

Asks Audience To Remember Sacrifices of Past

Captain Chauncey D. Crutcher, commandant of the Naval depot at Hastings, told his audience at Memorial Day rites here Sunday that liberty is a priceless thing not to be forgotten or taken for granted. On the speakers' rostrum are Captain Crutcher, Captain Roger Thompson of the U. S. Army, Rev. L. V. Hassell, Ord, and Ross Allen, commander of the American Legion.

Tells Audience Liberty Is Taken For Granted

Naval Capt. Makes Memorial Address Here Stresses Citizen Paramount to State

An urgent plea to his audience of 1200 to remember the priceless heritage of liberty and not to take it for granted was made by Captain Chauncey D. Crutcher, U. S. Navy, in a Memorial day address here Sunday afternoon.

The naval officer traced the sacrifices of Americans down through the years to preserve and protect their liberty and contrasted life today with that of the America of 100 years ago, and of life today in a totalitarian system.

"We take it for granted that we will get up in the morning, eat a large substantial breakfast, go to our daily tasks with no fears of Indian arrows, snipers' bullets, or assault upon ourselves or our families."

"We know that there will be food. We know that police, soldiers or secret agents will not come around several times a day to check up on us. We know that normally, we answer only to our selves for our actions," he said.

"That is liberty—the right of every one to do what he thinks best for himself, to have and to hold if he is willing to put forth the effort and has the skill."

"In our country, the citizen is supreme. Even in time of war, the citizen—whether in combat or in production—is still supreme."

The speaker urged his audience to make this Memorial day a day to remember not only the sacrifices made for the preservation of liberty but to remember the reasons for the sacrifice.

Captain Crutcher's address was preceded by memorial rites conducted for GAR veterans by the local chapter, and for World War I and II veterans conducted by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Captain E. T. Thompson, Grand Island, U. S. Army, was in charge, and Rev. L. V. Hassell, Ord Methodist church, gave the prayer and benediction. Music was furnished by the Ord high school band.

A firing squad from the American Legion and VFW gave the salute to the dead.

Ord Legion Team Beats Loup City

In a pitchers' battle that stretched into three extra innings, the Ord American Legion junior team beat the Loup City junior Legion 2 to 1 at the Sherman county seat Sunday afternoon.

Heuck scored the winning run in the first of the tenth when he drew a walk, went to second on a fielder's choice, and scored on Wozniak's solid two-bagger into left field. Richardson and Nelson shared mound duties for Ord, whiffing 19 Loup City batters. Jabrowski and Bander struck out 17 for the losers. Wozniak was big man with the stick, getting three hits in five trips to the plate:

1.11 Inch Soaker Ends Drouth in Valley County

Rain Saturday Night General Over Central Nebraska, Crops Out of Danger

Central Nebraska's spring drouth was definitely ended Saturday night by a soaking rain which ranged from 3/4ths of an inch to 1 1/2 inches throughout the area, Ord getting 1.05 inches followed by .06 the next morning, for a total of 1.11 inches.

The rain came slowly and most of it soaked in where it was needed, bringing relief to parched grain crops and giving newly planted corn the chance it was needing. Though the long dry period here cut prospective yields of wheat, oats and barley this rain should assure a partial crop and also gives new hope for a bumper corn crop. Pastures and alfalfa also got a new lease on life.

This rain came on the anniversary of the heavy 1917 May snow storm. Cool, cloudy weather prevailed over the week end with light rain falling Saturday afternoon and evening, and prospects are good for more rainfall during the week.

Fruit is expected to make a real yield in this area, now that frost danger is past. Strawberry picking has been in full swing at the Loup Valley fruit camp, cherry trees and wild fruit show prospect of a big crop, as do the few apple and peach orchards which exist here. Late freezes have killed off the fruit crop for several seasons past.

Baylor Sought for Writing $5,500 No-Fund Checks

Operated Meat Truck Out of Grand Island, Now Thought Be in Illinois

Charles B. Baylor, 39, is on the fugitive list issued May 25 by the Nebraska Safety Patrol, which states that he is wanted at Grand Island for issuing no-fund checks to a total of $5,500. Baylor, well known in Ord, operated a meat truck out of Grand Island but disappeared recently.

His wife is now living in Ord and has filed suit for divorce. Baylor was driving a Hudson sedan with license number 8-3562 when last seen and is supposed to be somewhere near Chicago, though the bulletin states that he may try to return to Nebraska.

Another fugitive listed in the Safety Patrol's bulletin of men wanted is "J. R. Bradley," 40, height 5 feet 10 inches, weight 175, black wavy hair, gold inlays in upper teeth, who while working for a printing company at Hastings stole blank pay-roll checks, filled in eight for $67.47 each and cashed them. This is believed to be the same man who forged several Quiz checks while working here in the winter of 1917. He was then using the name of Roy Stewart.

Bradley, of Stewart, was last seen at Rock Springs, Wyo., on May 21 and Sheriff Worthy Wood, of Hastings, as well as Sheriff Bob Hall, of Ord, would like very much to learn his present whereabouts.

W. T. BARSTOW

He was born at Haverhill, N. H., and educated in the academy there, coming to Nebraska in 1881 and settling at Ord. Here he was an active member of the Unitarian church and of the Masonic lodge.

County Attorney Says Boys Confess to Beer Theft

Charges to Be Filed This Weekend; Nine Teen Aged from Here Implicated

County attorney Ralph W. Norman told the Quiz Wednesday morning that he has confessions from a group of nine teen aged boys in the breaking and entering and theft of several cases of beer from National Hall two weeks ago.

"The boys tell me they made two different trips to the hall to get beer, the second trip in broad daylight," the attorney stated. "Of the nine boys involved, two are Ord residents and the other seven live on nearby farms."

The attorney stated that he would definitely file charges this week end and that he was awaiting an interview with several parents before taking legal steps.

Aged Ord Woman Takes Own Life

Mrs. Carl Bouda, 73, Found in Barn by Son; Services This Week

County attorney Ralph Norman and Dr. C. J. Miller, who investigated, said death was due to lead arsenate poisoning.

Mrs. Bouda had held a sale of her household goods a year ago and had gone to make her home with her son, Wencil, in Omaha. Several months ago she came back to Ord and had lived for some time with her daughter, Mrs. Krahulik, before moving to her own home again.

Golf Popular in Ord This Summer

A renewal of interest in the sport of golf has taken place in Ord this summer and more golfers are seen on the course than for many years. Sunday and Monday were busy days because of the double holiday, but golfers can be seen at nearly any time any day in the week. Several Ord boys are developing interest in the game and account for part of the heavy traffic on the course.

Considering the dry spring, Bud Shirley has the Ord course in exceptionally fine condition. Application of weed killing preparations in the fall of 1917 and again this spring have helped cut down the dandelion menace and given the bluegrass a better chance.

Several tournaments are planned, first being a handicap event coming in about two weeks.

Hardenbrook Dam Repair Completed, Cost $12,000

North Loup Irrigation System Now in 100% Operating Condition

Rebuilding of Hardenbrook Dam at Ord, which was taken out by flood waters in 1917, is complete and the North Loup river irrigation system is in 100% operation, says M. S. Dodd, engineer-manager.

Cost of repairing the dam was approximately $12,000 and 15 men worked on it for two months. The repairs consisted of replacing two sections of the dike by hydraulic fill and replacing and extending concrete areas that were destroyed.

For use in the work a dredging outfit was bought and is being retained for use if similar emergencies arise in the future. This machine cost about $3,500 and its cost was charged to the Hardenbrook Dam job, according to Mr. Dodd.

During the hot, dry weather of late April and early May water use was four times normal for that season of the year, he says, but with recent rains has dropped back to normal. Even before repairs to the dam were completed the district was able to fill all water needs through use of temporary repairs made after the dam went out last season.

Motorcyclists To Hold Gypsy Here This Weekend

Over 300 Slated To Come: Two Day Picnic and Races at the Fair Grounds

Over 300 motorcyclists are expected to be here this week end for a two-day "gypsy" to be held on the local fair grounds.

The "gypsy", an informal gathering of bike riders from all over the country will start Saturday afternoon at which time the vanguard of the group will arrive.

Members of the White Spot club of Grand Island, Lightning club of Lincoln and Modern Knights of York, who are sponsoring the event, believe that about half the number expected will arrive Saturday night. A parade will be held in the streets of Ord that evening, later the bike riders will go to the county fair grounds for a welter roast and fun fest.

Ord's two veteran organizations are cooperating in sponsoring a special dance Saturday evening, June 5, at which a colored orchestra led by Basie Givens will furnish the music.

Sunday the groups will hold a brief business meeting and in the afternoon will stage a series of races and contests. Some twenty odd trophies donated by Ord business men will be given to winners of events and around $175 in cash prizes will be distributed. The meet is sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association.

In case the affair is rained out, the "gypsy" will be held the following week end, June 12 and 13.

McGrew of Orleans, former Ordites. Chelsea is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McGrew, a niece of the Glen Aubles, and she was born in Ord. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. C. S. Jones and the late C. S. Jones, long superintendent of Ord schools.
When she was asked to draw a number for the lucky winner of the automobile they were giving away at the exposition, Chelsea drew number 809, a raffle number sold by her uncle Lloyd McGrew. Further coincidences: Dr. and Mrs. McGrew were assigned room 222 at the Stratton Hotel in Grand Island; Lloyd McGrew lives at 222 South Eddy in that city.
And, a few weeks ago, I happened to hear Chelsea Lynn interviewed over the air. She and her fellow seniors were visiting a radio station, having a gay time of it.

More interested details about Missouri: I found out where dark blue jays grow wild, down there.
Too, we saw dozens of humpy-backed little turtles trying to cross the highway. Their coloring was attractive, like tortoise shell. And when the boys picked one up to examine, he folded all his legs inside, pulled in his head, and shut his front door! It made a rather sharp angle upwards. We were fascinated and wanted to know more about these small turtles.

There is my tall little niece, Shirley Anderson, who'll make a willowy, radiant bride. There is tiny Donny, Miss DeLore's daughter of the teaching school. She'll make a lovely bride. She'll almost look like she was playing house in her big sister's clothes! The bridegrooms - oh, we never bother to mention them.

Hugo Visits Ord 40th Year — Get Set for Rain

Harry Hugo and his troupe of players will play a week's stand at their tent theatre in Ord, opening June 7, and since Harry bears the traditional title of "The Old Rainmaker" on the basis of past performances, Ord people are warned again to get set for a rainy week. Last year a flood and windstorm followed the Hugo visit but this season Harry has promised to make medicine a little lighter and thus cause only normal rainfall.

The Hugo troupe is larger this season, having 12 members including some of his pre-war standbys, John and Connie Spalding are back with the show. This is the 40th anniversary tour for the Hugo Players which means they have entertained several generations of Ord people. The troupe opens its summer tour at Ravenna, then plays Ord, followed by Burwell, Sargent, Broken Bow and North Platte.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA

Missionary Wrote First Description of Early Nebraska Scenic Points

One of the early Americans to report on the Nebraska country was Rev. Samuel Parker, a congregational missionary, who went through the Platte Valley enroute to Oregon in 1835 to explore possible locations for establishing missions among the Indians.

Rev. Parker's enthusiasm for the project had been fired by a report in the Christian Advocate telling of four "wise men from the west," who had come to St. Louis to seek the white man's religion for the people. When Rev. Parker first offered his services to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions he was turned down.

After all, he was 56 years old and not particularly robust and an exploration beyond the wild Missouri was believed to demand the services only of young men. He persisted, however, and finally was accepted. Accompanying him was young Dr. Marcus Whitman, whose missionary efforts were such an important factor in the early settlement of Oregon.

And so in June of 1835 Rev. Parker and his companion found themselves at Bellevue, the principal center of activity in the Nebraska country. They spent most of the month there while the caravan of the American Fur Company, with whom they were to travel, made preparations for the long journey overland. This caravan, incidentally was in charge of Lucien Fontelle, one of the important figures in the history of the West.

While at Bellevue, Rev. Parker took many walks around the countryside, and apparently he was most favorably impressed by what he saw. He noted even at that early date several hundred horses and mules, and a herd of cattle feeding on the meadows. He also observed an occasional field of corn. He wrote, "But few places can present a prospect more interesting, and when a civilized population shall add the fruits of their industry, but few places can be more desirable."

Finally on June 22 the caravan was ready to start and the long, slow journey was begun. Rev. Parker kept a journal of the trip and from it we have numerous descriptions of the Platte Valley. He was particularly impressed by the great bluffs rising out of the valley's floor in what are now Morrill and Scotts Bluff counties. He thought Chimney Rock misnamed and rechristened it Beacon Hill because of its resemblance to features of the same name in Boston. As was pointed out in an earlier column, however, his name didn't stick.

The caravan reached the fur trade rendezvous on Green River, August 12. There the missionaries found Flatheads and Nez Percés eagerly awaiting them. Parker went forward alone with the Indians and Whitman returned East with the trade caravan to organize a missionary party.

Having explored the Oregon country, Parker sailed out to the Hawaiian Islands and then around the Horn to New York. Upon returning home he published an account of his adventures under the title, "Journal of an Exploring Tour Beyond the Rocky Mountains."

10 Years Ago Today
Nebraska Launched a Unique Program

In June, 1938, leaders of the brewing industry met in the Cornhusker Hotel, Lincoln, to launch a program of Self-Regulation in Nebraska.

Now—10 years later—they return to the original meeting place to review accomplishments and plan for the future.

What are the purposes of the industry's Self-Regulation program? To help prevent abuses that might occur in the sale and consumption of beer; to see that conditions surrounding such sales and consumption are not against the public interest.

Has the program succeeded? Yes, Tavern owners now generally strive to conduct their places in the public interest. Citizens, patrons of taverns or not, cooperate by demanding strict enforcement of law and orderly conduct. Public officials are helped and welcome the cooperation of the industry program.

And, now, at the outset of its second decade of service, the brewing industry renews its pledge to help safeguard the public interest. It faces the future with confidence that its program is sound—and permanent.

The Bad News . . .

We know our customers will be interested in this note from the Lennox Furnace Co.:

"LENNOX DEALERS:

We enclose new price book No. 481, effective June 1st, in which our prices have been adjusted to cover the extra and additional cost that we are paying for approximately half of all of our steel requirements because we are unable to get direct from the mills much more than half of what our customers require. We think that it will be better to supply our dealers all, or nearly all, of the furnaces that they can sell instead of rationing them to one-half of what they need. Therefore, we are buying extra steel at double the standard mill price and this will have to continue until late fall or longer. We do not buy black market steel but we do buy ingots from one mill and ship them to another mill to be rolled into sheets for us and that doubles our cost.

"The much advertised reduction in prices by steel mills in their labor controversy applies mostly to wire nails and fencing and only two or three mills have, as yet, reduced prices on steel sheets. Not one of them has promised us any more steel. It sounds like OPA prices and no shirts.

"We want you to have all of the furnaces you will need this summer and fall so as to keep your installers busy, but the only way we can supply you with many furnaces is to buy steel outside of regular mill sources at any price that it takes to get it."

You Name it... the 'Jeep' does it

THE UNIVERSAL 'Jeep' DOES MORE FOR THE FARMER THAN ANY OTHER VEHICLE

• With 4-wheel drive for traction and steady pulling power in the field, the "Jeep" has a drawbar pull of 1200 lbs., operates almost any standard tilling or harvesting implement. Rear power-take-off runs power-driven implements from standard spline shaft drive.

• The "Jeep" can be used with the latest development in modern farming—a new hydraulic lift that raises, lowers or adjusts depth of implement while the operator remains comfortably seated. And of course it handles conventional pull-type implements, too.

• The Universal "Jeep" is for hauling and towing on or off the road in all kinds of weather. It carries up to 1200 pounds, pulls a braked load of 2½ tons at highway speeds.

• It provides mobile power anywhere on the farm, for operating many types of power-driven equipment such as separators, feed grinders, buzz saws, hammer mills, ensilage cutters and numerous others.

This message gives but a glimpse of the all-around, year-round usefulness of the Universal "Jeep". We invite you to see this versatile vehicle in action and let us prove that it does more different jobs than any other single farm vehicle. Crowd of 2000 See Cyclists Go Through Paces Sunday

Bike Riders Plan To Make Gypsy Tour Annual Event for Ord; Had Good Time

Resplendent in their uniforms and skillful in their maneuvers, approximately 200 motorcyclists from nearly 20 towns in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Texas converged on the Ord race track Sunday for an exhibition before a crowd estimated at 2,000.

Trick riding, racing and other special contests featured the afternoon's entertainment. More than 20 trophies and $175 cash furnished by Ord businessmen were awarded as prizes. Rollin Dye, George Hastings and K. W. Peterson, of Sargent, acted as referees.

As the opener for the summer racing program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the motorcycle "gypsy" may become an annual event at the fair grounds track. The visiting clubs expressed enthusiasm over the welcome shown by Ord residents.

Varied Program Given
Included in the contests were a men and women's slow race, a balloon bust, pop bottle race, slider race, 45, 61 and 74 dig out, T. T. race, single and double trick riding. Contests on the morning program included a belt race, obstacle race and backwards push race.

Cyclists represented towns as far away as Pampa, Texas, and St. Joseph, Mo. Contestants also came from York, Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, Kearney and Fairbury.

The "gypsy" rendezvous got under way Saturday night with a parade of the roaring motors. Sunday's activities were opened by a sunrise breakfast.

Many Prizes Donated
Prizes for contest winners were donated by the following Ord businesses: D. E. Troyer, Ed Swopes studio, Gamble stores, Barnett airways, Fajman Radio & Electric service, Valley County Bottling company, Valley County Implement company, George Hastings, and Hilding Pearson, Ord Farm Supply, Ruzicka Hardware store, Kellison Implement company, John R. Haskell, and Howard Huff Implement company.

Out-of-town donors were R. W. Meyer, Jewelers, Arno Grodzky, Mac's Cycle shop and Harley Davidson sales, all of Grand Island; Hurlbut Brothers of York and Goody Indian Sales of Lincoln.

8-State Tour Sought
The Nebraska Circle clubs and the Ord Chamber of Commerce are striving to have the Ord track sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association and then Ord will be the destination of the annual gypsy tour.

The annual tour, if sanctioned, will be known as the Annual Mid-Western Gypsy tour and will include the states of Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Texas, and Nebraska.

The AMA rules for regulated gypsy tours are very strict which accounts for the good behavior of its members. A large part of the group of cyclists here attended church at the Catholic church Sunday morning, as the other services were too late in the morning for them to attend. They had events scheduled for that time.

AT STATE MEETINGS
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogeltanz took their daughter, Rosellen, to Lincoln Sunday where she is attending Girls' State.

Dick Tolon, Ord's delegate to Boys' State, left Saturday.

County Agent Predicts Crop Failure Here

Unless Moisture Comes Soon Dale Very Pessimistic About Yields This Year

County extension agent C. C. Dale hung black crepe all over Valley county's crop prospects for 1948 in an interview with the Ord Quiz Wednesday morning.

"With the exception of the irrigated areas, things are steadily going from bad to worse," Dale said. "Our dryland corn is holding up remarkably well, but we're going to have to have a lot of rain very soon for it to continue progress."

No Weeds, No Crops
Dale is pessimistic about prospects of rain, too. "It has been my experience in this country that when the corn is nice and clean in early June that there'll be no crop," he said. "On the other hand, when our farmers have to fight weeds all through June, we usually have a pretty good yield in the fall."

Small grain is generally poor over the county, according to the agent. The stalks are short, heads are short, and Dale believes that there is not enough reserve moisture to fill out the heads.

Bugs Too Prevalent
Quite a number of farmers in the county are complaining about grasshopper infestations. The spring weather here was ideal for grasshopper egg hatchings, Dale said. In addition the county agent is quite concerned about the depredations of the sweet clover weevil, a new enemy to this area. "The weevil has practically eliminated sweet clover in some areas in the Dakotas," the county agent said, "and it is a difficult pest to control, let alone eradicate." The weevil damage is largely in the new stands of sweet clover and can be detected by small, moon shaped sections bitten out of sweet clover leaves.

Weather Puts Weekend Cramp on Loup Valley League Games Sunday

Old man weather took a hand in Loup Valley league procedure over the past week end, but most teams managed to get in the required number of innings to constitute an official game, before well distributed thunder showers moved in.

Only Berwyn and Broken Bow playing at Berwyn, failed to make it a complete contest. The game was called in the last of the fifth inning with the home team at bat and trailing the Indians 4 to 1. The umpire halted the game at this point, and the rain made continuation impossible in a few minutes.

Fat 18 to 0 Score
Mason City went six innings with Ansley on the Ansley diagonals before rain intervened. The Masonites wrapped up the game as early as the second inning when they scored eight times and went on from there to stow away

John L. Andersen Resigns After 16 Years as Co. Judge

Will Go to Albia, Iowa as Chamber of Commerce Sec'y Post He Held Here

John L. Andersen, county judge of Valley county the past 16 years, handed his resignation to the board of county supervisors Wednesday. The resignation is to be effective July 1.

Mr. Andersen has accepted the job of executive secretary of the Albia, Ia., Chamber of Commerce, and will take up his duties there following release here. Albia is a town of 5,000, about 70 miles southeast of Des Moines.

JOHN L. ANDERSEN

Andersen has been secretary of the Ord Chamber of Commerce the past two years following its revival as a full time organization in addition to his duties as county judge. Various he has served on many special committees and as an officer of organizations, being a member of Odd Fellows, Cosmopolitan, Valley Flyers, Ord Saddle club and others. Last year he was named to the board of directors of Nebraska, the official organization of Nebraska chamber of commerce and association secretaries.

Pecunia Applies

The judge's resignation came as a complete surprise to the community. He had filed for reelection and had no opposition in the primaries.

Members of the board of supervisors accepted Andersen's resignation with regret, and are at present considering candidates for appointment to fill the vacancy, which they hope to fill by June 17. Only one aspirant, Otto Pecunia, retired Ord butcher, has so far submitted formal application for the offices, although three more, John L. Ward of North Loup, Joe Raemakers and Edlsworth Ball, both of Ord, are talked of as aspirants.

Ord chamber of commerce officials announced this week that they have not as yet decided on a successor to fill Andersen's job as secretary.

Since Andersen's resignation leaves a spot vacant on the ballot, a judge will have to be elected by write-ins. On the non-political ballot nomination by petition is not allowed.

Nine Ord Youths Plead Guilty To Breakin; Paroled One Year

Had Entered National Hall Twice To Steal Beer; All Teen Aged

Nine teen-age boys from Ord and vicinity were placed on parole for one year Tuesday after pleading guilty in District court to charges of breaking and entering the National hall.

Youths named in the state complaint were Gerald Maurice, 15, and John Piskorski, 15, both of Ord, Frank Polak, 16, Dean Sperling, 16, Don Shoemaker, 17, Kenneth Collins, 16, Don Beran, 17, Leo Vasecek, 18, and Louis Florian, 18, all from nearby farms.

According to their admissions, part of the boys broke into the hall on May 12 about 11:30 p.m. John Piskorski told Judge William Spikes that six cases of beer were taken. Four of the cases were buried on Anderson's Island, he said.

Beer Drinking Party
A second break-in occurred two days later at the hall. Kenneth Collins told the court that several of the boys went out to the island after school. After becoming somewhat intoxicated, they decided to go for more beer, he related. The second burglary happened during the day.

"I couldn't say exactly what happened," replied Collins to County Attorney Ralph Norman's questioning. "I guess we broke the lock," said the youth.

Frank Polak admitted breaking the lock with a tire iron. The lock was repaired during the interval between the two break-ins, according to Attorney Norman. Polak was originally charged with participating in both break-ins, but the second complaint was dismissed by Norman when the youth pleaded guilty to the first charge.

Spikes Issues Warning
In suspending the sentence and ordering the boys placed on parole, Judge Spikes issued a grave warning.

"If you violate any conditions of your parole, there is nothing that will keep you from imprisonment. After these conditions have been complied with for a year, you will be released from parole, and I hope this incident will be forgotten," the judge added.

Conditions of the parole include complete restitution of the property taken and payment for damage done to the lock. The youths must also report to their parole officer once a month. All of the boys were paroled to Mrs. Opal Burrows, county assistance director.

Beer Taverns Close On Sunday Noon

Beer taverns in Ord are voluntarily closing at noon, Sundays, after consultation with Mayor F. L. Blessing and members of the city council. The mayor stated he has received several complaints of rowdiness during Sunday opening, and that the council had been considering an all Sunday closing if the taverns were not able to police themselves.

Car Driving Blamed
Such cases as this one stem from three causes, Norman told the court. They are bad school attendance, lack of outside interests and driving a car when they shouldn't, he said.

Judge Spikes deplored the poor school grades reported for the boys. He also asked if any of the youths were Boy Scouts. None was. "This is a crime that carries a serious penalty," the judge warned. "You would probably get along better if you had more interest in extracurricular activities."

Approximately 20 spectators were present in the court room during the hearing.

Increased School Budget for 1948

Adoption of an increased budget of $100,217 for 1948-49 was announced by the school board following the regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Increased a little more than six per cent over last year, the higher school budget is due mainly to increased costs of materials, supplies and salaries. Superintendent C. C. Thompson said. The budget a year ago was $94,135.23.

Pool May Be Ready By Middle of July

Council Meets Tonight To Choose Managing Board and Set Policy of Pool

That old river swimming hole will give way to the newest in modern swimming pools sometime in the middle of July, Mayor F. L. Blessing reported Wednesday.

Construction on Ord's new pool and bath house will be completed early in July, according to W. L. Doan, job foreman. Laying of a water line and sewer pipe is expected to delay the final opening an additional two weeks, said Mayor Blessing.

The shallow end of the pool has reached completion except for the final polishing, said Doan. Concrete flooring in the deep end has yet to be poured. The drain is now being installed.

Pool Regulation Size
Diving boards are already assembled and ready for setting. Two boards will be set up. The low spring will be about three feet from the water line. The other board is a ten-foot high dive.

Designed in regulation size for swimming races, the pool itself is 35 by 52 feet. Depths will range from three feet, three inches at the shallow end to eleven feet, six inches under the boards. The pool and bath house are expected to be finished about the same time. Eleven men are now working at top speed.

Water and sewer lines will be dug from the southeast corner of the athletic field. The pipe line company is due to start June 15, the mayor announced.

Will Name Manager
A meeting of the city council Wednesday night will be held to select a pool manager and life-guard. A committee of local citizens will also be appointed to supervise the pool activities and look after the property.

Cost of the pool is estimated at $44,000. Of the total, $25,000 was raised by city bonds, and the $19,000 balance has been pledged by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion. So far the veterans' organizations have donated $13,000 of their pledge.

Hot Rod Cars to Burn Ord Track

Tire-burning and dirt-spraying, the Hot Rods will invade Ord's spurs July 4-5 in a racing demonstration of the stripped down cars with the souped up power.

Old records are expected to fall. Approximately 25 racers will take the field on Nebraska's fastest half-mile dirt track at the fair grounds.

Sponsored locally by the Chamber of Commerce, the Hot Rods will appear as the second dust raising event of the year at the local oval. The recent contest of the twin-wheeled motor bikes was termed a complete success by chamber representatives. Racing enthusiasts are also looking forward to the return of the standard racers at the county fair in August.

The Hot Rod speeding will be conducted under the auspices of the Colorado Automobile Racing club.

Something Different

We most certainly should say thank you to the Rotary club for again initiating that fine summer recreation program for children. Rotarians dug down into their own pockets to the tune of $100 to pay for this summer's supervised fun, proving (the hard way) they truly believe in this program. Alex Cochran will again direct activities. Did you ever notice how much youngsters like Mr. Cochran? He has every child with a big smile, and usually is answered with an even broader smile in return. Children always seem so happy when he is helping them. High school boys and girls also seem to be his whole-souled admirers, greeting him quickly and importantly with "Hi, Coach!" Everyone is happy because we apparently will have a big cherry crop this year. For several years home-grown cherries have not been enjoyed here, so we'll appreciate them in 1948. They tell me our young baseball players are doing good! It gets more and more exciting as our swimming pool progresses with magical speed. Now "they" talk of July 4 as the opening date. And who will be our life-guard? That's the burning question. I hope we can get organized to send one of two candidates to the Red Cross aquatic school opening at Crete June 13. This is the chance of a lifetime, for previously Red Cross courses have not been offered.

STOP CECAL COCCIDIOSIS
Here's the easy, sure way to stop the spread of cecal coccidiosis among your chickens: use Dr. Salisbury's REN-O-SAL in the flock's drinking water at the rate of 8 tablets per gallon. Dot Kokes Married Tiff - Seidel to Glenn Speidel

In a setting of tall baskets of white peonies and a syringia against a background of huckleberry and white satin bows in the alcove of the living room bay windows at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kokes, Dolores Kokes became the bride of Glenn L. Speidel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Speidel of Wilcox, Tuesday afternoon, June 9, at 3:30. Rev. R. T. Cordry, of the Ord Presbyterian church, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of her immediate relatives and a few friends. The bride was given away by her father. She came down the stairway to the strains of the "Lohengrin Wedding March".

Dot Kokes

played by Mrs. Sylvester Furtak. Preceding the ceremony Mr. Furtak played "Romance" by Si-bellius and Miss Marilyn Ollis sang "It Must Be Wonderful" and "Ich Liebe Dich" by Greig. The bride was beautiful in a white princess satin gown, made with a pointed, close fitting bodice with self covered buttons all the way down the back, a round neckline with a sheer yoke and an off-the-shoulder bertha of Spanish lace and full skirt with a train. She wore a veil of nylon net with a Mary Stuart cap of similar material. The bride's bouquet was white carnations and lilies of the valley built around corded loops of white satin ribbon. She carried a lace-and-ribbon handkerchief, over fifty years old, a gift from her grandmother. She was attended by Marilyn Voorhees, of Wauneta, a sorority sister in Delta Delta Delta at the University of Nebraska, who wore a blue lace gown with a square neckline and a draped tunic, and carried a colonial bouquet of feathered pink carnations combined with matching tufts of tulle. The groom was attended by De-vaine Eriksen, of Wilcox, who came to Ord after his graduation from the University of Nebraska, Monday. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Kokes home. The tea table was laid with a hand embroidered, white linen damask cloth, lily of the valley pattern over fifty years old, belonging to the bride's paternal grandmother. The centerpiece was a crystal bowl of white syringia. Mrs. John Misko served the three-tiered wedding cake displayed within a wreath of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Sylvester Furtak poured. Mrs. Mary Travis had charge of the guest book. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Speidel and daughter, Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wendell and son, Larry, all of Wilcox, E. R. Voorhees of Wauneta, Mrs. Rudolf Hamsa of Clarkson and Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Hamsa, Jimmy and Barbara Bess of Scotia. The bride's going away costume was a turquoise blue gabardine ensemble with a brown hat and matching accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of cymbidium orchids with matching tie in brown and gold. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Speidel will make their home in Lincoln where the groom is with the Lincoln Star. He is a veteran of World War II, having served in the navy as a pharmacist's mate in the Pacific theatre, and is completing his work for a degree at the University of Nebraska college of journalism. Mrs. Speidel is a junior in Teachers' college.

Mrs. Cornwell was graduated from the Ord high school and St. Mary's College of Leavenworth, Kas. and did graduate work at Creighton University at Omaha. All four titles were taken care of in the Sherman-Howard league Sunday and at least one hot battle was staged when it took Dannebrog 10 innings to nose out the Elba crew by the score of 4 to 3.

Ord's American Legion junior baseball team whalloped 22 tallies across the plate while Burwell's Junior Legionnaires pulled one run out of the bag during a Sunday matinee at the city park ball diamond.

The visitors were clearly out-matched by the older and more experienced Ord team. Coach Bill Heuck gave all his players a chance at the game clear down to the third string water boy. Richardson, Nelson and Cochran pitched with Stoddard holding up the catching assignment for Ord. Wozniak led the hitting attack. The Burwell battery consisted of Newman and Hald pitching and Carriker behind the plate.

Friday the local nine travels to Central City for the initial night game under the lights. Last year Ord took the contest 2-1. It is hoped that team followers will be on hand to supply the grandstand support. Game time: 8:30 p.m.

Nebraska Ranks Seventh in Nation For Farm Wealth

Fifty-seven Per Cent of Nations Farm Wealth In Twelve States

Twelve states, including nine in the middle west, have 57 per cent of the nation's farm wealth as measured by cash receipts from marketings.

Analysis of the agriculture department's figures for the full year 1947 shows that these dozen states had cash farm receipts of $17,172,253,000, while the other 36 states three-fourths of the total—marked up $13,002,491,000.

The twelve states, in the order of their farm income status are Iowa, California, Texas, Illinois, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and New York.

The figures thus indicate a heavy concentration of agricultural income in the midwest. The only central states not included are the Dakotas and Michigan and these three land within the top 20 in the country.

The disparity in farm wealth between the midwest and other regions is further emphasized by a comparison of Iowa's 1947 totals with those of the other states.

Iowa's cash farm receipts for the period were $2,368,982,000, only $201,463,000 less than the total for the nine-state North Atlantic group, which includes 12th ranking New York and 13th ranking Pennsylvania.

The eight states of the south Atlantic region, including 14th place North Carolina, had 1947 cash receipts of $2,746,417,000, just $377,485,000 ahead of Iowa alone.

All of the nine midwest states in the top dozen had 1947 income totaling more than $1,000,000,000 each. California and Texas were also in the billion dollar class, but New York failed to make it.

Tiny Fawn Found on Highway Monday

He brought the fawn to Ord where Emil Fafelita and others advised him to feed the baby milk via a nipple and bottle. The experiment worked, the fawn going after the milk eagerly, as the photo proves.

Several small herds of deer are known to live in the hills near Elyria and it is believed the mother of this fawn may have abandoned it when chased by dogs. Mr. Osentowski says the fawn was lying in the highway as though dead when he saw it. He will make a pet of the animal.

Valley County Oil Men Will Meet; Discuss Taxation

Nebraska Dealers Collected 22 Million Gas Taxes in 1947, Is Claim

Oil men of Valley county will meet at the city hall, Ord, Wednesday, June 16 at 3 p. m. to discuss regulations and taxes levied on motorists and the petroleum industry. John A. Ainlay, executive secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Industries committee, has announced.

"This meeting will be open to all persons interested in gasoline and motor vehicle taxation," Mr. Ainlay said, "and it should certainly be a must to any oil man."

"The necessity for oil men to meet and consider their mutual problems and work out means of correcting them is obvious from the fact that as gasoline tax collectors, the oil men collected and turned over to the state and federal government over $22,000,000 in 1947 alone. If you add registration fees and all of the other taxes on cars, the average motorist pays in three years a tax greater than the average assessed valuation of all the motor vehicles in Nebraska. Never before in history has such a huge sum of money been collected and made available for our road systems in Nebraska," he said.

"In similar meetings held in other counties, considerable interest has been shown in the discussions concerning Federal Aid and Farm-to-Market roads. These two subjects will also be thoroughly discussed at this meeting."

"The purpose of this meeting," he concluded, "is to dig into these problems and others to see if we can't find a way to establish some tax justice in this state so the common man, the average farmer and worker, will not be crowded off the roads by motor vehicle and gasoline taxes."

Double Drowning in Gravel Pit Near Chambers

Friday afternoon in a gravel pit near Chambers occurred the drowning of two teenage boys, Frank and Laird Hardy, nephews, who went to the pit alone to swim. Their bodies were not recovered until Saturday morning.

Frank, 15 years old, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardy sr., of Chambers, and Laird, 16 years old, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hardy, of Boise, Ida., who came only the day before to visit their relatives at Chambers and Ericson. Mrs. Katie Hardy, of Ericson, was the boys' grandmother.

How the tragedy occurred is not known but it is assumed that one of the boys must have suffered a cramp and the other drowned in trying to rescue him.

Brief funeral services were held for Laird Hardy at Chambers Monday morning, after which the body was taken to Boise for burial. Rites for Frank Hardy were held Monday afternoon at the Ericson Methodist church, followed by burial in the Amity cemetery.

Funeral Services Friday Afternoon for Mrs. Bouda

Funeral services for Mrs. Antonia Bouda, pioneer Valley county resident, will be held Friday afternoon in the Hastings-Pearson chapel with Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson officiating. Burial was in the Ord Bohemian cemetery.

Mrs. Mark Tolen sang "Going Home" and "Rock of Ages." She was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Noll. Pallbearers for the services were Vencil Krikac and Joe Bartu of Comstock, and Joe Valasek, William and Ed Beran and Ed Trivik.

Mrs. Bouda was found Wednesday in a shed near her home. Death was attributed to lead arsenate poisoning. It was believed that she died Tuesday.

Seventy-three years old, Mrs. Bouda came to Nebraska in 1882 with her parents who homesteaded in western Valley county near Woodman. Her husband died from Conover, Ia., where she was born in 1875. They came as far as St. Paul by train and finished the remainder of the journey by ox team.

She was married to Carl Bouda in 1896. They made their home on a farm 10 miles west of Ord until 1937 when Mr. Bouda passed away. She had lived in Ord since that time.

Three children were born to the Boudas. A son Vencil lives in Omaha and a daughter, Mrs. Clara Krahulik is of the farm, Feather Seed. This daughter died in 1927. Other survivors include one brother and sister, Matt Klima of Magna, U., and Mrs. Anna Trivik of Comstock.

She was preceded in death by two sisters, Mrs. Vencil Krikac and Mrs. James Hardy, and a brother, Ignatius Klima. Also surviving are five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Bouda was a member of the Z.G.B.J. lodge, order of Slavin No. 112.

Rear Engine Tractor Here

A new type of farm tractor is now on display at the Valley County Implement Co., local Allis-Chalmers dealer. Ross Allen, manager of the firm, predicts it will replace that last team of horses on many farms by serving as a chore tractor.

The new model differs from previous tractor design in that it has a rear-mounted engine with implements attached in front. The tractor has a "three-fourths" mile per hour low gear and four speed forward up to 6.9 miles per hour. The new tractor is pictured in the firm's advertisement on another page of this issue.

All Nebraska Surveys Start from Iron Monument Near Falls City

By James C. Olson, State Historical Society

Overlooking the Missouri river in the southeastern corner of Richardson county is a high, heavily wooded bluff on which stands one of the most significant landmarks in the state—the ancient iron monument, which marks the boundary between Kansas and Nebraska and is the starting point for all Nebraska surveys. The monument was erected on May 8, 1855 by Col. Charles A. Manners, who had a contract to establish the line between Kansas and Nebraska territories at the 40th parallel. It was brought up the river from St. Joseph and was ferried across to the Nebraska shore by an Indian who had a canoe. Col. Manners' letter describing the job is in the files of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds located in the State Capitol.

According to that letter the cast iron post was imbedded two feet in the ground on a foundation consisting of a flat stone and rammed with earth and small stones. The post is about seven feet high, fourteen inches at the base and eight inches at the top. On the south side it has the word "Kansas" and on the north the word "Nebraska."

For many years the existence of the monument was not generally known. Then in 1890 David D. Reavis and Fred W. Miller, resurveying the Iowa Indian reservation, found it toppled from its upright position and lying almost obscured in the thick underbrush. These two men reset the monument in its original position and once again it was well nigh forgotten.

In 1919 A. R. Keim, looking for material to fill a semi-centennial issue of the Falls City Journal, made a trip to the supposed site of the monument and again the iron post was found toppled from its moorings and obscured by the underbrush. Once again it was placed in a vertical position.

Apparently the job had to be redone a couple of times since 1919 for there are records to the effect that it was replaced in its original position in 1922 and again in 1924. In any event, when Senator Harold Prichard of Falls City, Ray Parrish of Rulo, and I visited the monument site this spring we found the iron marker standing in an upright position and firmly imbedded in a concrete base, where it looks as though it will stand for many years to come, a lonely sentinel reminding the present generation of work done long ago.

As I write this, I have before me pictures of the Missouri river taken from the monument site about 1900 and in 1918. They dramatically reveal the changing course of river during the past half century.

New East-West Arterial Highway Has Been Proposed

Plan Revealed by Stanley Oliverius, Jr., Albion, at Road Hearing

A third main trans-Nebraska highway was proposed at a four-county roads hearing Tuesday at Norfolk.

The new arterial route would sweep through the heart of Nebraska and cross the eastern gateway to the Sand Hills.

It was advocated as a quick outlet road for Central and Eastern Nebraska points not served by U. S. Highway No. 20 along the northern border and Highways 6 and 30 traversing the southern tier of counties.

Stanley Oliverius, Jr., Albion, revealed plans for the highway at a joint meeting of the Unicameral Legislative Council subcommittee on roads and the Governor's Highway Advisory Committee.

The meeting, ninth of 16 covering the state, called on representatives of Boone, Madison, Stanton and Wayne counties. Attorney Oliverius represented the Scribner-Albion-Burwell Highway 91 starting north of Scribner and continuing through Dodge, Colfax, Platte, Boone, Greeley, Valley and Garfield counties.

His association would extend this road through Taylor to connect with No. 7 at Brewster and on to Dunning. There Highway 2 would be joined. This would provide a fast route joining Omaha and Alliance.

"This highway may appear to be visionary. But we are looking to the future when communities, because of rapidly diminishing railroad service, will be forced to rely upon the highways for their sole means of transportation," he testified.

"Cattlemen in the east and north Sand Hills want to ship their stock to Omaha. But unless something is done to provide improved roads and more direct highways, those shipments will start moving toward Sioux City."

Warns Against Phony Schools

Several instances have been reported again this year, according to Wayne O. Reed, State Superintendent, of high school graduates who unwisely have entered into undesirable contractual relationships with private educational institutions, particularly business colleges. Occasionally, representatives of such institutions have grossly misrepresented their educational offerings and have required down payments, as much as $200.00 in some instances, for the proposed instruction. High school seniors should be warned, Reed said, of solicitations which involve high-pressure tactics. It is uncommon for the graduate to learn later to his sorrow that courses contracted for are duplicates of courses already taken in high school. He frequently finds also that for one reason or another, it is impossible for him to take the college work for which he has contracted. In such instance, he learns to his regret that he cannot recover any of his downpayment.

High school graduates should seek the counsel and advice of local superintendents and principals in making selections of educational institutions. If possible, they should visit the college in which they are interested and determine then if the offerings in the institution will actually provide them with what they need and expect. If so, arrangements can be made at that time for enrollment. For business college courses, generally, no contract need be signed, and no downpayment made.

The Department of Public Instruction is attempting in every possible way to protect parents and students from those private schools which indulge in unscrupulous practices.

Much Property Not on Tax Rolls

Lincoln, Nebraska—There is nearly $10,000,000 worth of property which is now paying nothing toward the support of Nebraska schools, a survey by the State Department of Public Instruction reveals.

The property is located in 239 school districts which levied no tax during the 1946-47 school year. If the average mill levy of the operating elementary districts (9.66 mills) had been applied to this valuation, the return would have approximated $360,000.

The survey reveals further that in 23 elementary school districts there has been no school in operation and no contracting for instruction for the past five years. In eleven of these districts no school taxes have been levied for five years.

Another factor determined by survey which points to the need for reorganization of school districts is that in the past 25 years the number of school districts has dropped by only two per cent, whereas, enrollment in elementary districts has decreased 57 per cent.

In 1916 there were 127,253 students enrolled in 7,173 elementary districts and in 1946 there were 54,036 pupils in 6,962 elementary districts.

Economists say there is nothing to indicate this downward trend in enrollment will be checked.

Hal Pierce On Irrigation Project

Hal Pierce, former resident of Ord, Nebraska, has been employed by the Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation's Riverton Project, Riverton, Wyo., since June 15, 1947. His present assignment is manager in charge of irrigation and drainage. In this capacity, he is in charge of the operation, maintenance, and drainage system of the 45,000 acres now being irrigated. This includes Bull Lake, Bull Lake Dam, and canals and laterals. Before accepting this position, Hal was employed with the Bureau of Reclamation Regional Office, Billings, Mont., as representative of Operations and Maintenance on land development, farm subdivision, public land openings, and irrigation layouts.

Mr. Pierce's wife, Maxine, and two children, Sandra Jean and Thomas Hal, accompanied him on his new assignment.

Mr. Pierce will aid in the promotion of an accelerated development program on this project. With 50,000 acres already under cultivation, and additional 8,000 acres of irrigable land were opened to veterans homestead entry and settlement in July 10, 1947, and the 56 farm units were awarded to priority applicants. In general these farm units opened to entry will have irrigable areas varying from 70 to 160 acres.

Early this summer about 51 units will be allotted; additional acreages should be available late this year; the balance, the following year.

Distinctive Styling Features 1949 Ford

The revolutionary new Ford four-door sedan for 1949 is lower, wider, roomier and provides nearly 25 per cent more visibility. The car will be on display at the Nelson Motor Co., in Ord on June 18.

LETTERS FROM OUR NEIGHBORS

To the Ord Quiz:

Last fall when we were in Oregon I wrote the Quiz about my son Wayne's wife catching a big fish and said I would send you the picture, but the picture was spoiled so I told a big one, that George Washington would not approve of. A lot of Quiz readers have asked me about the picture and now Wayne sends his day's catch in a picture with himself. His wife operated the camera. The fish weigh 10 and 20 pounds and are salmon.

DAIRY DAVE

COOLING CREAM AT ONCE PAYS DIVIDENDS

CLEANLINESS

In the production of high quality dairy products, it is important that milking barn be kept in a clean condition. Dark, dirty, damp barns furnish ideal breeding places for bacteria which encourage premature souring of milk and cream. A dusty shed covered with cobwebs and full of flies is not a fit place to milk a cow. If such conditions exist efforts should be made to remedy them. Cleanliness brings great cream profits.

Weed Acreage Tabulated in War on Pests

Spraying Quadrupled Over Last Year Total: Six Weed Foes Listed

A survey to determine the number of acres in valley county which are infested with noxious weeds is now under way. Weed District Manager Henry Janus announced this week.

Cards sent out by the district ask farmers to report acreages in bindweed, hoary cress, leafy spurge, puncture vine, Canadian thistle and Russian knapweed. Whether or not weeds are to be sprayed by the district is also requested.

A full sized campaign in the War on Weeds is developing in Valley county. The district expects to spray nearly four times as many acres as last year, Janus revealed. The chemical 2, 4-D is being used almost exclusively for the eradication.

6 Barrels 2-4-D Used.
In the first year of operation a year ago, the weed district sprayed 136 acres on 51 farms for bindweed alone. Fifty-four acres of other weeds were also sprayed by the district, which used two and a half barrels of 2, 4-D in the skirmish.

Beginning this year in the latter part of April, sprayers have already used six barrels of the chemical and anticipate that more than eight will be used before the season ends.

Two county owned spray rigs and 21 privately owned outfits will continue work until bindweed enters the dormant stage around July 1, according to the district manager. This period will last about six weeks, Janus predicted. When the weed starts growing again, the sprayers will resume the battle.

While the power sprayers are idle, operators will report the number of acres sprayed so far to the district office so a full picture of late summer work will be available.

80-90% Kill Hoped.
While weed growth is in progress, pores of the plant are open and the application of chemical is highly effective, said Janus. Spraying in the dormant stage brings only about a 30 per cent kill while spraying in moist growing stages results in an 80-90 per cent kill, he disclosed.

An early weed report for Valley county revealed that puncture vine is on the increase. An easily killed annual, the vine is a prolific seed producer.

Wheat, oats and corn infested with bindweed or annual weeds likely to reduce yield should be sprayed with 2, 4-D at the proper time, said Janus. Stray plants or small patches can be killed with sodium chlorate, he said.

Charges for spraying by the district are made to cover actual costs as provided under state laws. Sales of chemical are limited to use within the district. Information regarding the employment of sprayers and proper conditions for chemical application may be obtained at the weed district office at the Ord Farm supply.

Apking Addresses Omaha, York Groups

Edgar R. Apking, news and advertising associate of the Quiz, led a panel discussion on magazine editing Wednesday at the International Convention of the Cosmopolitan club in Omaha.

Thursday he addressed the opening session of the Nebraska Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries in York as one of five principal speakers for the two-day conference.

On his return to Ord, he will pick up Mrs. Apking and children who have been visiting his parents in Hebron.

Against Law to Tail Fire Truck

If you're going to chase that fire truck, you better stay at least 500 feet behind.

That's the law, according to an opinion handed down by Assistant Attorney General Homer L. Kyle. The statute prohibits a private vehicle from following a fire truck at a distance of less than 500 feet when the firemen are answering an alarm.

The opinion was requested after an incident occurred in which a fire truck was forced into a ditch by a motorist who refused to yield the right of way. As a result, the fire chief was injured and his car wrecked. The wife of a small child was lost in the fire.

Kyle termed the case a clear-cut violation, punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or 10 days in jail for the first offense.

TO CHURCH CAMP

Rev. L. V. Hassell left Sunday afternoon for M. Y. F. Camp at Polk, where he will teach a series of lessons on the Bible entitled, "The Bible for Our Day." He will return on Saturday. The Hastings district is holding three camps this year. One for intermediates, the M. Y. F. and Young Adults. Each camp will be for one week.

City-Wide Spraying with DDT Planned on Flies, Mosquitoes

Ask Contributions To Douse Alleys, Streets, City Dump

A gas attack on flies and mosquitoes was shaping up Thursday as the Ord Cosmopolitan club announced a drive to raise a minimum of $200 to finance a city-wide spraying of DDT.

Streets, alleys, and the city dump are scheduled to receive the misty death-spray. The five percent solution recommended by the state will be used. It is harmless to animals and human beings.

With polio on the increase in Nebraska, drive sponsors emphasized that the treatment may considerably lessen the danger of an outbreak. Flies and mosquitoes are believed to be the principal carriers of the disease.

Funds Collected Friday.
The drive for voluntary donations will begin Friday morning when businessmen on the square will be solicited. Individual contributions will be collected at the Beranek drug store.

If the anticipated response to the appeal is realized, spraying is due to begin next week, possibly Monday. The Cosmopolitans are asking all residents to contribute one dollar to the program so spraying may be started as soon as possible. The more money that is raised, the more thorough and extensive the campaign will be, said Floyd Beranek, Cosmo president.

Use of equipment and material from the Valley County Weed district has been offered at cost to the drive. A special high pressure sprayer for DDT is available, reported Henry Janus, district manager. If funds allow the addition of chlorine to the mixture, moths, spiders and ants will be added to the death toll of flies and mosquitoes, he said.

Expect Annual Spray.
According to Beranek, the DDT spray is expected to become an annual event in Ord. Many towns used the spray last year and report good results. Others are adding the fly-kill campaign to their sanitation program this year.

Grand Islanders sprayed their city a year ago. Many of them believe that is the reason their city has the least polio this year of any other city of the same size in Nebraska. It is not definitely known how polio is transmitted, but where fly spray has been used, the disease has decreased.

The drive will be accompanied by a request that all citizens check their own premises for possible breeding places of flies and mosquitoes. Special attention is directed to garbage cans and auto buildings.

City park and picnic grounds are also listed for the death-mist if funds permit. Although unheard of in the past, a picnic without flies and ants may actually become a reality.

ON RADIO PROGRAM

Dorothy Auble, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Glen Auble will be guest soloist on the radio program, "Memory Time," broadcast from Station WLS, Chicago, Saturday evening, June 19. S. network, is an interlude in the National Barn Dance program which will be broadcast that evening from Bedford, Ind.

Car Jumps Curb, Pins Boy To Wall Ex-Ordite Driver

A car driven by Rev. G. C. Robertson, former pastor at the Ord Methodist church, jumped a curb in Neligh last week and pinned a four-year-old between the bumper and a brick wall resulting in fatal injuries to the youth.

The boy, Ferlie Hupp, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hupp who lives 12 miles south of Ord. Witnesses reported that Rev. Robertson was parking the car at the time of the accident. He is now a minister at Ashland.

Three Applications For County Judge, Decision Thursday

Board of Equalization To Act on Five Claims of Over-Assessment

Appointment of a new Valley County judge was in prospect for Thursday morning when county supervisors convene to make their selection from three applicants.

New applications were filed during the week by Joe Beaumont of Ord and John L. Ward of North Loup. Otto Pecenka of Ord announced his filing a week ago.

Racemakers operated the Diner cafe until recently. He was formerly head of the farm security administration office and has acted as appraiser of veterans loans.

Ward, now retired, is a former news editor of the Quiz. He also holds a life certificate to teach and served as an assistant county assessor the past year.

A board of equalization meeting is also scheduled during the morning session to consider five complaints of property owners on spring appraisals.

The number of complaints have fallen off in the past few years. A year ago there were six complaints, but only one adjustment. In the previous year 19 property owners objected to appraisals but no action was taken.

State Leaders of VFW To Be Here Monday

Robert Lowe, state adjutant, Bert Durfee, state service officer and James Cooper, state editor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be guests of the local post at their regular meeting Monday night.

A feature of the meeting will be the distribution of theatre of operation medals to former Navy and Army personnel. Eligible veterans are requested to bring their discharge papers to the meeting with them.

Archie Bradt Good Marksman

Ord coyote hunters with their long range, high power rifles can well take a lesson from Archie Bradt, who never has pretended to be an expert marksman and doesn't even own a rifle.

One morning recently Archie awoke early and walked down to Harderbrook Dam, where he serves as watchman, to observe height of the water. He saw a coyote running along the railroad tracks with a chicken in its mouth and knowing that the coyote would pass close to his shack he ran back and grabbed a revolver.

"As the coyote ran past, perhaps 50 yards away, Archie shot once and saw the coyote fall. When he examined it he found that the revolver bullet had broken the animal's back, killing it instantly.

NL Woman Again Poet President

Mrs. Myra Thorngate Barber, North Loup, was re-elected president of the Poetess at the annual meeting held recently in Grand Island. Little Mickel, Burwell, was also re-named secretary-treasurer.

Miner Harris, of Palmer was chosen as a director for the organization. He was one of three winners for the best poem of the year as well as in the American scene contest. One of two first prizes in the May lesson contest went to Mrs. Barber.

Fort Hartsuff Has Chances of Being State Park

Dr. Glen Auble Gets Assurance from Governor of Full Consideration

The preservation and restoration of old Fort Hartsuff north of Ord, a project that has been dormant for nearly a year gained new life this week when Dr. Glen Auble who has been promoting the restoration revealed that state authorities believe the Fort would be a worthy addition to the state park system.

"I talked with both Governor Val Peterson and Paul Gilbert, secretary of the state fish and game commission, who assured me that the project would receive sympathetic cooperation from the state," Auble said.

Auble stated that plans now would be to complete the purchase of the 34 acre Fort Hartsuff site by January 1st, and give the site to the state as a gift. Following acceptance of the gift, an attempt would be made to secure an appropriation from the legislature for the restoration work. The unicameral convenes shortly after the first of the year.

The National Park board is not particularly interested in the Fort as a national monument, Auble said.

Total amount of money to be raised for the Fort is $7400, of which $1500 has been donated out right and a further $1500 pledged.

Cochrane Named To Manage Pool, Opening Delayed

Great Popularity Expected; Classes, Exhibitions Planned; Opening Set August 1

Alex Cochrane, high school coach, was named this week to manage Ord's new $14,000 swimming pool which is expected to open by August 1.

The long awaited opening of the pool will be delayed by the sewer and water line company which has not yet started work. Digging was scheduled to begin June 15 but the workmen are being detained on another job.

Cochrane's appointment was made by the city park board after a ruling by the city council that the swimming pool would come under park jurisdiction. The new manager selected two lifeguards, and outlined special activities and tentative swimming schedules.

"We anticipate that the pool will become a center of great popularity with the young and old alike," said Cochrane. "As a drawing card for the Ord trade area, it is expected to attract many out of town people. We hope to accommodate everyone."

Keith Kovanda Is Lifeguard.
Keith Kovanda will be the senior instructor and lifeguard. He was formerly employed with similar duties at Kearney and York pools. Bob Moore will act as junior lifeguard. He completes his Red Cross lifesaving course at Scout camp next week.

Tentative plans include swimming classes, special exhibitions and contests with neighboring towns. Classes for persons over seven years of age will be held in the morning. Instruction in basic strokes will be the primary aim of the program. Certificates will be awarded to those completing the class.

Advanced swimming and diving instruction will also be available. Lifesaving classes may be included later. Various strokes and (Continued on Page 6)

Chamber Seeks New Secretary

Applications for the position of chamber of commerce secretary were being accepted Tuesday following a meeting of the board of directors. No names of applicants were revealed.

Peelers were also being directed to persons the board felt might be interested. The job is expected to be filled by the time the present secretary, John L. Andersen, leaves on June 30. He announced last week that he had accepted the same position in Albion, Ia.

Drunk, No License, Driver Fined $51

George White, Wheeler county farmer, was fined $51 and assessed court costs of $1 by County Judge John L. Andersen last week on charges of drunken driving and driving without a driver's license. White pleaded guilty to both counts. Besides a $50 fine for drunken driving, his driver's license was suspended for 30 days. He was arrested by Safety Patrolman Johnson on June 5 north of Elvira.

Grain Prospects Conceded Better after 3 Showers

Small Grain to Make Half a Crop, Dale Says: Corn Still Has Good Chance.

WEATHER
by Observer Horace Travis
	High	Low	Precip.

Fri.	82	56
Sat.	81	51	.75
Sun.	72	52
Mon.	80	58	.08
Tues.	80	62	.01
Wed. noon	74	58

Crop prospects brightened considerably during the week with the total rainfall from three showers at Ord measuring .87 inches.

Rain fell generally throughout Valley county but in varying amounts in different areas. Heaviest rain fell east of Ord with approximately an inch and a half. North Loup reported 1.28. A half-inch low was reported unofficially six miles west.

Best rain of the week came Friday night. The spotty rain Tuesday night showered about a quarter inch around the Ord square but only a trace fell southwest of town. Weather Observer Horace Travis reported only a sidewalk-wetting dampness at his home six blocks west of the square.

Ord's total so far this year is 6.51 and to this time a year ago 13.01. Broken Bow recorded this year 4.05 and Grand Island recorded a little over eight inches up to Monday.

The showers brought a revision of the crop failure predicted last week by County Agent C. C. Dale. Wednesday he gave county small grains a half chance barring hot, dry weather.

"We'll have about a half crop," he said. "Early season dry spells decreased the sub-soil moisture. Heavy rains in May and June usually carry the crop through the hot months of July and August. We'll need a reversal of the usual rainfall."

Two Foot Corn
"It's too early to tell about the corn," Dale reported. The yield will depend on moisture in July and August. He said that some corn in the irrigated areas is two feet high. The early planting on Cash Weink's farm east of Elvira has reached this height, he added.

Irrigation water was turned in to several fields last week before the showers fell, according to Dale. Ordinarily irrigation is not used until July, he said.

The June 1 estimate on winter wheat by the department of agriculture set the crop at 65,620,000 bushels, a drop of nearly two million bushels from the May 1 estimate. The forecast called for an average yield of 16.5 bushels per acre—slump of half a bushel from last month's estimate.

Baby Beef Improved
On the 4-H baby beef front, the county agent promised a good hot competitive show at the county fair in late August. During the past ten days, George Clement, Valley county leader of the baby beef club, and Dale have ear-tagged 40 head that the boys plan to show.

The men found the calves averaging better than any previous year. The club of 26 members started about 60 head on pasture last fall and have culled the herd to the remaining 40. Besides the county fair, the club expects also to enter the AK-Sar-Ben contest in Omaha.

Home Economics Teacher Signed

Miss Grace Heston of Lincoln has accepted a position as Home Economics teacher in Ord high school for the coming year. Miss Heston has taught Home Economics in the Crete high school for the past two years.

Next year Ord's Home Ec department will become a training center for the Agriculture College of Nebraska. Senior Home Ec girls will be sent here to practice teaching, observe and assist in the department. They send two girls at a time for a period of six weeks instruction. Miss Heston has conducted a similar program in the Crete school.

This will mean that the Ord Home Ec department will be set up as a model department and will have the same as three instructors.

This is the first time that a school so far from Lincoln has been used as a training center.

Frank Coufal Purchases Wit Liquor Store

Frank Coufal, formerly with Sears-Robuck in Grand Island, is the new owner of the Package Store, following a deal made Monday. The sale is subject to approval of the state liquor commission and the Ord city council.

Henry Wit, who sold the store, plans to leave with his family for Arizona or New Mexico in late summer or early fall.

Christian Church Names Pastor

The Christian church in Ord has a new permanent minister, Rev. D. Scott, who will be here for his second sermon next Sunday. Rev. Scott is a student minister from Minneapolis Bible School. His home is in Ovid, Colo. He is in Colorado this week preparing to move to Ord where he will have rooms at the Clyde Kelly residence for the present.

Freshwater Drum? Sheepshead? Who Cares, It's a Big One Anyway

Cane Pole Wins Over Steel Rod; Monster Unnamed

A victory of the cane fishing pole over the steel casting rod was demonstrated last week by entries in the fishing contest now being sponsored by the Ord chamber of commerce.

Fifteen-year old Walter Briggs of Erickson snaked a 12 1/4 pound carp from Lake Erickson Saturday. He used worms and bamboo for equipment.

J. B. Ollig, 51, of Ord landed a 9 pound, one ounce carp two days before from the same lake with minnow bait dangling from his steel rod.

Most unusual and one of the biggest catches so far was the 13 1/2 lb. drum fish reported by Ralph Dierberger, 31, of Burwell. The true species of the monster was not fully established as some observers described the fish as sheepshead or drummer bass. It was caught Saturday on a set line with a minnow for bait.

Howard Nelson Is Ford Manager

Howard Nelson will take over the management of the Nelson Motor company Friday—the same date the 1949 Ford goes on display for a two-day special showing, according to an announcement made by Owner Ben Nelson.

The new manager returned recently from Honolulu where he was employed since his discharge from the navy. He is a former resident of Valley county and is the younger brother of Owner Nelson.

Beran Fined for Disturbing Peace

Pleading guilty to a disturbing the peace complaint, Joe E. Beran, Ord, paid a fine of $5 and costs in police court Monday morning.

He was arrested early Sunday by Night Marshal Herman Rice and Sheriff Bob Hall. City Attorney John Misko prosecuted the case which was heard before Police Judge John L. Andersen.

New Home for Rendering Plant Complete; Operations Begin Monday

Expanded and modernized, Ord's new dry process rendering plant east of town will begin operation Monday with an increased capacity of 33 per cent. New machinery housed in the two-story concrete block structure (shown above) will feature odorless operation in the fireproof building.

With the completion of the $20,000 rendering plant east of Ord scheduled this weekend, the new machinery housed in a newly constructed concrete block building will begin operation Monday.

Capacity of the new plant will be a one-third increase above former operation, reported owner Bruce Covey. Change-over to the dry rendering process will also eliminate offensive odors, he added.

The two story structure will have a total of 4,800 square feet of floor space. There will be 1,410 square feet in the skimming room on the second floor and 3,390 on the ground floor where the heavy machinery is installed.

This is the first time that a school so far from Lincoln has been used as a training center.

Water for the process will be available from the two artesian wells used in the former plant. Drilled about two years ago, the wells offer an unlimited quantity of clear, cool water from a straight pipe set at a depth of 56 feet. A 900 foot sewer will be laid to the river.

The danger of fire is also minimized by the concrete construction re-enforced by steel. The building is designed to be fireproof, Covey said, adding that state inspectors have turned the plant the most modern in Nebraska.

Started about six weeks ago, the new building stands on the site of the old ice house, an old landmark at Ord. The former structure was built in 1909 and used for ice storage until 1931. After standing vacant for several years, the 35-year-old building was converted by Covey in 1941 to a rendering plant.

The old ice pond nearby will also be drained and re-stocked with fish, Covey announced. Springs in the area are expected to refill the pond after it is drained. Biss and crayfish will be furnished to the state.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

As this is written it looks as though Sen. Vandenberg will be the Republican nominee. I really believe the Michigan senator will come nearer suiting a greater number of republican voters than any other man so far mentioned.

The passing of Will M. Maupin removes from newspaper and political circles one of the most colorful characters of Nebraska in the last half century. Always a square shooter and never afraid of public opinion, he held to the line in both his writing and his public speaking. He will be missed by thousands of personal friends.

A subscriber takes me to task for the spels that I sometimes put in this column about subscribers paying or not paying and goes on to say that if he was starting in business again he would surely go into the newspaper business, because he knows of no other business profession or calling where payment is made a year in advance. Well the newspaper business is a good business for some who know how to handle it but there are hundreds of newspaper men who are only a jump ahead of the proverbial coyote all their lives. It is only in the last few years that country papers have required payment in advance. For fifty years the Quiz got the money when it could and more than twenty-five percent of it was lost by people moving away or getting too poor to pay. Laws have been changed in recent years to make it easier to collect newspaper accounts. But the best way ever devised is money in advance. People expect to pay for their groceries on the barrel head when they get them. Some do the same with the newspaper, buying it each week at the news stand. More than 400 copies of the Quiz are sold that way every week in Valley county, the buyers paying 25 percent more for their paper than it would cost them if they were subscribers.

Everyone makes mistakes and I am no exception to the rule, so if you get 2 copies after paying up please notify me. Sometimes I fail for one reason or another to take the old stencil out of the case when the new one is put in.

Whenever a cut is proposed in the amount of an appropriation there is a great hue and cry and every effort is made by interested parties to keep the cut from being made or get it restored and probably increased if it has been made, yet those same people will yell themselves hoarse about the high taxes. Every year we are asking for more and more benefits that have to be paid for with tax money, yet we can't understand why our taxes shouldn't be made lower. Just stop and count on your fingers the so called benefits that have been added in the last few year, and you will have to use your fingers several times to do so, and you will begin to see why we must pay high taxes.

Chas. Keown wrote me last week to ask when Harry Hugo was coming and said it was getting awful dry. For years Harry has claimed that it always rains when he comes. But this year it began to look like his coming had lost its charm, though Harry is just as charming as always. Then on almost the last day of his stay and when the drouth scared farmers were beginning to make threats of violence against him, here came the nice rain that was needed and Harry's reputation was saved.

Sometimes, quite often in fact, an old time Quiz subscriber who decided that he no longer needed the old home town paper and ordered his copy stopped, comes back with a renewal. Mrs. Ike Wood of Big Springs is the latest. They lived here for many years and I am not surprised that she evidently has a longing for the news of those she formerly knew. I also expect she will be disappointed because there are so many whom she knew, no longer here. I am here all the time but sometimes I get lonesome for many who were familiar figures here 30 to 50 years ago. Younger people have taken their places.

Something Different

There are such charming red roses blooming in many of our Ord yards at present. Have you gone by the Guy LeMaster home, for instance? And I see Eva has a purple clematis vine starting on the west side of the house. If there is anything more attractive than purple clematis and red roses blooming on the same trellis you'll have to show me. I might be pink roses and purple clematis - like Clara Marks has at the south side of her house!

Mrs. E. L. Johnson, my neighbor, informs me she was Missouri born and raised, and she tells me that among the flowers native to Missouri are what we call "Sweet Williams". Mrs. Johnson says they were a little field flower where she grew up.

Mrs. George Parkins is raising glorioxias on a big scale. She has been having great fun doing her own hybridizing, and so successful is she that the house is full of flats and pans of pans of glorioxias, in everything from the one-leaf to the flowering stage.

For years Mrs. C. J. Miller has specialized in glorioxias and had a number of them flowering throughout her house. Someone else with a green hand, who "has good luck" with glorioxias, is Mrs. J. Troyer. One glorioxia bulb produced 18 flowers in recent weeks. Mrs. Troyer also "has good luck" with a variety of flowers, for instance roses.

A beautifully kept place is that of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Kellison. And a joy to every traveler on the highway through Ord is the "Big Long Place", with the lot to the east fixed up like a wax park.

Mothers of small children are hollering: "Isn't there going to be any shallow part or wading pool in connection with the new swimming pool?" They seem very disappointed. But don't give up. No one ever thought we'd get a swimming pool in Ord, yet behold we ALMOST have a swimming pool.

So perhaps we'll have a wading pool one of these days.

I understand Alex Cochrane will manage the pool. I'm sure mothers will not worry one minute about their young swimmers with Mr. Cochrane in charge, but I'm sorry the recreation program is to be abandoned, because I feel the two programs are not entirely overlapping.

Mothers of race-about sized children appreciated that recreation program more than you know. It was splendid.

John Andersen fits in Ord so well that no one ever considered the possibility that he might move away.

Now how can he get along without us? And how are we going to get along without him? He was a fixture here. A movable fixture it appears.

Ord hasn't enjoyed a home-grown cherry crop for several seasons, so the cherries that are ripe this week are going to be hailed with delight. I predict the tangy smell of cherry preserves, cherry pie and good ice-cold cherries with ridges of melting sugar will abound in every household.

Putting the cherries, then parking them in the ice box with mounds of white sugar melting on them is a wonderful idea of Mr. H. D. Leggett. Icy and sweet, they're delicious indeed.

How many people enjoy our park in a week, will you guess? I'd be interested to know. Groups big and little picnic there every pleasant day, holding meetings while children romp, playing golf, doing all the things parks are meant for.

One evening last week the three Cub dens and their parents and families held a picnic in Russell Park. There were several other groups nearby, all making full use of this lovely little park.

We should be mighty proud of our park.

How many users do you think it has in a week?

Chance Major Factor in Causing 4 Present Ord Business Men to Locate Here

Destiny, or blind chance, was the major factor that caused four of Ord's most prominent business and professional men to locate here, it was disclosed Monday evening in the course of a program given with Orin Kellison as chairman at the Ord Rotary club's weekly meeting.

Mr. F. A. Barta, Harlan T. Frazier and E. L. Vogelzang were called on by the chairman to explain how they happened to locate here and all responded in interesting manner.

Mr. Milliken, the first speaker, disclosed that he had been working for the Union Pacific railroad for several years and wanting to get into business for himself, went to Long Beach, Calif., to look over a hardware store which he had heard was for sale. He picked Long Beach because in 1910 it was called the fastest growing city in the country, having grown from 1,500 to 15,000 people.

At Long Beach he looked over the proposition, liked it and was about to buy when he received word from his fiancée, the present Mrs. Milliken, that she didn't want him to buy a business so far from her home in Fremont, Neb., because she would be homesick for her mother and sisters.

Saw Ad in Rec. Giving up the proposition, Milliken returned home by train and while passing through Grand Island bought a copy of the old Omaha Bee in which he saw an ad offering a partnership in a hardware store at Ord for sale. Coming here soon afterward he bought an interest in the Pearce & Doyle hardware and later bought the remaining partner's share also. The Milliken home was established here but after operating the hardware store many years he sold it to M. F. Crosby and is now engaged in building and loan association work.

Equally interesting was the story told by Dr. E. A. Barta. He graduated in 1913 from University of Iowa medical college and having had some correspondence with John Trosky who then lived in the new town of Gregory, S. D., he decided to go there to hang out his shingle. Enroute to Gregory he stopped at Omaha to visit a cousin and was advised by him not to go to Gregory, S. D., but instead to locate at Ord. Dr. Barta's cousin explained that he had sold liquor in Ord, that this was a Bohemian community and that a Bohemian doctor should do well here also.

Stayed at Transit House. Dr. Barta disclosed that he came to Ord by train, registered at the Transit House, then operated by Art Hall, and after dinner was greeted by Father Kroupa, then pastor of the Catholic church here. Father Kroupa took him to see Ed Beranek, then, as now, a druggist in Ord, and as a result Dr. Barta opened offices here. His first country calls, he remembers, were at the Adamek and Burian farms.

It is interesting to note also that Mr. Trosky, who wanted him to locate at Gregory, S. D., later came to Ord and operated an insurance and real estate business for some years.

Chance played a big part also in E. L. Vogelzang's decision to locate here after his graduation from University of Nebraska law college in 1918. He had been in service during the first World war and returned to Lincoln to finish his university work.

At Lincoln he met Edward L. Kokes and it was learned that the two were distant cousins. At Thanksgiving that year he was a guest in the home of Ed Kokes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kokes, and Vincent Kokes suggested that he locate here after graduation but he rejected the idea, and after his graduation and admission to the bar he entered a law firm at Seaside, Neb.

V. Kokes Urged Him. Later he decided to enter law practice at Wichita Falls, Tex., then becoming an oil boom town, but reversed his decision upon learning that his office rental there would be $187.50 per month. About that time he got another letter from Vincent Kokes, again urging him to locate at Ord, and this time he decided to accept. He has never been sorry he came to Ord on Jan. 5, 1920, said Mr. Vogelzang.

Most recent comer of the four who spoke was H. T. Frazier, who located here in 1930. A year before he had sold his furniture, hardware and undertaking business at Polk, Neb., and bought a partnership in a funeral home at Hastings, but he had a son approaching manhood and wanted to get back into a business of his own, where there would be a place for his attention. Ord always had had two undertakers, establishments but one had just closed and Mr. Sowl had the only such business in Ord. Learning that the big Bailey & Detweiler building was vacant and could be rented, Mr. Frazier decided to put in a furniture and undertaking establishment here, and thus became the competitor of his friend, Mr. Sowl.

He commented that he arrived just in time to go through the drought and depression years of the 30's but said he had never been sorry he entered business in Ord. The program was one of the most interesting features along this line may be held later.

Road Advisory Committee Meets at Broken Bow

Valley Co. People Invited to Tell Highway Needs at Public Hearing

Road problems which beset residents of the Loup Valley region can come up for more air when Governor Peterson's highway advisory committee meets in Broken Bow in public session June 23, starting at 10 a. m. Valley, Greeley, Blaine, Loup and Custer counties will be represented.

A series of state-wide hearings are being conducted for the specific purpose of giving the committee an opportunity to hear the thoughts and opinions of people in this area regarding road, street and highway needs.

The hearing is a small but essential part of the larger, over-all effort now in progress for determining the state's road, street and highway needs and for arriving at an efficient long-range plan of development best suited to meeting those needs.

This determination of needs and the creation of a long-range plan is the function of the Governor's highway advisory committee, a group of 35 Nebraska citizens representing all sections of the state, all of whom are serving without pay or recompense for the expenses involved in their work.

The committee was appointed last summer after mounting demands for action on the various road systems of the state indicated that decisive steps must be taken for arriving at a sound solution of the problem.

Novosad Limits Ord to 3 Hits, Loup City Wins

Ord Pair Now in Loup City Togs Make 5 of 8 Hits for Their Team

Bill and Bud Novosad, the pair of Ord boys who chose play-for-pay with Loup City's league entry in preference to play-for-fun with Ord's simon-pures, proved Sunday they are worth every dime Loup City is paying them.

Not only did Bill Novosad limit Ord to 3 slings hits, two of them distinctly scratchy, but the two lads also made 5 of Loup City's 10 hits and scored three of Loup City's 6 runs.

Final score was 6 to 4. Novosad was wild at times, giving up 3 walks and hitting one batter, but he struck out thirteen and was always master of the situation. None of the Ord runs was earned.

Don Patrick went the route for Ord and deserved a better final result for he held Loup City to 10 hits, struck out 3 and issued not a single free pass.

Loup City drew first blood in the first inning after two were out when hits by Turek and Bud Novosad were followed by an Ord error which put Maciejewski on base and let both runners cross the plate. In the third they added 3 more tallies on an Ord error, successive hits by Turek and Bud Novosad, followed by a clean-up single from the bat of Bill Novosad. Final score was made in the 8th on hits by Tesmar and Bill Novosad.

Ord scored twice in the 4th inning on hits by Rickli and Vail and a Loup City error and added two more in the sixth when Novosad passed Dahlin and Patrick, followed by an error by the Loup City shortstop.

Mason City scored four times in the last of the fifth inning to trip Miller 4 to 3 Sunday, and thus maintained its unbeaten record and first place position in the league race.

Miller crossed the plate with a single marker in the first frame to take the lead, but Mason City combined three hits, two walks and a couple of miscues to put across the winning runs in the fifth inning.

Ike Sutherland and Raymond Jensen hooked up in a mound duel, with the winners getting eight hits off the former while Miller was collecting nine blows off Jensen, all of them scattered except in the final inning when the visitors punched over two runs.

Comstock Climbing. Comstock won its second game of the season at Comstock Sunday, coming back from a 3 to 0 early inning deficit to jar Berwyn 7 to 5. Berwyn was minus several key players, but nevertheless held its own until late in the game when the Pirates chased across the tell tale markers.

At Broken Bow, the Indians snapped a two game losing streak to swat off-beaten Ansley 9 to 5. Broken Bow rapped out 12 hits to 5 for the losers, but the Redmen bunched theirs effectively in four different innings to attain the victory, their third in six starts.

The Arcadia Huskies continued to look like the team to beat this year as they spanked Litchfield 7 to 0 at Litchfield. Inevitable Bill Beasley turned in another sparkling performance on the hill, holding Litchfield to three hits in winning his sixth start. Don Baumgarten absorbed the setback, allowing eight hits over the entire route.

Kills Coyote With First Shot Fired

Clarice Fiala will be quite a hunter when she has had a little experience, as she shot and killed a young coyote with the first shot she ever fired.

When Clarice was home last week she accompanied her uncles, Frank Tully, of Compton, Calif., and Louis Brown of Denver, Colo., on a coyote hunt. While the men were digging out pups on the Bashie Brown farm, Clarice took a gun and went off by herself intending to learn to shoot. She discovered another coyote hole and watched it. Soon a young coyote came out and she took a shot at it. Imagine her surprise when it fell dead, killed by the first shot she ever fired.

Dannebrog Leads S-H League

All four games in the Sherman-Howard league Sunday were good battles and at least one, the Palmer-Elba game was a real upset when the Palmer lads blanked the tough Elba crew by the score of 7 to 0. In the other games Ashton lost a hard fought contest to Dannebrog by a 4 to 2 score and this win put Dannebrog into top position in the league standings.

Cushing and North Loup put up a real scrap with the Cushing lads losing out the North Loup boys by the close score of 5 to 4. Farwell finally broke into the win column when they took a well played game from the Grand Island K of C club 6 to 3. The loss of this game put the Grand Island boys definitely in the cellar position in the league race. Games next Sunday are Ashton at Cushing, North Loup at Farwell, Palmer at Dannebrog and Elba at Grand Island.

Forage Seeds

Forage Seed in stock: Leoti Red, Orange, Rox Orange, Sumac and Mixed Amber Cane. German and Siberian Millet, Pteritis, Atlas Sorgo, Norkan and Certified Sudan. A small field of any of these forages will supply a nice lot of feed; and there is plenty of time to make a nice crop. Pastures are very short and the hay crop will be extremely short this year. A field of forage would not have to be too good to be a very good paying field. Stocks are not too plentiful and we are allowing the same discount that we allowed for DOLLAR DAYS last week.

Rainbow Flint Corn

If you should need to do a little replanting or have a small field to plant we have a very limited amount of Rainbow Flint Corn. This is very early maturing and will produce either a lot of fodder, silage or grain. It is impossible to beat it for a field to turn your livestock in this fall.

Sweet Clover Seed

Prospects are very good for good yields of yellow blossom sweet clover seed this year. We believe that it will pay you to take good care of this seed this year. Last year several started to harvest their sweet clover but never finished the job and sweet clover seed was in the hospital for a year. Sweet clover seed don't let it lay too long before threshing or combining. Of course it should be dry enough to keep without heating but you do not need to let it lay in the hospital for a couple of weeks. Let's take care of this crop of sweet clover seed.

Nitrate

We are booking orders now for fall delivery on a couple of cars of Ammonium Nitrate. Place your order now and get in on the first cars that come in. There are no prospects for a greater supply next year than we have been able to get in the past couple of summers. It looks as if anyone wanting Nitrate will do well to get their next year's supply this fall.

Cattle Cubes

With pastures as short as they are we believe that it would pay well to feed a small amount of Cattle cubes to your cattle in the pastures. We can furnish these cubes or pellets in 12%, 20%, 37% or 40% protein. We are also taking orders now for Oct. delivery on 40% Linsey. We may be wrong but believe that Protein feeds can be bought quite a little cheaper right now than next fall and winter. There could easily be $15 to $15 per ton advance before early winter.

Binder Twine

Our Mexican Binder twine is here and it is guaranteed to please you. Remember that you can buy your twine now and take it out and if you happen to get halted out we will take the twine back and make full return.

Grains

The grain markets at this writing are much lower and grain men look for further declines. Any time that you have grain to sell we would like to bid on it. We have a few truckloads of Oats & Barley that would deliver to your farm at low prices. If you are interested in buying or selling grain come in and talk to us.

Catlin, Famous American Artist, Painted Many Pictures in State

A little more than 100 years ago a subject of constant fascination for a certain group of American artists was the American Indian. Even then the Indian was regarded as a vanishing race, and it seemed important to capture the look of this stalwart group of people who held complete dominion over North America.

One of the first of these artists in the West—and the first really important one—was George Catlin. Although he was trained in the law and practiced for a time at Luzerne, Pennsylvania, he was much more interested in painting, and apparently considerably more successful before an easel than before a jury. In any event he moved to Philadelphia while still a young man and devoted his full time to painting.

While living in Philadelphia he saw a group of Indians walking through the street and decided to devote his life to the painting of these original Americans in their native surroundings. In carrying out that work he traveled to all parts of the country and endured many hardships. On various occasions he barely escaped with his life.

Catlin first came west in 1832 as a passenger on the steamer Yellowstone, which the year before had made the first steamboat trip to the upper Missouri river. At every possible opportunity the artist-explorer painted pictures of Indians, buffaloes, and western scenery. Among the Nebraska scenes captured by his brush were Blackbird Hill, the trading post at Bellevue and the junction of the Platte and Missouri rivers.

Catlin was the first white man to visit the red pipestone quarry on the Minnesota-South Dakota border, from which Indians all through the west got materials for pipes. In his honor this stone now is called catlinite.

All told, Catlin produced more than 600 paintings of notable Indians and of their dwellings and equipment. These were exhibited in the United States and Europe and created a great deal of excitement wherever they were shown.

A great merit in Catlin's paintings is that he portrayed his subjects just as he saw them, and did not follow conventionalized pattern. Without his work the task of studying life in Nebraska prior to the coming of the white man would be much more difficult than it is.

Dawson County Buys Hospital

Building Will Be Operated As an Old People's Home

Officials of Dawson county recently purchased the hospital building, which was formerly occupied by the Brewster clinic. The building, according to tentative plans, will be used as a home for the old-aged people.

The county paid a reported $39,500 for the three-story, 40-room brick building, and 3½ lots on which the structure was built. The money with which the former hospital was purchased will come from the sale of the 160-acre county farm which will be sold June 23.

Present plans call for the leasing of the building to private individuals, who in turn will operate it as the old folks home of Dawson county. If legal procedure prevents the county from owning the building and operating it as an old folks home—it will probably be used to ease the congestion in some of the offices of the county court house.

The basic reason for the purchase of the Brewster building was due to the coming sale of the county farm. County officials felt that the sale money should be put to use where it would benefit the old folks.

Sisters Play Leads in Hastings Show

Playing the major roles of sisters Abbie and Martha in "Arsenic and Old Lace", Hastings College summer theater production on June 29 and 30, will be sisters Charlene and Verda Munn of Ord. This unusual and excellent comedy play will be the second in a series of four productions planned by the summer theater group this year, under direction of H. Keith Slothower.

Charlene and Verda also played sister roles in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", presented by Hastings College players in May. Verda appeared in the lone feminine role of "The Hasty Heart" in January, and Charlene was properties chairman for the first summer theater presentation, "You Can't Take It With You" on June 15 and 16.

May Open Season On Deer This Fall

A deer hunting season in Nebraska this fall loomed on the horizon this week as the state game commission took note of the increased automobile accidents involving deer.

The game commission directed its field staff to conduct a survey of the situation. Report of the findings will be made in July, according to Paul Gilbert, commission secretary.

Deer-auto collisions in the Scottsbluff area during a recent two week period claimed the lives of four animals, the safety patrol reported. Nebraska's only deer season for many years was in 1915.

Here's what you get when you get a Universal 'Jeep'

YOU GET YEAR 'ROUND UTILITY. The Universal "Jeep" works right through the four seasons of the year, giving you the field performance of a light tractor plus the highway performance of a light truck. Its usefulness is not confined to any particular season or to any specific kind of work—the "Jeep" is equally at home whether pulling a plow or handling a tough off-the-road towing or hauling job.

YOU GET CONVENIENCE. The Universal "Jeep" is as easy to drive as a car. Controls are simple and conveniently placed. It has full instrument panel, self starter, conventional pedals and accelerator. You change from 2 to 4 wheel drive by merely shifting transfer-case lever. Powerful sealed-beam headlights give daytime illumination for night field work and highway driving.

YOU GET POWER. The Universal "Jeep" provides three kinds of power; pulling power that operates tilling and harvesting equipment at tractor speeds of 2½ to 7 mph; hauling power that can carry up to 1200 lbs. or tow a braked load of 2½ tons on or off the road; portable power that furnishes up to 30 h.p. for operating all types of spline-shaft or belt-driven farm machinery.

YOU GET COMFORT in the field. The Universal "Jeep" has hydraulic shock absorbers and cushion seats to give you day-long comfort when doing tractor work. A top is available that will protect you from sun and rain in summer and keep you snug and comfortable in winter.

YOU GET ECONOMY. The "Jeep" cuts operating and maintenance costs to the bone. Its 4-cylinder engine uses very little gas and oil, gives trouble-free performance. Best of all, the "Jeep" spreads its cost over so many different jobs . . . costs less per job than any other farm vehicle.

YOU GET ALL THIS PLUS 'JEEP' RUGGEDNESS AND DEPENDABILITY.

CLEANLINESS

In the production of high quality dairy products, it is important that the milking barn be kept in a clean condition. Dark, dirty, damp barns furnish ideal breeding places for bacteria which encourage premature souring of milk and cream. A dusty shed covered with cobwebs and full of flies is not a fit place to milk a cow. If such conditions exist, efforts should be made to remedy them. Cleanliness brings greater cream profits.

Rev. J. C. Nyrop drove to Chadron Sunday and brought back a group of girls that had attended the Western Youth Camp at the state park the past week. Shirley Anderson, Joyce Hawthorne, Joan Hawthorne, Mary Wagner and Lois Sartain were the girls who enjoyed the meetings.

Storm Wrecks North Loup Irrigation Flume

Water, wind and hail combined to dash this section of the Ord-North Loup canal into the draw where it crosses on the Bud Knapp farm near North Loup. Seventy-seven feet of metal flume was damaged an approximate $6,000 when the overload of water tumbled the structure. Repair is expected to be completed July 10.

Hail, Wind Level Small Grain; Farms and Town Hit Hard

Corn Prospects Still In Doubt Animals Killed, Buildings Downed

Small grains are harvested along the North Loup river between Ord and St. Paul. Mowed, raked and carried away the grains were done up in about 20 minutes.

It was one of the fastest harvests on record. But there are no grain trains market-bound. The elevators are empty, too.

Hail by the ton was the grim reaper. Sweeping out of the northeast last Wednesday afternoon, ominous black clouds loosed a furious bombardment of grape-shot fired by near torrid winds. The storm's heavy hail opened up southeast of Ord. Following the river, it virtually stripped the land in a path varying in width from one to three miles.

As the storm moved southeast, the fury of the blast increased. At Elba where the greatest damage was reported, six inches of hail piled up on the ground. St. Paul had a like amount. Road graders were called out at Cotesfield and in areas to the south to clear roads of drifted hail stones of golf ball size.

In the country east of Ord, destruction was widespread, but the major violence of the storm seemed to run in streaks from the north. A twister reportedly damaged buildings on farms of Vic Kerchal and Mrs. R. C. Bailey.

Fields Stripped Bare. A barn went down on the farm of Bud Knapp. A windmill was toppled at Martin Rasmussen's place and out buildings were damaged. Albert Dahl's barn was uprooted on the north side and tilted into the south at a 45 degree angle.

On the Hron farm, a new car belonging to Emerson Daily was shoved a half block by the wind. Twenty-five windows and shingles from the roof at Ed Penas' farm were swept along by the gale.

Small grain fields were stripped bare in many areas. Heavy losses were Penas, Albin Dobrovsky, W.

Unwelcome Visitor Came Right In

The tree above was an unwelcome visitor in the Bernard Swanek farm home (on the old James Ulrich place) north of Ord. The storm driven tree, caught in this Swopes photo, went clear through the side of the house and protruded three to four feet inside the house.

Shot at Bird Proves Costly

Harry Roney's illegal shot at a pheasant from the highway near Elyria cost him $30.

Apprehended by two game wardens, Roney was charged on three criminal counts:

1. Hunting out of season.
2. Shooting from the highway.
3. Shooting from a vehicle.

Hauled into Valley county court, the offender was found guilty by Judge John L. Andersen. The court fined him a cool ten bucks on each count. An he didn't get the pheasant.

Scotia Club Wins As Good Neighbor In Civic Project

Ten Organizations Named To Receive Awards For "Good Neighbor Spirit"

Happy Hour Extension club of Scotia is included in the ten groups selected over the state to receive the annual Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Good Neighbor awards for organizations, according to an announcement in Omaha Thursday.

The Scotia group led a campaign to convert the basement of a school building into a civic auditorium and assisted in other civic projects. Groups chosen for honors this year represent a typical cross-section of the "good neighbor spirit" over the state, said Ak-Sar-Ben President J. E. Davidson. Framed citations will be awarded each group at presentation ceremonies in the various towns represented.

Other organizations singled out for honors: Sponsors of the Peglow Trust fund at Wahoo for soliciting $1,948 to pay mortgage on the school; Walter Peglow who was stricken with polio and pay taxes on insurance on the home to 1950.

Women's Society of Christian Service of Bassett for adopting 48 children from the Mother Jewels at York for one week. Supporters of the campaign in Beatrice to pay hospital bills and purchase an artificial leg for 16-year-old Ralph Kassing who was injured in a truck accident.

Freemont Kiwanis club and Old Times association of Alliance for youth programs in their respective towns. Pleasant Hill Good Deeds club of Rushville, Goodview Community club of Goodview, Logan Loyal Lifters Extension club of Minden and Omaha neighbors of John M. Williams for assistance at his home after he paralyzed both legs in an accident.

Said Mr. Williams: "A man never appreciates his friends until he's down."

Valley County Property Is Valued Two Million Higher

Valuation of all taxable property in Valley county increased $2,105,377 over last year, according to figures released by County Assessor W. C. H. Noll.

The 1918 total valuation, exclusive of railroad property and franchises, is $17,177,316. A year ago the total was $15,072,169.

Figures all computed as of March 10, 1918, include tangible property valued at $14,139,410, intangible "A" at $2,538,857, and intangible "B" at $109,279.

Class "A" intangible property (investments and securities) increased only slightly from $190,150 to $199,279 in 1918. Bank loan, trust and investment companies showed largest valuations with $321,410, an increase of $190,919 over 1917.

Class "B" intangible property—banked money, postal savings and bills of exchange—increased $998,468 to total $2,538,857 in 1918 over a figure of $1,510,359 last year. Money on hand and in banks showed most of the increase with $2,319,257 and postal savings next with $113,505.

Ord Again Chosen To Hold District Corn Yield Meet

One of Six Spots In State For Ten-Acre Contest: Had Big Attendance Last Year

Ord has again been chosen as one of six sites in the state for the annual ten-acre corn yield contest conducted annually by the university of Nebraska. The contest here will be sponsored by the Ord Chamber of commerce.

Sites already chosen are Holdrege, Wayne, Ord, Columbus and Nebraska City. Another town in southwest Nebraska will be designated later. D. L. Gross, extension agronomist at the University of Nebraska, announced. The contest is sponsored by the agricultural extension service of the University of Nebraska.

Although the dates are not yet definite, Gross said the finish-up meetings probably would be the second week in January.

Farmers with high yields will be recognized at each of the regional meetings at a later date.

Leaders Visit Ord.

Gross, along with Cecil Means, agriculture adviser of the Omaha chamber of commerce, has visited chambers of commerce in the five towns already selected and the groups have agreed to present certificates to the area champions and to assist county agents in making yield tests.

A new feature of this year's contest, Gross explained, is the naming of county champion growers, which will stimulate interest in the regional competition.

As in previous years, competition will be staged in four classes: Irrigated, non-irrigated, yellow corn and white corn.

V. J. Nelson, Lexington, was crowned Nebraska "Corn King" last year after he set a new record of 115 bushels to the acre.

Good Neighbors.

The Dawson county farmer was in a hospital recovering from an operation when corn planting time came last spring. His good neighbors planted the crop for him, using their own equipment.

Nelson's championship entry also won him the south-central district title in the yellow irrigated division. Other state winners last year:

Yellow, dryland: Ernest Fuhrman, Norfolk, 106 bushels.

White, irrigated: Roger Clayton, Hordville, 84 bushels.

White, dryland: Bob and Harold McGill, Waverly, 73 bushels.

Miss Doris Sell, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Sell of Arcadia, graduated from the St. Joseph School of Nursing of St. Paul university in Chicago on June 6. Miss Sell graduated from the Arcadia High school in 1914 and was a nursing assistant to Dr. C. G. Amick in Loup City for some time.

Cattle decreased in numbers by 3,651 but higher prices brought the total valuation up $187,090 from the 1917 figure of $1,716,135. The 1918 assessed valuation is $2,203,225 with a total of 29,513 cattle.

Under purchased cattle, bulls averaged $151, milch cows $93, and stock cattle $88. Fincubred numbered 760 at a valuation of $72,300. Grade cattle numbered 28,753. Of this class, cattle on feed averaged $143, bulls $126 and milch cows $93.

Old Dobbin appeared to be on the way out, according to the report, as a decrease of 100 in the number of horses and mules is shown over last year. But at the same time the old fashioned horsepower increased in value by $1,290. The 1918 horse and mule value is $60,820, last year was $56,530.

Number of horses is listed at 2,800, valued at $59,155. Saddle horses average $22 and stallions $50. No purebreds are listed. There are 61 mules listed at a valuation of $1,365.

Hogs jumped in number by 1,956 up to a total of 13,013 for 1918. The valuation, however, (Continued on page 4)

New Pastor

Clyde Scott of Ovid, Colo., is the new pastor of the Christian church. He took up his duties with the Ord parish June 20. He is a graduate of the Minnesota Bible College, receiving his degree June 9. He was ordained at Ovid, Colo., at Easter time. He is not married and will not live in the parsonage at the present time.

Horseshoes And Croquet Feature Little Olympics

Badminton Golf Is Created: Blessing, Whiting Place In Archery: New Craft Plans

Horseshoe tournament in the Little Olympics now in progress as the Ord city recreation program neared the semi-final stage during the week as quarter finalists entered the playoff.

Romans lost to Robinson and Hurlbert won from H. Marshall in games played so far. Remains to be seen if D. Maurice will see D. Maurice meet L. Gilroy and Carson vs. Buzz Maurice.

In the first round horseshoes, Romans beat Olsson, Robinson took Clarke, Cusley lost to Hurlbert, D. Maurice beat K. Gilroy, J. Douthitt forfeited to D. Maurice.

Mallet wielders in the croquet tourney saw K. Robinson win over L. Hurlbert, Katherine Gilroy, R. Romans and B. Maurice. Other brackets have yet to play.

Game Invented. A new game—badminton golf—was introduced during the week after its invention by the olympics participants and Director Alex Cochrane. Players use regular badminton racquets and shoot the birds to land in spaces marked on the sidewalk which are numbered with different numbers.

Skill in the game lies in the player's accuracy in directing his shots into squares with the highest number. Good success is reported after initial tryouts.

Other activities for the week: Charlene Blessing took top flight awards for distance archery shooting. Micky Whiting moved into the field with the most bull-eyes for the accuracy honors.

In football the Chicago Bears won 40 to 36 in a close game with the Detroit Lions. Basketball teams clashed in the grade school gym giving the Shirts a narrow margin win over the Skins by a score of 50 to 48.

Rain intervened in the scheduled baseball workout of the Midgets team during the week and the squad failed to get into the field because of mud.

A new craft activity is planned to be set up next week by Keith Robinson and Duane Wolf. They propose to install two work benches for the construction of model airplanes.

Zalud Fined $15 On Check Charge

Robert Zalud of Holt county was fined $15 and costs of $16 when he pleaded guilty before acting County Judge John Haskell last week to charges of passing an insufficient fund check.

According to the complaint filed by County Attorney Ralph Norman, Zalud cashed the check for $17.15 at the Ord Livestock Market. The instrument was drawn on the Bank of Burwell and dated May 18.

Equalizing Board Acts On Five Of Eight Complaints

Hike Number of Reductions Board Ends 1948 Hearings Total Valuation Readied

Five property assessments were reduced and three complaints rejected at the final meeting of the Valley county board of equalization last week. Action resulted in an increase of adjustments over recent years.

Adjustments on the assessed values of property were granted to the following:

William Valasek, NW 1/4, S24-17-14 in Springdale, reduced to $2,500.

Edgar R. Apking, two lots, NE corner 21 and O streets, reduced to $100.

Mrs. J. W. Ambrose, 215 So. 18th street, reduced to $1,900 on buildings.

Irma Leggett, two lots, NW corner 20 and P streets, reduced to $150.

Herbert Smets, 1908 M street, reduced to $2,000.

No action was taken on:

William Valasek, NE 1/4, S24-17-14, no cause.

Edward Daneczek, S 1/2 S 1/4, S14-19-15, and NW 1/4, S35-20-16, no cause.

Revision of assessed values were made on complaints based on values of neighboring property. Last year only one adjustment was made out of six complaints. In the previous year no action was taken on 19 complaints of assessments.

With the hearings finished and the assessments declared fair and equitable for taxation purposes, County Assessor W. C. Noll announced he would have the total county valuations readied in about two weeks.

Supervisors present at the meeting were Evert Smith, Joe J. Jablonski, Joseph Suchanek, S. V. Hansen, Ellsworth Ball, Jr., C. E. McClellan, and R. E. Psota.

Raemakers Named As County Judge

Ordite Appointed From Field of Five: Will Be Police Judge Candidate

Joe Raemakers, Ord restaurateur until recently, was named Valley county judge by the county board of supervisors last week at a special meeting called at the court house. He will fill the unexpired term of John L. Andersen, whose resignation is effective July 1.

Raemakers formerly headed the farm security administration of Ord. He has also acted as an appraiser of veterans' loans in the county.

Other candidates for the office were Otto Pecenka, and Mrs. Edith Tully Fiala, both of Ord, and John L. Ward and S. C. Hawkes, both of North Loup.

On an informal ballot, Raemakers received five votes. Pecenka one and Hawkes one. A motion to declare the vote formal carried and Raemakers was awarded the appointment as county judge.

Police Judge Also. Mayor F. L. Blessing announced that he intends to present Raemakers' name to the city council for appointment as city police judge. The appointment will come up at the next meeting of the council. Positions of both county and police judge are now held by Judge Andersen.

Andersen's departure will necessitate the writing-in of names on the county judge ballot this fall at the general election. Placing of candidates' name on the ballot by petition is not permitted on the non-political ballot.

CORRECTION. A misspelled name in last week's Quiz gave the name of an offender of disturbing the peace as Joe Beran of Ord, when it should have been Joe Ebran.

Portrait of a Worrying Father!

Strikes at the Chrysler factory, rising car prices, building a new garage... all such things Hi Anderson takes in stride, but a wedding in the family started him chewing his fingernails, as this candid picture proves. Grains Pounded With Hail Again

Narrow Strip Southwest of Ord Is Flailed Tuesday: Small Damage Over County

A brief hail storm southwest of Ord Tuesday afternoon reportedly destroyed small grains in a strip about six miles long and a mile wide.

Henry Janus, who lives nine miles out of Ord toward Comstock, said his grain was lost. He said the pease-d hail whipped in from the southwest and traveled northeast.

The hail lasted about 15 minutes and was accompanied by strong winds. Corn was also cut off to stubs similar to the damage last week east of Ord, Janus said.

Farms of Emil Smolik and Lew Smolik were included in the damaged area. Barley was ruined on Emil's farm where an inch and a half of rain was reported. Time of the storm was set at approximately 2:30 p.m.

Ord also received hail but the damaging wind was missing. The pellets fell almost straight down. Other farmers to the west received hail but damage was slight.

Emil and Charles Kokes reported hail on their farms but no damage resulted. There was a heavy rain, Ed Janus, about three miles west of the golf course, said that no hail fell at his place.

Near there, Harold Nelson stated that hail hit his farm, but he reported no damage.

Major Provisions of New Draft Law Just Passed By Congress

Major provisions of the new draft law just passed by congress and which will affect every man between the ages of 19 and 25 are:

1. Men from 19 through 25 can be drafted for 21 months service in the army, navy, marines or air force.

2. Up to 161,000 18-year-olds may volunteer for one year of service.

3. Doctors and dentists under 26 are subject to induction the same as other registrants. In addition doctors and dentists who completed education or received their training under wartime programs are subject to call, outside the draft bill.

4. World War II veterans with one year of active service, or 90 days service between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945, are exempt.

Members of the national guard and active reserve will be deferred.

5. The President has authority to set deferments for dependency, occupation, and special reasons such as scientific study.

6. High school students will be deferred until they graduate or reach 20, and college students will be deferred until the end of the school year.

7. Conscientious objectors willing to enter non-combat service will be taken for that. Those unwilling to take non-combat duty will be deferred.

Those in the 10-25 draft age group who desire to avoid a selective service call may get such exemption by joining the national guard, or any other organized reserve unit which carries on a regular training program, before the President signs the bill. The exemption can be maintained only by continued membership in such units and participation in their training programs.

After the bill is signed, youths under the draft age may gain the same type of exemption by joining the guard or other reserves before reaching the age of 18 years and six months. Joining after that age would not provide exemption.

Lady elm trees I don't like. The one in our back yard must have sponsored millions of seedlings... darn her!

oOo
If there is any one food about which people have strongly held and individual views, it is eggs! Every man wants eggs cooked his way, every boy wants eggs cooked his way, and girls and women ditto!

At our house three-minute eggs are the rule. Or coddled eggs. Or scrambled eggs with bits of bacon or ham through them. (Add about one-sixteenth teaspoon of sausage seasoning to your scrambled eggs for a delicious new taste treat.)

Without half trying you can find several customers for fried eggs who want them fried hard, over and fried hard longer. They want that tough, indigestible brown crust on them.

I think children usually want their eggs "baked" and fried to a firmness. Occasionally a child likes a soft fried egg, so that he can "milk" the yellow middle with his spoon.

Once, I remember, I fried two eggs for a favorite brother-in-law of mine. They looked fine, so I thought. No brown crust, just handsome white rounds with their yellow yolks veiled in white. Not too soft or runny. When I delivered them to the gentleman in question he took one glance and growled "What's the idea of feeding me raw eggs?"

oOo
I know a boy of ten who loves to get up early and cook breakfast. Often he wakes his sleepy mother with a tray-full of breakfast, including two fried eggs and a water glass of orange juice, toast, coffee, etc. She finds it trying to view all that food with her first glance of the day, but wouldn't hurt that little boy's feelings for the world, so she struggles into a sitting posture and gives him a warm thank-you as she starts working on that working man's breakfast. He will never learn from her that she would truly prefer a sweet roll and a cup of coffee... about two hours later.

Tommy does look so cute, standing by the stove with one hand on his aproned hip, the pancake turner firmly clutched in his other paw, his bright eyes, all business, watchfully on the skillet where the eggs cook.

oOo
Incidentally, we are so lucky to live in Ord, where fine large fresh eggs can be bought every day at non-exorbitant prices.

Often the eggs are so big that the top of the box won't fit down on them without crushing a couple of shells.

And never do I find any bad eggs, simply never. Lucky people, who buy their eggs in Ord.

oOo
Everyone laughs at me because I wrote last week that cherries were going to be "baked with delight." They were baked, all right, but it was with large hard hail stones. One crop the hail stones destroyed was our pheasants. Out north of town farmers report the ice lumps killed not only baby pheasants and young pheasants, but the toughest old rooster pheasants as well.

oOo
It's exciting to have a big wedding in the family. Everything has been dated B. T. W. and A. T. W. now, for a long time. For me, at least, it was probably my one and only opportunity to help with a lovely bride and all her trappings, since we have two boys but no girls at our house.

It was a great deal of work and took a great deal of planning. But it was also a great deal of fun, and I wouldn't have missed the experience for anything. So much youth and beauty and high spirits and pretty gowns, all in a lump. Not to mention LOVE!

—Irma.

Miss Vogeltanz Relates Activities At Model Cornhusker Girls' State

Rosellon Vogeltanz, Ord's representative to Cornhusker Girls' State, returned home last week from Lincoln after a week of experience in helping to run a model state government on the University of Nebraska campus.

Rosellon Vogeltanz.

About six weeks ago I was told that I was going to represent Ord at Girls' State. I knew that this was a selected group of girls throughout the state and was very happy I was selected to go.

When I arrived at Girls' State it was more wonderful than what I had heard and what I had imagined.

I wish everyone in Ord could have visited Girls' State to see what it is and how it helps girls to understand how the government is run.

Divided Into Towns.

In this seventh annual session of Cornhusker Girls' State there were 253 girls attending. These girls were divided into six towns.

Thomas Center, Fisher Valley, Roldeville, Aldrich Heights, Catter City and Port Eberhart. These towns formed two counties, Mitchell county and Gould county.

All of these towns and counties were named after famous and well known Nebraska women.

Each town was housed in some building on the campus of the University of Nebraska.

Our daily schedule was much the same each day. It follows:

7:20—Breakfast at the Student Union.
8:15-11:45—Assembly.
11:45-1:00—Lunch at the Student Union.
1:00-5:00—Assembly.
5:00-6:00—Free time.
6:00-7:00—Supper at the Student Union.

7:00-9:00—Assembly.
9:00—Disperse to quarters.
10:00—Lights out.

During the assembly periods we heard many lectures. These lectures were very interesting and explained to us different things about the government, the voter, the candidate, the citizen and many other things of interest to everyone of us.

The lecture most of us will remember was by Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons in which he told us that the citizen has as much responsibility as the candidate.

Other lectures were by James E. Lawrence, president of the Nebraska State Historical society; Commissioner Russell Brehm of Lancaster county; Robert Armstrong, state tax commissioner; James Pittenger, administrative assistant to the governor; Wayne O. Reed, state superintendent of public instruction and many others. During the course of the week we heard over 20 lectures.

Had Two Elections.
Some of our assembly periods were spent in campaigning for our election candidates and then voting. We had two elections, the primary and the general. These were done according to elections held in the state and the nation except we had much less time.

Twice during assembly periods we held up traffic when walking to the capitol. At the capitol we had our inauguration. The next day we visited the different government offices and the museum.

This year was sort of an experimental year as they tried many new things never done at Girls' State before. One of these which all the girls were happy over was the fact that we were allowed to have a dance with Boys' State. This dance was held in the ballroom of Hotel Cornhusker and proved quite successful. I'm sure that the girls going next year will look forward to it.

On Sunday, June 13, we had our graduation exercises. It was very impressive and gave each of us a feeling that we had gone through one week that we would always remember. After graduation was over and even now each of us Girl States wish there was some way possible for every girl in Nebraska to attend Girls' State because it is really wonderful!

To the Legion Auxiliary and the Business and Professional Women's club, I want to say thanks a lot for sending me.

Popcorn Malt 4H Club.

We hope to go to the fair.

The biscuits that were baked were taken to Nelson Motor Co. because the girls had gone down to see the new Ford and they were given free pop.

Hackel, who also reported on the Frozen Food meeting held in Ord. Mrs. Ruth Akosta and Sally and Mrs. Harrison were guests. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses. Plans for a picnic to be held in August were discussed.

Anderson-Kovanda Nuptials Solemnized at Presbyterian Church

Shirley Beth Anderson was a lovely bride Sunday afternoon, when Rev. Robert Cordy solemnized her marriage to Keith Kovanda at a double ring ceremony at the Presbyterian church. One hundred and fifty guests witnessed the two o'clock services. Tommy Anderson lighted the seven white candles on either side of the white iron archway. Out farther stood tall baskets of white gladioli.

Irene Auble sang "I Love Thee" by Grieg, and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by JoAnn Hansen of Kearney, at the piano, who also played the processional and recessional music.

Keith Kovanda chose as his best man, a fraternity brother, Kirk Lewis, and for ushers, Alex Cochran, Jr., Don Warner of Wayne, who is his brother-in-law, and Gould Bailey Flagg of Lincoln. Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kovanda of Ord.

Jeannine Peters of Dodge, Neb., was the first bridesmaid to enter, wearing lavender silk flared made on lines of beautiful simplicity. A full skirt flared from a yoke of fine net.

Shirley Scheidt of Omaha came next, wearing blue, then Betty Brady of Salisbury, Md. in flesh pink, in identical gowns. Each bridesmaid wore long mitts, and carried a colonial bouquet with long streamers matching the shade of her gown.

Coralee Anderson was maid of honor for her sister, and her gown was hyacinth blue net, made with a high round neck and tiny puffed sleeves. The full skirt carried six ruffles up and down the back, below a fitted waist. Her colonial bouquet was made of tiny mums, tiny pink rosebuds and baby's breath, with long streamers of hyacinth. On her dark hair the attractive bridesmaid wore a band of matching flowers.

The delicate beauty of the bride was enhanced by her gown of sheerest white net, made with a full skirt over a straight sheath of white satin. The tight waist buttoned all the way down the back with tiny satin buttons. Very full sleeves were tightly caught in bands at the wrists. At the high pointed neck flowers of the satin were applied, their centers beaded. Similar applied flowers ornamented the skirt and the three yard train. Her finger-tip length veil of white illusion fell from a simple headdress made of satin cording. The bridal bouquet of white roses and stephanotis trailed streamers of white.

She entered on the arm of her father, C. A. (Hi) Anderson.

The bride's mother wore a black and white printed silk afternoon dress, and a crownless white straw hat banked with small white silk blossoms. Her accessories were white, her corsage of red roses. The mother of the groom, Mrs. J. A. Kovanda, wore a large white straw picture hat without crown. Her frock was of gray silk, printed in white, draped at the back of the skirt into a soft bustle. Her flowers were white carnations and tiny mums.

The end of each pew bore a small colonial bouquet.

Following the ceremony a reception was held from three to five p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson. At a long lace covered table were Mrs. Don Warner, the former Betsy Kovanda, who served ice cream, Mrs. George Anderson, who served cake, and Mrs. Eugene Leggett, who poured coffee. The handsome four tiered wedding cake was topped with a bouquet of white rosebuds, which also encircled the base.

Greeting the guests at the door were Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and Mrs. Keith Lewis. In charge of the guest book was Joyce Achen, long time friend of the bride. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Howard Huff, Phyllis Anderson, Carol Younklin of Alliance, Marilyn Bremer of Mullen.

For going away the bride wore a gray and white checked cotton, made with a full skirt of unpressed pleats. Her little crownless white straw hat bore a white veil banding and tiny gray bows, and her accessories were white. At her shoulder was a white rubrum tily with edges of red.

The young couple left for Lincoln, where they will be until August first, when the groom will return to be life guard at the swimming pool. In September he will resume his studies at the law college at the University of Nebraska, where both young people have been students.

Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kovanda of Ord. He served in the army two and one-half years, part of that time in the Aleutian Islands. He received word on his wedding day that he will receive Regent's upperclassman scholarship this year. His name was on the honor list this spring, and he is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. His bride belongs to Alpha Chi Omega. Both young people were Ord High school graduates, and have a host of friends throughout this region who wish them well.

farmers feel the corn may survive. Some think the corn was frozen while the hail covered the ground. Others disagree. Six days after the storm, most of them are still waiting to see if the corn will pull through the crisis.

On the whole, results of the storm are accepted stoically as one of the gambles of farming. As hard-hat Kenneth Thummen expressed it: "Well, I got my weeds mowed and I don't think I'll be bothered with grasshoppers for a while."

Fire started by a bolt of lightning reportedly destroyed a barn on the farm of Harvey Thompson. Hail chewed bark from the north-east side of trees in many areas.

County roads and bridges survived the test and came through "in pretty good shape," according to Highway Supervisor Tracy Hamilton. Only minor washouts were reported.

In Ord the strength of the onslaught was felt worst on the north-east side. Force of wind and hail diminished gradually to the west of town. Greatest farm damage in this area occurred between Ord and the Springdale district and to the south.

A measured .75 inches of rain fell with the hail in Ord during the afternoon. At the same time wind was kicking up the dust nine miles to the south west. The Thursday morning rain, however, was general throughout the country with .85 reported in Ord by Horace Travis, official weather observer.

Everything growing above the ground fell victim to the slashing drive of ice-marbles. Leaves were cut from trees by the hail, driven against buildings by the rain. Many limbs were sent crashing into roofs.

Windows Smashed.

Replaced window panes numbered approximately 400, according to counts of glass dealers. They were still busy with glass installations at the first of the week. The supply of screens was running low with nearly 800 feet reported sold to repair damage. Roofs were also high on the list of damage.

An estimated $2,000 damage was suffered by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes in northeast Ord. Hail ripped screens, shattered glass and swept into the house, which is unprotected by trees. Accompanying rain stuccoed inside walls with leaves, and loosened plaster. A new roof will be required because of wind damage.

Quiz want ads are the most economical way of reaching 4,000 homes in a hurry.

Several panes in the stained glass dome at the Methodist church were smashed. Water caused additional damage. Rain also caused damage at the Catholic church when it was driven in through the belfry and leaked into the choir loft and down to the basement.

Rain piled up a foot and a half deep on the Masonic temple when roof drains became plugged. Seeping down through to the Hastings-Pearson chapel, the water caused plaster to fall and flooded the floors.

Two falling trees with the hail and wind tore up the roof of the new rendering plant which will need to be re-roofed. A 100 percent loss of windows was reported by Bruce Coyne.

A grain bin at Wilson and Son was blown across the street and smashed into the livestock barn. A tree fell on the garage at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gilroy. A plate glass window at Rowland Plumbing was shattered and two panes at the Farmers' Store were smashed.

Flume Is Damaged.

Major damage to the irrigation system occurred when 77 feet of flume on the Ord-North Loup canal tumbled from an overload of water and washed out ground supports. The damaged flume is located on the Bud Knapp farm near North Loup. Repair of the flume is expected to be completed by July 10, the irrigation district office said.

Some minor damage to the flume over McDowell canyon was also reported by the district. High water caused a few small breaks in the dirt work on the Burwell-Sumner canal, but it was still operative. The Ord-Taylor canal on the west side of the river was intact. Ord's Hardenbrook dam came through in "perfect shape."

Estimated cost of repair for the three canal systems is $9,465. Major portion of the cost will be on the flume break at Knapp's farm which is estimated at $6,000 and total on the Ord-North Loup canal is $7,885. Repair on the Burwell-Sumner canal is expected to approximate $1,580. Other than the flume, most of the repair is earthwork, according to Glen Beerline, assistant chief engineer.

Lights and telephone service were early casualties of the storm. Generators were turned off for about a half hour when water threatened to short out the switchboard at the plant. A hundred street lights and four primaries were burned out, George Allen said.

Telephone officials reported

Keynoter

KEYNOTER DWIGHT H. GREEN

Gov. Dwight H. Green, of Illinois, delivered the keynote speech of the Republican national convention in Philadelphia, which will choose the next president of the United States.

Ships of Ted Slobaczewski and Ellis Carson received slight damage when the wind blew the hangar door open and tossed the planes against one another. A "T-26" was riddled with about 30 holes in ailerons and elevators.

Planes at the Ord airport escaped the beating of hail which passed through town. A BT-13 which was tied outside the hangar was boosted about three feet to a lumber pile by the wind. Only minor damage resulted to the metal covered plane.

Ships of Ted Slobaczewski and Ellis Carson received slight damage when the wind blew the hangar door open and tossed the planes against one another. A "T-26" was riddled with about 30 holes in ailerons and elevators.

Fields Are Flooded.

From the soil conservation office, Leslie Nash reported that two new dams on the Koelling farm filled up with water flowing over the top in a matter of minutes. Hail four to five inches deep fell on the road south of the brick school house. Fields of William Adamek and V. J. Lind were raked by the ice-misiles.

South along the big river bend, lakes formed after the slashing hail battered fields of Ben Austyn, William Schwartz and W. O. Zanger. Severe damage was also reported at the Stanley Rutar and Hugh Carson farms.

In the Sumner district the river backed up over a hay meadow belonging to Adolph Kokes. Jimmie Vascek and Edward Vochel were included in the list of those suffering damage.

With an eye to the possible future farmers were investigating available forage sorghums this week in case re-plantings are necessary. White rice popcorn and milo of the combine type were being considered.

Market observers predict higher hay prices by fall and farmers are casting a cautious eye on plantings which will give a crop for fodder.

Prehistoric Camel Bone Found

A large bone was uncovered in the M. A. Luther gravel pit at Mason City recently. The relic was turned over to the state museum at Lincoln where it was identified by Dr. Frankfurter as the leg bone of a giant camel of prehistoric times. The giant camels and mastodons or giant elephants are associated with interglacial periods affecting this area as far back as 50,000 years ago. Other specimens have been found in various parts of central Nebraska. Custer County Chief.

dropped $79,053 from $381,875 in 1947 to $302,822 this year. Average hog value was set at $23.32. Sheep population fell off 496 with a decrease in valuation of $6,768. Only 1,104 sheep were counted in 1948. They were valued at $7,027.

Less Poultry.

Poultry figures showed decreases in both numbers and value. The 7,953 dozen poultry fowls was a slump of 300 dozen from last year. This year's valuation was $39,810, a decrease of $1,500. Chickens averaged $5 per dozen, turkeys almost $9.

In the grain totals, corn registered 273,960 bushels, appraised at $113,935, or a $1.51 average per bushel. Wheat totaled 25,275 bushels at $39.695. Other grains listed are oats 47,950 bushels at $10.990, and barley and speltz 63,565 bushels at $78.405.

Total forage crops weighed 4,600 tons, valued at $32,165. Hay and alfalfa comprised the bulk of the total, with 4,574 tons at $32,175.

Farm machinery and tools boosted their total valuation to $126,805 an increase of $102,185 from 1947's $324,620. Tractors also followed the trend with the addition of 76 machines and an increased valuation of $31,465. This year's total value is $259,520, an average per tractor of $309.

Airplanes kept pace with the machinery with an increase of more than double that of last year. Thirteen planes were reported in 1948, and six a year ago. Value per plane dropped, however, with average value $700 this year and $890 in 1947. These figures are computed in tables provided by the state.

Corps surplus. The hot-rods may have no glass on them at all, except as instrument covers. They may have no doors. (The drivers must climb over.)

Most regulations are written for safety's sake; none for curtailment of racing enjoyment.

Fast Engines Needed.

Types of engines used range generally from anything from four to eight cylinders. A Cadillac V-16 was tried by one car owner but found too slow on the windup, and was discarded. Engine possibilities are practically unlimited. So just for an idea we'll use a typical example, as in car No. 99. The engine was originally designed for a 1939 Ford truck. It has twin pots (dual carburetors), a specially ground crankshaft, with slightly longer throws, special pistons, special heads, two Bosch and Lomb magnetos (no battery or starter), a re-designed intake manifold, special valves and everything that makes up the engine especially tailored to its needs.

The information above may have many inaccuracies, because it comes third-hand, and car owners in the first place are very, very secretive about what makes up their wagons, so authentic information is rather difficult to get.

Transmissions generally have but two positions. "In" gear and "out" of gear.

Few Are Supercharged.

Only two cars are supercharged, and the fact that the "win" column is not dominated by the dangers is probably why many owners don't install them. Many racers, however, do feature a manual pump in addition to the regular fuel pumps, so apparently they are effective. Cooling systems are varied and frequently elaborate.

Springs, engine mounts, shock absorbers and universals are broad in scope. Many are simple. Some are Air Corps surplus from junked airplanes. Again, club regulations play some measure in exacting safety and control types used.

A typical cockpit would consist of the following: One bucket-type seat, safety belt attached; one instrument — generally fuel pressure; six-inch rod for transmission control, in or out; brake pedal for left foot; throttle for right foot; manual fuel pressure pump for right hand; gas tank (about five gallons) behind the driver; plywood floor; and large steering wheel.

All "Nonsense" Stripped.

There's very little else in the cockpit. The whole thing is encased in maybe a model A roadster body, with all upholstery and nonsense stripped out, doors welded shut, reinforced with hollow steel tubing and secured to frame with four large bolts.

To determine just how well these mechanics' nightmares compare with other racing cars, an entry in the 500 mile Indianapolis Memorial Day classic was exhibited against these hot-rods in Denver, and the Indianapolis entry was hopelessly outclassed.

It was explained that while the hot-rods have less money tied up in them (usually inside three thousand dollars) they are better equipped for short sprints. The hot-rods are equipped to roar for a maximum of sixty minutes, before needing an overhaul, while the other car is tailored for a 500 mile grind.

The hot-rod crews will be in town by Saturday, July 3, bringing with them racing equipment with valuation in excess of $40,000. They are made up of drivers, owners, pit crews, and their families. They will be over 100 in number.

Warm-up, testing and last minute adjustments will fill in the mornings before the races, and for good seats, everyone should be there early.

Unusual Pets Shown by Children

The pet show held at the grade school Wednesday was one of the most popular activities of Ord's recreation program. Much thought and planning went into the entries brought by the youngsters. There was a long list of prizes and winners. The contest lasted only a short time with everyone scurrying home at a few minutes after two to get their pets home before the storm broke.

First prize for the funniest costume was won by Cathy Cochran whose entry was a Labrador in pajamas, second won by George Svoboda who entered a rooster in pants.

Jeanette Dye's entry in the best dressed contest, a cocker in a hat won first prize, second was won by a Labrador in a cowboy suit entered by Kippy Jensen.

Hickey, the beagle hound entered by Teddy Leggett, won first for being the most unusual pet with Donald Coleman's white hen winning second.

A collie pup entered by Don Maurice was awarded first for being the cutest pet with a pup entered by Ray Clark winning second.

Sandra Misko won first for the best trained pet with her palomino pony. Virginia Wilson won second with her entry of a bay mare.

The prettiest pet was a Persian cat entered by Sharon Olson with a white kitten entered by Catherine Gilroy winning second.

Dawn Covey won first for the youngest pet with her baby kitten. Charles Svoboda's entry of twin kittens won second.

A pup entered by Tommy Martin was awarded a ribbon for being the most lively.

DDT Death Due Flies, Skeeters In Alley Attack

Spray Begins Thursday To Depend on Weather; Residents' Help Asked

Opening day of the anti-fly and mosquito campaign in Ord is scheduled for Thursday when the DDT power sprayer begins the round of alleys. The death-drive on the winged pests in town is expected to last two days.

Success of the movement, however, will depend on the weather, said Henry Janus, weed district manager who will supervise the operation. If there is an excessive amount of wind or prospects of rain, the spray will be postponed until a more favorable time, he said.

According to present plans, a pick-up truck will carry the high pressure sprayer which has been loaned by the weed district. A three-man crew will accompany the equipment.

One of the men will go ahead of the truck to alert residents along the spray route. As the truck moves down the alley, he will secure permission of residents for any spraying that might be necessary inside buildings along the alley. Property owners are requested to cooperate with the spray team to obtain maximum effect in the fly eradication program.

Will Spray Buildings.

Chicken houses and other out buildings which might contain flies will be sprayed with the DDT if the residents request it.

After the town is traveled by the spray truck, it is hoped that finances will permit the city dump and park to be next.

The response of citizens in contributing to the pest-death fund has been good, according to Floyd Beranek, president of the Cosmopolitan club which is sponsoring the drive. He reported that approximately $100 is collected so far.

Extensiveness of the campaign will depend on the money collected because the drive is entirely a voluntary community project. Donations are still being accepted at the Beranek drug store.

Sponsors of the drive reminded citizens that similar campaigns against flies and mosquitoes in other towns have resulted in a decreased number of polio cases. Hope is also expressed that the DDT spray will become a yearly event in Ord.

Keep Pets Inside.

One word of caution was issued with the announcement of the spraying plans. Dog and cat owners were warned to keep their pets inside. Cats especially may be injured by the DDT-chloridane mixture, said Janus.

Chloridane will be added to the solution to include spiders, moths and ants on the fatality list. Janus estimated that 100 gallons of the mixture will be sprayed in an hour. That amount of solution will cost about $21, he said.

He emphasized that the project will be on an experimental basis and that exact costs and time required can not accurately be foretold. He urged all residents to be ready when the sprayers approach so the truck will not be delayed.

The Ord sale barn will receive the first anti-bug treatment when the death mist is administered there Wednesday. Owner M. B. Cummins contracted for the job in cooperation with the city-wide campaign.

FUNERAL FOR INFANT.

Funeral services are being held this (Wednesday) afternoon at 2:30 for Terry Dean, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Hurlbert, born on Sunday and who passed away Tuesday morning. Rev. L. V. Hassell will officiate at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Secker.

Loup City Plans Diamond Jubilee Celebration

Two Adventurous Pioneers Headed Up Valley 75 Years Ago

Seventy-five years ago last fall, two adventurous pioneers came up the Loup river valley from Grand Island, liked what they saw, and returned the next spring to found Loup City and Sherman county.

The event will be commemorated next month. In the three-quarters of a century since Martin W. Benschofer and Cyrus E. Rosseter set out to establish a new settlement in the Loup region, Sherman county has grown as a corn, hay and stock-producing center in the heart of Nebraska. To commemorate the achievements of the early settlers and to look ahead to its next 75 years, Sherman county has chosen Independence Day, 1948, as the occasion for her diamond jubilee celebration.

July 5 Chosen. Because July 4th was the biggest holiday of the year for the early settlers, July 5 was selected this year (because the Fourth falls on Sunday) for a celebration similar to those of the last century. A parade with floats, some skits depicting early county scenes, traditional games and races such as sack races, tug-of-war, greased pig chasing, three-legged races and a baseball game — all these will be presented around the county seat courthouse square that day. Both square-dancing and modern dancing will be done in the evening. Sherman county was settled by three groups. The first two were young couples from eastern states, and GAR veterans. The third group included European immigrants, largely German, Polish and Danish.

R. R. Came In 1886. It was 1886 before the Union Pacific branch line reached Loup City, and 1887 for the Burlington, but in the years between 1873 and then the town grew at a rapid rate. By 1882 the county's population reached 3,212. In 1910 it was 7,753.

The famous Easter blizzard of 1873 caught a detachment of federal troops in the tiny settlement of Loup City. When the soldiers' horses perished in a small creek bottom near town it gained the name "Dead Horse Creek," and has kept it ever since.

One of the routes to the Black Hills in gold rush days led through Sherman county via the Middle Loup and Disual rivers to Dakota territory until an Indian scare closed it.

Falter Heads Valley Oilmen

The Valley County Petroleum Industries committee elected Ray Falter of Ord as chairman at their organization meeting in Ord, June 16. The discussion during the meeting centered around taxation of the petroleum industries, and its customers, the motor vehicles.

John A. Ainlay, executive secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum Industries committee talked on the subject of "Highway Finance." Ainlay said, "The people of Nebraska are being led to believe that our road funds are depleted."

"They do not realize that, with our present rate of taxes, we will have approximately $900,000 for road purposes in Nebraska between January 1, 1948 and July 1, 1950," he said. "This unprecedented sum will be an average of nearly $1,000,000 per county."

He further pointed out that during this two and one-half year period, the annual funds available for highway construction will be almost double the average annual amount spent in the past twenty-five years. To emphasize this point, Ainlay quoted T. H. MacDonald, federal commissioner of public works.

"It is true that funds have not been expended at the rate they have been available. Nevertheless, a very substantial program is underway. There is evidence that work has been offered in excess of that which the construction industry can absorb now projects."

Other officers elected were Ben Mason of Arcadia as secretary and Vern Andersen of Ord, chairman of the legislative committee.

Liquor Commission Charged As Tyrant

Small Businessmen Deplore Inability to Appeal Liquor Control Rules, Regulations

Charges that the state liquor control commission is "bureaucratic and arbitrary" were hurled last week in Lincoln by the Nebraska Small Business Foundation.

The businessmen directed an accusing finger at the liquor control act which prohibits appeal from any rule, regulation, order or decision of the commission.

A great many instances of revoked and suspended beer and liquor licenses do not involve facts sufficient to warrant such action, the NSBF declared. "The Nebraska Liquor Control commission is bureaucratic and arbitrary in its orders and decisions in this respect, as well as in the issuance of its rules and regulations," the business claims.

The foundation charged that the Nebraska Beer and Liquor Retailers' association also appears opposed to any modification of the liquor control act to permit appeals of commission decisions. The association previously sought the revision.

VFW Hears State Officers Explain Post Program

The fifty-five members of the VFW who attended the regular meeting of the post held Monday evening heard Robert Lowe, state adjutant and Jim Cooper, state editor, explain features of the VFW legislative program. Both the speakers were from Lincoln.

Master Sergeants Merritt G. Braun and Doyle B. Bruner, both of the army recruiting service at Grand Island, also spoke to the group and distributed theatre of war medals to eligible veterans.

Late Planting Crops

If you need to replant your corn or any of your grain crops we have very early maturing corn, Combine Milo, Millets and early Cane seed. These crops will mature in about 90 days and give you a good yield. Many of the corn fields should be replanted and you can grow a good crop of early sorghums or early corn on the grain fields that have been seeded out. See us while we have good stocks on hand. Millets and canes will still produce a large amount of forage if planted by July 10th.

Grains

We are in the market for your oats, wheat, corn or barley. If you have any to sell soon let us quote you a price on them. And let us know if you need to buy feeding grains; we can supply it at a reasonable price delivered to your farm.

Proteins

Proteins have advanced from $5 to $10 per ton the past two weeks and we look for further advances as hay crops are very short in all sections. We believe that it will be a good idea to buy proteins and put them away now for use next fall and winter. Protein feeds in 12%, 20%, 30%, 37% and 40%. If you have storage space for your proteins be sure to get at least part of them now and save a lot of next winter. Hog feeds have advanced more than cattle feeds.

Ammonium Nitrate

We expect to have a couple of cars of Ammonium Nitrate available for use by the time you are ready to sow your fall grains. There is nothing to indicate that Nitrates will be more plentiful next fall than they have been the past year so we believe that you should order your nitrate now and take fall delivery on it. We are booking orders now for fall delivery. But come first served; half of the first car is sold.

Sweet Clover

Just how much damage has been done to the sweet clover fields is hard to determine at this time, but we firmly believe that you should save any seed that you can harvest and you will receive a good price for any of the seed that you can offer. We know the crop is hard to harvest but the nitrogen left in the soil is of great benefit to the soil.

Twine

We are carrying a good stock of Binder Twine and it is priced reasonable. If you plan on using twine this year, you can take out what you think you will need and if you do not use it, you may return it for full credit.

Plants

Tomato and Sweet Potato plants are still available in large quantities, but peppers, cabbage and egg plant are very hard to get. If you will use a small amount of vigoro when you replant your tomatoes you can shorten maturity days quite a lot. Try Vigoro on your tomato plants this year. Vigoro is a mighty good fertilizer for lawns and shrubs as well as for all vegetables.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA

Early Independence Day Celebration In Omaha Squeezed By Indians

A grand and glorious celebration of the Fourth of July has always been traditional in Nebraska. Indeed, in old Nebraska the Fourth was the great occasion of the year—a time for dancing, merry making, family reunions and patriotic oratory.

Settlers for miles around thronged into the towns holding celebrations. Some of them came in wagons, some on horse back and some afoot. Occasionally a festive touch was added by decorating the wagons with green boughs or wild flowers.

The Fourth was always ushered in by the firing of salutes, and when firecrackers became obtainable, they added to the general confusion. Frequently there was a procession or parade, occasionally with military escort, from the town to a wooded grove where the program of the day was given.

The early newspapers contain accounts of pioneer Fourth of July celebrations. The Brownville Advertiser of July 5, 1856, for example, told of a gala celebration held in the old river town that year. There was a tremendous feast of buffalo meat, venison, barbecued ox, an enough other delicacies "to have fed the whole territory." The climax of the day was a dance which lasted, "until broad daylight."

In 1859 the people of Nebraska City brought a band over from Sidney, Iowa to help in their celebration. Apparently arrangements were in charge of the "Nebraska Harmony Singing Association" and included a grand ball and supper following a reading of the Declaration of Independence.

The first building in the city of Omaha was erected on July 5, 1854, the first Independence Day celebrated after the creation of Nebraska territory. The town was platted in June by some enterprising citizens of Council Bluffs, and in order to advertise their town lots they organized a picnic excursion. During the course of the day a log was erected on the town site. It was built only up to the square and no roof was put on it.

According to stories that have come down, the Indians put something of a damper on the celebration. It seems that a few of them were attracted by the noise of the traditional firing of salutes, and when they put in their appearance over a hill men and women alike became frightened. The picnic provisions were loaded in the wagons and a mad rush was made for the ferry. All of this is supposed to have occurred in the midst of a patriotic speech—a speech which was never finished.

WHY "Stepping Down" IS SO IMPORTANT TO YOU

Hudson amazes motor-car world by using vital "step-down" zone—not available in any other car—to bring you riding qualities and safety beyond anything known before!

Words go "round" and "fast, too—that Hudson gives you a "sweet," smooth, safe ride that is a new high in motor-car performance!

Perhaps you've heard pleased and proud Hudson owners talking about this exciting new experience, but here's something you may have missed hearing:

The key to this amazing new ride lies in that area just under the floor of the average car, which in the New Hudson becomes the "step-down" zone—as illustrated in the sketches at the right.

This "step-down" zone is all-important, because experience has shown that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the better it will handle, the more stability it will have, the safer it will be, and thus the more enjoyable and comfortable will be your ride.

Hudson, and Hudson alone, has accomplished a near miracle of low-built, streamlining and smooth, safe, comfortable riding with a new type of base frame which surrounds the passenger compartment, and thus permits the floor to be lowered down within it. Recessing the floor creates the "step-down" zone and a center of gravity that is the lowest in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample!

That's why Hudson has a hug-the-road way of going, even in cross-winds, and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see how this car takes even the sharpest curves, it will spoil you for any other type of automobile! You sense the delightful conformity to the road, the minute you begin your ride; and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, gives you a grand feeling of safe well-being.

Sitting in this car is as downright satisfying as stretching out in your favorite easy chair. You ride on seats that are lowered and cradled ahead of the rear wheels and, even with its low silhouette, this breathtakingly beautiful motor car gives you more head room than any other mass-produced car built today!

Hudson's use of the vital "step-down" zone in its exclusive, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame is a development that required years of engineering work, the perfection of new production techniques, and millions of dollars in highly specialized new plant investment. Perhaps this explains why Hudson alone offers this new design principle today.

The nearest Hudson dealer has a booklet—yours for the asking—which explains how "stepping down" brings you advantages beyond anything known before! Hudson Motor Car Co., Detroit 14.

*Trade-mark and patents pending.

OTHER CARS—Here you can see that any car with floor on top of the frame, as shown above, fails to utilize that all important space between frame members (hereafter wasted by placing floor on top of the frame). This results in a high center of gravity, and either a high roof line or insufficient head room.

NEW HUDSON—Here the important space between frame members, shown above, becomes the "step-down" zone—a highly useful addition to interior passenger roominess that creates a new, lower center of gravity, which in turn permits greater safety, improved roadability and ride, a low, streamlined silhouette.

This time it's Hudson

Ord Citizens!

Will You Cooperate With Us In Removing A Menace To the Health of Our Community?

As soon as weather permits, streets, alleys and public gathering places in Ord will be sprayed with DDT, in an effort to rid the community of flies and mosquitoes. The program is in charge of the Cosmopolitan Club and has been made possible through the generosity of Ord business firms and individuals.

Will You Clean Up and Spray Your Own Premises So That Our Efforts Are Complete?

Whatever pest riddance we may do around the town is only part of the job. That is why we are asking for the cooperation of all citizens in spraying their own premises. We call attention especially to such places where flies and mosquitoes breed, such as garbage cans, stagnant water, etc.

The undersides of porch roofs should be sprayed as flies congregate there in great numbers. Other good places to be given a DDT treatment are eaves of buildings, inside garages, chicken houses, outbuildings, etc.

DDT in the correct form may be purchased from several stores in Ord. Ask your merchant for his suggestions.

gestions. Cost to spray your premises and buildings is nominal.

The Cosmopolitan Club is undertaking this job as a public service. Aside from the annoyance of flies, mosquitoes and other insects, we know that such are the carriers of many diseases, and we believe that anything we can do to prevent diseases, such as polio, typhoid, etc., is worthwhile.

As stated before, we can do only part of the job. The rest is up to you, as individuals. Will you join us in making our community a better place in which to live?

Your Cooperation and Help Are Earnestly Solicited So That We May Have A Better Community.

Minerals of Pakistan
Although Pakistan has some oil and considerable coal, the major share by far of these industrial raw materials is found on the Hindu side of India. There are extensive supplies of coal, iron and manganese, essential to heavy industry, in the Jamshedpur region, as well as scattered about in central and other areas of the far-flung Hindu territory. India's famous sheet metal, vital in radio and aircraft engines, comes largely from the Hindu sections of Bihar and Madras. During the war strategic minerals were discovered in the north-central states of the new Dominion of India.

Sorrell Offers Road Program

A three point road program was advanced by Frank Sorrell of Syracuse recently as he charged that the state highway department is a "political machine."

Sorrell's program included: 1. Concrete surfacing of the existing 2,000 miles of blacktop. 2. New construction on all north-south roads in the east. 3. Release of about a fourth of the approximate 500 engineers in the highway department.

A democratic candidate for governor, Sorrell said his program would not increase taxation or expenditure. He called for "common sense" management of the highway department.

The governor's highway advisory committee was termed by Sorrell as a campaign drive for Gov. Peterson's re-election.
