Rotenone Is Superior To DDT for Sheep Tick
DDT kills sheep ticks, but the old fashioned way of controlling these troublesome parasites still seems to be the best, according to research results announced by a group of veterinary scientists.

In a report of the American Veterinary Medical association, experiments with a total of more than 5,000 sheep were described.

A single dipping in mild solutions of DDT was found sufficient to eradicate ticks from sheep. The solutions are "easily prepared," the report said, and are suitable for farm and ranch use "if properly handled."

However, no advantage was found for DDT over the use of rotenone solutions, the traditional dip for sheep ticks. On the contrary, rotenone was declared to have two distinct advantages.

"Rotenone suspensions can be applied to sheep for only a fraction of the cost of commercial DDT compounds," the report explained. "Moreover, rotenone is quite harmless to sheep, while DDT may prove poisonous if improperly used."

Turbulent Era Followed Drilling of First Oil Well
In 1857 the Seneca Oil company had the revolutionary idea that crude oil, like water, could be found by drilling, and decided to test the theory on a tract of land near Titusville, Pa. The location was selected because of the large number of oil seepages there. Edwin L. Drake, a retired railroad conductor, was hired by a company to sink a well. He started drilling in June, 1859, and on August 27 of that year he struck oil at 69 1/2 feet.

Drake's shallow well started the modern oil industry. A turbulent era began, similar to the California gold rush a few years earlier, as men flocked to Titusville. Within a few months hundreds of wooden drilling derricks dotted the region.

In those days petroleum was used mainly to make "lamp oil," lubricating oil, harness oil, axle grease and medicinal preparations. The gasoline unavoidably produced in distilling operations was regarded as a nuisance and generally was dumped into creeks or rivers, where it created a fire hazard.

Alfalfa for Industry
A new method of processing fresh cut green alfalfa promises to open industrial outlets for such alfalfa products as proteins and the pigments or coloring materials. Developed at the western regional research laboratory, the new process seems to assure savings in freight to distant markets for the processed alfalfa concentrates which are of high value as feeds. The possibilities of the alfalfa products in human nutrition and as nutrients for production of antibiotics are being investigated.

Extraction of the pigments and the protein while the plant tissues are still fresh and moist results in easier separation and no damage to the quality of either the pigments or protein from heat or drying. Industrial uses of the plant pigments, chlorophyll, xanthophyll and carotene, include carotene to replace vitamin A, xanthophyll as a poultry feed ingredient, and chlorophyll for pharmaceutical purposes and as an ingredient in air fresheners.

Combs from Shoes
In the 1880s, old shoes were gathered in the United States, cut into small pieces and for several days soaked in chloro-sulphuric liquid. When dried, pieces of leather were hard. After washing in water and drying again, the leather strips were ground into powder and mixed with glue. This material was used in making combs, buttons and knife handles.

The Quiz Calls On A FARM NEIGHBOR

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jablonski

By John L. Ward

Joseph J. Jablonski was born Jan. 3, 1892, a son of Thomas and Ann Jablonski. His mother's maiden name was Suminski. Joe was the only son in the family but there were several daughters. In order of age, they are Wanda, widow of John G. Zukoski, who takes care of her father in their home in Elyria. Josephine, wife of Ralph Krason, died in 1939. Pauline, who married Charles Davenport, died about twenty years ago at Carson City, Nev., leaving one son. Jessie married Max Schuyler, who died a number of years ago. She lives in South Dakota. Victor, the youngest of the Jablonski women, is married to Harry Shey. Thomas Jablonski, father of this family, came to America 75 years ago, locating first in Missouri. Later he came to St. Libory, and in the '80s he took up land in Michigan township, which was the home of the family for a long period of time. Shortly after his arrival here he was employed by the Union Pacific railroad, which at that time was extending its line from North Loup to Ord. He recalls that times were tough in those days, and he also recalls carrying a fifty pound sack of flour on his back all the way from Grand Island to his claim. I wonder how many young men would try such a task today. He retired from active work some years ago, and is living in Elyria. He and his wife, who died in the '30s, were married in 1888.

Mrs. Joe Jablonski (Minnie Polak) was one of the nine daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Polak, both of whom are now dead. The two sons are also dead. Both the parents came to America from Czechoslovakia about 1880 and took a farm over in Geranium township. There they were leaders in community activities. Mr. Polak ran a store for many years there. He acted as the neighborhood dentist at a time when dentists were few and far between. He was blacksmith for his neighbors, and knew how to do carpenter work. He was a talented musician and played the piano as well as being leader of the church choir.

The nine Polak daughters are well and popularly known in this section of Nebraska. They are: Mary, Mrs. John Zabloudek, they live in Ord. Mrs. J. M. (Rose) Novotny, they live 14 miles west of Ord. Antonia, Mrs. Jake Chalupsky, lives at Comstock. Emma, Mrs. Martin Weyerka, lives at Sargent. Frances, Mrs. Joe Suchanek, lives 14 miles west of Ord on the old home place of the Polaks, where all the girls were born. Anna, Mrs. Joe Sedlacek, lives four miles northwest of Ord. Next comes Mrs. Jablonski. Then Mrs. John (Lillian) Ulrich, who lives two miles northwest of Ord. The youngest is Eleanor, Mrs. Joe L. Dvorak. They live about three miles northwest of Ord.

FFA History Traced To New Jersey Group

A group undertaking by New Jersey farm boys in 1923 has been responsible for the national organization known as the Future Farmers of America. Twenty-five years ago, students taking vocational agricultural courses in rural high schools gathered together at the college of agriculture, Rutgers university. Then, as now, state-wide contests for farm boys were held, judged by instructors and extension specialists at the college. During the get-together in the fall of 1923, youths from several counties discussed the possibility of organizing a state-wide group. The outcome was an association formed by the boys under the name of the Young Farmers association of New Jersey.

"The aim of this association is to advance the interests the members have in common and to create new interests that will tend to bring them into closer relationship," the group stated in its constitution. The young people planned the association so as to build a friendly rivalry among the various schools of the state. The members aimed to further the cause of vocational agriculture in the public schools and to train themselves for future participation in adult affairs.

Soon after the return of the contestants to their home towns, local organizations were formed in all the schools where agriculture was taught, and the individual clubs affiliated with the state organization founded at the college.

Low Water Level Closes Historic Rhine to Shipping

Stoppage of commercial shipping on the Rhine because of a record drop in water level deprives Europe temporarily of one of its longest and most important communication routes, notes National Geographic society.

The legend-haunted stream, famed in war and peace, flows for more than 800 miles from the head of navigation at Basel, Switzerland, to multiple mouths on the North sea.

In its course, the Rhine flows through the heart of Europe, Germany, France, the Netherlands and, by merging canals and railway links, of Belgium as well. For landlocked Switzerland, the Rhine artery is especially valuable. More than half of that small country's foreign trade, including nearly all its essential raw-material imports, normally is carried by river barges. The major portion of the Rhine's commercial shipping is made up of bulk cargoes of coal, iron, steel and grain, plus fruits and wines, vegetables, cattle and dairy products, and manufactured goods of all kinds turned out by the reviving industrial centers along the river's long course. The drop in the water level has worked a real hardship upon Switzerland as well as the "black" Ruhr district and many centers in Germany.

Chemical Energy Stored

Chemical energy and not electricity is stored in a storage battery. When the battery is charged, the charging current produces in the battery certain chemical reactions. As the battery is used, these reactions are reversed and an electrical current is produced. In a somewhat more literal sense, however, electricity can be stored in a condenser or "capacitor," which consists essentially of two conducting metal plates separated by an insulator. A positive electrical charge is put on one plate and a negative charge on the other. If the conductors have large surfaces and the insulator is very thin, the condenser will have a high capacity, but the amount of energy stored in a big capacitor would be much smaller than that of an ordinary automobile storage battery. When an automobile storage battery is disconnected and put away for the winter, it soon loses charge and deteriorates and must be recharged.

China Building Large New Irrigation Plant

China is planning to pump new life into the old dragon by building the biggest concrete dam, irrigation project and power plant ever known.

Yangtze Gorge project is planned to revitalize the jam-packed, hunger-ridden, flood-menaced Yangtze valley. It will rebuild the valley from the rice roots up. Within a 300-mile range of Ichang damsite more than 130 million Chinese have clung precariously to life for generation upon generation. Fighting flood and famine, toiling in hopeless poverty, they have been unable to utilize vast resources at their doorstep. While the valley Chinese lit their homes with scanty fish-oil lamps and industries withered or failed to develop for lack of power, the unharmed Yangtze carried its wasted energy to the sea. They died of hunger because the life-giving water of the river could not be carried to their fields.

Yangtze Gorge project hinges on construction of Ichang dam on the Yangtze in central China, about 300 miles east of Chungking, 600 miles west of Shanghai, about 200 miles northwest of Changsha. Ichang dam will be higher than Hoover dam, back up a reservoir 250 miles long, exceed the volume of massive Grand Coulee dam by a third, store 50 million acre-feet of water to irrigate 10 million acres, and be an electric power producer three times greater than Grand Coulee, Hoover and Shasta together.

Robert Lee was in the air corps a year before the war started, and had about 5 1/2 years service in all. During the war he was liaison pilot in the Galapagos islands and at Panama. He married Marcela Iwanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Iwanski, and they live in Burwell, where he is running a beer parlor. They have one daughter, who is just one year old. Eleanor Jo is the wife of Stanley Copeland, formerly of Gibbon. They operate the East Side Cafe in Ord.

Heart Disease Reported As Major Death Cause

Heart disease was the leading cause of death among life insurance policyholders in 1946, accounting for one-third of all deaths in the year, the Institute of Life Insurance reports. More than 400,000 life insurance policies were paid as claims for heart-disease deaths last year. This was more than twice the number paid as claims for deaths resulting from cancer, the second largest cause of death during the year among policyholders.

Notwithstanding an increase in the death toll of these two diseases, the 1946 death rate among ordinary policyholders showed a decline to 69.3 per 100,000, compared with 71.5 in 1941. The death rate among owners of industrial life insurance policies, the weekly payment, small unit type usually issued without medical examination, was much higher than among ordinary life policyholders. The 1946 rate for industrial policyholders was 768.5 per 100,000, a decline from 787.5 in 1941.

'Silent' Cancer Gives Very Little Warning

"Silent" stomach cancer, in which tumors develop to "appalling" proportions with little or no warning symptoms, is still a major problem of cancer specialists and of doctors conducting cancer prevention clinics. This is a conclusion of Dr. Morris E. Dailley, clinical instructor in medicine in University of California medical school, after a study of 333 persons with surgically proved stomach cancers, operated on at University of California hospital between 1930 and 1946, 7.2 per cent had symptoms of indigestion, weight loss, abdominal pain or weakness for two months or less.

"The size and extent of these tumors were appalling," the physician stated. "In one-third of these 24 cases, the carcinoma had extended, or metastasized, beyond the confines of the stomach. Thus the inference is obvious, since these tumors could hardly attain such size in two months, that a silent phase of development of unknown length had been present."

This has made the job of cancer-prevention clinics more difficult in stomach cancer than in more accessible cancers, such as occur on the breast, cervix, skin, thyroid and lymph nodes, the physician said.

Turkey Has Its Mineral

Asia Minor, thought to be the country of the Golden Fleece, does not seem to possess the gold which ancient Croesus is said to have amassed buying it with Athenian silver at the market of Ephesus and selling it to Greece at high profits. The silver and lead mines of Ballia as well as copper deposits of Ergani are regularly rich. Coal, chrome and manganese also are found and mined in Turkey. Coal is the outstanding mineral of the country and is mined at Zonguldak, on the Black sea, some 135 miles from Istanbul. The bituminous coal is of high quality, comparable to any in the world. The output actually makes Turkey self-sufficient in coal, with a small surplus for exportation. This does not mean, however, that when the country becomes sufficiently industrialized the present output will be enough. Actually measures are under way for a large increase in production.

Nicotine Extraction Methods

The shortage of nicotine, an extremely important pesticide, has caused the U. S. department of agriculture to undertake a project to recover nicotine from nicotiana rustica, the wild tobacco plant the Indians were using when this country was discovered. The program calls for research on the recovery of nicotine from the green tobacco plants, as well as from dried material. This is a new approach to the problem since most of the nicotine that is produced from tobacco today is obtained from the dry material. A method that would enable the nicotine to be extracted from the green plants may be of considerable economic importance since it might eliminate the time and trouble involved in drying and extend the use of agricultural commodities.

Irrigation and Drainage

With high land that needed irrigation and low land that needed drainage, a Virginia farmer put a two-way squeeze on his watering problems. He used two five-horsepower motors — one to pump water into lines to irrigate his high land and the other to operate a sump pump which draws water off the low land and into a drainage ditch. Another Virginia farmer put his irrigation system to use to pump water out of his flooded cellar. Water was pumped through a standard lateral into a stream which serves his irrigation system.

Welding Electrodes

If all the sticks of welding electrodes made during the war were laid end to end they would extend around the world at the equator 250 times.

Paper Milk Containers Favored by Housewives

Evidence continues to substantiate the belief that paper milk bottles eventually will capture the "store trade" and make big inroads to the doorstep delivery of milk.

Careful marketing studies made in Grand Rapids and Flint, Mich., indicate the housewife's preference for milk in paper containers when purchased at her grocery store.

From March, 1940, to March, 1941, milk in paper containers and in glass bottles was made available in the stores served by the Grand Rapids Grocers' Cooperative company. Sales in the paper containers increased 400 per cent and the store discontinued selling milk in glass bottles.

Similar survey has been completed in six Grand Rapids stores covering a period from August, 1933 to May 1, 1947, including four super markets, one self-service store and one service store making home delivery. One of the four super-markets offered milk in both paper and glass containers. Weekly sales in paper bottles rose from 288 quarts to 40 quarts for an increase of 138 per cent, while sales in glass bottles represented only 16.4 per cent of the total volume.

Sales in paper bottles in the other super-markets showed increases of 245, 308 and 360 per cent. Sales in the self-service market rose 231 per cent, while sales in the service store which made house deliveries soared 400 per cent.

Population of Quail

Despite the fact that they have been protected from hunters for many years, quail in Ohio are now at their lowest population point in history.

Fossilized Tiger Found

Perfectly fossilized skeleton of a tiger has been found in a limestone cavern near Sowanee, Tenn., which indicates that the Appalachian mountains may have been a jungle lowland 30,000 years ago. The skeleton was discovered by Dr. Edward McCrary of University of the South. When he and two students entered the cave to photograph rock formations they found the tiger fossil in a sealed off chamber. This was the first complete specimen ever found in the southeast. It was encased in limestone formed by droppings of water from the ceiling.

Efficient Transportation

The United States possesses the most extensive and efficient transportation system in the world. Practically every community is served by some type of transport, and many thousands by several. The private automobile and motor truck, supplementing the commercial carrier, supply access to every locality. Prior to World War II the United States had only 6 per cent of the world's population, but had one-third of the railway mileage, more than two-thirds of the passenger automobiles and more than one-half of the motor trucks in the world.

Eclipsing Binaries

There are a great number of stars in the sky called eclipsing binaries, whose light varies periodically over a relatively short period of time, the variation in light being caused by rotation of two stars around the center of gravity of the system. By accurately determining the variation in light over the entire period the astronomer can determine the relative brightness of the two stars, the relative masses, the relative densities, the radii in terms of the radius of the orbit, the relative temperatures and the inclination of the plane of the orbit. The precise shape of the light curve also will yield data relating to other physical properties of the stars.

Reconstituted Milk

Many of the two million people residing in Mexico City today are drinking fluid milk produced by cows 2,000 miles distant from the plant in which the milk was packaged. Powdered whole milk is received from the United States in 200-pound barrels. This powder is produced from milk which, after inspection and testing, is pasteurized, homogenized and fortified by the addition of vitamin D. The powdered whole milk is shipped by air-freight to Mexico City, where it is reconstituted by addition of purified, sterile water and packaged in non-returnable paper containers in one of the world's most modern fluid milk handling plants. One hundred fifty thousand quarts a day are being distributed in Mexico City.

WONDERING ABOUT ADVERTISING

Here Is One Main Fact to Consider

ADVERTISING VALUE

The true value of advertising lies not in the actual pro-sale offering of merchandise for sale, but in subtler manner — the keeping before the public eye the name of your company and the name of your products.

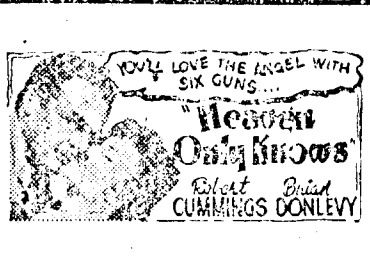

The average consumer of the articles you sell, when he has no immediate need of those articles, does not buy. But in the constant association of yourself and those articles in persistent advertising lies advertising's tremendous profits.

NEW FLORAL DESIGNS GREET EASTER SEASON

Below, the fragile calla lily becomes a durable costume highlighted through a new waxing process which permits severely classic corsage designs like this.

At right, flowers for the Easter breakfast table gain added interest when "bunny" is made welcome by a novelty container fashioned from cabbage-and-carrot rabbit food. This holds a tasteful display of yellow jonquils, stock and pussy willow.

Manufacturing Fir Plywood

Fir plywood is manufactured only from prime logs of giant, old growth, Douglas firs usually from three to eight feet in diameter. The cross-grain construction of plywood makes it splitproof so nails may be driven near the edge without danger of splitting. Called "not presses," giant machines set the waterproof glues of exterior plywood in about five minutes. The resultant bond is stronger than the wood itself.

Trees Grow in America

There are 862 species, 228 varieties and 87 hybrids, a total of 1,177 different forms of trees in the United States. A few are naturalized foreign species. Only 34 softwoods and 70 hardwoods are commercially important.

Pop Corn Contracts

We have a few hundred acres of Jap Hulless Pop Corn contracts to write with a reliable firm. If you have irrigated land and want a good cash crop, let us tell you about this Jap Hulless contract. The seed used for these contracts is very carefully selected and will produce the maximum crop. Contracted popcorn is a crop that is delivered early in the fall and makes an excellent cash crop.

Seed Oats and Barley

Our Clinton Oats will be in this week. We believe that good seed oats will be scarce at planting time. We find that we are able to get another truckload of these Certified Clinton Oats in sealed bags. So we urge you to get your supply of Clinton Oats now. These Clinton Oats have proved that they are a very good variety for this section of the state.

They Still Grow Up

Almost 600 years before Columbus, Vikings were voyaging to America to harvest the forests, yet woodlands still cover more than 600 million acres. With the spread of modern forest management methods that increase regrowth, forests continue to supply the country's needs forever. The American tree farm movement — the growing of trees as a farm crop — has been extended to nearly 14 million acres of privately owned woodlands. With improved forest management and adequate protection from fires, tree farming is expected to provide America with perpetual forests.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Seed

The supply of sweet clover seed is very limited and the price has advanced a couple of cents per pound the last month; and white blossom will be very scarce a little later. At present we do have good supplies of yellow blossom but doubt if it will take care of the demand at planting time. You can make your booking on sweet clover and take delivery a little later. At present alfalfa seed this year the supply is not going to take care of the demand. We expect the alfalfa seed in this year as alfalfa seed is much cheaper than it has been for several years. The quality is extra good this year.

Brome and Crested Wheat

This year Crested Wheat Grass is not as plentiful as Brome Grass and the price is a little higher. Brome is very plentiful and the price is lower than it has been for some years. In planting Brome Seed you should be very careful that you do not plant seed that contains noxious weeds; much of the Brome seed contains Chess or Cheat and these are weeds that are very hard to get rid of. Be sure that the Brome Seed that you buy has been state tested and that every bag is tagged and guaranteed to be as represented by the tags on the bags. All Brome and Crested Wheat should be planted early. Be sure to sow them just as early as you can get to it.

++ Something Different ++

One of our really good institutions in this country is the 4-H organization. Over many years it has proved what it can do for the boy or the girl who joins, and many and many a good citizen thanks 4-H for his first inspiration.

At present the new 4-H groups are forming. Your boy or girl surely couldn't do better than to become an active member. I don't know a great deal about it, but if you are interested you can get information from Katherine Helzer or from Carl Dale.

Costs have gone up for you and me. Well, they've gone up for the Red Cross too. So when a disaster, like the flood at Cambridge, strikes in these times it takes more money to help those people than it would have cost ten years ago. So don't hold out when the Red Cross asks you to join their roll call. It costs money to help others when big-scale disaster comes. Last year the Red Cross helped 95,600 disaster victims.

One of the finest things the Red Cross has done is to set up a blood bank in Omaha. This should be of considerable assistance to Nebraska people, for before that the closest blood bank was at Kansas City. And if you needed a transfusion in a hurry, some generous soul with the correct blood type had to be located in a hurry.

Out west the boys didn't think so much of the girls covering up their pretty (and otherwise) legs. So the boys decided to have the new look too, and they got it by tying their neckties so that the broad end dangled below their waists.

That would never work in Ord, where our boys prefer sport shirts. That open-throated shirt is one of the most comfortable fashions men have ever achieved, I'm betting.

I am not a bit sure that all this wonderful age of premiums and prizes is a good thing for Americans. I refer to the free prizes on radio programs, specifically where, for answering one super-stupid question the lady or man in question receives a diamond ring, a yacht, a house and lot, an ice box, a car, a trip, radio, phonograph, a week at the Biltmore hotel and etc. and etc.

This country was built on the theory that honest effort was rewarded. We have skidded a good way from that position at present. And it seems to me that if anything more were required to convince each of us that luck beats every combination of hard work and brains, it is all this free stuff.

These pretty black birds with the iridescent heads... they're crackles aren't they? I couldn't know less about birds than I do. But these are so attractive and shiny against the snowy background. Where do they go when they leave Ord? North, I suppose. Does any reader know, I'm curious about them.

Cause for indignation, No. 1,463,962: While we're supposed to be saving food, every crumb and crust, why are eating places continuing to serve stuff ON toast or WITH toast that is never eaten?

Yes, I know it makes the helping look bigger, but if I can't eat the toast anyway...

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

It seems that there are not enough days in the week to take care of the many activities that are going on all the time. Perhaps I should have said nights, as it is the nights where most of the conflicts seem to come. One time recently, it became necessary to postpone the North Loup show card class a week.

The regular night is Monday night, but that night for March first had been spoken for by the Lions club for the charter night of the new club over at Ericson. As about half the class wanted to attend, it meant that the class would have to meet on another night of that week.

Not long ago a writer in the World-Herald suggested that another night be added to the week, and it seemed like a good idea at the time, except for the impossibility of having an eight day week under our present system. On second thought, one extra day a week would provide only temporary relief.

Last week I planned a trip and wanted to get up early to go with the mail man. Of course I overslept and found I had just an hour to get ready, including eating breakfast and shaving. To facilitate matters I left my shirt off until after I had shaved.

community had its own particular lodge, and the larger one had two or more. Today there are so many conflicts that every week a fellow has to choose between two meetings, both of which he should attend.

I have always contended that the North Loup valley is the greatest place in the world to live, and now I think so more than ever. Last week I went down to Scotia, went into Harry Selk's store and made a purchase.

When citizens asked for protection against Indians, General Ord sent a group of soldiers, perhaps 40 men, from Omaha, to investigate conditions.

"Cap" Cook who lived in Elba and was a heavy landowner until about 1870, was a Captain in the "Skeedaddled back to Omaha."

Let us go back forty years or more, then all who noted that shirttail would have been properly horrified, and I would have been disgraced in the eyes of the public.

button shoes. (Yes, they called them limbs in those days.) Times have certainly changed since then. Now it is a common thing to see the young fellows and some of the older ones as well, going around with the lower portion of their shirts flapping in the breeze.

Some time ago I asked for any further data in regard to whether Gen. E. O. C. Ord really visited the upper North Loup valley or not. Since then I received a letter from Horace M. Davis, oldest native son of the North Loup area and appropriately, president of the Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska.

Dear John: It is doubtful if General E. O. C. Ord ever went as far up the North Loup river as Ord or Fort Hartstuff.

When citizens asked for protection against Indians, General Ord sent a group of soldiers, perhaps 40 men, from Omaha, to investigate conditions. They made camp about two miles north and west of Elba, where Munson creek reaches the valley.

—Where would you look to see if someone had found your lost livestock? In the QUIZ want ads, of course.

Out of Old Nebraska

by James C. Olson, Supt. State Historical Society

Sixty-nine years ago this March 1st, Dr. George L. Miller, founder of the Omaha Herald and one of early Nebraska's editorial giants relinquished his active newspaper career.

A New Yorker by birth, Dr. Miller came to Nebraska in 1851 shortly after the territory was organized. Armed with a degree in medicine and a few months practice he proposed to cast his professional fortunes in the frontier village of Omaha.

Realizing the deficiencies of his own education and of the type of "practice" common to the medical profession of that time, within a few months after his arrival in Nebraska Dr. Miller abandoned medicine for politics.

He founded the Omaha Daily Herald in 1865 and until he sold his interest in 1887 continued to exercise direct supervision over the editorial pages as well as many of the news pages.

Dr. Miller was an ardent democrat and while he edited the Herald reflected his vigorous, uncompromising views on state, local and national politics. His positive, aggressive spirit, however, frequently led him into controversy with members of his own party as well as with men of the opposition.

Nebraska during the 19th Century was the fact that its foremost figures, Dr. George L. Miller and J. Sterling Morton, spent only about half their time working together—the other half they spent in feuding.

Dr. Miller was eternally interested in the development of Omaha and used his editorial influence unceasingly to bring new industry into the city. In addition, he labored faithfully with Morton, Furnas and others to convince the people of Nebraska that one of their primary concerns must be the planting of trees on these barren plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Penas and their three daughters will leave tomorrow to make their home in Lebanon, Ore. They sold all their property at auction last Thursday.

Mr. Penas will be employed as a carpenter and painter for the time being and will later work in the lumber mills or chemical factory. They were guests of relatives and friends this past week.

Mr. Penas will be employed as a carpenter and painter for the time being and will later work in the lumber mills or chemical factory.

NEW JANITOR Leonard Witherwax is the new janitor in the Ord schools. Tom Williams is replacing Art Jensen in the grade school. Mr. Witherwax will work at the high school in Mr. Williams' place until the end of this school year and will be the grade school janitor next fall.

APPLICATION APPROVED The Loup Valley Rural Electric Membership association of Ord has had its application to use the roads and highways in Sherman, Valley, Greeley, Garfield, Wheeler and Loup counties approved by the state railway commission.

ZULKOSKI IMPROVED James Zulkoski, who has been seriously ill in an Omaha hospital for the past five weeks, was able to come home last Monday.

Nebraska Beer and Liquor Licenses Expire April 30

The tavern-keepers who will sell beer in your town for the year starting May 1 will be selected soon.

All must apply for a new license. The elected officials in your town will make the selections. Who will these tavern-keepers be? Will they be men of whom you approve?

YOU have an obligation in the selection of licensees. A public hearing affords you the opportunity of protesting the selection of any you find should not have a license.

Your interest in improving beer-selling conditions is genuinely welcomed by the beer industry. They, too, are anxious that only those are selected who observe the State's liquor control laws.

You will serve your community by urging the selection of none but good licensees.

We have special lockers for the storing of fish and sea foods—your guarantee that it will always reach you in the best of condition.

CHEESES

While we don't claim to be a fancy cheese store, we've gone to some effort to build up a nice variety of cheeses which will add zest to Lenten meals or meals anytime. We have a real sharp tangy CHEDDAR that will taste like more, as well as the milder LONGHORN. If you go for cheese with a different flavor try some LAGERKASE or MOUNT HOPE BRICK. And we have LIMBURGER, OLD ENGLISH, PHILADELPHIA CREAM as well as the pasteurized cheeses such as AMERICAN, VELVEETA, and others.

And for those who like neat little packages, we have a wide assortment of cheeses packed in glass—the complete Kraft line of "spread" cheeses.

ALWAYS THE TOP QUALITY BEEF!

We've started cutting into some really choice beef lately—off of some of those good, low-down, blocky type of Valley county beeves that we've brought to a finish in our own lot. This is really choice beef—some of the best we've had in a long time—and we want to recommend it to you.

MRS. ETHEL HAMER Quiz Representative North Loup

after being brought from the hospital.

She is survived by one son, one daughter, nine grandchildren and one great granddaughter. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Green, many nephews and nieces and a host of friends.

Funeral services for Mrs. Brannon were held Saturday afternoon from the Seventh Day Baptist church with her pastor, Rev. A. C. Ehret in charge. A boys quartet, Wayne Babcock, George Maxson, Jr., Clair Barber and Warren Brannon sang, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Whispering Hope."

Mrs. Ava Johnson was at the piano and Mrs. Louise Brennick at the organ. Pallbearers were Arthur Stillman, Vernon Williams, George Clement, Aubrey Davis, Edgar Davis and Charles Fuller. Rev. Ehret's sermon was based on a number of clippings found in Mrs. Brannon's things, one of which was the "Valley of Peace" Miller and Ashley were the undertakers.

Here from out of town for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brannon of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lawton of Chicago and Neva Brannon of Battle Creek, Mich.

Leaves After 20 years Saturday was Mrs. Lois Reddon's last day in the Farmers store in North Loup after nearly twenty years of faithful service. Not all of the twenty years have been served consecutively, but she had been there this time for nearly eleven years. Efficient as a grocery salesman, Mrs. Reddon also was a most efficient clerk in the dry goods, in fact has had nearly complete charge of the dry goods department and will be missed greatly by all the Farmers Store customers. Mr. and Mrs. Reddon have bought the Mrs. Florence Hutchins place just south of North Loup and are moving there this week. Mrs. Reddon plans to spend her time raising chickens and a garden. Her position at the Farmers store has not been filled as yet.

Organ Recital Sunday Night
George A. Johnson, nationally known church, radio, theatre and concert organist, will give a recital on the new electric Hammond organ at the Seventh Day Baptist church Sunday, March 7, at 8 p. m. Mr. Johnson has made a special study of the Hammond electric organ and is an authority on this new instrument. Since 1935, when the Hammond organ was first introduced to the public, he has made over five hundred appearances in the United States. His organ committee feel fortunate to be able to secure him for this initial concert on their new instrument. Dedication services for the organ will be held on Sabbath morning, March 6, at 10 a. m. Both services are open to the public and no admission will be charged for either.

Following is the program for the Sunday night concert:
Trumpet Voluntary Purcell
"Jesus, Joy of Men's Souls" Bach
"Arioso" (Wolin Sonata) Bach
Largo (Xerxes) Handel
Allegro Cantabile (Symphony V) Widor
Cradle Song Brahms-Mearns
Improvisation on a Favorite Hymn Selected
March (The Squid) Gounod
Scherzino (The Squid) Weaver
Chimes at Eventide Geo. Johnson
The Humorous Flute G. Johnson
A Trip Through the Organ George Johnson
Grand Fantasia (Materna) Gerald Mearns

Challengers Lose
North Loup lost to Elba in the semi-finals of the district tournament Thursday night 41-30. In the game, the Challengers were far below the performance they had exhibited in easily outclassing Dannebrog the night before.

On Friday evening the North Loup team returned to Elba and took the measure of Boelus in the consolation game 40-28. Enough fouls were called against North Loup to remove every player on the team had it not been for frequent substitutions. Boelus took a total of forty-three shots from the foul line. Lettermen on the 1947-48 squad include Myles Nelson, Charles Beebe, Harold Klingensmith, Joe Babcock, Dawayne Lytle, Les Leonard, Bob Hawley, Romie Goodrich, Carroll Maligan, Russell Kerr, Gerald Manchester and Dean Hutchins. Charles Beebe and Myles Nelson are the two lettermen who will be lost by graduation.

Although the steady performance of the two boys will be missed, prospects are bright for another winning season. The Challengers finished the season with fourteen victories against six losses.

Hospital Meeting Results in A New Committee Formed

Opposition to Church Operation Expressed; Rather See City or County in Charge.

Eighty persons attending a meeting Monday night to crystallize efforts for a community hospital in Ord heard divided opinions as to management, and adjourned following a motion to form a new community-wide committee to further consider the hospital question.

The committee of ten will be appointed this week by Bruce Covey, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, who acted as chairman of the meeting Monday. The Chamber of Commerce is now bowing out of the picture as a hospital committee.

Ralph Norman, chairman of the chamber civic committee which had conducted an investigation of hospitals in the past, presented the committee findings and recommendations to those assembled: (1) That the committee felt that building a hospital with federal aid would be a waste of money when the Miller hospital could be purchased for $25,000.

(2) That operation of the hospital by a city or county invited an inevitable loss of 20 percent a year. (3) That turning the hospital over to some religious group for management was the best method of assuring efficient hospital operation without cost to the taxpayers or further donations for upkeep.

Counter proposals were immediately made. M. B. Cummins told the group that he had been favorably impressed with the system used in the Doctor's Hospital in Omaha, and that he believed a similar method could be used at the Ord hospital. He suggested that the hospital be turned over to a physicians' group to run and made open to every doctor in the valley.

Dr. F. J. Osenowsky pointed out that what might operate in Omaha with hundreds of doctors would not necessarily operate in Ord. "Interchange of patients would soon lead to petty jealousies," he said.

Several proposals were made that the hospital might be operated best by either county or city government. Dr. F. L. Blessing stated that he thought the present county poor farm could just as well be sold and the proceeds applied toward a county hospital. "It has not been used for its purpose for years, and would give us a nice start toward hospital acquisition."

The county "poor farm" is a 16-acre tract, partly under irrigation and probably probably $30,000 under present valuations. It is rented and paid the county about $1,100 in 1946, which was used for assistance and other purposes. Sale of the tract would have to be authorized by taxpayers at an election.

Objectors to the local government operation pointed out that hospital operation was money-losing business due to the salaries necessary to obtain skilled management, trained nurses and technicians.

"A tax levy would be necessary to offset the yearly deficit. If the deficit were only $10,000 a year, a levy of over 5 mills would be necessary for Ord to make up the difference, or if the county took over, a levy of nearly a mill would be used. The county is now at its limit of five mills a year, so other funds would have to be cut to obtain a hospital levy," was the summation of argument against local governmental operation.

Ralph Norman pointed out that county or city operation would soon lead to political fights. "Suppose some supervisor or prominent politician has a daughter who is a nurse. And he decides she should run the hospital. Suppose another supervisor had the same idea. You can easily see what will happen from then on. And all this would be done at the expense of human suffering."

Those attending the meeting were generally agreed that the purchase of the Miller hospital would be the proper thing. Rev. C. C. Jeppesen stated that he thought a goal of thirty to thirty-five thousand dollars should be set to provide a fund for future expansion or to purchase additional equipment.

Meanwhile, fate of the hospital rests on the shoulders of a yet unappointed committee, unless other solutions are worked out.

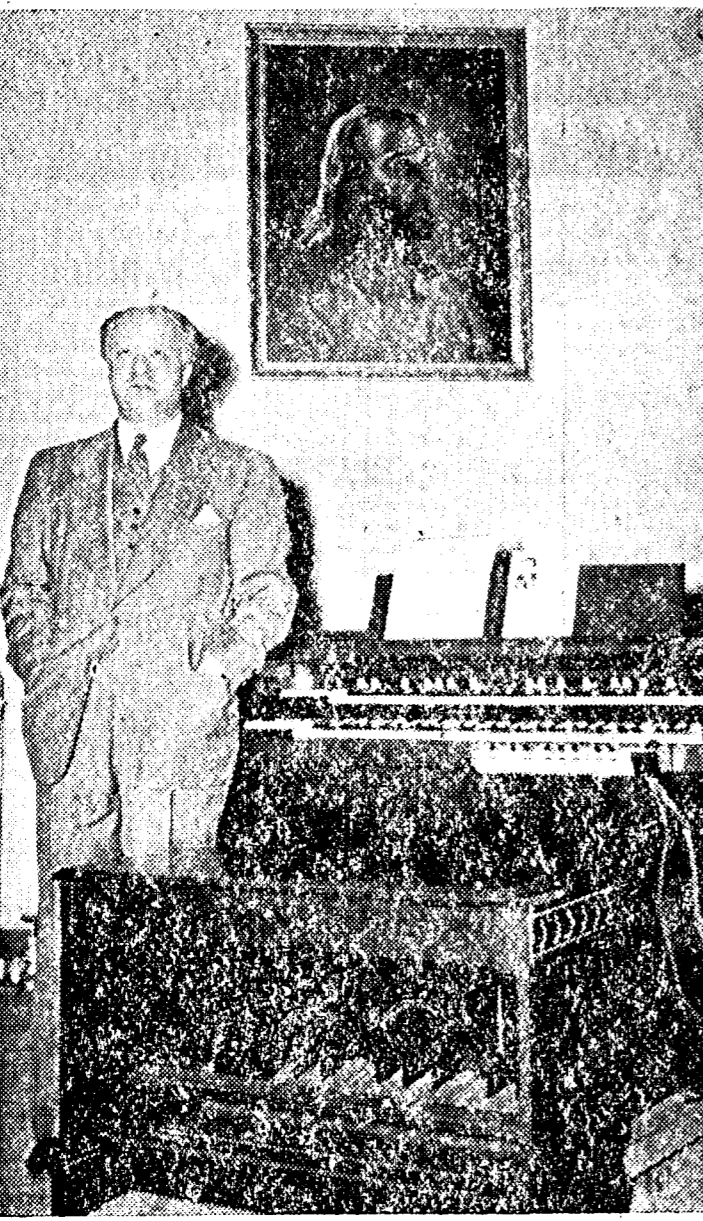

REA Outlook Is Steadily Improving

More go-ahead signals are coming in for the REA program. Friday approval was received for the B Section meters, transformers and breakers. Another car load of poles and 75 transformers for the B section arrived.

Displayed in the window of the REA office is a dummy yard pole. In the farm yard the pole will be topped with a yard light.

Nothing is lost unless a QUIZ want ad can't find it.

Red Cross Lagging Ask for Speed-Up

About Half of County Quota Reached; Several Reports Not Made.

With only half of the county quota of $1200 contributed to date Red Cross committees renewed their efforts this week to bring the county drive to a successful conclusion.

Paul Owens, chairman of the drive, told the Quiz today that she had no fears that the county quota would not be met, but that she hoped some speed-up would be made.

"Bad weather has cut down the time of our collectors so it is only natural that reports would be a bit slow. Reports are still missing from the Ord second ward, North Loup and Arcadia, although I believe all of these will have no trouble making their quota."

Mrs. Frances Maxson, 85, passed away Monday in a hospital in Denver where she had been taken following a fall which resulted in a broken hip. The body is being brought to North Loup for burial, and will probably arrive the last of this week. Mrs. Maxson went to Craig, Colo., in November to spend the winter with a niece, Mrs. Eugene Dresser, and fell in her room there, Friday. She had been living alone, at her home just outside of North Loup, previous to going to Colorado.

Surviving besides Mrs. Dresser, are another niece, Mrs. J. B. Burrows of Hamilton, Ore., a nephew, Rex Cleasent, of Hood River, Ore., and a half-brother, Rufus Lawton of Craig, Colo.

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Frances Maxson, Friday afternoon at 2:30 in the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup.

Blessing Choice of Both Parties For Next Mayor

Nominates Huff, Brown, McGinnis, Armstrong, Murray For Council Posts.

Dr. F. L. Blessing, long a member of both the Ord city council and board of education was the unanimous choice of both the Good Government and the Citizens party at the annual caucus of the two groups held last Wednesday night, for the office of mayor.

Over 160 voters were present, the largest crowd to attend city caucuses in years.

Nominated to council jobs in the first ward were E. S. Murray, incumbent and Duane Armstrong, Howard Huff and Jay Brown are the contending candidates in the 2nd ward, while Dr. J. W. McGinnis is the candidate of both parties from the 3rd ward.

Rex Jewett, present city clerk will be opposed by Paul Adamek. James B. Ollis has no opposition for treasurer, John L. Andersen and John B. Haskell are opposing candidates for police judge.

Dean Misko and Henry Benda are opposing candidates for the park board.

The Citizens party nominated Leo Long and Herbert Smets as candidates for the board of education, while Smets and Hilding Pearson are candidates for the same job for the Good Government party.

Clarence Davis presided over the Good Government party caucus and A. J. Shirley over the Citizens party caucus.

Mrs. Dodge Guest of Omaha Chamber

Ord Woman Was One of 24 Rural Homemakers Honored by City Group.

Mrs. Agnes Dodge was one of the honored guests of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce at a recognition program for rural homemakers in Omaha, Thursday, March 4. Mrs. Dodge was chosen to represent this district at a meeting held in O'Neill, February 16. Each business in Omaha gave presents to be given to each representative. Mrs. Dodge received the gift from the Omaha National Bank which was a beautiful matched pin and carrying set.

The program included many interesting activities in which the great demonstration put on by Swift & Co. was one of the best.

Mrs. Dodge was interviewed by a representative of the Des Moines radio station and made a transcription that was given over the air from that station.

Twenty rural homemakers from Nebraska and Iowa were awarded certificates of honor for the work they have done as leaders in their communities by Paul H. Stewart, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. The program for the ladies' day started with a coffee hour at the Black Mirror room in Hotel Fontenelle, and ended with a recognition banquet in the Chamber of Commerce dining room.

Traveling Library Comes to Valley

The new District Four State Teachers' association traveling library is in Valley county this month. Clara McClatchey, county superintendent has divided the library of 100 books into five smaller libraries so that more schools can use the books. These books are recommended by the Nebraska State Educational Association and purchased by District Four. This district has two complete libraries, which are circulated among the counties to be used as the county superintendent sees fit. The books will be in Valley county about a month.

Chants Play In State Tourney

Final AAA Signing Date is April 1st

Farmers who expect to sign contracts in the 1948 AAA farm program must take seriously the fact that the final date for signing contracts this year is April 1. It was emphasized again today by Paul Owens, county AAA chairman. No farmer may take part who has not signed a contract by that date, he said.

Sign-up meetings are being held as follows: Village pump house in Arcadia, March 16; community hall in North Loup, March 17; town hall at Elyria, March 18.

Sign-up meetings also be done at the AAA offices in Ord at any time during March, said Owens, but unless a farmer signs up by April 1st he is definitely out of the program for 1948.

Council Rejects Bids for Vote on City Auditorium

No One Appears To Explain Same; City Dads Unanimous In Vote.

When no one appeared in favor of or to explain a petition requesting a ballot spot at the city election April 6 for a proposal to float $18,500 in bonds for the construction of a city auditorium, Ord city fathers voted unanimously to table the proposal.

Petitions bearing some 150 signatures had been presented to the city clerk Monday, and a special meeting was called Tuesday night to consider the petition.

Although no official explanation was given to the city council, the Quiz learned that auditorium promulgators had planned the erection of a large gymnasium building, $100,000 to provide room for basketball tournaments, winter fairs, shows and expositions and public dances. The promulgators had obtained sketches and proposals from various contractors and believed that a finished building, similar to that now occupied by the Legion club of Burlington, could be built for $35,000.

Balance of the $18,500 was to be used for furnishing the building. The committee also favored construction of the building at the fair grounds.

Auditorium promulgators were George Hastings, Bruce Covey, Ed Jensen, John Wozab, John Andersen, Ross Allen, Ernie Horner, Ed Armstrong and Duane Armstrong.

Councilmen discussed the proposition at length Tuesday night, and decided that in view of impending expenditures on street improvement and light plant expansion, plus obligations already existing, that the city was in no financial shape to tackle a large bond issue at present. When no one appeared to back the petition, councilmen voted for rejection and adjourned.

Neighbors Helped Turner Family Move

Monday neighbors rallied to aid Mrs. Wayne Turner when she was faced with getting moved to the Brox farm just north of the river bridge.

Mr. Turner had an operation for a perforated ulcer on February 26. He was recovering nicely when embolism occurred. The clot is lodged in his lung and he is still in the hospital seriously ill.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. John Warford, Mr. and Mrs. Venard Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Draver, Ralph Hansen, Joe Ulrich, Bernard Swanek, Harry and Dean Breyler, Milo, Rose, Herb Nelson, and Edward and Laurence Adamek went to the farm on which Mr. and Mrs. Turner had been living and moved them to their new location.

Mrs. Albert Dahlin and Mrs. R. N. Rose and Lorene prepared dinner for the working crew at the Dahlin home and took it out to the farm and served it. Mrs. Warford assisted with the dinner.

Loup City Votes on Sunday Beer

Loup City's annual spring city election will be highlighted by a vote to legalize the sale of beer on Sunday. A petition was presented to the council last week requesting that it be placed on the ballot.

The burlesque county seat voted out Sunday beer, two-to-one two years ago.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Mrs. Elmer Ziomke and Mrs. Joe Gregory sr. left Monday morning to attend the annual conference at the First Methodist church in Omaha. They will be gone until Thursday. Mrs. Ziomke is an officer representing the Hastings district and Mrs. Gregory is attending in the capacity of president of the local W.S.C.S.

No. Loup District Votes Assessment for 1948 Service

Special Emergency Charge of $2 per Acre Needed to Make Repairs and Operate.

The board of directors of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district, met in regular monthly session in Ord on March 3, and took action by unanimous vote with all members present and voting to establish a special emergency assessment in the charge of $2.00 per acre for 1948 irrigation service to all lands served by the district. This assessment is 50c per acre greater than the similar assessment made for 1947 service and is over and above the regular contract charge of $2.50 per acre, making a total charge of $4.50 per acre for 1948 service.

M. S. Dodd, chief engineer and general manager of the district, states that the special assessment was made in order to raise sufficient funds to finance a considerable amount of major repairs made necessary by last year's flood and to permit normal operation and maintenance work to be carried on until December 1, the date upon which the regular contract charge of $2.50 per acre becomes due. It will be necessary that this special assessment be paid before water is delivered to the farm, as is the case with the 1947 assessment.

According to Mr. Dodd, about $45,000 will be required for normal operation and maintenance work during the nine month period from March 1 to October 31 and approximately $15,000 for essential repair work and a small amount of equipment, making a total of approximately $60,000. Required for 1948 operations. As of March 3, the district had about $1,000 worth of cash on hand and about $11,000 of charges for 1947 service remaining due it, making a total of about $15,000 available for use this year. The special emergency assessment will raise about $16,000 on the basis of 1947 acreages, thus providing the required additional funds.

Dodd also explained that the pending district refinancing and rehabilitation program could not be carried out in time to provide any funds for use in making needed repairs before or during this year's irrigation season although it is expected that the formal documents in connection with the program will be received shortly.

The financing of this year's operations must be done by the owners of the lands benefited. Dodd said that in view of the necessity for making heavy outlays for equipment and materials at once in order to be able to get all essential repair work done in the short time remaining before water will be needed, the prompt payment of the special assessment would be most helpful.

Mr. Dodd is confident that all essential repair work can be accomplished in time to make water available in all canals by the time it will be needed if adequate funds are provided to carry on the work as rapidly as all other factors will permit.

Declam Program Monday, March 15

A program of the numbers that will be entered in the declamatory contest at Kearney on March 16 will be given for the general public on Monday evening March 15.

The program will include a dramatic reading by Wayne Zomke, a humorous reading by Marlene Suchanek, extemporaneous speech by Dick Tolen, original oratory by Merritt Jensen and interpretive oratory by Phyllis Anderson.

A one act play will be presented. It is an Irish folk play called "Spreading the News." The cast includes Merritt Jensen, Phyllis Anderson, Marilyn Cook, Marlene Suchanek, Wayne Zomke, Kenneth Clement, Dick Tolen, Charles Munn, Bob Dye and Al Blessing.

E. Petska, Tom Rasmussen Split

Emanuel Petska and Thomas Rasmussen, who have been operating a used car business in Ord for several years, dissolved their partnership this week. Petska has opened a used car lot directly east of the Kokes-Petska liquor store. Theron Nolde has joined the Ord Auto Parts, Rasmussen's firm, as salesman.

A marriage license was issued Monday to Maxine N. Meyer, 18, and Wm. L. Bengel, 21, both of Greeley.

Ordites Follow Cagers to Lincoln

Many Ordites are following their winning basketball team to Lincoln today to see them compete in the state tournament.

The Ordettes and their sponsor, Miss Irene Auble, chartered a forty passenger bus and made the trip to Lincoln Wednesday morning leaving here at 7:30 and will come back in the evening after the evening game is over.

Many of the parents and sports fans of Ord are making a trip to Lincoln today. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson whose son Bill is on the team, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rogers, Jr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dale, Alfred Hill, Phyllis Thompson, Karen Sines, Phyllis Covale and Betty Leonard Anderson, Dan Huff and Allen Blaha; Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing and Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Pearson.

Also attending are A. L. Hill, Mark Tolen, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Niemeier, Otto Niemeier, Jr. and George Kruml.

Only Two Officers in Local Primary Ballot Contested

No Candidates for Supervisor District Two; Four for Unicameral.

With only two offices contested, the primary ballot to be presented to Valley county voters on April 13, will look strangely blank as far as local offices are concerned.

In the county, the only contest will be between Ed Schudel and Rudolph Poole, both republicans, for District Six supervisor. There are no candidates in District Two, and Ellsworth Ball, incumbent democrat, the only candidate in District Four.

John L. Anderson is unopposed for county judge. Dr. J. W. McGinnis and C. W. McClellan are unopposed for directors of the North Loup Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

The unicameral race for this district, comprising Valley, Howard, Greeley and Wheeler counties has brought out four aspirants, Hugh Carson of Ord, John Doyle, incumbent of Greeley, and two candidates from St. Paul, Tracy T. Frost and Harold P. Conklin. Conklin was defeated by Doyle two years ago, and Frost is a former member of the state legislature.

No candidates have appeared for delegates to the state democratic convention. On the republican ticket are Clarence Davis, Vern Robbins, John L. Ward and Mrs. Wm. Ramsey. Myra T. Barber of North Loup is a candidate for alternate delegate.

Joan Sedlacek Wins Scholarship

Joan Sedlacek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sedlacek, received word Saturday that she has been awarded the Carl Raymond Gray scholarship given by the Union Pacific Railroad. The scholarship is worth $100 to be used at the University of Nebraska to study Home Economics.

To be eligible for the scholarship the student must have taken two years of Home Economic or Agriculture work, be in the upper third of the class, carry out home projects in connection with the work, and keep complete records. There is a county committee that judges these records and sends them to the state to be judged by the Union Pacific officials. One scholarship is given in each county through which the U. P. Railroad passes. The scholarship may be given to either a girl in Home Ec. or a boy in Agriculture.

Charlene Whiting and Ellen Satterfield also were entered for the scholarship. Charlene Whiting was made alternate. Ellen Satterfield is a junior this year and has another year to enter.

Joan who is a senior in high school, plans to attend the university this fall. She will study clothing.

Huff Implement Stage Show Has Big Attendance

An attendance estimated at more than a thousand was chalked up for the International family party held in Ord last Thursday under the sponsorship of Howard Huff. School children were given a special preview Thursday morning, with another show for adults in the afternoon.

In addition to movies, a troupe of five vaudeville actors put on a full two hour show for the audience. Featured were Millie Bulin, accordionist, Jesse Bloodgett, magician, Mary and Jerry Ledford, roller skating artists, and Carmen Dela Vago, Mexican singer and dancer.

Ord Lads Breeze Past Raiders, 35-27 in District Finals

Draw Pits Chants Against a Dark Horse Wahoo Team at State Meet.

The Ord Chantleers won the right to compete in the annual Nebraska state basketball tournament being held this week at Lincoln when they breezed past the Loup City Raiders, 35 to 27, Friday night in the finals of the district tournament held at Fullerton. In earlier games they beat Abilene, 45 to 28, and Newman Grove, 40 to 37, to win their way into the finals.

At the coliseum in Lincoln at 2:50 this afternoon (Wednesday) the Cochrane-coached entry will meet a dark horse Wahoo quintet which, in its own district tournament, upset Holy Name of Omaha in two extra periods, 23 to 21, after earlier beating Blair and Ashli.

Other Class B finalists at Lincoln include Seward, Gerig and Crete, seeded along with Ord, and also Ainsworth, Cozad and Stanton.

District tournaments last week eliminated several Class B teams that were touted sure state tournament entries. The list including Greely, Abilene fell before Seward, 40 to 42, Gothenburg, loser to Cozad 32 to 40, and Mitchell, which was trounced by Gerig.

The luck of the draw favored the Chantleers when pairs for the state tournament were made up Sunday, for they landed in the upper bracket with Wahoo, Stanton and Ainsworth, while the three teams who are counted on to give the Chants the most competition, Seward, Crete and Gerig, must fight it out in the lower bracket.

While by no means confident of victory, Coach Alex Cochrane and Superintendent C. C. Thompson said Tuesday they thought the Chants have their best chance in many years to go to the finals or even to win in Class B.

The Ord squad left early Wednesday morning for Lincoln in automobiles and will be quartered at the Capitol Hotel. Whether they win or lose they will remain in Lincoln until end of the tournament.

Ten boys comprised the Ord squad. Al Blessing, Bill Anderson, Don Wozniak, Don Hill, Doug Dale, Jay Stoddard, Dale Richardson, Paul Stoddard, Ladd Cochrane and Dick Tolen.

All Class B games this year are being played in the afternoon. Stanton and Ainsworth led off Wednesday at 1:30, with the Ord-Chants clash coming at 2:50. Chants have their best chance of Friday's game as they will play at 1:30 and 2:50 and the finals game Saturday at 2:50. Class C games also are being played afternoons, with Class A and Class D games coming evenings.

Naturally the class in which Ord competes is of the most interest to fans here but in Classes C and D two near-by schools, Sargent and Comstock, are competing. Sargent plays Valley at 2:50 this afternoon and Comstock meets Douglas at 8:20 Thursday evening.

The Class A race also is interesting to Ord fans because the Chants played during the regular season three of the teams competing at Lincoln, losing to Grand Island and Hastings but beating Curtis.

Grand Island, last year's championship team, lost its first game in 20 starts to Hastings in the district tournament but still won the right to play at Lincoln because both Class A district winners and runners-up compete. Grand Island meets Creighton Prep at 1:30 Thursday afternoon and Hastings plays Lenoir Town at 8:20 that evening. The Curtis Aggys will battle Lincoln Northeast at 7:00 Thursday eve. Other Class A competitors include Falls City and Scottsbluff.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Elect Officers

New officers of Ord post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be elected at the regular March meeting of the group to be held Monday night, March 15, at the Legion hall.

The group will also discuss plans for a joint smoker planned for Wednesday night, March 17, in cooperation with the American Legion. The smoker will be for ex-servicemen only.

C. of C. to Meet Friday, March 12

The Ord Chamber of Commerce will hold a regular meeting Friday, March 12, at the K. C. hall. The meeting is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Special business of the evening will include the consideration of new by-laws.

THE HOSPITAL QUESTION

There seems to be no doubt that an independent community hospital in Ord, to serve the needs of the people of Valley and surrounding counties, is vitally important now and will grow even more important in the near future. The Chamber of Commerce has done splendid service in establishing the facts and in eliciting information as to what can be done to secure such a hospital, but no constructive action was taken at the meeting sponsored by that organization Monday evening other than appointment of another committee which at best can do little more than spade over the ground which has already been spaded by the Chamber of Commerce itself.

To this newspaper it seems there are only three ways in which a hospital of the type needed and desired could be secured. These methods are:

1. For the financially able citizens of this community to contribute sufficient funds to purchase the hospital now operated by Dr. Miller, and then to find some church organization able and willing to operate the hospital if it is given to them. It has been established by the Chamber of Commerce committee that Dr. Miller is willing to sell his hospital for a sum less than 1-3rd of its actual value, providing it is turned over to an organization capable of operating it.

2. For the people of Valley county to vote bonds to build a county hospital at an estimated cost of $500,000, less a grant of $100,000 from the federal government, and assume thereafter any deficit that might arise from its operation, paying said deficit from taxes levied on the real and personal property in the county, which levy would need be sufficiently large to pay interest on the original investment and retire the original bonds. Cost to the county of doing this is estimated at from $50,000 to $50,000 per year for a period of not less than 20 years.

3. For interested individuals to contribute sufficient money to buy the Miller hospital, rebuild and equip it and then turn the hospital over to the county for operation as a county hospital. Success of such a program would depend upon Dr. Miller being willing to sell his hospital at a fraction of its real value, to be turned over to the county, which is far from certain, and upon the willingness of the taxpayers of the county to accept the hospital and assume cost of operating it out of county tax monies.

As between these three alternatives it seems to this newspaper there should be no turn the hospital over to the county for operation, which was recommended by the Chamber of Commerce committee, seems to be the most feasible plan from all standpoints.

Assuming that funds could be raised for purchase of the Miller hospital - and this newspaper believes they could be raised if a united campaign were made on a county-wide basis; and assuming that a church group experienced in hospital operation could be induced to accept the hospital and assume cost of its improvement, operation and maintenance - and the Chamber of Commerce committee believes such an organization could be secured - we can see no practical argument against following this plan.

It is admitted by all that several religious groups including Catholic sisterhoods, the Lutherans, the Methodists, and others, run splendid hospitals. They have the training institutions in which technicians, nurses and management personnel are trained to staff such hospitals. They have endowments, interest on which takes care of deficits in such hospitals. And regardless of which religious group runs such hospitals, no discrimination is ever made against acceptance of patients of other religions or against the practicing therein of qualified medical men of other faiths.

Adoption of this method of securing an independent community hospital would permit a campaign for funds to start at once. While funds are being raised the matter of agreeing upon what religious group is to be given the hospital and under what conditions can be settled and to this newspaper, it matters not at all which such group is decided upon. Within the space of a few months, by following such a plan, Ord surely could have an independent, community hospital, physically capable of handling the medical and surgical needs of the entire community and in which new doctors, now greatly needed, would be welcome to practice.

Any other plan, even if finally successful, would entail months or even years of negotiating, building, holding elections, etc., and would inevitably be a financial burden upon the county for all time to come.

If the people of Ord and Valley county are earnest in their desire for a community hospital - within the foreseeable future - we believe they should unite behind the plan suggested by the Chamber of Commerce committee as most feasible, and should do so now.

Only well people meet and argue over minor things when they agree generally upon the end to be attained. When one is in pain, or sees a loved one suffering from wasting disease or swift and crushing accident, he cares not whether the hypodermic needle that brings relief is wielded by a Lutheran or by a Catholic, or whether the surgeon whose skill means life is a Gentile or a Jew. He is only too thankful that the skill and knowledge necessary to relieve suffering and bring hope of recovery is at his disposal.

If we can raise the money to buy the Miller property at the more than fair price made by its owner, and if we can find some capable religious group willing to assume the obligation of operating a hospital for us and capable of doing so let's let it go - without further waste of time.

Something Different

This is about the coldest, snow-fest, icest winter ever... and we've had about enough of it, haven't we?

So many people have taken time to afford to give her nite, will hand you a good donation. While the well-to-do resident will give you the run-around with some off tale about seeing somebody first or getting change or something...

Then people have odd alibis. Stuff they tell themselves, and you... to justify no donation or a small one.

Well, remember, when a business or an institution gets big, no one can be responsible for everything it does. In any large group of well-to-do citizens there have to be some dishonest workers and some who are not scrupulous about all they do. And the institution or the corporation gets the blame for something it knows nothing about.

The Red Cross did a lot in the last war. It did the best it could. And better than most of us. If it helped the officers, all right, lots of your boys were officers weren't they? If it failed sometimes and some places, well... are you perfect yourself?

I write about blood transfusions and blood banks the other day. Next day came a packet from the Red Cross telling me a great deal more about it than I had known when writing.

Mrs. Parkins had quite a time getting home from Omaha last week. She had planned to come Monday, then the heavy snow-fall shut off train service. After many telephone calls to the ticket office she was told to report to the depot one morning at 9:30, and they would have a train. And so they did, along toward noon. They tackled a coach on a mail train, and after several starts and stops, the Ord passenger reached home safely.

When Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and her cousin from Crete were wheeling through the southland tea days ago they meant to head for Texas, Kansas, Arkansas. But it was a misty, misty day, and next thing they knew, here were the outskirts of New Orleans.

They only regretted they were a month late for the Mardi Gras.

Many a citizen and visitor to Ord will feel lost when he walks into Peckenka's meat market and does not see Otto solemnly cutting meat and greeting the public. He has been a fixture on the south side of the square for years, and his tasty baloney, no, his bologna was second to none.

Beginning years ago when Jim Misko the elder was noted for his fine meats, the weiners from this shop have been famous. Residents who moved away from Ord often wrote back for five or ten pounds, or sent them as gifts at Christmas time.

During the war-days there were young soldiers who wrote home of dreaming about Peckenka's delicious baloney and weiners. Or who named them as what they missed the most, of hometown things.

Ord children have been putting out crumbs and seeds for the numbers of winter-bound birds caught in our blustery winter snows. There seem to be so many birds.

Down toward the river a large flock of robins flew in a few days ago, Ord citizens report. And over on the western edge of the city several housewives swear they were awakened one night last week by the songs of a cardinal, that lovely red bird.

We Never Tire In Our Search For Quality Meat

We're always on the lookout for top quality steers and porkers that we can finish out to the perfection that characterizes the fresh and cured meats that you'll find in our meat cases.

That's the big reason you'll find our fresh and cured meats the best you ever tasted. Speaking of cured meats—have you tried our sausage. It's the same formula we've always used — and it's one that makes you come back for more.

Bring Your Ford Home for Service

To All Mayors and City Councils:

You and all other Nebraska Mayors and city councils recently received a letter from the Nebraska Committee, United States Brewers Foundation. You were asked to use extra care in checking the qualifications and past record of those seeking beer-selling licenses this year. It was urged that you recommend to the Liquor Control Commission only those who are well qualified as to moral character, financial responsibility, satisfactory location and general trustworthiness.

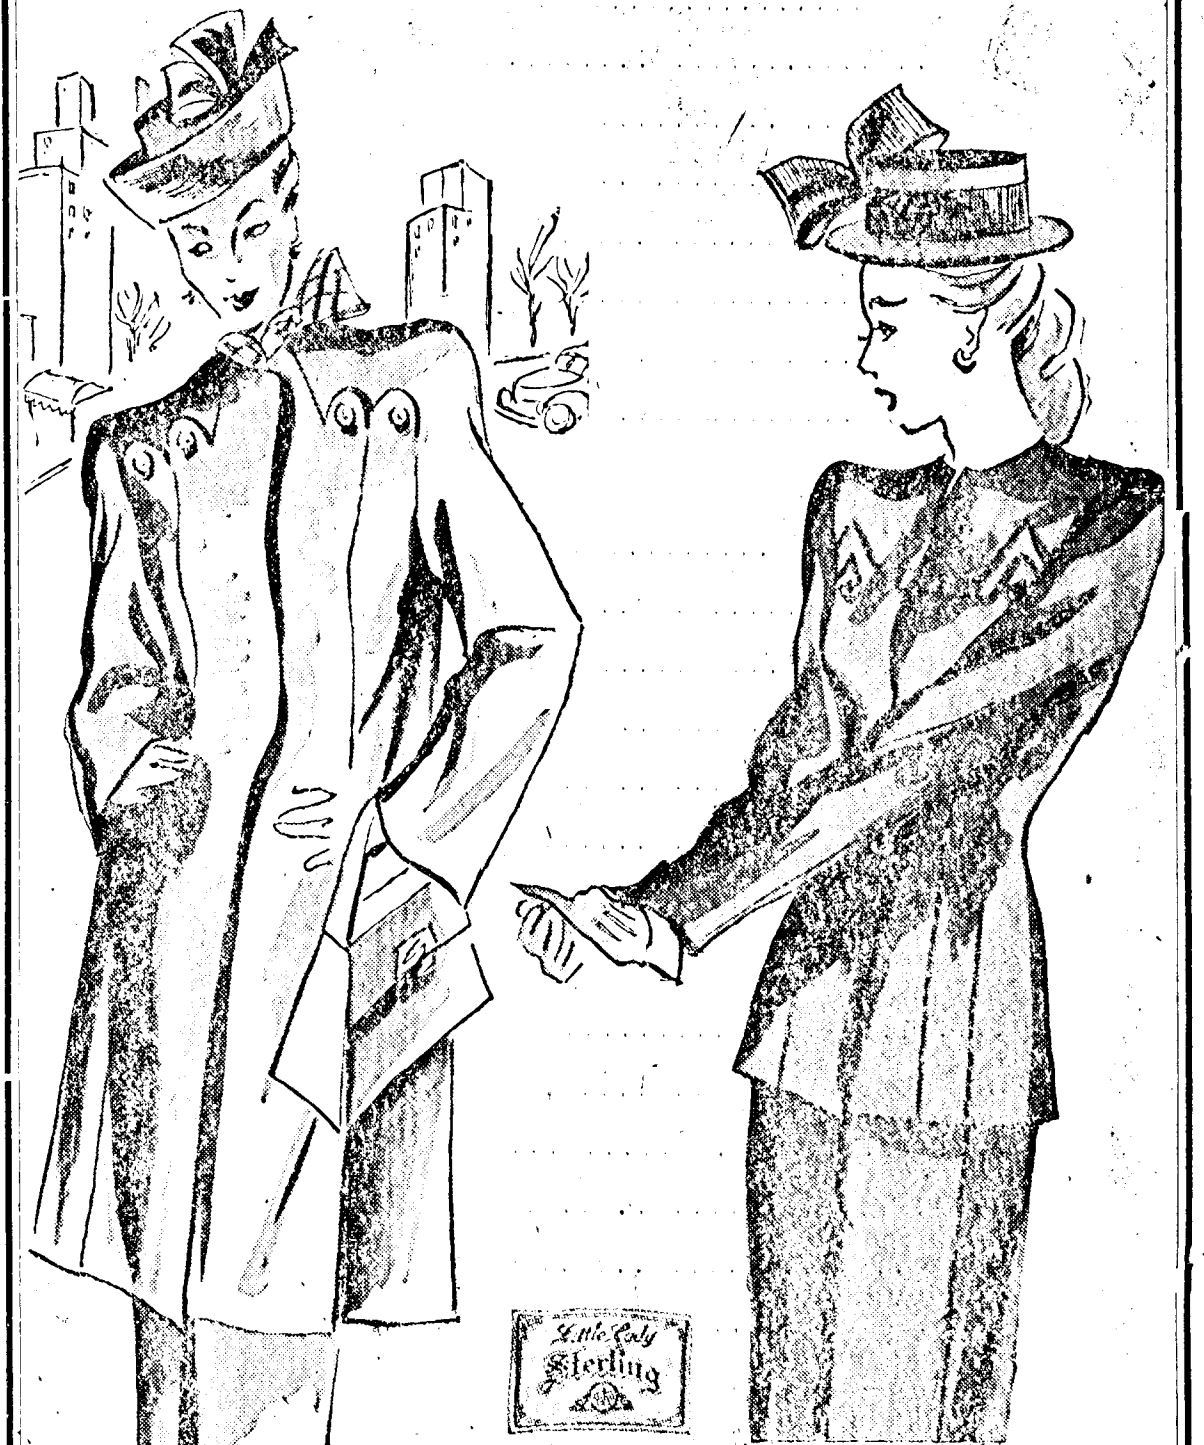

To the Public:

As a citizen, you, too, have a responsibility. You do not want careless or incompetent beer licensees. How can you help? Attend your local public beer-license hearing. Be prepared to report any cases of laxity or law-violation. Urge others to attend and participate. Advise them where and when the meeting will be held. This is YOUR part in the job of good government.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peterson visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Notary Wednesday.

Matt Turck spent a few days last week in Omaha on business. Frances Swanek stayed with Mrs. Turck during his absence.

REAL FOOD SERVICE

Where else but in a town like Ord could you get this kind of service? When Mrs. Asa Anderson ordered groceries delivered to her home Monday she ordered some cold meat and some sweet cookies. As an after thought she asked her grocer, Ed Beran, to make a note for Frank Clark, the delivery man, not to set the groceries on the floor as the pup, who was alone in the house, might get into the meat and cookies. That noon the whole family looked high and low for the cookies and meat. The rest of the groceries were on the breakfast bar. After a good fifteen minutes of hunting, the meat and cookies were found on top of the kitchen cupboard, well out of reach of the pup, the children and Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Urbanski Jim and Betty and Anton Sydzik were Sunday supper guests at Emanuel Wados.

Albin Urbanski was a Sunday afternoon caller at Pete Duda's.

DELICIOUS Lenten Foods

There's no reason at all for having dull, unappetizing meals during Lent when you have the many fine Lenten foods in our market at your beck and call. We carry a large variety of sea foods, plus cheeses of many kinds and canned sea foods. You'll be pleasantly surprised at our prices, too.

There's one part of our market of which we have always been proud and that's our cured meats section. As you know, we cure most of our meats ourselves — using fine selected cuts, slow, leisurely curing with the best of spices.

Along with this we put the knowledge and skill of years, plus a bit of old-world flavor, a flavor that makes you come back for more. We have some of the finest bacon in the country, we believe, plus bologna, weiners and "shorties." Then, there's the large bologna for slicing, smoked sausages and liver sausages.

This is your invitation to give our cured and smoked meats a trial. They're competively priced and we know you'll be back for more.

Pop Corn Contracts

We have some very attractive Pop Corn Contracts to place on irrigated land. The contract price is high and these contracts are placed with a reliable firm. Over a period of years the popcorn growers have made some very good money in growing popcorn. Contracted popcorn is delivered early in the fall and makes a good cash crop. If you are interested in growing popcorn, come in and see us while we have the contracts available.

Seed Oats and Barley

We have received our shipment of Certified Clinton Oats and they are ready for delivery. These Oats are packed in 3 bu. bags and are certified and sealed. The Certified Velvon Barley is packed in 2 bu. bags. We feel that both oats and barley for planting are going to be a little scarce and believe that you should get your seed home at the earliest possible time. We have limited amounts of both Clinton and Velvon left for sale. You can increase your yield quite a lot by using Certified seed that is adapted to our section of the state.

Fertilizer

Many of you have read the recent article in the state papers about fertilizers possibly being more plentiful. We are in close touch with the source of supply of Nitrogen fertilizer and do not believe that Ammonium Nitrate will be more plentiful this summer. There is a possibility that we might get an extra car of Ammonium Sulphate. If it can be had we will get it. Ammonium Sulphate will do just as good a job as Ammonium Nitrate on your corn fields but it will take a little more of the Sulphate than it will of the Nitrate. The cost may be about $1.50 per acre more than the Nitrate but you can get the same results. We should know in the next week if we will get another car of Sulphate or not. If interested let us know and we will notify you as soon as we have the information. Nitrogen fertilizer will pay well on your corn fields as well as on your Brome Grass and small grain.

Important Notice

If you have moved be sure to see your insurance agent to have a removal permit attached to your fire insurance policy.

Organ Dedication
At the regular morning service on Saturday morning, March 6, the new Hammond electric organ, was dedicated in an impressive service. Mrs. Harlon Brennick at the organ, and Mrs. Glen Johnson at the piano, played preceding the service.

Presentation of the organ to the church was given by Mrs. Roy Cox, president of the Ladies Missionary Circle, who sponsored the organ project. Arthur Stillman, as moderator of the church, accepted. A Memorial service, for the persons to whom the organ is dedicated, was led by Mrs. R. O. Babcock, who had made a plaque with the names of the honored ones.

Card bearers were Jimmie Ehret, Russel Clement, Hester Brannon, Estella Davis, Kenneth Clement, Theron Barber, Phyllis Christensen and Kathryn Sevance. They were followed by the flower girls, Carolyn Hamer, Jeanne Brennick and Dolores Cox, who carried carnations and as Mrs. Babcock read the names, placed the flowers in the baskets. White carnations were for J. H. and Metta Babcock, Elder Oscar and Adeline, Deacon Wilson and Louisa Babcock, E. W. and Nellie Black, E. I. and Aggie Tracey, Kate Clark, Mary Clement, Lyle and Oscar Cox, Alpha and Genie Crandall, Dr. Grace I. Crandall, Judson and Esther, Maudel and Mary Davis, John and Cora Goodrich, Lora Black Fisher, Eva Hill, Arthur, Wesley and Grace Hutchins, Bryan and Maude Johnson, Charles and Rosa, and Walter G. Rood; Susan Madelia Sayre; Cora Bell Sevance; Mattie Luke; F. B. and Cedelia Robbins; Gaylord, Deacon Henry and Rena, Deacon H. H. and Eva Thornegate; Orel and Carrie Van Horn; Deacon Robert and Leah, Will and Alice, and Vera Thornegate; Van Horn; Lizzie Vincent; Deacon J. B. and Mary Sabrina Williams and Sylvia Brannon.

Red carnations were placed for Dr. W. J. and Cora Hemphill; E. J. and Jessie T. Babcock; Charlie and Louisa Barber; Dell and Hazel Barber; Riley and Marie Brannon; Guy and Jennie, Sherman and Winnie Clement; Eddie and Rena Davis; Judson and Jennie Davis; Rev. Claud and Hazel Hill; Eugene and Ruth Hutchins; Lela and May Larkins; Arthur and Marie Stillman; Timon and Edith Swanson; Charles and Ethel Thornegate; and Clara Clement Holmes. More than three hundred-fifty people contributed to the organ fund which the Ladies Missionary Circle has been working on for more than three years. Enough was given that the organ and mass chimes were purchased and both were included in the dedication.

Rev. Ehret gave the dedication prayer and used as his sermon subject "Our Musical Heritage." Committee members from the Missionary circle for the organ project are Mrs. Mildred Ehret, chairman; Louise Brennick, treasurer; Leona Babcock, Ava Johnson and Nina Johnson.

Obituary—W. T. Hutchins
Wesley T. Hutchins, son of Alonzo and Rosetta Weed Hutchins, was born in Freeborn County, Minn., April 2, 1872, next to the youngest of eight children, and died March 7, 1948, aged 75 years and 11 months. His father moved to Iowa in the fall of 1884 and in 1884, came with his family to North Loup, and bought the farm west of 42 school, where Wesley helped with the farming. In September, 1892, he was married to Grace Clement and for years they lived on the farm, then moved to North Loup where he worked for his brothers, G. L. and E. A. Hutchins, who were in the pump and windmill business. Except for a few months in Idaho and a year in Colorado, he lived the rest of his life in North Loup, where his wife died July 24, 1934.

He worked for several years for the International Harvester Co., then for eighteen years for the Aermotor Co., till he retired on account of his age. In all these positions, he was traveling salesman. In 1919, he bought the home just outside of town, which he took great pains to beautify. He was interested in all things which improved the town, and at one time was assistant Boy Scoutmaster.

In August 1935, he married Mrs. Florence Stewart of Des Moines, Ia., who as a little girl had lived west of the Hutchins home. She and Wesley were two of the first scholars at the 42 school, Wesley's name being the first on the school roll.

September 25, 1920, he joined the Seventh Day Baptist church, was a regular attendant, and for many years sang in the choir. He loved music, he loved children, he loved wild life, and especially birds. No one can remember him without seeing his genial smile, his willingness to do favors to others, his joy in meeting friends.

He leaves to mourn his passing, four children, Floyd P., of North Loup, Mrs. Gladys Christensen, of Ord, Mrs. Helen Louise Brennick of North Loup, Clyde W. of Ft. Collins, Colo., six grandchildren and one great grandchild; and one brother, G. L. Hutchins, of North Loup.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup, with Rev. A. C. Ehret giving the message. A quartette, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Babcock, Mrs. Nels Jorgensen and Dell Barber sang selections Mr. Hutchins had chosen. Mrs. Alva Johnson was at the organ. Preceding the service LaVerne Hutchins, a grandson, played the piano. Pallbearers were Roy Cox, David Davis, Edgar Davis, Aubrey Davis, Arthur Stillman and Roy Lewis. Miller and Ashley of Scotia were the undertakers in charge of arrangements. Burial was in Hillside cemetery. A bank of floral offerings, beautifully arranged, were the tribute.

Here from away for the funeral of W. T. Hutchins were the Clyde Hutchins family of Ft. Collins, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Hutchins, of Kearney, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burdick of Grand Island.

Village Board Proceeding
March 3, 1948.
The Village Board met in regular session in the Community hall office.

Roll Call: Present, Erlo Cox, Roy Cox, Paul Madsen, and A. C. Ehret. Absent, None.
Clerk's report read and accepted.
Treasurer's report read and accepted.

A committee from one of the Sunday school classes of the Methodist church met with the board to ask to rent the Community hall for roller skating.

"Three boys from our high school met with the board and asked for the use of the Community Building as a skating rink for the youth of our community. It was voted to grant this request. It was also voted to ask the Methodist Church, the Seventh Day Baptist Church and the Mira Valley Evangelical Church to meet and appoint a representative to be a member of the board to work out details to sponsor this movement."

A motion was made on the applications for on and off beer licenses in North Loup, Nebraska, made by Monty and Ronald Cress, be set for hearing before the village board on Monday evening, April 5, 1948 at 8 p. m., at its regular place of meeting in the Community Hall in North Loup, Nebraska, and that the notice of such be published in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper of general circulation in the village of North Loup, Nebraska, in its issue of April 1, 1948. The motion was seconded and duly carried.

Traces which cause obstructions in the creek adjoining the village were discussed.
Traffic lights to stop speeding on Main Street were discussed.
Mrs. Myra Barber, Mrs. Louise Brennick and John Ward were appointed judges and Mrs. Genevieve Hoepfner and Mrs. A. L. Willoughby were appointed clerks of the election to be held on April 6, 1948 in North Loup, Nebr.

The Quiz Calls On A FARM NEIGHBOR

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Kusek

by John L. Ward

Group picture of the Kusek family.

Strictly speaking, the Kuseks are no longer living on the farm, having moved to Elyria last fall. Andrew still takes an active interest in what goes on at the farm, two miles north. In his own words, he finds he can't keep up with the improvements in farming, and so he decided to turn the heavy work over to the boys, four of whom will be farming in the neighborhood this year.

Andrew Kusek was born in Platte county in 1892, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kusek, came to Valley county from that place in 1901, spending 9 years in Nance county enroute. The parents came to this country about 1870 from Pilsno, near Krakow, Poland, where they were born. The Valley county place was bought in 1902 and the oldest son, Mike, and Frank Dubas came here in 1903 and farmed the place together until the Joe Kuseks came the next year.

The place they bought lies about two miles south of the Fort, and is a place of historic interest. The first owner was one J. V. Alderman, who took up the land in the '70s. There he started one of Valley county's first nurseries. Because of the need for trees for timber claims, he specialized in forest trees, and, according to his Quiz, he must have gone into this line of work rather extensively.

In fact, the farm house, with some additions, is the same one that Alderman built while he was living there. It was one of the finest houses in the valley and the present owner has kept it up in fine shape all the time he has owned it. It was a two story, square built house, and will be remembered well by all who have traveled the road to Fort Hartsuff. Following the loss of his entire tree crop in the '80s from hail, Mr. Alderman sold out, probably to Bob Kipling, the man from whom Mr. Kusek bought it.

Mr. Kusek, sr., bought 240 acres from Kipling and later bought another eighty. Andrew bought the south 160 acres in 1915, and four years ago he bought the other quarter. About 1932 he bought the Jim Couch 80, which corners the rest on the northwest, and moved the house on this place down to the home farm, locating it to the rear of the big house, where it is used as a wash house.

In 1906 Kusek sr., bought 63 acres just south of the J. J. Jablonski place, which is all hay land and pasture, and which helped tide the family over the dry years of the '30s. This he owned until the death of Mrs. Kusek, sr., in 1933. Andrew then bought the 63 acres, which now makes his total holdings 463 acres. Of this 340 acres is under cultivation and 292 acres under irrigation, which more could be leveled for irrigation.

Because of the fact that Mr. Kusek believes in irrigating early, they have never experienced a shortage of water. This was true last year, when their fields were well watered at the time of the storm which damaged the irrigation system, and they had enough to get by on while other farmers' fields were badly in need of water. Last year their corn was good. The field corn made up to 55 bushels per acre and the popcorn made a ton or better to the acre.

The Kusek farm home. This house was built by the original homesteader, J. V. Alderman, Valley county's first nurseryman.

Whiteface cattle putting on pounds in the Kusek feed lot.

The general plan of farming is to have about one third of the land in alfalfa all the time. They plant it with oats as a nurse crop and generally get a good stand. His son Adrian lives on the place and will farm it this year. His son Henry bought the Joe Bogus place, 160 acres, lying just to the north, and Adrian bought a half section known as the Joe Sobon place, so the boys will have 918 acres to farm, all in one piece except the 68 acres along the river. Andrew and his father, always had a lot of stock on hand. There are 150 head of Whiteface cattle on the place now, but only a few hogs, as Andrew sold them last and Adrian has not yet stocked up on hogs.

Now, returning to the first Kuseks, Mr. and Mrs. Joe had a number of children. Mike was the oldest, was born in 1880, and married Sophie Golka. They have four girls and three boys, and all but two of the sons are married. John, who lives in Oregon, married Helen Flakus. They have one daughter, now married. He is now retired. The next child was Mary.

the wife of Frank Dubas, who died in the spring of 1915. They had two daughters and four sons, and Frank still lives on the home place with one of his sons, Ed. This is the old Maj. Potter place, famous in the early days, which Frank bought from the Nortons, who owned it at the time. Anna, Mrs. Joe Kusek, lives in Ord now. They have two sons and two daughters. Carrie married Henry Flakus, who died in the '30s. They had a large family and there are a dozen children still living. They lived for a time in Dakota, and she now lives in Washington state. Frank, who at one time ran a pool hall in Spaulding, died in 1926. His widow is now Mrs. Frank Hron, and the Hrons are living in Arizona. Andrew, the subject of this sketch, came next. Verma, the wife of J. B. Zol, koshk, lives in Elyria with her husband. They had five sons and four daughters. Two sons and all the daughters are married. Joe, who lives in Hastings, is married. They have one daughter and four sons. The daughter is married and one of the sons, Loren, graduates from law school in Maryland this year. Celia, Mrs. J. J. Michalak, lives in Omaha. They have six daughters and three sons. Two of the daughters are married. Kative, Mrs. James Iwanski, lives on a farm north of Elyria. They have two boys and four girls, one of whom is married. Last of the family is Adam, who lives in Columbus and is married. They have one boy. In addition to their own children, the Kuseks adopted a girl named Catherine Connely, who now lives in Omaha.

In 1915, Andrew Kusek married Clara Czuba of Columbus. That year his parents moved off the place and Andrew and his bride took over the place. They lived there for 33 years, moving to Elyria last fall. They have four sons and six daughters living, one son, Bernard, dying when he was 11 years old. Henry, who was in the army over 1 year, is married to Adeline Alloway of Burwell, and they have one daughter. At present they are in Chicago, where he is attending photographers school. Elenora (Aquina) is a nun and a teacher in Chicago. Adrian, who saw four years service in the war, is married to Evelyn Papernik. They are living on the place north of Elyria. Marie is married to Bernard Suminski, and they live on his father's farm four miles northwest of Elyria. They have one son and one daughter. Helen is married to Don Glatter.

MEET THE MAN SENATOR ROBERT A. (Bob) TAFT

Whether He Is "Senator", "Nominee" or "Mr. President", Taft Would Like To Remain Plain "Bob"

You meet Bob Taft for the first time, and you come away surprised.

You are surprised because—despite his brilliance of mind—you find him plain and comfortable. Like a pair of old shoes. And like good shoes, Bob Taft wears well. The longer you're with him, the deeper is your affection for this great but engaging and down-to-earth American.

What you had thought was coldness in his makeup turns out to be only shyness. Even this, you find, gives way quickly to a quiet, easy warmth. You know that politics is a glad-handing art, yet you realize that Bob Taft could never become a back-slapper. And this dignity, you feel, belongs in the White House.

To countless friends throughout the nation this thoughtful candidate is just plain "Bob". And as you talk with him, you sense immediately that that's the way he wants it to be... as Senator, Nominee or President.

Taft's Friends Love Him for What He Is: Even His Enemies Heaped His Ability.

No one, not even his many nervous enemies here and abroad, dares challenge Bob Taft's determination and ability to think problems through... intelligently, thoroughly, honestly and without prejudice... before taking his stand on public issues.

LIFE Magazine, February 9, 1948, testifies that his 95 colleagues in the U. S. Senate agree on one thing: "When Bob Taft says something, he knows". And Americans, even political bosses, respect the man who knows.

Again, according to LIFE, his vast number of friends, agree: "His guide is his conscience, directed by reason." That is high praise, and deserved by his record.

But beyond this man's intellect and integrity, what are the characteristics that make him the hope and the champion of practical-minded American voters? If you could meet Bob Taft personally, we think you would say there are four:

NOMINATE A VOTE-GETTER! THIS IS BOB TAFT'S RECORD

Most people agree that Bob Taft is the best qualified man for President. Fewer know that his record at the polls indicates he would be the easiest man to elect.

Taft entered politics in 1921, and HE HAS NEVER LOST AN ELECTION!

In 1928, Franklin D. Roosevelt twice campaigned personally in Ohio against Taft's candidacy for the U. S. Senate. Yet Taft smashed his popular New Deal opponent, Senator Robert Butler, by 170,000 votes!

In 1944, PACIO threw everything it had against Bob Taft. The Federal payroll was loaded. Yet Taft won by 17,740 votes! In the other industrial states of New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Illinois, G.O.P. candidates were defeated.

So remember this on April 13th—VICTORY IS BOB TAFT'S HABIT!

This Message Sponsored and Paid for by the Nebraska Taft-for-President Committee

Bob Taft is MODEST —

His quiet industry, his willingness to listen, his thoughtful spirit of cooperation—these are the traits of a humble man. In no sense an egotist, Taft has a level head that is indifferent to flattery. His personality — like his policies — is fundamental, simple, clear.

Bob Taft is COURAGEOUS —

He has never backed away from any issue, regardless of political risk. Taft is no do-nothing politician, no extractor of statements. Among those who know the strength of Taft's moral drive are labor racketeers, in his Taft-Hartley Act; professional militarists, in his stand against Universal Military Training; and New Deal bureaucrats, in his blasting of OPA.

Bob Taft is FEARED —

The firm resolve on this man's face is not a pose, and there are many who know it and are bitter against him. Communists, political racketeers—whether national or international — Wall Street monopolists and Washington bureaucrats alike dread the thought of Bob Taft in the White House.

Bob Taft is LOVED —

Not only his myriad personal friends, but all those who look to Taft to lead the country back to common sense, dignity and individual liberties express their complete devotion. Lovers of truth, intelligence, humility and a fighting heart are the disciples of Candidate Taft.

Taft is a Family-Man, A Church-Man A Man of Simple Tastes at Home, On His 60-Acre Ohio Farm

Bob Taft does not claim to be a farmer, although he farms 60 acres of rich Ohio Valley soil.

Here, with his captivating wife, Martha, he finds occasional relaxation and opportunity to study in a simple, frugal, quiet pattern of life.

Here, he is the family-man, the church-man, the peaceful and happy grandfather.

But even here, beneath his congenial composure a relentless sense of duty gnaws at Bob Taft, the Man, to lead America back into the sun, with Bob Taft, the President, as flag-bearer.

Welly Elected President
John Welly was elected president of the Arcadia Rural Fire District at a meeting held at the High school auditorium Wednesday, evening, March 3rd, when Deputy State Fire Marshall G. E. "Big" Ekstrand of Lincoln spoke to an audience of about one hundred.

Deputy Fire Marshal Ekstrand explained the purpose and advantage of the Rural Fire District. He told how fire can be fought with less water by mixing one gallon of a new chemical with 100 gallons of water, which produces 900 gallons of foam. Buildings near a fire, sprayed with this foam, are prevented from catching on fire from flying sparks.

"Most farmers have more inflammable liquids around their farm buildings now than in the past years," said Mr. Ekstrand. "It is one of the important reasons for organizing a Rural Fire District."

Other officers elected were: H. A. Dean, vice president; John Kaminski, secretary; treasurer; trustees are Floyd Bossen and Glen Beeline.

In order to organize this Rural Fire District the following were appointed to circulate petitions in their townships: J. C. Crawford, H. A. Dean, Don Murray, John Welly, C. F. Franzen, Floyd Bossen, Ed Hruby, Ernest Easterbrook, Martin Benson, K. C. Holmes, K. L. Dorsey, Carol Lutz and Merlin Lybarger.

Four Arcadia band members are working on instrumental solos which they will be playing with band accompaniment in the concert to be given this spring. Elvabel Beams will play "Circibirin" by Pestolozzi, arranged for E. Fitzsaxophone. Leander Mendyk is working on "Intermezzo" by Buchtel for trumpet, Carol Adams will be playing "Silhouette" by Buchtel for clarinet, and Janet Wibbels is preparing "Jupiter" by Buchtel for trombone. Vocal and instrumental small groups will begin rehearsals next week for the festival of April 2.

The seniors decided upon the play, "Listen to Leon," a three-act comedy taking place at a summer resort in western New York. Leon Bryon gets into a great deal of trouble because of his fish stories and lies. The play cast was chosen as follows: Archibald Darby Bob Collier, Anne Cushman Alyce Burt, Carolyn Jamison Virginia Mason, Leon Bryon Don Woody, Gusippie Gerald Webb, Colonel Bryon Dewey Hodgson, Babe JoAnn Myers, Nellie Patty Myers.

The AHS Pep club marched into a wheel formation to surprise Huskie fans at the last home game. They stopped early out of the wheel to present the audience with the heart of the club—a valentine consisting of Pep club members. After the novelty formation, an "N" was formed for the visitors and an "A" for Arcadia.

The Nebraska Wesleyan University will present the Girls Glee club, under the direction of Doris Ruth Ganz at the AHS auditorium March 23 at 9 a. m. Adults 25c.

Jean Criss is the only pupil of the third and fourth grade room who has been neither tardy nor absent this school year.

The new officers in the ABC club are, President, Janean Waddel; vice president, Billy Tuning; secretary, Kermit Erickson; treasurer, Clara Sell; News reporter, Chuck Evans; librarian, Judy Beeline.

Pupils of the 5th and 6th grade made animals from paper sculpture, a covering of paper mache, and then enameled the desired color. They are then finished with buttons and yarn. Some of these animals are on display in the window of Gladys' Beauty Shoppe.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bills of New Underwood, S. D. and Joe Brandt of Hereford, S. D. are visiting at the Debert Holmes home. Mrs. Holmes is an aunt of Mrs. Bills and Mr. Brandt.

The ladies of the Congregational aid are busy preparing for a bazaar and food sale to be held Thursday, March 18th beginning at 2:30. They will also serve a 15c lunch.

Sunday evening dinner guests at the Otto Lueck home were Mr. and Mrs. Les Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barr of North Loup. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goeman and baby of Grand Island are visiting at the home of Mrs. Goeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hawley.

Mrs. George Brandenburg spent the past week in Omaha where she had some dental work done. Mrs. H. M. Brandenburg is visiting at the farm to help care for the children while their mother was away.

Walter Apperson is learning the meat cutting trade at the Food Center store under the direction of Morris Riddle.

Veterans Foreign Wars Choose John Wozab Commander

Will Sponsor Marble Tourney For Country Kids During May or June.

John J. Wozab, Ord abstractor, was chosen commander of the Ord post of Veterans of Foreign Wars at the annual election of officers held Monday. Frank Benda is retiring commander.

Other new officers are Harry Zukoski, Sr., vice-commander; Richard Piskorski, vice-commander; Wm. Goff, quartermaster; Alfred Hill, post advocate; Arthur Pierce, chaplain; and Albert Parkos, trustee. The new officers will be installed in April.

Sponsorship of a marble tournament for boys and girls of grade school age, to be held in late May or early June, was announced Tuesday night, and Wm. Goff appointed to head the tournament committee.

Tentative plans are for elimination contests to be held in the various town schools and rural schools in the county. Each town school will send three entries and each rural school, one entry to Ord for the county contest. The VFW plans to send the county winner to a state marble contest, where he or she will compete with other county winners or post entries from all over Nebraska. The winners of the state contest will be eligible to compete in the national VFW marble contest which was held in Boys Town last year.

Vocal Festival Coming March 23

105 Ord Musicians Will Take Part in the Event at Loup City.

The Three Vocals conference will have a vocal festival at Loup City March 23.

Schools included are Broken Bow, Burwell, Loup City, Ravenna and Ord and the guest conductor and critic will be Prof. Oscar Lyders, director of vocal music at Midland college, Fremont.

One hundred and five music students will attend from Ord high school. This will include the mixed glee club, the boys' glee club and the girls' glee club. They will present their contest numbers.

The mixed glee club will sing "Bless The Lord, O My Soul" by Ippolitoff-Ivanoff, and "Carry Me Along" by Stephen Foster.

The girls' glee club will sing "Religion Is A Future" by Noble Cain.

The boys' glee club will present "Rise Up O Me of God" by G. J. Jones.

In the morning each town will have 45 minutes to present their songs for the critic.

In the afternoon a mass chorus of 200 voices chosen from different towns sing together.

In the evening there will be a final concert where each town will present their songs and the mass chorus will sing "Were You There" arranged by Barleigh.

School Operetta Well Presented

Thursday evening the fourth, fifth and sixth grade music students presented the operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," at the auditorium at the high school under the direction of the music teacher, Mrs. Leslie Nash. Mrs. Syl Furtak accompanied the chorus on the piano. Miss Jacqueline Hunt was the narrator.

The chorus of about sixty voices gave an exceptional presentation of the difficult songs in the operetta.

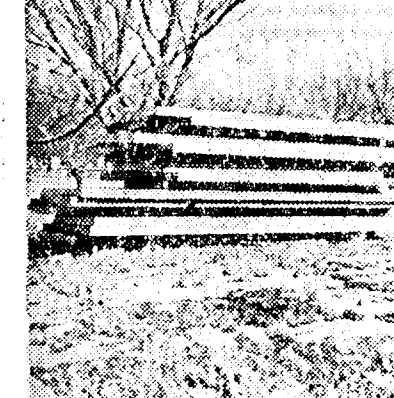

CAR CAUGHT FIRE

Albert Wolf was very much surprised Sunday afternoon when his car engine burst into flame as he was driving into his driveway. Jerry Rajewich put the fire out with an extinguisher but the engine was considerably damaged and the paint on the hood marred.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued Monday to J. D. Bessall and Shirley Spilinke, both of Scotia, Nebr.

Here is Your Swimming Pool, Ordites!

This pile of material at the Ord city park is scheduled to go into Ord's new $42,000 swimming pool to be built this summer. A $25,000 bond issue plus a $17,000 gift of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion made the pool possible.

Spring Comes to Ord's Q Street

As frost leaves the ground with the near-approach of spring, Ord's streets are rapidly taking on the appearance of the one pictured above, which is Q street, looking west from 15th. Other Ord streets are nearly as bad, some are said to be worse.

To see a car, even one equipped with chains, fast-stuck in the middle of a main Ord street is nothing unusual these days. Streets running east and west and particularly those on which sewer work was done late in the summer are in worst condition.

The sewer project, coupled with the city's failure to have equipment adequate to regrade the streets until after frost last fall and consequent failure to regrade the streets before winter set in is the main cause, aggravated of course by the wet winter and heavy snowfall of the past two weeks.

Frost is leaving the ground but is not entirely out yet, so moisture is remaining at the top instead of going down. Surface drainage is inadequate to handle the heavy run-off from melting snow and water stands in pools at many places in the city. Creeks and gulches have been running bank full, but are dropping now, and floods are threatening eastern Nebraska as ice gorges develop in the lower reaches of the Loup, Platte and Elkhor rivers.

Country roads in Valley county, except main graded highways, are in about the same condition as the Ord streets. Farmers are pulling their cars to the highway with tractors, making the trip to town and then pulling the cars back into their yards with tractors. Many farmers park their cars on the highway and walk 1/4 to 1/2 mile to and from their homes, each time they need to make a trip to town.

The terrible condition of Ord's streets and crosswalks is almost the sole topic of conversation these days. Mud brought in and left by autos makes the paving almost as bad as unpaved streets. A few of the milder comments heard by the Quiz reporter Monday follow.

Mrs. John Mason: "We can't get out onto the road, then the roads are so bad you can't drive. The roads are worse than I ever remember them."

Mrs. Ray Hurlbert: "The car with the pall bearers at the funeral Sunday was driving along and just dropped into a hole up to the running boards."

Arthur Pierce: "The roads are so bad on the pedestrians. We had to walk two extra blocks to find a place to cross the street."

Mrs. Martin Knopik: "The crossings are terrible. Mud up to your ankles."

Eleanor Dvorak: "It is impossible to drive to church, so Sunday we tried to walk. Every driveway was thick mud and the rest of the way you nearly had to swim."

Elvin Dunlap: "Anyone who gets out on dirt roads now is sort of foolish, I think."

Ed Swopes: "The bottom has dropped out of all roads and streets. Even if they were graded they would be bad. Gravel last fall would have helped some, of course."

Merritt Jensen won a superior for his original oratory.

The four other superiors were won on the one-act play.

Three students received superior actor and actress awards for their acting in the play. These were Merritt Jensen, Kenneth Clement and Marilyn Cook.

The two judges were Dr. Laasse and Mr. Flick of the University of Nebraska.

The contest numbers were presented for the public Monday evening at the Ord high school.

Band Has Skating Party at Loup City

Ord's marching band including the twirlers had a skating party at the roller skating rink in Loup City Tuesday night.

The committee in charge of the party was Wayne Zlonkie, Rosellen Vogel-tanz, Evelyn Jobst, Bette Dunbar, Jim Misko and Margaret Heuck.

Eight cars, belonging to Wm. Nelson, Wm. Heuck, Geo. Allen, Alfred Hill, Harry Foth, John Misko, Fred Stoddard and Lewis Jobst, each with an adult sponsor, transported the students to Loup City.

Car Rifled At Basketball Game

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zikmund and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Benda attended the basketball tournament in Lincoln Saturday. While at the game their car was broken into and the overcoat belonging to Hank, a pair of gloves and a flashlight were stolen. The wires to the heater and to the radio were cut.

It is a mystery how the car was broken into as it was locked when they left it and was still locked when they returned.

Dairy Group Now Serving 600 Cows

The Loup Valley Dairy Breeders' Non-Stock Cooperative association, organized just recently for the artificial breeding of dairy cattle, has a very nice start. It now has 58 members, representing a total of about 600 cows. Directors and officers are: Wilmer Nelson, Ord, president; Sidney Allison, Scotia, vice-president; Emil A. Dabka, Ord, secretary-treasurer; Carroll Thomas, North Loup, director; Dellvan Kingston, Aftonia, director; Glen Watts, Ord, director; and Jay J. Campbell, insectinator.

Campbell reports that so far his work is running about 65%, which is well above average for associations that have been in operation for a longer period of time. There are about 35 organizations of this kind in the state of Nebraska. Dairymen in this territory should take advantage of the opportunity offered by this organization, as it is securing services of some of the outstanding dairy bulls in this state, certainly a good way to improve a dairy herd at reasonable cost.

Funeral Services for Mrs. Lukesh Are Held Sunday

Respected Mira Valley Woman Dies Thursday Following Long Illness.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in Loup City at the Steele Funeral parlors and in Ord at the Methodist church, for Mrs. Ben Lukesh, who died Thursday at her home in Loup City following an illness of five months. Rev. Warren Studer officiated and interment was in the Ord cemetery.

MRS. BEN LUKESH

Pallbearers were Paul Zentz, John Skala, Jack Ranshaw, Wm. Vodehnal, George Panchochar and Lonnie Roy. Musical selections were given by a quartet composed of Mrs. Florence Hornfield, Mrs. Mildred Lenz, Harold Koel, and Reuben Cook with Mrs. Wilma Cook accompanying. Mrs. Orin Kellison was at the organ.

Esther Anna, daughter of Joseph and Sophia Cook, was born in Greeley county, Nebr., January 7, 1898. At the time of her death she had reached the age of 50 years, 2 months and four days.

When about six years of age, she came with her parents to make their home in Mira Valley where she grew to womanhood. Being the eldest of four children, she had to assume much of the responsibility of the work in the home during the failing health of her mother.

Her youngest sister, Henrietta, and her mother preceded her in death. Mrs. Lukesh was active in the membership of Mira Valley Evangelical church, which she joined in 1909.

She is survived by her husband, Ben, of Loup City, her father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cook, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Geweke and Mrs. Lillie Foth, and a half-sister, Lois, all of Ord.

Housewives Warned of Phony Repairmen

John R. Haskell, chairman of the Ord Chamber of Commerce solicitor's committee told the Quiz this week that the approach of spring would bring a new flood of door-to-door salesmen to Ord.

"They'll be selling magazines, appliances, tools, or what have you," Mr. Haskell said. "Or they'll be soliciting for repair work for your vacuum cleaner or other appliances."

"While some of them may have perfectly legitimate propositions, we want to caution housewives to think a bit before they act. There are a lot of phonies in the country, too, and their appearance and credentials look just as good as the honest ones."

Mr. Haskell cited a report from Broken Bow this week concerning a vacuum cleaner sales and service crew. According to Don Porter, secretary of the Broken Bow Chamber of Commerce one salesman from the crew informed a Broken Bow woman that the bearings in her machine were burned out although they had been replaced by her son less than a week prior to the salesman's inspection.

Chanticleers Win Runner-Up Trophy at State Tourney

Nipped by Fast Seward Quint in Championship Round after Beating Stanton.

All of Ord is proud this week of the 1948 Chanticleers, who fought their way to the finals of the Class B basketball tournament at Lincoln, only to be nipped by Seward, 52 to 42, in a hard-fought championship game. As proof of their prowess the Chanticleers brought home the beautiful trophy given to the runner-up in Class B and it now graces the trophy case at the high school.

It was the farthest an Ord team has ever gone in state tournament play and had the Chanticleers been in good form at the free-throw line they might easily have defeated Seward and won the title.

To get into the finals the Cochran-coached team beat Wahoo, 37 to 26 in the opening round, and then overwhelmed previously undefeated Stanton, 41 to 32, in the semi-finals.

The championship game was played at 3:00 Saturday afternoon and all Ordites who could not be present and the Ord delegation aggregated several hundred — had their cars glued to radios to hear the game, which was broadcast in full by two radio stations.

Seward got off to an early lead but a toss by Blessing soon tied it up, 2 and 2. Again Seward forced the ball in and Ord tied it up, 6 to 6. When the first quarter ended the score was 11 to 8, with Seward ahead. Twice in the second quarter the score was tied, 11-11 and 18-18, but at halftime Seward led, 26 to 22, and Ord was never able to head their deficit.

From the floor Ord was better than Seward, making good 16 field goals out of 45 chances while Seward made only 17 out of 53 chances. It was at the free throw line the Seward had the edge, for they converted 26 chances into 18 points, while Ord made only 10 points out of 19 chances.

As usual Al Blessing was Ord's big pointmaker, the lanky center making 14 points with Stoddard good for 11. Even Blessing, who has been consistently good for 3 1/2 of his gift, lost attempts, was off in this department as he hit only 6 out of 13 chances.

Three Ord regulars, Jay Stoddard, Bill Anderson and Don Woznick, were lost early in the last period on fouls and it was after their departure that Seward widened the gap to ten points, even though their own star center, 6 foot 6 inch Roland Rivers, had led the game for the same reason.

Finest player on the floor probably was Seward's Ted Dierberger, who made 20 points for his team and played a great defensive game, personally snuffing many Ord plays and intercepting Ord passes that kept other plays from starting. Bill Anderson, for Ord, was a tower of defensive strength also.

Box score of the championship game follows:

	Seward (52)	ft.	pf.
Hagemoser f	1	0-0	4
Miller f	0	0-0	1

Nagel c-g	1	2-3	3
Bismelmer g	2	4-5	1
Dierberger g	7	6-12	4
Totals	17	18-32	28

	Ord (42)	ft.	pf.
J. Stoddard f	5	1-4	5
Tolen f	1	1-2	1
Woznak f	1	1-1	5
Hill f	0	0-0	1
Blessing c	4	6-13	2
Richardson g	0	0-0	1
Dale g	3	0-0	4
Cochrane g	0	0-1	2
Anderson g	2	2-3	5
P. Stoddard g	0	0-0	0
Totals	16	10-27	26

Score at end of quarters:

Seward 11 26 39 52

Ord 8 22 34 42

Officials — D. W. Graham, Hastings; Joe Silverman, Lincoln.

Quiz Installs New High Speed Folder

The Quiz plant this week completed installation of a new high speed folding machine in its commercial printing department.

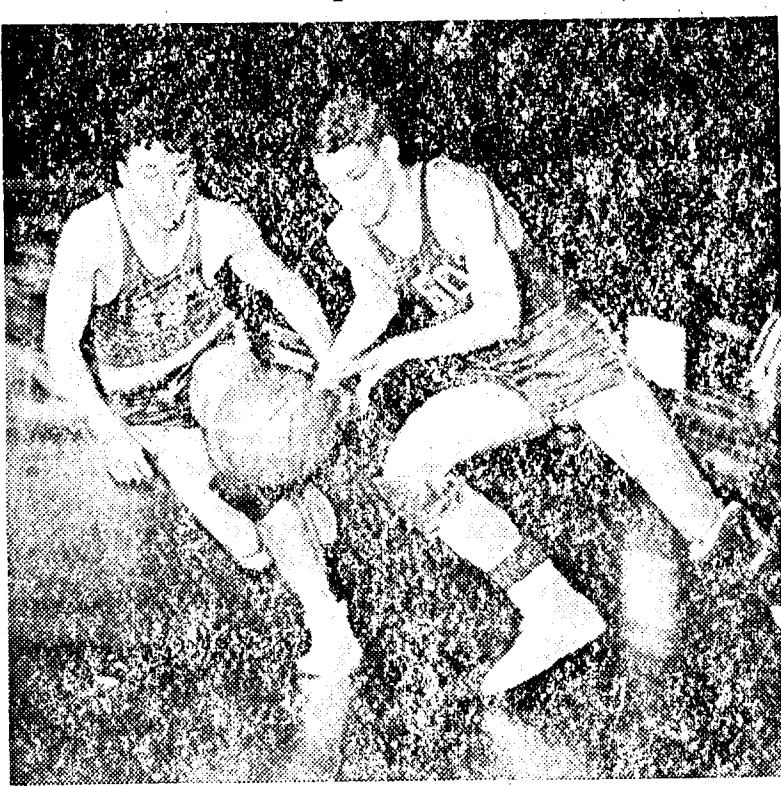

The new machine, known as a 2x38 Baum automatic folder, will be used for booklet and publication work and not for the newspaper itself. Fully automatic, it will deliver from 6,000 to 30,000 folded sheets per hour, speed depending on the size of sheet and number of folds to be made. It is the first such machine to be installed in Nebraska, west of Omaha.

Paul Kincaid of Omaha, assisted in the installation and the folder will be operated by members of the Quiz bindery staff.

SPRING CONCERT

The Ord high school band will give a spring concert at the Ord high school on April 6 under the direction of William Nelson.

Blessing High Scorer in Entire Meet, Also Chosen on Two All-Star Teams

By making 48 points during the Nebraska High School Basketball Championships in Lincoln last week, Al Blessing of the Ord team won individual scoring honors.

Closest to him was Roland Rivers, of Seward, who made 46. Highest scorer in Class A was Dale Toft, of Grand Island, with 41, while Don Erickson of Wakefield led Class C with 45 and Glen Hicography of Hildreth, led Class D with 41.

The Ord Baseball club has been invited to become a member of the Sherman-Howard league for the 1948 season, it is announced this week by Bruce Covey, club president, and because this league plays a stricter brand of amateur baseball than does the Loup Valley league the invitation is being given serious consideration.

This league would be composed of eight teams including North Loup, Ashton, Elba, Cushing, Palmer, Farwell, Dannebrog and Ord, if it becomes a member. May 9 is the opening date and a 14 game schedule will be played, followed by a play-off among the four leading teams to decide the championship.

League president is L. D. Jamnik, of Ashton, J. S. Smovick, of Elba, is vice president, and G. A. Dilla, Farwell, is secretary-treasurer.

A definite decision on which league Ord will play in will be announced very soon, Covey says.

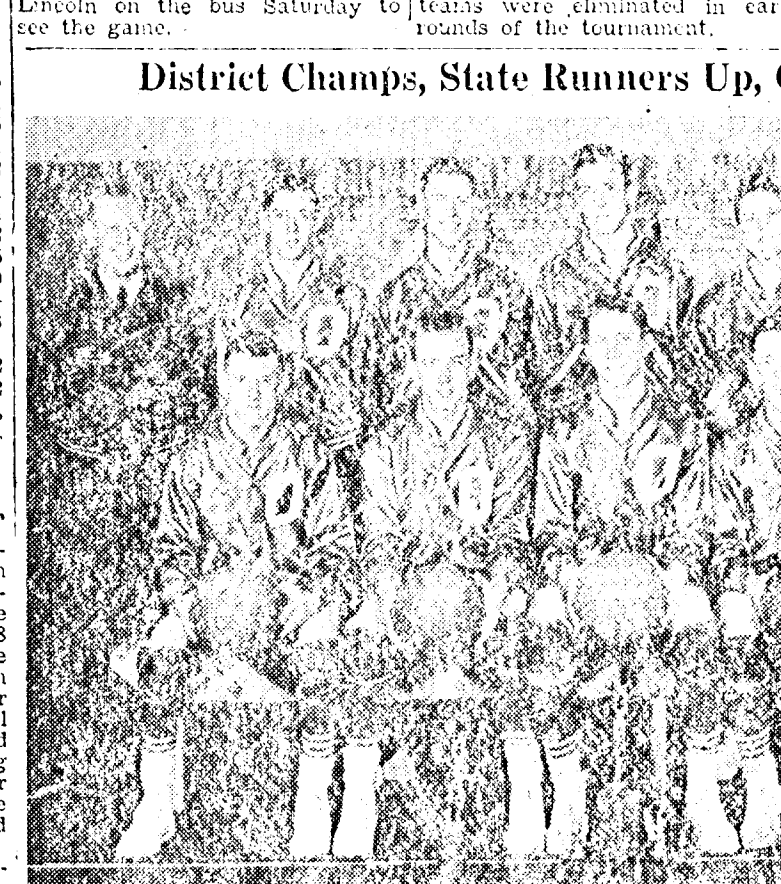

Car Crash Last Fall Brings Damage Suit

Verne E. Noble of Grand Island is being sued in Custer county district court by Clifford W. Brown of Broken Bow, for damages totaling $1,328.98, as the result of a car crash in August of last year on Highway 57 about nine miles east of Broken Bow.

In the accident, a new Studebaker car driven by Brown collided with a 1916 Pontiac driven by Noble. Both cars were wrecked. Brown is a brother of Jay Stoddard.

Mrs. Joe Ruzicki, Mrs. John Wojtasak, Dickie Good, and John and Jim Douthitt made the trip to Lincoln on the bus Saturday to see the game.

District Champs, State Runners Up, Ord's Chanticleers

Salvation Army Starts Campaign for $1,000 in Ord

Field Representative Is Helping Local Committee; Ask Donations Mailed.

The Salvation Army has a field representative, Niels T. Abildgaard, of Omaha, in Ord this week in connection with the drive for funds now under way in this community.

A different approach to the public is being used this year in the fund raising campaign, than in former years. The tabourine system has been outlawed in outlying communities because it was being used by many wanting to pick up a dishonest dollar.

This year the local Service Unit consisting of C. E. Rumsell, chairman; C. J. Mortensen, treasurer; Keith C. Lewis, Ralph Norman, H. D. Leggett and F. L. Stoddard have sent envelopes to all in which donations may be placed and sent directly to the local committee. The field representative will contact those who would rather not send in their money.

The goal for the local drive is for $1,000, the same as in all communities of this size. A portion of the money is at the disposal of the local committee to be used in a program for such things as tooth brushes and powder for school children who need them. Vitamins, tonsillectomies, glasses, dental aid and hospitalization for unmarried mothers, etc. Local teachers, or citizens may feel free to bring any worthy need to the attention of the local committee.

A portion goes into the regional fund for the maintenance of hospitals for unmarried mothers, fresh air camps for children, veterans' Christmas cheer and other worthy causes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cook Celebrate Their Golden Wedding Anniversary

Ed Cook Eats Wedding Cake

Ed Cook is happily munching a bit of wedding cake served him by his bride of 50 years ago at the open house held last week in honor of the Cook's Golden Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, March 9th at their home in Eriksen, Neb. They were married in Albion, Neb. in 1898 and are the parents of eleven children, all living; three sons and eight daughters. All were present except two, Mrs. Glendora Gilroy, Yakima, Wash., and Mrs. Marie Heinz, Placerville, Calif. Those present were George Cook and Viola Gallant of Yakima, Wash., Mrs. Hazel Van Hoey, of Placerville, Calif., Mrs. Beulah Andrews of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Leona Pfeiffer, Spalding, Herman, Arnold, Mrs. Effie Dahlsten, Mrs. Ethel Watson, of Eriksen. The golden sun shining on the glistening snow made a perfect setting for the occasion. Dinner was served at the Methodist church dining room to more than seventy guests, all were relatives with the exception of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Cox. The family table formed the letter "C", decorated with three beautiful three-tier cakes, bouquets of jonquils, yellow roses, carnation, and gladioli. Mrs. Cook's corsage was of yellow roses and jonquils. Open house was held at their home from 2:30 until 5 o'clock. Ice cream with a gold bell design and angel food cake was served. More than one hundred signed the guest book. Mr. and Mrs. Cook received many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Cook and relatives were entertained in the evening with an old time dance, by friends, at the community hall. They were congratulated and wished many more happy years. Mr. and Mrs. Cook, when first married, lived on a farm near Albion, Neb., and moved to Washington state for two years, then returned to Albion. From there they spent five years at Pibel Lake and came to Eriksen in 1931, where they have made their home.

Fuel Shortage Halts 62-Year-Old Vigil

Dead Man Fails to Return Home As He Promised

CUTTINGSVILLE, VT. — The increased cost of fuel forced the closing of the sprawling estate of Jovial, old John P. Bowman, who in 1886 directed that the house be maintained in waiting readiness for him after his death. For 62 years people have been waiting for Bowman to come stomping out of the foothills, icicles on his majestic mustache, his velvet coatails whipped by the winter wind, his rusty beaver hat cocked jauntily over one jolly eye. But since he died he has never reappeared.

Most faithful to the strange will has been 80-year-old George N. Jones, the home's custodian, who was quartered in the stately old house. Daily he wound clocks, dusted furniture, hung crisp, white curtains in the windows and tossed crackling logs in the fireplaces. He kept the huge rooms brightly lit each night. At dusk every day, he prepared a hot meal.

"The food's always been ready on time," Jones said, "but so far my wife and I have had to eat it ourselves."

After amassing a fortune in the leather business at Stony Creek, N. Y., Bowman retired to the large gabled house. Within three months after moving into the home his wife and two daughters died as the result of a contagious disease. Some said the tragedy warped his mind.

Five years later he summoned his servants and told them sternly: "I'll soon be leaving but I'll be back. I promise I'll come back some winter day and I have never broken my word." One hour later he was dead.

His will left $50,000 in a trust fund to pay the upkeep of the house "pending my return."

"I'm not among those who think he'll return," said Caretaker Jones, "but if he actually walked in some night I wouldn't want to see if he were a happy ghost. I may be getting on in years, but I'd make California before I slowed down enough to tell anybody what had happened."

87, But Still Can Kick His Weight in Wildcats

EUGENE, ORE. — Although he's 87, Lafe Boring proved that he still can kick his weight in wildcats — with a wooden cane.

Boring came upon a wildcat which was caught in a trap. The snarling animal broke free and viciously lunged at the elderly man whom he blamed for his troubles. With the only weapon he had in his possession, a wooden cane, Boring pummeled the attacking wildcat and killed the beast. In the future angry wildcats will give Boring a wide berth.

Citizens Return Stolen Loot During 'Conscience Week'

TIRO, OHIO. — Citizens of this community can proudly boast that they possess a generous conscience. A collision with a train killed truck driver Vila Brunell, 38, and spilled his load of golf and tennis balls and tools all over the road. Residents of Tiro picked most of them up and carted the loot to their homes.

Then Mayor Robert Eckstein and the pastors of the villages two churches, the Rev. R. H. Miller and the Rev. Kenneth Stover, made personal appeals to the people. The mayor erected boxes marked "for salvaged tools" at the churches and the railroad depot. During Tiro's "conscience week" merchandise valued at $2,000 was put in the boxes.

"Most of the people," explained Mr. Stover, "did not realize they were stealing or doing anything wrong. They were just seized by mob psychology when they saw tools strewn on the ground and made off with what they could."

Any reward offered by the freight owners would be used for some worthy cause the mayor said.

Statistics Show That Spud Business Is in the 'Chips'

NEW YORK. — Today Americans are consuming potato chips at the rate of 261 million pounds a year, according to statistics released by National Potato Chip Institute. Until about 10 years ago potato chips were merely a novelty food but now it takes 1,198,000 pounds of potatoes annually to do the job.

A 200 million dollar a year industry, potato chips have moved up in the social scale and frequently keep company with such high-brows as caviar and rare cheeses. No longer a companion for only a stein of beer, potato chips find their way into movies, nightclubs, homes and restaurants.

There are 50 firms in the potato chip business today. They all sprang up from a freak accident which occurred 95 years ago when an Indian cook dropped a slice of potato into boiling fat and liked what happened.

Unsevered Warrant For Daltons Bared

Bloody Saga of Early Kansas Could Have Been Averted

TULSA, OKLA. — A warrant for the arrest of the three Dalton brothers and five of their companions who blazed a trail of stage train and bank robberies across Oklahoma and Kansas is now in the hands of a Tulsa man.

Had the warrant served its purpose, the bloody end of the Dalton gang at Coffeyville, Kan., might never have occurred. The paper shows that a U. S. deputy marshal wandered from place to place for two months in an effort to serve the warrant, which charged the gang with the $11,000 robbery of a Wells Fargo Express company office at Red Rock, Okla.

Bill Tilghman, whose reputation as a competent law officer was widespread, was handed the warrant by a U. S. commissioner for the Oklahoma territory in August, 1892.

What happened during the next two months is not known but a report scrawled on the warrant and signed by Tilghman said:

"... endeavored with great diligence to execute the same by proceeding to the Creek nation and divers other places and hereby make due return hereon as not being able to find the within defendants."

On October 5, 1892, the Daltons rode into Coffeyville. Bob and Emmett robbed the First National bank and escaped with $23,000. At the same time Grat Dalton, with henchmen Bill Powers and Dick Broadwell, went to the Condon National bank. There a teller stalled them long enough for Coffeyville citizens to be alerted.

A party of vigilantes surrounded the bank and the Daltons were trapped. Powers and Broadwell reached their horses, mounted but were cut down before they could get away.

In the same alley, Bob and Grat Dalton were riddled with bullets as they vainly tried to reach their horses. Emmett Dalton, still in his teens, was wounded seriously.

Today, Coffeyville residents show visitors the alley where the furious shooting match took place.

Here's One Sure System To Make Horses Pay Off

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — Three met walked into the Las Vegas club here, bet on a 44 to 1 shot in the seventh race at fair grounds track, New Orleans, collected $11,000 in winnings and departed.

During the running of the race the club had trouble with its racing wire, but it was repaired and flashed the information that Atomic City, the 44-1 shot, was the winner. Earlier in the day a bank official informed the police chief that he saw a man cutting wires on a telephone pole behind the phone company.

Police Chief Malmburg said investigation revealed that the only wire cut was one of 1,200 — the one carrying information to the Las Vegas club.

The police chief theorized that the gamblers heard the results of the race in another club before dashing into the Las Vegas club to place their wagers.

Two men were held for questioning. One, an ex-convict, is an electrician.

Hiyo Silver Race to Old Mine Ready to Start Anew

DODGEVILLE, MICH. — The story of seven barrels of silver abandoned in an old mine near here is being told and re-told again and is expected to cause a silver rush any day now.

Seems that a group of miners in the middle of the last century wanted more pay. The mine management refused to grant them an increase. Having just neatly capped seven barrels of silver, the miners climbed out of their hole to continue the argument.

Negotiations continued for months while the seven barrels of silver lay in the mine shaft. Finally, when an agreement was reached the miners discovered that the shafting had weakened and they refused to enter the mine again. The silver treasure never was extricated.

Conservatively, the treasure is estimated to be worth about $14,500. Carlos Wenberg, graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, contends that the story is true.

Baby Girl Sweater Fails To Fit Cocker Spaniel

INDIANAPOLIS, IND. — Two former school classmates met in a Terre Haute, Ind., elevator one day and began informing each other of the latest events in their lives.

Paul Hartwig remarked, "We have a beautiful four-month-old baby girl at our house. You must see her."

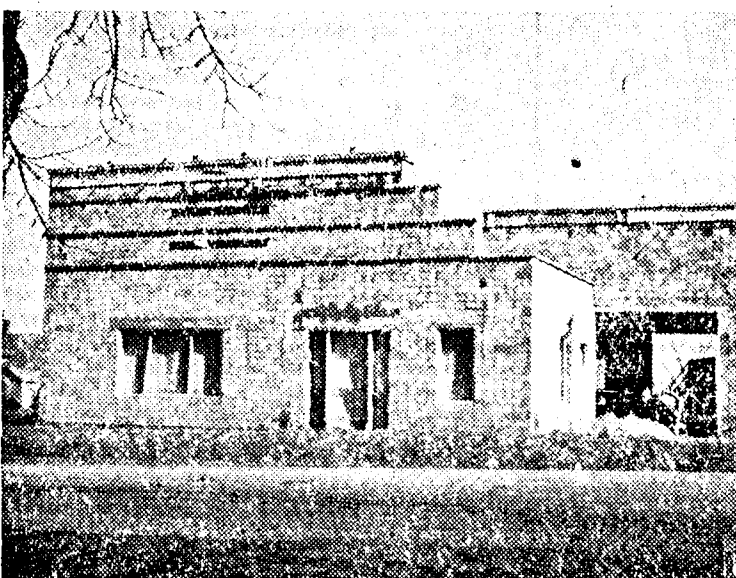

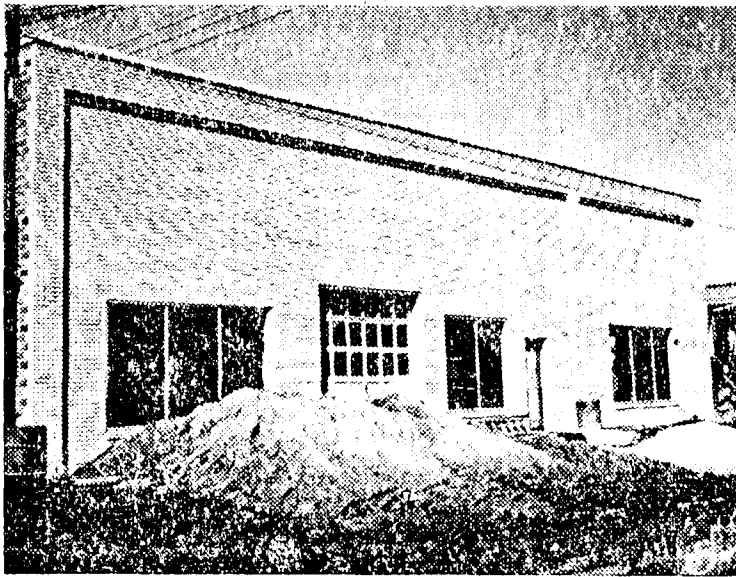

Mrs. Parker, who is Hartwig's former schoolmate, bought a little wool sweater for the baby and had it delivered to the Hartwigs.

She received a letter which thanked her for the gift but apologized:

"Our baby won't be able to wear it. Our darling girl is a registered cocker spaniel."

Electric Whiskbroom The whiskbroom has been electrified. The latest type catches in on the static electricity principle. It is said to get dirt from crevices that the ordinary sweeping flourishes won't touch.

New Buildings in Ord Business Section

Two new buildings in Ord's business section await the return of warm weather for the finishing touches that will make them ready for occupancy in May or June. Above the new brick and tile garage of the Anderson Motor Co., and below the modernistic cement block and stucco building of the Valley Bottling Co.

Mrs. C. E. Coffin Dies at Scio, New York

From Winter Park, Fla., comes news of the death on Febr. 22 of an early Springdale resident, Mrs. Lottie Coffin, widow of the late Dr. Charles E. Coffin. She was 81 years old. Burial was in the family plot at Winter Park, Fla. beside her husband and her mother.

She was the daughter of Harmon P. Eastman and Stella Timmerman Eastman and was born in Scio, N. Y., on March 8, 1867. She came west with her parents in 1878 where they had the first wooden frame house in what is now the Springdale community. Several of her maternal uncles, the Timmermans, settled near them a few years later.

In 1887 she was married to Dr. Coffin, who had come from Michigan. She leaves two daughters, Hazel Coffin Lenfest and Eleanor Coffin Hofbauer, both of Winter Park, Fla., six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

FARM PROSPERITY

Farm prosperity is vital to the success of our state, and farm prosperity is dependent on other things besides the weather and prices. Among these are such essentials as

- Soil Conservation
- Irrigation
- Farm Crop Research
- Market Development
- Better Farm-Market Roads

Your Nebraska legislature — by aiding these programs, can do much to keep farm prosperity a fact rather than a dream. Efficient use of land — of precious water... development of crop species with better yields — efficient marketing with better farm roads and transportation, all can be helped by your legislature.

Carson Has the Skill, the Background, the Training and the "Know How" To Get Things Done

Hugh Carson, in his late forties is a land owner and a land operator. He knows dry-land farming and he knows irrigation. He has been a leader in the movement to extend irrigation in Nebraska. Born and reared in this district, he knows its problems and its needs. His educational background and legal training helps fit him for the job. He is an ex-serviceman, a member of the Ord City Council, American Legion, Loup Valley Water Users Association, and a Soil Conservation Cooperator.

Pioneer History Recalled in Book

Rare Volume Owned by Bill Vodehnal Tells of Early Nebraska History.

Through the courtesy of my old pal, Druggist Bill Vodehnal, I have been privileged to feast my eyes on a real gem of the old days, a book about Nebraska published in 1888, now sixty years old. It was published by J. M. Wolfe and Co. of Omaha, and contains the following information about Nebraska: An alphabetical list of place names, including all post-offices established in the state at that time; a list of all county officers in the state; a story of the department of the Platte; a list of federal officers; a Nebraska state business directory, telling the names of all business men in all the towns and locating the towns and giving quite a history of each one.

In the list of places in Nebraska there were 1115 at that time, most of them postoffices, and some small places along the rail road right of way. Today about 350 of those places, for which their founders hoped much, have gone out of existence entirely, and perhaps 200 more have been added to the list. Most of these came from the western part of the state, which had been settled very little sixty years ago. Gering, for example, was little town in the northwest part of Cheyenne county, which at that time included all of the present counties of Scotts Bluff, Banner, Kimball, Morrill, Cheyenne, Garden and Deuel. Scottsbluff, at present rated as the number four town of Nebraska, had not even been founded in 1888.

Of interest is the town of Plum Creek, which only a short time after the above date changed its name to Lexington. At that time the town was said to have 600 inhabitants, but it has grown a lot since then. Among the well known towns of today that were not in existence then are Comstock, Polk, Bluff, Harrisburg, Mitchell, Morrill and Bridgeport. The town of Butte was not even in Nebraska then, as its present location was a part of Dakota territory later annexed to Nebraska. Instead of following the present lines, the north line followed up along the Niobrara from the Missouri then up the Keya Paha river until it reached the present north line of the state, and thence straight west. Nearly all of present Boyd county and some of Keya Paha were thus located in Dakota.

The name of every firm and every business man in Nebraska is supposed to be given, and some of the findings are of interest. For example, every man in the liquor business has the word, saloon, after his name. In the back of the book, those engaged in various lines of business are collected together, which makes it easy to find out, for example, that there were 275 men conducting saloons in Omaha and South Omaha, which were separate entities at that time. A population of 120,000 was claimed for Omaha then, but this was undoubtedly an exaggeration, and what was said about them should be of special interest to people of today. In fact, the younger generation will not even recall the fact that some of these places existed, and that some even were classed as small towns, with the kind of a future to look forward to. For instance, there was Yale, described as "a postoffice in the southwestern part of Valley county, sixteen miles southwest of Ord, the county seat." C. W. Cass was justice of the peace, and James Cruikshank was postmaster and farmer. This was the first village blacksmith and H. F. Rhodes was the postmaster and ran a general merchandise establishment.

Geranium was a post office in the western part of Valley county, 8 miles west of Ord. The writer was mistaken about the distance, which was about eleven miles, as the postmaster at that time, Charles Palmatier of Ord, would be glad to inform you. Hunt and Travis were said to have been running a meat market at Vinton, a town in Valley county, mail for which was received at Mira Creek. This town also had a Methodist church, of which no mention was made. The post office of Mira Creek, mentioned above was said to be located in the southeastern part of Valley county, 8 miles south of Ord, the county seat. C. L. Miller was justice of the peace and A. Ward was postmaster and justice. Since I was born there, I can certify to the correctness of the above statement. Calamus was a post office in the northern part of Valley county, 12 miles north of Ord, the county seat. I. L. Huff was postmaster, justice and ran a general merchandise store. "Elyra," note the spelling, was a station of the B. and M. R. R. in Valley county, 9 miles from Ord, the county seat. "Sunper" (also note spelling) was a station on the B. and M. R. R., 7 miles from "Ord" the county seat. One of the specialties of the writer seems to have been to misspell place names. Finally, Burris was described as a side track on the old branch of the U.P.R.R. in Valley county, 10 miles south of Ord. As a matter of fact, it was about 6 miles south-east, and was and is better known as Olean. The name Burris came from the owner of the land beside which the siding was located. Who was, I believe, the grandfather of Mrs. W. O. Zangger. The Zanggers are now living on the place.

A few of the earlier post offices of Valley county had apparently gone out of existence before 1888, as there is no mention of the post offices at Ida (Goodegow), Sedlov or Springdale, all of which existed ten years earlier. The description of Ord, North Loup and Arcadia is much more detailed and will require time to locate all the persons in business in those towns at that time. For this reason, another article telling all that can be learned about these towns sixty years ago will appear in the Quiz later. A few more items of interest in regard to neighboring counties may be worth mentioning. For example, Erina was a postoffice in the northern part of Garfield county, 25 miles north of Willow Springs, the county seat. However, history moved fast in the county to the north in the winter of 1887-88. The Burlington built into the town known by the name of its founder, Frank Webster, as Webster City, and named by him Burwell. That happened in the fall of 1887. That winter most of the buildings at the former county seat of Willow Springs were moved across the North Loup river on the ice, and by spring Burwell was established as the new county seat. So after calling Willow Springs the county seat with reference to Erina, the book fails to include the name of Willow Springs as a town at all, but gives a glowing account of Burwell. Present plans call for a special story later telling of the Burwell of 60 years ago, as shown by the description in this book. Erickson was a station on the B. and M. R. R. in the southwestern part of Wheeler county, 17 miles northwest of Greeley Center. The book had the name of the town spelled right, as it was named for Peter Erickson, postmaster, notary, real estate and coal. The railroad changed the spelling by leaving out the "K" which was not too easy to send out over the telegraph lines. Engle and Smith were in the lumber business. Kendall and Smith bought grain. B. H. Shapland sold agricultural implements. E. C. Taylor was a physician. F. L. Wanser and company sold hardware. E. Watt sold general merchandise. Most of those names have disappeared from the Ericson territory since then. (End of first installment)

Quarters have been provided for the family at Marbo Gumas.

Nebraskans Pay Less for State Gov't. Than Any Other Residents of Nation

Nebraskans last year paid less for their State government than residents of any other state, the Division of Nebraska Resources reported last week. Nebraska's per capita cost of state government was $22.20, the division said in its March bulletin, against the national average of $31.70. If taxes were assessed evenly among all persons in the country, Nebraskans would pay almost double, the division said. The cost of Nebraska's government amounted to 2.1 per cent of the State's income, compared to the 48-state burden of 3.5 per cent. The study did not include taxes for Federal or local purposes. Nebraska's favorable position cannot be attributed wholly to the constitutional debt limit, Division Chief Allen V. Dowling said, but rather to "reluctance to enact a general sales tax and an income tax." He also credited efficiency in limiting and reducing costs of services. The chief sources of state revenues in the nation, Mr. Dowling said, are a general sales tax, taxes on motor vehicle fuels, and income taxes. Nebraska levies only the gasoline tax.

Nebraskans Pay Less for State Gov't. Than Any Other Residents of Nation

"Other states have a constitutional debt limit similar to Nebraska's yet collect far more revenue," he said. In Kansas, a sales tax alone yielded more than Nebraska's total revenue from all tax sources, while Colorado's combined sales income taxes exceeded Nebraska's tax revenue. Nebraska's major sources of revenue in 1947 were $1,983,195 collected from motor vehicle operation, $7,316,345 from property taxes, and $2,929,959 from liquor sales. The property tax in this State was roughly double that of Kansas and Missouri, Mr. Dowling said, but Missouri's total revenue was more than four times as great as Nebraska's, and the Kansas collections were about three times as large. —Rev. and Mrs. J. Ord Library Gets Chautauqua Book

Old Chautauqua fans will delight in remembering the frenzy of oratory, music, and uplift that burst out in each community during the summers from 1906 to 1924. "We Called It Culture" will ring a bell for thousands of old-timers to whom Chautauqua is a nostalgic memory. Those who never experienced the thrill of the brown-tinted circuit will discover in this book a heart-warming account of an incredible, peculiarly American phenomenon. For audiences who heard some of the best-known orators, humorists, and artists of their day—Irvin Cobb, William Jennings Bryan, John McCormick, Lowell Thomas—for a matter of 19 1/2 per number, it was more fun than Christmas.

To the sponsors—business men in each community who guaranteed the bureau against loss—it was vaccination between the suspicion that they were being rooked and the hope that they were doing a public duty. Here in "We Called It Culture" the inside story of Chautauqua is told in unabashed detail. The authors have captured the caliber quality that was the spirit of Chautauqua. They have uncovered wealth of humorous material—and some not so humorous—on the structure of the famous system—the secrets of all the shrewd means by which the circuit bookers "cultured" a generation, and lined their own pockets in the process. This book has just arrived at the library and we are sure it will be enjoyed by the ones who read it.

11-Year-Old Boy Genius Composes New Symphony
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Sixth-grade, sandy-haired, wide-eyed Ryan Edwards, 11, of Quincy, Fla., has just completed a new symphony, "The Emperor's New Clothes," which will be presented by the Florida State university orchestra. Acclaimed by Dean Karl Kuersteiner of the Florida State university's school of music as a genius, Ryan was accepted as a special music student. He travels 25 miles from his home to the university once a week for his lessons. Ryan, who has been composing since he was 8, started his family by picking out an original tune on the piano after he had had only a few lessons. The youngster doesn't know just how he happened to start a symphony. "Gosh, I don't know. I jist did." His grandmother, a music teacher of many years experience, instructed him for about eight months until it was evident he had outstripped her knowledge. He studied independently for a year and a half. Then his parents, urged by friends, brought him to the university.

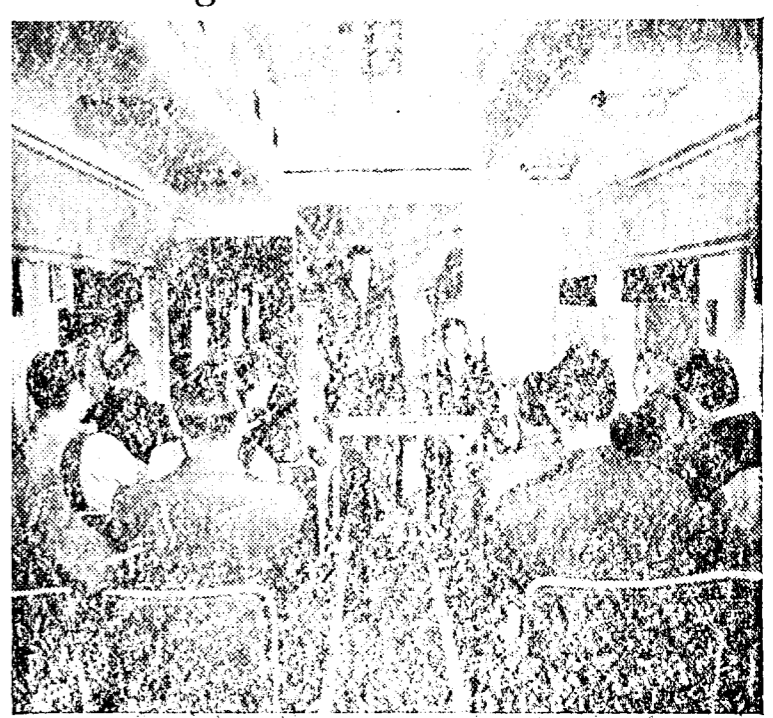

New York Seeks to Legalize Beauty Parlors for Its Men

ALBANY, N. Y.—A woman legislator here advocated a New York State law to make it legal for men to patronize beauty parlors. Assemblywoman Genesta M. Strong said that if men "want to go to beauty parlors for treatments they should be able to do it within the law." The legislator reported that while talking to a hairdresser about scalp treatments for balding men she facetiously remarked: "I suppose some men feel they need permanent waves, too." "That's true," replied the hairdresser, "and some men even come here to have their eyebrows plucked." A year-old state law requiring licenses for beauty parlors prohibits hairdressers from working on any out female heads.

Museum Visitor Hides Under Lincoln's Bed to Get Guns

CHICAGO. — Museum guards at the Chicago Historical society museum now even look under Abraham Lincoln's bed before locking up for the night. The guards decided it would be wise when Roger Anderson, 31, arrested after a streetcar motorman complained he had been waving two pistols menacingly, admitted he obtained the weapons from the museum. He hid under Lincoln's bed and when everybody left, broke into one of the gun cases. U. P. Agriculture Car Tours West

An agricultural improvement car which serves as a meeting place for farmers, vocational agriculture students, county agents and agricultural speakers is currently touring the west under the sponsorship of Union Pacific Railroad. States to be visited include Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska. In the above picture, A. J. Seitz, standing, Union Pacific vice president in charge of traffic, and Joe W. Jarvis, supervisor of the railroad's agricultural development department, talk things over with a typical audience. Assisting Union Pacific on the project will be state agricultural colleges, which will provide speakers on such subjects as dairying, insect and pest control, plant production, fruit marketing, poultry, livestock, and row crops. The air conditioned car is completely equipped for the showing of motion pictures.

Funeral Rites for Andrew Andersen

Former Ord Resident Dies In Omaha; Had Reached Age of 69; Ill Month.

Funeral services were held in Omaha March 13, for Andrew P. Andersen, former Ord resident, who died in an Omaha hospital March 11 after a month's illness. At the time of his death he was 69 years, one month and 19 days old.

Mr. Andersen was born in Ord, Nebr., January 21, 1879, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Andersen. He attended Ord public schools and the Grand Island Business College.

On February 4, 1912, he was married to Winnie Pavek of Ord, Nebr. For many years the couple made their home on the farm which his parents, among the first settlers here, had homesteaded in 1872.

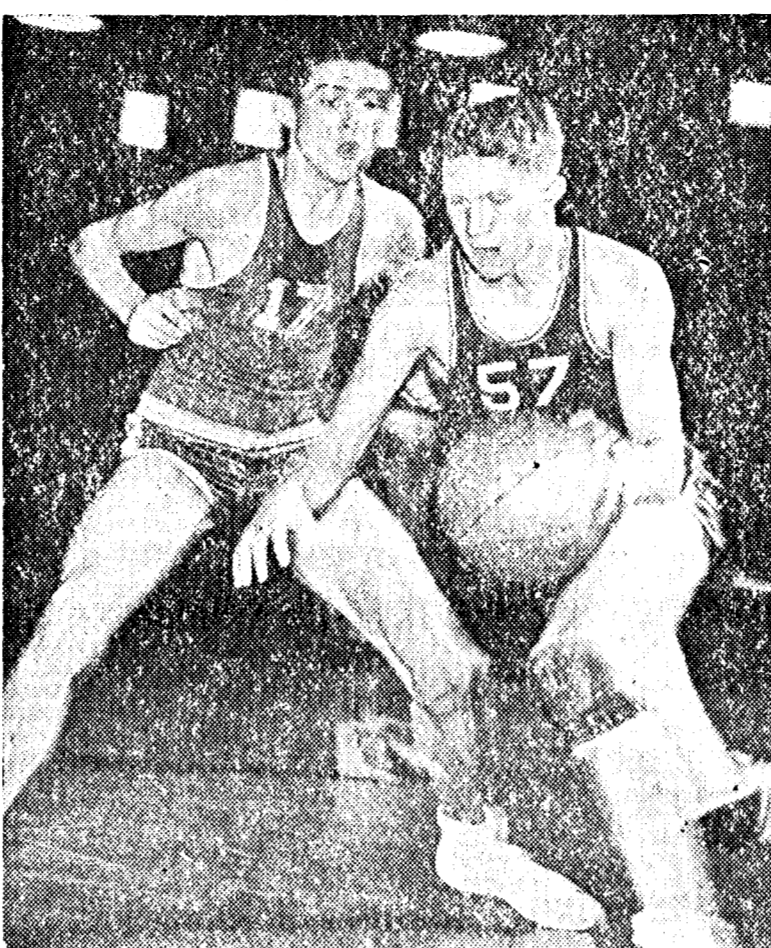

Mr. Andersen is survived by his wife and daughter, son-in-law, C. T. Burns, grandson Robert Burns of Omaha, a brother, J. Morten Andersen, three sisters, Mrs. Christina Oleson of Omaha, Mrs. Chris M. Hansen and Mrs. Chas. Lickley of Ord. His parents and a sister, Mrs. Hannah Thomas, preceded him in death.

Mrs. Zlomke New State Officer

Mrs. Elmer Zlomke, who was a district officer of the W.S.C.S., received a higher honor last week by being elected to a state office. Her official title is Conference Secretary of Missionary Education and Service. She will have charge of all missionary study and work over the whole state of Nebraska.

Mrs. Zlomke succeeds Mrs. E. C. Williams of Plattsmouth. One other state executive office was filled from this district. Mrs. A. J. Rich of Aurora was made student secretary. Mrs. Rich is well known to the young people of the Ord Methodist church and the ladies of the W.S.C.S.

Sale Bidding Brisk; Prices Paid High

Tractor Sells for $350.00 Over List; Buyers Seem Confident Of Values.

Making a swift comeback from recent market drops, farmers in the Ord area have apparently renewed their confidence in values of livestock and machinery.

According to M. B. Cummins, the Saturday sale at the Ord Livestock market found prices on shoats stronger than ever, and in face of an impending stockyards and packing house strike.

"Steers sold as high as $23, whiteface calves from $20 to $25 and milch cows sold by weight brought over $200 apiece. The top horses brought $75," Cummins said.

Bidding was brisk, he added, with buyers apparently having full confidence in the prices they were bidding.

At the Charles Meyer sale held this week, a top of $261 was reached on milch cows. Outstanding item was a bid of $2,250 on a model A John Deere tractor, which, with equipment would list at about $1,900 new.

A three-year-old Ideal corn picker sold for $150, and a Farmhand implement for $50. A 1942 model, 8-foot, Servel refrigerator brought $205.

Thursday, implement buyers will have another chance to get their fill of new and slightly used machinery. The Bredthauer sale, to be held at the Elmer Bredthauer farm, will list nine tractors and wide assortment of other implements.

Harold Fries Dies Following Accident

Harold Fries, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fries, who live ten miles west of Constock, died last Monday morning in the Loup City hospital from injuries received Saturday in an accident while grinding feed at their farm.

The belt had slipped off of the grinder and Harold attempted to replace it. Evidently he stepped or in some manner he was thrown into the machinery. He suffered severe facial lacerations, one arm was broken in three places, and a bad wound on his head which caused a blood-clot on the brain. It is thought that the clot was the cause of his death. Immediately following the accident he was taken to the hospital by ambulance.

Besides his parents he leaves his sister, Mrs. Ervin Morse and another brother, Edgar.

Military funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church in Ansley.

MRS. LARSON DIES

Mrs. Cecil McBeth Larson died suddenly of a heart attack on February 28, at San Francisco, Calif. Mrs. Larson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. McBeth, of Ord. She is survived by one son, Marion, three grandchildren, three sisters, Sophie McBeth and Mrs. Guy LeMasters of Ord and Mrs. P. J. Mella of Omaha and three brothers, Harry of Ontario, Calif., Victor of Twin Falls, Ida, and Lyle of Senando, Okla.

Red Cross Drive Almost Hits Goal

Rural Support Still Scanty but Hopes Held For Further Contributions.

"We've collected a total of $1,124 and if rural contributions will pick up we'll hit our goal of $1,200 without trouble," Mrs. Gwen Cummins, chairman of the 1948 Valley county Red Cross drive said today.

"And we're not at all worried about our rural contributions. We know that roads have been bad—mail service a struggle—and some farmers just haven't found time to slip their contribution into the envelope provided them and mail it back to us," she added. "Ord first and second ward drives are still not complete, and I have word from Arcadia that more contributions are coming from there. So, I believe I could definitely say that the drive is a success."

Red Cross contributions may still be mailed to Mrs. Cummins at Ord, or to any member of the county Red Cross committee. The Ord Chamber of Commerce has made its facilities available to the drive, and is handling rural contribution returns for the drive.

Cornhusker Hybrids

Our Cornhusker Hybrids are here now and we advise you to get your seed corn as soon as possible. We have a very good supply of flats and if you will get your corn out soon you can get the kernel size that you want. If you need any extra corn we have some extra corn and can take good care of your wants. We will soon have our Standard corn in and would like to have you get it as soon as convenient. If you have flat grades ordered and are getting delivery of rounds let us help you out.

Seed Oats and Barley

It is nearly planting time on oats and barley. You can help us to carry a good stock of seed if you will just let us know what you will need at planting time. We have sold out our original purchase of Clinton Oats but can get another truck load if you are interested. So let us know just what you will need. We have a very good stock of certified Velvon 11 Barley and our price is less than is often asked for this seed. Our Velvon is in 2 bu. bags and is ready to go out now. For those that want Spartan Barley we expect to have a supply of Western Nebraska Spartan Barley. This seed is not certified but is of good germination and quality; and our growers that have been planting this Western Barley do, have very good yields.

Fresh Bulk Garden Seed

Our new Bulk Garden seed has just arrived and we have it out ready for you. We feel that we carry the finest line of bulk garden seed that you can find anywhere. Come in and buy your garden seed early, before the garden seed rush starts a little later.

Grass Seed

Our stock of Crested Wheat Grass seed has just arrived and we now have a very good stock of Crested, Brome, Timothy, Red Top, Alsike and this clover. Buy your grass seed early and get it sowed right away. You will get a much better stand of grass if you will get the seed out very early.

Clover and Alfalfa

We have never had such a call for Sweet Clover seed as we have had this year. On our early sales we have sold about as much sweet clover now as we did during the entire season last year. It looks as if prices on Sweet Clover might advance again before planting time. Prices are a good $2.00 per cwt. higher now than they were early in the winter. On alfalfa seed we do have the finest quality of seed that we have ever had and the price is about $6.00 per cwt. less than it was last year. This should be an extra good year for sowing alfalfa, clover and grass seed; moisture conditions are perfect. We will have a good supply of inoculation for your alfalfa and clover seed.

Ceresan

The past two years Ceresan had been very scarce at planting time and it may be again this year. We do have a good supply right now and think you should get what you will need for your small grain and all of your forage seed. Get it while it is available.

Conkeys Feeds

We have just unloaded another load of Conkey feeds. We have on hand Beefmaster, all varieties of their Poultry Feeds. We guarantee this feed to suit you or return it and get your money back. We do not get a better offer on any kind of feed.

During the past few months they have had the following people visit them: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange, Mrs. Rose Fuss, Mrs. Mary Bredthauer, Wilber Fuss, Vesta Lange, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wells and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fox and Diana, Arvin Bredthauer and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bredthauer of Scotia.

Air Traffic In G. I. on Increase

A final tabulation of 1947 air traffic figures of United Air Lines shows that the company registered substantial gains in passengers and cargo boarded at Grand Island, according to Stover Deals, station manager.

A total of 1,713 passengers were carried in and out of Grand Island by United last year. Air cargo handled by the airline increased 56.70 per cent over 1946, 5,225 pounds of mail, express, and freight having been shipped to and from Grand Island last year, against 3,335 pounds in 1946.

Opening Day of Baseball League

Sunday, April 25, will be the opening day for the Mid-Nebraska baseball league.

Belgrade has joined the league and will replace North Loup. Other towns in the league are Ericson, Spalding, Scotia, Wolbach and Greeley.

Henry Rother of Wolbach was selected president of the league. Herb Hund of Belgrade is vice-president and E. A. Ondrack of Greeley will again serve as secretary-treasurer.

Schedule for the 1948 season is now being made up. League rules will be the same as last year.

Hospital Committee Announced Soon

A committee, county wide—to carry on preliminary plans for a drive to bring a hospital to Ord—will be named Monday or Tuesday of next week, Bruce Covey, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, said today.

Covey said that not all of those tentatively named had accepted their appointment, but that he believed he would have a complete list next week.

The Law Places Selection of Beer Retailers in YOUR Hands

With relicensing time here, let's review what the law says about selection of beer retailers. Nebraska's liquor control law forbids the brewers or wholesalers from having any financial interest in the selection of licensees. It places the selection in the hands of public licensing officials.

These officials have the right to examine, under oath, any applicant for a retail license or renewal. The board may authorize its agent or attorney to act in obtaining any desired information.

Further, the law provides that the local governing body must consider every signed complaint from any citizen of a violation of the law or any objectionable conduct on the part of an applicant. A new license may be denied of a renewal refused if there is cause.

This Committee urges you to cooperate by bringing law violations to the attention of licensing bodies.

More people drive... More people want CHEVROLETS than any other make of car

True for years—and truer than ever today—with the advent of this newer, smarter, finer Chevrolet for 1948! Official registration figures prove that more people drive Chevrolets—and seven independent surveys prove that more people want Chevrolets—than any other make of car! The reason, of course, is more value. And now Chevrolet value is made all the more outstanding by the smart new styling, brilliant new colors, and even more luxuriously appointed interiors which have been added to all

You'll admit the tasteful new styling, the new color harmonies, the new and richer upholstery and appointments which add so much to the enviable Big-Car beauty of Chevrolet's Body by Fisher.

The other advantages of Chevrolet's famous BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST. See the new 1948 Chevrolet, and you'll know why more people drive Chevrolets than any other make!

You'll find there isn't any other car in its field that gives the Big-Car comfort of Chevrolet for 1948—direct result of the Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride.

Chevrolet's world's champion Valve-in-Head engine gives an unequalled combination of performance, endurance, dependability and economy.

The record demand for new Chevrolets prompts us to suggest that you keep your present car in good running condition. See us for service—today!

MRS. ETHEL HAMER Quiz Representative North Loup

Obituary—Mrs. Frances Maxson
Frances Addie Lawton, was born in Albion, Dane county, Wis. in an old light house, July 26, 1862, the daughter of Loyal Hiram and Mary Victoria Howe Lawton. When four years of age, she immigrated to Tekamah, Burt Co., Nebr. with her parents and brother. There in less than a year the mother passed away, and the father with daughter and son, returned to Wisconsin. Later she came back to Nebraska, going first to Orleans and later to North Loup which has since been her home.

On March 29th, 1894, she was married to Wm. Henry Maxson, who preceded her in death on October 14, 1918. Mr. and Mrs. Maxson had no children of their own, but when her sister passed away, she took her two small children, Bernice and Rex Clement and kept them till their father again established a home. But when their stepmother passed away, the children, with a half-brother, Orin, were again taken into her home, where they lived till nearly grown.

When about 21 years of age, she was baptised at Albion, Wis., and in 1893, joined the North Loup Seventh Day Baptist church and has since been a faithful member.

For many years she had lived alone in her home west of North Loup till last November, when she went to the home of a niece, Mrs. Eugene Dresser, at Craig, Colo.

for the winter and there on Friday, March 5, she fell and broke her hip. She was taken by ambulance to a hospital in Denver where she passed away March 8, at the age of 85 years, 7 months and 15 days. She leaves to mourn her passing a half brother, Rufus Lawton, of Craig, Colo., twelve nieces and nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held in the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup Friday afternoon, with Rev. Ehret giving the message.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Babcock, Mrs. Edward Christensen and Dell Barber sang and Mrs. Glen Johnson was at the piano and Mrs. Harlon Brennick at the organ. Pall bearers were Edgar Davis, Charles Fuller, Harlon Brennick, James Johnson, Roy Cox and Clinton McClellan. Mrs. Charles Fuller and Mrs. James Johnson arranged the flowers. Ashley and Miller were the undertakers in charge. Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
Find enclosed a check for $3.50 for another year's subscription to the Quiz. We look forward to Mondays as that is the day we get the Quiz here.

We enjoy John Ward's column, he should name it "Shooting the Breeze"

We have had a nice winter, no snow and not much rain.

There is lots of building going on here in Port Townsend though lumber is still hard to get and very high in price. (In the middle of the lumber industry.) I don't believe our lumber yard has as much lumber on hand as they carry at my old friend, Rudy Koupal's and his father's place in Ord. However our yards here are not near as nice as theirs, all stock of lumber here is piled outside with no roof or nice drive-ways.

Jake Hoffman wouldn't like them at all.

My son Edwin is not feeling so good, still carrying the scars of the war.

Brother William L. working at the paper mill as is my brother-in-law Alfred Gzinski. The paper industry is a large supporter of Port Townsend.

There are quite a few black mouth salmon being caught here in the straits now. However it is too cold for me to be out there trying my luck. So we settle for an occasional feed of steamed clams or fresh oysters. We have to drive about 20 miles to the oyster beds, but have a lot of clams in our back yard. I only wish I could send some to my many friends back home. But there is just no way one could get them so far in good enough shape to use.

I remain, yours truly,
Ed V. Lukesh,
310 Willow St.,
Port Townsend, Wash.

IT'S CONTROL THAT COUNTS!

PHILLIPS 66 IS CONTROLLED* FOR QUICK STARTS AND PLENTY OF POWER!

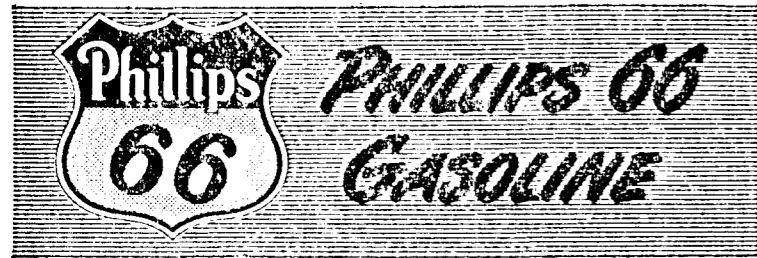

It takes a pretty neat touch to keep that little white ball on the table . . . and it takes plenty of control to build a gasoline as good as Phillips 66, too!

The trick we use is to control the blending of the high-quality components that go into Phillips 66 to fit your driving needs in hot weather or cold!

Give your car a break with Phillips 66 Gasoline next time. The proof's in the performance!

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

The first meeting of the county board for the last half of 1882 was held Aug. 7. The board opened bids for grading the road east from the river bridge to the W. D. Long place. The bids were paid for moving 2560 cubic yards of dirt at 9c per yard. It was resolved to ask the Valley County Journal and the Ord Quiz to present sealed proposals for the county printing for the year 1883. The Quiz had been founded by W. W. Haskell the preceding April 6.

The above ended the board proceedings for 1882, but a number of items from the book of miscellaneous record should be added, as they came this same year. April 1, 1882, appeared on pages 128 and 129 a plat of Pope's addition to North Loup, located on the north side of present highway 11, and west of Babcock's addition. It comprised an area two blocks east and west and three blocks north and south. The affidavit was made before N. K. Reddon, notary public by John S. Pope and Kate M. Pope, his wife.

Now comes one of the towns of Valley county which appeared to promise much but which came to nothing. The founders of the town of Vinton, H. C. Perry, A. W. Travis and T. G. Bartlett, picked a fine site for their town, on the same corner where the Vinton school still stands. They even had hopes that the county seat might one day be moved there, as it was near the center of the county.

Under date of May 11, 1882, on pages 132 and 133 of the record the plat of Vinton appeared. It covered a large square of 16 blocks each 250 feet square, with 80 foot streets running each way between. No. 1 was in the northeast corner, No. 4 in the northwest corner, No. 13 in the southwest corner and No. 16 in the southeast corner. The Vinton school was located, and still is, on the southwest lot of block 13 and the Vinton Methodist church, which was a going institution for many years, was located on the southeast lot of the same block.

Block No. 6 was designated as the "Public Square", gain indicating the hope of making it the county seat. Blocks No. 5, 11, 12 and 14 were divided into ten lots each running east and west, to be used for business, and all the rest of the blocks were divided into four quarters by lines run through the middle each way, and no provision was made for alleys anywhere. It was known as the Vinton Townsite Association and the directors were the three men named above.

May 22, 1882, on pages 136-137 of the record is to be found Babcock's second addition to North Loup, which lies just north of the first addition and extends to Mira Creek. It consists of 16 full blocks, 6 half blocks and some odd lots. On the next two pages is the plat of the T. C. Davis addition to North Loup, but the date given is May 3, 1882, which precedes the second Babcock addition. This includes all the land in the village limits to the southeast of the corner where the North Loup Methodist church stands.

On pages 142-143 of the records comes the A. J. Davis addition to North Loup, filed for record July 29, 1882 by Judson A. and Esther S. Davis. This includes all the village lying to the northeast of the corner where the Methodist church is located. On pages 144-145 of the record appears a complete survey of the Pope addition to North Loup, made by Rev. G. G. Pierce and placed on record as of Aug. 7, 1882.

Oct. 11, Lots in Blocks 4, 12 and 28 in the original townsite of Ord were offered for sale at prices ranging from $50 to $90. These lots had previously been withdrawn from the market. The court house square, block 20, which had been divided into 20 lots, was appraised, the lots to be offered for sale at prices ranging from $6 for the middle lots up to $14 for the corner ones per front foot, or, in other words, from $150 up to $375 per lot. Evidently there was some objection to selling the lots, as the board put up to the people the proposition of selling them, same to be voted on at the election, Nov. 7.

H. A. Walker was paid $21.25 for paint used on the court house, and A. M. Kendall was paid $13 for putting it on. The claim of D. C. Bell for lumber was allowed on the general road fund, but the amount of the claim was not stated. Years later somebody made a notation below it: "How Much was the Claim?" It was agreed to build a culvert across the canyon south of the J. H. Capron residence, 10 or 12 feet wide and 3 or 4 feet deep, using old plank from the river bridge. It would be interesting to compare this with the large structure that stands there now.

Nov. 13, settlement was made with the men who built the grade from the river bridge to the W. D. Long place. They were paid for moving 2560 cubic yards of dirt at 9c per yard. Higher Cost of Doing Business Catches Up With Your Telephone Company

Good telephone service is dependent upon an income sufficient to meet the cost of operations. Confronted with this inescapable fact, we have found it necessary to seek an upward adjustment in telephone rates. We want you to know the reasons which make this necessary.

Expenses Have Risen Faster Than Income

We're serving more telephones and handling more calls than ever before. But the cost of doing business has increased faster than income. Since 1940, revenues have increased 79%. But expenses have gone up 91%.

Net Income Inadequate

Because of increased costs, our net income percentage is lower now than during the worst year of the depression. Added revenues are needed to effect a more normal balance between income and expenses and to sustain the mounting investment required to meet service demands.

Payroll a Major Item

Since 1940, our payroll has gone up 250%. Our 1947 payroll was almost equal to all of the money we took in during 1940! Despite our increase in telephones, payroll expense per telephone rose from $24.10 in 1940 to $34.56 in 1947. Today 50 cents out of every dollar of income goes into wages.

Low Earnings Threaten Good Service

Good telephone service comes from good employees and good equipment. We want to go on paying good wages and improving our service. But it's evident that telephone rates, in common with most other prices, must reflect the increased cost of doing business. Otherwise the quality of service will suffer.

Costs of Equipment, Materials Much Higher

The cost of almost everything necessary to provide telephone service is much higher. For example, copper wire is up 65%, poles 49%, dial switching equipment 53%, automobiles 55%, and drop wire 28%. The cost of many other necessities is correspondingly more.

No General Rate Increase in Years

Our general rate structure was established many years ago. Rising operating costs now greatly exceed the income provided by it. Only by bringing this structure up-to-date to fit today's needs and requirements can today's problems be met.

Efficiency and economy have always been foremost considerations in the management of this company. Much study has been devoted to the problem of making ends meet.

We are not asking that earnings be high, but only that they be adequate to restore the proper relationship between income and expense — so that we can carry on the job of expanding and improving the service to meet the public needs. This may be done only if earnings are sufficient to meet the cost of providing service.

THE VALUE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE IS GREATER THAN THE COST

IT PAYS TO RAISE Fairmont's Chicks

FAIRMONT CHICKS ARE SUPERIOR

They are from carefully selected Nebraska U. S. Pullorum controlled flocks exclusively. They are White Rocks from meat type, fast growing, fast feathering, high production parent stock. Prime quality market poultry, like prime quality beef, comes from meat type parent stock. They can be depended upon to grow into the type of market poultry for which premium prices are paid. Instead of weight, type, color and price discriminations the growers expect, and get, more pounds, as well as more per pound.

EARLY CHICKS ARE SUPERIOR

They are from winter layers and only superior hens lay in cold weather. They receive better care than late chicks because other farm work does not interfere. They grow out ahead of the worms and germs that menace late chicks. Coccidiosis is seldom a problem in cold weather. This, plus greater inherited vitality, results in fast growth, larger size, uniformity and lower mortality. They can be depended upon for peak egg production at peak egg prices.

These Combined Characteristics of Fairmont's Superior White Rock Chicks Insure Maximum Returns from Both Market Poultry and Eggs. Make Fairmont's Your Headquarters for Poultry and Livestock Feeds . . . Pullorum Controlled Chicks and Poultry Equipment of the Most Dependable Quality. We Have a Limited Supply of Started Chicks on Hand.

Campfire Notes
The birthday week of the Campfire girls was observed by all the campfire groups during the past week. On Sunday the girls went to church together and had a special message brought to them by Rev. L. V. Hassell. On Monday they all wore their campfire outfits to school. On Wednesday they had a special play day at the high school gym. Here they had fun together playing games followed by a sack lunch. Friday was the most fun of all. This was the annual stunt day when the campfire girls let their imaginations run riot in modes of dress with crazy stunts and their teachers were tolerant of the whole affair.

The Bluebird girls chose for the stunt, "dressing up for fun." One girl came to school dressed as a teacher. In the forenoon she wore high heel slippers. In the afternoon she returned in low heeled shoes. Miss Swain, principal of the school thinks that that was a gesture quite right for portraying a teacher.

The Ohl! girls dressed as gypsies and the Odako group dressed to represent nursery rhyme characters.

The Tando girls dressed as people of other countries.

Individual campfire groups offered prizes for their own members.

LOTIE E. COFFIN
Lottie E. Coffin, daughter of H. F. and Stella Timmerman Eastman, was born at Scio, N. Y., Feb. 22, 1867 and passed away March 6, 1948. At the age of 12 she came to Nebraska with her parents, and two uncles, Hosmer and William Timmerman and his wife and their five children. They all settled on land in the Springdale neighborhood, on land joining each other. Two other brothers, Levi and Montgomery Timmerman came a few years before.

There were four brothers, and a sister, Mrs. Coffin's mother and father's land joining each other in Section 19, between the five families they owned a section. This land is now all under irrigation. Edward Timmerman now owns the land that belonged to Mrs. Coffin's parents. This land belonged to the railroad company and was all virgin soil at that time.

All the settlers lived in dug-outs or sod houses. There were only two log houses, one owned by William Russell sr. Mrs. Coffin's father built the first frame house in the neighborhood. Mrs. Coffin attended school in a sod school house taught by her aunt, Mrs. Levi Timmerman.

The Coffin's came to Nebraska a few years earlier from Michigan and settled on the Frank Kull place. Here Lottie Eastman met and married Dr. Chas. E. Coffin. They were married in 1887. Three daughters were born to them. Their first home was in Ord. Then they moved to North Loup, and from there to Lincoln. He built a hospital at University Place at Lincoln. He was 1st assistant, then superintendent of the State Insane asylum, then he moved to Florida, where he practiced medicine. He owned some orange groves.

Mrs. Coffin was preceded in death by her husband, and one daughter, Pansy. Two daughters survive, Hazel Lenfest and Eleanor Horbaar of Winter Park, Fla.

Training Meets Held by Home Extension

Leaders from nineteen home extension clubs attended leader training meetings on the lesson "Employment and Inspiration of Pictures" March 16, 17 and 19. Mrs. Carroll Babcock made the arrangements for the North Loup meeting held at the Methodist church, Mrs. R. F. Mettenbink for the Arcadia meeting held at the Congregational church, and Mrs. Loren Good for the Ord meeting held at the American Legion hall.

The home agent, Katherine Helzer, presented the lesson on using copies of paintings of old masters for the discussion. Each club leader was given several small copies of the pictures discussed to use at her own club meeting. How to use and frame wall paper. Bora prints for pictures in the home was also demonstrated. Light refreshments were served after each meeting.

Funeral Services for Mrs. A. Seda

Funeral services were held at the Geranium Catholic church with Father Michael Szczesny officiating requiem high mass at 10:00 Wednesday, March 16 for Mrs. Antonia Seda. She was born May 20, 1856, at Klucov, Moravia and died March 13, 1948 at the age of 91 years 10 months and 7 days.

Mrs. Seda was the daughter of Jacob and Marie Bines. She was united in marriage to Frank Seda in 1875. To this union eight children were born, Frank Seda Jr. and Marie Beroun of Moravia, Rosie Vsetecka, Timken, Kans., Karolina Hosek, Ravenna, Frances Zadina, Elyria, and Stanley Seda of Arcadia, Nebr. Joseph Seda of Moravia served in World War I and received injuries that resulted in his death. Another son died in infancy.

Mrs. Seda and her husband came to the United States in 1913 and lived with their daughter Kamilia Hosek at Elyria until they established their own home. Mr. Seda preceded her in death in 1932. After the death of her husband she has made her home with her children and friends.

Music was furnished by the Geranium choir directed by Mrs. Joe Suchanek. Pallbearers were her grandsons, Frank Vsetecka Jr., Edward, Emil and Frank Zadina Jr., Edward and Louis Seda.

Interment was in the Geranium cemetery.

Lyle Chotena Joins Law Frat

Lyle A. Chotena, Marquette, is one of 15 University of Nebraska students recently initiated into Phi Alpha Delta, professional law fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Chotena.

Chotena, a freshman in the College of Law, was initiated at ceremonies held in the supreme court chambers in the state capitol. Approximately 45 active members and alumni were present.

Principal speaker at the initiation banquet was Judge Edward F. Carter of the Nebraska supreme court. Judge Carter, one of the officials at the Neuenburg, Germany, war crime trials, discussed the procedure followed there.

Chotena, a graduate of Marquette high school, served three years in the navy. He is president of the Pioneer Co-op, men's dormitory.

A. S. Rogers, 67, Dies in Colorado

From Ft. Collins, Colo., comes news of the death last Thursday of Anthony S. Rogers, 67, as result of a sudden heart attack. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church there Monday with burial in Grandview cemetery.

Mr. Rogers was born near Des Moines, Ia., in 1880 and came to Valley county with his parents as a boy, graduating from Ord high school in 1895 and later attended Grand Island college, where he was graduated in 1902. His marriage to Florence Stearns, of Grand Island, occurred in 1905.

He was employed in a bank here, later as cashier for a Grand Island sugar factory, and moved to Colorado in 1907, which was his home until death. He was associated with various banks but retired as vice-president of the First National bank of Fort Collins in 1923 to open his own public accounting office, in which business he engaged until his death.

He was active in church and civic affairs and was a prominent Rotarian.

Left to mourn are his widow, three sons, three daughters, a brother, Thomas Rogers, who visited Ord several weeks last summer, and a sister, Mrs. J. L. Gardner, of Los Angeles.

BUYERS AIR CONDITIONER

The Veterans' club is installing a new air conditioner this week. The smoke has been bad in the club and a fan was installed to help clear the air. This made no noticeable difference. The club has now invested in expensive air conditioning equipment to make its patrons more comfortable.

Winners Are Losers in Arcadia Club

The losers of the Arcadia Bridge club paid the winners off at a party at the Ord Veterans' club Wednesday evening. They paid their debt to feed the winners but how! While the losers sat and ate t-bone steaks they served winners and chocolate covered doughnuts to their guests.

Losers were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hastings Jr., Floyd Hosen, Mrs. Dwan Williams, Mrs. Claris Bellinger and Gerald Dean. The dissatisfied winners were Dwan Williams, Mrs. Bessen, Claris Bellinger, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Tuning and Mrs. Gerald Dean.

EASTER CANTATA

An Easter cantata entitled "The Resurrection Story" by Caroly B. Adams will be presented Sunday evening 8:00 at the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren church. The cantata will be presented by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Elmer Hornickel. The public has the privilege of attending this cantata.

Seed Potatoes

We have our seed potatoes in now. Certified Cobblers and Certified Warbas, No. 1 Cobblers and Ohio. This is all Northern Seed and seed potatoes are cheaper than table stock. Come in and get yours while we have a good stock.

Super Phosphate Fertilizer

We have a chance to get a car of Super Phosphate for early April delivery if there is a demand for it. It is very definite now that more Nitrate or Ammonium Sulphate will not be obtainable till fall and there is a very definite need for Super Phosphate if used when you plant your corn and on your small grain and alfalfa. The price on this Super Phosphate will be about $38 per ton of the car. If you are interested you should let us know this week as it should be ordered by Saturday to get it the first part of April. You can phone your orders if you are not coming to town in the next couple of days.

Started Chicks

We have 300 Hy-Line and 200 White Rock Started Chicks on hand. Here is a chance to get a small amount of Hy-Lines to put with your other chicks. These Hy-Lines are fast growers and early maturing and we believe that they are going to be very popular chickens. We have a hen on display at the store that we have had here since Jan. 21st, and she has laid 84% during that time. She is not able to get any exercise but she has been a very heavy producer. It would seem that a hen cared for under normal conditions would be even a heavier producer than one confined as we have this one. Stop in and see this Hy-Line hen and the started chicks that we have on hand.

Oats and Barley Seed

Good oats and barley seed are not too plentiful this year but we still have limited quantities of Certified Clinton Oats, Oage Oats, Western Nebraska 2-rowed barley and Certified Velvon 11 barley. We have obtainable about 150 bu. of Velvon 11 from a field of Certified seed last year. Let us supply you with your seed grain. Be very careful about bringing in Bindweed with northern grown grains. Seed inspectors tell us that most of the northern so-called seed carries quite a little of this noxious weed seed.

Grass Seed

This is an ideal time to get Bromine and Crested Wheat Grass Seed. Weather conditions have been perfect and if you sow now before we have too warm weather you are sure to get stand. Also a very good time to renew your lawns. We have pure blue clover, white clover and fast growing mixtures.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Seed

Sweet Clover seed stocks are very short but supplies of alfalfa are large and we feel that this is a good time to start new fields of alfalfa. The moisture that we now have should assure you of a good stand. We have seed at 25c-35c and high quality. Our seed is of exceptionally good quality this year. If you buy our better grade of seed you will get better than 99% pure seed and the germination is very good.

Hybrid Seed Corn

We have our Cornhusker Hybrid seed in corn and have some extra flat grades available. Order a few bushels of this great hybrid corn now.

"It pays to buy from Noll."

Legion Starts Drive For Quarter Million Dollar Building for Youth

To help Nebraska boys and girls become better citizens is the purpose of an active money-raising campaign now being waged by the Nebraska Department of the American Legion, according to statements made last week by members of the sponsoring committee conferring in Omaha.

Previously, on March 15, the Legion officially launched the drive on its 30th anniversary. A goal of at least $250,000 was set. The money will be given to the University of Nebraska for the construction of a Nebraska Youth Memorial Building on the College of Agriculture campus.

Governor Val Peterson proclaimed the inaugural day of the drive "Nebraska Youth Day". Peterson urged every person in the state to support the drive as far as possible.

Observers pointed out that the drive was unique in that the Legion wanted to "give" something to the state of Nebraska. Participating in youth and agriculture activities on the College of Agriculture of campus hailed the proposed gift as a vitally needed structure. Legion committee members said that the facilities now used for such group meetings as Cornhusker Boys' State and the annual 4-H Club Week are wholly inadequate.

Nebraska's Department Commander E. P. Barnes, of Omaha, declared, "The Legion wishes to provide a much needed building for the youth of Nebraska, where thousands of Nebraska youth will be instructed in Americanism through such training programs as Cornhusker Boys' State, 4-H Club activities, vocational agriculture and other youth programs."

Dean W. W. Burr of the College of Agriculture stated, "We sorely need such a building to serve Nebraska's two greatest assets — youth and agriculture. The vision of the American Legion in conceiving this campaign has drawn the commendation of leaders in all phases of life in our state."

"It is the prayer and hope of the committee in charge of the drive for funds that every citizen will invest in Nebraska Youth by giving to this campaign. This will develop a closer personal interest in the problems of our youth, the citizens of tomorrow, and will make a greater Nebraska," Burr ended.

Harry B. Coffey of Omaha, chairman of the committee, said, "The American Legion in Nebraska is not asking favors from the state, but proposes to give something worthwhile, as a living memorial to those who served in the last World War. Let's go over the top with the Legion and raise the necessary $250,000 immediately," he advised.

Radio stations, newspapers and billboard companies throughout the state are featuring the Legion venture, adding impetus to the work of individual post commanders who are directing the local drives in Nebraska committees.

Contributions are made to the Nebraska Youth Memorial Fund, and given to the local American Legion Post Commander or mailed to the American Legion headquarters, State Capitol, Lincoln 9, Nebraska.

++ Something Different ++

This has seemed such a lo-long winter, I am afraid to believe spring has come, but it does look like it today. The air has that lively feeling, and birds and animals are scurrying around like mad. They at least are convinced the seasons have changed.

Soon the housewives will be scurrying the same way. But in place of making new nests they'll be digging out the old ones.

It would be simpler to build a new nest each spring, wouldn't it?

Everyone is joyous at the idea that the swimming pool is beginning to be a reality. I can't tell you how many people I have heard say the same thing in a manner "Did you see that pile of material out at the park? . . . it looks like we're really going to have a swimming pool!"

Doesn't it make you proud to hear how well Ord boys conduct themselves when out of town on athletic trips?

And doesn't it make you proud to have our boys build such a splendid reputation for our town? By their mannerly conduct, and also by their good sportsmanship. And by their ability? Not every team can win, but it is still a splendid experience for a team to get to go to the capitol city of our state and to make as fine a showing as Ord did.

All our boys did well, and it certainly didn't give Ord any bad publicity to have Al, our Al, turn out to be high-scoring man of the basketball tournament.

You know the song "Too Fat Folk"?

Mrs. Elsie Pecenka Furtak was telling the Business and Professional Women at their last program, that she had known this tune since she was a tiny girl. She says it is well known here, and has been a favorite Czech melody for as long as she can remember, and then some. She played it for us, and I could notice only one note that was different. It has been popular at the National Hall for many years.

And now it has bobbed up to become world-famous. And it has been under our noses all the time. Sometimes we don't appreciate the things closest to us.

I think there are a great many customs we could profitably adopt from our Czech-blooded citizens, along with their songs.

Don't forget they also gave us Beer Barrel Polka a few years ago. And wasn't it fun?

And cooking? Gee, they make some good fodder. What about kolaches with their juicy fruit fillings? Poppy seed cake is a delicacy, and poppy seeds on rolls . . . do we thank our Bohemian neighbors for that wonderful thought?

Personally I don't go for caraway seed in my sauerkraut, but there are many who do, and isn't this one of the better ideas we have from our friends and neighbors?

There are so many things we should thank them for, in addition to just that . . . that they are our friends and neighbors.

And some of our best citizens.

I hope some day there will be a country again. It is tragic to see a proud little country and all its splendid colleges and intellectuals simply mashed out of existence.

Did you know too, that in Europe Czechoslovakia was famous for its spas? A great summering place. I'm told, with beautiful scenery and fine resorts.

Damn those Russians anyway.

Imma.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

Some time ago I invited those who had information on whether General E. O. C. Ord ever visited the Loup Valleys or not to write me. John R. Haskell states that he saw a letter the General wrote his father, W. W. Haskell that proved conclusively that the man for whom Ord was named had never been in Nebraska. Recently I printed a letter I received from Horace M. Davis, in which he gave an interesting account of the locating of Port Hartsuff, as told him by old time residents of the Elba territory, and which tended to show that the General did not visit the upper Loup country, at least.

This week I am printing a letter I received from Miss Maude Goodenow of Butwell, which indicates that he and his staff paid a visit to the Goodenow home. But here is the letter to speak for itself:

"Mr. J. L. Ward, Dear Sir: On returning from a two months absence in catching up with my reading I noticed in 'What's Ward's Cookin' Column' there is a question of whether General E. O. C. Ord ever visited Ord city or Valley County. If the integrity of old which can be relied on, will try to explain the facts as the story came to me, as I often heard my parents tell about it, and my mother in later years felt very proud of the facts.

"I am not positive of the year, but I think it was in 1871, General Ord and his staff drove up the valley for a day or so of hunting. They stopped at the Goodenow log cabin home and chatted a while about Port Hartsuff. Incidentally they decided they wanted a drink of water, and mother (Mrs. Goodenow) told them they would like a drink of milk. To be sure they did! At that time the milk was in ten quart tin pans, and General Ord and staff almost finished drinking the pan of milk and offered to pay for the milk which was refused. I do not remember the number of men, as my folks always referred to the incident as 'General Ord and his staff.' Best regards, Maude Goodenow."

If anybody has any definite proof, pro or con, on this question, I will appreciate hearing from you. It would be a source of real satisfaction to me to be able to settle this important matter of history one way or the other.

I do not know how the rest of the world is getting along now, but here around North Loup we are getting along strangely, or scarily, but not too much, by auto. Except for the paved and gravelled roads, of which there are all too few, there is no way to get anywhere without a very real likelihood of getting stuck in the mud. If you don't think so, you ought to have a talk with Cliff Goodrich, who has to travel over some of the worst roads every day on his rural route. In fact, parts of his regular route have not been old farm tractors. In a few cases even the tractors got mired down. Thursday the writer counted eight tractors parked around the business section, while their owners were buying supplies. Some parts of the village are worse than others, and people living there have been parking their autos up town, rather than try to take them home and get mired down. There is one source of satisfaction, and that is, the fact that it simply cannot last much longer.

One pleasant note has sounded in all this tale of woe. It is the way Elmer "Holly" Drawbridge has disposed of a stormy weather menace in front of the Ray Drawbridge and Mrs. Alta Barnhart homes. Early in the winter the snow came in the form of sleet and froze to the sidewalk. Elmer had a tough job getting it off, but he did. Every time it snowed he had the job to do over again, and every time the snow melted, the water would run down the walk, which is lower than the ground on each side of it. As soon as the ground melted so he could,

Holly dug a ditch along each side of the walk big enough to carry any reasonable amount of water, and drained it out into the street at the lower end. Now the water will not freeze on the walk any more, to the risk of broken limbs. Now if all of us, including the sign painted down the street, will do the same thing, we won't have to worry so much about accidents.

They are telling a good one on Jack Fortis and Gil Babcock and a couple of other fellows who were some place down the state not long ago. They ordered meals, and they were so skippy that the men felt justified in eating an extra slice of bread, and they got away with it, that is, until they went to pay the checks. Then they found that the cashier had raised the price ten cents each for the meals. Ten cents for one slice of bread seems like a pretty high price, but what could they do with the O.T.A. out of business?

Due to the bad roads, the Lions club attendance this week was the smallest in a year. Imagine the dismay when the men sat down to sup and found that there were thirteen at the table. But somebody had a happy thought and counted John Haskell twice, and all danger of a catastrophe was averted.

Last but not least, everybody in North Loup would like to do something about the terrible rash of extra that has been running rampant all over town most of the winter. It is likely to start in any time, anywhere, but is most likely to break out right in the middle of your favorite program. When it starts it is impossible to stop that thing. It is impossible to write any more. I am out of material.

Out of Old Nebraska
 By James C. Olson
 Supt., State Historical Society

When former Governor Robert W. Furnas represented Nebraska at the "World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition" at New Orleans in 1885, he had a banner flown over the Nebraska exhibit emblazoned with the words, "Corn is King!"

It is reported that this stirred the ire of a good many Southerners who had been taught to believe in the powers of "King Cotton." Nevertheless, Governor Furnas maintained the banner throughout the exposition. The pre-eminent position which this banner assigned corn is in keeping with a tradition established long before the white man arrived in Nebraska.

Many years before the whites conquered these plains there were corn raising farmers living in the valleys of Nebraska's rivers. For example, excavations by the State Historical Society of the remains of an Indian dwelling on the Loup river west of Geneva turned up shelled corn raised in the area over 300 years ago.

And when the white man first came to Nebraska he found the Indians well versed in the production of corn. The Pawnees, Nebraskans' most important resident tribe, tended fields of corn, beans and melons. Included in their religion were rites connected with the growing corn.

Likewise corn was the principal crop produced by Nebraska's pioneer white farmers. Frequently they tried to grow seed brought from Illinois, Ohio and other states. Almost invariably these attempts resulted in failure, and the first successful crops out here were produced from squaw corn, or seed obtained from the Indians.

The first crop usually consisted of sod corn. The sod simply was turned over to a depth of about three inches. Then without further preparation the seed was dropped into holes pierced with sharp sticks. The next step was harvesting. No cultivation was needed.

Occasionally the second year's crop also would consist of sod corn. Usually, however, the soil would be plowed deeper and the process of cultivation as we know it today would be followed.

Through good years and bad many of Nebraska's farmers have depended upon corn as one of their principal crops. At times drought, hot winds and grasshoppers have left in their wake scenes of dismal failure. At other times corn has brought so little in the market as to make it more suitable for fuel than food.

Insist On Clean Records In Beer Relicensing

It is well to keep in mind that only past good performance entitles an applicant to a beer-selling license.

The brewing industry realizes that its effort to keep beer relicensing on a high plane can be made fully effective only when the privilege of selling beer is given to those who will not abuse the privilege.

A retailer whose past performance shows he has a lack of proper regard for the public interest — who carelessly or deliberately violates the laws and general rules of good conduct — has proved himself unworthy of a license. He should be replaced by a reputable citizen who has the proper attitude and ability.

Should you know of a tavern-keeper in your community who does not measure up to his responsibilities, now is the time to act. Report it fully to your local licensing officials.

J. V. DeLashmutt Dies at Burwell

Funeral services were held at 2:00 Thursday afternoon at the Congregational church at Burwell for Jesse Van DeLashmutt, one of the early settlers and builders of the town of Burwell, Nebraska. Mrs. Dwight Johnson played the prelude and postlude on the organ and a quartet composed of Frank Wagner, Gerald Bishop, Billy Beat and L. J. Garrison sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "The Old Rugged Cross". Pallbearers were Kenneth Peterson, Chester Peterson, Paul Banks, Richard Banks, Trevor Brandenburg and Wayne Jarvis. Jesse Van DeLashmutt, youngest son of Esther Hunt and Peter DeLashmutt was born on a farm south of Pacific Junction, Ia., Sept. 28, 1863 and died Monday, March 15, 1948.

He shared with his family the experiences of early settlers. Jesse was married to Elizabeth Chizek in Glenwood, Ia., on March 8, 1882. They established their first home on a farm adjoining his parent's farm. Here they resided for twenty four years and it was in this home that their eight children were born. Their oldest daughter, Pearl, died in infancy.

Just before the Northwestern railroad was built through Cherry county, Mr. DeLashmutt took a claim south of Valentine, which later became part of the Will Ballard ranch.

Jesse Van DeLashmutt, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. DeLashmutt and his elder son, Clay, moved to Loup county. He purchased the ranch that is now the Wallace river ranch fifteen miles northwest of Burwell. He owned and operated this ranch about 20 years in the early years of the ranching boom. He was one of the largest stock raisers and shippers in the section of the state. He helped organize the annual Kinkaid picnic which was later developed into Nebraska's Big Rodeo. Many of the bucking horses used in the early years of the rodeo came from the DeLashmutt ranch.

A home was always maintained in Burwell that his children might have the advantages of the public schools. When he retired he and his wife took up their permanent residence in Burwell.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLashmutt were privileged to enjoy together two very special occasions, their golden wedding anniversary and their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

The greatest loss in his life came in the passing of his devoted wife on Jan. 18, 1943. He resided in his own home until he was stricken with pneumonia and was taken to the Burwell hospital on Dec. 17, 1947.

J. V. as he was known to his host of friends, was the last of a family of six brothers and sisters. He is survived by two sons and five daughters: Clay E. of Sidney, Mrs. Grace Martin, Omaha, Mrs. Esther Meyer of Burwell, Mrs. Lucille Mathews, Aurora, Paul, Los Angeles, Mrs. Gladys Brown, Phoenix, and Mrs. Genevieve Schabel, San Diego, and seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Interment was in the Burwell cemetery.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Senator Robert A. Taft Demands - COMPLETE DOMINATION OF THE AIR!

"Speak Softly . . . and Carry Big Stick"
Is His Answer to President Truman!

Immediately following President Truman's appeal to Congress for a huge and conscripted army of foot soldiers, Senator Bob Taft took off his gloves and went to work on the man he should succeed in the White House. This is his statement:

"The United States has been embroiled in two great World Wars in the past thirty years. The appeasement of Russia at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam has created a condition in which a Democratic President again admits the possibility of war.

"He threatens Russia, but his Secretary of State tells us our defense is a shell. What a self-indictment of an Administration which spent 11 billion dollars last year to provide that defense!

"In this atomic age, the only method of guaranteeing our national security, the only method of providing an adequate defense, is to establish an Air Force superior to any other in the world. The best course toward peace is to 'speak softly and carry a big stick'.

"The only defense against attack, the only means of successful counter attack, is a complete domination of the air, such as we had over Germany and Japan at the end of the war.

"I have repeatedly stressed in public statement the necessity for the finest professional Army and Navy and Air Force with the most progressive thinking and the most complete research.

"I have stressed the necessity for an over-all plan for the defense of the nation and a real unification of our armed forces, as required by the National Security Act passed last year by the Republican Congress. Yet the President in all his recommendations has apparently never recognized the supreme importance of controlling the air. There is no overall strategic plan.

"I am confident that this Republican Congress will consider every means of increasing the strength of this nation, particularly those which will really concern our enemies, like an all powerful Air Force.

"At the same time we must continue the system of a free economy, with its accomplishment in huge production, so necessary for success, either in war or in peace."

New Hudson

the car you step down into!

HUDSON is a new type of motor car no one else in America is prepared to build today! It's just five feet from ground to top, but with more inside head room and roomier seats than in any other mass-produced car.

Hudson is the only American-built car you step down into when entering, not up on—yet it maintains road clearance.

Hudson's new, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* is the only motor-car construction that completely encircles you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rugged box-steel foundation frame.

You ride within this frame, cradled between axles. And as you ride, Hudson's combination of unique construction and comfort features gives you a sensation of safety and smooth going unlike anything you've known before!

Try automatic gear shifting in forward speeds as provided by Hudson's "Drive-Master" transmission. Drive Hudson's all-new Super-Six engine—the most powerful six built today—or the masterful Super-Eight.

Woodman Hall Building

LOCATED IN GERANIUM TOWNSHIP

AUCTION

Wednes., April 7th

Salé will be held on the premises starting at two o'clock

This building is located 9 miles northeast of Comstock, 15 miles west of Ord, 13 miles east of Sargent, on the Ord-Sargent Highway.

The building is built in T-shape. Is a two-story building. One part is 20x40 and the other 16x36. All uprights 2x6, and floor joists are 2x8. 16-ft. siding outside. Inside, one part plastered, other is wainscoting, and the whole building is wired for electric lights.

This building is in good shape and will make someone a lot of good lumber, or it could be moved in two sections.

Hugh Carson Candidate for Legislature
29th DISTRICT
From Greeley, Valley, Howard and Wheeler Counties

Hugh Carson, a land owner and farm operator is qualified for office by both training and experience. He knows the needs of this district, and knows how to get things done.

He is intensely interested in soil conservation, irrigation and land use development.

Good Telephone Service Is Our Aim

Telephone requirements during the war and in the period following have greatly increased the demand for service. Operating restrictions and shortages have made the task of meeting this demand more difficult. Many prospective customers are still on the waiting list. Considerable progress has been made. But much work remains to be done.

We have a large program under way in 1948 for repairs, replacements, additions and betterments. Similar programs are planned for succeeding years. All of this, of course, must be done in the face of greatly increased costs in both labor and materials. The necessary capital will be attracted only if earnings are adequate to meet the cost of providing the service.

It is Necessary For Us to Ask For Increased Rates to Enable Us:

- To Provide a Higher Grade of Telephone Service,
- To Meet Higher Labor Costs,
- To Meet Higher Material Costs,
- To Provide a Fair Return on the Money Invested.

GOOD TELEPHONE SERVICE IS DEPENDENT UPON ADEQUATE INCOME.

THE VALUE OF TELEPHONE SERVICE IS GREATER THAN THE COST.

Floyd E. Tetschner
Married in Germany
In this picture is Floyd E. Tetschner, son of Mrs. Clara Tetschner of North Loup and his bride, Jadviga, as they were married February 23, in the Catholic church in Darmstadt, Germany, by the priest. On February 29 they were married by the army chaplain, at the army post at Darmstadt, where Sgt. Tetschner is stationed with the army of occupation.

His bride is a native of Lithuania, and was taken to Germany by the Germans early in the war. Her wedding gown was of white satin with a floor length veil, and her bouquet is of calla lilies.

The couple was attended by close friends of both parties and after the ceremony, a wedding supper was held at Darmstadt, following which Sgt. and Mrs. Tetschner left for a fifteen day honeymoon at a winter sport resort at Garmisch.

Damage $20,000 as Alfalfa Warehouse at ONL Mill Burns

500 Tons Hay Destroyed with Big Building; Spark from Engine Believed Cause.

Damage estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000 resulted Thursday when the big warehouse at the ONL alfalfa mill 2 miles east of Ord was destroyed by fire, along with nearly 500 tons of alfalfa hay.

Presumably a spark from a Union Pacific train engine, which had just passed the mill, lodged in the extremely dry baled alfalfa in the warehouse and was fanned into flames by a strong wind.

Within a few minutes the entire warehouse was ablaze and though the Ord fire department was at the scene within 10 minutes after the alarm sounded at 11:40 a.m. it proved impossible to save either the structure or any part of the hay.

Efficient work of the firemen kept the blaze from spreading to the office building nearby and to the mill building itself, which is a cement block structure.

Loss of the building was covered by insurance but loss on the hay will be only partially covered, according to D. B. McOstrich, manager of the mill. Both the insurance company and the Union Pacific railroad have had adjusters here this week investigating cause of the blaze.

Exact amount of the loss cannot be determined until extent of damage to mill machinery by heat is known. Only damage to the concrete mill structure was to the runway, part of which will have to be replaced.

About a year ago a similar fire occurred at the mill, at which time loss totaled about $750. Part of the time since then, says Mr. McOstrich, a fire engine has been used by the Union Pacific on its engines passing the mill, but investigation immediately after the fire established that the screen was not then in use.

Firemen maintained a watch at the mill for 16 hours after the fire, before it was thought safe to leave the smoldering debris.

Quiz Starts 66th Publication Year

With this issue the Quiz begins its sixty-sixth year of continuous publication in Ord and its thirtieth under H. D. Leggett as publisher. It was founded in 1882 by W. W. Haskell and published by him until its sale to Mr. Leggett in 1918. The Quiz has never missed an issue since it was founded.

Within a week or two make-up style of the Quiz will be modernized, which is the only major change contemplated for its 66th year. New headline matrices ordered more than a year ago came Tuesday, too late to be used in this anniversary issue. A new department of interest to teenagers will appear soon as a regular feature. A magazine supplement, in color, titled "Nowadays," will be added about June 11.

Better news and pictorial coverage of the territory is planned for the coming year and an aggressive drive for new subscribers will be carried on outside the immediate Ord area, which is already covered almost 100%.

Young Physician Joins Dr. Weekes

Dr. C. W. Weekes announces this week that Dr. Donald Wald is now associated with him in the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Wald was graduated from the University of Kansas, took his internship at St. Luke's hospital, Kansas City, and his obstetrical training at Kansas City General hospital.

After a year in general practice at Smithville, Mo., Dr. Wald went to Philadelphia General hospital where he has spent the past year taking special work in internal medicine including a course in diseases of the heart.

Drs. Weekes and Wald will install an electrocardiograph at their clinic in the near future.

Hospital Group Chooses Kellison As New Chairman

To Investigate Legal Aspects; Contact Operators Before Making Fund Drive.

The community hospital committee, appointed last week to carry on the work of a chamber of commerce civic committee gave themselves the name of Loup Valley's Hospital Committee and elected Orin Kellison of Ord as chairman, following a meeting Thursday night. Clara McClatchey of Ord will serve as secretary of the group.

The committee has started an investigation of the Nebraska hospital set-up to supplement that made by the Ord chamber of commerce. They hope to have a pledge of an operating group before making any solicitation of funds for the purchase of a hospital.

Legal aspects of a community hospital will also be studied by the group.

Ord Decides Stay in Loup League

Good Turn-Out, Enthusiasm at Baseball Meeting Friday; 1st Practice April 4.

Decision to play in the Loup Valley's baseball league this summer and pass up an invitation extended by the Sherman-Howard league was made by the Ord Baseball club Friday evening, at a meeting held in the firemen's hall. President Bruce Covey presided.

There was an enthusiastic turnout of about 20 men who plan to try for the team and Manager Venard Collins announced that practice will start Sunday, April 4 if weather permits. The Russell park field will be used both for practice and for games.

Manager Collins expects to be able to field a much better team this year than represented Ord in the Loup Valley's league last season. Bill Novusad, who pitched for a St. Louis Cardinals farm club last season, is counted on to be in uniform and Collins has several other good pitching prospects including Jim Finley, who did good part-time work in 1947. All players in this territory are invited to show up Sunday and the manager gives assurance that all will be given a chance to win positions on the team.

First league game will be played May 2.

City to Ballot Tuesday on New Local Officers

Contests for Councilman and Clerk Expected To Draw Good Number to Polls.

With hot contests predicted for councilman in the first and second wards and a close race in prospect for city clerk, a large number of voters are expected to turn out Tuesday for the municipal and school district election.

Contested offices pit E. S. Murray, incumbent against Duane Armstrong for councilman from the first ward and Howard Huff, incumbent against Jay Brown for councilman from the second ward. Rex Jewett is running against Paul Adamek for city clerk.

Dr. F. L. Blessing, councilman, is running without opposition for the office of mayor, as is James Ollis, candidate for city treasurer. Dr. J. W. McGinnis has no opposition for councilman from the third ward.

John L. Anderson, county judge, is unopposed for police judge.

In the school board race, Herbert Snets has the endorsement of both local political parties for member of the board of education. Leo Long, incumbent and Hilding Pearson are the other two candidates in a three cornered race for two positions.

Polling places are the City Hall for the first ward, Ord Hotel for the second ward and Bohemian Hall for the third ward.

Funeral Services Held Saturday for John Collison

Long Time Ord Resident Was Laid to Rest Here; Died in Brainerd.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Saturday for John S. Collison, long time Ord resident who died March 25 at Brainerd, Neb., at the age of 86. Burial was in the family plot in Ord cemetery.

Mr. Collison was born in Sweden on Nov. 15, 1861 and came to this country with his parents at the age of 9. The family settled at Valva, Ill., and five years later they moved to Polk county, Neb. On Sept. 9, 1889 he was married at Osceola to Miss Mathilda Lindquist. Some years later they moved to Valley county and Mr. Collison and his brother bought the Fort Hartuff ranch properly. In 1908 the family moved to Ord and Mr. Collison entered the milling business. In 1931 he and his wife moved to Campbell to be with his son, Oliver. During the past winter they have been with their daughter, Mrs. Wright, at Brainerd, where his death occurred.

Mr. Collison is mourned by his widow, one daughter and four sons. They are: Mrs. T. G. Wright, Brainerd, Neb.; Roy Collison, Los Angeles; Rudolph Collison, Brunswick; Norman Collison, Fairwell; Oliver Collison, Campbell. Two daughters, Fern and Sadie, preceded their father in death.

Fallbearers at his final rites here were Anthony Thill, W. H. Barnard, John Anderson, J. W. McGinnis, Ernest Horner and John Haskell. Rev. J. W. Paine, of the Christian church officiated and Hastings-Pearson had charge of arrangements.

Entries Wanted For Soap Box Race May 30th

Only a few boys have indicated they wish to enter the Cosmopolitan club's annual Soap Box races to be held on May 30, Decoration Day this year. Dean Misko, secretary of the club, told the Quiz.

"I want to urge the boys to sign up now for a set of wheels and start building their racers," he said. "Time is growing short."

Races this year will be held on the east-west hill instead of the north-south hill, Misko said.

Clyde Spencer Gets 20 for Intoxication

Clyde Spencer, a perennial visitor in the court of county judge John L. Andersen, was given 20 days at hard labor by the Judge Saturday following hearing. Spencer had been brought to Ord Saturday by Sheriff Bob Hall who had been called by the Arcadia marshal.

Although this is his first sentence on an intoxication charge, Spencer has been committed twice to the Hastings State Hospital to "take the cure". He walked away from the hospital in December after spending a few weeks there, and was taken back by Hall on Christmas day. His last stay totaled 26 days before he was allowed to go to Woltach where he had employment. Previously he had been up before the judge on a bad check charge and a pheasant hunting law violation.

Spencer's wife and two children live in Arcadia. She now has suit pending in district court for divorce.

Snow, Ice, Sleet Takes Bad Punch at Ord Springtime

Power, Phone Lines, Down; Service Disrupted; Roads Hazardous.

Old man winter swung a so-far-polex blow at this area of Nebraska Friday morning in an in-seasonable storm that left streets and highways covered with a film of ice and created havoc with communication and power lines.

Ord and vicinity had enjoyed their first real touch of spring weather the early part of the week, with temperatures ranging in the 60's. Friday sent the mercury sliding to a low of 23.

Although the direct Ord vicinity escaped the heavier damage of areas further south, 25 of the 60 rural telephone lines which switch in Ord were put out of service. Long distance service was interrupted until Saturday due to a series of breaks in the line between Ord and St. Paul. Some rural lines are still out as this issue of the Quiz goes to press.

Light commissioner George Allen reported that lines of the local electric system escaped heavy damage, although a few breaks were reported. A street light pole north of the Catholic church blew down in the high wind, interrupting service in that vicinity, while another pole near the Texaco bulk station also snapped.

Consumers Public Power district lines in the area also escaped damage, although a telephone line at the Meese ranch blew or was whipped over a power line carrying 6600 volts, causing the telephone at the ranch to ring continuously. When Mrs. J. Vascek answered the phone she received a severe electrical shock.

In the way of communications, one of the hardest hit areas was that around Loup City, where ice and wind caused 90 telephone poles to snap off. In addition 117 others were leaning or lying flat and 350 wire breaks were reported. Telephone service to Broken Bow was completely cut off, and toll calls were handled by short wave radio. Nine out of eleven towns in the Loup City area were cut off from electric power for a time Friday. Service was restored in most towns Friday night. Service at Greeley was restored Saturday.

Motorists in the Ord vicinity traveled with extreme caution until rising temperatures melted the fine glaze of ice that covered pavements. No accidents have been reported.

Red Cross Drive Totals $1,447 Here

Quota Made Successfully Says Mrs. Cummins, Chairman of Drive.

The 1948 Valley county Red Cross drive totaled $1447.05, more than $200 over the quota, Mrs. Given Cummins, county chairman of the drive reported to the Quiz this week.

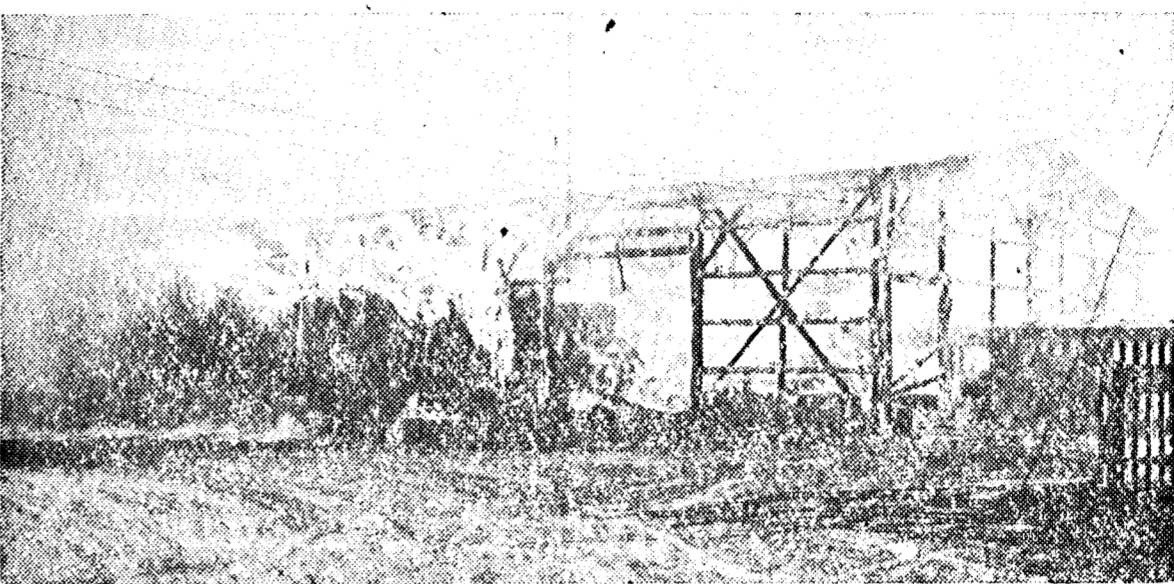

"The success of the drive is entirely due to the long hours and patient work put in by the various community leaders," Mrs. Cummins said.

Arcadia, solicited by Mrs. E. C. Baird turned in $250 to the drive, and North Loup, headed by C. W. McClellan, reported $210.05. Rural contributions, solicited by Paul Owens, were $222.00.

In Ord, total for the city was $765.00. Don Auble, city chairman, reported. The first ward, solicited by Mrs. M. S. Dodd turned in $326.25, the second ward, in charge of Mrs. Joseph Beloin, reported $112.00, and the third ward Mrs. Elmer Zlomke, chairman, reported $192.25. Ord business houses contributed $167.50, to make the county total.

—Where would you look to see if someone had found your lost livestock? In the QUIZ want ads, of course.

Flames Quickly Consume Buildings at Alfalfa Mill

These two shots, taken by Ed Swopes a few minutes apart illustrate graphically the quick spread of flames at the Ord Alfalfa Mill fire Thursday. In the first picture the large hay barn is still standing, though riddled with flames. A few minutes later, nothing was left but a pile of debris.

Funeral Services Held Friday for Edward C. Munn

Was Nearly 90; Had Lived in Ord Vicinity For Past Fifty Years.

Funeral services were held at the Hastings-Pearson chapel Friday for Edward C. Munn, 89, a resident of this community since 1887. Mr. Munn died Wednesday.

Rev. L. V. Hassell officiated at the last rites. Music was furnished by the Mira Valley male quartet accompanied by Mrs. Robert Noll. Pallbearers were Mark Tolen, Edward Zikmund, Wilbur Rogers, Judd Tedro, Curt Wilson and Leo Long. Interment was in the family plot in the Ord cemetery.

Edward C. Munn was born August 22, 1853, in Plainville, Mich., the youngest in the family of George and Mary Munn. He was the youngest of a family of seven, and the only child born in this country. His parents had immigrated from England.

He lived on a farm in Michigan until March 1855 when he came to Valley county. Shortly after coming here he spent eight or nine months in Colorado, returning here in 1856. He has been a permanent resident since that time. For some eight or nine years he was engaged in the livestock business and in 1895 started farming and stock raising. He made a specialty of Jersey Red hogs and Hereford cattle and had fine herds. He retired five years ago and moved to his home in Ord.

Mr. Munn was united in marriage on February 5, 1858 to Anna Irene Aldridge, in Missouri. Five children were born, three daughters and two sons. The sons, Ernest and Wilson, preceded their father in death.

He is survived by his wife, with whom he celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary this year, three daughters, Mrs. Ida Cooper, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Mary McClure, Denver, Colo.; and Mrs. Ada Bossen, Grand Island, Neb. Eight grandchildren and eight great grandchildren also survive.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rumsitt drove to Palmer Sunday and visited several of their friends.

City Dads Inspect Pool Site

Grandson of Ord Couple 'Outstanding'

Allen Murray, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prince of Ord, was named 'Outstanding Boy' in his class at South High school, Denver, Colo., recently.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Murray of Denver.

His picture, endorsing a popular brand of shoes, recently appeared in a full page color advertisement in All-America comic books, and also several other national magazines and newspapers.

State's Roads Taking Beating

Governor Peterson Says Unfavorable Frost and Moisture Conditions Hit.

Gov. Val Peterson said this week the highway department had informed him the state's roads are taking a beating from "unusually unfavorable frost and moisture conditions."

He referred specifically to "frost boils" about which, he said, little could be done until the frost is out of the ground and the roads can be reconstructed. Until then, graveling and filling up of holes with rock is all that can be done.

"As a consequence of the unusually unfavorable conditions we have many bad spots in our gravel roads, our black top roads and a few of our concrete roads."

The Ord-Grand Island highway, especially the section between Ord and Cotesfield, has been rated by truckers and traveling men as one of the worst in the state. Not only have frost boils made chuck holes here and there, but long stretches of 100 yards or more have been completely broken out.

The highway from Ord to Barwell, completed last summer, is in excellent condition.

"The highway department will do all that is possible to place them in the best possible condition as fast as possible," the governor said.

He added that he had been in conference with State Engineer F. H. Kletsch about the conditions.

The governor commented in connection with a telegram from Publisher Ben Sallows of the Alliance Times-Herald, urging a special legislature session to deal with the problem.

Sallows wired "motorists in western Nebraska blame a lackadaisical road policy for the almost complete destruction of their highways and there is evidence of a rising revolt against the administration for its interference." Gov. Peterson said he had not yet framed a reply.

Much Building Scheduled For Ord This Spring

Construction Work Planned & Already Scheduled May Total Nearly Million.

Residential, business and governmental building will make Ord a busy spot this spring and summer if all projected plans materialize, the Quiz learned this week.

Three big governmental projects dominate the field with a half million REA construction project, a hundred thousand dollar steel bridge across the Loup at Ord and a $43,000 swimming pool to be built by the city of Ord.

Rebuilding of rural telephone lines in Valley county, a necessity now that REA has come, will add $150,000 to the construction total, according to conservative estimates.

Other projected items include a $50,000 or better county road program, including Schroeder roads, and the rebuilding of Highway 11 from Ord south to Elba, which will cost upwards of $30,000.

Construction and repair work on the North Loup and Middle Loup irrigation districts is still a matter of conjecture, depending upon allocation of funds. Still in the offing is RFC approval of an $800,000 loan to completely rebuild the North Loup system. If the loan is approved this spring it is doubtful if any of the funds will be expended this year, according to M. S. Dodd, district engineer. However, a great amount of emergency repair work will be done between now and the irrigation season.

In the Ord business field, at least two buildings are definitely scheduled. The Valley County Implement Co. will erect some sort of structure on their lot directly across from the Corvett station. Owners of the firm are debating whether to erect a temporary concrete type building or a brick and the structure, Dr. R. A. Hamra, Scotia dentist, has material on the site for the erection of a 2 1/2 x 26 tile office building just back of the Ord Grill. The doctor plans to move to Ord when the building is completed.

Plans have been drawn for a new super-service station for the Standard Oil Co. The building will replace their present station.

Work is still in progress on the new $30,000 garage building being erected by C. A. Anderson and the $20,000 bottling plant being built by Stewart Brothers.

Several Ord firms are adding new equipment and fixtures. The Ord Bakery is installing a new rotary electric oven which will replace their present oven. According to Frank Drudik, proprietor, the new oven will be much more efficient. The Veterans' club is installing air conditioning equipment.

Several new homes will be added to Ord this year. Preliminary work has started on both the new Floyd Beranek residence a half block east of the Ord hospital and on the Joyce Olsson residence on the hill, just across from the old Weekes hospital site. Several other residences are planned, although nothing definite has been done to date.

Abandoned county homes will continue to move to Ord this spring and summer. Fred Ulrich plans to move in two houses across the street from the O. Kellison residence, just west of the site of the new swimming pool. Several others will probably follow on various lots around the city.

Dr. G. W. Parkins is making preparations for a parking lot to be constructed back of his office.

8,000 Catfish Planted by State Fish Truck

A state fish truck loaded with 8,000 catfish which ranged in size from 6 to 13 inches visited Ord Thursday and the driver, with the assistance of Harry Wolfe, planted 2,000 of the fish in the North Loup river near the Anderson Island bridge. Another 2,000 were planted at Elyria, 2,000 at Barwell and 2,000 near Brewster.

Application for these fish was made over two years ago, Wolfe states. Another application made recently through Senator John P. Doyle will be filled soon, it is hoped.

The state seized 38,000 catfish from the Missouri river last fall, has been holding them in rearing ponds near North Platte, and is now distributing them throughout the state into waters suitable for catfish.

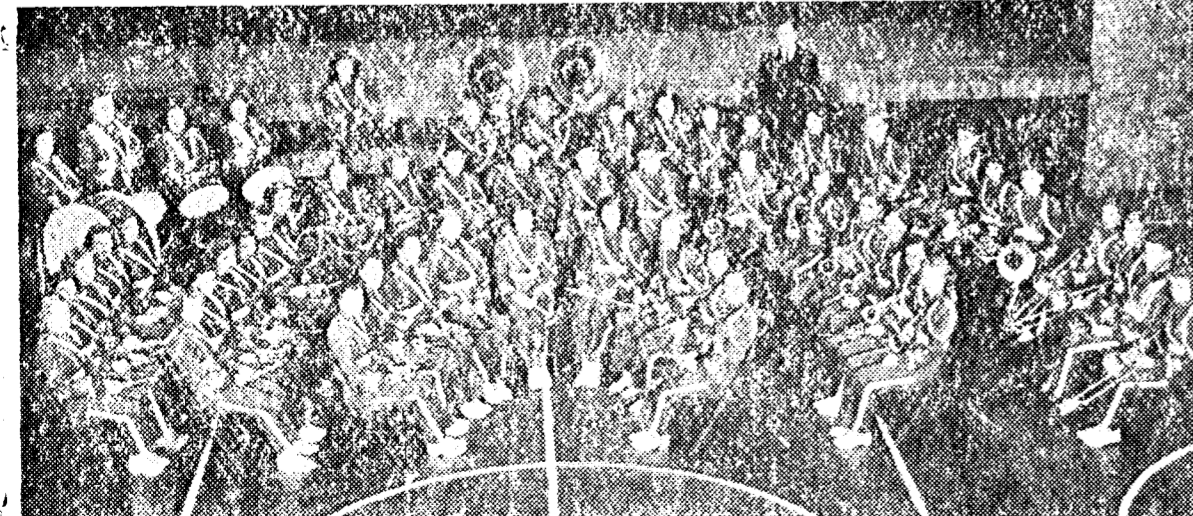

About 3,000 catfish also were planted recently in the Middle Loup river between Dunning and Mullen; it is disclosed.

Windy Day, Venetian Blinds, Inspiration for Auble Marquee—Now a Huge Success

The combination of a windy day and a set of Venetian blinds provided the inspiration that resulted in the Shadette Marquee members of the Cosmopolitan club were told Thursday evening by Dr. Glen Auble, who with his brother A. J. Auble are manufacturers of the all-aluminum marquees which are becoming increasingly popular.

It came about one day 17 years ago, Auble said. He and his brother Jay were standing in their store, discussing the problem of replacing the awnings that shaded the south and west windows. Their store is on a windy corner where the awnings were whipped by every gust of wind, making it necessary to replace them at least every three years.

As they stood looking at the tattered awnings, whipped about by a strong wind, Jay Auble remarked that he thought there should be a better and less expensive way of shading store windows and wondered if they might not be able to build something straight out, like a roof, that would be more permanent.

In jest Glen, who was looking at the venetian blinds in the windows of the Ord State bank building across the street, remarked that they might make it like a venetian blind.

Nothing more was said but Jay Auble took the thought home with him and by morning had decided that it wasn't a joke after all. Before long they had worked out a plan of metal slats that might be feasible and were inspired to the point of taking them to a factory in Hastings which made their marquee, which was installed. The Auble brothers were then satisfied, feeling they had a permanent shade for their windows which would stand against the elements for a long period of years.

This first marquee, or "marquise" as it was then called, using the French spelling, was made very flimsy with a blue-green glass edge which did not last long because every boy who came along would jump to see if he could touch the glass, often breaking a piece off in the process. Later model marquees were made without the glass edging as a result of this experience.

The factory manager at Hastings, seeing possibilities in the idea, asked if they had a patent on their invention and Glen and Jay Auble, who had never considered such a thing, decided that it might be a good idea to get a patent, which was granted upon their application.

Other Ord business men, also having awning trouble, saw the sense of a permanent marquee over their entrances and soon L. V. Kokes had one made for his hardware store and later one was put on the Frank Misko building.

News of the new type of marquee was carried to other towns by word of mouth and between the time the first was installed and the start of World War II about 75 had been installed in other Nebraska towns. The factory at Hastings sold a few for them, about six went out of the state. All were made of galvanized steel and somewhere along the way it was decided to bend up the lower edge of the metal to furnish a trough to run off rain and melting snow, thus protecting people beneath the marquee.

The war stopped their hobby, for that is what it still was, and it was all right with the Auble brothers because their jewelry, music and optometry businesses had grown steadily and shortage of help in these departments kept them working long hours. They decided not to take any more orders for marquees.

However, Bryan Jensen of St. Paul wanted one and because of friendship the Auble brothers decided to try to get together enough metal to make one for his building. They had to give it up, though, because galvanized steel was impossible to secure and it was entirely by chance that they heard that the government had sheet and strip aluminum, left over from plane manufacturing, that was available as surplus.

As a trial they bought enough of this to make the Jensen marquee and it was such a success that they once more found themselves in the manufacturing business, since surplus aluminum was plentiful. This time the procedure was changed to include Ord in the manufacturing and they decided to have the cutting and bending done at Hastings, with actual assembling done in Ord. The building east of the Frazier furniture store was secured for this purpose.

At this stage came the plan of turning up both edges of the slats, which simplified assembling, made the marquee strong enough to walk on, and also ran off much more rain water. The aluminum structure proved to be stronger, lighter and more modern looking than the galvanized marquees, also.

Popular demand had put them back in the business and they now proceeded to try selling their product on a larger scale. Considerable success has attended their efforts and in the past 1 1/2 years more have been sold than in the 15 previous years. Sales are increasing steadily and with appointment of franchise holders in other states there seems no doubt that the Auble marquee, inspired by a windy day and a venetian blind, is destined to play its part in changing the appearance of business districts in a good share of the small towns of the United States.

Only last week they installed a 130-foot marquee on the new Sears building at Columbus, which makes them feel that the Auble marquee has at last hit the "big time."

Plans for other buildings now under construction in villages and cities throughout this section of the country include Auble marquees and its ease of installation, both on new and remodeled structures or merely as a replacement for awnings on old buildings, makes it certain that manufacturing rate will have to be increased.

Swimming Sandpiper
The spotted sandpiper is able to swim and dive. When pursued it may dive beneath the water where, with the aid of its wings, it progresses to the opposite shore. The sandpiper also is known to wade underneath the water in search for food. Aquatic insects are its chief diet.

Hillsdale News

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the month of March were Emma Hulinsky, Eugene Novak and Vernon Ptacnik. During March the pupils built a spring scene in sandtable. Gay little houses were constructed over small boxes. Bright colored tulips peeped through the grass. There were fat bunnies of soap. Hens with real feathers were followed by fluffy chicks.

Emma Hulinsky won the spelling contest for March. Rosie Hulinsky and Vernon Ptacnik tied for second place. Eugene Novak was third.

Last week the art classes illustrated a verse from "America the Beautiful" one of the repository songs they studied in music. The scenes were made of chalk or tempera.

In social studies Rosie Hulinsky made a booklet on "milk" after a detailed study on food.

The eighth grade geography class has finished the study of Asia and have completed a booklet composed of studies of each country, physical, political maps, and topics of current interest.

In the arithmetic contest for March Rosie Hulinsky and Eugene Micek tied for first place. Vernon Ptacnik received second honors, Eugene Novak placed third, and Emma Hulinsky fourth.

Something Different

Once again it is time for young people from Ord High commercial classes to invade Ord business houses for a week of real on-the-job training, as they have done for several years past. To be eligible, the young student must have two years of typing, two years of shorthand and a year or so of bookkeeping.

The students look forward to this business contact, and enjoy the experience of trying to please the boss, a welcome relief from trying to please the teacher.

They may well be appreciative, for merchants and professional men in the majority of cities will not be bothered with the youngsters. But Ord business people must be an especially fine group, or perhaps they have more interest in young people, for the custom is well established here.

Once upon a time, learning by doing was about the only method of teaching; now it is rare. So it seems new that a school in Bennington, Va., a new-fangled, only-one-of-its-kind school, takes only boys and girls who are eager to try working along with their schooling. And for this purpose the pupils have a ten-week vacation in mid-winter.

The Bennington college is rather expensive, and not too big, but it is fashionable and perhaps it will start a new trend in education.

Of course budding teachers have accepted the practice of "caddening" for years, and Ord's normal training students are busy with their teaching this week.

What we're going to do for teachers in a few years I wouldn't know. Not nearly enough young folks are attracted to this field to replace the teachers now teaching. Somehow teaching has to be made more alluring.

Mrs. Ralph Misko writes from Eaton, Colo., that she was asked to help entertain the young veterans who were hospitalized at Cheyenne, Wyo. Never having talked to such a group she went with some quilts, but the boys liked her a lot and soon made her welcome.

And to her surprise there was a lad from Ord there, who was sure she wouldn't recognize him, but she did. "He used to be that cute little round faced chap" . . . a Behrends boy who graduated with Raymond Biemond. "He was rather blue and seemed to enjoy seeing even me. I think he said his name was Bill."

Previously Mrs. Misko, the former Ellen Service, had been asked to go to Fitzsimmons Hospital in Denver to give readings for the many veterans hospitalized there. "But it is so big and the entertainers go from ward to ward and I was afraid to tackle it."

Says she, "It was interesting experience but oh, how my heart ached!"

I think it is time someone called attention to the excellent job Mrs. Edward Kokes has done in Ord with our Campfire Girls.

She has worked hard for several years to keep the Campfire program going, and it has really buzzed. She has . . . is it five? . . . kept five groups of girls active. And the Campfire program, like many another organization, entails a world of work, planning, record-keeping, letter-writing, etc.

If our Campfire Girls have been a success, the credit goes to these five guardians, and to Mrs. Kokes. —Irma.

Barnett Leases a Big Training Plane
A new airplane, a B. T. 13 was brought to Ord, Sunday from Winner, S. D., to be used in the G. I. training program. The plane has been leased from its owner by airport manager Gene Barnett.

The plane has a cruising speed of 145 miles per hour and is provided with a 150 horse power motor.

G. I.'s who are eligible to use the plane are Lyle Withers, Vernon Nay, Leslie Nash, and Harold Marshall and Kenny Keown of Scotia. These men are all taking the commercial pilot's course.

Three veterans, Roland Norman, Joe Gregory and Charles Woerth are awaiting the return of their papers from the Veterans Administration in San Francisco and then they will be ready to start their training.

Three of the group taking the commercial course are also taking the flight instructor's course. They are Lyle Withers, Roland Norman and Kenny Keown.

Thursday afternoon Walter Connor came upon a weather balloon in his pasture. The box containing the radio was attached to a vivid red silk balloon. Directions on the container requested that it be dropped in the mail to be returned to headquarters of the recording of the information it contained. Mr. Connor complied with the request.

Westcott Church to Dedicate Basement
Westcott church will hold dedication services on Sunday, April 4, for the newly finished basement and furnace in the church, according to Rev. Harry Dau.

The morning hours will take care of the regular services, and Sunday school with a pot luck dinner at noon. The dedication service will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the Rev. Gottfried Anderson, conference superintendent will be the guest speaker.

ATTENTION, VOTERS:
I wish to call your attention to the City and School Board Elections to be held in Ord on Tuesday, April 6. It is your duty and your privilege as a citizen to go to the polls and register your choice.

If elections were ever important in this country, they are important now.

Mayor of Ord

Ord Commercial Students Getting Office Experience

Ord is one of the few towns in the state where the business men cooperate with the school in giving actual office experience to the commercial students. This experience is invaluable to the student and usually a nuisance to the manager. School officials and their instructor know this well and that is one reason the effort is appreciated very much.

The office experience of the senior commercial students is the climax of two years of typing, two years of shorthand and a year of bookkeeping.

The students working in business places this week are: Sharon Boyce who is working in the Misko law office and afterwards at the Wezab Agency, Marlene Bresley and Norma Vavra who are working at the Nebraska State Bank. Betty Whitford who is with Dr. F. J. Osentowski, Betty Bruha at Farmers Grain and Supply Co., Alyce Finley at Davis & Vogeltau office, Shariene Whiting at Noll Seed Company, Wilma Sedlacek, at the Co-op Creamery and Maxine Wegrzyn at clerk of district court office.

Wilma Richardson is at the FIA office and Deloris Lonowski at Able Brothers.

There will be part time work in the REA office and the irrigation district office will have a group of six of the above girls who will be given experience in using the topograph and other special office equipment.

One in Eleven Vets Have GI Loan

About one in 11 World War II veterans living in Nebraska has exercised his right to obtain a Veterans Administration guaranteed loan for home, farm or business under the GI Bill, Ashley Westerman, manager of the VA Lincoln regional office, reported today.

Home loans have attracted 8,277 veteran-borrowers whose loans total $37,255,877. Another 941 took out farm loans amounting to $2,581,295. Business loans granted 818 veterans totalling $2,378,065.

The VA guaranteed nearly half of the total value of all types of loans, or $20,792,976. He explained that the law permits VA to guarantee a maximum of $4000 for home loans or $2000 for non-realty loans.

As a group, Westmoreland said, veterans have been good credit risks and only 27 defaults have resulted in claims being paid to lenders by the VA.

Veterans need to be in no hurry to apply for GI loans, since that benefit remains available to them throughout July 29, 1957.

Electric Microscope

An electron microscope has been patented. The microscope has means for producing a directed beam of electrons, means for supporting an object desired to be examined in the path of the beam, an electron lens positioned to act on the beam after it leaves the object and a viewing screen on which color changes can be seen. An auxiliary source of radiation is provided to erase color changes from the screen.

Where Corn Grows Small
A variety of Brazilian corn has ears the size of a man's little finger and kernels no larger than mustard seeds.

Tree Planting Time In "Tree Planter's State"

Yes, it's time for planting trees on the farms and ranches of Nebraska. The Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Nebraska once again this week started shipping out 1 1/2 million Clarke-McNary seedlings to farmers and ranchers. Extension Forester Earl G. Maxwell (right) smiles as he looks at seedling with fine root system which one day will be a big tree on some farm or ranch. L. Besley of Halsey smilingly agrees. (University of Nebraska Photo).

Picture of Jack Brown and Son To Help Sell Corn Over Nation

When Ed Swopes, Ord photographer and E. R. Apking, Quiz advertising manager, drove to Arcadia last year to get pictures of Robert Scott and Jack Brown, winners in the 1946 Valley county corn growing contest, they had little idea that the pictures would get national attention. To give the pictures a more genuine human interest appeal, Swopes had Scott's young daughter pose with a couple of ears of prize corn, Brown and his son posed with another corn display. The pictures as published in the Quiz the following week caught the attention of the art director of Metro Associated Services, New York, the nation's largest producers of syndicate advertising material. The Quiz purchases an advertising mat service from them. Metro asked the Quiz for permission to reproduce the pictures. The Scott and Brown families were agreeable, so off the pictures went to New York. This month, one of them came back to Ord in the nature of an advertising syndicate illustration in the regular Metro mat service. The same mat was sent to several thousand newspapers in the United States, and in all probability will be printed in most of these newspapers with a total circulation into the millions. Above is the photo as it appears in the Metro service.

CHURCH NOTES

Methodist Church L. V. Hassell, Pastor Next Sunday we are to use the sermon subject, "God's Perfect Law and Conquering Love". There will be two special numbers by the choir. We try to have a thoughtful and worshipful service where one may come and find the realities of the spiritual life. Easter becomes meaningful, only as we continue the spirit of Easter throughout the year. Let us all strive to make our church attendance regular, and we will find much good from worship when done every Sunday. Remember, next Sunday evening we are to have our regular meeting of the official board, also we are to have a meeting of the Board of Education. Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren Church Warren C. Stoder, Minister Sunday, April 5. Church school, 10 a.m. Will Foth, Supt. Morning worship, 11 a.m. The pastor's message will be, "God-Creator-Owner". From now until Pentecost (May 16) the Stewardship theme will be emphasized. Evening services, 7:30 p.m. Junior League, Youth Fellowship, Adult Fellowship. Evening worship hour, 8:15 p.m. Wednesday night, April 7, Dr. Ralph Holdeman of Dayton, Ohio, will be the main speaker at our church night. He will be remembered as the speaker at our God's Acre banquet. A covered-dish supper will be served at 7:00 o'clock after which the Men's Brotherhood will have charge of the program. Election of church and Sunday school officers will also take place. Assembly of God Church G. E. Fogelman, Pastor Missionary Sunday, April 4. Sunday school, 10 a.m. Mrs. Glenn Lytle, Supt. North Loup

The show card class which has been held for the past ten weeks here under the supervision of the North Loup schools and the sponsorship of the North Loup Lions club, came to a close Monday evening, and in the opinion of those who participated, it was an unqualified success. Of the group of twenty who enrolled, sixteen qualified for certificates from the state department of vocational education, having attended from eight to ten of the ten lessons. Their names are: Opal Beckle, Charley Clark, Maxine Copeland, A. L. Friesen, Darlene Goodrich, Mills Hill, Dell Barber, Erna Eberhart, Stella Kerr, Merlyn Schudel, W. H. Vodehnal, Aleta Hawkes, Clifford Hawkes, Merlyn Van Horn, Beulah Stine and Dorothy Switzer. All were present for the final session except Mr. Hawkes, who suffered a heart attack and was unable to attend. At the close of the final session the students surprised the instructor, John L. Ward, by presenting an array of gifts, taking him completely by surprise. There is talk now of holding a similar class beginning next September, if such a course is permitted twice in the same locality by the state department of vocational education.

S. C. Hawkes, secretary of the North Loup school board and produce dealer here, suffered a heart attack Monday, and is in bed at his home, where he will have to remain for some time, according to his doctor. Meanwhile Mrs. Hawkes will keep the produce station open.

Monday evening the American Legion Auxiliary entertained the members of the American Legion of North Loup, Ralph Rich Post No. 285, at a covered dish dinner in honor of the birthday of the American Legion. The official time was March 15, but Monday night was the first date available for the party. District Commander Bert Amos and his wife of Sargent were to be present as guests, but failed to arrive. Commander Amos was to be the chief speaker.

J. D. Ingraham, 78, passed away suddenly Monday evening from a heart attack. Mr. Ingraham had been ill for some time but for the last week had seemed better. No arrangements have been made for funeral services pending the arrival of relatives from Illinois and Texas.

Normal Trainers to Rural Schools

The week of April 5 the Ord cadet teachers (senior normal trainers) will go to the country for a week's experience of teaching in the rural schools. This has been part of the work for students who are training for teaching for a number of years. This year it will be different in one respect. Formerly on the last day of the week the cadet was left in charge of the school where she was practicing teaching and the licensed teacher was free to use the day to visit other schools. This year it was decided in Lincoln that these girls did not have their certificates to teach and should not be left in complete charge. The school teacher will have to be on hand the whole week. The teacher will give the student constructive criticism and help her in every way possible. The cadet teachers and the schools they have been assigned to observe and practice in are as follows: Florence Christofferson will be at school district 13 which is taught by Alyce Beran; Greta Oliver at District 42, taught by Mrs. Mary Stude; Delores Petaska at District 45, where Anna Mortensen is the instructor; Doris Mae Beranek, District 6, where Wilma Klancecky is the teacher; Marilyn Cook at District 10, which is taught by Shirley Smith. Illa Faye Jobst will practice at Bracc, Dist. 17 where Mrs. Luetta Hurlbert teaches; Doris Rice at District 23 taught by Mrs. Bruce Peterson and Geneva Benson will be at District 28 where Irene Hark is the instructor. Muriel John, who will be in Lincoln for "Singer week" will take her practice teaching one week later and will be at school district 51, taught by Mrs. Della Jobst.

Crop Acreage in Nebraska Will Be Smaller This Year

Lincoln — Nebraska farmers have been asked to plant 4,500,000 acres of wheat and 8,100,000 acres of corn this year.

R. L. Green, chairman of the state USDA council, said it is an increase of 300,000 acres in wheat and 140,000 acres of corn over 1947 goals.

Other acreage goals are: Oats, 2,400,000; Barley, 700,000; Sorghums, 528,000; Soybeans, 338,000; Dry beans, 75,000; Tame hay, 1,249,000; Potatoes, 69,000.

Farmers To Get Clarke-McNary Trees

Shipment of the 1 1/2 million Clarke-McNary trees for 1948 planting will start from the Nebraska National Forest at Halsey Tuesday.

VODEHNAL UPSETS

Frank Vodehnal upset his pickup Saturday evening. He apparently mistook the Emil Smolik driveway for the corner, turned off the highway and overturned.

ORD LIVESTOCK MARKET

announces its offering for the regular weekly sale

Saturday, April 3

Sale will start promptly at 1:00 p. m.

WE HAD A VERY ACTIVE MARKET LAST WEEK. LOOKS LIKE THE OFFERING THIS WEEK WILL CONSIST OF CATTLE

- 50 head of small calves
- 50 head of yearling calves, consigned by one man. They consist of whitefaces, roans and reds. These calves are thin but good frame.
- 18 head of yearling steers
- 22 head of yearling heifers
- 8 head of 3-year-old whiteface cows, some with calves by their sides, others due to freshen soon
- 5 good milch cows
- 3 breeding bulls
- 2 heavy bologna bulls

HOGS

- 115 head of weanling pigs and heavy feeder shoats
- 12 head of extra good brood sows, due to farrow in April
- Several boars

HORSES

- 15 head of horses

MISCELLANEOUS

Ohio 2-row lister; Hoosier grain drill, in excellent condition; No. 32 International cylinder sheller, nearly new, mounted on a Model A car; trailer with fair rubber; mounted lister that will fit an F-20 or a regular; one Little-Genius International tractor plow, on rubber.

We had the largest machinery sale last Saturday that we have ever had since we have been in the barn. The demand was good, and the best stock sale, I think; that we have ever had at the market. If you have anything to sell in that line, there is a good demand.

Cummins & Burdick, Auctioneers Ord, Nebraska

Seed Potatoes

We have on hand Early Ohio, Cobblers and Red Warbas. The Warbas and Cobblers are Certified but the Ohio's are not. These are all Northern grown, and good quality. We urge you to get your supply early while stocks are complete.

Sweet Clover and Alfalfa Seed

We have a very limited amount of Yellow Blossom and Hubam Sweet Clover on hand. Sweet clover seed is getting very scarce and we do not believe that there will be enough seed available to take care of all needs. If seed is shipped in the price will surely be higher than it is at present. It will pay to inoculate your alfalfa and sweet clover with Nitrogen before sowing. On alfalfa seed we have three grades of Dakota 12, and we have Grimm and Cossack. The quality of the better grades are as near perfect as you can get them. We are having a very strong Eastern demand for alfalfa seed and this week we are sending out a full truckload. You can book this seed for later delivery if you desire.

Grasses and Legumes

We carry a stock of Brome, Crested Wheat, Blue Gramina, Red Top and Buffalo Grass seed. Also Red Clover and Alsike Clover in stock. Come in and ask about any special grass or clover.

Garden Seed

We carry a full line of bulk and package garden and flower seed. This seed is fresh new stock and we have Onion Sets on hand. A small garden will save a large grocery bill.

Baby Chicks

This week we have about 150 White Rocks and 300 Hy-Line chicks that are about ten days old. These Hy-Line are about the best looking bunch of chicks that we have ever seen. There has been almost no death loss in kind of report on all the Hy-Line chicks we have sold. We are very anxious to get a few more Hy-Line flocks started in this section. Our Hy-Line hen has missed only 11 days since the 21st of Jan. All reports on Hy-Line show a very heavy egg production and with a reliable Hy-Line chick will prove as popular as Hybrid corn. We have a large stock of Dr. Salisbury and Gland-o-Lac Remedies. We have Starling Mash with Avi-Tab added. A stock of Chick Scratch on hand.

Pop Corn Contracts

We still have a nice amount of Dwarf Hulless Pop Corn contracts to place. We believe that the price is very attractive according to the future markets on feeding corn. These contracts are written with a reliable Pop Corn company. If you can use an acreage of popcorn we would like to show you these contracts. Popcorn is a good early fall cash crop.

BLACKLEG

In thirty days cattle will be turned into pasture. All unvaccinated cattle should be vaccinated now to insure immunity at that time. We carry Anchor and Franklin Bacterins and Vaccines. We also have Branding Liquid and Dehorning Paint.

Ramsey's Rexall Drug Store ARCADIA

CHICK STARTER

Besides the Mash, we have the Wayne Starter Krums or the Omar Chick Starter Bits in print bags.

GRAIN PRICES

The past few days grain prices have been firm. If you have Wheat, Corn, Oats, Rye or Barley to sell, it will pay you to get our prices. We are always in the market for your grain.

STECKLEY'S HYBRID CORN

We are expecting our corn to arrive by Saturday. We do have a few extra bushels of good numbers in flat kernels. Better place your order now.

PEACE is a guy named "JONES"

He's neither diplomat nor statesman. But without him, diplomacy would be a one-way street. And statesmanship, a beggar's feeble pleadings.

For he is what lends firmness to our international policy. He is the "strong right arm" of a people determined to live in peace with the rest of the world. He is "Pfc. Jones"—the man behind the man at the peace table.

You'll find him in the ranks of our 100% volunteer Army, in the National Guard, in the Organized Reserve Corps and in school and college R.O.T.C. units.

And on Army Day—April 6—you can salute him for the contribution he is making to World Peace. That's the day these fine organizations go on review. By visiting the Army Day exhibits and events planned for your community, you can show Pfc. Jones that you are interested—and appreciative.

MRS. ETHEL HAMER Quiz Representative North Loup

Hamer-Jensen
Marjory Hamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hamer of North Loup, and L. Clifford Jensen, son of Mrs. Esther Jensen of Lincoln were united in marriage at the East Lincoln Christian church in Lincoln, March 25, at 7:30 p.m. Rev. W. P. Hill officiated at the double ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Patricia Price sang "Through The Years" and "I Love You Truly", accompanied by Mr. G. D. Doolittle, church organist, who also played the nuptial music.

Miss Charlotte Schott of Nelson was bridesmaid and Maynard Chevrant of Lincoln was best man. Ushers were Harold Portis, brother-in-law of the bride, Victor Brooks and Ray Hollstein, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The bride's wedding gown, which she had made herself, was of white satin, with an overskirt of Pointe d'Spise lace. The tight fitting bodice was buttoned down the back with tiny self-covered buttons, and the V neckline had a ruffle of the lace. The long sleeves were pointed over the wrist. The full skirt fell in a long train and the knee length veil was arranged on a starched lace tiera. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. Her cascade bouquet was of red roses and white carnations, with long, white satin streamers.

Miss Schott's gown was fashioned on similar lines and was of blue taffeta. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

The groom wore a blue suit, with a narrow pin stripe, and his attendant also wore a blue suit. The men wore white carnation boutonnieres.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue, brocade, sheer dress and had a white gardenia corsage. The groom's mother wore a black two piece dress and also had a white gardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. Jensen in the church parlors. The bride cut the first slice of her three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with pink roses, and then her sister, Mrs. Harold Portis, served 100 guests. Mrs. Ray Hollstein, sister of the groom, presided at the silver coffee service and Mrs. Victor Brooks, also a sister of the groom, had complete charge of the reception. Miss Donna Manchester had charge of the guest book, Mrs. C. T. Chevrant and Mrs. Franklin Schott were in charge of the gift table, and Miss Phyllis Babcock played the piano during the reception.

Attending the wedding from out of the city were Mrs. T. J. Hamer and daughters, Evelyn and Carolyn, and Mrs. R. T. Babcock of North Loup; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hamer of Pawnee City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kammerlohr of Plattville; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Schott and son Mr. and Mrs. Winston Flower, all of Nelson.

—Hugh Carson will appreciate your support in the primary election, April 13. Let's protect our water rights. 50-51c

RAILWAY COMMISSIONER

PROVEN RECORD
Veteran War I

NEBRASKANS you now have the opportunity to choose for your Railway Commissioner a man who not only has been thoroughly trained for the job but who has a wonderful record from one full term that proves through his loyal service his worthiness and understanding of our problems in Nebraska today.

IMPORTANCE OF THE JOB!

The Nebraska Railway Commission makes many important decisions concerning farm, rural and metropolitan problems. For example—the position taken by Richard H. Larson in representing the interests of Nebraskans before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the fresh meat rate case resulted in tremendous benefits to Nebraska's economy. The great reduction in rates not only means greater savings annually in freight charges, but also means more industry and more payrolls. We all are directly benefited by his actions.

Deer and Their Antlers
Most female deer have no real antlers. Reindeer and caribou are the only members of the deer family in which female have antlers.

King's Touch to Cure
Certain forms of tuberculosis once were called the "king's evil," because it was believed that the king's touch could effect a cure.

You can CASH IN ON SCRAP

STEEL MILLS NEED SCRAP METAL FROM YOUR FARM

Supplies of scrap for the steel furnaces are critically low. The furnaces thrive on a diet of about equal portions of pig iron and scrap. More scrap is urgently needed, if there is to be enough steel for making farm implements and countless other products. More than three million tons of steel scrap lie idle on America's farms, according to the latest estimates—scrap that only litters up the place, scrap that is wasted where it is. How much is there on your farm? How about the old car body, that rusted cultivator, those old plow bottoms, discarded tools? Every bit helps—and it is needed now.

- IT'S HARVEST TIME FOR SCRAP
- There's a bumper scrap crop to be harvested this spring—and there's money in it for you. Your scrap dealer will pay for everything usable. You can do three good turns in one scrap harvest:
1. You make some money on what you can't use.
 2. You get your outdoor spring housecleaning done.
 3. You help the steel mills turn out more steel for the implements and equipment you'd like to have on your farm.
- Scrap means savings to you—if you'll collect it and sell it. On the first rainy day, when you can't plow or sow or cultivate, put on your oldest clothes and get that scrap together.

- ## HERE'S WHAT TO DO
1. Pile up every bit of iron and steel scrap on your place.
 2. Take a payload into town the next time you go. You'll make more money out of it that way.
 3. If you can't drive it in, call your scrap dealer and ask him to pick it up.
 4. If there is no scrap dealer near you, call your implement dealer. Ask him how to get your scrap started toward the steel furnaces.

YOUR CHICKS SHOOT UP!

... like corn on a warm June night, when you use Dr. Salsbury's REN-O-SAL for faster growth. Give this drinking-water medicine. 2 tablets per gallon, from the very start.

REN-O-SAL in larger doses, is used as a cecal disinfectant control. Keep it on hand for this purpose, too. Buy REN-O-SAL when you get your chicks.

HONORED AND RESPECTED Everywhere!

EVEN in strange lands, among strange peoples, the American soldier is looked up to with respect and sincere admiration.

And with good reason. Today, your Regular Army is a 100% volunteer force, made up of well-trained, high-caliber young men. Actually, only about half of those who apply for enlistment can meet the Army's high standards.

On Army Day, April 6th, you can show these patriotic citizens who represent you here and abroad that they have your whole-hearted interest and support. How? By visiting the special ARMY DAY exhibits that have been planned for you. By displaying your American flag. By getting better acquainted with your Regular Army at your local recruiting station.

Newspapers Propose Free Publication of Personal Tax List

At a convention in Omaha last week the Nebraska Press association went on record as favoring free publication of the personal tax list in Nebraska this year as a public service. The manager of the association was directed to write all newspapers of the state who were not represented at the meeting, informing them of the convention's action and enlisting their participation.

Speakers at the convention suggested that the personal tax roll be published in June so that inequities might be adjusted before the board of equalization meets in August. Publication of the personal tax list has long been advocated by newspapers as a means of getting more complete listing of property by taxpayers, of preventing some large property owners from reporting only small amounts of personal property, and of accomplishing a fair equalization between amounts reported by taxpayers.

Sesame Seen As Promising Nebr. Oil Seed Crop

University Finds New Drouth Resistant Plant Is Good Producer.

The University of Nebraska chemistry department has pasted a "promising future" label on another oil seed crop for Nebraska agriculture. This one is sesame. Dr. E. V. Staker, chemistry department agronomist, described three major results of a five year breeding program to adapt this highly drouth resistant crop to Nebraska's soil and climate. They were:

- (1) Eight varieties have been developed which produced an average of 869 pounds of seed per acre in 1947. One variety yielded for the group is well above the U. S. average.
- (2) Seeds of several Nebraska varieties averaged more than 50 per cent oil content, also above the national average.
- (3) The Nebraska varieties test high enough in protein content to make sesame meal equal to cottonseed as a livestock feeding supplement.

Chief problem in the breeding program, Dr. Staker said, is development of a sesame variety with non-shattering pods. This may be achieved "within a few years," he said. It will permit harvesting sesame with combines. Sesame must now be cut with binders. The crop matures in the shock and then is combined for the seed.

Sesame is a row crop which currently brings a price of 12 to 13 cents a pound. The chemistry department has seed available for only experimental work in 1948. Sesame is not grown commercially in Nebraska at present.

The oil seed crop is used for flavoring baked goods and confections, for salad and cooking oils, for use in making lard substitutes, and as a "carrier" for penicillin and other medicinal products. The stalk of the plant can be made into paper. U. S. industry depends on foreign imports for most of its sesame oil at present.

Bills Are Mailed for Cigarette Purchases

Lincoln — Seventy-five Nebraskans this week will receive bills for the tax they dodged when they ordered cigarettes from out-of-state dealers.

R. H. Creadick, chief of the Cigaret Tax Division, said Tuesday he has received a list of names from revenue agencies of Illinois and Indiana.

When the Nebraskans were shipped the cigarettes, Mr. Creadick explained, the dealers recorded the transactions in order to show exemption of the payment of the tax in their own states.

The tax divisions of these states forwarded this information to Mr. Creadick. He said some of the 75 would receive bills for unusually large amounts—one for $9, which represents a tax on six thousand cigarettes.

Collections for the first half of March totaled $138,797, $219 more than for the same period in February.

New Ag. School At Valentine Is Proposed

Agriculture School Would Be Similar to One at Curtis.

Don E. Hanna, Valentine, is proposing the establishment of a state agricultural high school at Valentine, similar to the 37 year old school at Curtis.

Hanna, former state senator and now candidate for re-election to the legislature from the 40th district wants to use a 1,000 acre tract of state land. The property is an experimental station of the University of Nebraska agricultural extension service.

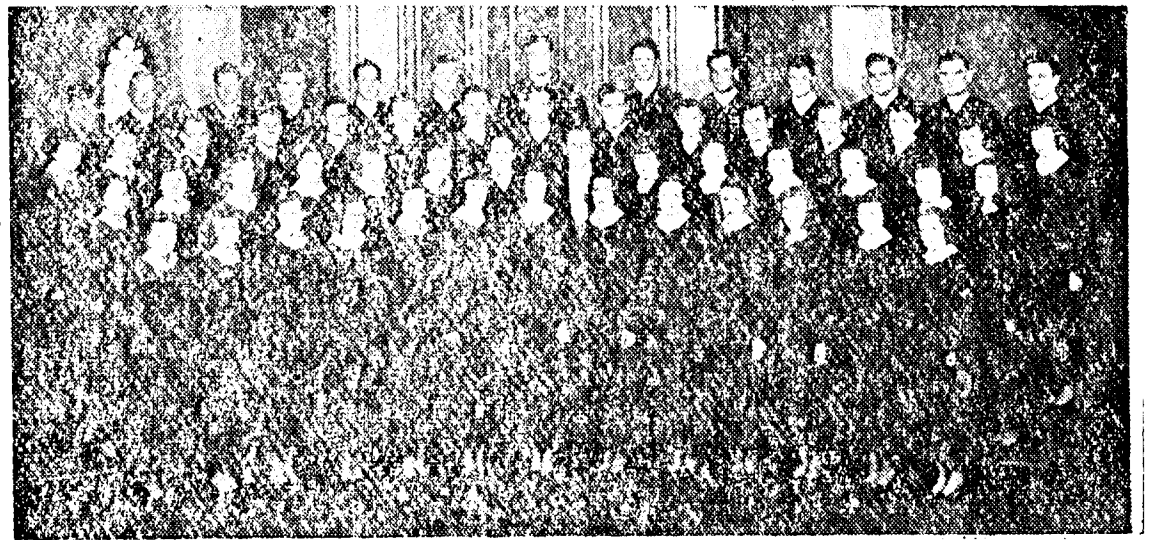

The experimental work could be carried on in connection with the school, under Hanna's plan. Existing buildings are in good condition and could be converted to school use, he said.

Hanna cited crowded conditions at Curtis, located near Nebraska's southern border. The Valentine school could service the entire northern part of the state, from Norfolk to the Wyoming line, as well as help relieve overcrowded conditions in most regular high schools, he said.

"Farmers and ranchers want their children to attend a school that will fit them more particularly for the work in which they will be engaged when they finish their education," Hanna said.

George Round, public relations director for the state university which supervises the Curtis school, confirmed the crowded conditions there. The enrollment includes a substantial number of youngsters from northwestern counties, he said.

The 1947-48 student body totals 417, Round said, including 102 girls and 160 boys living in dormitories. The girls are crowded four to a room, he said, and the boys are similarly housed.

Milton College Choir Ends Tour

The Milton College A Capella Choir of Milton, Wisconsin has just completed an extensive concert tour through Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia. Fifty trained singers make up the traveling ensemble.

The choir is directed by Professor Bernhardt H. Westlund and under the management of Kenneth A. Babcock of Milton. Counting the concluding home concert, 15 different programs were given. A more extensive tour is being planned in 1949 for this outstanding organization.

A local young lady is a member of the Milton Choir—Miss Kathleen Clement who stands number 11 in the front row (3 in from the left).

Round said the university is studying the Curtis school, considering such choices as limiting enrollment or expanding facilities. Counties usually pay the $192 pupil fee at Curtis, under the state's free high school tuition law. The individual pays his own way only if the county or town in which he lives supports a high school.

St. Paul Man Dies of Gunshot Wounds

John L. Simmons, whose unusual occupation took him through the west and midwest, was found dead of gunshot wounds in his office in St. Paul Thursday night. Howard County Attorney C. T. Shaughnessy said today after an investigation that Simmons had died from an accidental shot from a 12-gauge shotgun. The firearm was lying nearby when Simmons' body was found.

Owner and operator of a municipal water tower maintenance service, Simmons had done the high steel construction work, and had repaired and cleaned out the lofty towers, throughout the midwest and west.

Comstock Girl Is Featured With Band

Miss Marilyn Krikac, Comstock, will be one of the featured artists with the Hastings college band when it opens a 13 day road tour in Hastings city auditorium tonight.

Miss Krikac, promising young sophomore pianist, will play the first movement of Grieg's Piano concert in A minor. This is the second year that she has been a featured soloist with the band.

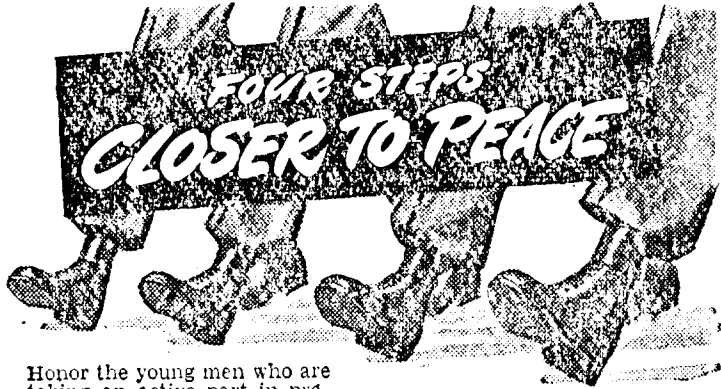

The Hastings college band will cover three thousand miles in Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming while on tour. Highlight of the trip will be a visit to Estes Park, Colo.

Another Comstock girl, Miss Elaine Oschner, who plays the clarinet, will also make the tour with the band.

Who shall measure these in terms of dollars?

It is a bitter fact, but it is worth remembering: if this nation "had spent 25 billion dollars in Military Preparedness over a period of years, World War II need never have happened. Neither Germany nor Japan would have dared to fight us, and we would have saved the 700 billion dollars this war will cost us before we finish paying for it. "But that saving of 700 billions in money is a small thing compared to the American lives which could also have been saved. "One hundred and twenty-six thousand Americans died in World War I; two hundred and fifty thousand Americans died in World War II. No one knows the extent of the misery and suffering of the hundreds of thousands of wounded. "Who shall measure these in terms of dollars?"

From Irving T. MacDonald's "More Light on the News," reporting a talk by Lt. Gen. R. L. Eichelberger, Commander of the Eighth Army.

On Army Day, April 6—it is well for the American people to pause and resolve that neyer again will our Army be permitted to chance the weakness that invites war. The Regular Army—the National Guard—the Organized Reserve and the Reserve Officers Training Corps are all essential parts of a strong Military Establishment. Learn more about them today—and what you can do to help. Your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office will be glad to give you a copy of "A Strong America Is a Peaceful America."

COMPARE STASSEN with All Other Republican Candidates!
Roscoe Drummond in LIFE magazine says: "Stassen's total experience exceeds that of any of his opponents."
1. STASSEN is the ONLY candidate with a midwestern farm background. He appreciates the importance of the farmer to the nation. He says to have prosperity in the nation as a whole we must have prosperity on the farm!
2. STASSEN has had important military experience. For two years he was aide to Admiral Halsey in the Pacific.
3. STASSEN can keep peace between labor and industry. In Minnesota he cut strikes 70%!
4. STASSEN is an administrator. In Minnesota he slashed debt 30%, cut expenses 12%, reduced farm and home property taxes 45%!
5. STASSEN is a leader. Three times governor of Minn., twice head of U. S. Conference of Governors.
6. STASSEN CAN WIN! National polls say that of all candidates, Stassen stands highest with independent voters. STASSEN can reverse a good government to the U.S.

Pioneer History Recalled in Book
Rare Volume Owned by Bill Vodehnal Tells of Early Nebraska History.
(Second installment). In browsing through the book belonging to Bill Vodehnal in which the record of Nebraska of sixty years ago is found, many interesting items of news are found, and it will take some time to get the full story of what it contains. This week I will take up a few oddities found to date, all of which tend to show how rapidly times were changing in those days, and how the promising towns of one era became the ghost towns of later years.
Dannebrog was not, and is not, a ghost town, but there are several items of interest to be gleaned about the village. For example, listed among the business at the town is one H. G. Westberg, who was the town photographer. Mr. Westberg needs no introduction to Ord people, nor to North Loup residents either, as he lived in both places and conducted photo galleries in both places. The names of two of 2,500 men of Dannebrog are also listed. They are Peter Ebbeson, editor of the Dannebrog Sentinel and the Danish language "Stjernen", the only Danish paper published in Nebraska at the time. Then there is Ed. M. Hamberg, who was a nurseman then and who later wrote and published several books, one of them being "Uncle Sam's Cabin". Sixty years ago Dannebrog was listed as having 350 inhabitants.

Brewster was the county seat of Blaine county with no population listed. Of interest is the name of J. M. Klinker, physician. He must have moved about that time, as he is also listed in the Ord business category, and many of the older residents will remember him well. Broken the names of two of 2,500 in a county with 30,000 inhabitants. These figures must have been stretched a lot, as Custer county does not have nearly that many people today. One firm name sounds familiar. It was that of Ed. M. Hamberg, who was a printer. Later an Ed McComas, perhaps the same one, ran a drug store in Ord. Then there was "Purcell Bros., Job Printers." One of the brothers, Emerson S. Purcell, was one of the leading publishers in the county when he headed the Custer County Chief, and he was also a Nebraska senator.

Some county seats have changed in the past sixty years. For example, there is Bloomington, a town of 800 people, which was the county seat of Franklin county then, and was larger than Fremont, the present county seat. We are all familiar with the fact that Scotia was the county seat of Greeley county, as well as the county's largest town, in 1888. In describing the town, the writer states that "a chert stone quarried here, which is used in building after hardening from exposure to the air."

There are an unusually large number of interesting names in the Scotia list. There is L. Covey, auctioneer, and doubtless a relative of Ord's Bruce Covey, who is also an auctioneer. N. H. Parks, who later moved to Ord, was editor and publisher of the Scotia Herald. Weekes Bros. ran the Scotia Mills. One of them was doubtless W. B. Moon, later a famous Taylor was a real estate man, while J. W. Todd was an attorney. Centropolis was a new town located near the center of the newly formed county of Banner. It grew up from the postoffice of Randall, and later the name was changed a third time and is now known as Harrisburg. (End of part two).

STRENGTH won the War... STRENGTH can help win the Peace
Army Day-April 6-Is a day of special significance to peace-loving Americans. It's our chance to pay tribute to the magnificent fighting force that helped bring Victory and Peace.
It's an opportunity to meet a new, all-volunteer Army, to understand its duties at home and abroad and to review its three civilian components:
The National Guard, the Organized Reserve Corps, the R.O.T.C.
But, most important, it's the day for each of us to consider the contributions we can make to World Peace.
What can we do?
We can reaffirm our belief that only a strong America can be a peaceful America.
We can support our men in uniform by attending Army Day events and exhibits.
We can encourage other young men in our community to take an active part in making America a Power for Peace.

Saturday's Gale Caused Extensive Property Damage

Dust Storm Reminiscent of the Drouth Years of 1934-36; Rain Is Needed.

The 55-mile-per hour wind Saturday stirred up more than just dust and dirt, from the reports coming in. In the country, as well as in town, boards, window glass and small buildings were carried along in the gale.

The insurance companies are paying many claims for minor damages, among them for a cupola blown off John Koll's barn and a small building picked up on the John Valasek farm and blown into the side of a larger building. A porch was removed from the house on one of the Bals Estate farms. Considerable damage was done to the barn on the Andrew Kapuska farm.

The plate glass window in Eleanor's Beauty Shop was cracked, the smoke stack blown off Vera's Coffee Shop, garage damage done on the Ray Peterson farm, the machine shop damaged on the Joe Dobrovsky place, and damage to property belonging to Vern Robbins and Emma Madison of North Loup, and Joe Jablonski.

The storm was reminiscent of dust bowl days of the 1934-36 drouths. Rain is badly needed right now, though sub-soil moisture supply is good.

Special Train Bearing 75 to 100 Will Be Here To Discuss Affairs.

Ord will be host to 150 or more officials of the Nebraska Bankers' Association and personnel of banks throughout this area is expected to swell the total attendance.

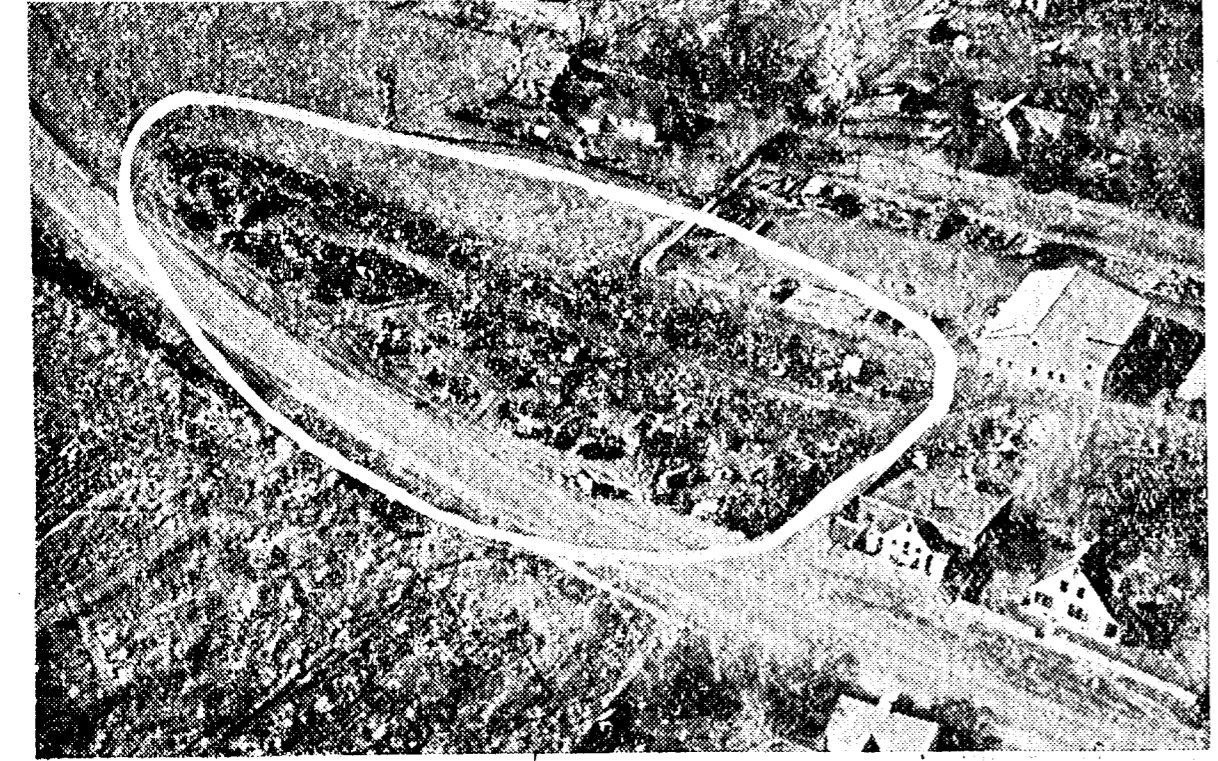

On the train will be bankers from New York, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha, Lincoln and other Nebraska towns. In addition to Ord the train will visit Holdrege, Alliance, Fremont, Norfolk and Lincoln.

The main topic of the meetings will be the bankers' relations with the agricultural communities, according to Carl G. Swanson, secretary of the association. Deloss L. James, manager of the agriculture department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and Charles Z. Meyer, comptroller of the First National Bank of Chicago, will speak at the afternoon meetings. William E. Johnson, former Nebraska lieutenant governor, will speak at night. J. O. Peck of Columbus, president of the association and J. R. Kinnier of Hebron, vice-president, will also be here.

Triple A Says April 15 Is End of Signup Period

Paul Owens, chairman of the Valley county AAA, said today that Thursday, April 15, was the final day for sign up by farmers who will participate in the program for 1948. The sign up period had been extended due to road conditions.

City May Acquire Property to Abolish Eyesore

An aerial shot by Ed Swopes outlines the Art Lange junkyard at the south entrance of Ord, which city dads propose to acquire for the purpose of machinery storage. County officials are also interested in the deal, as they, too, are hunting a suitable location for county equipment storage.

Returning Body of Sargent Soldier

The body of T-5 Robert R. Probert of Sargent is being returned to the soldier's home for interment, according to information received here. The body is aboard the army transport John L. McCarty which is scheduled to arrive in New York City this week. The army lists the next of kin as Ray E. Probert of Sargent.

So far as is known, Robert Probert is the first soldier killed in World War II to be returned for final burial in Custer county. All told, 60 bodies of Nebraskans are aboard the transports John L. McCarty and Robert F. Burns. Virtually all the bodies aboard the McCarty were returned from the D-Day military cemeteries at Saint-Laurant-sur-Mer, Blossville and Lacambe, Normandy.

Interest Growing in Next Tuesday's Primary Election

Local Contests Nil but GOP Presidential Contest Is 7-Way Race.

Although there are practically no local contests to be decided, interest is growing in the primary election to be held next Tuesday, April 13.

Interest centers in the preferential vote for the republican nominee for president. Names of seven candidates will appear on the republican ballot for this office and Nebraska thus becomes a proving ground upon which national attention will be centered.

These candidates include Thomas E. Dewey, Robert A. Taft, Douglas MacArthur, Joseph W. Martin Jr., Arthur H. Vandenberg, Harold E. Stassen and Earl E. Warren.

Five of the seven candidates have made campaign speeches in Nebraska, only MacArthur and Vandenberg remaining, and three — Dewey, Taft and Stassen — are in Nebraska this week for final talks to voters.

Also of interest is the democratic senatorial race where "Terrible Terry" Carpenter, of Scottsbluff, former congressman and choice of the democrat state convention to make the race, is opposed by Albin R. Anderson, young University of Nebraska history professor, and also by one time bus boy George W. Olson, for the nomination. In the republican race Senator Kenneth Wherry is opposed by Joseph Eovey, of Greenwood.

Governor Val Peterson, seeking the republican nomination for reelection to the same position, has four opponents but no actual competition and on the democratic side Frank Sorrell is unopposed.

Locally, interest centers in a non-political race, that of nominees for 29th unicameral legislative district. Hugh Carson, Ord man, is opposed by incumbent John F. Doyle of Greeley, and by two St. Paul men, Harold Conklin and Tracy T. Frost. The two getting the greatest number of votes will go on the ballot in the fall.

The only county contest is in Supervisor District 6 where R. E. Peota, incumbent, is opposed for the nomination by E. O. Schudel. The republicans have no candidates in Districts 2 and 4 and voters will have to write in the names of their favorites. Ellsworth Ball is unopposed for the democratic nomination in District 4 and there are no candidates in Districts 2 and 6.

The complete republican, democratic and non-political ballots appear in this issue of the Quiz.

1948 Middle Loup Irrigation to Be Decided Thursday

Directors To Review Financial Status; Many Unpaid Assessments.

Directors of the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District are meeting Thursday afternoon in Arcadia to decide "yes" or "no" on irrigation in that valley for 1948.

Financial condition of the district is weak, with cash balances on hand Monday night of this week of only $3000 with which to start the irrigation season.

Wednesday, many farmers were coming into the Middle Loup's offices to pay their 1947 regular and special assessments of which nearly $9800 is still owing.

According to M. S. Dodd, manager of the system, the crisis which faces Middle Loup is entirely financial. "In December and again several weeks ago all water users in the district were notified that regular and special assessments would have to be settled by April 7. Unless the directors of the district are reasonably sure Thursday that they'll have money to go on the balance of the season, there will be no irrigation."

"The decision will be made then," he said, "as our land owners must know before they complete their spring planting. The question of farming without water will probably change a lot of plans for planting."

Monday night, the district had about $1640 in regular irrigation assessments and $8145 in special assessments for the 1947 season still due. Total assessments for 1947 were $2.50 per acre as a regular charge and $1.50 per acre for a special charge to get funds to rebuild the system. Total amounts were about $30,000 and $18,000.

An additional assessment of $1.50 per acre for 1948 must be paid before water is released to individual farms, Dodd stated.

Rural Field Day at F. Kruml Farm Set for April 27

Demonstration on Weed Control, Contour Farming to Be Given; Speakers Coming.

The Vincent Kruml farm, 4 1/2 miles northwest of Elyria, will be the scene of a rural field day and farm demonstration, scheduled for Tuesday, April 27.

While plans are not complete, demonstrations will be given on weed control, soil conservation practices and layout of contour farming.

Speakers from the soil conservation service and the University of Nebraska college of agriculture will be here to explain new developments in farm practices.

The event is sponsored jointly by the soil conservation district, the weed control district and the Ord Chamber of Commerce. Activities will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will continue through the afternoon. A lunch wagon will be on the grounds, and the chamber plans to serve free coffee.

Women's Club Meets
Mrs. Joe Jirak was hostess to the Women's club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. R. Stoltz gave the lesson on "Women and the Wide World" assisted by Mrs. R. C. Bailey, Mrs. Corwin Cummins and Mrs. Hilding Pearson.

County Gets $7374 in School Funds

Valley county's share of the 1947 apportionment from temporary school funds amounted to $7,374.75 this year, according to the county treasurer. The funds are part of $1,127,568.17 distributed in the state as a whole from funds that have accumulated in the fund from January 1, 1947 to December 31, 1948.

It exceeds the amount distributed last year by $134,714.00. Most of this comes from the increase in school land lease appraisal schedules adopted by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

Other school receipts in this area include Custer, $28,860; Garfield, $5,028.13; Loup, $2,553.49; and Sherman $7,692.57.

Tuesday Session Council Crowded With Proposals

City Dads Talk Street Improvement, Sewer, to Condemn Junkyard Eyesore.

A long list of proposals, most of them dealing with city improvements, provided a crowded docket for city councilmen Tuesday night in their regular April meeting.

City dads were in a mood to talk expansion and improvement in items ranging from curb and gutter to elimination of eyesores filled the evening.

Condemning of the Art Lange junkyard at the south entrance of Ord will be pushed by the council as soon as a suitable condemnation ordinance can be prepared.

Councilman Hugh Carson, who brought up the idea told the council emphatically that he thought the yard "was a disgrace to the city."

"It's one of the worst things that ever happened to the town," he stated, "and since we need a tract for city equipment, I think we ought to take it over."

The motion to condemn the property by Carson brought a second from councilman Schoenstein and a unanimous vote.

Councilman McGinnis suggested that it was time for the council to assemble facts and figures on curb and gutter. "Curb and gutter would improve our streets wonderfully, and would save future maintenance costs as we would lose so much gravel," the councilman stated.

City dads generally concurred with McGinnis, with Carson stressing the fact that something should be done soon to improve city streets. "The people in town have been more than patient on this question, and it's time that something was done," he said.

Big advantage to curb and gutter, as councilmen see it, is that city streets would be put to a permanent grade which would be easy to maintain. According to city engineer George Allen, earth moving and grading job would be quite extensive, as most streets in the town are far above grade. Allen was instructed to assemble figures to present at the next meeting of the council on April 14.

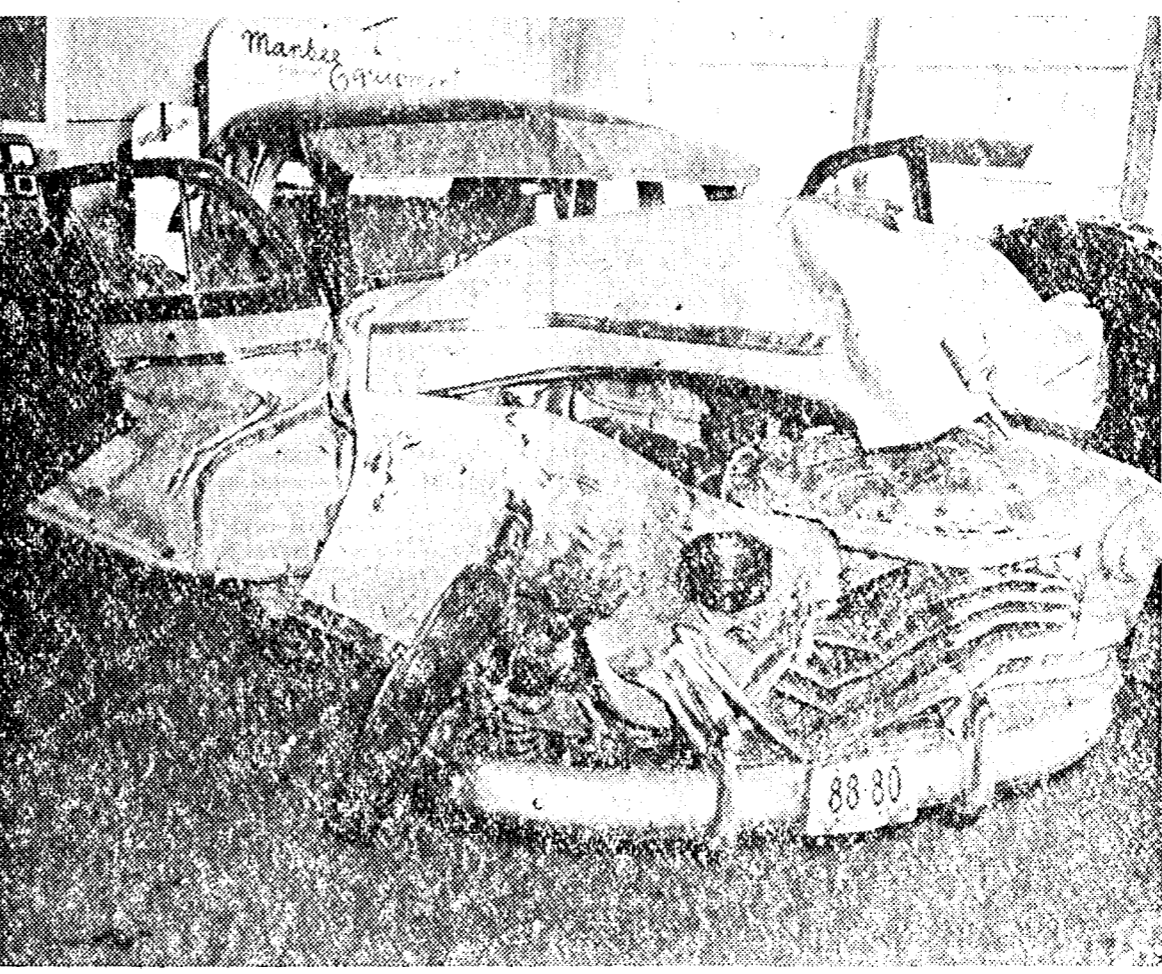

Curb and gutter districts may be formed by the city without action from property owners, city attorney Clarence Davis stated. Once the district is set, only a majority remonstrance petition could stop it. Costs quoted Tuesday night ranged from $1.25 to $1.50 per front foot.

To bring the city's light fund out of the red and also to reduce the amount of registered warrants outstanding against the fund, councilmen voted to reimburse the electric utility some $3000 spent on city streets last summer. The reimbursement will come out of the road fund. In addition, $15,000 worth of government bonds now owned by the electric fund will be sold and the amount used to apply on $5,000 in registered warrants held by local banks.

The council also paid final bills for the city's share of maintenance of the athletic field, and instructed the finance committee to collect funds from the Ord Baseball club, which last year promised the city ten percent of its receipts.

Representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion presented the city with a check for $10,000 for the swimming pool fund, as first installment of the pledge for the amount necessary to complete the pool. The check represented over half of the amount pledged and was made on schedule date.

Councilmen changed specifications for the swimming pool, and place the pool on a sewer line instead of having drainage into a large tile farm septic system. The new sewer line will run directly east from the pool site to a connection at the southeast corner of the athletic field. Additional cost to the city will be $2,000 which councilmen felt would be repaid in future years by those who will build on lots south of the park. Several residences just west of the pool will probably make sewer connections at once. Total cost of the line would be about $3400, of which $1400 would be saved by eliminating (Continued on page 8)

Reckless Driving Complaint Filed Here Following Auto-Transport Crash Saturday

County Attorney Ralph C. Norman filed charges of reckless driving against Delbert Benson of Ord Tuesday morning, as the result of a transport-auto crash Saturday night north of Elyria, in which two women were injured, one seriously.

Both Madeline Ashley of Burwell, driver of the car, and Marcia C. Smith, Taylor, owner, are in the Burwell hospital recovering from injuries. Miss Ashley is reported to have a vertebra in the neck broken, and Miss Smith bruises and shock.

The two women were driving north on the state highway between Elyria and Burwell at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night when they crashed into an oil transport owned by Forest Worin of Burwell, and driven by Benson at a point two miles north of Elyria.

The transport was enroute from Burwell to Ord. Benson was accompanied by Tom (Buck) Williams of Ord. Both escaped injury.

According to county sheriff Robert Hall, who investigated the accident, the marks and other evidence showed that the transport was traveling on the left side of the road when the two crashed.

"Don't believe that either was traveling at an excessive rate of speed," he stated.

Williams stated to a Quiz reporter that he did not have the slightest idea of how the accident could have happened. "I never saw the other car until we hit it," he said.

Date of hearing has not been set, although the case will probably be heard this weekend, the Quiz learned.

Schultz to Face Shooting Charge

Omaha Authorities Claim the Former North Louper Shot Picket Plant Worker.

William H. Schultz, until a year ago a farmer in the North Loup neighborhood, will face charges of shooting with intent to kill and shooting with intent to wound, according to Omaha authorities, who claim that he shot Jesse Foster, one of the pickets at the Armour and Co. plant which is strike-bound, in the course of an attempt to run the picket line Monday.

Schultz' wife is employed at the Armour plant and decided to return to work Monday as result of a plea received from the plant management a few days before. Schultz and a South Omaha neighbor, Sam Markise, tried to drive an auto through the picket line to take Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Markise to work.

According to Schultz, he was pulled from the car by Foster and groped for the gun, which was lying on the car, beside him, shooting underneath his arm from a nearly prone position and wounding the picket. Other pickets denied this version of the story, claiming Schultz stopped the car, got out and shot Foster, returned to the car and drove off.

Immediately after the shooting Mr. Schultz stopped a police cruiser car, told policeman what he had done and turned himself into custody. His account of the shooting was corroborated by occupants of his car.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schultz sr., who live in North Loup.

No. Loup Election Won by 'Wets' after Licenses Refused

Old Board Turned Down Beer Applicants Monday, Roten Eggs Thrown.

North Loup voters elected two new members of the village board at their election Tuesday, H. L. Gillespie and Carol Amys, both of whom are said to favor renewal of beer licenses in the village.

Roy Lewis and George Maxson were the defeated candidates. Votes received by the four were as follows:

H. L. Gillespie — 144.
Carol Amys — 151.
Roy Lewis — 91.
George Maxson — 87.

Monday night, at its regular April meeting the village board at North Loup refused to grant renewal beer licenses to the two tavern keepers, Ronald Cress and Monte Edwards. Only board member to vote in favor of issuing licenses was Paul Madsen, while three members, Roy Cox, Erlo Cox and Rev. A. C. Ehret, voted "nay."

Some time during the night, after the board meeting, vandals threw rotten eggs and tin cans at the homes of Roy and Erlo Cox, apparently to show their displeasure over the board's action in refusing the beer licenses. Identity of the guilty parties has not been determined.

Cress and Edwards are expected to file application for beer licenses again when the new board of trustees takes office in May.

Farmers Invited to Dairy Meeting Next Thursday

Creamery, Farm Vets, Sponsor Movie Show, Talks on the Dairy Industry.

Farmers and the public generally will be welcomed at a dairy meeting being held Thursday, April 15 at 8:00 p.m. at the Ord high school auditorium under the joint sponsorship of the Ord cooperative creamery and the farm veterans' class, of which Ed Jensen is instructor.

The educational films devoting to dairying will be shown, the titles being "Artificial Breeding," "Money Making Milk" and "Quality Milk Production." There will be a speaker from the state department of agricultural inspection, and other talks by local people.

—Visitors Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wencil Bruha were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hulinsky and family and Wayne Masin.

Ord Groups To Buy Sound Movie For Use Of All

Several Ord civic groups and local governmental divisions have made arrangements to purchase sound movie equipment. The equipment will be owned jointly and will be available for use by organizations in Ord and vicinity. Joint cost of the venture will be about $500.

Four groups have so far signified that they would enter into the purchase, the Chamber of Commerce, Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service and the Weed Control District.

Asked to participate, if they choose, are Rotary, Cosmopolitan, Veterans of Foreign Wars, AAA, Business & Professional Women, Masons, Odd Fellows, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, Ord Fire Department and the Cooperative Creamery Association.

War on Weeds to Start With Meets Held Over County

Film on Noxious Weed Control to Be Shown in Elyria, Ord, North Loup and Arcadia.

The war on weeds in Valley county will gain impetus with the holding of four meetings in the county during the week of April 19, Henry Janus, secretary of the Valley county noxious weed control district, announced this week.

Janus has meetings scheduled for Elyria on April 19, North Loup on April 20, Arcadia on April 21 and Ord on April 22. Business men of Arcadia and Elyria are cooperating in staging the meetings in those towns, the Lions Club of North Loup is sponsoring the affair there, and the Chamber of Commerce will handle the event in Ord.

At least three moving pictures on weed control will be used to illustrate the meetings, Janus said.

2 New Councilmen, New City Clerk, Elected Tuesday

Vote Heavy at City Election Here; School Board Has New Members.

Ord voters Tuesday went to the polls in large numbers and elected two new councilmen and two new school board members, as well as a new city clerk. Dr. F. L. Blessing, candidate of both the Citizens and Good Government parties, was elected mayor without opposition, getting 620 votes. There were 13 write-in votes for Mayor B. Cummins, retiring mayor.

For councilman, 1st ward, Duane Armstrong was elected over the incumbent, E. S. Murray, by a vote of 135 to 120.

Second ward voters chose Jay Brown for councilman over incumbent Howard Huff, the vote being 107 to 90.

In the third ward J. W. McGinnis was unopposed and got 187 votes.

Young Paul Adamek, wounded veteran of World War II, ran strongly to defeat incumbent Rex Jewett for city clerk, the vote being 358 to 291. In the first ward Adamek led 152 to 103, in the second ward 115 to 86 and in the third ward 121 to 105. Election applies only to the position of city clerk and not to the job as bookkeeper for the light and water department, which is an appointive office. Whether the new mayor will reappoint Rex Jewett to this office or appoint city clerk-elect Adamek remains to be determined.

In the board of education race Hilding Pearson led the field of candidates with 452 votes, with Leo Long getting 385 and Herbert Shnets 350. Pearson and Long were thus elected to the two vacancies. Vote in the first ward was Shnets 176, Long 144, Pearson 169; in the second ward, Shnets 95, Long 111, Pearson 136; in the third ward: Shnets 93, Long 133, Pearson 117.

In the race for park board member a close contest developed between Henry Endia and Dean Misko, the former winning 339 to 329.

James Ollis was reelected city treasurer without opposition, getting 585 votes, and John L. Anderson was chosen police judge, also without opposition, getting 547 votes.

Vote in all wards was the heaviest cast at a city election in several years, demonstrating the interest Ord citizens are taking in city affairs.

Cancer Institute Will Seek Funds

The Valley county chairman of the National Cancer Institute announced that the drive for funds will start on April 19 in Valley county. The local organizations that will handle the drive will be announced next week.

Nebraska now has five tumor clinics in operation supported by the cancer drive where free consultative service for actual or suspected cancer may be obtained. These are in operation at McCook, Lexington, Norfolk, North Platte and Omaha.

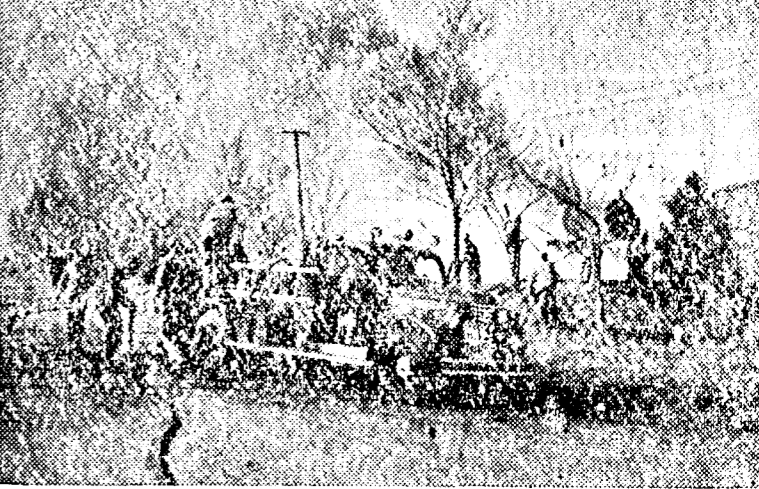

Cancer control is a relatively new project and the money is used to further cancer research as well as cancer control activity.

County To Erect Veterans Memorial

A suitable bronze plaque, in memory of those who gave their lives while serving in the armed forces during World War II will be placed in the lobby of the Valley county court house, county supervisors decided at their regular meeting Tuesday.

The plaque will replace the large sign board now on the court house lawn, which will be turned over to the Ord Chamber of Commerce to use for announcements of coming events.

Fire At State Equipment Yard

Damage to equipment was small when members of the Ord fire department extinguished an asphalt and oil fire at the state equipment yard at 8 o'clock Monday morning. The fire started in an asphalt pre-heater used by the state, and the blaze was extinguished in 10 minutes according to Fire Chief George Anderson.

Spring really sprung at us this week, with absolutely no advance notice.

Winter: bang! Then spring! —OO—

So Mr. Reynolds had to throw his famous pens at the Chinese to get out of that country. Well that's the first good use for those pens I know of. How about you? —OO—

Ord is looking better right along. Many of the old buildings that were moved into town and remodeled were made into very attractive places to live. And their occupants are busily settling out crochets, making lawns, walks and otherwise finishing the premises in apple-pie order.

We have scarcely one vacant lot left, for one of these new homes has been tucked into every spare corner of our young city. And thus a good many small families have found clean, comfortable living quarters of their own.

NEBRASKA

and the Nation Need the continued vigorous leadership of United States Senator

Kenneth S. WHERRY

Republican Candidate for Re-election in the April 13 Primary Election.

A vote for Senator Wherry will be appreciated.

Sponsored and paid for by Nebraska Wherry-for-Senator Committee, State Chairman, George M. Tunison.

And it has improved Ord. Ord needed improving. We definitely lag behind other communities when it comes to new residential construction.

—OO—

Really Ord has a fine roster of graduates and ex-citizens. We can be proud of our ex-sons and daughters, scattered to the four corners of the earth.

But probably Ord never graduated a more brilliant young student than George Russell Mann, whose abrupt death in Lincoln on Saturday shocked all who knew him. He was only 58, and that's not so old.

George went from Ord to the University of Nebraska, continuing with a scholastic record that included Ivy Day orator. . . . no mean honor. He graduated from university in the same class with George Allen, our city manager of light and water departments.

Says Mrs. George Allen, who was also upon the scene that long-ago commencement day "I remember George Mann's Ivy Day oration just as well; how he looked and all."

—OO—

Mr. Mann had perhaps as keen legal mentality as could be found in Nebraska, and his opinions were everywhere respected.

Those who knew him however, cherished him more for his conversational ability. His vocabulary, his use of similes and stories, his memory of early day incidents and families, his grand sense of humor, combined to make him something to hear. Never an ordinary phase fell from his lips. And never was a listener bored when George spoke.

—OO—

Ord and Valley county were special to him, always.

His boyhood memories of this valley, his recollections of the days he taught in Springdale and his students there were forever close to his heart. His very fine memory served him here too.

Mr. Mann was quite a man! The Leggets and the Quiz End Ord are going to miss him, really miss him.

Throughout her attendance at Milton, Miss Clement has maintained an above-average scholastic record. Active in extra-curricular activities, she is at the present time cast in the role of Hermia in the annual college Shakespearean production, Mid-Summer Night's Dream, and is currently exhibiting paintings at the Rockford Artist's Association exhibit.

Income Tax Bill Passed Over President's Veto; Cuts Start May 1

Congress soundly rejected a Presidential veto Friday to reduce income taxes $4,800,000,000, the first tax cut in 20 years.

Action by both chambers came within two hours after President Truman had sent a message pleading that taxes should not be cut "at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States."

The House overrode the veto by a 311 to 88 vote. This was 15 votes more than the two-thirds majority needed to upset the veto. The Senate then voted to override after a two-hour debate.

The Senate vote was 77 to 19, 19 votes more than the required two-thirds majority.

All Iowa and Nebraska Senators and Representatives voted to override.

First effect of the tax reduction will be a cut in the withholding rates on May 1. The act itself is effective as of January 1, 1948.

Samples of the new rates:

Single person, weekly salary $40 would pay $4; $50 withholding $5.50; $70, $8.40; $100, $12.90.

Married person, no children, weekly salary $40 would pay $2.10; $50, $3.60; $70, $6.50; $100, $11.

Married person, two children, $40, no tax; $50, no tax; $70, $2.60; $100, $7.10.

income tax on 7,100,000 with smaller incomes.

Personal exemptions are raised from five hundred to six hundred dollars. Persons who are 65 or older get a $1,200 personal exemption. The blind get special benefits.

The bill applies the community property principle to all states. This allows wives and husbands to split the family income for tax reporting purposes. In many cases it puts the couples' incomes in lower brackets and thus cuts their tax bills.

It also sets a new system for gift and estate taxes.

Immediately after the Senate vote Government presses started on new tax-withholding forms which will be rushed to six million employers. In the next few days other forms covering the new exemptions and technical changes in the old law will be mailed.

Wheat Breeding Pays

Thirty years of wheat breeding by experiment stations of the hard red spring wheat area and the department of agriculture have resulted in developing a succession of improved varieties, each producing higher yields. In North Dakota, during the last five years, the increase through use of these varieties is estimated from experiment station yield studies at 192 million bushels worth 240 million dollars, or 43 million dollars per year.

Ceremonial

The Adako Campfire girls had a ceremonial Thursday evening. The theme was "Wholes", which means work, health and love.

Five girls, Margaret Jean Muncy, Sharon Olsson, Lorraine Dun-

"Safeway guarantees to sell every food at the bottom price in this neighborhood"

This is SAFEWAY'S guarantee!

We guarantee you the bottom price in your shopping district — grade for grade and quality for quality — on every food store item.

We mean this on every item... every day

To avoid wasting time, energy and gasoline in shopping around, our promise of the bottom price goes — for every food store item — not just one or two "specials" for each and every day you shop — not just for "special" days.

It is Safeway's policy to always sell food at the lowest price. And to be sure of that, it is also Safeway's policy to meet any and every low food price in your neighborhood.

Here's how you can help us keep food prices low:

OUR METHOD of food distribution regularly assures lowest food prices at Safeway. But some day we may miss some "special." We want to give you the lowest prices on "specials" too.

Will you do this: If you see an item advertised in your neighborhood at a price lower than ours, bring a copy of the ad to your Safeway.

We will adjust our price on any item of like grade and quality to meet any competitive price in the trading area of any Safeway store.

Remember, food prices must be low at Safeway. We bring foods in by direct routes, handle them efficiently, cut unnecessary costs.

You help keep food distribution costs low by waiting on yourself, paying cash and carrying your purchases home.

You earn and are entitled to the lowest food prices — by trading at Safeway.

Former Arcadia Girl Marries
At eleven o'clock Saturday morning, April 3, 1948, Miss Helen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Smith of Grand Island became the bride of Kenneth Shibata, son of Mrs. Helen Kokes of Ord, at St. Mary's Cathedral in Grand Island. The Rev. Paul Wachtler officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of close relatives.

The bride was attired in a two piece, white linen afternoon dress with navy accessories. She wore a small white hat with a navy veil and a corsage of pink gardenias.

The bridesmaid, Miss Donna Webb of Grand Island, a friend of the couple, wore a tan gabardine suit with red accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The best man was Otto Marech, of Ord, a friend of the couple. Both the groom and best man wore dark, pin stripe suits with white carnation boutonnières.

The bride graduated from the Arcadia high school with the class of 1946, moving to Grand Island the following fall.

The groom graduated from the Ord high school in 1943 and served in the navy.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Alvin Smith and Mrs. Everett Webb.

After a short honeymoon at Lincoln, the young couple are making their home in Kearney, where the groom is attending State Teachers College.

HERE'S WHY MORE PEOPLE WANT STASSEN!

CHECK THIS LIST — PROVE TO YOURSELF STASSEN STANDS FOR THE SAME THINGS YOU DO

- STASSEN is for cutting the cost of government — and knows how to do it. In Minnesota he slashed debt 30%, cut expenses 12%. He reduced taxes on farm and home property 45% — yet had more money for schools, welfare and future reserves.
- STASSEN is for a sound, prosperous farm economy. He is the only candidate with a mid-west farm background. He was born and raised on a Minnesota farm—was three times governor of that farming state. He knows our farm problems, and he appreciates the importance of the farmer to the nation.
- STASSEN is for a strong army and navy ready to meet any emergency. He has had important military experience, having served two years in the Pacific as aide to Admiral Halsey.
- STASSEN is for a business-like foreign policy that will keep America strong. He is the ONLY candidate who has dealt first-hand with Stalin. He knows what we face in the world. He is for a firm hand with Russia and says we should STOP shipping them war goods NOW!
- STASSEN is for peace between labor and industry — and knows how to get it. In Minnesota he reduced the number of men on strike 70% while, during the same period, strikes in the nation doubled!
- STASSEN is for the average, hard-working American citizen. Time magazine says of him: "Few men in public life have exhibited more sympathy for the ordinary man, more understanding of the hopes and fears of the ordinary citizen."

MRS. EVERETT WEBB
Quiz Representative
Arcadia

The music festival held in the Arcadia school auditorium Friday was attended by a large crowd. Vocal solos, glee clubs, mixed choruses and bands were presented during the day by 360 pupils attending schools from Comstock, Sargent, Taylor, North Loup, Scotia and Arcadia. The evening program consisted of events of the day and an artist group from Kearney. The critics were Mrs. Elizabeth Cummings and Mr. Cerny of the State Teachers College of Kearney.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Milourn, and Monic Milburn all of Lander, Wyo., and Cecil Milburn of Riverton, Wyo., arrived in Arcadia Friday to visit their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Milburn who has been ill.

Mrs. "Chic" Sell and children spent Sunday afternoon in North Loup visiting her mother.

Harold Bulger, a student at the State Teachers College at Kearney was a weekend guest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bulger.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Crist and son were Sunday visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elrod and family at Grand Island.

Mrs. Eva Braden left Tuesday morning for Cheyenne, Wyo., where she will visit at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Braden and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Carmody were Ord callers one day last week.

Sunday evening supper guests at the Dale Sell home were Mr. and Mrs. Bus Mason and children and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Horner and children all of Loup City.

Walter Zentz of Lincoln spent Friday in Arcadia visiting relatives.

Ladies of group one of the Congregational Aid held their Easter bazaar Thursday at the church basement. Ice cream and cake was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Murray of Hartington, were weekend visitors at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murray. Mrs. Murray will spend some time with her mother, Mrs. John Dietz at Loup City.

The Up-To-Date club met at the home of Mrs. Wester Jones last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ernest Easterbrook leading the lesson, "Biographies".

George R. Mann, 58, Is Heart Attack Victim at Lincoln

Former Ordite, Noted Nebraska Attorney, Died Friday in a Lincoln Hospital.

George R. Mann, 58, former Ord resident and a noted Nebraska lawyer, died Friday in a Lincoln hospital as result of a heart attack suffered while working at his office in Federal Securities building Thursday afternoon. Funeral services were held Monday morning at the Roper chapel in Lincoln and burial was in Wyuka cemetery.

While living in Ord as a boy and young man Mr. Mann was known to all as "Russell," this being his middle name. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mann, who lived east of Ord. Mr. Mann being a railroad employee. Both parents are deceased.

He grew to manhood here and was educated in Ord high school where he took active part in school activities, especially oratorical work and debating and was a member of the debating team that won a state championship for Ord high school. His graduation was in 1905, in a class which included, among others, Fred Coe, Flavia Twombly, Mrs. Lester Norton and Floyd Robbins.

Always an ardent baseball fan, he played in Ord high school and town teams and at one time managed the Ord town team. He was also active in track as a sprinter. After graduation from high school he taught the Springdale and Ft. Hartsuff schools and in conversation with friends often recalled that he began teaching when he was still in short pants and when many of his pupils were larger than he was.

Declining the county superintendency of Valley county to enter college, Mr. Mann was graduated from University of Nebraska in 1915. In the university he was a self-supporting student, working during vacations as a traveling salesman, during college terms as a night express agent and having employment by the university in several literary capacities. A brilliant student, he was chosen Ivy Day orator and his address on college traditions was made a part of the library and became the foundation for a new course on university traditions.

After graduation Mr. Mann opened a law office in Lincoln where he soon found his interest was in specializing in state and municipal law.

He served in the first World War, entering the army as a private and emerging a lieutenant, and belonged to the reserve corps afterward.

He served one term as deputy county attorney of Lancaster county and for over 20 years was general counsel for the Nebraska legislature, supervising bill drafting and related legal services. He aided in compiling the Nebraska statutes in 1929 and in 1931 prepared a supplement to the statutes. He served the Nebraska League of Municipalities as counsel for many years and revised ordinances for nearly all of the cities and villages of Nebraska, doing so several times for some cities. He was actively engaged in revising ordinances for the city of Aurora at the time of his death.

Mr. Mann was a frequent Ord visitor and retained many close friends here.

He is survived by his wife, Eulalia, by one son, William Russell, of Denver, one daughter, Mrs. Betty Strength, of Texarkana, Texas, by a brother, Allan H. Mann, of Lincoln, and by one grandson.

3168 Vehicles Are Licensed for 1948

County treasurer George Satterfield reported to the Quiz that 3168 motor vehicle licenses had been issued in the county so far this year, as compared with 2,950 at this time last year.

The county is allowed 10 cents for issuing each license, the state then takes 2 1/2 percent for handling the fund. Of this balance the state takes 30 percent for roads and the balance, a little less than 70 percent, comes back to the county for road maintenance and improvement.

Ord Tracksters Beat Broken Bow in Dual Meet

Chanticleers Take Seven Firsts for 78-59 Victory in Season Opener.

Seven first places and numerous seconds, thirds and fourths combined to give Coach Alex Cochran's Ord Chanticleers a 78-59 victory over Broken Bow in a dual track meet at Ord Friday.

It was the first meet for both teams this year and marks made were not exceptional, for the most part. A discus throw of 119 feet 4 inches by Stewart of Ord was probably the best mark made.

Jay Stoddard of Ord was high point man with 17 points, and Al Blessing, also of Ord, was next with 14 points. Eaker topped the Indians with 13. Twelve different men scored points for Ord. Winners of events:

- 100-yard dash: Won by Eaker, Broken Bow, 11.
- 220-yard dash: Won by Blessing, Ord, 26.
- 440-yard run: Won by Blessing, Ord, 59.
- 880-yard run: Won by Simonson, Broken Bow, 2:14.5.
- 1 mile run: Won by Coover, Broken Bow, 5:24.
- 800-yard high hurdles: Won by J. Stoddard, Ord, 9:4.
- 100-yard low hurdles: Won by Eaker, Broken Bow, 12:7.
- Shot put: Won by Meston, Broken Bow, 40 feet 1/2 inch.
- Discus throw: Won by Stewart, Ord, 119 feet 4 inches.
- Field jump: Won by Simonson, Broken Bow, 17 feet.
- High jump: Won by J. Stoddard, Felter, Anderson, all of Ord, (tie) 5 feet 1/2 inch.
- Pole vault: Won by Misko, Ord, 8 feet 10 1/2 inches.
- 850-yard relay: Won by Ord (J. Stoddard, Cochran, Stewart, Moore), 1:44.2.

37 Teachers Finish Education Course

Thirty-seven teachers finished the "Off the Campus" course on education Saturday.

A special unit was worked out on soil conservation that will be used in all Valley county schools next year.

LaVonne Fairley of North Platte, working out of Lincoln, was instructor. Miss Fairley is a cousin of Helen Kopecky, a former commercial teacher in the Ord high school.

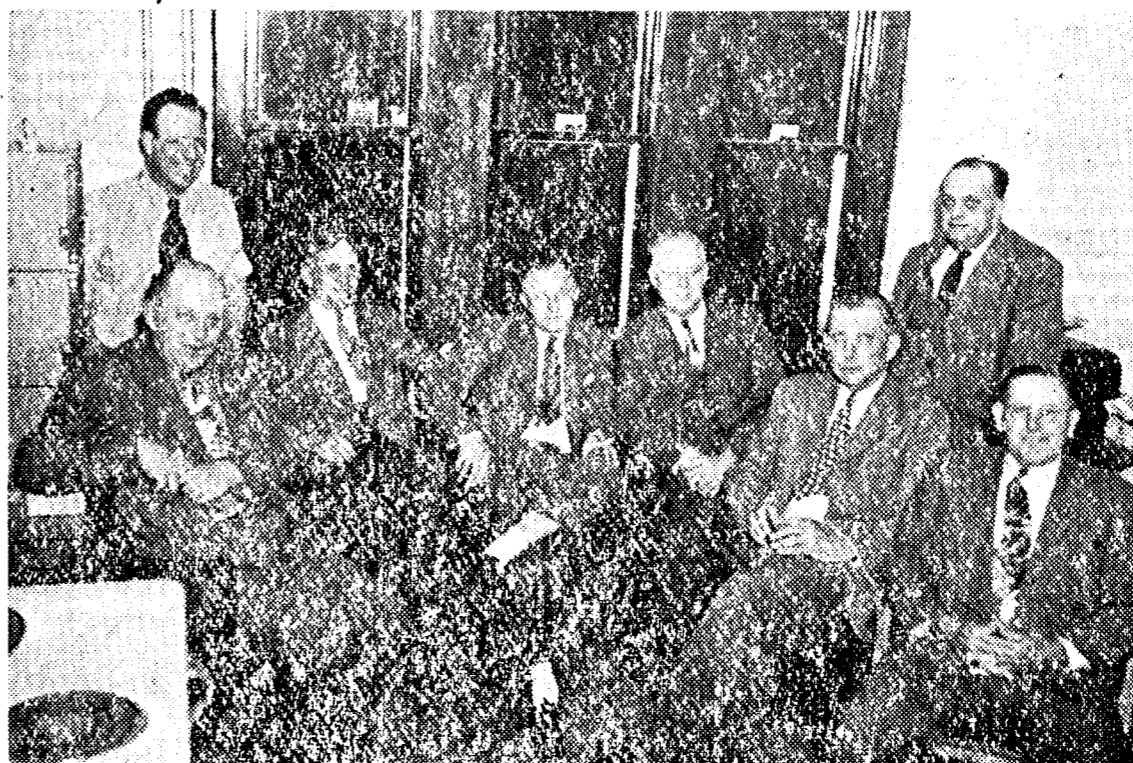

The group made a tour of the Quiz Industries, engraving and printing plants Saturday morning.

Rural School Meet Coming April 26th

The field meet for the rural schools will be held on April 26th instead of April 29th as planned. This is a regular field and track meet in which all rural schools participate. There will be a big picnic at noon.

Coach Cochran will be the official again this year. The field meet is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

New faces will appear as a result of the election. Paul Adamek will replace Rex Jewett, Duane Armstrong takes over for E. S. Murray, Jay Brown takes Howard Huff's spot, and Dr. F. L. Blessing, now on the council, moves into Mayor M. B. Cummins position. Another 1st ward councilman must be appointed to replace Mayor-elect Blessing.

William Fuss, 60, Dies Wednesday of Heart Attack

Found Dead on Fair Grounds Where Was Training New Horse; Funeral Sunday.

Funeral services were held at the St. John's Lutheran church in Mira Valley Sunday afternoon for Wm. H. R. Fuss, 60, who died of a heart attack on the fair grounds in Ord Wednesday afternoon.

Formerly a well known farmer south of Ord, Mr. Fuss moved into town about a year ago because of a heart condition that made it necessary for him to take life much easier. Last winter, while visiting a daughter in Omaha, he suffered a severe heart attack which kept him hospitalized several weeks, but he had been feeling much better lately.

He was training a new palomino horse Wednesday when stricken. Men working at the fair grounds saw the horse running loose, bearing a saddle, and found Mr. Fuss' body, riding whip still in hand. A noted trainer of horses, Mr. Fuss was a favorite with crowds at the Valley county fair and at Pop Corn days where every year he put his horses through their tricks and paces.

He was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuss and was born in York county on Dec. 1, 1887. After living with his parents in Minnesota for a few years he came to Valley county with them in 1931 and grew to manhood here. He was confirmed in the St. John's church and was a member until his death.

On April 21, 1909 occurred his marriage to Laura Bremer and four daughters were born to them. The family lived on a farm in Davis Creek township until 1920 when they moved to Mira Valley, which remained the family home until his death forcing his retirement from farming.

Left to mourn are his wife and four daughters, Mrs. Naomi Scheweid, Ord, Mrs. Dorothy Bangert, Omaha, Mrs. Julia Gausman, Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Elva Petiska, Grand Island. There are also two brothers, Walter and Martin Fuss, and two sisters, Mrs. Frieda Futh and Mrs. Marie Hellewege, that it has been 18 years since he left Ord to establish his home there. The Novak house is on North Dakota street which was then the north boundary of Chandler. Now the town has grown and North Dakota street is almost in the center of the city.

Rev. Landgraf officiated at the funeral and there was music by the St. John's church choir composed of Henry Lange, Frank and George Bremer, Maxine Fuss, Wilma Lange, Bernadine Holtz and Mary Rachuy, with Marilyn Bohl as pianist.

Funeral services were held at the funeral home, Wilbur Fuss, Dale Hellewege, Lyle Eskin and Kenneth Fuss, in charge of food for the large group of relatives from out-of-town were Mrs. Jerry Petiska sr., Mrs. Harlan Prazier, Mrs. Anna Nelson and Mrs. Wm. Heuck. Ushers were Edgar and Eldon Lange and in charge of flowers were Emma and Eda Dobberline.

Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

ing the tile farm, leaving $2000 to be paid out of the city's general fund.

Report of the airport committee showed a surprising revenue from operation of the port last year. Gene Barnett, manager, turned in $237.33, representing a commission on sales and fees. Sale of agricultural products—mainly alfalfa, brought the city $1515.17, or a net income of $1782.50.

July 4 was set as date for dedication of the airport, to be known as Evelyn Sharp Field, and city dads appropriated $150 to erect a suitable monument to Miss Sharp. The chamber of commerce will handle dedication ceremonies.

Routine business occupied the rest of a long evening. The council voted to install a new fire hydrant at the corner of the Stewart Bottling plant to give additional protection to homes and businesses in that area. A dance license was granted to the Z.C.B.J. and an application for a liquor license by Henry Wit was approved. Beer licenses were granted to Frank Fafeta, Emory Johnson and Frank Kasal. Joe Johnson and Frank Cassel, Joe Ramackers, who has leased his cafe, withdrew his application for a beer license. Van Boskirk & Remington were given a contract to audit city books.

Getter in Hospital, Will Be 100 Soon

From Tujunga, Calif., comes word from Mrs. Mark Getter saying that her husband, well known former Ordite, has been ill nearly a year and is in the Veterans' hospital, Birmingham General Hospital, Van Nuys, Calif. He is very weak but suffers no pain.

Mr. Getter will be 100 years old on July 29, 1948. He is commander and last surviving member of G. A. R. Post 101, Long Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Getter says that her own health is fairly good although she is almost 87 years old, her birthday being the same day as her husband's, and that she is able to drive the family car on business errands.

Her husband no doubt will be glad to hear from his old friends who still read the Quiz.

A. L. Novak Writes, Says Chandler Bigger

Writing from Chandler, Ariz., to renew his Quiz, A. L. Novak says that it has been 18 years since he left Ord to establish his home there. The Novak house is on North Dakota street which was then the north boundary of Chandler. Now the town has grown and North Dakota street is almost in the center of the city.

Makes Quick Trip to Get Windmills

Steel products are very hard to get delivery on at the present time due to the shortage of steel and the coal strike.

Last week when Ernest Horner got an order for a truck load of windmills OK'd at the factory in Chicago he took no chances on their changing their minds. He sent Jack Romans, owner of the Romans Motor Freight, to Chicago with a truck, where it was loaded at the factory, Friday afternoon and delivered to Mr. Horner in Ord early Monday morning.

Jack Romans, who makes about one trip a week into Chicago now, was relieved on the trip by Harold Barnes, one of his drivers who lives at Council Bluffs.

Arnolds Manage Ord Restaurant

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Arnold took over the management of the Diner Monday morning. They have leased the business from Joe Ramackers until May 1. At that time Mr. and Mrs. Arnold will take possession of the business. They do not plan to apply for a beer license. Joe Ramackers was forced to get out of the restaurant business due to poor health.

Road Committee Visits Loup City

Leonard Woods, Ernest Horner, J. W. McGinnis, Clarence Davis and John L. Andersen, representing the Chamber of Commerce Roads committee, attended a meeting of road enthusiasts from other towns in this vicinity at Loup City Monday evening. Future road prospects in this area were discussed.

Spring Concert Much Enjoyed

The spring concert presented at the Ord high school Tuesday night by Director Nelson's instrumental students was well received by a large crowd.

Lois Severn's piano solo, "Etude in 'Boogie'" a classical arrangement of "boogie-woogie" arranged by Walters seemed to please the audience most. The concert featured selections by the cornet choir and numbers by the senior high school band.

BUILDING ADDITION

Vern Stark started work this week on a 24x24 tile addition to his building. The new part will be used mainly to house parts stock and as his repair shop, with the present building being given over to appliance display.

Pop Corn Contracts

We have a very limited acreage of Baby Rice Pop corn contracts to write. The price is very attractive and if you have an irrigated acreage that you can use for an early cash crop we feel that a crop of popcorn will give you the best paying crop that you can plant. Come in and go over this contract with us. We should finish writing these contracts in the next week or they may be placed in another district.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover

There has been a very great demand for sweet clover seed this year and the supply is nearly exhausted. It has been very hard to locate sweet clover seed in the past ten days. As this is written we have a very small amount of yellow blossom clover seed on hand.

So far the sowing of alfalfa has been rather slow and we do have an extra large amount of local grown Dak. 12, Cossack and Grimm alfalfa seed on hand. We have some priced as low as 25c per pound; of course the best seed is higher priced. Should there develop a demand of alfalfa seed like we have had for sweet clover seed we will have just as difficult a time to take care of the orders. You can usually save money on your seed if you place your order early.

Grass Seed

It is time to get your Bromes and Crested Wheat planted. This year we have a very low price on Extra Grass, but Crested Wheat is scarce and higher priced. Our supply of Bromes is about exhausted but we still have a fairly large supply of Crested Wheat on hand. We also have in stock Blue Grama, a Buffalo Grass, Timothy, Red Top, Red Clover and Alsike Clover seed.

Seed Potatoes

A nice stock of Northern grown Seed Potatoes on hand. Early Ohio, Warbas and Cobblers. It is pretty hard to say how long this stock will last but as this is written we can take care of your needs.

Trees

A shipment of Chinese Elm, American Elm, Mulberry Seedlings arrived this week. We also have Cherry, Apple, and shade trees in stock. This should be a good Spring to set out some trees.

Chicks

This week we have about three hundred Austral White started chicks on hand. We can get other breeds of chicks on short notice. There are limited numbers of Hy-Line chicks available but they should be ordered a few weeks in advance. Our Hy-Line Hattie has missed only 12 days since Jan. 21st. This is a remarkable record, but the Hy-Lines are all making those kind of records. Come in and ask about the Hy-Lines.

Artist's Drawing of the Proposed Legion Building

On March 1, Governor Val Peterson, in an official proclamation, urged every citizen of the state to give full support to the campaign. At that time, Legion spokesman pointed out that the drive is particularly worthy, for Nebraska citizens are being asked to donate to a cause from which they will directly benefit.

E. P. Barnes of Omaha, State Commander of The American Legion, emphasized that the civic campaign for the Youth Memorial Building is to be "by Nebraskans, for Nebraskans — an investment which will result in a badly-needed building constructed on state property, for all of our Nebraska youth."

As constructed, the building will be a living "memorial" to the men and women from Nebraska who served in World War II.

"In broader terms, however, the building will also be a memorial to our faith in the youth of today, and the youth of tomorrow who will use the building through the years", Chairman Coffee said.

Such groups as the Flying Farmers, Feeders' Day gatherings, agricultural extension groups and short course attendants will also utilize the building.

Harry B. Coffee of Omaha, chairman of the sponsoring committee, recently said funds for the building will be solicited from the entire Nebraska population to use in promoting all statewide youth and agriculture programs.

W. W. Burr, beloved Dean of the College of Agriculture, described the proposed building as "the answer to a long-hoped-for need, as well as an investment in Nebraska's two fundamental resources — youth and agriculture."

American Legion Starts $250,000 Building Drive

Will Erect Huge Structure at NU Ag Campus to House Youth Activities.

American Legion sponsored efforts to raise at least $250,000 for a Nebraska Youth Memorial building took concrete form recently with the release of an architect's conception of the proposed structure, which is to be located on the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus.

The building will serve as headquarters for the thousands of boys and girls from outside who convene at various times during the year for youth programs at the state university. Tentative plans call for accommodations to simultaneously feed and house 400 youngsters, both boys and girls.

In addition to the 4-H Club groups and the Cornhusker Boys and Girls' States, the building will house high school students from all over Nebraska who journey to the state university for musical festivals, basketball tournaments and other similar activities. Pupils of Fort Hartsuff school have begun practicing running and jumping for the field meet.

REPUBLICAN FOR GOVERNOR

SOUND-PROGRESSIVE Leadership

A Beer License is Good for Only One Year

A license to sell beer in Nebraska is extended to applicants as a limited privilege—not as a property right.

After one year, your elected licensing officials may refuse to grant a renewal of the license if there is cause.

The purpose of this one-year limitation is to provide powerful incentive for the beer retailer to operate a clean, sanitary tavern... in such a temperate law-abiding manner that all the community will approve.

It is the first purpose of the Nebraska Committee to educate and encourage licensees to be fully worthy of their privilege.

You are urged to assist by reporting any violations that have been made, any conditions that should be corrected.

Make your complaint to the local governing body and the liquor control commission. Do this important civic duty now.

NEBRASKA COMMITTEE

United States Brewers Foundation

Charles E. Sandall, State Director
720 First Nat'l Bank Bldg., Lincoln

Senator Hugh Butler Says:

"TAFT IS SAFE SOUND, UNHYSTERICAL... Head and Shoulders Above All Others!"

United States Senate
WASHINGTON, D. C.
March 25, 1918

Dear Fellow-Nebraskan:

Many fine Republicans are mentioned as Presidential candidates. I know them all personally, and I make this flat statement: BOB TAFT STANDS HEAD AND SHOULDERS ABOVE ALL OTHERS!

He leads them all in those qualities which make great leaders and great statesmen.

Since his level-headed reply to President Truman that our national security rests in an overwhelming, up-to-date Air Force, and not on an outmoded swarm of conscripted foot soldiers, some of you have asked me if Taft is a "me-too" Republican, fishing with Truman for trouble in foreign waters.

Some candidates are. Bob Taft is not!

Bob Taft repeats Teddy Roosevelt's calm counsel — "Speak softly, and carry a big stick." Mr. Truman and some other candidates seem to say — "Speak big, and carry an unwieldy stick."

Bob Taft, in my sincerest opinion, is the one man on the national and international scene who is safe, sound and unhysterical in these uneasy times. He has repeatedly stated that he wants our nation armed effectively and immediately for absolute defense and for rapid counter-attack. That kind of armament is, obviously, the Air Force.

I thank you voters for assigning me the responsibility of representing our great State in the U. S. Senate. I frankly feel that I would be shirking my duty to you, if I did not urgently ask you to VOTE FOR ROBERT A. TAFT on April 13th.

He is the one far-seeing and unruffled leader who can guide us safely through whatever lies ahead!

Sincerely yours,
Hugh Butler
United States Senator.

PROVEN RECORD
TRAINED

NEBRASKANS you now have the opportunity to choose for your Railway Commissioner a man who not only has been thoroughly trained for the job but who has a wonderful record from one full term that proves through his loyal service his worthiness and understanding of our problems in Nebraska today.

IMPORTANCE OF THE JOB!

The Nebraska Railway Commission makes many important decisions concerning farm, rural and metropolitan problems. For example—the position taken by Richard H. Larson in representing the interests of Nebraskans before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the fresh meat rate case resulted in tremendous benefits to Nebraska's economy. The great reduction in rates not only means greater savings annually in freight charges, but also means more industry and more payrolls. We all are directly benefited by his actions.

Obituary

Odella Dietrich McLain
Odella Dietrich McLain, daughter of Julius and Anna Dietrich, was born at Hallam, Nebr., on October 31, 1884, and passed away on March 28, 1948, at the age of 63 years, 4 months and 28 days.

The surviving members of the family are her husband, Albert McLain, four children, Lloyd, York, Kenneth, Roy and Maxine, and two grandchildren, she is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Rhylene Christensen, Salem, Ore., Mrs. Henry Benn, Ord, Nebr., Mrs. Lloyd Mathewson and Mrs. Glen Frude of Lincoln and one brother, Arthur Albers of Branson, Mo.

Out of Old Nebraska
by James C. Olson, Supt.

Eighty-one years ago, when Nebraska was admitted to the Union, the future capital city of the state was nothing more than a tiny cluster of unkempt buildings huddled on the banks of a little stream known as Salt Creek.

This future capital city had been established a number of years earlier by men who had dreams of building a vast industrial empire out of the salt deposits to be found in the basin.

Then, in 1867, the year Nebraska became a state, an event occurred which changed the destiny of this little village on Salt Creek.

Early in September the new city was platted, and lots were offered for sale, with prices ranging from $15 to $150.

During 1867, business men were not particularly enthusiastic about investing in the new capital city. They were afraid the legislature might change its mind and select another site.

By 1870, a railroad had reached town, and the population had increased to 2,500.

By 1870, a railroad had reached town, and the population had increased to 2,500. The sale of city lots increased, and a penitentiary and asylum were erected.

MRS. ETHEL HAMER
Quiz Representative
North Loup

J. B. INGRAHAM

Funeral services for J. D. Ingraham, 78, were held Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church in North Loup, with Rev. Samuel Mitchell bringing the message. Mrs. Fred Bartz and Mrs. Harold Hoppner sang and Mrs. Glen Johnson was at the piano. The many beautiful flowers were looked after by Mrs. Chas. Fuller, Mrs. Chas. Cress and Mrs. Art Willoughby. Pallbearers were from the Modern Woodman lodge and were I. L. Sheldon, V. W. Robbins, D. L. Crandall, Frank Johnson, Roy Cox and Russell Barber. Ashley and Miller of Scotia were the undertakers in charge of arrangements.

John David Ingraham, the son of Norman and Margaret Herbert Ingraham, was born May 5, 1869, in Alpha, Mo. He passed away Monday, March 29, 1948, at the age of 78 years, 10 months and 7 days.

On October 25, 1889, he was married to Eliza C. Nicholas and the next day they left for Nebraska, traveling overland. Three weeks later they reached Loup City, where an uncle of Mr. Ingraham lived. In the spring the young couple went to farming for themselves on Oak Creek. They lived on farms near Loup City, also on Davis Creek, finally settling in the Union Ridge neighborhood. Here they lived and raised their family till 1918, they moved to their present home in North Loup, where Mr. Ingraham passed away.

To Mr. and Mrs. Ingraham were born five children, all of whom were present for their father's funeral. They are: John, of North Loup; Mrs. Clyde Naeve, Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Junie Faith, Maud, Tex.; Mrs. Ivy Spurling, Burwell, Nebr.; and Mrs. Arietta Harris, Highland Park, Ill.

It was Mr. Ingraham's greatest joy to have his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, with him and on Easter Sunday, the day before his death, a family gathering was held at his home.

Mr. Ingraham believed in helping others, and his belief was "Doing Unto Others as he would have others do to him." He was always a loving father and husband. He was a farmer all his life and was known as a good farmer. On October 20, 1899, Mr. and Mrs. Ingraham celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and they have had eight celebrations since, having been married 58 years last October. He is survived by his widow, five children, 18 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

In North Loup for Mr. Ingraham's funeral from out of town were Mrs. Oyce Naeve, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Naeve, Bradford, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Naeve and daughter, Kewanee, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harris and daughter, Carolyn, Highland Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Faith, Maud, Tex.; Harley Ingraham, Blue Rapids, Kas.; Jim Ingraham, Marysville, Kas.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spurling and family, Burwell, Nebr.; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Copeland, Hastings, Neb.; Miss Loretta Spurling, Omaha, Nebr.; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martin, Burwell; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spurling, Wolbach; Mr. and Mrs. Knute Peterson, Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rich, Scotia.

The Junior Fortnightly club held a progressive party Thursday evening, meeting first at the home of Mrs. Paul Madsen where they had cocktails. They then went to the home of Mrs. Ronald Cress for their salad and sandwiches and finished their lunch at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Willoughby where dessert was served. The Easter hats which were made at the last meeting were worn and judged. Mrs. Otto Bartz acting as judge and Mrs. Carroll Thomas won first prize. Mrs. Myrna Waller was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Wester Naeve of Bradford, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Naeve and daughter of Kewanee, Ill., who had been called here by the death of J. D. Ingraham left Friday for their homes. Mrs. Oyce Naeve and Mrs. Floyd Harris and Carolyn will stay for a few weeks with their mother.

Senior high school play, "Miss Adventure", presented Tuesday evening, March 30, a farce comedy in three acts, was full of laughs and thrills from the time the first curtain rose till the final curtain was drawn. Setting of the first act was Josephine Carter's (Jacky Burrows) room, in Miss Prim's school for girls, where Josephine, and three other college girls, Sue, Betty and Peggy, Coring Meyers, Joan Stine and Loretta Brown, rebelled against the rules of the school. Josephine decided to run away and dressed as a boy, went to the model farm of Albert Brown, to look for work. Albert Brown was Myles Nelson; Sarah Ann Haskins, Mr. Brown's housekeeper, was Ellora Cook, and Rebecca Haskins, her daughter was Delores Williams. Josephine's mother, Mrs. John Tyle Carter, was Wilma Smith and Joyce DeNoyer took the part of Miss Prim, head of the boarding school. Chas. Ecco played two parts, the janitor of Miss Prim's school, and Cyrus, a bit of rural romance, and gave an excellent interpretation of both characters. A large crowd was present for the play and gave close attention to the entire performance. Admission musical numbers included solos by Jerold Manchester, Russell Kerr, Ronald Goodrich and Alice Meyers. Principal Richard Babcock, who coached the play, was presented with an album of records.

Wednesday the senior class with Superintendent Friesen, had their annual "Sneak Day" and went to Omaha for the day. Mr. Friesen and Myles Nelson drove cars. They visited Boys Town, Joslyn Memorial, the packing house, and other points of interest and arrived home in the wee small hours of the morning.

Friday about fifty North Loup students went to Arcadia for the music festival. In the morning the girls triple trio, the boys octette and the solos were on the program and in the afternoon the girls' chorus and the boys' chorus, "The Builder" and the girls' chorus with "Gay Fiesta" were chosen to be on the evening program. Directed by Richard O. Babcock, all events made a splendid showing and the students were pleased with the money shown them by the Arcadia people. Those taking carloads over were Roy Cox, Mrs. Cecil Knapp, Mrs. Ross Williams, Gordon Stillman, Cliff Goodrich, Bill Vodehnal, Miss Minnie Jensen, Miss Edith Stephen, and Mr. Babcock. The evening and brought home some of the students. April 16 and 17, the music department will take part in the district festival at Grand Island. Thursday evening this week, Mr. Babcock is presenting a musical program at the community building with the band, grade school and high school participating.

Mr. Babcock will appreciate knowing of anyone willing to take a load to Grand Island April 16-17. Mrs. John Hamer came home from the Clinic hospital Friday afternoon and is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Otto. The tiny baby, Gregory Lynn, will have to remain in the hospital where he is in the incubator for a while. The little fellow has gained four ounces to add to his 1 1/2 pounds. Warren Brannon are parents of a son, Larry Gene, born March 31, in the Lincoln General Hospital at Lincoln. He weighed 8 lbs. 3/4 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Swenson were down Wednesday with Ruth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Fortis celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday with a family gathering held at their home near Scotia. A large wedding cake and a bouquet of flowers were the centerpiece on the table. Present were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fortis, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Klingensmith, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fortis and Shirley of Loup City, Mr. and Mrs. George Gans and family of Dannebrog, Mr. and Mrs. Marius Kyles of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Max Klingensmith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Jensen and twins, Mrs. Orville Fortis and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klinger and daughter.

Lt. General James Stovall and his wife spent the Easter week end with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Hills Coleman. They had only just returned from Tokio, where they had spent two years. They had left their son in Little Rock, Ark., with Mrs. Stovall's sister that he might attend school and they were taking a sixty day furlough, going from here to Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Gulf of Mexico. After the sixty day furlough is over they will be stationed at Claudville, N. C. Lt. Gen. Stovall, known to North Loup people as "Jimmie" grew up here and lived for a number of years with Mr. and Mrs. Adams. He has been in the army since 1933 and plans to continue in the service till he is ready to retire.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman and Janet and Jill were over from Shelby Sunday afternoon. A family gathering of the John Palser family was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Palser north of Scotia. Of the ten children of Mr. and Mrs. John Palser, seven were present. They were Mr. and Mrs. John Palser, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Palser and children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palser and son, Mrs. Stella Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rowe and family of Hastings.

We can still fix you up with 400 acres of pasture for this season not far out and not in the sandhills, good road to it, and where you can see your cattle by short drive and on good roads. Some nice small irrigated places. A few houses show you. We have a full section, on good road, on Davis Creek. Improvements and 480 acres pasture, good fences, two wells, 40 acres wheat, possession now. This is good hard dirt, and not far out.

Neils Baker Dies Early Monday Morning

Neils Baker, 75, passed away early Monday morning at his home in North Loup. Mr. Baker, who has been serving as night watchman, had gone off duty at five o'clock and gone home. Mrs. Baker had given him a lunch and he went to lie down. She heard a slight noise and when she spoke to him he did not answer and investigating she found him dead. Surviving Mr. Baker beside his widow are one son, Clyde of Ord, and three daughters, Mrs. Roger Benson of Sumner, Mrs. Sylvia Bartlett of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Mary Fisher, who is at present staying at the home of her parents. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church in North Loup at 2:00 p.m.

A roller skating rink for North Loup young people seems a certainty in the near future. Committee members have been appointed from the Lions club, the churches and the school, and as soon as a railing to protect the wall can be made and skates obtained, the young people will have a place to skate.

Mr. Bert Cox has spent the past two weeks in Hastings where her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Kissingner has been very ill. Sharon Eberhart has been sick with kidney infection and has been out of school for two weeks but was able to go back Monday. Saturday she went to Scotia and had some teeth extracted. Otto Bartz was at his cabin at Ericson from Thursday until Sunday.

Carolyn Brown and two girl friends came up from Omaha Wednesday and spent part of the day with the Alby Brown family. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sims were in Taylor Sunday to attend the funeral of an uncle of Mrs. Sims. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sims went to the Harold Swanson home near Greely Sunday to help celebrate Dennis Swanson's third birthday.

A new oil burning boiler has been installed at the cheese factory the past week. The boiler, a Scotch Marine type, has a supply tank with a two thousand gallon capacity. The old boiler has been connected to be used as a standby for coal burning, in case oil supply should fail. John Hamer and Charlie Garowski did the work and built on a small addition and a steel shed for the oil boiler.

Ben Hackett of Lincoln was an overnight guest Friday of the Harry Meyers family. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps and two daughters of Loup City spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Bob DeNoyer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boomer and Mrs. Otto Bartz spent Sunday at Albion. For Sale - Small quantity of Jersey cream. Mrs. Lulu Manchester, Phone 17. 2-2c

Richard Johnson of Norfolk called Friday afternoon at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Knapp. The Bud Knapp family took Mrs. Lizzie Knapp, Mrs. Maxine Scott and Jerrold for a ride along the river Sunday afternoon. This was Mrs. Knapp's first trip away from home in many weeks. In the evening, the Cecil Knapp family were guests of Mrs. Knapp.

Hugh Carson will appreciate your support in the primary election, April 13. Let's protect our water rights. 50-5c Mrs. Harry Waller and George and Mrs. Joe Kreckel spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Myrna Waller. Mrs. Fanny Sample and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Annays and daughter had dinner with the Walter Thorgate family Sunday. Dorothy Thorgate's birthday was celebrated.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klippel of Meadville, Pa., were Thursday and Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Carter and three children and Gilbert Meyers drove to Plainview Saturday night and the men went on to Cherokee, Ia., where Mrs. Gilbert Meyers is in the hospital with a new son, born March 31. He weighed 10 lbs., 6 ozs. and has been named Leland Neal. Mrs. Meyers has been at Washta, Ia., with her parents.

Fred Craft was taken to the hospital in Loup City Friday where he submitted to an appendectomy. Mrs. W. H. Cook is in the Lutheran hospital in Grand Island where she submitted to a major operation on Friday.

Mrs. Ray Hill went to Grand Island on the Saturday morning bus and returned in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Schroeder and Larry King of Grand Island were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Laikin. Mr. and Mrs. Comfort Cummins and children, Mrs. Murray Cornell and Mary Ann King spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Wayne King family at Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rowe and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Palser from Friday to Sunday.

Eva Palser came home from Lincoln on the Saturday night bus and returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Greenland and three children and Mrs. Elbert Sell and two children of Arcadia were Sunday afternoon and evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and the Wayne Sheldon family. They all had supper at the Sheldon home.

Albert McLain of York spent a short time Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tolen and son and Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Tolen spent Sunday at Pleasanton with Mrs. Grace Brink. The Young Ladies club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Myra Barber.

North Loup Lions Club Meets
The North Loup Lions club held their regular meeting at the Portis Cafe Thursday evening, April 1. It was a fine meeting. The regular Tail Twister being out of town, Cliff Goodrich acted as Tail Twister. Ronald Cress delighted members with a vivid account of his recent trip to California. The club heard the report of the committee on Weed Eradication, and will sponsor the public meeting which is planned for the near future. The Mira Valley creek committee reported that there will be machinery in the vicinity soon that can be hired to remove all the tree stumps and tree logs that now obstruct the channel.

A meeting was suggested for Wednesday night of all owners of property that will be affected by the overflow of the creek. This meeting is sponsored by the Lions club. The club made a donation to the Salvation Army funds, of which Mills Hill is the chairman. Reports were given of the zone meeting which was held last Wednesday, March 31, at Grand Island. The president, Sam Mitchell, secretary-treasurer, Cliff Goodrich, program chairman, John Ward, and Art Willoughby were in attendance. All reports a fine meeting. Club were represented from Wood River, Kearney, Hastings, North Loup, Kenesaw and Grand Island.

The Methodist church District meeting of the Hastings District will be held at Fairmont, Wednesday, April 7, 1948. Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Mitchell will attend. Mrs. W. O. Zangger and Mrs. Will Bartz will also attend the meeting. The North Loup Valley Ministerial Association will be held at Loup City, Monday, April 12th at 10:30 a.m. Rev. A. C. Ehret will lead the devotions. The ministers' wives will have a discussion on the "Place of Women in The Church". Lunch will be arranged for.

Income Requirements For Your Telephone Company

NOT HIGH

Your telephone company is not asking that its income be high but only that it be sufficient to restore the proper relationship between income and expenses.

The owners of every legitimate business are entitled to a fair return from their investment.

An enterprise cannot expand and meet an increasing public demand for goods or services unless the return to the owners is adequate.

A fair, reasonable and regular return for owners is necessary. When owners do not get a fair return on their investment they will not provide additional funds for expansion and improvements.

A successful business produces goods and services for its customers that they need and want, at a price they consider fair and are able to pay, good wages and working conditions for its employees, a fair return to its owners and an adequate surplus for rainy days.

The value of telephone service is greater than the cost.

Re-election of State Senator John F. Doyle

Is of vital importance to the people of the 29th Legislative District and to the people of the entire state because of his knowledge of the state highway system and of what is needed to give the people of Nebraska better roads.

He is Chairman of the Legislative Council Subcommittee on Roads and a member of the governor's Highway Advisory Committee, the only man in the state to hold membership on both committees.

As Chairman of the Legislative Council Subcommittee on Roads he has held meetings in nearly every section of the state. Hundreds of persons have appeared at these meetings to tell him what they desire in the way of highway improvements in their districts.

He is, therefore, in a position to give the next session of the legislature first hand, direct and valuable information about the road situation throughout the state as well as in his own district.

But in order to do this effectively HE MUST BE RE-ELECTED to the 1949 legislative session. Otherwise his wide experience and knowledge will be lost to a great extent.

Senator Doyle is especially interested in the improvement of the rural highways of the state. The information he has gathered at the good roads hearings will enable him to do more for highway improvement in the next legislative session than any other man who could be elected.

Senator Doyle's legislative record, aside from his deep interest in good roads, entitles him to re-election. He is too valuable a legislator not to be returned to the state senate this year.

Fund Drive for Cancer Research Starts April 19th

Valley County Goal Is $500. Mrs. Ella Weckbach Is County Chairman.

The cancer drive will start on April 19 in Valley county with a $500 goal. Ella Weckbach, county chairman, knows that people here have contributed to a continual run of drives the past few months but wants to stress the fact that where the average in all other states is one cancer case for every eight people, in Nebraska the average is one death to every seven people. Those figures show the need for more attention paid to cancer in this territory.

The Auxiliary of the V. F. W. will handle the drive in Ord.

In Arcadia the American Legion Auxiliary will handle the drive under the direction of Mrs. Leona Rounds.

The North Loup American Legion Auxiliary will conduct the drive in their town. Mrs. Derwin White, president of the organization, has charge.

No definite plan of canvassing the rural areas has been made and it would be appreciated if the teacher or someone in each district would take the time to raise money for the research and free tumor clinics. The money should be deposited at the First National Bank to the cancer fund.

In Ord seventeen members of the Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will canvass the residential district.

Bright-Eyed Child Deserves 'Gold Star'

Last Wednesday afternoon Archie Bradt took his little granddaughter Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John LaCorru, to Hardbrook Dam, where he serves as dam tender. Enroute home they drove past the Covey rendering plant and bright-eyed Diane said that the roof was afire and told her grandfather, who reported the fire. The Ord fire department came promptly and extinguished the blaze, limiting damage to a 3-foot hole in the roof.

Psota Gets $280 Average on Bulls

Top bull in the Rudolph Psota sale of polled and horned Herefords held recently brought $600, and the top four bulls averaged $529 and all the polled bulls in the sale brought an average of $290.00, including the calves. Mr. Psota was well pleased with results of the sale, especially since all the animals were sold within a 60 mile range of Ord. Sixteen towns were represented among the buyers. He sold 43 head of animals, average on all being $215.00.

Rural Field Day at Kruml Farm Set for April 27

Demonstration on Weed Control, Contour Farming to Be Given; Speakers Coming.

The Vencel Kruml farm, 4 1/2 miles northwest of Elyria, will be the scene of a rural field day and farm demonstration, scheduled for Tuesday, April 27.

The program of the day will include identification of grasses and weeds, talks and methods of weed eradication, identification of soils and points on soil erosion. The planning of a diversion in a pasture to prevent damage to an irrigation system by runoff water will be demonstrated. As an additional feature a dam site will be selected on location and the plans for a field waterway will be discussed.

Speakers from the soil conservation service and the University of Nebraska college of agriculture will be here to explain new developments in farm practices.

The event is sponsored jointly by the soil conservation district, the weed control district and the Ord Chamber of Commerce. Activities will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will continue through the afternoon. A lunch wagon will be on the grounds, and the chamber plans to serve free coffee.

FINDS BREAK EGG

Raymond Klimek brought a freak egg to the Quiz Monday which measured 3 3/4 inches long by 1 3/4 inches in diameter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klimek, 419 North 21st Street.

Farmers Invited To Dairy Meeting

Farmers and the public generally will be welcomed at a dairy meeting being held Thursday, April 15 at 8:00 p. m. at the Ord high school auditorium under the joint sponsorship of the Ord Co-operative creamery and the farm veterans' class, of which Ed Jensen is instructor.

Ord Band Takes Part in Parade at Holdrege 20th

21 High School Groups in the Festivities; Navy Band to Play Two Concerts.

The Ord High School band will be among the twenty-one high school bands that will participate in the parade in Holdrege, preceding the afternoon concert of the United States Navy Band on Tuesday, April 20.

The Ord band members will be seated in a special section for uniformed bandmen during the afternoon concert.

In each of the fifty cities on the itinerary for the Navy Band's 1948 tour, the band will play two concerts—one in the afternoon, designed primarily for the youth of America, and one in the evening for the music lovers of all ages.

The question has been asked whether it is possible for people other than the band members to attend the afternoon concert. The Holdrege Chamber of Commerce has stated that afternoon tickets will be available as long as they last, but that a capacity audience is expected and tickets should be ordered in advance.

Mail orders can be addressed to the Holdrege Chamber of Commerce. The price of admission for the afternoon for children is 50c including tax, and $1.50 including tax for adults. Band members are admitted free.

25 Miles of Gravel Roads to Be Built

County Will Also Spread 21 Miles Maintenance Gravel; Build Several Bridges.

About 25 miles of new gravel road will be built in Valley county this year, according to plans of county highway commissioner Tracy Hamilton, which were approved by the county board last week.

"The total amount will depend upon the cost of the gravel, and the amount of grading that will have to be done," Hamilton stated. "We're going to put in just as much road as we can."

In addition to new road, the county will regavel 21 miles in the county. At least three new bridges will be built and a large number of culverts installed.

Hamilton told the Quiz that definite allocation of the gravel was still undecided but the county board of supervisors would probably spread the new roads throughout the county.

Of the total construction, five miles of the new road will be strictly city roads. Eighteen to 20 miles will be rural, mail route gravel, and will be divided among the eight rural routes of the county, from 2 to 2 1/2 miles on each route.

Scheduled for hearing and decision at the next meeting of the county board will be the proposed new road near the Augustus farm to bypass Smith's creek. Objections have been filed against the road, and the proposal has been dormant since February.

Reckless Driving Charges Pending

County Attorney Ralph Norman told the Quiz this morning that hearing on the charge of reckless driving against Delbert Benson, following last week's auto-transportation north of Elyria will not be held for several days.

Norman said that he will wait until he has a definite report of the recovery of Madeline Ashley, Taylor, who was seriously injured in the crash.

Propositions for the sale of Sunday beer in Loup City and the issuance of $18,000 in bonds to complete the Sherman county seat's athletic field were turned down heavily in the city's election Tuesday. Beer was defeated 391 to 212 and the athletic field bonds beat 362 to 256.

Mayor I. A. Gdanitz, after more than a decade in office, was defeated by A. L. Brown 307 to 293. Two councilmen were also denied re-election.

Auble Named Head of State Watch Makers

A. J. Auble of Ord was elected president of the Nebraska State Horological association at the annual convention of the group held in Lincoln this week in conjunction with the Nebraska Retail Jewelers' association.

Decision Soon on Rate Boost Asked by Telephone Co.

Railway Commission Will Rule on Nebr. Continental's Request for Increases.

The Nebraska railway commission is expected to make a ruling soon on an application by the Nebraska Continental Telephone company for rate increases in all its exchanges, including the one in Ord. Amount of the increases depends on a rate increase which the commission on basis of evidence submitted by the company, which contends that although revenues have increased 79% since 1940, expenses have gone up 94%.

The commission now is studying briefs submitted by the company in support of its request and no doubt an open hearing will be announced soon at which opponents of a rate increase will have an opportunity to object.

Nebraska Continental officials claim that their payroll has gone up almost 250% since 1940, the 1947 payroll being equivalent to all the money taken in during 1940. Today 50 cents out of every dollar of income goes for wages, says the company.

Equipment costs have risen from 28 per cent to as much as 65 per cent, the company claims, and vast amounts of new equipment have been bought to replace equipment which deteriorated during the war when none could be bought. Extensive additions to the Ord system have been made and more are planned, say company officials.

L. M. Johnson, district manager, visited Ord last week and in regard to the rate increase stated that the railway commission will be the final arbiter in deciding what, if any increase, is granted the company on any exchange. "We ask only that earnings be adequate to restore the proper relationship between income and expenses, to permit us to expand and improve our service to meet the public's needs," he said.

Ord Victorious Over Raiders in Dual Meet Tues.

Thode, Loup City Ace, Cops 4 Firsts but Ord Team Better at Scoring Points.

By a score of 103 1/2 to 78 1/2 the Ord track team defeated the Red Raiders of Loup City in a dual meet held Tuesday on the Ord athletic field.

Best mark of the day was a 20 foot 10 1/2 inch broad jump made by Thode, Loup City ace, who also won the hundred yard dash in 10.9, the 410 in 57.4 and the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 6 inches.

Jay Stoddard was Ord's best scorer, taking the 60 yard high hurdles in 8 1/2 and the 100 yard low hurdles in 12.4 and also taking points in the 100 yard dash and the broad jump.

Several young Chants came through with first places, Moore capturing the 220 dash, Larsen the 880 run and Valasek winning the pole vault. Stewart and Blessing finished 1-2 in the discus throw.

Among other Ord boys who scored for the Chants were Paul Stoddard, Collins, Cochran, Anderson, John, Tolen, Ragland, Clement, Dworak, Falter, Misko and Severns.

The relay team easily out-raced its Loup City rival. The meet was supposed to be a triangular affair but Ravenna notified Ord school authorities early in the day that their team would not be able to compete.

TO CONFERENCE

Rev. and Mrs. L. V. Hassell, Mrs. Elmer Elomki, Mrs. Glenn Auble and Mrs. Guy Mulligan attended the Hastings district conference. William C. Martin was present and gave the principal address of the day. Dr. Pearl Folsch returned missionary from China, spoke in the afternoon. Mrs. Zionke was on the program in the forenoon.

Bethel Baptist Church Buys A. W. Piercé Property; to Build Basement Church Soon

The Bethel Baptist church of Ord, established here a year ago as a mission, and organized as a congregation last October, will soon have a home of its own.

This week the congregation completed the purchase of the A. W. Piercé residence and an adjoining vacant lot on 21st and K streets in Ord, where they plan to erect a new church in the very near future. The church has been meeting in the American Legion hall throughout the winter.

The congregation will also have a new pastor, Rev. Eugene Olson, presently pastor of the Baptist church at Weston. He will move here with his family about June 1st, and will live in the former Piercé residence.

Rev. David Hammar, who has guided the church through its infant steps, will also remain in Ord. Mr. Hammar, who is Field Missionary for the Platte Valley Baptist Conference, will now devote his full attention to other areas in the state.

"However, we like it here in Ord," he said, "and I can live anywhere in my district which takes in part of Nebraska and Colorado. So, we plan on living here just as long as we can."

Bayard Paine, Jr., Rotary Speaker

Judge Bayard H. Paine Jr., was principal speaker at a dinner held by the Ord Rotary club, honoring their wives, Monday evening at the high school auditorium. The dinner was prepared by women of Bethany Lutheran church and served by girls of the home economics department of the high school.

Musicians included two numbers by a high school madrigal group and a number by a brass sextet, both introduced by Wm. Nelson, their instructor, and both greatly enjoyed by the group.

President Ed F. Beranek presided and the speaker was introduced by Clarence M. Davis. Judge Paine's talk dealt with the possibility of preserving world peace and he concluded that Rotary International with its 310,000 members belonging to over 6,000 clubs in more than 80 different countries is a potent force for the preservation of peace.

150 Bankers Will Come Here April 21st for Meeting

Special Train Bearing Eastern Representatives to Bring Over 50 to Ord.

With fifty representatives of Omaha, Chicago, Kansas City and other eastern banking houses coming by special train, more than 150 bankers from this section of Nebraska are expected here for a Group 5 bankers' meeting on Wednesday, April 21.

The group will hold their morning and afternoon meetings at the Masonic Hall at which Delos L. Jeanes, manager of the agricultural department of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and Charles Z. Meyer, comptroller of the First National Bank of Chicago, will be the main speakers.

The group will then adjourn to the Veterans' Club where they will meet with the Board of the First National Bank of Ord and the Nebraska State Bank of Ord at a social hour.

At the following banquet, also to be held in the Masonic Building, William E. Johnson of Omaha, former Board of Governor of Nebraska, will give the address of the evening.

Among well known figures expected here are Chester H. Grau, loan guarantee officer of the Veterans' Administration; Leland R. Hall, state director of the U. S. Bankers' Association; the Rev. J. M. Johnson, general manager of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division Corporation, Omaha; Wade Martin, vice president of the Livestock National Bank of Omaha; J. O. Beck, president of the Nebraska Bankers' Association; and the Central National Bank, Columbus; and Carl G. Swanson, secretary of the Nebraska Bankers Association.

Rural Track Meet Here April 26th

The annual rural track meet for Valley county, sponsored by the Ord Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the county superintendent, and Ord high school, will be held at the Ord athletic field on the afternoon of Monday, April 26. The event follows the VFW county-wide marble tournament to be held the same morning.

The track meet is open to all pupils of all Valley county rural schools. The school victor of the track events planned by Alex Cochran and Dick Peterson, and coaches, will receive the traveling plaque given by the Chamber of Commerce, District No. 36, Davis Creek, was last year's winner.

Events planned for the meet include the high jump, broad jump, 60 yard dash, 100 yard dash, and 440 relay. Pupils of all grades are eligible to compete in the different events against children of their own grade level.

Melia's Entertain Mr. and Mrs. Ray Melia entertained at a party at their home Saturday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kiskis, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Slobazewski.

Home Ec Students Care for Children

The second year Home Economics students are having their "play school" this week. This year there are nine children from two to five attending and one baby 14 months old.

The children, Alvin Vasicek, Judy Parkos, Connie Beranek, Douglas Zikmund, Cynthia and Billy Nelson, Dal Melia, Betty Goff, Jean Lemmon and Jean Peterson, are brought to school in the morning and taken care of until 12:30 by students in the Home Ec department. The children have a schedule that includes indoor and outdoor play time, a music and story hour and they are fed their dinner. The first year Home Ec students observe the way the older girls take care of the children and handle the problems that arise. The children's meals are planned and prepared by the girls. After their dinner the children are returned to their mothers.

Stassen Carries County, State; Carson Leads Doyle

Carson Tops Doyle by 309 Votes to Get Senator Nod

Ord Man Gets 410 Vote Margin Here; Spits Even in Wheeler County.

Hugh Carson of Ord led a field of four aspirants seeking the nomination for unicameral legislature, by 309 votes, in unofficial returns. The Valley county man's total was 1600 for the four counties making up the 29th legislative district.

John Doyle of Greeley, incumbent, was also given a place on the ballot when he netted 1291 votes. Harold P. Conklin, St. Paul, who gave Doyle a close race two years ago, led his own county of Howard, but was able to get only a 805 total. Tracy T. Frost, St. Paul, a former member of the legislature, garnered 970 votes.

Dr. F. L. Blessing Retires from School Board After 21 Yrs

Dr. F. L. Blessing, mayor-elect of Ord, resigned from the board of education Monday night. He had been a member of the board for years, and president of the board since 1939.

"I want to be able to devote full time to the job of mayor," Dr. Blessing stated today. "It's a big job with heavy responsibility and deserves full attention."

George Gutschow Services Thursday

Retired Railroader Died S'nday Night of Heart Attack; Burial in Schuyler.

Funeral services will be held in the Hastings-Pearson chapel Thursday morning in charge of Reverend R. T. Conroy, for George Gutschow, retired railroader who had made his home in Ord the past seven years.

The body will be taken to Schuyler, where services will be held in the Bideaux chapel. Masonic rites will be conducted at the interment in the Schuyler city cemetery.

Gutschow died suddenly Sunday evening of a heart attack. He was 69 years old. He had been in apparent good health up to the time of his death.

He was born in Schuyler, Neb., December 28, 1879, the son of Henry and Mary Gutschow. He received his education in that town, and was a young boy started working with the Union Pacific railroad. He remained with the Union Pacific until his retirement seven years ago.

He is survived by three brothers and three sisters, Edward of Oakland, Calif., Arthur of Omaha and August of York; Mrs. Josephine Farlee and Mrs. Minnie Wright of San Francisco, Calif., and Mrs. Mayne Majors of Bridgeport, Neb. His parents and eight sisters and brothers preceded him in death.

Four Meetings on Weed Control to Be Held Next Week

Four Farmers to Be Chosen for Outstanding Work in Weed Free Farming.

With four meetings scheduled in the county beginning April 19, the Valley county 1948 War on Weeds program will get under way at full speed, Henry Janus, county noxious weed control chairman, announced this week.

Three moving pictures, demonstrating new developments in weed control will be shown at the meetings, Janus said. In addition, a weed identification contest will be held for school children, with suitable prizes for those correctly identifying the largest number of noxious weeds.

Selection of the outstanding farmer from each territory, from the standpoint of "weed-free" farming will be made at each meeting. These farmers will represent their districts in the county weed control contest, and if winners, in the state contests.

Janus has meetings scheduled for Elyria on April 19, North Loup on April 20, Arcadia on April 21 and Ord on April 22. Business men of Arcadia and Elyria are cooperating in staging the meetings in those towns, the Lions club of North Loup is sponsoring the affair there, and the Chamber of Commerce will handle the event in Ord.

Islander Beat Chant Tracksters

Coach Alex Cochran's Ord tracksters lost a dual meet to the Grand Island team Friday on the latter's field, score being 123 5/6 to 56 1/8. Only first place winner for Ord was Al Blessing, who tossed the discus 121 feet 8 inches. Stewart and Jensen of Ord won points in the same event.

The Islanders placed first in 12 events, the 100, 220 and 410 dashes, the 880 and mile runs, the 60 yard high and 100 yard low hurdles, the shot put, high jump, pole vault, broad jump and relay.

A high wind slowed the times made in track events and held down good performances in the field.

Ord, with a young team, made a good showing against the Islander veterans. Moore, Paul Stoddard and Collins placed in the sprints, Laursen, Valasek and Ragland in the hurdle events, Stewart and Blessing in the weight events, J. Stoddard, Anderson and Falter in the high jump, Misko and Tolen in the pole vault, Collins and Cochran in the broad jump.

Reynolds of Grand Island was high point man of the meet with 38 and Jay Stoddard topped the Chants with 44.

The meet was a splendid warm-up for the green Ord team who provided they could win points against veteran competition and they are certain to show their worth as they get more experience.

VFW to Install Officers Monday

Newly elected officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be formally installed at the next regular meeting of the post Monday night, April 19. John J. Wozab is commander of the group for 1948-1949.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

A marriage license was issued Monday to Carl B. Williams of North Loup and Vivian J. Zikmund of Ord.

Minnesotan Wins over Dewey, Taft, by Landslide Vote

Valley Co. GOP Voters Give Stassen 5 to 3 Margin; Schudel Beats Psota.

Valley county, along with the rest of Nebraska, jumped aboard the Harold E. Stassen bandwagon Tuesday and gave the former Minnesota governor an overwhelming lead in the preferential vote for republican presidential nominee.

Stassen's total in Valley county was 567 to 304 for Thomas E. Dewey, his closest rival. Robert A. Taft was a poor third with 123 and the other four candidates finished as follows: Vandenberg 51; McArthur 41; Warren 2; Martin 2. One vote was a write-in for Eisenhower.

Over the state Stassen's lead, though not as great proportionately as in Valley county, was sufficient to be considered a landslide. With about 1,300 of the state's 2,000 precincts reporting Stassen had 52,291 votes, Dewey 39,268 and Taft 13,381. Among the other four candidates Vandenberg had 5,215, McArthur 4,372, Warren 1,162 and Martin 535. Complete returns were expected to continue this ratio.

Election returns came in quickly here, with exception of Michigan township which did not report until mid-morning Wednesday and thereby slowed final tabulation of Valley county's vote by many hours and made it impossible for the Quiz to print the returns in full. Ord's 3rd ward was the last voting precinct to report, with exception of Michigan. Their report came in at 2:30 a. m. Elyria was the first outlying precinct to report, theirs being turned over to County Clerk Woods at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday. In the county clerk's office girls were still tabulating votes Wednesday afternoon.

Here and throughout the state republican votes ran about 2 to 1 over democrats, probably because there were few interesting contests on the democrat ticket.

In the race for democratic senatorial nominee Terry Carpenter was far ahead of Albin T. Anderson, university professor, and George Olson former bus boy and scened to have the nomination clinched. Frank Schudel was nominated governor by the democrats without opposition.

Something Different

Once I requested bicycle safety rules. I wanted a short list of short sentences. But the only reply I received, from Mrs. Glen Lytle, was rather long. Says she: "Our daughter Betty sent the children a safety rule book from the office in Denver where she works; that her boss had printed for all school children. These are the rules:

1. Don't ride a bike in the street
 2. Learn to keep your balance and learn to stop and turn.
 3. Obey all signs, signals and traffic rules.
 4. Don't "ride" another boy or girl on your bike. Don't ride double on anybody else's bike.
 5. Keep both hands on the handlebars. Don't carry bundles or anything in your hands.
 6. Don't be smart or take foolish chances.
 7. Ride Indian file when you ride with other boys and girls. Don't ride alongside.
 8. Before you turn or stop make sure that it is safe, and then signal with your left arm.
 9. Don't ride your bike after dark.
 10. Watch out for the mistakes of other people.
- oO-
- Thank you Mrs. Lytle. The rules are city rules, and complicated, yet they help.
- I would like a shorter set, suitable for Ord.
- Recently I was telling my small-boys to ride into the oncoming traffic, when on a highway. Like the rule for walking, you know? My brother-in-law, H. Anderson, said he believes this is wrong, and that I should have the children ride with the traffic, on the right-hand side of the road. I don't know which would be safest, do you?
- But the first balmy spring days bring forth swarms of new bike riders, learning to balance and stop, and it behooves all of us to learn the safety rules and to practice them.
- oO-
- To me the most dangerous hour for youngsters to ride is at dusk, when the sun is sinking and shadows are deceiving. All the world turns weird colors and children on bikes are sometimes more than invisible.
- When it is really dark the reflectors on a bike's rear and front fender help a lot. And also light clothing on the rider, or more of that light-reflecting paper or cloth made into an armband or something for the back of his jacket.
- I'm afraid most mothers send their young on errands, and expect package-carrying by the bicyclist. The package carriers of metal seem to go askew soon after they are hitched to the bike.
- oO-
- A friend told us an amusing and a true story, when we were in Chicago last fall. One evening we were driving down Michigan Boulevard, going to see Mary Martin in "Annie Get Your Gun." In a handsome shop window was one of the Ex-er-cycle affairs. That's a contraction for reducing. You climb on and ride a bike but it doesn't get you any place!
- In the window a beautiful dummy was perching on the seat, and the machine was pedalling away, bicycletically. I commented on it, and our friend chuckled: "Oh, yes. You know the fellow who owns that store is a friend of mine, and he tells me the model on that bike wears out the seat of a pair of slacks every week, keeping that thing pedalling."

Obituary

Ella Mae Birch, daughter of Russell and Lola Birch, was born October 1, 1917, and passed on into another life April 10, 1948, at the age of six months and nine days.

Though her life was short and shadowed by illness, she was very dear in the hearts of all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her passing, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Birch four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lester Birch; five great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Birch, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Combs and Mrs. R. S. Kinnel all of Burwell. One great great grandmother, Mrs. Jim Powell of Crab Orchard, Neb. Also many aunts, uncles, great aunts, great uncles, second cousins and a host of friends survive.

The funeral was held in the Methodist church April 12 at 2:30 p. m. with A. J. Hindman, pastor. Interment was in the Burwell cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrel Walker returned from Corpus Christi, Tex. the latter part of the week.

Mrs. J. L. Hill and daughter, Pauline, came from their home in Merna Saturday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood until Sunday. Mr. Hill returned home with them after spending the week in Burwell.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ORD

My ten year tenure as mayor of our city is drawing to a close and my successor will take office soon for which reason it seems proper that I should, at this time and in this way, extend my thanks to all of you for the wonderful cooperation you have given throughout the years I spent as your servant in community affairs. Differences of opinion arose in some campaigns but once the campaign was over harmony again prevailed and I have nothing but praise and appreciation for the splendid cooperation extended by all citizens, even those who during campaign periods worked for my opponents. If anything has been accomplished during these 10 years for the good of Ord its accomplishment was possible, not through my own efforts, but because of the cooperation of all.

I also want to thank the other city officials who served in elective offices during my several terms and all the appointive city officers and employees of the utilities, police, street, park, cemetery and other departments. All of you cooperated to the utmost for the efficient handling of city affairs and to all of you I owe a debt of gratitude which is willingly and gratefully acknowledged.

It is my hope and belief that the people of Ord including city employees will extend to the succeeding city administration the same full measure of cooperation that was accorded to my several administrations. If this is given there can be no doubt that Ord will continue to advance in a civic way.

Miss Lipe should be complimented for her fine work in training these little band members to play melodiously as well as rhythmically.

The high school people performed creditably with the pieces they will present at the music contest in O'Neill on Friday. The high school band closed the program with four numbers which demonstrated the variety of their work. It was another evening of fine entertainment presented by Burwell high school.

Numbers presented were:
Rhythm band—Miss Donna Lipe, director, "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star," "Pop Goes the Weasel" and "Listen to the Bells."

High school numbers with Darrell E. Hammond, director:
Cornet solo—Gale Demaree, "Appaloosa"—Clarke.
Tenor solo—Leslie Hald, "Pleading"—Kramer.
Saxophone solo—Robert Hallock, "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers"—Jessie.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

Signs of Spring: When discs, both tractor and horse drawn, get piled up around Paul Madson's shop so thick that the proprietor can't get in or out, but has to climb in and out the chimney like Santa Claus, then we denizens of North Loup know that spring is just around the corner. At first the discs seem to be in the majority, but later on the plow shares will be piled up all over the place, and then will come an avalanche of cultivator shovels, then binder canvas and repairs for harvesting machines. Every season has its harbingers at the blacksmith shop as well as in nature.

The second sign of spring in North Loup, and I presume, in other towns, is the work being done on the streets, mostly temporary work to make them passable until a more complete overhaul can be made. There are Chief of Police Brennick, and Charley Otto and Louie Smith, who put in some time assisting him, all working with some type of maintainer, and doing a lot of repair work in a hurry, as there was a lot of repair work needing to be done. It is a pleasure to see a man who knows his job get busy with tractor and blade on an asphalt road, and cause it to disappear as if by magic.

One of the surest signs of spring here is when Noel Loukin and Bill Earnest and Pete and Holly Drawbridge decide to go fishing, and what is more to the point, come home with some fish. These are the more venturesome of a large group of fishing addicts, including the writer and the Mrs., and they usually make the first plunge. The chances are that most of us will be at it in the next week or so. One of the blessings of living in America is that the citizens can, and will, take a little time to relax and enjoy the beauties of nature as they go along. In the older countries there is far less of nature left to enjoy, and the common people make so little that they can never have any real fun. Yes, I thank God for the privilege of living in Nebraska in the spring time.

Perhaps the earliest sign of spring here was the small army of farmers who found themselves practically marooned in so far as car travel is concerned, and who came to town almost every conceivable way. Most of them used tractors, and at one time no less than ten of these were seen parked around the business section. A number of farmers who were lucky enough to still have teams drove in with the team and wagon. Quite a few made the trip via pony express. Then there were others who walked. Some from the northeast drove their cars to the edge of town, where the highway left off and the mudhole began, and walked the rest of the way. So far, we have had no report of anybody who really suffered from the lack of groceries. However, the situation was a harbinger of spring, in that it was caused by the early spring thaws, which made so many roads impassable.

As to the original sign of spring, Cock Robin, he no longer can be depended upon. For the past thirty years or more numbers of robins have developed the habit of staying through the winter, finding shelter in the groves, along the canyons or creeks, and even in the feed lots, where they can hide in the hay on cold nights. Since these can be seen all winter long, the arrival of any from the south doesn't mean anything any more. It is possible that the robins have always followed this custom, as they are hard to distinguish in the winter because of the dullness of their plumage. Many other birds, including yellow hammers, meadow larks, blue jays and even an oc-

The most recent spring sign is people cleaning up their yards. Some start it as soon as the frost is out of the ground, and some wait a week or two, but before long everybody will be at it. After all, what is so nice as a home after a good spring cleanup. And, speaking of cleanups, there are the cleanup sales that are being held by people who are moving in the spring from here to there, or vice versa, always a sure sign of spring.

Then you drop into the drug store or wherever it is sold, and you see the ladies beginning to look over the wallpaper samples, or you may see their husbands lugging bundles of paper out to the car, that is, since the cars have been able to get into town. In other stores, sometimes in the same one, there are large and garish displays of garden seeds. If the vegetables grew to half the size and appearance they do in the illustrations, what wonderful crops we would raise? Luckily for Gus Wetzel and any other gardeners still in captivity, those pictures are largely promotional and designed, like those outside the side shops, to get the public interested. Hope springs eternal in the human breast, and spring is the proper time for hope to do most of its springing. So we look at the illustrations and, with a fond hope that we will be able to raise vegetables half as nice as the pictures show, we make the plunge and buy a dollar's worth or so. Later on, when and if the first seeds fail to grow, we will buy some more. Of all the many spring activities, I believe the growing of a garden is about the most exciting, and the least profitable.

Another sure sign of the arrival of spring which has been somewhat changed by law this year, was the annual advent of the assessor, who had a habit of dropping in at the most inopportune times and asking questions while you graded the seed corn or repaired the seeder, or plowed the garden patch or mended the harness, or, in more recent years, gave the tractor a good overhaul. That was one of the surest signs of spring, as nothing is surer than taxes, which would not be much of a success without the ubiquitous assessor, but now all is changed. Now the mountain has to come to Mohammed, or maybe, it is the other way round. The new way is easier on the assessor's legs, but harder on the seat of his pants. Somehow, the new idea does not have the appeal of the old, and lads like Roy Lewis, who tried the old way for fifteen years, including this one, liked the old way the best.

Quoting Roy Lewis, unquote, one surest signs of spring in the old days was when the kids got to playing marbles on the school grounds. Nobody seems to know just what has happened, but there is very little interest shown in the marble game now. When Roy was janitor of the North Loup schools, he knew when spring arrived by watching the actions of the small fry, who always play the game best suited to the season. Perhaps the addition of athletic sports to the school curriculum has altered the habits of the younger generation. Now, every back yard of a home where boys abound has a pair of uprights and a cross bar for jumping and for pole vaulting. Perhaps the advent of autos, with more riding and less walking, has encouraged the more strenuous exercises and perhaps the change is for the best, but those old marble games were a real source of enjoyment, as I remember them.

Out of Old Nebraska

by James C. Olson, Supt.

One of the best illustrations of the pluck and resourcefulness of the pioneers is the story of the steam wagon.

The discovery of gold in the mountains brought with it a tremendous demand for goods from the east. Prior to the coming of the railroad this demand could be satisfied only by means of heavily loaded wagons drawn slowly overland by unwilling oxen. This was not satisfactory and the people longed for a railroad. The railroad, however, was slow in coming. Then one summer morning in 1862 a solution to the problem suddenly appeared when the steamer, "West Wind" unloaded a "prairie motor" at Nebraska City. The owner, General J. R. Brown of Minnesota, claimed that it would haul 10 tons of freight across the prairie at the rate of five miles an hour.

The town of Nebraska City literally went wild with excitement. Visions of great fleets of prairie motors arriving and departing to and from Denver daily, danced alluringly before the people's eyes. The trial runs were eagerly watched. The county commissioners of Otoe county called a special election to vote bonds for the construction of a wagon road to accommodate the new giant of the prairies.

The steamer was propelled by 4 wood-burning engines whose fuel consumption was a cord of wood per hour. An engineer, fireman, and pilot were required to operate the machine. It could carry only enough fuel for a four hour run. The steam wagon was fairly successful on its trial run. It ran through a freshly plowed garden going up Kearney Heights and was almost stopped, but once through it forded Table creek and ran easily over the unbroken sod.

When the steam wagon pulled out of Nebraska City on its maiden trip to Denver it was dragging three heavy wagons each loaded with 5,000 pounds of freight.

Everything was going smoothly when a few miles out a crank shaft broke and the trip had to be abandoned. The owner had to go all the way to New York in order to get repairs.

Burwell

By Mrs. Asa Anderson sr.

Alex Chambers and Billy Wright came home Wednesday morning from Fairfield, Calif. They have been working on the construction of a veterans hospital at the camp. Alex came home to see his father who is ill and a visit at this time will cheer him up.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson drove to Omaha Thursday after a truck load of feed for the Burwell Feed & Grain Co.

A breakfast was given at the Burwell Hotel Monday morning and plans were made for a united drive for more funds for the Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wagner and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wagner and Helen.

The Fellowship of the Congregational ladies met with Mrs. Ralph Walker Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. The lesson on Japan was given by Mrs. Frank Wagner and a number of Japanese articles were exhibited. The flower and seed exchange was enjoyed by the members. The lunch was served by Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Carl Wilson and Mrs. N. G. Sheffer.

Dr. Cram is very ill at his home with a severe cold. Everyone wishes him a speedy recovery.

Several relatives and friends came to help Mrs. Asa Anderson sr. celebrate her birthday Thursday afternoon. Those present were Mrs. Henry Marks, Mrs. K. C. McGrew, Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mrs. Asa Anderson jr., Margaret and Lynn, from Ord, Mrs. Will Hemmett, David and Donald Anderson jr., Mrs. Mattie Pickle, Mrs. Clifford Anderson, Mrs. Belle Fogle, Mrs. Floyd Anderson and Bonnie Mae and Mrs. John Anderson. The afternoon of visiting was enjoyed and a delicious lunch, with a birthday cake baked by Mrs. McGrew was served. The gifts were opened and admired, especially by the youngsters. The guests returned to their home around the supper hour and everyone wished Mrs. Anderson many more happy birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hawthorne entertained their Pinochle club in their lovely, new home Thursday evening. Mrs. Mike Shonka and Asa Anderson sr. were high score winners. Mrs. Fay Livermore, and Mike Shonka won the low prizes. A delicious lunch was served at a late hour and before the guests returned to their homes they signed their names and wrote some little wish in the guest book for the happiness of the host and hostess in their new home.

Mrs. Lena Ehlers is ill with an infection in her leg at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Rogers. Two other daughters, Mrs. Ted Schroeder and Mrs. Harry Schroeder of Grand Island came to visit with her Sunday.

Mrs. H. H. Franssen of Burwell and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Franssen of Scotta attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rork of Grand Island, Sunday. Mrs. Rork is the daughter and sister of the Franssens.

The library board members met in the library basement Thursday evening. Mrs. Bernice Torrance of Iosco Park, N. J. was a visitor.

The W.S.C.S. met in the church basement Thursday, April 8th with the president, Mrs. Lyle Alloway presiding. Mrs. Bessall acted as secretary, and in the absence of the spiritual leader, Mrs. Art Rouse gave the lesson, "The Whole Creation Is Our Lord's".

The missionary reading, "The Earth and Her Deceases" was also given by Mrs. Rouse. Lenten offering was taken and two new members, Mrs. Edgill and Mrs. Ellison joined the society. Seventeen members answered roll call and forty-five calls were made during the past month. Penny drill was 67c. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Julius Johnson and Mrs. Ella Harlan.

Ralph Walker is now driving a new Jeep.

Robbie Mallagh was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Art Rouse Thursday, and Ernie Rouse was a caller during the evening.

T. O. Kellogg is slowly recovering from his recent illness of several weeks duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lowery spent several days at their old home place, this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Franssen and children of Scotta were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shonka and Ronny.

District 54

C. C. Thompson and F. L. Stoddard visited our school last Thursday and showed us two interesting films. An educational film, entitled "Bananas" was greatly appreciated by the geography classes. The second film, which is always popular with the little people was an amusing "Circus". Judging from the loud cheers and the excitement in the room this film was greatly enjoyed.

A field trip was taken last week by the science classes to watch the planting of a 45-acre tract of potatoes, on the George Zikmund farm. A diagram of the planter and complete information as to how the planter works shows that even our little beginner, Jennilyn Noll, was greatly interested.

Our play ground has been greatly improved this week when Ray Melio, George Zikmund and Jim Whiting hauled in several loads of dirt, filling in the low places, which always held water for many days, making our yard look very much like a lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cook and Kenneth, Mrs. Jennie Hawkes and Erlene and Bob spent Sunday in Grand Island. The Cooks visited daughter, Ellora, at St. Francis hospital and the Hawkes visited Clifford. Ellora submitted to a major operation on Tuesday of last week. She is making satisfactory recovery.

N. F. Baker
Funeral services for Nels Baker, 75, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Mitchell in charge, Mrs. Harold Hoepfner, Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson, Dell Barber and Roy Hudson sang and Mrs. Harlon Brennick was at the casket.

Funeral services for George Lockhart, Vernon Mentzer, Harlon Brennick, Ben Nelson, Cecil Knapp and Hugh Adams. Mrs. Ben Nelson, Mrs. Art Willoughby and Mrs. Floyd Reddon looked after the flowers and the Hawkes in Hills side cemetery, with Hastings and Pearson in charge of arrangements.

Nelson Fricland Baker was born February 21, 1873, at Hollandburg, Kans., son of Caleb and Martha Ann Baker. Mr. Baker was from a family of ten. He passed away at his home in North Loup, April 5, 1948, at the age of 75 years, one month and 14 days.

He lived in Hollandburg, Kans. until he was thirteen years of age, then moved to Phillipsburg, Kans., where he grew to manhood. On July 13, 1902, he was married to Viola M. Kizer. To this union five children were born, Clyde Baker and Velma Benson, of Ord, Neb.; Sylvia Bartlett, Millwood, Wash.; and Mary Fisher, Purdum, Neb. One son died in infancy.

When a young man, Mr. Baker was baptized and united with the Christian church at Agra, Kans. He and his family came to Nebraska in 1904 and Valley county has been the family home since with the exception of nineteen years spent on the farm at Purdum, Neb., and eight years at Ericson. In 1907 he joined the Odd Fellows lodge and remained a member till they moved to Purdum. For the past two and a half years, Mr. Baker has been night watchman for the village of North Loup, and remained in duty the night before his death. He was a good husband and father, always ready and willing to help others and loved by all who knew him.

He leaves to mourn his wife, one son, three daughters, six grandchildren, one sister, two brothers, and other relatives, and a host of friends.

Relatives attending the funeral from away were Mrs. LeRoy Bartlett and son, Howard, of Millwood, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Leiner and son, Ernie, of Phillipsburg, Kans.; B. R. Baker of Brighton, Colo.; Gus Baker, of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Reva, Rairdon, Derby, Colo.; Albert Baker, and three daughters, Blanche, Iva and Eva, of Phillipsburg, Kans.; and Dallas, Clinton and Milton Friel and Mrs. Flora Tiford and Mrs. Ida Waters, all of Rosalie, Neb. Friends who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Roy White, Broken Bow; Mr. and Mrs. G. Neubauber, Brewster, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walters, Purdum.

Mrs. Sylvia Bartlett and son Howard, arrived Wednesday night from their home in Millwood, Wash., and remained till Monday morning when Clyde Baker took her to Grand Island to take their train for home.

Mrs. Roy Hudson went to Lincoln Saturday morning and in company with her sister, Mrs. Marilyn Mayo, left Sunday for Marysville, Tenn., to spend a week with her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harter.

Edward Hudson drove to Grand Island Saturday afternoon to meet Mrs. Hudson and Susan who had spent two weeks in Bridgeport, Ill., with her parents.

The music program presented by North Loup High and grade school was given Thursday evening in the community hall. Program opened with the school band playing four numbers, Headway, Mutual, Vicarion and Stop. Dressed in their blue and white uniforms, numbers were very well played.

Grades one and two, sang "The Muffin Man"; The Sped Cycle, to the tune of "The Farmer in the Dell"; and Pussycat. Grades three and four sang "Miss Mary"; and "The Old Maid". Grades five and six sang "Down in a Coal Mine"; "Green Grow the Lilacs"; and "Captain Jinks".

Solo numbers included "Because" by Russell Kerr; "My Heart is a Haven"; "Alice Meyers"; "The Builder"; "Jerold Manchester"; "The Bells of St. Mary's"; "Twylla Green"; "The Boy's Ode"; "My Lord What a Morning".

Five year old Ronnie Cummins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Comfort Cummins is in the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island, and is very ill with kidney infection. He was taken down Thursday afternoon and Mrs. Cummins stayed with him until Sunday when Mr. Cummins, Mrs. Ruth Haight, Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mary Ann King went down for the day and she came home with them. Ronnie will have to be in the hospital for two weeks yet.

Prospects for getting the fallen trees and rubbish cleaned from Mira Creek are good, following public meeting held Wednesday evening in the community hall, with a number of interested parties present. Roy Hudson was appointed chairman of the committee and other members are Paul Madsen, C. W. McClellan and E. T. Babcock. The committee members are contacting property owners along the creek for permission to do the work and are collecting funds to cover the expense. Devoss Bros. of Wolbach arrived Monday with their big machinery and are working on the roads in Independent Township but it is expected they will get at the creek late this week. A large number of trees were blown down in the creek bed in the storm of last June and so filled it up that the flood in the north part of town a few days later was a very serious matter.

A repetition of the flood is feared if the trees and rubbish are not removed.

Mrs. Everett Williams and two children were overnight guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams. The children spent Friday there while their mother taught her school at Pleasant Hill.

Everett Mayo of Denver spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cress and other relatives and friends. He had been to Kansas City on business and had stopped over in Lincoln to see his brother, Merlyn.

Selma Robbins was home from Grand Island Saturday night and Sunday.

The Needle and Thimble club met with Mrs. Hugo Malotte Thursday with six members and five visitors present. Mrs. Rose Fuss gave the lesson on pictures. March 12 the club met with Mrs. H. L. Klinginsmith. Pancakes, Crepes zettes and fruits as breakfast dishes were demonstrated by Mrs. Joe Veleba and Mrs. Arnold Malotte.

C. Ehrpt had charge of the arrangements. Mrs. Grier Hunt, Mrs. Warren Studer, Mrs. R. T. Cordry and Mrs. S. Mitchell all spoke on the "Place of Women in the Church". Each speaker took one phase of the subject. The devotions were in the hands of Rev. A. C. Ehrpt of North Loup. Eighteen ministers and wives attended. Ministers were present from Ord, North Loup, Fish Creek, St. Paul and Loup City. The group lunched together in a Loup City cafe, and the meeting was held in the Loup City Methodist church, Monday, April 12. The next meeting will be in May at Ericson, when the election of officers will take place.

The Methodist church had a "Church Night" last Friday night. New people were welcomed and introduced songs by Miss Alice Meyers and Russell Kerr were well received. Miss Barbara Hudson was the accompanist. The Fellowship committee with Mrs. Ruth Hutchins, chairman; Mrs. Rosella Ingerson, Mrs. Genevieve Hoepfner and Mrs. Stella Kerr are to be commended for the well arranged covered dish supper, and the arrangements for another "Church Night" will be announced soon.

Mister, this Oil gives you "Lubri-tection"!

Yes, That's the Kind of Protection You Get With the Great Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil

Right—you can get more than just lubricating qualities with this fine oil—you get plenty of engine protection, too!

That's why we call it "lubri-tection"! Because Phillips 66 Premium does more than just oil moving parts. It washes away harmful sludge, helps reduce piston-fouling varnish, protects delicate bearing metal from corrosion. All that in a quart of oil!

Why not give your engine this kind of treatment—it's worth it. Just ask for the new Phillips 66 Premium.

YOU are responsible in determining whether the operation of taverns in your town is to be good this coming year. With license-granting time here, it is your civic duty to act at once in seeing that licenses are given only to worthy citizens. Remember—the law provides that the governing body which issues licenses in your town must be guided by the facts presented to them. Don't hold back and then complain afterward. Act NOW! Appear at the public hearings to be held, or file a written protest or criticism if you feel one is warranted. Help us weed out undesirables! Ord Invitational Meet May Attract Record Entry If Weather Is Good

Big event of the spring track season here will be the seventh annual Ord invitational meet to be held Wednesday, April 21 and if weather is good a record entry list is expected. Several top notch teams including Boys Town, Kearney and Lexington have already signified their intention of entering.

The Ord athletic field, shown above in an airplane photo taken by Ed Swopes, has been given a lot of work in preparation for this event. Finals will be held in the evening under the arc lights.

Saturday, April 17 is closing date for entries and heats and lanes will be drawn for April 20 at an opening meeting in the office of C. C. Thompson, who will serve as meet director. Five places will be awarded in each event, trophies will be given to the meet winner and to winners of individual events.

In 1947 the Central City team won this invitational meet and Lexington was victor in 1946. The Chantickers enjoyed a 3-year period as meet champions from 1943 through 1945. Burwell won the first meet held in 1942.

Extension Club Council Meets

The County Council of Extension clubs held its spring meet in the county agent's office Wednesday, April 7. Mrs. Carroll Thomas, county chairman, presided at the meeting. Final arrangements were made for the sewing clinic to be held May 4. Instructions on cleaning and adjusting sewing machines will be given to ten women, who in turn will act as leaders in their communities.

Mrs. R. F. Mettenbrink of Arcadia invited the extension clubs of Valley county to take part in the tri-county Women's club convention to be held in North Loup Tuesday, April 27. Mrs. Clarence Switzer will give a frozen foods demonstration in the time allotted to the extension clubs.

Mrs. Paul Goodrich, Mrs. Ross Williams, Mrs. Joe Ulrich, Mrs. John Walty, Mrs. Albert Peterson and Mrs. R. W. Coakley were appointed on the committee to make arrangements for achievement day held in the fall. The next meeting of the council will be held on October 6.

Mrs. Mary Ann Roe, Mrs. Christina Veleba, Dorothy Jean Hosick and Mrs. and Mrs. R. J. Hosick spent Wednesday in Loup City.

Rendering Plant Was Afire Twice

The Ord fire department answered two fire calls to the Covey rendering plant last week, one Friday and one Saturday. Neither fire did much damage. Mr. Covey plans to replace the old wooden structure with a new cement block structure this summer and eliminate the danger of fire that is constantly with them at the plant.

Although the equipment is covered by insurance the building is not.

Burwell Turns Down Airport Bonds 3 to 1

By a margin of nearly 3 to 1, Burwell turned down a bond issue for the purchase of an airport site at the city election last Tuesday. Vote on the issue was 114 against and 145 for.

Don Cain and Wm. F. Grunkmeyer were elected to the city council and Frank Malicky and Guy Laverly to the school board.

New starting time at Ord Theatre.

Marjorie Mulligan in Voice Recital

A program featuring a dual recital by Marjorie Mulligan, mezzo-soprano voice student, and Velma June Vasey, organ student, was held in Richardson hall at Southwestern College, Winfield, Kas., Thursday at 8:15.

Miss Mulligan is a special student in fine arts, a member of Alpha Mu and the pep club and teaches music in the Oxford, Nebr., schools. Her accompanist was Barbara Brown. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mulligan and a graduate of Ord high school. Miss Mulligan had studied voice under Mrs. Leslie Nash.

Mrs. Mulligan made the trip to Kansas to attend her daughter's recital.

Dick Tolen Goes to Boys' State

Dick Tolen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tolen, has been selected to attend Boys' State for Ord, under the sponsorship of the American Legion. In 1947 Ord was represented by Al Blessing.

This year will be the eighth session of Boys' State in Nebraska. Ord has had a boy attending each year. Ord being a town of less than 5,000 is allowed only one boy.

Boys' State is a plan for training in the functional aspects of citizenship. Its purpose is to teach the youth of today constructive attitudes toward the American form of government.

To qualify, the boy must be a member of the junior class of 1947-48. The superintendent of the high school (1) explains Boys' State to his student body (2) secures a list of interested boys (3) who (a) are preferably in the upper half of their class scholastically, (b) stand well in school citizenship, (c) have leadership qualities and (d) are in good health.

From this list several names are sent to the State Board by the American Legion, the sponsoring organization. From their qualifications the boy is chosen.

At Boys' State a corps of lecturers drawn from among the outstanding citizens and public servants in Nebraska present special lectures on government. The boys are in camp eight days. They bring back much knowledge that they present to the students of their school.

VFW to Sponsor Dances in Ord

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have announced that the first of a series of public dances to be staged by the organization has been booked. The overseas veterans' group will bring Don Lofgren and his orchestra to Ord on Tuesday, May 4, and the following Wednesday, May 12, will present Harry Collins and his orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Kizer left last Tuesday for Gering, where they visited until Monday, returning the return trip to their home in Kansas.

New starting time at Ord Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kochanowski spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kochanowski. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kochanowski recently from this vicinity recently from Gering.

Mrs. C. E. Russel accompanied by Mrs. Olive Marquard made a trip to Kearney Monday and returned Tuesday. Mrs. Russel visited her daughter and family and Mrs. Marquard visited with friends.

Mrs. Dale Edwards of Grand Island spent last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wozniak. Monday she visited in Burwell with her sister, Mrs. Connie Swanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Auble and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Auble attended a jeweler's convention in Lincoln the fore part of the week. They went to Lincoln Sunday and returned Friday evening.

Mrs. Mary Shurtz of Denver arrived Friday to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. Mary Francl, and Bess.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Norman and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wozniak and Raymond Wojtaszek were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Greenwalt at Shelton Sunday.

Will Armstrong of Kimball is visiting relatives at Ord. He is an uncle of Duane and Edwin Armstrong.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beran took each of her room-mate Marcia Adams and Willard Stowell back to Lincoln after they had spent the week end in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Armstrong left Monday for a short vacation in Omaha. They returned Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark spent the week end in Holdrege with Mr. and Mrs. Arden Clark and family. Sunday night they stopped in Grand Island to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Russell and family.

Mrs. L. J. Auble enjoyed having her grand-nephew Mark Auble, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Auble, with her while his parents were in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rohla left Friday for a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Covey and daughters were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Odus Riddle of Comstock Sunday. It was a birthday dinner for Carolyn Covey whose fourth birthday was Saturday.

The Quiz received a letter from George J. Owen, 2824 West 1st Ave., Seattle 1, Wash., asking about friends here and renewing his subscription. It makes us all feel good when someone writes in and tells us that they cannot get along without their old home paper.

Joseph P. Lukesh, 221 Hyatt St., Lebanon, Ore., writes to have his address on the Quiz mailing list changed. He writes that he is doing carpenter work at Lebanon, which he likes very much better than working in the machine shop. From his letter we get the idea that they must be having a damp season as he states to live in Oregon one should have moss on his back and web feet.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schmidt, Marie Hynes of Grand Island, Mrs. R. J. Hosick left Saturday for Lincoln to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kretschel and son, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gdanitz of St. Paul also visited relatives in Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drudik and Judy returned from Lincoln Friday. Judy had spent four days and undergone minor surgery at the Lincoln General hospital.

Robert Glover of Denver returned to his home last Thursday after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glover.

BLUE MONDAY

A quick trip around the square Monday morning seemed to establish the fact that Monday was Blue Monday indeed. At the Bakery Frank Drudik was blue because parts of the new oven he is having installed were still missing and he was going into the third week of no production at his bakery. The new oven was to be installed and working in a week.

Frank Benda was contemplating closing for the day. Joe Rohla was away on a vacation. A few minutes after opening Frank Absolon was called home because of the illness of their child. A few minutes later Hank Benda was called home because his daughter Janie had tripped over her tricycle and injured her face. At the Ord Hardware Mrs. Parkos, Jr. was having a cold and at Misko's harness shop Will Misko was running the place alone because Saturday night his son Dean had been to the bank with him when he stooped to pick up a bucket of coal. Monday he was still in the same position and unable to work.

Dick Teague at the hotel was recovering from the flu. He was able to be up and that was about all.

Our stock of local home grown alfalfa seed is going out pretty fast and we expect to see a real clean up on alfalfa seed this year. Much of our alfalfa seed runs over 90% germination and over 99.50 pure seed. If you are going to use alfalfa seed be sure to see us soon.

Legume and Grass Seed

Brome Grass is getting a little scarce but we still have a good stock of Crested Wheat, Blue Gramma, Buffalo, Timothy, Red Top, Red Clover, Alsike Clover and Dutch Clover. Sweet Clover seed is hard to get.

Hybrid Corn

In Hybrid Corn we have all the best numbers of Cornhusker and Standard in Flat Grades. If you are having trouble in getting flat grades of your Hybrid try a few bushels of our Cornhusker and Standard Hybrids are suited for this section of the State and each year are real producers.

Chicks and Supplies

Right now people are ordering chicks for immediate delivery and there is a little difficulty in getting delivery chicks that is wanted. We have large supplies of White Rock and White Leghorns for immediate delivery. We can also furnish Barred Rocks, Reds, Buff Orpingtons, White Wyandottes, Leg Rocks, and Austria Whites. Place your order a couple of weeks before you want the chicks.

Feat Moss in full or half bales. Dr. Salisbury and Grand-O-Lac remedies. Our Starting Mash contains minerals that when fed prevents cannibalism in nearly every case. Try our Starting Mash and you will be well satisfied. With lower prices on some items we have been able to reduce the price of our starting mash. Place your order now to be sure you can equal our Laying Mash at the price that we are asking.

Hy-Line Hattie

We have had Hy-Line Hattie in our store since the 21st of January and she has missed only 13 days in that length of time. We believe that the laying qualities of Hy-Line Chickens will make them very popular. All reports that we have show heavy laying ability in all flocks of Hy-Lines. We are able to get a few orders for Hy-Lines placed to be delivered in the next few weeks. Place an order for a few hundred Hy-Lines to prepare them with standard bred chicks.

Other republican nominees for state office are Charles J. Warner for lieutenant governor, Edward Gillette for treasurer, James Anderson for attorney general, John Knickrehm for long term and Harry Palmer for short term railway commissioner.

Democratic winners for state office nomination included Lafferty for railway commissioner, long term, and Will Maupin, short term; W. T. Thompson for state treasurer over Walter Jensen. Other democratic candidates had no opposition.

There was only one county race here and that was for the republican nomination for supervisor in Dist. 6. In this contest E. O. Schudel won over incumbent R. E. Psots, 58 to 42. Democrats failed to nominate an opposition candidate.

Over the state a light vote was cast Tuesday. Total figure around 200,000 whereas at least 300,000 had been forecast. In this county, however, the vote was far heavier than in the last presidential primary 4 years ago, reports County Clerk Woods. This year 1431 non-political votes were cast as compared with 833 four years ago, 1021 republican votes compared to 579 and 326 democratic votes compared to 279. Primary election day in 1944 brought a heavy snowstorm and weather this year was nice.

Records May Fall at Invitational Track Meet Today

16 Schools Competing, Track Dry and Fast; Finals Under Lights Tonight.

Several meet records are expected to topple and even state marks may be equalled or surpassed at the seventh annual Ord invitational track and field meet, being held today (Wednesday) at the athletic field east of Bussell park.

The circular track is dry and fast, new jumping and vaulting pits were built for the event, new hurdles constructed and paint has been used lavishly to put the athletic field in apple pie order for this annual event.

Sixteen schools are competing, it was announced Wednesday morning by C. C. Thompson, meet director. The list includes Kearney, Mason City, St. Mary's of Grand Island, Broken Bow, Albion, Bassett, Burwell, Loup City, Ravenna, North Loup, Taylor, St. Edward, Comstock, Arcadia, Elm Creek and Ord Boys' Town, which previously had indicated it would enter, found it impossible to send a team.

Neither Central City, the 1947 champion, nor Lexington, winner in 1946, is entered.

Two innovations mark this year's meet, first being that the finals in track events will be held under the lights this evening, starting at 7:30. All field events will be completed during the afternoon and preliminaries of track events will be run off. The afternoon meet opens at 2:00. The other innovation is that the low hurdle event will be for 150 rather than the usual 200 yards, a new distance recommended for high schools by the national high school athletic association.

Records expected to fall are the broad jump, high jump and shot put. Thode, of Loup City, has a mark of 21 feet 7 1/2 inches in the broad jump, made at Hastings last week, and 6 feet 2 1/2 inches in the high jump, made at a Columbus meet. Turner, of Elm Creek, has tossed the shot 47 feet 7 1/2 inches, which is the best mark made in Nebraska this season.

Moss, of Kearney, is a sprint specialist who may come close to top seconds in the century. Ord's best events are the hurdles, where Jay Stoddard is good, and the discus throw, with Blessing and Stewart.

Starter for the meet will be Ed Kelly, of Beatrice. Ord men will man other official posts.

Residents Asked to Support New Govt. Loan Drive

County Buys $105,575 in Bonds During March; Mortensen Heads Drive.

Residents of Valley county have been asked by C. J. Mortensen, county chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division Advisory Committee to give generous support to the Security Loan Campaign starting April 15, and continuing to June 30.

"The Security Loan has as its objective the selling of savings bonds to the largest possible number of individuals for the purpose of providing security for the individual and at the same time strengthening the national economy," said Mr. Mortensen.

"Our county has made a splendid record in all of the War Loan Drives. That record was made possible through the help of a volunteer committee, supported by thousands of individual bond purchasers. We hope that the Security Loan will meet with the same generous response from volunteer bond sellers and purchasers."

The residents of Valley county invested $105,575 in E, F and G Series U. S. Savings Bonds during March. Of this amount $40,275.00 was in E Series, which are sold only to individuals.

Marble Champ is Eligible to Enter State Mig Contest

First Annual Contest in Valley County to Be Held April 26 at Grade School.

The first annual county marble contest will be held in Ord at 9 o'clock A. M. Monday, April 26 at the Ord grade school play ground, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, sponsors, announced this week.

According to Bill Goff, VFW member in charge of the event, each school district in the county is entitled to one entry in the contest, except for town schools where first, second and third place winners in a school elimination contest may enter the contest.

Teachers of the various schools in the county will hold contests during the next ten days to determine their school champion. Each school champion who enters the county contest will be given a prize by the VFW, Goff said.

Winners here will be eligible for the state contest to be held in Lincoln May 22, sponsored by the state department of Veterans of Foreign Wars. State winners will compete in the national VFW contest at Salt Lake City, June 3, 4 and 5, with all expenses paid by the VFW.

The VFW veterans will give special medals for first, second and third place winners in the county contest. Medals are on display at Beranek's Drug store.

Rules of the contest to be held in Ord will be the same as for the state contest. A ring ten feet in diameter will be set up, with thirteen marbles in the center. First contestant with seven marbles wins the match and the marbles. Any boy in grade school, up to and including the eighth grade, will be eligible. Boys will furnish their own sticks and two VFW members will judge each ring.

Three Townships Short on Number of Tax Schedules

Ord City Needs More Forms Says Assessor; Otherwise Results Good.

Three townships in Valley county, Eureka, Michigan and Independent, have not turned in the expected amount of tax schedules for 1948, county assessor Wait Noll told the Quiz Wednesday morning.

"In all other townships in the county we have received just about the same number of schedules as in 1947," Noll said. "Although we expect a few more from each township, we're fairly well satisfied right now."

Arcadia, North Loup and Ord have all turned in more schedules than last year, Noll said, although he believes that Ord city should have about 70 more.

"We'll begin checking schedules against lists of residents this week," Noll said, "and then we'll know just who hasn't made a return."

"Those who come in voluntarily before closing time Saturday will have no penalty assessed against them. After that we must assess the penalty."

Noll said that all persons, male or female, over 21 years of age, must file a tax return, whether they own property or not. In addition, all minors who own property must file a return.

Telephone Hearing at Grand Island

Railway Commission Calls All Interested Parties for May 25 Meeting.

A hearing on the Nebraska Continental Telephone company's application for a "cost of operation" rate increase has been called by the Nebraska railway commission for 10 a. m. Tuesday, May 25, at the city hall in Grand Island.

Notices of the hearing, at which all who favor the proposed increase or who oppose it may state their views, were mailed to the Ord chamber of Commerce.

All communities served by Nebraska Continental are affected by the proposed increase, these including Alma, Battle Creek, Beaver City, Bloomington, Brunswick, Burwell, Edison, Franklin, Genoa, Greeley, Hildreth, Lindsay, Madison, Monroe, Neligh, Newman Grove, Orchard, Orleans, Palmer, Platte Center, Republican City, Riverdale, Stamford, Sumner, Tilden, Wilsonville, Albion, Ord, Columbus and Kearney.

9 Superiors, 12 Excellents Given Ord Musicians at District Music Contest

25 Conventions Nelson-Directed Groups Make Splendid Showing in Two-Day G. I. Event.

John A. Changstrom, vice president of the Omaha National Bank, has been making convention trips for the past 25 years. He is the oldest banker in point of service of those present here today.

Nine superior awards, 12 excellents and 3 goods was the splendid record made by Ord high school musicians at the district music contest and festival held Friday and Saturday in Grand Island.

Ord was the only Class B school taking part in the contest to be given the superior award for all of its large groups. The Ord band, boys' glee club and mixed glee club received this award while its fourth large group, girls' glee club, received a rating of superior plus.

The music event began Friday morning and on that day 40 Ord students took part in solo and small group events. Continuing Saturday, 97 Ord students participated. They were taken to Grand Island both days in the cars of parents and other patrons of the school.

Superior awards received by Ord, in addition to those on its large groups, included the five following:

Girls' trio, composed of Beverly Whiting, Betty Dunbar and Lois Severns.

Boys' quartet, composed of Charles Munn, James Misko, Dick Tolen and Paul Stoddard.

Boys' medium voice—Dick Tolen.

Girls' medium voice—Evelyn Urban.

Winning the excellent awards for Ord were the following:

Brass sextet, composed of Jay Stoddard, Don Hill, John Misko, Charles Munn, Wayne Zlonkic and Doris Norman.

Girls' octet, composed of Dale Callor, John Misko, Galen Allen, Richard Heack, Don Hill, Paul Stoddard, Vernon Wells and Wayne Zlonkic.

Madrigal, composed of Dorothy Morris, Doris Norman, Betty Dunbar, Beverly Whiting, Dorothy Hosok, Lois Severns, Kessel Vogeltau, Charles Munn, James Misko, Dick Tolen, Vernon Dlugosh, Jay Stoddard and Lal Cochrane.

Erasmo solo—Rogene Rogers. Oboe solo—Verice Mulligan. Snare drum solo—Charlene Severns.

Girls' medium voice—Betty Whitford.

Girls' high voice—Dorothy Morris.

Boys' low voice—Lad Cochrane.

Boys' high voice—James Misko.

Girls' medium voice—Wilma Large.

The awards "good" were given to Maxine Fuss for her medium voice solo, Greta Oliver for clarinet solo and to the trumpet trio composed of Jay Stoddard, Don Hill and Jim Misko.

Great credit is being given William Nelson, director of the music department, for this fine record made by his students. Tuesday the Ord high school band made a trip to Holdrege to take part in the parade which preceded the concert by the U. S. Navy band, and later attended the county court Tuesday morning.

Hospital Group Decides $25,000 Not Enough Money

Believes Church Group Should Run Institution; Will Make Decision Sooner.

The Loup Valley's Hospital committee, which has been conducting an investigation of the Ord and Valley county hospital condition for several weeks has decided that the purchase price of $25,000 for the Miller Hospital in Ord is just part of the money needed.

"We will need additional funds to install modern equipment and also to provide housing for nurses," O. Kellison, chairman of the committee, told the Quiz this week.

"Just how much more we don't know, but I believe that another ten to fifteen thousand dollars will be necessary."

Kellison said that the committee had also reached the conclusion that operation of a hospital under either city or county authority was not economically feasible, and that turning the institution over to a religious or charitable group would be the answer to the local problem.

This is the same conclusion reached by an Ord chamber of commerce committee who spent several months reviewing the situation.

Last Wednesday evening, Kenneth Cornish of Osceola, who helped organize the community hospital there, met with the local group and explained the Osceola situation. Monday, Mr. Kellison and six committee members, Edwin Armstrong, C. J. Mortensen, Emanuel Petka, Thomas Rasmussen, Mrs. Wm. Dodge and Clara McClatchey, drove to Osceola and inspected the hospital.

The committee will meet again Thursday of this week to review findings and a definite number of aims and objects can be expected soon, Mr. Kellison told the Quiz.

Dodd Goes East for RFC Talks

M. S. Dodd, engineer-manager of the North and Middle Loup irrigation districts, left Sunday for Washington, D. C. for conferences with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, with specific emphasis on the North Loup district's application for a loan with which to rebuild its system after the 1948 irrigating season ends.

He will leave Washington next Saturday or Sunday on the return trip.

Two Fined In County Court

Leo H. Johnson, of Greeley county paid a fine of $10 and costs of $1 for failure to obey a stop sign and Lyle V. Bailey of Ord paid $10 and costs of $1 for not possessing 1948 license plates. Both arrests were made last Thursday by Highway Patrolman Ernest Johnson, and hearings were held in county court Tuesday morning.

Bank Calls Show Near Six Million on Deposit Here

Loans Total $1,712,970.56; Of Which Nebraska State Has Half.

Statements of condition of the four Valley county banks, published in response to an April 12 call from the department of banking, showed $5,746,781.73 on deposit in the county.

At the same time borrowers owe the banks $1,712,970.56, or about four millions less than the total amount of money on deposit in the banks.

The Nebraska State Bank of Ord easily headed the loan bracket with $853,737.50 reported. Second was the First National Bank of Ord with $501,216.53. The Arcadia State Bank had $205,061.28 loans in force, with $17,951.90 at North Loup.

Leader in the deposit category was the First National Bank of Ord with $2,156,212.16. The Nebraska State Bank placed second with $2,232,252.05. Arcadia is third with $770,101.45 and North Loup with $47,951.90.

Valley county banks represent a capital investment of nearly a half million—$402,245.27, to be exact. The First National Bank is the most heavily capitalized with $173,659.95. The Nebraska State Bank has $141,908.48.

Complete statements of the four banks will be found on other pages of this issue.

Cancer Drive Off To a Good Start

The Cancer drive is in full swing and although there are no definite figures available as the paper goes to press, reports from the V. F. W. Auxiliary members canvassing the residential district show that the drive is well received.

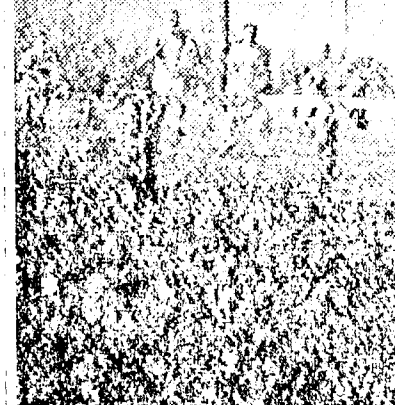

Alice Beran, who teaches District 13, gave a pie social Friday and raised $30.00 for the fund.

Saturday several Camp Fire girls will be on the square to collect for the drive.

Legion Baseball Work-outs Start

First practice for prospective members of the Junior Legion baseball team was held at the athletic field Sunday and Bill Henry, who has charge of the team, is anxious for all boys under the age of 17 and interested in playing baseball to turn out next Sunday at 2:00. Prospects for a good team to represent Ord are fine this year and a schedule will be worked out soon with games starting in late May or early June.

Special Train Brings Speakers and Representatives Of Metropolitan Banks.

Nearly 150 bankers and bank representatives from this section of Nebraska and including a group of 51 who came here by special train, descended on Ord Wednesday morning for a group meeting of the Nebraska Bankers' Association.

Meetings this afternoon, held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, were called to order by O. W. Johnson, Burwell, president of the Group Five association. Responses were heard from J. O. Peck, Columbus, president of the Nebraska Bankers' Association.

J. V. Johnson, Omaha, representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation reviewed methods and objects of the present-day RFC program.

Main addresses of the morning were given by Delos L. James, Washington, D. C., on national agricultural prospects, and Charles Z. Meyer of Chicago, on bank accounting methods.

C. H. Ryan, Loup City, Nebr., heads a resolution committee which will report this afternoon. Serving with him are Lyman M. Stuckey of Lexington and Benjamin C. Bihorn of Scotia.

Serving on the nominating committee are George J. Armstrong, Grand Island, E. C. Varney, Ansley and Eric Wright, Central City. The group was served a noon luncheon at the K. C. hall, and following adjournment this afternoon will be guests of Ord banks at the Veterans' club.

This evening, bankers will hear William E. Johnson of Omaha; former Nebraska lieutenant governor who will speak on problems of banking, agricultural and public relations.

Johnson will speak at a banquet to be held in Masonic Hall, served by the Presbyterian circles. John P. Misko of Ord is toastmaster and Father Tom Siudowski will give the invocation.

Music will be furnished by Mrs. Leslie Nash, cellist, accompanied by Mrs. Sylvester Furtak and the girls' trio and octet of Ord high school, directed by William Nelson.

Rural Track Meet Here April 26th

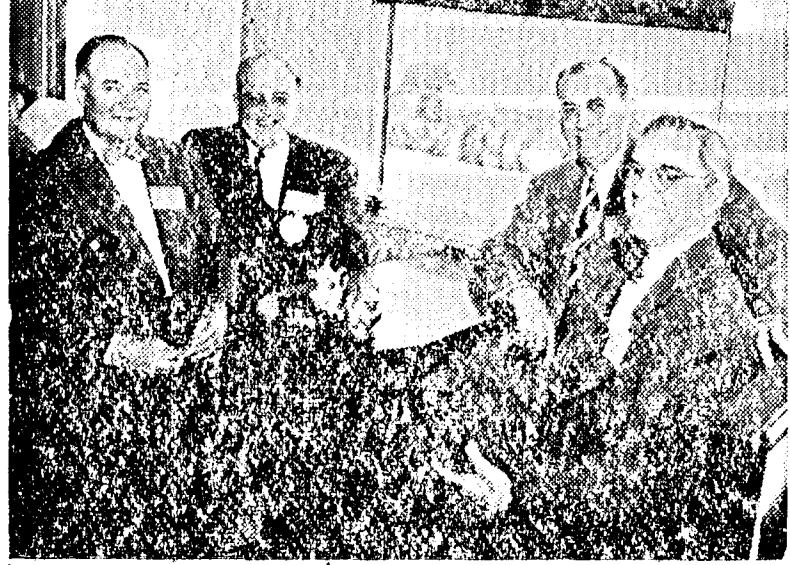

The annual rural track meet for Valley county, sponsored by the Ord Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the county superintendent, and the Ord high school, will be held at the Ord athletic field on the afternoon of Monday, April 26. The event follows the VFW county-wide marble tournament to be held the same morning.

The track meet is open to all pupils of all Valley county rural schools. The school winning the track events planned by Alex Cochrane and Dick Peterson, Ord coaches, will receive the traveling plaque given by the Chamber of Commerce, District No. 36, Davis Creek, was last year's winner.

Events planned for the meet include the high jump, broad jump, 60 yard dash, 100 yard dash, and 440 relay. Pupils of all grades are eligible to compete in the different events against children of their own grade level.

No Opposition in Supervisor Races

No candidate for Valley county supervisor will have opposition at the fall election, thanks to write-in votes at last week's primary.

In District 6 E. O. Schudel defeated Rudolph Psota for the republican nomination for supervisor and on the democrat ballot wrote his name in to assure it a place on that ticket also at the fall election. Only nineteen democratic votes were cast in the 3 township making up Dist. 6—Enterprise, Davis Creek and Independence. The law requires only 5% of the total vote for nomination.

In Dist. 4, where no candidate's name appeared on either ballot for supervisor, 13 republicans and 5 democrats wrote in the name of the incumbent, Joe Suchanek, and so his name will appear as the candidate of both parties at the fall election.

In Dist. 2 where Ellsworth Ball was running for nomination on the democrat ticket, no name was written in sufficiently to form a republican nomination, so Ball likewise will be unopposed next fall.

We are extending the intensive work in our Crusade for Christ in Sunday school and church attendance. We urge every friend and member of the church to bring to the church each Sunday his presence and influence, which will accordingly give to the church power to properly environ its childhood, and to successfully do its work in the community. There is no greater reason for attending church than for the spiritual uplift of the child in the home. Next Sunday the sermon subject is: "Our Greatest Dedication is for our Children!"
Sunday school at 10:00 and worship at 11:00 o'clock a.m.

The symbolism of precious stones has led many to wear a certain gem for that reason. The agate, represents health and wealth; the amethyst, sincerity; the diamond, constancy; the emerald, happiness; the pearl, beauty; the ruby, love; the sapphire, wisdom; the topaz, friendship; and the turquoise, success.

WANTED:

substitute for advertising

Is there any cheaper way to make sales than by advertising?

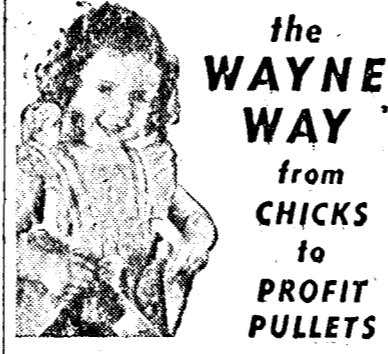

If so, the people who pay for advertising today would like to know what it is.

After all, they are experts at bringing down costs. And that's what brings down prices.

The best proof that advertising is the cheapest way to find customers is—so many people use it successfully.

Zikmund-Williams
Miss Vivian Jean Zikmund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Zikmund and Carol B. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, of North Loup, were united in marriage Thursday, April 15 at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. V. Hassell at the Methodist parsonage in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a tight fitting bodice, long pointed sleeves and a net yoke outlined with lace and seed pearls. Her finger tip veil was caught in a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white sweetpeas centered with a corsage of white gardenias and tiny pink rosebuds.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Rockwell of Logan, Ia., wore a pale blue marquisette gown and carried a bouquet of white gardenia and yellow jonquils.

Horace Williams, brother of the groom, served as best man. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served by the bride's parents at their home. Mrs. Loyal Negley, cousin of the bride, baked the wedding cake.

The bride's going away suit was a light blue wool with white accessories.

After dinner the young couple left on a short wedding trip through the Black Hills after which they will be at home in Ord.

There was such a large group of children to start to Kindergarten last fall that they had to be divided into two groups. One group has school in the morning and the other in the afternoon. Miss Irma King of Grand Island teaches both groups. They take identical work, play with the same toys and seem to get along fine. They have a big farm laid out in their sand box. The farm has a big red barn with hay in the mow, a garage, fields and several tractors. There are pens of animals and fences made of twigs and string, to be put up while the children want a new animal pen. There is also a pond and ducks. The farm is a working unit for there are several children playing around the table most of the time. They cultivate the fields, and are learning a lot about getting along with each other as well as about the animals they are studying.

James Warns Local Bankers Uneasy Days Ahead for Farm: Plugs for Soil Conservation

Agriculture will be confronted by some very serious problems within the next three to five years, but a continued, expanded program of soil conservation and land utilization will ease the problem, according to Delos L. James, manager of the agricultural department of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

DELOS L. JAMES

Mr. James told local bankers who attended a meeting of their state group here today that in looking ahead to the time when foreign demand for our surplus farm production is no more than normal, that appreciable adjustments in agricultural production must be made.

"Otherwise," he said, "serious price declines will take place and again we will be in the throes of paralyzing depression. Of course, right now, and possibly for another year or two, it is necessary that we have abundant production of most of our important farm products to alleviate hunger and suffering in the war torn countries. But we cannot expect that unprecedented demand to continue indefinitely."

James warned against over-expansion of indebtedness and failures to foresee inevitable shifts in demand for commodities. Farmers in the main have been exercising sound financial judgment, he believes, and that so far, little speculation in farm land by farmers has taken place.

"If we are to enjoy continued prosperity the balance between supply and demand must be maintained," James stated. "There must be no recurrence of the 1930-32 condition when agriculture, along with all the major industries, continued to produce on its accustomed scale, despite the fact that demand was greatly curtailed."

"The use of an extensive and well-executed program of soil conservation definitely points the way to a satisfactory method of dealing with the farm problem. The soil is the most important and valuable asset we have.

"In the light of past experience it appears possible to devise methods in connection with the soil conservation program which will assure a satisfactory adjustment of acreage and crops and avoid serious price-depressing surpluses. Sixty million crop acres are now used for the production of food for export, Mr. James explained, and when the export market fails, it will become necessary to expand those branches of agriculture which utilize raw products in the production of highly concentrated foods an expansion of the livestock industries which produce meats, poultry, dairy products and eggs.

"With good buying power, the American people alone could utilize the products of about 25 million more cattle of all kinds, 10 to 20 million more hogs, 25 million more sheep, and double the number of hens now on farms," he said.

"An expansion of livestock will not use all the 60 million acres, but it will materially relieve the adjustment program, and will revert land to soil-conserving and soil improving uses or to non-agricultural uses to which it is better adapted.

"Under such a program the administration could be centralized and simplified, and it would be possible to bring production of crops each year into a closer relationship with prospective demand. Within reasonable limits, prospective requirements can be known in advance, and so that big surpluses can be avoided. Government funds should be used to encourage direct participation in the soil conservation program, James believes.

Mrs. Waggoner, 60, Died April 15th

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10:00 at the Hastings-Pearson chapel for Mrs. Edward Waggoner, who passed away at her home April 15, 1948. Rev. L. V. Hassell conducted the ceremony.

Katie Rosalie Jackson, age 60, daughter of Robert and Rosalie Jackson was born in Valley county, April 30, 1888. She was educated in Valley county and became a member of the Davis Creek Methodist church early in life. In 1905 she was united in marriage to Edward Waggoner. To this union one son, Edward Franklin, was born.

Mrs. Waggoner leaves to mourn her departure, her husband, her son, two brothers, George W. Jackson of North Loup and B. B. Jackson of Loup City and a half sister, Eva McMichael of Lincoln.

Pallbearers were Frank Golus, Walter Grossnicklaus, Ole White, Ed Dymek, Orville Elshire and John Howe. Interment was in the Davis Creek cemetery.

New Equipment on Rural Fire Truck

The rural fire truck has some new equipment that will enable the department to serve the community better. Six new C-O-2 fire extinguishers have been added to the equipment carried on the rural truck. These extinguishers are for gasoline and electric fires. A large size suction fan was purchased to clear smoke from burning structures.

An electric light plant has been purchased and delivered but has not as yet been installed on the truck. This will generate electricity for lights in the country where no electricity is available.

This equipment was bought with the money left over from the rural fire truck fund after the truck was purchased. Because the fund was raised for rural fire fighting equipment the best possible use is being made of the money.

Uni Convocation Honors Students

Over 1,500 University of Nebraska students were honored for high scholarship at the annual honors convocation held in the coliseum Tuesday morning. Ord had its share of students represented at this convocation and is justly proud of the record they made.

Clarice V. Fiala, Keith J. Kovanda, Loyal L. Hurlbert, Raymond G. Kerchal Jr., and Robert E. Marks all received scholastic recognition. Clarice V. Fiala received the Sears-Roebuck Foundation home economics scholarship award.

Davis N. Borden of Burwell was elected a new member of Beta Gamma Sigma. A senior University student who is making quite a record for himself, who well known around Ord is Ned S. Raun, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zanger. He was one of forty-eight senior students recognized for having been in the upper three per cent of his class or for being on the honor list a year or more.

He has been elected to Alpha Zeta and Gamma Sigma Delta. He received the WNAAC agriculture scholarship and the 4H senior scholarship medal. He is a new member elected to the Agriculture Executive Board. He has made one of the most outstanding records at the University of Nebraska and all the above honors were bestowed upon him Tuesday morning.

Auxiliary Women Help at Hospital

Wednesday six Ord members of the American Legion Auxiliary made a trip to Lincoln to work at the Veterans' hospital. They totaled 25 hours work between them. They left Ord at 7:00 in the morning and got home in the wee hours of Thursday morning. At the hospital Mrs. Albert Parsons sr., Mrs. Warren Lincoln and Mrs. Rogers made nine-teen calls for the nurses' home while Mrs. Clark Weckbach, Mrs. Loren Good and Mrs. Ted Slobazewski rolled 450 dressings, 58 sutures and 75 sponges for operative cases.

They made a tour of the hospital and met many of the fellows there. They took down four robes made in Ord for the hospital.

This is the first such trip the Ord ladies have made since the war and it is their way of helping during the shortage of nurses. They and many other organizations have been giving their services to relieve the pressure on the over-worked nurses, the past few weeks.

Garfield Chooses New County Judge

In a hotly contested race for the nomination for county judge, Garfield county voters chose C. R. Ilgenfritz with 368 votes, Guy Laverty with 274 votes for the November run off. Third man in the race was John P. Thompson with 165 votes.

Another contest developed in the race for county superintendent, where Mrs. Evelyn Morrow, whose name appeared on the ballot, received 307 votes. Write in Votes for Mrs. Evelyn Simons totaled 290 and for Edward F. Sime write-ins totaled 118.

Fire Hits 2nd Time at Andersen Home

The old adage that fire never strikes twice in the same place was proved untrue Thursday evening when a blaze did damage at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Andersen, recently rebuilt after being gutted by fire on July 1, 1947.

The blaze was caused by hot grease from a French potato fryer and smoke caused the most damage, though a new electric stove was ruined by the flames. Most of the loss was covered by insurance.

Fire Chief George Anderson and Charlie Swoboda put out the blaze with hand extinguishers and used the department's new suction fan to clear the home of smoke quickly.

St. Paul Gets New Fire Truck

A new fire truck, costing over $8,000 has been added to St. Paul volunteer fire department equipment. The truck is equipped with a 300 gallon booster tank to handle rural fires as well as city fires.

Rural Field Day at Kruml Farm Set for April 27

Demonstration on Weed Control, Contour Farming to Be Given; Speakers Coming.

The Vencil Kruml farm, 4 1/2 miles northwest of Elvina, will be the scene of a rural field day and farm demonstration, scheduled for Tuesday, April 27.

The program of the day will include identification of grasses and weeds, talks on methods of weed eradication, identification of soils and points on soil erosion. The planning of a diversion in a pasture to prevent damage to an irrigation system by runoff water will be demonstrated. An additional feature a dam site will be selected on location and the plans for a field waterway will be discussed.

Loys Smith, state weed supervisor, will talk on methods of weed eradication. Jack Morse, pilot for the Aerial Spraying Inc. from Grand Island, will demonstrate airplane spraying and Henry Janus of the Valley county noxious weed district will demonstrate the Jeep spraying equipment and tell how to use it on noxious weeds.

The event is sponsored jointly by the soil conservation district, the weed control district and the Ord Chamber of Commerce. Activities will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will continue through the afternoon. Lunch wagon will be on the grounds, and the chamber plans to serve free coffee.

In case of inclement weather, April 29, 1948 has been selected as an alternate date.

Farm Land Values Up 17% During '47

Nebaska farm land values climbed 17% during 1947, it was revealed Tuesday in a survey conducted by the U. S. agriculture department. Only North Dakota, with 20%, and South Dakota, with 18%, surpassed Nebraska in land value increase during the year.

In this state land values are up 79% from the 1935-39 average, much below the average for the United States which shows farm land values up 105%.

For the nation values are now equal to the peak reached in 1930, World War I, but in Nebraska the present prices are only 70% of the peak reached at that time.

Voters Approve Special One Mill Mail Route Levy

Cluster county voters approved by better than two to one the proposed one mill levy for funds to be used for the improvement of rural and star mail routes in the county. The unofficial count gave 2,472 in favor of the levy and 1,077 opposed.

The mill levy vote was conducted as a special election in connection with the regular primary. The voters Tuesday gave the county board authority to make the one mill levy on property in the county and the money to be used in connection with funds received from the state under the Schroeder bill for the surfacing and improvement of rural and star mail routes.

The one mill levy will probably raise about $35,000 to $40,000 per year for this purpose. The county board in the neighborhood of $6,000 per month now in Schroeder funds. This will make approximately $160,000 per year for mail route improvement work.

Grades Present Music Program

The first, second and third grades presented a musical program for their parents at the grade school Thursday afternoon from 1:30 until 2:30. The program was under the direction of the music teacher, Mrs. Leslie Nash.

The first grade presented a skit, "The Shoemaker and the Elves." The second grade sang several songs and gave a short play. The third grade part in the program was several selections by their rhythm band. After the program many of the mothers visited the different grades the rest of the afternoon.

Fire Department Called Out Twice

The Ord fire department answered two calls last week. One was for a rural fire truck from Davis Creek to help get a grass fire under control at the Mike Kush farm. Mr. Kush had been burning weeds and the fire got away from him.

An alarm was answered at the Dean Misko residence. Wall paper cleaner ignited but Mrs. Misko had the fire extinguished before the department arrived. Mrs. Misko burned her hands in putting out the fire.

Chamber to Sponsor Races on 4th of July

The Ord Chamber of Commerce, at their regular meeting Tuesday night, voted to sponsor stock car races here either July 4 or 5, in connection with the celebration of Evelyn Sharp Field, Ord's airport. Preliminary plans call for an airport dedication in the morning followed by races in the afternoon. Special committees to be appointed by the chamber will determine whether races will be held on July 4 only, or also on July 5.

Stock car races are sometimes referred to as "hot rod" races. Cars entered are popular makes which are stripped down and souped up for racing.

New Mayor Takes Office April 27th

It will be out with the old, in with the new, Tuesday, April 27, when the present Ord city council holds its final meeting at which will vote of the April 6 election will be canvassed, new members will be sworn in, after which the new city council will hold its first meeting.

When the new council is organized Dr. F. L. Blessing, elected mayor April 6, will occupy the chair at the head of the table in which M. B. Cummins, present mayor, has presided for the past ten years. New councilmen to be seated will include Duane Armstrong and Jay Brown. The third councilman, J. W. McGinnis, was re-elected for another term.

One of Mayor Blessing's first duties will be appointment of a councilman to take his own place as representative of the 2nd ward. The appointment must be confirmed by the council.

Freight Rate Hike Granted

The Interstate Commerce Commission has granted the railroads a further temporary freight rate increase estimated to cost the public about 300,000,000 a year.

Commission officials figured the raise will average about four per cent above present rates.

The ICC last October, acting on the railroad's plan for a 30 per cent advance in freight rates, authorized a temporary 10 per cent increase to meet higher operating costs.

Still another 10 per cent temporary increase was granted in January. The additional raise announced today will be effective until the commission passes finally on the plea for permanent upward adjustments.

The new increase may be applied upon 10 days notice to the public.

Bond Issue Carries 226-148 In Wheeler

Voters of Wheeler county Tuesday voted strongly in favor of the new auditorium-gym for the high school at Bartlett. They voted 226 to 148 to bond the county for $20,000 for the new auditorium. Three times previous a bond issue to erect new buildings for the high school were defeated.

The $20,000 with nearly $10,000 additional now in the building fund will be used as soon as possible to erect the new building.

PATRONS' DAY HELD

A patrons day program was held at the Union Ridge school Thursday. The pupils from Barker school and their instructor Evelyn Willoughby were present. County superintendent McClatchey gave a talk on reading and reading readiness and demonstrated by using the pupils of the two schools.

The many readers of the Quiz who have the fascinating hobby of stamp collecting will readily recognize the photo above as being one of early issues of United States stamps. Stamp collecting called the "king of hobbies" is reported to have more than ten million followers in the United States alone.

The Quiz printing plant has a fair share of its volume from this hobby. Every week or so a catalog or price list is turned out for some stamp dealer, somewhere around the world, and as a result many rare and valuable stamps go through the Quiz engraving plant where the above cut was made. The stamps above, valued at $1059, are part of those listed in an auction catalog now being printed for a Quiz printing customer in New York. Most valuable is the No. 116, a 90 cent blue issued in 1831, valued at $760. The stamp at the right, No. 91, is the first postage stamp printed in the United States (1817) and is valued at $100.

Ernest Coats tells me I neglect the country people. Says he: It's fine to write about Ord, and we all want to see Ord prosper but don't forget the country people, Irma.

 Says I: "Whatever Ord is, it owes to its country friends. We live in a fertile farming country, and we only have prosperity when our farming friends are thriving."
 And says I, going on and on as I am wont to do: How nice it is to see the farm buildings painted up and slicked up once more. They look better all the time.
 But says he, what are we going to do if our farmers keep moving away? So many deserted farms, so many good farmers leaving for greener pastures, so much power farming.

That takes me on a complete circle of thought.
 I never could decide.
 Do our toughest, sturdiest, grittiest farmers stick it out, stay here with us?
 Do our smartest, most ambitious farmers move away?
 Or is it the pickers that move away? What do you think?

Several people inform me that bicycle riders ride on the right hand side of the road WITH cars. So I am wrong. Well I am glad to find out about it.
 Now please, could we have more bicycling riders?

Isn't it magical to see that swimming pool assembled out there at the park? The construction work is going so fast.
 I really can't believe we're going to have a pool, can you? After these many years of pining for it.

I wonder why we are having so many fires this year. I heard over the radio last week that there had been twice as many fires this year, in the first two months, as there were last year. Nationally, that is why?

Surely Ord has had the fire department called out often this spring. Perhaps that's because the farmers now have a truck at their command.
 Wouldn't it be a good idea to divide our fire fighters into two groups? Have one group on call for country calls; one group ready for town calls. There would need to be two separate whistles to use this plan, but it would have advantages: not every fireman would have to drop his work every time the whistle blew, but only half of them!

The record our music students made in Grand Island Friday and Saturday was wonderful, no less, and we should be extremely proud. Our Mr. Nelson is a whiz. Somehow or other he has wheeled and coaxed our boys and girls along until they are becoming real musicians with a zest for music.

Quiet, unassuming Mr. Cordry received a fine honor last week, when his Presbyterian fellow ministers at Minden chose him to go to Seattle to represent them the latter part of May. Mr. Cordry was simply delighted, and so were all the admirers of this truly Christian gentleman.

 —Irma.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

This week I received a letter from a friend of the war days, one V. S. Fitzpatrick of Sebirt, Colo. He was a newspaper publisher there before the war, and sold out to go to Hawaii and do his bit to help win the conflict. He is perhaps 60 years of age, and had more experiences in that time than most people would have in a hundred years. While in Hawaii he published a book, called "Hawaiian Memories" in which he gave a story of the work done there by the men from the main land, and also a picture of each of the 135 men who bought copies of the book, and a biography of each.
 Fitz returned to the main land shortly before I did and got a job as an auxiliary military police operative. In this capacity he traveled over states of the middle west, visiting oil refineries and checking up on shipments of oil, and inspecting production and personnel. After a year he joined the maritime service, trained at New York and at Catalina Island, saw Fiji, Samoa, Australia and the Philippines campaign and returned to the United States by way of the Aleutians at the war's end. Now he is teaching classes in music over a territory in Colorado 110 miles long and 60 miles wide.

In part he has this to say: "Say, man, how did you ever get a home like you did for such a price? Even in this little town a place like that would sell easily for $8,000 to $12,000. I have a small house, kitchen, living room, one bedroom and both and basement, and have refused $8,000 for it a dozen times. I'm so glad you still write. I have thought a long time about you and the Ord Quiz." Fitz also tells about some of the other men who were on the staff of "Hawaiian Memories", one of whom, Riekie, spent two years in the Persian Gulf and Guatamala. In closing Fitzpatrick threatens to come up this way and visit me sometime. If and when he does, I am going to be proud to show him around.

The fishing season has opened officially in this area. Fishing, I said, isn't catching. I hereby promise that after this one preliminary there will not be any fishing stories in this column unless, and if, they have some unusual angle. For example, like the one about the fellow who was cutting timber along the banks of Mira Creek last fall, and the head of his ax came off and landed in the creek. Not wanting to lose a good ax, he went down to the water to try to fish it out. To his surprise he found a 3 1/2 pound catfish which had been stunned by a blow from the ax. The gentleman's name will be given on request, but you'll have to write him about it.

Then there is the one about the man who had been fishing for some time, but the fish were not hungry and he didn't even get a nibble, until all at once his bobber started down the creek. He gave a yank and found he had a real fight on his hands. His line was light, so he played the fish for quite a while, being quite sure he must have a ten pounder by the way he handled. After several minutes, he decided to pull him out, and found to his great surprise that the fish weighed only about three pounds. He had swam under the bait and the hook had caught in the hide beside his dorsal fin, so as the time he was pulling against him broad side on. It causes plenty of excitement. You should try it some time.

 In a field northwest of North Leup is a little pond which has no apparent connection with Mira Creek. It has been there for years, so long that a sizeable grove of trees has grown up around it. It is probable that the creek overflowed into it in time of high water but this would not happen very often. Last fall the Mrs. and I came past the place and decided to try fishing there. The pond is small and it was formerly quite inches deep in the middle. Nothing happened at first, but before long they began to bite, and in a little while we had about twenty nice bullheads and sunfish. Fish get into the most unusual places, because ducks carry the roe from one place to another on their bodies.

At the town election in Loup City last week the question of Sunday selling of drink came up, and the idea was voted down by a comfortable majority. This is not a dissertation on the merits of the liquor question, but an incident in connection with the election should be of interest to both Ord and Burrill, where one of the candidates for city council is a formerly quite well known. I refer to my old friend, Bill Redfern, painter and sign writer of the old days, as well as caterer to the wants of the inner man at the Burrill road, where he ran an eating stand several years. Bill is a member of the Loup City council by virtue of his victory over a very capable opponent at above mentioned election.

With all due respect to the candidates, especially those of the highest office in our land, I am truly amazed at the number of them who are now so anxious to prove that they are real dirt farmers. No less than three of those we had an opportunity to see for their propaganda were campaigning in Nebraska with literature and pictures showing them around livestock or tractors and tractor machinery. Perhaps this is the way to get the votes in Nebraska, but I'd like to see the kind of propaganda their campaign managers put out in the industrial and mining areas. It is a safe bet they are soft peddling on the farming angle there. It reminds me a lot of the trips the candidates used to take in the days of Bryan and McKinley when they were out at the train by a lot of the leading members of their party in the community and escorted to the leading hotel. That evening before the speech there was always a torch light parade in which all the kids took part. The band usually was hired, or if the band leader happened to be of the same political faith, the boys sometimes played for nothing. Yes, the present day campaigning takes on much the look of the old days.

Mrs. Schultz Explains Omaha Strike Picture
 Omaha, Nebr.
 April 12, 1943

To the Editor of The Quiz:
 In regard to the account you published in last week's issue of the shooting charge against my husband, Wm. H. Schultz, I would like to inform you that you are decidedly in error and will appreciate it if you could reprint the whole story signed by an eye witness and one who knows exactly what happened.
 The Armour plant in South Omaha was not a strike bound plant. Several hundred workers, who did not wish to go out on strike, stayed inside the plant and were fed and provided sleeping quarters by the company, and have kept production going since March 16 when the strike over the nation took place. The company did not have facilities for the women, so they had to come and go each day if they cared to work.

 I did not decide to return to work on Monday, the day of the shooting. I had been working before and we never crossed a picket line. Pickets were at each side of the entrance but had not molested me going in or out before.
 On Monday morning, we were riding in the rear seat of the Sam Markise '47 Dodge, and Mr. Markise, who was driving did not attempt to run a picket line. The mass of pickets were packed solid in the entrance of the plant and we simply pulled up to the curb along side of them.

After I had been off work about three weeks I received a letter from the company urging me to return to work and since I had never participated in the strike and was only out because I was compelled to do so, I called company officials and was promised safe entry and exit to and from the plant if I wanted to come back to work. I returned and was not bothered there, but upon returning home one evening, my landlord met me at my door saying that I must not go back to work because some union people had just called on him, asking where I lived and they told him of terrible things that would happen to me if I tried to go back to work any more. Their car was just leaving our place as we drove in, so we turned around and followed them back to South Omaha in order to find out just who was making these threats and to have them talk directly to us. We caught up with them at a stop sign and Mr. Schultz got out and went up to the car and asked them what they wanted to say to us.

The driver of the car was Fred Romano, president of Union Local No. 8. An argument ensued as to whether or not I was in the car threatening me, and soon a cruiser car pulled up and the officers asked what the trouble was. We told them, but the other party denied making threats and the officers asked us to move on, but Mr. Romano got out of his car and pointed to South Omaha and said "I'll get that S. O. B. if its the last thing I ever do," however, the officers heard this but did nothing, and we both drove on.
 Now we knew the under handed tactics that the union used to accomplish what they set out to do. So we called the police and asked what protection they would give us and they made light of the threats and told me they would have nothing to do with protecting me as to going in and out of the plant. So I asked what I could do about protecting myself and they said that was up to me.

Then my husband went to Sarpy county officials, as we live in that county, and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Fred Romano and the three women who were at our home threatening us. The county attorney also advised us that since this man had threatened to get my husband and since the Douglas county police officers would not do anything for him, he was entirely within the law to carry a gun in the seat of his car beside him, expressly for his own protection. He did not expect trouble in front or at the entrance of the plant as he took me to and from work, but did expect ambush on his way home, as the pickets had previously followed one man, who had brought his wife to work, and they ran his car into the curb and threatened his life and hers and their home.
 So for several days prior to the shooting he had laid the gun in the seat beside him when he drove me to work. We had been alternating with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Markise, driving our car one day and theirs the next, and it happened that we were riding with them the morning of the shooting, and my husband had the gun on the rear seat cushion beside him. At 6:00 a.m. when we drove up to the plant entrance about 300 pickets swarmed along the right side of the car. The Armour police were pinned clear to the doors and could do nothing. They had told us to stand still and not fight back or try to push through the pickets, and that a cruiser car would be on the scene in a few minutes, but there was not a city police car in sight. Mrs. Markise got out of the right, front door and the pickets pushed the door shut behind her but as I was trying to get my door open they pushed it so that my husband had to reach over and help me get it open. I got both feet on the pavement and the mob started beating her, and then we saw Fred Romano coming through the crowd right at my husband who was just inside the door of the car. The pickets pushed me back on the floor of the car and that shoved him back on to the seat also. Romano had suddenly turned and ran around to the front of the car, and in the mean time two men, one a negro, had slipped around the back and pulled open the left door, grabbed my husband by the neck and collar of his jacket and pulled him half way out of the car. They carried burnt two by four clubs, which they had taken from their bon fire, and one man kicked him in the back of the head. By now he was almost on his back with head and shoulders out of the car, but he grabbed a hold of the rope coat hanger on rear of the front seat and managed to pull himself to a half-sitting position and reached for the gun on the seat with his right hand, bringing it around underneath his left arm and fired down towards the pavement, not seeing where or who he might hit, as he shot only to frighten the man who had him by the neck, so as to make him let go. He did let go as he was hit in the leg. The shot frightened the crowd of pickets and they scattered away from the entrance for a few minutes. Mrs. Markise who was down on the pavement and had been kicked and beaten saw her chance to make for the door, which she did.

The man with the club and the negro who had been hit walked away from the car. Mr. Markise reached around and shut the door, and locked the car back and forth to clear the crowd away and we drove on. After the Armour police had signaled him that his wife had gotten into the plant about two blocks up the street.

We met a cruiser car and motioned for them to stop. My husband got out and went to their car and turned over his gun, told them what he had done. The Captain got in our car with us and we started back towards the plant. The pickets had formed a line across the street and were going to try to stop us but the officer told Mr. Markise to drive right into them, but they stepped aside and let us by, then just in front of us, more pickets were chasing two other women who were going in to work, and were beating them and pulling their hair. We stopped so the officer could see that tussle was taken care of by the other police who had come on the scene by then, so then we drove on to the South Side Police Station, where Mr. Markise and myself were booked as material witnesses and we were all taken to the North Omaha Police Station for questioning and later released on bond.

 The morning of the shooting we noticed that our car, a '48 Kaiser sedan had been tampered with. We had it parked on a down hill grade beside our house and had left it in gear but the marauders evidently thought it was being held by the emergency brake and so they placed cement blocks in front of the right, front wheel, then they loosened the brake drums, so that if my husband would have removed the blocks thinking the brake was holding the car, the car would have run over him. This all goes to prove their malicious intent. Our phone rang constantly with threatening calls, and they rapped on our windows and doors at night, and also blew car horns or just anything to annoy us.

 As a citizen of U.S.A. I feel that I have a right to work and according to the Taft-Hartley Law, the Union has no right to stop anyone from working during a strike. The laws governing pickets also states that they must form a line and keep moving, that they cannot block an entrance to a plant and they cannot take hold of those who want to work, or try to stop them in anyway. The pickets were in this instance entirely against the law.
 We merely wanted to earn an honest living and feel that under the four freedoms that our sons of America fought for, we have a right to work.
 Sincerely,
 Mrs. Wm. H. Schultz jr.

Telephone Company Payrolls Up to 2 1/2 Times the 1940 Figures

Since 1940 your Telephone company has continued to employ more people. It has increased wages to retain employees, to attract others to the industry and to keep in line with other business establishments and their wage rates.

The Company's greatest expenditure is for wages. Over 55% of every dollar received goes to pay operators, plant men, commercial employees and helpers. More help is needed so that the Company can carry on the job of expanding and improving the plant to provide the kind of service wanted.

Increased payroll and higher wages require higher telephone rates.

the only car you step down into!"

An auto-wise Detroit editor writes, "Hudson . . . will still be in a seller's market after the buyers' market returns!" A Cleveland motor-car writer, "The public is in for a thrill!" From a San Francisco auto editor's column, "Hudson has really hit the jackpot!"

And so it goes—right around the nation! Men who have "seen everything" in automobiles go for the New Hudson.

It is the only American-built motor car you step down into when entering, not up on! This new development brings you sensational advantages—among them, newly streamlined beauty that would otherwise be impractical.

This new kind of motor car is only five feet from ground to top, yet by stepping down, you get more head room and roomier seats than in any other mass-produced car built today—and there's good road clearance, too!

Because you step down, Hudson's new, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* completely encircles you, even outside the rear wheels, with a rugged, box-steel foundation frame—and this brings you a new measure of added safety.

You ride within this frame—cradled between axles—not on top of a frame as in the past. Hudson's new, lower center of gravity and rugged basic structure give this car delightful roadability—a hug-the-road way of going, especially on curves, that is so safe, so serene, so smooth, it is unlike anything you've known before!

See the new motor car the experts cheer. The nearest Hudson dealer will show it to you now! Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit 14.

Club Win Superior Ratings
At Grand Island

North Loup school band and the girls' glee club each won a superior rating at the music festival held in Grand Island Saturday. Judges commended the band and their leader very highly, saying that a band that won a superior rating from a Class D school deserved more credit than one from a larger school, for they have fewer students to pick from.

Dressed in their white slacks, blue and white capes and caps, with the N. L. blue letters on the white lining of the capes, the thirty-six band members, make a striking appearance. They were taken to Grand Island early Saturday morning for an eleven o'clock appearance on the program. The girls' glee club, composed of about twenty-five girls sang three numbers, "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes", "April Showers" and "Gay Fiesta". They were on the program at 8:30 and left North Loup shortly after six in the morning.

Solo numbers entering on Friday were: Girls' high voice, Thelma Goodrich, excellent; Twyla Green and Theresa McCall, good; medium girls' voice, Barbara Hudson, excellent; Beverly Goodrich, fair; girls' low voice, Alice Meyers, excellent; Kathleen Haight, good; boys' high voice,

A large number of patrons took loads of students down and attended the festival, most of them returning home early in the afternoon.

Loup Valley Federation of Women's clubs will hold their spring meeting Tuesday, April 27, at the Seventh Day Baptist church, from 9:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. A varied program with each club contributing to this will be presented. Lunch will be served at noon by the Dr. Grace Missionary society. Ladies are expected from Loup City, Rockville, Arcadia and Burwell. All women of the community are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tolent, Comfort Cummins and two children went to Grand Island Sunday to see Ronnie Cummins at the St. Francis hospital. Mrs. Cummins came home with them and returned Wednesday. Ronnie is improving and they hope to be able to bring him home soon.

Get a 'Jeep' and get Ready for Spring

SPRING PLANTING TIME is just around the corner. Get your 4-wheel-drive Universal "Jeep" now and get ready for the thousand and one jobs that have to be done. Use your "Jeep" as a tractor, for everything from breaking ground to harvesting... use it for towing and hauling—on or off the road... use it to take power wherever you need it, for operating buzz saws, hammer mills, feed grinders, corn shellers and many other pieces of power-driven farm machinery.

MUDDY ROADS mean nothing to a Universal "Jeep". When the ground is soft and slippery, shift your "Jeep" into 4-wheel drive and go right through. On hard roads, flip a lever and instantly shift back into conventional rear-wheel drive, for highway speed and economy.

LET US DEMONSTRATE ON YOUR FARM.

How to cook frozen fish... fry, bake, broil

by Carol Drake

Packaged frozen boneless fillets and evenly sliced fish steaks are a good catch. They are ready to cook when partially thawed, and are done in a matter of minutes.

Fish has a fragile constitution. Sustained high heat or long cooking will toughen fish protein just as it will eggs. So remember what very high heat does to an egg and cook fish accordingly (with exception of broiling). Cook only until fish flakes at point of knife and no longer.

Cooking times and temperatures given in the following directions are for partially thawed fish.

FRYING. Dip fish fillets or steak in flour first, then in slightly beaten egg mixed with a tablespoon of lemon juice, then in more flour, crumbs or corn meal. Put in pan with melted shortening, cook over moderate heat, turn only once, serve piping hot.

 Steaks, 3/4 inch thick ... 3 minutes each side.

BAKING. An oven temperature of 400° F., just moderately hot, is right for this method. It is really an oven-fry when fish is placed in a greased pan, brushed generously with oil or butter, and baked. No turning is necessary; no odor in the house.

 Steaks, 3/4 inch thick ... 20 minutes.

BROILING. Every rule has at least one exception. High heat should be used when broiling frozen fish. The whole broiling operation is simplified if the fish is arranged on a greased shallow pan instead of directly on the broiler rack. Brush fish with oil or other fat, season; place only 2 inches from the unit. Bake at least once during cooking. Do not turn.

Fillets, 1/2 inch thick ... 5 minutes.
 Steaks, 3/4 inch thick ... 12 minutes.
