Ten Big Stories in Quiz for 1948 Have Been Chosen

Weather, Construction, Young People, Dedication, Sports, Top List.

The weather made the big news in 1948. The terrible condition of the county roads in the early spring was quite an item in itself. The worst hail storm on record, June 16, and one preceding on June 6 and another in late June ruined more crops in the North Loup and Mira valleys than any in the memory of men now living.

The snows of November and December brought 35.1 inches, more than usually falls in an entire winter. The blizzard of Nov. 18 was one of the worst on record. These freak storms and their far-reaching results makes the weather the top Quiz story of the year.

Second place goes to anniversaries and dedications. The Seventh Day Baptist church of North Loup and the Methodist church of Ord each made a special occasion of their 75th anniversaries, both of which came this year. Another anniversary which was not observed, was the 50th of the Ord Christian church. Among dedications was that of Evelyn Sharpfield, which drew a large number of people, many from a long distance. The ZCJBJ convention was held here this year, and could have been called an anniversary celebration, as their building was built 40 years ago.

Weather interfered with the scheduled dedications of the Bethel Baptist church in Ord, and the Catholic monument in the cemetery.

In third place we will put items of construction in the city of Ord, among which comes the municipal swimming pool. While the idea was conceived several years ago, and bonds were voted at that time, the raising of funds and the actual construction came this year. Considerable work has been done also this year on the municipal art field, the actual dedication of which is spoken of elsewhere.

More recently the city has decided upon a quarter of a million dollar expansion and development program in the light and power plant, including a large power unit and building to house it.

Fourth place and probably better, should go to the work of the young people. In this department the outstanding achievement of the year was that of J. A. Kottawa and his team of three young men, who went to Waterloo, Ia., and won the national championship in FFA work. The Livermore sisters of Burwell did nearly as well with their trip east with demonstrations of homemaking. Then there were the young folks who won high honors in their schools, who won scholarships and other prizes. Their number is legion.

Fifth place probably should be the REA, which made great strides, especially the last half of the year, and had it not been for the interference of the weather, many farms would have had light and power by Christmas. REA stories hit the front page quite frequently all through the year. They were of interest to all the farmers, and more indirectly, to the townspeople as well. The direct interest was spread over the five counties in which the REA service extends.

Sixth place is given to the many merchants of Ord who built themselves new business homes in 1948. The Valley County Implement company has its new building completed and plans to add to it in 1949. The Anderson Motor company building is completed and has been occupied for some time. The Valley Bottling company has been in its new home several months. The Valley Propane gas company has its building and tanks located on the Union Pacific right of way north of the fair grounds. The Valley county highway department has its new machine

Something Different

We would like to view the world's most beautiful face on Sunday - the trees were a fairyland of white hour frosting.

A lovely new world for a lovely New Year.

—oOo—

The snow covers all the sins of the world. All the old tin cans, the ugly car left-overs, the brush piles and garbage, all are muffled in softest white. Those "civilized" touches are obscured by nature's most marvelous raw material.

—oOo—

This appears to be going to be one of the snowiest winters ever. Perhaps I should say "is" or "has been."

I was fascinated to see an old-fashioned sleigh pulled down the street a few days ago, horse-drawn and all. Yes, it was the Glen Aubles!

It was also great fun to see youngsters bob-sledding, sliding on their sleds (on various parts of their anatomy).

The big blue bob-sled, about ten feet long, is one built by cub scouts who are now sedate (?) seniors. I think Bob Marks was chief then — and his cubs included Charles Munn, Jim Misko, Galen Allen and their ilk. They worked hard at making that sled.

Now it is being enjoyed by younger cubs.

—oOo—

Ellis Carson says it is actually safer to land a plane on skis than it is to land it on wheels.

Who would think it?

—oOo—

Well, the winter time is a grand time for old favorite foods. Good breadcrumbed cake weather — nice, soury-smelling, bubble-filled cakes, lightly browned and served with butter and maple syrup.

Good weather for chili, hotter than pepper, fat and rich with onions and garlic and beans, burning your lips in spite of the crispy crackers you crunch with it.

Marvelous "soup" weather, the vegetables steaming with a wonderful fragrant, savory, nostril-filling smell that is, when bones and meat and vegetables simmer together. That heavenly aroma also welcomes each visitor at the door, when you make a good stew!

What is nicer than to come home to a house fragrant with good cooking? What is more inviting?

I think children have a RIGHT to come home to a heady smell of good cookies baking in the oven, to the sizzle of minced pie, or fresh pop-corn.

That is the smell of home.

—oOo—

Now really — you wouldn't trade the smell of mother's good cooking for a mysterious whiff of incense, would you?

—Irma.

Nebraska Highway Needs in Recent Engineering Appru.

As was stated last week the advisory committee of 35 members recommended to the governor that the Automotive Safety Foundation of Washington be asked to loan to Nebraska the services of engineering staff members to conduct a fact-finding study of needs which would culminate in a long-range plan of road and street development.

This recommendation was endorsed by the Legislative Council. The staff members established a working agreement with the state and then undertook a study of Nebraska's economy with special reference to its influence on road use. A careful study of road and street classifications was made as a fundamental part of the over-all problem.

Engineering methods of procedure were worked out for arriving at sound estimates of state, county, township and city needs. Physical standards were set by collaboration with the State Department of Roads and Irrigation, the Nebraska Association of County Officials, and the Nebraska League of Municipalities.

On the basis of the data thus obtained the staff analyzed, screened and processed the needs as developed by the state, counties and cities. All these factors were used as the foundation for the development of a long-range program, the ultimate purpose of the survey.

A large number of responsible agencies assisted in the gathering of information essential to the study. The principal ones were: Public Works Agency, through the federal works agency, the division office in Kansas City and the district office in Lincoln; the National Safety Council; the consulting staff loaned by Automotive Safety Foundation.

The State Department of Roads and Irrigation; under this the highway planning survey; Engineering Advisory committees; also, the University of Nebraska, Department of Public Instruction, Department of Agriculture and Inspection, Railway Commission, Legislative Council Research Bureau, Unemployment Insurance Division, Game, Forestation and Parks Commission and the State Safety Council.

It may be of interest to note here that the farm and ranch business in Nebraska last year grossed nearly one and one quarter billion dollars. The people of the state are becoming more and more dependent on the quick and flexible service of the motor car. Without true power driven machinery, Nebraska's economy would be almost completely paralyzed.

It is this fact that make roadway and good roads, essential to Nebraska. The horizons of rural life have been extended indefinitely since the days of the pioneer. Then a trip to Grand Island and return took four days. Now, with a motor car and good roads, the same trip requires less than four hours.

The present winter is bringing out the fact that better fair to market roads are a necessity. Three times already the roads have been blocked. The main highways have been and are being re-opened, but many of the farm to market roads are blocked and will remain so until the spring thaws.

An efficient street and highway network all over the state is vital, not only to modern farm and ranch operation, but to urban life as well as manufacturing and industry, to various governmental agencies and to utilities and service companies.

In general, the sand hill area is devoted to cattle raising, the rest of the state to crop production. Under normal conditions the eastern third of the state has enough rain to insure a crop. The rest of the state is not always so fortunate, and this is the reason that most of our irrigation projects are found in the west and central part of Nebraska.

Two factors have a decided effect on roads in Nebraska. Excess of heat and cold, and wet and dry periods. Wet periods roads are not as susceptible to moisture as the gravelled roads, but much of the damage to bituminous mat roads is done by moisture getting under the edges freezing and cracking the surface above it. (More next week).

For the greater part of the game Eddie couldn't get anywhere. He made a yard, possibly two, was stopped at the line of scrimmage,

Holiday Business Can Be Compared to That of 1947

Weather Helped in Some Cases, and Hindered in Others, Usual Comment.

With the Christmas season of 1948 now history, the Quiz decided the buying public might be interested in how business went this year as compared with preceding years. Business in general had a high mark to shoot at, since the year 1947 set a new all time high for sales at Christmas time.

With this in mind a number of business men were contacted to get their expressions in regard to the holiday trade. These should give a cross section of how business really was. Considering the bad weather during the holiday season, which began back on Nov. 18, business was good.

Among those approached were Earl Dargatzis of the J. M. McDonald company. Bill said business was not quite as good this year as in the past, but gave two good reasons for it. This year, he said, everybody had plenty of merchandise, and business was more spread over the season. Also, with plenty of goods on hand, people could buy earlier in the season and many did not wait until the holidays to buy.

Benda, The Clothier, said business there was about the same as last year. In buying for this holiday season he did not have to take what he could get, as it was right after the war, but he could pick the best. The result was that he had plenty of good merchandise, and it is the kind that people want to buy.

Keith Lewis of J. C. Penney Company says their business was very good, fully as good as last year and possibly better. He would not know exactly until he took inventory. Bill Heuck, manager of the Farmers Store, was not certain, but thought business was just a little behind last year. The store handles a number of different lines of goods, and some of these came nearer the marks of last year than others.

Jay Brown of the Gamble Store said his business was better than last year and believes this difference was due to the fact that he had a bigger variety of better merchandise, and especially more goods suitable for the Christmas trade. He says many items were improved this year and had metal where the same items had wood last year.

Stanley Absalon of the Variety thinks business was about the same in 1948 as 1947. If there was any difference, it was the one day just before Christmas. This might have kept quite a few potential Christmas shoppers away. Al Parkos of the Ord Hardware says business was better this Christmas. Last year he had not been in business very long. He had more time and was better prepared this year.

Walt Douthit of the Package Store probably spoke the opinion of all liquor dealers when he said business was better this year than last. He thought the weather probably helped his business. Cold, disagreeable weather always does help. Walt thought people were

5 High School Grid Changes

High School Athletic Association Adopts New Rules for Football.

The National Federation of State High School Athletic associations ended a four-day annual meeting in Chicago by adopting five major football rule changes. Under the new code these rules will be in effect:

- 1.—If a foul is called during a fumble or a backward pass there will be no automatic loss of the ball.
- 2.—An out-of-bounds kickoff will not be recalled. Instead the ball will be awarded the defending team (A) which it goes out of bounds, or (B) 10 yards behind the restraining line, whichever is more advantageous. In the majority of cases, this would give the defending team the ball on its own 40-yard line.
- 3.—On a running play in which a foul is called, the penalty will be measured from the spot where the ball is declared dead, thus allowing the distance gained.
- 4.—A five yard penalty will be assessed if an ineligible receiver catches a pass behind, or in, the line of scrimmage. If he is hit by the ball but does not catch it, there will be no penalty. Previously, there was a 15-yard penalty for either case.
- 5.—During a return kick (when the receiver of a kick punts it back instead of keeping it in possession) if a foul is committed from the point where the return kick was made by the receiver, not from the point of the original kick.

doing more spending this season than a year ago.

For Lee Stores, the manager, Mrs. Syl Pafernik said that business was better this Christmas season. The grade of goods was much better especially children's toys. They were better built and cost more, which tended to make the gross sales greater. The quality this year was about like that before the war. There was a lot of last minute shopping this year. The snow helped the home merchants, as the people were not able to make many trips to other places.

Ed Beranek did not think business was quite as good in his line this year. He believes the people were buying more in the line of clothing this year because of weather conditions. Vern Stark thought business was about the same. He figures his business on a year-round basis.

Jack Romans, speaking for Roman's Transfer, stated that his business figured about 8% better this year than last, which meant they were doing more hauling. One reason, he thinks is that machinery is moving more rapidly now than it did last year.

In a story of this kind people are called at random to get a cross section of public opinion. With some reporting business between the lines, it should be safe to assume, that business in the aggregate in Ord the past holiday period was about the same as last year, which should be good enough to make everybody happy.

Weather for 1948 As Reported by Horace W. Travis

Snow to Date Heaviest on Record, More Than All Winter of '47-'48.

The weather for the year just closed is not at all unusual when seen on paper, according to the record kept by the Weather Reporter Horace Travis. It is only when viewed from observation of the actual storms themselves that anything out of the ordinary appears.

Weather conditions in the months of January and early February were not at all bad. Beginning in February and continuing through into April, wet weather conditions, partly rain and partly snow, put the country roads in such a condition that it was almost impossible to get anywhere. For some time tractors were a favorite mode of travel, and even these bogged down at times.

May Very Dry.

This wet spell was followed by a dry spell in May, but with plenty of moisture in June. Had the June fall, have been rain, all would have been well, but no less than three hail storms hit various parts of the territory in that month, with disastrous results. However, most of the farmers in the worst haled area replanted their corn, and managed to salvage a fair crop, most of which was soft.

July was none too wet, but we had plenty of rain in August, which did wonders to the corn crop. After this we had very dry September, October and the first half of November, a condition unfavorable to winter wheat. The snow fall in November and December broke all records for the first part of the winter with a total of 35.1 inches. This added to 5 inches in January, 8 inches in February and 6 inches in March, made 1948 one of the snowiest years of all time with 54.1 inches.

Heavy Snow North.

The only December on record with more moisture was in 1913, when 5.19 inches of water fell, but nearly all of this was rain. The 35.1 inches of snow so far this winter is more than fell altogether last winter, when we had 33.2 inches. The winter of 1916-17 showed a total of 39.5 inches, but this included 3 inches in April and 3 in May, months that usually have none at all. The following table gives the record by months for 1948:

Month	Coldest	Hottest	Rain	Snow
Jan.	-13	52	.52	5
Feb.	-6	66	.91	8
Mar.	-17	65	.53	6

Janus to Attend Weed Conference

The third annual Nebraska State Noxious weed control conference and equipment show is to be held in Lincoln, Jan. 12-13. Henry Janus, head of the Valley county weed control district, will attend, as will at least two members of the weed control board.

Mr. Janus will remain over for a 2-day school on the use of 2-4-D for the weed control.

The men expect to leave Ord the morning of Jan. 12. Any farmer interested in this subject is also invited to attend the meetings.

According to Extension Weed Specialist J. D. Farrer, 550,000 acres in Nebraska were sprayed with 2-4-D for weed control in 1948, and generally with very effective results. Nebraska farmers used the chemical more on their corn than on any other crop.

A break down of figures shows the following: Nebraska were sprayed with 2-4-D: Corn, 290,000; winter wheat, 125,000; oats, 78,000; barley and rye, 16,000; grain sorghum, 3,200; pastures, waterways, rights-of-way, etc., 40,000.

Total Births Registered in Past Year 122

Forty-seven Persons Died in Same Period: About the Average.

The total number of births for the 1948 showed quite a falling off as compared with that of the six years preceding. There were fewer births in 1941 by nine than there were the past year. There were 66 boys born during the year, and 56 girls. The boys outnumbered the girls in number ever since 1943.

The figures for the past several years follows:

Yr.	Boys	Girls	Total
1941	60	53	113
1942	65	66	131
1943	63	60	123

1946	69	59	128
1947	72	66	138
1948	66	56	122

The figures on deaths for the same period are:

1941	53
1942	38
1943	44
1944	40
1945	40
1946	57

Chamber to Meet Thursday Evening

The meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce which will be held Thursday evening at 8 promises to produce some fireworks. The two most important topics to be discussed have already been batted around considerably. The first one on the docket will be the proposed revision of the occupational tax, to be followed by the problem of streamlining Chamber of Commerce dues for 1949.

Ross Allen, president of the Chamber, urges that every member be present for this meeting. The Chamber of Commerce is an organization that belongs to the business men of Ord, and should in its program for the coming year reflect their opinions. In order to have it do this it is essential that every member be at this meeting.

A good film has been rented, and unless the weather prevents its arrival, the meeting will start off promptly at 8 p. m. with a show. Upon adjournment all present will be served free coffee and doughnuts. Every business man should plan to be at the Knights of Columbus hall Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Junior Red Cross Enrollment Gains

There was a total of sixty elementary school rooms and three high schools enrolled in the Junior Red Cross enrollment for the past year. The enrollments have been sent in plus $50 for the National Student Fund, to represent the entire county.

Those schools, which, besides enrollment, contributed $1 or more to the National Children's Fund were as follows: Ord High School, $10.75; Arcadia High School, $3.33; Ord Grade School, $3.33; Arcadia Grade School, $3.28; Brick District 28, Alice Beran teacher, $2.50; Blue Grass, Dist. 29, Dolly Johnson, teacher, $1.00; Hayes Creek Dist. 37, Maxine Moody, teacher, $1.50; Haskell Creek, Dist. 43, Ann Mortenson, teacher, $1.15; Dist. 58, Mrs. Darlene Staehlecker, teacher, $1.50; and Deer Creek, Dist. 70, Doris White, teacher, $1.50.

The Junior Red Cross in the county will stress the study of United Nations, Good Will boxes to children of other lands, and exchange correspondence for this year.

Special Meeting of Legion, VFW

Ord-Arcadia Game Tuesday Cancelled Because of Storm

Snow-Blocked Highway Made Trip Impossible: May Be Played Later.

Snow and high wind continues to play havoc with highways, the result being that the basketball game, scheduled between Ord and Arcadia high schools for Tuesday evening at Arcadia, had to be cancelled. Highway 57 was closed by the storm Monday night, and the wind Tuesday night again drifted the cuts shut wherever they had been opened.

Two more games are scheduled for this week and will be played if the weather permits travel on the highways. Loup City will be here Friday evening for the first home game of the regular season, and the Raiders should keep the Chanticleers busy all evening.

Saturday night the Chants are due to play at Columbus in their third contest with Class "A" teams. The Discoverers did not do too well during the football season, but basketball is something else, and a very fast game is predicted. The games against Grand Island and Hastings gave the locals valuable experience.

Protein Feeds

This cold stormy weather you should have a good supply of protein feeds on hand to supplement your hay and fodder. We have on hand a 30% pellet suitable for bunk feeding and we have Soy Bean pellets in either bunk size or range size pellets. The protein market has advanced a couple of dollars a ton the past ten days again and with this widespread storm we believe that we will see proteins much tighter for immediate delivery. We have been told of our delivery on some of our proteins will be at least 30 days late, possibly longer.

Poultry Feeds

With lower prices of grains we have been able to poultry. Again reduce the price on our poultry feeds. Remember these feeds are made from the very best formulae and they are always fresh. The price is right because we do not substitute proteins as is sometimes done when some proteins are high, and you do not need to pay a lot of freight on the grains that are used in our feeds. We guarantee that you will be satisfied with our feeds or you will return them and you will be paid for the feed.

Today we quote you Laying Mash at $3.85. Ask for prices on five bags. Growing Mash $4.00. Starting Mash $4.10. 26% Egg Mash $4.65 and 32% Concentrate $4.75; Poultry Fattener $3.75. At these prices we believe that you could well afford to buy the feed that you will need in the next few months and have it in reserve.

Cattle Fattener

Our Beefmaker contains 45% Molasses and 12% Protein. This feed is always in shape to feed; never sticky or frozen in the bags. Priced now at $90.00 per ton. This is the best molasses feed that we have ever sold.

Sudan Seed

We are in the market for another 300 or 400 bushels of real good Sudan seed. The price is not high this year but there is a very large supply of this seed. In fact, we believe that there is more than three times as much of this seed in Valley county as will be planted this coming year. Come in and sell this seed while the market is here. Remember last fall when Alfalfa and Sweet Clover was at $2.00 to $3.00 higher than it has been at anytime since.

Vol. 66 No. 42

New North Loup Minister Is Here

Shown herewith is a picture of the Rev. Carl F. Harbaur who is the new pastor of the Methodist church at North Loup and Scotia. The Rev. Harbaur will be living at North Loup. Mr. Harbaur comes from Newton, Ind., where he has been pastor of the Methodist church and a member of the Northwest Indiana conference of the Methodist Church. He is a graduate of Marshall College from which school he received his A. B. degree and from the Boston University School of Theology, which granted him the B. D. degree. He has had 18 years in the ministry of Methodist churches. He is married and has two children, a daughter nine years of age, and a son two years of age. The parsonage of the Church at North Loup has undergone extensive repairs and improvements in anticipation of the coming of the Harbours.

Report of Judge's Office For Twelve Months of Past Year

Three Men, Andersen, Ramaekers, Ciochon Were in the Office in That Time.

County Judge Ciochon has his report ready to present to the county board at its meeting this week, and has furnished the Quiz with a copy of the activities of the office for the past six months. Former county judge, John L. Andersen, filed a report for the first six months when he resigned, effective July 1, 1948.

Included in Judge Ciochon's report is the work of the late Judge Ramaekers, who acted as judge for the five months from July to November, inclusive. A total of 24 law violations were handled by Andersen in the first half of the year, and a total of $297 in fines was collected.

In the second half of the year Judge Ramaekers handled 18 cases from which he collected $186 in fines. Judge Ciochon handled three cases, all of which were awaiting his action when he took over the office, and for these he collected fines of $105.

The fines under Judge Andersen ranged from one dollar up to fifty dollars, and there were no jail sentences. Under Judge Ramaekers the fines ranged from five dollars to fifty dollars, and there were two jail sentences. The three fines assessed by Judge Ciochon were two for fifty dollars and one for five dollars.

Summarizing the year we find that traffic law violations topped the list, with the following: Careless driving, 6; improper auto license, 5; running stop sign, 4; no brakes, 2; and bright headlights, leaving scene of accident and no tail light, one offense each.

Game laws came next with four violations, one each for illegal shooting of pheasant, shooting on highway, shooting from auto and fishing without a license. Liquor law violations included six cases of intoxication, and one each of misrepresenting age to buy liquor, selling beer to a minor, and giving beer and wine to minors. Two other violations were assault and battery and selling of mortgaged property.

Since the above collections include some taxes paid that were due in previous years, some of the taxes due last year will not be paid until this year or possibly next year, the amount of taxes collected will never quite equal the amount of the levy for any given year.

Winners in Corn Yield Contest Are Announced

Custer County Men Take First and Second Place, Floyd Bossen High in Co.

Winners in the 1948 corn yield contest for this district comprising 14 counties, were announced today, Wednesday. It had been the intention to hold the finish-up meeting Wednesday evening in conjunction with a projected corn show, but the weather ruined the plans.

The names of the winners had been sent in to Lincoln to be announced in the news today. The local committee decided not to give out the names at this time but to hold them until a later date when the finish-up meeting could be held. However, the name of the high yield winner was announced, so they were all given to the Quiz.

Got 156.4 Per Acre. Winner of first place in the district was Henry Nuxall of Comstock, who had a yield of 156.4 bushels in the yellow, irrigated class. He was from Custer county, as was the second place winner, Ludwig Visek of Comstock, who had 146.9 bushels per acre. Third was Vincent Berger of Spalding, Greely Co., who had 142.9 bushels. Floyd Bossen of Arcadia had 141.2 bushels for fourth and Carraher Bros. of Spalding had 139.1 bushels.

Bossen Best Here. In the non-irrigated yellow corn class Louis Glassen of Spalding, Wheeler Co., had 133.3 bushels; Wallace Coats of Ord had 125.3 bushels; O. L. Ferman, Naper, Boyd Co., 122.6 bushels; Leo Peterson, Berwyn, Custer Co., 114.2 bushels; and Joe Hurby, Arcadia, 111.3 bushels. Winners in the Valley county irrigated class were Floyd Bossen first with 141.2 bushels, R. E. Burrows second, 131 bushels and Paul Genesid, Ord, third, 126 bushels.

Table with 4 columns: WEATHER, By Observer Horace Travis, High, Low, Precip. Rows for Thurs, Fri, Sat, Sun, Mon, Tue, Wed, Total Precip, Total Precip to date, Snow to date, Snow to date last win.

Cancelling Corn Show and Contest

Because of weather conditions which make the holding of such a gathering practically impossible, the corn show and corn yield contest scheduled to be held Wednesday evening of this week was cancelled.

C. C. Dale, county agent, and Wallace Doe, secretary of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, who were looking after the plans, announce that they hope to hold the finish-up of the contest in about a month.

Treasurer Issues 457 Licenses in First Eight Days

Also Reports on Collections For 1948; Higher Than For Preceding Year.

Bad New Year weather really cut into one of the lines of business carried on in the office of County Treasurer George Satterfield, the issuing of auto licenses for 1949. For the six business days ending Saturday evening, Jan. 8, only 457 licenses had been sold.

In the same period of 1947, ending the evening of Jan. 8, the number sold was 1024, well over twice as many. It will be recalled that the winter a year ago was quite open, and it was possible for farmers to get into Ord from practically any part of the county. This year, to date, hundreds of autos are stuck at home.

Collection of taxes for the year 1948 is well ahead of 1947, but it will be remembered that there was a corresponding increase in valuation in 1948. Figured on a comparative basis, collections are about the same for 1947. The levy for 1948 was $578,304.96, and for 1947 it was $514,553.36.

Figures for the first half of 1947 on tax collections, $223,051.95; for the last half, $288,302.77. For the first half of 1948, $228,745.29; for the last half, $315,412.58. This figures a ten percent increase in taxes collected and about eleven percent in levy increase.

Since the above collections include some taxes paid that were due in previous years, some of the taxes due last year will not be paid until this year or possibly next year, the amount of taxes collected will never quite equal the amount of the levy for any given year.

County Board Meets; Elects E. Smith Chairman for '49

Joseph Kamarad, Elected From Dist. 2, Unable to Attend; Highway Closed.

The Valley county board is meeting for the regular January session this week, with six members in attendance. Joseph Kamarad, elected to succeed Jas. V. Suchanek in Dist. 2, has been unable to get to Ord because of blocked roads.

Mr. Kamarad lives in the northwest corner of Liberty township, fifteen miles from Ord. While his normal route is along the Ord-Comstock highway, the road is blocked so completely that he is not able to get through.

Mr. Suchanek still represents his district until his successor is elected and qualified. Kamarad is not yet qualified, but will be as soon as he can take his place on the board. Mr. Suchanek, believing he was no longer needed, did not come to Ord for the session this week.

Smith Re-elected. First in the order of business was the reorganization. The members of the board were well pleased with the work of E. V. Smith as chairman for the past two years, so he was re-elected to that position. Mr. Smith represents the 3rd district. The rest of the session will be devoted to routine business.

Another new member is E. O. Schudel, who represents the 6th district, comprising Enterprise, Davis, Creck and Independent townships. He takes the place of R. E. Psota. Mr. Schudel is 53 years old, was born in Illinois and has lived in Valley county for 33 years.

Family Man. He is a farmer and stockman living southwest of North Loup. He is married and has three children living; one daughter, Dorothy, died a few years ago. Harold, the oldest, is married to the former Paula Jones of North Loup. They live at Corvallis, Ore., where he is with the college of agriculture.

The other two are the twins, Mavis and Maynard. Mavis is married to DeLyle Jefferies and they are living on a part of Mr. Schudel's farm. Maynard lives on the old home place and is married to Margaret Arnold, daughter of Rev. Arnold of the Ord Evangelical United Brethren church.

County Chairmen Chosen For 1949 March of Dimes

Veterans Plan to Hold Dance to Raise Funds in County Polio Campaign.

Plans are well under way for the March of Dimes campaign in Valley county, according to Miss Clara McClatchey, who has been appointed county chairman. The campaign begins officially Friday, Jan. 14 and ends Jan. 31. Plans call for a new record this year, and Miss McClatchey believes that this can be achieved.

Mrs. Ross Allen is vice-chairman for the county and will look after the campaign in Ord especially. Mrs. Ign. Pokraka will look after the campaign in North Loup and Dist. 42. For Arcadia Mrs. Mettenbrink has been appointed chairman. Mrs. Irene Kapustka will look after Elyria.

In the rural areas the teachers will look after the campaign personally in their districts, or will appoint some one to see that this is done. Due to the present condition of the roads in the rural areas, some difficulty may be experienced in getting started promptly but it is hoped that the weather will moderate before the end of the month.

Monday night Dean Misko, dance chairman for the VFW and American Legion, contacted Jimmy Barnum by phone and arranged to have his band here for Monday night, Jan. 31, under the auspices of these organizations for the benefit of the March of Dimes. This band features Johnny Soyer as vocalist.

Money Still Ready For Elimination of Coyotes in County

Fund For This Purpose Much Larger Than Last Year. Pests Numerous.

There is enough money on hand in the coyote bounty fund, according to County Clerk Leonard B. Woods, to pay the bounty on 541 more coyotes. County has already paid out $29,000 in bounty money for coyotes. It seems to be plenty more in the county needing to be killed.

Last year the amount appropriated for coyotes was $750, enough to pay for 300 coyotes. This had all been paid out by the first of the year 1948. This year the appropriation is $2,000. With the deep snows making the finding of food difficult, the coyotes are becoming bolder, and should fall an easier prey to the eagle-eyed hunters.

Over in the Spalding territory a group of men have been hunting coyotes from airplanes, which is an expensive, but effective way of disposing of them. At last reports they had killed more than one hundred and fifty of the pests, which are easily spotted against the snow. The hunters are raising a fund to help out on the expense.

Swimming Pool $19,000 Pledge Paid in Full

Veterans Deliver Final Check to City Thursday; Obligation Made 13 Months Ago.

A pledge of $19,000 in cash, made 13 months ago by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion to pay construction costs of Ord's swimming pool, was paid in full Thursday by the veterans' groups.

John Wozab, commander of the VFW, and Cork Biemond, commander of the Legion, presented a check for $19,000 to Mayor F. L. Blessing to fulfill the war veterans' obligation. "Magnificent Gift" "A gift of $19,000 is wonderful from any standpoint," Mayor Blessing said in accepting the check for the city. "But when it comes from a group who have already sacrificed so much offering their lives and limbs in devotion to their homeland — the gift is nothing less than magnificent."

Former Mayor Pleased. M. B. Cummings, former Mayor, expressed his pleasure in learning that the veterans had paid the pledge in full. "I served as Mayor when their pledge was made, and accepted it on behalf of the city. It was the only way the swimming pool could be built without additional burden on the taxpayers, and I think the veterans did a fine job," Mr. Cummings said. "I appreciated their co-operation then, and now that they have proven their word was good, I appreciate it all the more."

Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mavis Clement were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benda, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zukoski and Bob Grove.

Miss Rosalind Northway Dead

Miss Clara McClatchey received a telegram Tuesday morning telling of the death of Rosalind Northway at Northway in Lincoln.

Miss Northway was teaching in her sixth year in Ord high school. Her subjects were history and normal training. She taught until the Christmas holidays, but had been in poor health for more than a year.

Her funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at the Hodgman Mortuary in Lincoln.

Banks Show Loss In Deposits and Loan Gain For Year

Five and One-half Million Placed on Deposit With Four Banks of County.

Statements of the four banks of Valley county giving their financial condition at the end of the year 1948 are being printed in the Quiz this week, or were printed last week. These banks are the First National and Nebraska State banks of Ord, the North Loup Valley bank of North Loup, and the Arcadia State bank.

The combined total of deposits in the four banks was $5,564,449.91. For the year before the amount was $5,557,119.31, showing a loss in the year of $93,269.35 or less than 2%. Loans for last year in the four banks totaled $1,861,122.20 and for the year before $1,740,853.53. This makes a gain in loans of $120,268.67, or more than 8%.

The decrease in deposits is no cause for alarm. Clark Weckbach of the First National bank states there are two reasons for the decrease. He says that the weather has prevented farmers marketing stock and other items that would normally have been put on the market and the money deposited in the banks. Also there are many loans out on stock which accounts for the increase in loans and the decrease in deposits.

Before the November election he says that the deposits were much higher than they were when the report was made.

Crop Donations in County Are $2100

At the close of the year C. J. Mortensen, county treasurer for CROP, sent to the state CROP office a check for $205.88, representing payments made after Dec. 17.

This, added to the amount already sent in, made a grand total of $2,106.11 sent in from Valley county for this worthy cause. Rev. L. V. Hassell was county chairman for the drive and Miss Clara McClatchey was chairman for the city of Ord.

Funeral services were conducted Friday morning at the Steele Funeral Home in Loup City for Lee Williams, 26-year-old farmer who committed suicide at his home late the preceding week. Williams, a single man, was found Sunday afternoon by his brother-in-law, James Gray of Arcadia, at his home ten miles northwest of Loup City.

He had used a 200 caliber rifle, and the bullet had passed through his head, striking the wall behind him. He had been seated in an arm chair, in which his body was found. His father, Wes Williams, committed suicide a year or two ago after a long illness. He is survived by three sisters, Alice, Mrs. Ed Hruby and Mrs. James Gray, all of Arcadia.

Final Payment Made on Swimming Pool

A final payment of $1,000, presented to Dr. F. L. Blessing, Ord's Mayor, by John J. Wozab and C. Biemond, commanders of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion respectively, completes the veterans' groups pledge of $19,000 for the construction of Ord's swimming pool. The check was presented the city Thursday.

"This is one of the finest demonstrations of public spirited action that has ever happened in the city," Dr. Blessing said. "On behalf of the citizens of Ord I want to thank our veterans from the bottom of my heart. Our swimming pool would have not been possible without their gift, and it now represents not only a money but also a community in they took up arms in de"

Chamber to Push Occupation Tax Before City Dads

Sets Dues and Budget Same as Year Before. Reserve Fund Built Up For Future.

By a vote of 11 to 8, members of the Ord Chamber of Commerce decided to present a new occupation tax ordinance to the city council at their next regular meeting and request its adoption.

The new ordinance, modeled on the present occupation tax ordinance, eliminates a number of occupations from taxing and sets up stiffer fees for other lines. Certain classes of itinerant merchants, such as traveling photographers would be taxed $75 per day under the proposed ordinance.

The vote was taken after lengthy argument by members of the chamber with Jack Romans, local truck operator and M. B. Cummings, salaried owner and former mayor leading the argument against the tax, Almond Brox, local grocer and Ross Allen, implement dealer, speaking for the proposed ordinance. About a third of those present participated in the voting, the remainder passing both positive and negative votes.

Has $1000 Surplus. The chamber ended the year with about a thousand dollar surplus in the bank, auditors report revealed to those present. "We'll probably have good use for this money," Chamber president Ross Allen said. "There are a lot of things coming up that will take money — for example, bringing natural gas to Ord, the community hospital, or the fight against water diversion."

Members voted to keep Chamber of Commerce dues the same as last year and to adopt approximately the same budget of expenditures, $1,200. Last year's dues collections amounted to slightly over $1,000, the surplus coming from savings made in estimated expenditures.

Program Announced Soon. Various committees of the Chamber will soon have their plans outlined for 1949, and the program for the year will soon be announced, Allen said. At the present only two broad objectives are slated for action, natural gas and the hospital project.

Local Farmer Makes Mercy Flights

Blizzards and blocked roads didn't prove too much of an obstacle for Emil Smolik, local farmer. A private pilot with 300 hours in the air, Emil has made a large number of trips the past week, hauling groceries, mail and medical supplies to his neighbors, and making emergency trips to out of town points. — Swopes Photo.

Emil Smolik's Ski Plane Is Answer to Blizzard Travel

Local Farmer Makes Many Trips Over Country to Aid Friends and Neighbors. Emil Smolik's ski plane has proven the answer to hazardous travel and blocked roads during blizzard weather. Mr. Smolik, local farmer has made at least a dozen trips flying mail, groceries, medical supplies and tractor chains to his neighbors, in addition to long distance flights to other points.

Included in his itinerary during the period Ord and the surrounding community have been isolated was a trip to take Ernest Zabloudil from Ord to his farm home to take care of his stock. Mr. Zabloudil, father of Ord's first baby of the new year, had been stranded in town since January 4.

Another trip brought Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bricker from their farm home to town, where they could make bus connections to York to attend the funeral of Mrs. Bricker's mother.

One flight planned for Smolik to haul rush newspaper engravings from Ord to Grand Island where they could be mailed, had to be cancelled when a second storm closed the Grand Island airport.

It has been impossible to take off land on the Ord airport the past two weeks without skis, nor is it possible to land anywhere in the farm area around Ord without skis.

Smolik's air observations over the country include several snow plows stuck on country roads which he says are drifted as badly as he has ever seen them.

AP Plans Flight Survey Need

A series of civilian air patrol flights over the Ord and Burwell vicinities is planned for Wednesday and Thursday, according to Bill Steen, local CAP leader. The flights will be made in a plane which he says will be made over a thirty mile radius from Ord and Burwell. Local flyers will fly the plane in shifts.

This is largely a survey to determine storm damage and to locate emergency cases. The plane will fly low over the farm areas, and if the occupants signal their need of help, the plane will land.

Will McDermott of North Loup Is Dead From Heart Attack

Survived by One Brother, Three Sisters and Many Nieces and Nephews. William McDermott, 78, died suddenly Monday evening while out getting fuel at the farm house of his brother, Frank McDermott, about four miles west of North Loup. He and Otto Schoning made their home in a small house a few rods from the Frank McDermott home, and he was attending to his usual chores when he was stricken.

William McDermott, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John McDermott, was born at Strator, Ill., and came to the North Loup neighborhood with his family when he was fourteen years old. His father acquired the farm west of North Loup, and William lived there for a period of 61 years. He had never married.

Surviving are one brother, Frank, and three sisters, Mrs. Susie Small of Soda Springs, Ida, Mrs. Mary Wall of Eau Claire, Wis., and Mrs. Anna Watts of Grand Island; also a number of nieces and nephews and a large number of friends. His parents, one sister and three brothers preceded him in death.

The funeral is to be held at 2 p. m. Thursday, weather permitting, at the North Loup Methodist church, with Rev. A. C. Ebert of the Seventh Day Baptist church in charge, and burial will be in the North Loup cemetery. The list of pall bearers is not definitely known as this is written. Hastings-Pearson mortuary has charge of arrangements.

3 New Directors for Fair Ass'n.

The Loup Valley Agricultural Society succeeded in holding its twice-postponed annual meeting Monday evening at the court house when a small group of stockholders braved zero weather to furnish a quorum. Major business was election of three new directors, these being Henry Janus, A. J. Auble and Archie Geweke.

President E. R. Horner presided and a joint secretary-treasurer report was given by Secretary Ed Armstrong, showing that the 1948 fair went "into the red" approximately $1,500, if improvements to grounds and buildings are taken into consideration.

A Home For Young Dan

By MAUDE NORMAN

ALONG the highway trudged a girl. Cradled in her left arm was a blanket-wrapped bundle. From her right hand swung a heavy suit-case.

A car braked to a stop as she paused to rest. "Want a ride?" the driver called.

The man opened the car door, taking the suit-case from her hand. "Say, that weighs a ton!" he exclaimed. "Don't tell me that's a baby you've got there."

"I'm going to my husband's people. They're really not his own people, but they raised him."

"How come they're letting you walk? It's none of my business," seeing her quick flush, "but a fellow can wonder, can't he?"

"They don't know I'm coming," she said. "But I had no other place to go and I thought they might let me stay and work for my board. I want my baby to grow up in the country where he can see things growing, instead of being cooped up in one room in the city."

"That's rich. You're leaving the city for the country and I'm doing just the opposite."

"You mean you're leaving all this?" her hand indicated the green fields they were passing. "Looks pretty, doesn't it? But there's a lot of hard work goes with it."

"You work hard in a city too." "Sure—but you know where you're at. Here, you work your head off, then a freeze comes along or a hail storm or something and all your hard work is gone. I used to have great plans about what I would do on my farm when I got out of the service. Say, what's the matter with him? Is he sick?" as a loud wail issued from the blanket.

"No, he's cold and wet and hungry—and—" her voice broke, "so am I, hungry, I mean."

With an annoyed exclamation he turned the car around. "I didn't intend going back," he scowled, "but I can't stand having that poor little tyke cry like that."

"Where are you going?" she asked, hushing the baby.

"Back to the farm—to give you a chance to take care of the baby and rest a bit yourself. You needn't be afraid, my aunt and uncle are there."

"I'm not afraid," she retorted. "You look just like a picture my husband had of a buddy of his, only your hair isn't red as his must have been, because Dan always called him 'Red'." She smiled. "He was always talking about his wonderful Red."

"The car almost went into the ditch. Say, what's your husband's name?" "Dan Webster."

"Well, I'll be darned! No wonder your face is familiar. You're Sally! Dan had a picture of you he was always showing me. So you're Sally! What d'ya know!"

"You're not—"

"Sure, I'm Red. The fellows called me that because my face gets red so easily—Say—where is old Dan? We lost sight of each other when he was sent to the Pacific and I was kept in France. Why are you alone? He's not—?"

She nodded.

Red was silent until they had turned into the driveway of a pleasant old farm house. "Here we are," he said cheerfully, getting out. "Take care of young Dan and I'll have Aunt Sarah fix you a lunch of those eggs and that milk you were talking about."

"And you're leaving all this," she breathed, "for the city."

"Nope, I've changed my mind. I guess all that was wrong with me was I was lonesome. I've been thinking. Dan was my best friend and I don't believe he'd mind me taking care of his wife and baby—that is, if she's willing. How about it, Sally? I know it's a crazy thing to ask. But somehow, I think Dan would rather you would stay here and help Aunt Sarah than go to those slave-drivers. And who knows what will happen in a year or so. After all, young Dan will need a father. I think you'll like it here, Sally."

Sally raised misty blue eyes. "Yes, I think Dan would be pleased," she said softly.

Texan Claims He Is Jesse James; Pal Greet Him

OAKLAND, CALIF.—Al Jennings, 85, the oldtime Oklahoma train robber, was brought face to face with a Texan who says he's Jesse James—and exclaimed, "It's him!"

Jennings took one long look at J. Frank Dalton, or James. His voice choked and his eyes filled with tears.

"It's him," said Jennings. "That's the face. My word of honor." "Boys, there ain't a bit of doubt on earth. This here is Jesse James!"

San Leandro civic officials brought Dalton here by plane to feature him in their rodeo. They invited Jennings, too. Jennings who took to the lecture circuit after his imprisonment a generation ago, makes his home in Southern California.

Dalton's story resurrecting the old outlaw—supposedly long-a-molding in a Missouri grave—first was made public when Dalton announced that he was the famous desperado.

Secret Question
Jennings said before the meeting he could prove whether the old man was Jesse James by a single question dealing with a "shootin' match" of long ago on a ranch in West Texas.

The only person who knew about that match, he said, were himself, one other man—and Jesse James.

As the two met, the eyes of both filled with tears.

"Do you know me, Jesse?" asked Jennings.

The other nodded his head vigorously. His voice broke as he said: "You bet. You won a shootin' match on the old C Dot E ranch." Jennings grabbed him by the hand.

Killed by Gang Member
History says Jesse was killed at St. Joseph, Mo., in April, 1882, by Bob Ford, a member of his gang.

Dalton says that's all nonsense, that the man Ford killed was "a Pinkerton feller named Charlie Bigelow." After the shooting, he decided to disappear.

Jennings said he was frankly skeptical about the old man "until I asked old Jesse some questions nobody but him and me could've known."

The two had a rambunctious reunion, as their conversation paraded the ghosts of long gone bandits of the Southwest.

"We're a-goin' right over the same old trails," said Al. "Boys, there ain't no doubt about this. This is old Jesse sure."

Expedition Uncovers Relics Of Early Man in California

LITTLE LAKE, CALIF.—Campsite remains of California's Dawn Man have been discovered two miles north of Little Lake in Inyo county.

The human bones and arrowheads found at this "closest approach to a city" may date as far back as 15,000 years.

The uncovering of prime historical importance has excited archeologist of an expedition from the Southwest museum. Their director, Curator Mark R. Harrington, says that for the first time "Pinto Culture" relics have been found in a positive, original location, undisturbed by the elements for more than 3,000 years.

The camp is on the lava-walled banks of a long vanished river that once ran south from glacier-fed Owens lake. A waterfall was then nearby, and a commodious lava cave was used for shelter, centuries before later-age Piute Indians came along and etched their own drawings on the dark cavern walls.

"They must have had a good life," Harrington said, "for when the glacier began melting, during either of the pluvial eras, this was lush, green, wooded country."

Victims of Texas City Blast Sue U. S. for Ninety Million

HOUSTON, TEX. — Uncle Sam was blamed in the Texas City explosion to the tune of more than 90 million dollars in lawsuits.

Eight suits totaling $55,208,446 including a 50 million dollar claim by the Monsanto Chemical company, were received here by the federal district clerk for transfer to Galveston, where trial of the cases is scheduled.

Monsanto's suit alleged the government "had knowledge of the potential hazards" of the ammonium nitrate, but that it was packed and shipped from government plants while "innocently labeled fertilizer."

The claims seek damages for deaths, personal injuries, property damage, reimbursement for insurance payments, recovery of profits lost by plant destruction and damage and loss of services of technically trained personnel killed in the disaster.

Texas City officials listed 512 persons killed or missing in the disaster. An estimated 3,000 were injured.

Similar suits already on file at Galveston exceed 35 million dollars while an additional $1,068,450 is involved in suits filed at Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and St. Louis.

Attorneys predicted the final figure may exceed the 100 million dollar mark.

neither with leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Corinthians 5:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Jesus' history made a new calendar, which we call the Christian era; but he established no ritualistic worship. He knew that men can be baptized, partake of the Eucharist, support the clergy, observe the Sabbath, make long prayers, and yet be sensual and sinful." (p. 20).

How the Other Half is Living

Emory Roy, 71, of Bartlett was found frozen to death near Bartlett Sunday of last week. It is believed he froze in the storm of Dec. 28 and 29, but his body was not found until Monday of this week. Neighbors shoveled a road to the cemetery and the mourners made the trip in horse drawn rigs, and auto travel was impossible.

No school was held in the Scotia consolidated schools from Dec. 23 until Monday of this week. The country roads were so badly blocked that the busses could not get out to bring in the children. The Scotia school authorities called the weather bureau at Grand Island Monday morning of last week and were advised not to send out the busses.

One of the oldest of the old timers in Nebraska lives in Albion and he observed his 102 anniversary Jan. 7. He is Calvin Kitchen. He was born in Wisconsin and came to Nebraska in 1901, living in and around Bartlett until 1940, when he moved to Albion.

Short wave radio stations helped out last week again when the storm cut off communications with the state. Two of these, which proved very useful were the ones located at Ravenna and Burwell. The operator at Burwell, Bill Becker, an employee of the municipal light plant, is also the local weather forecaster.

Three former Greeleyites passed on last week. James Curren, 67, died at Broken Bow and was buried at Oconto. James McFadden, 71, died in a Yankton hospital, and was buried at Yankton. Mrs. Dennis Donovan, age not stated, died in Chicago and was buried there.

Norman Jensen, a brother of Bryan Jensen, St. Paul clothier, fell on the ice in St. Paul and fractured his hip. He was taken in the ambulance to an Omaha hospital, where the break was described as a very bad one, which will take a long time to heal.

At York a warrant was issued out of county court for the arrest of Marvin Pearson of Burwell, who was charged by the York Livestock Commission company with giving a check in the amount of $1,297 in payment of purchases, which did not clear at the Bank of Burwell.

The Quiz received rather unusual proof Saturday of how the storm last week blocked the roads and halted traffic. The Custer County Chief published at Broken Bow, 58 miles away, puts out two editions each week, Monday and Thursday. Both editions arrived together Saturday, although the first edition nearly always arrives Tuesday morning. The new school building at Theford will be built by the Broken Bow firm of Brown and Denesia at a cost of approximately $55,000. The old building was condemned a few years ago and the district has been holding school the best they could since that time, the high school classes meeting in the Thomas county court house.

The Lincoln-Wyomere motor car was badly damaged by fire in the yards at Lincoln last week. The mail compartment was gutted by fire and all the mail destroyed by fire. The Crete News carried on a New Years baby contest and the winner, a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mass, arrived just four minutes after New Year day.

Near Pilger last week a flock of crows were seen attacking a pheasant. Apparently the pheasant was weakened by lack of food, and the crows were probably made bolder for the same reason. Mr. Pont of the Stanton Register drove the crows away, and found the pheasant apparently unharmed.

The new Elm Creek Seventh Day Adventist church was to be dedicated at special services Saturday and Sunday. Roger Carpenter of Overton fell out of his father's car while it was traveling at about 60 miles per hour, and apparently was not hurt in the least, his heavy clothing probably protecting him.

A new Nebraska all-time record yield for hybrid corn was set on a one acre plot by Max Coash of Silver Creek, who harvested 159.59 bushels in a contest held by the Farm Journal and Schrock Fertilizer service. Other large yields have been reported, but these were from plots of at least five acres.

Bill Lundy Passes At Lincoln Home

James W. "Bill" Lundy, 76, was buried in Lincoln Tuesday. Much of his life he was a resident of Custer county. A pioneer in water development in Nebraska, he built the Lundy hydro-electric power plant six miles west of Sargent at Doris lake.

He was mayor of Sargent 1920-21, was elected to the house of representatives in Nebraska in 1921, serving for two years. He was known as the father of U. S. highway 83, running north and south through central Nebraska.

He was an Odd Fellow and a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. He had lived in Lincoln for the last twenty years, holding various jobs at the state capitol. He was at one time director of information.

Social Security Administration

The Federal Security Agency states that about 2,300,000 persons in the United States are receiving payments under the federal social security program at an average monthly rate of almost a million dollars. This is $25,000 more than were receiving payments a year ago.

"The social security administration believes it is feasible to extend social security coverage to employments now excluded, such as farm work and domestic service in private homes, as well as self-employed persons," said Mrs. Verna Rankin, manager of the Grand Island office.

AROUND THE STATE.
By George S. Round,
Extension Editor, Uni. of Nebr.

Nebraska was famed throughout the country for its Pasture-Forage-Livestock programs for years. Some folks called it P-P-F-L and others "Piffle." It had as its basic objective — the balancing of livestock and feed on farms and ranches.

County extension agents in Nebraska had charge of the educational program. Every year, the program culminated with a big P-P-F-L finishup in Omaha. We recall meeting hundreds of some of the state's best farmers there, fellows who really put new farming-ranching practices into operation.

Those folks included Ralph Raikes of Ashland, a good farmer who was trained in chemical engineering but later became a good livestock farmer. Ralph, incidentally, was on the European tour of Nebraska farmers recently. There was Neal Barbour of Scottsbluff, Delmar Anderson of Lexington, Frank Allington of Blue Springs, Fred Krueger of Gilead and hundreds of others. These folks were honored in the P-P-F-L program.

Now, the P-P-F-L has been discontinued as it was carried on in the past — but the Omaha Chamber of Commerce has a national Pasture-Forage-Livestock conference scheduled in its place on Thursday, March 10. Among the speakers will be Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan. The entire program looks interesting and it will be open to the public.

And, thinking about the "hot stove" league series of farm gatherings during the winter months reminds us of the state weed conference ticketed for Lincoln on January 12 and 13. There farmers and others will see the latest control methods and hear a lot of good speeches. — Reading of farm and home bulletins and farm magazines is always up during the winter months — Twenty-two farmers in Nebraska in the ten-acre corn yield contest produced more than 100 bushels of corn to the acre. That was unheard of not so many years back in the Cornhusker State.

Travelling the highways these winter days makes one a bit careful when the roads are icy and slippery. We didn't mind the road conditions in days gone by but somehow or other — we hesitate to make those long drives over the countryside that we used to do with ease. Maybe it's a sign of age creeping up on us. — Look for an announcement shortly of the development of a new red-type potato for the western commercial potato growing areas. Dr. H. O. Werner, the potato man here at the College of Agriculture, is the "papa" of the variety. He was given plenty of assists though by other scientists at your University of Nebraska.

At this writing it is not known who will replace the late L. I. Frisbie as state 4-H club leader in Nebraska. Glancing through 4-H club records for 1948 reminds us that boys and girls in this work continually are realistically "making the best better." Those youngsters really set up records for the rest of us to shoot at — It won't be long until that State Wheat Show will be held at McCook and Chet Swinbank reports entries of wheat samples rolling in rapidly. The wheat show will again show that the quality of Nebraska grown crops is equal to the quality of those grown in any part of the United States.

Glenn Viehmyer of the North Platte station of the U of N is a quiet guy who believes that a little beauty around the countryside would be good for everyone. He recently came out with three new mum varieties for Nebraska.

Here's a bulletin in which a lot of folks may be interested. It is Extension Circular 1419, "A standard poultry laying house." F. E. Mussehl and E. A. Olson are the authors. The publication presents plans and descriptions of standard laying houses. Also lists equipment needed for the houses. Your county agent should have copies available — free of charge.

Sugar Still Scarce
World sugar production in 1948: totaled 10,600,000 tons, which was below prewar levels. Java, the Philippines and Formosa have not yet made much recovery toward sugar production.

Schultz Anniversary.

W. H. Schultz celebrated his 93rd birthday and he and his wife also celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary the same day. The day was a quiet one for both, except for cards and telephone calls. Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Schultz and their two daughters, Mary and Barbara had planned to drive up from Omaha for the day but the weather and roads being what they were they compromised by sending them a bouquet of red roses, which Mr. Noll of Ord delivered in the afternoon. Telephone calls from their two daughters, Mrs. Olive Millican, Mrs. Ruby McGlinley and their son, Duane, of Torrance, Cal., and the Halsey Schultz family of Omaha were bright spots of the day.

Mr. Schultz is perhaps a little less active than he was last year when the Quiz reporter remembers calling on Mr. and Mrs. Schultz, but the weather is much different than the same date last year for we well remember that John Ward took their picture and it was warm enough that they stood outside for the picture. Last year Mr. Schultz was making the daily trip from his home to the postoffice, but this winter has been confined to the house more closely because of the weather and slippery walks. One great concern of both Mr. and Mrs. Schultz at present is the fact that their grandson, Leighton McGlinley, is in a hospital on Okinawa from severe burns suffered in a bad storm there.

For some of you large farmers that have a large investment of machinery, a lot of which you do not use more than 20 to 30 days a year, like combines and harvesters. Let me show you a business with no more investment that will work all the time and turn a profit all the time. It is a Gasoline and Oil Business, one of the best in this country. We might trade for a small farm in on the deal.

(I wonder who will be Alexander and Cookie?) The Aldrich family has in it Pat Wozniak, Amelia Penas, Edna Miska, Agnes Valla, and Dixie Stone. The Foster family is made up of Luella Christoffersen, Dorothy Blaha, Carol Struckman and Gladys Rice. For our breakfast we had cinnamon toast, stewed apricots and cocoa.

With A Song
(by Coralee Anderson)
Calling all teenagers! Girls, here is a party YOU give. This is a party for a mixed group, and it's based around song titles of recent years.

Greet your guests with the music of your favorite recording, to give them the mood for fun.

Then — a lively game of charades to start the ball rolling. Let each guest (or each couple) draw a card, bearing a song title, out of a hat. You might give a prize for the song guessed in the shortest time. Many songs fit the simple requirements of this game, from "Old Black Joe" to "I've Got You Under My Skin."

Serve a lunch later using old records for trays. Glasses of "Blue Champagne" (soda pop with a shade of coloring added) and "Shoo Fly" pie would carry out the idea.

Wind up the party with your favorite pastime — dancing to the strains of the music we love best.

Value of Soaps
Soaps have some germicidal power, especially when used with hot water, but this power is rather limited. Cleaning with soap and hot water kills some of the less resistant disease germs but the effect is largely mechanical through removal of dirt and infective material.

Learning to Cook.
(By Dixie Stone)

We are learning to cook and we have chosen groups to work in. We each chose a name for our family. The Banquet family consists of: Betty Blaha, Lillian Penas, Reta Cronk, Ina Fae Jorgensen. (I wonder who will be Alexander and Cookie?) The Aldrich family has in it Pat Wozniak, Amelia Penas, Edna Miska, Agnes Valla, and Dixie Stone. The Foster family is made up of Luella Christoffersen, Dorothy Blaha, Carol Struckman and Gladys Rice. For our breakfast we had cinnamon toast, stewed apricots and cocoa.

With A Song
(by Coralee Anderson)
Calling all teenagers! Girls, here is a party YOU give. This is a party for a mixed group, and it's based around song titles of recent years.

Greet your guests with the music of your favorite recording, to give them the mood for fun.

Then — a lively game of charades to start the ball rolling. Let each guest (or each couple) draw a card, bearing a song title, out of a hat. You might give a prize for the song guessed in the shortest time. Many songs fit the simple requirements of this game, from "Old Black Joe" to "I've Got You Under My Skin."

Serve a lunch later using old records for trays. Glasses of "Blue Champagne" (soda pop with a shade of coloring added) and "Shoo Fly" pie would carry out the idea.

Wind up the party with your favorite pastime — dancing to the strains of the music we love best.

Fouts - Cahill

In a candlelight ceremony in the Seward Presbyterian Church on January 1, Miss Ruth Fouts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Fouts of Lincoln became the bride of Hugh Edward Cahill, son of Mr. Fred V. Cahill, Sr. of Portland, Ore. The wedding service was solemnized at eight o'clock in the evening on the thirtieth wedding anniversary of the parents of the bride.

Rev. Thomas Barton of Second Presbyterian Church of Lincoln read the lines of the double-ring service. The chancel was flanked with cedar and the altar centered with a lighted cross was flanked by pedestal baskets of giant and miniature white chrysanthemums and by seven-branched candelabra. The pews of the bridal aisle bore corsages of white pomposes.

Mrs. Hugh Cahill

Miss Jeanette Dolezal of Seward at the console used the traditional Lutheran recessional. She played Schubert's "Ave Maria" as background music during the ceremony. Tapers were lighted by Miss Jean Blaha of Ord and Miss Shirley McFord of Ames, Ia. Miss Jean Dierberger sang "Through The Years" and "D'Harlot's 'Because' preceding the service and as a benediction the hymn "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin. The long sleeves of its fitted bodice tapered to points over the bosom of the hands. Its sweetheart neckline was bordered by a yoke of seedpearls. The full skirt terminated in a sweeping train. The bride veil was a halo braid of white satin from which fell a rain-length veil of pearls illusion. The bride's only ornament was a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Marjorie Fouts of Omaha served as her sister's maid of honor. Her gown of emerald green faille taffeta was fashioned with a fitted bodice, three-quarter sleeves and a rolled Queen Anne neckline. Its full skirt was draped in back to form a double bustle. A coronet braid of the same material crowned her headpiece. Mrs. Neil Fouts of Husker was bridesmatron and Miss Mary Ellen Richert of Clay Center as bridesmaid wore gowns of pearl green faille taffeta fashioned on the same lines as that worn by the maid of honor. All three carried colonial bouquets of xantho bronza chrysanthemums.

Arthur Larsen of Grand Island served as best man. Dr. F. V. Cahill, Jr. of New Haven, Conn., brother of the groom, and Edwin Jirak of Ord were ushers.

The bride and groom wore a gown of royal blue crepe with sequin trim. Her corsage was an orchid.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Miss Averil Fouts of Spokane, Wash. poured and Mrs. J. T. McLaughlin of Seward cut the wedding cake. They were assisted at the serving table by Mrs. George Zentmire of Homer and Mrs. S. H. Bridenbaugh of Lincoln. Assisting in the dining room were Misses Mary Ellen Cottrell of Omaha, Elaine Flowerday, Nelda Duer, Marjorie Gade, Shirley Geddensmeyer and Lois Bachelder of Seward. Miss Jean Foster of Seward was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's going-away costume was a spruce green suit with black accessories. Her corsage was a purple orchid. The couple will make their home in Portland, Ore., where both will attend college.

Ord Drops Games to Loup City 28-24, Columbus 38-34

Both Games Tied Often But Chanticleers Lack Needed Scoring Punch.

The Chanticleers dropped a couple of heart-breaking games the past week. Friday evening they lost on the Ord floor to the Raiders from Loup City by a score of 28 to 24. The next day they went to Columbus, where they dropped another thriller by a final score of 38 to 34.

The Ord squad was playing without the valued assistance of Paul Stoddard, who has been sick. The Chanticleers had all the better of the argument with Loup City being either ahead or in tie until the last one and one half minutes. At that time the score was 21 to 20 for Ord.

Two baskets and a free throw gave the Raiders the four point margin and the best Ord could do was to keep them from getting farther ahead. Richardson of Ord was high point man of the game, with 16 points. Thode of Loup City was high for his team with 12 points. The score by quarters was: first, 3 to 3; half, 9 to 5; for Ord; third, 15 to 15.

In the Columbus game the score was tied 5 to 5 at the quarter, 16 to 14 for Columbus at the half, 22 to 22 at the third period. Ord outscored their opponents from the floor, with 16 field goals to 13, but lost on free throws. Columbus made good on 12 out of 23 chances, while Ord got only 2 out of 7 chances.

Fouls called in this game were decidedly uneven with 18 called against Ord and only 7 against Columbus. Columbus was good at charging and Ord did more blocking, but the fouls were being called on blocking, which made it tough for the home team. Richardson made 18 points for Ord and Welsh, a guard, made 16 for Columbus.

Hogs Off to $1.50 Big Run Is Cause
Hogs broke 75c-$1.50 Monday at Omaha as receipts topped the 25,000-mark. It was the most hogs on sale at Omaha in any one day since May, 1944, or in any other year. Butchers weighing 150 to 360 pounds sold at $1.70-$2.00. The $2.00 top was lowest since Oct. 14, 1946, the last day that OPA ceiling of $1.50 prevailed. North Loup Loses, 23-35 at Spalding
Showing little of the form that won them the Loup Valley pre-season tournament in December, North Loup went down to defeat at the hands of Spalding Academy in that town Thursday evening, by a score of 23 to 35.

While the playing of the Chanticleers was not up to usual form, there is no discounting the fact that Spalding has a fast, quick-breaking squad and will be found right up among the leaders at the end of the season.

Ed Krikac, Is a Champion Liar

Recently the Liars Club of Burlington, Wis., announced its winner for 1948. The first place lie came from Canada, but Ed Krikac of the Comstock News was one of the three runners-up. This is what he told:

"In Nebraska cyclones can develop and strike with very little warning. One day I was mowing alfalfa when I saw a cyclone headed for me. Before I knew it the horse, mower and myself were all in the air, and I was horror stricken, because the cyclone was heading right toward my farm buildings.

"My rare presence of mind saved the situation. The mower was still in gear, and before we were carried very high, I whipped up the horses and cut that cyclone in two so close to the ground that what was left was only a light breeze."

Nebraska Closed Shop Law Valid

The Nebraska Closed Shop law, which has been under fire for some time by labor unions, was recently described valid by the supreme court of the United States. Under the law membership in a union is not required for employment in a shop. The unions have long declared this provision would ruin the unions.

No less than thirteen states already have laws against the closed shop, and others are considering the passage of such legislation. The decision is especially important in the effect it will have on contemplated labor legislation by the 81st Congress, now in session.

Chinook Wind Once Common

Everybody in the west knows what a blizzard is, but only a few know much about that blessing of winter, the chinook wind. It is not as common in Nebraska as it was in the early days, but it comes from time to time, in winter, and frequently hits in early March to hasten the coming of spring.

The chinook may be described as a warm wind from the west, northwest or southwest, which usually comes in winter or early spring. It is a current of warm air that has made its way over the Rocky mountain chain from the warmer air near the coast.

The most recent of these hit this territory Wednesday and Wednesday night. The wind had about died down by Thursday morning, but the effect continued on through the day and melted a large amount of the accumulated snow. The temperature was near zero at 10 p. m. Tuesday night, but the wind that night, the next day and the next night kept the temperature rising.

The effect of a chinook wind when it hits with full force is almost beyond belief. One hit northwest Nebraska the first Saturday in March, 1935. There was ten inches of packed snow on the ground when the wind started blowing at about daylight, and by sundown the snow was all melted on the level, with only an occasional drift showing here and there.

The wind and the sun work together during a chinook, but the wind melts much more snow than the sun does. This can be proven by the fact that the snow in the shade, where the sun cannot affect it, melts almost as fast as it does in the sun. Like its antipode, the blizzard, the chinook wind does not come as often as it does in the old days.

The development of windbreaks and shelter belts had a tendency to slow down the winds that in the early days were the terror of the settlers. One has only to compare the force of a winter wind in the open spaces to that where it is broken by a grove to realize the value of trees in softening the storms of winter.

APRIL SHOWERS.
"The Marquee of the Miller theater in Atkinson presented an incongruous sight early this week. A pile of snow in front of the theater nearly obscured the current billing, "April Showers." - O'Neill Frontier.

Chicago Tribune Lauds Tunnicliff

The Quiz is in receipt of a clipping from the Chicago Tribune, sent by Maynard R. Beuhhausen of Kankakee, Ill. The clipping tells an incident of Eddie's life in Ord some may have forgotten.

In 1930, when Eddie was four years old, he fell into a fire in the yard and burned his leg so badly that it was feared he would never run again. He was wearing an old shin guard to protect the scar tissue on that leg when he made his run in the Rose Bowl.

As a tank driver in Germany he lost part of the third finger of his right hand when his tank was hit and blown to pieces, so he had to learn the art of passing a football all over again. Eddie has another year at Northwestern, and he expects to keep on wearing that shin guard.

It is usually customary to make some reference in passing to the Blizzard of 1888 which reached its 61st anniversary Wednesday of this week. Commonly considered the worst blizzard of all time, it is more than probable that the recent blizzard in western Nebraska and Wyoming exceeded it in severity.

It takes three elements to have a real blizzard, much snow, high wind and extreme cold, the latter usually coming after most of the snow has fallen. There is no question but that the blizzard of 1888 had all these. It is also true that more lives were lost in Nebraska in proportion to the total population than in any storm, before or since.

The recent western Nebraska storm had the famous blizzard beaten in two of its elements and possibly in the third. The amount of snow was the greatest in the history of that part of the state. The wind is reported to have blown at from forty-five to sixty miles per hour. Finally, the thermometer registered below zero by the time the storm had blown itself out.

There were many factors which aided in keeping down the loss of life, practically all traffic out in the storm was on the main highways because earlier snows had blocked the side roads. The people were thus able to "Hole up" until the roads were opened. Because the weather had been stormy before, people were prepared for a storm.

Of recent years the public has learned to listen to and heed, storm warnings put out by the weather bureau. Travelers heard the storm warnings on their auto radios, and many heeded them. One really bad feature of the storm was the fact that it came just right to catch hundreds of people returning from the Rose Bowl game.

It is now time for the public to forget the blizzard of 1888 and start telling about the storm of 1949, which was much worse. To date the winter of 1948-49 has never been equaled in the amount of snow that has fallen to date. If the trend continues, this winter may well set an all time high in that respect.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

At this season of the year we people of the Christian faith are prone to believe that everybody in the world is joining us in the Spirit of Christmas. As a matter of fact, not more than one third of the people of the world pay much attention to it. The greater part of the people of Asia, for example, are Buddhists, Brahmans, Taoists, Mohammedans or followers of Confucius. Spinkled among them is a small percentage of believers in the Bible and of those, quite a number believe in the old testament only. Strictly speaking they believe in the Talmud. I am referring now to the Jews. Since they do not believe in Christ, they do not accept His teachings as found in the New Testament.

This reminds me of a teachers' meeting that was held in Ord a long time ago, in the high school building, I believe, and it must have been during the first world war. I was there, and my recollections of the time is rather faint. One thing I do know, and that is that the speaker for the occasion was an orthodox Jew, a Rabbi. A minister gave the invocation, and he was careful to make his prayer broad enough not to offend the priest. A song leader got up and led the teachers in a stirring song everybody knew pretty well, and the Rabbi made his speech, which was one of the finest moral talks I ever heard. He was a master of words and evidently knew his subject.

I was writing for a daily paper at the time, and I had a talk with him afterward. I recall that he commended the minister for his consideration and the audience for their careful and courteous attention. Then he added: "I am not easily offended. If I were, I would not be on the lecture platform. But there was one thing that did not set too well with me. That was the song they sang. With so many inspiring songs to pick from, why did the song leader have to pick that one for this occasion?" Then I remembered and understood. The song they had sung was: "Onward Christian Soldiers. Hardly a song that an orthodox Jew would enjoy or appreciate.

A safe driver recently gave as his recipe for driving safely "Drive as though every driver you meet is crazy". Perhaps they are not all crazy, perhaps only one in ten or one in one hundred is a really careless driver. But the man driving along the highway has no means of knowing just when that careless driver will be coming along. This safe driver might have added "Drive like all the pedestrians, the kids on bicycles, the drivers of teams, and everybody else you meet is crazy also."

Like the old man who made the headlines last week, driving along the highway with a wagon and team. The horses were both killed, the wagon destroyed, and the man was scratched up a little bit, just because he was taking his share of the road right out of the middle. Naturally the auto was badly damaged also. This man might not have been crazy, but he certainly was careless. Kids like to ride down the street too abreast, which is more companionable, but illegal. They like to ride in circles in the middle of the street. They like to ride on the sidewalks. They like to ride at high speed, throw on the brake and skid to a sudden stop. If they were only risking their own lives, it might not be so bad, but many a car has been wrecked, and many an owner killed because he tried to keep from hitting a careless bicycle rider. How do I know? I wore out four bicycles when I was a kid.

Walking along the highway, I have plenty of opportunity to see how drivers react when they meet a fellow on foot. Some of them move over toward the middle of the highway, which is all right if nobody is coming from the opposite direction. Others cling to the right side, and the guy on foot steps out on the shoulder, which he should do in any case. Also, it is surprising how many people insist on walking on the wrong side of the highway. The rule is to always walk against traffic. Then the fellow you have to worry about most is in front of you and you have a chance to get out of the way. In bad weather give plenty of clearance, the rig you are meeting might skid at the wrong time. Then remember that snow and rain are constant hazards. Neither the driver nor the pedestrian can see too well. The other morning I stepped over to the right to give an approaching truck plenty of room. Just as he went past my feet skidded to the outside and the top end went inside, my head missing the body of the truck by a foot or less. If I hadn't made plenty of allowance when I stepped over it would not have been funny at all. I never was hit by a truck, and I do not want to start by butting my head into one.

Be that as it may, too many fellows go driving down the highway looking for all the world like an accident about to happen. Too many scolded drivers pull into the middle of the road and stay there until they meet somebody. There is no excuse for it on a truck but on a car, if you will notice the truckers, the fellows who are on the road more than anybody else, may hug that center line, but they stay on their own side. Even if you are the only fellow on the highway, you will not get away with it. You are entitled to that part of it the law permits you to use.

At this time and in this place, I wish to extend a word of appreciation to all those drivers, especially in winter, who take a chance with a fellow on foot and give him a lift. I know what it means in my own case, and I am only one of a sizeable army of people who may be found afoot on our highways almost any time. Like the occasional careless driver, the occasional dangerous pedestrian has made the job of giving a fellow a lift a hazardous enterprise. How often we hear the remark: "If I knew him, I might give him a ride." Yet I have been picked up many times by people I never heard of before. The killing of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew May, 2nd, last year caused more unnecessary miles of walking than anything that ever happened in Nebraska, before or since.

Internationally speaking, there may not be too much "Peace on Earth" but this was the biggest Christmas period in the history of America. More Christmas cards went out than ever before, more Christmas gifts were mailed, and doubtless more than ever were bought for use at home. There are Christmas parties for the little folks and Santa Claus was more in demand than ever before. More foodstuffs were being sent overseas by more people than ever. Incidentally, more money was spent for gifts for two reasons. This year's gifts were more expensive and more people bought more substantial and useful gifts than in the past. Personally, I had more money spent on me this year than in all the years put together when I was a kid. And that goes for a lot of other fellows, too.

This column was written on time, but was held over last week because of lack of room. Unlike most papers, the Quiz plans to use home written material for filler. If we are over set, something has to be left out. This column is usually so written that it does not get too much out of date. I am like the man who had eggs for sale. "Are they fresh?" asked a customer. "Sure," he replied, "my hens never lay any other kind."

Something Different

One place where I don't think Ord citizens get quite as good treatment as they deserve, is on holidays.

The single people — male and female — who are left to shift for themselves on these special days — they don't like it.

By this I mean, restaurants so often close, locally. In place of fixing a fancy dinner at a fancy price, and helping these solitary folk to celebrate, what happens? The joint closes up and of course this is fine for the help, who doubtless need a holiday too.

But some older people are left quite desolate. With no place to cook or perhaps not even the knowledge, they are about reduced to crackers and a quart of milk. Little more Ord cafes are developing a little more progressive attitude toward this situation, than they have had in years past.

—OO—

Another holiday gripe: We should have matinees on special afternoons, don't you think? I mean at the movies.

—OO—

Yes, yes, I know. Here I can't run my own business but I can tell everyone else what to do!

—OO—

Then I wish we could have children's movies, you know — six cartoons on Saturday morning!

—OO—

The Red Cross does keep busy. All these disasters recently have had them on the hop.

A Rapid City, South Dakota, the Red Cross put ten planes aloft, to seek out those suffering from the effects of the Big Blizzard.

—OO—

Planes had their uses here too. Old Mr. Polak started for town but burned out a clutch on his car and after several hours of cold and trouble returned to his farm home.

Though the phone lines were pretty well tangled up, he at last got word to town of his plight.

They were going to be unhappy for they needed coffee and he wanted some tobacco!

His son-in-law, Dillo Troyer, promised that a plane would try to get up and fly over the Polak farm, dropping the wanted supplies.

There's Years of Skill in Our Meat Preparations

There are years of skill, experience and training back of the selection of every piece of meat we put in our display case.

You see, we don't care about selling the ordinary kind of meats — cutting them up any old way — in order to make a tremendous noise about prices and so forth.

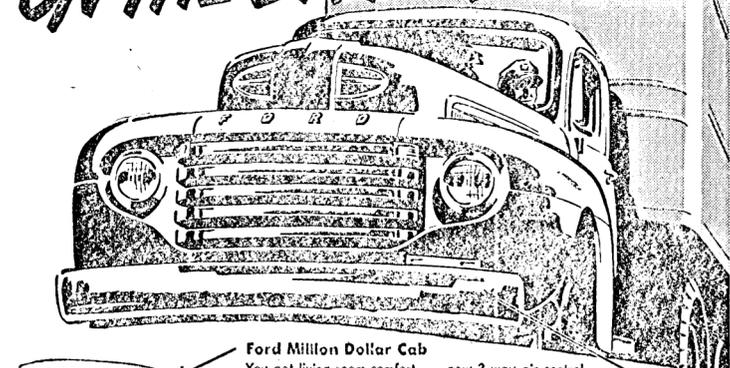

Our choice of meat goes right back to the feed yard, where many of the best young steers and porkers raised in this area are fattened to perfection. These are butchered skillfully and aged properly.

That's the way we are able to maintain the uniform high quality of our meat... a quality that has given this little market on the north side of the square quite a reputation.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA — John C. Phillips Braved Zero Weather to Bring Relief to Fort Phil Kearney

By James C. Olson, Supt. State Historical Society. No sooner had his rider reeled from him and staggered into "Old Bedlam" than that gallant animal dropped dead of exhaustion on the parade ground.

On Christmas night, 1866, old Fort Laramie, guardian and outpost of the overland trail provided the setting for one of the most intense and heroic dramas ever enacted on the western frontier.

The mercury had plunged to 25 degrees below zero, but inside "Old Bedlam," the officers' club, all was warm and gay with the festivity of a Christmas celebration.

Suddenly out of the frozen darkness a gaunt, swaying figure, swathed in a buffalo coat and covered with snow staggered into the midst of the celebration. He gasped that he had important messages for the commanding officer, and collapsed on the floor.

This man, John C. (Portugee) Phillips, had ridden all the way from Fort Phil Kearney, 235 miles away, with word from Colonel Henry B. Carrington that the Indians were besieging the fort, and that if help failed to come soon the entire garrison, including women and children, was doomed to death.

The attack on Fort Phil Kearney was part of the Indian effort, under the leadership of Chief Red Cloud, to drive the white man off the Bezenan Road, freight and emigrant route from the Platte Valley to the gold fields of Montana. Fort Phil Kearney had been built only the summer before to furnish protection for travelers on the road.

With the situation desperate without help from the outside, Portugee Phillips, a scout and hunter, had volunteered to risk his life in a ride through "bedlam" and the Indians to take the news to Fort Laramie. His only stipulation was that he go on Colonel Carrington's prize Kentucky thoroughbred, the fastest horse at the post.

Reinforcements immediately were sent out from Laramie, and when they arrived at Fort Phil Kearney, they found the garrison alive and well. The sub-zero weather which had endangered Portugee Phillips' life had prevented the Indians from making an attack.

Phillips recovered from his wild ride and continued his life as scout, hunter and general handyman around our western military posts. Very tardily, his heroism was recognized by the government.

Colonel Carrington never got his prize thoroughbred back, though. Charter No. 13557 Reserve District No. 10

Nebraska Highway Needs Shown in Recent Engineering Appraisal

Third installment: — Nebraska grew up with the automobile. At the time of the invention of the horseless carriage the state was just emerging from pioneer status and its roads were mostly the old section line roads and cattle country trails. In those days the state had no road system. Each county had its roads and they were largely independent of the roads in adjoining counties.

The automobile was destined to change all this. The transition from that status of the roads to what we have today is so drastic that even the most far-seeing of men could not have envisioned it. It is true that the few men who really looked into the future gave us some premonition of what was to come, but they were told their ideas were either idiotic or insane and nobody paid much attention to them.

The earliest road law in Nebraska was that which made all section lines available as roads.

The law did not establish them as roads, but merely made them available. It was up to the citizens interested and to the county board to see that these roads were opened up. The reason is obvious. Many section lines were and are absolutely unsuited for road needs, especially in the hilly sections. Also many miles of section lines lie in the beds of Nebraska rivers.

In contrast to states of greater age, Nebraska has been able to avoid the more drastic readjustments of the older states. This has been a great advantage in some respects. This has been true especially in the cities both in the streets and where streets are used for highways. Streets in Nebraska average wider than they do in many places further east. They are wide enough to use as they are for arterial highways.

In some eastern towns it has been necessary to move buildings back or even tear them down in order to make room for a standard width highway. In pioneer days a street 24 feet wide could handle the horse and buggy traffic. In days of slow travel people did not need much room to pass or to park. The coming of the automobile changed all this, but it found Nebraska towns with streets wide enough to use without much change.

Further, the law provided for roads four rods (66 feet) wide when laid on section lines. Because of this provision most roads laid elsewhere were made the same width to conform to those already laid out. County Road Commissioner Tracy Hamilton states that all county roads in Valley county are 66 feet wide. With the exception of a few township roads for the accommodation of a few, township roads are also this width. He believes that there are a few side roads as narrow as 10 feet wide, but not many.

Through the past forty years our road system has been established along modern lines, and needs little change from what it is now to accommodate the road needs of the future. What our Valley county system needs and must have, is development of the roads we now have. There are two major needs apparent and important. One is the raising of the grade on many of our roads, especially those running east and west, and making some provision for preventing cuts through the hills from blowing full of snow in winter.

The use of snow fence has proved effective much of the time in cutting down the amount of snow that drifts into the roads. An occasional storm, like that of Nov. 18, 1948, will clear the snow that should stay behind the snow fences and pile it all in the roads. In many places the grade of level county roads is lower than the ridge on either side. In these places the snow is certain to drift whenever the wind blows. What is true of Valley county is true of every county in the state. No road program which did not take into consideration the problems created by extremes of heat and cold, of moisture and drought, of blizzard and cloudburst, would be worth much. Likewise no program which did not consider road development over a period of years should be considered. It is also important to consider the road problem in the correlation of different parts of the state, and of Nebraska with surrounding states.

We in Nebraska are fortunate in that our soil in most parts of the state is ideal for use as a road bed. This is true with the exception of the sandhills area, and there it has been proven that it is not easy, but possible to build good arterial highways. The cost of equally good ranch to market highways, considering the taxable value of the land, would be prohibitive. However, the sandhills can travel his roads in wet weather when clay roads would be impassable.

Physical factors must be given consideration in planning for the future of Nebraska highways. There are three principal river systems, the Niobrara, the Platte and the Republican. The soil begins with the heavy black muck of the Missouri river bottoms, and gradually lightens to the west and northwest until the bad lands of extreme northwest are reached, where little or nothing can grow.

The rainfall is heaviest along the Missouri and diminishes to the west. The same thing is true of the elevation, which runs from less than four thousand feet in southeast Nebraska to more than five thousand in a place or two in the panhandle. Over all the state are to be found temperatures which vary from more than 100 degrees above in summer to as much as forty below in winter.

All these factors have to be taken into consideration in building highways and roads. This is especially true with regard to temperature. Paved roads are made with expansion joint every 24 feet or near that distance. If this were not done the paving would buckle under extremes of temperature and soon ruin itself. Black-top seems to stand changes in temperature pretty well, except when moisture gets under it and freezes, which cracks the top and ruins it.

Graveled roads seem to stand temperatures well, but the gravel slides off the grade in extremely dry weather and goes down into the clay and gets lost in wet weather, requiring a new coating of gravel every few years. Gravel roads are cheaper to build, but require regular maintenance, which more permanent roads do not.

There is but one safe guide to the construction of highways and roads, and that is the amount and nature of travel over them. To this factor must be added two others: the added amount of travel the making of a new road may attract; the increased traffic which will come from natural development. It is only good judgment to expend double the amount of funds on a highway that has double the amount of traffic. The nature of the traffic is important. It takes a heavier load to stand up in those areas where there is a preponderance of truck traffic. — (To Be Continued)

When You and I Were Young

Ten Years Ago — Rev. C. Shumski was installed as pastor of St. Mary's church of Elyria. He is now at Scotia. — Central Nebraska Postal employees held a meeting in Ord. — Mrs. Elizabeth H. Dumond, 81, died at the home of her son, Charles Burdick, in Ord. — A joint session of the village board of Burwell and city council of Ord was held at Ord to talk over the power situation. — Ole Severson, 81, died Jan. 9. — Joe Barta resigned as secretary of the Irrigation district and Guy Laverly was appointed in his place. — An option was secured on the Fort Hartsuff property from the owners, Ben and Tom Augustyn by Attorney Clarence M. Davis. — Lou Bodyfield was appointed a commissioner in Garfield county in place of the late Vic Johns.

Twenty Years Ago — John Kell, jr. was the first baby born in 1929. — E. C. James was elected head of the Valley county board of supervisors. — George Munn, county attorney, gave annual report showing he had collected $10,000 for the county. — The preachers of the Loup valleys held a special session in Ord. — David Wigent, 70, resident of the county since 1877, died. — Peter Hallen, 70, proprietor of a battery shop and former electric light manager, died in Ord. — The manager of the Farmers Telephone company promised that Ord would have a new automatic telephone system in the near future. — Achievement certificates were given 33 Valley county young people for outstanding club work. — Carl Dale announced that 4-H baby beef club was to be formed.

Thirty Years Ago — F. J. Vopat, manager of the Ord Seed Co. and also a real estate man, contracted with the Quiz to use plenty of advertising space for the coming year. — Roberts, who had been Valley county agent up to that time, left for his former home at O'Neill. — C. C. Dale came on the scene in his place about Feb. 1, 1919. — Ben Gesecking was manager of the Horde elevator in Ord. — Tommy Fuson had been discharged from the service and was once more singing with his company, the Plymouth Singers. R. L. Dunham had assumed his duties as cashier of the Farmers State bank of North Loup. — Alvin Blessing was the new president of the Farmers Mutual telephone Co. O. P. Bailey was secretary-treasurer. The board members were Blessing, Bailey, W. J. Hather, Charley Arnold, John G. Bremer and P. E. Pocock.

Forty Years Ago — (Ord Journal) Hallock and Watson had sold their barber shop to a young fellow from Cincinnati named Street Yarnell. Watson was going to Dakota, where he had been one of the lucky land winners. A group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Waters met to wish them good luck in their new home as they were moving to Boise City, Idaho. — Miss Victoria Wisla left for Sargent, where she was to clerk in a general store. Today she runs a linotype for the World-Herald. — H. M. Davis, editor of the Ord Journal, had been appointed first assistant clerk of the state, and was already on the job. — Bert Needham and Ralph DeWelle were building a home for Charley King on his farm south of Ord.

Fifty Five Years Ago — A judgment of more than $7,000 was rendered against Valley county for failure to pay a series of bonds issued to John L. Means for building a bridge across the North Loup river at Ord. The reason they were not paid was that the commissioners believed that a double set of bonds had been issued. — Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mount arrived from Lincoln and Mr. Mount had accepted a position as bookkeeper in the Ord State Bank. A fire swept the middle of the north side of the square and destroyed a harness shop, two restaurants and a billiard parlor. — Only officials were: L. S. Fritz, county treasurer; Vincent Kokes, county clerk; A. V. Mensing, sheriff; F. C. Cummins, county judge; D. McCall, county superintendent; J. M. Klinker, coroner; Wm. Hill, county surveyor.

Sixty Five Years Ago — The Quiz was offering old papers at 50 per dozen. They would be worth a lot more than that now. — Joseph Jackson of "The Forks" (Burwell) bought 286 sheep at North Loup at $2.75 a head. — Cleveland Bros. had rented the new Harter building and were stocking it with dry goods and groceries. — Haskell had bought the Pales building and planned to move the Quiz into it. Does anybody know where this building was? — The Quiz boasted of reaching every nook and corner in Valley county as well as the surrounding counties, and of using 35 quires of paper each week to publish. The Quiz today uses more than ten times that amount of paper, is all home print instead of half, and is read by seven times as many people.

The number of hunters this year is estimated to be near 12 million. — PIE CRUST — A new pastry cloth will soon be available. Made of plastic, the dough is placed between two sheets, rolled, the top removed and then the bottom peeled off after the dough has been placed in the pan. Rolling pin and table remain clean of flour.

This great commercial herd is entirely of registered Hereford origin. It consists of the old registered herd of Ed Lavender, famous in this area for the improvement of Herefords in early years and purchased by Harry E. Nis, who, while continuing the use of registered Hereford bulls on the commercial cows, did not keep up the papers. They are all well-marked cows, weighing from 1,300 to 2,000 pounds, with plenty of acute — good broad-backed cows, bred to calve starting in March. Indicative of the very high quality of these cattle is the fact that the calves last year topped the Denver market, selling at $30, for the highest all-time figure to that date on the open market at Denver.

A Program of Education All Can Approve

A chief function of the Nebraska Division, U.S. Brewers Foundation, through its educational program, is to urge strict enforcement of the law by public officials and strict observance by tavern operators.

To accomplish this goal tavern operators are regularly visited and informed in such important matters as (1) good tavern conditions, (2) accepting community responsibilities, and (3) meeting all obligations that go with the privileges granted under a beer license.

Meetings are held with dealers to which citizens and local officials are invited to discuss local community problems and how to improve them.

This continuing industry-public educational program has long proved effective and will, of course, be pursued during the coming year.

REA Electricity Comes To First Farms Here

Municipal Plant Energizes Lines Over REA Sunday

Manager Allen, Mayor Blessing, President Foth all Participate.

The drama of rural electrification in this area came to a climax Sunday, when energy from the Ord municipal light plant was sent out over the REA lines. Rural lighting became a reality 48 minutes later when the Willard Conner home southwest of Ord became the first to receive electric energy.

It really began on Saturday. About 4 p. m. that day, W. P. Hollands, REA coordinator, was called to the Ord light plant by the manager, George Allen, who wanted him to be present while the voltage to be sent out over the lines was checked.

Mr. Hollands thought at first it would be all right to proceed with the energizing Monday morning, but Mr. Allen was to be out of town on Monday, so arrangements were made to have the ceremony take place on Sunday.

Mayor F. L. Blessing was called and at 2 p. m. Sunday he closed the switch which sent the energy out over the line. As is customary on momentous occasions, the Quiz photographer, Ed Swopes, was present and took a number of pictures.

From the plant the group went out to the Willard Conner home. Foreman Chet Austin climbed the pole and did the connecting up and Will Foth, president, turned the switch that brought the juice into the house. It was then up to the Conners to turn on the lights, and they went from room to room, trying them all.

The group had a wonderful reception at the Conners. Mrs. Conner was especially enthusiastic and the little daughter Lynne, now 5 1/2 years old, had the time of her life. Mrs. Conner told them she had filled the kerosene lamps that morning and wondered how many more times she would have to fill them.

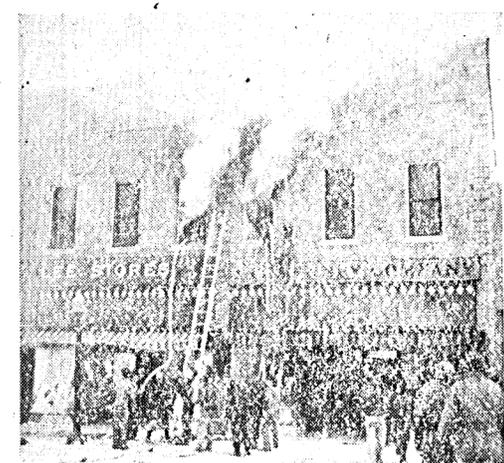

Neighbors Puzzled. From the Conner place the group went on to the Lew Jost farm, where the same ceremony was gone through with. That night both families turned on their yard lights and had the neighbors calling to find out what had happened. Also with the group were board members Schudel and Radke.

The first farm was energized at 2:46 p. m. Sunday. At the meeting the preceding Thursday members were asked to submit guesses as to the time at which this would happen, and the guesses ranged all the way from Jan. 13, the day of the meeting, to July, 1950. John L. Koll guessed 10:01, one minute past ten a. m. Sunday and won the prize, an electric steam iron given by Breadthauer Motors of Scotia and Burwell.

Corner Market, New Store

Mrs. Ted Slobazewski has bought the rest of the John Boran stock of groceries, and is starting a little grocery store in the Jerry Petka home at 1605 Q street. The opening date is uncertain, but she hopes to be ready to open by Saturday, Jan. 22. The store will be called "The Corner Market."

Firemen Quench Blaze in AAA Offices

Members of the Ord Volunteer Fire Department took care of a $1,000 blaze in the AAA offices Tuesday afternoon in short order. Near zero temperatures froze all the department's hose lines shown in the picture.

And The Lights Go On!

Electric lights flashed on in the Conner farm home when little Lynne Conner, 5 1/2 years old, pressed the button. Her dolly, Connie, watches with interest.

Senator Carson Introduces 1st Bill This Week

Measure Will Prohibit Capital Punishment If Legislature Adopts It

While some of the old timers in office have been introducing bills by the dozen in the legislature, Senator Hugh Carson, representing this district, has been biding his time. This week he introduced his first bill, one that, if adopted, would prohibit inflicting capital punishment in Nebraska. Senator Carson seems to be doing all right for himself, in view of the fact that he is a new man on the job. He drew committee appointments on the Government, Labor and Public Health committee. Later when the public health committee elected officers, Carson was chosen as vice-chairman.

In the first nine days of the session, no less than 199 bills were introduced. Of these 46 were introduced in whole or in part by the Douglas county delegation. Of these J. V. Benesch of Dist. 6 and Charles F. Tvrlik of Dist. 7, both in Douglas county, introduced the most bills. The first bill introduced on the opening day, Jan. 4, was that of Ed Hoyt of Red Willow, William A. Metzger of Cass and Arthur Carmody of Hitchcock. This bill and bill No. 2, by the same authors, would revise, adopt and establish a code of laws for the State of Nebraska relating to schools.

Memorial Building Directors Named

Directors of the Veterans' Memorial Building Association, a joint group incorporated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion for the purpose of constructing a community building in Ord, were announced this week by the service men's organizations. On the board are John J. Wozab, E. R. Apking, Alfred Hill, Ed Jensen, C. Bemond, Vernon Nay, Harry C. Zukoski and Carl Weckbach. Treasurers of the corporation are C. J. Mortensen and Clark Weckbach.

Fire Sweeps AAA Office Tuesday

Loss Estimated at $1,000 to Fixtures, Building, and Stock of Two Stores.

A blaze, which Fire Chief George Anderson believes was caused by internal combustion, swept through the Valley County AAA office late Tuesday afternoon, causing an estimated $1,000 damage to the building, fixtures, and stock of two Ord retail stores. The AAA occupies a three room suite of offices in the two-story building owned by Miss Lulu Bailey of Ord. The fire swept through the center room of the suite, burning a large counter and storage case, ruining an adding machine, and charring a large stack of aerial pictures used by the AAA in compliance work. Floor of the center room was also charred, some plaster water-soaked and walls of the suite smoked. The Lee Variety Stores and J. C. Penney Co., which occupy the lower half of the building, received minor damage to merchandise in their window displays from smoke and water.

Janus, Skala, at Weed Conference Held in Lincoln

Governor Addresses Banquet; School for Weed Identification.

Henry Janus, supervisor of the Valley County Noxious Weed district, and John Skala, a member of the board, went to Lincoln last week to attend the Nebraska annual weed conference, which was held there Jan. 12, 13, 14 and 15. A banquet was held at the Cornhusker Hotel Tuesday evening which was attended by five hundred men for all parts of the state. Governor Val Peterson was the guest speaker at this meeting. Mr. Skala remained only two days, but Janus stayed over for a school which was held on the last two days.

The school was largely along the line of weed seed identification, but there was also a short course in the engineering department on the use of wood spraying equipment, and closed with half a day on seed cleaning and treating. Lloyd Smith, Nebraska state seed supervisor, handed in his resignation, and a group of personal friends, in number 34, of whom Mr. Janus was one, tendered him a banquet in the Lancaaster room at the Cornhusker. Governor Peterson and Rufus Howard were supposed to appoint a man to take his place this week.

Emergency Plane Signal

Farmers and ranchers isolated by storms and needing help should display these signals, the Ord unit of the Civil Air Patrol announced this week.

Circle with cross in the middle: Please Land.

Circle with horizontal dash in the middle: Medical assistance needed.

Circle with letter "F" in the middle: Food needed. According to Bill Steen, CAP commander, the signals should be tramped in the snow, and need be big enough only to be seen from a low flying airplane. Ten to fifteen feet in diameter would be plenty large, he said.

150 Watt Radio Station to Be Located Here

CAP to Operate Unit; Red Cross to Furnish Funds for Communications Set-up.

A 150 watt radio station which will broadcast messages and announcements on a frequency of 2374 kilocycles will be installed in Ord soon, possibly by the first of February.

The station will be operated and managed by the Ord unit of the civil patrol, and can be used for emergency communications, general warnings, and other messages of an emergency nature. Purpose is to establish a permanent communication set-up when the town and surrounding territory is isolated by storm or flood.

The Will Cost $300. The Ord chapter of the American Red Cross will furnish the $300 necessary to buy the transmitting equipment, Ed Armstrong, local chairman, announced.

The state civil air patrol will buy the equipment for the town, install it and supplement equipment with their local membership. The CAP will also attend to legal tangles in obtaining a broadcasting permit, operator's license and so forth.

Short Wave Only. According to state CAP headquarters, in telephone conversations with the local membership, equipment to be sent here is powerful enough to cover the state in the daytime, and most of the United States at night. Similar units are to be installed in Grand Island, North Platte, Crete, Norfolk, Omaha and possibly several others.

The broadcasting frequency, 2374 KC, is short wave, but can be picked up by any radio set in the area having more than one band. Installation of the equipment here came through a letter to the Quiz from Col. Rudy Mueller of state CAP suggesting that this newspaper conduct a drive for public subscription to raise the $300 purchase price of the equipment. The Quiz contacted Glen Auble, local Red Cross disaster chairman, who sold the idea to the Red Cross board of directors.

The heavy winds have blown the snow all off in some places and even blown dirt from the tops of ridges and covered the snow on the south slopes until it looks like ground, but there is plenty of snow under this dirt.

Ord's Civil Air Patrol Making Mercy Flights

New Group Proves Worth in Short Order; Delivers Food, Medicine, Help to Farmers.

At least ten flights over snow bound areas, making an aerial survey and delivering such items as food and medicine where needed, and delivering personnel, have been made by the Civil Air Patrol the past week.

The Amos Grant ranch north of Ord in Garfield county, entirely isolated by huge drifts, there was not enough help to take care of the stock. The patrol flew in additional men to help with the work.

The ranch uses a large quantity of food, much was flown in, also needed medicine. A number of flights to other isolated farms were made. Most of them were found to be getting along all right except that food is running short.

150 Messages Dropped. Survey flights were made all over Valley county, the west half of Greeley and practically all of Garfield county. About 150 messages were dropped to farms seen to be isolated. If storms continue, these places will signify their needs and supplies will be flown in.

Quite a number of local men have been taking part in these flights. Among them are Cork Bismond, Richard Marshall, Emil Smolik, Vernon Nay, Ellis Carson and Ed Swopes. Swopes took some pictures of some of the more interesting sights he saw, and he also gave the following data about rural conditions:

About the only roads open are the main highways. He saw only one farm road that had been opened, and this had been drifted full again. All east and west roads, especially in the hills, are drifted full, especially in the cuts.

Field Travel Possible. Farmers are getting out by taking down fences and going through the fields and around the places that are drifted shut, getting back on the road wherever it is passable.

Farmsteads, most of which have trees and shelterbelts, are filled with drifts, many of which seem to be 12 to 14 feet deep. Some places show no signs of life at all, and others have little paths leading to the barn and other buildings.

Swopes said it is of interest to notice the amount of cattle in the snow where they have wandered over to some haystack or other place of shelter. Most of the stock he saw seemed to be in good shape and to be standing the weather well.

The fliers saw a lot of pheasants. In one flock there were about 35 and all of them seemed to be getting along all right. They did not see any dead birds anywhere, but these would probably be covered with snow.

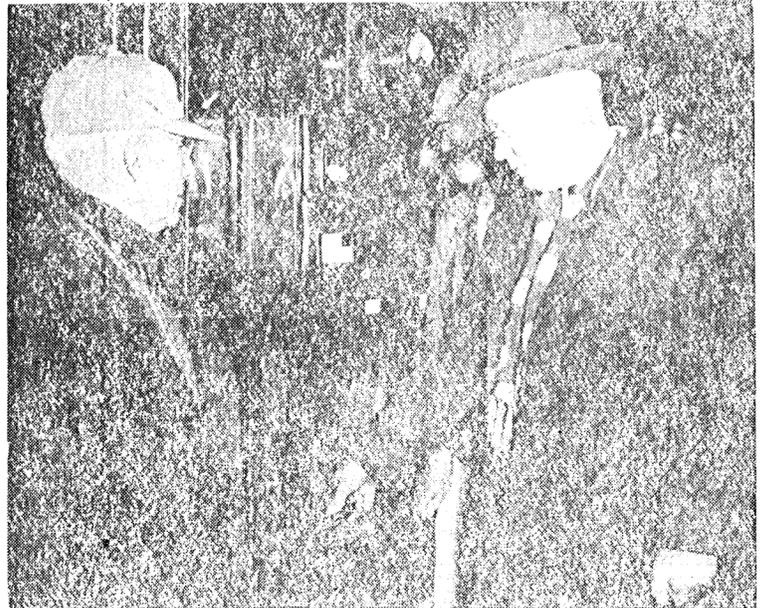

Roads Shut for Winter. The road situation in the hills is really bad. They saw roads that cannot possibly be opened for travel before spring. Where the wind has been open, the canyons are filled so full of snow they seem to be almost level.

John Sullivan went with Swopes on his observation trip. They flew as far as Taylor, southeast to Comstock, passed to the north of Arcadia and flew over Mira Valley. Because of extreme cold they found the airplane, left out in the open, very difficult to start.

Storms Continue; County Highways Closed by Snow

County Highway Supervisor Tracy Hamilton Finds Cuts Again Filled.

Winter weather continues this week in this part of Nebraska, with two storms again blocking many of the highways and all the east and west roads that had been opened for traffic. Many roads not opened before will now be closed until spring comes.

Bad Check Charge; National Polio Drive Now Under Way in Nebraska

Saturday on complaint filed by County Attorney Ralph W. Norman, Clyde Spencer was brought into County Judge Charles Clonch's court and charged with issuing a no-good check to himself and signing his mother's name to it. He was bound over to the district court under bond of $1,000, which he was unable to furnish and he is in jail. The check was made out on the State Bank of Scotia, but Spencer lives in Valley county.

Seven School Districts Have Reported $161.12; Need Was Never Greater. Miss Clara McClatchey, chairman of the "March of Dimes" in Nebraska, reports that seven county schools have already made their drive for funds, and have turned in a total of $161.12, which is an average of $23 per school. If the rest of the schools in the county average as well, the total schools will contribute about $1,500 to the fund.

The schools reporting are No. 7, Mrs. Loretta Iwanski, teacher; No. 8, Lita Kirby, teacher; No. 22, Margaret Conrad, teacher; No. 41, Mrs. Hannah Conrad, teacher; No. 48, Mary Conrad, teacher; No. 67, Bessie Shepherd, teacher; and No. 54, Mildred Hayek, teacher. These schools and teachers should be especially commended for getting the drive off to a good start by their promptness.

$1,169 Raised in '47. It is estimated that the towns of the county should raise about the same amount as the county districts do, and, if this is done, it will mean a fine contribution to the cause. Half of the amount raised remains in the county for use here. Last year nearly $1,100 was raised, which left $800 for local use. However, $812.50 has been spent locally to date.

In Ord, Mrs. Ross Allen has accepted the chairmanship, and is appointing a chairman for each of the three city wards. These chairmen will be responsible for the work in their areas and will appoint assistants to help in the work. If you should be approached about helping in this worthy cause, do not say "No." Remember that the people now at work are busy people too. They need your help.

New Car Damaged in Highway Skid Sunday Near Ord

Went Out of Control on Highway 11, Near Bud Knapp Corner.

Sunday a new Ford driven by Neva Wetzel Gebhardt of Scotia went out of control on Highway 11 half a mile west of the Bud Knapp corner. The auto hit the guard fence breaking off a post and was thrown back to the south side of the road, where it stuck in a snow drift. The car was quite badly damaged and was towed to Ord, where it will be repaired. Mrs. Gebhardt was brought to the Ord hospital where it was found that her injuries were not serious, and she has returned to her home in Scotia. The place where the accident occurred is one of the most dangerous on Highway 11, and has been covered with ice for the past two months.

John Haskell to Head Roll Call

John R. Haskell of Ord has been chosen to be chairman of the Red Cross roll call, which is scheduled for early March, according to Ed Armstrong, county chairman.

Mr. Haskell, well known by all, a long time citizen of this area, a loyal athletic fan, a staunch member of the Ord Methodist church, will conduct the roll call in a masterly fashion, it is felt. He will no doubt have the assistance of his equally capable wife.

Dorothy Anderson, Eula Neel, Added to Teacher Staff

They Are Replacing Rosalind Northway and Roberta Rathbun.

Dorothy Anderson of Ainsworth, formerly of Burwell, is the new first grade teacher in the Ord schools, taking the place of Roberta Rathbun. Mrs. Lydia Farnick has been substituting for some time in this grade. Miss Anderson has been attending Doane college for the past 2 1/2 years. This is her first year of teaching.

Miss Eula Neel of Grand Island has been hired to take the place of Miss Rosalind Northway, recently deceased. She will teach history and normal training in high school. She taught 9 years of country school, then 5 years of normal training at Long Pine and 4 years at Spencer.

FALSE ALARM. The Sargent firemen had occasion to answer two fire alarms recently which they did not appreciate. For some reason the alarm went off of its own accord when there was no fire. Luckily the calls both came in the daytime and did not get the fire fighters out of bed, a fact for which they are thankful. The experts are trying to remedy the situation.

Be Independent.
 It is not a healthy condition for any one part of the nation to be too dependent upon another part for any of the essentials of living. This was strikingly illustrated during the recent storm when several towns over the state were isolated from the rest of the area for as much as ten days.

What happened is not pleasant to contemplate. These people found themselves almost without food by the end of the period, a condition that would not have occurred in pioneer days. Then, knowing there was a chance of being isolated for months, the settlers made provision whereby they could continue to live without the help of people from the outside.

If the blockade had continued and those towns had been driven by necessity to provide the fundamentals of life for themselves, they would no doubt have done so. When the situation demands, people rise to the occasion. They would have provided the absolute necessities of life, and luxuries are those items the pioneers never did have. They got along without them.

It takes a major catastrophe to make us realize just how dependent we are on the other fellow for so many of the every day things of life. Items we use every day are made hundreds of miles away and we depend on the transportation system to see that these things are brought to our doors. The one thing we should learn is to be dependent but not too dependent, or we may find ourselves in the fix of the family told in a story.

Word came to town that a family blockaded out in the country a few miles by a storm was on the verge of starvation. Volunteers shoveled their way to the farm. They found the cupboard full of canned goods and there were several loaves of bread. However they could not eat because the bread had not been sliced and the lady of the house had broken the can opener. Only a story, yet it points a moral. Never be too dependent on the other fellow.

Manufactures.
 The growth and variety of manufactures in Nebraska in recent years is almost beyond belief. To realize that no less than 1751 organizations in Nebraska are engaged in manufacturing of some kind requires quite a stretch of the imagination.

Nebraska has always been a manufacturing state, and it is doubtful if there are more manufacturing plants in the state now than there were more than sixty years ago. The chief difference is in the amount of goods put out by these factories.

For example, there were dozens of brick factories in the old days. Every community had one of its own, and this solved the transportation problem. The quality was not the best, but those plants served their purpose, and today they are a thing of the past. In their place we have huge brick factories located where the best material is available and turning out far better, and more bricks than all the old time brick kilns did.

In those days, also, each community had its sorghum mill. The people raised their own cane, took it to the mill and had sorghum to eat during the winter. This has changed. Today there is more corn syrup and similar commodities made than ever before, and it is made better than it could be done under the old system. That same sorghum took the place of sugar much of the time. Today we have our huge sugar mills and plenty of sugar is available for general use.

The new book on state manufactures gives much valuable information, but it is too bad that the complete picture is not available. It would be interesting to know just what percent of the people of Nebraska are engaged in manufacturing today as compared with the percentage of pioneer days. It would be interesting also to know how much more a man can accomplish in a modern factory as compared with what he could do with the old hand and horsepower methods of the pioneer.

++ Something Different ++

I think we might all give a moment's consideration to our light and water department in Ord, and the wonderful job they've done for us during the recent falling of tons and tons of snow.

Light and power shortages here were brief, if at all. They took mighty fine care of us didn't they?

County Red Cross Chairman Ed Armstrong has named Dr. Glen Auble to the position of disaster chairman.

Being disaster chairman may not sound important to you and your future. But if a tornado struck abruptly and fiercely, if numbers of people suddenly became homeless; if an epidemic should break out — you'd soon realize how vital to our welfare is the disaster chairman of the Valley County Red Cross.

For he is the chairman who would take charge in the event of a catastrophe. He would help to feed and clothe and shelter those who needed it.

Food can be very important: we all have that eating habit. Clothing can be very important. We, here, all seem to be habitually clothes wearers.

Shelter can be vital too; none of us enjoy sleeping on park benches under newspapers.

The Business and Professional Women are going to bring a T. B. test wagon to Ord, and they want EVERY one of us to take advantage of this chance to be tested.

To be tested takes about five minutes. If you're wearing a necklace, ladies, you'll be asked to remove it. That's all the undressing necessary.

Watch the Quiz for more announcements about this.

The wagon will also stop a day in Arcadia, North Loup and Elyria. Don't you miss it!

Awfully cold days to remember about a swimming pool, but the Vets did it.

Thanks once again for this money, Vets!

Think how many children you have made happy by your expenditure.

"It's time for another 'snow'!" says Al Parkos.

"What makes you say that," says?

"This one is getting dingy," says he.

Bruce Covey got a smart-aleck postcard from a California relative, sent a week or two ago. No signature — just the words "Snow! Phooey!"

The next few days California got snow too, so Bruce sent a postcard to the relative living out there (guided by the postmark).

The postcard he sent said only two words: "Snow! Phooey!"

Try Hudson!..See why

...it's lower...it's better!

Here's the only car you step down into—the lowest on the highway—a stunning beauty with the liveliest, smoothest and safest way of going you've ever known!

The whole world knows that the lower a car is built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it rides, handles and performs, and the safer it is. And now you are invited to see and drive the lowest-built car on the highway—the New Hudson!

The New Hudson—and only Hudson—has recessed floors. Thus, lounge-size seats are lowered to harmonize with the new, lower top.

Because you step down into Hudson, you get more head room and roomier seats than in any mass-produced car built today, and all of this along with ample road clearance!

But you'll soon find that amazing roominess is only one of the wonderful things you get in this unique new kind of car. We believe you'll want to read about more of them in the column to the right. Then see your nearby Hudson dealer who will gladly arrange for you to drive this sensationally low-built automobile.

BETTER design: Because the "step-down" principle is so basically right, it enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions and symmetric, free-flowing lines.

BETTER performance: Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, perform at their best because this car is so thoroughly streamlined.

BETTER roadability: With the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car, Hudson really hugs the road, especially on curves. Hudson's Fluid-Cushioned Clutch, Center-Point Steering and Triple-Safe Brakes contribute mightily to a wonderful feeling of assurance.

BETTER value: One look, one ride will quickly tell you that here is an automobile so far ahead it is a protected investment.

Chevrolet's new Leader-Line Styling is lower, wider, rarer . . . with new Dyna-Cool radiator grille, Single-Sweep front and rear fender treatment, and feet-as-a-rockets lines all around . . . by far the most beautiful development of the new "functional form" for motor cars.

MORE BEAUTIFUL FROM EVERY ANGLE!

THESE ARE CARS THAT "BREATHE"!

Yes, you'll enjoy the additional pleasure of riding in a "car that breathes" for a completely effective heating and ventilating system sweeps warm air to every nook and corner of the interior—exhausts stale air—and keeps glass clear in all weather. *Heater and defroster units optional at extra cost!

THE NEW RIDER'S REVELATION!

A vastly improved Unitized Knee-Action Ride, combined with new shock action springs, shock absorbers, front and rear, and extra low pressure tires, gives the stability, smoothness and road-safety you have always wanted.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WORLD'S CHAMPION ENGINE

JUST COUNT THE COMFORTS!

Push-Button Starter for simple, easiest starting; Hand-E-Quadrant with Synchro-Mesh Transmission for maximum shifting ease; and Firm Foundation Box-Body Frame for ride-stability and road-tiredness unsurpassed in the Chevrolet price range.

STOP MORE SWIFTLY AND SAFELY!

The new Corbi-Safe Hydraulic Brakes give even faster stops with safety . . . and assure the highest degree of effective braking action for you and your family.

YOU'LL SAVE MORE MONEY, TOO!

This new Chevrolet is designed, engineered and built to speed your purse and spare your pocketbook, for it brings you all these and many other important improvements at the lowest price—with extraordinary economy of operation and upkeep.

THIS NEW CENTER-POINT DESIGN!

A remarkable 4-way engineering advance exclusive to Chevrolet in its field, and consisting of Center-Point Steering—Center-Point Seating—Lower Center of Gravity and Center-Point Rear Suspension gives the new Chevrolet riding and driving results without precedent or parallel in low-cost motoring. That means a new kind of riding ease and a new kind of driving ease—herebefore reserved for owners of more expensive cars. Namely—only new Center-Point Design can give you all these finer motoring results; and only the new Chevrolet brings you Center-Point Design at lowest cost!

Rites Friday for Mary C. Summers, Former Resident

Family Lived Here Many Years. Husband Died in 1917. Was 96 Years Old.

Mary Catherine Summers, daughter of John and Eliza Neff, was born at Worthington, Pa., May 20, 1852, and passed from this life, Jan. 10, 1949, at Sacramento, Calif., at the age of 96 years, 8 months, and 20 days.

She united with the Methodist church at the age of 15 years, and was a faithful member all her life.

When she was 2 1/2 years of age, the family moved to Rock Island, Ill., where she grew to womanhood. On December 25, 1872 she was united in marriage to William P. Summers; to this union were born one daughter, and four sons, all of whom survive her.

In 1886, they moved to Holyoke, Colo., living there 18 years. They came to Nebraska in 1904. Mr. Summers passed away in February, 1917. After his death she made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Porter for 17 years. She then spent several years with her son, Cash Summers at Benedict, Neb., before going to California to make her home with another son, John Summers, where she was at the time of her death. She leaves to mourn her departure, one daughter, Mrs.

Charles Porter, of Ord, Neb.; 4 sons, Coyle Summers, Gerber, Cal., Waverly Summers, Los Angeles, Calif., John Summers, Sacramento, Calif., and Cas Summers, Los Angeles, Calif.; 13 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren and 3 great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Hastings-Pearson Chapel at 2 p. m. Friday. L. V. Hassell officiated. Mrs. C. M. Davis and Mrs. Glen Auble sang two hymns accompanied by Mrs. Orin Kelson. Pallbearers were Horace Travis, Oscar Travis, Charles Lewis, Leon Rogers, Chas. Kingston and Raymond Burrows. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

Edgar May Played Good Samaritan

Everybody knows Edgar May, the driver of the early morning Debus bread truck who gets into Ord usually before 7 a. m. each morning. He is a fine man to know, and he has no objections to doing a good deed now and then, but he is no secker after publicity. For this reason the Quiz had to get this story second hand and a week late.

Stanley Gross of Grand Island, driving to Burwell to be at the bedside of his sick mother, got stuck in a snow drift between North Loup and Ord. Mr. May came along, helped him dig out, turned his truck around and broke the road for him all the way back to Ord, with the result that Stanley reached Burwell in time to see his mother before she passed away.

Loup Valley Rural Electric Meeting Decided Success

Members Present From Eleven Towns in Area; Much Interest Shown.

Nine farmers from this area were elected to serve as members of the board of directors of the Loup Valley Rural Electric Membership Association at the association's annual meeting which was held at the Ord Bohemian Hall Thursday afternoon. Elected to serve a three-year term were Will Foth of Ord, Clifford Goff of Burwell, and Al P. Radke of Elkria. Ray Moss of Arcadia, Ray Carpenter of Loup City, and W. H. Schudel of North Loup were elected to a two-year term of office. Elected to serve as directors of the association for a one-year term were Harold Rade-macher of Loup City, John Kokes of Ord, and Carl Oliver of North Loup. With the exception of Kokes and Oliver, these directors have served as board members since the organization of the association in 1946.

Despite bad roads and adverse weather conditions, 156 association members and their families attended the meeting. They represented the towns of Ord, Burwell, Rockville, Loup City, Ash-ton, North Loup, Scotia, Erickson, Elyria, Arcadia and Comstock.

Will Foth Presides. Board president Will Foth was in charge of the meeting and delivered the welcoming address. In his speech, Mr. Foth stressed the difficulties the association had faced in its attempt to construct and energize electric lines.

Project manager W. P. Hollands, in his report to the members, outlined the progress made on the "A", "B", "C", and "D" sections during the past year. He held out plans to purchase two-way radio equipment which will provide the association with a means of communication between the office and trucks in the field. Mr. Hollands stated that he believed purchase of that equipment would greatly shorten interruption of service.

In his address, Mr. Hollands also touched on "C" section progress. "Progress on this section," he said, "is satisfactory, and at present it appears that the contract for construction on this line can be let about April 1."

Loans Total $1,285,000. Treasurer Al Radke reported that local loans from R.E.A. now amount to $1,285,000.00, of which $756,136.99 has been advanced to the cooperative as part of the money needed to build 800 miles of electric distribution line. The balance, $488,863.01, will go for the completion of lines now under construction and to buy material to build the "C" section.

In his report to the assembly, Clifford Goff, secretary, told of the activities of the board of directors during the past year.

A special speaker during the afternoon was M. E. Hayes, assistant regional head of the management division representing R.E.A. in Washington. Mr. Hayes told of the progress of the rural electrification program throughout the United States. He congratulated the association's board of directors for their progress in getting construction materials at a time when materials are so scarce.

Another R.E.A. representative was W. L. Austin, field representative of the management division. Following the business session, the Ord Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the American Legion Auxiliary, served coffee and doughnuts.

After the meeting, the newly-elected directors met at the REA office and re-elected their officers; Will Foth, president; W. H. Schudel, vice president; Clifford Goff, secretary, and Al P. Radke, treasurer.

L. McGrew Has Hot Time in Shop

Lloyd McGrew, well known locally, is running the French barber shop in St. Paul while the owner, A. French, is taking an enforced vacation due to a broken arm.

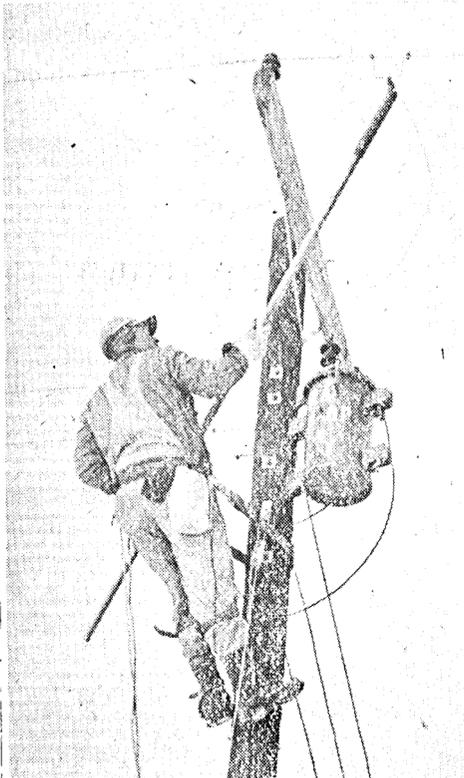

Lloyd came very near being put out of action himself recently by fire. He was cleaning up to go home after hours when in taking off his apron, it knocked the tip off his lighter into his shirt pocket. He didn't notice it at first, but did when the smoke began to pour out of his pocket. His fountain pens had become ignited.

He grabbed them out and threw them on a towel. While he was putting out the fire in his shirt the towel caught on fire. The figure's his losses as a new $3.50 shirt, a $9.25 fountain pen, a $1.25 fountain pen and a barber towel, to say nothing of a few extra gray hairs.

Chanticleers Win Well Played Game From Broken Bow

Locals Hitting Stride, Keep in The Lead With Richardson, Again High.

The Ord Chanticleers finally hit their stride Friday evening in a fine game played against the Warriors of the Broken Bow court. Taking the lead early they kept out in front all the way to win by a final score of 29 to 25. The score at the quarter was 9-2, at the half it was 12-10 and at the third quarter, 21-18.

It was a fast game all the way, with both sides chalking up a number of fouls, 15 for Broken Bow and 14 for Ord. Simonson of Broken Bow retired by the foul route, while his team mates Meston and Wilkerson and also Richardson and Stoddard for Ord, amassed a total of four fouls each.

Richardson Leads. Richardson was again high point man of the game with 19 points, while Meston accumulated 13 for Broken Bow. The rest of the scoring, for Ord: Falter 6, Nelson 2 and Tolen and Stoddard, one each; for Broken Bow: Pester, 5, Spencer 3 and Tom Sweeney 2.

Also seeing service for Ord were Maurice, Wells, Adamek, Munn and Heuck. Others playing for Broken Bow: Stuchagen, Bill Sweeney, Betz, Wilkerson, West and Simonson. This win makes it one win and two losses for Ord in the three-Loups conference.

As a preliminary to the high school game, the Ord Junior high team coached by J. A. Kovanda, scalped the Broken Bow opposites at the final score being 10 to 4. This was even better than they did the week before against the junior high of Loup City, when Ord racked up a score of 41 to 1.

Walter Sowers was the big point getter at Broken Bow, with 20 points. Others starting were Paul Penas, Leland Crosby, Ivan Stones and Larry Loft. Also seeing action were Keith Robinson, Gerry Eschliman, Duane Wolf, Meredith Brox and Leonard Hurlbert. The next junior high game will be at Ravenna, Feb. 1.

Assessors Meet, Set Valuations for Year 1948

Livestock Prices Up; Ord Men Attend Meet Last Week in Lincoln.

County Assessor W. C. H. Neil and County Clerk Leonard Woods last week attended the state assessors meeting held in Lincoln, going down Wednesday and returning Friday. The meeting established prices on livestock for 1949 and elected W. J. Sheehan, Grand Island, as president for the year.

The association's livestock committee presented a recommendation of prices which state Tax Commissioner P. J. Johnson said he could not accept. The committee and Mr. Johnson then brought in another set of prices at about twice the figure, which the assessors could not accept.

Cattle in Poor Shape. A conference was then held and a compromise between the two sets of figures was accepted. Assessors from the western part of the state especially contested greatly increased assessments, pointing out blizzard losses and the poor condition of surviving stock.

Committee recommendations accepted by the association included: that the assessment of motor vehicles be set up by the state tax commissioner; that the rate on pipe lines be $500 per mile for two inch and up to $1,000 per mile for 26 inch pipe; that grain be assessed 75% of market value on March 10.

That cattle on feed be assessed 70% of market price as of March 10. That assessments on horses, mules, hogs, goats and poultry be left the same as they were in 1948.

The following is the list of cattle assessment figures as finally approved: Calves up to six months, up from $20 to $30; yearlings, 6 to 18 months, up from $55 to $80; cattle 18 to 30 months, up from $75 to $125; milk cows, up from $105 to $132; stock cattle, up from $85 to $110; bulls, up from $150 to $175.

Evaluations adopted for grade cattle: calves under 6 months, up from $15 to $25; yearlings, 6 to 18 months, up from $55 to $80; 18 to 30 months, up from $75 to $125; milk cows, up from $105 to $132; stock cattle, up from $85 to $110; bulls, up from $150 to $175.

It is understood, of course, that the above valuations are the minimum for each classification, and it is understood that higher quality animals are to be assessed accordingly.

Turkey Ranch Lost in $30,000 Blaze

Fire Sunday morning destroyed a huge turkey ranch west of Dun-ling. The 320 foot building was destroyed together with 1,600 hens of the turkey breeding stock. Mr. Shinn estimates the loss at $30,000. It was not covered by insurance.

He and his helpers discovered the fire about 5:30 a. m. Sunday, but it was ablaze from end to end, and nothing could be done. De-fective wiring or oil heaters may have caused the blaze. The owner is already making plans to re-build.

The loss of the turkeys is the most serious, since the flock was the source of eggs for his hatchery, which supplies many turkey raisers all over the territory. The fire did not reach the other buildings on the ranch, which includes two residences, feed mill building, hatchery building and brooder house.

Those entering the contests were Richard Manchester, 147 pounds, Harold Kokes, 160, John Piskorski, 140, Darrell Smith, 130, Mar- ton Geneski, 160, and Harlan Jen- sen, 147. The boys planned to leave at 2:30, so that they would be in Grand Island to weigh in at 4 p. m.

The American Legion is sponsor- ing the Ord entries, and Grand Island Post No. 53 is sponsoring the matches there. Richard Man- chester is the only Ord entry who entered the matches last year.

Marcus E. Getter, Once Ord Citizen, Passes in Calif.

Dr. George R. Gard received word this week of the passing Jan. 13, in California of Marcus E. Getter. Mr. Getter was a resident of Ord from early pioneer times until about 30 years ago, when he went to California, which has been his home since that time.

He was a veteran of the Civil War and served as commander of Post No. 40, G.A.R. in the early '80s while living in Ord. So far as is known, he was the last surviving member of that organiza- tion. Foots Post was dis- missed because of the lack of complete information and the shortness of time, it will be impossible to give a complete story of Mr. Getter's life and passing in this week's Quiz. However, the material is available and the more complete record will appear next week.

ORD LIVESTOCK MARKET

Cummins & Burdick, Auctioneers Ord, Nebraska

Stuck in the drifts a few miles west of Greeley, this big Burlington rotary plow, pushed by three engines has been idle since Sunday with the crew shoveling snow into the boilers to keep the engines alive. Ed Swopes, who took this aerial view for the Quiz from a plane piloted by John R. Sullivan, said that a drift more than 300 feet long and 12 to 14 feet deep was between the engine and Greeley. A bull dozer was being used to clear the track, until help could arrive from further down the line.

Burlington Expected To Get Train Through On Thursday Or Friday

Last Train Here December 23; U.P. Also Has Trouble

Coal and Diesel Oil Shortage Severe in Burwell; Electric Plants on Short Rations.

After an absence of 36 days, the Burlington railroad expects to get a train into Ord on Thursday or Friday of this week, following a month long battle against crippling snow drifts in the hills between Ord and Greeley.

Last Burlington train here came on Dec. 23. A snowplow and engine made a brief appearance on Dec. 28, but no freight has arrived in Ord or Burwell since the first date.

Ord, served by the Union Pacific and Q, has experienced but little inconvenience during the storm period, but Burwell, on the end of the branch line, has been short of fuel, oil, and feed for some time.

Seven Engines Used. According to station agent W. V. White, seven engines, three pusher snow plows, one rotary snow plow and a crew of more than 50 men have been fighting the drifts east of Ord.

The Union Pacific line into Ord also bogged down last Tuesday, after jamming into a drift in the Olean neighborhood, but was able to resume schedule Wednesday of this week.

Railroad service interruption on the branch lines leading into Ord has been the longest in history. One line or the other has delayed service a day or so in the past, usually during flood conditions on the Loup, but never more than a few days.

Q Hardest Hit. Most of the brunt of the local storm has been borne by the Burlington which has had a series of mishaps the past month.

About 3 a. m. Sunday three engines pushing a plow were working not far from Horace, but had to go back to Greeley for water. About 1 1/2 miles west of Greeley they got too low on water and had to stop. There the crew shoveled snow into the tanks to keep the boilers alive, and sent out a call for help.

Start "Operation Haylift" to Feed Cattle in Sandhills North of Ord

"Operation Haylift" to feed starving cattle on snowswept sandhill ranges in Garfield, Loup and Blaine counties started Wednesday of this week.

In cooperation with the Kearney army air base, giant C-47 planes are being loaded with hay which is dropped to herds of cattle stranded in the hills.

Planes Carry 100 Bales. The planes carry around 100 bales of hay each trip, or about four tons. First loads are hay and alfalfa purchased in the Lexington and Kearney vicinity.

Bruce Covey, partner in the Burwell Livestock Market, one of the promulgators of the haylift, told the Quiz Wednesday morning that he was scouring the local territory to buy any and all baled hay and alfalfa he could get. "It will have to be trucked to either Grand Island or Kearney to be loaded but that's the only way out as there is no more feed to be bought in the Platt Valley area."

Drives 14 Miles to Come to Ord Six Miles Away

The farmers continue to have their troubles in getting to town, and in some cases, even as far as the nearest neighbor. Edgar Roe, 6 miles south of Ord, in town last week, said he had little trouble getting here, but he had to drive 14 miles. He couldn't go east, so he went west to the corner of his place, then south 2 1/2 miles to the John Bremer corner, then east 2 miles to the Will Koelling corner, then back into Ord by way of the east Loup City highway, a total of 14 miles.

People in that neighborhood have been getting their mail at No. 9 school house. J. D. McCall is the carrier, and while he has not been able to get over the entire route, he has been able to get the mail out to most patrons by leaving it at the nearest accessible point. People in the hills farther back from the main highways have not been able to get to town for weeks, but are hoping to get out if open weather continues.

Bruce Covey Has Rogers' Interest in Burwell Firm

Buys One-fourth Part of Garfield Livestock Market Organization.

By virtue of an agreement entered into the past week, Bruce Covey, Ord business man and auctioneer, has taken over the one fourth interest of Carl Rogers in the Burwell Livestock Market, as of Jan. 1.

The other two members of the firm are B. W. (Tiny) Wagner and John Bartusiak. Mr. Covey plans to do a part of the auctioneering, but says it is customary in the larger sales to have two auctioneers.

Mr. Covey says that the weather this winter has made plenty of grief for the sales rings as well as all other lines of business, but he believes there will be something doing when the weather does clear.

Range Cubes Not Used. Covey told the Quiz that until temperatures rise so cattle will find plenty of snow water that range cubes and other commercial type feeds could not be used in the air feeding operation. "The snow is too dry to give the cattle enough water to drink," he explained.

Ellis Carson, local airport operator, told the Quiz Wednesday that he would contact Kearney air force officials today to see if the local field might not be used for hay-loading operations. "If we can provide enough runway for the loaded cargo planes, and can get the runways cleared, we'll be able to save a lot of time and expense in this work," he said.

Alvin Anderson Is Cold Victim; Feet, Hands, Are Frozen

Unable to Free Car From Drifted Snow. Makes Way on Foot to Farm House.

Alvin Anderson is in a serious condition at the Ord hospital as a result of having his hands and feet frozen late Tuesday evening. Today noon Dr. Miller said he believed Mr. Anderson's hands would come out alright, but that he might lose some of his toes. Anderson, who runs road machinery, went to Comstock Tuesday morning and then to a place 5 miles west and 5 north of Arcadia, where the machinery is located, and he worked on the machines, getting them in shape to run, until a late hour, later than he should have, as he learned to his cost later.

When he quit work he got into his car and started for Comstock, but got stuck in a snow drift. He worked for some time trying to get out and getting colder all the time, then finally started for a farm house, where he saw a light.

On the way he must have fallen down, getting a bruise on the bridge of his nose. Then he must have crawled for some distance, as his knees were wet and frozen some. When he finally got to the Roy Almon home his hands and feet were badly frozen.

Rushed to Hospital. Mr. Almon at once got the frozen members into snow and kept them there. Mrs. Almon phoned to Alvin's wife, and she and George Anderson drove to the farm as quickly as possible. There they got Anderson into the car with his hands and feet still packed in snow, and brought him home and to the hospital, arriving at 6 this morning.

He was given immediate attention and everything possible is being done for him. It is apparent that he only escaped freezing to death by a miracle, and by his determination not to give up until he reached the place he started for.

Chanticleers Win Thrilling Classic from Neligh High

Richardson Is High Man; Visitors Divide Thirty Points Among 4 Players.

Apparently hitting their stride at last, the Chanticleers took a very well played game of basketball from the Neligh visitors Friday evening by a final score of 36 to 30. The score was knotted 18 to 18 at the half, but Ord was ahead 12 to 6 in the first quarter and again ahead 29 to 22 at the end of the third stanza.

Richardson, center, and captain for the game, went well ahead of his average of 15 points per game when he stowed away 10 field goals and 5 free throws for a total of 25 points. Stoddard and Nelson had 3 points each, Tolén and Munn 2 each, and Maurice had one. Falter, Wells, Heuck and Laursen also saw service.

Van Kirk was high point man for Neligh with 10 points. Hoggins had 8, Scofield 6 and Aldred 5, while Frances came through with a free throw to complete the scoring. Also seeing service were Otte, Moon and Ganskow. Coach Fisher has a fine team, but they were somewhat outclassed by the playing of the Chanticleers.

Danger of infection is past, and circulation has started as far as the first joint from the knuckles. She is still in pain, but does not have to stay in bed any more. They appreciate the interest shown in many letters they have received.

Bredthauer Plane Has Broken Ski but Lands Safely

Much excitement resulted in Ord Tuesday afternoon when a report from the airport stated that a plane piloted by Dale Bredthauer, of Burwell, was circling the airport with a broken ski and would have to crash land. A fire truck was sent to the airport as a standby in case fire should result.

However, Mr. Bredthauer landed the plane calmly and coasted to a stop on a single ski. The other ski was damaged in taking off, he said.

Very little damage resulted, except from smoke, and this was drawn out as quickly as possible with suction fans. Mr. Swaneck is bedfast, and was naturally much alarmed until reassured by the arrival of the firemen.

—Anna Mortensen, who teaches District 45 was unable to get to her school the first part of the week.

Senator Carson Fathers 2 Bills in Legislature

One Would Abolish Capital Punishment; The Other License Jewelers.

Hugh Carson, senator from the 20th district, has introduced only two bills to date.

One of these LB 213, would abolish capital punishment in Nebraska. The senator says he is getting letters from all parts of the state and from all types of people, and none of them are against the bill.

"Some are against capital punishment from the religious angle, and others say it doesn't answer the crime question," says Senator Carson. Both ministers and laymen have written him in regard to the bill.

Carson stated that in six states now there is no capital punishment, but that in one of these there is an exception when a prisoner kills a guard. The bill has been referred to the Judiciary committee, but has not been set for a hearing yet.

The second bill is co-sponsored by Senator Adams of Lincoln and would provide for the examining and licensing of watchmakers. The bill sets up a five-member board of examiners appointed by the governor.

There would be an examination fee of $25, and an annual renewal fee of $7.50. Persons already in business would not have to take the examination but would be required to pay the annual fee.

Under the provisions of the bill a license could be revoked if the holder had obtained his certificate by fraud, or was incompetent or was guilty of immoral or unethical conduct.

More help soon arrived when another plane from Goose Lake landed at the Dunning farm. A short time later, Walt Koizack of Elgin, a former flying instructor here, landed, and then a fourth plane came in.

Maintaining High Tavern Standards by Education

Encouraging the maintenance of good conditions in places where beer is sold is the chief aim of the brewing industry and the Nebraska Division, U. S. Brewers Foundation.

Since the best informed tavern owners are generally those who best conduct their places in the public interest, our dealers educational program for 1949 will be continued through the year in an effort to make it still more effective.

In addition to personal educational work by trained fieldmen, helpful posters are provided in an effort to secure the cooperation of patrons whose age or conduct might be involved.

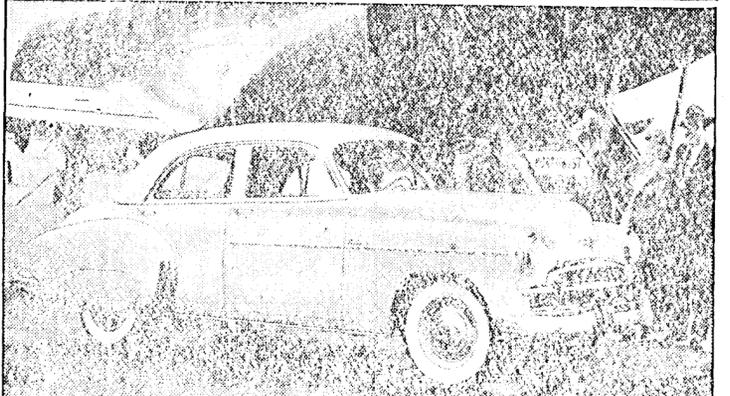

As a result of years of constant education, Nebraska tavern owners have improved conditions in their places and, with continued help, these conditions will be improved even more.

Junior Class Presents Play

The Junior Class presented "The Great Big Doorstep" Tuesday evening, January 25 to a large crowd at the High School Auditorium starting at 8 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Kovanda.

The entire action of the play took place at the Crochet home in Grass Margin, Louisiana. The play was a story of a family, none of whom was very ambitious and all their troubles. Due to the high waters of the Mississippi, which ran close to their shack they acquired a beautiful pair of doorsteps. The biggest problem they faced was to get a house to go with the doorsteps.

Ken Clement played the part of Mr. T. J. Crochet, Sr. He was a ditch digger, parson me, a drainage expert. Due to stress and whistles in his liver he had difficulty working. Therefore the family was not too well off.

Patricia Ball very well played the part of Mrs. Crochet. She used the saying "Save Nemo" throughout the play whether she was happy or angry. The family, who all played their parts very well, consisted of Evvie Crochet played by Beverly Brox, Topal Crochet played by Genevieve Boyce, Arthur Crochet played by Galen Allen, and the twins Elma and Kleece played by Virginia Struckman and Marilou Arnold respectively. Jim Misko played the part of Dewey Crochet, a brother to T. J. Crochet. Shoopick was played by Paul Stoddard. Mr. Tolin played by Richard Heuck, Mrs. Dupre, by Regene Rogers, Tayo Delacroix by Alvin Kapustka, Mrs. Beaumont Crochet by Velma Poth, and T. J. Crochet, Jr., the baby, by Davey Brown.

Nebraska Highway Needs Shown in Recent Engineering Appraisal

Good highways are important for a number of reasons. For example, state-owned passenger cars were driven nearly 7,500,000 miles on Nebraska highways in 1947. Then we have the mail routes, which do so much to make life on the farm more worth the living. In 1947 mail was delivered over 37,873 miles of rural routes in Nebraska, including more than 9,000 miles of star routes.

Because of consolidation of routes and other factors, this mileage was reduced by 6,000 in the past year. The importance of these mail routes was recognized by the unicameral two years ago when the Schroder bill provided for graveling of mail routes over a period of years. While slated for some revision this year, the Schroder bill would be continued, thus acknowledging its importance.

Another important interest in Nebraska roads are the 7,500 children who travel a total of 12,000 miles daily over an estimated 350 bus routes to and from consolidated schools in Nebraska. For these roads are an essential part of the school plant.

During the recent year there was a large amount of travel over our state and rural roads by enlisted personnel in going from one location to another or when out over the state on maneuvers. While this has now stopped almost entirely, it is a proposition that must be considered in the building of roads for the future.

Last on the list for the reason that it might be considered more in the nature of a luxury than a necessity are the many recreational places in Nebraska. These are left for the enjoyment of the citizens and they cannot be properly enjoyed unless and until they are made easily accessible. Frequently the roads leading to these places also serve as outlets for people living in the area, and this makes them doubly important.

Having thus mentioned a number of special groups and services of Nebraska roads, it might be well to take up the importance of roads to the people at large and also to that large group of people who are engaged in the important work of freighting in supplies for the local stores and handling out livestock and other goods consigned to market in the larger cities.

First, under the present setup, which will not be changed appreciably for a long time to come are the trucks hauling in food, fruit, flour, bread and soft drinks, to name a few. These trucks are important, and it is important that they have good roads over which to travel. During the recent blizzard many Nebraska towns were not visited by these trucks for a number of days, and they realized the importance of having good roads.

The trucks in themselves are one of the major highway problems. A heavily loaded semi will do more harm to a road than half a dozen lighter vehicles, especially if that road is not built to handle the extra weight. Yet it is necessary that they travel over the main roads of the state. The problem is one of increasing the capacity of the road bed to handle the heavier traffic.

It is not enough to make the roads strong enough for present needs. Trucks are growing bigger and bigger as the years go on. Long ago the semi-trailer outfit became large enough to handle the same load as a railroad car. But the railroad boxcar travels over a steel track, and most of the truck travel is over either black top or gravel surfaced highways.

Another important angle of Nebraska travel are the trips people now take by auto that they once took by train, for example, to the Nebraska state fair. During fair time thousands of autos travel over roads from all parts of the state to Lincoln and return. Even more travel results from the county fairs all over the state, and to the bigger attractions, such as Nebraska's Big Rodeo at Burwell.

Another source of travel which was a negligible factor a generation ago is that by schools visiting each other to engage in athletic contests, such as football and basketball and track meets. This amount of travel for this one reason alone is more today than all the auto travel in the state thirty years ago.

The automobile and good roads has made it possible for hundreds of people to live out in the suburbs and enjoy life in the country, while at the same time carrying

Marcus E. Getter, 100, GAR Veteran, Passes to Reward

Had Much to Do With Ord Affairs in Pioneer Days; Organized Foots Post 40.

The career of a man well known in the early days of Ord came to an end in the death Thursday, Jan. 13, of Marcus E. Getter of Tujunga, Calif. His death reduced to three the number of Southern California's Civil War veterans. He lived to be one of the last 25 veterans of that war still living. He was past 100 years of age.

He died in the Birmingham veterans hospital. Funeral services were conducted Jan. 17, at the Sunnyside Mausoleum, Long Beach, and were attended by Charles L. Chappel, 101, commander of the GAR California-Nevada department. Other surviving veterans, members with Charles of Stanton Post's Last Man Club, are Douglas T. Story, 104, and William A. Magee, 102.

Last Member.

Mr. Getter was commander and last member of Long Beach Post 181, Grand Army of the Republic. He is survived by his widow, Florence, 84, and by a sister, Mrs. Clarissa M. Naxon, 103, of Long Beach. Born in New York, Mr. Getter enlisted at the age of 15 in Company "I", of the 129 Indiana Volunteer Infantry and saw service in the closing months of the civil war.

His Own Story.

"At the age of 23 in 1871 I was married to Ida May Chesbro, a girl several years younger than myself. To this union were born three children, Hattie, Leroy and Alice. In 1877 my wife, one child and myself migrated with quite a cavalcade of others from Minnesota to the state of Nebraska. I located in the then very small village of Ord.

Being the county seat, we, of course, had great hopes for its future growth and prosperity. I purchased ten acres on the townsite. This was in the year 1878. I remained a citizen of Ord until 1898, twenty years. During those pioneer years I enjoyed the friendship of many fine people. I think I am justified in saying that I was quite active in the upbuilding and prosperity of the Ord valley, and especially the city of Ord.

Public Spirited.

I served the people of the valley in a great many activities and in quite a few official positions. Nearly always by appointment and never solicited by myself — constable, justice of the peace, city marshal, street commissioner, assessor, soldier's relief commissioner, commander of Foots Post No. 40, GAR for eight years, member of the board of directors of the Methodist church, collected the preacher's salary and also that of the presiding elder.

Mark Holm Given 50 Year Button

At a special ceremony held at the Dr. F. L. Blessing home at 3 p. m. Sunday Mark Holm was presented with a 50-year button, representing the end of fifty years as a master mason. Members of St. Paul Lodge No. 82 were to make the presentation, but they were unable to come because of the blizzard, so they delegated Bruce Covey, of the Lodge, and St. Paul Lodge to make the presentation.

The presentation was made at this time because Mr. Holm's son, Higger, was here from Omaha, and his grandson, Clayton Holm, recently returned from Ethiopia, was also present. Mr. Holm became a master mason in 1893. Present as guests were the officers of Ord Lodge No. 103, AP and AM.

Those included: A. R. Brox, Rollin Dye, John J. Wozab, Duane Armstrong, Leonard Woods, Hilding Pearson, Herb Smets, Rev. L. V. Hassell and Don Auble. Only fifteen of these buttons have been given in Nebraska. Mr. Holm's making the sixteenth. After the ceremony refreshments were served and Clayton Holm showed movies he had taken in Ethiopia.

Cedar Rapids Mail Carrier Retires

Alex H. Wood rural carrier out of Cedar Rapids for the past 30 years, retired from the service Jan. 1. During that time he worked under four postmasters and missed reporting at the post office only twice because of blizzard conditions and blocked roads.

In his years of service he carried on all four routes out of Cedar Rapids. He used 23 automobiles and one motorcycle with a side car. He finished the job with a 1931 Model "A". They plan to sell their property next spring, buy a trailer and follow the sun.

C. V. Svoboda Reaches 90 Years

C. V. Svoboda, resident of St. Paul and Howard county since the early '70s, celebrated his 90th birthday Jan. 19, at a goose dinner prepared by his children. Guests were his sons, W. and Jerry Svoboda and Miss Leona Svoboda, who lives at home.

Mr. Svoboda has been active in farming, stock raising and in political circles for many years. For many years he has been working on a history of Howard county in his spare time. The Svobodas have 8 children living, 22 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

Built Early Canal

In 1895, in cooperation with Ernie Babcock, we constructed the Bruno-Tschuk canal (irrigation) and I personally constructed the Ord water works. And, by the way, when we were excavating the reservoir on the hill southwest of Ord, we exhumed the bodies of 23 Indians.

He later moved to Lincoln and took charge of the Ben Hur lodge. Later he had charge of the American Order of Protection, which son went to the w... He moved to Mitchell, Nebr., and the time the irrigation canals were about to be constructed there. He went into the land business, buying and selling, and also contracted and constructed 120 miles of irrigation ditch. He was appointed mayor of Mitchell and cleaned up the city.

From there he went to Oregon, fruit-gardened and farmed extensively. In 1915 he organized a big transportation company in Long Beach, Calif., and after selling out there, he and his second wife located at Tujunga, where they own six houses, four of which are rented. He reached his hundredth birthday last July 29. Thus ends the saga of one of the outstanding men of Ord's early days and the last surviving member of Foots Post No. 40, GAR, of Ord.

A ROUND THE STATE

By George S. Round, Ext. Editor, Uni. of Nebr.

I don't suppose that ten, fifteen or twenty years ago that anyone in the Cornhusker state would have dared to think that a yield of 160 bushels of corn to the acre could be grown in this state. Yet it is now an accomplished fact.

Interesting enough that yield (159.4 bushels to be exact) was recorded in the official 1948 state corn yield contest. The gentlemen doing it were Fred Knobel and son of Odessa and Lester Stibor of Shelton. The secret of their high yields was having their land in a high state of fertility and the application of irrigation water.

It is interesting to observe also that a yield of 142.9 bushels per acre with white corn was yielded by Luane Francis of Stamford.

A few years back a state conference on weed control might have attracted a handful of folks from the country but just last week a similar affair in Lincoln brought in farmers by literally the hundreds. And, there was machinery and equipment and chemicals galore on display by manufacturing outfits. Killing of noxious weeds in Nebraska has become big business — despite some unsuccessful uses of 2, 4-D under the wrong conditions.

Our friend Glenn Viehmeier of the North Platte station told the weed boys that the "honey-moon with 2, 4-D" is about over. Folks, he said, are bound to be disappointed when the chemical is not used right. And, there are a number of new promising chemicals being tested out now that may be even better than 2, 4-D but time will tell on that score.

Most of us don't think of Nebraska as being a lumber state, and it isn't. But down in southeastern Nebraska an estimated $19,000 in returns has been realized from the sale of timber and use of lumber in only three counties. About 800,000 board feet of saw timber has been marked during the past year in a special forestry project... C. Y. Thompson of West Point is the new president of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents... Ed Janke reports on February 15 as the new state 4-H club leader.

In Greeley county, a countywide campaign against coyotes via airplane will be conducted shortly.

National Duroc Congress will be held in Lincoln next summer... Put it down in your book — there will be more soil conservation work done on farms in 1949 in Nebraska than in 1948. Fellows like Frank Allington of Blue Springs, Bruce Anderson of Stromsburg and H. Quist of Blair who serve on soil district board of directors are the guiding lights behind this work.

OUT OF OLD NEBRASKA — Hay-Burning Stove Was Equipment Used in Range Areas of Nebraska

James C. Olsen, Sec'y, State Historical Society.

An object of great interest in the State Historical Society's museum in the state capitol is the hay-burner stove presented to the society in 1931 by E. H. Bush of Tecumseh.
The hay burner, as much as any article of equipment used in old Nebraska, testifies to the ingenuity of those people who pioneered the plains.
Fuel was one of the stern necessities of life. In many areas wood, the conventional fuel, was scarce if not altogether unobtainable. For a time cow chips were used in certain parts of the state, but as the ranching area pushed westward, it was necessary to find other material. The next best thing was the wild prairie hay which grew so abundantly in Nebraska.
Hay was never wholly satisfactory as fuel. It was a good starter, but at the same time a quick burner. Various devices were invented to twist the hay into reasonably solid sticks, but the best of these were only moderately successful.
To make more effective use of the native fuel, hay-burning stoves were invented. The one in our museum is of the magazine type. It is similar to an ordinary cook stove except that it has two pipes about 30 inches long opening into the fire box. A spring on one end of the pipe pushes the hay into the fire box as it is burned. According to those who used the stove, it had to be stuffed with hay almost constantly.

Another type of hay-burning stove was the "Mennonite Grass Burner." This was of brick and much more elaborate than the ordinary stove. It was claimed that this stove needed to be fed only twice a day. Despite this, it never was widely used. It is quite probable that the cost was prohibitive.
A difficult problem connected with the use of any hay-burning stove was the storage of fuel. Great quantities were used each day and to find room in the small soddies to store an adequate supply presented great difficulties. In addition, the presence of large amounts of hay greatly increased the danger from fire.
It is little wonder that each stick of wood was cherished and used with the greatest care.

Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis and Rod, Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Ivers, Patty and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Abner Goodrich drove over from Denver to celebrate the 75th birthday of Mrs. Goodrich.

It was the first time in 14 years that the children of Mrs. Goodrich had all been together. They are J. P. Jones, Mrs. Harold Hoepfner, Mrs. F. L. Davis, Mrs. Wm. Ivers and Hayden Jones.

Mrs. Hayden Jones had prepared a delicious dinner and Mrs. Hoepfner decorated the angel food birthday cake, which had a coating of pink rosebuds in the center, which had been given to Mrs. Goodrich.

Mrs. Goodrich also opened her gifts with the assistance of her four small grandchildren, Patty and Billy Ivers and Margaret Ann and Paul Jones. In the afternoon the little folks accompanied by Rod Davis attended the picture show and Mrs. Goodrich and her family had photographs taken at a downtown studio, also pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich.

NANCY IS WELL.
Under the above heading C. E. Thompson, publisher of the Wolbach Messenger, has this to say:
"Nancy, the office car, has had her operation, which was a great success. The engine from the 'Gray Goose' was removed and installed in Nancy. In case you don't know, the 'Gray Goose' was the car belonging to 'Flop' Mataja that burned last summer in front of our home."
"The thing that has us all puzzled, what is Nancy now? Nancy is no longer Nancy. And the Gray Goose cannot retain its name. We can't call what we're driving now the 'Blue Gander' for the simple reason that she is not that kind of a car. She is a delicate, temperamental female."
"There has to be a change in name. We might sponsor a contest in order to get a suitable name for the old girl. She has to have a name, and it can't be Nancy."

VFW Team Plays at Scotia, Loup City; Burwell Here Friday

Ord Team Claims Clean Slate; Have Lost All Games Played to Date.

Tuesday night the Veterans of Foreign Wars basketball team went to Scotia, where they played a very close game against the team there. This game went to Scotia 27 to 21, but it was the best game the Ord men have played so far this season.

The score stood 6 to 6 at the quarter, 12 to 14 for Scotia at the half, 18 to 24 at the third period, and 21-27 at the finish. Scotia showed a more polished game all the way, which fact gave them the winning margin.

Harry Zukoski, manager of the Ord team, tried out quite a number of players in this game, as he has in former ones. Seeing service were Jack Harvey, Jim Finley, Dave Watson, Bob Grove, Verlin Smith, Dean Misko, Lyle Manchester, Charles Woerth, Dick Beran, Leslie Scott and Henry Bena.

The same group of players squared off against Loup City on the Loup City floor Friday evening, and lost by a score of 44 to 26. Burwell will here Friday to play the Ord VFW team on the high school floor.

were sent from Greeley, but the front engine stripped a side rail from Brighton. The remaining engine was behind and could do nothing. A second call was sent for help. About 7 p. m. two engines, one from Lincoln, one from Hastings and a rotary plow from McCook were sent up.

Greeley Without Power. To complicate matters, the current was off for a while at Greeley. The pump for the railroad at Greeley is run by electricity, so no pumping could be done until the current was restored.

At the present time there are 7 engines, three pushers and a rotary, and fifty men working in the Greeley area.

According to agent White, the Burlington has from 75 to 100 carloads of freight destined for Ord or Burwell scattered around the division. Included are a number of cars of vitally needed coal, fuel oil, livestock feed, plus many cars of merchandise.

These cars are on sidings at Palmer, Aurora, Wobach, Greeley and other spots. "We'll have some busy times around here, when all this finally gets in," he commented.

Burwell Short on Fuel. Burwell, depending almost entirely on the Burlington for fuel oil and coal has been running dangerously short the past week, with fuel being doled out in small quantities.

Schools are still open, and with coal expected in a few days, will probably remain open. Fuel oil for the Burwell light plant has been trucked in for the past several days.

Fuel dealers in Ord have also been rationing coal the past week, although the situation eased Tuesday. The Ord electric plant has enough diesel fuel to run to Monday, and has two cars coming on the Burlington. The cars, according to plant manager George Allen are at Palmer.

Troubles on the Union Pacific line started last Tuesday when the regular freight got stuck in Ord and packed drifits near Olean. There the engine stalled in the drifits and could not back out.

Another engine was sent from Grand Island, and pulled the cars back to North Loup, but could not extricate the stalled engine, so it was drained and fires put out.

Snow Plow Clears Way. Snow plow plows with two engines made the run from Grand Island, picking up the cars at North Loup and arriving in Ord Tuesday noon.

Station Agent G. W. Finley of the Union Pacific stated Tuesday noon that a lot of needed supplies had come in on the freight that just arrived, including a car of fuel oil, a car of propane gas, 5 cars of coal, 2 cars of tractors, a car of feed and 2 cars of cable for the REA.

Most of this was on special order and came in plenty of time to avert a serious shortage. The gas, especially, was badly needed with none at the bulk plant. Ord's light plant still had enough oil to run a week or more as of Tuesday. Oil for the plant comes over the Burlington.

If the present weather trend continues, the only likelihood of fuel shortage will be in the outlying farms and ranches where the roads have not been opened for travel.

Drive Progressing in March of Dimes

Of interest in the "March of Dimes" program is the work done by a group of girls from Haskell Creek, known as the "Happy Circle Junior 4-H Club." Recently these girls held a carnival and raised quite a little money. They are apportioning this out for the different drives, and their leader, Delma Miska, has given $2 of the fund to the polio fund.

The work is progressing nicely in spite of the fact that the roads over the country are blocked in so many places. The county chairman, Miss Clara McClatchey, says that often she receives a check for the March of Dimes through the mail. This thoughtfulness is appreciated, and may save some rural worker unnecessary steps in going over the territory.

Of interest is the fact that more than twice as much money was spent in Nebraska last year as was kept here after the drive. Figures show that 40 county chapters contributed $27,500 to the state pool, but that it was necessary to secure advances from national headquarters totaling $65,519.27 during 1941.

In view of this fact, it is important that an ample fund be raised this year, enough let us hope to take care of our own needs and have some to loan in case of emergency elsewhere. Unusual demands last year wiped out the national epidemic aid fund before the year was over. Nebraska was one of the chief beneficiaries and we owe it to others to make good in the drive this year.

Fine Performance Given by Ray Lutz

Inadvertently omitted from the long story last week about the REA annual meeting was the splendid talk given by Ray Lutz of Arcadia. Mr. Lutz once followed the circuit, but retired from the entertainment field many years ago.

His performance showed that his hand has lost none of its cunning. He portrayed a pioneer farm at the start, and brought it down through the years, showing the improvements all the way until the coming of REA. It was the high point of the day's program.

C. Boilesen in Omaha Hospital

Chris Boilesen of Cotesfield, Triple A chairman for Howard county, is in an Omaha hospital recovering from a recent operation. He suffered a back injury in a tractor accident at his farm last fall, and did not recover as well as hoped.

Mr. Boilesen is a long time resident of the Cotesfield area and many county people are well acquainted with him. It is hoped that the operation and treatment he will receive will enable him to continue his work as chairman.

The United States has about three-fifths of the world's gold stock, 24 billion dollars worth.

Allocations are being set up for fertilizers for the coming year. Ammonium Nitrate and all fertilizers with Nitrate in them will be very short again this year and we believe that the demand will be much greater. With the heavy snowfall of this winter the moisture this spring will tend to make more people use Nitrates. Superphosphates will be in fair supply. We feel if we have orders in advance that we should be able to furnish all the Superphosphate needed; but orders should be placed now if Superphosphate is wanted. Superphosphate used on all legumes, grass lands and small grains will show a good return for money invested. Remember that you can buy Superphosphate at $37.50 per car. It is Superphosphate is wanted. Program will pay about the cost for Superphosphate for legumes and pasture lands but not on small grains. Ask your AAA committee about this program and place your order now for the Superphosphate. How many of you would like to use a 10-20-0 fertilizer this year? This mixture has been used in some parts of the state to very good advantage and we think it would pay here in Valley county. A car that would be available if ordered soon.

Winter of 1935-36 One of Coldest on Record; Mercury Below Zero 15 Days

So you think we are having it tough this January, do you? The Quiz will have to agree that, with regard to snowfall, this is about the toughest winter we have had. The records kept by Horace Travis and his immediate predecessor, James Milford, prove that nothing in the last 37 years has been any worse to date than the winter of 1914-19 has been.

With average snowfall the rest of the winter a new all-time record is in the making. We have had winters when the snow fall in one month would be excessive, but the rest of the season would be open enough to offset the bad weather and make it hit the general average. This year we had a heavy snow Nov. 18, and snow has been coming pretty regularly ever since.

While the snow has been bad, one other aspect of the weather has not been too unusual, and that is the temperature. We have had a number of below zero readings, but no more than is usual. The 21 below reading of Friday morning has been matched or exceeded many times in the past. For purposes of comparison, the January low temperatures of the past ten years are given here. Jan. 1914 had seven days with below zero readings; the coldest being Jan. 23, when it went down to -13. In 1917 the low reading was Jan. 3, a -16, and there were 5 below zero readings. There were no below zero readings in 1916, the thermometer hitting zero four times, but there were 6 below zero readings the preceding December, one of them -15 on Dec. 16.

A below zero reading of -8 on Jan. 1, 1945, was the only below zero reading for the month or for the rest of the winter, but there were two below zero days in February and three in December. There were three below zero days in January, 1944, the coldest being Jan. 12, when it showed -11. However there was a mark of +13 on Feb. 12, just a month below zero as follows: Jan. 17 -13 and -14; Jan. 18, -15 and -19; Jan. 21, -7 and -15; and Jan. 24, -2 and -7. January in 1942 started out cold and kept it up for 8 days. Here is the score: Jan. 1, -3 high and -7 low; Jan. 2, -13; Jan. 3, -3; Jan. 4, -18; Jan. 5, -17; Jan. 6, -7; Jan. 7, -13, and Jan. 8, zero.

In 1941 there were only two below zero days in January. One of these, Jan. 22, was -11. In 1940 there was -1 high and -11 low Jan. 18. A -4 high and a -11 low Jan. 24. Ten days of the month were below zero. Jan. 1939 was one of the warmest on record, the coldest day being 4 above. The low average for the month was 23 and the high average 43, making the mean average 33 degrees, just one degree above freezing. The warmest day, Jan. 1, was 60 degrees.

Going back three years more we find January, 1936 and on into February one of the bitterest spells of weather ever to hit Nebraska. January had fifteen days with below zero readings. The average high was 17 and the average low was -1, making the mean average 8 degrees. The latter part of the month was part of the longest below zero run ever known in Nebraska.

Beginning Jan. 18, 1936 there was a below zero reading every day from then until Feb. 27, inclusive, a total of 35 days. The coldest in January was on the 26th, when it fell to 18 below, but Feb. 8 was worse, with -22. From Feb. 6 to Feb. 17, inclusive, both high and low readings were below zero.

Going back to the winter of 1920-21 we find there was no below zero reading at any time. January 1916, was another bad month with 14 days showing below zero readings. The coldest in 1915 was 25 below Jan. 23. Now if you have read all this it is hoped that you will be a little less critical of the weather. If we had experienced severe cold along with all this snow, it would have been something to remember for a long, long time.

Funeral Held for Calvin Stewart

Don Stewart returned recently from California, where he was called by the death, Jan. 7, of his nephew, Calvin Wheatly Stewart, in an automobile accident. Calvin was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Stewart, a grandson of the late W. J. Stewart and nephew of the Old Stewarts.

Young Stewart was born June 3, 1926, in San Bernardino and moved to Riverside with his parents in October, 1933. He graduated from Polytechnic high school in 1944, and joined the U. S. Maritime service shortly after graduation. He was an ensign with the maritime service during the war, serving as radio officer, and took part in the Okinawa invasion.

He was still a member of the service when he was killed in an overturned car on U. S. Highway 60 near Ontario. He was making plans to enter college next summer. He was a member of the YMCA and the Methodist church.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Stewart of Riverside and also one brother, William Howard Stewart. Funeral services were held at Riverside on Jan. 12, Rev. Dr. Calvin E. Holman, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating.

Roads and Railroads.

Recently the Curtis Enterprise made some pertinent observations in regard to the railroads, the Holdrege and Sterling, that runs through their town. This branch line had been closed for some time, and none of the eighteen stations on the line had any service. The Holdrege and Sterling is a part of the Burlington system, and the railroad has had to spend all its time possible trying to keep the main lines open.

Here at Ord we have the same difficulty, with no train over the Palmer-Burwell line for nearly three weeks as this is written, and possibly none for some time to come. This is the longest time the Burlington branch lines have been closed since they were built, but we must not forget the fact that this is one of the most severe winters in the history of Nebraska.

Both branch lines into Ord have discontinued their motor trains, and have only thrice-a-week freight service when the lines are open. The people are inclined to blame the railroads for these conditions, but the people are to blame. No individual would run a business very long at a loss. No railroad should be expected to run trains at a loss for any great length of time.

Yes, we do not like the fix we are in, but we have nobody to blame but ourselves. A generation ago it was nothing unusual for a special train to leave over one or the other of the railroads with 25 or 30 cars of stock consigned to Omaha markets. Then the trains paid their way. Often a special train would be run to some town for some celebration, and the train would be full of passengers. Today they couldn't get 50 passengers where they used to get 500.

We have learned to travel by auto or by bus, and to ship by truck. In developing these methods of travel we have spent an immense amount of money for improvement of highways, and other millions for vehicles to run on those highways. We have taken away from the railroads their means of making money, our patronage, and we still expect them to continue a service we seldom or never use.

Railroads have always been a fruitful source of tax money. For example, in Valley county last year the Burlington was assessed $16,420 in taxes, and the Union Pacific $18,091, a total of more than $35,000. Estimating the mileage 95 miles, this means a tax of $1,000 on each mile of railroad. This is no small item to add to the cost of maintaining railroads in Valley county, and it is a very substantial addition to the revenue of the county.

People are not apt to change their minds in regard to travel. Therefore we may look into the not distant future and see the time when the branch lines will be discontinued and torn up, just as the Greeley-Eggen branch was torn up a few years ago. The tax burden is too heavy on us now, and we are told, and should know, that the expenditure of additional millions on Nebraska roads is essential to our way of life.

For some time we have had our cake and eaten it, too, but that time will soon be past. We have educated ourselves to expect to travel ten times as fast and ten times as far in a day as our pioneer forebears did. Since this is the way we want to live, we should be fair about it and admit that we should expect to pay ten times as much in taxes as we once did.

Also since we prefer to do our travel and our shipping over the highways, we should not expect the railroads to help bear the tax burden for us. The early settlers needed the railroads so badly that they even voted bonds to give to the railroads to induce them to build into a community. Today we do not realize we even need the railroads until a blizzard ties up the lines and coal, fuel oil or some other heavy freight fails to get through.

If you believe we do not need the railroads, ask Ericson or any one of dozens of other towns who lost their railroads. When and if the Holdrege and Sterling folds up, eighteen stations and towns with a population of more than six thousand people will be without a railroad. One hundred and eighty miles of railroad will be gone and $150,000 in taxes will be lost to the counties along the line. Apparently this is what we want, and we are getting it.

HUGH CARSON, 29th District

At the close of the past week there had been 285 bills introduced on the floor of the Legislature among which was the long expected Sales Tax proposal. This bill does not seem to be accumulating much support at the start but there are some Legislators who will favor it. During the coming week I look for the introduction of a State Income Tax measure as there are some who prefer it to the Sales Tax.

Public hearings on bills to broaden the state tax base will be delayed until after the end of this month. January 31 is the last date on which bills can be introduced by individual members. However, bills may be introduced after that date by any of the standing committees.

There is much discussion and talk about the Governor's proposal to add a penny to the gasoline tax and boost motor vehicle registration fees. The Governor said that Nebraskans are willing to pay the higher costs to get better highways, but some of us are not so sure. The response to my request for your opinions has been very gratifying and a lot of good ideas have come in from all over the district. Keep it up.

How the Other Half is Living

Robert Wilson, Wolbach service man, died at noon Thursday of a heart attack. He was filling an oil barrel at the R. H. Thomas home when stricken. Tuesday afternoon of last week Peder Hansen of Ericson, 82, was laid to rest at Wolbach, Rev. A. C. Ehret of North Loup officiating.

Jerry (Echlenacht) Meyer of Spaulding received word from his husband, Ed Meyer, who is stationed at Pearl Harbor, stating that he heard the Bartlett, Neb., short wave radio broadcast. The short wave radio station is operated by Ralph Walker of Bartlett and was in use during the recent storms.

Taylor's "Air Lift" pilot, Darrel Holmes of Milburn, has been a very busy man all through the storms in that area. He flew many trips to isolated ranches and delivered mail, medicine and food. He also flew Mrs. Dale Schultz from her father's ranch to the Loup City hospital, where her baby was born a few hours later.

Last week the Curtis Enterprise featured on the front page a picture of F. V. (Tubby) Haught, who was busy shoveling snow. This disproves the story that has been going the rounds here that he moved to Curtis to retire from active duty.

The Genoa city council announced recently the passage of an ordinance to remove center parking from the main street. A notice by the council in the Times-Leader said: "This is being done to correct a very dangerous practice. Our main street is also a Nebraska state highway."

George M. Spunkoff, for forty years director of the First National Bank of York, has retired from the job. At the same time he retired from his position with the First Trust company, which he had held for 37 years. He has also closed his law office and will take a permanent vacation.

Vernice Daye and Floyd Goff were chosen at the county contest held last week at Burwell, to represent Garfield county in the 4-H public speaking contest to be held at O'Neill the latter part of February. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bales have bought the Leroy Anderson home in east Burwell and will occupy it as soon as the Andersons move into their new home in the south part of Burwell.

A new Lions club with about 20 members is being organized at Merna. Officers of the new club will be: Rev. Samuel Mitchell, president; Dean Davy, vice-president; Robert Graylock, secretary; Wallace Coats, treasurer; Paul Riggs, lion tamer; Lyle Wolford, tail twister. Rev. Mitchell was Lion president last year in North Loup.

Two Custer county farm homes were burned to the ground in the past few weeks. Dec. 29 the home of the Arthur Brown family six miles northeast of Sargent, was burned while the family was away. Jan. 5 the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller of Callaway was burned under similar circumstances.

Jan. 12 the Loup City Cooperative creamery held its annual meeting. Ed Slominski, manager announced that the four highest rebate checks went to George Brandenburg of Arcadia, $292.15; E. W. Fowler, Loup City, $184.55; Charles Bukowski, Loup City, $161.16; and Ray Tronkie, Loup City, $157.38.

Clyde Keown of Scotia was elected chairman of the board of county commissioners for Greeley county at their reorganization meeting held Tuesday of last week. He succeeds in the office Mike Faherty of Greeley. Third member of the board is C. A. Dunning of Spaulding.

James P. Douthit, brother of W. W. Douthit of Greeley, died Thursday morning at his home in Lincoln. He was a retired farmer and was born near Clarinda, Ia.

Mr. Douthit is survived by his widow, four daughters, two sons and four brothers. He is the father of Mrs. May Ragland of Ord and Walter Douthit is a nephew.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

(By Gladys Kokes)

This is my mother's favorite recipe. Prepare: 1 cup dates 1 tsp. soda 1 cup boiling water Let stand for about five minutes while preparing the following: 1 cup sugar 1 cup flour pinch salt 1 tsp. vanilla 1/2 cup nuts 1 tbs. melted butter

Mix all ingredients together and put in baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Make about 1 to 2 inches thick.

Went Something to Eat? (By Carol Struckman) If you do just go into room three and you will find thirteen girls busily cooking in different kitchens.

Miss Heston was the guest of the Red kitchen Tuesday, when they cooked their first lunch. They found out what the vocer girls busily cooking in different kitchens.

Highlights (By Martha Kvetensky) A special discussion on dating, and a talk by Mr. Aule were the highlights of this week.

Charles Munn and Dick Tolen participated in the debating on dating January 5th. The discussion was very helpful to the girls. They found out what the vocer girls busily cooking in different kitchens.

The second topic in our unit is engagements. After several days of reading and discussing engagements, we had Mr. Aule come talk to us. He also brought along engagement rings to show in class. It seems that there was one particular one that caught the glimpse of every girl's eye. This was a diamond engagement ring valued at $500. We also received information about the cutting and the value of a diamond.

The Third Year Homemaking girls have enjoyed having Mr. Aule, Charles Munn and Dick Tolen, who have given us valuable information, aiding us in the study of this unit.

Cheese Frankfurters (By Maxine Mason) "Oh, aren't they good," "gee, they look swell," and "Oh, look! some of the remarks you would have heard if you had been in our kitchen when the first year girls were cooking their first set of meals, but really and truly (if I do say so myself) I think our meals tasted real good."

One of our favorite recipes is, Cheese Frankfurters, which we made when we were making our first dinner. I thought maybe you'd like to try it, so here it is.

Cheese Frankfurters 12 frankfurters 12 slices bacon 1/2 lb. American cheese Cut a lengthwise slit in each frankfurter. Cut strip of American cheese the length of frankfurter about 1/4 inch thick. Fill the slit with the strip of cheese; wrap a slice of bacon around each stuffed frankfurter and fasten ends with toothpicks. Broil or bake frankfurters, turning when brown, until the bacon is done. Serve six.

Sounds good doesn't it, Well, it is. Try it and find out. Umm!

Sewing Methods (By Norma Kral) Our sewing unit has started. We are making wool skirts. Some choose straight skirts to sew, others prefer the ballerina type.

We are learning a grand new method of sewing: using dress-makers carbon and tracing wheels (to mark the seams). Then there is no chance for us to make a mistake. We also learn to stay the material to keep the goods from raveling. In staying our skirts, we stitch one fourth of an inch from the raw edge of the material going from the bottom to the top of the skirt and from the sides to the center front and back at the top of the skirt. Staying makes the difference between a home-made looking garment and a factory made one.

With this new method, sewing it is a lot easier and more simple. We are enjoying this unit very much.

Apple Compote. 6 apples, peeled and cored 1/2 cup sugar Pinch salt Put the sugar, water and salt in a saucepan. Place the apples over a flame and heat until the mixture boils. Put the apples into the hot sirup. When the sirup again reaches the boiling point, turn down the flame so that the sirup boils gently. Then cover pan.

When the apples have cooked for about 10 minutes, stick with a fork the portion of the apples immersed in the sirup. If the lower part of the apples is tender carefully turn the fruit, and let the cooking continue until the apples are entirely tender. Carefully remove the apples from the sirup, placing them on a plate or other serving dish. Pour the sirup over the apples. (Add red coloring and cinnamon to the sirup if desired.) Serve hot or cold. Yield: 6 servings.

The yellow kitchen was the fastest. The girls in this kitchen are: Agnes Falls, Edna Miska, Dixie Stone, Patricia Wozniak and Amelia Penas.

TRAINING LESSONS. All-day training lessons will be held for the milk demonstration for the Valley County Extension clubs in North Loup on Tuesday, Arcadia on Wednesday, and Ord on Friday at the Legion hall. Arrangements will be made by Mrs. Gilbert Baskin of North Loup, Mrs. R. W. Coakley in Arcadia, and Mrs. Loren Good in Ord. A covered dish luncheon will be held at noon.

State Directory of Manufacturers for Year Printed

Published by Division of Agriculture and Inspection, and Nebraska Resources.

A recently published book, "Directory of Nebraska Manufacturers, 1949" is of interest. This book is a well printed and illustrated volume of 100 pages 8 1/2 by 11 inches in size, bound in a red paper cover with a picture of the Nebraska Capitol and the name of the governor, Val Peterson, on the front.

It was prepared by two state departments, Agriculture and Inspection and Nebraska Resources. Rufus M. Howard is director of the first department and Allen F. Dowling is chief of the second. The work was compiled by Edwin T. Smith, information editor of the Nebraska Resources foundation.

Included is a list of the members of the 61st session of the Nebraska legislature. Manufacturers are listed three different ways for convenience in locating. First is the firm listing, taken alphabetically, then the products listing, taken the same way, and finally, a geographic listing, by cities.

Special listings give bakery products, beverage dairies, mill, printing and publishing, signs and a supplement giving late insertions. Inserted in different places throughout the book are pages of pictures showing many of the different plants for manufacturing and processing over the state.

There is a total of 1751 firms or companies listed as engaged in some form of manufacture or processing. Since they are all in the manufacturing game, all newspapers of the state are listed. Also listed are 47 sign companies.

Listings from Ord include Noll Seed Company, O-N-L Mills, Inc., Ord Artificial Ice Co., Ord Cooperative Creamery Co., Shadelite Marquee Co., and Quiz Industries. From North Loup there are three: North Loup Cheese Co., Paramount Processing Co., and O. P. White Broom Factory.

Three are listed from Burwell: Burwell Butter Factory, Inc., Loup Valley Alfalfa Inc., and the Burwell Tribune. From Scotia the Scotia Register is the only firm mentioned, and the Comstock News is mentioned from there. None are mentioned from Arcadia.

The number of different kinds of goods now manufactured in Nebraska is almost beyond belief. There are apparel and other finished products, chemicals and allied products, electrical machinery, equipment and supplies, food and kindred products, furniture and fixtures, leather and leather products, lumber and wood products, machinery.

Metal industries, fabricated metal products, paper and allied products, petroleum and coal products, printing, publishing and allied industries, instruments, photographic and optical goods, rubber products, stone, clay, glass products, textile mills products, tobacco products and transportation equipment. Under each of the above heads are dozens of items too numerous to mention separately here. Then there are the miscellaneous manufacturing products, which include those items that do not come properly under any of the general heads mentioned above. These are: Baker supplies, brooms and brushes, candles, fabricated plastic products, jewelry, morticians supplies caskets and vaults, musical instruments and parts, novelties, office and artists materials, rubber stamps, badges, seals, etc., signs and advertising displays, toys and athletic goods.
