Lorenzo Seerley Killed in Cavein Mon. Afternoon

Co. Bridge Foreman Conscious Throughout Most of the Rescue Work.

Lorenzo W. (Ren) Seerley, 64, county bridge foreman was fatally injured Monday afternoon when the backwall of a small wooden bridge, four miles northeast of Ord, caved in on him.

Mr. Seerley was working in a trench dug for replacement of the backwall with Steve Malolepszy and Dan Mason, both of Ord. The latter two had crawled out of the trench to get a plank only minutes before the bank caved in.

They, with the help of Ernie Goff, neighboring farmer, were able to extricate Mr. Seerley after a quarter hour's digging, but he died before rescue operations could be completed. According to the rescue crew, he remained conscious throughout most of the work, but internal injuries proved fatal.

The Ord fire department rescue squad went to the scene, also Dr. F. A. Barta. Mr. Seerley had been a county employee for about seven years.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Hastings-Pearson chapel, Rev. L. V. Hassell officiating. Pallbearers are Ed Mason, Clifford Stone, Steve Malolepszy, Almond Brox, Tracy Hamilton and Harry Clement. Interment will be in the Ord City cemetery.

Lorenzo Wells Seerley was born in Folk county, Nebraska, on June 12, 1883, the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Seerley. At the age of 17 he came to Valley county with his parents, where he spent the remainder of his life.

On June 16, 1906, he was married to Miss Bertha Arnold. Mr. and Mrs. Seerley spent their early married life farming, moving to Ord in the spring of 1909.

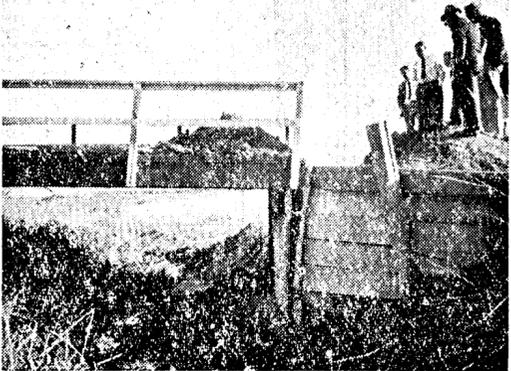

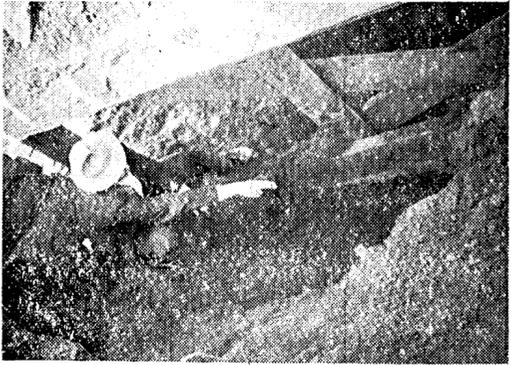

Surviving are his widow, two daughters, Aloye Glines of Grand Island and Dorothy Fauss of Ord; one son, Ray of Anchorage, Alaska, two grandchildren, Shirley Ray Seerley and Nancy Ann Fauss, his aged mother, Mrs. Harriet Seerley of Grand Island; four brothers, L. M. Seerley of Madras, Calif.; L. E. Seerley of Grand Island; L. A. Seerley of Kearney and L. L. Seerley of Cody, Wyo.; five sisters, Addie Bush, Clarks; Blanche Hubbard, Ord; Azelia Work, Los Angeles; Isabella Miller, Cheyenne; and Grace Long of Grand Island. His son, Robert, and his father and two sisters preceded him in death.

Former Valley Man Made 6000 Poppies

The Poppy day sales this year fell just a little short of the last year sales but the goal of 3,000 poppies sold was reached.

While selling poppies on the square Saturday, Mrs. Clark Weckbach and Mrs. John Horn met and visited with Mrs. Fred Mattinson who told them that her brother, Guy Abrahamson, who was injured in a plane crash has been a permanent resident of the Veterans' hospital in Lincoln for the past 16 years. He had to have his legs amputated and is paralyzed from the waist down. He personally made 6,000 poppies last year. Mr. Abrahamson was raised in Mira Valley.

Death Followed Cavein Here

City Dads May Settle For High Fence at Junkyard

Members of the Ord city council indicated they would settle for a 6 or 7 foot fence around the Art Lange junkyard south of town, and if the fence is erected by early June it would withdraw condemnation proceedings now on file. Mr. Lange appeared before the city council Tuesday night to offer to construct the fence, using aluminum and steel posts. The city's street and alley committee will view the situation this week and make recommendations. In a long session Tuesday, city dads reviewed the annual report of the city light and water department and discussed plans for the future. The city is faced with a large expansion program, which may be immediate if Ord renews a contract with the REA to furnish current for farm installations. No decisions were made Tuesday, and the question of expansion will not be settled for several weeks.

F. J. Osentowski District Head of Foreign Veterans

VFW Chooses Other Ordites As Officers of District Organization.

Dr. F. J. Osentowski, past commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Ord, was chosen as commander of District 12, comprising ten counties in this area, at a meeting of posts held Sunday in Grand Island. Osentowski replaces Otis Fent of Grand Island who has held the office the past two years. E. R. Apking of Ord was chosen Judge Advocate of the district.

At a meeting of the VFW Auxiliary, held the same day, Mrs. E. R. Apking was named Junior Vice Commander for this district. The district Auxiliary will be headed this year by Mrs. Leola M. Rogge of Grand Island.

Department Commander W. G. McCreath, Seneca, one of the speakers at yesterday's meeting, said he had recommended that the state VFW headquarters, now located in the state capitol building at Lincoln, be removed to Grand Island or some other central Nebraska point. He said he would make that recommendation at the state convention.

Ord High Judging Team Selected As Entry in National Dairy Team Sweeps Contest Held At Agricultural College.

The Ord high school dairy products judging team, composed of Gerald Valarek, Duane Ivanski and Mervin Hornickel, had been invited to represent Nebraska at the national dairy show contest to be held in Waterloo, Ia. this fall. The local boys swept honors at the state judging contest at the University of Nebraska agricultural college in Lincoln last week, ranking first in cream judging, first on butter and second on milk. Final ranking of the ten top schools put Ord first, Fairbury second, with Waverly, Fremont, Seward, Lincoln Northeast, Beatrice, Elkhorn, Nebraska City and Schuyler placing in that order.

The same three boys also judged dairy cattle where they scored first on Jerseys, third on Holsteins, and second on all classes with 40 schools competing. Judging livestock for Ord was another team composed of Mervin Hornickel, Stanley Nolte and Joe Kvetsinsky. This team placed first on horses and sixth on all classes with 42 schools competing. Nolte and Kvetsinsky also entered the farm shop contest as a team, winning third place. Nolte was also awarded the gold State Farmer key for general proficiency in agriculture. Jess Kvenda is instructor of the Ord high school group.

Ordites Get High Honors at School

Priscilla Flagg is May Queen; Cochran Heads N Club; Tapped for Innocents.

When student honors were passed out at the University of Nebraska during Ivy Day festivities at the school, two Ordites, Priscilla Flagg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gould Flagg, and Alex Cochran jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cochran were chosen for two of the high posts.

Priscilla Flagg is May Queen; Cochran Heads N Club; Tapped for Innocents.

Priscilla Flagg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gould Flagg, and Alex Cochran jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Cochran were chosen for two of the high posts.

The coronation of Miss Flagg as May Queen was the high spot of the Ivy Day ceremonies. She had been selected earlier this spring by a secret vote of women students. A senior and honor student in the college of agriculture, she is active in many campus activities and has been secretary of the Mortar Board.

100 Teachers Attend Meeting in Ord

The fourth and last meeting for the year of the Valley County Education association was held at the high school auditorium in Ord on Wednesday. A covered dish pot luck supper was held followed by a program opened by Irene Auble and a group of junior high girls demonstrating action songs usable in rural schools. Field representative Neal Goman of the Nebraska Education association here from Lincoln was the guest speaker. In his talk he urged more professional organization of the teachers rather than strikes to get better conditions. The rural schools were represented with over 100 teachers present.

Sargent Boys Are Overcome by Gas

Sargent High's trip to the district track meet at Bassett almost had a tragic ending. Enroute to the meet, Coach R. V. De Selms discovered that his runners, who were in the back seat, were unconscious from carbon monoxide gas. The lads responded to first aid treatment in Bassett. It took an hour to revive Loren Swanson. Sargent did not compete in the meet.

Banquet May 6 Opens Busy Week for Ord Seniors

Classroom Duties End for them Friday Because They Passed Up "Sneak Day."

The Junior-Senior banquet on May 6, followed by the prom with the Richard Rogers orchestra from Hastings furnishing the music, starts the season's activities for 1948 graduates of Ord high school. The seniors voted not to have a "sneak day" and to have a week's vacation in its stead. Therefore classroom duties are officially over for seniors on May 7. The class play "I Remember Mama" will be presented for the public on May 11.

Baccalaureate services will be on May 16 at the high school auditorium at 8:00 with Rev. L. V. Hassell in charge of the sermon and Rev. R. T. Courty giving invocation, scripture and benediction.

The Business and Professional Women will have the senior girls' tea at the Clark Weckbach home on the afternoon of May 18.

On Monday night, May 17, the seniors will have class night with Wayne Zlonka as master of ceremonies. At this time the Cosmopolitan award and the Business and Professional Women's award will be presented.

Commencement exercises will be on Tuesday, May 18. Chancellor John L. Knight of Nebraska Wesleyan University will give the address.

A class picnic held on Wednesday will end the activities.

Blanket Increase in Assessed Valuations Ordered for Entire County.

The assessed valuation on all village real estate, and this includes all incorporated towns in Custer county, has been raised 20 per cent. The assessed valuation on all real estate outside incorporated towns and villages, and this applies to all farm land, has been raised 10 per cent.

These raises have been approved by the county board, Mrs. Ethel Thomas, county assessor, said, in order to comply with the request of the state officials in order to bring assessed valuations in the county near to 70 per cent of actual values and more in line with values on similar property throughout the state.

Property owners who have objections to the blanket increases, or to other valuation increases for that matter, will have an opportunity to take the matter up with the board of equalization which will be in session at the court house in Broken Bow starting May 9. The board of equalization, as directed by law, will be in session for a period not exceeding 50 days and not less than three days. Custer County Chief.

Leggett Attending National Meeting

E. C. Leggett, editor of the Quiz, left Tuesday morning by air from Grand Island to attend the annual meeting of the National Editorial association being held May 6, 7 and 8 at Pinehurst, N. C. He planned to spend two days in Chicago on business before going on to North Carolina, and will return home Sunday night or Monday morning. Mr. Leggett is chairman of the association's national membership committee.

Corn Crib and Granary Burn

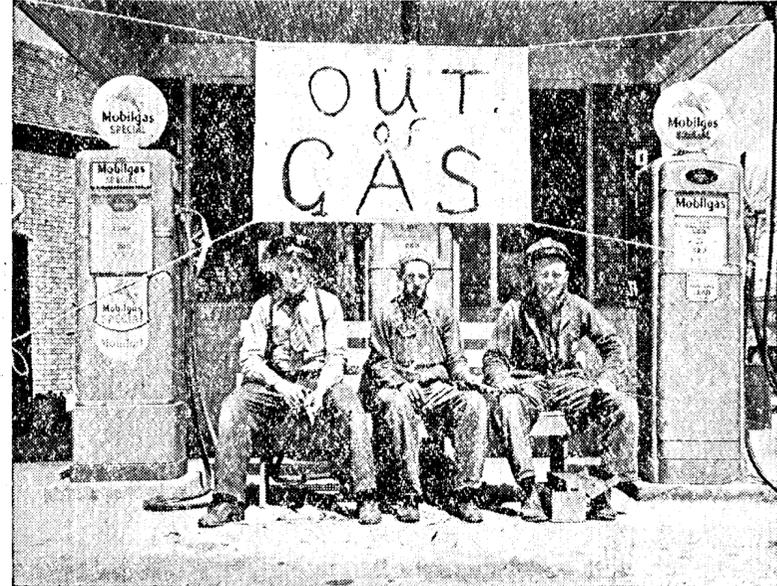

A corn crib and granary at the James Meese farm, northeast of Ord, was burned in a Tuesday afternoon fire. Ord firemen, called to the scene, were able to extinguish the blaze and prevent a total loss.

Canyons Spots of Beauty

Washington, D. C., may have its Cherry Blossom drive, but Valley county has plum blossom drives everywhere in the county. Canyons where wild plums grow thick are masses of fragrant bloom. Domesticated fruit trees in the area are abloom too, and unless a late frost or hail despoils blossoms, a good fruit crop is in prospect.

Gas Shortage Hits Valley County

Although not all dealers illustrated their plight quite so vividly as Clements Oil Co., many Valley county filling stations have had a touch-and-go proposition in maintaining a stock of gasoline. A few stations have had no trouble whatsoever, others have found it necessary to ration customers to five gallons at a time. Left to right in this Swopes photo are Elliott Clement, Ralph Wiberg and Melvin Clement. The first two are whittling, Mel is repairing his fishing tackle.

Something Different

It seems so good to see things green in every yard and field. It seemed like such a lo-o-ong winter.

Though it is early for all the fruit trees to wear their lovely blossoms, and we must keep our fingers crossed to be sure they don't get frosted, . . . flowers, not fingers!

—OO—

Flowers aren't the only things that break out in the spring. As we found out at our house this week. Witness the measles, mumps, chickenpox and other spring troubles the children have.

Thank goodness ours turned out to be netles, with variations.

Never a dull moment at the Leggett establishment.

WE DELIVER PHONE 54

That must have been something to see, when a big "cat" hooked on to the rendering plant, the former ice house, and hauled down a wall at every pull!

It would be something to take movies of, or still pictures.

Something to invite people to see, more exciting than watching construction. And you know how many sidewalk superintendents quickly assemble for new-job-straw-boss-supervision.

Yessir, I wish Bruce had invited us.

—OO—

Aren't you proud of Alex Cochran, junior, and the fine record he is making at university? Every time he wins a new honor, (and it's getting to be a habit with him), that little word Ord is attached to his name, and he has brought honor to his hometown. Mighty fine publicity for Ord, the best in the world.

—OO—

We have lots of fine publicity returning from the fine young people we send out. Last week Loyal Hubert and Keith Kovanda were honored at a U. of N. convocation for their good scholastic standing. Nothing wrong with a flock of grads like that.

—OO—

And did you see where "Our" Frisella Flagg became May Queen at the Ivy Day exercises at the university? Of course she's slightly ex-Ord, but we're glad to claim her, aren't we, since she got her start hereabouts, and lived here the first ten or twelve years of her life?

A charming May Queen she made, if news pictures can be believed.

—OO—

Housewives also break out in the spring. They break out with lines full of blankets. Doors and windows pop open while clouds of dust roll out. They break out with stuff to shake, or with armloads of woollens to hang out and brush, and brush. And maybe to spray and spray, till their arms ache.

If they don't already ache from other work, like waxing. Or heaving furniture from room to room, striving to keep one jump ahead of the painters. Or the pasty wallpaperers.

And when the cherry blossoms break out, the moths break out. Why? They must be some good, but for what? Maybe spread pollen?

—OO—

That reminds me of that story about the little girl who had been told the facts of life, the birds and the flowers and bees. And accompanied her mother to a show.

About the time the hero ardently kissed the lovely movie heroine a clear little voice was heard: "And now is he spreading pollen on her, Momma?"

—Irma.

Conditions Normal, Nebraskan Reports

Things are just about normal in Valley school next Sunday. William Wadas, reported this week in the Omaha Journal-Stockman when he was on the market with a shipment of fat cattle. Even the need for moisture has not reached the point where it is critical, though a good rain would undoubtedly be helpful in getting crops and pasture started.

Acres of seed to oats and barley appear to be about the same as in other recent years, Mr. Wadas said. These spring grains have started coming up, and look good so far, though moistening the dry top soil probably would thicken up the stands.

Cattle and hog numbers on the farms of that community seem to be just about average for this time of year, he added, though there may be a few more empty feedlots than usual. Top to it all, the spring pig crop shows no appreciable variation from normal.

Neither did Mr. Wadas have any complaint to make over his fat

Promise Not to Sell New Buick Violated, Motor Firm Charges

An interesting case was filed in District Court at Broken Bow last week by the Stanford Motor Co., charging Edmund J. Westman of near Callaway with violating an agreement with the company not to sell his new Buick within six months. The contract provided a $500 penalty for breach of contract, the Custer County Chief reports.

Buying a new Buick from the company in October, 1947, at list price of $2763, Mr. Westman is charged with resale of the car to Clyde West of near Callaway in the same month. By selling its cars at list price, the company stated in its petition, it was attempting to stamp out the "gray market," in which the same model might legally have brought $3500. The petition asks $500 damages from Mr. Westman. A similar recent case in Lancaster county upheld the validity of such a contract provision.

SUBMERSIBLE CRAFT WAX INTO ADULthood

The U. S. Navy's first submarine, the USS HOLLAND, was invented and designed by John P. Holland and accepted by the Navy in 1900. In the upper photograph the HOLLAND is shown luffed up and starting to submerge. In the past 48 years of the Navy's century and a half of existence as a Department of the United States Government, development of undersea craft and warfare has culminated in such post-war submarines as that shown in lower picture. She is the USS Pennedon, SS-186, improved fleet-type U-boat following conversion under the "Guppy" program. (Official Navy Photograph)

New Parking Angle; Narrow Stalls Give Motorists Bad Time

New white parking lines painted in Ord's business section gave motorists a bad time this week, as they attempted to jockey their cars in an unaccustomed angle into stalls that are a bit too narrow for modern cars.

Dr. F. L. Blessing, newly elected mayor, told the Quiz "There was a mistake somewhere along the line. We'll have to work out something else, and I imagine there'll be some trouble until the paint wears off."

Ord's street department has put in many hours since the coming of dry weather to remove scores of loads of dirt and mud accumulated here during the winter. Last week the streets were flushed, and a crew started to paint new parking stalls.

In place of the 45 degree parking angle used before, a 35 degree angle was tried this year, so as to allow more room for drivers and passengers to get in and out of cars. Car doors swing free on the new angle parking and other towns where the 35 degree angle is used report it quite popular.

But the street department failed to take into consideration the greater width of new model cars of which the bigger models are as much as eight inches wider.

The city has the job to do over again—but will wait until the new paint wears a bit before marking out new, larger stalls.

Writes Poem for Mother's Day

Mrs. J. S. Gregory sr. of Ord, Springs, N. Mex. has written a mother's day poem. Mrs. Gregory has been very ill with neuritis, but is able to be up and about her room now. With the poem she sends greetings to her Valley county friends.

A Mother's love and a Mother's prayer
Goes with her children everywhere,
With her boy as he seeks his fortune out west,
With her little girl, wife with her babe on her breast,
In sickness, in poverty, or comforts well blest,

Woman's Clubs of Four Counties at North Loup Tues.

Sherman, Valley, Greeley and Garfield Represented, Largest Attendance in Years.

Members of Woman's clubs from Sherman, Valley, Greeley and Garfield counties met in convention Tuesday in the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup, with Mrs. W. J. Ramsey, Arcadia, presiding. A large number was present, the largest in several years.

The program was centered about the theme, "The Challenge of the Changing World," and a highlight of the program were two papers presented on the subject by members from the Arcadia club. The Valley county extension clubs gave an interesting resume of the work of extension clubs in the county, with a brief history of the organization of the clubs. The North Loup club presented a travel talk, also a short play as entertainment. Mrs. McDoald of Rockville gave a talk on Youth Fellowship. Members of the Senior Fortnightly club gave a review of the state convention.

Music was a pleasing feature, being selections played on the piano and organ by Mrs. W. G. Johnson and Mrs. Harlan Brennick, also appreciated music by the members of the North Loup school music department. Mrs. Erickson led the general singing, and a quartet from Burwell sang "Brighten the Corner Where You Are." Mrs. W. J. Hemphill of North Loup conducted the devotionals. During the business session the revised constitution was read and adopted, and the invitation for the fall meeting was extended by Burwell and was accepted. The Cub Scouts in full regalia gave the oath of allegiance.

Following the program coffee was served in the basement, members of the Fortnightly club being in charge. Mrs. Frank Schudel was chairman of the committee and Mrs. Ray Knapp poured. Dinner was served by members of the Dr. Grace society of the church. May baskets were given as favors. During the dinner, Mrs. George Maxson gave out several hats. Before dinner, Mrs. Vernon Thomas was in charge of the mixer.

County Authorities Investigating Macabre Joke of "Grave" Nature

Valley county law enforcement officials, sheriff Bob Hall and county attorney Ralph Norman, together with Custer county Sheriff R. G. Fox are carrying on an investigation this week, to find out who presented Custer county with a grave, complete with tombstones and evergreen blanket but lacking the customary corpse.

Several days ago Sheriff Fox received a call from the Mock farm on the Valley-Custer line that a brand new grave had been found in the pasture. The neatly mounded dirt was covered with a blanket of evergreen and at the head of the grave was a marble tombstone.

Sheriff Fox went immediately to the scene, in a lonely pasture some miles northeast from Sargent, and found the circumstances exactly as the farmer had explained them. With his shovel, the sheriff started a little digging investigation and made a startling discovery. The top layer of dirt came off easily but underneath the soil was as hard as rock. It obviously had been disturbed for some time. The grave was a very realistic fake. The farmer was sure it hadn't been there for more than a few days. The name engraved on the marble stone was that of "Eva Welker" and the time of death noted as July 31, 1913. The sheriff's interest in the matter concerned two important facts. Where had the marble tombstone come from, and what was the explanation of the carefully made "fake" grave in the pasture?

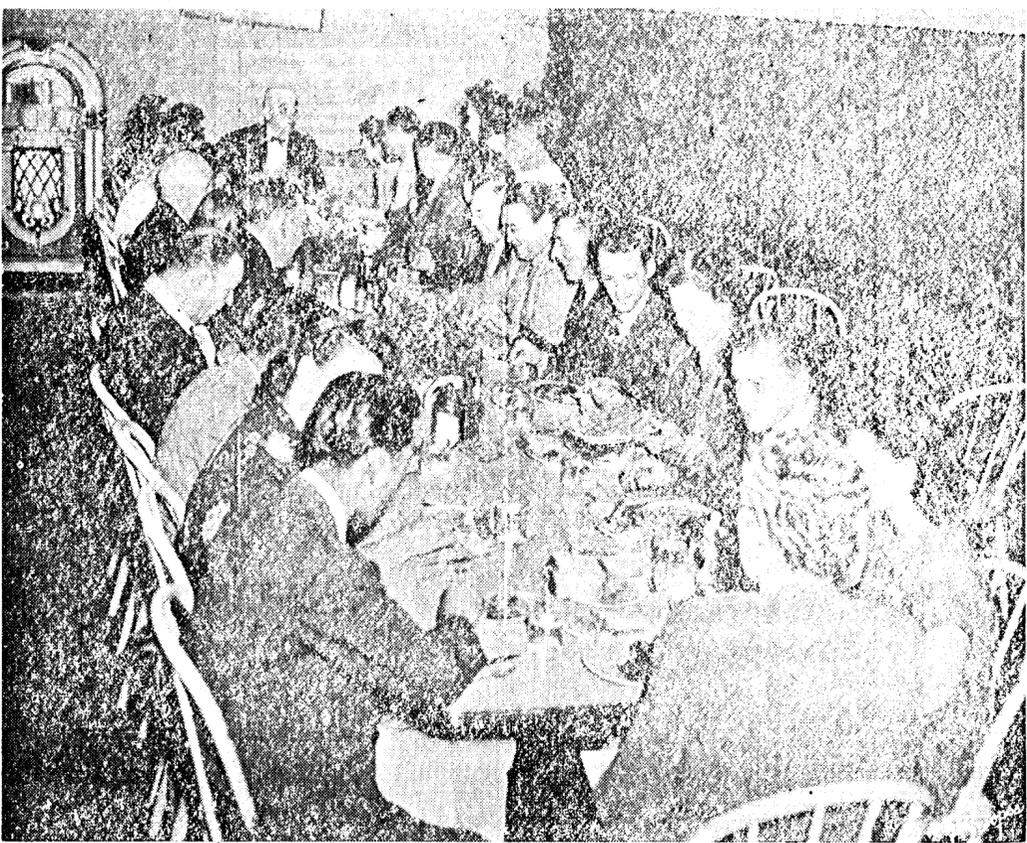

The sheriff's investigation brought Valley county into the deal. Bob Hall had an immediate flash of memory. "Why, I'll bet this is the tombstone I tried to track down two years ago, and never did find an owner." Hall said that the tombstone had been first found at that time in a deep canyon near Sargent and that he and deputy sheriff Verne Anderson had spent considerable time trying to find an owner or origin.

In the meantime, Sheriff Fox checked with a Broken Bow monument company concerning a trade mark on the tombstone and uncovered more of the story.

The tombstone was removed about two years ago from a grave yard at Wood Lake and traded to a monument company for a new marker. A member of the monument company told the sheriff one of his drivers lost the stone off his truck as he was traveling along a country road in Valley county. It had rolled off the side of the road and into a deep ravine, and because it was of little value, the stone was not recovered. This happened about five or six miles from the pasture where the fake grave was found last week and explains the origination of the stone.

Sheriff Hall's unsolved mystery is now solved. Sheriff Fox still has the problem of finding individuals with a macabre sense of humor who would move a 250 pound tombstone from the bottom of a deep canyon six miles away and make a fake grave.

Senior Class Play, Coming May 11th

Marilyn Cook, Al Blessing, Beverly Whiting, Others, in Brilliant Cast.

A Broadway sensation for a number of years and a very successful movie is "I Remember Mama," an adaptation of John Van Druten's stage hit from Kathryn Forbes' book "Mama's Bank Account." This play, chosen by the senior class, is to be presented May 11, at 8:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Due to the fact that the play is so popular, a high royalty is charged for the presentation of it. Admission fee will be 50 cents for adults, 30 cents for high school children and 10 cents for grade school children. Reserve seats on sale at Deranek's drug store.

Mama (Marilyn Cook), who is very much the boss in her home, carefully watches her husband's (Al Blessing) weekly pay. Katrin (Beverly Whiting), who wants to grow up to be a writer, listens enraptured while the family's roomer, a worn-out old actor (Wayne Zlonke), reads aloud from Dickens' "Shiloppee." Mama's painfully tired old maid sister (Clara Rasmussen) who wants to marry an equally timid undertaker (Douglas Dale) seeks mama's moral support. Little Dagnar (Betty Bruha) is operated on for diphtheritis by Dr. Johnson (Bob Dye).

The following head of the family, Uncle Chris (Merritt Jenison) loves to scare and scandalize all the relatives he dislikes.

Mama, by swapping recipes, wheedles a successful author (Evelyn Urban) into reading Katrin's stories and passing on the secret of literary success.

Other cast members are: the rest of Mama's family, Nels (Jay Stodolny) and Christina (Lois Severson), her sisters Jennie (Clara Kusek) and Sigrid (Garnette Kokes), her nephew Arne (John Prien) and a nurse (Joan Sedlacek).

Joan Sedlacek is also book holder while Bob Dye and Wayne Zlonke are stage managers. John Prien is also a flower vender.

Lee Store Group to Norfolk Picnic

The Norfolk Lee store was host to picnic for Heated-Lee employees Sunday at the Norfolk park.

Renovation Work at Bakery Proceeds

Frank Drudik, owner and operator of the Ord Bakery is working very hard and going to considerable expense to give Ord a modern bakery.

It will be several months before the big job of removing all outmoded and worn out equipment and the installing of the new equipment will be completed.

The new all electric oven has been installed and is baking every day. This is a rotary oven that is easily operated and guarantees successful baking. The oven is much smaller than the old coal burning type and the kitchen is being rearranged to utilize this space. Friday an old style bread mixer was disposed of and a new one installed.

An entire redecorating job is planned and the tables and stands are getting a coat of white enamel. The bread slicer is painted and permanently placed.

There is some work that must be done on the building before the entire job can be completed. The old oven had destroyed the tin ceiling above it and that will have to be replaced. It is possible a whole new ceiling will be necessary. A floor covering of some kind

Catholic Women Meet Saturday

The Greeley District of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women met in Ord, April 29, at the U. C. Hall. One hundred twenty ladies and clergy from seven parishes were present. The meeting started with a luncheon at 1:00 o'clock served by Circle Five. Mrs. Joe Parkos and Mrs. Ign. Pokrako were chairmen.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Raymond Waldman of Genesium. Mrs. Leonard Ptanic, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Rev. Thomas Siodowski of Ord gave the welcoming address. Each of the seven parishes; Scotia, Greeley, Spalding, Elyria, Genesium, Sargent and Ord gave reports. Two book reviews were given, one by Mrs. Win. Cain of Scotia and one by Mrs. Rollin Conrad of Sargent. A round table discussion on "Catholic Action" given by Mrs. S. B. Furtak, Mrs. Clark Weckback, Mrs. Joe Belcin and Mrs. Vernon Malotepzy of Ord created a great deal of interest.

Rev. Thomas Siodowski played several piano selections and a trio composed of Clara Kusek, Betty Iwanski and Adeline Dubess of Elyria, sang "O Sanctissima." Clara Kusek gave a reading.

Each visiting clergyman: Rev. J. J. Pachda of Kearney, Rev. Vincent Pelster of Spalding, Rev. Michael Szeczeny of Sargent, Rev. Constantine Shumski of Scotia, Rev. Leonard Zulowski of Elyria and Rev. James McSweeney of Greeley gave short addresses at the meeting.

Last Rites Held for John Kokes, sr.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at 9:30 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church in Ord for John Kokes, sr. The Rev. Paul Wachtel, of Grand Island, grandson of the deceased, was celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass. He was assisted by Rev. Michael Fenwick and Rev. James McSweeney, both of Greeley. Rev. Robert Foster of O'Connor, Rev. Michael Szeczeny of Sargent and Rev. Joseph Harvarten of Pleasanton. The mass was sung by Rev. Thomas Finley, of Ord, Rev. Anthony Engling of St. Paul, and Rev. Leo Keating of Grand Island, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Syl Putlak.

Mr. Kokes died at his home in Ord, Tuesday evening, April 27, at the age of 81, following an illness of several years.

Born in Belton, Czechoslovakia, Mr. Kokes came to America at the age of 18, came to Ord with his father. The family established a home in Valley county.

Mr. Kokes was united in marriage in 1891 to Rose Petelin, who died seven years later. In 1902, he was remarried to Barbara Putlak.

Surviving are his wife, Barbara, and five sons, Adolph, John Jr., and Edward of Ord, Ted of Buhl, Mo., and Richard of Hemet, Calif., and seven daughters, Deana and Mrs. John Blaha of Ord, Helen Kokes, Omaha, Betty Kokes, Lincoln, and Mrs. George Wachtel of Buhl, Ida, Mrs. Joe Stone of Vale, Ore., Mrs. Harold Eshenst of Robbinsdale, Minn., Mrs. Jack Cross of Hemet, Calif., Mrs. Paul Keller of Brankston, Pa., Mrs. Ernest Sights of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. Russell Harris of San Diego, Calif.

Also surviving are three brothers, Charles and Frank of Ord, and Anton of Tekamah, and two sisters, Mrs. Katie Gruber and Mrs. Mary Block both of Ord.

Mr. Kokes devoted sixty years of his life to farming and his place at the edge of the sand flats, on the Ord-Elyria highway, was one of the show places of that vicinity, always stocked with machinery, carefully housed, and always using latest methods for successful and profitable farm operation.

He served four years as Valley county sheriff and while living on the farm always took part in the civic and political affairs of his community, giving generously of his time and ability.

He and Mrs. Kokes retired from farming in 1910 and had since made their home in Ord.

Special One-Mill Road Levy Failed in Custer County

County Attorney Lee Says Measure Failed By a Small Margin.

The special one-mill levy for rural mail route improvement and graveling failed to carry in Custer county by the required two-thirds majority, in the opinion of County Attorney Miles N. Lee. The measure had previously been reported as approved by the voters, and it did carry by a vote of 2,482 to 1,082 in the April 13 election.

The deciding factor to be considered is the total number of votes cast in the April 13 election, Lee said. The poll books show a total of 3,859 votes cast at the election. On the special question of the proposed one-mill levy, only 3,561 votes were cast, meaning that 298 voters secured the special election ballots but did not cast them either for or against the measure.

In stating his opinion, County Attorney Lee said he intended to go into the matter more thoroughly, but that he was convinced the measure failed to carry by the required two-thirds.

On the basis of the number of votes cast on the mail route levy, the proposal received slightly less than 70 per cent of the votes in favor. However on the basis of the total number of votes cast, the mail route measure received only about 61 per cent. In an opinion announced just a few days ago, the attorney general ruled that mail route improvement elections are governed by general state laws covering such proposals and which require approval by two-thirds of the votes cast.

The County Attorney said his decision was based on a supreme court ruling of some years ago and involving a case very similar to the question involved in the mail route levy vote. In that case, "State vs. Anderson," the question was "Do the words, two-thirds of the vote cast, mean two thirds of the votes cast at the polls of the election at which the question was submitted to the electors, or do they mean two-thirds of the votes which shall be cast upon the question itself?" In this action the court held that the two-thirds applied to the total votes cast at the polls, and not to just the total vote cast on the specific question.

Bologna and Weiners

Our famous recipe makes it possible for us to say "Our products are the finest in town." It's not only the recipe—but the choice, selected meats we use that make our bologna and weiners the choice of so many.

And, you'll save money, too. A trip to our market will convince you of that.

OIL? COAL? GAS?

Which fuel do you want to burn next winter? Which fuels will be available? Which is best for your home or business?

Of course no one knows this early which fuels, if any, may become scarce, but it does not appear that anyone needs to be short of fuel next winter.

As to which is best for your needs, we will be glad to help you decide, and feel that we are in a pretty good position to help. We have the best information that we can get on this vital matter, and we'll give you our honest, unprejudiced opinion on the advantages and disadvantages and comparative costs of each fuel. We won't try to sell you on gas when you should use oil, or oil when you should use coal.

We have a complete range of sizes of furnaces available for each fuel, in the Lennox line, as well as the Bell Ringer, the Lennox Auto Fyre, that can within a matter of minutes be adapted to either gas or oil, or can again in a matter of minutes be changed back to hand or stoker fired furnace. This is truly the answer to the fuel problem.

THERE HAD TO BE A FIRST TIME

Advances in American naval ships and equipment have been marked throughout the century and a half of the Navy Department's history by important milestones of progress. One of these was the first flight from the deck of a ship, made in 1910 by Lt. Eugene Ely, when he took off from a miniature flight deck on the foredeck of the USS Birmingham (opposite). Three years later naval aviation had its actual start when Admiral George Dewey signed the report of the General Board, which recommended the establishment of a Naval air arm. Today aviation is one of the elements in the three-pronged American Navy. Flowering of "Navy Air" can be symbolized in such scenes as the lower photo, in which an FJ-1 "Fury," a jet-propelled Navy fighter, makes a landing aboard the USS Boxer while the ship cruises off the California coast. SHORT STORY

Winter Evenings

By RUTH K. KENT

Evy liked winter evenings because then she had time to do her fancy work. Before she married Bill her days were filled at the office and evenings she had to care for mamma . . . winter and summer. Now she had to sprinkle the lawn on summer evenings, but winter . . . last year she made that green needlepoint cushion she and Bill were so proud of. It was sacred to Evy . . . almost like a child.

This winter she was making seats for the dining room chairs, and they were coming along nicely until the Harpers moved in next door early in January. Kathy Harper was tall but she seemed dainty beside Evy's five feet. Kathy could twist her indulgent husband, Curt, around her finger. And her eyes often wandered across the fence after that first day she came over and gushed, "That gorgeous Wedgwood! You wouldn't sell it?"

Evy wouldn't. But the Italian pottery bowl and the tiny dowered picture frame and the blue pitcher found their way to Kathy's living room. Everything seemed to look better in Kathy's living room.

Kathy raved about the needlepoint cushion. Afterwards Bill said, "I'm surprised she didn't get it, too." Then Kathy started bringing over Curt. "Let's have some bridge," she suggested.

"One evening Kathy said, 'Let's play for money.'" Evy glanced at Bill, but he didn't move. "Quarter a corner," Curt said. Bill got that defensive look. "You'll have to work for it."

Bill was an accurate player, but Kathy had a way of taking all the tricks the way she took everything else. Mostly with her chatter. Bill couldn't concentrate. Kathy had a way of putting when she lost. That made Evy secretly afraid that Bill was letting her win.

So the needlepoint lay rolled in the sewing basket. "I'll work on it next week," Evy would vow. But next week was always the same. Except that Curt Harper sort of faded out. Sometimes Evy and Bill would want to go to a movie. Kathy invited herself along and sat on the other side of Bill.

Mamma always said to Evy, "If you'd get mad once in a while, people wouldn't push you around." Evy was getting mad. One evening when she was out making coffee she heard Kathy in the living room coaxing Bill for something. She'd lost her dollar . . . probably trying to coax it back. Kathy's laughter tolled a knell in Evy's heart.

Evy hurried in. Kathy cried, "Don't you dare, Bill . . ." and reached for Evy's needlepoint cushion, ready to plop it on Bill's head.

Kathy started bringing over her indulgent Curt.

"You put that pillow back," Evy shouted, "Don't you dare touch it." Bill took the pillow gently. "Ah, ah . . . no touch."

Evy slammed down the tray. "Nobody touches that pillow. Least of all you, Kathy Harper. That's one thing to keep your hands off." They stared at her. Evy realized she'd been screaming.

"I don't want coffee," Kathy said. "I have to go." "Too bad," Bill said. "Give me my pen."

She threw Bill's fountain pen at him. "Take it, stingy," she said. The door slammed. Evy crumpled to a chair. "I . . . got so mad . . ."

"You sure did," Bill reached for a cookie. "She won't be back." Evy started to cry. Maybe Bill'd go calling on Kathy, now. "How could I?"

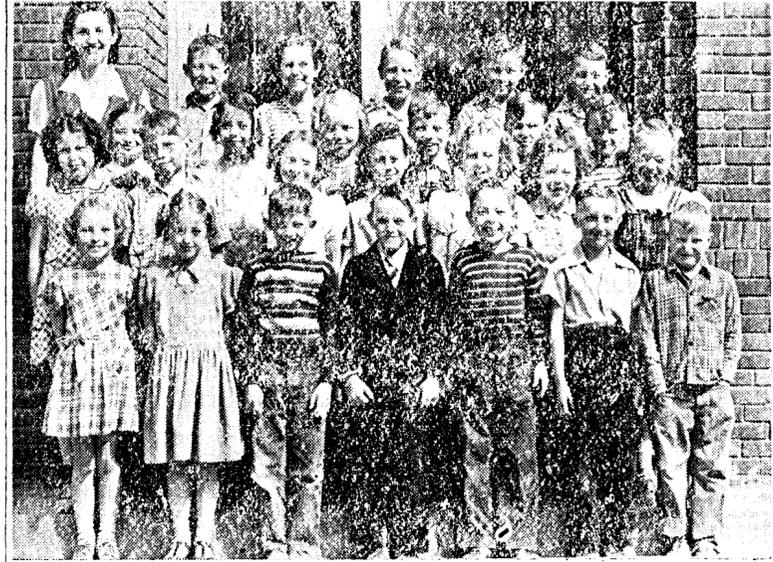

Bill's eyes narrowed. "She was pawing your pillow." "I don't care for myself," Evy cried. "But now you can't play bridge."

Bill scratched his head. "I thought you couldn't live without her. You mean . . . so gods . . . I was doing it for you." He fingered his pen. "Well, she didn't get everything from us."

Evy smiled. Kathy didn't get anything, really. She laid her head on Bill's arm. "I'm going to finish that needlepoint now."

The third grade has learned the four fundamentals of arithmetic. The whole room has worked the whole year on better health and English habits.

Third, Fourth Grades Share Teacher

Miss Inez Swain teaches a combination third and fourth grade combination. She also holds the position of the grade school principal. Miss Swain and the students all agree that the most interesting project that was the most fun this year was their creative art project in which they drew chalk drawings to represent incidents in the story Raggy Lug. The pictures were mounted in such a manner that when each child told the story of his picture the whole story was present. The room went to all the rooms in the building and told the story of Raggy Lug. They even took time and presented a special performance for the Quiz reporter.

The room was busy making pictures to enter in the Nebraska University Art Exhibit on original and creative art. The pictures will be on display at the Miller and Paine store in Lincoln.

The fourth grade and their instructor, Lucy Rowbal, organized a book club in September and have met the last Friday of every month since that time. They have a president and a recording secretary. At present Donald Kapustka is president and Clarice Dodd is secretary. These officers have been changed several times. These meetings are conducted by parliamentary law and each meeting is opened with a salute to the flag. From two to four book reports are given at each meeting.

The club found poems and stories in keeping with the seasons and holidays. A short quiz and a song completed the meeting. It is easy to see why this was the most popular activity of the fourth grade.

SEA FIGHTERS CHANGE ARMOR - NOT HEARTS

From the inception of the Navy Department a century and a half ago American warships have vastly changed from wooden frigates and privateers to steel-hulled battleships, cruisers, and carriers, but the will to fight in defense of America has undergone no transition. The veteran USS GUERRIERE in 1812, rests in retirement in Boston, content to repose the security of her country today in such craft as the USS Alaska (tower), American version of the German pocket battleship. Construction began on the Alaska 10 days after the Pearl Harbor attack, yet she had ample time to participate in many strikes against the Japanese in World War II. (Official Navy Photograph)

Social Security Up One Third Here

The total number of beneficiaries under the social security act has increased more than 31% during the past year, in the area served by the Grand Island field office, Verma S. Rankin, manager, reports. At the end of March 1948, the Grand Island office, which serves the counties in central Nebraska, was maintaining records for approximately 1500 beneficiaries. This includes only the monthly payments. In addition, an average of forty-five lump sum death payments are made each quarter. The lump sum payment is made in death cases, if the insured wage earner left no survivor entitled to monthly benefits.

Ladies G. A. R. Meet Saturday afternoon, the ladies of the G. A. R. met at the Legion hall. Eight members were present. Mrs. C. W. Clark treated the members to lunch at the bakery.

Circus Tickets Free to Grade Students

The Chamber of Commerce of Grand Island has sent two thousand complimentary tickets to their Hollywood circus to County Superintendent, Clara McClatchey to distribute to grade school children in Valley county. There are 1500 tickets for the Thursday afternoon matinee and 500 for the Friday afternoon show. The circus features the Shrine circus acts and is showing at the air base auditorium. At the meeting of Valley county teachers last week Miss McClatchey gave each teacher enough tickets for their students. Anyone in Ord wanting tickets may call at her office. Remember these tickets are for grade school children to junior high age for the afternoons of May 6 and 7.

Foursome Mrs. Ella Weckbach entertained Mrs. Clara Kincaid, Mrs. Edna Norton and Mrs. F. A. Barta at a bridge party Saturday evening.

School Districts in State Consider Reorganization

Increased Costs in Small Districts is Major Factor for Movement

Lincoln—School district reorganization plans have been given a shot in the arm, Wayne O. Reed, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said Saturday.

Supporters of reorganization are at work in many communities, he said, and the rate of district abolition is being speeded up as a result.

Mr. Reed and his deputy F. B. Decker, both saw "increasing school costs" as a stimulant for the reorganizing movement. Residents of certain districts, they said, are beginning to compare their tax loads with those of larger districts.

Increased costs, such as higher teacher salaries, put a greater burden on the taxpayer in the smaller district, they said.

Dr. Archer Burnham, secretary of the Nebraska Education Association, said the teacher shortage is another reason for the fresh interest in reorganization activity.

When teachers become hard to get, the reorganizing movement, Mr. Burnham said, and very often the larger district is better able to offer a more attractive salary. Mr. Burnham warned there will be a greater shortage of salaries if districts keep up with costs of living.

There was evidence of the added interest in reorganization at the convention of the Nebraska School Board Association at Norfolk last month, Mr. Burnham said, where one-third of the program was devoted to reorganizing.

Mr. Decker said the State Department had received many requests from school board members to attend meetings and explain the reorganization program. He said he has attended 25 such conferences over the state since January.

He said he saw a change in attitude of some who formerly were not receptive to reorganization talk.

"Suspicion," Mr. Decker said, "used to be one of the greatest hindrances of reorganization. But now that's beginning to decrease. We're informing the people on the correct meaning of reorganization, such as the fact that no redistricting can come without a vote of the people. Consequently, the citizens of some of the rural districts no longer think the town districts are trying to put something over on them."

Members of the 160 Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in Nebraska today began obtaining the 27,000 signatures necessary to place a World War II bonus proposal on the election ballot in November.

"Our organization is committed to work for adjusted service pay for World War II veterans. We intend to make it a fight to the finish," declared W. G. McCreath, Seneca, department V. F. W. commander.

R. A. Lowe, department adjutant, said 5,000 petitions had been expressed to the various posts.

He said a carefully prepared bill had been drawn and approved by the secretary of state. It proposes a 10 percent bonus for domestic service and $350 for foreign service, at the rate of $10 a month and $15 a month, respectively.

There are 130,000 World War II veterans in Nebraska. Deadline for filing initiative petitions for the November election is July 1, but V. F. W. officials plan to have the required number by June 1.

The proposal becomes law if it goes on the ballot and is approved by the required percentage of those voting at the election.

V. F. W. officials estimate that it would take a three and one-half mill levy for five years to raise the necessary amount. No payment would be made until the full amount is raised.

The present standard length of rail is 39 feet. Some railroads use 45-foot rails; some use 60-foot rails at street crossings. A few years ago the standard length was 33 feet, and before that it was 30 feet.

5th Grade Mrs. Evelyn Jefferies teaches the fifth grade. This grade is unusual as there are 13 boys and only 8 girls. The past year they have studied arithmetic, geography, reading, spelling, penmanship, English, history and hygiene. They also take gym under the direction of Mrs. Leslie Nash. The pupils have enjoyed weaving baskets, coloring maps of each group of states and South America, paper cutting, recreational reading, creative art work, and spelling contests. Each student in the class was awarded the model handwriting pin for progress in penmanship by the A. N. Palmer Co. For entertainment the class has a hallowe'en party, Christmas party and a Valentine box. To date the following students have been neither absent or tardy: Jack Holt, Willy Worrell and Vivian Witherwax.

6th Grade Mrs. Marion Strong is the instructor of the sixth grade. This is the largest number of students in one room at the grade school. The students think the surprise they had for their teacher, which they called "teacher's day" and which included lunch, games, a coonage and doing nice things for their teacher was high spot of the year. The sixth grade had a citizenship contest where they divided into two teams and made their own rules. Points were made under "progress" for good recitations, neat work and etc. Things which retarded progress were whispering, wasting time, noise and others. The team whose leader was Lorraine Dunlap, won with 3199 points to the opposing team's 319 points. Ruth Ollie was captain of the losing team.

Committee Named for 4th of July

The committees for the celebration to be held here July 4th and 5th have been appointed. The publicity committee will consist of Wm. Steen, Ed Apling, Ed Armstrong, Jay Brown and Ed Gnaster. Benjamin Stoddart (right) became the first Secretary of the Navy on June 18, 1798 following the formation of the Navy Department on April 30 of that year under President John Adams. Stoddart served until 1801. Today the Secretary of the most powerful Navy in the world's history is John L. Sullivan (left), who was sworn in to succeed James V. Forrestal when the latter became the nation's first Secretary of Defense. The photo of Stoddart is that of a portrait painted by E. F. Andrews. (Official Navy Photograph)

Oleo Smothers Butter Forces By 2-1 Margin

Battle To Repeal 62-Year-Old Tax Now Moves to Senate

With oleomargarine better than two to one victor over butter in the house, the battle of the bread spreads moved into the U. S. senate Thursday.

Opinions differed sharply on what will happen there. The house Wednesday voted 260 to 106 to repeal the 62-year old federal tax on oleo. It rejected all dairy bloc efforts to compromise. These would have dropped the taxes but required the packaging oleo in triangular or circular sticks.

The expected senate battle shaped up about like this: 1. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Republican policy committee and presidential aspirant, is on the oleo side. He is expected to drive hard for passage of the tax repealer bill.

2. The senate agriculture and finance committees may wage a tug of war for jurisdiction over the legislation. Dairy state members assure they will have a better chance to get up the bill in the agriculture committee.

Senator Thye (R-Minn.), member of the agriculture committee, told reporters: "We will do our utmost to defeat the bill." He represents one of the great dairy states.

Senator Chapman (D-Iowa), (D-SC) and Fopper (D-Fla.) predicted the bill will march through the senate as it did in the house. South Carolina and Florida are among the southern states that produce cotton-seed and peanut oils which go into oleo.

In their last ditch stand, house members from the dairy districts fought to get up to give oleo a distinct marking. But triangular oleo was beaten 114 to 83. Round oleo went down for the count. 119 to 87.

The federal taxes that the legislation aims to kill are: 10 cent a pound on colored oleo; 1/4 cent a pound on uncolored oleo; a year on manufacturers; $180 on wholesalers of colored oleo; $200 on wholesalers of the uncolored product; $48 on retailers of colored oleo; $6 on retailers of uncolored.

After 35 Foot Plunge

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Van Hoosen and children, of Davis Creek, suffered cuts, bruises and shock Saturday night when their car went over a 35 foot embankment as they were returning to their home from town. The lights on their 1929 Model A Ford suddenly went out and the accident happened before the car could be stopped. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Linko brought them to an Ord hospital to be treated. — Swopes photo.

Ord Baseball Team Off to Good Start Beats Ansley 14-6

Beran, Patrick Both Effective on Mound for Ord; Arcadia Plays Here Next.

The Ord baseball team got off to a good start Sunday by beating Ansley 14 to 6 on the local field. Ord made 14 hits, including one home run, a 3-bagger and four doubles, while three Ord hurlers were holding Ansley to only six hits.

Manager Collins shuffled his line-up considerably to give players a chance at several positions and all the Ord men played head-up ball for him throughout.

Don Patrick started on the mound for Ord, giving up 2 hits and no runs in 3 innings. He was followed by Dick Beran who tolled 5 innings, giving 2 hits and 1 run. Bill Anderson finished, giving 2 hits and 2 runs in one inning. Patrick got credit for the victory.

Roll Beran was the stick artist for the locals, making four hits including a home run. Manager Collins uncovered a new catcher in the person of Harry Bait, who pleased fans with his efficient backstopping.

Next Sunday the fast Arcadia team plays on the Ord field.

Article In Quiz Brings Out Choice Group Old Stamps

When P. S. Dunlap read an article in the Quiz last week illustrating old rare stamps that had been sent here to make engravings, he and Mrs. Dunlap remembered that they had a parcel or two of old envelopes tucked away in their keepsakes.

Among the items was a franchise, dated 1870, granting his father sales rights to a new patented beehive for southern Illinois. Mr. Dunlap didn't bring the old letters to the Quiz with him, but from his description, E. H. Appling, Quiz advertising manager, was able to identify several of the stamps for him. One, a three cent stamp, was issued in 1869 and the other, a two-cent, in 1893.

Readers who have old letters and wish an appraisal or identification are invited to bring or send them to the Quiz, where Appling will attempt to identify them. He cautions them not to remove or tear the stamps from the envelopes, for the dated and post-marked envelopes enhance their value to a collector.

Pesta To Enter District Marble Tournment May 16

LaVerne Pesta, winner of the Valley county marble tournament staged in Ord last week by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will enter the VFW district tournament to be staged Sunday, May 16 at Grand Island. If he wins this contest he will be eligible to enter the state contest at Lincoln, where the grand prize will be an all-expense trip to Salt Lake City, site of the national VFW marble tournament. Several handsome prizes will be awarded at the district VFW tournament, including a bicycle, a 22 rifle and a fishing outfit.

School Program Nets $25 For Cancer Fund

At the pie social and white elephant sale at last week's school Friday night over $25 was raised for the cancer fund. Mrs. Bruce Peterson is the teacher of this school, and reports that there was not a large attendance but everyone had fun and were generous. There will be more cash donated by the patrons before the money is turned in.

Pop Corn Contracts

We have nearly all of our popcorn contracts placed, but still have a little less than 100 acres of White Hullless to put out. If you are interested in growing Popcorn at $5 per cwt., and want to make an early delivery next fall, come in and let us explain our contracts. This is one of the finest popcorn contracts you have ever had a chance to sign.

Seed Corn

Most of you have placed your orders for about as much seed corn as you will need to plant this month; however we do have a very good selection of seed corn of Cornhusker, Standard & Lowes White in stock. These varieties of Hybrid corn have done very well in this section of Nebraska and they will do well for you. Some of the best yielding corn in the state contests have been Cornhusker Hybrids. If you have never tried these good hybrids you should try a bushel or two. We have several new numbers as well as the old regular numbers.

Sudan

We do have a very good supply of Certified Sudan, Sweet Sudan and local common Sudan. It is true that Sudan is not as high as some of the other feeds. Cane, Millet and Sorghos are much higher priced this year than they usually are. Germination on cane seed is bad this year. Be sure that any cane seed that you plant is tested.

Seed Potatoes

We have a very few Certified Ohio and Cobblers left. If you have not bought your seed potatoes as yet be sure to get them very soon as the supply is about exhausted.

Plants

Tomatoes, Frostproof cabbage, Peppers, Celery, Egg plant now in stock. We are out of Bermuda Onions just now but will have more in very soon. Get your plants out early and have early vegetables. We do have a very large stock of bulk garden seed and we have a nice selection of package seeds of both flower and vegetable. If you don't have your garden started as yet you should get it started at once.

Feeds

Protein Feeds are quite a little cheaper than they have been and we have been able to reduce the price of all of our mixed feeds. We can supply a large number more of folks with our very high grade poultry and hog feeds. You would be surprised how good a feed you can buy that is locally mixed and is always fresh. It is not necessary to pay a lot of freight on feeds when you can buy our Blue Tag or Conkey's Y-O Way feed mixed right here at home.

Chicks

Chick prices are much lower than they have been of late. Hill has made some very nice reductions and we are able to get a few more orders of Hy-Line Chicks for the next couple of weeks. Our Hy-Line Hattie laid 27 eggs during the 30 days of April. We believe that is some record. Try a few Hy-Lines this Spring or summer.

G. S. S. Girls Quite Active

The Girls' Social Service club better known as the "G. S. S. Girls" have made a fine record this year and its sponsors, Miss Elizabeth Lukes and Miss Maude Holden, feel they deserve recognition for their work.

The organization's purpose is to serve the school and the town whenever possible. They are not well known and much of their work is the tiresome details behind the scenes of other activity.

An example of which was the following and stamping of 1,000 letters for the T. B. drive.

The first project of this school year was the filling and packing of Red Cross gift boxes. The girls themselves filled three boxes. They checked forty boxes from other schools before they were mailed.

They made toys, one box of which was sent to the Holdrege children's home and some went into the Junior Red Cross box sent to the orthopedic hospital in Lincoln.

On Nov. 20 they sponsored a convocation for the school. Mrs. C. J. Mortensen was the guest speaker and told of her trip to Europe. Following heart sister week the club entertained the lady teachers at a covered dish dinner.

A final party will be held April 15 where officers will be elected to carry on the service work next fall.

Married

BETTY HAUGHT

Miss Betty Jean Haught, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Haught of Curtis, Neb., became the bride of Dwayne Covey, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Covey in the Methodist church at Curtis, Sunday May 2, at 12:00 noon. Rev. Moore performed the double ring ceremony. The church altar was banked with baskets of gladioli and tulips.

Beverly Covey, sister of the groom accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Moore, sang "Because" before the ceremony. Donald Haught, brother of the bride and Robert Robertson served as ushers.

The bride, given away by her father F. V. Haught, wore an informal pink crepe dress with a flared skirt and puffed sleeves, with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and white sweetpeas.

Miss Bette Lu Andersen, a cousin of the bride was bridesmaid and wore an informal aqua dress with a peplum trimmed with aqua. Her corsage was red roses. Richard Pedersen of Curtis was best man.

After the wedding a two course dinner was served by Phyllis Clough and Mary Ann Shirley at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. V. A. Andersen. Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Haught, Mr. and Mrs. Will Treptow, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Andersen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hanson and son, and Dean Acher all of Ord; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Fox and son of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Haught of North Platte.

In the evening the couple left on a short wedding trip and upon their return will reside temporarily at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Haught.

Engaged

LILLIAN GENESKI

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geneski announce the engagement of their daughter Lillian Pauline to Fay Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gilliam of Scotia. Miss Geneski graduated from Ord high school in 1945 and has been employed by Dr. Parkins since that time.

Mr. Gilliam served in the navy during the last war. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

May Day Breakfast

About 25 members of the Methodist Intermediate and Junior department enjoyed a May Day breakfast together at the church Sunday morning at 9:00. Mrs. L. A. Muncy planned the breakfast. She was assisted in the preparation by Mrs. L. V. Hassell. Rev. Hassell took charge of a social tour before breakfast was served. After breakfast a discussion was held about missionary projects and each class chose a project to work on. Mrs. Seth Mason, Mrs. Guy Mulligan, Mrs. Rollin Dye and Beverly Brox helped with the breakfast by doing the dishes and the cleaning up.

Neighbors brought covered dishes for lunch and had a birthday party for Joe Dlugosh Thursday evening. The evening was spent playing pinochle. Present were Mr. and Mrs. B. Sunninski, Wanda Zulkoski and Mr. and Mrs. E. Platko.

The Okish campfire girls have met every week for the past three weeks to get things ready for their tea they are having Thursday. All girls belong to a cooking club and they are making all arrangements to the extent of doing their own cooking.

Married

MR. AND MRS. RAY BASTOW

Miss Florence Duda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Duda, became the bride of Raymond Bastow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bastow of Cheyenne, Wyo., at 9:00 o'clock on Saturday May 1, at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church at Ord. Rev. Thomas Siudowski performed the double ring ceremony. On each side of the altar were vases of red roses and the side altars were banked with baskets of lilies and various colored tulips. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Elsie Furtak. John Golka, soloist, sang "Ave Maria" during the offertory.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a high neckline and long pointed sleeves. The yoke was of nylon bordered with lace which fell over the shoulders. The full skirt swept into an aislewide train. Her fingertip veil was held in a coronet of netted rosettes centered with orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls belonging to the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Harold Bastow. Her bouquet was of calla lilies and she carried a sterling rosary, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Bernice Duda, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a gown of lavender marquisette with a full skirt and brocaded waist. Miss Gertrude Okrzeska, bridesmaid, was gowned in yellow taffeta with a full net overskirt. Their headbands were of white felt flowers and they carried colonial bouquets of carnations and daisies.

The groom was attended by Raymond Duda as best man and John Duda, brothers of the bride. The ushers were Elmer Lukesh and James Duda.

Dinner was served to fifty guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Duda. A three-tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Leo Shimek formed the centerpiece for the bridal table. Mrs. John Sacotte had charge of the guest book.

For their wedding trip to California, the bride wore a suit of kelly green wool with black accessories.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bastow and Mr. and Mrs. Oral Case all of Cheyenne and Mrs. Leland Ingebritson and sons of Iowa Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Bastow will reside at Casper, Wyo., where the groom is employed.

Second Graders Face Camera

1st. Grade
The first grade is taught by Miss Deloris Donnellson of Norfolk. This is her third year of teaching in the Ord schools and she plans to teach here again next year.
The room is gaily decorated with the art work of the children. There are posters of bright yellow canaries and spring rain pictures on display.
The class has just completed a unit on the study of the home. They studied the needs of a family that included food, clothing and fabrics and their origin and health rules. The room has a doll house for which the children made curtains and brought furniture from their home to play with. The rooms were arranged and rearranged many times.
Each student is very proud of being able to print their name.

2nd. Grade
Miss Jacqueline Hunt is the second grade teacher. She is also a Norfolk girl. This is her second year here and she has signed a contract to teach the second grade again next year.
The pupils are studying gardening and science. In connection with this they have planted lettuce, grass, beans, peas, mixed flowers and other seeds in coffee cans and are waiting for the plants to appear. Some of these are outside the window in the sunshine and others are indoors. They have three spring gardens built on trays with clumps of dirt that have the roots and small plants of spring flowers in them. These have moss, grass and vines as well as rocks and an artificial lake. The grass is mowed with scissors. These gardens grow rapidly indoors and will shoot their blossoms.
The children have transplanted some cactus and have lima beans sprouting in a jar of water. They have pussy willow and lilacs brought by the students and are forcing the blossoms and leaves.
From these things they are studying nature and science.

Were We Smart Or Just Plain Dumb When We Passed Up A Fortune ???

IF YOU HAD A CHOICE . . . Would You Grab Yours NOW—or continue the same policy that has served you so faithfully for many years?

After the war Implement Dealers everywhere faced this decision. The temptation of "easy money" is hard to resist . . . and a fortune was in store if you were inclined to be what some people call "smart." If you were so minded . . . all sorts of schemes could be devised to circumvent OPA rules and regulations.

All who have dealt with us know our decision, and know, too, that our policy has been the direct opposite of all the things mentioned here.

The decision has cost us many thousands of dollars in immediate profits—to us this would be a fortune—but we have been glad to forego it in the confidence that in years to come our policy will be remembered and appreciated.

- You could make under the table rules.
- You could demand bonuses . . . by insisting on trades at prices far below market value.
- You could "load up" and demand the purchase of all kinds of unwanted accessories and services.
- You could buy and sell wornout machinery at exorbitant prices.
- You could forget your obligations and confine your deliveries to highest bidder, and always save your conscience with the thought that the customer "took your hide off" when he knew you were in a tough competitive position.

IN MAKING THE DECISION WERE WE SMART OR DUMB? WHAT DO YOU THINK?

The Eggs You Get Next Fall Depend On

VITAMIN-ENRICHED FEED

The Chicks You Buy And The Feed You Feed

Every good egg producer knows that it takes more than fresh air, sunshine and grass to make good chicks into good egg producers. If you want maximum egg production, start feeding your chicks Norco vitamin-enriched growing mash NOW and have them ready to produce those Money-Making early Fall Eggs. It doesn't pay to have your pullets loafing around half the winter getting ready to lay. For greatest poultry profits, hurry your chicks along to early egg production with Norco Growing Mash. When the first few eggs are dropped, house your birds and start feeding Norco Laying Mash.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause aching backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidneys flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Letter Received From Germany
Here is a letter received by Mrs. Clara Tetschner and written to her son Floyd by Erich Lingthaler, Woltwiesche, Ueber Braunschweig-Muhlenstrasse 4, Deutschland, Germany, British Zone. While stationed at Gmunden, Germany, Sgt. Floyd Tetschner made friends with the young man and he is asking for food and clothing.

Dear Floyd:
It is quite a long while since I promised myself the pleasure of sending you a few lines again. I do hope you are keeping in good health, as far as I am concerned I cannot say that for myself. Some time ago I received word that my mother died of hunger in Konigsberg. Well, it is not easy for me to have lost my parents, my country and everything. But despite all that one has to fight one's way through the world. The only comfort is my good working place I have in Brunswick. We are, however, still worrying about the food situation. Will it not be possible for you to send me some food or old clothing, it does not matter if the wear is rather old. Perhaps it will be possible for me to repay him that one day. You yourself are not in the position are you? Have you got married yet? If so, please remember me to your wife. If I remember well, you have a road building enterprise. Do you still think of Gmunden? It was a lovely place wasn't it? Please do write me more fully, and tell me something more of yourself and your country. I would like it very much. You know what things look like here because you were in Western and Middle Germany. Looking forward to receiving a reply from you soon, I remain with kind regards,

Your friend,
Erich.

Report Of North Loup Library
Following is a report of the North Loup library for the fiscal year, ending May 1, 1948. Ten business meetings of the library board were held when books were needed and other necessary work done. During the year there were 2,047 books and 1,012 magazines loaned out.

Major project of the board was the lowering of the library ceiling and painting of the walls, and the installation of a new oil burner which makes the room much more pleasant for all and especially for the board members who give their time, that this library may be a benefit to our community.

Most of the expense of this project was met through proceeds from the Jumble shop. The North Loup township has allowed $50 more, making a total of $200 which is badly needed to purchase new books.

Members of the Fortnightly, Junior Fortnightly and Nolo clubs sponsored a bake sale and fish pond in connection with the annual anniversary tea which, together with the silver offering received at the tea table, netted the library $55.

The library board extends a cordial welcome to all to drop in and use the books and magazines which are, after all, purchased for you.—Grace Nelson, Sec'y.

$500 Cancer Drive Goal Surpassed

The final figures for the cancer drive are available and here is the official report given by Ella Weckbach, valley county commander. Ord $121.96 North Loup 74.90 Arcadia 106.63 School Dist. 13 30.73 Vinton school 27.50

Total $691.72

The Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars conducted the drive in Ord, while in North Loup and Arcadia the Auxiliaries of the American Legion made the drive a success. Two rural school teachers, Miss Alice Beran and Mrs. Bruce Peterson took the initiative and had social functions in the districts to raise money for the drive.

The goal for valley county was $500.00.

8th Grade Exams Being Graded

The county superintendent, Clara McClatchey, and her assistant, Mrs. Ralph Craig, are working on the final reports of the eighth grade examinations given in the county last week.

This is the first year that the eighth graders in the town schools took the same achievement examination as rural students.

There is now a national standard record kept of all eighth grade examinations enabling the school officials to compare progress made in all parts of the county.

Ord Man To State Fair Post

R. Clare Clement of Ord has been appointed superintendent of the Beef Cattle department, according to an announcement by Edwin Schultz, secretary of the Nebraska State Fair board.

Mr. Clement is an outstanding cattleman of this area and has served as superintendent of that department for 10 years. He is also serving as president of the Valley County Fair Board and as secretary of the Nebraska Hereford Breeders Association.

Juniors Entertain in Bowery Setting

The Juniors, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Harold Garnick and Miss Maude Holden entertained the seniors Thursday evening, May 6, in a typical "Gay Nineties" bowery garden setting. There were 177 plates served at the banquet to the seniors, juniors, faculty, and school board members and their wives.

The dinner of fruit cocktail, Swiss steak, mashed potatoes, creamed corn, peach salad, rolls, butter, pickles and olives with pineapple kisses for dessert was served by girls in gay Nineties costumes consisting of skirts and blouses and hair styles of that period and typical bowery waiters with mustaches, sleeve holders, and towels around the middle.

The stage was a typical bowery stage with a scenic backdrop and blue balloons decorating the front. A picket fence enclosed the banquet tables and the bleachers were covered with green paper and many potpourri plants to give the appearance of a hill covered with flowers. A street ran along the top of the hill lighted with "gas" street lights. To further carry out the idea of a bowery garden there were several gliders about the room and a "bicycle built for two."

The tables were decorated with centerpieces of daisies and nut cups were printed cloth umbrellas set in gumdrops. Favors for the ladies were colonial bouquet corsages, and the boys were given "bowler" hats which they wore all evening.

Two sophomore boys, Alvin Kapusta as manager and Ladd Cochran as bouncer, circulated thru the crowd to keep everything in order. Charles Munn, president of the junior class acted as master of ceremonies and welcomed the guests. Wayne Zlomke, president of the senior class, gave the response.

Marlene Suchanek gave the reading, "Casey at the Bat", and a gay nineties revue composed of sophomore girls danced. Joe Culp, gave a speech on the "Doo-cry" and a barber shop quartet in bathing suits and bowler hats offered several selections for the diners' entertainment.

After the banquet the tables were cleared away and there was dancing to Richard Rogers orchestra from Hastings until 11:30.

"Mac" Malmsten Killed Tuesday in Plane Crash

Son of Wealthy Burwell Ranch Owner Dies When Plane Hits Side of Hill.

Donald Malmsten, son of C. J. Malmsten, wealthy Garfield county ranch owner, was killed Tuesday afternoon when his Piper Cub plane struck a hillside 1 1/2 miles south of the Charles Newbecker farm, near Taylor.

Young Malmsten's body rolled 65 feet down the hillside. The light plane was demolished. The young man had been in Burwell before returning to the family ranch, which is in the Cedar River valley, northeast of Burwell. His father, C. J. Malmsten, is in New York City at present for eye treatments and his mother is visiting friends at Lincoln. Donald Malmsten and his family visited her there over the weekend.

No funeral arrangements have been made pending return of C. J. Malmsten from the east. CAA officials, it is understood, are making a routine investigation of the plane crash.

Dist. 35 Pupils on Two Day Trip

Berniece Duda and her pupils of District 35 went to Grand Island Friday to see the circus and then on to Lincoln where they visited the state capital, and other points of interest. There are four students in the school, Velmer Fuxa, Doris Zalina, Dolores Zalina and Larry Zalina. Mrs. Ed Zalina and Mrs. Elmer Lukes took the students and their teacher on the two day trip.

Little Mary Beth Lukes stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Shimek while her mother was away. They all returned Saturday evening.

Ministers Elect Ehret President

The Loup Valley Ministerial association met at Ericson Monday, Rev. A. O. Ehret was elected as president, Rev. L. V. Hassell as vice-president and Rev. W. G. Studer as secretary. The members serving in Ord were chosen for the program committee, then the association adjourned for the summer months.

REA Gets Another Half-Million For Adding 289 Miles

546 Families in "C" Group To Be Served; Total System Now 902 Miles.

The Loup Valley Rural Electric Membership Association of Ord has received approval of a new loan of $565,000.00. Will R. Foth of Ord, president of the board of directors, announced Saturday. The new loan will be used to finance the "C" section of 289 miles, build a warehouse, and buy additional transportation, office equipment and tools.

The result of this loan, electric service will be brought into the farm homes of 546 families who live in the "C" district. Construction will be pushed as rapidly as material and labor can be obtained, President Foth said.

Upon completion of its present building plans, the system will consist of 902 miles of rural lines serving 1610 consumers, Foth added.

Foth stated, "We're going ahead with plans to serve the greatest possible number of rural people in our area. We operate on an area coverage basis—in other words, we hope eventually to bring service to every rural resident who wants electricity instead of only to those in our most thickly settled communities."

The Rural Electrification Act requires that REA loans be made on a self-liquidating basis, and the cooperative received approval of its new $565,000.00 loan only after REA had completed a thorough study of the application. This study indicated that the cooperative will be able to have adequate revenue from consumers' power bills to meet operating expenses and repay, with interest, all money borrowed from REA for its rural facilities. Rates charged consumers by the cooperative are based on the actual cost of service.

Since the Loup Valley Rural Electric Membership Association was organized in December, 1935, it has received $1,285,000.00 in loan fund allocations from REA.

County Received $4,259 in April From Gas Taxes

Schroeder Mail Route Money For Month Was $1,703; Slight Increase.

Valley county's share of the state's April regular gasoline tax money and in graveling fund collections totals $4,259.47, according to the state treasurer's report. This is a slight increase over March collections. The county received $2,555.73 in regular funds, and $1,703.41 in Schroeder mail route funds.

Nebraska counties in April split $32,709 in regular gasoline tax money and $211,806 in graveling fund collections. The latter fund comes from the one cent special gas tax that formerly went to old age assistance.

Total collections for the state in March were $20,050 in regular funds and $213,336 in graveling funds. Total gasoline tax collections for April amounted to $1,325,816, of which $604,515 went into the State Highway department's construction fund.

Collections for other counties in this area are as follows: Cust—$7,209.47 regular funds, $1,810.31 graveling funds. Garfield—$1,082.69 regular funds, $721.80 graveling funds. Loup—$617.20 regular funds, $132.46 graveling funds. Sherman—$2,377 regular funds, $1,535.31 graveling funds.

Ord Places Second In State Golf Meet

Dale Third Man In Tournery After Playing Off Tie with Islander.

Ord high school's golf team placed second in the state high school sand greens golf meet Friday in a six team field event at the Kearney Country club at Kearney.

The locals had a score of 226, while Grand Island, who won the state title, had 216. North Platte was third with 233. Other teams and scores were York 259, Wau-noba 261, and Kearney 268. Bob Knickrehp of Grand Island had the low score for the tournament, shooting a 34-36 for a 70, par for the course. Deutchman of North Platte was next with a one-over-par 71. Bob Eck of Grand Island and Doug Dale of Ord tied for third with 72's, but Dale won third place in a playoff of the tie.

Ground Breaking Services Sunday

Dedication and ground breaking services will be held by the Bethel Baptist church at the site purchased for their new church and parsonage, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The program will consist of the ground breaking by Lloyd Needham, chairman of the church board, and services conducted by Rev. Ray D. McColey of Arcadia. The church recently purchased the A. W. Pierce property, two blocks west of the high school building and plan to put in a basement church at the present time. Rev. Olson, pastor of the church, will arrive with his family to take up his duties on June 1. Rev. and Mrs. Olson will be in Ord for the dedication services.

Capt. Crutcher Will Speak Here Memorial Day

Hastings Naval Depot Leader Accepts Invitation for May 30th Services.

Capt. Chauncey A. Crutcher, commandant of the naval depot at Hastings, will be principal speaker at Memorial Day services to be held in Ord at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, May 30. It is announced today by Ross Allen, commander of Fidelity post, American Legion, which with the local V. F. W. organization will sponsor the services.

The Hastings naval officer made an arresting and inspiring speech at the 1947 observance of this day and so was invited to return this year. The Ord churches will be asked to suspend their usual Sunday services on Memorial Day and take part in the services at the cemetery, which will also be given.

William Nelson will have charge of special music for the observance.

2nd Hearing Held in Kinney Case

A second hearing on the compensation case against the Carl Kinney company for the death of James Kinney, who was electrocuted in Ord as the carnival was preparing to leave the Ord fair grounds last fall, was heard in Ord Tuesday.

A complete tribunal court from Lincoln was brought to Ord to hear this case. The first hearing was held before only one judge and at that time it was decided that James Kinney lost his life through negligence and disobeying orders.

Tuesday the case was heard before three judges, Judge Olson, Judge Jackson and Judge Arms, all of Lincoln. Witnesses from South Sioux City were present for the Carl Kinney case, and local witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Austin and George Olson, were heard. Attorneys for the plaintiff, Ruth Ann Kinney Morgan, are Ralph H. Brenner and Munn and Norman. Attorneys for the defendants are Davis & Vogeltang.

After an all day session the judges took the case under advisement with permission to file briefs within thirty days.

Ord-LC Jr. Legion Teams Will Tangle

Quiz to Offer $600 Scholarship in Journalism

1949 Journalism Graduates of Ord High May Vie for Valuable Award.

Beginning with the 1948-1949 term of school, The Ord Quiz will offer to students of Ord high school the opportunity to compete for a scholarship to University of Nebraska school of journalism which will pay all tuition costs for a full four year course in journalism at that school.

The award will be known as The Ord Quiz Scholarship in Journalism. William F. Swindler, director of the University of Nebraska school of journalism, has informed Superintendent C. C. Thompson that tuition costs for a four year journalism course there total approximately $600, so this is the value of the scholarship award which The Quiz is offering.

The scholarship will be given annually for a period of five years, at conclusion of which period it will be decided whether or not to continue it on a permanent basis. Full details with respect to the scholarship are being worked out by E. C. Leggett, editor of the Quiz, in cooperation with Ord high school officials, and will be announced at a later date.

The scholarship may be won by any boy or girl in the 1949 graduating class of Ord high school who has been active in journalistic work during high school and who is desirous of following journalism as a career.

Scholastic proficiency, personality, participation in high school activities, and other factors all-around ability are some of the factors which will be taken into consideration in awarding the scholarship each year.

Ella Bond Gives Rotary Program

Ella Wheeler Bond, well loved Ord musician, furnished two piano selections, one original, for the program at last week's meeting of the Ord Rotary club.

Miss Bond was introduced by Clarence M. Davis, program chairman for the meeting, who gave a short story of her life, telling that she was the daughter of an early-day physician here. Miss Bond is related to Ella Wheeler Wilcox, a noted poet, and Charles Jacobs Bond, who wrote "Perfect Day". Her brother, Rollin, is a nationally known composer and has been a band director in Washington, D. C. since he left Ord many years ago.

Hundreds of Ord children owe their knowledge of the fundamentals of music, especially piano, voice and violin to Miss Bond, who has taught two generations of children, and still has a few music pupils.

Miss Bond's selections at the Rotary meeting were expertly given, and when she finished, all of the Rotarians stood up amid applause in honor of her services to the community and the young people here.

Plock Boys, Teacher Have Operations

Last Monday Dr. C. J. Miller operated on Roger Plock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plock for acute appendicitis. On Tuesday, Paul, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Plock, was stricken and had to have his appendix removed. Both were emergency operations.

Friday evening Bessie Sheppard, who teaches the school where the Plock children attend school had to have a similar emergency operation.

There had been a epidemic of colds and flu in the district that apparently settled in the appendix making the operations necessary. All are in the Ord hospital.

Anderson Elected Alaskan Senator

On the basis of incomplete returns from all 81 precincts in his district, Carl D. Anderson of Nome, Alaska, apparently has been elected a senator in the territorial legislature of Alaska, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson. Carl served in the lower house of the legislature last term.

First returns from 20 of the 31 precincts gave him a lead of over 100 and later returns from all precincts confirmed the lead, though the returns are coming in slowly from far distant precincts and are not yet complete.

Baker to Address N. L. Men's Group

The Men's brotherhood of the S. D. B. church of North Loup will meet Sunday evening, May 17, and will have as speaker M. L. Baker, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. The meeting will be held in the church basement. All men interested are invited to attend, says R. Clare Clement.

Something Different

Little boys and girls love flowers, even when they don't grow in their own yards. And they love to bring Teacher and Mama flowers, even when they must be picked in the neighbors' yards. So says Mrs. Christine Veleba, and she should know, for they've been picking hers.

"Ask me and I'll give you a bouquet," she admonished a child last week. "But you don't think your mama wants stolen flowers do you? Where are you going to tell her you got them?"

The little girl left the yard hastily, without flowers.

Next day she knocked at the door and asked politely if she might have a bouquet for Mama? Of course Mrs. Veleba said yes.

Her little lesson had worked. But she asked me to mention to fathers and mothers about telling boys and girls about picking flowers in other peoples' yards, since there seems to be a good deal of it this year.

This particular minute on Monday morning it appears that Jack Frost is almost ready to take leave of all our flowers for us. Imagine, after lilacs have bloomed!

I wonder why Minnesota-type tarvia—or whatever their black-top roads really are—wouldn't be a good bet for Nebraska? Or at least for the parts of Nebraska that seem to have a shifty topsoil? Pardon me for pointing, but in Minnesota they have lovely black-topped paving, and through much of the resort regions this road is frequently done over at apparently small work or expense. I'm no roadmaker and I'm no farmer, so I'm stupid about exactly the pieces of equipment they use for this yearly or every-other-yearly freshening process, but it looks as though they disc the road top into small chunks, work it over until it is fine, add new tarlike stuff to the old, spread and roll it. Then it is smooth new black paving, minus a single wart.

And the road workers and their equipment seem to tear up and re-settle several miles of paving in the course of less than two days.

Now wouldn't we enjoy having that smooth driving surface on our Nebraska roads? If it could be arranged without too much expense it would be a marvelous improvement on our present method. Which seems to be: perfect paving for say, two years, then increasing blenishes from frost-boils, etc., with more drivers bumping and cursing every day. Lots of sand in our soil make-up, isn't there? A good deal of sand in Minnesota soil too in many places.

Wonder why peanuts wouldn't be a good crop for Nebraska? They love to grow in sand don't they? I've heard tell. Many commercial possibilities in a good peanut crop.

—000—

It does seem to me we should all give to the American Cancer Society drive and also the heart trouble campaign. Above all others, these two drives should interest YOU, and there is no doubt about it. Because at least one member of your family and of mine is likely to die of each of these troubles. Doesn't that give you a personal stake in the research work now being conducted. I think it does.

So make it your obligation to give. Don't wait to be searched out, and politely requested. After all, it's to your own selfish interest to give to both these campaigns now going on. Yes, you've been asked and asked, and you've given to one thing after another, I know.

But this is not the place to tighten your purse strings. Think it over.

Obituary

RAULPH B. RICH

Ralph Burton Rich, son of William and Mary Rich, was born in Streator, Illinois, October 18th, 1882, and passed away at his home in Loup City, Nebraska, May 3, 1948 at the age of 65 years, 6 months and 21 days.

When a small boy, he moved with his parents to Red Willow county near Bartley, Nebr., and then to Washington and to Idaho and back to Nebraska where they settled near North Loup, and where he grew to manhood.

October 1, 1910 Mr. Rich and Miss Amy Goodrich were united in holy wedlock, and moved to a farm near North Loup. To this union two children were born, Donald Burton Rich and Ellen Harriet Rich. Mrs. Rich passed away January 5th, 1957.

October 23, 1939 Mr. Rich and Miss Irene Sample were united in holy wedlock. To this union two children were born, Elsie Moe and Mary Belle Rich.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich lived on the farm between North Loup and Loup City until Jan. 29 of this year when they moved to Loup City. Mr. Rich had been in failing health for some time and most of the time for more than two years he has been bedfast. Throughout all his suffering he was patient and was very kind to Mrs. Rich who did everything possible to care for him. Those who knew of the circumstances and of her patient labors with him marveled at her strength and kindness.

Mr. Rich's father, one brother and one sister preceded him in death. He leaves to mourn his passing besides his wife Mrs. Rich, his aged mother, Mrs. William Rich of Denver, Colo.; his son, Donald Burton Rich of Twin Falls, Idaho, three daughters, Mrs. Ellen Honeycutt of Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, Elsie Mae and Mary Belle Rich of Loup City, Nebraska. He also leaves three brothers: Henry of Camas, Wash.; Herbert of Denver, Colo.; and Howard of Casper, Wyo.; four sisters, Mrs. Lois Peterson of Littleton, Colo.; Mrs. Nellie Helbig and Miss Grace Rich of Denver, Colo.; Miss Lydia Rich of Sequim, Wash.; and five grandchildren besides many other relatives and a host of friends.

WANTED:

substitute for advertising

Is there any cheaper way to make sales than by advertising?

If so, the people who pay for advertising today would like to know what it is.

After all, they are experts at bringing down costs. And that's what brings down prices.

The best proof that advertising is the cheapest way to find customers is—so many people use it successfully.

Chairman Clerk

North Loup Methodist Church
Pentecost Sunday, May 15, 1948.

Church school, 10 a.m. Mrs. Alvin Tucker, Supt.
Morning service, 11:15 a.m. Special music by the choir. Sermon: "The Power Of The Holy Spirit".

Plans are nearly completed for a nursery in the church. This is for pre-school children. Come bring your children, and competent baby tenders will care for the children while you are able to enjoy the service.

The following were received into the church membership, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rowland and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rhodes. The children baptised were Rebecca Lynette Rowland, and David Earl and Nancy Carroll Rhodes.

Flowers were kindly loaned to us for the morning service by Mrs. C. B. Clark.

SHORT STORY

That Smelly Old Pipe

By FRANCES DAVIDS

WITH the air of a deeply wounded man, Henry Little put on his coat and hat and stalked out of the house, slamming the door. He could take slurs on his person, but there was one thing on which he drew the line. He couldn't take insults to that faithful old companion, that sympathetic friend, that trusted comforter and unfailing cheerleader, his pipe.

Up to now Sarah's hints hadn't bothered him, but this morning she had demanded that, "How long, she had demanded tartly, "am I going to have to stand it?"

Henry's small, buttony brown eyes behind the pale plastic-rimmed spectacles noted the headlines with interest. "Bandit Holds Up Another Local Store." Well, well, the police still hadn't caught the fellow, and this was the third holdup he had pulled.

"... and when I saw that hole in the rug, I wanted to scream."

"What?" he asked guiltily, conscious that he had heard only part of Sarah's remarks.

"I said," she repeated exasperatedly, "I found a hole in the rug and when I saw the hole in the rug, I wanted to scream. Now, what are you going to do about it?"

"Me? Why, er—nothing, I guess," he said lamely.

"You certainly are," she cried angrily. She wagged a threatening finger. "I'm sick and tired of finding ashes all over the place. Now you get rid of that smelly old pipe, Henry Little, or I'll get rid of it for you!"

Reaching the store he unlocked the door and went in, put on his sweater and lit up his pipe. The brightly-labeled cans on the shelves of the fresh fruits and vegetables, the dairy products, the household items, all stood in their appointed places, like old friends. Today he would have to go through the stock and reprice some of the canned goods.

THE door opened and a stocky young man came in, dressed in a dark coat with the collar up about his ears and a slouch hat down over his eyes. Dressed rather warmly for such a day, Henry thought. "Yes, sir, what can I do for you?" he asked pleasantly.

"Quiet in here today, isn't it?" the man said.

"Very," Henry agreed.

"Then put up your hands, bud, and open up that cash register," the man snarled, leveling a gun at Henry.

Henry almost fainted with surprise and shock. His knees rattled against each other, and he was powerless to move. "Come on, hurry up," the man said brusquely. The roof of Henry's mouth was so dry and parched he thought he would choke. What should he do? He couldn't fight with the man, who was younger and stronger—and besides, there was that ominous gun pointed at him.

With this terrible predicament facing him, he somehow noticed that on the shelf a little beyond the bandit a can of pineapple juice was balanced precariously on another can and almost looked like it was going to fall. Henry watched it hopefully, and a wild, crazy idea formed in his mind.

Crash! The can fell to the floor, startling the thief so that he made an instinctive half-turn, and as he did so, Henry pulled out the pipe from his pocket and stuck it in the man's back. "Now put your hands up," he said hoarsely, and with as much menace as he could muster. The gun fell to the ground with a thud and Henry dragged it over with his foot and picked it up. "Go out the door and into the store next door," he ordered, his hand trembling. In the barber shop next door he told the astounded barber to call the police.

It was on the front page of the Evening Clarion:

"LOCAL MERCHANT FOILS BANDIT. USES PIPE AS GUN."

All evening long people kept calling and telephoning to congratulate Henry, and late that night he sank gratefully into the sofa and took out his pipe. Sarah, who had just come in, sniffed disapprovingly. "Henry, I—" She stopped short.

"Let me light it for you, dear," she said sweetly.

3-Minute Fiction

Magazine Crew Looks For Greener Pastures

A crew of magazine salesmen who hit Broken Bow this week made a one day stand and then moved on to what they hoped would be greener pastures. They found business poor and police attention in Broken Bow. And, the crew manager admitted, they found that since they couldn't get Blue Cards from the Chamber of Commerce, the going was pretty tough.

Although the salesmen were here only a short time, there were several reports made to police officers of bad conduct on the part of the salesmen and in one instance, the salesmen were found to return a dollar he had collected.

One resident reported a salesman had taken a dollar deposit from an invalid member of the household and had not left a receipt of any type. The salesman returned the dollar at the instance of Police Chief Harry Babcock. The salesman admitted the whole bunch if any further reports of mis-conduct or dishonest dealing came in. The salesmen decided business might be better in some other locality, so moved on the same afternoon.

As the summer approaches, and this is the time of the year when traveling merchants of every type hit the road, the Chamber of Commerce reminds all citizens to be cautious in all dealings with itinerant vendors. Don't spend time or money with the salesman, the Chamber advises, unless the seller has a Blue Card which indicates his activities have been investigated and found to be of an honest and legitimate nature.—Custer County Chief.

Brothers Married Same Day; Wives of Each Ask Divorce

ST. JOSEPH, MO.—Leo W. Munson and Floyd E. Munson, brothers, were married on the same day—and their wives both filed suit for divorce the same day.

The brothers took brides at Troy, Kas. on June 4, one in a morning ceremony and one in the afternoon. The divorce suits were filed July 15 in circuit court in this city.

Jenison Best in Able Play Cast

Merritt Jenison, as the truculent Uncle Chris, was best in an exceptionally able Ord high cast presenting the senior play, "I Remember Mama" to a packed auditorium Tuesday evening. Young Jenison, a gold medal winner in the speech department, played the part with almost professional aplomb.

Also fine were Marilyn Cook as Anna in John Van Drutens' amusing farce, Beverly Whiting as Katrina, Garnette Kokes as Aunt Sigrid and Clara Kusel as Aunt Jenny.

Others in the cast, all of whom did justice to their parts, included Al Blessing, Betty Bruha, Lois Severus, Wayne Zlonke, Jay Stoddard, Clara Rasmussen, Douglas Dale, Bob Dye, John Prien, Joan Sedlacek, Evelyn Urban and Sam Satterfield.

The ambitious production was directed by Mrs. Dorothy Kovanda.

ISA Publicity Post to Arcadia

Benjamin M. Wall of Arcadia, was recently elected Publicity Director and National Representative of the Independent Students Association at the University of Nebraska. In his dual capacity Wall will direct all the Association's publicity, and act as liaison officer between Nebraska ISA and the National Association.

The Nebraska association, formed in 1915, now has approximately one thousand members and functions as a central service agency campus.

Poultry Prices Reported At Same Level as 1926

CHICAGO—Halted housewives, confronted by ever-mounting costs in the food budget, were assured by the Poultry and Egg National board that at least one commodity—chicken—can be purchased for the same price today as in 1926.

Using the recognized base year of 1926, poultry values today are 100 as compared with 163 for all foods. Homer I. Huntington, general manager of the board, reports. The figure is based on the commodity index of the department of labor, which uses 1926 as a base year to record the rise and fall of wholesale prices of basic commodities. Retail prices, which determine the cost of living, generally reflect the wholesale prices, Huntington adds.

Reasons advanced for the low cost trend of poultry today as compared with other foods include: High cost of grain in forcing fowl to market; large freezer supply, and increased efficiency in producing and processing poultry.

No Shortage of Quality Meat At Our Market

Markets that depend on a packing house supply of fresh meats may be affected by the strikes in the area, forcing them to buy what they can where they can get it, but our market, which butchers the best of home-raised, home-fattened beef and pork, doesn't pay much attention to strikes.

One think we're always going to do, and that is keep up the quality of our products. We just don't care to sell low grade meats.

If you aren't in the habit of stopping at our market, do it today. You'll make it a habit.

Beasley's Hurling

Too Much for Ord

Arcadia's new pitcher, Beasley, showed mid-season form in limiting Ord to 4 hits and 2 runs Sunday, while his mates fell on two Ord hurlers for 13 hits and 8 runs, enabling the Arcadia entry in the Loup Valleys league to win easily, 8 to 2, on the Ord field.

A good sized crowd shivered throughout the game, which was played in near-freezing weather with a light drizzle added to make players miserable.

Gegory, Arcadia left fielder, had a perfect day at bat, collecting 4 for 4, while Beasley proved himself no mean stickler by getting 3 hits while fanning ten Ord batters and otherwise making himself a thorn in the flesh of the Ord team.

Dick Beran started on the mound for Ord, giving way to Don

Patrick after four innings. Beran was charged with the loss. Next Sunday Ord plays at Berwyn.

Box score of the Arcadia-Ord game follows:

Sherman - Howard League Play Games

Chilly weather and threatening skies greeted the fans and players for the opening games in the Sherman-Howard league Sunday. The North Loup-Elba tilt was called off as these two clubs felt it was no day to play ball. The best opening battle was played at Palmer when Cushing dropped a hard fought ten inning contest. At Ashton a fine battle was staged till the 8th inning when the lid blew off and Ashton pushed across 6 runs to grab a 10 to 6 contest. At Grand Island the Darneberg lads had things their own way when they took a one-sided contest from the K. of C. club there by the score of 12 to 3. Next Sunday games are Elba at Cushing, Danneberg at Farwell, Palmer at Grand Island and Ashton at North Loup.

SHORT STORY

Footsteps In the Dark

By HELEN DEMIS

AT FIVE-THIRTY P.M. as usual, George Madison left the First National bank of Crosstown. He started up the busy street with the deliberate tread of his, then swung back to the corner. It might look suspicious to change his ways to night.

"The same, sir?" asked old Tim blind since the battle of the Marne in World War I.

"Yes," said George, wincing as his nickel banged the tin cup.

"A bit cool for April," offered Tim, handing up the Crosstown Evening News.

"Get to know weather, don't we—being out in it every day like me an' you. Say—jus' how many years you been comin' from the First National to get my papers?"

George started, paled. Couldn't let on to the old fool that after tonight he wouldn't be around, couldn't explain that after tonight he'd be a free man, a man of means, no longer a slave. Only thing you could call a bank teller, wasn't it?

"It's—it's about 15 years," came from George's dry lips.

"No doubt the bank folks are pretty fond of you by this time," commented Tim. "They're mighty nice to me, too—from the president down."

"Yes, of course," chopped out George, swinging away.

Mrs. Murray's gloomy boarding house irritated him more than ever tonight. But after warm food and lively table conversation with the other boarders, his confidence rose.

He was able to let himself into the First National that evening, nearly as calmly as he'd done hundreds of former evenings. Only this time he would not be working overtime for his superiors. Just for himself.

Finally, he was stuffing big rolls of currency into a traveling bag. He hoped his luck would hold, that Henry, the night watchman, would doze in the back room, as usual.

His luck did hold. It held so well it was uncanny. Even his aged automobile ran perfectly till close to daybreak, when he abandoned it and hopped a fast freight for the west. His chief objective now was to reach a certain man highly skilled in plastic surgery, a man who'd do anything for a price.

GEORGE MADISON now became James Farnum. His hair was bleached white, his upper lip was smooth-shaven, his once good-looking nose was unpleasantly aquiline. Even his voice was higher pitched. He not only looked different, he felt different. He was rich.

In Alaska, he went into fur trading, became surprisingly prosperous. He remained a bachelor and avoided making close friends. Three years of this and he grew restless.

He went to Chicago, then to New York and took in the best shows and night clubs. He ran into Ed Ratchet, former clerk in the old

First National of Crosstown. He talked with him at length and wasn't recognized.

So he decided to return to Crosstown and take a look around. After all it was his home.

He put up at the Crosstown hotel with no questions asked. In the hotel lobby, on the streets and in the shops, he was treated like any stranger.

One day as he passed the bank, he saw old blind Tim sitting on his customary corner. Tim was selling a newspaper to a strange man.

"Guess I'll drop a five spot in Tim's cup for luck," decided George. It gave him a warm feeling inside to be going toward old Tim again.

But as he paused before him, Tim leaped up and grabbed George's beautifully tailored sleeve. He cried, "George Madison! Is George Madison!"

"Let me go! I'm James Farnum!" exclaimed the terrified George, trying to pull away.

"What a break!" said the strange man, holding out handcuffs. "I've been looking for you a very long time! Thought you might blow back—they generally do!"

"Plain clothes, eh?" sneered George. "I'll prove you're wrong—I'll sue—!"

"Can't fool me," piped up old Tim. "I get to know a man's footsteps after hearing 'em for 15 years!"

Chicks

This month we can get a few orders of Hy-Line Chicks. These chicks have been very hard to get the past few weeks but for the next month we are able to get deliveries on a few orders. Try to place your orders a couple of weeks before you need them. So far this year the death loss on Hy-Line chicks that we have had reports on is less than 1%; this is a remarkable record. There is every indication that these hybrid chicks will be just as popular as hybrid corn is just as soon as they are available.

Chick Feed

Our Starter Mash contains an ingredient that seems to control cannibalism. This mash is freshly mixed each week and contains Conkey's Y-O. This Oil-Yeast combination is a very potent carrier of Cod Liver Oil and does not lose its potency when fed or stored for some time. Try this Starter Mash and we believe that you will say that it is fully equal to any of the extremely high-priced Starter Mash. We also have grower mash, Chick Scratch, cracked corn, ground barley and ground oats as well as oyster shell, grit. Let us quote you on your needs for your flock. A full line of Dr. Salisbury and Grand-O-Lac products on hand at all times. Feeders and waterers in stock.

Forage Seeds

A part of our forage seeds are now in stock. Common Sudan, Certified Sudan and Sweet Sudan, Combino Milo, Atlas Sorgho, Sumac Cane, Kaffir Corn, Feterita. Other forage seeds will be on hand a little later. Let us figure with you on your forage needs. With the very dry spring it might be well to plan on planting a little larger acreage of the forages this year.

Grasses and Legumes

Alfalfa and Alsike, Red Clover, Timothy, Red Top, Blue Gramma, Buffalo grass, Lincoln Bromo and Crested Wheat. It is time that Grasses and Clovers were planted.

Hybrid Seed Corn

Cornhusker No. 380 in rounds; 63, 75, 83, 107 in flats. Standard 939, 405, 615, 613 in flats or rounds. Lowes White 6 in flats. Good hybrids are not very plentiful and if you do not get all the seed that you will need, your order should be placed soon. On some of these numbers we have only a very few bushels on hand. These numbers are adapted to this section of the state.

Grains

Grain markets have been very changeable for some time and they are still very unsettled. Various reports coming out of Washington influenced the market several cents in one trading session. If you have grain to sell we would be glad to make you an offer on it. If you need feeding corn or barley or oats we will quote you prices.

Memorial Day Flowers

It is only a little over two weeks till Memorial Day and many are asking about Peonies. It is still too early to know definitely what we will be able to do on the Peonies. If Nebraska Peonies are not in bloom by that time Peonies will be more scarce than they have been in many years. The Peony producing section of Missouri had a freeze recently that ruined most of their Peonies. Our supply of roses and carnations will be fairly normal but if peonies are short those roses and carnations will also be short. We are taking orders now for Memorial Day delivery subject to our orders being filled in full.

This year we will have some nice floral plantings for use at the cemetery. Come in and ask about them.

Remember that we are members of F. T. D., and can telegraph flowers anywhere for you.

To our out of town friends we can deliver cemetery sprays to your lots the evening before Memorial Day Service; but we will need to know where your lot is located. Write us early for this service.

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF ORD

As the City Council and Mayor assume office for the ensuing two years, we want the people of Ord to know the exact financial condition of the City. We want them to know the exact amount of the City's bonded indebtedness and the financial position of the light plant and other departments of the City.

The City has some debts for which bonds are outstanding and the light plant has debts for which warrants are outstanding. The bonds are an obligation of the entire city, with one exception and the warrants are an obligation of the light plant. The bonds will need to be paid off by taxation, and the warrants now outstanding are to be paid for from the earnings of the light plant.

There is one exception to the bonds being an obligation of the City, and that is the bonds of the Sewer Districts. The Sewer District bonds are to be paid for by taxing the property located in the Sewer District. At the present time there are bonds for Sewer Districts Nos. 5 and 6, which bonds are in the amount of $8,500.00. They draw interest at the rate of 3% and are to be paid February 1, 1953. They can be paid any time prior to February 1, 1953, that the tax money is on hand with which to pay them. As stated before, these bonds are not an obligation of everybody in the City.

There is $24,000.00 outstanding in Park Improvement Bonds. These bonds are dated December 15, 1945, and are due December 15, 1955, at which time the entire amount will have to be paid. These bonds are the same as Park Improvement Bonds in that they will be paid for by money raised by taxation on the entire City. These bonds cannot be purchased or paid for before December 15, 1955, as they were made without an option to pay before due date. In other words, if the City had the money at this time they could not pay these bonds since there is no privilege given the City to pay them before they are due.

There is outstanding $25,000.00 worth of Aviation Field Bonds which draw interest at the rate of 1 1/2%. These bonds are dated December 15, 1945, and are due December 15, 1955, at which time the entire amount will have to be paid. These bonds are the same as Park Improvement Bonds in that they will be paid for by money raised by taxation on the entire City. These bonds cannot be purchased or paid for before December 15, 1955, as they were made without an option to pay before due date. In other words, if the City had the money at this time they could not pay these bonds since there is no privilege given the City to pay them before they are due.

There is outstanding $44,000.00 of Ord City Refunding Bonds which draw interest at the rate of 3% to November 1, 1950, and draw interest at 3 1/4% thereafter. These bonds are due as follows: $3,000.00 November 1, 1948, $3,000.00 November 1, 1949, $8,000.00 November 1, 1950, $8,000.00 November 1, 1951, $9,000.00 November 1, 1952, $9,000.00 November 1, 1953, and $4,000.00 November 1, 1954. Of these Ord City Refunding Bonds the Electric Fund owns $20,000.00 worth, which leaves a balance of $24,000.00 in the hands of investors.

There is outstanding $55,000.00 in registered warrants owned jointly by the two banks in Ord, Nebraska, which warrants draw interest at the rate of 2% and are payable from the earnings of the Electric Fund. In other words, they are not general obligations of the City and will not be paid for by tax money but will be paid for out of the earnings of the electric light plant.

The Electric Fund owns some securities which are as follows: U. S. Government Bonds $23,680 and Ord City Refunding Bonds, as above set forth, $20,000.00. The Water Fund owns $6,000.00 worth of U. S. Government Bonds and the Perpetual Maintenance Fund for the cemetery owns U. S. Government Bonds in the sum of $6,306.00. If we separate the general obligation bonds from the Electric Fund, we then see that the City owes $93,000.00 in bonds which are a general obligation of the City and will have to be paid for by taxes. This includes the Park Improvement Bonds, Aviation Field Bonds and Ord City Refunding Bonds.

The Electric Fund then owes $55,000.00 at the present time and has Government Bonds and Refunding Bonds in the sum of $43,680.00, which makes the Electric Fund indebted to the amount of $11,320.00 above the assets it has on hand. This amount can be paid for from the earnings of the light plant, but the $93,000.00 of bonds can only be paid for by taxes since money cannot be taken from the Electric Fund to pay the general obligations of the City until such a time as the Electric Fund has paid its own indebtedness and created a reserve sufficient for depreciation and obsolescence.

In order to get a complete picture of the city's financial condition the cash balances in the various funds must also be considered. These funds belong exclusively to the department under which they are listed and cannot be moved from one department to the other since they are received generally by taxation for a specific department. In other words, a levy is made especially for the cemetery fund, and the money collected by reason of that levy must remain in the cemetery fund, and so on with all other funds.

The cash balances shown in the various funds on April 24, 1948, by the city treasurer's report as as follows:

General Fund	$9,377.81
Park Fund	27.57
Fire Department
Insurance Occupation
Tax	185.00
Fire Department	6.81
Cemetery Fund	5,298.02
Street Lighting Fund	670.00
Electric Fund
Overdraft	6,266.86
Band Fund	227.70
Road Fund	1,433.30
Water Fund
Overdraft	166.22
Perpetual Maintenance (Cemetery)	901.32
Airport Fund	2,323.45
Sewer District No. 5	3,811.33
Sewer District No. 6
Overdraft	2,976.68

It is called to your attention that the cash balances must be considered with the bond report in the cases of the Electric, Water and Perpetual Maintenance Funds in order to get a complete picture of the condition of those three departments. For example, the Electric Fund has assets of $43,680.00 in bonds, and liabilities of $55,000.00 in warrants and $6,266.86 in overdrafts, or a total liability of $61,266.86.

In the case of Sewer Districts No. 5 and No. 6 the overdraft in District No. 6 funds is due to paying all bills from District No. 6, whereas they should have been paid from both Districts No. 5 and No. 6. The outgoing Council at its April 27th meeting corrected the situation and the two funds were combined, leaving a balance in the two Districts of $834.65.

Future articles will deal with the necessity and means of raising money to meet the city's obligations.

Junior-Senior Banquet And Prom A Success

The Junior class of the Arcadia high school was host to the Senior class and faculty at a banquet at the Methodist church basement Friday evening. The center pieces on the tables were large bouquets of lilacs. The place cards and nut cups were small Mexican hats, the menus were written on colorful fans and the basement was decorated in vari-colored streamers, further carrying out the Mexican theme. The sophomore waitresses and waiters were Doris Welty, Bonnie Evans, Barbara Mason, Alene Collier, John Mason, Leander Mendyk, Max Webb and Delwin Sell. The girls were dressed in white blouses, red and yellow Mexican skirts and matching head bands. The boys wore dark trousers, white shirts and black bow ties.

After the banquet, the prom was held at the high school auditorium, Don Loflin and his orchestra playing for the large crowd of dancers.

The auditorium was decorated in vari-colored streamers and colorful balloons. In one corner was a silhouette of Mexican figures. One one wall were green and silver streamers, the Senior class colors, with their motto, "Nothing Succeeds Like Success".

The coronation took place later in the evening. The flower girls were Marlene and Margene Elliott and the crown bearers were Corwin Jones and Buddy Cruikshank. Miss Donna Greenland and Raymond Dalby, vice-president and president of the Junior class led the procession to the stage where they crowned Miss Virginia Mason queen and Don Woody king. The waitresses and waiters then presented a dance.

Steel and Labor Higher?

In view of the strikes, present steel shortage, the imminent 70 group air force which will gobble up part of the steel and aluminum supplies, and increased freight rates, how can prices come down? The demand for autos, houses, and heating equipment is still with us, and nationwide. Prices probably will be up this summer, and the forecasters, analysts and statisticians look back on the depression of the 1920's and still say that although prices in general may be somewhat lower in time, housing and associated industries won't be down much for two years, and only about one-fourth to one-third in seven years. So do we live in tents till then? In seven years we will all be seven years older, which is why, even at high prices, people still must and will build houses.

In spite of this outlook, we are offering two Delco 110,000 BTU oil furnaces at cost, installed or from our floor, because we have them on hand and want to specialize in our Lennox line. This opportunity can't last long, and may not come again for some years.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or sticky passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives heavy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Good Wiring Is

- SAFE—Because all known precautions are used throughout the job.
- ECONOMICAL—Because proper size and type wire is used to give maximum current for each specific need without line loss, or damage to motors. Remember the best is always least expensive.
- CONVENIENT—Because it saves time, gives service when and where needed. Avoids the use of flash lights, lamps, lanterns or matches, in out of the way places.
- DEPENDABLE—Because it is free from trouble, gives you enough current to do the job at all times.

Poor Wiring Is

- UNSAFE—Because electricity will kill without warning, and burn at any time.
- EXPENSIVE—Because you wire once, pay a light bill every month, 10% or 20% loss in current will pay for several wiring jobs in a short period of time. SO IF you are going to pay for a good wiring job, WHY NOT HAVE IT TO START WITH?
- INCONVENIENT—Because you never have the service when and where you most need it. One half the time you burn lights when not needed and the other half the time you are in the dark.
- TROUBLESOME—Because something is always going wrong, and you will soon have a patched up job that is always out of order.

Insure Your Part Too

If your home burns, after the mortgage note is paid will there be sufficient money from the insurance to reimburse you for the value of your equity?

Junior-Senior Banquet
The lunch room of the North Loup school house was transformed into a Stork Club Tuesday evening when the junior class entertained the seniors and the faculty. A red and white canopy covered the entrance which admitted the guests to the room, decorated in pink and white, where an orchestra stand, with a microphone, a false bar and a check stand, flanked the reserved tables. The guests were admitted with tickets, and shown to their tables by the head waiter, Russell Kerr, with Bob Hawkes, Ronnie Goodrich, waiters; Barbara Hudson, Joan Earnest and Donna Stine as waitresses. All were dressed in black and white. Tables were centered with tall silk hats, filled with flowers and favors were miniature hats. Programs and napkins bore the Stork emblem. The three course dinner was prepared by mothers of the Juniors, with Mrs. Leland Stillman, chairman of the committee and Mrs. Lee Mulligan in charge of the dining room. Fruit cocktail, Swiss steak, mashed potatoes and gravy, escalloped corn, apple salad, parker house rolls, ice cream, angel food cake, coffee and ice tea made up the menu.

The program imitated the floor from the radio station N. L. H. S. on the air, with Harry Jaynes and his orchestra. Twyla Green, as president of the junior class was master of ceremonies. Jerold Manchester, as Bing Crosby, gave the welcome, "Stork Club is Honored," Joan Stine as Greer Garson, "Thank You Our Host," Thelma Goodrich as Hildegard sang "One More Tomorrow." The Andrews Sisters, Beverly Goodrich, Twyla Green and Juanita Lenker, sang "Red Silk Stockings and Green Perfume." Key Hole Snooping was given by Evelyn Hamer as Luella Parsons. Celebrity guests by Carroll Mulligan, who represented Bill Stern, gave Myles Nelson a build-up on his school athletic career and Myles replied with thanks. "Line Light Melodies" was sung by Alice Meyers and Myles Nelson, who represented Judy Garland and Frank Sinatra. "Utter Nonsense" by Kathleen Haught and Juanita Lenker as the Mavel sisters, was a parody on the "Too Fat Polka," of the lives of the junior class and the faculty. Jerold Manchester as Bing Crosby closed the program with "Beg Your Pardon." Girls of the group were dressed in formal and the seniors were presented with sweet pea corsages, the class flower. Miss Minnie Jensen as junior class sponsor, supervised the banquet.

Early Wednesday morning the senior class entertained the juniors and the high school faculty at breakfast at the Ord park where they served hot hamburgers, potato chips, sweet rolls, cocoa, pickles, bananas.

Fellowship Luncheon Held
The Loup Valley United Council of church women held their May Fellowship luncheon at the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren church at one o'clock Friday, with about fifty women from the Mira Valley, the North Loup and Scotia Methodists and the North Loup Seventh Day Baptist churches present. Tables were spread in the church basement, each table centered with large bouquet of lilacs and other smaller bouquets.

Following the luncheon, a short business session was held with Mrs. Myra Barber, president, presiding. Officers elected for the next year were Mrs. Harriett Studer, president; Mrs. Esther Russell, first vice-president; Mrs. Thelma Thomas, second vice-president; Mrs. Myra Barber, secretary and Mrs. Dorothy Knapp, treasurer. Last week we did not put an ad in the paper and sold a farm, but that might not always work. So now we want to show you a fine deal, about half way between two good towns and good road both ways, good improvements and river front, 320 acres. Have a man that wants part of it, but it must all sell together. We might fix you up with the part with the improvements and let the other man have the other. Come and see what we can do for you.

Mud-Fly Fishing Rules - Mud-fly fishing is a new tactic recommended for use in dead water holes where trout simply refuse to rise to the angler's lure. Take a coachman fly and clip the wings. Then pack mud into a ball about it. Drop the mud-packed fly on the smooth water. As it settles to the bottom, with the water disintegrating the mud into little spiraling swirls, the trout should smash it for curiosity alone.

Mud-Fly Fishing Rules - Mud-fly fishing is a new tactic recommended for use in dead water holes where trout simply refuse to rise to the angler's lure. Take a coachman fly and clip the wings. Then pack mud into a ball about it. Drop the mud-packed fly on the smooth water. As it settles to the bottom, with the water disintegrating the mud into little spiraling swirls, the trout should smash it for curiosity alone.

W. S. C. S. Meet
The W. S. C. S. met in the church basement Wednesday, May 5 with the president, Mrs. Lyle Alloway presiding. The minutes were read and approved. $23.08 was taken in at the April food sale. Mrs. Hubert Leach gave the lesson on the daughters of foreign lands, giving a sketch of those in the Netherlands, France, England and the Philippines. A vote of thanks was extended to the committee of kitchen improvement for their time and effort for a very modern kitchen. Mrs. Elmer Zlomke of Ord, conference secretary of Missionary Education was guest speaker. A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Cecil Hawthorne, Mrs. Claudine Hindman and Mrs. Asa Anderson, Sr.

P. E. O. Meets
Members of Chapter C. J. of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, entertained the senior girls of the Burwell high school and their sponsors at seven o'clock dinner Thursday evening May 6 at Pilgrim hall in the Congregational church. The room was beautifully decorated with baskets of spring flowers. A scene of a large ship upon the blue water was used to illustrate the motto of the sisterhood, "Tonight we launch, where shall we anchor?" Spring flowers banked this scene. The guests and members of the P. E. O. were seated at tables arranged outside of the picturesque scene.

The senior class colors were used on the tables, silver candles in maroon candle holders, centerpieces of silver held yellow roses, the class flower; scrolls of silver paper tied with maroon ribbon which held the senior girls prophesy were on the tables. Place cards and favors were in keeping with the class colors. The guests were received by Gwen Beynon, a class sponsor and other members of the Sisterhood. Ethel Wood, chairman of the committee for this party, introduced the president of Chapter C. J., Emma McMullen, who gave a welcome to the senior girls and other guests. Wanda Ziegler gave a response for the girls. A musical selection was given by Mrs. Hammond. The prophesy of the senior girls was written and given by Maxine Johnson. A book review of Maine Charming by Graham was given by Ada Tunnichiff.

This was the twenty-fifth consecutive annual party given for the senior girls of the Burwell high school by the P. E. O. members. There were forty guests and members in attendance for this affair.

Rebekahs Meet
Garfield Rebekah lodge No. 233 met for its regular meeting Friday May 7 at the home of Evelyn Olcott. Eleven members were present. The assembly warden will be here to conduct a school of instruction at the next regular meeting. One member presented an application of a candidate.

Plans were made for the district meeting, which will be held at Ord on June 3.

At the close of the meeting, a delicious lunch was served by Evelyn Olcott and Lois Ballard. The next meeting will be at the home of Ella Harlan, lunch will be served by Maude Fuller and Lizzie Shafer.

Mothers' Day Party

The Christian church basement was the scene for the annual Mothers' Day party, May 5, given by the New Century club. Thirty guests and members gathered at two tables to find the room attractively decorated in yellow and green, with house plants and tulips as the floral decorations. The program opened with an introduction of the guests, after which the song "Mother" was nicely presented by Belva Rose Butcher. This was followed by a quiz program and community singing, and ended with an appropriate poem read by the president Lissie Shafer. A lovely lunch was served at a long table which carried out the color scheme in favors, place cards and tulip centerpieces, and lighted by yellow and green tapers. Each of the mothers or mother for the day received a special gift of a "mother" pin as a memento of the day.

Following the guests were Mrs. H. H. Franzen, Mrs. John Wallace, Mrs. Delia Downey, Mrs. Lenora Moss, Mrs. Fern Livermore, Mrs. Effie Breneman, Mrs. J. C. Phillips Sr., Mrs. Opha McClintans, Mrs. W. 'Gingerbread' Outmoded
Wide cornice overhangs are out of date, and houses without them cost less. The same is true of most "gingerbread" which formerly was used as architectural decoration. Simple lines are best.

Card of Thanks -
We wish to thank our neighbors, friends and the Ord fire department, county employees and others who helped and were so kind to us during the tragic death of L. W. Scerley. Your thoughtfulness is deeply appreciated and will not be forgotten.
Mrs. Bertha Scerley and family. 7-1tp

Card of Thanks -
We want to use this means to express our sincere appreciation to those who were so kind to us during Mr. Huebner's stay in the hospital. The fact that he didn't have a thing to worry about during his stay there, rather tells in full just how everyone helped us. It would take pages to list everything, so we'll just say, "Thanks very much neighbors and friends."
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huebner. 7-1tp

Displaced Persons From Europe Seeking New Homes in Nebraska; Many Skilled

Is anyone in the Ord community interested in helping find some of the Displaced Persons in Nebraska a home in Nebraska?

If you have relatives, or friends, or if you would like to help a Displaced Person or family in Europe, could you give assistance in the way of living quarters, employment or financial assistance?

The State of Nebraska Committee on Displaced Persons would like to have information on this subject, to learn what Nebraska people can and will do for relatives, friends or others in the DP camps of Europe, to help them come here to find work and shelter. Church groups are assisting. Rev. Carroll Lemon and Mesgr. J. L. Pruzdick, of Lincoln, are secretaries of this committee. Of the 550,000 persons in these camps, many are Ukrainians, German, Russians, and Volga and Odessa Germans, who do not want their lives infringed by dictatorial government. Many are skilled, and all would like the opportunity to seek a new home and earn a living.

102,012 of these people classify as bakers, butchers, cooks, domestics, waiters, tailors, seamstresses, etc. 227,850 are transportation workers, mechanics, telephone operators, etc. 41,618 are auditors, bookkeepers, typists, etc. 26,865 are artists, clergymen, lawyers, musicians, teachers, etc. 11,794 are physicians, dentists, nurses, druggists, etc. They do not want charity, but want to earn their living by their own labor.

The United Nations U. S. delegation believes that these people should not be forcibly deported into Soviet-dominated countries and prefer to find some place, where they can have a home, security and peace.

If interested in any phase of this program write to Nebraska Committee on Displaced Persons, P. O. Box 1831, Lincoln, Nebr.

City To Spread 1200 Yards Gravel

About 1200 yards of gravel will be spread on Ord streets during the next several weeks, Mayor F. L. Blesing told the Quiz.

"We're next to take an effort to bring every street in town up to good condition," Mayor Blesing said.

The mayor stated that city dads were considering the purchase of street flushing equipment which will also serve as a sprinkling, spraying and emergency fire fighting unit.

Children Lack Proper Feeding

Ohioan Claims That Farm Stock Is Better Fed And Cared For

CHICAGO. — Joseph W. Fichter, chairman of the health committee of the National Grange, told members of the third annual conference on rural health that more attention has been given to the care and feeding of farm animals than to the care and feeding of American children.

Fichter pointed out that a nation concerned with world health and living through the Marshall Plan, should be willing to invest a relatively small amount in the health of its own children if it expected a strong national stock of citizens.

He urged appropriations for state departments of health, for adequate health service throughout the nation and for health supervisors in schools.

Advocates School Lunches.

Other recommendations by Fichter were well-balanced school lunches; lunch periods long enough to permit relaxation and not followed by periods of strenuous exercise; less emphasis on highly competitive inter-school athletic contests and special attention to children's mental health.

He stated that much mental illness was caused by worry and frustration because schools didn't offer children opportunities to pursue studies in which they were interested. Fichter asked that means be found to train more doctors to serve rural populations and expressed the opinion that more young people from rural areas should be permitted into medical schools. Rural youths would be more likely to become country doctors than city youths, he contended.

Lists Deficiencies.

Mrs. J. Laning Taylor, director of the educational department of National Co-operative Milk Producers federation, armed with statistics, said that 100 million dollars was urgently needed for expansion of the national school lunch program.

To prove her contention that most American children were malnourished, Mrs. Taylor quoted:

1. "A 12-year continuous study of 10,000 Pennsylvania school children showed that 85 percent failed to exhibit reasonably good nutrition in one or more respects.
 2. "In Minnesota a seven-day diet survey of 1,080 pupils in rural, town, suburban and city schools showed that 40.2 percent had poor diets, 32.8 percent fair diets and only 27.6 percent had good diets.
 3. "A survey of 200 school children in West Virginia showed 54 percent were getting poor or bad diets.
 4. "In a study of Texas school children, about 20 percent of those examined were anemic enough to need medical treatment because of iron deficiency.
 5. "A dietary survey of more than 1,100 Maryland school children revealed that only 8 percent had an adequate diet."
- Mrs. Taylor terminated her talk with a parting shot at congress for appropriating only 65 million dollars for the national school lunch program.

Parking Meters Mushroom On Main Streets of U. S.

CHICAGO. — A bumper crop of mechanical policemen has sprouted up from coast to coast in 1,500 cities, according to statistics released by International City Managers' association.

Three-fourths of all American cities from 100,000 to 250,000 population use them. Slightly more than half of the 25,000-100,000 population cities have installed them and 40 percent of the 10,000-25,000 group put them in.

The meters, although used primarily to raise city revenue, are versatile. Some cities used them in March of Dimes drives and for the fight against infantile paralysis by urging motorists to deposit an additional dime each time they park their cars.

There are indications that some northwestern farmers may be allergic to them. Brighton, Ore., recently voted to remove its parking meters because they apparently induced some farmers to take their business to other cities where parking was free.

Constituent, 12, Promises His Vote When He's 'Big'

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sen. Tom Stewart, (Dem., Tenn.), received the following letter from a 12-year-old boy in his state named George:

"Dear Tom: I read that you have some horses captured by the U. S. army overseas.

"I would shore like to have one. "Make it the fastest one you have, if possible a mother one, so it can have babies."

George then promised the senator his vote "when I get 'big."

The boy wrote to Senator Stewart after reading that he had urged the state department to retain a number of captured Hungarian horses as war booty.

The Killer's Target

By KATHYRN WILSON

JOE SAND, bank clerk, had decided to kill a man. Looking back on his 47 years, he realized how spineless they had been. Without knowing exactly what to do about it, he had long since grown tired of fetching and carrying for exacting Elmer Dunning, president of Webbyville's First National bank. And what had happened lately left his spirits flatter than any ledger line.

3-Minute Fiction

John Morrie, the cashier, resigned to take a job in an eastern city and the cashier job in Ord. First National became the plum ready to drop into the lap of some lucky man. Joe was next in line for promotion, but he was worried.

He wanted to ask Dunning about the board's plans and didn't have the courage. The small blue eyes in his bony face filled with fear at the thought of such audacity. Somehow he couldn't stretch the narrow shoulders on his short thin frame to the necessary width of confidence.

IN SHORT order Joe's hopes were dashed to oblivion. Why did some fellows have all the luck? That young upstart, Harry Coats, who'd been brought on from New York, made cashier over the heads of the four men having seniority in the bank's marble elegance. Resentment, blazed high until the three younger men got to liking Coats well enough to forgive him.

But Joe Sand, thoroughly incensed, couldn't forgive. He hated Coats, he hated Dunning, he hated everybody. His thoughts were cruel but dangerous, slashing every moral fiber within him. He was determined—to kill!

Dunning needn't think that Joe Sand, the slave, hadn't a chicken's push. Just because he didn't parade a gun and drive was no proof that he hadn't secret ambitions to rise in banking circles.

Joe glanced quickly around his modest room in Mrs. Miller's select boarding house. Shakily, he took a gun out of the bottom drawer of the tired-looking pine bureau, thrust it into his pocket. The weapon had belonged to his father and was rusty with neglect. It had been used for target practice in the Sand family's small back yard, but never to spill human blood. It hadn't been shot off in years. Joe hoped it wouldn't fail him — everybody and everything else had.

At the bank that noon Joe had to be reminded that it was time to go for his daily chocolate malt. Naturally, he was even more so now and his co-workers' furtive questioning glances and whispered among themselves about what was "eating old Sandie." But through it all he was grimly determined. He was doing his last duty for the stalwart old bank which had supported him for 20 years. He had to get everything in order before they took him away—after the killing.

He had brought his records up to date near closing time when he happened to notice Harry Coats doing a peculiar thing. Harry, white-faced, was coming out of the vault, his arms loaded with currency.

JOE wheeled and faced a masked man on the customers' side of the cashier's window. The gun pointed at Joe was no toy.

"Put 'em up or I'll drill yuh!"

The intruder's gaze shifted to the rolls of bills. Joe's right hand dropped to his coat pocket.

Just in time, Joe dodged the bullet that whizzed past. But the shot he fired was followed immediately by the stranger's curse as he bit the floor.

As though jet propelled, Joe darted from behind the counter, and up to the still body.

"Careful, Joe!" warned Coats. "It's a trick—he'll shoot!"

But Joe ignored caution, knelt beside the lifeless stranger, laid a hand on his bloody shirt front. Then he got quickly to his feet and announced dramatically. "The skunk's dead—quite dead!"

Something like knightly valor went sailing through Joe. Why, this was odd! Never had he felt so masterful. Why, he couldn't feel inferior to anybody or anything after this! Nor afraid. Not even afraid of himself.

It was a lucky break that he hadn't gotten around to that killing he'd planned to do today. After all, it would be a pity to disgrace the Sand name. No man ever got even with anybody by putting a bullet through his own head.

Engineers Study Gas Consumption

Auto Makers Scan Means of Increasing Mileage For Motor Fuel

DETROIT, MICH.—Realizing that there is a tremendous waste of motor fuel in the U. S. each year, automotive engineers have started to do something about it by steadily increasing engine compressions.

As yet they haven't been able to devise a practical and economical way to get more mileage out of a gallon of gasoline in midsummer than in winter and wasteful driving habits still are going unchecked.

Although there are certain fuel adjustments which may be made in carburetors during the winter and summer, in most instances, carburetors are fed as much gasoline in warm weather as they are in sub-freezing temperatures. The use of so-called "octane selectors" does not provide the solution.

Explore Problem.

At a meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers it was proposed that dual carburetion systems be installed in future automobiles. Feeding high quality gasoline for cold starting and grade climbing and lesser quality for level surface driving would effect huge savings for automobile owners.

Experiments proved the practicability of dual fuel systems but the major setback is that they add materially to costs already plaguing the average motorist.

New engine heads that step up the compression ratio are one of the few advances in postwar automobile engines. There have been such things as improved engine mountings and other minor alterations designed to reduce vibration but increased compression appears to be the biggest step toward fuel economy.

Motorists Waste Gas.

According to engineers, millions of gallons of gasoline are wasted annually by the unnecessary use of high test or premium fuels in automobiles that derive absolutely no benefit from them. Not more than 20 percent of the 37 million vehicles on the nation's highways today require premium fuels, these authorities say.

Engine temperature control is among the other plans being considered to save fuel in winter driving. Also, improved distribution of fuel to the various cylinders of the power plant will save gas too.

It is unlikely, however, that new model engines this year will disclose more than increased compression as a fuel-saving development.

Fear Gasoline Rationing.

Many chieftains of industry believe that gasoline rationing would very seriously damage car and truck production and distribution. Some contend that widespread order cancellations would follow any major curtailment in the availability of automobile gasoline.

While many car dealers have refused to accept new orders and others have taken "informal" orders with no down payment, a considerable amount of money is tied up in down payments on unfilled car orders. Some industry sources estimate this amount at upward of $150,000,000. A sizeable part of this sum would be reclaimed by would-be buyers if fuel scarcities limited vacation driving.

Cops Return Escaped Nags To Glue Factory for Fate

DES MOINES, IOWA.—Police-men here participated in an impromptu roundup after 24 horses rebelled against their fate as contents of a glue factory corral.

An excited newspaper carrier salesman telephoned police that two dozen wild horses were running east on Grand avenue. In response to the call a police crew soon trapped ten of the horses at one spot, got four more in a schoolyard and then began rounding up stragglers in ones and twos.

The freedom-seeking horses were taken back to the factory.

Scientists Control Air Flight of V-2 Rocket

WHITE SANDS, N. M.—The army announced that American scientists succeeded in controlling the flight path of a German V-2 rocket at the White Sands proving grounds.

Maj. J. B. Dickey, public relations officer, said the V-2 was kept under control by means of an electronic guidance system developed by a contractor for the army's ordnance department.

He reported that the rocket was maneuvered successfully in movement from right to left and up and down during its flight. It reached an altitude of about 70 miles.

Other officers at the proving grounds pointed out that a "beam guidance control" was used in early stages of V-2 tests but it merely maintained a desired flight path and did not maneuver the V-2.

During the war the Germans were able to have the V-2 rockets follow a predetermined course but could not control the missile in flight.

Mother of Nine Says Triplets Are 'Lovely'

WOMAN ENTHUSED OVER SECOND SET OF THREE

SYRACUSE, N. Y. Mrs. Margaret Walker, 40, looked up at a picture of her second set of triplets from her hospital bed here and cried enthusiastically: "They're lovely."

Asked whether she knew which among the three babies in the picture was the boy, Mrs. Walker correctly replied, "Yes, the middle one."

The state department of vital statistics places the chances of a woman having two sets of triplets as high as one in 96 million.

The triplets were delivered by Dr. Stewart Bauman, who brought the Walkers' first set into the world April 21, 1943. In addition to the two sets of triplets the Walkers have three older sons.

During Mrs. Walker's convalescence the father, Michael S. Walker, 42, cared for the other members of the family. He went shopping while the four-year-old triplets were staying at a neighbor's home.

Hospital authorities reported that the triplets weighed 17 pounds 2 ounces at birth. All three were placed under an oxygen tent as a precautionary measure but were removed after a short interval.

The Walkers, purchasing their four-bedroom house on his $50-a-week salary as a factory repairman, are natives of Ireland. They met in the United States, Mrs. Walker came from County Kilkenny in 1926 and her husband left County Mayo for the United States a year earlier.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolf spent several days last week in McCook with his grandmother.

'Look Before You Leap' He Doesn't; Gets Dunking

PENNSVILLE, N. J. — Dennis Donovan, 32, Wilmington, Del., boarded a New Castle ferry and suddenly decided he didn't want to make the trip.

He leaped off the ferry towards where he thought the dock was and landed in the icy Delaware river.

During the time that Donovan was making up his mind the ferry had pulled away from the dock.

He was treated for exposure after being fished out of the water.

Prove Your Love

By HANK McCALL

3 Minute Fiction

JIM WEEKS took his spite out on his car and moaned, "With all the girls in this town to pick from, I get engaged to the one with the wildest ideas."

He had dashed out of Jane Blake's house two minutes before without kissing her goodnight. They were engaged, they wanted to get married, their parents liked the match; in short, everything was perfect except Jane's crazy notions. A doubting, brooding mood possessed her all evening. His trouble started when he rashly promised to do anything to prove his love.

Jane laughed but said seriously, "Jim, I'm going to give you a chance to prove that promise. We aren't going to get married until you get us an apartment to live in."

"Apartment? Why, Janie, you know we can't get an apartment in this town. Besides, we get the third floor of Dad's house."

"No, Jim. No apartment, no wedding."

The next morning Jim came to work a gruff, bitter young man. He ate lunch with Bud Haven, an old friend in the engineering department. The usually quiet Bud was in high spirits.

"Jim, open your ears and listen to some good news. I'm going to production school in Chicago two weeks from today. The company pays all expenses, even for the wives. Betty and I will look up our apartment and prepare to enjoy a free four-week vacation."

"Look up your apartment? Bud, listen to me," pleaded Jim. He explained his predicament while Bud listened sympathetically. Jim easily persuaded him to sign over his apartment.

THOSE days were a whirlwind of frantic scurry. The attendants' gowns had to be ordered, the arrangements for the reception and dinner had to be made, and all the thousand other things that go with a wedding had to be settled in one short week. The time between the nuptials and Bud's departure was to be spent in honeymoon.

The day of the rehearsal found all details carefully assigned. The practice went smoothly until Bud beckoned Jim aside. "I don't know how to say this, Jim, but the company has changed its mind. I was transferred to next month's class."

A squadron of bombers wouldn't have made the roar that Jim's dream boats did as they crashed into the rocks. He had one idea to get across. "Don't tell Janie, Bud. I can't call off the wedding now. I'll find a place tomorrow if I have to buy a hotel."

HE SAID goodnight to Janie early and headed home. As he was waiting at a stoplight a paper boy thrust the weekly edition of the

Iowa Farmer Permits Herd Of 27 to Roam in His Field with Cattle

MILFORD, IOWA. — Most Iowa farmers want deer only in their smokehouses hanging on a hook but one farmer in Iowa who has put out the welcome mat on his 1,000 acres of land for any deer which care to accept his invitation.

His name is John Bush, 72, who lives 7 1/2 miles northwest of Milford, where a herd of 27 deer mingles with his Angus cattle. Bush, who admires deer, estimates that it costs less than 10 cents an acre each season to feed a deer. He claims that the animal is not as destructive to crops as a pheasant but is an asset to a farmer since it helps clear back brush.

Deer are widespread in every Iowa county and frequently farmers request Iowa state conservation officials to reduce herds in their communities.

Insist Deer Are Pests. Many farmers insist that deer eat more than their share of corn and soybeans and often times break fences. But Bush, who knew deer even in his native Scotland, staunchly defends them.

"Deer do not take as much corn as pheasants," he explained. "And what they do eat, they do not shell off as wastefully as pheasants. They don't bother the corn when they can get grass. They don't tramp it down or eat the young plants."

"It's hard to say exactly how much corn the deer will eat but they don't do 10 cents worth of damage to an acre of corn. Furthermore, deer eat buck brush which sheep and cattle won't touch."

The Bush farm has a fine stand of oak timber which offers excellent shelter to the deer.

Trains His Dogs. When he first moved to his farm Bush saw two deer. He ignored them and gradually the deer became accustomed to the man who seemed so interested in the cattle nearby that he paid no attention to them.

In the winter when the ground was frozen the deer accompanied the cattle to the barnyard for food. One day Bush's three well-trained Collies tried to drive the deer along with the cattle but were perplexed when the strangers adeptly jumped over fences to keep out of range. So Bush taught his dogs to ignore the deer.

It wasn't long before the pair of deer spread the good word among other deer and soon the deer population on the Bush farm jumped up to 12.

Disappointed Visitors. Sightseeing visitors who come to the Bush farm to see the deer often times are disappointed. Unless the keen-smelling deer are approached from downwind they retreat deeper into the forest. They can be viewed in the evening when they come in with the cattle for food or at odd moments when they bound across a road.

According to Bush the deer provide a homelike atmosphere on his farm. He likes to listen to the clash of antlers when the bucks duel in the spring.

"It sounds like a fight with pitchfork handles when they battle," he said.

Despite the permanently closed season, deer frequently are shot by hunters in this vicinity. The community here has alerted itself and now maintains closer vigilance.

There are between 2,000 and 3,000 deer in Iowa. Most of these trace their ancestry to Ledges park, where a buck and doe named Jack and Babe were introduced in 1828.

Ord Saddle Club Plans Trail Ride

The Saddle club met and planned some activities for this spring. The first is a trail ride to be held Sunday afternoon at 2:00. They will leave from the barn at that time and will ride four miles out to the grove near Joe Gregory's farm. There a sack lunch will be eaten about 4:30 p.m. Hot coffee will be furnished. Plans are to be back in Ord about 7:00. Anyone who wants to take this trail ride will be welcome.

New members are welcome into the Saddle club. Arrangements have been made to have the horses kept at the fair grounds again this year and it can be guaranteed that the fees will not be over $10.00 for the summer.

Some members of the Saddle club have more than one horse and would be willing for members without horses to ride them for exercise.

Woman Recluse Dies in Home

Jammed With Merchandise

LYNBROOK, L. I.—Ellise Mestra Wolff, 43, one of two sisters weighing more than 300 pounds, died of a heart attack in a five-room frame house which she shared with her sister, Edith Wolff, 51, since the death of her father nine years ago.

The sisters lived quietly in the kitchen, the only room which was not crammed with litter. Other rooms were jammed with merchandise, mostly unsalable, that they had moved from the dry goods store that their father had operated for many years.

With no electricity, gas or water, each morning the elder sister would go to a garage next to their home and get a bucketful of water. They cooked by a kerosene range and all shopping was done by neighborhood youngsters. The sisters paid cash for everything and, according to police, had $12,000 in the bank.

Cases, boxes and cartons were piled in every room and only a narrow passage was left between the front door and the kitchen at the rear of the two-story house.

In recent years, the younger sister never left the house while the elder emerged only to draw funds from the bank. While the sisters rarely discarded anything, police said an examination did not turn up any unusually valuable possessions.

The surviving sister, who is in good health, said she would continue to live in the house.

Needs Occo

When your animals are on a Spring and Summer feeding program, remember that all roughages... yes, even the richest-looking, green, pasture grasses... too often cause mineral starvation because of their low mineral content. Whip mineral starvation by feeding Occo Mineral Compound regularly. Even when your animals are on pasture, feed them Occo and be sure that their rations have mineral balance. It will result in faster, thicker gains... increased productivity... better general health... top market finish. Let me give you the facts about using Occo Mineral Compound with your Spring and Summer rations.

newspaper into his window. He had no choice but to buy it.

Remembering that this edition carried the next morning's want ads he turned to the last pages. His eye searched for the "Apartments for Rent" section, stopped and then danced. His hands shook so hard that he could hardly discern the print. There it was, a thousand to one chance, but it was there.

"APARTMENT FOR RENT. CALL 7883 AFTER SEVEN A. M. DO NOT DISQUALIFY YOURSELF BY CALLING BLUE SEVEN."

The morning light had scarcely appeared before Jim was heading for the apartment address. He found the street and the house, parked his car and ran up the steps to the porch.

He was startled when a voice called, "Jim, you're a little late." A girl sat in the corner, quietly waiting for the landlord.

Janie was laughing when she kissed him. "Don't be so shocked. Betty tipped me off to your little scheme. You don't think that I'd give up the wedding now, do you? I saw this advertisement in the paper last night, looked up the number, and got here first. It's my apartment but you can pay the first month's rent."

substitute for advertising

Is there any cheaper way to make sales than by advertising?

If so, the people who pay for advertising today would like to know what it is.

After all, they are experts at bringing down costs. And that's what brings down prices.

Hybrid Seed Corn
Standard 939, 405, 615, 613, in flats and rounds; Lowes White 6 in flats; Cornhusker 63, 75, 107, in flats, 148, 350, 81, 83 and 85 in rounds. We still have a very good stock of seed on hand and if you need a few bushels more seed corn let us supply you with what you need. These numbers are suitable for our section of the State. In many cases some of these numbers have been the extreme high yielding numbers.

Forages
As dry as it is, don't you think it would be a good plan to put in a small acreage of forage grains? We have in stock Feterita, Milo, and Norkan, as well as Canees, Sudans and Milleta. These crops will do well in dry weather. A small field of Milo will produce a very good grain crop. For pasture we have Common Sudan, Certified Sudan and the new sweet Sudan. A few hundred started Hy-Lines at a very reasonable price. Very seldom does the death loss on Hy-Lines run over 1%; it looks as if Hy-Lines would be much more popular this coming year than they are at present. Let us furnish you with your chicks.

Baby Chicks
All Hatcheries report a very low number of chicks hatched this year. With beef and pork as high as it is in the markets we feel that this would be a good time to raise a nice flock of chicks. We are able to get a few hundred started Hy-Lines at a very reasonable price. Very seldom does the death loss on Hy-Lines run over 1%; it looks as if Hy-Lines would be much more popular this coming year than they are at present. Let us furnish you with your chicks.

Poultry Supplies
We carry a large supply of Dr. Salisbury and Gland-O-Lac Poultry remedies. Feeds of every description, Peat Moss and Oyster Shell. If you need waterers or feeders we have those also. A few Makomb Brooder Stoves left.

Fertilizer
Vigoro and Solitone on hand. You all know what Vigoro is and what it will do for your lawn or garden. Solitone is one of the best fertilizers and is an Organic Fertilizer and will not burn your lawn or garden. Use it and you will be well paid for the cost of it. Prospects of more Nitrate for June or July delivery is no good. We still have a couple of cars on order but do not expect to have them filled this summer. We would be able to get a car or two of Nitrate for Aug. or Sept. delivery if you are in position to store it.

Grains
We have a good feeder demand for yellow corn and would be glad to bid on your corn if you have any for sale. In the market for wheat or Spartan barley for shipment to Omaha. We have trucks available if you need a truck; call us and we will send one out.

NOLL Seed Co. Ord
"It pays to buy from Noll."

FERTILIZER
Our first car of Ammonium Nitrate Fertilizer has been shipped and will arrive in a few days. Those who have fertilizer booked with us please call and arrange to take from off the car.

HYBRID SEED CORN
We still have a few good numbers of seed corn in both the Steckleys and Bromo seed—numbers that have proven to be best for this locality.
HYBRID WHITE SEED CORN - Just a few bushels left for sale.

FORAGE SEEDS
Let us supply your needs in Sudan, common or certified, Atlas Sorgo, Milo or Cane seeds.

FEEDS
Another carload of Wayne feeds to arrive this week.
Pig and Sow Meal and Pig Starter
Start now the Wayne Way to Pork Profits.

FUEL
Whether you use Coal or Oil as heating fuel, certainly this year it will pay you to lay in your supply early. Labor and transportation difficulties might cause some delay in deliveries if we all wait until we are to use fuel. We have cars of coal coming in regularly, now. Place your orders with us for coal, to be taken from the cars as they arrive. Everybody is in better shape to deliver your fuel now. Let us all cooperate now to avoid hardships next winter.

GRAINS
If you are in need of Oats or Barley, we have a small supply on hand, and the price is somewhat lower. If you have grain to sell, we are always in the market at the highest prices possible.

Something Different

Every gardener in this vicinity has his fingers crossed for fear the peonies won't be out in time for Memorial Day.

"And the spirea is out now; what are we going to have by the last of May?" they wail.

"Who can we get to supervise the new pool?" asks C. J. Mortensen, discussing the possibility that the swimming pool will be ready to open July 4 or thereabouts.

It is time to worry about that.

Now if we just had that monstrous mechanical ditch-digger here to connect the swimming pool to the nearest sewer operated by the city, the pool WOULD materialize fast. If the work of ditch digging has to be done by hand, so to speak, then it is going to take quite a while to hook the swimming pool to our water system. For I understand the nearest connection would be at the corner near the residence of Dr. F. L. Blessing.

—ooo—

Our Bussell Park is one of the prettiest little parks a small city could have, and I think we should appreciate it more.

More people should learn to play golf and use our sporty nine-hole golf course; just because we have it, and don't have to get out and campaign for it. . . don't take it for granted! It is a beauty and has been played over and bragged on by experts.

Our attention is focused on golf this spring more than ever by our fine young high school golf team. As it very well should be.

—ooo—

Activities for our young people seem to be doing fine from every angle but one: Boy Scouts. Our Scouts have had tough sledding for several years, why I don't know. This past winter one difficulty was that Scout night (Tuesday) was also the night for about eight other youthful activities, and it has been an unsteady disheartening pull. They deserve deep kowtows for their efforts.

—ooo—

One point is obscure to me. Why is it necessary to conduct a dawn to dusk drive for funds for Scouts, if it isn't necessary to lend financial aid to the Campfire Girls?

—ooo—

Just one equal-righter at heart, that's me. I never could see why any laborer was worth more than his hire because he happened to be male. I never could see why either sex should be privileged over the other.

For instance, if there's a stupid custom, it's this gentleman remove hats in elevators deal. What sense is there in that?

It can be seen where an elderly lady should have a seat in a street car (in Ord?) before an active young man or woman. I can see where a mother with baby attached needs that streetcar seat before a robust man. But I can't understand why a frail elderly man should gallantly rise to permit a husky young miss to sit in his stead.

Now how did I get to raving about that? ? ?

Nebraska is fortunate this year, with musical treats on every hand. Metropolitan opera, musical comedy, fine bands, to the right and left of us. We are favored by one and all with so much entertainment.

Not to mention the presidential aspirants.

Class Night Final Fun Roundup For Ord High Seniors

Class Will Prophecy, Meditations Read; Club Awards Given

Dorothy Morris and Evelyn Urban sang a duet followed by the class prophecy given by Merritt Jensen. The prophecy was written by John Prien. Beverly Whiting presented a vocal solo.

The class will, one of the highlights of class night was read by Loes Stewart. The will was written by Betty Whitford and Jay Stoddard.

School meditations were presented by Al Blessing, co-valedictorian. A W. award for the outstanding girl was presented to Marilyn Cook by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, president of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Curtis Gudmundsen, president of the Cosmopolitan club, presented the Cosmopolitan award to Jay Stoddard, as the outstanding boy of the senior class.

Sharon Boygraves, co-valedictorian gave the farewell address.

Father Flanagan, Famed Boys Town Founder, Died Saturday in Berlin

Msgr. E. J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, died early Saturday. A spokesman for the Army Hospital in Berlin, Germany, said Father Flanagan had a heart attack.

The Nebraska priest, who would have been 62 years old July 13, was taken suddenly ill Friday night. He was taken to the Two Hundred Seventy-ninth Station Military Hospital in Berlin. The Associated Press reported.

Father Flanagan had been on an inspection tour of German youth facilities at the invitation of the United States Army. He had made a similar tour of Japan last year.

Boys Town was founded by Father Flanagan in 1917. Since then he had obtained international recognition with spread of his credo, "There is no such thing as a bad boy."

He sailed for Germany March 6.

He founded a boys' home in the Christmas season of 1917 by borrowing $90 to rent a house. From that start he developed the present institution of Boys Town.

Father Flanagan was born in Roscommon, Ireland, July 13, 1856. His father was a farmer, active in church work. He had 11 brothers and sisters.

His elder brother, also a priest, was instrumental in persuading him to come to America.

Father Flanagan was educated in public schools at Roscommon and studied later at Summerhill College, Sligo, Ireland. From there he went to Mount St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, Md., being graduated in 1906. He went to St. Joseph's Seminary, Dunwoodie, N. Y., studied for a year, then to Rome for another year of study.

While in Rome his health failed and he returned to America. He came to Omaha, where he lived for two years, working when he was able at packing plant. He returned to his studies at Innsbruck, Austria, and was ordained there at the Jesuit University in 1912.

After his ordination he returned again to Omaha, and was assigned to St. Patrick's parish at O'Neill, Nebr. On March 15, 1913, he was transferred to Omaha as assistant pastor at St. Patrick's parish, where he remained three years.

It was then that he conceived the idea of establishing a home for boys, after work with older men convinced him it was necessary to nip crime careers in the bud.

He was president of the Omaha Welfare Board for 10 years, and served on numerous Catholic welfare boards, both national and state.

In 1920 he was selected by the Omaha American Legion Post as Omaha's leading citizen.

In 1927 he was made a domestic prelate with the title of Rt. Rev. Monsignor, and was invested by the Most Rev. James H. Ryan, then Bishop of Omaha.

Mount Saint Mary's College at Emmitsburg conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws upon him in 1938, and in the following year St. Benedict's College of Atchison, Kas., conferred a similar degree.

That same year the Variety Club of America presented him its first annual humanitarian award.

Cordy gave the invocation. The high school chorus sang, "Celtic Hymn". Cordy read the scripture followed by a vocal solo by William Nelson. Rev. L. V. Hassell gave a talk on "Pioneers Of A New Day". The chorus sang "With Joyful Song", and Mr. Cordy gave the benediction. Miss Koelling played the recessional.

Harlan Kosmata Valedictorian

Harlan Kosmata, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kosmata, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Kosmata of Ord, is valedictorian of the graduating class at Caldwell, Ida. Harlan has been a student of the Caldwell schools since he was a freshman, when the family moved from Ord. He has been active in athletics, excelling in football and track. In the 1947 football season he was chosen all conference end on the second team. He also plays a trumpet in the Pep Band. He was initiated into the Quill and Scroll last year and elected president of the "C" club.

Harlan started to school in Ord with the 1918 graduating class.

Rites Wednesday for Mrs. Nekuda

Mrs. Mary Nekuda, third daughter of Vaclav and Anna Cadek was born on a farm in German township, Valley county, Nebr., on July 2, 1891, and died May 9, 1948, at her home at 2019 South 27th St., Lincoln, Nebr., at the age of 53 years.

When she was 6 years old, the family moved to Eureka township, Valley county where she attended the Komensky school, District 49. She grew to womanhood in this community.

On June 10, 1913, she was united in marriage to Joseph G. Nekuda, with whom she lived a happy and contented life for 35 years. To this union two children were born.

After their marriage, they lived on the farm in Valley county known as the Fred place, about 15 miles west of Ord. In March, 1917, they moved to their farm 3 miles southwest of Burwell, Nebr., and here they lived for eleven years. They sold the farm and moved to Sargent, Nebr., in March, 1928, residing here for nine years.

In July, 1937, they moved to Lincoln, so that their children could attend the University of Nebraska and live at home. It was the life ambition and dream of Mrs. Nekuda to give her children the best education possible.

She was a member of Lincoln Chapter No. 148 Order of the Eastern Star, the Army Mothers' club, and was active in the Job's Daughters' Mothers' club and many other Mothers' clubs.

In passing she leaves her husband, Joseph G. and daughter, Lydia Mary both of Lincoln, and son, Leslie Joseph, daughter-in-law, Eileen Nekuda, and two little granddaughters, Mary Ann and Leslie Jane, Nekuda of Framingham, Mass., four sisters, Mrs. Anna (Jos.) Rousek, Burwell, Mrs. Emily (Den) Griebel of Sargent, Mrs. Agnes (Frank) Kotre of Grand Island, Mrs. Rose (Melvin) Pursell of Pasco, Wash., and two brothers, Joseph Cadek of Omaha and Wendell J. Cadek of Burwell, Mrs. Nekuda is also mourned by many friends who knew and loved her.

She was preceded in death by her parents, and two sisters, one of them being Mrs. Tillie (Fred) Nekuda, and the other dying in infancy.

The funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, May 12th, at the Chapel of Roper and Sons Funeral Parlor in Lincoln. Officiating was the Rev. Thomas A. Barton, minister of the Second Presbyterian church in Lincoln, and Don Hays sang. Burial was in the family lot at the Lincoln Memorial Park cemetery.

LEAVES FOR COLUMBUS
DeLorez Jablonski who has been employed at the Amick Motor Co. for the past eight months has been transferred to the Highway Motors Co., owned by Ted Amick Jr., at Columbus. She intends to start work immediately.

Rites Wednesday for Mrs. Nekuda

Palmer Trips G. I. 27 to 11 to Hold Loop Lead

Palmer tripped Grand Island in a wild 27-11 game in the third city, to hold their lead in the Sherman-Howard county league. Danneberg, Ashton and Elba share the loop crown with Palmer.

Sunny skies Sunday permitted all four games to be played in the league. One shutout game was recorded when Elba blanked the Cushing crew 5 to 0. The hits were well divided but the Cushing team was not able to push across runs in the pinches. Ashton had things their own way at North Loup when they took a one-sided affair there by a 13 to 1 score. Thirteen errors by the North Loup boys aided Ashton a lot.

At Grand Island a barrage of hits and errors turned the bat into a wild affair when a total of 28 runs, 29 hits and 18 errors was recorded by both teams with Palmer taking a 27 to 11 loose played battle. Danneberg and Farwell played a good game on a dusty diamond with the hits pretty well divided but Danneberg nosed out Farwell 7 to 5. Next Sunday's games are: North Loup at Palmer, Farwell at Elba, Cushing at Danneberg and Grand Island at Ashton.

M. Sgt. F. Kingston Graduates From Artillery School

FORT SCOTT, Calif. — Master Sergeant Frank M. Kingston of Arcadia received a Certificate of Proficiency from Brigadier General William S. Lawton in a recent ceremony honoring the occasion of Sgt. Kingston's graduation from the Seacoast Artillery Technician's Course at Fort Winfield Scott, by the Golden Gate in San Francisco, Calif.

For the past 18½ weeks, Sgt. Kingston has undergone intensive training in the basic principles of electricity, electronics, wire communications and diesel power plants at the Seacoast Artillery School. This Army technical school trains selected men in radar, electronics, diesel, submarine mining and other technical subjects required to qualify them for the important duty of defending our coastlines and harbors. The classrooms and laboratories in which Sgt. Kingston received his instructions are located on the site of the original Spanish fortifications of San Francisco, erected by De Anza in 1776.

A graduate of Arcadia high school and the University of Nebraska, Sgt. Kingston came up through the ranks to gain his commission in 1943. He served in Puerto Rico and Philippines during World War II.

Sgt. Kingston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Kingston of Arcadia.

Children Exposed to Measles, Picnic Held Prematurely

School district 35 of Garfield county had a sneak day Friday. Their teacher, Mrs. Pat Doran, loaded the whole school in the back of a pickup and took them to Scotia to visit the chalk mines, to the Ord park for their dinner and they stopped and visited Fort Hartsuff enroute home.

School is not over in District 35 until next Friday but the whole school, consisting of Dale Larry and Patty Pospisil, Mary Ann, Marilyn and Lelloy Mayberry and Gayla and Tom Doran are all due to come down with the measles this week and the teacher was afraid that if they waited until the last day of school the children would not be able to have a picnic.

Memorial Day Flowers

Peonies, Roses, Carnations, and Glads for Memorial Day. Place your orders early so that we may give you better service. This week it looks as if there would be plenty of Peonies out by Memorial Day.

Remember that we wire Flowers anywhere for you. But telegraph orders should be sent a week in advance as the florists all will be very busy at Memorial Day.

Besides the cut flowers we will have blooming plants and ferns for cemetery planting; also a few nice urns planted with blooming plants; just the thing for a cemetery lot.

Well this is the place, due to the fact of my 25 years of experience in making good wieners and bologna, and many other varieties of smoked and fresh sausages, therefore you are always assured of as good a product as there is. No guess work about it. And as to fresh meats, we butcher our own young corn fed cattle and hogs. Our beef is the best money can buy, not that so called graded beef.

So the important part is to pay us a visit and see for yourself that we

Science Now Putting Bigger Pop in Popcorn; Makes It Fluffier

Not long ago popcorn that exploded into 21 times its original size was considered good. Now, good popcorn expands 28 to 30 times in volume.

Some varieties developed by Dr. J. E. Eldredge and associates at the agricultural experiment station, Iowa State College in Ames, Ia., have expanded 31 times in some tests. This big an expansion doesn't always occur, and size 34 popcorn isn't available for popcorn growers. But it may come along in time.

The bigger the explosion, the bigger, fluffier and tenderer the pieces of popped corn, Dr. Eldredge said. People like it even though they get less popcorn per bag.

Popcorn vendors like it better, too, because it takes less corn to draw as much money in sales. This is one of the paradoxes about popcorn. Another is that it's one of the smallest, but one of the best crops in this country.

For years the emphasis in plant breeding has been to get the bigger explosions. The job is difficult, because the corn also must give high yields, stand up well and be suitable for machine harvesting.

Only certain kinds of corn pop well. Moisture in the kernel turns to steam, and the kernel explodes. The steam pressure has to be generated quickly enough to produce a sudden expansion.

It has been thought that the hull acted like a bomb covering, holding in the steam for a time. But this doesn't seem to be the answer. The hulls can be damaged, and the corn still will pop. The popping may be due to the structure of the individual starch grains in the kernel, Dr. Eldredge said. There are millions of these grains.

Research since 1928 here in the biggest popcorn-growing state shows some of the essentials for good popping. The temperature of the popper should be between 450 and 500 degrees. One part of oil should be used for every five parts of corn. Most important, the moisture content of the corn should be about 13 to 14 per cent.

The United States produces about 150,000,000 pounds of popcorn a year on the average, of which ten million are grown in the Ord vicinity.

About half the crop is sold to theater chains, and finds its way into vending machines in movies. Wholesale grocery firms take 25 per cent, selling to grocery stores and local popcorn stands. Many of the local stands buy directly from the local growers. The other 25 per cent is used by makers of popcorn confections coated with molasses, syrup, or cheese.

This year the Iowa station is testing nearly 1,200 different crosses or trial combinations of different lines of popcorn. Each year samples are popped, measured for volume, taste, and tenderness. The tests supply snowy mountains of popcorn which are sold on the campus for benefit of the Agronomy club, the student section of the American Society of Agronomy.

Christian Science Services "Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 23, 1948.

The Golden Text is: "What agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God" (II Corinthians 6:16). Other Bible citations include: "And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God" (Revelation 21:3).

Out Of Old Nebraska

By James C. Olson
Supt., State Historical Society
A few days ago it was announced in the press that an arch-biologist from the Smithsonian Institution is searching for remains of the Daniel Freeman cabin at Homestead National Monument near Beatrice. The findings will be used in the development of the monument as a memorial to the homestead movement.

This site of Daniel Freeman's cabin is one of the most historic spots in the United States, for it was there the first American homesteader lived. And the homestead movement was one of the most significant aspects of the temperate land policy which settled the western plains.

After the war Daniel Freeman returned to the homestead with his bride of a few weeks. They had to ferry their meager household goods across the flood swollen Blue on a flat boat. And while the land had looked good to Freeman when he filed on it, chances are it didn't appear too inviting to his young wife.

During their early years the Freemans shared the hardships that were the lot of all who homesteaded in the West. Yet these first homesteaders were typical of the thousands who followed them in that they stuck it out on their land the rest of their lives.

bill introduced by Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska and passed by Congress in 1936. It is to be hoped that it can be developed into a fitting memorial of the hardships and the primitive conditions through which the early settlers developed the great west.

Where would you look to see if someone had found your lost livestock? In the QUIZ want ads, of course.

We have 7 acres joining town, a dandy home and nice place to live, with 1½ acres of strawberries just about ready to pick. This irrigates lovely. Should sell soon.

200 acres, good improvements, 80 acres level or about, runs to river, 80 acres pasture, near town and good road. Furnace and bath in house. Can make some terms.

Another American First
The United States is the world's largest consumer of shoes. Its per capita annual consumption of 3.12 pairs compared with 2.01 for Canada, which ranks second.

Soles to Support Muscles
The leather soles on shoes provide firm support for the 18 separate muscles found in the sole of the foot alone, grouped in four distinct muscle layers.

Heat In Summer Time!!

Did you know that studies of fuel consumption show that among the users of automatic heat, about nine percent of the fuel burned in a year is burned during the summer? Almost a tenth of a year's consumption is used up between May 1st and Oct. 1st, the 'summer months.' Why? Because a majority of summer mornings are cool, or even chilly. We have only a few really hot nights all night in a year here in Nebraska. Yet that automatic heat is there, ready to turn on whenever the house temperature goes below thermostat setting. Maybe this don't matter much in summer, but it does matter in spring and fall. Among heating men there is a saying that any old furnace will heat a house in dead of winter, just keep the fire fed if you can, but it takes an awful good furnace to give real comfort in the spring and fall. And with Lennox automatic heat you can have that real comfort in spring and fall, as well as summer. And it is sure nice to have that even temperature and warm floors, and important too, in homes that have babies or sick people.

Naval Captain To Give Memorial Day Address

Services at 1:30 Sunday to Be in Charge of Legion and Veterans Foreign Wars

Captain Cauncey R. Crutcher, commandant of the Hastings Naval Depot will deliver the Memorial Day address at exercises to be held here Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Services will be in general charge of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and will begin with a march from the Ord cemetery entrance to the memorial plot.

The march will be led by the Ord high school band and will include the colors with honor guards of the Legion and VFW, former servicemen, representatives of the GAR and Spanish-American veterans organizations. Former servicemen are requested to assemble at the starting point at 1 o'clock in uniform.

Edwin Jensen has been named marshal of the day and will be in general charge of the rites at the Memorial Plot.

First Concert of 1948 Season

The first band concert of the season will be presented this (Wednesday) evening from the court house steps. It will feature a 55-piece band under the direction of Wm. Nelson and Beverly Whiting as a soloist. The program will consist of:

- "King Cotton", march—John Philip Sousa.
- "Overture Eroica"—Beethoven-Skorinick.
- "Ballera"—Sigman-Leonard.

Council Hears Proposition on Electric Bonds

In a special meeting Tuesday night, the Ord city council accepted a proposition of two Omaha bonding firms, Greenway & Co. and Kirkpatrick and Pettis, to make a survey of the city's financial status and revenue expectations preliminary to the probable issuing of $250,000 in revenue bonds for light plant expansion.

At the conclusion of the survey the bonding companies will make a definite report on the advisability of the bond issue and what rate of interest the city would be expected to pay.

Bussell Park Again Popular Place for Picnics, Outdoor Sports

"Bud" Shirley, Bussell park manager, made a trip to Lincoln Monday to get plants for the park flower gardens. Monday evening he had many of them planted in the formal beds.

Bussell is a popular place again this summer, with many people taking advantage of the picnic and playgrounds. The park is in surprisingly good shape this spring after last year's floods. The grass is coming up thru the silt, making a carpet of green on the play grounds. Gravel is on order for under the picnic tables and as soon as it is delivered it will help eliminate dust.

At one time there was a large baseball diamond and two large grandstands in the center of the park. A flood did so much damage to the diamond that after standing idle for two years the grandstands were torn down and Bud

3 Churches Hold Bible Schools

Three Bible schools started Monday morning for the children of the town. The Methodist and Presbyterian school is run together with the pre-school and primary children being taken care of at the older ones at the Methodist church. Monday morning 125 registered. The Assembly of God church is giving special training to twelve students.

The Bethany Lutheran church had twenty-two registered Monday morning. All three schools are expecting more students as the week progresses. The mumps and measles scare is keeping some children from attending.

Teen Agers Involved in Beer Escapade

Around 15 Cases Stolen at National Hall; Sheriff Rounds up Drinking Party

Several complaints will be filed in county court this week by County Attorney Ralph Norman following a series of beer escapades in and around Ord.

While Norman refused to divulge names until complaints are filed, he said the action involved a group of teen age boys living in and near Ord, most of whom are high school juniors.

Wednesday night and again Thursday night, the National Hall west of Ord was entered by unknown parties who broke two padlocks to gain entrance. Although the amount of beer taken is not definitely known, Norman believes that at least fifteen cases were stolen.

Friday afternoon, Sheriff Bob Hall rounded up a group of youths who were having a beer drinking party on Anderson's Island, just east of town. Hall said about a dozen were in the party, and several of them definitely intoxicated. The sheriff confiscated five cases of bottled beer and empty bottles.

Under questioning of authorities, the boys stated they found the beer buried on the island and that they had no knowledge of the break-in at National Hall.

Norman told the Quiz Wednesday morning that he has enough information and definite knowledge to proceed with legal action. "I want to talk to a few of the boys' parents before I go further," he said.

E. L. Vogeltanz, Ord attorney, will deliver the Memorial Day address at Scotia on Sunday morning, May 30, at the community building.

The band will play at the cemetery at 10:00 and the observance will take place there at that time, followed by the program at the hall at 11:00.

The day's activities are sponsored by the Scotia American Legion post.

Rotary Summer Recreation Program June 7

Crafts, Games, Athletics To Be Given In Evenings And Afternoons

Registration for the summer recreational program in Ord, sponsored by the Ord Rotary club, will begin on Monday, June 7, at the Ord grade school, Alex Cochrane, program director announced this week.

According to the present plans the grade school basement rooms and gymnasium will serve as an activity center and organized and free play periods will be conducted on the playground.

Mornings will be given over to supervised free play for all ages and during the afternoon, quiet games and crafts will be conducted in the basement of the school. Organized group activities will be conducted in the evenings on either the school grounds or athletic field and it is hoped that some arrangements may be made for lighting the grounds.

A schedule of activities will be published next week.

New Ceiling For Vets Starts July 1

Veterans With Dependents Can Now Earn Up to $290 Without Penalty

Nebraska World War II veterans engaged in Veterans Administration education and training programs subsistence benefits under the new federal "ceiling" law, will receive the higher pay rates for the first time in July allowances which are payable August 1, the VA said today.

Ashley Westmoreland, manager of the Lincoln VA regional office, urged veterans not to write or contact the VA about the new law, because the higher rates will be paid automatically to G. I. Bill trainees whose existing records with VA contain the information needed. When additional information is needed, the VA will send the veteran a form requesting the necessary data.

The VA official said all increases will be retroactive to April 1 if eligible veteran trainees return their completed forms prior to next September 1.

The new ceiling law, signed by President Truman May 4, increases benefits to GI Bill trainees by raising pay ceilings, establishing new criteria for computing income for productive labor, and increasing subsistence allowances for part-time school training and for combination school and job-training programs, including institutional on-the-farm training. Increased benefits also are provided for disabled veterans taking combination types of training under Public Law 10.

Ceiling provisions of the new law provide that earned income plus government subsistence pay shall not exceed $210 a month for a trainee-veteran without dependents; $270 for a veteran with one dependent, and $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Previous ceilings were $175 for a veteran without dependents, and $200 for a veteran with one or more dependents.

Westmoreland emphasized that the new higher monthly ceilings on earned income plus government subsistence will not increase VA pay allowances to all of the more than 5,000 veterans in Nebraska now taking on-the-job training. In the case of job training only, he said, the new law does not change the maximum subsistence payable by VA of $65 a month to a veteran without dependents, and $90 to a veteran with one or more dependents. This means, he added, that the new ceilings will not benefit the many job trainees who already receive the maximum allowance, nor others who are training for jobs that never will pay as much as the ceiling limits.

Coca Cola Firm To Build New Warehouse Here

Purchase Rutar Property; Two Families Coming to Run Distribution Center

A warehouse and distributing center for Coca Cola products will be added to Ord this year, Tyler Brothers of Willisca, Iowa, franchise holders for this area, announced this week.

Monday the firm purchased the Stanley Rutar property just east of the Coryell station, consisting of a large residence and a vacant lot. The lot will be the site of a 2000 square foot warehouse, and the manager of the center will move to the residence as soon as arrangements can be completed.

The Tyler Brothers plan to move two families here to handle their business with the addition of local help. Coca Cola and 7-Up will be shipped here in full truckload lots, and distributed to surrounding towns from here with smaller trucks.

Portents Say Ord May Be Boom Town; Building Going Steadily

Unless all signs fail, Ord and vicinity may be in for one of the biggest expansion booms since the city was founded. The announcement this week that a distribution warehouse would be built here for the Coca Cola company is but one of many signs in the wind.

Biggest item from a local viewpoint is the million and a half dollar rural electrification project which will bring electric current to some 1400 farms in Valley, Greeley and Sherman counties. Benefit to Ord from the project is great, not only from a payroll standpoint, but also from the 1400 new customers for electrical appliances.

REA will build a large warehouse and garage here this summer, a permanent structure of brick and tile. In addition, electric lines for REA will be furnished by the city of Ord, necessitating a quarter of a million dollar expansion of the local electric plant.

Nearly completed are two brand new structures, the large garage and display room of the Anderson Motor Co. and the new bottling plant for Stewart Bros.

Among projected buildings is a new brick and tile building for the Valley County Implement Co., which will have about 5000 square feet of floor space. Owners of the firm hope to start construction this year, although plans are not complete at the present time.

Practically all rural telephone lines in the county will have to be rebuilt this year or next, due to coming of REA. Some rural companies have already purchased material and will start at once. Some improvement and expansion of the telephone system within Ord is planned. Quiz Industries' planned expansion program will bring several new families to the city.

Still to come is the $100,000 steel bridge across the Loup river at Ord. Contracts have already been let for this, and construction is expected this summer.

Several other businesses are scheduled to come to Ord within the year. Another propane gas company has leased a site near the fairgrounds on the Union Pacific right of way for a bulk plant, and plans to build or rent a downtown location for appliance sales and offices.

Two more members of the medical profession are expected to hang out their shingles in Ord soon. Members of other professions may follow.

Rain Comes But Quite Spotted

Valley county's dry spell had its first relief Saturday and Sunday when scattered rains fell over the county. Ord and immediate vicinity had only a quarter of an inch, while some areas in the county were skipped. Burwell reports three quarters of an inch with a similar amount at North Loup. Temperatures this week are somewhat lower than last week, with no moisture forecast for the next five or six days.

55 Graduates of Eighth Grades Win Diplomas

Smallest Valley Co. Group in Twenty Years. Says Miss McClatchey

Monday evening the smallest eighth grade group of the past twenty years received their diplomas at the Ord high school from Clara McClatchey, county superintendent. Fifty-five rural students have completed the eighth grade work.

The program consisted of musical numbers presented by school district 13, taught by Alice Beran and the Elyria school, taught by Mary Kirby.

Two movie films, "The Miracle of Paradise Valley", a safety film, and "Death Valley", a colored film, were shown.

The eighth grade classes of the town schools of Ord, Arcadia and North Loup were special guests at the graduation exercises. They do not get diplomas as they are in the junior high department of city schools that issue diplomas for completion of 12 years of work.

The fifty-five who completed the work of their rural school districts are as follows:

Lorraine Sich, John McDermott, Russell Clement, Joyce Heubner, Ellen Jeanne Foltz, Ina Fae Jorgensen, Eiland Laursen, Agnes Valls, Dorothy Blaha, Lorena Gank, Roberta John, ReNae Kusch.

Limit on "E" Bond Holdings Doubled

Purchasers Can Now Buy Up to $10,000 Maturity Value Each Year

The limit on the amount of "E" Series U. S. Savings Bonds any Nebraska resident can buy during the calendar year has been increased from $5,000 to $10,000. C. J. Mortensen, chairman of Valley County's security loan campaign pointed out today.

Mortensen said the doubling of the Series E bond limit is serving as an extra incentive to his campaign organization of volunteers to sell the greatest amount of savings bonds locally in any three months' period since the end of the war. He asked residents of Valley county to buy as many security bonds as possible.

"Local residents with funds to invest now have the opportunity to take advantage of a safe, profitable investment to an extent never before available," he asserted. "The Series E savings bond pays $4 for every $3 in any 10 years. The investor can never get back one penny less than his original investment. Even if his bonds go astray, the Treasury Department will issue new bonds bearing the original date of purchase."

How many other forms of investment can we think of today which would give the investor $10,000 back for $7,500 invested in 10 years without any risk to the original capital involved? In fact, $7,500 put into Series E bonds today, undoubtedly, will bring even a richer return because we can look forward to the time when the dollar will have greater purchasing power.

Demonstration by Miss Doremus

Mable Doremus, food nutritionist of the University of Nebraska extension, presented a demonstration on frozen foods at the Masonic hall Tuesday afternoon. Methods of preparing foods for freezing were discussed as well as wrapping and the varieties of vegetables that freeze most successfully.

Mrs. Joseph Beloin talked to the ladies as a representative of the R.E.A., explaining facts about rural electrification.

Methods of cooking frozen foods was demonstrated and a lunch of frozen, baked foods, frozen pineapple and broccoli was served so that everyone could sample the quality of properly frozen and thawed vegetables.

Crowds Wrong Man Off Road

Charles Moravec drew a fine of $10 and costs of $9 in court Monday on a reckless driving charge filed by Sheriff Bob Hall.

Moravec, in a hurry Saturday, drove around a car on the highway south of town coming so close that the other car took the ditch to avoid a collision. You guessed it. It was the sheriff's car that took the ditch.

Phone Revenue Increase Fails To Equal Costs

Hearing on Application Of Continental Company Opened by Commission

Although revenue from all sources has increased only 73 per cent in the 10 years preceding Dec. 31, 1947, operating costs of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company have risen 133 per cent, the Nebraska state railway commission was told at Grand Island Tuesday.

Hearing on the application of the company for permission to raise its rates began at Grand Island Tuesday morning in the city hall auditorium, with all three members of the commission, John Knickrehm, chairman, Walter F. Roberts and Elmer Viren, attending the hearing.

The Continental company's heaviest percentage increase in revenue came in the toll department, Mr. Dunlap told the commission, but the toll business is more subject to fluctuations in income than other departments. Much of the revenue from tolls is derived from other firms to which calls are transferred for completion, he testified.

Cost of the plant and working capital was listed at $2,797,591, which, Mr. Dunlap said, represents actual investment.

Listed as representatives of protestors were Robert A. Perry, Lincoln, representing petitioners in the Republic valley; Elmer Rakow, Nulich Chamber of Commerce; Ralph W. Norman, representing the Ord Chamber of Commerce and farm lines in that area; E. Ondracek, Greeley, representing Greeley service; Oscar Drake, representing the Kearney Chamber of Commerce; Ray Medlin, representing a number of patrons in the Albion area.

In addition to Norman around eight or nine representatives of farm lines in this area attended the first day of the hearing. The railway commission will continue to take testimony today and will announce a decision at a later date.

Ord Stores To Close May 31

Grand Island Office Is Closed

The Veterans Administration office in Grand Island will be closed effective May 29, 1948. Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, announced today.

The Grand Island office, he said, was one of 16 field offices established in Nebraska to handle inquiries by veterans, following the peak period of armed forces demobilization.

During the past year, there has been a gradual and continued reduction in the volume of work in field contact offices. The closing of the office at Grand Island is consistent with the policy of the VA in closing offices when they are no longer required or justified, Westmoreland added.

Itinerant service by traveling representatives will be continued throughout the State in cooperation with County Service Officers, and community and service organizations. This plan will eliminate duplication of effort without curtailing essential service to veterans, their dependants and beneficiaries, Westmoreland said.

substitute for advertising

Is there any cheaper way to make sales than by advertising?

If so, the people who pay for advertising today would like to know what it is.

After all, they are experts at bringing down costs. And that's what brings down prices.

Boy's Drawing Chosen for Show

The pencil and crayon drawing "Ord Fair and Auto Races" drawn by Dicky Pedro, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Judd Pedro is one of sixty pictures selected from 1200 to be put into one of two art exhibits that will travel over the state to be shown in many places.

The creative art exhibit was sponsored by the University of Nebraska extension department. The drawings were the child's own idea and work. All grades took part in making drawings to be sent to Lincoln where 200 were selected to be shown at the Miller & Paine store. From these 60 were chosen to make up the two traveling exhibits.

Dicky is 8 years old and in the third grade, taking work under Inez Swain. He worked during recess and in his spare time, Miss Swain and Miss McClatchey took a little time deciding whether to enter Dicky's picture with the rest from Valley county as it was made on news print, was torn and had been patched with scotch tape in many places to hold the picture together as he worked on it.

They felt that it told such a complete story that they would send it with the rest. They now feel that the Ord Fair and Auto Races will receive much publicity as the exhibit travels over the state.

The picture shows the fair grounds grand stand full of people, the race track, with racing cars, the announcer's stand with the announcer telling the crowd about a wreck on the track. There is the wrecked car, the ambulance and attendants taking the driver on a stretcher. It tells the complete story of an incident at the races.

Flags Races at State Fair

Gene Barnett, manager of the Ord Airport, will go to Lincoln, May 30, where he will be head starter of the Midwest Champion motorcycle races held at the state fair grounds. Mr. Barnett has perfected a new remote control timing device which will be given its first official trial at the races.

WALKER ILL

George Walker was taken to the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island Wednesday suffering with pneumonia. He was feeling some better Sunday.

Lincoln Train Wheat Arrives in Bremen

BREMEN—A huge cargo of American wheat, given through the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP), was recently unloaded here, as an impressive ceremony was held. The wheat was part of that contributed to the Abraham Lincoln Friendship trains. (Note picture of Lincoln in photo).

Above, Wilhelm Volkmann, speaking on behalf of the German people, expressed thanks for the cargo and pledged that it would be distributed solely on the basis of need.

Charles LaFollette, American director of the military government at Wurttemberg-Baden, said: "The people who have given you this wheat are mostly people like yourselves—people who have to work hard for their living. They have given you this wheat because they have heard of the distress in your country, and because they trust you and want to help you rehabilitate yourselves."

The wheat in this cargo came from Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, and other midwestern states.

Palmer Beats North Loup

Ideal weather Sunday again permitted the playing of all league and the batters were all on a spree as some heavy scoring was done. At Palmer, North Loup took defeat number two when the Palmer lads took the long end of a 12 to 0 game and at Ashton the locals had no trouble in handling the Grand Island K. of C. team their third defeat in a row by a 10 to 4 score. At Dannebrog the Danes had things their own way when they walloped the Cushing crew by the one-sided score of 10 to 0 and at Elba the best battle was staged when Farwell had the game in the bag till the 7th by 8 to 3 then the balloon went up with Elba scoring 10 runs to take that battle 13 to 10.

Next Sunday games are Elba at Ashton, Palmer at Farwell, Grand Island at Cushing and Dannebrog at North Loup.

Ord Nine Beats Broken Bow 3-2 Here Sunday

Pitcher's Duel Provides Tight Game; Stull Hits Four for Four

Ord's baseball team nosed out Broken Bow 3-2 here Sunday in a tight game that local fans pronounced one of the best in recent years.

A pitchers duel between Paul Dean of Broken Bow and Don Patrick of Ord sparked the contest, each hurler whiffing nine. Stull, local second baseman had a perfect day at the plate, getting four hits in four times up.

The home team took a first inning one run lead and another in the 6th before the Indians rallied to knot the score in the seventh. The locals scored the deciding run in the last of the eighth.

The Indians started a rally in the top of the ninth but it was nipped in the bud when Henry Dean grounded out on a close play at first to end the game.

Comstock comes to Ord Sunday in what promises to be a good holiday attraction. Comstock has been one step out of the loop cellar so far this year, but should find its team strength soon.

The Comstock game will not begin until 3 o'clock, or immediately after Memorial Day exercises.

Safety Council Asks Driving Care

"Traffic hazards during Memorial Day week-end are due to be substantially increased," warned E. P. Tinker, Jr., Executive Director of the Nebraska State Safety Council, today.

"With this holiday falling on Sunday, and Monday also a holiday for many Nebraskans, the volume of traffic is bound to zoom upward and with it the ordinary dangers of driving will be magnified many times," he continued.

"Last year three persons were killed in traffic accidents during the week-end of Memorial Day with the holiday falling on Friday. This year, however, the exposure rate will be greatly increased by the fact that the holiday falls on Sunday," Tinker stated.

"Sunday is the one day of the week when the most people are killed on our streets and highways under ordinary conditions. Now, we are going to have some extraordinary traffic hazards which will require extraordinary caution and alertness on the part of all drivers and pedestrians," the Director urged.

"If Nebraska motorists exercise the necessary caution over this danger spot on the calendar, the state may be able to save many more lives to increase its bid toward saving 100 lives in '48," Tinker concluded.

1949 Studebaker Truck on Display

New 1949 Studebaker truck models are on display in the show rooms of the Schuldt Motor company at North Loup.

Identified as the Studebaker 49ers, the line embodies pace setting achievements in styling and engineering, according to F. J. Schuldt.

Among other outstanding features, Mr. Schuldt pointed to the fact that Studebaker engineers devoted special attention to improved mechanical accessibility and driving comfort with many pleasing innovations.

Mason City Clings To League Lead

Unbeaten Mason City continues to set the pace in the Loup Valley league following its 6 to 4 victory over Litchfield at Mason City last Sunday.

Miller, Arcadia, and Ord are locked in a three way tie for second place after coming through successfully over the week end, while Broken Bow dropped to third place with Litchfield and Loup City. Comstock holds fourth place with a single victory against three setbacks with Anselby and Berwyn bringing up the rear, both teams still looking for victory number one.

Dale Kruger stymied the Litchfield attack with a four hitter to keep Mason City atop the league roost. The final outcome should have been 1 to 0, Mason City, as five of the winners' six markers were unearned. Rol Jensen led the Masonite hitting attack with three safeties and Orvin Cox came through with two more out of the nine hit total.

The Broken Bow Indians ran into a virtual stone wall at Ord, dropping a 3 to 2 contest. Ord came through in the eighth inning for the winning marker after Broken Bow had tied the score in the seventh.

Arcadia broke a 3 to 3 eighth inning tie with Berwyn and went on to clip the winless Bluejays 7 to 3 on a muddy diamond at Arcadia.

Meanwhile Loup City was moving up the ladder Sunday by turning back Anselby 6 to 1. The win, coupled with losses to Broken Bow and Litchfield, moved the Loupers into a three way tie for third place in the standings.

In the other week end league encounter Miller took the measure of Comstock, 9 to 2, at Miller. Miller Comstock errors to chalk up its third win in four starts. The loss was Comstock's third.

The Memorial Day card finds Comstock at Ord, Miller at Litchfield, Mason City at Loup City, Arcadia at Broken Bow and Anselby playing Berwyn at Berwyn.

Water Damage to Blessing Home

When Mrs. Margaret Blessing returned to her home in Ord last week after spending nearly a year in California she had an unhappy surprise, finding water damage to her home and furnishings as a result of a burst pipe upstairs. An early estimate of damage is $8,000.

Mrs. Blessing had written to a local plumbing firm to turn the water on in advance of her arrival, which was done, but the broken pipe on the second floor was not detected and the water ran for several days.

Furnishings in the living room and one bedroom are completely ruined, says Mrs. Blessing. Paper was completely off the walls and the plaster is falling. Hardwood floors are saturated and many boards have buckled. The basement was half full of water.

Mrs. Blessing is a guest at present in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rumsell until temporary repairs can be made.

Closed All Day May 31st

Owing to circumstance beyond our control we will have to have our Flower Shop open till about noon, May 31st, but we will close both Store and Elevator all day May 31st, honoring Decoration Day and allowing our help the day off.

Seed Corn

We still have a very good stock of seed corn on hand in most any kernel size that you want. We have Loves early White, Standard 939, 405, 615 and 613. Then we have 81, 85, 63 and 75 in Cornhusker Hybrids. If you need seed corn we can take good care of you.

Forage Seeds

Milo, Groboma, Feterita, Atlas, Norkan, Sumac Cane, Tox Orange and Leoti Red. Plant plenty of forage this year since we have had so much dry weather.

Feeds

Regardless of what kind of feed you need be sure to see us before you buy. We can make you a very attractive price on any kind of feed that you need and deliver it right to your farm.

Nitrate

We are going to have a couple of carloads of Nitrate in this fall and are booking orders now for early fall delivery. We expect it in plenty of time for your sowing of small grain. It is becoming evident that if we get the amount of Nitrate that we need we are going to have to take fall delivery. So let us book your order now for early fall delivery.

NOTICE

Most country schools are out this week and the teachers will not be sending in any more county taxes. Is there anyone in your district who would take the time to send in items? We will gladly furnish stamped envelopes and paper.

Mrs. Asa Anderson.

Funeral Rites Held For T. R. Winder

Services were held last Thursday in Glen Elynn, Ill., for Thomas R. Winder of 672 Prairie avenue, who died of a cerebral hemorrhage at the Martha Washington hospital Sunday evening, May 16. Rev. Lester Sprenger read the services at the Methodist chapel and the Elmwood Park Lodge 1163, A. F. & A. M., conducted final rites at the cemetery, Acacia Park.

Born on April 20, 1905, in Ord, Nebraska, Mr. Winder had been employed with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and had been active up until his illness of a month's duration. He and his family moved to Glen Elynn last August from Elmwood Park where he had been a member of Lodge 1163, A. F. & A. M. He then became a member of the Glen Elynn Methodist church. Mr. Winder's death followed that of his father's almost five months to the day, the senior Mr. Winder having passed away the week before Christmas in Ord, Nebraska.

Surviving are his widow, Erlene, three children, Karen, Allen, and Wayne; his mother Mrs. Laura Winder of Ord; and three sisters, Mrs. Walter Leibert of Nampa, Idaho, Mrs. A. Gardner and Mrs. Opal Brownworth, both of Chicago.

Robert D. Miller Takes Refresher

T/Sgt. Robert D. Miller, Ord, a member of Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron, 322nd Air Division, Troop Carrier Reserve, has completed two weeks training with the 313th Troop Carrier Wing, Bergstrom Air Force Base, located at Austin, Texas.

T/Sgt. Miller, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, flew 47 combat missions with the 10th Air Force during World War II. He joined other men of the 322nd who received refresher training with the Troop Carrier under the new Air Reserve training program. The 322nd was superimposed upon the 313th Troop Carrier Wing, and each man worked in the section which did a job corresponding to his own. The Air Division, under the command of Brigadier General Dick R. Petty, Chief Pilot of the United States Army, Denver Division, had an outstanding record during World War II, during which they flew many missions with the famed 82nd Airborne Division. They were awarded numerous citations for their service in the European Theater of Operations.

Following Headquarters Squadron, Air Division, will be the 410th Troop Carrier Group, and the 833rd and 84th Troop Carrier Squadrons, in that order, for their two weeks jaunt.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

It was in January this year that my good friend Coats of Jersey fame, wrote me a short letter, suggesting that it had been a long time since the Quiz had printed the markets. He signified that not only himself, but many with whom he had talked, would like to see that small department in the paper. Several others had told me the same and I had been talking to both Gene and Ed about it and had their promise when I got Mr. Coats' letter, that the markets would go in and it was started shortly thereafter. So his letter was not printed and it has lain on my desk since.

Among other things Mr. Coats said in the letter that he had just had an inquiry from California as to the price of Ord Creamery butter and stating that butter out there was $1.05 a pound and that eggs were 80c per dozen. At the time they were 36c a dozen here. He also said that 51 years ago he sold corn for 10c a bushel and that he had just been offered $2.52 a bushel for his 1947 corn. He said that 32 years ago he sold 100 bushels of corn on the market to get married on, getting a special price of 13c. He thought that young men of today would hardly be able to get married on $13.00.

No, Mr. Coats, it takes several times that amount to get married these days. In fact the wedding invitations or announcements costs that much or more nowadays. The preacher would feel sadly abused if he didn't get a twenty dollar bill these days. No young man these days could even get a sweetheart unless he had a good car and a lot more money in his jeans than it took to get Mr. and Mrs. Coats married.

It was almost fifty years ago that I got married. We had rented a small house in northwest Ord, paying $6. a month for same. We bought the small cast iron cook stove that the former tenants used for $3 and we had an old rocker and four chairs, a rag rug and that about all. We went to Omaha on a wedding trip and when we got home about three days later we found a nice bed, springs and mattress in our bedroom, a gift from the Peoples Store, Mamie Stier, being the sponsor of the gift. It was many years later before we got the first Ford. We never had a piano. We had done advertising in the Valley County Times to pay for our room in an Omaha rooming house; we traveled on a U. P. railroad pass and I had about ten dollars in cash when we got done paying the preacher and we got home from Omaha with enough money to buy a broom, mop and washboard. Thirty dollars would more than cover all we had but we both went to work like niggers and made it, usually with our noses pretty close to the grindstone and most of the time scraping the bottom of the pocket-book to keep things going. Would any young people today think they could start that way?

—O—

Fellow walked into my office the other day and when I looked up to greet him there stood Tony Kokes of Tekamah this state. In the course of our visit he mentioned that he graduated fifty years ago this spring and that he went to Tekamah soon thereafter to go into the drug business. I began to speculate on his age for he looked to be not a day over 45 or 50 and if he graduated fifty years ago, probably not younger than 16 years of age, he is getting well toward seventy. He retired some years ago, having acquired as much money as he thought he would need.

I see no reason why you shouldn't bring me your daily paper subscriptions; neither do I see any good reason why John Ward shouldn't go down to the creek and catch me a mess of fish, knowing as he does how well I like them, and I might fall in if I went after them; neither do I see why some guys get mad at me when I stop their paper, but they never think of getting mad at the daily paper for doing the same thing when it is not renewed. I don't get peeved when the daily stopped my paper and I had to get along several days without one.

And speaking of young old men Will Wisla was in one day last week. He said it was 43 years ago since he went to Lexington, Nebraska to go into the hardware business. He graduated from the Ord schools more than 50 years ago. He retired some years ago, having acquired a competence, and now he not only takes care of his own home place but keeps in the good graces of his neighbors by doing many odd jobs for them and still finds time to do a lot of fishing. He has a summer home up in the Black Hills where he and his fine wife Antonia go for a couple of months each summer. By the way I am going to drive to Lexington one of these days and draft Will to show me where to catch those big crappies.

It was magical to see so many flowers blooming, more and more of them as we went south. Penicils were in gorgeous bloom in Kansas and Missouri a week ago. Now they are browning on the bushes.

There were a few irises to see in Ord and more in Grand Island, and thousands of blooms from there on. They seemed to have paved the roadsides, and I wish you could see those walls of irises. Not only the more ordinary colors but dozens of colors together. Once, I remember, I wanted Ord people to go out with a few iris roots and start them along our roadsides. I still think it is a noble idea, and all those irises I saw this week didn't change my mind. To see the deep cuts through high hills glowing with irises is a lovely sight.

Then the roses were out in Missouri, a majority of them the flaming red velvet that I believed to be Paul's Scarlet climber. And how they climbed and flamed over every fence and in every yard. Gorgeous, luscious, eye-taking, I can't call them enough beautiful names. Imagine seeing them along a pasture fence. Or as a show plant in a beautifully kept yard.

That reminds me . . . Missouri farms are beautifully kept with few weeds; trimmed yards and hedges . . . fancy trimmed hedges between fields! Well, I saw some! The barns are enormous and newish looking. The houses are mostly big. Often the farm house looked as though a family of ten children could be comfortably housed! Often the farm houses were made of brick. But always, the places were well kept, neatly bounded with white fences on most farms. Looking them over, I couldn't figure out just what made them so prosperous. Where more than in Nebraska, would the farms bring income sufficient for landscaping the big yards? Yet we saw hundreds of carefully planted places.

Rolling to the south end of the Ozarks, we visited the famous School of the Ozarks, originally a Presbyterian project I believe. It accommodates 250 high school age boys and girls who want education enough to work hard for it. All the work of the place is slowly and painfully done by the youngsters. Friendly and cheerful, you should see them learning about printing, weaving, dairying, shop work, singing and a dozen other subjects.

In the big barn are some of the finest herbs in the world, largely instigated by generous gifts of J. C. Penney's top executives. All milk, butter and cheese used by the school is made here by the efforts of young pupils.

Nearby a big cannery runs full blast most of the growing season. After crops are put up for school use, the remaining stocks are sold through the usual channels. So when you see that brand, "S. of O.", and buy those tomatoes, etc., the profit is going home to a good use.

Lake Taneycomo was pretty, resort-y, with high rolling hills covered with oak, oak, oak. The water was muddied by limestone (?) they told us. More charming was Lake of the Ozarks, with "scenery" on every hand, including a long dam that creates the dragon-shaped lake as well as sending big electric power lines out in every direction. Here too, there were trees and trees, mostly oaks!

All lovely and different, but we thought the prettiest valley of all was . . . the North Loup!

So we went to Missouri, and yes, I learned many things. We had hardly crossed the Kansas line before I began to see those artificial lakes so dear to the heart of a soil conservator like Leslie Nash. Every farm had them, sometimes in rows like stairsteps. At first the boys and I thought they were cunning little ponds, then we noticed they were invariably placed at the head of small draws, and sure enough, they did prevent serious soil erosion. We continued to find these curi-

Out Of Old Nebraska
By James C. Olson,
Supt., State Historical Society
This spring, the "All Star" primary has placed Nebraska in the center of the nation's political stage. It is not the first time, however, that Nebraska has been in the political limelight. It is an old Nebraska tradition, dating from the very creation of the territory itself — an act which threw the entire nation into turmoil.

The Kansas-Nebraska bill was signed by President Franklin Pierce on May 30, 1854, just 94 years ago. The bill had been passed over the most bitter opposition from large elements of the population in the northern states, and it served as the storm center out of which grew the Republican party. It may come as a surprise to many Nebraskans, but the Republican party has its origin in "anti-Nebraska" meetings held in Wisconsin, Mich. and other places.

The great controversy over the creation of Nebraska territory developed out of the slave question — a question which was to be solved only by civil war.

From the very adoption of the constitution, the North and South had waged verbal and legislative battles over the extension of slavery. Peace was maintained for a time by the device of admitting first a free state and then a slave state, thus keeping the balance in congress somewhat equal. In the case of Nebraska the situation was complicated by jealousy over the route to be followed by the first trans-continental railroad.

When Stephen A. Douglas, Democratic Senator from Illinois, first introduced a bill creating the territory of Nebraska, his intention was to set up a territory through which a railroad might run from Chicago to the Pacific. He originally included in the proposed territory all of the area west of Missouri and North of the present southern boundary of Kansas.

The southerners, in addition to looking somewhat askance at the idea of a northern railroad, were fearful that the proposed territory ultimately would result in too great an advantage for those who opposed slavery. In order to win southern support Douglas adopted the idea of "popular sovereignty," by which the residents of the territory could decide for themselves whether or not they would tolerate slavery in the Louisiana territory north of the 36th parallel. The proposed territory also was divided into two, Kansas and Nebraska.

By this action Douglas got sufficient support from the South to put the bill over but the abolitionists in the North arose as a man to denounce the whole Nebraska movement as playing into the hands of the slave holders. And out of this denunciation developed the Republican party.

Body Of Daniel Murphy Returned
A military funeral was held at the Congregational church in Burwell Tuesday afternoon, May 18, for Daniel B. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Murphy, now of Twin Falls, Ida, formerly of Burwell. He was killed March 7, 1945 on Iwa Jima while serving in the Marines. A military escort accompanied the body to Burwell. Rev. J. C. Nyrup had charge of the services with members of the American Legion Clifford Clark Post No. 298 acting as pallbearers, color bearers and firing squad. Gerald Bishop, Bill Beaty and Gale Demaree sang three hymns which were "What A Friend We Have In Jesus", "Rock Of Ages" and "Beautiful Isle Of Somewhere", accompanied by Mrs. Nyrup at the organ. Pallbearers were Leslie Stahecker, Forrest Swanson, Loren Livermore, Gilbert Stahecker, Ray Honaker and Marvin Partridge. Interment was in the Banner cemetery.

Daniel Branson Murphy was born December 18, 1921 at Burwell, Nebr., where he spent his childhood. He started his school life in the Burwell schools but later on had several years of country schooling.

As a youth he spent some time in the C. C. C. camp. Shortly after that he enlisted in the Marine corps, where he served from Oct. 9, 1940 until March 7, 1945. He leaves to mourn his passing his father and mother, one brother, Robert, who also served his country, sisters, Geneva Tetschner and Viola at home, all of Twin Falls, Ida. He also leaves his grandmother Murphy of Burwell, besides many uncles and aunts, one niece and other relatives who sadly miss him. He had one sister, Lucille, who passed away when she was eight years old.

Peggy Jo Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wagner of Scotia is celebrating her birthday by spending a few days with her grandparents and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagner and Helen.

Mrs. Nina White, a former Burwellite is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gavin. She came here from Austin, Tex., where she had been spending the winter with her son, Harold and family. After visiting old time friends for several days she will leave for Chicago to spend the summer with a sister, Mrs. R. S. Koelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Grunkemeyer are doing the farm chores for Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lakin while they are visiting relatives in Sheridan, Wyo.

The Legion Auxiliary met in the library basement Tuesday, May 18, with Mona Jones presiding as president. The minutes were read and approved. Sixteen members answered roll call. The poppy chairman reported $114.72 realized from the sale of poppies, and the names of the eighth grade pupils who won the poppy poster contest were given. Tommy Rouse won first, Marley Grunkemeyer second, and Kenneth Jurgensen third. A card was read from Sarah Custer of Dayton, Ohio, a hospitalized nurse, thanking the unit for the Easter gift sent to her. Plans were completed for the final bingo party held Thursday and for the tea on guest day, June 15, at which time Marilyn Boll will give a report on her trip to Girls State. Election of officers was held with Dorothy Hall, president; Mona Jones, 1st vice-president; Bernice Hotner, 2nd vice-president; Betty Clabaugh, secretary; Ada Tunncliff, treasurer; Jesse Igenfritz, chaplain; Irene Bloach, sergeant at arms; and Pearl Cram, historian. At the close of the meeting Marilyn Doll gave two piano selections and a short sketch of the interesting things she had seen on the Freedom train in Grand Island. The ladies enjoyed a dainty picnic lunch served by Ada Tunncliff and Katie Hamerda.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Lakin and sons are spending their vacation from farm work with Mrs. Lakin's brothers and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hilpert and Mr. and Mrs. George Grunkemeyer in Sheridan, Wyo.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Troxell took their daughter, Bernice, to Grand Island where she left on the early train Friday morning for her return trip to Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Alverda Maves and daughter, Lois, have gone to Correll, Ia., where they will make their home. Mrs. Maves has purchased a grocery store in cooperation with her son-in-law, Wallace Erickson.

At their first effort for raising money for the new band uniforms, the Band club took in $153.45 from the sale of rummage, Friday and Saturday.

The members of the Bridge club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Warren Hall at a seven o'clock dinner Tuesday evening, followed by an evening of bridge. Mrs. George Baker was a guest. Miss Frances Smith won high score and Mrs. Chet Hallock won low.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hall and children left for Tacoma, Wash. Sunday, where they will visit for several weeks with Mrs. Hall's parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pierce, Maurice and Micky. They plan a trip through the Yellowstone National Park on their way out west.

Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Kline of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Mrs. Neil Hawthorne were up near Valentine Tuesday. The Klines have been looking over ranches around Burwell and in the northern part of the state. If a suitable place can be found for grazing large herds of cattle, they will make their home in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson and granddaughter of Belleville, Ill. are visiting Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Igenfritz will leave Saturday for Greeley, Colo. to attend the graduation exercises of their son, Rex, who will receive his masters degree in music at that time. Mr. Igenfritz will return home in about a week but Mrs. Igenfritz will stay for a longer visit with their son and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cain of Hebron, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Igenfritz. They left Monday morning with their destination being Maine and New Hampshire where they will spend the summer months. Mr. Cain is the salesman for encyclopedias.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Swearingen were visiting over the weekend in Alliance with Mr. Swearingen's sister and family.

Near one hundred members of the W.S.C.S. and church members met in the Methodist church parlor for a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hammond, Mrs. Claudine Hindman and children and Mrs. Alverda Maves and Lois. The evening was enjoyed by playing games, with Mr. Hammond and Mrs. Maves winning the prizes. Blanche Johnson and Wanda Ziegler sang a duet and Jean Thurler and Mr. Hammond sang solos. A piano selection was played by Bonita Johnson. Dr. Smith gave a farewell speech and presented the gifts which were selected by Mrs. Frank Thomas and Mrs. Floyd Anderson. A covered dish lunch was served by the committee. Every one reported a good time and she they departed, wished the families leaving good luck, and while we are losing these fine people, we know what other communities are gaining.

Dr. and Mrs. Ross Wood went to Norfolk Monday to attend a meeting of the Christian Church College. Dr. Wood is one of the directors.

Mrs. Harold Johnson and niece, Sharon Lacy, came from Sargent Thursday and was an over night guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mitchell. They left Friday for Lincoln where Sharon will be a guest in the Johnson home until July.

Barbara Wagner returned home from Scotia Sunday where she had been visiting a few days with her cousins, children of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmar Wallin of Taylor were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Leach.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis of Frankfort, Kans. came Thursday and are the guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones.

Mother-Daughter Banquet
The W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church served a Mother-Daughter banquet Wednesday evening in the church parlors with more than one hundred in attendance. The dinner was served by the men and boys of the church with Charles Zanger in charge of the dining room.

Mrs. Inez Burrows was toastmistress for the program which had as its theme "The New Look." Mrs. W. O. Zanger gave the "Good Evening" welcome. Devotions were read by Evelyn Hamer. Richard Babcock sang "Mother Machree" and the high school girls triple trio sang two numbers. A new look in summer hairdos was illustrated by four little girls, Joan Burrows, Patsy Arnyas, Sharilyn King and Joan Draybridge. A style show by junior and senior girls was also a feature of the program.

Mrs. John Misko of Ord was guest speaker, speaking on Nebraska Institutions. Closing number of the program was two Koolimba solos by Mrs. Kenneth Kooling.

Lions' Club Meets
The North Loup Lions' club met in regular session last Thursday at the Portis Cafe and received the report of the nominating committee. Because of certain nominations that were declined, the committee will bring their revised list to the first meeting in June, and the election will be held at that time. Three keys were presented at the meeting. Each member receiving a key, had introduced two or more new members to the club. The following are the key members: Arthur L. Willoughby, Bates Copeland and John Ward. The president, Sam Mitchell, was a key member since 1910.

Five alternates were elected for the district convention and their names will be published later. Action was taken with regard to the Schroeder Bill, and the county commissioners are to be asked to gravel the mail routes in accord with the terms of the Schroeder Bill.

Several speeches were given urging more unity in the community for the benefit of the town.

The Scout fund reported that we had raised eighty-one dollars for the Boy Scout trip to the Black Hills.

The committee on the Mira Creek clearing report that there is still more money needed to pay for the work done.

Young people of Mrs. George Clement's Sabbath school class enjoyed a wicker roast at the Clement home Thursday evening. Eric Cox took them to the Clement home.

Mrs. Walter Brabander and son came up from Grand Island Wednesday afternoon to attend the mother-daughter banquet. Burdette Mulligan went home with them.

Bill and Donald Vogeler, Otto Schoening and Johnny McDermott went to Ainsworth, Neb., and Winner S. Dak, on a combined business and pleasure trip from Thursday till Thursday of last week.

Highway View club held their guest day Thursday, May 6, at the home of Mrs. Ign. Pokraka. Twenty-four members and guests were present. Miss Kathrine Helzer was also a guest. Roll call was "A book I have read or would like to read." Mrs. Myra Barber reviewed the book "Tom Walker" by Marie Sandoz. Mrs. Jim Johnson and Mrs. Grover Barnhart presided at the tea table.

The Dr. Grace Missionary society will hold a bake sale Friday afternoon in the Schudel building.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Swenson went to Viborg, S. D. Wednesday to attend the commencement exercises there. Mr. Swenson's sister was a graduate. They returned the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Van Horn and daughter of Marshalltown, Ia. went North Loup Saturday evening, having driven over from Scotia, where they were spending the weekend with Mrs. Van Horn's sister, Mrs. Sorenson. Mrs. Alice Van Horn was in Oquema, Ia., with her sister, Mrs. Harold Cook, had broken her arm and so did not come with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen went to the Spencer Waterman home in Maiden Valley Thursday and spent the weekend there and at the Carl Oliver home, returning home Sunday afternoon.

Roanite Cummings, who has been sick for several weeks with kidney infection, had four teeth extracted Wednesday by Dr. Haansa of Scotia.

Rain which fell here Saturday night measured 1.03 inches. A great deal of electricity with the rain and a large tree in the I. L. Sheldon yard was struck.

Ray Gene Stine, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stine, fell from the truck Thursday and broke his arm just above the elbow.

We will have all of our regular services next Sunday and also cooperate with the community in the memorial services in the afternoon.

Our next quarterly conference will be held the evening of June 7th. The superintendent will bring a message before conducting the business session.

We can offer you a fine 245 acres all under the ditch with a fine bunch of improvements, except barn is blown down.

We have some nice small places right here in town. One extra good place of 7 acres, all irrigates just like nothing.

Some fine 1/2 sections close in with good improvements.

We have some good improvements to sell on farms to be moved off, can take all the time you want to move them in, one good house, three barns, one garage, there is a lot of good lumber in this set and most can be moved standing as they are close to gravel highway.

Without Painful Backache

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sex and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with burning and stinging and times shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 45 years. Doan's give happy relief and will by the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

but when you need it, will it be clean? Will it have the leaks sealed, cracks if any, repaired, needed parts if any on hand and installed?

And will your serviceman be able to come then? Or even in two or three weeks? And will the parts come then? Or even in two months?

It doesn't cost much for a cleaning job, can be done in a few hours. And the satisfaction of knowing your furnace is O. K., for another season, is a load off your mind. If it isn't O. K., then the sooner something can be done about it, the better.

80 training schools for Standard Oil dealers to give your car better service

Because Standard Oil Dealers want to give you the best service possible . . . even better service than ever before . . . they eagerly attend our special advanced training schools. Thousands have already completed the course at 80 schools which Standard Oil operates in 74 cities. 260 dealers start the course every two weeks. The schools feature "Personalized Service"—to give you the individual attention it needs and you the personal service you enjoy. When your Standard Oil Dealer has met all the requirements, he is awarded our Service Specialist emblem. When you see it displayed in his station, expect a little extra promptness and courtesy, a little extra attention to clean rest rooms and premises, expect your car to be handled with real know-how and skill.

Gas economy is a "must" HERE'S HOW TO GET IT:

- Drive at moderate speeds—fast driving consumes much extra gas. Shift into high as soon as possible—don't idle your engine unnecessarily—avoid fast starts, sudden traffic light stops.
- Have your Standard Oil Dealer check your car for "gas wasters."
- His training helps you save gas. Standard Oil Company.

The Importance of "Stepping Down"
Here is the story of a new principle of design that has rocked the industry and given Hudson unique beauty not possible in any other type of car.
The recessed floor in the new Hudson—now widely known as the "step-down" feature—is the talk of the automobile world. And rightly so! This interesting development is the key to a new kind of motor-car beauty never before obtainable.
People everywhere are attracted by Hudson's low, streamlined silhouette and free-flowing lines.
Only Hudson, because of its exclusive recessed floor that you step down onto, is able to offer streamlined, low-built beauty without asking you to give up interior head room.
Let's take a frank look at the motor-car designer's problem. Since streamlining an automobile reduces available head room for rear-seat passengers, to achieve a low silhouette and maintain adequate head room, both floor and seats must be lowered to compensate for the lowered roof. The recessed floor is a necessity. But it is difficult to lower floors and seats, because in all cars, except Hudson, they are built on top of a frame. Only Hudson has a new, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame, part of which is a rugged base structure that permits lowering floors and seats down within the frame. The sketches below illustrate this design problem and show how Hudson's recessed floor provides a low, streamlined silhouette, yet preserves head room.
NEW HUDSON
Here it is the long, low, gracefully streamlined Hudson—only five feet from ground to top. You can see how the streamlined roof comes down sharply over the rear-seat portion of the car, as compared to the other types of roof lines shown in sketches to the left. But Hudson floors are recessed down within the frame, seats are lowered, so you get more than ample head room.
The "step-down" principle requires years of engineering work, the development of new production techniques and equipment, and millions of dollars of highly specialized new plant investment. Perhaps this explains why Hudson alone offers this vital new design principle today.
You'll probably expect the motor car that is the talk of the nation to offer you even more than beauty and comfort. And it does! Your nearby Hudson dealer will show you The Importance of "Stepping Down"—also its results in riding and driving ease, performance and safety. Hudson Motor Car Company, Detroit 14, Michigan.
