Bobby Blake as Little Beaver, with Alice Fleming and Ray Bancroft, in

"WAGONWHEELS WESTWARD"

Sunday - Monday, March 2 - 3

From the lusty pages of this great American classic of high seas, adventures sweep in thrilling majesty across the screen in the famous novel by Richard Henry Dana—

DOUBLE FEATURE

Another from your favorite comic strip, it's little Jo-Ann Marlowe, in starring David Bruce, Cleatus Caldwell and Nina Hunter. In a laugh contest that will double you over, and with fun and romance in every musical moment.

SECOND FEATURE

"SUSIE STEPS OUT"

Former Ord Resident Making Wrenches

A former Ordite, R. E. Collison, is making dividends on his newly-patented wrench, the "Collison Adjustable 'S' Wrench," and has opened a plant in Bruning for the manufacture of the wrench. His new concern is called the Collison Manufacturing Company.

Patented last May, the new tool is a complete tool kit in itself, and sells for $1.95 postpaid. It does the work of a pipe wrench, an ordinary 'S' wrench or the common monkey wrench, and beats them all at their own game. It goes into small and difficult places, works on a minimum of swing, and will not mar a burr when handled properly.

It can be instantly adjusted by one hand for many sizes by the handy finger-tip control which frees the other hand when adjustments are made. It is a key puller and prier and will get at the most difficult positions.

Except for a few foundry and die-cut pieces, all manufacturing and assembling is done at the Collison plant, located in the south part of Bruning. Collison and his son, Roland, owners and holders of the patent, have constructed their own machinery to turn out the finished product, and are adding to and improving facilities to increase output. At the present stage, the concern is able to manufacture 500 wrenches daily.

Favor Boosting Coyote Bounty

A $2.50 bounty on foxes and coyotes the year around would replace a $1 bounty from April to October under a bill reported out Thursday by the legislature's agriculture committee.

The committee combined LB 107 by Weborg, originally proposing a bounty of $3.50 and LB 124 by Doyle proposing to pay $3. LB 124 was killed and the committee reported out its own version of LB 107.

Grain

The past week we have seen further advances in the price of all grains. Wheat and rye have made new highs for the past 27 years. We are always in the market for your grain at the highest market prices.

"RYE"

We believe that perhaps we are on our last carload of rye, of this crop, to ship from this territory. Many stations have already stopped buying rye because of their inability to accumulate a carload. As this is being written we are paying $2.80 per bushel. If you have any rye to sell, get in touch with us this week. We will need only a few hundred bushels for this car.

Wayne Feeds

Another carload arrived this week. It pays to feed the best.

Pop Corn Contracts

Most of our Hybrid Hulleless acreage has been taken but we do have a very good acreage of Regular Dwarf Hulleless Popcorn to place. We also have 500 acres of Yellow Pearl. This Yellow Pearl is an early popcorn that matures in this section; the maturity date is about the same as our Dwarf Hulleless. This acreage is all to be placed on irrigated land. We believe that these popcorn contracts will make you good money especially if you use Nitrate at the last cultivation. Popcorn makes a good early cash crop and the contracts are with very reliable contractors. If your corn is good quality you need not worry about the contractors kicking back on their contracts if there is a large crop. Come in and read over the contract.

Grains

Grains are still advancing and are in a very strong position. We are in the market for the grain that you have to sell and feel that these high prices justify moving some of your surplus grain to market. Let us make you an offer on what you have to sell. We can still use some good yellow corn on the ear as well as shelled. If you have white corn to sell, let us buy it. The barley market is not very active but wheat and oats are bringing very good prices.

Seed Barley or Oats

We have 500 bu. of six rowed barley, grown in the clay hills that originated in Dakota. Then we have about 500 bu. of good Spartan barley, local grown. Western Nebraska Spartan and Certified Spartan are just very hard to locate and buy. If you are going to need seed barley we believe that you should speak for it at once. We have a very limited amount of Certified Cedar Oats for sale and you will find good seed oats very hard to get. Our Oats yield in Valley County could be raised considerably if more attention was given to seed oats. Our oats yields are not what they should be and better seed should be used.

Nitrate

Our next car of Nitrate will be here the last week of March and we have only 70 bags of this car left to sell. And we have only 20 tons left in our April car and we understand that it will not be possible to get more of this Nitrate later. Nitrate will pay you well in increased production. We believe that Nitrate on small grain on dry land will pay you well this year with the sub-soil moisture.

Sweet Clover Alfalfa Seed

Sales are surely picking up on legumes. If the demand holds as well another month alfalfa and sweet clover seed will be very scarce. We are having calls for good Nebraska Alfalfa seed all the way from Eastern Nebraska to the State of Ohio. Last week we had a request from a former customer for 50 bu. of Valley county alfalfa seed to be shipped to Central Ohio. Don't wait till all local seed is sold to get your requirements. You no doubt know that the AAA will make a very good payment on alfalfa and sweet clover seed sowing this year.

Baby Chicks

We will give an early order discount for all orders of chicks up to March 10th. If you have not placed your order yet be sure to do so soon. Look for a very good market for all poultry next year with the very high price of both hogs and cattle. There seems to be a very definite shortage of meat and poultry cannot be too cheap with other meat as high as it is.

Feeds

We carry a full line of poultry and livestock feeds. We have just recently put in a stock of Cudahy mineral in both powder and block form.
