

Fence Ruined, But Auto and Driver Unhurt.

The driver of Car No. 12, owned by the Union Cooperative Company of Lincoln, must have had a spite at Ed Swopes, who took the above photo. When he left the track at the southwest corner, he tore down two-thirds of the Swopes Studio sign.

Irrigating and Haying Keeping Farmers Busy

Harvest Is Ended, But Still Plenty of Work to Be Found on Farms.

The past week has been ideal for the developing of crops, but a good rain is needed, especially on the dry farming area. Very little corn is suffering, but its condition would be improved and the yield increased by a good general rain. In the opinion of many farmers, there will be a fair corn crop, even if the general rain fails to come or comes late. There is still a sufficiency of moisture below the surface, and the cool nights and heavy dew help retain the moisture in the soil.

With the exception of a very few late fields, all corn has been laid by for some time, much of it is tasselled out, and the early corn has put out its shoots. With the exception of fields affected by corn borers, all corn in the county is looking fine. Grasshoppers are chewing the corn in some places, but they will not have too much effect on the yield.

Threshing has been going on last week and this, with good yields in most cases. The quality is not good in many fields, because of the fact that the weeds grew to considerable height before the harvesting was done. In some fields areas had to be left uncut because of the weeds.

The second cutting of alfalfa is being put up, under ideal conditions for haying, and this crop should be much better quality than the first, which was scarce, and was raised on much of the alfalfa is being baled and stacked in the bale.

In some fields the second cutting of alfalfa is being left for seed. If the dry weather continues a good crop of seed should develop, especially on the higher ground. As this is being written on Tuesday, there has been very little rain anywhere in the area, except 29 of an inch Friday at Ord, and varying amounts elsewhere.

This brought the total for the year up to 18.51, which is well ahead of the average for this time of the year. The same week last year a total of 3.70 inches fell, bringing the total to this time in 1918 up to 16.48, only about two inches behind this year's total.

H. B. Hansen Dies at Home in Elba

H. B. Hansen died at his home in Elba July 23, at the age of 87 years, 6 months and 11 days. He was born in Denmark and came to the United States at the age of 18 years. He first made his home in Saunders county, where he met and married Hannah Hansen in 1893.

In 1898 they moved to a farm near Elba, and in 1916 moved to Elba where he operated an elevator for many years. He moved back to the farm for a decade in 1906. He is survived by his wife and twelve children, 35 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Clayton Auto Stolen Tuesday Afternoon

The black Ford sedan belonging to Jake Clayton was stolen during the show at the Valley county fair grounds Tuesday afternoon. It was a 1937 model and the number is 47-185.

He had it parked outside not far from the gate, had left the key in, and the car was full of gas. Sheriff Hall believes it was taken by some one who wanted to get some place in a hurry, and that it will be found before many days.

In County Court

Monday morning a charge was filed against John Piskorski for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. He entered a plea of guilty as charged paid a fine of $2 and costs of $4 and was released.

New Cafe Opens for Business on North Side

Under the management of Johnson Bros., Glenn and Edward, the New Cafe opened for business in the Benda building on the south side of the square Monday. Edward will probably be in direct charge.

This is the building which housed the former New Cafe for many years, and more recently was the location of the Johnson Beer Tavern, which is now moved to the east side of the square. The interior has been completely redecorated, and presents a fine appearance. Meals and lunches will be served at the usual cafe hours, both week days and Sunday. Mrs. Dave Haught is the cook, and assisting Mr. Johnson waiting on the trade are Mrs. Irvin Merrill and Joan and Charlene Blessing.

Jurzenski Case Given Attention in County Court

Judge Ciochon Finds Defendant Guilty and Case Is Appealed.

The case of the state of Nebraska versus Stanley Jurzenski was heard in county court Monday. This is the case in which Jurzenski was involved in an accident in Elyria with an auto from Burwell. About ten witnesses were called, some for the prosecution and some for the defense. The charge was driving while intoxicated, and the accident occurred last July 2. Judge Ciochon announced that he would take the case under advisement and would announce his verdict at 9 a. m. Wednesday. Wednesday morning Judge Ciochon handed down a verdict of guilty as charged, fined Jurzenski $50 and costs, and revoked his license for a period of 30 days. Jurzenski at once appealed the case to the district court.

Cozad Hospital Fund Is Still Increasing

A recent report of the progress funds for a hospital there shows of the campaign at Cozad for funds for a hospital there shows that the amount contributed is increasing steadily. Already the fund is well over $30,000, and will reach the $35,000 mark, at least. It is understood that the money contributed is in the form of donations, and not for the purchase of stock in a cooperative hospital, as it is here. Cozad is a town only slightly smaller than Ord, according to the 1910 census.

Neighbors Help Bill Toben Over

Bill Toben, over in Loup county was unable to do any work for some time, as he was suffering with his back, consequently his hay crop, which is the most important in the area, had not been put up and was likely to become a total loss.

His neighbors thought otherwise, and about thirty of them got busy with the crop and had fifteen stacks put up by the time they were through. Fourteen women came to the house to help prepare and serve the meals for the gang of workers.

Off-Campus Course Off to Good Start

Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, announced this morning that the Off-Campus course is off to a fine start, with no less than 32 teachers in attendance and a great deal of interest shown. The class is studying audio-visual aid. There are representatives present from Sargent, Comstock, Emerson, Broken Bow, Burwell, North Loup and Ord. The class opened Wednesday morning and will continue 15 days.

Lutherans to Have Palmer Church

The new Lutheran church at Palmer is nearing completion. Last week the workmen were busy putting the plaster on the interior walls. The church is practically completed on the outside. This building has many modern features, including an air conditioning system. The windows are glass tile set into the masonry, and those at both ends of the building are built of transparent tile set in the form of a cross.

Smoke House Fire Burns Bacon at Dworak Market

The fire used to smoke bacon in the smoke house of the North Side Meat Market apparently got too hot last Thursday, and got the bacon on fire. Before it was discovered between 600 and 800 pounds of bacon was completely incinerated. The smoke house is fire proof, so it suffered no damage.

Valley County Fair Is Off to a Good Start

The hot rod races got under way Wednesday afternoon as the Quiz goes to press, so the final results will not be available until Monday. Because the officials have been too busy to give a complete report, the names of the race drivers, with the exception of local men, will not be given until next week.

However, it can be said that the races were good, and on a par with the best seen in Nebraska this year. California cars were faster than any of the rest, and took first and second place in the events in which they were entered. One of them had the fastest time trial ever made by a hot rod at Ord, 29.3 seconds for the half mile track.

This time has been beaten only a few times by regular racing cars, and it was 4 1/2 seconds faster than the next fastest time trial for the day. There were twelve entries Tuesday and several more were expected to enter for the races Wednesday. An Ord had two autos in the races Tuesday and another Ord entry is expected for Wednesday. Jimmie Kucera was driving his own car and Oscar Warford was driving Bob Lange's car. Oscar won the first 1/2 lap event, and Jimmie won the second 1/2 lap event. They ran a matched race, Jimmie winning.

The new entry for Wednesday is the car furnished by Nelson Motors and piloted by a driver from Omaha. The seventh event Tuesday Warford took third place. Kucera was in the finals and was holding fourth place when he went into the fence. Warford came in fourth in this event. Kucera and car were ready for the Wednesday races.

Tuesday evening the program at opened with a concert by the Ord Valley county fairground band. Immediately preceding the 4-H club style show Irene Auble sang "Alice Blue Gown" to the band's accompaniment, connection with the 4-H club dress revue.

For the revue Mrs. J. B. Ferguson acted as reader. The judges were Mrs. W. H. Thurber of Burwell, Mrs. Harold Garnick of Ord and Mrs. Vernon Thomas of North Loup. The winners were announced immediately following the show. The Mira Valley male quartet sang two numbers which were highly appreciated. The special feature of the evening's program was the Spiked-Up Kentuckians, a musical organization which appeared incognito as a string band. While they were supposed to be unknown, every body had a good idea who they were before the program ended.

The Kentuckians were a scream, one of the best acts seen in years at the Valley County fair. After they ended their act, Covey introduced each of them as they took off their disguises. They were: Glen and Jay Auble, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Hilling Pearson, Ross Allen and Chet Swank.

The Mira Valley quartet sang a number at the close of the program. Bruce Covey acted as master of ceremonies and did his usual fine job. Mrs. Edwin Lenz was accompanist for the quartet. The program was most pleasing and was well carried out. Mrs. Leslie Nash was responsible for the program, and deserves much credit.

The exhibits at the fair this year are about the best ever shown. The flower show, especially, could not be improved upon. There is a good showing of cattle and hogs, but not too many horses. Entries for the horse show Thursday afternoon are from Burwell, Arcadia, North Loup and Ord, and this will be one of the finest features of the fair.

There is no need of telling the public about the quality of the Joe Chitwood show, which is scheduled for both Wednesday and Thursday evenings. This aggregation of death dodgers is beyond question the stellar attraction of its kind in America today, and is attracting huge crowds wherever showing.

Ed Boss, Monroe druggist, may well claim the title of Boss Fisherman because of his feat recently in pulling a 40 pound catfish out of the Loup river canal near Monroe. This tops the record for yellow catfish in Nebraska this season.

Boss was using a 20-pound test line with a heavily attired worm hook. It took him thirty minutes to land the big fellow. He has made a number of other catches this season, including catfish weighing 21 pounds, 17 pounds, 11 pounds and 10 pounds.

Ord Swimming Pool Manager Ill, But Business as Usual

Many Visitors Coming from Nearby Towns; Swim Meet Planned.

Because the manager, Keith Kovanda, contracted a case of summer flu and suffered a relapse when he tried to get back on the job to coach the quiz has not had much news about the pool recently. While the manager was away the pool was open as usual, however.

This week the pool will be open on each afternoon of the Valley County Fair immediately after the afternoon show, for the benefit of those who care to take a dip. Last week a group of 25 4-H club members from Greeley came to Ord in a truck to have a swim in the pool.

Duane Wolfe is now junior life guard at the pool, and Mrs. Grove is senior guard. Season passes are now on sale at half price, and quite a number have been sold already. The water temperature is being taken daily and is posted, so that the swimmers may know. Official closing date for the pool will be Labor Day, Sept. 5. The attendance has been very good on Sunday, but not as good as could be desired on week days. This may be accounted for partly by the fact that the past two Sundays were much warmer than the days both before and after.

A new electric clock has been put up where it is visible from the pool, for the special benefit of the young people, who thus know just when they have been in the water or who have been to come home at certain time.

The awards and ribbons have been secured for the swim meet, and are available for the winners. As soon as enough persons register for the contests they will be held. All who are interested are urged to register as soon as possible.

Nelson Motors Win First Tournament Contest Monday

Playing Palmer Team at Fullerton Tonight; Midgets Eliminated.

The Nelson Motors Junior Legion team from Ord, under the management of Ed Huck, went to Fullerton Monday to take part in the tournament there. They met the fast North Loup team in the opening round, and would have been eliminated but for some luck, as well as getting the runs when they were needed.

The record showed the score 5 to 4 for Ord, but the local boys were out in ten, and committed four errors to North Loup's three. Hutchins and Hawkes officiated for North Loup and Severson, Patrick and Stoddard for Ord.

Huck states that North Loup is entitled to much credit for their good hitting and for the fine pitching of Hutchins, who held Ord to only one score until the sixth, when a combination of hits and errors allowed the other four scores.

Wednesday night at Fullerton Ord goes up against the fast Palmer team, which eliminated West Kearney high and Loup City on Monday and Tuesday. The Nelson Motor boys have the advantage of getting a rest Tuesday by virtue of drawing a bye.

The Ord Midgets were not so lucky in their tournament contest, losing in the first round to the older and more experienced St. Paul team by a score of 14 to 2. The tournament is being held at Central City.

40 Pound Catfish Is Caught in Loup Canal

Ed Boss, Monroe druggist, may well claim the title of Boss Fisherman because of his feat recently in pulling a 40 pound catfish out of the Loup river canal near Monroe. This tops the record for yellow catfish in Nebraska this season.

Boss was using a 20-pound test line with a heavily attired worm hook. It took him thirty minutes to land the big fellow. He has made a number of other catches this season, including catfish weighing 21 pounds, 17 pounds, 11 pounds and 10 pounds.

Dr. Charles Brannen, M. D. of Greeley, Neb., will become an associate in the practice of medicine with Dr. C. W. Weekes of Ord, it was announced Tuesday.

The new doctor, who graduated from Creighton University a year ago, is now in the practice of his father the late Dr. J. J. Brannen. Mrs. Brannen is a registered nurse, a graduate of St. Catherine's hospital in Omaha where Dr. Brannen took his internship.

Mrs. Brannen and their three children plan to move to Ord by September 1. Dr. Brannen plans to go to Chicago at that time to take a special course in diagnosis and treatment of children's diseases at the Children's Memorial hospital there, and will begin active practice here on November 1.

New Industry for North Loup

The North Loup Co-operative Cheese company has added another industry to their plant, that of dressing and processing chickens. A new mechanical picker has been installed and several hundred are dressed at one time. More than four hundred were dressed in one day last week. The industry employs three or four women and girls beside the regular help at the factory. Some of the chickens are sold locally and many of them are shipped to Armour and Co. at Omaha.

Beide the chicken dressing, cheese making is of course the major industry at the factory. Milk is pasteurized and bottled to supply the North Loup and Scotia merchants. In connection with the locker plant, hogs and cattle are killed and cut up ready for locker use. S. C. Hawkes is manager of the plant, with Carroll Annvas, Merlyn Van Horn, and Vic King as steady helpers and a number of extras when the rush work is on.

Kansas-Nebraska Gas Lines Okayed for Nebraska Towns

Burwell, Ord, Scotia, North Loup & Arcadia Included in Setup.

The Federal Power commission has given its OK to the expansion plan of the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. Inc., with headquarters at Hastings. This plan calls for the extension of gas lines to 22 new Nebraska towns not now served.

This plan has been under way for some time, and the plans have been worked out, with the work to be done as fast as conditions permit. The plan for this year is to 'build into Broken Bow and Loup City, and this will be done before winter comes.

Starting next spring, a main pipe line will be extended north from Loup City, with branches to Ord, Burwell, North Loup, Scotia, Arcadia, Comstock and Sargent. Towns further south to be serviced include Hazard, Ravenna, Rockville, Doelus, Dannebrog and St. Paul.

The order also permits the company to install a total of 3,600 horsepower in gas compressors, one of which will be at Holdrege to supply emergency gas to Hastings and Grand Island in case of a breakdown in the direct pipe lines to Hastings.

Nebraska Hunters Will Enjoy Longer Hunting Season

Oct. 21 to Dec. 4 Season Limits for Water Fowl Season.

As a result of much agitation by hunters as well as by the Nebraska Game commission, the hunting season for water fowl in Nebraska has been extended. Secretary of Interior Krug has released hunting dates for the nation's four flyways.

Nebraskans can hunt ducks over a period of 45 days, Oct. 21 to Dec. 4, inclusive. Iowans, who are in the Mississippi flyway, can hunt from Oct. 21 to Nov. 29, or five days less than people of Nebraska. In the past, it has been found that most of the hunting season is over before the ducks appear.

Because drought conditions in their feeding grounds in Saskatchewan and Alberta in Canada have taken a heavy toll of wild life, the bag limit for ducks has been reduced from five to four, and the possession limit from ten to eight.

Nebraska Game Commission secretary, Paul Gilbert, has expressed over the new regulations, which he says is "what we asked for." On the opening day of the season, water fowl and coot will not be hunted before noon. The limit over the central flyway is five geese, but these can be mixed up.

County Unchanged on Grain Assessments

The recent action of the state board of equalization in raising the valuation on grain in the state did not affect Valley county. Here the valuation was put high enough at the time of assessment so that no raise was necessary, according to W. C. H. Noll, county assessor.

The valuation of some livestock was set higher here than the general average over the state, so the assessed rate has been reduced. However, the law does not require that the taxpayers be notified of any reduction, so this will not be done.

In some counties cards were sent out notifying farmers of the raise in grain valuation, giving the amount of this raise. Some farmers misunderstood and sent in checks for this amount, when the actual tax was only a small percent of the amount.

During World War II Kokes served on destroyers and won the Silver Star Medal when the USS Isherwood was hit by kamikaze plane fire off Okinawa. He was the ship's executive officer.

Arcadia Drops Boom on Ord in 12-3 Mix; Ansley Here Sunday

Visitors Bunch 12 Hits, 4 Errors for Long End; 2 More Home Games.

Arcadia lowered the boom on the Ord Colts Sunday night to the tune of 12 to 3, when they bunched 12 hits, four errors and five walks in the first league encounter on Ord's newly lighted field.

Ord drew first blood in the second inning when they pushed one run across. In the fourth and fifth innings, the visitors pushed a combination of hits, runs and walks to jek up eight runs. Ord came back in the sixth with two runs. Just to put the game on ice, the visitors got to Beran in the top half of the eighth to push across four more runs. Beran had replaced Patrick in the fifth.

Beasley on the mound for Arcadia, whiffed 11 batters and staved out of hot water until the sixth, when Ord rally gained momentum. Snappy infield work choked off the rally. Patrick, in four and two-thirds innings gave three walks and whiffed eight. Beran hit two batters and gave up two walks. Miller pitched the last inning for Ord.

Sunday night, August 7, the locals entertained Ansley here in a league mix that will tell the tale of whether Ord stays in the top half of the loop and gets into the league playoffs. On Sunday, Aug. 14, Broken Bow will play here—a game postponed from May 8, when all games scheduled were rained out.

Threatening skies throughout late afternoon—and a few drops of rain—kept down attendance at what had promised to be a record breaker on the home grounds.

Arcadia Now Leads Loup Valleys League

Games played in the Loup Valleys League last Sunday made quite a change in the standings. Arcadia, by virtue of a win over Ord while Mason City was taking a lacing from Broken Bow, moves into first place, and Ord drops into fourth place after a tie for 3rd and 4th with Miller.

Ansley drops back to the 500 class with a loss to Miller, while Loup City climbs into the same percentage with a win over Comstock. The scores: Miller 2, Ansley 1; Broken Bow 5, Mason City 2; Loup City 18, Comstock 1; Arcadia 12, Ord 3.

Nebraska State Fair. County fairs in Nebraska are opening this week, with that of Valley county the first on the list. While each county fair represents the area in which it is held, its influence reaches beyond those limits. In the ultimate analysis, the county fair is but a prelude to the biggest of all fairs, the Nebraska State fair.

Exhibits rating high at the county fairs usually are taken to the state fair and shown there in competition with the best from other Nebraska fairs.

sections of the state. While competitive, these exhibitions are also cooperative. The exhibitors, as well as those who visit the show get new ideas which they take home and use the next year.

The fair, both local and state, is one of our oldest and most important state institutions. Agricultural fairs were held in Nebraska before the territory was organized as a state. The object of those first was to publicize the territory to the people of the east and interest them in what was then considered the Great American desert.

Today we have enough people on the land. Nature's laws have taken care of that condition. But there is still a reason, and a good one, for showing the rest of the nation what we have and what we are. With our huge supply of water power being developed, we will need factories to use that power, and the Nebraska state fair helps publicize the fact.

The day of hundred bushel corn and fifty bushel wheat is here for Nebraska. More than ever we can claim to be the bread basket of the world. Nebraska products go to all parts of America and to all parts of the world. Agriculture is more diversified and better balanced than in any other state of the Union, as exhibits at the state fair attest.

From here on, agriculture needs little boosting. It is definitely established on a high plane of quality and productivity. What we need today at the state fair is more attention to manufacturing, especially the making of finished products from the raw materials we produce. Industry is waiting to be invited to come to Nebraska. Let us extend that invitation.

The National Game. Baseball is the national game of America. Founded more than one hundred years ago at Cooperstown, New York, it gradually developed in popularity until it superseded all other forms of sport as the national pastime. By the turn of the century clubs were organized and playing the game in every town and community in the nation.

The people of any nation can work. The people of Europe work harder and longer for less pay than the peoples of the Western Hemisphere. Because they work so much, they have less time for recreation and less desire for it when the opportunity arrives. People who work too hard have little energy left to expend on recreation.

Today we are emerging from a period of nearly two decades in which the national game suffered an almost complete eclipse locally. In that same period, because of the drought, the depression and the war that followed, the big leagues had trouble in producing the type of baseball the paying public expects to see.

The depression and drought had their effect because there were fewer customers in the grand stands, fewer people who could afford to pay to see their favorite game. The public was not in a mood for entertainment. They could not go to the national game and forget their troubles. If they went they took their troubles along.

Came the war and the draft, which took the flower of our young manhood from the national game. They played that normally would have gone into the leagues. Some of these were gone, never to return to the sport they loved. Others obtained valuable training and experience in the service teams that played the national game. They were comparable to those of baseball in its hey day. Enthusiasm is running high among both the customers and the players.

As a barometer of Americanism, baseball is invaluable. People who applaud the American game, played the American way, at state fairs and Americans. The more who attend, the greater the measure of Americanism our nation enjoys. We are a great people, citizens of a great nation. Let us keep it great by playing baseball!

And oh misery, I remembered a dish of scraps I had set out for Francis. . . a mongrel dog Cora Lee adopted last summer, a really straggly, repulsive type of animal but anyway, I fed him occasionally. So Francis had come and eaten the skin and bones of a ham-end, some baked potato shells and I guess he had plenty to eat, for he didn't quite finish the beans. Or perhaps they were hard for him to lick out. Or maybe he didn't like my beans. (I did think I got a shade too much mustard in them) though my family gobbled them this noon.

So Little Blossom, and not so little either, wavered up and found that dish, I knew he would, and he sat down and leaned into it and began to eat. And he ate and ate. Teddy kept saying: "I admire him, he is so brave to eat that stuff." I hope he was really that way. I thought we might be brave to eat beside him. He was about six or seven feet away from us.

Ted was fascinated and thought he was "so pretty," he'd make such a picture. I hope he was constantly going to the door to be closer to him.

He was a pretty creature. And I was surprised to see that the double white stripe down his back joined on top his head rather like a bride's veil. He didn't look sleek, but almost feathery.

So now you know the worst. I never thought hamburgers and blueberry pie and milk would taste good with skunk, but it did!

As Ted says "He was a pretty picture, I hope he comes again and leaves his scent at home!"

—OO—

To go from Cullen Lake, Minnesota back to discussing the Latter Day Saints in Salt Lake City; a former Ord lady who now lives at Twin Falls, Idaho wrote regarding the crop of young birds comparable to those of baseball in its hey day. Enthusiasm is running high among both the customers and the players.

As a barometer of Americanism, baseball is invaluable. People who applaud the American game, played the American way, at state fairs and Americans. The more who attend, the greater the measure of Americanism our nation enjoys. We are a great people, citizens of a great nation. Let us keep it great by playing baseball!

++ Something Different ++

Well, Teddy and I just had the pleasure of eating supper with a skunk! Now isn't that different? Ordinarily we are pretty ornery and thoughtful of our skunk neighbors. We bury our garbage; they dig it up. So we put lime on it: I told you we were ornery.

—OO—

Things were quiet this evening. Kerry had gone down the lake a mile or two to hobnob with some boys and girls with whom he has made friends. Teddy had gone swimming, for which I was very glad, for he needed to work off some steam. And swimming will do it.

He came in happily and hungry, "Just Star-r-ving," so I set out our supper on the back porch, the reason being that the sun was in full possession of the front porch and living room and I couldn't see against the evening glare. But there's a really cozy corner on the back porch for two.

—OO—

And evidently the smell of hamburgers and onions frying reached into the woods and pleased the little skunk. He came daintily down the road, sort of sniffing and weaving his nose back and forth.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

Occasionally we run across a headline that is unusual, to say the least. The writer meant one thing, but said something entirely different. The height of something or other was reached recently when the following sub-head appeared in one of our exchanges: "Another Occupant Hunt When Blinded Car Overturns." Not having eyes, how could a car be blinded? Speaking of headlines, here are perhaps the most difficult part of the entire story. It may take ten minutes to write a half-column story if the writer is fast, but it often takes that long to figure out a proper head for the story, either before or after it is written. Sometimes they are written first, especially when the writer knows all about the story when the story is written from data furnished by some one else, the head is usually written last.

Sometimes the headline tells the whole story, like "Shot in Knee, Brown Captured Assailant." "Revolver Bullet Lodged in His Wooden Leg." Also this one: "Wagner Was Shot in the Bungalow, His Wife in the Portico." Another that actually happened: "Sheriff's Sale to Be Hell August 15." Another probably more truth than they imagined: "Clown Team to Play Here Monday." I imagine the town team appreciated that one. But perhaps the most amusing was a paper which substituted an "e" for an "o" and made a headline read: "Gams of Thought."

A certain well-known Ord man told the story of his experience at the time he was ordered to report in the first draft of World War II. The order arrived the day after he had left for a two weeks' trip, and he was supposed to report within ten days. When he got back, there was the order in his mail box, and a rather sharp letter from A. A. Leggett, clerk of the draft board, demanding that he report at once. The next day he called W. T. McLain, who did not recognize his voice, and was advised to get up to the office immediately. Later he met L. D. Milliken on the street, showing him the card and explained why he had not attended to it sooner. Milliken looked at the card, and at the man, and a great light dawned upon him. "You should have signed your name Tommy Thompson," he said. "Nobody in Ord knows that Clarence Thomas Thompson is C. C. Thompson."

If everybody had to call everybody else by their real names there would be plenty of confusion for a while. Imagine, for example, meeting "Toot" Harris on the street and saying "Hello, Toot." The "Buds" would cause a lot of trouble, also. Most people know that Bud Shirley is A. J. Shirley, but not too many know that Bud Bell was Adam Bell. As for Bud Covert, I really can't tell you what his real name is because I don't know. Everybody knew Dutch Burger, but few people know his name was Lawrence. I can't tell you who M. B. Cummings really is, but we all call him Bert.

Maybe he is like the fellow that owned the public house in Ord, and an inquisitive lady decided she would find out what his name really was. So she got to talking with him one day and said: "Our ladies' group has been wondering just what your first name is, and we thought up all the names we could think of, and Bert we thought of, and Albert, Egbert, Delbert, Ethelbert, Robert, Humbert, Herbert, Lambert and Wilbert. Now which of them is the right one?" "They are all wrong, lady," he replied, "My first name is Bertam."

Names are important, especially if you are dealing with the government. The father of John and Adam Perinski did not realize this. He came to America during the Civil war, and fought on the side of the Union under the name of Poliski. Later, under the name of Poliski, he came to Ord, Valley county and took up a claim under the name of Perinski. When he applied for a pension the government said he was not the same man as the Poliski who fought in the Civil War. He was unable to get a pension for years, but finally M. P. Kinkaid got a bill through Congress giving him a pension. At that, he was able to get him only half the amount allowed other veterans. John told me the story years ago, and I think it is substantially correct.

Then there is the one about Joe Stinks, who applied to the judge to have his name changed. The judge asked him what new name he wanted, and Joe answered: "All the time the boys call me Joe, Joe nothing, but Joe alla time, I think I would rather be called Charlie."

Last week I told of getting a letter that was sent to another John Ward at the North Loup post office. The first of last week he showed up in Ord, representing a lot of money, and he was in the store. In the Table Supply he inquired about me, said he had met me once at the Burwell Rodeo. They told him where to find me, but he failed to come to the Quiz office, so I didn't get to see him.

This week I am going to the Quiz and the Quiz readers are going to the fair, seeing the sights and having a good time generally. That is as it should be. People earn the right to enjoy themselves, and nobody ought to object if they have a little fun now and then. But I'd like to tell you about the kind of a fair I would like to see, and it would not measure up to the standards of present day fairs by a mile.

I would like to go down to the fair grounds like they looked in the old days when the races were practically flat, and needed a fence on the inside to keep the race horses from cutting in too close. I'd like to be there as I was one day and see Tom Rockhold and Rame Gass and a couple of fellows from Gilead, with their trotting horses and sulkeys. I'd like to see them line up and off to a fair start, and see those old boys jockey for the inside track. I can't say I ever cared much for racing, but those harness races had the winning races beaten a city block.

Then I'd like to go over the grounds and throw balls at the doll rack, swing a sledge and see if I could ring the bell, buy a glass of pink lemonade (16 lemons to a barrel of water) ride on Fred Bell's Merry-go-round, eat a nickel hamburger, and make eyes at the girls in skirts that reached their shoetops. There wasn't any carnival then, but we always had a good time, and usually spent less than a dollar. Yes, I think I would enjoy it, especially if I shot the fairs that have intervened since that day.

the first decade of which we are speaking, was Jonie Level. Jonie Level was one of the most dependable and best liked of all boys who ever wore an Ord uniform. He played the game for all it was worth, and when a ball came within reach of his glove it was caught.

A pause here should be made to go back beyond the fifty year mark and give credit to a man who did a lot of ball playing in the 90s, and later Otto Murschel, who played the game for all it was worth, and when a ball came within reach of his glove it was caught.

At times in the decade Ord had two regular teams, one of which used hired players. Manager around 1900 was Horace M. Davis, and later Otto Murschel took over. One of the photos shown here shows the Murschel team as it looked in 1903, together with the membership. Included in this group are those well-known Ord men, Otto Heuck, Jonie Level and Ed Beranek.

Because he quit playing the game earlier than some, many persons do not recall that Ed ever played ball at all. However, he was one of Ord's best left fielders, and started at the bat in a pinch. The day after the above picture was taken the team went to Grand Island and played, winning 2 to 1, largely because Beranek ran back about fifty yards and cut off what looked like a sure home run.

Jake Hoffman tells that he started playing baseball about 1900, and played until 1912. Through those years pretty much the same group played on his team. Jake was a pitcher himself, and his brother Bill Hoffman and Dutch Burger alternated between catching and center field. Hank Misko and Jake alternated between the mound and short stop. Clay Stroup was a very able amateur at first base, George Schwaner played second base when he was available, and Fred Heuck played third. Roy Currie played center field, and took second base when Schwaner was not available. Joe Sershen usually was to be found in right field, and Joe Cernik was in center field when Currie was at second.

Marion Cushing, the most able pitcher that Ord developed in those days, was getting started in the latter part of the decade, but did his finest work after 1910, and will be given more space next week. Bill Heuck was coming up also, but properly belongs in next week's story.

It has been difficult to compile from 1899 to 1909, due to the fact that the newspapers in those days did not trouble to mention the players by name, as is the custom now. Box scores were few and far between. In fact, in checking over three years of the files only one box score was found.

In the last three years of the decade the team had become known as the Ord Tigers, and were going strong! Pitching for Ord much of that time was Farmer Lewin of Arcadia. Dave Arnold was one of the well-known pitchers of the decade, and his brother Ben caught him on the Springfield team. Out in Mira Valley Ormsby Petty and John Ward were doing some pitching.

The Quiz realizes that the above story is incomplete, and possibly incorrect in some respects. Several local men have been consulted in making the record of names, which is incomplete. If you know of names that should have been included, please get in touch with the Quiz, and we will see that the necessary additions and corrections are made.

Next week—the "Golden Age" of Baseball in Ord—1910 to 1920. Complete with pictures.

Fifty Years Of Baseball In Ord

New Era Inaugurated In City With Coming Of Night Baseball

Tuesday evening of last week marked the inauguration of a new era in baseball at Ord, and baseball was played here for the first time under lights. Football and softball have been under the lights for a long time, but baseball presented a difficult problem, due to the size of the field to be lighted and the height the lights had to be set.

While baseball was played much earlier than that time, it first came into prominence here and attained the status of a competitive game some fifty years ago. It was about that time that the kids quit using the old home made yarn ball and adopted the standard baseball, much the same as those in use everywhere today.

For that reason the Quiz thought the public might be interested in a story of baseball by decades from 1899 down to the present year. The first story, will start with 1900 and run to 1900, inclusive, or a full ten year period. The method of writing up athletic events in these days is not as it is today, and the Quiz for 1900 mentions a number of games, with the scores of some, but fails to name the players.

An interesting game was played against North Loup in 1900, but the Quiz fails to give the full particulars. Ord won the game, largely through the ability of one Hank Misko, who made his first public appearance then and was carried off the field and down town by his teammates. The Quiz was a slight error and credited the win to Bill Misko, who was not a ball player, but the players knew better.

Wilmore Gray of Mira Valley was the fellow who caught Hank's curves that day, and he caught several years for Ord. According to a roster published in the Quiz in 1901, another Mira Valley man, Frank Vopat, held down first base for Ord. Earl Mickelwait was the efficient second baseman and one Jim Bradt, Archie's brother, played third.

Anthony Koupal was the short stop, Otto Heuck was in center field and Frank Howard in right. John Rockhold and Oleson, a brother of Heiman, alternated at left field and in the pitcher's box. The game in which the batting order was given was played May 17, 1901, against Arcadia, with Ord winning 18 to 4.

Playing for Arcadia that day were: Wilson, first base; H. O. Cooley, second; Barnes, third; Round, shortstop; A. H. Hastings, left field; A. E. Bartoo, center field; Bert Braden, right field; Kyle, catcher; and Fred Hawkins, pitcher. These teams met again in June, 1901 with a spiked Arcadia team winning out in the tenth, 22 to 18.

Other ball players were developing in these days, among them Jake and Bill Hoffman, Joe Sershen, Ky Kasal, Harold Parks, Dutch Burger, Wayne Clements, Dow Harris, Grover Long, Fred Coe, most of them home boys, but occasionally a new man would come into the community and become an important cog in the baseball machine.

Perhaps the most famous of all these, a man who arrived during

Celebrates His 84th Birthday

Z. C. (Zack) Harris, who has lived for many years on a farm a few miles west of Burwell, observed his 84th birthday July 23. He went by bus to Lincoln and from there accompanied his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ruemelin and family on a vacation trip to Minnesota.

Before going to the farm Mr. Harris was a long-time employee of the Burlington railroad, and as a result has many old friends along the line who remember him and are glad to know that he is still enjoying the best of health.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwan Williams and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bellinger returned last week from a month's sight-seeing trip which took them 6300 miles through the United States, Canada and Mexico. They drove to the west coast going through Wyoming, Ogden, U. and to Seattle, Wash., and from there up into Canada and down the west coast through San Diego and to Tijuana, Mex. Coming home they traveled through Nevada and Utah and stopping to see Bryce Canyon and Zion National park.

They saw and visited with about 30 former Arcadians in various places along their route. In one instance, while driving down the Redwood highway in California, someone came running over to the car, seeing the Neb. 47 license and it was a former minister from Ord, the Rev. Maynard.

Horse Show.

The Spring Creek Saddle club held its annual horse show at the Lee Rickerson ranch Sunday. Seven saddle clubs participated in the show coming from North Loup, Ravenna, Loup City, Broken Bow, Mason City and the horse club Spring Creek making a total of 60 horses.

The first event was the parade followed by Potato Race, Rope Egg Race for women, Greta Green Race, Pony Express, Package Race, Children's Pony Race, Roping Contest, Ballon Race, Walking Race and Flag Drill. Some of the more interesting contests to the on-lookers were the Rope Race in which short ropes were dangling from a rope suspended between two trucks, the riders lined up beneath rope and walked their horses away from the ropes until the whistle sounded. They then wheeled and raced back, grabbing a rope and stopping their horse, each time there was one less rope than riders and the one not getting a rope was eliminated. In the egg contest each rider was given an egg on a spoon, they rode in a circle walking, trotting, cantering and reversing at the given signal until they dropped the egg, and it was surprising how long the ladies kept those eggs in the spoons. In the pop drinking contest the riders raced from one end of the field to the other and drank a bottle of pop through a straw, not touching the bottle with their hands then remounted and raced back to the starting line. I wondered what kind of straws they had to drink through as it sure took a long time and some of the contestants never did get over half of it.

The show was well managed and the events followed each other with very little delay, making it interesting for both contestants and onlookers. Ribbons were given as prizes and each club went home with a handful.

Grasshoppers a Serious Menace in Certain Areas

Grasshoppers are doing a lot of damage to crops in some areas of the county while others are comparatively free of the pests, according to C. C. Dale, county agent. Since these insects are large, it is more difficult to handle them than it would have been earlier.

Poison bran is not available in Valley county. About four years ago, when there were few grasshoppers here and they were plentiful in other places, the government trucked all the bait in this county to the western counties of the state. After this season new methods will be used to combat the pests.

For destroying hoppers there are three new insecticides that are effective. Benzene Hexachloride is a fast killing insecticide that has about 3 or 4 days residual effect. It is best where there is scarce vegetation under hot dry conditions where direct contact is wanted.

Chlordane is a slow-acting insecticide that is effective for from one to two weeks. It gives best results under moist, cool conditions, when applied to dense vegetation where grasshoppers are feeding actively. Sprays are better than dusts.

Chlorinated Camphene is a slow-acting insecticide that lasts from two to three weeks. Either ground machinery or airplanes may be used successfully to apply these insecticides.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scott, Mrs. John Urban and Mrs. Esther Jensen Manchester spent their vacation last week in the Black Hills, also at the Christian service camp and at Lake Bismark, Custer, S. D. They attended the Passion Play at Spearfish.

Now!
Before School Starts Protect Them!

Although the school gives every pupil a general physical examination each year, our examinations cannot be thorough, and for the benefit of the child—we suggest that parents consult medical authorities before school starts.

INNOCULATIONS —
Many diseases of contagious nature such as small pox, diphtheria, etc., and others such as tetanus, can be prevented or lessened with vaccinations or inoculations. You will protect your own child as well as the child next door by having this done by your physician before school starts.

EYES —
Oftentimes poor school work is not the fault of the student but rather the fault of defects in seeing which can be corrected. Not only can this be the cause of poor school work but it can be an indirect cause of other physical failures. Consult an optometrist or oculist before school starts.

TEETH —
Now, before school starts, is the time to have dental defects corrected. All of us know that this is highly important from a health standpoint. Please do not wait until the child has started to school to make dental appointments. The missing of classes for work of this nature—while we grant permission readily—is not fair to your child.

In general, we urge that parents see that their child is given the best start possible this school year. We feel that it is only good common sense to do so.

Ord Hospital Will Need All of Its $60,000 Quota, Says Geweke

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Ord Cooperative Hospital Association, President of the Board Archie Geweke instructed the management committee to obtain facts and figures relative to the cost of operation that may be expected when the Miller Hospital is purchased. Mr. Geweke stressed the need for exact figures so that the future policy of the board as to whether or not the hospital will be purchased could be formed.

At the present time the policy, as has been stated before, is this: the price of the hospital is $25,000, cost of equipment to bring it up to minimum desired standards and expansion will approximate $20,000; to insure operation under new management without having to close for a minimum of two years will take $15,000.

The board feels that there is an undercurrent of opposition to the $60,000 figure total, when the hospital can be purchased for $25,000. However, the board feels that it does not want to have the responsibility of purchasing the hospital and then have to close it because of lack of operating expenses, hence the figure of $60,000.

The board does not feel that it is unduly pessimistic in its view that $15,000 will be needed to insure operation for two years. The board does realize, however, that the management committee, not having had experience in this line, will have to feel its way along and is bound to make financial mistakes. It is possible, on the other hand, that things will run very well and with the right kind of employees and planning, that the hospital will prosper. The surplus capital will not be expended unless absolutely necessary.

The future policy will depend on the report of the management committee. If that committee feels that it needs more than the minimum figure of $45,000 which has been set as the goal of August 31, and that amount as recommended is not received, then the whole project will be scrapped and all money collected will be refunded. This may be considered as an ultimatum to the people of Valley County.

If we don't go well over the top of the minimum $45,000 figure, and we are trying our best to do so, then the project will be dropped. Ord will be without the services of the Miller hospital. If that fact means anything to the heads of Valley county families, then it is their duty to make every effort to purchase stock in his enterprise and see that it is put over.

Loup Valley League All Tied Up; Playoffs in Doubt

Ord Has Long, Long Evening; Three Homers in Two Innings.

A play off to choose the four teams in the Loup Valley League to enter the official title playoff is the latest news from the baseball dope bucket.

With Sunday's games in which Anselmy won 11 to 0, Miller trounced on Arcadia, Loup City beat Mason City and Broken Bow forfeited to Comstock, a three way tie has developed for fourth place.

Miller and Arcadia are sure of play-off berths. Mason City hangs one game ahead of the deadlocked Ord, Anselmy and Loup City teams. With one more official game to play, fans look for a four way tie between the latter four clubs necessitating a playoff before the official tournament.

Choose Your Own. The dope bucket predicts the following: Ord to beat Broken Bow here Sunday evening. The locals have played miserable ball their last three home games, are about due to settle down. Broken Bow has apparently lost interest in the Loup Valley league for this season.

Loup City to trip the league leading Miller team. The Sherman county aggregation are in a hot streak with Novosad hurling superb ball.

Anselmy to beat Comstock in a runaway.

Arcadia and Mason City to fight to the bitter end with edge going to the closely knit Mason City aggregation.

If the dope bucket is correct, a four way tie will develop between Loup City, Mason City, Ord and Anselmy.

Since every fan is entitled to his own dope bucket, here are other possibilities, all of them strong: Broken Bow may beat Ord, tossing them out of the playoffs.

Miller's all season strength may prove too much for Loup City.

And Arcadia may tip the scales in a game that could go either way to clinch a wonderful season behind the baffling slants of ace pitcher Bill Beasley.

Baseball chart players will have a wonderful time figuring out their own predictions between now and Sunday when the crucial games will be played.

Broken Bow Quits. Broken Bow served notice officially this week that they weren't interested in Loup Valley League ball, by forfeiting their game to Comstock last Sunday. Both teams were floundering in the cellar and the forfeit will not affect standings.

The Indians, however, will meet Ord on the local diamond Sunday to help wind up the Colt's local season. Tuesday's Custer County Chief, commenting on the forfeitures said:

"The Indians forfeited their game Sunday in favor of finishing the season with non-league teams under the lights. Buried in seventh place most of the season, chances of qualifying were nullified early in July when the Indians dropped four straight loop contests."

Comstock to Die Fighting. Comstock, however, received notice this week that in spite of a last place berth, that they would go down fighting. Dope from the Middle Loup Valley says that the game little outfit "were hiring a pitcher and would do their best to trip Anselmy Sunday."

Fence Balls Aid Anselmy in 11-0 Romp Here Sunday

Anselmy Cuts Loose 11 Run Barrage on Ord; Broken Bow Quits

Ord spent a long, long evening here Sunday chasing fence balls pounded out by hot happy Anselmy aggregation to take the lonesome end of a 11 to 0 score.

Three homers—chalked up in the first two innings, although only two of them were scored officially, gave the visitors a comfortable lead which was never threatened.

Graff, borrowed from Scotta for the game Sunday in the absence of Ord regular, Patrick lasted only two innings against Anselmy stick men. He gave up two walks, four hits for four runs before replaced by Dick Beran who lasted the rest of the game.

Stabb Hits Long One.
C. Stabb of Anselmy, credited with 7 runs batted in, a homer and a triple, smashed out one of the longest hits ever seen in the local park—a looping line drive that bounced off the football bleachers in centerfield, more than 400 feet. The hit was nullified when umpires decided an Anselmy coach had stepped out of his box illegally, but it wouldn't have made any difference.

All in all, the visitors got 11 runs, 10 hits, and were chalked up with one error. Ord was credited with 3 hits and 8 errors. Sinket on the mound for Anselmy was never in trouble throughout the game. He whiffed fourteen Ord batters, Graff struck out one Anselmy batter and Beran ten.

R. Beran Hurt.
Another dark spot in the game for Ord was the injury to Rolly Beran—a fielder and leading hitter in the Loup Valley league. Beran received a fractured cheek bone in the pre-game warm-up, although he later entered the lineup in the last of the sixth inning, getting one hit in two trips to the plate.

Sunday, August 14, the locals entertain Broken Bow here in their last official league game unless they make the playoffs. The game will get underway at 8 o'clock.

Walling Is Located; Was AWOL from Army
Complaint was filed July 7, charging Elmer Walling, Jr. with issuing a no fund check in payment for repairs on an auto, to Nelson Motors. Walling has been located. He was AWOL from the army and he is now under arrest at Smoky Hill, Kan. When he is released there he will be returned to Ord to face the charge.

French 'Merci' Exhibit Here

In a window at Aulse Brothers store the Ord Chamber of Commerce is displaying an exhibit to express a thank you from the French to the American people for gifts of friendship. These gifts were sent over on the Merit Train which consisted of a carload of gifts for each state. This display is only a part of the collection that was presented to the State Historical Society in Lincoln.

Levies Fixed for Year 1949, 1950 by County Board

Levy in All Towns Is Below That of '48-'49; Valuations Are Given.

The Valley County board met in regular session last week, to take up routine matters, such as the payment of claims and the hearing of bank reports. It was also moved to strike out the word "grave" in a motion made July 13 with reference to grading and graveling 2 miles of road in Enterprise township.

The supervisors also heard and accepted the resignation of George A. Satterfield as county treasurer, and ordered his letter incorporated in the records of the county board. Nothing was done toward appointing his successor, and it is understood that this will be taken care of this week.

The levies for the incorporated towns and villages of the county, and made by County Clerk Woods, were presented, and will be acted upon by the board this week. As these are made to furnish funds for the estimated needs of the coming, they will probably be approved as made. The valuations and levies are given herewith.

Rodeo Off to Fine Start

Nebraska's big rodeo in Burwell is off to a fine start this year, with as big a show as they have had in many years past. Advance ticket sales are brisk, with all arena seats sold out for the four days.

This afternoon, Burwell homecoming day, arena events will start officially. Thursday is Grand Island day, Friday Kearney day and Saturday Omaha Stock Yards day. Bands from Howells, O'Neill, Loup City and the Hastings Shriners are furnishing music. Special feature on Saturday afternoon will be the Plumcreekers from Lexington in an intricate horse drill.

Flower Show Best Ever Seen in Ord, Is Public Claim

Women's Groups to Be Commended Because of Exhibit's Success.

Surprisingly beautiful was the flower show at the fair, considered by many of the hundreds who saw and admired it to be the best ever shown in Ord. The show was put on by the various women's civic and social groups, with Mrs. O. A. Kellison as chairman.

Groups represented included the Women's club, the Business and Professional women, the Legion and VFW auxiliaries, the 8 and 40, and representatives from Elyria, Arcadia and North Loup. They were assisted by girls from the three Ord Camp Five groups.

These groups had table arrangements of flowers which lent much to the beauty of the exhibit. There was also an 4-H table arrangement and one presented by Leanne Kerchal on which she won a blue ribbon.

Grand prize for adults in the flower show went to Mrs. Leo Long for the most attractive exhibit, while Denise Finley was given first prize for the most attractive exhibit for children. Miss Minnie Jensen had one of the largest exhibits of flowers.

There were not less than one hundred exhibitors, and flowers of all kinds were everywhere, the judges having a difficult but very pleasant job deciding which were the best. It would be impossible to list all winners here, but the list of winners in all departments is being published elsewhere.

Joie Chitwood's Daredevils Were Feature of Show

Finest Attraction Seen at Valley County Fair in Recent Years.

Easily the outstanding feature of the Valley county fair, and surpassing in interest any attraction in recent years, was Joie Chitwood and his group of Daredevils, who did the impossible with 1949 stock cars and kept the people on the edge of the seats when they were not standing and yelling themselves hoarse.

When the fair billed this attraction the board did not fully realize what a tremendous attraction it was, but the people realized it and responded by filling the stands to capacity both nights of the show. If the Valley county fair needed a shot in the arm, the Joie Chitwood show certainly provided that shot.

Foils were seen leaping over each other, stopping on a dime and doing other unbelievable stunts with greatest ease. Then Daredevil Don Donovan ran an old car up a ramp with one wheel on the other off and upset it purposely, wrecking the car and in so doing sustaining a broken shoulder himself. This was Wednesday evening. Thursday evening boys got another auto and Buck Mason repeated the performance, the second time the radiator falling off. After some difficulty the men got the old car tuned up again and Mason wrecked for the third time. How any man could go through such punishment is difficult to understand.

The personnel: Joie Chitwood, Reading, Pa. (fifth at Indianapolis), Jimmy Curry, Charlotte, N. C., Hal Kent, Glendale, Calif., Jimmy Trainor, Tampa, Fla., Don Donovan, Conshohocken, Pa., Buck Mason, Richmond, Va., Ray Varrick, Brockton, Mass., Jimmy Arttrip, Huntington, W. Va., Becky Fisher, Indianapolis, Ind., Spence House, Harrisburg, Pa., LeRoy Bradford and Chance Peterson of Staunton, Pa., Jack Wilson, announcer, Birmingham, Ala., Pete and Davey Roberts, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Whitey Harris of Detroit, Mich.

Palmer Eliminates Pop Corn Days Ord Junior Legion Sept. 20-22 at North Loup

Date Week Later Than Year Ago; Big Event Is Promised by Backers.

Wednesday night the Nelson Motors Junior Legion team from Ord went to Fullerton for their second game of the district series. They ran into tough competition with the Juniors from Palmer, and their pitcher, Aschwege, who is making quite a name for himself this year, and lost by a score of 13 to 4.

Ord did not play the usual fine game, but had they been their best, they would have had trouble getting past the boys from Merrick county. Ord got past North Loup in the opener Monday night of last week, and drew a bye for Tuesday night.

10 Ounce Bass Entered, Big Ones Never Bit!

Newest entry in the Quiz fishing contest is a 10 ounce rock bass, caught by John Ragland, Jr. The fish was caught in the Cedar near Ericson on a casting rod with grasshopper bait, on Saturday, August 6.

"The fish didn't start biting until around 3:30 for me," Ragland reported. "I caught two rock bass, one ten ounces and the other around five ounces, three nice fat blue gills and a three pound carp. Grasshoppers were used as bait. There were a lot of largemouth bass around 2 1/2 to 3 pounds, but they only nosed the bait."

Wilson Is New Co. Treasurer

Lloyd Wilson, who has been acting county treasurer for the past several months in the absence of George Satterfield, was appointed officially Tuesday to the job, following a meeting of the board of county supervisors.

Mr. Wilson has been deputy county treasurer for many years.

Chitwood's Auto Daredevils Make Spectacular Leap

One of the acts that electrified spectators at the Valley county fair last week was the defying jump of a 1949 Ford over 80 feet through the air from ramp to ramp. To make stunt even more difficult, another car passed under the leap car, both at a speed of 60 to 70 miles per hour. Action photo by Ed Swopes.

Wonderful New Comfort

The Beautiful Chrysler Silver Anniversary Model

New Convenience! Easiest car ever made to get into and out of. Women enter and leave with dignity. Common sense engineering of wider doorways, and a natural step-in entrance make it seem absurd ever to have to wrestle your way in and out of a car.

New Wider Chair-Height Seats! We don't fold you up like a "jackknife." You sit comfortably in seats the height of your easy chairs at home. We've more headroom, legroom, and shoulder room for you. And no other car has ever been so completely engineered from the fundamentals up for your comfort, your convenience, your peace of mind.

New Easier Steering! In one of the great advances since the war, we give you new "center control" steering. For the first time, tie rods of equal length give you balanced control. There's no wheel light. There's greater road stability, easier handling, less road shock. Yes, and greater safety too—for everything about this car is designed for safer driving.

New Smoother Driving! Chrysler's mighty Spiffie engine now has still higher compression for fast acceleration, smoother response. And along with its better all-around performance goes an amazing new Water-proof Ignition System that's exclusive with Chrysler. You can drive through high water but it won't stall. You get quicker starting, even in dampest weather, smoother idling, longer life.

Ammonium Nitrate

We have contracted for our Ammonium Nitrate for delivery up to July 1st, 1950. There is every indication that Nitrate will not be too plentiful for the coming year. We are ready to book your requirements for the coming year and can tell you about what month we can expect delivery. We have Nitrate for your fall wheat sowing. And if you have a field of Bromo Grass you can increase your yield next year if you apply the Nitrate this fall. It is unbelievable what an application of Nitrate will do for Bromo Grass.

Superphosphate

Alfalfa fields should have an application of Superphosphate this fall and you will be surprised at both the hay and seed yields next year. Another plan on alfalfa that is being plowed up next spring is to apply a good application of superphosphate this fall. The combination of the Nitrate from the Alfalfa and the superphosphate that you apply will make wonderful crops next year.

Grain

The grain markets are holding up pretty well, although there is some weakness evident this week. We feel that now is a good time to move some of your surplus grain to market. Let us make you an offer on your grain that you have to sell. We have several truckloads of good barley and oats on hand. Corn is rather scarce but we have the promise of several loads the last of this week.

Seed

There is an extra good demand for alfalfa seed at present. This seed is bringing a premium if it can be put on the market for fall sowing. We expect to see a lower market for alfalfa for seed later this year unless something happens to the seed crop in most of the producing area. Sweet Clover seed is not quite as high as last year but is bringing a very good price. Bromo is in strong demand and Crested Wheat is bringing a very good price. If you have seed of any kind to sell, let us make you an offer on it. Let us move this seed while the buyers are anxious to fill their requirements.

The Golden Age in Ord Baseball Was Years 1909-1919

Good Players, Capable Managers, Made Game Popular in Ord.

Ord had her famous players before, and she has had them since, but it is generally agreed that the years 1909 to 1919 saw more good local players in action than in any other era. For this reason it is sometimes referred to as the Golden Age of the sport in Ord.

It is difficult to find sufficient data in the papers of that time to give the complete story, due to the fact that most games were written in generalities, with few, if any, players mentioned, and only an occasional box score. This was especially true of the games Ord lost.

Not much is said in the 1910 files relative to the Ord town team, but it is known they had one. There were also local teams which played in Ord. In 1911 Springdale and Mira Valley joined forces and formed a team that defeated Rosevale, 12 to 5, on May 27.

The July 20, 1911, Quiz tells of a game in which Ord defeated Arcadia, 6 to 4. The date of the game was not given, and no players were mentioned, but it was stated that the game was played on the new diamond in Bussell Park. It was this diamond that made the sport so popular in those days.

In the same paper is an item about a combination team, Mira Valley and Springdale, under the name Rexalls, playing an Ord team. Petty and Arnold pitched for the Rexalls and Ward for Ord, with Ord winning 7 to 2. July 21 the Cornell team, from Rosevale, went to Scotia and were beaten 9 to 5.

July 27, the Quiz put in a plug for Steve Koupal, not yet out of his teens, who was a whiz at first base and at bat. July 28 Ord lost to Loup City, 11 to 9. Aug. 4 the Cornells, with Frank Ball in the box, won from Ord, with Cy Castle pitching, by a score of 3 to 2.

Aug. 2, Castle pitched Ord to an 8 to 1 win over Burwell, who had Cook of Scotia pitching for them. Aug. 9, a new pitcher, Buchan, defeated Sargent at Ord, 1 to 0. Aug. 20 an Ord team called the Serssens (backed by Serssen's Hardware) defeated the Rexalls of St. Paul, 9 to 8.

May 8, 1912, a meeting was called, which was well attended, and a baseball committee, E. P. Clements, P. C. Ferryman and G. W.

Taylor was named. Collections were being taken, the Commercial Club was helping and, with Marion Cushing on hand, another pitcher coming. Ord was to have a good ball team.

The first game that year, May 22, Scotia lost at Ord 5 to 3, with Cook and Ammerman battery for Scotia, and Elmer Duryea, Cushing and Allan Clements for Ord. May 24 Ord defeated Greeley, 7 to 2, and the box score was given for the game, with the Ord players as follows:

Steve Koupal, first; Springer, short stop; Henry Misko, right short stop; Henry Misko, r. field; Thompson, center field; Dutch Burger, left field; Castle, third; Level, second; Clements, catcher; and Cushing, pitcher. Among the Greeley players were Mose O'Banion, Tom Lanigan and three Murphys.

Later on mention is made of a pitcher named Luby and catcher named Martin. Allshire, Bill McMullen and Selk all played some for Ord. Tom Lanigan pitched one game for Ord.

April 29, 1913 a big crowd attended a baseball meeting, with Dr. F. A. Barta as chairman and Ed Beranek as secretary. In the same paper the Presbyterian church suggested a Sunday School league. The Ord high school team went to North Loup and won, ten to nine.

Because several of the members of that team later became regulars, the players are mentioned here: Glen Patrick, Roy Hamilton, Ernie Hill, F. L. Blessing, Floyd M. Collins, Leslie Flynn, — Burson, Bill Heuck, Ross Brown and LeRoy Athey.

The files for the years 1914 to 1917 inclusive are either unbound or missing entirely, and in either case are not available, as it would be an unending job to hunt for data in unbound papers. Then comes 1918, the big war year, when all men qualified were in the armed forces, and the rest were working day and night and had no time for ball.

Luckily Bill Heuck has furnished the Quiz with a picture taken in 1915, and 1917, which show who played for Ord in those years, and also a picture of the team about 1913. These will serve to bridge the gap, but do not furnish details of some of the fine games they played.

This leaves only 1919, and both the Quiz and Journal files are available for the final year of the decade. A baseball meeting was held May 18 with many present, including Albert McMindes, Ray Burdick, Bert Hardenbrook, who was chosen president, H. C. Kelberlau, secretary.

Players named included Ben and Dave Arnold, Steve Koupal, Joe Dailey, Glen Johnson, Pidge Johnson, H. C. Newman, Howard Jones, Albert Dahlin, Burger, Heuck, Castle, Kelberlau, Martin Wiegardt, Steve Finch and Luke Weekes, who was made manager at the next meeting.

Dr. J. McGinnis, Albert McMindes and Joe Dailey were appointed finance committee. Plans were made for grading the baseball lot at the Valley County fair grounds. Emil Fafetta got home from the war about June 1st, and Wesley and Leslie Flynn a few days later.

In June Ord beat Scotia 5 to 3 and again 8 to 3. The Ord lineup was: Steve Koupal at short, Rabbit Rondeau, center field, Dutch Burger at left, Glen Johnson on first, Heuck catcher, Pidge Johnson at second, Cy Castle on third, Emil Fafetta in right field, and Sailor, pitcher. The Scotia battery was Megrue and Ammerman.

In July Ord lost to Greeley 3 to 2 with Dailey pitching for Ord and Lanigan for Greeley. Then Ord went to Greeley and beat them, 10 to 3. Dailey again pitched for Ord, and McGowan and Tom Murphy pitched for Greeley. Ord lost to Arcadia 6 to 0, Dailey for Ord and Finch for Arcadia, with Ord getting only four hits.

In August Ord beat Arcadia 6 to 3, Waiworth for Ord and Smith for Arcadia. They defeated Ansley in a rained-out 6 inning game, 4 to 2. Waiworth again for Ord and Mackey for Ansley. Hayslip, former Ordite, got a home-run for Ansley. They ended the season by beating Scotia 15 to 13, in all innings.

That Scotia team were all great players. Their lineup: Selk, short-stop; Sautter, center field; Bossen, right field; Ammerman, pitcher; Grohosey, first base; Miller, second base; Megrue, third base; Welch, center field; and Duryea, pitcher. Campbell was the Ord pitcher. The Ord team of 1919 was known as Weekes's Colts.

Wheeler County Put On Fair and Rodeo

Quite a number of people from Valley county, especially from the north part, went to Bartlett Saturday and Sunday, where the attraction was the Wheeler county fair and rodeo. Friday was entry day.

There were also several free acts in front of the grandstand, clowning, dancing and a carnival. The show at Bartlett is not large, but it always is good and draws patrons from a long distance.

Education Is Important

— and every child deserves the best.

This message is directed to the fathers and mothers of teen-aged boys and girls who are ready to enter high school for the first time, or who have not yet completed the entire course qualifying them for graduation. Many of these young people do not comprehend the great need of an education and do not take advantage of the opportunities at their door.

Parents know the necessity of their children having a good high school education and also the advantages of attending a school where they may select from a large variety of courses.

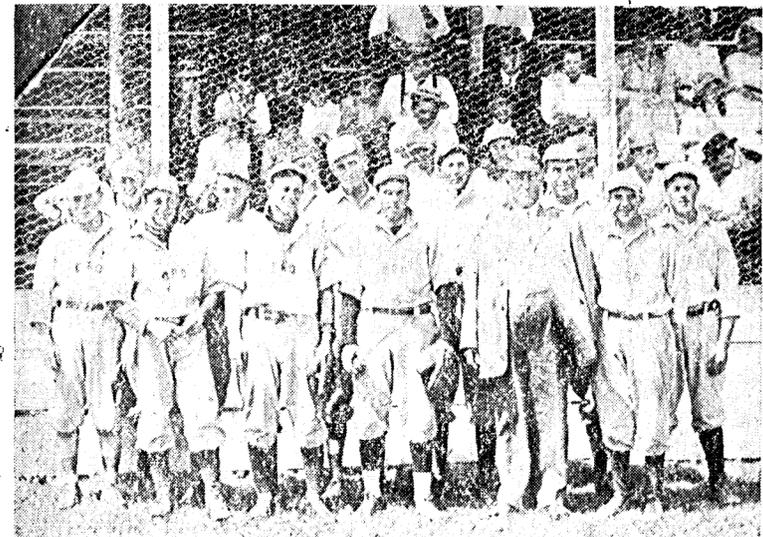

We have made an earnest effort to provide such a school and feel that we have been successful. Our teachers have all been secured for next year, and our school will teach such courses as college preparatory, commercial, normal training, vocational homemaking, vocational agriculture, manual training, and a general course that may include parts of all the others.

We sincerely urge that you continue your children's education in some good school this fall, and we invite you to take advantage of our own modern high school.

Corn Is King.

Back in Iowa, where the tall corn groves, and in Illinois, where no farm, however small is complete without a few acres of corn, they have long realized that to them corn is king. It is their staple crop, just as cotton is in some areas of the south, sugar cane in others and tobacco in still others.

In the early days of central Nebraska the money-making crop was spring wheat. Later on it became winter wheat. Wheat was a money crop because it could be sold and the money from it used to take care of taxes and other expenses on the farm.

Corn, rye, barley, oats and other crops were raised, not so much for the stock and for feed for the coming year. Thrifty farmers set aside selected grain to use for seed the coming year, for themselves or to sell for seed.

As the country grew older, the crops underwent a gradual change. Wheat did not do as well on the older land as it had on the land that had been broke the preceding spring. On the other hand, those who tried it found that corn did better on the older land.

The quality of wheat was not as good as it had been and flouring mills of which there had been one in nearly every town, began to go out of business. With smaller market for their wheat the farmers continued to cut down on their acreage.

As the fields of grain grew smaller the fields of corn became larger. In some instances farmers went in for corn and alfalfa entirely, raising no grain at all. With the coming of the tractor the horse began to disappear, and there was less call for oats for feeds, much of the former oats land going into corn.

About that same time hybrid corn came into common use, and since that time the yield of corn per acre has just about doubled. Today Nebraska is one of the great corn states, and we Cornhuskers may well bow our heads in humility to Old King Corn.

The Tractor Problem

This is not written to bring up a controversial issue, but rather to point out a problem that is practically here and must soon be met, just as all problems must be met, with calmness and judgment. It is the question of the farm tractor on the highways.

Primarily the tractor is strictly a farm vehicle. It is the motive power that runs the farm machinery across the fields, and by use of the belt, does the thousand and one other jobs around the farm. This is the work to which it is normally assigned.

But a tractor, rubber equipped as most of them are today, can travel as well on the roads and highways as can the autos, buses and trucks. Farmers are spreading out in their farming operations. If not enough land can be farmed close to home, more is obtained farther away.

This necessitates using the tractor to transport machinery and material and eventually crops, over the highway. This is what has given rise to the problem that is becoming more and more pronounced as time goes on, what to do about tractor travel on highways.

If farm tractor fuel were taxed, if the farmer paid a license tax on his tractor, there would be no problem. But, while it might be fair to require the fuel tax and the license for the time the tractor is used on the highway, it certainly would not be fair to require them when the tractor is used in the field.

It is generally agreed that motor vehicles traveling over the highways should pay a share of the tax needed to maintain those highways. It is also held by some that a tractor has no more right on the highway than a stray horse or cow, and that the owner should be held responsible for all damages in case of accident.

This is one extreme view. Extremists in the other direction argue that a tractor should have a right to travel continuously on the highway if the owner so desired and had work that required it. Some middle-of-the-road solution will have to be found for this problem, and that in the not distant future.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Botts spent last Thursday at the Larry Botts home in Wood River helping the twins celebrate their fourth birthday.

—Sillas Miller and son of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Mrs. J. D. Wittsche of Burwell were Friday evening visitors at the Harry Bresley home. Mr. Miller and son are house guests of Mrs. Wittsche, the former's sister, and will remain until after the rodeo.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

My old pal, Irl Dentler Tolent, dropped in to see me last week, and he came, not to criticize what I wrote last week about the old harness races in Ord, but to add a lot of names to the list and to give also the names of some horses that made turf history in Central Nebraska, most of them between forty and fifty years ago. Rame Gass, spoken of last week, drove a horse named Jessie T. Tom (Talbot) Rockford, his best driving with a horse belonging to Bill Tolbert of Greeley.

Then there are some more of the old timers will remember. Clark Lambson had a speedy nag he called Bonnie B. And then there was Tom Williams with Teddy Bancroft. The other Tom, Tom Trindle, had a horse he called Dude. Bill McButt had a stepper he named Marce Chan, and John Neese drove his Doc Ludington (if he had another name I never heard it) did his share of racing with Rex D.

But, going back a little farther than all these, Irl believes, were the two Aubles, John and Dayt, who developed quite a rivalry in harness racing with the likes of horses whose names are household words in many homes even to this day. John drove Tiddewalk and Dayt's horse was Dandy A. John Carson, besides having a son Kit Carson, also had a horse named Kit Carson, who was the most famous of all the early day nags, because he went to the big time and won quite a lot of money by his habit of coming in first.

Irl, being a lover of horses, and living in or near Ord in those years, has a remarkable memory for horse lore, and he took the time to recall to mind those famous old racing men of another generation. He also says mention should be made of three other great lovers of horses and sulky racing, Albert McIndies, Hermand, and Butch White, the latter now living in Lincoln. To me sulky races are so far ahead of running races that there is no comparison. There is something awesome in the way those old timers guided their horses around the turn and in the straightaway, and I had the horses we could still have some exciting races at the fair.

Just now I happened to think of a time when I was called an ugly name and could not do anything but laugh about it. When I use to paper in Burwell I had a two-wheeled cart to haul my papering tools around. Jim Potter had a similar cart that he used for various purposes. One spring a young fellow came to town and was around for perhaps two or three days. He seemed to know everybody, and was always happy, and always profane. I was going home one evening at dusk and met him. He stepped aside to let me pass and said: "Hello, here Jim." Looking closer I saw he had made a fine take, so he added: "Excuse me, you ain't the son-of-a-B-I thought you was." I ask you just how could a man get mad at a guy like that? I laughed about it for months afterward, and still laugh about it occasionally.

That man, Claude A. Davis, of Estes Park, Colo. is still using some of the material from these columns in his Rotary club paper, but so long as he gives credit, I just can't do a thing about it. In fact, I don't want to do anything about it. My idea is that if you have anything worth repeating, pass it along. I am indeed flattered to note that my humble efforts are considered worth copying. Most of the really worth-while things in life are things you can share with others to the betterment of all concerned.

Don't try this if it hurts your face, but if you think you can stand it for an hour, just go down town, walk around and see to it that every person you meet gets a friendly greeting and a pleasant smile. It will surprise you to see what effect it will have on a lot of the people you greet. It may be that some of these people have not had a pleasant word or a grin thrown their way for a long time, and they are hungry for them. You wouldn't turn a hungry man away from your door, why turn him down when he is hungry for a word of cheer? What's more, food costs money, yet you'd give it cheerfully. Happiness costs you nothing, it is not for sale. Why hesitate about giving it away? Every time you give you will have more left for yourself.

This week I am on vacation, and, what a vacation! I will be at my old location in the Information office at about a half past twelve, telling the men to turn left beyond the second hog barn and waving the women in a generally east direction, just as I have off and on since about 1928.

Maybe some folks wouldn't call it a vacation, but to me a vacation is simply a change in occupation. I have known folks to work so hard trying to have a good time on vacation that they would be too tired when it was over to get back to work again.

My story of the family that had planned how they would spend their vacation and had developed the plans through eleven months of the year. They were going to cover 4,000 miles of the United States on the trip and make short stops at about a hundred different places of interest.

They spent all their spare time for two weeks getting everything ready to tee off, and got up at 3 a. m. on the first morning to get everything loaded just right. They traveled for about a week, the first day, caught fleeting glimpses of a number of points of interest, and were too tired to sleep that night after they had pitched camp.

That first day was a fair sample of every day of the trip, but they had a few days scheduled to make, and they made it every day. However, they left home without the Mrs. who caught a bad cold and just couldn't make the start. They worried about her all through the trip, and wished she could be there enjoying herself. They picked up a trunkful of souvenirs all along the route and had them to fuss with and worry about. They got sunburn, chiggers, poison ivy and a dozen other misfortunes of a like nature.

Finally they arrived home at midnight the last day of the trip, too tired even to undress, so they slipped off their shoes and slept the best they could with their clothes on. Next morning they awoke to find the Mrs. up and happy as a lark. She was the only one who had enjoyed their vacation.

Beer Legalized in Nebraska 16 Years Ago This Month

The record of the last 16 years has vindicated the judgment of Nebraska voters in discarding a 13-year experiment which was characterized by crime, corruption and disregard of law. National crime has decreased 7%, highway fatalities almost half!

During these 16 years, the industry has learned much about the operation of taverns—operation in the public interest.

An educational program designed to assist every tavern keeper is being conducted by the Brewing Industry for the benefit of the entire community.

Questionable Advertising

Recently a couple of thousand people in this county each received a card indicating that each one had been one of the "Lucky Winners" and was to receive an award. The award was presented by a firm specializing in good work, and the public will not lose money in dealing with the group. They have done work in Ord before, and always on a satisfaction guaranteed basis.

The Quiz has no quarrel with this company, or with any other legitimate company which may do business here. They have the right to come into the community and solicit business. The only point that should be brought out is the lucky winner and special award angle.

The implication is that the person receiving the notice is one out of many in a group to receive this award. Just why any firm doing good work should have to use such methods to get business is difficult to understand. Just how many people would patronize the company if each one knew that each of his neighbors was also one of the lucky winners?

There is only one way of dealing with traveling groups. First find out from the local authorities whether the company is legitimate. Second, learn from former customers, if there are any, if the work they do is satisfactory. Many organizations can pass these two tests.

But there is a final test that should not be overlooked, and that is to visit the local firm in the same line of business and find out whether you are actually making a saving or not. Do not be satisfied with a nominal saving. It should be substantial, and for the following reasons:

The local business man pays taxes here. He takes part in local activities for the building up of the community. He owns property here. He has the best interests of the local people at heart, for he is one of them. Whatever he might do, if he so desired, to injure the public, would certainly injure himself.

After all, any advertising that is in any way questionable will bear looking into, or will not bear looking into. There is only one safe way in dealing with outside organizations, and that is, to avoid them entirely and deal with the fellow at home who helps you pay the taxes of the county.

For Entertainment. Last week saw the largest Nebraska's Big Rodeo on record, with an actual attendance of more than fifty thousand at the four day show. The week before saw a successful Valley County fair, off to a slow start, but plenty strong at the finish. Fairs in general are going over good this year, as well as other special entertainments.

It shows that the public is strong for entertainment, and for good entertainment. There is more talent available this year than ever before in history, with more people than ever developing new and unusual forms of entertainment. If the present trend continues, there is almost no limit to which specialists may go in this field.

There is a reason behind it all. The American people like to be entertained, they are willing to pay well for the best in entertainment. The officials of the Valley county fair knew they were taking a chance when they contracted for Joie Chitwood and his Daredevils, the best show of its kind to be found anywhere in the world.

They took that chance, and put it up to the public to attend in sufficient numbers to pay the expense of the show. Their confidence was justified. The people came in numbers beyond the expectations of most of the officials, and the show came out definitely in the black. The board is to be congratulated in placing confidence in the public.

At Burwell, Nebraska's Big Rodeo has never had an unsuccessful show since the first small showing in 1921. Each year the management has tried to make the entertainment bigger and better than ever. The growth reached a peak twenty years ago, and then fell down for a time, as did every other form of human endeavor during the drought and depression.

Started after the war, the rodeo made an outstanding success of its first year, and has shown an increase ever since. This year a new peak was reached when all of the twelve thousand available seats were filled for three days in succession, something that had never happened before. Behind it all is the fact that the public has learned to depend on the quality of entertainment.

In the final analysis, it sums up to the fact that the people want the best, and are willing to pay for it when it is offered. This is true in the field of entertainment, and in all other fields as well.

What's Cookin' Ward's Column

If I can get the fog out of my head long enough, I will try to write this column. It is not for lack of material that I am wondering what to write, but rather lack of time. You know, last week's Quiz had to be put out by Ed and Marlene, with Ed Eugene and yous truly both off.

However, I managed to pack in a lot extra Friday and Saturday, and no one came in to buy. Coming back Monday morning I not only had to take care of current events as they developed, but had to get in the stuff usually written a few days earlier. If I make a few mistakes, please make some allowance for same.

Since I spent the whole week at the rodeo in Burwell, giving more directions than a traffic cop, answering more questions than an information bureau, making more dates than a matrimonial agency, answering more phone calls than ten central girls, taking more orders for seat reservations than a chair repair man and making more mistakes than fifty men ought to, what I write will naturally have quite a rodeo flavor. I might add that I painted signs off and on all through the week, whenever the need for signs arose. But I had a lot of good help.

First there was the traveling man who hung around for two days, looked in on the show from time to time, but spent the rest of the time helping me keep the situation in hand at the information office. He weighed about 250 pounds, sat down on my cot and broke one of the legs, but I managed to prop it up with the suit case and slept all right, when I got a chance. Then came Al Swan, the trailer salesman from Grand Island, who hung around a lot of the time, and always had some kind of an answer to every question, some of them wrong, of course. Locally there was old faithful George Hill, handy man for Andy Snyder, who was at the office when he was not somewhere else. George is 83, but he works as hard as any man on the grounds. He said this was his last year at the rodeo as a worker, but he said the same thing for the past fifteen years, so nobody takes him seriously.

Ferd Butts, in charge of cattle, found some leisure time, as did his son, Cecil, and both of them helped out. In fact, when I found it necessary to go away with a message, there was always somebody sticking around to look after details. This year's rodeo was one of the worst on record when considered from the viewpoint of heat. It was comfortable in the office, but the sun sure boiled out in the open. Hundreds of visitors spent the waiting time resting in the shade of the big north stands. This year, with the sun making a direct hit on the three lowest rows in the track stands, all the space there had to be used on the last three days, and the people suffered with the heat. The management is already figuring out some plan to put up temporary shade for those seats next year.

Add this one to your list of foolish questions. One day a lady came to the window and said: "We heard you had a big show here when we came to Grand Island, so drove up to see it. This is Nebraska's Big Rodeo, all right, but what is the name of your town?" A lot of former residents came back for the show, and I met some of them. Coach and Mrs. Zorn of Gothenburg, and Mrs. Zorn, who was coach in Burwell away back when Burwell came to Ord and outsped the locals 33 to 0 on the football field. He is doing all right at Gothenburg, according to what the papers have to say.

Mr. and Mrs. Hersel and son, Harold and wife were among the former residents who came from Missouri to see the show and to visit old friends, mostly the latter. Then there was Frank Gifford and son, Thurston. Frank is known almost as well in Burwell as he is in Ord, as he was in business here for several years.

Paul (Frenchy) DeLashmatt claimed that the management put the rodeo off a week, just so they could hold it while he was here, and no rodeo would be complete without him. Wen McMichael, a sort of cousin of mine from Arcadia, should have been included in the list of those who helped out at the office. Then there were Mr. and Mrs. Kearney McCarty, all the way back from Los Angeles, and helping out with the show. Finally came Leonard Manassil of Denver, who was equally handy at the ticket office and taking in money at the Catholic stand.

Among the ardent rodeo boosters who attended were Chuck Woodhead and Cecil King, farmers from Edgar, Neb. Woodhead likes to come to the rodeo in his typical cowboy garb, in the drugstore kind, and he likes to ride in the parade, which he didn't do this year. Then there was Gus Fonner, who used to march around with the Indians. Gus is getting a little old for that sort of thing now, but he still makes valuable suggestions.

I met a Mrs. Laura Holmes of Aberdeen, S. Dak., who was running a little novelty stand and selling curios of all kinds. My interest in her was the fact that she lives next door to the drugstore, classmate of mine, Mrs. Sada Calhoun Post. She is well acquainted with Sada, and promised to give her my regards. Some of the old timers may remember her as one of the Calhoun family of girls and a graduate of an Ord high school, class of 1904.

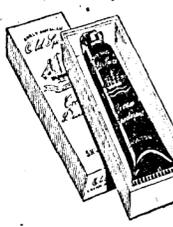

One old timer revisiting the scenes of his youth was D. L. Lawson. His father, A. B. Lawson, moved to Burwell in August, 1896, at which time Willow Springs was the county seat. The Burlington built in Burwell the next fall, and during the winter of 1897-98 most of the buildings at Willow Springs were moved across the river on the ice, and a big fight between the towns terminated with Burwell becoming the county seat in 1900.

S. T. Fleener lived on the farm where the Banner cemetery is. In 1886 young Lawson, then 7 years old, and his mother's sister, Nina Fleener, were being pulled across the river near the site of the Burwell-Summer dam when the boat sank. He stayed in the boat, but his aunt was washed downstream and her body was found some distance below.

At that time I. B. Nelson had a mill on the river near the old bridge. Later a steam mill was built by Ames West of Burwell. As a kid of 14, Mr. Lawson helped take Charles Peters out of the threshing machine in which he met his death on the Meyers farm, now the John Lech farm. He knows and knew the Goodenows, the Dravers, the Tullys, the Dowhovers, Nigger Amos, Irv. Dodge, Dick Ray, Ford Coffin and many other old timers.

Lawson's father was section foreman at Elyria, Burwell and Ericson during the time they lived here. They moved away in 1895, and Mr. Lawson is now living at Paxton, Neb.

Something Different

So many people say to me "What did you do in Minnesota? Do you fish a lot?" And when I answer that I fished only one time this year they pop their eyes.

Let's see now, what all did I do? Of course there are all the usual things, meals, dishes, washing, as little ironing as possible, then there is sweeping out sand which must take place often, and there is scrubbing which must take place also, much as you do not like it.

There is blueberry picking. . . no, you don't have to pick them, but they were the most plentiful in 1949 that anyone could remember. There actually were patches "just blue" with them. They grow low down under old pine trees, or better yet they like the rich soil around rotted logs where ferns are thick.

There is mosquito slapping: we did a great deal of this in 1949, for the mosquitoes were likely to carry you off if you didn't swat them first. And they catch you, then there is dopping the itchy places they left.

For some, there is poison ivy dopping as well. I don't recommend this yet many of my friends and relatives go for it. Yes, there's lots of poison ivy to get into. But I just don't go for it!

There is dock sitting and later, as you get up courage after dawdling your feet in the water and telling how good it feels, well, later there is dunking in the lake and swimming. Most delightful "after you once get in" as someone always adds. This lake dunking we do once or twice or thrice a day if the weather so indicates.

And very enjoyable is it. Now for the children, it is swimming, of course. They dive and splash and yell like crazy. In fact they often mock the loons: you've heard about being crazy as a loon, no doubt? (We had five loons and dozens of mallards to watch.)

There are the water sports. For Timid Milquetoasts, a float on an inner tube is such a sport. For youngsters, water ball and three-cornered tag and so forth. And rowing around garbed in bathing suits, tumbling in and out of the water.

Oh yes, then there is rowing. And also outboarding, both of them very pleasureful. I might mention it isn't quite the sport to motor along and then HAVE to row home in the broiling sun and its glare. No, that isn't as good sport as rowing when you want to row.

Fishing is never-failing source of fun for most of the visitors to northern Minnesota. You can take a cane pole and a can of worms and now out 50 or 100 feet, and catch pan fish, such as bluegills, in our front yard.

You can fish after dark, and be practically certain to bring home a wonderful string of glistening black bullheads.

You can arise at some such unearthly hour as 2:30 a. m. swallow a couple of cups of scalding coffee and stuff down a sweet roll, means time wearing about every day you own, and carrying your motor, your minnow net, your fishing rods and reels, your minnow bucket complete with live minnows for which you made a hasty trip to town last night, your stringers, your tackle box, . . . out to the car for a trip to a bigger lake where bigger fish bite the better minnows.

You may also lug many more things. For instance if the night was rainy, I advise you lug some old cloths to wipe off the seats of the boats you hire (also meaning a hasty trip yesterday) . . . else you'll get so-o-o itchy. You may lug pillows, because you'll likely sit for several hours. I could say a lot more about this, but I'll try to restrain myself.

For some of the members of the family, make there is fish dressing. This activity goes on immediately following your trip after the fish. Sometimes there is allibing, in place of fish dressing. Thinking up remarks like "You know the fish have some mouths this week, they're losing their teeth." Or "No use to fish with the wind like it is." Or "The anchor just wouldn't hold the boat in that wind." Or "Yes, we got chased off the lake by that storm . . . didn't YOU get rained on?" Or "Just when they began to lute we ran out of bait." Also "If we hadn't had our lines twisted I would have brought home the biggest . . . (fill in to your taste) . . . you ever saw. I had

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, itching up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or steady passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

him right up beside the boat. . . well YOU saw him, So and So, didn't you?"

There is oodles of scenery to view, many trips to take. Forever there is reading, my favorite sport forever. Letter writing should be mentioned. There is hammock-sitting, or glider-sitting, whichever you prefer. We like this best at dusk for the sunsets are truly beautiful, their colors doubled by the lake to our west.

This year there was living room painting and several other odd jobs like that, ably directed and assisted by our neighbor to the north, Oscar Nay. There is yard cleaning up every year, well, several times, with the children using it so hard.

There is going to town . . .

three miles . . . for the mail, the milk, the groceries, the strawberries or whatever you are hungry for.

Then we do a little visiting back and forth with the Gelows from Grand Island, the Bottfors from the same place, the Grosses from Alibon and several other cottagers, but principally with the Andersons of Ord. We go back and forth several times daily to share coffee, mail, swimming or some such.

Quite a few other oddities pop up to be done, but I have given you some idea of our pastimes, haven't I?

--Irma.

When You and I Were Young Ten Years Ago—The Quiz announced that the Nebraska Press Association was to publish a "Who's Who" of Nebraska. Mrs. Sarah Holloway passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Goff, at the age of 83 years. One hundred and twenty-five men were employed as the Burwell potato harvest got under way. A lower admission charge was decided upon to step up attendance at the Valley County fair. Guy Vincent, lineman for the Western Public Service, fell from a pole on the Ed Kasper place northeast of Ord and suffered a broken back. John S. Hotel of Vinton was planning to have a large irrigation well. Nebraska's Big Rodeo was again a great success. The Valley County board asked that no open season be had on pheasants. Twenty-five men were fined for chasing to a fire and hindering the work of the firemen. It might happen again. Two Ord girls, Merina Rowland and Ruth Haas, came near drowning while bathing in the Burwell park. The State of Nebraska. Volbach went into the hands of the state banking department. Dr. Robert A. Billings, former Ord doctor died at his home in Valentine. John Nelson, Ord-Grand Island mail clerk, was stricken with appendicitis while in Grand Island. The Bull Settler's picnic was held at the Russell Park and Maud Goodenow and W. B. Weekes were re-elected president and secretary. There were a large number of applications for the position of city manager, left vacant by the death of Bill Walters. Thirty Years Ago—Over near Sargent some cattle got into a cane field and in a short time six were dead. Time to watch for such dangers this year. Rudolph Colson, who had recently returned from France, was married to Miss Nora Jorgensen by Rev. Alonzo Knight. Ross Blessing, run over when he ran in front of a truck. Newbecker of the Ord chautauqua program. The Ord and Hugo Bros. bands combined to put on a fine concert. Forty Years Ago—With Cook and Burger as battery, Ord defeated Arcadia, there, 8 to 4. When You and I Were Young Ten Years Ago—The Quiz announced that the Nebraska Press Association was to publish a "Who's Who" of Nebraska. Mrs. Sarah Holloway passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clifford Goff, at the age of 83 years. One hundred and twenty-five men were employed as the Burwell potato harvest got under way. A lower admission charge was decided upon to step up attendance at the Valley County fair. Guy Vincent, lineman for the Western Public Service, fell from a pole on the Ed Kasper place northeast of Ord and suffered a broken back. John S. Hotel of Vinton was planning to have a large irrigation well. Nebraska's Big Rodeo was again a great success. The Valley County board asked that no open season be had on pheasants. Twenty-five men were fined for chasing to a fire and hindering the work of the firemen. It might happen again. Two Ord girls, Merina Rowland and Ruth Haas, came near drowning while bathing in the Burwell park. The State of Nebraska. Volbach went into the hands of the state banking department. Dr. Robert A. Billings, former Ord doctor died at his home in Valentine. John Nelson, Ord-Grand Island mail clerk, was stricken with appendicitis while in Grand Island. The Bull Settler's picnic was held at the Russell Park and Maud Goodenow and W. B. Weekes were re-elected president and secretary. There were a large number of applications for the position of city manager, left vacant by the death of Bill Walters. Thirty Years Ago—Over near Sargent some cattle got into a cane field and in a short time six were dead. Time to watch for such dangers this year. Rudolph Colson, who had recently returned from France, was married to Miss Nora Jorgensen by Rev. Alonzo Knight. Ross Blessing, run over when he ran in front of a truck. Newbecker of the Ord chautauqua program. The Ord and Hugo Bros. bands combined to put on a fine concert. Forty Years Ago—With Cook and Burger as battery, Ord defeated Arcadia, there, 8 to 4. Lightning struck the W. H. Reisinger barn in Ord and the Charles Palmatier home in east Ord. Rufus Clason was mired up in a runaway and was badly bruised and suffered an injured knee. A. Ward bought the Garwick property in Ord and was planning to move in. F. E. Thorne opened up a cafe in the Gruber building on the north side of the square, probably the first Thorne cafe in Ord. Miss Lotie Chotena returned from her vacation and returned to Ord in Clements Bros. law office. Marion Strong and Lewin Drake went west to register for the government land drawings. The Ord Quiz had a nice, new sign, painted by Tom Fuson and Bill Warwick. Fifty Years Ago—It was quite an entertainment year, with a small circus early, a July 29 celebration, Bryan in Ord July 29, and Ringling Bros. and the Valley County fair coming in September. William Nay came to Ord to take possession of the Hewark and Stafford blacksmith shop which he had bought. The Milford brothers, Jim and Bert, were the proud owners of a tandem bicycle. Miss Delpha Taylor had accepted the position in the Ord Journal office made vacant by the resignation of Miss Breezie Parks. Emil Beushausen, the hardware man, shot himself in the hand while fitting a cartridge in Dr. Briuk's revolver. Everett Lewin and Miss Maud Ratliff were married. Prof. Harold W. Foght had signed a five-year contract to teach in Dana college at Blair. Sixty Years Ago—George A. Percival had packed his goods preparatory to moving to Hartford, Conn., or Ogden, Utah, the places where he intended to locate. — John Klinker and Ina Alberta Dixon were married. — Oscar Babcock received official notification of his appointment as postmaster of North Loup. — Schaefer and the Kokes had redecorated the room recently vacated by Dr. Perry and had moved their drug store into it. — Some Italians with trained bears were in Ord collecting nickels on the streets. An entertainment called the "District High" was put on by the people of the Ord Methodist church. — Fred Bartlett had accepted a position in the new Bank of Commerce at Broken Bow. Sixty-five Years Ago. — Prof. Lee formerly of Ord, had opened a tailor shop in Pullerton. — The Loup City ball team came to Ord and played the locals, winning 21 to 18. A. J. (Bud) Shirley was on the Ord team. — H. H. Bailey brought to town a sample of wheat with stalks five feet high. — J. W. Perry had bought quite a lot of property in Ord and planned to move his family here. — Woodbury Hunting was displaying some fine cucumbers that he had raised on his farm west of North Loup. — Will Johns had bought a new Minnesota threshing machine and was doing all the threshing in the Calamus vicinity. — Bird Wilson had bought the Union Pacific house at North Loup and planned to make it one of the finest hotels in the country.

A Statement By Dr. Miller

For those who are uncertain as to what I intend to do after I close the Ord Hospital, about October 1st, I will state that I intend to move my office to a building west of the Christian church, which is now being remodeled. I intend to care for my patients in the future, as long as I am able to work, but I do not intend any longer to manage the hospital, as I feel that 30 years is about enough of that part of my work.

No young doctor will locate in a town that doesn't have a public hospital in which all the physicians of the town have equal privileges. This is impossible if the hospital is owned by one physician. Many towns in Nebraska, smaller than Ord, are building hospitals of less capacity than the Ord Hospital, at a cost of several times what this will cost.

If the community fails to take advantage of the present option, the building will be used for some other purpose and the town will then find it necessary to build a new building, at several times the cost of this one.

I would like to make it clear that this town cannot get along without a hospital if it expects to maintain any kind of medical service that the people are willing to accept.

Doctors no longer will build and manage their own hospitals for the following reasons:

- (1) They can always find good towns that are willing to provide hospitals.
- (2) A private hospital lasts only as long as the physician that runs it lasts.
- (3) It is the duty of the public to furnish the hospital the same as they furnish schools.

The school looks after the education of the children, but we don't expect the teachers to build the schools. Neither do we expect lawyers to build county court houses. The hospital should be the center of all activities relative to the health of the community, and as such must be available to all legally qualified physicians, so that the patient can choose his physician with the assurance that he will get the same hospital service regardless of who his physician may be.

Mrs. Frank Blaha Resident of Ord, Is Laid to Rest

Friend and Neighbor to All, She Was Known For Her Good Works

Aloisie G. Mosnicka Blaha was born at Treveschek, Czechoslovakia, in 1877, and passed away Aug. 14, 1949, at the age of 72 years, 4 months and 7 days. She was married to Frank Volek in 1900. Two children were born to them in Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. Volek came to America and obtained work in a coal mine in Missouri. Later he sent for his family. As she was crossing the ocean on the Kron Prince Wilhelm, she received the sad news that her husband had been killed in a coal mine accident.

She came to Nebraska and located in Howard county, where, in 1905, she was married to Frank Blaha, a widower with several children. They came to Ord shortly after their marriage, and lived at first on a farm in Michigan township, where they stayed for 15 years.

The family moved to Ord about 30 years ago, at the time Frank and John Blaha opened their garage. A step-son, Martin Blaha, died in 1920. Mrs. Blaha's only daughter, Bessie McCall, died Dec. 3, 1932. Mr. Blaha passed to his reward June 6, 1934.

Mrs. Blaha continued to live in Ord until her death. She was active and faithful in her church duties and was a member of several social clubs until illness prevented. Mrs. Blaha was trustworthy and kind-hearted. For, after the death of her daughter she and her husband took a granddaughter into her home.

Besides her granddaughter, she is survived by her step-children: Louise Blaha of Denver; Frank Blaha, Ord; Mrs. Mary Lukens, Culver City, Calif.; William Blaha, Bothell, Wash.; and John Blaha, Ord; one son-in-law, Edward McCall, Grand Junction, Colo.; one sister in Europe; 14 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren also many relatives and friends.

Rosary was recited at Hastings-Pearson chapel Tuesday evening at 8. The funeral was held from Our Lady of Perpetual Help church at 9 a. m. Wednesday, Fr. Thomas Siudowski officiating. The pall-bearers were Charles and Rudolph Blaha, Ord; Anton and William Jernalek, Farwell; and Louis and Daniel Hurt, Ashton. Burial was in the family plot in the Ord Catholic cemetery.

Autos Collide

No serious damage was done when cars driven by Al Devore and Dan Huff collided on an intersection in west Ord late Sunday evening. The Devore car was upset, Mrs. Devore receiving a cut and bruised arm.

Sells Acreage

Sale of the DeHart ten acre tract in west Ord to John Urbanoski for $8,000 was reported this week by E. R. Fafetta, local broker. Possession will be given October 1.

Buys Beran Farm

Ed Novak of Ord has purchased the Frank Beran farm, consisting of 240 well irrigated acres in the flats northeast of here. Possession will be given March 1, according to E. R. Fafetta.

Forms on which veterans apply for their share of the nearly three billion dollar GI insurance refund dividend will be available in the office of John J. Wozab, county service officer, August 29.

Wozab, assisted by a staff of volunteers from the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, will help veterans fill out application blanks.

Every World War II veteran who has a G. I. insurance policy in force for at least three months is eligible for a share of this huge kitty. In addition, beneficiaries of deceased servicemen will also be given a refund on premiums paid by the veteran.

Checks to veterans for their share of the money will begin being mailed out sometime in January, 1950, at the rate of 200,000 per day. The sooner a veteran gets his application form in, the more likely he is to be one of the first to receive his check.

The form is in three parts. The first part includes the instructions for filling it out. It is torn off and kept by the veteran. The second part includes the blanks. The third part the VA tears off when it receives the form. It is mailed back to the veteran as his receipt that his application has been received and is being processed. All it costs the veteran is a one cent stamp for postage when he sends it in.

Blank No. 2 on the application is the most important one of all. It asks for the veteran's present address, or where he can be sure of being reached for the next six months. On more than 10,000,000 policies the VA has only the address of the man when he enlisted. They are the vets who dropped their policies when they got out of service.

The VA's insurance records have been kept separate from its other records. So, even vets who have had other business with VA won't necessarily have their present addresses filed for dividend purposes. VA does NOT want the address of the man when he enlisted. It already has that.

Shoplifters

Get Two Suits

A party of four shoplifters working in Ord Tuesday afternoon made off with two new men's suits valued at $90 from the local C. C. Penney store, and may have taken articles from other stores in town.

The four, strangers to all local residents who recall seeing them visited a number of stores in town and made a few purchases. At the C. C. Penney store, three of the group, a woman and a man engaged clerks in conversation and prospective sales in the rear of the store, while the fourth party made off with the suits which were on a display rack at the front of the store.

The loss was not discovered until some time later, and would have gone undiscovered until inventory time, if the suits had not been brand new ones placed on the rack only a few hours previous.

Authorities are investigating the case.

Open Law Office

Ord friends received formal announcement this week of the opening of law offices in Oregon City, Ore., by John P. Misko, formerly of Ord and John O. Sheldahl of Chicago. The Misko family left here in early June to make their home in Oregon.

Army Reserve Unit to Be Formed Here; Will Meet Tuesday

Headquarters of 5392 Regiment to Be Transferred Here.

Headquarters and headquarters company of the 5392nd Infantry Regiment, a reserve training unit, will be transferred to Ord in the near future, Captain Harold D. Roads, Grand Island sub office of the Organized Reserve Corp, announced this week.

First meeting of the group will be held Tuesday, August 23, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, will attend the national convention in Philadelphia Pa. Also going from Ord will be C. J. Mortensen, a member of the state Legion finance committee, and official delegate from this district.

The 5392nd unit, to be transferred here, has a complement of 11 officers and 103 enlisted men. It is now in a second phase training category which authorizes two drills a month. Members of the reserve attending drills will be paid regular base pay plus longevity.

Adds $20,000 Payroll. Lt. Col. E. R. Dunklan of North Loup is scheduled for commanding officer of the new unit, the Quiz learned this week.

Formation of the reserve unit here is the culmination of several months of quiet work by Ord posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, the Ord Chamber of Commerce, and interested reserve officers. At full complement, formation of the group here will add an estimated payroll of $20,000 to this area.

Ord Army reserve officers, Col. John H. Major, Major Raymond Pogock, led activities which resulted in Ord being named headquarters for the 5392nd regiment. Neither of them will, however, be attached to the new unit, LaCorna being assigned to the 5392nd Post Camp and Station Complement with headquarters at Grand Island, and Pogock being placed in a special Mobilization Day unit with the Fifth Army.

Around 50 officers and enlisted men in this area are at present members of the organized reserve. They are expected to join at the Tuesday meeting to bring the local unit to full strength in a few months. Details of drills, and sites for drills has not as yet been announced.

Naval Reserves Inactive. Members of the Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corp reserves in this area are at present in an inactive status, although possibilities of a similar unit being formed here are not too remote.

Ord is also in a position to obtain a company of the Nebraska National Guard. Efforts to obtain a cold shoulder from civic leaders and the project was tabled. If the latter group is formed, the city will be in a position to obtain an armory built by federal funds. The guard unit would also add a sizeable payroll to the town, in pay to guardsmen and one or two full time employees.

Social Security Pays $8,000 to G. I. Widow

To date, survivors insurance, provided by the Social Security Act, has meant the receipt of $8160 in monthly payments to a widow whose husband was also a veteran. The Social Security Administration field office in Grand Island.

This young widow called her story to the attention of the field office manager the other day when she stopped at the office to report her change of address. Her claim had been one of the first to be filed in the Grand Island field office. When her husband's death had occurred, she had been referred to the field office by her husband's employer. She recalled that she had never given much thought to the Social Security Act until the sudden death of her husband.

"If anyone had told me that my husband's social security tax would provide anything like $8000 in insurance, I would have doubted it." It was estimated that her family would be entitled to draw approximately another $3000 before the children attained age 18 and then, of course, widow's benefits at age 65 may be provided.

Legion to Send Junior Team in Bus to Little World Series at Omaha

As a reward for their playing efforts this season, members of the American Legion junior baseball team will be given an all-expense trip to Omaha on either August 31, or September 1, to see the Little World Series. The trip will be made by chartered bus, under the direction of team manager Wm. Heckuck. Heckuck told the Quiz today that 25 players had boys far older than our own group. All of which indicates that we're going to have a really "hot" Legion team here when our kids get a bit more age and experience.

Veterans Send Commanders to National Meet

Both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Ord will send their post commanders to their organization's national conventions this year, it was announced this week.

E. R. Apking, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will attend that group's national meeting in Miami, Fla. August 21-26. He will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Wozab, Mr. Wozab going as a delegate from the post, and Mrs. Wozab as a delegate to the VFW auxiliary meeting.

August 28 through September 4, Commander Leo Zikmund of the American Legion, will attend the national convention in Philadelphia Pa. Also going from Ord will be C. J. Mortensen, a member of the state Legion finance committee, and official delegate from this district.

Weather Hot, Dry, More Rain Needed, Some Corn Damaged

One of the Best Crops of Corn in Many Years Is Maturing Rapidly.

Rain is badly needed in some areas, according to farmers from the upland farms. Farmers under irrigation have been using water copiously in recent weeks, and their fields show up fine, with no serious damage from grasshoppers reported.

Except in extreme cases, grasshoppers do not seriously menace the corn crop. The stalks grow so rapidly and the foliage is so heavy that the grasshoppers take does not cut down much on the crop. Some farmers have been taking preventative measures with good effect.

It is a different story with the corn borer. The second crop of this year, but for the increased numbers that may be expected next year. The first crop of borers damaged some fields as much as an estimated ten per cent. Sweet corn and pop corn seemed to be a special target for the pests.

Showers Saturday, Monday and Tuesday helped somewhat at Ord, but missed in other parts of the county. North Loup received more rain Monday, but less Tuesday. On Davis Creek a heavy rain of two to three inches is reported. A similar downpour is reported from northwest of Burwell.

Rains are needed not only for the corn, but for the third crop of alfalfa, which will be short unless plenty of rain comes soon. Fall plowing is becoming difficult because the ground is too dry and hard in many places. A good, general rain in the next few days would finish the 1949 crop.

Omaha Holds the Top; Better Cattle Strong

On a 37,000 run, Omaha held top rank among the major livestock markets again Monday—the second Monday in a row. Omaha's sheep run at $9.00 was also No. 1 and biggest since February. Fat cattle from $28.00 up were in demand on a steady to 25c higher basis, but trade on others continued slow and only steadily to weak. Steer top was $28.00, with heifers to $27.00.

Hogs, which hit the skids the latter part of last week, Monday were still on the downgrade, the break that day another 50c-$1.00, bracketing butchers at $21.00-$21.75, lights down to $19.50, sows at $13.50-$19.00, stags $9.00-$13.00. Fat lambs lost 50c-75c to bulk at $22.50, $22.75. Slaughter ewes sold steady to weak at $7.00-$9.00, and feeder lambs steady at $22.50-$23.50. Breeding ewes brought $10.00-$11.75.

Among recent sales at Omaha for shipping from this area: Valley County: Myron Williams, 41 hogs, wt. 164, $20.50; F. J. and Merlyn Schudel, 35 heifers, wt. 840, $26.00; Albert Volf, 31 hogs, wt. 240, $23.00. Wheeler: Floyd Olson, 26 steers, wt. 1068, $26.00.

Kovach managed the alfalfa mill here three years ago, prior to its sale to a local syndicate, who turned it back to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation a month ago.

Is He Coming or Going ...

This cowboy seems to be slightly confused. It was the outstanding incident of Nebraska's Big Rodeo, and Swopes got the picture. The waddy swung his leg over to get off just as the bull bucked, and he turned completely around landing backward. Then he had to try it again, which was not so easy.

Mrs. M. Blessing in Suit Against Richard Rowbal

In a suit filed in district court, Margaret E. Blessing is asking $4,000 damages from Richard Rowbal, Ord plumber, for damage to house and furniture which she claims was due to negligence on the part of Mr. Rowbal.

Mrs. Blessing is represented by Wellensiek and Weaver and Lanigan and Ondracek. Sullivan and Cronin will defend Mr. Rowbal. The date for trial is not yet set.

Two Young Men Are Sent to Prison for Stealing an Auto

Myers and Long Given Reformatory Sentence in District Court.

The case in which the Jake Clayton auto was stolen from the parking space near the Valley County fair grounds during the fair came to a close Aug. 11, when the two young men who took the auto, John Edwin Myers and Everett L. Long, were sentenced to the state reformatory by District Judge W. F. Spikes. Myers drew one to three years at hard labor, and Long one to two years.

Both men entered a plea of guilty as charged. The Clayton auto was found at Wolbach, where it had been abandoned. It was seen there by Harold Owens, who was trucking hay for Marshall, and Clayton and Duane Armstrong drove over and brought it back to Ord. The two men, employees at the Saunders Mills, were apprehended by Sheriff Bob Hall and Herman Rice.

Ord Golf Club in Local Tournament

The Ord Golf Club held a local tournament last Sunday in which a dozen or more members participated. It was a handicap match, and ended with M. Biedmond and Harry Zulkoski tied for first place. Harry was lucky in the loss and was adjudged the winner.

The club is planning an invitational tournament to be held on the Ord course Sunday, August 28, according to Vernon Malolepszy, secretary. A more complete story of this event will be given in next week's Quiz.

Nebraska's Big Rodeo Pleases With 1949 Show

Attendance Greatest in History; Records Fall in Many Events.

A total of 169 cowboys took part in the rodeo activities at Nebraska's Big Rodeo at Burwell last week. Some of these took part in as many as three events in an effort to win the nod as champion cowboy, an honor much coveted at every rodeo, and especially at this one.

There were 54 entrants in the calf-topping, fifty six in the bulldozing, thirty two in the bronc riding, thirty five in the bull riding, and thirty two in the bareback riding. These figures were pared down somewhat as the show progressed, some being out with injuries and others hopelessly outclassed.

Grand Island Day. Thursday was Grand Island day and more than 300 visitors from the third city were present and sat in the arena stands to watch the work of the fastest group of cowboys ever to assemble at Burwell. Saturday, the final day, was Omaha's day, and as many as two chartered buses, but far more came by auto, and found the trip worth the trouble.

Friday was Kearney Day, with fully as big a delegation from that town in attendance. Saturday, the final day, was Omaha's day, and as many as two chartered buses, but far more came by auto, and found the trip worth the trouble.

Contributions and stock purchased during the week totaled slightly over $5,000, according to figures from Leslie Nash, who is acting as treasurer for the drive. "People over the county are responding quite well to the ultimatum given a week ago," Archie Geweke, chairman of the drive, reported to the Quiz. "If this pace keeps up for a few more days we'll reach our goal."

Geweke said that a "mop-up" campaign would be carried on in Ord this week in an effort to see every possible contributor and stock purchaser. At the same time, solicitation in rural precincts will be stepped up.

Not all solicitors have turned their funds into the treasurer, according to Nash, who urged that funds on hand be turned in immediately so that solicitation lists can be brought up to date. "If your name hasn't appeared in the paper despite the fact that you have purchased stock it is probably because the solicitor hasn't turned in all funds," he commented.

New additions to the Hospital Honor Roll are published on another page of this issue.

'Mop-Up' Campaign to Start in Ord Wards; Time Growing Short.

The fund for Ord's Cooperative Hospital passed the $40,000 mark this week coincident with a stepping up of solicitation over the county.

A total of 169 cowboys took part in the rodeo activities at Nebraska's Big Rodeo at Burwell last week. Some of these took part in as many as three events in an effort to win the nod as champion cowboy, an honor much coveted at every rodeo, and especially at this one.

There were 54 entrants in the calf-topping, fifty six in the bulldozing, thirty two in the bronc riding, thirty five in the bull riding, and thirty two in the bareback riding. These figures were pared down somewhat as the show progressed, some being out with injuries and others hopelessly outclassed.

Grand Island Day. Thursday was Grand Island day and more than 300 visitors from the third city were present and sat in the arena stands to watch the work of the fastest group of cowboys ever to assemble at Burwell. Saturday, the final day, was Omaha's day, and as many as two chartered buses, but far more came by auto, and found the trip worth the trouble.

Friday was Kearney Day, with fully as big a delegation from that town in attendance. Saturday, the final day, was Omaha's day, and as many as two chartered buses, but far more came by auto, and found the trip worth the trouble.

Contributions and stock purchased during the week totaled slightly over $5,000, according to figures from Leslie Nash, who is acting as treasurer for the drive. "People over the county are responding quite well to the ultimatum given a week ago," Archie Geweke, chairman of the drive, reported to the Quiz. "If this pace keeps up for a few more days we'll reach our goal."

Most unusual of all the events was the bulldozing, in which the former time of 4.8 seconds set by Gene Ross in 1940 went by the boards. First man to lower this record was Jack Favor of Arlington, Tex. He turned in a time of 4.6. This time took a locking the same afternoon when Floyd Lingle of Trenton, Mo. cut it down to 4.2 seconds.

This looked like fast enough time to suit anybody, but Doug Simon of Arlington, Colo., decided he could do better, and he did, wrestling his steer down in the Friday show in the time of 4.1 seconds. However, it remained for Jack Favor to come back Saturday and break the record for the second time missed with an unbelievable time of 4 seconds flat.

Calf Roping Record. A new record was set in the calf roping event Saturday when Dan Taylor, Doale, Tex., tied his calf in 13.2 seconds. Fast times in this event for the four days were as follows: Wednesday, MacLennan, San Saba, Tex., 16.4 seconds; Thursday, Whitley Keeney, Stevensville, Tex., 14.5 seconds; Friday, Paul Gauss, Dunning, Nebraska, 14.5 seconds; and Taylor's new record of 13.2 Saturday.

Women's Contest Pleases. Added this year was a new event at Burwell—the cowgirls' Cloverleaf Bull race, in which a total of twenty contestants were entered. Among those with fast times in this event were Amy McGilgry, Wertzton, Tex., 19.4 seconds; Janelle McGilgry, also of Wertzton, 19.5; Margaret Montgomery, Ozon, Tex., 19.7 and Duda Barton, Elmont, Tex., 19.9 sec.

Nebraska Highway Needs Shown in Recent Engineering Appraisal

Parking problems are increasingly pressing although they are not confined entirely to the large cities. While curb parking is generally tolerated as a necessary part of motor vehicular transport, it is also recognized that in certain locations "on street" parking may be an inefficient use of street space and should be allowed only when the street surface used for moving vehicles is adequate for the existing traffic load. Angle parking is an extremely extravagant use of city streets. The parking lane is wide and the maneuvering space for parking and departing is even greater. At many locations parallel parking provides room for four lanes of moving traffic, while only two lanes of traffic may move where there is angle parking on both sides. Accident exposure in angle parking is much greater than in parallel parking.

That parking operations should be regulated according to the needs of moving traffic is imperative; nor should such operations be allowed to encroach on or hinder normal traffic flow. Throughout Nebraska there is a definite need for efficient parking rules which will protect and serve traffic, especially that traffic which is passing through a city or village on major traffic routes. Engineering studies should be made to develop needed parking rules, which may include the prohibition of parking, the establishment of parallel parking and the abolishment of the center-of-the-street parking. Not long ago, for example, Ord had center-of-the-street parking around the square, including the north side of Highway No. 11. We all know of the traffic hazards involved there every day, and that through traffic was often halted momentarily because of this condition.

At the same time the center parking on the south side, combined with angle parking at both curbs, made it difficult for the buses and trucks to get through. These difficulties have been eliminated by the abolition of center parking, but this presents another problem in the finding of other places for visitors to park on Saturdays and on special trade days or times when visitors are attracted to town.

Municipal lots are being used by a few communities in the state to alleviate parking problems. For example, Sidney and York have with confidence any situations that may face him ahead.

Most Nebraska county roads and many of the state highways are located on section lines. For this reason, deviations from a straight line may occur suddenly at the end of an extremely long straight-away with a square turn having a very short radius. Such a setting forms a perfect situation for a long history of serious accidents and is easily corrected. For example, the highway running west from just north of Sweetwater was the scene of a number of accidents where it crossed the main line of the Burlington. The problem became so serious that the highway now comes from the east, turns south into Sweetwater, crosses the tracks there and goes back on Highway 2 to the line, then turns west again. It makes for safety, but causes a loss of time to every auto passing along that highway.

On state routes sudden curves are generally well marked with some ingenious signs or system of signs usually constructed with reflectorized background material. While some of these signs are effective, there is a lack of uniformity that tends to decrease their overall value. It is recommended that uniform signs that can be adapted to any situation be applied wherever signs are needed on Nebraska's road systems.

Narrow bridges are also a source of serious accidents. A well-known example of this is the bridge across the Middle Loup river south of St. Paul on Highway 11. Twice in the past few weeks two trucks or a car and a truck have tried to pass on that bridge and have been wedged in such a way that some time was spent in getting them off the bridge. Meanwhile traffic piled up for a long distance on either side of the bridge and many valuable hours were lost to transient vehicles. This and other similar hazards will be eliminated as conditions permit.

In general, the signs used on state highways in Nebraska conform to national uniform standards. However, the number of signs which are in place are not always adequate and their location frequently does not measure up to the standards. Good signing requires good engineering and cannot be done by rule of thumb. While the casual observer may not notice that signs are uniform in size and shape and that they are placed at uniform heights and distances from the pavement and from intersections, the overall effect of such standardization is to enable the driver to anticipate that I'm quite sure he doesn't have in his collection the Quiz to my new address. I haven't received one as yet and we really miss it over here.

Nebraska Blessed With More Miles of Running Water Than Other States

The fact that Nebraska has more miles of running water than any other state in the Union didn't make life any easier for the thousands of emigrants whose covered wagons traveled its trails to the west. Indeed, one of the most serious problems facing the overland emigrant was that of getting across Nebraska's many streams.

The traveler was faced with the problem no matter which trail he took—that north of the Platte or the one running along the south side of the river. There were no bridges until in later years, and ferries, in addition to being few and far between, often were so expensive that the average traveler simply couldn't afford to use them. In most cases, the only feasible way to get across a stream was to ford it.

This always was time consuming and frequently hazardous. At some places, the streams were shallow enough to make it possible to load the wagons through without endangering the contents. At others, it was necessary to remove the baggage and ferry it over on rafts. Frequently wood for rafts was unobtainable. Hence in time the beds of some of the better emigrant wagon roads were made with calked seams so that they might be turned into clumsy barges when the occasion demanded it.

Along the northern route—usually called the Mormon Trail, but also used by many others—in addition to the Mormons—the principal river barriers in Nebraska were the Elkhorn and the Loup. William Clayton's "Emigrants' Guide," prepared for the Mormons but used by all travelers, gives specific instructions for fording these two streams.

Regarding the Loup, Mr. Clayton wrote of "the wisdom and necessity of having several men go across on horses, to find the best route, before you attempt to take wagons over."

"If this precaution is not taken," he warned, "you may plunge your wagons from a sand-bar into a deep hole, and do much damage."

The South Platte Route was even more difficult, because ultimately the Platte itself had to be spanned. No matter where it was crossed—west of Fort Kearny, at Brule or at Julesburg—the Platte was a formidable barrier. In time, bridges or ferries were provided at other important crossings, but never at the Platte. Too low for ferries and too wide for bridges, from the days of the first fur trappers on through the Oregon migration and the California gold rush, the Platte had to be forded.

—Mrs. Wm. Beard and daughter returned from a two week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Crowell, of Wauweta.

Palmatiers Hold 65th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmatier observed their 65th wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 14, quietly at their home in southeast Ord. They had made no plans for a special observance, but their daughter, Mrs. Stella Grindley and husband Bill and son Elroy and wife came from Chicago for the occasion. They had Mrs. Ellsworth Ball, Jr., bake the wedding cake, which she decorated in fine style with the words Sixtieth Anniversary.

A group of old friends came to call upon them in the evening and Mr. Palmatier sang a song for them and Mrs. Palmatier gave a reading. Present were Mrs. Rose Pierson, Mrs. H. C. Marks, Mrs. W. A. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hockett, Mrs. C. E. McCreary and son Lloyd, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark. The children are painting the house and making it more convenient for their parents.

The Palmatiers were married at Youngville, Sullivan county, New York. They lived in the Geranium neighborhood and in 1890 they took over the Geranium post office, which they kept until 1915, at about which time they moved to Ord. They lived 3 years in an old house and then built the lovely house which has been their home since then.

Besides the children mentioned there are Loretta Frazier and Grace Roe, of Chicago; Marshall of Wilmington, Calif.; Alice Reed of Hollywood, and Ed, a rancher of Boise, Idaho. They are both in and their daughter and husband are expected to arrive Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Roe will come in about two weeks. The children from California are expected here at almost any time.

The Palmatiers received many lovely and useful gifts and the flowers were especially lovely. Mrs. Marks responded Sunday evening to the entertainment put on by the Palmatiers by reciting a lovely reading. They are both in very good health at present. Mr. Palmatier frequently walks up town, and works in his garden. Mrs. Palmatier does her own house work, including cooking, and raised 25 chickens this year, now ready to fry.

Better Farming to Be Uged by FHA
Use of better farming practices by farm families using supervised credit is one of the main goals of the Farmers Home Administration in Valley county, according to FHA County Supervisor Donald E. Krick and FHA County Committeeman Emil J. Sedlacek who attended a meeting of 9 supervisors and committeemen at Broken Bow last week.

Emphasis was placed on veteran's preference in the matter of both production loans and farm home purchases. Mr. Krick said clearing up old subsistence loan debts and old loans for feed and seed came in for discussion, with officials stating that this matter must be pushed during the year.

Another meeting of this type will be held in the Ord office this week with the committeemen from Garfield, Greeley and Valley counties attending, to acquaint all committeemen with the aims of the program for 1950.

Veterans in Valley County Can Apply for G.I. Insurance Refund After Aug. 29

Blank No. 7 asks for the number of the insurance policy. Many veterans will not have this. If they don't it doesn't make any difference. Supplying that number merely helps VA to make the payment faster. VA asks that veterans do not write in to ask their policy number before they fill in the application. That just gives the works more than ever.

Blank No. 4 asks for a man's serial number. That, too, is to make VA's job easier. If a man doesn't remember it and can supply enough of the other information requested he will still get his dividend.

Blank No. 8 asks for a "claim number." This is a number assigned to a man when he files for any claim with VA. Many veterans will not have one. This also, makes no difference. If he does, it helps VA.

The rest of the blanks to be filled in are self-explanatory. In the first blank he must print or type his name. In the ninth blank he must sign his name in his own handwriting.

The VA will not automatically apply dividends as advance premiums or for converting policies. If a veteran wants to use the dividend for this purpose he must check the check and mail the money back to VA in the form of a check or money order. Future dividends, however, can be left with VA to accumulate with interest or be applied to insurance.

Beneficiaries of deceased veterans entitled to a share of this dividend kitty need not use this form. A check for the amount of a dividend form, if necessary, will be mailed to them by VA.

Approximately 17,000,000 men are eligible for some of this money. Checks will range from 50 cents to about $300, depending upon the age of a man, how much insurance he has and how long he has kept it in force. Whether or not he has converted his policy from term insurance won't make any difference in the size of the dividend.

VA hasn't determined exactly what the rates of payment will be. That is expected to be announced just before the checks are sent out next January.

The official form, printed on cardboard, is the only one that can be used because it will be processed by special machines. First step in the enormous job of paying the dividend — microfilming the master premium record cards in branch offices so dividend computations can be made in Washington — is most finished. It was second only to V-mail as the biggest microfilming job in history.

Not Too Early To Think About SCHOOLTIME MEALS

Every housewife realizes there has to be a little something "special" about schooltime meals. Breakfasts must be hearty, complete — lunches must present a balanced diet, for there's no chance for healthy young appetites to "piece" between meals as in the summer time when children are home.

Every mother also knows that as long as she plans her meals around quality meat, that she'll be providing the full, balanced diet so essential.

What we would like every housewife to know is that planning meals around quality meat need not be a budget upset. It's simple work to those good Ord cooks who do their meat buying at the North Side Market where quality is always uniformly high and prices no more and frequently less than you would pay elsewhere.

Greeley Lumber Co. is Sold to Smith Co.

A deal recently completed turns the Greeley Lumber Company, owned by R. L. Clinch and Fred McDermott, over to the Smith Lumber company, known as S. E. Smith and sons and owned by Rod Smith of Greeley and Evan Smith of Shelton.

The agreement calls for the turning over of the property to the new owners by or before Sept. 1. The Smiths are buying the company because their present quarters are not large enough for their increasing business. Paul Maclein, now a major in the Army and stationed in Omaha, will be put in charge of the hardware stock.

Semi-Pro Teams Put Ord on Map in 1919 to 1929

Some of Best Players in Nebraska Wore Ord Uniforms With Pride.

After the first World War baseball in Ord, as well as in other places, was rather slow in getting on its feet again, but by the summer of 1920, Ord had a team referred to in the papers as the "Revamped Vamps."

The Vamps lost to Greeley Aug. 13, by a score of 6 to 1. The lineup for that game was Johnson, shortstop; Rondeau, second base; Heuck, center field; Burger, right field; Fafeta, catch; Cushing, left field; Jones, first base; Jensen, third base, and Hill pitch.

The lineup for Ord showed a decided change for this game, with Heuck, Jones, Burger and Johnson still in, and Selk at short, McMullen at second, Petty in right field Flynn in center field and Cook pitching.

In 1921 Herbert L. Cushing began writing the sports column for Ord, and there is plenty of detail. Hook Duray, pitching for Scotia, won over Ord 6 to 2, the Ord players being befuddled by his tricky hook, from which he got his nickname. Sumovich appears in the Ord lineup as pitcher.

The Nebraska Central league was formed at that time, with the teams of Greeley, North Loup, Scotia, Ord, Loup City and St. Paul. Early in the season they stood in that order in the win and lost column. Ord improved and went into first place Aug. 11, with Scotia a close second.

Speaking of managers brings to mind the fact that one mistake in last week's story should be corrected. It was not Tom Bartley who managed one of Ord's baseball teams, but Harry Bartley.

At the Loup Valley fair in Sept., Ord, with the boys in the boys defeated Arcadia, 4 to 3. Dud Faulk pitched for Ord, also at the fair and the team lost to Loup City, 11 to 7.

That game went 18 innings before the visitors could push across the deciding run to make it a 6 to 5 victory. Steve Finch was pitching for Ashton, allowed Ord 17 hits and struck out 16.

With Ormsby Petty in the box, Ord lost to North Loup at the Loup Valley fair in 1921. The score was 10 to 1 in favor of North Loup.

In 1925 the newspapers called the Ord team the Prairie Dogs. They defeated Hastings 6 to 5 in 13 innings on July 4.

It was about this time that a fast third baseman named Tanke played several games with the Ord team. A big Irishman named Delaney pitched a number of games also.

Home games then were played on the old field in the center of Russell park and crowds numbered in the thousands were common.

There was a great deal of gambling on baseball games, the "sports" of both towns lining up along the first base line and betting bets as each player came to bat, as well as on outcome of the game itself.

The name of the Ord team had changed in 1927 and they were known as Rondeau's Cornhuskers. They rose to great heights in the first recorded game of the year, played with the Murphy-Diddits of Omaha, July 7.

In late August the Cornhuskers played the Council Bluffs Athletics, losing to them in a contest at Russell Park, and then coming back the next day to administer a thrilling defeat at Lake Ericson park. The first game was lost 5 to 2, and the second won 2 to 0.

Ernie Hill was at his best in the second game and held the enemy to 5 well scattered hits. The paper says: "Big Bill Heuck swung a wicked bat and was also on the far end of two double plays."

In 1928 George Round, jr., piloted a team called Round's Spuds. They did a pretty good job of defeating every other team in the county.

Ord had a good Junior Legion team in 1928, and they ended the season by winning over Comstock to play Kearney for the district championship.

Armatis was the new Ord pitcher in 1929, and he celebrated his game by winning over the fast Norfolk team by a score of 3 to 1.

The next game was won from Crete by a 9 to 0 score. Heuck and Selk were both batting around the 500 mark.

As next week's article will bring out, 1929 marked the end, for almost 20 years, of semi-pro or organized baseball in Ord.

Others who had been serving as a team nucleus for more than a decade were becoming too old to play and no new local players had been developed to take their places.

A surprise party Wednesday, Aug. 10 at the home of Mrs. Ethel Watson honored Mrs. Mildred Leiker and Mrs. Ethel Watson's birthdays.

Then came the depression years, followed by the war, and afterward came the revival of baseball here, climaxed this summer by installation of a $10,000 lighted field.

Sherman-Howard World Series is Decided Surprise

Expected Winners Lose, Scotia to Palmer and Wolbach to Farwell.

The first round in the little "World Series" in the Sherman-Howard league was played Sunday and was somewhat of an upset as most of the dopsters had the wins figured the opposite of the way the games turned out. At Scotia the league champs were turned back for the second time by the Palmer crew when they lost a hard fought 6 to 5 battle and at Farwell the local lads did not have much trouble in knocking over the Wolbach team 7 to 2. Farwell had lost two straight to this team during the regular season. The championship game will be played Sunday August 21 between Farwell and Palmer and the managers of these two teams are meeting Monday evening to decide the playing place.

Visit Pennsylvania

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman returned home recently via bus from a two weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schwarzel and family of Meadville, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Orl Twombly and family of Cambridge Springs, Pa. On the trip to Pennsylvania they visited two days with the Archie Waterman family at Des Moines and saw many interesting places. Among them were Pymatung Spillway to feed the fish, the progress of weaving baskets at Andover, Ohio, and the first oil well in the world called Drake oil well at Titusville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. Schwarzel and Mr. and Mrs. Twombly spent a week end at Niagara Falls. They saw the rainbow color lights on the falls at night and viewed them from 100 feet below. They also saw the Welland Locks and saw three ships go through the locks. From there they went back to Meadville by way of Buffalo, N. Y. then home.

Rural Teachers Meet

The pre-opening meeting for rural teachers will be held August 27 in the court house. At this meeting the work for the year will be planned and the teachers will get supplies needed.

Football Practice to Start Next Monday Morning

A call for candidates for the Ord high school football team was issued this week by Coach Dick Peterson, who urged all boys interested to report at the high school at nine o'clock, Monday morning, August 22.

Physical examinations will be given by team physician Dr. F. A. Earla, and equipment checked out. Light drills and practice are scheduled for later in the week, the schedule to be announced Monday.

Colts Will Play Loup City Monday

Baseball Meeting Held and Drawings Made; Anselty and Mason City Sunday.

James Gilbert, president, and Walter Douthitt, manager of the Ord baseball club, attended a meeting of the Loup Valley League Monday night at Loup City at which the question of determining what teams shall compete in the play-offs was settled. Arcadia and Miller, who wound up 1-2 in the regular league race, are assured of places in the play-offs but the season left four teams—Ord, Loup City, Mason City and Anselty—in a tie for 3rd and 4th places.

It was decided to draw lots to decide which teams were to meet each other and also for locations of games. As a result of this draw Mason City and Anselty will tangle Sunday night, Aug. 21, under the lights at the Loup City fair grounds, and the Ord and Loup City teams will meet the next night, Monday, Aug. 22, at the same place. The games will be held as features of the Sherman county fair.

Winners of these games will compete with Miller and Arcadia in the regular round robin play-offs to decide the league championship and cash awards, on dates to be decided later.

Guy Wards Move to Newman Grove

The Guy "Tarzan" Wards of Burwell have moved to Newman Grove, where Mrs. Ward will be an employee in the office of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, work in which she was engaged prior to her marriage. They will make their home in rooms adjoining the telephone office. Tarzan has several jobs in view, but has not yet decided which he will take. He was employed at the Burwell Alfalfa mill before moving to Newman Grove.

Vail Scintillates as Colts Down the Bow Indians 5-3

Ord Second Sacker Has Big Night in Field, at Bat, Keeps Team in Race.

By beating the Broken Bow Indians 5 to 3 under the lights at Russell park Sunday night the Ord Colts kept themselves in the race for play-off honors and cash. The win left them tied with Loup City, Anselty and Mason City for 3rd and 4th places in the Loup league race. Special games must be played to decide which two teams enter the play-offs with Arcadia and Miller, before the actual play-offs to decide the league championship begin.

To a large extent it was the inspiring play of Harry Vail, diminutive Ord second sacker, which won Sunday night's game for Ord. Not only did Vail hit safely for extra bases twice, getting a triple and a double and batting in two of Ord's runs, but his play at field was great throughout. In the third inning he was credited with three put-outs unassisted, running two Indians down on the base paths and going deep on the grass to tag a pop fly for the last out. Broken Bow had three men on bases, with none out, when Vail went on the base path.

The Colts took an early lead, getting 2 runs in the 4th inning and 2 more in the fifth, and were never headed though the Indians kept pecking away with one run each in the 6th, 7th and 8th frames.

Dick Beran started on the hill for Ord but tired in the sixth inning, after giving up 9 hits, and Patrick replaced him, allowing 4 safeties in the three innings he tolled. Beran received credit for a win. Maroney, for Broken Bow, was replaced in the third by G. Vaughn when his arm went bad, and was the losing pitcher.

Catcher Stan Johnson, with 3 hits in 3 official times at bat, led Ord stickmen, though rolling Beran, with 3 for 4 and Jim Finley with 2 for 3, and welded heavy bats. S. Vaughn hit a home run for Broken Bow.

A disappointingly small crowd saw the best game played since Ord's wonderful lighting system was installed. The faithful fans did attend and play stellar ball marred by only 2 errors, neither of which was costly.

Stock Purchases Climb to $44,000 During Past Week

Hospital Board Feels Goal Can Be Reached in Near Future.

President of the Hospital Board, Archie Geweke, announced Monday night that the total of stock purchased to date in the Ord Hospital Association amounted to $44,000. It is possible that this figure should be higher because several solicitors have not as yet turned in money in their possession.

No formal action toward purchase of the hospital will be taken until the next meeting to be held Monday, August 29. By that time it is hoped that the fund will be well over the top.

From an informal report of the building committee it is obvious that several thousand dollars will have to be spent on equipment and to refurbish the hospital.

Mr. Geweke also expressed his gratification and thanks for the splendid cooperation received from those working as solicitors and for the response of the people of the community in purchasing stock during the last two week clean up drive.

"The sale of stock will not be discontinued until the full goal has been reached," Mr. Geweke announced. The board still feels that its decision in requiring that $60,000 be subscribed is a sound policy. This becomes more obvious as the various reports of the committees on management and building are being drawn up.

There will be no let down until the final goal of $60,000 has been reached and a little more effort on the part of everyone will attain that end.

The amounts shown by communities to date including a number of donations in the City of Ord are as follows: Ord City, $33,613. Vinton Township, $750. Springdale Township, $400. Ord Township, $1,550. Michigan Township, $1,000. Independent Township, $100. Davis Creek Township, $900. Arcadia, $700. Arcadia Township, $100. North Loup, $900. Enterprise, $3,300. Noble Township, $100. Elyria Township, $500. Elyria, $190.

To date there is no report from Eureka, Liberty and Yale townships, but work is being done in these areas, and reports are expected within the week. Also, several other townships have not been canvassed completely, and the reports from some are due for a jump next week.

Valley County Group, Infantile Paralysis, Extends Needed Aid

Because Valley county has been lucky in the infantile paralysis picture and other parts of the country have been hard hit, the Valley County Chapter this year did what it has done in the past, and made a loan of $400 to the National Chapter.

Half of the amount subscribed in the county each year is kept in the county for local needs. As this amount has not been needed here, it has been loaned elsewhere, and will be returned when and if it is required here.

With the removal of George Satterfield from the county, the local chapter lost its chairman. The vice-chairman, Stanley Abalon, automatically becomes chairman until the next chairman is chosen.

Rev. Charles Fred Parks Visits Quiz Office for Data on Family

The Quiz enjoyed a visit with Rev. Charles Fred Parks, an Episcopal clergyman from Wilmington, Calif., Friday. Rev. Parks is here visiting with Dr. and Mrs. George R. Gard. He is a cousin of Breezie Parks Gard, who passed on some time ago.

Parks was born in the North Loup neighborhood, on the W. P. Everingham ranch, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Parks. The elder Parks was the younger brother of Stephen A. Parks and Norman F. Parks, both of whom were well known early day residents of Ord.

When he was only a year old his parents left North Loup and moved to Chappell, Nebr., in 1895. John Parks was a tinsmith and a good one, and worked at his trade there and at Sidney, Nebr., to which town they later moved, until his death in 1920. Mrs. Parks died in 1914, and both are buried at Sidney.

Fred Parks attended the University of Nebraska three years, then answered the call of his country and did his bit over in France in the First World War. Coming back gassed, he preferred the higher air and finished his schooling at the University of Wyoming, graduating as an LL.D.

Later he decided to enter the ministry, and was resident clergyman at Rapid City, S. Dak. for 19 years, where he still owns property. At present he is pastor of St. John's Episcopal church at Wilmington, founded in 1882 by Phineas Banning.

Banning is well known, having a school named in his honor. He is the man who sold Catalina island to William R. Wrigley, chewing gum king, for one million dollars.

Rev. Parks was returning from Ely, Minn., where he had been called to officiate at the marriage of his son. While at the Quiz office he looked over some of the old files, gathering data concerning his family.

North Loup Plans for Pop Corn Days September 20-22

Football Game Will Be Feature Held in Pop Corn Bowl Field.

Plans are going forward as usual for the annual celebration of Pop Corn Days at North Loup. Committees have been appointed to have charge of the various parts of the entertainment, and prospects are that this will be one of the most interesting of all the annual celebrations.

The general Pop Corn committee meets Monday evening to complete plans for the annual celebration to be held Sept. 20-21-22. Frank Schudel, this year's chairman announces there will be a football game on the evening of the 20th, on the Pop Corn Bowl's lighted field but the opposing team is not determined.

The 21st the juvenile parade will take place, and the hour's show, a popular feature of the celebration will also be held this day. On the 22nd the float parade will be held. There will be four bands participating in the celebration, two different bands each day.

Each evening an entertainment will be given on the platform near the community hall and Rasmussen orchestra will furnish music for the dances held each evening. Exhibits of farm products and of fancy work and canning will also draw visitors. Final plans for the celebration will be made in a few days, but the usual good time with plenty of free pop corn is promised.

State Owned Lake Being Planned by C of C Committee

Located 4 Miles North of Ord, It Would Make Fine Recreation Spot.

A committee has been appointed by Ross Allen, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, for the purpose of contacting the Nebraska State Game and Fish Commission and to take care of any details in connection with a plan to have a state-owned lake near Ord.

The idea is developing from the fact that two public spirited men, Harry Bresley and A. A. Augustyn, have offered to donate a total of 30 acres of swamp land, better known as the Albers swamp, to the state for the purpose of having it made into a lake.

This land lies about 4 miles north of Ord. It is fed by numerous springs and is so soft that it is impossible to cross it. The soil is a rich black muck, which would form hard, firm soil when dredged out and piled up around the margin. The area is underlaid with shale rock.

30 Acre Lake.

People who have examined this piece of land are of the opinion that it would make an ideal lake. Some high land is included in the offer of Harry Bresley, which has trees growing on it and would make a fine picnic ground. The road up the river follows the edge of the higher land between the swamp and the hills.

The members of the lake committee are Vernon Andersen, chairman, John Andersen, Harry Wolfe, Harry Bresley, Adam Augustyn, Jim Patska and Ross Allen. The idea will be presented to the commission soon, and the public will await with interest their decision.

Needed Rainfall Makes Corn Crop Definitely Sure

Rain Will Mature 1949 Corn Without More Moisture, Is Believed.

Just as the 1949 corn crop in Valley county was beginning to show signs of suffering for want of rain, a heavy downpour visited the entire area Thursday and put the crop on easy street. No more moisture will be needed to mature the crop, it is believed.

In fact, further rain and cool weather at this time might slow down the ripening process until the late corn would be nipped by the first frost. This could be especially true if frost came at an early date. Since the temperature in late August has been lower than the average for this time of year, such a frost might come.

Helped Hay Crop.

The rain also did uncalculable good to the hay crop, both tame and wild. The moisture will speed the growth of alfalfa, which has already produced two bumper crops and is about ready for the third cutting in most places. Wild upland hay will take a new lease on life and produce a better quality crop.

Pastures will benefit greatly from the downpour, and should remain green from now on until after killing frost. Farmers with fall plowing to do are finding the ground in prime condition for their work, and winter wheat, whether sowed now or later, should have a good start by the time cold weather arrives.

The only people handicapped by the rain are the potato growers, who must get their crop harvested as quickly as possible or face the chance of having a second growth damage the quality of their potatoes. Since some of them have been digging potatoes for two weeks or more, it is probable that the crop will be harvested in time to avoid this condition.

Ord Scouts Start Cutting Sod on Welniak Meadow

Will Build 12x24 House on Mortensen Farm; Palmatier to Be Tutor.

Under the tutelage of Ord's pioneer resident Charles Palmatier, Boy Scouts of this city will begin cutting sod Friday afternoon and the next day will commence erection of a 12x24 sod house on the C. J. Mortensen farm north of Ord.

Perfect sod for the project was found in the old Moller hay meadow on the Loup river north of Turtle Creek and was kindly donated to the troop by Cash Welniak, present owner of the meadow. Mr. Palmatier inspected the sod last week and said it is "perfect" for building a sod house. A breaking plow has been found and a plot 12 feet wide by 300 feet long is expected to furnish sufficient sod for the pioneer-type house.

Haul Sod 3 Miles.

Palmatier, who built several sod houses in pioneer days, will supervise the Scouts in their house-building efforts. Dave Watson, scoutmaster, will be in direct charge and Leslie Nash, chairman of the troop, will assist, as will a number of Scout fathers as well as members of the Ord V.F.W. and American Legion.

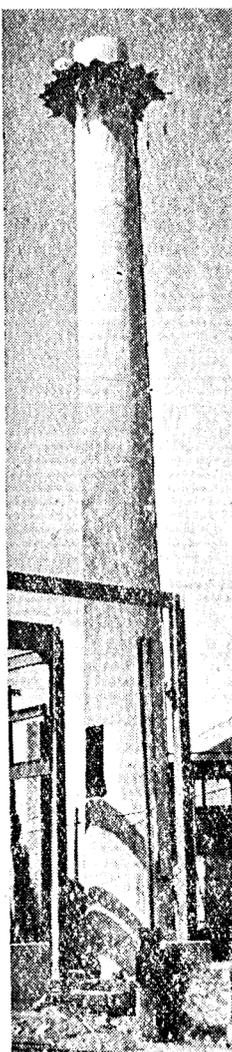

The sod will be hauled from the Welniak hay meadow to the plot donated to the troop by Mr. Mortensen in a truck donated for the occasion by Jack Romans.

When completed the Ord Scouts will use the sod house as headquarters for their troop. Made entirely of native materials and by their own efforts and located close to the river but only 2 miles from Ord, it is expected to be a popular rendezvous for boys of the troop.

The public is invited to witness the start of sod cutting at 4:00 p. m. Friday.

Franklin Philbrick of the U. S. Navy who has been stationed at Pensacola, Fla., arrived home last week to spend a 30 day leave visiting relatives and friends. Franklin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Philbrick.

Going, Going, Gone!

Crew Tearing Down Ord 125 ft. Stack Built 20 Years Ago

Only Four Hundred in America Follow This Type of Employment.

Henry Dougherty, foreman, and Vernon Flint, Marvin Davidson and David Thacker are the demolition crew now engaged in tearing down the huge smoke stack at the Ord light plant. They are from the Consolidated Chimney company of Chicago, Ill.

Only about 400 people in the entire United States are engaged in this type of work, which calls for a high grade of technical skill. The company builds, repairs and demolishes chimneys of brick and reinforced concrete. Great care is used, and there have been only two fatalities in 15 years, both, as it happened, on new work.

The company has other jobs in the state. One is taking 30 feet off the top of the chimney at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln and putting 50 feet back on. The company has the contract for the stack at the Veterans' hospital in Grand Island, now under construction, and due to be from 150 to 175 feet in height.

A number of crews from this same company are at work all over the country. Five of these are specialists in new brick work, two crews work only on concrete, and six do general repair and demolition work.

Because there is no place to drop it, the Ord stack is being torn down piecemeal, with the crew working from a platform built around the top of the stack and lowered as the work progresses. A jackhammer is used to break up the concrete and a torch to cut the steel reinforcing.

The pieces are dropped down inside the stack and are then pulled out of a large hole cut in the base. The crew began work Monday, Aug. 15 and Mr. Dougherty believes that they will have the job done in about 15 more days.

The Ord chimney was built in 1929 by the Webbert Chimney company of Chicago. It is made of reinforced concrete, and cost about $1,400 at that time. It is 125 feet high, 8 feet, 5 inches in diameter at the bottom and 4 feet, 6 inches at top.

The walls are 11 1/4 inches thick at the bottom and 3 inches thick at the top. The contract price for tearing down is $3,950, almost as much as it cost to build it in 1929. Today it would cost $20,000 or more to build one like it, Mr. Dougherty believes.

This well known landmark of Ord for the past 20 years will soon be only a memory. The demolition crew expects to complete the work in 15 days. Photo by Swopes.

Aged Couple to Celebrate 68th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Noll Were Married Aug. 23, 1881; Have Six Children.

Sunday, Aug. 23, will be the 68th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Noll of Ord, and they will celebrate it quietly at their home in west Ord. Due to the fact that Mr. Noll is in poor health, there will be no open house.

However, they will appreciate any cards or notes that friends wish to send them. Mr. Noll was 62 years old last May, and Mrs. Noll will be 86 in October. The Nolls have six children, and all of them will doubtless be in Ord to visit them Sunday.

They are, Williams, of York, Nebr.; Dessie Needham, Gertrude Trout, Walter, Robert and Clayton, all of Ord. The Nolls spent most of their married life on the home farm at Midvale and celebrated their 60th anniversary there.

Mr. and Mrs. Noll have raised a remarkable family, unusual in that there has not been a death in their family in 68 years, a record of which they have a right to proud. They also have a number of grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, and a host of friends, all of whom wish them the best there is in life.

Dr. David Milliken went to Omaha Sunday on business.

'Back to School' in Valley County Will Take Place Sept. 5

County Superintendent McClatchey Says That Most Will Start Then.

The "Back to School" movement in Valley county will take place in most districts Sept. 5. Ord is an exception to this rule. Here Labor Day will be observed and school will begin Tuesday, Sept. 6.

Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, announces that the pre-opening teachers' meeting will be held at the court house Saturday of this week, Aug. 27.

The off-campus course in audio-visual aids, closed a most successful session Friday, with no less than 20 students finishing the course, which should prove of material assistance in teaching this year.

There is little, if any, change in the country school districts over last year. Those which sent pupils to other districts will do so this year, and those which did not hold any school last year will not have school this year.

When You and I Were Young

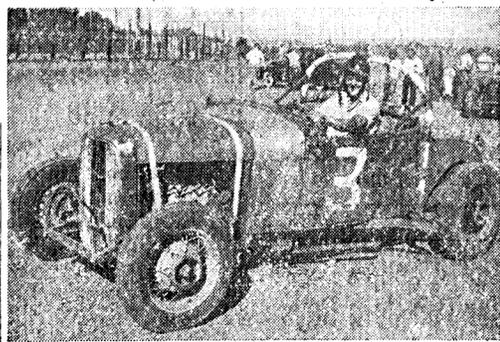

Ten Years Ago—Clyde Baker, superintendent of races, stated that some unusually good drivers have been assured for the 1939 Valley County Fair and Races. A huge crowd heard a talk by Vojta Benes, a brother of the late president of Czechoslovakia, Ed. white horses from the ranch of hall—The Northern Lights made a beautiful display, a most unusual occurrence in the summer. The white horses from the ranch of the same name near Stuart were to be shown at the Valley county fair.—The new Ord Township library building was to be dedicated.—George Evans, former Loop county sheriff, was killed in a highway accident, and his wife was seriously injured.—A party of archaeologists were excavating some Indian home sites on Davis Creek and were making interesting discoveries.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes, 20 miles northeast of Burwell, celebrated their golden jubilee.

Twenty Years Ago—It was expected that all records would fall in the Valley county races, as some of the fastest drivers of all time were entered.—Scott Philbrick, north of Ord, serving his first term as county supervisor, died at the age of 48 years.—James Hrdy of Elyria had bought a farm in Montana, and had gone to look it over.—Miss Ebba Olsson was married at Kearney to Ivan H. Heinrich Balduin Moellhausen Made Sketch of Fort Roupideau

One of the casualties of the conquest of Berlin in April, 1945, was a rare and unique sketch of a pioneer trading post at Scottsbluff, done in 1851 by a German artist named Heinrich Balduin Moellhausen. Fortunately, however, Dr. Robert Taft of the University of Kansas, a well-known authority on early western artists, secured a photograph of the sketch in 1930. That photograph appears on the cover of Nebraska History for June.

The German title of the sketch is "Fort Roupideau, Scotts Bluff." The "fort" was one of the trading posts maintained in the Scotts Bluff region during the days of the overland migration by an enterprising Frenchman named Robidoux. It probably is the oldest structure in the North Platte valley of which we have any photographic remains.

The somewhat bizarre story of Robidoux and his trading posts is told in the June issue of Nebraska History by Merrill J. Matthes of Omaha, one of our outstanding writers on western history. The colorful career of Moellhausen is treated by Dr. Taft in The Kansas History Quarterly for Aug. 1948.

Thus are brought to light and placed in proper historical perspective two shadowy figures out of Nebraska's past. The trader Robidoux was well-known to the many thousands who crossed Nebraska on their way to Oregon and California. His various trading posts were important stopping places for those making their way west and many journals mention Robidoux, his Sioux spouse, and his many dusky progeny.

They also mention his exorbitant prices. Apparently Robidoux was a pioneer profiteer, using his strategic position to gouge the travelling public for all the traffic could bear.

Moellhausen, the artist who provided a sketch of Robidoux's post, came in contact with our early trader while on a tour of the west with Prince Paul of Wurtemberg, who, like numerous other young bloods of European royal families was seeking diversion and adventure in the American wilderness. Originally Prince Paul's trip of 1851 was planned to include a band of friendly Ojibwa and returned to the civilization of the Missouri river settlements.

Nebraska Highway Needs Shown in Recent Engineering Appraisal

With few exceptions Nebraska's rural transportation can best be described as high speed-low volume. Because of the greater distance between towns and the comparatively low volume of freight hauled and vehicles traveling, the tendency is toward higher speeds than in the more populous sections of the east.

For this reason certain signs become more important and signs not needed must come down. Intersections must be more carefully designed and well designated and uniform warning signs must be erected. The long, straight highways without towns or villages, sometimes without even trees or houses, become monotonous.

Because of this drivers become bored and tend to increase speed to reach a part of the road with more attractive scenery. A condition called "driver's stupor" is oftentimes induced. This condition reduces the ability of the driver to handle his vehicle efficiently and is the cause of many highway accidents.

One indication of the prevalence of this condition is the fact that in 1947 drivers from out of state were involved in nearly one-fourth of all fatal accidents outside of Lincoln and Omaha. About one-half of the drivers in these accidents were from out of state.

Although a condition of this kind is difficult to combat, engineering studies have indicated that roadside plantings, properly placed may be of some help in helping reduce the monotony, though the medium of breaking the monotony. It is also important that design engineers recognize potential hazards before the highway is built.

Extra care should be taken to avoid surprise curves and other design features which may be dangerous to sleepy drivers traveling at high speeds. One of the most important and common causes of accidents is the promiscuous use of highways for access to private residences and to business establishments.

Where such locations exist, vehicles entering the traffic stream should be required to enter at designated locations, and as nearly as possible at right angles to the highway entered. This will enable the driver to get a good view of traffic in both directions, and will give persons on the highway a better view of the approaching vehicle.

There is a great need in Nebraska of more roadside traffic control, which can be accomplished by carefully designed islands of posts, low shrubbery or even concrete, which will cut marginal interference to a minimum. The present law gives the state department the authority to establish the size and shape of entrances to new establishments.

This law is not retroactive, and entrances made before the law went into force are not included in the general plan. Where the situation is serious, the department sometimes installs islands near the shoulder of the road to compel entering traffic from a less dangerous approach.

By-pass routes around cities are built primarily to allow traffic to avoid the congested and built-up sections of the cities. In Nebraska, almost without exception, the building of such by-passes has been followed by the establishment of many business enterprises along them.

In some cases these establishments have become so numerous that they have practically nullified the original purpose of the by-pass and made it fully as dangerous to travel as the original route. On the Lincoln by-pass, for example, 18 establishments have been put into operation along a distance of 2 1/2 miles, most of them within the past year.

The average of accidents reported along this 3 1/2 mile distance between 1940 and 1948 was 14 per year. In 1946 there were 27 accidents reported, and in 1947 there were 69. The increase in accidents closely paralleled the increase in business development.

It is recommended that a law be enacted to empower the state department to provide auxiliary drives and to limit the right of access to a public road when it is desirable to do so. No legal means is now provided whereby the highway authorities can do this. Until that is done, the advantages of the by-pass is largely minimized.

Intersections—A good intersection design plays an important part in the promotion of safe and efficient use of highways and streets. A large number of intersections now in use in Nebraska should be redesigned, and this work could be done at comparatively small cost. New and safer standards should be established for this type of work.

One of the most common deficiencies is the "Y" turn, which forces cars to converge at nearly head-on angles, and forces cars to stop in places where visibility is poor. In fact, in some places vehicles are required to stop where adequate vision is practically impossible. Many accidents result from this type of intersection.

In many places cars entering from side roads are practically invisible, due to the nature of the terrain or other obstruction, until they enter the lane of traffic. To the drivers of these vehicles the traffic along the highway is also invisible. This has also been a fruitful source of accidents.

In cases such as these, a driver may make the required stop at the stop sign and then not be in a position where safety can tell him certain about approaching traffic until he starts up again. So uncertain are some of these that it is not unusual to see trucks travel across an unpaved area in order to enter a highway in a safer manner.

There is need for additional engineering service throughout the state with relation to traffic. The state department is seriously understaffed now, and the need is constantly increasing. According to the National Safety Council, Nebraska has only about one fourth as many staff members as the national average, based on the annual miles of travel.

In addition to this shortage in the state department there is no traffic engineering organization in any of the cities. The services which would increase the safety and efficiency of operation of existing roads and streets should be extended. This can be done only by making available additional trained and efficient personnel.

Guarding against Termites
In some sections of the country termite infestation constitutes a menace to the structural safety of dwellings. Regular inspection of points where termites might gain entrance is desirable. No encouragement should be given by leaving boards, stakes, or scraps of lumber about. All timber should preferably be kept from contact with the earth out, if touching the earth, it should be pressure-treated with creosote, or other suitable preservative.

California Fruit Pack
California canneries processed 69,590,784 cases of fruits and vegetables during 1947, according to a report of the Canners League of California. This was about 13,789,000 cases under the all-time record of 83,178,719 cases in 1946, but was the second largest total in the history of the state. The fruit pack totaled 23,162,724 cases compared with 41,707,981 in 1946. A seven million case drop in apples and a 2,275,000 case reduction in cling peaches accounted for most of the decline from the 1946 pack.

Father of Paleontology
The French naturalist, George Cuvier (1769-1832) perfected the science of comparative anatomy, which enabled him to reconstruct from a few characteristic bones a perfectly complete skeleton. Cuvier is the father of paleontology. Since his day, many able men have delved into the history of animal life on our planet.

Geriatricians Needed
The United States in coming years will have greater need for geriatricians, physicians who specialize in medical problems of the aged, than for pediatricians, specializing on children, says Odin W. Anderson, instructor in public health economics at the University of Michigan school of public health. Within the next 35 years the number of persons 65 years and over probably will double, he pointed out.

Story of Baseball as Played in Ord Since Year 1930

Increasing Interest in Game Is Shown in Closing Installment.

The twenty years opening in 1930 and ending this year started out with Ord having a good baseball team.

Came the end of the war, and sports made a gradual come-back, as has about everything else.

That same period, or rather, the first part of it, might be referred to as the era of softball, the game that could be played between home teams without too much trouble and expense.

But in 1930, Ord had a good team, known as Charley Arnold's Mustangs. The Colts of earlier years had grown up.

Ord met Broken Bow, there, in the opening game, April 20, and won by a score of 6 to 4.

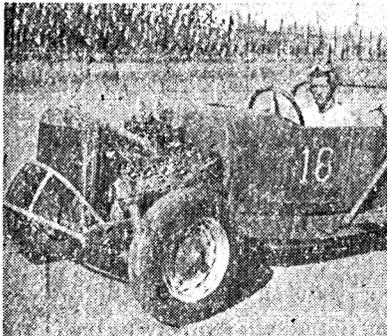

Joint Collins, 3b; G. Dye, rf; Cropp, ss; Jensen, cf; Oliver, 3b; A. Dye, 1b; Nelson, lf; McMinder, p; Woods, c.

There you have the list. Obviously, it would be difficult to supply first names to the entire group.

The Junior Legion continued through most of the years, and developed some outstanding athletes, among them Bill and Bud Novosad, Darrell Johnson, Gerald and Orville Stoddard, Henry Misko, jr., Allan Zikmund, Jerry Fryzek and others whose names may be overlooked, but not intentionally.

As the year 1930 was perhaps the best baseball year in the two decades, the story of the season has been given above in detail.

Hot Rods Becoming Popular Here

Gerald Warford, another Ord youth with the hot rod "bug" is pictured above with No. 16 racer, owned by Bob Lange.

However, since most of the players in the Farm Bureau league are well known, the line-up of each team for the games played in May, 1931, are given below.

Sunter: Hagant, c; Sticher, 3b; Ander, cf; Clark, lf; Collison, p; Portier, rf; Barber, 1b; Cummins, ss; George, 2b; Dewhirst, 3b; Olean, Abney, 3b; Nass, 2b; Barnhart, 1b; K. Barber, cf; Kirkendall, ss; Carl Oliver, c; Paddock, lf; Weed, rf; Pocock, p; Philbrick, ss; Barber, p.

There you have the list. Obviously, it would be difficult to supply first names to the entire group. The line-ups are as they appeared in the Quiz. If any mistakes were made, they were made then, and not now.

Speaking of mistakes, the Quiz spoke of a Clements in last week's story. That was the way the files had the name spelled; the player was not Curtley Clements, but Dutch Clement, who filed an objection. Dutch did not like the idea of being called old either.

The Junior Legion continued through most of the years, and developed some outstanding athletes, among them Bill and Bud Novosad, Darrell Johnson, Gerald and Orville Stoddard, Henry Misko, jr., Allan Zikmund, Jerry Fryzek and others whose names may be overlooked, but not intentionally.

As the year 1930 was perhaps the best baseball year in the two decades, the story of the season has been given above in detail.

Bridge at Ord Will Go to Steele City, Replace Old Span

Supervisors Sold It to Bridge Company; Culverts in Trade.

The Valley County supervisors recently traded the old bridge across the North Loup river at Ord to Capitol Bridge of Lincoln for $3,500 worth of steel culverts.

The Ord bridge consists of three spans, each a little more than 50 feet in length. A fourth span at the south end of the bridge, collapsed a few years ago and was replaced by a wooden structure.

County commissioners of Jefferson county, hearing that the bridge was for sale, arranged for the purchase and transportation of the old Ord bridge to a spot over the Blue river west of Steele City, where it will replace the span washed out last spring.

The development of baseball since the war is a story familiar to all, and needs little comment here. Many of Ord's best players have come to Ord since the end of the war, but playing ball has made their names familiar to everybody.

That same period, or rather, the first part of it, might be referred to as the era of softball, the game that could be played between home teams without too much trouble and expense.

There you have the list. Obviously, it would be difficult to supply first names to the entire group. The line-ups are as they appeared in the Quiz. If any mistakes were made, they were made then, and not now.

Speaking of mistakes, the Quiz spoke of a Clements in last week's story. That was the way the files had the name spelled; the player was not Curtley Clements, but Dutch Clement, who filed an objection.

The Junior Legion continued through most of the years, and developed some outstanding athletes, among them Bill and Bud Novosad, Darrell Johnson, Gerald and Orville Stoddard, Henry Misko, jr., Allan Zikmund, Jerry Fryzek and others whose names may be overlooked, but not intentionally.

As the year 1930 was perhaps the best baseball year in the two decades, the story of the season has been given above in detail.

It's a Wonderful Car-a Wonderful Bug!

Wherever you go you hear people talking about the new Pontiac. Naturally, a great many people talk first about Pontiac's outstanding beauty.

A great many others say they have heard reports of Pontiac's performance, its alertness in traffic, its smooth luxurious ride and the wonderful convenience of GM Hydra-Matic Drive.

Still others tell us what they have heard about Pontiac's economy. And well they might, for Pontiac is sensibly priced, just above the very lowest. And it is so thoroughly dependable that it will give years of pleasure and superb performance with only minimum servicing.

Graves of Early Western Travelers Common Along Old Nebraska Routes

In the soil of old Nebraska are the mortal remains of countless emigrants who lost their lives a century and more ago on the long trek to Oregon, Utah, and California. Most of them lie in unmarked and unidentified graves. A few have been identified and marked.

One of the latter is the grave of George Winslow between the forks of Whiskey Run northwest of Fairbury — a grave 100 years old last month.

Winslow was a member of the Beeton and Newton Joint Stock association, a group of 25 New Englanders struck by the gold fever, who had banded together to make their way to California.

They came by steamer up the river to Independence, Mo., and left that well known jumping-off place on May 16, 1849, following the heavily-travelled trail across north-eastern Kansas.

On May 26th, Winslow and two other members of the party suddenly were taken violently ill with cholera, one of the trail's most deadly scourges. The company remained in camp three days, by which time the suffering victims had improved sufficiently to continue the journey.

At sunset on June 6, just as the company encamped for the night near the present Kansas-Nebraska line, one of those sudden thunder storms so common in eastern Nebraska developed, resulting in serious exposure to the unfortunate emigrants, including Winslow.

The next day, however, Winslow appeared as well as usual, but at three o'clock in the afternoon he suddenly became worse, and the company encamped. He failed rapidly, and died early on the morning of June 9. The goldseekers again remained in camp three days to pay such honor to their departed companion as circumstances permitted.

Contrary to a somewhat generally followed custom, they dug an unusually deep grave, and then scoured the countryside to find a sandstone boulder which they fashioned into a crude monument.

This lonely marker went almost unnoticed until 1912, when the original sandstone was incorporated into a larger marker containing a bronze plaque. This monument stands today as eloquent testimony to the fact that the "aging of the American West cost lives as well as toil.

Last month, General Squires post of the VFW and the Fairbury Chamber of Commerce held centennial memorial services commemorating the sacrifice this one among thousands who ended their long journey westward in a grave at the side of the trail.

Two Postmasters to Be Appointed An examination has been called for the position of postmaster of York, Neb., now vacant for some time. The position pays $4,650, and there will no doubt be quite a number applying for a chance to take the examination. The postmastership at Broken Bow is also open for competitive examinations. This job pays $4,250. Both positions will be filled after the closing date, Sept. 6.

U. S. Bonds Are Popular Here

Purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds in Nebraska for the first seven months of 1949 were 232% of the amount paid back to bondholders in redemptions and for matured series "A", "B", "C", and "D" bonds. C. J. Mortensen, chairman of the Valley county Savings Bonds Committee, said today.

Purchases from January 1 through July 31 totaled $74,584,813 while redemptions and maturities amounted to $32,114,041 for the same period.

Valley county subscribed $251,834.75 of the state total, while receiving $130,063.53 in payment for matured bonds and in redemptions. "The dollar volume of bonds held is mounting," Mr. Mortensen said, "and it is a healthy sign for business and for personal security."

Total holdings for the state are now above 713 millions of dollars, he said.

Leland R. Hall, state director of the Treasury Bond Division, stated that Nebraska has retained its place in the front rank in per capita purchases of bonds. "Our figure is $7.65 per capita compared with the national average of about $22.00," he said. "With about 1% of the national income, we are purchasing a little more than 2% of all the bonds sold."

Virgil Prien Is Winning Honors for Soil Conservation Work at Oakland

Virgil Prien, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prien, jr., now a farmer, living northwest of Oakland, Neb., has been honored by having his farm one of three selected in Burt county to be contenders for top honors in the Sioux City program for Permanent Agriculture. Four states, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and Iowa, will be represented.

Prien has been carrying on a soil program on his farm for years, and now believes his long-range plan is about complete. His farm is completely terraced, and all his crops are on the contour.

Contouring is not enough," Prien maintains. "You need terraces to stop water when we have those hard-washing rains."

The Oakland farmer also has this to say: "I have terraces to thank for pulling my corn through when it was as critical as present stage during a gully-washer this spring." Prien also carries on an extensive livestock program on his farm. He does not sell any grain from the farm, and the fertility is thus kept at the highest level. The Burt county SCS was organized in 1941.

Local people who knew Mr. Prien's parents and uncles and aunts, as well as his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prien, sr., will not be at all surprised to learn of Virgil Prien's interest in farming the right way. His grandfather was well known in the years he lived in the Midvale neighborhood for the high quality of his farming methods, and Charles, jr., was also a farmer of rare ability.

Farmers Protesting Shipping Restriction

Farmers in the areas served by the Burlington railroad are protesting a recent notice sent out by the company to the effect that it would not accept shipments of stock on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays after Sept. 1. Railroad employees state that the ruling will not affect the ticket office of other services of the company.

The Custer Center Grange of Custer county has sent in a protest to the new ruling. They are asking that Monday, a day when shipping is at a minimum, be substituted for Saturday. The farmers come to town on Saturdays and many of their ship cream on that day.

Not Too Early To Think About SCHOOLTIME MEALS

Every housewife realizes there has to be a little something "special" about schooltime meals. Breakfasts must be hearty, complete — lunches must present a balanced diet, for there's no chance for healthy young appetites to "piece" between meals as in the summer time when children are home.

Every mother also knows that as long as she plans her meals around quality meat, that she'll be providing the full, balanced diet so essential.

What we would like every housewife to know is that planning meals around quality meat need not be a budget upset. It's simple work to those good Ord cooks who do their meat buying at the North Side Market where quality is always uniformly high and prices no more and frequently less than you would pay elsewhere.

Faultless Game Puts Colts Into Loup Play-Offs

Ord Beats Loup City Before Bumper Crowd at Sherman Fair.

The Ord Colts played errorless ball Monday night to beat Loup City 3 to 2 before a bumper crowd at the Sherman county fair and thereby earned themselves a berth in the Loup league play-offs, which will start Sunday.

The Colts broke into the scoring column in the very first inning. Vail, lead-off man, struck out but Finley got a base on balls and scored on a long single by Dilla.

In the third inning they struck again. Vail leading off with a screaming double hit the fence, Finley singled to score him and Dilla singled to advance Finley to third. Bill Novosad, who isn't used to that kind of treatment from batters, then balked to first base and the umpires advanced both and runners, Finley scoring and Dilla advancing to second. The count became 3 to 0 in Ord's favor.

Patrick to Rescue.

Loup City scored twice in the 5th inning on hits by Tesner, A. Krollowski and Bud Novosad, the score being made off the tiring Beran and the last off Don Patrick, who relieved him. The score thus became 3 to 2 and both teams were done with scoring for the night.

Bill Novosad, who had got off to a shaky start, settled down and pitched a masterful game after the third, allowing the Colts only one hit in the final six frames. Loup City threatened in the 7th and again in the 9th but Patrick proved himself master of the situation. One of the best plays of the game ended in a double play. Krollowski singled in the 9th, stole second and went to third on Maciejewski's grounder to first, only to be doubled off third by Patrick after he caught Bill Novosad's pop fly.

The Ord boys have defeated Loup City twice this season, which is the best record any team has against them.

Loup City Bobbles.

Statistics of Monday night's game show 5 hits for Ord and 8 for Loup City, no errors for Ord and 2 for Loup City. Beran got credit for the victory though Patrick, as in most games this season, deserved at least half the credit. Beran and Patrick each struck out 5, Novosad whiffed 12. No bases on balls were given by the Ord pitchers but Beran hit one batter. Novosad gave 3 walks. There were no wild pitches and no passed balls.

Dilla led the Ord attack with 2 hits while Vail, Finley and Johnson each got one safe blow. Dugan led the Ord defense with 3 assists and one put-out.

Ord is to meet Miller in the first game of the league play-offs and officials were meeting Tuesday night at Loup City to draw up a playing schedule for the series.

Farwell Is Winner Over Palmer for Championship

Scotia, Season Leader, Eliminated in First Game of Playoff.

Playing heads up baseball Sunday evening at St. Paul under the lights the Farwell lads took a 7 to 3 decision from the Palmer crew, and the championship of the play-off series. The game was a southpaw battle between Stefanowicz and Nickle and while Stefanowicz was a little wild at times he was more effective in the pinches and no Palmer slugger collected more than one hit off his slants.

Nickle was nicked for 13 safe blows with H. Olsen getting 4 out of 5 and Jr. Dilla got 3 for 5 and P. Borzych got 2 out of 4. A crowd of around 700 watched this thrilling battle and they saw some snappy baseball the four errors that were charged were of the doubtful type. The playing of this game rung down the curtain for 1949 season for the Sherman-Howard league but no doubt some of these teams will still play some exhibition games yet this season. The line score—

Farwell	123	456	789	R	H	E
Palmer	010	400	020	7	13	1
Batteries—
Farwell: Stefanowicz and Borzych
Palmer: Nickle and Gee.
Umpires: Waggoner and Sautter.

Burwell to Play Colts Wed. Eve

There will be a baseball game under the Bussell park lights Wednesday evening (tonight) between a spiked-up Burwell team and the Ord Colts. It will start at 8:30.

In addition to Loup league play-off games Manager Walt Douthat is planning to schedule several baseball games here during September. Greeley will play here in the near future and a game between two fast negro teams from Omaha is being discussed.

Spalding Softball Team Beat Ord 3-0

Ord Loses Flip of Coin, Must Play at Miller Sunday

Daylight Game in Small Park Hampers Chance; Ansley, Arcadia Meet.

The flip of a coin went against Manager Walt Douthat at the Loup Valley Baseball league's board meeting held Tuesday night at Loup City, and as a result the Ord Colts will have to play Miller in a daylight game on the Miller field next Sunday afternoon.

Douthat and President Jim Gilbert of the Colts went to the league meeting hoping to bring the first play-off game to Ord and play it under lights Sunday evening. Miller was equally set on playing the game on their own field in the afternoon.

When the question came to a flipped to decide it and Miller won.

Ibsen Will Pitch.

Not only because they will be playing on their own field but also because Ibsen, their star hurler, and Harris, their best infielder and relief pitcher, are available only for day games, the flip gave a big advantage to Miller.

Ibsen, a regular pitcher for Holdrege in the Nebraska Independent league, was used in a series of seven games during the season and therefore is eligible for use in the play-offs. He has played outfield most of the time during the season but is probably the Loup league's top hurler, in ability and experience.

The other play-off game Sunday will be between Ansley and Arcadia on the Ansley field in the evening.

On Sunday, Sept. 4, a second round play-off game will be held in Ord under lights. At that time the Colts, if they beat Miller, will play the winner of the Ansley-Arcadia game.

About $1,000 to Winner.

Play-offs are of the double elimination type. Teams which have lost two games drop out and the remaining two play a series of 3 games, winner in 2 being declared league champion and receives the lion's share of the play-off coin.

Last year's league play-off victors drew about $1,000 as their share of the play-off gate receipts, less expenses. Second place team gets 25%, third place team 15% and fourth place team 10%.

If the Colts, playing against handicaps, can get by Miller Sunday they will have an excellent chance to sweep the series. The Miller game looms as the toughest one and fans will travel in large numbers to that village Sunday afternoon.

Ord Junior Legion to Play Postponed Game Thursday Eve

First Junior Tilt Here at Night; Opposing Team Will Be Ansley.

The fine rain of Thursday evening did a million dollars worth of good to the community, and incidentally forced postponement of two ball games, the Ord Junior Legion against the Ansley Juniors, and the Ord Midgets vs the Ansley Midgets.

Manager Bill Heuck states that the Junior Legion game will be played, weather permitting, on the Ord Athletic field Thursday evening. This will be the first time that the Ord Juniors have appeared under the lights at Ord, although they have had experience elsewhere in night playing.

The Ansley Juniors have an enviable reputation all over the area, with one of the finest teams of the kind to be found anywhere. Ord's Juniors will find themselves in a fast company, and will make every effort to win this one. It should be a beautiful game to watch.

Coach Peterson Has Full Team of Lettermen Back

Football Prospects Are Good for Ord High in Coming Season.

Plenty of good material will be on hand when the whistle blows to start off the season of 1949, according to Dick Peterson, Ord football coach. They will have to be good to make a showing in the fast competition they will meet in the following schedule:

Coach Peterson says: Holdrege here, Sept. 16; Lexington there, Sept. 23; Imperial here, Sept. 30; Albion there, Oct. 7; Broken Bow there, Oct. 14; Loup City here, Oct. 21; Ravenna there, Oct. 28; Gothenburg here, Nov. 4; Curtis here, Nov. 11.

Peterson says Holdrege, Lexington, Gothenburg and Curtis will be plenty tough, Albion and Broken Bow may surprise, and the rest of the schedule does not contain a single game in which the boys can afford to let down.

21 Suits Issued.

Football suits and physical examinations were given to 24 boys at 9 a. m. Monday, Aug. 22. A practice session was held at 4 p. m. Tuesday, and there are two practice sessions scheduled each day until the opening of school.

Practicing will be largely conditioning and drill in fundamentals. Rough training will begin the latter part of the week and the beginning of next week. Any boys who have not yet checked out their suits should make arrangements to do so as soon as possible.

The following is the list of lettermen returning this year: Bob Moore, back; Bob Adamek, back; Dale Falter, back; Richard Heuck, end; Frank Adamek, tackle; Kenneth Collins, back; Jerry McMirde, tackle; Gerald Severson, center; Paul Stoddard, back; Harold Laursen, end; Richard Blaha, guard; Kenneth Clement, guard; Doane Ludington, guard; Gerald Maurice, back.

8 Lost by Graduation.

Non-lettermen in uniform include: Galen Allen, back; Virgil Withersaw, center; Dick Andersen, tackle; Don Hansen, end. Reporting from Mr. Kovanda's 1948 junior high team are: Paul Penas and Walt Sowers.

The following boys were lost by graduation: Dick Tolen, quarterback; Dick Malolepszy, guard; Alan Blaha, halfback; Dan Huff, tackle; Don Beran, tackle; Frank Polak, tackle; Richard Good, tackle; Charles Munn, end.

Three members of the squad have been lost by moving. They are: Jim Misko, a scrappy center and line backer; John Misko, a very potential guard; Dale Richardson, whose return to school is doubtful, and Kerry Leggett, who will be attending Wentworth Military academy.

County Agent Dale Gives Methods for Control of Aphid

The spring small grain aphid or green bug which damaged the oats and barley crop in this area may or may not be a problem next year according to C. C. Dale, county agent. The aphid worked far north of its usual range this year. Normally its damage is confined to the grain growing sections south of Nebraska. This year it did severe damage in the Dakotas.

Since the green bug lives over winter on the roots of early planted wheat and on the roots of volunteer small grain farmers can help to control it by destroying volunteer grain and by delaying the seeding of fall wheat until the latter half of September.

The same method will control the Hessian fly. Although the Hessian fly was not bad in Valley county this year, it has spread over the entire state in the past few years and to be safe the recommended control measures should be followed.

First Entry Made in Bass Division in Fishing Derby

Fish Biting Better, Is Report, and More Big Ones May Be Expected.

One disease that the doctors have difficulty keeping under control is the fishing fever. It is likely to break out any time, anywhere. It is highly virulent and very contagious, but, as the old saw has it, it isn't catching.

For some time now the Quiz has had no reports from fishermen, but the disease has broken out again, this time in a new division.

The new man to enter the contest is Ign. Piskorski, and he has entered a bass which weighed 2 lb., 1 oz. He caught the fish on the farm, on a setline, of all things, at about 4:30. Roger Owens was with him at the time. He hadn't much to say about the event except to remark that the fish weren't biting, but the mosquitoes were. Since his is the first and only entry to date in the bass division, this gives him first place until a bigger one shows up. Remember, black bass are the ones considered in this division. Rock bass are too small to be considered.

The standings:
Cattfish: Archie Bratt, first, 14 lbs., 3 oz.; Edward Lacina, second, 11 lbs., 10 1/2 oz.; Otto Schuler, third, 11 lbs., 8 oz.
Bluegills: Lynn Rice, Ord, first, 9 1/2 oz.; Anna Mraz, Ord, second, 9 oz.; Jerry Howart, Ericson, third, 8 oz.
Crappie: Mrs. Greeley Gebhardt, Scotia, first, 1 lb., 4 oz.
Trout: Roland Norman, first, 1 lb.
Bass: Ign Piskorski, first, 2 lbs., 1 oz.
Women: Mrs. Joe Zabloudil, Scotia, first, 7 lbs., 13 oz.; Mrs. Rose Suchanek, Ord, and Miss Margaret Zukoski, Scotia, tied for second and third, 6 lbs.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors who helped us in any way during the illness and death of our daughter and sister.

Mary Augustyn and family.

Fertilizer Meeting

We are holding a Fertilizer meeting Thursday night, Aug. 25, in the basement of the Masonic Hall. You are invited to attend and see the pictures showing fertilizer deficiency in the soil. We feel that this will be a very informative setting and that it will be time well spent. Come and be our guest.

Brome and Crested Wheat

We now have a small amount of re-cleaned Brome Grass and Crested Wheat seed on hand. It will be time to start sowing these grass crops in about two weeks. We would like to show you the seed that we have and quote you prices. We firmly believe that re-cleaned seed at twice the price of common brome run grass seed is the cheapest to sow. It is very hard to re-clean these grass seeds and then usually carry more chaff and waste than appear. We look for higher prices on grass seed.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover Seed

The market on Alfalfa and Sweet Clover appear weaker this week and we believe that we will see Alfalfa much weaker if the present crop matures without a frost. Weather conditions will make all the difference on the price but seed prospects look very good and there is a very large acreage of Alfalfa left for seed. We believe that anyone having Alfalfa and Sweet Clover seed to go to market would do well to market it as early as possible, of course now that is just our opinion. Alfalfa can be seeded for the next two weeks and it will do very well.

Seed Wheat

Much of the wheat coming to market the past fall carried a small amount of rye mixture. Grain men in general are especially the millers do not like to buy wheat with a rye mixture. We believe if your wheat carries a little rye that you should get some new wheat seed that is certified and free from rye. The Crop Growers Ass'n. have recently published the list of growers of Certified Wheat and you can secure a copy by writing to them at Lincoln for one. We would be glad to get a load of Certified Wheat if there is a demand for it.

Protein Feeds

The price on Proteins has advanced very strongly the past few weeks and there is not much indication that prices for sometime. Most of the large mills are all sold out on Soy Bean Meal till in Nov. It looks to us that Proteins will be very high this winter and that feeds bought now would be a good buy.

Fertilizers

We have on hand several tons of Superphosphate and Ammonium Nitrate. Our Valley needs more fertilizer used and the results are very evident wherever used. Superphosphate is not too hard to get but Nitrate is very scarce and the producers tell us that it will not be plentiful all next year. We are booking our orders now for future delivery. We will have another car of Nitrate in, in November and one in May. Place your order now and take it off the car. We can guarantee the price now.

Hybrid Corn

We are taking our orders for Hybrid corn now for next years delivery. Remember that Cornhusker took 17 first places in County tests in the state last year. Results are what count.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Ed Kerchal Writes.

Portland, 10, Ore., Aug. 15, 1949.

Dear Mr. Leggett:

You will find, enclosed, my check for another year's subscription to the Ord Quiz.

Last Sunday, The Nebraska State Society held their annual picnic at Jantzen Beach Park. It was very well attended. Several Valley county people were present. I had the pleasure of eating a fried chicken dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zikmund, and Dorothy and Harold Stone, all of Tillamook. Harry and Martin Christensen were there. The Hollaways from Hood River were there also. There were about thirty present from Valley county.

We are enjoying very nice weather out here this time of the year. Business, in general, has slowed down considerably.

I am planning another trip back home within the next month or six weeks. Will see you all at that time.

With best regards to you and the crew of workers, I am

Sincerely yours

P. S. Almost forgot to mention Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dworak being at the picnic also.

To the Car Buying Public of Ord and Valley County — Here's the Announcement We've Been Wanting to Make for Over Four Years

OUR QUOTA HAS BEEN INCREASED on both CHRYSLERS and PLYMOUTHS

Yes, ever since the war ended and automobiles went back into production we've been waiting for the day when we could again supply the great local demand for our two fine cars - CHRYSLER and PLYMOUTH.

Now our quotas have been materially increased by the factories. We have cars on the floor, both Chryslers and Plymouths. More are enroute. We may not have, for immediate delivery, exactly the model and color you want but we soon hope to be in that position.

You know what our policy has been: We have never accepted deposits on cars for future delivery but instead have divided the cars available, as they came in, among former Chrysler and Plymouth customers on the basis of their need for transportation.

Many of you have waited a long time for your new Chrysler or Plymouth. We have not hitherto been in position to accept orders or make promises on delivery, because supply has been so much below demand. Now that our quotas have been increased we will be glad to accept your order and tell you about when we can make delivery, if we do not already have the model and color you want on our own floor.

Don't be satisfied with less than the best—the Silver Anniversary Chrysler and the dynamic new Plymouth, the low-priced car with big-car equipment and performance.

Come in today and see them—drive them—compare them!

What Will the Harvest Be.

The harvest of 1949 is about safe. Grain has been out of the way for some time, and moisture sufficient to mature the corn is already in the ground. The harvest, as may be expected, is what the farmers planted in their fields last fall. Nature follows certain laws, and this law is one of the oldest in the world.

Today in the minds of men a new kind of seed is being sown. It is not the seed that the fathers of our nation intended should be sown. Possibly it is not the seed that the rulers of our nation are intending to sow. Unfortunately, the politicians, and not the statesmen, are sowing the seed.

The seeds being sown today are those of suspicion, selfishness, discord. The idea is taking root in the minds of men that "I will get mine, to hell with the other fellow." Each group is demanding something, anything, for themselves, regardless of what the effect might be on the welfare of all other groups.

Given what they want, these groups would soon demand more. The inference is that there is some magical way in which the federal government can obtain money for fulfilling all these demands. They are overlooking the obvious fact that the only way the federal government has of getting money is by levying taxes, which all of us must pay.

Behind it all is the scheme of a gigantic assemblage of politicians who feel that the only way to control the votes of all classes is to see to it that every class gets everything it desires. The politicians in power are trying to remain in power, the politicians not in power are seeking ways to get into power.

It is these politicians who are sowing the seeds of discord. Discontent with our present systems is being fostered, and new and better methods (for the politicians) are being urged in their place. Hence we are being bombarded with plans for socialized medicine, federal aid for schools, the Brannan Plan, and dozens of other schemes.

These ideas are built with the one and only idea of taking the power away from the people, the states, and turning it over to the federal government. If the seed now being sown is permitted to mature, the resulting harvest will be fearful to contemplate.

Security.

Through the ages, ever since man reached the degree of intelligence that enabled him to make provision for the future, it has been the dream of mankind to have old age security; to be able to go down the far hillside of life with at least the necessities to sustain that life available.

Nature equipped all animals with the instinct to lay up in store for the lean months ahead and many of them provide far more than they can possibly use in the time they have to use it. The squirrel does this, and often forgets where he planted the nuts, with the result that many a tree grows where it would not have grown under normal conditions.

It is doubtful if primitive man possessed this instinct of providing for the future. Sufficient unto the day was probably his criterion in life. If he got hungry in the off season, he might find other men who had a supply and fight with them over the food.

By the dawn of history mankind had learned to lay by in store for the needs of the future. In Bible times the Egyptians laid up enough to suffice over seven years of drought. The law has applied to all nations down to the present time.

The pioneers strove to have enough on hand in the fall to last until the next crop was grown. Since each depended largely on himself, if he did not have enough he got along with such substitutes as he could find. The pioneer was largely self-sufficient.

But modern civilization has changed all that. Today a man left to his own resources might starve to death. Little if any of the food he eats, the clothes he wears or the fuel he uses is prepared through his own efforts alone. He has learned to depend, not on himself, but upon an army of other people.

This way of life has its advantages, but it also has its handicaps. Today a man's material future is more or less secure. He knows that, when the time comes for him to quit work, a way will be provided for him to go on living much as he did before. That is security.

The trouble is that modern man is willing to give up his rights in order to obtain that security. Liberty is the birthright of the American people. Too many people, like Esau, are willing to sell that birthright for a mess of pottage. It is a moot question how far a nation can go in this proposition of securing the future of its citizens without destroying their liberty.

The people of America should view with suspicion those who come bearing gifts. Other nations have found that gift bearers all too often carry with them chains as well.

Something Different

O. O. McIntyre used to go on a regular rampage when anyone mentioned bakery bread.

He swore that bakery bread was terrible stuff, concocted of flour and water and resulting in a distinctly unpalatable mess bearing no resemblance whatever to the luscious baked product Mother called bread.

Often I have thought he was right, for often bakery bread is disappointing. All this leads up to the fact that I was agreeably surprised this week when I bought a loaf of the Ord Bakery's white bread.

For it was good, and it tasted as though it might have been made with milk and some fat, and the ingredients good bread must have. And the holes in it were not big enough to toss a cat through. Hurray for the white bread of the Ord Bakery.

So many Ord homes seem to be getting their exteriors lifted this summer. Have you noticed? A porch going on here, a new stoop there, a new garage or breakfast alcove or bedroom being added.

It seems splendid to see Ord getting brought up to date. I have read that there is no more reason for living in a 1910 house or with a 1910 bathroom, than there is for appearing in a 1910 gown. Or driving a 1910 car.

Which we would most certainly never think of doing.

Right across our alley the Koupsals have put a new roof on their house.

Back to back with our house, the Clements are doing fascinating things to their house. Evening after evening they have worked until now they have a fine new breakfast nook almost finished, and along side it a neat back entry to their home, and it is finished off properly with cement walks and steps and platforms.

Two doors north of us Mr. Wray is having a fine new enclosed porch added to the rear of his home. Mrs. Wray says she's going to wash there, but it looked so attractive I suggested she use it for a living room and take the living room for washing purposes!

Across the alley in the same block Dr. Miller has had extensive remodeling done to the house west of the Christian church. Many new features have been added, cupboards, floors, doors, windows, and so on. It looks mighty ship-shape now.

The McGinnis home is being moved into this week, (if you follow my grammatical license!) And a beautiful new residence it is, up-to-date to the picture window on the highway side.

Have you done your part for getting Ord a municipal hospital? This is a most important question. Sooner or later it is likely to be of great personal concern to you whether Ord has a good and sufficient hospital. Have you done your part?

Particularly our farmers need this hospital. There are so many opportunities to get hurt on a farm. There is never a week but what several farm accidents are reported in the columns of the Quiz.

Ord is the county seat. The best roads lead to Ord, metropolis of Valley county. When you get hurt you get on the nearest and best road, and get to the closest medical facilities. That means you come to Ord.

If you want to find a hospital at Ord, do your part to get it there. There isn't much time. Get your money in an envelope today. Mail it to either bank, they'll take care of it for you. Put 50c in your envelope, or $50.

Or stop and think about the fine crop you're harvesting on that cast forty. And think about the accident your neighbor had last year. And put $500 in your envelope. After all it is an investment, with interest-bearing stock issued to you. Every trifle will help. But you are really helping yourself, so why be niggardly?

Or slow in helping? Maybe you have given. But you really should have given more, shouldn't you? Do it today, this minute.

Mason-Saum

Baskets of gladioli and candles with white tapers were on the altar of the Methodist church for the wedding at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 21, of Mary Claire Mason of Arcadia and Burnell F. Saum of Dalton, Nebr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mason of Arcadia and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saum of Dalton, Nebr. Both attended Kearney State Teachers' College.

Rev. C. W. Buehler, assisted by the bride's grandfather, Rev. J. W. Paine, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of 150 relatives and friends.

White satin bows marked the pews. Ushers were John Mason, brother of the bride and Forest Saum, brother of the groom.

Miss Barbara Hueffelt at the organ, accompanied Halton Saum, brother of the groom, who sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. James Ambler of Holbrook, Nebr., wearing a gown of gold satin and Mrs. Richard Rich, wearing a gown of sea mist green satin, lighted the tapers. Both wore flower bracelets. Virginia and Barbara Mason, attired in orchid organza gowns fashioned alike and carrying colonial bouquets of yellow gladioli, were their sister's attendants.

The bride's gown of white organza over white satin, was of a simple design with Peter Pan collar and cap sleeves. The full skirt with inserted bands of eyelet embroidery was made with a short train. Her finger tip veil was held by a bonnet shaped tiara and she wore elbow length gloves. Her bouquet consisted of pink roses tied with white satin bows. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Mason wore a yellow embroidered linen dress with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a dusty rose crepe dress with blue accessories.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Saum left on a short wedding trip. The bride chose a blue crepe dress with white accessories for traveling. They will be at home after September 5 at Lodgepole, Nebr., where the groom will be principal of the Junior high school.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Ott Oberg, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Covey, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osenowski and Dr. Osenowski to take my watch and fix it.

I'll just start this one off with a yarn about a jeweler, who is nameless but whose initials are what you take it on the—L.A.M. When I fell into the creek some time ago I forgot to take my watch out of my pocket. As a result it got bulky.

I could wind it but couldn't pull out the stem to set it. Result: it was 6 minutes slow at the rodeo. I was fussing about it one evening when Muncy stepped up and offered to take my watch and fix it.

He handed me his wrist watch to wear until I got mine back. I failed to notice, however, that his watch was also six minutes slow, so I was behind time all through the show. Monday, Aug. 15, I went over to get my watch fixed.

That was my 40th wedding anniversary, so I wanted to be sure to get home. I arrived at the bus depot right on time, only to find that the bus left five minutes before. You guessed it. L.A.M. had set my watch 6 minutes slow.

I do not know how it happened that I credited Tom Bartley with managing one of Ord's ball teams, when it should have been Harry. Tom was a good wrestler and one of the best built fellows I ever saw, but he never went in much for baseball. Harry was the fellow who used to run a cleaning establishment somewhere near where the Valley shop now is. He had a tank which he was burying in the back yard, in which he was to put his cleaning fluid. It was a used tank. The boys got it down in the hole and Harry climbed down on top of it, took off the cap and lit a match to examine it. Came a terrific explosion. I happened to be passing by, saw Harry shoot up out of the hole and land on the edge. He was a sight, with his hair singed and his eyebrows gone, but he was tough and was back on the job the next day.

That reminds me of baseball and one of the most unusual games I ever had the pleasure of witnessing. It was an annual affair between the Burwell Wranglers club and the Burwell Fire Department, in the early '20s. The Wranglers were mostly old men, and they depended on the spavined offerings of two once-good pitchers, Bud Hummel and Tom Hemmett. The firemen had enlisted a lot of young fellows into the organization in preparation for the occasion, and they had a good pitcher, Bill Hoffman (Jake's brother), and his son Francis (Mike), were both in the game, Bill for the Wranglers and his son for the firemen. In spite of the apparent odds against them the Wranglers were holding their own until about the seventh inning. Then something happened and those old fellows started running around the diamond (with one foot in the grave) at such a rate that they got in each other's way. Before long eighteen runs were across the plate. I don't know whether they called the game then, or finished it out, but the old fellows had won themselves a ball game.

I like to get up early in the morning and turn on the radio to get the latest in news and some really good fiddle music. The trouble is that, in order to get what I want, I have to take a lot of guff that I don't want. I have to listen to a sales talk on vitamins, fence machines, watches, insurance, food saver bags, seed corn and food for chicks put out in a nostalgic tone by a man I wouldn't go across the street to listen to. Then there are songs by a guy who couldn't get a job cranking a church organ. When I want liver pills, Golden Medical Discovery, corn salve or almost anything that is for sale, I do not need a radio announcer to tell me about it. When somebody invents a radio that will turn itself off for the commercials and back on again for the good part of the program, in case there is any, I will buy one of them for every room in the house.

Since Ira L. Hicks died, or was translated, I have not had too much faith in weather prognosticators. Most of them hit it about half of the time, which is as good as anybody could do, were he a weather seer or not. However, when Mike Socha started predicting recently, I listened with interest, and not a little awe and the nerve he displayed. Any man is safe in predicting good weather, but the fellow who says next winter will be worse than the last one is taking a long chance.

However, that is what Mike claims. He says the coming winter will be the coldest we have more now than the preceding one. He did not give me the source of his information, but I do not think he was talking with the Lord and he is too good a man to have any truck with the Devil. None-the-less, he claims we are in for a Devil of a time. Not long ago I had an offer to go to Yuma, Ariz., for the winter, plenty of work and house rent free. If I thought Mike had the right steer on the weather, I would certainly make the trip. I don't know much about the weather at Yuma, but it couldn't be worse than the weather was here last winter.

The Country fair is over, the rodeo is past, and Pop-Corn Days is just around the corner. This is the final event of the fall in this valley, and everybody plans to be there. It is the one thing that belongs to North Loup and to North Loup alone, despite the fact that more pop corn is raised in other places now than is raised here. It is an old institution, nearly as old as the county fair and about twice as old as the Burwell rodeo. It has always been a success, and will always be a success because the entire town and the surrounding area does whatever it can to make it a success. The entertainment is not spectacular, but it is good and the people love it. It draws a good crowd, as big a crowd as the village can handle, and that is big enough. It is an outstanding example of what cooperation can do with a community enterprise. Bigger shows are held elsewhere but none are more enjoyed or more uniformly successful. The village may be a quiet little place all the rest of the year, but once each year all roads lead to North Loup.
