Loup Valley Fair Dips in Red: But All Enjoy Show

Expenses This Year Slightly Higher Than Income; Costs Up.

Although complete and final figures are still lacking, in all probability the Loup Valley Fair for 1947 will show a bit of red ink on the financial ledgers.

On the entertainment ledger—all those who attended pronounced this year's event as one of the best in years with plenty of activity for every one.

In round numbers the fair board spent about $10,000 to stage this year's event. Income will be about $9,500, leaving a deficit for the year.

A great share of this year's funds went for permanent improvements, which included a refurbishing of the half mile track, a new fence around the race track, considerable painting and other improvements.

Individual expense items also up—labor, paint, lumber, etc. The cost of applying calcium chloride to the track was nearly four times that of last year.

Other premium winners who were not listed in last week's Quiz include the following: Mrs. Jack Vitto of Arcadia garnered most of the honors in the poultry division although she was given a close race by her neighbor, Florence Madsen of Arcadia.

Other winners on poultry were Mrs. Ed Iwanski, Ed Penas, Oscar Breyer and Russell Clement, all of Ord.

Winners in Girl's 4-H classes included Lola White, Doris Woltz, Phyllis Carmody, Edgina Kaminski, Janet Wible, La Vonne Carmody, Lois Woody, Lila White, all of Ord.

Carol Jean Bernice Walker, Patty Brown, Verlee Mulligan, Mary Beth Chatfield, Beverly Falter, Lillian Sech, Betty Iwanski, all of Ord. Lucy Switzer, Geraldine Lange, Judy Ingerson, Ramona Mitchell, Jacqueline Burrows, all of North Loup.

Adeline Dumas, Mrs. Knud and Clara Kusek of Burwell; Edna Miska, Beth Woods, Lorraine Sisk and Wilma Lange of Ord.

Club honors went to the Clever Homemakers of Elyria for their menu chart and the Pop Corn Club of North Loup for a menu chart.

Valley county's many good cooks made real competition for themselves when they crowded their exhibit hall with a large display of baked goods, canned goods, jams and jellies.

Mrs. Clarence Switzer of North Loup won top prize money of $215.00 for a large and varied list of awards. Mrs. Curtis Wilson took $185.00 in prizes for second place, Mrs. Bob Edgill was third with $175.25 and Mrs. Jay Nelson, fourth with $167.50. The last four ladies are all from Ord.

Other prize winners included Mrs. H. C. Koll, Eda Dobberstein, Mrs. Ernest Lange, Emma Dobberstein, Bertha Bremer, Mrs. Harry Breyer, Mrs. Will Fuss, Mrs. Adolph Heilwege, North Loup; Mrs. Charles Hackett, Mrs. Lad Kvetensky, Elyria; Martha Kvetensky, Elyria; Mrs. Thead Nelson, Irene Peterson, Mrs. Ivan Bolls, Mae McCune, Mrs. Arthur Ferris, Mrs. K. Mr. O'Halleran has been an executive with the Harding Creamery Co. of Omaha for several years. He will come here to take active charge of his new business and expects to bring his family as soon as housing can be arranged.

Plans for construction of a new, modern bottling plant on the corner lot south of the Ord Auto Parts Co. was also announced by the brothers. The firm will devote their time to the bottling and sale of beverages and plan to occupy their new building this fall. Construction of the new building is expected to start at once.

Lexington Fray Only 8 Days Off, Coaches Worried

Mid Summer Heat Making Hard Scrimmage Difficult for Green Chants.

BY JOHNNY HANNAH. Mid summer heat, boils and inability of some of the boys to respond for pre-school practice sessions, have given the Chanticleer coaches a rough time as they prepare their charges for the opener at Lexington Sept. 12.

Coaches Cochran and Peterson have been giving the boys double barreled workouts since August 22. As the coaching staff promised, the squad plunged into rough work almost at once. Scrimmage was ditched out in generous quantities from the third workout on. Thirty-five suits were checked out for the early drills, but average attendance ran around 25.

Although nothing definite has been done regarding the various positions on the varsity, returning lettermen have been getting the nod whenever teams were picked for scrimmage. The A team has had Blessing and Stewart at ends, Jensen and E. Piskorski at tackles, Kucera and Haught at guards while Anderson took care of the center duties. In the backfield J. Stoddard, P. Stoddard, Elia and Cochran have been working together as a unit. Dick Tolon and Bob Moore have also seen considerable service in the A backfield.

Biggest disappointment to the coaches so far has been the failure of Lyle Manchester, star back of 1945, to secure his release from the navy in time to take part in this year's football season. Most fans will recall Manchester's spirited play which sparked the Chants to a 30 to 0 victory over Burwell two years ago. His return to the squad would have been a shot in the arm for the local eleven.

The big battle at the moment seems to revolve around the B team positions with Richardson and Nelson getting the early call at the ends. Waterman, Huff, Lausen, O'Neill, Clement, Heck, Miska and Dvorak have been staging a merry tussle for the guard and tackle spots while the backfield chores have fallen upon C. Hannah, Tolon, Moore, J. Piskorski, Wozniak and Malolepsy. With school under way additional checkouts are expected to swell the squad total.

Coaches are now waiting for the lights to be put upon the new field. This will eliminate some of the practices held during the hottest part of the day and allow the team much needed evening workouts.

3 MINUTE FICTION

Back to Life

By Maude Norman

MARY STARR finished putting the dishes away, took off her apron and went out to the front porch. She glanced anxiously toward where the bright tip of her husband's cigarette showed in the darkness.

"It gets dark earlier now, doesn't it," she remarked. "She tried again. 'Anything interesting happen today?'"

James threw his cigarette over the railing. "Oh, sure, I had a very pleasant day," he mocked. "As usual I took the 7:35 to town. I sold a pair of suits. I took the 6:30 one as I have for the last six years."

"Perhaps if you started writing again you might sell something," he ventured.

"Write," he snorted. "I'm so tired tonight I don't have an idea in my head. I do the same thing day in and day out, world without end, men, and you think I can write. Write about what!"

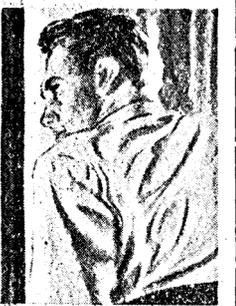

The next morning Mary raced through her work, washed and dressed the baby, settled three-year-old Shirley in the sand-box to play, and got out her typewriter.

Two days later James received a letter, a delicately scented missive that Mary handed to him without a word.

"Dear Mr. Starr," the letter began. "About seven years ago I was confronted with a serious problem that a story of yours, 'Stella's Overture,' helped me to solve successfully. I should have written and thanked you then, only that I knew you men in your position are deluged with letters."

Sincerely, Justine Owen.

James did not show the letter to Mary and she asked no questions. A few more letters came to the house.

"He went into the house, slamming the door."

Although she knew he had answered, he began writing every evening, re-tying and sometimes re-writing the stories he had written and laid aside. Shortly after sending out his first story a check came for $25, not much, but enough to encourage him.

Mary rejoiced at the change in him, especially after he sold two more stories, until one day, going through the pockets of a suit she was sending to the cleaners, she found a note.

"DARLING! There I have said it and say it again, Darling! I love you. Does that seem strange? But why should it? Your letters, carefully worded though they are, tell me you love me too. Name a place where I can meet you. Your post office address makes you seem so far away."

"You mentioned responsibilities. In all this world there are only two things that matter. You, and the fact that I love you and will love you forever. You are my inspiration. Hopefully, James."

James found Mary unusually silent that evening. Although he tried to interest her in the day's happenings, she busied herself feeding the children and barely answered him.

"I sold another story," he said. "Looks like I can write after all."

"That's nice," she answered briefly, trying to pass him.

"Aren't you glad?" "Of course I am." "Then what's the matter?" "Mary handed him the note she had found in his pocket. 'I wasn't snooping,'" she said. "I found this when I emptied the pockets of your grey suit when I sent it to the cleaners."

James took the note. "I was hoping you would find it pretty soon," he grinned.

"WHAT?" "I hope you don't think I'm as deuse as I appeared to be. Oh, at first I fell for it. Long enough to sell a story and get a little self-confidence. Then I became curious to see the lady who wrote such lovely letters. A trip or two to the post office soon showed me she was someone I knew very well indeed."

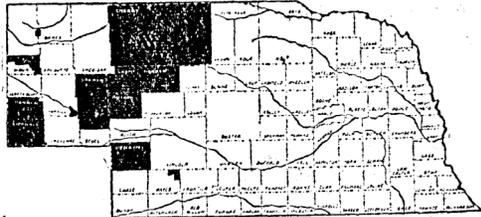

"And you don't think I'm silly, do you? I only wanted to give you a little romantic interest. I thought it would help you."

"It certainly did help me, Silly. After you dragged me out of a black pit of self-pity and despair! I meant every word I wrote," he kissed her gently. "You really are my inspiration."

Lizard's Foil

One kind of lizard can shed its tail, when in danger, and slither away leaving the tail to wriggle for a short time. The wriggling tail often distracts pursuers until the lizard has reached safety.

Soil Conservation Districts Now Include All East Nebraska

The Nebraska map is fast being filled in with soil conservation districts.

Back on the map represents districts which have not been organized. Most of the unorganized districts are east of a line running north and south along the Lincoln county east border.

In the as yet unorganized districts, educational activities are being carried on, looking toward organization.

The filling in of the eastern half of the state was completed last spring with the organization of the Cumming county district.

Since the organization of the Cumming county district, two additional districts have been organized in the western end of the state to bring the total number of soil districts in Nebraska to 82. These districts are: Garden county, 81st district; and McPherson-Logan, 82nd district.

Several districts have been expanded in the last year.

FINED $5.00 AND COSTS

Donald "Shorty" Long, arrested for drunkenness Sunday, was fined $5.00 and costs in county court Monday by Judge John L. Andersen.

Platinum Used for Coinage Platinum was used for coinage by the Russians over 125 years ago in order to reduce the probability of counterfeiting as the metal was difficult to melt and had a greater weight by volume than any other element. The coins were called in toward the middle of the 19th century due to platinum's rise in price and the fact that it was too scarce for coinage.

Landowners in the Phelps-Gosper county area voted 100 percent favorable for the inclusion of the balance of Phelps county in that two-county district. The vote was 95 percent favorable for the inclusion of the balance of Dawes county and much of Sioux county in the White River district. The White River district, with these additions, covers more than 1,000,000 acres.

As of today eighty-six percent of the total land area of the state of Nebraska is in soil conservation districts. These districts include 97 percent of the state's farms and ranches.

Districts yet to be organized, include Banner, Kimball, Cherry, Grand, Hooker, Arthur and Perkins county.

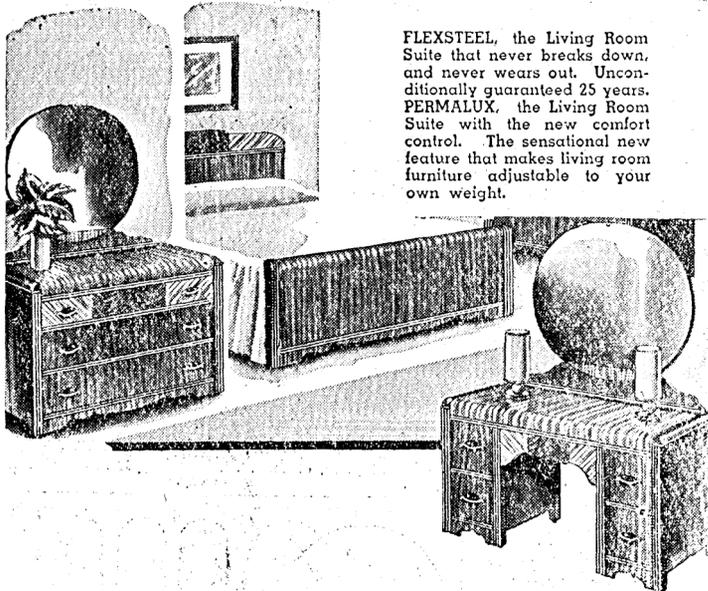

Through a cartographic error, Garden county is shown on this map as an unorganized district. This district was organized by a 98 percent favorable vote of landowners at a referendum late in June.

North Loup Schools Open Monday Morning

Fifty-six students enrolled in high school Monday morning. Nineteen boys are out for football. A course in Latin is being offered this year for the first time in a number of years and promises to be quite popular. An advanced course in Mathematics, which has been given will be dropped and only first year Algebra and Advanced Algebra will be on the schedule.

A commercial course is offered, to Juniors and Seniors and is very popular under the direction of Miss Edith Stephen. The music department which made good progress last year under Mr. Babcock will advance further this year. Monday the band went to Wolbach to play at the rodeo, and they will play for Pop Corn Days.

Miss Minnie Jensen teaches the Mathematics and Latin.

Mrs. Hill in the primary room has nineteen and fifteen of these are beginners. Miss Ingerson has twenty-eight, and Miss Clara Jensen has twenty.

About September 15, the hot lunch program will be resumed with Mrs. Bessie Roby and Mrs. Pearl Mulligan again in charge.

Under the able leadership of Superintendent A. I. Friesen, with the efficient staff of teachers, North Loup school should have a successful and profitable year.

Apartments for Rent, With Houseboys, for $27.00 Monthly at Naval Base in Japan

Washington — "Apartments for Rent; five to seven rooms, furnished, electric ranges, telephones, refrigerators — and house boys. All for $27 a month. Apply, United States Navy, Yokosuka, Japan."

This ad hasn't appeared in any newspaper, and probably won't, but it describes in brief the housing situation for 147 Navy families at the headquarters of the Commander, Fleet Activities, Yokosuka, Japan.

The Navy community, known as the Griffin Park Housing Area, boasts a modern beauty salon where heavy armament once bristled — it was developed on the site of what was once one of the largest and proudest naval bases of the former Japanese fleet.

The five-room apartments and six-to-seven room duplex and quadruplex homes are for both enlisted and officer families. The size and type of dwelling allotted is determined by the requirements of the individual family, and not by the rank or rating held by the husband.

The rent is approximately 90 cents a day.

Other features of the community are a well-stocked commissary; a modern department store, with a food sales store, a general sales department carrying items from the United States and Japanese souvenirs, a modern beauty salon, a butcher shop, and a bakery which supplies the commissary; a snack bar, and the Enlisted Men's Club. Even a garage and gas station are available to service the dependents' private cars.

An elementary school has 35 children enrolled under the instruction of a Navy wife and three nuns from the nearby Sacred Heart Convent. It accommodates eight grades in six classes. The tuition for kindergarten is $1 a month; for one child in the elementary grades, $7 a month and for two or more children, $1 a month. The Navy provides two school buses and lunch for the pupils. The American School in nearby Yokohama accommodates students of the higher grades.

Lieutenant Commander R. W. Ricker, Chaplain Corps, U.S.N., of 15 Bennett Road, Hudson, Mass. has supervision over the area's schooling program.

In addition, the recreation program for dependents includes instruction in the Japanese language once a week at no cost. Amusement for recreation there are three movie theatres, a gymnasium, swimming pool, and a women's club.

The first Navy dependents to arrive in Japan disembarked at Yokosuka on June 21, 1946, from the Navy transport, USS Charles Carroll. Temporary quarters for the families were provided in former Japanese homes in Kamakura under the authorization of the Japanese government until the Navy public works department, using Japanese contractors and materials, converted the former Japanese cement naval barracks

Decision of Burial Arrangements of War Dead Is for Next of Kin

Decisions as to the nature and extent of funeral services for World War II dead to be interred in private cemeteries are matters of final disposition resting solely and entirely with next of kin.

Colonel Quinn emphasized that the following among other decisions pertaining to funeral services and burials:

Selection of funeral director; the War Department is interested only in learning from next of kin through the letter of inquiry the name of their funeral director so that the remains may be directed to him when they leave the distribution center for the final destination.

Designation of a veterans' group to provide military honors, if desired; the next of kin may select any group he or she desires. Only when the next of kin notifies the distribution center of failure to make such arrangements does the War Department lend its assistance in providing military honors at the services.

Arrangements for funeral services; the nature of services and the place held, whether in a church, chapel, home or at the graveside, are matters for next of kin to decide. The day and hour of services are to be determined by next of kin and their funeral director on receipt of their program from the distribution center notifying of the time of arrival of the remains.

Amount to be expended for funeral services; the government stipulates that next of kin will be reimbursed up to $50 to apply on actual burial expenses. What is expended beyond that amount rests entirely with the next of kin.

Colonel Quinn reminded that the government provides the casket, transportation from overseas, a headstone, reimbursement of up to $50 toward burial expenses, the commemorative flag for the next of kin and a military escort whose mission is ended when the remains are turned over to the funeral director selected by next of kin.

Former Ord Woman Dies in California

Relatives at North Loup and Ord received word early Monday of the death of Mrs. Donald L. Mulligan of Monterey Park, Calif., who passed away at 6 a.m. Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Forrest Knox, Loveland, Colo., the cause of her death being cancer. She had been at the Knox home for several weeks. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at Doelus, her former home, where her father and other relatives still live. She was about 50 years of age, and was married to Donald Mulligan then of Ord, shortly after World War I. Mr. Mulligan was a veteran of World War I. They lived for a time at Ord, later in Grand Island, Utah, and finally moved a few years ago to Monterey Park, where they engaged in war work during the recent war. She leaves two sons, Russell and Donald. Both sons were in the service, but are now returned to civilian life. Donald was married last spring.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

North Loup, Nebr.
August 30, 1947

To The Editor:
Will you please publish this letter?
This is a criticism and yet I hope it will be considered a suggestive criticism!

I have come East to attend our Pop Corn Day's celebration and I am flabbergasted by the weeds and conditions of the streets in North Loup. It doesn't make me feel like returning here even for one day. How any one person is willing to let weeds, tree branches and even his front and back yards remain in such deplorable condition is a shocking realization that North Loup is in a state of degeneration.

I have talked with several "hay fever sufferers" here and I am told that a few of the towns people are "cleaning up", but for tourists and old timers returning to North Loup, we are shocked.

(Mrs.) Jane Andrews.

Hold on to your bonds!

Veterans! Set an example of level-headed thrift. Don't cash your terminal-leave bonds now, unless you must.

If you need the money desperately—or are in debt—that's different. Otherwise, hold on to your bonds. You'll be glad later.

Every terminal-leave bond earns interest at 2½% a year. A $100 bond is worth $112.50 to you if you hold it to maturity.

So hold those bonds until you can get full interest and full value.

Have You Seen Our Annual Report?

Nine years of beer industry self-regulation are reviewed in an annual report just issued by the Nebraska Committee.

It is a report which reflects substantial progress in raising the standards of beer retailing in this state, and you will find it interesting reading. A card or letter will bring you a copy
by return mail.

Brewing industry self-regulation is a program which supports and supplements public authority—both state and local —in the enforcement of a good Nebraska liquor control act as it affects the sale of beer.
The report describes some of the ways this is accomplished.

The Elvira Clever Homemakers demonstration team won first at the fair with their demonstration of making muffins. Adeline Dubas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dubas, and Lillian Lech, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lech Jr., worked together as the team. The girls have worked very hard practicing their demonstration every time they got together this summer. This is their first year of cooking and their leader, Mrs. Irene Kapustka is very pleased with their progress.
Seconds in demonstrations were won by Doris Welty of the Happy Homemakers group at Arcadia, demonstrating how to take measurements in regard to sewing, and by Lucy Grace Switzer of the Pop Corn Maids club of North Loup with a demonstration on how to package frozen baked goods for the locker. The demonstration team will not go to the state fair.
Will Phipps of Tekamah, Nebr., credited his pocket light with preventing a train from crashing into his automobile. The car was stalled and Phipps heard the oncoming train. He ignited a clump of weeds near by as a signal. The engineer stopped the train a few feet short of the car.

plenty of them can be caught with live bait. But we prefer the pan fish so never fish for bass.
We put in considerable time cleaning up our place, raking the yard until there was not a stick or any leaves left in the grass. Of course it will have to be done over again next spring and there will be wagonloads to haul off. We trimmed trees and cleaned up the little orchard, plums, apples and cherries on the back end of the lot next to the road. I have a couple of dozen fruit trees and they are getting big enough so they should give us a lot of fruit. The crapple trees are doing especially well.
We talked about going chokocherrying but never got to it until last Thursday about 1:30. I mentioned it again, saying it was too late now and Oscar said it wasn't and that he would go along and help. In two hours we were back with enough nice chokocherries to make nine quarts of juice. We got them washed and ready to cook that evening. Friday morning we cooked and canned the juice, making one batch of jelly so Oscar could have some and now we are fixed for all the chokocherry jelly we will need this winter. It goes mighty good on pancakes in the morning when the snow is flying outside.
It was just 51 degrees when we got up at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. There wasn't much to do but dress and put our grips in the car and at 20 minutes to 5 we drove out to camp, wondering if we would get back next year and what changes there would be.

March 11: "Complaint having been made by James P. Cook, by H. W. Mitchell, his attorney, in a sworn statement against Frank A. Webster, justice of the peace in Pct. 7, and C. B. Coffin, constable in Pct. 5, for wilful neglect of duty, of "oppression of corruption and wilful administration of office", the clerk was instructed to issue a summons demanding the appearance of the accused before the commissioners at the court house, on the 15th day of March to answer charges entered in said complaint."
At the March 18 meeting a continuance was granted until April 2. At the April 2 meeting in the case of Cook versus Webster the board found no cause for complaint and charged the cost against the plaintiff. In the case of Cook versus Coffin neither of the parties appeared before the board, which dismissed the charge and charged the costs to Cook.
April 15, the county clerk's salary for the present year (1878) was fixed at $270.
April 16, several changes were made in the valuations of land and personal property. April 17: "Resolved that we list in precinct No. 7, Wheeler county, for taxation, two thousand (2,000) head of cattle at seven dollars per head supposed to be owned by D. Rankin. Now being herded on the Middle Loup or Vicinity." In this connection there seems to have been some confusion about the names of counties. At first the land lying to the north of Valley county is referred to as Taylor county, and that to the north west and west as Wheeler county. Eventually Wheeler county comprised what is now Wheeler, Garfield and Loup counties. Later those counties were separated.
The county clerk was instructed to advertise for 15 days in the county newspaper for bids to furnish window shutters for five windows and three lights of glass for the windows in the county courthouse. This indicates that there must have been a hail storm, as the court house was nearly new at the time.
"On motion Oscar Babcock was appointed to write a description of Valley county for publication in a pamphlet form for gratuitous distribution."
May 6, the homesteads of C. J. Rood, Caleb M. Ayers (Ayers?) J. A. Green, W. Frederick, W. H. Cronk, R. S. Chubbuck, E. S. Harter, William Brown and Otto Schoening were listed for taxation, as they had made final proof. It was resolved that a petition presented by the B. and M. R. R., setting forth the value of lands for assessment be denied on the grounds that these values were less than those at which their agents were selling said lands. It was agreed that the county printing be let to the lowest responsible party living in the county, who must post suitable bond. From this it is surmised that the county printing had been done without bond up to this time, and as such, the printer could not be made a party to any suit brought against the county due to incorrect publication.
July 1 the levy for taxation was set as follows: State general fund, 4 mills; state sinking fund, seven-eighths mill; school, one mill; university, three-eighths mill; county general fund, 10 mills; county sinking fund, 10 mills; special bridge fund, 5 mills; and the several school districts in the county ranging from 25 mills in Districts 12 and 14 to no levy at all in Districts 10 and 13. That for Dist. 5, Ord, was set at $1,000, which is a far cry from the present cost of education in the city district.
July 2, N. G. Clement was awarded the contract for repairing the court house, as advertised in May. It was decided to advertise for bids on a bridge for Turle creek on Road No. 9, to be built the same as the bridge across Dane creek on the same road. N. G. Clement received $7.50 for making a table for the county clerk. Taylor Adams was paid $5 for repair in the court house, which must have been damaged inside as well as out. Aug. 19, Herman Westover, Peter Mortensen and H. A. Babcock were appointed a committee to proceed at once to Omaha and employ legal counsel in the matter of the delinquent Burlington and Missouri River Railroad taxes, also "Resolved that we issue certificates of indebtedness in the amount of $200 to pay expenses for said committee. It was found that the floor of the Ord river bridge was in bad condition and a new floor was needed for part of it. Fifteen new planks were needed and W. H. Mitchell was awarded the contract for making the repairs for $25. The resignation of Henry W. Nelson as county surveyor was accepted.

TO STATE FAIR
Jacqueline Burrows of the Pop Corn club at North Loup won the style show at the Valley county fair. Now Jackie plans to take her outfit and model it at the state fair. The costume consisted of a brown and tan checked gingham dress with which she wore a brown hat and shoes and carried a brown bag. Jacqueline is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burrows of North Loup and has done 4-H work for the past four years. Runners up were Wilma Lange and Ramona Mitchell both of North Loup.

Dear Quiz:
The last few days before we come home are always busy days, for there are many things to be done and we always start early. It has been so delightfully cool here the past week that we were justified in putting the paper on the back porch several days in advance of going home. Papering the front porch is being left till Friday, our last day here. We expect to be in Ord Saturday night.
Shortly after we got up here Mrs. Lillian Simpson came over to call and we had a nice visit, talking over the old times of 28 years ago and on down through the following 14 years, during which time we were all there together every summer and we had many good times. I happened to mention the hot German potatoes that Mrs. Simpson made for our picnics sometimes and how much I liked it and a few days later here she came just as I was trying the fish for dinner, bringing me a nice dish of that good salad. I sure appreciated it. 14 years ago Mr. Simpson passed on and we have seen little of the Simpsons since.
And speaking of fish, we had fish once a day all but two days while here and several times we had them for breakfast also. We never seemed to tire of them. We would usually cook from 18 to 24 and the four of us always cleaned them up. Oscar Nay ate dinner and supper with us most of the time we were there and we sure did enjoy having him. He and Donnie went fishing every day so we were sure of having a mess of fish on ice all the time. I only went fishing twice, but the Missus and I caught the limit of 20 fish each time. It was hard for me to get in and especially out of the boat, so I preferred to sit on the porch and look at the lake and the boats motoring here and there across the water. Sometimes I could count a dozen boats.
Some of them complained about not getting many fish. 28 years ago when we started going up there we could go out and catch them anywhere, but then there was only one old boat on our lake, except when someone brought a boat and there were no motors. Now there are 40 or 50 cottages on the lake, they all have motor boats and there is one big speed launch which charges us down the lake much of the time and I believe the fish are kept scared. If one knows where to fish he can usually catch a limit of 15 fish in a couple of hours and by that I mean bluegills and crappies. One has to know more than the fish do to catch bass at this season, though one or more small ones are usually caught and put back on every fishing trip. A month later the large ones will come up into the rushes and then

John L. Ward
The year 1878 opened with a meeting of the board, Jan. 1. Present were W. W. Bancroft, A. S. Adams and H. A. Babcock. From the list of bonds approved at this meeting it appears that the following were officials for 1878: Herman Westover, county judge; Peter Mortensen, county treasurer; W. J. Holliway, county sheriff; M. Coombs, county superintendent of schools; Henry W. Nelson, county surveyor. At the meeting of the board held Jan. 28, B. H. Johnson took the place of R. W. Bancroft on the board. It was moved by Babcock that J. L. Coon be appointed assessor in precinct No. 5, Calamus. Mr. Coon was the father of Mrs. R. B. Miller, now living in Burwell. The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved that the clerk be and hereby is instructed to notify the assessor in precinct No. 7 that there is alleged to be five thousand (5,000) head of cattle in the unorganized territory north and west of Valley county to-wit, Wheeler county, belonging to Mr. D. Rankin which it will be his duty to assess with any other property which may be found and return same with the assessment."
Names appearing in the commissioners' proceedings about this time included W. H. Rood, A. V. Bradt, John E. Holman, Alojz, and W. H. Fraudenburg, Charles J. Nelson, J. Waldmann, D. M. Rankin and William Frederick. Also appearing was the name of C. B. Coffin, who was allowed $12.96 for "services as deputy sheriff following horse thief". Whether he caught up with him is not stated. William A. Hobson, who probably was the first man married in Valley county, was assessor in precinct No. 3. He married Emily Bancroft, whose father, R. W. Bancroft, was on the board from its beginning until 1878. This is a supposition on my part, and may be wrong. At the meeting of Feb. 11, Elisha Shoemaker was allowed $12.96 for "services as a member of the sheriff's posse in pursuit of horse thieves". Still nothing to show they caught up with them.
The clerk was instructed to procure from the U. S. land office a list of homesteads entered five years and upwards and place same on the list of taxable lands. The assessors were to assess all homesteads upon which final proof had been made, and to assess all B. and M. R. R. lands as nearly as possible to cash valuation claimed by the agents of said company. They were to make three grades of horses, assessing them at $120 per span, $80 per span and $10 per span. Two grades of oxen

It appeared to the council that this was the time set for opening bids for the construction of Lateral Sewer District No. 7, pursuant to notice to contractors and the proceedings of this council and that up and till seven thirty o'clock p.m. on this date (August 5, 1947) one bid of Charles Robeck Construction Company was filed with the city clerk. Attorney John Misko appeared before the Council asking that a Committee be appointed to act with him in investigating the possibility of damage to Martin Rowlands property on the west river bank, such damage being due to the construction of a willow dam across the east channel of the river, thus diverting a greater amount of water than normal to the Rowland property. After some discussion it was agreed that a committee be appointed.

 "Max" is the subject of the Lesson Service which will be read in Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 7, 1947.
 The Golden Text is: "God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; Genesis 1:26). Bible citations include: "I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God while I have my being" (Psalms 104:33).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Man: The compound idea of infinite Spirit; the spiritual image and likeness of God; the full representation of Mind" (p. 591).

$25.00 Reward

Yes, Sir! $25.00 cold cash for the brand name of any mineral sold in Valley county which is better than the famous WATKINS MINERAL I'm selling.

I'm dead serious. I honestly believe a better product can't be found, but if there is, I'm willing to pay for the name because then I'll chuck the Watkins business and start selling it.

IN THE MEANTIME

I'm pretty sure my $25.00 is safe. Because the way my former customers keep coming back for more—I'm convinced I have a good product. Why not join the parade to bigger profits with Watkins Mineral?

Next Sunday—September 7—is the day papa begins to spit the pay check with mama, even stealer.

It is the day also that boys and girls under 18 must stop representing themselves as being older in order to buy cigarettes or smoking tobacco.

Also on that day the Schroeder Road Law, which many farmers hope will get them out of the mud, becomes operative.

Reason for these things is that many of the new laws passed by the 1947 Legislature take effect on September 7. Unless a bill carries the emergency clause, it does not take effect until three months after the Legislature adjourns. The last Legislature quit work on June 6.

Saves On Income Tax
Equal sharing of the family income comes about through the community property law which has been subject to considerable criticism in recent weeks.

Sponsors of the measure said it would give Nebraskans the saving at income tax time that residents of a dozen other community property states enjoy, in that the family falls into a lower tax bracket through filing of separate returns by husband and wife.

Notices argued that the act's advantages were outweighed by other considerations, such as the effect on estates, insurance and inheritance rights.

60 Days Allowed
Among the acts effective next Sunday is the new driver's license law, which raises the fee to $2. Since September 7 is Sunday, no one will be able to obtain a new license until Monday, September 8.

Motor Vehicle Department officials explain that Nebraskans will have 60 days after September 1 in which to obtain their new driver's licenses without penalty.

Other things which will happen next Sunday under acts of the last Legislature.

The bounty for wolves, foxes, coyotes and wildcats jumps to $2.50.

The assessment date is changed from April 1 to March 10. (Another provision that counties over 6,500 shall have full-time assessors is not effective until after the 1950 election.)

An amount for recreation is to be included in old-age assistance grants.

Counties begin to pay 25 per cent of the cost of old-age assistance and aid-to-dependent children over the ceilings fixed by law.

Air transportation carriers begin to pay a tax on flight equipment.

First and second class cities can vote pay increases to their mayors, council members.

Manufacture, possession and sale of slugs for use in coin machines becomes illegal.

An unmarried woman becomes guilty of adultery if she lives with a married man.

Anyone violating the State ban on the closed shop is liable to a fine of one hundred to five hundred dollars.

A liquor manufacturer may not engage in the wholesale business.

The State tax on alcoholic beverages goes up.

Secret subversive groups must file statements with the Secretary of State.

Some department and institutional heads get a pay raise.

A State Patrol retirement system begins operation.

DAVIS TRANSFERRED
Ivan Davis, Burlington agent, has been transferred to Central City. He left Sunday. Mrs. Davis and Charles will remain in Ord until Mr. Davis finds living quarters for them in Central City. Mr. Davis has been the Burlington agent here four years. He says he liked Ord very much, but this step up the ladder. If he cannot find a home for his family in a short while they will live at Central City.

Chanticleers Are Up Against Lex Team of Veterans

Minutemen Have 22 Seniors on Squad; Rated As One of Class B "Bests."

The Ord Chanticleer gridders with three regulars and ten letters men in their ranks will move into Lexington Friday with a score to settle with the Minutemen. Meeting for the first time in two years, the Chants will be out to revenge their defeat of 13 to 0 in 1945, when the Minutemen broke Ord's record by a score of 15 to 0 without a defeat. The game with Lexington here last fall was cancelled because of snow on the playing field.

No one knows better than Coach Cochran and his boys that it's a tough assignment. Lexington is rated as one of the best class B teams in the state and with 22 seniors in the squad, will put a 200 pound average line before the Chants.

The Chanticleers have been making the most of their practice schedule, however, and are expected to show seasoned regulars as J. Stoddard, back; "Doc" Jensen, tackle; and Al Blessing, end; together with Lettemen Anderson, center; E. Piskorski, tackle; Stewart, end; Waterman, Haught and Kucera, guards; and Beran, P. Stoddard, Blaha and Tolén, backs, they will put a team on the field Friday night which should make a strong bid for victory.

Last Friday evening the A and B squads clashed in a scrimmage, played as near to game conditions as possible. The B squad, although not as experienced as the A's put up a tough battle from start to finish. Both teams showed off their weak spots which are being ironed out and polished up by the coaches who are confident they will have the team in full readiness for Friday night's contest.

Wednesday evening the team made a trip to Scotia to practice under the lights, because the lights newly installed on the field are not yet in working order. While it is still early in the week to definitely name a starting eleven, Coach Cochran is taking the following players on the Lexington trip: Ends—Blessing, Stewart, Richardson, Nelson, Heik, Misko, Tackles—Jensen, Piskorski, Adamek, Dworak, Onell, R. Blaha, Guards—Kucera, Haught, Waterman, Huff, Beran, Miska, Center—Anderson, Laurson, Severson, Quarterbacks—J. Stoddard, Tolén, Hannah, Halfbacks—Blaha, Cochran, Wozniak, Moore, J. Piskorski, Ludington, Fullbacks—P. Stoddard, Malczewski, Krikac, Gane, Captain—J. Stoddard.

Ord Schools to Close Thursday

The Ord schools, both grade and high school, will be closed Thursday afternoon so that teachers and pupils may attend Pop Corn Days in North Loup, it is announced by C. C. Thompson, superintendent.

Thursday afternoon the Ord band takes part in the parade at North Loup, plays a concert afterward and also plays for the evening show.

Parents of Ord students are urged to take them to the Thursday afternoon show at Pop Corn Days and leave them in school on other days, so classes may proceed without interruption.

Four Calves Win at State 4-H Club Show

County Agent Dale and the boys who entered calves in the 4-H baby beef show came home Friday night with a lot of satisfaction. They took down seven calves to show and of those three placed in the white ribbon class. The proud owners of these calves were Russell Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clement, Leo Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolf, and Marvin Hornickel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hornickel. Gerald Valasek's calf placed fifth in the open Hereford show. Every one is very pleased because there were 1,000 calves entered in the 4-H baby beef group.

All 4-H calves shown are sold at auction sale on Friday. The calves brought from $20.00 to $32.75 per hundred pounds, so the boys feel well paid for their work.

Building Construction Takes a Spurt in Ord

Construction and remodeling of business buildings and residences in Ord took a sudden spurt in September with two new business buildings and two new residences going up, and several others being remodeled.

Ernest Horner is erecting another new small home, just west of the duplex he remodeled in east Ord. The new house will be similar to the new house built on the north side of the duplex. Another new home is being built by Floyd Rice in south Ord. Both are five room houses.

At least a half dozen small homes, moved here from rural areas are undergoing remodeling at the present, with several more scheduled to be moved in the near future.

In the business field material has been placed on the site of the new Stewart Bottling Plant site. Construction has started again on the new garage building for the Anderson Motor Co.

Work on remodeling the Ord Hotel is proceeding at a rapid pace and contractors are confident that the major portion of the work will be completed by October 1st.

Total 572 Enroll in Ord Schools; 23 More Than '46

A total enrollment of 572 pupils in Ord public schools was announced this week by Superintendent C. C. Thompson. The figure is 23 higher than opening enrollment in 1946 and 17 higher than in 1945.

The beginner's grade is almost entirely responsible for the increase. This year's kindergarten has 51 registered as compared with 51 in 1946 and 35 in 1945. School authorities believe that this is but the first of several years of large primary grades—the first crop of "war babies" is reaching school age.

Not all classes gained in students. Most of the intermediate grades show a drop of two or three pupils as compared with previous years. The seventh and eighth grades each dropped five.

Enrollment by grades:

Class	1947	1946	1945
Beginners	51	31	35
First	30	34	23
Second	30	33	30
Third	34	35	25
Fourth	36	26	26
Fifth	24	27	26
Sixth	30	26	26
Seventh	26	31	36
Eighth	26	31	36
High School	285	275	265
Totals	572	549	523

E. Clement Enjoying Deep Sea Fishing

Both Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Clement have spent a week visiting Mrs. Elvina Clement and family in Hayward and are now on their way to Oregon and Washington.

Total Tax Lists Not Large Here Says Satterfield

County Had Made Record of 99% Collection Personal Taxes.

Publication of the delinquent personal tax list, now mandatory between September 1 and November 1 of this year will not bother County Treasurer George Satterfield too much.

That is, he won't worry unless a recent ruling of the attorney general interpreting the statute as meaning "all delinquent personal taxes" is made firm. Satterfield believes that the law intends for him to publish only "current" delinquent taxes, which he takes to mean taxes due this year.

If Satterfield is right, this year's publication will be small, probably about 150 names and amounts which will occupy less than a column of space in the Quiz. About 200 personal tax accounts are delinquent, and of these about a fourth will hurry and pay their accounts to avoid publicity, he believes.

If the attorney general is right, the county treasurer will have to search back through records to the date of the first personal tax list in 1873.

"I imagine that even then we won't have too big a list," he told a Quiz reporter. "People of Valley county have made a wonderful record in paying their personal taxes—in good years we have a collection record of about 92 percent. Even in hard times, the collectors held up to about 88 1/2 percent."

On that basis, a complete delinquent personal tax listing of Valley county would have around 3,500 names, and would occupy about two and one-half pages of newspaper space.

The Omaha World Herald stated Sunday that a complete Douglas county list would have more than a million listings. On a basis of population, Douglas county would be entitled to only one-tenth that amount to compare with the Valley county record.

Half Inch Rain Brings Relief to Parched Area

Was First Moisture in 2 Weeks; Temperatures Here Highest in Many Years.

A half inch of rain Tuesday night, following a .06 sprinkle Monday night brought needed relief to parched fields in this area, and from the high temperatures which have plagued local citizens the past several weeks.

Rain at Burwell Tuesday evening totaled .43, while North Loup rated .27. Grand Island got only a sprinkle, .06 being recorded.

Horace Travis, local weather observer stated that the rain came from the southwest and that Ord was apparently in the center of the heaviest fall.

Crop conditions in this area remain good, although farmers are becoming apprehensive of a cattle freeze planted corn not fully matured and an unseasonable frost date would cut yields considerably.

Last year the first frost, a light one, was recorded on September 12.

A Thirst, a Match and Gas Fumes Mix

When Ernie Swanek, transport driver for the Ord Cooperative Oil Co. decided it was time for a bottle of pop while he was unloading gas at the station about ten o'clock Monday night he didn't bother to turn on the station lights. He lit a match to peer into the pop cooler.

Vent pipes from the underground tanks at the station aren't too far from the pop cooler and gasoline fumes ignited, but although his eyebrows were singed and skin blistered. No other damage was done except to an electric light cord which became ignited. All three trucks of the Ord fire department made a run to the scene but the vapor had burned itself out by the time they arrived.

Rites Held Sat. For Mary Rawles

Aged Woman Died in California; Came to Valley County in 1902.

Mary J. Rawles, nee Mary Jane Gaines, was born June 29, 1851 in Holt county Mo. to Frank and Martha Gaines. She passed away Aug. 31, 1947 at the home of her son, H. B. Rawles, Ingelwood, Calif., at the age of 93 years, two months and 2 days.

In the year 1875, she was united in matrimony to Samuel B. Rawles. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Polk County, Nebr., where they remained until the spring of 1902. They then moved to Valley County, Nebr. where they resided until the death of Mr. Rawles in the spring of 1919. This union were born eight children, 5 daughters and three sons, in whose homes Mrs. Rawles had spent the later years of her life.

Preceding her in death were her mother and father, her husband, two daughters, Edna O. Rawles and Mrs. Bess Schwane. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Jeanette Brown, Huntington Park, Calif., a brother, Luther M. Gains, Hood River, Ore., and six children: Mrs. Carrie B. Jones, Sacramento, Calif.; H. B. Rawles, Ingelwood, Calif.; J. W. Rawles, Grand Island, Nebr.; Mrs. Arzula Norman, South Omaha, Nebr.; hosts of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

During the earlier part of her married life, she with her husband, endured many hardships of the pioneer days. But being of a Christian faith, she never lost sight of the better things of life.

She loved life and people so much that her family was reared, she became an ardent church worker and for many years was president of the "Ladies Christian Endeavor Society" of the Ord Christian Church of which she still remained a member at the time of her death.

As she became more inactive, one of the hardest things for her to surrender, was that active part in doing the things she loved so much.

Funeral services were held at the Hastings-Pearson Chapel at 2:30 p. m., Saturday. Burial was in the family plot in the Ord City cemetery. Rev. Hubbard of the Methodist church in Grand Island officiated. Two beautiful songs were rendered by a duet (Miss Dorothy Aulse and Mrs. C. M. Davis) accompanied by Mrs. Robert Nell.

Pallbearers were Melvin and John Schorweid, Ed and Rollin Hansen, Gene Rawles and William Norman.

BOUGHT GROCERY

Ellis Bough has bought the Daddow Grocery store on the north side at Burwell. Last week Mr. Carson made it known that they plan to open a feed and produce store in a building located on the south side of the square at Burwell. The grocery will not be opened by Carsons for a month.

Old Timers Lose to Kids, 19 to 8, Before Big Crowd

Clash Went for Seven Innings. No Casualties; Donate Cash to Lights Fund.

Every baseball age from 14-year-old Junior Legion players to 60-year-olds who were in their prime at the turn of the century took part in a baseball game played at the Ord athletic field Sunday. Seven innings were played and the biggest crowd to see a ball game here this season enjoyed every minute of it.

The game was advertised as a clash between the "old timers" and Ord's Loup Valley League team, but Manager Bruce Covey used almost a full Junior Legion team in his line-up as well as his league.

The "old timers" team was exactly that and fans of the early 20's were gratified to see a starting line-up which included Pidge Johnson, Harry Seik, Glen Johnson, Bill Heuck, Harry Wolf, Emil Fawcett and Dave Arnold, all of whom played on Ord teams during that period. Others who saw service included Dick Teague, Walt Douthit, Bill Philbrick, Ray Christensen, Harry Bresley, Jim Covert, Russell Jensen, Venard Collins, Albert Dahlin, Dutch Clement, Clyde Baker, Hank Misko, Bill Heuck and Steve Polak. There may have been others—late in the game substitutions were so frequent that neither scorekeeper nor reporter could keep tabs on them.

Nine hits in all were made by the old timers off the ankle and Don Patrick, who did the pitching chores for the league team. No less than 3 of these came from the still-potent bat of Harry Seik, the Scotia infielder who played many games with the Ord team between 1920 and 1930 and who still looks good afield. He pitched with a change-of-pace on the 4th inning. Bill Heuck went hitless but played first base with all his old time skill, teaming with Pidge Johnson and Harry Wolf in the 1st inning to produce a double play, which this reporter believes is something the Ord league team failed to make in an entire season of play. Heuck lasted until the 5th inning.

Late in the game the crowd was pleased to see Emil Fawcett don catcher's harness for two innings and though he couldn't make the peg to 2nd he handled the catching assignments as though he had never been away from the game. Among the real old-timers Hank Misko cavorted in the outfield like a 16-year-old and Harry Bresley stopped everything that came his way at 2nd base.

Five pitchers for the old-timers gave up 13 hits to the younger, most effective being Dutch Clement. Dave Arnold started and the other pitchers included Baker, Dahlin and Polak.

The league team's starting line-up included Furtak, Fryzel, Christensen, Novosad, Barnes Rich, Koll and many others who played included J. Stoddard, Nelson, Blessing, Tolén, Campbell, P. Stoddard, Hannah, Blaha, Anderson and Patrick.

Receipts totaled about $120 and by agreement this sum will be used to start a fund which is hoped will eventually be enough to pay for a lighted field for night baseball here.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

It is rumored that Freeman Haught is going to take charge of baking the pastries in the cafe at Curtis. If he is as good a taster as I think he is, won't he look roly-poly in a few months.

If Ernest Coats thinks, just because he can go to Oregon and all over the west and watch someone else catch big fish, that he can bluff me out he is mistaken. He admits that he didn't catch any fish or even fish out there, but I did go fishing twice while on my vacation and caught the limit both times. Of course my fish were not 12-pounders like he tells about.

There is a street down in New Orleans named Tchoupitoulas. I don't know how they pronounce it and it seems to me that it would have been just as easy to have named it Smith street.

It seems to me silly and ridiculous the lengths students sometimes go to in their initiation of lower classmen, even to the point of doing a personal injury to the lower grade student, for that has happened in several instances according to the newspaper stories.

When I hear of the tents being asked for a house to live in I am wondering whether it might not be a good thing to have a local board to look after such things. Prices being asked are almost twice as much as I get for my houses, which are much better located.

Merchants will be permitted to raise the price on sugar $1. a hundred on September 15 and if controls are all taken off the middle of October as is slated to be done, the price will soar again, very possibly to twenty dollars a hundred. And with the price of wheat climbing all the time it seems reasonable to suppose that flour may be much higher before it is cheaper.

I used to enjoy doing lots of canning, strange as that may seem, but for the last few years I have not indulged much in my canning and jelly making hobby. Recently I spent several hours when I should have been resting, in making a batch of chili sauce and it tastes mighty good if I may be allowed to say so.

In years past I have made and left on the shelves I built upstairs in our cottage, as many as 150 jars and jars of jellies and jams for the next year, being reasonably sure that there would be plenty of Leggetts and their friends to use it. (One year there were 18 of us gathered around the table each meal.) But those days are gone forever. A few of us will be there at a time and for a few days, but I would not be warranted in providing in advance like I used to do.

Then prices of fruit the past few years have been too high and sugar until this year too scarce. We used to get three quarts of small but nice fresh strawberries for a quarter and red raspberries by the crate for 30c a quart while during the war years and since they have been 50 to 60c per quart and not very plentiful. In those earlier years, too, when we were all younger and not so tired we enjoyed hiking through the woods and picking June berries, blackberries, pin cherries and other wild fruits, then coming home and all turning in to get them ready to process and what fun we had doing that.

Then since the day Oscar Nay went after blackberries for a couple of miles back in the pin-ber and hearing a twig snap, raised up and looked over the bush he was picking from to see a bear on the other side, also quickly getting his share of the berries, there has been less inclination on the part of some of the berry pickers to go out after the wild fruit.

Something Different

With this issue I hereby resume my column.

Conquer yourself warned. This will also constitute due notice to John Ward, who wrote that he would call his writings "Somewhat Different" in the absence of my typewriter effusions. So if he wants something to worry about, there is it.

Studying this matter over recently, I thought up a dandy name for John's column, though maybe he won't agree with me. I would name it "Ward Looks Back Ward." How do you like that?

For I don't know anyone who can make news of the past of this valley and its people read so interestingly as Mr. Ward does. He gives it a lively, up-to-date slant, yet he remembers early history with all its color. And he presents it, not in any dead fashion, but with his ever-optimistic point of view.

My temperature on this swimming pool matter hasn't gone down any with the "REARMS" we have written. Let's really do something, Ord! Let's get it at now.

In the spring the council voted to table the matter for a year, since many of the needed fittings were unprocureable at that time.

Now this doesn't suit me at all, not a bit.

For if the swimming pool matter is put off until next spring it will not be possible to build it for use that summer.

Please, Mr. Mayor, and Mr. Councilmen:

The people of Ord voted a pool: they want a pool.

We all understand that you did not have enough money, so that plans dragged on and on.

But wouldn't it be possible to vote more bonds?

wouldn't it be possible to do the preliminaries now?

Couldn't we get all the paper work out of the way this winter, and get more bonds voted and get ALL READY to proceed with the building of that pool early next spring?

So that the pool could be used next year?

It's enough to make Democrats out of all of us, when we think how we sat here, so strongly Republican we wouldn't even let WPA build us that swimming pool.

Republicans, through and through, no auditorium, no parks, nothing would we take.

We're strong-minded in Ord. Even when we're wrong we're so stiff-necked about it that we enjoy being wrong.

The oldsters vs. Youngsters ball game Sunday was a real treat. The crowd laughed and heckled and laughed again at the old-timers in action. The teams cracked wise as they chugged their way around the bases, pin in runners, substituted and refilled job after job. It was a scorching day or the crowd would have taken the park and the field... as it was, heat and all, it was the peak crowd of the Ord ball season.

Enil Fafeita had a lot of fun fixing up a white suitcase with bright red M. D. signs, skull and crossbones, etc. He also had a lot of fun playing ball, and he hadn't forgotten all his tricks.

It was a jolly crowd and jolly fun, just the kind of fun Ord needs more of, if you'll pardon my proposition.

One thing they really should do is to close the street adjoining the ball park on the south, so that there would not be so much free parking.

Speaking of parking, Ord's center parking is becoming a problem. With a row of cars in the middle of the street and cars angled in to both curbs, there isn't enough clearance for cars to drive the tight little lanes in safety.

Bette Lu Andersen sews beautifully. One day last week she announced she was going to make and finish a dress for her mother that day. So Bette Lu bent her pretty head over the sewing machine all day, and was so pleased when she snipped the last thread and plugged in the iron to press the dress. She was tired but happy.

Her mother was going to a party that evening and would wear the new aqua dress.

But she didn't. For Bette had put the hem in on the wrong side, and there wasn't time to change it.

Don't feel badly Bette Lu. I won't think of any other girls who have made their mothers a dress lately!

Such a nice compliment, wasn't it?

—Imma

SPORTS SHORTS

By Johnny Hammar

Ord high school 1947 football schedule:

Sept. 12—Lexington there.
Sept. 19—Holdrege HERE.
Sept. 26—(no game).
Oct. 3—Burwell HERE.
Oct. 10—Albia there.
Oct. 17—Broken Bow there.
Oct. 24—Loup City HERE.
Oct. 31—Ravenna there.
Nov. 7—St. Paul HERE.
Nov. 14—Curtis there.

At a meeting held in Loup City on Sept. 4, tentative plans were drafted for a new Three Loups conference. Made up entirely of Class B schools, the new conference will include Burwell, Broken Bow, Ravenna, Loup City, Ord and possibly St. Paul, eliminating Sargent and Arcadia, class C schools, who have previously been members of the Three Loups.

As far as Ord is concerned this will make for a better balanced competition for the Loups championship, inasmuch as Sargent and Arcadia have not been on the Ord schedule for several years, although as conference members it was possible for them to win the Loups title.

Under the new set-up, a round-robin schedule will be played and the championship will be decided on a percentage basis of games won and lost. B team competition is to be sponsored by the conference, but no championship will be decided. The group favored unanimous consent of the member schools for admission of a new school into the conference.

Attending the meeting were Coaches Cochrane, Peterson and Kovanda of Ord; Russell and Ackerson of Broken Bow; Swearingen of Burwell; Maciejewski of Loup City; and Verl Stucker, of Ravenna.

Apologies to Gerald Severson, unmentioned in last week's list of football hopefuls. "Seve" is doing a swell job.

Frank Adamek, freshman candidate for the varsity squad, checked out his football gear last week. Frank, unable to get in on the pre-school practices, is showing plenty of fire. His 151 pounds is a welcome addition to the squad.

Other new recruits for the A and B teams are Doane Ludwig-

A rugged looking group of Junior grid hopefuls made their first practice appearance Friday afternoon, under Coach Jess Kovanda. Squad members are Jack Elaha, Leonard Huilbert, Duane Wolfe, Jimmy Witherwax, Kerry Leggett, Virgil Witherwax, Bill Jones, Lyle Gilroy, Leland "Pee Wee" Crosley, Richard Manchester, Dale Falter, Walter Sowers, Gerald "Buzz" Maurice, Don Hansen, Roger Hansen, John Misko, Dick Anderson, Gene Rhodes and Kenneth Knopik. Doing their best to be among the Junior standard bearers.

It was noted that "Pee Wee" Crosley was outfitted more closely to his dimensions this season and Jimmy Witherwax has fallen heir to the Crosley white helmet and long pants (including the extra leg) of last year.

Kenny Clement was the victim of the first serious mishap of the grid season, sustaining a badly sprained ankle in a practice session last week.

Even tho the "Old Timers" did draw the short end of a 19-3 score in the Sunday ball game with the Ord City Team, they proved to be a real gate attraction, drawing one of the biggest crowds of the season.

And it would be a hard-to-please customer who didn't get his money's worth. Between flashes of really good baseball the "Old Boys" threw in a sprinkling of antics which would have put "Rabbit" Manjville to shame.

Business proceeded almost as usual in and around Ord Monday morning with many a grunt and groan from the "boys" who turned back the calendar a few years.

Proceeds from the game will go into a fund to provide lights for the baseball field.

NEW BAPTIST MINISTER

Rev. and Mrs. Davis Hammar, of Minneapolis, Minn. arrived in Ord last Tuesday to take over the duties as pastor of the Baptist church of Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Hammar have three children, John, 7, Sharon, 3, and James, who is 1 year old. They are living in the apartment vacated by Rev. and Mrs. Mason when they left for Denver, where Mason will continue his schooling.

Rev. Hammar has been serving in the Dennis Park Baptist church in Omaha. He received his education in Minneapolis at the Northwestern Bible School, and at Bethel College at St. Paul. He has spent most of his life in Minneapolis and Mrs. Hammar was born and raised there. Rev. Hammar says he likes to fish, but doesn't get to do enough of it, and Mrs. Hammar's favorite pastime is reading. They are looking forward to a very pleasant year in Ord.

TO ROCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schoenstain took their small son Freddy to the Mayo Bros. Clinic in Rochester, Minn. last week. Mr. Schoenstain tells us that Freddy is about the same. There was a slight gain in weight, but on consulting doctors at the clinic they were again told that there is nothing to be done for their small son. Everything that can be done, has been done. The type of brain tumor that Freddy is suffering with cannot be removed, and though there was a slight improvement in the child's physical condition he is in more pain every day.

Hilding Pearson took Freddy to Rochester and brought him home in the ambulance.

Christian Science Services "Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 14, 1947.

The Golden Text is: "The invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead" (Romans 1:20). Other Bible citations include: "How great are his signs; and how mighty are his wonders; his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation" (Dan. 4:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay . . . Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance" (p. 468).

Nighting, son of Rev. and Mrs. Hugo Nighting of Ute, Ia. at the Trinity Lutheran church in Grand Island, Nebr. Rev. Hugo Nighting, father of the groom performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. The altar were two large baskets of white and cream gladioli and two seven-branch candelabra.

Miss Joann Masters of Arcadia cousin of the bride was soloist.

The bride's dress was fashioned with an elongated sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt falling into a three yard train. Mrs. Robert Weddel, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of gold taffeta and a corsage of burnt orange daisies. The bridesmaid, Miss Janie Hancock, wore a gown of raspberry taffeta, styled like the matron of honor's gown, and a corsage of green daisies. Larry Weddel, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a pillow of satin. The groom's brother served as best man. The groom wore a light business suit.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Tropical room of the Hotel Stratton. The wedding cake, trimmed in pink and green and topped with love birds was surrounded by white chrysanthemums and fern on a large mirror. Miss Joann Masters sang "Because" and Mrs. Clinton Masters sang "I Love Thee". Piano music was played by Miss Shirley Underhill of Grand Island during the reception. The guests were served with a large bouquet of gladioli, from which extended pink satin ribbon streamers. At the end of the streamers which were fastened to each gift was a dainty lace umbrella. As the honoree opened each gift she presented the donor with a pink ribbon umbrella, extending her thanks. After the gifts were opened the hostesses served a delicious lunch.

Speaking of dollars, you're going to be spending some useless ones this winter unless you make arrangements now for a fall check-up and tune-up. Yes, you'll save dollars by having your car in perfect running shape. See us today.

In reply to the "criticism" offered last week, by a "hay fever sufferer". Am sorry for any one who "suffers" from "hay fever" or any other cause and also appreciate the honor bestowed on our little town, by any one coming from the "West" or "East" to help us celebrate "Pop Corn Days" but, it seems to me, who have helped, the most of the 46 celebrations and also one of the one's to whom the criticism is offered, that critic should take into consideration, that it was "Mother Nature" that tore down the tree branches and kicked up the rum-pus, we were obliged to put up with and the scarcity of help, that made it necessary to leave so much in "deplorable condition".

While it might look, to any one coming "East" that "North Loup is in a state of degeneration" we the ones most interested, in North Loup, still survive and hope to continue, to the next celebration, when those coming "East" or "West" will find a friendly welcome awaiting them, regardless of a few dead branches or some weeds, after the severe storm, heavy rains and flood and later excessive dry weather. Even with one of the one's from the "West" must admit that North Loup, still has the nerve to continue their Pop Corn celebration and welcome those from "West" or "East".
In the crowds of thousands expected here, one "Hay Fever Sufferer" would hardly be missed.

Men Wanted

We have jobs for two men for immediate employment. This is steady work for the right parties. But would take on a couple of men for just a few weeks of work. If interested make application to person.

Cobs

We plan to start shelling popcorn next week and will have quite a supply of clean cobs for sale. Here is a real chance to get some cheap fuel. Lay in a good supply while available. If you can do your own trucking or have some one available, it will be a good plan to get the cobs right from the shell.

Beefmakt

Protein feeds are getting quite a little higher than they were a few weeks ago and we believe that they will go much higher. It is pretty hard to buy good protein feeds and get delivery on them soon. We have a carload of Beefmakt due about the first of October and will make a very good price off the car. This feed contains about 45% molasses and for the feed yard cannot be beaten. We bought this car some time ago and feel that the buy was a very good one as the price is now a little higher now than when we bought the feed. You can make a real saving by placing your order now. We also have a carload of Linsoy for Nov. delivery. This is a 40% cattle feed and contains Linseed Meal, Cotton Seed Meal and Soy Bean Meal. This is a real combination and is very good for both range feed and feed lot feeding. This feed is $6 per ton higher than it was two months ago.

Fertilizer

We have the promise of a carload of 32 1/2% Ammonium Nitrate for Febr. delivery. Quite a lot of this car has been sold for several weeks but we still have about 15 tons of the 50 tons that is not spoken for. You should place your order now for fertilizer and get it off the car when it arrives. Last year we were able to get only about half the Nitrate that we wanted and many dealers were unable to get any. Nitrate can be applied to your small grain in March and tests show that it is much better to apply it then than if you apply it this fall. You can increase your corn yields a very noticeable amount and by using Nitrate it seems that root worm damage is not so great. We will book your order for the February car.

Poultry Feeds

This is the time that you should get those pullets in the laying house and get them started on Laying Mash. We have several nice reports from some of our customers that have pullets laying at four and a half to five months of age. One of our customers first case of pullet eggs graded half No. 1 eggs. We think that is a mighty fine record for pullets five months old. Our Laying Mash is always fresh and the supply is always ample. Try our Mash this year and appreciate a real good mash. On your next order ask for a free scoop.

Seven 4-H Calves Bring Almost $2,500

George Large, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lange, of Mina Valley, is quite an enterprising young business man. George belongs to the 4-H calf club, but unlike most boys his age instead of raising one or two calves, he raised seven. These calves were picked up by George at country sales and at the sale barn, where he paid market price for them. He has a complete record on the calves necessary for the 4-H club work. Last Saturday, the seven calves were taken to Omaha and sold at the special sale for 4-H calves not shown and sold at the state fair. The calves were sold for $31.25 per hundred pounds, and they averaged 950 lbs. each. There was many a cold morning when a 12-year-old would rather stay in bed than get up and take care of seven calves before he went to school, but this week George is very happy about the whole affair.

SPORTS SHORTS

By Johnny Hannah

The Chanticleers, who were rated pretty much as "X", the unknown quantity before playing the Lexington Minute Men to a 6-all score Friday night, won recognition from Gregg McBride this week when he rated them among the top ten of the state. McBride rates Lexington and Ord as tied for 8-9 in this select group. Watch the Chants hold or better this rating.

It might well be that the moral support of the large delegation of fans who made the long jaunt to Lexington Friday night contributed a bit to the Cochrane boys' fine showing. Having that kind of encouragement from the hometown fans is a great morale builder. Let's back them up strong in all their games, at home and away.

All Three Loups Conference teams went into action last Friday evening, with the following results: *Ord 6, Lexington 0. *Broken Bow 41, Arcadia 0. *Ravenna 18, Burwell 12. *Loup City 26, Gibbon 0. *Indicates Conference member teams.

The game between Ravenna and Burwell was the only interconference contest played. And now for the first home game Friday night with Holdrege, a newcomer to the Ord gridiron. In their first meeting, last season, the Chants eked out a bare 6-0 victory and reported the boys from the south as a very tough aggregation. They are reported to have 7 or 8 regulars from last year on their '47 squad and will come here seeking vengeance.

First home game—a brand new opponent, as far as the local fans are concerned—and a brand new playing field—should be enough to arouse anticipation in the most luke-warm football fan. That's the combination for Friday night. Admittance to the new field will be by both the north and south gates. Cars will be parked around the playing field, outside the cinder track. Besides the permanent bleachers on the west side of the field, which will seat between 400 and 500, temporary bleachers will be set up on the East side which will handle an additional 150. The band will be located in front of the West bleachers.

The Varsity squad was given a light workout Monday afternoon to loosen up stiff joints and still-aching muscles but Coaches Cochran and Peterson promise that the tempo will be increased as the week goes on.

The Junior Hi gridlers are shaping up nicely and had their first real scrimmage Monday afternoon with the senior "C" team. Coach Kovanda states that a game possibly will be scheduled here next Monday afternoon with the Loup City Juniors.

Thursday evening the North Loup 6-man football team will make their first home stand of the season on the newly lighted athletic field, against the St. Edward six. This should be a game worth seeing, for football fans who enjoy watching six man football. The two squads go into action at eight o'clock.

The opening of the dove season last Wednesday didn't seem to stir up much excitement among the older ninnyrods, although Kenny Ayres and Acey Anderson and a few others did a little futile gunning. It seems to be a sport more up the alley of the young fry, as witness the exploits of Dale Falter, Dick Anderson, Kerry Leggett. The boys alternated taking home the day's bag and did right well. Haven't tasted one of the darn things yet, myself.

Nash Gives Hints on Fertilizers

A great many people are asking a lot of questions about fertilizers and the use of fertilizers this fall, says Leslie Nash, soil conservationist here, and in his opinion the practice of applying fertilizer to cultivated crops in this area needs considerable thought. It is decidedly unwise to apply great amounts of fertilizer without first conducting some research on the needs and the returns following applications of fertilizer to small test areas, he says.

The outstate testing program of the Agricultural Experiment station of the University of Nebraska has been conducting fertilizer tests for several years. Many interesting results have been obtained.

1. Application of nitrogen fertilizers at the rate of 40 lbs. of nitrogen (120 lbs. of 33% nitrogen fertilizer) per acre gave the larger increase per unit of fertilizer added. Increased amounts may be profitable under certain conditions.

2. Nitrogen fertilizers applied to corn when the corn was being cultivated for the last time at the rate of 40 lbs. to the acre (120 lbs. of 33% nitrogen fertilizer) gave the best results.

3. Phosphate and potash fertilizers did not increase the yields of corn significantly. It might be noted that there are areas where phosphates would increase the yields if the content of the soil is high enough.

4. Nitrogen is the most limiting factor for the production of winter wheat provided there is enough moisture. Spring applications of nitrogen fertilizer gave the best results when applied in April after wheat had resumed its growth. Increased yields resulted from the use of 20 lbs. of nitrogen per acre, also from 20 lbs. of nitrogen and 30 lbs. of phosphate per acre.

5. Nitrogen alone gave increased yields for barley, but applications of nitrogen and phosphate gave markedly increased yields.

6. Alfalfa showed an increase in both yield and protein content following the application of superphosphate, especially in old seedlings when applied in the fall. Some trials were made at Loup City which showed that new seedlings gave highly increased yields over the untreated area when superphosphate was applied at 100 lbs. or more to the acre in the spring.

7. One way to insure good stands in the seeding of bromine grasses is to apply the nitrogen-phosphate fertilizer (10-20-0) at about 200 lbs. to the acre. This is especially true for seeding down badly eroded banks, waterways or spillways for dams.

Fertilizers are still rather difficult to procure so the need for them should be anticipated well ahead of the date required. Now that fertilizers are available in waterproof bags, there will be no problem in keeping them for indefinite periods in relatively dry buildings. There is also the added price incentive for purchasing in larger quantities.

In the valley, now under irrigation, if high yields of corn and other crops are to be continued it is well to bear in mind that the use of fertilizer (both animal and chemical) along with a good soil building crop rotation is the only way to conserve our Number One National Resource—the SOIL—concludes Mr. Nash.

Arcadia Knocked Out of Play-offs

Huskies Lose 9 to 6 Game to Indians Sunday, Lose Chance for Title.

Arcadia—(Special)—The Huskies were eliminated from further competition in the Loup Valley Baseball league play-offs Sunday when they lost a 9 to 6 game to the Broken Bow Indians on the home field. The Indians now play Mason City for the championship.

The home team held a 3 to 1 lead over Broken Bow at the end of the third inning but sloppy fielding let the Indians post four markers in the 4th and they added three more in the fifth. To clinch the game despite a 7-inning Arcadia rally which produced 2 runs.

Richardson and Waddell did the hauling chores for the Huskies in the absence of Buck, who has an injured hand. Vinny and Ward shared mound duties for Broken Bow, the former getting credit for the win.

Under the double elimination rules under which the Loup Valley league play-offs are being held, Broken Bow and Mason City will have to meet again should the Indians win at the Broken Bow fair grounds next Sunday. If Mason City wins next Sunday's game the title goes to her also.

Custer District to Energize REA Lines This Week: 125 Miles Complete

With approximately 125 miles of the Custer Public Power District's new REA lines now completed, plans are now being made to energize them the latter part of September, Homer Loutsch, district manager, said today. "A new substation which is being erected west of the Weissert store, is also virtually completed. This substation will serve a substantial portion of the new lines as well as many more additional miles of lines to be built in the future," he said.

"In conjunction with the energizing of the new lines, we are also planning a dedication ceremony to be held at the Weissert store, southwest of Comstock, during the evening of September 22. Senator Kenneth S. Wherry has accepted our invitation to attend and be the principal speaker at this ceremony," he stated.

Other features being arranged for are a softball game at the Weissert store, sound movies after the platform program, and an official "switch-throwing" ceremony, with Senator Wherry doing the honors. It is expected that several hundred families will bring their picnic suppers and start the festivities with a well-fashioned picnic get-together early in the evening. The Pinnie Brothers are planning to provide plenty of parking space, picnic grounds, seating and other facilities at the Weissert store and adjacent grounds.

Loutsch also said, "Our big concern at the present time, now that the new lines are nearing completion, is that there are a good many farms that do not have their wiring completed. We recently completed a survey of the farms to be served by the 'A' Section lines which indicates that several of them have done no wiring at all as yet, and many of them are only partially wired. We can energize only the various branches of the new lines where at least 90 per cent of the farms are ready for service, and we certainly hope that now that the lines are ready to carry electricity to the farms, that they do not have to stand idle because the farmsteads are not wired."

Construction of the new REA lines was begun in April by the Snyder & Johnson Construction Company of Humbolt, Iowa. In spite of almost two months of inclement weather and muddy roads construction has progressed as rapidly as could be expected under these conditions. The new lines, when all completed will serve approximately 400 farms throughout the central part of Custer county.

On Alfalfa seed: We find that all dealers had a large carry-over last Spring and the prospects for alfalfa seed this year in most of the producing sections is very good. Our own section will produce a very small crop but other sections will have such a large crop that our small crop will not effect the market in any way. All the large buyers are bidding much less for alfalfa this year than they have in many years. In some sections alfalfa seed is selling for as much as $10 per cwt. less than last year. We do not believe that the producer will make any money on alfalfa this year by holding it for higher prices; and we would not be surprised if the one planting alfalfa seed next spring would be able to buy it much cheaper. Next year we see a lot of snuff like alfalfa seed was one crop that would really take a big drop in price. Now if you need Bromine or Crested Wheat we have a nice stock of good quality seed at low prices. If you have Alfalfa or Sweet Clover seed to sell we are in the market and will pay the highest price we feel safe in paying.

There were buyers at the sale from all over Nebraska and parts of Iowa and Illinois, all livestock sold brought record prices. JENSEN TOPS AUCTION Halver Jensen, Loup county rancher living near Valleyview sold 42 head of hereford yearling steers at the Burwell Livestock Market a week ago last Friday, which brought $24.10 per hundred and were bought by a feeder living near Fremont. The 42 head of steers sold for around $8,000.00 and was the highest sale of steers ever made at the Burwell Market.

Grasses and Legumes

This year we see a very large crop of Bromine Grass and it is selling at only about 60% of the price of last year. This new crop of Bromine is very fine quality and is clean and high germination. We do not believe that we have had as fine Bromine for five years as we have this year. This fall surely is a very good time to make a Bromine seeding.

The crop of Crested Wheat is much smaller this year and it is only about $5 per cwt. cheaper than it was last year. The quality and germination is also good and it should be a good time to make the seeding that you have been putting off.

Sweet Clover seed is rather plentiful this year but there is no large crop. The stock of carry over seed is very large, so the price should be about the same as last year. We believe that anyone that wants to save a little money on sweet clover could do it by buying his seed this fall rather than next spring.

On Alfalfa seed: We find that all dealers had a large carry-over last Spring and the prospects for alfalfa seed this year in most of the producing sections is very good. It pays well to treat your seed grain with Ceresan. You will find a better stand of grain, a more even growth and when the crop is harvested you will not have a lot of snuff damage. STEALING IS STEALING

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock a group of young fellows drove west past the Edgar Roe home to the school, turned around, drove back to the Sam Roe home, stopped just north of the house where there is a melon patch, got out of the car, stole ten or more melons and drove away in such a hurry that Edgar Roe, who followed them, lost them after about five miles. In getting away they drove up to eighty miles per hour, turned short corners at dangerous speed and ran through at least one stop sign.

Later they were seen and recognized, but by that time the melons had been disposed of. Such is the nature of our laws that, without concrete evidence, the Quiz would be subject to a libel suit if it so much as mentioned their names in connection with this article. However, the fact remains that they deliberately took property belonging to another man, went on his land to do it, and made their getaway in true gangland style.

There are some dimwits who will say: "Why make so much fuss over a few melons?" Since the beginning of time a few small time gamblers have considered melons their legitimate property, regardless of who raised them. But melons represent labor, the investment of some capital and the use of valuable land. These same fellows might as well argue that apples, chickens and other small items are theirs also. In fact some of them do now.

The point is this: if melons are property, then they are subject to the same protection by law that any other property is, and the theft of a melon is as much petty larceny as the theft of a bushel of grain, a pig, or a five dollar bill out of your pocketbook. It is worse, for it involves trespassing on the other fellow's land. These thieves cannot plead that it was a prank when they took them in broad daylight.

The Roe farms have long been known as a good place to hunt pheasants, and they have always been very tolerant of hunters, even putting up with those who persisted in shooting the birds from a car and from the highway, to say nothing of taking a shot at a tame hen occasionally. It is easy to imagine what their attitude will be during the coming hunting season.

Something Different

If you aren't addicted to listening to WOI, the radio station at 640 on your dial, suggest you try it. This is the official station of the University of Iowa at Ames, and it offers many splendid programs. And not the least of its advantages is that you don't have to listen to any commercials on it. No sire, you don't have to listen to about Rinsor or bananas in the refrigerator, and no one insists on telling you the time every five minutes.

It is a practical station. Market reports are thorough. Weather forecasts for five days ahead are given every morning, carefully. The talks about cooking and food are timely. . . for instance on Monday morning I learned about picking apples.

Pick them before they are "eating-ripe" if you want to keep them any length of time. If they are warm, cool the apples overnight; otherwise wrap them separately and store in a cool place. Do not pour them from box to basket; do not pick them by shaking the tree. Do it by hand and avoid bruised fruit.

Every week a program is offered for GIs who haven't yet decided on a vocation. Recently a comprehensive discussion was given on the advantages of veterinary training, and the scope of jobs available. The schooling was briefly described. No, I wasn't one bit bored. Neither would you have been.

Monday morning this week also offered a short play, nationally sponsored, introduced by Eleanor Roosevelt. The importance of treating a recovered mental patient like any other recovered patient was the subject. The ignorance of the public in putting a stigma on such a returned patient can destroy his entire life and send him back to the hospital. Did you know that?

Musical programs offered by WOI are of the best, whether you want Bach or boogie. The young announcers are often students in the speech department of the university. Visiting farm friends of the school are frequently interviewed over the air. It's a good station. I wish we had one like it in Nebraska.

The sweet corn season almost missed us this year because of the wet cold spring and the scorching summer. Here's hoping fall doesn't miss us, for it is the handsomest season of our year.

But the weather during this past year has been the wettest, the driest, the hottest, the coldest we have had in about 50 years.

I'm still broken out from the heat, but suddenly the piling blankets on the beds once more . . . some contrast.

Nearly every vacant lot in Ord now has a house on it or soon will have. The town is really solidified. Probably 50 houses have now been moved from the foundations and rebuilt into neat cottages here in Ord. It is fine to see the town improved and built up, fine to see the population increasing.

But it does seem a shame they couldn't have been new houses. And twenty years from now we'll wish so more than ever. Hardly ever do we have a new house built here. There must be a reason.

Mayor Cummins is strictly on the beam. Phone him about any one thing and within a matter of minutes he has taken care of the matter. No wonder he gets re-elected whether he wants to be or not.

I very much wish we could conduct a "bicyclist safety" campaign here. These little town youngsters scooting across the highways with cars on every side need a lot of instructing. They haven't any right to ride on the sidewalk yet I am glad to see them there, for children are so brash about their bike riding. It seems the children begin to ride bicycles by the time they are six or eight, entirely too young for them to have much judgment about getting out of the way of cars, or about looking both ways before crossing a corner.

If you have a number of bicycle safety rules, please send them to me. I'd like to print them so every child could have them posted in his home.
—Irma.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT
John L. Ward

It is interesting to run across people you knew at one time, but of whom you have lost track. Back in the '30s we lived at Burwell, and 1932-33, named Thomas E. Cain. Last week I walked into a store in North Loup, and there he was. He called me by name at once, but except for knowing he had been a school teacher, I simply couldn't think of his name. He went from Burwell to Hebron, where he still lives. He is not in the teaching game now, but sells books to schools, and has four states, Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Wyoming, so he keeps busy most of the time. I am sure the people who knew him will be glad to know that he is well and doing all right.

Last week also we had occasion to be in Boelus, and were sitting in a cafe there waiting for dinner to be served. I looked across the street and saw a name that seemed familiar, so I slipped over and introduced myself to one F. E.

Bax, who, with Mrs. Bax, has run the Doelus drug store for the past 37 years. Old timers will remember him as the man who was in the drug business with W. R. Patty in the midties. He was a small man, with a dark mustache and hair, and always had a smile for every customer.

Back in 1888 he sold out his interest in the business to Patty and went to Omaha, where he lived for a time. Later he moved to Lexington, where he ran a drug store in the building next to the one occupied by the Wisda Hardware. He recalls that if he had stayed there he would have been burned out, and the drug store and the Wisda Hardware were among the buildings destroyed in the recent fire in Lexington. Bax is no longer young, but he gets about better than many younger men. He recalled Lefe and Otis Paist, Rev. Charles Arnold, Dr. Gard and many other of the old timers of Ord.

He also recalled the location of a number of the Ord business places at that time. He says H. D. Leggett was a young man then, and was running a newspaper in the basement of the old court house. The Quiz was being published by W. W. Haskell in the upstairs of the building in the middle of the south side which had to be torn down several years ago, and is now occupied by the west part of the Safeway store building. At that time also the postoffice was located in the lower part of the same building and Johnson Bros. Jim and John, ran a drug store in the front end.

While in Ord one day last week I happened to sit down beside my old friend, P. O. Petersen, who lives in Burwell and works in Ord for a man who lives in North Loup. This is also true of Petersen, and of Meritt Wright, who are also employed in the Ford shop at Ord, which is owned by Bennie Nelson of North Loup. However, that is not what I started out to say, however interesting it might be.

Back in the summer of 1921 Burwell did not have a rodeo. It did not even have a fair. The Valley County fair was held about the middle of September, and several Burwell business men had seats together at the show. Some talking was done then. Later, possibly the next day, Pete Petersen went into the Meyers and Manasil garage and had a talk with Frank about having something in the line of entertainment for Garfield county. While they were talking Dr. E. E. Clark came in, and also Homer Stokes was present. That meeting was the first at which a definite plan was started for a rodeo in Burwell. For several years before that time J. V. DeLashmuit had been putting on rodeos at his ranch near Valleyview northeast of Burwell, and there had also been some rodeos held at the Frank Clark place, north of Burwell.

The four men mentioned above decided that Garfield county should have some kind of show at Burwell. They made arrangements for the stock at DeLashmuits and also at Clark's. They obtained the field east of Burwell and across the road north of the present rodeo grounds. The time was growing late, so they held it just two weeks after the Valley county fair. It was a two day affair, and the weather was plenty cold. However, the attendance was so good that they found themselves ahead about six hundred dollars when all expenses were paid.

Either that year or the next, I do not recall which, Harry Doran was designated as arena director, and he held this position until he became president a number of years later. While Petersen had quite a lot to do in getting that first rodeo started, he found that he could not take the time necessary to help out much in the year that followed. However, he makes it a point to be present at the show every year, and like the others, he admits that the show grew beyond their wildest hopes of early days. First named Garfield County Frontier Fair Association, the name, Nebraska's Big Rodeo was applied a few years later, and it has been that ever since.

Of those first men, Frank Manasil stayed with the show the longest, and had the most to do with it of any, first as director, then as secretary, and finally as president, which position he held at the time of his death. Homer Stokes was the first president of the show, but he left Burwell after a few years, and is now living at Wolbach. Dr. Clark moved from Burwell to Ashland, and is still there, I believe. Harry Doran moved to Lincoln, where he is connected with the Nebraska State fair. Of the original group, Petersen is the only one still living in Burwell. He thinks special honor should be paid to the memory of Bud Hummel, who laid out the grounds and designed the first buildings.

Gilroy Apartments
Nearly Completed

Two of the nicest apartments in Ord are now being completed by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gilroy. Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy own the building that houses the Grill. There were several rooms on the second floor, that were dreary and dark and Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy and Miss Minnie Gilroy decided that it might be good fun turning the rooms into two attractive apartments. The first thing they did was to get new panes for the huge windows. Part of each window had been boarded up. The woodwork was painted and the walls repaired. One wall was closed up and new doors placed to make it convenient for two apartments. A new bath was installed and a large electric hot water heater put in. Venetian blinds were bought for all windows in both apartments to the tune of $260.00. The apartments will be partially furnished. The kitchens have very attractive in-laid linoleum on the work units and on the floors. New cupboards, sinks and utility closets have been well planned, in the kitchens. The rooms will be draped from ceilings to floors with mink cloth and matching wool rugs have been placed on the floors. It is fast becoming the thing in Ord, to visit the Gilroy apartments.

No matter what your profession or business, your welfare can't be divorced from that of the farmer. His economic condition is the mercury in your thermometer of prosperity.

Every business soon feels the pinch of a low farm income as well as the benefits of sustained prosperity on the farm.

In 1915 farmers in nine midwest states spent $1,703,836,000 for various farm supplies; labor, $338,775,000; taxes, $138,888,000; interest on mortgages, $61,136,000, or a total of $2,627,519,000.

A great proportion of the money these farmers spent for farm supplies and services was spent through business channels other than cooperative. Only a small proportion of the farmers in these nine states made their purchases through co-ops. Yet, last year they made savings of $10,386,000. These savings were more than the total amount spent in 1915.

Through agricultural cooperatives that do buying and selling the farmer has lifted himself from the mire of adversity to a more secure economic foothold.

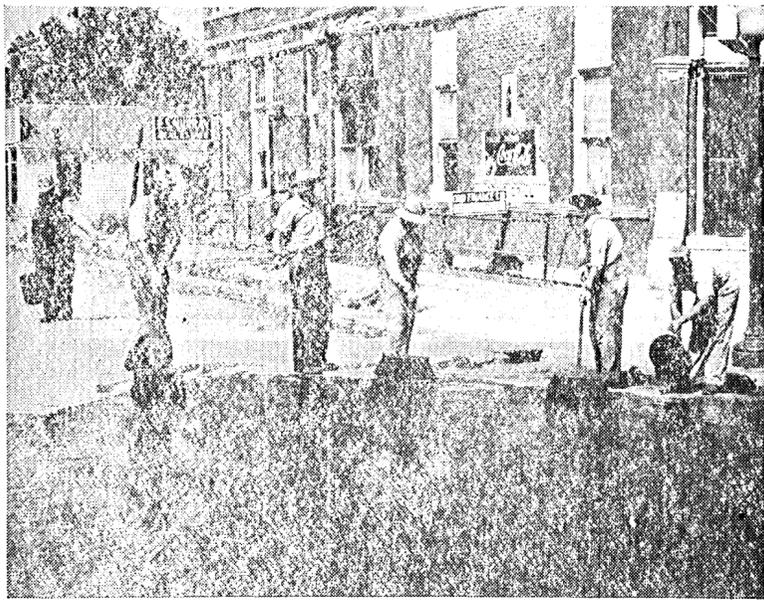

Don't "sell co-ops short." They are vital to your well being. They bring back buying power to the community.

Business & Professional Women's Club Members Did Extensive Traveling

From one corner of the United States to another, members of the Business and Professional Women's Club have seen a lot of country this summer, they told one another at their meeting Tuesday night. In fact they have viewed nooks and crannies in nearly every state in the union.

Frances Herinck began by going to Wyoming to school for five weeks. Then she took a conducted tour to the Grand Canyon, Los Angeles, San Francisco, up the coast to Bonaventure Dam, an overnight boat trip to Vancouver, B. C., continuing to Lake Louise and Banff she went to Edmonton to spend several weeks with three aunts, then went back to Laramie. Beautiful Banff she called the high spot, in more ways than one.

County Superintendent Clara McClatchey left early in July for Washington, D. C. to see a niece, Virginia Walters, be married. Going north to New York City and its wonders, she enjoyed crab dinners and lobster dinners and saw 12 states before returning to Ord. She left Ord flooded and came back to it ecched. She told Irene Auble flew to New York City as soon as school closed, landing at LaGuardia field at night. She thought she must have looked discouraged about it all, for a guide stayed at her elbow while she absorbed the view from the top of the Empire State building. The guides are to prevent suicide attempts. She got tickets for several top-grade Broadway plays including Brigadoon, and heard Fred Waring play, and also attended a Carnegie Hall concert. Then she went up to attend a Harvard commencement, escorted by her brother. Several generals and the scientist Oppenheimer received degrees, and some of the commencement was in Latin, she reports. She too enjoyed shore dinners.

Jacqueline Hunt attended several weddings and took a theater job at Norfolk, but soon found herself going west with an aunt to Hollywood and other west coast movie star haunts. She heard a number of excellent swing bands, and saw a number of prominent movie stars. But her summer trips weren't over, soon she was visiting a brother in Yellowstone and sleeping under piles of heavy blankets while Nebraska sweltered. Delores Donnellson went to school ten weeks at Laramie, Wyo., then had a wonderful late-summer bus trip through Yellowstone and the Grand Teton region with plenty of stops for picture-snapping. Maude Holden chose the unusual treat of attending Duke University back in North Carolina which was all new and delightful to her, 150 mathematics teachers from all over the United States were given insight into just how important math is in big business enterprises. While there they were royally entertained.

Irma Leggett told about Texas and a 4,000-mile trip there in April, when the National Editorial association members were guests of honor in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Galveston, Brownsville, Mission and San Antonio, a day on the King ranch, etc. Irma King attended school at Greeley, and on weekends took the opportunity to see Colorado. They visited Central City and attended one of the famous operas. They went to Red Rocks, to Denver, to Estes and many other places. Rosaline Northway coaxed her reluctant mother to Denver, to Lookout Mountain, and then on up higher to Trail Ridge road and other famous and lofty beauty spots of that state. By the end of the trip her mother was thoroughly converted and the higher they went the better Mrs. Northway liked it. Joyce Olsson and her daughter Sharon went to Chicago to spend a week seeing the Windy City. They had a wonderful time and were only lost once... that was when they took an escalator too many and landed at the subway entrance of Marshall Field. They saw the show Carousel, ate at many famous places and visited a number of famous parks and museums as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schau, the former Ingeborg Olsson.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Aug. 26, 1947. Cascade Locks, Ore. Dear Quiz: On the Columbia river, Cascade Locks; yesterday we visited the locks and the great power house and it's sure power. Our daughter-in-law has lived here for a good many years and has friends and neighbors who operate the machinery there so we had it on the other tourists, as she got one of her friends, a superintendent, to show our party around. Most of the plant was marked employees only, but her friend took us all over the plant even to the bottom, 58 feet below sea level. There are ten awful large units that furnish the electric power. It's too immense for a cornbelt farmer to understand, but is really something to see.

The gist of ours wanted to show us the fish ladders where fish climb to water above the dam. It's sure some sight to see those 15 pounders jump from one concrete bench to the next against the heavy flow of water. We took the fish hatchery with its numerous ponds with a lot of different kinds of fish, all sizes and all colors. The most popular with the many tourists was the sturgeon pond. There were a lot of little sturgeon there, one foot to 4 feet, plain to see in the clear water. They grow from 12 to 18 feet long in a number of years and are some catch for the fisherman who is lucky enough to catch one.

As to the locks we were lucky enough to see an army convoy of about two through the locks and through the draw bridge. I guess you know all about that but it is sure something to see. Sometimes the ocean ships come up the Columbia river and through the locks and to the locks above. Also we saw a lot of lumber and log rafts being towed on the river. How do you like this kind of a setup: mixed lumber, boards, 2 x 4's and heavy building material $40 a thousand loaded on cars and the smaller mills shutting down for a lot of customers. I got this from reliable sources. But don't tell Rudy Koupal when you are in to get lumber. There are two railroads go through here and lumber is a great industry. I suppose that transportation is the great drawback in the lumber business, like the egg business. Eggs were 33c when we left Ord and 72c a dozen here.

Around the locks and all the buildings everything is neat and clean and the finest flowers add lawn to ever. Mrs. Coats Sr. is a flower fiend and she had a great time around the grounds. September 2 we start for California and expect to be at the Fred Dowhower home in a few days. There are some scenes on the way to stop for. The boys had some good fishing and I saw a lot of fish caught. I did not try to catch any because Hank Stara told me one had to know more than the fish to catch them and I figured he knew all about the fish game. My son's wife got a 12-lb fish and I will send you a picture of it when they are finished. Western Oregon is still lumber and fruit. Lumber camps all along the way and also after we hit the ocean. Twenty years ago Mrs. Coats and I spent the winter in California by the ocean. When we drove out on the ocean drive yesterday it looked like it had not changed in the 20 years. It was the first time for Wallace and wife to see it. For once they believed what I had told them, that it was the biggest thing in the world. The rivers and waterways along the drive are full of floating logs for the mills and the roads are full of log trucks and still there seems to be no end to the forests. We drove through a dairy country this morning. There were big barns and from 12 to 200 Jersey cows in the herds on level, bluegrass pastures. Hogs and poultry were not to be seen but out of every nook where there was a bite of grass a Jersey cow was sticking out her head.

Just passed over into California and into the giant redwoods and ran into a herd of 100 or more elk. They were as tame as cattle. Those giant redwoods, they are like everything else. They are big, awful BIG. Saw one awful bad wreck and one car dumped out of the road but we were lucky so far. Men are not able to fill all the jobs. So far on our trips lots of signs for laborers at big wages and forty hours a week, Saturday and Sunday off and appears to be working for someone else. Tourist cabins look to be the best bet for a business. Nebraska appears to be a pick out here. They tell me about our tornados, floods, cold winters and hot summers, but they are still glad to take our Nebraska money. I tell them about our cornfed stockers, fat hogs and beautiful women and our stout cornfed men and have that to put up against the ocean. The ocean drive is sure beautiful, the ocean on one side, the mountains and forests on the other side, but the roads are sure crooked. They make their roads as crooked as they can while Nebraska roads are as straight as they can be made. Ernest S. Coats

VISITS ALLENS Lt. Kolesar, army nurse stationed in the Philippine Islands for the past two years, stopped to visit the parents of Warren Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allen, Sunday. Lt. Kolesar has known Warren for about five months and Mr. and Mrs. Allen say it was just like a visit with their son. Lt. Kolesar was a nurse at the hospital in which Warren was a patient. Mr. and Mrs. Allen had not heard from their son for a long time until last week when they received a call from him. At that time he told them that Lt. Kolesar would stop and give them all the information they had been longing to hear. Lt. Kolesar was on her way to her home at Pittsburgh and continued her journey Monday.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE Dr. Glen Auble combined business with pleasure last Friday when he attended the Lexington football game. He stayed over night and Saturday sold an aluminum marquee to go on the new Stewart drug store being built to replace the one burned in the fire a few weeks ago. Stewart's drug store is the only building definitely going to be built out of the nine stores that burned. Most of the other store owners suffered such losses that they are settling with the insurance companies, but are not planning to rebuild.

MOVED TO ORD Mr. and Mrs. Mark Holm, formerly of Elba, have sold their home in Elba, and have moved into the apartment built for them in the home of their daughter, and husband, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing. Mr. and Mrs. Holm lived all of the 58 years of their married life in Elba until last week when they moved to Ord.

Mr. Holm has retired from the banking business and they decided to make their home with their daughter because of their advanced age.

Buffet Supper Mr. and Mrs. John Wozab entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goff and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gregory with a buffet supper Sunday night.

STEALING IS STEALING

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock a group of young fellows drove west past the Edgar Roe home to check on their melons. One of them drove back to the Sam Roe home, stopped just north of the house where there is a melon patch, got out of the car, stole ten or more melons and drove away in such a hurry that Edgar Roe, who followed them, lost them after five miles. In getting away they drove up to eighty miles per hour, turned short corners at dangerous speed and ran through at least one stop sign.

Later they were seen and recognized, but by that time the melons had been disposed of. Such is the nature of our laws that, without concrete evidence, the Quiz would be subject to a libel suit if it so much as mentioned their names in connection with this article. However, the fact remains that they deliberately took property belonging to another man, went on his land to do it, and made their getaway in true gangland style.

There are some dimwits who will say: "Why make so much fuss over a few melons?" Since the beginning of time a few small time gamblers have considered melons their legitimate property, regardless of who raised them. But melons represent labor, the investment of some capital and the use of valuable land. These same fellows might as well argue that apples, chickens and other small items are theirs also. In fact some of them do now.

The point is this: if melons are property, then they are subject to the same protection by law that any other property is, and the theft of a melon is as much petty larceny as the theft of a bushel of grain, a pig, or a five dollar bill out of your pocketbook. It is worse, for it involves trespassing on the other fellow's land. These thieves cannot plead that it was a prank when they took them in broad daylight.

The Roe farms have long been known as a good place to hunt pheasants, and they have always been very tolerant of hunters, even putting up with those who persisted in shooting the birds from a car and from the highway, to say nothing of taking a shot at a tame hen occasionally. It is easy to imagine what their attitude will be during the coming hunting season. J. L. W.

Something Different

If you aren't addicted to listening to WOJ, the radio station at 610 on your dial, I suggest you try this: This is the official station of the University of Iowa at Ames, and it offers many splendid programs. And not the least of its advantages is that you don't have to listen to any commercials on it. No sir, you don't have to learn about Rinsco or bananas in the refrigerator, and no one insists on telling you the time every five minutes.

It is a practical station. Market reports are thorough. Weather forecasts for five days ahead are given every morning, carefully. The talks about cooking and food are timely. . . for instance on Monday morning I learned about picking apples.

Pick them before they are "eating-ripe" if you want to keep them for five days ahead. If you want them for the day, wash them, cool the apples overnight, otherwise wrap them separately and store in a cool place. Do not pour them from box to basket; do not pick them by shaking the tree. Do it by hand and avoid bruised fruit.

Every week a program is offered for GI's who haven't yet decided on a vocation. Recently a comprehensive discussion was given on the advantages of veterinary training, and the scope of jobs available. The schooling was briefly described. No I wasn't one bit bored. Neither would you have been.

Monday morning this week also offered a short play, nationally sponsored, introduced by Eleanor Roosevelt. The importance of treating a recovered mental patient like any other recovered patient was the subject. The ignorance of the public in putting a stigma on such a returned patient can destroy his entire life and send him back to the hospital. Did you know that?

Musical programs offered by WOJ are of the best, whether you want Bach or boogie. The young announcers are often students in the speech department of the university. Visiting fair friends of the school are frequently interviewed over the air. It's a good station. I wish we had one like it in Nebraska.

The sweet corn season almost missed us this year because of the wet cold spring and the scorching summer. Here's hoping fall doesn't miss us, for it is the handsomest season of our year. But the weather during this past year has been the wettest, the driest, the hottest, the coldest we have had in about 50 years.

I'm still broken out from the heat, but suddenly busy piling blankets on the beds once more . . . some contrast.

Nearly every vacant lot in Ord now has a house on it or soon will have. The town is really solidified. Probably 50 houses have now been moved from farm foundations and rebuilt into neat cottages here in Ord. It is fine to see the town improved and built up, fine to see the population increasing.

But it does seem a shame they couldn't have been new houses. And twenty years from now we'll wish so many more than ever. Hardly ever do we have a new house built here. There must be a reason.

Mayor Cummins is strictly on the beam. Phone him about any questions and within a matter of minutes he has taken care of the matter. No wonder he gets re-elected whether he wants to be or not.

I very much wish we could conduct a "bike safety" campaign here. These little town youngsters scooting across the highways with cars on every side need a lot of instructing. They haven't any right to ride on the sidewalk yet I am glad to see them there, for children are so brash about their bike riding. It seems the children begin to ride bicycles by the time they are six or eight, entirely too young for them to have much judgment about getting out of the way of cars, or about looking both ways before crossing a corner.

If you have a copy of bicycle safety rules, please send them to me. I'd like to print them so every child could have them posted in his home. —Ima.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT John L. Ward

It is interesting to run across people you knew at one time, but of whom you have lost track. Back in the '30s we lived at Burwell, and they had a superintendent there, 1932-33, named Thomas E. Cain. Last week I walked into a store in North Loup, and there he was. He called me by name at once, but except for knowing he had been a school teacher, I simply couldn't think of his name. He went from Burwell to Hebron, where he still lives. He is not the teaching game now, but sells books to schools, and has four states, Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas and Wyoming, so he keeps busy most of the time. I am sure the people who knew him will be glad to know that he is well and doing all right.

Last week also we had occasion to be in Boelus, and were sitting in a cafe there waiting for dinner to be served. I looked across the street and saw a name I didn't know, so I slipped over and introduced myself to one F. E.

Bax, who, with Mrs. Bax, has run the Boelus drug store for the past 37 years. Old timers will remember him as the man who was in the drug business with W. R. Patty in the nineties. He was a small man, with a dark mustache and hair, and always had a smile for every customer.

Back in 1898 he sold out his interest in the business to Patty and went to Omaha, where he lived for a time. Later he moved to Lexington, where he ran a drug store in the building next to the one occupied by the Wisda Hardware. He recalls that if he had stayed there he would have been burned out, and the drug store and the Wisda Hardware were among the buildings destroyed in the recent fire in Lexington. Bax is no longer young, but he gets about better than many younger men. He recalled Lefe and Otis Paist, Rev. Charles Arnold, Dr. Gard and many other of the old timers of Ord.

He also recalled the location of a number of the Ord business places at that time. He says H. D. Leggett was a young man then, and was running a newspaper in the basement of the old court house. The Quiz was being published by W. W. Haskell in the upstairs of the building in the middle of the south side which had to be torn down several years ago, and is now occupied by the west part of the Safeway store building. At that time also the postoffice was located in the lower part of the building and Johnson Bros., Jim and John, ran a drug store in the front end.

While in Ord one day last week I happened to sit down beside my old friend, P. O. Petersen, who lives in Burwell and works in Ord for a man who lives in North Loup. This is also true of Peter's son, and of Meritt Wright, who are also employed in the Ford shop at Ord, which is owned by Bennie Nelson of North Loup. However, that is not what I started out to say, however interesting it might be.

Back in the summer of 1921 Burwell did not have a rodeo. It did not even have a fair. The Valley County fair was held about the middle of September, and several Burwell business men had seats together at the show. Some talking was done then. Later, possibly the next day, Pete Petersen went into the Meyers and Manasil garage and had a talk with Frank about having something in the line of entertainment for Garfield county. While they were talking Dr. E. E. Clark came in, and also Homer Stokes was present. That meeting was the first at which a definite plan was started for a rodeo in Burwell. For several years before that time J. V. DeLashmuit had been putting on rodeos at his ranch near Valleyview northeast of Burwell, and there had also been some rodeos held at the Frank Clark place, north of Burwell.

The four men mentioned above decided that Garfield county should have some kind of show at Burwell. They made arrangements for the stock at DeLashmuit and also at Clark's. They obtained the field east of Burwell and across the road north of the present rodeo grounds. The time was growing late, so they held it just two weeks after the Valley county fair. It was a two day affair, and the weather was pretty cold. However, the attendance was so good that they found themselves ahead about six hundred dollars when all expenses were paid.

Either that year or the next, I do not recall which, Harry Doran was designated as rodeo director, and he held this position until he became president a number of years later. While Petersen had quite a lot to do in getting that first rodeo started, he found that he could not take the time necessary to help out much in the years that followed. However, he makes it a point to be present at the show every year, and like the others, he admits that the show grew beyond their wildest hopes of early days. First named Garfield County Frontier Fair Association, the name, Nebraska's Big Rodeo was applied a few years later, and it has been that ever since.

Of those first men, Frank Manasil stayed with the show the longest, and had the most to do with it as first and second director, then as secretary, and finally as president, which position he held at the time of his death. Homer Stokes was the first president of the show, but he left Burwell after a few years, and is now living at Wolbach. Dr. Clark moved from Burwell to Ashland, and is still there, I believe. Harry Doran moved to Lincoln, where he is connected with the Nebraska State fair. Of the original group, Petersen is the only one still living in Burwell. He thinks great honor should be paid to the memory of Bud Hummel, who laid out the grounds and designed the first buildings.

Gilroy Apartments Nearly Completed

Two of the nicest apartments in Ord are now being completed by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gilroy. Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy own the building that houses the Grill. There were several rooms on the second floor, that were dreary and dark and Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy and Miss Minnie Gilroy decided that it might be good fun turning the rooms into two attractive apartments. The first thing they did was to get new panes for the huge windows. Part of each window had been boarded up. The woodwork was painted and the walls repapered. One wall was closed up and new doors placed to make it convenient for two apartments. A new bath was installed and a large electric hot water heater put in. Venetian blinds were bought for all windows in both apartments, to the tune of $260.00. The apartments will be partially furnished. The kitchens have very attractive in-laid linoleum on the work units and on the floors. New cupboards, sinks and utility closets have been well planned in the kitchens. The rooms will be draped from ceilings to floors with monks cloth and matching wool rugs have been placed on the floors. It is fast becoming the thing in Ord, to visit the Gilroy apartments.

Agricultural Prosperity Is Vital to All

No matter what your profession or business, your welfare can't be divorced from that of the farmer. His economic condition is the mercury in your thermometer of prosperity. Every business soon feels the pinch of a low farm income as well as the benefits of sustained prosperity on the farm. In 1915 farmers in nine midwest states spent $1,703,836,000 for various farm supplies; labor, $338,775,000; taxes, $138,888,000; interest on mortgages, $61,136,000, or a total of $2,627,519,000. A great proportion of the money these farmers spent for farm supplies and services was spent through business channels other than cooperative. Only a small proportion of the farmers in these nine states made their purchases through co-ops. Yet, last year they made savings of $10,386,000. These savings were more than the total amount spent in 1915. Through agricultural cooperatives that do buying and selling the farmer has lifted himself from the mire of adversity to a more secure economic foothold. Don't "sell co-ops short." They are vital to your well being. They bring back buying power to the community.

Reduction in Number of Counties in Nebraska is Proposed

Editor's Note: The following article appeared in a recent issue of the Alliance Times-Herald, and is reprinted here because of the general interest in such a proposal as herein suggested.

Nebraska is proud of its economic and debt-free state government and its efficient way its county governments operate. But a few figures will show that this state is over-burdened with county governments and that a consolidation of counties to cut the present 93 to a total of 42 would save taxpayers a lot of money and would give better service and more efficient operation than the present system.

"Do Right!" -that's Self-Regulation

Beer industry self-regulation is neither involved nor complicated. It means "Do Right!" This simple statement sums up the way Nebraska beer retailers must conduct their establishments to maintain public good will.

It's the task of the Nebraska Committee to help see that the precept "Do Right!" is carefully observed. Meetings, bulletins and other educational activities help the beer retailer understand what's expected of him, and why. Specific suggestions are often given individual retailers.

Help and guidance given retailers saves the necessity of action by legal authorities in a great many cases, which benefits both the retailer and the general public.

NEBRASKA COMMITTEE United States Brewers Foundation Charles E. Sandall, State Director 10 First Nat'l Bank Bldg., Lincoln

There is no more reason why a county attorney should be forced to practice law in his spare time because the office doesn't pay him as much as the average janitor receives.

Consolidation of county seats would cut down the taxing authorities of the state; it would make possible tremendous savings in red tape and official forms; it would streamline county government in Nebraska in much the same manner as the state legislature has been made more economical and efficient through the unicameral type of state government.

Here's a proposed list of consolidated counties, giving the county seat and the present counties to be joined into a single unit. The state is so laid out that in every instance two counties can be combined and sometimes three, with a minimum of inconvenience to the citizens of both counties.

Pop Corn Days

Rain which fell Wednesday evening and continued most of Thursday failed to dampen the spirits of the large crowd that came to celebrate the 46th annual Pop Corn days with North Loup and the entire program including the saddle horse show was carried out in spite of the rain. Wednesday's crowd was large and an abundance of pop corn, popped in the giant poppers, with Sheldon Van Horn in charge, was available. The juvenile parade was one of the largest for several years. The Legion Auxiliary had charge of the parade, which assembled in front of the community building and was led by the North Loup band, the Constock band playing on the street. Prizes given were: Baby buggies, one entry, Danny Barnhill, Dennis and Patsy Jacobs, strollers, Carol Lou Sinek, 1st, Gale and Dale Boyce, 2nd; scooters, Dean Lundsted, 2nd; doll, Linda Williams, 1st; Patsy Annys, 2nd; trikes, Carolyn Manchester, 1st; Dennis Cox, 2nd; popper, Wagon, Linda and Patsy Hawkes, 1st; Valerie and Linda Sims, and Dennis Swanson, 2nd; Bikes, Wilma Vodehnal, 1st; Charles Lunsted, 2nd; comics, Mary Lou Lunsted, 1st, Carley Barber, 2nd, miscellaneous, North Loup Booster club, 1st, Future band of Scotia, 2nd; pets, Luc-

Following the parade, the North Loup and Constock bands played on the community hall's outside platform, Richard Babcock sang, George Clement gave a chalk talk and Lippincott, the magician entertained.

The evening program opened with a concert by the North Loup and Constock bands. Following this the high school girls chorus sang two numbers and Richard Babcock sang two solos. George Clement again held the attention of the large audience with several pictures and Mr. Lippincott gave some more of his magic. Ben Nelson, chairman of the pop corn committee acted as master of ceremonies.

There ceremony of crowning of the 1947 Pop Corn queen, until this time a secret, took place next to a stage against a background of yellow and green, the pop corn colors. Stage appointments had been arranged by a committee from the Rebekah lodge. The royal party, headed by Donna Manchester, last year's queen, came down the stairs and the new queen, Attendants were Mrs. John Hamer, Mrs. Bob DeNoyer, Venetta Roby, Ila Gilmore, Ramona Mitchell, Merna Van Horn, Mary Ann King, Leila Bartz and Delpha and Geraldine Brown. All wore pastel colored formal, home dress gowns of glads. The queen, Miss Phyllis Babcock, was escorted by L. B. Nelson, who presented her with her crown and scepter. Crown bearer was Patsy Annys, scepter bearer, Ronnie Cress and train bearers, John Cress and Deanna Willoughby. Queen Phyllis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Babcock, a graduate of the class of 1917, and is entering the state university this week as a student in the college of agriculture, home economics department. She was dressed in the royal robe of yellow and green velvet and was presented with a corsage of gladiolas, the gift of Mrs. Zablouill, of the Florette in Ord.

Rain came soon after the evening program was over and continued most of the night and Thursday but a still larger crowd came for the celebration Thursday. At noon, Lyle Bremser from KPAB, conducted a man on the street program which was broadcast on Saturday's Farm Facts and Fun program.

Queen Phyllis and her royal party shed formal for bathing suits to ride in the parade. Although rain continued, the float parade, always a highlight of the second day, went on. Led by the North Loup high school band, in their blue and white uniforms, it was as long a parade as ever held. The Ord and Scotia bands, guest players, were placed on the merry-go-round, where they played during the parade.

Methodist Ladies serving at the church served all they could manage, running out of food both days.

Rood Reunion At Pleasant Valley

Honoring Byron R. Rood of Melton, Wis., members of his family met at the home of his oldest sister, Mrs. Bertha Williams, in the Pleasant Hill neighborhood Sunday and enjoyed dinner together. Included in the group were his sisters Mrs. Nina Lewis and husband L. L. Lewis, and Mrs. Marianne Whitford of North Loup, Miss Marcia Rood, who teaches at Clark's, and Mrs. Eunice Harmon and her husband of Hollinger. Of Mrs. Melvin, his wife and sons, Kenneth and Leonard; and LeRoss, his wife and children Nadia, Sandra and Richard of Kearney and her daughter, Mrs. Beth Severance, her husband Cecil Severance and children, Katherine, Shirley, Brice and Cletus.

An interesting feature of the gathering is the fact that more than fifty years ago the family lived in the neighborhood, their father, Chas. J. Rood, having given a corner of his farm for a school district. At one time the home was very nearly where the Pleasant Hill school house now stands, but later they lived a little to the north and west. Some of the children were born there and the older children attended school in the district. They herded their cattle along the creek that runs near the Williams barnyard and many hours were spent picking wild plums, gooseberries, grapes, and chokecherries and also included Miss Mary Davis who teaches at Clay Center and Devillo Crandall of North Loup. On the return home some of the family stopped at the cemetery where their parents and sister Carrie Rood are buried. The cemetery was at one time a part of the Chas. J. Rood homestead.

—Mrs. Martha Malottke is seriously ill at her home south of Ord.

Call For Bids On New Bridge Over Loup East of Ord

State Will Also Take Over "No Man's Stretch"; Structure to Be 280 Feet.

Calls for bids for the construction of a 280 foot steel bridge across the Loup just east of Ord are published in this issue of the Quiz.

The present bridge has been a hazard since last summer, when a truck hit the railing, collapsing part of the bridge in the river.

Since it was built by county funds and maintained by this county, although a connecting link on the Ord-Ericon highway, construction of a new bridge by the state has been desired by county authorities.

The call for bids means that the state highway department has finally agreed to take over the structure and its approaches.

The engineer's estimate as published calls for 20,480 cubic yards of excavation, 420 square feet of sidewalk, 61 feet of cross walk, culverts, etc., all included in eight-tenths of a mile of new road construction.

The bridge itself will be a multiple span deck steel girder bridge, 280 feet long.

According to blueprints filed with the county clerk, the new structure will be about a half block north of the present bridge on the west end, but will almost hit the highway intersection on the east end with its approach.

On the west side approach to the bridge will be north of the present city water pumping station instead of south.

Will Plead Inability to Pay Assistance Costs

Representatives from Garfield, Wheeler and Loup counties will be among those appearing before the state board of control in Lincoln this Friday for a conference on the 15 counties' inability to pay their 25 percent of the cost of assistance over prescribed ceilings.

The counties called will bring along their county budgets and treasurer's reports.

The situation arose from acts of the last legislature providing that needs of aid to dependent children cases and old age assistance recipients above ceiling should be met by 25 percent from county funds and 5 percent from state funds.

Because some counties say they cannot put up their 25 percent share of any above ceiling costs, much of it being medical care, federal social security officials believe the principle of uniform degree of care is violated.

If a final decision was made to that effect, then federal funds would be denied the state. But Governor Peterson has said he would not wait for that to happen before calling a special session to deal with the problem.

No. Loup Loses to St. Edward

Inability to handle the ball cost North Loup their chance of victory over St. Edward Thursday night. The Bill-senior St. Edward team won the game 14-12.

North Loup received the opening kick-off and attempting a reverse fumbled with nearly a clear field ahead. The second play produced another fumble and then attempting a Nelson punt, the center broke through to block the punt for a St. Ed. touchdown.

During the second half North Loup got to clicking and drove for two quick touchdowns. Both drives showed a good deal of running and passing strength. Another touchdown drive was stopped by a fumble on the two foot line with a first down. Another North Loup score was nullified by an off-side penalty late in the game.

Manchester sparked the North Loup team both offensively and defensively. Carroll Mulligan showed the most promise among new boys. Fisher led St. Edward.

North Loup lineup: End, Stillman; center, Leonard; and Kerr; halfback, Nelson; quarterback, Goodrich; halfback, Manchester; substitutes, Hawkes and Mulligan.

11 1/2 Millions In Gas Tax Collected

Receipts Up 12 1/2 Per Cent Over Last Year; Plenty Money For New Roads.

Revenues from the five cent state gasoline tax paid by Nebraska motorists during the first eight months of 1947 total $11,535,000, according to John A. Ainsley, Executive Secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Industries Committee.

This represents a 12 1/2 percent increase over the same months of 1946, setting a new high in the 22nd year history of gasoline tax collections. During the first eight months of 1947, when automobile registrations were at their peak, gasoline tax revenues amounted to $8,016,600. Special taxes paid by motor vehicle owners rose from a 1941 figure of $10.11 per vehicle to $23.59 in 1946, reflecting the increased use of, and dependence of the public on, cars and trucks.

The total 1947 gasoline tax bill alone is expected to exceed $18,000,000, Mr. Ainsley said.

"In terms of highway construction," he added, "this means that motorists will pour $18,800,000 in gasoline taxes and registration fees into Nebraska's road funds this year (which with unspent balances will make the largest state construction fund in history)."

"Even though we have become accustomed to talk of roads in thousands of miles and road funds in millions of dollars, there is an element of awe in the fact that Nebraska motorists alone paid a gasoline tax bill of $11,535,000 during the first eight months of 1947 and these figures do not include the additional millions of dollars paid as federal gasoline taxes."

Holdrege Too Hot for Chanticleers Game Ends 12 to 6

Second Half Slump by Locals Responsible; Chants Idle Friday; Burwell Next.

by Johnny Hannah

The Ord high Chanticleers opened their home football season last Friday evening on their new gridiron in shirtsleeve weather and before a huge crowd, but Dame Fortune turned her back on the home boys after the first half and left them on the short end of a 12-6 score. There were flashes of really good football which brought the crowd to their feet but there were just too many fumbles and penalties and in the second half for the first time Holdrege. The Ord boys tried hard but they didn't appear to be the hard-hitting, close-working aggregation which held the highly-touted Lexington Minute Men to a 6-6 score the previous week.

Holdrege started the game with a receive and returned the ball from their 5 yard stripe to the 28. On their first play Holdrege lost on a tackle by Jensen and on the second play penalized 5 yards for too much time in huddle. Failing to kick on their second play, the next two plays Holdrege kicked to the Ord 36. The ball changed hands three times for failure to make downs. Ord took advantage of a break and recovered a Holdrege fumble and on the next play completed a short pass from Stoddard to Blessing and a first down. On the next play Ord fumbled and recovered for the second time in the quarter. Ord tried another pass on their fourth down which failed, on the Holdrege 5 yard line. The last play of the quarter found both teams in a huddle.

In the second quarter the Chants started another drive from their own 20-yard line with Jay Stoddard going through the left side of the line for 36 yards. On the next play Ladd Cochran, left back, crossed the field and scurried through the left side for another 30 yards, to Holdrege's 11. The Stoddard brothers pleted up 7 more yards and Ord was penalized for too much time in huddle. Moore was sent in for Blaha and on his first play scooted around his own left end for first down and goal to go. Jay Stoddard carried the ball through center for the extra point. A line plunge for extra point failed.

Holdrege also threatened to score in the second quarter. Anderson, who played an outstanding game for Holdrege, returned the kick-off from his own 15 yard line up to the 39. A line plunge and a 22-yard pass put the ball well into Ord territory. Alexander hit the center of the line for another first down and placed the ball on the 20-yard stripe. A pass by Alexander was knocked down. A drive through center was good for 8 yards. On their third down Holdrege attempted another pass but it was intercepted by Bill Anderson. Anderson then advanced the ball 10 yards to end the half.

Between halves, the Ord high 50-piece band, under the direction of Mr. Wm. Nelson put on a drill which was well received by the crowd. Following making another of a star after marching the length of the field, the band knelt down, the flood lights were turned off and each band member held up a lighted flashlight, while the bell players played "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star."

The second half was pretty much all Holdrege as the Chants seemed to lose some of the fight and spirit which marked earlier parts of the game. Ord received the kick-off and Cochran returned the ball to his own 29 yard line. On the next play the Chanticleers fumbled and Holdrege recovered. Making no advancement through the line and losing ground on a fumble, which they recovered, Holdrege again took to the air and a pass by Alexander placed the ball on Ord's 29 yard line. On the next play the Chanticleers fumbled and Holdrege recovered. Making no advancement through the line and losing ground on a fumble, which they recovered, Holdrege again took to the air and a pass by Alexander placed the ball on Ord's 29 yard line. ### IS AMERICA SAFE

All too often we hear some optimistic spouting platitudes about America being perfectly safe from the dangers of Nazism, Fascism or Communism, all of which, while differing in methods, produce the same results. Perhaps these well meaning orators actually believe what they say. They know we are drifting more and more toward government control, and that our individual rights are being taken from us one by one, but they are still hoping for the best.

There is no knowing how soon we will become a Communist state, if we do, but one thing is certain. We have in our free America the men who one day will rule us when that time comes, and we have good reason to know what they will do when and if that time arrives. The following incident happened in England, but it is true, and the facts have been authenticated by government investigation.

At Litchfield, England, there was, during the war, a replacement camp from which men were sent to the front. One of the men there turned up one day AWOL, but through no fault of his own. He had been wounded and on leave. The sergeant in charge of the guard asked him where he had been wounded. Proudly he pulled up his shirt tail and showed a blood scar across his belly.

The sergeant signed for two men to catch him by the arms, and then hit him with his fist, right on the scar, he kept hitting the helpless man until he lost consciousness, and the last he remembered the blood was pouring out of his mouth and the sergeant was grinding the billy club into the wound. In spite of his condition the man lived to testify against the men who tortured him.

This may sound like it happened in Germany, but it happened in England, and the men concerned were United States soldiers. They were told to be tough and they did as they were told, and they evidently enjoyed it. It is men such as these who will be in charge in case our democratic form of government fails. (J.L.W.)

Five Wrens Born In Overall's Pocket; Snug as Bug in Rug

STAMFORD, CONN. — A pair of wrens that set up housekeeping in a pocket of Warren Simmons' overalls a month ago, chirped the announcement of the arrival of five little wrens.

All were snug and comfortable in the spacious pocket, protected by a flap which the wrens used as an awning to keep out the rain.

The wrens took possession of the trousers when Mrs. Simmons hung them on the clothesline to dry. Rather than evict the birds, Simmons bought another pair.

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 28, 1947.

Other Bible citations include, "The Lord reigneth he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself; the word also is established, that it cannot be moved" (Psalms 93:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made." (p. 172).

New Fiber for Textiles Seen

May Open Tremendous New Field for Industry, Experts Say.

LONDON. — A tremendous new field for the textile industry may be opened up by a new artificial fiber developed from seaweed-alginate rayon—by British scientists.
Development of this "wonder" fiber, whose most extraordinary property is that it can be woven with wool and other natural fibers and afterwards be dissolved out when the cloth is washed in soap and soda, was caused by a wartime emergency caused by shortage of jute for camouflage purposes.

Professor Explains.
Prof. J. B. Speakman, head of the textile scientific research department at Leeds University, responsible for the development of the fiber, has this to say about alginate rayon.
"Very fine worsted yarns, previously found too weak for weaving, have been twisted with alginate rayon and woven into cloth. Afterwards the cloth was washed in soap and soda and the alginate disappeared, leaving a pure wool, super lightweight material which weighed only 1 1/2 ounces to the square yard."

Revolutionary Effects.
"Typical example of this is in lace making and embroidery. Previously a very intricate and costly process, wool and other textile materials can now be embroidered simply on an alginate rayon cloth. The cloth is afterwards washed, leaving the lace in its finished form."
"Other revolutionary effects are fabrics, up to thickness of blankets, with controlled holes to govern ventilation, twinning and weaving of twistless wool."

Blind Date

By FERN AUELE

"ROD, dear," Mary Trent paused at the foot of the stairs as the inevitable bang of the front door announced the unmistakable arrival of her 17-year-old son.
She turned and came toward him, a surge of pride welling up as it invariably did when she looked at her tall son. The tight, black cap of curls with which he was everlastingly waging battle, was rumpled with the fingers of the brisk wind and his black eyes danced with mischief as he slid to a stop before his mother.
"Hi-yo, Toots!" He grinned engagingly and threw an arm around her shoulders, giving her a quick kiss.
"Oh, Rod," she said, laughing in spite of herself, "you're impossible."

He struck a pose and sighed heavily. "It's just me effervescent spirits, ma'am."

Rod followed his mother into the living room, where he sprawled down into a chair, his long legs stretched out before him.

3 Minute Fiction

She looked at him for a moment speculatively, wondering just how to broach the subject uppermost in her mind right now.
She plunged in. "Rod, dear, your father wants you to ask Mr. Billings' daughter to the Festival Dance."
Rod looked at her unbelievably and then bolted upright, indignation in every line of his lanky frame.
"What?" he exploded. "That drip!"
"You haven't asked anyone else yet, have you?" his mother asked.
"Not exactly, but I thought I'd drop it. Do I have to, Mom?"
"No, son, you don't have to, but it would be a very friendly gesture. After all, the Billings are fairly new here and Anna Marie probably hasn't made many new friends."
"That I can believe," he muttered darkly, a mental vision of the daughter of his father's boss in his mind's eye.
He turned to his mother now, deep frowning on his face. "Did Dad tell Mr. Billings that I'd take her?"
"I'm afraid he did, Rod. I'm sorry, but after all, you haven't asked anyone else and your father would be pleased."
"Nuts!" He shoved his hands deep in his pockets and kicked at the rug disconsolately. "Oh, all right, she's a creep, but tell Dad I'll give my art to the family."
THE next three weeks sped by at an alarming rate. Rod, having called Anna Marie under pressure, reflected gloomily, as he dressed for the dance.
A half hour later, he was ringing the Billings' doorbell. The door opened and a sweet-faced woman was smiling at him.
"Oh, you must be Rod," she said, opening the door wide. "Come in."

Photographer Balls Out

NEW YORK.—Some people will do almost anything.
To prove it, Leonardo D'Atolico, 26, of Brooklyn, parachuted from a private plane into midtown Manhattan, grinding away with a movie camera as he floated down past the big buildings.
The former paratrooper said he was just trying to get a new slant on pictures of New York.
The police didn't like it. They said it was a publicity stunt. They locked up D'Atolico on a charge of endangering the public health.
D'Atolico, whose own health was in the most danger, landed in a backyard about three blocks from his target, which police said was Times Square.
D'Atolico told the pilot, Lee Corbissiano, that he wanted to fly over New York and shoot pictures and later bail out over Kings park on Long Island.
Coming in over Manhattan, the pilot looked up to see his passenger standing on the wing.
"I waved him to go back," Corbissiano said. "He just didn't pay any attention."

"It's just me effervescent spirits, ma'am."

won't you? Anna Marie will be down in just a minute."
Rod stepped inside and stood nervously waiting for Anna Marie to come down. He looked up quickly as a faint sound reached him. He literally stopped breathing as he beheld the vision of loveliness descending the steps.
Her skin was as smooth and creamy white as the petals of a newly-opened magnolia. Her hair, caught up in a soft cluster of curls, was like a sheaf of sunbeams caught and held by the gardenias he had sent her, under pressure from his mother. Her blue eyes were like cornflowers laughing at the dazed look on his face.

Atomic Area Calves Appear Normal, Veterinarian Says
OAK RIDGE, TENN. — Eight calves, born to cows from the herd brought here from Los Alamos, N. M., after the explosion of the first atomic bomb, appear and act normal, Dr. A. C. Kile, area veterinarian, reported.
He said the cows still have gray hair along their sides and backs as a result of being near the bomb explosion.
"Five other calves were born to the cows last spring, he stated, the only difference in the two sets being that the last eight were sired by 'Ferdinand,' a bull which also was in the vicinity of the bomb explosion."

Big Sanitation Need Is Shown

100 Million U. S. Families Can Use Improvements, Wide Survey Finds.

WASHINGTON. — More than 100 million Americans need improved water supplies and waste disposal facilities, a nationwide survey of sanitation needs indicates.
The United States public health service said that the cost of remedying the condition is estimated at $7,834,581,000.
"This represents," the service said, "a minimum sum that should be spent to reduce the incidence of potential incidence of filth-borne diseases such as dysentery, diarrhea and typhoid fever."
The sanitary engineering division of the health service, in making the survey, found that almost 40 per cent of the needed construction of facilities "is at least at the planning stage."

Conclusions Listed.
Health service officials described the study as "the most complete inventory of basic sanitary needs ever compiled for the nation." Surgeon Gen. Thomas Parran said:
"A sanitary environment for everyone is a basic requirement for a national health program. By furnishing data on the volume of construction needs, the survey will guide future action aimed at providing nation-wide protection against filth-borne diseases."

The survey, which consisted of a study of the sanitation facilities of 78 million persons in 5,800 communities, came up with these conclusions:
The nation needs 2.2 billion dollars in water works construction to serve more than 81 million persons in towns and cities.
Sewerage facilities are needed by 85 million persons in communities of over 200 population at a cost of approximately 3.7 billion dollars.

Rural Area.
Another 1.6 billion dollars in construction is needed to provide "adequate sanitation for 27 million persons living in rural homes with unsatisfactory water supplies and for 33 million rural residents who lack adequate waste disposal facilities."

The report also said that only 12 million persons in rural areas "have reasonably good water."
Cost of needed garbage collection and disposal facilities for the nation is estimated at 166 million dollars.

The health service, in its summary of the report, declared:
"Results indicate that more than two million persons, living in communities of over 200 population, have no community water supply systems and 79 million have systems needing improvements. Nearly 11 million live in communities for which no water supply improvements are scheduled. More than six million persons in towns and cities need new sewerage systems; over 79 million need improved systems; and only about six and a half million are served by adequate systems at present."

U. S. Is Exporting Radios To Europe at Record Rate
WASHINGTON. — Radios, scarce in this country a comparatively short time ago, now are being exported at a record rate. A new high volume of over 60 million dollars for this year is "practically certain," the commerce department said.
The department said that radio exports during the first four months totaled $31,175,035, more than five times as much as in the corresponding months of last year. That is equivalent to an annual rate of $93,566,000 a year, but the department doubted that would be attained.
It said the biggest block to maintaining the current rate is the shrinkage of dollar reserves of many foreign countries.

Holdrege Too Hot for Chanticleers, Game Ends 12 to 6

Second Half Slump by Locals Responsible; Chants Idle Friday; Burwell Next.

As the fourth quarter got under way, Ord was forced to kick against Holdrege's kick over on their own 15 and being held by the Cochran boys, resorted to a punt. Jay Stoddard received, fumbled and Holdrege recovered on Ord's 41. Another blow was taken by the Chanticleers when a 15 yard penalty was tacked on them for unnecessary roughness and another penalty of five yards on the next play for being offside. So it was another first down and goal to go for the visitors. On the second down, Alexander whipped around right end without much interference to go for another touchdown standing up. Try for extra point again failed.

Ord received, taking over on their own 32. On the first play they had to absorb another five yard penalty, their backfield being in motion before the ball was snapped. Losing yardage, they kicked. The Ordites held and blocked Holdrege's fourth-down punt, putting the local boys on their opponent's 35 yard line. After a right score ground, Jay Stoddard finally got loose and collected a first down. With seconds remaining, Stoddard attempted a pass to Blessing, which was incomplete.

The varsity squad rested Monday, but will resume practice Tuesday and Coaches Cochran and Peterson have threatened to turn on the steam for the next two weeks in preparation for the Burwell Longhorn game here October 3. This will be the high point of the season's schedule and the Chants will be bearing down to avenge their Thanksgiving Day defeat at the hands of Burwell last year, the first in 15 years.

SPORTS SHORTS

By Johnny Hammar

A large delegation of fans witnessed last Friday evening's field-dedicating football game, and were well pleased with the arrangement of the new athletic field. Two entrances to the field proved convenient as cars could enter at either the north or south gate. They eliminated the usual traffic jams occurring after most contests, and the field was cleared in a matter of ten minutes or less. Behind the west grand stand the Junior girls sold pop and sandwiches for the benefit of the Junior-Senior banquet. Many a hungry and thirsty fan purchased one of the two, or both.

For the first time in many years, the audience at the Ord-Holdrege game was able to hear all words of the announcer clearly and plainly. A new amplifying system with two new speakers is being furnished for the games by Dillo Troyer and Joe Fajmon.

"Hip" Norman, game announcer, suggested that an effort would be made to find parking space next week for those who were witnessing the game "for free" from various vantage points outside the field.

What Hip didn't know was that the VFW, who donated their services in policing the game and taking tickets had already collected admission prices from all cars parked on the hill. At the end of the half, however, no effort was made to collect admissions.

Summary of the Ord-Holdrege game: ORD—First downs-3; fumbles-5, 3 recovered by Holdrege; passes-5, 1 complete, 4 incomplete; penalties-5, 45 yards. HOLDREGE—First downs-3; fumbles-2, 1 recovered by Ord; passes-3 complete, 2 incomplete, 1 intercepted; penalties-6, 40 yards.

Last Thursday evening North Loup football fans and many from surrounding communities, were given a real thrill as the North Loup six-man football schedule got underway. The St. Ed. aggregation had the too strong for the Valley County boys when St. Edward winning by the narrow margin of 14 to 12. But not until the final gun did North Loup stop fighting. With the score standing at 14 to 12, the North Loup six-man boys, dying fourth quarter, marched the ball to the yard line, where they fumbled away their chances of turning defeat into victory. It was a very fast moving game from start to finish. North Loup halfbacks, Manchester and Nelson, played fine ball, breaking loose for several sensational gains. Thursday evening they play Cairo at North Loup and with no home games here this week many fans will attend.

Golfing took its final spurt of the season when the Ord City Tournament was held last Sunday, with thirty-eight entries from Ord, Grand Island, Ainsworth, Ravenna, Central City, Albion, Bassett, and Arcadia. It was a tournament in which the oldsters were forced to take a back seat for the youngsters. Charlie Davis, former Ord High School student, who is now finishing his senior year at Central City, took away top honors by winning the championship and fifteen dollars. Al Blessing, senior student of Ord High, walked off with second place honors and the lowest score of 103 for 27 holes, four over par. He received seven dollars and a billfold. Doug Dale also an Ord High senior, made the longest drive of the day, 235 yards. He received a box of shells. Dick Malolepszy, Ord High Junior, received a prize for being the youngest golfing contestant.

Edward Piskorski senior tackle on the Chanticleer varsity squad, left school Tuesday afternoon because of illness. Hope "Stein" isn't laid up too long with that Burwell tilt coming up.

OHS Gets New Field For Football Season

This year the colors of O.H.S. will fly on the new gridiron at the Athletic Field. The new field was made as an almost exact replica of the field at the University of Nebraska. The field has been conditioning in the past years and is now ready for field play. The Chanticleers would have played on it last year, only it was impossible at that time to move the lights to the new location.

With last spring's flood, the city and school found it very necessary to move the lights and it was done so this summer. Except for the lights yet to be focused, the field is in tip top shape.

Mr. Cochran states, "The new field, with a little care and condition should be one of the finest fields in the state." He also adds, "It would be only fitting and proper that the new field be a memorial to the boys who lost their lives in World War II."

Game Commission Doesn't Like Coyote Hunts; May Have Predatory Department

North Loup

The elimination of coyotes by the use of coyote drives or hunts is not favored by the state game commission, according to Game Warden Edmonds.

The commission has reached this opinion on the basis of experience in years past. The commission has made a study of coyote's stomachs for several years, and finds that the common jackrabbit is the biggest item of his diet. The coyote drive, which eliminates the rabbits, deprives the coyote of his main diet and forces him by hunger to raid the farmer's chicken pens. The coyote drive often exacts a heavy toll of game animals and birds protected by law.

It is possible that this season the commission will establish a special department for the elimination of predatory animals such as the coyote. If so, the hunting will be done by airplane, by experts in this line. Hunting coyotes from the air has been found to be a very effective method in other states.

While the game commission will strongly discourage the use of the coyote drive, they are strongly in favor of continuing the efforts for the elimination of the coyote tribe.

Cobs

We are shelling a lot of good yellow popcorn for you and have a lot of clean cobs that you can buy for $2 per ton if you will send down and get them right from the sheller. This is pretty cheap fuel if you can use cobs and we believe that you will shell up all this popcorn now and probably won't have any more cobs for a long time. Better get a good supply now.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Seed

We are in the market for your alfalfa and sweet clover seed and will pay you a good price for it. Our reports indicate about normal crop of sweet clover seed with a large carry over of seed. On alfalfa we find that the crop in Central Nebraska is light but nationally there is a carry over and the fact that there was a very large carry over of seed the past year makes alfalfa seed much cheaper than last year.

Seed Corn

We hear much about the shortage of seed corn for this year and we believe that you should get your order in for your seed corn at once. We have no old carry over seed to offer as we sold out completely last year; but the seed crop of this year is looking better all the time and we believe that we will have some extra good seed to deliver to you in the Spring. We have only a limited amount of the new Cornhusker numbers. These numbers should do extra well in this section. In all the trials where these numbers have been grown they have shown up very well. And we feel that you would do well to try some of it this year. We are sold out of several numbers of Cornhusker now and at the rate that sales have been made all of the seed will be sold long before planting time. We do not have a good amount of 118 and we have all the Standard numbers. Remember that if there should be a reduction in price you will get the benefit. Also if you pay for your cornhusker Hybrid in full by Oct. 15th you will get a nice discount!

Beefmakr

Our car of Beefmakr coming next week is a real car for but we will have another car in a few weeks and while the price is some higher we still believe that this is the time to place your orders for your cattle and hog feed. The next few months there is every indication that prices will be as much as $10 per ton higher on these feeds as soon as we have cold weather. You may place your order now and get it off the car and save some money.

Nitrate

We have less than 10 tons of Nitrate unsold out of our Feb. car and we are told that Nitrates and other fertilizers will be much harder to get this coming year than they were last year. Many of you were disappointed last year in not getting your Nitrate that you hoped to get when you wanted to use it; so we are sure that an order now would be to your advantage. If you plan on using fertilizer on grain crops you should make the application in the Spring when the grain is a few inches high.

COOLNESS IN THE AIR

That hint of cool weather we have means that summer is on its last legs and winter will soon be with us.

And it means that meat is now a more important element of the diet — for only meat can give the complete vitamin and protein constituent of the diet. We know you'll like our fresh and cured meats. They're from selected Valley county hogs and porkers, butchered with skill and finished to perfection.

Every beer retailer must first make application for license to the local governing body; the notice of application is published; citizens may appear to challenge the applicant's fitness, and appeals may be made to the state Liquor Control Commission.

Persons engaged in beer retailing in your community have passed the test as to character, reputation, good citizenship, local residence, a record for law observance, financial responsibility and suitable tavern location. They have passed the test!

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

I get a lot of pleasure out of my desk work, which consists of keeping the books on the printing side (Mrs. Laura Anderson keeps the books on the engraving side). I also keep the wholesale books, pay the bills weekly and the first of the month. It is also a part of my work to take care of the subscription department, which is no small job. Then there are numerous other small jobs that sometimes fall to my lot such as going after the mail or taking loads of mail to the postoffice. One of those small jobs is to copy the letters that Ernest S. Coats sends for when it comes to writing Ernest has got Horace Greeley backed off the way and he was supposed to be the worst writer ever.

But what I really started to say was that I get a lot of fun out of taking care of the subscriptions, though I enjoy it all and shall be glad to stay on the job as long as my health is good like it is now. I get a lot of letters with the remittances, some for publication but many from old timers whom I knew forty or fifty years ago, and personal. I got a nice long letter just this morning from Mrs. Dora Lambertson and you will find it on another page. Her husband was our auctioneer forty years ago but after they moved to California he passed on. Later she remarried and her name is now Wachter and her husband is 81 and still going strong and Dora admits that she is not as young as she used to be from what she says in her letter I would like to go out there and board with them for a week or two for Dora Lambertson was one of the good cooks of Ord fifty years ago and no doubt she has learned some new frills in all these years. I believe I would be welcome to at least a meal or two if I were to go that way.

Mixed in with the cheerful letters comes one occasionally that gives me a feeling of sadness. Like the other day a daughter of Mrs. L. A. Cronk wrote to ask that her mother's paper be discontinued when the time paid for expired. The Jay Cronks were prominent in the old days when he was a member of the legislature and quite a prominent Populist politician. The family moved to Idaho many years ago and some time later Mr. Cronk passed on. All these years the Quiz has been a weekly visitor to the Cronk home until now she has been called. There is seldom a week that the Quiz does not chronicle, among others, the death of some old timer forty or fifty years ago.

Last Friday the Missus and I took a day off and drove to Grand Island to spend the day and do a little necessary shopping for some things that we couldn't get in Ord. We found about the same condition there however, and came home without some of the things we hoped to buy and as a result it looks like old man Leggett is going to have to go without underwear this winter and I am shivering already. It seems funny that the makers of underwear would forget big old fellows like me and send their dealers underyears only up to 46 while I need a 32. When we walked into the Wolbach store someone said hello there and Mrs. St. John formerly of the Ord Grill, came up to get us and direct us. She has been here since April and some years ago learned the millinery business at that store. Pretty soon we ran onto Val Pullen who has been with Wolbach's for five years and has a responsible position as receiving clerk of all goods shipped to the store and as building manager. He says he missed his work very much. We timed our return to arrive at St. Paul about 4 p. m. and visited a few moments with Supt. Bloss of the St. Paul schools, who happens to be a cousin of the Missus.

If, in sending in subscriptions, our subscribers would write on the lower left hand corner of the check date it pays to, it would sometimes save me a lot of time and would always be a great convenience.

There are still quite a lot of August 15th expirations that are unpaid and I shall have to take the names off the list. Why not check the date on your paper to which you are paid and if in arrears, send in your renewal.

Something Different

Now about this long-skirt business. What do you think? I don't know. But I was quite astonished one evening last week when my husband really made me think about it. He came out strongly, suggesting I work at the L. B. K. angle, and get that new organization raging in this part of Nebraska.

In several corners of the United States the "little below the knee" gals have been making a lot of noise because fashion designers and merchants stress the trend to longer skirts. The women in this new group are vociferous about the freedom offered by shorter skirts, the convenience of them, and the chances to show a pretty leg.

Editors over the country have been typing editorials, asking if women are going to give up their emancipation, their equality, the hard-won privileges that the ladies spent so many years winning. They go on and on about the news that bustles are supposedly high (?) fashion, and that corsets are again being worn. They declare the women are returning to their corsets and stays and the days of pinched-in waists, abandoning freedom of movement.

And the writers tell how women are now a drove of sheep, led by sales talks and high pressure stylists back to days of bondage and restriction. They laugh and take on because "women haven't any minds of their own", but just do as they're told.

Did you hear about the fellow who was asked his opinion of the new long skirt? Viewing a certain model, he said she "looked as if she had slept in a pencil sharpener all night and been ground out in the morning!" Woo-oo!

But I don't notice the men showing a great deal of independence in their manner of dressing. Once in a long time they add a button on the cuff, or perhaps the "new" lapel rolls down the front one more inch than it did last year.

It took a war world-wide in scope to get the coats off most of these guys! For years they wore coats, wool ones and they perspired all summer while their wives, poor slaves of fashion, were comfortable in short sleeved, low-necked numbers. No great strength of character shown there was there?

Ord Boy Scouts need a cabin of their own. Boy Scout meetings were permitted in the locker house on the football field, and Boy Scout gear was tolerated in there, until the football field officially opened. Now the football field is more pushed around than ever, and so is their equipment. The athletes need the bungalow.

If Ord Scouts had a cabin on the river, or a lodge on a hilltop not too far from Ord, they would troop with renewed vigor. I thought about Anderson Island for such a cottage, but perhaps the river at floodtide would wash the house out. That ground, a gift to the city, has never been utilized to any great extent and probably could be borrowed. The boys could clean out the brush in big time. Out at Bussell Park there are several corners that could be spared to the Scouts. The evergreen park has room for a little cabin. Mrs. Frank Faletta thinks there is room at the north end of the park. The American Legion flag pole is located. Several other spots could be spared to our boys from that large and lovely park.

Shed a tear for the former football field. The new one may have many of the virtues, but will never be so beautiful as the one over in the golf course. Brilliant lights made the circling trees magic, so mysteriously alluring I had trouble keeping my mind on the football game!

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT
By John L. Ward

(Completing the year 1878). A petition by R. T. Honold and others was filed, asking that a new voting precinct be made. The petition was granted and precinct No. 8 was formed. This later became Mira Creek precinct, and comprised about what is now Enterprise and Davis Creek townships. The place for holding the first election, Nov. 5, 1878, was to be at the home of Conrad Boettger, the present home of Myra and George S. Boettger. Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Lee having failed to comply with the regulations set by the board, the county printing was let to Henry W. Nelson, who held the second low bid. At this time Nelson was running a paper, called the Valley County Courier, at Vinton. The town of Vinton was commenced by Nelson, who was county surveyor at the time, Sept. 5, 1878, and great hopes were held for its future. However, Nelson soon moved the Courier to Ord, and today all that is left of the town of Vinton is the school house.

A resolution by A. S. Adams for making a turnpike road to assist in constructing a millrace east of the river was considered and laid over. However, this millrace was constructed later and a flour mill built by F. Mitchell, whose ads appeared in the Ord Weekly Quiz for 1882.

The meeting of Oct. 7 was devoted to settlement with Peter Mortensen, county treasurer. At this meeting and at several preceding the name of A. V. Braudt appeared as one of the board of county commissioners. Nothing appears in the record to show just how he happened to be put in place of B. H. Johnson, but he must have resigned and Braudt appointed in his place. The board met Nov. 11 for the purpose of attending a tax sale of lands being held at that time and it was resolved to bid in for the county's use all lands upon which there was no other bid. The parcels of land bids in totaled 279, and prices ranged all the way from $104.76 for Section 35, township 20, range 15, to 72c for a part of Section 9, in the same township and range. Since the B. and M. R. R. had not paid taxes for the years 1873 to 1878 inclusive, which meant that they had paid no taxes at all, the board resolved to hire Hon. John C. Cowan as the county's attorney to settle with the railroad, Oscar Babcock was added to the three man committee to meet with the commissioners of the railroad and try to make settlement. Thus ended the year 1878.

At the Feb. 24 meeting of the board A. V. Braudt and W. B. Keown were present. The name of Frank Travis appears in the record as being allowed $1 for a cord of wood for the court house. Mr. Travis is still living. N. G. Clement evidently got the job of repairing the Messenger creek bridge as he was allowed $497 for repairing it and one of the Mira Creek bridges. Also appearing was the name of M. Mason, father of John, Lawrence and Leslie Mason, but the initials should have been J. M. Mason.

The county clerk was instructed to furnish the court house with suitable counter and desks for the county officers. Don't forget that court house was 16 by 22 feet in size. April, 1879, there appears an item showing the perils which faced the early settlers. The board heard a communication from A. H. Terry, J. p., acting as overseer of the poor, in regard to one Morris L. Green, who was severely burned in a prairie fire the preceding October. After due deliberation it was resolved to appropriate out of the county general fund the sum of $10 to defray the expense of supporting said Green, who had become a county charge.

A change in county printing indicated, as $200 was appropriated to be paid J. H. Capron and Co. for the printing to be done at legal rates or at such prices as shall be agreed upon by the county commissioners. For the first time the word, Arcadia, appears in the record. John L. Adams was paid $600 for building the Arcadia bridge. This must have been for a bridge across Hawthorne creek, as a river bridge would have cost ten times that amount. April 21 the board met to examine the rolls of the precinct assessors and hear complaints, but no alterations were made. The name of G. H. (Harry) Johnson appeared as being paid for grading up to the Mira Creek bridge recently repaired by N. G. Clement. He owned the place long known as the Johnson place, so-called from the Clement place, now owned by Ray Peterson, and doubtless he planted the cottonwoods still growing on either side of the road there.

At the April 22 meeting many changes were made in the personal record. John L. Adams was paid for homesteads proved up on were added to the tax list. April 23, M. Coombs and others petitioned the board for a bridge across the Middle Loup river, at Arcadia, but the request was refused because of the funds. Commissioner Babcock was instructed to build a stone ford across Mira Creek at the west line of the W. J. Holliday place near North Loup. April 24, the valuation of the vacant lots in the town of Calamus was reduced from $2 to $1, and the valuation of vacant lots in Ord was raised from $1 to $2.50, thus showing that Ord was growing and that Calamus was on the way out.

It was resolved that the county clerk be instructed to procure 8 chairs for the use of the court house and to see that they are used nowhere else, and that a certificate in the amount of $9.59 be issued to the clerk for the purchase of said chairs. While J. H. Capron had been made official printer, the board nevertheless allowed a printing bill of Henry Nelson for $8.10. It was resolved that the county treasurer is hereby instructed to pay from the amount received from the Burlington railroad in Nebraska in lieu of taxes for the years 1873-78, various amounts into the several funds of the county and schools. It appeared that the total amount received was $7,000. There were also various expenses connected with the courthouse settled. Z. K. Ferguson was allowed $3 for one board furnished the court house, (probably for a desk top), F. LeRue was paid $1.50 for preparing the room for district court for the July term, 1878, and B. C. Clement (Ben) was paid $75 for making repairs to the court house, built four years before for $800. It appears that they were rough on public buildings in those days. This completed the first half of the year 1879.

sure like to taste some of that delicious fruit you have up there, but don't care anything about your fish. We have fish here, but I never eat it. My grandson, Clark Martin and his wife came down a couple of weeks before Xmas and he brought us a 38 lb Salmon that he caught in his front yard at Lake Redwood lodge where he worked. It was lovely for those that liked fish and it made lots of people happy to get fresh Salmon. My husband will eat fish three times a day when he can get it. Dear Friend Homer: Just a few lines to let you know that I am still living but not so good; but still able to be up and around and the Mr. is still very busy and passed his 84th birthday. Everything is lovely, just has a little shower, and everything is so green and lovely flowers everywhere. I have a great many of all kinds. Had our oranges picked the last couple of weeks but didn't have a large crop this year, but we have lots of other fruit. Our cellar is full of all kinds of fruit and we have a locker full of meat and frozen fruit so you see we have plenty to eat.

Well, I'll tell you—I lay it to a peaceful married life—My wife and I agreed on a plan years ago. If I blew my top she just kept still — If she got mad at me I just walked outdoors until she got over it and you know, I've been enjoying outdoor life for the past fifty years.

Venetian Blinds of

How often you've wished for a Venetian Blind like this...Light—made of a special aluminum alloy, no heavier than your hand to lift. Flexible—bends to fit your brush as you whisk the dust away, then snaps tight back to place. Lovely—its satin-smooth plastic finish blends with every color scheme, resists stains and soil. It's the Venetian Blind without a cleaning problem that's proof against the wear and tear of time—rust-proof, wear-proof, warp-proof, too, and will not crack, chip or peel.

Bring in your window measurements and let us custom-fit Flevadum's beauty to your windows at smaller cost than you'd think possible.
