Another Raise in Electric Rates Coming in Ord

Cost of Dying Also Rises As Council Increases Grave Opening Fees Fifty Percent.

Ord citizens can brace themselves for another raise in electric rates within the next two months if the city council carries out plans discussed at their regular meeting Tuesday.

While light and water commissioner George Allen was not ready to report suggested rates to the council, the city will probably adopt a whole new rate structure, raising rates considerably and again offering a large discount for prompt payment.

Biggest change will probably be in the water heating rate. Off-peak current which now sells for one cent a kilowatt hour for water heating, is being sold at less than cost, according to records of the electric plant.

Other changes brought up in a discussion were increases in fees for repairs and installations and a markup over cost of repair parts and equipment.

The cost of dying in Ord will take another raise. Councilmen voted Tuesday to increase grave opening fees in the city cemetery a flat fifty percent. Maximum is now $10, will be $15.00. Addition of more lots to the cemetery will be made soon through the transformation of the large circle plat in Graceland to the conventional rectangular lot.

A question of delinquent taxes, unpaid since 1921, brought quite a bit of discussion from councilmen. The taxes were general sewer obligations assessed against the Catholic Church of Ord, amounting to $125. Today with interest, the sum amounts to $419.78. The city attorney informed the council that they did not have power to compromise on taxes, and that the amount would have to stand as assessed.

Following a eight-eight hour session the night before, councilmen made their regular meeting brief. Mayor F. L. Blessing brought up the question of speed and traffic laws and the council passed a resolution inviting the state highway department to make a survey of local conditions.

Payment of claims wound up the meeting.

GAR Ladies Meet in Ord Saturday

The Ladies of the GAR met at the Legion hall for a covered dish dinner Saturday, with eleven members present. The regular meeting followed. Mrs. Cora McElhenny, of North Platte, state president, and her daughter, Mrs. Wisner, were present to meet with the ladies and to check the records of the Ord Circle. She found everything satisfactory, and praised the ladies for their fine attendance.

Council Accepts Bids for Engine and Cooling Tower

Will Spend $143,000 in Electric Plant Expansion; Bids $7,000 Under Estimates.

A bid of $131,500 for a new 1125 KW generator by the Fulton Iron Works and one of $11,224 for a cooling tower by the Fuchs Manufacturing Co. were accepted Tuesday night by the Ord city council as the first step in a $275,000 electric plant expansion program.

In a session that broke up at three o'clock Wednesday morning the council and their consulting engineers, Lutz & May, reviewed engine bids from three firms, and cooling tower bids from four. Accepted bids were about $7,000 under the engineers' estimate of $150,000.

Fulton Bid Accepted. Basic bids had called for an engine and generator of approximately $1,000 KW capacity. Low basic price of $112,049 was submitted by the Cooper-Bessemer Co. The Nordberg Corporation submitted $112,261, and Fulton $133,022.

Averaging of the bids on a basis of 1125 KW capacity, installed in the plant in Ord, the engineers told the council that the Cooper-Bessemer engine totaled $133,000, the Nordberg engine $130,900, and the Fulton engine $131,500.

City dads selected the Fulton engine after hearing engineers' statements that over a 10 year average the Fulton engine had a lower fuel oil consumption than the Nordberg engine, and that accessibility of parts and service was more favorable on the Fulton engine than either of the other two.

Cooling tower bids ranged from $15,273 by United Cooling Tower, $13,967 by Morley Supply, $12,837 from Water Cooling Tower Equipment Co. to the low of $11,224 by Fuchs.

In Use Next Summer. The council will also take an optional feature on the engine bid of a $5,000 discount if an oil burning engine only is ordered. The optional feature also provides for installation of dual fuel equipment at a cost not to exceed $5,000 if natural gas comes to Ord and can be used as a fuel by the city plant.

Drawings of the new engine and tower are expected in 15 days with installation within 200 days. According to George Allen, city engineer, the new engine should be in operation by late summer of 1944.

Installation of the new equipment will leave the city with slightly over 3000 KW production capacity, with a firm load of 2000 KW.

Fair Stockholders Fail to Attend

Lack of interest doubtless accounted for the fact that so few stockholders of the Valley County fair turned out for the scheduled meeting at the district court room Monday night that no meeting was held.

Edwin Armstrong, secretary, announces that the meeting has been postponed until Nov. 22, at which time an effort will be made to get out a real attendance.

Edward R. Kerchal of Portland, Ore., arrived in Ord Monday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kerchal and the rest of the family.

Supper guests Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Almgust were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hill and Don.

REA Construction Is Proceeding at Satisfactory Rate

Two Branches Ready Now for Wiring; Two Others Near Completion. Will Wire Soon.

Work on the REA lines of Section "A" is proceeding according to schedule, and, in fact, is well ahead of schedule, according to a statement made this week by the superintendent of construction, H. A. Reithers. The boss and crew are finding the work easier in some cases than had been anticipated, and are planning to turn on electricity as early as possible.

To date branch 1, leading to the southwest, is all anchored and gaged and ready for the wire crew. Branch No. 3, leading west of town, is also all ready for the wires. Branch No. 2, leading out into Mira Valley, will be completed this week. On branch No. 5, along Highway 11 toward North Loup, poles are all set except skips for which they did not have the poles.

They were expecting these poles to arrive Tuesday, and they will be put in as soon as they are available. A crew will start on No. 4, leading out into Springdale and toward North Loup, some time this week. Branches No. 6, 7 and 8 are not yet started. No. 6 runs north of Ord, No. 7 toward Elyria, and No. 8 will extend from No. 7 to the Burwell area.

In explanation it might be said that the plan originally was to complete the branches in numerical order, but a shortage of needed poles made it necessary to change the plans. However, all branches will be completed as rapidly as possible.

In a few cases the roughness of the terrain has made it necessary to set a few poles by hand, which takes much more time. A wire stringing crew is scheduled to start work on Branch 1 the first of next week. This crew will be taken from the crews already at work, and other men will be hired to take their place.

Pheasants Wary After 1st Day but Most Got Limit

2 Conservation Officers in Ord but No Arrests; Hunters Plentiful.

Plenty of hunters were active in the Valley county area last week end, when the pheasant season opened, and apparently there were plenty of the long-tailed birds to make sport good, though the game warden "shook down" and difficult to kick out after first day.

The 12:00 noon daily opening throughout the season will cause plenty of stock left for feed, in the opinion of most sportsmen.

Few Violators. Two conservation officers, Carl P. Anderson, Lincoln, from the state staff, and Roy A. Owen, Crete, a federal officer, were stationed in Ord. They made no arrests but issued warnings to a great many hunters. They found many farmers and other local residents hunting without permits or with guns that had not been pugged to hold but 3 shells, but released all such with warnings.

The game warden "shook down" out-of-state cars but found no limit violators.

Three birds, all of which must be cocks, is the daily limit and also the possession limit this season, both for Nebraska license holders and for out-of-state hunters.

Friday and Saturday afternoons, possession limits came fairly easy but by Sunday afternoon the birds had become wary and only hunters willing to work hard for them came in with limit kills. Heavy cover has added to the difficulty of the corn field and gully tramps.

Many Got Limit. Federal Warden Owen said he and State Officer Anderson found only 3 limit kills among all parties checked Saturday. However, Dick Tesgan of Hotel Ord said all guests at the hotel took limit kills home with them. The hotel was filled to capacity over the week end, he stated, and reservations for next Saturday and Sunday indicated more hunters in the Ord than at the opening.

Ord sportsmen who knew where to go fared better at the opening than did city hunters. For one Ord man Bruce Covey, president of the Chamber of Commerce, the season lasted exactly 1 minute on opening day, he relates. A few minutes before noon he parked his car near a brush patch on the Oscar Larsen farm on Haskell creek. At 12:00 he walked into the brush cover, fired three shots, picked up three birds and climbed back into his car at exactly 12:01.

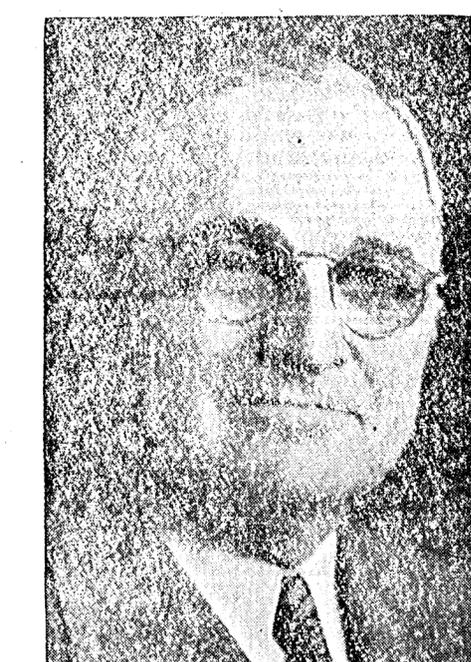

A companion who also fired three shots climbed back in with him—without a bird. He had missed all three shots!

Hail to The Chief!

Valley County in GOP Ranks As Democrats Sweep Nation

Carson Runs Ahead in All Four Counties for Legislature; Ramackers in As Judge

Valley county, a long time republican stronghold, followed tradition in piling up a comfortable GOP majority in the national election Tuesday, although the democratic party swept the rest of the nation with a barrage of votes that insured the election of Harry S. Truman, a democratic congressman and a democratic senate.

Slightly over 3000 votes were cast in Valley county, one of the largest in the state.

Main local interest was centered in two contests, that of Hugh Carson of Ord against John Doyle of Ord for the Nebraska legislature and John L. Ward of North Loup versus Joe W. Ramackers of Ord for county judge.

Unofficial tabulations, without counting mail or absentee ballots, gave Ramackers 1769 votes and Ward 1108, to put the appointed incumbent in office for the next four years by a comfortable majority.

In the legislative race, Carson carried every county in the district to beat Doyle 4535 to 3436. The vote by counties:

Table with 3 columns: County, Doyle, Carson. Rows include Valley, Howard, Wheeler, Greeley, TOTALS.

In uncontested races, Valley county returned supervisor Elsworth Ball to office with 537 votes, and E. O. Schudel with 217 votes.

Dr. J. W. McGinnis was returned to the irrigation district board with 335 votes, and O. A. Sheldon to the Consumers power district board with 513 votes.

For Railway Commission (Full Term): Richard H. Larson 1581, E. J. Lafferty 1032.

For Railway Commission (Short Term): Harold A. Palmer 1488, O. J. Lehr 966.

Some local interest centered in special proposals, with the initiative petition requesting a bonus for veterans of World War II defeated 1270 to 1218, and a referendum on fissionable materials losing 1030 to 853.

District judges Wm. F. Spikes and E. G. Krieger, running without opposition, were returned to office with a Valley county courtesy vote of 1914 and 1911 respectively.

Votes on national and state offices in the county:

For President: Harry S. Truman 1368, Thomas E. Dewey 1015.

For U. S. Senator: Terry Carpenter 1169, Kenneth F. Wherry 1737.

For Congressman: C. Edgar Leafdale 1025, A. L. Miller 1683.

For Governor: Val Peterson 1384, Frank Sorrell 1116.

For Lt. Governor: Charles Warner 1061, Sam Howell 1022.

For Secretary of State: Frank Marsh 1827, Grace Shallenberger 901.

For State Treasurer: Edward Gillette 1129, W. T. Thompson 1450.

For State Auditor: Ray C. Johnson 1640, J. R. Pariza 944.

For Attorney General: J. H. Anderson 1502, Michael McLaughlin 1033.

Township Results. In the township elections in Valley county, some had candidates on both tickets, some had only one ticket, and some had no candidates at all and the names had to be written in. Hallowe'en Pranks Cause Damage at North Loup Sunday

Comparatively Quiet in Ord; Many Groups Knock on Doors, Call "Trick or Treat".

Hallowe'en has come and gone, with the usual amount of mischief in some places and more than there was any call for in others. In Ord, the pranks were confined to lighter forms of fun, which satisfied the youngsters' desire for amusement, but did little if any material damage.

Asked about Hallowe'en, Mayor F. L. Blessing stated that no complaints had been filed with the city of any damage done and that the police department had little trouble in maintaining order. The mayor feels that the young people of Ord should be commended for their conduct Saturday and Sunday nights.

Reports from other places do not indicate that this held true. From North Loup come reports of several autos tipped over and damaged, of a number of out-buildings upset; windows generously coated with soap and many other depredations.

Even worse was the fact that citizens were cursed at by the pranksters when they tried to stop destruction of their property and in at least one case were dared to come out and fight. The damage was not all done by youngsters, but by men old enough to know better, says a North Loup business man. Girls were also out taking an active part in helping tip over the privies and committing other acts of vandalism. No arrests were made, though Marshal Harmon Bremick ordered three boys to their homes.

Several reports of vandalism have come in from country areas. In one case, both privies were tipped over at a country school and the buildings badly damaged besides. With lumber and other materials as high in price as they are, such acts constitute malicious destruction of property.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ollis and family spent Sunday afternoon visiting in Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Zikmund and family of Willer and Earl Johnson of Crete spent the weekend in Ord visiting Mr. and Mrs. Emil Zikmund. Mrs. Adrian Zikmund who has been ill with rheumatism is improved.

Civil Air Patrol to Organize Here

A flight of the Civil Air Patrol will shortly be organized in Ord, as the result of a meeting held Tuesday evening by the American Legion. Local flyers were guests of the Legion at the meeting.

Capt. Frank M. Bowman, Omaha Army air force's liaison officer with the C.A.P. outlined functions and features of the patrol to those present. Establishment of a flight here, he said, would make a large amount of flight equipment and training material available to local flyers, including radio and communications equipment and a trainer plane for certain periods of the year.

A committee composed of Bill Steen, chairman, Roland Newman, C. Bismont and Henry Bendis will proceed with organization of the patrol. Steen said Tuesday that he had no doubts that the 11 man flight could be organized, and that a little solicitation effort would produce the 50 necessary for a full squadron. Forty-seven had already made inquiry, he said.

John Lewis, Once in Business Here, is Buried Sunday

Laundry Agent for 30 Years; Once Ran Restaurant in Ord; Operated a Shoe-shine Shop.

In the passing of John E. Lewis Oct. 28, another familiar figure is gone from the Ord scene. It is true that John had been away from Ord for the past three years, but during his life here he was as well known as any resident of town. Everybody had a good word for Johnnie and was proud to call him friend.

In a lifetime spent mostly in Ord, Johnnie held several jobs, and he did his work well. At one time he was in the cafe business. At another, he shined shoes. In fact, he shined shoes in several different locations. For thirty years he was an agent for a laundry. In all of these he did his work well.

Many will recall that a few years ago on his birthday, a group of friends chipped in and bought Johnnie a coaster wagon to help carry on his business. They had his name painted on the side and made it a formal presentation.

That wagon was one of the proudest possessions Johnnie ever received, and his friends were proud to give it to him.

Some men achieve greatness in one field, some in another. Some men are gifted with great ability, both mental and physical, and they go far. But the measure of a man is not how far he goes, but what he does with the talents he may possess, be they many or few.

When considered from this point of view, John E. Lewis will always stand high with those who knew him best.

John Elmer Lewis, son of Henry and Susanna Lewis, was born July 19, 1882, at Kankakee, Ill., and passed from this life at the Odd Fellows Home, York, Nebr., Oct. 28, 1918 at the age of 36 years.

He moved with his parents to Valley county, Nebraska in 1888. He attended school at Vinton and had lived most of his life in Valley county. Mr. Lewis never married, and made his home with his parents until their death.

He was an agent for the Grand Island Laundry for 30 years, and until his health failed. He went to the Odd Fellows Home three years ago. He joined the Methodist church at Vinton early in life, later moving his church membership to the Ord Methodist church.

He joined the I. O. O. F. lodge of Ord in 1922 and was a faithful worker in the order.

Surviving him are: One sister, Mrs. Frank Kull, of Santa Ana, Calif.; five brothers, Harry of Central City, Nebr., Guy and Arthur of Oregon state, and Robert and Charles of Ord. There are several nieces and nephews. Two brothers preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at the Odd Fellows home, York, Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. G. R. Miller of the Christian church officiating. The body was brought to Ord where services, with Rev. L. V. Hassell in charge, were held at the Hastings-Pearson chapel at 1 p. m. Sunday, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery. Pall bearers were John Varnberg, Harold Owens, Emil Bakke, Ray Fisher, Ed Mason and LaVerne Aldrich. The Odd Fellows had charge of the services at the cemetery.

First Elections in Nebraska Territory Caused Excitement

By James C. Olson
Supt. State Historical Society

Of all the elections in the nation's history, one of the most important and bitterly contested was that of 1860 which put Abraham Lincoln in the White House in Nebraska territory, the national campaign was somewhat overshadowed by an acrimonious race for the position of territorial delegate to Congress.

The Democratic candidate was Sterling Morton of Nebraska City, a young man of 28 who was Secretary of the Territory. Candidate of the newly-organized Republican party was Samuel G. Daily of Peru, who was seeking re-election.

As frequently was the case in pioneer politics, the campaign consisted largely of a series of joint debates held at various points in the territory. Considering the language the candidates used about each other, it is a little surprising to learn that frequently they traveled from town to town in the same buggy, and on occasion slept in the same bed. Accommodations and conditions of travel apparently were such that the candidates found it expedient to declare a truce between debates.

Veterans Club Remodeling

Removing of a couple of partitions so as to make a large room for private parties and club meetings is now going on at Veterans Club. The new party room will seat about fifty, and will be decorated in modernistic style.

Family Gathering

A family gathering was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burson in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Whitford of Santa Ana, Calif., who are here on a visit. A dinner and lunch was served. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Burson and family of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burson and twins, Mrs. Hattie Burson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burson of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wilson and girls, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burson and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Garner and family of Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burson and family of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Burson, Alfred Burson and Gloria Dawn, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Whitford, Mrs. Frank Bingham, and also the honor guests.

A most enjoyed afternoon was spent in visiting and taking pictures. It's been about 30 years since Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Whitford moved to California. Mr. Whitford is a carpenter. Mrs. Whitford will be remembered as Miss Cora Burson.

They plan to go to Boston to visit a son, Clifford Whitford and daughter in Virginia before returning to their home.

Illiteracy in Cities
Illiteracy in Pennsylvania has shifted from the country to the city, Pennsylvania State college found in a detailed population study. On the basis on census data, 4.3 per cent of the urban population is classified as illiterate, compared to 3.5 per cent for the rural. Illiteracy is higher in Pennsylvania than in the nation as a whole, although the rural population of the state has a smaller percentage that cannot read or write than the rural population of the nation.

Plan of Nebraska Good Will Train Nears Completion

Canvassers Meet This Week; Will Solicit All Next Week; Train to Leave in December.

Lincoln—With more than half of Nebraska's counties organized for the Nebraska Goodwill Train project, state Christian Rural Overseas Program director Dwight Dell has announced that there are over 1000 CROP workers now co-operating in the food train effort.

In Valley county Rev. L. V. Hassell of Ord is chairman of the local CROP campaign, C. C. Dale is secretary, and C. J. Mortensen is treasurer. The Ord chairman is Miss Clara McClatchey; the North Loup chairman, C. J. Goodrich; the Elvira chairman, Emanuel Kapska; and the Arapahoe chairman, H. M. Brandenburg.

In announcing the goal for Valley county, Chairman Hassell announced that anything would be accepted for the project, and that materials of any kind not suitable to ship would be sold and the money used to help buy a car of wheat, which is the Valley county goal. It is probable that an auction will be held to dispose of any article not suitable for shipment.

Omaha Mon. Run Pacing Markets

Omaha livestock supply paced other major Cornbelt markets again Monday—the 11th Monday in a row. The cattle and calf run topped 20,000 and was 80 per cent Western. Fat cattle from $34.00-$59.00 sold steady to 25c or more higher, and those from $33.00 down about steady but trade was slow about a week.

Find Three Rattlesnakes

Three live prairie rattlesnakes, all of them having ten rattles or more, were presented to the Ord high school biology classes Tuesday by Alfred Burson, who lives seven miles south of Ord.

Burson, with the help of Mrs. Burson, caught the snakes Sunday afternoon in a pasture they own four miles from Ord. "I hold them down with a shovel and my wife slips a noose around their neck," Mr. Burson told the Quiz.

Cleaning the rattlers out of the pasture has become somewhat of a hobby with Bursons. In the past five years they have caught more than a hundred there, although they believe that the snakes are not as plentiful as they have been in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen Spend Week Visiting in Caribbean Area

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen recently returned from an interesting trip which took in not only the Legion national convention in Miami, Fla., but also side trips to a number of places of interest in the Caribbean area.

They ran into an unusual incident there. They were walking along the street, which was crowded, and C. J. was in the lead, when he heard his wife exclaim, "Oh, Crawford!"

Looking around he saw a slim negro lad perhaps 16 years old disappearing into the crowd. The negro had got Mrs. Mortensen's purse open and was trying to get her money. She shut the purse on his hand, and he pulled it out and ran. Luckily he failed to get anything.

They visited a night club, and saw the president of Cuba there. Saturday afternoon they flew to Merida, Yucatan, where they found a very different civilization. They visited Mayan ruins there which date back from the 6th to the 12th centuries, A. D. These have been partially restored by the Rockefeller foundation. They saw the Temple of the Warriors, the game court and a "game similar to basketball" was played.

They saw the sacrificial well, where beautiful maidens were sacrificed to the gods. They were there over Sunday and saw the shipping and the processing of sisal, which is processed, baled and shipped to factories to be made into rope. The cost of living there is about one third what it is elsewhere, since the peso is worth only about 15c in U. S. money.

At Progresso, Mexico, they saw the Indians living very much as they have for the past 400 years. They even saw some of them lying in the roads, sleeping off the effects of their Saturday night drinking. The cathedrals there are beautiful and date back to the 15th century. They took colored pictures of their trip. Monday they flew to New Orleans, and Tuesday they flew to Omaha, getting home Tuesday evening.

Conversion of Milk
One quart of milk weighs 2.15 pounds. To make a pound of butter 9.77 quarts of milk are required, 4.65 quarts for a pound of cheese. One quart of milk is required for a pound of evaporated milk, 3.72 quarts for a pound of whole milk powder.

Mortensen got away before the convention started and flew with a friend over to the island of Nassau, 51 minutes by plane. The island is under British rule, and 85% are colored. They are very backward under the English system with left side driving and other disadvantages. He went deep sea fishing and caught three barracuda (See picture).

Following the convention, Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen left Miami Thursday and went to Kingston, Jamaica, also under British rule. This is the island where Columbus landed on his second voyage to the New World in 1494. The people there are mostly colored, but are not like our negroes, speaking with a cockney accent. It was very hot there and made Crawford's shirts melt.

They made a tour of the island and saw the coffee plantations and a large conservatory full of orchids in bloom. The scenery is very beautiful, with a blue haze on the mountains that melts away into the blue of the ocean. They visited Montague Bay, which is a bathing beach, with a sightseeing party. Gas there sells for 60c., but living is quite moderate in the native cafes.

Jamaica is English, but they do not use the English pound there. They will not accept it. C. J. had some on hand to use, but had to exchange them again. After being there 24 hours, they went to Havana, where they spent another

There is no conflict between Government aid to generate a size and national service. Give, and church relief to individuals, and church relief down into Europe's desperation and ministers to hospitals, orphanages, among cripples, and displaced peoples with food, clothing, medicines, vitamins, etc. It is not a question of "either-or" but of "both-and."

Give wheat, corn, livestock or money. . . . Bring your grain to Noll's elevator, give your money to the canvasser, get your receipt. Former Resident Visiting in Ord

Henry B. Murdock, former Ord resident, is in Ord on business and to locate some of the people he knew when he left Ord thirty years ago. Henry and his brother Ross were employed in Ord in the light plant of that day, and Henry left in 1918, going first to Fullerton for a short time. Ross died during the flu epidemic here.

From Fullerton he went to Omaha, where he was electrician for Ford for 16 years. Let out during the depression, he got a similar job with Sears Roebuck and worked for them until he was retired last year because of age. He spent 14 years with them. Henry was married to May Woolery, who died a year ago last March. He came to Ord with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Johnson of Omaha, who came here to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swopes.

Steam Heat on Trains
Steam heated passenger cars, doing away with stoves or hot water heaters, were introduced in 1881. The system was improved in 1903 by introduction of the vapor system of heating.

United Council of Church Women

The United Council of Church Women of the Mira Valley Evangelical, the North Loup Methodist, the Seventh Day Baptist and Methodist of Scotia met Oct. 26 with the president, Mrs. Warren Studer. Plans were made for the World Community which will be Nov. 5. An interesting program will be presented in the Scotia Methodist church, with the theme, "Peace is My Responsibility."

Mrs. D. E. Bussell of Scotia will be in charge of devotions and will also lead in the forum. Those who will take part in the forum are: Mrs. Ray Knapp, Ava Johnson, Mrs. Carroll Swenson and Mrs. Edwin Lenz. Special music will be provided by Mrs. Menzo Fuller and Mrs. Donald Hutchins. The Scotia high school will present an instrumental number. Mrs. Reuben Cook will be musician for the session. The hostess church will serve tea after the program.

They visited a night club, and saw the president of Cuba there. Saturday afternoon they flew to Merida, Yucatan, where they found a very different civilization. They visited Mayan ruins there which date back from the 6th to the 12th centuries, A. D. These have been partially restored by the Rockefeller foundation. They saw the Temple of the Warriors, the game court and a "game similar to basketball" was played.

They saw the sacrificial well, where beautiful maidens were sacrificed to the gods. They were there over Sunday and saw the shipping and the processing of sisal, which is processed, baled and shipped to factories to be made into rope. The cost of living there is about one third what it is elsewhere, since the peso is worth only about 15c in U. S. money.

At Progresso, Mexico, they saw the Indians living very much as they have for the past 400 years. They even saw some of them lying in the roads, sleeping off the effects of their Saturday night drinking. The cathedrals there are beautiful and date back to the 15th century. They took colored pictures of their trip. Monday they flew to New Orleans, and Tuesday they flew to Omaha, getting home Tuesday evening.

One quart of milk weighs 2.15 pounds. To make a pound of butter 9.77 quarts of milk are required, 4.65 quarts for a pound of cheese. One quart of milk is required for a pound of evaporated milk, 3.72 quarts for a pound of whole milk powder.

Mortensen got away before the convention started and flew with a friend over to the island of Nassau, 51 minutes by plane. The island is under British rule, and 85% are colored. They are very backward under the English system with left side driving and other disadvantages. He went deep sea fishing and caught three barracuda (See picture).

Following the convention, Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen left Miami Thursday and went to Kingston, Jamaica, also under British rule. This is the island where Columbus landed on his second voyage to the New World in 1494. The people there are mostly colored, but are not like our negroes, speaking with a cockney accent. It was very hot there and made Crawford's shirts melt.

They made a tour of the island and saw the coffee plantations and a large conservatory full of orchids in bloom. The scenery is very beautiful, with a blue haze on the mountains that melts away into the blue of the ocean. They visited Montague Bay, which is a bathing beach, with a sightseeing party. Gas there sells for 60c., but living is quite moderate in the native cafes.

Jamaica is English, but they do not use the English pound there. They will not accept it. C. J. had some on hand to use, but had to exchange them again. After being there 24 hours, they went to Havana, where they spent another

A High Egg Producer

—But first of all, cull out the loafers in your flock. Then start feeding a top quality ration like NORCO for maximum production. The higher egg yield per hen, the lower the cost per dozen eggs. This is clearly demonstrated in the fact that it takes about 61 pounds of feed per hen per year to maintain body weight. The feed she eats over and above that amount goes into egg production.

Don't Stint on Feed!
Keep hoppers well filled with NORCO 20% EGG MASH or NORCO ALL-MASH LAYER at all times. Chanticleers Win Over Ravenna Blue Jays Friday Night

Playing Their Best Game, Chants Rack Up 19 First Downs to 4 for Ravenna.

Displaying the best brand of football they have shown this season, Ord's Chanticleers won a 14 to 0 victory over the Ravenna Blue Jays on the Ord field Friday evening. Ord was a distinct threat all the way, but actual scoring did not begin until the game was well into the final quarter.

Up to that time the Chants were able to pile up yardage and first downs in the middle of the field, only to have to surrender the ball when it seemed they were about to score. By keeping the Blue Jays on the defensive most of the time, the locals minimized the chance of a lucky pass or run counting a score against them.

Ord won the toss and received, Tolen carrying it to the 24. The Chants then rec'd off five first downs in rapid succession with Stoddard, Blaha, Tolen and Moore lugging the ball and winding up inside the Ravenna 10 yard line. Two fumbles then marred the game, Ord recovering both of them, but for a loss.

On two plays Svanda and Fries made a first and ten, but failing on the second, Powell kicked to Ord's 29 yard line. Moore, Stoddard and Collins then made two first downs and were working on the third when they drew a five yard penalty as the quarter ended. Ravenna failed to make yardage and Ord took over. A fumble by Tolen on the first Ord play was recovered by Ravenna. Again Ravenna failed to get anywhere and Ord took over on their own 12 yard line. Stoddard kicked on the third down and the ball was caught by Svanda. Ravenna drew a 15 yard penalty. Ravenna failed to gain enough and Ord took over.

Ord failed to make a first down, but a kick by Stoddard put the ball on the Ravenna one yard line. Svanda and Fries made a first and ten and Ord drew a 15 yard penalty. Svanda made it a first and ten, and then Ravenna was penalized 15 yards. A Ravenna kick was downed by Tolen on Ravenna's 43 yard line. Ord made one pass complete but a second was intercepted by Fries.

4 Backs Drive Hard.

Svanda didn't get anywhere, and then passed to Fries for a short gain as the half ended in a scoreless tie. However, Ord had done most of the ball totting during the first half, with a total of seven first downs to their credit against two for Ravenna. Moreover, Ord's gains had been well distributed among four backs, Tolen, Stoddard, Moore and Collins, with most of Ravenna's hard work had fallen upon the shoulders of Svanda and Fries.

Svanda kicked to Tolen to start the second half, and the ball was downed on the Ord 12. With the same five backs working like clock work the Chants marched down the field until they had accumulated five first downs and then lost the ball by being forced to kick. Blaha soon returned a Ravenna kick to the Ravenna 17 yard line. A pass, Stoddard to Rich, was intercepted by Svanda. Svanda made a first down, then kicked to Tolen on the Ord 13. Ord then went down the field, 52 yards in five first downs, the longest single gain being 13 yards. Then Stoddard went through center for 3 yards and the touch-down Blaha plunged for the extra point, making the score, Ord 7, Ravenna 0.

Stoddard Breaks Away.

Ravenna made a first and ten after receiving the kickoff, and then kicked to Tolen on the Ord 11. After Blaha had made a one yard gain, Stoddard broke through and went all the way for a touch-down. Moore received a pass for the extra point. The game ended a couple of minutes later with the ball in Ord's possession.

Summarizing, Ravenna threatened once, but dropped a pass in the end zone in the second quarter. Ord lost the ball on a fourth down pass after a fumble on the Ravenna 7 yard line in the first quarter. Ord had 19 first downs to 4 for Ravenna. Ord's line was aggressive, both on offense and defense.

Outstanding for their fine line play were Richardson, Adamek, R. Blaha and McMinnis. The play of Stoddard in the backfield was outstanding and the play of Blaha, Moore, and Collins was of the driving type that gains yardage, and the best play they have shown the entire season.

Ord Chamber Met Wednesday; Many Items Discussed

Fort Hartsuff, Closing Hour, Christmas Party, Corn Yield Contest, Items Considered.

The Ord Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday evening at the IGC hall in what turned out to be one of the liveliest sessions to be held for some time. While the attendance was not large, those present made up in interest what they lacked in numbers.

The one item of business which seemed to draw the most fire was that of setting a closing hour for business on Saturday night. The question was whether to close at 9 or 10 p. m. As no agreement could be reached at the meeting and as there were not enough present to make a decision for all, it was decided to have Bruce Covey go around to the business men and have them sign up a double petition, one side for closing at 9 the other for closing at 10.

Glen Auble then discussed the Fort Hartsuff project. He stated that the federal government definitely would not be interested, but that there were strong indications that the state would. He suggested that the Chamber of Commerce take over the soliciting of funds in the Ord area. It was moved and seconded that the Chamber do this.

Dr. Auble stated further that if the state took it over, it will be made into a public recreation grounds. Also that the state game commission will be interested in the projected lake and will be glad to assist. He added that, in case the money is raised and the state is not interested, the money will be paid back in full, and the owners of the land, Auble and B. A. Rose of Burwell, will pay any expense incurred out of their own pockets.

The plan as projected calls for a total expenditure of $7,400. The old association has $1,000 cash on hand and $1,500 in pledges from Ord alone. The North Loop Lions club has indicated that will look after the soliciting of North Loop. The Burwell Wranglers club will be contacted, and also business organizations in Taylor, Constock, Arcadia and Scotia.

Governor For It.

One fact upon which special stress was placed was the element of time. The new legislature will meet in January, and it is important to have the funds collected and the purchase made before that time, so that the unicameral can take any action it deems expedient. Governor Verner has given the project his endorsement.

Mrs. Syl Papiernik, representing the Business and Professional women's club told the Chamber that the club would like assistance in working out a safety program for bicycle riders. The idea is to put luminous material on the bikes so they will be more easily seen at night and thus prevent accidents. She said that there are 208 bicycles ridden to the two schools buildings. The plan also applies to rural school children or any bike rider.

It was decided for all business places to close for services for any service man whose body is returned from overseas for burial here. The members will be informed by card in an case of this kind. Earl Klingensmith stated he had no further progress to report on the Christmas party, but that the committee would meet with committees selected by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars at a meeting Nov. 2, and complete all plans.

Henry Janus, chairman of the agriculture committee, said the corn yield contest was well in hand. The fields were being harvested and weighed, and the corn show date had been set for Jan. 12. President Covey expressed his disappointment at the small attendance.

How Chanticleers' Opposition Fared

The battle of the football season in Three Loups competition came Friday night when the Broken Bow Indians and Red Raiders from Loup City met on the Broken Bow field. Both teams had been going strong all season, the Raiders winning all their games and the Indians losing only once, a 12 to 7 decision to Ravenna.

The game was bound to be a thriller, but nobody realized how close a game it would be until the teams met. The final score of 26 to 20 gives some indication of what a game it must have been. Thode of Loup City and Meston of Broken Bow have been the big point and yardage gainers on their respective teams, and both were the big guns on attack and defense in this game.

The Indians trailed by 12 to 14 at the end of the first quarter, but two touchdowns in the last half while Loup City was making one. The score stood 7 to 6 at the end of the first quarter, the Indians scored their remaining 12 points in the third quarter, while Loup City got their final touchdown on passing attack.

In a separate story is told how Ord defeated Ravenna in a fourth quarter surge, 14 to 0. Ravenna has had an in and out season, playing well enough to defeat Broken Bow early in the year, but losing to other top notch teams. While Ord had outplayed the Blue Jays all the way, for three quarters it looked like a scoreless tie.

Lexington, defeated by Ord, took a severe drubbing from the Curtis Aggies, the final score being 33 to 14. Curtis will play the final game of the season here Nov. 22. On the strength of past performance, Ord will have a real job on their hands if they stop the Aggies, who have wins over McCook, Columbus and Gothenburg, none of which can be classed as pushovers.

Albion continued its winning way by soundly trouncing Madison, 33 to 0. Burwell picked up 41 points to St. Paul's nothing, scoring almost at will. Conrad did fully as well in a track meet game in which they scored 32 points while Holdrege was lucky to get 6. No report seems to be available on Imperial, which lies far to the west.

Then you get 10 weeks of age and bring a very good price. It looks like the baby chick feed will be much cheaper this year than last and that it will pay very well to have a good flock of early chicks. OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA — Vigilantes Handled Malefactors In Pioneer Years of Nebraska

By James C. Olson, Supt. State Historical Society

In old Nebraska, as in all parts of the West, the early pioneers didn't wait for the establishment of a formal system of law and order to protect themselves against claim jumpers, horse thieves, cattle rustlers and other varieties of miscreants to be found on the frontier. They simply took the law in their own hands and doted out vigilante justice whenever these offenders were caught.

Vigilantes were found in the earliest Nebraska settlements. They continued to exist in the western parts of the state long after law and order had become well established in the east, and, technically, in the state as a whole. The earlier vigilance committees were particularly concerned with claim-jumpers and horse thieves. The later ones added cattle rustlers to the objects of their wrath.

Several months ago we wrote in this column about the claim clubs of early territorial days. These claim clubs frequently developed into general vigilance committees, as they did in Cass County, for example, where vigilance committees were active until 1865. This was just two years prior to Nebraska statehood.

One of the best known instances of vigilante justice in Nebraska was the hanging of Kid Wade at Bassett in Rock County on Feb. 8, 1884. Kid Wade was among the most notorious of Nebraska's horse thieves and was particularly active in the Niobrara country.

He finally was captured at Red Bird, north of O'Neill, was taken over to Long Pine, then to Bassett. Here in the middle of the night, he was hanged to a railroad whistling post. Some week we'll devote an entire column to this lurid episode in Nebraska's history.

One of the better organized vigilance committees was that which sprung up during the late Sixties in Burr, Cuming and Dodge counties. The fine horses of the farmers in that area were being stolen with all too great frequency, and when organized justice could do nothing about it the farmers formed their own organization to deal with the problem. Dues in the organization were $1.00 per year, and the membership consisted of around 75 men. It is reported that this organization was most effective in driving horse thieves from that part of the state.

Vigilante justice involves the denial of many basic American liberties, and it is never permitted to exist where organized justice flourishes in a healthy state. Fortunately, that has been the condition in Nebraska for many years.

One look!... One ride!... You'll know it's... the modern design for '49 new Hudson

Come in, see the car that's years ahead—drive the New Hudson—experience the amazing roadability, comfort and safety of the only car you step down into!

Here's your chance to get the thrill of a real discovery—to see and feel one of the great advances in motor-car history offers you.

You'll see a Hudson of distinguished, streamlined beauty and low-built silhouette that is instantly recognizable because it is the natural result of a basically new design principle—a principle that puts this car so far ahead it is a protected investment in motor-car value!

The key to this new design principle is a recessed floor. The New Hudson is the only car you step down into!

By using a "step-down" zone in an exclusive, all-steel Monobuilt Body-and-frame, Hudson achieves the lowest car on the highway—only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

But no amount of looking at this amazing car—beautiful as it is—can equal the thrill of a Hudson ride! And you are invited to enjoy that ride today! Hudson has a smooth, hug-the-road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see the way it takes even the sharpest curves, you'll know once again that this car has "The modern design for '49"—and for years to come!

Hudson's remarkable ride is largely due to the fact that its "step-down" design provides the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample! It is a widely recognized fact that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have and the safer it will be.

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride, and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, is a grand experience in serene, safe well-being.

This grand feeling is further heightened by the remarkable ease with which this car is controlled. You enjoy this generous roominess in complete relaxation as the New Hudson glides smoothly along.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson, to thoroughly enjoy the ride that comes only with "The modern design for '49'."

++ Something Different ++

I can't help but notice how much housework and cooking are changing. They are changing more in the past ten years than they have altered in centuries past. We women are lucky.

For instance, think about the vacuum cleaner and its attachments. Gone is sweeping the rug with a dampened broom (yes, I know I'm getting old!) Gone is lugging the rug out to the clothesline to be battered and beat to pieces. Gone is heaving the mattresses out to the grass for airing and cleaning. And quite some difference in taking draperies down and out to the line, pressing and putting them back up... quite different from using a vacuum attachment on them, just as they hang there in place.

And think how cooking has changed. Take the little matter of a crumb pie crust. I don't believe that is anything but a recent development. Think how evaporated milk has changed the making of many sauces and ice creams. Perhaps I am trying to say think how much an electric beater changes the habits of the cook!

As much as anything else, refrigeration and fast transportation have changed our eating habits. Our ice boxes have altered our menus considerably, and certainly we think nothing of having all our favorite foods out of season. It doesn't matter how far they must be shipped. Shrimp for instance. Avocados, for example.

—OO—

Think back. It hasn't been so long, some of our novelists relate, since an orange was a Christmas morning treat found in stockings.

And now, we begin doing our own freezing. They are telling us to make two pies, wrap one and tuck it in the freezer to be baked long later. We freeze good corn in the summer for good eating in the winter.

There seems to be no end to the magical things that are developing to help the cook and housemaker.

—OO—

Well, Hallowe'en has come and gone, thank goodness. We are lucky. I suppose, that we don't have a more strenuous form of celebration here in Ord. Still, I always draw a long sigh of relief next morning (after glancing out the windows).

—OO—

Still bigger and longer and better will be the sigh of relief well all have to wait election over with once more. And not simply because of the Russian cold war and that threatening situation.

Are you embarrassed for the candidates, making all those wild claims and counter-claims, and none of them so far-fetched?

What a low opinion they must have of the people who vote, to think we would believe that guff. It's enough to make you decide NOT to vote, isn't it?

Or make you determine to vote for MY candidates, . . . of course their remarks aren't quite so preposterous. . . .

—Irma.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

When I was a young and callow (whatever that is) youth, I used to drive to town with a load of hogs, and I sold to Henry Marks some buyer for $20 per hundred or possibly more. Then I would go to the restaurant, (the name "Cafe" had not come into general use then) and pay 25c for a meal. I got all I could eat for that price. Later on, after the first world war, I believe, farmers brought in hogs for $7 or $8 per hundred, went to the cafe and paid half a dollar for a meal. They got all they could eat then, also. Now of days the farmers sell, usually direct to Omaha, and get five cents per pound, but I have seen I got for those early days hogs. They went to the cafe and got a meal for around 75c.

On the face of it, times are quite an improvement for the farmer over what they were then. But we should not judge too hastily. We have a few other things to take into consideration among them, the value of the feed for those hogs. In my lifetime I have seen corn sell for $15 per bushel. I have seen it burned in the stove because it was cheaper fuel than coal. Only a few months ago corn was selling for more than twenty times the price I mentioned above. The government is sealing it at $1.30. Many farmers believe that corn at that price makes a better profit if sold than if fed to stock.

That is only one side of the picture. In the days of cheap corn a man could equip for farming a quarter section with an actual expenditure of $100. Many still living can remember when it could be done. Today, just how far would $100 get you? It might buy a spare tire or two for the tractor. I have been told on good authority that today a man who really wants to make farming pay will have ten thousand dollars or more invested in power machinery. If he wants a real outfit he can tie up twice that amount in machinery that did not even exist a few short years ago.

Now, let us go into this a little farther. That corn that sold for $15 cents per bushel made 45 bushels to the acre and was considered a good yield. Twenty years later yields of corn at 75 bushels per acre were not unusual. Then came the hybrids, and the top yields in this area went up, and up until they have passed the 100 bushel mark. Wednesday's World-Herald showed a photo of a farmer and his outfit from somewhere in Iowa, working in corn that made 160 bushels per acre. It is expected that top yields in Valley county may hit 150 bushels per acre.

Back in the '90s all a farmer did was to fiddle the soil with a straw and it laughed at harvest. Perhaps not quite that, but the process of farming was simple then. All the soil was nearly new, and it did not need the aid of manure or commercial fertilizers to make a crop. Crop rotation was still in the future, although a few far-seeing farmers were practicing it even then. The use of legumes was comparatively unknown then. The use of these aids to the soil has increased through the years, until today it is recognized that in order to reap a good crop, something must be put back in the soil.

Still another angle. Sixty years ago we had comparatively few pests, both animal and vegetable. What we had were bad enough, the Lord knows, but there were not too many of them. Weed and insect pests, in number and variety as the country grows older. Today we have hundreds of pests of all kinds with which to contend, but we have the consolation of knowing that science has kept pace right along and we have being compounds of all kinds which are guaranteed to get rid of most of the pests.

Not only are these available in quantity, but in most cases they can be had at a price within the reach of the pocketbook. Most remarkable are those which will kill some kind of insect and do no harm to other kinds. This started out to be a paragraph, and here it winds up a whole column. It serves to illustrate the complexity of farm life these days and to point out that a man should have a college education to be able to make a real success of the new way of farming.

Down at North Loup there is a young fellow by the name of Jerry Hawkes, who stands about five feet tall, weighs about 100 pounds, and is just as much of a football player for his size as the Moose is. Of course he can't play with the big boys, because he might hurt them. Not knowing what else to do with him, Coach Bill Cook decided to put him in the water brigade and his job is to see that the players on the field are provided with water whenever there is a time out. He got a white helmet and sweater and was doing fine until he decided he ought to have a number on his sweater, just like the big boys. His mother came to his assistance and now when he runs out on the field the design H20 is plainly visible on his back.

Speaking of water, that is a lot of something, we haven't had for a long, long time. Besides the water good to drink and to encourage the growing plants, the best use for water I can think of just now is for fish to frolic in. To me there is nothing quite so forlorn as a fish out of water. On many occasions I have felt like a fish out of water myself. One of the strangest things in nature is the fact that every animal in the world knows how to swim without learning except man. Man, who was designed by the Lord of all Creation, is one of the most helpless of all God's creatures at birth.

We speak of men drinking like fish. What we mean is that they do not drink like fish. A fish drinks nothing but water. In that he is much wiser than man. Man, in his definite wisdom has developed a system of vitamins and water for all occasions. The theory is that he can maintain his health and bodily balance by swallowing a few pills, capsules or tablets now and then. Yet, animals, since the beginning of time, have known just what to eat and do not to eat, and if given a chance, they will keep themselves in perfect health.

Man makes much of the fact that he is the only animal who can talk. And yet about 90% of all he says would be better left unsaid. Man feels that he is superior to the ape, and yet he pulls off more monkey business than the apes ever dreamed of. Surrounded by labor-saving devices, he works harder than he ever did. These same devices save time, and yet man never has time to do half the things he should. Monkeys are funny, but the funniest of all is man.

Wednesday morning when I came up the highway, not an REE pole was on end along the road. Wednesday evening, when I went home, all of them were stapping in the holes and most of them were tamped. Fewer men are able to do more work in less time today than at any time in the history of mankind. It would seem that, under these conditions, a lot of men would soon be sitting around on the park benches, tired of trying to find a job. Such is not the case. Most men today are busy all the time, and could do a lot more work if they could get around to doing it. That is one of the peculiar things in life. The more work we get done, the more we find to do.

I ran across a line in a story appearing in a contemporary newspaper this week, which gave me much food for thought. The writer started a paragraph: "As I look back in retrospect . . . Now, just in case you don't know it, that word retrospect means 'looking back' or approximately those words. So what the writer said was: "As I look back in looking back." Now, just what would a person do in looking back except to look back? Perhaps I am getting too critical, but to me that little phrase is the ultimate in something or other.

I recall the fact that Charles J. Nelson liked books, and he took the best of care of all the books he obtained from any source. Some of these were paperback books and not too easily identified when they were put in shelves. To make it more convenient he would print his name in ink on the top edge of the book, with the name following. I got quite a kick out of one of these, which read: "Charles J. Nelson Looking Backward." Incidentally, I believe I still have that book somewhere in my collection.

Now that the election is over, I don't mind telling one on myself. In order to get needed exercise, I have been starting out of North Loup on foot and walking until somebody came along and gave me a lift. One morning it happened, and I didn't know the fellow who picked me up. He started the subject of election, wondering who would be elected president. We both agreed Dewey would, and then I asked: "Who do you think will be the next county judge?"

He studied about it for a moment and then said: "I don't know this fellow Rameakers very well, and I don't know John Ward at all, so I guess I won't vote for either one of them." He said it just as he was stopping to let me out, and I was so flabbergasted to find a Valley county man who didn't know me that I didn't even know who I was and was having a little fun at my expense.

backyard farm in St. Paul, and he will kill most of these and prepare their skins for market during November and December, when the pelts are the best.

Arnold Zierke of Pierce county was the victim of what is probably the most unusual corn picker accident reported to date. He received painful but not serious injuries when he got his foot into the picker. He had his shoe cut and a toenail torn loose, besides suffering cuts and bruises. He resumed corn picking again five days later.

The Bahensky brothers, Lyle and Leroy, of Gage Valley, returned home last week with two deer they got while hunting in Colorado. Melvin Bahensky shot an elk a few days earlier.

Many a former high school football star in this area will remember Don Toogood, who played with the Scotia team in the years 1933-34 and was one of the best. He died Oct. 22, in a Salt Lake City hospital of a brain tumor.

Sunday, Oct. 21, twelve of the fourteen children met at the home of Nora Lawis in Taylor for a family celebration. Four sons and eight daughters were in attendance, and one son and one daughter were unable to come. Among them was Mrs. Mildred Pales of Ord.

The Wildcats of Taylor were handed their first defeat last week, by Ansley, but, since Ansley is not in class D team, Taylor is still at the top of the list in D division, and are not likely to be headed Oct. 27, the Wildcats scored a 19 to 7 victory over Comstock.

Clarence P. Tondreau, 58, suffered a broken leg and ribs when he fell 20 feet into a pit silo at a Hamilton County Farms company sale recently. He seemed to be getting along fine when he died suddenly of a blood clot. He was a past president of the York-Seward National Farm Loan association and prominent in a number of other farm activities.

Rev. J. W. Primrose, pastor in a St. Paul church for many years and now living at the Penny Farms, Fla., suffered another stroke, according to a telegram received by his son, John, in Grand Island.

Two brothers, Albert Lee, 65 and Carl Lee, 68, both born in the Round valley neighborhood in Custer county, died within a month of each other. Carl Lee announced the sale of the Wayne hospital to Clifford M. Dahl and Ralph M. Peterson of Coleridge, owners of the Tri-State Nursing home. Possession was given Nov. 1. Dr. Lutgen founded the hospital in 1913 and has conducted it for 35 years.

The new $225,000 Dana College administration-library building at Blair was dedicated Sunday afternoon as the highlight of the 1948 college homecoming ceremonies. Dr. N. C. Carlsen of Blair, president of the United Evangelical Lutheran church of America dedicated the structure, which was erected by the Korshoj Construction Co. of Blair.

Every exchange coming to the Quiz office the past few weeks has had a story of some kind in regard to weed, brush or grass fires, some of which has caused considerable damage. Most of them have issued stern warnings against carelessness in putting out fires, matches and cigarettes, especially during the hunting season.

It is quite a boost for Nebraska weather to read in the Wheeler County Independent that the Cedar Valley softball tournament was played at Ericson Monday afternoon and evening, Oct. 25. Our School Population Decreasing, by Comparison With Schools of '84

It is extremely difficult to obtain accurate information on the schools of early days, since the early school records, if there were any, were lost, and the only available source for information is the commissioners' proceedings, in which an occasional reference to school affairs appears.

The first county superintendent, according to what records can be found, was Dr. Charles Badger, whose home was the place known as the McClellan place west of North Loup, more recently owned by Paul Meyer.

July 2, 1877 there were fifteen schools in Valley county. No record appears for the year 1878, but as of July 7, 1879, there were 17 schools in the county and a joint district, No. 21, No. 24 at present comprises the nine square miles in the southeast corner of Independent township and is not a joint district.

Printed in the paper at that time is the apportionment of school funds to the 40 districts of the county had at that time. Of interest is the fact that the names of the directors of the school districts are given in most cases. Also of interest is the number of pupils in each of the districts.

The directors names are of interest, since many of the names still persist in descendants of the original people. The names and districts follow, exactly as given: H. B. Shirley, No. 1; W. B. Keown, No. 2; N. Stokes, No. 3; J. P.

superintendent, and the only school he had to look after, at first, was Dist. No. 1, North Loup. However the districts were added rapidly.

He seems to have held the office until 1876, when A. H. Terry was probably elected county superintendent, as he had his official bond approved in January of that year. He held the office two years, and then Mingserson Coombs of near Brownville, later Arcadia, was elected and held the office for four years.

July 2, 1877 there were fifteen schools in Valley county. No record appears for the year 1878, but as of July 7, 1879, there were 17 schools in the county and a joint district, No. 21, No. 24 at present comprises the nine square miles in the southeast corner of Independent township and is not a joint district.

The directors names are of interest, since many of the names still persist in descendants of the original people. The names and districts follow, exactly as given: H. B. Shirley, No. 1; W. B. Keown, No. 2; N. Stokes, No. 3; J. P.

Brown, No. 4; H. Westover, No. 5; A. B. Bradt, No. 6; M. R. Potter, No. 7; E. B. Smith, No. 8; W. D. Alter, No. 9; T. C. Homold, No. 10; J. J. Hamlin, No. 11; Waldo Ludden, No. 12; W. W. Looftborow, No. 13; Abe Trout, No. 14; C. H. Noll, No. 15; E. Le Stevens, No. 16; H. C. Perry, No. 17; L. H. Peck, No. 18; Not reported, No. 19; E. G. Bates, No. 20; M. B. Hawthorne, No. 21; W. B. Bennett, No. 22; H. P. Darggett, No. 23; G. B. Scott, No. 24; H. A. Lane, No. 25; Not reported, No. 26; — Cooper, No. 28; A. Stafford, No. 29; L. C. Hunter, No. 30; S. C. McCord, No. 31; I. W. Job, No. 32; J. B. Fisher, No. 33; Charles W. Cass, No. 34; E. V. Truitt, No. 35; W. H. VanKirk, No. 36; A. Fraidenburg, No. 37; D. E. Rost, No. 38; Frank Moses, No. 39; and Charles W. Parks, No. 40.

Many of these names will have a familiar ring, and if the reader will note the names and the location of the district in which each person lived, it will help locate the home of some men at that time. For example, H. C. Perry must have lived in the Brace district southwest of Ord in 1881, A. V. Bradt lived in Springdale, and C. H. Noll, then director of Midvale, No. 15, is still living in Ord.

The above report was made by J. P. Kates, who was superintendent at the time. The record of who held the office is not too clear after his time, but several names will be recalled. Among them are S. A. Parks, D. McCall and Lorenzo Blessing, the latter a grandfather of the present Blessings in Ord.

The number of districts in the county increased through the years until there were 74 at the height of school development, but some of these outlived their usefulness and have been abandoned. School districts with numbers up to 74 still exist, but some in between have been abandoned and others probably will be if the recent district organization is maintained. Through the cooperation of Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, some interesting facts in regard to the present condition of the county school districts are brought to light. The districts still maintain their organization, but are closed, neither having any children of school age. Strangely enough, these two districts lie together and could probably become one district if they so wished.

There are ten districts in the county whose boards have contracted with other schools for the education of their pupils. There are three town or village schools and there are three schools held jointly with Custer, Garfield and Greeley counties. This in effect cuts down the number of schools in the county from 74 to 62. The number of pupils per country school in Valley county at present varies from 3 to 20.

Here are some interesting comparisons between the number of pupils in some of the districts in 1884 and in 1948. Dist. 7 had 32 pupils then and has 6 now; Dist. 3 had 10 then, has 10 now; Dist. 4 had 10 then, has 3 now; Dist. 6 had 66 then, has 16 now; Dist. 7 had 16 then, has 13 now; Dist. 8 had 17 then, has 8 now; Dist. 9 had 25 then, has 3 now; Dist. 10 had 28 then, has 5 now.

This disparity continues through all of the counties 40 districts of 1884. One thing must be remembered, however, and that is that those for some districts comprised all of Valley county at the time, and the districts made since then were taken from those already formed. The important thing in those days was that there were enough pupils in all the districts to run a school.

Adding the pupils in the 37 rural districts in 1884, we find that there were 839 children of school age in those districts at that time. The record in the county superintendent's office shows that there were 654 rural pupils at the close of the school year in 1948. In other words, we now have 551 pupils in 56 rural schools, and in 1884 we had 839 pupils in 37 rural schools.

This gives us an average of less than ten pupils per school in the county in 1948 and an average of nearly 23 pupils per school in 1884. Remember also that the above figures take into account the ten schools contracting elsewhere, and the two having no pupils at all. If we could count these, the average would be about 7 1/2 pupils per school.

Facts are stubborn things. They have a way of staying fixed. The figures showing the record for 1884 are taken from a paid legal ad, and are undoubtedly correct. Likewise, the 1948 figures are the official record from the county superintendent's office. Therefore we have no reason to doubt them.

This finds us facing a stubborn fact. While the average number of pupils in the rural schools has been decreasing, the cost of teaching those children has been increasing. It is certain that something will have to be done, and done soon, to meet this condition in which the county finds itself.

It is certain that a school redistricting bill will be presented to the unicameral this winter, and it will probably be passed. Just what the form will be is not certain. It is known, however, that it is to be an enabling act, one which will give the county or the districts, or both, the authority to make necessary changes.

As was said in the beginning, it is not the purpose of the Quiz at this time to advocate this contemplated change. That is for the people to decide, when and if, the time come. This series of articles is designed to be informative and to acquaint the public with all the facts available. This should so inform the public that intelligent action can be taken when the time for action comes.

STILL WHISTLING. This is the final toot! When this is published, the ballots will be counted and we will know what happened. Regardless of the result, I have carried on a fair campaign, and can look every voter square in the eye. I hope all of you can do the same. Here and now I wish to thank all of you who voted for me. I will go further. I want to thank all of you who were patriotic enough to get out and vote, regardless of how you voted. I may have won. I may have lost. But remember this. It is not whether you won or lost that counts, but how you played the game. You will find me still able to whistle. Written Thursday, Oct. 28, 1948. John L. Ward.

It is the business of the chiropractor to keep the channels, through which this life giving energy flows, free.

A staunch friend of chiropractic, as administered by Dr. Leonard, writes:

Aradia, Nebr., Oct. 29, 1948: Some 20 years ago I was in a critical condition, also severe pain in right side which had been diagnosed appendicitis. I went to Broken Bow and consulted Dr. Elizabeth Leonard (her husband being out at the time). She located my trouble in the lumbar region of the spine, called it lumbago, and told me better how I felt than I could have told her. I took twelve chiropractic adjustments mostly from Dr. B. Leonard, after which I was entirely free from the above symptoms. I went to work and continued to improve all summer, that being in the early spring. Signed, L. M. Sumner.

Although the basic design and major characteristics of the ship have been fixed, the location of certain structures, such as the stacks, elevators and the telescopic bridge, is still under study.

THE SPINE AND THE NERVOUS SYSTEM

The spinal cord is that part of the cerebro-spinal axis, which is situated in the spinal canal. A transverse section of the cord shows that it is composed of both gray and white matter. The gray occupies the center and is arranged in the form of two crescents, joined by a gray commissure. Each crescent has an anterior and posterior root from which regions, respectively, the anterior and posterior roots of the spinal nerves have their origin. The spinal nerves are transmitted from each side of the spinal cord through the spinal foramina.

There are thirty-one pairs of spinal nerves. The cranial nerves (12) have their deep or real origin in some special nucleus of gray matter deeply situated in the brain. They emerge from the surface and pass through prolongations of the dura-mater in openings at the base of the skull. The autonomic (sympathetic) system consists of a series of ganglia connected by intervening cords - partly in front and on each side of the spinal column. Three great ganglionic plexuses situated in the thoracic, abdominal and pelvic cavities. There are also smaller nerve fibers, besides the ganglia of the spinal nerves.

The autonomic ganglia are connected with the spinal nerves by two branches, one white, the other gray, known as the white and gray rami-communicantes. Thus all nerve tissue in the body is organized and linked together in one great nerve system, with its directing center in the brain. Stimulation of a nerve increases the functional activity of an organ.

Inhibition restrains functional activity of an organ. These are necessary forces, yet there is a third force upon which they depend. It is the primary and essential force especially indicative of life - which we call vital energy.

Chiropactic maintains that all the chemical and physical activities of the human body are controlled, directly or indirectly, by this third force, or vital energy, which is transmitted through the nervous system to every organ and tissue.

It is the business of the chiropractor to keep the channels, through which this life giving energy flows, free.

Miss Josie Kriz, living in northwest Ord, believes she has found a solution to the weed seed spreading problem. Above is shown a picture of the buildings and a portion of the wall.

Methodist Church Plans A Special Program Sunday

Seventy Years Since Church Was Organized; Thirty-five Since New Church was Built.

The seventieth anniversary of the founding of the Ord Methodist church is to be held Sunday Nov. 11 in an all day service. In this connection a brief record of the church in Ord is printed herewith.

Credit for this interesting article must be given to Mrs. E. M. Smith, who compiled the history, and which is given here almost word for word.

The Ord Methodist Episcopal church was organized in 1878 as a part of a circuit in which Scotia was included. In October 1878, Rev. T. Alkman was appointed to serve this circuit, which he did for one year.

Church services were held in the school house, which was located east of the present light plant. The building still stands, having been remodeled into a dwelling. While in Ord, Rev. Alkman made his home with the D. C. Bailey family.

From the Nebraska annual conference minutes of the Methodist Episcopal church of 1879, the Ord church is in the Kearney district, having fifty members, 5 Sunday schools with 25 officers and teachers and a total enrollment of 100 scholars. Rev. William Esplin was appointed to the Ord charge.

Since 1878 the Ord Methodist church has had 33 pastors, serving an average of slightly more than two years. Mr. Alkman, his pastor was that of Rev. M. G. Medlin, who came in the spring of 1907 and remained until fall. Rev. Mearl C. Smith had the longest, serving from 1932 to 1938.

Of the 33 pastors 10 are living. They are: C. E. Wilson, Omaha, retired; E. H. Hosmer, Kearney, retired; E. H. Maynard, San Diego, Calif., retired; J. A. Moorman, Springfield, Neb.; W. H. Wright, Kennesaw, Neb., retired; Mearl C. Smith, superintendent of the Kearney district; G. C. Roberson, Oxford, Neb.; M. Long, Kearney, Neb., retired; Carl F. McConnell, Mitchell, Neb.; and the present pastor, Rev. L. V. Hassell.

Real Estate Record. According to the Valley county records, a deed was given by Mr. and Mrs. Orson S. Haskell, and William W. Haskell, Jan. 16, 1850, of Lot 7, Block 15, in the city of Ord, to the trustees of the Ord Methodist Episcopal church, for the consideration of $1. This property was for the use and occupancy of the preacher of the church.

The trustees were James Fries, A. S. Adams, George D. Bailey, C. C. Huddell, S. S. Haskell, J. F. Thurston and Peter Mortensen.

Seven years later in 1857, the parsonage and lot were sold to Charles W. Barnes. Then twelve years later an excellent parsonage and a good lot were purchased for $1,200. Great credit was due the pastor, G. F. Cook. This was the Dr. McGinnis home that has just been moved east of the veterinary hospital.

Going back to 1851, the year after the gift of the parsonage and lot to the church, the Valley county records show that on July 27, 1851, Mr. and Mrs. Orson S. Haskell and William W. Haskell in consideration of $75, deeded the real estate in Block 18, Lot 4, now known as the veterinary hospital, to the trustees, D. C. Bailey, James Dies, James Miller, G. W. Newbecker, J. C. Collins, W. J. Nelson, George Bailey, A. M. Robbins and H. Westover.

The first church building was erected on this site in 1851 with Wesley Wilson as pastor. Six years later the gallery was added by the mite society under the pastorate of F. W. Ware. In 1891 an addition 16 x 28 feet was added, when C. C. Wilson was pastor. Lumber and material cost $258.75, and the labor, $136.75, was donated.

In the summer of 1912 the old church building was sold to Dr. Vinnebeck. The corner stone for the new church was laid March 24, 1912, and the church was dedicated Feb. 23, 1913. The dedication speaker was I. B. Schreckner, chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan university. R. P. Hammons, superintendent of the Kearney district, preached in the evening. Rev. Allen Chamberlain was pastor when the church was dedicated.

As can be noted, the new church had no belfry, and no plans were

Will Conduct Mission in Ord

A mission will be conducted in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church November 14 to 21, by the Rev. Emmanuel Sprigler C. P. of Louisville, Ky.

The object of the mission is to offer extraordinary opportunities for hearing the Word of God, and for worthily receiving the Sacraments.

The mission will consist of Holy Mass and instruction each morning, sermon and benediction each evening at 7:30.

An invitation to attend this mission is extended to every member of the parish and to all non-Catholic friends.

Two Deliveries of Mail Per Day, Says Postmaster

Delivery Twice Daily Now Authorized in Residential Area and Business Section.

An important change has been authorized by the post office department, according to Alfred L. Hill, Ord postmaster. From now on there will be two complete city deliveries per day in all parts of the city.

The plan calls for starting delivery of first class mail and daily papers as soon as possible after the incoming mail arrives and is sorted. Mr. Hill believes that part of the mail will be delivered over the city not later than 12:30 p. m.

The delivery of third class mail, including magazines, etc., will be done in the afternoon. It is possible that due to the heavy mail at the holiday season, the incoming mail may be late at times, but the deliveries will take place as quickly as possible after the mail arrives.

In addition to the third class, the second delivery of the day will include drop letters and any first class mail that may come in off the routes. Postmaster Hill believes that this will give Ord as good delivery service as any town of its size in the country.

People in some of the outlying sections will be pleased to learn of two extra deliveries that have been made. One street further east in the east part of Ord, and two streets more in the north part of town are now receiving city carrier service.

Carson Resigns from City Council

Hugh Carson, legislator-elect from the district, tendered his resignation from the Ord City Council to Mayor F. L. Blessing at noon Wednesday.

"It is with a great deal of regret that I do this," Carson said. "My duties in the legislature will cause me to be away from Ord a good share of the time, and I will not be able to give the council position the attention it deserves."

"I hate to see Hugh go," Mayor Blessing told the Quiz. "His record as a councilman has been outstanding, and he will be a hard man to replace. I know that if he devotes the same energy to state affairs that he has given to municipal affairs, we can be sure of able representation at Lincoln."

Catholic Bazaar Declared Success

The Ord Catholics held a most successful bazaar Sunday afternoon and evening, with many people in attendance. In order to provide room for both events, the supper was held in the Bohemian hall and the bingo party in the Knights of Columbus hall.

The present plans call for a final event, a dance to be held on the night of Nov. 24. Mrs. Eleanor Dvorak is the president of the Catholic Ladies organization which was responsible for most of the work, but they were actively assisted by the men.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Nemetskal, Mr. and Mrs. Lumiro Nemetskal and Fred Nemetskal were Sunday dinner and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kral and Norina.

Counties Voted Against Change in Government

Custer and Sherman Will Continue Township Form; Washington Will Change.

At least three Nebraska counties voted on a proposed change in county government at the general election Nov. 2. They were Sherman and Custer counties, which voted on a change from supervisor to commissioner system, and Washington county, which voted to change from commissioner to supervisor system.

The vote from Custer county is of interest in that the proposition to change to commissioner system lost by more than three to one. The total vote was 5,000 for and 1,529 against, continuing the present township system.

There was much activity on both sides before election. It is believed that the loss of over $100,000 annually which would have resulted in funds for the maintenance and improvement of the 2,100 miles of township roads was the influencing factor in the election. Only two townships, Loup and Wayne, voted in favor of a change.

The vote on continuance of township organization in Sherman county was much closer than in Custer, the majority for township organization being less than 300. Five townships voted to change, and the other eleven voted to continue. It is probable that the result of the election had a deciding influence in Sherman county also.

In the Washington county election the people voted to change from the commissioner system to the supervisor system. The vote showed 1,817 in favor of the supervisor system and 1,056 for the commissioner system. Here there had been some confusion as to what was meant in the wording on the ballots, according to the Blair Pilot-Tribune.

The ballot said, in the top line, For Township Organization, and in the bottom line, Against Township Organization. Due to the confusion arising from calling the townships voting precincts, which is usually done, it is possible that many did not know for certain how they were voting.

Millions Spent Here. North Loup, first construction; Taylor diversion dam, $62,000; Taylor-Ord canal, $187,000; Burwell-Sumter canal, $129,000; Hardenbrook diversion dam, $670,000; Ord-North Loup canal, $29,025,000; Davis Creek hydro plant, $2,015,000; Fossil canal, $1,260,000; Cotestead diversion dam, $1,510,000; Fullerton canal, $5,770,000; Cushing reservoir, $1,000,000; Cushing hydro plant, $1,190,000; Central City and Chapman canals, $85,000; drainage, $5,910,000; total, $44,669,000.

International V-Pres. Talks to Ord Cosmos

Gustave P. Utke, Milwaukee, international vice-president of Cosmopolitan International was guest speaker at a meeting of the local service club at the Veteran's club Thursday.

Appearing on the program with him was Kenneth Dryden, Kearney, executive secretary of the group. Utke gave the local club a strong warning against inroads of communism and charged his audience to be ever-vigilant against the spread of red philosophy.

"In America today," he said, "the reds have planted themselves within every organization imaginable, from our own local service clubs to government itself."

"As a matter of our own self protection it is essential that we maintain a strong guard against the spread of communism and be ready to stamp it out wherever and whenever it appears."

Utke stated that service clubs such as Cosmopolitan, Rotary, Lions and others represented community leadership, and that the clubs were one of the best examples of the American way of living.

Dryden told the local organization of plans for Cosmopolitan expansion and outlined projects now being carried on by other clubs in the United States and Canada. George Hastings presided at the meeting in the absence of president Floyd Beranek.

Plans Released of Development for Loup River Basins

Irrigation, Power, Flood Control in State Planned by Reclamation Bureau.

Governor Val Peterson has released details of a gigantic irrigation development project which will extend from the Kingsley dam in Western Nebraska to Waterloo along both Platte rivers and their tributaries. Of special interest here is that part of the project planned for the Loup rivers.

The project contemplated the expenditure of $37,134,601. Most of this amount will be charged to irrigation, but there are allocations for power, flood control, fish and wildlife and recreation. The benefits from the plan are estimated at about 2 1/2 millions annually, some of which would come from all the above named sources, and some from municipal and domestic water supply.

16 Million for Loups. Four intrabasin movements of water are planned. This of course depends upon the legality of such procedure, which would have to be determined by the courts. The development as proposed is divided into ten major units and 30 sub-units. The development in the Middle Loup calls for the expenditure of nearly 49 millions, and the North Loup nearly 12 millions.

The plan calls for the abandonment of the present plants at Kearney, Gothenburg, Johnson No. 2, Boone, Columbus and Monroe. These to be replaced with other plants at locations which fit in with the general plan. New reservoirs will be established, fifteen in all. Those of special interest to Quiz readers will include:

On Oak creek, northeast of Loup City, capacity, 90,000 acre feet; Rockville, on Middle Loup river above Rockville and below Loup City, 721,000 acre feet; Davis Creek, southwest of Scotia and in the northwest part of Howard county, 423,000 acre feet; Erickson, on Cedar river and Clear creek, just below Lake Erickson, 121,000 acre feet; and Cairo, on Dry creek, above Cairo, 31,600 acre feet.

Davis Creek Power. The plant on Davis creek to furnish power will be one of those replacing the present plants at Columbus and Monroe. The proposed reservoir would inundate 22,000 acres of land, but only a small part of this would be irrigable, especially in the Davis creek and Ashton areas. No estimate is made of the time required to complete the work, which will be done by units.

The following estimates of cost are made: North Loup, first construction; Mullen reservoir, $7,510,000; Sargent and Lillian canal, $4,580,000; Lillian hydro pumping plant, $905,000; Wood Park pumping plant and dam, $2,000; Sargent diversion dam, $560,000; canals 1 and 2, $60,000; Arcadia diversion dam, $700,000; canals 3 and 4, $80,000; Fossil canals, $1,260,000; Ashton reservoir, $8,000,000; drainage, $700,000; total, $33,357,000.

Millions Spent Here. North Loup, first construction; Taylor diversion dam, $62,000; Taylor-Ord canal, $187,000; Burwell-Sumter canal, $129,000; Hardenbrook diversion dam, $670,000; Ord-North Loup canal, $29,025,000; Davis Creek hydro plant, $2,015,000; Fossil canal, $1,260,000; Cotestead diversion dam, $1,510,000; Fullerton canal, $5,770,000; Cushing reservoir, $1,000,000; Cushing hydro plant, $1,190,000; Central City and Chapman canals, $85,000; drainage, $5,910,000; total, $44,669,000.

Leonard wound up the regular season with the surprising total of 177 points, 27 of which he made against Palmer. Manchester made 18 points at Palmer to boost his total for the year to 119. Kerr went over for 6 points to raise his total to 40, which is plenty of scoring for a man playing end. Klingensmith caught a pass for an extra point. Except for the first minute, the play of the entire team was outstanding.

Leonard has 177. The game was enlivened by the return of Carol Mulligan who has been out most of the season with a bad elbow, luckily on his left arm. Mulligan is the Challengers' chief passer, and he hurled one that went into the waiting arms of Manchester fully forty yards and was carried over for a touchdown.

This was the final game of the regular season, but Coach Cook will take his squad to Paxton for a post-season game on Armistice Day. Paxton is one of the high ranking teams in the state, and the second team took over the job most of the third quarter. Most of the kickoffs were made from near the sidelines in order to find a place to hold the ball.

No Services Armistice Day; Stores Closed

Armistice Day will be observed very quietly in Ord. No special services are being planned, no commemorative exercises of the first World War, although Ord stores will be closed all day, according to the Ord Chamber of Commerce.

A veteran's party, to be held Armistice evening at the Veteran's club is the only event scheduled at the present time.

Wild Duck-Moose Dinner. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Thomsen for a wild duck and moose dinner Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hoepfner and Sandra Kay of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoepfner of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vodehnal, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Zikmund and Jimmy. Mrs. Lillian Novotny and Roy Whiting.

Swimming Pool Being Tested; Inspection Soon

With repairs and reconstruction completed, the Ord swimming pool is now going through tests for leakage, filtering and pump equipment. Tests are being made by Clausen & Sons, contractors, under the supervision of Frank B. McNett, architect.

The pool was filled Saturday, and final test is expected Thursday or Friday of this week, following which the architect will submit his report of approval or disapproval to the city council.

All persons who have paid up memberships in the Red Cross are eligible to attend. The county chapter has jurisdiction over the Ord, North Loup and Arcadia branches.

The meeting will be held at the K. C. hall.

Civil Air Patrol to Organize Here Monday Evening

New Group Sponsored by Veterans of Foreign Wars and Legion; 50 to Enroll.

The formal organization of an Ord chapter of the Civil Air Patrol will be completed Monday night, November 15, at a meeting to be held in the American Legion Hall.

The CAP unit will be formed following the regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars which is co-sponsor for the patrol with the American Legion.

Fifty Expected to Join. According to Bill Steen, temporary chairman of the CAP group here, around fifty are expected to sign up at the Monday night meeting. It is thought to entitle the local CAP to squadron standing.

"CAP is an organization composed of persons interested in promotion of flying in this community," Steen said. "Its objectives are to acquaint the public with flying as related to our national defense, and to also provide for a disciplined trained flying unit here in case of emergency."

"During recent Republican Valley floods the CAP provided the only methods of communication and transportation to and from the stricken areas," Steen said. "While we hope that this phase of CAP work will never have to be carried out in Ord, never-the-less the unit will be ready."

To get Radio Equipment. Of immediate need to Ord and the Ord airport will be the installation of radio communications equipment at the airport in a direct hookup with a Nebraska airport network. Two-way equipment for local planes will also become available.

Wm. Higgins of Arcadia Dies

Answers Last Call Week After Wife's Death; Burial in Leo's Park Cemetery.

Death came to William Higgins of Arcadia only ten days after his wife had gone to her reward. Mr. Higgins, 78, died at his home in Arcadia Sunday morning after an illness of two years. Mrs. Higgins died at their Arcadia home Oct. 27.

Funeral services are being held this Wednesday afternoon in Arcadia, and burial is to be in the Leo's Park cemetery west of Arcadia. The Hastings-Pearson mortuary of Ord has charge of arrangements. Mr. Higgins was born in New York. His parents died while he was yet a child. At the age of 15 he came to Platte Center, Neb., but for the past 50 years his home has been in Arcadia.

He and the former Mrs. Jeannette Moyer were married at Ord, Nov. 20, 1904. Besides his wife and parents, he is preceded in death by one step-son, Edward Moyer, and by one brother and one sister.

Survivors include two sons, John Higgins, Laramie, Wyo., and William Higgins, jr., of Comstock; two daughters, Mrs. Martin Foss, Ord, and Mrs. Harry Castle, Crete; three step-sons, Jack and Charles Moyer of Grand Island, and Leonard Moyer of Everett, Wash.; one step-daughter, Mrs. Fred White, Trona, Calif.; 25 grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; one brother, Mike Higgins, New York City, N. Y.

Ord Men Win First Honors in Golf

A picture of Al Blessing appeared in the Daily Nebraska, paper put out by the Nebraska state university. He and Doug Dale were members of the team of the ATO fraternity that won the inter-fraternity golf tournament.

Dale was sick the day the picture was taken, so he was not in it. The tournament is an annual affair of more than usual interest. Blessing and Dale are first year students in business education.

Army Selectees Fail to Qualify

A 12 state checkup on 6,185 men examined between Oct. 11 and 22 for induction into the army, showed that 60% were rejected for failure to pass the physical examination. Of this number only 2,080 were found acceptable for military training and service.

The main reason for so many rejections, it is claimed, is that many of those called were called by previous selective service calls, and also, in many counties, the lack of local medical examiner prevented those obviously unfit from being culled out at home.

M. S. Dadd Resigns His Position With Irrigation District

Has Accepted Similar Job With Colorado Irrigation Co.; Family to Stay Here.

The public will learn with regret that Melvin S. Dadd, manager of the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district and the Middle Loup Power and Irrigation district for the past six years, has tendered his resignation effective Jan. 10, 1919.

Mr. Dadd came to Ord from Lincoln and took over his duties here Aug. 20, 1912. He took the place of H. C. James, who was manager at that time. He came at a time when financial problems were facing the district and these problems have continued more or less through his tenure of office.

In speaking of the present condition of the districts, Mr. Dadd has this to say: "In my opinion the problems facing the two districts are far less than they were a year ago. I have reason to believe that if the irrigators and local people continue to give their support as they have in the past, the districts will in time work out their problems."

Mr. Dadd has spent 21 years in this line of work, all of it in Nebraska, and felt that he would like to try the work in a new field. The opportunity came when he was offered the position of engineer and general manager of the Twin Lakes Reservoir and Canal Co. irrigation system in southeast Colorado, with headquarters at Ordway.

He still feels a keen interest in the projects here and has made arrangements that, if it is necessary or desirable, he will return for consultation in connection with the work here. He will leave for his new work immediately after Jan. 10, but the family will continue to live at 315 South 17th street until the end of the school year.

Big Duck Flight Believed Over

A big flight of northern ducks went through Nebraska over the week end, headed south, and in the belief of many local hunters this was the main flight of the year and from now till the close of the season Nov. 18 hunting is likely to be slow. Many limit duck kills were reported on the river Saturday, Sunday and Monday but the main flight went east and west of Valley county, missing hunters here. Missouri river sportsmen had especially good luck Sunday.

Pheasant shooting has slowed somewhat due to colder weather but the birds are plentiful.

Chanticleers Win at St. Paul Friday by Score of 33-0

Coach Gave Reserves Chance to See Action; Curtis Ord Foo Friday Night.

The Ord Chanticleers went to St. Paul Friday evening and defeated the team from that town by a score of 33 to 0. Coach Dick Peterson said the score could well have been three times that amount, but that it gave him a chance to play his reserves, many of whom will hold down first team positions next year. In all 30 men saw service.

Because of the cold, windy night and also because the yard markers were hung on the fence and were partly obscured by the spectators, no play by play of the game was kept by Ord. However, with the score all one sided, a detailed account of the game is hardly necessary. About all that is of interest is who made the points for Ord.

Ord received Tolon returning the kickoff to St. Paul 45. Blaha made a long gain and then Stoddard scored on the third play of the game. Blaha made the extra point. St. Paul soon had to kick, and in a short time Blaha went over for the second touchdown and Moore made the extra point.

Reserves Play. Peterson then began using his second and third string men, and there was no more scoring until the end of the half. In the third quarter Tolon made a touchdown, but the try for extra point failed. Later Stoddard went across for the fourth touchdown of the game, and Heuck caught a pass for the extra point just as the quarter ended with the score, Ord 27, St. Paul 0.

In the fourth quarter Stoddard scored the final tally on an intercepted pass and a fine runback of thirty yards, aided by fine blocks by Clement and Moore. A large number of penalties were called on Ord, many of them nullifying touchdown plays. Coach Peterson was not quite certain, but he believed that eight touchdowns plays were called back.

Every member of the squad present, 30 in all, saw action in the game with the exception of Collins, who was injured in the Ravens game and needed a little more rest. The final game of the season will be played Friday evening on the Ord field, when the Curtis Aggies will be guests of the Chanticleers. This game should be plenty tough, as the Aggies have been going strong all season.

made for a place for the old bell. Some wanted the bell to ring as of old, so a steel tower was erected just east of the church which put the bell considerably higher than the roof of the church. One day as a local citizen was walking past the Bohemian hall the bell gave one loud "clang". The tower had buckled and had fallen on the roof of the church, breaking a number of tiles and causing considerable damage.

When the Knott property was purchased there was a house on it which was used as a parsonage until 1916, when it was moved to northeast Ord. Rev. F. O. Winslow, during his one year as pastor, raised the money, built the present parsonage and lived in it a few weeks before leaving.

Local Activities
According to the Valley County Journal of Feb. 14, 1880, a donation party was to be held at the residence of Mr. Dies in Ord Feb. 19 for the purpose of partly remunerating Mr. Esplin, the Methprove itself equal to the occasion, as it always has.

Several people will recall the Methodist church orchestra that took active part in the evening service for several years in the twenties and early thirties. It has been found that several of the original orchestra players are still in Ord, so they, together with younger Methodist players, are furnishing a 20-piece orchestra for part of the evening anniversary program next Sunday evening.

The orchestra personnel is as follows: Clarinets, Beverly Brox, Mary Lou Arnold, Lois Stevens, Carolyn Auble; Cornets, Jay Stoddard, Ralph Craig; Trombone, Paul Stoddard; French horns, Mary Thompson, Virginia Struckman; violins, Jay Auble, Mrs. Glen Auble, Don Auble, Irene Auble; Viola, Mrs. Wallace Doe; Cello, Mrs. J. W. Stevens; bassoon, Rogene Rogers; Oboe, Verle Mulligan; Flute, Betty Anderson; String bass, Mrs. Leslie Nash; organ, Mrs. Orin Kellison; piano, Mrs. L. J. Auble; director, Dr. Glen Auble. A rather new feature of the evening program will be harp solos played by Mrs. Leslie Nash.

Burt Population Nearing 13,000

An interesting problem came up recently in Burt county, where some people were of the opinion that the population of the county had increased past the 13,000 mark. If this occurred, some of the county officials would be entitled to an increase in wages under the Nebraska statutes.

A hearing was held before the board of supervisors and evidence taken on both sides of the proposition. After hearing all the witnesses, the board decided that there was not enough evidence to justify the taking of a special census and that the matter should go over to the federal census of 1950. The 1940 census was 12,516.

(Advertisement) THE VERTEBRAL SUBLUXATION AND ITS CORRECTION. By Dr. Elizabeth Jane Leonard, Chiropractic Specialist 1806 M. St., Ord, Nebr.

In dealing with a subluxated vertebra the chiropractor does not deal only with partially displaced bones, but with ligaments and discs (pads of cartilage).

The vertebra may be completely returned to its normal position with one adjustment, but it returns most of the distance toward its former abnormal position some time after the force has been removed. This is because of the distortion of the discs and ligaments. Repeated adjustments are therefore necessary for the purpose of equalizing the length of the ligaments and the conformation of the discs. Some subluxations are brought about gradually, years being required for their development. Others are produced suddenly by violent exertion or an injury. In the majority of all cases chiropractors have to deal with subluxations of comparatively long standing. Therefore, a period of time will be required to restore the involved ligaments and discs to their normal condition.

The essential feature of a subluxation is that the vertebra is relatively fixed in its abnormal position, and it no longer takes part in the normal movements of the spine. Rigidity is always present where there is a subluxation, as well as an inflammatory condition.

The relief from disease by spinal adjustments therefore, is accompanied by conversion of rigid vertebrae into movable units. Spinal diagnosis is the determination of disease in a certain organ or part of the body, by the detection of a vertebral subluxation.

Symptoms and signs of subluxations are:

- 1. Mal-alignment of the vertebrae.
2. Contraction of the spinal muscles and ligaments.
3. Diminished mobility of the back.
4. Pain.
5. Tenderness.
6. Abnormal symptoms in certain organs or parts of the body.
7. Local zone of abnormal tenderness.
8. Thickening of the nerve trunks.
9. Changes in anatomical structures connected with the spine.

Following are words of appreciation from those who have given chiropractic an impartial trial:

October 21, 1918 In 1928 I had a severe case of Spanish flu. Afterward I had a splintering in my head. I began having violent headaches, beginning in the back of my neck and going to the top of my head. These were so severe I could scarcely be on my feet. I went to Broken Bow, stayed there and took chiropractic adjustments from Dr. B. Leonard. The pain soon began to leave and by the time I had taken thirty adjustments I was able to go home and resume my work. Since then I have taken adjustments from time to time.

Thanks to both Drs. Leonard and chiropractic adjustments for the splendid help and relief they have given me, my husband, our son and his wife.

We have all been treated for subluxated vertebrae and feel that chiropractic treatments are the quickest and surest relief anyone can get.

Uni. Seniors to Help Miss Heston

This year for the first time, Ord high school has been chosen to be a Teachers' Training Center of the homemaking department of the University of Nebraska. Ord and Pawnee City are the only Nebraska towns to have such a system besides Lincoln. Girls from the university will be here at intervals throughout the year to obtain teacher training in our homemaking department.

Bornis Stewart and Rodela Nelson, both seniors at the university, will be the first students to come. Their term will begin on November 15, and end on December 22. While they are here, their duty will be to assist Miss Heston. They will gain valuable experience in teaching the subjects that are on the class schedules.

Miss Heston, in her work with these trainees, is on the staff of the University College of Agriculture. Miss Heston comments, "In offering a service to the university and to its own school. As for me, I find this work inspirational and satisfying."

Hazard Schools Again 12 Grades

Patriots of the Hazard public schools voted last June to assume full financial responsibility in raising their schools to full twelve grades. Since they lost their 12 grade standing, the additional expense incurred will have to be borne locally until they again meet the requirements for state educational funds.

This year the school levy for Hazard will be 50.35 mills, which will be much higher than any other in the county. The highest school levy in Nebraska, according to the records was 31 mills. In 1916, when the eleventh and twelfth grades were abandoned, there was only one pupil in high school.

In 1920, according to the then Secretary of the Navy, the Navy's annual food needs were 1,600 bushels of beans and 12,500 pounds of butter.

Furnishes only what you cannot raise.

Now you can have high quality and economy! MoorMan's Mineral fits in perfectly with the economical trend toward buying only those feed ingredients that cannot be raised or processed at home. It contains three packing-house and two sea-food proteins, dried milk, and MoorMan's complete Hog Minerals (with vitamin D added in winter). GOES A LONG WAY. One bag is all that is needed in a quarter-ton of hog supplement of very low cost and of a quality that is not exceeded regardless of price. In a complete feed it takes less than one bag to balance over a ton of your own good, low-cost feeds. For new standards of both economy and results in hog feeding, find out more about MoorMan's Mineral. MoorMan Mfg. Co., Quincy, Ill. Call the MoorMan Dealer Albert Dahlin Phone 284

... And Speaking of Telephone Bills ...

Don't forget that not all of your monthly remittance is retained by the telephone company. A portion of your total bill, as you know, goes to the federal government in the form of excise taxes.

The tax on local exchange service and on all toll messages under 25 cents is 15 percent. On toll messages of 25 cents and over, the tax is 25 percent. For example: If your local bill for monthly service is $3.45, forty-five cents of that amount is tax. We merely collect the tax and pass it on to the government.

Taxes represent a substantial portion of all telephone bills. It is hoped that the excise on telephone service will soon be reduced or abolished.

How Chanticleers' Opposition Fared

Albion ran into some pretty tough competition against Schuyler last week, but managed to pull the game out of the fire by a score of 20 to 13. Details are not available, but it looks like one of those contests where just a little help from Lady Luck would swing the game to either of the contenders.

Lexington, defeated by Ord, ran into plenty of trouble with Cozad. The Haymakers are riding high this season, and getting a chance to register against the Minute Men, evidently decided to pour it on. The final score was Cozad 51, Lexington 0. Lexington, you may recall, was on top of the heap last year.

Loup City and Ravenna played in a game that did not look too bad for the Blue Jays, who showed up as well against the Red Raiders as they did against Ord the week before. Score was 20-14.

Broken Bow took a rather easy one from Valentine 33 to 13, in a game in which Meston fattened his scoring average by making three touchdowns. Four of the Broken Bow scores were made in the first half and the other early in the third quarter. Valentine's Keith Kreycek made both of his team's counters after all the Broken Bow stonking was over.

Western Supply Is Still Big in Omaha

Despite lateness of the season, Western supply ran heavy at the Omaha market again Monday. Of 27,300 cattle and calves, biggest bovine run in the nation, 75% were Westerns. A 9,000 sheep run was virtually all Western. At the same time there were 14,400 hogs on sale, biggest porker run since last June. Altogether, there were over 50,000 head of livestock on sale at Omaha Monday—biggest run in the country by a 15,000 head margin. Fat cattle trade proved slow and extremely uneven, sales ranging all the way from steady with last week's 50c-$1.50 upturn to $1.00 lower. Steers sold to $39.00 and $39.50, heifers to $34.00. Cows sold steady to 50c lower, $14.00-$22.50. Bulls were 50c off, top $23.50; vealers sold to $27.00. Stockers and feeders were largely steady, some choice yearlings and calves 25c or more up. Yearling stock steers were mostly $25.00-$28.00; feeder steers $23.00-$27.50, one drove $20.00; stock and feeding heifers $21.00-$24.50; steer calves $26.00-$32.50, one drove $31.25, odd head to $33.00. Heifer calves, sold at $22.00-$26.50, a few to $30.00. Butcher hogs were 50-75c lower, mostly $24.00, $24.25, and sows 50c-$1.00 off at $21.50-$23.00. Early sales of fat lambs at $25.75 were 50c off, but some were held at $26.00-$26.25. Slaughter ewes were 25-30c off, $3.00-$3.75. Feedlot $23.75; like ewes, breeding ewes at $9.00-$10.00.

Among recent sales: Tom Wake Garfield county, 36 feeder steers, wt. 780, $27; 36 stock heifers, wt. 610, $23; 42 stock steers, wt. 630, $27.25. Valley county sales: Alphonse Schwers, 5 steers, wt. 1192, $35.50; 11 steers and heifers, wt. 992, $33.50. Geweke and Rikhl, 23 steers, wt. 1093, $32; W. A. Rogers and son, 22 steers, wt. 1220, $32; E. J. Lange, 20 steers, wt. 1217, $29.25; R. C. Plate and son, 31 heifers, wt. 791, $28.50; Rudolph Plate and son, 35 heifers, wt. 910, $29.25; W. W. From the Gering Courier we learn that an old gentleman was standing at the curb in Gering, partly blind, asking the Burwell Mickey to help him across. On the way across the street he said: "You know, when a man gets to be 80 he's not much good. . . . The he added, "How old are you, son?" to which Dad Mickey replied, "Oh, I'm only 91, but going strong."

Claude Parker, 18, of Lexington, while hunting on the river with two other young fellows met with a hunting accident that cost him his left leg. One of the guns was accidentally discharged and the full charge hit Parker in the knee. He was taken to Lincoln, where it was decided amputation was necessary.

One of the saddest sport stories of the present football season is that of St. Paul, which has not played a game since the Burwell game. Dick Bahensky threw a pass to Bill Ziomke, who caught it in the end zone. However, the whistle had blown and the play was called back. Result, no score to date.

Scored, 95 years old and a former sheriff of Clay county, passed away at his home in Lincoln, and the body was returned to Clay Center for burial. In his youth Secord was a noted Indian fighter and buffalo hunter.

There were no less than six people contested for the office of county assessor, five men and one woman. As might be expected the woman, Mrs. Ethel Brookneat Thomas, was the winner.

From the Taylor Clarion: "Loup County High school's gridiron star of 1963 just arrived Nov. 1, to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Emerton. He will answer to the name of Thomas Alan and will play the position of fullback, having weighed in at 9 pounds, 12 ounces."

C. E. Thompson of the Wolbach Messenger: "No, I am not a democrat, neither am I a republican. I can't help but pull for the under dog and give him credit when he comes through. What is my politics? In a masthead that runs in the paper every week are the words: 'An Independent Newspaper.' Independent is everything — neutral is nothing."

The Albion Chamber of Commerce is advertising an irrigation meeting Nov. 29. The meeting will provide anybody interested in irrigation an excellent opportunity to find out all that is known about the Lovett dam.

Guy Nicholas reports to the Palmer Journal that he harvested 73 ripe squash from one volunteer squash vine that started late in his potato patch. There were also quite a number that failed to ripen.

Most people who played against him will agree that Bill Mansur of Nehavika is about right in naming Irving Thode of Loup City as one of the state's outstanding athletes. For his other achievements men he selects Bobby Reynolds of Grand Island, Bobby Decker of Omaha Holy Name and Ted Conner of Hastings.

Burt F. Kimball of Westerville suffered a fracture of his right leg just below the hip when a cow he was milking knocked him over. He is recovering in a Broken Bow hospital.

The City of Blair is considering zoning for building control. A zoning law was considered before but laid aside, and now it seems that a law will have to be passed to prevent unsatisfactory building conditions.

From the Blair paper: "The Pilot Tribune editor requests that all subscribers look up the previous week's paper and cut out the following heading in column 7 and throw it away: DEWEY A SURE WINNER." The editor hid in the newspaper basement all yesterday behind a stack of news print, emerged late last night to say that he had meant to say Truman, but that his typewriter wasn't working very well."

Contribute to Good Will Train

This week is canvass week for the Good Will Train. Canvassers will be to see you. It is hoped to give every person in Valley county the opportunity to give to one of the most needed of charities of this present day.

There is a great need to keep the European peoples above the subsistence level and save them from tuberculosis and save them from Communism. Give large and freely out of the great abundance of this year.

Being a corn county, let us make a bushel of corn the unit of value and give in corn or its equivalent in money, 1-5-10-15 or 25 bushels of corn.

If you deliver the corn, bring it to Noll's elevator in Ord. Tell the solicitor how much you will deliver, but receive your receipt from the elevator. If you give money, give it to the solicitor, and receive from him a receipt, also designate whether you want it to go through the distributing agency of the Catholic, Lutheran, or World Service which distributes for all other churches. All ministers to the most needy of which ever creed or religion. Let us work for a car of corn, which will be dedicated before it leaves for the east.

Alfred Burson brought his elevator to unload the corn. Mechanical pickers were furnished by Emil and Lew Smolik, Joe Bonne, Alfons Bonne, Bill Schauer, Glen Cochran, Ralph and Harry Burson.

Ladies of the neighborhood furnished the dinner and twelve ladies served it, including, Mrs. Bill Schauer, Mrs. Ralph Burson, Mrs. Albert Peterson, Mrs. Dan Cook, Mrs. Anton Kluna, Mrs. Willard Conner, Mrs. Joe John, Mrs. F. How the Other Half is Living

From the Gering Courier we learn that an old gentleman was standing at the curb in Gering, partly blind, asking the Burwell Mickey to help him across. On the way across the street he said: "You know, when a man gets to be 80 he's not much good. . . . The he added, "How old are you, son?" to which Dad Mickey replied, "Oh, I'm only 91, but going strong."

Claude Parker, 18, of Lexington, while hunting on the river with two other young fellows met with a hunting accident that cost him his left leg. One of the guns was accidentally discharged and the full charge hit Parker in the knee. He was taken to Lincoln, where it was decided amputation was necessary.

One of the saddest sport stories of the present football season is that of St. Paul, which has not played a game since the Burwell game. Dick Bahensky threw a pass to Bill Ziomke, who caught it in the end zone. However, the whistle had blown and the play was called back. Result, no score to date.

Scored, 95 years old and a former sheriff of Clay county, passed away at his home in Lincoln, and the body was returned to Clay Center for burial. In his youth Secord was a noted Indian fighter and buffalo hunter.

There were no less than six people contested for the office of county assessor, five men and one woman. As might be expected the woman, Mrs. Ethel Brookneat Thomas, was the winner.

From the Taylor Clarion: "Loup County High school's gridiron star of 1963 just arrived Nov. 1, to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Emerton. He will answer to the name of Thomas Alan and will play the position of fullback, having weighed in at 9 pounds, 12 ounces."

C. E. Thompson of the Wolbach Messenger: "No, I am not a democrat, neither am I a republican. I can't help but pull for the under dog and give him credit when he comes through. What is my politics? In a masthead that runs in the paper every week are the words: 'An Independent Newspaper.' Independent is everything — neutral is nothing."

The Albion Chamber of Commerce is advertising an irrigation meeting Nov. 29. The meeting will provide anybody interested in irrigation an excellent opportunity to find out all that is known about the Lovett dam.

Guy Nicholas reports to the Palmer Journal that he harvested 73 ripe squash from one volunteer squash vine that started late in his potato patch. There were also quite a number that failed to ripen.

Most people who played against him will agree that Bill Mansur of Nehavika is about right in naming Irving Thode of Loup City as one of the state's outstanding athletes. For his other achievements men he selects Bobby Reynolds of Grand Island, Bobby Decker of Omaha Holy Name and Ted Conner of Hastings.

Burt F. Kimball of Westerville suffered a fracture of his right leg just below the hip when a cow he was milking knocked him over. He is recovering in a Broken Bow hospital.

The City of Blair is considering zoning for building control. A zoning law was considered before but laid aside, and now it seems that a law will have to be passed to prevent unsatisfactory building conditions.

From the Blair paper: "The Pilot Tribune editor requests that all subscribers look up the previous week's paper and cut out the following heading in column 7 and throw it away: DEWEY A SURE WINNER." The editor hid in the newspaper basement all yesterday behind a stack of news print, emerged late last night to say that he had meant to say Truman, but that his typewriter wasn't working very well."

C. B. Langley, who started as mail clerk on the Columbus-Spalding branch in 1912 and continued there until the mail clerk service on the line was discontinued a few years ago, will retire from the service, effective Nov. 30.

The Scotia Community club members have voted to obtain some vacant lots to be flooded for use as a skating rink by the young people this winter. Paul Robertson of North Loup bought the Mike Shonka house at the north edge of Scotia at the sale last week. A. W. Peterson of Scotia bought the 80 acres of land.

No. Loup Record Among The Best

The North Loup Challengers have completed their regular schedule in six-man football, and in so doing have compiled a record that will be something for six-man squads in this area to shoot at for a long time to come. There were nine games in the schedule. Of these all but two were played on the North Loup Pop Corn Bowl field.

Of the nine games played, five were called before full time, because the Challengers got so far ahead that further effort was unnecessary. One of these was called at the half with the score 51 to 0 in favor of North Loup. One of the others was called at the end of the third quarter and the other three shortly after the fourth quarter started.

North Loup BUS CHARTERED TO PAXTON THURSDAY

Fred Leonard of Grand Island was in North Loup Tuesday and painted the new door recently hung in the post office. Mr. Leonard owns the post office building.

The Nolo club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ava Johnson. The lesson had been prepared by Mrs. Florence Hutchins and was given by Mrs. Grace Mayo because Mrs. Hutchins was ill. It was a foods lesson, entitled "We Are What We Eat". Roll call was answered with an old fashioned recipe on the effects of various foods.

The junior class of North Loup high school presented their play, "The Laughing Ghost," Tuesday evening at the community hall. The play which was a comedy-mystery in three acts, was very well given, and was full of laughs from beginning to end.

Scoring Was High

The scores of the games follow: North Loup, 61, Pleasanton 0; North Loup, 51, Danvers 0; North Loup, 63, Spalding, 0; North Loup, 33, Wood River, 6; North Loup, 33, Wolbach, 12; North Loup, 6, Doniphan, 8; North Loup, 58, Rising City, 12; North Loup, 51, Cedar Rapids, 0; North Loup, 53, Palmer, 0.

This makes a total of 418 points for North Loup to 33 for all opponents. The North Loup average per game is a little over 46 points, or almost a point a minute through the whole season. In fact, figuring out the time not played in the five short games, the team ran better than a point per minute.

Grains

This week grains have shown quite a little strength and it would seem that it is a very good time to move any grain that you will want to sell before the first of the year. Ord grain markets are always high and if you have grain to sell you can get the very most out of it by selling in Ord. We would appreciate it very much if you would give us a chance to bid on any grain that you want to sell. We have some very good quality oats and barley if you are buying feeding grain. Our prices are reasonable.

Proteins

This week has seen further advances in protein feeds. We will have a car of Soy Bean Meal and pellets on track in about ten days and the price off the car is attractive. We expect a carload of Cotton Cake early in Dec. and will have several truckloads of Lincoy and other proteins in the next few weeks. Book your proteins now and take delivery when cars or trucks arrive.

Poultry and Hog Feeds

This week we have reduced the prices on many of our mixed feeds; as winter comes on and grain and protein feeds advance we can look for poultry and hog feeds to advance also. We believe that it would be wise to buy both poultry and hog feed by the ton and have a stock of feed to take care of your needs for a couple of months. Ask for prices on ton lots delivered your farm.

Hybrid Corn

We realize that many of you have bought your hybrid seed from the salesman out selling Hybrid Corn; but we believe that you are missing something in good hybrid if you don't buy a few bushels of Standard and Cornhusker Hybrid Corn from us. We have most of the good numbers available in nearly every kernel size, so we believe that we can suit you.

Minerals

We carry a large stock of Cudahy Minerals. We have it both in block form and in powder form. It is a very difficult thing to find another mineral that will do as good a job for you as Cudahy Mineral. We also have Marblehead Mineral and Nixon's Range Mineral.

Congratulations to the Ord Methodist Church on their Seventieth Anniversary.

In the oven... in a jiffy! Getting a turkey ready to roast used to be more trouble than getting Junior ready for school. It used to be, we mean. Now, using the oven-ready kind of turkey you'll find at Safeway, the job's a cinch.

These turkeys are really clean! Hardly a pin-feather to pick. No singeing to do. No cleaning left to do inside—the turkey is completely ready for stuffing.

The birds are selected from finest flocks—fed to produce tender, sweet meat. In plants as spotless as your own kitchen they are cleaned and dressed under careful supervision. After each bird is drawn, it is thoroughly washed inside and out with a high-pressure stream of water. Nothing is left in or on the turkey to mar the fresh, sweet flavor of the meat. Quick-freezing seals in the natural goodness—keeps it in. An individual package protects your turkey from the plant to your home.

Armistice Day—1948.

I had known Slim only about six months but those six months were a thousand years long. He was my friend. We marched together, laughed together, talked together—about home and girls and after the war. Together we sweated, inhaled dust, ducked bullets; cursed the Japs, the generals, the second lieutenants, the world and ourselves.

I can remember he used to tell about the way his mother made spaghetti and meat balls with a special sauce about Mary, how he knew he loved her, and of all the plans they had made. Or maybe the talk was about Skip, his little mongrel dog. Sometimes it was about the lake eleven miles from his home where he and his dad went fishing.

Slim laughed and joked a lot. I can see his eyes now. When he laughed, they lit up from the inside. Even at night they made a fellow think of a bright summer day.

Slim is dead now. Why? Plot six, row two, grave fourteen, Manila Cemetery No. 2. That's Slim now. But why? Why?

Slim will never again eat spaghetti and meat balls with that special sauce. He will never again see Mary or play with Skip or go fishing with his dad. Slim was just a good-natured kid from a farm in the Midwest who was looking forward to going home. He'll never go home now. And I keep wondering—Why?

I remember he used to say to me: "Freedom's a great thing, Mac. If you haven't got that, then nothing else in this world is worth much. But freedom isn't just something that some people have and others don't have. It's a lot more than that. You have to work to get it and work to keep it. You have to be willing to fight for it—even die, so that other people can have its benefits. If a man isn't willing to fight and die for freedom, then he isn't worthy of having freedom."

I suppose that is why Slim is dead. Because men think so little of the greatest possession—freedom, they let it get away from them, and good guys like Slim have to die to get it back.

I don't believe there are any words to describe the beauty of the scene at the Nebraska-Kansas game Saturday when the massed bands of 41 high schools and two universities were grouped on the field. How I wish I could do it justice. I'll try.

Every band was colorfully dressed. One town would have sparkly green and gold uniforms. Another band would be in black with bright orange touches, another in purple with gold plumes and braid. Many versions of red and white uniforms were present: I preferred the appearance of the Ord band which was NEAT.

—ooo—

There were bands in blue, and a group in dark green and white were tidy-looking. Most of them marched well, and some of them marched almost perfectly. Everyone was on his best behavior.

So here were all those bands, forming a monstrous "M" that took up the entire field. They assembled neatly and quickly. The music played was excellent in quality in almost every cause. The twirlers twirled, and the drum majors each did their idea of stepping and strutting.

The sun sparkled the whole scene, glinting from instruments and gold braid, and sharpening every color. The grass was very green (do they use Vigoro?) and the sky was a wonderful blue with not too many fast traveling clouds.

It was as if the big field was covered with jewels.

—ooo—

And they played beautifully. Nothing spoiled that moment when all the stadium was hushed in tribute to the boys who went from the university of Nebraska into the recent war. The boys and girls of Tassels, Nebraska's pep group, held the huge flag with its thick sprinkles of stars so that all could see the big rectangle of red, white and blue.

(That reminds me, one band had uniforms of red, white and blue... was it Crete?)

In the big silence three volleys were fired in salute to those boys who had marched away to war. It was impressive. It was lovely. And I thought "Beautiful, but what a darn poor substitute this tribute is—for the wonderful gift of life. Those boys would love being here too. They would enjoy this sun, this blue sky, this too-green grass.

"They would love this fine music, and seeing these 3,500 boys and girls march so handsomely. They'd like to see Nebraska play Kansas and win.

"We take all this away from them."

"And we give them our so-brief passing thought, sincere but so short."

—ooo—

Little Nancy Fauss was worried about the election. And tangled up, too.

"She was telling friends, 'Well, it would be nice if Mr. Rameakers would beat Mr. Truman for president. 'But I feel sorry for Mrs. Rameakers and Agnes if Mr. Rameakers has to go away and move into the White House!'"

—Irma.

North Loup-Doniphan game probably was the determining factor in North Loup's defeat. The Moose played most of the game, but did not know what it was all about. After seeing the result of the Doniphan-Cedar Rapids game last week, it looks as though North Loup is still the best in the A division of six-man football. The Cedar Rapids game with Doniphan went full time with Doniphan winning 12 to 0. When North Loup played Cedar Rapids the visitors quit after two minutes of the fourth quarter with the score 54 to 0 in favor of North Loup. But, as I said before, comparative scores do not mean anything.

The boys are not finding it too easy to get their daily bag limit of three cock pheasants. Perhaps a few did right at the start, but many have stated that they were lucky to get any, what with so much cover for the birds to hide in and the fact that they are wild enough to get up out of gun range. The lowering of the bag limit was a wise move, no doubt, but hardly necessary in many cases. Floyd Wetzel thinks that the game commission is making a mistake in permitting the killing of male birds only. He says the birds prefer to mate in pairs, and that the shortage of males results in more infertile eggs and smaller flocks of young birds. He believes, as do some others, that the three bird limit is all right, but that one of them could be a hen.

Remember when the football season started later than it does now, and the big event of the year was the annual Turkey Day game? I do not know who is responsible for the change, but he should be commended. Now the season ends about Armistice day for high schools, fully two weeks ahead of the old system. The result is that the games are over before any real bad weather comes. There are very few football games played in the snow these days. Those games were tough to watch and a lot tougher to play. I recall two games that were played in a foot of snow, one at Arcadia against Burwell, and the other at Burwell, and I believe against Arcadia. It takes a lot of patriotism to attend a game, pay fifty cents to stand in the snow and watch a couple of teams giving an imitation of a snow plow up and down the field.

Walking is a wonderful way to see the country. Except for the time it takes, it is the most profitable way a student of nature can travel. Recently I have not been riding with the mail man. Instead, I get up early in the morning and start up the highway just as day begins to break. I could walk all the way, but that takes too much time. Instead, I have been catching rides with a lot of people, interesting people, if you please. Among them are Floyd Redon, Paul White, Hugh Clement, Bill Skala and Clem Meyers, Jr.

I started walking some time ago and I have seen the birds flocking up for the big trek to the southland, which is one of the most interesting events of the year. I have seen the pheasants, before the open season afraid of nothing, but almost invisible since the fusillade started on the fields, once bulging with the corn crop, and have noted how empty they look after the picker has done its duty.

There is adventure in every step one takes along the highway, if you have your soul tuned to adventure. You hear a car or truck coming, and you at once wonder who it is, and whether he will offer you a ride. The chances are he will, but you never know. The morning after election I walked a mile, rode three miles, walked a mile, rode two miles, and started walking again. Then no less than six autos and trucks passed me up and I walked nearly to Ord before the next ride showed up.

Yes, it is too bad that walking is a forgotten art with so many people, especially the younger generation. That is one of the things we have to pay in this modern age. Nobody even thinks of walking anywhere except a few of us old fossils and the Boy Scouts. Since they never take the trouble to find out, millions of people do not know what they are missing. To make matters worse, the coming generation will not be on the ground at all except before and after their trips. They will be up in the air.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

This week the editorial department was put on a higher plane. The news, advertising and general management offices were moved upstairs. In a way, it makes us feel above the rest of the gang. In other words, we are now aloof. Perhaps Alice and I will get used to having an office all of our own and not just a back like we used to have, a sort of thoroughfare between the other two offices. Here there should be very little to disturb us. In time visitors will get used to finding Ed to the right and Gene to the left at the head of the stairs, and the news office stairs after that.

One thing is going to be fine. Whenever we want to use the phone, either local or long distance, there will be a chance to hear what is being said much better than down on the ground floor, where the noise of all the presses and other machines keeps drifting in. About the luckiest thing that happened during the changeover was the fall that Harold Hallen had in one of the closets upstairs while he was fiddling with the wiring. He was standing on a shelf six feet high when it came down and he fell to the floor. He hit his stepladder so hard he broke it, but didn't hurt himself.

What impresses me most is the fact that these changes have been made every so often to allow for growth of the Quiz Industries. The plant has enjoyed a steady growth through the years, including the period of war, when many other newspapers found it necessary to retrench. The Quiz itself was handicapped by shortage of print paper and a lot of other situations due to the war, but the photoengraving business was as important as ever, and the custom printing kept up a growth all the time. In fact, if the Quiz Industries had been equipped to handle some of the jobs offered, they would be much larger than they are today.

Any business in a town the size of Ord which has 38 men and women at work all the time must be quite a business. I have been hanging around off and on, ever since the war ended, and I still can't call all the Quiz employees by name. Ten years ago there were eleven employees on the Quiz, and, as I recall it, there seemed to be quite a crowd of us even then. If the same rate of increase keeps up, in ten years, at which time I probably will have to retire, there should be about one hundred.

The writer is not inclined to pay too much attention to comparative scores in athletic contests. Too many elements enter into the scoring and effect the results. For example the fact that Moose Leonard was practically knocked out at the start of the

There Is No Substitute For QUALITY

You have heard the saying "There is not a thing which someone cannot make a little worse and a little cheaper. . ."

We doubt if the poet, Ruskin, had meats in mind when he wrote his oft quoted statement, but his statement still holds true.

There are quality meats and there are ordinary meats. It's easy to sell the latter—easy to get them. Maintaining a standard of quality such as we have since this market was founded has taken search, careful buying and selection.

Yet, we have been able to sell quality meats at no more than just ordinary meats—especially when you consider that quality meats make a meal go further. If it is quality you want—you are invited to become a steady customer of

Thirty years ago today the "Cease Fire" command ended World War I. And on that day we honored those who had fallen in the service of our country. Today, added to that honor roll are those who gave their lives in the second great world conflict. It is not enough this Armistice Day to honor the brave dead of two wars by bowing our heads in prayer. Only by each of us working assiduously to prevent another war—working to build an everlasting Peace—can we pay them deserving tribute.

Congratulations to the Ord Methodist Church on their 70th Anniversary.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Answers Mr. Myers.
North Loup, Nebr.
Nov. 4, 1948

To the Editor of the Quiz:
In answer to the letter published in last weeks Quiz, written by Nimble Brain Myers, as he has labeled himself, I've just a few of my feelings I'd like to express.

As far as good clean fun goes, I think the younger generation knows as much about it as one of our business men of North Loup. Why the names of the vicious vandals were not printed I can't understand. It's pretty plain just where his finger was pointed.

I'm not trying to say that it's right to destroy property, but when someone spends the whole evening threatening young people before any of their property had even been molested, there is bound to be some trouble, because it is the same as daring them to touch their property. Any clear thinking person so Nimble Brained as OUR Mr. Myers should know that. He also brings up the cursing of our elders, is it any different for us to curse our elders than for our elders to curse us. Is it right for a man in business as is Mr. Myers, to call a young fellow who boy a "Worthless Bastard?" Can he prove so?

I'll not say I didn't destroy property because I helped dump over "privies," but I'll bet if we could see what Nimble Brain did when he was young, we'd find he did some of the very same things as were done last Sunday night.

Even girls went out and dumped toilets, he says. If his young daughter coming up never does anything any more disgraceful than dumping a toilet, she will sprout her wings soon, let's watch shall we?

It seems to me, if people would bring up their own children instead of finding fault with others they'd get along much better in life.

Talking of disgracing the town, wasn't the writing of a letter about the town in which a man has established business by which somebody some of these vicious vandals will be the business men, a disgrace, putting something so ignorant in front of the public's eyes.

Was threatening to fight as bad as threatening to shoot someone if they set foot on their property?

We want to call your special attention to what is called the McClellan place 480 acres. Everyone around here knows what a wonderful place it is and it adjoins town, has irrigation land plenty of fine pasture, feed lots, a real water system, barns, sheds, a modern home that is complete in every way. This is easy a $20,000 set of improvements and is priced where it will sell.

Some real good one-half sections and some one-quarter sections with good improvements and terms.

Some of the best of homes, and some with a few acres with them. Come and have a look.

North Loup, Nebr.

I believe that if Mr. Nimble Myers had stayed home, he would have not had to ruin a $50.00 suit in which he went out to set up his "air-conditioned out house." Carrying away something isn't going to hurt, and an old pile of iron usually doesn't go so far that it can't be found.

Doesn't that old building and old cars, iron and what not disgrace our town, what do our visitors think when they come up main street and see a junk yard? I believe in good clean fun without the destruction part, but I also believe in honesty and trying to get along in this world and not trying to find other peoples mistakes. I know I'm not perfect and I am quite sure that Nimble Brain isn't either.

VALLEY COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICTS

The above map shows the location of all the school districts of Valley county, and is placed here for reference in connection with the story of the districts.

Redistricting Faces Many Valley County School Districts

In the early days school districts were formed out of necessity and for definite reasons, many of which no longer exist. When a new family or group of families moved into a community where nobody had lived before, the necessity of a school developed, and a district was formed to meet conditions as they were at the time. It would have been difficult, practically impossible, to provide for the exigencies of the future. Nobody knew who would come next, or where they might locate. At first it was thought that nobody would live in the hilly country, but in time people located there, and new districts had to be formed.

It was found, as was shown in last week's Quiz, that there were plenty of children, in pioneer days, for all the schools that then existed. Because of the lack of roads and bad weather conditions in winter, nobody wanted their children to have to walk any great distance, and the usual district was about two miles square. Some of those formed later took in more area, but some of the land was pasture on which nobody lived.

In the main, all the earlier districts were located in the valleys, first in the North Loup valley; second, southwest of North Loup; third, the Middle Loup valley; fourth, Mira valley (the sand flats area); sixth, Furtle Creek; and seventh, Furtle creek. All the early schools can be classified in this area except two to the North of Arcadia.

In 1881, when there were 40 schools, each school had plenty of students to make it pay out. Plenty of children meant there were plenty of patrons in the community who were interested in having school, and who owned enough property to pay the expenses of running the school. That condition has changed through the years, and today very few country schools have enough students to operate profitably.

Herewith is shown a map of the Valley county school districts, through the courtesy of Miss Clara McClintey, superintendent of schools. This is a fine piece of work and shows all details connected with the various schools. From County Treasurer, George Satterfield, comes a card showing the valuation of the property in the different districts, and the levy for school purposes.

With this information available, it is possible to check over the county and find out the condition of every district. Two districts in Valley county have no children of school age this year, and by a singular coincidence, they adjoin. They are districts 69 and 59, northeast of Arcadia (see map).

Now, every school district in the county, with the exception of the districts having high schools is charged a flat rate for free high school, which this year amounts to 4.30 mills. The two districts mentioned above, because they have no pupils of school age, no school tax except this 4.30 mills for high school.

This makes about 12 1/2 square miles of Valley county exempt from any country school tax, as there is no general fund levy in these districts this year. On the other hand, Dist. 16, adjoining 69 on the west and lying northwest of 59, has a general fund levy of 21.31 mills and a total levy of 25.61, one of the highest country school levies in Valley county.

This is no criticism of the people of Dist. 59 and 69, who have very little school tax to pay while the neighboring district pays the highest in the county. This comparison is made to show how conditions have changed to the point where one group pays very little tax and another in the same area pays too high.

Ten districts in Valley county have so few children of school age that they are contracting with other districts to teach their children for them. This saves them money, it is true, but it deprives those districts of the right to have any say as to how the school is run. Ordinarily this might make no difference, but it amounts to taxation without representation.

Another unfair feature of this system is that as a rule the pupils farmed out to neighboring schools have much farther to travel in getting to school than the children living right in the district. The schools sending their children to other districts are Nos. 35, 39, 58, 20, 65, 47, 60, 18, and 71.

School Dist. No. 16, with its high levy, has only 3 boys and one girl of school age, which makes its per capita cost of education almost prohibitive. But there are a few districts with school levies even higher than Dist. 16. There is Dist. 70 on the south county

Rev. Thomas Siodowski conducted the double-ring ceremony.

Given away by her father the bride wore a white slipper satin with a high neckline, long pointed sleeves at the wrist and a long circular train. A finger-tip veil fell from a crown of seeded pearls. She wore a pair of white satin shoes. Her bridal bouquet consisted of one dozen red roses centered with three white gardenias and a crystal rosary, gift of the groom. She wore a three-strand pearl necklace and pearl earrings, gift of the bride's father.

The bride carried out the old tradition of something old—a wrist watch, something new—a strand of pearls, something borrowed—a lace-trimmed linen handkerchief, which was a gift of the groom, and something blue—a ribbon in bouquet, and a penny in her shoe.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Alvin Maresh as matron-of-honor. Her gown was autumn gold and she carried a colonial bouquet of white and gold mums and wore gold flowers in her hair.

Georgia Pesek, cousin of the bride and Marie Ann Rysavy, friends of the bride wore identical styled aqua gown of taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of white and fuchsia mums and wore fuchsia flower in their hair. Matron of honor and bridesmaids wore identical styled silver slippers and carried white linen handkerchiefs, a gift from the bride.

The bridegroom chose for his attendants his brother Alvin Maresh, as best man and George Sedlacek, brother of the bride and Floyd Iwanski, friend of the groom. Ushers were Richard Karamar and Leonard Moudry.

John Golka sang "Ave Maria" during the ceremony accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Donald Edwards.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sedlacek. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake served as the table centerpiece. A wedding dance was held at the Ord Bohemian hall in the evening.

9 Ord Students to Music Clinic

Nine of the Ord High School music students will go to Omaha Thursday where they will attend the annual clinic convention of the Nebraska Music Educators Association held November 18-19-20, and will go from there in two cars.

Those going for chorus are Wilma Lange, soprano; Rosellen Voegtanz, alto; Jim Misko, Charles Munn and Richard Heuck, tenors; Paul Stoddard and Dick Tolen, basses. The chorus will consist of five hundred members.

Rogene Rogers is the only student going for band, which will consist of one hundred fifty members, and is playing the bassoon. Verlee Mulligan will go for orchestra on the oboe. The orchestra will consist of one hundred-forty members.

Guest conductors for the various groups will be Dr. Lara Hoggard, conductor of the famous Ford Waring chorus, director for the chorus, Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, famed director of the national summer music camp at Interlocken, will direct the orchestra, and Professor Alvin P. Edgar, director of band at Iowa State college, will direct the band.

Campaign to Buy Christmas Seals

Residents of Nebraska will be asked to buy 17,500,000 Christmas seals during the Christmas campaign, which gets under way officially Nov. 22. This will be the 42nd annual Seal sale and the $175,000 to be raised from the sale of Christmas seals will go a long way toward maintaining the fight against tuberculosis.

The sale will continue through the Christmas holidays. Sixty percent of the money raised stays in the county where raised to help fight TB locally. More than 51,000 Americans die from tuberculosis every year, and the more funds raised, the more can this appalling number be reduced.

Singapore Paper Received by Quiz

A copy of a newspaper called the Straits Times, published at Singapore came to the Quiz office this week. The copy dates back to Aug. 31, 1918, but it would have little news value in any case. What is of interest is the difference in editorial methods and policy between that part of the world and America.

The paper is published in British territory and has the English twist all the way through, for example, the spelling of "jewellery" is decidedly English. Of interest is an ad of "Martin's Non-Throat Cork Tipped Virginia" cigarettes, which are London-made from Tip-Top Virginia, and sell for $1.50 per tin of 50, or 30c for a packet of ten. How would local smokers like to pay those prices?

Better than half the back page is devoted to horse racing, the writer giving tips on which horse to bet.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for picking our corn, also those helping with the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stowell.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this means to publicly thank all of the girls at the Clinic hospital for all the many nice things they did for me during my ten-day stay there during my recent illness and to thank my many friends who sent me lovely gifts, cards and encouraging letters and for their friendly calls both at the hospital and during my two-weeks convalescence period in bed at home.

And especially I thank the American Legion auxiliary for the use of their hospital bed.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Cecil Clark.

Mr. Leggett will preside at a luncheon of the membership committee Thursday and has a place on the group program Saturday afternoon.

They planned to look after their business in Chicago next week, returning home Wednesday.

Striving for Even Higher Beer-Selling Standards

The privilege of selling beer carries the duty of conducting the business within the law and the rules of good conduct.

The state and not the brewing industry selects the beer retailers. The industry is as keenly interested as the state in having good, competent beer retailers.

That is why the beer industry in Nebraska cooperates with the state to insure that beer retailers know the legal requirements for clean lawful operation.

During 10 years of this program of "Self-Regulation" and cooperation by the industry, and the state, it has been proven that the Nebraska law is adequate and sufficient for satisfactory beer retailing.

The brewing industry will ever strive for high retailing standards.

Cattle, Hogs, off at Omaha Monday

It was top supply and mostly lower values on livestock again Monday at the Omaha market. Total receipts were 55,000, high for the nation, and the cattle and calf run, 25,000, was biggest for mid-November in Omaha market history. A few fat cattle Monday were steady with last week's break that generally measured $1.00-$2.50, but bulk was lower again, another 25-50c or more off. Steer top was $37.00, with steers and heifers also to $37.00 and heifers to $34.00. Most slaughter cattle, however, had to sell at $24.00-$28.50. Cows were weak to 50c off at $13.00-$21.00, a few $22.00. Bulls sold to $23.00, West-erns to $20.00, and veal calves to $28.00. Yearling stock steers, heifers and calves sold weak to 50c lower, and most feeder steers 50c and more off. There were stock and feeder steers to $28.00

Ord Loses Final Game to Curtis, by Score of 33-0

Fumbleitis Proves Costly to Chanticleers; Aggies Repeat Last Year's Win.

The Chanticleers went up against the much heralded Curtis Aggies on the Ord field Friday night, and were clearly outclassed all the way. The game was marred by numerous fumbles, several of which gave the ball to the visitors at crucial times in the game. Curtis would have won in any case, but these misplays merely increased the score, which was Curtis 32, Ord 0.

Curtis was able to make yardage all through the first half until the last few minutes. Then, with the clock running out the last seconds, Ord made three first downs in rapid succession just before the whistle blew for the half. Curtis made 14 first downs to Ord's 5, and gained 198 yards as Ord's 87. There were not a large number penalties.

Curtis ran the kickoff back to their 25, then made four first downs in a rapid succession of plays and went over for their first touchdown. They also made the point good and led 7 to 0. After the kick, Ord took over on their 27, made it a first and ten on their 37, and then punted out to the Curtis 10.

Curtis made a first down on their 24, then got off a bad punt, which gave the ball to Ord on the Curtis 44. This was the Chanticleers' first opportunity, but they were unable to take advantage of it, and punted to the Curtis 15. From there the visitors started their second drive, which wound up in a touchdown five first downs later. The point failed and the score was Curtis 13, Ord 0.

Moore returned the kick to the Ord 30, and a pass, Stoddard to Richardson, gained 13 yards. Two plays lost 17 yards, and a fumble gave the ball to Curtis on the Ord 39. Curtis made two first downs and lost the ball to Ord on downs on the Ord 17. Moore took it to the 30, and two passes, Stoddard to Richardson, were good for 21 and 17 yards, respectively, as the half ended.

Ord ran back the kickoff to the Curtis 47, fumbled and Curtis recovered. Curtis made one first and ten, drew a penalty of 15 yards and punted out of bounds on the Ord 19 yard line. On the third down Curtis intercepted a Stoddard pass and carried it to the Ord 10. From there the visitors scored on the first play to make it Curtis 19, Ord 0.

Blaha ran the kickoff back to the Ord 29. Stoddard took it to the 31, Moore fumbled on the next play and Curtis recovered on the Ord 28. Adamek stopped the first play after an eleven yard gain, Stoddard and Clement stopped two running plays and a pass into the end zone out of bounds on the Ord 28, score Curtis 26, Ord 0.

The runback of the kickoff was fumbled again and Curtis recovered on the Curtis 47. Curtis then racked up three first downs but lost the ball on the Ord 22. Failing to make necessary yardage, Ord punted to the Curtis 41. Curtis failed to gain and punted to the Ord 15. Ord punted to the 50 yard line.

A pass was intercepted by Tolen on the Ord 36. A pass, Tolen to Richardson, was good for 25 yards to the Curtis 39. Then came two passes, a fumble on the third down by Tolen, and finally a blocked punt, which gave the ball to Curtis. Curtis made a touchdown on the first play, making the score Curtis 32, Ord 0.

Dworak ran the kickoff back to the Ord 15. Moore lost 8 yards on a fumble, a pass was incomplete and again Moore fumbled as the game ended with the score Curtis 32, Ord 0.

Alliance to Play at Grand Island

No doubt a number of Valley county people will attend the East-West Big Ten game between Grand Island and Alliance at Grand Island stadium at 2 p. m. Friday. Interest in the game is shown, because Alliance is coached by a former Ord gridiron star, Allen Zikmund. The inspired Bulldogs earned the right to the play-off game by defeating Scottsbluff 25 to 13.

This gave them a tie with Scottsbluff for the western championship and were given the nod for the big game by a split vote of representatives of the five western schools. The other three schools are Kearney, McCook and North Platte. Alliance is given only an outside chance of winning, but it should be a good game to watch.

Honor Roll, First Quarter, Given of Ord High Students

Fifty-six Students Gain Place for Coveted Honor; Eighty-seven Won in '47.

The grades of students in the Ord high school and Junior high have been checked over carefully by Principal F. L. Stoddard and the list of standings is given for publication this week. County Fair Meet Coming Monday

Secretary Ed Armstrong of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, sponsors of the Valley County fair, has called a meeting of the shareholders of the organization for Monday, Nov. 22. This is the regular annual meeting scheduled to be held some time ago but at that time the farmers were too busy in the corn fields to attend. Many matters of interest and importance will be taken up at the meeting, according to Mr. Armstrong, and for this reason he would like as large an attendance as possible. He stresses the fact that this is Valley county's fair, and cannot be a success without the full cooperation of the entire county. The meeting will be at the District court room, promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Intersectional Is Won by North Loup in Fine Pass Game

Challengers Complete 16 Passes and Intercept 6; Paxton Players Helpless.

The North Loup Challengers covered themselves with glory when they won in a post-season intersectional game at Paxton Thursday, the score being, North Loup 19, Paxton 0. The game was played in a light snow storm, which dampened the field, but failed to dampen the ardor of the North Loupers who held Paxton to a single first down for the entire game.

Doped by McBride to defeat North Loup, the lads from the west were able to get exactly nowhere and never even threatened to score. North Loup had the ball the greater part of the time and were constantly moving down the field. Penalties robbed them of those touchdowns when some over eager player jumped the gun at the vital moment.

Play by play statistics of the game are not available, but the individual performances of the North Loupers is and these give the reader some idea of how superior the Challengers were. Sixteen passes were completed and six Paxton passes were intercepted.

Les "Moose" Leonard made one touchdown, caught four passes, intercepted two and made twenty tackles. Russell Kerr made one touchdown, caught four passes and made six tackles. Jerrald "Butch" Manchester made one touchdown, threw three completed passes, intercepted one and made four tackles. Holmes caught one pass.

Hawkes did his bit in handling three passes. Goodrich caught three passes, intercepted one, made a try for point and made seven tackles. "Whitey" Meyers intercepted two passes and made seven tackles. Mulligan threw eleven completed passes and caught one Babcock completed one pass. Stulman made four tackles.

The Paxton players were loud in their praises of North Loup, and stated that it was the cleanest game played against them this year. They stated that Brady rated first in the state played a very rough game. In spite of this Paxton scored 12 points against Brady, and got only one first down against North Loup.

Await Birth of First Test Tube Baby in County

J. J. Campbell, field secretary of the Valley county artificial insemination ring, is anxiously awaiting the birth of the first "test-tube" calf to be dropped in this area. Campbell told the Quiz Wednesday that "it's just a matter of days."

Gets 50 Pound Beaver Tuesday

A 50 lb. beaver, first of the season to be reported here, was trapped Tuesday by J. J. Campbell. The animal was caught on Haskell creek near the Evet Smith farm. Campbell said he estimated the pelt worth about $50.00.

How Chanticleers' Opposition Fared

The powerful Loup City team went on its winning way Friday by handing the Ansley team a 28 to 12 defeat. As the score indicates, the Red Raiders did not have an easy time of it. The score stood 14 to 12 for Loup City at the half and at the third quarter, but two more touchdowns and the extra points in the final period really put the game on ice.

Broken Bow, co-champion of the Three Loups conference, had an even easier time disposing of Ogallala on the latter's field. The Indians also scored in every quarter but the third and also acquired 28 points, while the opposition had to be content with 8, a touchdown in the first quarter and a safety near the end of the game.

Albion had little trouble in getting past Fullerton by a score of 19 to 6. This was the final game for the Albionites, and leaves them undefeated for the season. Lexington pulled several tricks out of the hat when they scored a rather unexpected victory over North Platte, 27 to 20.

Other contests outside the Chanticleers territory are of interest. Taylor managed to eke out a 7 to 0 victory over Scotia, which should leave the Loup county team near the top of the heap in Class D. Dannebrog defeated Giltner in six-man 26 to 4 to take the East Central championship. This is the team that quit at half time at North Loup, trailing by 51 to 0.

Doniphan closed their season in six-man by running all over a weak Campbell team, scoring 101 points to Campbell's 14. For some unexplained reason, the game was not called when Campbell was behind by more than 40 points, as was the case at North Loup in no less than five games. It would be interesting to know what the full time score of North Loup-Dannebrog would have been.

Many Contribute to Good Will Train

A total of 110 carloads are with-in reach in Nebraska if all counties will do their part. More than 30 states are co-operating in this im-mediate effort. Little Keya Paha county with 3,500 people is pledging $3,000 for Nebraska's train. Let every canvasser do his best, and let us all give to this most worthy of charities.

All corn should be brought in this week. If you give money, we can use it to buy grain, but let us all work for a very creditable offering from Valley county. Our car of grain should leave the county the first week of December.

Ord People to Lincoln Meeting

A meeting of state extension workers is being held in Lincoln this week. This is the annual state conference in which the work of the past year is summarized and plans for the coming year made. Miss Helzer, Valley county extension agent, went to Lincoln Sunday, as she had a meeting Tuesday.

County Agent C. C. Dale and Mrs. Dale left Tuesday for Lincoln, with Will Thurber, Garfield county agent. The regular meetings will begin Wednesday and extend through Saturday forenoon. In the afternoon Saturday they plan to attend the Nebraska-Missouri football game.

No. Loup to Hold Special Program

The Seventh Day Baptist church of North Loup is planning for the annual In-Gathering of the Lord's Acre program this coming week. Plans call for an auction of goods donated for the cause. This will be held in the Johnson Lumber Co.'s yard at North Loup on the evening of Nov. 23, at 8 p. m., and C. J. Goodrich will be the auctioneer.

A large number and variety of articles will be offered for sale at that time. Among them are four pure bred Hampshire gilts, one butcher hog, half a dressed hog, 20 bushels of potatoes, feeding corn, pop-corn, several bushels of black walnuts, canned fruit and vegetables, six dozen or more good, substantial chairs, and many other articles.

The auction will be followed by a pie social, sandwiches and coffee furnished by the committee. The social part of the program will be held in the basement of the Seventh Day Baptist church. Anyone wishing to contribute to this cause should contact H. C. Clewley or other members of the church.

Protein Feeds

With winter weather approaching we are seeing a very marked advance in the price of protein feeds. We have seen over $15.00 per ton on some of these proteins in the last six weeks. We feel that just as soon as it starts to snow that we will see much further advances in these feeds. Not only is there a heavy domestic demand for proteins but there is a very heavy export demand and we believe that this export demand will become heavier in the next couple of months. If you have not made plans for your winter protein feed we feel that you should be buying some of it before we see further advances.

Grains

Grain prices have become much stronger the past week and there is every indication that we will see strong grain prices all winter. Government buying of wheat will continue and this always causes an increase in prices and since corn is under the loan price, we can look for higher prices for corn as much of it will be placed under loans rather than sell at present prices. If interested in grain, come in and see us.

Hybrid Corn

Many of you have been putting off ordering your Hybrid Seed Corn till you were through shucking. Most of the better numbers are still available in all kernel sizes. Cornhusker and Standard Hybrids are consistently good producers and when you sell you are not disappointed in the way the corn shells out. We have both early and late numbers in both kinds as well as a medium season corn. The book-keeping of Hybrids has been much heavier the past couple of weeks and we believe that you should get your order in just as soon as possible. Some new numbers that we feel will do well here, are available this year. Try a bushel or two of these new numbers and see how they will do on your farm.

Early Missionaries Worked Among The Nebraska Territory Indians

By James C. Olson, Supt. State Historical Society

One of the most famous men in all the West during the middle half of the last century was Father Pierre Jean DeSmet, the Jesuit missionary who from 1838 to 1870 traveled about the western country in a tireless effort to lead the Indians to Christianity. He was beloved by everyone and was known all over the West as "Black Robe."

His work extended from St. Louis to the far Northwest, but he frequently was in the Nebraska country, and he was a participant in numerous significant events which helped shape Nebraska's history as well as that of the nation.

Particularly notable among those events was the great council with the Indians held at Fort Laramie in 1851. Father DeSmet attended that council and aided powerfully in bringing about a general understanding among the Indian tribes who had become restless over the great flood of emigrants pouring through their hunting grounds.

Another of Father DeSmet's outstanding achievements as a diplomat as well as a missionary among the Indians was his work in 1868 among the hostile Sioux under the leadership of Sitting Bull. Though Sitting Bull's braves had sworn to take the life of the first white man they saw, he visited their camp in the Big Horn valley paving the way for a conference with representatives of the government, and eventual peace.

Father DeSmet's first visit to the Indians was in the summer of 1838 when he journeyed up the Missouri to establish a mission among the Potawatomes, near where Council Bluffs, Iowa, now stands. While on this expedition, he frequently was in Bellevue, across the river in Nebraska.

On occasion he visited a nearby Otoe village. His description of the Nebraska Indians residing there was anything but complimentary: "They seem poor and miserable; steal when they can and get drunk when they have a chance."

Writing further, he stated: "The women whom I met presented an appearance of the utmost misery. Some were blind, others one-eyed, and all extremely filthy and disgusting to look at. They were clothed in petticoats of deer-skin, reaching to the knees, jackets, leggings and shoes of the same material, all as dirty and black as if they had been their towels for the last century."

Even though he may not approve of their habits, Father DeSmet was constant in his love for the western Indians. It is little wonder that he in turn was universally loved and respected by them and that he exerted so great an influence among them.

The Naval Ordnance Test Station, Inyokern, Calif., roughly equals the state of Rhode Island in size.

Recent surveys at the Naval training centers at San Diego, Cal., and Great Lakes, Ill., show that 98.6 percent of all Navy recruits are under 21 years of age.

These Four Little People Have Four Sets of Grandparents; What A Setup for Santa Claus When Xmas Time Comes!

A family dinner of more than usual significance was held at the Wallace Coats' home on Turtle Creek recently. It was unusual in that no less than four sets of grandparents of four young people sat down to dinner at the same table. They were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dowhower, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest S. Coats, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Timmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Coats. The first two couples are great-grandparents, and the last two grandparents.

Great-grandfather E. S. Coats was born in Dixon county in 1815 and great-grandmother Amy Coats was born in Iowa in 1877, moving to Dixon county in 1882. They were married at Wayne, Neb., in 1895 and celebrated their Golden wedding in 1915. They moved to Valley county in 1903 and lived on their Mira Valley farm in Vinton township for 40 years. They now live on an acreage one mile north of Ord.

Here Ernest claims they have about retired from everything. He admits, however, that they still keep five registered Jerseys for old times sake. Their great-grandson won first prize at the state fair in show days. Those days they had 50 head of Jerseys, the largest in the state and also held the highest record in the state for butterfat production. Mr. Coats also finds time to sell farm insurance.

Grandfather Ed N. Timmerman, native of Valley county and son of Havesa Timmerman, was born in Valley county in September, 1894. He married Grandmother Sophie Kuehl, also a native of Valley county, in 1916, and they have always lived in Springdale.

Grandfather Wallace S. Coats was born in Valley county in 1901 and was married in 1924 to Grandmother Doris Dowhower, and they are living on the old Dowhower place near Elyria, where the party was held. They are the only families remaining out of two families of farmers.

Father Robert Timmerman was born in 1923 and was married to Virginia Coats in 1943. They are the parents of the four great grandchildren, whose names are: Kenneth, age 4, Marlene, age 3; Irvie, age 1 year and 3 months and Roger, age 3 months.

Let's We Forget.

Thursday, Nov. 11, was the 30th anniversary of the day the war to end all wars ended. In that war more than fifty thousand of the best young men of our nation laid down their lives, and they did so in the hope that by that sacrifice they might prevent such sacrifices in the future. That hope ended in failure, not because of what those heroes did, but because of what the diplomats failed to do, to establish a just peace.

Not long ago World War 2 ended, with four times as many American young men making the supreme sacrifice. This time we have not been fooled by any false manifestations of peace, as we were in the first war. It might truly be said that the great war ended in wars and rumors of wars, for there has been no time since the time of World War 2 when all the world was at peace. So long as the emergency exists, the war is not over officially.

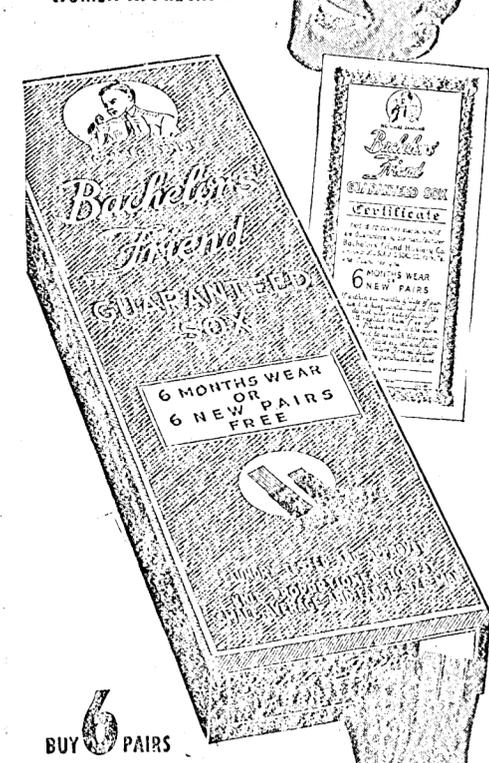

The first war ended with every manifestation of peace, but another war was inevitable. The second world war is ending with every manifestation of trouble soon, but many of our greatest men believe that world peace is possible, and in our time. Let us resolve, on this 30th anniversary of the

The Tumult And The Shouting Die

Only two weeks ago the nation went to the polls, most of the people believing that Dewey would win. That night they learned that Truman had won in one of the greatest political upsets in history. Such an event is certain to have far-reaching effects in our economy, in domestic relations and in world affairs.

Yet, with that election only two weeks old, we find the American people going about their affairs as if nothing of importance had happened. The sore spots, if there are any, have healed. Men in public life are looking to the task ahead, with the resolve to get something done. The rest of us are marching along without losing step.

Nowhere in the world except in America could such a condition of affairs exist. We have the right and privilege to decide for ourselves who shall be our servants in high places, for, after all they are there to serve us. That decision has been made by a majority vote. We of America are amazed at the result, but we are ready to abide by the decision. The tumult and the shouting die.

Rural Betterment.

During his administration as president, Theodore Roosevelt made the first real effort for improving conditions of the farms by appointing a commission for rural betterment. The work started by that commission is still going on, and we have reason to be thankful to the man who was far sighted enough to realize the need more than 40 years ago.

Perhaps the first significant rural improvement was the telephone, which was just coming into use at the time the commission was appointed. Today millions of phones are in use in the rural communities. Two other ideas for the farm were developed about the same time, the lighting system and the radio, both of which are considered necessities on thousands of farms today.

More recently the REA has come into being, and is being developed all over the United States wherever energy is available. Before many days a large number of farms in this area will know what it is to have a constant and dependable source of power. The movement started by one Roosevelt and advocated by another is making life on the farm well worth living.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

There is a third angle to the picture. Nineteen and one half centuries ago a baby was born in Bethlehem. His parents were poor. Because the housing problem was acute even then, there was no room for them in the inn, and this babe was born in a manger. The news of his arrival had been heralded in advance, but only the very few paid much attention. According to the customs of those times, no future king could be born under such humble conditions. A few believed and trembled, and the babe's life was threatened. His parents had to flee with him to the land of Egypt. Because they were so poor, this baby had little time for play, but as he grew up he learned to help his father in the carpenter shop.

When the proper time came he went about his father's business. He left his home and parents and all they must have meant to him, and began his life's work, not knowing where his life's work was coming from, and taking no thought of it. Time after time he was forced to flee from persecution. He was tempted of the devil, but prevailed. He was put on trial, condemned, humiliated and put to death by torture. But he fulfilled the destiny for which he came into the world. Today, after more than 19 centuries have passed, people bow their heads and worship him. The King of England to be and the future President of the United States will do the same.

Today we are faced with two ideologies, the democracy of the west and the communism of the east. The people of the democracies are agreed in according due honor to the King, the President and the Prince of Peace. Ironically, in the communist nations we find little or no respect for any of the three. Communism is a real threat to our way of life. But we have one thing for which we can be truly thankful, no nation has turned against God and survived for any great length of time. The Kaiser put himself ahead of God (Me Und Gott), and Hitler persecuted the Jews. We know how far they got with it. If we have the faith, we can hope for a brighter future.

Something Different

Every little town is a collection of jewels now, when viewed after dark. The sparkling and twinkling of electric lights made them something to see. And with neon signs added, in their many imaginative colors, fairland seems to spring forth as the sun goes down.

One of the loveliest sights is to fly over these scintillating cities. It is like seeing necklaces of crown jewels flashing fire. You remember about the crown jewels of England being kept in the tower of London? And the descriptions of the fabulous jewels of the court of Russia?

As wonderful, but entirely different, is the view of the clouds and the sun from high over head. And the views of the countryside — fields like bits of colored patches on an old-fashioned quilt. Really it is a marvelous view of the world, a new version entirely.

And would you believe it . . . all the above thoughts began with a glimpse of the handsome neon sign Mr. Waterbury has in front of his store in Arcadia . . . How I skitter around.

It is always a revelation to collect money for a good cause. I don't like to solicit for the Goodwill train any better than you do, or the Red Cross or any other campaign that appears worthy of support. But somebody has to do the asking, I suppose.

But the door you would like to pass by, because you feel the little old fellow shouldn't spare a dime . . . you knock and he will give you a dollar or perhaps five, and give it happily.

And the well-to-do-family . . . what do they give?

Maybe the run-around. Meaning nothing.

It is always a revelation.

Of course I know we are asked to give too many times and too often in these days. Nearly every week from November until April some cause wants money for something. Are they worth our help?

It is typically American to give, I guess. No other country has ever taken up so many reasons for helping others. I am proud of our interest in less fortunate peoples and countries on the whole.

Are you keeping your eye on Allen Zikmund? His Alliance football team is wallowing along, doing wonderfully well.

Friday evening this week the Alliance boys come to Grand Island to play. Probably to have the honor of being beaten by that crack Grand Island team, I fear.

Will we have Christmas lights in our business district this year? I hope so.

Speaking of beautiful lighting effects . . . yes, that's where you came in . . . surely nothing adds to that Christmas feeling so much as the delightfully gay sparkle of strings of lights. Or decorated trees or something notably brilliant, a lighted tableau, etc.

Remember that sleigh and reindeer thing we used to find mounted atop our courthouse each holiday season?

That, or something else along that line would be nice to use for decorations again, don't you agree? —Irma.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

Early Monday morning, every radio in the land was putting out the glad tidings that a son and heir had been born to the queen and prince consort of England. This is as the people seem to want it, so it must be all right. For some time past everybody in the world who cared to know was aware of the fact that this baby was expected. In fact, columns after columns were devoted to the health and a thousand other items of like nature. Thousands of pounds of print paper, still one of the scarce articles was used in speculation as to whether the next arrival would be a boy or a girl. Now that it is a boy, we are told that all England is celebrating, which they have a right to do.

This little fellow will not have to worry about where his next meal is coming from, he will never live or that he will wear. His every need will be anticipated, his every reasonable wish granted. He should be very happy. Possibly he will be, because he never will have the opportunity of knowing what he is missing, he will never have the chance to dress himself, to take his bath unassisted, to do anything without a whole retinue of servants to watch him all the time to see that no harm befalls him. Never in his growing days will he have to hunt for bits with for any length of time. He will receive homage from the greatest men of England and all visiting dignitaries. He will receive all this because of the accident of birth.

On the other hand, he will never know the joy of finding a foot of grass, or he will always have to wear shoes. He will never dive off the home-made spring board into the old swimming hole. He will never get to go on a hike with his bare hands, he will never get all night and help cook his own meals. Except for a chosen few, exclusive as himself, he will never even get acquainted with other boys his age. He will never taste the joys of wading through a foot of snow, or he will never be a member of a club. No plebeian games for him. He will get a chance to play cricket, and badminton, perhaps, but with a carefully chosen group. His hand will never know the feel of honest toil. He was born to better things.

That is one side of the picture. Let us have a look at the other side. Last Monday morning, or some other morning of this year, last year or next year, a male child was born in some town in some state in this nation. It might be Maine or Illinois, Dakota or Texas. It might even be in Alaska or Hawaii. Nobody but the people in that immediate area knew anything about it, and they would not make any fuss about it if they did. Nothing was said for months, or papers of the impending arrival, months ahead of time. Except for a flurry of interest among the relatives and close friends, the world knew little or cared less. He was just another of the millions of babies born every year in the United States. He was a child of destiny, but that destiny he must work out for himself in the years that are ahead.

In the days to come he will learn to crawl, to walk, to talk, under the tutelage of his mother and other members of his family. He will eat plain, but wholesome food. He will play games with the kids of the neighborhood. When the time comes he will go to kindergarten and to school. The chances are that he will be a fair student, not the best nor the worst. He probably will go in for athletics and will warm the bench in many a football game while the boys in the upper grades do the playing. In his junior year, perhaps, he will get into the game occasionally, but every time he will be pulled for a loss. He will learn the hard way, and may even make a touchdown or two in his senior year.

Then he will go to college. He may even have to work his way in order to get a higher education. He may perhaps decide to study law. After a few years he will graduate and will be taken into partnership by some older lawyer, perhaps like John Misko or Ben Rose. In time he will go into politics and will be elected to the state legislature a few times. Then he will run for governor, he will be defeated at first, but win at the second or third try. From there he will go to congress. Along about the year 2000 his constituents will decide he is the proper material for the highest office in the land. He will be the candidate of the liberal party and will be elected. Because he has earned that right, he will receive the acclaim of many of his fellow men and the censure of many others.

MEET THE Star Performer for '49!

You're invited to drive the New Hudson—the car that's nimble and rugged beyond anything you've known before!

"The modern design for '49"

Come in, try Hudson with the all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine (the most powerful American six built today) or the masterful Super-Eight. Both provide wonderfully alert power for a new type of motor car with an exclusive "step-down" design.

Millions say the New Hudson is the reigning beauty in the automobile parade—but you can't really know this great car until you drive it—and you're invited to do just that—now!

Hudson, with the new, 121 hp., high-compression Super-Six engine or the masterful Super-Eight, takes you away with new zip, and outstrips the field with staying power.

But amazingly alive engines aren't the whole story of this star performer for '49. Hudson has a new lug-the-road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway.

This all happens because—as is widely known—the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have. Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

This remarkable car has floors recessed down within a base frame (Hudson is the only car you step down into), enabling Hudson to build the lowest car on the highway, only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more than adequate head room!

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin to ride, and this gives you a grand feeling of safe well-being! This feeling is further enhanced by the ease with which this car is operated, and by the quiet with which Hudson glides along.

Come in, let us show you why Hudson's great engines and fabulous "step-down" design principle put this car so far ahead it is a protected investment in motor car value!

The many important advantages in Hudson's new "step-down" design are explained in a booklet available at the nearest Hudson dealer's.

The Ord Quiz, Dear Friends:
I am very interested in your story and picture in the Nov. 11 issue of the Ord Quiz relating to the story of the home with the 6 ft. wall to keep out weed seeds. As I am doing a lot of building, I would like to have more information and I am sure you are in position to do me the favor.
Do the walls go all around the house?
Is there a gate in the wall? Or to go in or out does a hole have to be dug under the wall or jump over.
Will more stones be added to top of wall or a few ties under it? Is the main idea to keep the neighbors in or out? or what?
—Quiz want ads are the most economical way of reaching 4,000 homes in a hurry. tr

Is it sparrow proof?
Will a roof be built over it to keep out jet planes?
Is it bomb proof?
If you can't give me the information, turn this over to Elisworth Ball and maybe he can help me. You know Elisworth and I went to school together in Joint out by the Sand Flats, in the old days, when times were tough.
In those days our favorite dish was jack rabbit soup. It took quite a lot of time to eat it as we had to spit out the sandbars.
Yes, I read the Quiz.
Enclosed stamped envelope for information.

Fire claims an average of 22 fires daily in the United States. An instructor of "personality" at New York University has recommended specially colored autos for women drivers so men would give them plenty of room on the highways and let them come home with "dentless fenders." Might be better than "fenderless dents" at that.

Bond Sales Reach October Peak
Residents of Valley county purchased $10,168.75 in U. S. Savings Bonds during the month of October, it was announced today by C. J. Mortensen, chairman for the county.
At the same time, Leland R. Hall, State Director for the U. S. Savings Bonds Division, announced that total sales in Nebraska were $7,880,610.83. Series "E" bond sales were $5,456,923.83 or approximately 70% of total sales.
"October sales showed an increase of $614,000.00 over September, and September sales an increase of almost half a million over August," Hall stated, "an indication that bond sales reached a low point for the years during the month of August and are now on the upswing."
An average person consumes about 45 tons of food during his lifetime.

Safety in Driving is Important Now
In a bulletin put out by the Nebraska State safety council, the importance of getting the electrical equipment on all cars checked is emphasized. The lights, battery and heater should be inspected and put in good condition for winter driving. The state and national accident traffic records show that the two chief causes of winter accidents are poor visibility and inadequate traction.
The three aids to good traction on winter highways are: tire chains, good brakes and good common sense. All tires should be well mated, with good treads and the brakes should be equalized to prevent uneven skidding. The driver must remember that the speed must be regulated to match unfavorable weather conditions. The driver should not delay in putting on chains when there is snow or ice on the roads.

Nebraska Is Hit by Record Storm; Travel Paralyzed

Roads Impassable Three Days. Main and Some Country Roads Now Open.

The worst early winter storm of record clamped icy fingers over the middle west last week, starting here Thursday morning. Light, moist snow, or rain changing to snow, began to fall about daylight and continued to fall all day Thursday and most of the day Friday. Driven by a wind with a maximum velocity of 40 miles per hour, drifts up to ten feet deep were piled up, making travel impossible.

The one redeeming feature of the storm was the fact that the cold temperature to be expected in such a storm did not develop. If the temperature had dropped to zero more suffering would have been caused and the loss of live-stock would have been much greater. It is considerable valuable stock has been lost, and stock exposed during the storm lost much valuable poundage.

Everything was at a standstill Friday, since nobody could get anywhere. There was no school at the high school or the grade schools Friday. Many of the country schools were closed, but there is no way of knowing definitely just which ones they were, since the phone lines are not working. Stores did very little business, as only a few customers from town were able to get to the business section, and nobody came in from the country.

What made the storm worse was the high wind, which picked up the snow on the level fields and piled it in heaps where nobody wanted it and where it would have to be moved. Some of the fields were swept almost bare, especially the plowed fields where winter wheat had been sowed. These needed moisture and got very little. Weatherman Travis reported that a total of 13 1/2 inches of snow fell and that this amounted to 1.47 inches of moisture.

It can be stated that, never before in the history of this area was there so complete a state of paralysis as during the storm, and this will continue until all normal functions are restored. It is estimated that it will take at least a week before all the country roads are opened up so the people can get to town, and business will not be as usual until that is done.

E. Lange Suffers Broken Leg When Three Cars Crash

Accident Occurs in Storm Late Thursday on Highway Mile West of North Loup.

Thursday evening three cars were involved in an accident at the Watts hill, where Neils Jorgensen lives. Roy Stine, with his panel truck and Eldon Lange collided when Stine's car skidded and turned in the road. Dell Barber came along and the snow was so bad he failed to see either car, and ran into the men who were out of their cars, trying to get straightened in the road. Eldon Lange suffered a broken leg and was taken to a Grand Island hospital later in the evening.

REA Work Stops With Snow Storm

With the coming of the storm Thursday all work on REA was halted. R. A. Reithers, superintendent of construction, said that no effort would be made to continue the work before next Monday.

Since work is ahead of schedule, it is probable that it will be completed in the allotted time. Supt. W. P. Hollards stated Monday that the local REA organization has nothing to worry about, as none of the lines have been energized. The lines are the concern of the contractor until they are completed and approved.

Swopes Camera Tells Story of Snow Storm

The five pictures on the left, products of the camera of Ed Swopes, tell only partially the extent of the storm here. In the first picture, a snow plow bogs down in a deep drift. Second, panorama of beauty at the Koupal acreage west of Ord. Third, snow plow pushing through drifted cut. Fourth, typical country road. Fifth, Ord main street, looking toward the city hall from the old Milford building.

Worst Snowstorm In Years Isolates Ord Four Days

Fear for Child Lost in Storm

Continued search for the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White, who live 16 miles north of Ord, is being carried on steadily in that neighborhood, according to unconfirmed reports reaching the Quiz.

The boy left home early Thursday morning for school and has not been seen since that time. Hazardous road conditions and a complete lack of telephone service in the area have made it impossible to search thoroughly, and some hopes are felt that the boy may have been able to make his way to a neighboring ranch house.

The boy's grandfather, Thomas Owen of Burwell, was found dead Friday in a snow-drift.

Ord Chamber of Commerce Meets, Elects Officers

Ross Allen Chosen as New President; Benda, Kroger, Misko, Lewis, Directors.

The annual meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce was held Monday evening at the Knights of Columbus hall, with forty present. Other meetings, including a council meeting, kept a number from attending. The meeting was called for 9 p. m. to avoid a conflict with an earlier Agricultural society meeting that failed to materialize.

President Bruce Covey called for a report of the nominating committee, Ed Armstrong, Jay Brown and Bill Goff. Armstrong reported that they had been instructed to find some one who would agree to act elected and that they had not met with much success, so the matter of nominations was referred to the meeting.

When nominations for president were called for Ross Allen was nominated and made a speech, objecting, but not too strenuously, to taking the job. He was voted in unanimously, and took the chair for the rest of the evening. For vice-president Bill Stern and Ed Armstrong were nominated, Stern winning by a vote of 14 to 10.

Stern was thus dropped from the board. Covey, as ex-president becomes a board member for one year. This left four directors to be elected, three for the long term and one for the short term. Art Kroger, Henry Benda, Dean Misko were elected for the regular terms and Keith Lewis for the short term. In a speech of acceptance, Mr. Allen stated that every member must "put his shoulder to the wheel" to insure success.

A financial report was read by the secretary, showing that there would be a balance of slightly more than one thousand dollars on hand at the end of the year. C. J. Mortensen and Clark Weckbach were appointed as auditors. It was announced that prizes would again be offered for the best home lighting, except that the prizes this year are larger, $20, $15, and $10.

Secretary Doe had looked into the proposition of, again placing the reindeer and Santa Claus on top of the court house, and was having them made ready to erect. There was considerable talk about having Christmas lights from the top of the court house, but it was stated that the city has a smaller crew and more work. The club may take over the work of putting up the lights if arrangements can be made.

Ord High Students Stranded in Storm

The storm played havoc with Ord high school since many students stay at their homes in the country and drive to and from school. Some of these managed to get home Thursday evening but were not able to get back Friday morning. Others were trapped in Ord and were unable to get home. The latter could at least attend classes, but had no way of notifying their parents as to where they were or what had happened to them.

Perhaps the most exciting experience was that of Dean Sperling who started for home Thursday after school and got his car stranded in the big drifts on the hill west of the Chris Kirby place. A picture of these drifts is shown elsewhere. He had to abandon the car and the storm filled it with snow. Business is about as usual at Ord high school this, Wednesday, morning.

Telegraph, Phone and Light Service Cut Off by Storm

No Mail to Ord in More Than Four Days. Telegraph Lines Cut; City Virtually Isolated.

Ord was an isolated community last week end with the mail, train service, auto traffic, phones and telegraph severed by the storm. With the exception of town service, the snow storm practically put all telephones out of use. A few farmers were able to call in over the country lines, but found it difficult to understand because of the grounded condition of the lines. Due to poles breaking off and breaking of wires.

L. F. Peterson of the Ord Continental exchange stated Monday that the toll line went out Thursday afternoon, both down the line and toward Burwell. Toll lines to St. Paul was restored sometime Tuesday, by a crew from St. Paul.

Some of the main lines over the state were open, Peterson said, but this storm was more widespread than any in recent years and thousands of dollars of damage done. One unusual feature of the storm was the fact that some heavy cross-rod cable poles in Ord were broken off. This is something that practically never happens, according to Peterson.

One of the difficulties of repairing the line between Ord and North Loup is the fact that the line of poles does not follow the highway much of the distance, but are set along fence lines and the repair crew will have to do a lot of walking. The same is true in the direction of Burwell. It will take several days to restore service there, as many poles are down.

No Mail Till Monday. Bob Hoppes, who carries all the mail on the Grand Island to Burwell route, came up through the storm Thursday morning. He drove out into the country during the day, and was unable to get back to town in time to make the trip to Grand Island that night. He was snowed in at Burwell, and did not get out of town until Sunday, when he got as far as North Loup.

There he found that the highway was not open further down. Postmaster Frank Johnson gave him what local mail he had for Ord and Burwell and he returned to Burwell and made the trip to Grand Island Monday noon, returning with the mail in early evening. Postmaster Alfred L. Hill stated that this is the longest time Ord has been without mail service since he has been postmaster. He believes that on one occasion there was a delay of one day in the mails, but this time it was well over four days. Old timers believe that this is the longest period without mail since the trains began running into Ord.

Electric Service Hurt. The light system was another public service organization which was hard hit by the storm. Light trouble began to develop late Thursday, and for a time on Friday much of the city of Ord was without service. The light plant crew of men worked all through the storm trying to maintain service, and by Monday service in Ord had been restored.

For some unknown reason the service in North Loup went out at the same time. The light plant crew of men worked all through the storm. An interruption of more than an hour came Saturday afternoon, but it understood that the current was cut off then to enable the crew to make needed repairs. Burwell, had about the same experience as Ord.

For a part of the storm there was no telegraph service out of Ord when a hot wire of the city lines broke near the light plant and fell across telegraph wires. Service to Burwell went out early Thursday, according to W. V. White, station agent of the Burlington.

Trains Stalled. That same evening the wires were burned off and there was no service on the Burlington until Monday. The last train on the Burlington came up Friday, but was snow bound in Burwell, and probably will have to wait for the snowplow to clear the drifts, especially in the hills to the east of Sumner. Mr. White is the new Burlington agent, who came here Oct. 10 to relieve Mr. Zimmerman, who is attending school.

The Union Pacific was out from the time the wires were burned off Thursday evening until the line was spliced and service restored about noon Saturday. G. W. Finley, station agent, stated that in the last train came up Thursday, but that the Saturday train was cancelled because of the storm. The last merchandise truck also came up Thursday, but another was looked for Monday.

Burwell Man Dies in Drift

Thomas Owen, 65, long time Burwell resident, was found halfway buried in a snowdrift about 11:30 Friday morning, dead from suffocation or heart failure.

According to county coroner Win. Manassil and Dr. Roy Craun of Burwell who were called, Owen had been dead about two hours at the time his body was discovered in the alley at the rear of the Burwell Appliance Store. His head was under 18 inches of snow. Mr. Owen had been in the habit of using the alley as a short cut from his home to the Burwell business district, and had been gone from home only a few hours when his body was found, Manassil said.

He is survived by his wife and eleven children.

Airplane Proves Correct Means of Travel in Storm

Carson Flying Service Makes Many Flights to Several Parts of State.

Air service provided the only certain way to get anywhere last week end, and the Carson flying service was busy Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Those flown Saturday included Jack Romas who wanted to go to Grand Island to check up on some of his fleet of trucks and see how they were getting along. Ore Koelling was in Grand Island, waiting to get home, so he was brought back and taken out to the farm.

Next came a Mr. Garwood of Ainsworth who wanted to check up on the cattle on some of his ranches and deliver some groceries to one of the places, which was marooned. They landed Mr. Garwood at this ranch. Two men stranded in Ord next wanted to get home to Danneberg, and they were flown there, the plane landing in an alfalfa field near town.

Sunday Dillo Troyer was flown to the Ore Koelling farm to repair his light plant, and the plane picked him up in the evening. Baker Frank Drudik was taken to Grand Island to pick up some badly needed yeast and also one hundred loaves of bread. Then another farmer was flown out to his ranch to have a look at his cattle.

The next trip was made to Comstock, where the plane flew over town and dropped a note of instructions to some one living there. Monday Dr. Glen Able was flown to Fort Hartsuff to have a look at the cattle and horses on the ranch. Monday Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Weckbach were flown to Omaha on the first leg of their trip to Kewanee, Ill. in response to a death message. Later Monday afternoon a man was flown home to Omaha.

CPL. ZENTZ RETURNED. The body of Cpl. Ervin E. Zentz is being returned from overseas, and is scheduled to arrive in New York on or about Nov. 16, and will be sent to Ord, Nebr., as requested by his father, Emory Zentz, now living at Osceola, Neb. Funeral services will be held here at that time and the Quiz will publish a more complete story of his life and death.

Thursday Storm Caught Six Ord Men Forty Miles Away on Cedar River

After spending several days on a hunting trip in which they shot no game, being caught in a storm, tearing the gears out of their car, getting a farmer to come to their rescue, spending two days and nights in the farmer's cabin, shoveling their way fourteen miles to Ericson, and then walking a good share of the way back to Ord over drifts ten feet deep, six men from Ord are now sure they do not care too much about the "strenuous life."

Thursday, the last day of the hunting season, Chet Austin and five other Ord men decided to go up the Cedar after wild fowl. The others were the two Stake brothers with Reither Construction Co., Walt Anderson, Archie Wegryzn and Ernest Augustyn. They started early in the morning, snow already falling.

The storm gradually increased until there was considerable snow on the ground when they reached Ericson and turned up the Cedar. However, the party kept on until they were about 2 1/2 miles above the Mayberry place, when the trouble began. First the car got stuck in the sand and, in the effort to pull out, tore out the rear end gears.

Roads and Streets Are Being Opened: Traffic Is Moving

State Highways were Open Sunday Night; County Is Opening Roads Rapidly

All roads in this area became impassable by Friday morning, and nothing could be done to remedy the situation until the storm abated. Work began on the roads Saturday, and has continued since, by the county road crews, by the state highway department and by farmers who were forced by necessity to get out in a hurry.

The highway department got the main part of Highway 11 cleared by late Sunday night and traffic has been flowing along this road ever since. It is understood that the highway from Burwell west has also been open to travel since some time Monday.

Either Sunday or Monday the state highway department's rotary plow started at Midway, cleared the road to Loup City, then up the river to Arcadia, then back to the Lybarger corner east of Arcadia. Starting there at 4 p. m. Monday they worked north on the Ord highway until they finally cleared all the road and arrived in Ord at noon, Tuesday.

State Highways Open. Tuesday afternoon they started out on the state highway toward Ericson, planning to clear this and then go either west to Burwell or east along the same highway. In any case it is only a question of a few days until all the state highways will be open for traffic.

Tracy Hamilton has been using all the men he could get clearing the county highways out of Ord and an unknown number of men are working out of North Loup, Arcadia and Elyria on the county roads in those areas. The Ord crew has cleared the Haskell Creek road to the county line and the Mira Valley-Loup City road to the county line.

They have gone east on the Springdale road to a point one mile from the county line east of Sumner, and were working Tuesday on the road west from Ord. Mr. Hamilton had fifteen men on the job Tuesday and expected to continue with a full crew until all the county roads are clear.

Meanwhile many of the farmers over the county have been rendering yeoman service in clearing the roads from their farms to the main roads, and there were quite a number in Ord Tuesday afternoon who had cleared their way through that morning. It is evident that all necessary roads will be cleared by the end of the week unless more snow should fall.

Snow Too Heavy. One thing making the work difficult is the fact that the snow is too heavy in many places for the maintainer, and is being shoveled aside by the heavier machinery with a blade on it. When even this fails, the crew has to shovel a part of the snow by hand, which is hard work and takes time.

In Ord Alloway and his bulldozer have been put to use and he is pushing the snow into the middle of the main streets. While this method is slow, it is very effective. When the bulk of the snow has been moved over, Street Commissioner Len Covert moves the rest to the middle of the street with the maintainer.

About that time the snow really began to come down and they could see only a short distance in any direction. They went to the Harold Mayberry place and he got out his car and tried to get them out. The car got stuck in the snow, so he got his tractor, and eventually took them as far as his cabin, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mayberry until Saturday morning.

They helped round up the cattle and fed the pigs, got their wonderful meals every day and played so much pitch that they could no longer count the spots on the cards. They were getting along fine except they ran out of cigarettes. Saturday morning they and other neighbors dug their way to Ericson, a job that took all day.

They stayed at Ericson that night then started on foot Sunday morning for Ord. They walked as far as the Frank Blaha place, finding drifts, ten feet deep in many places. There they met up with Joe Pajmon and Jim Petksa and came back the rest of the way with them. They started out for birds, but did not get their guns out of the cases.

Instruction vs. Entertainment

Today people would rather be entertained than educated, they prefer amusement to instruction. Perhaps it has always been so. In the days of Imperial Rome, where the craving for entertainment became so acute that contestants had to die to please the populace. We are not demanding that much today, but we feel that we have been cheated if we attend an athletic contest of any kind and nobody gets hurt.

Perhaps the enthusiasm by the huge crowds at athletic events in America is a healthful sign, but we must remember that more people than ever are attending these contests, and that they are there with one desire in mind, to see the home team win. They lost sight of the fact that one team must lose, and that it is more important to play according to the rules than it is to use rough tactics to win.

There lies the chief difference between instruction and entertainment. You receive instruction from one who is a master in the line you are studying. For this reason you receive more instruction when you lose the contest than when you win it. The lady who takes a beating on the gridiron are learning something that will be of value to them through life. They are learning to take what the game has to offer and to keep on fighting. They are learning respect for the opposition.

Most of all, they are learning that the game, as is the game of life, is not one victory after another. They are learning that, in order to win, they must make the losses in stride and keep on trying. The hero of the gridiron learns to live for the plaudits of the multitude. When he gets into the game of life and the tumult and the shouting die, he is discouraged. He feels like quitting and sometimes he does quit. He forgets that he is laying a game where there is nobody to run interference for him. He is strictly on his own.

Fund Raising Drives.

These days it seems that there is no end to the drive funds for various worthy causes. A drive is started for one cause before the drive ends for another. Most of the time a number overlap. For example, at the present time we have Red Cross, Christmas Seal and Polio drives going all at once, to say nothing of church and community drives for specific local causes.

It is true that in the old days we had fewer drives for funds for worthy causes, but the need was there, and people were dying and suffering unnecessarily because no funds were available to combat many diseases. There is no direct way of knowing how many people died in pioneer times who would have been saved under modern conditions. They died because there was no one to help them and no funds to carry on the work.

We know, however, that many diseases once considered incurable are yielding to the work of modern science. We know that infant mortality, once very high, is now so reduced that it is the exception, not the rule, for a child to die in its first year. We do know that the span of life is being extended constantly and that a child at birth today may have a good chance of living to the age of seventy years.

So please keep this in mind when you are asked to contribute to any of these worthy causes. Remember that it is no longer the survival of the fittest, but that science is making everybody fit to survive. A man may not be able to add a cubit to his stature, but by proper living he can add years to his life. He can do this because you and I have been contributing our part to these drives against disease. Keep up the good work!

but about that time the Mrs. shook me and hollered: "Wake up, Dad, you're having a nightmare!" I thought about it, and the more I thought about it, the more I thought it seemed. After all, if it pays all these entertainers over the radio to sing the praises of Uwanita Bala Hay or Galpa Lotta Deer, why shouldn't the local merchants try the same tactic? I hope this doesn't give the local merchants any novel advertising ideas!

The manufacturers of safety razors have conferred a favor on suffering humanity in making it easy and convenient for a man to shave at stated intervals. Men have been running around with smooth faces for so long that we take such a condition for granted. Yet it has not been so long ago that the full heads and mustaches especially were very common indeed. A lot of us older men can remember the time. We still have a few in the country who are beard addicts, but in most cases this is due to a habit formed in early youth. There is no denying that a beard, a good-looking beard, adds dignity to a man's appearance. Those who were fortunate enough to know such old timers as Frank Cushing, sr., W. D. Long, George Rogers and others know what I mean.

The coming of the safety razor spelled the doom of flowing beards and the handlebar mustache (with the exception of Bud Shirley and a few others) and it changed the face of the nation definitely. The full beard was the first to go, but that full beard and mustache followed in due course. This affected everybody, from the highest to the lowest. Three presidents of post-Civil War days had full beards. They were Grant, Garfield and Benjamin Harrison. Then the beard left us, as Cleveland and Taft continued the mustache habit. Since Taft's day there have been no whiskers in the White House. Possibly that is what caused the defeat of one Thomas E. Dewey.

The wearing of whiskers, or the lack of them, goes back through history. Such conquerors as Alexander the Great, Julius Caesar and Emperor Napoleon got along fine without beards, but Socrates and Homer and some more of the deep thinkers never knew the pleasure of shaving. In one case, at least it is said the whiskers were worn because the owner was so homesick that he frightened the little children into fits. To my mind a man may look all right either with a beard or without, but during the period in which he is trying to grow a beard, he looks like a devil. A full beard is nice to look at, except when it is full of bread crumbs, sandburs and tobacco juice.

On Friday, November 19, funeral services were conducted by Rev. Clarence Mason at the Congregational Church in Burwell and burial at Burwell cemetery for Alexander I. Chapman. He was born July 7, 1870. His parents were John and Jessie Chapman. At the age of six months his parents moved to Riley, Kansas where he grew to school and engaged in farming and cattle feeding. In 1905 he moved to Texas, where he was in the livestock business until 1908, when he moved to Burwell, Nebr. Here, he continued in the livestock business until poor health caused his retirement in 1915. He made his home on his ranch in Loup county, twenty miles northwest of Burwell, until March 1918 when he purchased a house in Burwell where he lived until the time of his death, Nov. 15, 1948. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ollie Chapman of Burwell and three sons and one daughter by a former marriage: Mrs. Jessie Griffith of Yakima, Wash., J. W. Chapman of Pendleton, Ore., A. M. and E. J. Chapman of Amarillo, Tex.; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cassidy and Judy visited in Ord Sunday at the home of Mrs. Will Ramsey. Mrs. Ramsey is the grandmother of Mrs. Cassidy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Udell were visitors at the Wm. Beat home Sunday evening.

A great number of school children and ranchers were marooned in town during the storm. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wardell and family had to remain in town and were guests of A. C. Duncans during the blizzard.

Clarence Mason, Jr., a student at Doane College is expected home to spend Thanksgiving.

Burwell has been without telephone and telegraph communications ever since the storm and all of the roads blocked. The opening of the roads is progressing very slowly, as proper equipment is not available at the present.

The Ladies Auxiliary met Nov. 16 at the Legion hall with thirteen members and two visitors present. The meeting was held in form with president, Dorothy Hart presiding. In the absence of the Chaplain, Janet Burkholder offered prayer. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. All bills were allowed and a very good financial report was given by the treasurer. The new programs were received. Five men's tarletons have already been sent to the Veterans hospital. Fifteen gift boxes are ready to be sent at a later date. These gifts were boxed with much care and to the "Eddie Cantor" jars that had been placed in the various business places. At close of the meeting, a program using the Thanksgiving theme was given by Ada Tunnell, Katie Hamerda and Beulah Anderson. At the December 21st meeting, there will be a one o'clock covered dish luncheon and a fifty cent gift exchange, with Ada Tunnell, Cora Phelps and Margaret Johnson in charge.

Screwball Day in Burwell was a great success. Not quite as large a crowd as was expected but stock and articles donated brought a very good price. No prize was given to the person dressed the screwiest as there were so many who did so well, the judges could not decide. The prize money was added to the hospital fund. Vernon Lowery received the prize for bringing stock the farthest distance and also the stock bringing the highest price. Assessed fines on the streets which amounted to $231.50 were used to defray the expenses for the day. Articles brought in by the Band Club women were as follows, quilt made by band club. Things solicited, ducks, chickens, cakes, range, oil burner, sweeper, and pillow. The total sales, receipts and some cash donations amount to $703.05.

The Bridge club braved the storm Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Manasil as host and hostess. The guests were gathered up by Mr. Manasil and taken to the Burwell hotel for a turkey dinner after which they were taken to the Manasil home to play bridge. Mrs. H. Auchmoody won ladies prize and Orville Nopland the men's prize.

Valuations and Levies Show Great Variation in County School Districts

Before going into the comparison among the counties of the state on the question of valuation and taxation, let us take up some of those facts in Valley county. We find that there are a total of 63 schools still organized in the rural area of valley county, and three class as town schools with high school facilities.

Two of the rural schools have gone out of business and their territory has been joined to adjacent districts. Both to these were in the hills to the south and east of Ord. They will be remembered as Dist. 64 and 72. Dist. 72 had but a brief existence, and then died for the lack of pupils. Dist. 64 served the residents of an area west of Dist. 42 for more than forty years, but also quit for lack of pupils.

Two other districts in the county, lying adjacent to each other and to the northeast of Arcadia, Nos. 59 and 69 have closed their schools, as there are no pupils of school age living in either district. They still are maintaining their organization however, and the land is still assessed the uniform high school levy of 4.30 mills. They are thus in position to open school again in case people with children of school age move into the area.

Unable to find Teachers and Ten districts were unable to find teachers, so they have contracted with neighboring districts for the education of their children. The trouble with this arrangement is that they have nothing to say about how the district is run. These districts are Nos. 47 and 66 in the south part of the county; Nos. 39, 58 and 20 to the northwest of Arcadia; No. 35, about ten miles west of Ord; No. 60 about 8 miles north of Ord; No. 55, cornering the Ord district to the northeast; and 18 and 71, lying along the east line of the county in Springdale and Noble townships.

There are three joint districts lying along the borders of Valley county. These are: No. 22, west of Ord, from front arcadia, and joint with Custer county; No. 10, embracing the land in North Loup township lying east of the river and joint with Greeley; and 61, once the Abernethy district, north-northeast of Ord and joint with Garfield county.

It might be explained here that all the country districts assessed a uniform free high school levy, which this year amounts to 4.30 mills, but which may vary from year to year. For obvious reasons, the districts having high assessment do not pay this special assessment, but pay a high rate for the privilege of having these schools.

These three districts, No. 1, North Loup, No. 5, Ord and No. 21, Arcadia, all have a high general amount, making the total levy for them as follows: North Loup, 39 mills; Ord, 29.69 mills; Arcadia, 21 mills. Some of the country districts also pay a high levy, the highest being Dist. 70, with 29.42 mills, almost the same as the Ord level.

At different times in the past there have been ten to two room schools in Valley county offering instruction beyond the eighth grade. These were No. 3, Barker; No. 10, Valleyside; No. 6, Springdale; No. 24, Union Ridge; No. 36, Davis Creek; No. 3, Hayes Creek; No. 50, Riverdale; No. 61, Joint; No. 63, Elyria; No. 74, Haskell Creek. Not one of these has two teachers or offers high school subjects at the present time.

Another proposition which enters into the picture is the widely divergent variations in valuation over the county. The lowest valuation in the county is that of Dist. 44, which is assessed at $15,110. No. 44 is a small district of 5 square miles area, lying in the center of Eureka township, and having 7 children of school age in the district. It is slightly smaller than Dist. 44.

Dist. 57, in Mira Valley, has the highest valuation of any of the county districts, $169,025. It has an area of 10 1/2 square miles and has ten children of school age. A close second is Dist. 6, Springdale, which has a valuation of $103,715. It has an area of between 8 and 9 square miles and there are 16 children of school age in the district. It also has 3 1/2 miles of railroad.

Except for the usual necessary maintenance costs, none of the rural schools have had building expenses in recent years, as the buildings have been ample for the needs of the decreasing number of pupils. The school building in

I thought everything looked a little different as I walked up the street in one of Nebraska's busiest and best little cities. There had been changes in the signs on the front of the window displays looked different, some of the store fronts had been remodeled. However, I had little time to marvel at these changes, which seemed to me to have taken place overnight.

I had some purchases to make, and for no special reason at all, I dropped into Ed's Table Supply to fill out an order of groceries. The door must have been connected with some mechanism at the rear, for a phonograph or some other device began to play modernistic music, about the jazziest jazz I had ever listened to.

About that time the proprietor came walking out of the back-ground, proudded around among the orderly stacks of groceries and finally came to a stop in front of me. Then he began singing in cadence to the music, and these were the words of his song:

"My father likes his Meala Rye
And grandpa fairly dots
Upon Unecda Byta Pie
And Eata Heapa Oats."

That was a little too much for me, and I rushed out of the store and down the street. Thinking a brown seltzer might help, I dropped into Eddie Beranek's, and a three-piece orchestra began to pipe out at once and the usually sedate Mr. Beranek came walking out from behind the counter, singing at the top of his voice:

"Once mamma had a tummy pain
Was threatened with disaster
You know what made her well Again?
Mustecta Mustard Plaster."

Thinking everybody must be crazy I thought of Dr. Barta and decided I had better have him give me the once over. I climbed back up to his office, walked in and heard the strains of soft music playing. The Doctor arose from his chair, bowed and sang these words:

"How glad I am to see you, Sir!
For customers delight us
You are in pain, and I ipfer
You have appendicitis!"

That was enough for me. I figured I'd rather have a pain than to hear Doc Barta try to sing. Thinking a little music might cheer me, I dropped into Aubb's and Glen came capering out from behind the counter singing in a voice that trembled with emotion:

"We'll fix your watch or fit your eyes
Or cut a ring down to your size;
No matter what you pay for it,
Our customers have a perfect fit!"

Saying to myself: "Either I'm crazy or everybody else is," I went on down the street and found Stanley Absalon out in front of his store. As soon as he saw me coming, he tarted to singing:

"Gifts for women, kids and men,
Buy them at the five and ten
When you find your dollars few
Make a dime or nickel do."

Next stop was at Misko's and Bill was busy, as usual, but he and son Dean took time to stop their work and start up a chorus that ran something like this:

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
Fishing goes in January
She gets the fishes, never fear,
Buys her fishing tackle here."

I do not know how much longer the performance would have gone,

Edward Varley, son of Mrs. Virginia Gill, of Baltimore, Md., were united in marriage, at the Kearney army air base, at 2:30 in the afternoon, Friday, November 12. The air base chapel officiated at the double ring ceremony. Attendants were Miss Edna Wright of Phillips and Pte. Darwin Dutton, also of Kearney air base.

The bride wore a suit of grey with black and gold accessories and her attendant a grey pinstripe suit with black accessories. Both had carnation bouquets. The men wore their army uniforms.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tolen and their son, Roger, drove in from their farm home on Davis Creek in the storm Thursday afternoon and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen. Early Friday morning a 7 1/2 pound daughter, Phyllis Elaine, was born to them at the Tolen home, with no doctor in attendance. Mrs. Gilbert Meyers, who is a trained nurse, assisted at the birth, and later Bert Cox drove with a team and wagon to Scotia after Dr. Lewis. When Mr. Cox got to the river bridge, the drifts were ten feet high, so he walked to Scotia, got Dr. Lewis, who walked back to the bridge with him and then rode to North Loup in the lumber wagon.

After giving Mrs. Tolen and the baby the attention they needed, Leonard Tolen took him as far as he could get in a car, south to the Union Ridge neighborhood, where the four year old son of the Birch family was very ill with what was feared to be pneumonia. At the county line, where the drifts were too deep for a car, Jim Scott met them with saddle horses and Dr. Lewis rode to the Birch home to see the sick boy, who was much better than he had been in the night.

Ogallala was Cow Town of Early Days It was Market Town for Texas Cattle

Ogallala, gateway to the upper plains and northern terminus of the Texas cattle trails, was Nebraska's cowboy capital during the 10 years from 1875 to 1885—10 years that form an epoch in the town's history as colorful as any period in the annals of old Nebraska.

According to the town's historian, Dr. Norbert R. Nahken, Professor of History at Oklahoma A. & M. College, "gold flowed freely across the tables, liquor across the bar, and occasionally blood across the floor," as Wyoming and Nebraska cattlemen met with Texas cattle kings in Ogallala's hotel and saloons to haggle over the prices to be paid for longhorns driven up the trail.

Ogallala's career as a cowtown was a by-product of the Union Pacific railroad. It began in 1874, when the railroad officials constructed a cattle pen and loading chute just west of town, hoping to recapture here the profitable trade they had enjoyed at Kearney and Schuyler and other Nebraska shipping points for Texas cattle.

The trade was brisk, and during the summer of 1875 more than 60,000 head of Texas cattle were driven to Ogallala. At most any time during the next few summers, upwards of 25,000 head could be counted on the plains south of town. During the last years of the decade, more than 100,000 Texas cattle made their way through the Nebraska cowtown each season.

In addition to shipments east, a solid basis for the Ogallala trade was the development of the cattle industry in western Nebraska and eastern Wyoming. Many of the early herds in this area got their start from the Texas cattle driven into Ogallala.

The town's terrific cattle business was carried on only during the summer months. As a result, it found itself filled to overflowing with population during part of the year, and almost deserted during the remainder. This naturally didn't make for steady growth.

In the summer of 1881, a serious epidemic of cattle fever brought into the state from Texas devastated large areas in western Nebraska. As a result, Nebraska cattlemen, who had begun by this time to build up their herds through introduction of blooded stock, demanded that Texas cattle be excluded.

The quarantine, added to other burdens on the trail drivers, brought and to Ogallala's career as a market for Texas cattle. Ogallala, the boisterous cowtown, began to be replaced by Ogallala, the modern seat of Keith county.

Noll Antiques are of Great Interest

This week Mr. and Mrs. Bob Noll announced the opening of their antique shop which is something new in Ord. Perhaps this is not the first group of antiques to be shown in Ord, and it certainly isn't the first time that there have been antiques here. In fact, some of the antiques now on exhibit in the Noll collection were brought here when they and the country alike were new.

An example of this is a marble-top commode that was brought to Ord as a new item by Dr. F. D. Haldeman. It came so long ago that it was sent to him at North Loup, that being the end of the railroad at the time. This is one of a number of articles of furniture on display. However, the chief part of their collection is the many dishes of all kinds, some of which are no longer made.

There are priceless items of silverware, including cake trays, butter dishes, casters of several different kinds sugar and creamer sets. In addition there are clocks, lamps, two spinning wheels, an old style waffle iron, in fact, almost anything a person might be looking for. Some items are not so old or scarce, and some are almost priceless. Whether interested in buying or not, it is well worth while to see what they have collected.

NORMA LONG HONORED. Norma Long is one of five new pledges selected to fill vacancies in Tassels, University of Nebraska pep organization for women.

Miss Long, graduate of Ord high school in 1946, is a junior in the College of Agriculture.

BRACE. Mrs. Chas. Hackel and sons stayed from Thursday until Saturday at the E. O. Hackel home as they got caught in the storm. Mrs. Hackel and one of his sons stayed at the George Kravnik home while the younger son stayed at the Archie Mason home.

School at Brace opened on Monday with only five pupils. Tuesday morning the entire enrollment was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jobst and Mrs. Jobst were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank John and Helen. Mr. Jobst and Mrs. John went to the Ed Hackel home to help with the chores as Mr. Hackel was taken very ill Saturday night. As this is written he is a little improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jobst had dinner Saturday with the Willard Conner family. Mrs. Jobst spent the afternoon at the Conner home while the men went into town. They made the trip through pastures and fields with several other of the neighbors.

Mrs. Orle Hurlbert, Ellen and Kathleen Graul couldn't get home from school during the storm so they were guests at the Willard Conner home. Mrs. Hurlbert went to her home on Friday evening and Ellen and Kathleen stayed until Saturday afternoon when Wm. Graul and Ralph Burson got through with a team to get them.

St. Paul Records First Touchdown

The St. Paul Wildcats, shutout every game so far this season, finally came across in their game last week against Sacred Heart of Greeley, but the Greeley team won, 19 to 6. St. Paul has had some fine teams in the past, but has not been able to get anywhere this year.

In the game against Burwell they completed a pass and carried it across the goal line, but the play was called back because of a penalty. During the third quarter of the Greeley game Jerry Hruza intercepted a pass. The first play was a long pass down the field, Dick Bahensky to Harlan Wagner, and was good for their first and only touchdown.

Navy Day Memorial in the Pacific

Officers and men of an American submarine stand solemnly on the bridge of the coming tower as a chaplain casts a memorial wreath upon the waters of the Pacific at the conclusion of a Navy Day memorial ceremony for the men who lost their lives at sea during World War II. The submarine then proceeded further out to sea where the flowers shown picking her forward deck were strewn upon the ocean. (Official Navy Photograph)

How the Other Half is Living

Bill Brookman, truck driver of Clarinda, Ia., felt the wind lift his hat from his head as he was driving along the highway, and made a grab for it. The truck went over the shoulder of the road, turned over twice and came to rest on its wheels. The hat was not damaged.

Floyd Peterson, Gege Valley farmer of Howard county, had a ten acre plot which made 60 bushels per acre of high quality corn. The county extension office believes that this will make him the champion corn grower of the county. Valley county, with the advantage of irrigation, will doubtless produce a much higher yield than this.

The record for hard luck in the entire state is probably held in the Oakland community, where no less than three young men have lost hands so far this year in handling mechanical corn pickers. The latest is Harold Linden, living south of Oakland. The others were Louis Jipp and George Hellbusch. A left hand was lost in each case.

Glenn Zumburn of Belgrade, blind for some months, was relieved of his bill fold and $70 last week. Later the bill fold was returned empty. The story was publicized, and Lincolnites, where the loss occurred, contributed $70 and in addition a meal ticket on a local restaurant. The thief is candidate for the office of "Nebraska's Meanest Man."

Jack Pesek, who was unable to make the grade for professional football last fall, and in making the try lost his amateur standing, has gone in for wrestling, and will be under the management of Tony Stecher this winter. Football players in this area will remember what a whale of a football star Jack was in his high school days at Ravenna.

Over at Wayne J. M. Cherry, who has been a public official nearly 45 years, will retire Jan. 1. In that time he served as deputy sheriff, sheriff, deputy county clerk, treasurer, city clerk, and finally 30 years as county judge. The Judge was a boy on an Iowa farm in Civil war days.

Children's Clinic at Kearney Dec. 4

The local welfare office announces that there is to be a crippled children's clinic held at Kearney Dec. 4. Registration will begin at 7 a. m. Dr. G. B. Stafford, pediatrician and Dr. Fritz Tecl, orthopedist, both from the orthopedic hospital in Lincoln, will be in attendance.

One of these clinics is held each two weeks somewhere in Nebraska. The Elks organizations serve the meals. All doctors have referral blanks, and one of these must be filled out by a doctor before the child will be given an examination by the clinic. The local welfare board has the blanks also, but they must also be filled out by a doctor.

PLEDGES BLOCK & BRIDLE. Donald G. Clement, son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clement, is one of 38 new pledges accepted by the University of Nebraska chapter of the Block & Bridle club, national animal husbandry honor.

Clement was graduated from Ord high school in 1945. He is a junior in the College of Agriculture.

County Fair Meet Again Postponed

A second attempt was made Monday evening to hold the annual meeting of the Loup Valley Agricultural society, but the weather prevented a quorum from attending. Due to the storm, the meeting would have been called off if there had been any means of doing so, according to the secretary, Ed Armstrong.

Billed for 7 p. m. a dozen or more local people were present at about that time in the basement lobby of the court house, which had been opened for the purpose by Custodian Dave Haight. Members from a distance were not able to get to town, and the meeting was called off as the by-laws require the presence of at least 25 members at the annual meeting.

SERVICE POSTPONED.

The special services dedicating the new monument in the Ord Catholic cemetery, originally planned to be held last Sunday have been postponed indefinitely until weather conditions permit. Because of the deep snow and impassable roads it was impossible to hold the service at that time.

BODY RETURNED.

Word has been received that the body of S. Sgt. Steven L. Zablodil is being returned to the United States, and probably arrived in New York about Nov. 16. The body will be sent to Ord for burial at the request of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Zablodil of Ord, and will be buried with military honors upon arrival. The Quiz will publish a complete story of his life at that time.

AROUND THE STATE

By George S. Round, Extension Editor, University of Nebraska

Agricultural research is continually pounding away at ways and means of making farming more efficient. Take the work being done by the Ag. Engineers at the Nebraska Experiment Station. A new experiment is designed to step up the corn harvesting process — from field to shelter to bin — and licking the moisture content problem. The new method, if it works out, would do away with storing ear corn in the crib and shelled corn would be placed in the crib a few minutes after it comes out of the picker-sheller in the field. Its something to watch for in future developments and might change the corn harvesting procedure.

Progress is being made on poultry

Prof. F. E. Mussell reports that breeding work here. Significant progress is being made in improving two of the most popular breeds — the White Rocks and the White Leghorns. The White Rocks are becoming very popular in connection with the broiler development in Nebraska.

You can now get your free copy of the 1948 Nebraska Certified Seed directory from your own county extension agent. Growers of certified seed are listed for alfalfa, spring barley, bromegrass, corn, oats, popcorn, red clover, sorghums and other crops.

Chancellor R. G. Gustavson returned from Sweden this week where he spent six weeks as a guest of the Swedish government. He had only one disappointment — the coffee. He thought it tasted almost like tar. Then there was a fish dish which he said had somewhat the same odor as hamburger cheese but which had a delightful taste. While in Sweden, Dr. Gustavson had the opportunity to visit a lot of agricultural experiment stations and a chance to view some of the work being done in the laboratories on agricultural production.

Extension Forester Earl G. Maxwell is one fellow who believes that more hardwood trees ought to be planted in Nebraska. He tells how Norman Kuhlman of Merrick county got some walnuts last fall, stratified them over the winter and planted the nuts last spring. He raised 73 trees from the 74 nuts he planted — and Maxwell thinks that is evidence that the planting job can be done successfully.

Incidentally, Maxwell advises farmers and townspeople to water their trees, shrubs, grass and other plants (if that is possible) before a good hard freeze comes. He says winter injury to plants doesn't come only from freezing. Dryness does a big share of the damage. Maxwell says soaking the ground around plants to a 12 inch depth or more is a good idea.

A new winter hardy June-bearing strawberry, promising for home gardens and local markets in the Great Plains, is just being released. It is named Sioux and has been developed by the Cheyenne Horticultural Field Station at Cheyenne, Wyo. The University of Nebraska substation at North Platte has had a big part in the testing of the variety. At North Platte, it has yielded twice as well as the best commercial variety. Glenn Viehmeier of the North Platte substation has been doing the testing of the Sioux in Nebraska.

New things, of course, are continually coming out of the agricultural research laboratories and other scientific places. Everyone, of course, knows that the USDA regional laboratory at Peoria, Ill., had a hand in getting penicillin production stepped up during the war. New varieties of grains are being continually introduced.

The "wonders" — if any may be called that — never cease. Take the work of E. F. Frolk here at the University of Nebraska with the use of atomic energy on hybrid corn. He's studying the results of irrigation of the corn pollen by neutrons at the Argonne National Laboratory at Chicago. What he will come out with — if anything — isn't known now but neither did Mendel know way back when that his work with peas might help lead to the ultimate development of hybrid corn.

One thing that impressed the farm press representative was the work being done at the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment station in soils research. Particularly interesting was the soils testing and the need for more information on soil minerals and fertility problems.

In addition, the visitors were interested in the six-foot profile of soils on display. The sample was obtained with a new soil sampler and cellulose acetate was used in mounting the six foot strip of soil. Imagine the value to a farmer in being able to see what's below the surface six foot. Some day exhibits of these profile should be in every county extension office in the state.

State wheat show comes up a McCook in early January. . . . Organized Agriculture meetings called for College of Agriculture campus in Lincoln in February of next year. . . . Nebraska's 4-H delegation, numbering around 31, will attend National Club Congress in Chicago late this month.

POULTRY CONGRESS. Poultry fanciers of the midwest will have an opportunity of seeing one of the nation's largest exhibitions of poultry in Omaha this week at the Ak-Sar-Ben poultry congress. The exhibition will be open to the public each day until 6 p. m. Saturday. There will be a junior poultry judging contest held Saturday, followed by an auction sale of turkeys and broilers.

J. M. Fisher Bites.
Funeral services for J. M. Fisher, who passed away Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church in North Loup with Rev. A. C. Ehret officiating.

Services had been delayed because of the blocked roads, but a snow plow came up Tuesday morning and opened the road to the cemetery. Harold Fisher and his son, Jerrold, were able to get to town with a tractor Monday but the road is still blocked to the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Rollan Fisher arrived Monday morning from their home in Jamesport, Mo., having spent one night in Lincoln and two in Grand Island. They left Wednesday afternoon after the funeral for their home.

Mrs. Grace Mayo Breaks Wrist.
Mrs. Grace Mayo went to Scottia on the Tuesday morning bus to keep a dental appointment and fell near Dr. Hamsa's office, breaking her wrist, the same one that was broken several years ago. Mrs. Mayo had planned to go to Lincoln Wednesday for Thanksgiving and it was first thought best to go on to Lincoln at once and have the bone set but she was in so much pain that she was taken to the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island where the wrist was set, and she remained there for a short time before going to Lincoln. Mrs. Halverson of Scottia went to Grand Island with Mrs. Mayo.

Mrs. Arlene Hathaway of Denver was a Tuesday guest in the Ned Larkin home. Mrs. Hathaway is a sister of Mrs. Larkin. George McLain and his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Andresen of York, were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fyfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Arley Street of Renton, Wash., were Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz. They have been visiting Mrs. Street's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bresley at Colesfield. Coming here they stayed overnight with her brother, Cal Bresley, in Wyoming and after arriving heard that his trailer house had burned to the ground with all its contents.

The joint meeting of the Nolo and Fortnightly clubs which was to have been held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Otto Bartz, was indefinitely postponed because of the road conditions.

The Lord's Acre ingathering for the Seventh Day Baptist church planned for Tuesday evening, was postponed till Friday, when the sale will be held at the North

Loup Lumber co. yard. The social part of the program will be Sunday evening in the church basement.

North Loup schools closed on Wednesday evening for the Thanksgiving recess.

Waffles and Pancakes.
(By Ruth Hayes)
Down in our Homemaking room things are really cooking. We have been planning and cooking our first meal this year. Our main food was waffles or pancakes. I never knew there were so many kinds. You can use the recipe for plain waffles or pancakes and then you can add finely chopped apples, blueberries, ham, bacon, pineapple, or cheese to add variety. Try one of these variations.

Sweater Girls.
(By Glennis Eschliman)
Do your sweaters sag in the wrong places? Are they too large or small? If so it may be your fault. Do you wash your sweaters just any way or do you wash them this way:
1. Wash sweaters before badly soiled.
2. Remove fancy buttons, ornaments, etc.
3. Make an outline of the sweater on heavy paper.
4. Wash in mild soap flakes dissolved in luke warm water.
5. Wash quickly and gently. Squeeze. Do not rub or twist.
6. Rinse thoroughly (at least twice) in clear lukewarm water.
7. Squeeze out as much water as possible.
8. Roll sweater in turkish towel and knead gently to remove excess moisture.
9. Unroll immediately and place on sweater outline.
10. Place in airy place to dry. When thoroughly dry, iron and brush sweater.

Good Toothbrushes.
(By Ina Fae Jorgensen)
We ninth graders all brought our toothbrushes to see which ones met the requirements of a good toothbrush. These requirements say that a good toothbrush should have a straight handle, and two rows of bristles which are straight on top. Also that it should be small and easy to get into your mouth.
Dixie Stone, Charlotte Svoboda and Beverly Alloway were the girls whose toothbrushes met these requirements.
The girl in our class who has improved the most during our personal grooming unit is Lareda Cronk.

Ord Folk Stranded Because of Storm

A music clinic at Lincoln and a bar association meeting in Omaha drew many local people away from home last week just in time to be caught in the storm and detained several days. Among the lawyers attending the bar meeting were E. L. Vogellanz and John P. Misko of Ord, Ben Rose of Burwell and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Alder of Taylor.

The Alders drove from Omaha to Lincoln, where they visited relatives during the storm. They then drove home, arriving in Ord Monday noon and went on, hoping that the Burwell-Taylor highway had been opened. Mr. Alder is county attorney of Loup county.

E. L. Vogellanz and John P. Misko left early for the bar meeting and returned by way of Lincoln assisting Bill Nelson in getting a group of nine high school students to Lincoln for the music clinic. Later Mrs. Misko drove to Lincoln, met her husband and brought him and some of the students back to Ord. They arrived home Monday evening.

Nelson and his young people arrived home late Sunday. Vogellanz and party got home Monday afternoon. The young people who went included Rosellen Vogellanz, Rogene Rogers, Wilma Lange, Dick Tolen, Verlee Mulligan, Charles Munn, Richard Heuck, Jim Misko, Paul Stoddard.

Many Stranded.
Keith Lewis drove to Hastings for a meeting and returning to Grand Island where he stayed until after the storm. When he came to Ord he brought with him Mrs. Bernard Kingston and Dave Guggenmos, also stranded. Orel Koelling, stranded in Grand Island came up by plane Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Dale, Katharine Helzer of Ord and Willis Thurber of Burwell, in Lincoln to attend a state extension agent's meeting there, came home Sunday night and were held in St. Paul three hours until the highway between St. Paul and Elba had been opened. They did not take in the Nebraska-Missouri game, as they had planned, due to cold weather.

Mrs. Bob Oliver Dies at Kewanee

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Weekes received word Monday of the death of their daughter, Mrs. Bob Oliver, at Kewanee, Ill., and left that afternoon to plan the funeral. Mrs. Oliver was expected to take a plane for Kewanee, Ill., where the Olivers live. Further details are unavailable since the Weekes were unaware of her illness. Mrs. Oliver had visited here only a short time ago.

Healthy Skin
(By Lareda Cronk)
This week we have been busy helping ourselves to a better place in life. Do you know, ladies, that having a good complexion and a healthy skin is an important part of your daily job. First apply a dab of cold cream on the cheeks, forehead, the nose and the chin. Gently rub in with an upward motion. After this take a tissue or soft cloth, and remove all that is left, this softens and gets the dirt out of the pores. Be sure to get into those creases by the nose and the chin. Next rinse with lukewarm water to take away all soap and dirt. Now to close these pores, take an ice cube, and rub gently over the face. Then pat with a soft towel. (If your skin is dry, don't use too hot a water.)

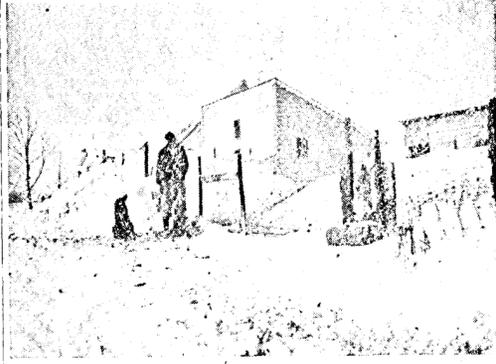

"Make Up" and Feet
(Mary Beth Chalfield)
In homemaking we have been studying "make up." In looking around we found that some girls look slightly like painted Indians and others who do not wear make-up need it badly. High school girls should only wear enough make-up so that they look natural. If her lips are too narrow she should put her lip-stick clear to the edges of her lips. If they are too wide, she should keep it from extending clear to the edge.

We girls also took off our shoes and examined our feet. It was found that Marian Severns and I had the best looking feet. One girl had bunions! We polished our shoes and found that if you didn't take excellent care of them when they were first new, they didn't look nearly as good as they got older. Some shoes take polish well and others not so well.

Pantry Meal Magic.
(By Alice Hayek)
Wednesday November 3rd the second year Homemaking girls saw a movie on the different ways of preparing canned meat. The name of the movie was "Pantry Meal Magic" sponsored by the Armour Meat Company. It included the different ways of serving meat such as broiling, making a meat loaf, frying and serving it on toast.

One dish which I thought would be especially interesting to try was stuffed tomatoes with a mixture of chopped ham and onion. It looked delicious. This film showed us how we can cook a meal in a matter of minutes. It was a great help to us as now we are beginning our foods unit, and we are anxious to try out these new dishes.

Lois Ackles Winner.
(By DeLores Nelson)
Cynthia Jean was the name chosen for the Homemaking baby. It was submitted by Lois Ackles who is a senior. Lois will be the winner of a large luscious looking cake which will be made by the 2nd year Homemaking girls in their regular class work.

Snow Means Beauty, Work, Damage

Snow meant a combination of beauty, hard work and damage to Ord last week end, as shown in these three Swopes photos. The white drifts made an artist's setting for the Harlan Frazier home. At the Frank Nennan home, snow meant long hours of shoveling to clear pens for stock and poultry. And down Ord's main street huge drifts meant tons and tons of snow to be removed at terrific cost to the city's already depleted road fund.

Many Stranded at Food Supply Good Hotel in Storm

Guests at the Ord hotel, stranded here over the week end, include R. B. Bradshaw of Omaha who is with the United States Treasury Department, C. E. Stull of Omaha, C. E. Kullbom of Omaha with the Robert Rose Commission Company, Rex Stark of Greeley with the Internal Revenue Department, C. B. Remington, Auditing Company, John F. Gleason of Omaha with the Gleason Lumber Company, C. N. Hill of Kearney, State Inspector, F. C. Rossow of Norfolk, George Janke of Hastings and with the Janke Auto Parts, R. B. Priditch of Omaha, G. A. Shady of Omaha and a U. P. Auditor, Don Meddles of Hastings with Swift and Company, Jimmy Morgan of Hastings with Food Center, E. J. Holland of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hazard of Dannebrog who were just traveling through. Mr. and Mrs. Derner of Burwell who were caught here, J. E. Hexamer of the Murphy Equipment Company of Sioux Falls, E. E. Stevenson with Socony Vacuum Oil Company of Omaha, Russell Agostine with a Clothing Company in Omaha, and Lester Carlton, Oakland, Nebr., Independent.

Twelve of these travelers started out Sunday morning only to find they couldn't get through and returned to stay Sunday evening.

Burwell Man Gone Two Days

Vern Huckfeldt, IHC owner at Burwell, gave townspeople there some anxious hours when he was reported missing Friday. He had left town Thursday to take his wife's mother, Mrs. Mike Nelson, to the Nelson ranch 15 miles east of Burwell. The trip to the ranch was made without trouble and in coming back, the Nelsons opened a road with a team to the highway.

Huckfeldt made his way home as far as the Horner farm, 8 miles east of Burwell, where he spent the night.

Goodwill Train Plans Maturing

Word from State CROP Director, Dwight Bell, urges that everybody try to be ready for the moving of the Goodwill Train on December 10. This will mean that everything should be in before December 5—that should be the deadline.

If it is impossible to deliver the wheat and corn to the elevator, try and send their money value to Miss Clara McClatchey at Ord. The returns are coming in favorably, and if weather conditions do not get too bad, it is hoped that we may continue on time.

AAA Plans to Hold Meetings Next Week

AAA meetings are scheduled to start next week, but the time and location of these meetings is not available at press time, so cards will be sent out announcing them. The members of the AAA office forces attended a meeting at Bassett Tuesday of last week for instructions for application for payments for 1948. Those who attended this meeting were Paul Owens, Vladimir Babka, John Skala and Alma Jorgensen.

The office wants to impress upon all farmers the importance of turning in their compliance because of limited funds for 1948. The deadline for turning in has been set for Jan. 15, 1949, but the office will appreciate having them turned in earlier.

There is also some worry about the 1949 program. There are 40 practices in the docket. The payment on dams has been increased to 10c per cubic yard, and the payment on terraces to 8c per cubic yard.

Of interest also is the fact that purchase orders will be used in payment of dams by the farmer to the vendor, as was the custom in 1947.

It has been announced that Alvin L. (Swede) Johnson has been appointed a member of the estate committee, taking the place left vacant by the resignation of Edward C. Frost. Mr. Johnson is a Hall county farmer and owns and operates a general livestock and grain farm near Doniphan. Farmers will remember him as fieldman for this area for a number of years.

DOROTHY PENAS TO SING.
Miss Dorothy M. Penas, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Penas, will sing with the oratorio chorus composed of approximately 100 voices of University of Wyoming students, faculty members, and local residents.

The annual Christmas oratorio this year will be Verdi's "Requiem" and will be presented Sunday Dec. 5 at Laramie and Sunday 12 at Cheyenne, Wyo. Director of the chorus is George W. Gunn, professor of voice at the University of Wyoming.

Miss Penas, who is a sophomore in the college of commerce at the University of Wyoming at Laramie, is majoring in business administration.

Local Men Caught in Thursday Snow

Two Ord men, Ed Swopes and Dean Misko, will remember for some time the experience they had when caught away from home in the storm last week. They took the wrong day Thursday, to have a try at pheasants. They had good luck hunting and had five to their credit when they decided to call it a day. They were out along a side road south of Vinton when they resolved to return to Ord.

It was about 5 p. m. at the time and getting quite dark. The snow was falling so fast that they could hardly see at all. They had traveled only a short distance until the Swopes car in which they were riding got stuck in the snow. Ed Swopes had put on his heavy flying suit and this kept him warm, but Misko was lightly clad, and had to return to the car to get warm after they had started out to get help.

Swopes finally found the Irving King place and calling and soon Harold got their outfit and went up the road for the purpose of helping get the Swopes car started again on its way to Ord. They were unable to do anything, but drove off the grade into the ditch when they started home and had to leave their car and walk home.

The two Ord men found that they were near the George Nass place where Cecil McCall lives, and they went and asked if they could stay overnight. They not only stayed all night, but all the next day, and helped McCall with his chores and "dined on good country fare" as both men put it. Saturday they borrowed a few extra clothes from the McCalls and walked all the way to Ord, arriving about noon.

On the way they found that their own and the King cars were not the only ones marooned and abandoned in the storm. They saw the Dean Spurling auto on the west side of the hill near the Chris Kirby place. It had been abandoned and the wind had filled it full of snow. On the east side of the same hill they found the car belonging to Paul Owens of Arcadia. Paul had tried to drive home and had to abandon his car on the hill, where they found it completely covered with snow.

The drifts were so solid that they could walk on top of them most of the way. The drift on the Kirby hill was one of the deepest, but there were many others up to ten feet in depth. As they walked to town they saw coyotes out looking for food, as well as many pheasants. Swopes says his car was parked right in the middle of the road when he left it, but that he had no fear of anybody crashing into it.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE
There will be a union service at the Presbyterian church, Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Eugene E. Olsen, pastor of the Baptist church will bring the message. Let us all attend this significant service and together show our appreciation of another year of God's goodness toward us.

Peterson's Bid is Low on State Gas

Clayton Peterson of St. Paul has been awarded the contract to haul gas used by the state and stored at Lincoln, Norfolk and Grand Island. The gas is used by the department of Roads and Irrigation.

Mr. Peterson operates a fleet of trucks hauling oil throughout the state, and the contracts are for an anticipated amount of 2,500,000 gallons. George Newanger of Alliance was awarded the contract to haul the gas for supply tanks at Ainsworth, North Platte and Bridgeport.

You Can Be Thankful for Bumper Crops and Pleasant Living

Nebraska has been particularly blessed this year. Corn, wheat, alfalfa, sugar beets and pasture grasses have all produced bountifully.

Nebraskans can be thankful, too, for this state's excellent liquor control statutes—clear, enforceable, backed by public sentiment.

Since violating taverns risk loss of their license, most tavern-keepers strive to operate in the public interest—to keep their places clean, wholesome and decent—to eliminate sales to excessive drinkers and minors.

It's your duty, as a citizen, to demand strict enforcement of the law . . . to discourage excessive drinking and unsocial conduct.

The brewing industry, working for strict law enforcement, welcomes all opportunities to cooperate with citizens to this end.

"Spent Our Money Yesterday" "Our little plants are being challenged as never before," says H. L. Morris, commissioner of Blair, Nebr. "In the past it has been an easy matter to forecast our need and more or less casually lay away funds to provide therefor. The picture is quite different now. We spent our money yesterday for today's needs and no one can guess what tomorrow's demand might be."

North Loup Squad Is Entertained at Banquet by Lions

Pleasant is Foundation for Meal, McBride in Attendance, 40 Present.

Thursday evening was the occasion of the Lions Club honoring the football squad of North Loup schools. The dinner was held at the Fortis Cafe. In spite of the stormy weather, which kept the farmers from getting into town, there were twenty Lions present. Coach Bill Cook and twenty of his players were also present, as was Gregg McBride of the World-Herald.

The program opened with the invocation by Lion Ehret, the salute to the flag and the singing of Lions songs, led by Lion Hulsdon. The only item of regular business taken care of was the voting into membership of Dell F. Barber, who was unable to be present because of impassable roads.

Coach Bill Cook was introduced and he in turn presented the entire squad. He called attention to some of the outstanding players of the season, telling of the work in which they excelled. He said that Les Leonard and Jerrald Manchester had been chosen co-captain for the year. Manchester, in a well-voiced speech, thanked the Lions in behalf of the squad for the pleasure of the banquet.

Next President Goodrich introduced Gregg McBride who spoke for about twenty minutes on some of his recollections of early football as well as basketball. Mr. McBride, an interesting speaker, and he had the undivided attention of all present.

Following his speech the entire group adjourned to the high school auditorium, where a film of the Nebraska-Towa game of 1948 was shown to an open meeting. McBride and his group of speakers explained some of the high points of the film.

While in North Loup "for the duration" as he put it, Mr. McBride was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Clark. Unable to get away, he enjoyed himself very much in North Loup over the week end and many of his fans had the pleasure of visiting with him.

Tunnickliff to Play Rose Bowl Game

For the second time in history a former Ord man will see service in the Rose Bowl. In this case, however, the man is not a graduate of Ord high school. Eddie Tunnickliff will be recruited by one of the younger boys of the Bill Tunnickliff family, first of Burwell, then of Ord and finally of Kewanee, Ill. The family left Ord some ten years ago and moved to Kewanee. At that time Eddie was a tall, overgrown boy with a yen for athletics and the promise of becoming a champion in any line of sport. He had completed the sixth grade in the spring of 1938 and was just ready to start into athletics in his coming school year.

Eddie had no training under Helmut Brockman, but he was to see much of him later. In 1940 Brockman took the coaching job at Kewanee, and had young Tunnickliff on his football squads all through high school. He and his older brother, Bob, were the big guns of the Kewanee track team that took all first places in the state track meet one year.

Eddie was the only Tunnickliff to play football in Kewanee, and did so well there that he went out for football when he started at Northwestern and his work immediately attracted the attention of the coaching staff. Today he is a regular, and his work contributed much in gaining the chance at the Rose Bowl. All Ord and Burwell, as well as Kewanee, will be sitting with ears glued to their radios all through the Rose Bowl game this year.

Most Ordites do not need to be told that the other Rose Bowl man from Ord was Allen Zikmund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zikmund, who played in the Rose Bowl with Nebraska in 1940, and was going great guns until he broke his leg. Now Zikmund is coach at Alliance and his Bulldogs will be playing Grand Island this evening day. It is safe to say that Ord is pulling for the Bulldogs to win.

By amending the state constitution in 1924, Nebraska's citizens set up a unicameral legislature of 43 members elected without party affiliation.

One Way Traffic Through Snow Drifts

The narrow holes sliced through drifts made one-way traffic a necessity on roads in and around Ord. Ed Swopes took this picture using his own car for a prop.

All-Conference Team Is Chosen

The past week the coaches and officials of the Three Loups conference selected the all-conference football team. Naturally the champions, Broken Bow and Loup City, dominate the selections with four players chosen from Broken Bow and five from Loup City, with one each from Ord and Ravenna completing the list. Burwell and St. Paul failed to place a player on the first team.

The membership of the all-conference team is as follows: Ends, McCoy of Loup City and Wilkerson of Broken Bow; tackles, Roberts of Loup City and Close of Broken Bow; guards, Augustine of Loup City and Schlattman of Ravenna; center, McMurtry of Broken Bow; backs, Hagerty and Thode of Loup City, Stoddard of Ord and Meston, Broken Bow.

Those on the honorable mention list are: Richardson, Ord; Powell, Lapeere, Patis, Svedala and Fries, Ravenna; Goff, Bohy, Newman and Anderson, Burwell; and Simpson, Sweeney and Reed, Broken Bow.

Stranded, McBride Liked North Loup

In his column in Tuesday World-Herald Gregg McBride let all about his enforced stay North Loup from Thursday through Sunday last week. For what he has to say one may get the idea that he likes North Loup, and especially to his host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Clark. He had the opportunity to see how the people of a small town react in time of emergency and liked what he saw.

Feeding Grains

All grains, especially feeding grains, have been very strong the past week. We feel that with more snow and cold weather that we can look for further increases in prices. Don't get caught short on grains and other feeds at this time of the year. A couple of extra loads of feed in the bin looks pretty good in case of a blizzard. This would be a very good time to lay in a supply of an extra ton of High Protein Dairy Feed or Laying Mash. You can get a nice price on truckloads delivered to your farm. Oats and corn are both rather hard to buy at present prices. We do have several loads of extra good barley on hand.

Wheat

There has been a very good price on wheat the last couple of weeks and many of the big grain men feel that we may see wheat at a lower price in the next few weeks. Don't use your guess on what you do with your wheat but at present prices you will get a nice price for good buys. You have to sell. We would be glad to make a bid on your wheat right on your farm and we will take care of the trucking.

Protein Feeds

We have a carload of Soy Bean Meal and Pellets that is due here in Nov. Most of it is sold but have a few tons of small pellets that are not sold. You can buy it and take it right off the car. The new carload of Cotton Cake Range Pellets due here in the first of Jan. that is not all sold. So far this year all orders booked a month or more ahead of arrival have proven very good buys. We believe that this cotton cake for Jan. at present prices is a real buy. We have a carload of Lincoln due here in Dec. that should prove a good buy. Book your orders soon and see if the prices today are not right.

Hybrid Corn

Many of you farmers have not bought all the Hybrid seed corn that you will need and most of the better numbers and kernel sizes are still available. We believe before long we will be restricted on some of the best numbers. You can book your order now and get in next April.

Hy-Line Chickens

We have some good reports on laying flocks that have been in production for a year or more and these reports are extra good. In most cases they report better than 220 eggs per hen for the twelve month period. Get your order in now and have these chicks at the time that you want them next spring.

Sudan Seed

We are in the market for a carload of Sudan Grass Seed. It must be bright and of good germination. We will reclean it.
