State Tax Levy Hiked From 3.30 Mills to 5.99

The Overall Increase is 2.69 Mills; Property Valuations Up.

The Nebraska State tax levy was set at 5.99 mills Saturday by the State Board of Equalization. This compares with a levy of 3.30 last year.

The 1947 levy was broken down by Tax Commissioner Robert Armstrong as follows: General fund levy 4.35 mills, an increase of 1.02 mills over last year.

Special school permanent fund levy income from which will this year go to a fund for a new State Historical Society Building, 1 mill.

Special veterans' aid fund levy, .44 to raise one million dollars.

Special building fund for State institutions, University of Nebraska, normal schools and armories, 1.1 mills.

Increase 2.69 Mills The overall increase over last year is 2.69 mills.

Mr. Armstrong said the 4.35 general fund levy will raise $10,077,463. The levy is based on a grand total valuation of tangible property of $2,316,658,238, an increase of 7.1 per cent over the grand total in tangible property value of $2,164,865,000.

Business property 39.2 per cent. Special schedules 5.6 per cent. Lands .08 per cent.

Special schedules include: $8,888,918. Expectable. The biennial general fund budget of the State is $36,751,605 which means that $18,373,702 plus emergency appropriations of $81,906 or $18,662,209 in all—would have to be raised this year.

But the State had $8,888,918 in cash funds available from expected from other sources.

These sources were: Miscellaneous receipts, $1,711,225; intangible tax, $3,319,111; alcoholic beverage taxes, $2,977,000; cigarette tax, $33,600,000; lapsed cash funds, $1,000,000; unappropriated, $1,707,119; amount to be paid by Consumers Public Power District in lieu of taxes, $32,241; amount to be paid by the Omaha Public Power District in lieu of taxes, $78,619.

This left a net of $2,773,260 plus a "pad" of 3 per cent required by law or $10,066,158.

The 4.35 figure, while it will raise slightly over the required amount, was the nearest levy that could equal the requirements.

The amounts for special levies would raise were set by Mr. Armstrong at: School fund, $233,665; veterans aid, $1,019,329; building fund, $2,948,324.

The grand total thus to be raised for 1947 is $13,876,782.

Increase Cattle Valuation of This County by $85,000

As the result of a general 15 percent increase in the valuation of all calves, yearlings and two-year olds in the county, valuation of the Valley county is about $85,000 higher, county assessor, Walt Noll stated today.

Noll said that all schedules have been raised accordingly. County dads will meet soon to determine the county levy which is expected to be the same as last year. Total valuation increase for the county has not been completed as yet but will run close to a million dollars, Noll said.

Funeral services will be held this week at the Pierce Brothers Funeral Home in Englewood.

Grand Island Midgets Lose In Legion Finals

Omaha, North Side Bank of Omaha retained its Nebraska Legion midget baseball crown by overwhelming Grand Island 11 to 3 Friday at Omaha.

The Omahans rallied after Grand Island held a 3-2 lead at the end of the first inning. The North Side Bank slugged two runs in the fourth, five in the fifth, two in the sixth and three in the final seventh inning.

Bob Wells started on the mound for the Islanders but was taken out in the fourth inning. Don Hancock then pitched until the sixth, where Wells took over and finished the game.

The defending champion North Side Bank team had reached the finals by ousting Fremont 18-0 Friday in Island ousted David City 6-0 and Gretna 15-4 to reach the finals.

Will Cox, North Loup, Dies Tuesday

Will Cox, 70 last December, died suddenly Tuesday morning of a heart attack. Returning three weeks ago from the Veterans Hospital in Lincoln, he was apparently regaining his health. A year ago he spent several weeks in the Veterans hospital, where he submitted to surgery. He was a Spanish American War veteran.

Rural mail carrier on route 2 out of North Loup from 1919 to 1941, he was retired because of his age. Much of his time since his retirement had been spent in the south, mostly Texas, because of his wife's health.

Since returning Mr. and Mrs. Cox have made their home with her brother and sister, Owen and Nora White and it was there he passed away.

Funeral services are to be held Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Methodist church in North Loup.

County Dads Hear Mail Route Gravel Plan Explanation

Gas Tax Will Raise About $20,000 Yearly Here; Work Next Year.

At a joint meeting of county supervisors from Greeley, Garfield, Wheeler and Valley counties, held Tuesday in Ord, county dads heard an explanation of the new mail route gravel legislation from the author of the bill, State Senator Morris Schroeder of Hoskins.

State Senator John R. Doyle of Greeley assisted in the explanation.

Rural mail carriers of this area were also present at the meeting. "Although final figures for Valley county have not yet been compiled by Tracy Hamilton, county engineer, estimates of county officials indicate that about $20,000 yearly will be available in this county for graveling mail routes. With costs running upwards of $200 a mile, from 20 to 40 miles can be gravelled each year, depending upon extra work necessary for bridges and grading. The bill does not become effective until September 9, and first year's receipts for the county are not expected to exceed $16,000.

Mail routes within Valley county cover about 350 miles, of which roughly one-third are either now gravelled or paved. Under terms of the bill, work on the routes must be made equally of origin, and the gravel must be obtained from the best source available.

Clarence Davis, Ord attorney, who served as bill-drafter for the state legislature last year, assisted members of the state assistance board in explaining changes in state assistance laws.

Mrs. C. Switzer New Head 8 et 40

North Loup Woman Is Chapéau of Nebraska Service Auxiliary.

Mrs. Clarence Switzer of North Loup was elected state chapéau of Nebraska 8 et 40 societies at the annual Marche of the groups held Sunday, July 27 at Omaha.

Mrs. Switzer is a member of the Valley District Salon with headquarters at Ord.

Also installed was Mrs. F. L. Blessing as state secretary of the group. Mrs. C. J. Mortensen of Ord, a past national chapéau of the 8 et 40 was the installing officer.

About 150 delegates attended the annual convention held at the Fontenelle hotel. The retiring chapéau, Mrs. Garnete Berneberg, of Omaha, was presented with a pin denoting her year of service by Mrs. W. J. McVicker, department president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Ada Hunter, Former Resident, Dies in Missouri

Vacation Motorists Urged Drive Slowly

Dwight Havens, president of the Nebraska Safety Council, urges Nebraska motorists to adopt as their slogan, "I drive safely." During the month of June, 1947, 26 men, women and children lost their lives on Nebraska's highways. The number is the fourth highest number of fatalities recorded since fatality records have been kept.

In proportion to the number of miles driven in the country, fewer accidents have occurred among drivers of trucks and buses enroute in the daily transport of freight and passengers than are charged to the general run of motor vehicle operators.

Funeral Services Held Friday For H. H. Thorngate

North Loup Man Had Been a Community Leader; Died Wednesday.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup for H. H. Thorngate, 90, who passed away early Wednesday morning at the Clinic Hospital in Ord after six weeks of suffering.

Rev. Warren G. Studer officiated, in the absence of Mr. Thorngate's pastor, Rev. Ehret. A quartette, George Cox, Dell Barber, Russell Barber and Erla Babcock with Mrs. Ava Johnson at the piano, Mrs. George Maxson and Mrs. Charles Fuller looked after the many beautiful flowers.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup for H. H. Thorngate, 90, who passed away early Wednesday morning at the Clinic Hospital in Ord after six weeks of suffering.

Herbert Henry Thorngate, son of Henry and Lorenda Crandall Thorngate was born October 9, 1861, in Dakota, Wis., and passed away July 30, 1947. When he was four years old, he moved with his parents to Brookfield, Mo. In 1879, he with his parents came to North Loup, Neb., where he has lived ever since.

On March 31, 1887, he was married to Eva Mattison. In 1901 they moved to a farm in the Barker neighborhood where they resided till after her death in 1931. In 1936 he moved back into town.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Thorngate: Van Horn, Van Horn who passed away in 1932; Pva who died at the age of four, and Vesta, with whom he lived. There is also an adopted son, Earnest, of Battle Creek, Mich. Three grandchildren, Lynn, Lynn and Lynn, were born to Van Horn who passed away in 1932.

He was baptized when a young man by Elder Samuel Wheeler. Upon his arrival in North Loup he became a member of the Seventh Day Baptist church here. He was an ordained deacon of the church but had not served actively since it became more difficult for him to get around. He had until his recent illness, been an unusually active person for one of his years, and during the last eight months during his 80th year while recovering from a broken hip, he had been able to not only care for himself, but to do much for others.

It had been a great pleasure to him to keep his own yard and parsonage in good order and still to find time to help many others with the care of their homes. He loved to see things grow. He also remained mentally alert and kept in the affairs of the world and community.

He had an especial interest in young people, and kept a young and understanding heart.

Surviving are the one daughter, Vesta, one son, Earnest, of Battle Creek, Mich., one brother, Roy, of Onida, N. Y., one sister, Mrs. Belle Rood, New Smyrna, Fla., and five grandchildren, several nieces and nephews and many other relatives and friends.

Loup City Beaten 8-6 There Sunday

Ord Pulls Out of the League Cellar With Second Win; Ansley Next.

Ord pulled out of the Loup Valley League cellar this week with an 8-6 win over Loup City on the Sherman county grounds Sunday.

Zirkmund, Ord first sacker led the attack with four hits in five trips to the plate and scoring two of the local's runs. Campbell and Ecran followed with two hits apiece.

Turek was the heavy sticker for Loup City with three hits in five trips. Finley, Ord hurler, held the Sherman county aggregation well on his hip with 10 strikeouts while his team-mates made only three errors. Finley gave up ten hits but kept them scattered. Next Sunday Ord will journey to Ansley for their final Loup game of the season.

Express Fear for Local Corn Crop

Some fear for the corn crop is being expressed in this area as Valley county went through its second straight week of high temperatures and no rain.

Although sub-soil moisture is still high, corn is late and there is not time for it to stand still waiting for rain.

Temperatures this week ranged in the 100 mark with a record of 106 recorded. Weather forecasts hold hope for moisture this weekend — scattered thundershowers are predicted.

City Dads Listen to Flood Complaint

Sewer Bid Accepted; No Work Till Next Year As Tile Not Available.

A request that the city council investigate flood conditions on the Martin Rowland property, which lies between the state highway and the city dump was heard Tuesday night by city dads in their regular meeting.

The complaint was presented by John Misko, Rowland's attorney, who asked that a committee be appointed to determine whether a diversion dam across the Loup erected to keep the river flow near the city's water intake pump might be responsible for flood conditions on the Rowland property.

The council accepted the bid of $1382 of the Robeck construction company for the construction of six blocks of sanitary sewer on M street in west Ord. Work on the project will not start until next spring, councilmen were informed, as sewer tile cannot be obtained.

City dads also approved of the liquor license application of Henry Wit, who has purchased the Tillson liquor store in Ord.

Ord Juniors Blast Palmer 25-4 Here

The Ord junior Legion team showed vastly improved hitting power Sunday on the local diamond when they blasted a 25-4 victory over the Palmer 25-4 Legion nine.

The locals drove in ten runs in the first inning and were never in trouble after that. The game manager, Bill Levy, gave a chance to switch his substitutes, with every boy on the Ord team given a chance to play.

Ord collected its 25 runs from 17 hits, 7 errors and 10 walks. Verland went the pitching route for Palmer while Anderson and Cochran handled mound duties for Ord. The juniors are still trying to book a game for next Sunday.

Byron Bartunek Killed in Tragic Accident Friday

Boy Cyclist Failed to See the Auto At a Blind Corner Near Bailey School.

Byron Paul Bartunek, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bartunek of Ord, was fatally injured about 6:30 Friday afternoon when he collided with a car driven by Mrs. Wayne Turner. The boy, along with a young companion, Vernon Needham, had been bicycle coasting down a small hill near the Bailey schoolhouse, three miles east of Ord when the accident occurred.

Big weeds at the intersection near the school make a blind corner. Young Bartunek, coming from the east, had apparently not noticed the Turner car which was coming from the south, although his companion, Needham had, and had shouted a warning.

The boy was when she entered the intersection at a speed of from 10 to 15 miles per hour. She turned west to avoid him but was unsuccessful. Both front and rear wheels of the car passed over the boy's body.

Mrs. Turner then picked up the boy and took him to a nearby farm house, from where he was taken to the Ord Hospital. He died shortly after reaching the hospital.

Private funeral services were held Monday morning from the Hastings-Pearson chapel with Rev. R. T. Cordy officiating. Mrs. Robert Noll played the procession and recessional. Pallbearers were Marion Genski, Verle Nelson, Roger Hansen, George Sedon, Kenneth Shubeta and Lawrence Nebraska. Interment was in the Ord city cemetery.

Byron Paul Bartunek was born in Ord, Nebraska, July 29, 1937 and died at the age of ten years and three days. He was in the fifth grade at Bailey school, district 40 and a member of the Presbyterian Sunday School in Ord. Survivors are his parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Pesha.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with aching and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Duan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Duan's give speedy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney trouble sufferers waste away from your blood. Get Duan's Pills.

WHAT ABOUT HIGH MEAT PRICES?

Yes, meat is quite high priced, although not so very high priced in comparison with other items.

But the high price of meat is a very good reason why you should see that you get your money's worth. Poor meat is priced no lower than first quality meat. And pound for pound, good meat goes farther than poor meat because of its extra abundance in the proteins and vitamins that make meat of such high nutritive value.

Make sure that you buy nothing but quality meat. Make a habit to do all your meat buying at our market and you'll know why many others have that habit too.

ARE WE READY FOR SCHOOL?

School days will soon be here again. Thousands of Nebraska boys and girls and teachers will be returning to the schools.

Each child entering school should be as free as possible of any physical defects which can be corrected. The earlier these are corrected the better chance the child has for academic progress and for good social and emotional development.

August is the time for a complete medical and dental check-up. Eyes, ears, nose, throat and teeth should be carefully examined by the family doctor and dentist, and all remediable defects corrected. If such defects are neglected, they may result in serious damage to growth and development.

Dental corrections often take time, but a person is repaid many times over for good dental care. Healthy teeth lend attractiveness to the personal appearance, enable thorough chewing of food, and promote general good health.

In schoolrooms, children expose each other to many communicable diseases, especially the common cold and diseases such as measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and diphtheria. Protect the child from diphtheria, whooping cough, as well as smallpox, by safe and dependable immunization.

Parents, see that your child has complete protective treatment against preventable diseases; a clean healthy throat and mouth; the best possible vision and hearing; adequate diet, sleep and rest to build up resistance against disease. It will pay good dividends, and your child will be Ready for School.

This happy little boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Barnhart, from North Loup.

Danny's carefree grin, and plump little body present a perfect picture of happy, healthy babyhood. With this portrait, Danny's parents have a lasting record of what a fine baby Danny was, and a sure promise of what a fine young man he will someday be.

Be sure that you, too, have a permanent record of your baby's first years, in one of our portraits.

North Loup Methodist Church
Samuel Mitchell, pastor
Sunday, Aug. 10—
Church school, 10 a. m.
Mrs. Stella Kerr, Supt.
Morning Service, 11 a. m.
Guest preacher, Mrs. Carl McCornell, of Ord, Nebr.
The pastor will be out of the pulpit for two Sundays, but the regular services of the church go on. Plan to attend the services next Sunday.

The North Loup Lion's club will meet in regular session next Thursday, August 7. A special program will be presented, the meeting will follow the dinner at 7 p. m. at the club.
The Methodist pastor of North Loup will vacation for the next two Sundays, and will return to preach for Rev. A. C. Ehret at the Seventh Day Baptist Church, on August 23, and on Sunday, August 24th will begin the regular fall and winter season. We hope that this day will be a "Home Coming" day in more respects than one, we hope to see all those who during the summer months have been vacationing. School will soon take up again, and a more regular habit will be resumed.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT
John L. Ward

The items in the past week's Quiz give me excuse for this week's ramblings, or at least, a part of them. First I note that E. A. Fowler, formerly of Arcadia, E. A. Fowler, visited here last week and a fellow named White. They were all good ball players, with the manager, who did not even claim to amount to much. One time the Davis Creek boys invited the writer, to go to Arcadia with them and mix it up with the Prairie Dogs. I was delighted to give it a try, although I did not have much hope of getting anywhere against those heavy hitters. When we lined up, Eph was playing right field. I gave the game all I had, and succeeded in striking out every one of the heavy hitters at least once, but when Eph came to bat it was no go. He took a stance at the plate about like Bud Shirley teeing off, and he looked like a sucker for a high in curve. I tried it and he wound up on second base. Next time he bunted an out curve, and got to first. The third time he heshoved a drop out between second and third, and when the excitement died down, there he was on second again. The last time he batted he failed to get to first, but it didn't matter, as they had six scores to our four, and Eph had made half of them. I didn't mind that so much, but I didn't like the way he made fun of his best players when they failed to hit. I recall that he told Freer, who always was a fine batter, not to pay any attention to that kid. "Don't let him get your goat," he said. "He can't throw 'em past me, I'll bet ten dollars he couldn't strike me out if he pitched to me all day". Yes, I would have liked very much to have seen Mr. Fowler if only to remind him of the time he got a green country pitcher's goat.

Every few days I see friend Ed Lee going past along the highway. Today Ed does his farming in the modern way. He has a cute little tractor, with an even cutter top on it, and he gets a lot more enjoyment out of his work now than he did in the old days when he and his brothers and sisters, in time of harvest, were doing the farming out in Mira Valley. In fact, this world a more enjoyable place for our young people, we have made it a good place also for the older men who have felt like adapting themselves to modern conditions and modern machinery.

If anybody had told Ed forty years ago that in his later years he would be riding around in a self-propelled vehicle and doing his work the power farming way, the chances are he would not have believed it. In the days when he and brother Paul were laying out corn in the southwest quarter of section 28, township 18, range fourteen, it looked like a far cry to the present day. Give those boys a good team each and a tongueless walking cultivator, and they could lay by as much as 13 acres of corn in a day. Today Ed could make it three or four lines that much, and not work too hard.

But why stop there for comparisons? Why not go back 110 years to the day when all work was done by hand, or with primitive tools. I recall my father's telling of the harvest days about that time, when he was a young man. He told of getting up before daylight in harvest time, walking a mile or two to a neighbors, carrying his cradle (farm machine) under his arm and cutting a swath around and around the field all day long for the magnificent sum of 25c. But he was destined for a higher education. He managed to get 28 days of actual schooling the winter he was 21 year old, and the next year he taught school for ten dollars a month. He had to walk five miles to and from school, with a piece of corn bread or a cold, baked potato for his dinner, but those were the good, old day, and were the best death of Tom Fuson the writer received a letter from H. D. Leggett enclosing a card from Tom, in which he asked for the date of the birthday of 1888. He said he had written me and that I had not answered him, which was true. Before it was possible for him to receive his answer, Fuson had his final curtain call, so he will never know, in this world, just when that birthday did occur. It serves to show us how fleeting time is, and how dangerous it is to put off until tomorrow the little things that should be done today. Perhaps a mere date is of little importance, but the fact that Tom asked me for it is important, and now I will always feel that I neglected a duty.

Former Ord Girl Has Yen For Barbecued Rattlesnake

Marcella Gross, now of Nampa, Idaho, and a former Ord girl (on the right) is shown holding a ten rattle diamond back captured for the annual Snake River Stampede at Nampa. The rattlers are barbecued as part of the festivities. Miss Gross is assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce of Nampa.

In a letter to the Quiz, dated July 29, Mrs. Joseph J. Gross, formerly Rose Geneski, writes that her daughter Marcella was one of a party of eleven Nampa residents who provided part of the fare for the rattlesnake barbecue.

Marcella is the Gross' oldest daughter. She was eight years old when the Gross family left Valley county in 1936 to make their home in Idaho. Mrs. Gross states that it was her first experience with a rattlesnake, dead or alive.

"We like living in Nampa very much," Mrs. Gross writes. "It is never too hot or too cold. Our hot weather is over for this year and the highest temperature was about 100 degrees."

Community Tax Law Condemned by State Council

Suggest Two Means of Knocking Our Measure; Cause Litigation.

LINCOLN — The Nebraska judicial council Friday declared the "avowed purpose" of the community property law is to evade taxes and suggested two means of knocking out the measure.

The legislature could, in special session, repeal the law, or the citizens, upon their own initiative, by recourse to referendum petitions, suspend the law if the petitions are filed prior to midnight Sept. 6.

"The judicial council considers this matter of sufficient importance to the people to justify both prompt thought and action," today's report, signed by chairman Robert B. Moodie, said.

The report listed 11 specific alleged faults of the law.

Briefly, they were:

- The avowed purpose of the act is dishonest — it seeks to obtain for a limited number of taxpayers a preference and discrimination over the taxpayers of the nation as a whole.
- The income tax benefits resulting are confined to persons in the higher tax brackets.
- Invites Disagreement
- The act was not intended to correct any injustice in the present system of property rights.
- The act superimposes an entirely new and different system of property rights upon existing law.
- The council said this doctrine would result in ambiguity, conflicts, confusion, uncertainty and injustice.
- The act invites disagreement and litigation between husband and wife over property rights.
- The cost and expense of administration of estates will be immeasurably increased.
- The loading of money and extension of credit will be seriously affected and may be hampered.
- The council added that the limitation of liability for debts created by husband and wife to the prop-ly managed by each will require extensive investigation as to what is separate and what is community property, inviting intrusion of lending agencies into private matters between husband and wife.

The rights of married women in their husband's real estate will be rendered unstable and insecure.

The council commented the act apparently permits the husband to convey all real estate except the homestead without the consent or joinder of the wife.

The act will result in increased litigation.

Life insurance programs may be jeopardized. The council added that when premiums are paid out of community property funds it will operate to create rights in and to the proceeds of insurance and upon the right to change beneficiaries, unknown to present law.

The permanent loss, arising from the "complete disruption" of our established system of property rights for all time, affecting all our people, far outweighs the temporary income tax preference obtained for a few large taxpayers of the state.

Members of the council are: Robert B. Moodie, West Point; Harry E. Gantz, Alliance; L. J. Tepeol, Omaha; E. A. Coufal, David City; J. L. Tewell, Sidney; Clyde B. Ellis, Beatrice; Clarence G. Miles, Lincoln; Paul E. Boslaugh, Hastings; E. F. Carter, Lincoln; W. B. Garrison, Nelson; Earl J. Lee, Fremont; James E. Lawrence, Lincoln; Fred A. Seaton, Hastings.

something like a Nebraska Admiral) was born in St. Louis in 1805. His family was associated by blood and occupation with those wealthy, adventuresome St. Louis families—the Chouteaus and others—who dominated the fur trade of the Upper Missouri for so many years. His father is said to have been the first man ever to attempt navigating the Missouri in a keelboat.

Sarpy first came to Nebraska as a clerk for the American Fur Company under John P. Cabanna. Within a short time he was manager of the fur company's post at Bellevue. Shortly thereafter he established a post on the Iowa side of the river, which he called Trader's Point. As it has been doing for years, however, the Missouri changed its course and so encroached upon Trader's Point that in 1853 Sarpy established a new location at St. Mary, four miles down the river.

Colonel Sarpy by no means confined himself to the fur trade, but expanded his operations to make the most of the immigration flowing across Nebraska to Oregon and other points west. He established ferries across the Missouri and later across the Elkhorn and the Loup Fork. His trading posts were centers for the best in store bought goods that could be obtained in the Nebraska country.

Probably no Nebraskan was more closely associated with the Indians. After the custom of most of the early fur traders he married an Indian girl, Nicomi, daughter of an Iowa chief. He drove hard bargains with his red brethren, but was always generous in his favors.

Everyone of importance who came up the Missouri stopped at Colonel Sarpy's post. His fame as a host spread throughout the west. It was Sarpy who built a boat for John C. Fremont on his return from his Rocky Mountain explorations. It was Sarpy also who negotiated with the Indians for the safe passage of Brigham Young and his Mormons.

In 1862, in failing health, he moved to Plattsmouth where he lived until his death in 1865. He

announces its offering for the regular weekly sale

Saturday, August 9

Sale Starts Promptly at 1:30 O'clock

There was a nice consignment of stock in last Saturday's offering. The market was just as high on the top grades and on the lower class of stock, but the medium, we thought, was about $1.00 off. There was good demand for all pigs, and brood sows. Looks like the offering this week will consist of the following:

- CATTLE
- 75 head of bucket and suckling calves
 - 50 head of mixed yearlings
 - 25 head of three-year-old heifers
 - 40 head of steers
 - 15 wet cows
 - 20 head of fat cows
 - 4 extra good milch cows
 - 3 good breeding bulls
- HOGS
- 135 head of weanling pigs and heavy feeder shoats
 - 5 brood sows
 - Several heavy boars
- HORSES
- 6 head of horses
- MISCELLANEOUS
- Several miscellaneous articles, including one single bed, complete.
- There will be no sale of war surplus commodities on August 7. This prospective sale as announced last Saturday has been called off.

Taylor Woman, 80, Recalls Old Days—Homesteading, Compounds, Indians

Taylor, Neb. — Old timers of the North Loup River Valley gathered last week to honor the grand old lady whose memory spans the days of pioneers in the valley.

She is Mrs. Kitty Taylor-Harvey, one of few remaining women who lived at old Fort Hartshorn while United States troops occupied it to protect settlers from Indians and border outlaws.

Occasion for the gathering was Mrs. Harvey's eightieth birthday. Mrs. Harvey and her friends recalled the old days.

Land-hungry men and women were homesteading land that later became Valley, Garfield, Loup and Blaine counties. Mrs. Harvey's parents, came here in 1871 and took up residence at the Calamus trading post.

In 1876 they homesteaded west of Kent Trading Post, later Loup County's first seat of government. It was this year the Sioux Indians went on the warpath. The Kent settlement constructed an emergency shelter called Fort Rodney. The village of Taylor was named for Mrs. Harvey's father. Her farm home was the first homesteaded in Loup territory.

Grain Yields High

Reports coming from the threshing crews state that the grain is yielding high in most places. Spencer Waterman had an 11 acre field of oats that went 52 bushels to the acre. Joe Radil had 40 acres of wheat that went 32 bushels. Will Valsek had 13 acres he combined that did 65 bushels to the acre.

Blessings Return

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing and Al returned last week from an extended tour of the Pacific coast. They visited Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Williams formerly of Ord, now living at Sebastopol, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements of Ontario, Calif. and Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Meler, the former Charlotte Blessing, of Bellflower, Calif. One day while visiting Catalina Island they saw John Parkins and daughter. They toured to San Diego, Calif. and down to Tijuana, Mex. Coming back they stopped at Zion National Park in Utah and at Salt Lake City to see the Mormon grounds there. After stopping in Denver they returned home last Friday.

Hilda Lola and Wally Walker Wed

The wedding of Miss Hilda Lola to Wally Walker of Lebanon, Neb. took place at St. Anne's Catholic Church in Kearney, Neb. August 2, at 10:00. The bride's maid of honor was her sister Amelia Lola, and bridesmaid was the groom's sister, Elvira Walker. The groom was attended by his brother Leslie Walker and a brother of the bride, Joe Loka Jr. The double ring ceremony was performed.

The bride wore a white garbardin suit and carried a bouquet of red roses and white gardenias. The maid of honor was dressed in an aqua suit and the bridesmaid wore a grey suit.

The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lola, of Spring Valley, Calif. and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Walker of Lebanon, Neb., were both present. A bridal dinner for the immediate families was held at the Elliott Tea Room in Kearney.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Kearney State Teachers College. Mr. Walker graduated in May and Mrs. Walker graduated in July. Both Mr. and Mrs. Walker will teach in the Bertrand High School at Bertrand, Neb. this year.

Guest Day

Mrs. D. McOstrich presided at the Guest Day meeting of the League held in the sanctuary of the Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon. About 70 guests were present. Mrs. Wm. Nelson led the devotions and Mrs. James Ollis was in charge of the program. She arranged a very interesting and entertaining musical program consisting of the pantomime and dramatizing of three hymns. In this she was assisted by the Pioneer Girls Sunday school class, Mrs. Orle Hurlbert, Neal Pocock, Mrs. Wm. Steen and Verda Munn. After the meeting the guests were entertained at a tea held in the church basement. Mrs. L. D. Milliken presided at the tea table.

County Agent Warns of Worms In Pigs

At this time of year the spring pigs are likely to become infested with worms, says County Agent, C. C. Dale. With farmers busy with harvest, threshing, and haying the fact that pigs are becoming unthrifty may not be noticed until worms have caused a lot of damage and produced a number of runts in the herd.

Fortunately a new treatment which is simple, effective, and cheap has been discovered. Dr. S. W. Alford, extension animal pathologist, of the College of Agriculture offers the following suggestions for treatment of wormy pigs.

Sodium fluoride, technical grade, has been found to be about 95% effective in removing large roundworms in swine. This worm is by far the most common one found in Nebraska swine. The effectiveness of this chemical as a worm remedy in hogs is higher than anything formerly used for this purpose.

Do not fast the hogs before treating. It is best to reduce the feed 50% the day before treating.

Balboa Rye

Last year good seed rye was very hard to get and it does not look too plentiful this year. We have had several calls for Balboa Seed Rye and if you are interested in Seed Rye we would like to talk to you. We would like to bring in enough seed to take care of the needs of our customers but do not want to contract for a lot of seed that there is no demand for.

Cornhusker Hybrid Corn

We now have our 1918 prices on Cornhusker Hybrid and it will all be secured in 1947. There has been much talk of a very great shortage of Hybrid Seed Corn this year and that may be the case; but we have assurance of a good supply of Cornhusker Hybrid unless we have an extra early frost. This year we will be able to offer the new No. 75. This 75 is a very remarkable hybrid, just the same maturity date as our old Cornhusker 360 but a much better corn for this section of Nebraska. This number has been in test plots for several years and has a remarkable record. We would like to have each of our customers try at least 1 bu. of this fine Hybrid, Nos. 380, 148, 81, 83 and 85 all are very good hybrids for Valley county. For the first time we have the privilege of offering you a cash discount on your Cornhusker Hybrids if you care to pay for them when you place the order. The earlier that you order your corn the more sure you will be of getting what you want. Let us take your order now.

Tri-County Head Says Irrigation Water to Be Cut

Local Officials Say No Order For Slash Received Here Yet

Although George E. Johnson, general manager of the Central Nebraska (Tri-County) Public Power and Irrigation District has issued a statement to the press that Loup irrigation water will be cut to provide more water for power at the Tri-County's Monroe and Columbus power plants, local irrigation officials say they know nothing about the order.

"No such order has been received as yet," M. S. Dodd, chief engineer and general manager for the North Loup and Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation districts, "We are still operating as we have been during the past five years."

Johnson said in Omaha that farmers in the North and Middle Loup irrigation districts would be permitted to take only the amount of water they are legally entitled to, rather than an excess amount which he said they had been permitted to divert in recent years.

The Tri-County chief said this was being done to allow more water to reach generators of the big hydro plant of the Loup Public Power district at Columbus. Some public power officials said last week that whether voluntary rationing of electricity is necessary in the state will be determined by how much water reaches the hydro.

The arrangement whereby the farmers can take more water than their water rights entitle them to is an experiment, "one in accordance with an agreement for experimental operations with the Loup Public Power district with a view to determining how much water these districts actually need," Dodd said.

"At this time," he added "irrigators in the two upper Loup districts are clamoring for greater quantities of water in order to stage off partial destruction of their corn crop."

"The situation is unusually critical since irrigation canals of the two districts have been out of operation for approximately a month following the flood here June 21."

"The results of any substantial reduction in present diversion would be tragic to the corn crop on about 25,000 acres of the Middle and North Loup," Dodd concluded.

Good Exhibits Wanted For Fair

An appeal to Loup Valley people to take time out to prepare fine exhibits for the Valley county fair Aug. 25 to 28 is broadcast this week by R. Clare Clement, fair president. The fair board is anxious to have a better line of exhibits in all departments and especially in the agricultural hall, he says. Premiums were increased this year and people will find it well worth their while from a financial standpoint to devote the requisite time to preparing good exhibits, entirely aside from the interest friends and neighbors will take in seeing them.

Everything points to a highly successful fair, President Clement believes. Interest is higher than it has been in many seasons, entertainment features are of a high calibre, a big carnival company will be on the grounds, advance ticket sales indicate large attendance and there is every reason to think the 1947 Valley county fair will be the finest in history.

Raises 600 Bushels Speltz Off 12 Acres

Something new, or rather something very old, was raised successfully in Valley county this year. Ed Maresh recently harvested a 600 bushel yield of speltz from a 12 acre field. Many years ago speltz was raised quite generally in this country, but not much has been heard of it for a long time.

High in nutritive value, speltz is said to be a good hog and chicken feed. It differs from most grains in that the husk has a very slippery wax on it and when a scoop full of the grain is picked up it rolls off like water.

Mr. Maresh's neighbors have watched the field with great interest and would like to know where Ed found the seed. No doubt more fields of speltz will be raised in this area next season.

Rain Is Flirting With Local Area But That Is All

Weather Cooler Tuesday and Wednesday, Light Sprinkle; Corn Waiting.

Rain and cooler weather has been flirting with Valley county this week but no moisture has recorded to date that would budge the weather gauge of local observer Horace Travis.

Late Tuesday night, following an intermittently cloudy day, a few scattered drops of rain fell, hardly enough to settle the dust, but bringing a considerable relief from the high temperatures that have plagued this area the past two weeks.

Forecasts are for continued hot weather the remainder of this week with possible relief expected Sunday. Some sections of the state may have local thunder-showers, but the weather bureau says the average fall will be less than a fourth of an inch.

Meanwhile, Valley county's corn crop is standing still except in irrigated fields. Firing has started in a few scattered fields, but generally corn is holding up under continued drought and hot winds. The critical stage has been reached, local farmers believe, although a good rain the latter part of this week will make a crop, they say.

Except for Tuesday and Wednesday, temperatures remained in the 100 mark. A strong south wind Saturday and Sunday added to general discomfort and hastened the drying of parched corn fields.

4 Auto Wrecks Here; Occupants Escape Injuries

Valley Area Sets New Record For Accidents; New Car Smashed.

Four auto accidents in this area over the week sent the month of August toward a new record of driving mishaps in Valley county and surrounding territory. Last week three accidents occurred, none of them fatal.

Young James Fafetta and his cousin, Rita Malena of Clarkson, escaped injuries Thursday night when young Fafetta lost control of the car in loose gravel about five miles north of Loup City. The car rolled in the ditch, one side being badly crumpled. The couple were bound for the Loup City fair, and said that their speed at the time of the accident was 45 miles per hour.

Jay Brown's brand new Studebaker figured in an accident Friday noon which occurred nine and one half miles east of Broken Bow on Highway 57. The car, which his brother Clifford Brown had been driving to Ord to deliver to him, collided with another car, a 1917 Pontiac driven by Verne E. Noble of Grand Island. Both cars were damaged extensively. The drivers escaped with minor bruises.

Near Burwell Saturday, cars driven by Donald Hoppes and Eldon Smith, Jr. collided with the result that both cars are a wreck. Mrs. Donald Hoppes, riding with her husband was admitted to the Burwell hospital Saturday evening for treatment, but was released Sunday morning. Merle Schuyler, 10, a passenger with Smith, was uninjured.

When a red rod end on his car came loose near the Zanger farm on Highway 11 Sunday afternoon, Frank Hron lost control of his car and took the dirt, smashing the guard rail along the highway and crumpling the front end of his car. Mr. and Mrs. Hron had been returning to Ord from Grand Island. Neither was hurt.

Two Loup River Water Appeals Denied by State

Road & Irrigation Department Insists Water Be Allocated at Floodgate.

The Department of Roads and Irrigation Wednesday denied the petition of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District and the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District for an order modifying their water appropriations allowed in 1936.

In the original orders, the North Loup district was allowed up to 260 cubic feet of water per second, but not to exceed one acre-foot for each acre to which water was applied.

The Middle Loup district was allowed 300 second-foot, but not to exceed 15 thousand acre feet.

The Supreme Court held in 1912 that the head gate was the only place to measure an appropriation. Therefore the one-acre foot limitation applied at the head gate and not on the land.

Both districts in their petition, hearing on which was held April 15, asked that the order be modified so that enough water would be allowed to insure the full acre-foot on the grounds that the department denied the petition on the grounds that the law required that anybody not satisfied with a ruling by the department must petition for a hearing within 30 days after the original order is made.

M. S. Dodd, general manager of both the North Loup and Middle Loup districts told the Quiz this week that as yet, counsel for the districts had not decided their course of action regarding appeal to supreme court of the water right question.

Crippled Children's Clinic on Aug. 23rd

Next extension crippled children's clinic in this area will be at the high school in Broken Bow on Saturday, Aug. 23, according to Mrs. Oral Burrows, county welfare director. Registration is to be at 7:30 a. m. Dr. R. R. Reubold, pediatrician and Dr. W. R. Haman, orthopedist, will conduct the clinic. Three crippled Valley county children are now scheduled to attend this clinic and others may do so by getting in touch with Mrs. Burrows, for full information.

Rotary President Names Committees to Work Thru '47

McConnell Heads Service Club and Busy Year Planned; Interesting Talks.

Rev. Carl McConnell, new president of the Ord Rotary club, announced committee appointments Monday evening and promised an active and useful year's work for the club members during his regime. Chairman of major committees include Carl Dale, educational service, C. J. Mortenson, community service, and Leslie Nash, international service.

Membership chairman is Syl Turk, classification chairman is Hilding Pearson, program chairman is James Ollis and Ed Beranek is attendance chairman.

Ed Swopes heads the public information committee, Wm. Dargatzis the fellowship committee, C. M. Davis is Rotary information chairman and John Haskell magazine chairman.

Glen Aulsebrook heads the youth committee, Dr. Geo. Parkins the crippled children's committee, Leo Long the rural-urban committee and Alex Cochrane the student loan committee.

At its dinner Monday evening the club heard interesting talks by two members who recently returned from long vacation trips to the west coast, E. L. Vogeltanz and Dr. P. L. Blessing.

In the Vogeltanz party were Mrs. Vogeltanz and their daughters, Pette and Rosellen, and they first visited Yellowstone National Park, later making visits in Twin Falls and Boise, Ida., in the Portland, Ore. area, and then driving down the coast highway to San Francisco.

The Vogeltanz party visited relatives at Santa Monica and Hollywood, where highlights of their visit included attendance at several national radio shows. Mr. Vogeltanz answered six questions correctly and won $40 in one audience participation show at which Walter O'Keefe was master of ceremonies. They also attended the Tom Breneman breakfast club show.

Pays $48.64 For No Fund Checks

Dewey McKnight, O'Neill, paid fines of $20.00, costs of $28.64 in county court Tuesday, as the result of issuing two no fund checks to Ord business firms. McKnight was charged on two counts, first of issuing a no-fund check for $5.00 to Will Nelson, on which was fined $5 and costs of $14.32. On a check for $18.50, issued to Edw. Gnaster, he was fined $15.00 and costs of $14.32. McKnight paid both fines and made good the amount of the checks.

North Loup Woman Dies in Childbirth

Rites are held Saturday at Scotia for Mrs. Elmer Kearnes.

Mrs. Elmer Kearnes, 25, passed away suddenly Wednesday evening following the birth of a still born baby girl, Grace Marie. Death was due to a heart attack. The Red Cross emergency unit from Grand Island came up with a pulmotor and artificial respiration was applied till its arrival but nothing could be done. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Methodist church in Scotia with Rev. Walter Grantham officiating in charge. Pall bearers were Earl and Glenn Moore, Merlin Layher and Dallas, Gerald and Lyle McDonald. Mrs. Cargill and Mrs. Joyce Grantham sang. Mrs. George Eberhart and Mrs. Clifford Hawkes looked after the flowers. Burial was in the Scotia cemetery.

Ord Races Attract Large Slate of Big Cars and Midgets

10 Entries in for Day-Time Large Car Class; Plenty of Midgets Coming.

If auto races at the Valley county fair are not a success it will not be from lack of competition, said Clyde Baker, race superintendent, this week. Already he has 10 cars signed to compete, with many more entries blanks out, and he says there will be a big field of the midget cars here. Big car drivers entered to date include:

Guy Lindsay, Plevna, Mo. Keith Sapp, Macomb, Ill. Merle C. Brum, Davenport, Ia. W. E. White, Rock Island, Ill. Joe E. Taylor, Amarillo, Tex. A. W. Dobson, Buda, Ill. Ken Frye, Sherrard, Ill. Matt Pulver, Boulder, Colo. Murray Earl, San Jose, Calif. Bill Anderson, Long Beach, Calif.

Only two of these drivers, Pulver and Earl, have competed in the races here before. Pulver was a favorite at the races in 1926 and 1928.

Big car races will be held on the afternoons of Aug. 26 and 27 and midget car races on the nights of August 27 and 28.

Greatest worry facing Baker now is to find sleeping accommodations for 40 to 50 drivers and their helpers. This week he is broadcasting an appeal to Ord citizens to list their spare rooms for rental to drivers during the fair. The hotel is not operating, he points out, and unless rooms in private homes can be found it will be impossible to accept a big field of racers.

If you have an extra room you can rent for the fair days, telephone Mr. Baker during office hours at 74.

Ord Airport Gets $14,020 Federal Aeronautics Fund

Official Dedication Postponed Till 1948 When Work Completed.

Ord's municipal airport, Evelyn Sharp Field will receive $14,020 for improvements during the coming fiscal year from funds administered by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The local airport is one of 30 in the state to be launched or improved with federal funds. Of the near million dollars to be spent for airports in 1947-48 in the state, over one third was allotted to Omaha.

Expenditures in Ord will largely be allocated to the building of a concrete apron in front of the hangars. Other improvements planned include field lights and building lights, a new approach and bridge for automobile traffic and incidental landscaping.

Official dedication of Evelyn Sharp Field will not be held until next summer, members of the airport dedication committee decided Thursday night. The dedication had originally been planned for September 14, but when June's high winds left the field a wreck the ceremony was put in the doubtful bracket. Now the committee has decided to wait until the new improvements have been completed.

Other airport allocations in this area included Stuart-Atkinson $16,455; Neligh, $13,876; Wayne, $1,815; Valentine, $33,179; and Norfolk, $25,000.

This group of Ord youngsters is shown ready to leave for Grand Island in one of Jack Romans' big transfers for a swim in the Grand Island municipal pool. The swim trip culminated a summer long recreation program in Ord which was sponsored by the Rotary club.

Forty Women Enroll in Art Classes at Ord High School

Forty women forgot the sticky heat Monday morning and eagerly registered for an art course at the Ord high school, as two University of Nebraska instructors, Miss Von Borgen and Mr. Rushaw, began their work.

"The course will be 'very practical' with little theory included," stated Miss Von Borgen. "Monday afternoon the students were given clay and told to do 'something original', not a copy. We want creative work," she added.

Tuesday morning brought more clay modeling to do, with the students and student teachers approaching the clay a bit less apprehensively. Some of the results were very clever and almost professional in finish, others showed earnest effort and no dearth of ideas. There was a three-branch chandelier. There was a bronco. There were several wags, a goose, some little ducks, a pitcher, and statuettes of little girls.

Tuesday afternoon soap carving brought forth more original art. Cups and saucers, snakes, and everything between them were left on display when the class departed. Working hours are from 8 to 11:30 a. m. and from 12:30 until 2:30 daily, with Saturday afternoons off. The course continues two and one-half weeks.

Later the class will do sketching, work with plaster and wire sculpture, do tin-tapping, also a little water color painting or perhaps paint with showcard colors or draw with charcoal. Use of scrap materials will be emphasized, for rural teachers do not have much money to spend for art materials.

Those who complete the course satisfactorily will receive three hours credit from the University of Nebraska.

From Burwell came Carolyn Barthel, Helen Cepicka, Hannah Conrad, Mary C. Conrad, Margaret Conrad, Loretta Iwanski, and Mrs. Glenn Johnson. North Loup sends Leila Ann Bartz, Ellamae Hill, Birdine Ingerson, Agnes Manchester, Margaret Tolbert, and Mary J. Stude.

Arcadia is represented by Viola Chippis, Oreta Holmes, Evelyn Leach, Dora Mae Nelson and Edna Rosenquist.

Mildred Kamarad and Mildred Waldman come from Comstock. Helen Fox comes from Brewster. Gladys Meyers from Scotia, and Anna Stafford from Lincoln. Petra Whitehead is from Mason City.

Ord is well represented by Leota Crosby, Irene Hayek, Mildred Hayek, Minnie Holcomb, Luetta Hurlburt, Della Jobst, Wilma Klanczyk, Clara McClatchey, Anna Mortenson, Marjorie Peterson, Lucile Tolton, Ila Williams, Irma Leggett, Elsie Furtak, and Helen Ackles.

The art course is offered through the office of Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, and is the most recent of the splendid educational opportunities given in Valley county. Few smaller cities in Nebraska have secured University of Nebraska extension teachers; probably no town the size of Ord has had so many such courses.

Round-World Flyer Visits Ord Airport

George Truman, the Indiana aviator who has gained much national publicity of late due to his projected round-the-world trip in a Cub plane, was a visitor at the Ord airport Tuesday, stopping for gas. He was accompanied by a friend who also flew a Cub cruiser. They expect to make the round-the-world flight in 45 days.

About a month ago Truman spent the night in Ord as a guest of Gene Barnett, airport manager.

Arcadia Loses to Broken Bow but Keeps Lead

Can Cinch Loup Valley Title by Winning Final Game; Ord Loses, 8 to 5.

Ord lost all chance of getting into play-offs for the Loup Valley league baseball championship on Sunday when the team lost 8 to 6 to Arcadia on the latter's diamond. Finley pitched steady ball for Ord but failed to hit in the clutch cost Ord the game. Three times Ord batters whiffed or grounded out leaving 2 men on base. Ord's final game of the league season will be played against Ansley on the Ord field Sunday, this being a game postponed earlier because of rain.

Although Arcadia, the league leader, lost to Broken Bow Sunday 8 to 4 they retained a percentage lead in the title race and can win by beating Broken Bow next Sunday. The Indians must win over both Arcadia and Loup City to con the crown.

Other league games Sunday saw Loup City beat Litchfield 5 to 1 and Mason City swamp Burwell 24 to 5.

Burwell Rodeo Expects Biggest Crowd in History

Seating Capacity Now 12,000. May Not Be Enough; First Program Wednesday.

Cooler weather and partly cloudy skies Tuesday helped the prospects for one of the biggest crowds in Burwell rodeo history. Tuesday was entry day, not only in the rodeo and racing events, but in the agricultural exhibits as well.

As already advertised the seating capacity has been greatly increased by the building of a 2,000 seat addition to the arena stands. A second reserved track section has been added, as there were not enough reserved seats outside the track to suit the customers last year. There will be a seating capacity of more than twelve thousand.

The rodeo stock arrived from Texas over the weekend, two hundred head in all, including 58 bucking horses, 35 Brahma fighting bulls, 35 bulldogging steers and 35 Brahma roping calves. The large number of cowboy entries will be necessary to run the events in sections, as was done last year.

The Indians in charge of John Compton, who had charge of them last year, arrived Monday afternoon by semi-trailer and have pitched the camp near the center gate. There are 32 of them and they came from St. Francis, and are off the Rosebud Indian Reservation. They are under the supervision of Chief Alfred Bone Shirt, who is 76 years old.

"The rodeo will be in Monday. It presents a fine appearance with many new tents and newly painted signs and decorations. Albert Boli, in charge of concessions, and his assistant, Chris Forden are busy locating concessions men as they arrive. There is some fear that there will not be enough eating places to handle the crowd.

Charles Mayer, Chief of Police, reports that he has his force lined up to direct traffic and handle the crowd as rapidly as possible. For the sake of safety as well as for the comfort of the audience, some fear that there will not be enough eating places to handle the crowd.

Former Ord Resident Dies at Lincoln August 5; Came Here in 1912.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, August 8, from the Hastings-Pearson mortuary for Mrs. Herbert Van Decar who died Tuesday, August 5, at a Lincoln nursing home. Rev. R. T. Cordry officiated. Mrs. Van Decar had been ill for several years.

Harriet Gumaer Van Decar was one of seven children, born in Weyauwega, Wisc., September 28, 1871, to William and Priscilla Gumaer. She was educated in Weyauwega, Wisc., and St. Paul, Neb., schools and later went to Chicago to study voice.

On November 10, 1900 she married Herbert Van Decar and the couple made their home in St. Paul, moving from there to York, Neb., and later to Ord in 1912. With the exception of a brief period spent in California, Mrs. Van Decar was an Ord resident until her husband's death in March of 1944. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and a member of PEO chapter BB.

She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Raasch of Lincoln and Mrs. Priscilla Wellman of Omaha.

Interment was in the Ord cemetery by the body of her husband. Pall bearers were Emil H. Fafetta, George Hubbard, John Misko, P. L. Blessing, George Satterfield and E. L. Johnson, Jr.

Mrs. Henry Drudik Rites Held Tuesday

Young Ord Woman Dies Week After Father Had Undergone Surgery.

News of the sudden death of Mrs. Victoria Drudik at the Ord Hospital Sunday morning was a great shock to relatives and friends. She was confined to the hospital for five days, then was operated Thursday for an appendectomy. She passed away Sunday morning at the age of 35 years, 4 months and 24 days, exactly one week later than her father.

Victoria Mick was born in Valley county March 16, 1912. She spent all of her life in this locality. On Oct. 4, 1943 she was united in marriage to Henry Drudik. To this union was born one daughter, Carolyn Ann, last Feb. 19. Her husband was employed with Roberts Construction Co., and they made their home in southeast Nebraska.

Besides her husband and 5 1/2 month old daughter, she leaves to mourn her mother, 3 brothers, 2 sisters, and a host of relatives and friends. Her father preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 12 at 9:00 a. m. at St. Mary's Catholic church in Elyria, with Rev. Ziolkowski in charge. Burial was in Elyria Catholic cemetery. Rosary was recited at Hastings-Pearson Mortuary Monday evening at 8:15.

Pall bearers were Floyd Konkoloski, Albin Carkoski, Adam Zebert, Leon Jablonski, Norbert Zulkoski and Lloyd Konkoloski, all cousins of Mrs. Drudik.

Lexington Rites For H. G. Bryan

Former Valley County Resident Dies in Portland, Oregon.

Funeral services were held in Lexington Wednesday for H. G. Bryan, who died last Friday at Portland, Ore.
Horace Greeley Bryan was born at Ashland, Neb., November 7, 1872. He was the second son of John and Amanda Bryan, who settled near Ashland, in 1869. He lived in his early life near Ashland and Ithaca, Neb. In 1891 the family moved to Valley county, near Ord and Elyria, and he grew to young manhood here.
After the death of the father in 1897, he and his mother and sister, Ivy, moved to North Loup where they lived until his marriage to Rosella Jane Wilson of Burwell in 1908. They bought a farm near North Loup and there made their home.
To this union were born three children, Carmel Vae, Lloyd M. and Merlyn A. In 1929 the family moved to Lexington and bought the Kruzy Korner Auto Court which they continued to operate until after the death of Mrs. Bryan in 1943. Two of the children, Carmel Hubbard and Lloyd also preceded their father in death. After Mrs. Bryan's death, Mr. Bryan went to Portland, Ore. to live with his youngest son, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Bryan. There he worked for a time as he did not like to be idle. He began having trouble with his heart in 1941. Thereafter he spent two winters with his sister, Ivy, in California. He spent the summer in Portland and Nebraska. He had just returned to Portland from a visit in Lexington, when he had to enter the hospital for special care. He passed away on August 1, 1947, at the age of seventy-four years, eight months and twenty-four days.
He leaves to mourn his passing, his son, Merlyn; four grandsons, Harold, Gary and Dennis Hubbard and Donnie Bryan, his oldest and youngest brothers, Ray H. of Safford, Calif., and Earle E. of Ord, Calif.; his only sister, Ivy, Mrs. C. L. Girard of Pomona, Calif.; several nephews and nieces.
Funeral services were held at the Newman Mortuary, August 6, with Rev. L. R. Davis the minister in charge. Interment was at Greenwood cemetery at Lexington.

Funeral Rites For William Cox Held

Retired North Loup Rural Mail Carrier Dies Last Tuesday.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church in North Loup for William Cox, retired North Loup mail carrier, who died Tuesday. Rev. Mitchell composed of Mrs. Harold Hoopner, Mrs. Fred Bartz, Roy Hudson and Frank White sang. Alice Meyers was the accompanist. Pall bearers were Frank Johnson, C. J. Goodrich, C. E. Cox, M. R. McCall, Otto Bartz and Alex Brown. Mrs. Otto Bartz and Mrs. Murray Cornell were in charge of the floral arrangements.
William Cox was born December 12, 1876 in Saunders county, Nebraska. In 1890 his parents moved to Hartwood, Neb., where they lived till 1914 when they moved to Valley county. With the exception of thirteen years on the Pacific coast Mr. Cox resided in North Loup since 1919. Will became a rural mail carrier on Route 3, North Loup, and retired on December 31, 1944.
William Cox was married to Fannie White on November 12, 1925. He died August 5, 1947 in North Loup, Neb. Mr. Cox has two brothers and one sister, Henry, Clara, M. O. Omaha, Neb.; Geo. E. Cox, North Loup, Neb.; and Mrs. Mielie Gosset of Boring, Ore. Will was a Spanish War Veteran. The deceased had not enjoyed good health for two years, and had been a patient at the Veterans' hospital, Lincoln, since June 26, 1946 and during several operations which did not help him regain his health.
He was well known and well liked by the people he served on his route. William Cox was a good husband and will be missed by his wife and a host of friends.

Margaret Petska and Donald Edwards who were married Tuesday morning at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

Margaret Petska Wed to Don Edwards Miss Margaret Petska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Petska, jr. became the bride of Donald Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Edwards, Tuesday morning at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Michael Szczesny of Sargent, celebrant of the mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon. The gown had a fitted bodice with long sleeves and an off-the-shoulder effect was created by lace. A lace handkerchief belonging to the bride, which fell into a three-yard train. A fingertip length veil of net fell from a Juliet cap of Chantilly lace, caught at the edges with beaded orange blossoms. Miss Petska carried a single orchid on a white prayer-book, and a lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Richard Pien. She wore a double strand of pearls a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Garnette Kokes, serving as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink nylon, with a sweetheart neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Mrs. Wade Evans of Hastings, sister of the bridegroom, also attended the bride. Her gown was of blue net over taffeta with a fitted bodice and short sleeves. The bride's attendants both wore caplets of double daisies and carried colonial bouquets of gladioli.

The bride's mother wore a gown of rose silk and the bridegroom's mother was attired in navy blue crepe. Both wore corsages of gardenias. Special vocal solos during the mass were Schubert's "Ave Maria" by John Galka, and "Panis Angelicus" by Rev. Thomas Studowski. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents for members of the bridal party. A reception attended by immediate relatives was held at the Knights of Columbus hall at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards left Tuesday afternoon for a wedding trip to the Colorado Rockies. The bride chose a pink silk dress with white and black accessories for her going-away costume. Following their return, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will make their home in Ord.

The bride was graduated from Ord high school with the class of 1941, and has been employed at the Ord Cooperative Creamery. Mr. Edwards was graduated from Burwell high school in 1940 and served three years with the armed forces, of which 18 months were spent in the European theatre.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Warren Manley and children of Burbank, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edwards of Cotesfield, Mrs. R. Edwards of Chambers, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Komsak of St. Paul.

If interested let us quote you on Super Phosphate and take your order now for delivery in September.

Grains

The grain markets are very changeable, and prices quoted in the morning may be off a few cents before noon. So when you want to sell grain get the price when you are ready to move the grain. Box cars are still very short and there are times when the elevator is full, so call to see if we have room. We are moving a lot of grain these days and storage space and prices change often.

Poultry Feeds

With grain and protein feeds as high priced as they are, naturally Poultry feeds must advance in price. We are doing all we can to hold down these prices so that your poultry will prove profitable. Poultry and egg prices should be much higher than they are according to other meats and we believe that you will see high prices on both poultry and eggs this winter. Cull your flocks well but don't sell your laying hens. We have a year good Poultrey fattener to feed the last few days before you put your poultry on the market. This is the time to get those pullets on Laying Mash and have them ready for heavy production this fall and winter.

Cattle Proteins

This is about the time of year that you should be placing your order for protein feeds. Surely with the prices of grain and hay as they are the protein feeds will be very high this fall. We have cars of proteins coming in the first part of Nov. Also if you are going to feed this fall you can lay in a good supply of molasses feed at a low price. Molasses feed is priced below most feeds.

Hybrid Corn

We have our prices now on our Cornhusker Hybrid corn for next Spring and will protect you against a rise or drop in the price at delivery time. The new earlier numbers as $8, $5, $1 and 75 are doing a very wonderful job for our section. They are numbers that can be planted a little later than 145 and 350 and still make a very good crop of corn. Let us take your order now. A dollar places your order and if you care to pay for the order when you give it you can have a discount of 50¢ per bu.

Clinton Oats

We have been hearing a lot about the new Clinton Oats and they seem to be a variety that is suitable for our section of the state and they are very resistant to rust and disease. They stand up well on good stiff straw and do very well for those that want to combine. Last year these Oats sold in most cases for $15 per bu., but this year we have a limited amount to offer at $3 per bu. We would like to see a good amount of Clinton Oats planted here as we feel that they will do very well on our heavy irrigated ground. We feel that we should have some very high yields of Clinton Oats here next year.

Red Chief Wheat Makes Big Yield

G. M. Guthery of Broken Bow realized $100 an acre from Red Chief Wheat which he sold as seed. Guthery purchased a few bushels of the seed from Oklahoma last fall. Part of a 40-acre tract was plowed with this seed which produced 40 bushels per acre with a test of 63. The balance of the field was sowed to certified Pawnee wheat which produced only 29 bushels per acre with a test of 60. Mr. Guthery states that he has found a ready market for the Red Chief seed produced this summer at $2.25 per bushel. —Custer County Chief.

Rosary was recited on Sunday evening at the home of her daughter, Paulbearers were Leon Jablonski, Edard Dubas, Emanuel Wadas, Fred Dubas, Floyd Shotkoski and Edward Janus.

Poultry Warning

When feed consumption in the poultry flock drops, a drop in egg production soon follows. Starting counter measures to keep feed consumption high as soon as intake begins to drop may ward off a drop in production. Use of lights and feeding wet mash or pellets have been found to be effective in maintaining high feed consumption and good production.

A Great Oil Company introduces a Great NEW Oil!

Phillips Research brings you the finest motor oil for your car ever to bear Phillips 66 trade-mark!

When a great oil company brings out a completely new, different motor oil—that's news!

And when that oil company is willing to stake its reputation—to come right out and say, "This is the finest motor oil for your car ever to bear the Phillips 66 trade-mark!"

That's food for thought for every man who owns a car!

This new Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is the result of extensive research, conducted over a number of years by Phillips research scientists. It is of the modern detergent (self-cleaning), oxidation-resistant type. Lessons learned in developing heavy duty lubricants for Army tanks and trucks, the experiences of others who have developed detergent-type oils, and demands of engine manufacturers for their higher-speed, higher-pressure engines, have all been taken into consideration.

The base stocks from the Oklahoma fields, which oil men now recognize as among the finest in the world, are another contributing feature of this great new oil.

This new Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is now on sale at all Phillips 66 Dealers. We urge you to provide your car with our finer, newer automotive lubricant.

WHAT ABOUT HIGH MEAT PRICES?

Yes, meat is quite high priced, although not so very high priced in comparison with other items.

But the high price of meat is a very good reason why you should see that you get your money's worth. Poor meat is priced no lower than first quality meat. And pound for pound, good meat goes farther than poor meat because of its extra abundance in the proteins and vitamins that make meat of such high nutritive value.

Make sure that you buy nothing but quality meat. Make a habit of do all your meat buying at our market and you'll know why many others have that habit too.

ORD PEOPLE, ATTENTION

We Must Have ROOMS For Race Drivers

We ask everybody who has a spare room in their home to list it with us at once for occupancy during the Valley County fair by a race driver or drivers. The hotel is not in service, we expect 40 or more drivers and we must find rooms for them to occupy.

Last season we had a wonderful response to our request for rooms and this year it is more important than ever that many sleeping rooms be made available for rental to drivers on the fair days.

Call 74 during business hours if you have a room that can be rented.

Finding a place to rent is more trouble each year, and soon if you have a place you will have to buy one, and now while the heat is on and so many are hunting shade,
you had better hunt that place for next year and some can be had at right prices.

One good unimproved 160 acres can be had at $3,600, and can have this years rent and that will cut it down a lot, for the crops are good.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT John L. Ward

Occasionally one meets a man, or woman, who started right in the old home town and has gone a long way in his chosen profession. These people are becoming more and more common as the years go by, but it is always a real pleasure to meet one of them. Back in 1914, shortly before the first world war started, a number of people graduated from the Ord high school. That was ten years after I got my sheep skin from the same place. That was the year, by the way, when John R. Haskell was one of the graduates.

Among the group, and perhaps very little noticed, was one Floyd Schultz. The reason he did not attract much attention, was that he was transplanted for the final year from the North Loup schools, which then had only eleven grades. Schultz took the eleven grades at North Loup and then the twelfth at Ord, a more or less common practice in those days. As this is written, Schultz is back in his old home town. It is apparent that he has gone a long way in his government work, both in Washington, and since then in the Tennessee Valley Authority. Keep the name in mind, we will hear more of him in days to come.

It has been the aim of humanity since time began to make the way of winning a living just a little easier for each succeeding generation. In the beginning the Lord made little apples, but he gave to mankind the opportunity, if he could learn the means, of improving the quality of those same apples. All the apples we know and enjoy today came from that same parent stock that the Lord made. It was His plan that mankind should till the Garden of Eden and improve all things growing in it.

Therefore the urge to make this world a better place for our children than it was for ourselves is but natural. We want those children to have all the advantages and privileges that we were denied. Never in this history of the world have these changes come on more rapidly than in the past century. The telephone, electric light, radio, airplane, submarine, tractor, truck auto, combine, these and dozens of other inventions which we consider necessities today, were none in common use half a century ago. The modern lad gets up in the morning, milks his cows by machine, eats his breakfast, climbs on his tractor and does more in one day than his father could do in a week with horses. Today in many fields there is but one process for the grain, field to elevator. Then there was the binder, the grain to be shocked, then stacked, then threshed, and finally hauled to market with horses.

Many a well-meaning man, knowing that it takes hard work to develop strong muscles, is heard saying about the new generation being wiser but weaker. It has been felt by a few that the young people of today could not show the endurance of the men of yesterday. We do not hear so much about that, now that the war has been won and our young people have shown that they have what it takes. In the words of the Poet: "So near is Grandeur to our dust, So near is God to man, When duty whispers low, 'Thou Must!'" The Youth replies, "I can!" Yes, I sometimes feel like complaining when my legs get tired and don't want to get up, but I know a young ex-service man who has no legs at all, and he gets along.

When Duane Schultz was visiting in North Loup some time ago, he had several visits with Bates Copeland, looked at a lot of pictures Bates had, and finally borrowed copies of some of them. Bates didn't know then what Duane wanted with them, but he found out last week when he received a mailed copy of the National News, the official paper of the National Supply company by whom Schultz is employed. In it was a story of Schultz' trip and two of Bates' pictures, one of a coyote hunt, and another of the results of dynamiting crows. There was quite a story to be told in the pictures and North Loup incidentally got quite a lot of favorable publicity.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Anton (Tony) Zalud of Burwell and daughter Orville drove to North Loup to call upon Floyd Schultz, who is a relative. They also visited at our home. When Tony came in he said: "So this is where you live!" "Sure," said I. "You know," said Tony, "I have been honking you every time we went past your house for the last two years, and we wondered why we never saw any of you about. Now I know why. All that time I was honking at the house east of the church instead of the one north of it." Thanks, Tony. The house east of the church is the home of the parsonage, and, if Rev. Mitchell does not object, the mistake is all right with us.

I had occasion to go to Burwell Friday to do some sign work for the Valley county man, E. V. (Ernie) Holloway. He has installed a locker system with his dairy and now has the most modern equipment for butchering, stock and storing meat for his customers. In the past two years he has rebuilt the old jeans paint shop north of the square, and he has a beautiful layout, including two apartments on the top floor, one for themselves and the other for renting, and of course, being in Burwell, it was rented before Holloway had it ready. Yes, Burwell got a good man when they got Ernie Holloway away from Valley county.

It does not seem so long ago that C. W. (Clay) Noll would drive into our yard some spring morning and announce that it was time to work out the poll tax on the roads. I usually worked out mine near our home, and not knowing much about the job, probably made a rather shabby showing. Recently Alvin Anderson, with his caterpillar and LeTourneau did a couple of days work on the road leading east from North Loup to the county line, thence south, crossing Mira Creek twice in the process. Ten men with good teams would have worked two weeks doing what Alvin did in two days. Yes, modern machinery is sure doing a lot for mankind.

Appetite Teasers for Hot Weather

This is the time of the year that you have to tease appetites a bit — because it's just as important to eat a full nutritive meal in hot weather as in cold.

Plan 32 County Game Restoration Area in Nebraska; Million Trees

Nebraska's wild game is going to have a place to live during the next few years if the Nebraska Game Commission can do anything about it. A 32-county area, practically one-fourth of the total area of the state, will see an intensified program of upland game habitat restoration which will put Nebraska far out in front of any state in the country in this type of work.

Although actual work will not begin until next spring, the ground work is already being laid to get the program under way. Orders are being placed for mechanized equipment to put trees into the ground by the thousands and nursery stock needed for the planting of the state's nurseries. It may be necessary for the Game Commission to establish its own nursery.

The region to be developed extends to the east and south roughly, from a line drawn from Ellwood to Fairbury, thence northeast to the western boundary of Knox county.

Present plans call for an expenditure of $220,000 during the next three years, with an annual planting of between 200,000 and 400,000 trees. This would mean a total of more than a million trees and shrubs put into the ground for wildlife habitat. Three-fourths of the funds to be used will be supplied by the Federal government.

Although the Game Commission's restoration program is designed essentially to provide food and shelter for the quail, pheasants and other upland game, land owners who cooperate in the work will see an even more direct benefit. Nearly all of the plantings will be made on plots of ground which are being wasted by soil erosion. The plantings will serve the double purpose of stopping soil erosion and providing homes for wildlife.

Want Rural Fire Truck at Comstock

A meeting was held in the Woodman building in Comstock last Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing rural fire districts and purchasing fire fighting equipment for the protection of the farmers in this area.

The members of the Comstock Fire Department are sponsoring this idea, and it is their intention to stay within Comstock's trade territory in organizing these districts. It is not the idea to get more territory than can be efficiently and properly serviced. If too large a territory is taken in it is bound to cut down on the speed of bringing fire-fighting equipment to the scene of the fire. — Comstock News.

Proceedings of the County Board

July 19, 1917. The Board of Supervisors of Valley County met on the above date in special session with the following members present: Smith, Suchanek, Jablonski, Ball, McClellan and Psota.

This meeting was called for the purpose of considering a communication from the State Tax Commissioner relative to the raising the Business Schedules of Valley County a flat rate of 20% over the valuations as listed in the original Schedules as returned for taxation purposes for the year.

After due deliberation and consideration, it was the consensus of opinion of those present that a flat increase of 20% on all Business Schedules would be unjust to some of the Businessmen.

A motion, therefore, was made and duly carried that Supervisors Jablonski and McClellan and County Assessor Noll and County Clerk Woods be appointed a Committee to appear before the State Board of Equalization to enter a formal protest against such action.

Motion made and carried that the meeting adjourn.

LEONARD B. WOODS, County Clerk.

Thirty-five Day Duck Season in Nebraska: Bag Limit of Four

The duck hunters' fears were confirmed last Thursday.

Because the waterfowl population is showing a sharp decline, the Department of Interior cut both the open seasons and bag limits.

The central and western regions, including Nebraska, will have 35 days of shooting. But Iowa was placed in the eastern region and will have only thirty days.

Bag limit is four, with eight ducks in possession. Wood ducks are again illegal in Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas and North Dakota.

Some states are taking a short open season on mourning or turtle doves for the first time in many years. The dates are September 10 to 21, with a bag and possession limit of 10.

Last year the country's average open duck season was 45 days with a daily bag limit of 7 and 10 in 1945. The possession limit of eight for 1917 compares with 14 last year and 20 in 1945.

Shooting hours generally fall within the period of sunrise to sunset with a few exceptions for certain types of fowl.

Some states are taking a split season, but their total number of hunting days is cut because of the always-heavy shooting on opening days. Thus a state allowed 30 days would get only two periods of 12 days each.

Each state was allowed to decide if it wanted to split its season. The shorter season allowed in the East was explained on the grounds that breeding conditions were poorer.

This year's regulations hark back to the duck depression days of the mid-thirties. The January estimate put waterfowl population at 54 million, a decline of 28 million from the 1916 estimate. The 1943 estimate hit a high of 126 million.

Goose and brant regulations in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and South Dakota are uniform this year. Except for Ross' geese, which are protected in the entire United States, the bag limit and possession limit was set at four.

Ord Schools Will Open Sept. 2, 3 New Teachers

High School Registration Starts Monday: Kindergarten Group Large

Children in Ord will be playing a little harder during the next two weeks because their vacation is about over. On Tuesday, September 2, they will start another nine months of what they think is hard work.

Registration for high school will be the first three days of next week with the seniors and juniors registering on Monday, the sophomores and freshmen on Tuesday, and the 7th and 8th grades on Wednesday morning.

No early registration is necessary in the grade school, but all kindergarten pupils must register on Tuesday morning, September 2, and at that time they will be divided into morning and afternoon groups. Parents' wishes will be respected in making this division, in as far as it is possible to do so.

Ord is fortunate in that practically all of the teachers of last year are returning. New to the system will be Richard Peterson in the high school; Miss Lydia Mathauer in the grade school; and Mrs. Leslie Nash, teaching grade school music. These teachers are all well qualified for their position and should add to the efficiency of our school.

The kindergarten will include all children who will have attained the age of five years by December 15. Following is the list of potential kindergartners shown by the school census: Cora Lynn Anderson, Bethene Axthelm, Gene Alloway, Helen Lee Anderson, Lyle Babka, Sharon Cetak, Gilbert Christoffersen, John Clark, Raymond Cronk, Michael Cronk, Margaret Dorn, Richard Dorn, Dennis Eschliman, Nancy Fauss, Sharon Kay Goff, Harold Gudmundsen, Richard Bleach, Connie Jean Wianski.

Following is a list of teachers in high school and junior high: C. C. Thompson, superintendent; F. L. Stoddard, high school principal; Alex Cochran, Sr., athletics; J. Kovanda, Vocational Agriculture; Joe Culp, Science; William Nelson, Music; Richard Peterson, Shop; Mrs. Dorothy Kovanda, English and Dramatics; Maude Holden, Mathematics; Mrs. Phyllis Gannick, Vocational Home Economics; Rosalind Murray, Normal Training; Frances Horinek, English, Latin, Journalism; Irene Auble, English; Mrs. Lucile Tolen, Social Science; Elizabeth Lukes, Junior High Mathematics and English.

In the grade school, Inez Swain is principal and third and fourth grade teacher; Irma King, kindergarten; Deloris Donelson, first grade; Jacqueline Hunt, combination first and second; Lydia Mathauer, combination second and third; Lucy Rowland, fourth grade; Mrs. Evelyn Jeffery, fifth grade; Mrs. Lois Strong, sixth grade; and Mrs. Leslie Nash, grade school music.

Miss Viola Puncóchar will again serve as secretary at the high school, and Thomas Williams and Charles Jones will return as high school custodians. Arthur Jensen will again be the grade school custodian.

Senator Wherry Will Tour State Senator Kenneth M. Wherry has announced that he plans to visit over 50 Nebraska towns, in every legislative district, during a tour starting Aug. 23 and continuing through September. He will be in Ord from 9 to 11 a. m. on Sept. 23.

Ord League Team Plays Jr. Legion

Much interest attaches to the baseball game scheduled between the Ord team of the Loup Valley League and Ord's Junior Legion team, which will be played at the athletic field at 2:30 next Sunday afternoon. The game will be played on a "winner take all" basis and usual admission charges will be made. The Legion lads, coached by Bill Heuck, are confident of their ability to beat the more experienced team, which has had a disastrous league season.

13 Chanticleers Check Out Suits for Grid Season

Sessions to Open Friday, 50 More Boys Invited to Start with Squad

Thirteen Chanticleer football lettermen carried over from last year's squad, checked out practice gear Tuesday morning at the local high school and let it be known that they are ready to get down to hard work when they start practice sessions Friday of this week.

While only three of the letter carriers were listed as regulars last year, all have had actual game experience, nine quarters of playing time having been required for a major award.

Five of those reporting are listed as backs and eight as line men. Over 50 invites were listed to participate in the pre-season drills were issued and are expected to check out their gear Wednesday and Thursday.

Regulars reporting and their weights at checking out time are as follows: Backs: Jay Stoddard, 141; Dick Tolen, 136; Al Blaha, 136; Paul Stoddard, 156; Lad Cochran, 151.

Line men: Al Blessing, 179; Ed Piskorski, 160; X Merritt Jensen, 160; Loren Stewart, 148; Bill Anderson, 154; Don Haight, 136; Jim Kucera, 128; Don Waterman, 201.

This year's success will depend largely upon how well last year's reserve lettermen and the newcomers fit into their places. At the moment it appears the big job will be to find a fullback capable of carrying the load. Several boys are in line for try-outs at this all important post including Merritt Jensen, Al Blessing and Paul Stoddard. Stoddard is the only one having had backfield experience. To fill the backfield would weaken the Chanticleer air threat and use of Jensen would remove from the forward wall one of the Chants most dependable blockers. Jensen backed up the line last year and should be drawn into the backfield to be a fullback at home on defense. His ability to knock down short passes was particularly outstanding.

20 Farm Boys Eligible for Calf Scramble

Event Comes August 26th At Fair, Should Register Now to Compete

The Valley County Fair association is looking for a number of red blooded, frisky farm boys between the ages of 14 and 17 inclusive. They want boys who like to work with livestock and who are interested in making profits of $100 or more in the next year. Boys who fit this description should register now for the calf scramble at the county fair, on August 26.

Tax Levies Set: Increase General Over The Country

Road Fund Gets Token Levy By Virtue of $55,000 Surplus

Tax levies set Tuesday by the Valley county board of equalization reflect a general increase in levies by the various government districts of the county. Here are highlights: State levy - 8.67 mills; County levy - 4.81 mills; Weed levy (farm only) - .96 mills.

Ord City - 12.65 mills; North Loup - 12.00 mills; Arcadia - 13.60 mills; Elyria - 4.00 mills; Ord bonds - 5.00 mills; North Loup bonds - 2.32 mills; Arcadia bonds - 5.10 mills; North Loup School - 31.43 mills; Ord School - 26.39 mills; Arcadia Schools - 35.01 mills. The county levy is in two divisions this year, the special levy of nine-tenths mills for weed eradication is levied on property outside village and city limits.

Photographer Ed Swopes Takes Burwell Rodeo Scenes

The Burwell rodeo took Photographer Ed Swopes away from his regular work last week and he came back with these high-interest shots of the annual Garfield county event. Ed was too busy dodging flying hoofs to get the entrant's names in these scenes, and he had other things on his mind. As a matter of fact, he spent most of his time over in front of one of the carnival shows, watching the air blast blow up the girl's skirts - the shot of some unidentified miss getting the air treatment is typical. Next year the Quiz is going to buy Ed a pair of blinders, and we hope to have a few more action shots for you.

Middle Loup District Appeal Water Ruling

Officials of the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District have asked for a new hearing on a recent ruling by the state engineer and the department of roads and irrigation that they were entitled to only one foot of water measured at the headgates.

While a definite course of action has not yet been decided, the district will probably appeal the ruling to the Supreme Court if the hearing is denied.

Hottest August in History, May Be 1947's Record

Present Record Is Kept Up 1934 Heat, Drouth, to Be Exceeded

Valley county people who have been suffering with the August heat have grounds for doing so, it is revealed by figures compiled for the Quiz Wednesday morning by Horace W. Travis, official weather reporter. August, 1917, to date has been hotter than August, 1934, which is generally believed to be the hottest month on record here. Moreover, to date August 1947 is drier than the August of that drouth year of 1934 for then .85 of an inch of rain fell and this month there has been no measurable moisture.

Average high temperature for August 1947 was 89.5 degrees; average high so far this month is 91.3. Average low for August 1934 was 63.9 degrees; so far this month it is 68.8 degrees.

However, August 1934 had 18 days of 90 or better heat and 15 days of 100 or higher heat while August 1947 has had only 13 days of 90 heat and 1 day of 100 heat. August 1934 had it all over this August for the hottest day too, record of 111 being made Aug. 8 of that year. Hottest day this August was 102, on Aug. 10.

Lowans Injured Well Known Here

In an accident occurring last Thursday morning, five miles out of Adel, Ia., several people, well known in Valley county, were killed or seriously injured. Sylvia Ann Zelenka, 1450 S. 16th, was in a "satisfactory" condition at a Des Moines hospital Friday. She suffered a fractured left arm and other injuries in an automobile accident that claimed the lives of her mother, Mrs. Anna Zelenka and her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Novak.

Biggest Field of Racers in Fair's History Expected; 27 Signed Now

I. W. Eschliman will be superintendent of agricultural exhibits at the Valley county fair, taking the place of Henry Enger, announces President R. Clare Clement.

"A real agricultural county fair" is envisaged by Clement, who says interest in the exhibits is running high this season. He urges everybody to plan to exhibit and promises plenty of exhibit space in clean, newly painted buildings, with competent superintendents and judges in charge.

Livestock exhibitors will receive free gate tickets so they may go back and forth into the grounds as they please.

A new addition to the fair program is a style show to be presented by Chase's on the platform in front of the grandstand.

League Race Ends in Tie, Play-Off Games Coming Up

The Loup Valley league race was thrown into confusion Sunday when Broken Bow beat the league-leading Arcadia team 3 to 1, thus throwing these teams into a tie for 1st and 2nd places. The race was further complicated by other results putting Ansley, Mason City and Loup City into a 3-way tie for 3rd and 4th places.

Must Renew Auto Driving Permits After Sept. 7th

New Law Changes the Issuing Date of Permits: Fee Now $2.00

All residents of Nebraska who operate motor vehicles on the streets and highways will be required to renew their driver's permits sometime between September 7 and November 1, County Treasurer George Satterfield announced this week.

Two years ago the license expiration law was changed so that all permits issued in the state expired September 1, 1947, regardless of when issued.

Cost for renewal license this year will be $2.00, the legislature having recently raised the fee to this amount.

It will not be necessary, Mr. Satterfield said, to make a personal trip to his office to have a permit renewed. The transaction can be handled entirely by mail providing the applicant sends in his old driver's permit and the $2.00 fee.

Mr. Satterfield warned that applications should not be sent before September 7, because no renewal licenses can be issued prior to that date.

After October 31, every person applying for a driver's license will be required to take a driver's examination.

Congr. Miller Coming

A. L. Miller, 4th district congressman, writes that he plans to be in Ord Aug. 27 to spend the night and of course will attend the fair. He will be glad to discuss either international or domestic affairs with any people interested.

Chase's Present Fashion Event Tuesday Evening: Tickets On Sale

Another feature was added to the long list of events scheduled for the Loup Valley Fair here August 27 and 28, when Chase's, Ord store for women, announced they would stage a fashion show Tuesday night in front of the grandstand.

The store has selected a group of advance styles as featured in Vogue and Mademoiselle for their showing. Local girls will be models.

Reserved seat tickets for the fair went on sale this week at Beranek's store in Ord. Sales have been brisk, fair promulgators state, with a scramble developing for choice seats.

WILL ENLARGE DEPARTMENT

Glen Auble, local optician, told the Quiz this week that the store building recently vacated by Chase's will be the site of a new optical department of Auble Brothers. Plans for remodeling have been drawn, although it will be some months before work is started.

Style Show to Be Feature of Fair

Working on Dump

Alvin Anderson and his brother Walt are using the big bulldozer to work over the city dump this week. They are leveling it off toward the river and making it possible to drive in much easier. They think that when they are finished it will take care of refuse for another fifteen or twenty years.

Photographer Ed Swopes Takes Burwell Rodeo Scenes

The Burwell rodeo took Photographer Ed Swopes away from his regular work last week and he came back with these high-interest shots of the annual Garfield county event. REMODELING HOME

Lloyd Paddock of Brule, Neb., is here helping his brother Clyde Paddock remodel his basement. He will stay until the fair. If the material is available they will do some extensive remodeling on the home before they are through.

Eschliman New Ag Hall Director

I. W. Eschliman will be superintendent of agricultural exhibits at the Valley county fair, taking the place of Henry Enger, announces President R. Clare Clement.

"A real agricultural county fair" is envisaged by Clement, who says interest in the exhibits is running high this season. He urges everybody to plan to exhibit and promises plenty of exhibit space in clean, newly painted buildings, with competent superintendents and judges in charge.

League Race Ends in Tie, Play-Off Games Coming Up

The Loup Valley league race was thrown into confusion Sunday when Broken Bow beat the league-leading Arcadia team 3 to 1, thus throwing these teams into a tie for 1st and 2nd places. The race was further complicated by other results putting Ansley, Mason City and Loup City into a 3-way tie for 3rd and 4th places.

According to the league's by-laws, play-offs to determine the champion should start upon completion of the regular schedule but these ties must be played off before the championship series may start.

Tuesday night league officials met in Arcadia to schedule these games and decided that Arcadia and Broken Bow will play off their tie Sunday on the Broken Bow diamond. The same two teams attracted a crowd of 1000 last week, so another big spectacle is assured fans. Holder of No. 1 and 2 spots will be decided by this game.

Officials drew lots between Mason, Loup City and Ansley, resulting in Ansley drawing a bye and giving them 3rd place in the final standings. Mason City and Loup City will play on the Loup City diamond Sunday to decide the 4th place winner.

For the first game of the official championship play-offs it was decided to have the 1st place team, as determined by the Arcadia-Broken Bow game Sunday, play the No. 2 team (Ansley) on the Ansley field Sunday, Aug. 31. On the same date the No. 2 team will play the No. 4 team, as decided by the Mason City-Loup City game, on the No. 4 team's diamond. After these results are in another league meeting will be held to determine where and when championship games will be played.

The Arcadia-Broken Bow game last Sunday was one of the season's finest. Arcadia scored a run in the 1st inning and held the lead until the seventh when their southpaw hurler, Cy Buck, held the Indians hitless. In the "lucky seventh" Broken Bow broke loose, Sonny Vaughn singling to left field and Ingram to center, both scoring on a fielder's choice by Tub Dean who later scored on a ball hit by McCarty. This completed the game's scoring, giving the Indians a 3 to 1 victory and a tie for 1st place in the league standings. Box score of the game:

$3,000 Attractive Purse to Big Cars, Rush to Sign Up

The biggest and fastest field of races in Valley county history is expected by City Baker, race superintendent. The $3,000 purse hung up for the big cars and the $2,000 total for midjets is proving attractive bait, he says.

Twenty-seven big cars, already have signed on the dotted line, the list including in addition to those announced last week:

M. H. Myles, Cleveland, O. (Now leads all drivers in Interstate Racing Association)

Merle Heath, Silvis, Ill. John Joy, Quinn, Ill. Roy Blinstrup, Rock Island, Ill. Lewis Holloper, Rock Island, Ill. Joseph Holloper, Rock Island, Ill.

Home Powell, Quincy, Ill. Merle Brumm, Davenport, Ia. Tim Taylor, Rock Island, Ill. Keith Sapp, Macomb, Ill. Vern Broadley, Rock Island, Ill. W. L. Harding, Doniphan, Neb. Win. East, Omaha, Neb. Deef Ketter, Uta, Ill. B. W. Reitz, Chicago, Ill. Joe Lishine, Detroit, Mich.

"Already we have about ten more cars coming than we need for good races," Baker says. "We probably will have to add a daily consolation race to events already scheduled, in order to keep all the drivers happy."

Midjet entries are beginning to come in now, Baker says. There will be 15 here from the Sioux City area, several from Omaha and Lincoln, the Lincoln group being headed by Rip Van Winkle who has raced here before and who has a new car which has never been defeated. Superintendent Baker is attending the midjet meet at Hastings, and expects to sign several cars there. Entry blanks are being distributed this week also at the meet in Vermillion, S. D.

How to provide rooms for the 100 or more race men who are sure to be here remains the No. 1 problem of local officials. Last City diamond Sunday to decide the 4th place winner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christensen and Phyllis will leave Friday morning to spend a week vacationing in Colorado. They will go to Denver and will later meet Mr. and Mrs. Hale Cole of Denver, in Loveland and they will all go to Estes Park for several days. This is the first vacation Mr. Christensen has taken in 20 years and he means to make the most of it.

Vacation in Wyoming

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Beran and family left this morning for an extended vacation in Wyoming. They plan to visit Mr. Beran's uncle A. L. Beran, at Waterbury and other relatives in that vicinity. They will return in time for the girls to start school.

Bill Blaha Wed

Mildred Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Carter of Clara, Kan., became the bride of Bill Blaha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Blaha of Ord, Saturday at a Nuptial High Mass at the St. Bernard Church at Clara, Kan.

The bride was attired in a two-piece aqua street length dress with matching net hat and white accessories. Her only ornament was a jeweled bracelet. The bridal bouquet was a corsage of pink gardenias. Miss Marcella Carter, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a rose crepe street length dress with matching net hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of blue and white carnations.

The best man was Raymond Lonowski, friend of the groom.

A lovely breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents for relatives and friends.

After a brief honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Blaha will make their home in Lincoln where Mrs. Blaha will continue her work at the St. Elizabeth hospital and Mr. Blaha will resume his studies at the University of Nebraska.

Dinner Guests

Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Poth were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cook and Lois, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Geweke, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke and family and Rev. and Mrs. Quentin Lamsan and Marlene Kaye from Griswold, Ia.

Adamek-Simpson Wedding

At eight o'clock in the evening, Saturday August 9, 1947, Miss Hilda Adamek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Adamek, of Ord, became the bride of Milton Simpson, son of Mrs. Eula Simpson, in Grand Island. The Rev. Halverson performed the ceremony.

Saturday bride wore a grey street-length dress with black accessories, and the bridegroom wore a blue pin-stripe suit.

A wedding dance was held Sunday evening at Elyria, attended by a large group of friends and relatives.

Announce Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Claussen announce the marriage of their daughter, Elaine, to Cleo Forsberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Forsberg of Fremont, May 29, 1947 at Council Bluffs, Ia. Mr. Forsberg and his father, Leonard Forsberg, own and operate the Yellow Cab service at Fremont.

Visiting Burwell

Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Major of Ottumwa, Ia. and family are visiting Mrs. Major's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson, Sr., in Burwell this week. The Major family moved to Ottumwa from Chicago, Mich. while the food was still in full force, but think that Ottumwa is a paradise now as far as insects are concerned. Airplanes sprayed the town with DDT and as flies seldom migrate more than two miles in any one direction, it is possible they have all doors and windows open all the time and no one is bothered with flies and mosquitoes.

COUSINS MEET 1ST TIME

Last week cousins met for the first time though their fathers came to this country together in 1905 from Poland. The cousins were Mary, James and Julie Kaczka of Chicago who came to Elyria to look up and to visit the John Knopik and James Sobon families.

It seems that in 1905 Mike Kaczka and his brother came to this country together. They kept track of each other for a while and then completely lost each other. Mike settled in Elyria and raised his family and the other brother finally settled near Chicago. A few months ago, after the death of their father the Kaczka children of Chicago found an old worn address of Mike Kaczka, Elyria, in some of their father's belongings and decided to take a chance on coming into this territory and see if they could find any of their kindfols. They found the John Knopik and James Sobon families, and one of the most enjoyable weeks these people ever had was the one spent getting acquainted last week. The Chicago people returned home Saturday afternoon.

Celebrates Birthday

Agnes Cernik returned from the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Janus, a family she had been the summer, to spend her birthday with her mother Mrs. Barbara Cernik. Alvin Cernik is spending the summer at the farm of his grandparents.

Haughts Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Haught entertained Wednesday evening at a Fish and Corn supper on their lawn in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tilton, who are leaving Ord. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tilton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Andersen.

Lillian Jelinek and George Jackson Wed

Word has reached Ord relatives of the marriages of Lillian Mae Jelinek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jelinek of Whittier, Calif., to George Edward Jackson of Whittier.

The bride is a 1944 graduate of Ord high school, and is employed by the Security First National Bank of Whittier. The groom, a naval air corps veteran of the South Pacific, is manager of a Standard Oil station in Whittier. The marriage took place in St. Mary's Catholic Church in Whittier on Saturday, July 26.

MR. AND MRS. JACKSON

Geraldine Gowen Weds Dale Fuehring

Geraldine Gowen, daughter of Mrs. George Gowen and the late George Gowen, and Dale Fuehring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fuehring of Seward, were united in marriage at the Seventh Day Baptist church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. Warren Studer officiating in the double ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Phyllis Babcock sang "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. Glen Johnson and Mrs. Harlan Bremick. Mrs. Johnson and music, Miss Jean Fuehring, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Harold Keller of Seward was best man. Ushers were Richard Gowen and Wilbur Ringling.

The bride, dressed in a white satin gown, with a tight fitting bodice with a long train, with embroidered lace front panel, entered the church on the arm of her uncle, John B. Gowen, of Denver. She carried a fan shaped bouquet of white glads, and her finger tip veil fell from a coronet of ostrich plumes. Miss Fuehring's dress was of blue, with a tight fitting bodice and a full floor length skirt and a coronet crown of net and pink glads. Her corsage was matching.

The men wore dark suits with white carnation boutonnieres. The bride's mother was dressed in a crepe dress of deep orchid with white accessories and a white corsage. The groom's mother wore black with white accessories and a white corsage.

In charge of the guest book were Misses Maxine and Janet Fuehring, sisters of the groom. The altar of the church was banked with flowers against a background which included a garden fence, filled with flowers and greenery. Decorations were in charge of Mrs. Edward Christensen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church for close friends and relatives with about sixty attending. The bridal table was decorated with roses, centered with a rose decorated three-tier pink and white bridal cake. Mrs. Erlo Babcock had charge of the serving and Mrs. R. H. VanBoskirk cut the cake. Mrs. Floyd Hutchins and Mrs. Ruth Hutchins served the fruit punch with ice cream floats.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuehring left after the reception for a week in the Colorado mountains after which they will be at home in Lincoln where he will complete his schooling at the college of agriculture, and Mrs. Fuehring will be employed as manager of a girls dormitory.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fuehring, Jean, Janet and Maxine, Seward; Mrs. Edan Hentzen and Miss Clara, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hentzen, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Abele, John Abele, Claudine Abele, Mrs. Agnes Abele, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hentzen, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Keller, all of Seward, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Barnes, Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. J. Edwin Bronson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. VanBoskirk, Mrs. Charles Salem and A. S. Babcock, all of Lincoln, and Miss Belva Babcock of Long Beach, Calif., and John B. Gowen, of Denver.

Nebraska's Big Rodeo Declared Best in Years

Forty Thousand Enjoy Three Perfect Days of Fine Entertainment.

The 25th year of Nebraska's Big Rodeo is now history, and the management is happy to be able to announce that the 1947 show was one of the finest ever held. Weather conditions were perfect for all three days, in fact, it is agreed that this was the best show on record from that view point. The huge attendance, 40,000 for three days, made the show a financial success, and the superior quality of the entertainment made those people who saw it feel that their money was well spent.

Last year, the first show after the war, found a scarcity of high class cowboys, as a large percent of them had been in the service and many had not as yet got back into the game. This year many of the top riders of the nation were back on the job, and their presence showed in the faster times made in time events, and the better job done in riding. Further, the high quality of the rodeo stock, furnished by Beutler of Elk City, Okla., made all contests a real spectacle.

The special acts were also on a higher plane than for years. Most people agreed that the night show was the best ever seen at Burwell. The carnival was one of the largest and also one of the best ever to show on the grounds. The eating facilities were not sufficient to take care of the crowds, but all visitors were able to get something to eat. Due to the inability to locate a floor, there was no dance held on the grounds this year, and the loss was keenly felt, especially late in the evening. However, the New Legion dance floor took care of a huge crowd in town, and their club rooms were open to service men.

The Ord band furnished the music for the first day's performance. The O'Neill band was present and played for the second day. Friday the Wahoo band and the Burwell band both played. The bands were escorted to the special new bandstand built just south of the information office. This arrangement was especially pleasing to all the patrons, as the music was easy to hear, and was far enough away from all the regular stands to prevent the music being too loud for any of the patrons. The Ord band was under the direction of Wm. Nelson and pleased the customers very highly. Director of the O'Neill band is Ira George, who is enjoying his tenth year there, seven years as instructor of the O'Neill and St. Marys bands, and superintendent for the past three years. The O'Neill band has played at Burwell since 1939. Director of the Wahoo band is Ralph Gramer.

Fifteen thousand persons were present for Grand Island day, which was Thursday, and not a few of them were from Grand Island. A chartered bus brought the bulk of the Gigavans, the Grand Island booster organization, while dozens of autos brought more. Friday was Lincoln day and three busses brought part of the people from the capital city, while as many more came in autos. The estimate for the Friday crowd was sixteen thousand, and for the second time in the history of the show, Friday was the biggest day. Included in the crowd Friday was Governor Peterson and Congressman Miller.

The Indians from the Rosebud Agency arrived Monday in a sentimental way. They were under the supervision of John Compton, who was in charge of the Indians last year. Their chief, Alfred Bone-shirt, 76 years old, was with them, and also his wife, Mrs. Bone-shirt, became very ill Tuesday evening, but was able to be about again Friday.

The death of Mrs. Nellie Olcott, who passed away from a heart attack while watching the show Wednesday, marked the first time in the history of the rodeo that a spectator has died under these circumstances. She was 73 years of age and a great lover of rodeos.

Among cowboys registered were Jerry Ambler, Greenwood, Wash.; Jesse Light, Kim, Colorado, Dave Campbell, Las Vegas, Nev.; Harold Ridley, Nowata, Okla.; J. Obituary—Chas. Mrsny

Funeral services were conducted in Clarkson Tuesday forenoon of this week for Charles J. Mrsny, 74, a former resident of this community. Mr. Mrsny, a member of a pioneer Colfax county family, had made his home in this community for many years. He spent his younger years on a farm south-east of Clarkson.

Mr. Mrsny was born June 5, 1873, on a farm in Adams precinct, three miles southeast of the present site of Clarkson, being a son of the late Philip and Marie Mrsny, early-day settlers of this community. He was married to Anna Zastera on Feb. 13, 1896.

After leaving the farm many years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Mrsny made their home in Clarkson for some time and from there moved to Valley county. To this union were born three sons, Charles A., of Scribner; Philip T., of North Loup and Emil S., of Denver, Colorado, who with their mother are left to survive.

Mr. Mrsny is also survived by seven grandchildren, one brother, Adolph of Seattle, Wash., and four sisters, Kristina Hajek, of Clarkson; Anna Vacha, of Howells; Fannie Zabka, of Belgrade, and Mary Zabka, of Dodge.

He died in Lincoln, August 9, 1947 at the age of 74 years, 2 months and 4 days, the remains having been brought to Clarkson for burial. The services were conducted from the F. J. Miller & Son funeral home by Rev. A. B. Filipi and burial was in the Zion church cemetery southeast of Clarkson.

Mr. Mrsny had been a member of the Z. C. B. J. lodge, belonging to the Ord, Nebr., chapter. — Colfax County Press.

WILSONS MOVE TO MISSOURI

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson Jr. moved from Ord, to Wentzville, Mo. Monday. Mrs. Wilson's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. Carter and son Junior came to Ord this week end to help Mr. and Mrs. Wilson pack and make the move. It is necessary for Junior Wilson to leave Nebraska because he suffers so with hay fever in this territory. All the time he was in the navy and in Wentzville, Mo. he wasn't bothered, but let him come into this part of Nebraska and he starts suffering. He has no definite plans as yet but wants to get into civil aeronautics and will take examination at a large air field about forty miles from Wentzville. He has been employed by Jay Nelson.

Grains

For the most part the grain markets have been very active again the past week and all grains are bringing a good price. We have been able to get a good supply of cars this week and as this is written we do have quite a lot of room at the elevator and we follow the market. You will find our grades and weights very satisfactory to you. Trucks available if you need trucks.

Sweet Clover Seed

We are in the market for your sweet clover seed. The price for sweet clover seed is pretty good this year when you take in consideration the large crop of seed that is reported in other States. We have bags to loan you while threshing. The sweet clover threshing will be in full swing in about another ten days. We will be glad to buy your seed and pay all the market will stand. We prefer to buy it over the cleaner and then you will know that you are getting full market value.

Protein Feeds

Crop reports indicate that the Soy Bean crop has been very severely damaged and that the bean crop will be much smaller than usual. We have a small amount of protein feeds booked for Nov. delivery. We feel that protein will be much higher in this winter and feel that any feed that you buy now will be a mighty good investment.

This year it looks as if we might be able to get a car or two of Cotton Seed Pellets for Dec. delivery. With grain prices as high as they are the protein manufacturers are fighting for more money for their products. They feel that corn at around $2 per bu, that their products should be over $100 per ton. You can buy your proteins for less money than that. We will book your order for winter delivery.

Fertilizer

We know this is a very poor time of the year to sell fertilizer but we are about to get a car of Nitrate and a car of Super-Phosphate early next month. We feel that you would do well to buy your fertilizer now and have it next year when you want to use it. You could use Super-Phosphate now on your fall seeding of wheat and rye. Yields can easily be increased 12-15 bu. per acre by the use of super-phosphate according to past tests. This Super-Phosphate costs only $32.50 per ton or about $2.50 per acre. Let us know by Saturday if you can use any of this super-phosphate.

FARMS FOR SALE

Would you like to invest in the safest and surest investment there is?

The answer is a Farm.

Land is the one thing that has not raised in price in accordance with most everything else. Years ago our fathers purchased land at a very small price but took most of them a lifetime to pay for it. Today with high crop prices and modern methods of farming we buy and pay for a farm in a very few years.

It will pay you to investigate the following:

320 ACRE — Improved and productive farm. 24 acres in alfalfa, about 40 acres pasture, balance cultivated land, quite an acreage showing good stand of sweet clover. Located about 10 miles northwest of Loup City. Price $8000.00. Several other good farms for sale.

New Grains Often Dangerous, Warns Valley Co. Agent

Ag College Tests Show Red Chief Wheat, Speltz, Not Often Productive.

Farmers who read about high yields of new varieties of grain, or varieties not commonly raised in the area, will do well to check results of tests made by agricultural college before rushing to buy seed of the variety, says C. C. Dale, county agent.

The story of the Custer county man who secured a large yield of Red Chief wheat this year might cause a farmer to go overboard for this variety.

Extension Circular No. 100, Small Grain Varieties in Nebraska, gives the following information regarding Red Chief:

The variety originated in Kansas. It is beardless and has a red chaff and is high in test weight. It shows considerable yielding ability when not injured by winter-killing. It has little or no disease resistance, and is very susceptible to smut. It mills satisfactorily but the baking behaviour is rather inferior. In yield tests conducted over a period of years at Lincoln and Alliance it has been decidedly lower than Pawnee. On the basis of numerous tests it is not recommended for Nebraska.

Also of interest are the results of tests with spring emmer, commonly called speltz. Over a four year period, average production in bushels per acre from a number of small grains were as follows:

Winter Wheat	1638 lbs.
Winter Rye	1568 lbs.
Barley	1212 lbs.
Oats	1095 lbs.

Schools Open Sept 1

It is back to school for North Loup youngsters Monday, September 1st. The usual courses will be offered and in high school will include college preparatory work, vocational agriculture, commercial and music. The faculty will be the same as last year with Suppl. by I. Friesen already back on the job after spending the summer on the farm at Henderson. Principal Richard O. Babcock came Saturday from Lincoln where he has spent the summer attending University summer school where he specialized in music. Individual instruction, band, chorus and voice work will be given the entire school. W. H. Cook is again vocational agriculture instructor and will coach athletics. The athletic department has been bolstered by a new lighting system on the football field which is being installed this week.

Miss Edith Stephen will have charge of the commercial department and Miss Minnie Jensen the mathematics. Miss Clara Jensen has the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Miss Dorothy Ingerson, the third, fourth and fifth and Mrs. Mills Hill the first and second. Since North Loup has no kindergarten department, the board will continue the rule that each child entering first grade must be six by next January 1st. This promises to be a large class of beginners in spite of this age ruling, probably sixteen or seventeen.

Mrs. Max Sims spent the week end with her parents in Taylor and her sister, Rosemary Stevens came home with her Sunday afternoon. Monday Rev. Stevens came down and they took Mrs. Sims to Grand Island, where she took the train for Ft. Big plans are in the making for Pop Corn Days, Sept. 9, 10, and 11. Among the many features will be a broadcast direct from the stage over KPAZ the second afternoon at the same time the horse show is going on. This is probably the first time such a feature has ever been put on in this territory.

Senator Wherry will be here on the second afternoon and will speak. Texas Mary and her Texas rangers will be on the program the second day. They were well received here last year. Merrill Anderson will be here to do some stunt flying and to give airplane rides. The juvenile parade will be a feature of the first days program and the goats the second. Booster prizes, some forty or fifty will be given away the last night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Knapp and three daughters left Sunday morning for a weeks vacation in the Black Hills. Mrs. Dale Stine is helping in the store while they are away.

Joan Stine and Charles Goodrich accompanied the Jim Coleman family on their trip to California Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Johnson of Oakland, Calif., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nelson. They had been east to Boston to visit their daughter and were returning home.

We have several fine farms still at same prices, but as you all know when this terminal leave cash is poured out the 1st of September, there is apt to be an increase in farm prices and about that time so many farmers will begin to think of where they will be able to find a farm for 1948, and the rush will be on. So while there is just a little while till then why not settle on a deal that fits it all starts going, and you can get in on the ground floor. We will be glad to show you what we have.

Out of Old Nebraska

By James C. Olson
Supt., State Historical Society

The first American council with the Indians in what is now Nebraska took place on August 3, 1801, just 143 years ago. The American representatives were Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, then on their famous journey of discovery and exploration. The Indians were Ojce and Missouri chiefs. The site was "Council Bluffs," probably near the present village of Port Calhoun.

This council was conducted in accordance with instructions from President Thomas Jefferson who was greatly concerned with extending this country's influence over the natives in the territory recently purchased from France, as well as learning more about that territory itself.

Lewis and Clark had come up the Missouri River from St. Louis. Before their journey was over they would follow that river to its source and go down the mighty Columbia to its mouth on the Pacific shore. Their journals (copies of which are in the State Historical Society's library) record their plodding, weary course across the West.

The explorers first encountered the Missouri and Ojce chiefs on the evening of August 2. They informed the Indians they were glad to see them, and would talk with them tomorrow. As evidence of their good intentions, they gave some roast meat, flour, and meal. The Indians responded with a gift of watermelons. Despite these gestures of goodwill, however, the journal for that day states: "every man on his guard and ready for anything."

The next morning after breakfast they met in a full-dress conference. Captains Lewis and Clark paraded their forces before the Indians and then delivered long speeches, telling the chiefs what they could expect from the new government. The chiefs apparently were satisfied with what they heard, because the journals record that they responded with long speeches of their own, agreeing to the proposals set forth, and expressing their happiness that the "bad" fathers which might be depended on.

After all this, Lewis and Clark gave the Indians a canister of powder, a bottle of whiskey, some paint, and a few medals to seal the bargain. Then Captain Lewis fired a few shots with the air gun which, according to the journal, "astonished the natives."

The conference being over, the exploring party set out upon its journey, proceeding about five miles up the river to their next camp.

Marie Lucas, 2, of Brooklyn, leaped too far from the attic window, fell 20 feet to a porch roof, 15 feet farther to the ground and got away with minor bumps and scratches.

Mrs. Otto Reichard, 60-year-old grandmother, is going to college in Rockford, Ill. She began teaching in 1891 and came out of retirement during the war when teachers were needed.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz:

Me and she and the, — oh heck, I almost said the dog when we don't even have a dog and it is Donnie Craig who is with us. I guess I've been reading too much of Guy S. Williams. I hope Donnie don't hear about what I almost said. What I was going to say is that we three drove into camp at just eight o'clock last Sunday evening after a hot, unpleasant day. We left Ord shortly after 5 a. m. and it was warm and unpleasant then. It was above a hundred all day and stayed above 90 all that first night and Monday was hot but the wind switched to the north from the south in the evening and Tuesday it was 63. We have had a couple of nice rains since we came totalling around 3 inches and it has been delightful weather. Yesterday we needed a little fire in the heater.

When we arrived we found Oscar Nay having tea at one of the neighbors, only I never saw tea served in tiny glasses with ice in it before. Anyhow we finally pried him loose and got him to come over and give us the key to our cottage. We soon opened things up and got a lunch, after which we soon retired tho it was too hot to sleep and we didn't have an electric fan like we do at home.

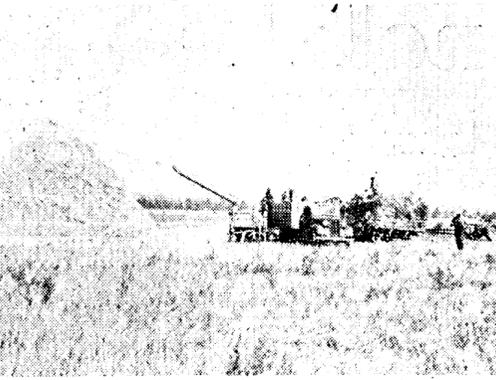

Monday morning Oscar took Donald on his first fishing trip and in a couple of hours they returned with twenty nice bluegills which we had for dinner, and we have had fish once each day and a couple of days we had fish for breakfast also, still we are not yet sick of fish and we plan on having bluegills once a day as long as we stay. The two of them came in this morning with their near limit of 28 nice bluegills in less than an hour and went a mile down the lake to get them. I cooked 18 of them for dinner and saved 10 for breakfast for Don and I tomorrow. We are going to have chicken for dinner so not to miss a day on fish will eat them for breakfast.

There must have been a casualty in this lake for when I dressed one of the fish I found a white shirt button in its stomach. Whether someone was drowned and eaten by the fish of course I don't know but the fish sure ate the button and it is reasonable to suppose that someone must have been wearing the shirt when the button was swallowed. The mystery may never be solved.

No, I have not been fishing as yet. What is the use so long as Oscar and Donnie are willing to catch our fish for us. I am just like my granddaughter Coralee Anderson when someone was advising her to study her reading lesson and she didn't want to do so. Why, she said, Mamma and Shirley will read to me and she could see no reason for learning.

Dr. George Misko of Lincoln, with his family drove into camp yesterday and were guests for a line of the Dr. Gelows. The Miskos are spending their vacation in a cottage over in the Lincoln camp on Pellican lake.

Best Crop in Years Harvested

The best wheat crop in years continued to pour into local elevators this week as various threshing rigs in the county speeded their operations. Generally, wheat is running about 30 bushels to the acre, while oats and barley yields hover in the 40-50 bushel range.

All but two of the cottages in this camp are occupied at this time. The Rachel cottage on the south end is vacant, though they were here early and are coming back in September for a few weeks. The other vacant one is the former Judge Clements cottage and was occupied by the C. A. Andersons for several weeks. The next in line is our cottage, then the former Fenner cottage now owned by Oscar Nay. He keeps cottage and yard as slick as a button. In other words he is a model housekeeper. The neighbors say he is always the first old grandma in camp to have his washing out on the line Monday morning. Oscar came May 1st and says he is going to stay till October 1st.

The Simpsons of Omaha are next above Oscars and some of them have been here for several weeks. A part of the family left for home yesterday and Byron and his mother remained for a while. Next come the Gelows who spend about three or four months here every summer. They have a beautiful home.

The next house belongs to the Ernest Augustines of Grand Island and they came last week and expect to remain as long as the weather is suitable. Their son Webb and wife will be up in a few days to spend their vacation. The next cottage I always remember is the John Keown cottage. It is owned now by the Bowmans of Clarinda, Iowa and they are spending several weeks here now. The next is the Jackson cottage and they are spending the summer here. The Jacksons live at Winona where both teach in the college. He is down there now teaching summer school and her parents are here from Indiana with her. The Truman Gross people are in their cottage, formerly the Bay Bricker cottage. He went home to attend to business matters leaving his family here during the hot weather. We understand that F. M. Gross and son Harry will be up for a week soon.

Crops in this neighborhood look good. Corn and potatoes seem to be making a crop. Well this land of lakes, (one thousand in this county alone) is a long ways from Valley county and perhaps you readers will not be too much interested in this letter so I will stop and go to attend mail it to the Quiz and buy a few things that we need. H. D. Leggett.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT

John L. Ward

This column may have a tint of the rodeo this week, but what it has is entirely incidental, and not a plug for an institution that needs no plugging from me. Naturally I came into possession of the information while up there doing my annual stunt, which is getting to be more of a stunt every year, which is as it should be. Got by with it better this year than last, and believe the reason was the weather. Good weather always puts the crowd in a good humor, and good-natured people are easy to get along with. By the way, did you ever hear a fellow griping with a smile on his face?

First, there is the incident of the manure, as told me by Charley Meyer, commander in chief of the police force on the rodeo grounds. A day or two before the show began, Charley woke up early one morning to hear his dog raising Cain because somebody was monkeying around the barn. He sicked the dog on, and finally got up to see what was amiss. The intruders had left, but somebody had thrown down a lighted cigarette butt in the stall behind his prize stallion, and the butt had started a fire in the manure, reported over the loud speaker, but nobody reported to claim it. Shortly after a little man, slightly the worse for drink, came past the office, and was met there by three others in a similar condition. One of them addressed the little man as Gorman. Acting on the hunch, I asked him: "My friend, does your name happen to be Percy Donald Gorman?" He gave me a hog, surprised look, and finally said: "Say how the H— did you know my middle name was Donald?"

I gave him the license, and he was the soul of politeness. The gist of his speech follows: "My friend, permit me to express my appreciation of the fact that you found it for me. You know, I might get into serious difficulty without this precious little piece of paper." Then his mood changed, and he added: "But, on the other hand, I wouldn't have given a Damn if I had never found it."

Wednesday Chuck Woodhead and Cecil King, both farmers near Edgar, came to see the show, and Woodhead came equipped with his full riding regalia to ride in the opening parade. Due to the difficulty of obtaining an extra horse on short notice he did not get to ride until the final day, when his costume and trappings attracted the attention and admiration of all who saw them. Mr. Woodhead tanned all the leather himself and put on all the white pearl ornamentation, as well as doing the bead work, and the result made his costume the most striking of all.

File Now For Terminal Leave Pay

Many Valley county servicemen have not filed an application for terminal leave pay. September 1st is the date that has been set as the deadline for getting these applications in. Ex-G. I.s are urged to get the proper application form, either from the local post office or the Veterans' Service office, fill it in properly and mail it with a certified copy or photostatic copy of their discharge to the proper address. Even those G. I.s who feel they were not in service long enough, or had used up all furlough time, are urged to make application before it is too late. Assistance in filling out the forms will be given at the Veterans' service office.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste. If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, irascibility and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Kidneys may need help the same as how- ever, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Driver Killed at Auto Races Here Tuesday

Valley Co. Fair Off to Fine Start, Exhibits Worthy

Wednesday Expected to Be the Big Day; Grand Island Boosters Visit.

The 1947 edition of the Valley county fair got off to a fine start Tuesday and although the opening day crowd was somewhat smaller than expected, prospects Wednesday noon were good for a crowd of 5,000 or more for the afternoon show and at least as large a throng present for the popular midget races Wednesday evening.

R. Clare Clement, fair president, expressed himself as being well satisfied with the manner in which the fair started off. Secretary Ed Amundson commented favorably on size and quality of fair exhibits.

The carnival company on the grounds is of high calibre and seemed to be doing a good business and concessionaires generally are pleased at the reception they are getting. The American Legion is operating a busy eating place on the grounds. Several exhibits of machinery are attracting attention. The Ord band is furnishing music during the races and for the evening shows.

Two of the most interesting buildings to visit on the grounds are the home economics building, where exhibits in both junior and senior departments attracted crowds Tuesday, and the school exhibit building near the exit gate. Hundreds of items are on display in these two buildings.

The 4-H baby beef judging was done Tuesday and entries in this department are of high calibre. Class A, made up of calves caught by ten boys in the 1946 calf scramble, attracts much attention. Gerald Nelson's calf won first in this class and also was the grand champion 4-H baby beef shown.

Second place among calf scramble entries went to Leo Wolfe, 3rd to Marvin Hornickel, 4th to Richard Blaha and 5th to Jack Koll.

Russell Clement won 1st on baby heaves in the 4-H show, 2nd on the calf scramble class, with George Lange, taking 2nd and Donald Bessen 3rd.

Other 4-H entries were made by Kenneth Kirby, Frank Kovarik, Paul Krutak, Joe Kvetensky, Bill and Carl Schauer, Charles and Henry Kasson.

There were a few 4-H swine club entries also, Eldon Kovarik winning 1st and Jimmie Keller 2nd on Spotted Poland and gilts.

The senior exhibit of swine was generally light but Chris Beiers' fine herd of Spotted Poland grabbed off $51 in prizes. Other prize winners on swine included Stanley Kovarik, Jimmie Keller and Ernest Housick.

A splendid display of draft horses is exhibited here, the prize going to Will Poth, 2nd to Gilbert Balcock, 3rd to Roland Hansen, 4th to Harold Williams and 5th to Ray Peterson.

In senior division of cattle the G. G. Clement & Sons herd walked off with 1st, 2nd and 3rd on bull calf, 1st and 3rd on yearling heifers, 1st heifer calf, 1st and 2nd on best pair, 1st and 2nd on set of one, 1st and 2nd on best pair of yearlings and 1st on best pair of yearlings.

R. L. Hayden, of Amelia, showed the grand champion yearling Hereford bull.

W. O. Zangger's herd of Polled Herefords won many prizes including 1st and 2nd on bull over 2 years old, 2nd on yearling bull, 2nd and 3rd on heifer calves, 2nd and 3rd on best pair of yearlings.

Exhibitors were not large in the agricultural department but are of high quality. First prize for best collection went to Mrs. Jim Wachtre, who won nine prizes on various items. Second best collection was shown by Edward Psota, 3rd went to Mrs. Charles Hackel, 4th to Mrs. Theod Nelson and 5th to Mrs. Paul Armstrong. Other exhibitors here include Miss Bertha Bremer, James and Albert Turek, Ed Janus, Mrs. Ed Penas, Mrs. K. W. Harkness, Mrs. Harry Brestley, Mrs. A. Sevensker, Mrs. A. Hellewege, Clare Clement, John Skala and Joe Marks, nearly all of them winning prizes on their seed or produce.

The Poultry show has most of the popular breeds represented, but when the Quiz reporter visited this building the superintendent was absent and his entry list could not be located, so names of exhibitors cannot be given.

A feature at the fair Tuesday afternoon was the Grand Island booster group, who call themselves "Gigwas". Dressed in colorful costume they came 100 strong, bringing their own band and trunks full of balloons and other souvenirs which they passed out to the children. The Gigwas are boosting the Grand Island rodeo.

L. E. Kerbs, Once Big Money Winner, Now Auto Race Starter; Says Ord Track Fast

Twenty years ago young L. E. Kerbs came to Ord with two racing cars and tried out on the new Ord track. He had good cars and he was a good driver and he made good money. He liked the Ord races and returned many seasons to race.

This year, almost twenty years ago to the day, Mr. Kerbs and his wife came back to Ord, "always a garden spot for racers". But he isn't racing the track any more, he wears the striped shirt of an official, and thinks Ord races are going to be as good and the track as fast as ever. "This is a dappy track and always has been; Ord and Belleville, Kans., where I go next, run the best races in this country," Kerbs says.

Mr. Kerbs wants to see dirt track racing for bigger cars built up. It's important, he says. "We would still have truck engines in our cars if track drivers hadn't pioneered the way. The new 30 midget car was developed on the race track. Smaller motors and faster motors were built for race driving. Tires were built better and better at the demand of racers. And oil companies should have credit too; they kept improving their fuels, but the drivers helped them."

Racing is hard on cars and hard on drivers, yet parts of one of the cars he first brought to Ord, rebuilt year after year, may be seen again at Ord. "I know that car will run at Belleville next week; I expect sure it is entered at Ord." The driver is from Texas.

He has had a lot of luck in the racing field, says the veteran driver, but he lived tight and that had a great deal to do with it. "I went to bed at nine every night, and watched my diet close. While I was driving I lived on crackers and milk, or malted milk. I soon found out I couldn't think as fast with a full stomach."

Traveling so much is the toughest part of a driver's career. Racing today and perhaps ruining his car, the driver will work all night, race here tomorrow, maybe drive to Belleville or to Pueblo, Colo., to race the next day. Nevertheless Kerbs drove in races for 17 years, and finished 25 years with his own drivers.

Most of the year Mr. Kerbs is an implement dealer. He is proud to be the oldest J. I. Case dealer in the United States, with a business at Ord, Kan., and another at Great Bend, Kan. He is also proud to mention his three grandchildren.

The Kansas man's only criticism of the Ord set-up is the seating. "There's not enough room to sit here. Otherwise he calls Ord one of the two best tracks in the country and adds: "Everybody in the racing field looks forward to coming to Ord!"

Good Rains Renew Loup Valley's Hope of Fair Corn Crop

Ord Got .96 of an Inch Over Week End, Burwell 1.65; Heat Wave Broken.

Farmers of the Loup Valley area had a new spring in their steps Monday morning as they surveyed corn fields which again showed promise of making a crop after a weekend of general rain, which brought with it a break in the heat wave.

Ord got .26 of an inch Saturday night and another .70 on an inch Sunday afternoon and evening for a total of almost an inch, all of which went into the parched soil.

The Burwell area reported 1.65 inches over the weekend. Broken Bow had 1.24, Sargent had 1 inch, Comstock about the same and points east of Ord reported 1 inch or more. Only .53 of an inch fell at North Loup, making it the low point reporting in this immediate area.

Dry land corn throughout this territory was damaged by the long drought but shows promise of making a lot of corn in the opinion of informed observers. Irrigated corn has been little damaged and should make close to a normal crop.

Corn in Valley and adjacent counties stood up through the dry spell much better than it did farther south and east where more corn is usually raised, say state reports. Clyde Moore, editor of the Fairbury News, stopped in Ord briefly Saturday enroute home from a vacation at Long Pine and said the best corn he saw on the trip from Fairbury to Long Pine was that between Ord and Taylor.

Mr. Moore said he feared that corn was past saving in his own section of the state. The entire southeastern area of the state has been very dry all summer, he said. At Lincoln the state-federal crop statistician, A. E. Anderson, was pessimistic even after the rain. The rain would "do some good to corn that is fertilized," he said, but where corn was not fertilized or where ears are blank or have only a few scattered kernels it won't do much good.

Cooler weather is almost as beneficial to the crop as the rain was, observers agree.

With some corn now seemingly assured, the biggest "if" in most farmers' vocabularies is when the first frost of fall will come. If frost is delayed both quantity and quality of the crop will be better.

Ord Stores Will be Closed Thursday for Horse Show

Ord retail stores will also close Thursday afternoon during the Horse Show at the Loup Valley Fair, the Chamber of Commerce retail committee announced today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCall and Jimmy and Harold Hubbard were in Grand Island shopping Monday.

Crowd Pleased at Tuesday Races, 24 Big Cars Competed

A crowd estimated at only 2,000 saw an exciting card of big auto races at the Valley county fair Tuesday afternoon and though the track was dusty and officials were slow in getting the events started there was no complaint from the cash customer thrills of the races more than made up for these minor shortcomings.

30 MIDGETS HERE FOR NIGHT EVENTS

At least 30 midget cars will compete in the races Wednesday and Thursday nights. A crowd estimated at only 2,000 saw an exciting card of big auto races at the Valley county fair Tuesday afternoon and though the track was dusty and officials were slow in getting the events started there was no complaint from the cash customer thrills of the races more than made up for these minor shortcomings.

One group of 15, mostly Kansas City cars, came in Tuesday evening after competing at Sioux City. Several Sioux City midgets came in singly and midget racers have been trickling in from all points of the compass.

Purses totalling $2,000 for the two night cards are luring the midgets here, he said. The races are run on the floodlighted 1.5th mile track and while they are not as dangerous to life and limb as are the big car races they offer plenty of thrills.

Feature race of the day, the final sweepstakes event, also brought the biggest thrill when Mel Harris took his fast No. 49 past Joe Gardner's B18 to win in a photo finish and catch the checkered flag. Time was 9.12.48 for the 10-lap race.

The crowd also was brought to its feet by the 2nd race accident in which Waldo Barnett suffered fatal injuries but news of his death was not announced until just before the final race, so the tragedy failed to put a damper on the crowd's enthusiasm through most of the program.

Six events were run off and winners pretty generally followed the results of the morning's line trials, fastest cars showing up in these winning most of the money in the races. Johnny Lorenz, driving car blue 51, set the fastest time trial at 26.46 and also won the 10-lap race. Time was 4:25.43. Joe Gardner, whose time trial of 27.46 was one of the best, won the second qualifying race in 4:30.29, and Murray Earl, who ran his time trial in 27.96 took the 3rd qualifying race in 4:40.51.

Twenty-four cars in all took part in the line trials and all except Bill Anderson, of Long Beach, Calif., who had engine trouble, took part in the afternoon show.

It was noted that the fastest time trial of 26.46 was almost 3 seconds faster than the 29.53 mark hung up by Johnny Gerber almost 20 years ago, when races here were in their infancy. Race Superintendent Clyde Baker says the track was faster at that time, after several years of consecutive race meets.

Starter Tuesday was Lew Kerbs, former race driver, who was assisted by Gene Barnett. Announcer was Bruce Covey.

The same group of racers will take part in the events Wednesday afternoon and it is believed faster times will prevail as the drivers become more familiar with the track. Certainly there has never been a better group of cars here, nor a group more representative of the racing game. Drivers are present from Royal Island, Ill., Chicago, Quincy, Ill., Doniphan, Neb., Detroit, Sherrard, Ill., Silvio, Ill., San Jose, Calif., Wichita Falls, Tex., Buda, Ill., Pleva, Mo., Long Beach, Calif., Cleveland, O., Davonport, Ia., and other places. Cars present are valued up to $7,000 each. Most of the drivers know each other, having competed in dozens of former meets. From here most of them go to Belleville, Kans., where big car races open Thursday.

Ten Boys Win $800 in Calves Tuesday

Ten Valley county boys were the proud owners of ten whiteface bull calves from the Wan, Novosad herd, as a result of their efforts Tuesday night in front of the Loup Valley Fair grandstand.

The calf scramble, which saw $800 worth of baby beef turned loose in the arena for a catch-as-catch-can brought the winners: Bryan Peterson, Ord; Kenneth Kirby, Burwell; Frank Kovarik, Ord; Dennis Maciewski, North Loup; Ray Timmerman, Ord.

Franklin Fuss, Ord; Joe Kvetenski, Elyria; Everett Lech, Ord; Henry Kasson, Ord and Marian Genicki, Ord.

Driver Suffered a Broken Neck When Thrown Clear of Race Car

The dust cloud surrounding the wrecked racing car driven by Waldo Barnett had just subsided when this graphic picture was taken by Photographer Ed Swopes. One group of track attendants was preparing to place Barnett into an ambulance while other men were getting ready to push the wrecked car from the track so races might proceed. Barnett was breathing when he was placed in the ambulance but died enroute to the hospital, cause being a fractured neck.

North Loup Pop Corn Days Next Big Event Here

Three Day Fair and Exhibition is 46th Annual Celebration of Town.

Pop Corn Days, the 46th annual celebration of its name, to be staged by the North Loup community, is the next big event on the Loup Valley's entertainment schedule. The three day fair and exhibition will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 9, 10 and 11.

The North Loup Booster club, sponsors of the event, say that they believe this year's celebration will top all in variety and feature of entertainment offered.

"And it's not all imported," Ben Nelson, chairman of the club, told the Quiz. "We're using home talent as much as possible. And, in addition, the agricultural, home-work and art exhibits will be larger than ever before."

Two main features of the program will be a Man On The Street broadcast by Station KFAB at noon, and a continual broadcast at 3 o'clock from the main platform of the celebration, on Thursday, Thursday evening, Texas Mary and her Radio Rangers will furnish the program.

Identity of the Pop Corn Queen, still secret, will be revealed Wednesday evening, when the Queen is crowned. The Queen will lead the parade of floats on Thursday afternoon.

As in years past, free popcorn will be provided to all. Ballots for the Pop Corn Queen are now available at the North Loup drug store. Members of the Boosters club urge that votes be cast as soon as possible.

Two booster trips have been planned by the North Loup club to advertise the event, Wednesday, September 3, when Scotia, Greeley, Wolbach, St. Paul, Elba and Colesfield will be visited, and Thursday, September 4, when advertising will be distributed in Ord, Burwell, Taylor, Sargent, Comstock, Arcadia, Loup City and Ashton. Booster caravans will leave North Loup at 1 o'clock, and those wishing to go on the trip are urged to be ready at that time. Cars are needed, the club stated.

Burwell Boy Admitted to Omaha Polio Ward

Norman Hughes, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hughes of Burwell is in fair condition at the Douglas County hospital polio ward in Omaha, the Quiz learned today. He was admitted Tuesday.

The boy is the first polio victim in this immediate vicinity. Ord physicians believe that with the return of cooler weather, that chances of other cases springing up are relatively remote.

Rain Complicates Loup Valley Race

The Loup Valley baseball league's title chase, already complicated by ties affecting the No. 1, 2 and 4 spots, was further complicated Sunday when heavy rains forced cancellation of games which would have determined final league rankings. Broken Bow and Arcadia were scheduled to play at Broken Bow to decide the winner and runner-up while Mason City and Loup City were to play at Loup City to determine holder of the No. 4 position. Ansley has already clinched the No. 3 spot.

Play-offs cannot start until these rankings are determined. Games cancelled by rain Sunday probably will be played next Sunday, which will delay starting of the league play-offs by a full week.

Fair Style Show Is Well Received

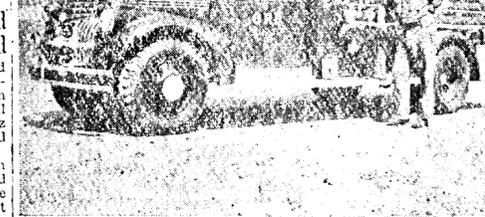

An appreciative audience viewed the more than 30 new fall ensembles presented at the Loup Valley fair style show Tuesday evening. Chases, Ord ready-to-wear store, staged the event, choosing fashion selections from Vogue and Mademoiselle.

Mrs. Jess Kovania announced the models and gave a brief description of each outfit as it appeared.

Models for the show were Arlene Wolfe, Virginia Thompson, Mrs. Vern Anderson and Betty Lou Anderson, Alma Jorgensen, Wilma Cochran, Mary Lou Beran, Phyllis Anderson, Mrs. Lloyd Parks, Clara McClatchey, and Betty Jean Haught.

Mrs. Ella Adamek is moving back to Ord for the winter. She has been living near Arcadia.

New Rural Fire Truck Ready for Service

Ord's new rural fire truck is ready to assume its duty of handling county fires. The truck is housed in the city hall fire department garage beside the truck used for town calls. Fire Chief George Anderson is seen beside the new truck. Ed Swopes took the picture.

Fatally Injured Driver a Veteran in Racing Game

Had Driven at Least Fifteen Years; Friends Say: Mother, Sister, Survive.

Waldo Barnett, the 42-year-old race driver who lost his life here Tuesday, was a veteran of the racing game.

So said Leo Krasek, owner of the car in which he was killed, and others of his friends among the race drivers attending the Ord meet.

He had been driving big cars on dirt tracks for at least 15 and probably 20 years; had several times owned his own entries or a piece of the entries he drove, and had driven for many other car owners.

Born in Oklahoma City, he lived in Texas in later years but lately has called Waureka, Okla., his home when he was not on the racing circuit. Unmarried, he leaves a mother whose home is Waureka and a sister, Mrs. Walter Ellis, Duncan, Okla., who is now visiting relatives in Great Bend, Kansas. Mother and sister expect to arrive in Ord Thursday to claim the body and make funeral arrangements.

He had been in race crack-ups on several previous occasions. His friends recall, at Hutchinson, Kas., in 1936, he lost control of his car and suffered fractures which kept him in a hospital several weeks. Several other minor accidents in which he figured are remembered by his associates. But, they point out, most race drivers land in the hospital several times if they persist in following the driving profession.

Barnett began driving for Leo Krasek, whose home is Chicago, at a meet in St. Paul, Minn., last week. He did a fine job, placed in several races, and won both money and publicity for his owner and himself, Krasek said.

"Show him the clipping out of the St. Paul paper," Krasek urged another driver whom he called "Pokey," who seemed to know the dead driver best.

"He had it in his pocket when he was killed," Pokey answered. "No he didn't, it was in his suitcase up in his room," another driver said. "Well, he always did carry it with him," answered Pokey.

All the auto race men seemed to agree on the cause of the fatal accident. Barnett was leading the field by about 50 feet in the second race. On the final lap, going into the southeast turn, he drifted back to see how much of a lead he had.

"I had warned him about that habit," interjected the car's owner, Mr. Krasek. "He promised me he wouldn't look back."

As Barnett turned to look over his shoulder, with the car traveling an estimated 80 miles per hour, the car swerved or "drifted" off the track and onto the apron at the turn, shearing off 3 of the heavy creosoted posts. It maneuvered the racer back to the track but a tire flew off, then another, and the car began tumbling over end for end, in full view of the grandstand crowd. The driver remained in the bucket seat on the car's first two revolutions but flew out on the third. The car was almost totally wrecked.

When he was picked up it was apparent that his neck was broken, and he died enroute to the hospital.

The body is now at the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary awaiting arrival of his relatives.

This was the second fatality in the many years auto races have been held in connection with the Valley county fair. In 1927 a young driver named Sam Larson was fatally injured and died in the Ord hospital a few hours later.

Repairs Start on Hotel Ord

John Claussen and Sons, contractors of Grand Island, began work on the Ord Hotel Monday morning. Earl Claussen is the foreman.

The building will be repaired as it stands the roof and walls receiving attention first. The top floor will not be removed. Each room will be redecorated and as many new bathrooms will be added as it is possible to get material to complete the room will be partially refurbished.

The lobby will be redecorated in knotty pine six feet and the rest of the walls will be in patterned white wall-board. A designed aluminum ceiling will be used. The old window casings will be removed and new knotty pine ones will replace them. The pine will be given a blond finish and new light fixtures will be installed.

The job will take from six to eight weeks and as much local labor as possible will be used.

Civil Air Patrol to Be Organized Here; 15 Flyers

Harold Cook, CAP Warrant Officer Is Promulgator; Memberships Available.

Organization of an Ord chapter of the Civil Air patrol will soon be completed in Ord, promulgators say, with seven of the necessary 15 needed for membership already signed.

Harold W. Cook, instructor at the Ord air port, warrant officer in the CAP, is heading the driving for organization here, aided by Charles Wickett, Ellis Carson, and others. Cook was formerly Cadet Commander of the Lincoln CAU squadron.

Cook stated that the organization has no dues, and no meetings are compulsory. Those having an interest in aviation may attend the ground school classes in which elementary navigation, meteorology and several other subjects are taught. Flight ability or instruction is not necessary.

The CAP is an auxiliary of the Army Air Forces, and as such, receives certain training aids from the AAF. During the late war the CAP served as an auxiliary rescue squadron, border patrol and anti-submarine squad.

Members signed to date are Harold Cook, Charles Wickett, Glenn Lee McClellan, Corkie Diamond, Mrs. Ellis Carson and Vere Carson. Those interested in membership may contact any of the above.

New Bids Sought on Star Mail Route

The postoffice department is advertising for bids for a star route from Grand Island to Burwell and return, it is revealed by Postmaster A. L. ...

The route to be covered will be from Grand Island to St. Libory to St. Paul to Elba to Cotesfield to Scotia to North Loup to Ord to Ellyria to Burwell. Return will be by the same route.

Bids are to be received from Grand Island at 5:15 a. m. and will leave Burwell on the return trip at 4 p. m. The trip is to be made daily except Sunday and a $5,200 bond will be required.

Term to be served will last from Oct. 15, 1947, until June 30, 1950. Sealed bids are to be received from the second assistant postmaster general before 5:15 p. m. Sept. 11.

The present contractor has been giving highly satisfactory service but has asked to be released from his contract, Hill says.

Pheasant Season to Be Set This Week

The 1947 hunting and trapping regulations will be established at the August meeting of the Game Commission August 29 and 30. Open seasons, shooting hours and bag limits on pheasants, quail, and game animals will be determined at that time.

CAR DERAILED

Derailment of a Union Pacific freight car near the Nell Seed Co. elevator crossing Wednesday afternoon provided mild diversion for a small knot of interested spectators. Trainmen had the box car back on the track after a half hour's work. Excessive dirt and gravel over the crossing was blamed for the car's jumping the tracks.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends for the many cards and flowers I received during my stay at the Clinic, and also Dr. Weekes and the nurses for the care I received.

Kovanda Tells of New York Farming

J. A. Kovanda, agriculture instructor in Ord high school, who spent six weeks this summer studying toward his master's degree at Cornell University, near Ithaca, N. Y., spoke interestingly about New York farming practices before the Rotary club Monday evening.

Average New York farmer, he said, combines the milking of 15 to 20 head of Holstein milk cows with the raising of 500 or more chickens and 2 or 3 cash crops such as tobacco, cabbage or potatoes. With tobacco at 40c per pound it is possible to grow a ton per acre, he said. Whole milk brings $1.50 per hundred pounds.

Hay is a major crop and some grain is raised, principally for chicken feed. Land is generally worth from $50 to $150 per acre in that section of the state, but is quite intensively farmed and farmers keep excellent records of their operations.

This is the second summer Kovanda has attended Cornell University. He spoke of seeing one of his former students, Robert Cushing, who has been an instructor at Cornell, but visited Ord last week enroute to Hawaii where he will do agronomy work. He talked on the telephone with members of the Mott Rathbun family, of Elmira, N. Y., and says that Mott has been in the hospital after a stroke of paralysis but is improving.

Arcadia Huskies Report for 1947 Football Season

Eighteen Get Suits; Will Open Schedule September 12 With Broken Bow.

Eighteen Arcadia Huskies have checked suits out and have started drills for the coming grid season under the direction of coach Roland Moore, a graduate of Kearney State Teachers college. Moore has earned three letters in each of the sports: football, basketball, and track at the Kearney college.

The Arcadia Huskies which had reported for practice the first of the week were Jack Combs, Allan Collier, Harold Mettenbrink, Louie Rappaport, Dewey Hodgson, Raymond Dalby, Bob Collier, Don Wood, Gerald Collier, James Beams, Jack Ray, Gene Parker, Harold Dorsey, Max Webb, Oscar Burt, John Mason, Vernon Anderson, and Dean Woody.

The Arcadia Huskies open the grid season on the home field Friday night, Sept. 12, with Broken Bow. The remaining schedule is Taylor, there Sept. 19; Loup City, here Sept. 26; Sargent, there Oct. 3; Constock, there Oct. 10; Ravenna, there Oct. 17; Mason City, there Nov. 7; and Burwell, here Nov. 14.

Eighty-five of Arcadia high school students will be held Friday and Saturday, Aug. 29 and 30 between the hours of 9:00 and 4:00. Classes for the high school and the grade school will meet Monday, Sept. 1. A shortened schedule will be held in the afternoon.

Special events for the opening day include demonstrations of power spraying equipment, soil testing, and a quality egg demonstration. Experts of the Purina laboratories will be present to show how to make hens lay eggs with green yolks, or any other color.

In addition, several movies will be shown, and more than a thousand bottles of soda pop will be given away.

The Weckes agency also reports sale of the Wayne G. Clements place for $7,250. This place is known as the old Holington place.

Wheeler Co. Ranch Brings $55,000.00

The H. C. Ranch, 3247 acres, was sold this week to Dr. F. W. Amick of Loup City for a consideration of $55,000. The ranch lies 20 miles northwest of Bartlett, Neb., and was sold by Henry Sasse, salesman for the E. B. Weckes agency of Ord. The ranch was owned by Dr. F. W. Klusniure of Omaha.

The Weckes agency also reports sale of the Wayne G. Clements place for $7,250. This place is known as the old Holington place.

VISITS PARENTS

Dorothy J. Albers, now of Atlanta, Ga., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Albers. She and her friend Chas. J. Berbenich of Atlanta arrived a week ago Sunday and will stay until Aug. 30. Miss Albers is with the U. S. Treasury dept. and Mr. Berbenich works for the Hartford Fire Insurance company.

Local Men Meet Mills Brothers

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hastings and Sharon and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swopes were in Omaha from Wednesday until Friday last week. While there they managed some of the things that many hope to do some day. Ed and George managed to meet the Mills Brothers, Harry Babbitt, singer with Kay Kyser's orchestra, Randy Brooks and his vocalist, Harry Prime. They also managed to have their picture taken with the Mills Brothers.

If you are interested in knowing how one goes about getting their picture taken with the Mills Brothers—it's quite simple. First you go to Omaha with Ed Swopes. Then you get thrown out from backstage at the Orpheum three times but on the fourth try you get by the manager. The rest is easy.

The two men had about an hour's visit with Harry Babbitt at the Stork Club. One of the things they found out was that the vocalist with Kay Kyser's band does not have his voice insured but believes in investing his money so that he can quit singing at any time.

Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. Swopes are the timid type and after being rebuffed the first time didn't go back for more so they didn't get their pictures taken.

Ord Farm Supply Has Grand Opening

Henry Janus' New Store to Feature Purina Line; Open Saturday.

The Ord Farm Supply, owned and operated by Henry Janus in the building formerly occupied by Aulse Motors, will stage their grand opening Saturday, August 30. Details of the announcement will be found on other pages of this issue.

Mr. Janus will feature the Purina line of feeds, and in addition will carry a regular line of farm hardware and appliances. He will also feature a spraying service for both weeds and insects and will conduct a soil testing laboratory.

Farm seeds and fertilizers will be an important part of his merchandising plan, he stated.

Special events for the opening day include demonstrations of power spraying equipment, soil testing, and a quality egg demonstration. Experts of the Purina laboratories will be present to show how to make hens lay eggs with green yolks, or any other color.

In addition, several movies will be shown, and more than a thousand bottles of soda pop will be given away.

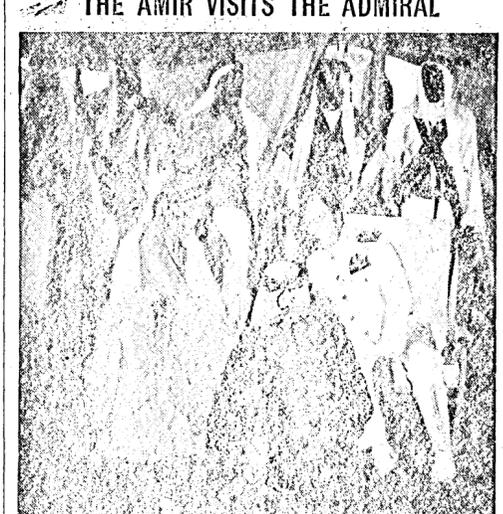

Wisda Hdw. Store at Lexington Burns

Among the store buildings destroyed last week in the one-half million dollar downtown fire at Lexington, Neb., was the store operated by Gene Wisda and his father, Will Wisda, formerly of Ord. Their stock and building were totally destroyed, says Harry Bresley, a brother-in-law of Will Wisda.

Another building destroyed was that of the Evans Dress Shop, the owner of which is the husband of a former Ord girl, Miss Margaret Leschinsky.

CHURCH NOTES

Protestant Church R. T. Cordry, pastor Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Preaching services, 11 a. m. League meets Sept. 3. It will be the annual stewardship day. We appreciate the assistance the Methodists have given us with our music the last few Sundays while our choir took a vacation.

The beautiful flowers at church last Sunday spoke a message of memorial tribute to Byron Barmore, much better than words could have expressed.

The board of trustees will meet Sunday at three o'clock at the church.

Christian Science Services "Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 31, 1947.

The Golden Text is: "God sent not his Son into the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:17). Other Bible citations include, "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth" (Jer. 23:5).

No morning worship as the pastor is away for the district convention at Fremont, Aug. 28-31. Mrs. Albert Clausen is the delegate from church and the Women's Missionary society for the convention.

Friday evening Aug. 22 a well attended ice cream social was held at the parsonage lawn. The response was appreciated.

Monday evening Aug. 25 a young people's party was held at the home of Elmer Christofferson with guests from both Danewirke and Patwell. After games, a fine lunch was served.

A police sergeant at Danville, Ill., was asked, "When you put a nickel in one of those parking meters, just how long can you park?" The sergeant replied, "One hour." The inquirer said, "Then credit me for 15 minutes, because I've only been here 15 minutes."

Bamboo, a gorilla at the Philadelphia zoo, was a year older last week and his keepers are a lot wiser. The keepers decided to throw a party to celebrate 500-pound Bamboo's 21st birthday. As things developed, Bamboo did all the throwing. The heave ho started with the sign reading "Happy Birthday Bamboo." Then came some tomatoes, a lemon meringue pie and a watermelon. His ammunition depleted, Bamboo retreated to a corner of his cage munching a piece of his birthday sign.

ALL AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE IS NOT ALIKE... choose carefully!

It pays to remember that all auto insurance is NOT alike! State Farm Mutual's is different in many ways that benefit you. Among these distinct differences are its non-assessable policies... its agents in the U. S. and Canada... management economies... six month renewal policies... and its pioneering of such features as double-the-usual public liability and property damage insurance, liberal medical pay and 80% collision coverage. 1,300,000 policyholders can't be wrong—that's why State Farm Mutual is the world's largest auto insurance company. And you'll be right, too, by participating in State Farm's thrift-famous "More for Your Money" insurance plan. Please call me today for complete details.

Dumb Dora

By Nick Kushta

WNU Features.

DICK'S my girl and I guess I can call her dumb, but she's my girl and nobody but me can call her dumb. She's a brunette and a cute little thing, all cuddly and nice and I want to marry her. I come out of the army all set to get hitched but she says no, I ain't man enough for her.

Her brother, Dick, is the model for the kind of man she wants. Well, I'm only a truck driver and not much up on the brains department but Dick ain't half as smart as I am.

"Dora," I says to her, "I been out of the army a month now and every minute of the 18 months I been overseas I've been thinking of coming back and marryin' you right off. You say no." And Dora says, "I like you Joe but I don't know if I'll be happy with you. You see, Joe, my Pops ran a gymnasium and he was really muscled. Dick is just the same way. I'm so I expect it of a man, Joe."

I finally propositioned her, "Listen, kid, if I get to show you I'm as much a man as Dick will you marry me?" She looks at me for a long time. "Sure," she says, "I like you, Joe. I like you a lot, but I wanta marry you without any doubt in my mind."

Well, the first idea I get doesn't work out too well. I ask Dora and Dick to go out to the beach. I'm a pretty good swimmer and something might happen. A kid might be drowning and I could save him. You can't tell, and it's worth a try. But when you size me up next to Dick I see it's a mistake to come out to the beach. This is my first time out and my skin is all white and I gotta admit it, I look flabby.

Nobody but me can call her dumb. She's a brunette and a cute little thing. Dick's got a physique I would have admired if he weren't my problem. The next brain wave I get is when I go to the gym with Dick. He fights a little and exercises with the barbells, lifting them over his head like nothing. I went over to the boxing ring. The gym's got a weekly card and some punks are sparring with balloon gloves, trying to get a place on the card. I watch them for a while and before I know it I'm hollering bits of advice to one of the kids.

"SAY, why don't you go into the ring," some guy suggests, and I'm in a pair of trunks sparring away. I don't know much more about fighting but what I learned from common sense. Common sense means a lot in the ring, though, and pretty soon I'm actually enjoying it up there. I collected a nice crowd.

So I'm signed for the Saturday night card. I figured it's okay because I can get Dora there, and she'll see me knock out my opponent and we can get married. As simple as that. But what I ain't figured on is that they put Dick up to fight against me.

Dora's sitting at the ringside. Before the fight she said, "May the best man win," and her lips trembled and her eyelids fluttered. I wanted to walk out, but it was too late, and she wants both of us to win!

In the first round, I bopped Dick hard. He's pretty muscled and can't move fast. I hear Dora in the first row hollering at me, "You bopped Crook! Double-crook!" And these aren't nice things to say. "His arm hard, Dick. Knock 'em out!"

I look in her direction and Dick hits me with a terrific punch. I fall down but wait until the count of nine, so I can get rested a little. All this time I'm looking at Dora and she's hollering, "Atta boy, Dick, Atta boy!" And she's waving her hands, smiles all over her face.

This is too much, even for me. I don't care for nothin' now. I get up from the floor, feeling disgusted, disgraced and mad. Some driver friends are betting pretty heavy on me. I had been thinking of letting Dick walk away with the fight when I saw Dora wanted him to win, but not now! Nuts to these fickle dames! I look at Dick's chin and let him have it. Dick crumples. I win. I walk to the dressing room, shower and dress. I'm in a terrible mood 'cause I feel I lost even though I won, but Dora ought to be more reasonable!

"Congratulations!" someone says, as I'm walking out. It's Dora. "My hunk of man." She melts in my arms and I kiss her good. Oh boy! This plan has worked.

Rites Held Here For Seth M. Mason

Lifetime Ord Resident Dies; Was Veteran of World War I.

Funeral rites were held Wednesday morning from the Ord Methodist church for Seth M. Mason, lifetime Ord resident, who died Sunday evening at his home here. Rev. R. T. Cordry officiated in the absence of Rev. Carl McConnell. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

Seth Martin Mason, Jr., son of Seth and Sara A. Mason was born on a farm a few miles northeast of Ord, on September 23, 1886. He began his schooling in a rural school of the neighborhood. In 1895, the family moved to Ord where he finished school and learned the carpenter trade which he followed for several years. Later he took up farming which he continued as long as his health permitted.

He served his country in the first world war, going to France in 1917 where he was in the medical corps for thirteen months.

On November 21, 1926, he was married to Florence Zimmerman of Red Cloud, Minn., who survives him. He is also survived by five children, Arlette May of Burley, Idaho; Loyde, Elwyn, Charlene and Seth III of Ord, three brothers, Lawrence and John of Ord and Leslie of Burwell.

Mr. Mason was a faithful member of the Ord Methodist church. He also served several years in the town of Ord fire department and was a member of the Ord band.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mason, Harry Clement, all of Ord and L. H. Zimmerman of Pattonsburg, Mo.

Postoffice to Close Lobby at 6 P. M.
Alfred Hill, Ord postmaster, announced this week that beginning Monday the lobby of the postoffice would be closed at 6 o'clock each night. The closing is part of an economy drive by the postoffice department and will eliminate about half of the present overtime pay for custodians, Hill stated.

Ord Pavement Being Repaired
The light plant construction crew has moved out of the light plant for the time being and is repairing the pavement in downtown Ord. They are covering the old asphalt pavement with an inch and more new wearing surface to bring it up to the original contour. Then it will have a seal coat to increase its wearing quality. Heretofore when the pavement has needed repairs there has just been a seal coat put on. This has been an economic measure and has not held up; this time they are doing a more complete job. The city light department is also standing all the expense involved.

To Publish List Of the Delinquent Personal Taxes
Under a new Nebraska law, delinquent personal taxes will be published the last week of November and distress warrants are to be delivered to the sheriff by October 1.

Personal taxes are due November 1 and delinquent on December 1 and July 1 of each year. Real estate taxes which are due January 1 become delinquent September 1, and May 1.

May Set Limit For Assistance
LINCOLN — The board of control is considering a ceiling of $75 a month for mother and one child on aid to dependent children, and $10 for each additional child, Chairman W. H. Diers disclosed this week.

Diers said no decision would be reached until after the next meeting of the board of control advisory commission, set for Sept. 5.

The commission has recommended that the board place a ceiling on such payments.

Any medical expense above the proposed ceiling would be shared by the state and county on the basis of 75 per cent by the state and 25 per cent by the county.

Hope Eternal

By Gwynn Jones

WNU Features. EPITAPH JONES closed the door of the crazy old cabin with a resounding bang. He gave the house a malignant look before he turned and stamped noisily off the sagging porch.

Though he looked a carefree figure, Epitaph's thoughts were acutely painful. "A weepin' woman. Always a weepin'. Livin' in luxury, a lovin' man, all the work she can do and still she weeps. No sooner she stops weepin' for one thing she begins weepin' for somethin' else. Weep and cry—cry and weep, till I gotta find me some real sunshine somewhere, quick."

As though drawn by a magnet, his feet climbed a steep street, passed a pool hall, a fruit market, a barber shop, a pawn shop. He turned through a white-washed gate into a neat yard where red tubs set on great gray stumps waited their summer cargo of flowers.

Epitaph's knock was answered by a trim young woman who greeted him with a pleased laugh. "Why, how-de-do, Mr. Jones. I was jest sayin' to myself I wish that nice Mr. Jones would drop along and here you come promenin' in. Do have this easy chair, Mr. Jones, and lemme take your hat."

Tearful spring had drifted into gracious summer and summer had faded into frost-tinted autumn when Epitaph again crossed the black and gray ash heaps where grimy children and bony goats still swarmed. He did not swaggar now. His raiment was as neat as ever and his cap still clung at a rakish angle but there was a chastened air about him. He had a look of one who has suffered a grievous disillusionment.

"Why, how-de-do, Mr. Jones. I was jest sayin' to myself I wish that nice Mr. Jones would come along."

Pausing before the crazy old cabin, he surveyed it fondly. Then he tip-toed across the sagging porch and slowly pushed open the protesting door.

A TALL thin woman in a dejected black dress appeared from an inner room. She saw Mr. Jones and began to laugh. Mr. Jones felt the universe reeling. Sissy laughing!

"Why Sissy, I thought you was such a weepin' woman. You sick, Sissy?"

"No, indeedy. Never felt better in my life. Come right in, Epitaph! Sissy trilled merrily.

"How come you to change so, Sissy?"

Sissy chuckled. "Well, when you went off with that gigglin' Cyrene I took a thought to myself. If that no-account Cyrene can laugh another girl's man away from her, I says, I better learn me some laughs too, so I did."

Epitaph shuddered as at a prickling memory.

"But, Sissy, I don't like laughin' women. Can't you weep jest a little, Sissy?"

"No, I'll weep no more. How come you stayed at Cyrene's so long if you don't like laughin' women, Epitaph?"

"This mornin' she got a—a kind of laughin' fit and throwed a hammer at me. So I took it was kind of a hint and I jest matchly snuck out and left. Hammer hit me, too."

"Ain't that a shame. Cyrene didn't ought to act so. Now when I have laughin' fits I jest hurt flat irons," and Sissy caught up one that stood on a near-by table and advanced on her guest in a perfect gale of merriment.

The west was still bright when Epitaph beached his boat on the sandy shore. A crooked path led him to a small clearing in a wood. On a jagged boarder, before a ramshackle hut built mostly of packing cases and tin strips, sprawled a man, idle, relaxed, half-hidden in a haze of rank tobacco smoke. A scrawny hound, equally relaxed, dozed beside him. As Epitaph Jones gazed on that peaceful scene a sense of relief, of security, swept over him. The man on the blanket looked up. He spoke with a rare economy of effort.

"Hi, Ep'taph. Make y'sef thome. Meet m' sis'. Vang'line." He closed his eyes, exhausted.

Epitaph shivered—half turned to flee. Then he made an about-face. Said Mr. Jones most politely, "How-de-do, Miss Vangeline. I jest dropped in to see would you like me for a steady boarder. I need me a change of climate, bad, and when you I could dwell forever in one apex of glorious delishtnessness," concluded Mr. Jones in an ecstatic burst of poetic fervor.

Nebraska's 1947 winter wheat crop will make a lot of sandwiches. Mathematically minded officials state that if all the crop were used for baking it would produce about 5,600,216,377 one-pound loaves of bread.

NUMBER ONE BODYGUARD

The ship's photographer of the cruiser USS Toledo snapped this view of the head bodyguard of His Highness Amir Saud bin Abdullah bin Jelawi, and his assistant during the visit of the Amir of Hasa Province to the Toledo at Ras at Tanura, Saudi Arabia. The occasion was the return call of the Amir and members of the Royal Family on Admiral Richard L. Conolly, USN, Commander, Naval Forces in Eastern Atlantic and the Mediterranean, during the Amir's visit to the Persian Gulf. The Toledo, which served as flagship, later departed for Japan to relieve the USS Fall River as flagship for Rear Admiral A. M. Bledsoe, USN, Commander, Cruiser Division One. (Official U. S. Survey Shows Religion Preference Of Nearly 600 Family Groups in Ord

A house-to-house survey on religious denomination preferences in the city of Ord, conducted by James Mason, Baptist pastor here, showed 32 families with no denominational preference, Mason revealed this week. Mr. Mason made 592 calls, and found 433 at home. Of the 433 at home, 126 indicated a preference for the Catholic church, 107 for the Methodist and 63 for the Presbyterian.

He listed the Christian church, 18; the Lutheran, 18; were United Brethren-Evangelicals and 14 were Baptist. A total of 37 had no preference. Fifteen families stated the following denominational, Unity, Seventh Day Baptist, Christian Science, and the Church of God.

Mr. Mason believes that preferences of those families he was not able to find home would be divided fairly proportionately. He stated that in a few instances, a family gave several church preferences but only one denomination was recorded.

School Bells Ring Tuesday Morning

School bells will ring Tuesday morning for the start of the 1947-48 school year at Ord public schools. Classes will be held in the morning only, according to Supt. C. C. Thompson.

Advance registration leads Mr. Thompson to predict another large enrollment. The senior class, he stated, will be the largest in several years. Wednesday, 79 had enrolled and he believed final enrollment figures would be in the $5-90 mark. The freshman class, due to the smallest eighth grade graduation in several years, last spring, has a lot of room for expansion.

Monday evening, teachers of Ord public schools will hold their pre-term picnic at Bussell park.

Town Team Led 6-0 When Game Called

With the Ord town team leading the American Legion Juniors by a score of 6 to 0, rain forced calling off the rest of the game at the first of the fifth inning Sunday.

Finley was in rare form for the town team and had held the Juniors hitless until that point, also striking out 7.

Proceeds of the game, about $25, were given by the town team management to the Junior Legion baseball fund to start their club with equipment next season.

Social Security Rep. to Be Here Thursday

Verna S. Rankin, manager of the Grand Island Social Security Administration field office, will be at the Courthouse building in Ord, Neb., at 9:00 a. m. on Thursday, September 1, 1947. Losses, caused by delayed filing of claims at age 65 or in the case of death, can only be prevented by the prompt filing of claims. Questions in regard to the requirements for an insured status under the Social Security Act should be presented at the time listed above.

SADDLE CLUB

The saddle club has not been very active this summer as a group but members plan to show their riding horses at the Fair. Saddle club members from all the towns in this county will be on display at the fairgrounds.

Out of Old Nebraska

by James C. Olson Supt., State Historical Society

One of those almost legendary figures in the story of old Nebraska is Lt. Colonel Don Pedro de Villazur, the doughty Spanish soldier who in the summer of 1720 led an ill-fated expedition from Santa Fe to the River Jesus San Maria, the river which we know, more prosaically, as the Platte.

The Spaniards, by virtue of Coronado's expedition into the Nebraska country almost two centuries earlier, claimed all of the upper part of the river over this claim, however, was actively disputed by the French—who, moreover, were doing something about it. Adventurous and cunning French fur traders were pushing up the far reaches of the Missouri, the Platte, and other western streams to trade with the Indians and win allegiance to the crown of France.

It was in order to reassert the Spanish claim that Lt. Colonel Villazur was sent northwest from Santa Fe in the summer of 1720. (A year earlier, the Governor in Santa Fe had started on such a trip, but as he got to thinking about the dreaded Pawnee Indians to the north, he suddenly changed his mind and scurried back to Santa Fe.)

We cannot be absolutely sure just what Colonel Villazur was to accomplish when he reached his destination, but his certainly was no mere scouting party. Among other things, so the ancient records has it, his equipment on that long and arduous journey included farming implements, construction tools, domestic animals, and goods to be traded for furs.

During the first week in August, the expedition arrived at the waters of the Platte. The exact location is not known, but it may have been in the vicinity of the present city of Columbus. They made first one attempt and then another to council with the Pawnees. The Pawnees, however, probably under impetus from the French, were hostile, and determined on war.

Colonel Villazur then exercised what appears to have been very unsound military judgment. Failing to get a council with the Pawnees, he moved his command and camped in the tall grass of the Platte Valley, near the river's edge. Here the Indians, in a pre-dawn attack, wiped out the entire company, except four or five who were able to escape, and who ultimately found their way back to Santa Fe.

And once again the Spanish fail.

THE WANT AD PAGE "WHERE BUYER AND SELLER MEET"

ed to establish themselves on the great plains of the Nebraska country.

Believe it or not, back in the early Seventies there was a movement on foot to remove the national capitol from Washington to Fort Kearney, Nebraska.

Fort Kearney, guardian of the Oregon Trail and protector of the settlers in central Nebraska during the Fifties and early Sixties, had been abandoned as a military post in 1871. Up to the discussion over what should be done with the reservation, Moses H. Sydenham, noted Nebraska pioneer and editor of the Central Star at Fort Kearney, injected the idea that it be made the national capitol.

He advanced his proposition in the editorial columns of his paper, sending copies to members of Congress, and to influential people all over the country. The reasoning behind his idea sounded good, at least to the residents of central Nebraska.

He argued that the transfer would promote settlement of the west, with immigrants coming not only from the crowded states of the east, but also from abroad. Ambassadors, business men, and the nation's foreign countries would have an opportunity they did not have with the capitol located at Washington. Then, too, in case of a foreign war, a capitol located at Fort Kearney would be immune from attack. (This was before the development of the atomic bomb, it will be remembered.)

Further, Fort Kearney was the ideal site because like the District of Columbia it was just ten miles square.

Such a transfer, it goes without saying, would mean something of a boon to the neighborhood, and it is reported that at least one man bought two sections of land from the Union Pacific on the strength of it. Congress, however, couldn't see the light, and in 1876 the Fort Kearney reservation was disposed of in much less dramatic fashion. It was opened to settlers under the Homestead Act.

The capitol moving fever fired up by Mr. Sydenham did not die immediately. There were a number of cities in the west who looked favorably on the prospect of becoming the seat of the national government. In 1874 a national capitol removal convention was held at Louisville, Ky. Governor Robert W. Furnas appointed Mr. Sydenham as Nebraska's official delegate.

The convention stirred up a lot of smoke, and even got the matter brought up in Congress, but it was quickly and permanently squelched.

State Fair week brings to mind the first territorial fair, held in Nebraska City, September 21, 22, and 23, 1859. While it can hardly be compared to the present exhibition, it is notable not only as the first fair of its kind in Nebraska, but also as the first territorial fair held in the United States.

Nebraska City was chosen as the site as the result of a competition conducted by the territorial Board of Agriculture. The Otoe County people offered to enclose a ten acre tract with an eight foot board fence, and, according to a story in the Nebraska City News, to provide "all necessary stalls for stock, a floral hall—showing agricultural, mechanical and other implements and mechanism, and a first class show ground for exhibiting horses, etc."

The list of premiums indicates that the managers did not overlook any type of article that could be grown or manufactured in the new territory. Prizes were offered for a wide variety of exhibits, and ranged in value from $20 for the best jack and the best yoke of working oxen from any one county, to 50 cents for such articles as the best pair of cotton wove stockings or the best pair of woolen fringed mittens. In addition, there were a good many awards for which no cash was itemized, just a diploma.

Aside from the exhibits, the principal attraction appears to have been a speech by J. Sterling Morton, then the twenty-seven year old secretary of the territory. The fair was not a financial success, and another one was not held until 1869. There were many difficulties in the way of successful exhibition. The times were hard (the territory had not yet recovered from the disastrous panic of 1857), and many at a distance felt they could not incur the expense of attending. Even if they could, the two regular passenger boats, the two regular means of transportation—were out of commission; one was sunk and the other fast to a sand bar.

Then, as the time for the exhibition grew near, the Board of Agriculture found it didn't have sufficient money to pay the premiums advertised; therefore, it had to pay off in territorial warrants which, even though they drew 10%, were not received with particular enthusiasm by farmers who had seen paper money become absolutely worthless two years previous. Finally, as the Brownville Advertiser put it, the territory was "in the midst of election excitement, and everybody thinking and talking politics."

Even so, it was a good beginning, and, to quote the Advertiser again, "Taking everything into consideration, we repeat, the result was all the most sanguine friends of the enterprise could expect."

Farmer Felzain in Colorado drove his milk to his home to find that another big blow had taken his house.

In Virginia, Lawrence Tweedy sued his doctor for $20,000, charging that the treatment for removing Tweedy's case of athlete's foot had also taken his big toe.

Sandhill Boy First Naval Aircrewman

OMAHA—Richard G. Hall, 18, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Hall live in Burwell, Nebraska, was the first Combat Aircrewman Candidate to be enlisted at the Navy Recruiting Station here since the end of the war.

Aircrewman candidates were previously accepted only through Naval Officer Procurement Offices. Recently, a directive authorized the Naval Recruiting Service to accept outstanding physical and mentally qualified applicants on a limited quota basis as candidates for Aviation Training.

Richard, a graduate of the Burwell high school this year, enlisted for 3 years and left immediately for the Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., where he will undergo basic training prior to transfer to an Aviation Fundamental School.

North Loup

Mr. and Mrs. Ondie Portis of Nebraska City and Mrs. Leonard Portis of North Loup were Monday and Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis.

Mrs. Alice Vietry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis was married to Kerin Arthur, in Seattle, Saturday, August 23. Attendees were the bride's sister, Mrs. Jim Kimball and Mr. Kipball. They will reside in Seattle. Mrs. Arthur spent part of the summer in North Loup with her parents.

Gayle and Dale Portis and Norma and Norman Jensen of Scotia spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis.

Mrs. Herman Desel took her mother, Mrs. Frieda Noyes to Hastings Sunday to take the train for Arapahoe to see her sister who is ill.

Be Honest With Yourself... Did you ever stop to think that you sometimes bring things upon yourself! The cost of living has zoomed in the past year and the outlook isn't too bright for the future. It's up to you to control it... No we may not be able to control the price of food in Minneapolis nor the price of clothing in New York, but we can help control it a lot right here at home. It's true that a business man, in advertising his wares, must first consider the selling price. This price can't be too far out of line for if it is, it won't sell. Therefore it is necessary for him to offer merchandise at reasonable prices. If by chance you trade with a firm who doesn't advertise its merchandise, you can quickly tell how much you have helped the cost of living soar upward by comparing the prices you pay against the prices as advertised by a like firm in the columns of the Ord Quiz. No kidding folks, compare the prices, you will be amazed at what you could save! Trade With Those Who Advertise... They Keep Prices Down!

Wheeler County Sets Perfect Record in Collection of 1945 Taxes

Members of the State Auditor's staff last Tuesday blinked their eyes, rechecked their figures, then bowed low to Wheeler County, Nebraska.

In that sparsely populated North Central Nebraska county, State Auditor Ray C. Johnson revealed here Tuesday, a new tax record has been set.

Every penny of personal and automobile taxes due for the year 1945 has been collected.

Mr. Johnson said that this is believed to be the first time this has ever happened in a Nebraska county.

The Auditor's office discovered the record when it completed its check of Wheeler County books.

"We could hardly believe it," said State Accountant George Kolzow. A recheck was made just to make sure, he added.

Real estate tax collections also were good, although not 100 per cent, Mr. Kolzow said.

Mr. Kolzow gave credit for the record to County Treasurer S. L. Westcott and Sheriff Arthur C. McClain.

"This is indeed a splendid record and we compliment these two officers for their most sincere and splendid co-operation."

In the 1946 census, Wheeler county was credited with a population of 2,170. The total amount of taxes certified for collection in 1945 was $97,030.83. Most of it was paid on a current basis. Distress warrants were used to collect $1,393.84.

For 1944, the record was almost as good. Only two accounts totaling $29.70 remain uncollected.

Things were not always in such fine shape in Wheeler county. A few years ago a Wheeler County Sheriff went to the penitentiary on tax collection fraud charges.

At Bartlett, the county seat, Treasurer Westcott Tuesday gave the credit to the taxpayers. When asked how he and Sheriff McClain did it, he said:

"We've got a pretty good bunch of folks up here to collect from. They don't mind paying taxes."

The books are not yet closed on the 1945 taxes. But Mr. Westcott thinks there is a good chance of repeating the 1945 record.

Derries "Gyp Johns"

To the Editor of the Quiz: I wanted this to reach there Monday or Tuesday but have been very busy.

Some time ago a reporter in Omaha told me about the chislers and crooks who are with practically every carnival and about the managers also. The carnival rides, hamburger stands, novelty stands, and side shows are a blind to cover up the gamblers and crooks whom they tolerate.

At the Burwell rodeo I saw a 16 year old boy and his girl friend lose $20.00 in a few minutes time. He actually won $20.00 and the two hard boiled men behind the counter convinced him that that particular color belonged to the house. Then the boy kept playing and lost 20 more dollars; the man behind the counter then asked him if he was broke and the boy said he was. The older man behind the counter said here's $5.00 for you. The boy started to take it and the gambler's partner grabbed it and said keep it! You won it; so the old man gave the boy a cheap blanket.

The boy and girl left the stand and I followed them. I asked him his name and age and when he was from; he lives south of Ord. I asked him if he would like to get his money back and of course he said yes. Told him to look for a state sheriff and I'd look for one and meet near the stand in 15 minutes. We finally located two, a sheriff and a deputy. The taller of the two sheriffs took the boy to the stand and they returned the money with no argument. Another young fellow, who had worked for me, 16 years old, was there and asked me to get his money back, $15.00. So the sheriff took him to the stand and again they paid without any argument.

Last Thursday I was over at Shelton on business and stopped to see the carnival in the evening as they were having a festival there. They had the same kind of marble and number games and were gyping people plenty. They tried to take me but I wouldn't play. I watched two stands for perhaps 10 or 15 minutes, and then both men in one concession tried their best to get me into the game. They wanted to know where I was from and why I watched the stands, I told them I lived all over the central part of the state and that I watched "johns" so they didn't beat me out of my money. They immediately called the manager, a 200 lb fellow who imagined he was hard boiled; he told me he was running things around here and he didn't want people sticking their nose into his business. He asked me if I was a sheriff or deputy or constable and I said, "no". Then he wanted to know why I was sticking around. I told him that teen agers shouldn't be gyped. He didn't get hard with me.

After that they put signs up in the gambling concessions, NO MINORS ALLOWED. It would be a good thing for teen-agers if you would warn them through the paper.

Yours truly, LLOYD MCGREW. P. S. If it would interest you I will furnish names of the two teen-agers and also a married couple who lost $28.00 at the Shelton carnival in about 5 minutes time. They wanted to see what the marble and number game was like and they found out but forgot to keep still about it. The boy who worked for me and who lost $15.00 watched the stand and saw a youth lose $30.00 but couldn't find him in the crowd or we would have gotten the sheriff again and got the money.

Grains

Grain markets are very changeable and when you make you an offer the day that you want to sell. We have had very strong grain markets the past couple of weeks and now with the nice rain last Sunday the markets are inclined to be a little weaker as this is written. All markets may strengthen up but if the corn crop begins to look more promising we feel that feeding grains may show some decline. The markets at present are good markets and if you want to sell your grain we would like to buy it. Our grading is very liberal.

Sweet Clover and Alfalfa

We are in the market for any kind of sweet clover seed that you have to offer. A very large carry-over of seed makes the market a little weak but the prices are still very good; and a very good time to sell your seed is right from the threshing machine. We carry in increasing amounts that you have to offer and will pay you a good price for it.

We are having higher prices quoted on all commercial feeds and those of heavy protein content are getting higher. We believe if you are going to feed protein feeds this fall that now is the time to contract your feed. We will have shipments of 40% Cattle Linseed in November at a very good price and we will be a forerunner for the first part of October at very little over present prices. Protein Feeds and Molasses Prices have been under grain prices for several months and the many factors are increasing their prices at present. You can contract this feed for later delivery if you prefer to buy that way.

Ammonium Nitrate

We will have a carload of Ammonium Nitrate in early this winter and if you want Nitrate you should order a couple of tons out of this early car. All kinds of fertilizers are hard to buy and we know we will not have enough of this to fill all orders.

Brome and Crested Wheat

Our new crop seed is beginning to come in and at much lower prices than last year. If you are planning on sowing permanent grass this fall, now is the time to plan for it and get your seed. We have Lincoln Brome in stock now and other grasses will be on hand later.

QUALITY IS A BYWORD HERE ALWAYS!

We have always been proud of the reputation this market has for fine quality meat.

We have that reputation because we have been careful to buy only the best young steers and porkers for our market. We butcher them ourselves, when they are fattened to perfection.

Always the thought of quality is uppermost—we just won't sell meat that doesn't come up to high standards.

To Owners Of Armed Forces Terminal Leave Bonds

We are authorized by the United States Treasury Department to cash Armed Forces Leave Bonds for registered owners* (any time after September 1, 1947).

There is no requirement that these bonds be cashed at this time in order to get your money. They can be cashed any time in the future, upon demand and without delay.

Unless you are in real need of the money now, these institutions and the United States Treasury Department strongly recommend that you permit your bond to earn interest at 2 1/2 per cent (up to its maturity) until you actually need the cash.

*Under no circumstances may registered owners cash their bonds before September 2, 1947.

An Englishman touring Canada was staying at a wayside hotel. One night it was very cold, and the Englishman, feeling it pretty bad, came downstairs early next morning to get warm.

Which reminds us that winter is not far away. Time to put the coal in, cut the wood, fill the basement full of canned fruit and vegetable. And time to start thinking about your car for the winter.

High School Registration
High school students are to begin registering at 8:30 Monday morning at North Loup. Later in the day, probably at 10:00, the school band will go to Wolbach where they will play for the harvest festival being held there. A new course, Latin, is being offered for high school students. The general math course which has been given will be dropped and both algebra and geometry will be given. Freshmen will not be required to take Latin but algebra will be required.

The North Loup Lion's club met at the Fortis Cafe last Thursday, with twenty-four members present and two guests. Edward Armstrong spoke to the club about the Loup Valley fair and auto races. Plans were made for a float to be placed in the parade for Pop Corn days. A summary of events scheduled for Pop Corn days, was outlined by Lion Ben Nelson. A committee was appointed to canvass the merchants in North Loup regarding Neon signs. The next meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 4. In the absence of Rev. A. C. Ehret, Rev. S. Mitchell preached at the Seventh Day Baptist church on their Sabbath, Aug. 23.

The funeral of John Dutcher, long time resident of Greeley county was held at the Greeley Methodist church, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Samuel Mitchell of North Loup, was in charge. John Dutcher was eighty-six years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schudel and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie arrived home Sunday from a weeks trip to Wyoming.

Anyone that might want to live in the Pleasant Hill neighborhood, can get a good deal there now, the farm the school house is on and a 160 joining it, at right prices. Look into this soon if interested, it will not last long. Two houses sold last week and more will go in a few days.

BRIEF BITS

Elmer Dupke of Detroit, thought he had taken care of everything when he appeared with Margaret Traub to apply for a marriage license. The couple presented medical papers, birth certificates and identification. The clerk issued the license and asked for the one dollar fee. In vain Elmer searched through his wallet until the bride-to-be handed over the bill.

"You're kidding, aren't you?" asked the Oakland, Nebr., airport manager. "No, we're not," replied Mr. and Mrs. George Cady. So the airport manager hopped in his plane, flew to the Cady home near Decatur and turned off the fire under a pot of rice. The Cadsy's continued their trip without worry.

Charles Jackson was forced out of jail at Patterson, N. J., because his wife told the judge life was too easy for him there. She complained he was having a good time in jail doing nothing. She said, "It would be nothing of a punishment for him to have to come out and actually work to support me and the children." The judge agreed.

A newly formed Benson Lions club was holding its meeting. The waitress recognized one member as she placed his soup in front of him. "Why, I always thought you were a wolf," she said.

FARMS FOR SALE Would you like to invest in the safest and surest investment there is? The answer is a Farm. Land is the one thing that has not raised in price in accordance with most everything else. Years ago our fathers purchased land at a very small price but took most of them a lifetime to pay for it. Today with high crop prices and modern methods of farming we buy and pay for a farm in a very few years. It will pay you to investigate the following: 320 ACRE - Improved and productive farm. 24 acres in alfalfa, about 40 acres pasture, balance cultivated land, quite an acreage showing good stand of sweet clover. Located about 10 miles north of Loup City. Price $8000.00. Several other good farms for sale. CLARENCE F. FISHER, Agent RAVENNA NEBRASKA

Dear Quiz:

It is 78 this afternoon as I sit down to write, but we are promised a cold wave late this afternoon. We have only had one cold morning since we came and it has been around 80 much of the time and is cloudy and muggy and, not like the Cullen lake weather we have been used to having. But fish are biting good.

I have 39 nice bluegills and crappies dressed and on the ice and am looking forward to a nice fish supper tonight with a big dish of the finest strawberries and cookies for dessert. We had mulligan stew for dinner at noon and sausage and pancakes for breakfast so I hope we will get home without starving to death.

There was big excitement in camp last night when a wildcat came in from the woods and started making night noises about midnight. Everyone got out with such weapons as they could muster and with torches and flashlights, finally drove the beast away, only to find out later that it was a common house cat that some former campers had been harboring.

One of the Truman Gross young ladies had a narrow escape from possible injury Tuesday evening while in swimming. I was sitting on my front porch when she gave an unearthly scream and said a big turtle had grabbed her toe. The family left for home the following morning so I didn't learn whether she lost her toe or not.

It has been pretty warm here too the last few days with several promises of a cold wave. We got the cold wave this, Thursday a. m. but instead of being cold it was only cool, 68 this morning. It has been hovering around the 85 and 90 mark.

There are plenty of bluegills and chokescherries and blackberries ready to pick and Oscar Nay and the other thrifty housewives are busy making jelly and canning for winter.

Home grown tomatoes, than which there is no better garden sass, are just coming onto the market but the price is so high, 20 to 25c per lb. that it takes some of the pleasure of eating them away. Nearly all garden truck is in abundance and prices reasonable. We get the finest strawberries at 50c a quart.

Walleyes are biting good again. The successful guide goes onto the lake at 4 a. m., motors out a mile or two to a bar, gets the limit of 6 plite for each fisherman in the boat and is back home about 7 o'clock. A few weeks ago they fished half a day and then didn't get the limit.

I have only been fishing once and the Missus and I got our limits of 15 bluegills each but it is hard work because of my lameness and I doubt if I go again. We aim to be home next week about the time you are reading this. H. D. L.

Gilbert Babcock is director in school district No. 42, and in that capacity it is his job to take the school census, which he did some time ago. In checking over the results he found a most surprising coincidence in birthdays. His own son, Alton, was seven years old Aug. 14. Adolph Helwegge is school treasurer, and his son, Roger, was eleven years old Aug. 14. Ben Sintel is the moderator, and his son, Gale, was thirteen years old Aug. 14. George Jensen also lives in the district, not on the board, but eligible to be, and his son, Gerald, was seventeen years old Aug. 14. Four pupils out of an enrollment of 11 the past year, all with the same birth date, is certainly unusual. Add to this the fact that another Babcock son, Ronald, was nine March 6, and a second son, Sam, was fifteen March 6, and that should hold some kind of a record.

Speaking of records, reminds me that ever since Congress convened, I have been saving a copy of the Congressional record every week, as fast as the record was made by the late and lamented 80th congress. Now, I do not want to be a killjoy, and I do not desire to appear ungrateful, but I would like to have somebody explain to me, just what I am supposed to do with all this interesting literature. I have before me the one for the week ending July 26, which is but a fair example of all of them. This one contains nearly three hundred pages of news, and runs the grand total for the session up to nearly eleven thousand pages. It is conservative to state that at least ten persons in Valley county received these same volumes. This average over the state nine hundred persons in Nebraska received their copies, possibly five hundred thousand over the entire nation. The chances are that one person in one hundred might have glanced through the record, maybe one in a thousand read it carefully.

Ninety-nine percent of it went directly into the waste basket, and was a total loss. The point is, we select our senators and congressmen, and send them to Washington to do the job for us. They are in the public eye. Everything they do is subject to careful scrutiny by representatives of the press. If you don't believe it, take a look at any daily paper during the time congress is in session. The press is the means of sifting the chaff from the wheat and presenting to the public in readable form. They get the facts, and, in case of any distortion, the opposing papers take it up at once, and the public gets both sides of the question. In view of these facts just what is the use of spending thousands of dollars and tens of precious newsprint to send these copies of the congressional record to all and sundry? Personally, I see no sensible reason for it.

The fact that I am a republican and congress is republican has nothing to do with it. Democrats are sending copies to their constituents as well. To me it is simply a shameful waste of public funds, and should be stopped, just as a lot of other leaks in the public treasury should be plugged up.

Some time ago the Quiz had a news story of the first returns from the wheat harvest, and told of Vic Cook getting his crop of wheat, raised on land belonging to Ed Lee, on the market, and of his having 52 bushels per acre. The story was not complete, it seems. A part of the field was in low ground where the combine would not run, and had to be cut later with a binder and threshed in the regular manner. This was a small patch, measuring one third of an acre and was the best wheat in the field. When it was threshed it was found to run about 75 bushels per acre, which is good wheat in anybody's field. Then there is Bill Schudel, who had fourteen acres of oats, which he combined and put in the bin without weighing. The grain measured out eighty bushels per acre but would have weighed out more than that as it was extra fine quality.

Remember the days not so long ago when forty bushels of oats was a big crop?

I have been in for quite a lot of kidding since the fact appeared about using the Friddaire as a mouse trap. The story was true enough, and also unusual, so it went just about all over the United States. The other day I got a letter from an old pal from Pearl Harbor, who has lost track of me, but who saw the story in the paper, and decided I must be the fellow he knew. So that put me in communication once more with one Dwight Harmon of Georgetown, Ohio. That also reminds me of Bill Cline, who claimed, and not without reason, that he was from one of the longest towns in the country. His home address was Washington Court House, Ohio. For shortness Ord is equaled in Nebraska, but there are none shorter. There are Ong and Oak and four others, but I don't know them. I'd and Ray and Vito Lake Quinnebaugh in eastern Nebraska goes the honor of the longest name, while South Sioux City and McCool Junction run it a close second.

Some time ago, June, in fact, I received a letter from an old friend, Wesley Eberhart, in which he promised that he would soon take time off and spend several weeks in the Loup valley visiting old friends and relatives. As I have not seen him to date, I am in hand to tell you that he was in the Valley fair and races this week. In his letter he stated that he wished he was back in Ord. He said: "I thought the grass was greener on the other side of the fence, but it isn't." He tells me that he enjoys my old time stories and credits me with having a young man could be certain I was getting my facts right is a mystery to me. Yes, getting my data straight for the first decade after the first settlement of the area, some stunt if I depended on memory alone. The first settler came in 1872, and I arrived in swaddling clothes just ten years later. Prior to 1890 I do not have a very clear recollection of anything that happened. But the record in the court house, and beginning in September, I hope to keep those records coming to you through this column every other week, at least.

Out of Old Nebraska
by James C. Olson

Supt., State Historical Society

The first problem facing the Legislature when Nebraska was admitted to the Union in 1867 was that of locating the state capitol. Against much opposition, particularly from the South Platte region, the territorial capitol had been located at Omaha. Omaha's opponents (and they were many) contended that the site of the capitol should not be there also.

So, in order to find a new location a committee of three men was appointed to look over the state and select the most desirable spot. After a long search this committee decided upon the village of Lancaster about 60 miles southwest of Omaha.

Lancaster in 1867 looked like anything but a capitol city. It consisted of a tiny cluster of unkempt little buildings huddled along the banks of a small stream known as the Creek. The total population was approximately 30, and prior to the location of the capitol it appeared doubtful that Lancaster would ever be anything more than a wide place in the road (had there been a road).

Lancaster had been established a number of years earlier by men who had dreams of building great empires on the basis of salt deposits found in the basin. The Lancaster salt works, however, never produced anything except law suits.

The new capitol city was platted early in September and lots were offered for sale at prices ranging from $15 to $150. The name of the village was changed to Lincoln in honor of the martyred President.

As soon as possible work was started on the capitol building itself and by December, 1868, the capitol was ready for occupancy. The state's records, furniture and stationery were transferred from Omaha in six wagons. One of the wagons was fairly empty so the United States Marshal at Omaha tossed on a barrel of cider to be delivered to one of his friends in Lincoln.

Business men had not been particularly enthusiastic about investing in the new capitol city until the capitol itself actually was completed. They were afraid the Legislature might change its mind. With the capitol well under way, however, men and money began to flow into the little town. The Legislature met for the first time in Lincoln in 1869. One of its acts was to further enhance the importance of the little town by locating the State University there.

By 1870 a railroad had reached the town and the population had increased to 2,500. The one time village of Lancaster was well on its way to becoming a city, although as late as 1872, deer, coyotes and other wild animals were killed within the capitol city's limits.

TO STATE FAIR

LaRue Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson of Burwell won first prize on her outfit of summer sports clothes at the Burwell fair. She also won first prize at the fashion show wearing the same outfit. The ensemble consisted of a coral battle jacket and grey peddle pushers. Now LaRue plans to add a beanie to the ensemble and enter it at the state fair at Lincoln.

80 BUSHEL OATS

W. H. Schudel had a twelve acre field of dry land oats that beat the 72 bushel record by about eight bushel to the acre. He measured over 1000 bushel of oats off the 12 acre field.
