Hoepfner Now Postmaster at North Loup

Johnson Retiring After 15 Years Because of Age

As of August 1st, the post office at North Loup went into new hands. Frank Johnson, postmaster for the past fifteen years, retired this week because he had reached the age limit, and Harold Hoepfner, clerk and assistant postmaster, took charge. A post office inspector was expected to arrive Wednesday morning to check Mr. Johnson out and Mr. Hoepfner in.

Mr. Johnson, a son of Bob Johnson, came to the Davis Creek community in the early 1880's, grew to manhood and received his education there. Moving to North Loup later, he entered into business there and continued for many years until he was appointed to the job as postmaster. For the past 17 years he has made his home in the former George Johnson property, now owned by John Ward.

Mr. Johnson plans to leave North Loup soon, and will probably make his home at Geneva, where his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hamilton, live. Mr. Johnson recently purchased a property in Geneva. He does not plan to retire entirely, but expects to do accounting, a job for which he is eminently fitted.

Postmaster Hoepfner is not unknown in Ord, which was once his home. He spent much of his early life here, graduating from Ord high school, class of 1914. He has been living in North Loup most of the time since then, and has had seventeen years experience in the office. He will require an assistant, but no one has yet been appointed.

Doubleday Will Assist Swopes at Burwell Show

Noted Photographer Offers Local Man Tricks of Trade

Ed Swopes is to be the official photographer for Nebraska's Big Rodeo this year again, an honor that he richly earned in the work he did in that capacity a few years ago. More recently Jack Bailey of Grand Island has been taking the pictures, but Swopes always went up anyway and got out and took a few shots at the risk of his neck.

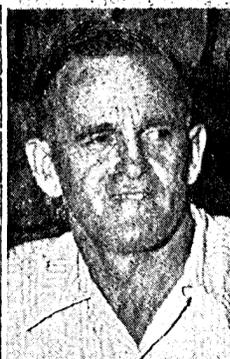

Swopes dropped into a stroke of good luck the past week when Doubleday, the noted rodeo photographer, called him up from Council Bluffs and asked the privilege of going to Burwell with him and helping him in getting the pictures.

Doubleday has been known for nearly half a century as one of the best rodeo photographers in the business, but he is now losing his eyesight and feels that he should do some of the young fellows a good turn by passing on to them some of his vast store of knowledge. He plans to make 1951 his last year in the rodeo game.

Gates open at 7 p.m., first event scheduled for 8:30 p.m., each night.

Will Dedicate Airport Office and Beacon Soon

No Definite Date Set, But Affair Will Be Public

Manager Ellis Carson states plans are in the making for holding a formal dedication of the new administration building at the Ord Municipal Airport and also the new beacon as soon as the work is completed and the work approved.

It will be two weeks or more before all the work is done, and in those two weeks the Loup Valley fair and races and Nebraska's Big Rodeo will hold the limelight, the hull that follows will doubtless be a fitting time for the dedication.

There are no definite plans for the program at the present time, but they will no doubt include a speaker, a band and other entertainment along that line. Pilots from all parts of the state will be invited to attend, and many of them will do so.

Hiram Petteys of Burwell Is Buried Monday

Hiram Petteys, 65, resident of Burwell nearly all his life, died at his home there Friday. He had been in poor health for some time. Funeral services were held from the Burwell Methodist church on Monday afternoon at 2:00, with burial in the Burwell cemetery.

Mr. Petteys was married about twenty years ago to Rebecca Mills, also of Burwell. To this union were born twin sons, James and John, who graduated from Burwell high school last May. Less than a month ago Mr. Petteys suffered a severe loss in the death of his closest friend, Arthur Eorden. As a youth he made his home with the Eordens and he and Arthur grew up together.

Cliff Newman, Burwell, Is Fatally Burned

Gasoline Explosion Friday Takes Life of Tank Truck Driver

An explosion about ten a. m. at the Dad Phillips service station in Burwell Friday, took the life of Clifford Newman and caused serious burns for John Wiberg. In the ensuing fire the building in which the accident occurred was gutted and the tank truck was burned beyond repair.

The two men were filling the tank on the truck preparatory to making a delivery trip into the country. A motor driven pump was being used and the gasoline was siphoned from the pump to the tank through the use of pipe. In some manner the truck moved forward, breaking the connection and splashing gas over the tank and over Newman, who was on the side of the truck.

According to Wiberg, Newman shut off the pump immediately and then asked him to back the truck up, which he did, and Newman again made the connection. Just as Wiberg had started to get out of the left side of the cab, Newman turned on the motor and a blinding flash resulted.

Wiberg recalls closing the door at once, sliding across the seat and jumping out on the right side, where the flame and heat were terrific. He jumped to a small door on the west side, but was unable to open it and recalls that the door knob was too hot to handle.

He then turned, ran past the truck and out of the big door on the south, getting out about the same time as Newman did. He ran out into the street and stopped, because his eyes were hurting severely and he was afraid to try to open them. Then someone took him by the arm and said, "Come on, Johnnie, let's get into the car."

Meanwhile Newman, a blazing torch, had ran in a wide circle out into the street and back to the west side of the station, where he collapsed. Help arrived and the fire was put out quickly.

Both men were taken to the Burwell Cooperative hospital. Newman was given a number of blood transfusions and was put under an oxygen tent, and he lingered until late Saturday, when he died.

Wiberg's burns were serious, but not dangerous, as none of the gasoline had hit him and his clothes did not burn. He was burned about the face and neck and both arms and will be staying here some time to come.

He expected to be released from the hospital Wednesday or Thursday. Newman was married to Dorothy Ballagh, a daughter of Hamilton Ballagh. They have one son, Neil, 20 years of age. Wiberg is 35 years of age and unmarried. The Dad Phillips station since the death of the original owner, J. C. Phillips sr., was run for several years by Whitey Olcott, and more recently by J. C. (Jude) Phillips.

Funeral services for William Clifford Newman were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Burwell Congregational church, the pastor, Rev. Bauman, officiating. The Mitchell mortuary had charge of arrangements.

The Burwell Volunteer Fire Department, of which he was a member, had charge of furnishing pall bearers, taking care of flowers, and furnishing vehicles. Every business house in Burwell closed for the funeral, which was one of the largest ever held in Burwell.

Former Resident Dragged to Death By Horse Sunday

Paul G. Gregorski Wolbach Victim of Unusual Accident

Paul G. Gregorski, former resident of this area and well known and popular resident of the Burwell and Elyria neighborhoods, met death Sunday when he was dragged to death by a horse on his farm in the north part of Howard county not far from Wolbach.

His body was found by a neighbor who noticed the horse standing in one place for a long time and went to investigate. Gregorski apparently was riding one horse and leading another, with the lead rope tied around his waist.

His unlighted pipe was found, which leads to the conclusion that he tried to light his pipe and in so doing frightened the horse he was riding, which bolted, the rope pulling him off. This frightened the lead horse, which ran and dragged him to his death. He had lived on the Howard county farm since last March.

Paul G. Gregorski, son of William Gregorski and Pauline Karty, was born at Elyria Aug. 31, 1900, thus making him 50 years, 10 months and 10 days of age at the time of his untimely death. Until he moved to Wolbach he had spent his entire life in the Elyria and Burwell vicinities.

He was married to Roseda Murphy in 1944. To this union five children were born, Harry, Judy, the twins, Martin and Martina, and Mary Ann, who preceded her father in death. His father passed away one year ago.

Besides his children and wife of Ord and his mother of Elyria, he leaves to mourn his passing three brothers, Felix of Elyria, Anton of St. Charles, and Thomas of Springfield, Mo.

There are also eight sisters: Mrs. Anna Setlik, North Loup; Mrs. Lucy Sleva, Omaha; Mrs. Victoria Duda, Ord; Mrs. Mary Bland, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Martha Bartusiak, Littleton, Colo.; Mrs. Julia Holmes, Ord; Mrs. Prekelsa Shimek, Ord; and Mrs. Helen Schnase, Grand Island.

Funeral services were held at the Hastings-Pearson chapel in Ord at 8:30 Wednesday morning. Fr. Leonard Ziolkowski officiating. Mrs. Viola Kellison as organist played the Hosary and Ave Maria. The pallbearers were William Hartz, Elmer Lukesh, Alfred Shoemaker, Syl Bogus, Frank Zulowski and Philip Wentek. Burial was in the Burwell cemetery.

Weather Is Perfect for Harvesting

Dry and Warm With Much Sunshine But Very Little Rain

For the past week the weather has been made to order for the harvest. The warm, dry days put the grain in perfect condition, and also helped dry the alfalfa, the second cutting of which is now being put up without any interference from the rain.

Irrigation has been going on in most corn fields, and the water is needed, as the soil dried out very rapidly and to a considerable depth in most places. Corn is not yet suffering from lack of moisture, but it will be soon unless rain comes.

Harvesting has been proceeding as rapidly as possible, and is nearly complete in some localities. The elevators have been kept busy both early and late taking care of the harvest as it is brought in. In the vicinity of North Loup some grain cut with the binder is being threshed out of the shock, with yields up to expectations.

While some fields have been cleared, little fall plowing has been done to date. The ground is too dry in the stubble for successful plowing. The corn yield this fall will be determined largely by the rainfall from now on.

They will be unaccompanied other than by a stewardess on the plane.

Don Hill Defeats State Golf Champ

Don Hill, 21 year old golfer, gave Dean Canda, Nebraska state and greens champion, his first defeat this year at the Broken Bow open tournament last Sunday.

Canda out-drove Hill most of the way but even Canda, well-known for his accurate putting, could not beat Hill on the greens that afternoon.

Two other Ord golfers played that day. Al Blessing who was defeated in the semi-finals by winner Hill and Dr. P. L. Blessing, also defeated in the semi-final round of his fight.

On the par 32 course Hill shot 34-32 with 80 golfers in ten flights trailing behind him in competition for prizes at the sixth annual Broken Bow meet.

Ord's annual open tournament will be held this Sunday on our 33 par course, still a tough one to beat because of the rough and cliffs even though kept in top condition by Bud Shirley and helping Ord golfers.

Lynn, and Fred Apple get, county superintendent of rural schools, were present at the discussion of the survey. Roar of Big Car Races at Fair Today

Track Records to Topple Say Drivers, Dozen Cars Here

The high-banked one-half mile dirt speedway at Ord will once again resound to the roar of high-powered racing engines on Thursday and Friday, August 2 and 3, when an expected dozen of the nation's top dirt track driving stars take over the famed oval in a pair of seven-event big-car racing programs that promise visitors to the Valley County Fair the tops in speed and action.

The racing, which bears the official sanction of the International Motor Contest Association, will be the first officially sanctioned competition to be held on the track for some years.

Officials of the fair, who contracted with the IMCA for the events in the hope of regaining for Valley county seat the reputation it once held as the gathering-place for racing fans from six states, today released the official entry list for the two afternoon racing programs. It contains the names of a group of top dirt track drivers from all points of the country who will be in the starting lineups for each day's seven-event program in the hope of gathering a lion's share of the prize money.

Heading the field is the driver who holds the world's records for half-mile dirt tracks for 1 lap, 10 laps, and 12 1/2 miles. He is Kent, Ohio's speed merchant, Del Snyder. He will pilot the same big Offenhauser Special that he drove to the above records.

Also in the starting field will be two cars brought here by Slim Rutherford, a well-known racing engineer. One will be driven by George Renfro of Whiting, Ind. The driver for the other machine has not been named.

Tulsa oil magnate "Peaches" Campbell will enter his famous two cars, the Gus Schrader Offenhauser and the O'Dea City formerly driven by Joie Chitwood, whose automobile thrill show will also play two appearances at the Ord Fair.

Filling out the field will be the well-known Buckner Offy chauffeured by Pete Folse of Tampa, Fla., and Ralph Moore of Austin, Minn., in a fast Hal D-O car. Also on hand will be Cecil Greenly of Webster City, Ia., driver of a Cadillac Special, and Owen Aleshire of Moberly, Mo., who will pilot a V-8. Officials say that "post entries," or cars entering on the days of the races, will probably increase the number of cars on hand to well over twelve.

The Ord track which gained national prominence as one of the highest-banked and hence fastest dirt tracks in the country, will have its steep turns and fast straightaways reworked for the fair-time events by a crew of expert track conditioners imported by the IMCA. The track records, set some years back, are expected to topple with the first appearance there of cars with unlimbed engine size. The racing events begin each afternoon at 1:30.

Card of Thanks —

We wish to take this opportunity to thank all of our friends and relatives for all of the lovely and useful wedding presents which were so generously given to us at the time of our marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rysavy

Grain

This week has been a rather rough one on the wheat buyer as well as the grower. Elevators full to the roof and very few cars showing up. We have made every effort to take the best possible care of our customers and if we could get a few cars the last of this week, we could make room in our elevator for a nice lot of wheat. Right now we have a small amount of room for rye and barley but the room is very limited; be sure to call before coming in with either one of them. If you can use either rye or barley for feed let us quote you a price on it.

Fertilizer

This week we have been promised a carload of 15-15-0 for the first week of September, and then a carload of Ammonium Nitrate for October delivery. This 15-15-0 looks to us to be the perfect fertilizer for wheat. If you apply it ahead of your drill you will get the supply of Ammonium Nitrate to make an application of Nitrate in the spring and you get the added benefit of the Phosphate to give your plant a good root system for winter. We feel that if you would try this mixed fertilizer that you would be very well pleased with it.

Only a small amount of this car of Ammonium Nitrate has been sold and if you have storage space for it we think it would be well to get your supply and place it in storage now for later use. Every broker of Nitrate that we have talked to has told us that the supply of American Nitrate will be much smaller and the German made Nitrate is finding a better market than the American market. Most of you that had Nitrate ordered for June delivery this year found that it was impossible to get good American made Nitrate. We will have a couple more cars of Nitrate coming in during the winter. We will also have a very small amount of Superphosphate and 10-20-0.

Dugan Leads Ord To 9-8 Triumph Over Wood River

Mustangs Produce 9 Hits; Stan Johnson Swings Big Bat

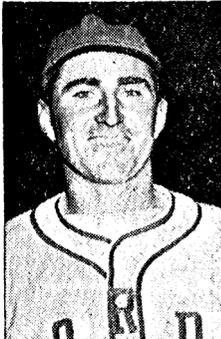

Behind the booming bats of Dan Dugan and Stan Johnson, the Ord Mustangs chalked up 9 hits to beat Wood River 9-8 at Wood River Wednesday evening.

Dugan led the Ord attack with three bingles in five trips to the plate, while Johnson got two for five. Each scored two of Ord's runs.

Ord opened their scoring in the second canto when Dugan singled, went to second on Rollie Johnson's grounder to short and scored on a long double from the bat of Dick Beran.

The Mustangs came back in the 4th inning when S. Johnson lived on an error, R. Johnson walked, and Dick Beran got on base thru an error on the Wood River first baseman. Bill Novosad's sharp single cleaned the sacks and three more runs were in.

Stan Johnson scored in the 6th when he singled, was sacrificed to second by R. Johnson and came in on Philbrick's single.

Dan Dugan... who led Ord to victory over Wood River.

Novosad and Dilla scored in the 7th, when Novosad was hit by a pitched ball. Dilla, next man up, slashed a hot one at the Wood River short which went for an error, Dugan lined out a single scoring Novosad, and Dilla beat the throw home on Stan Johnson's long fly to centerfield.

Dilla and Dugan put the game on ice in the ninth, when the first singled, Dugan doubled, and scored on Stan Johnson's single.

Wood River drew first blood in the first inning when they combined three Ord errors, a hit and a fielder's choice to chalk up three runs. They scored again in the third, fourth, and eighth innings. The game had spectators on their feet much of the time. Both teams played ragged ball, Ord making 5 errors and Wood River 6.

Boelus Pitcher Hits Fence Ball to Trip Ord

Homers in Ninth With Two on for 3-1 Victory

Al Guzinski, Boelus pitcher, put the wood to one of Beasley's fast balls, and rattled it off the cars in left field for a home run and a ball game on the Ord diamond Sunday evening.

Ord had scored in the fourth inning to give the Mustangs a 1-0 lead until that time. G. Whithead opened the Boelus attack in the 9th, when he lived on an error by the Ord third baseman. He was cut off one play later on Stubbs grounder to the pitcher, which went for a fielder's choice leaving Stubbs on first.

R. Guzinski, next man up, got a single, Stubbs going to second. A. Jensen hit a ground ball to third base, forcing Stubbs out of the ball game, while Jensen camped on first with a fielder's choice.

With two strikes on him, Al Guzinski got ahold of a high fast one and put it over the fence, scoring Jensen and R. Guzinski.

The Mustang's lone counter came in the fourth when Dilla doubled, went to third on Dugan's ground ball to the Boelus second baseman and scored on Koll's ground ball to second base.

Keeping up the same pace they have set for the last half dozen games, the Mustangs were hitting the ball freely, but were unable to bunch their hits to produce the winning runs.

Stan Johnson batted a thousand per cent, with two hits and two walks in four trips to the plate, but batted on base all four times.

Ord Airport News

Manager Ellis Carson made a business flight Ord to Grand Island and return Sunday morning, leaving at 8:10 and getting back at 9:50. Not a bad trip, he thinks for an hour and twenty minutes.

Dale Sell of Arcadia flew to Ord and brought a small pig for examination and treatment by Dr. J. W. McGinnis. Dogs and cats have been flown in before, but this seems to be the first pig on record.

Ellis Carson received and stuck up the bulletin announcing the air breakfast to be held in Council Bluffs July 29. He planned to go and told some of the boys about it, but was surprised when he read all about it in the Monday World-Herald. The trouble was that he had misread it Aug. 29.

Farm Home of Mrs. J. R. Cook Pictured Last Week Among the Best to Be Found Anywhere in Mira Valley

The farm home pictured last week was that of Mrs. J. R. Cook, and Mrs. Cook and daughter Lois, who live there, came in Friday to claim their photo. The farm lies six miles south of Ord in Mira Valley and just south of the No. 3 school house. Joe Cook first acquired this fine farm about 1896 and at that time he began the construction of the buildings, a job that he kept at through all the years he lived there. A natural builder, he looked after the construction of the buildings and did much of the work himself. He also planted the many shade and fruit trees by which the buildings are surrounded. Mr. Cook died in 1918, but Mrs. Cook and daughter Lois live there. Lois has taught school in Dist. 10, two miles south, as well as in her home district. Last year she started her work in York college where she is studying elementary education and planning for a bachelor's degree in education.

There are 160 acres in this farm, which was farmed this year by a nephew, Wilfred Cook. Since young Cook must go into the army Sept. 1, his father, Dan Cook, will take over the farming job for him. The Cooks raise mostly corn, with a small amount of wheat and oats. The land lies nearly level with a slight slope to Mira Creek on the south and it is considered one of the better farms in the valley.

Never Again

Once in the lifetime of the average man there comes such a disaster as that which swept over eastern Kansas, southeast Nebraska and Missouri when torrential rains inundated all the low areas and did property damage now estimated upward of a million dollars. In addition other millions were swept away in the loss of trade, salaries and wages.

To these losses can be added the loss of life, which, fortunately, was light, and those injured and hospitalized, who were many. The losses will continue for months to come until every commercial enterprise is restored to the condition it was before and every home is made as liveable as it was before the flood.

Today there is a concerted movement in which all are joining, the city dweller and the farmer, capital and labor, the rich and the poor. The watchword of that movement is that, never again shall a flood be permitted to do the damage that this one did.

There is much to be done, and God only knows how much time will be available to do it. The next flood may never come, or it may come next year, next month or next week. The future is something no man can read. But it is better to be prepared for what may never come than to be defenseless when the crisis hits us. A long-range flood control and soil conservation program is in the making. The first and most important steps should be taken at once. It must not be made a matter of politics. Regardless of who is elected to office, valuable lives and property must be protected.

We of the Loup valleys cannot realize what such a program will mean to the people living along the Missouri, the Kansas, the Salina, the Blue or Nemaha rivers. Even the Elkhorn has its ups and downs. What we must do is to help in any way we can to see that such a program is started and carried on through the years.

Swimming Pool

Occasionally a news story breaks which brings home forcibly the fact that the Ord swimming pool was and is a good investment. Last week the people of the entire state were horrified by the story of how four children lost their lives in a pool into which they had probably gone seeking relief from the heat.

If a swimming pool had been available to those children it is more than possible they would have gone to the pool instead and that story would not have been written. This is not written in condemnation of any town without a pool, but in justification of the pool at Ord and the $40,000 it cost to build.

No one can measure the value of human life, especially the life of a child, with all the possibilities that may unfold through the years. There is no measure for the grief of parents who have their children taken from them at so tender an age. If a swimming pool saves a single life it is a good investment.

Even today we hear criticism of the Ord Municipal pool and the money it cost. Let us hope that in the future those who are prone to criticize will think more kindly of the project and the people who worked so hard for its adoption. Perhaps today some Ord child is well and happy because we have a swimming pool.

Dick Contino

Dick Contino, noted accordionist, is spending two weeks in jail after entering a plea of "guilty" to trying to dodge the draft. August 7 Federal Judge Michael J. Roche will hear a probation report on the case and will pronounce sentence.

Contino, who is now 21, ran away from Fort Ord the night before he was to be inducted into the army. He was found several days later in a rest home. His attorney had pleaded that the young man be permitted to enter military service now.

Later, upon hearing the report of three psychiatrists that he was definitely unfit for service, the attorney, James T. Davis, told the judge that the accordionist was suffering from a mental disorder that stemmed from his childhood.

That, in short, is the story of a young boy who flashed across the radio horizon a few years ago and, in competition with the best to be found in the nation, reached the zenith in a surprisingly short time. His performances over the radio had given him national recognition.

The fate of Dick Contino is that suffered too often by budding geniuses. He was pushed too fast and too hard. He was not given time to develop normally as a young genius should. Just a boy, the work he was forced to do was too much, even for a man.

The honor and adulation he received was enough to turn the head of a man of mature years. The effect on a growing boy can well be imagined. This is especially true when one considers that, in the opinion of the doctors, his mind was affected since childhood.

The program that brought Dick Contino before the public was one of the ostensible purpose of which was to give the talented youth of America the opportunity to show what they could do. It did bring out a lot of talent, Contino among the rest.

But the real purpose behind all was to advertise, through these young people and their talent, a certain brand of cigarette. The company spent no more in this method of advertising than they would have spent normally in the newspapers and magazines.

This idea of using evil to accomplish good is old as time itself, the idea being that, out of much evil, good may come. No permanent good ever comes of using evil to accomplish good, and Contino is an example of how youth can be ruined through such a course.

Something Different

Next installment on the Mallard duck families who are near-nest-mates of our camp on Middle Cullen Lake: July 28th was the date set for learning to fly!

We had the fun of watching the lessons. First there was a duck huddle. I suppose instructions were duly given, after the immemorial manner of teachers. All at once, some way, five young ducks rise and are winging low over the lake. A couple of them go 100 yards or so before settling into the lake again.

One strong young bird seems master of the new medium for travel, sailing up easily, coming in for a controlled well-planned landing after a fairly long flight.

One duckling makes only a small flight. And the fifth makes the poorest flight of all, collapsing almost at once back down to the water, and there content to paddle along gently.

We wait to see what happens next. We don't see the ducks return to the starting spot, but all at once, up soar the five youngsters, making a neat, though brief flight, but all together. And landing together, too, obviously planned!

They're airborne now! And it didn't take long. And the parent ducks won't have to work so hard, lugging rituals to their starving young.

scratching and diving for every bite.

They certainly make a noisy splat of protest as they leave the water; these first few times. Their splashing can be heard a block.

Comparable, probably, to the young miss who whimpers "Mother, you know your chocolate cakes always turn out better than mine." Or the lad who wants a jalopy: "Every boy I know has a car of his own, Dad!"

No two days are ever alike up here at Cullen Lake. Yesterday the highlight was a swim at Pelican Lake, which is much bigger, therefore much colder. It is a favorite diversion, because the sandy beach extends so broadly and is so pleasant to play upon.

Today Tom built a raft, with the help of his brother-in-law, Ches Kovanda. One of them enjoyed it as much as the other.

Now the small square raft bobs on the breeze, a percale flag of indistinguishable coloring flaps on a short staff.

A small box is a seat. A paddle and a pole are both on board. Tom nonchalantly tried to sit on his box and read a paper this morning, purely for effect I'm sure, but very soon gave it up. His watery world was too uncertain.

The raft sits on four buoyant cans, so it was quite a major project to create, you can see. We all watched with interest.

Another day the feature will be chopping down trees or tamping the greedy little chipmunks, or painting, or pulling weeds, or spraying poison ivy. Or fishing, by no means least.

We go visiting, to sights about the country. Day before yesterday, for instance, we went down to Bar Harbor, a showy resort about ten miles away, to witness a water skiing exhibit from Florida.

We saw all those desperate stunts and beautiful action that the news reels use so often. The bullet in which the stuntman who performed were champs, and it was a fabulous exhibit, worth going far to see.

Many people jammed the roads, parking as thick as at any county fair. Without exception, they agreed it was a wonderful afternoon, worth the bother they took to get there.

Even the beautiful cars assembled were a sight to see. And the blondes. —Irma

Ward's Column

Last week John L. Andersen was running around with a pair of dark glasses on. According to his story he was not trying to pull a Sherlock Holmes stunt and hide his identity. He says he was doing something and thought he could gaze at the stars light with out dark glasses, and found that he couldn't. I suspected his story from the start and did a little investigating of my own. This is what I found out. Two of the boys, I guess it was Harry Wolfe and Jim Gilbert, cooked up a stunt, to pull on John, so they went into the cafe and started talking about the eclipse of the sun, which they said was on "right now." John, ever gullible, swallowed the bait, walked out into the sunlight and gazed at the glorious orb of day.

He kept saying, "I can't see any thing. I can't see anything." And in just a little while he couldn't see anything. Of course it is a lie, but it sounds good.

Here is one on Archie Bradt that will bear retelling. It was told me by his daughter, so I expect it is true. Shortly after Archie got married he got a ride in that there was a package for him down at the depot, a probable wedding present. Expecting it might be quite a large box, Archie hitched up the team to the dray, took his father-in-law, N. J. Peterson along to help with the handling, and drove down to the depot. Imagine his surprise when he found that the package was one that would slip into his pocket easily. It was a set of silver teaspoons. But Archie ran a dray a long time in Ord, and he never found a package that stumped him, whether it weighed a pound or ten tons. He backed the dray up to the platform, carefully loaded on the teaspoons and drove off.

Born Here; Makes Good in Chicago; Frederic Babcock Tells of Early Days

Dear Mr. Ward: I am delighted to hear from you, and to answer to the best of my ability. My father was Henry E. Babcock, who pioneered in hydro-electric development in Nebraska. The reservoir on the Loup river project near Columbus is named Lake Babcock in his honor. He was a half-brother of Mabel Horr, who married Jess Laverty. My father's uncle, Heman A. Babcock, became state auditor; I was born in Ord, but I was so young when we moved to Columbus that I recall little about my birthplace. As you doubtless know, most of the Babcocks in North Loup were our relatives.

I can recall the stories my father and mother used to tell about "Quiz Haskell" who, I judge, was quite a character. After all these years, I remember my mother's account of how an old guy named Getter pursued a widow for years, and finally induced her to marry him, and the Quiz commented: "Getter got'er." Also, many times I heard the story of how Minnie Freeman, the country schoolteacher, saved the lives of the kids in the great blizzard of 1888. Her son, Freeman Penney, now lives at 900 Chestnut street, Wilmette, Ill.

In our home in Columbus we had a history of Valley county, written, I believe, by an Ord professor. Doubtless you are familiar with it.

One of my great-uncles (I forget which one) lived for a time in a sod house not far from Ord. Years later my wife and I built a sod-roofed house and occupied it for several years in a Chicago suburb. As you can imagine, it attracted a lot of attention.

If you want more information about myself, the following is for whatever use you may wish to make of it: Worked my way through the state university as a reporter on the Nebraska State Journal; later served on the editorial staffs of the Seattle Times and the Minneapolis Journal, and as drama editor of the Denver Post; was travel editor of the Chicago Tribune for ten years, in which time I toured through 50 countries, scattered over the five major continents; nine years ago was asked to organize and edit this paper's Sunday book section, and am still holding down that job. My first novel, "Blood of the Lamb," was published in 1932; my second, "Hang Up the Fiddle," is due early next year. "Hang Up the Fiddle" is a story of life in the newspaper business. It starts in Nebraska, and one of the principal characters in it is based to some extent on my lifetime hero, Senator George W. Norris. I'll try to see to it that you receive a copy.

Best of luck! Sincerely, Frederic Babcock, Editor, Magazine of Books. Letters from Quiz Readers Doug Barber Writes. Our son just returned from a visit to Valley county and he mentioned meeting many people that we were well acquainted with. One person he spoke of brought this memory to me. Many years ago (more than I like to admit) when I was a young fellow in my early "teens," some ball team from North Loup were going to Ord to play baseball. They were short one player and finally asked me to go with them and play outfield. I don't remember anything about the game except that I struck out four times, but I did throw out two men trying to score from third base. That started an argument between Charley Arnold and Jake Earnest as to who could throw the greatest distance. After supper we gathered in the intersection by Milford's store and began taking turns throwing north up the street. At that time there wasn't even any gravel on the streets. We were having quite a contest when along the sidewalk came a fellow all dressed up in fancy clothes. He had dark wavy hair and a cute little moustache and walked something like something between a tight wire walker and a drunken sailor. He pushed into the crowd and said he wanted in on the event. Without waiting for an O. K., he removed his coat and rolled up his sleeve. What an arm! He certainly was an impressive sight with those bulging muscles. I thought to myself, what chance have I, a small country boy on my first trip to the Big Town, trying to out-throw a man like that. Well, after it was all over, and he had beaten me about six inches or a foot, he just disappeared. On the trip home I asked one of the fellows who that man was. He replied, "That was the Lone Ranger—it was John Ward, Doug Barber."

Valley County Fair Makes Small Profit, Says Loren Good

Race Crowds Small; Chitwood Performance Packs Grandstand.

The 1951 Valley county fair will make a profit of about $1500, Loren Good, secretary of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, reported this week.

"Not all bills have been given us," Good said, "but from what we know that we owe and what money we have on hand, the 1951 fair will definitely be in the black."

The fair this year drew small crowds for the auto races and the first evening performance. The second evening performance drew a packed house.

Good said that 870 and 790 paid admissions were recorded for the two afternoons of racing, and that the Chitwood troupe drew 900 the first evening and 1,900 the second evening.

The two day racing program with cars of unlimited size drew some of the nation's top drivers, although only 11 cars participated.

Don Snyder, Kent O., holder of most of the nation's half-mile dirt track records, had little trouble running away with top money. He won two events Thursday and came back Friday to take three events.

He also tied the track record Thursday when he qualified in 23.65 seconds. Co-holder of the record is Sam Hoffman of Omaha who set the record some 20 years ago.

Other race entries included Frank Heaton, Phoenix, Ariz.; Jim Casell and John Sandrock, both of Tucson; Owen Alessiere, Mobile, Ala.; Carl Greenley, Webster City, Ia.; Bill Hoff, Minneapolis; Tommy Cardeman, Tulsa; Donald Scott, Hollywood; Jerry Blundy, Brinville, Ill., and Johnny Boyd, Sioux City, Ia. It was the first time at the Ord track for all the drivers.

The Jole Chitwood troupe put on a thrilling performance both nights, which spectators said was much better than the Chitwood show here two years ago. Events ranged from precision driving, car leaps and rollovers to head-on crashes, motorcycle jumps and smashing into an ice wall at top speed.

Fair officials put the blame on harvest for the light attendance at afternoon performances. "Most farmers were just too busy to come to the fair," they said.

Four-H livestock exhibits were the largest in history. All preliminary competition, aside from the flower show, was limited to 4-H clubs this year.

Record Crop Yield on Bill Hansen Farm Is Reported

Two crop yields, which may be records for this year, were chalked up at the Bill Hansen farm when harvesting was completed Friday.

Hugh Carson Again Blasts Nebraska Highway Department

Cites Examples of Waste; Wants New Plan on Ballot.

Senator Hugh Carson of Ord cited several examples of what he termed "general inefficiency" in the highway department in an interview with the press this week.

Carson said that reports of other examples were coming to him from all over the state. In the west central part of the state, he said, gravel was stockpiled and paid for by the department, to armor-coat a road. Cost was $2 a yard delivered to the stockpile.

"That was three years ago," the senator said, "the gravel is still there—hasn't been touched. Of course, before it can be used now it will have to be screened to get the weeds out of it."

The senator said he had just learned of a department project of crushing old concrete. "In this case the state bought a unit to do the work, but didn't have conveyor belts with it so the loading had to be done by hand. The labor cost alone on the handwork averaged $10.00 per ton," Carson said, "whereas the department could have bought the crushed rock, shipped in, for only $4.00 a ton."

Carson cited two other incidents. "A pavement widening job done this spring by a state maintenance crew. When they finished the state let a contractor to put on a 3-inch hot mix. The contractor used the state hot mix plant and other equipment—in fact, all he furnished himself were the trucks and two oil heaters."

"And," Carson said, "at another point in central Nebraska a state owned caterpillar is being used on a privately owned scoop operated by a contractor."

The Ord senator said that the question of a highway commission should be put to a vote of the people. "The initiative petition is the only way the little taxpayers can protect themselves," he said.

The senator charged that "roads are built where the votes are, or in the localities where the campaign funds come. Just take a look at the road map."

The exclusive power to build roads when and where he wants them should be taken away from the governor and put in the hands of a highway commission.

"The long-existing and present confusion in the highways department reminds one of the man who had both feet firmly planted in mid-air," Carson said.

Carsons Leave on Trip to East Coast

Senator and Mrs. Hugh Carson will leave Ord Thursday for an extended trip through eastern states and two provinces of Canada.

The Carsons will mix business with pleasure, the senator planning to spend some time in states where highway commissions are now operating so as to judge firsthand the effectiveness of the commission plan which he is advocating and compared to the department plan now used in Nebraska.

Lt. Warren Allen Gets Silver Star

Ord Officer Cited for Gallantry in Korean Tank Action.

A Silver Star medal has been awarded to Lt. Allen, officer who commanded a rampaging tank patrol into enemy territory, personally killing and wounding many enemy soldiers with the exposed machine gun on the tank's turret.

The medal was awarded to First Lieutenant Warren P. Allen of Ord for his gallantry in action on March 23 near Wolsong-ri, while serving with the 70th Tank Battalion.

Lt. Allen was leading his platoon of tanks on a reconnaissance patrol in an attempt to locate and chart enemy positions when he came under fire from a range of 200 yards.

Placing the remainder of his tanks in a covered position, Lt. Allen went forward in his lead tank. Manning the machine gun on the turret, in spite of intense enemy small arms and automatic weapons fire directed at him, he overran their position, killing or wounding ten Reds.

After scanning the position from high ground, Lt. Allen moved his patrol 3,000 yards further into hostile ground, adjusting accurate artillery fire on visible emplacements.

Street Oiling Experiment to Be Tried Here

City Dads Start Negotiations for Catholic Cemetery.

An experiment in street oiling as a just preventative and semi-hard surfacing will be carried out on about six blocks of Ord residential streets this fall.

Monday night the council agreed to order an 8,000 gallon car of oil-resin surface treatment from the John A. Donaldson Co., to spread on city streets.

The oil will be spread upon blocks where lot owners signify their willingness to pay for the treatment. Cost will be about 32 cents per front foot for a 36 foot street.

The Donaldson firm is presently oiling streets in Burwell. The oiling scheme has been carried out in Elgin, Pierce, and other Nebraska towns over a period of several years.

If property owners are enthusiastic about the new treatment the council intends to form an improvement district next spring, and do as much of the town as possible. According to Donaldson the oil treatment, when properly applied, approaches oil mat in appearance and wearing ability. It must be renewed yearly with small applications.

City dads also authorized the cemetery committee of the council to enter in negotiations with the management of the Catholic cemetery with view of annexing this to the Ord city cemetery.

Last year the council accepted the upkeep and management of the former Bohemian cemetery, and is now providing perpetual care for the lots there.

A permit to operate a circus here on Thursday, August 16, was granted to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion.

Burwell Rodeo Set for Biggest Crowd in Years

Quarter-Horse Show to Prove Welcome New Attraction.

The Burwell rodeo is off to a fine start with a likelihood of the attendance records of last year being broken.

The pre-season sale of tickets is the barometer by which the management estimates the coming crowd. This year sales are far ahead of any show in the 27 years since 1921.

The addition of the quarter horse show and races probably has much to do with this. In the quarter horse division there are many entries from all parts of Nebraska and surrounding states. The show horses are being stabled in the large buildings to the northwest of the arena, where they will be easily accessible to the public.

The rodeo department reports that there will be as many cowboys on hand as last year, possibly a few more. On the list are the top names in the rodeo world, and many of the boys who made the show here last year are back for the contests again.

Added to the usual special acts is the bow and arrow shooting of Lynch, the best known exponent of the art in the world today. He has been a big attraction wherever he has shown.

Ord Tax Levy Drops to Low Point Since '45

Arcadia Mill Levy Also Lower; High Valuations Reason.

Residents of Ord city will pay the lowest combined mill levy this year that they have paid since 1951, records of the county treasurer indicate.

The combined levy for Ord will be 52.61 mills, as compared with 54.79 last year and 47.53 in 1945. Arcadia village has followed suit with a combined levy of 59.96, compared with 65.13 in 1950.

North Loup residents will pay 67.37 mills this year as compared with 61.82 last year. Elyria's levy is 32.85, compared with 32.82 last year.

"Actually the amount of tax money to be spent is greater than before," treasurer Lloyd Wilson told the Quiz. "However, the greatly increased valuation all over the county makes it possible to lower the combined mill levy."

Figures for the four towns:

Klingingsmith-Allen Suit Is Won by Latter

Jury Says No Cause for Action After Two Hours Discussion.

Suit for $50,000 in damages brought by Earl Klingingsmith against Ross Allen, resulted in a victory for the latter when a Valley county jury brought in a finding of "no cause for action" in district court here Tuesday. The jury was out two hours.

The case, which had attracted wide-spread attention because of the charges of illicit relations brought by the plaintiff, had a packed courtroom throughout the hearing.

Klingingsmith had charged that Allen deprived him of the love and affection of his wife, with a resulting loss of prestige, standing in the community, and his business. He asked damages of $50,000.

The trial began Monday morning, heard final testimony from witnesses Tuesday afternoon, and went to the jury at shortly before three o'clock.

Mrs. Earl Klingingsmith, wife of the plaintiff, was first witness for the plaintiff and told the jury she had had illicit relations with Allen on eight different occasions, beginning in March of 1950 and continuing through September of 1950.

On the last occasion, on Sept. 27, 1950, the witness said that she told her husband what had been going on, and the Allen and Klingingsmith families, once very friendly, broke up their relationship.

In December, Mrs. Klingingsmith said, she found she was pregnant, and had a doctor's examination. On February 26, a doctor's second examination confirmed her condition, and shortly after that she left Ord and moved to St. Paul to live with her grandmother.

The suit was filed on this date. In the middle of the summer she went to Beatrice, and on July 5 gave birth to a daughter, which has been received here by relatives and friends at the Nebraska Children's Home. (Continued on Page 2)

Oscar L. Nay, 68, Dies Suddenly

Heart Attack Claims Former Ord Man at Cullen Lake Cottage.

Oscar L. Nay, former Ord man, died suddenly about 7:00 Tuesday evening at his summer cottage at Cullen lake, Minnesota, according to word received here by relatives and friends. A heart attack was the cause of the death. Mr. Nay was 68 years old.

His nephew, Leonard Nay, of Elgin, flew to Nisswa, Minn., Wednesday morning after sending an Elgin nurse to bring the body to Ord where funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Hastings-Pearson chapel, followed by interment in the Ord cemetery. He will be given a military funeral.

In early June, soon after his arrival at Cullen from spending the winter in California, Mr. Nay suffered a heart attack and had been under a doctor's care since. His health seemed to be improving and Saturday evening he told Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leggett that he felt "100 per cent better than a month ago."

He was born near Columbus but came to Ord with his parents at an early age and learned the printing trade in the Quiz office. (Continued on page two)

Atkinson Balers Play Here Wednesday

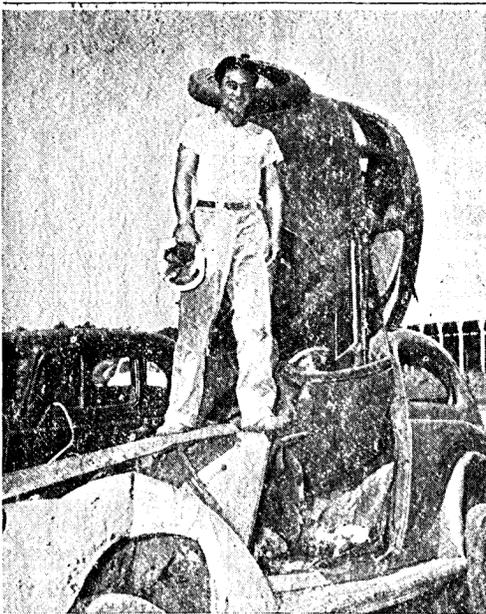

Tough opponents for the Ord Mustangs will be the Atkinson Hay Balers, fast independent baseball team which plays in Ord tonight (Wednesday) starting at 8:30. According to Joe Kokes, former Ord man who has seen both teams in action several times, the Balers will make the Mustangs hustle.

Such players as Yankton, S. D., Winner, S. D., Bassett, Ainsworth and Long Pine have fallen before the Balers this year, according to report.

Bill Novasad is scheduled for mound duty against Atkinson. The game is an exhibition and Ord in policy is to return management at Atkinson later, this month.

Burwell Rodeo Set for Biggest Crowd in Years

Quarter-Horse Show to Prove Welcome New Attraction.
The Indians, under the direction of John Compton and the supervision of George Hill of Burwell, arrived from Pine Ridge Tuesday evening and are camped on the grounds near the northwest gate. They are 35 in number and will entertain with their usual dances.
Ed Swopes is the official photographer and he is being assisted and advised by R. R. Doubleday, who has forty years of rodeo photography to his credit and who is now on his final roundup of the game.

Among other notables on the grounds are Van Snelker of Tucson, Ariz., who is here to superintend the quarter horse races, and Volney O. Hildreth of Alamo, Tex., judge of the quarter horse shows.
The Alamo Exposition shows are on the grounds with a fine collection of rides and shows, including a high aerial trapeze act by the Millers, one of the best attractions of its kind now on the road. Their equipment is set up just inside the northwest gate and their show can be seen from all parts of the grounds.

The west part of the information building this year has been turned into a quarter horse office. The jockeys are weighed in just to the south of the building before each race. A loud speaker system has been installed for this part of the show, with Francis Thomas, Burwell auctioneer, doing the announcing.
Jimmy Hazen, the popular announcer of former years, will announce the 10 to do program from above the chutes, as in former years. Hugh Butcher, the water man who had nothing to do last year, has been busy for a week setting down the track, the arena and the midway. The grounds have been sprayed with DDT and insects are noticeable by their absence.

Klinginsmith-Allen Suit Is Won by Latter

Jury Says No Cause for Action After Two Hours Discussion.

Earl Klinginsmith, on the stand, said that after his wife had told him of her relations with the defendant that he became highly nervous, could not eat or sleep, that he lost considerable weight, and that he lost interest in his clothing and cleaning business in Ord.
Dr. R. J. Lynn, of Ord, only other witness called by the plaintiff, testified that he had examined Mrs. Klinginsmith and confirmed her pregnancy.
A categorical denial of each and every incident of illicit relations was made by the defendant, Ross Allen, when he took the witness stand.
He said that the relations of his family and the Klinginsmiths had always been of the best, and that the two couples frequently dined together and went to dances and other functions together.
On the night of September 22, he said, he had picked up Mrs. Klinginsmith in his car in front of the Quiz building, at 7:30 p. m., as she had said that she wanted to talk about her husband's wishes to sell his Ord store and move to the farm, a move, which she opposed.
Allen said that he returned her to the rendezvous spot, where she was to attend a BPW committee meeting at the Asa Anderson home, within fifteen minutes, and then had gone to the football game. The game was the opening game of the season between Lexington and Ord.
Allen said he was at the football game before the kickoff at 8 o'clock. Two witnesses, Floyd Beranek and Joe Ruzicka, young Ord businessmen, testified that they had personally talked with Allen at the game before and during the kickoff.
Two doctors appeared on behalf of the defendant, Dr. George E. Lewis of Lincoln and Dr. Arthur Smith of Grand Island. Lewis testified that he had treated Allen in 1938 for a siege of mumps with complications, and that in March of 1951, had reexamined him for sterility and found him completely sterile. An examination for sterility was also made by Dr. Arrasmith, the Grand Island physician said, with the same finding.
Following the testimony of Arrasmith, attorneys for the plaintiff, Ed Vogelanz and Clarence Davis of Ord, and for the defendant, George Munn and Harold Prince of Grand Island, gave their arguments to the jury.
Jury members were Chris M. Hansen, Elliott Clement, Harvey Thomsen, George Brandenburg, W. L. Grabowski, C. S. Burdick, G. W. Barz, John Wojtaszek, Jake Greenland, Vlad Babka, Frank Kapustka and Everett Mason.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Anderson wore a street length dress fashioned completely of aqua lace. The molded sleeveless bodice had tiny rhinestones scattered over it and featured an open, rounded neckline and a silver belt. The skirt was softly flared.
A cascade bouquet of white French carnations and white nylon net was carried by the bride, whose accessories were also white, including a small woven and veiled square-shaped hat. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace.
As matron of honor, her sister wore a smoke pink silk shantung dress, also sleeveless and with a matching collar. The buttons were rhinestones and the belt, silver. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations with white net and pink streamers.
Marilyn and Madelyn Bleach, the groom's nieces and twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bleach, were the candle lighters, wearing yellow organza dresses.
Proceeding the ceremony Don Aulse sang "Because" and the organist, George Munn and Harold Prince of Grand Island, gave their arguments to the jury.

No Trouble Catching Catfish, Says Wolfe, and Proves It!

Most ninnyrds hold the opinion that to take a reasonably good string of catfish from the North Loup river on pole and line is quite an achievement but Harry Wolfe thinks differently.
Last week, when relatives visited and expressed a desire for a taste of catfish Harry rashly said, "Oh, it's no trouble to catch catfish." Funny part of it is, he proved his statement.
During the relatives' visit he took 22 catfish from the river, some of them very nice in size. Everybody had all the fish they could eat.
Harry is one of the best of Ord's fishermen. Another good one is Mrs. C. Dale, who reportedly caught a 7 1/2 pounder this week as well as several smaller ones.
Fishing in general has been quite satisfactory here, while black bass are reported to be striking hard in the Cedar river and bluegills at Pibel lake.

30 Day Season on Doves Opens September 1st

Nebraska is slated to have a 30-day dove season. The Game Commission received word from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service that its request for the season had been approved.
The '31 hunt will begin at noon on Sept. 1 and close at sunset on Sept. 30. With the exception of opening day, hunting will commence at sunrise.
Daily bag and possession limits will be identical to those in '50-10 each. The entire state is open except federal and state sanctuaries and refuges.
Nebraska had open dove seasons recently in 1947, '49 and '50. The bag and possession limits in the three mentioned years were 10 and 10.

Engineer Says Bridge Is Still a Possibility

County Line Structure Can Be Built If Federal Approves.

Last week the Quiz received a letter from W. H. Palmer, assistant to the state engineer in the department of roads and irrigation. This letter was written for the purpose of clarifying the situation with respect to the proposed bridge on the highway between Arcadia and Comstock.

The letter follows: The article concerning the proposed bridge across the Middle Loup between Valley and Custer counties, printed in the July 19th issue of the Ord Quiz, has just come to my attention. There seems to be some misunderstanding about the financing procedure of the proposed bridge and I hope that I can clear this up.

The road on which the proposed bridge would be built is not now on the Federal-Aid Secondary system. The first step necessary in getting the road added to the secondary system is for the county boards of both Custer and Valley counties to pass resolutions requesting that this route be made a part of the system. This has been done. The Federal government requires that such requests also be approved by the State Highway Department.

If the Bureau approves this road as part of the secondary system, it will be eligible for construction financed with 50 per cent federal funds. Next, if the county boards of Custer and Valley counties send resolutions to the State Highway Department stating that it is their desire to improve this road, that between the two counties they can finance the project and the project is built the counties will maintain it, the State Highway Department will take the necessary steps to get the Federal government to earmark money for financing the other 50 per cent.

Because of the repeal in November, 1950 of the 1949 revenue measure, the State Highway Department did not replace any of the revenue that was lost, the State Highway Department will be hard put to adequately construct and maintain those miles which are already on the state highway system. It would be unwise for the department to contemplate taking on the responsibility of maintaining any additional miles.

Nevertheless, the Comstock-Arcadia road, if approved by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, can be constructed by any state and the two counties and the Bureau will approve with the Federal government supplying half the cost and Custer and Valley counties each supplying one-fourth of the cost.

Yours truly, DEPARTMENT OF Department of Roads and Irrigation, William H. Palmer, Administration Division Assistant.

Early Day Elections in Valley County Were Strenuous: Offices Then Prized as Certain Way of Making Living

Elections have changed greatly since that first election ever held in Valley county, March 18, 1873, at which time the first officials of the county were elected. They were: John Case, D. C. Bailey and L. C. Jacobs, commissioners; W. D. Long, clerk; E. D. McKenney, treasurer; Oscar Babcock, judge, H. A. Babcock, sheriff; Thomas McDowell, superintendent and Charles Badger, superintendent.

There is no indication that there was a contest for any of the offices at that first election, although there may have been. As no record of votes cast and for whom is available, it may be presumed that the idea then was to get anybody who would accept the jobs. There was very little money in them for the first few years, and there was plenty of work to be done.

In that first election, whether fairly or not, the location of the county seat was determined. Many claimed the people from the upper part of the valley had put something over on them, and that the question of the location of the county seat was to be determined at a later date. However, it was done, the fact remains that Ord has been the county seat of Valley county since March 18, 1873.

There were three general localities during the first years of county government, the North Loup area, the Ord-Springdale area and the Turtle Creek-Calamus area. Soon the fourth area, Arcadia, first known as Brownville, took part in the elections, as it was early made Voting Precinct No. 4.

At first also politics had less to do with elections than did location. Other things being equal, the man who had the most near neighbors was likely to be elected. Ability had little to do with a man's fitness for office then, the only educational requirements being that he be able to handle his reading, writing and arithmetic.

Later on politics began to play its part, and until about 1890 it seems that the republican candidates usually won. The fact that the early settlers came from localities where the Republicans dominated probably had something to do with this.

The first election on record in book No. 1 of the election record was held Aug. 25, 1873, and in that election the citizens went on record as favoring bridge bonds by a vote of 45 to 36. The bridge was to be built across the North Loup river at Ord.

The vote was canvassed by W. D. Long, clerk, assisted by R. L. Chubbuck and D. M. Sweden. There were four precincts at that time, and they canvassed the vote from all of them, according to their affidavits, but they failed to keep the vote separated as to precincts.

Those first general elections were not held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, an idea that came later. The first general election was held Oct. 13, 1874, and the votes were canvassed by A. T. Stacy, deputy county clerk, J. H. Collins and J. C. Collins.

For governor Silas Garber was unopposed and got 109 votes. R. W. Bancroft won over H. A. Babcock for county commissioner, 70 votes to 55. Peter Mortensen received 55 votes for county treasurer, W. J. Holliday received 34 votes, O. S. Haskell 27, and Oscar Babcock one.

For county surveyor, an important office in those days, Ming Coombs received 48 votes to Charles Webster's 56. Coombs was then from Pct. No. 4, Arcadia. There was no election that year for clerk, sheriff, superintendent or judge, but a full quota of county officials was elected in 1875 and each odd year after that time.

In the election of Oct. 12, 1875, M. B. Goodenow won for sheriff over W. B. Keown, 50 to 46; Thomas Mitchell was defeated by Thomas Tracy for judge, 32 to 58; H. A. Babcock won over W. D. Long for clerk, 54 to 53; Mortensen defeated W. J. Holliday for treasurer, 62 to 39; for superintendent Oscar Babcock received 60 votes and A. T. Morris and Chas. Groezinger 20 votes each; Charles Webster defeated John Case for surveyor, 56 to 50; for coroner Charles Badger received 58 votes to Dr. Reed's 47.

In 1877 Babcock was re-elected, opposite to Mortensen, received 60 votes and A. T. Morris and Chas. Groezinger 20 votes each; Charles Webster defeated John Case for surveyor, 56 to 50; for coroner Charles Badger received 58 votes to Dr. Reed's 47.

In 1879 H. A. Babcock won for clerk over J. H. Capron, 192 to 148; Mortensen defeated N. G. Clement, 237 to 112; for sheriff Herb Thurston beat C. B. Coffin, 237 to 111; for judge S. L. R. Maine won over E. H. Mitchell, 171 to 165; Henry Nelson beat Bennett Seymour, 186 to 161; Coombs beat C. J. Rood, 233 to 115; and Charles Badger got 347 votes for coroner.

In 1881 Babcock won for George B. Petty for clerk; Mortensen beat A. H. Schaefer for treasurer; John Mosher won for judge unopposed; Herb Thurston beat A. V. Bradt for sheriff; J. F. Kates won for superintendent over R. H. Clayton; Charles J. Nelson became surveyor by defeating George B. Truitt; and E. Walker for coroner.

In 1883 A. H. Schaefer defeated E. D. Satterlee and N. K. Redlon for clerk; A. D. Robinson won over R. T. Honnold for treasurer; John Mosher beat J. S. Burrows for judge; Kates beat Clayton once more, and Nelson beat Truitt; H. B. Shirley beat F. C. Coon for coroner.

Schaefer beat S. H. Webster in 1885, while Robinson was unopposed; W. B. (Byron) Johnson became sheriff at the expense of Thomas A. Lavery won over Thomas J. Ludon for judge; Kates beat S. A. Parks for superintendent; D. C. Way beat Bennett Seymour for surveyor, and F. D. Bickford beat R. H. Palmer for coroner.

In 1887 R. C. Nichols won over J. C. Carey and D. C. Way for sheriff; Abe Trout beat A. M. Fisk for treasurer; J. A. Patton beat S. H. Webster for clerk, while Lavery again beat Burrows for judge; S. A. Parks beat Emma Gillespie for superintendent; J. C. Nelson beat H. Losée and D. C. Way for surveyor, and McKenney won for coroner over Dr. D. Hayes and F. D. Haleman.

By 1889 the number of votes cast in the county had risen from a little more than one hundred in 1874 to more than 1400, quite a change for just fifteen years. That year Thomas Rodey was defeated by Trout for treasurer; Patton defeated E. L. Ballou for clerk and J. R. Fairbank defeated V. H. Stone for judge.

That same year, 1889 W. H. Beagle defeated Steve Brace for sheriff and Parks defeated E. M. Potter for superintendent; Bennett Seymour in his third try became surveyor over C. J. Nelson, and Bickford remained coroner by defeating J. B. Waynick and C. E. Coffin.

These statistics become too tiresome, the rest will be left to some later article. A word of explanation will not be amiss here. In those days men became candidates by being nominated at their own accord, as they do today. This accounts for the fact some men dropped out of the running after serving a single term. No vote by precincts is given until 1877. That year they were simply numbered one to seven. About that time official names were given to all of them and the next year they were given as follows: North Loup, Mine Creek, Ord, Arcadia, Springdale, Calamus, Liberty and Willow Springs. The latter was technically in Garfield county, which was nonexistent then.

In the election of 1881 they were the same except that Willow Springs was dropped. In 1883 Creek, Vinton and Hayes Creek were added, and in 1887 Elm Creek was added. In 1889 the county was reorganized into townships as we know them today. They were named and formed as follows: North Loup, Mine Creek and Independent; Springdale lost its west end to Ord; Elm Creek became Noble; Calamus acquired some of Eureka and became Elyria; Liberty became Liberty; Geranium and Michigan; Hayes Creek became Yale; and Mira Creek became Enterprise and Davis Creek. In fact there was a general shuffling of boundary lines.

None of the county officials served a long time, according to present day standards. Peter Mortensen served 9 years as treasurer, while H. A. Babcock held the clerk's job for 8 years. Ming Coombs was superintendent 8 years. C. J. Nelson served 6 years as surveyor up to 1889 but was due to hold that position for about 30 years more before he died. He held office longer than any other man in Valley county.

County Assessor Says Township Valuations Up Higher Than 1950, Due Largely to Increased Livestock

The figures for assessments in Valley county are all in, the board of equalization has checked over the books, and the necessary corrections are being made. The assessor's office reports that the figures are all corrected for the townships, and those for the towns should be complete in a few days.

These figures show that the total valuation of all property in Valley county, outside of the corporate limits, is $15,388,405. While the figures are not immediately available, this is known to be well in excess of the total valuation of the townships for the year 1950.

The reason for this increase lies largely in the increased amount of cattle in the country, and not in the reappraisal, as was stated last week. The new figures of the reappraisal went into effect in 1950, so they would cause no change in the valuation at this time.

Ord township stands highest with one and three quarter million dollars in property, but more than a quarter of a million in railroad is included in this amount. North Loup comes a close second, also with a goodly boost from railroad valuations. Elyria, also with considerable railroad in its borders, has property valued at one and one half million.

To Enterprise goes the honor of being the wealthiest township in the county. Without any help from railroad, this township boasts of $1,318,445. Eureka has the lowest valuation, with $396,595. Since it lies in the rougher part of the county, this could hardly be otherwise.

Liberty township is second from the lowest, with independent real estate, and seven townships share in the distribution of railroad property. In addition to the three first named above, the others are Arcadia, Springdale, Liberty and Yale, with North Loup having the largest amount and Yale the least.

Ord township has the highest valuation in autos, $74,520, while Enterprise is second with a thousand dollars less. Liberty is low in this department, with Eureka a close second. Elyria is highest in real estate, with Ord second and Enterprise third.

Enterprise stands first in personal property, with a valuation of $740,005. Ord takes second place, with Elyria third. Eureka is lowest in personal property, with Liberty second, but Liberty is low in real estate values, with Eureka second low.

In a column marked "county specials" are included the assessed valuations of REA, gas lines and telephone lines. These vary all the way from more than $16,000 in Ord and Elyria to $780 in Eureka, which has only telephone and REA, and not too much of either.

The total figures for the county are as follows: Autos, $747,457; real estate, $11,114,500; personal, $6,375,720; county specials, $105,075; railroads, $1,045,605. For the townships: Noble, $935,280; Elyria, $1,495,840; Eureka, $596,595; Geranium, $840,950; Michigan, $819,825; Ord, $1,748,625; Springdale, $597,355; North Loup, $1,654,270; Enterprise, $1,318,445; Vinton, $931,170; Liberty, $396,595; Arcadia, $1,072,035; Yale, $788,715; Davis Creek, $785,600; and Independent, $783,540.

Graham, Jr., of Sioux Falls, S. D., the bride wore a gown of white lace and net over satin. The lace bodice featured an off-shoulder effect created by a yoke of illusion with scallops of lace. A tiny lace Peter pan collar hugged the high throat line. The full, floor length skirt was fashioned with two layers of white net. The finger tipped length tiered veil of illusion was held by a calot of satin, touched with illusion and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and a Pi Beta Phi wedding handkerchief.
Mrs. George U. Graham, Jr., matron of honor, and Mrs. Roy E. Churchill, bridesmaid, wore identical gowns of pink lace and net over taffeta. The fitted strapless bodices of lace were topped with bolero jackets of lace with cap sleeves and mandarin collars. Will Worm's Welcomed

Nine out of ten fires start through carelessness! Today, America can't afford this appalling waste. Fire hurts our defense effort, consumes needed housing, feeds inflation by destroying $2,000,000 in buildings and materials daily. To keep that roof over your head, follow these simple rules.

- Throw out rubbish, rags—today.
- Don't smoke where it's forbidden.
- Never smoke in bed.
- Don't misuse electrical wiring, appliances.

It was the twinkling eyes of John Ward, dean of Loup Valley newspaper reporters in the "Mystery Eyes" advertisement of Dr. Glen Auble, in last week's Quiz, John, who is crowding 70, and isn't afraid to admit it, is in a lot better physical condition than many men half his age. Ord and St. Paul Tied for 3rd in Mid-Nebr. League

Shelton, Boelus Game Behind, Tied for 4th; Race Is Red Hot.

With only four games remaining on its Mid-Nebraska Night league schedule, Ord is tied with St. Paul for third place in the league standings while Boelus and Shelton are tied for fourth, only a game behind. Wood River is in the cellar, but still only two games back of Ord.

Ord got back on the glory road Sunday night by beating Loup City, after dropping games 3 to 2 and 3 to 0 to Boelus and Shelton.

To be sure of a place in the play-offs the Mustangs should win 3 of their last 4 games, although 2 out of 4 might give them a place, depending on how the teams below them fare.

Sunday night the Mustangs play at St. Paul; next Wednesday the fast Ravenna clan comes to Ord. Since this is a Wednesday game Ravenna will have its "first platoon" in action. Ravenna uses the platoon system, having a hired team out of the Nebraska Independent league which plays week night games and a home team which plays Sunday night games.

The other two games remaining for Ord are against Boelus at Boelus and against Shelton, which game will be played in Ord.

Bud Ellis Allows Ord Only 3 Hits; Shelton Wins, 3-0

Bill Novosad Has One Bad Inning; Mates Fail to Score.

No team can win a baseball game without scoring. The Ord Mustangs learned that sad lesson again Wednesday night at Shelton when Bud Ellis let them down with 3 scratchy hits and no runs while Shelton was using a big 4th inning with five consecutive hits to score 3 runs. That was the margin of the ball game—3 to 0 in Shelton's favor.

Ellis, who is the league's toughest hurler when he is right, had everything it took Wednesday. His curve was cutting the corners and his fast ball was going exactly where he wanted it to. Only Bud Novosad, Beasley and Dick Nelson got hits off his pitching and no Ord runner got past first base.

With Tony Winey leading the attack with 2 blows, Shelton got 9 safeties off Novosad but except in the 4th frame he kept them well scattered. In that inning Ellis did off with a single, B. Hadenfeldt scored him with a double and Scoville, J. Webben and Winey followed with singles, for a total of three runs.

Ord played errorless ball in support of Novosad but their failure to score made his efforts fruitless.

Mustangs Shatter Kruger Jinx, Win 7 to 3, Sunday

Ord Batters Red Wing Hurler for 12 Hits; Beasley Unhittable.

It's a long road that has no turning and the Ord Mustangs came to the turn Sunday night. Three this year they have been defeated by Dale Kruger and the Loup City Red Wings, always by close scores and with breaks playing the major part in the outcome. Sunday they wrathfully battered Kruger from the box with an avalanche of 12 hits, several of them for extra bases, and went on to trounce the Red Wings soundly, 7 to 3.

Bill Beasley was on the hill for Ord and was virtually unhittable. Going into the last of the ninth he had a 3-hit shut-out but in that inning Jack Koll, playing center field for the ailing Bobby Philbrick, let a couple of long flies escape him and 3 Loup City runs scored. Since he didn't touch them they were scored as hits but Philbrick would have caught them in his hip pocket, had he been able to play.

Nor should Koll be unduly blamed, for he has been used all season as a utility infielder and this was his first attempt in the outfield all year.

Dan Dilla, with two long doubles and a single drove in 4 of Ord's seven runs. One of his drives hit the top of the right field fence and bounced back, another few inches would have made it a home run.

Beasley, besides pitching a wonderful game in which he struck out 14 Red Wings, led the Ord attack with 4 hits in 4 trips to the plate. Rol Moore got two hits and only Nelson, R. Beran and Dugan, who was hitting the ball hard but seeing it go directly into the hands of a Loup City player each time, went without hits.

The downfall of Kruger was complete. He struck out only two Ord batters and in the 8th retired from the game in favor of Gene Turek.

The Ord swimming team was defeated 69 to 15 by Broken Bow in a dual meet at the Broken Bow pool Sunday. Broken Bow, who had 22 entries to Ord's 8, had little trouble sweeping both the junior and senior divisions.

Other point winners for Ord were: Kenny Babka, 2nd, 40 yard free style; Ray Clark, 3rd, 40 yard free style; Lonnie Suchanek, 3rd, senior division back stroke; Ronnie Alloway, 2nd, junior division diving.

Those attending the meet from Ord were Gordon Good, Ray Clark, Duane Wolfe, Kenny Babka, Ronnie Alloway, Ronnie Romans, Lonnie Suchanek, and Ronnie Alloway.

Next in line for the Ord swimmers is the city meet to be held the last of August.

Public Ethics

Thirty two members of the house of representatives have introduced a resolution to set up a code of ethics for those working in the government, elected or not. This resolution provides for placing loyalty to God and country above loyalty to persons, party or government department.

It further provides that such persons must uphold the constitution, laws and legal regulations of the United States and never be a party to their evasion. They must practice economy. They must never give or take special advice or privileges.

They must never make private promises, compromising the duties of public office, engaging in no business with the government directly or indirectly. They must never use public office for private profit. They must expose corruption wherever discovered, and they must never seek to influence another to violate these principles.

It looks good on paper and it sounds good when read. It is good, old-fashioned Americanism at work and it would work wonders in improving conditions in Washington if it were put into force. The trouble is that it has not been passed. It is doubtful if it will be passed in its present form. If passed it is probable that so many loop holes will have been added that it will be practically useless. Whoever heard of a law expressed in such simple English that the common herd could understand it? Statesmen may plan a perfect law, but the politicians will ruin it when they get their hands on it.

It would be a good law, if it could be passed and enforced. Then the fellows who are just going along for the ride (and the salary) would probably quit when they found that they had to earn that salary. In time it might lead to a lowering of the number of federal employes in Washington, which would be better for all concerned.

Man was designed to earn his living by the sweat of his brow, or by the sweat of his brain. Honest labor is one of the commandments of God: "By the sweat of thy brow thou shalt eat bread." The principle of "getting by" is contrary to both the law of God and the intention of the founders of the constitution of the United States.

Party should have no place whatever in appointive government employment. It should have only a secondary place in the minds of men elected to office. They are elected or appointed to serve the whole people, regardless of political affiliation. They are not there to serve their private ends at the expense of the public.

But the millennium is not here yet. Too many men go to Washington to serve their own ends at the expense of the public. They not only fail to do any constructive work in repayment for their salaries, but they often use the time for which they are paid in tearing down the government that pays them. We sincerely hope that congress passes that resolution and puts teeth in it.

Headlines

The Nellig Leader came out recently with the editorial which had headlines as follows: "More Than 34 Million People Receive Government Checks," "Our Freedom Threatened," and "The Pilot Smiled." They were separate editorials and all were well written, but it occurs to us that the three might very well have been written as one, for they seem to have much in common.

It is definitely true and established fact that more than one person out of every five living in the United States today receives a government check of some kind through some federal agency. Some of these are well earned, and the recipients are justly entitled to them, while others are on the public payroll with no definite excuse for being there, except, perhaps, how they voted or may vote.

Yes, more than 34 million people receive government checks. These checks vary in size from a few dollars up to several hundred dollars. Let us assume, for example, that they average $100 per month, which is probably low. In that case, the public payroll would amount to three billion, four hundred million dollars per month, or nearly four billion dollars per year.

A payroll of this size would be enough to bankrupt any nation on earth, if kept up for a long period of time. But, more dangerous than the threat of bankruptcy is the effect of having one-fifth of the people dependent on the four-fifths for their living. These people can be made to feel that they owe the salaries they draw, not to the federal government, but to the politicians who made it possible for them to draw the money.

Any deterrent to independent thinking is a threat to our American way of life. No man can be a king in his own right, as all Americans are supposed to be, if he is doomed all his life to furnish one-fourth of the support of some other man whether he desires to help support that man or not.

This list of people on the federal payroll includes those legitimately connected with the federal government in some capacity prior to the vast expansion of bureaucracy during the past nearly twenty years. It also includes 3 and one-half million men in the armed forces, all of whom we cannot get along very well without.

This leaves a total of about 25 million employes. Out of these, with the exception of war veterans and retired civil service workers, not a single group was eligible in 1932 for government payments. Before that time they got along for 140 years without money from the U. S. treasury.

Many of these groups have a just claim on the government, and nobody would deny aid to the needy old people or to the blind, but what about the millions who are able to work and won't work, but will fill places on the government payroll where they are not needed and receive payments for idleness?

The United States is fast becoming a republic of dependent people, "pioneers scorned to ask the aid of the government or even their neighbors except in case of most dire emergency. Today we find an alarmingly large group of citizens who seem to be looking for an opportunity to take a job with little work and large pay at the expense of the government.

The second headline, "Our Freedom Threatened," as a people we have about taken for granted that the blessings of liberty granted us under the constitution and the bill of rights are ours and that all we have to do is accept them. We forget that liberty is something to be fought for, not only on the field of battle, but in the civil walks of life as well.

We fail to realize that, for every favor granted us by the federal government we are required to give up a portion of our liberties. Since this is true, with the present trend, it is only a question of time until we may find ourselves with a socialistic government that will take care of our every need, perhaps, and demand control of everything we do.

As for the heading, "The Pilot Smiled," the original editorial was on an entirely different subject, but it applies here in a far different way. Whether it be in Florida, cruising on Chesapeake Bay or in Washington, the press photographers make a specialty of catching the pilot, Harry S. Truman, with a smile on his face.

With all due respect to his usual good humor, except when he can't have his way, we submit that there has been entirely too much smiling, too much complacency, in Washington. We need more serious thought, more determined action. The boys in Korea are determined enough to risk and lose their lives. They need the backing of men who should realize that the war in Korea is much more than a "police action."

The present conference in Korea will come to nothing unless the UN delegates get tough and lay down the law to the outlaws our boys have been fighting for more than a year. If this means war, we should welcome it, for then we would be on certain ground. Open warfare could be no worse than the "police action" a quarter of a million fighting men have been carrying on for more than a year.

The General Retires

Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, who helped shape the nation's policies from a military point of view in both Europe and Asia, is now retired from the army. Privates, corporals and even sergeants look forward to the time when they have fulfilled their obligation to their country, when they can retire to private life.

It is not so with generals, and it should not be so. Any man who has shown the aptitude to advance to the rank of general, of lieutenant-general in this case, should stay with the job until he finds it necessary to retire because of age. Wedemeyer is not retiring; he is being retired.

The general, now only 54 years old, on Monday bade farewell to the Sixth army, of which he held command since 1949, with headquarters at the Presidio in San Francisco. He is being retired in the prime of life and at a time when men of his caliber are sorely needed at the head of the armies of the United States.

The general is retiring because he is a good soldier. He long ago learned to obey the commands of his superior officers. When he was told to retire, that is what he did, and without hesitation. He did what he did not want to do. Nebraska should be proud of her highest ranking army officer, even though he is on the retired list. Let us hope that others even higher up the official list may be retired in good time.

But generals are not retired in the prime of life without cause. In looking for the cause in the case of Wedemeyer, we find that at the senate's investigation last spring into the removal of General MacArthur from his command in the East, Wedemeyer was called as a witness. At that time he largely upheld MacArthur's expressions as to what could and should have been done in the Orient.

It seems that, in this democracy of ours, there is no place for independent thinking among generals. The two generals who knew from experience more about the situation in the Far East than all the politicians in Washington put together are now retired to private life and all because they dared think for themselves and say what they thought.

What this nation needs is not more leads for the armies of the land, but statesmen in Washington to replace the politicians who are embarked on a rule of ruin policy. The individual can do little to change present conditions in Washington. It is high time that we did something about it.

"Eight and seven-tenths decades ago the pioneer workers in this continental area implemented a new group based on an ideology of free boundaries and initial conditions of equality.

"We are now actively engaged in an overall evaluation of conflicting factors in order to determine whether or not the life expectancy of this group or of any group operating under the stated conditions is significant. We are met in an area of maximum activity among the conflicting factors. The purpose of the meeting is to assign permanent positions to the units which have been annihilated in the process of attaining a steady state. This procedure represents standard practice at the administrative level.

"From a more comprehensive viewpoint we cannot assign — we cannot integrate — we cannot implement this area.

"The courageous units, in being annihilated, who were active in this area have integrated it to a point where the application of simple arithmetical operations include our efforts would produce only negligible effects.

"The reaction of the general public to this colloquium will be nonessential and transitory but the reaction to the impingement of the combat group is invariant. It is for this group in being rather to be integrated with the incomplete activities for which the combat groups who were active in this area have so comprehensively effected the initial implementation.

"It is preferable for this group to be integrated with the incomplete implementation — that from the standards set by these respected deceased units we take accelerated intensive effort — that we here resolve a high ethical level that the deceased shall not have been annihilated without furthering the project — that this group under divine leadership shall implement a new source of unhampered activity — and that political supervision composed of the integrated units, for the integrated units shall not perish from the superficial area of this planet.

Now, just in case you haven't recognized the above document, it's Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, translated into "Faculty English" which is just another word for the "Washingtonese" language as —Irma.

used by many branches of our government. Look up your copy of Lincoln's, compare the two, and then you'll know why a few of us are alarmed at what is going on in Washington.

Rollin Bond, former Ord band leader, and well known Washingtonite, sent us the clipping of the above, which was printed in the Washington Post.

Got a good one on John Ward the other day. I came into his office quite excitedly, and shouted: "John, get down to the irrigation dam right away. The ice is going out and Archie Bradt says the dam is going too!"

Like any good reporter, John moved automatically, and fast. Got halfway down the steps before the impact caught up with him.

+ + Something Different + +

Other cities and towns are busily paper driving. Shall we save papers? Several housewives have asked me. Newspaper people will know the price of paper is going up every day. Your grocer will tell you that paper bags are harder and harder to get, and higher and higher in price.

Seems like saving paper would pay off pretty handsomely in the not-too-distant future.

In a Minneapolis paper was a story about a Cubmobile race. The soapbox machines were each built by one Cub and his father, in some small town. Then the race became an annual affair. Such-a-much fun!

Another idea I picked up in the north, to bring home. It seems the ladies throughout the state have organized into hospital auxiliaries. Yearly they hold small coffee parties, and each of these guests then holds a small coffee party, and so on, an infinitum. A dish is passed for change at each party by the hostess.

This money is used to equip and refurbish hospitals as they need it, particularly in the children's hospitals and the charity hospitals.

And our Ord Community Hospital could use such funds very handsily. The chain party idea has been used here, but not lately, by some of the church ladies.

This is a buggy year. With the many rains and all the green growing things and the luscious landscapes, we have insects and bugs flourishing and thriving as never before.

Webbs and spiders on all the garden things, in every corner they can find. And listen to the crickets chirp.

Year after year H. D. Leggett wrote a letter to the Quiz for publication about what he was doing at his Cullen Lake home each day. He told all the little things: what they had for breakfast, why the fish weren't biting (?), how he helped with the washing, where they drove and what they saw, and who visited them from Ord.

Plugging that country, telling of its beauties summer after summer, he enticed many Ord and Valley county people to take holidays in that northerly direction. Literally dozens and hundreds of friends and acquaintances did he inspire to come and try the fishing and see the lake country.

I got to thinking of how many people went north this summer. A dozen couples or so, and probably a dozen fishermen in stag formation. Many of them never met Dad, never knew him before his death just 13 months ago. Yet his influence lingers on to look after them, and that helps of course. But there are always a few without any chaperone, little folks who would be in over their heads if they tipped off the apron. In that current they wouldn't have a chance. If anything should happen to them, Archie would be blamed. As a matter of fact, a sign at the west side of the structure tells everybody that they go across at their own risk. If anything happens, don't blame Archie. He likes kids as well as anybody, but he simply can't be everywhere at once. Also, even if you are grown up, don't take any chances. You could be drowned as well as the next one, and you'd sure be dead a long time.

Ward's Cookin' Column

Every day now I see a lot of young fellows, up to a certain age limit, running around without their shirts. Perhaps I did the same thing when I was a boy, maybe you did. I have no objections to the practice, and I bet the boys get a kick out of it. I checked with all the lawyers in town, and I find that the practice is perfectly legal, so long as it cannot be classed as indecent exposure. It occurs to me that, if it is legal for the small fry, it must be legal for the elders.

There is no logical reason why some of our old guys should not try to escape the heat by tramping down the street clad principally in a pair of shorts. Now, if Clarence Davis and Dave Haught and a few others will start the fad in Ord, I will be only too glad to fall in line. Just think what a fellow would save on the cost of shirts!

I walked into the house the other day while some orator was putting out a line of golf over some radio station. I do not know just where he was orating at length about the predicament the manufacturers of soft drinks were finding themselves in. He said that if the present high price of materials, labor and transportation costs, that it would be only a question of time until they would have to raise the popular price of five cents and make it six cents. What made it doubly funny to me was that all the makers in this part of the country raised the price of pop to six cents several months ago. All angles considered, it is rather remarkable that they did not jump to a dime instead. They would have been justified. Everything else has doubled or more than doubled in value during the past ten years. The only items that are cheap these days are the dollar and human life.

Some people must think that Archie Bradt is the god-father to all the kids in town. I have been down to the dam plenty of times this summer, and every time there are anywhere from a few to a couple of dozen kids running around. Some have their parents or older brothers or sisters to look after them, and that helps of course. But there are always a few without any chaperone, little folks who would be in over their heads if they tipped off the apron. In that current they wouldn't have a chance. If anything should happen to them, Archie would be blamed. As a matter of fact, a sign at the west side of the structure tells everybody that they go across at their own risk. If anything happens, don't blame Archie. He likes kids as well as anybody, but he simply can't be everywhere at once. Also, even if you are grown up, don't take any chances. You could be drowned as well as the next one, and you'd sure be dead a long time.

Doug Barber, now of Suisan, Calif., had quite a story about me in the Quiz recently. Nearly everybody in the valley knew about Doug when he lived and worked among us. What a lot of people do not know is that Doug is no longer able to work and has to spend most of the time in a wheel chair. That would be tough for anybody and especially tough for Doug, who always was busy and always had more to do than he could get done. I only wish he lived closer, so that I could drop around and have him razz me the way he used to do. It does not seem possible that he has to take it easy now when, only 20 years ago, he pitched a 3 hit game for Clean against Ord and beat the local team ten to nothing. That is the story I found in the files of the Quiz for 1931. Doug is younger than I am, but he kept right on pitching for years after I had quit. Even if he had to sit the game out now, I'll bet old Doug is still right in there pitching.

North Loup is finally getting civilized. The other day the boys roped John Edwards, hogtied him and, after a fierce struggle, got a pair of shoes on him. Quite a few of the businessmen are getting so they can read and rite and spel. The other day the firemen got out a piece of garden hose and washed down the paving, several of them getting their feet washed in the process. Then Marshal Mose Brenneck, who never has much to do anyway except uphold the law, pump the water, grade the streets, shoot a dog now and then, do emergency jobs of plumbing, put up detour signs and make himself useful about 15 hours out of 24, got busy and painted parking lines on the paving. Now all he has to do is to educate the public in the art of getting a five foot automobile in a ten foot space without straddling the white lines. It must be fun to be marshal with nothing to do except order people around.

The Johns give me the Willies. Recently I was around the valley gathering up the brush the Lord had strewed around during the windstorm. I had one batch of it neatly piled up in the edge of the street, ready to burn, when along came John L. Andersen, accompanied by John Manchester. He swung over to the left side of the street, hit that pile of brush amidships and went on down the street, scattering brush and leaves for about two blocks. He claimed he was on the right side of the street and that I piled the brush too far out and that Manchester had put him up to it, but none of those excuses would hold water. He drove on while I was swearing at him. Then I got busy and after an hour of back-breaking labor I had the brush piled up again, when he came back from the opposite direction and aimed full speed at that brush again. Luckily he had a change of heart just before he hit it, luckily for him, that is. You see I had several witnesses posted in strategic places. You can imagine what would happen to John if he had to appear in Judge Ellsworth Ball's court.

The other day Ed Swopes was visiting with a friend in his office and went to the east window to throw away a cigarette butt. Immediately he rushed to the stair door, went down the stairs three at a time. Asked why he was in such a hurry he said: "I didn't notice at the time I threw it, but that car it landed on was mine." Just why he should worry so much about that old wreck he drives around is more than I can figure out.

While I am at it, I might as well tell another one about Swopes. He went to the photographer's school and convention in Elba or Omaha or some such place, and by pulling the right wires, he got himself elected treasurer of the organization. The news item, was published in the daily papers and there it was in black and white, "Ed Swopes, Sidney, Treasurer." Of course Ed says it was all a mistake and that he had nothing to do with it, but somebody made a big mistake, for Sidney is a long, long way from Ord. If they got it "North Loup" or "Arcadia" or "Elyria" it would still have been right here in Valley county.

C. C. Dale Takes Extended Journey On Training Tour for County Agents

County Agents C. C. Dale of Valley and Willis Thurber of Garfield were among the 31 agents from all parts of Nebraska who made what was known as a training meeting trip over the week end. The group started from Fremont by chartered bus, but the two men joined the trip at Grand Island, leaving there at 12:30 p. m. Thursday.

They first went to North Platte, where they made a tour of the North Platte Experiment station. There they saw feeder cattle on feed, the dairy herd, Duroc hog breeding project, irrigated pastures and horticulture projects. They remained in North Platte over night.

Friday morning the first stop was at the O. K. Hereford ranch, after which they made a trip across the dam at McConoughy. From there they went on to Scottsbluff and were driven to the top of the bluff for the view, in auto furnished for the occasion.

In the afternoon they visited the Scottsbluff Experiment station for a study of the irrigation setup, of their fertilizer variety tests and test with the new radioactive phosphorus on some of the crops.

They went on the Paul Blood sheep breeding plant south of Morrill where they experiment in feeding 250 head of lambs for a year. The next jump took them to Fort Robinson, now the property of the Agricultural Experiment station. They spent the night there at Comanche hall.

There they heard discussions on what is doing in cattle breeding, by Prof. Baker of the department of agriculture and by Superintendent R. L. Davis of the Robinson station, USDA. They toured the range and saw the cattle with which they were working.

They had a session with the SCS range management and spent the second night at Robinson. Sunday they stopped at the Minton Hereford ranch near Crawford and the D. J. Cole Angus ranches near Merriman.

In the afternoon they visited the Sam McKelvie's By The Way ranch ten miles south of Valentine. Monday morning they came down to Halsey and made a tour of the forest there under the direction of the forester in charge. From there they went to Broken Bow and thence home.

Valley County Fair Association Organized in 1882; Still Going Strong in Seventieth Year Last Week

Since last week was the Loup Valley Fair and Races, it is appropriate that some space be devoted to a history of the fair in Valley County. Available records show that the county fair has been held almost continuously for the past seventy years, and without a doubt was held even before that, although proof is missing. The first official record available appears in the Ord Quiz for July 13, 1882, in which is printed a record of a meeting held the preceding day, July 12. The story is headed "Valley County Agricultural Society." The meeting was started at the Valley County Journal office, across the corner from the present Veterinary office. Later, because of the large number who came and because of the great interest shown, it was transferred to the Valley County Court House, then located along the south side of the court house square, a little to the west of the cross walk from the Westway store to the court house, or rather, where that walk is at the present time. It was difficult to understand how much of a crowd got into the court house, which was only 16 by 24 feet in size and was divided into two offices. Perhaps the chairman and secretary sat just inside the doorway, and the rest of the crowd stood in the hall. It was not an unusual procedure in those days. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws, and this was presented at the meeting. While it is not so stated, it is probable that the Valley County Fair Association was then organized. The group then proceeded to elect the following officers: W. J. Wilson, president; A. S. Adams, W. A. Anderson and H. P. Malden, vice-presidents; Charles B. Coffin, secretary; and Joseph H. Capron, secretary. It was decided to hold a fair in the fall. Then the meeting was adjourned until July 19. It is unfortunate that all issues of the Quiz for the rest of the year 1882 are missing, and there is no mention of the fair, whether it was a success or a failure, whether it was well attended or not. It is certain that the records of all meetings were well kept, as J. H. Capron was a careful man in that respect. The Quiz file for 1882 is nearly complete, but there is only a single reference anywhere to the county fair. In the issue for Friday, Sept. 28, 1882 it is stated that "Will Stevens of Stroth (Loup county) came to Ord Tuesday and stopped over the night of Wednesday. Here, there must of been a county fair held in 1883. From that time on until the present time it can be shown that a fair was held nearly every year and possibly all of them. Those early fairs were always held in the evening, to give exhibitors a chance to get all their products in the best condition for display. It was not necessary to select a week that would not clash with the fair in the next county. Travel was largely by wagon in those days and about the only people who came to the fair were those in the county concerned. They brought in their ear corn in bushel baskets, their grain samples in buckets or peck measures, their sheaf grain in bundles, and corn stalks ten to twelve feet high were stuck up all around the inside of the agricultural hall. There was always a big display of chickens, with a fair smattering of horses and other livestock. Pure bred stock at first was the exception rather than the rule, but the people came from all over the county to see the show, which was one of the big occasions of the entire year. Just when the fair grounds were established northwest of Ord is not clear from the records, but, as far back as most of the oldsters can remember it was there, and some of the buildings were showing signs of age in the late '90s. The fair grounds there were located south of the buildings occupied by Walter Hoon, south of the irrigation ditch that comes across the southeast quarter of section 17, township 19, range 14 west. It remained there until about fifty years ago, when it was moved to the present location southeast of Ord. There used to be a race track on the old grounds, laid out along the north side from east to west, and it was turned back to crops so long ago that people have forgotten about it. But the track still persists in showing up. The soil conservation service has a map of that area in which that old track shows up almost as clearly as it would have when it was still in use. It was on that track that a lot of present day Ord fellows got to see their first harness races. The great majority of Quiz readers cannot remember anything about that track or fair grounds for the reason that they were not born until after it had been abandoned. Yet the Valley County fair had been going a long time even then. The means of entertainment in those days was simple in accord with the times. They had foot racing, tugs of war, fat men's races, baseball games, the latter using hand made string balls. Those first fairs were attended mainly by people from Ord and North Loup areas, with a few, perhaps from the southwest corner of the county, where the village of Arcadia had not yet been developed. When the fair was moved some new buildings and stands were put up and a race track was laid out. The latter was cramped for size because of the fact that the Union Pacific "Y" came in farther southeast than it does today. A track suitable for horse racing could be made, but not one of the auto racing which came in in due time. It was on that track that harness racing came into its own. Ord had a number of men who owned fine trotting horses at that time, and there were others around the county, especially at Greeley. They ran for the honor and purse of first place, but also usually had considerable money in side bets. Among these men were Ross Gass, Tom Rockhold, Dayt, Auble, John Auble of Ord and a man named Harris of Greeley. Clay McGreary owned a good race horse at that time and he won a lot of races with him. There was a fascination about those harness races that running races never seem to have. From the turn of the century on, baseball games became a part of the entertainment at the fairs, and continued to be until the changing of the "Y" and the building of the auto race track, which occurred about 30 years ago. It was about that time, also, that the fair was reorganized, more stock sold and more buildings built. With the reorganization and the auto track the Loup Valley fair, as it was then called, entered into the new era, the most colorful of its career. The auto races were a hit from the start. Not too many drivers came to Ord the first year, but the number increased rapidly after the track had proved to be one of the fastest in the country and the prize money offered well worth trying for. Under the management of Emile Weller, Ernie Hill and Clyde Baker, the auto races at Ord won national renown, and no doubt would have continued that way indefinitely had it not been for the drought and the years of depression. But the fair managed to keep going through it all. This will be the seventieth year with that fair of 1882. A good show is being put on this week, one of the best. The big racing autos are back in the kind of races the public likes. The year of 1951 should be a banner year for the Loup Valley fair.

Interest Intense in Ord-Ravenna Game Here Tonight

Bornschlager to Pitch for Visitors; Ord Needs This Game.

Interest is high in the baseball game to be played in Ord tonight (Wednesday) between Ravenna, second place team in the Mid-Nebraska Night League and the Ord Mustangs, who are tied with St. Paul for third.

Ravenna is still hoping to overtake the Loup City Red Wings and thus capture top money in the league race, while Ord is shooting for a place in the play-offs which follow the regular season.

To take first place Ravenna must win all its remaining games and Loup City must drop two. Ravenna and Loup City meet once more before close of the season.

Bert Stickey, manager of Ravenna, has indicated he will pitch Jake Bornschlager, left-hander from Geneva, against the Mustangs tonight. Bornschlager has won 2 and lost 1 for Ravenna this year and is one of the top hurlers in Nebraska independent baseball.

Manager Rollie Johnson, of the Mustangs, says both of his pitchers have had ten days of rest and he will warm them both up tonight and give the starting nod to the one who shows the most stuff and the best control in the warm-up. Either Novosod or Beasley is capable of beating Ravenna if given a few runs.

Other Ravenna players will include Al Karle and Ray Johnson of Grand Island; Dake and Doug Holdrege; Rol Jensen, Mason City; Carman, Kearney; Stickey, Zeller and Boucher, Ravenna. Reserve pitchers available for use will include Sweeney and Treischman, Grand Island, and probably Sajevic, of Kearney. The latter may be used in the outfield because of his heavy hitting.

Manager Johnson will have Moore at 3rd, Dugan at shortstop, Bud Novosod at 2nd, himself at 1st, Beran, Phibrick and Djila in the outfield, all being regular team members who have played in practically all the games this year.

After tonight's game Ord will travel to Boelus Sunday night and next Wednesday will entertain Shelton on the Ord field, followed by a trip the next night to St. Paul, to play off a postponed game. The Shelton fray Aug. 22 ends the regular season.

Heavy rains cancelled all games last Wednesday and all games Sunday, throughout the league. Only one of these has been played off, the Boelus-Ravenna game Friday night which was topped by Ravenna, 6 to 1, with Bornschlager hurling. This loss dropped Boelus another game behind Ord.

The Mustangs must win 2 of their last 4 and possibly 3 to be assured of a play-off spot. If they get into the play-offs they stand an excellent chance to win for their line-up will be intact while some of the other teams have depended heavily on college men who will return to their schools soon after September 1.

Present league standings follow:

As of August 11	W	L	789
Loup City	15	4	789
Ravenna	14	7	667
Ord	9	11	450
St. Paul	9	11	450
Shelton	8	12	400
Boelus	7	13	381
Wood River	7	12	368

Mullen Contractor Gets Gravel Contract

John Mallory, of Mullen, was low bidder on a graveling project of 13.3 miles between Burwell and Taylor, at the bid opening in Lincoln Monday. His bid was $13,889.55.

High Wind Wrecks Planes at Airport

Here's one of the three planes wrecked at the Ord airport in the windstorm Sunday evening. The storm demolished the small parkway or temporary hangar at the port, but left the large hangar, administration building and old office undamaged.

Come Back to Ord; All Is Forgiven!

If the Ord resident who moved to Burwell between 1940 and 1950 will move back to Ord, the Chamber of Commerce is prepared to forgive and forget.

In 1940 Ord's population was 2,240. In 1950, according to final census figures revealed Tuesday, it was 2,339, a loss of one person. Burwell's population in 1940 was 1,412 and ten years later was 1,413. This accounts, no doubt, for the missing Ordite.

North Loup's 1950 population was 329 as compared with 577 ten years earlier, a loss of 44. And Arcadia had 574 compared to 663, a loss of 89. Scotia had 459, a loss of 14 in ten years. Greeley lost 201 and now has 787. Loup City lost 167 and now has 1,508; Comstock has 302 compared with 408, a loss of 106. Sargent almost held its own, 818 compared to 847. In central Nebraska only Broken Bow gained, now having 3,396 compared to 2,968.

Hail Hits Valley Region, Misses Ord; Wind Does Damage

Ord Rainfall Total Is 2.54 in Four Nights, But More Elsewhere.

Heavy rains, accompanied by high winds and in some places hail, has been the weather diet served up to the Loup valleys region in the past week.

Worst storm came Sunday evening when high winds blew the top off the Biemond shelter at the Ord airport and extensively damaged two planes. Worst damaged was a Cub cabin cruiser owned by Orel Kocling and Leslie Nash which was blown several hundred feet from the hangar and wrecked so extensively that it will not be worth repairing. A plane used for spraying by the Loup Valley Air Service also was damaged to a considerable extent.

Some damage was done to telephone and power lines and many trees were broken in and near Ord Sunday night but no hail fell in this vicinity. Sunday eve rainfall here was 1.33 inches.

North Loup reported 3 1/2 inches of rain Sunday night, with no hail, but farther south near Scotia and Colesfield hail fell heavily and several corn fields will be total losses.

Thursday's storm was more severe west of St. Paul and in the Loup City area where hail damage was great. Only 1/4 inch of rain fell at Ord that night.

Saturday night Ord got 3/4 inch of rain and Tuesday evening a light shower fell, totalling .15 of an inch. To date this year rainfall total is 19.92 inches, slightly under last year's total of 21.75 at this time.

The Burwell rodeo suffered from the rainy period which made a quarantine of the grounds and forced cancellation of two evening programs, though afternoon shows went on to good attendance despite the rain. Ord people who held concessions on the grounds say that the carnival and all concessionaires lost money, as well as the rodeo management, because of the wet weather.

Continued thunder showers are reported for Nebraska for the remainder of the week, which is bad news for farmers.

Corn now has all the moisture it needs to carry it through to a bumper crop, in the opinion of many, and farmers need a period of drying weather to permit completion of all grain harvesting. Much combining remains to be done and practically all threshing from binder-cut fields.

Military Funeral for Oscar L. Nay, Veteran of 2 Wars

Interment Made in Ord of Former Ord Man Who Died in Minn.

Military honors were accorded Oscar L. Nay, a veteran of the Spanish-American War and World War I, when he was laid to rest Saturday morning in the Ord cemetery after brief funeral services at the Hastings-Pearson chapel, conducted by Rev. Keith Shepherd, of the Ord Methodist church. Pallbearers were members of the American Legion and V. F. W., and a firing squad from these organizations fired three volleys as his flag-draped casket was lowered, with a Legion bugler blowing "taps."

Mr. Nay enlisted in the 18th cavalry of the U. S. regular army at the age of 16 and was sent to the Philippines. Mustered out there with the rank of corporal, when guerrilla hostilities were brought under control, he secured civil service employment in the government printing office there and did not return to the mainland until 1906.

In World War I, he was a captain of artillery and saw service in France.

Nay was born on a farm north of the brick school house on Sept. 10, 1883. His parents were William and Carrie Nay. In 1890 the family moved to Ord and in 1892 to Platte Center, where they lived until 1897. Mr. Nay learned the printing trade by working in Ord, Platte Center and Columbus, and in 1897 went to the Augustine plant in Grand Island where he worked two years before joining the army.

Between 1906 and 1917 he worked at the printing trade in Ord. (Continued on Page 6)

Alleged Gamblers Bound Over Tuesday to District Court

Felony Charges Filed in All Cases; Arrests Made at Rodeo.

Preliminary hearings for seven alleged gamblers arrested Saturday in raids on the rodeo grounds in Burwell by a squad of state police headed by Robert Nelson, assistant attorney general, were held Tuesday morning in county court at Burwell before Judge E. W. Moss.

Saturday three others waived hearing after pleading not guilty. Felony charges, possession of gambling devices were filed against all ten by the state. All pleaded not guilty, were bound over to district court and were released on bond of $1,000 each. Penalty for this offense is a fine of up to $500 and a penitentiary term of up to 3 years.

Principals were said to be Jack Ruback, owner of the Alamo Exposition Shows, Albert Wright, show manager, and Ben Hyman, also with the show. All three gave their address as San Antonio, Tex. The other seven were alleged operators of the various games of chance.

Governor Slaps at Local Enforcement

In Lincoln Tuesday, Governor Val Peterson said that he would not hesitate to use his power to remove from office local officers when they fail to act to stop any gambling in violation of Nebraska laws.

In the same statement he commended Assistant Attorney General Robert Nelson for raiding the Burwell rodeo and arresting ten alleged gambling device operators, on the last day of the show.

At Burwell the attitude is taken that Governor Peterson was referring to County Attorney Leo Clinch and Sheriff D. R. Mattern for failure to stop gambling before the assistant attorney general acted.

Attorney General Nelson stayed at the Ord Hotel last Thursday and Friday and on Friday visited the rodeo grounds and warned every operator of a bingo game or other gambling game to close immediately upon penalty of arrest and prosecution. All the games were closed but after Nelson's departure they reopened.

The next day Nelson stated his raids with the help of William Glason, assistant attorney general, Mike Madden, investigator for the attorney general's office, Harold Smith and Jack Knutson, of the state safety patrol; and D. R. Mattern, Garfield county sheriff.

The Garfield county jail not being large enough to house all those arrested, several were brought to the Valley county jail until they could be arraigned in court.

Mr. Nelson said the raid netted five gambling devices including one bingo type game. Betting was heavy when he made the raids at 12:30 p. m.

Reportedly, a big time craps game had been running day and night in an uptown Burwell building but got a tip-off that the raids were to be made and closed up Saturday. Thousands of dollars were said to have changed hands in this game, which reportedly was operated by a Grand Island gambler and liquor dealer.

Traditionally, the Burwell rodeo has been "wide open" so far as bingo and craps games of chance are concerned, and the state attorney general's attitude toward gambling is not held in general favor by the rodeo management or crowd.

Ord Schools Will Open September 4

Normal Training Dropped from Instruction Slate.

Ord schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 4, C. C. Thompson, superintendent, announced this week. Registration for high school will start Monday, August 27, when grades 10 and 12 will register. Grades 9 and 11 will register on Tuesday, August 28, and grades 7 and 8 on Wednesday morning, August 29.

Grade school registration will be made on the opening day of school.

Curriculum will remain the same as last year, Thompson said, except that the normal training courses will be dropped. Normal training in high schools is becoming increasingly unpopular over the state, Thompson said, and although Ord had intended to offer the course for one more year, a qualified instructor could not be found.

Only one faculty change has been made, Mary Jane Olson of Chappell, Neb., will replace Romona Koza in the grade school.

Win. Nelson, who had been offered the job of supervisor of music in Kearney high school, failed to obtain his release from the Ord school board, and will be on the job here for another term.

On the faculty roster this year are: C. C. Thompson, Supt., F. L. Stoddard, principal; J. A. Kovanda, Wm. Nelson, Richard Peterson, Roland Moore, Doyle Dickey, Merritt Lattell, William Gogan, Eunice Jensen, Maude Holden, Helen Kokes, Dorothy Kovanda, Lucile Tolen, Irma King, Jezz Swain, Lucy Rowbal, Evelyn Inzeres, Lois, Strong, Roberta Stansberry, Mary Jane Olson, Juniata Greenstreet and Donald Ballard. Mrs. Hubert Leach, jr. is office manager, Thomas Williams, Richard Fien and Robert Phibrick are custodians.

Capell Bros. has the reputation of having one of the finest, cleanest and most modern circuses on the road. Tents are fireproof and waterproof for the protection of the public.

Own Building Ablaze, Firemen Acted Fast

North Loup—(Special)—The volunteer firemen here set a new record Saturday evening for speed in getting the fire truck out and getting water on a blaze. The fire was in the roof of the firehouse, set when a youngster playing in the back alley threw a lighted sparkler on the roof. The blaze was put out in a matter of minutes, leaving only a small hole in the roof to be repaired.

Ord Midgets Lose Tournament Game to Central City

Settle Down After Wild First Inning; Final Score Was 8 to 5.

The Ord Midgets were defeated 8 to 5 Tuesday in the first round of the V. F. W. tournament being held at Central City, victors being the Central City team who thus went into the tournament semi-finals along with Grand Island, St. Paul and Kearney.

The Ord boys had a wild first inning, allowing four runs to score without a hit, but after that settled down and outplayed Central City throughout, but the damage was already done.

Ign. Diskorski pitched good baseball for Ord and John Douthit, substituting for his absent brother Jim, did good work behind the plate.

The game originally was scheduled for Sunday but had to be called because of rain after 3 1/2 innings, so the Ord boys and their coaches, Heuck and Douthit, made a second trip to Central City Tuesday.

Town Schools Win Most of Fair Awards

Because of their greater number of pupils and entries, town schools won the lion's share of prizes in school exhibits at the Valley county fair last week, but Districts 15, 13, 26 and 63 managed to nose out North Loup for total number of superior and excellent awards.

Tabulation by county superintendent Fred Appleget gave North Loup 35 top awards; Ord 118; Dist. 13, 35; Dist. 15, 39; Arcadia 65; Dist. 26, 42; Dist. 63, 42. Totals for the county are:

Arcadia Seeking Doctor for New Health Center

$24,500 Building Is Ready for Occupants; Community Enterprise.

All but the finishing touches are complete on Arcadia's new $24,500 health center.

The new building, of modern design in yellow and glass brick, is completed with a reception room, doctor's office, dentist's office, laboratory, lead-lined x-ray room and several consultation rooms.

The building, owned by the city, will be rented to a physician who will locate in Arcadia. No physician as yet has agreed to come to the community, but several applicants have visited Arcadia.

The history of the health center dates back five years, when Arcadia decided to do something about having a doctor locate there. A municipal bond issue of $11,500 was let. This wasn't enough money, so a private subscription campaign raised the balance of the money.

Morris Fowler can properly be given credit for the private subscription drive—he raised $13,000 of the amount in less than a week.

In the Quiz pic above, Rasmussen represents Melvin Swanson, contractor for the building, Ramsey, Kaminski, Elliott and Starr are members of the village board of trustees, Weddell is village clerk, Brandenburg a project worker and a member of the Arcadia community club.

Mr. Thompson has been head of the Ord schools for 15 years.

He has represented District 4 in the Nebraska Schools Activities association and was chairman of the control board from 1943 to 1945.

Clarence M. Davis is city prosecutor and Absalon has retained Leonard Cronk to defend him.

Ord FHA Unit Has $32,000 to Loan

Word has been received regarding appropriations for all types of Farm Home Administration loans in Nebraska. Donald E. Krick, county supervisor, announced today. Nebraska has been allotted $1,700,000 of appropriated funds and $500,000 of Corporation funds for the fiscal year of 1952 for the making of production and subsistence loans. The Ord unit, which comprises Greeley, Valley, and Garfield counties has been allotted $32,000 for immediate use and the corporation funds are to be used as a state pool.

Nebraska's 1952 allotment for direct farm ownership loans is $319,401 and $145,000 for water facility loans. Veterans are given preference in all types of assistance.

Production and subsistence loans are loans for the purchase of live stock, machinery, feed, seed and other operating needs. On farm ownership loans, veterans are eligible for 100% loans and non-veterans for 90% of the appraised valuation. Water facility loans can be made for deep-well irrigation, farmstead water supply and sprinkler systems. In addition to the above types of loans, loans are available to owners to repair or remodel farm buildings, purchase more land and develop land with soil improving practices.

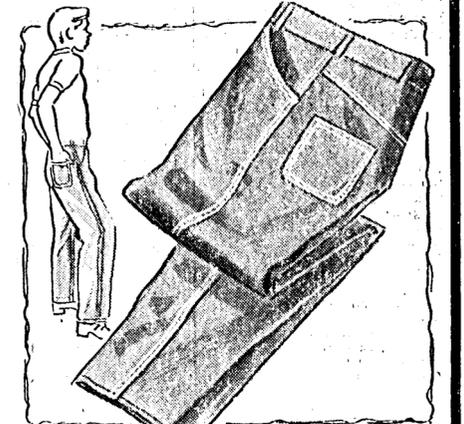

The Greeley office is open each Thursday afternoon from 1 to 3 p. m. and is located in the court house; the Burwell office is located in the SCS building and is open the first and third Tuesdays of each month, and the Ord office in the post office each Monday afternoon.

Postponed St. Paul Game Set for 23rd

Not until Thursday, Aug. 23 will the St. Paul-Ord game, postponed Sunday evening because of heavy rains, be played on the St. Paul diamond. Final game of the scheduled season is to be played the night before, Shelton appearing in Ord and St. Paul having a bye.

Manager Rollie Johnson and his team made the trip to St. Paul Sunday evening after hearing that no rain had fallen there at 6:15. At 7:15, before the Ord players arrived, rain flooded the field.

By the 23rd, this game may or may not have a bearing on the playoffs, in which the top four teams will compete, but it will be played anyway.

Dr. W. H. Nay is in Ord on Tuesday and Friday at office of Dr. Zeta Nay.

Veterans Groups Wrestling Show Here August 24

Three Bouts to Be Presented at Ball Park Friday Eve.

Wrestling as a spectator sport will make its return to Valley county Friday evening, August 24, when three bouts will be presented at the Ord ball park. The matches, which are sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion.

The matches, scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock p. m., will begin with a special event, Danny Plechas, 250, of Omaha, vs Mike DiBiase, 235, of Lincoln for a one fall, 30 minute time limit go. DiBiase is a former University of Nebraska football star.

The second bout will see hair pulling as well as grunts and groans, Petite Betty Hawkins, 145, will compete with curvaceous Donna Marie, 135, for two out of three falls or a one hour time limit. Betty hails from Louisville, Ky., and Donna Marie from Barberton, O.

The main event will bring one of Nebraska's most famous wrestling names to Ord. Joe Dusek, youngest of the "Dirty Dusek" family will wrestle two out of three falls or a 90 minute time limit with Bob Geigel of Algona, Ia. Dusek tips the scales at 231, scowl and all. Geigel weighs a mere 217. Jack Conley of Omaha will be third man in the ring for all events.

Spokesmen for the two veterans groups who are sponsoring the event said the Friday night show would be a test. If successful, the veterans will bring other wrestling and boxing matches to Ord, and plan to let spectators take a close look at such luminaries as the Pesek family of Ravenna. George "Butch" Kraul may also appear in future bouts.

Jerry Petska is still at Lutheran hospital, Omaha, where he underwent brain surgery last week, and his condition is said to be about the same. Mrs. Petska is with him.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ringlein were Spalding visitors Tuesday.

Jack Romans Owner of Mystery Eyes

The mystery eyes in last week's Quiz belonged to Jack Romans, owner and operator of Romans Motor Freight in Ord. One of Nebraska's larger trucking firms, Romans Motor Freight is second only to Quip Industries as Ord's largest employer.

Another set of mystery eyes can be seen this week in the series sponsored by Dr. Glen Auble, optometrist. Without giving a hint, we'll say that these belong to one of Ord's most prominent citizens, whom everyone knows.

Northern Pike on Increase Near Ord

At least a dozen northern pike, several of creditable size, have been caught in the still water bayou east of Hardebrook dam this season and 2 or 3 have been caught directly below the dam in the river itself, says Archie Bradt, dam caretaker. Jess Kovanda is the champion pike fisherman, having caught six of the fish, using a spinner and minnows for bait.

A few walleyed pike have been caught below the dam lately, Bradt says. Catfish have been scarce in the dam pool all summer and Bradt thinks it is because there are so many turtles in the pool. Farther down the river more and larger catfish have been caught than at the dam itself.

Northern pike are on the increase in the North Loup and tributary waters, Mr. Bradt believes. Cooler weather should improve fishing, in his opinion, especially for pike.

Jug of Water Sets Fire to Stack of Alfalfa

A gallon glass jug full of ordinary water can pack a terrific wallop. Eight tons of last year's alfalfa went up in flames at the Gappa farm north of Ashton last week because of such a jug. Someone left the filled jug on the east side of the stack the night before. When the rays of the rising sun hit the jug at the correct angle to convert it into a kind of magnifying glass, the rays were concentrated at the base of the dry stack and a blaze was kindled. At about 8:00 o'clock a. m. the entire stack was a mass of flames and the Gappa Bros. were minus eight tons of good alfalfa.

Site Is Clear for New Office

Pete Ogle, of Loup City, Tuesday moved the frame house from Dr. E. L. Blessing's lot at 17th and L streets, thus clearing the site for a new office-residence building which the Blessings will build immediately. The old building was moved to a lot in north-west Ord where it will be remodeled and either rented or sold. Charles Krieveld is the contractor on Dr. Blessing's new building, which is being prefabricated in Wichita, Kans. It will consist of two wings connected by a large living room, behind which will be kitchen and service rooms. The east wing will be Dr. Blessing's dental offices and will include reception room, operating room, laboratory and storage room, one behind the other. Three bed rooms and a bath will make up the west wing.

The Blessings hope to have their home and office ready for occupancy before told weather this fall.

At Chattanooga, Tenn. Bryson City, N. C., Kenton, Tenn. (home of the world's largest paper and fiber company, the Champion Co.) and Asheville, N. C. they visited.

Grain.

We are getting some bin room and can take care of you on wheat, corn, rye, oats and barley. Markets are all holding quite steady and there is not much change in the markets on any grain. Would like to buy some good quality yellow corn; not interested in badly damaged corn. Right now we have limited amounts of good feeding barley and rye.

Fertilizer.

The first part of September we will have a car of 15-15-0 for your wheat fields. This fertilizer carries both Nitrogen and Phosphate and is an ideal mixture for fall application on your wheat fields. If you can use this type of fertilizer let us have your order while we have a few tons left for sale.

We are booking Ammonium Nitrate for winter, spring and summer delivery. We believe that all fertilizers will be in very short supply this year and anyone wanting fertilizer should get their orders placed now. There will be a very limited amount of Superphosphate for fall delivery.

Clover and Alfalfa Seed.

The demand for sweet clover seed is rather limited but we look for a good demand for alfalfa seed. If you have sweet clover seed to sell we would like a chance to bid on it; particularly interested in yellow blossom seed. We will buy the 1950 crop as well as the 1951 crop.

We are also buying 1950 holdover crop of alfalfa seed. If you plan to do some alfalfa seeding this fall and do not have your seed on hand we feel that you should get it located soon as there is not a lot of local seed in our section.

Frank Naprstek Farm Was Mystery Farm Last Week

Mystery farm pictured in the Valley County Implement company's ad last week was the Frank Naprstek farm, which is located 2 miles north of the brick school house. Frank identified the picture Friday, saying that his wife was first to note that it was their farm, but that he identified it also "as soon as he got his directions straight."

Of this 480-acre about 130 are under cultivation, mostly in corn and alfalfa. Last year the corn made 30 bushels to the acre and prospects for a 1951 crop are "the best ever." About 1 1/2 inches of rain last week, with no hail, should provide enough moisture to finish the crop out. Frank also has put up 19 stacks of alfalfa to date and will have several more. He also is saving a small acreage for seed, with fine prospects of a heavy crop.

The Naprsteks bought this farm five years ago from a loan company. Mr. Naprstek runs a number of cattle and each year sells off the steer calves and thereby makes the payments on his farm. He saves the heifer calves and thus is constantly enlarging his fine herd. He has never gone in for cattle feeding but raises a nice lot of market hogs each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Russell and daughters of Grand Island were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark.

Margaret and Dick Apking returned to Ord Saturday after spending two weeks in Alexandria and Hebron visiting their grandparents and other relatives. They came to Ord with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Avers of Davenport, Nebr.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark spent August 5 to 9 in Gordon with their son and family and when they returned Thursday Mrs. Arden Clark and the children came with them. On Sunday their son came to get his family.

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta left Sunday for Denver to visit their son, Dr. F. D. Barta, for a few days. Their daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Wiggins and children, who have been visiting here several weeks, have gone to Ogallala to visit friends and from there will return to their home in California.

Another daughter, Evelyn, and her husband, Mr. Barter, came last week from their home in Oregon and will visit for some time in the Barta home.

Since moving to Council Bluffs, Ia., from Ord a few weeks ago Harry McConick, former Quiz employee, has been ill much of the time and last week was taken to Rochester, Minn., for a check-up and possible operative treatment.

Irrigation

One of the beauties of irrigation in central Nebraska is the fact that, regardless of how much rain follows the application of water to the soil, it never seems to be too wet. The surplus water usually sinks in and wets the soil to a greater depth, thus furnishing assurance against the dry weather to come.

There are places in the world where rain upsets the equilibrium of irrigation and the farmers do not like to see it come during the irrigation season. They have to be careful to put on enough water, and just enough, to assure the best results in the crops they are raising.

It is not so in the Loup valleys. Here we use irrigation water every year, regardless of the rain, and it keeps the soil in top condition not only for the growing crop, but for the winter to come. Our soil has an almost inexhaustible capacity for drinking up water, in whatever form it may come.

The past two seasons have given the valleys a surplus of water for much of the year, but the dry weather that followed has proven that the water can get away almost as fast as it comes. The utility of irrigation here is its use as a standby rather than a necessity. In other more arid regions it is used several times during the year, while here one application, or two at the most, serves the purpose.

The early Egyptians worshipped the Nile, for without it they could have had no crops and their country would have been just a part of the great desert to the west. It is different here, where the farmers usually have some kind of a crop regardless of irrigation. The past few years we have had good crops, both under irrigation and above it.

The time will come again when we will need irrigation to assure a good crop. Today we may not appreciate the ditches as much as we should. Some even talk of quitting irrigation entirely. Irrigation is like insurance; we carry it and hope all the while that we may never have the occasion to put in a claim.

Graft

There is little difference between much graft in a few places, and a little graft in a large number of places. Yet the more of us make a lot of fuss about the former, but do not even act as though we knew that the latter exists. The facts are that the little grafts, added together, far outweigh the big grafts, and they have a far more serious effect on the country.

Graft, wherever we find it, has a direct effect on the public. Graft means money, or favors or almost anything that costs money. It means that the public, the people who pay all bills, must pay just a little more. Whether it is only a three cent stamp or a one thousand dollar deal, all graft must be paid by the public.

Take, for example, the man who is sent on a canvassing trip with a salary and expense account, as well as a bonus for extra sales. There are thousands of them all over the United States. Some of them keep an accurate and honest expense account, but many of them pad it to the limit. Allowed, for example, $5 per day for expenses, they eat in the cheapest places, get a cheap room, actually spend three dollars and put in a bill for five.

The amount of money insurance companies are forced to pay over and above actual losses from year to year is staggering. A man reports damage to his house, is told to have it repaired and present the bill, actually gets the job done for fifty dollars, puts in a bill for one hundred dollars, gets by with it and thinks he has pulled a very clever deal, indeed.

The fact is that he has received twice as much as he was entitled to and has forced himself and others to pay higher premium rates for insurance. Two men have a collision. They talk it over, perhaps argue which was to blame, but in the end agree that it does not matter, after all because the insurance company is paying for it. No wonder insurance rates grow higher every year.

Then there is the fellow who is so good with figures that he makes a good salary all the year, and has it figured out so that he doesn't have to pay any income tax at all. All laws are full of loop holes, and the clever man can find them, if he looks for them. He gets by with much of it and most of the time. The rest of us pay the extra tax that he should have paid.

Young people and many not so young consider it clever to pick up silverware, salt and pepper shakers, ash trays and other items in the cafes, hotels and other places in hotels. As a result of this practice we are all paying a little more than we should for our meals and for our rooms, and the proprietors of the cafes and hotels are not going to absorb all the loss and not do something about it.

These are just a few illustrations of the thousands of ways in which we all indulge in graft of some kind. Graft means the taking of something to which we are not entitled, which we have not earned, and whether the amount be little or large, it means just that much loss to the economy of the nation.

Today we are all complaining about the high cost of living, yet we have ourselves to blame that the cost is as high as it is. If all graft could be eliminated in all places, prices could be lowered as much as ten percent, without upsetting the equilibrium of the nation. Don't think, because you manage to get something for nothing, you are really getting by with anything, for you pay for it in the end.

1950-51 Year Book

The 1950-51 year book of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is now available, by writing to your congressman while the supply furnished him last, and by paying $2.50 therefor when the supply is exhausted. The name of the current book is "Crops in Peace and War" and is by far the finest book of its kind yet published.

It is a far cry from this modern book, a book meant to be read, to the year book of half a century or more ago, a book filled with long and tiresome tables of statistics, with equally tiresome facts to match a book, if you please, filled with a platitude of chaff in which the reader had to grope for the occasional kernel of wheat.

In those days it was physical punishment to have to read the reports put out. They were written to present unending data on a multitude of subjects, subjects interesting in themselves but not interesting in the way they were presented. It took a man of courage to start in on one of those volumes and read it to the end. The present book is written in true narrative form, and is fully as easy to read and as interesting as the modern novel. It is a book the average reader will be glad to sit down and browse through, picking out a chapter here and there, reading first those parts in which he is most interested.

Other readers will start at the beginning and read the entire book through to the end. For example, the opening chapter is called "Science in the Agriculture of Tomorrow" and the author, R. W. Trullinger shows in clear, concise language the important place science will play in the growing of future crops. He does this in a short chapter of 1 1/2 pages that can be read in about twenty minutes, and there are no figures in the entire chapter.

Especially pleasing are the short articles picked up here and there and used to fill up the page at the end of the chapter. These are quickly read and easily remembered. Equally pleasing are the number of illustrations showing science at work for the aid of agriculture. The pictures are explained in a few paragraphs on each preceding page. They illustrate the point that a picture is worth a thousand words.

Such chapters as "Basic Methods of Chopping Food," "Chemicals from Starch and Sugar," "Wet Milling of Cereal Grains" and 135 others cover every imaginable department of the field of agriculture and give a vivid picture of present conditions and of what can be expected in the future. They show that what science has done is very little indeed to what science will do for the betterment of the farmer.

It is a book of 942 pages, complete with index and a glossary in which all the scientific terms used in the stories are explained. It is well bound in a heavy cover and would be a credit to any farmer's book shelf. Whether one agrees with Mr. Brannan's ideas or not is not important, but the book is important and every farmer should have one.

Also the management of the big rodeo has come to rely upon me to take in saddles, flags, guns, band instruments and other odds and ends and look after them until they are called for, but this year I had no place to store them and the band people, the queens, and a number of other people had to be turned down. At that time I had, in addition to my bank, typewriter and suit case, five fire extinguishers, two chairs, a stool, a gallon pail of paint, a glockenspiel, another suit case, a pair of cymbals, a snare drum, and on a shelf along the side, the telephone, a microphone and some kind of a magic box that went with it. On top of that, all one day I was painting signs in that same 6 by 10 foot space. I am not exaggerating when I state that I had to stand on one foot part of the time because I could not find room enough for both of them. Oh, well, it only comes once in a year, and I suppose I will live through it with only two more days to go.

If the rodeo did nothing else this year, it brought a rain worth a million dollars or so, although I do not believe all the people got a kick out of it, most of them did. Burwell got by with 64 of an inch, just about enough to make the next day fine, but the storm was plenty rough in other places.

The boys gave me a list of stockholders, not complete, but most of them in the name of the original purchaser, now nearly thirty years ago. It reads like a list of "Who's Who" in Burwell as of that date. What shocked me most about the list was the number of those men who were gone strong then, and who are now gone. Some of them were Leo Spotted Elk, now nearly thirty years ago, but at least 32 of them will never attend another rodeo in Burwell. Since many Quiz readers will remember them, here is the list:

D. S. Beynon, J. J. Bleach, Dr. E. E. Clark, Ralph Clements, Harry DeLashmutt, P. C. Donner, Frank DeLashmutt, S. J. Garrison, George E. Gibbs, Carl P. Grunkemeyer, L. J. Hummel, Loren S. Key, Charles Knatzer, W. W. Leahy, Wm. M. Maddox, Joe J. Meyers, J. H. McGill, William McClung, A. R. McMinnis, Oscar Nelson, J. W. Penas, P. N. Peterson, C. D. Phillips, R. A. Reed, Dr. C. D. Richey, A. E. Shoemaker, Andy Snyder, Frank Manastil, Dr. E. D. Thurston, Frank Tetschner, E. M. White, John D. Wittsche, and William R. Wright.

Another list of 19 persons shows the group that once lived in Burwell and took enough interest in the rodeo to buy a share. Now they are scattered far and wide, but their shares are still in their names. This list includes Carl Barker, J. C. Bristowe, Paul DeLashmutt, T. G. Gaukel, Tom Henmett, Carmen Hornby, K. K. Kull, H. E. Maitland, Fred Meyer, O. J. Miller, K. M. Parsons, K. W. Peterson, L. W. Rogers, Ernest E. Shipp, Nolan Smith, Wm. T. T. Low, Duane VanLand, A. F. Weber and Anton Zalud. About half of this group were back this year for the big show, Paul DeLashmutt coming the longest distance from California. Of the rest on the list, about 25 are incapacitated because of age or infirmity. It seems that about 40 per cent of the men who paid $50 each for a share in Garfield County Frontier Fair Association 30 years ago are now out of active participation, and most of the rest are past 60 years of age.

Cecil King, of Edgar, Nebr., was at the rodeo, and he brought with him a program of the rodeo of 1923, perhaps the most noted rodeo in the history of Burwell. The list of contestants at that time reads like a who's who in the rodeo world of a generation ago. Among them are Shorty Ricker, Turk Greenough, Billy Bishop, Bert Weems, Roy Quick, Ed Curtis, Rube Roberts, Dick Shelton, Billy Kingham, Grady Wilson, Pete Kerscher, Ted McCrory, Fred Bristowe, Jack Wilson, E. Pardee, Everett Bowman, Bracey Cox, Ted Harmon, Tex Slocum, Ray Gafford, Mike Hastings, Carl Beesley, Red Thompson, Buck Lucas, Jim Nesbit, Leslie Karavoad, Earl Tnode, Chuck Wilson, Red Randolph, Jake McClure, Homer Ward, Chester Byers, and about a hundred others.

The ladies who contested that year were Bida Miller, Madge Runyan, Bea Kirman, Tad Lucas, Fox Hastings, Claire Belcher and Gene Krwig. Claire Belcher was a lady bulldozer, Jim Nesbit and Jess Kell were the cowboy clowns. The events consisted of bronc riding, wild cow milking, bareback riding, and a series of events on the track, including trick and fancy roping and riding. Among these buckers was "Made in Germany," a horse that the management offered fifty dollars to any one who would mount him. One man did and got thrown, but he won his fifty bucks.

Leo Spotted Elk has been coming down with the Sioux Indians for several years now. This year he and his wife and their four children were all at Burwell. Leo is a sign writer, and a good one, but he is also an artist, and makes beautiful oil paintings, some of which he has sold for as much as fifty dollars.

Well, that should be enough of the subject for the present time, although I could go on writing for hours along the same line. Like my "Side Lights on History," there is no end of material. Next week look out for more fish stories, as the Mrs. and the Mr. are going to Ericson.

Hansen, Kamarad Wed in Burwell

Charlotte Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hansen of Burwell, and Leonard Kamarad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kamarad of Coonstock, were wed at the Sacred Heart church in Burwell Monday morning, August 13.

Father Viguan of Burwell officiated at the double ring ceremony and Miss Betty Wevel accompanied Mrs. Bill Mansil and Mrs. John Green in two vocal duets, including "Ava Maria."

A bridal gown of white satin, with a net yoke and long sleeves of lace ruffles trimmed the skirt, yoke and fanned tiers down the front of the skirt. Miss Hansen's veil was worn with a white lace crown and the cascade bouquet she carried was made of red roses.

Violet Jonas of Burwell was the maid of honor, wearing a yellow net gown. Bridesmaids were Betty Hansen of Denver, the bride's sister, and Darlene Mach of Lexington. They wore identical gowns of pink and blue. Each of the girls wore matching mitts and head gears and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and yellow glads.

Lyle Waldman of Coonstock was his cousin's best man and Bob Lebecka of Denver gave the bride, his sister-in-law, in marriage. Other attendants were Joe Setlik, Coonstock and Alvin Moudry, Ord, Mr. Paul Krilac, San Marcus A.P. Tex. and Bob Waldman were ushers.

A reception was held for friends and relatives of the bridal couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kamarad. On Monday evening a wedding dance, with the Hit Patrollers playing, was given at National hall.

When Mr. and Mrs. Kamarad return from their wedding trip they plan to make their home in Coonstock, unless Mr. Kamarad is taken into the army.

Ward's Cookin' Column

Once a year a man should be privileged to see words brought to life. The big show up the river. It seems that there are a number of interesting angles not covered by the usual news stories, items that people might like to hear about, so here are a few of them. For instance, there is George Hill, who has been on the job at Nebraska's Big Rodeo for the past twenty years or more. George has to look after the Indians and get them located, he has charge of the crew of boys who sweep the seats two or three times a day, and he wears a special police badge, sticks around the information office in his spare time and helps with the job there. He is always the first man on the grounds from town in the morning, but that isn't too much to expect for a man 85 years old. This year he said was his last, but he will be there in 1952 if he is alive.

Lloyd Tetschner is special police in the neighborhood of the information office, and he puts in long hours on the job, directing traffic and hearing complaints of all kinds. On occasion he tells a story, and some of them are unusual. This year he told about the fellow who for years had wanted to buy some peanuts, but never bought or eaten any. Finally his teeth got bad and the dentist (Doc Wood, I suppose) pulled all of them out. The next day this fellow bought a package of peanuts.

Tony Zalud has been on the police force since the rodeo was a country dance. Everybody knows him, because he is the first man visitors meet. He directs traffic at the crossroads at the northwest corner of the grounds. He is so good at it that the fair board can't get along without him, so he passed up a sale at the sales pavilion he and Carl Rogers run at Arnold and came over to work at his usual place. The rodeo may have some weak spots, but Tony is not one of them.

It is surprising how disgusted a man can get, especially when he works over time to get ready for an annual event, get on the job just when he said he would and then finds that he has literally been bargained out of house and home. I am afraid the column this week may not sound as cheerful as it might. After the smoke had cleared away I found myself snugly ensconced in a space 6 by ten feet instead of the usual 10 by 16 feet. This would have been large end enough for the information end alone, if it had been cut off from the surroundings, but it was not.

John Davis of Denver, is in a Denver hospital following a stroke about two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Davis and their son, Jim and his wife, of Denver, spent Thursday night with the Vernon Williams family. They were enroute to Toledo, Ohio, where Jim was to resume his work which was interrupted some time ago by illness. Mr. and Mrs. Orsen Davis were going on to Alfred, N. Y., to attend Seventh Day Baptist conference. When the message came of David Davis' passing, it was decided best for them to continue their journey east, instead of returning to Denver. They went on Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox were Tuesday evening guests of the Earnest Horner family at Ord.

Roy Cox returned last week from McCook and the western part of the state and granddaughter, Kay Vodehnal came with him and is spending the week here.

Pawleska Gets Army Promotion

With the 1st Cavalry Division, U. S. Army, in Korea. (Delayed) A North Loup, Neb., army man has been promoted to the rank of sergeant first class in Korea.

Sergeant First Class Everett D. Pawleska, son of Anton Pawleska, of North Loup, was promoted while serving with the 1st Cavalry Division's 5th Cavalry Regiment.

Damaging Hail Storm Friday Will Slash Corn Crop

No. Loup-Ashton Area Hit Worst, But Storm Covers Large Section

Rainfall was light in Friday night's thunder storm but hail which accompanied the rain was heavy and caused much damage to growing corn over a wide area. Worst hit was the territory from North Loup south to Ashton and roughly, from the Ord-Loup City highway east to the North Loup river. Thousands of acres of corn in this area was completely wiped out. Only here, stubby stalks remained Saturday on land that would have produced 50 bushels of corn to the acre.

Hail also hit in North Loup and one farmer between Scotia and Cotesfield reported a 75% loss on a valley farm. Many farmers reported 10 to 15 per cent losses on irrigated corn in the North Loup section.

The Aagaard farm and others in that section northeast of Ord suffered corn damage ranging from 40 to 50 per cent. Springfield was lightly hit with 10 to 25% losses reported.

Relatively few farmers carry hail insurance on corn so extent of the damage cannot be reliably estimated. The four Ord agencies which write most of the hail insurance on crops had 21 claims reported. An adjuster is working in this area now.

Monday night another storm hit bringing 70 of an inch of rain in Ord and more elsewhere, but no hail accompanied this storm.

Temperatures have been mild all week with 81 degrees Sunday the warmest and 50 degrees Tuesday morning the coolest. Total rainfall to date this year is 20.72 inches.

Birthdays of Mrs. Bill Tuna, Mrs. Charley Urban and Marvin Vasicek were celebrated Sunday with a dinner at the Bill Tuna home. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Urban of Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Urban and Mr. and Mrs. George Vasicek and family.

Got Into Wrong Pew, Wrong Church, Too

Sunday evening two Ord men set out to see the Loup City-St. Paul baseball game. Driving to Loup City they noted that the floodlights at the fairgrounds were on, drove into the grounds and parked their car. They paid their admission, climbed into the grandstand and settled down to watch the game. Only then did they notice that a program of dancing girls and acrobats was in progress before the stands—certainly not baseball players.

Inquiry brought them the information that the Loup City team was playing at St. Paul, that the Sherman county fair was in progress; and that the program was part of the free acts hired by the fair.

Sheepishly the Ord men climbed down, got into their car and drove to St. Paul, where they found the game in progress as stated. It was an excellent game, too, say C. Thompson and Elding Pearson.

12 Lettermen but Only Two Regulars Back for Football

Ord Chants Will Check Out Equipment Mon., Start Drills Next Day.

The Ord Chanticleers will begin practice for the 1951 football season Monday morning, August 27, at 9 a. m. Suits will be checked out at that time and a physical examination will be given.

A short practice will follow the physical examination and another the same day at 5 p. m. Starting Tuesday regular practice will get under way with two daily practices at nine in the morning and five in the afternoon.

Only three weeks training will be possible before the first game with Holdrege on the home field September 11. Coach Roland Moore urges all boys wishing to play high school football to report for practice Monday morning.

Only two Chant regulars will be in uniform this year. Duane Wolfe will be back in the quarterback position to call the signals and the all-conference end, Paul Pena, will also be returning. Twelve of the 25 lettermen from last year's squad will be boosting the Chant's hopes this year. Besides Wolfe and Pena, they include Leroy Adams, Arvin Bredthauer, Lerand Crosley, Robert Golka, Leroy Kwanski, Erland Laursen, Hal Mason, Rodney Nelson, Verle Nelson and Floyd Wozniak.

Jesse Waller Found Dead Aug. 12 in North Loup Home

Believe 80-Year-Old Man Died August 12 While Cooking Meal.

Jesse Waller, 80, was found dead at his home in North Loup on Sunday, Aug. 12, by his son, Harry, who went to get his father and take him to his home for dinner. Evidence was that he had been dead since Friday, probably about noon, for there had been food on the bottled gas stove which burned. The fire was still burning.

Mr. Waller had returned the previous day after nearly a month in Washington with his daughter, Mrs. Nellie Lyon. He had stayed a few days in Grand Island with the Carroll family, coming home Tuesday evening. In visiting with friends and neighbors, he had remarked about the hot weather and how hard it was for him because it had been cool in Washington. He was up town on Friday morning but had not been seen after that. A family dinner at the Harry Waller home had been planned for Sunday, with a four generation picture of Mr. Waller, Harry, Mrs. Joe Kretek and baby daughter.

Funeral services for Mr. Waller were held Tuesday, Aug. 14 from the Methodist church, with Rev. J. Arthur Miller officiating. Music by a quartette, Mrs. Harold Hoepfner, Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson, Roy Hudson and Clair Barber, with Alice Meyers at the piano. Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Wheat Treatment Needed for Seed

Cleaning and treatment of seed wheat should be the No. 1 job with all wheat growers this fall, according to County Agent C. C. Dale. Practically all the wheat in the county suffered from blight, foot-rot or some other disease this past season. Many kernels are shriveled and will either germinate weakly or will not germinate at all. If seed is not treated it may carry disease which will infect the young plants this fall. With the dust treatments, Dale said, wheat may be treated several weeks before planting time with no injurious effects on its germination and cleaning will remove the weak and dead kernels which are the cause of many poor stands.

Five New Teachers to Greet Pupils at North Loup Schools

Fishermen, Note! New Bait Found

Up at Tyndall, S. D., a new fishing bait has been discovered by Bobby Fox and some of his pals. Bobby is a grandson of Judge and Mrs. Jesse L. Scott, Greeley, and Mrs. Dick Beran of Ord is his aunt.

Bobby and friends were swimming in the Tyndall pool and were surprised to discover there were fish in the pool, apparently because the pool is fed by natural springs. One group of boys gathered sticks for poles, another scurried after string while a third took up a collection and bought bait.

What was the bait? Bubble gum. And what were the results? Each boy took home a string of fish.

New Home Ec Kitchens in Ord High School

Schools Will Open September 4; Registration, Aug. 27.

A brand new home economics kitchen will greet Ord high school students when they return to their studies Tuesday September 4. Clausen Construction Co. of Grand Island, is the contractor.

The kitchen, installed at a cost of over $7,000, is the latest in home economics practice, and consists of five modern kitchen units, with the newest in modern cabinets, stoves, and other kitchen appliances.

Registration for high school will start Monday, August 27, when grades 10 and 12 will register. Grades 9 and 11 will register on Tuesday, August 28, and grades 7 and 8 on Wednesday morning, August 29.

Grade school registration will be made on the opening day of school. Curriculum will remain the same as last year except that the normal training courses will be dropped. Normal training in high schools is becoming increasingly unpopular over the state and although Ord had intended to offer the course for one more year, a qualified instructor could not be found.

On the faculty roster this year are C. C. Thompson, Supt. F. L. Stoddard, principal; J. A. Kovanda, Wm. Nelson, Richard Peterson, Roland Moore, Doyle Dickey, Merritt Litrell, William Gogan, Eunice Jensen, Maude Holden, Helen Kokes, Dorothy Kovanda, Lucille Tolon, Irma King, Inez Swain, Lucy Rowal, Evelyn Jeffries, Lois Strong, Robert Stansberry, Mary Jane Olson, Juniata Greenstreet and Donald Balard. Mrs. Hubert Leach, jr. is office manager, Thomas Williams, Richard Prign and Robert Philbrick are custodians.

Oil-Resin Surface Being Tested Here

Monday afternoon two blocks between 14th and 16th streets, on N. were given an oil-resin coating as a test of the value of this street surfacing method. A few more blocks in Ord will be similarly treated, where property owners have offered to pay for the materials used.

According to Mayor F. L. Blessing this work is being done mainly for test purposes and no widespread street oiling program is planned for this fall. The surfacing material works best when applied during shade temperatures of 75 degrees or higher, and it is rather late in the fall for such weather.

Wave of New Building in Ord Continues

Six Major Jobs in Progress Now; Others to Come.

The wave of new building in Ord that began last spring has continued at a torrid pace during the summer. Six major jobs are in the progress stage right now, with several others definitely scheduled to start soon.

New construction includes the Lutheran church of the Missouri Synod congregation formerly of Mira Valley, the Presbyterian church, new residences for Fred Worn and Charles Kriewald, a new residence-office for Dr. F. L. Blessing, a new office for Sack Lumber Co.

Remodeling jobs include two residences that have been moved to Ord from the country, one moved from its former site within town. Scheduled for work soon are new residences for Paul Bleach and Dr. R. J. Lynn, and the remodeling of the old Bethany Lutheran church building for residence purposes.

Housing, however, continues to be "tight" in Ord. A few small apartments are for rent, but few homes are listed for rent at the present time.

If the Shelton Colts beat the Ord Mustangs in their game tonight (Wednesday) on the Ord athletic field, they will also win a starting position in the league's Shaughnessy play-offs, which start Sunday.

If the Mustangs down the Colts the two teams will be tied for 4th position. If Boelus topples Wood River tonight, and if Shelton loses to Ord, a 3-way tie for the 4th play-off position will develop.

League officials and team managers will meet at St. Paul Thursday night to perfect play-off plans and deal with a tie situation that might come out of tonight's games. Starting date for the play-offs probably will have to be postponed if a two way or three way tie for 4th place exists after tonight's games.

Tuesday night Shelton took possession of fourth place in the league by tipping St. Paul 9 to 1 in a postponed game. Their star pitcher, Bud Ellis, led the Saints down with 3 hits while Jerry Spilneck the St. Paul hurler, was being bombarded for 11, including a home run by Tony Wirey and three doubles by Vaughn.

The Shelton team has been coming along fast since it was re-inforced by return of Vaughn and Russ Bogie, who had been away attending coaching schools. Hadenfeldt will be Manager Ray Blue's choice to oppose the Mustangs in tonight's game. Sunday night Hadenfeldt gave up only 6 hits in beating Wood River 13 to 1.

Bill Beasley will be Manager Rolfe Johnson's starter and if he is "right" he will be hard for Shelton to cope with. In a daylight game last May the Colts beat Beasley 4 to 3 but in a June game he gave them only 3 hits and won 11 to 1.

The Mustangs have done some poor playing and have had more than their share of bad breaks in recent games, so it is time for them to turn in a good performance.

Boelus figures to beat Wood River, which is too low to get into the play-offs by winning and thus has little incentive for a good performance, while Andy Jensen's team is riding high on a winning streak right now.

The other league game pits Loup City and Ravenna at Ravenna and while the result will not affect league standings there is much interest in the conflict. Reportedly wagering is heavy on the outcome. Three Ord men, Douthitt, Beran and Wolfe, will uprise this game. Umpires for the Ord-Shelton game will be Goodrich and Lee.

St. Paul has finished the 21-game season with a record of 11 wins and 13 losses. As the other six teams move in for the final scheduled game league standings are as follows:

	W	L	Pct.
Loup City	13	5	.732
Ravenna	16	7	.690
St. Paul	11	13	.478
Shelton	10	13	.434
Ord	9	14	.391
Boelus	9	14	.391
Wood River	8	15	.318

Nebraska Auto Licenses Will Return to County Numeral System in 1952

A pre-view of Nebraska auto license plates for 1952 is given in this photo, which shows Stanley Nolte, deputy county treasurer, holding a sample plate.

Nebraska will return to the county numeral system next year and Valley county plates will again bear the familiar "47" prefix.

The plate held up by Mr. Nolte is yellow with the figures in black. Other classes of motor vehicles will have plates a different color than those used on autos.

In the background is shown part of the collection of license plates in the Valley county treasurer's office, which is said to be one of the most complete Nebraska sets in existence.

College Displays Wealth Of Prehistoric Illinoisian

Wealth buried by a prehistoric Illinois resident who may have lived several centuries before Christ now is at the University of Illinois. It consists of 55 pieces of flint, ranging from raw blocks to expertly-fashioned big spear points as finely-formed as any ever found.

The cache was uncovered last year at the Seimer farm near Batchtown in Calhoun county between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers northwest of St. Louis. In this area are many remains of the prehistoric Hopewell or "mound-builder" Indians, whose culture recent radiocarbon research has tentatively dated at 200 to 600 B. C.

The flint was obtained for the university's archeological collections from W. L. Wadlow, amateur archeologist of Dow, Ill., by the Illinois Achievement Fund of the University of Illinois Foundation. Through his cooperation, the collection is being kept for research and teaching use in the state where it was found.

Prof. John C. McGregor, University of Illinois archeologist, says that the find undoubtedly represents the wealth of an individual. He explains that the blades appear points several inches long, are far too finely-made to have used for hunting or war, and were more likely a medium of exchange—the "money" of their day.

He suggests that the cache was the treasure of one of the prehistoric Illinois residents of the highly-civilized Hopewells, who left their important dead buried in mounds from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and from Ohio to Kansas, and of whom much is still to be learned.

Fur Coated Plants Studied By Smithsonian Botanists

A group of "fur-coated" plants is being studied by Smithsonian institution botanists. These plants have a dense, thickly matted wool-like covering of long, tangled hairs on their leaves and inflorescences. In their native habitat—the northern Andes—they are known as "frailejones," because of the resemblance of their covering to the cloaks worn by some orders of priests.

The frailejones belong to the botanical genus Espeletia, a member of the daisy family. More than 60 species are known, according to the latest tabulation of Dr. Albert C. Smith, of the Smithsonian staff, who has specialized in them.

These strange plants range in the Andes from the State of Miranda in Venezuela westward and southward into the cordilleras of Colombia and into the northern part of Ecuador. In altitude they occur from an elevation of about 9,000 feet upward to more than 2 1/2 miles, only one species being found as low as 5,000 feet. Different species are found on each complex of paramos, as the extensive areas of alpine meadows above timber line are called in the Andes. Some of the habitats are quite cold, but, says Dr. Smith, the strange "fur coats" can hardly be considered an adaptation to cold. Many other plants of colder climates do not have such an adaptation.

The espeletias often grow very densely, in some places constituting the predominant feature of the vegetation. Some are simple-stemmed shrubs, twice as high as a man, with trunks a foot in diameter, while others are small herbs. Many have vivid yellow flower heads an inch or more in diameter.

North Loup

No. Loup Schools to Open Sept. 3

The North Loup schools will open Sept. 3 with the following staff: Martin Dunklau, superintendent and commercial; Donald Jones, principal, coaching, and social sciences; Richard Babcock, music and English; C. W. Sanders, Jr., vocational agriculture, and veterans on-farm training; Minnie Jensen, mathematics and English; Shirley Sterner, homemaking and kindergarten; Ruth Mayo, 1st and 2nd grades; Clara Jensen, 3rd and 4th grades; Mrs. Earl Lincoln, 5th and 6th grades; Mrs. Donald Jones, 7th and 8th grades; Donald Clement, veterans' on-farm training; Charlie Fuller, custodian; Mrs. Roby and Mrs. Mulligan, school lunch cooks.

School will be in session only until noon on Sept. 3. High school students are requested to register on Aug. 31, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The curriculum has been expanded somewhat this year in that homemaking, driver training, and physical education are being offered in addition to courses in college preparatory, commercial, vocational agriculture, and general high school. One teacher has been added to the elementary school, thereby making it possible for each grade teacher to have only two grades each rather than three, as was the case the last year or two of the teachers. The teacher-pupil ratio for the elementary school has been reduced to a figure which is well within the recommended ratio as set forth in the State Department's bulletin on approval and accreditation of schools.

The refinishing and redecorating program which was initiated by the Board of Education last year was continued this year. Three additional elementary rooms have been redecorated, and the backs of the desks in the assembly have been refinished as well as the tops of the desks in the 1st and 2nd grade room. New window shades will be installed in the assembly rooms. A film strip projector has been added to the school's equipment. New textbooks are being provided where needed. The Board of Education also approved the improvement of library facilities, by having a railing built across the east end of the study hall, thereby giving more identity to the high school library. Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, an experienced librarian with the State Public Library Commission, is scheduled to visit the North Loup schools during the first week in September and she will direct the complete recataloging of all the books in the library.

Mrs. Mulligan and Mrs. Roby will again serve as cooks for the school's lunch program. Lunches will be served beginning on Tuesday, Sept. 4. The student price for lunches will remain at 20 cents. It is requested that students who wish to participate in the school lunch program during the first week, bring their money on Monday so that the cooks will have some idea of the number to cook for during the first week. An announcement will be made to the students as to the time for making other weekly payments. The administration of the school lunch program is greatly facilitated when students bring their money a week in advance. The cooperation which the school has received in the past in this respect is greatly appreciated.

He immediately contacted most of the eligible football players and a number of the boys checked out equipment Tuesday morning. Those who checked out equipment included Gene and Dale Larkin, Richard Hawley, Gale Sinteck, Howard Abel, and Ardon McDermott. Mr. Jones requests that all boys who are interested in playing football check out equipment, if possible, at 9:00 o'clock on Thursday morning, Aug. 23. The first football practice will be held on Thursday afternoon at 1:30, and at this first practice a schedule of future practices until the opening of school will be worked out.

Over Third of Monday Run at Omaha, Westerns

Westerns accounted for better than a third of Omaha's 26,400 livestock run Monday. Cattle and calves from the range country totaled 8,000. Western sheep and lambs, 4,000.

Trade on replacement stock was steady to strong. Yearling stock steers bulked at $34.00-$36.50, 2- and 3-year-old feeder steers sold to $35.00, and yearling stock heifers cleared at $32.00-$35.00. Stock calves bulked at $35.00-$41.00, some steer calves held higher. In the sheep and lamb division, there were several loads of Idaho feeder lambs at $20.75; four loads of 77-85-pound yearling wethers that went for feeders at $26.50, and choice 105-108-pound Idaho and Oregon ewe lambs that went to the country at $33.00 and $33.50. Native feeder lambs sold to $31.25 and lightweights were quotable at $33.25 or better. Last week 49-pound Nebraska brought $33.25.

Fat cattle trade Monday at Omaha was steady, though rather spotty on steers under $26.50, and choice 105-108-pound Idaho and Oregon ewe lambs that went to the country at $33.00 and $33.50. Plain shortfords sold down to $29.00, some under that, but Holstein steers with fairly good cover brought $31.50. Heifers bulked at $32.50-$35.50, with better ones $36.00-$38.75.

Cow trade continued uneven but some sales looked 25-50 cents over late last week. Most appeared steady. Canners and cutters sold at $17.00-$21.50. Beef cows sold to $27.75, some tippy Westerns at that figure, odd head to $28.00. Beef bulls sold to $29.50, boignas to $28.50, a few $29.00; wealers to $35.00.

Hogs sold steady to 25 cents lower, some 50 cents off, butchers weighing 180-260 110-112-pound Idanos $30.25. Two loads 96-pound yearlings brought $10.00-$15.00. Slaughter ewes sold weak to 50 cents lower—$10.00 to $15.00.

Wheeler County, Nebr.—Market topping spring lambs at Omaha last week included a shipment from Frank Usasz of Wheeler county, 37 weighing 97 at $31.00.

Valley County People Visited in West

After an extended western trip during which they saw many former Valley county residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ord Twombly of Cambridge Springs, Pa., and Mrs. Clemmie Bornshever of Chillicothe, Ill. arrived in Ord last week.

They visited cousins of Mr. Twombly in California, among them the former Sydney and Berniece Bower, daughters of Charles Bower who lived in the Vinton vicinity.

In Springfield, Ore. they spent three weeks with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Stacy who also lived near Vinton. They also were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Morris who homestead the land where the Catholic church now stands in Elyria.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schwarzal of Meadville, Pa. came by train to Springfield and on Sunday, August 5 a family reunion was held at Armitage park, with 60 people attending.

At Lebanon, Ore. the Twomblys visited the Anton Samila family who went west from Valley county the same year that Twombly's went east. Mrs. Twombly knew that her grandfather's people were around Lebanon so proceeded to inquire and found that a family picnic was being held the next Sunday. They met several relatives.

At West Salem, Ore. they visited Mr. and Mrs. Rhymie Christensen, former Valley county residents, and at Oregon City they saw Mrs. Olive Leinenger, and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Johnson.

Twomblys stopped at a cafe for breakfast one morning and found the owners to be Mr. and Mrs. True Whitman and son, former Arcadia people.

Lone Star

Miss Ellen Nielson called for a short time Tuesday forenoon on Mrs. Hazel Guggenmos. She had been spending her vacation with the Leon Woods family and other relatives around Ord and Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiting and daughter from Ojai, Calif. spent the weekend at the Hazel Guggenmos home. Other guests Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moody and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Guggenmos and Nanette.

Vitamins in Apples

Apples contain good amounts of vitamins A, B1, and C, plus small amounts of calcium, phosphorus, and iron.

On their way back the Twomblys, Schwarzals and Mrs. Bornshever stopped at Cody, Wyo. and visited the Clayton Burke family and saw the "Cody Wild West Show" one night.

The Schwarzals and Mrs. Bornshever spent the week end in Casper, Wyo. where they visited the former Carrie I. Pink, a former Ord teacher. The Twomblys spent the week end with Everett Johnson and family at Mills, Wyo.

Garlic Flavor

A subtle garlic flavor may be imparted to salads by placing a clove of garlic in the dressing and allowing it to stand for some time before serving. The garlic is, of course, removed before serving.

Cutting Trees

Forest conservation means the wise use of the forest for the greatest good of the greatest number of people for the longest time. It does not imply stopping the harvesting of timber nor does it recognize unnecessary waste.

Dish Drainer

When the rubber-covered dish drainer alongside the kitchen sink ages and sticks, wash it thoroughly and let dry. Then apply thin coat of white shellac and allow to dry before using. The drain life will be prolonged and it will not disintegrate as rapidly.

Nutmeg

Nutmeg is the seed of a peach-like fruit of a tropical evergreen tree. It is oval in shape ranging in size up to one and one-fourth inches in length. The flavor of nutmeg is sweet, with a warm and spicy undertone.

Cooking Chicken
When cooking chicken, use low to moderate temperatures, with dry heat for young birds and moist heat for older ones.
Cow Care
Injuries to the teats and udder should be treated promptly, because even a small scratch can become a breeding ground for the germs that cause bovine mastitis.
Lord Nelson
Lord Nelson, the English naval hero, placed his blind eye to the telescope so that he could not see the admiral's order to retreat; then he fought on to victory.
Mulching Garden
A good mulch between the rows and a little hand weeding in the drill will keep the winter garden free of weeds. The mulch will also help keep shoes free of mud when vegetables are gathered.

Important Part Played By Mahogany in Wartime
In World War II, mahogany played a strategic part in the airplane industry. Before the war ended, some eight hundred million square feet of mahogany veneer were allocated to plane construction. This was used chiefly for plywood which replaced scarce metals in many parts. Not only were flat panels made of the mahogany plywood but also molded forms such as wings and fuselage. Modern methods of bonding sheets of veneer together with synthetic resin adhesives resulted in a waterproof bond stronger than the wood itself. Thousands of mahogany gliders landed troops in France during the invasion of Western Europe in 1944 and planes largely constructed of mahogany took part in every campaign of the war.
The famous little PT boats which did such gallant service in the Pacific were made of mahogany and in one of them General MacArthur and President Quezon made their escape from the Philippines after the Japanese invasion. Later a dozen of them severely damaged the Japanese fleet at Guadalcanal with little air or naval support. They harassed supply lines and were indomitable attackers in the naval battle around the Philippines. Many rescue boats and landing craft were also constructed of mahogany which has always been a valued material in ship building.
A little-known war use of mahogany was in submarine detecting devices. So secret were these devices that even the waste from their construction was destroyed lest some clue be given by the odd outlines left in the wood after the parts were cut out.
America's Death Rate Reaches Low Ebb in 1950
The year 1950 witnessed marked improvement in the country's health, with the death rate declining to the lowest level in our history.
New low levels in mortality were established for a number of diseases, and to some the reduction was substantial. General health conditions during the coming year should be even better, barring severe epidemic or other unforeseen contingencies. The year's health record and the promising forecast are vital assets for national defense in the present crisis.
The death rate in 1950 was about 9.6 per 1,000, or 1 per cent below the previous record of 1949. This outstanding record was made in the face of a continued increase in the proportion of older persons in the population and despite a wave of respiratory disease which spread over a large part of the country early in the year.
Nevertheless, the mortality from respiratory diseases was kept in check. The influenza rate, although above the 1949 level, compared favorably with that of earlier years. Indications are that the death rate from pneumonia will differ little from the record low in 1949, and may even better it. In any case, the net effect of the outbreak of respiratory disease was not of major proportions, and any losses that may have been due to it were more than offset by the gains in other directions.
May Be "Missing Link"
Skull caps of a creature that seems to fall into the gap between the great apes and man have been received by the Smithsonian Institution from the British museum. Fossil remains of this anthropoid form, known as Proconsul, were found recently in Kenya, East Africa, by the British anthropologist Dr. L. S. B. Leakey. It is essentially a small and somewhat primitive type of great ape, but some features seem closer physically to man than any found in the gorillas, chimpanzees, or orangutans now extant. This is especially true of the teeth. The bones were found in deposits of the Miocene geological era, about 25,000,000 years ago.
Sheep Scab Outbreaks
The often-baffling return of sheep scab in flocks that are supposedly cured has been fully explained by new experiments carried out in England. Key to the problem, British veterinarians found, is a hide-out on the sheep's body where scab mites find refuge while the animals are being sheared or treated. Not that the mites run for cover when they see an insecticide dip being readied or when the wool clip starts. On the contrary, the mite is at random scattering for better or worse, during which some of the luckier mites find life-saving shelter in such places as the ears or under the tail—where the dip or clipper doesn't get to them.
"Fractional Crystallization"
Why is it that freezing water purifies it? When water freezes the molecules get together in a regular solid crystalline arrangement. The molecules of the impurities are too big or too little to fit into the same space in the crystal as the water molecules, and so they get shoved aside. This process is used to purify many commercial chemicals. It is known as "fractional crystallization."
Hitchhikers
The cocklebur carries its seeds to far places by catching on to the feathers of animals or to clothing of passers-by.

Dirty Clotheslines
Tired of clotheslines that mark up your washings? First wash your clothesline with mild soap in warm water. Rinse and dry thoroughly. Then apply two thin coats of white shellac and dry thoroughly after each coat.
Worth Trying
For a delightful change in salad dressing flavors, try this idea: blend one tablespoon of flour with one-fourth cup of lemon juice until lump-free. Then stir into this one-half cup of maple syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture is thick like honey. Cool, and into the mixture fold one cup of whipped cream. Serve with any tart fruit salad mixture.
Safeguards Workers
More and more manufacturers, plants, mill and factory owners are utilizing color to minimize accidents in operating dangerous machinery. Machinery is so painted that the color will contrast with the material or metal being worked on. Walls and floors are also painted in light colors to utilize all illumination. This makes dangerous working parts stand out more distinctly. The chance of accidents caused by poor visibility is thus reduced.

Farmer's Question Corner
PREPARED BY American Foundation For Animal Health
What About Hog Cholera?
Q: Is cholera still the worst swine killer?
A: Yes, it is the most serious and fatal of all known swine diseases. It is almost always fatal.
Q: Is cholera caused by a germ?
A: No, it is caused by a virus, so small it cannot be seen with the microscope. Human smallpox, influenza and infantile paralysis are also caused by viruses.
Q: How much of the virus does it take to kill a hog?
A: As little as fifteen drops of virus could give cholera to a million head of hogs under experimental tests.
Q: How does a cholera outbreak break start?
A: Usually there is no warning. Pigs go off feed, act slow, depressed, hide in the bedding, have a wobbly gait, may vomit, scour, die quickly with a fever. However, several other swine diseases may look like cholera.
Q: What is the best way to avoid cholera losses?
A: There is no known cure. The best plan is to have pigs vaccinated near weaning time. Only healthy pigs should be vaccinated. This is one reason why authorities advise that vaccination should be done by a veterinarian.
Q: What precautions should be taken with vaccination?
A: Aftercare of the vaccination is of special importance, therefore follow the veterinarian's directions to the letter. Give vaccinated pigs clean quarters and range away from old yards. Avoid night piling or poorly ventilated hog-houses. Provide ample drinking water and shade in hot weather.

Modern Dentistry Can Aid Youth with Cleft Palate

The role of modern dentistry in the total rehabilitation of young men and women with cleft lip or cleft palate so they can lead happy, useful lives is revealed in the Journal of the American dental association.

Asserting that more children are born with this condition than any other congenital deformity, Dr. Herbert K. Cooper, director of the Lancaster, Pa., cleft palate clinic, estimated that at least one out of every 700 children have this handicap.

"The most frequently found condition has been getting the least amount of attention," he said. "The citizens of this country should be as well informed on the subject of cleft palate as they are on poliomyelitis, cerebral palsy and rheumatic fever."

Citing cases of patients treated at the clinic, Dr. Cooper told of a youth, 17, born with a cleft lip and cleft palate. During infancy, surgery had been performed, leaving him with a flat upper lip and very poor speech.

"He shunned all social contacts," Dr. Cooper said. "He left high school and was driving a truck. His whole family was extremely upset."

Dr. Cooper said the youth was given a medical, dental, speech and psychological examination. An appliance was constructed to build out the upper lip and cheeks and thimble crowns were placed on his five remaining upper teeth. At the same time, he was given speech instruction.

The boy was persuaded to finish high school, Dr. Cooper said, and he then was admitted to college. He added:

"The first two years were quite difficult for him because of his social adjustment problem, which he gradually overcame. Then he was taken into a fraternity and was graduated on the dean's list. He is now attending law school in a large university."

U.S. Still Leads World In Production of Matches

It's pretty difficult to get something for nothing these days, but there's one item left that is used by the average person 14 times a day, and two out of five times he doesn't have to pay. That little item is the match.

The manufacture of matches is a $25 million-a-year industry in the United States. Each year, more than 500 billion matches are produced, and of 200 billion book matches made in the United States every year, about 196 billion are given away with the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and tobacco.

Sweden had topped for many years in the production of matches. The Swedish Match Company, formed in 1913 by Ivar Krueger, his match factories in 43 countries of the world and manufactured most of the world's matches. Krueger is said to have invented the common superstition that "three on a match" is unlucky, in order to sell more matches. His match empire lasted until 1932, when it was discovered he'd been using the company's capital for his own speculations.

Sweden now ranks fourth down the line led by the United States. Great Britain ranks second and the Soviet Union third.

Spices in History

There are many references to spices and herbs in the pages of history. They play important parts in the development of our civilization. The ancients attributed strange powers and accomplishments to spices. Basil, for example, is venerated by the Hindus who plant it outside their temples and homes to insure happiness. The famed laurel wreaths which crowned Greek heroes of war and sport are the same bay leaves we use today in our cooking.

Freezing of Water Pipes

Freezing is most likely to occur in pipes which run along an outside wall. This hazard should be corrected by relocation of the pipes, if possible. If this is impractical, thorough insulation with from two and one-half to three inches of good pipe covering is the only safeguard. Should any of the piping freeze, the work of thawing it should not be entrusted to a handyman. It should be done under the supervision of an experienced master plumber. Blow torches or other methods involving open flames are extremely dangerous. They not only involve fire hazards but also permit the generation of high pressures which may cause explosions.

Gregorian Calendar

The form of our present calendar was set by Julius Caesar with some additional innovations by Augustus Caesar. However, in about 1500 years the length of year adopted by the Caesars proved incorrect. Therefore, Pope Gregory, in 1582, appointed a commission which revised the calendar sufficiently to bring it back in step with the seasons. Now it takes 3000 years for the calendar to slip out of line one day. The Protestant countries did not accept the Gregorian calendar until 1752 and this is why certain dates in history sometimes appear to be confused.

Warning Given Against Webworms

There is a heavy infestation of alfalfa webworm in many alfalfa fields in the county, according to County Agent C. C. Dale. Several fields have been visited where the worms have done considerable damage to the growing crop and other farmers have reported that their fields are infested.

The alfalfa webworms are yellowish green in color averaging about three-fourths of an inch in length with rows of conspicuous black spots down the back. Infested fields show light webs over the leaves or about the base of the plants. Under protection of these webs the worms feed on the leaves and eat all the green tissue, leaving only whitish net-like remnants of the leaves.

Recommendations for control measures are either immediate cutting of the hay to destroy their source of feed or spraying with DDT or toxaphene if the field is to be saved for seed.

Artificial Breeding

Records show that definite progress is being made in herd improvement through artificial breeding of dairy cows. Many farmers are finding that artificial breeding of dairy cows is beneficial in building up herd production over a long period of time.

Ord Mustangs Kick Away 3 Games, Are Now Tied for 5th

Errors and Poor Base Running Nullify Good Pitching in All.

A week ago the Ord Mustangs looked like a cinch to get into the Mid-Nebraska Night League play-offs, possibly in third place and surely in fourth place. Today, thanks to the loss of three games in a row, their chances for the play-offs have practically evaporated.

Preparation of an obituary is always painful, but here are the sad and detailed facts of Ord's three defeats.

Wednesday night on the Ord field the Mustangs lost to Ravenna 4 to 3. Bill Novosad, with effective relief from Beasley at the close, limited Ravenna to only 5 hits while Ord was getting 6 but errors spelled the Mustangs' downfall. Two of the most costly ones were made by Novosad himself.

Ord took an early lead when Bud Novosad singled in the bottom half of the first and coasted in on Dilla's triple to the fence. Dilla died there when Stan Johnson grounded out to third.

In the second Ravenna went ahead, 2 to 1, when Rol Jensen decided to pitch to him and the result was long home run which put Ravenna ahead 4 to 3. Beasley then came in to put out the fire and retire the side but the Mustangs could do nothing in their half of the inning and the game went into the record books as a Ravenna victory.

The Dugan error, combined with his poor base running, plus Novosad's error and his faulty judgment in pitching to Ray Johnson cost Ord this game.

Against Boelus Sunday night there was more of the same, only worse. Ord lost 7 to 5. This night the Mustangs had their batting legs on and pounded Guzikowski and Harris, the Boelus hurlers, for 14 safe bunts but converted them into only 5 runs.

Poor base running which saw five Mustangs caught off base, along with three Ord errors, cost this game although a poor decision by C. Brady, plate umpire, was a big factor.

Ord scored one in the 4th, two in the 5th and two in the 8th. Boelus got all seven runs in one big inning, the 4th, and here is the story of that inning.

A. Jensen led off for Boelus with a single. K. Johnson was safe on Dugan's error and K. Stubbs singled to score Jensen. K. Whitefoot singled and scored Johnson and C. Stubbs singled to keep the bases loaded. Then Lemburg attempted to bunt, the ball hit his knee and fell in front of the plate. Ord players made no attempt to field the ball, since it was a foul after striking Lemburg, but Umpire Brady ruled it a fair ball. Two Boelus runners came in on the play, which caused a big rhabarb with field umpire Hulbelsen claiming he didn't see the play and Umpire Brady refusing to change his ruling. When play was resumed Dugan batted up an attempted double play and both runners were safe, with a score coming in, and another hit brought in two more Boelus runs before Beasley settled down and retired the side. In the eighth Ord had the tying and winning runs on base after scoring two to make the count 7-5 but Dick Nelson, batting as a pinch hitter for Philbrick, struck out weakly and Dick Beran, also pinch hitting, hit a pop fly to shortstop to end the threat.

Beasley pitched good baseball except in the fatal 4th. He gave up only 9 hits of which 6 came in that one inning, and had eight strikeouts.

To summarize, it was Ord's witless base running resulting in conversion of 14 hits into only 5 runs, which was primarily responsible for this defeat. Ord's errors, Brady's bad call and one poor inning for Beasley, were the other reasons.

Monday night at St. Paul the Ord team lost again, 3 to 0. Apparently they used up all the hits in their bats against Boelus for Dayton Jensen let them down with 2 lonely hits, one a single by Novosad and the other a single by Philbrick.

Bill Novosad pitched good enough baseball to win most games, allowing but six hits, but he made one error on which one St. Paul run scored, and another error by Bud Novosad allowed another faint tally.

Stan Johnson's throwing arm was weak and no less than 5 St. Paul runners stole second on him, without a single put-out being made on his throws. Beasley's work at 3rd base was the only bright spot for Ord; other players acted tired and peepless.

Not only did Jensen pitch 2-hit ball out of his hands, but two of his team's runs. Only once did Ord get a man past first base, and as has often been stated, a team can't win without scoring.

At the beginning of the season the Mustangs as a team seemed to have possibilities, but while other league teams developed they failed to improve; in fact, are playing poorer ball at the close than at the start. Throughout the season various individuals have sparkled and at times the team has showed flashes of greatness, but their team and individual performances the past week have been disappointing to their most faithful supporters.

For those who want more details of the past three games the box scores are given below:

Day Days

It is said that every dog has his day. Maybe it is for this time of the year, "the days of August" as it were, are called "dog days." Just what the dog has to do with it is hard to understand. There are no cat days, why dog days? Perhaps the cats have their nights instead.

Whatever name these days go by, they are among the finest of the year. They mark the time of harvest, of fruition of accomplishment. It is the time of year when the farmer finishes the work of growing and gathering in the crop, and begins his preparations for the crop of the coming year, sowing his fall grains and getting the land in shape for the growing season ahead.

It is the time of the county fair, once held only in September, but now held anywhere from the first of August or on. The county fair, which once was the big harvest

Program for BETTER LAWNS

- Late summer - early fall is the ideal time to beautify your lawn and here is how easy you can do it:
- 1 Apply SCULLI 4-XD to dispose of broad-leaved weeds.
 - 2 If Crobrass is present, wait 2 or 3 days, then apply SCULLI to stop further growth. Repeat SCULLI in a week.
 - 3 If weather is dry and lawn cannot be watered, delay treatment until after a soaking rain.
 - 4 Apply TURF BUILDER lawn food.
 - 5 Seed sparingly, you need so little SCULLI.

festival of the county, in too many cases has degenerated into a race meet, a rodeo, or any kind of entertainment except the kind of entertainment it once meant.

People do not go very far today to see fine stock and fine crops as exemplified in the county fair. They do not even have to go next door or to the adjoining farm to see the best, for they have examples of it right on their own farms in their own barnyard. Perhaps that is the answer to the fair losing out as a method of drawing crowds.

Another angle which makes August most enjoyable is the fact that many people go vacationing at that time. It is the ideal time of the year, with plenty of beans, sweet corn, new potatoes and such delicacies available at every store and on every farm. In August one may live like a king and spend like a beggar.

Julius Caesar gave us the month of August, also the name of July. He changed the calendar, named July for Julius and August for his brother Augustus. In fact, the entire calendar as we know it today is Roman. Perhaps that is the reason people like to go roamin'.

Something Different

Since the four small children were drowned recently in St. Paul, that city is really agitating for a pool, with private citizens running ads about the desirability of building one. A reproduction of Ord's pool adorned one such advertisement, with some 20 swimmers enjoying a wet life.

A town-boosting placard that the Leggetts enjoyed reading in a Redwood Falls coffee shop, as we journeyed north this summer, gave a resume of the plans of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

I believe the big headline on the card was "We Welcome New Business," and then were listed their plans for creating a swimming pool, a number of supervised play areas, parks, and so on.

The card ended with a warm appeal to locate with them.

Mighty up-and-coming citizens, wouldn't you say? To post a list of the advantages they plan, and interest traveling capital if possible?

It's a cinch if we don't actively try to interest new concerns in locating near us, if we don't show we are go-getters, we'll be bypassed in favor of some more lively community.

A letter from the former Lucille Hager points out to me that they do not live in Denver but in Fort Collins. She says they returned from Europe July 22, having a delightfully smooth crossing both ways. Their itinerary covered France, Italy, Switzerland, Luxembourg, Brussels, The Hague and England, where they spent two weeks in London.

"We were entertained by my relatives in The Hague; my father's folks came to the United States from Rotterdam in 1732, and they, like myself, have kept the family tree."

Mrs. (W. Kurt) Miller gives her address as 700 W. Olive Street, and declares Ord will always have a warm spot in her heart, for it's "a grand small town."

Another bit of correspondence, this time from Clinton Blessing, says "Like to read your articles, BUT you seem to razz California a lot—why always write about that fleshop called Los Angeles. Next time you're out this way stop in to see us in El Cajon Valley—it's even prettier than Valley county!"

"We're only a ten-minute drive to a lake for fishing and half an hour to the mountains. About the same to hit the beach and wonderful climate the year around. Can you beat that?"

No, Clinton, and I'll add that El Cajon is a really handsome name, also.

And his address, should you want to write, is 1342 Clane Street, Rt. 2. Another good boy who went West.

The Ed Jensen family send pretty postcards that say they are having a wonderful two weeks in Italy.

Lucille writes that the gondolas in Venice, famed canals have to move with red and green stop-and-go lights on some busy corners! Can you imagine that?

Hooking up with REA is really an experience. We decided to try it in Minnesota this summer, and gosh what all it took! Trips to town, heavy boxes of certain wires, a long copper rod, little wires, funny gadgets, octagonal boxes, shallow boxes, deep boxes, plates for one switch, plates for two switches, simple porcelain fixtures, fancier porcelain fixtures, more wire, more trips to Brainard (twenty miles) or Nisswa (thirty miles).

Queer boxes that fit in the wall, about the size of a family Bible. Round boxes that fit outdoors somewhere. More wire. More switchplates, different color or something.

A pole for a loop! for gosh' sake. Certain kinds of pointed blades, or what ever the darn things were! A yard light—w-u-p-p, forgot to get that, must write.

Wire clippings and sawdust on the floor, and on the kitchen counters, any old place. Sweep one mess up and up pops some more of it, dusty and sawdusty.

Ladders, sawhorses, and saws, standing around and laying around, and boxes of tools. Boiling and drilling and pounding. Gosh.

Forms to fill out. Inspector, where are you?

No marvellous electric lights when we left, but we have hopes.

One thing it was going to do, and that was permanently shut off our noisemaking Delco plant so that Oscar Ray could enjoy his evening radio program, at Cullen lake.

But we never got the job done.

Oscar unexpectedly left, on that mysterious trip that each of us some day will make, maybe tonight, maybe fifty years in the future.

We are going to miss him a great deal. He was our ever-present help, in Minnesota. He wasn't an army captain twenty years for nothing. He could make excellent plans to take care of any contingency in the way of work, travel or health, and direct them to a highly successful conclusion. He has advised us on everything from poison ivy to sagging roofs, and he could help one trouble as fast as the other.

He was quick, never wasting time nor money. A favorite remark of his was "I'm not Scotch for nothing!"

He stayed at the Leggett cottage for several years. H. D. L. wasn't enthusiastic about the idea of him wiping the dishes with a cigar in his mouth, and often told him so. They ribbed one another royally. Oscar had a good sense of humor.

As a housekeeper, he was second to none. His washing hung out by seven on Mondays, his ironing was done early, early, Tuesdays. He usually brought the mail from Nisswa before we left the breakfast table. I could go on and on about him, in fact he'd make a fascinating subject for a book. For one thing, he didn't like women, and used to have a lot of fun saying so in droll ways, though he was always pleasant to them.

Yes, indeed we'll miss him. —Irma.

Ward's Cookin' Column

Last week I wrote this column from Burwell, where I was plenty busy, if you ask me. This week I am writing from Erickson, where I am not doing a thing I don't have to do. I am so lazy that the Mrs. complains that I don't get breakfast, as is my usual custom when at home. After all, this is a vacation, and how can anyone call it a vacation when a fellow has to work all the time? Of course there is the little matter of cleaning fish, but we haven't caught enough of them to worry us much to date. If we decide to make it two weeks instead of one, maybe we will have some fish to clean before we come home. After all, I get to clean all the fish at home, so why not keep up the custom? What puzzles me is how they got dirty in the first place.

We arrived here Monday with Rice Bros., plumbers, furnishing the motive power. We persuaded them to stay for dinner, and then they went to some place northwest to fish and we went down to the sandpit on the Blaha place, formerly known as the Lawless place, where we have a cabin rented. We failed to get anything that first afternoon, but had plenty of food with us, so we got along all right. Tuesday we caught a few crappies, but they were small and we gave them to a family who are staying here in another of the cabins. But Wednesday we hit the jackpot for crappie, although they were rather small. We got our limits of them, then baited with corn and caught carp instead.

The Stanley Petskas came from Ord and we gave them the carp we caught, as we had the crappies already. One of the boys in the family of which I spoke is doing right well catching big carp. He caught two of them Wednesday morning that weighed nearly four pounds each. Wednesday I caught our first bass, one that just made the ten inch limit. The old gentleman in the other group, of whom I will speak more later, caught a twelve inch bass Tuesday and another the same length Wednesday.

The old gentleman's name is Reine Klattenburg and he comes from Albion. The lady is a step-daughter, a Mrs. Shapland and her two sons, Ronald, 16, and Richard, 12. They live in Lincoln, and Reine brought them over for an outing. He is 77 years old and has forgotten more about fishing than most people ever know. He brought with him a fine collection of rods, all of which he made himself. He has some of the finest split bamboo rods I have ever seen. He makes them in many different lengths, some for casting, some for fly fishing, some to use as fish poles which are made stronger than the others.

He has been making them for years, and a large store organization tried to get him to make them for sale in their stores, but he says he is too old to make them except for his own pleasure. He makes all kinds of fishing tackle, including sinkers, hooks, spoons, spinner and lures of all kinds, including some that are entirely different from any now on the market. He says he has a lot of equipment that he has never yet had time to use, but he keeps making it, hoping to get time to try it out some day. He has been busy all the time since they came teaching the boys the fine points of the fishing game, and Richard, especially, is learning rapidly.

The sandpit here is not what it used to be. Last spring the river cut in from the west and since that time about half of it has been running through the pit and out at the south end. It has brought in enough sand to fill in the west half of the pond, and about all that is left is a horseshoe-shaped bit of water around the east side. The fishing still is fair, but not as good as it was last year, when the pond was about twice as large as it is today. We have not been down to the lake as yet, and we may not go. It is a long walk, and we came here partly to fish and partly to rest. I am afraid we would not get much rest out of walking all the way down there and back.

I am getting to know a lot of people here in Erickson, and most of them seem to know me from the fact that I write for the Quiz. I went down Tuesday and had promised to hurry back, but so many people wanted to visit that it took me a long time. What strikes me as unusual is the fact that Erickson, with a much smaller population than North Loup, has just about the same lineup of stores, with some features, the live stock sales company, for example, that North Loup does not have. This is accounted for by the fact that this is quite a big country up here, and the people come from quite a distance to trade.

Just south of the live stock pany of special interest to me because the sign on the building was the first and only sign I ever painted in Erickson. I painted it back in the days when Asmus Bros. were in business in Burwell and were expanding by putting a station at Erickson. They took me over there and I painted the sign for them.

Because I painted the sign, I naturally took an interest in the place. As I went by a man was directing another man with a tractor mower as to how he wanted the weeds cut. He spoke as I went by and I stopped to talk with him. I found out that he was Frank Burhans. We had a nice visit in spite of the fact that he is an ardent Truman supporter and made no bones about saying so. Men may differ politically and still get along fine. That is one of the things I learned from my father. I find it true today: In the old days we had a neighbor, Charles Storing, who was a Democrat, BeGod, and proud of it. My father was just as radically Republican, yet the two never quarreled about it. When they met they would talk about just everything except politics. They had a mutual understanding and neither ever brought up a subject distasteful to the other. Yes, men of understanding usually manage to get along with each other.

On down the road I ran across E. H. Hoefner, who claims to be the oldest resident of the Erickson territory, and I guess he has the facts to back it up. He came to the country long before the town had a railroad, in fact, before there was a town at all, and he stays all through the halyon days when the town had rail service and there was occasional talk of extending the line to the northwest to Ballagh or beyond. He lived to see the rails torn up and the railroad abandoned, a fate that has come to a lot of other towns besides Erickson and which will come to many more in the future.

A few years back, Mr. Hoefner was elected a member of the board of commissioners for Wheeler county, and since that time he has been busy building up the road system, trying to do so at a saving to the citizens in taxes. From what I hear his efforts are meeting with success. The day I met him he had been busy for some time cutting the ditch on the east side of the road south of Erickson deeper to give the water that stands along the road in town a chance to drain away. He was getting the job done, too, although it meant a lot of work for a man 72 years of age.

Tomorrow we are planning to go over to the gravel pit south of the river, a place where we caught quite a few bass last year. It is not fished as much as the one on this side, and we are hoping for some better luck there. We were in luck this year. The little cottage we had last year was fine, but they started to work it over and didn't get it finished, so we drew the one just north of the Blaha house, which is the nicest one in the whole group. We like it so well that we have already spoken for it for next year. The kids are coming over Sunday to spend the day and bring us a supply of angle worms, minnows and ice. The latter is important because there is no ice man in Erickson any more. And that ought to be enough until next week, when I may think of something interesting to write about.

Editor, Ord Quiz:

John Ward's column is very interesting and worth reading, but he makes a mistake once in a while, especially when speaking of North Loup. In his comments on Fred Babcock's letter he calls H. A. Babcock "Art." The only Art Babcock of that family lived and died in North Loup. H. A. was his uncle. He says H. E. Babcock, Fred's father, was interested in the Ord-North Loup irrigation ditch. In the first place there was no Ord-North Loup ditch. It was solely a North Loup affair, built on practically the same route as the present. Ord had nothing whatever to do with it. The Babcock connected with it was E. J.

Babcock, who was secretary-manager. H. E. (Ernest) was interested in it as a new project, and soon after went over to Erickson and built a ditch on the Cedar, then up to Taylor and built one there. Then he next went to Columbus and spent the rest of his life on that project.

North Loup may not amount to much but she built the first irrigation ditch in this part of the state.

Nebraska Really Makes Hay While the Sun Shines

Besides being one of the top states in grain and live stock production, Nebraska ranks even higher in hay yields.

Usually first in wild hay! One Nebraska county ships more hay than any other in the nation! Also first in broom grass seed, third in alfalfa, third in blue grass seed.

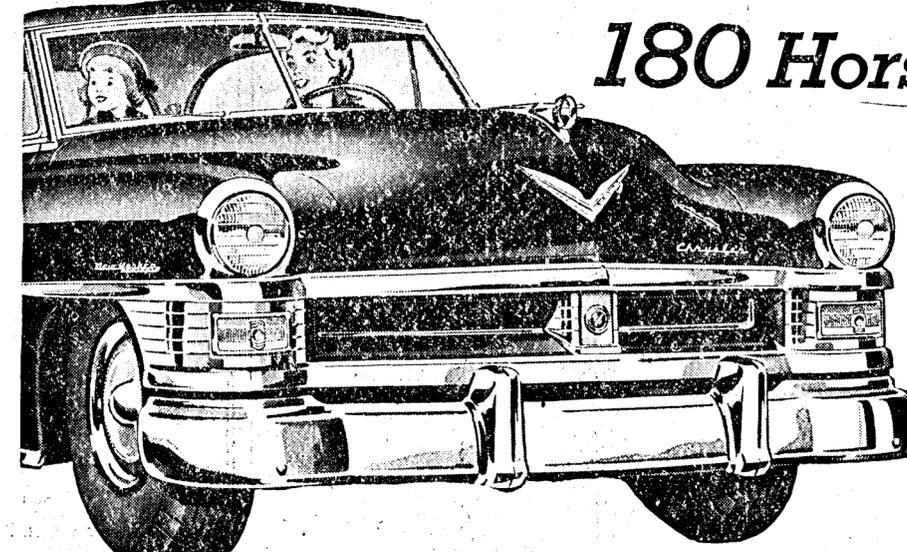

Your state rates equally high in the conduct of its taverns. Nebraska tavern owners are often commended for their efforts to operate in the public interest—efforts which have earned the respect and good will of the community.

Cooperating in the Foundation's continuing educational program, tavern owners now apply proved methods which are resulting in benefits to the community and to themselves.

180 Horsepower!

Until you drive it you'll never know what does for you!

Chrysler FirePower V-8

YOU'VE HEARD THE TALK about Chrysler's revolutionary new V-8 FirePower engine . . . with its 180 horsepower, its amazing smoothness and acceleration . . .

NOW COME DRIVE THE REASON for all this excitement. Here is the most revolutionary advance in American motor car engine design in 27 years! . . .

HERE'S 180 HORSEPOWER . . . a full 20 horsepower more than that of the next most powerful American passenger car engine! . . .

A NEW KIND OF HIGH COMPRESSION . . . the first Hemispherical Combustion Chamber in an American car engine actually puts to work more of the energy contained in the fuel than other engines.

HERE'S EXCITING PERFORMANCE . . . responsiveness, acceleration, smoothness, which no other passenger car engine built in this country can equal today. And you can have it with FirePower even on non-premium grade gasoline.

HERE'S THE SAFETY OF POWER-IN-RESERVE greater than you've ever had at your command—a new high in the instant responsiveness which is the very essence of safety on today's highways!

YOU'LL LIKE CHRYSLER'S POWER BRAKING, TOO . . . smoother, gentler, swifter stops at any speed than you've ever known. At the touch of your toe, power from the engine helps put on the brakes . . . reduces foot pressure by as much as two-thirds!

AND HYDRAGUIDE . . . THE NEW POWER STEERING! It makes driving a car a brand new experience. At your touch on the wheel, hydraulic power provides four-fifths of the steering energy. Even at a standstill, you can turn the wheels with your thumb and one finger! A great safety feature.

COME DRIVE IT . . . ONLY A RIDE CAN SHOW YOU WHAT ONLY A CHRYSLER GIVES!

NOW!

BEFORE School Starts Protect Them!

Although the school gives every pupil a general physical examination each year, our examinations cannot be thorough, and for the benefit of the child—we suggest that parents consult medical authorities before school starts.

INNOCULATIONS —
Many diseases of contagious nature such as small pox, diphtheria, etc., and others such as tetanus, can be prevented or lessened with vaccinations or inoculations. You will protect your own child as well as the child next door by having this done by your physician before school starts.

EYES —
Oftentimes poor school work is not the fault of the student but rather the fault of defects in seeing which can be corrected. Not only can this be the cause of poor school work but it can be an indirect cause of other physical failures. Consult an optometrist or oculist before school starts.

TEETH —
Now, before school starts, is the time to have dental defects corrected. All of us know that this is highly important from a health standpoint. Please do not wait until the child has started to school to make dental appointments. The missing of classes for work of this nature—while we grant permission readily—is not fair to your child.

In general, we urge that parents see that their child is given the best start possible this school year. We feel that it is only good common sense to do so.

Ord High Senior Class Smallest in Recent Years

Advance Registration Indicates School to Have Bumper Crop.

Although the Ord high school senior class will be one of the smallest in recent years, advance registration at noon Wednesday indicated that Ord high as a whole will have one of its bumper crops. The senior class this year numbers only 49, compared with 61 in 1950 and 61 in 1949. Last year's junior class had 56 registrants, indicating that 7 have been lost by the way side.

"I believe all classes will creep up a few from today's figures," F. L. Stoddard, high school principal told the Quiz. "This will be particularly true in the 7th 8th and 9th grades as figures as of now are quite incomplete."

Registration Wednesday for the high school and junior high school totaled 298, as compared with final figures a year ago of 304 and 314 in 1949.

Grade	1949	1950	1951
7	24	30	32
8	28	25	33
9	64	63	57
10	61	60	61
11	73	66	68
12	61	61	49

Rassles Here Draw 400 Crowd

A crowd of 400 attended wrestling matches staged Friday night at the Ord high school gymnasium. The event was sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

A preliminary go saw Bob Geigel of Algona, Ia. dump Dick Dicks of Omaha in a 30 minute one round feature. Second match saw a new Donna Marie beat Betty Hawkins in a one hour, two of three falls, hair-pulling contest.

In the main event, Joe Dusek of Omaha had little trouble disposing of Mike Diverse, former Cornhusker football player, two falls out of three.

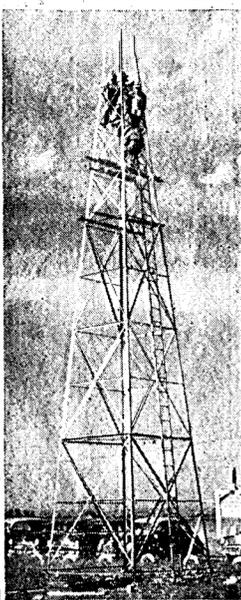

Veteran's groups in Ord are undecided about staging future matches. "The first was a financial flop," a spokesman said.

Philbrick Hurt, Out for a Week

In the seventh inning of the Ord Mustangs' game against the Elgin Negro All-Stars Tuesday evening, Center Fielder Bob Philbrick dumped a teasing bunt down the first base line and headed for first with the speed for which he is noted. The pitcher couldn't field it and the first baseman came in to make the pick-up while Godfrey, the negro second baseman, raced for the bag to take the relay. Godfrey and Philbrick reached there simultaneously and Philbrick literally bounced through the air when he was struck by the hefty Godfrey.

Unconscious, he was carried from the field after examination by Dr. F. A. Barla, and was taken to the Ord hospital where he was attended by Dr. R. J. Lynn. Wednesday morning he was able to return home.

Dr. Lynn says he had a mild brain concussion and will be out of the game for about a week. His right eye, which was hurt in the collision, was normal Wednesday and Bobby won't even have a "shiner" to show for the accident, promised Dr. Lynn.

Rare Treat for Fans, House of David, Cuban Stars Coming

2 Famous Traveling Clubs to Play Game Here Sept. 11th.

A rare treat awaits baseball fans of the Loup valley region, it was learned this week when the Ord Baseball club announced that it has booked two famous traveling baseball teams, the House of David and the Cuban Negro All-Stars for an exhibition game here on the night of Tuesday, Sept. 11.

It has been nearly twenty years since the House of Davids played in Ord but the bearded boys were favorites with Ord fans of two decades ago. House of David players still sport shoulder-length hair and long beards and the caliber of baseball they play is still tops.

The Cuban All-Stars have been playing exhibition games throughout the middle west all summer and are known to be a high calibre team, worthy opponents for the House of Davids.

Fans will want to mark Tuesday, Sept. 11 on their calendars. Watch for publication of more details about the two teams.

5 Automobile Crashes Is Week's Harvest; Two People Hurt

Loup City Editor's Wife and Baby Hurt in REA Truck Crash.

Five automobile mishaps have occurred in Ord and vicinity during the past week, none fatal although one badly injured two passengers.

Tuesday morning about ten o'clock a car driven by Arthur Rudelsi, of Loup City, editor of the Sherman County Times, collided with an REA truck driven by Chet Austin at an intersection near the Walt Foth farm on the Loup City highway. According to witnesses Mrs. Rudelsi and her baby were badly cut and were rushed to the Loup City hospital. At the time the accident occurred the Rudelsi car was traveling north to Ord on the Ord-Loup City highway and skidded 162 feet after the brakes were set, while the REA truck was approaching the intersection from the west and skidded 29 feet. About $100 damage was done to each vehicle.

At six o'clock Friday evening Mrs. Bert Reineke ran into a truck driven by Leo Valasek of Elton, Nebr., who allegedly ran a stop sign at the Sack lumber yard corner. Valasek reported that he was unable to see the stop sign because of a truck parked in front of it. Police Chief Harry Clement reported that about $80 damage was done to the Reineke car.

Friday morning about eleven o'clock a mishap occurred at the intersection in front of the Service Oil Station. Bill Beasley collided with Oscar Travis car being driven by Richard Aldrich. Beasley hit the back fender of the Travis car sending it spinning on to the lawn at the Ord Co-op Creamery. Nither car was badly damaged.

Tuesday, August 21, Danny Mason and Don Valasek collided on a corner five miles south of Ord on the Loup City highway. Valasek's car rolled twice and the body was completely demolished but he was not injured. Approximately $1,000 damage was done to the Valasek car and $150 damage to the Mason car, reports Otto Zapp, state highway patrol. On his way to O'Neill Sunday, Rev. James Ollis of Scranton, Pa., hit the back of a truck which stopped suddenly in front of him. The grill and right fender of the Ollis car were badly damaged but no one was injured. Mr. Ollis had been visiting with parents in Ord.

George Vavra Will Re-Open Meat Market

Slaughtering Quota Repeat Gives Local Butcher New Chance.

George Vavra will re-open his South Side Meat Market for business this week end.

The market has been closed for nearly three months due to the inability of Mr. Vavra to obtain meat to sell.

Repeat of the OPS slaughtering quota is cited by Mr. Vavra as the big reason he will re-open. "I can go out now and buy the local beef I need for processing," Mr. Vavra told a Quiz reporter. "Under the old OPS rules I couldn't buy any beef at all for slaughtering since I didn't slaughter any local beef during the period that OPS used as a measuring stick."

The Vavra market features home made bologna, wieners and sausage and to make this must buy the cheaper or commercial grade of cattle. Packers were unable to furnish the market's demand for this grade, one of the big reasons why Vavra announced the market's closing a few months ago.

When the market first closed quite a bit of statewide notice came to Mr. Vavra. Edwin Moran, OPS administrator issued a statement saying that Mr. Vavra had quit too soon, that he could buy all the beef he needed. The statement was hotly denied by all four of Omaha's big packing companies, one packing company manager going so far as to say that "Moran doesn't know what the hell he's talking about."

Fowler Clan Holds Reunion, Learn They Are Descendants of German King

The ninth annual Fowler reunion was held at the Victoria State Park, Sunday, August 19, with 75 representatives of the family from six states, New York, Texas, Colorado, Nevada, Washington and New Mexico in attendance.

Miss Christine Fowler of Batavia, N. Y., author of the history of the Fowler, a 1000 page book tracing the family lineage, gave a very interesting account of their family tree. Since retiring from the teaching profession, 22 years ago, Miss Fowler has traveled extensively in England and the United States, gathering data for her book. Her 22 years of research were ended when the Fowlers of Nebraska were located. Interesting data discovered are that the family originated with Henry I or Henry the Fowler, first King of Germany about the year 900.

Other out of state members of the family in attendance were C. H. Fowler, Falls, Nev.; Frank Fowler, Idaho Springs, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. John Parker and two sons of Crosbyton, Tex.; W. A. Fowler, Blythe, N. M.; and Alvin Fowler, Wenatchee, Wash.

A basket dinner and program was enjoyed and it was voted to meet again next year, same place, same date, at which time Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fowler plan to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. Visitors from a distance were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fowler for a few days before they returned to their respective homes.

Absalon Case Appealed to District Court

The police court case of Joe Absalon, charged with intoxication, has been appealed to district court. Absalon was found guilty by Judge John Sullivan last week and fined $10 and costs.

Trailridge Road With 10 Ton Truck 'Easy,' Says Kirk Lewis

Driving a 10 ton freight truck daily over Trailridge road from Estes Park to Grand Lake and return is an "easy" summer job, in the opinion of Kirk Lewis, of Ord, who returned here Monday.

As a driver for Rocky Mountain Transportation company he had the job of hauling a big truck load of meat, vegetables and other products over the mile-high Trailridge Road five days a week.

"Not as hard as driving a car over the same road," says Lewis. "You have so many gears you never have to touch the brakes."

Carsons Return from 6500 Mile Trip to East

Senator and Mrs. Hugh Carson returned to Ord Wednesday from a 6500 mile trip which took them to spots in Canada, the east coast of the United States, and deep south. The Carsons have been gone three weeks.

The trip was dual purpose, a vacation and investigation trip wrapped into one. Mr. Carson stopped interview members of highway departments in an effort to learn more about road construction problems.

"Every state we touched with the possible exception of Louisiana has better roads than Nebraska," he said. "And in a lot of them the tax situation is brighter, too."

"We traveled over a lot of roads in construction, and in all of them the practice is to do one side of the road at a time, thereby saving the construction cost of detours and allowing traffic to go ahead with a minimum amount of delay. In no case did we find a situation like the construction job from North Loup to Elba. In fact I enjoyed every mile of the trip until I got to Elba early in the morning of my return. That was the worst in the 6500 miles."

Lucille Hopkins of Durwell is spending this week with Bonnie Hopkins.

"We expect him or her to come along any day now," Perry told a Quiz reporter. "Our 148th baby was born this week."

Scott said that the layette would consist of diapers, undershirts, dresses, slippers, nightgowns, hosiery, waterproof panties, blanket, receiving blankets, booties and towel sets.

Ernest Kirby's Car Destroyed Friday

About 2:15 Friday afternoon Ernest Kirby's car, which was parked on the North Loup irrigation district's fenced lot at 14th and K streets caught fire and within a few minutes was ruined, though firemen responded promptly to the siren and used chemicals on the blaze. In the foreground can be seen Richard Rowbal, while behind him stands Fire Chief Rollin Dye. Kirby says he paid only $45 for the car when he bought it and managed to salvage the battery, so not much financial loss is involved. However, Ernie is temporarily without means of transportation.—Swopes Photo

Thorngates Observe 60th Anniversary
Open house was held Thursday afternoon and evening, August 16 in recognition of the 60th anniversary of the wedding of Pastor and Mrs. C. W. Thorngate of Dodge Center, Minn. The affair was held in the Thorngate home in Dodge Center.

Many friends called from three until five in the afternoon and from seven until nine in the evening. The guests were welcomed by a daughter, Miss Mary Thorngate. The guest book was in charge of a granddaughter, Mrs. Milo Pan of Minneapolis. The time was spent informally.

Dainty refreshments of decorated cake, mints, nuts, ritz crackers and coffee were served by the daughters and granddaughters of the couple. Favors were personalized napkins, inscribed with a large gilted "60".

The home was decorated with flowers, the gifts of friends. The "bride's" corsage was made and presented by Mrs. Harry Bird.

Pastor and Mrs. Thorngate, the former Ethel Babcock, were married in North Loup, Neb., Sept. 5, 1891. Because members of their families are teachers, it was decided to observe the event in August. The home was in North Loup until 1916 when the Thorngates moved to Wisconsin. Since that time they have lived in Milton, Wis., Exeland, Wis., Albion, Wis., Stone Fort, Ill., Dodge Center, Minn. In all these places but Milton, Rev. Thorngate served the Sunday Day Baptist churches as pastor, with his wife an able assistant in the music. Mr. Thorngate has retired from the active ministry, but both still serve the church of their faith in Dodge Center.

There are six children in the family, all of whom are living, also 14 grandchildren and six great grandchildren. In all the years there has been but four deaths, two grand children and two sons-in-law.

Those who attended the celebration from a distance were the children, Mrs. Myra Barber, formerly of North Loup, Neb., John Thorngate, wife and son, John, Jr., Edu Claire, Wis., Mrs. W. W. Baldrige, her husband and son, Jack, Montgomery, Minn., their daughter, Mrs. Milo Pan and son, Wm. L. Baldrige, with his wife and daughter, Harlys of Montgomery, Minn. Two members of the family make their home in Dodge Center, Mrs. Marguerite Clapper, her two sons and a daughter, and Miss Mary Thorngate. One son, Dr. George Thorngate, is in government work in Saigon, Indo China.

LABOR DAY

We pause this one day a year to pay tribute to the producing force of our nation... the man next door, the fellow across the street, the girl down the block. They've made America the wealthiest nation on earth, and are now making it the strongest, by producing weapons for defense — and for peace. We wish them God Speed, this Labor Day!

After winter garden plants are up to a stand, a light application of nitrate of soda will help them grow. For quickest results, dissolve a heavy tablespoonful of soda in a gallon of water and pour it along the row. A teaspoonful of soda, to 100 feet of row will be enough. Beasley Hurls 'No Hitter' at Shelton, Keeps Ord in Race

Ace Pitcher Fans 17 in Pitching Perfect Game; Dugan Stars at Bat.

Bill Beasley entered the Mid-Neb. League's "hall of fame" last Wednesday night by pitching a no-hit, no-run game against Shelton on the Ord field. Ord's 4 to 0 victory kept them in the play-off chase, which is currently being delayed by rainy nights and wet playing fields.

To make his no-hit game possible Beasley struck out 17 Shelton batters and personally made three put-outs. Defensively he was helped greatly by Bobby Philbrick, who in the first inning made a running scoop catch of B. Hadenfeldt's line drive to center, the hardest ball hit off Beasley all evening. Bob also came through with another nice catch while R. Johnson made four put-outs, two of them unassisted, and Moore one put-out.

There were only two assists in the ball game, by Moore and Dugan. Ord made one double play.

Bill Dugan's heavy hitting was responsible for all four of the Ord runs. On his first three times at bat Dugan hit fence-rattling doubles each time, scoring two of Ord's runs and driving in the other two. Hadenfeldt pitched good enough ball for Shelton, but only seven safeties to Ord, but nobody could look good against a pitcher with Beasley's stuff that night.

A big rhabarb developed in the third inning when the Shelton manager, Ray Blue, called time and protested to the umpires that Beasley was throwing a spitball. Umpires Goodrich and Lee examined the ball and could find no evidence of moisture having been applied to it, so ordered play resumed. Blue then protested the game. Later the protest was rejected by the league's president and protest board. Gene Leggett, on the grounds that baseball rules do not permit protest of an umpire's decision. The win thus went into the record books for Ord and as a no-hitter for Beasley.

This is the first no-hit no-run game in the two years of the Mid-Neb. League's existence.

The victory over Shelton left Ord tied with them for fourth place in the league standings, with Boelus a possibility to tie if they beat Wood River. This game originally was scheduled for last Wednesday but was rained out. Again Friday night it was rained out and again Sunday night. Since play-offs cannot start until the fourth place team is known, the game is very important.

If Boelus beats Wood River, Ord will meet Boelus on a neutral field, to decide which of the three teams takes fourth place in the play-offs. The winner of this game then must play Shelton, also on a neutral field. This procedure was adopted at a league meeting held at St. Paul Thursday night.

League officials are hopeful of starting the play-offs by next Sunday.

Record Brown Trout to Former Ord Boy

Bob Shunkwiler, who lived in Ord as a boy, caught the German brown trout pictured above in the Bishops, near Riverside, Calif. last year, and it was the biggest brown trout caught in the United States in 1950 and won him many prizes. Bob is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shunkwiler.

Bill Beasley Led Mustangs in Batting for League Season

Only Player Batting Over .300; Team Average Was .212.

Bill Beasley's batting average of .333 was the highest made by any of the Mustangs in the 24-game Mid-Neb. League season, according to unofficial figures compiled by the Quiz this week. He had 20 hits in 60 trips to the plate.

Catcher Stan Johnson was second with .285, Dilla fourth with .279 and Bill Dugan fifth with .250. Because of a back injury, Finley has been out of action for several games and his bat is missed.

Bud Novosad was the only other player to bat above the .200 mark, his .206 average being considerably below his last year's batting mark. However, with 13 runs, he led the Ord team in scoring. S. Johnson crossing the plate 12 times and Dilla 11 times to trail him closely.

Batting average for the team was .212.

Lowest mark was Dick Nelson's .090, with Moore next at .111. R. Beran with .114, and Koll with .116.

Other averages include Dick Beran, .183, R. Johnson, .136, Philbrick, .151, and W. Novosad, .171. These averages are unofficial but compiled from the scorebooks of the Ord team. Official averages, which may vary from those revealed here, will be released by Harold McDermott, league secretary, later this week after the final scheduled game between Boelus and Wood River is played.

Broken Bow Beats Arcadia Team, 4-1

Behind the steady pitching of Max Staab, youngest of the baseball playing Staab boys of Berwyn and Ansley, the Broken Bow team won a league play-off game from Arcadia Sunday, 4 to 1.

Bill Beasley was the Arcadia pitcher with Bud Novosad as his battery mate. The latter made Arcadia's only score when he drew a walk, stole second and third and then stole home.

Broken Bow had one big inning in which they scored all 4 runs. After two batters were out, Bob Scott dropped Toughly Bellinger's perfect throw to first, after scooping up a ground ball, and Broken Bow had a runner on. Smith, Arcadia left fielder, muffed a couple of flies and Broken Bow got a couple of long hits into right field to send four runs over the plate.

Beasley had the Indians bottled up in other innings and Arcadia failed to get hits off Staab throughout.

Plugs Downed Sunday Eve by Mustangs, Score 20 to 4

Youngsters No Match for Older Team, Is Verdict of Fans.

The weather wasn't the only thing that was wild Sunday night as the Ord Mustangs downed the Ord Plugs 20 to 4 in an exhibition game played on the Ord field with a scanty crowd present. A electrical storm raged through early innings of the game but only a few drops of rain fell.

The Plugs got only five hits off four Mustang pitchers while the Mustangs clouted 16 off Severson and Anderson. Numerous walks and errors aided the Mustangs.

Dan Dilla started on the mound for the Mustangs and gave up only two hits in the five innings he worked. Then Manager Rol Johnson, coasting behind a big lead, switched his infield and outfield, sending Philbrick to the mound and Jack Koll to the relieving position. Before the game ended Stan Johnson and Manager Johnson himself had taken turns on the mound.

As entertainment the game probably was all right; as baseball it couldn't be rated very high.

Mustangs Drop 8-7 Clash Tuesday to Tough Negro Crew

Ligon All-Stars Led Throughout But Were on Ropes at Close.

The Ord Mustangs battled a tough Los Angeles negro traveling team, Ligon All-Stars, Tuesday evening in the Ord ball park but lost 8 to 7 when a ninth inning rally fell one run short of tying it up. Score was 8 to 4 going into the inning.

Dick Beran and Dan Dilla shared the pitching burden for Ord, giving up 14 hits to the colored boys while their pitcher, Kelly used a sweeping curve and a good sinker to hold the Mustangs to 8 blows. He was just wild enough to keep the Ord boys on edge but in spite of their dodging he hit two batsmen.

Bob Philbrick's injury in the 7th, when he collided at first with the negro second baseman, cast a pall over the rest of the game.

Ord scored in five different innings and in the ninth got 3 runs when Dilla grounded out. Dugan was safe on an error, Beasley singled to advance him, Nelson struck out, Smith singled, and Manager Rol Johnson batted one to the fence to clear the bases. Johnson was on third with the

Mr. Starr will carry the mail on route 3 here. The transfer is expected to be made on October 1st.

Car of Fertilizer.

We will have on track about the 8th of September a carload of 15-15-0 and those of you that have some of this order should be ready to take it off the car. If you want us to truck it to your farm on arrival we can do that.

Then we will have a car of 14-6-0 arriving the last of the week or the first of the following week. This is the time to use this Treble Superphosphate on your alfalfa fields to get the maximum results next year.

It is very hard for our customers to realize that almost all fertilizers are very hard to get. Perhaps you plan on buying fertilizer at a later date; if so, get the supply whenever it is available, because right now we would have to wait several months for delivery on a number of the different kinds of fertilizer.

Spreaders.

We have for your use an Easy Flow Fertilizer Spreader at a very low rental fee. Then we have for sale one new Gandy Spreader and we believe that this is the most efficient spreader in use today. We also have for sale a used Easy Flow. This spreader has been used for about a year and is in very good condition. It is mounted on rubber and ready to go. We have a pair of used tires for the Gandy. If you are seeding very much in the way of grass or legumes or using a fertilizer to any great extent we believe that this used Easy Flow is a good buy.

Brome Grass.

Just received a nice shipment of new crop Brome Seed. Recleaned and tested. It is the Lincoln Strain. This is a good year for the sowing of Brome. Check the price and the moisture is ideal for fall planting.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover.

We are in the market for your alfalfa and sweet clover seed. We believe that our price is as high as you will find anywhere and possibly we are paying a little more than some of the buyers. Anyway, let us make you an offer on the seed that you have for sale.

Jimmy Stewart, 9, Identifies Farm Owned by His Uncles

To Jimmy Stewart, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart of Ord, goes the credit for identifying last week's Mystery Farm, which was the old W. J. Stewart farm 2 1/2 miles northeast of Ord on the east side of the river, now operated by Ray and Faye Stewart with the help of their sisters, Alta and Estelle.

Right now only 12 to 15 head are being milked. The farm consists of 120 acres including some pasture, with alfalfa and corn raised in rotation on the crop land. Another 80 acre tract nearby is farmed by the Stewart brothers.

This farm has been in the Stewart family for 44 years. W. J. Stewart came here from Illinois about sixty years ago and first farmed south of town on the land later bought and developed by the late L. J. Smolik. In 1907 Mr. Stewart bought the river bottom farm north of Ord.

The Stewart farm has always been a dairy farm and at times as many as 50 head of milk cows have been in daily production.

Security—Do We Want It?
Security in old age is the one thing for which we have worked through the ages. The idea of laying aside a certain amount at definite periods against the time when one cannot work, is as old as man himself. Therefore it may seem strange to ask if we, as a people, want security. Since that is what we are striving for it seems that we should want it.

The man who suddenly quits the work he loves and goes on living on what he has laid aside for a rainy day, is about as ready to be buried as if he were already dead.

All men look forward to the day when they may rest from their labors, but the Bible tells us that those who rest from their labors are dead. Nobody wants to be dead, and nobody wants to retire in the strictest sense of the word. It is all right to plan to take a little easier as old age comes along, but the man who quits work entirely will soon be dead, or he will wish he were dead.

God intended all men to be active, to be useful to society. There is no place in the life of any man where he may safely quit working entirely. The men and women in old people's homes are fortunate to be there, but they are more to be pitied than any other people on earth unless they are permitted to do some kind of work during the day, and every day.

unfinished condition, and that nature is doing much to remedy that defect as the years go by.

The first white men who looked on the sand hill country must have seen a sorry sight indeed. Many places look bad enough today, but they were far worse a few hundred years ago, in some places as bare of vegetation as the Sahara itself. The winds still blow the sand about, but not nearly as badly as it did in those days.

When the first explorers arrived, they found Indians occupying the more fertile parts of Nebraska, but there were none living in the sand hill area. They found game was not plentiful there, and this was probably one of the reasons the Indians chose to live elsewhere. Even the buffalo herds were not often found outside the more fertile plains area to the south.

A map drawn by Aug. Harvey in 1863 shows the state, or rather the territory of Nebraska as it was then, and as exploring and surveying parties had found it. Written across the area now known as the sand hills were the words: "Sandy country, unsuitable for human habitation." When the settlers came to the area, the sand hills were left until the last to be settled.

Even 50 years ago the land there was not as good as it is today. Realizing that something had to be done to get the area settled, Moses P. Kinkaid managed to get a measure through congress known as the Kinkaid Act, under which a settler was entitled to 640 acres of land instead of the customary 160 acres. As a result of this act all the land was eventually taken up by settlers.

It is true that many of those homesteaders, Kinkaiders, they were called, gave up the struggle after a few years and moved on to what they thought were greener pastures. But their neighbors, made of sterner stuff, bought them out, combined the properties and built them into ranches, running hundreds of head of cattle on thousands of acres of land.

Today the man in the sand hills with his ranch paid for is sitting on top of the world. He does not have to farm, and does not have to invest ten thousand dollars in machinery for farming. He looks after his cattle during the day, and knows that they are growing into money while he is asleep.

He does invest in machinery for putting up hay, but he does not have to plant the hay or cultivate it while it is growing. Except in the haying season he has more leisure time than any dirt farmer. Whenever he needs money, all he has to do is take another truckload of cattle to market. He knows that he will get a good price for it as the price is guaranteed by the government.

He is different from the feeder who puts his stock in the pen and feeds them corn and other expensive feeds, for the hay he feeds his stock grows free of charge and his total expense is getting it up, hauling it to the cattle and hauling the cattle to market. The market is good, because grain farmers are looking for good feeder stock.

Every business has its dark side, and hill ranching is no exception. They all took a beating in the winter of 1948-49, and the March 7th storm of 1950 will not soon be forgotten. There is satisfaction in knowing, however, that such storms are few and far between in Nebraska and it may be 50 years before such a storm comes again. But the modern sandhiller is a king in his own right and needs to bow his head to nobody on earth.

Changing Seasons

The past two years have seen something unusual in Nebraska, with rain coming through the summer in quantities sufficient to guarantee a crop of corn. In the past it has been the rule that the corn would go into July looking fine and usually come out of it scorched and not more than half a crop. The reason for the difference is easy to see. We have had about the same amount of rainfall during the year as usual, but it has been coming at a more opportune time.

Most of Nebraska went through the entire month of July just past without any rainfall at all, and the farmers were irrigating extensively where such practice was possible. Then came August, with a plentiful supply of moisture, and the corn, which had come through the four weeks drought without serious damage, was ready to respond as well as only corn in Nebraska can respond.

In spite of the fact that farming in Nebraska is diversified, it is a fact that the farmer can enjoy real prosperity only if and when there is a good crop crop. Oats was formerly grown to feed the horses, but now the farmer depends on horses entirely any more. Wheat was once raised in considerable quantity, but since there are few flour mills to use up the crop, the acreage has dropped off considerably.

James A. Ollis, Jr. once aptly remarked that the ideal combination for farming in Nebraska was corn, hogs and alfalfa. Today this is more true than ever in the history of Valley county, in fact, in all of central Nebraska. But if one of the three principal ingredients is missing, the combination fails to work.

Alfalfa can always be counted on for at least a part of a crop, and there are more prolific types of hogs from which to choose. The third ingredient, corn, is the one crop that has been uncertain in the past, and it is difficult to raise hogs profitably without also raising the corn to feed them. Let us hope that the change of seasons for the better will continue indefinitely.

Ward's Cookin' Column

The Lazy Fisherman: This is a subject I should know something about, being lazy by nature and a fisherman by marriage. I married a fisherman, and she has tried long and hard to make a fisherman of me. The trouble is that, to be good at almost anything in this world, you have to be born with a knack for it. I was born with a knack for several things, but fishing was not one of them. It is a hard job to do a better job with the rod and line than most of the so-called fishermen of Ord, but I still can't qualify to hang up my shingle and give lessons in the art.

Fishing should get the full vote of conscience of both capital and labor. It takes quite a bit of capital these days to equip one's self with the necessary paraphernalia for taking the finny tribe. The amount you spend can be any amount. The more you spend, the more you will have to carry along and lose along the creeks and bayous. The amount you spend has very little to do with the results, for the kid with a willow pole, a string from the store for a line, a nail or a nut for a weight and a bent pin for a hook will take home more fish than the man with a hundred dollars worth of equipment, and he has absolutely nothing more invested than a few minutes of his time.

But I started out for once and for all to explode the myth that fishermen are lazy. That idea got started by somebody who saw a bunch of fellows lined up along the bank in the shade, with their backs against convenient trees, apparently taking life easy. The pose is very deceptive, as anyone who has tried it will admit. The fellow who looks about half asleep, is very much awake. He lays his pole down for the good reason that fish seem to show a tendency to bite on any line entirely disconnected from human agency. He may be tired enough to sleep, but he does not dare to where the fish abound. Some get there by walking, which is the easiest way. It takes you longer to get there and you have less time to put in at the strenuous job of fishing. I feel sorry indeed for the unlucky fellows who own autos and get the idea that the easiest way to go on a fishing trip is to drive. Like the fellow who had his choice of how to get to Hell, the fisherman should prefer to walk. If you walk so far that you have to start home with out even waiting a hip, you will be ahead of the game. You will get out of the arduous job of cleaning the fish when you get home.

Watch For Avers Grand Opening!

AVERS FURNITURE — ORD

Hitler was embued with the idea of developing a superior race of people in Germany. I am thoroughly convinced that the American people are superior to any race of people on earth, because so many of them are fishermen. I believe a thorough course in the art of fishing would prepare a young man nearly as well for war as the present course does, and what is more important, the young man would get a lot more enjoyment out of it. Like the Indian fakir who sleeps on a bed of spikes, the fisherman gets so used to the torture of fishing that he actually enjoys it, and would rather fish than do anything else in the world.

When I started out this dissertation I mentioned the fact that the better half is a real fisherman, while I am only a cheap imitation. I can prove it. Yesterday we were going fishing and she decided to stop and drop a hook and worm into a place where no sensible fish would think of staying, and what happened? She got a bite before the worm had settled to the bottom, and after a fierce battle, she landed the most beautiful rainbow trout I ever saw, and one of the finest caught in the Cedar in recent years. It was 16 inches long and weighed 1 1/4 pounds. Some day I plan to write about the "Complete Angler, Up To Date," but this is enough on fishing for a long, long time, I reckon.

Whenever I remark in a shocked tone of voice that "something costs money," my husband gives me the unanswerable answer, with "What doesn't?"

The new daughter at our house is teaching us about little girls. We have a great deal to learn. We have learned that they follow you around all day long and want to do everything that you do. If I start to whittle the potatoes, it's "Are you going to peel potatoes? I want to peel the potatoes." "Are you going to feed Chipper? I want to feed Chipper?"

They have ideas about brushing hair and fixing it, on themselves (on you!) They LOVE some dresses and ribbons, and pick them out decisively, no hesitation there.

Handwork is fascinating. They LOVE embroidering, and sewing. Bits of ribbon and cloth become doll clothes easily and quickly. The doll's hair changes just as quickly, from braids to curls and back again.

They love cantaloupe and candy and watermelon and plums, and peanuts and orange juice and bread and jam. And all the pretty colored-water drinks.

And dogs and kittens and babies.

They like to ask questions, especially the "Why?" ones. They like to fix surprises. They like to cook. A piece of pie dough is entertainment for hours.

They like a little ball and some jacks. They like to paint their fingernails.

I guess you can easily see how much we have learned from one little eight-year-old in only nine days.

Never did we have so much cool, rainy, Oregon weather as last summer and this, this year especially. Wonderful growing weather, except perhaps for corn. Is our climate changing?

Really couldn't call it swimming weather, could you?

Cancer comes entirely too close to most of us. Today they are burying Mac, Quiz employee for four years past, a pleasant, likeable fellow everyone in the shop will grieve for, was Mr. McCormick.

And a great many Ord friends will be thrilled to hear that Musa Misko Hall is making a satisfactory recovery after an operation for the same affliction, after a miserable summer of radium treatments.

If you have any queer lumps or red bumps or unusual bleeding or unhealed sores, get to a doctor at once, while he can help you.

And it could be that you should give to the next cancer drive when they ask you for funds.
