Ord residents were given official notice this week to get out their rain coats and galoshes. Harry Hugo, well known showman, announced today that his troupe would begin a week's run in Ord, starting June 5.

In the past years in Ord, the appearance of Hugo's troupe has been a signal for summer rains to start. Magically, they end about the time the show people pack up their tent and move to the next location.

The Hugos have received some nation-wide publicity the past year in magazines such as Colliers. There are now only fourteen of these established show troupes, featuring the spoken drama, on the road in America, and Harry Hugo has about the longest record of them all.

George Kruml

Kruml Will Vie for Sheriff's Post in Primaries

McClellan Files For Supervisor, Fifth District.

George "Butch" Kruml of Ord has announced his candidacy for sheriff of Valley county. He filed on the Democrat side of the ballot with the county clerk Monday.

Kruml will oppose Robert Hall, incumbent, who announced his intentions of running for re-election recently. So far, no other men have entered the race for sheriff.

The competition for county supervisors posts becomes stronger as election time draws closer. This week C. W. McClellan, North Loup, filed for a berth on the county board from the Fifth District. Mr. McClellan entered the lists on the Republican ticket.

Emil Placek Warns Audience of Peril of Communism

Ord Pays Annual Tribute To War Dead in Ceremony.

A trip behind the Iron Curtain and a vivid portrayal of life in a communist controlled state were given his audience by Emil A. Placek, Wahoo speaker, at Memorial Day exercises here Tuesday.

Placek told of a trip he and his wife made to occupied Czechoslovakia in 1948 — some months after the communists had seized the Benes government — and compared life as he saw it in a communist controlled state with life in the United States.

Speaking at times in the Czech language, Placek recited anecdotes of Red terrorism as told to him by friends he made in the occupied country, and by relatives of his family and relatives of other persons in the Wahoo area he had made a point to see.

Memorial Day ceremonies were opened by a march of the colors, colorguard, Ord high school band and an honor escort of war veterans to the cemetery. Following a prayer by Rev. Allen Strong, brief symbolic ceremonies were given by Ladies of the G.A.R., and members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary.

Commander Wm. Fafaita of the American Legion presided as Officer of the Day. Mr. Placek was introduced by C. J. Mortensen.

A salute to the dead, given by a firing squad of war veterans, and "taps" ended the annual rites.

Schedules of the Ord Colts and Ord Mustangs overlap Sunday and as a result local fans will be treated to two games in a single day. The Colts play Wolbach at 2:30 p. m. and the Mustangs are scheduled to perform against Ravenna at 8:30 p. m.

There will be another league game in Ord next Wednesday night when Broken Bow comes here.

This will complete the first round of play in the Mid-Nebraska Nite league. Ansley, Shelton, Loup City and Boelus have been defeated by the Ord entry, with a St. Paul-Mustangs clash scheduled for tonight (Wednesday) at St. Paul.

The May procession and coronation ceremony took place at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, Friday evening at 7:30.

The procession formed outside the church was led by the pastor, Father Tom and altar boys, followed by the young men and women of the C.Y.O. club. Ten little flower girls in white formal and carrying colonial bouquets preceded the young ladies dressed in formals and carrying bouquets of flowers.

Miss Betty Bruha, the May Queen, entered the church at the end of the procession led by two flower girls in white formal. The queen wore a white satin gown and veil. Her attendants were Garnet Kokes and Marjorie Swaneck also dressed in formals. Miss Martha Okresza, the crown bearer carried a crown of red roses on a white satin pillow.

The program in the church consisted of the following solos: "Mother at Your Shrine Is Kneeling," by Mrs. Don Edwards; "Ave Maria" by Dr. F. Osentowski and "Bring Flowers of the Rarest," by Mrs. R. Piskorski, with Mrs. Edwards as organist.

During the singing of the "Bring Flowers of the Rarest" the queen placed the crown of roses on the statue of the Blessed Virgin after which each girl placed her bouquet at the altar.

The Rosary, Litany and Consecration were then recited in unison by all the members of the C.Y.O.

Few good catfish have been caught at Hardenbrook dam this spring, according to the dam tender, Archie Bradt. He says that 50 to 200 fishermen cast their baits into the water there daily and usually not more than a dozen legal size fish are caught among the whole group. Dale Philbrick caught a 3 pounder there Sunday.

Did Census Taker Miss Anyone?

Have you been included in the census enumeration? If you think that the census taker has missed you, phone 194 or 223 in Ord; 4902 in Elyria; 120 in North Loup; or 90 in Arcadia.

It is believed that the enumeration in Valley county was quite complete, but there is always the possibility that someone may have been overlooked.

Valley county as a whole didn't fare as well as the county seat, Arcadia, for instance, dropped from 663 persons in 1940 to 571 this year. North Loup lost 40 people during the decade.

In Garfield county, Burwell almost broke even during the ten-year span. The preliminary figures list Burwell at 1392, compared with 1412 ten years ago.

Valley county totals show 7254 people living in 2478 dwelling units, with 1051 farms in the county. In 1940, there were 8163 people in 2522 dwelling units with 1173 farms listed.

While unofficial, the figures are quite accurate and the final tabulation will show little change from the preliminary figures. A tabulation of Valley county census results follows:

Table with columns: Place, Dwelling units, Pop., Farms. Lists various townships and their statistics.

Clerk of District Court Office First in Valley County in 1910

that there could not be any clerk of the court until the next census, 1900, and not then unless it showed that Valley county had eight thousand inhabitants or more.

Thus Frank Koupal, duly elected Valley county's first clerk of the district court, could not hold the office because there was no such office to hold at that time. So everybody concerned awaited the time when the Census of 1900 would be taken and the population of the county determined.

When that time came, the census proved that the decision of the courts was right, since the county was still slightly short of the required number. So another ten years had to pass before Valley county got its extra court official.

In 1910 the population had passed the eight thousand mark by a comfortable margin, and the office was established legally.

The peak of population in the county was reached in the census of 1920, when it had passed the nine thousand mark. Since that time it has dwindled, and, ten years ago, it had dropped 8,163. The 163 margin has proved too thin, and today we find that we do not have enough people to justify a separate office of the clerk of the district court.

It was about the time the population hit its peak that the people of Valley county voted to erect the new court house, and the second floor, or rather, the third floor, counting from the basement, was designed especially for the benefit of the district court, with a fine court room, jury rooms, ample rooms for the clerk of the court, and offices for the two county enforcement officers, the sheriff and the county attorney.

They were looking forward to a great future in those days. World War one was ended, the world was safe for democracy, and everybody was happy. What they could not know was that the 1930s were coming and that in those years every available space in the court house would be filled with government agencies of all kinds, all designed to alleviate drought and depression conditions, and all costing the taxpayers money.

They could not know then what the 1930s would do to the population of Valley county, which dwindled alarmingly, but still managed to show more than eight thousand in 1940. Then came the war. The fit went to war, the less fit went to war work, and there was a great shortage of manpower in the county.

At first this did not affect the population much, since they all still maintained their residence here. After the war it was different. Many of the men in the service had learned new trades and preferred them to farming. They had developed a liking for some other part of the country, some even for some other country, and they did not come back. The farmers who had been farming double the usual allotment during the war went right on farming on

Mulligan-Porter

Mr. and Mrs. C. Porter

Miss Verlee June Mulligan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mulligan, became the bride of Clarence L. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Porter of Westerville on Sunday, May 28. Rev. L. V. Hassell performed the ceremony in the Methodist church at 2:00.

Penny Porter, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Genevieve Boyce, a friend, was bridesmaid. They wore yellow and blue dresses respectively and carried colonial bouquets.

Doyle Marsh, a friend, was best man. Candles were lighted by Jo and Pamela Porter, sisters of the groom. They were dressed in gown of white and wore head bands of carnations. Charlene and Eldon Mulligan, sister and brother of the bride were ring bearers and Donna Dent was flower girl.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin with lace sleeves forming a point at the wrist and a net insert at the neck. She wore a blue rhinestone necklace, a gift from the bridegroom and carried a bouquet of flowers and a white Bible.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the church parlors. A three tier wedding cake centered the bride's table. Ina Marsh, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Leonard Woods poured. Mary Lou Beran, Georgia Pesck, Joan Hanson, Wilma Lange, Helen John, and Clarice Kirby served.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a navy blue suit with white accessories. After a short honeymoon in the west the couple will be at home on farm near Westerville.

Orville Lueck and Lloyd Marsh, uncles of the bride, and Bob Hughes, a cousin of the bride, were ushers.

The guest book was taken care of by Barbara Ragiand while Vieta Miska and Norma Manchester had charge of the gifts.

Health Center Is Planned for North Loup

At a special meeting of the North Loup Lions club held Thursday evening at the community hall, with several present who do not belong to the Lions club, it was decided to form a corporation, the purpose of which is to finance a building for a doctor's office, and get a doctor to locate here. Articles of incorporation are being drawn up and it is expected they will be ready for the "go-ahead" sign by the end of the week.

Plans call for a modern office building, to be erected on the site of the old town hall. By the time the office is completed it is hoped to have a doctor ready to come. At the Thursday evening meeting, $1,020 was pledged, and the committee expects to have sufficient funds to assure the success of the project by the end of this week. The corporation will be known as the North Loup Community Health Center, and will be a non-profit organization.

Some time ago a committee was appointed by the Lions club to get a doctor to come to this community, with W. H. Vodehnal, John Edwards, Frank Schudel and Roy Stone the members. The names of Cliff Goodrich, Roland Cress and Ray Hill have been added to this group and they will be the board of directors of the corporation till an annual meeting is held in January.

Several doctors have been here to look the situation over, and the committee has made several trips to Omaha, beside the correspondence they have carried on.

Dick Beran Limits Boelus to 4 Hits, Ord Wins 3 to 1

Mustangs' Win String Grows, Though Asher Stings with Hits.

Dick Beran turned in a matchless pitching performance against Boelus Tuesday evening, limiting them to 4 hits, and the Mustangs won, 3 to 1. Rain forced postponement of the game Sunday so was played off on Memorial Day.

In this game Beran proved that he definitely is a nine-inning pitcher for he went all the way against the Danes and was never in trouble. Boelus normally is a heavy-hitting team and against them a pitcher needs perfect control. That was what Dick had plenty of Tuesday night for he whiffed 7, issued only two bases on balls and hit nary a batter. Even the redoubtable Andy Jensen was eating out of his hand.

Excellent support was given him by the Mustang infield. Vail handled 4 assists without an error and in the 9th knocked down Sterzbach's line drive, then flipped the ball to second to force A. Jensen, at a time when it counted. Dugan caught 3 high pop flies which he no small achievement under the low candlepower Boelus lights, and ended the game with a beautiful stop of Hurty's sizzler behind the pitcher's box, nipping him by a step at second with a fast throw for the third out. Finley played bang-up ball at first and Gene Huckfelt, making his first appearance in a Mustang uniform, looked good at third with exception of one ground ball bobbie, only error made by the Ord team.

Boelus uncorked a new pitcher in the person of Bob Asher and this young fellow let the Mustangs down with 3 hits, being the first pitcher this year to quiet their bats. Eight Boelus errors kept him in hot water throughout and none of Ord's runs was earned, nor was the lone Boelus counter which came in as a result of Ord's lone error.

The game was a scoreless tie up to the 4th frame when all of the Mustang runs were scored. Vail was safe on Stubbs' error, Bud Novosad whiffed, Dilla hit for 2 bases scoring Vail and scored when Johnson got life on an error by the Boelus first baseman. Johnson tallied when K. Stubbs, at shortstop, dropped Dugan's setup grounder, and Dugan scored a moment later when Stubbs let Rol Beran's sizzler go through him. It was a bad night for Stubbs, who stalked off the field after making his third error in one inning, being replaced by Hurty.

The inning ended when Huckfelt struck out.

Umpiring in this fray was not up to the league's standard. Boelus' lone score in the 4th is an example. Lenburg singled to start the inning, after which Andy Jensen popped up to Vail. Sterzbach hit a double play ball to Huckfelt but Gene let it go through and Sterzbach was safe. The Ord infielders moved in to cut off the run and Dugan made a perfect pick-up of Rask's grounder, followed by a perfect peg to Catcher Johnson, who tagged Jensen by at least two feet. He was called safe by the umpire. After the game Jensen admitted to Ord players that he was "out a mile."

Johnson did a nice job behind the plate for Ord and will be seen often in that position.

By winning the Mustangs stayed in No. 1 position in the Mid-Nebr. Nite league with a perfect record to date of 4 wins and no defeats.

Jr. Legion Loses Exhibition Game

Jim Gilbert took his Junior Legion team to Broken Bow last Wednesday night for an exhibition game against the Junior Legion team of that city, the Ord boys losing 22 to 2. It was their first start of the year against a Bow team which had played three games.

The Ord team will make their debut Sunday at Scotia in the first official game in this district.

Wolbach Victims of Ord Colts Tuesday By 8-2 Score

Don Patrick Pitches a 6 Hit Gem and Mates Hit, Field, Well.

Sparked by a 6 hit pitching performance by Don Patrick, the Ord Colts wrapped up Wolbach 8 to 2 Sunday in fashioning their first victory in four starts. And the manner in which they did it gave promise of more victories to come.

Don Beran, youngest of the baseball-playing Beran brothers, wielded the heaviest stick for Ord, getting 3 hits. Don Patrick and Dave Watson got 2 bingles each and the team total was 11.

Manager V. J. Beran's starting line-up had Collins in center, Nelson at short, R. Beran at 3rd, B. Novosad at 1st, Don Beran in left, Koll in center, Watson at 2nd, Stoddard catching and Patrick pitching.

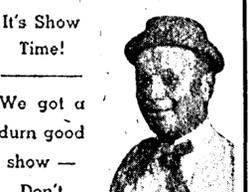

Noteworthy was the play of Nelson, Watson and Stoddard, say fans who saw the game.

Goltz pitched for Wolbach, with Wibbels behind the plate. This was a postponed game and Wolbach comes to Ord Sunday on the regular schedule.

Mustangs to Face St. Paul Tonight

Novosad to Pitch but Line-up Reshuffle Again to Be Made.

The Ord Mustangs travel to St. Paul tonight (Wednesday) to face that powerful team for the first time this season and if the weather is good a big crowd of fans probably will follow them down the black-top to watch what should be an excellent game.

Bill Novosad, in first class shape after ten days rest, will do the mound chores for Ord. Last season, while pitching for Loup City, Novosad beat the Apostles three times in exhibition games and says he can do it again.

Manager Walt Douthit is having to reshuffle his team for every game because of the absence of Bob Philbrick, star centerfielder who is recovering from a bout with pneumonia. For the St. Paul game Dick Beran will be back in his left field position and Dilla back in right field, with a season, while pitching for Loup City, Novosad beat the Apostles three times in exhibition games and says he can do it again.

Independent League team, is playing with Kearney this season but will play with Ord Wednesday nights. He distributes Storz beer in Ord, has many friends here, and should be a valuable addition to the team on Wednesdays.

Either Falter, Huckfelt or Bud Novosad will be at third base, Dugan at shortstop, Vail at second and Finley at first. Manager Douthit may decide to start Bud Novosad behind the plate, since he and his brother work so well together, but Stan Johnson showed so much improvement Tuesday night that he may be kept in harness in which case Bud, who is a man of all work, could be used elsewhere.

Last year St. Paul made Ord look bad in an exhibition game and the Mustangs are anxious to even up the score. If they can get back on the hitting pace shown up to the Boelus game, they should succeed.

Census Surprises.
That there should be a drop in the census figures for Valley county comes as no surprise. The trend for years has been away from the farm. For many years now, beginning during the war, farmers have been tractor farming on a large scale, one man doing as much work as three or four formerly did. This was necessary during the war because so many of the male population were either in the armed forces or employed in defense plants.
It was expected that the trend would go back to the farm to a certain extent when the boys returned, but this did not develop. Too many of the boys went into other work, and many of them found jobs in other places. For many of them the farm had no more attraction. They had learned some other line of work that suited them better, and they are working at that job, wherever they are.

One of the significant developments through the past several years has been the sale of buildings off many of the farms. Places where families once lived now have no buildings at all. Many of these farms had passed to new owners, who found that taxes could be materially reduced by having the buildings taken off the farm. Nobody wanted to live in them on the farm, but they were needed in town, and were taken there in many cases.
The figures have not been given out for North Loup as this is written, but both North Loup and Arcadia doubtless followed the trend of small towns over the state. In fact, North Loup reached its peak of population perhaps 60 years ago, slightly under one thousand persons. The population has been decreasing since that time.
What occasions surprise is the fact that Ord should show a decrease. It was generally expected that there would be more people, since houses and apartments have been so in demand for several years, and in that time a large number of additional homes have been built. The fact is that the day of the large family is past, and a small family requires a home, just as the large families formerly did. There are more families living in Ord today, but fewer people.
War of Nerves.
Ten years ago the world was being subjected to a war of nerves, as it was being called in Europe. The idea then was to keep opponents in a constant state of worry and thus wear down their morale. It worked pretty effectively insofar as Germany was concerned.

Time went on and the forces of the Reich were defeated, and the war of nerves was supposed to end. Today we are facing an even worse war of nerves than that of ten years ago, and the trend in the world is definitely not in the direction of peace.
It seems that Joe Stalin has taken a page from the life of Hitler. In those days Russia shared with the other European nations the worry that came with the war of nerves, and they knew what that worry meant and the effect it had on the morale of the people. The fact that it is now called the cold war does not change the effect. The idea is to keep all other nations worrying about what Russia will do and will not do. The object is to get the United States to spend itself into bankruptcy, after which Joe and his communists think they could conquer us easily.
A war of nerves accompanies every war, but even more important is a war of nerves carried on in time of peace. In fact, there can be no real peace with a cold war going on all the time. Luckily, he people of the United States used to become unduly alarmed over the situation, and insist on enjoying themselves, whether Stalin wants them to or not.
It is a wonderful thing that a whole nation can go about its business of working, playing, enjoying life and earning a living; but one hundred fifty million people can sleep soundly at night after a hard day's work or play, and not let Joe or anybody else prevent them from doing so. So long as the whole nation can thus ignore the situations Joe is trying to make, there is hope for America and the world.

the season for tomato gravy is again approaching, though in fact that season is always with us. For just as good tomato gravy can be made from a can of tomatoes canned just as from those just picked from the vines. And there is no better dressing for a mess of boiled or steamed potatoes than a dish of good tomato gravy made by one who knows how. And steamed potatoes are better than boiled, believe it or not.
I doubt if anyone uses the steaming method for cooking potatoes nowadays, but that was the accepted method 75 years ago. Before the days of granite and aluminum wares, the big cast iron kettle that fit into the hole in the wood stove, and with a good wood fire under it, probably a hunk of boiling meat or a chicken cooking in the kettle, the tin steamer fit on top, and in those days potatoes, turnips, squash and other vegetables, and sometimes a pudding were "steamed." I still have one of those old tin steamers, but doubt if there are many in Valley county.
Many people tell me that they don't want to miss a single copy of the Quiz, yet those same people will not send in their renewal until I have to take their name off the list. Then after missing two or three numbers they send it in and ask to have the ones they missed sent. I can't understand for always asking a postage free envelope for their renewal, but their name is taken off the list their card is stamped with the day it was "killed" and it is surprising how many people let it happen every year. I wonder sometimes if they are that careless in attending to all their business obligations.
It is now too late for the May 15 expirations to get their renewals in time to keep their names from being taken off the list for that has been done for all who have been notified and sent theirs in now before they forget it again. I hope they will do so.

towns many years ago, and to find one in any small town at any time is an unusual event. Doctors have a habit of growing old and dying, and the young practitioners to take their places prefer to locate in the larger towns. The barbers have changed in number in the small towns, but for a different reason. The invention and popularity of the safety razor cut the amount of barber work about in half, and half the barbers are gone.
The coming of packing house products instead of home slaughtered had quite an effect on the small town butcher shop. Now the meat is sold in the stores instead of in a separate establishment for meats only. The tough times of the thirties put both banks out of business in North Loup, as I recall it. It put both Burwell banks out of business. In North Loup and in hundreds of other small communities an association was formed which answered most of the purposes of a bank. Later the association in North Loup became the North Loup Valley bank.
Sixty years ago North Loup was a thriving little town of about 900 people. It is still thriving and is doing better than many a town of its size. Its future is in the hands of the younger generation, and the two will develop in direct proportion to their faith. Now North Loup feels the need of a resident doctor and the Legion, the Lions club and all other organizations are united in an effort to get a doctor who will be available when needed. It is a difficult task, and the competition among the small towns is terrific, as all of them need and are trying to get a resident physician. The crop of doctors is smaller than the demand, and most of the prospects are hard pressed financially, and need help to get started. However, with a lot of the boys working overtime on the project, there is some chance that North Loup might have a doctor in the not too distant future.
The other conveniences we had in the early days we can get along without, as most of our needs are supplied locally anyway. One bank can handle all the business in this town. We need no resident lawyers or dentists, although one of the latter might do well here. The livery barns of the early days have been replaced by three service stations, all of which do a good business. The three stores handle all the business of the town and are doing all right for themselves. But a doctor is the one thing we must have, and will have if hard work and sacrifice can bring it about.
It was with the thought of taking it a little easier that Gene and I worked out the arrangement whereby I would turn columnist again for the Quiz and work only part time for the paper. The new proposition went into effect April 1st, and I honestly believe I have been busier since then than I was before. I had so many things planned to do when I had time, and now that I have time, I find the jobs piling up faster than I can get them done. I would not have it any other way. I get a lot of enjoyment out of the many jobs I tackle in the course of the week. There is enough work outside to keep the entire force busy every day and all day, especially with rain preventing much of the work being done when planned. I have found time to do a week's work redecorating the house, and have only made a start. Meanwhile there are sign jobs coming in nearly every day, and there is the repair work on the garage, damaged in the March blizzard. Yes, I am keeping busy!

Bond Drive Goal Is 11 Million Dollars

Nebraska's Independence Drive toward an 11 million dollar goal in E-bond sales before July 4, was launched Monday, May 15.
Ceremonies in Omaha and other parts of the state marked the signal for the drive's start, as three thousand volunteer bond salesmen comprising county committees got into action in the drive's behalf.
C. J. Mortensen, chairman for Valley county said that most Nebraskans will have an opportunity to view an exact replica of the historic Liberty Bell during its tour of the state during the Independence Drive.
Leland R. Hall, state director for the Savings Bonds division informed Mr. Mortensen that Nebraska's Liberty Bell is scheduled to arrive in the state May 25. Its initial showing will be in Omaha with stops at Lincoln, Wahoo and Fremont planned for the first week of the Bell's tour.
Nebraska's Liberty Bell is one of 52 donated to the Treasury by six American copper companies. The Ford Motor company supplies the truck on which it is traded, and William Bell, Fleet is on loan to the Treasury, employees, the Watson Bro Transportation company of aha.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Our members of congress have a lot of fun "lopping off" as they say, millions from the amounts asked for by the president. The newspapers give it wide publicity and the dear people pat themselves on the back because they have such good congressmen, then a couple of weeks later they vote to restore the millions "lopped off" and probably add a few more millions. Politics is great stuff.
John Ward says the way to raise a garden is not to plant more than the Missus can take care of.
George Anderson says he has learned how to tell the difference between the weeds and the vegetables. He says cut them all down and the ones that come up again are weeds.
The U. S. Government is the world's biggest publisher. Books and pamphlets on almost every subject are printed and bound and will be sent to the people who asks for them. It takes a huge army of printers and editors and writers and costs 55 million dollars a year. Almost every subject is covered and here are a few that seem very important: "How to tell the sex of a watermelon." "Estimating the muskrat population of the U. S. by house count." "Fleas of North America." "Methods of catching and killing vagrant cats," etc. without end.
While setting out tomato plants last evening I was reminded that

Ward's Cookin'

What's cookin' just now is carp. Now, some people have a prejudice against carp, why, I do not know. Perhaps it is because they have more bones than nature allows to some other fish. It may be because they are largely vegetarian in their diet, and this would not appeal to a lot of people I know, who think no meal is worth eating unless meat of some kind is on the table. There may be some prejudice against the kind of vegetation they eat, but a fish in search of food in early spring can hardly afford to be fussy. The moser, they find in slow-flowing streams and ponds is not lacking in flavor, but it is the wrong kind.
The name carp comes from the Latin and means "to nibble," but just how a carp can nibble with that mouth of his is more than I can explain. It is true he gives the effect of nibbling at the bait, but this just goes to prove that he is a dainty fish and wants to nibble just what he is eating before he takes a full bite. When he does take that bite, then you have a chance of fully as much sport as you could get from a trout or bass, if you decide to play him. Then the carp has the added advantage that you don't care much if you fail to land him.
Through fear of having the Boss holler "Copy Cat!" I will refrain from telling how the carp is being cooked. The women folks happened to be away at time to start supper and got rained in, so it was up to me to get things started, and that carp was on the bill of fare, having come out of the Calanus river. As there was nobody else present, I chose my own method and that fish is shimmering away on the stove as I write this page. If we eat supper before this story is finished, I may even tell you how it came out.
It came out, all right, but did not come out all right. The fish was delicious and the rest of the family decided that they would give up their share to me, since I had gone to so much trouble cooking it. The carp is a lovely fish, and has a definite place in the scale of existence, but that place is not on the dining table—especially the way I cook it.
Not too many people now living in the North Loup area can remember when this village had a doctor or two, a dentist, a couple of lawyers, two barber shops, two meat markets, two banks, two hotels and three livery stables. That was the condition of affairs some sixty years ago. In fact, much of it was still there thirty years ago. But North Loup, like nearly all of the small towns of the state, suffered from the effects of the development of the automobile. In those days all the needs of the community were taken care of right here at home, since the people could not afford to go to Ord, Scotia or some other large city to have their needs attended to.
About the first thing to leave the smaller towns was the lawyer, who found that his work required that he live in the county seat, where all legal matters were attended to anyway. For more than forty years all the lawyers in Valley county have lived in Ord. Dentists began deserting the small towns many years ago, and to find one in any small town at any time is an unusual event. Doctors have a habit of growing old and dying, and the young practitioners to take their places prefer to locate in the larger towns. The barbers have changed in number in the small towns, but for a different reason. The invention and popularity of the safety razor cut the amount of barber work about in half, and half the barbers are gone.

The coming of packing house products instead of home slaughtered had quite an effect on the small town butcher shop. Now the meat is sold in the stores instead of in a separate establishment for meats only. The tough times of the thirties put both banks out of business in North Loup, as I recall it. It put both Burwell banks out of business. In North Loup and in hundreds of other small communities an association was formed which answered most of the purposes of a bank. Later the association in North Loup became the North Loup Valley bank.
Sixty years ago North Loup was a thriving little town of about 900 people. It is still thriving and is doing better than many a town of its size. Its future is in the hands of the younger generation, and the two will develop in direct proportion to their faith. Now North Loup feels the need of a resident doctor and the Legion, the Lions club and all other organizations are united in an effort to get a doctor who will be available when needed. It is a difficult task, and the competition among the small towns is terrific, as all of them need and are trying to get a resident physician. The crop of doctors is smaller than the demand, and most of the prospects are hard pressed financially, and need help to get started. However, with a lot of the boys working overtime on the project, there is some chance that North Loup might have a doctor in the not too distant future.
The other conveniences we had in the early days we can get along without, as most of our needs are supplied locally anyway. One bank can handle all the business in this town. We need no resident lawyers or dentists, although one of the latter might do well here. The livery barns of the early days have been replaced by three service stations, all of which do a good business. The three stores handle all the business of the town and are doing all right for themselves. But a doctor is the one thing we must have, and will have if hard work and sacrifice can bring it about.
It was with the thought of taking it a little easier that Gene and I worked out the arrangement whereby I would turn columnist again for the Quiz and work only part time for the paper. The new

Greeley Men See Banshee While Hunting On Banks of Dismal River

Long, long ago five Greeley men—three of them are dead—were hunting prairie chickens and wild ducks along the Dismal river in Thomas county about twenty miles west of Dunning. In the party were C. A. Harris and Dr. H. M. Sampson, now assistant collector of internal revenue in Omaha. The others were T. J. Howard, Joe Doyle, and Dr. J. L. Brannen.

The Greeleyites had pitched a large tent on the banks of the lonely river. The built a fire of dry logs, for that autumn night was chilly. A full moon brightened the skies. It was near bedtime.

From out the stillness of the night came an unearthly cry. It re-echoed over the lonely prairie land. The Greeley hunters were startled. Then they heard: "I am the prophet of the Dismal land," the voice shrieked. "Hear ye me. Come with me and I will lead you into green pastures where the Dismal's water runs gaily and clear."

The Greeley hunters rushed from their tent. They could see nothing but the lonely prairie land and the lonelier Dismal.

"A ghost?" one asked.

"Sounds like it," another remarked.

"Never heard anything like that in my life," declared a third member of the hunting party.

All was quiet for a few minutes. Again the stillness of the calm night was shattered:

"I come! I come! the deep sonorous voice acclaimed.

"It must be a banshee," Harris suggested.

"Banshee or no banshee, it is coming our way," rejoined Dr. Sampson.

Willow Lake Dam Is Reinforced

The Willow Lake dam, south of Valentine, has been reinforced and increased in size to prevent approximately 1,500 acres of water from being flooded on adjoining ranch lands, according to Carl Anderson, supervisor of state lands and waters division.

Due to heavy rains in that area the lake had an unprecedented amount of water and the available dam was inadequate to care for it.

In the same general area, south of Valentine, work has begun on the driving of steel piling on the overflow dam at Red Deer Lake. The reinforcement of the dam will prevent further washing and possible destruction of the lake.

On other fronts, construction is scheduled to begin on the 40 foot high and 300 foot long dam south of Butte. When completed, water will be impounded and anglers will have another outstanding fishing water known as Hull lake. Construction work began early last winter but was postponed because of severe weather conditions.

Dredging operations are continuing satisfactorily at Pawnee lake near Guide Rock Game Commission. Crews began work there April 18. Completion is expected during the last week of July.

By deepening the lake to approximately 14 feet, anglers will have an opportunity to meet on equal terms with the many bass which previously were concentrated in the heavy growth of moss and seaweed in the shallow areas.

Down at Memphis the gates of Memphis lake have been opened and water is draining out. The water is expected to be down to the channel in about one more week. While the area drained has an opportunity to dry out anglers will continue fishing in the channel.

Fishing there should be very good due to the fact that the fish will be concentrated in the smaller area. When it's time for the channel to be drained, the fish will be seined out and stocked in nearby waters.

Maintenance and swing shift, $150.00 per month
 Operators, $175 per month
 Line Crew: Foreman, $240.00 per month.
 Assistant Foreman, $165.00 per month.
 Water Operator, $115.00 per month.

Auditor Remington met with the Board. General discussion of City Finances and methods of keeping records followed. While audit not fully completed and report not ready, all accounting records appeared before the board and accounting methods gone over in an effort to work out plans whereby books and reports will at all times reflect the true financial status of the City at all times.

On motion, meeting adjourned.

Only One Extant of Its Date, of Great Value to Historians.

This week John L. Ward received a very old copy of the Ord Weekly Quiz, of the date of Jan. 25, 1883. It was sent by Mrs. Leslie R. Mason, and had been kept by her for a long, long time. It is of special value to history, since it is perhaps the only one of that date in existence at the present time.

The files of the Quiz contain only four issues of the first year, 1882, and not too many of the second year, 1883, and none of the above date. This issue is of special value, as it contains much more news than the papers of those days usually carried, and a number of those items will be given just as they appeared then.

The Quiz of that era was a five column, eight page affair, with four pages of ready print, an editorial page, a page of local news, several items of country correspondence, including the Mira Mites from Mira Creek, which, incidentally, were written by John Ward's father, A. Ward. John was about two months old at that time.

A special meeting of the legal voters of School District No. 5, Ord, was to be held in the county judge's office for the purpose of deciding about building a school house. The citizens were then and still are in favor of adequate educational facilities. Whether the school was decided on then or later, it was built on the location of the present Ord grade school.

The bridge across the North Loup river at Ord was in bad condition. It seemed that the ice had raised one side of it and that this had not been leveled again when the county commissioners had repaired the bridge. The editor said that a lone wagon was likely to slide over against the railing and break it, and then fall into the river. The bridge was the first one in that location, built in the '70s by John L. Means of Grand Island.

Rev. Woods of Scotia, church affiliation not given, was advertised to give two lectures on astronomy at the Ord Baptist church, with tickets on sale at 25c each at both drug stores. Lectures on any subject were popular in those days, and the price was popular also. The item proves that the idea of selling tickets at the drug store originated a long time ago in Ord.

A man by the name of Asa Kelsey, land agent for the Burlington Railroad company, had completed disposing of railroad lands in the neighborhood of North Loup and had come to Ord to dispose of the Burlington lands there. It was about this time that John W. Bookwater bought the rest of the Burlington land in Valley county, and this is well worth a feature story in itself.

The Omaha Republican had received an invitation to attend a business men's banquet in the thriving town of Ord... J. F. Kates later to be county superintendent, was to take editorial charge of the Quiz for a couple of weeks and was also authorized to take in money on subscriptions and advertising... Mr. Marlowe's singing school had been suspended temporarily because of sickness in the neighborhood. Singing schools were an institution of the early days.

Ord business men paid one dollar each to attend a banquet and hear a number of orators speak on various subjects, as follows: Our State, A. M. Robbins; Our City, H. W. Nelson; Our Schools, J. F. Kates; Our Press, H. Westover; Our Public Square, H. A. Walker; Our Fire Department, W. D. Odgen; Our Public Officers, M. Counts.

Our Public Buildings, Peter Mortensen; Our Manufacturing Interests, R. F. Milford; Our Railroad Prospects, M. E. Getter; Our Business Men, L. A. Ellis; Our Future, E. M. Coffin; Our Farming Interests, F. W. Weaver; Our Stock Interests, B. C. White; Our Bar, W. A. Westover; Our Young Ladies, C. C. Wolf; Our Public Enterprise, B. E. Jolls; Sociality in Business, Dr. Klinker; Matrimony, Rev. J. A. Lewis.

As if that were not enough for one evening, the session closed with a business meeting and election of officers for the business men's organization. H. A. Babcock was elected president, H. W. Nelson vice-president, Herman Westover secretary and Fred L. Harris treasurer. Also seven committees of three members each were appointed.

Since the Quiz was the nearest paper available, the official proceedings of the county board of Wheeler county, held at Cedar City, were printed in the Quiz, Cedar City was the county seat of Wheeler county and was located up the Cedar river a few miles above the present site of Ericson. The commissioners were John Batic, William Reilly and O. H. Thompson, and the county clerk was J. Frank Cummins.

Ord had a Red Ribbon club at the time, and they put on programs about every week, according to the Quiz. The current program included selections by Ettie Rogers, Mabel Klinker, Frank Rogers, H. G. Swift, Alex. Black, Hattie Kinnick, and a critic's report. Of interest was a deaf and dumb dialogue by Sam Govia and Lewis Devine, and the program was interspersed with selections by the glee club.

Of interest was the fact that North Loup merchants used about as much space in advertising as Ord merchants did. Among them were names that will have a familiar ring to many who read this. There was J. W. Temple, Groceries and Dry Goods; M. S. Kalls and Co., Hardware; the Lead-ers, Hardware and Jewelry store of Pratt and Bohne; Charles W. Allen, Attorney; and W. N. Woodard, attorney of Scotia.

Others from North Loup were Union Hotel, H. S. Davis; S. Preston, Livery and Feed stable; Palmerton and Co., Livery and Feed; Davis and Jones, Livery and Feed; Jas. A. VanSlike, Harness; and Mrs. M. E. Collins, Millinery and dressmaking.

Note the importance of the livery stable in those days, equalizing that of the present day service station, their natural successor. Of special interest is the stage ad of W. C. Williams, who ran stage lines from North Loup to Ord, to Willow Springs, and to New Helena. His logical successor today is W. F. Williams, who runs the PCT Stages, Burwell to Grand Island, as well as several other lines. The names came near being identical.

W. R. Patty was a druggist at North Loup at that time, but later came to Ord. North Loup had its J. C. White general store, but the store in Ord was run by B. C. White. The official directory shows that Ord had three churches, Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian. Ord had an organization of the GAR, the IOOF, the IOGT (whatever that was), and the Masons.

Senator for the 12th district, of which Valley county was a part, was M. P. Kinkaid of Holt county. James W. Davies was governor. The county commissioners were H. C. Perry, A. C. Lapham and H. O. Chase. Peter Mortensen was treasurer. John A. Babcock was clerk. John Mosher was judge. Herb Thurston was sheriff. J. F. Kates was county superintendent. C. J. Nelson was county surveyor. Dr. E. D. McKenney was coroner.

Many other items of interest are contained in this copy of the Quiz, so kindly furnished by Mrs. Mason, who did a lot of newspaper work in her younger years, and who realized the value of this copy of the Quiz and saved it for the benefit of the younger generation. Many of the items it contains are obtainable from no other source and are recorded here that an interesting part of local history might not be lost.

And then around a bend in the Dismal a quarter of a mile upstream appeared a small boat with a figure wrapped in a white sheet at the oars. The boat was steered to a sandbar in the stream and stopped. The white clad figure stood up. A red canopy adorned the head. The strange being appeared to be eight or nine feet tall.

With outstretched hands and looking in the direction of the Greeley hunters, the strange one shrieked:

"O, men of the Dismal land," it thundered, "come with me!"

The boat was turned around and started back upstream.

"Come with me!" The words were repeated again and again. The voice became less violent. Finally it broke into song with:

"Let not my words
 Cause you to shiver;
 I bring but joy

History of Corn Planting in Nebraska Shows Mechanization Developments

Corn, Nebraska's leading crop, was likewise the first crop planted by most of Nebraska's early pioneer settlers.

During the first year on his new farm, the settler usually contented himself with raising sod corn.

With the coming of the mechanical planter, farmers needed only to mark their fields one way.

Board Slashes Improvement Tax Figures 20%; Lands, Lots, Same

New Totals for County Almost Same as in 1949

Move Made to Keep County in Line With Others Over State.

Through a resolution passed Tuesday, the Valley county board of equalization cut the tax values of all buildings and improvements by 20 per cent.

Tax valuations of the county now rest: lands and lots, 75 per cent of appraisal; farm buildings and improvements and city buildings and improvements, 60 per cent of appraised values.

The new cut will leave the total valuation of Valley county (except for personal property) within $150,000 or one per cent of the 1949 figure.

The resolution to reduce values of improvements was offered by county assessor W. C. H. Noll, who told the board that nearly all the increase in county valuation had come through the increase in value of the buildings. The resolution reads:

"Whereas: Buildings in a farming community are not considered income producing property to the extent that they will produce revenue with which taxes can be paid and since the values of the buildings are nearly doubled, and therefore be it resolved: That a further reduction of 20% be applied to the 75% of the appraised valuation of all buildings in the county as soon as all complaints have been rechecked and corrections made."

Under the 75 per cent assessment figure, big increases in the county came from Ord, North Loup and Elyria, which had whopping jumps of 46 per cent, 53 per cent and 49 per cent.

Under the new 60 per cent basis, the valuation increases in the towns will be Ord, 22.57 per cent; North Loup, 22.91 per cent; and Elyria, 17.88 per cent.

Arcaadia, which was increased only 7.6 per cent under the 75 per cent appraisal system, will drop 11.23 per cent under the 60 per cent system.

Here are figures for the county, based on the new system of 75 per cent valuation for lots and lands, 60 per cent for buildings:

Some 200 appraisal schedules remain to be re-checked by Wilkins Associates, who will arrive in Ord this week to complete the re-appraisal work of the county. As soon as the schedules are checked, any corrections made by the appraisal board, the new valuations will go into effect, and will be reflected in 1951 tax figures.

On Monday, a boys' and a girls' beginner group will meet with an advanced boys' and girls' group meeting at 10:30. Tuesday's tentative schedule has an intermediate boys' class at 9:00, followed by the same class for girls, with older beginners taking the third period.

Thursday finds two intermediate groups receiving instruction. Friday's classes are Swimmers and life saving and water safety. There is open swimming every day from 1:00 to 5:30 p. m. and 7:00 to 9:00, with Sunday hours being 1:00 to 9:00 p. m.

The Ord Swimming club will have its first meeting on Friday at 7:00 p. m. During this meeting officers will be elected and the summer program will be planned. It is hoped that about 20 boys and 15 girls will join the swimming club, forming the nucleus around which a swimming school can be built later in the season.

Several families are living temporarily in trailers or in rooms until houses or apartments become available. The housing situation for the summer will become acute next week when the two score employees of the Kansas-Nebraska natural gas company arrive in Ord to begin laying pipe here. Quite a number of the construction crew have their families with them, and will be hard pressed for housing during the three-months period needed for the local job.

Unless new housing units are added rapidly another crisis will arrive in fall, when at least three new teachers will be needed.

Cool Weather Cuts First Week Swim Pool Crowd

Announce Slate for Red Cross Water Classes.

Cool weather held down attendance during the first few days of the swimming season at the Ord Municipal pool. Manager Keith Kovanda announced plans for the season, expressing a hope that a big dose of sunshine would make Ordites swimming-conscious.

Valley county Red Cross water safety chairman, "Cork" Biemond, announced that full Red Cross facilities are available for water safety and swimming instruction. He said that plans are being worked out to enable children from towns near Ord to come in and take advantage of swimming instruction.

"There's no better place for the kids to be," commented Biemond. "We have the facilities here and the people of the community—including nearby towns—should take advantage of them."

Manager Kovanda announced his lesson schedule, subject to revision, Tuesday. The classes begin Monday and ordinarily will run for 30 minutes, with 40 minutes being the maximum.

Mass drilling and individual instruction will be parts of the lessons, with certified Red Cross instructors handling the classes. Three classes will be taught on Monday and Tuesday, with two groups meeting on Thursday and Friday.

Frank Adamek Is Boys' Stater

Frank Adamek, Ord high school junior, was one of 300 Nebraska boys in Lincoln for the opening of the 10th annual Cornhusker Boys' State.

Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion, opened Sunday at the University of Nebraska "ag college campus with representatives from 241 cities and towns in 80 counties.

Frank was chosen by Fidelity Post No. 38, Ord, to go to Boys' State where he will learn the workings of city, county, and state government. His choice was based on his record in scholarship and leadership qualities.

Sunday night, after vesper services and an address by Lyman Stuckey, state Legion commander, the boys were assigned as members of the two political parties which will serve as laboratories for their study of government.

On the list of activities for Boys' Staters were election primaries on Monday, general elections Tuesday, and the opening session of the legislature on Wednesday.

During the week, boys are citizens of eight "towns" in two "counties." Adamek was assigned to "Griswold Heights."

Adams to Move to Former Bus Depot

Henry Adams will move his electrical appliance business to a new location in the former bus depot about June 15, he announced this week. The new store is being remodeled and redecorated at present.

The Democrats met in the court room Saturday afternoon. They chose Ralph Norman and Don Moody as delegates. The alternates who will go to the state conclave should either of the regular delegates be unable to make the trip, are John Sullivan and Clem Meyers.

Work to Start Monday on Ord Gas Pipe Lines

Gas Company Rents Wise Building for Local Sales Office.

Work will start Monday on Ord's long awaited natural gas system.

That announcement was made this week by D. W. Wilson, newly appointed local manager for the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co. The firm has rented the Wise building, just west of the Ord Grill for their local offices, which are now being remodeled and redecorated. The offices will not only be business headquarters for the firm but will also be a display room for appliances.

Mr. Wilson, a Holdrege native who has been in Mason City the past year, moved his family here this week.

"We will start laying pipe in the extreme southeast corner of town," he told the Quiz, "and gradually, as our full crew gets here, we'll spread out to other portions of the city. The job should be completed by mid-September."

Wilson said that in addition to the construction crew expected this week he will have a sales and survey group in Ord Monday.

"We expect to make a door-to-door canvass of the town. Naturally, we'll try to sign up as many gas customers as possible before the winter heating season."

Work on the Ord-Loup City pipe line has not started as yet, Wilson said, but it will in a very short time. "The right-of-way is all taken care of, and we have the material. It's just a question of finishing a few other jobs first."

Delegates Named for State GOP, Demo Confabs

Valley county delegates to the Republican and Democratic state conventions in Omaha next week were chosen at meetings of the two parties Saturday.

At the Republican meeting, held in the district court room in the morning, Mrs. W. J. Ramsey of Arcaadia and Clarence Davis, Ord attorney, were selected to represent the county. Alternates named were Viggo Hansen and Henry Stara.

The Democrats met in the court room Saturday afternoon. They chose Ralph Norman and Don Moody as delegates. The alternates who will go to the state conclave should either of the regular delegates be unable to make the trip, are John Sullivan and Clem Meyers.

Mrs. Leggett's Mother Dies at Alliance

From Alliance, Nebr., Monday night came word of the death of Mrs. H. J. Ellis, mother of Mrs. E. C. Leggett of Ord and Mrs. C. W. Wilcox of Broken Bow. A sudden heart attack caused her death. She was 70 years old.

Mrs. Leggett left early Tuesday morning for Alliance with her son Kerry driving the car for her. They were joined at Broken Bow by Mrs. Wilcox.

Funeral arrangements are not complete but the services probably will be Thursday afternoon at Alliance.

Besides her two daughters, Mrs. Ellis is survived by her husband and by one son, Wade Ellis, of Alliance. There are six grandchildren.

Veterans Club Closes Youth Center 'Til Fall; Kids Just Aren't Interested

Official board of the Ord Veterans club at their meeting this week decided to discontinue, until school starts in the fall, the practice of opening the club to teenagers on Friday nights.

Reason—the kids just don't seem to be interested. Friday night only twenty boys and girls showed up to use the club's facilities. The previous Friday's crowd was almost that small. Not since Ord high school closed has there been a good crowd of young people present on a Friday night.

Giving over the club to teenagers on Friday nights costs the club the patronage of its adult jr., who solicits bingo prizes from merchants before each youth night and in other ways devotes much time to the project. If less than twenty boys and girls use the facilities, as has been the case, such work is largely wasted, the club's board feels.

Manager Niemeyer makes it plain that if the kids themselves will work out a plan to assure representative attendance the youth nights will be resumed, even before Sept. 1. If they fail to do this they have nobody but themselves to blame for loss of the youth center on Friday nights.

Hurlbert Gets Catfish to Boost Quiz Contest

The second annual Quiz fishing contest began to move faster this week with warm weather luring fishermen to the banks of streams to try their luck at bringing in the big ones.

A huge catfish was reported caught Thursday by Jerry Pliva of Constock who was fishing on the Calamus. The fish was not entered in the Quiz contest, but had it been, it might have taken one of the prizes. The Quiz informant said it weighed 12 1/2 pounds—which is a lot of fish.

Larry Hurlbert opened competition in the catfish division by bringing in a catfish that weighed just four pounds. Larry caught the fish—and a beauty it was, too—just above Hardenbrook dam on Saturday.

Married Monday in Burwell

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Walaohski.

Before a nuptial mass offered in the Sacred Heart church at Burwell, on June 5, Miss Margaret Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Conrad of Burwell, became the bride of Ted Walaohski of Elyria.

Father Albert Viquain offered the mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Margaret Meuret, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music while Mrs. Wm. Manasil sang "Ave Maria," and Mrs. John Green and Mrs. Manasil sang "A Priceless Love of Jesus," and "Domine Non Sum Dignus." Dickie Meuret, cousin of the bride, sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," while the bride placed her bouquet on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

The bride chose a gown of white marquisette with a fitted bodice, featuring a lace bertha collar, fitted sleeves and a full skirt that fell into a train, which was edged with wide lace. The lace also formed a double scallop in the front touched off by two white satin roses. She carried a round bouquet, fashioned of Taisman roses, surrounded by dainty loops of nylon net and finished with a shower tie of brocade satin ribbon. She also carried a white prayer book, a present from the bridegroom's mother, and a rosary, a gift from the groom.

Maid of honor was Mary K. Conrad, sister of the bride, and Katherine Walaohski, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pink and blue taffeta respectively, and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Arnold Walaohski, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Joe Conrad, brother of the bride, was the attendant.

Diane Baade, niece of the groom, was flower girl, and Randy Baade, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. The rings were carried on a white satin pillow.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Ray's Grill for the wedding party, immediate family and Father Viquain. The four tier wedding cake was heart shaped, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

A buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents from 5:00 until 7:00 p.m. for relatives.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of aching back, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait. Try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Garfield County School Was Housed in Sod

A good deal of Nebraska history is connected with her schools. In pioneer times, the school was not only the place for instruction of the children, but was the center of community social life, as well.

In Cedar Valley, District 28, in Garfield county, a school house built of sod in 1898 served until 1912, when a frame building was erected. Emma Duffinbaugh was its first teacher.

Four-month terms were held from 1893 until 1915, when the school term was lengthened to seven months. In 1922 and '23, the term again was lengthened—much to the disgust of little boys who would rather be fishing than going to school.

The new school building in Cedar Valley, of which the citizens were so proud in the second decade of the century, didn't last long. Some ashes were thrown too close to the wall on one cold morning in 1915 and the school house caught fire and burned to the ground.

School then was held in one room of the C. F. Clarks home. The Clarks' now have a grandson who attends the present Cedar Valley school, erected in 1917.

Darlene Bowers was the teacher in District 28 during the term just ended. Her pupils were Shirley Herrington, Dolores Graff, Joy Dee Tetschner, Ronnie Rowse, George Kelley, Jerry Lowery, Beverly Demitt, Roger Kelley, Gary Marth, and Danny Rowse.

Members of the school board are Clarence Graff, Freeman Rowse, and M. A. Benton.

DUET AND ENCORE

They might not bring down the house at Carnegie Hall. But they'll win an encore at Vacation Bible School.

There's is the kind of singing in which spirit and enthusiasm count. When you're singing "Jesus Loves Me" a few flat notes don't matter.

Even after these happy weeks at Vacation Bible School they won't be ready for a Metropolitan audition. But their young lives will be richer in the qualities that make for happiness and moral health.

Our boys and girls deserve the opportunities which our churches offer them. They need the good times and helpful training that have made Vacation Bible School an American tradition. Encourage your youngsters to attend!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Beck Pitches No-Hit Game to Give North Loup Win

Ashton, Farwell, Go 15 Innings in Sunday Tiif.

Harold Beck, North Loup hurler, fulfilled every pitcher's dream Sunday when he tossed a no-hit, no-run game at North Loup. He earned his spot in the hall of fame by dropping Cushing with a 6-0 score - one of the finest chucking jobs seen in recent years in the Sherman-Howard league.

North Loup played consistent ball behind Beck, committing only two errors which had no effect on the score. Chink Rother performed well as catcher for North Loup, while Dering and Peterson did the pitching and catching chores for Cushing.

The North Loup squad seems to be gathering steam after a slow start. They dropped Farwell a week ago Tuesday at a time when Farwell was leading the league. Sunday's win puts the Loupers into a three-way tie for fourth, fifth, and sixth spots, one game behind the three leaders, Farwell, Palmer and Ashton.

In other Sherman-Howard league activity Sunday, Ashton and Farwell struggled for 15 innings before Ashton nosed out a 6-5 victory.

Farwell drew first blood with a two-run outburst in the top half of the fourth. Ashton pushed one run across in the second half of the inning and Farwell scored again in the sixth. The two-run lead looked bigger and bigger, but an Ashton rally in the eighth stanza tied up the game at three-all.

The ninth inning was scoreless and so were the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th. But a hard-working Farwell crew managed to get two men around the bases in the 14th. That could have been the ball game - but it wasn't. Ashton came right back with two runs in their half of the inning.

Jakubowski, going the route on the mound for Ashton, held Farwell without a run in the 15th frame, and then his teammates rewarded him by pushing across the one needed marker in the last half of the inning.

Dannebrog crushed Elba 7-2 at Dannebrog, and Palmer outlasted Scotia 10-6 at Palmer in other league tilts.

Games scheduled for May 28 were played May 30. North Loup toppled Farwell, 7-4; Ashton humbled Cushing, 13-6; Scotia nosed out Dannebrog, 7-6, and

Mustangs Back on Win Streak With 4-1 Rout of Ravenna

Ord Boys Clout Out 9 Hits, Make 2 Double Kills in Fast Game.

The Ord Mustangs resumed their winning ways Sunday night with a 4 to 1 victory over Ravenna at the local park, clouting 9 hits while Bill Novosad held the Jays to 1, and generally dominating play from the start. It was a fast game which featured three double plays and lasted 1 hour and 50 minutes. A crowd of about 600 shivered through the game.

Ord got off to an early start when L. Novosad, Dugan and D. Beran hit successive singles in the first inning, after Vail was out. The barrage produced only one run, however, when Dugan was tagged out between third and home and Beran died on base when Dilla grounded out to end the inning.

In the third B. Novosad grounded out, then Vail tripled down the third base line but was tagged out on a fielder's choice which put L. Novosad on second. He scored on Dugan's second sharp single, thus making the count 2 to 0 for Ord. Dick Beran flew out to the second baseman to end the rally.

In a wild and woolly 4th inning Ord scored twice on hits by Johnson and B. Novosad, along with a cluster of 4 Ravenna errors. Again amateurish base running, this time by R. Beran, resulted in a lost run but the Mustangs had a safe 4 to 0 lead.

Ravenna's lone run came from an over-the-fence homer by Gruhn in the sixth inning. Novosad bore down and struck out 3 Ravenna batters to stop the Bluejays from getting any ideas.

Bill Dugan had a big evening for Ord, both at bat and in the field. To his credit went two put-outs and four assists and he started double plays in the 7th and 9th innings. Always a fine infielder and possessor of a rifle-like throwing arm, Dugan is handling the ball faster and has come into his own at the plate this season to spark the Ord infield and quell many an uprising by opposing teams. In Huffelt, who went in to pinch hit for Falter in the 6th, getting a rousing double to right field, Manager Walt Douthit seems to have found the infielder he has needed to team with Dugan, Vail and Bud Novosad. In this group he has the makings of the best infield in the league—certainly the hardest hitting infield.

Fans who are attending Mid-Neb. Nite league games are getting high quality baseball—best played in this section since the late 20's, when most of the players were hired hands. Only Mustang pitchers are receiving pay under present management and even they are local men. Boys from near-by towns who are playing with the Ord team are getting only mileage, plus their share of the player pool and play-off money if any at the end of the season. It is surprising that Manager Douthit has been able to develop such a good team under this system but the Mustangs have won 5 of their first 6 games and have the best record in the league to date.

The box score of Sunday's game:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Ord	5	1	.833
Shelton	4	1	.800
St. Paul	3	2	.600
Loup City	3	2	.600
Ansley	3	3	.500
Broken Bow	2	3	.400
Ravenna	1	5	.166
Boelus	1	5	.166

Heuck Suggests Cure for Sloppy Base-Running

The Ord Mustangs' manager, Walt Douthit, was wondering what he should do to cure his players of sloppy base running, which has cost the club runs in almost every game this season. He asked Bill Heuck.

"When I was a boy," said Bill, "I used to go prairie chicken hunting with my father. He had a pointer which was excellent at finding game but liked to chase jackrabbits better. When we got out onto the prairie a jackrabbit would jump up and the dog would take off after him. Dad would let the dog get far enough out so birdshot would only sting him, then he'd let him have a charge in the rear. After about three such experiences the pointer would settle down and hunt chickens."

"I suggest you take a 12 gauge shotgun out to that 3rd base coaching box tonight. Get some shells with fine rock salt. When the boys don't pay attention to the coach, let 'em have a charge where it will sting the most. You may have to shoot some of them two or three times but I'll guarantee it will solve your problem—just as it did with our pointer."

If you see Douthit carrying a howitzer to the 3rd base coaching box tonight or Sunday, you'll know he's following Heuck's suggestion.

Watch your base running, Mustangs! Rock salt stings; we remember that from watermelon hooking days of 30 years ago.

Broken Bow, Ansley, Bringing Strong Teams to Ord

Indians Here Tonight, Ansley With New Team Comes Sunday Eve.

Two strong opponents will face the Ord Mustangs in night games at Russell park during the next few days. Broken Bow plays here tonight (Wednesday) and the rejuvenated Ansley team comes Sunday.

Broken Bow has won two and lost three in league competition to date and are always dangerous. In Gene Vaughn and S. Vaughn they have a pair of hard hitting infielders and Rol Jensen, the catcher, is always a threat. Wilkerson, shortstop, has been going great guns this season. Either Bob Korte, the home town boy who tried out with Des Moines this year, or Ray Jensen, erst-while Mason City pitcher, will do mound duties for the Indians.

The rejuvenated Ansley club will come Sunday night and will pose a problem for Manager Douthit and his boys. Although the Mustangs beat Ansley by a 10 sided score in the league opener, Ansley has won two of its last three games and now has a league percentage of .500.

Two Miller players who always caused Ord trouble last season, the Harnage brothers, are now playing with Ansley. So is Dell Harris, of Kearney, who played in the Nebraska Independent league last year. Also added to the team are two of the Staab boys who attend university in Oregon and were not with the team when Ord played them before.

Yes, it looks like a couple of busy evenings ahead for the Mustangs, who are hanging to first place in the league by a hair's breadth over Shelton and would be dislodged by a loss, providing Shelton wins at the same time.

Bill Novosad Still Leads Ord Hitters

Batting averages of the Ord Mustangs have fallen off considerably since the first compilation made three weeks ago but Bill Novosad still leads with a juicy .444, being the only batter to improve his average during the period. Two hits at St. Paul while most of the Mustangs went hitless accounted for the increase.

Bill Dugan is second with .320 and Bob Philbrick, idle since the first compilation because of an attack of pneumonia followed by a sprained wrist, is third with .300. From then on the marks drop into the .200s and lower. They follow:

Mustangs Fall, 3-1, in Tight Game at St. Paul Wednesday

Novosad Gives 5 Hits, Hits Homer for Ord's Lone Tally.

There's an old sports saying to the effect that "the bigger they are the harder they fall" and the Ord Mustangs learned its truth Wednesday when after 4 straight wins in league play they were toppled by St. Paul, 3 to 1, in a tightly played game on the St. Paul field.

It was a good game throughout, agree the 800 or more fans who saw it, many of whom were Ordites. All runs by both teams were earned.

St. Paul scored in the second inning on successive doubles by Leth and Allen and Ord tied it up in the 5th when Bill Novosad rapped a homer over the right field fence.

In the last half of the same inning the Apostles made it 3 to 1 and the ball game when Oakson singled, went to second on a sacrifice fly by Nelson, and scored when D. Lukesawicz, the Farwell slugger, poled a tremendous home run over the left field wall, the ball landing fully 70 feet behind cars parked along the outfield boundary.

Ord had two men on base in both the sixth and seventh innings, with only one down each time, but couldn't get the hits that would have scored them.

D. Jensen, St. Paul's veteran hurler, held Ord to 4 blows of which two were made by Bill Novosad, one by Dugan and one by Dilla. He whiffed 9 Mustangs and had what it took to get out of trouble in the clinches, though only sensational stops of Ord line drives saved him on two occasions. St. Paul made no errors.

Vail, Ord second baseman, made Ord's only two bobbles and otherwise Novosad was given good support afield. He struck out 10.

Fire Damages Burwell Stores

A fire alarm, a little past midnight Monday, brought residents from all sides of town in a few minutes to the city square.

Night Marshal George Ballard discovered the fire and gave the alarm. The fire started in the Lynch Jewelry store. Smoke filled the jewelry store and Nan's Fashion Shop. At first it could not be determined where the fire was. The firemen were right on the job but it took some time and many gallons of water to subdue the fire.

The fire caused practically a total loss to Nan's Shop and the Lynch Jewelry store.

They look extra good and we feel that the farmers will be very well paid for the small amount that they have spent for fertilizer.

Leach Motors Jr. Legion Team Wins

The Ord Junior Legion team sponsored by Leach Motors of Ord won their first official start of the season at Scotia Sunday afternoon in a 22 to 6 merry-go-round. Fourteen hits by Ord, plus uncounted errors by the Scotia catcher and an occasional bobbie afield, accounted for Ord's high total.

Marion Geneski pitched most of the game for Ord with Withervax catching but in the final frame they switched places. Beedle went the route for Scotia.

Welsh and Withervax led the Ord attack with three hits each, while from a batting standpoint Vance, Sintek and Beedle looked best for Scotia.

An abbreviated box score follows:

Graduation.
The last rites for the graduates have been held, and another huge consignment of young people has been turned out in the world, some to go on to higher education, others to find a job if possible, and still others to spend some time considering what job they are best suited for and will most enjoy.
Happy is the boy or girl who has made the decision of a lifetime and is prepared to go ahead along definite lines and toward a definite goal. All too often school, and high school in particular, has been a "happy-go-lucky" business, with the student having no definite plan except to get through school in the required time with the least possible effort and the most possible enjoyment.
School has not been made a means to an end. In these days, when there are a number of courses of study from which to choose, the student should decide upon a course early and work to perfect himself in the studies of that course. Many of them do this and they are in position to go on to a higher education or to take up their place in life immediately after graduation.

In this respect schools are far ahead of the schools of half a century ago, when all Ord had to offer, for instance, was a choice between the Latin and the German course. There was no organized science, manual training, domestic science, agriculture or athletics. Whatever was done along these lines was done by the student on his own time and at his own expense.

Education in America has reached a point beyond which the average student cannot go. There are limits to the amount of learning a person of 18 years or less can acquire in school, and that limit has been reached. To add more at the upper end of the scale will only mean a loss in the fundamentals. In fact, that loss is being felt keenly even at the present time.
When the time comes that the parents of the students are not able to pay, through taxation, the bill for their education, it is time to live within the limit of the parents' ability to pay. Federal aid for education is not the answer, but it is another step down the road to socialism.

The Perennial Pedlar.
When warm weather comes, and it certainly was a long time coming this year, the public may expect to see the pedlar going from house to house either selling outright or taking orders for something or other that is to be had in the stores and at a price equal to or less than the pedlar offers it for.
The local merchant must keep at it the year round to make both ends meet. He must keep several thousand dollars tied up in stock and this stock must be kept up, handled and messed with many times before it goes to the ultimate consumer. This all means work and expense for the local businessman.

Let us not forget that he also pays taxes, something the fly-by-night pedlar does not do. Men who engage in unfair competition with the local dealers do not believe in paying taxes, although they demand full protection of the laws of the land, laws that cannot be enforced without liberal use of tax money.

When the pedlar comes to your door with his glib sales talk, it might be well to ask him how much he has invested in the line of goods he is handling; if he has a local place of business and if he pays taxes in the county. Also ask him if you can buy his product on credit or with a dependable guarantee.

Your local dealer has most items in stock, and those he does not stock he can get you in a few days. His guarantee of satisfaction goes with the article. If it is not satisfactory, he must, for his own business protection, see to it that you are satisfied. A satisfied customer means more business for him.

The stranger is an unknown quantity, and the goods he sells are also an unknown quantity. They may turn out to be just as he represents them to be, and he may be an honest man. But that is a chance you, as his customer, must take. When the goods arrive, he is gone, and that is the end of the deal, so far as he is concerned.

If you have money you can get along without, give it to the Red Cross or to some other worthy project. Then you can be assured that somebody, somewhere, will benefit by your generosity. Buying from strangers is like stuffing sand in a rat hole. The rat will dig out in some other place and your time will be wasted.
Incidentally, there is an easy way to take care of pest salesmen. If in town, ask him if he has been given permission to ply his trade, and, if he fails to show a permit or license, you will know he is a fraud. Legitimate business can easily gain permission to proceed and such business usually takes care of such details.

In the country you might ask if the pedlar has consulted the county officials, particularly the county attorney. Beware of pedlars who are soliciting in the name of some organization. If they are carrying credentials, if they do not have credentials, notify the organization, and they will be taken care of at once.

The oldest graft in the world is the fellow who is selling something in order to complete his education, or some other appealing object. The chances are that you are the one getting the education. If the experience does not cost you too much, perhaps it is worth all it cost you to find out what a chump you are.
In the final analysis, if it is a good idea not to buy anything from a stranger at any time. There is nothing worth having that cannot be purchased from or through legitimate sources. New items can be obtained by other means than through questionable agents.

Beware of the fellow who offers you something for nothing, or a much better bargain than anybody else can offer you. Common sense should tell you that nobody is going around the country offering genuine goods at less than the local merchants can buy them for. There is a catch to it somewhere, and you will be the one to lose in the deal.
The story is told of the two young men who were going around the country taking photos of anything the people wanted photographed. They would take the pictures, collect a deposit on each dozen wanted, and then go on to the next place. One fellow got suspicious and had them arrested. The sheriff found there was no film in the camera!

What will we do without Clara McClatchey?
And what will we do without Irene Auble?
They are two of our finest examples of good citizenship, two Ord wheelhorses who could always pull one more load. They have worked faithfully on every good project that came their way. It would be selfish to keep them away from their homes.

But how are we going to get along without them?
Scottsbluff doesn't know it, but they're getting a mighty yeasty gal. She'll stir them up and keep things perking.
Peru doesn't know it, but their school couldn't add a finer person to their college faculty than Clara McClatchey.

Each week I try to make notes of interesting events to use in this column, then when I sit down to write, I usually fail to remember where the notes are. That is the case this week. All of which reminds me of a certain preacher who floundered (maybe I should say, "gestured") in the days of long ago. He was quite a preacher, but he liked to tell the story of how he became handy in slinging the words around. When he first started out to preach he always made notes and confined himself rather strictly to those notes.

Often something came into his mind as he talked that he would have liked to use, but he was afraid to get away from those notes for fear he would never get back.
Then one day came the fatal loss of the notes, which should have been right in his Bible along with the scripture reading for that day. Look as he might, he could not find them. There was a large crowd present, as there were visitors to be there. The visiting brothers had seats of honor on the rostrum, and it was time to begin. Either he had to admit that he had lost his notes, or take a chance on what he could do without notes.

That was the turning point in that minister's career. He preached a masterly sermon and received the congratulations of everybody for the way in which he had brought out the theme of his sermon. He is an old man today and has been retired for many years, but still is called upon by some of his former parishioners to preach a funeral sermon. He has never used notes since the time he lost his notes so many years ago. If it had not been for that mishap he would doubtless have gone through life preaching mediocre sermons and not getting anywhere.

As it is, he for years filled the pulpit of one of the largest churches in the middle west. Perhaps the comparison is odious. Preaching from notes and writing from notes may not be the same. A versatile writer is not usually a good speaker. The writer puts himself on the spot with every line he writes. It is there in black and white, and he can't lie out of it afterward and claim he was misunderstood.

Monday Barber Copeland got around to give me one of his calendars. He started giving them out about Christmas time, but he is a busy man and when there is something to do or some place to go, he usually makes it by a close shave. He said he wanted me to have one as it was right down my alley. It shows a fellow posing as a fisherman, with a rod in one hand and a fish on the end of the line, and a landing net all ready to dip the trout out of its native element.
What the man doesn't know is the fact that a grizzly bear is standing on the rocks behind him, ready to cut off his retreat and claim the fish. The moral is that a man should not go fishing with a bear behind him. The picture is out of my class. I have never owned a landing net, and would not know what to do with one if I had it. Furthermore, I have never caught a fish large enough to need a landing net. In fact, I think it is taking cowardly advantage of a fish to use a net in landing him. "Give them a chance," is my motto.

I can recall the Decoration Days, of more than 50 years ago, when the day was for that purpose and little else. There were plenty of the GAR members present in those days, and they saw to it that the day was properly observed. In fact, in those days there were two observances. The Sunday before decoration day was Memorial Day, and all the ministers were expected to preach a special Memorial sermon. Then when May 30 rolled around, the speechmaking was all to do over again, only more so. The finest orator to be had was called upon to give a talk.
The band usually led the parade to the cemetery in the forenoon, and special services were held there and the graves of all departed GARs and other veterans were properly decorated. Then in the afternoon the special program was held in the Ord opera house, or, if the weather was suitable, the program would be held in the court house yard. There were no baseball games on Decoration Day in those days and no other form of amusement. When those old timers set aside a day in memory of the dead they really meant it.

I am lucky enough to possess an original copy of the "Trail of the Loup," that great book by Prof. Harold W. Foght. I did not buy one at the time the book was published some 45 years ago. But R. O. Hunter did buy one, and when he was selling the items he didn't need at the time he moved to California, he sold me his copy, which is as good today as when it was published by W. W. Haskell in 1905. My chief regret is that I did not have Prof. Foght autograph the book when he visited Ord a number of years ago. It is one book I have that is not for sale.

Old timers have claimed that there are many inaccuracies in the text of the book, but I am inclined to the opinion that the author used every available source of information, while gathering material for his book. Furthermore, it is the only book that gives a detailed early history of the Loup country, and there is no way of proving whether all the incidents related and statements made are correct or not. Under the circumstances it is the better part of valor to accept the book as history and let it go at that.

So late. No peonies for Decoration Day. We barely managed to have leaves on our trees!
But I guess we'd better not squawk. We are lucky compared to some parts of Nebraska.

Something Different

This is surely one of the queerest springs we'll ever have.
So late. No peonies for Decoration Day. We barely managed to have leaves on our trees!
But I guess we'd better not squawk. We are lucky compared to some parts of Nebraska.

You see, I just came home. And I drove through southeastern Nebraska. Flooded fields, sodden roads and brush clinging to trees and fences five feet off the ground, detours galore, many and many miles in the paving, so many things testify to the trying spring they've had down there.

And when we'd pass a bus, I'd remember the one that was washed off the road and ended 40 feet down in the ditch, wrong side up. They're still finding bodies the last week.

Peonies aren't out in southeastern Nebraska, either. Nor in northern Missouri, though buds are coloring. But they were beautifully, gloriously out in Lexington, Missouri, and at Kansas City. They were selling for $1 a dozen everywhere. Nothing could be more appealing.

Lexington, where Kerry has been going to school, seems quite southern. There are many two-story brick homes, set roadside to the street, with two-story pillars at the front, southern-mansion style. Many of these homes are very old, but well kept up. Often they are painted white.

There are many negroes, and that is quite different from Ord where we have none.
Civil war battles were fought where main streets of the town now run. Old defense ditches are still pointed out, grassy markers of that distant day of fighting.
Cadets of Wentworth Military Academy drill the non-Townfolk are more than proud of a cannon ball embedded high in a pillar of their courthouse. The courthouse is painted sharp white; the cannon ball is marked out in black, and a small sign painted under it. At night a spotlight illuminates the dignified steps and entry AND the cannonball! It is truly impressive.

Kansas City was getting ready for a 33-day centennial celebration, with pageants and parades and plays every day and evening picturing their beginnings down there. In honor of which celebration many of the men were growing beards for the past few weeks.

One thing I couldn't get over, and that was how many Missouri farmers had created numbers of little lakes by damming up the gullies. Every pasture seemed to have several of these small lakes. And often there would be one dam below another down a draw, so that a row of lakes fell like terraces.

Grass grew over the banks, and they were pleasant to see. And the stock enjoyed them, that was evident.
The practice was so common that I'm sure they were made long ago.

Old timers have claimed that there are many inaccuracies in the text of the book, but I am inclined to the opinion that the author used every available source of information, while gathering material for his book. Furthermore, it is the only book that gives a detailed early history of the Loup country, and there is no way of proving whether all the incidents related and statements made are correct or not. Under the circumstances it is the better part of valor to accept the book as history and let it go at that.

North Loup Picnic Held in California

North Loup is a small place on the map, but if all old time friends could have looked in on the picnicers found at Fairmont park, Riverside, Calif., Sunday May, 28, they would have to admit it was a very important spot in the lives of many southern California people. A placard was tacked up to identify the group, bearing the words, "North Loup, Nebr., Home of PopCorn Days." There were 63 who gathered for a picnic and renewal of old acquaintances.

After thirty years or more of separation from neighbors, friends and relatives it was a day of feasting in more ways than one. Faces were familiar, but it was difficult to associate names and faces in many cases.

The group voted to have another North Loup picnic in 1951 at Long Beach. Donald Fisher was elected president of the group and Mrs. Inez Van Horn secretary.

All North Loupers are requested to keep the last Sunday in May an open date to meet together again for another picnic.

Rain Tuesday Nite Relieves Hot, Dry Spell

Ord Gets Nearly Inch of Moisture in Thunderstorm.

A life-saving rain Tuesday night broke the first hot spell of the year with moisture ranging from an inch and a half down to about a half-inch.

The Ord precipitation reading, made by Horace Travis, local weather recorder, was .97 inch. North Loup reported .61, while farmers west of Ord watched an inch and a half of water fall on their fields.

High winds accompanied the rain, with the storm knocking out long distance lines of the Nebraska Continental Telephone Co. Local telephone service, however, escaped with minor damage.

Weather Report

Horace Travis, Observer

Table with 3 columns: Day, High, Low Precip.

Total precip to date, '49 .13.66 Total precip to date, '50 .10.89

A small lean-to shed on the Frank Hulinsky farm 12 miles west of Ord was blown down, and the buildings on the Joe Wadas place, 12 miles east of the city, suffered some storm damage.

The rain came just in the nick of time. Fields had dried out fast because of insufficient moisture last winter. With small grains entering the critical growing stages, the rain had to come when it did to prevent a serious crop loss.

Alfalfa growers reported that growth had nearly stopped and shrinkage was becoming serious just before the rain.

The thermometer went to 94 degrees Monday and hit 89 Tuesday. Summer was a long time coming, but it finally got here.

Corn Borer Threat Is Serious

Weather conditions which delayed corn planting this spring also delayed the development of the corn borer, according to County Agent C. C. Dale.

Observations made this week show that 85% of the borers found in old corn stalks are still in the larval or worm stage of development. Only about 15% had gone into the pupal or resting stage from which the egg laying moths will develop.

In contrast to this situation, the first brood of moths had laid their eggs and the young borers were hatching by June 20th, last year.

"Evidently, our hopes that the egg laying period might occur, before the corn reaches the susceptible stage will not be borne out," he says, "and with weather conditions favorable for borer development from now on, we may be in for trouble, especially in the irrigated areas."

Dale plans to continue his work of checking the number and stages of development of the borers and will keep farmers informed of the situation.

He also stated that there is considerable replanting of corn in the county, due to several factors, among which are wire-worm damage, corn seed beetle damage, and the heavy crusting of the heavier soils which were planted to corn during the wet period before Memorial Day.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bill Suchanek and Ilene arrived from Cheyenne, Wyo., Wednesday morning for a few days visit with relatives. The Suchaneks lived here about ten years ago.

At Work on Pipeline

A welder joins two sections of a gas main as work begins to bring natural gas to Ord.

Traffic Violators Feel Crackdown

Six Face County Judge Monday; All Draw Fines.

A flurry of traffic violations late last week made Judge Charles Ciochon's courtroom the busiest place in the courthouse Monday morning.

Gene Bonsall drew the heaviest penalty of the half-dozen violators to face the judge. He paid a fine of $25 plus $4 in court costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding.

Patrolman Otto Zapp testified that Bonsall had traveled over 85 miles an hour on highway 11 between Ord and North Loup. Bonsall was arrested Thursday.

Another speeder, William Rykavy, was arrested Sunday. Upon his plea of guilty, he was assessed a fine of $10 and $4 in court costs.

Alvin Kopustka was fined $10 and costs for a stop sign violation at Elyria Thursday and Harold Dubas drew a fine of $2 and costs for driving without a license.

Leslie Freeman paid $9, representing a fine of $5 and costs of $4 on a charge of overloading. A trucker, Charles Hawk, was found guilty of overloading an axle. He was fined $10 and costs.

The arrests in all cases were made by Patrolman Zapp, recently assigned to the Ord territory.

Gnaster Buys East Side Cafe Lots

The lots now occupied by the East Side Cafe were sold this week to Edw. Gnaster by the owner, C. E. Gilroy. Gilroy purchased them along with the cafe building and fixtures at public auction.

The building will be moved to the residential portion of Ord and converted into apartments, the Quiz learned this week.

Gnaster recently purchased the lot and building of the former Lenker Machine Shop which lies between his garage and the cafe. He expects to raze or move the machine shop building and then convert the entire area into a used car lot.

Work Begins on Gas Pipeline

With the arrival of a pipeline crew this week, work got underway to bring natural gas to Ord. A crew of 15 men from the Kansas-Nebraska Gas Co. came to Ord Monday and immediately began the task of laying mains under Ord streets.

The crew came here from Ravenna, where gas was turned on last Friday in a torch-lighting ceremony. Service will reach Ord early in September, according to present plans.

The gas company's office west of the Ord Grill has been remodeled and a stock of appliances has been shipped in.

Van Horn enlisted in the Army at Omaha, in August 1948, and left the U. S. for the European Command, in November 1948. He is presently assigned as a personnel clerk with Hq. Company 7782 SCU located in Berlin, Germany.

Forty Enroll in Swimming Class

About 50 children already have enrolled in the Red Cross swimming classes being offered at the Ord Municipal Swimming Pool, according to Keith Kovanda, manager of the pool.

"There may be some more kids who will enroll soon," Kovanda commented. "Several of the churches are holding vacation Bible schools and the children are attending them."

About 75 season passes have been sold. The sudden hot spell has sent Orrites to the pool to cool off the last couple of days. With the mercury crowding the 100-degree mark, the clear, cool water is a—what are we waiting for? Let's go swimming!

Satterfield Estate Closed

Broken Bow.—The estate of George Satterfield, former Valley county treasurer at Ord, has been closed and there were no claims against it, according to Custer County Judge Morris V. Hoobler.

A state auditor's report had revealed that Satterfield was short $11,020.10 in his accounts as county treasurer. In March, Valley County Attorney, Ralph Norman, filed a $12,189.76 claim against Satterfield's bonding company.

Satterfield was employed as a cashier in a Sargent bank prior to his death Jan. 22 after being burned in what was reported at the outset as an oil stove explosion in the bank.

Ord Hospital to Employ a Second Graduate Nurse

Necessary to Get AMA Approval; Mrs. Grace Buchfinck Released.

Decision to employ a second graduate nurse in order to qualify for accreditation by the American Medical Association has been made by the board of directors of the Ord community hospital, it is announced this week by Archie Geweke, board chairman.

At present, Mrs. R. J. Lynn, a graduate nurse, is on duty assisting Mrs. Darlene Herman, the hospital superintendent, but this is only a temporary arrangement. The board has two applications from graduate nurses seeking permanent positions and both will be interviewed and one hired by the board at its meeting Thursday evening.

A change in the business management of the hospital also has been made. Mrs. Grace Buchfinck, who has been serving as business manager, has been released in the interest of economy and a girl will be hired to keep the books on a part time basis.

Ord medical doctors will serve as staff physicians and will meet with the hospital board once monthly to help decide hospital policy, Chairman Geweke says. The hospital has been very busy lately with practically all beds filled most of the time.

Innocent-Looking Curve Claims Victim

More Rural Districts Closing Schools; Girl Loses Life as Car Misses Sharp Curve

Editor's Note: This article, interesting in significance to every parent, appeared in the School News section of the Sargent Leader.

From state reports we understand that there are very many rural districts closing their schools and sending their children to high school district schools. Last year we had 20 grade school students from the county and we hear three of four more districts are contemplating closing their schools and transporting their folks to Sargent.

This works out very well from the financial angle and as far as the educational phase is concerned, there is no comparison. These one room, one teacher schools just do not have the facilities to even pretend giving a child a complete elementary education.

With a school of 1,000 elementary school teachers in Nebraska, an elementary school is lucky to get a teacher, let alone a first class one. We have always contended that an individual that can adequately handle eight full elementary grades of from five to six subjects per grade in six hours, give pupils correct playground supervision, teach elementary music, present character education and do part of the janitor work is not a teacher, but is a miracle.

Not only are the educational facilities, time needed for covering all of these subjects and the preparation of the teacher often pitifully inadequate, but it is not much fun for a single first grader trying to play with five or six other children who may all be in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades. It is certainly fine for little folk to be with 15 or 20 others of their own age level.

We have some fine rural school teachers in this area and then we have some who have sent in students with "A" and "B" averages that can't keep up with our "D" students. We know of one instance of a rural teacher who when re-checked by the county superintendent in January did not have a grade in her grade book or a workbook corrected. However, on the report cards her folks were all "A" and "B" students. It's this kind of preparation that causes such high mortality among

Rites Held for Ptacnik Girl

Sandra Marie Ptacnik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vencil Ptacnik of Comstock, ten miles west of Ord, was born July 1, 1944 in Portland, Me., and passed away June 9, 1950, at the age of 5 years, 11 months and 9 days.

Sandra was a friendly little girl, always ready with a willing and cheerful smile.

She leaves to mourn her passing her parents, one brother, Jimmy, her paternal and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ptacnik and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen, besides many other relatives, friends and schoolmates.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 9:00 o'clock at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church with Father Michael Szczesny officiating. Burial was in the Ord Catholic cemetery.

Pallbearers were Elmer Parkos, Bill Ptacnik, Jr., Elmer Lukesh and Leonard Ptacnik.

—Mr. and Mrs. Anton Lebruska and family of Dix are visiting her mother, Mrs. Frances Bruha.

Worm Damage to Trees Widespread

Both Canker and Tent Worms Noted Stripping Groves.

Extensive damage to trees in the Ord vicinity—especially elms and maples, and groves of seedlings—from both canker worms and tent caterpillars, has been reported.

John Skala of the Valley County Noxious Weed District, told the Quiz this week, that spraying crews had been busy all over the county attempting to combat the worm damage.

"In some vicinities large trees have been completely stripped," he said. "And the small shelter belt plants don't have a leaf on them."

The damage is spotted, according to Skala, but is generally spread over the county. "Worm damage seems to be heavier south and east of Ord than any other place," he said.

In Ord, several residential sections report damage, others have no evidence of worms. The Ord city park is one of the heavier sufferers.

Skala said that spraying this year will not only stop further damage but will prevent re-infestation of the trees next year. Trees that have been stripped can be saved with heavy applications of water and fertilizer, he said.

Girl Loses Life as Car Misses Sharp Curve

Sandra Ptacnik Is Accident Victim Friday.

One girl was killed and another seriously injured in an automobile accident on the Ord-Loup City highway Friday afternoon.

Dead was Sandra Marie Ptacnik, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vencil Ptacnik, who live 11 miles west of Ord.

The injured girl was Ina Faye Jorgensen, 15, a sister of Mrs. Ptacnik.

The accident occurred on a sharp Leaped 80-foot Bank curve in the highway 13 miles south of Ord. The car, driven by Mr. Ptacnik, headed into the curve, then went out of control and careened over a 20-foot bank, landing on the left front wheel.

Riding in the car were Mrs. and Mrs. Ptacnik, their two children, Sandra and Jimmy, and the Jorgensen girl. They were returning from Loup City about 4:30 p.m. when the mishap occurred.

Mr. Ptacnik, the driver, was severely bruised and shaken. His wife received lesser bruises, and Jimmy was cut and bruised. They were all taken to the Loup City hospital for treatment and released.

Miss Jorgensen suffered a crushed vertebra and was placed in a cast. She is expected to be able to return home late this week.

The curve on which the wreck occurred has a bad accident record. Located on the Valley-Sherman county line, the approach from the south is blind as the crest of a hill is just a few yards from the 90-degree turn.

There is a sharp drop-off of some 20 feet at the outside rim of the curve. There is no guard rail or other protection at the side of the road, although a large warning sign has been placed at the approach to the curve.

An Ord insurance man says he remembers that his company has paid four or five claims for damages suffered in accidents at that particular spot—and he knows of several other wrecks which happened there.

Friday's tragedy, however, was the first fatal crash.

The wrecked car was towed to Anderson Motor Co., in Ord, where it was declared to be beyond repair.

The Rev. R. E. Daughelde arrived in Ord from Oshkosh last Wednesday to fill the pulpit of the Ord Methodist church, left vacant when the Rev. L. V. Hassell was forced to take a leave of absence because of ill health.

The new minister is married and has four grown children: a son in California, a daughter in New Jersey, and two daughters in Nebraska.

Deadlines Announced by Superintendent

All Valley county school exhibits must be in the county superintendent's office by July 1 as they will be judged that day.

Also all free high school tuition applications must be sent to the county superintendent's office by

Barber, Who Will Give 300,000th Haircut Soon, Started in Ord in '98

An article in the "Sacramento Union" tells of Frank Foster who will soon give his 300,000th haircut. The veteran barber got his start in Ord in 1898.

Foster, who has operated his shop in Sacramento since 1931, recalls that during the first four years of his apprenticeship in Ord he received no pay. Later, when he went into business for himself, he made about $6 a week and paid about $3.50 for board and room.

"I cut hair for 25 cents and shaved all around the neck for 10 cents," he reminisces. "My hours were from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily.

More Rural Districts Closing Schools; Sending Pupils to Sargent, Says Paper

our high school ninth grade students. They come to us not only poorly prepared but with no idea what studying is.

With better educated and experienced teachers, a regular physical education program, daily one-half hour music lessons and the hot lunch program in addition to supervised educational facilities the town school can offer much more than the one room rural school.

Of course, there is the transportation problem, but we have contracted Jack Govers in regard to using his station wagon to pick up rural students and it may pay these rural school boards to talk the transportation problem over with Jack.

This year, the state blanket law goes into effect. This law states there shall be a general levy on all districts for educational purposes. This money is pro-rated back to districts maintaining schools with an average daily attendance of five or more. Or it is pro-rated back to the rural district that contracts with another district for instruction of their pupils. Everyone is taxed but certain school districts that fulfill the above requirements will receive this tax money. Note, that it is the average daily attendance of five pupils, not the enrollment of five pupils.

We know these rural school boards have a lot of problems to iron out. All recognize that they cannot maintain a school equivalent to the city schools. However, they do have a bad transportation problem and if this could be solved there is no question but that most parents would like to have their children attending the Sargent Schools. We do suggest that the garage men in Sargent be contracted. They logically would have the facilities to provide bus service and at a price that would make it financially advisable to transport the children to town.

With this shortage of competent elementary school teachers, we are afraid that our rural children are not going to have equal educational opportunities.

Attend School Meeting

Only eight people attended the annual school meeting held Monday evening at the school house. Martin Dunklau acted as chairman of the meeting. Secretary and treasurer reports were read and adopted. It was voted to give the school board authority to do whatever seemed best with the old rural school house, which has not been used for ten years. School board members were voted $3.00 a month for meetings attended and the secretary was voted $15 a month and the treasurer $8 a month. Board members have been getting $2.00, the treasurer $20.00 a year and the secretary $35.00 a year. Next year's budget estimate was set at $25,000.

Sharon and Jolene Eberhart returned Monday from Grand Island and Broken Bow where they have been visiting.

Curt Morrow and his family have moved to Grand Island. A North Loup, is winner of a regional Parshad National Youth Week award. The award will entitle the winner to a scholarship covering partial expenses at the Rocky Mountain regional summer planning conference of the U.C.Y.M. at Estes Park, Colo., August 6-12.

Harold Essling of West Chicago, Ill., on his way to Montana, visited Mrs. Hattie Clement briefly Tuesday morning. His family and Mrs. Clement have been friends for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson and family of Omaha were Saturday and Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. George Clark and Mr. Clark. The Peterson family and Mr. and Mrs. Clark spent several hours in Elba Sunday with Mrs. Clark's mother.

George Albert Baker, son of Julia Brewster and Benoni Thompson Baker, was born in McHenry county, Ill., near Woodstock, January 10, 1862. He was the oldest in a family of three sons and four daughters, the two brothers dying in infancy.

Most of his early boyhood and young manhood was lived with his parents and sisters on a farm near Morocco and Kentland, Ind. He was a schoolmate of the late George Ade, widely known author and playwright, while living in Kentland. On the fateful evening of the great Chicago fire, when about 10 years of age, he watched with his family, in the yard of their home, the reddening of the sky fifty miles away to the north, wondering what was the cause and not hearing for several days of that great disaster.

When 18 years of age the family moved to Nebraska. It was a very cold day in March, 1880, when he and his father loaded their car of household goods and livestock at Donon, Ill., George coming with the shipment and the family by coach. They located at Holdrege where they rented a farm and lived for a year. The father desired to come further west and set out by covered wagon for the sandhills. They stopped at Pibel Lake.

George, however, returned to Holdrege community where he worked for two years. Then, with an ox team he drove back to visit his family. Shortly later his oldest sister, Frances, with her infant baby, was stricken with typhoid fever, and in a few days his little sister, Kitty, succumbed to the disease.

Mrs. Edith Bartz, Mrs. George Bartz and Mrs. Stella Kern cared for the flowers, Miller and Ashley were in charge of arrangements.

He often told of his first trip by pony to North Loup, and of fording the river just east of town. In his middle twenties he took a homestead northeast of Horace, where the Swans and George Johnsons were among his best friends. Here he built a crude little home and lived for a year or two. At this time he and Will Schultz of North Loup were among those who helped build the Burlington railroad from Greeley to Burwell. While at this work he severely injured his leg, which troubled him for many years.

WARNING!

The coming of natural gas to Ord has brought a new kind of itinerant peddler, the so-called 'heating expert.' If you haven't met them by the time you read this advertisement, you soon will.

Frankly, the situation is this. These crews of itinerants follow installations around the country. With glib talk, high powered salesmanship, and a 'price' that looks low at first glance, they attempt to convince an unwary home owner that they really have quality merchandise to sell.

Perhaps they have. But one thing is positive—they will not be here tomorrow to back up the statements they make today. Since they work largely on a straight commission basis, they are interested only in the 'first sale.' Guarantees, service, and adjustments are left for others to do at a later date, and since the salesman who made the first deal is gone, those adjustments, service calls, etc., are usually made at an additional expense to the home owner.

We cannot tell you what to do. Your home is your castle—your money is your own to spend. We ask only one thing:

Investigate Before You Buy!!

Double Check Before You Sign a Contract.

Ask the Gas Company or Your Local Dealer—They Know!
If you do that—we will be well satisfied.

Three Towns Make Gains

Census figures of 16 towns in this area show that only three of them made population gains in the last ten years, and one of the gains was a single person.

Arnold's 1950 population is 938 compared to its 1940 count of 884. Oconto edged up from 260 to 261.

Brewster, one of the 16, had a 1950 population of 70, but there were no figures available for 1940.

Wallace L. Farrar, district census supervisor, announced the populations of the 16 towns in Custer, Thomas, Blaine and Loup counties yesterday. With 1940 populations in parentheses, they are:

Broken Bow 3415 (2968), Mason City 303 (396), Ansley 720 (723), Berwyn 138 (170), Merna 384 (414), Oconto 261 (260), Callaway 741 (760), Arnold 938 (884), Sargent 819 (847), Comstock 301 (408), Taylor 311 (349), Anselmo 313 (388), Dunning 257 (272), Brewster 70 (not available), Theford 268 (288), Seneca 216 (255).

Hadacol Helps Wife Keep Her Family Well and Happy

HADACOL HELPS FOLKS SUFFERING FROM DEFICIENCY OF VITAMINS B₁, B₂, NIACIN AND IRON

Mrs. Edward H. Newton, 4364 Reading Road, Cincinnati, Ohio, feels that a wife's chief responsibility is attending to the welfare of her family at all times. HADACOL has been a big help to her in keeping her husband and little nephew well and happy.

Mrs. Newton's family, like so many, were suffering deficiencies Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

HADACOL brought such wonderful results to her husband, who had suffered from stomach distress that Mrs. Newton gave HADACOL to her three-year-old nephew, Bobby Newton, with equally gratifying results.

Mrs. Newton's Statement Here is Mrs. Newton's statement: "I gave my little nephew HADACOL because he was pale, he had no appetite, he was run down and he caught colds repeatedly. After taking HADACOL, he has an appetite, has color in his cheeks and he is healthier all the way. My husband has always been troubled with his stomach. After taking five large bottles and three small bottles of HADACOL, he eats anything and is not bothered with his stomach." Mrs. Newton has recommended HADACOL to many of her friends.

Helps You Feel Wonderful! Why not have a similar happy fits that people by the thousands are getting from HADACOL, you wouldn't delay a single minute.

Hundreds of Doctors have prescribed HADACOL for their patients, have requested quantities of HADACOL for their own clinical use and for their own families. The fact that HADACOL is scientifically formulated, compounded so that it contains therapeutic quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron to supply deficiencies of these vital elements and is enriched with helpful amounts of Manganese, Calcium and Phosphorus (in liquid form), help to account for its increasing acceptance by doctors.

You'll Feel Great... with the first few bottles you take, or your money back. There is only one HADACOL and it is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. So give this remarkable HADACOL formula a chance to help you if you suffer from any sickness caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Remember that HADACOL is amazingly different and amazingly effective because it treats the real cause of the conditions you suffer from by supplying the deficient elements of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Make up your mind to take HADACOL regularly. Refuse substitutes. Don't be

Cooking Fish

Most important thing to remember in cooking fish is that it too often is overcooked. Just enough cooking to enable the flesh to be flaked easily from the bones will leave the fish moist and tender and bring out its delicate flavor.

Railway Tank Cars

On November 1, 1885 about six years after the world's first oil well was opened at Titusville, Pa., the first tank car was loaded in that city. It was a flat car fitted with two wooden tanks shaped like inverted tubs.

Boer War

The Boer war started on October 11, 1899. The 250,000 British forces quickly captured all major cities from the 40,000 Boers, who slipped into a long guerrilla warfare which ended with peace May 31, 1902.

Granulated Honey

Granulated honey can be liquified by heating it in a water-jacketed container. Honey darkens and loses some of its aroma when held at a high temperature. Generally a temperature of 145 to 160 degrees F. for one hour will cause little change in its color or flavor, and this heat is suitable for all purposes of straining or liquifying for retail containers. Honey heated in this manner, bottled or canned while hot and then quickly cooled, will remain liquid longer than unheated honey.

SHORT STORY

Magic Month

By DYER WILSON

HELEN AND ANDY weren't laughing. They were sitting in metal chairs which were placed at right angles to each other, instead of side by side on the glider, and the glow in their eyes was replaced by anger.

"The trouble is you have no ambition!" Helen was saying as her wide set gray eyes flashed signals, "You act lazy!" The long curls were given a toss as she got to her feet.

Andy got up too. He gave her the one sided smile he'd brought home from war with him and shrugged his heavy shoulders. Andy had blond curls, too-tight to his well shaped head and the merriest of hazel eyes. "You can say that again," he told Helen, "I act lazy, do I?" He thought: Well, that's that and I'll re-enlist and get as far from Hyville as possible.

3-Minute Fiction

When he got home the radio was playing live and he wound one leg over the chair beside it. His mother came into the room and said, "aren't you going to look for a job today, son?"

As he worried for an answer the announcer interrupted the program to tell about a soap contest. "Five hundred dollars for first prize," he said, "just tell in twenty-five words why you like Sudzy-Soap best!"

"I'm trying to think up an entry for the contest, Mom," said Andy directing his hazel eyes up and grinning like an imp. "Only I'll have to have the wrappers from three bars of the dried soap."

Andy Tyson tried not to understand that she inferred he had wasted too many afternoons. He made great work of wording his entry and addressed the envelope for mailing.

Habit turned his steps into the corner store where the fellows laughed and teased him about his entry. Half angry again he hurried out of the place and tossed the letter into the nearest mailbox.

In the three weeks that went by he didn't go near Helen nor did he look for a job. One day slipped into the next and a laxness seemed to hold him tight. He was marking time and getting more dissatisfied with every passing hour.

THE NIGHT, a day later, when he got home to find excitement in the very air and Mom holding out a telegram he ripped it open and nearly passed out. SUDZY-SOAP IS YOUR NO. 1 ANNOUNCE YOU WINNER OF FIRST PRIZE. STOP. LISTEN TO USUAL SATURDAY PROGRAM. STOP. CONGRATULATIONS.

Next day Andy got a job. It was really easy. He felt so good - so proud of himself and ready for anything that came along he just went right after the mechanics job he saw advertised in the morning paper.

Saturday night the whole family gathered for the radio program telling of the contest and the winners.

He ripped the telegram open and nearly passed out.

"But I didn't win," Andy said helplessly when the program was over, "they didn't mention my name and that Robert Amherst won the five hundred dollars."

The door bell interrupted Andy and when the messenger boy gave him a telegram he glanced at it and ripped it open. "HOW DID IT FEEL TO BE A PRIZE WINNER FOR A FEW DAYS? STOP. THE BOYS.

Andy was half way out the door when Helen caught up with him, "where you going" she asked.

"I'll bust those guys in the pose," Andy cried, "of all the dirty, low down tricks."

Helen laughed as she read the telegram. Tears rolled down her lovely cheeks and still she laughed. Andy couldn't help laughing with her.

"If they hadn't done it we'd still be angry with each other," she pointed out, "and you wouldn't have your job - and we wouldn't be planning on getting married."

SHORT STORY

Mr. Diggles On Duty

By MARY WHITEFORD

MR. DIGGLES kept his head down as though he were studying the prescription, scarcely hearing Mrs. Tompkins' voice through the noise of blood thudding in his temples. When he tried to speak, his lips were dry and his tongue moved nervously over them. "I beg your pardon, Mrs. Tompkins, what was that you said?"

"I said if you haven't a delivery boy I'll wait for the three o'clock bus, but I'm anxious to get back as soon as I can."

He looked again at Dr. Price's cramped handwriting. "Oh, I'll deliver it, Mrs. Tompkins. I'm sorry to learn Mr. Tompkins isn't well."

"I told him it's just his bad disposition coming out. I told Dr. Price I certainly hated to drag him into weather like this just for a stomach ache. Doctor says he'd be all right in a day or two."

Mr. Diggles took the handkerchief from the pocket of his grey alpaca coat and wiped his forehead. The moment he wiped to dream of years ago, was here at last. This would cost Dr. Price his practice.

The pity was, Dr. Price would never know he could have saved himself, if he hadn't made it so clear that a man who mixed prescriptions wasn't supposed to know about diagnosis. Dr. Price would never know what he'd done to himself when he told Mrs. White she might as well give the twins a chocolate soda as Diggles' Own Whooping Cough Mixture. Because of Dr. Price's new ways of doing things, no one bought Diggles' Ready Rheumatism Reliever now. Shots, it was, the doctor was giving for everything. Not prescriptions.

Manslaughter, they called it. He wet his lips. Well, no one could expect Mr. Diggles to interfere with Dr. Price's prescriptions again. Not a second time.

Though it was so many years ago, he could feel the flush of anger that flooded his face remembering the day he'd called Dr. Price up, and suggested that maybe the heart medicine he ordered for Mr. Venables was too strong.

"I know what I'm doing. Just mind your own business, Diggles, and I can mind mine."

He looked again at the prescription. There was no mistaking the symbol and he'd fill it as it stood.

He reached for the bottle and removed the cork. Carefully, he measured out the prescribed dose.

MR. DIGGLES straightened suddenly, staring at the partly filled mortar. A feeling of nausea swept through him as he snatched it up and flung the contents into the sink. His hand, replacing the bottle on the shelf, trembled. Outside, the wind howled and flakes of ice made a cold noise beating the window pane.

Dr. Price sat down and mopped his forehead.

Slowly, he walked toward the telephone. After all, just as many people swore by Dr. Price as trusted Diggles.

As he waited, listening to Dr. Price's telephone bell ringing, the shop door opened. Mr. Diggles put down the receiver and went to the front. Dr. Price was on the mat, stamping the snow from his feet.

"Diggles, will you let me see the prescription Mrs. Tompkins just brought in?"

"I was just trying to call you up about it, Dr. Price. I felt there was some little inaccuracy."

Dr. Price nodded. "Something told me. But I wasn't really worried. I knew you'd catch a mistake if there was one. It's a great comfort to me to know that a substantial man like you is checking up on me, Diggles."

"I have to do what I can. A man has to do his duty. He smiled and stood up.

"That's right, doctor. I guess duty becomes a habit if you do it long enough." The wind screamed into the shop as Dr. Price opened the door and went out. It was a bleak, bitter day, but in Mr. Diggles' heart it was suddenly summer.

Mustangs Muff 10, Lose to Ansley Before Big Crowd

Outfit Ansley Crew, But Errors Fatal; Beran in Trouble from Start.

Up to Sunday night the Ord Mustangs had made ten errors in seven games. Sunday against Ansley, before the biggest crowd of the season on the Ord field, they equaled their season's total by making ten miscues in a single game and as a result lost to the Custer county team by a score of 6 to 2.

Dick Beran started on the mound for Ord and though he was nipped for only six safe blows in the 6½ innings that he worked before giving way to Finley, he was in continual trouble. His control was off and he issued five bases on balls and hit two Ansley batsmen while striking out only two. Finley, who relieved in the seventh, put out the rest of the game. He was aided in the 8th by a double killing, Vail to Dugan to Novosad.

Ansley scored first in the second inning when Lee Harnagel walked, advanced on Ferguson's single and scored after Sennett's long fly to centerfield was caught. They added one in the sixth when W. Sintek walked and came in on Lee Harnagel's double.

Ord tied it up in their half of the sixth on an Ansley error and successive hits by Dugan, Dilla and Huckfelt, and the count became 2 to 2. Up to this point fans had seen a ball game.

It was the seventh inning that brought groans from Ord fans. Lead off man for Ansley, R. Johnson, pulled up at second when Philbrick misjudged his line drive and let it go through his hands, after which Sheen doubled. C. Harnagel was safe when Vail let his grounder go through, W. Sintek walked and L. Harnagel scored them both with a single. Then Philbrick dropped Ferguson's fly to center and two more Ansley runs scored. Beran then walked, D. Staab and Manager Douthit put Finley into the frame, replacing Philbrick with Beran. Two Ansley men were tagged off base and E. Staab grounded out to end the inning.

Philbrick is usually sure death on fly balls but he was playing Sunday for the first time in nearly a month and lack of practice told. Sintek, the Ansley pitcher who had been touched for eight hits in the first six innings, was master of the situation once his team had their 4 run lead. He bore down hard in the 7th, 8th and 9th and only one Ord man reached first, Vail dying there after getting a base on balls. Sintek struck out 12.

Ansley brought a vastly improved team to Ord and served notice that they must be reckoned with in the pennant race.

As for the Mustangs, fans are hoping they have all the errors out of their systems and will settle down and play the kind of baseball that saw them win six of their first seven starts. In the two games which preceded the Ansley clash they played errorless ball, which made their breakdown Sunday all the harder to bear. Dugan was the only Ord infielder who played up to his ability Sunday. The Greley county boy had three put-outs and three assists to his credit. Vail and Huckfelt each muffed two and L. Novosad one, while three errors were charged against Philbrick, one against W. Novosad and one against Catcher Johnson.

Shelton, Loup City Next Opponents for Ord Mustangs

Both Games Away from Home; Boelus Here Wedn., June 21.

Two road games against strong opposition will keep the Ord Mustangs busy this week. Tonight (Wednesday) they meet Shelton, who are a step behind for league leadership, and next Sunday they tangle with Loup City on the Loup City field.

Not until Wednesday, June 21 when Boelus comes to Ord will the Mustangs appear at home. On Sunday, June 25, St. Paul plays here.

The game at Shelton tonight should provoke plenty of fireworks. It is on Wednesday nights that Shelton is especially strong for they use several players from the Kearney team of the Nebraska Independent league, which is idle Wednesdays.

Ord will have the services of Ray Johnson, home run hitter of the Kearney team, for each Wednesday for the rest of the season. Bill Novosad will do the mound chores for Ord tonight. He beat Shelton 2 to 1 in ten innings earlier this year, winning his own game with an over-the-fence homer in the tenth.

Probably the biggest crowd of the season to date in the league will see the Ord-Loup City game Sunday night. These teams are rivals of long standing. Loup City has a good field to play on and a big territory to draw from, and many Ord fans usually follow their team to Loup City.

Manager Douthit hopes to throw Novosad at Loup City also but it will depend on how hard he has to work against Shelton. Dick Beran has always gone well against Loup City, beating them several times last season, and he may get the starting assignment Sunday.

V. F. W. Midgets Beat Ansley, 7-5

In a 5-inning game Sunday afternoon on the Ord field, the VFW Midgets, coached by Bill Heuck, defeated the Ansley Midgets, 7 to 5 in a fast game.

The Ord starting line-up had John Douthit, 3rd; Jim Witherwax, lf; Duane Wolfe, p; Ign. Piskorski, rf; Bob Bennett, 1st; M. Brox, ss; Virgil Falter, 2nd; Jim Douthit, c; and Jim Slobaczewski, cf.

Manager Heuck tried to give all his squad of twenty boys a chance to play and others who saw service included Roger Owens, Ray Clark, Don Kapuska, Marvin Vasicek, Ron Romans, Dale Strong, Blaha and Mason. Because of the abbreviated 5 inning game, played as a preliminary to the Junior Legion game, a few boys who have been coming out for practice didn't get a chance to show their wares. These included Smith, Maurice, Dobberstein and Mason.

The boys all performed well at bat and in the field and with more

Mustangs Use 5 Hits, 5 Indian Errors to Fashion 4-2 Win

Play Perfect Ball to Keep Ahead, Although Novosad Shaky.

The Ord Mustangs used five hits and five errors by Broken Bow to fashion a 4 to 2 win over the Indians on a dust-filled Ord field Wednesday night, thereby keeping their victory streak going strong. Bill Novosad's pitching was shaky and the Indians got top safe blows but fine support saved him and he lasted through the game.

Bill Beasley made his Mid-State Nite league debut as a Broken Bow pitcher and deserved a better break than he received, for he held Ord to five hits and two earned runs, winning margin coming about through Broken Bow errors.

Ord's big inning was the second when, after two were down, Stan Johnson hit a single, scoring on Huckfelt's 2-ply blow. Then Finley singled to score Huckfelt and the latter came in when Novosad was safe on an error by the Broken Bow shortstop. Vail whiffed but Ord was ahead 3 to 0.

The Mustangs rallied again in the 4th when Lyle Novosad was safe on an error and scored on Dilla's long triple against the left field fence. Dugan and D. Beran flew out and Johnson was struck out by Beasley, the count being 4 to 0.

Broken Bow scored in their half of the 4th on a triple by H. Jensen, followed by H. Dean's single, and again in the 8th on a single by Rol Jensen and a double by S. Vaughn. They threatened again in the ninth but a sensational stop of a shoestring line drive by Bill Dugan set them back on their haunches, after which Novosad used control to strike out Pinch Hitter McCarny and R. Jensen to end the game.

Dugan and Vail sparked the Ord infield, with Finley doing a fine job at the first base spot. Huckfelt, with two put-outs and three assists, also looked good. The Ord team played errorless ball as contrasted with 5 bobbles by the Indians.

Colts Drop 1 to 0 Thriller Sunday

Dick Nelson Gives Up Only 5 Hits But Spalding Wins.

The Ord Colts dropped a 1 to 0 thriller to Spalding Sunday with Dick Nelson going the route for Ord, limiting the Spalding team to five hits. But Illian, the Spalding hurler, was equally stingy and allowed the Colts only 4.

At that, Spalding's only run was unearned. In the third frame Galvin lived on an error by Koll, went to second on a passed ball, stole third and scored on an error by Fryzek. With exception of this inning the Colts played good ball.

Stoddard, who caught a good game for Ord, also starred with the bat, making two hits in three official tries. Falter and Don Beran got Ord's other safeties.

In other Mid-State Day league games Sunday Greley beat Wolbach 4 to 0 and Belgrade beat Primrose 7 to 4.

Belgrade will be opponents of the Colts on the Ord field next Sunday afternoon.

Ord Jr. Legion Boys Win 9 to 7

Leach Motors Team in Comeback, tho Taylor Had Big Lead.

Ord's Junior Legion baseball team, coached by Jim Gilbert and sponsored by Leach Motors, scored eight runs in the sixth inning Sunday to defeat Taylor, 9 to 7, in the local field, after the Taylor team seemed to have the game cinched.

The local team scored once in the first inning on a triple by Patrick and a single by Fuss but were shackled for the next four innings by Krause, the Taylor pitcher, and an alert Taylor team.

In the meantime Taylor had taken advantage of slack infield play by Ord and scored twice in the fourth and five times in the fifth to take a 7 to 1 lead. It looked like everything was over but the shouting for Krause was striking out the Ord batters with regularity and there were only two innings to go.

Anderson struck out and Jensen flew out to the pitcher as the sixth inning started but Krause lost control and walked Leggett and Geneski, after which Patrick doubled and Welch singled, to score three runs. Fuss was hit by a pitched ball, Witherwax hit a home run and Westcott followed with a double, which was all for Krause. Strong struck out Anderson to end the rally but eight Ord runs had come in, which was enough for the ball game.

Marion Geneski pitched 4-hit ball for Ord and except for errors and passed balls might have had a shut-out. The Ord team hit for a total of nine safe blows.

3 Leaders Tied in S-H League

Sunday's games in the Sherman-Howard League completed the half way mark on the schedule and there was no change in the fight for top place as all three top teams won their games Sunday. At Cushing, Farwell had no trouble in taking a one-sided battle, 15 to 3. Palmer nosed out Dannebrog, 4 to 1, while Ashton tripped North Loup, 8 to 3, and Elba out-slugged Scotia to win, 17 to 10. Next Sunday games are North Loup at Scotia, Farwell at Elba, Ashton at Palmer, and Cushing at Dannebrog. Following are Sunday's line scores:

The Moth and The Flame.

The country is being plagued by a horde of little gray moths, and housewives are kept busy trying to cope with the pests. They find holes in the screens and cracks around the doors that nobody knew existed, and they obey their instinct that attracts them toward the light at night. They are a nuisance, and their presence is an indication of a heavy infestation of cut worms in 1951.

In the old days the moths did not fare so well. In the days of the tallow candle they flew into the flame and met their end. The same was true of the kerosene lamp era, when they would get into the lamp chimney and be burned up, causing considerable disturbance the while. The coming of the electric light has been a boon to the moths, who fly about the bulbs with little discomfort to themselves.

Thus mankind has made life safer for the moths. Legislators and the executive department of our government have been doing the same for the human moths since the establishment of our government. Laws have been written into the statute books to protect the people who cannot resist the lure of the bright lights, and who, if not protected, would fly into those lights to the danger of life and limb.

One of these dangers is the gambling racket, held up as a source of easy money, but which is only a source of loss to the greenhorn who takes a fling at it. For the protection of those who cannot resist the lure of gambling, stringent laws against it are in force in nearly all the states. In spite of this gambling still flourishes.

All "get rich quick" schemes are a form of gambling. Any person who offers you more for your money than is reasonable to expect is in some kind of a racket, or he couldn't make the offer. Also, he is not likely to deliver the goods he has offered at the price he offered them for. When you are offered goods at less than a fair price, investigate before you invest.

Life is a gamble, but it is a legitimate gamble. Since we cannot know the future, we gamble in whatever we undertake to do. What we must do is to draw the line between the legitimate gamble of making an honest living and the rackets offered by the gambling profession.

—Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rikli and family of Murdock spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke.

Security.

Since the beginning of history it has been the goal of mankind to reach a condition of security by the time old age had laid its burden upon them. The idea of "taking it easy" has a definite appeal to all who toil, which means 95% of all the people of the world. The other five percent are those who do not work, some because they never did have to earn a dollar, others because they are ho-boes and would not know what to do with a dollar if they had one.

Few of these are included in the readers of this paper. They are the 95% who believe in toiling today that they might have security in their old age. God in the beginning put the combined curse and blessing of labor on mankind. "By The Sweat of Thy Brow Thou Shalt Eat Bread." Adam and Eve had perfect security in the Garden of Eden, but God saw that they needed, not security, but work.

This laying aside for the future has much to commend it. It is the only practical way of providing for old age. In the competition of making a living for the family the average man finds it hard enough to make ends meet, and has little left over to put away against the time when he and his wife will need it. He tries to do the best he can for his children, to give them a better chance than he has had. As a result, all too often the man of forty to fifty has nothing laid up for the future except the few material things that go to make up his home. These are important and necessary for his enjoyment of life, but they do not contribute much toward security in old age, except as he is able to work and make them bring in the money. He may have a farm, or he may have a business, but he must work at his job to make his material possessions pay for his living.

Insurance and investment in payments over a period of years helps those who have been able to pay the monthly premiums, but experience has proven that the average man does little toward providing for old age during the years when he is best able to provide for it. The social security plan is a means of making a man put away for the future, and seems to be doing a satisfactory job to date.

It is a sensible plan, because it requires the person benefitted to make this provision for his future. Any plan that does not make this requirement is simply a form of organized charity, and should be taken with more than a grain of salt. Charity is necessary, but it should not put the recipient in the position of being under the control of the source from which this charity comes.

Are you looking for perfect security? You will find it in the penitentiary, the insane asylum or the cemetery. In all these places your needs are taken care of and you have no worries about the future. The only trouble is that, to qualify for this security you must either be a criminal, crazy, or dead. Since only a small percent of our population is criminal or crazy, this method of security is impractical.

But the implication is there. A man may easily reach a condition where he has his liberty taken away from him without being a criminal. Millions of people in the world today are being treated about the same as the people in the prisons of America are treated, and their only crime is that they listened to the platitudes and promises of a group of politicians intent on establishing a new type of government.

The man who today listens to the government's pleas for socialized medicine, for federal aid for schools, for more federal money for local projects, for the Brannan Plan, if you please, may not be crazy, but in time he will find himself deprived of many of the rights and privileges he now enjoys, just as men are in the insane asylums.

You cannot have your cake and eat it too. Whatever you ask or expect the government to do for you will only be done at the surrender of a certain amount of personal liberty. The more you ask, the more liberty you lose, until eventually there will be little liberty left. If that is what you want, we are nearer that condition today than ever in the history of our democracy.

Summing up, God intended that man should labor and that he should enjoy the fruits of that labor. He intended that man should live his own life, without let or hindrance from any outside source. If you believe in God, you much of necessity believe in the American way of life.

Ward's Cookin' Column

This is the time of year when the chickens are rampant throughout the nation and the housewives have their hands full, with what garden and housework, and always, the chickens. Now chickens are all right in their way, and they make a fine meal when they weigh enough, in spite of the fact that they cost more than they are worth to grow. But then, they are nice to have around and to build for and labor for from day to day and fuss with and feed, and worry about every time it rains or the wind blows, and wonder if the cats and dogs and other pests are not getting one now and then.

Like everything else in this world worth having, they are a lot of trouble, but trouble is an essential part of life, and we could not get along without a reasonable amount of it. Trouble is what we think about a lot after it is over, and it makes us more contented with our present lot, because we don't have the troubles we used to have. But it takes trouble to bring out the best that is in us. It takes grief to teach us to take the events of life as they come and not worry too much about them. Show me a man who has had little trouble in this world and I will show you a man who is discontented with his lot.

But, to return to the chickens. Nothing in life is any more interesting than a batch of newly hatched chicks. Everybody likes them and everybody likes to fuss over them. The same is true about anything just starting out in life, even babies. They are cute until they are big enough to assert their natural instinct to forage around for food different from that they find in the feeder, and they become a nuisance. The same is true of every living thing. Weeds are not so bad when they are little, but they cause plenty of trouble if they are permitted to mature. The lawn looks nice when it first turns green in the spring, but about the first time it has to be mowed it loses a bit of its pristine charm. The freshly turned earth looks fine behind the plow, but to keep it looking nice requires constant work. Yes, chickens are a fine thing to have when they are little, and when they are big enough to put in the pot, but the less said about the time in between, the better.

In conclusion, I am reminded of the fact that even the experts are stumped when it comes to telling the sex of a baby chick. The hatcheries have a method of telling, and they will sell you which ever kind you want. Here males are the victims of gross discrimination, as they can be bought for about half the price of females. Here is a case where the Fair Practices Act might be used to good advantage. There is no justice in cutting down the market value of a chick just because he will some day grow into a rooster. When it comes to egg building the rooster is the superintendent, and he is the most important person in the henyard. Congress might well do something in regard to this discrimination against incipient roosters.

This tell of the sex of young chicks is not a new idea. Back in the days when we were all younger and the world and the future was viewed through rose tinted glasses, we had a young man for a neighbor who had a keen sense of humor. It occurred to him that it would be important to be able to predetermine the sex of chicks, and he worked out a formula of his own which he declared was infallible. W. J. Armstrong now lives at Kimball, on a farm, and doubtless still uses the formula, which goes as follows:

"First you put the chick down on the ground. Then you put some feed in front of it. Watch carefully. If he picks the feed up, he is a rooster. If she picks it up, she is a hen."

Allie Pierce, better known, perhaps, as A. W. Pierce, recently paid a visit to the home town after an absence of a year or two. He is now nicely located in Oregon, and has a most wonderful home. He admits it, and the Knezeceks corroborate it. But Allie seemed very happy to be back among the people he lived with for well over sixty years. I first knew him when we were both students in Ord high school. He was a quiet sort of a fellow, who never had much trouble with anybody, and would doubtless have graduated in due time if it had not been for the incident of the "Basket Ball Juniors."

Basketball came into being in Ord high in the fall of 1901 and the boys went into it with great elan and gusto. They went into it with so much enthusiasm that some other duties were neglected. Details are lacking as to what some of the boys did that aroused the ire of the superintendent, one Paul Goss. Be it as it may, the professor issued an edict that certain boys would not be permitted to play basket ball (it was written in two words in those days). The boys so exorcised included Allie, Ray St. Clair, and several others.

In order to play basketball these boys formed an organization outside the school known as the Basketball Juniors. The superintendent was bitter over the affair, and gave them the choice, as I recall, of either quitting the outside organization or quitting school. Be that as it may, Allie and Ray terminated their schooling before graduation. That was quite a common occurrence in those days, when it was not considered especially important to have a high school education. In fact, a youngster who had gone through the eighth grade was well enough educated to handle whatever might come up in after life, and Allie got along better than the most of the graduates of those days.

Incidentally, Basketball Juniors developed into a group of young fellows who later carried on the tradition of the game and kept the interest in it alive when it was not doing too well in high school, largely due to a paucity of players in high school. Who knows? Perhaps those early day players are still an inspiration to the boys who make basketball history in Ord high school today.

One of the mysteries of life today is what happened to the former pest of the farms, the Leptinotarsa decemlineata, more commonly known as the potato bug, or beetle. I do not know about the rural areas, but I haven't seen one of the yellow fellows with the black stripes for several years. One of the jobs on the farm I never did like was going over the potato patch two or three times a week and picking the beetles, or going over the vines once or twice with poison, which was almost as big a job, cost more and was not always effective. They seem to have had their day, and I can get along without seeing any from here on.

Time to Spray for Weeds, Says Co. Agent

The time to spray weedy small grain is here the County Agent's office announced this week. There are many fields of oats and barley which are very weedy, and because of the unfavorable crop growing weather earlier in the spring, the weeds are almost as tall as the grain in some fields.

The weeds are easily killed with 2-4-D at the present stage of development, and getting rid of them now will also conserve moisture for the use of the crop. Since practically all harvesting of small grain is now done with combine and it is impossible to do a satisfactory job of combining a weedy field it is especially necessary to control weeds. Weed growth in the grain not only interferes with the mechanical operation of the combine, but also may cause heating and loss of the harvested grain, due to the high moisture content of the weed fragments, which cannot be separated from the grain where weed growth is heavy.

120 Years Old !!!

If the average life expectancy of us humans is near 60 years, and you live to be 120, you will about do as well as the old Marshalltown steel furnace that we took out of the Ord Bakery basement a few weeks ago. The old timer was between thirty-five and forty years old and was made by the Marshalltown Heater Company that sometime between 1901 and 1910 became the Lennox Furnace Company. It was made by David Lennox who developed the Lennox steel furnace about the time of the Spanish-American war.

Of course the old furnace was in bad shape and should have probably been retired before, but so will be we at 120. And it was in far better shape than many furnaces with twenty years or less of use. The steel body was not burned out any place but the asphalt had set on dirt for forty years and rusted through. The heat exchanger was intact but much smaller than those made by Lennox today. But it was a similar type and made of steel. The furnace used a firebrick lining and locomotive bar type grates almost exactly like the best coal furnace (Lennox) made today. The doors still fit their frames perfectly, the seal between the body and heat exchanger was still so good that we had trouble getting them apart.

This furnace was probably the oldest that we have removed, but is typical of Lennox quality and endurance. There are many Lennox furnaces in service around Ord that are twenty-six and twenty-seven years old and older, that have had very few or no repairs and are not even headed for the scrap yet. At a time when most furnaces were made of cast iron, Lennox was making them of long lasting, efficient steel with large heat exchangers, firebrick refractory lining and locomotive bar grates. Today Lennox is still making furnaces of riveted and welded gas tight steel, and most other furnaces have followed until today there are very few cast iron furnaces made. And Lennox is still pioneering and perfecting methods, ideas and details that keep Lennox out in front in quality, efficiency, comfort, durability, cleanliness and value.

Remember this when you are told about other furnaces that are "made in some factory," "made by Lennox," or "as good as Lennox," or "same thing exactly." They very probably are made in a Lennox factory or by a Lennox associated firm, but they are not the same, are years behind in perfection, are of different quality in material and features, and are making such claims only to ride on Lennox advertising and reputation.

A heating man knows these things and these features, but for the most of you, the best bet is to depend on the integrity of your Lennox dealer and the Lennox product that he is proud to sell.

Tells of Volcano Eruption in Hawaii

The following is taken from a letter written by Dale Krebs, former Scotia, to his mother Mrs. Anna Krebs. It should prove very interesting to the Quiz readers, as it is first hand and eye witness to the volcanic eruption in Hawaii. The letter was written June 6 and received here on the morning of the 11th.

Here is the letter: The eruption occurred on the opposite of the mountain from where the Krebs reside, in fact about 60 miles as the crow would fly. It first started about 9:30 p. m. Upon driving out about 20 miles, we could see the red glow in the heavens over the mountain, that was a sight, but the following night, Betty (Mrs. Krebs) and Susan, (daughter) and I boarded a D. C. 3 Hawaiian Airlines Volcano Special plane for a two hour flight over the eruption area.

There were 24 passengers on the plane. We circled Hilo 3 times to gain altitude, and then headed toward the southern slope of Mauna Loa. To our left was a full moon level with the plane windows and shining on a sea of clouds. And to the right we saw the terrific glow from the Mauna Loa itself. The door of the pilot's cabin was open for a while and it looked for a time as if we were heading into a blast furnace or some gigantic inferno. Soon we were at the scene. A huge rift along the south side of the mountain was ablaze, a pencil of fire extending for some six miles. Huge fountains of lava boiled into the air 400 to 500 feet. You could see these cascades of fire with boulders (some of them the size of refrigerators) hurtling up and falling back into the rift. From this fire works display rivers of lava were flowing down the mountain in four main streams. The rivers would separate into fingers, long and slender. Beautiful leaf patterns, leopard skin and other designs were etched in flame against the ebony mountain-side. From the plane we could see the lava running like water or heavy syrup, livid red, orange and yellow.

On the already crusted flows we could see glittering segments of color, the still molten lava underneath, sparkling through the dark covering like tiny lights. The whole sky was aglow, the clouds of steam and smoke reflecting the brilliant panorama. Sometimes we were low enough to feel the heat through the windows. We could actually see the ripples in the fast moving lava. We must have circled at least eight times and each time the plane turned it would buck and bounce, but otherwise the flight was smooth. Steam clouds obscured the actual spots where the lava was cascading into the sea. Geologists believe the water must be boiling as far out as a mile from shore at the spots where lava was entering. On Saturday, we were able to drive our car within a mile of the original lava flow to the sea. From there we walked down the road to the actual flow. This one had stopped by the time we had got there, but the tremendous river of rock was still hot and smoldering. It had crossed the highway and had left lava 10 to 15 feet deep for a distance of a couple of hundred yards. We picked up some samples to bring home, and Susan has a label on one of the rocks, "picked up while hot."

"Quite a few homes and a resort lodge were lost but so far no lives were lost.

"All in all it was an eventful week and makes our trip here quite worth while."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zulkoski attended the wedding dance of his cousin, Ralph Zulkoski at Elyria, Saturday night. Johnnie Fill came home with them to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reck and Bernice Bussell took Harold and Gerald Reck and Toby Johnson to Hastings Friday night to contact the chartered bus that took a group to the Yellowstone Park for a week.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Is Held

One hundred and forty mothers and daughters attended the annual banquet sponsored by the Methodist W.S.C.S. last Thursday night in the basement of the Methodist church.

Twelve tables were prettily decorated with garden flowers. Nut cups that graced the tables were in pastel shades and the menus were in orchid.

Mrs. Maud Bundy, in her graceful manner, acted as toastmistress. The program was not long. Mrs. Barbara Ashley gave the welcome to the mothers, and Mrs. Karl Ashley responded. Bernice Bussell led the community singing with Mrs. Clyde Keown at the piano. Jackie Anderson played a saxophone solo, accompanied by Mrs. M. G. Williams. Mrs. Bundy then introduced Wm. Clayton Jr., in her witty manner. This was the moment expected, and which everyone enjoyed.

The Clayton's showed a non-stop film on their trip by freighter, from the time they left the United States through Kingston Jamaica, Port Au Prince Haiti, Puerto Plata Dominican Republic, St. Thomas, St. Croix, Surinam in South America, Trinidad and back to Mobile, Ala. There were only six passengers on the non-scheduled freighter, Norwegian owned and named Liberty ship. The film lasted 70 minutes.

There were two, 4-generation groups that attended the banquet, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, Mrs. Dean Breadthauer and daughters, Patricia and Mary.

Mrs. Christine Wegner, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Dale Pederson and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Krebs, the oldest mother and Mrs. J. S. Everett of Central City was the first president of the society that was formerly called the Ladies Aid and has never missed a banquet in all the past years.

She with her brothers and sisters attended the rural school in the early 1900's. She planned to briefly visit her old time friends. She with her husband are touring the middle west.

In the afternoon the party drove to Ericson where they attended the Baker-Howe wedding that was held at the Methodist church. A reception was held in the church parlors following the wedding for friends and relatives.

What was the RIGHT thing for this Driver to do?

Suppose you were driving the car in front. The driver behind wants to pass, and you see that he may run into a car coming from the opposite direction. If you are wise you will put out your hand and signal him not to pass. But, if he comes abreast of you too fast, keep to the right to provide clearance.

THROUGH A GLASS... DARKLY

She's frightened. She's seeing the world for the first time through dark glasses. It's no wonder you and I are frightened. Ever since we were old enough to reason, we have been seeing the world through dark glasses. It's just as Paul said:

"Now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face."

We spend our years wondering why things happen as they do... why hatred flourishes and love withers... why sorrow seems inevitable and joy so rare. Apparently, we were not meant to understand... not here!

Some truths God has revealed to us; these our Churches teach. Other truths God will not reveal until another day; to prepare us for that day our Churches strive.

Until at length we gain that complete vision, we are happiest and strongest when we live faithfully in the truth already revealed. Even with dark glasses a man can see as long as he walks toward the Light.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) Which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Entrance to chalk mine east of Scotia on Highway 11. The mine has an interesting history as told in the following story by the Quiz Scotia correspondent, Mrs. Neva Gebhardt.

Chalk Mine Near Scotia Is Relic of Early Nebraska Mineral Quest

Outside of an occasional flurry of "oil fever," Nebraska's mineral wealth never produces much excitement. But, years ago, there were dreams of a great mining industry. The chalk mine, a mile east of Scotia on Highway 11, caused more than a ripple of interest when it was opened in the 1890's.

From that mine, beneath Happy Jack's peak, many tons of calcium were taken.

When the mine first opened, dynamite was used to blast the rock, which was then hauled away by teams of horses.

The blasting was a dangerous operation, and in 1907 Edmund B.

ing down the steep hill on a sled. An accident which injured a young lady from North Loup—now Mrs. Cliff Hawkes—put an end to tobogganing.

The hill was idle then until the early 1930's. Cattle grazed on the side of the peak and old-timers recalled that once there was much more excitement around Happy Jack's peak. It had been used for a look-out station when protection from marauding Indians was important to the settlers. The peak was named for a tall, blond white man, called "Happy Jack," who lived by himself in the bluffs overlooking the North Loup river.

In the early '30's, the Nelson Paint Co. of Omaha (United Mineral Products Co.) re-opened the mine.

Three employees blasted the rock with black powder, loaded it on a truck, and hauled it to a waiting car on the railroad spur a mile away. At first wheelbarrows were used to bring the rock from the mine, but later it became enlarged enough so that a truck could drive into the shaft.

The three men would work for three days to load 50 tons of rock onto the railroad car. It cost the company about $1.75 a ton to mine the calcium. The workers earned about $6 a day.

Nearly 80 uses for the rock were found. It was used in paint, cement and whitewash, for instance. Efforts to use it directly in building were only moderately successful. Several buildings around Scotia were made either entirely or partially of the rock and at the turn of the century two buildings in Scotia were built, using the chalk rock in the same way that cement block is used now.

A circular saw was used to cut the material to size. Both buildings are still standing and are in use.

Farmers in the vicinity used the rock as foundation stone for barns and hog houses. However, hogs like to eat the rock and more than one building has suffered when the porkers got hungry.

The vein of chalk is about seven feet thick and runs almost straight through the hill. Although not exhausted, the mine has been closed for several years because chalk can be imported cheaper from England than it can be mined in Nebraska.

Ord - Valley Co. Picnic Held in California

The big annual Ord-picnic was held a week ago Sunday at Bixby Park, Long Beach, Calif. The Quiz received the following account of it from Mrs. Perry Bell:

Long Beach 13, Calif. June 14, 1950

The Ord Quiz Dear Friends:

Our annual Ord picnic was held Sunday, June 11, 1950, Bixby Park, Long Beach, Calif. Attendance was excellent, day perfect and we all had a good time eating dinner, drinking coffee and renewing old acquaintance and making new friends. I note on my register we add new names each year and the Ord Quiz is really our true friend, we gave you a vote of thanks for publishing the names of those attending; many requests for this publication came to me at our picnic.

Incidentally, there were many picnic assignments in Bixby Park last Sunday. An Oklahoma State picnic and a Sargent, Nebr., picnic, so trying to be a good hostess I invited Sargent to join us but we were continually interrupted by ladies from Oklahoma trying to sell Ord people their state badges. I finally told them we were all extremely loyal to our dear Nebraska and they replied "You might be surprised how many of your people might buy our badges, but I noticed none bought Oklahoma badges."

Again my grateful thanks and sincere appreciation to the Ord Quiz for publishing our name list. Sincerely, Mrs. Perry Bell, Pres. 522 E. 17th St. Long Beach 13, Calif. P. S. My regards to all friends.

Ord, Nebraska

Mr. NEW Homeowner:
Ord and Valley County
Nebraska

Dear Mr. Homeowner:

Your friends and neighbors tell us that you are about to build or buy a newly built home, or remodel your home this year.

We are concerned as to whether you are going to have a good, built-in warm air heating system in it, and whether or not it will be a Lennox.

You know it's important to you — much more important than it is to us. A central heating system will be more dependable, economical, efficient and ever so much more convenient than a space heater or some cheap equivalent system. That has been demonstrated so long and so many times that of course you want it.

Now, whether or not it is a Lennox system is equally important. For your heating represents roughly ten per cent of the price of your house, and if you are told that it is much less it is because you must be getting less than a good Lennox system. It will be there keeping you comfortable (and burning your fuel) for fifteen to twenty years, twenty-five to thirty years if made by Lennox. And if made by Lennox, it will give you greater comfort with less fuel, repairs, and replacement cost than other furnaces.

Just think!!! If you can save only ten dollars a year in maintenance and cleaning cost, twenty dollars a year in fuel costs — Thirty times, twenty is six hundred dollars, and if you get one-third more longevity that's another $150 to $200. So by conservative figures, you will save by the time the Lennox is ready for replacement, or by the time the house is paid for under F.H.A., $750 to $800. And that, folks, is about equal to that original investment of 10% of the cost of your house. Can you afford to overlook the Lennox Way? Can you afford another make at any price other than a gift?

Add to this the quietness, cleanliness, appearance and all around peak in quality and you see why 60% of all the new homes in Grand Island this year had Lennox furnaces installed in them. That only leaves 40% for the multitude of other makes and the space heater business to share.

And the way to get Lennox is to ask your contractor for one or let us contract the heating.

We invite you to come in and let us show you the Lennox line, our methods of installation, and how we can save you money and give you greater comfort and convenience for those many years that we hope you will enjoy your new home.

Yours,
JAY NELSON

THE BREWING INDUSTRY HAS SHOULDERS A RESPONSIBILITY

Beer is sold in Nebraska by dealers who have been licensed by the public through duly elected public officials.

The brewing industry has nothing to say about their selection but a great deal to say about how they shall operate in the public interest.

A continuous educational program informs every retail beer licensee of the requirements for clean, decent and lawful operation.

Retailers appreciate this help and, in turn, are shouldering their responsibility for proper operation. They are striving to adopt the proven practices and newer methods as suggested by the industry. They are anxious to become known as examples of real community helpfulness.

Mustangs Tripped by Shelton, 6-4

Hits All Even, But 2 Gift Runs Cost Ord Game They Needed.

Two gift runs, along with their own failures to hit when hits were needed, cost the Ord Mustangs a baseball game at Shelton Wednesday night, the score being 6 to 4. It was a ding-dong battle with hits evenly divided and was a contest up to the very last but Ord needed this game to stay on top of the league and its loss was not relished by the home team and fans.

Shelton scored first in the second inning when, after Bingen struck out, both Webben and Blue drew free passes. With Hadenfelt at bat, Blue went down to second and Catcher Novosad fired the ball to Vail. Blue cleverly reversed his direction and raced back toward first and Webben, who had gone to third on the throw, raced home to score unopposed while Dugan, who had joined Vail in the rundown of Blue, was tagging Blue out. Had Vail, when he received Novosad's throw, fired it back to him, Webben would have been caught at the plate. There was no error on the play but it was surely sloppy baseball. Hadenfelt struck out to end the inning.

The Mustangs scored twice in the 4th frame when Ellis lost control momentarily and sent both Dugan and R. Johnson to first by hitting them. Dilla advanced the runners with a long sacrifice fly and Hadenfelt scored them with a sizzling single. Vail was safe on a fielder's choice, which nipped Hadenfelt at third, during which time he reached second, and scored on Hadenfelt's error. Bill Novosad struck out to end the inning but Ord led, 3 to 1.

Shelton got another gift run in the last of the same inning. Webben singled, advanced when Blue drew a walk and went to third when Hadenfelt grounded out to Finley. Hadenfelt moved in close to cut off the run and when Scoville bunted down the third base line he made a perfect pick-up and threw to Bud Novosad, who let the ball go through his legs. Bartell and Bogue flew out to end the inning, the score becoming 3 to 2 with Ord still leading.

There the count stayed until the seventh when the Mustangs tallied again after two boys were out when Bill Novosad singled and scored all the way from first on Finley's double. The score became 4 to 2 which looked like a safe lead for Ord, the way Novosad was pitching, but in the next frame he weakened.

Blue led off for Shelton in the 8th and slammed the first pitch for a clean single. The next two batters struck out but Bartell singled and Bogue doubled to score two runs, which tied the score 4 to 4.

Ray Johnson singled for Ord in the 8th but Dilla dribbled out to the pitcher and Vail whiffed. In the last of the 8th Shelton came back strong again, Ellis leading off with a double and Bingen singling to score him. Webben struck out but Blue was safe on the only error made by Dugan during the game, Bingen scoring on the play. Hadenfelt grounded out, Dugan to Finley, and Hadenfelt grabbed Scoville's grounder and tagged Blue hard for the third out but the damage was done and the score became 6 to 4, Shelton leading.

Ord threatened to tie it up in the ninth when Hadenfelt, leading off, got his second single of the game, but Stan Johnson, put in as a pinch hitter for Philbrick, grounded into a double play, Bingen to Blue. W. Novosad, the last batter, hit a long fly to center-field and for moment Ord hopes rose but Webben caught it for the final out.

It was a good game to watch despite extremely poor umpiring by Tockey and Zebert which caused several controversies between the managers. Twice these umpires reversed decisions, when shown that they were wrong according to 1950 rules, and Tockey's work behind the bat was miserable. Not that the umpires showed favoritism, for they did not, but were simply incompetent.

Novosad struck out 9, allowed 6 hits and gave out 3 bases on balls. Ellis struck out 6, allowed 6 hits and hit 2 batters. Ord made 3 errors, Shelton 1.

Ray Clark with Catfish

Fishing Improves, Quiz Contest Entries Show

John Ward Lands Big One—Wife Gets Bigger One.

A 4 lb. 2 oz. catfish, caught by Ray Clark last Wednesday tops that division to date in the annual Quiz fishing contest. Ray was using chubs for bait when the big fellow struck.

Fourteen-year-old Ray was looking forward to some mighty pleasant eating—and from the looks of the fish, that's exactly what was in store for him. Can anyone top Ray's effort?

We also have other fishermen with us this week. For full particulars, see John Ward's column. It seems that John and his wife were fishing at Hardenbrook dam Tuesday afternoon, when John pulled in a bass that weighed 2 lbs. 4 oz.

John Ward and Big Fish

John also reeled in a northern pike—3 lbs. 6 1/2 oz. of fighting fury. While not eligible for the Quiz contest, this was a fish to gladden any man's heart.

John was just leaning back to rest on his laurels when Mrs. Ward shows him up by landing a bass that topped John's effort by one ounce—it weighed 2 lbs. 5 oz. She also got a fine 12 oz. crappie for her efforts.

Mrs. Ward and Big Fish

And so things begin to get a little livelier in the competition for the cash prizes offered by the Quiz. Why not enter your prize catch in the contest? It doesn't cost anything, you know. Just have the weight of the fish certified by a witness (the North Side Market is the official weighing station), let the Quiz get a picture of your catch, and then see if anybody can land a bigger one!

Krolikowski Hits 4 Run Homer in 9th, Beats Mustangs

Beran Pitches Well After Novosad Pulls Muscle; No Ord Errors.

The Ord Mustangs played errorless baseball, got nine safeties off Dale Krueger and in general comported themselves like a winning team Tuesday night against Loup City—until the fatal bottom of the ninth.

Then two Red Wing pinch hitters came through with singles, Bray laid down a bunt and I was safe, which filled the bases, and Carl Krolikowski, who had hit a homer in the third inning came to bat with the bases loaded. Odds were against another home run but Kroly doesn't go by the odds and after swinging at two fast balls hit the third one over the left field fence, scoring three runs ahead of him and winning the game for the Loup City Red Wings by a score of 6 to 4.

The game, postponed from Sunday night, was witnessed by a crowd of over 2,000, largest ever congregated in (the Mid-Nebr. league.

The loss was a heartbreaker in more ways than one for Manager Walter Douthit's Mustangs. In the first inning they saw their star hurler, Bill Novosad, pull a muscle in his hurling arm in fielding a bunt and leave the field after pitching to only one batter. He was injured so badly that he may not be able to chuck again this season. Loss of Novosad put the proposition squarely up to Dick Beran, who was called in from the left garden and entered the box cold. How well he worked for eight innings can be seen by the line score, which shows that he allowed only six hits and 2 runs until the fateful ninth.

The Mustangs played errorless ball behind him from Al Karle half pinch infelder from Grand Island who is filling in at third for Gene Hadenfelt who is out with a broken finger, down to center fielder Bob Philbrick who fielded 3 long smashes that might have cost runs had they not been caught.

The Mustangs were hitting well too, and making their hits count for runs. They tallied first in the second inning on successive hits by Dilla and Finley, got two more in the 4th on hits by Finley and S. Johnson, along with Loup City's sole error. And they added an insurance run in the 7th on a double by Dilla, a single by Beran and a long fly by Finley.

Loup City had scored twice in the meantime, once on Krolikowski's homer in the third and again on a hit and stolen base by Ron Clark and long flies by Hendrix and Wieserski in the 8th. But the Mustangs had a 4 to 2 lead going into the ninth and it looked like the ball game until Krolikowski's second 4-base blast.

Ord got 9 hits to 10 for Loup City. Beran struck out 5 as compared with 10 by Krueger. It was as good a game as any baseball fan would want to see and the Loup City players and crowd went wild when Kroly broke up the game with his dramatic home run.

This loss was the third straight for the Mustangs. One was lost on errors, but the last two on bad breaks. Loss of Novosad, possibly for the season, puts Ord into a terrific hole with the other teams playing faster ball every week. Efforts are being made to locate a competent hurler and the Ord management promises to do everything possible to field a team that will hold its own with the other clubs in the league.

Al Karle the G. I. boy who looked so good at Loup City, may be a permanent member of the Ord team. He weighs only about 120 pounds, stands about 5 feet 4, but every pound and inch is ball player. Ray Johnson, clean-up hitter for Kearney in the NIL and a Storz beer salesman who spends a couple of days weekly at work in Ord will patrol the center garden for the Mustangs in all future Wednesday games. And the Ord pitching staff will be strengthened immediately. Fans are giving the team good support and the Ord management will try to give them good baseball in return.

Boelus plays in Ord tonight (Wednesday) and St. Paul visits here Sunday, after which the Mustangs play road games at Ravenna and Broken Bow, followed by a visit to Ord by Anselby.

The box score of Tuesday's game:

Injury Jinx Dogs Mustangs; Two Games This Week

Dogged by injuries which have played a part in their last two losses, the Ord Mustangs still will field a good ball team for their two home stands this week, promises Manager Walter Douthit.

Tonight (Wednesday) the Boelus ball club led by Andy Jensen will play in Ord. Sunday night the St. Paul team, only club to beat Ord in the first round, will visit here.

Third Baseman Gene Hadenfelt, broke a finger in the Shelton game and has been out of the line-up since. His place has been ably filled by Al Karle, pint-size sparkplug of the Grand Island Jaycees.

In the first inning at Loup City, star hurler Bill Novosad pulled a muscle in his chucking arm in fielding a bunt and will be unable to pitch for anywhere from two weeks to the full season, according to Dr. F. A. Barla. Dick Beran finished the game.

Manager Douthit has two pitchers coming from Omaha today to try out with the Ord club.

The Mustangs played a beautiful game against Loup City and deserved to win. A crowd of nearly 2,000, largest in the league to date, saw the game and went wild when Krolikowski broke it up with an over-the-fence homer in the 9th inning. (See sports page for details.)

Mid-Nebr. League Has New Umpires

At a meeting of club managers and presidents of the Mid-Nebraska Night Baseball league held on Monday evening at Boelus, it was voted to release one team of umpires, Tockey and Zebert, of Boelus whose officiating has been unsatisfactory. They have been replaced with two Rockville men, Pete Moritz and Barney MacDonald, who have quite a reputation as competent umpires. They will work their first game at Ravenna on Wednesday night.

All games in this league except the Boelus-Broken Bow contest were rained out Sunday. Some were being played off Tuesday night, others Friday night.

Golf Tournament Slated Sunday

The annual open tournament sponsored by the Ord Golf club will get under way Sunday—if the weatherman doesn't force a change of plans.

Golfers from all over central Nebraska will be on hand to compete for the prizes. Prizes are being offered in every flight. There are no qualifying rounds. The golfer enters the flight of his choice by naming the score he thinks he can shoot.

There will be 27 holes of medal play in the championship flight, with nine holes of match play making up each of the other flights.

Tea off for the championship flight will be at 9:30 a. m.

Jr. Legion Team Goes to Anselby

The Leach Motors Jr. Legion team coached by Jim Gilbert heads for Anselby for a game under the lights tonight (Wednesday) with Marion Geneski slated to do the pitching and Witherwax the catching for the Ord crew. Leach Motors have won two in district Jr. Legion competition to date, beating Scotia and Taylor, and have lost an exhibition game to Broken Bow, which is not in this district.

Colts to Greeley Sunday, June 25

The Ord Colts will play at Greeley Sunday in an official Mid-State day league game. Manager V. J. Beran's team was rained out Sunday in its game against Belgrade scheduled for the local field. All other league games likewise had to be postponed because of wet grounds.

Crab-Not.

This is a new Crab Grass killer and it is highly recommended to do the job without injury to other grasses. We also have it in a combination with 2-4-D. We believe that this is a product that will really help you to control crab grass and broadleaf weeds. Use it with a spray gun that will help you to get the right amount of crab grass spray or weed spray that you need to do the job.

Lawn Fertilizer.

If you did not give your lawn a good feeding this spring, you should give it this feeding now. We have Vigoro and Ammonium Nitrate.

Ammonium Nitrate.

We have another car of Nitrate arriving this week. If you do not have all the Nitrate ordered that you need we can furnish you with a few tons. This should be applied to your corn the second or last cultivation. And it is well to apply it to your fall grain either this fall or early next spring. We are taking orders now for delivery next year. It is hard to realize it but in order to get the Nitrate that is needed it must be ordered several months in advance of the time that you want to use it.

Grain.

The last of the week grain markets strengthened some and we feel that this is a good time to move any grain that you want to send to market in the next few weeks. We have a very good market for white corn at present and would like a couple of carloads of No. 1 or No. 2 white corn. Whenever you get your combines going be sure to let us bid on your grain.

Insecticides.

Use Kubeicide for most insects on garden flowers and vegetables and Rose Dust on your Rose Bushes. Then we have Arsenate of Lead and Sun Valley Spray for Potato Beetles, and Chlordane for Grasshoppers. Fight insects before they get too bad.

Within Our Income.

Man learns, either early or late, that it is necessary to live within one's income in order to live at all. It is impossible to acquire a competence for old age unless the income equals and even exceeds expenditures. Some seem to have the knack of saving a little from day to day right from the time they have any income from which to save.

Others learn it the hard way, and only acquire the ability to save after they have spent everything they have and are even in debt all that their friends will let them borrow. The going is tough, but the lesson is thorough. The redeeming feature about it is that the opportunity is still there to work, to save, to acquire. The amount a person saves is not so important as the fact that a person learns the lesson of saving early in life. The man who saves much is no happier than the man who saves just enough to get him by in his old age. After all, it should not be the aim in life to acquire a large fortune for progeny to quarrel over. The object in life should be to put a lot of useful living into it, and at the same time acquire enough to furnish a bulwark for old age. That is the American way of life, the way that made this the greatest nation in the world. Changes in our personal or national way of living that do not take this into consideration should be viewed with skepticism, and perhaps with alarm.

In the first 156 years of its existence the Federal government spent a total of $179,620,113,645. This amount includes the expenditures of the Roosevelt administration up to July 1, 1945. But, from July 1, 1945 to Sept. 30, 1949, the government spent the enormous sum of $191,051,394,191. All this money comes from but one source, the taxpayers.

In the first 150 years of its existence the federal government followed the policy of thrift that made our nation great. It followed the policy it advocated for each of its citizens, the policy of being by a little for the future. It began with the first steps of nationalism and continued through the pioneering period and through the Golden Age of America. It was the greatest period ever recorded of any nation.

Today we find the federal government engaged in an orgy of spending, with no consideration whatever for the national income. Here and there we hear the voice of one legislator crying in the wilderness, but his voice is scarcely heard in the uproar about appropriations for this cause and that, for money for the exigencies of war and the needs of peace.

Because this is an election year, few senators or congressmen have the hardihood to stand out against spending money. The prime object of both democrats and republicans is to be elected or re-elected. With the nation owing more than $1,700 dollars for every person living in it, what difference does it make if we go in debt a few billions more every year? The worst feature of this governmental spending is the fact that we, as individuals, are learning the same philosophy of life. Even worse is the fact that the individual is given every possible opportunity to spend beyond his income, with the assurance that he will be taken care of with an old age plan, federal medical assistance, federal education for his children and other governmental ideas.

What he is not told is that every step in governmental supervision is a step toward communism. It is about time that somebody call our attention to avowed communists in high places. They are there for one purpose, and one purpose only, to make the individual dependent on the federal government.

In conclusion, it is time this trend toward statism be stopped. As Lincoln once said under very different circumstances, "No nation can exist half slave and half free." The statement is applicable to our nation today. We must choose either the harder but more independent way of standing on our own feet, or the easier way that will lead in the end to the complete loss of our rights as individuals.

Summer Solstice.

June 21 of each year, some times June 22, comes the longest day of the year, the time when the sun reaches its maximum distance north in the northern hemisphere bringing the height of summer, in the depth of winter. This longest day may not be noticeably different from any other day in June or July, but it has a special significance.

In six months the tide of life has changed from its lowest ebb to its highest flood. The long days mean life in abundance, both animal and vegetable. Crops either reach their period of greatest development or begin to put on their greatest growth at this time. The entire animal world lives more fully in June than at any other time of the year.

Hailed as the beginning of summer, that season is usually under way by the first of June. All crops make a more pronounced growth in June than any other month of the year. It is generally conceded that, if there be a good supply of rain during the month, there is almost a certainty of some corn crop that year.

The word, solstice, taken from the Latin, means "The Sun Stands." It is the time at which the sun reaches its greatest distance from the equator, either to the north or south. At those times the sun apparently stands still for a short time in its journey between the north and south extremes.

As a general rule no extremely hot weather comes before the summer solstice of June 21, and rarely really cold weather comes until after the winter solstice of Dec. 21. The exact time of a solstice varies and for this reason may come on the 22nd of the month.

The solstice of the sun is responsible for the most useful increase in the length of the days during the growing season. All growing things get several more times as much heat and light from the sun in summer than they do in winter, and man is given many more hours of daylight in which to take care of his crops. Conditions for growing crops are better in June than at any other time, and all nature, including weeds, is quick to take advantage of it.

Ward's hat's Cookin' Column

Now the Missus has attained the ambition of her life. She really showed me up in this here fishing game. I gets a brand new Gamble pole and equips it with Misko tackle (no advertising, please) and goes down to the big galeon down by the Hardenbrook dam and starts fishing. I don't more than get there than here comes the Missus and all the kids, who just can't let me have a minute to myself, they like me so well. There they are sitting all around me when all of a sudden—"wham!" A pike takes that new tackle on one end and there I am trying to keep from being pulled into the water, and afraid all the time that fish will get the better of the contest and walk off with the new tackle.

The rest of the gang cooperated with much advice and some assistance and after a while I coaxed him up to the bank and Jimmie threw him out on the bank just as the 30 pound test line broke. He managed to get a half-Nelson on said fish and held him down in the mud until he was willing to give up. So I got credit for one put out and Jimmie got an assist. Feeling pretty cocky, I put on another minnow and sat there like a king on a throne, only the throne was pretty wet, and after a while—"wham!" The line started going all over the pond, and I was having as much excitement, and trouble, as before.

This fish stayed down low, and must have been a traveling man, as he went to all the places within reach in less than ten seconds. Finally he got into the brush and might have got away, but he didn't have sense enough to take advantage of the opportunity, and came out again. By this time the Missus was down in the edge of the water with her rubber boots, and I maneuvered the fish where she could get hold of the line and she got him out on one fine bass, this time, which I think is enough to start in the Quiz contest, but not big enough to finish.

Fishing is pretty dull. There I spent three or four hours and got only two bites. But the worst was yet to come. Not to be outdone, the Missus gets busy, and pretty soon she has a strike. She don't want any cooperation, however. All she asks is for the rest of us to get out of the way, which we do with alacrity, for that minnow of hers is cutting side circles and making like a big fish. She scorns all advice from more experienced fishermen, and in due time she lands her bass without any help from anybody, thank you. What makes me so mad is that she gets her fish weighed and entered in the Quiz contest, and she beats my fish by one measly little ounce. Frankly, we have tried fishing this year, all the way from Ericson to the Calamus to Burton creek, and here we have the biggest fishing day of the year right at Ord. The fact that it happened just before the heavy wind and thunder storm had something to do with it, but, given half a chance and a little more cooperation from the state fish and game commission, the fishing at Ord will really develop into something worth while. As it is, there are far too many fishermen for the number of fish available. Fish are where you find them, but, unless they are put there in the first place, there are no fish. Just now it is doubtful if there are enough fish to make one apiece for the people who fish for them.

It is doubtful if there is any place in the world where crops are more appreciative of rain than they are in the North Loup Valley. Everything growing was looking tough the day before the rain of last week, and people were prophesying that there would be no crop unless rain arrived soon. Then came the fine rain, which was needed, and the high wind and electrical display, which was not, and the people looked out on a changed world. Those plants had taken on a new lease on life, and were again promising a bumper crop.

Monday was a rough day, what with high temperature and a sultry condition in the air, and Tuesday was nearly as bad, but Wednesday was a different story, what might be called a perfect day in June, with everybody and everything full of pep and energy. A lot of people, including Jess Kovanda, wondered why I didn't stay in Hawaii while I was there and had the chance. It is true that their days average better than ours do, but I never saw a day like last Wednesday all the time I was there. It is worth talking the rough weather in Nebraska just to enjoy one of its perfect summer days.

Everything is going fine last week, and I am feeling like I just couldn't make a mistake if I tried, when I make a really inexcusable one, the kind that nobody has a right to make. I fail to give my friend A. A. Wiegardt, credit for 12 years service in the clerk of district court office, to which he is entitled and state that he was defeated in 1930 by Miss Jackman. It all came from reading all the way across two pages in the written record in the clerk's office. I managed to get up one line, gave Miss Jackman credit for a large vote belonging to some other person, and Wiegardt credit for the vote Miss Jackman should have had. If it had happened in Europe, it might have had serious consequences, but in America everybody has a sense of humor, and so all is well.

Talking about mistakes, they are a good thing. If Hitler had not made his first mistake, he might have conquered the world. The Lord gives men ambition, but He fixed it so that, if any man got too ambitious, he would make mistakes which would nullify his efforts. Alexander the Great conquered the world, but he couldn't conquer the intrigues of the politicians of Rome. Napoleon conquered much of Europe, but he left most of his great army on the frozen steppes of Russia.

Incidentally, let us hope that the forces of democracy do not find it necessary to march across the plains of Russia. That, too, was one of Hitler's mistakes, although not the first. Perhaps his first mistake was not attempting the crossing of the Straights of Dover right after Dunkirk. There is no way of knowing. With England as a base from which to operate, the war was finally won by the allies. Every dictator on record has made one fatal mistake, and that was, leaving God out of the equation. A man who wants to be a god himself does not want any competition from God, so he makes the mistake of leaving Him out of it. Without doubt that is the greatest mistake of all. So, when you make a mistake, do not feel hurt about it. You are doing the same thing that the big shots do, and you are probably doing it for the same reason. Surveyors do not claim to be perfect, although they are dealing with a perfect thing that God made, the earth. That is why they put in correction lines. When they finally get the job done, it is still far from perfect. Perfection is found only in Heaven. Maybe that is why so many of us have a Hell of a time doing anything.

This road leads to a picnic. It extends through a beautiful countryside, where the trees, meadows, and streams all contribute to the contentment and pleasure of this happy family.

But it leads further than the picnic site. It is the first few miles of a road that winds through the years of family harmony, love, and understanding. And it is over this road that children must travel if they are to grow into successful, happy adults.

For this is a picture of American youth in its proper setting—with loving parents, who have found enough time to enjoy their children and to devote their moments of leisure and recreation to them.

We need never worry about children such as these. They are taken to Church on Sundays, and are taught the principles of Christian living. They are cared for, loved, and respected.

Give your children the same opportunities to make the most of their lives. Start them on their way down the road to the fulfillment of a Christian life of service and security.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Gothenburg Builds 32 Houses in Past Year

Thirty-two new homes, with a value of $193,000, have been built new or moved in and remodeled in Gothenburg during the year which ended on June 1. In addition, business and institutional construction reached a total of $56,000, for a grand total for the year of $249,000.

The above figures from the office of City Clerk C. F. Williams do not include many of the new homes now under construction in all parts of the city. Since they do indicate the amount of construction which has been done in Gothenburg during the past few years, the figures plainly show why Gothenburg was able to list the nice increase in the 1950 census.—Times.

Local Irrigation District Answers RFC Court Suit

RFC's Own Contract Reason for Deficit, Ord Attorneys Say.

An answer to a suit for judgment, filed in federal court in April by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation against the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district was filed June 23 by George A. Munn, attorney for the irrigation district.

The judgment asked by RFC would require the district to charge sufficient water rates to insure over a period of years the final liquidation of the indebtedness amounting to $1,228,000 in principal and delinquent interest.

Bounded by PWA Contract. In the answer, the district states that it is bound by the terms of a contract both with PWA (whose bonds RFC purchased in 1947) and with water users, and that it cannot legally raise water rates above the amount of the contract.

The district goes on to say that by further terms of its debentures to PWA that payments on the interest and principal cannot be made until operation and maintenance costs have been paid, and that revenues have not been sufficient to do more than maintain the system.

"Poorly Constructed..." Other argument made in the answer is that the district when originally built was inadequately engineered and poorly constructed, contributing to high maintenance costs. The defendants also state that since 1947, RFC has approved every financial transaction of the irrigation district and has had the virtual running of the district as far as fiscal management was concerned.

The answer also charges that RFC bought the bonds of the district at a considerable discount from face value, and states that financial condition of the district was further impaired by large expenditures for comprehensive engineering and survey and legal actions which the RFC required the district to do.

No date has been set for the federal court trial.

Doug Dale, Tourney Champ

Dale Takes Ord Golf Tournament With Sub-Par 98

Goes Three Extra Holes With Don Hill for Victory.

Topping a field of 42 golfers, Doug Dale of Ord eked out a play-off victory over Don Hill at the Ord annual open tournament Sunday.

Hill and Dale were tied at 98 at the end of regular play. The two duelled for two holes without breaking the deadlock before Dale birdied the 30th for a win.

The 98 score was one under par - an excellent score made in a stiff breeze which spoiled drives and wrecked approaches. Three strokes back was Mortensen of Albion.

Chuck Davis, former Ordite who now lives in Central City, posted a 103 for fourth spot, with Lorenzen of Grand Island and Mongerson of Albion chalking up 104's.

At the end of the first round, played Sunday morning, Hill, Dale, and Blessing were on the top rung with par 33's. Blessing faded badly in the second and third rounds, taking a 37 on his second tour of the links and a 36 the last time around. Meanwhile, Dale rang up a sizzling 31-two under par-and a 34. Hill played the same kind of golf. His scores were identical with Dale's.

Dr. Walker of Grand Island was winner of the first flight; Dick Malolepsy took the second flight; Mark Tolen was winner of the 3rd; Mauch, of Bassett topped the 4th; Jay Auble was victor in the 5th; Lowy, of Albion, topped the 6th, and Rettemeyer of Arcadia was winner of the 7th flight.

For his efforts, Dale received a trophy. Other winners received prizes of golf balls.

The tournament was under the sponsorship of the Ord Golf club.

Valley County Asks to File Claim Against Satterfield

No Inventory in Estate, But Bond Set at $25,000.

A petition for an extension of time for the filing of claims against the estate of George Satterfield was filed in Custer county court Tuesday by Valley County Attorney, Ralph Norman.

Satterfield, who died this spring from burns, had been treasurer of Valley county last year, and found short in his accounts by a state audit. At the time of his death he was cashier of the Sargent State Bank.

Norman stated that Valley county would file a claim against the estate of $11,000, alleging that Satterfield had embezzled that amount during his term as county treasurer.

"The bonding company should have filed this claim," Norman told the court, "but since they didn't, we are."

Custer county judge Morris V. Hoobler has not as yet set the date of hearing on the petition to reopen claims.

An order was entered June 1 in the estate barring all claims against the estate which had not been previously filed. The Valley county claim had not been filed previous to the closing date.

No inventory has been filed in the estate, although bond of Rich and W. Satterfield, son of the late treasurer, and administrator of the estate, was set at $25,000.

Equalization Board Holds Final Session

Valuations Generally Unchanged; Complete List Next Week.

The Valley county board of supervisors, acting as a board of equalization, is holding its final session today, as the Quiz goes to press.

Aside from reviewing the few score remaining complaints of error in tax appraisals, the board will have the big job of closing the county's tax books for the year, and determining the total real property valuation of the county.

Around 200 complaints have been considered by the board in sessions the past month, and adjustments will be made in about a third of these. Many of the adjustments are minor, resulting from clerical error in transcribing figures.

Total valuation figures listed in the Quiz two weeks ago will be generally unchanged, according to county assessor W. C. H. Noll. "Changes made by the board of equalization will amount to several thousands of dollars," Noll said, "but when spread over the county as a whole, the difference is very slight."

County clerk Leonard Woods said that he will have a complete list of all changes made by the board of equalization ready to publish in next week's Quiz.

The equalization board began its final session at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and expected to stay in session most of the day.

Motion Filed in Taxpayer's Suit on Re-Appraisal

Co. Attorney Wants Petition Shortened; May Be Heard Soon.

A routine motion to eliminate about half the allegations of a petition filed in district court a month ago by attorneys for Joseph M. and Rose Schuele, was made this week by county attorney Ralph Norman.

The Schuele petition, drawn by Davis & Vogelanz, would enjoin the county board from enforcing the new tax appraisal system in Valley county which was recently completed by E. T. Wilkins & Associates, professional appraisers.

The new motion states that certain paragraphs of the injunction petition are redundant and irrelevant, and asks that the plaintiffs make their petition more definite by setting forth in detail any other unreasonable raises in assessments besides that which the Schuele's allege.

The case will probably come to trial in July, although no date as yet has been fixed for hearing.

Ministerial Union Chooses Officers

The Ord Ministerial Union met at the Presbyterian church basement Monday evening. The following officers were chosen after an informal discussion: Eugene Olson, chairman; Allen Strong, vice chairman; and G. E. Fogelman, secretary-treasurer.

Four pastors responded to an invitation for a meeting of Ord ministers and their families. They were pastors Daughtide (Methodist), Strong (Presbyterian), Fogelman (Assembly of God), and Olsen (Baptist).

A unanimous resolution was passed at this meeting requesting the public schools and all civic organizations to consider Wednesday nights of each week as church night and Sunday as the Lord's day.

Two More in County Race for Supervisor

Thursday Final Day for Filings; Slate Seems to Be Complete.

Two more candidates entered the county political race for supervisor this week when Edward Sevenker filed on the republican ticket from the First district and Ernest J. Large on the democratic ticket from the Sixth district.

Emmanuel Pelska, incumbent, also filed on the democratic slate for county surveyor.

Sevenker has no opposition in the primary election, but in the general election will face Joe J. Jablonski, democratic incumbent. Large is the only candidate from the sixth district.

With the closing date for filings only a day away—June 29—the county political slate seemed about complete as the Quiz went to press. No other candidates are expected to appear, although several have shown interest in one office or another.

The ballot—to date—shapes up as follows: For county attorney, Ralph Norman and John R. Sullivan, both democrats.

For county attorney, Leonard B. Woods, unopposed. For county assessor, W. C. H. Noll and Henry Stara, both republicans.

For county treasurer, Lloyd Wilson, unopposed. For county surveyor, Emmanuel Pelska, unopposed.

For county sheriff, Bob Hall and George Kruml, both democrats.

For county judge, Charles Clochon, John Anderson and Ellsworth Ball, all on the non-political ballot.

For county superintendent, no candidates. For first district supervisor, Joe Jablonski, democrat and Edward Sevenker, republican.

Supervisor, second district, Ed Hruba, democrat. Supervisor, third district, Jack Romans and Evet Smith, republicans.

Supervisor, fourth district, M. B. Cummins and E. B. Weekes, republicans.

Supervisor, fifth district, R. H. Knapp and C. W. McClellan, republicans.

Supervisor, seventh district, S. V. Hansen and Wm. J. Ramsey, republicans.

Caudill Drowns in Gravel Pit

A St. Paul gravel pit operator lost his life Friday when he fell into a North Loup river sand pit while at work.

Max Leverett Caudill, 38, was drowned when he lost his balance while trying to clear a gravel pumper and plunged into the stream.

Ivan Glines, who was working with Caudill, went for help. The St. Paul fire department answered the call and found the body some distance down stream from the pumper. Firemen tried for an hour to revive Caudill but were unsuccessful.

Caudill's widow and four children survive.

European Corn Borers Strike

Egg Masses Now Average One Per Stalk, Says Dale.

Since the middle of last week the European corn borer moths have been laying eggs in the corn fields in Valley county, according to C. C. Dale, county agent. In some of the earlier fields the egg count has now reached an average of about one egg mass per stalk.

Heaviest infestations are being found in the irrigated sections and on the largest corn. In order to keep an accurate check over the entire county, one or more men who will act as corn borer spotter have been secured in each township. Most of the men who are cooperating in the survey are from the Veterans Training classes at Ord and Arcadia.

The list of spotters include: Wm. Janda, Noble; Floyd Kusel and Roland Zulkoski, Elyria; Edw. Bruha, Eureka; Frank Zalina, Germanium; Clarence Hansen, Michigan; Robert Benson and W. A. Rogers, Ord; Ed Knapp, Springfield; Dell Barber, North Loup; Don Marks, Enterprise; Elton Walker, Vinton; Myron H. Williams, Liberty; Elwood Evans and Dale Cooksley, Arcadia; Delwin Kingston, Yale; Herbert Linke, Davis Creek, and Maynard Schulz, Independent.

These men will each select a field and make and record observations twice weekly for the rest of the season. Once each week they will report by postal card to the County Agent's office and the Entomology Department at the Agricultural college on the number of egg masses found, or the number of borer infested stalks. Their work will enable both the county and state offices to keep in close touch with the situation during the season.

The general recommendations for corn borer control are: when corn has reached a height of about 1 foot with the longest leaves stretched upward, and the egg count averages 50 or more egg masses per hundred stalks, control measures will need to be taken. The recommended time is about five days after the first egg hatch. Some of the earliest fields, showing a heavy egg count will be ready for spraying by the last of this week.

Ord Lad Gets Big Carp for Quiz Fishing Contest

Howard DeVore Lands Fish at Hardenbrook Dam.

Howard DeVore, nine-year-old Ord lad, starts things off in the carp division of the Quiz fishing contest with this 2-lb., 12-oz. whopper.

Denice Finley of North Loup, is a young lady who catches big fish. She landed a 6-lb., 7-oz. catfish last week that was a real beauty.

These two kids, Howard DeVore and Denice Finley, have entries that will give some of the more experienced anglers a run for their money.

"ROCKET 88" OLDSMOBILE WINS

2178-MILE DURABILITY RUN!

Outperforms 131 other cars in grueling Texas-to-Guatemala run!

Below, the map of the course—the new Pan-American Highway. At right, Harold McGuff and his "Rocket 88" Oldsmobile.

Here's proof of the brilliant performance and rugged dependability of the "Rocket 88" Oldsmobile. In a 2178-mile endurance run, down the full length of Mexico on the newly opened Pan-American Highway, a 1950 Oldsmobile "88" topped a field of 131 other cars! So long and hazardous was the route that only 53 of the 132 entrants finished the race. Twelve popular makes of American cars—and many foreign makes—entered the grueling contest. The course included all types of terrain—over towering mountains—through jungles—across desert flatlands. The Olds "88" took top honors—in fact, three of the first ten and six of the first twenty were Oldsmobiles! This is clear evidence of the outstanding performance and endurance built into every "Rocket" Engine and every Oldsmobile! Drive this truly remarkable car! Make your date with a "Rocket 88" at your nearest Oldsmobile dealer!

Mrs. Kokes Goes to Lincoln for Conference

Mrs. Ed Kokes spent last week in Lincoln, attending a conference of Business Education teachers at the state university. The five-day program was sponsored by the Commercial Arts division of Teachers college.

Twice-daily lectures were given by Louis Leslie of New York City, author of several most popular shorthand texts; by Earl Nicks, chairman of the Department of Business Education, University of Denver, and by Miss Gladys Bahr, instructor in Business Education at Stephens college.

Among the interesting demonstrations was one on typing by Grace Phelan, recent world's amateur typing champion.

A most valuable number on the program was a panel discussion, "Businessmen Look at Business Education," in which the personnel directors of six different types of business corporations in and around Lincoln spoke on office employment and employment standards.

Mrs. Kokes also participated in the program, a discussion panel on methods in shorthand.

The conference was the first of its kind conducted in Nebraska, and was offered as a service of Teachers college at the University, and is to be an annual affair.

structions for processing such loans.

The VA official said the loan eligibility requirements for widows in general paralleled those governing death compensation payable to widows of World War II veterans. The veteran-husband must have served in the Armed Forces at some period between September 16, 1910 and July 25, 1917, and his death must have been a result of service while on duty, or from service-connected causes following his discharge under conditions other than dishonorable. A further condition is that the widow must not have remarried following the veteran's death.

Widows who are eligible for G.I. loan benefits by virtue of their own service in the Armed Forces receive no additional loan benefits as widows.

Loans for home, farm or business purposes are made by private lending institutions, with the VA guaranteeing the lender against loss on a portion of the loan. One of the recent amendments authorizes the VA to make direct loans to eligibles for home purchases after July 19, 1930, in localities where mortgage financing at 4-per cent interest is not available.

Widows Eligible for G. I. Funds

Unremarried widows of Nebraska veterans who died as the result of service in World War II may now apply for G. I. Bill home, farm and business loans, the Veterans Administration said today.

Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, said such unremarried widows became eligible for VA-guaranteed loans as the result of one of several amendments to the G. I. loan provisions contained in the recently-enacted Housing Act of 1930, and that his office has now received in-

Stars Again Farwell Hurler

Dilla, Burlington station a Ord who plays Sunday baseball with the Farm in the Sherman-Howard and patrol's right field for Ord Mustangs on Wednesday Sunday nights, is rapidly coming to the fore as a hurler.

game he took over the mound chores in the 3rd inning after the regular Farwell hurler was batted out and in 7 innings he allowed only 4 hits while striking out 10 Palmer batters. In the ninth he drove in the winning run with a clean double to center. Farwell won, 9 to 8.

A few days before, pitching for Farwell against Chapman under the lights at St. Paul, he allowed only 5 hits. Chapman is the leading team in the Central Nebraska league.

Burwell Livestock Market
Friday, June 30

Another liberal run expected for this week including several loads of Hereford steer calves, several loads of yearling steers and a large assortment of mixed cattle. One farmer is sending in five choice milk cows of good breeding and records as good milk producers.

We will have a good selection of feeder shoats and pigs again this week; several brood sows and fat hogs, and a liberal offering of serum pigs.

Usual run of horses and colts.

A few good pieces of machinery are listed, and perhaps we'll have more by sale time.

Special: A load of good saddle stock is being consigned for this sale. These are very gentle and well trained, and come from a riding academy.

Preacher Krueger, Plus 10 Ord Hits, Beat St. Paul

Mustangs March on Comeback Trail With Cleric's Curves.

When Bill Novosad, sr., heard that Ord had hired a preacher to hurl against St. Paul Sunday night he commented: "Well, the Mustangs should have the Lord on their side for once, anyway."

Whatever the cause, Ord hit the comeback trail that night, defeating St. Paul 8 to 4 behind the curves and slow balls of Art Krueger, of Rushville, who held two services in his church there Sunday morning before making the 300 mile drive to Ord.

Krueger let the Saints down with 8 hits and only 2 earned runs while the booming bats of the Mustangs pounded out 10 safeties, several of them extra base blows, and capitalized on 5 St. Paul bobbles to make a total of eight beautiful runs.

Ord got off to a shaky start when D. Olsen, the lead-off man, hit safely, advanced to second on an error by Philbrick and scored on H. Nelson's single, after which Nelson scored following a long fly by Lukasavicz. It put the Saints 2 runs to the good.

The Mustangs bounced back with one run in their half of the same inning, L. Novosad being safe on an error and scoring on a long single by Dilla.

St. Paul increased their lead to 3-1 in the 4th on hits by Lukasavicz and Allen but Ord got one of them back in the bottom half of the same inning when Huckfelt hit for two bases and scored on Philbrick's single. This made the count 3-2. The Mustangs went ahead for the first time in the 5th when L. Novosad was hit by a pitched ball, was sacrificed to second by Finley's bunt and scored when Leth fumbled Dilla's hot grounder to second. Dilla scored on Dugan's 2-ply hit to the fence and Dugan came in on Vail's long single. This made the score 5 to 3, with Ord ahead.

The Saints got their last tally in the sixth when D. Olsen lived through Dugan's error, went to third on H. Nelson's single and scored when Novosad dropped Huckfelt's accurate throw home after fielding Leth's grounder.

The Mustangs added three more runs in a big 7th inning on a single by Dilla, a double by Vail and singles by Philbrick and Krueger, along with a St. Paul error. This made the count 8 to 1.

The Saints threatened in the ninth inning when Jensen singled after one was out, but Huckfelt caught Edwards' line drive to third and threw to Finley, closing the game with a fast double play.

It was the first victory for Ord in five starts and Ord fans hope it marks the beginning of another winning streak. The Mustangs won all their games except one in the first round of league play but have lost all but one out of the first five in the second round, with Ravenna and Broken Bow still to be met.

Fans were divided in their appraisal of Art Krueger, who didn't throw a single fast ball and got only two strikeouts in nine innings. He relied on uncanny control and an assortment of slow curves which were easy to hit but hard to hit for any distance. Only three of his pitches were hit hard and one of these was stampped by Dilla with a marvelous one hand catch after a hard run. But whether they liked his style or not, all fans had to concede that Preacher Krueger in this game got the Mustangs out of the baseball wilderness where 4 defeats had left them, and put them back on the glory road to the league title, if they don't go astray again.

Ord Midgets Tie, Leach Motors Lose, in Twin Bill

Ansley Jr. Legion Too Much for Ord Boys; Score Was 14-7.

Bill Heuck's Ord Midgets and the Jr. Legion team sponsored by Leach Motors and coached by Jim Gilbert went to Ansley last Wednesday evening to meet two Ansley teams.

Opener between the midget teams was scheduled to go 5 innings but at end of that period they were tied 2 to 2 so the game went into extra frames. Each team scored one more in the 8th, making the count 3 to 3, and it was decided to stop the game in the 9th because the Jr. Legion 7 inning game was to follow.

The Ord Midgets engineered 3 double plays, giving a sparkling performance in the field. J. Douthit did a fine job of backstopping and hit effectively and the mound chores were capably shared by Wolfe, Mason and Piskorski. Thompson and Bridges pitched for Ansley.

In the Leach Motors-Ansley game Ord's hurler, Geneski was touched for 12 safeties and gave 5 free passes which along with several Ord bobbles were converted into 14 runs by Ansley. Ord, paced by Patrick and Geneski with two safe blows each could rack up only 7 runs.

Beran Scores Against St. Paul

Our suppliers tell us that there is still a shortage of Nitrate except in the very slack seasons, so we urge you to place your order now for the Nitrate that you will need.

For your garden use on vegetables use Kubeckde and End-O-Pest. For your Rose Garden use our Rose Dust and then use our Toxophene in quantities for use on your fields that are infested with grasshoppers and other insects. Also carry Weedicide for use on your broadleaf plants. Then we have the new Crab-Not, a crabgrass killer that we believe will do the job. Use these insecticides and weed killer before they get the best of your crops.

Ammonium Nitrate.

We have a car of Ammonium Nitrate on track and have a few tons that are available. This is the last carload that we have on order and probably the last that we will be able to get for use on your corn. We are now taking orders for Nitrate for use on your fall grain. In a few cases Nitrate was used on small grain either last fall or early this spring and in all cases its use is very noticeable. Our suppliers tell us that there is still a shortage of Nitrate except in the very slack seasons, so we urge you to place your order now for the Nitrate that you will need.

Grain.

This week we have seen stronger grain markets and we are in a position to pay you over regular market price for both white and yellow corn in carlots. Have a very good market for another carload of white corn. And we have a place to send your yellow corn at over Omaha prices. It will soon be harvest time and we have the assurance of plenty of grain cars as well as our storage bins in the elevator. We can give you very fast service when your load gets to our elevator and you will get the very top grade for your grain when you sell to us. We will have a couple of truck available to help you out with your hauling.

Twine.

This year again we have Green Top Plymouth Twine and those of you that have used this twine either for harvest or for your rotary balers know that it is one of the very best twines that you can buy. Our price is lower than sometimes asked for this quality twine.

Insecticides.

Civilization.

The story of the family that died to death because they had their can opener and because husband persisted in bringing bread that was not sliced is slightly exaggerated, but it is to bring out the fact that have come a long way since pioneer days. Then the store sold everything in bulk wrapped up the amount you needed. Not one family in fifty used bread fifty years ago, except in emergency or for a special occasion. Now it is the home made bread that is the special treat. In towns had no bakeries at all, those who had, patronized largely for the pastries they made. In those days every man knew how to bake good bread. Today with many of the art of bread is a lost art, and best of them resort to the use of bakery products on occasion. In small town bakery seems to have had its day. A generation ago they were still doing a good business, but even then the inroads of the big bakeries could be felt. Except in isolated cases, of which Ord is one, the home town baker is no more. He is one of the casualties noted in the decrease in population of the smaller towns. It is worthy of note that towns with a bakery held their own pretty well in the censuses of 1940 and 1950.

The methods of handling bread have changed through the years, largely due to laws concerning sanitation. In the old days all the bread was placed on the shelves with no wrapping whatever, and the baker wrapped up for you the number of loaves you wanted, and in paper that was not waxed, and would not keep the bread from drying out. Today this would be considered unsanitary. In those days a sliced loaf of bread was unknown and the people sliced their own.

There were no breakfast foods as we know them until about 1893. The boxed cereals are a development of our modern civilization, and did not begin to show themselves much in this part of the country until the turn of the century. The old timers can remember the early foods, such as Force and Egg-O-See, both of which enjoyed a brief period of popularity.

The ways of handling meat have changed radically through the years. Half a century ago the animals were killed in the slaughter house, brought up to the shop in quarters and hung on hooks along either side of the room in the front part of the shop. A customer could go in and select a quarter to take home, if he so desired. When you wanted meat you indicated what you wanted and the butcher took down the piece and cut off the amount you wanted.

Much depended on a quick turnover, as the meat spoiled quickly without adequate refrigeration. The boxes were kept cool with ice, but there was usually more meat than could be kept in the refrigeration units in the shop. The butcher kept going largely through the patronage of the townspeople, as the farmers put up their own meat, either smoking it or putting it down in brine.

Today many farmers do not butcher at all, and many others do not have any animals on the farm to butcher, even if they desired to do so. The greater part of meat sold in modern butcher shops comes from the packing house, as do also a bewildering variety of cooked loaves of meat ready for the table. In addition, there are dozens of kinds of meat to be bought in the grocery stores in cans or glass containers.

Gasoline was practically unknown fifty years ago, and was sold only for the benefit of those who had gasoline engines. With the coming of the high pressure automobile engine the sale of gasoline grew by leaps and bounds until today every little hamlet has two or three service stations. Then stores handled both kerosene and gasoline and this fact accounted for some of the strange flavors the unwrapped foods acquired.

One of the greatest changes of modern civilization is that to be found in the dairying industry. The early settlers milked their cows, always by hand, skimmed the milk, churned the butter and took it to town to exchange for groceries. They did this work and sold the finished product for about one third what butterfat brings today.

Now the farmers milk their cows with a milking machine, keep their cream under perfect sanitary conditions, bring in to town at regular intervals, and get a high price for it. They are encouraged to keep it in the best possible condition in order to get the highest price. They then buy and take home creamy butter, which is as good or even better than they could make at home.

About the only farm industry that has come down through the years without radical change is the work of Old Biddy. The farmers still gather the eggs and take them to town. However, most of them put their eggs into crates, and thus save danger of breakage enroute. The greatest change in poultry has come in the development of new types of chickens, hens that can lay more and bigger eggs than those put out by hens of the old days. Modern chickens will grow to maturity several weeks sooner than their ancestors did, and they make better eating than those slower growing birds did.

In fact, modern civilization has wrought such changes on the farm that the pioneer, if he could return, would find it hard to recognize the farm on which he settled and on which he did the hardest work of his life. With all travel done by auto and all work by tractor, the farm of 1950 would be a strange sight indeed for a Rip VanWinkle of the vintage of 1900.

Back to the old time grocer, who had a real job on his hands when a customer gave him an order. He had to weigh out or measure and wrap up each article that the customer ordered. Perhaps this gave the transaction a personal touch that it does not have today, but who would care to go back to those days and put up with those inconveniences?

These changes have come into our lives in the past half century, and many people still living can recall the steps of the change. It serves to show us that we have come a long way in a comparatively short time. It proves to us that the world is changing, and is changing fast. It is up to us to change with it or be left behind.

++ Something Different ++

At our house hash is a great invention, the masterpiece of the ages. My husband never views a roast of beef without considering whether the meat is moist and good quality, so that it "will be good for hash."

Beef roasts are always purchased extra large, for the same reason. So there will be meat left for hash, which he really likes better than the rare beef roast itself.

Ideally, potatoes are boiled in their jackets or baked, and then chopped fine for hash. They are NOT ground. The beef is, rather coarsely. So is an onion, or less than one, depending upon how much beef is to be used. So is part of a nice crisp green pepper.

Some of the beef fat must be used, too. And the juice of the roast, or the gravy, whichever it is, I put that into. Seldom is it necessary to add water, milk or cream, then.

Gently browned, it is a noble dish.

When there isn't much else to the meal, my family likes to find poached eggs perched on the platter of hash. With a green salad, I call that a good meal.

There are families where the mention of hash sends off repulsive remarks no end.

I can't imagine what their experiences with hash could have been!

Starting a new lawn seems to be quite a trick.

Digging and plowing and raking and seeding and sowing and watering, and then you're likely to be wrong. Even after the green covering arises so beautifully.

If a little chopped grass lays in a pile, you'll have dead lawn under there.

If you cut it too short, it will curl up and die.

If you water it too little, or in the sun, it is very unhappy.

If you walk on it when it is sloppy, you'll scot the grass around and make mud and you'll dig up tender grass shoots!

If you drag the spray, or let the hose lay more than a day in one place . . . you won't like it, that's for sure.

And neither will the lawn.

Town boys are really scrambling for jobs this summer.

Some are working in the hay fields, some are carpentering, some are working for the alfalfa mill, or the REA, or helping put down the gas pipes for the natural gas that's approaching Ord so speedily.

Often, though, they find no job. Or if they find one, they are rejected because they are not eighteen years elderly, and the boss can't get insurance on them. Therefore, you can't blame him for not wanting to take this sort of a chance.

The millers have been the worst this year in many a season. Housewives have been plagued dreadfully, for the dusty moths make extra cleaning, and much of it.

If those millers develop into cutworms, I feel sorry for the farmers and gardeners. I did find a couple of dandy cutworms.

Somewhere I picked up the idea that the millers' life cycle parallels that of cherry blossoms.

A few days ago someone was sounding off about how millers come when cottonwoods bloom.

Now what do you think? —Irma.

Ward's Cookin' Column

This word is not as big a place as it used to be when I was a boy, and a lot of unusual things happen. For example: Got a letter from the daughter in Illinois recently and she had this to say: "A funny thing happened. I read glowing reports about a writer's journal called "Zest" that bought articles from its subscribers. I tried several news stands, sent money for a sample copy to two addresses, and when the copy finally arrived today, I find it's printed by the Quiz in Ord, Nebr."

Incidentally, this is only one of several dozen publications that are printed right in Ord, in one of the finest printing establishments in the country. As for the daughter, she is much smarter than her old man. She has been going into these various contests for a number of years now, and has gotten to a point where her work brings in quite a little to help out on the family expenses. Old John L. has tried contests off and on for the past fifty years or more and never won more than enough to pay for the trouble of writing the letter.

When these radio and newspaper contests got going everybody had a chance to win at first, as there were not the several thousand professional contestants that work as they do today, at that and nothing else. I don't mean that said daughter does not work. She has a family of two daughters and a son, also a garden, and that means work in any language. But there are literally hundreds of people throughout the nation who put in full time working on contests, and they have all the angles. The chances of an outsider bursting in and winning a big prize are perhaps one in a million.

The success of such contests depends on that gambling trait in human nature. Everybody wants to take a chance, and the ads make it seem to them that they have more chance than they really have. Personally I am opposed to all such contests, which are a gamble, pure and simple, for anybody who has not made a special study of the art of winning in contests. Such people would do better to waste their time at something else. Get a job and forget all about contests.

Recently we have been grubbing out some trees on the Ward ranch, and you know I found out something. The trees we grubbed out were Chinese elms, and they make me think a lot less of Chinese than I once did. These trees were doing all right when the freeze came on Armistice Day, 1940. Every one of them died back after that, but the roots sent up sprouts and these were allowed to develop into trees, most of which are hardly what you would call things of beauty. Then came the tornado of June 9, 1947 and the tops blew out of most of the trees, while a few were broken off down near the ground.

I have been planning to get rid of most of them ever since then, and substitute fruit trees in their place, but this is the first spring and summer I have been able to do much about it. I discovered that the original roots continued alive and the new sprout sent out a complete new set of roots, so there were more roots on each tree than any two trees really need. It takes fully twice as long to grub out such a stump, and I never cared much for hard work, anyway.

Why worry. There are only a dozen of the trees to be taken out, and son Jimmie is here now to give his old man a lift. Talking of Chinese elms, there are several reasons why I would never plant them in Nebraska. First, as was proven in 1940, they winter-kill. As was proven in 1947, they blow down. As everybody knows, the foliage is too heavy for the limbs and they keep sagging, sagging, until they get down in everybody's way. Cut the lower limbs off and the second tier keeps sagging, sagging, until they are in everybody's way, and you can just about repeat that so long as there are any limbs left on the tree.

Finally, Chinese elms are very prolific. Every tree bears enough seeds to seed an acre of ground, and they all grow. Each spring we go around over the farm and pull out the Chinese elms that grew in out-of-the-way places the preceding year. The seed seems to be about ready to grow just before the final working of the garden, and from then on until frost comes they will grow as much as a foot high. They are as much of a pest as many of the common weeds and grasses are.

Ralph Norman was telling of an interesting possibility that might happen in the elections this year. There are two democrats, Hall and Kruml, running for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, and, unless somebody files on the Republican ticket soon, there will be none on that ticket for the job. It would be easily possible for Hall to be defeated by Kruml in the primary, and receive enough votes by the write-in method on the Republican ticket to become the Republican candidate. Then, in case Hall was elected in the general election we would have the spectacle of a life-long Democrat winning office on the Republican ticket after starting out as a Democrat.

It presents a peculiar situation, but it has happened in some places in the past, and it could happen here. The same might happen in the race of the two Democrats, Norman and Sullivan, for county attorney. In fact, the ticket presents a peculiar condition this year, as every contest on the political ballots will be settled in the primary. On the non-political ballot one of the three candidates for county judge will be eliminated in the primary and another in the general election. To date it is hard to find anybody who will hazard a guess as to how that contest is coming out.

Do you believe in majority rule? Of course you do. Then get out and vote, at the primary and in the general election. Take the judge's race, for example. Suppose there are 3,000 voters in the county and half of them get out to vote. Suppose that the vote turns out 600 for one, 500 for another and 400 for another. That means that the high man is nominated with only one fifth of the total vote in the county, and the second man gets on the ticket with only one sixth of the vote. Then, in the general election half the total vote gets out again and one man gets slightly more than half the vote and the other slightly less. The man elected thus receives only a little more than one fourth of the total vote in the county and is duly elected. That is minority rule and we don't want that. They have too much of it already in Europe.

POP'S BAT

Burn it in there, Joe. Easy man! Let's strike him out. But the little catcher doesn't really mean it. He knows his Dad will miss the first pitch . . . and maybe the second, too. And then Pop will lay into that next one . . . and Sonny's heart will pound with pride as he watches the ball sail over the heads of those scurrying outfielders.

Away from the ball field, though, some fathers do strike out! Failure to provide for a child's religious education, failure to set the example of regular worship, failure to mold spiritual values into the life of the home—those three strikes start the moral slump which we call juvenile delinquency.

When parents and churches team up to give our children spiritual training, the combination is unbeatable. Every Sunday it's your bat, Dad. You lead-off in the biggest inning of your child's life. And you'll make a hit with him when you go with him to Church!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

COOPER'S 40% HOG BALANCER

Fortified with... Sea-Fac

CUT YOUR CORN BILL

Cooper's New 40% Hog Balancer, fortified with SEA-FAC (with Aureomycin), will cut your corn bill in half and will give you bigger, healthier hogs. SEA-FAC, Cooper's own exclusive fortification from the sea plus a specially derived APF Supplement and Aureomycin, is the final result of years of laboratory as well as practical farm tests. Tests show that Aureomycin has increased the rate of growth of hogs by as much as 50%. Now the O. A. Cooper Company can announce that they have discovered the one specially derived APF Supplement that "kicks" with Cooper's own natural animal protein factor from the sea. This specially derived APF Supplement has 70 to 100 times the APF Activity of vitamin B-12 obtained by other processes. Cooper's 40% Hog Balancer, properly fed, should produce 200-225 pound market hogs at from five to six months of age. It will not only produce rapid, cheap gains, but it will also save grain. Cooper's SEA-FAC assures you larger litters, lower pig mortality, faster growth, and economical gains.

Quiz Camera Goes to Fishing Contest

C. of C. Fishing Contest Proves Big Event for Kids

Youngsters Get Prizes in Friday Angling Meet.

About 150 kids had a whale of a time catching fish Friday afternoon at the bayou north of Hardbrook dam.

The children were entered in the big Chamber of Commerce fishing contest and really were flipping the big bullheads out of the water.

Prizes for the contest, about 200 of them, were bought by the Lake committee of the Chamber, which had charge of contest details. Members of the Ord fire department were on hand to police the contest and assist some of the younger anglers with the problems of baiting hooks and untangling lines which wrapped themselves around tree branches.

Ray Owen of Crete, state conservation officer, was on hand to help conduct the contest. The siren on his car was the signal for the kids to toss their lines into the water and at the end of an hour the siren sounded once more to end the contest.

In that hour, the kids hauled out between 150 and 200 fish—mostly bullheads. There were a few sunfish and rock bass, and Virgil Falter pulled in an 11-inch bass that was the prize fish of the contest.

After the contest ended and the prizes had been distributed, a lot of the kids went back to the water and fished until evening. In all, Verne Andersen, chairman of the Lake committee, estimates that over half of the 600 fish which the State Game Commission placed in the bayou, were taken out Friday.

Prizes ranged from rod and reel for the biggest fish, to baseballs, pens and Indian bonnets. Nearly every kid managed to get a prize. Competition was keenest for the prize going to the angler who landed the smallest fish.

The day was perfect for a fishing contest. Skies were clear and the weather was hot. Adults who were at the contest complained of the blazing sun, but the kids didn't mind it. They were too intent on pulling out the big ones.

There were nearly as many adults at the contest as there were children. Most of the grown-ups were there to "keep an eye on Johnny," but they seemed to be having as good a time as the kids.

ANOTHER STRIKE

AGAINST THE PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE SERVED BY FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS

President Truman's EMERGENCY BOARD recommends a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 a day for switchmen represented by the Switchmen's Union of North America.

• Notwithstanding the tremendous increase in their expenses involved, the Railroads' answer to Board is . . .

YES!
NO!

Union leaders' answer to Board is . . .

In face of Board findings to the contrary, union leaders insist on 48 hours pay for 40 hours work. This would be an average increase of 31 cents an hour, or $2.48 a day. So Union leaders have called a completely unjustified strike on 5 Western railroads, effective June 25.

On June 15, an Emergency Board appointed by President Truman under the terms of the Railway Labor Act recommended the railroads grant switchmen a 40-hour week and a wage increase of 18 cents an hour, or $1.44 for an 8-hour day.

Despite the added financial burden involved, the railroads are ready to accept these recommendations, as they have always accepted Emergency Board recommendations on national issues.

But the leaders of the Switchmen's Union refuse to accept! They demand an average increase of 31 CENTS AN HOUR OR $2.48 A DAY—although their present earnings are substantially higher than those of workers in other industries!

Board Says Demands Unjustified
In its report, the Board declared this demand unjustified by all the evidence presented. It also pointed out that it would give the switchmen an unfair pay advantage over other groups of railroad employees, and would add too great a burden to railroad costs.

strike in an outrageous and reckless attempt to force demands which the Board clearly labels as unjustified!

Leaders of the Switchmen's Union are calling this strike in defiance of the Board—in defiance of the facts—and at the expense of the public!

In its report on this case, the Board made this statement:

"The railroad industry, the Board believes, needs above all else a period of relative stability to adjust and adapt itself to present competitive post-war conditions."

Despite this warning, the leaders of the Switchmen's Union are upsetting the apple-cart—forcing a completely unjustified strike against everybody who uses the railroads.

FIVE WESTERN RAILROADS AFFECTED BY THE JUNE 25 STRIKE

The five railroads affected by this strike, which goes into effect at 12:01 a. m. on Sunday, June 25, 1950, are:

Ch	Rocky Mountain
Chic	Rocky Mountain
The Den	Rocky Mountain
	Rocky Mountain
	Rocky Mountain

It is the public who depend on the railroads. Every day, there can be only one answer to this outrageous and dictatorial action by the leaders of the Switchmen's Union. And that answer is—"NO!"
