Births Decrease, Deaths Rise, in County During '50

Records Reveal More Girls Than Boys Are Born.

Fewer babies were born and more persons died in Valley county in 1950 than in 1949.

In 1949 there were 120 births and 57 deaths. For the first time since 1942 more girls were born than boys.

Deaths Rise. The death rate in 1950 shows a slight upturn in 1950, 57 persons died in this county, while in 1949 there were 62 deaths.

Although the male birth rate was below normal in 1950, the male death rate was higher. Thirty-three men died during the past year, while the supposedly weaker sex lost only 29 members.

Funeral Services Will Be Held for Mrs. R. S. Kerchal

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 o'clock for Mrs. Rudolph Kerchal of Ord, who died suddenly on New Year's Day. She was 69 years old.

The Rev. K. D. Zavadil assisted by Rev. R. E. Daughette will officiate at the services, which will be held at the Ord Methodist church.

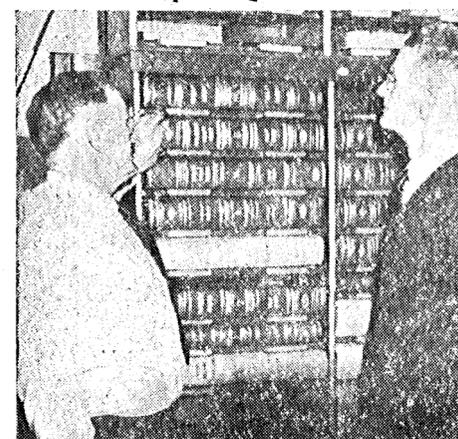

Philonema Martha Penas, daughter of Joseph and Frances Penas, was born Nov. 11, 1881, in Dlouhy, Czechoslovakia, and died on Jan. 1, 1951, at Ord at the age of 69 years, 1 month, and 20 days.

On July 7 of that year she was married to Rudolph Kerchal. They farmed in Springdale township and later moved to their own farm on the Flats 13 miles northeast of Ord.

Survivors include her husband and four children: Emma Hybl of Grand Island; Edward of Portland, Ore.; Victor of Ord, and Adeline Lehecka of Omaha. Six grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive, as do one brother, Lew Penas of Ord, and two sisters, Mrs. Antonia Lukesh and Mrs. Anna Bazant of Ord, as well as many other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kral and Norma spent last Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Urbanovsky.

New County Judge Learns Duties

Ellsworth Ball, Jr., who was elected county judge in November (at right) learns where the various dockets and records are kept in the judge's office. His instructor is the present county judge, Charles Clochon.

Law-Breakers Pay $755 to County

Seventy-five culprits paid $755 into the county coffers during 1950, a check of the county criminal docket reveals. Traffic violators appeared in court most frequently and paid the largest share of the fines.

Football Pictures Here Next Week

Another moving picture showing the Nebraska Cornhuskers in action will be shown Monday and Tuesday evening in Ord. The movie will be shown Monday evening to the Knights of Columbus.

Postmastership Is Open at Ericson

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced Friday that an open competitive examination will be held for the postmastership at Ericson. Deadline for making application to take the examination is January 25.

Chants Topple Red Raiders, 44-30, for Third Victory

Falter Buckets Most Points as Fouls Hurt Penas.

The Ord high school basketball team won its third game in a row at Loup City Tuesday evening. Unbeaten this year, the Chants handed out a decisive 44-30 lopping to the Red Raiders.

The game was quite a change from the brand of basketball the Chantlickers played in the first two games of the season. The first two games were one-point wins, but Tuesday the Red and White never faltered after a tight, 7-6 first quarter.

Coach Bill Gogan made a tactical change in the second quarter by shifting Dale Falter from guard to forward. It was the first time that Falter played the position, but the change didn't hamper him. In fact, he led his team with 19 points, as well as playing top-flight defensive ball.

Penas Fouls Out. Paul Penas, who ordinarily is one of the big guns in the Chantlicker offense, committed four personal fouls early in the game. He was benched for most of the second quarter, and when he did return to play he fouled again, and had to leave the game.

But Penas scored nine points, to tie for second place scoring honor with Ivan Stones.

Ord controlled the rebounds throughout the game, with Wolfe, Brox, and Stones hawking the ball at every opportunity. Mroczek and Cortner were standouts for Loup City.

New License Plates Go on Sale

Stanley Nolte, who works in the office of the county treasurer, inspects one of the new 1951 auto license plates. The county identification system has undergone a radical change this year, with letters instead of numbers being used. The plates went on sale in County Treasurer Wilson's office on Tuesday.

Rainfall Is High, Temperatures Low, During Past Year

March Had Most Unusual Weather, Records Reveal.

The weather man treated Valley county pretty well during 1950. He gave Ord 26.26 inches of moisture during the year, according to Horace Travis, weather observer. This is about three inches more than the average since 1889, when weather conditions were first tabulated.

For the first time in 13 years, July was the wettest month, total of 8.08 inches fell in July, giving farmers some mighty anxious moments about the small grain and the corn.

But despite the wet season, small grain was above average in production, although only fair in quality. And the corn crop was one of the best ever harvested, even though some of the crop was wet and soft.

Year Started Out Dry. January of last year was dry—just as it is starting out in 1951. Only .51 inch of moisture was recorded. A couple of severe storms in February and March brought three and a half inches of moisture, but the summer months were the wet ones.

May with 4.51 inches, June with two inches, July with 8.08, and August with 2.86 inches set the pace.

The 1950 moisture record didn't even come close to 1905, though. In that year, 42.30 inches were recorded. More than 10 inches fell in June of that year.

The temperature dropped to a -16 on January 4. Temperatures were moderate in February, dropping below zero only on the first three days.

March Freakish. March was a "freakish" month. It lived up to its "freakish" reputation by giving us bushels of weather. By the worst blizzard of the winter came on the seventh, when 10 inches of snow fell, driven by a wind that reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour. Although considerable damage was done, the temperature stayed above zero.

Mrs. Hooper, a sister of Bill Heuck of Ord, was born in Ord on Nov. 25, 1900, and moved to Oakland in 1926 where she resided until her death.

Marriage License Business Booms in Valley County

Judge Issues 63 Wedding Permits During Past Year.

The marriage license business was good in 1950. County Judge Charles Clochon reports that he issued permits to wed to 63 couples.

October was the month when Cupid's arrows hit the most targets. During that month, nine licenses were issued. May, September, November, and December followed with seven each.

June, the traditional month for weddings, was in a tie for third place with August, when six couples received their permits. February was low month with a single license being issued.

This year's total was a decided upward jump from the 1949 figure of 48.

While the county court office was busy issuing licenses to 63 couples, the district court granted nine divorces. One of these was later set aside by the court.

This was a slight increase over 1949, when seven marriages ended in divorce. The divorce record for the past eight years is shown just below the table of marriage licenses in the chart below:

Farm Records to Be Checked at Thursday Meeting

A meeting of special interest to farmers who are keeping farm accounts has been scheduled by the county agent for Thursday, January 11. The meeting will be held at the K. C. Hall in Ord, starting at 10 a. m. and continuing until about 3:30 p. m.

Cy Chase and R. G. Ford of the Rural Economics Department of The College of Agriculture will lead the discussion on checking farm accounts, making a farm management analysis, income tax and social security as it affects farmers. Farm record bookkeepers should have their books as nearly complete as possible for the past year, and bring them to the meeting.

Checking of account books and making the analysis will occupy the morning program and may run over into the afternoon. Following this will be the discussion on income tax and what farmers should know about how the new social security law affects their operations.

Everyone who is interested will be welcome at the meeting. It must start promptly at 10 a. m. Omaha sales were down more than six per cent from the same month in 1949 and were 15.6 per cent lower than in October. Scottsbluff showed a decline of 11 per cent from 1949 and 16 per cent from October.

Lawrence Adamek Wins Commendation

Time was taken for a commendation ceremony on the flight deck of the aircraft carrier USS Sicily recently when Lawrence E. Adamek, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Adamek of Ord, Neb., received a Commanding Officers' Commendation from Captain J. S. Thach, USN, for his extraordinary achievement in the performance of duty in electronic communications.

The Sicily, commanded by Captain J. S. Thach, USN, is part of the Far East Naval Forces in the Korean War Zone.

Food Supply Is Expected to Rise in 1951; Demand Will Increase

Supplies of many foods will be larger in 1951 than in the past few years and the average person in the U. S. probably will spend more for food and eat more heartily, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Among the foods expected in larger supply are meat and other livestock products, margarine, fresh fruits and vegetables and canned vegetables. In contrast, somewhat smaller supplies of vegetable shortening and salad oils are expected.

The larger food supplies will be of use in meeting heavier military and civilian demand for food. Civilians are expected to buy more food for several reasons. Many family incomes will be larger as more members take defense jobs. More of the family pocketbook is likely to go for food when there are fewer other consumer goods to spend money on. And many people will want more food because of longer hours and heavier work. Total meat production, especially beef and pork, is expected to be larger next year, but the demand also will be heavier. Meat is one of the first foods people buy more of as incomes rise.

Supplies of poultry and eggs are expected to continue high again next year and the average person probably will eat more of these foods. An all-time high in the supplies of dairy products other than butter is expected for the new year. Probably more milk will sell as fluid milk and cream and ice cream and less will go for butter and cheese manufacture. Stocks of cheese on hand are large. For the first time in four years, milk drinking and ice cream eating by the average civilian will increase. Cheese consumption may hit a record. Though retail prices of dairy products will be higher, they probably will not go up as much as prices of some other foods. Prices of dairy products usually respond less rapidly to a rise in consumer income than meat prices, for example.

Holidays.
 We are inclined to look upon Christmas and New Years as the two most widely celebrated holidays of the entire year, and in a sense we are right in so thinking. Before the spread of communism Christmas was widely observed throughout North and South America, Europe, Australia and Africa, but not so much in Asia.

The day means little to the orthodox Jew unless he be in business and then only in the increased sales during the holiday time. Since the Jew does not accept Christ, one could hardly expect him to observe the birthday of Christ. For this reason Christmas is not totally observed in any country.

Except where Christianity has been introduced, Christmas is not observed in China, India, and many other localities of the world. Christmas can mean little to the followers of Mohammed, Confucius, Brahma, Buddha, or to millions of others whose leadership has no connection with Dec. 25. Generally speaking, all peoples have a day set aside for the giving of gifts, and this day is known under a number of different names and comes at a number of times during the year. Christmas Day itself is not the true birthday of Christ, and nobody knows just when His birth occurred. The day was changed four times before the present day was generally accepted.

The words of God himself give a definite reason why communism and many other isms are so at variance with the observance of Christmas. "Thou shalt have no other God before Me." At the time this warning no doubt meant the heathen gods then worshipped, but today it means as well the worship that dictators demand for themselves.

The man, or group of men, bent upon complete conquest of the minds of those over whom they rule, realize the danger which might arise from a split form of worship. They fear the power of the Almighty, and for this reason they try to rule him out of the universe he created.

The cry of the Germans before the time of Wilhelm was: "Gott mit Uns," meaning God with us. They gave God the first place he deserves. Kaiser Wilhelm, you recall, made it "Me Und Gott," putting himself ahead of God. To all intents and purposes Hitler ruled God out of the equation, making it read "Me."

It is worthy of note that the German people did all right so long as they recognized the supremacy of God. But twice they permitted themselves to be led astray after false gods, and the result is history. Today a large part of the world is under the domination of the false God of communism. The road ahead today looks dark to us, but it is no darker than it was in the early months of 1911, when nearly all of Europe was overrun by Hitler, and much of eastern Asia was dominated by the Japanese. We have only to remember that the religion of Jesus Christ went through the dark ages and still survived. Communism at the best is but a passing fancy that appeals to the people through false teachings. It may last a century, two centuries, even ten centuries, but what is that in the face of eternity, and God is eternal. So long as we have faith in God, there is hope for our democratic way of life. So long as Christmas is observed, just that long there is hope for this old world.

The observance of New Years has no special significance in religious sense. It is the start of the new year, which general usage has started upon that time of the year. The Chinese have their New Year some time later than ours, and there are still a few other times to start the new year in other parts of the world.

We have other times right here in America to start the new year. From the federal government down to the smallest town it is the custom to start the new year July 1. Budgets are made up from one July until the next, and in many cases for a period of two years instead of one. Business, social and fraternal organizations take their cue from this and start their year with July, or at least, during the last half of the year.

With many churches the new year starts right after the annual conference in September. The new ministers move to their new locations at that time. With our schools, the year begins the first of September and ends late in May. With the universities and colleges the year usually begins about two weeks later.

On the farm the year generally begins March 1st in the midwest and as late as April 1st or even May 1st in other parts of the country. Most farm leases are dated from one March until another for the reason that this seems to be the time that finds the farmer best prepared to make the necessary move to a new location.

The only good reason for starting the new year with January first seems to be for the purpose of having a calendar common to all parts of the world. The world today is so closely knit together in the field of commercialism if not in other ways that a common calendar is an essential of civilization.

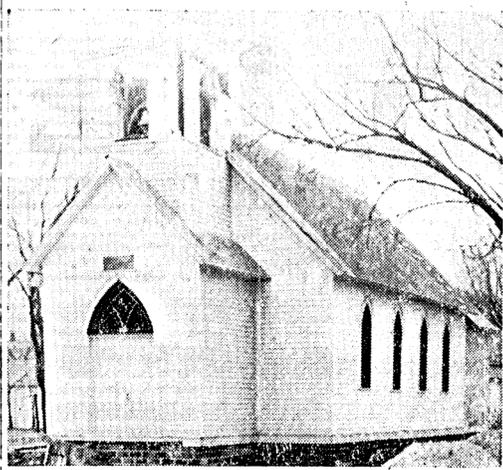

Resolutions.
 This is the time for making resolutions. Just why we make them at New Year's time is hard to understand. They would be just as good if made any other time of the year. The value of a resolution lies not in when it is made, but in how well it is kept.

The curse of all New Year's resolutions is the fact that so many people feel that they must have a last wild fling before they swear off, and that wild party usually does far more harm than the resolutions do good. Resolutions made during a period of headaches and penitence are very seldom kept.

But there are a few resolutions that we as a people should make with the coming of the new year. We might resolve to be a little more watchful of those rights granted us under the constitution. Those rights are being undermined by a multiplicity of laws and bureaus under the guise of help from a paternal government in the building of roads, aid to education, socialized medicine and other socialistic ideas. If we value the rights we still possess, we must fight for them.

Today the world is split into two ideologies, our own, and Communism. The first is government from the bottom to the top, the other is government from the top down. In the first the rights of the individual are paramount; in the other the government is supreme and determines what rights, if any,

Church Moved to New Site

The Ord Danish Lutheran church has moved this building from near Wolbach to the corner site across the street south of the high school. Construction is nearing completion and the congregation expects to move into the new building early in the spring. The Rev. C. Jeppesen is pastor of the congregation.

the common people may be permitted to exercise. These two ways of life cannot exist in harmony in the world. We should resolve, and at once, to do all in our power to overcome the influence that communism has in the world today, by peaceful means if possible, by force, if necessary. Our forefathers loved liberty so much that they fought and died for it. We should love it enough to live for it at all times, to die for it if the need arises.

But comes another war and rumors of war, and so maybe tough meat, if any, and so I thought, well, canning and all again; I reckon I'll just have to learn to use a pressure cooker. So Santa brought us one. And I'm learning. And I know they are supposed to be foolproof. But you don't know me, in the kitchen!

So Nebraska is the healthiest state in the Union in which to live, says the Metropolitan Life Insurance company through its statisticians! Absolutely the number one!

About time we quit hiding our light under a bushel, Nebraskans! All you moved-away Ordites in California and Oregon! Don't want to move back HOME? No atom bombs here... unless it is in my kitchen!

It will only be our Christmas pressure cooker blowing up! Everybody in the family treats it with the greatest respect, lip-toeing hastily through the kitchen, pausing not.

Well, you see it was this-a-way. During the last war, when there was tough meat, (if any), dozens of quarts to can, and so on, I kept swearing that when the war was over I was going to buy a pressure cooker!

The darned war at last ended, and I began again to think and talk about a pressure cooker.

But you see, I am always forgetting things, leaving a good dish of what's in the icebox when I have company for dinner, stuff like that.

So each time I started up the subject of pressure cookers, I'd pause, and say I was a little afraid I might forget the pressure cooker, and blow the house down, sez I.

"Better just let well enough alone then, and forget the pressure cooker," remarks my spouse wisely. And I heartily concurred, breathing rather easier.

So Santa brought us one. And I'm learning. And I know they are supposed to be foolproof. But you don't know me, in the kitchen!

So Nebraska is the healthiest state in the Union in which to live, says the Metropolitan Life Insurance company through its statisticians! Absolutely the number one!

About time we quit hiding our light under a bushel, Nebraskans! All you moved-away Ordites in California and Oregon! Don't want to move back HOME? No atom bombs here... unless it is in my kitchen!

We herald the beginning of a NEW YEAR with renewed determination growing out of our faith in the boundless resourcefulness and ingenuity of America and our home people.

Not without some small pride, we present to our friends and customers this year-end report of the condition of our bank—a report that reflects new highs in loans and deposits—and a report that reflects this bank's faith in the community it serves.

Many problems will present themselves in this first year of the new half-century. There are those who envy and would destroy the example of freedom our Nation sets—there are clouds on the horizon.

This is a challenge to us to multiply our ability to defend freedom wherever it may be threatened the while we continue to work for the expansion of the benefits of our own way of life.

Never have we as a nation failed to meet such a challenge . . . and never will we fail to do so, so long as our unity of purpose remains firm. True, it will require more effort . . . but it is worth it . . .

We as bankers, as friends and neighbors, as an integral part of this community's life, rededicate ourselves to the principles of America.

Married Saturday Morning in Ord

Mr. and Mrs. Carson Rogers.

Alice Beran, daughter of Frank Beran, and Carson Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Rogers, were married Saturday morning at 11:00 o'clock at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church in Ord.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a very sheer yolk with a sheer bertha collar and the long sleeves of lace formed a point over the wrist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a very sheer yolk with a sheer bertha collar and the long sleeves of lace formed a point over the wrist.

Roland Beran, brother of the bride, was best man. Frank Beran brother of the bride, and Edward Piskowski were the attendants. Ushers were Don Beran, brother of the bride, and John Piskowski.

Father Thomas Stodowski sang, "Ave Maria," "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Pans Angelicus."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Pale green and white was carried out in the table decorations. The wedding cake baked in the shape of a cross centered the table and on either side were tall candles.

Mrs. Jess L. Williams of Lincoln, aunt of the groom, served the ice cream and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke poured the coffee. Mrs. H. B. Sinclair of Lincoln, aunt of the groom, assisted. Miss Joan O'Halloran of Omaha cut the cake. Virginia Struckman, Mickey Mason and Janet Coleman assisted with the serving. J. H. Holladay Is Dead; Lived Here

Word came this week from Mrs. Holladay, East Stanwood, Wash., of the passing of her husband, Howard Holladay, on December 5, after a long illness. Tho Holladays left North Loup more than 25 years ago.

Joseph Howard Holladay, was born in North Loup, Sept. 8, 1877, and died in East Stanwood, Wash., at the age of 73 years. He attended school in North Loup, and graduated from high school in Kansas City, Mo. Later he graduated from the Branes Medical School. He opened a doctors office in Joplin, Mo., where he practiced a number of years. When his health failed, he changed to more of the outdoor business, and returned to his fathers farm near North Loup.

He was joined in marriage to Gunda Josephine Sweeney on August 19, 1915. Mr. Holladay's parents, Wm. J. and Katherine Maxine Holladay, as well as his only brother, Lynn, preceded him in death. Left to mourn his passing are his wife and an only sister, Mrs. S. C. Benninger, and a nephew, Wm. Benninger.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, Dec. 9, at the Gunderson Funeral Home in Stanwood, with Rev. Lars Stalsborten officiating. Mrs. Nels Pearson, accompanied by her mother, sang "In the Garden" and "Going Down the Valley."

Burial was in the Anderson cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Carter and family spent the week end in Plainview with their parents.

C. W. Sanders sideswiped another car near Pawhuska, Okla., while driving to Tulsa last week and dangled the new station wagon he was driving. The other car was also badly damaged. The wreck was due to heavy fog. Mrs. Sanders' parents, who live in Tulsa, went to Pawhuska after the Sanders family and the station wagon was left there for repairs. Evelyn and Shirley Brown, who were riding with Sanders to Ft. Worth, Tex., and Connie Eberhart, enroute to Bentonville, Ark., returned home Friday evening by bus.

Mrs. Sara Gogin of Redlands, Calif., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Merrill McClellan and Mr. McClellan. She arrived last week. Mrs. McClellan has been quite ill but is somewhat improved this week.

Mrs. Edna Post returned Thursday from Ravenna and Cairo where she had spent Christmas with her children. Kay Stine stayed with Mrs. Josephine Stine much of the time while Mrs. Post was away.

Highway View club families met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelsons Thursday for a covered dish dinner and a Christmas party. Mrs. Ign Pokraka gave the very interesting and instructive study lesson, "Christmas Master Painters." The business meeting was held and gifts exchanged. The men spent the time playing cards. Lunch was served after an enjoyable afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sanders and children arrived home early Monday morning from Tulsa, Okla., where they spent Christmas with their parents.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in a gown of white heavy satin. The snug bodice closed in the back with self-covered buttons and designed with a high rounded neck line and a yoke of net edged in seed pearls. Dainty seed pearl rosettes decorated the bodice and long sleeves tapered to full skirt swirled into a long, cathedral train. A braided bandeaux of matching satin and seed pearls held in place her veil of bridal illusion. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

A three-tiered wedding cake baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Merle Myers was the center piece for the bridal table at the reception, following the ceremony in the church parlor. Assisting at the reception were Miss Lola White, Miss Rae Jean Bossen, Miss Donna Greenland and Miss Janis Gates. Mrs. Robert Owens was in charge of the guest book and Miss Lula White received the gifts.

Owens - Dalby

Arrangements of greenery and white pompon chrysantheums filled the pedestal urns, and lighted cathedral candles in seven branches candelabra, which appointed the chancel, formed the background for the marriage of Miss Shirley Owens daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Owens of St. Paul, to Raymond Dalby of North Loup son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dalby. The double ring ceremony was solemnized on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17, at the Methodist church in Arcadia. Lighted candles tied with satin bows marked the processional aisle on either side.

The lines of the 3 o'clock service were read by Rev. C. W. Eubler, minister of the Methodist church, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. L. Finney who also accompanied Miss Beth Finney as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because" preceding the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" while the bride and groom knelt at the altar for the closing benediction.

The attendants wore gowns patterned identically. The matron of honor was Mrs. D. M. Dalby of Lincoln, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of slipper satin in the gold shades. Miss Phyllis Moody in the Pierson rose shades and Mrs. Willis Dalby wearing teal blue were the bridesmaids. The gowns were fashioned with double cap sleeves, fitted bodices with self-covered buttons closing the front from Peter pan collars and full skirts accented at the back by large bows. They wore braided headbands and long mitts of matching satin. Each carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysantheums.

Barbara Beasley scattered rose petals before the bride and Chuckie Dalby carried the rings on a satin pillow.

Lighting the candles were Misses Patricia and JoAnn Myers, both of Lincoln, who wore bronze colored formal.

Delmer M. Dalby of Lincoln served his cousin as best man and seating guests were Charles and Willis Dalby brothers of the groom, who were also attendants.

News Notes from Greeley Co. Agent

Fruit Trees.
Do you folks know that a fraction of an acre planted to fruit trees and fruiting shrubs and vines will return many times the dollar yield than if it was in grain, hay or pasture. Or maybe you have a small plot around the buildings that usually grows to weeds. Why not put it in fruit. Think of having fresh fruit for the table and to can for winter use. Grow the material for sauce, jams, jells and desserts. Fresh fruit means a lot to the health of your family. Let the county agent help you in planning your home fruit plot.

Order Trees Now!
Why wait for the supply to be exhausted before you order. Red Cedars are no longer available but we still have Austrian pine, Jack American elm, Russian mulberry, pine, Ponderosa pine, Chinese elm, Green ash, Honey locust, Black locust, hackberry, Russian Olive, cottonwood, boxelder and wild plum.

Also we can offer you fruiting and flowering shrubs such as two kinds of raspberry, two kinds of grapes, two of currants, blackberry, Manking cherry, Buffalo berry, lilac, honeysuckle, multi-flora rose, tamarix, caragana and cotoneaster to mention a few. Put these on your farms for fruit and beauty. They can be had in lots of fifty for less than you would usually pay for three or four plants. See us now before they are gone.

Test Seed Early
Bring in your grain, grass and legume seeds now to be sent in for purity and germination tests. If you delay, the tests might not be back by planting time. If you sell seeds of any kind for planting, the law says it must be tested for purity and germination. DO IT NOW!

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Long of Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Lutz and Jim, Mrs. Letha Hawley and Lyle and Dan Lutz were Christmas dinner guests of Mrs. Ruth Lutz.

Mrs. Nina Norman and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, Mr. and Mrs. George Dvorak all of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Simpson of Kearney called at the Anderson home on Sunday to see Gene.

Ivan Kaminski, Jr., Arthur and Allen Sell were Tuesday dinner guests at the Walter Anderson home in honor of Gene.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Kinsey celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary Wednesday evening, Dec. 27. A family dinner at Vera McGowan's restaurant in Evanston, Ill., for the immediate family was followed by an open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Philip Bowman of Evanston where Mr. and Mrs. Kinsey received many of their Chicago friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gould and Mary Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson and children of Omaha spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson and Gene.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bauhard and family spent last week with relatives in Long Beach, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hughes returned to Malvern, Ia. after spending Christmas vacation at the Vere Lutz home.

Quality

Webster says "quality" means excellence of character. He must have been thinking of our sausages!

To begin with, they're made of the finest meat. Then they're seasoned with the finest spices—just enough. Then they're cured to perfection.

No wonder George's sausages have "excellence of character" or QUALITY!

When You and I Were Young

Twenty Years Ago — Reed Maxson, blacksmith of Valleyview, died of a heart attack after shoveling snow. He was 62 years old.

A large number of Ord people were on their way to Pasadena to see Alvin Ziemke play with Nebraska in the Rose Bowl. — It was announced that 1,100 acres of potatoes would be planted under irrigation in the Loup valley in 1951, a record for that time.

Rev. M. A. Lawler, 55, pastor of the Ord Catholic church, died Dec. 18 following a long illness. — The M. B. Cummins family decided to make Ord their permanent home and bought the property west of the city office in the Loup valley in 1941, a record for that time.

Twenty Years Ago — Hon. Ralph R. Horth of Grand Island was endorsed by a unanimous vote by attorneys all over the district as the successor to Bayard H. Paine as district judge. Paine had been recently elected to the supreme bench. — The Ord Quiz and the business people of Ord were cooperating in offering gifts for the first baby born in the new year. — The body of George Siler, old time resident of Valley county, arrived in Ord from Los Angeles and was interred in the Ord cemetery. He lived to be 84 years old. — A crowd of 1,100 people assembled at the Ord High school auditorium to hear and witness the finest Christmas program ever heard in Ord. — The Christmas decorating contest held by Aulbe Benson was to a close, with the William Zaboudil home in first place and others in the following order: Ferguson, Val Pullen, Bob Noll and J. P. Barta. — About 70 barberry plants were found in Valley county during the year just closing.

Thirty Years Ago — The Ord basketballers defeated the St. Paul quintet from the business college there on the Ord court by a score of 39 to 33. — R. A. Studley resigned as president of the First National Bank of Ord, due to ill health, and his place was taken by Frank Koupal. — O. R. Hansen, resident of Valley county since 1894, died in an Omaha hospital Dec. 19, and was buried in the Ord cemetery. — Cole and Gannmar were electrocuted in the Nebraska state penitentiary Dec. 20 for the murder of Mrs. Lulu Vogt of Howard county. — Photographs were being sent by cable across the Atlantic ocean, an accomplishment most unusual at the time but very common now. — Legionnaires had been asked to officiate at the funerals of two GAR veterans, Pock and Jones. — Ord Legionnaires had formed a basketball team and planned to enter a league of Legion teams in this territory.

Forty Years Ago — Bud Shirley was called to Cheyenne, Wyo., as a witness for the railroad in the celebrated Whitney case. Mr. Whitney sued for $25,000 and was granted $13,000. — Much dissatisfaction was voiced because the Union Pacific railroad was setting all its fences out a full 100 feet from the track. However, as their allotted land was that wide, they had a perfect right to do so.

Make sure the wheels in your truck get all the energy the engine sends them. A slip-up or weakness anywhere along the drive line wastes power, robs your truck of hauling efficiency, takes profits out of your pocket! It pays to be sure about the condition of your truck's transmission, propeller shaft, universal joints, differential and axle shafts. When you get a check-up from our service specialists, you're averting possible breakdowns before they happen! Why not come in and talk it over? We'll be glad to explain just what we do to keep running gear running right!

Married at Zion Lutheran Church

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Rasmussen.

Tall baskets of orchids and white daffodils and lighted candles decorated the altar of the Zion Lutheran church Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Mary Maxine Yax and Dennis Rasmussen. Rev. A. H. Wagner performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Yax of Scotia, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rasmussen of near Cotesfield.

Preceding the ceremony Marlene Wells, niece of the bridegroom, and Bernard Yax, brother of the bride, lighted the candles. Miss Wells' dress was ivory colored brocaded taffeta with a red rose corsage.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, with a deep collar of embroidered net that outlined an off the shoulder neckline. The light fitting bodice had long sleeves and the full skirt partially overlaid with lace ended in a court train. The Juliet cap made of satin and lace held the embroidered train length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses with rosebud streamers. Her bracelet was a gift from the bridegroom.

Nila Yax was her sister's maid of honor and was dressed in a ball-length brocaded blue taffeta gown with cap sleeves and a fitted bodice. She wore matching mitts and carried a yellow carnation corsage.

Levon Yax, Mary Lou Vance and Mrs. Dean Rasmussen were bridesmaids. Their gowns, designed like the one worn by the maid of honor, were of orchid taffeta and their corsages were of yellow carnations.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will make their home at the Leroy Yax farm for a short time. Mrs. Rasmussen will continue teaching school until the end of the term.

Local Firm Builds Three Miles of Aluminum Marquees in 1950

A 1950 production of aluminum marquees that would stretch 16,000 feet or three miles was announced this week by A. J. Auble, president of the Shadelite Marquee Co. of Ord.

The marquees were installed on buildings from Camden, N. J. to Pasadena, Calif., and from Minnesota to Texas.

"Last year was our first full year under a dealer-agency plan," Auble said. "We now have twenty dealer-installers in strategic spots over the United States and we're now in a position to grow rapidly."

Revolutionary Product.
"We have a revolutionary product, and one, because of its very simplicity, has been hard to sell. However, once we got one of our marquees installed in a town, or accepted by an architectural firm, we know that most of the battle is won, because there are always orders."

"It's just a question of breaking the ice. For example, it took a long, long, period of negotiation before we could get the architects our marquees. Now, every new building for the firm, the biggest department store chain in the world, will have a Shadelite marquee."

War May Hurt.
Auble said that the war would affect expansion and production plans of his firm greatly. "Aluminum is a strategic war material, and under allocation. We're now limited to 80% of the amount we used last year, although the first order that came out cut us to 65%. Although I believe we'll be able to do nearly as much business as we did last year, without allocations."

—Mr. and Mrs. Phil Curry and sons of Darlington, Wis., Mrs. Laura Mulbach of Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bredthauer of Scotia were Thursday afternoon callers at the Ray Harding home. That evening they called at the Elmer Bredthauer home.

Ord Man Relates Week's Saddest Story of Christmas Toy Train

"The first symptom of my neurosis occurred Christmas morning," an Ord man told a Quiz reporter. "I had purchased Junior a toy electrical train outfit for $15.95. For two more dollars I could have bought a controlling interest in the Burwell-Greeley branch of the C.B. & Q."

"The train outfit, as Santa left, consisted of one electric locomotive, a caboose and two freight cars, packed in thirteen and one-half miles of pasteboard. In addition there were fourteen sections of straight and curved track, copper wires, and several electrical devices known as a transformer, rheostat, and a book of directions that made assembling the work ridiculously simple.

"The first thing was to put together the track. This consists of getting two nail like spikes from one end of the section into two small openings in the next and repeating fourteen times. If you have ever tried to pick up a drop of mercury with boxing gloves on, you will get the idea.

"I assembled the fourteen sections in two hours and nineteen minutes and only stabbed myself twice and gashed three minor arteries. Tapping the electric supply from the plug to the tracks was next. So I picked up the transformer.

"Now there are six possible places on a transformer to which you can attach two wires. By studying the table in the back of the book of direction, I learned that connecting posts C and Y at Point 3 gave 19 volts while posts

Ward's 'Cookin' Column'

The "Great Crow Shoot: The boys in at Bates' barber shop were telling some of the high spots of the great crow shooting match that was held about 1937. Crows were very plentiful at that time, and the hunt was held partly for sport and partly to cut down on the number of crows. Floyd Redlon was captain of one team and Bates Copeland captained the other, and there were fifteen men on each team. Redlon's team hunted along the river near the John Williams place, probably just below the alfalfa mill, while Copeland's bunch hunted on the north side of the river just west of the Sumter bridge.

The evening was rather uneventful for the Redlon bunch except that there were plenty of crows and they kept shooting until midnight, then went up to Ord and had lunch, came back and continued to shoot until 4 a. m. As a result they won out in the contest, and were given an oyster supper by the losers. More about that later.

Not all the hunters on either side were out at any one hunt, but on the particular hunt this is about Copeland, Clyde Holmes, Mose Brennick, Rusty Hutchins and Ed Christensen participated. They would shoot at the crows in the trees, then follow them up when they rose and keep shooting until their repeaters were empty. The crows that were winged would land up in the trees and the hunter would shake them down, another hunter catching them before they got away.

Hutchins spotted a crow up in a tree, called for help to catch him, then stepped under the tree, looking up all the while, and gave it a shake. Then he spit and sputtered, dropped his gun and made a quick dash for the edge of the river, like he wanted a drink. Bates wouldn't tell me just what happened, but he did say that Hutchins said afterward he sure was glad that crows couldn't fly.

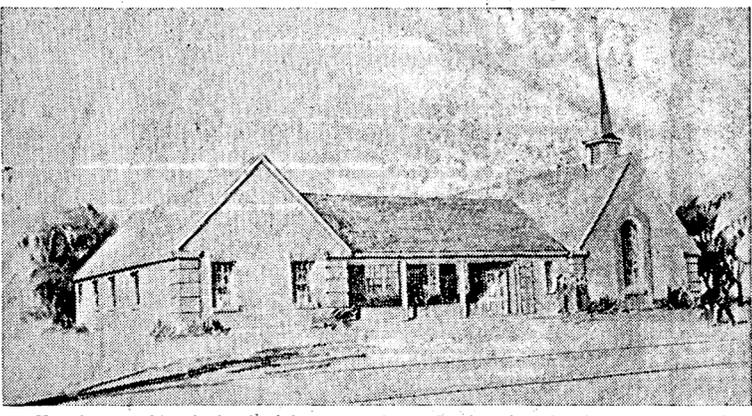

Meanwhile a couple of incidents happened during the camp of the position. I. J. Theiss saw a bird directly above him in the tree, shot it and had the badly mangled carcass fall right in his face. Bud Knapp was standing in an open space and a crow came in looking for a place to land, saw Knapp standing peevishly and it landed on his nose. Bud put up his hand and caught the bird. He also got the bird from his pals, who took this to mean that Knapp must be a "block head."

When the hunt was over, the supper was held in the old Legion building. Babcock was running a bakery in North Loup at the time and Copeland asked him to get a lot of doughnuts made up and have them sizzling hot for the occasion, which he did. At Bates suggestion he also baked up half a dozen doughnuts with cotton in them. These were kept separate and were put where the winning team would get them. Bill Voden got on discovering what it was and started munching oyster crackers instead. He also whispered to Floyd Redlon, next to him not to eat the doughnuts, as there was something wrong with them. Of course the losers were all in on the joke, so Bill didn't get away with anything.

The crows do not bunch up so much along the river as they did then but the boys would like to have another such a shooting match. There are several things wrong with the idea today, chief among which is the fact that shells at nearly a dime apiece are too expensive for most people to afford to shoot many up. Also, there was plenty of leisure time back in 1937, but nobody has time to spend shooting crows today. Further, there are not enough in this area at the present time to make such a shoot necessary.

People seem to use better judgment in the selection of Christmas gifts than they used to, or maybe there is a more complete selection from which to choose. In any case, not too many gifts find their way back to the exchange counters these days. Back when I was a kid it seemed that the clerks were about as busy exchanging gifts after Christmas as they were selling them before the big day. This idea of exchanging gifts is fine, if the value of the gifts is not greater than the giver can afford. The trouble is that all too often somebody who really cannot afford to give anything at all will give more than others better able to afford it, through fear that somebody will find out that they are poor. The best way is to just give what you can afford to give, or what you have to give, and let it go at that. The idea of giving is to remind the recipient that he is not forgotten. Nobody likes to be forgotten, and there are times when a handkerchief or a pair of socks, given in the Christmas spirit, means more than a gift of ten times the value in normal times or under normal conditions. I can imagine the delight of the boy in the trenches if and when he receives that package from home and finds that good old uncle Joe has remembered him with one of these modern type ties made up in all colors of the rainbow. He simply can't wear it on duty, and the plain black tie is regulation off duty, so he is stuck with it until he gets back home and out of the service. I can imagine the joy of the fellow who never reads anything but the newspapers when he gets a big novel by some popular author he never heard of and whom he will forget as quickly as he can. Then I have in mind an old bachelor, who always gets a pair or two of fancy socks in his Christmas list and the old fellow never wore a pair of socks in his life. Wouldn't that be sumthin'!

These days most people figure out ahead of time what people can use or wear, and that is what they get. If the size is off it is easy to exchange. I know one man who always gives his men friends neckties because he says they are one article of apparel that will always fit, and it is easy to decide what type to give by noticing what kind the person wears. Personally I got a lot of fine presents this year. I got all the things I really needed

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Don't suffer longer with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, overexertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or strong tea may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a real diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Three Answer Jan. Draft Call; Five on Postponed List

Nine Men Still in Local Pool for Future Induction.

Three Valley county men, Leonard Lybarger and Allan Woody of Arcadia, and Leonard Sedlacek of Ord, left here Monday to report for induction into the United States armed forces.

The January call for Valley county was six men, of which three spots were taken by volunteers. According to Mrs. Robert Hall, secretary of the Valley county selective service board, five men have had their induction postponed from 30 to 180 days to allow them to settle business affairs or finish schooling.

Two Cars Collide at Intersection

Five-year-old Paul Stewart suffered a broken right arm and the other occupants of two cars were shaken and bruised in a collision Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred about 1:30 p.m. at the intersection of 19th and K streets. One vehicle was driven by Mrs. Wayne Stewart of Route 3 and the other was driven by Marliou Arnold of 1605 Q street.

The occupants of the Stewart car were taken to a doctor for medical attention. Mrs. Stewart was cut and bruised, her eight-year-old daughter, Peggy, suffered cuts and her son, Paul, five, was found to have a broken bone in his right arm.

Loses Finger in Sheller Mishap

William Wadas suffered a badly mangled left hand last Thursday when he caught it in a corn sheller. He was taken to Dr. H. N. Norris who gave him first aid and then took him to the hospital where Dr. J. Miller amputated the first finger. Mr. Wadas is getting along satisfactorily.

Sale of Christmas Seals Passes $800

The sale of TB Christmas seals passed the $800 mark in Valley county last week. Miss Katherine Helzer, chairman of the local committee, announced that a total of $811.63 has been received to date. "There probably still are some folks who want to send in their donations," Miss Helzer commented. "They should do so at once so we can close our books for the 1950 campaign."

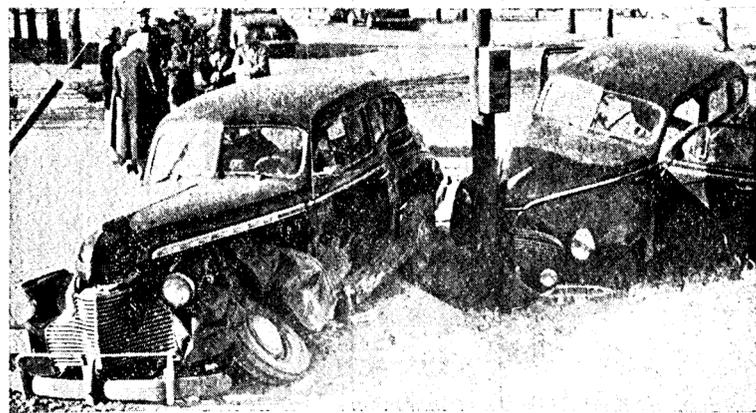

Trees Are Available for Spring Planting

Farmers who will want Clarke McNary trees for spring planting are urged to get their orders into the county agent's office soon, while there is still a good supply of the popular varieties. There are no more red cedars, but all other varieties are still available. There is still a need for a lot of farm wind-breaks in Valley county and the sooner they are started the sooner they will be effective. The cost of these trees is low and with care and cultivation it doesn't take long to begin to reap the benefits of a good wind-break.

Damage Is Extensive in Two-Car Collision, Saturday

These two cars suffered extensive damage, as is shown in the picture, when they collided Saturday afternoon at the intersection of 19th and K streets. The auto at the left was driven by Marliou Arnold, and the car at the right was driven by Mrs. Wayne Stewart. The occupants of the Stewart car, Mrs. Stewart and her two children, required medical care after the accident.

Bank Statements Reveal County Has More Cash Funds

Deposits Climb Near Six Million Mark; Banks Up Capital.

Bank deposits in the four banks serving Valley county climbed nearer to the six million mark, published statements by the banks revealed this week. On deposit in the First National and Nebraska State of Ord, the Arcadia State and the North Loup Valley banks are $5,792,737.62. A year ago, the amount was $5,385,887.58, or a gain of $400,000.

Loans in the four banks also jumped over the year, from $2,219,170.02 to $2,531,598.65, or slightly over $300,000. Cash in banks rose from $1,244,635.23 to $1,402,095.08.

Capital Near Half-Million. Banks apparently had a prosperous year, as capital accounts were increased from $418,144.03 to $441,794.32, or a gain in investment of more than $23,000. All the financial institutions increased their capital account with the exception of the Arcadia State, which during the year revised its capital structure to add $7,000 to the common stock, with a corresponding distribution of reserves and undivided profits.

Leadership positions among the banks as far as loans and total deposits remained unchanged. The Nebraska State Bank of Ord leads in all categories as in the year just past.

Detailed statements of each bank are published on other pages of this issue. Breakdown comparison figures follow:

Charles Cox Joins Squadron in Korea

Pfc. Charles F. Cox, jr., 20, son of Rev. Charles F. Cox, sr., of Ericson, has arrived for duty with the 49th Installations Squadron at an advanced Fifth Air Force Base in Korea. It was announced by Colonel A. W. Pete Tyer, commander of the 49th Fighter-Bomber Wing.

After graduating from Ericson high school, Cox enlisted for the air force. He received his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and his technical training at Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado. This is his first tour of duty overseas. He will be assigned to the supply section of his squadron. The aircraft of the 49th Fighter-Bomber Wing are presently bombing and strafing enemy positions in the northern parts of Korea.

March of Dimes Begins Monday

Three devastating years of the polio epidemics in history have wiped out patient care funds of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and left unpaid bills of $5,000,000.

So the 1951 March of Dimes, which opens Monday, must raise $50,000,000 nationally. This sum is essential to enable the foundation and its local chapters to provide financial aid, equipment and skilled workers for the thousands of children and adults who will be victims this year, and for those needing care from earlier years. Also, the foundation must continue to pay for research in the treatment and prevention of polio, and the training of professional personnel.

The annual meeting of the Loup Valley Rural Electric Membership association is in session this afternoon (Wednesday) at the Ord theatre.

Postal Receipts Slump During 1950

Postal receipts in Ord dropped $3,000 during the year just past, but are still double the receipts here in 1941.

Last year's total was $31,080.01, as compared with $31,387.08 in 1949 and $14,850.00 in 1941. Postmaster A. L. Hill said that the Ord quiz was largely responsible for the drop in receipts. "Last year the quiz postage bill ran about $2,500 under that of 1949," he said.

E. C. Leggett, Quiz owner, said that his firm had used about $9,500 in postage and postal goods in 1950 as compared with $12,000 in 1949.

"This is due largely due to a change in our methods of shipping. Many of our customers are buying in larger quantities and we have found it less costly to ship by freight or express, due to the extra weight, than by parcels post," the Quiz owner explained. "In the past 30 days we have made five huge shipments of printed matter to California alone by truck, and we will have several other shipments of 500 to 2000 lbs. going to California, Michigan, and New York during the month of January."

Postal receipts by years:

Bromé Grass Needs Nitrogen for Growth

Producers of bromé grass seed, intermediate wheatgrass or crested wheatgrass seed have found that the best yields are produced by fertilizing the crop with a good nitrogen fertilizer.

Dr. M. D. Weldon, Soils Specialist at the College of Agriculture, says that the fertilizer should be applied very early in the spring for best results. He recommends applying 40 to 80 lbs. of nitrogen per acre before March 15. If the grass had a good color and made a good growth during the past year, 40 lbs. of nitrogen will probably be enough to insure a good yield of seed. On the other hand, if the grass has been sod-bound and has shown a poor growth it will probably pay to apply 60 to 80 lbs. of nitrogen per acre to get best results.

—Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Strong were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wiberg and Donna Beth Watson and Renabelle, Kathryn and Billy Ryschon.

RE A Holds Annual Meeting at Ord Theatre Today

Three Directors Will Be Elected; De Bose to Speak.

The annual meeting of the Loup Valley Rural Electric Membership association is in session this afternoon (Wednesday) at the Ord theatre.

Featured in this afternoon's program is Roy De Rose of the University of Nebraska, who is speaking of Rural Electrification. Also on the program is an REA representative from Washington. An election of officers rounds out the business session.

Extension Clubs Hold Meeting

The quarterly meeting of the Valley County Council of Extension Clubs was held at the Legion Hall last Wednesday with an attendance of 30 presidents and secretaries. The meeting began at 1:30.

Mrs. Loten Good, the new county chairman, presided. Mrs. Eldon Sintek of North Loup was elected chairman for 1951. Mrs. Glen Cochran was re-elected secretary and Mrs. Gilbert Babcock, treasurer. It was decided to revamp the constitution. Mrs. Merlin Van Horn, Mrs. Gilbert Babcock, and Mrs. Vernon Thomas were appointed to the committee.

Tentative plans were made for the 1951 special projects. Children's clothes will be one of the new projects emphasizing comfort, simplicity and design and self-help garments. Simple sewing techniques will be stressed.

A second project will be training meetings on etching aluminum trays and if possible training meetings on upholstering will be held. The duties of the secretaries were discussed. The secretary's book was reviewed and explained.

Plan Short Course for Farm Operators

The College of Agriculture will hold its third annual Farm Operators Short Course at the 4-H Building, Ak-Sar-Ben Field, Jan. 22-27, inclusive.

The course is directed especially to farm operators but is open to anyone interested in farming, who wants an opportunity to catch up in new developments in agriculture and who is able to take a week for a refresher course. Instructors for the course will be Extension specialists and resident teachers at the College of Agriculture, and well qualified men in specialized fields. Subject matter will include Crops and Soils, Insects, Animal and Plant Diseases, Feeds and Feeding, Animal Husbandry, Dairy Husbandry, Farm Leases and other subjects of practical importance to the farm operators. Cost of the course is $3.00 only, for fees. Enrollment blanks and additional information may be obtained by calling County Agent Dale.

Cummins Gets First Look at Inside County Government; Doesn't Like It

M. B. Cummins, newly elected chairman of the Valley county board of supervisors took his first look at the inside workings of county government this week and reported that he didn't like it. "You can say that I'm very much disappointed," he said. "There are so many things that need to be straightened out, and I can predict a long period of real hard work for the other members of the board and myself before it's done."

American Legion Is Sponsoring 'Government Day'

High School Kids Will Be Elected to County Posts.

Plans for a "County Government Day" here were revealed this week by officials of the American Legion and high school representatives Tuesday, Feb. 6, was set as the date.

The project, which is sponsored by the American Legion posts of the county in cooperation with school officials, was scheduled following a meeting at Ord, Monday evening. Present for the meeting were Warren Baker, activities director for the Nebraska American Legion; Martin Dunklak, superintendent of schools at North Loup; Paul Owens of the Arcadia post of the American Legion; Ralph Norman and L. B. Woods, representing the county officials, and W. F. Fafeta, C. J. Mortensen, and C. D. Dale of the Ord Legion post.

The plan, as presented by Mr. Baker, calls for the election by ballot of a complete set of county officers from each of the high schools of the county. On February 6 these young officers will assemble at the courthouse in Ord where they will be assigned to the various county offices. After a briefing on the duties of the office, they will participate as far as possible in the day's office activities.

Boys and Girls County Government day is an educational idea that is "completely Nebraska." It was first proposed by Robert G. Simmons, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, and was adopted by the American Legion as a means of helping to create interest and develop a program of study and practice in county government.

The idea has been successfully used in many of the state's 93 counties.

Pictures Wanted for Servicemen's Column

Pictures — snapshots, studio portraits or prints are wanted of Valley county men and women in the armed services of our country.

The pictures will be printed in the Quiz special department and after printing, will be returned unclaimed to the owners. If your son or daughter is in service, please bring or send his picture to the Quiz, and tell us about him or her.

Three Ord Youths Found Guilty of Stealing Engine

Three young men from Ord have been found guilty of stealing a car engine from a Westerville garage site. The offense allegedly took place on the night of January 1. The three youths, Dale Manchester, Danny Mason, and Robert Rice, appeared in county court in Broken Bow, Tuesday morning, where Judge Morris Hoobler found them guilty and fined them $50 each. He also assessed court costs of nine dollars each and ordered restitution of $15 each to be paid to the owner of the garage. The judge allowed two weeks for the fines and costs to be paid, placing the three under probation at the Prob. Hall, sheriff of Valley county. Sheriff Glen Fox of Broken Bow and Sheriff Hall apprehended the three last week in Ord.

New Board of Supervisors Poses for First Picture

The new Valley county board of supervisors which met officially for the first time this week, is pictured here. At the left side of the table are seated Supervisor Hansen (the only returning member of the old board), Romans, and Hruby. County Clerk Woods, Chairman Bert Cummins, and County Attorney Ralph Norman are in the center of the picture, and Supervisors Roe, Knapp, and Sevensen are at the right.

Mid-Nebraska Night Baseball League Will Operate in '51

Preliminary Steps Taken Tuesday to Form 8 Team League.

Preliminary work toward reorganizing the Mid-Nebraska Night Baseball league for play in 1951 was done Tuesday evening at a meeting held at the Legion hall in Broken Bow. Ord was represented by four men, Walt Douthit, Gene Leggett, Rollie Johnson and Dick Beran.

St. Paul, Loup City, Boelus and Shelton were other towns represented and all of them, along with Ord, expressed desire to play in 1951 along the same general lines as were followed last season. Ravenna, Ansley and Broken Bow were not represented but it was reported that at least the first two desire to continue membership. Gibbon, Wood River and Sargent were mentioned as possible successors to Broken Bow, should that town drop out of the league, and probably there are other towns in this area that would be interested if an eighth member is needed.

Columbus Trips Ord for First Loss of Season

Chanticleers Are Weak at Free Throw Line.

Weakness at the free throw line cost the Ord Chanticleers their first loss in four outings, at Columbus, Friday evening. The final score was 42-38.

The Discoverers made good on 12 out of 23 free throws, while Ord hit the basket only eight times on 27 attempts.

The Chants got off to a slow start, trailing by a 9-5 count at the end of the first period. By halftime, Ord had fallen behind, 19-11, but after the intermission the game had a new look.

Penas dunked in three field goals while Maurice and Falter each added two. Meanwhile, the Columbus attack bogged down. At the end of three periods, Ord led by a single point, 27-26.

But the Discoverers rallied, and although Speke and Pope left the game on fouls, the Chanticleers could not maintain a lead.

Cummins Is Named New Chairman of County Board

Viggo Hansen Is Only Returning Supervisor.

M. B. "Bert" Cummins, freshman supervisor from the fourth district, was named chairman of the Valley county board of supervisors at the first meeting of the new board, Tuesday. Cummins was elected, along with five other new members at the Novemb election.

The only member of the board returning this year is S. V. Hansen of the seventh district.

The first session of the board was taken up with routine organization work. Hansen was named temporary chairman and presided until Cummins took the chair. Committees named by the new chairman are as follows: Roads and bridges; Knapp, Hruby and Romans.

Building and grounds; Romans, Sevensen and Knapp. Budget; Hansen, Hruby, and Roe. Bonds; Sevensen, Knapp, and Roe. Claims; Roe, Romans, and Hansen.

Settlement with county officials; Hruby, Sevensen, and Hansen. The new committees got to work immediately on problems which face the board.

Covert Named Janitor. Several appointments were made by the board. Among them was the naming of E. F. A. Barite as county physician. Dr. Barite had served before in the same capacity. The board also named L. H. Covert as court house custodian, pending the return to duty of Dave Haight. Haight has not been in good health for the past few months, and it may be several months before he can return to his job.

Sherman County Has 6638 Persons, Says County Board

Officials Receive Bigger Pay Boosts; Census Disregarded.

The Sherman county board of supervisors last week raised the population of their county by 300 persons. They did it the easy way, by passing a resolution. The recent U. S. census found the population of Sherman county to be slightly more than 6300. The county board determined it to be 6638.

Means More Pay. Under the population determination made by the board, the pay of the county attorney will jump from $1200 to $1400; the county clerk and county treasurer will receive $2000 instead of the $2300 they received during the present term, and the sheriff will get $2000 instead of $1600 as he got in his last term. The county superintendent will receive "at least" $2400.

Had the board determined the population to be less than 6500 (as the U. S. census did), the pay for county clerk and county treasurer would have risen only to $1800, as authorized by the 1949 Nebraska legislature, and the maximum pay for sheriff would have been $1600. The minimum for the county superintendent would have been only $1800. Nebraska county officials' pay breaks at the 6500 population level.

Will Have Assessor. The county assessor, Bert Chase, will have an office to hold. Had the board not held that the population was more than 6500, the county would not have had a full-time assessor at a salary of $2400 a year.

The Valley county board was faced with a population determination problem just before the November elections. Statute provides that counties with fewer than 8,000 persons are not entitled to a clerk of the district court. The U. S. census had revealed that the population of Valley county had fallen below the 8,000 mark and the county board passed a resolution to that effect. The office of the clerk of the district court was absorbed by the county clerk's office, and taxpayers in Valley county were saved the amount of the court clerk's salary — more than $2000 a year.

The New Plymouth Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan

Featuring improvements which produce unprecedented roadability and riding qualities, the beautifully redesigned 1951 line of Plymouth cars have numerous mechanical improvements and have retained their traditional roominess. Shown above is Plymouth's Four-door Cranbrook sedan.

New Plymouth Combines Beauty and Riding Ease

Detroit, Mich.—Spectacular new qualities which produce driving and riding ease heretofore unknown in automobiles of any price feature the new line of Plymouth cars. Combining smart new body lines with unprecedented interior luxury, the new Plymouth will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States Saturday, Jan. 13.

Designers have given the Plymouth a striking new silhouette, and innovations in the lowest price field. The styling improvements retain the traditional roominess of the cars.

Easier to drive and more comfortable, the new cars have greater beauty, more safety features and broader ranges of vision than ever before.

Engineers say the new "Safety-Flow ride" takes the bounce and wallow out of bumps. A new application of hydraulic flow control in the shock absorbers provides a more gradual change of resistance during spring deflections and thus a softer ride when driving on average roads. It also exerts extra resistance on rough roads to a degree where driver and passengers are almost completely freed of the discomfort of being jolted around.

The "Safety-Flow ride" is one of the greatest contributions to driving comfort and safety in recent years, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth Motor Corp.

"The new Plymouth gives you roadability never before offered in any car," he said. "There is no necessity for steering wheel fatigue to control the car on difficult roads. The driver is no longer required to focus full attention on the condition of the road. He may be more watchful of oncoming traffic, pedestrians, curves, crossroads and other potential hazards."

Eddins called the new development a major step toward restful motoring. More confidence is gained by driving or riding in a new Plymouth with the "Safety-Flow ride," and as a result there is less driver and passenger fatigue, he said.

A World of Nightmare.

For some seven years or more now we have been living in a dream world, dreams for some of us, nightmares for others. It all depends upon the point of view. To some it is a pleasant dream to have more money coming in than ever before in the family history. To others it is a nightmare to have expenses piling higher and higher with the constant increase of everything we have to buy.

The powers that be in the land are talking in pleasant platitudes of the dangers of inflation or depression, as though we did not have both with us right now. A terrific inflation of everything we have to buy, an inflated price of everything we have to sell, an inflated wage scale for everybody who works for a living. Against this is the depressed value of the dollar, now worth less than half what it was ten years ago.

This dream world is unreal, unnatural. It gives everybody a distorted idea of values. It makes the laboring man believe that he must have still higher wages to combat the cost of everything he has to buy. It gives the farmer the idea that he should have more still for the crops he has to sell. It gives all of us the idea that we should have a larger income to offset the added expense of living.

The reason this unnatural condition continues is that the politicians are afraid to take the initiative in getting us back to the old way of living again. The first party to fool with the wage problem will lose the important votes of labor, and the first party to suggest the removal of price supports will get it in the neck from the farmers. Everybody realizes we would be better off with lower prices and wages, but nobody has the nerve to do anything about it.

What we need today is a dollar actually worth one hundred cents. To accomplish this desirable end we must be able to buy a sack of flour for a dollar. A bushel of wheat or corn must not be worth more than a dollar, the man who is now drawing $60 per week must be content with about half that amount. It is time we got our feet on solid ground again.

Put prices back where they belong, and the present social security law will mean something. With a dollar worth one hundred cents a man can get along nicely on a monthly social security payment of $50 and an added $50 per month of his own earnings, something he cannot do in the era of high prices prevailing today.

Persons now receiving pensions of any kind will be able to get by on those pensions as it was intended they should and be able to enjoy a certain amount of pleasure in their old age, instead of trying to make one dollar do the work of two, as they are compelled to do under the present inflated prices!

Finally, the price of real estate has changed little, if any, while the price of the dollar was going down all the time the price of personal property was going up. Under present conditions a fast dollar can buy very little. With the value of the dollar restored our tax dollars would do twice the work they do today.

The tax problem is one of the most serious facing the people of the United States today, and that problem could be solved largely by getting all prices down where they rightly belong. We can hardly hope to continue living in a dream world from now until the end of time, and most people would prefer getting back to a more solid financial basis than we have today.

If confidence in the federal government is to be restored, it can best be done by a masterful decrease in prices and wages all along the line until a reasonable base is reached. This can only be done by statesmanship. Politicians figure only on the basis of votes. Today we have ten politicians for one statesman. The proportion should be reversed.

Unity Requires Faith. Today, as never before in the history of our nation, we require faith. If we have no confidence in the leadership of the people who represent us, both at Washington and abroad, we cannot hope to be fully unified in the mighty effort for survival that lies ahead of us.

The greater part of our people have viewed with alarm the inefficiency in the nation's capital, especially in the department of state. They have not as yet been fully informed of the nature of the commitments made at Yalta, at Teheran, at Potsdam. They do know that much of the fix we now find ourselves in came as the result of the commitments made there.

As a democratic people, we had the right to be informed of any agreement made that would affect us and our American way of life. The full information has never been made public. We do know that Russia must have been given a free hand in Asia in return for her help in defeating Germany, a feat we would better have accomplished alone.

This may explain the attitude of the state department with regard to help to nationalist China and to our hands off policy when the reds overrun that nation. Nothing was done, no attempt was made to tender aid to the most populous nation in the world. A little help at the right time might have kept that part of the world on our side. The American people would like to know why the U. S. troops were withdrawn from South Korea, giving the Communists a chance to all but conquer that country and making necessary the loss of thousands of good American lives in stopping the red horde and in driving them back to the Yalu river.

Encouraged by the wishy-washy attitude in Washington, the Red Chinese decided that they had little to fear from the United Nations, and today our troops are fighting a battle for existence, with the prospect of being forced eventually into another Dunkirk. A firm attitude from the beginning by a department of state that had a definite policy and held to it would have meant the difference between victory and defeat.

The others of the United Nations have little faith in the intentions of the United States, else they would be furnishing more troops and more arms in the fighting in Korea. It is hardly fair to call the war there a United Nations War. The United States is furnishing 90% of the troops and casualties, and about the same proportion of the machinery of war.

Much, and possibly all, of the trouble we find ourselves in today can be laid at the door of the state department, headed by Dean Acheson. Congressmen and senators, many of his own party, have no faith in him, and are demanding that he resign, but he refuses to do so, and he is being backed by the president.

So far as the president is concerned, the war in Korea is still a police action. We are in the midst of an undeclared war, which was started in my father's time and Mr. Acheson. The constitution states that war cannot be declared except by act of congress and that no foreign commitments may be made except as ratified by a two-thirds vote of congress.

Perhaps this is the reason it is spoken of as a police action, but there are as many men in action now in Korea as there were at any one time during the Civil War. The United States is full of capable men. Why in God's name do we have to put up with a man like Acheson at the head of the department of state?

Ward's Cookin' Column

I like to figure and I always did like to figure. Furthermore, I have a book called the Lincoln Library that is full of statistics. The other day I got the book out and turned to the page giving all the vital data about the presidents of the United States, and I went over it with a fine tooth comb, so to speak. What I found out about the men who have held the helm of the Ship of State through all our years as a nation might be of interest to others, so I am passing along a few ideas for what they are worth.

There are a total of 33 names in the list, but one of them, Grover Cleveland, is repeated, since his terms of office had an interim between them. On vital statistics, two of them, the present incumbent and Herbert Hoover, are still living, and so their names are not in the consideration. There is no telling how much longer they may live or what they will do while they are living. Five of them, including Washington, had only a common school education. Three of them, including Lincoln, were self-taught. Four of them were Harvard men, three attended William and Mary, two Princeton, and one Yale. All the rest of them had more or less experience in some college.

As to jobs, 22 were lawyers, three were army men, two were politicians, one a planter, one a publicist, one a teacher and one for the profession, it seems to me we have had entirely too many lawyers in the chief executive's chair. Six of our presidents, including the bachelor president, James Buchanan, who had a good excuse, had no children. One of them, William Henry Harrison, who spent much of his time away from home fighting Indians, had ten children. There was a total of 61 sons and 42 daughters, making an average of slightly more than three for each president. These figures do not include Hoover, Roosevelt nor Truman.

Now we come to the astounding part of this story, which some of you may not believe, but the figures are available in any public library if you want to check them. George Washington died by his own hand due to catching an unknown case of influenza, but his second president, John Adams, was also our oldest, living to the venerable age of 90 years. Our first president, including Washington, lived to an average of almost 80 years, missing that mark by only two years for the five of them. The first ten presidents, however, lived to an average of only 77 years.

Then come the figures for our first fifteen presidents, whose average age was only 74 years. The average for the first 20 was 71 years, for the first 25 presidents the average age came down to 69 years, and for the 30 who are dead the average is 67 years. Now, while all the time medical science has been busy increasing the span of life for the average individual, the span of life for our presidents has been constantly on the decrease. Of course a part of this decrease is due to the activity of three assassins, but this is one of the hazards of life that comes with the office, so I make no apology for including Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley.

There is an answer to this situation and it is not pleasant to contemplate. Our nation has grown to such an extent and the problems have increased so that presidents die before their allotted time if they had been engaged in less strenuous work. Time is the stuff life is made of, and the more of it we have, the longer we live. Yet, every four years a number of our leading citizens clamor for the honor of being the nation's chief executive. There isn't the slightest chance of J. L. being called to the job, and there never was. But, if such a contingency arose, you can bet your life you know what my answer would be. I'd rather fish.

I want to live in Nebraska for the same reason that I do not want to be president of the United States. Denizens of the Cornhusker state live longer than they do elsewhere, as has been found by a study of life expectancy all over the country. A prominent statistician has figured out that the average age expectancy of a woman in Nebraska is now 74 years as compared with a national expectancy of 71 years. The average expectancy for a man is 70 years, of four more than the national average. Can anybody give a better reason for wanting to live in Nebraska?

Our legislators in Washington have been working for years on different ideas to make it possible for a man to retire from active life at the age of 65 years, and some day we may hope to see that goal attained. Recently Rep. Sabath of Illinois established an all-time record of nearly 44 years service in congress, and he still has some time to serve. He doubtless is in favor of everybody else retiring from active work at the age of 65, and yet, when he has passed that age by nearly 20 years (he is 84) he is still hanging onto his job as lawmaker.

It is about time we awoke to the fact that the job of making laws for a country as large as the United States is too vital to entrust to the mentalities of doddering grandpas. Just why anybody wants to continue in office after he is 80 years old is something I simply cannot understand, and I cannot understand the ideas of a constituency that will continue to vote for a man of such an age on the strength of past performance. Sabath may have been a good man in his day, but nobody past 50 is qualified to hold the third highest position in the nation's government. The United States government through its many departments compels a large number of its workers to quit at the age of 65. Why, in God's name should our lawmakers linger on for another 20 years?

Here I have been listening to the radio, to a program of sacred music sponsored by the Belcher Beer Corporation and thinking of a year well spent—well, spent, anyway, when in comes a card from that old killjoy, Fred Wesley Coe, of Grand Junction, Colo. In it he makes some pertinent remarks in regard to my choice of the ten most thrilling events of my life. Well, he didn't say too much, so here it is just as he wrote it:

"You are a hell of a feller, writing about the thrills of your life and never a word about marrying your fine wife, P. S. Surely you were not that old when you got married or was it so long ago that you forgot to remember it? I'll bet you have heard about it since the last Quiz came out. Regards from your Old Friend, Fred W. Coe."

Well, Fred, I make no apologies for not mentioning my wedding in the top ten thrills. Somehow I consider that something personal between me and the Mrs., just as you and thousands of others probably consider your marriages. You and I and our wives are not kings and queens or movie stars, so our home life is our own. Incidentally,

Fred, I think you played in that basketball game against Central City back in 1903. In fact, you played a pretty good game, when the big boys didn't care to play. I recall you used to run the century in about 9.2 seconds, or possibly it was 10.2. Anyway, it was a bit faster than I could make it. Believe it or not, I can run just as hard today as I ever could, only I run too much in one place.

Something Different

You want to know what a little, dinky world it is?

Well, the Jess Kovandas decided on a southern Christmas holiday, and went by bus as far and fast as they could, clear to the southernmost tip of Texas, Brownsville. They enjoyed the things tourists usually enjoy, among them, Dorothy trotted up and down the beach.

Well, Mrs. H. D. Leggett was abruptly called to southern Texas because her daughter Merry was very ill and had lost a tiny baby. One day she was taken for a drive in the Brownsville region and ... who do you think she saw on the beach?

Right! I told you it was a little, bitty world.

Bess didn't know Dorothy was within a thousand miles, when she glanced out the car window and reported, "I'd swear that girl was Mrs. Kovanda, she looks so much like her, walking on the sand over there."

Of all the queer shortages, I can't imagine why there would be a shortage of baking soda! The war?

A strike, did you say?

It is so much more intelligent for senior business to be sprinkled throughout the year as it now is, in place of being crammed into the last bulging month of school activities.

For instance, taking senior pictures in the fall.

Issuing senior rings at the beginning of the last year of high school, in place of getting them at graduating time. The boys and girls enjoy wearing them that nine months.

Having the senior play early. The junior play too, for that matter. Once, they were a late-year event, crowded in.

Another Texas holiday-time coincidence was the way an Omaha car and a Valley county car passed one another now and again, in that big far-away state of Texas.

Each time, the 47-license car would honk at the Nebraska license, or vice versa, feeling that a friend was near.

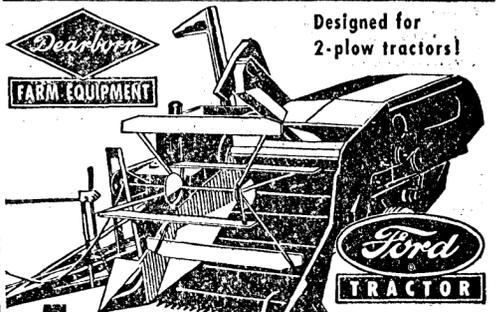

Come to learn, the 47-license car was driven by our Bruce Covey, who went to Texas to visit relatives, taking his family. An come to find out, the Omaha car felt a kinship with the Valley county car because of Ord relatives, since they were in-laws of Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing and had often visited here!

Say, these new license numbers are going to take some getting used to: sort of like learning your alphabet all over again.

Vernie Andersen is going around pointing out to every one that his initials are now being used on all our Valley county cars!

Vets Must Start School in Spring

World War II veterans in Nebraska who plan to take education and training under the G. I. Bill should enroll for the 1951 spring school term if they want to be sure of meeting the July 25, 1951 cut-off date requirements for starting G. I. Bill courses.

This was the advice given today by Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, who said veterans actually must have commenced their training by the deadline date. This means, he said, that the coming spring term will be the last opportunity for most veterans to enter or re-enter training prior to next July 25.

The VA official explained that the 1951 deadline applies to a vast majority of World War II veterans—all those who were discharged from service before July 25, 1947. Veterans discharged after July 25, 1947, have four years from the date of their discharge in which to begin training.

"A veteran must be undergoing training by next July 25, if he wants to continue his course after that date," Westmoreland said, "unless he has temporarily interrupted his course for summer vacation or for other reasons beyond his control. Once he completes or discontinues his G. I. Bill course after the deadline, he may not start another course."

Veterans must also meet the following two post-deadline requirements:

They will be expected to pursue their training "continuously" until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student, and they may change their educational objectives "only while in training, and then for reasons satisfactory to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs."

The VA has announced that special consideration will be given to four categories of veteran-trainees who, for reasons beyond their control, either may not be able to resume their training by next July 25, or may not be in a position to remain in continuous training afterwards.

These categories are: (1) veterans who have started G. I. Bill studies, and interrupt them to go back into active military or naval service; (2) veterans who completed pre-medical and pre-dental G. I. Bill schooling, and can get into a medical or dental school by deadline; (3) teachers who have been spending their summers taking training leading to a degree, and (4) veterans who complete G. I. Bill undergraduate courses and intend to go ahead with graduate training which would start after the deadline date.

Westmoreland emphasized that most veterans may not receive training after July 25, 1951, the wind-up date of the program.

The only exception, he said, consists of veterans who enlisted or re-enlisted between October 6, 1945, and October 5, 1946, under the Armed Forces Voluntary Re-enlistment Act. These veterans have four years from the end of their enlistment or re-enlistment period in which to begin G. I. Bill training, and nine-years from the end of that period in which to finish.

This new improved warning on tavern walls is an emphatic reminder of the law's stiff penalties to minors found guilty of misrepresenting their age to purchase beer.

The sign urges persons to notify the owner promptly when they see a minor obtain and drink beer.

Nebraska retailers want complete observance of the law and welcome every aid to prevent unlawful sales. In doubtful cases, customers are asked to sign "Sworn Statements of Age".

You Can Help
1—Never ask your retailer to sell beer contrary to law.
2—Don't object if he requests proof of your age. Be as good a citizen as he, cooperate in helping him operate his place legally and in the public interest.

Obituary

George Wilson Romine

George Wilson Romine died December 31, 1950, in Broken Bow, Neb., at the age of 89 years, 10 months and 18 days. Death was caused from the effects of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was born Febr. 13, 1861, in Door Village, Ind., the first son of James Romine and Helen Mar (Jackson) Romine. There was one older sister, two younger sisters and three brothers, all of whom preceded him in death.

When he returned at the close of the Civil War he moved the family who had been living with the maternal grandfather to Toppertown, Mich., which is located about 20 miles east of Benton Harbor. It has since been changed to Pullman, Mich. There his father worked in the lumber, clearing right-of-way for the Pere Marquette Railroad. It was here that he started to school with his older sister and younger brother. The school term at that time was three months duration. When George was about 12 years old his father moved the family back to a farm near Powder, Ind. where he grew to manhood.

It was here he learned to play the violin and became a fiddler of some renown. His services were in demand for old time dances throughout the community. In later years when old time fiddler contests became popular he participated and won several prizes.

By 1880 land in Indiana was becoming comparatively high priced so he headed the call of Horace Greeley and immigrated to Nebraska. He and a friend of the family came by team and wagon to Schuyler, Neb., taking 27 days. He related many interesting stories of experiences that happened during the trip. These arrived in the fall, taking a job of husking corn for a man by the name of John Van Huysen.

The next spring he moved to Sanders county near Wahoo. It was here he met Dollie Jane Mayo. In the spring of 1890 the Mayo family moved to Valley county and the next year he too moved there, where on January 1, 1891, he and Dollie were married at Ord.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, and two sons; Hazel I. Jeffres of Greeley, Dr. Marshall J. of Albert Lea, Minn., and George N. of Alliance.

A short service was held at Schuringer and Johnson Funeral Home in Broken Bow, Neb., at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 2, followed by funeral services at the North Loup Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. conducted by Rev. Albert C. Monkman, pastor of the Broken Bow, Methodist church with Rev. Carl F. Harbour, pastor of the North Loup Methodist church assisting. Interment was made in the North Loup cemetery.

Mr. and Mr. Luke Weekes of Ord were Sunday afternoon and evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boomer.

Russell Kerr, who is working at Cozad, as Western Union operator for the Union Pacific, was home Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Phelps and Mrs. Wilbur Rowe and two daughters who had been guests of Mrs. Stella Kerr and Mrs. Kate Palsler left Wednesday for Lincoln and Grand Island.

Mrs. Kate Palsler accompanied Harlon Palsler of Scotia to Big Springs Saturday and will spend a short time there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sample of Scotia were Sunday guests of Mrs. Fanny Sample and the Walter Thorngate family.

Mrs. Ora Barber was a Sunday dinner guest in the Fred Lundstedt home to celebrate Charles Lundstedt's birthday.

Cloyd Ingerson left the first of the week for Lawrence, Kans. Paul Jones went to Ord Wednesday where he attended a district meeting of Moorman salesmen.

A seven pound, nine ounce daughter was born Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Louie Smith at the Ord hospital.

A son, James LaVerne, was born Saturday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Bob DeNoyer at the Loup City hospital. He weighed eight pounds two ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dahlin of Ord were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Schudel were Saturday and Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Hastings of Houston, Tex., who had been guests in the home of his mother, Mrs. Vashti Hastings over the holidays left Sunday for their home. Mrs. Hastings had all her seven children home for Christmas.

Study Club Meets

The Mother Cabrini Study club met Wednesday evening, Jan. 3, with Mrs. Clark Weckbach. Topics for study for the coming year were discussed. The life of St. John Bosco, patron saint of January 31, was read.

Members of the club will entertain their husbands at a covered dish dinner at the E. L. Vogeltanz home on Sunday evening, Jan. 28, at 6:00.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner and family and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox, of North Loup, arrived home Sunday night after spending over a week in Texas. They spent a few days in San Antonio seeing the sights and went on to the Mexican border and the Rio Grande Valley. They report the weather being warm enough to go without coats. The group enjoyed seeing the fruit trees and especially the dates hanging from trees. While near the gulf they took a ride in a craft from Port Isabel to Padre Island and also a ride in a larger boat at Galveston. They returned home through Louisiana and Arkansas and stopped in Clarinda, Ia., to visit Mr. Horner's mother, Mrs. William Horner, at the Alfred Christensen home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hackel spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hackel.

—Saturday afternoon Billy Goff entertained eight of his cousins in honor of his seventh birthday, which was Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rowbal were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cummins.

—Howard Huff spent last Thursday and Friday in Omaha on business.

—Rev. and Mrs. Allen Strong, Rev. R. E. Daughette and Rev. Mrs. Eugene Olson were in Elba Monday attending a meeting of the Loup Valley Ministerial Association.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gail Highland of Riverton, Wyo., returned home Thursday after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petska, and other relatives.

—The J. J. Campbell family returned last week from a holiday vacation trip to Mississippi, the boyhood home of Mr. Campbell, and on as far as St. Petersburg, Fla., with many other interesting places also being visited. Mr. Campbell reports a boom up at Hattiesburg, Miss., where he was raised, and says over 3,000 new homes have been built there in the past year, including a 2-story residence built by his parents. Everywhere in the south, signs of great prosperity were noted. Weather was ideal for the trip, the Campbells agree.

—Sandra Swanek and Sairley Neumeier were Sunday overnight guests of Mary Ellen Daily.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geneski and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Rose spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peterson.

THE ORD QUIZ

The Loup Valley Region's Big Newspaper

Established April, 1882 THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1951 Vol. 68, No. 42

Missing Tax Certificates Returned to Valley County

Way Now Cleared to Settle George Satterfield Case

Bonding Company to Pay Balance of Shortage to County.

Almost a year after the shortage was first discovered, the way was cleared Tuesday to settle an $11,000 deficit in the accounts of the late George Satterfield, former Valley county treasurer.

Richard Satterfield, administrator of the Satterfield estate, and F. W. Moore, his uncle, appeared in Ord to turn over some $3300 in tax sale certificates which had been purchased by the former county treasurer with funds stolen from the county, and which formed the basis of operations for his illegal tax transactions in the past.

Will Reinstate Liens. County attorney Ralph W. Norman told the Quiz that the procedure to be followed will be for the county to ask the district court to cancel the tax sale certificates, made out in the name of T. W. Moore, and then reinstate them in the name of the county.

When the certificates are redeemed by the property owners, or legally sold to others, the amount received will refund the county for the Satterfield shortage, to the extent of $3,300.

Suit to Clarify Filed. In the meantime all owners of real estate and those who have an interest or lien in any of the property figuring in the Satterfield transactions have had a formal suit filed against them in district court to clarify title and interest in the property. The notice is published on another page of this issue.

Object of this was to force the missing tax sale certificates to be open, and to set up procedure for settling the case," Norman explained.

"Now that we have the certificates, we can go ahead and settle with the bonding company. This means that those who paid their taxes, or redeemed tax sale certificates, and were issued false receipts, and the taxes not credited, will have these amounts paid by the bonding company in the refund of the deficit in the county treasurer's office.

Records Completed. "It was necessary that we name everyone in this suit—even though they are only remotely connected with it, as the financial juggling done by Satterfield was so involved and complicated that we had to notify everybody," Norman said.

"In other words, those people who paid their taxes, even though they were issued phoney receipts and the amount of payment not credited, have nothing to worry about," the county attorney concluded.

Ord Baseball Club to Meet Thursday

The Ord Baseball club will hold its annual meeting at 8:00 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 18, in the basement meeting room at the Veterans' club, it is announced by President Gene Leggett.

"At this meeting tonight we will have business reports on the 1950 season, elect officers and make plans for 1951," Leggett said.

Everybody interested in baseball is invited and urged to attend including players, fans and contributors to the baseball fund.

Will Solicit from Door-to-Door in March of Dimes

Absalon Names District Heads for Campaign.

A door-to-door campaign is being used to raise funds to battle polio this year in Valley county. A meeting of the county executive committee for the March of Dimes was held Friday afternoon at the Nebraska State Bank, and plans were made for the campaign.

Chairman Stanley Absalon named his key district chairman at the meeting, and the drive is under way to top last year's mark of $2120 in donations.

Mrs. R. J. Mettenbrink is Arkadia chairman, Mrs. Emanuel Kapuska heads the Elyria drive, and the American Legion Auxiliary is in charge of the North Loup campaign.

In Ord, the three ward chairmen are Mrs. F. J. Osentowski, Mrs. James Ollis, and Mrs. Frank Clark, in the first, second, and third wards, respectively.

Mrs. Edward Kokes is rural chairman. She will coordinate fund-raising activities in farm areas over the county. Mrs. Joe Osentowski and Mrs. Floyd Beranek were named to take charge of solicitation among the business houses in Ord.

Need More Funds. "We have to raise a lot of money," says Stanley Absalon, who is heading the drive. "If this year is anything like last year, we'll need considerably more than the $2000 we raised last year."

In 1950, Valley county funds were depleted, and polio victims were aided by money from the National Foundation.

One half of the money raised here stays in the county for use in the hospitalization and treatment of polio victims. The other half goes to the national foundation, where it is used for research and for aid to hard-hit areas which have exhausted their own funds.

Last year, 13 patients were cared for by the Valley county chapter, and some are still getting help from the fund. Amounts spent for the care of patients ranged from $10 to $695.

Other officers of the Valley county chapter, besides Mr. Absalon who is chairman, are Mrs. Igin Pokraka, vice-chairman; Mrs. Ed Kokes, secretary, and Crawford Montensen, treasurer.

Union Prayer Meeting Tuesday

Under the auspices of the Ord Ministerial Association, another Union Prayer Meeting will be held Tuesday night, Jan. 23 at the Baptist church at 8 o'clock. A similar service was held at the Methodist church on December 19 with a splendid turnout and fine interest.

Since many people have requested that a union prayer service be repeated, the Association has made plans for this service. All are welcome.

Moore, Bjorklun, Do Basket-ballet

With the grace of a couple of ballet dancers, Ord's Bob Moore (number 52) and Minden's Bjorklun go into the air. Moore tried (and missed) this shot in the third quarter of the game, which was won by Minden.

Polio Funds Will Be Kept Within County

Stanley Absalon, county chairman of the "March of Dimes," has just announced that a recent resolution by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis allows county chapters to keep more than 50 per cent of net proceeds of the drive.

At the option of the local chapter, the funds may be kept here, with only excess funds going to the national foundation.

Floyd VanSlyke Dies in Hospital After Accident

Floyd VanSlyke, well known farmer living northeast of Ord, died in the Ord Cooperative hospital Thursday morning. His death was caused by injuries suffered in a fall from a telephone pole, earlier last week.

Mr. VanSlyke had served as lineman for the local farm telephone organization since its inception. It was while doing this work that he fell from a pole, suffering severe head injuries.

He never regained consciousness after the accident. Floyd Leland VanSlyke, son of Henry and Ann VanSlyke, was born near Ord on June 28, 1900, and passed away on January 11, 1951, at the age of 50 years, 6 months and 16 days.

He was married in Ord on February 21, 1923 to Elvina Thomsen and two children were born to this union.

Floyd served on the rural school board for several years and was reorganizer for the local farm telephone line since its organization.

He is survived by his father, Henry, and step-mother of North Loup, his wife, Elvina; one son, Ray, and one daughter, Laura Anna Hansen; also two sisters, Eva Huelmer of Lincoln, and Evalene Day of Cotesfield, and many other relatives and friends.

His mother, one brother, Arthur, and an infant sister, Maree, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at the Hastings-Pearson Chapel, Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Rev. R. E. Daughette officiating. Mrs. Mark Tolson sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Orin Kellison at the organ.

Palbearers were Herman Stowell, Edgar Roe, Joe Valasek, Axel Jorgensen, Steve Papiernik, and Harlan Jorgensen.

Burial was in the family plot in Graceland of the Ord City cemetery. The Hastings-Pearson Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

More Than 400 Attend Annual REA Meeting

More than 400 persons jammed the Ord Theatre Wednesday afternoon for the annual meeting of the Loup Valleys Rural Electric Membership association.

Wm. Hollands, manager, said "This is one of the best meetings we've seen."

Speakers on rural electrification were featured, and interesting films were shown.

Three directors were re-elected at the meeting, for terms of three years. W. H. Schudel, Ray Lutz, and Ray Carpenter won terms. Mr. Lutz is from North Loup while Carpenter is from Loup City and Lutz is an Arkadia man.

The Ord Chamber of Commerce served coffee and doughnuts at the meeting.

Immediately after the general meeting, a reorganization meeting of the board was held. All officers were re-elected for another term. Bill Foth is president; W. H. Schudel is vice-president; Clifford Goff serves as secretary, and Al Ratke is treasurer.

Chants' Next Two Games Are Away. The Ord Chanticleers will play a pair of basketball games away from home next week.

Appraisal Case Is Heard In District Court, Tuesday

Thieves Are Busy Judge Reserves Decision, But Says Action Was Legal

Burglars hit Arcadia Friday night, breaking into four stores, but made off with only about $12. Last October, thieves gained entrance to two Arcadia stores and netted over $600.

Victims of the burglary were Ramsey's, Weddel's, Deans', and Pierson's stores. The only place that lost money was Weddel's.

Bob Hall, Valley county sheriff, said that last week's break-ins probably were done by the same persons who visited Arcadia in October. In each instance, only cash was taken. No checks or merchandise were reported as missing.

The favorite means of entrance seems to be the removal of the lock of the front door with a vice grip wrench. In cases where that is impractical, the burglars bore a hole through the door and open the latch from the inside.

Whoever is doing it is not new at the game," Sheriff Hall said. "They don't leave enough clues so a fellow can get a foothold."

Asked Tax Relief. The plaintiff had contended that the county's contracts with R. E. Wilkins and Associates to re-appraise property in Valley county were void. The plaintiff also contended that the taxes levied by the county in 1950, following the re-determination of property values, were improper. The petition asked that the 1950 taxes be found illegal.

The county, represented by Ralph Norman, county attorney, and George Munn, maintained that the contracts with the Ohio appraisers were valid and that the 1950 assessment and taxes were legal.

Statute provides that a county board may appoint a committee to re-appraise property, and that the committee may choose assistants, subject to the approval of the county board.

Minutes Incomplete. In a surprise move, the attorneys for the plaintiff showed that the minutes of the county board of supervisors failed to show any approval of one of the two contracts which the county entered into with Wilkins and Associates.

The defense counsel tried repeatedly to question witnesses as to whether the board actually did approve the contract, even though the approval was not reflected in the minutes of the board. But the plaintiff's objections to key questions were sustained by the court.

Mr. Munn, in making the defense argument, maintained that the actions taken by the county board and the appraisal committee were done in accordance with the law. The plaintiff's argument, presented by Mr. Davis, contended that those actions were illegal. Mr. Davis, in his argument, suggested that the individual members of the board, at the time, the contracts were made, be held liable for the cost of reappraisal work done by the Wilkins group—a bill of some $18,000.

Rules for County. After hearing the arguments, the judge said he would take the case under advisement only because he felt that the county still could take some action to make the questionable contract valid.

The court did indicate, however, what the decision would be. He said that the county board certainly had the right to appoint the reappraisal committee and that the committee was not limited by statute as to what help they could employ. Therefore, the re-assessed values would hold, and the 1954 taxes would be legal.

Seek Robber of Cotesfield Store

Police are searching for the burglar who entered the Irving Hanzel general merchandise store at Cotesfield Sunday night. The thief took about $150 in cash, two men's jackets, and two men's sweaters.

Mr. Hanzel was in the store Sunday evening, but left about 8:30. A half-hour later his son Lumier went to the store and discovered the robbery.

A window next to the front door had been broken and entry had been made through the window. Howard County Sheriff Dan Schenck and the state patrol investigated the robbery.

One Dies, Another Injured in Accident. One Loup City man lost his life and another was critically injured in a traffic accident three miles west of St. Paul, Friday morning.

Earl Piper, 27, died in the accident, and Laverne Bukowski suffered a severe head injury. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital in Lincoln.

The car in which the two were riding struck a guard post after going out of control, turned over twice, and came to rest in a field. Both men were thrown from the car.

Mr. Piper, who formerly was employed by Romans Transfer of Ord, is survived by his wife and a son.

Joe Borden went to Sioux City, Ia., Sunday on business. He accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hill and Mrs. Borden as far as Columbus where Mr. Hill attended a postal meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Ringling, Denny and Jimmy and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ringling of Spalding visited with Mrs. Johnny Ringling in the Will McCarthy home Sunday.

Assistance department is a big business in our county and runs as much as ten thousand dollars a month, and with such volume mistakes are bound to occur. "I believe with the personal supervision of every board member in the allotment of direct relief in his district, in cooperation with our county assistance department, such mistakes can be avoided."

Quiz 'Makes' New Yorker Magazine

Yessir, the Quiz has finally "made" The New Yorker. This ultra-sophisticated humorous publication written by New Yorkers for New Yorkers saw fit in its Jan. 13 issue to pick up and reprint an item from the Quiz. (See photographic reproduction above.)

Apparently all Quiz readers understood from the item that Mrs. Misko had the high score at the bridge party, even though The New Yorker got a different interpretation.

Anyway, we're glad to have the publicity for Ord and for the Quiz, and in addition it will teach our young reporters to word their items more carefully in future.

In the meantime we'll continue to read The New Yorker carefully, hoping to catch them "with their slip showing" some time.

Will Hold Stock Management Meet at North Loup

Thursday, Jan. 25, Is Date for Big Farm Conference.

A livestock management meeting has been scheduled for January 25 at North Loup, according to County Agent C. C. Dale. The meeting is for farmers of this area.

Dale said the meeting will be held in the community hall, starting at 10 a. m. Speakers from the College of Agriculture will discuss feeding and management practices, disease control, and control of livestock parasites and insects. Some appropriate films will be shown.

Dr. S. W. Alford, extension veterinarian, will include the following subjects in his discussion: "Biologic warfare and what it could do to our livestock industry," "Brucellosis, trichomoniasis, and anaplasmosis in cattle," and "Diseases of sucking pigs."

W. V. "Bill" Derrick of the animal husbandry department will discuss "Protein supplements in wintering livestock," "B-12 supplement and antibiotics in swine rations," "Pasture feeding," and "The livestock outlook."

Robert Helm, entomologist, will cover the subject of insects and parasites affecting livestock production. Also on the program is a proposed panel discussion by several local stockmen, on various phases of feeding and management.

Plans are under way to have a lunch available at noon at the meeting place. The meeting is open to the public and "everyone is invited," says Mr. Dale.

Pays $20 Fine for Writing Bad Check

Stanley Satterfield of Taylor pleaded guilty in county court Wednesday morning to a charge of writing an insufficient-fund check on the Bank of Taylor.

The check was given to Syl Bogus of Elyria in the amount of $25.30.

Judge Ellsworth Ball, Jr., fined Satterfield $20, plus $12 in costs—a total of $32.

'Bum' Phillipps Talks at Scout Parents Night

"Bum" Phillipps, well-known Burwell fur buyer, entertained the members of the Ord Boy Scout troop and their parents Thursday evening at the monthly "parents night."

Mr. Phillipps, who buys and sells many thousands of dollars worth of furs every season, had samples of the furs of many Nebraska animals, as well as some animals not found here.

Mink, otter, muskrat, beaver, fox, and other skins were shown during the demonstration. Mr. Phillipps told a great many interesting anecdotes and stories from his vast store of information about furs.

He estimated that he will buy 1,000 mink pelts at an average price of $23 each and 12,000 muskrat hides at from $1.75 to $2.50 each, during the present season. Present market on skunk, civet, coyote and raccoon pelts is very low, he stated.

Furs are a hobby as well as a business with Mr. Phillipps, and Boy Scouts and parents alike were fascinated by his lecture.

New Judge Hears Three Minor Cases in Week

Ellsworth Ball, Jr., the new county judge, heard three cases during the past week.

Delbert Benson pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication in court, Monday. He was fined $10 and costs. Benson was arrested Saturday night by Patrolman Otto Zapp.

Failure to display a rear light on his vehicle cost Walter J. Gray $10 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty before Judge Ball.

Everett Boettger appeared in court Tuesday afternoon and pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident. His truck and a car driven by Ed Beranek were involved in a minor accident on highway 11, Sunday. Boettger was fined $10 and costs.

Two speeding cases also were heard recently in county court. Fred Koelling drew a fine of $25 and costs and Frank Kovarik was fined $10 and costs.

Chants' Next Two Games Are Away

The Ord Chanticleers will play a pair of basketball games away from home next week.

On Thursday they will meet Albion and they will travel to Ravenna Friday evening.

Earlier in the season, the Chants eked out a one-point win over the Ravenna squad. Bill Gogan's lads will be trying for a win by a larger margin when they meet the Bluejays next week.

Havenna boasts a fine new basketball floor and their team is enjoying a fairly good season.

Mrs. E. C. Munn Dies

Mrs. E. C. Munn passed away early Tuesday evening after a three weeks illness.

Funeral services will be held at Hastings-Pearson Chapel, 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon with Rev. Glen Williamson officiating. Burial will be in Graceland Cemetery in Ord.

A complete obituary will follow next week.

To Hold Open House

Mr. and Mrs. George Watts will hold open house on Tuesday, Jan. 23, in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Anyone is welcome in the afternoon and evening.

Marilyn Cook Is New Ag YWCA Treasurer

Marilyn Cook, daughter of Dan Cook of Ord, is the new treasurer of the Ag campus Young Women's Christian Association at the University of Nebraska. She will serve for the 1951 school year.

Miss Cook, a sophomore, was formerly music chairman of the YWCA. She is also secretary of the Ag Religious Council and of the Ag Interdenominational Fellowship cabinet.

Cummins Says He Was Wrong; Relief Check Cut Because of Burial Money

M. B. Cummins, chairman of the board of county supervisors, who last week said that he had his eyes opened unpleasantly on his first investigation of the county relief set-up, told the Quiz today that he had been caught up in a technical error.

"When I said that an aged lady had her check cut back to $20 because she had received Christmas presents of cash, I was in error. Actually I find that her regular allotment of $51.00 had been cut to $20.00, because the old lady had $37.00 more than the $3000 the relief allow in the fund she had put aside to bury herself someday. The Picture Has Changed . . .
Farm life has changed since Mr. McCormick invented his reaper. Better equipment, scientific training, constant efforts to improve the soil, help the American farmer to satisfy American appetites, produce enough extra to feed half the world. Scratch him, and you'll find a businessman. He lets his bank help him build bigger barns, raise more cattle. And you, as depositors, help to increase his crop output, serve America's future.

The March of Dimes.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, established some thirteen years ago by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, holds annual drives for the raising of funds to fight this dread disease. The public has always responded generously to these calls, known as the "March of Dimes," but the need today is greater than ever before.

The foundation found out early in the fight that, while funds to ease the needs of those afflicted were vastly important, the means to carry on research was vital. The aid to those already attacked did nothing toward eliminating the cause. Today a great deal is being done along that line, and the time may come when this most crippling of all diseases can be conquered.

One of the earliest activities of the foundation was the awarding of scholarships and fellowships. Started in 1938, a total of 2562 of these had been awarded up to Nov. 15, 1940. The number in each state varies according to population. New York is high with 376, while Nevada, rather free from the disease, has only one. In Nebraska 29 have been awarded.

During the year 1950, with records available only until Dec. 2, a total of nearly eight million dollars was advanced to 990 chapters located in nearly every state in the union. The largest amount, $655,520, went to the 58 chapters located in Texas, while the one chapter in Nevada drew nearly $1,500. Nebraska's 19 chapters drew $61,105. Rhode Island and Georgia drew none.

The foundation has just passed through three of the worst years in its history, with the disease attacking more children than ever before, and for this reason all funds are practically exhausted. What conditions would have been without the active campaign made against polio is impossible to determine but terrible to contemplate.

Polio struck down more than 30,000 children and adults in 1950. Some of these recovered without crippling effects, but many died and other thousands were crippled for life. Half the money raised in all polio campaigns remains with the local chapter to be used for local patients or be sent to aid others in time of epidemic.

It is hardly necessary to urge upon the readers of this paper the need to furnish funds to fight this disease. Many local people have fallen victim, especially in the past three years. Some have died others will never walk normally again. We all would gladly give that they might walk, but for them it is late.

Funds are needed to strike polio at its source, to eliminate the cause of the disease, to learn just what that cause is. Funds are needed to get quick action on all polio cases to give them the best medical care possible as soon as the disease is recognized, and not after it has become established.

More Laws.

Congress is now in session and the state legislatures are in session. These are the law-making bodies of the land, therefore they must be making laws. In spite of the fact that there are laws on our statute books that even many lawyers do not know exist, it seems that we must be plagued with a lot more laws.

Our American way of life is becoming more and more complex. We develop new ways of living or enjoying life, and new laws are required. Fifty years ago there were no highways. There were no autos, trucks or busses to run on those highways. The auto was still in the experimental stage.

Fifty years ago there were no airplanes, no radios, only a few telephones. In fact, we had practically none of the gadgets that we find so necessary in our homes and our lives today. When these inventions were made, laws had to be made to control their use. As they were improved, new laws had to be made to keep abreast with inventive genius.

It would not be so bad, if, for every new law enacted, one of the old laws might be taken off the books. Sometimes this is the case, but not always. More often only a part of the old law is eliminated and new sections to meet the new requirements are added. In the end we have a long, cumbersome, unwieldy law that no layman can translate and over which even the lawmakers have differences of opinion.

Laws are the price we pay for our modern way of life. Highway regulations were few indeed before the coming of the automobile, but now the laws concerning traffic alone fill a large book, and the laws superseded by later ones would fill a large book also.

Again this year, if the session follows the usual pattern, from 300 to 500 laws will be passed by the unicameral. All of these will have been considered worthwhile, or the majority would not have voted for them. The work of each session is enough to fill a large book of law, and this has been going on since Nebraska became a state, March 1, 1867.

All laws actually stem from the decalog as it was given by God to Moses, and no law has ever been passed that could not be classified under one of them. In fact, if every person today learned the ten commandments and lived up to them, we would have no occasion for our present multiplicity of laws.

A law is not actually a law when it is made. It must still stand the tests of the courts, when and if anybody wants to appeal it to the courts. It is a common saying, often expressed that "There ought to be a law." It is likely to be stated by anybody, any time. What we need today is not more laws, but more justice.

Population.

In the past decade the population in the rural areas suffered because of a condition over which nobody can exercise any control. Farming, which had a start in that direction long before, became almost completely mechanized during the ten year period, and the few hopes still remaining will probably disappear before another decade rolls around.

Under the system of horse farming, farms were small, running from a quarter section to a half section in most cases, with a part of this land in pasture and hay for the benefit of the horses and the other stock the farmer owned. Farming expenses were not as high as they are today, and it was not necessary to farm extensively to make a living from the soil.

Today all that is changed. With the possible exception of chickens, many farmers today are running their farms without any stock of any kind. For this reason, the soil of the former pasture and hay land has been put into production, and the modern farmer is farming more extensively and intensively than his predecessor dreamed of doing.

Today it costs ten times as much to farm as it did the days of horses and horse machinery. Some farms are being farmed with a line of machinery that cost more than the farm would bring if put up at auction. For this reason both extensive and intensive production is vital.

Many a farmer today is farming two to three times as much land as his father farmed. Because of hybrid seed and the possibility of getting the crop in quickly when conditions are just right for it, he is getting a larger return per acre. Because of soil conservation he is taking better care of his land and building it for the future.

So far the picture looks fine, but there is a fly in the ointment. Since each farmer is farming more land, and must farm more land because of his increased cost of farming, we find fewer people on the farms. Farmsteads are being deserted at an alarming rate, while much of the farm land near town is farmed by people living in town.

Because of the heavy taxes on improvements, many of these farms have had the buildings taken off, and many more will be denuded of buildings before the present trend is stopped, if it can be stopped. Meanwhile, everybody is depleting the loss of population on the farms, but nobody has come up with a solution of the problem.

We cannot go back to the horse and buggy days, for that would be a movement directly opposed to progress. The time has come when about the only use we have for horses is to bet on them. If the present trend continues we may see the time when all farmers will be living in town and traveling back and forth to work.

With only about half as many living on farms in Nebraska as there were a few decades ago, we cannot hope to see the rural population increase. It is also a fact that families, on the farms as well as elsewhere, are decreasing in size. In Valley County the noticeable drop in births during 1950.

In view of all these facts, it seems that we have reached the saturation point with regard to population. Most of the available territory in the United States is filled to the limit, and any further increase in population would bring about crowded conditions which would eventually approximate those of China.

Nature has a way of taking care of things. In China the surplus population is drowned in floods, dies of starvation or at the hands of time being killed in war. Here in America we are becoming more conservative in the raising of families. From here on we would do well to stress quality rather than quantity.

Ernest Coats writes me a letter that may offer you some food for thought.

"Of course I read your column as do a lot of other farmers. This may be of interest to them. "While Horace Travis, our weather man, was fishing out 26 inches of rain for Valley county, my son Wayne who now lives in Oregon, where he is an electrician on Bonneville Dam, writes me their official rainfall there for 1950 was 102 and 10-100ths inches.

"John Ward likes to compare prices, now and then, and he does not back far enough. In 1895 when I was getting married, corn was 13c a bushel. I sold 100 bushels of corn to get married on. "A fellow could get married several times on 100 bushels of corn now at $1.46 a bushel.

"Eggs were seven cents a dozen then, and fat cattle six cents a pound. We bought 160 acres of good farm land for $15 an acre and built our house, barn, granary and corn crib for $1,000.

"And you could hire a good man at $1 a day, for I did just that."

I wonder what a newspaper would be like if it printed all the wild rumors that float around the town, in place of printing facts.

Let's see: Someone was stealing bikes from all the kids. Really! Someone butchered three beautiful steers in the front yard of someone away on a vacation trip. They took all the meat and left the hides and innards, right in the front yard!

Those four loud explosive noises last week were them, dynamiting ice jams on the river. You know there is a big ice jam above the bridge at Burwell!

No, the explosion was Irma Leggett's pressure cooker! The teacher who quit was pregnant, another rumor said. She had all her teeth out. No, she had four teeth out. HE has to have all HIS teeth out and he is So Young.

The Oklahoma killer drove right through Ord.

Several young Ord ex G. I.'s are winding up their business affairs and expect to be drafted away from their homes and young families, right away. Yep, again. Blank Blank's are selling out. I sure they're selling out. Right away.

None of the above are true. But they float around the town. You can hear them, or tales like them, repeated over the nine o'clock coffee cups, and relayed by the ten o'clock coffee drinkers, and the 10:30 a. m. stragglers. And the 3 o'clock beer drinkers. And the diners at the Club in the evening. Or the ladies at Kensington, or the stoppers who visit on the square.

Rumors, rumors. They are so fascinating. So much more interesting than what REALLY happens.

Which, in a small community, is and should be, not too much of anything. Because we behave ourselves pretty well, hereabouts. We get up early, work hard all day, eat three times, and the day's excitement is probably having to spank the baby.

Or having a flat tire to change, "and it only had 300 miles on it, too." Bank robbers, and big fires, and murderers, as a general rule, don't seem to care for our easy, comfortable rural ways. They prefer life in the Big, Big City.

Thank goodness! —Irma

Ward's Cookin' Column

By its methods the government is encouraging the people to be dishonest. You may think I am crazy, but I will give you a few pointers to prove the point. I know an ex-convict man who not so long ago was drawing a pension of $50 per month. The pension was contingent on the supposition that the recipient was partially disabled because of his war service.

He found that he could not live on the pension alone, and he had no other source of income, so he took a part time job, which was necessary in order to live. Result he found that his pension had been cut down because the government claimed that the fact he was working showed that he was no longer entitled to so large a pension. It took him a year to get his pension back where it had been, and from that time until he died he did very little work, and never, under any circumstances, would he accept pay by check or when a third party was present. Maybe he wasn't strictly honest, but he was as honest with the government as the government was with him.

I do not have to say much about the old age assistance proposition. They say it is not so strict now, but there was a time not too many years ago when, if a pensioner worked and it was found out, the amount he had been paid was deducted from his next month's check. This might not be so bad if the checks he receives would be sufficient to keep him in comfort, but they are not. Further, this method is placing a premium on illness. The law should be so planned that a person would be encouraged to do a little extra work. The man who quits work entirely is the most unhappy man on earth. The law should give a man a chance to cut down on the amount of work he does, and not quit work entirely.

Then, there is the new social security law, designed to make it better. Possibly it is better for some people than the old law, but for many it is far worse. The man with a check each month of less than fifty dollars may earn up to $50 in work covered by social security. But this makes a total of less than $100 upon which he has to live. He cannot live in the way to which he has become accustomed on that amount, so he cannot accept the checks, which makes the law a mockery. In his effort to get by he may lie about the amount he actually receives, but the trouble is he has to make out an income tax report, and the amounts in each case must coincide. If he lies in his income tax report, regardless of whether he would have enough to pay income tax on or not, he has laid himself liable to the penalty of the law. The social security law should be amended to make it possible for all persons over 65 to draw their checks regardless of the amount they earn.

Then there is the case of the young man who has been pronounced a total disability because of war service. He will never be able to perform any hard or active work, but he is able to get about and enjoy himself. He is now drawing a full pension of $150 per month. In spite of the fact that he has been given total disability, he is required to report periodically for examination, and has been given to understand that, in case he shows enough improvement, his rating will be changed and his pension will be cut down. In his case, if he is totally disabled, that should settle it and he should be entitled to the full pension. But they keep that sword of Damocles hanging over his head by assuring him that, if he ever gets any better, he will lose part of his pension. Instead of encouraging him to try to make something of himself, they are encouraging him to maintain his present status, if possible.

Maybe I am crazy, but either I have earned my social security checks, or I haven't. If I have, I should receive them without any questions about what I happen to be doing as a side line to help keep up the family ladder. If I haven't, then I am not entitled to the checks under any circumstances. Personally, if I cannot draw those checks without the government meddling in my personal affairs they can take them and stick them where they will do the most good. I have always been able to get along, but found that, under the old law I could work all I wanted to as my own employer and still draw the checks. The new law does not permit this, so now I am going back on full time work.

I wouldn't mind this so much, but at the end of the year I will have to pay in 2 1/2% of what I have earned during the year in social security. The way I figure it, I haven't a possible chance of increasing the amount of the checks I will receive, since they already have been nearly doubled over the amount I actually earned. I have gone into this in detail because I am one of thousands of men in the same situation in the United States, men who were drawing their checks and who will no longer be able to do so under the new law. To them the new law is a farce, or, more correctly speaking, a tragedy. It listens good, but it simply don't work out.

My father had several trite expressions, one of which was: "Laws are made by lawyers." This is true, and perhaps those lawyers who drew up the new social security law saw an opportunity to save the government millions of dollars that should be paid to men past 65, but which they would be unable to accept under the restrictions imposed. The law was actually put on the statute books by act of congress, but it was drawn up by lawyers, none of whom would even think of accepting a social security check under the conditions required by the law.

The boys have been having quite a lot of fun this fall trapping, and at the same time most of them have made pretty good money to pay them for their trouble. It is surprising what will get into a trap set for something else. One trapper reports that so far he has caught, in addition to his regular animals, two field mice, a crow, an opossum and a duck. About the best day's report comes from Ned Larlin, who has out quite a few traps. He went out the other morning and brought in a mink, a skunk, a coon and a muskrat, which was certainly quite a variety.

Trapping was quite a proposition in the old days, when the country was new, but the average trapper was at the mercy of the fur buyer. I recall one man who trapped through the winter, caught over one hundred muskrats, sent the pelts to a buyer who advertised that he was paying from 50c up. When the check came back he found that he had been allowed 15c each. There was nothing he could do about it because the pelts were gone and he could not get them back. Today there is no such chance of losing money, since prices are standardized and do not vary much, regardless of where the furs are sold.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, head aches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if you have kidney trouble. It is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause wetting up nights or frequent passages. But in fact your kidneys—if these conditions bother you, try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. While often over-the-counter, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts. It's the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Ignatius Klima, Jr., Former County Clerk, Is Dead

Native of Ord Held Office for Five Terms.

Ignatius Klima, Jr. for many years one of Valley county's most prominent citizens, died Saturday at the home of a son, Robert, in Baytown, Texas. He was 58 years old.

From 1927 to 1945 Mr. Klima was county clerk of Valley county. After his resignation as clerk, he moved to Seattle, Wash., where he was with the Veterans Administration.

Funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. R. E. Daughette officiating.

Mrs. Viola Kellison played two organ solos, "The Old Rugged Cross" and the Largo movement from Dvorak's "New World Symphony."

Pallbearers were Ralph Norman, Wm. Misko, Roy Severson, Alfred Hill, Ed F. Beranek, and O. E. Johnson.

The American Legion, VFW, Eastern Star Chapter, and the Ord Lodge 103 A.F.&A.M., attended in a body. Burial was in the Ord City cemetery, with Hastings-Pearson mortuary in charge of arrangements.

High School Gym Glassford Speaks at Dinner Flooded Friday

Ord high school doesn't boast a swimming pool, but you wouldn't have known it had you looked into the auditorium Friday morning.

Sometime Thursday night, vandals had turned on six shower heads in the north dressing room, and by Friday morning the dressing room, auditorium, corridors, vocational training room, and several basement rooms were flooded.

The vandalism was discovered about 5:30 a. m., when a group of students met at the school to leave for a choral clinic at Albion. Ordinarily, the janitor begins work at 7:00 a. m.

"We probably won't know for some time just how much damage has been done," commented C. C. Thompson, superintendent. "But it would have been much more serious if we had had wood floors." The only wood floor covered by water was in the manual training shop.

The auditorium floor is covered with mastic and the corridor floors are of terrazzo.

Law enforcement officials theorized that someone entered the building between 11 p. m. Thursday night and 1 a. m. Friday morning.

"Thanks, Bill," says John Sullivan, president of the Ord Cosmopolitan club, after the University of Nebraska football mentor had addressed the annual Cosmo football dinner. Sullivan, at left, was toastmaster. Grid squads of Ord and Taylor were honored at the dinner. — Swopes photo.

Two Draw Fines for Intoxication

Two men, Floyd L. Welniak and Edward Potrzeba, drew fines of $10 plus $1 in costs in county court Monday morning.

Judge Ellsworth Ball, Jr., levied the fines after the two had pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication, filed by County Attorney Ralph W. Norman.

They were arrested Sunday night by Patrolman Otto Zapp.

Last week, David Traver paid five dollars and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

Solos from Ord Field, Saturday

Believed to be the first woman to make her initial solo flight from the Ord airport, Mrs. Russell Zangger of Larchwood, Iowa, tells instructor Charles Zangger, "I wasn't scared a bit." She soloed in a 125 Swift plane after six hours and ten minutes of dual instruction.

'No Such Thing as Moral Victory,' Claims Glassford

State field supervisor Emma Feith of Grand Island will meet with members of the Valley county board Friday to explain rules and regulations of the state assistance department as they relate to county welfare.

The meeting will be an all-day affair, the morning session open to the public and the afternoon session a closed meeting. The open meeting is for the purpose of instructing the newly elected county board members on their obligations and powers relating to county relief. Individual cases will be discussed and reviewed in the afternoon meeting.

New Management for Ord Baseball in 1951 Season

Rollie Johnson, Mgr., Jim Gilbert, President; League Plan Okayed.

The Ord baseball club will be under new management in the 1951 season. Meeting at the Veterans club Thursday night, players and fans elected R. M. Johnson, as manager of the club to succeed Walter Douthit, Jim Gilbert as president, replacing Gene Leggett, and Otto Niemeyer, Jr. as secretary to succeed Harold Christensen.

All three of the retiring officers announced before the meeting that they would not accept reelection to their previous positions but would continue to work for the good of Ord baseball. Leggett and Douthit, along with Wm. Novosad, sr., were elected directors of the club, to advise and assist the new officers.

The club endorsed continuing membership in the Mid-Nebraska Night league but instructed officers to demand that the league increase admission charges from 50c to 75c at night games this summer. Admission fees of 50c with the government taking 20% through an excise tax, do not produce sufficient revenue to allow the club to operate on a sound basis, experience has proved. It also was decided to sell advance season ticket books good for the 14 home games at $8.50 each.

The Ord team ended the 1950 season with a deficit of about $125 but paid out more than $200 for permanent improvements at the baseball field and bought equipment worth over $1,000 which will be usable again in 1951. All debts have been paid and play-off proceeds divided among the players.

Hollie Johnson, the new manager, has had years of experience in amateur and semi-pro baseball and for the past several seasons has managed a team at Richmond, Calif., so he is regarded as an ideal choice for the position.

Walter Douthit announced his intention of continuing as coach of the Ord midlets this season and Bill Heuck, it is thought, will coach the Jr. Legion boys.

Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing went to Grand Island Tuesday to meet her mother, Mrs. Mark Holm, who has spent the past five weeks in Santa Ana, Calif., with her sister, Mrs. A. Rasmussen. While in California Mrs. Holm also visited Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Meyer in Los Angeles.

Auto Registration Business Is Brisk

License plate sales have been brisk so far this year, says County Treasurer Lloyd Wilson.

Motor vehicle registrations are running well ahead of last year, when bad weather hampered transportation.

A total of 2,247 registrations were made during the first three weeks of 1951, compared with 1,674 registrations during the same period in 1950. Deadlines for obtaining new plates is February 1.

"We registered as many vehicles during the first three days of this year as we did in the first seven days last year," commented Mr. Wilson.

On January 2, the first day the new alphabetical system plates went on sale, 384 sets were sold at the county treasurer's office.

March of Dimes Is Off to Good Start; More Needed

Collections in First Week Are About 750 Dollars.

The March of Dimes got under way in Valley county this week, with more than $750 being collected so far in the campaign. Stanley Absalon, chairman of the drive here, said that house-to-house canvassing was progressing "pretty well."

"We're going to need a lot of money," said Mr. Absalon. "We don't want to end up with a deficit this year."

The Valley county chapter wound up 1950 with unpaid bills totalling nearly $750 when an epidemic of 15 cases exhausted the local chapter's funds and forced a call for help to the national foundation.

Of the first receipts, more than $500 was collected from business places in Ord.

Many People Working.

The house-to-house canvass is being made by volunteer workers who are soliciting funds in Ord, Arcadia, North Loup, and Elyria. Following is a roster of the solicitors in Ord:

First Ward: Mrs. Corwin Cummings, Mrs. Joe Rajmon, Mrs. Asa Anderson, Mrs. Elsie Putak, Mrs. Henry Janus, Mrs. Melvin Clement, Mrs. Jake Severson, Mrs. Russell Rose, Mrs. Walt Douthit, Jr., and Mrs. Dean Misko.

Second Ward: Mrs. Alfred Hill, Mrs. Roland Norman, Mrs. Ralph Craig, Mrs. John Cook, Miss Dolbie Waterman, Miss Vivian Zukoski, Miss Mickey Whiting, Miss Mary Jo Clayton, and Mrs. Wm. Nelson.

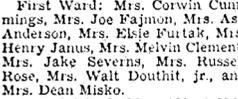

Third Ward: Mrs. John Wojtasek, Mrs. Vic Wehliak, Mrs. Charles Ackles, Mrs. Wm. Goff, Mrs. Ivan Anderson, Mrs. Ed Mason, Mrs. C. G. Rout, Mrs. Leslie Freeman, Miss Isabelle Krason, and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Ed Swopes' Father Dies in Omaha

Charles Swopes of Omaha, one of the oldest members of the carpenters union and a life time carpenter and contractor, passed away January 18, in an Omaha hospital. He has been in poor health the past six months. Funeral services were held at 2:00 o'clock Saturday in Omaha.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Lucile Freeman of Los Angeles, Calif., one son, Ed Swopes of Ord and a stepson, Daniel Donahue of Omaha.

Mr. Swopes went to Omaha last Tuesday to be with his father. He returned home Sunday evening.

Primary Elections Are Held in Ord High School

Primary elections to choose officers for "County Government Day" were held at the Ord high school, Tuesday. On February 6, the county's high school students will occupy courthouse offices in an endeavor to gain a working knowledge of our government. In this picture are Joyce Huebner, Don Christensen, Don Waterman, Lorene Petska, Betty Blaha, Karen Burrows, and Russell Clement.

School Kids Will Govern County for One Day

American Legion Is Sponsor of Education Plan.

A full slate of new county officers will take over for one day—the running of the county on Tuesday, Feb. 6.

It will be "County Government Day" for high school students, sponsored by the American Legion.

On that day the high school students who have been elected to fill the various offices will get firsthand experience on how the county is governed.

Students from the junior class will be elected in Ord, and juniors will be given preference in North Loup and Arcadia. Each school will elect a full staff of county officers, with the exception of the supervisorships. A total of seven supervisors will be named.

A primary election was held in the Ord high school Tuesday. Students cast their ballots in the approved manner, using booths and other equipment borrowed from the city. Classes were divided into two parties, Nationalist and Federalist.

On February 6 the elected officers will spend the day at the courthouse in Ord observing the administrative procedures. A luncheon at noon will have a guest speaker, probably one of the district judges.

The Boys and Girls County Government day is sponsored in many of the state's 93 counties by the American Legion to enable high school students to observe more closely the workings of county government.

Counting ballots is an essential part of any election. Here three girls of the junior class act as an election board in Tuesday's primaries at Ord high school. From front to back: Karen Smets, Amelia Novosad, and Dorothy Urban.

Don Ballard Is New English Instructor

Don A. Ballard arrived in Ord the first part of this week to begin his duties as English and journalism instructor at the high school.

Don A. Ballard.

Mr. Ballard, who graduated from the University of Nebraska at the end of the first semester of the current school year, replaces Mrs. Billie Rutten who resigned her position last month.

A veteran with 14 months of service with the army, Mr. Ballard taught in the Gothenburg junior high school for one year. He majored in English at the university and did considerable writing for campus publications.

Norfolk is Mr. Ballard's home town.

March of Dimes Dance Tuesday

The fifth annual March of Dimes dance for the benefit of the infantile paralysis funds will be held Tuesday evening, January 30 at the Ord Bohemian Hall. Music will be furnished by Ray Palmer and his orchestra.

The dance is sponsored annually by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

Geis Outlet in Richmond, Calif.

The Shadelite Marquee Co. announced this week that it has appointed Ristenpar Bros. of Richmond, Calif., as dealers and assemblers of the Shadelite aluminum marquee in the northern California and eastern Nevada area.

Ord Co-op Hospital Has 626 Patients in Its First Year

During the first year of its operation, the Ord Cooperative Hospital cared for 626 patients, 200 of whom were held at their annual meeting, Thursday at the Knights of Columbus hall. Of these 626, 89 were obstetrical cases, 79 underwent major operations, there were 131 minor operations, and 220 medical patients. Ninety babies were born at the hospital, 55 girls and 35 boys.

Archie Geweke, president of the hospital board, tendered his resignation at the meeting. Glen Auble, who was vice-president, assumed the presidency, with Almond Brox being named as the new vice-president. Alen Papiernik was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Three members of the board, Glen Auble, John Sullivan, and Lucile Pearson, were re-elected for three-year terms.

Profits Re-Invested.

The annual financial report showed that after one year of operation, the hospital is paying its own way. The profits for 1950 have been re-invested in necessary equipment and supplies. "The only way to give our community the best possible medical care is to have the best possible hospital equipment," said a board spokesman. A total of $3,351 was spent on new hospital equipment last year, and several major improvements are being planned for this year.

The association passed a resolution extending thanks to the hospital staff for the splendid work done, and for the staff's loyalty and cooperation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaefer spent the week end in Holdrege with Mr. and Mrs. Loren Young.

Weed District Will Meet Wednesday

The Valley County Noxious Weed Eradication district will hold its annual meeting at the courthouse next Wednesday, January 31. The meeting, which will begin at 2 p. m., will have on the agenda the election of officers and the fixing of assessments.

All real estate owners who have land outside the incorporated municipalities are urged to attend the meeting.

Henry Amus is chairman and manager of the district and George Clement is secretary of the district.

History of Nebraska Can Be Found in Guide Books to the Old West

The statement that "the guide books of today the historical records of tomorrow" is borne out by the value of many of the old guide books to the West issued to facilitate the westward movement of the American people. One of many such books in the State Historical Society's library is Edward H. Hall's, "The Great West: Railroad, Steamboat, and Stage Guide and Hand-Book for Travelers, Miners, and Emigrants to the Western, Northwestern, and Pacific States and Territories, published in New York in 1860.

"For those going across the plains, Hall recommended Atchison, Leavenworth, St. Joseph, Nebraska City and Omaha as starting places. From Nebraska City the traveler would find, "a new tri-weekly line of excellent stages running to Fort Kearney, making the trip in forty hours. Fare $15." The time and fare from Omaha to Fort Kearney were the same as from Nebraska City.

"At Fort Kearney," the Guide warned, "the emigrant bids adieu to civilization, and thence onward must rely upon his own resources, striking out boldly for new regions." He might take passage on one of Ben Holladay's stages, however, which would put him in Salt Lake City in nine days.

Regarding Nebraska as a potential home for emigrants, Mr. Hall was quite optimistic. He wrote: "Considering its recent settlement, Nebraska is a place to live, almost every article of consumption being abundant. Pork sells at 5 cents per pound; flour, $2.50 to $3 per cwt.; eggs, 8 to 10 cents per dozen; chickens, $2 per dozen; and other articles in like proportion."

The prospects for employment were good. "Unskilled labor is in great demand, and readily commands high rates. Farm hands find ready employment at $18 to $25 per month, with board. Carpenters, blacksmiths, bricklayers, and mechanics generally make from $2 to $3 per day."

Land was fertile and easily available, under the Homestead law or by purchase. "As a general rule," Hall wrote, farms can be bought at less than the cost of improvements, owing to the constant emigration to the adjacent gold mines of Colorado and Idaho."

There were no railroads in the territory, but Hall pointed out that their absence was more than compensated for "by excellent wagon roads, which furnish ready means of communication between the river towns and the interior at all seasons of the year."

He issued this warning: "Be on your guard . . . against Land Sharks, a species of amphibia to be found here, as well as in some of the older states; a very accommodating set of fellows, who are only too glad to assist, if they can only succeed in swindling you. Beware of them."

Millionth Traffic Victim Will Die

"Accident X" will kill the millionth American in traffic during 1951 or early in 1952, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies predicted. The millionth victim will be a young man, named "Victim X," who will die in a traffic accident.

Nearly 900,000 men, women and children have died in traffic accidents since 1900, the Association declared. The 1950 toll of more than 35,000 deaths, which reflects a strong upward trend in fatal accidents during the past year, indicates that the millionth motor fatality will occur next December or early in January, 1952.

"Accident X" will not be reported as such, it was pointed out by Julien H. Harvey, manager of the Association's accident prevention department. His victim, like the Unknown Soldier—just one of the month's statistics—will be "known but to God," he said. The new unknown American, typifying a million lives lost in traffic in 50 years, may be a speeding or drinking driver, a woman shopper who tries jaywalking, or a child at play in the street.

"Accident X is just around the corner," Mr. Harvey continued. "Its nearness should remind all of us, every day this year, that automobiles will kill another million people in the next 30 years instead of 50 years, unless Americans become quickly and firmly safety-conscious and each one does his part in preventing traffic accidents. Every person who doesn't nominate himself to become Victim X, or the statistic of some other accident that is just around the corner.

"The rapidly mounting accident rate shows that we are fast becoming a nation of habitual traffic gamblers. Millions of drivers and pedestrians need a real session of soul-searching to tell themselves how often they are breaking the traffic rules that mean safety to all. When millions of Americans stop this gambling in traffic, the accident toll will drop rapidly."

Mr. Harvey pointed out that nearly 7,000 lives were saved in 1938, after highway accidents had killed 39,913 persons in 1937—the second worst year in history for traffic deaths. "An all-out national highway safety crusade could save 10,000 lives this year, postponing the death of 'Victim X' well into 1952, the veteran safety expert observed.

"The rapidly mounting accident rate shows that we are fast becoming a nation of habitual traffic gamblers. Millions of drivers and pedestrians need a real session of soul-searching to tell themselves how often they are breaking the traffic rules that mean safety to all. When millions of Americans stop this gambling in traffic, the accident toll will drop rapidly."

When You and I Were Young

Ten Years Ago.—Darrell Bauder of Hastings was the new FSA Valley county director in place of Clarence C. Davis, transferred to Broken Bow. —Joe O'Brien, former Ord resident, died in Omaha and his body was brought to Ord for burial.—Fourteen Valley county men were being called up for military service. —A. C. Hutchins, 38, and Lyle Cox, 16, were killed in a truck-wreck near Scotia Junction. —Dean Adams, 17, died later.—Ign. Klima, county clerk, was guest speaker at the Rotary club and explained the workings of the budget law.—Rev. Thomas Skudowski was installed as pastor of the Ord Catholic church.—Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kelsch arrived home from their wedding trip to California.—Will M. Maupin of Omaha bought the Clay Center Sun.—Edwin Rousek began his duties as ag teacher in the Ord schools.

Twenty Years Ago.—Coach Joe Kiejci went on a rampage to score 26 of his teams 36 points to beat Warners Roamers, a traveling outfit from Hancock, Ia.—Donald Marvel, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marvel of Arcadia, fell from his bicycle while dodging snowballs, received a concussion of the brain and died.—The date of the opening of the new Ord Theater had been set for Feb. 12 by Eliza Jara Bismond.—The stockmen of the Ericson area had organized for combatting crime.—Clayton Ward was chosen director of the National Duroc Jersey association to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Keith Neville of North Platte.—Eliza Jara Bismond passed away at North Loup at the age of nearly 90 years.—A fire inspection revealed 414 fire hazards in Ord to say nothing of a lot of others the inspectors failed to find. Since that time most of them have no doubt been corrected, but others have developed, but the Ord Volunteer Fire department has kept fire hazards down to a minimum in recent years.

Thirty Years Ago.—Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Rove were starting a series of revival meetings at the Ord Christian church.—Leo Graul wrote a very interesting letter from Westbrook, Minn., on the snow storms there and the low prices being paid for grain.—According to the income tax law as it stood then, the head of the family got an exemption on any amount under $2,000 per year.—W. L. McNutt, in a letter to the Quiz stated that good times were ahead for the farmer who was not misled by the promises of governmental help but who would be willing and able to stand on his own feet. No doubt this would be as true today as it was then. James C. Wisda was cashier of the Ord State bank and made a trip to Omaha in the interests of the banking business.—The Ord Knight of Pythias was planning to join the national organization in observing their anniversary on Feb. 18.—A delegation of Ord firemen were at the Nebraska state convention at York and were reported to be having the time of their lives.

Forty Years Ago.—The North Loup Methodist church was destroyed by fire while a social was in progress, with a loss of $2,000. —Geo. Johnson was severely burned while trying to put out the fire.—Mrs. J. E. Tolon passed away on Jan. 13 at the age of 54 years, her death being due to paralysis following an attack of the flu.—Thomas Darnall, speaker for the anti-saloon league, was severely bruised when he fell from the Burlington train at York.—The Loup County News was agitating the idea of corraling the waste water of the Loup river and using it to furnish transportation from Ord up the river to Brewster or farther. The idea is still feasible.—Mrs. Edna Shirley Norton had signed as teacher in Dist. 60, effective Feb. 3.—Pending the selection of a new postmaster, W. L. McNutt was acting in that capacity.—Otto Hagemeyer had moved to North Loup and had bought the cafe and fixtures belonging to V. H. Earnest.

Fifty Years Ago.—Miss Ella Bond was to give a piano recital at 7 p. m. at the Ord Baptist church.—John Marsh had rented the vacant room in the Odd Fellows building and was planning to use it for the display of his line of wagons and buggies.—Alva Rockwell of Ord and Miss Pearl Gillespie of Scotia were married at Ord by Judge R. L. Staple, Jan. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Haskell went to Omaha to attend the annual meeting of the Nebraska State press association. —Horace M. Davis was also in attendance.—Siler Brothers resided at North Loup. —The Barber shop were looking for new locations, as Peter Mortensen planned to tear down the wooden buildings and erect a new building in their place. This is now the location of the City Bakery and Jay Brown's Gambler's Hall.—H. E. McMillen had his plans all made to open up a general merchandise store at Kent by the first of March.—One of the first closing-out sales was being held at North Loup by the firm of Simpson and Good, who claimed to be selling dry goods, shoes, hats, caps and groceries at just what it would cost to get them to North Loup.—Prof. S. S. Gillespie was superintendent of the schools in Ord and he made a report of attendance for the first half of the year to the Ord Quiz. The total attendance at that time was 225, of which 65 were in the primary department, fifty in the intermediate department, 46 in the second intermediate department and 61 were in grammar and high school.

Sixty Five Years Ago.—Alvin Laverty walked in on his father, Judge A. A. Laverty, who had not seen him in six years and who had given him up as dead. He had spent most of the time while he was away in Dakota and Montana.—L. D. Bailey, Ord's new merchant, was opening up for business on the north side of the square with a fine line of dry goods.—Billy McMullen had his plans all made to open up a general merchandise store at Kent by the first of March.—One of the first closing-out sales was being held at North Loup by the firm of Simpson and Good, who claimed to be selling dry goods, shoes, hats, caps and groceries at just what it would cost to get them to North Loup.—Prof. S. Lift Restrictions on Allotments
Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan has announced that there will be no acreage allotments on the 1951 crops of corn and wheat.

The lifting of restrictions is expected to give a substantial boost to the nation's food supply, the secretary said.

A price support of not less than $1.99 a bushel for the 1951 wheat crop was announced earlier—the same support level now in effect on the 1950 crop.

The secretary also stated that "if parity is higher at the beginning of the 1951-52 market year, the support will be increased to reflect 90 per cent of parity at that time, but in no event will the support be less than $1.99 as a national average."

Ord Students Go to Music Clinic

Thirty-seven Ord high school students went to Albion early Friday morning to attend the sixth annual two-day music clinic there. They were accompanied by Wm. Nelson, music instructor at the high school. The group went by chartered bus.

This year's clinic at Albion was under the direction of J. N. Gerrow, well-known music educator from Iowa State college.

Friday and Saturday were spent in rehearsal, followed by a concert for the public on Saturday night.

Representing Ord were: Charlene Severns, Delores Blaha, Beth Edwards, Adeline Dubas, Jean Huff, Roberta John, Pat Wozniak, Barbara Nay, Janis Poccock, Carol Struckman, Rosalie Blaha, Marian Severns, Gladys Kokes, Ellen Jean Foth, Lorraine Sech, Joanne Whitting, Dorothy Blaha, Rachel Ragland, Donna St. John, Marianne Gnanter, Darlene Novosad, Amelia Novosad, Charlene Blessing, Jeanette Kokes, Margaret Heuck, Janet Coleman, Russell Clement, Herman Kapustka, Lonnie Eby, Frank Fuss, Virgil Witherway, Frank Leggett, Dennis Knopik, LeRoy Iwanski, Don Sorensen, Dale Falter, and Arvin Bredthauer.

Ask Lump Sum in Satterfield Case

An application for lump sum settlement in the amount of $2,725 was made in District Court at Broken Bow Jan. 9 by the parties in the suit of Olivia Satterfield et al. vs. the Farmers State Bank of Sargent, according to the Custer County Chief.

The requested sum represents approximately 45 per cent of the amount sought by the plaintiffs in an action started in July, 1930, in the Nebraska Compensation court charging that the Sargent bank was liable in the death of George A. Satterfield. The suit was brought by Mrs. Satterfield for herself and in behalf of two minor children, Ellen, 18, and Linda Sue, 8. A son, Richard, appointed administrator of the Satterfield estate, was not a party to the suit. Satterfield died Jan. 2, 1930, after being burned the preceding day by a kerosene stove in the bank. Satterfield, former Valley county treasurer, was employed by the bank as a $70-a-week cashier.

The defendants requested an autopsy be performed to establish cause of death, which, they said, was "obscure." The plaintiffs resisted the application, partly on the wording of the statute which would allow the autopsy, and partly for sentimental reasons. After a hearing before Compensation Judge Albert A. Arms, an order for performance of autopsy was issued Oct. 27.

In agreeing to the lump sum settlement, the bank in the application denied liability, but agreed to the settlement on the condition it constituted a final release of responsibility.

Schaper & Schaper, Broken Bow represented the defendant; Davis & Vogelitz, Ord, were the plaintiffs' attorneys.

May Fish for Trout All Year

Nebraska anglers received another boost as the State Game Commission announced that effective Feb. 15, the trout season will open on a year-round basis. Last year the season ran from April 1 through October 31. By bringing the trout season on a 365-day basis, there is now a continuous season throughout the year on all species of fish found in the state. The bag and possession limit on trout was cut slightly to partially offset the longer season. The bag and possession limits are now 5 and 5 as compared to 20 pounds plus one trout but not more than 10 trout in 1950. As an indication that Nebraska's introduction of white bass is doing exceptionally well, the Game Commission doubled the bag and possession limits to 10 and 10. The white bass is rapidly becoming popular at the state's numerous reservoirs. The daily bag and possession limits on crappie were cut to 10 and 10 from 15 and 15. A 25-bag and possession limit was placed on perch. In order to give the thousands of stocked fish in new Endors and Medicine creek, to a distance three miles upstream from the backwater of the reservoir, was also closed. The minnow situation in Nebraska has taken a drab outlook in recent years. The shortage of minnows has become so acute that commercial seining may be prohibited in a few years. In attempt to forestall any such move, the Commission ruled that seining or seining for bait is prohibited within 200 yards of any dam, creek or spillway in the state. Individuals can, however, continue to take bait in those areas if they use dip nets not exceeding 12 inches in diameter with one-quarter inch mesh of non-metallic material.

Crowd Market at Omaha Monday

On total supply that crowded the 45,000 mark, Omaha Monday was biggest livestock market in the land. Included in the run were 18,000 sheep, also No. 1 nationally and most at Omaha since October 1951. King-sized sheep supply didn't faze feeder lamb trade; feeder lambs sold 50c-$1.00 higher, $34.25 to mostly $35.00 and $35.25, the latter a record price. But fat lambs lost a quarter, their first decline since mid-December. Woolled bulked at $35.00-$35.25, shorn at $32.00-$32.25. Last week woolled lambs reached a record $35.50, shorn a record $32.50. Slaughter ewes Monday continued scarce and were quoted steady, scattered sales $14.00-$18.00, quotable peak $20.00. Swine supply was lighter than a week earlier and hogs sold 50c-$1.00 higher, butchers weighing 150-200 $19.50-$21.00, sows to 600 $17.25-$19.00; stags $12.00-$15.50. Fat cattle trade was unevenly steady to 50c lower, generally best going on weights 1000 pounds down. Bulk cleared at 32.00-$34.50, better steers and yearlings $35.00-$37.00, top steers $38.50 and $39.25, latter mark a 13-month high. Best heavy steers were 1400-pounders at $35.00. Heifers weighing 1100 sold to $34.00. Plain to medium shorted slaughter cattle brought $28.00-$31.50. Cows sold steady to 50c lower, canners and cutters $21.00-$23.00, beef to $26.00; heiferettes to $27. Bologna bulls again sold to $28.00, beef to $20.50; vealers to $35.00. Stocked and feeder trade was mostly steady; stock cows strong to 50c higher. There were stock cows to $25.00, a few at a record $26.00. Bulk of stock and feeder steers brought $32.00-$33.50, with light yearling stock steers to $36.00, and yearling feeding heifers weighing 700 to a record $31. Plain to medium stock steers brought $32.00-$33.50, comparable stock heifers $26.00-$29.50. Stock calves bulked at $33.00-$39.00. Best heifer calves $37.00. Among larger shipments of hogs at the Omaha market Monday was one from Emil Dlugosh of Valley county, 50 head averaging 248, selling at $20.50. A Wheeler county shipper, Joe Haura, had high-selling hogs at the Omaha market last week, 9 weighing 1096 that sold at $26.00.

Apprehension May Cause Motion Sickness

Few persons suffer from motion sickness, but those who do find only misery in travel. Alcohol taken before a trip disposes one toward motion sickness in any of its forms. People who think they will not be sick if they empty stomachs when embarking on a flight, a rail trip, an automobile jaunt or a steamship voyage use false logic, he says. A light meal of easily digestible food is preferable to no food at all. Motion sickness is the general term for the nausea that afflicts some travelers no matter what kind of transportation they use. It goes under the name of air sickness for air travelers and sea sickness for steamship passengers and various terms for other modes of locomotion. But it is all the same thing. The cause of motion sickness, like the cause of the common cold, has never been pinned down to an ultimate source. Some authorities believe motion sickness results from a confusion between the eyes and the body's stabilization mechanism. Others believe that abnormal motion, such as the swaying of an automobile or the pitching of a ship at sea, affects the organs of balance. There is no question that apprehension plays a large part in many cases. But one's physical condition is perhaps more important at any given time. Alcohol, greasy foods, apprehension and morbid physical condition predispose the traveler toward illness.

How to Check Strength, Quality, of Turkish Towel

Samson's strength was in his hair; that's a well-known fact. Unlike Samson, the strength of a Turkish towel is in the backbone or ground weave of the towel. That's something many women don't know. Women with no knowledge of this hidden level of strength fail to examine the fabric underneath the loops of a terry towel which makes up the ground weave or underweave. Yet, it is this ground or underweave which best indicates how well the towel will wear. What this underweave does is to hold the towel loops in place, take the strain of pulling which accompanies towel use, and act in the capacity of a sponge in absorbing water from the surface loops. Only an underweave which is firm to the touch, closely and tightly woven, will impart strength to a Turkish towel and hold the loops securely.

What Is Julian Day?

The Julian day calendar, used chiefly by astronomers, eliminates all ambiguities due to years, centuries, B. C. and A. C., etc. for it is simply a count of the total number of days that have passed since Jan. 1, 4713, B. C. So that the date will not change in the middle of a night's observations, the Julian day begins at noon instead of midnight. J. D. 2,433,283 began at noon on Jan. 1, 1950. In order to find the J. D. number for the afternoon and night of any date in 1950, just add to 2,433,283 the number of days that have elapsed since Jan. 1.

Elect Reclamation District Officers

At the regular monthly meeting of the Directors of the Loup Basin Reclamation District held at the Court House in St. Paul Monday evening at 8 P. M. the following officers were elected for the year 1951. Peter I. Badura, Ashton, President; George Semler, Sargent, Vice President, and A. E. Dwehus, Danneberg, Secretary-Treasurer. Cy Shaugnessy, St. Paul is the Attorney for the District. The directors now serving the District are Harold Grinn, Dale D. Price and George Semler of Sargent, Marvin H. Price, Milburn, Alvin Christensen, Rudy Manasil, Martin Sack of St. Paul, Ray Lewandowski and Charlie Lukaszewicz of Farwell, Peter I. Badura of Ashton, Anders Nielsen and Arnold Krogh of Danneberg. Plans were discussed to have the present Reclamation Act amended by our State Legislature to make it possible for other areas not now included in the District to join the District and committees are to be appointed to facilitate and promote further development for the District.

Obituary

ANSEL H. HANSEN Axel H. Hansen, son of Peter and Christina Hansen, was born May 12, 1873 at Wahoo, Saunders County, Nebraska, and passed away on January 16, 1951 at the St. Elizabeth Hospital in Yakima, Wash., at the age of 78 years, eight months and four days. In his early childhood, he moved to Chambers, Neb., with his parents. His father passed away there. At the age of 21, with his mother, brothers and sisters, he moved to Arcadia. In 1901 he homesteaded in Garfield county. On May 12, 1904 he was united in marriage to Fannie E. Alderman. They made their home on a ranch 18 miles east of Burwell, until 1946, except for two years, which they spent in Cottage Grove and Tillamook, Ore. On June 7, 1943, they moved back to Ord, where they made their home until July, 1947, when they moved to Ainsworth. On account of ill health on October 1, 1947 they moved to Yakima, Wash., where they made their home until the time of his death. Besides his wife, Fannie, he is survived by three step-sons: Charles Alderman of Wapato, Wash.; James Alderman of Bremerton, Wash.; and Burton Alderman of Rawlins, Wyo.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Pearl Schamp of Yakima, Wash.; whom he had raised since childhood; two brothers, Ernest Hansen of Sidney, Mont.; and Albert Hansen of Ainsworth. Three sisters preceded him in death. Also left to mourn his passing are eighteen step-grandchildren and twenty-two great step-grandchildren. Services were at the Shaw and Sons Chapel, Friday, January 19, 1951 at 1:30 p. m. Rev. D. L. Swerdfeger officiated. Chalmers Nance was vocalist, and Miss Gertrude Miller, organist. Pallbearers were Alfred Archer, Ralph Brooks, Harold Baker, Robert Early, Ray Cordie and Ben Ough. Burial was in the Terrace Heights Memorial Park. —Quiz want ads get results.

Otoe Indians Lived in Circular Thatched Huts; Farmed Crudely

An interesting report on the condition of the Otoe Indians in eastern Nebraska more than a century ago is found in the journal of Colonel Henry Dodge's expedition to the Rocky Mountains in 1805. Colonel Dodge and the First United States Dragoons were sent on this 1,600 mile march to explore the country and to conduct a series of talks with the Indians. The Otoes, then living at their village near the present town of Yutan in Saunders County, were the first of the tribes with whom such talks were held. The Dragoons reached the Otoe village on June 10th, after having been en route from Fort Leavenworth since May 31st. According to Lt. G. P. Kingsbury, official journalist of the expedition, "The village was very neat in its appearance. The lodges were built of wood, thatched with prairie grass, and covered with dirt. They were of a circular form, with a pointed roof about ten or twelve feet high to the break of the roof, and about fifteen or twenty feet high in the center. They built their fires in the middle of the lodge, leaving an opening in the roof for the smoke to escape." They tried agriculture, but even though the soil of the Platte Valley was fertile, they had a rough time of it, by white standards at least. They planted their corn wherever they could find a rich and fertile spot. They had no fences and were obliged to watch their horses to keep them from destroying the fields. Colonel Dodge, addressing an assembly of chiefs and warriors, reminded the Otoes that their father in Washington was solicitous for their welfare and was anxious to have them exchange their "warlike arms, intended only for the destruction of each other, for implements of husbandry."

NEW 1951 Chevrolet

AMERICA'S LARGEST AND FINEST LOW-PRICED CAR!

It has that longer, lower, wider big-car look!

Here's America's largest and finest low-priced car—the newest of all new automobiles—as trustworthy as it is thrifty to buy, operate and maintain.

New with that longer, lower, wider big-car look! New in its strikingly smarter Fisher Body styling and beautifully tailored Modern-Mode interiors! New in safety, new in steering ease, new in feature after feature!

Moreover, it's thoroughly proved in all things, from the finer no-shift driving of its Powerglide Automatic Transmission,* or the finer standard driving of its Synchro-Mesh Transmission to the fleet, frugal performance of its Valve-in-Head engine.

Come in—see and drive America's largest and finest low-priced car—Chevrolet for '51—the only car that brings you so many big-car advantages at such low cost!

PLUS TIME-PROVED POWER Glide

AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION
—proved by more than a billion miles of performance in the hands of hundreds of thousands of owners.
*Combination of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. Engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

EVERYONE TALKS ABOUT THE

All over America, on big farms and little farms, it's proving itself "The Year Round Tractor" . . . winning fame for all "round performance, all 'round the farm, all year 'round.

You'll respect the Ford tractor for the way it buckles down to heavy jobs of plowing or discing. You'll like it, and Dearborn Equipment, too, for the way you can do such jobs as scraping, leveling, loading, ditching, terracing, excavating, digging post holes or saving wood. Most Dearborn implements lift or lower at a touch on the Ford Hydraulic Touch Control. Ask for a demonstration.

Hold Rites for Mrs. E. C. Munn

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock for Mrs. E. C. Munn, 87, of Ord. Mrs. Munn was among the pioneers of Valley county, coming here shortly after her marriage to Edward C. Munn in 1888.

She was born Anna Irene Aldridge, to Charles and Amelia Aldridge, at Queen City, Mo., on April 29, 1863.

She came to Nebraska in 1880, and after a year and a half returned to Missouri. On Feb. 5 of that year, she was married to Edward C. Munn. To this union were born five children: Mrs. Ida Cooper of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Mary McClure of Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Ada Bossen of Grand Island, and Ernest and Wilson who preceded her in death.

Mr. and Mrs. Munn returned to Nebraska shortly after their marriage and lived in or near Ord the rest of their lives. They were able to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary before Mr. Munn's death in 1940.

Mrs. Munn was a charter member of the Christian church in Ord and was a good Christian mother and homemaker. She was the last surviving member of a family of 11 and leaves to mourn three daughters, eight grandchildren, ten great grandchildren, a number of other relatives and a host of friends made during her long and active life.

Glen Williamson, minister of the local Christian church, officiated at the services Sunday afternoon at the Hastings-Pearson chapel. Mrs. Lucile Tolon sang "Going Home" and "Saved by Grace," accompanied by Mrs. Viola Kellison at the organ.

Funeral directors were Edward F. Beranek, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Robert Noll, Mark Tolon, Dr. G. R. Gard, and Horace Travis. Burial was in the family plot in Grace-land of the Ord City cemetery.

Mrs. Arthur Ferris and Mrs. Edna Collins assisted with the flowers.

Mrs. John Wieberg and Janice of Burwell and Mary and Judy Meese spent the week end at the James A. Meese home.

Leonid Hambro Is Next Artist in Concert Series

Famed American Pianist Performed First at Five.

Leonid Hambro, noted American pianist, will be presented in concert by the Loup Valley Municipal Concert association on Monday, January 29.

Leonid Hambro.

Already recognized as an outstanding artist, Mr. Hambro gave his first public performance at the age of five. From that youthful beginning, he went forward to attain a status of eminence as a Columbia recording artist and official pianist for the New York Philharmonic Symphony orchestra.

Is Navy Veteran. Following his discharge from the Navy in 1914, and in association with Joseph Szigetti, famed violinist, young Hambro made an extensive tour of the United States and Canada. Since then he has constantly been in the public eye as concert soloist, guest artist with symphony orchestras, radio star and recording artist. Notable among his radio appearances have been his performances on the Telephone Hour, and with the Longines Symphonette.

While in the Navy, Mr. Hambro frequently received requests to perform "boogie-woogie" concerts. This was a far cry from his years of study, but being an artist with his feet on the ground, it was not long before he was anxiously looking forward to more performance of this type. Not only, he says, was he deriving a genuine musical satisfaction from the intricate and peculiarly American rhythms of "jive," but he loved to be able to bring pleasure to his buddies so far from home. Mr. Hambro readily admits that this experience did much to solidify his conviction that the true artist is, after all's said and done, a true entertainer. The Concert will be held at the Methodist church auditorium, will begin promptly at 8:15 p.m., and may be attended by those holding Municipal Concert Association membership identification cards.

Garnet Shack of St. Paul spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Schoenstein.

Nebraska Legislature Is Meeting for Sixty-second Time Since '66

When the Nebraska Unicameral legislature met at the State House in Lincoln this week it was meeting for the sixty-second time since 1866. Thus the traditions of the state legislature go back even before Nebraska became a state.

Some Nebraskans first tried to form a state government as early as 1850, but a referendum of the people defeated efforts to form a state constitution. Again in 1859, an effort was made to develop a state constitution. Even though Congress passed enabling legislation and an election was held for delegates to a state constitutional convention, the second effort failed because the convention met and adjourned sine die, without forming a constitution. A majority of the delegates were so pledged to adjourn before they met. In February 1860, the territorial legislature passed a resolution directing that a constitution be prepared for submission to the people. A heated campaign succeeded in getting the new state constitution adopted by a bare majority of 100 votes.

The first session of the State Legislature was held July 4, 1866, before Congress accepted the new State Constitution; and Congress refused to accept the constitution until a qualification limiting voting to "free white males" was amended.

The second session of the State Legislature met in February 1867, to consider the suffrage amendment. With acceptance of the amendment, Nebraska was admitted to the Union March 1, 1867.

The third session of the Nebraska legislature, actually the first after Nebraska became a state, was a special session called in May 1867 to consider general legislation for the new state.

The fourth session, another special session, was called in October 1868 to consider provisions for the election of presidential electors, a detail previously overlooked in setting up the state government.

A total of 19 of the 62 sessions of the legislature have been special calls. In addition to the second, third and fourth sessions, the following sessions were special: sixth (to ratify 15th amendment to U. S. Constitution); seventh (to pass a herd law, to amend an act governing the keeping of identical funds in the state treasury, and for other purposes); tenth (to amend laws on county boundaries); twelfth and thirteenth called on same day to canvass vote on presidential electors and appoint an elector to fill an alleged vacancy); seventeenth (to reapportion congressional districts and to appropriate money for calling out militia to suppress a riot in Omaha); thirty-sixth (to pass legislation in 1918); thirty-eighth (to ratify 19th amendment to U. S. Constitution); thirty-ninth (to enable Douglas county to repair its courthouse); the forty-first in 1922 (to reduce appropriations and correct errors in legislation); forty-sixth in 1930 (to revise bank deposit guaranty laws); forty-eighth in 1931 (to make appropriations for maintenance of state government); the fifty-first in 1935 (to pass laws to meet social security requirements); fifty-fourth in 1940 (to appropriate additional funds for state assistance and correct unemployment and workmen's compensation laws); fifty-seventh in 1941 (to consider soldier vote bill and amendments to public power laws); and the fifty-ninth in 1946 (to consider increasing maximum grant for aged, funds for school lunch act, veterans' education training, the re-entrenchment of a merit system in state government, and a constitutional amendment relating to eligibility of executive officers).

One session of the State Legislature (the eighth) was adjourned June 7, 1871, as a result of confusion created by impeachment proceedings brought against Governor Butler and State Auditor John Gillespie. The adjourned session was called back into session January 9, 1872, to finish its business on behalf of the state government.

What was actually the fifth session of the Nebraska legislature has often been erroneously referred to as the first session because it was the first session to be held in Lincoln on the date set by the State Constitution. All sessions prior to January 7, 1869, (the fifth session) were held in Omaha, including the twelve sessions of the Territorial Legislature prior July 4, 1866.

The session convened this week is actually, then, the forty-third regular session of the Nebraska legislature.

Cpl. Valla Tells of Retreat in Korea

Cpl. Joe E. Valla, serving with an artillery unit in Korea, recently wrote home to his mother. He tells of the American retreat before overwhelming Chinese Communist forces. Cpl. Valla enlisted on August 15, 1948. He took his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and received further training at Fort Lewis, Wash. He left for overseas duty on August 6, 1950. His letter follows:

Korea Jan. 5, 1951

Dear Mother:

Well, it has been a long time since I have written home as we did not get any mail in for three weeks. I couldn't write a letter because there was no place to mail it.

How is the weather in good old Nebraska? It has been cold here with lots of snow. To make it bright for us on Christmas day, we got eight inches of snow.

Moving around makes it hard for us. We were pushed back and had to run through the mountains to get away from the Chinese troops. Our tanks and trucks were sliding for us because of the icy road, but we kept moving slow.

As we were going through the mountains we met a woman carrying a baby on her back. Her little girl was following her. She had no coat or cap. Her shoes were made of straw and she was walking in four inches of snow. We put them in back of our truck and took them along to Hungnam. The Chinese had driven them out of their home. The North Korean Army was going to draft her husband so he ran away. Lots of North Korean people are leaving their homes now and are going to South Korea to get away from the Chinese troops and the North Korean Communists. People are scattered all trying to get away.

We are going back to Pusan for the second time. The first time we went through the country. When we were pushed back we went through the mountains as far as we could and a ship came to meet us. We were on the ship four or five days and that is where we spent Christmas. We attended church services on the ship Christmas day.

We got off the ship at Pusan Dec. 25th or 26th. Now we are close to a town named Taegu. When we got home, I had a lot of mail. We hadn't had any mail for four weeks.

Don't worry about me, Mother, for I take all my troubles with a smile. We are planning to move again soon. Every time we make a move, we have to work late at night.

Give my best wishes to all the people there at home. I think it will be late, but I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. May God bless you all so that we can meet again.

Your loving son,
Joe

Cpl. John Robert Kerr Sees Duty in Korea

Cpl. John Robert Kerr, a North Loup boy, is another Valley county lad seeing service in Korea. Cpl. Kerr, a graduate of North Loup high school, class of 1949, enlisted in September of that year. In March, 1947, he left for Germany, where he was with the Second Constabulary Regt. After returning to the U. S., he attended the A. G. school at Fort Lee, Va., completing a course in army administration. In September of this year he was flown to Japan, and moved to Korea in November. He is now a member of the Seventh Infantry, Third Infantry Division.

Burwell Livestock Market

Friday, January 26

425 or More Head of Cattle

Consignments for our auction this week will include:

- 100 head of choice quality Hereford steer calves
- 50 or more heifer calves
- 50 good stock cows, including 20 all one brand, from one consignor

In addition to these cattle there will be several loads of good quality steer and heifer calves, one load of Hereford yearling steers and one load of Hereford yearling heifers. Several head of mixed cattle. Several breeding bulls. Milk cows, baby calves and other light weight cattle.

We expect another large run of fat hogs again this week, also some bred gilts, several boars and mixed consignments.

Special Horse Sale

On Friday, February 2, immediately following the cattle and hog sale, we will hold a special horse sale. We already have a number of horses of all classes consigned. There is a big demand for killer and butcher horses at this time and we have had several inquiries for fancy saddle stock.

Please remember our market operates under federal supervision, with all consignments bonded for your protection and much lower selling charges.

Try our market with your next consignment, whether one head or a carload.

Grain.

The grain market remains strong and we have a good outlet on yellow corn, either old or new and we can use it if good quality although wet. We have been fortunate the last few days in getting a number of grain cars and are able to move this corn pretty fast whenever cars are available. If you have corn you want to move in the next couple of weeks be sure to see us and we will call you as soon as we have room to take your corn.

The white corn market is not as strong as it has been but still a pretty good market if your white corn does not have a lot of mixture, and damage in it. Of course we prefer your white corn as dry as possible.

The wheat price is still high but there is a heavy discount on damage on all of the wheat, unless it is an extremely nice lot of wheat. If cars continue available we should be able to get a bin or two empty so that we will have some room for wheat.

Fertilizer.

Next week we expect a car of 10-20-0 and Superphosphate. If you will need some of this type of fertilizer let us furnish it off the car. Then we are definitely promised a car of Nitrate for April or May, that has been ordered for several months. This means that we can book some more tonnage of Nitrate off this car. We also have a car coming in June that we have not sold as yet. In our opinion Nitrate fertilizer will be the hardest to get that we have ever known.

If any of you would like to see some alfalfa fields that have had Superphosphate the last couple of years, we would be glad to arrange to show you some of these fields in Holt county.

The aroma and appearance of brown, juicy sizzling sausage makes it a natural for perking up jaded appetites. Good to eat and good nutritionally—that's the story of fresh pork sausage. Fresh pork is one of the richest sources of thiamine, or B1, the vitamin so essential to steady nerves, good appetites, and all-around top health. And it's rich in the minerals, phosphorous and iron, too.

- PORK SAUSAGE CORN CASSEROLE
- 1 pound Fresh Pork Sausage
 - 1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
 - Links or Patties
 - 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
 - 3 tablespoons sausage drippings
 - 1 cup cracker crumbs
 - 3 tablespoons flour
 - 2 tablespoons drippings (for crumbs)
 - 1½ cups milk

Fry sausage until very lightly browned—8-10 minutes. Remove to plate, pouring off all but 3 tablespoons fat and make sauce in same pan by adding flour to fat, then stirring in milk. Stir until thickened and add corn and green pepper. Put half of crumbs in bottom of baking dish or casserole, add creamed mixture, then most of sausages, more creamed mixture, then top with remaining crumbs mixed with 2 tablespoons of the sausage drippings. Add last 4 or 5 sausages to top and bake in 350° oven for 25-30 minutes. 4-5 servings.

COOPERATION does it
Attaining personal and family security is a big job. For most of us, it can only be secured when many people join together with the same purpose in mind. That's the idea of life insurance.

It was the voluntary association of many families that created mutual life insurance. That cooperative endeavor made economic protection available to everyone at costs that are infinitesimal compared to what they would be if a family attempted to create this protection on its own.

For a few dollars a year an average family can assure itself of thousands of dollars worth of rock-solid security, of immeasurable peace of mind, and of financial independence for youngsters and old folks alike.

Hope Springs Eternal

Even in the darkest hour, when it seems that every person in the world has turned against you, somewhere in the darkness in which you are groping there will come a ray of light, if you look for it long enough. The attitude of the human mind makes all the difference in the world.

Have you ever worked in a darkroom, or have you ever been in a darkroom where some one else is working. When you first went in from the bright light outside, you thought you were in complete darkness. When your eyes became accustomed to the subdued light you could see to make your way about, find whatever you wanted.

This interesting scientific fact must explain the attitude of people living in the world today. Seldom has the future looked darker than it does now, with a sizeable war on in Korea, and the chance of other wars in the offing, but we still take comfort in the fact that conditions could be much worse than they are.

While present conditions are serious, we must not lose sight of the fact that some 15 years ago near drought conditions prevailed in the middle west. Prices were low, crops were small. In fact, while we did not know it then, we were nearing the end of a decade marked by a shortage of crops and record low prices.

There is an old saying that the only way to break a man materially is to break his spirit. But the people of Nebraska have shown that they can take all that time has to offer and then come back for more. Farm conditions are better today, but the international situation is worse, yet hope springs eternal.

Hope does not play so important part in the life of the individual in time of prosperity, for much that we might hope for is already ours. It is true that world conditions are about the worst they have been in generations, but we can still take some comfort in the fact that the fighting is still half way around the world from us.

Except for the hope of eternal life, which most of us consider a thing to be considered in the distant future, we are so well content with local prosperity that we do not take time to hope much. Hope is always concerned with the future, and why should we be concerned with the future when the present is so pleasant and so satisfying?

We realize, for example, that at the close of the recent war the nation should have kept its defenses up to a high standard. That a large standing army should have been maintained, and that our navy should have been kept second to none. But the war was over, we thought. We wanted our boys home, and home they were sent.

We know from history that proper preparedness for war is the most potent deterrent to war. We realize now that reducing our armed forces so quickly and so drastically was a mistake, but we bolster up our hopes with the thought that we have always won, and for this reason, if for no other, we will always win.

The reason we find ourselves in this condition is that a nation is made up of individuals. Since these individuals cannot see into the future, it follows that the nation they comprise cannot know just what the coming years will bring. In fact, we do all our living in the present, and like Jerusalem, we kill the prophets.

In the midst of it all we still continue to hope. Perhaps it is just as well. Without hope we could have no morale, and a high morale will do more to conquer the future than any other adjunct to modern warfare.

But we cannot win wars, either hot or cold, with hope. Hope is important in its place, but we must not forget that the Red Chinese, with less reason to hope than perhaps any other people in the world, are boxing us at every turn in Korea. Faith without works is dead, and the same is true of hope. We want peace, and a just peace, more than anything else in the world. We have a lot of men in high places who are earnestly working for that kind of a peace. They need the best support we can give them, and they need it now, not tomorrow. Our best assurance for peace is complete preparation for war.

We may not like it, but the alternative may be enslavement, and will certainly be encirclement. History has proven that the only way to peace is through being prepared for war at all times. We do not want our sons to go to war, but that is the price we must pay for our liberties.

Ward's Cockerin Column

One of the things I hope to do soon is to go back to the beginning and get the facts of school history straightened out in Valley county. I am pretty much of a bug on early history anyway. Recently I had a visit with our new superintendent of schools and found that Mr. Applegat and I have much in common. In fact, he told of finding some school data as far back as 1882, from which he is preparing a story for the Quiz. My idea is to go back even farther than that and get the story of those first schools. When and how they were organized, who did the organizing, who were the first teachers, and any other items of interest I can find.

Now, the districts are still numbered in the order in which they were founded, which makes it easy to understand why those with the small numbers were located where they were. Since the first settlement was at North Loup, it is understandable that the North Loup district should be No. 1. Dist. No. 2 was located in the Danish settlement up on Tuttle creek southeast of Elyria. Dist. 3 was founded in the Barker area southwest of North Loup, where there were many early settlers. Dist. 4 was founded in the earliest settled area on the Middle Loup, to the east of Arcadia.

By this time the Ord territory had enough families to warrant a school, so the Ord district is No. 5. An influx of settlers into Springdale accounted for Dist. No. 6 there. No. 7 was founded for the benefit of those living around Fort Hartsuff, and No. 8 was next in line in the Goodenow settlement. Meanwhile a number of families had located in Mira Valley, which accounts for the location of Dist. 9 and 10 there. From this point on the districts were organized so fast that it is difficult to keep accurate track of them, but there were more than fifty in the early 1880s.

Did I ever tell you about the cook we had in the VCC camp at Lake Minatare? He was quite a character, a good cook, when he was right, and that was most of the time. He made it a point to have everything about his kitchen in perfect condition at all times, and absolutely refused to cook anything that might be just a little off. That is, he did when he was sober. Since he was sending part of that money home each month, he didn't get it too many times, but when he was it he sure was a holy terror.

I recall especially one of those occasions. He got his pay and went down to Scottsbluff on the truck. Getting there he headed straight for one of the beer joints, and I strongly suspect that he had a bottle along to spike his beer with. I don't see how anybody could get as drunk as he did on beer. This man had been through the first World War, and he had lost a leg in the conflict. When he got out his Uncle Samuel very considerably furnished him with an artificial leg, but he got it about. When he was sober he could use this limb so well that many of the boys did not know he had one—at first.

But he had a habit of becoming disgusted with that limb when he became inebriated, it didn't work right for him and he would go stumbling down the street cursing a blue streak. That night he finally got down on the edge of the sidewalk, took off his leg and threw it out into the street. Then he rolled over to the building behind him, managed to get up on his one good leg and hopped about a block until he came to another beer parlor. About time for the truck to leave they started out looking for the cook and found his leg out in the street, where motorists had very considerably driven around it. It took an extra half hour to find the cook, however.

The Russians are making much of the brotherhood of man, and talking about how all men, regardless of race, color or previous condition of servitude, are considered equal by Russia. It sounds good, so good that Singer Paul Robeson was taken in by it and still seems to be of the opinion that Russia is really a wonderful country. The fact is that the Russians are not representing the facts in making such a statement. Under Russian rule everybody is equal, because everybody becomes a vassal of the state and loses all individual rights. Yes, everybody is equal in line in the Goodenow settlement. (Meanwhile a number of families had located in Mira Valley, which accounts for the location of Dist. 9 and 10 there. From this point haps a mile and will stay open all winter long. There is always a chance that we might want to go after those big perch they catch in the lakes up in Cherry county in the winter time, and they bite best on minnows.

Then, right in with the minnows, we have one fine crappie, which we are feeding up to put into the Quiz fishing contest if they have one in 1951. If they put it off until 1952, that crappie will be a sure prize winner by that time. The Mrs. and I had a try for carp and suckers the first week in January, but they are scarce in the creek, where the water was open. There might have been plenty of them under the ice, but we forgot to take the ax along. Yes, we had some angle worms, and we dug them out of the ground, under a pile of trash. They only go down just far enough to keep from being caught in the frozen ground, and they follow the frost right out in the spring.

P. S. Just to finish this column, I was looking at the Grand Island Independent for Friday, Jan. 5, page 11, column two, down near the bottom, and there I found a story headed "Fight Results." Beneath was printed a long list of basketball scores, including the "Old 44, Loup City 30." I've seen some pretty rough games in my time, but none that really merited such a heading as that.

Something Different

Honestly, now, I don't very often try to influence you. Let every man wear his own collar, as Andy Gump might say. But stop right here if you don't want to be persuaded, for I'm about to try.

It's about this idea of drafting our boys. —000—

Did you see the big advertisement in the Sunday World-Herald, in the society section, on page 10-E. Please look it up. It begins —

MOTHERS . . . save our Country . . . save our Boys . . . Then it says: Sit right down NOW and write or telegraph your Senator or Congressman. Say: "Do not let the President send another American boy across the ocean without the consent of Congress. No more Koreans."

Get the ad. Read it. And DO something about it.

Let's know who we're fighting. And why. —000—

I'll try to refrain from telling you what I think about drafting 18-year-olds. I'm afraid it would only make a scowled spot in the QUIZ.

The March of Dimes again. It's a worthwhile thing. No doubt of it. Through I can't help remember there are many other ailments with far greater numbers of victims, and about which we do little or nothing.

And not that we don't have plenty of "drives" now. They do say our veterans in the hospitals are needing our attention, that so many boys there day in and day out with no callers, no entertainment or correspondents. We might be able to help there. —000—

One place I feel strongly about, (here I go selling you again, or trying to) . . . well, one project I feel we should all help if at all possible . . . and that's in donating blood for the blood banks. Any healthy citizen under 60 can help this way. It means little to the donor, but oh, so very much to the ones who receive that blood. I wish it would be possible to bring the Red Cross bloodmobiles out to the rural areas. We're a strong and healthy lot, out this way! With lots of good red blood! —Irma

UNITED FOR DEFENSE

Defense is PEOPLE! It's folks like you, and like us . . . working together with one objective in mind. Freedom!

Defense means that we must put aside our personal interests for the time being, and concentrate our efforts at meeting and beating the national emergency which now exists. This means fewer luxuries and longer work hours. But we, the folks who make "defense," must look at each pleasure foregone . . . each extra hour on the production line, as another sturdy brick in the wall that will protect us from Communism.

And defense means that every dime and dollar that is not needed for day-to-day living should be invested in the Democratic World that lies ahead . . . for money that goes into savings and into U. S. Savings Bonds are one of the nation's best safeguards for the future!

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel, but that was of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL had done me lots of good."

Vocational Ag Class Attends Denver Show

View Mountains and Other Sights on Western Trip.

On Friday, January 12, eleven of the Vocational Agriculture members of the North Loup Public Schools went to the 45th National Western Livestock Show in Denver, Colo. C. W. Sanders, the class instructor, and Gerold Jensen drove their cars. The boys that made the trip were Clarence Brown, Gale Sinteck, Sam Jensen, Duane Willoughby, Dale Earnest, Harold Placke, Howard Abel, Ardon Dermott, Roger Leonard, Robert Vogeler and Jim Williams.

The boys rented two double cabins at the Colfax Courts and did most of their own cooking. On Jan. 13 the boys attended the Livestock Show. On Jan. 14, the boys drove up into Rocky Mountain National Park, Estes National Park and Roosevelt National Forest. They went up in the mountains as far as they could as some of the roads were closed due to snow and rain. On the return trip from Rocky Mountain National Park to Denver they drove down the Big Thompson Canyon drive which is about 40 miles of canyon and beautiful scenery.

Another Milestone In Self-Regulation

Meeting This Month To Outline Future Service

Nebraska's brewing industry leaders will meet in Omaha, Jan. 26, to appraise the accomplishments of their Self-Regulation program during the past 12 1/2 years — and consider additional service.

The purpose of this program, launched June 1, 1938, is to assure that conditions surrounding the sale and consumption of beer are in the public interest.

Continuing Educational Program Helpful

Retailers have cooperated in the industry's educational program of self-regulation and are better informed on how to operate in a wholesome, lawful manner.

The state's general level of tavern operation is being steadily improved and the public interest better served.

ALL-STAR LINE-UP FOR '51!

Your first eye-smacking look at the line of lovelies pictured here tells you that they've got what it takes in visual charm. But the fellow who said a picture speaks louder than a thousand words wasn't talking about these superbly able 1951 Buicks. Sure, they're smart to look at—smart in style and smart in dress. But they're also smartly powered—smartly engineered—smartly priced. And it would take a book to describe in full their deep-down goodness. Come, look them over, and you'll see what we mean. There's the SPECIAL which can accurately be titled "the newest car in the world"—new in structure, new in power, new in dimensions, new in thrills—and potent in price appeal. There's the SUPER—that looks and is a smart new edition of its "best seller" forebear. Then there's the ROADMASTER—that coddles your anatomy on luxurious new fabrics and cloud-soft cushions—pampers your pride with its lordly bearing—shoots a delicious tingle right up your spine by the exuberance of its power and action. We could go on and on. This is the car that "breathes through its nose." This is the car that sports a brand-new front-end styling. This is the car with new high-visibility instrument dials, more easily read at night. This is the car with glare-and-heat-reducing glass and a host of other news-making features you can't afford to miss. So your No. 1 date this week end is with your Buick dealer. It won't take you long to conclude that he's offering the smartest buys of the year.
