Blizzard Relief Operations Move Full Steam Ahead

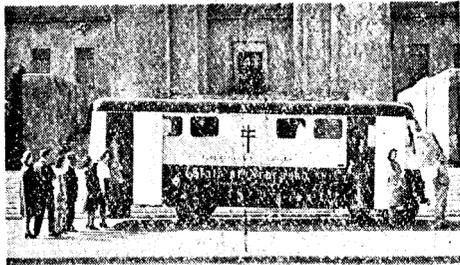

Plane Turns Over at Airport

One of three planes damaged at the Ord airport Sunday in around-the-clock operations was this chartered plane of the Hastings Daily Tribune. Piloted by Harry R. Purdum, the plane landed in a soft snow runway used only for ski planes and nosed over. Propeller and a wing strut were damaged. Other planes receiving damage due to snow were the C.A.P. owned plane and the Luscombe owned by Ellis Carson. — Photo by Swopes.

Air Resources of Ord Organized under Leslie Nash

14 Volunteer Pilots on Dawn-to-Dark Schedule to Aid Snow Victims. With only three ski equipped planes now available for use, a group of fourteen volunteer Ord pilots are flying dawn-to-dark from the Ord airport, delivering fuel, food and medicines to snow-isolated farms and ranches, flying rescue and mercy missions for the Red Cross, observation flights for the road-opening crews, and in all ways coordinating the efforts of the various agencies engaged in the gigantic task of getting the disaster area out from under the snow. Ord has been designated as air operations center for a 5-county disaster area by the Red Cross, and at least three more local planes will be equipped with skis as soon as they can be secured by the Red Cross.

X-Ray Unit Being Brought Here

The state department of health traveling X-ray unit which will examine all people in the county starting February 17.

Tuberculosis Tests to Begin in Valley County February 17

Free X-Rays to Be Given to Any Resident of the County; Dr. Weekes Says. The Valley County Chest X-ray survey, its goal the free chest X-raying of every adult in the county, will begin in Ord on Thursday, February 17, 1949, it was announced this week by Dr. C. W. Weekes. Endorsed as "an excellent health program," the Valley County X-ray survey will utilize the X-ray unit owned and operated by the State Department of Health, in giving free X-rays to all who wish them. The X-raying schedule for the county is: Ord — February 17, 18, 21, 22, 23, and 24. Arcadia — February 28, March 1 and 2. North Loup — March 4, 7 and 8. X-rays will be taken from 9 to 12 noon, and from 1 to 5 p. m. on most days. Service is free. This should be one of the most important community enterprises that Valley county has sponsored in years," said Dr. Weekes. "This is not merely a tuberculosis survey — it is a chest X-ray survey. Where an abnormal condition in the chest is noted, including tuberculosis, cancer, heart disease or other conditions, the individual is referred to his or her personal physician for further observation. Any adult resident of Valley county may receive this valuable X-ray service absolutely FREE. While these X-rays are for everyone, children of grade school age are remarkably free from active tuberculosis in serious or, and less likely, therefore, to benefit from a chest X-ray, but all are welcome, regardless of age, especially where there is suspicion that there is a chest condition present." Dr. E. A. Rogers, acting director of the Tuberculosis Control Division, State Department of Health, recently revealed that more than 198,000 free chest X-rays have been given in Nebraska in years. "The children of grade school age are remarkably free from active tuberculosis in serious or, and less likely, therefore, to benefit from a chest X-ray, but all are welcome, regardless of age, especially where there is suspicion that there is a chest condition present."

Coal on Way, School Continues

Fears that Ord high school might have to be closed for a few days because of lack of coal were dispelled Tuesday when school authorities learned that a carload ordered some time ago is enroute and will arrive in a day or two. Enough coal remains in the high school bins to keep the building at full heat only through Thursday but if the shipment doesn't arrive by then a few loads can be borrowed from the grade school building, which has plenty of coal. School was dismissed at both buildings Friday because of the storm and such action may be necessary again but not because of fuel being short.

Truckers Working Overtime to Move Stock from Hills

Peterson and Satterfield Moving Cattle Near Available Feed Supply. This week the movement to get stock out of the sandhill areas west of high gear. Everett Satterfield, who lives some 30 miles northwest of Burwell on the Calamus contacted the Service Oil early this week to have his cattle trucked out to where feed is available. The oil company was loaded down with contracts to haul cattle to Omaha for farmers, and Romans Transfer took over the Satterfield job. Jack Romans informed the Quiz Wednesday morning that they had 6 semi-trailer jobs ready when the trucks started back at once. Romans expected the second shipment would arrive in Ord about 11 a. m. Wednesday, and the trucks would return again, coming back with the final shipment of Satterfield stock, about 400 in all, some time Wednesday evening.

Army, Red Cross, County In Joint Drive Against Storm

With new snow fall estimated at three inches falling in Ord vicinity Wednesday morning, forecasts of heavier snow and high winds on Thursday and Friday, officials of Operation Snowbound in Ord braced themselves for the worst and a redoubling of efforts to bring aid to snow-bound farmers and ranchers in this area. Hampering operations is non-arrival of scheduled heavy equipment, and supplies, much of it still remaining in the southern part of the state blocked in by the same snow which darkened hopes of local people Wednesday.

Wrage Discusses National Affairs with Ord C. of C.

Minneapolis Representative U. S. Chamber of Commerce Is Ord Speaker.

Theodore Wrage, of Minneapolis, national affairs adviser of the United States chamber of commerce for the northwestern division, was an Ord visitor Wednesday and was guest of the Ord chamber at dinner at the Veterans club, the dinner being followed by a meeting of Chamber officers and committee chairmen at which Mr. Wrage was a speaker.

A Long Winter, Says Joe Dworak

"It's a long, hard winter and I never shoveled so much snow in my life," says Joe Dworak, of the North Side Market, Sunday afternoon Mr. Dworak and four other market employees began the big job of shoveling snow from the highway to their slaughter house, a distance of about 1/4 mile. Snow from the Friday storm had drifted in to a depth of 5 feet and Dworak was unable to hire a bulldozer or other equipment to clear it mechanically. The big job finally was finished Monday.

It was the fifth time this winter that the road to the slaughter house has drifted full, he said.

March of Dimes in County Will Close February 15

Weather Conditions Are Blamed for Slow Response in Campaign.

The March of Dimes drive in Valley county is still far below the expected goal. Amount collected to date is $548.61, not even half the amount the Valley county chapter spent in 1948 for the care of its victims of polio. The 1947 drive in this county was almost $1400; we were asked to increase that 50% in 1948.

If your neighborhood solicitor has not called on you won't you bring or send your contributions to the County Superintendent's office in Ord or to Mrs. Mettenbrink in North Loup, or Mrs. Iryne Kapustka in Elyria.

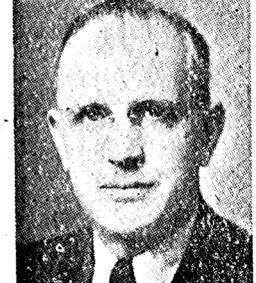

This appeal is directed at YOU, not your boss, not your husband or your wife, but YOU. We need more than your dimes, we need your dollars. We need the help of everyone if Valley county is to reach its goal by February 15. Join the March of Dimes.

Monday evening the Jimmy Barnett orchestra, featuring Johnny Soyer as leader and vocalist, played for a dance put on by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion. Dean Misko had charge of the arrangements and was highly pleased with the interest and enthusiasm shown by all in attendance. The proceeds went to the March of Dimes.

Mr. Misko said he felt mention should be made of the trouble the orchestra went to in order to keep their appointment in Ord. They played for a dance in Kansas City Sunday night. Leaving there at 2 a. m. Monday, they drove over roads heavily coated with ice and got to Ord just in time to start playing for the dance here.

Reports Lacking. A card party, twice postponed, is planned at Elyria to raise money for the cause, but most roads out of Elyria are still impassable. No report is in yet from either North Loup or Arcadia, but both towns are staging drives. Also, quite a number of the rural school districts are yet to be heard from.

Word was received Monday of the death of Mrs. Paul Gebauer of Hood River, Ore., who passed away Monday morning, Jan. 31. No funeral arrangements were known.

In his talk Wrage commended the work of the Hoover Commission, which will soon make a report on streamlining and making more efficient the executive branch of the federal government. "We must make our government more economical and efficient and to do this the states and local communities must again finance a greater share of local projects instead of depending on the federal government to carry the burden."

Must Reduce Debt. Instead of going into debt the government must set up a definite debt reduction program, he declared.

He spoke in opposition to Truman's proposals for federal aid to schools and socialization of medicine and said that the United States Chamber of Commerce is pledged to a program of making economy in government political-popper.

"We must keep the system of free enterprise financially sound and keep it working for America and the world," he said.

Chambers Couple Are Found Frozen

The frozen bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Kiltz of near Chambers were found Tuesday of last week by a neighbor, Harvey Jones, who had a habit of dropping in occasionally to see how the couple, both about 60 years of age, were getting along.

Mr. Kiltz was found in the barn, where he may have suffered a heart attack, and his wife's body was found between the house and the barn. Mr. Harvey called for help, and about 20 men spent hours clearing the road to Chambers, 7 miles southwest, and the bodies were taken to the mortuary there.

2 Planes at Taylor.

Dr. Glen Auble, who heads disaster work for the Red Cross during this emergency in Valley, Wheeler, Loup, Greeley and Garfield counties, has chartered two planes to fly out of Taylor also.

A helicopter from the army air base at Lincoln was expected to come Wednesday morning. This plane with pilot will be based at the Ord field, subject to call elsewhere in this area as needed.

Auble also has had a supply of sacked coal trucked to the airport, and non-perishable groceries also will be stored there, sewed in burlap bags, so quick delivery of fuel and food can be made in all emergency cases.

Nash Is Air Chief. Leslie Nash, Soil Conservation Service head stationed in Ord, has been named air operations officer and the SCS has given him leave of absence to head up this important job.

Only ski-equipped planes can be flown safely from the Ord airport, whose runways are covered with snow. These include the Stinson 4-place plane owned by Ted Slobazewski, an Aeronca and a Luscombe, the last two being light two-place planes.

Assisting Nash is Ellis Carson, airport manager, who also makes his share of flights, and the following pilots D. E. Troyer, Bob Jablonski, John Sullivan, Ed Swopes, Vernon Nay, Emil Smolik, Charlie Zanger, Richard Marshall, Bill Steen, R. Norman, C. Blemond and Slobazewski. All are accepted CAP pilots.

2-Way Radio Here. Capt. Bowman, operational head of the Civilian Air Patrol in Nebraska, flew in from Lincoln Sunday afternoon bringing the 2-way radio outfit for installation here, Joe Fajmon and Wallace Doe are assisting.

New Date Set for District Contest and Corn Awards. Weather Permitting, Three Annual Corn Shows Will Be Held Here, Feb. 16.

Since the January date for the annual district corn show and finish-up meeting of the corn yield contest had to be cancelled because of impassable roads, the Valley County Extension Service and the Ord Chamber of Commerce, have set a new date for these events, hoping that Feb. 16, may find better weather conditions prevailing.

The committee was faced with two alternatives; either to call off the meeting entirely and mail the certificates of award to the winners, or hold the meeting at a later date. Because of the interest shown in the past, it was thought best to set a new date. The show will provide space for hybrid corn dealers to display their latest developments.

The program will follow along much the same lines as that originally planned for Jan. 12, with moving pictures, talks by a number of well known men, and prizes for corn, both yellow and white, both dry land and irrigated, by the bushel and in the 6 ear class. Full details will be printed in the Quiz later.

WILL LOSE FINGERS. Word from the Charles Kasson family tells that their daughter, Isabel, who had her fingers frozen some time ago, continues to improve, but that she will lose the greater part of six fingers, and that the doctors will have to do some skin grafting. She is still in Grand Island, where she is near the hospital.

Got Stuck Twice. They left Ord about 4 p. m. Near the Stanley Patska place they got stuck in a drift, but with the aid of a tractor and a team they got through in about an hour and a half. Then at the Brick school they got into another drift

REA Energizes Many New Homes on Branch One

Will Begin Work on Branch Two at Once; 32 Farmers Now On.

One of the bright spots, in more ways than one, in the present storm picture is the fact that a large number of rural homes are now equipped with electricity and are enjoying advantages for a long time enjoyed only by their more fortunately situated city cousins.

Since the first homes were energized more than two weeks ago the work has gone steadily forward in spite of the handicap of snows and drifted roads, and at the present time no less than 32 farm homes are using electric energy.

The list of farmsteads energized since then and as of Jan. 31 is as follows: Lewis Jobst, Walter Conner, Willard Conner, F. H. Kuehl, Jr., Anton Dohna, Russell Hackel, Charles Hackel, E. O. Hackel, Archie Mason, Bernard Swank, Ernest Vodehnal, Mr. Joe Penas, Elmer Penas, Chris Kirby, H. B. Koll, Dist. 17 (Brace), Edward Tvedik, Irving King, Gust Foth, Jr., Walter Dohna, William H. Kness, Theo. H. King, A. C. Williams, Harold Koelling, Merl Page, Harry Foth, Martin Fuss, Joe Krulek Jr., Oscar Smith and John McCarville, all of Ord, and Orville Lueck and Henry Krajcik of Arcadia.

Floyd Stake, superintendent for A. B. Reither Construction company, Wednesday morning handed W. P. Hollands the check for advance on Branch 2, which branches off Branch 1 at the Koll corner and runs south and east through Mira Valley, extending east to the Bill Vogeler and Aubrey Davis places west of North Loup.

Albin Absalon Makes Record Trip; Travels Nine Miles in Four Hours

Three days to make 9 miles and return by auto and by air is the record set last weekend by Albin Absalon of the Quiz force, and it goes to prove the deplorable condition the roads of Valley county are in as a result of the many storms of the past month.

Thursday evening it was decided that Charlotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Meese, had an ulcer in her eye, and they were advised to get her to Dr. Gifford in Omaha as quickly as possible. Leaving Charlotte at the Albin Absalon home with her sister, Mrs. Meese, and Albin started out to the Meese farm to take Mr. Meese and another daughter, Mildred, home.

They left Ord about 4 p. m. Near the Stanley Patska place they got stuck in a drift, but with the aid of a tractor and a team they got through in about an hour and a half. Then at the Brick school they got into another drift Eye Recovering. The CAP plane came up Saturday morning and took Mr. and Mrs. Meese and Charlotte to Omaha, where they consulted Dr. Gifford. They came home on the bus Sunday with the doctor's assurance that there was no danger for either eye, but that she should come back in about two months for a check-up. While the Meeses were getting out home Mrs. Absalon was treating Charlotte's eye with penicillin.

Insulin Needed by Woman in Jones Canyon

Ord CAP units were preparing Wednesday to make a precarious mercy flight to snow blocked Jones canyon to bring insulin to Mrs. Anton Sindelar. A helicopter due here had been scheduled for the flight. When it became snowed in, local airmen decided to use regular ski planes.

Jones canyon, five miles northeast of Burwell, is one of the deepest canyons in this section of the state. The flight will be a dangerous operation due to lack of a landing area large enough to get a plane over the towering canyon walls.

Then the trucks were to go back to the same area to pick up six loads or more of stock for Forrest Peterson. Mr. Peterson has his stock on his ranch eight or ten miles north and east of Satterfield. He and his son, Satterfield, have been looking after the stock there. They had 140 head of fat cattle on feed out in Mira Valley and moved them out to Omaha to market recently. They will bring the sandhill stock down to his brother, Albert Peterson's place in Mira Valley.

Heavy Winds Thursday Again Blocked Roads; Snowfall Was Light.

The past week has been cold all the way, although not quite as cold as the record week preceding. The coldest day of the week was Saturday when a chill 14 below zero was registered, followed closely by Wednesday morning with a -10 degrees. Monday hit the high point of the week, with 24 above. The mean average for the week was 13 above.

Snow fell in small amounts several times during the week, and this in itself would not have caused much trouble, had it not been for the wind, which clogged the roads, especially last Thursday. The snow increased the grand total for the winter to 48 inches.

Wednesday was the traditional "ground hog day" and the animal could see his shadow if he braved the chilly weather. Whether there is anything to the legend or not, the fact is that it will take a month of the most favorable weather to get rid of most of the snow now on the ground.

With so much snow already on the ground, the wind has become an even greater hazard than further snowfall would be, as it moves the snow and deposits it in tightly packed drifts that are difficult to remove. A few really warm days might form a coating over the top and slow down this drifting, but so such days have come to date.

WEATHER table with columns for High, Low, Precip and rows for Thurs, Fri, Sat, Sun, Mon, Tues, Wed, Total Precip, etc.

County Roads First. The county roads will be in charge of Capt. Bates, who told the office that the general procedure would be to open county roads first, township roads next, then individual farmer's lanes and paths to hay and feed stacks. Working with the three pieces of equipment owned by the county and another patrol unit owned by the city of Ord, access roads should be opened rapidly, unless heavy snows clog roads.

Burlington Snow Plow Reaches Ord Sunday

This is the way car that came into Ord Sunday with the snow plow and engines, and members of the train crew. They found time down the line to decorate the car with appropriate signs. In case they are hard to read: "Little America", "Snow Rush, '49", and "Burwell" or Bust. — Photo by Swopes.

The local office received word late Tuesday that ten pieces of equipment, consisting of nine bulldozers and an AC type road patrol would move into Valley county sometime Wednesday to begin road opening operations. The equipment, mainly owned by private contractors and leased to the Army, is coming from as far as Belleville, Kan.

"I Rode With Operation Hay Lift"

by Ed Swopes

Sunday I rode in a C-52, one of the army's big Flying Box Cars, while it delivered 115 bales of nearly five tons of baled hay to starving cattle on a Garfield county ranch.

Captain Heinmiller was commander of the plane in which I rode. He flew the big ship all the way from Lawson Air Force Base at Columbus, Ga. to take part in the U. S. Army's emergency effort to save Nebraska livestock from starvation.

There are 31 more Flying Box Cars taking part in Operation Hay Lift from the Kearney Air Base, as well as a dozen C-47s, the army's two-motored transport planes which can haul 80 bales of hay but seem dwarfed by their larger cousins, the C-52s.

From bases all over the United States these planes came to Kearney at the command of Major General Louis Pick and starting Thursday they have done a grand job, flying whenever weather permitted and delivering, up to Tuesday night, a total of almost 200 tons of hay.

I rode to Kearney Sunday morning in a plane piloted by Stanley Prince, of Crete, Red Cross area representative, and at the air base found the officers' lounge a scene of great activity. In general charge of the entire Operation Hay Lift to date is B. W. "Tiny" Wagner, of Burwell, who buys the hay, and calls for its delivery and directs where the cargoes should go. Among his assistants I recognized K. W. Peterson, Dale Bredthauer, and Charles Schuling, all of Burwell, and there were five or six more Burwell and Taylor men whose faces were familiar to me but whose names I cannot recall. Ranchers of Garfield, Loup and other counties whose cattle are saved by this gigantic undertaking will have these men, and especially Wagner, to thank. In fact I was informed that Wagner is even financing the entire operation, so far as hay buying is concerned, with his own money and taking a chance on getting it back from the ranchers to whom hay is delivered, after the emergency is over.

$80 Ton Is Hay Price.

The hay is being bought at a price of about $30 per ton delivered at the air base in bales and is being sold to the ranchers at exact cost of purchase. Delivery by the army is done without charge and all the local men assisting are donating their services, so the only cost to ranchers who get the hay will be the actual cost of the hay.

Some hay dealers, I was told, are attempting to charge $50, $60 and even $75 per ton for good baled alfalfa because they think they can get it but "Tiny" Wagner has sternly and even profanely refused to allow these speculators to cash in on the misfortunes of other Nebraskans and has held the purchase price down as far as he could. For poorer prairie hay he has paid as little as $14 a ton but good alfalfa, baled and delivered to the base, is worth about $30.

Local "Spotters" Used. How the lift operates may be of interest to some readers. Crew of a C-52 delivering hay is the regulation five army personnel, including the captain, 4 pushers, who are usually Kearney business men who have volunteered their services; and one spotter, a Burwell or Taylor man who goes along to locate the ranch to which hay is to be delivered.

When a plane is to be loaded everybody, even the ship's captain, pitches in and helps load hay through two big doors at rear of the plane. When the plane is loaded these doors are closed and two other doors, one at each side, are used when dumping the hay. The big plane flies at a height of 3,000 to 5,000 feet enroute from Kearney to its destination in the ranch country. When the spotter locates the ranch the pilots bring the plane down 25 feet from the ground and the pushers, one of whom stands at each door, starts pushing the bales out, 3 at a time, as the captain rings a bell which tells them when to dump. Other pushers put the hay in position in front of the doors. The men who push it out are tied to the plane with ropes and this precaution already has saved at least one life, for one pusher, I was told, almost went out with the bales he was shoving.

2 Hours to Dump Load. Since only six bales are unloaded at once you can see that many swings are necessary to unload the whole cargo and because the C-52 is so large it must fly a six-mile circle each time to get back in position to dump more bales.

Top — A truck loaded with hay backs up to the gigantic C-52 at the Kearney air base and crew members and volunteer workers will start shoving bales into the maw of the plane. Five tons, 145 bales of hay, are carried each trip.

Center — "Hay away!" Capt. Heinmiller gives the signal and the pushers shove the first bales from the low-flying plane.

Bottom — Hungry cattle gather closely around the broken hay bales. Some even stand in the center of the hay, eating steadily. Another herd saved from acute starvation by Operation Hay Lift! — All photos by the author, Ed Swopes.

me. They have been hauling hay 2 miles in a hayrack pulled by four horses to keep them going but are now nearly out of accessible hay, so ordered a load delivered by plane.

As we watched, the big C-52 came in sight, swooped close to the ground and dumped the first few bales, swung in a graceful figure eight and barked again to dump more, continuing the maneuver until the hay was unloaded. Again I saw at close hand what I had seen from the plane. Sunday the bales tumble end over end to the snow-covered ground and burst open, flooding green hay for yards around. I saw the cattle, all of which had been on short rations, race for the hay and begin eating hungrily. — as cold as we stood there — nearly zero, I was told but the work went on and the cattle kept getting at the life-giving hay.

Burwell People of Early Years Pass to Reward

3 Long Time Residents Called; All Were Near Eighty Years of Age.

Harry H. Johns, and Springsted Johns, was born at Independence, Mo., May 30, 1869. He passed away Jan. 25, 1949. The family moved to Nebraska when he was 11 years old. Mr. Johns spent his life as a rancher and farmer near Burwell.

Mrs. Elias Bailey. Winifred Louise Bryant was born in Los Angeles, July 4, 1865, the only child of Louise Banning Bryant and John Bryant. At the age of 19 she married Elias Bailey of Newcastle, Maine. They came west and located at Scotia. He was interested in the grain and implement business there, at Ord and at Burwell.

Mrs. Bailey passed away in 1930. Mrs. Bailey was interested in community affairs, was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, and joined the Congregational church at Newcastle, Me., at an early age, always retaining her membership there. She died at Lincoln Jan. 19. She leaves to mourn a nephew, Gould B. Flagg, Mrs. Flagg and the three Flagg children, all of Lincoln.

Mrs. Susie DeLashmutt. Susie Adams DeLashmutt was born at St. Louis, Aug. 26, 1867 and died at Burwell Jan. 20, 1949. She was married to Dudley Wilson DeLashmutt Feb. 27, 1889. They observed their 40th anniversary in 1929. Her husband and their only son, Frank, preceded her in death.

The family lived for many years in Burwell. Mrs. DeLashmutt owned a ranch in Loup county. She was a member of the Burwell Congregational church. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Agnes Hummel and Mrs. Leonard Johnson of Burwell, besides a number of grandchildren and two great-grandsons.

Prices High at Goff Hog Sale

An average of $159.50 was paid for several top pigs at the Goff sale barn at the Clifford Goff purebred sale this week. The top sow brought $325.00.

While buyers were not present personally, magazine representatives had lots of orders for bids. High bids came from Iowa, Texas, Michigan, Minnesota, with some unsuccessful bids from Ohio.

BRACE. Ila Fay Jobst spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents. Mr. Jobst was able to get her with the team and wagon. She stays at the Elmer Anquist home and teaches Cottonwood school.

Betty Kirby and Lucella Boyce attended a party at the home of Leila Rhodes in Ord Wednesday evening and were also overnight guests at the Rhodes home. On Tuesday evening the same girls attended the class play in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koll spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Luoma.

Harry Pooche came from Shelton Sunday and Mrs. Pooche accompanied him home. She has spent several weeks helping care for his mother, Mrs. Morris Kirby, who is now feeling much better.

Billy Kirby was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kirby and Dorothy Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Nelson and family went to Kearney over the weekend where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Dahlin and daughter.

Mrs. Walter Jorgensen underwent a goster operation at the Clinic in Rochester and is recovering. Walter returned home Tuesday. Mrs. Jorgensen will stay for while longer and return by train as soon as she is able. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Worm accompanied Walter home. He went to consult the doctors.

One Way Traffic Through Drifts

Wives Guests of Rotarians Monday

Members of the Ord Rotary club entertained their wives and several other guests Monday evening at a dinner prepared by the women of Bethany Lutheran church and served by girls of the domestic science classes at the high school auditorium Monday evening.

Group singing led by Bill Nelson preceded a delicious dinner and Orlin Kellison, Rotary president, presided at the program, main feature of which was a talk on conditions in his native Czechoslovakia and Europe in general by Ivan Brod, a graduate student at Hastings college, who was introduced by Hubert Paine, director of public relations at the college.

Arcadia

Installation of officers of the Odd Fellows which was to have been Monday night was postponed for one week since the North Loup tests were unable to get here.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gould were business callers at the home of Les Knapp, between North Loup and Ord, Tuesday.

Ralph Ackles went to Omaha with cattle Wednesday returning home Monday morning. He was stopped in at Grand Island over the week end.

Church Plans to Dedicate in May. Since the "unusual weather" caused indefinite postponement of the dedication of Ord's Bethel Baptist church, a large number of people have been inquiring as to when the service would be held. The pastor, Eugene Olson, gives out the information that this program will now be held some time in May.

The Platte Valley conference is scheduled to be held in the Ord church at that time. Since the dedicatory service could not be held at the time planned, it was decided to postpone it until May, a time when the weather is almost certain to be fine.

Jack Sharpe and Joe Welsh were over night guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simpson.

Mrs. Matilda Cummings returned home first of the week from Scotia where she visited with friends.

Donald Payne returned to his home via plane, first emergency flight from the Ericson area, Saturday morning.

Julianina Davlin spent the week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster and to be near school.

Mrs. Ruth Lenker substituted as teacher in the primary room the past week due to the absence of Miss Helen Ackles, who was storming in at her home.

Jack Lenker returned to Hamburg, Ia., last week. Mrs. Lenker remained for a longer visit with their parents and other relatives.

Because of the storms, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Booth did not complete moving last week to their new home but were making plans to get it done first of this week, providing the weather permits.

Nelda and Lael Mentzer have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Patrick the past week.

Lela Foster visited the past week in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Keizer and Mr. and Mrs. Topi Svoboda.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Bartok of Greeley were Wednesday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Burhaus.

Janice Baker stayed at the Cecil Haller home the past week to be near school.

Frank Pierce motored to Grand Island first of the week to consult a doctor because of an eye infection. He remained in Grand Island until Sunday to be near the doctor and because of the storm and blocked highways.

Mrs. Alice Unterkricher returned home first of the week from Scotia, where she visited relatives the past week.

Ina Dedam of Scotia visited the past week in the home of Eva Jean Cummings.

Joe and Jimmy Welsh were guests the past week in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Harris and Bobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Adamek are guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adamek.

May Pitzer was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Thomas and to be near school the past week although there was school only part of the week.

Urb McKenzie visited with Ed Cook Saturday afternoon. Mr. Cook has been ill for some time but is improved.

Mrs. Wm. Fritz who has been ill for several weeks is improved.

WEATHER MAN TELL. One of the interesting items this week concerns the weather man, who is "under the weather." Horace Travis is confined to his home at present with an abscess on his hip, and is taking some ribbing from his friends, who tell him he can dish it out, but he can't take it.

Spring May Offer Worse Problem than Cold Weather

Planes Can't Operate Off Soggy Ord Airfield and Roads May Be Impassable.

Bad as conditions now are because of the deep snow and cold weather, they may be even worse in some respects when spring thaws turn airfields and roads into near-bottomless quagmires. That was the opinion expressed at the airport Tuesday afternoon by Lesha Nash and since echoed by other Ord men who are helping in the big push to aid storm victims.

At present ski-equipped planes can use the airport, even though it is covered with snow, but once the snow melts off and frost leaves the ground the field will be too soft for use by any type of planes for many weeks. This means that food and medicines cannot be flown in emergency cases.

Flood conditions are likely to develop when the snow goes off and even if it melts slowly Valley county's dirt roads will be impassable because of mud, possibly for several weeks. Never before has there been such a volume of snow here so it is difficult to forecast what conditions may be in March and April.

John McMeekin, Nebraska highway chief, gave the best advice to farmers living off main highways when he said: "When a road is opened up to your home get out as quickly as you can, get everything you are likely to need for a long pull, and get back home as soon as you can." His advice was given with the thought that more blizzards are likely to come but it is equally pertinent for possible flood and mud conditions of early spring.

Hvezda Funeral Is Postponed

The body of Cpl. Anton A. Hvezda arrived in Ord Tuesday, but the funeral, which had been planned for Wednesday afternoon, has been postponed indefinitely, due to impassable roads between Loup City and Ord. The services will be held at the Hastings-Pearson chapel at some future date, under the auspices of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Kearney Air Base Inactivated Soon

The Kearney Air Force base is to be inactivated within the next six months, according to an order received from Washington. The base, which brings an eight million dollar payroll to Kearney, is to be closed and the personnel moved to Austin, Tex.

The Kearney base is a strategic air station. The change is being made in order to make the force areas conform to army areas. The base was first activated in 1912. It was closed for a short time at the end of the war, and was opened again in 1947.

As a pre-requisite to the reopening, the government demanded that Kearney deed over the 500 acres of land which is a part of the base, and required that 200 rental units be built. Kearney business men raised $60,000 to commence building, and later several hundred units were built with private capital.

About 1,600 men have usually been stationed at the air base and perhaps 900 of these had living quarters in nearby towns. An estimated 200 live at the Grand Island air base. Kearney, with the aid of Grand Island, Minden and other towns, is vigorously opposing the removal of the air base.

Stock Buyer Held on Check Charge

Another sizable insufficient fund check was in the news today, says the Grand Island Independent.

Marvin Pearson, 25, Burwell, was bound over to district court on a $5,000 bond by Justice of the Peace Paul C. Holmberg. Pearson waived preliminary hearing and entered a plea of innocent.

Pearson is charged with writing a check for $3,533.40 to the Harry Livestock Commission company of Grand Island on Dec. 20, 1948, for cattle he purchased.

He was unable to furnish the $5,000 bond and is being held in the Hall county jail pending his hearing in district court.

Choice of Lamps
More than 200 kinds of electric light globes are used in American homes for a wide variety of purposes.

Snow Relief Gets Slap from Burlington R.R.

Operation Snowbound, in Ord ran smack up against railroad regulations Tuesday evening and came off second best.

The eagerly awaited Burlington train for Ord and Burwell, carrying many carloads of vitally needed fuel, coal, livestock feed, at least two cars of hay and four badly needed weasels for army rescue operations didn't quite make it.

One train got as far as Greeley at 5 o'clock Tuesday night. Since the crew's eight hour day was up, they left their train for the regulation eight hours layoff, to come to Ord in the morning. The engine froze during the night, and finally, at 8 o'clock the train was reported headed for Ord. Only four cars, one of feed, two of coal and one of fuel oil were brought, the others being left at Greeley.

A second train on the Aurora-Burwell branch got as far as Palmer. There the crew put the cars on the siding, backed their engine to Aurora.

"To say that we are disappointed in the railroad's lack of cooperation will be put mildly," D. F. Glen Aulsebrook, county disaster committee chairman, told the Quiz. "There is carload after carload of supplies waiting to be shipped along the track between here and Aurora, which Burwell especially, and Ord need."

"With threats of another big snow-storm this week end, and the apparent lack of cooperation on the part of the railroad it may be better to hope the tracks are open again. That might be too late."

Aulsebrook said that he would protest the railroad's attitude to higher authority.

Two Hogs Killed by Fierce Felix

From over in Boone county comes the story of two hogs weighing 250 and 150 pounds, respectively, which were killed in a single night by some kind of marauding beast of either the cat or dog family. This animal has been reported to have quite a wide area of Platte and Boone counties and has been given the name of Phantom Felix.

At the farm near St. Edward where the hogs were killed, tracks like those of a cat or dog, about 3 1/2 inches in diameter, were seen. The animal ate the flesh about the heads of both hogs. It has been seen at a distance and is said to resemble a lion. While it has made a number of feyays against livestock, it has not as yet offered to attack a man.

Another interesting animal story has it that four deer wandered into a haystack on the Frank Matson place seven miles west of Petersburg and fell over and died. The cause of death was not apparent. It may be that the prevailing weather was too severe for them to stand. Many deer and antelope died in the blizzard of 1888. These deer may have been too hungry and may have eaten too much of the hay.

The business that rests on its oars has a long pull ahead. Advertise in the QUIZ and keep the public informed.

Health Meetings for Valley County

Ord, North Loup and Arcadia will have a series of health institutes during the first week of the visit of the T. B. Unit to Valley county. The extension clubs of the county are sponsoring the meetings.

The Ord meeting is to be held at the Masonic hall on Tuesday, Feb. 22, beginning at 10 a. m. There will be morning and afternoon sessions.

Next day, Wednesday, Feb. 23, meetings will be held at the Community center in North Loup, both afternoon and evening.

Thursday, Feb. 24, meetings will be held in the auditorium of the Arcadia high school both afternoon and evening.

Speakers from the state health department and the state extension service will show films and discuss such topics as heart disease, cancer control, social hygiene, brucellosis control and farm sanitation, and also pre-payment plans for hospitalization and medical care.

A detailed program will appear in next week's Quiz, announces Katharine Helzer, who is making arrangements.

Groundhog Shadder is An Ill Omen

When Febr. 2 dawned cloudy with light snow falling, hopeful Ordites thought the day might continue dark and that any groundhogs who live in this vicinity might be unable to see their "shadders." But at 12:14 p. m. the sun broke through to shine briefly though wanly and according to the old saw, "the jig's all up."

Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow all right and six weeks more winter weather remains to be endured.

Nine Bulldozers to Ord; More on Way to Open Local Roads

National Guard Units Hauling Hay, Food, Fuel; Red Cross Writes Blank Check to Area.

(Continued from front page) National guard units, already on the scene, have at present two six by six army trucks and a jeep, and expect to have four weasel crabs by Wednesday. Two of the weasels will be stationed here, the other two sent to Bartlett.

Hay Price Pegged. Hay prices were pegged in Ord this week by Bruce Covey, in charge of hay buying operations. "There are a few persons in the area who are attempting to get rich off other people's misfortune. So, we have set the top of $20 a ton for the best baled alfalfa hay. In other words, we will pay no more than that, and we advise farmers to follow the same practice in buying for themselves."

Furnishing Food, Fuel. Glen Auble, county Red Cross disaster chairman, said that his organization was set to move in high gear. "We were visited by a fieldman from Kearney Monday, and have his approval of just about anything we can do to aid human suffering.

Gets 30 Days for No Fund Check. Joe Psota, who came to Ord from the Arcadia vicinity, was sentenced to serve 30 days in county jail Tuesday by Judge Charles Cochran after pleading guilty to a no-fund check charge brought against him by County Attorney Norman at the instance of Kenneth Leach's filing station.

Cattle in Bad Shape. Pilots who have been flying over the sandhills area tell almost unbelievable stories about conditions and the loss of livestock which is taking place. On the Amos Grant ranch more than 100 dead cattle have been found to date and at least as many more are unaccounted for, reports C. Biemond. A rancher in the Swan Lake area reports 250 head missing and probably dead beneath drifts which in that section are 20 or more feet. Such conditions are the rule and not the exception.

Fuel Situation Tight. At noon Wednesday, the Ord city light plant had an eight day supply of fuel oil on hand, of which almost all had been trucked in. Due here on the Burlington Wednesday was one car of fuel oil containing another eight day supply.

Many Flights Flown. The log of flights kept at the Ord airport contains some interesting entries. A few of them are outlined here briefly: Monday, Jan. 31—Emil Smolik flew coal and food to Lyle Bailey, wife and six children. Live in sod house 1 1/2 miles south, Maiden Valley school.

Roads of County to Be Open Soon; Railways Opened

Fair Weather Speeding Huge Task of Clearing Town to Town Highways.

Since last week's issue of the Quiz the railroad situation has cleared up, with conditions nearly back to normal, but the highway proposition is not so good. All available machinery is out on the roads and they will be opened up as rapidly as possible. If the present fair weather continues, it will still take a long time to get all roads in the county opened up.

U. P. Use Dragline. On the Union Pacific a train came up to Ord Sunday, bringing two carloads of bulldozers, and other snow fighting equipment. Also Sunday a heavy truck came up the highway from Grand Island bringing a dragline which was put to work at once clearing the deep drifts of snow from the track and for a space on either side, the object being to prevent the snow again drifting in case of another storm.

Highways Drifted. Tuesday evening Tracy Hamilton, county highway commissioner, gave the county road situation as he was able to do so. He knows what has been done from Ord out, but does not know what is being done from the other end of the roads into Ord. Since he cannot get out over the clogged roads, he can only guess their present condition.

Covered with snow and ice from end to end, this rotary snow plow, pushed by three engines, finally got through to Ord about 4:40 Sunday afternoon over the Burlington. This is the same outfit that had been battling snow for the past month from Greeley west.

Saturday, Jan. 29—Carson flew groceries to Wallace ranch, intended returning light but found Henning, 250-pound heavy equipment operator who is opening roads in that area needed to go to Loup City, so brought him to Ord. Tugs motor of Taylor, two 1500-pounders in plane, Marshall (a lighter pilot) took Henning on to Loup City, flew him back to Wallace ranch Monday morning.

Delivered Medicines. Tuesday, Feb. 1—Troyer took medicine to Ed Hall ranch, fuel to Gardner ranch. Swopes went along to take pictures of hay lift. Lieut. Edmiston, in charge for national guard, was passenger to observe disaster area.

Nebraska Highway Needs Shown in Recent Engineering Appraisal

In this chapter the history of roads in Nebraska will be considered from the beginning of recorded history down to the present time. The state, even in the earliest days, was not difficult to traverse. The steepest hills could be avoided, the water courses were fordable, and most of the streams could be forded. Also, there was an abundance of water in most parts of the state and this was an important consideration in early day travel.

Next came the Oregon trail, moving from the state north to the celebrated journey of Lewis and Clark. These explorers brought back interesting tales of the fur to be found there. At that time St. Louis was the outpost of civilization and expeditions from there followed the trail of Lewis and Clark as far as Kansas City.

While the main Mormon trail followed the course given above, it was not followed by all travelers, many, even Mormons, hunting, and finding shorter and more direct trails. Some followed up the valley of the North Loup river and got as far north as North Loup, turning west there and going up the North Platte and North Platte river to Wyoming.

The earliest settlers were aware of this trail, which was traveled mostly on foot or on horseback, and for this reason looked more like a cowpath than a pioneer trail. A part of this trail was clearly defined in a pasture on the A. Ward farm in Mira Valley no further back than 1910. The sod had been broken up since then and is no longer shown.

It was also understood that the counties could establish roads not on section lines by agreement with the owners of the land, when such roads were petitioned for according to law. The first law involving the state with road and bridge problems was passed in 1905, the state to furnish the counties with plans for bridges upon request. At that time the registration fee for cars was set at $1. The year 1911 found the state for the first time participating in road and bridge work. The state and county were to act jointly in the case of certain construction, the state paying half the cost. The registration law became a revenue measure for the first time and car fees were raised to $2 per year, with the money allocated to county road funds for construction and maintenance.

At the annual meeting of the Burwell Butter Factory held in January, it was announced that a total of 602,338 pounds of butterfat had been bought during the year. This was a fine advance over the preceding year, when 530,750 pounds were handled.

Butter Factory at Burwell Has Increase in '48

Record Shows 602,338 Pounds of Butterfat; Improvements Are Made.

The high ten farmers and the checks they received were as follows: Fred Taylor, $260.82; Stalker and Peterson, $201.56; Charles Crank, $200.78; J. C. Freeman, $185.83; Orville Wilson, $179.53; Emmett Hughes, $176.10; M. Graves, $175.91; R. R. Mitchell, $166.17; John Mars, $156.94; and Russell Jones and Sons, $151.12.

The officers of the organization are Fred Grunkemeyer, president; Karl Ziegler, vice-president; K. W. Peterson, secretary; Harold Peterson, treasurer; the other directors are Frank Holinsky, P. H. Mohr and Bob Brownell. S. V. Holloway is manager; Walter Lund is head buttermaker and Merton Wheeler and Clifford Breneman his assistants. Mrs. Evelyn Cuddy is bookkeeper and Edith Bishop has charge of the cream testing room.

Extensive enlargements and improvements have been made during the past year, and it can be classed with the best establishments of its kind in the state. Included is the locker plant, handled by Floyd Hackett, and in a separate location, the Skelly Service station, operated by T. B. Swanson, Vern Brown and Curtis Breneman.

Largest Flower Known The largest flower known, the Raflesia Arnoldi, is produced in Malaya. According to Encyclopaedia Britannica, this flower measures 18 inches across and weighs 15 pounds, and has an odor like decaying flesh. The flower is the only part of the plant visible above ground.

truckers working. Drivers Needed. As soon as all the cattle are out of the sandhills and on main roads, Romans Transfer will reload them and move them to Springfield, a few miles southwest of Omaha, where plenty of feed is available.

Meanwhile all trucks to be had have been on the go continually at the Service Oil company. This outfit has been concentrating on getting cattle from the farms and delivering them to the Omaha market. Their chief difficulty has been getting out to the farms for the stock, which is comparatively easy to handle when brought out to the main highway.

Truckers Working

They are constantly receiving phone calls from farmers who want hauling done, many of them in areas where it is almost impossible to drive and this type of travel is severe on the rolling stock. Tuesday night one of the trucks had an axle broken out at Frank Psota place, and they were going out to try to bring it in Wednesday morning.

Many Out of Feed. In a talk with Archie Geweke, prominent stockman, the Quiz learned Wednesday morning that he had talked to a lot of stockmen the past few days and that a lot of them were either out of feed or were unable to get to the hay they had. Hugh Starr, who lives about 20 miles north of Ord, got in yesterday by hitching four horses to a wagon. Even then the horses wallowed in the snow and had quite a time getting out.

Regardless of how many cattle survive the winter, the loss in weight suffered by stock in the stricken area will mean millions of dollars loss to the cattlemen. An animal may lose a hundred pounds or more in weight and still survive, and each one hundred pounds lost means a cash loss of about $25.

telephone exchange in any foreign country was installed in London in 1879, with Samuel Insull as the first telephone operator at the exchange and George Bernard Shaw as one of the employees. Later Insull came to the United States and became Edison's secretary.

Since he cannot get out over the clogged roads, he can only guess their present condition.

Detour Made. This is the Kirby hill two miles out of Ord. As soon as the rotary plow is available this place will also be cleared. However the road needs widening in a number of places to prevent another wind closing them again.

Two Roads Plugged. The Sargent road was still completely plugged Tuesday evening.

and nobody was getting into town from that direction. The Comstock road, leading west from No. 58 at the Bruce corner, is also closed. Ray Alloway had been doing work for Geranium township with his bulldozer last week. He came on town Wednesday evening and was unable to get back out because of the storm. Now his equipment is out in the country and he will have to wait until a road is opened before he can get out to where it is.

With one detour, the Springfield road is open to one-way traffic as far as Suniter, or to the end of the patrol. The Loup City road is open all the way to the county line, but the part in Sherman county is not open. This road, according to Mr. Hamilton, has been one of the best in the county to keep in usable condition.

Over at Arcadia it is presumed that the work of clearing the roads has been going on the same as from this end, but Hamilton does not know for certain, as he has not been over there. Mr. Lint reports that Highway 56 is open all the way from Spalding to Broken Bow, and 58 is open Ord to Loup City.

If the weather remains favorable it will be only a short time until all the state highways in the county will be open. Then the equipment will be turned to the task of opening the essential county roads first. In time practically all the roads of the county will be opened up. However, another severe storm could easily put the roads in worse shape than they have yet been.

Break-down of The Figures Shows Just Where Your Tax Dollar Goes

There seems to be a general impression that we are paying too high a tax for roads and bridges. Perhaps we are, when all means of raising taxes are taken into consideration. However, when it is figured in terms of property tax the percentage of the tax dollar that goes for travel is very small, indeed.

You will note from the above that the amount of taxes paid on the county road fund, a fund that is being hit pretty hard these days, is less than the amount paid on the state building fund. The amount paid on the county bridge fund is less than that paid to any other fund except the county fair.

There is just one catch to the proposition. There is a maximum limit to the total levy the county can assess, and this maximum has been reached. There is no limit to the amount of the state levies.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

(by Patricia Wozniak)

What smells so good? What are they cooking? Ummm! that smells good! These were some of the comments heard in the halls of OHS. What these people smelled was our delicious corn chowder. Try it on one of these cold days, it's wonderful!

Corn Chowder.

1 cup of corn
3 slices of bacon or salted pork
1 small onion minced
3 potatoes
2 cups of milk
2 teaspoon of salt
Soda crackers and water
Wash potatoes, peel and dice them. Cut the onion into small pieces and cook it with onion until light brown. Cool the pan slightly and add potatoes, corn and enough water to cover. Cook until potatoes are done, add salt and crackers. Serve immediately or while it is still hot.

Another Party.

(by Carol Kwiatkoski)
Every one loves parties! Most any kind seems to be a lot of fun. The next thing, however, is making them a success.

The theme of my party is a Hawaiian Cafe. This probably would not be too easy to put on. But why couldn't you plan it this way? Use crepe paper streamers of gay colors for the ceiling, have rather dim lights, with potted palm-trees standing about the room. For entertainment the entire group could sing Hawaiian songs and dance to Hawaiian music, probably furnished by records.

The menu would consist of ham sandwiches, olives, a candle salad, cookies and orange-ade. The invitations could be a Hawaiian guitar made from brown paper, and the favors be a pineapple made from construction paper, with the name across it.

As a centerpiece use a fresh pineapple with tall lighted candles on each side, with palm leaves lying around them. The table cover could be of a pastel color. I thought it would be nice if the boys would come dressed in plain trousers and white tee shirts. The girls in white short sleeved blouses and print skirts (if they wished they could wear grass skirts). The hostess could make garlands for each of the boys and girls to wear around their necks, and maybe even a flower for the girls to wear in their hair.

A smaller boy and girl, dressed like the others could be the servers, unless a buffet style would be preferred. I hoped this has helped you in getting ideas for a party, and maybe with your ideas and the few I have mentioned, a party of this sort could be a success.

Guest Speaker.

The Third Year Homemaking girls wish to thank Reverend Hassell for his interesting and enjoyable talk on marriage during their study of that unit.

Smolik Buys Store at Humphrey, Neb.

Emil Smolik, young farmer living west of Ord, has bought a Gamble store at Humphrey, Neb., and plans to take over its operation at once. He returned Sunday after spending five days at the Gamble organization's headquarters in Minneapolis, taking schooling in store management.

Passengers on the plane on which he flew to Minneapolis were Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, who were enroute to Rochester, Minn., says Smolik.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Doesn't Like Railroad.

Dear Quiz: This is a true story of a relief train in a snow storm. I am a good laborer, and honest, and I would like to know what it takes to make a railroader. I was out of work and my friend and I went to Greeley to help the good town of Burwell out so they could have coal, feed, oil, merchandise and other articles they carry on the railroad. This is what we ran into. You men can draw a picture of this, because I was there.

We started out on the railroad at 7 p. m. Saturday night. We came back to Greeley to get water at 11:30 and we ate a cold ham sandwich and one cup of coffee. We left Greeley at 12:05. They said a fireman had fallen off a ladder on the engine and had thrown his shoulder out of place, so they needed a fireman for the second engine. I told one of the crew members that I used to brake a little on the U. P. out of Grand Island. So I fired until 7 a. m. Sunday.

Then we were supposed to be off until the next shift. We had breakfast, which was nothing to brag on. Then we were going to sleep in our hotel, a way car (a lot of people call it a caboose.) I had four single beds in it for 14 laborers to sleep in. 7 at a time. Then it came. "Here!" shouts the roadmaster, known to us as Allen George, "Everybody out before we freeze down to the rails." So we got out and scooped snow so they could get the rotary out. It was in a drift about 20 feet deep. When we got that out it was about 7:30 Sunday morning.

The wind was blowing and you could not see very far. We were just about out of the worst of it when we ran low on water and the engineers wanted to go back and fill up with water in Greeley. The big shots said "no," we will make another mile or so." So you see too many fingers spoiled the soup. I and Roy Whiting and a few others never got any rest until 8 o'clock Sunday night, because we got stuck coming back to Greeley after water and coal.

Then at 12 o'clock we had to ride herd on the three engines putting in snow, which was tough and very cold. When six o'clock came we were to lay off until 12. The diner was so cold we just about froze while we ate. Then the stove grates fell out of our stove. We had been going into the diner to get coffee during the night. Finally they told us that was out. So they gave us a coffee pot, not clean, to make coffee out of, no water, no smokes, no matches. Then when I and Allen George, the roadmaster, got into it, he said: "Can't take it?" What kind of a man does it take to be a railroader?

One more thing I forgot. They had four crews for the train. We blew out a steam hose. I helped take it out and put it back. That is when I froze my ears. But to

THE MARCH OF TIME

Faculty Need Not Make Up Time

In a decision handed down by the state department of public instruction, it has been ruled that days lost because of storms shall be classified the same as days lost because of epidemics... accordingly, days lost because of storm conditions need not be made up.

The school board must file an affidavit with the county superintendent specifying the days lost and the reason for that loss. It has been ruled that such closing of the school shall not prevent it from drawing its proper share of the state appropriation.

4-H Club Leaders at State Meeting

This is the group of the 4-H leaders from all over the state and their county that were represented at the 4-H Leaders Conference which was held at Lincoln at the Agricultural College Campus from January 25 to 28.

These leaders expense-free trip included lodging at the Cornhusker Hotel for all women and young girls and for the men and young boys at the Lincoln Hotel.

Meals which were all cooked and served at the Student Union Campus, were all planned on the "basic food clock" which is all revised up-to-date by 4-H nutritionists, so all proved the best.

Free tickets to all leaders for one night admission to one of the four theaters in Lincoln.

This was all financed by the following organizations:

Leaders going down to take lessons on "Tractor" was financed by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Leaders going down to take "Home Economics," "livestock," and "Soil Conservation" financed by the Ak-Sar-Ben of Omaha.

Leaders going down for "Dairy" financed by Cooper "Foundation" of Lincoln and the Burlington of Chicago, Ill.

All lessons and material were planned by the state 4-H leaders and they deserve a lot of thanks for all their work and demonstrations which were so well carried out which should be helpful in making 4-H Clubs more interesting and instructive for 4-H members that will help the boys and girls and the neighborhood in rendering a larger service.

The last night a banquet was held at the Lincoln Ballroom for all 4-H Leaders, instructors, and state leaders.

Those going down and representing Valley county were Mrs. Wallace Coats, taking sewing and summer writing clubs and Mrs. Joe Ulrich, taking cooking.

Marriage License No. 1 Is Issued

County Judge Cochran just got under the wire when he issued his first marriage license of the year on Monday, the last day of January. Otherwise he would have gone a full month without issuing a license, and a real record would have been established. The license Monday was issued to Dorothy Greenwalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Greenwalt, and Otto Niemeyer, jr., manager of the Veterans Club.

The Judge blames the weather for the unusually quiet condition of affairs in his office, which is true not only in the license department, but also in court cases, of which there were only two during the entire month. With driving conditions what they are, nobody is likely to break the laws of the highway.

Burwell Boxers Win Team Honors at Grand Island

Ken Nichols Winner at 157 Lbs. Bob Dahlstedt in Featherweight Win.

Burwell's five-man boxing team brought back the trophy from the American Legion Golden Gloves tournament at Grand Island last week. The finals were held Wednesday evening with four Burwell men and one Ord man still in the competition.

The final Ord entrant, Marion Genski, 155, suffered a knockout at the hands of Ken Nichols, 157, after one minute and 21 seconds of the first round. Nichols was picked as the most impressive winner of the tournament.

Robert Dahlstedt of Burwell, 120, defeated Mervin Schroeder of Grand Island, 126, for the featherweight title. Burwell had two other finalists, who lost their bouts. LeRoy DeVore, Grand Island, 135, defeated Joe Noble, 135, Grand Island; Don Beery, 143, defeated Tom Nime, 145, Grand Island; Loren Coons, 175, St. Paul, defeated Jim Stenger, Aurora; Bill Scroggan, 235, won a technical knockout over Roy Schweiger, 192. Both these big fellows were from Grand Island.

By virtue of their team win, the Burwell lads took home a fine team trophy, and brought the honor to the upper Loup valley for the first time. The fifth member of the team, heavyweight Floyd Goff, met tough going and failed to get into the finals. The boys were trained by H. T. Green and Warren Hall.

Chanticleers Win in Good Game with Ravenna Bluejays

Final Score Was Ord 33, Ravenna 22. Two Wins, Two Losses, in League.

Playing one of the best games of the season on the Ord floor, Tuesday night, the Chanticleers won an easy victory over Ravenna by a score of 33 to 22. This win avenged an earlier defeat in which Ord had to take the short end of a 37-35 count.

The game was played on the Ord floor, although originally scheduled at Ravenna, because the new building at Ravenna is not yet ready for use. A feature of the game for both teams was the fairly even distribution of the scoring among the players.

As usual, Richardson was high point man for Ord, with 17; Stodard had 6; Tolén had 5; and Falter and Nelson had 4 each. Others who saw service for Ord were Wells, Maurice, Munn, Heuck and Laurson.

Svanda dropped in 7 points to make him high man for Ravenna. Powell had 6 points, Fries had 3, and Thomas, Larson and Keschul each had 2. Others in the visitors' lineup were Futak, Schlottman, D. O'Neill and Loppst.

Ord led the scoring 8 to 1 at the quarter, 17 to 8 at the half and 24 to 17 at the third period. This leaves Ord on a fifty-fifty basis in the Three-Loups conference, with two wins and two losses.

Lee Makes Fine College Record

John Lee of Ord, formerly of North Loup, made such a fine showing at G. I. Business college for the months of December that he was selected as the outstanding student of the month. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee, John was born near North Loup and spent practically all his life there.

In 1944 he joined the navy and spent a year on a troop transport in the south pacific. His ship was the first to land occupational troops on the mainland of Japan. After being discharged from the navy he worked for a year as a salesman in Ord.

In August, 1947 he moved his family to Grand Island and enrolled in the college advanced accounting course, which he is completing at the present time. He was a member of the college softball team. As president of the student council for the past six months, he has been untiring in his efforts to see that the organization accomplished its purpose.

Bill Steen's Dad Dies in Lincoln

C. L. Steen, 67, a resident of Lincoln for 35 years died Sunday at his home there. He is the father of Bill Steen of Ord.

Mr. Steen was a member of Westminster Presbyterian church, A. F. & A. M., and Shrine. Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Bill Steen was flown from Ord to Lincoln early Sunday morning to be at his father's bedside. Mrs. Bill Steen flew from Ord to Grand Island Monday where she took the train to Lincoln.

Storm Starved Cattle Stampede When First Food in Month Given

BY BRADLEY SLACK
Rapid City Journal Staff Writer

Watching cattle fed for the first time in nearly a month is like witnessing the barriers of habit melt away to expose a raw, terrifying and the most basic of all instincts—self preservation.

The smell of hay being brought to them by trucks—through alleys in the prairie snow drifts as far away as a mile—will make weakened cattle rise to their feet and charge blindly in the direction of the feed.

Small calves and yearlings, plow through barbed wire, tearing off huge clumps of hair, or drive into crushed snowbanks, sometimes to flounder as the hay is brought to them.

This is the stark drama taking place every day as the huge state and federal relief program fans out across the mountains and prairies.

There is only one answer in this region to the storm situation, authorities agree. That is to push huge bulldozers through secondary roads to reach the ranches, and then out across the vast blanket of snow to the local hay stacks on each ranch.

The airlift, "operation hay," while a valiant and necessary measure in the emergency soon found itself bogged down as stockpiles of feed dwindled.

Dozer crews are working around the clock.

When a one-ton truck loaded with hay enters the pasture to unload feed for the first time on a barren, windswept knoll, you feel a tug somewhere around the pit of your stomach as the animals stampede to the pile, jamming into feed, stamping into it. Their deep-pitched bellows carry an almost hungry echo.

The young ones rip out huge mouthfuls, then pull out of the mass of animals to munch on it alone, away from the others. Then more come running to the scene.

The calves suffered most from the extended sub-zero cold. A close look reveals frozen patches on their hides, hoofs near the leg bone showing wide separations. Floating is a common sight.

Out on the perimeter of the herds where others have lain for a long time, too weak from starvation to move about, you can see them struggling with the snow, or later they all seem to make it, to struggle somehow over to the precious hay.

Normally shy and timid of men moving nearby, they have forgotten this less important instinct—fear.

Alvin Anderson Is Recovering

Word from Alvin Anderson Wednesday morning states that he is slowly but steadily improving from the frozen hands, feet and knees he suffered last week while trying to get in out of the storm south of Comstock.

His hands and feet are still swathed in bandages, and it will be some time yet before he will be able to leave the hospital. He is in the best of spirits in spite of the fact that he is suffering pain all the time.

Boy Scout Week to Be Observed February 6-12

Ord Rotarians Plan to Sponsor Troops for Ord This Year.

More than 2,200,000 Boy Scouts, their leaders and families will join in the nation-wide celebration of Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6 to 12. Twelve outstanding Boy Scouts, representing each of the nation's Boy Scout regions, will represent the Scouts and leaders at ceremonies in Washington, D. C. during the week.

Here in Ord the Boy Scout movement flourished for several years but of late has been dormant for the lack of a willing and capable scoutmaster. Recently the Ord Rotary club voted to find such a leader, if possible and once more make Scouting a worth while feature in the life of boys in Ord. They hope to announce their choice of scoutmaster soon.

New Stamp to Be Issued Soon

A new three cent postage stamp, commemorating the Minnesota Territory Centennial will be placed on sale for the first time on Mar. 3, at St. Paul, Minnesota. Supplies of the new issue will go on sale in Ord at a later date, probably the middle of March, according to Postmaster Alfred Hill.

The central design of the new stamp, above, depicts a pioneer moving westward with a Red River ox cart.

Firemen's Report of Year Given by Secretary Rowbal

Two Fires Account for $32,500 Losses Out of $38,000, Grand Total.

Monday, Jan. 31, was the closing day of the year for the Ord Volunteer Fire department, and the secretary-treasurer, Richard Rowbal, has furnished the Quiz with a copy of the activities of the organization during the period. There was an average of one fire every two weeks during the year, 26 in all, for a total loss of about $35,500.

In first place in the group was the fire at the O-N-L Mills, where a shed and its contents of baled hay was a total loss and the value placed at $25,000. Then the fire at the county maintenance shop at the Valley county fair grounds accounted for a loss of $7,500 more.

The first fire of the year, at the Roy Clement home, figured more than $1,500. The Kovanda home fire was estimated at $625. The last fire, in the Bailey building, figured $1,500 to the building, $37 to equipment and $975 to records. Other losses included a car, $150, and a granary, $100.

The other eighteen fires are figured as no actual loss, as in most cases the loss was negligible. Grass fires called the firemen out no less than eight times, and also came to extinguish a fire in an automobile caused by a spark from a grass fire.

Wiring, chimneys and fires of undetermined origin accounted for three alarms each. There was one alarm each for a brooder stove, an overheated stove, grease on a stove, a steam generator, a cigarette, oil burner and a manure pile.

The fire department started the year with fifty members, and ended with 53. Two members, Asa Anderson and Earl Barnes, moved away during the year. One member, Russell Rose, was reinstated. Four members, Ralph Craig, Ray Hurlbert, Ernie Swaneck and Otto Niemeyer, jr., were admitted as new members.

The president of the fire department is Harry Zulkoski; Richard Rowbal is secretary-treasurer; George Anderson is chief; Ray Falter is foreman of No. 1, Charles Svoboda of No. 2, and Alvin Anderson of No. 3. The trustees are Melvin Clement, Dale Norman, and C. Beismund. Alfred Albers is foreman of the inhalator squad, and his assistants are Vernon Andersen, Alvin Anderson and Rollin Dye.

Edwards and Son Fly to Chambers

Allen Edwards and son Leonard, had Dillo Troyer fly them to Chambers, Neb., Monday, where they visited Mr. Edwards' mother, Mrs. Valo Edwards. They had not heard from her for some time, and wanted to know how they were getting along.

They found conditions in Chambers not so bad, as they had a plentiful supply of food and coal when the storm hit, and still had enough to get along for some time. However, the condition of the ranchers outside of town is deplorable, as they are not able to get anywhere.

They have to depend on the radio for information of the outside world, as they had had no mail there for weeks. In many places the snow is about as deep as the buildings are tall. It will be a long time before communication can be established with surrounding towns.

On the way home they saw four deer, who seemed to be getting along all right.

Legion Auxiliary Tops 4,000,000

Combined strength of the American Legion and Auxiliary of 1948 exceeded 4,000,000 members according to Mrs. Clark Weckbach, membership chairman of the local auxiliary unit.

The American Legion enrollment for 1948 reached 3,087,041 while the American Legion Auxiliary enrollment was 959,751 for a total of 4,046,793 in the Legion and Auxiliary family.

The Legion had 17,176 active posts and the Auxiliary had 12,818 units. Also active in Legion and Auxiliary work were 936 veterans of the 10 and 8 and 362 salons of 5 and 10.

Collection of the 1949 dues in Ord has been slow because of the weather. Please send them to Mrs. Clark Weckbach or Mrs. Lillian Ebelin, treasurer. Anyone eligible and wishing to join the Legion Auxiliary please call Mrs. Clark Weckbach.

We Want The News.

The Quiz appreciates the loyal friends from all parts of the country who write to tell us of items that they think should be in the Quiz. Nine times out of ten they are right, and many times the item they send us is our only source of information. This means that, except for their help, we would not get many of these items at all.

This assistance comes from all parts of the United States, and covers a variety of subjects. For example, we had the assistance of about ten different people in telling about the former Ordite Eddie Tunnell and his participation in the Rose Bowl game for Northwestern University. About as many sent us letters and clippings in regard to the death of Marcus E. Getter, concerning whom a story appeared in last week's Quiz.

The response we have to such stories as these when printed in the Quiz convinces us that a large number of Quiz readers are interested in what happens to former residents of the community. When they left our best wishes for their future success went with them. It is only natural that we should be glad to hear about them again. For this same reason we are glad to publish the letters from Quiz readers that appear from time to time.

To be a complete success, a newspaper needs many types of news. It is the policy of this newspaper to give place to items concerning local people, whether they be locals, headed articles or society items. But we must not forget that there are hundreds of Quiz readers living in all parts of the United States and many in other parts of the world. Local readers like to read about them, and they also have a right to see their name in print.

Dedicated to the Boy Scouts.
All that we are and have in the world today we owe, in one way or another, to the "Spirit of Adventure." Adventure itself is the spirit of adventure put into action. The spirit is the motivating force, without which nothing is ever accomplished worth while. In the years of youth we have this necessary spirit, and this is the reason that so much that is worth while in the world is accomplished by the young people.

If we but take it in that light, everything that we do can be an adventure. It is the desire to find out what lies beyond the next hill that leads men on to greater heights than man ever knew before. It was the desire to find out what lay beyond the vast reaches of the Atlantic ocean that brought Columbus to the shores of the western world and led to the greatest discovery of all time.

This love of adventure, clean, wholesome adventure, should be cultivated in youth, in the time when the habits of life are being formed. The love of adventure when once developed, is never lost. It becomes a source of satisfaction to the man in middle life, and forms the connecting link that ties the old man to the world that has all but left him behind.

Next week, Feb. 6 to 12, is Boy Scout Week, observing the 30th year since the organization was founded. Those first boy scouts are well along in middle age now, but they have not forgotten the training they received then. They know that they are better citizens today because somebody had a thought for their welfare nearly four decades ago.

The boy scout movement flourished for a time in Ord and then became dormant. Plans are under way to secure a scoutmaster and get scouting back to the high level of a few years ago. This is a worthy while cause and demands the hearty support of every citizen. The citizens of this community should join in the spirit of adventure and feel the thrill that comes from lending a hand in that greatest of American enterprises, building for better citizenship.

++ Something Different ++

There seems to be some doubt as to whose baby it is — but anyway, isn't it a fine project? I refer to the plan to bring a mobile TB testing unit to Valley county, to test all of us, FIVE of us. Some say the Rotary club first thought of bringing the state motor here. I thought perhaps the Business and Professional Women backed it first. Now I hear the county extension clubs made the arrangements to help all of us.

Whoever credit should go — there let it fly.

Getting the credit isn't nearly so important as getting our citizens tested for germs of this vicious killer.

Every year tuberculosis kills more than three times as many people as we lost in the last war! But you didn't know that.

Radios in Ord are full of static this winter. What causes this?

Long ago, the city once imported a testing car of some kind — a radio trouble finder. It was driven up one street and down another. When frying and sizzles and pops issued from the trouble car, it was stopped, and the electrical equipment nearby was checked until the cause of the static was located. (And fixed.)

Wouldn't it be something if the city fathers decided we could afford to check our radios like that once again? And get the bangs and noises out of them?

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

I have been starting out from North Loup at different times in the morning in the past five months, sometimes as early as 5:30, and as late as 7. I always get a ride before very far, and very seldom arrive after time to go to work, 8 a. m. I have been traveling back and forth most of the cold weather, and I always get a ride. This means that more and more people are paying no attention to winter weather. They have to travel, so they get out and go regardless of weather conditions.

There are two principal reasons for this. Nearly all of this early morning travel is over state highways. People are not taking too many chances with the side roads, but they have come to depend upon the main thoroughfares. That is one reason. The other is that people have learned, through the years, that automobiles are being made dependable enough to drive at any time, regardless of weather. A car worth having these days will get you there and bring you back, at least upon the highways.

It was not always thus. Thirty two years ago I was living in Burwell and teaching school out south of Ord in Dist. 72, now disbanded. The Burlington went through Ord then at about 6:15, I believe, and I had to get the Friday evening in time to go home on the train. It was different getting back. I would leave Burwell after dinner and start down the road, hoping to get a ride, but seldom did. In fact, I walked all the way from Burwell to Ord and then out to Sam Roe's place no less than six times that winter.

There was a good reason for all that walking. In those days cars were neither comfortable nor dependable in winter. There were no heaters, and the cars were built so open that a heater would have done very little good. If anybody had to travel by auto in winter then, he put on all the clothes he had and hoped against hope he wouldn't freeze to death. There were very few trucks on the road in those days, winter or summer. In fact, there were no roads — at least none as we know them now.

In those days the Burwell-Ord road was 22 miles long, and riding walking, you couldn't get up much speed, because you had to make all turns on sharp corners. The roadbed in most places was raised in the middle with a ditch on either side, but the top of the grade was lower than the fence-row on the sides. If a storm came drifts would be piled across the highway, just like they are piled across the country roads today. With the low power engines and high pressure tires of those days it was hard to get very far if the snow happened to be more than two inches deep.

On those trips I made in the old days I might see a dozen autos on a warm, pleasant afternoon, but they were few and far between when the storms came. I recall one storm I walked through when I did not see a single auto in the entire 22 miles. In fact no auto would venture that far from town in bad weather except in a case of life or death. So you see we have come a long way since the last generation, and we may well wonder where we will find ourselves thirty years from now.

One other thing that occurs to me in connection with those morning walks out of North Loup. I usually walk about as far as the school house in Dist. 42. That much of the road has the distinction of being part of Road No. 1, the first road ever legally designated as a road in Valley county. People have been traveling over that road now for more than 75 years, and the part I mentioned will probably always be a highway, since it can hardly be put anywhere else.

What I started out to say, however, is about the time people get up in the morning. I know where everybody is located along that road, and I cannot help but note the fact that the people who get up earliest are the old folks, in about nine cases out of ten. I find myself wondering if the younger generation is as hardy as their forebears. Whether they are or not, it seems that the habit of getting up in the morning is becoming a lost art.

One time Ralph Harris and I were having a jumping match on the south side of the square, in front of where the Safeway now is. We had jumped several times each, and had the mark out close to eleven feet. About that time Harold Parks came along, and somebody told him he'd better get in and show up. He took off his coat, looked the distance over, stepped it off, and then started to put on his coat again. Asked why he didn't jump, he said: "It would be wasting my time. When they get the mark out about two feet farther and make it worth my while, I'll be back."

When I think of this, I sometimes wonder if that isn't the trouble with too many of us. We wonder why we never get anywhere, and maybe it is because we do not set our sights high enough. We are prone to measure out a fault of what we know we can accomplish easily and then are satisfied to rest on our laurels when we have obtained that objective. Grant had orders to capture the fortifications at the foot of Lookout Mountain and then halt and reform. Instead, his men went right on and captured the heights in the far famed Battle Above the Cloud. If they had stopped when their objective was attained, the action would never have found a place in history.

Governor Peterson seems to think the haylift is not accomplishing much. Perhaps it isn't. But it will have to do until some other plan is found that will work better. It may not be practical. Neither is the Berlin Airlift, but it is accomplishing its purpose and it is the only thing that can be done. The governor may have lost sight of one of the most important results of haylift operations. Whether it saves very many cattle or not, it is proving to the ranchers that some effort is being made to help them. They know that they are no longer fighting the battle alone. What we try to do, even if we fail, will mean a lot to those men out there fighting against almost impossible odds to save the stock that will be food for the world in the coming year or two. Nebraska is not only the Bread Basket of the World; it is the World's Butcher Shop, as well.

L. A. Hawkes Dies.
Clifford Hawkes came home from Des Moines Wednesday night of last week where he had been called by the illness of his father, L. A. Hawkes, but had only been home about an hour when a message came that his father had passed away in the hospital, where he had been taken on the 22nd after he had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in Des Moines, but burial could not be till the first of this week because the cemetery was snow-blocked.

Leroy A. Hawkes was born Sept. 6, 1879, in Kassuth county Iowa, and grew up in the vicinity of Arnolds Park, Ia. He studied for the ministry and was ordained in 1904, as a Friends minister. His first pastorate was at Cedar Creek, Ia. and for the next twenty-one years he served churches in Iowa. He moved to Nebraska in 1925, and was pastor of the North Loup Friends church till 1930.

He was married to Jennie Garrett of Marshalltown, Ia. in 1905. To this union were born six children, who all survive: S. Clifford of North Loup, Wendell H. of Oklahoma City, Okla., Kenneth E. of McClelland, Ia., Mrs. Bernice McCullough, Des Moines, Ruth Edinfield, Dublin, Ga., and Edna Ellis, Allen, Neb. Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Mable Piscus, of New Providence, Ia., and twelve grandchildren.

Mr. Hawkes had unusual musical ability, and helped in the instruction of bands, and in musical events in the communities where he lived, and he passed on much of this ability to his children.

In Des Moines he had an apartment house, which he cared for and it was in the apartment he was stricken. At the time of his death he was 69 years, four months and 16 days of age.

S. S. Hawkes returned to Des Moines by train for the funeral and got home again Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stine and Jerry and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Babcock and Linda went to Lincoln Monday for the day.

The Jim Coleman family were Saturday night and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Willoughby. Sunday Mrs. Thelma Garrison called from Ranton, Wash., and all the family talked with her.

The John Edwards family went to Grand Island Wednesday evening. The men attended the Golden Gloves tournament, and the ladies and little John Kasson went to see Mrs. Chas. Kasson and daughter, Isabel.

North Loup Wins

Playing one of their better games of the season, the North Loup basketball team routed Elba 58-33, at Elba Tuesday night. The Challengers led all the way and were scoring handily from most positions. Bob Hawkes led the scoring with 21 points, followed by Kerr with 14, Mulligan with 9, Manchester 8, Leonard 6, and Hutchins 2. Ball handling and passing was the best of the year.

The reserves won their game 24-14. Holmes, Lytle, Babcock, Sintek, looked best in this game. Ronald Goodrich, injured at Dannebrog, saw limited action in both games.

This Thursday Taylor will come to North Loup to play, weather and roads permitting.

Mrs. Ruth Hutchins, Mrs. Floyd Hutchins and Mrs. Harlon Brennick and Jeanne were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hutchins and Debby to celebrate Debby's first birthday. Mrs. W. G. Studer spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Lulu Manchester.

H. C. Sample arrived home Saturday evening from Los Angeles where he had spent the month of January with his son, Samuel and his family. Ed Kull of Ord accompanied him home. He found traveling very bad, was held up at Tucson, Ariz. for four hours because of snow and at Abilene, Tex. for snow. Traveling 2500 miles to get home, he says they had only about one hundred miles of dry pavement, and it wasn't dry off the pavement there. All the way from Ft. Worth home the road was covered with ice.

Mrs. Louis Axthelm and Mrs. Rhoda Cox went to Ord for the day Monday morning.

Monday afternoon bus passengers to Ord were Mrs. Harlon Brennick, Mrs. Hugh Clement, Mrs. Louis Smith and Mrs. L. W. Fortis.

Arnold Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Leonard, and a graduate of North Loup schools, who is coach at Arapahoe, Neb., has been making a splendid record with his basketball team. They have won 15 out of 16 games, won seven games straight in ten days, and have won four tournaments in Class B in the Republican River Valley conference. They have a total of 738 points to their credit.

Mrs. and Mrs. Edward Hudson and Michael were Sunday dinner guests in the Roy Hudson home in honor of Mrs. Edward Hudson's birthday. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson and Barbara were guests in the Edward Hudson home in honor of his birthday.

The W. H. Vodehnal and Mills Hill families spent the day Sunday at the Victor Kerchal home near Ord.

Mrs. Bob DeNoyer and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tolen spent Monday in Loup City. Mrs. DeNoyer stayed overnight with her parents and returned home Tuesday.

Mrs. Anderson, state inspector of the school lunch program visited North Loup schools Thursday. About eighty-five students take hot lunches.

The March of Dimes campaign has been extended till February 15. Mrs. Ign. Pokraka received word Monday. The bake sale scheduled for last Saturday night at the Schudel Motor Co. building will be held this Saturday night, weather permitting. The benefit, sponsored by the schools, a movie of the 1941 Rose Bowl football game and parade, and a film, Music in America, which features such personalities as Marion Anderson, George Gershwin, Benny Goodman and shows how jazz was derived from negro music, will be Monday night, Feb. 7, at the community building. The Strand theatre, at North Loup has been co-operating, by showing a March of Dimes film with Margaret O'Brien, and boxes for contribution have been passed each night.

Mrs. John Edwards spent Saturday evening with Mrs. Mina Sorensen of Ord.

No school was held in North Loup Friday because of the storm.

This is the first day schools here have missed, but many of the country students have been irregular in attendance.

Mrs. Sautter and Mrs. Jefferies, cooks at the Scotia school lunch room visited North Loup lunch room Monday.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith were the Alva Smith, Maynard Smith, Lloyd Smith, Reeves Cook and Kenneth Keown families.

Mrs. George Eberhart went to Grand Island on the Monday noon bus and brought Connie home from the St. Francis hospital. Connie is recovering nicely from her recent appendectomy and hopes to be back in school next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Friesen and Ann were Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Studer and David.

Mrs. Berta Barber had a wire Monday telling of the arrival of a baby daughter Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Melford Goodrich of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Schudel and son brought their projector and screen to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones Wednesday evening to show some Oregon moving pictures sent by the Harold Schudel family of Corvallis. The Harold Schudels were shown enjoying the Oregon snow, which they really did enjoy, but the Oregon natives did not like as their river which furnishes the electric power surges over and they were having to conserve power.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Schudel and Dr. and Mrs. Dale Karre of Ord were also guests. At a late hour Mrs. Jones served lunch.

Mrs. John Ward went to Burwell Sunday and brought back the twin sons of her son, John Ward, Jr., and will care for them for a time. The other children in the family are having a siege of the mumps. The twins have gained 11 one weighs almost five pounds and the other a little over five.

Gus Wetzel, who has been ill the past month, was taken to the Ord hospital Sunday to be cared for. Mrs. Wetzel went with him and will spend much of her time at the hospital, when she is not at the home of her son Floyd, east of Ord.

Mrs. George Eberhart came home from Grand Island on the Saturday evening bus. She had spent the week in Grand Island to be near Connie who had submitted to an appendectomy on Monday of last week. Connie is recovering nicely and will be home in a few days.

Elmer Drawbridge and Darwin Sheldon spent several days last week near Greeley helping shovel snow on the Burlington railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen were Wednesday supper guests of the Leonard Tolen family.

The Ralph Hopkins family of Burwell spent the day Sunday in the Earl Howell home.

Because of the cold, morning services were held in the church basement at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning. There were only thirty present and no Sabbath school was held.

George Cox and Horace Williams went to Greeley county Thursday to fix a well and were snow bound at the Gydesen farm near the Parnell school over the week end.

Mrs. A. C. Ehret was unable to get home from her school at Arcadia this week end. She telephoned Rev. Ehret Saturday evening that Arcadia was completely snowbound.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman, Janet and Jill were over from Shelby Saturday evening.

Saturday night and Sunday guests of the Lee Mulligan family were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brabander and two children of Grand Island.

Danny Nelson Stars

Danny Nelson, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nelson was one of two pupils chosen from his room to a number on an amateur hour in the Colorado Springs school recently and played one of his own piano compositions. His school music teacher and his private teacher were both pleased and surprised at his ability and his private teacher wants to start him at once on a harmony course. Danny has composed several selections and is to play a selection for the Music club at the Fine Arts Center in Colorado Springs, where his audience will consist of more than three hundred music lovers. Mrs. Nelson and the boys are enjoying the winter in Colorado Springs and are happy that Danny's asthma which has been very bad in Nebraska has not bothered him there.

Mrs. Miller Writes
Here are some interesting items from a letter written to Mrs. Otto Bartz, president of the North Loup Nolo club, by Mrs. Louise Miller, formerly of North Loup, now of Charleston, W. Va., and a member of the Nolo club.

Dear Edith:
I am sending the library today several Dupont magazines, which I hope those who visit the library will enjoy. If I were rich I would put my money into libraries and hospitals, the first for the mental, the second for the physical. I will no doubt receive more pleasure in sending this magazine than you will in receiving it, for I can't stand it to see so much good reading go to the waste basket, and I have seen more waste here in the short time we have been here than all the other sixty years of my life.

Now, about the weather. So far this month it has rained twenty-one days, not a heavy rain, but steady downpour. It is not cold, so the roads are not icy, it has been about 32, but the fog is awful, night and morning.

Speaking of the men in my life, I still have them, plus four lovely daughter-in-laws, a grandson and a granddaughter. Louis is an ex-farmer; Allen, a machinist at Duponts; George does office work at Carbide; Edward is a gas station operator; Willis does office work at Richmond, Va. We are all well, including the Albert Flint family which includes Virginia, a high school teacher; Robert, in the soil conservation; Fred, operator at DuPonts, and Larry, clerk in a wholesale house.

This is quite a state for tall stories, people with a thin veneer of Christianity, recessed spending, reckless driving, stabbing, stealing, but Louis and I have good seats in the balcony and so far none of this has hurt us, I mean directly.

Best regards to both of you from both of us.

Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste — a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs — for YOU!

Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you. Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.

No Benefit To You
Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to add a diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.

The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads — of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees — real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.

We'd Like To Spend This Money On You
You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.

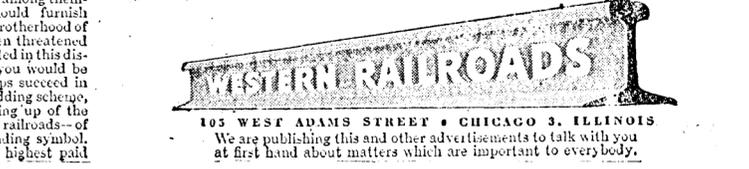

Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.

Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You
But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive.

These demands are against your interests — as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work". Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.

That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch — and why they are telling you about them.

Alvin Smith Dies When Bus Stalls

Funeral services for Alvin Smith who died enroute home from a visit with his son in Kearney were held at the Methodist Church Tuesday at 2 p. m. The bus was stalled about one-half mile from Farwell Thursday evening in the blizzard and the passengers started walking into Farwell and Mr. Smith collapsed just as a car stopped to pick them up. He had a heart attack. Obituary will be published next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Smith and family of Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Smith of Grand Island and Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Smith of Wood River were here for the funeral.

High School Operetta
Wednesday night the High school mixed chorus, under the direction of Carl Easterbrook, presented the operetta entitled "HMS Pinafore." As Wednesday was one of our nicer days this was one of the few events which didn't have to be postponed because of the weather. The plot of the operetta is a satire of the English Navy during the 19th century when Lords and officers received promotions through "pull" rather than on their ability for leadership.

Members of the cast were: Dale Drake, the Right Hon. Sir Joseph Porter; Jack Ray, Capt. Cocoran; Delwin Sell, Ralph Rackstraw; Harold Dorsey, Dick Dead-eye; Doug Holcomb, Boatwain; Carol Adams, Josephine; Janet Wibbels, Hebe; Donna Greenland, Little Buttercup.

The Arcadia basketball team journeyed to Burwell Monday night to meet defeat at their hands to the tune of 19 to 53.

Mrs. Leona Rounds went to Grand Island on the bus Thursday morning and on the return trip Thursday evening the bus was stalled outside Farwell and the passengers stayed in Farwell from Thursday until Sunday.

Mrs. Arlene Beck and Dottie of Columbus are visiting at the home of her mother Mrs. Norris. They were also on the bus Thursday night and became storm-bound in Farwell until Sunday.

A group of friends surprised Mrs. Jennie Milburn on her birthday Thursday. They came in for the afternoon, bringing their lunch along. It was Mrs. Milburn's 78th birthday.

Neighbors Help Clear Roads for Stork to Travel

Four Means of Travel Used by Loup Doctors to Reach R. Roy Home.

Even though the tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roy, born Sunday night, may not choose to be an executive when she grows up, she started life with quite a few people working for her. With highways closed to Ord, Arcadia and Loup City and no telephone service, Armon Lueck started out Sunday night to try to find a phone to call the doctor. He rode to Kingstons and since they could talk on their line only they called Roy Lutz and they went down to Leand Bauhards, who have a Loup City phone. From there they called the doctor. Dr. Miller and Dr. Crouse answered the call and drove their car as far as they could where they were met by the various farmers along the way and relayed first by tractor then horse back a couple of miles then another tractor and finally ended up by walking. There were 10 men, 3 tractors and 3 saddle horses helping along the six miles the doctors had to travel after they left their car. The doctors returned to Loup City Monday after the highway was opened, although they had to travel by wagon from Ed Gray's to Vere Lutz' where they had left the car.

Both mother and daughter are doing fine. The boys live on the Lueck farm between Arcadia and Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Lutz were Grand Island visitors Wednesday. Three Links Kensington met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lester Bly with 22 members and 3 visitors present. The afternoon was spent quilting. Mrs. Mrs. Jeffery is the hostess for the next meeting which will be Feb. 9.

The Rebekah lodge is holding installation of officers this Wednesday with a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. Evelyn White is installing officer. The Sargent group were unable to come due to the bad roads.

Proceedings of the City Council

OPENING.
The Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska met in an adjourned session in the City Hall at 7:30 P. M. Mayor Blessing presided. City Clerk, Rex Jewett recorded the proceedings of this meeting.

ROLL CALL.
Roll call revealed the following councilmen present: Schoenstein, Milliken, Armstrong, Huff, Brown, and McGinnis. Absent None.

READING THE MINUTES.
The minutes of the proceeding of the meeting were read and by motion ordered read on file.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.
The report of J. B. Ollis, City Treasurer, was read and by motion placed on file.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.
The directors of the Ord Chamber of Commerce appeared before the council asking consideration of a proposed occupation tax ordinance and submitted tentative ordinance therefor. It was moved and seconded that the Chamber of Commerce officials and the City Attorney confer with a view of drawing up an ordinance in harmony with the city ordinance forms. Carried.

E. S. Murray then submitted a report upon the past year's operation of the airport farm, now under lease to Wilbur Nelson. It was moved and seconded that E. S. Murray be commended for his diligence and that the city extend the lease on said airport farm to the said Wilbur Nelson for another year with E. S. Murray continuing as the City Manager. The application of Thomsen and Hoepfner for a pool hall license was then read. It was moved and seconded that license be granted. Carried.

The resignation of Joe Klanecky as the night police was then read. It was moved and seconded that the resignation be accepted. Carried.

The Mayor then appointed Harry Clement as night police. It was moved and seconded that the appointment be confirmed. Carried.

RESOLUTION.
Whereas it is the opinion of the majority of the council that the best interest of the City of Ord would be served by changing the date of the City Council meeting from the first Tuesday of each month to the first Monday of each month, now therefore be it resolved that the same is hereby done and that the official meeting dates for the City Council be set for the first Monday of each month. It was moved and seconded that the above resolution be passed as read. Carried.

It was moved and seconded that Charles Clochon be appointed as Police Judge for the City of Ord, Nebraska. Carried.

It was moved by McGinnis and seconded by Schoenstein that the City of Ord accept a lease offered by the railroad company concerning a certain walkway along the tracks in east Ord, and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized and directed to sign such lease. Roll call resulted as follows: Yeas: Schoenstein, Milliken, Armstrong, McGinnis, Huff, and Brown. Nays: none. Motion carried.

It was moved and seconded that the City Compensation Public Liability Insurance be purchased from Ed Armstrong for the coming year. Carried.

It was moved by McGinnis and seconded by Huff that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign an option with The Fulton Iron Works, said option covering purchase of dual fuel parts for the newly purchased generating equipment for the city of Ord.

OPTION.
In the event that the City of Ord, Nebraska (hereinafter referred to as "the City") should decide to postpone the application of the necessary parts for dual fuel operation until such time as gas is available to the City, then Fulton Iron Works Company (hereinafter referred to as "the Company") will allow $5,000.00 to the City for the deletion of said necessary parts, and the contract price shall be changed to $128,922.00.

If, within three (3) consecutive years from the date of acceptance of the equipment, the City desires to install said necessary parts for dual fuel operation, either because gas has become available to the City or for any other reason, then the Company, upon written request from the City, will furnish and deliver said necessary parts together with the services of an erecting engineer for a period of fifteen (15) days to install said necessary parts. The price for said necessary parts together with the service of an erecting engineer shall be the Company's prevailing price in effect at the time of shipment of said parts, plus the then prevailing price for the services of such erecting engineer, but said price shall not exceed $5,000.00.

If for any reason whatsoever the services of the erecting engineer consume more than fifteen (15) days, then the City shall pay to the Company the additional time and expenses of the engineer at the then prevailing rates.

The Company shall not be liable for any conditions beyond Company's control, such as, but not limited to, war, insurrection, riot, labor and transportation, difficulties, and the like, the occurrence of which shall render the performance of Company's obligations under this option impossible.

The Company's offer of this option to the City shall remain in force until January 15, 1949 (unless the Company agrees in writing to extend the life of this offer).

Very truly yours,
FULTON IRON WORKS COMPANY.

MENU PLANNING

One of the easiest ways to menu planning success is to remember that the main or meat course is the starting point for most meal planning and that the other foods follow after.

Since meat is the most important part of any meal it will pay you to remember that the highest quality meats come from the little market on the north side of the square. And, when you give it a trial, you'll discover that prices are no higher.

4 Reasons Why You Should Not Raise Poultry This Year!

- 1. Conditions Are Too Uncertain.
That's for SURE, but the best way you can make your farming operations certain is to diversify. A carefully managed flock of quality chickens will bring you a good profit and fit in well with your other farming programs. It may make up for possible loss in other parts of your operations.
- 2. Poultry Wasn't as Profitable Last Year as Cattle or Hogs!
That's right, too — if you were among the lucky few to sell your stock BEFORE the big price drop. If you didn't, your poultry probably compared very well with the others. And the coming year looks as if quality poultry will be a money maker, especially with the possibility of lower feed costs and a more uncertain cattle and hog market.
- 3. Too Much Money Is Needed.
Here's another reason that facts disprove. Poultry takes LESS investment than other livestock. It gives you opportunity for greater profit per dollar invested. That's why it works in so well for many livestock farmers. That's why it's a good deal for the man on the acreage, because he can make money with poultry on a comparatively small investment.
- 4. Poultry Is Too Much Bother.
Oh, Oh! Recheck the reason! Properly managed poultry takes less work AND less capital than a comparable livestock program. In fact, in most instances poultry will fit in so well with your other feeding operations that it will take only a small amount of additional work.

Present weather conditions are very unfavorable. That means there will be a big rush as soon as the weather breaks to get baby chicks. We are still booking orders for spring delivery, and to be fair to our customers will fill them in rotation. If you haven't made arrangements for chicks sometime this spring — we advise you to get your order in now.

One Way Traffic Through Drifted Snow

Continental Tel. Co. Issues New Local Directory

Complete List Given of All Subscribers in Both Ord and Burwell.

The Nebraska Continental Telephone company has just finished putting out their telephone directory for 1919, a product of the Quiz plant. The new directory has 24 pages, exclusive of covers, while the one for 1918 had only 20 pages.

In the Ord directory the AAA office leads off and Joe Zurek still has his place at the end of the list. The Nelsons seem to have a claim on first place in numbers, with 16 phones listed to that name. The Andersons and Andersens have a total of 13. The Hansens on the other hand, as do also the Kokes families. The Petersons, the Platenks, the Vodechals and the Zikmunds come next with eight each.

One family has a monopoly on the longest name in the directory. The Ted Sobaszewski family is out in front with twelve letters. There are no less than six names with 11 letters, the next longest names in the list. They are: Schoenstein, Kochanowski, Kwiatkowski, Konkolewski, Christensen and Dobberstine. Five families have names with only three letters, the Lee, Nay, Doe, Dye and Roe families. There are dozens of families with four letter names. The Burwell directory starts with the AA office and ends with the X A Ranch. The Johnsons lead the procession with 16 phones and the Andersons follow with 9. The Grunkemeyers had 6 phones and also have the distinction of being one of four families with the longest names. The others are Brandenburg, Kochanowski and Caswallader, and all our have 11 letters. Two three letter families are Lee and Ray.

Wild Animal Kills Greenland's Hogs

Burt Sell called the Quiz office Saturday to tell us that Ben Greenland of Arcadia had lost two hogs last week in much the same manner as the hogs were lost in Boone county. Some animal had killed them by tearing out their throats.

Mr. Sell did not think that even a prairie wolf could have been guilty of the deed, as it seemed to be the work of some larger and more powerful animal. He thought perhaps it might have been a lynx, none of which have been seen in this country in recent years.

Veteran Groups to Conferences

Two out of town conferences scheduled for February will see representatives of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars in attendance. Commander C. H. Edmiston will head a delegation of Legionnaires attending a state conference in Grand Island on February 22. On February 26 and 27, district commander F. J. Osetowski and Ord V.F.W. commander John Wozab will take a local group to Hastings for a combined state and midwest conference of that group.

Burwell Farmer Charged With Assault, Battery

Hearing on John Burson, Burwell farmer charged with assault and battery will be held in Garfield county on Thursday, January 17. Burson was arraigned Tuesday and pleaded not guilty.

According to county attorney Wm. Manasi, Burson took several swings at personnel attached to the Burwell "Operation Snowbound" office Monday. Manasi said the fists flew after Burson had made complaints about the way snow removal was being done near his farm, asked to see the man in charge, and swung on him.

Air, Dozer and Guard Units Combine in Series of Mercy Missions in County

CAP air units, army dozer units and National Guard units combined efforts here the past week in a series of mercy missions that have brought aid and relief to dozens of isolated persons in this area.

Only part of the stories can be told here, for the CAP unit, with disaster headquarters in the county operating on a 24 hour basis to speed relief to the suffering people of the county.

Gaining nationwide recognition this week was a flight made by Ed Swopes of the Ord CAP unit to bring insulin to Mrs. Anton Sindelar, farm wife living in Jones canyon northeast of Burwell.

Steep canyon walls made a plane landing impossible, although the Ord pilot made several "passes" at the landing home trying to find a landing spot. Finally, the precious insulin was tied to a piece of red bunting and tossed out of the plane.

Makes Perfect Shot. "K. K. Kull, Burwell druggist who supplied the insulin and went with me on the flight, made a darn near perfect shot," Swopes told a Quiz reporter. "The package was so light we flew a hundred yards past the house before he tossed it out. The insulin landed right by the windmill, about fifty feet from the house."

Wednesday morning, dozer and national guard crews were preparing to break through drifts to the Harold Garnick home a few miles from Ord to bring fuel. The Garnick home is heated with gas, and the supply has been exhausted for several days.

Elyria Man Paralyzed. After a plane stop at the Joe Klimck farm, northwest of Elyria, Brigadier General George C. Stewart, deputy commander under General Louis A. Pick for Fifth Army operations in this area, made a brief call to the Ord disaster office Wednesday in an inspection tour of the area.

General Stewart said he thought relief work in the local area was progressing smoothly, and complimented the local volunteer staff on their organization.

Helicopter Use Extensive Here for Reconnaissance. Every Farm Home in One Precinct Visited; Toll Lead for Telephone Co. Fixed.

Two helicopters, stationed at the Kearney army air base, but made available to local disaster operations in Valley county the past week. The ability of the "flying windmill" planes to rise vertically from the ground and hover over areas has made them particularly valuable in checking needs of marooned farmers over the area.

Every Farm Visited. On one flight Friday, Leslie Nash, CAP air operations officer, was taken to every farm home in Eureka precinct and two tiers in the southern part of Garfield county to check needs.

"We simply hovered over every farmhouse until someone came out and gave us the okay signal," Nash said. "When we could rouse no one, we settled down in the farm yard and made investigations. A trip like that couldn't have been made any other way."

national guardsmen fought drifts until their truck stalled, then lugged a thousand pounds of fuel and food on their backs a half mile to the hard-pressed Klimck family.

Dr. F. A. Barta of Ord who made the trip with them, gave what relief he could to Mr. Klimck who is paralyzed and unable to get from his bed. The family larder was practically exhausted, the only fuel in several days were the small sacks of coal dropped to them by plane.

Fly Nurse In. Ed Swopes figured in another flight to the Neil Doane home northeast of Ord where Mrs. Doane was seriously ill and needed medical care. Swopes took Captain O. G. Clark, clinic nurse with him to give treatment to Mrs. Doane who is now reported better.

Only air accident of the week occurred Thursday afternoon when Ellis Carson flew Elwin Dunlap to the home of his father, P. S. Dunlap, near Arcadia, taking medicine to Mr. Dunlap, who was ill. They landed in a plowed field covered with snow without realizing the roughness of the frozen terrain. To lighten the plane Carson tried to take off alone but nosed the plane over and damaged it to some extent. He and Dunlap returned to Ord by truck, returned the next day to repair the plane and fly it to Ord.

On another mercy mission the same day, a CAP piloted plane landed near Arcadia, taking medicine to Mr. Dunlap, who was ill. Expect All Roads In County To Be Opened By Saturday

Local Banker Says 18 Cent Cattle by March First

C. J. Mortensen Believes That Price Conditions of 1920's to Be Repeated Shortly.

An eighteen cent top on fat cattle by March first, with hogs down to the support price of sixteen cents are predictions made Tuesday by C. J. Mortensen, local banker.

"We're right in a period of economic readjustment — only it has come quite violently and speedily. I look for price conditions somewhat similar to those of the 1920's following our first world war," the Ord banker told a Quiz reporter.

Shippers Expect Losses. Mortensen said that he wanted to stress the word "readjustment" rather than "collapse." "While prices will be down I do not look for the wholesale wave of failure, since most of our people are not extended financially like they were in 1920," he explained.

"As a matter of fact I think we can expect a very general liquidation of livestock holdings in the midwest for a while, he said. "Feeders who are shipping cattle today — and there are a lot of them right around Ord — go on the market expecting to take a beating. The reason they are hitting the market now, is because they expect a still lower price later on."

Storers Losses Exaggerated. "I think the losses by storm are grossly exaggerated," Mortensen said. "Although we can expect a big loss in the calf crop, I doubt if over five percent of the range cattle in the area will be lost due to the blizzard."

M. B. Cummins, proprietor of the Ord Livestock Market, told the Quiz that he believes imported meats were the reason for the slump in livestock prices. "The lifting of the embargo act has flooded our markets with Canadian and Argentine beef," he said. "Canada, which usually ships around a million and a half pounds of meat to the United States yearly, had shipped nearly fifty times as much in beef alone since the embargo was lifted."

Order Prices Down Too. Cummins sees a silver lining for farmers in the dark clouds of low beef and pork prices. "The things that farmers buy will have to come down accordingly," he said.

One thing that would help would be for the American housewife to quit using fat substitutes and use lard in cooking." Lard sells locally for 17 and 18 cents, and that has a very depressing influence on the price of fat hogs. There's a large lard surplus — the army purchased six million pounds yesterday and didn't even budge the wholesale price of lard.

Change Hog Styles. The Ord auctioneer believes that hogs should hit a "new look" too. "The time has come for our farmers to start shipping bacon and ham hogs to market rather than lard hogs. The extra weight of lard hogs is almost a waste of feed in view of prices, and a lot of people's preference for corn, soybean and cottonseed cooking fat substitutes."

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Called to Chicago to Talk Over Radio

Ord Airport Manager Tells of Haylift Trips and Other Operations.

The "haylift" and other flights made by pilots in Nebraska has come in for considerable publicity, and Ellis Carson, Ord airport manager, has had a share in it, but Mr. Carson was certainly surprised when he received word this week that he was wanted in Chicago for an interview over the NBC network.

He accepted and with Mrs. Carson he flew to Omaha Tuesday afternoon, going from there by regular plane service to Chicago Wednesday morning, where he expected to arrive about 10:30 a. m. Their expenses for the trip are paid both ways.

Mr. Carson phoned Wednesday noon that he would be on Conoco Oil company's program this evening at 8:45 with Ned Brooks. The program comes out over a number of NBC radio stations including WLW, Cincinnati, WTAM, Cleveland and WWK, Detroit. The Carsons plan to return Thursday or Friday.

Blizzard Extends Vacation for Two Teachers

Two Ericson teachers had, but probably did not enjoy, one of the longest enforced vacations heard of here for some time. Marcella and Marilyn Bumgardner returned to the Cecil Haller home at Ericson and to their school duties Saturday. They went home for their Christmas vacation and have been there ever since.

The ladies live near Ballagh, right up the Cedar river from Ericson some thirty miles, but they might as well have been in Norway, since there is no mayor to be chosen this spring. Dr. Blessing having been elected for two years last April. However, it is hoped that there will be a good attendance at the caucuses.

Chest X-Ray Survey Starts in Ord Next Thursday

All Adults Urged to Visit Unit for Free Check-up of Chest Condition.

It won't be long now! The Valley county chest X-ray survey will begin in Ord next Thursday morning. The state department of health X-ray unit will give free chest X-rays to residents of Ord and vicinity February 17, 18, and 19, 10 p. m., and also on February 22, 23 and 24. X-rays will be taken from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 1 to 5 p. m.

Sponsored by local clubs and physicians, the Valley county chest X-ray survey has as its goal the chest X-raying of every adult in the county. (While youngsters under 12 years are remarkably free from pathological chest conditions, it is emphasized that they, too, are welcome, especially if any suspicious symptoms exist.) More than 198,000 Nebraskans have taken advantage of the X-ray unit to receive their free chest X-rays, and 97 out of each 100 were found to be perfectly normal and healthy.

The X-rays are taken merely for screening purposes and where any doubtful condition is found to exist, the individuals are referred to their personal physicians for further observation.

Following completion of X-raying in Ord on Thursday, February 24 the X-ray unit will give free X-rays in other Valley county communities: Arcadia, February 28 p. m., March 1 and 2. North Loup, March 4, March 7 p. m. and March 8.

Corn Contest and Show Next Event of Interest Here

Postponed from January Because of Storm, This Program to Draw Many.

The corn yield contest finish-up meeting and corn show will be held in Ord Wednesday, Feb. 16, 1919, starting at 10:30 a. m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Originally advertised for Jan. 12, a postponement was found necessary because the blockaded roads would not permit participants, especially from the north, to attend.

The program will open with moving pictures at 10:30 a. m. The lunch will be served at noon by the Catholic ladies. At 1 p. m. the feature event of the day, a speech on the subject, "A Midwest Farmer Looks at Europe," will be given by Clarence Ernst of O'Neill, Nebr.

Allan to Give Prizes. At 2 p. m. Henry Wolfe of the Nebraska College of Agriculture will analyze the results of the 1918 corn yield contest. D. L. Gross, extension agronomist, will present the district winners in the corn yield contest at 2:30. At 2:45 the presentation of corn show awards will be made by Ross Allen, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce.

The show and contest is being sponsored by the Ord Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the Valley County Extension service. Any corn grower in the north-central district is eligible and invited to enter the corn show contest. Booths will be available for seed companies to display their products.

HILL BAND MEMBER. Don Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hill, is a member of the 55-member band of the Nebraska State Teacher's College of Kearney which made a two day music tour this week. Among the places they played at were Crete and Grand Island. Don plays the cornet.

City Caucuses Scheduled for Wednesday, March 2

Four Officials Now Serving by Appointment; No City Judge.

Two weeks from last night the city caucuses will be held, the law requiring that they be held on the fifth Wednesday preceding the spring election. The date of the spring election this year is April 5, and the fifth preceding Wednesday is March 2.

It is probable that the election will arouse less interest than last year, since there is no mayor to be chosen this spring. Dr. Blessing having been elected for two years last April. However, it is hoped that there will be a good attendance at the caucuses.

In the first ward Lyle Milliken and Duane Armstrong are the council members. Milliken, filling the unexpired term of Hugh Carson, is the member whose term ends this spring.

A similar condition prevails in the second ward, where the term of Howard Huff, appointed to fill the vacancy made when Dr. Blessing became mayor, expires. Jay Brown is the other 2nd ward member.

The third ward is represented by Gus Schoenstein and Dr. J. W. McGinnis. Schoenstein's term expires. Rex Jewett is filling out the term of Paul Adamek as city clerk, and there is no police judge. Charles Cochran, appointed not being a resident.

The present school board members are Orin Kellison, Floyd Beranek, Curt Gudmundsen, Hilding Pearson, Leo Long and Ralph Norman. The terms of Beranek and Gudmundsen expire. Beranek is filling out the term of Dr. Blessing.

The members of the park board are Mrs. E. C. Leggett, Irvin Merrill and Henry Benda. Mrs. Leggett's term expires this spring. She is completing the unexpired term of L. D. Milliken.

Three Snowbound Workers on Injured List

Bad luck dogged the tracks of three workers in the Ord disaster relief operations this week. Cork Biemond and Leslie Nash, pilots who have cracked up two planes apiece in hazardous snow landings suffered an ironic fate.

Biemond fell downstairs Tuesday while working in his father's theatre, pulling a ligament in his ankle and putting him on crutches. Nash took a spill over a rope which his and neighboring children had tied between two trees, bruising his arm and shoulder severely.

Byron Nielsen, army engineer directing operations in Ord, went to a local hospital Tuesday with pneumonia, aggravated by exposure and overwork.

National Guard Outfits Deliver Hay

Flight log at the Ord airport Wednesday showed that local planes had made a total of 112 Red Cross or "mercy" landings during the past two weeks. In addition, 43 commercial flights were made.

Of the total, 21 Red Cross flights were made in Valley county, the rest in surrounding counties. Main recipient of relief planes from Ord was Garfield county, where 39 Red Cross and 9 commercial landings were made.

Expense to the Red Cross for plane operations is expected to run less than $1000, according to figures given the Quiz, of which a major portion went for the purchase of skis for planes. The skis will be held here in custody of the city in anticipation of next year's snows.

County Declared "Emergency Area"

Additional loan funds have been made available to the Farmers Home Administration in the State of Nebraska, according to information furnished by Donald E. Krick, local county supervisor.

The entire state of Nebraska has been declared to be an "Emergency Area" by Ernest Frisch, state director of the Farmers Home Administration. Funds are available to farmers who have suffered losses attributable to the severe storms which have harassed farmers in this state during recent months. The loans are restricted to farmers who cannot obtain adequate assistance from local banks and lending agencies.

Ord Firemen Have Busy Week; Four Alarms Answered

Two Farm Calls Demand Attention, Also Home Fire Causes $250 Loss.

The Ord Volunteer Fire department has been busy the past week, with four alarms turned in. Luckily there was no serious loss with the exception of one fire. Thursday evening an alarm took them to the Quiz engraving plant on south 16th St., where the furnace had blown up. They were not needed, as the fire was out when they arrived, and no damage was done.

The first farm fire came Saturday night at 11:40 and they made a hurried run out to the Elmer Parkos place, 13 miles west, where some clothes were burning in an upstairs room. The Parkos family was away, but a neighbor saw the fire and turned in the alarm. The firemen got the fire out with a very little water. They burned clothes and a hole in the floor was the only loss. The fire was caused by having the clothes too close to a stove pipe that led up through the room.

Lard Got Too Hot. The second fire came Sunday night at 6:15 at the Harry Clement home. They were rendering lard and had left it for a little while when it caught fire. The fire burned the ceiling of the room and did quite a lot of smoke damage, which Mr. Clement estimated at $250.

Another alarm, at 7:20 a. m. Tuesday called the fire department to the Rudolph Plate farm near Sumter, where there was a fire in the new elevator, recently completed but not yet in use. Luckily there was little damage, a few boards being charred.

George Anderson, fire chief, commented on how lucky it was that the calls had not come in a few days earlier when roads both directions were blocked with snow. In that case both farm buildings would probably have been destroyed.

Business End of Shovel.

Guard units in Ord have added a new bit of information to their lore, the Quiz learned. "We call it the nomenclature of M-1 snow shovel," Lt. Edmiston explained. "This crew of mine really knows it by now."

Flight operations from Ord, in chartered Red Cross planes with members of Ord's CAP unit as pilots continued during the week. With roads steadily being opened, need for plane service has lessened, although flights are still being made every day.

102 Mercy Landings Made. Flight log at the Ord airport Wednesday showed that local planes had made a total of 112 Red Cross or "mercy" landings during the past two weeks. In addition, 43 commercial flights were made.

Of the total, 21 Red Cross flights were made in Valley county, the rest in surrounding counties. Main recipient of relief planes from Ord was Garfield county, where 39 Red Cross and 9 commercial landings were made.

Red Cross Planes Make 112 Landings in Relief Work

As Soon As Roads Opened Dozer Crews to Open Lanes. Access Roads for Farmers.

Unless new snows come to undo the efforts of the past week, all state, county and township roads in Valley county will be opened by Saturday, members of the Valley County Snowbound Operation committees stated today.

Dozer and road crews have opened 78 miles of state highway, 148 miles of county highway and more than 200 miles of township roads in the past week, or more than two thirds of their goal. About 300 miles of township roads remain still blocked as the Quiz went to press Wednesday.

Some Farm Lanes Opened. In addition the road crews have opened a large number of farm lanes and cross roads as they went along, in cases where an emergency existed, or a path had to be beaten to large stacks of vitally needed hay.

Glen Auble, chairman of the county committee, told the Quiz that he expected road opening crews to be able to leave the highways sometime Saturday and start opening lanes and driveways.

"These men are really making speed," he said. "And the way they are working indicates that they've caught the spirit behind Operation Snowbound and are working for something more than their paychecks."

Road Crews Well Treated. "They're being well treated, too," he said. "All along the way they're being offered hot drinks, food, and the like. And the expressions of appreciation they get from farmers who find the road to the outside world open for the first time in a month make them well worth the effort."

Most roads in the country are open to one way traffic only, except for the state highways. Travel is still extremely hazardous due to icing, and the softness of snow still on the roads.

National Guard Praised. Valley county committee members were loud in their praise of the National guard detachment here under the command of Lt. Homer Edmiston. The guard outfit, equipped with a jeep, two six by six trucks and shovels, have made dozens of relief missions over the county, hauling hay, fuel, food, medical supplies.

"Time after time these boys have had to shovel their way through unopened roads to bring fuel or food to farm families," Auble said. "In one instance they had to leave their trucks and walk a half mile through drifts with heavy sacks of coal on their shoulders. They have never said 'no' to anything we've asked them to do, and their constant cheerfulness is almost contagious."

Business End of Shovel. Guard units in Ord have added a new bit of information to their lore, the Quiz learned. "We call it the nomenclature of M-1 snow shovel," Lt. Edmiston explained. "This crew of mine really knows it by now."

Flight operations from Ord, in chartered Red Cross planes with members of Ord's CAP unit as pilots continued during the week. With roads steadily being opened, need for plane service has lessened, although flights are still being made every day.

102 Mercy Landings Made. Flight log at the Ord airport Wednesday showed that local planes had made a total of 112 Red Cross or "mercy" landings during the past two weeks. In addition, 43 commercial flights were made.

Of the total, 21 Red Cross flights were made in Valley county, the rest in surrounding counties. Main recipient of relief planes from Ord was Garfield county, where 39 Red Cross and 9 commercial landings were made.

Expense to the Red Cross for plane operations is expected to run less than $1000, according to figures given the Quiz, of which a major portion went for the purchase of skis for planes. The skis will be held here in custody of the city in anticipation of next year's snows.

Farm Fire Razes H. Thieman Home

Fire destroyed the farm home of Henry Thieman four miles southeast of Petersburg last week. It was caused by combustion of kerosene while Mr. Thieman was trying to thaw frozen water pipes. The temperature that evening was 15 below zero.

Mr. Thieman was badly burned about the face and on his hands and legs. Because of the deep snow none of the neighbors were able to get to the Thieman home in time to help. To get Mr. Thieman to the hospital it was necessary for the National Guard to run a caterpillar dozer with a truck following behind. He is reported recovering.

Manske Elected Chief 23rd Time

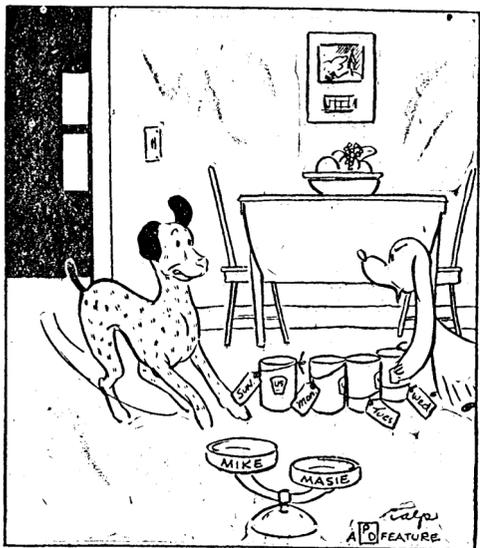

The Pierce Volunteer Fire department recently held its annual election of officers and followed their annual custom of electing Henry Manske fire chief, this time for the 23rd year.

This is quite a record of service, but he still has some distance to go before he equals the record set by Ord's own Bud Shirley, who has been employed by the city (and village) of Ord for well over sixty years and is still going strong.

Farmer Attacked by Enraged Bull

Ralph Casteel, farmer living near Westerville and quite well known at Arcadia, had a narrow escape from serious injury last week when he was attacked by a bull. Knowing the bull's temper, Casteel carried a club when he went into the yard.

The bull charged him, knocking him down and breaking the club, then pawing and stepping on him. Casteel's father saw what was happening and went to his son's rescue. He was not seriously injured.

Otto Niemeyer Jr. Senator Anderson in Car Accident

Otto Niemeyer Jr., of Ord was involved in an auto accident Monday of last week while driving his 1948 Plymouth club coupe on Highway 281 two miles south of St. Paul. His car collided with a 1940 Dodge government truck operated by Carl Fark.

Mr. Fark was assisting a stalled truck that had gone into the ditch and Mr. Niemeyer did not see the truck in the lane of travel until it was too late to avoid a collision. Damage to the car was estimated at $350, while that on the truck amounted to $30. Nobody was injured.

Former State Senator Delmer S. Anderson, well known Lexington cattleman of Lexington, Nebraska in the Lexington hospital just before noon Saturday from injuries received in a car-truck collision on the highway west of Lexington Wednesday night. He suffered a broken jaw and brain concussion and had been unconscious since the accident.

Anderson was 66 years old, and served in the Nebraska legislature in 1934. Snow piled high on either side of the road obscured the vision of both men. Leonard Pinkerton, driver of the truck escaped without serious injury.

Biemond - Davis Nuptials

Joan Biemond was a lovely bride, Sunday afternoon when Rev. Edward K. Trefz solemnized her marriage to Dallas L. Davis at a double ring ceremony at the First Methodist church in Ord.

Three hundred guests witnessed the two o'clock ceremony. Misses Kathleen Clement and Jean Blaha, friends of the bride, lighted seven candles on each side of the altar, which was flanked by tall baskets of gladoli. To the background music of the Sweetheart of Signa Chi.

Mr. William French, of Scottsbluff, Neb., a fraternity brother of the groom sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Orin Kellison, at the organ, who also played the professional and recessional music.

Mr. Davis chose as his best man a friend, Mr. William K. Courtney of St. Paul. His attendant was Mrs. Raymond Biemond, of Ord, brother of the bride. The ushers were Joseph C. Kusch and Harold F. Taylor, both of St. Paul. Mr. Davis is a son of Mrs. Philena M. Davis of Washington, D. C.

Miss Dolores Bahensky, bridesmaid, was the first to enter, followed by Mrs. Harry Zulkoski; sister of the bride and matron of honor. Both were gowned identically in bluish pink and Nile green slipper satin, fitted with sweetheart necklines and little wing-caps of sleeves, above beaufant skirts cut with soft hipline fullness, graceful back sweep. Below-the-elbow length mitts of matching satin completed their costume.

The delicate beauty of the bride was enhanced by a gown of luminous bridal ivory slipper satin, fashioned with tapered long sleeves. The bodice was beautifully molded midriff—smooth with front buttoning. The softly rounded collar and wrists were accented with delicate seed pearl applique in a floral motif. The voluminous skirt cascaded in shimmering folds into an aisle wide court train. Her double tier fingertip veil of imported ivory bridal illusion flowed from a cap of softly crushed folds of illusion, ornamented with costume-pearl clips at each side. She entered on the arm of her father, M. Biemond.

The bride's mother, Mrs. M. Biemond wore an afternoon dress of pastel blue with soft rose accessories. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Philena M. Davis of Washington, D. C. was dressed in midnight blue with lavender accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church basement. A beautiful wedding cake decorated the table at which Mrs. C. J. Miller poured coffee. Mrs. Ed Kokes served cake, and Mrs. Joyce Olsson served punch. Greeting the guests at the door were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tolon of Ord, Mrs. Harold Taylor of St. Paul was in charge of the guest book. In charge of the reception was the Presbyterian women's league, supervised by Mrs. Ralph Douglas.

For her going away costume the bride chose a suit of tannic wool gabardine, with brown accessories. The double breasted jacket was fashioned with a shoulder wide notched collar, sleeves and pockets were "V" shaped with arrowhead like detail.

The young couple left for a brief honeymoon, after which they will reside in Seattle, Wash., where the groom has accepted a position in the engineering division of Boeing Aircraft Corporation. The groom is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, and a graduate of University of Nebraska College of Engineering. A member of AIEE National Engineers organization, also holds a reserve commission of the U. S. Marine Corps.

His bride is a pledge of Alpha Chi Omega sorority.

A partial list of out of town guests included the following: Dolores Bahensky, St. Paul; Cay Wooster, Lincoln; Mrs. Philena M. Davis, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. John Biemond and Agnes Biemond of Grand Island; Carl Dietrichs, Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Graunke, Grand Island; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Woman's Club.
The Ericson Woman's Club met Wednesday at the library. Mrs. Zella Kelly and Gertrude Michener were hostesses and served sandwiches, pickles and coffee. Only six members were present. The afternoon was spent visiting. The small attendance was because of the stormy weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Adamek have been guests the past week at the home of her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baldwin near Bartlett.

Word was received by friends of Mrs. Barbara Hansen who is visiting at Wolbach that she plans a visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Banks at Grand Island and with her daughter Victoria and son Clifford at Kansas City before returning home.

Mrs. Jack Sharpe and son went to Burwell Thursday and is visiting friends and relatives.

Lea Foster has been helping Mrs. Ed Booth with household duties the past week.

Wilma White is a guest in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Cox and to be near school.

Everett Woepfle was called to the Nels Madsen ranch Thursday to repair the wells. They have been without water for the stock several days. He went via high way equipment and returned by plane Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Pierce and daughter went to Grand Island Tuesday, Feb. 1 to be with Frank at the hospital. Word was received Saturday that Frank had been released from the hospital and they were visiting at the home of Mrs. Pierce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Burry at Cairo, Neb. and will return home soon.

Jack Sharpe and Bill Patrick have been busy the past week hauling hay for their stock from Ord.

The marriage of Mrs. Tillie Kennedy and William T. Massey Sunday, Jan. 30 took place at Ord. The Rev. L. V. Hassell performed the ceremony. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. R. Koupal and Mrs. L. V. Hassell. Mr. Massey was a resident of Ericson and Wheeler county and has many friends here who extend congratulations and best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Massey will make their home in Burwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Mayberger and Mrs. Mayberger's mother went to Bartlett Saturday morning to get the bus to Grand Island, but had to return home as the buses were not operating. It was quite a trip for Mrs. Floyd as she is 84 years of age. They had to walk 1/2 mile from their home to the highway to the car. Jack Simpson took them to Bartlett. Mr. Mayberger went after them again in the afternoon.

Archie Watson and Gene Foster made two trips to Greeley Wednesday with stock, bringing back coal and supplies.

REA Energizing Many New Farms on One and Two

One Hundred Farmers Now Enjoying Use of Energy of Ord Plant.

The score at the Ord REA office stood at one hundred about 11 a. m. Wednesday with that many farm homes energized and enjoying the use of energy put out by the Ord Municipal light plant. Considering weather conditions the work has been proceeding in a very satisfactory manner, according to Coordinator-Manager W. P. Hollands.

A list of 32 names was printed in the Quiz last week, of members on branch 1 who had been energized at that time. This week a few more have been added to Branch 1 and an even larger number on Branch 2. New members on Branch 1 include George Rybin, School Dist. 23, Chester Travis, Floyd Arnold and Paul Zeig.

Branch 2: St. John's parsonage, St. John's church, Evan, U. B. parsonage, Evan, U. B. church, George Bell, Lydia Koelling, R. C. Clement, S. W. Roe, Mrs. Aubrey Davis, Aubrey Davis, Paul Malotte, Roy Jacobs, Ed P. Cook, Francis W. Ryschon, John Dobblerstein.

Mrs. Katie Marks, Edw. G. Lenz, Edwin F. Lenz, Donald D. Vogeler, Mrs. H. C. Koll, Ernest Lange, Joe Ambrosky, George Spurling, James Vogeler, Alfred Burson, Ray W. Peterson, Ervin Sohrweid, Walter A. Fuss, George B. Clement.

Lee Footvongler, Henry Rachuy, Elmer G. Hornickel, Alma Bredt, Leland Rich, Fannie Peterson, George W. Lenz, Harold B. Cook, Edgar Roe, Lloyd Gevecke, Ben Garrison, Lucy M. Koelling, Kenneth Koelling, Henry G. Lange, O. G. Boettger.

Charles H. Hawk, Everett Hornickel, Edgar W. Lange, Mrs. Emil Foth, Walter Foth, Harold B. Williams, Albert A. Peterson, Marvin Collins, Elmer Bredt, J. Z. Marks, Mabel H. Cornell, Isaac Luoma, Will Foth, Lawrence Sautter and William Koelling.

The telephone lines in the area where the REA lines have been energized are experiencing some static. A part of these lines are being changed over into a metallic circuit, and Mr. Petersen of the Continental telephone company says that there will be some disturbance on these lines until the work is completed. However, it should all clear up when this work is done.

BPW Club Votes $20 Donation

Ord Business and Professional Women's club voted $20 to the Heart campaign at their dinner meeting Tuesday evening. The campaign, begun Tuesday, is nation-wide, and is to finance research toward overcoming this number one killer of our citizens.

The club discussed current legislation, and voted on record as favoring several bills now before the unicameral, among the LB 16, LB 27, LB 79, LB 162, LB 405, LB 380. The members also supported Senator Carson's fight against capital punishment in Nebraska.

Hostesses for the evening were

Rural Leaders Plan Homemakers Program

Mrs. Evelyn Jefferies and Mrs. Lois Strong, who had arranged Valentine center motifs of red hearts and white mums, with red cattails. At each place was a small Valentine. The group adjourned to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Vera Anderson for a seven-thirty dessert party.

Volunteering to help with the mobile P-B Unit were Mrs. Joyce Olsson, Mrs. Viola Kellison, Mrs. Ella Weckbach, Mrs. Irma Leggett.

It was also announced that Wednesday, Feb. 23 would be Elyria day for the TB Unit. Mrs. Emanuel Kapustka is chairman, and will try to see that as many Elyria citizens as possible come to Ord for testing on that day.

Senator Carson's Bill Has Support

Senator Hugh Carson of Ord is not a man to introduce a bill and then let it shift for itself. He wrote to the governors of six states in which the death penalty does not apply for their opinions on his bill abolishing the death penalty. Typical comment came from Governor Oscar Rennebohm of Wisconsin:

"It is perfectly safe to say," says the governor, "that Wisconsin believes definitely that capital punishment not only offers no advantages of safeguards to the public, but is definitely poor public policy." States not having capital punishment besides Wisconsin are Minnesota, North Dakota, Michigan, Rhode Island and Maine.

BRACE
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dlugosh and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zentz were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mason and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drudik and Judy and Mr. and Mrs. Albin Boro were Sunday dinner guests at the Anton Kluma home. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutar and family and Mr. and Mrs. Syl Boro and family called later in the day.

Mrs. Don Dobblerstein invited Mr. and Mrs. Willard Garner and Lynne and Mrs. Rose Dobblerstein in for a surprise birthday dinner in honor of her husband's birthday Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Rose Dobblerstein left on the bus Friday morning to spend the weekend in York with her sister, Mrs. Clara Lindquist, who fell and broke her hip a week ago. Mrs. Lindquist is quite elderly, but is getting along fairly well.

Joe John called at the home of Otto Graul Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wigent and Lois were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kirby and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burson and family called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burson and family Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Conner and Lynne drove to Burwell Sunday afternoon and while there saw a plane delivering hay to cattle in the hills east of Burwell. Also they watched a bulldozer opening roads into the hills.

Importance of Water
A plentiful supply of water supplements an efficient feeding program on the farm. Water constitutes 60 per cent of meat, 87 per cent of milk, 55 per cent of poultry flesh and 65 per cent of eggs.

Cpl. Anton Hvezda Accorded Military Funeral Here Sunday

Killed in Action Near Munich, Germany While Spearheading Advance.

Cpl. Anton A. Hvezda was born in Valley county, March 30, 1923, and received his grade school education in the Wood Park and Longwood schools, graduating from Comstock high school in 1942. The family moved to Ord 800n thereafter, and Anton worked for Stewart's Dairy, driving a milk truck on the route, and was later employed in the Jack and Jill store.

He entered military service March 12, 1943. He received his training at Camp Campbell, Ky., with the exception of six weeks at Fort Bragg, N. C., shortly before he was sent overseas. Cpl. Hvezda was a gunner on a tank with the 20th Armored Division under General Patton. He was killed in action April 29, 1945, near Munich, Germany.

He was a crew member of the tank spearheading the attack against the strongly fortified position. He performed his duty heroically and determinedly until he was killed when his tank was hit by enemy anti-tank fire. Left to mourn are his father, Mike Hvezda, now residing in Long City, three sisters, Alice Panowicz of Valentine, Agnes Bukowski of Loup City and Lydia Gregory of Alpha, Minn.; one brother, Edward, of Ord; a niece, Linda Bukowski and two nephews, Richard Bukowski and Ronnie Gregory; an aunt, Anna Hvezda of Ord; also several other aunts, uncles and cousins, other relatives and a host of friends.

Mrs. Mortensen Has Operation

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen is making satisfactory recovery in St. Mary's hospital in Rochester, Minn., from an operation. She will leave the hospital Saturday and go to the Hotel Taylor in Rochester, where she will stay until the 15th, when she will start for home, going by way of Des Moines and Grand Island.

C. J. Mortensen plans to fly from Ord to Rochester Saturday to spend two days at his wife's bedside.

Gust Rose May Be Ord's Oldest Man

Sunday, Febr. 6, Gust Rose celebrated his 94th birthday, a fact that may make him eligible to the claim of being Ord's oldest citizen. Whether he is or not, it is certain that he is right among the leaders. He observed the occasion with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rose of Burwell. They came down Friday afternoon.

Grandpa, or Dad, as he is known by everyone, can still travel by train or bus or car as well as many people much younger than he is. He is also hoping to ride in a plane as soon as the weather permits. He came to Nebraska in 1885, homesteaded in Dawes county, and moved to Valley county in 1900.

Dislikes 'New Deal'. He has seen many changes in our mode of life, both good and bad, but the coming of the New Deal and the blizzard of 1949 are among the most sensational events of his life. He says the 1949 blizzard with its hardships and suffering far outweighs the blizzard of 1888.

Being a pioneer, he is opposed to much of the New Deal. He feels that it has killed so much of the pioneer spirit of our people and made too many depend on dole in one form or another, always ending by using the taxpayers' money to fulfill their many wants. Mrs. Rose passed away in 1931 and since then his children, O. F. Rose, R. N. Rose, Mrs. F. H. Kuehl and B. A. Rose, have done their best to make his passing years more pleasant. He has also a great many personal friends who are happy to give him a friendly word of greeting.

MIRA VALLEY NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. Warren Studer and David were Sunday dinner guests at the Ed Cook home. Billy and Joan Freeman, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Freeman, are ill with the mumps. Rita Greenwall was a week end guest of Joyce Foth.

Roger and Beverly Koelling, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koelling are ill with pink eye. Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and children were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Clement and Mrs. Jennie Clement.

The morning worship was held at the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunday, for the first time in five weeks, due to weather conditions.

Miss Kathleen Clement was home for the weekend from the University at Lincoln, to attend the wedding of Joan Biond. Leonard Marks returned home by train Tuesday from a visit to California.

Eugene Lenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lenz, is a new pupil at District 9 school. Little Marlene Lamsan was able to return home Wednesday, from an Omaha hospital where she received treatment. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Geweke.

Alfred Burson brought Joe Marks home from the hospital in Ord, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lenz celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Feb. 3, with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burson and Gloria Dawn and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lenz, Eugene and Janet as guests at an oyster supper.

Dinner guests at the Kenneth Koelling's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hornickel, Mervin and Kent, and Mrs. Lucy Koelling.

J. F. Papiernik, Former Resident, Goes to Reward

Lived in Valley County More Than Half Century; Leaves Many Relatives.

Jacob F. Papiernik, well known farmer and resident of the Elyria neighborhood for more than fifty years, died Wednesday afternoon at a Grand Island hospital, where he had been confined by illness for more than three weeks. For the past two years he had made his home with a daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fluere of Grand Island.

Mr. Papiernik was born July 21, 1868, in Galicia, Poland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Papiernik. The family came to America and to Pennsylvania when he was 7 years old, and several years later moved to Valley county near Ord. He was married to Miss Anna Furtak in September, 1900 at Elyria. They made their home in Valley county with the exception of two years following World War I, when they moved to California.

All his life here Mr. Papiernik was a general stockman and farmer and was well known all over the area. Following the death of his wife, Jan. 24, 1939, Mr. Papiernik retired from the farm and made his home with his children. He was a member of the Catholic church. In addition to his wife and parents, he was preceded in death by an infant son.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Elmer Fluere, Grand Island and Mrs. Richard Aibers, Ord; four sons, Louis Papiernik of Omaha and Steven, Lester and Syl Papiernik, all of Ord; two brothers, Frank Papiernik of St. Paul and John Papiernik of Ashton; two sisters, Mrs. Martha Zymek of Omaha and Mrs. Katherine Zukowski of Ord; also 37 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from St. Mary's church at Elyria, Rev. Leonard Ziolkowski officiating. The pallbearers were Joe Zoskowski, James Iwanski, Joe Osentowski, Lloyd Konkolewski, John Lech and Adrian Kuss. The rosary was at the Hastings-Pearson Chapel at 8 p. m. Friday. Burial was in the Elyria Catholic cemetery.

Services Held At Comstock Friday for Otto Trojan

Served Country 3 Years; Lost His Life in Storm Near Hemingford, Nebr.

Otto Trojan, son of Joseph and Caroline Trojan, was born north of Ord in Valley county, Sept. 1910. After he came to maturity he engaged in farming with his uncle, Frank Bedvity, at Hemingford, Nebr. He was called to the service of his country during World War No. 2 and spent more than three years in the South Pacific. He served with honor in several major engagements, among them was Iwo Jima. He was mustered out of the army in Nov. 1945.

He was one of six brothers that served from this family during World War II. Upon his return from military service he returned to Hemingford and set up farming for himself. Death came to him during the severe storm several days ago. He probably was on his way to the home of his sister, Mrs. Camilla Poval at the time of his passing.

Those of his family who remain to mourn his loss are his mother, Mrs. Caroline Trojan; two sisters, Mrs. Camilla Poval of Hemingford, Mrs. Minnie Krul of Ord and seven brothers, Joe, Lou, Charley of Omaha and Eddie, Emil, Leonard, Frank and Eldon all of Comstock and several aunts and uncles and many cousins.

He was preceded in death by his father, who passed on last year and by an infant sister. Military funeral services were held at the Comstock Community church Friday afternoon at 2. Rev. E. A. Smith of Sargent officiated. The Hastings-Pearson mortuary had charge of arrangements. Burial will be made in the Jungman cemetery when the roads are opened.

Clarks Snowbound Since Christmas

Sunday night the Clifton Clarks, who live about 8 miles southwest of North Loup, heard the roar of machinery on the highway, and when daylight came they found that the road past their place was being cleared of snow for the first time since Christmas. One of the bulldozers broke down just as they reached the Clark farm and Mrs. Clark, who had not been off the farm since Christmas, was only too happy to get a warm breakfast for the men. Mr. Clark has been able to get to town for groceries, by team and by tractor.

A number of farms in the Clark neighborhood have been isolated, and quite a number of cattle have been without feed there.

Nate Pont Named on Commission

Nathan B. Pont, Stanton, has been named state liquor commissioner by Governor Val Peterson in place of former commissioner Brega, who has resigned. Mr. Pont and his brother Ervina published the Stanton Register for a period of 33 years. He will take over his new duties April 1, but his family will remain in Stanton for the present.

Local Meeting Gets Nat. Mention

A demonstration in Ord of new Diesel developments, made before veterans' farm training classes drew national mention this week in the International Harvester News.

The meeting stressed the Diesel theme with presentations on the "Why and Wherefore of Diesels" and not only drew a full attendance from veterans' training groups in Ord, Burwell and Scotia, but many others as well.

R. M. Hauser, zone manager for IHC, presented the film. Local arrangements were handled by Howard Huff, IHC dealer in Ord and Ed Jenison, training instructor.

The attendance figure graphically portrays veterans' interest in programs of this kind," the magazine commented. Total attendance was 138.

James P. Douthit, Once of Garfield, Buried At Lincoln

Lived At Gables 25 Years; Daughter, Mrs. Ragland, Is Resident of County.

James Phineas Douthit was born at Clarinda, Ia., Febr. 28, 1882, and departed this life Jan. 13, 1949 at the home of his daughter in Lincoln, at the age of 66 years, 10 months and 25 days. Burial was in Lincoln, Nebr.

He was married to Edna McMullen, Oct. 28, 1905, at Burwell, and to this union were born 9 children, two sons preceding their father in death, Mr. Douthit was a well known rancher of Garfield county. He lived at Gables until 1930, when he moved to Callaway. After ten years there he moved to Martin, S. Dak., where he lived until 1946. While visiting in Sioux City that year he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage from which he never recovered. He was a patient sufferer for two years, unable to talk or walk.

He was deeply loved by all who knew him, was a good neighbor and always ready with a helping hand in time of need. His chief object in life was his family and his home. Left to mourn are his wife, Edna; five daughters, Mae Ragland, Ord, Oscar Long, Lincoln, Lucille Gatz Meyer, Newcastle, Genevieve Van Cleave, Newcastle, and Katherine Usher, Chamberlain, S. Dak.; two sons, Robert of Lincoln and Frank of Martin, S. Dak.; also 20 grandchildren and one great-grandson; four brothers, Walter of Greeley, Ed of Fullerton, Milford of Denver and Elbra of Ia., besides a host of relatives and friends.

Hotel, Rooming Houses Jammed

With Ord's usual heavy run of commercial travelers, in addition to national guard and road crew units stationed here, rooms in the Ord Hotel and several rooming houses in town have undergone heavy demand. A large number of residents in the town have thrown open their homes to Ord's visitors during the emergency.

Anton Kouba Walks for Aid

Feeling himself in need of medical assistance, Anton Kouba, living four miles south of Pierce, walked to town over blocked roads. His doctor took him to Norfolk for an emergency operation that night. The next morning Mrs. Kouba wanted to know how her husband was getting along, so she walked into Pierce, carrying extra clothes, into which she changed for the trip to Norfolk.

Blockaded Farmer Through Window

Joe Dobrovsky, who lives on the farm in Mira Valley known as the old Waterman place, found both doors of his house blocked by snow so high that it was impossible to open them from the inside. He climbed out of one of the windows, got a shovel and dug himself out.

There is an open field to the north of his home and a lot of trees around the house to catch the snow. He said his machine shed was covered over until just the peak of the roof showed. He was blockaded in his home and confined to his own yard for several weeks until the road was finally opened.

Card of Thanks -

We wish to thank Dr. Miller and his staff for the splendid care given us during our stay in the hospital, and all our friends and neighbors for the cards, flowers, gifts and for the help given during the storm. Also, we extend our thanks to Emil Smolik and Cork Biemond for the plane service and the VFW, the Ord Chamber of Commerce and other business firms for the gifts presented to the first 1949 baby.

BETTER PARTY LINE SERVICE

Shortages still exist in telephone equipment and material, which means more telephone users are asked to accept party line service. A few suggestions to better this type of service are:

- 1. Do not allow children to play with the telephone. 2. Limit length of conversation thus giving other parties an opportunity to use their telephone. 3. Respect other parties' rights by not disturbing the line during a conversation by another party on the line. 4. Always restore the telephone receiver after conversation is completed. 5. If line is busy when you wish to place a call, restore the receiver gently, giving other party a reasonable length of time to complete his conversation. 6. If you have an emergency call to make, most party line users will gladly give up the line for your call if you will ask for it.

If you have party line service, be a good telephone neighbor. Sharing the line will help you and the other fellow to better service.

Objections Made to Minimum Wage

Manager J. G. Pierce of the Crownover Telephone company of Sargent, has written Senator Ken Sherry objecting to the Thomas bill, which would raise the minimum wage to 75c per hour. The company owns or switches a total of 461 stations. They use 2 operators in the day time and one at night. The new minimum would cost the company $3,204.51 more in operators wages per year, or 78c per month per company owned phone. The patrons would not stand for such an increase, Mr. Pierce claims, and many of them could not afford it. Mr. Pierce goes on to tell of the value of the phone system in the recent blizzards.

VFW Basketball Team Loses Fast Game At Arcadia

Lead Changes Several Times; Play Marred by Technical Fouls.

The Ord VFW basketball players, under the management of Dean Misko, went over to Arcadia Friday night and played the town team there to a final score of 30 to 23. It was a fast, rough game from start to finish, the lead changing several times.

Shortly before the game ended the Arcadia players took advantage of technical fouls called on Ord, and in so doing increased their margin of victory, although it is likely that they would have won anyway with a margin of seven points.

JAMES W. GLASSFORD
James William Glassford, University of Nebraska's new coach, arrives this week to assume his new duties. Glassford played under the late Jack Sutherland at the University of Pittsburgh. For the past three years he has been head coach at the University of New Hampshire where his teams won the Yankee Conference Championship three straight years.

Praise Due Public-Spirited People Who Organized Unusual Hay Lift

Editor's Note: Don Correll, former publisher of the Colfax County Call, Schuyler, and a newspaperman since childhood when he started with his father's Hebbron Journal, is now in the insurance business. In an innocuous of printer's ink, he could not resist writing a good story when he saw it.

by Don Correll.

During the past week, the state and federal governments, the army and air force have undertaken the job of relieving distress in the blizzard-struck areas in Nebraska and adjoining states.

But credit should be given to B. W. Wagner of Burwell, who two weeks ago saw nothing was being done and decided to do something about it. He organized the Hay Lift which has since received national publicity. This article is furnished your newspaper by an ex-newspaperman who saw how Wagner and his associates from this area worked long hours to help save cattle.

Accompanied by John Bartusiak and Charles Schulling of Burwell; Ted Coos, Bob Wiley and Ed Ferguson of Taylor and Dan Norris of Brewster, the group came to Kearney, started to buy hay to feed starving cattle and made arrangements to get assistance from planes at the Kearney air base.

Mr. Wagner was profuse in his praise of the efforts made by personnel at the Air Force station to assist. The first day, nine C-47's were used to move hay to the stricken region and a day later nine C-52's (the big flying box cars) arrived to help in the job. Bad weather grounded the planes for several days but every possible flying hour was utilized.

Bruce Covey Helped.
A little later, something started to get moving in state and federal divisions. In the meantime, Wagner has contracted for hay, hired trucks to have it hauled here and paid for all this out of his own pocket. Bruce Covey of Ord, business associate of Wagner, assisted.

Some idea of the confidence the people of Nebraska ranch country have in each other is revealed in the fact that Mr. Wagner (Tiny) has paid out over $6,000 from his own pocket for the hay, hauling, telephone, etc., and feels confident that ranchers in the territory to whom he delivered the hay will see that he gets paid.

Coming to Kearney to assist in unloading hay from the planes and to act as spotters were Ted Russel, Ralph E. Rose, Charles Arnold, Elmer Powers and Glen Wiley of Taylor; and Guy Smith of Brewster. B. A. Rose of Burwell cooperated by taking requests for hay and passing them on to Wagner.

During this period I saw these men who acted as spotters and who helped shove the hay out of the planes, come back to their hotel rooms, tired and dirty and ready to go right to sleep after making as many as six flights in one day. During their first two days, Tiny received a radio call, every eight minutes. Mr. Wagner made a number of flights, helping to unload hay, etc., but much of his time was spent at the telephone, taking orders, buying hay, hiring it hauled, selecting spotters, etc. In fact, Tiny kept on going the last two days hardly able to speak, having lost the use of his voice from so much talking.

There Were Troubles, Too.
But the Hay Lift was not without its troubles! When Mr. Wagner first began to buy hay, a few were quick to see a real opportunity for a big profit and proceeded to hike prices on the hay. Some others proceeded to try to "gouge" extra profits for hauling, etc. But all in all, the cooperation received was excellent.

There was a story going the rounds, after the first week, that Wagner was buying the hay for $20 a ton and selling it for $50. Actually he expects to get only the cost of the hay back from the ranchers. Men who have been working with him tell us that by the time he pays the telephone, hauling and meals incurred in trying to help the people of his area, that he will probably be loser to the tune of at least $1,000 from his own pocket!

The men from Loup, Blaine, and most of Garfield, Rock, Brown and Holt counties where hay was dropped from the planes, returned to their homes late Saturday. The job is being taken over by the state and the Army.

But when Wagner turned the work over to them, they wanted to know if he didn't want to keep on paying for the hay and be responsible for any future hay dropped. "Tiny," who stands 6 ft, 6 inches tall, and has a heart as big as the opportunity. He seemed to think that more than six thousand dollars was enough to worry about!

The writer of this article has no other motive than to see that credit is given to all these people who from afar and admire the spirit of cooperation and good-will that has given the range country its wonderful reputation.

Ord Chants Lose Game to Sutton Friday Evening

Gratopp Scores Half of All Points for Sutton; Richardson Has Eleven.

The Ord Chantiers dropped a close game to the invaders from Sutton Friday evening by a score of 34 to 29. The game was played on the Ord floor, and apparently it was just a case of too much Gratopp. The big center seemed to have the situation well in hand, dropping in the ball almost at will.

He was aided and abetted by two nifty forwards, Schmidt, who scored 8 points and Fekhart, who counted the remaining 9. Players who were also in the game were McKibbin, Untherser, Lohmeyer, Salman, Ely, Greiss, Mankamer, Maser and Englehart. Ely and Mankamer were the opening guards.

For Ord Richardson was again high man with 11 points. Tolen accounted for 9, Stoddard 5, and Falter and Nelson each 2. Also seeing service were Wells, Maurice, Munn, Heuck and Laursen. The starting lineup included Tolen, Falter, Richardson, Stoddard, center, and Stoddard and Nelson, guards.

The first quarter looked good for Ord, with a lead of 9 to 8, but Sutton really poured it on in the second stanza to lead 23 to 11 at the half. Ord scored 19 points while Sutton had to be content with five, and then outscored the visitors 9 to 6 in the final stanza.

Hallock had 12 points for Burwell, Brenneman had 10 and Leach 9. Schmidt collected 12 points to lead the Sutton scoring. Burwell has games with Sargent, Ravenna, Cambridge and Curtis this week.

North Loup Quint Wins A Close One from Taylor 35-29

Challengers Have Season Record of Twelve Wins, One Loss to Spalding.

In a tough basketball game played at North Loup Thursday evening the Challengers came off with a 35 to 29 win over Taylor. Outplayed but not out-gamed, the visitors fought valiantly all through the game which was anybody's until the final whistle blew. This makes a total of twelve wins and one loss for North Loup.

Russell Kerr led in the scoring for North Loup, with Goodrich, Leonard, Manchester and Hawkes also in the scoring column. The Challengers led in field goals by a substantial margin, but were outscored on the free throw making good on only one out of nine.

Arcadia plays on the North Loup floor Thursday night.

March of Dimes Campaign Goes Into Final Week

Amount Raised Is Less Than Half What Demand Has Shown Is Necessary.

Dr. Gustavson, chairman for Nebraska in the "March of Dimes" campaign, announces that a number of counties, especially in the east and south part of the state, have completed their campaign and have turned in fine amounts for this worthy cause.

For obvious reasons, the counties named do not lie in the blizzard area where the work has been hindered by numerous storms. Now that the storms seem to be lightening, with the final day of the campaign coming next Tuesday, Febr. 15, it is hoped that every county will make a commendable showing.

A few months ago a call was sent out for a Good Will train to Europe. Valley county people contributed $2,200 to that cause, and none of the money would benefit local people. Now the county is lagging behind in a campaign which will leave half the funds collected for local use. This is a situation hard to understand.

North Loup sent in a partial report Tuesday morning. At that time about $125 had been turned in by the chairman, Mrs. Ign Pokraka. Of this $37.50 was raised by the North Loup extension clubs, $17.50 by a show put on by the North Loup schools, and $18.67 raised by the Strand theater. Mrs. Pokraka asks that any further contributions be left at the Vodernd Pharmacy.

No report is in as yet from either Arcadia or Elyria and Miss McClatchey, Valley county chairman, says that only 6 of the rural schools have been heard from. She mailed letters to the teachers this week asking them to contact the patrons and collect whatever they have to give, as there is no use waiting longer for programs or other means of raising funds.

County Men Play in Checker Meet

Valley county has two representatives in the state checker tournament at Grand Island this week. They are R. E. Burrows of North Loup and Harry Foth of Mira Valley.

In the second round and the first group, Burrows had won 7 and tied 3 games. The defending state champion, Lloyd Mills, was leading with 13 won, none lost and 3 tied.

In group 2 R. A. McCormick was leading with 6 won, one lost and 7 tied. Harry Foth had won 2, lost 2 and tied 2. Burrows had won 1, lost 2 and tied 3.

Burwell Upsets Sutton Quintet, Score 37 to 25

Longhorns Turn in Big Last Half After Being Tied 14 All At Half.

The Burwell Longhorns turned on the heat Saturday night on the home court to hand visiting Sutton a 37 to 25 defeat. It was a nip and tuck battle through the first half, which ended in a 14 to 14 score.

Burwell then went on a scoring spree that did not end until the final whistle. They added another fourteen points in the third quarter while Sutton had to be content with five, and then outscored the visitors 9 to 6 in the final stanza.

Hallock had 12 points for Burwell, Brenneman had 10 and Leach 9. Schmidt collected 12 points to lead the Sutton scoring. Burwell has games with Sargent, Ravenna, Cambridge and Curtis this week.

School Gym at Ravenna Is Open

After a postponement due to the weather, Ravenna expected to open their new school gym to the public Tuesday evening of this week. This is a part of the new building that has been under construction for some time.

It will be recalled that Ravenna lost their high school building in a fire a few years ago, and the city has been waiting until material became available before rebuilding. The new gym has room for 750 spectators.

Improvements for City of St. Paul

Two worth while improvements are in the making for the City of St. Paul, Nebr. Forty-four home owners on the north side have asked the city to include them in a new sewer district. The council is favorable, and the work will no doubt be done as soon as the necessary details are ironed out.

The St. Paul Lions club has asked the city to condemn forty acres of land north of the Middle Loup river and east of Highway 81, in order that it can be purchased for a city park. The land in question belongs to Robert Paul, who does not want to sell. The Lions say $4,000 could be raised to buy the land.

Ord Athletes Win Honors At Lincoln in Dual Track Meet

Loyal Hurlbert Wins 440, Ted Randolph Takes First in Running Broad Jump.

Again Ord high has athletes at the University of Nebraska to help put the home town on the map. They are Loyal Hurlbert and Ted Randolph, both of whom made athletic history while attending Ord high school.

At the dual indoor track meet with Kansas Saturday at Memorial stadium, Hurlbert had the situation well in hand in the quarter mile, which he won in 51.8 seconds, a little slower than his best record.

Ted Randolph decided to make it two blue ribbons for Ord and made a very good leap in the broad jump of 21 feet, 7 1/2 inches. The Kansas entry was a close second and a Nebraska man only 3 inches back in third place.

Nebraska won the meet 9 1/2 points to 2 1/2, with Kansas ahead in only two events, the 880 yard run and the high jump. This is the third straight win for Nebraska and much of the credit is due the two entries from Ord.

Atkinson Gloors Going to Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gloor of Atkinson, who for many years have been owners and operators of the Gloor Bakery there, are making arrangements to leave in April for a visit to Europe and to their native Switzerland. They will be accompanied by his brother Albert, his wife and two daughters, Fannie and Alvena, all of Columbus.

In addition to Switzerland they will visit in France and northern Italy before returning home in July. The Gloor brothers are well known as enterprisers in their part of the state. One of the brothers is proficient on the accordion and both of them are experts in yodeling in the genuine Swiss fashion, which differs materially from the cowboy version.

Hallock had 12 points for Burwell, Brenneman had 10 and Leach 9. Schmidt collected 12 points to lead the Sutton scoring. Burwell has games with Sargent, Ravenna, Cambridge and Curtis this week.

Telephone Group Is Incorporated

Articles of incorporation were published last week in the Blair Pilot-Tribune for the Eastern Nebraska Telephone company, which will have its headquarters in Blair.

The corporation is capitalized for $35,000 and has for its officers E. C. Hunt and Robert C. Hunt of Blair and Emory C. Hunt, Jr. of Bassett.

Elbert Sell Fined; Killed a Pheasant

Elbert Sell of Arcadia was brought into Judge Charles Crochey's court Tuesday on information furnished by Game Warden Myers of Sargent and charged with killing a pheasant out of season.

He entered a plea of guilty to the charge, was fined $10 and $10 liquidated damages, also costs of $4, all of which he paid and was released.

ROMANS VISITS.

Clarence Romans of Arnold was in Ord both Tuesday and Wednesday visiting friends. He came by air both days. Wednesday he brought Keefe Crowley of Arnold to Ord to attend a meeting at the high school. Clarence says he kept plenty busy for a while doing relief flying, but that the roads are pretty well opened up now.

Now - Chick Starter - AMAZING GROWTH-POWER!
MOORMAN scientists have discovered a way to use such ferrous penicillium meal, butyl fermentation solubles and condensed fish solubles in a new feed that has sensational growth power for baby chicks. Contains 7 balanced proteins — 4 vitamins

This new starter—Moorman's Chick Mintrate—is a 43% protein concentrate... is extra-rich in animal and sea-food proteins... is jam-packed with vitamins... plus Moorman's famous Poultry Minerals, containing 13 ingredients. Costs less because you mix it with your own grain.

To start your chicks extra fast, keep them thrifty and produce 3 to 3 1/2 pound birds weeks sooner than average starting rations, call, write or see your Moorman Man.

Hy-Line Chicks

Hy-Line Baby Chicks are available now and once an awhile we can get some a few days old. The Hy-Lines have proven themselves in every test that they are superior layers. You can make some good money on your chicks this week sooner than average Hy-Lines instead of regular breeds. This past year several poultrymen have made $150 to $200 per hen over what they made from their regular breeds.

We have Hy-Line chicks coming the first week of March and the first weeks of April. May we have your order now so you won't be disappointed as to the time that you can get the chicks. No doubt when the weather warms up there will be more orders for chicks than can be supplied. If you prefer crossbreeds or regular breeds we can supply them. Can also supply a very limited amount of Indian River crossbreeds. This is a new meat type of chick that is proving very popular with the broiler producers.

Poultry Supplies

We have Brooder Stoves, Peat Moss, Draft Shields, Feeders, Waterers and Gland-O-Lac and Dr. Salisbury remedies. Feeds for all ages of chickens and Oyster Shell, Concentrates and Scratch Feeds.

Protein Feeds

There is still a heavy demand for all protein feeds and the price remains high. It looks as if prices on proteins would be high for some time to come. We can supply you with Tankage, Soy Bean Pellets, Oil Meal and Molasses feeds. Let us supply you with whatever you need in commercial feeds or proteins.

Grains

The grain market for the past week has been pretty rough and grain is lower. See us when you are in the market for grain.

Spartan Barley

We have some very good Spartan barley on hand. This barley is good enough for seed. If you will need seed this year get some of this Spartan while it is available. Western seed is going to be hard to get.

—Robert Emil, an 8 lb. boy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rutar of Elvira, Thursday, Feb. 3. Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris were in attendance.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke and family were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lenz Sunday.

—Dog Hill of Kearney spent the weekend in Ord visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hill.

—Wilma Jean Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Richardson, Route No. 1, has just been elected to membership in the C. E. C. Glee Club, a student vocal organization on the campus of the Chillicothe Business College, Chillicothe, Mo., where Wilma is a secretarial student.

—Mary Lou Beran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Beran of Ord recently was appointed associate editor of the Cornhusker Countryman, student magazine publication for the College of Agriculture at the University of Nebraska. Miss Beran, a sophomore, was appointed by the Ag publications board for a one-year term.

—Ramona and Rosemarie Sevensen have been staying with their grandmother, Mrs. Frank Sevensen sr., the past three weeks while attending school due to the bad weather conditions.

—Arlene and Maxine Wolfe came to Ord Friday evening to spend the weekend and attend the Biemond-Davis wedding. They brought as their guest Marilyn Hildebrandt of Lincoln.

—Mrs. F. A. Barta was a Thursday evening caller at the home of Mrs. Ella Weckbach.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogeltanz drove to Wahoo Sunday where they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Polak. Sunday accompanied by her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bendz, they drove to Omaha where they attended "Show Boat." They then drove to Stanton to visit their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornwell, who took over their new paper, The Stanton Register, this week. They found the Cornwells nicely located in a beautiful home there and enthusiastic about their new venture.

—Dr. H. N. Norris, Osteopath, 32-1fc

—Mr. and Mrs. George Lint and Barbara Ann spent the weekend at Chapman visiting Mr. and Mrs. Don Coats and Karen.

—Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Lukesh, Mrs. Mary Hawkins, and Virgil Roth of Grand Island visited at the home of Mrs. Helen Kokes and family Sunday.

—Betty Joe Veleba was an overnight guest Saturday night of Wilma Lou Zablouddi at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lint.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stan Johnson of North Loup visited in Ord at the Verlin Smith home Sunday. The two families also drove to Burwell where they visited.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jablonski of Burwell were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jablonski Sunday.

—Friday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Dworak and Bob were F. J. Dworak, Hattie Johnson, and Lester Kizer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ted Setlik, Mr. and Mrs. Lunir Vodehnal and Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Krizac and Gary, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zedina and Adrian Setlik were Thursday evening guests at the Martin Knopik home.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Waite jr. of Bainbridge, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smoyer, Joan of Allentown, Pa., and Audrey Swanson of Loup City were Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lewis.

—Keith Struckman of Milford spent the weekend visiting his mother Mrs. Myrtle Struckman.

—Dolores Lonowski of Lincoln spent the weekend in Ord visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lonowski.

—The Quiz acknowledges a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Neil Peterson, now located at St. Joseph, Mo., Box 264, c/o Diamond Engineering Co. Mr. Peterson is working in Kansas and Missouri at present.

—Dr. H. N. Norris, Osteopath, 32-1fc

—W. C. Pickett, formerly mail carrier here on route 3, writes from Beulah, Mich. asking for the last two copies of the Quiz, as he wants to know just how bad the snow is around Ord. He says they have had very little snow to date, although they usually have about three feet by this time.

—The Arctic Boyce family, living on RFD No. 1 southwest of North Loup says they have never missed a copy of the Quiz all winter, although the paper has been late sometimes. Their mail carrier, C. J. Goodrich, has been doing his best to give them service, but has not been able to cover all of his route any time since Nov. 18. The Boyces have bought a farm in Sherman county and their address will be Loup City after March 1.

—Writing from Twin Falls, Ida, Mrs. Victor McBeth announces that at 10:30 a. m. on Jan. 29, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stafford of Kimberley, Ida., Jan. 29, 1919, Mrs. Stafford will be remembered as Corinne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McBeth. The McBeths lived in Ord for a number of years.

—Writing from Arcadia, Will Stanton says that his Quiz be sent to him at 221 West 3 St., Hastings, Nebr., until further notice.

—Nels D. Bossen writes from Grand Island stating that their mail route has been changed from No. 1 to No. 2.

—Dr. W. R. Nay is in Ord on Tuesdays and Fridays at office of Dr. Zeta Nay.

—Writing from San Diego, Calif., Oscar Nay sends the Quiz a number of snow pictures taken in that area, some of which look almost as bad as those taken here in Nebraska. One shows two fellows digging their car out of what looks like three feet of snow, and all they have is a round nose dirt shovel. It would be interesting to know how many snow shovels there were in San Diego when the storm hit.

—Writing to renew their subscription, Mrs. Vencil Bouda, 2802 Manderson St., Omaha, says that they did not send their renewal as promptly as they wished to because they could not get down town on account of the terribly icy streets.

—Writing from 400 East Olive, Lamar, Colo., to renew her subscription, Mrs. Esther Bowen Sterrett say she wonders if we are having as bad snows as western Nebraska is having. The story in last week's Quiz should convince her. She says it has been very cold in south-eastern Colorado, but they have not had much snow hardly enough to furnish needed moisture. She would like some of her old friends to write.

—It does not seem so long ago that the Union Pacific had a train, and later, a motor, that stayed in Ord over night, and it was John P. Klein's job to service the train and get it ready for the next day's trip. John and Mrs. Klein left Ord several years ago and are now living at 1029 Pueblo Ave., Napa, Calif., where the quiz reaches them each week.

—Mrs. Russell Williams, former resident, now gets her Quiz at 4307 South 22 St., Omaha, Nebr.

—John Kiment, who formerly farmed here, is now living at Howells, Nebr., at which place he gets his Quiz regularly.

—Lyle Abney, now of Ewing, Neb., sends in his renewal for the Quiz. He was a well known stockman while living in Valley county.

—Guests at the Verlin Smith home Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benda, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harvey and Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Scott.

—Keith, Virginia, Carol and Rollin Struckman were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Myrtle Cochran and Wilma.

—Mrs. Helen Kokes and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Dorothy Nevrlka and Donnie.

—Alfred Burson and Gloria Dawn were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Geweke Sunday evening.

—George Kirby, who lives on RFD 2, not far from Dist. 42 school house, was in Ord Saturday, the first time he could get his car out to the highway in over a month. He tried it a few days earlier by pulling the car with a team and wagon, but tipped the wagon over and had to give it up. A number of people living in the hills off the highway between Ord and North Loup have been leaving their cars out along the highway and walking or using a team or tractor to get out to where the car is.

—The Quiz is in receipt of a renewal from Paul Mortensen of Cotesfield. He was formerly a rural carrier out of Cotesfield, but is now retired, which gives him more time for his hobby of collecting Indian relics.

—Another letter of renewal comes from Carl F. Sorensen, once of Ord, but now of 1529 W. Byers St., Denver, Colo.

—Emil Hudinsky, who at one time lived in Eureka township, but who gets his mail out of Sargent, always likes to get the Quiz and has sent in his renewal for another year.

How the Other Half is Living

Two old time residents of Scotia died recently. Mrs. Lucy Wegner, 79, died at Fort Collins, Colo., and was brought back for burial in the Fish Creek Evangelical U. B. church. —Albert Daudt died and was buried at Klamath Falls, Ore. He was 57 years old.

Burton Pulliam of Sargent had an upset with a truckload of hogs he was hauling to market in Omaha, Sunday, Jan. 23. Ten of the hogs, which belonged to Roy Chaffin of Sargent, were killed but Mr. Pulliam escaped without injury.

Apparently Henry Jensen has made good at his job of superintendent of the Scotia schools, as the board there re-elected him at their meeting held last week. This is his first year at Scotia, having come there from McCool Junction.

Charles Potter accidentally shot himself in the leg Tuesday of last week while hunting near his home southeast of Kearney. The charge from the 410 gauge gun entered his leg above the knee, and an operation was performed to remove the shot. He will suffer no permanent injury.

The Boys' and Girls' county government day, sponsored by the Greeley American legion, had to be postponed on account of the storms. The postponement is definite but the sponsors plan to hold the session some time before the close of the school year.

Margie Brannen, six-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brannen, Jr., of Greeley, had a narrow escape when a candle tipped over, setting fire to her hair. She immediately rolled over and over on the floor and beat out the blaze with her hands, escaping with only minor burns.

Mrs. Marie Carstenson of Genoa observed her hundredth birthday Sunday, Jan. 23. Her husband, Anders Carstenson, died 63 years ago. She came to this country in 1881 from Denmark. Open house was held in her honor Sunday at the Genoa Lutheran church.

Mrs. Henry Goering of Cushing had the unpleasant experience of being locked in her hen house on a cold day recently. She could not unlock the door and had to wait until her husband came back from town and heard her before she could get out.

—Where would you look to see if someone had found your lost livestock? In the QUIZ want ads of course.

No Socialism, Please

President Truman has come out with two propositions which should be voted down by all legislators who have our American way of life at heart. These are a plan for federal aid to education and the move towards socialized medicine through compulsory health insurance.

On the surface both proposals may seem to have merit. For example, it seems reasonable to argue that, since the people are taxed already about all they are able to pay for education, the federal government should help out on the educational program.

Proponents of the plan lost sight of one all-important factor, and that is that the federal government is composed of exactly the same people that the various state governments are, and that the expense of education, or any other governmental expense, must come from the people themselves.

The idea might not be so bad if any good could accrue to the people of Nebraska. The fact proven by actual figures is that under the proposed plan, more money would go out of Nebraska to the federal government than would come back to it in the form of federal aid for schools.

Since it is a patent fact that the taxpayer must pay all the expense of government, whether he be governed from Lincoln or from Washington, any sensible man must agree that we can get better and more direct results by dealing with the home folks, instead of depending upon government from long range.

This is just as true when we consider the school problem by comparing the county and the state. We know we can get immediate action in the county from an official who keeps in close touch with all the districts in the county. The county should come before the state, and the state before the nation.

No bill authorizing the payment of federal funds to aid the schools of the state would be developed without demanding some authority in the running of the schools. Today our educational system is about the only function of government that is not dominated by a federal agency. Now the federal government seeks to dominate the field of education.

We have faith in the representation of our state at Washington. We believe they have the best interests of the state at heart. We feel certain that they will not be misled by clever presentations of a strong central government and stronger by federalizing our school system, in whole or in part. Some federal participation in some lines of government is necessary, but our school system does not come in that category.

There is no room in our democratic government for socialized medicine. The doctors of the state should run their own business, the same as the grocer, the druggist, the service station man or any other private enterprise. Every government control means another bureau. The Hoover commission suggests getting rid of a lot of the bureaus we have now. All we Nebraskans need is the right to run our own business.

Something for Nothing.

The desire to get something for nothing has been inherent in the human race since the beginning of time. It might be called the spirit of gambling, of taking a chance. Nobody who takes a chance expects to lose. He hopes to win, or he would not take the chance. It is true that many people do get something for nothing.

We hear of these people who get something for nothing, so we take a chance ourselves. We figure that we should be able to do what anybody else can do, so we take a chance—and lose. The gambler by nature does not quit because he loses once. He simply keeps on until he loses everything he possesses.

Now it stands to reason that nobody can give something for nothing and remain in business. He would soon run out of anything to give. In order to keep on giving he must have a continual source of supply. He must have some sort of magic purse, so that every time he takes a dollar out of it, another dollar takes its place.

Too many of us have gotten something for nothing in one way or another from the government. It all started back some 17 years ago when the depression hit us. We began to get something for nothing then, and we have been getting something for nothing ever since. But we must not forget that somebody is paying for what we get.

Since there is only one source of revenue for all these payments in various forms given out by the government, the money spent must come from that source. The American taxpayer is the fellow who has to dig up the money the government spends, or gives away. A certain part of every dollar of tax is taken for these government donations.

Price supports, for example, means that the government gives you a better price for produce and then makes you give it back in higher taxes. Why should we fool ourselves. It is simply putting money into one pocket and taking it out of the other. The government COINS money, but it does not MAKE money. We are simply paying the government to play Santa Claus for us.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

Busy Making Skirts.
(by Mickey Mason)

The sewing machines in the Home Ec. room are really buzzing this week. The third period Homemaking girls are busy making wool skirts. Some are red, brown, pink and others black, and green.

Three Franzen, Charlene Severns and Dorothy Parkos are ahead in the class and Patty Brown and Joycelyn Bennett, Darlene Kokes, Agnes Cernik and Ruth Hayes are runners up.

Good Experience.

Eight of the freshman Homemaking girls served the Rotary and their wives at a banquet last week. The girls were: Mary Beth Chatfield, Karen Burrows, Maxine Mason, Roberta Johns, Gladys Rice, Carol Struckman, Betty Blaha and Ina Fas Jorgensen. They wore the aprons which they made in class. They found that there were many things to learn in serving banquets, such as:

1. Serve all food, and remove all dishes from the left, except the beverage.
 2. Try to anticipate the needs of the guests.
 3. Never stack dishes in front of a person.

++ Something Different ++

Are you helping the March of Dimes? Have you forgotten the heavy incidence of polio last year? If someone in your family comes down with this crippling which needs such expensive treatment, believe me you'll wish you'd reminded yourself, and others, about those dimes!

Like the snowbound farmer who tramped a mile into Ord to bring his dollar for B. Christman's seals. Said he to the chairman: "I meant all the time to get this money to you, though I hope none of it will ever have to be spent on me or mine. But you never know: I never thought of any of the polio money being spent on my family when I gave my dime last year!" (At the time he was speaking he had a child ill with polio.)

Betty Hansen of Burwell, a little school teacher who has a school just over the line in Rock county, is feeling so bereft because she has not been able to get to her school since Dec. 22! Snow and snow and more snow piles up to keep her from that schoolhouse door.

Wailed Betty to Miss McClatchey recently: "Why, my little Christmas tree is still standing in one corner of the schoolroom and the children haven't opened their presents yet! Just think of that! Those packages under that tree."

Speaking of snow, and I suppose you've been speaking of it, haven't you? . . . they say many peoples in many parts of the world never discuss the weather.

I still think they would have talked about our snow.

Today there's blue sky, almost enough to cheer for a very small Dutchman. I'm afraid to mention it for fear it will go away. S-sh!

Last week the snow obsessed me. The big, flaky feathery bits, floating thickly. The fine, stinging white that blew furiously around corners and ledges of roofs. The landscape, so full of whiteness.

The big, piled-up drifts. The little drifts, (or were there any?) The deep cover of white that topped all the roofs, shaped lumps of white. The rough, the snow had been scooped and shoveled and piled up to get dirty, and then covered with more snow, then scooped . . . repeat from first comma. Repeat. Repeat.

The enormous clouds of snow, thrown by the wind equipment. The chopped-off snow banks, where the rotary plows sliced through snow and left a white-cake margin.

The ice, showing through snow here and there, dirty and so treacherous. The fine snow sifting constantly back down over walks that had been clean a short time ago.

The trees, so beautiful with heavy frostings of snow: then the crack, as bits of icy snow snapped off and fell to the snow below. The queer buckshot appearance of the drifts as this snow from the trees punctured the white snow ground blankets.

Dozens of cars pulling heavily as they puffed up to the snow-enclosed school house to wait for their own small unrecognizable bundles to waddle out through the drifts and the ever-blowing snow. In the cars sat bundled-up fathers, head-tied-up-mothers, waiting to take little students home in safety.

The roar and whirl of clattering chains, as cars worked by pulling them. The sound of straining car motors that could not budge stalled cars, as the engines and tires alternately rested and "rocked her once more." The clatter of the busy wreckers going past to start another frozen-up car.

The kids out of school because of too much snow, pent up in houses that have bored them more and more since about New Year's. Being snowed in just doesn't agree with children, at least when they're lively-size.

and the houses, and the long-suffering Golly, the overshoes, the wet mittens, the clutter . . . THE SNOW! —Irma.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

Personally I never did see any sense in having Kansas City mostly in another state. Missouri. Seems like they should have called it Missouri City, at least, that part that lies in Missouri. Now Iowa City is in Iowa, Nebraska City is in Nebraska, Oklahoma City is in Oklahoma, Oregon City is in Oregon, Tennessee City is in Tennessee, Texas City is in Texas, Alabama City is in Alabama, Arkansas City is in Arkansas, Delaware City is in Delaware, Florida City is in Florida, Idaho City is in Idaho, and that's the way it goes. But what is Kansas City doing in Missouri, or Virginia City doing in Nevada?

Anyway, I got to thinking that it might be worth while to have a look at Missouri and see just what the state has to offer. The result of my investigation is interesting. You have some choice in drinks, either Coffee or Cold Water. There are such foreign capitals as Amsterdam, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Paris and Vienna. Such foreign countries as Cuba, Hayti, Holland, Mexico and Panama. Several other states, including California, Louisiana, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Florida. There are quite a few odd names like Arnica, Cooter, Kidder, Novelty, Peculiar, Protein, Sue City, Agency, Bliss, Neck, Prosperity, Sleeper, Speed and Useful. Then there are Braggadocio, Chilwee, Florissant, Herculeaneum, Knobnoster, Koshkonong, and Tallapoosa.

A lot of towns bear men's names, among which are: Adrian, Aldrich, Archie, Bernie, Bolivar, Clark, Clinton, Clyde, Dudley, Eldon, Elmer, Eugene, Festus, Franklin, Gerald, Jasper, Jerome, Leonard, Leslie, Logan, Marshall, Noel, Rolla, Roscoe, Tracy, Wallace, Warren, Wayne and Willard. There are not as many women's names, but here they are: Alma, Ava, Belle, Bethel, Cora, Daisy, Dora, Emma, Esther, Ethel, Jane, Maud, Maurine, Myrtle, Naomi, Olive, Rea, Stella and Victoria.

There are also a lot of men's and women's names that have a village, a city, a town or some other suffix tacked onto them, such as Jamesport and Johnstown, for example. The state where they have to be shown is interesting, to say the least.

It is easy to tell what parts of the state are hit by the blizzard by scanning the columns of the papers the Quiz gets in exchange. Some of these, located in areas where the snow is supposed to be deep and the situation serious, are running their front page about as usual, with little to indicate that the farmers are snowed in or the stock suffering for want of feed. On the inside pages of some will be found the usual number of farm sales advertised. This is not true of the papers from north, northwest and northeast of Ord, where farm sale ads are few and far between. For example, the Pierce County Leader, has quite a spread on the front page telling about emergency operations. Also on the front page is given a list of two farm sales postponed indefinitely and half a dozen with the dates, all of which are Feb. 13 or later. No doubt a number of these will also be postponed.

Speaking of the blizzards (and who isn't?), W. H. Plourd of the Nance County Journal has this to say: "One inconvenience we are glad we don't have during this rugged Nebraska winter is daylight saving time. That always reminded us of the Indian who cut off the top of his blanket and sewed it on the bottom to keep his feet warmer."

"While it isn't happening to any alarming extent, the price of food is dropping. It drops a little more, we may expect to hear of some union striking for a cut in wages. When that happens, this column will keep you informed."

Now that we know what a real winter is, perhaps the blizzard of '38 wasn't so much. It sure couldn't stand up against what we have been having the past few months, especially since the first of the year. But at that, the 1888 storm managed to hang onto the championship for 61 years, which beats the record of Joe Louis Barrow by quite a bit.

And, speaking of Governor Peterson's road building plan, it is going to cost a lot more this month just to find the roads than it will cost to repair and rebuild them the rest of the year.

The man who wrote "Life Begins at Forty" no doubt thought that was a good time to really get going. The fact is, life can begin at any time. It all depends on the attitude and outlook of the person concerned, the person who is already 40 years of age. The author had to set some time, but he could just as well have said 65 in the case of a lot of people. I have in mind a number of people, some now removed from the scene through the passage of time, others still hopping around with one foot in the grave, who did have, or are having quite a time for themselves at a time when most of the fellows who started out with them had given up the ghost and had fallen by the wayside.

Too many men gauge their lives by the lives of other men. Remember that there has never been a man in the world just like you, and there will never be another one just like you. For this reason you cannot direct your life along the lines laid down by other men. All the regimenting man can do cannot make men alike. The great difference is that man is endowed with his creator with an immortal soul. A man should follow the promptings of his soul. If he wills it so, he will leave this world in the course of human events, but he will never grow old.

The principal reason one should continue to live and to live largely is the fact that a man has a chance of living longer, and will most certainly live happier, if he keeps up his interest in people and things around him. I have in mind a man now past 90 years of age. It is a pleasure to meet him. He has always a pleasant smile and a word of cheer, and he will never grow old. Our motto should be: "Live like you expect to live forever, but be ready to die in a minute."

Lastly: Five Welsh towns are competing for the honor of being the capital of Wales. They are Cardiff, Caernarvan, Wrexham, Aberystwyth and Machynlleth. Personally we favor Cardiff, which is the only name easy to spell or pronounce, or that would sound good over the radio.

P. S. In case you haven't heard how Mayor Blessing happened to get his nose frosted, it was all Rich Rowbal's fault. Last week Rich put a shower in his window with a woman inside taking a shower. Rich claims that Doc came over and stood there so long admiring the scenery that he frosted his nose. We only have Rowbal's word for it, but the Mayor would deny it anyway.

and here's what's in it!

PRINTED here are current prices on Buick cars—delivered locally—complete and ready to run.

We invite you to compare them, dollar for dollar—with particular eye to what the price includes.

Every Buick price here includes such present-day "musts" as an underseat heater, a fine-toned radio, back-up lights built into the car rather than hung on the bumper, windshield washers installed at the factory.

ROADMASTER prices include Dynaflo Drive, that super-smooth transmission available only on Buicks.

Every price includes super-soft tires—plus the extra comfort of the widest rims in the industry. Every price includes Fireball valve-in-head power—plus new self-setting valve lifters.

So your dollars buy a matchless combination of ride and room and performance, of style—and size—and stepped-up visibility. And you get the four-square deal described in the panel.

So go ahead and shop the cars. Check the prices. Check what's in them. Check the deal you get. You'll end up at a Buick dealer, getting your order in!

Happy Hollow Aid.

The Happy Hollow Aid held a pink and blue shower for Mrs. Thomas White at the home of Mrs. Keith Luedtke on January 25. Secret Sister exchange and election of officers was held and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Wm. Leininger; vice president, Mrs. Wayne White; secretary, Mrs. Keith Luedtke; treasurer, Mrs. Mary McDonald. Twelve members were present and Mrs. Frank White was a guest. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, and the next meeting will be at Mrs. Paul Woody's.

Shower.

Valentines was the theme of the decorations, games and favors at a pink and blue shower given in honor of Mrs. C. W. Buehler Monday afternoon in the Methodist church basement. About eighty-eight ladies served as hostesses to about 60 guests.

Up-To-Date Club Meets.

The Up-To-Date club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harold Weddel with Mrs. Ramsey in charge of the lesson on "books." Roll call was answered with the title of the book they most enjoyed reading in 1948. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Carl Easterbrook gave a book review on the "Big Fisherman" by Lily G. Douglas. Mrs. Rounds told of her experience in the lastizzard when the bus was stalled. Members were given the list of names to solicit for the March of Dimes Infantile Paralysis drive. The club is sponsoring the house to house canvass for contributions to this fund.

Dr. and Mrs. Christ spent Thursday in Grand Island. Mr. and Mrs. Orin Kingston and family spent Saturday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kingston.

Waffle Party.

Last Wednesday evening a group of 35 adults met in the Methodist church basement for an evening of fellowship and recreation. After a snack of waffles and "ground hog" plans were made for another such meeting in March. A fun committee was appointed and 4 men volunteered (?) to serve the refreshments. The hosts and hostesses were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Buehler, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Easterbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Dwan Williams.

Funeral for C. E. Johnson.

The funeral services for Carl E. Johnson were held Monday, Feb. 7, 1949 at 2 p. m. in the Congregational church of Arcadia, with the Rev. S. E. Oakes officiating.

Carl Johnson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson, was born in Stockholm, Sweden, on October 1, 1889 and died on Feb. 3, 1949 at the age of 67 years, 4 months, 3 days. He went to be with his Lord and Saviour.

He came to the United States with his parents in the year of 1889 and located near Albion, Neb. In the year of 1903 he moved to Sherman County and made it his home until his death. The last five years he has made his residence in Loup City.

In the year of 1923 he married Miss Hattie Freeman and to this union was born a child who died in infancy.

He was a member of the Congregational church at Arcadia, and belonged to the Guage Lodge No. 208 of Free Masons. He was also a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows Lodge 174.

He was a faithful loving husband and a loyal friend. He leaves to mourn his passing his wife, Mrs. Hattie Johnson, one sister, Mrs. John Jewell, four nieces, Mrs. Ann Cone of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Elsie Myers of Arcadia, Mrs. Vera Snodgrass of Grand Island and Mrs. Ruby Littleham of San Mateo, Calif. He was preceded in death by his father and mother and one sister, Mrs. Judith Hagey.

Burial was in the family plot in the Arcadia cemetery. The Hastings-Pearson mortuary had charge of arrangements. Masonic rites were conducted at the grave by his home lodge. Pall bearers were, M. D. Weddel, Arnold Tuning, Percy Doe, Wm. Kingston, Dwan Williams and Anders Anderson.

A daughter, Laura Lavonne, born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koker Thursday, Feb. 3 at the hospital in Loup City.

Rebekahs Install Officers.

On Wednesday evening the following officers were installed in the Rebekah lodge: Noble grand, Lenora Carmody, vice grand, Belle Welty; secretary, Nellie Beans; treasurer, Ina Woody; P.N.G., Lydia Luedtke. Evelyn White acted as installing officer.

At a recent official board meeting of the Methodist church a committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of securing an electric organ for the sanctuary. Such an instrument, it was felt, would be a great cultural asset to the whole community as well as an aid to worship in the church. The committee states that if sufficient interest is shown it might be possible to have a suitable organ installed by Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burson and the twins of Ord enjoyed a waffle supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wester Jones and family.

Mrs. Kinsey was hostess at a 1:00 o'clock luncheon on Thursday.

Mrs. Inez Lewin is hostess to her bridge club on Thursday of this week.

Mrs. Amos Hunt returned to her home in Ord after spending several weeks at the home of her daughter Mrs. Asa Hodson.

Dawn Bellingor of Kearney spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bellingor. Allen was also home from college over the weekend.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Hawley were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Lutz and Jimmie and Mr. Nagel and Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Moody and Barbara Mason went to Hastings on Saturday to visit Gene Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Drake entertained Mr. and Mrs. Downing Rounds, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Kingston and children, Delvan Kingston, Earl Drake and Darrell for an oyster stew Tuesday evening in honor of Linda Ann Kingston's fifth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Zivink were Sunday dinner guests at the Ray Lutz home.

Mrs. Art Armstrong was hostess on Wednesday afternoon to a group of ladies who came in to help her quilt. After the quilting party the hostess served lunch.

G. A. Lutz slipped and fell on the ice last week and upon examination by the doctor he was found to have two broken ribs. He is confined to his home.

Miss Orene Lutz came from Grand Island Saturday night and will remain at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lutz until her father recovers somewhat from his recent fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lueck were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Lutz and Bobby were Sunday dinner guests at the G. A. Lutz home.

Ed Gray spent from Friday until Sunday in Greeley on business.

Mrs. Amie Carmody is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Bray.

Mrs. Walter Anderson spent several days last week with her mother in Ord.

Sunday guests at the Benson home were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Coakley.

Mrs. Delbert Drake and Mrs. D. O. Hawley were the hostesses Thursday when the Congregational aid met at the church for their regular meeting. January and February birthdays were honored and 1948 secret pals were revealed.

Lt. Morris Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kingston has been stationed in Panama since November and he writes that the temperature there is so much the opposite of what we have been having. Everything is green, the trees and shrubbery is especially beautiful, the fishing is good, and since this is the "dry" season, it only rains every other day. He sent home a bunch of pictures which he had taken, showing the scenery and houses, etc. The houses are practically all made of grass.

Rita Mae Coakley spent several days last week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benson.

5th Army bulldozers entered the township roads in the Arcadia vicinity Saturday evening and have worked 24 hours a day since, first opening the mail routes and then the other roads. Farmers who have a written order can get roads opened to haystacks and driveways opened. In many places the dozers had to leave the road and open up traveling space through fields because the drifts on the roads were too hard and icy. The dozers were a welcome sight to hundreds of families, many of whom hadn't been able to get out except with a team for weeks.

Sunday noon Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Easterbrook and Janice, Lena Hollingshead, Mrs. O'Connor, and Mrs. Edith Bossen had dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruickshank. The Sunday before the same group took their dinners to the home of Mrs. Bossen who has been confined to her home with a broken arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McDonald and Mrs. Belle Welty spent Wednesday at the Louie Drake home.

Louis Alvin Smith Buried at Arcadia

Louis Alvin Smith was born at Ashland, Nebr., on July 29, 1881, and died Jan. 27, 1949. He was the son of Osborn L. and Leah J. Smith. In 1907 on the 2nd of April he was married to Nina Bell Waite at Fremont, Nebr. They came to Arcadia in the year 1908 and have lived here ever since, except for four years which they spent in Ord, Nebr. They were born three children, Earnest, Irene and Lola. He was preceded in death by his daughter Irene, his father and mother and one brother. He is survived by his wife, Nina, one son, Earnest of Kearney and daughter Lena Spencer of Arcadia, four grandchildren, Virginia and Janice Smith of Kearney and Joyce and Robert Spencer of Arcadia, and two brothers Forrest of Grand Island and Chauncey of Wood River.

He was a member of the Arcadia Odd Fellows and Rebecca Lodges.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Methodist church in charge of Rev. C. W. Buehler. Pall bearers were, Jess Marvel, Ben Mason, Clarence Marsh, Leo Murray, O'Neil Wood, Herold Brandenburg. Music was furnished by Ruth Masters and Rae Jean Gogen, with Mrs. Ben Mason as pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bly and Marlene McDonald were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lybarger and Jerry.

Supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bly on Wednesday evening were Mrs. Welty and Doris, Paul Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McDonald and family.

Thurs. Lutz met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Brandenburg with Mrs. Jeffery as hostess.

Mrs. Ray Waterbury and Junior spent Sunday at the home of her sister Mrs. Bert Heany in Lincoln. Another sister Mrs. and Mr. Ralph Baker and family of Theodor were also there.

Lee Park aid held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ray Waterbury on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dean drove to Grand Island Sunday to visit Mr. Mettenbrink's father.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Alleman and Mrs. Fannie Alleman spent Sunday with Mrs. Alleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller in Loup City.

Dean Woody was honored at an all-high school convocation last Thursday at which time he was presented with a football sweater, a gift from the students.

The high school seniors are looking for the class rings any day now, they watch each mail.

On Thursday noon at the Congregational church the members and friends of the two local Farmers Unions had an oyster stew. The delegates to the state convention were chosen at this time.

Christian Science Services "Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Feb. 13, 1949.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul" (Psalm 23:1-3). Other Bible citations include: "Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit" (Psalm 51:12).

AROUND THE STATE

The weather, as to be expected, was bad in Lincoln last week but nevertheless there were a lot of county fair representatives on deck for their annual gatherings. They discussed a lot of mutual problems for three days — and reported that most of their exhibitions in 1948 were financially successful. Bigger fairs are planned for 1949.

It was good to see such folks as Ed Bauman of West Point, Lowell Sarnes of Lexington, Fred Rehmeier of Weeping Water, Fred Knobel of Odessa, L. Watson of Humboldt, Monty Kiffen of Lexington and others at the meetings. They're the kind of folks who make the wheels go round at the county fair.

Among other things, many of the fair folks would like to see their fairgrounds improved in the future. If money were available a lot of the fair managers would like to see trees planted, buildings painted up and other improvements made. Certainly many of them could pattern their physical layouts after the fine fairgrounds at West Point where the Cuming county fair is held. There is plenty of shade, parking space and comfortable quarters on the grounds there. We always look forward to a visit to this fine fair with its great agricultural exhibits.

Writing about county fairs reminds us there are big events for the 4-H club boys and girls. A lot of kids join 4-H clubs, for example, just to get a chance to compete with their products at the fairs. That was probably true in our own case — a few years back. The kid brother and myself used to show Spotted Poland Chinas at the Valley County Fair at Ord. We worked like the dickens in getting the sow and litter ready for the show. From the garage in town, we "borrowed" crankcase oil which we used in shining up the sow for the exhibition.

Hats off to those four Nebraska delegates to the National 4-H Club camp to be held in Washington, D. C. in June. Norman Jorgensen of Fremont, Pat Halon of Morrill, Jo Ann Skucius of Chester and Clayton Yuetter of Eustis will do a good job of representing the Cornhusker state. The big annual Feeders' Day here at the College of Agriculture is scheduled for Friday, April 22. Put a red circle around that date on your calendar and don't miss the event.

Last week also brought a lot of good country folks to the University for their annual 4-H leader training institute. Despite the weather, they came from all parts of the state. These are the folks who really help to make 4-H clubs click. They give of their time and efforts and money to see that 4-H clubs are organized in their home communities.

New bulletin out on use of artificial lights for laying hens. Save lights should be used preferably in October to March. Birds should have a day of 13 hours in length. Your county agent has free copies of the bulletin. Big Danco hog show at Fremont on February 9 according to our good friend, Bill Waldo of DeWitt.

Interesting to note that the North Carolina corn champion in 1948 produced 118.28 bushels of corn to the acre. Compare rather favorably with the 159.6 mark set in Nebraska. Didn't know they grew such high yields in the southern state.

CHAMPLIN HI-V-I FLOWS FREELY IN FEBRUARY

RELY ON HI-V-I WINTER AND SUMMER

Free-flowing HI-V-I's Twin-Action results in double protection for motors. It gives "snap" starts on cold mornings with instant lubrication. . . it cleans your motor of sludge, gum and other corrosion, as efficiently as it lubricates! Cold morning starts are a cinch with HI-V-I in your motor. . . try it and see why so many motorists prefer this oil that flows freely in sub-zero weather.

Doctor Writes.
Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill wrote friends from Eugene, Ore., where they are spending the winter, that it has been cold enough that the water pipes in the house where they are living had frozen. Dr. Paul Hemphill is in a Portland hospital where he had submitted to an appendectomy and Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Hemphill are now staying in their home with Mrs. Paul Hemphill's mother.

In New Home.
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Tucker moved recently to their new home which they have been building just north of the A. L. Willoughby residence. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker have had many difficulties in completing their house, main part of which was an army surplus house, bought at Hastings, and brought here knocked down. Much of the work they have done themselves, and the weather has not been all that they have had to contend with. The house is not quite complete inside, but they plan to finish it as they can. They have been living in rooms at Mrs. Ora Bohrs' building.

We can show you some very good homes, modern in every way and priced right. So if you are selling out and going to quit farming, come here and see what you really receive for your money. We have some wonderful acreage deals that will surprise you, some farms we can give possession March 1st. Come in and let us talk it over.

Waller - Shaffer
Mrs. Myrna Waller and Reuben Shaffer were married Sunday morning at 9:30 at the Methodist church in Burwell. Rev. Hindman, pastor of the church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bleach of Burwell were the only attendants. The bride wore navy blue, with red accessories and had a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Bleach was dressed in black and the men wore brown. Mrs. Shaffer has been working in the North Loup Farmer's store the past year. Her husband has lived in the Taylor community and at present has a ranch at Riverton, Wyo., where the couple will live. They left the first of the week for Riverton, and plan to return here in about a month for a few days.

Mrs. Bates Copeland suffered first degree burns to her face and had her hair badly singed Saturday evening when the oil heater in the Copeland home exploded in her face. Prompt first aid by Mr. Copeland and Floyd Reddon who were working in the barber shop next door prevented more serious injury to Mrs. Copeland.

A checker game Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burrows included George Clement, Harry Foth, Henry Lange, LaVerne Burrows and George Brenner. Mrs. Clement and Mrs. Foth accompanied their husbands. Monday, Ed and LaVerne Burrows and Harry Foth went to Grand Island to attend the state checker tournament.

Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Arnold were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burrows, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Skellin and Mr. and Mrs. James Hrebec, jr. and Mr. and Mrs. George Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Manchester and daughter of Grand Island and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mulligan and Larry were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lulu Manchester.

Miss Myrtle Mulligan of Grand Island was a week end guest of her sister, Mrs. Hugh Clement. Mrs. Lenore Nicholls of Taylor spent the week end in Ord and was in North Loup Sunday.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Meyers were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Meyers and Phyllis of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Knapp and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stine.

Kasson Improved.
H. D. Kasson, who was injured when a block of wood kicked off from a power saw which he was operating at the naval base in Kodiak, Alaska, has passed the crisis, according to word received Monday by Mrs. Kasson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Klingensmith. Mr. Kasson works as a carpenter and had been stationed at Kodiak. The block of wood struck him in the abdomen and treatment at the hospital in Kodiak did not help him, so on January 28, he and Mrs. Kasson were flown to Seattle, and he is in the naval hospital there. Last week doctors thought there was a little hope for him, but reports this week are more encouraging. The Kassons son, Gerald, did not come from Alaska with his parents, but is now in Seattle and their daughter, Virginia, is working in Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Max Klingensmith went to Hood River, Ore., last week because of the death of her mother, Mrs. Paul Gebauer, have gone on to Seattle.

Mrs. Roy Cox spent the week end in Ord with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Hecker.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. August Kriewald were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barnes and daughter, of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kriewald and son of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Beebe.

H. L. Klingensmith was a Monday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Fortis.

Wednesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vic King were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hall of Gilmore City, Ia. Mr. and Mrs. Hall have been visiting at Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic King and Mr. and Mrs. Elery King and families were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will King of Scotia.

Mrs. Harold Hoepner went to Grand Island Friday where she attended a shower given for her daughter, Mrs. Merrill Anderson on Sunday. Mr. Hoepner went down Saturday afternoon and both returned Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones who had been down for the day.

Mrs. Paul Jones was hostess to the Methodist W.S.C.S. Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Wm. Knapp assistant hostess. Mrs. Carroll Thomas had the lesson which was the introduction on mission in Hawaii.

Mrs. Devillo Fish and Darrell spent Tuesday evening in the John Edwards home.

Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal and Mrs. Mills Hill were hostesses to the Business Womens club Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Nolde have bought a farm near Sutton and plan to move there March 1st. Noldes came here from Sutton about ten years ago.

Roy, Erlo and George Cox and Ernest Hecker attended the Well Drillers convention in Lincoln from Wednesday till Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meyer were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bridge.

Charles Kasson stopped at the John Edwards home on Wednesday evening on his way home from Grand Island. Saturday Mrs. Edwards and Johnny Kasson accompanied Mr. Kasson to Grand Island to see Isabel Kasson, who is still in the St. Francis hospital following amputation of some of her fingers frozen on her way to school several weeks ago. Sunday Mr. Edwards, Eulalia and Bernadine went to Grand Island and all attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Moore. The girls also spent some time at the hospital with Isabel.

Why Keep Dosing Laundry Water?

Cure it for Good—
Have 100% Soft Water!

Hard water makes hard work!... particularly in laundering. Soap curds form when hard water and soap get together... soap curds that gray white shirts and linens, make pretty colors look dingy. So you blue, you bleach—and work harder and longer.

With pure soft water you actually use up to 70% less soap—need no bleaches or softening compounds. Your clothes and linens last about 25% longer! You save work, time and money. Actually make cash savings of over $100 a year!

Mrs. J. Ingerson Passes At North Loup Wednesday

Funeral At Methodist Church Saturday. She Had Many Descendants.

Addie May Myers was born Mar. 23, 1874, in Winshick, Iowa, the daughter of George W. and Elizabeth Myers. She went to be with her Saviour, February 2, 1949, at the age of 74 years, 10 months, 7 days.

She was united in marriage to James E. Ingerson, Nov. 13, 1895, Iowa. The union was born six children: Hazel May Barber, North Loup, Esther Beth King, Ord, Wilbur Jason Ingerson, Grand Island, Floyd William Ingerson, North Loup, Ruth Clive Cregar, Valentine, and Fred Fred Ingerson, North Loup. Besides her children she leaves 16 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren. All were a joy to her. She is also survived by a sister Mrs. Winifred Brace of Worthington, Minnesota. She was preceded in death by two brothers and three sisters.

Mrs. Ingerson gave her life to Christ at an early age—remaining a faithful worker in his earthly kingdom, her falling health prevented her from attending the church, but she worshipped in the means of her radio which was a spiritual inspiration and comfort. A great lover of flowers—her roses spoke the things in a silent way of the work she did to beautify her home for others. She was a very dear wife and mother. This great love she had shall live on in her family's hearts as a testimony. Three years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Ingerson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Let to mourn her passing is her husband, children, grandchildren, and a host of friends and neighbors.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ingerson were held at the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Carl F. Harbour giving the message. Richard Babcock sang three solos, "Dear to the Heart of God," "Abide With Me," and "The Lord's Prayer." Alice Meyers accompanied him at the piano. Mrs. Mills Hill and Misses Minnie and Clara Jensen looked after the many floral offerings. Pallbearers were A. M. Stillman, H. C. Sample, R. H. Knapp, Carroll Thomas, Paul White and Harold Fisher.

Hastings was in Hillsdale cemetery. Haskins and Pearson were in charge of funeral arrangements. Mrs. Ingerson had been in poor health for some time, but the past two weeks had been suffering with shingles and other complications. She passed away suddenly Wednesday morning at her home.

Here for the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Fuller and Mrs. Dora Mayxel of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Spalding and Mrs. Pearl Spalding, of Gresham, Ore. Michael and Edwin Mortenson, both of Grand Island.

The Nolo club met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lucretia Poets. The literature lesson on Lucy was in charge of Mrs. Mabel McClellan. The prayer by Mrs. Mabel McClellan on "The Development of Our Language," was read. Eleven members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Cook and son Ray left Tuesday for Richmond, Va. where his parents live. Ella Cook and Delores Williams were home from Kearney over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoss Williams and family came from Kearney Saturday evening for the day with Mrs. Henry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Severance and family were in for the day also but Henry Williams and the Melvin Williams family were unable to get in from the farm on Davis Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen and Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Tolen were Thursday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tolen, to celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen's wedding anniversary.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Comfort Cummins were Mr. and Mrs. Irl Tolen and Deanne of Broken Bow, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen and Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Tolen, Frank and Albert Seigel.

The Frank Seigel family called Mrs. Homer Willard, the former Dorothy Seigel, Sunday at her home in Buhl, Ida., to wish her a happy birthday. She said they were all well and it was snowing there.

A seven pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Barnhart Monday morning. The little lady arrived before Dr. Lewis or Mrs. Barnhart's grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Honeycutt, either one got there. Tuesday Mrs. Barnhart and baby were brought to Mrs. Honeycutt's home in town to be cared for. Mr. Barnhart had to report to the Veteran's office in Onaha for a physical checkup.

Dorothy Thorngate was home from Grand Island over the week end and Bus Thorngate was home from Kearney.

The first fifty years of Nebraska history saw only three major road laws developed. Section lines were declared roads in 1879; the state was directed to furnish plans for bridges at the request of the county in 1903; and the state and county worked jointly on certain bridges under law of 1911. In 1917, fifty years after Nebraska became a state, Nebraska qualified under the federal aid act, and the counties were responsible for roads built with federal and state funds.

However, the first highway law for the establishment of a state system was passed in 1919, now thirty years ago. A state system of 4,500 miles was established by the legislature, and the counties were required to set up county systems not to exceed 20% of the mileage in their jurisdiction. The state was required to pay the balance of the cost of the roads. Before that time roads within the counties with the exception of the federal and state aid roads were owned and controlled by the townships.

Registration fees were overhauled from the former flat rate of $5 per car to $10 for the lighter cars and even higher for the heavier cars. Additional increases were made for other types of vehicles, and the whole system became more complex in order to make adjustments for all kinds and classes of vehicles. In 1921 a state highway fund was created with money used for maintenance of state roads in each county. The following year the old system of having the state issue all auto licenses became too top heavy and supplanted by a system whereby these licenses were issued by each county. Douglas county alone has about as many autos as the entire state had at that time.

In 1925 it was realized that some form of taxation was necessary to raise funds for the maintenance of state highways and the first gasoline tax of 2c a gallon was levied to furnish revenue for construction and maintenance of state roads. At that time the principle that vehicles using the roads should be made a source of revenue to maintain those roads was established and it has been a part of basic road law ever since. The responsibility of each vehicle on the highway was recognized at that time, but the responsibility of the driver was not decided upon until four years later.

Twenty years ago, in 1929, the law was passed requiring a license for drivers for the first time and the license fee was set at 75c. Those first licenses were largely a matter of form and no special examination was required to obtain one. Their chief value, then as now, was the fact that a driver's license could be suspended or revoked in case of accident. In 1933 many people were unable to pay the rather high license fees for their cars, due to the depression, and the legislature passed a law materially reducing the fee. For the first time cities got a part of the gasoline tax money.

By virtue of a law passed in 1935, the state was required to maintain all roads built entirely or in part with federal funds. The gasoline tax was increased to 5c per gallon, with additional revenue going to the state assistance fund. In 1937 one of the most important acts relative to roads was passed when the state highway patrol was established. Such a law had been in use in states to the east, and the patrol law came to Nebraska as a natural result. The allocation of the gasoline tax revenue was revised at the sessions of 1939 and 1941. In 1947 the Schroder bill for the graveling of rural routes in Nebraska became a law, and has been tried out with more or less success since that time. It might be said here that the Schroder bill is up for revision or possible elimination at the present session of the unicameral. The one provision of the bill that has called for much criticism is that which designates just how much of each rural route is to be gravelled, and where the gravel is to be applied. The work must be done either on the first mile leading out or into the town where the route originates, with other miles added further out from year to year. The trouble is that, all too frequently those first miles are in good condition, while miles further from town need the gravel much worse.

Also in 1947 the one cent share of the gas tax that formerly went to the state assistance fund was to go to the counties for mail route graveling. While it has been shown that the state has taken a continuing interest for a number of years in the road building problem, the fact is that the federal government has taken the lead in this work and has been constantly spurring the state on to further action. To date more than one hundred million dollars of federal funds has been allocated to Nebraska roads and streets.

The Public Roads Administration has been the coordinating body in the construction of interstate highways, and through its influence has largely eliminated roads disputes between different states. In much the same way the state highway commission has acted as an arbiter in many cases where disputes between counties have arisen over the location and maintenance of highways. Such control has curbed waste and is today the foundation for efficient future development.

The federal board has laid down certain rules as to what each state must do to share in the federal aid program. A state must maintain a state highway department of high standards to administer the federal aid. It must maintain all roads on which federal monies are spent. It must classify mileage in eligible systems. It must agree to uniform standards of construction and design. It must meet inspection requirements before bills are paid. Must agree to no further diversion of road funds for other purposes after 1935. And it must match federal funds under mutually acceptable standards. (To Be Continued.)

Elyria

The card party held last Wednesday evening for the benefit of the polio fund was very well attended. We wish to express our appreciation to those who gave so generously toward making this drive a success. The high scores were held by Mrs. Chas. Clochon, Floyd Iwanski, Billy Radke and Edwin Zulkoski. A luncheon was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Irene Kapuska and Minnie Holoun. A sum of $36.02 was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wiegardt were Thursday evening callers at the Chas. Wozniak home. The mobile X-ray unit will not come to Elyria as it had been previously planned. Those of this community should take advantage of this free test at Ord, where the unit arrives on Feb. 17 and continues through Feb. 21. No examinations are given on Saturday.

Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski, who went to Omaha to help take care of her new granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pfeiffer, is expected home this week.

Mrs. Catherine Wozniak and Kathleen spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. P. Kukish.

Lloyd Konkolewski spent Sunday afternoon at the Frank Konkolewski home. Mrs. John Lech is nursing a sprained ankle as a result of an accident that occurred last Saturday. Cars driven by Mr. Lech and a mail carrier from Burwell collided on the Jablonski corner. Both cars suffered considerable damage.

Steffie Bogus visited school Tuesday.

Miss Alfreda Klimek of Omaha spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klimek.

Mrs. Floyd Wozniak, accompanied Minnie Holoun to Ord Tuesday where she spent the night with her daughters, Misses Rita and Patricia, both students in the Ord school. Due to the blocked roads, the girls have not been able to spend the week ends with their parents.

Marilyn, Virginia and Louise Ann Konkolewski called on Mrs. Mary Wentek Monday evening.

Mrs. Joe Klimek and Misses Alfreda and Delores spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bogus.

Mr. and Mrs. Syl Bogus and family spent Sunday evening at Burwell. Frank Konkolewski helped his son, Lloyd Konkolewski shell corn Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wiegardt were Sunday evening callers of Judge and Mrs. Chas. Clochon. The evening was spent playing cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chalupsky and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Iwanski.

Mrs. Harold Garnick has word from her mother, Mrs. Dodge, that her grandmother, Mrs. Hayek, who broke her hip is now able to walk again.

Duane Iwanski has returned to Omaha Sunday with Gail Beal and Don Pedersen.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zulkoski and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Anna Baran at Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. James Iwanski and family spent Sunday evening at the Andrew Kusek home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zulkoski and Roland Zulkoski are spending a few days in Omaha visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lacona. They will return home this week.

John Baran of Ord is staying this week with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Zulkoski.

Mrs. R. E. Garnick spent from Sunday until Friday with her daughter, Mrs. Leo Nelson of Burwell.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at St. Mary's church for Jake Papiernik, a long time resident of this community, but of late he lived at Grand Island.

Saturday, Feb. 5. The storm situation looks much brighter than it did a week ago, but the full extent of the enormous losses won't be known until spring. This has been unquestionably the greatest period of loss and suffering that the state of Nebraska has ever experienced.

The towns along the Burlington branch all the way from Aurora to Burwell are much indebted to Mr. Richard Larson, Railway Commissioner. Had it not been for Mr. Larson I feel sure that the line would still be closed. Within 24 hours after I made known to him the actual conditions, the railroad was open and you were getting long needed supplies. He is a very efficient and determined public servant.

The entire membership of the Legislature has been so concerned about the storm conditions that little has been accomplished in the way of legislation. One of the interesting proposals that has come up is that of the state going into the liquor business. The bill as it was introduced would make the state the wholesaler for all hard liquors and wine. From the figures available it would produce a revenue of 8 to 10 million dollar. It is thought this additional income would make it unnecessary to levy any additional taxes. Ordinarily I am opposed to the state going into any kind of business but here is a situation that is a little different than most businesses. We all know that it is one that requires strict regulations and controls. The question is, if you have to regulate it, why not run it? I'd like some of YOUR answers to this one. Send them along.

—The business that rests on its oars has a long pull ahead. Advertise in the QUIZ and keep the public informed.

Health Program Opens Locally Thursday, Feb. 17

Program Given At Ord, North Loup and Arcadia; X-Rays by Mobile Unit.

Through the courtesy of Miss Katherine Helzer, Valley county extension agent, the Quiz is in receipt of copies of programs on health that are to be given at Ord, North Loup and Arcadia next week. They are the programs of the School-Community Health Institute.

The first of these is to be held at Masonic hall in Ord, Feb. 22. There will be a morning and afternoon session, with Dr. F. L. Blessing as chairman in the morning and Ross Allen as chairman in the afternoon.

Subjects include health films on heart disease, a discussion by Dr. C. W. Weekes and a talk on social hygiene by Mrs. Florence Walt, state health department. In the afternoon Floyd M. Edwards will discuss Blue Cross health insurance, and T. A. Philippi of the state health department and Dr. J. W. McGinnis will discuss Bangs disease.

A similar program will be given the afternoon and evening of Feb. 23 at the Community Hall in North Loup, with Mrs. Gilbert Babcock chairman in the afternoon and Clifford Goodrich in the evening. An added subject in the afternoon will be cancer control, by Dr. H. E. Eggers of the American Cancer Society.

Practically identical programs to the above will be given afternoon and evening at the high school building at Arcadia Feb. 24, with Mrs. R. F. Mettenbrink as chairman at both meetings. Questions from the audience will be in line with the program.

The mobile unit will be in Ord Thursday, Feb. 17, for the purpose of taking X-rays, and will remain here six days. All are urged to avail themselves of this service. James B. Ollis, chairman of the committee, has given out a list of the helpers and helping organizations for the different days in Ord.

Clubs Will Assist. Thursday forenoon, Feb. 17, the PEO will have charge, Mrs. Fred Stoddard president, and her assistants Mrs. Ralph Douglas, Mrs. Duane Armstrong, and Mrs. G. W. Taylor. In the afternoon, the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Loren Good, president, and her assistants, Mrs. Jerry Petiska, Mrs. Warren Lincoln and Mrs. John Wozab.

Friday forenoon, Feb. 18, the Y.W. Auxiliary will have charge, Mrs. F. J. Osenowski president, and her assistants Miss Gertrude Okreska, Mrs. John LaCorna and Mrs. Ed. Apking. In the afternoon, the Young Women's Club, Mrs. Orin Kellison, president, and her assistants, Mrs. Leo Long and Mrs. L. D. Milliken.

Thursday, Feb. 24, forenoon, the MAO club, Mrs. John Warford, president, and her assistants, Mrs. Joe Ulrich, Mrs. Emanuel Vodenal and Mrs. M. Biemond. In the afternoon, the Home Arts club, Mrs. Darrell McOstrich, president, and her assistants, Mrs. J. L. O'Halloran, Mrs. Wayne Pierce and Mrs. Clark Weckbach.

The mobile unit will also be at North Loup and Arcadia, and the details concerning the personnel in those towns will be given in the Quiz for next week.

March of Dimes Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the "March of Dimes" committee will be held next Monday, Feb. 21, at 5 p. m. at the county treasurer's office, according to George Satterfield, county chairman.

The meeting is for the election of an executive board and county officers, and any other business that may come up. Any contributor is a member and the public is invited to attend.

LICENSE ISSUED. County Judge Charles Clochon has issued a marriage license to Edwin Myers and Arlette Mae Mason, both of Ord.

Clement Elected Hereford Sec'y.

At the annual meeting of the Old Reliable Hereford association held Thursday evening at Hotel Stratton in Grand Island, R. C. Clement of Ord was re-elected secretary-treasurer and sales manager. Walter M. Peters, St. Libory, is the new president, and Henry Kuhlman, Jr., Central City, is vice-president. Lowell Wade, Elwood, is the retiring president.

By resolution a sitting committee was set up for the purpose of preventing the showing or selling of inferior animals. On the speakers list for the meeting were Charles Gardner, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, K. C. Fouts of the college of agriculture, R. D. Mousel, Cambridge, charter member of the association, Fred Schultz, extension agent, Hall county, George Kister, RMMJ, and Wilbur Dryden, Valentine.

Local Livestock Judges Are High At Grand Island

Eight Ord boys won eight cash prizes and ribbons at the annual state Hereford show and judging contest in Grand Island Thursday. An item in the Grand Island paper gave Franklin first and Ord second. However, a later dispatch to the Lincoln papers declared Ord had the top team in the high school section.

Other schools placing were North Loup, St. Edward, St. Paul, Ravenna, Fremont, Fullerton and Scotia. Another Valley county team ranked second in the 4-H division for county club members. Representing Valley county were Everett Lech, Frank Kovarik, Kenneth Kirby and Marion Genski, as members of the club team.

Ord's best judge was Eldon Kovarik, who scored second highest of all contestants, making 446 out of a possible 450 points. Don Shoemaker followed and also received a blue ribbon. The other two boys on the high school team were Leo Vasecek and Lavern Wozniak.

Nearly 500 farm youths took part in the judging at the Grand Island Chamber of Commerce provided free dinner and entertainment. R. Clay Clement is secretary of the Old Reliable Hereford association which sponsors this event. Coach J. A. Kovanda of the Ord school is proud of the record his boys made.

Herman Burson of Burwell Has Loss by Fire Sunday

Farm Home Destroyed While Owner Is Away; Furniture Is Saved.

A fire which was discovered in the Herman Burson home 9 miles northeast of Burwell at about 2 p. m. Sunday completely destroyed the story and a half structure. Burson was away at the time, and his father, John Burson, who lives just across the road, was first to discover the fire.

Other neighbors were summoned by phone and while they could do nothing to stop the fire, they managed to get all the furniture and clothing out. The Burwell fire department, hindered by bad roads, was unable to get to the scene in time, and the house was a complete loss.

News of the fire was brought to Ord by Howard Huff, who happened to be visiting at the Art Mensing home. The men went over and helped save the furniture. It is believed that the fire started from a defective chimney.

Swopes Publishes Picture Book on Snow Storms

"Operation Snowbound - the Blizzard of 1949 in Pictures" is the title of a book published by Ed Swopes which will be on sale this week end. Consisting of 20 8 1/2 x 11 pages, the booklet features a number of Swopes' best pictures of the recent Nebraska blizzard, and snow rescue operations. It is being printed by the Quiz offset department.

William Watson, the manager of the new Osborne shoe store, has moved his family here from O'Neill. They have an apartment in the Leggett duplex at 14th and O streets. D. M. Osborne, of Holdrege, owner of the store, was an Ord visitor Sunday and stated that the store will open Feb. 26.

E. C. James, Lincoln, and Owen Donahoe, York, were Ord visitors Monday and Tuesday.

Reither Resumes Construction of Lines in County

Poles Are Being Set East of Ord; Storms Caused Enforced Stop.

Work on the REA lines, especially the setting of poles, was practically impossible during much of the storm period since the first of the year. All work possible has been kept up during the period. About a week ago Contractor Reither returned and now the pole setting has been resumed.

Work is being done on the line east from Ord in Springdale. It is hardly necessary to state that work is being done on the great difficulties. In many places the snow is drifted several feet deep and greatly increases the work of setting the poles.

In one phase of the work the cold weather is a distinct advantage. The river crossings can be put in much more easily while the ice is there to work over. Several of these will be put in and the contractor hopes to get them all in before the ice goes out.

New Patrons. The Ord REA crew has been busy the past week enlisting more farm. With the exception of W. A. Lutesh, who has been added to Branch 1, all the new patrons are located on Branch 3.

Burwell People Injured in Car Wreck Sunday

Lloyd Key Auto Skids on Ice, Turns Over Twice; Badly Wounded.

Lloyd Key and his daughter, Mrs. Esther Buffington, of Burwell, miraculously escaped serious injury Sunday when their car skidded on ice on Highway 11. Mr. Key suffered broken ribs and his daughter had both legs badly cut and bruised. The accident occurred at 5:30 p. m. Sunday.

The keys were driving up Highway 11. About a mile from Burwell they turned over to pass a truck, and when about even with the truck they saw a car approaching and put on the brakes to avoid a collision.

The car skidded on ice, went out of control, turned over once, hit a sign, turned over again, hit a telephone pole and finally came to rest on the Burlington tracks. The auto was almost a complete wreck. Neither of the other vehicles was hit.

Result of Polio Drive Is Not As Yet Available

Many Localities Have Not Reported; Fund Is Inadequate for Needs.

Weather conditions are still to blame for the poor showing made to date in the Valley county March of Dimes. Miss Clara McClatchey, county chairman had deposited, as of Wednesday morning the sum of $1,219.14. None of the towns in the county has completed its report, and many of the school districts have not been heard from.

The final date, Feb. 15, came to an end Tuesday night, and it is believed that quite a number of contributions will still come in. Even if the specified date is past, any money received will be accepted and credit given. There was never a greater need than there is today and every cent received goes for a worthy cause.

Operation Snowbound Office Closes After Job Well Done

Highway Users to Meet Here

Highway users of three Nebraska districts covering five counties will meet in Ord, Wednesday night, Feb. 16, at the Veterans Club. The meeting will start at eight o'clock according to Jack Romans, who is in charge of local arrangements.

Most of the evening program will be a discussion of new highway use legislation, motor and motor fuel taxes. Any highway user is invited to attend the meeting.

Disaster Loans Planned by RFC

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is setting up machinery to make disaster loans to small farmers who find themselves in need of assistance because of the winter storms, and who are not able to get this assistance at the banks. A great part of northern Nebraska was included in this disaster area.

If the livestock loss is beyond the individual's ability to handle, application should be made to the RFC regional office in Omaha. This should be done only if local banks find themselves unable to render the needed assistance.

Mrs. Anna Preston, Former Resident, Dead At Mitchell

Widow of Bramlet Preston; Two Sons Live in Mitchell; Sister, Clara Wilson, Here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna R. Preston, 83, who died at her home in Mitchell, Neb., Monday night, will be held at 2 p. m., Saturday, Feb. 12, from the Fisher Mortuary in Mitchell. Rev. Carl McConnell of the Mitchell Methodist church will officiate; burial will be in the Mitchell cemetery.

Mrs. Preston was born Nov. 19, 1865, at Baskett, Wis., the daughter of Elizabeth Connor and Joseph Burson. A brother Henry and a sister Mary, preceded her in death. She grew up at Valparaiso, Neb., and later lived in Fremont, Waboo, and Ord, before coming to Mitchell in 1925.

On Feb. 16, 1882, at Mead, Neb., she was married to Bramlet Preston, who died Oct. 2, 1916. A son, Emory Ellsworth Preston, died Dec. 6, 1974.

Surviving are two sons, Burton A. and Ira V. Preston, both of Mitchell, and a sister, Clara Wilson, of Ord, five grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Result of Polio Drive Is Not As Yet Available

Many Localities Have Not Reported; Fund Is Inadequate for Needs.

Weather conditions are still to blame for the poor showing made to date in the Valley county March of Dimes. Miss Clara McClatchey, county chairman had deposited, as of Wednesday morning the sum of $1,219.14. None of the towns in the county has completed its report, and many of the school districts have not been heard from.

The final date, Feb. 15, came to an end Tuesday night, and it is believed that quite a number of contributions will still come in. Even if the specified date is past, any money received will be accepted and credit given. There was never a greater need than there is today and every cent received goes for a worthy cause.

They flew their own plane to Omaha. Leaving there early Wednesday they arrived in Chicago at 10:10 a. m. The arrangement was for him to talk over NBC's eastern network of 40 stations, which are heard by people outside the blizzard area. The sponsor was Sun Oil company.

Nearly 800 Miles Roads Cleared by Army Contractors

Cost to Gov't. Estimated At More Than $50,000; Job Took Week Actual Clearing.

With the thanks of a community for a job well done, Operation Snowbound in Valley county ceased officially at midnight Tuesday. Offices in the courthouse occupied by army engineers and other personnel in the gigantic snow clearing job in the county will be vacated this week.

Monday, Soil Conservation employees, who had been detailed to snow removal work during the emergency, returned to their regular routine, although bulldozers owned and operated by the service are still being used over the county in clearing snow from yards and feedlots.

723 Miles Cleared. Byron Nielsen, army sub-area engineer in charge of the office at Ord told the Quiz Tuesday, that his records showed a total of 673 miles of township roads and 150 miles of county road cleared by the joint work of county road equipment and Fifth Army bulldozing crews.

Tracy Hamilton, county engineer, reported that less than 15 miles of township roads in the county remain to be cleared. "These are stretches of a mile or two scattered all over the county and we'll pick them up as fast as possible," he stated.

When Operation Snowbound swung into full gear here, an average of 21 bulldozers and two road patrol cars were at work on a 24 hour basis clearing roads, Nielsen reported. One day as many as twenty-seven units were at work, in addition to county equipment.

Cost Over $6000 Daily. From figures in Operation Snowbound offices, cost of snow removal in Valley county ran $6000 to $7000 per day at the peak of work. Although the area office here was set up on Feb. 2, several days elapsed before equipment could be brought in and actual high gear operations lasted only seven days.

Bulldozers hired by the Fifth Army for snow removal were rented at a cost of $8 to $14 per hour, with an average of $10.50 per hour for all units.

Total Cost $50,000. Total cost of snow removal in the county was estimated at over $50,000 by Tracy Hamilton, county engineer. "It will probably run higher than this figure when one considers the salaries paid to army and national guard personnel working in the area. The county's share is a small portion of the whole," he said.

Burwell Glovers Lose Matches but Win Approbation

Have Fine Record During Past Four Years; Made 4th or Higher Each Year.

The boys who sling leather for Burwell in the Golden Gloves contests do not always win, but they are always in there trying. Three of them, Ken Nichols in the 160 pound class, Robert Dahlstedt in the 126 pound class and Leslie Field in the 112 pound class, had to be content with second place in their opening contests in Omaha, but they gave the best they had.

Their efforts were so good that they had the crowd with them all the way. Their failure to go farther can be summed up in the fact that they lacked the experience. Experience is something that is hard to get in any small town. Six of the Omaha entries survived the first night's competition. Speaking of Burwell, Floyd Olds, World-Herald sports editor, has this to say:

Dahlstedt Popular. "Probably the most popular of all losers in the two-night Golden Gloves Tournament was Robert Dahlstedt, 17 year old Burwell featherweight. He gave Kay LeFlore a terrific battle Friday night. The thing about Dahlstedt that impressed most was the obvious fact that he had a fighter's heart. He was floored for the second time by a solid LeFlore punch in the third round. Waiting for the count of eight to be completed he kept both eyes on his foe—with fury written all over his face."

"He got up and went the limit, and was getting in some potent licks at the finish. It takes heart to get up off the floor and fight your best after you have been whipped by a more experienced puncher, but needs only schooling to hit the top. When his battle was over, he told dressing room listeners: 'I hope LeFlore is back next year, 'cause I'm going to be, any 111 knock his head off.' That as anyone knows, is the spirit which makes Golden Gloves competition so popular."

"In fact, all the boys from Burwell looked like fighters, even though they were whipped. They showed willingness to mix, had good punches, and could recover quickly from catching blows. From the same little town as Dahlstedt were flyweight Leslie Held and middleweight Ken Nichols. Held lost to tall, long-armed Sam Marchese only because of a difference in experience."

"The same can be said of Nichols' split-decision loss to Bob Barnes. All four of the Burwell boys are 17; are mere novices at amateur boxing, and are distinct prospects for next year. One of the standout angles of this year's meet was the fact that the contestants were uniformly fit, full of willingness to fight, even if short on ability."

Some of the Ord pilots who took part in disaster relief flights from the Ord airport were guests of the Ord Rotary club at dinner Monday evening. Each was introduced by Leslie Nash and all spoke briefly about their flights.

R. E. Garnick is still at the Clinic hospital recuperating from the broken hip he received some time ago.

L. E. Walford Buys Building from Guggenmos

In a deal completed Tuesday night, L. E. "Mac" Walford purchased the two story building on B street, owned and occupied by Bernard Guggenmos. Consideration was $7000. Possession is immediate, although Mr. Guggenmos has rented the first story until April 1.

The building was purchased for investment purposes, Mr. Walford told the Quiz, and he expects to have a new tenant after April 1, when Mr. Guggenmos plans to leave Ord.

Miss Sharon Boyce, a recent graduate of the Commercial Extension School of Commerce, Omaha, has accepted a position as secretary with the Standard Register, Omaha. Miss Boyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Boyce, of North Loup.

Big Construction Program for Ord Seen in Business Plans for 1949

A survey of Ord taken the past week shows that a big building program is in the offing, and many business men are ready to start operations as soon as the weather permits. In most cases the owners are practically forced to enlarge their floor space to make room for constantly increasing business.

All plans mentioned here are tentative with the exception of the work on the Standard Oil service station, which is already under way. However, there is every reason to believe that all items mentioned here, as well as some others too indefinite to be included in this time, will be started or even completed before the year is out.

One piece of construction, practically all of which was done last year, is the addition to the Co-op Oil company. This improvement has not had any specific mention in the Quiz since construction was under way last spring, and so it is given special mention at this time.

Handsome Addition. This addition, built to the south of the office and driveway, is 34 by 74 feet in size with the exception of a part of the northwest corner, which is a part of the driveway. It is all the construction with concrete floor space and windows in the front.

There is a show room next to the office and south of it is the wash and grease room. In the past this work had to be done out of doors. The south end of the building is the warehouse where all extra supplies will be kept. The cost of the completed building is about $7,500.

Auble Bros. are not too certain that they will get around to the work they have planned, which is to extend the small brick building behind the main store, now occupied by Ed Kasper's cafe, to the rear and give much needed room for a flourishing business. This will doubtless be done as the space is urgently needed.

Ravenna Defeats Burwell 34 to 30 Wednesday Night

Poor Playing in First Quarter Chief Cause of Longhorns Loss of Game.

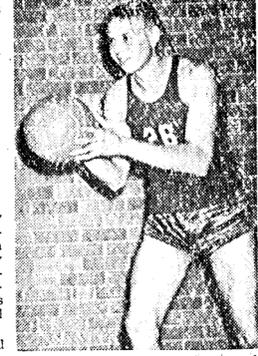

Getting off to a slow start was one of the contributing causes to the defeat of the Burwell Longhorns Wednesday night at Ravenna. The visitors were badly outplayed all through the first half, as the half time score, 20 to 11, indicates. The quarter score was much closer, 10 to 7.

In the final half the Longhorns unleashed a terrific attack which gave them 19 points while the Bluejays had to be content with 14. However, the lead at the half was too much to overcome. The figures showed Burwell was behind just a quarter all the way. Figured on that basis they were one point ahead every quarter.

Powell grabbed the high point honors for his team and for the game with 14 points. Leach, a guard, took high honors for Burwell with 11 points. Breneman had 6 points, Hallock 5, Messinger and Denaree 3 points each and Anderson 2 points.

For Ravenna Friske had 8 points, Larson had 6, Svandala 5 and Thomas L. Depesters had Burwell figured to win by a close margin. It is possible that the fact that Ravenna was playing at home gave them extra confidence and the margin of victory. The officials were Frank Bell and Mike Cronkwright.

WIN HONORS. Paul Larson, sophomore from Ord, at Dana college, Blair, Neb., is a regular starter on the Viking team. Larson graduated from Ord high in 1947 and has played consistently outstanding basketball this season. In the game with the Parko college, which Dana won 55 to 60, he scored 8 points in the last four minutes of play. He is enrolled in a pre-engineering course.

NOLU CLUB MEETS.
Nolo club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Della Boomer, for a lesson on "Use and Abuse of Home Decorations." Mrs. Boomer had charge of the lesson and Mrs. Lena Mulligan was guest speaker, bringing an interesting interview on the new wall paper combinations. Mrs. Lucy Cress gave two readings.

OYSTER FEED.
North Loup firemen enjoyed an oyster feed at the community building Monday night, with Paul Madsen chief cook. An abundance of oyster stew with the usual accompaniment were served. Guests were Jim Coleman, Rev. Ehret and Ray Hill.

ROSE STAR NEWS
The Prosperity Seckers Sisters met at the home of Agnes Kasplacka with nine members present. The lesson "Care of Milk" and "Milk in Our Meals" was presented by the leaders, Mrs. Roy Allemen and Mrs. R. W. Coakley. The door prize was drawn by Mrs. Allemen. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. David Nordstrom.

The Rose Star club was postponed till the 15th of March with Virginia Marsh and Mrs. Roy McDonnell as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Urban and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Klapan and Sharon were Sunday dinner guests at the Gilbert Stone home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hunkins and family were Sunday dinner guests at the Otto Lueck home at Arcadia. The Lueck and Hunkins families took in the show at Ord Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allemen and Carol Lee spent Sunday with Mrs. Vern Allemen of Arcadia.

Sunday dinner guests at the Clayton Sheppard home were Mr. and Mrs. David Nordstrom and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zochall and children spent Sunday in Loup City visiting Mrs. Zochall's mother.

The writer received word that Mrs. Emelia Tobin of Lincoln was united in marriage with George Sell of Weeping Water, Dec. 23, 1948. Mrs. Sell was the widow of Walter Tobin, deceased, who formerly lived in this community.

The fore part of last week this community had its roads open. Thanks to the 5th Army. There were families in this community that haven't had their cars out since Christmas. Several couldn't get to their feed till the roads were open.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

HUGH CARSON, 29th District

Feb. 12, 1949
To The People of the 29th District.
The "Fair Employment" bill comes up for hearing Monday, February 14, and it will no doubt attract a huge crowd. It is a measure that is highly controversial, but in my opinion one which would be very unsound legislation. The substance of the bill is that it would take away the employers right to hire whom he wanted. This proposal is to be heard before the Labor Committee of which I am a member and I do not hesitate to stick my neck out and declare that I am opposed to it. It is a subtle attempt to aggravate the matter of race discrimination.

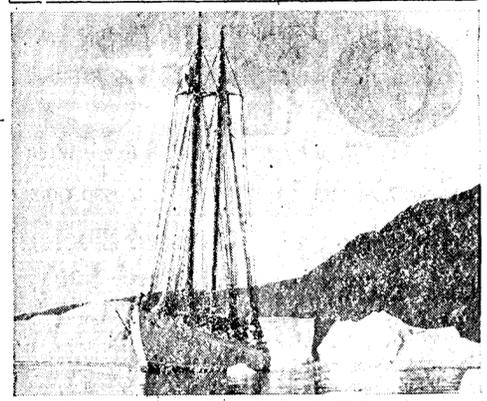

I am very grateful for the many letters received from all over the district in support of my measure to abolish CAPITAL PUNISHMENT. While I realize that there is a difference of opinion I cannot concede any humane and logical reason for its retention. My Bill to separate the Department of Roads and Irrigation into two entirely distinct and unrelated departments seems to be meeting with general approval all over the state. My contention is that there is no connection whatsoever between "Roads and Irrigation." Irrigation in Nebraska is a very important part of the state's economy and with 1,000,000 acres now under irrigation and with 1,600,000 more acres of projected development it deserves and demands its own separate department.

Arnold Will Have New Power Plant
A contract of nearly $100,000 was let last week by the village board of Arnold to the R. W. Hughes company of Omaha for the installation of a 450 horsepower diesel engine, switchboard and wiring and additions to the present light plant building. The use of much more electricity in Arnold made necessary the new power plant to produce more energy. The purchase was made by the issuance of revenue bonds which will be paid for out of the earnings of the plant and will not be a lien on village property.

Seagoing Hydrographic Office

Each month more than 2,000,000 charts roll off the presses of the U. S. Navy Hydrographic Office, giving detailed, vital data on the harbors and expanses of the seven seas. U. S. Navy ships are constantly charting new segments of the oceans, new ports of call, new reefs and channels. Not only the Fleet, but friendly mariners of many nations profit by these charts. Above is the USS Bowditch, famous exploration ship formerly owned by Cmdr. Donald B. McMillan, Arctic explorer, which is still in active service for the Hydrographic Office of the Navy. Burlington Railroad Celebrated 100th Anniversary Last Saturday

An event of more than usual interest occurred last Saturday at Aurora, Ill. when the Burlington railroad observed its one hundredth birthday. One hundred years ago the road began its existence as the 12-mile Aurora branch railroad that provided transportation. Chicago then boasted of 25,000 population and Aurora 1,200. It seems impossible that the second city in the United States was only the present size of Grand Island 100 years ago, but the figures don't take into account the fact it is possible that the great Burlington system was then a line as long as the distance between Ord and North Loup.

By 1856 the tiny railroad had grown across the state to Burlington, Ia., and south to Quincy, Ill. and had taken the name by which it was known for years, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. It is worthy of note that the lines still exist about as they were originally surveyed. Fourteen years later the line reached the Missouri river at Council Bluffs, Ia., and at Kansas City and St. Joseph in Missouri. During the '80s the railway was built to the foot of the Rocky mountains at Denver and to St. Paul and Minneapolis. In the Lincoln-Billings line was completed.

Of interest is the progress of the road across Nebraska. The first Burlington train reached Lincoln in July, 1870. In 1871 an agreement was reached whereby the Burlington was to have alternate sections of land in the new territory on condition that lines would be built into these areas. It was through this agreement that the road acquired a large amount of land in Valley county and this land was turned over to the railroad as soon as the county had been organized and surveyed. Much of the better land owned by the railroad was sold to settlers, and in time what was left was bought up by John W. Bookwalter.

The two main lines moved west across Nebraska, one from Lincoln to the west south-west, known as the Lincoln and Denver, and the other to the west-north-west, known as the Lincoln and Billings. From the latter in the middle '80s a branch was started toward the north from Aurora.

This was done for the purpose of completing the contract made with the state and gaining definite ownership of the land, which was understood to consist of alternate sections to a distance of ten miles on either side of the railroad when it was built. The sections acquired by the railroad were the odd-numbered ones.

This branch was built to Palmer and from there a line was run to Greeley and thence west through the hills toward Ord. Meanwhile the Union Pacific, which had stopped at North Loup, realized the importance of building on to the capital city of the county and the

Adds to Garage.
C. A. "Hi" Anderson is planning to begin work on the north part of his building on 11th street just as soon as the ground thaws. This wing was planned right along with that already built, and will extend north to the lot line, have a curved corner there and then extend on west, just how far Hi isn't certain.

The new building will be of brick and tile, will be two story with apartments above. The ground floor will be used for a body shop, display room and storage space. He could not give a definite figure on the cost, which will vary, depending on cost of materials. Meanwhile he is having Pat Pardue redecorate his building on the east side of the square, which will be used for a show room and for electrical appliances.

John Wojtaszek has the contract for remodeling and rebuilding the Standard Service station at the southeast corner of the square run by Frank Kapustka. He began work last week, tearing down the canopy that has extended over the driveway. By getting this out of the way, and also the outside supporting pillars, there will be plenty of room for all kinds of vehicles to drive in.

$7,000 Improvement.
As soon as frost is out, work will start on a large room to the southeast of the present one, which will furnish a place for washing and greasing, as well as apple storage space. The cost of the rebuilding will be approximately $6,000, and other work and equipment not included will make the total between $7,000 and $8,000.

The Valley County Implement company owners, Allen and Good, are not too certain just now as to when they will complete their building plans on 11th street, but it will be in 1949 if business continues good. The added space will include an office and a store room.

The biggest single building and equipment item on the agenda for 1949 is at the Ord Municipal light plant, where a total of about $280,000 will be spent for new equipment and the building to house it. A building of brick, glass and steel 68 by 50 feet in size is to be added to the 33 by 50 foot building already in use.

$210,000 to Be Spent.
This will provide space for the new engine and incorporate the old building and the new into a fire and weatherproof building. The walls of the new building will be made to match the walls already standing, and it will be built to the southeast of the old building. The building with the new engine and cooling tower will cost about $240,000.

This new unit will provide ample energy for the city and for the REA for a long time to come. In addition, about $10,000 will be required for wiring leading out to the lines and for rebuilding the switch gear structure, which is antiquated and inadequate for future needs. City Manager Allen expects delivery on the new engine in June and it should be ready to run by September.

D. E. Troyer is not certain just what he will do in the line of building. The old Milford building, which he owns, has been condemned and will have to be torn down.

The REA may start their permanent building this year, but the first item of importance with them is to get all the farmers supplied with energy as soon as possible. The building can be done later.

In all, it will be safe to estimate that a million dollars will be spent in Ord and the immediate vicinity in the 1949 building program. There is plenty of money on hand to do the building, and if the materials are available at reasonable prices, this year should be one of the best building years for Ord in its history.

Lyons Reject Building Bids

The city council of Lyons, Nebr., last week rejected all bids for the building of their projected municipal auditorium. The lowest bid offered was that of Olson Construction company of Lincoln, which was approximately $85,000.

Lyons has on hand approximately $11,000 for the construction of a building, and this includes $25,000 which the voters approved at a bond election.

Nebraska Drivers Make New Record

Drivers in Nebraska have chalked up another record for safety, E. P. Tinker, jr., executive director of the Nebraska State Safety Council, reported today. In a report from the National Safety Council, the Cornhusker state placed second in the nation in traffic fatality reduction.

The state was topped only by Rhode Island which experienced a 41% reduction. Nebraska, meanwhile, lowered its rate by 18%.

In close pursuit came Kentucky and Massachusetts, tied for third place with a 14% reduction. Rhode Island reported 52 fatalities in 1948 as compared to 58 for 1947. Nebraska reported 269 against 331 for 1947.

"Nebraska drivers are to be congratulated upon this commendable record. It is gratifying that our state should come from last place in fatality increase in 1947 to second place in reductions in 1948. This proves that continued watchfulness on the part of the walking and driving public can pay dividends in human life," Tinker concluded.

Casualties of 1949 Blizzard

Fire started by an attempt to thaw frozen pipes in the home, destroyed the farm home of Bert Ferguson, 7 1/2 miles north of Clark. Firemen from Fullerton, Central City and Clark responded, but were unable to save the building. Mr. Ferguson is a county commissioner of Merrick county.

J. A. Peterson, 79, who lives alone on a farm north of Genoa, was found lying in the snow near the house with his hands and feet frozen. He apparently had wandered away from the house and was unable to find his way back. He is in the hospital at Genoa in a critical condition from shock and exposure.

Some time ago Arlie Willard, blind man who lives in a sod house a mile south of the Comstock bridge, lost his way in the drifts while going home from Comstock. He was not frozen, but was extremely wet when found, having fallen into a swamp which had not frozen over.

The freezing of water mains has caused some inconvenience to a number of St. Paul families. The main is located in the north part of the city. One family affected moved out of town temporarily, and another family was forced to go to the neighbors for bathing and drinking water.

One of a crew of bulldozers being used to clear roads, was killed near Clark when the pickup truck in which he was riding skidded on the ice and turned over. Mr. Taylor was a nephew of L. O. Williams of Fullerton.

Land Bank Loans May Ease Your Storm Losses!

This winter's storms have upset the financial plans of many stockmen. One way to ease losses caused by the storm is to spread them over a period of years. Many stockmen are planning to do this with a long-term, 4 per cent Federal Land Bank loan.

A long-term Federal Land Bank loan may help you:

1. Meet outstanding operating loans you had expected to pay from a full calf crop this year—and now find you can't.
2. Take care of extra expenses that you cannot finance through your usual source of operating credit.
3. Maintain your long-time operating program.

REPAY GRADUALLY

A Federal Land Bank loan may be repaid gradually over a period of years, from your ranch's normal income. You may take 20, 30 or more years to pay—or you may pay up as fast as your income permits. But you have the assurance that you don't have to pay it ALL this year or any single year.

Thus you will not be hit by the full effect of this disastrous winter right now. A Federal Land Bank loan will give you the chance you may need to work your way out.

COME IN AND TALK IT OVER

If you can see your way through without any changes in your financial plans—THAT'S FINE. But as the full effects of this winter's storms are gradually discovered, many stockmen find a major adjustment in their financial plans is necessary. We earnestly offer our assistance in working out your program with you. Come in and talk over your situation.

Milius Elected For Ninth Term

Chris Milius of Omaha was elected president of the Nebraska Farmers Union for the ninth term at a meeting held in Omaha Thursday. Milius received 166 out of 259 votes on the informal ballot. Elton Berck of Osceola ran second in a field of eight with 77 votes.

Milius said he hoped "the harmony so prevalent at the convention will continue through the year." Berck was re-elected director of the fifth district, and Edgar Leafdale of Potter was named to succeed Hans Hansen of Hemminger in the first district. The Ord area had no representation at the meeting.

Isotopes Represent Gains In Medicine and Chemistry

Atomic weapons produced during the war were laboratory products, experimental devices not only designed but also largely fabricated and assembled by the scientists who conceived them at Los Alamos.

With the ending of the war came an interval of readjustment during which weapon development was carried on under very difficult conditions. It became clear that for the longer-term operation, a much broader base for operations was needed to insure against "bottle-necking" at any stage.

During its first year, therefore, the weapon program was directed toward converting from unit fabrication to a different scale of weapon production. This necessitated basic changes in organization and planning including:

Expansion of production facilities, to effect a continuous flow of component parts.

Development of new designs, stemming partly from work done during the war.

Improvement and standardization in the design of component parts — and provision of standard instructions for storage and handling. Progress is being made towards these objectives.

Active isotopes for off-project distribution are produced at Oak Ridge. The stable isotopes are separated in the magnetic machines built during the war to extract U235 from common uranium. The radioactive isotopes are manufactured by irradiation of materials in reactors constructed for the production of plutonium. Thus, isotopes are by-products of the manufacture of the atomic bomb.

If the development of atomic energy had produced nothing else, its cost would have been balanced within a few years by the gains in knowledge that the nation is making with isotopes—in medicine, chemistry, industry, and agriculture. The atomic energy commission's aim is to make isotopes available to all qualified users in quantities as large as can be profitably used, in variety as great as can be developed, and at the lowest possible cost.

SECRET Of the Locket

By EDWARD LEE

SILAS HENBURY, wedged into a chair tilted against the counter, was slipping into his regular after-dinner snooze when the door opened. The customer was an elderly woman.

Silas rose and the chair creaked its relief. He clumped behind the counter and said: "Good evening, ma'am. Something I can do for you?"

"Wh-why, yes, I suppose so at least, I hope so."

"Anything within reason. That's why I'm called Uncle Silas. My customers are just like relatives to me."

"That makes it easier. I never had to pawn anything before. But . . ."

Her voice trailed into silence. Silas knew that when she continued, throughout her story would run the same theme as countless others to which he had listened during his 40 years in the pawnbroker business. He nodded his head encouragingly.

"This gold locket," she said, unfolding her hands to reveal the trinket, "was presented to me by my husband when we were married. No matter how often we wanted trying to better our circumstances, they never improved. After his death last year things became worse. I told most of my valuables. But this . . . I just couldn't. I only want a loan on this locket. For some day I shall redeem it."

"But to every pawn shop I've gone, they refuse to lend me any money. They say it is not valuable enough to be held as security."

"We'll soon see," said Silas. He lightly scratched the surface of the locket with a penknife. Into that shallow furrow he fell a few drops of acid, then shook his head as a greenish tinge appeared, saying: "I'm sorry, but this locket's only value is as a keepsake. It's tin."

"The woman looked bewildered. 'I . . . I can't understand it. There must be some mistake. Look here,' she directed, unfastening the trinket. Its two heart-shaped halves swung open and she pointed to metal that encircled two miniature portraits. 'See how bright and solid that is!'"

"That photograph favors you, ma'am, even though it was taken when you were younger."

"Forty years younger, to be exact, when I was married. The opposite one is of my husband. It favors him too."

"I'm sure it does. Looks like he was a fine man."

"He was. Folks said he was unrelatable and irresponsible. I suppose Henry was in a way. But they were his only faults."

"Pardon my asking, but you loved him a great deal?"

"Yes, and I still do," she answered. Then, regarding him with a quizzical look, said: "Why did you ask?"

"Well, I just kind of thought a woman wouldn't stay married forty years unless she loved her husband a great deal."

"You make me feel noble," she replied. "Now, concerning this locket . . ."

Her words recalled Silas to the business at hand. He said: "I was mistaken. The inside was what convinced me."

Silas gave her the money she requested and closed the deal. Her fervent thanks made him glad that he had gone through with the deception.

For, he had recognized Agnes Crumbull's picture. That was how he had looked when she had rejected him to marry his cousin, Henry, whose photograph appeared in the locket's other half.

Silas had known Henry was unrelatable and irresponsible but he did not criticize him to her. Leaving some, he had never written or returned. Thus, Silas had lost all sight when he had recognized her picture in the locket.

Silas knew Agnes still loved Henry and would be hurt to learn he had deceived her. And, Silas still loved her so much that he had created a certain way to insure her remaining ignorant of Henry's deception. That was, to advance so large an amount in the locket that she would never be able to redeem it.

Swallows of Capistrano Follow Legendary Pattern

There is a well-known story that the swallows of the Mission San Juan Capistrano return each year to their summer nesting place at the mission on St. Joseph's Day, March 19, and depart, or rather used to depart, for the South on St. Juan's Day, October 23, and have done this from time immemorial. A few days before March 19, when the swallows are due, a few birds appear as scouts, and these go back to convey the main flock. The time of day may vary, but it's always on March 19. Though St. Joseph's Day has been the traditional day for the swallows to leave, in recent years the mission reports that they have been leaving earlier in July.

The identity of the birds is easy. The swallow that makes its flask-shaped mud nests under the eaves of the mission is the cliff swallow, which also nests commonly elsewhere in California. Naturalists find that swallows arrive in California with great regularity in the latter part of March, and most of them leave by September. Naturalists do not, however, subscribe to the view that they reach and leave any given locality on a given day, year after year.

Cow-Catcher Was Invented To Prevent Derailments

It was Isaac Dripps, boss mechanic of the Camden and Amboy railroad, who thought up the cow-catcher, or pilot. The road was having no small amount of trouble with derailments caused by wandering horses and cattle, who were forever getting onto the tracks. The line's superintendent asked Dripps if he couldn't do something to relieve the situation.

Dripps built a low truck and attached it to the front end of the engine. Sticking out ahead of the two truck wheels were several long and pointed bars of wrought iron.

"That rig," Isaac Dripps declared of the formidable weapon, "ought to impale any animal that may be struck and prevent it from falling under the engine wheels."

It did, too. A few days after this first cow-catcher had been installed, the Camden & Amboy locomotive hit a big and mean bull so hard that the animal was held by the iron prongs and could be detached only by the use of block and tackle. Such a cow-catcher was only too efficient, so Dripps took away the pointed prongs and substituted a heavy bar at right angles to the rails; this shortly was modified again and became the pilot or cow-catcher much as we know it today.

Thus did Dripps contribute a feature that still sets American locomotives apart from those of almost all other countries.

Roquefort Cheese Produced In France's Darkest Caves

Roquefort cheese is named after a village in southwestern France built at the foot of a rockslide. Main industry of this village is the production of its famous cheese.

Fifteen hundred of the 1,900 inhabitants of the village are engaged in the production of this product, which is made of sheep's milk.

The work of producing and maturing the cheese goes on underground, in caves, where the average temperature is 37 degrees Fahrenheit the year around.

The men who supervise the production of Roquefort cheese are members of one of the tightest monopolies in the world. Directors of this organization were considerably upset because, during the war, there appeared in the United States a cheese labeled "American Roquefort."

Often during the occupation of France the Germans visited Roquefort, usually in search of tinfoil supplies, but they never succeeded in requisitioning the Roquefort society's five-year supply, which was hidden in one of the remotest and darkest caves.

The people of Roquefort claim that the canyon-like fissures of the caves where the cheese is made, provide the natural air-conditioning which gives the cheese its peculiar properties.

Diagnosis In Rabies

The high incidence of rabies among dogs, foxes, and cattle in central New York and its gradual spread through that region, brought more than 1,000 specimens for diagnosis last year to the diagnostic laboratory, New York State Veterinary college at Cornell. The Cornell laboratory, according to its director, Dr. W. M. Evans, is the largest one of its kind in the state for the purpose, handling more than 70 per cent of the work. The laboratory is necessary, he says, because while many persons believe rabies can be detected by mere observation of an animal, brain examination is really the only reliable method. Other diseases give similar symptoms; and it is especially important to be sure of diagnosis as someone's life may be at stake. To the Cornell laboratory in the three years' since the rabies outbreak has been serious, have gone specimens of dogs, foxes, cattle, raccoons, and practically every other animal native to the state, including bats. Of these, the doctor reports more than 50 per cent were rabid.

Rotary Observes 44th Anniversary

Next Wednesday, Feb. 23, will be the occasion of the 44th anniversary of the founding of Rotary. The first Rotary club was organized in Chicago, Ill., Feb. 23, 1905, by a young lawyer named Paul Harris, who suggested the idea to a group of his friends. It was called Rotary because the meetings were held in rotation in the offices of the members.

The idea continued to grow. In the last 7 months 190 new Rotary clubs have been organized in 29 different countries. Today there are a total of 322,000 business and professional executives who are members of more than 6,700 Rotary clubs located in 80 different countries of the world.

The Ord Club formed in 1923. It was first organized in 1925. Clarence M. Davis was the first president and served for two years. Since then the presidents in order are: Dr. G. R. Gard, H. B. VanDer, Charles Bowers, Irl Tolen, C. C. Dale, Orville Sowa, J. A. Kowada, George Parkins, George Allen, E. C. Leggett, E. L. Vogelanz, Dr. F. A. Barta, C. C. Thompson, E. L. Kokes, R. E. Teague, Ralph Misko, Roy Randolph, Dr. F. L. Bessing, F. V. Cahill, H. O. Pearson, Harry C. Metcalf, with Ed F. Beranek filling in the unfinished term, and Otin A. Kellison, present president. There have been three secretaries, Joseph A. Barta, 1925-35, Dr. George Gard, 1935-41, and John R. Haskell, 1941 until now.

Surinam, or Dutch Guiana, To Offer DP's Farm Haven

Surinam, where some 30,000 European refugees soon may get their chance to start life anew, provided three-fifths of the bauxite for America's stepped-up production of aluminum during World War II. But farming, not mining, will be the livelihood for families resettled in the Netherlands colony on South America's shoulder.

Known also as Dutch Guiana, Surinam has room for colonization. One-sixth larger in area than New York state, it contains fewer than 200,000 people, notes the National Geographic Society. By contrast, the Netherlands itself holds nine million people in less than one-fourth Surinam's area.

Wedged between British Guiana on the west and French Guiana on the east, Surinam has about 250 miles of Atlantic coast. Its farmable area is virtually limited to the low coastal plain, widening from a ten-mile inland reach along the Marouli river on the eastern boundary to 50 miles at the Courantyne river on the west.

Much of this plain is swamped at high tide. Dutch colonists, sea fighters by heritage, have built dikes at the mouths of several rivers to protect the rich soil where agriculture is concentrated.

These cultivated regions, planted chiefly in sugar, coffee, and rice, total less than 200 square miles. However, much larger areas could be reclaimed. Behind the coastal lowland strip is the so-called savanna belt, 30 to 40 miles wide. Savannas (treeless plains) occur here and there, but their sandy soil is poorly suited for farming. Forestland is dominant.

The biggest portion by far is the thickly forested interior rising to mountain peaks over 4,000 feet high. Descendants of Negro slaves and American Indians are scattered along its rivers. They live partly by logging and collecting balata, a base for chewing gum.

What Is Nylon?

Contrary to the common idea, nylon is not a single substance. It is a new and basic class of materials with many of the qualities of metals, plastics and rubber. It can be made in different degrees of toughness, hardness, flexibility, solubility and color. The individual filaments of nylon yarn are cylindrical, smooth and uniform and act differently from most other fibers.

The commonest textile form of nylon is made from two chemical compounds: hexamethylene diamine and adipic acid. The diamine is made from coal (coke), air and water; from cyclohexane, a petroleum product; or from furfural, an agricultural by-product. Adipic acid is made either from coke, air and water or from cyclohexane. The diamine and acid are combined to form "nylon salt," which gives molten nylon when heated. This is extruded through fine orifices to form filaments which are stretched to between four and seven times their original length and twisted into a thread.

Loup Ministers Meet on Monday

The Loup Valley Ministerial Association met Monday in the North Loup Methodist church. Rev. A. Clyde Ehret, president, presided. Rev. C. F. Harbour, pastor of the church led in the morning devotions. Rev. L. V. Hassell brought a paper on Evangelism.

The Association voted to cooperate in a great effort in Lenten Evangelism. They felt that it is better to work together in such an effort, and that a general effort by the entire Loup Valley pastors and churches will bring added importance and enthusiasm to the church life. The association urges all ministers and churches to cooperate if at all possible.

Beginning with Ash-Wednesday, the first day of Lent, they are to stress association-wide daily bible reading, family devotions and grace at the table; an increase of 25% in attendance at Sunday school; regular attendance each player groups - Sunday evening services; every member doing something definite for his church.

The week before Easter there will be interchange of pupils and preaching missions in all co-operating churches, ending on Easter as a Great Day of victory, with reception of members, baptisms, and an Easter sermon on the Victorious Life. Rev. and Mrs. L. V. Hassell attended from Ord.

The 9th grades met in the second game, which was closer, Ord leading most of the way, but losing at the finish, 26 to 23. Walter Sowers was high for Ord with 7 points.

Weed Eradication Group Holds Meet

The Valley County Weed Eradication group has been working under difficulties this month. The annual meeting was scheduled for Feb. 1, but weather conditions were such that the business of the meeting was not concluded at that time. There were two out-going directors, Henry Janus and L. Verne Johnson.

Mr. Janus was in position to continue in the work, and he was re-elected unanimously. Mr. Johnson asked to be relieved of his job. Ray Lutz was first appointed in his place, but did not feel that he could take the time. At a meeting held Feb. 8, H. M. Brandenburg was appointed, and has accepted.

The other three members of the board are George Clement, John Skala and Henry Enger. With a fund of 2 tenths of a mill assessment the board is studying the proposition of going into the seed cleaning business this year. The equipment used pulls behind a jeep. Because of the weather, the board is not certain it will purchase this equipment at this time.

-Mrs. Martha McMichael of Grand Island is spending from Sunday to Thursday visiting at the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Malolepszy and Colette.

Values Up Short Monday in Omaha

Livestock values rocketed sharply higher on abnormally light supply Monday at Omaha. The turn to shorter runs began the previous Tuesday and through the rest of the week brought about mild price recovery, but Monday's runs, not only at Omaha but the country over, were down by more than half, cattle supply at 12 markets down from 91 to 26 thousand. Price reaction was similarly drastic. Slaughter steers, yearlings and heifers Monday at Omaha sold $1.00 to $2.00 higher, numerous sales as much as $3.00 over the previous Monday, some heifers up $4.00. Steers and heifers Monday sold at $18.00 to $24.00, quotable steer top around $26.00. Cows were 50c-$1.00 or more up, canners and cutters $13.00-$15.00, beef cows to $17.00. Bologna bulls sold to $19.50, beef to $19.00. Vealers held at $20.00-$30.00. Stockers and feeders were $1.00 and more up at $18.00-$23.00. There were steer calves to $23.00 and stock cows at $15.25. Hogs were $1.00-$1.25 higher, butchers $1.75-$2.00, sows $1.60-$1.70. Fat lambs ranged 25-50c, clearing bulk at $23.00-$23.50, two loads $23.75. Slaughter ewes were up 25c, pulp-dium $9.50-$11.00. Feeder lambs were trade too scarce for a test of trade but quotable to $23.00 or better.

Among recent sales at Omaha for shippers from this area: Greenland Bros., 22 hogs, wt. 217, $19.50; Sam Brickner, 33 hogs, wt. 324, $17.50; W. A. Rogers and Son, 25 steers, wt. 530, $20.50; wt. 880, $19; E. J. Marech, 45 hogs, wt. 252, $20.25; 3 sows, wt. 335, $16.50; Cecil Severance, 7 steers and heifers, wt. 1052, $22.50; John E. Potrzeba, 35 steers and heifers, wt. 978, $18.75.

Five hundred Nebraskans will gather in Bixby Park, Long Beach, Calif., Saturday, Feb. 20 to enjoy the annual mid-winter picnic, according to Paul S. Dietrick, the president, from York, Neb. Former state senator and newspaper publisher, Col. Joe W. Leedom, of Gordon, will make the principal address. Long Beach Mayor Burton C. Chace from Stanton, Neb., will welcome the picnicers.

Registration by counties. You can easily meet home-town friends. Coffee and lunches will be for sale for those who do not bring their own. Cornhuskers from all over Southern California will be present.

Eye to Future

Housewife's with an eye to the future are canning and freezing fowl now for use later when prices will be higher.

Smallest Radio Tube

Smallest radio tube ever made is but slightly larger than a grain of rice. It was developed for U. S. military uses.

MOORMAN scientists have discovered a way to use such new products as penicillin, methyl fermentation solubles and condensed fish solubles in a new feed that has sensational growth power for baby chicks.

Contains 7 balanced proteins - 4 vitamins. This new starter - MoorMan's Chick Minitrate - is a 43% protein concentrate... is extra-rich in animal and sea-food proteins... is jam-packed with vitamins... plus MoorMan's famous Poultry Minerals, containing 13 ingredients. Costs less because you mix it with your own grain. Tostant your chicks extra fast, keep them thrifty and produce 3 to 3 1/2 pound birds weeks sooner than average starting rations, call, write or see your MoorMan Man.

Nearly 800 Miles Roads Cleared by Army Contractors

Cost to Gov't. Estimated At More Than $50,000; Job Took Week Actual Clearing.

(Continued from Front page) In addition to clearing roads, the army units cleared uncounted farmer's driveways and access roads to hay and feed stacks. There are more than 1200 farms in the county, and practically all of these received some sort of help from road clearing crews.

Assisting Nielsen in directing road clearing operations was Roland Kesselhuth, also an army engineer from the Harlan county dam project. Nielsen is a native of Dannebrog, Neb., and Kesselhuth of Wolbach. Mrs. John La-Cornu served as stenographer in the office here.

National Guard units from Beatrice stationed here, relieving a unit from Lincoln last Friday, are scheduled to pull out of Ord this week end. Two Fifth Army weasel units, from Camp Carson, Colo., are scheduled to go back to Bartlett to aid in cleanup operations there.

With Valley county roads in a satisfactory shape, much of the equipment here will aid in cleanup operations in Loup, Garfield, Wheeler and Greeley counties. These areas are still snowbound to a certain extent, due to new snow and winds which drifted many newly opened roads full again. Other units are being transferred to Wyoming, where a storm last week end put most of that state in a similar condition to Nebraska's.

Couples Married for Half Century

Mr. and Mrs. Curt Calvin, who have lived in Howard county most of their lives, celebrated their golden wedding in St. Paul, Feb. 8. They were married near Farwell, lived on a farm many years, after which he operated a service station until his retirement. Feb. 13 Mr. and Mrs. W. F. O'Neil of St. Libory observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary by holding a reception at their home. They were married at Vancouver, B. C., but returned to St. Libory after a year, and have lived there ever since.

Bond Sales Good During January

C. J. Mortensen, Chairman of the Valley County Savings Bond Committee, announced this week that county purchases for January were $35,343.75. State total was $2,076,780 for the month, an increase of $1,350,000 over December. With many roads still impassable, Mr. Mortensen stated that he was well satisfied with Valley County's showing. "According to reports," he stated, "the stock losses may not be as heavy as we had thought. The added moisture will help the crops. I think we can look forward to the year with confidence."

Fire Department Ball Draws Crowd

The Ord Firemen's ball Thursday was largely attended and the fire fighters expect to have about $150 clear after all expenses, including tax are paid. In view of the fact that the weather kept many from attending who might otherwise have come, the result is very pleasing to all concerned. Music for the evening was furnished by Al Hudson and the Lee Williams orchestra, one of the best music making organizations to appear in Ord for some time. Mr. Hudson as a singer and soloist on the trumpet has few equals.

VFW Players Lose to Loup City

While the Chanticleers were dropping a game to Curtis Friday evening, Feb. 11th, the Ord Veterans of Foreign Wars team made it unanimous by dropping one to the Loup City town team on the Ord floor. It was not a bad game to watch, but the visitors had the advantage all the way. A game at Ord is being planned with Burwell as the visiting team, as seen as the Ord floor is available.

Auble Bros. Hold 25th Anniversary

Saturday Auble Brothers held their 25th anniversary. It was on Feb. 13, 1924, that they took over the business until then known as Taylor's Jewelry, which they had purchased from the owner, W. J. Taylor, who had been in business in Ord for about two years.

There were 222 visitors named on the register. Hostesses were Mrs. A. J. Auble, Mrs. Glen Auble, Mrs. Don Auble and Mrs. Emil John. Coffee and home made cookies were served. Mrs. Fern Carson won the door prize, a set of silverware. Corsages for the ladies were given by Noll Seed Company.

The building in which the business is located was built by A. J. Firkings about 1922, and the Taylor Jewelry was in the east half, with C. Perryman in the west half with his clothing business. The Aubles continued in the east side until Perryman went out of business a short time later, then moved into the west side and rented the east side to Chase's Toggery, which was there for about 20 years, moving out less than two years ago.

Loup City Bests Chanticleers in Scoring Contest

Thode Bags 23 Points for Winners; Richardson High Man for Ord.

In a free scoring contest on the Loup City floor Tues. night, Loup City took the Chanticleers into camp to gain undisputed possession of the Three-Loups crown. The Loupers also took a game from Ord earlier in the season, but by a much smaller score for either team. Both teams showed the value of experience and were hitting the goal from all angles. The final score was 33 to 37. For Ord it was a case of too much Thode, who alone accounted for 23 points for his team. McCoy was not doing bad either, when he rang up 13 points for his team. John of Loup City made 8, Pecht 6 and Mortz 3. Also playing were Brown, Hagarty,anski, Bennett, Outhouse, Vodehnal and Pinkney.

Richardson was again high man for the Chanticleers with 15 points. Munn and Stoddard each made 6, Tolen 6, Foster 4 and Nelson 1. Wells, Maurice, Heuck and Laursen also saw plenty of action. Beran and Ksoizek handled the refereeing job very nicely.

How Education Is Used To Improve Tavern Conditions

The vast majority of beer retailers in Nebraska operate decent, respectable law-abiding places. This is due, in part, to the continuing program of education conducted among these retailers.

How Accomplished?

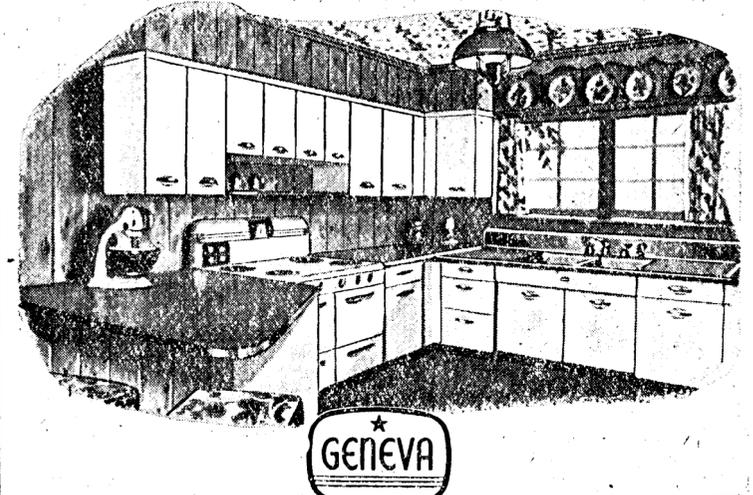

An important part of this work is through trained fieldmen, familiar with conditions in ideal taverns, who inform others how to improve their operations.

Operators whose taverns might be in need of improvements are shown how it is to their advantage to conduct their establishments in an approved manner.

Worthy Goals

Efforts are made to create within each dealer a sincere desire to adhere strictly to all lawful procedures—to be a good citizen and a worthy member of the community.

Reorganization.

For a long time now the tail has been wagging the dog. Government has been top-heavy for years. The bill for reorganization of our national government has been reported out by the committee. In making its report the committee "brought to light a number of items of interest which the Hoover commission had discovered."

It found that, in less than twenty years, the number of federal employees had increased from 370,000 to 2,100,000, or thirty-seven times as many. The number of bureaus had increased from 350 to over 1,800, five times as many. In that time the expenditures for government had increased from four billion to 42 billion, more than ten times as much.

In that time the national debt had increased per average family from $500 to $7,500, fifteen times as much. In many of the new agencies there is no clear line of authority and responsibility. More than 300 experts from all walks of life, government, congress and business, made a detailed study and helped frame this legislation to revamp the structure of the federal government.

The president is being given, in this bill, the authority to start this gigantic job of reorganizing the government in the interests of economy. There is no question but that his work will meet with the approval of the average citizen. What he will have to fight will be the bureaus themselves.

Nobody who has fed for years at the public crib, who has drawn good money for light work and short hours often for no work at all, is willing to relinquish the job without a fight. Already propaganda is being sent out over the nation with the intent to mislead the public into believing certain bureaus are essential.

The plan will be to arouse public sentiment in favor of the very bureaus the government thinks are unnecessary. In case any such literature comes your way, be sure you recognize it for what it is, an attempt to perpetuate a wasteful and non-essential bureau of the government. Don't let the tail wag the dog!

Prosperity by Spending.
More than ten years ago the public was handed the suggestion from the White House that we could only attain prosperity in one way, by spending ourselves into it. That was at a time when we were all in a mood to accept almost any doctrine, so long as it was different from what we already had.

There is no question but that we did spend. We spent until we found ourselves in debt to the tune of nearly $2,000 for every man, woman and child in the United States. The spending did not bring us prosperity, but the coming of war did bring us a false form of prosperity.

In that form of prosperity we found our wages increased to an almost ridiculous figure, or, to put it more correctly, we found the value of the dollar cut more than 50%. Today we find that we get twice as much in wages as we did ten years ago, but we spend the money for commodities costing twice as much.

President Truman has shown clearly that he expects to bring back the New Deal and all that it meant more than a decade ago. In order to do this it is important that more money be spent, for money must be kept in circulation in order to maintain even the semblance of prosperity.

But if more money is spent, less is saved. If we spend all we earn, we make no provision for the future, and will have nothing laid away for old age. The president is asking that our present social security law be broadened to take in as many wage earners as possible. The theory is that the pay checks one receives after the age of 65 will take care of him without help from what he may have laid up.

What is behind it all? The government has foisted a large measure of control upon the people, and is thirsting for more and more control. There is no room in New Deal philosophy for private incentive. The theory is, control the people long enough and they will accept control as the normal way of life. This paper believes that the people of America are still capable of governing themselves, and should be given the right to do so.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

We are in for a big tearup this spring, and I don't mean maybe. I am referring to the condition of Highway 11 now, and what it will be after the frost goes out. Remember how it went to pieces in places last spring, and how the state highway department had to rebuild a number of lengths of it, one of nearly half a mile just out of North Loup? What we saw last spring is nothing to what we will see this spring. For one thing, the road is a year older, a year of being run over by all kinds of traffic, especially by trucks hauling, if possible, heavier loads than ever before.

I am not claiming that the trucks should not use the highways. I am not saying that the state highway department is not doing everything it can to keep up the state highways. But, regardless of how hard they work, there is no getting around the fact that the highway between Ord and North Loup is doomed. All signs point that way. I walk along that highway every day and I have had a chance to observe how the forces of nature are working on it. This winter the frost is cracking it from one end to the other. There are two types of cracks, those running lengthwise and those running crosswise.

The durability of that type of road depends on it being kept waterproof. So long as no water can get through its surface or under its edges, it will continue to stand up and give service, even in the face of heavier traffic than it was built to stand. What happened last spring, and what will happen even more this spring, is that moisture is already under the road bed and that more will get under it when the spring thaws come. The chances are it will thaw some and freeze some and thaw some more and freeze some more, and so on until the road is ruined.

I am not trying to be a croaker, but we might as well face the facts. This winter is not only the worst winter for weather in history, but it is also the worst in its effect on the roads, and road repair bills will be higher this year than they ever have been in the history of the state. This is coming at a time when the roads of the state are already in bad condition, and when a special commission has offered a 20 year plan for getting the state roads into condition.

Now, if you are in condition to take some more, when the snow gets pretty well melted and the frost goes out, the country roads will be fully as bad as they were last spring and possibly worse. This spring the water cannot run down the roadside ditches, because they are full of packed snow. This will keep the water in the middle of the road, where it will soak up the soil and produce mud-puddles, many of which will have no bottom. The roads through the snow at least have the advantage of a solid foundation but this spring they will be soft enough to sink even a caterpillar.

A check of the small towns in Nebraska will show, as a rule, that they are in a more prosperous condition now than they were when the census was taken in 1940. That year the town in the state that showed a gain in population over 1930 was an exception, rather than the rule. The larger towns, like Ord, Burwell, Broken Bow, Albion and others in class B showed a gain, but nearly all the smaller ones showed a decrease. The reason for this was the depression, which seemed to drive population out of the rural areas and smaller towns toward the larger cities and towns.

Most of all, it drove a lot of people completely out of the state, which showed a decrease in population as a result. The shifting of population within the state did not do so much harm, but the loss to other states did not do us any good. All the time the birth rate was exceeding the death rate by more than two to one, but this increase was more than offset by the loss to other areas. With uniformly good crop years for a decade, the figures on population should tell a different story when it is told some time next year. The gravitation of rural population to the cities has about stopped.

One of the potent reasons for the scarcity of farmers in Nebraska and over all the plains states is the use of tractor machinery, which demands that a man farm two to four times as much as he once did if he hopes to make the business pay. The result is that today we often find one farm family on a section of land which once supported four families. And the end is not yet. We pray expect to find it even more so as time goes on. Today a man can handle 640 acres of land as easily as his grandfather could handle 160 acres, or his father could handle 320 acres. Farmers in the next generation may be farming as much as a thousand acres.

In making a checkup this week on building that might be done in Ord this year, I found that many firms are wisely waiting until they know what prices are going to do. As one man put it, prices on building materials are a little less now but they may be a whole lot less a year from now. It is only a part of good sense to wait for the lower price. Another proposition to consider is the fact that it is poor policy to build when builders have all the work they can do. In a time like that the contractor can about dictate his own terms, and the fellow having the work done can't do much about it. When the time comes when workers are easy to get and are hunting for jobs, then it is much easier to get the job done the way you want it. Everything indicates that time is just around the corner. Some counties are reporting more than twice as many unemployed now as there were a year ago.

Dogs are more human than any other animal. The young men from the farms like to go to town and tomcat around most of the night, getting home in the small hours of the morning. Rover likes to do that very thing too. Rover is Hillis Coleman's dog. The Colemans live a mile north of North Loup on Highway 11. Rover likes to go down town, stick around until early dawn, and then go rushing home at milking time to get a dish of milk. Several times when I have been walking along the road he has caught up with me. He usually walks with me a short distance and then hurries on so as not to be late for his breakfast.

Something Different

Some of the blizzard-born tales are so incredible. Hard for us to believe although we know the person telling them does not tell lies. Hard for us to believe though we are here on one edge of the worst of this winter weather.

Dr. Zeta Nay was telling me that when her brother-in-law, Wilbur drove here from Albion last week he laughed at the blizzard stories he'd been reading about this region, declaring the road over here wasn't so bad, he didn't see anything so terrible, etc., etc.

But the visitor changed his tune after he talked to a lady who told her house of two stories was snowed over level. And how a track to their front door had to be dug down two stories, and was a slide so that they slide right down it.

Over at Bartlett they have been snowed in once more. How many times, how many times will this go on and on? Cuts that were opened through twenty-foot drifts are again snowed and blown level and shut. Golly!

People who once lived here write back to inquire about the snow, and they don't believe these stories either! They never saw anything like it when they lived here, and so why should they think such a snow possible in these days?

—oO—
Aren't colors a wonderful invention? How much they affect our lives, so much more than we realize.

These white, white days are so same, so alike and drab, after so many of them.

Then along comes something like Valentine Day and presto, what we do with the fiery sparkle of red! Red glassware, how it lights up the table. Red is such a good color anyway; it has always been my first love.

Think how appealing red foods can be made. Appeal to the little girl or boy can be made by the reflected glow of a red hood, or the flaming red of a corduroy suit or sweater. How that red flushes their little faces and brightens the sparkle of their eyes, making them each look like a little French doll.

Red really shows up outdoors. We glimpse a red truck or car when it is far distant.

—oO—
Nature does not use red so lavishly as she does her greens and blues, and perhaps it is a wise thing. For when the outdoor world colors up in red tones we are overwhelmed with the richness of it all. Probably we could not stand long periods of ruddy tones around us. Perhaps it would set us all to fighting like so many game roosters.

—oO—
Safety councils have tested it out, and they declare that bright yellow is the color seen the quickest and the farthest too. So consequently they use yellow for road signs and safety devices more often than any other color.

—oO—
So I suppose it is only a personal feeling, that feeling that I see red objects first.

—oO—
When my boys were smaller I found colors had another purpose. I put them into bright clothes so that I could spy them more easily, as they played outside. So in winter I liked them best in bright clothes, and in summer I liked to put them into light or white garments.

—oO—
The safety council of our state has a rather similar idea. They ask that persons walking along our highways at night wear white jackets or something white, so that the white will catch the lights of approaching cars sharply, and surely.

—oO—
Just today I find it difficult to visualize a pleasant walk along the highway. Don't you? Spring is entirely too far behind winter for my taste.

Why not get all this in YOUR new car?

Owners of low-built Hudsons have it!

Owners of New Hudsons are seeing for themselves that the lower a car can be built, the more graceful its lines can be made, the better it will ride, the more surely it will handle, and the safer it will be!

Because people who drive Hudsons "step down" into an exciting, new kind of automobile, they enjoy more head room and roomier seats—in an automobile only five feet from ground to top—than in any mass-produced car built today! Yet Hudson has simple road clearance!

But roominess is only one of the wonderful advantages that go with the automobile that is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

Authentic beauty—the "step down" principle is so basically right it frees designers of the need for makeshift styling, enables Hudson to achieve pleasing proportions, symmetric, free-flowing lines.

A hug-the-road ride, and a smooth, steady way of going, because Hudson has the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car!

Performance? You bet! Hudson's all-new, high-compression Super-Six engine—or the masterful Super-Eight, get every chance to perform at their brilliant best, because this car is so low-built, so streamlined!

A new measure of safety, because you ride completely encircled by the sturdy, box-section steel girders of Hudson's Monobolt body-and-frame.*

We invite you to visit your nearby Hudson showroom, to see all the advantages you are entitled to in your new car! **

Ericson

Again Snowed In.

This community was snowed in again over the week end. High winds, new snow and plenty of the old snow prevailed. The bulldozer plowed us out Tuesday night, but the weekend storm has the road drifted so full in places it will have to be "moved" or shoveled out. Of course this is getting to be "not news" but it is the reason why news is so scarce.

Ericson Wins.

O'Conner High school and Ericson High school teams played basketball at Ericson Friday evening. Score was 24-12 in favor of Ericson. Walter Briggs, Ericson player was high point player for the evening.

Mrs. Alice Unterkircher visited Sunday in the home of Mrs. Matilda Cummings and Eva Jean.

Mrs. Alta Dare and Mrs. Laura Mae Webb visited with Mrs. Ella Emry Friday afternoon.

Rebekahs Meet.
The Rebekah lodge held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 8th in the Patrick hall. Not many were present because of the storm and blocked roads.

Archib Watson, Bob and Gene Foster made a business trip to Ord Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hallener and son Ted made a business trip to Bartlett Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Psota and Gary were Friday evening visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Meyberger at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lenker were week end visitors in the Clem Lenker home. Jack has been driving one of the bulldozers the past two weeks.

Bill Spora of the Amity community was an Ericson shopper Friday. The army bulldozer was at his farm Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Oberg and Barbara went to Greeley Sunday and attended the picture show.

Floyd Olson drove to the Beaver Valley Thursday and visited his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce and daughters returned home Wednesday afternoon from Grand Island and Cairo.

Ed Lillenthal and Mrs. Elizabeth Harris drove to Burwell Friday morning.

Miss Ina DeLarm returned to her work at Scotia Monday, Feb. 7. She has been a guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Matilda Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Oberg drove to Ord and Burwell Friday on business and also visited Mrs. Darold Oberg and baby daughter at the Burwell hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simpson and sons motored to Burwell Sunday and visited relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osentowski, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Daily and daughters visited in the Jack Drabota home Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Darold Oberg, Feb. 6th, a daughter, "Darla Lee" weight 10 1/2 lbs., at the Burwell hospital. Dr. Roy S. Crum attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swain and Mr. Swain's sister, Mrs. Lane of Bartlett were Ericson visitors Monday. Harold Hemmingway of Bartlett was a week end visitor, Feb. 5 and 7 in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fritz.

Darlene Swain and Norma Welch of Bartlett were Ericson visitors Tuesday through Wednesday in the homes of Rev. Chas. Cox and family and Mrs. Wilma Walters.

Mrs. Ruby Wolfe visited Wednesday and Thursday in the home of Mrs. Matilda Cummings and Eva Jean.

Elmer Stark made a business trip to Bartlett Monday afternoon.

Nelda Metzler, Joe Welsh, Bill Baumgardner and Sgt. L. Taroski were guests Sunday evening in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Harris and Bobby.

The Ericson truckers have all been busy the past week getting hogs and cattle to market. Emory, George, and Harold Hoefener, and John Sanford had their hogs delivered. Archie Watson and Wayne McCain did their trucking.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lichtenberg of Pibel were Ericson shoppers Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Payne received word from his mother Mrs. Stella Lehman who is visiting in the home of Mrs. Grace Tomlin at San Diego, Calif. Mrs. Lehman is enjoying the California weather and plans to be there until March 1.

Jim and Joe Welch and Ed Lillenthal were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Harris and Bobby.

Leonard Payne made a business trip to Chambers Monday and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chipps.

Saturday dinner guests in the home of Twila Payne were Irene and Mildred Thomas.

New Blouses

(by Mildred Meese)

This week we second year Homemaking girls are finishing our wool skirts. We plan now to start making blouses, which together with our skirts will complete our ensemble.

We really have found very nice material for making these blouses. There is an array of broadcloth, dimity, batiste, organdy, and crepe. I am making mine out of a pretty, white, dimity. We are all anxious to get them done so we can add them to our summer and winter wardrobes.

Study of Marriage

(by Lois Adicks)

Third year Homemaking girls are planning weddings and receptions. We made chart displaying everything a bride needs and hung it on the bulletin board. The girls also made a brief study of houses and furniture.

Vivian Zulkowski brought her brother's house models, which we studied. They were of three different styles. The ranch house, modern and cottage type.

Cream of Potato Soup

(by Bernice Walker)

We are making potato soup today. Here is the recipe for it:

- 2 cups mashed potato
- 1 cup thin white sauce
- 2 slices onion, if desired
- 1/2 tsp. celery salt, or 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 tsp. minced parsley, if desired.

Make thin white sauce, omitting half of the flour. Part or all of the water may be reduced by boiling and used in place of part of the milk in the white sauce if the amount of salt is reduced accordingly in making it. Freshly mashed hot potatoes are desirable, but cold ones may be used. Blend the mashed potato with the thin white sauce. Add the onion and celery or celery salt, heat the soup to the boiling point. Strain it and serve hot, garnished with minced parsley, if desired.

Try this delicious soup some cold night, like we have been having.

F.I.A. Chili Feed

(by Verlee Mulligan)

Monday evening the Future Homemakers of America enjoyed a play in the snow and a chili feed. The chili was made by the first year homemaking class. Maxine Mason and Joyce Huebner set tables with stacks of yellow crackers, heaping plates of raw carrots, dishes of green pickles, and pieces of chocolate cake with white frosting. The supper was ended by each girl doing her own dishes.

The business meeting was called to order by president Gladys Rice. The program was planned by a group of girls with Margaret Heuck as chairman. Patricia Ball gave a reading and the group of girls gave a skit on correct parliamentary procedure. Some songs were sung from our new song-books and the meeting was adjourned.

Gold Medal Award FASHION ACADEMY OF NEW YORK SELECTS

AS THE "FASHION CAR OF THE YEAR"

Citation: "The 1949 Ford embodies all the essential qualities of good taste, modern design and subtle harmony in line and color. It is indeed a compliment to the style-conscious woman who will recognize and appreciate the flattering background it provides for her best dressed appearance."

President, The Fashion Academy of New York

The Fashion Academy of New York has been noted for the past 20 years for its annual selection of "America's best dressed women." The '49 Ford was chosen to receive the Fashion Academy Gold Medal after 1949 automobile models of all makes and in all price classes had been carefully studied from the standpoint of excellence in design, simplicity and feminine style appeal. This recognition of Ford leadership in the modern trend of automobile design stands as a unique tribute to the work of Ford's Styling Department and of Design Consultant George Walker of Detroit.

Sgt. Wright, Jr. Laid to Rest At Cashmere, Wash.

Killed in Action Near Wingen, France; Born At North Loup in 1920.

A clipping came this week from Wenatchee, Wash., telling of the arrival of the body of Sgt. Willett Wright, Jr. for burial at Cashmere. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willet Wright, formerly of North Loup and now of Orting, Wash. He was killed in action on March 15, near Wingen, France.

Born on Jan. 20, 1920, at North Loup, he moved with his parents to Colorado in 1925, and in 1933 to Cashmere, Wash., where he graduated from high school. In August 1940, he was married to Alice Puer, at Couer d'Alene, Ida. Sgt. Wright was inducted into the army in May, 1944 and was sent overseas in November of the same year. Surviving are two daughters, Sally and Sadie, his parents, one sister, Mrs. Louis Stadler, of Seattle, Wash., and two brothers, Hubert Wright of Thompson Falls, Mont., and Richard Wright at the U. S. Coast Guard training school in Graton, Conn.

North Loup Wins from Arcadia by Score of 49-15

Have Won 14 Games Now Against Single Defeat; Are Loup Valley Champs.

North Loup won their game from Arcadia Thursday night with a score of 49-15. The Challengers lost one of the finest records ever made by a North Loup team and now have fourteen wins against a lone loss. The first five minutes of the Arcadia game was tight but Arcadia fell apart and North Loup boys saw considerable action in the game. The win from Arcadia gives the Challengers undisputed possession of the Loup Valley championship as all other teams have been defeated at least twice.

How the Other Half is Living

Rock county, which was hard hit by the blizzards, reported that there were 24 bull dozers and about 125 men at work clearing roads in the county last week. Frequent strong winds have undone much of the work there.

Atkinson has been announced as the host city for a volunteer firemen's district school in May or June. The program is under the sponsorship of the Nebraska State Volunteer Firemen's association, which will furnish instructors.

Two weeks ago the O'Neill Firefighter sold nearly 500 extra copies of their snow story edition, which contained a large number of very fine photos of the snow and also several special feature stories.

John Shocker of Stanton reached his 79th birthday on St. Valentine's day. He came to Stanton in 1866 and moved to Stanton county in 1882, which has since been his home. He was a voting citizen in the Tilden-Hayes campaign in 1876.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beuck of Stanton sold nearly 500 extra copies of their snow story edition, which contained a large number of very fine photos of the snow and also several special feature stories.

The Spalding Enterprise stated Thursday of last week that they had had no mail or train service since the preceding Monday. The high wind Monday night drifted the cuts shut and snow plow sent out to clear them became derailed near Genoa.

At the Glenn Tryon farm near Gordon a hog was found buried in a snow drift and missing for 35 days. The porker was rather weak and a hundred pounds lighter when he got out, but he was able to make his way to the hog house unassisted.

By the terms of the first Federal Aid Act, 1916, the state was required to match funds put out by the federal government to be used on the roads of the state. Authorization was based on population, area and rural post road mileage. In 1921 a system selected by the state designated for federal aid totaled 7 1/2 of the state's rural road mileage.

The federal share in these roads was not to exceed 50% of the cost, with a limitation of $20,000 per mile, later removed. In 1931 appropriations were made to finance emergency public works projects on the federal aid system. A return to regular federal aid for roads was made in 1934, which continued emergency grants for the time being.

In 1936 Congress provided for traffic and planning studies. This was the start of the highway planning surveys, which are still continuing. A three-year post-war highway program was set up by Congress in 1941. It continued and expanded participation in the development of federal aid primary roads.

The 1948 Congress extended this program two more years. The part played by the federal government in road building in the past 30 years has been a leading one. Today this interest is continuing on a greatly enlarged scale. The road that would take him to his county seat. More distant places did not enter into the road consideration until the coming of the automobile.

Counties which elect to do so can take over to the road maintenance of highways. The growth of our present system has been the result of appropriation of funds by the legislature from session to session. This differs radically from conditions maintaining in many eastern states, where the building of roads was financed by bond issues. Nebraska has been on a "pay as you go" basis.

County Roads — The counties have been those of the road maintenance and for a much longer period of time than have the state agencies. The pioneering days found the settler primarily interested in the roads in his immediate neighborhood, and the road that would take him to his county seat. More distant places did not enter into the road consideration until the coming of the automobile.

"My Daddy Uses Steckley Seed and Wins Yield Contests"

Steckley hybrids have that breeding that not only wins corn yield contests, but year after year produce consistently better yields. Actual field tests in Valley county prove this.

We still have a good assortment of the best Steckley numbers on hand, although our supply is dwindling. If you are going to need seed corn this spring, we advise you to speak for your supply now.

Osborne Shoe Store Grand Opening Set for Saturday, Feb. 26

New Store Sparkles With Modern Fixtures: Wide Range Stock Carried.

On Saturday, February 26, residents of Ord community will get their first chance to inspect Ord's newest retail business, the Osborne Shoe Store.

The store's formal announcement of their grand opening will be found on page two of section two of this issue.

Owned by D. M. Osborne and associates, a small Nebraska chain which has stores in O'Neill, Holdrege, Oxford and Ord, the store will be managed by W. W. Watson, formerly of O'Neill. Mr. and Mrs. Watson and family moved to Ord last week.

The building formerly occupied by John's Grocery and Furniture, site of the new store, has been completely remodeled and redecorated. A new drop ceiling was installed, a tile floor laid down and a complete set of new shelving, fixtures, etc. in natural wood treated.

A new lighting system sets off other store fixtures which are in chrome and lucite plastic.

Jack and Jill Store to Be Remodeled

Chain Celebrates Twentieth Year in Ord by Putting in Brand New Store.

Announcement of a complete remodeling and installation of new fixtures in the Jack and Jill store in Ord, was made this week by Food Centers, Inc., who own and operate the store.

"You might say that we are celebrating our twentieth year in Ord by putting in a brand new store," Alvin Gross, secretary of the firm told the Quiz.

The remodeling program already underway, will take about six weeks, according to Emil Darges, store manager. An elaborate set-up is planned, consisting of new lighting fixtures throughout, a new tile floor, new refrigeration of all kinds for meat, fresh frozen food, vegetables, fish, poultry and sea food, a new ice cream department, modernized fruit and vegetable department, new grocery fixtures and a new checking counter.

Food Centers, Inc., has eighteen outlets in Nebraska, with headquarters at Hastings.

City Caucuses to Be Wednesday

Wednesday evening, March 2, the Ord city caucuses will be held. As usual, they will be held in the Legion Hall, the Good Government upstairs and the Citizens downstairs.

To be elected are one councilman in each of the three wards. Howard Huff is filling the unexpired term of Dr. F. L. Blessing in the second ward. Lyle Milliken is filling the unexpired term of Hugh Carson in the first ward, and Gus Schoenstern's term expires.

Rex Jewett is filling the unexpired term of Paul Adamek as city clerk, and that office will be open this spring. There is no police judge at present, Judge Chichon, recent appointee, not qualifying because he is not a resident of the city.

Floyd Beranek and Curt Gudmundsen are the school board members whose terms will expire. Mrs. E. C. Leggett is completing the unexpired term of L. D. Milliken on the park board, and this position is also open this spring.

Truckers Meet and Express Opinion on Proposed Law

Some Measures Meet Approval, Some to Restrict Traffic.

A meeting of the Nebraska Truckers association was held at the Veterans club in Ord Wednesday evening. With a number of truckers from different towns in the area in attendance, the meeting was called to discuss some of the proposed laws in which the truckers are vitally interested.

William Drumney of the truckers association, was present from Omaha, and explained how some of the proposed legislative bills would affect local truckers. It was an informative meeting and those present learned much about impending legislation that they had not known before.

Of the bills affecting the motor carrier industry, the truckers organization is in favor of four, has objections to eight, and does not take a stand either way on 42 others, all of which affect in some way transportation on the highways.

It was brought out at the meeting that the truckers are not opposed to Governor Peterson's 20 year road program. They are objecting however, to some of the methods planned to raise the funds to put the program across.

Bill No. 399, for example, seeks to increase the gasoline tax from 6c per gallon to 6c. This would increase the revenue from this source by about $4,000,000. The governor's 20 year program requires less than $2,000,000 in additional funds, according to the figures furnished by the state. The truckers argue that it is foolish to provide more tax money than needed when taxes are already too high.

Bill No. 401 seeks to increase auto license fees, the plan being to double the present fee on all vehicles up to ten tons gross weight. A car owner would pay ten dollars instead of the present five dollars, but the owner of a ten ton truck would pay $400 instead of $200. The owner of a 15 ton truck would pay $610 instead of $300, and a 20 ton truck would pay $1,000 instead of $500.

That is the most controversial bill of all is LB341 which would give the highway engineer the authority to post restrictions of the gross weight of vehicles when any road became soft on account of excessive moisture or thawing. In such cases the engineer could restrict the total weight of any vehicle to 10,000 pounds.

As buses weigh more than that amount, all buses would be ruled off the highway during the spring thaw or after heavy rains. Straight job trucks which weigh 10,000 pounds or more could carry a load of a ton or less, and semi-trailers could not go on the road at all.

The truckers claim that, since the federal government spent millions of dollars to open the snow bound roads, it would be foolish to restrict the use of the roads during the thawing period immediately following. In Nebraska commercial trucks alone pay $1,750,101.18 in license fees, an amount equal to the sum required to finance the 20 year road plan for a full year.

Truckers and others interested attended the Ord meeting, including Fred and Forrest Worm, Hubert Leach and Paul Bleach of Burwell, Paul Goodrich, Virgil Anyas, Don Vogeler and Roy Sline of North Loup, Clayton Peterson and Paul Peterson of Ord, and Mrs. Clemens Frank Kapsutka, Ray Falter, Ellis Carson, Jack Romans, Bob Hughes and Vic Kerchal, all of Ord.

Lambert Nelson, Comstock, Dies

Lambert Nelson, 55, Comstock, was found dead in bed in his home last week by his brother Oscar. He was a bachelor and had been in poor health some time. Mr. Nelson was a World War I veteran.

He farmed west of Comstock for some years, but last spring bought a home in Comstock and moved there. Funeral services were held from the Methodist church in Comstock last Tuesday.

County Red Cross Drive Starts March 1st Says Haskell

Ord Business Men to Be Solicited At Home; Not in Store Says Ord Leader.

The 1949 Valley county Red Cross drive will get underway on Tuesday, March 1, John R. Haskell, in charge of this year's drive, announced today.

The Red Cross proved its worth in the recent snowbound operations," Mr. Haskell said. "Now is the time for the people of the community to reciprocate."

In Ord, the drive will be headed by Don Auble, city chairman. Mr. Auble has not as yet announced his committee of workers, but did state that business men of the city would be solicited at their homes as individuals, not at their places of business.

C. W. McClellan is chairman of the North Loup drive, Mrs. E. C. Blair, of the Arcadia drive.

"Road conditions will prevent us from making the normal solicitation of rural areas," Mr. Haskell told the Quiz. "We are asking that farmers who wish to give bring or mail their contributions to any of our committee, or to any of the banks in Valley county, who will see that we get the money."

MEETING ANNOUNCED

The Board of Directors of the Loup National Farm Loan Association of Ord recently set Tuesday, March 15 as the date for the annual meeting of the association. Plans for the dinner and an interesting program are being made. All borrowers through the organization are invited to attend the meeting. The association's chartered territory covers Loup, Garfield, Valley and Colwell counties.

Farmers Planning To Pur Middle Loup Irrigation E

Word Received Directors' Bid Is Acceptable

The Sum of $100,000 by Subscription Okc by Officials in Washing

Word has been received from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation asking acceptance of the offer farmers of the Middle Loup Irrigation district. The sum of $100,000 has been raised, and, as soon as all arrangements can be made, the district will belong to the farmers and others who put up money for the purchase.

The telegram announcing the decision to sell was received by E. G. Stone, president of the Middle Loup Irrigation district.

A canvass was made in the district asking anyone to put in money for the purchase.

At that time it was announced that bonds to be issued to the sons giving money, these bonds draw 4% interest and to cover period of 11 years. In other words, the person putting up money would get his interest plus payment on the principal.

The sum of $100,000 among the farmers men of Sargent, Ord and Loup would be up to the $100,000 to have bonds range for the necessary and principal.

Cub Scouts Get Set for Year; to Add New Den

Hope to Enroll Every Eligible Boy in Town in Wolf Cub Group.

The Ord Cub Scout organization is all set for the coming year, and has high hopes of organizing one or more additional dens to the two already in existence.

"We want to make Cubbing available to every Ord boy between the ages of 9 and 12 years," Hilding Pearson, Cub Master, told the Quiz.

At a meeting Monday evening at the high school, E. C. Leggett was chosen Pack Committee chairman, Emil Babka, secretary, treasurer, Geo. Vasicek, committee member, Jud Pedro, activity director and Mrs. Opal Burrows, achievement director.

Pearson was selected as Cub Master, assisted by Jack Romans, Mrs. E. C. Leggett and Mrs. Geo. Vasicek are Den Mothers of two Cub Dens now in existence. Mrs. Charles Jones will be Den Mother for the new group to be formed.

Mrs. W. L. Ramsey High Flier At 85

Mrs. W. L. Ramsey of Ord, has been visiting her grandson, W. J. Bartley in Denver, while there her granddaughter, who lives in Los Angeles, sent her an airplane ticket via United Air Lines. The granddaughter is LaVonne Bartley Morrow.

Naturally Mrs. Ramsey took the trip, which took 6 hours, and it was the first she had ever taken. Mrs. Ramsey, who is 85, said the trip was quite a thrill, and was made at ten thousand feet above sea level. She plans to return to Ord in the spring.

How the Other Half is Living

Rock county, which was hard hit by the blizzards, reported that there were 24 bulldozers and about 125 men at work clearing roads in the county last week. Frequent strong winds have undone much of the work there.

Atkinson has been announced as the host city for a volunteer firemen's district school in May or June. The program is under the sponsorship of the Nebraska State Volunteer Firemen's association, which will furnish instructors.

Two weeks ago the O'Neill Frontier sold nearly 500 extra copies of their snow story edition, which contained a large number of very fine photos of the snow and also several special feature stories.

John Shocker of Stanton reached his 79th birthday on St. Valentine's Day. He came from Denmark in 1866 and moved to Stanton county in 1882, which has since been his home. He was a voting citizen in the Tilden-Hayes campaign in 1876.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beuck of Hartington Monday morning from a Sioux City airport for Brownsville, Tex., on a business and pleasure trip. Mrs. Beuck's brother, Dan Dugan and his pilot, Earl Wallin, flew them to Texas in Dan's plane. Beuck and Dugan have been once in the oil business in Ord.

The Spalding Enterprise stated Thursday of last week that they had had no mail or train service since the preceding Monday. The high wind Monday night drifted the cuts shut and a snow plow sent out to clear them became derailed near Genoa.

At the Glenn Tryon farm near Gordon a hog was found buried in a snow drift and missing for 35 days. The porker was rather fat and a hundred pounds lighter than when he got lost, but he was able to make his way to the hog house unassisted.

By the terms of the first Federal Aid Act, 1916, the state was required to match funds put out by the federal government to be used on the roads of the state. Authorization was based on population, area and rural post road mileage. In 1921 a system selected by the state designated for federal aid totaled 77% of the state's rural road mileage. The federal share in these roads was not to exceed 50% of the cost, with a limitation of $20,000 per mile, later removed. In 1931 appropriations were made to finance emergency public works projects on the federal aid system. A return to regular federal aid for roads was made in 1934, which continued emergency grants for the time being.

In 1936 Congress provided for traffic and planning studies. This was the start of the highway planning surveys, which are still continuing. A three-year post-war highway program was set up by Congress in 1941. It continued and expanded participation in the development of federal aid primarily on the basis of population.

The 1948 Congress extended this program two more years. The part played by the federal government in road building in the past 30 years has been a leading one. Today this interest is continuing on a greatly increased scale. The road that would take him to his county seat. More distant places did not enter into the road consideration until the coming of the automobile.

Counties which elect to do so can take over all the roads in their jurisdiction as county roads. Today 67 have done so, and 26 still retain the township as administrative unit to build and maintain roads not on the designated county or state systems. Some of these counties would prefer to keep the supervisor system, but turn the road problem over to the county.

Under the supervisor system the administrative body consists of not less than 7 supervisors. Some counties have more than twice that number. The board's powers include the appropriating of funds for county road and bridge construction. The supervision of the township roads is left to the township board.

In addition to its governing board of Justice of the Peace, Clerk and Treasurer, each township has one or more road overseers whose duties are to maintain the roads in his road district. He is empowered to employ labor in the maintenance of the roads in his district and to report the expenditure of funds to the township board.

In those counties not under township form, the governing body is a board, usually of three commissioners in counties under 150,000 population and 5 in Douglas county. In this system the county is divided into commissioner districts and each commissioner is elected from and represents his own district.

One half of the county road taxes is divided equally among the districts and is put at the disposal of the commissioners for road improvement within the districts. The other half of the road tax is spent by the commissioners in the district from whence it came.

The city of Cozad has a second new fire truck, an American-LaFrance, costing about $14,000. The other truck, an International, arrived a few weeks ago. Cozad now has one of the finest equipped fire departments in the state.

"My Daddy Uses Steckley Seed and Wins Yield Contests"

Steckley hybrids have that breeding that not only wins corn yield contests, but year after year produce consistently better yields. Actual field tests in Valley county prove this.

We still have a good assortment of the best Steckley numbers on hand, although our supply is dwindling. If you are going to need seed corn this spring, we advise you to speak for your supply now.

H. D. Kasson Dies.
Word came Sunday of the death of H. D. Kasson, 48, at the Naval hospital in Seattle, early Sunday morning, where he was taken four weeks ago after he was injured with a block of wood from a power saw, while working at Kodiak, Alaska.
He had been employed at the naval base at Kodiak for several years. Flown to the Naval hospital in Seattle, for several days it was thought there would be no hope for him, but last week word came that he had passed the crisis and was improving. No particulars of his passing are available at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klingensmith, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Fortis and Mr. and Mrs. George Gans and Miss Orpha Kasson left Monday for Seattle, where the funeral will be held. Mr. and Mrs. Klingensmith, who have been in Oregon and Seattle, stayed home last Monday but have not yet arrived.

North Loup High Drops Game.
North Loup basketball team appeared to be lost on the large floor at Grand Island Friday evening and lost their game 41-35. This week they play Sargent at Sargent and Palmer at North Loup. The game with Palmer Thursday evening will be the last home game of the season. North Loup will meet Genoa at the tournament at Osceola next week.

Jackie Burrows in College Play.
Jackie Burrows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burrows, has one of the three feminine parts in the Kearney All College play, "Saint Joan," by George Bernard Shaw, which is to be given in Kearney Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Jackie is a freshman in college.

Jensen Girl Burned Friday Eve.
Ida, four year old daughter of Mrs. Grace Jensen is in the Ord hospital suffering from severe burns on her face, chest and abdomen. Friday evening Mrs. Jensen set a tea-kettle of hot water off the stove to a bench nearby

North Loup Lions Hear "Snow Bound" Operations Told

Ord Visitors Entertain Members With Stories of Disaster Airplane Trips.

The North Loup Lions club met Thursday evening in one of the most interesting sessions yet held. John R. Haskell of the entertainment committee brought nine Ordites with him as guests, as these men took part in the program by telling some of the highlights of "Snowbound" operations.

Mr. Haskell first introduced Leslie Nash of the Soil Conservation service, who talked some himself and also introduced the other men present, all of whom had taken part in mercy flights with the exception of Dr. Glen Auble, who was chairman of the disaster committee.

Those taking part in the program with the exception of Dr. Auble and Mr. Nash were Vernon Nay, D. E. Troyer, Ted Slobaszewski, Swopes, Edna Carson, John Sullivan and Biemond. Mr. Carson told of the flight to bring the Keenan girl to the hospital, and also of the trip he and his wife took to talk over NBC in Chicago.

Dr. Auble told of the quirk of fate that transferred him from county chairman of the Red Cross to county chairman of the disaster committee. He told what work was done, how it was done and some of the difficulties encountered in doing it. All the other men spoke of some of the flights they had made.

At the close of the meeting those present went to the high school building, where Swopes showed a number of pictures he had taken of the snow bound area.

In the business session letters were read, one from President Mead of the Consumers' Public Power district in answer to one written him complaining about the quality of service given in North Loup. He assured the club everything possible would be done to improve the service.

A letter from the University of Nebraska School of Medicine assured the members that available students and returning medical officers would be told of the need of a resident doctor in North Loup.

North Loup Rural Carrier Keeping Vow Made in Nov.

C. J. Goodrich States
He Will Wear Whiskers
Until Route Is Opened.

C. J. Goodrich, North Loup rural carrier, will agree with you on two things: That he has the finest people in the world on his route; and that some of said route is the roughest country to find anywhere. It doesn't take much of a storm to give him plenty of trouble, and this winter has been bad.

He first found a large part of his rural route closed to traffic after the blizzard of Nov. 18. As time went on quite a lot of the distance was reopened, but not all. The carrier then and more snow, wind and more wind. Finally Goodrich made a vow that he would not shave until after the first time he got all the way around his route.

At the present time most of the route is clear, but not all. He is able to get mail out to nearly all his patrons, who have been cooperating with him wonderfully, he states. He figures that the bottom will go out of the roads when the spring thaw comes, and he may make the entire trip before April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Cook entertained at farewell party Sunday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meyer who are leaving this week for their new home in West Point. Guests besides Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams. The evening was spent playing pinochle. Mrs. Williams winning high score for the ladies and Mrs. Jensen for the men. Mrs. Jensen low for the ladies and Hillis Coleman low for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Grow and Bruce have moved to Grand Island and he is working on the Veterans' hospital there. They came up Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Linke who were also Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Van Hoosen.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jorgensen went to Fairmount, Ia. Thursday to spend a week with the Lester Jorgensen family.

Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Williams were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vanosdall and family of Grand Island.

Mrs. Ruth Hutchins, Dick, Dean and Dale had Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bridge, Jackie and Peggy Jean and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Manchester and Carolyn had Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Manchester.

We have some real bargains in fine homes in this modern town and close in at right prices. Several acreage lots with good improvements at prices you can not beat. About two farms that you can have for this season. Better have a look.

Appreciation.
Perhaps the people of Nebraska could have done without the blizzards of the past winter. They came, and while they did much harm, they also did much good. People who were just on speaking terms with the people who lived across the road have found their friends indeed in time of need. Everybody needed help, and everybody helped somebody else.

That is the spirit of the pioneers, a spirit that lives on and on in the lives of men, and comes to the surface only when it is needed in time of trouble and distress. It was the one great thing that held our frontiers together in time of danger. It is the spirit that makes the prairie man forget that he has always considered his neighbors kids a bunch of dirty, ragged brats.

To him they become fellow human beings in need of help, and he helps them. In helping them and viewing them at close range he finds that they are just like other kids beneath the grime that their mother is a fine woman who would keep them cleaner if she didn't have so much work to do, and that the tired, overworked father is one of God's noblemen in blue jeans.

Catastrophe teaches us all the meaning of the word APPRECIATION. It pulls us out of the walls of caste that we have been trying to build around ourselves. It denotes us of the clothing of self-righteousness and holds us up naked to the gaze of the world. In so doing it teaches the value of humility. Clothes may not make the man, but the lack of them makes all men more equal.

We begin to realize that we are not a whit better than millions of other good neighbors. We realize that the measure of a man lies in his willingness to extend a helping hand to those in need. If a blizzard can do that for us, what matters the loss of a few cattle? We have learned something that we cannot purchase with dollars. We have learned the true worth of our fellow men.

Snow and Crops.
One fact well known to observing farmers is that if the ground is well covered with snow in early spring, some crops are almost assured. There can be no evil without its accompanying good. The heavy snowfall of the winter has been evil in many respects, and good in others. Selfish people have become human once more.

People know more about their neighbors and they like them better. They know more about their neighbor's needs, and their own. Next winter will not find the people as unprepared as they were this winter. It is safe to say that the average farmer will lay in a supply of groceries and fuel sufficient to last a month or two.

Next year the farmer will not take the chance of leaving all his hay in windrows, as many did last fall, but will have it in piles big enough so the soil will not cover it up. In other words, each farmer will have learned to depend more upon himself.

But perhaps the greatest benefit that will accrue from the heavy snows of the past winter, is their effect on the soil when melting time comes. Much of the moisture will soak into the soil and will furnish moisture sufficient to guarantee a number of crops.

Among these will be the first cutting of alfalfa, which should reach beautiful maturity without any more moisture. The winter wheat, in case it is not winter-killed, should make a good crop. Oats, barley and other spring grains should make some kind of a crop, even if no more rain falls.

Corn is a different proposition. It is the crop that has to have moisture, and plenty of it, at certain specified times. It will start with very little moisture, but needs plenty of water when it begins to shoot, when it is ready to tassle, and when the ears begin to shoot. It also demands water when the ears begin to fill.

++ Something Different ++

I wonder what resident of our region declined to give an inexpensive bit of comfort to the hard-working army boys of Operation Snowbound?

Long, hard, bitter battling against ice and snow is an even greater evil to fight, because you get so chilled, so achingly cold through and through. So a crew of these fellows, finding they needed to telephone and being desperately cold and weary, made for a close-by farmhouse to ask for a pot of hot coffee and the use of the phone for a few minutes.

They knocked on the door and put their needs politely to the man who opened it. He listened. Then shut the door and dlocked it, without a word.

I am ashamed of that man. All I can think, is that perhaps he did not speak English and could not understand, and perhaps the sturdy, weary characters pounding on his door frightened him!

Doing that sort of heavy work is not conducive to a neat and handsome appearance.

—000—

When the Boy Scouts themselves go out into the byways (what's a byway, Ma?) and search for a scoutmaster, then they really want a Scout patrol here, wouldn't you say?

They have lighted on Dave Watson of the Quiz force. I believe, and the young man takes to the task several notable features.

For one, he is a musician, and he loves music very much. When Quiz Industries hired him, the job had to wait, for Dave had promised to go to Miami to the National Legion convention, as one of the members of the Hastings drum and bugle corps. Also I heard he once played with the Jan Garber's orchestra, which may or may not be accurate information.

Mr. Watson was particularly interested in moving to Ord because he had heard we were a very musical community. And because he is a great admirer of our high school musical director, Bill Nelson.

amount of his harvest may be reduced, or he may lose it entirely. What is a legitimate gamble he must take.

He also gambles on the price. He may hire high priced help, invest in expensive machinery, put in a lot of acre hours in planting, tending and harvesting his crop. He may do all these things, knowing that he must receive a certain amount per bushel or per acre to break even, and he may see the price drop below that essential level. He has the double hazard to run of a low price and a low yield per acre. We might as well rule price controls out of the picture for what he makes because of supported prices he will have to pay back in higher taxes and in increased cost of everything he buys.

But all of this is a legitimate gamble. The business man, the laborer, the skilled artisan, all have similar gambles they must take. Sometimes they may win, sometimes they lose. The man who goes out in search of gold spends about everything he has in a prospector's outfit, a several month supply of provisions, and a burro. He travels far and over God's creation, eats up all his provisions, wears out his tools, and may even lose his — burro into the bargain. In return he may find enough gold to outfit himself again for another year, or the elusive yellow metal. If he is lucky he may find enough to keep him in reasonable comfort for a year, he may strike it rich, as about one in a million do, or he may come back without anything, a poorer man than when he started. Yet all this is a legitimate gamble.

When he comes into this world a man has to take a gamble on what kind of parents he may be lucky, or unlucky enough to draw. If he draws a lucky number he is again in the first place for the elusive yellow metal. If he is lucky he may find enough to keep him in reasonable comfort for a year, he may strike it rich, as about one in a million do, or he may come back without anything, a poorer man than when he started. Yet all this is a legitimate gamble.

He is of very little use in this world, and it will be difficult to find a place for him in the next.

But the man who marries takes a chance. Before he makes his choice all the girls are like apples on a tree. From the ground they all look alike, so he rolls up his marriage license and knocks off the one he thinks he likes the best. If he is lucky he gets a good one, one that is good from the start and becomes mellower as time goes on. On the other hand he may pick one that is green or sour or wormy, one he will soon tire of and wish he never had picked. But he is a gambler and accepts the situation knowing he had his chance and didn't have the best of luck. He kids himself into thinking it could have been a lot worse, and they get along and raise a family of kids that have to gamble through life just like their parents did. Yes, life is all a big gamble, a big game of chance. When we come to the end of it, what matters is not whether we won or lost, but how we played the game.

What's Cookin' Column

Once on a time I saw a fellow having a battle with a one armed bandit, and was it a battle! He wiggled, twisted, squirmed, contorted his face, bit his lips, grunted, groaned, wheezed, squeezed, pulled, hauled. He jerked the handle as though his life depended on how much energy he could burn up. It was not a warm day, but he was sweating. He started in by having the proprietor of the place give him twenty nickels and four ones out of a five dollar bill. In time he got all the other dollars converted but one. He mentioned the fact that he was just putting in his time while waiting for a man. After a while the man came. I had been watching all the time and knew he just had the one dollar in his pocket and some small change. The other man asked him how he had come out. He counted his change, held it up and said: "Here it is. I'm just 40c to the good."

Why will people kid themselves that way? Why is it that you never hear of anybody dropping any amount of money in a gamble of any kind? The only chance you have of hearing of it is from the man who won. The only reason people want to gamble is the fact that they kid themselves into thinking they can win. Any gambling game is fixed so the players lose. If it were not fixed that way, it would not be a gamble. Even in a friendly poker game run on the level, nobody can win. When it is over one fellow may have a little less. But, unless they have thrown some into the kitty to pay expenses, they wind up with exactly the same amount of money as they had when they started.

Let us consider the man and the one-armed bandit again. He claimed he was ahead 40c. As a matter of fact, he had $1.10 left out of $5, and had lost $3.60. Not only that, he spent at least a dollar's worth of time at prevailing wages. He used up enough energy to shovel all the snow around a block. If he had any conscience he probably cursed himself for all these things, and also for lying about the outcome. Gambling is not the only thing we kid ourselves about. Not that there is much but gambling in this world. From the time we arrive until we leave everything with which we come in contact is a gamble. The important difference is that some things we do are legitimate gambling. The farmer gambles with the Lord when he sows his crop in the spring. If the rains don't come, if the frost or hail does come, if the seed fails to sprout, if floods wash it away, if any one of a thousand things happen, the

BURLINGTON'S 100th ANNIVERSARY

One hundred years ago, a little group of foresighted men obtained a charter for the twelve-mile Aurora Branch Railroad. From that humble beginning (on February 12, 1849) has grown the present Burlington system—11,000 miles of railroad, serving fourteen great states. Rich in the pioneering tradition, the Burlington has contributed many important innovations in railroading... from the first railway post office (1862) to America's first diesel-powered, streamlined train (1934) and the first Vista-Dome car (1945). The 35,000 men and women of the Burlington Lines are proud of its past progress and its present achievements. But they are more interested in the future. The Burlington's first century, eventful and productive, lies behind us. Ahead is a new horizon... a new challenge... a new opportunity —to serve more people better through the years to come.

May Be Greater Hazard Than Storms and Blizzards Have Been

dams on the North Loup river, and the one at the mouth of the river. The Burlington railroad bridge at Ord is protected to a certain extent by the dam just above it, but this would prove a liability instead of an asset if the dam should give way. Ice jams on the Burlington bridge in the past have spread the river out all over the low land to the east and west, and may do so again this spring.

The Union Pacific should be reasonably safe between Grand Island and Ord, with the exception of the bridge at Scotia and the one at the mouth of Davis Creek. At Scotia the water has a chance to spread out over a large area and dissipate the force it might otherwise exert on the bridge itself.

Both railroads have a supply of dynamite on hand and will use it freely if needed. The state highway department will not have much to worry about in this area, but the bridge at Scotia will require a lot of attention in case an ice jam develops.

Of one thing we may be certain. Travel on the roads and highways will be hazardous from the time the thaw starts until the roads become dry enough to present a reasonably solid surface. If this period is long, the danger to bridges and dams will be less, but the country roads will be tough over a longer period of time.

It is only natural that our winters of heaviest snowfall and most intense cold should be followed by floods and ice jams. One of these winters was that of 1935-36, and the ice caused plenty of alarm when it went out that spring. A story of what happened then is given in the Quiz for March 5, 1936.

"The ice in the North Loup river, frozen to the greatest depth in many years, has responded to the persuasive touch of springlike weather and is rapidly beginning to break up. County Engineer H. O. Strombon tells the Quiz result being that Elyria, Ord and Sumter bridges are endangered.

"So far a dynamite gang led by Ed Anderson has been able to keep the channels open. At the Sumter bridge Monday a case of dynamite was used, and Tuesday dynamiting was in progress above the Ord and Elyria bridges. The old Sumter bridge, with its shorter spans, is in the greatest danger of the three.

"The Valley county road situation is terrible. Heavy snows of January and February have almost melted and mudholes have formed on every dirt road. Fifty men are being kept busy draining these mudholes. The road to Ericson is practically impassable. The road situation is the worst in years, it is claimed."

The danger is great while it lasts, but is soon over. That must have been the case in 1936, for there is no mention of the ice situation in the Quiz put out just a week later.

Indians Win From Chanticleers for Cinch on 2nd Place

Game Against Loup City Not to Change Standing of Top Place Winners.

The Indians from Broken Bow came to Ord Friday evening and won sweet revenge for the drubbing they had taken at the hands of the Chanticleers on the Broken Bow floor some time before. It was a lively affair all the way, with the Indians getting, and deserving, the necessary points it takes to win. The final score was 33 to 28.

Ord got the same number of points it took to win the first game, but Broken Bow took the lead right from the start and was never headed. The Indians came to it was the 19 to 16 score at the half. The Chants made a battle of it all the way, but it was a losing battle.

They continued to make a battle of it all through the third quarter, which ended with the score 28 to 24. To Wells went the honor of slipping in the Ord final field goal but this still left the locals five points short of a tie.

What should have proved one of the outstanding games of the season was due to be played on the Broken Bow floor Tuesday night between the Warriors and second place Loup City. Regardless of score the two teams would still maintain their first and second place standings.

Again Dale Richardson carried off high point honors, collecting 16 points for Ord. Ralph Meston, who paced the visitors in their win, was high with 14 points for the Warriors. Ord is closing pre-tournament competition Tuesday night with a game at Central City, where they will face first in the district tournament.

Funeral Held for Mrs. E. Skudler

Funeral rites were held at Atkinson for Mrs. Emma Skudler, 78, a pioneer and the widow of Joseph Skudler, who operated the Atkinson roller mill and electric light plant from 1908 to 1919.

She died in Lincoln which had been the family home since 1919. She leaves a number of descendants, among whom is a granddaughter, Mrs. Donald Mattem of Burwell.

Biggest Contributor to CROP Campaign

D. C. White, of Kingsdown, Kansas, is believed to have made the largest single contribution of grain to the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP), by giving 3,126 bushels of wheat.

White's gift was included on the recent Kansas CROP train and was part of the 2000 carloads of farm commodities contributed by rural people in 24 states.

CROP will conduct campaigns in all 48 states in 1949. The movement is sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief.

Walter Douthit, Chosen Manager of Ord's Ball Club

League Meeting Held Wednesday Night to Formulate Plans.

A group of thirty baseball enthusiasts met Wednesday evening in the basement room at the Veterans club for the purpose of formulating plans for baseball in Central Nebraska this year. The group chose Walter Douthit as manager for the year.

Harold Christensen was again elected secretary-treasurer. It was further announced that a league meeting was to be held Wednesday evening of this week either at Arcadia or Ansley to decide on a number of matters that concern the league, including the election of league officials for the coming year.

The subject of lights for the baseball field was brought up, and a committee of six, appointed to look into the matter and collect money to buy the lights. Teams in the league last year included Ord, Loup City, Arcadia, Berwyn, Ansley, Mason City, Broken Bow, Miller, Comstock and Litchfield. It is believed all of them will continue in the league this year.

Pairings Made for Central City B. B. Tournament, Mar. 9

Loup City, 'Albion, Fullerton, Aurora Seeded Teams. Albion Drew Bye.

Coach Dick Peterson and assistant Roland Moore went to Central City Saturday, where they met with the other coaches in the area and completed plans for the district basketball tournament, which will be held at Central City, beginning March 9.

The men report having a very fine time while there, and a most satisfactory meeting. After the meeting the visitors were treated to a steak dinner. There are seven teams in the district: Loup City, Central City, St. Bonaventure, Fullerton, Albion, Ord and Aurora.

The seeded teams are Loup City, Albion, Fullerton and Aurora. In the drawings Albion drew a bye. St. Bonaventure and Fullerton will play in the middle bracket and in the first game, at 5:30. At 7 p. m. Ord and Aurora meet in the lower bracket, and at 8:30 Loup City and Central City meeting in the top bracket.

The winners will meet in two games Thursday evening, and the final and consolation games will be held on Friday evening. Loup City is conceded the inside track, although, as Gregg McBride puts it, Albion and Aurora might give them, some argument, and Ord might surprise.

Snow Cost High in Cedar County

According to figures furnished by Edward S. Stevens, county clerk of Cedar county, the county had spent $32,359.32 for snow removal during the period from Nov. 15 to Jan. 31, and of course the snow battle was by no means over at the end of January. A part of the work about that time was done by the army, but the county still had plenty to do.

Cedar county is somewhat larger than Valley county, and it is believed they had more snow to contend with there than here. It will be interesting to know what the cost was in Valley county. The figures are not available at this time but the complete cost will be released soon and will be given at that time.

Prizes Awarded Feb. 16 to Corn Contest Winners

North Central Nebraska Contestants Are Given Certificates of Award.

Farmers entrants from the fourteen counties of the North Central Nebraska district were awarded certificates at a meeting held at the Knights of Columbus hall Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 16. The meeting had been postponed from Jan. 12 because of bad weather conditions.

Only farmers from the counties in the immediate area were present. In addition to a large number from Valley county, there were visitors present from Greeley, Wheeler, Garfield, Custer and Holt counties. No entrants were present from Howard, Sherman, Loup, Blaine, Brown, Rock, Key-apa and Boyd counties.

Entertainment in the forenoon session consisted of the showing of movies and at the same time entries in the corn contests were being registered. In the afternoon the movie "Out by the Steekley Hybrid" company was shown.

Clarence Ernest Speaks. Clarence Ernest of O'Neill, one of the men who made the WOV sponsored trip to Europe, showed a bunch of slides made from pictures he took while in Europe, showing scenes of European agriculture. He also discussed farm life in Europe and told the highlights of the trip. His talk was the high point of interest of the entire day.

Henry Wolfe of the college of agriculture talked on the results of the 1948 corn yield contest. D. L. Wolfe, also of the agriculture department, spoke briefly. This was followed by the presentation of diplomas to the winners of the contest. The winners were: Henry Nuxall, Comstock, Custer county, 156.4 bushels per acre. Second place winner is also of Comstock, Ludwig Visek, 146.9 bushels per acre. Third was Vincent Berger of Spalding, Greeley county, with 141 bushels per acre, and Carraber Bros. of Spalding were fifth with 139.1 bushels per acre.

In the non-irrigated yellow corn class Louis Glasen of Spalding, Greeley county, had 133.3 bushels; Wallace Condit, Ord, had 125 bushels; O. L. Ferman, Naper, Boyd county had 122.6 bushels; Leo Petersen, Berwyn, 114.2 bushels and Joe Hruby, Arcadia, 111.5 bushels. Winners in the Valley county irrigated class were: R. E. Burrows, second, 131 bushels and Paul Geneski third, 126 bushels.

The following cash awards were made for the corn show: Six cars yellow corn—Robert Scott, Arcadia, first; Ed Burrows, North Loup second; John Ragland, Jr., Ord, third; Floyd Wetzel, Ord, fourth; Lumir Sich, fifth. Prizes were $5, $4, $3, $2, $1. Six ears yellow corn—John Ballweg, Spalding, first; John Ragland, Jr., Ord, second; Don Shoemaker, Ord, third; Dean Spiering, Ord, fourth and fifth. Prizes, same as above.

Bushel white corn, irrigated: Robert Dvorak, Ord, first; second; Rene Dubas, Ord, third; Paul Krikka, Comstock, fourth. Prizes, $10, $7.50, $5, and $2.50. Bushel White Corn, dry—John Ballweg, Spalding, first; John Ragland, Ord, second; Don Shoemaker, Ord, third and fourth. Prizes as above. Bushel Yellow Corn, irrigated—J. B. Zulkoski, Elyria, first; Ed Burrows, North Loup, second; Jim Sich, Ord, third; Floyd Wetzel, Ord, fourth. Prizes as above. Bushel Yellow Corn, dry—Thead L. Nelson, Ord, first; John Ragland, Ord, second; Erwin Zulkoski, Elyria, third. Prizes as above, only three contestants.

Longest ear—Thead Nelson, first; Jim Sich, second; John Ragland, Jr., third. Prizes $5, $3, $2. Heaviest Ear—Floyd Wetzel, first, 1 lb 3 1/4 oz.; John Ragland, Jr., 1 lb 3 oz., second; and Frank Polak, third, 1 lb 1/4 oz. Prizes $3, $2, and $1. While no award had been offered for freak ears, a number of them were exhibited. B. Zulkoski was awarded $1 for having the best.

The day was the first that could be classed as a spring day, and about two hundred were out for the meetings. The contests were put on under the auspices of the Ord Chamber of Commerce and the Valley County Extension service, and all who had a part in the work feel that it was well worth while and aroused much interest in corn raising.

Elbert Sell Fined; Had a Pheasant. Elbert Sell of Arcadia was brought into Judge Charles Clochon's court Tuesday on information furnished by Game Warden Myers of Sargent and charged with killing a pheasant out of season.

He entered a plea of guilty to the charge, was fined $10 and $10 liquidated damages, also costs of $4, all of which he paid and was released.

Editor's Note: The above item, which appeared in the February 10 Quiz is incorrect, according to Mr. Sell, who informed the Quiz Tuesday that he was convicted of illegal possession of a pheasant, not killing one, and asked that the Quiz print this correction.

School Board Asks John Ward to Stay

The Atkinson school board has asked John Ward, now serving his first year as superintendent of the public schools there, to continue for another year. Before the war Mr. Ward was superintendent at Taylor and well known in this area.

He served in the army air force as personnel officer during the war. After the war he and his family lived in Wayne, where he was employed by the veterans administration before moving to Atkinson last fall.

Ord, Central City Stage Tough Fight There Tuesday Eve

First Team Loses 43-41 But Second Team Scores At Will to Win Easily.

The Chanticleers ran into tough competition at Central City Tuesday evening and lost 43 to 41. In spite of the final result, they were out in front all the way, losing out in about two minutes at the end of the game. The score by quarters was Ord, 9-25-36-41 Central City, 7-20-29-43.

Chief point getters for Ord were Richardson, with 20 points and Tolen with 12. Munn made 7, and Falter 2. Also playing were Wells, Stoddard, Heuck, Nelson and Laursen. Stoddard retired by the foul route in the final quarter. Cerdson made 13 points for Central City, Rasmussen made 11, Montgomery made 10, Larson 3 and Hedges, Sampson and Galusha made two each. Crandell, Henk and Homberger failed to score.

In the B team game Dvorak made 9 points for Ord, Adamck made 8, Blaha, Severson and Malolepszy made 4 each, Misko made 2 and Penas made 1. Other players were Ludington, Sowers and Stone. Campbell made 8 points for the losers, F. Harlow made 5, Shields made 4, E. Nielsen 2, and Hedges 1. The final score was Ord 50, Central City 18.

Loup City, Sutton Heading Parade in Trans-Nebraska

Four Games Remaining to Be Played; Cannot Affect Team Standings.

With only one game more to be played this week, Loup City leads in the Northern division of the Trans-Nebraska conference with 7 wins and no losses. Their remaining game is with Broken Bow, in second place with 5 wins and 2 losses, so the outcome of the game will not affect the standings.

The Northern half plays a double round robin. In the Southern half, where a single round is played, Sutton leads with 3 wins and no losses, and Minden is second with 2 wins and 1 loss. Games still to be played in the conference include Loup City at Broken Bow, Burwell at Ravenna, Geneva at Sutton and Superior at Minden.

The league standings: Northern Division Won Lost Loup City 7 0 Broken Bow 5 2 Ord 2 4 Ravenna 2 5 Burwell 0 5 Southern Division Won Lost Sutton 3 0 Minden 2 1 Crete 3 2 Superior 1 2 Geneva 0 3

Valley County RED CROSS DRIVE

Starts March 1

Ord Director — Don Auble
North Loup — C. W. McClellan
Arcadia — Mrs. E. C. Baird

Due to road conditions it will not be possible to solicit every rural home as in the past. Farmers are requested to bring or mail their contributions to any of the above, or to the county drive chairman, John R. Haskell, Ord.

Your Support Is Needed and Solicited.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Seed

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover seed are both very short this year and with normal plantings there will not be enough Alfalfa to go around and Sweet Clover will be very scarce. If you are going to need Alfalfa or Sweet Clover seed this spring we would advise that you get your supplies as soon as convenient. AAA will make a nice payment of Alfalfa plantings this spring and there is a payment for plowing under Sweet Clover.

Brome and Crested Wheat

Many of the grass seeds are the highest that they have ever been. If you plant the right combinations you can receive a good payment for such plantings. We have small supplies of both Brome and Crested Wheat Grass seed. Also limited amounts of Red Clover, Alsike, Timothy and Red Top.

Fertilizers

This week we have talked to our supplier of Ammonium Nitrate and the prospect for Nitrate this year is not good. It looks very much as if we would get less than half of the Nitrate that we have had booked since last summer. We have a reasonable amount of Superphosphate on hand and more of that is available and ordered soon. There will be a big demand on the use of Superphosphate this year if applied to Alfalfa and Sweet Clover and Pasture and Hay Lands. It will pay you well to use this Superphosphate this year.

We believe that a 10-20-0 Fertilizer would be a very good fertilizer to use in our locality. This is available in limited quantities but we feel that if there is a demand for it that a crop could be obtained this Spring.

Cornhusker Hybrids

We have received our Cornhusker Hybrids and you if you do not have your order as yet we have several different numbers that are suited for our section. Place your order while good kernel size are available. Also plenty of good standard numbers for you. Look up the record of Cornhusker in the county tests this past year. A very remarkable record.

Hy-Line Chicks

It looks to us as if the supply of baby chicks will be very limited as soon as we have some real nice weather and we get rid of this snow. Why not let us have your order now and you will not be disappointed. Hy-Lines are very sturdy chicks and your death loss will be very limited. Your broilers will go on the market weighing three pounds at about 10 weeks and the egg production of the pullets will really surprise you.

dams on the North Loup river, and the many flumes that might develop from action of the frost and flood waters from snow. Archie Bradt, who has charge of Hardenbrook dam, is already watching the river carefully, and the entire irrigation force will be called on if the need arises.

The Burlington railroad bridge at Ord is protected to a certain extent by the dam just above it, but this would prove a liability instead of an asset if the dam should give way. Ice jams on the Burlington bridge in the past have spread the river out all over the low land to the east and west, and may do so again this spring.

The Union Pacific should be reasonably safe between Grand Island and Ord, with the exception of the bridge at Scotia and the one at the mouth of Davis Creek. At Scotia the bridge has a chance to spread out over a large area and dissipate the force it might otherwise exert on the bridge itself.

Both railroads have a supply of dynamite on hand and will use it freely if needed. The state highway department will not have much to worry about in this area, but the bridge at Scotia will require a lot of attention in case an ice jam develops.

Of one thing we may be certain. Travel on the roads and highways will be hazardous from the time the thaw starts until the roads become dry enough to present a reasonably solid surface. If this period is long, the danger to bridges and dams will be less, but the country roads will be tough over a longer period of time.

It is only natural that our winters of heaviest snowfall and most intense cold should be followed by floods and ice jams. One of these winters was that of 1935-36, and the ice caused plenty of alarm when it went out that spring. A story of what happened then is given in the Quiz for March 5, 1936.

"The ice in the North Loup river, frozen to the greatest depth in many years, has responded to the persuasive touch of springlike weather and is rapidly beginning to break up, County Engineer H. O. Stromborn tells the Quiz, result of the ice in the North Loup river bridges are endangered.

"So far a dynamite gang led by Ed Anderson has been able to keep the channels open. At the Sumter bridge Monday a case of dynamite was used, and Tuesday dynamiting was in progress above the Ord and Elyria bridges. The old Sumter bridge, with its shorter spans, is in the greatest danger of the three.

"The Valley county road situation is terrible. Heavy snows of January and February have almost melted and mudholes have formed on every dirt road. Fifty men are being kept busy draining these mudholes. The road to Ericson is practically impassable. The road situation is the worst in years, it is claimed."

The danger is great while it lasts, but is soon over. That must have been the case in 1936, for there is no mention of the ice situation in the Quiz put out just a week later.

Indians Win From Chanticleers for Cinch on 2nd Place

Game Against Loup City Not to Change Standing of Top Place Winners.

The Indians from Broken Bow came to Ord Friday evening and won sweet revenge for the drubbing they had taken at the hands of the Chanticleers on the Broken Bow floor some time before. It was a lively affair all the way, with the Indians getting, and deserving the necessary points it took to win. The final score was 33 to 28.

Ord got the same number of points it took to win the first game, but Broken Bow took the lead right from the start and was never headed. The closest they came to it was the 19 to 16 score at the half. The Chant's made a battle of it all the way, but it was a losing battle.

They continued to make a battle of it all through the third quarter, which ended with the score 28 to 24. To win the honor of slipping in the Ord final field goal but this still left the locals five points short of a tie.

What should have proved one of the outstanding games of the season was due to be played on the Broken Bow floor Tuesday night between the Warriors and second place Loup City. Regardless of score the two teams would still maintain their first and second place standings.

Again Dale Richardson carried off high point honors, collecting 16 points for Ord. Ralph Weston, who paced the visitors in their win, was high with 14 points for the Warriors. Ord is closing pre-tournament competition Tuesday night with a game at Central City, the team they will face first in the district tournament.

Walter Douthit Chosen Manager of Ord's Ball Club

League Meeting Held Wednesday Night to Formulate Plans.

A group of thirty baseball enthusiasts met Wednesday evening in the basement room at the Veterans club for the purpose of formulating plans for baseball in Central Nebraska this year. The group chose Walt Douthit as manager for the year.

Harold Christensen was again elected secretary-treasurer. It was further announced that a league meeting was to be held Wednesday evening of this week either at Arcadia or Ansley to decide on a number of matters that concern the league, including the election of league officials for the coming year.

The subject of lights for the baseball field was brought up, and a committee of six appointed to look into the matter and collect money to buy the lights. Teams in the league last year included Ord, Loup City, Arcadia, Berwyn, Ansley, Mason City, Broken Bow, Miller, Comstock and Litchfield. It is believed all of them will continue in the league this year.

Pairings Made for Central City B. B. Tournament, Mar. 9

Loup City, Albion, Fullerton, Aurora Seeded Teams. Albion Drew Bye.

Coach Dick Peterson and assistant Rolland Moore went to Central City Saturday, where they met with the other coaches in the area and completed plans for the district basketball tournament, which will be held at Central City, beginning March 9.

The men report having a very fine time while there, and a most satisfactory meeting. After the meeting the visitors were treated to a steak dinner. There are seven teams in the district: Loup City, Central City, St. Bonaventure, Fullerton, Albion, Ord and Aurora.

The seeded teams are Loup City, Albion, Fullerton and Aurora. In the drawings Albion drew a bye. St. Bonaventure and Fullerton will play in the middle bracket and in the first game, at 5:30 p. m. on Monday, Aurora meet in the lower bracket, and at 8:30 Loup City and Central City meet in the top bracket.

The winners will meet in two games Thursday evening, and the final and consolation games will be held on Friday evening. Loup City conceded the inside track, although, as Gregg McBride put it, Albion and Aurora might give them, some argument, and Ord might surprise.

Snow Cost High in Cedar County

According to figures furnished by Edward S. Stevens, county clerk of Cedar county, the county had spent $32,359.32 for snow removal during the period from Nov. 18 to Jan. 31, and of course the snow battle was by no means over at the end of January. A part of the work about that time was done by the army, but the county still had plenty to do.

Cedar county is somewhat larger than Valley county, and it is believed they had more snow to contend with there than here. It will be interesting to know what the cost was in Valley county. The figures are not available at this time but the complete cost will be released soon and will be given at that time.

Business Looking Good in Holt County, Newspaper Reports

Irrigation Survey Is Made: R.E.A. Loan of $157,000 Is Approved.

According to figures and facts furnished last week by the Atkinson Graphic, Holt county is going forward with plans for irrigation and is receiving funds for extension of the REA in that area, which includes Boyd and Knox counties in addition to Holt. There are 68,929 acres of irrigable land in Holt county, according to a survey made and released recently by Clyde Burdick, area engineer, Bureau of Reclamation, Ainsworth. Mr. Burdick, incidentally, is quite well known in this area. Of this amount 4,796 acres are in Class 1, located most favorably for irrigation and 64,133 Class 2, not quite so desirable. However, the entire amount is capable of irrigation. The water for the project would come from the Niobrara River. The Niobrara Valley Electric Membership Corporation has been granted an additional loan of $157,000 by the REA. The funds were allocated for the purpose of building lines in Holt, Boyd and Knox counties. Actual construction on the rural lines has stopped some time ago by weather conditions, but the work will start again soon, according to Ed Wilson, manager. The company now has sufficient funds to complete Section 1, but is applying for funds for Section 2.

More Victims of Storm Conditions

C. F. (Frank) Clark, Garfield county commissioner, had both bones in his right leg just above the ankle broken last week while riding on back of an underslung. He was unable to get to Burwell until the next morning, when Dr. E. J. Smith reduced the fracture. Before going home Mr. Clark met with other members of the county board and transacted necessary business. Gerald Wragge of Pierce is confined to his home with a broken leg. He was helping push a neighbor's car stuck in a snow drift when he slipped and fell, breaking his leg in two places. It was several days before the doctor could put the leg in a cast. Cars driven by Benny Ulrich of Wayne and Robert Hutchings of Allen collided in a deep cut in a snow drift north of Wayne. Luckily no one was injured, but serious damage was done to the cars. Mrs. Charles Marks of Pilger suffered lacerations and bruises when the Marks car collided with a Cumling county car between West Point and Oakland during a snow storm. Because drifting roads made it impossible to get to West Point, she was taken to Oakland. Earl Peterson, rancher near Bassett, had 38 head of White Face cattle drift away from the main herd in the January storm. After 30 days they were discovered by plane and brought in. They had gone all that time without water and nothing to eat but stems and tops of grass that showed above the snow, but they were able to come in on a trot when plowed out. While he was trying to thaw out some frozen pipes on the Melvin Tygart farm near Newman Grove, W. Johnson received severe burns on his face and wrists when his blow torch exploded. For a time he was very ill from the effects of the burns, but is reported improving.

Recent Price Held in Omaha Monday

Want More Money For Your Cream?

If you are skimming by hand... using an old or inefficient centrifugal separator... or the water dilution method... you can very likely increase your cream checks by 25% or more. Here's how you can prove this for yourself before you buy: 1. Just use a De Laval Separator for two weeks on a free trial. We'll loan you the machine and show you how to use it. 2. See for yourself how much bigger your cream checks are with a De Laval Separator. See how it would pay for itself in extra cream produced. Then if you are satisfied and like your bigger cream checks you can keep the De Laval Separator and make small, easy, weekly payments on it - in most cases the extra cream it gets will easily make the payments. Do you want to make more money? Then ask us today to arrange for your free trial.

Humble Peas Used to Sell As Luxury for $62 a Pint

Most people do not know that peas once sold for $62.50 per pint - enough money to buy 400 cans of peas at the grocer's today. Nor do they know that most of the 30,000 farmers for whom peas are an all-important cash crop get paid on the calculations of an instrument called a tenderometer, which crushes a given quantity of green peas and determines their tenderness. The easier the crush the higher the price the canner pays the farmer. Last year canner, packed nearly 600 million cans of peas, which, if it piced end to end, would circle the globe twice. Peas costing over 1 cent a piece, or $62.50 a pint, were a delicacy indulged in by members of the French court during the reign of Louis XIV. The author of the Life of Colbert wrote in 1696 that peas were "both a fashion and a madness." Flavor and quality in peas are captured by canning them as soon as they reach the correct stage of maturity. Even a small pea canery can turn out 300 cans per hour. Working night and day during harvest time, members of the industry in 27 states last year packed enough peas to provide everyone in the United States with 25 generous servings.

Prior to the meeting of the 17th legislature, which is expected to meet in the next few days, the state highway department has completed an appraisal of the state's highway system. The appraisal shows that the mileage of county roads was first limited to 25 percent of the roads in the county, and later to 40 percent. In 1947, this limitation was removed entirely, and a large amount of money was added when the rural routes were declared county roads.

This was done as a part of the Schroeder bill, to remove the difficulty a county would find itself in graveling roads that belonged to the townships. Since mail routes are later on to give the best possible service to patrons consistent with the dictates of common sense, it necessarily follows that many roads run over difficult terrain.

While the rural carriers have long been aware of the condition of the roads they have to travel, the seriousness of the situation did not appeal so much to the patrons or to the general public until the present winter and its storms showed how easily nature could eliminate much of the routes as a means of travel. Until the coming of the bulldozers many mail routes had not been open all the way since last Nov. 18.

In one case a mail box just a quarter of a mile off a federal highway had no mail put in it from Nov. 15 until Feb. 12, a period of 86 days or nearly three months. If this could happen only a quarter of a mile from the limits of an organized town, it stands to reason conditions were even worse out on the far limits of mail routes, especially those in the hills.

In addition to the Schroeder graveling bill, the 1947 legislature specified that all mail routes should be given the preference in maintenance. Today there are 91,526 miles on the Nebraska county and township systems, 8,860 miles of which are on the federal aid secondary system.

When the counties match federal aid secondary funds to construct or repair a road, the state law provides that the state shall add that mileage to the system for future maintenance or reconstruction. In this way more and more miles are being added to the state system from time to time and responsibility and authority is becoming more and more centralized.

Today there are 5,100 miles of city and village streets in Nebraska, and the governing body, whether city council or village board, has the power to lay out, open, improve, control, vacate or close these streets, and responsibility for maintaining and repairing the streets and alleys may acquire the extra land for widening, opening or changing streets by the right of eminent domain.

The authority over the city streets is given to a variety of municipal agencies and there is no clear pattern which covers all of them. The general plan is similar in all cases, giving the governing body the right and responsibility for maintaining and repairing the streets and alleys and fixing the blame for their failure to do so.

Until recently the state had nothing to do with maintaining streets, but under the present laws the state is required to maintain streets or roads through cities of less than 2,500 population, said population of course based on the last federal census. In cities of 2,500 to 25,000 population the state is required to pay half the maintenance up to a 24 foot width.

In cities of less than 2,500 population the state usually builds a permanent highway through town on all state highways. In some cases the state engineer's office demands that the state be given the right to build this highway as the engineer sees best. As a result of this the village of North Loup, for example had the street through the main business block cut down a foot lower than it should have been, making travel on foot difficult and dangerous, especially for older people.

For a number of years highways, roads and streets have been a big business enterprise in Nebraska. In 1938 a check-up showed that thirty percent of all expenditures in the state were for highways, roads and streets. In fact, the two chief sources of revenue in Nebraska today are the highway system and the public schools.

Both of these systems are coming in for legislation by the unicameral at the present session. All legislators seem to be agreed that something must be done, but on the question of what should be done opinions are widely divergent. In the past some highway user taxes have been diverted to non-highway use, but this is no longer being done in Nebraska.

It might be well at this time to go into the sources of funds used on the Nebraska highway system. As might be expected, the amount from different sources has varied greatly through the years. Some of them have increased their percentage through the years, and one, federal relief, was used for a time in the '30s and then dropped out of the picture.

Motor vehicle revenue represented 29 percent of the total revenue in 1925, 59 percent in 1940, and averaged 42 percent in the years from 1914 to 1946 inclusive. The percentage in this category is the gasoline tax, next come registration fees, and finally equalization fees and Omaha wheel tax.

Property taxes for current use furnished 41 percent in 1925, 20 percent in 1940 and averaged 26 percent over the period from 1914 to 1946. Bond issues took care of 15 percent in 1925, practically none in 1940, and an average of 8 percent over the entire period.

Federal aid figured 8 percent in 1925, 15 percent in 1940 and averaged 13 percent. Miscellaneous which included inheritance tax, poll tax and others, accounted for 4 percent in 1925, 6 percent in 1940, and averaged 3 percent over the years. Federal relief accounted for 9 percent of the total over the years 1914 to 1946. Today we derive over half of our road revenue from motor vehicle revenues.

Victims of Storm Are Recovering

Two victims of the blizzard are now well on the way to recovery. Alvin Anderson had part of three fingers on his right hand and the tips of both great toes removed Tuesday, and it is now hoped his recovery will be rapid. He will remain in the hospital for a few more days and then convalesce at home.

Eight-year-old Isabel Kasson is still in Grand Island with her mother. She has had parts of six fingers removed, and will have to return to the hospital for additional skin grafting. Her father, Charles Kasson, was in the Quiz office Tuesday to renew his subscription, and said she is improving all the time.

When You and I Were Young

Ten Years Ago — C. S. Jones, former Ord editor and school superintendent, died at Hayes Center. — Mrs. Emily Burrows celebrated her 92nd birthday Feb. 24. — F. E. McQuillan sold the Ord Grill to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Clark of Rapid City, S. Dak. — Bruce Copeland committed suicide at his home in North Loup. — Coach Helm Brockman was taken to the hospital with stomach ulcers. — J. F. Webster of the St. Paul Phonograph died at a Knoxville, Ia. hospital. — Papers were made out for acquiring the present Ord post office site. — As the result of a tire blowout Paul Duncayer was cut about the head in a car accident.

Twenty Years Ago — Charles Crocker was elected to membership on the board of the Co-op Oil company, taking the place of James Hidy. — Joe Dworak had bought the Blue Bird Cafe, opened a few months before by Everett McLain. — John Stallburg, laboratory technician, was the new assistant to Dr. C. W. Weekes at Hillcrest hospital. — Charles W. Post, who homesteaded where Elyria now stands, died at his home in Aurora at the age of 82 years. — John L. Ward was winner in an ad contest put on by the Ord Quiz. — Charley Watson high school teacher, accepted a position with the Goshute Hardware company and was moving his family there. — An Ord team, consisting of Blessing, Carlson, Nay, Lashmet and Anderson defeated North Loup 27 to 12.

Thirty Years Ago — John Haskell, then living in Omaha, was relieved of his negro holiday man. — Melvin Bukoutz, high school teacher, was located in Ord. — The stockholders of the Loup Valley Agricultural association were voting on whether to sell the grounds. — The farmers were planning to start a bank and to buy the Perkins building (now Aulsebrook). — Karl Kupke sr., of Mira Valley died at the age of 87 years. — Guy Strong was very seriously ill as a result of a rotary snow plow at Hampton. — Carl Moss made the trip from Ord to Burwell over the roads we had at that time, and it took him five hours. A good walker can walk it in four hours today.

Forty Years Ago — Edith Wirsig, George Munn and Clayton Burke went to Ravenna as debating team representing Ord high school on the affirmative of the question: "Resolved: that disputes between capital and labor should be settled by boards of arbitration with compulsory powers." — The idea still sounds good. — There was going to be a big sale on the W. I. Stevens ranch south of Ord, now the Fuss ranch. — Peter Honeycutt and Mrs. Maggie Copeland Wilson were married on Davis Creek by Justice Frank White. — Leon Briesley returned from Oklahoma, well pleased with prospects here and about convincing his folks to go back and buy land. The Burlington was derailed by a snow-drift near Elyria.

Fifty Five Years Ago — Rudolph Sorensen put together odd pieces of machinery and made a windmill out on the farm, which was still pumping water after a year of use. — I. C. Bragg was talking up a railroad to run from Albion to Scotts, Ord, Westcott and North Platte. To save expense it was to be narrow gauge. — Valley county experienced a strong earthquake shock Thursday morning March 1, 1891. — The Burlington railroad had filed instruments vacating most of the townsites of Sumner and Elyria and all of railroad addition to Arcadia, thus cutting down materially on taxes.

Sixty Five Years Ago — Miss Edith Robbins performed the part of Little Eva in the playing of "Uncle Tom's Cabin in Ord. — E. D. Cheesbrough was to have an auction at his general merchandise store. — Ferd Hollingsworth was raising funds for the building of a church in his neighborhood, which was in Mira Valley, then called Mira Creek. — W. J. Davis sold his meat market back to A. T. Stacy from whom he had bought it a few weeks before. — The Quiz was promulgating a special immigration edition and was taking orders for it ahead of time. — M. B. Smith, a road overseer, was ordered to cut the ice under the Ord bridge presumably to prevent an ice jam.

Frovin Rasmussen's Bees Worked Hard, Produced 13,000 Lbs. Honey in 1949

Frovin Rasmussen, the well-known postmaster and band leader of Rockville, enjoys a considerable reputation in a third occupation — bee-keeping.

The Rasmussen bees worked hard during 1948. Eighty hives produced 13,000 pounds of honey, a production of a 160 pounds average, as compared to the state average of less than 50 pounds per hive.

Although operated as a sideline, the Rasmussen honey industry covers a wide area. All the larger bakeries in Grand Island and Hastings buy from him in half-ton lots, for use in making honey-crushed bread and for pastries. The product is also for sale in many towns in central Nebraska and as far west as California and Washington State, where it finds favor mainly because of its unusually high quality and careful processing.

Frovin has been in the bee business for 31 years, but only on a larger scale in recent years. He has had as many as 120 stands of bees in production, sending them all himself. He has the hives scattered about in a half-dozen locations around Rockville and Boelus.

Besides his own bees, Rasmussen serves as a state bee inspector, for central Nebraska. All hives must be inspected for disease before they can be shipped outside the state borders.

Commercial bee-keeping is a larger business than one might think. In Sherman and Valley counties for instance. One man at Arcadia shipped out 880 stands to Texas, and another at Ashton sent 400 stands to California for the winter. The bees are shipped at the end of the producing season in November, work over the winter in the south, and brought back again in April for the summer.

Frovin does not ship his bees south and fears that this cold winter will bring about a heavy loss. The bees in the hive in the winter form a cluster and if the cold weather is continuous, they can not move to full honey combs in the hive, thereby starving with honey within easy reach.

But he expects to have plenty left to start up in business again on a big scale in the spring. He uses the Golden Italian strain of bees, finding them less irritable and easier to handle. He has never had much bad luck, though in 1931 he lost 70 stands from a bee disease, which almost put him out of business.

One of the greatest virtues of the honey bee is not what he manufactures, but what he does with his feet. Bee pollination is a great asset in a farming community, helping farmers especially who have alfalfa and red clover. The seed item is so important, that last October a rancher from western Nebraska with 500 acres in alfalfa came to Rockville and offered to buy out Frovin's complete apiary. On account of no bees, his alfalfa seed yield was reduced from 10 bushels to the acre to 5 bushels in 1948. Would have bought them all too, until convinced that it takes considerable experience and knowledge of bees before you can manage them. — Ravenna News.

Blair Shows Rate Change and Gering Has Big Increase

Eastern Town Talking of Cutting Rates for Energy to Main Users.

The Board of Public Works at Blair has been making a survey recently, studying the possibility of lowering electric rates to the larger users with the view to encouraging the expansion of local industry, as well as bringing in industry from the outside.

The power rate at Blair has remained the same through the period of soaring costs while other municipalities have been forced to raise their rates. While this has been going on, they have managed to get along so economically that a price cut is more than likely.

Gering, at the other end of Nebraska has shown the surprising growth of 500 per cent in current use in the past 11 years. In 1938 the distribution system handled 350 kilowatts per day. Today the amount used is near the 1,600 mark.

Due to this increase it has been necessary to build a new feeder line and to install a new switching tower on the city property south of the government substation. The growth will also necessitate a sizeable addition to the government station in Gering.

Gering has its own municipal distribution system, which it bought from the Western Public Service back in 1927. At that time they paid $28,000 and thought they were paying plenty. Today an inventory shows the value of property owned as more than $500,000.

HOMEMAKING NEWS

Value of Meat in the Infant's Diet

(By Betti Andersen)

Through their study of "Child Birth and Care," the advanced Homemaking girls have learned a number of interesting and valuable items.

One of these was the value of meat in the diet of infants.

Not many years ago the diet recommended for an infant consisted of milk and cereal. Some of the reasons why other foods were not given to infants were:

1. Medical science had not recognized the fact that certain food needs were neglected in a cereal-milk diet.
2. A mother with many other duties was sometimes unable to find time for the chopping and sieving of fruits, vegetables and meats.

Now canned foods especially prepared for babies can be purchased and added to the baby's diet.

Mothers, who have given their babies meat, have found that their children are more satisfied, sleep better and have fewer colds than children who have not received meat. It has also been found, that anemia, restlessness and irritability in infants has decreased, as they are fed meat and vegetables.

Dr. Ruth M. Leverton, of the University of Nebraska, through research, has found that meat supplies proteins, iron, phosphorus, and the B-vitamins not obtained in a cereal-milk diet.

One group of infants studied by Dr. Leverton was given increased amounts of strained meat from the age of six weeks to twelve months. The blood values of these infants were found to be better than those of babies not fed meat.

Dr. Leverton says, "Meat has a definite place in the infant's diet as early as six weeks."

Marlene Norman)

Some of the girls have made very pretty home experiences this month. Ellen Jean Foth, a freshman, made a white cap sleeve blouse of broadcloth. She embroidered her initials in blue on the front of the blouse. Alyce Hayek made a luncheon set, composed of a table cloth and six napkins and made out of white material. She then textile painted fruit on the corners of the napkins and tablecloth. She also wove a dolly out of yellow, green and pink yarn, the base was a dish cloth. She left the edge fringed. There have been many pretty home projects this month. When they are finished they are put on display in the Home Ec. room for the other girls to see.

How the Other Half is Living

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Schulz of Litchfield celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently by holding open house and playing host to a large number of guests. Of special interest in connection with the observance was the fact that Mrs. Schulz's mother, Mrs. Ida Knapp, 88, was an honored guest.

Walter West of Gordon needed to use a truck and was trying to borrow one. He became suspicious when William Harris seemed glad to offer the use of his truck if the user could get it. West saw the reason for such generosity in a photo of the Harris farm, with the truck under a snow bank with only the top of the cab showing.

The Rock County Leader of Bassett, Nebr., has been planning for some time to get out a "Storm Edition," but has been handicapped by said storms, with the result that last week the edition would be ready some time in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sprick of near Herman, Nebr., were honored recently on the occasion of the golden wedding anniversary when more than 100 relatives and friends gathered at the school house to celebrate open house. The Spricks were married Feb. 10, 1899, and have lived in the same neighborhood 48 years.

Supl. H. K. Douthitt of the Curtis Agricultural college was one of six Nebraskans honored by the State Journal in its weekly salute. Mr. Douthitt is recognized as one of the state's foremost educators, and has been at Curtis since 1933. He is a cousin of Walt Douthitt of Ord.

Western Nebraska's oldest old settler, Charles B. Foster, died at a Scottsbluff hospital last week at the age of 94 years. Foster located at Fort Laramie in April, 1877, and a short time later moved to the Lyman area to the north-west of Scottsbluff, long before that town was organized.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Phillips of Long Pine were able to get to Burwell on St. Valentine's Day to celebrate a dinner that had been planned for Christmas with the H. A. (Bum) Phillips family. The occasion was a long time coming.

Mira Valley Mary Ann Roe came home Friday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roe. She returned to her work in Omaha, Tuesday.

The Youth Fellowship of the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren church held their monthly business meeting and social at the church Wednesday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Warren G. Studer and David moved from North Loup to the new parsonage built in Mira Valley, Friday.

Rev. Warren G. Studer will be in Lincoln Tuesday through Thursday of this week to attend a ministers' fellowship.

Mrs. Harold Koelling has been ill the past few days with pink eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Luoma visited at the Lee Footwangler home Sunday evening.

"Youth Sunday" was observed at the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren church last Sunday when the Youth Fellowship had charge of all the Sunday school classes, assisted in the worship service, sponsored a fellowship dinner after church, and presented a program following the dinner.

Leo Wolf served as Sunday school superintendent, Geraldine Koelling as Sunday school pianist, Mervin Hornickel as secretary, and Lois and Marilyn Cook as Junior worship leaders.

The teaching Sunday school classes were Lois Cook, Orel Koelling, Marilyn Cook, Carolyn Foth, Wilfred Cook, Beth Edwards, Joyce Huelmer, Mrs. Studer, Mrs. Marvin Collins, and Ellen Jeanne Foth.

Those assisting in the worship service were Carolyn and Eldon Foth, Eugene Fenz and Melvina Peterson were ushers. The dinner committee consisted of Marilyn Cook, Bob Edwards, Kenneth Page, Leo Wolf and Dick Peterson.

Those serving on the decorating committee were Carolyn and Eldon Foth, Leonard and Edwin Edwards, and Marvin Collins. The program was in charge of Mervin Hornickel, Orel Koelling, Mrs. Studer and Mrs. Alfred Burson.

Eldon Foth, president of the Youth Fellowship, led the program.

Myra Boeltger was taken to her home Friday, from the Clinic hospital, and is getting along quite well at this writing.

Mrs. Emil Dugosh and Larry visited at the home of her parents, the Lee Footwangler's, Sunday afternoon.

TIME-LY TALES

The most complicated watch in the world was completed 16 years ago by Swiss watchmakers. Its two faces give the day and month—adjusted permanently for leap years; the phases of the moon; sidereal time (time according to the stars); the difference between star and sun time and time of sunset and sunrise.

It has a split second recorder, a chronograph (stop watch) and a panel shows the stars which can be seen each night. Four bells ring out the hours, quarter hours and the minutes. It also tells the owner when to re-wind the two mainsprings!
