Dennis Cook, 13, Killed Sunday When Tractor Overturns

Accident Happened Near Kearns Home; Funeral Held Wednes.

Dennis Cook, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook of the Union Ridge neighborhood, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon not far from his home, when the tractor on which he was riding with Frank Ingraham tipped over and pinned him under it. The boys had been to the DeNoyer place and were near the Ray Kearns farm when the accident happened.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Methodist church with Rev. J. Arthur Miller officiating.

Mrs. Harold Hoepfner and Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson sang "Sometime We'll Understand" and "No Night There," with Alice Myeres at the piano.

Funeral bearers were John McDermott, Dale and Gene Larkin, Howard Abel, Kay Sawyer and Hale Earnest. Shirley Brown, Helen King and Janet Markwick assisted with the flowers.

Burial was in Hillside cemetery with Hastings and Peason in charge of arrangements.

Dennis Eugene Cook, was born November 7, 1937, near Ord, Nebr., and passed away September 2, 1951, not far from his home south of North Loup.

Until he was five years of age the family lived near Arcadia, moving to the Union Ridge neighborhood in the spring of 1943. Here he attended school and graduated from the eighth grade, with honors in 1950. He attended North Loup schools as a freshman and had already registered for his sophomore year.

Dennis was a quiet, uncomplaining boy, who accepted whatever fate had in store for him. Last summer he suffered a siege of polio and was confined to the Grand Island hospital for six weeks, where he endeavored himself to the nurses and attendants by his cheerful cooperative attitude. Hardly had he arrived home when he was stricken with virus pneumonia and spent a week in the Loup City hospital. Through it all he was patient and understanding.

He was a talented guitar player and spent much of his time in that manner. The last few weeks he had been anxiously watching the mails for the arrival of an electric guitar which he had ordered.

With other members of his class he looked forward to playing on an evening program Pop Corn Days.

Dennis will be greatly missed by everyone, and especially by his two little sisters as he assisted in their care and helped around the house a great deal.

Left to mourn his passing are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook, three sisters, Mrs. Janet Huber of Ord, Linda and Susan at home, two brothers, Jimmy and Dewey, at home. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Cook of Ord and many other relatives and friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Frazier left Tuesday morning for Jerome, Ida., to visit their son Leroy and his family for the next two weeks.

Dennis Cook... killed instantly.

Ord Hi Gets Under Way Tuesday With 310 Students

Grade School Has 260 and All Totals Are Above Last Year.

The Ord schools got under way for the 1951-52 term Tuesday with 310 students registered in junior high and high schools, at the north building, and 260 grade school students at the south building. Both totals are higher than last year.

Totals by classes at the north building are 7th, 34; 8th, 34; 9th, 62; 10th, 61; 11th, 67; 12th, 52. The total, at this time last year was 301.

Miss Inez Swain, grade school principal, reports there are 21 new students registered there. Total is 15 above last year.

Edgar Roe Heads Civil Defense

Edgar W. Roe, farmer living near Ord, and a member of the board of supervisors for Valley county, was named director of civil defense for Valley county. The action was taken Tuesday by the board of supervisors.

First Popcorn Day, October 1, 1902, Saw Only 300 Sacks Corn Given Away

The 300 sacks of popped corn given away October 1, 1902, when the first Pop Corn Days celebration was held in North Loup would hardly compare with the 30,000 sacks that will be given away next week at the Jubilee's celebration.

Early files of the North Loup Loyalist say "The idea of serving free popped corn was part of the plan. It was decided to have boxes placed in convenient spots in the village where the popped corn could be placed and the guests could help themselves.

"Carrying out this plan proved to be a difficult proposition. There were no big poppers like those used today." Fred East was hired to shake a wide popper over a gasoline stove in the town hall and although he began popping the corn the night before, it was difficult

City Dads Decide Graveling Will Cease in Ord

Project Is 3/4 Done; Catholic Cemetery to Be Acquired.

Graveling on the streets of Ord came to a halt this week after the mayor and council of Ord decided informally Monday evening that enough had been placed.

Reason for stopping the graveling project, now in its completion stage, seems to be that the city may put in an improvement district for oil treatment next spring and summer and that the gravel will be unnecessary.

At the time of stopping, contractors had delivered slightly over 3000 yards of gravel on city streets. A 4000 yard project had been outlined to cover the whole town.

Most of the city streets had received the gravel treatment before the decision to stop was made and apparently those not covered will do without. Councilmen admitted Wednesday that complaints about stoppage were already coming to them rapidly, and that the stoppage decision might be reconsidered.

Acquisition of the Catholic cemetery, which adjoins the Ord city cemetery, seems to be a matter of time and the passage of necessary legal steps, councilmen were told Monday evening.

The city will take over the Catholic portion and maintain it. Certain lots will be reserved for Catholic burials, and the Catholic cemetery association will pay enough cash in to the cemetery's perpetual maintenance fund to assure maintenance of graves in that section.

City dads also decided that a room at the new administration building would be set aside for radio equipment of the civil air patrol, and also as headquarters for the air patrol. The new building at the airport is about ready for occupancy.

MANAGES CORN COMPANY

Ernest Rousek recently resigned from his job as soil scientist for the Soil Conservation Service in North Dakota to accept a position of district manager for the Steckley Hybrid Corn Co., at Lincoln for him to pop enough to feed more than himself and the committee.

The first Pop Corn days saw a committee of W. G. Hood, Clyde Wellman and E. J. Babcock staging the event. A program of speakers was the main event. The day was cold and stormy and blankets were stretched across the north side of the old band stand where the speakers sat. J. H. Mickey, republican candidate for governor and W. H. Thompson, democratic candidate for the same office were the principal speakers. Others who spoke included A. E. Bartoo, J. A. Ollis and M. L. Fries.

The custom of electing a Pop Corn Queen did not start until 1925. Miss Donnie Smith was crowned queen that year, and was crowned by W. G. Hood, a member of the original committee.

Richard Klimek and Raymond Cronk, who hadn't seen each other all summer, embraced happily as they entered Ord's south school as 4th graders.

All Roads Lead to North Loup Sept. 11, 12, 13

Golden Jubilee of Pop Corn Days Big Event for Valley.

All roads lead to North Loup next week where that community will celebrate its 50th annual Pop Corn Days, September 11, 12 and 13.

North Loup plans to give away 30,000 sacks of popcorn during the festival.

The golden jubilee show this year will revolve around the half century idea, but will be strictly modern, with a full scale entertainment planned for all three days.

Headlining the Tuesday program will be a swine show and judging contest for members of veterans farm training classes and members of the Future Farmers of America. The highlight of the evening show will be square dancing with Wayne Benson and his 40ers furnishing the music. Wednesday events include a horse parade and horse show, juvenile parade, plus band concerts and free acts during the afternoon.

The Wednesday evening show will be climaxed by the crowning of the Pop Corn Queen.

Thursday's program has the big event of the year, the parade floats. Following the parade North Loup and Dannebrog will stage a six-man football game.

The Kearney barber shop quartette will be a feature of the Thursday evening performance, followed by a public dance.

Chairman of the 1951 Pop Corn committee is John Edwards, with Frank Schudel, 1950 chairman, as co-chairman. Roy Cox is secretary-treasurer. Committee members include Dell Barber, Vernon Thomas, John Kriewald, Derwin White and Dale Sinek.

Ben Sinek is chairman of dances, seats and grounds. Don Cleman is in charge of agriculture exhibits, with Vic Cook assisting. Vernon Thomas will manage the horse show and the float parade.

Roy Cox handled publicity for the 1951 show, Dell Barber, concessions; Martin Dunklau, entertainment; Mrs. Vernon Thomas, 4-H exhibit; Mrs. Ign. Pokraka, women's exhibits; Alice Johnson, school exhibits; Mrs. Carroll Swenson and Mrs. Pete Zyntek, juvenile parade.

Joe Velebra and Paul Madsen, who have popped the free popcorn for years, will again do that job this year. The large poppers owned by the community have been overhauled, and about 30,000 sacks of popcorn will be popped this year, as compared with 300 given out 50 years ago.

A complete program and premium lists are published on other pages of this issue.

Watch for further announcement about this prospective game.

Fred Lundstedt, who has been service manager for the Schudel Motor Co. of North Loup for the past five years, is the new owner and operator of the Loup Valley Tractor & Implement Co. of North Loup. Mr. Lundstedt will continue his new business in the firm's same location.

The firm will feature the Ferguson line of implements.

—Dr. Zeta Nays plans to take Barbara to Lincoln today, where she will be enrolled as a freshman at the University of Nebraska.

Services Held Saturday for Jerry Petska

Prominent Retired Business Man Dies Thursday Evening.

Funeral services for Jerry James Petska, Sr., were held Saturday morning from Our Lady of Perpetual Help church. Mr. Petska, a prominent retired businessman of Ord, died Thursday after a short illness.

Dr. F. J. Osentowski, a cousin of Mr. Petska, sang Ave Maria, accompanied by Mrs. Syl Furtak, during a requiem high mass conducted by Father Tom Siodowski.

Jerry Petska was born May 23, 1891, and lived his entire life with the exception of one year in Ord. As a young man he worked for Sara McLain in the mercantile business. In 1916 he was united in marriage with Louise Lillian Bartunek after which they made their home on a farm north of Ord where their two daughters, Alice and Louise, were born. In 1919 they moved to a home near the park where their son, Jerry, Jr., was born. Later he entered into business with Emil Kokes and retired in May of this year.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petska, Sr., Ord; his wife, Louise; his children, Mrs. T. T. Sloboszewski, Ord; Mrs. D. B. McOstrich, Grand Island, and J. A. Jerry J. Petska, Jr., Grand Island; five grandchildren, Jimmy Sloboszewski, Carol Ann and Patricia McOstrich, Lee and Lyla Petska; brothers, Joe and Stan of Ord, Lou of Grand Island and George of Los Angeles, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Gail Highland, Riverport, Wyo., and Mrs. Ed Copek, Ft. Morgan, Colo. He was preceded in death by a brother, Frank, and four grandchildren.

His nephews, Emanuel, Donald, Eugene and Stanley Petska of Ord, Lumnir Petska of Ashton, La Verne and Richard Petska of Albin, Donald Guggenmos of Brewster, and Sgt. James Petska, U.S. M.C., of Orange, Calif., acted as pallbearers. He was interred in Graceland cemetery.

Welcome Home Game for 2 Ord Baseball Pros Is in Prospect

Two Boys Who Started on Ord Junior Legion Teams Will Visit.

There won't be many more baseball games played in Ord this season but fans are hoping that present plans for a "welcome home" game for Darrell Johnson and Leon Faulk can be completed and the game played.

Both got their start in baseball on Ord Junior Legion teams. This season young Johnson has been playing on the Gainesville team of the Texas league and has orders to report to the major league St. Louis Browns next spring. Young Faulk has had a good season with the Des Moines team of the Western league and will report to the Chicago Cubs in the spring.

Johnson is a brother of Rol Johnson, manager of the Ord team. Faulk is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Faulk, sr., of Ericson and was married last spring to Wilma Klancecky of Ord.

Both will be in Ord within the next few days and fans are hoping they will form a battery for Ord against Loup City or some other team near by, in a "welcome home" game that will give everybody a chance to see players of major league calibre in action. Receipts of the game, after expenses, would be divided among Ord's home town players who have played all season without recompense.

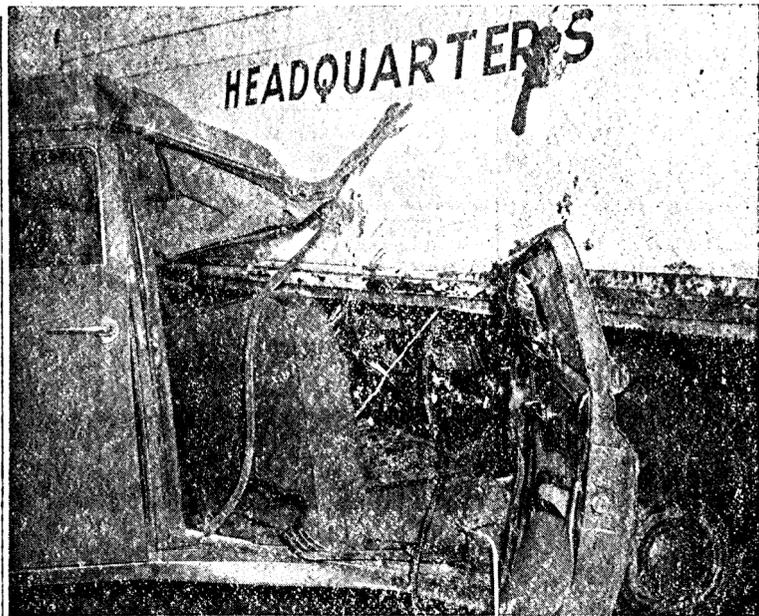

Watch for further announcement about this prospective game.

Three Lie at Death's Door as Result of This Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Marian Jensen and Everett Jensen are in the Ord Cooperative Hospital, all seriously if not fatally injured, as result of this crash at noon Tuesday between the car driven by Marian Jensen and a Jack and Jill truck driven by Ralph Stalter, of Hastings. The car driven by Marian Jensen hit the truck at an intersection one mile south of North Loup. It was one of the bloodiest and most horrible accidents ever seen in this section.

53 Ord Students Will Enter Schools of Higher Learning

Half of Them to Enter Nebraska U., Others Going Farther Afield.

Not fewer than 53 young Ord people, and probably a greater number, will enroll this autumn in institutions of higher learning. Nearly half of the group will attend the University of Nebraska at Lincoln but others prefer the teachers colleges or church schools while others will attend schools of nursing as far away as Chicago.

A list of those known to the Quiz follows:

University of Nebraska — Jim Fafrita, Dennis Knopik, Bill Anderson, Don Sorenson, Kerry Leggett, Betti Anderson, ag, Cory Anderson, Allen Blaha, Tom Tolson, Paul Stoddard, Doug Dale, Al Blessing, Galen Allen, Gerald Severson, Frank Adamick, Joan Sedacek, Pat Ball, Kirk Lewis, John Frien, Rosellen Vogelanz, Charles Munn, Joycie Foth, Rita Greenwalt, Kenneth Clement, Bob Severson, Wayne Gregory.

Kearney — Dick Anderson, Evelyn Urban, Don Hill, Dorothy Urban.

Wesleyan — Wayne Zlomke, Velma Foth, Barbara Nay, Jean Huff (Brian Memorial Nursing Hospital), Ellen Satterfield, Virginia Struckman, Rogene Rogers.

Hastings — Dick Tolson, Rich Heuck, Charlene Severson, Lois Severson, Greta Oliver.

Peru Teachers — Roland Beran.

Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Denver, Colo., Margaret Heuck.

Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Chicago, Ill., Janet Coleman.

North Central Bible Institute, Minneapolis, Minn., Patricia Brown.

St. Joseph, Omaha (nursing), Delores Blaha.

St. Mary's College, Xavier, Kans., Carol Jean Kapustka.

Other Ord young people who have recently gotten transcripts through F. L. Stoddard, but whose exact plans are not known include: Merritt Jensen, Joann Whiting, Joan Blessing, Carol Benn, Sharlene Whiting.

These boys are kindergarteners and were getting their first taste of schooling Tuesday when the Quiz photographer visited. Mikie Daily is at left, Harry Romans at right.

Blood Transfusions May Save Lives of Three Hurt Tuesday

Marian Jensen, 37, Was Worst Hurt of Trio; Truck Driver Unhurt.

For 11 years Ralph Stalter, of Hastings, has driven a truck almost daily between Ord and Hastings for the Jack and Jill stores and, as he puts it, "never scratched the fender of anybody's car."

Marian Jensen, 37, is a respected farmer living near North Loup, on the old J. A. Barber farm. Tuesday morning he was enroute to Grand Island with his wife, Mabel, 35, and his brother Everett, 32, and was only one-half mile from his home when he reached the highway detour intersection a mile south of North Loup about 12:15.

This is Highway No. 66 and Temporary No. 11.

The truck driven by Stalter was going northward and apparently Jensen failed to stop, wheeling his car into the intersection at high speed, with the result that he struck the big truck broadside, the nose of his car burrowing beneath the high truck body.

All three passengers in the car were horribly and bloodily hurt and blood splashed high against the white side of the truck. When the three were hauled out of the wreckage and loaded into the ambulance for the trip to the Ord Cooperative hospital, none was given a chance to live. Under the care of Dr. R. J. Lynn, and with almost constant transfusions of blood or plasma being administered, Mrs. Jensen and Everett Jensen are now given good chances to survive.

Marian Jensen, who suffered a crushed chest, fractured skull, concussion and numerous other injuries, has "a chance" said Dr. Lynn at 10:30 Wednesday morning.

The others have brain contusions and lacerations.

A preliminary investigation exonerated the truck driver from blame. Mr. Jensen, too familiar with the territory, had "taken a chance" at the intersection, and it was one chance too many.

The Jensen brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Jensen and Mrs. Jensen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sautter.

A Livestock Judging team from Ord high school won the district trophy at St. Paul last Friday. Ord's Future Farmers took both team and individual honors. Top judge of the day was Jim Svoboda, who turned in a near perfect score. Eugene Novak, Edwin Penas, Dale Svoboda and Russell Clement were not far behind, and finished in that order. Each received a fountain pen or pencil as an individual prize.

North Loup rated second. St. Paul finished third, and Loup City fourth.

Family Night for Masons, Eastern Star

Monday, September 10, is family night for members of the Ord Masonic order, the Eastern Star, and their families. Book reviews, music and other entertainment will feature the evening program which will be held at the Masonic Hall.

St. Paul Will Lay Curb, Gutter, Storm Sewer

$144,000 Project Started to Improve Streets, Drainage.

The St. Paul city council passed an ordinance establishing a street improvement project last Monday night.

The work of curbing and guttering a section of St. Paul streets will be undertaken unless more than half of the people in the district file objections.

It is estimated that the project will cost around $144,000, and the engineer's estimate set the cost at $225 a front foot. This is the maximum figure that will be allowed should the district go through, although a contractor may bid less than this in order to get the job.

Included in the improvement would be curbing, guttering, building of storm sewers where necessary, and graveling.

Of the total $143,999 estimated cost of the district, $47,193 would be assessed directly against property owners who will benefit, as described by law.

Back to School Go Ord Children

Miss Stansbury, new Ord first grade teacher, stands at head of stairway to greet a group of her pupils as they slowly entered the school building Tuesday morning for another term of school.

Motor Carriers Meet in Omaha

Jack Romans left Wednesday for Omaha to attend a convention of the Motor Carriers of Nebraska being held there this week.

Cosmopolitan Ladies Night Thursday Eve

About 30 members of the Ord Cosmopolitan club and their Cosmopals enjoyed the club's annual Ladies night Thursday evening at the Veterans Club.

Mrs. Sack Given Degree in Nursing

Mrs. Duane Sack, formerly Donna Manchester, daughter of Mrs. Agnes Manchester of North Loup, has completed her training at the University hospital in Omaha, and received her degree in nursing.

Mrs. Sack came to North Loup Friday and after a short time here, will go to Belvoir, Va., where her husband is stationed with the army. She expects to find work in her chosen field nearby, probably in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Albert Jones is having a bridge party on Monday afternoon at her handsome new residence, lately completed.

60,000 Bushels Potatoes Here

The North Loup Valley will raise and ship about 60 to 70 thousand bushels of potatoes this year, according to estimates of crop yields.

Nearly all the spuds are being grown in the Burwell vicinity where Malicky Bros. and Peterson & Co. are processing the group.

Acreage this year will run about 165 acres, with yields averaging about 400 bushels to the acre. Acreage in 1950 is about 100 acres less than last year.

A housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones was held Sunday evening when a group took a covered dish dinner and a nice gift to their new home.

Mrs. Reginald Beeghly of Kimball, S. D., is spending some time in Ord with her mother, Mrs. Hans Andersen, and her brothers, John and Vernie and their families.

Mr. Charlie Kokes suffered a broken arm, along with cuts and bruises, and her husband had a black eye as result of their car slipping off a high grade 4 miles west of Ord Monday afternoon. Both were attended and spent the night in the Ord hospital. Their car was not greatly damaged.

Duda Relatives to Arrive Thursday

T. Sgt. John G. Sacotte and his family are expected to arrive in Ord Thursday for a visit in the home of Mrs. Sacotte's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Duda, after an irritating and expensive experience which detained them for a week in Omaha. Mrs. Sacotte is the former Dorothy Duda.

The Sacotte family was enroute from Camp Lee, Va., to Ord where Mrs. Sacotte and son John will stay with her parents while Sgt. Sacotte goes on to Seattle for embarkment to Korea. They stopped in Omaha to visit her sister, Mrs. Bernice Duda.

Early Friday morning their car was stolen, along with $1,500 in personal belongings which it contained. Eighteen hours later the car was found abandoned with one side damaged, a flat tire and contents of the car stolen.

Ord Airport Administration Building Is Completed

The new administration building at Evelyn Sharp Field, the Ord city airport, has been completed and is now ready for occupancy. The building, a $10,000 steel structure, was paid partially out of city funds, partially by federal funds. It will house the offices of airport manager Ellis Carson, a radio broadcasting unit purchased for the Civilian Air Patrol some years ago by Ord veteran groups, and provide meeting spaces for the CAP flyers.

Building's Interior Attractively Fitted

Interior of the new administration building at the Ord airport presents an attractive appearance with tile floors, knotty pine siding and fluorescent lighting.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Medberry and family drove to Fullerton Sunday to see Mr. Medberry's grandmother, Mrs. M. M. Medberry, who is 91 years old.

Shelton Batters 3 Ord Pitchers but Tourney Stalls

Play-Offs Apparently Abandoned Because of Ill Feeling at Bylaws.

The Shelton Colts battered three Ord pitchers on the neutral Ravenna field Thursday and easily won 7 to 0, to go into the league play-offs with Loup City in first place, Ravenna 2nd, St. Paul 3rd and Shelton 4th.

Under the Mid-Nebraska Night League rules adopted last winter a double elimination round robin play-off was to follow close of the season. However, at a special meeting of team managers held in St. Paul two weeks ago, Bob Stickey, Ravenna pilot, offered an amendment to the bylaws to change this to a Shawsnessy play-off with games on both Wednesdays and Sundays.

Stickey's motion was passed 4 to 3 with St. Paul, Loup City and Boelus voting against it, Ravenna, Shelton, Wood River and Ord voting for it. After the meeting Jim Gilbert, Ord club president, said he hadn't realized he was voting to tear down the by-laws and would cast his vote differently if he could do it over again.

Saturday the Loup City and St. Paul managers served notice on league officials, President Gene Leggett of Ord and Secretary Harold McDermott of St. Paul, that neither team would compete in league play-offs unless they were held in accordance with the original by-laws. Manager Stickey of Ravenna, told of this decision, said after consultation with Shelton that their teams would not compete in play-offs except under the by-laws as amended.

Sunday night Loup City beat St. Paul and Shelton beat Ravenna but neither was classified as a play-off game. According to Pete Wilson, his team will give St. Paul a return game and then dissolve for the season. Nothing further has been heard from Shelton and Ravenna by league officials.

The 1950 season broke up in somewhat this same manner and no official play-offs were ever held though Loup City, Shelton, Ansley and Ord went through the motions of holding an invitational tournament and later, after Ravenna's legal action was dismissed, the gate receipts were divided on a percentage basis. No such division can be made this year for the four teams involved are not turning in any receipts to the league secretary.

What the outcome of the present situation will be is hard to prophesy. A legal action of some kind might be filed by Ravenna or Shelton or the two teams together but it is unlikely. Certainly any league Ord joins next season will have by-laws that cannot be amended once the league gets under way.

House of Davids and Cuban Negroes Offer Fast Game

Game Will Be Played on Ord Field Next Tuesday, Sept. 11.

The Israelite House of David baseball team, sponsored by this club, and led by Mary Purnell, located at Benton Harbor, Mich., is again touring the nation for their 32nd year in travelling baseball, and will play in Ord on Sept. 11.

During that span of years, the Davids have played many times in every state in the U. S. A. and have toured all the provinces of Canada, Old Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands and played in Alaska this summer. This organization has done more for the good interests of baseball than any other travelling team.

The first House of David team was organized in 1914 by Francis Thorpe, now secretary of the Colony. However, it was not until 1919 that the Davids made any extensive road trips. During that year they accepted offers to play in the Polo Grounds in New York City and at Shibe Park in Philadelphia and with the exception of the war years from 1942 through 1945 and they had representative teams on the road every year since 1919.

George Anderson, the original "Pepper Game" artist is still with the team and will put on his famous act during the fifth inning. Anderson has been with the Davids since 1928. Several unauthorized House of David teams, both colored and white, have tried to copy the original club. However, no traveling team but the Israelites can hold a boast of averaging 160 games per year for 30 years with a winning average of .738.

Each year the Davids established a training camp in the south. This year the team trained at Benton Harbor, Mich., for the first time since 1932. Every year several youngsters ask for try-outs with the Davids. None are refused and as a rule from two to three David players sign contracts in the fall with some club in organized baseball. They do not hire any players not in good standing with organized baseball. They have never had a player under contract and yet have been able to hold players all season, in most cases. Every day a different town, strange faces and new wisecracks, are their daily diet and they love it. The Davids have always tried to maintain a strong and hustling ball club and as a result have built up a large following whenever they play. Total attendance figures for the past four seasons show the Davids played to over 745,000 paid admissions. The 1951 lineup is as follows:

Pitchers: No. 17, Al Kish; No. 12, Homer Garner; No. 22, Miles Carroll; No. 14, Bob Maul.

Batting order:
No. 10, Tom McLaughlin, short stop; No. 13, Tony Ellis, third base; No. 19, Bob Mitchell, first base; No. 16, Morley Cato, right field; No. 15, Mgr. Geo. Anderson, second base; No. 11, Jim Byrket, center field; No. 18, Bud Lovell, left field, and No. 21, Dick Olson, catcher.

In Ord the House of Davids will play the famous Cuban All-Stars. This well known traveling team made up of Spanish-speaking Cuban negroes has played all summer throughout the middle west and can be counted on to give the Davids a good go.

The game will be played on the Ord field at 8:30 p. m., Tuesday, Sept. 11.

Novosad Falters But Mustangs Go On to Win, 14 to 13

Boelus in Lead Twice But Heavy Ord Bats Blast Out Victory.

Bill Novosad, pitching for Ord against Boelus, led a six-run lead slip away with wildness and ineffective pitching Wednesday night at Loup City, but the heavy bats of the Ord Mustangs wouldn't be denied and Ord went on to win in football figures, 14 to 13.

A flip of the coin made Boelus the home team on a neutral field and in the top half of the first frame they proceeded to climb on Novosad for two runs. In their half of the same inning Ord kicked Harris for three hits, combining them with a walk, a hit batsman and an error to score four runs and take a 4-2 lead.

Novosad looked like himself in the second and retired Link, L. Jensen and Harris in order, two on strikeouts, and in the last half of that inning the Ord bats boomed again, four runs coming in on two walks, a single by Beasley and a standup double by Stan Johnson. This put the Mustangs out in front 8-2.

Everything looked rosy with a six run lead but Boelus scored one run in each of the third, fourth and fifth innings, and in the seventh put the skids under Novosad with a splurge that produced six runs and put them ahead 11-9. Ord having picked up a run in the fifth on an error and a line drive by Dick Bezan. Dilla was brought in with the bases loaded and the home run by Link that cleared the bases was made off his pitching.

At that point it looked like Boelus' ball game but the Mustangs had other ideas and in the eighth Koll and L. Novosad led off with hits, Moore walked and singles by Dilla and Dugan scored three runs, putting the locals ahead 14-11.

In the ninth with Beasley in the box G. Whitefoot singled and Link got his second circuit blow of the day to bring the score to 14-13. Andy Jensen popped up to Dugan for the final Boelus out, leaving Ord the winner and sending them into a second game against Shelton.

Farwell Slips Past Elba Team, 6 to 5

Farwell again came from behind to win their ball game Sunday when they slipped past Elba, 6-5 and clinched the second half in Sherman-Howard league play. The game went ten innings. Ashton overpowered North Loup, 10-1 for second spot in the league as the season closed on these games. Palmer took a 2-2 game away from Scotia to complete the Sunday play. The line scores:

Elba — 100 000 010 0-5-7-7, Batt. Spilnek and Pavlik.
Farwell — 000 000 014 1-0-5-3, Batt. Wysocki, V. Lukasiewicz and D. Lukasiewicz.
North Loup 000 010 000 1-0-4-1, Batt. Hutchins, White and Vail, Maxon.

Final team standings, second half:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Farwell	9	1	.900
Ashton	8	2	.800
Palmer	5	5	.500
North Loup	3	7	.300
Scotia	3	7	.300
Elba	2	8	.200

A two out of three series is scheduled to be played between Ashton, first half winner and Farwell, winner of the second half, with play probably starting Sunday; the place for the first game has not been selected.

Sack Lumber Co. in New Offices

The Sack Lumber company completed the transfer of their office equipment and files to their new building, which was erected on the site of their old office building. Quite a bit of interior work remains to be done in the new building, including shelving, display islands and other features. The firm plans a grand opening in October.

Art Lane has purchased the old Sack office and will move the structure to his yards in the southeast part of town. Part will be remodeled into a small residence and part will become an office for his scrap iron business.

CUBAN NEGRO ALL-STARS vs.
The Original Israelite
HOUSE OF DAVIDS
from Benton Harbor, Mich.

Here's the exhibition game of the year. Nobody will willingly miss it. The CUBAN ALL STARS, managed by Red Brummer, of Woodbine, Ia., have played all summer throughout the middle west and are known as a fast, hustling club which will give the DAVIDS a good go.

The Israelite House of Davids, managed by George Anderson, inventor of the famous "pepper game," needs no introduction here though they have not appeared in Ord since the late '20s.

In the past 10 years the House of Davids have traveled over 415,000 miles by bus, boat and airplane, playing an average of 225 games per year against the strongest they can find, and winning 3/4ths of them.

GAME STARTS 8:30 P. M.
Admission—Children, 50c; Adults, $1.00 (tax included)

Labor Day
The first Monday in September is officially recognized as Labor Day in all the states of the Union, the District of Columbia, Porto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska. Its celebration was first inaugurated by the Knights of Labor in New York in 1882, by staging a parade.

Colorado was the first state to make it a legal holiday in 1887. Quite apart from this day is the first of May, which has been observed in Europe by labor and radical elements as a day to stage demonstrations. The two must not be confused, since the first is approved by law, while the last is Communist in its nature.

Labor Day has become as much a part of our American way of life as the county and state fairs, which are the celebrations staged by and for the benefit of the farmer. Properly speaking, the day is one of rejoicing on the part of the laboring man for the benefits he is permitted to enjoy under our Democratic form of government.

Among the benefits may be mentioned improved conditions under which men now working in factories and mines; shorter hours; higher wages; sick leave and annual vacations; employer's liability insurance; workmen's compensation laws; social security. These and many others gained through the years have given Labor Day special significance.

Having gone about as far with labor legislation as economic conditions will permit, in recent years our law makers have been turning their attention to the farmer on the theory that unless the producer prospers, nobody else can prosper. In fact, about every phase of life in America is benefited with the exception of the small businessman, who still gets more of the penalties of the law than his benefits.

We have gone a long way since the day, now 70 years ago, when the American Federation of Labor was first organized, and we still have a long way to go. It is an axiom that no group in the nation can really prosper at the expense of another group. When our law makers get the laws formulated so they will please everybody, the millennium will be here.

Dollars and Sense
Because it is so hopelessly inadequate today, the following editorial, written for the Quiz just ten years ago, is reprinted here with in full:

Congress pledged this country to the expenditure of seven and one half billion dollars last spring to be used for aid for our allies for national defense. Now we are expected to pledge from six billions to ten billions for the same purpose. In the former figure the amount each person will owe is that amount is about 100 dollars, over and above all other expenses.

This is no time to quarrel over the expense. The first part has been spent already, and if it is to be made effective, the second part must be spent as well. We are definitely pledged to an aid to England program, and we all realize the necessity of an adequate defense. We may differ over what should be done, but we all agree that the expense must be met.

With this in mind, the question arises as to how this amount can be raised. It is the duty of law-makers today, and if they solve it, they will prove themselves to be the greatest financiers and statesmen the world has ever known. It is safe to assume that our present day congressmen are earning all the money they draw for their services.

In the past all efforts toward increased revenue have increased the toll exacted from the higher salaried groups, and exempted those who draw less. The result is that big business has added a little to the cost of their products and the little fellow pays most of the extra revenue when he buys the necessities of life.

The result is that the small income man actually pays the added tax but does not get any credit for it. If the small consumer pays an added five to ten percent for his goods, why not tax his income a smaller percent instead, raise the present laws to take part of the burden off the shoulders of big business and give credit to the little fellow, who is now paying it anyway, but gets no credit for it.

People have the popular notion that the so-called luxury taxes are paid by the big fellow. Actually, the far the greater part is paid by the low income group, who smoke the bulk of the cigarettes, drink the most of the beer and make up the greater part of the audiences at the picture shows and other entertainments.

It would not hurt a married man with a salary of $1,000 or more per year, or a single man with a salary of $750, to pay, say two percent of his gross salary in income tax. This would have the effect of putting millions of people to work doing their financial bit for Uncle Sam, and would not hurt any of them to a noticeable extent.

A two percent tax on a thousand dollars would be $20, or only about a nickel per day. An unskilled man wastes more than that every day and thinks nothing of it. If we put our shoulders to the wheel we can pay off ten billion, or even 20 billion, but to do so it is necessary to every person to have a part in it.

Except for the fact that the salaries under discussion would be doubled in the light of present conditions, what was true ten years ago is essentially true today. In fact, those very men are paying income tax at the present time, and will doubtless be required to pay even a heavier tax as the years go by.

But the thing that seems ridiculous is the fact that an editorial was written ten years ago about the expenditure of ten billion dollars. Only last week a summing up of all demands on the taxpayers put the amount they will be asked to pay in the coming year at nearly 100 billion dollars. Thus in ten years the amount the public is asked to pay has increased ten times the amount.

One hundred billion dollars is an inestimable amount and the average citizen has no definite conception of its meaning, but when it is reduced to individual figures it may be more comprehensible. Out of that vast amount each individual in the United States would be required to pay an average amount of $700, and this in addition to the usual taxes that we are all accustomed to pay.

It might be well for the individual taxpayer to ask himself just how he is going to raise such an amount above his former expenditures for this year, for next year, and for the years to come. This is the price we are asked to pay to keep this nation safe for Democracy, but all the while the big wigs in the government are going hellbent toward socialism.

There is a limit to the amount any individual or business can pay in the way of taxes and be able to continue that business as usual. The government may be able to operate at a loss through the years, but no individual can do that and continue long in business. It is time we had more business in our government and less government in our business. Ten years ago we were helping Britain in a "Help to England" program, and we thought we had our hands full with that and with the building up of our national defense. Today we are helping nearly every nation of Europe and Asia which has not been taken over by Communism. In a way we are helping the Communists. Some of the nations we are helping are helping them and we are footing the bills.

Ten years ago the dollar was worth 100 cents, while present estimates place it at from 35 cents to 40 cents. That may be part of the answer to why we have to pay out more money. The 100 billion we are asked to pay in 1951 does not buy any more than 40 billion dollars would have bought in 1941.

One of the big needs of today is not a good five cent cigar, but a good 100-cent dollar. Getting the dollar back in good repute again would do much to get us out of the mess politics got us in.

Ward's "Cookin' Column"

I met up with one of them not long since. He was one of those fellows who have heard about this fishing business, who think they know all about it, although they never had a line in the water before. They think that all you have to do is get up an outfit, fit, any outfit, go anywhere there is water, but up whatever comes handy and then pull the fish in as fast as they bite. He was a member of the group who have mistaken baptizing for fishing. There is a similarity between fishing and being baptized, and that is that one should be in the right frame of mind before he gets mixed up in either.

I had slipped down to the lake at Blaha's early because I had a hunch the bass might be in the biting mood. When I got there I found the above young man there ahead of me. He had that bane of all fly fishermen, a casting rod. He had a sinker on his hawser that would anchor a boat, and he had a float the size of a baseball. He had to use one that size or that sinker would have swamped it. He was fishing in about the best spot on the lake for the kind of bait he had—worms. He greeted me with a shout of glee and drew the attention of every fish in the lake. I thought him he was fishing in about the best place to be found, which was true, and to stay right there and fish.

Then I slipped off my shoes and socks—the water being high—and waded over to the spot where I thought the bass might be. I slipped quietly into place, keeping low down and well back from the bank, put my coat down, sat down on it, got a nice minnow on the hook and dropped the hook over into the water with scarcely a ripple. In just about no time the bobber started for Davy Jones' locker. Giving it what I thought was about the right amount of time, I gave a vigorous pull and had a nice bass hooked. I played him around to the best spot to pull him out and had him started over the bank, when he gave a flip and was gone.

That is something that can happen to any fisherman but what followed shouldn't happen to a dog. I remained seated and reached for another minnow, thinking that one was lost for the nonce, but there might be another. But my fishing was done for the morning. When he heard the noise, which wasn't much, that young man let out a yell, which was plenty loud. He asked me what it was. Not wanting to make a racket I motioned him to keep quiet, but he translated my gesture into an invitation to come over and help and over he came, splashing through the shallow water and making more noise than a carp on a spree.

He came rushing up to the bank on which I sat, jolting the ground at every step and walking, trotting, I mean, right along the edge of the bank where any fish with good sense could see him and be properly warned. He sat right down beside me, slammed his line into the water with power enough to make ripples clear across the pond. Then he stood up and leaped over the water, watching his bait, which was clearly visible, as though he expected to see the fish swim up and swallow it. Meanwhile he kept up a rapid fire conversation, ignoring the fact that I was gesturing to him to keep still.

I finally had to break silence long enough to explain that he couldn't expect to catch bass with all that disturbance, and I could have added, but didn't, that the bass would not bite on a worm, anyway. I finally got him toned down, and thought I might salvage a fish or two if I could only keep him that way. But just then it was my misfortune to tie into another bass, a smaller one this time, but still big enough to keep. That started him all over again. He had to examine the fish then and there and exclaim about its beauty and size. It looked very ordinary to me, and was only ten inches long. He threw his line into the exact spot where I had pulled the fish out, and I was compelled to try in a new place.

But he was not satisfied. He followed me, and in less than a minute he was fishing within a foot of where I was. I stood it as long as I very well could and then I blew up and told him off, something I should have told him in the first place. I told him the shore line of the lake was a mile or more in length and that there were hundreds of places just as good to fish as the place where I was fishing and that I would appreciate it if he would use every other spot. That helped a little but the damage was done and there were no more bass.

Every little while he would ask me what time it was and he let slip the fact that he had to go home at ten o'clock. The next time he asked me it was "ten o'clock"—really only half past nine—but he believed he, gathered up his outfit, which would have been an insult to a decent bull-head and went his way. Personally I hope he keeps going, or that he has learned a few things about fishing by the time I see him again. It's a free country, and even bum fishermen are protected by law, but if I should run into him again and found him as crazy as he was the first time I would be tempted to tap him on the head with a rock and drop him in for bait. At that, the fish would probably refuse to bite him.

It seems like it just isn't safe to leave home any more. When I left on Monday morning, Aug. 6, for Burwell, I knew I would be away from home most of the time for three weeks, and I was so busy getting ready to go on vacation that I didn't notice anything unusual going on. When I got home two weeks later and went up town, I hardly knew the place. Over south of the lumber yard where the boys had started to dig a hole when I left stood the North Loup Health center, pretty well on the way to completion.

Across the street north of the lumber yard Oilman Scott had bought the old Farmers Store building and was remodeling it into a place for servicing cars and keeping supplies. He had the boys cut about six feet off the front of the building, move the front back, put in two double drive-in doors, fix a place for a hoist. As this is written he is having the building reshingled, and plans to paint it and have some signs put on it. Meanwhile the new doctor, whom I have not met as yet, has arrived with his family and is located in North Loup. A lot of work is being done on the yards and streets in preparation for Pop Corn Days, the more so because this year is the Golden Jubilee.

It reminds me of the traveling man who used to drop into Oklahoma City every six weeks at the time when that town was really on the boom. He got on the train one night late and went directly to his room in the hotel. The next morning he got up and came down to the office. He stood at the desk talking to the clerk and looking out of the window. Presently he said: "Say, I don't recall seeing that four story brick building over there across the street when I was here six weeks ago." "That is easy to understand," said the clerk, "it wasn't there six weeks ago." Believe it or not, the story is absolutely true.

Then there is the one about the lady who got to worrying about an old neighbor whom she had not seen about the place for a day or two. Thinking she might be sick she said to her small daughter: "Mary, will you please run over and see how old Mrs. Jones is this morning." Away went Mary and pretty soon she came back with this answer: "Mrs. Jones says it's none of your business how old she is this morning."

And, if it will make you any happier, I will soon be 69.

Something Different

Ord is having a building spurt the past two years that it should have had 20 years ago. The town looks better every day. And still every apartment, every cranny, is rented, though our population figures didn't rise. Now how do you explain that, Watson?

While Richard Heuck, Charles Munn and Jim Misko were working in Wyoming this summer, they decided to spend their spare time raising beards, and returned from roughing it with suitably dark whiskery tabs on cheeks and chins. The eyes of their young Ord friends really popped.

Asked how they were getting along with their little goatees after reaching Ord, they declared they had trouble with only one young lady, so far. All the others at last had admitted the whiskers were a fetching facial feature.

These summer resort countries really have the system down pat. Not only the guides, but the fish too.

The fish don't bite: you go home. Almost as you walk in the door, back home once more, you start getting mail about "The fish are biting like crazy." How do they do it? How do those fish know, the minute we leave the country? How come they know it's safe to come out of hiding and start accepting lures again?

How come they don't bite like crazy while we're around? Too dangerous for the fish, no doubt.

Ord is singularly busy with fraternal activities this summer. Al Blessing is president of Alpha Tau Omega, and the rush chairman of that group, Douglas Dale, also works out of Ord, his home town.

Bill Anderson heads the Sigma Phi Epsilon group for the coming year. An N. R. O. T. C. student, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson. Then Tom Tolen and Kirk Lewis have been busy inspecting possible recruits for the Delta Upsilon fraternity, of which Kirk is rush chairman.

Ord has really buzzed, more than in years, as the boys took trips over the state, wrote glowing letters and pumped youthful paws of prospective padding material.

My aunt used to say, if you keep anything long enough, it will come back into style! I remember her saying that about a pretty dark green cape which had two extra tiers around the shoulders, very tailored, very attractive. Laid away in a trunk for many years, it fascinated me each time it was aired.

Sure enough, it is back in style, if I had it now. So are plaids, and isn't it fun to see them on the children, even on the men and the young fellows. Men are rapidly getting over that drab look I have so long minded in their clothing. Each year their garb is getting brighter, and I'm glad.

I like the joyous Hawaiian shirts, the gay swimming trunks, the bright neckties, the sport jackets in off-colors, the wild hat garb you wear. You can see them coming!

Don't you think bright on children serve a definite purpose? I do. The youngest visible a good way off. Visible to car drivers, a fine item.

And easily visible to peering over the landscape how little Johnny or little doing. And what. —In

Lee - Miller

Mrs. Gretha Lee of Fairchild, Ia., was united in marriage to Harvey A. Miller of Scotia Sunday afternoon in the Evangelical United Brethren church at Scotia.

Rev. Walter H. Lenz performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p. m. before a back ground of gladiolus, garden flowers, candelabra and a lighted cross. The bride was dressed in a teal blue gabardine suit with a head band of rose color and carried a white Bible topped with a removable corsage of rose buds and stephanotis that lay in a bed of white lace.

Her only attendant was the matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Hermesmeyer who wore a gray suit with a head band of pink and wore corsage of pink carnations and stephanotis.

Larry Hermesmeyer acted as ring bearer.

Jesse Meyer of Scotia sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Irvin Hermesmeyer who also played the wedding music. Misses Laura-dell Sautter and Marilyn Lenz lighted the candles. Marietta Bredthauer and Laura-dell Sautter had charge of the gift table while Marilyn Lenz took care of the guest book.

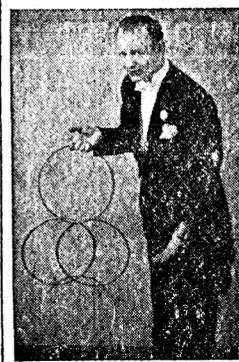

Mrs. Floyd Vance baked and decorated the three tiered wedding cake that was cut and served by Mrs. Lou Sautter from a table decorated with blue and pink streamers and garden flowers.

Mrs. W. H. Lenz, Ella Hermesmeyer and Mrs. Herman Bredthauer, Jr., assisted with serving the 75 guests who assembled in the church parlors following the ceremony.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Iowa and Kansas after which they will make their home at Hastings where Mrs. Miller worked as a nurse and the groom is employed at the navy depot. They will live at 405 S. St. Joe.

Out of town folks coming for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Al Rudolph of Archer and Mrs. Glen Yost of Central City.

VERNON'S Homespun

Everybody loves a pretty plaid, and Vernon's HOMESPUN is just that... warm, striking colors in a modern design. Diffused stripes of deep green, rust, and sunny yellow blend in a light ivory background. The colors are hand-painted under the glass for permanent beauty. HOMESPUN, a happy choice for any home... guaranteed Vernicare quality, with a long lasting glaze, guaranteed not to craze or crackle.

Fall Time... is Table Setting Time

You know, some people will go on year after year with chipped cracked, or old dishes, sometimes because they think it will cost too much to start a new set. We'd like to dispel that rumor right now. On the left you see a sample of one of the fine dinnerwares we have in our china department. Vernon's Homespun. Starter sets are really a bargain — you save dollars buying this way. For just $9.95 you get four dinner plates, four bread and butter plates, and four cups and saucers.

Our Paden Pottery offers you even more for less money! For only $4.95 a starter set of 20 pieces may be had. In four rich, modern colors, chartreuse, dell green, burgundy, and morning mist — it's stunning!

Come In... and see our latest find in modern, informal glassware. They're called Duet-Tumblers, because each size, as illustrated at your right, has a dual purpose. The Ice-Tea or Highball, Water or Scotch & Soda, Sherbet or Old-Fashioned, same fine Fostoria hand-blown quality... beautiful, colorful and correct. See them soon.

Board of Public Works

Aug. 27, 1951, Ord, Nebraska. The Board of Public Works met this 27th day of August, 1951, at 1 p. m. in the City Hall. Present: E. L. Vogeltanz, chairman, E. R. Fafeta and E. S. Murray, Absent: None. Geo. H. Allen, Supt., also present.
Mr. O. R. Greenfield, special agent for Springfield Fire & Marine Insurance Co., Box 739, Hastings, Neb., met with the Board to work out an equitable adjustment of insurance on the City Power plant. The power plant having been recently inspected by the Nebraska Inspection Bureau for the purpose of making new and proper rates. As a result of the improvements made in removing fire hazards, the fire rate has been reduced to approximately one-third of the former rate. Considering the reduction in rate, it is now possible to increase the insurance to full coverage at a cost of approximately 60 percent of the former cost.
After due consideration, it was moved, seconded and carried, that all old policies of insurance covering the power plant be cancelled, and new policies be issued at the new rates, covering the hazards of fire and extended coverage, with 80 percent co-insurance, on the "Budget Plan," being five new policies, one expiring each year, as of September 1, 1951, in amounts of $125,000 on power plant buildings, $340,000 on contents of power plant buildings, and $15,000 on water cooling tower, and that an annual policy be issued on the frame storage buildings and contents, covering fire and extended coverage in amount of $500 on building and $1500 on contents.
It was moved, seconded and carried, that the City Clerk be authorized and instructed to prepare claim and warrant No. 7 in amount of $4,717.50, on the Bond Account Fund, payable to the County Treasurer, Valley County, Nebraska, in payment of interest due September 1, 1951, on the Electric System Bonds.
Matter of repair needed to water cooling tower discussed.
On motion, meeting adjourned.
E. S. MURRAY,
Secretary.

When You and I Were Young

Ten Years Ago
Rhoda Nettzel, Edgar S. Farley and Lorraine Borg were new teachers on the Ord teaching staff. — Full speed ahead was ordered on plans for a Valley County Free fair. — A friendly suit was filed by the city of Ord against the irrigation district over the provisions of an electric contract. — Funeral services were held in Ord for Frank Zabloudni, 70, resident of Valley county for nearly 60 years. — The Ord high school band was invited to play at the Nebraska State fair Sept. 1st, and school opening was postponed one day. — The farmers were being advised to cut their corn for ensilage, as it did not make much corn in any case. — The Burwell canery, employing 22 people, had opened and was canning tomatoes. — Miss Clara McClatchey announced that there was a shortage of teachers in Valley county and that six schools were still without teachers. — Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Valla both became ill after drinking milk which contained ergot poisoning. Seven cattle in their herd had died and others were ill.

Fifty Five Years Ago
John Wentworth began moving the Calamus schoolhouse a mile west across Bean creek. A change in the boundaries of the district made the change necessary. — Lake Ericson was becoming quite a famous resort, with quite a number of parties driving over by team, of course—to enjoy the fishing and camping there. — Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gass and Mr. and Mrs. Kit Carson were one group that went to Ericson for an outing. — A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Watson at Port Lavaca, Texas, where they were at the time. Wonder if that could have been Forrest? — George Eret of Milligan, Nebr., came to Ord and played baritone with the boys of the Ord band. He was also a barber by trade, and later located in Ord. — Frank G. Stevens of Crete, son of the Crete nursery man, was in Ord soliciting orders for fruit trees, and he had appointed Vincent Kokes as local representative. — Mazingo was the local sign painter and he painted signs for Drs. Cramer and Billings and Dentist McCrosson. — The Jim Rathbun home in Springdale was struck by lightning and considerable damage resulted.

Twenty Years Ago
While Joe Lola was attending Nebraska's Big Rodeo at Burwell, thieves broke into his garage and stole about three hundred dollars worth of tools. — A large number of top notch racers had entered in the Valley County races and Clyde Baker, superintendent, believed that a new national track record was possible. — Cosner, Sargent Ford dealer, beat Glen Auble one up and became medalist in Ord's invitational golf tournament. — John Miller of Los Angeles offered Officers Covert and Parade a drink of beer and drew a jail sentence of 30 days. — Mrs. Ign. Nevriy was quite badly bruised when attacked by a bull, but saved herself from serious injury by rolling into a ditch. Chicken thieves had been working in the country, James Cook losing 40 and George Kirby losing 150. — The North Loup Red Birds won the championship of Valley county by defeating Arcadia in the final game by a score of 12 to 6. — Edwin Blaha, son of J. Blaha, broke both bones in his right fore arm when he dived into the river and hit a sandbar.

Thirty Years Ago
Elmer Duryea pitched a no-hit baseball game for Scotia against Ord, but did not score a shutout, as the score was 8 to 1. — Miss Hazel Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Garrison, became the bride of Elmer Dahlin, Judge H. Gudmundsen performing the ceremony. — Frank Iron and F. J. L. Benda were carrying a full page ad in the Quiz, telling about their big sale. — Mr. Swanson, who ran the Rosevale store, found thieves had broken in and stolen a quantity of goods. Sheriff George Round had phoned to Albion for the blood hounds and there was considerable optimism about catching the thieves. — Merrill Hughes sold his garage business to E. W. Gruber, as he was in poor health and had to go to the hospital for a long time. He died a short time later. Three hundred people gathered at the M. B. Cummins place on Davis Creek and enjoyed a community picnic. — The tax levies were announced as follows: state, 3.3 mills, county, 4.5 mills, Ord city, 10 mills, North Loup village, 15 mills, Arcadia village, 5 mills.

Forty Years Ago
Candidates were named at the primary election as follows: The first named for each office is the Republican candidate: sheriff, Sutton, Moses; clerk, Klima, Murschel; treasurer, Palst, Finkins; clerk district court, Max Westover; Bright; judge, Gudmundsen, R. C. Moore; superintendent, Eva Shuman, Belle Thorgate. The Populists nominated the same men for office as the Democrats with the single exception of county judge, which was won by E. J. Babcock. — William Ramsey of Ord spent several days at Wolbach visiting in the Lowe home. Wonder why? — Invitations were out for the marriage of Miss Alice Hather and Guy W. Strong, which was to take place at the W. J. Hather home Aug. 24. — baseball tournament was to be held at Loup City Aug. 22, 23 and 24. Teams playing were Ord, Sargent, Arcadia, Ravenna, Ashton, Rockville and Loup City. — The Dickinson Seed company, through its manager, F. J. Vopat, gave a banquet to the Ord firemen at Odd Fellows hall in appreciation of the good work the men did in saving the seed house when the Shaaf elevator was burned.

Fifty Years Ago
The Burlington had a crew of surveyors running a survey, a few miles above Burwell, with the intention of extending their line either up the Calamus or up the North Loup. They did not do either, and recent developments have proved the wisdom of the move. — H. G. Westberg was having a serious time with his hand. First he had trouble with poison oak and then blood poison developed. It was feared for a time that he might have to have fingers amputated. — Game Warden Bud Shirley found a gill net in use in Dane Creek and finally destroyed it after waiting in vain for the owned to put in an appearance. — Perry Bell, who wasn't very big then, got his fingers broken on a board and a tree while the little folks were riding on a hayrack to a picnic, and it was thought at first he might lose some of them. Better count them Perry, and see if they are all there. — Speaking of the new brick walks laid to the court house, the Quiz thought they ought to last until some future generation decided to put in marble. The brick went out with the coming of the new courthouse and the cement sidewalks laid then were recently repaired. — Mrs. John Kokes of Plain Valley was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning that hit the windmill during a thunderstorm.

Sixty Five Years Ago
The first regular train ever to visit Ord came in over the Omaha and Republican Valley railroad on Aug. 18. To clear up any misunderstanding, it later became known as the Union Pacific. — The partnership in the millinery business existing between Mrs. L. J. Wolf and Miss Dee C. Williams was dissolved by mutual consent, Mrs. Wolf taking over the business and Miss Williams, who was a sister of Mrs. Peter Mortensen, being married to Edward H. Knapp. It was an elaborate affair and was largely attended. — The board of county commissioners rejected a petition to have the county records examined. A short time later it was found that the county treasurer was so far behind in his accounts that the county had to take over his farm to settle the deficiency.

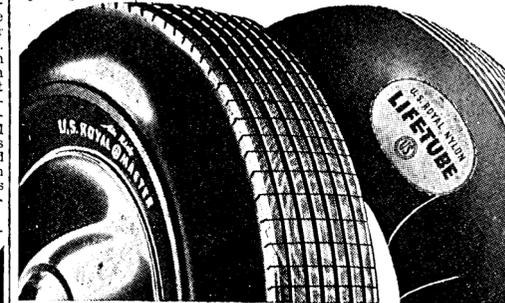

Gen. Miltonberger Gets 3 Big Walleyes
LINCOLN—A sensational catch of walleyes by General Butler Miltonberger of North Platte highlighted improved fishing conditions throughout the state during recent days. General Miltonberger, fishing in Maloney lake, landed three ponderous walleyes, the largest of which weighed 11-pounds, 1 ounce. The big walleye is only four ounces under the state record set this year.

In addition to the 11-pound, 1 ounce, Miltonberger caught two other walleyes—one a 9-pounder and the other a 6-pounder—and a 22-pound blue cat. Conservation officer, Dick Wolkow, reported fishing reaching from fair to good in Douglas, Washington and Butte counties. The better waters in Wolkow's district were the Elkhorn river (catfish, carp); Platte river (catfish, carp); and Carter lake at Omaha (bullheads, northern pike and catfish). Wolkow commented that good catches of catfish were being taken from both the Platte and Elkhorn rivers.

Fishing was reported fair in Logan, Lincoln, McPherson, Custer, Buffalo, Dawson, Cedar, Dakota, Dixon, Thurston, Dodge, Colfax, Saunders, Butler, Cherry and Sheridan counties. Some of the more productive waters were the Maloney lake (catfish, good); Sutherland reservoir (catfish, good); Kencaw pits (bass, good); and Box Butte reservoir (carp, good). H. B. Guyer, conservation officer of South Custer and all of Buffalo and Dawson counties, informed the Game Commission office that walleye fishing was improving some in the Tri-county system.

Anglers were reported taking their catches on the following baits: catfish (chicken blood, sand, loads, minnows, shrimp); bullheads (worms); northern pike (red and white spoons, minnows); crappie (minnows); and bass (crawdads and plugs).

3 Fast Exhibition Games Will Close Baseball Season in Ord

Foulk and Johnson to Be Welcomed in Big Game Sunday

Broken Bow Bringing Staab Sept. 19; Iowa Team Comes 23rd.

For another ten days at least baseball will share the sports spotlight with football in Ord, with the Ord Baseball club announcing Wednesday the booking of three fast exhibition games to be played Sept. 16, Sept. 19 and Sept. 23, the latter being a daytime game.

Leon Foulk, Western League pitcher, and Daniel Johnson, Texas league catcher, will be honored Sunday at a "Welcome Home" day in which they will form a battery for the Ord Mustangs in a game against the Loup City Red Wings, with Dale Krueger pitching.

Both players got their start with Ord Junior Legion teams about 1939 or 1940 when Verne Russell was in charge. Now both have made good in professional baseball and are slated to go higher.

Foulk has been one of the most effective hurlers on the Des Moines staff this year, winning 17 and losing 9 for a team that finished fifth in the league. He pitched the only no-hit-no-run game in the Western this season and at one time had 27 consecutive innings of scoreless ball to his credit.

Daniel Johnson, son of Glenn Johnson, the famous Scotia outfielder of former years and brother of Rollie Johnson, Ord manager, caught 71 games for San Antonio of the Class AA Texas league, batting .313 and being chosen "Kookie of the Year" in that league.

Johnson is owned by the St. Louis Browns and no doubt will be in harness for that club next season.

Bill Beasley, who pitched for Ord this year, is coming from Little Rock, Ia., to play third base for the Mustangs Sunday, and his big bat should help things along.

With a big league battery and an all-star line-up such as Ord will put on the first game would be reasonable to think the Mustangs should have little trouble with Loup City but the Red Wings are conceding nothing. Offered a flat

Teacher's Meeting Called Sept. 15th

A rural teachers institute is called for Sat., Sept. 15 at 9:30 o'clock in the district court room on the second floor. Some entertaining as well as instructive material will be presented by visiting speakers. This meeting will be followed by another during the second semester. All teachers are required to be present.

Off-Campus Course in Art Offered

Another off-campus course in art is scheduled to begin in the class room in the county superintendent's office on Sat., Sept. 22 at 9:00 o'clock. This course, under the direction of Miss Von Barger, who has conducted art classes here before, states that several new ideas have been added to the program. The course is designated as Art 210c; 220c; 300c.

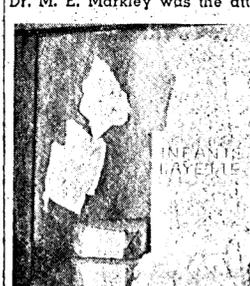

150th Baby Born at Ord Hospital

Bored with the whole affair is Gordon Rae Desel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Desel of North Loup, who was the 150th child to be born at the Ord Cooperative hospital. Dr. F. A. Barta brought the 7 pound youngster into the world at 10:35 P.M., Wednesday, September 5.

Runner-up in the Ord Cooperative Hospital is No. 151, the 9 pound son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Masin. He was born at 2:35 A.M., September 6, four hours after the prize winner. Dr. M. E. Markley was the attending physician.

Here's the layette given to the 150th baby by the J. C. Penney Co. of Ord. Other Ord stores have made reservations to furnish Baby No. 200 and 250 with similar layettes.

Ord Chanticleers Unknown Quantity as Season Opens

Moore Must Build New Team; Holdrege Coming Friday Night.

The Ord Chanticleers, under the direction of coaches Rolland Moore and Bill Cogan, will open the 1951 local football season by meeting the Holdrege Dusters on the home field, Friday evening, September 14 at 8 o'clock.

The Chants have been working hard the past three weeks in preparation for the opening game. The Ord squad will be light and inexperienced, having only two regulars, Duane Wolfe, quarterback and Paul Penas, end, returning. With Wolfe and Penas, the squad has twelve lettermen upon which to pin this year's hopes.

Little is known of the Holdrege team last year's top class B gridiron aggregation, except that there are only three returning lettermen to build the team around. The Holdrege Dusters are coached by Jess Keifer and Cliff Bosley.

Nelson Infant Lives 12 Hours

A son, Larry Leslie, born to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Nelson, Sept. 10, lived only 12 hours. Dr. H. N. Norris was in attendance.

Gravestone services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in charge of the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary. Besides his parents, the infant is survived by a sister, Joyce Ann, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Nelson of Ord and a grandmother, Mrs. Mary Krause, of Alliance.

Mrs. Grace Kron Faces New Charge: Assault & Battery

North Loup Woman Fined $100 Last Week for Misdemeanor.

Five days after she was fined $100 and costs in county court for malicious destruction of property, Mrs. Alvin (Grace) Kron of North Loup was served with a warrant charging assault and battery.

The warrant, served Wednesday by County Sheriff Bob Hall, charges that Mrs. Kron attacked Mrs. Bessie King-Smith of North Loup. The incident took place Tuesday afternoon on a county road near the two women's farm homes in the Davis Creek neighborhood.

Last week end Mrs. Kron was found guilty of the property destruction charge and fined $100 and costs of $15 by county judge Ellsworth Ball. The hearing in county court brought out that Mrs. Kron had damaged the King-Smith car by scratching the paint, and pouring gravel in the gas tank, and that she had entered the King-Smith house and performed other acts of destruction. Restitution of property damage was made.

According to County Attorney Ralph Norman, the two cases developed out of a neighborhood spat and ill feeling between the Kron and King-Smith families. Mrs. King-Smith was divorced from her husband, Max, several months ago, one of the events leading up to the court actions this week.

Opening Day Pop Corn Fete Well Attended

Free Distribution Starts Day Early, Due to Large Crowd.

A much larger crowd than usual on the first day of Pop Corn Days, was present Tuesday and contrary to custom, free popcorn was given out. Joe Veleba and Paul Madsen worked most of Monday night to have the sacks of corn ready and were at it again Tuesday night to be ready for the expected crowd Wednesday. Mr. Veleba is a veteran Pop Corn committee member, having served for 14 years and most of those years he has presided at the popcorn.

Agriculture exhibits were coming in, a large variety of corn in the exhibit but of course it was far from ripe.

Ladies fine arts will have a large exhibit again this year. Mrs. Iga Pokraka is in charge of this department and has a large number of helpers.

Windows in the business houses are all decorated in keeping with the celebration. In Vodehnal's pharmacy window a collection of former Pop Corn Days pictures from Floyd Wetzel's collection draw constant attention. Several other windows have a collection of old time pictures. The Farmers Store has a display of clothes, most of them more than 50 years old.

The Thomas Carnival company has their usual variety of rides and concessions.

The ladies of both the Methodist and Seventh Day Baptist churches have eating stands near the community building.

Many former North Loup people were on the street. Among the latest arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. Ford Eyerly of Algonquin, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Byrd, Dodge Center, Minn.; Mrs. Pearl Weid, Alliance, Neb.; Ernie Weed, Green River, Wyo. Mr. and Mrs. Elnor Hurley, Mrs. Geneva Green and Mrs. Kathrine Anderson of San Diego, Calif., are expected.

Highlight of the program Wednesday evening will be the crowning of the 1951 queen, identity unknown. In the ceremony will be many queens of former years.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ruzicka and Mrs. Rosie Houska and daughter were Sunday dinner guests of Frank Ruzicka, sr.

BPW Announces New Committees for Coming Year

Twenty nine were present at the meeting including four guests, Mrs. Don Avers, Mrs. Len Cronk, Miss Mary Jane Olson and Mrs. Nora Bundy, of Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Ellis Carson and Mrs. Ross Allen were hostesses for the evening. The Ruth Circle of the Presbyterian church served the dinner.

Marion Jensen, 37, Dies Wednesday of Crash Injuries

North Loup Farmer Is Buried in Scotia Cemetery.

A large number of friends and relatives paid tribute to the late Marion Jensen, whose death came Wednesday night as the result of the traffic accident that occurred the day before on the detour between North Loup and Scotia.

Services were held at 1:30 Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Sautter and at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church in Scotia, with Rev. Merle Jones in charge, assisted by Rev. Walter Grandham.

Mrs. Irvin Hermesmeyer accompanied Marilyn Lenz, Mrs. Delores Babcock, Andy Peterson and Jess Meyer who sang, "Some Time We'll Understand," "Rock of Ages" and "No Night There."

Five Leave Tuesday for Induction

Five Valley county boys left for Omaha Tuesday morning for induction in the armed forces. They were Wilfred Cook, Ord; Robert Kokes, North Loup; Kenneth Fuss, Ord; Louis Florian, Ord; Edward Lyle Sevensen, Ord, and Gerald Larkin, North Loup. Paul Lauren, also of Valley county, was in this call and left a month ago from Eugene, Ore.

Three Hosh Brood Sows Have 43 Piggies

Scotia — (Special) — Three brood sows owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hosh, sr., of this village, gave birth last week to 43 piggies, all of which are alive and taking nourishment rapidly.

First brood sow had 12 pigs, the second 14 pigs and the last 17 pigs.

Can any farmer in this section match the Hosh farm's record, with three brood sows?

Ord F.F.A. Team Wins Pop Corn Days Hog Trophy

Left to right are C. W. Sanders, Voc. Ag Teacher of North Loup school and judging contest manager; Edwin Penas, holding Pop Corn Days trophy; James Novak, holding Allied Mills trophy, and Jess Kovanda, Ord Vocational Agriculture teacher. Russell Clement, highest scorer on the Ord team, is not shown. He had hurried back to Ord so as not to miss a chemistry class.

Ord's F.F.A. Livestock Judging team made a clean sweep of the three trophies offered at North Loup's Pop Corn Days annual animal husbandry judging competition.

Included in the awards were the American Berkshire Breeders trophy, the Allied Mills trophy, and a cup presented by the Pop Corn Days committee.

Ord's individual blue ribbon winner and high scorer for the local group was Russell Clement. His team mates were Jim Svoboda, Eugene Novak, and Edwin Penas. Other ribbon winners for Ord included Gerald Kapustka, Richard Aldrich, Daniel Klimek, and Jim Svoboda.

High schools entering in the competition besides Ord were St. Paul, Scotia, Loup City, and Fullerton.

62 Head Swine in Pop Corn Days Contest

Veterans Classes, F.F.A. Groups in Swine Judging Meet.

Sixty-two head of swine were entered in the Swine Show, which was one feature of the first day of Pop Corn Days. A large tent east of the Scott Oil Company held the hogs.

A total of 410 who are taking veterans training and 110 F.F.A. boys took part in the judging. Veterans winning in the judging were Harold Swanson, Scotia; Lyle McDonald, Scotia; Dennis Hansen, Scotia; Floyd Thompson, Scotia; Marlin Engleman, St. Paul; Gene Bonsall, Scotia; Dean Gross, North Loup; Joe Single, Arcadia; Clifford Moody, Scotia; Leon Wiley, Scotia; Ed Huffman, North Loup; Claude Evans, Arcadia; Lad Kvetensky, North Loup; Floyd Augustine, Scotia; Alvin Smith, Greeley; Robert Moore, Greeley; Kenneth Jorgensen, Loup City; and Dillard Hunt, Arcadia.

Among F.F.A. teams Ord was first with 3,125 points. Scotia was second with 2845; St. Paul third with 2795 and Loup City fourth with 2683.

The Berkshire team trophy went to Ord. Scotia was second. In the high school club Dale Novak, George Wanetschle and Ross Clement won blue ribbons. Gerald Kapustka, Ord; Rodney Sperling, Scotia and Richard Aldrich, Ord, won red ribbons and Daniel Klimek, Ord, Kerten Barnes, Ord, Greg Stillman, Scotia and Jim Svoboda, Ord, won white ribbons. Harvey Drets, of Gibbon, was judge.

On the afternoon K. C. Fouts specialist from the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture, spoke.

Winners with their hogs included Junior gilts, 1st, 2nd and 3rd, Fred Meyer, St. Paul; 4th, Leo Burton, Scotia. Senior Sows, John McDermott, 1st, Gene Larkin, 2nd, and Dale Larkin 3rd. Senior Boar pig, Fred Meyer, 1st, 2nd and 3rd and North Loup F.F.A. 4th. Junior Boar pig, Leo Burton, 1st and champion, Meycis 2nd.

Berkshire Sr. Sow pig, 1st and champion, Chas. Lundstedt, North Loup. 2nd, Gary Cox, 3rd, Arnon McDermott.

Spotted Poland China, Junior Gilt, Vernon, 1st, 2nd and 3rd and champion.

Berkshire Boars, North Loup F.F.A. 1st, 2nd and champion.

Driver's License Issuance Slow

Only 1,463 new driver's licenses had been issued as the Quiz went to press today, an average of about 150 per day since the new permits became available.

According to County Treasurer Lloyd Wilson, 4,000 permits were issued in the past two years, starting with September 1, 1949 when present permits became valid. He estimates that around 3,500 will be issued by the county within the next two months.

Howard Roe Sells Farm for $10,000

Howard Roe, former owner and publisher of the Register, has sold his quarter section farm at the west edge of Ord to the Leon Wozniak, who reside near Arcadia. They will get possession March 1, 1952. Floyd Vavra has been the tenant on the place since Howard bought it 10 years ago. The consideration was $10,000.00.—Scotia Register.

1.62 Inches of Rain Fell Tuesday Eve; Frost Is Feared

Much Damage Done to Freshly Plowed Fields by Quick Downpour.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were beautiful days in Ord, reminiscent of Indian summer, and after several weeks of chilly weather the mercury rose to 82 Tuesday afternoon was welcome.

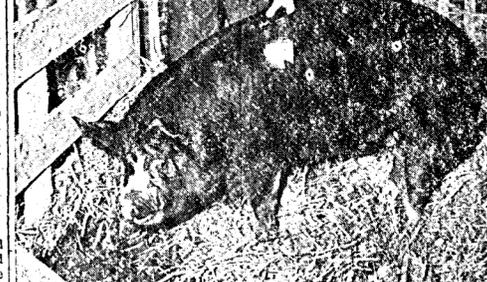

A mass of cold air carried by a brisk northeast wind brought a sudden change Tuesday evening, however, and 1.62 inches of rain fell between 8:30 and about 9:30.

Some damage was done to freshly plowed fields throughout the Ord territory. The House of Davids-Cuban All-Stars ball game in Ord was rained out at the end of two innings and several hundred baseball fans had a hard time pulling their cars out of the suddenly mire-y field.

Clearing skies tonight (Wednesday) will bring frost to some parts of Nebraska, according to forecasts, but Valley county should be safe since noon-time temperature Wednesday was 56 degrees and that is a long way from the freezing point.

Valley county's big corn crop is maturing satisfactorily but frost will have to hold off until about October 1st if a full crop is to be assured. Every day without frost now increases the prospective yield.

Rainfall total to date this year is now 24.30, about 1 1/2 inches ahead of the same date in 1950, reports Horace Travis. Lowest temperature recorded in the past week was 45, highest was 82, his records show.

Foulk and Johnson to Be Welcomed in Big Game Sunday

Broken Bow Bringing Staab Sept. 19; Iowa Team Comes 23rd.

The Red Wings, after winning the Mid-Nebr. Night League pennant with ease, beat St. Paul two straight games and refused to play Shelton, who beat Ravenna 4 to 2 and 2 to 0, in the other bracket of the supposed-to-be playoffs because of post-season amendments to the league by-laws engineered by Ravenna and Shelton. Pete Wilson has Johnny Hendry back at third base, which lets him play Jack Cady at shortstop, and has the stylish Bernie Babbitt of Kearney at 2nd base. Add the hard hitting Krolkowskis, the league's best catcher, Billesbach, and veteran left-hand pitcher Dale Krueger and you have a team hard for anyone to beat. Virtually this same team beat the regular Mustangs 3 out of 4 during the season.

This game will start at 8:00 p.m., Sunday, a half hour earlier than usual starting time. A tremendous crowd is expected to attend to welcome Leon Foulk and Darrel Johnson home and to see a great baseball game. Net receipts of the game will go into an "Appreciation Fund" for local players who performed all season without any compensation, as will net receipts from other exhibition games scheduled.

These include a go against the Broken Bow Indians on the Ord field next Wednesday night and the Indians will have as their pitcher the popular Eddie Staab, who is home from a successful debut with Duluth of the northern baseball league. A pitching duel between Staab and Foulk will be something worth seeing.

Another fine attraction will come Sunday, Sept. 23, at 3:00 p.m. when the Ord Mustangs will have Bill Beasley as hurler against Ord. The Iowa State League is semi-pro but rates with Class B pro baseball and after close of the season a group of stars from Carroll, Denison, Storm Lake and other western Iowa teams formed a barnstorming group. Beasley, who now coaches in that territory, hooked up with them as a pitcher and the Ord management feels fortunate in booking such a fine attraction for Ord fans.

R. Smith, 15, Faces Charges of Theft

Richard Smith, 15, son of Mrs. Thompson, transient help at Peterson potato cellar, formerly of Gibbon, is being held prisoner in the Garfield county jail, awaiting hearing in the district court.

Young Smith stole the Roy Nightingale car from the downtown section of Burwell, Friday night of last week, and was located in Ord Saturday morning by Elmer Brockman of Burwell, who recognized the car and license number. Mr. Brockman seized the keys and the lad ran, and with the help of Patrolman Zapp, was later found at the fair ground.

Smith was brought to Burwell, where he appeared before County Judge Moss, admitted taking the Nightingale car and the Dave Sartain car some two weeks ago. During the hearing, Al Larsen appeared and inquired as to the loss of a diamond ring, Elgin watch, and other articles from his home. The boy admitted being in the Larsen home, and the watch, ball point pen and cigarette lighter were found on his person. He also admitted hiding the diamond ring in the bed in the jail in Ord while he was waiting to be transferred to Burwell. (The ring was found by the sheriff in Ord and returned to the Larsens.)

Smith was bound over to the district court by County Judge E. W. Moss, and held in the county jail without bond until he can be heard by the district judge. —Burwell Tribune.

Ord Chanticleers Unknown Quantity as Season Opens

Moore Must Build New Team; Holdrege Coming Friday Night.

Other lettermen include linemen Arvin Bredthauer, LeRoy Iwanicki, Rodney Nelson, Hallen Mason, Erlend Laursen, and Floyd Wozniak. Jr. Backs include LeRoy Adams, Leland Crosley, Robert Gorka, and Verl Nelson.

Much other promising material is working out nightly, one of the best backs now in sight being big Walter Sowers, a former Ord boy who transferred back from a California school.

Also listed by Coach Moore as promising are the following:

- Keith Robinson, Sr., Line; Gene Van Winkle, Soph., Line; Fred Kwiatkowski, Soph., Line; Herman Kapustka, Sr., Back; Lyle Gilroy, Soph., Line; Gall Benson, Jr., Line; Pat Melia, Jr., Line; Dean Achen, Jr., Line; Vernon Ptacnik, Sr., Line; George Lange, Jr., Line; Jim Douthit, Soph., Line; Velmer Fuxa, Sr., Line; Leonard Huribert, Jr., Back; Marilyn Peterson, Soph., Back; Ronald Sobon, Soph., Back; Marvin Wolf, Soph., Back; Robert Kovarik, Jr., Line; Harold Dubas, Soph., Back; Jim Slobaszewski, Soph., Line; Jon Chippis, Jr., Line; Harry Dubas, Sr., Line; Donald Hauke, Jr., Line; Daniel Klimek, Jr., Line.

The Holdrege Dusters are said to have lost heavily by graduation but have a bigger squad to work with than do the Ord coaches and are counted on to show up as usual with a heavy, well-coached team.

Ord has a heavy schedule this season with games against Lexington, Ogallala, Albion, Broken Bow, Loup City, Ravenna, Goshburg and Columbus following the Holdrege tilt.

Don Hill Sets New Ord Course Record

A few weeks ago Don Hill established a new course record of 27 on the Ord golf course. For years he and several other golfers, including Doug Dale and Al Blossing, shared the old record of 28. Far for the course in its modern form is 33.

Young Hill has returned to Kearney State Teachers college to resume his studies.

Ed Vancura Shoots Self Instead of 'Coon

Edwin Vancura, 28, farmer living west of Ord, received an injury to his heel when a 22 caliber rifle accidentally discharged and the bullet penetrated the tendon and lodged in the heel. The accident occurred at his home Saturday morning and he was taken to the Ord hospital where Dr. R. J. Lynn treated the wound.

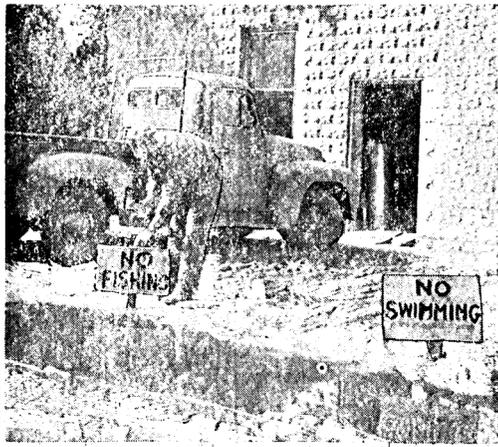

Mr. Vancura started farming for himself this spring after his father, Charles Vancura, Sr., retired and turned the farm over to his son. He was married shortly before taking over the farm to Donna Kamery.

At the time of the accident Mr. Vancura was intent on killing a raccoon which took refuge in his barn shortly before. He was alone but was able to attract attention by calling to his wife in the house. She summoned his brother, Charles, Jr., who lives not far away, to take him to town.

Has Attended All Popcorn Days Celebrations

Mrs. Maggie Wetzel, who is being cared for in a nursing home in this city, called Tuesday afternoon to say that she had attended every one of the fifty celebrations put on by the North Loup Popcorn Days. Her son, Floyd, has also attended every one, although some of the times he was too young to remember. Mrs. Wetzel's husband, Gus, went every year until his death. One year he attended in a wheel chair. Mrs. Wetzel is far from strong, yet she attended the Golden Jubilee celebration.

No Grave! No Fishing! No Swimming!

Two large mudholes on 16th & N streets which have been more or less filled with water throughout the summer received the special attention of Richard Rowbal last week. "I decided that as long as they were filled, I'd better keep the youngsters out of the dirty water," Rowbal said. "I'm quite disappointed that grave-digging is going to quit. I'd asked for two extra loads in front of my place to be paid for by myself."

St. Wenceslaus Day to Be Celebrated

The annual celebration of Saint Wenceslaus will be held at the National hall on Sunday, Sept. 16, and as usual it will be a big event in that community. An afternoon program of sports events opens at 1:30 including baseball games between teams from Ord, Comstock, Geranium and Ravenna, a blue rock shoot, tug-of-war between Geranium and National hall, a tractor derby and various contests, races and games.

For the women there will be nail driving and sewing contests, for the children bicycle races, a penny shower and foot races. An airplane will be on the grounds giving rides.

The women will start serving supper at 4:30 and later there will be a dance with a Dorchester, Nebr. orchestra.

As always, Ord people will patronize the event generously and the other towns in this vicinity will be well represented, also.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist church Wednesday, Sept. 5. Mrs. John Haskell presided at the business meeting and Mrs. Keith Shepard gave devotions.

Mrs. G. W. Taylor presented the program which was a report of her trip to Lincoln last week to go to the School of Missions where she attended classes on Latin America. Mrs. Orin Kellison also told a little of her work at the school where she studied the Book of Acts during the Bible study classes. Mrs. Leslie Nash, accompanied by Mrs. Kellison sang, in Spanish "Estrellita" by Manuel M. Ponce.

Plans were announced for a district seminar to be held at the church Monday, Sept. 17. This will be an all day meeting beginning at 9:15. Lunch tickets will be sold for $1.00 and anyone wishing to attend will please notify their circle chairman by Thursday, Sept. 13. All Woman's Society members are urged to attend this meeting.

Family Night

Members of the Masons and Eastern Star had a family party in the basement of the Masonic hall Monday evening. The purpose of the gathering was to raise money by which new drapes could be purchased for the room and to that end there was a sale of parcel post packages, which netted a nice sum. During the program, Mrs. Ortha Jirak gave a review of the book, "Taps for Private Tussey" and hill billy music was played by Darlene Long and Janet Zabloudil. Four couples, in old fashioned clothes, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Good, Mr. and Mrs. Don Auble, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fauble and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wrightman, gave several square dances. As a close to the program, Dr. Gard gave two selections from Riley as readings.

Pie, ice cream and coffee were served as refreshments.

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Have District Picnic

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their families from Arcadia, Burwell, North Loup, Ericson and Ord lodges held a picnic Sunday afternoon at Bassett park in Ord, bringing baskets well filled with fried chicken and other good things to eat and making use of the big horseshoe table and adjacent cent tables on the east side of 156 signed the register.

Grand Master Peterson and his wife of Aurora, were present and he gave a talk on Odd Fellowship. Lester Bly of Arcadia, grand instructor, was there also and brought some fine musical entertainers from the Arcadia community.

Later children's races, slipper kicking contests and other contests took place and prizes were awarded.

The Ord Odd Fellows passed a resolution of thanks to the Ord park board and to business men who furnished tables and for providing such an excellent place for a picnic of this kind.

Best way to get a move on

ASK any GMC owner about hauling performance.

For when it comes to packing home a pay load — he's got a lot of solid experience.

He knows what the right kind of horsepower can do for trucking profits. Whether he powers his load with a gasoline pickup model — or requires one of the sensational new GM-Diesel "Million-Milers" — he's right in the driver's seat for performance unexcelled by any other carrier in its class.

But he's not just "riding an engine."

He'll tell you the way his GMC shoulders the load, year after year, is proof of perfect teamwork of axle, chassis and frame — truck-engineered to outlast anything on the roads today.

Want to profit by the same long-time benefits of GMC's truck-building experience? Let us recommend the right combination of hauling performance to fit your particular needs. For GMC's are made in the widest variety of engine-chassis-axle combinations, from 1/2 to 20 tons.

Omaha's Run Tops; Feeders Set More Marks

Livestock supply Monday at Omaha topped the 36,000 mark to handily pace all markets, and once again Western cattle set a series of new all-time highs. Of 21,500 cattle and calves on sale, 17,000 were Westerns—doubling best previous Western run this season. Westerns also predominated in an 8,500 sheep run Monday.

Stocker and feeder cattle and calves sold strong to 50¢ and more up—yearling stock steers at $33.00 to a record $40.00, stock heifers at $31.00 to a record $36.00, 2-year-old feeder steers to $36.50 and 3's to a record $35.00. Yearling breeding heifers scored a record $40.00 and feeding heiferettes set a new mark—$31.00. Steer calves sold to $42.50 and $43.00—some held higher—and heifer calves to $38.50 and $40.00.

Fat cattle sold steady to strong, best trade $36.00 up. Slaughter steers and yearlings bulked at $34.00-$37.00, better steers sold to $38.75 and were quotable to $39.50 or better. Plain shortfords went at $31.00, some under that. Three loads of fed heifers reached $37.00. Grassfat steers weighing 1,550 went for slaughter at $34.50, a new record. Cow trade was steady to strong, best going on beef cows. Beef cows sold to $29.00, tippy Westerns on the heiferette order to $30.00. Cannons and cutters ranged from $18.00-$22.50, bulked at $19.00-$22.00. Beef bulls sold to $29.25, bolognas to $29.00. Western bulls at $25.00-$28.50, odd head $29.00. Vealer top held at $35.00.

Fat lambs sold steady to strong, $31.50 to mostly $31.75, a package of fed lambs at $32.00. Fed yearling wethers were 50¢ to $1.00 higher, $29.50-$30.00, latter paid for 117-pounds. Slaughter ewes sold steady, $11.00-$15.00. Feeder lambs were strong to 25¢ up, 75 to 82 pound Westerns $33.00-$34.25, latter a new season's high.

Hogs sold strong to 25¢ higher, butchers weighing 180-360 $18.50-$21.00. Sows weighing 270-550 brought $18.00-$19.25, a few light-weights $19.50. Stags sold at $14.00-$15.50.

Fifty Day Season on Ducks, Geese

Nebraska's open season on ducks and geese this year will run from October 19 through December 7—a period of 50 days.

The daily bag and possession limits remain the same as last year—five ducks daily and possession limit the same.

Acting Secretary Richard D. Searles, signed the new migratory waterfowl hunting regulations, liberalized because of favorable conditions on the northern breeding grounds throughout the summer.

Albert M. Day, director of the Fish and Wildlife Service, said he hoped the longer seasons would "give gunners in every section of the country good opportunities for shooting, regardless of unpredictable weather conditions."

Day urged hunters to note that the prohibition against the use of bait has been made more specific than in other years.

In the new regulations, birds may not be taken within half a mile of any place where corn or similar feed is placed or exposed "during or within two weeks prior to the open season."

Day said the two-week overlap

Two Valley 4-H Club Members Winners at State Fair

Two Valley county 4-H club members were ribbon winners in the baby beef show at the Nebraska state fair.

Harold Fish showed a blue ribbon Hereford steer in the heavy-weight class, and Robert Knapp won red ribbons on both his Hereford and Shorthorn steers.

The two boys are members of the Loup Valley Livestock club and Bud Knapp is their leader. The 4-H baby beef show was called the best ever held at the fair by officials in charge.

Scotia

Wm. Donscheski is resting at his home following a heart attack last Saturday while attending the stock sale at the Ord Livestock Market, in Ord. It is expected he will be able to be up some of the latter part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Donscheski live on a farm south of Scotia.

The Lutheran church of Scotia held the Mission Festival at Scotia Sunday with a good attendance. Several surrounding towns were represented.

Horses being wintered mainly on coarse roughage are easy victims of digestive disorders, especially if their drinking water is icy cold.

Bald Eagle
The mature bald eagle has a pure white head, neck, and tail, as well as white tail-coverts (special feathers covering the bases of quills). The rest of the plumage is dusky brown.

Which Apple?
Apple varieties all have specific uses for which they are best—Cortlands are good salad apples because they stay white longer than other kinds. Delicious are excellent for eating out-of-hand. Baldwins are best for pies and sauce, while McIntosh is an all-purpose apple.

Nutmeg
Nutmeg is the seed of a peach-like fruit of a tropical evergreen tree. It is oval in shape ranging in size up to one and one-fourth inches in length. The flavor of nutmeg is sweet, with a warm and spicy undertone.

Safeguards Workers
More and more manufacturers, plant, mill and factory owners are utilizing color to minimize accidents in operating dangerous machinery. Machinery is so painted that its color will contrast with the material or metal being worked on. Walls and floors are also painted in light colors to utilize all illumination. This makes dangerous working parts stand out more distinctly. The chance of accidents caused by poor visibility is thus reduced.

Worth Trying
For a delightful change in salad dressing flavors, try this idea: blend one tablespoon of flour with one-fourth cup of lemon juice until lump-free. Then stir into this one-half cup of maple syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture is thick like honey. Cool, and into the mixture fold one cup of whipped cream. Serve with any tart fruit salad mixture.

Second Delegate to Congress Spent Most of His Time Defending Himself

Bird B. Chapman, Nebraska territory's second delegate to Congress, was, like his predecessor, only a transitory Nebraskan. The charge of "carpet-bagger" was leveled at him by his enemies, and in a large measure, it appears to have been true. It should be remembered, though, that he was but one of a large class of enterprising young men who came to Nebraska territory to make their fortunes—political or otherwise—and who had no reason to stay in the territory when they failed.

Little is known of Mr. Chapman's early life—we do not even have the exact date of his birth.

We do know, however, that he was born about 1821, and in 1845 he was practicing law in Elyria, O. In 1852, he purchased the Lorain (Ohio) Argus, editing that paper until 1854 when he closed shop and moved his equipment to Omaha to start the Nebraskan.

The newly-arrived editor ran for the post of delegate to Congress in 1854, being third in a field of six. The next year, though, there was another election (required under a territorial law enacted in March, 1855), and this time Chapman was successful, receiving 380 votes to 292 for Hiram P. Bennet. In what was to establish a precedent for a number of other delegate elections, Mr. Bennet contested the results of the election. The contest failed, and Mr. Chapman was allowed to take his seat in the House of Representatives.

Chapman's efforts to seek a second term in 1857 were opposed by Fenner Ferguson, chief justice of the territorial supreme court; B. P. Rankin; and John M. Thayer. When the votes were counted, Ferguson was found to be the winner, with Chapman running a fairly close second. This time Chapman contested the election, although like Bennet the term before, unsuccessfully. The question was not resolved, however, until Feb. 10, 1869, with the term half gone.

It was frequently remarked—and the foregoing gives it validity—that one reason the territorial delegate was able to do so little for Nebraska was that he had to spend most of his time and energy defending his seat in Congress. The Ferguson-Chapman contest also helps to illustrate the bitter sectional strife that racked the territory. Chapman, an Omaha man, was vigorously opposed by the South Platte people, and particularly by J. Sterling Morton, who vitriolic pen castigated Chapman regularly in the columns of the Nebraska City News.

Following his failure to be seated as a delegate, Chapman returned to Elyria, O., where he remained until 1862, when he removed to Put-in-Bay Island. There on Sept. 12, 1871, he died.

Lighted Athletic Field Talked About for Scotia

Rev. Wagner Head of Committee in Charge; League Spot Open.

Possibility that a lighted athletic field may be installed at Scotia during the next year was expressed at a Chamber of Commerce meeting held there last week, the Scotia Register reports. A committee composed of Rev. Wagner, Leonard Murphy, Jim Bryson and Wayne Frazer has the matter in charge.

Both football and baseball would be played on this field, which would be located to the south of the present baseball field.

With a lighted field available, a Scotia baseball entry, or possibly a combined Scotia-North Loup team, would be welcomed into the reorganized Mid-Nebraska Night Baseball league which will be formed for 1952. Teams making up the league are now too far apart geographically.

Ansley, which broke away from the league and played in a day league last season, has already applied for membership in the night league which also would include St. Paul, Loup City and Ord. Arcadia would be welcomed as a member provided they could arrange to play their mid-summer games on a lighted neutral field, playing their early and late games day times on their own field.

Broken Bow and Sargent might be other possibilities, as both have lighted fields. Boelus and Ravena, members of the present league, might be considered. Shetland and Wood River definitely would be dropped for geographical reasons. Surely a compact six-team league and possibly an eight-team league could be formed from the cities mentioned.

For several decades, ending about 1930, Scotia had as fine a baseball team as could be found anywhere in Nebraska but in the baseball revival which followed the installation of lighted fields, Scotia failed to keep up with the revival. Scotia and North Loup are so close together and connected by such good highway that it would seem logical for them to combine playing strength to form one good team and use one lighted field for night games.

Guests of Rev. and Mrs. Keith Shepard Tuesday evening were Rev. and Mrs. Robert Holbrook, Jerry and Jeanie, of Elba.

Will Refund on All Baseball Tickets
Baseball fans who bought tickets for the House of David-Cuban All-Star baseball game Tuesday night, which was rained out in the second inning, will receive a refund in full, the Ord Baseball club announced this morning.

A special refund booth will be set up in Bussell Park on the evenings of Sept. 16 and 19, and the afternoon of Sept. 23, and fans having a refund coming may get it at this booth prior to the ball games scheduled for those dates. No refunds will be made after Sept. 23.

If you have a ticket, present it at this booth and get your money. If you do not have a ticket you will be given a refund upon signing an affidavit that you purchased a ticket for this game and giving the name of at least one person who can vouch for that fact or who saw you at the game.

The storm came up so suddenly that it caught gatekeepers unawares. So pleasant was the evening that rain checks were not issued to early arrivals. The Ord Baseball club wants to refund money to anyone who has it coming, so the plan outlined above has been decided on.

Score was 1 to 0 with the Cubans leading when play was halted by a deluge of rain.

Turek's 3-Hitter Beats St. Paul

Loup City Blanks St. Paul, 4 to 0, Sunday Night.

Gene Turek pitched three-hit ball Sunday night as Loup City shut out St. Paul 4 to 0. In the process he left ten men stranded. Loup City scored once in the second on Grassmeyer's double, a wild pitch and a perfect squeeze play. They got one in the fourth on A. Krolkowski's single, a sacrifice, a passed ball and infield out. In the sixth they picked up one on Davis' error in left field, a wild pitch and Grassmeyer's single. The final run was scored in the ninth on Carl Krolkowski's single, a sacrifice, Peterson's error at short on W. Nielsen's grounder. Krolkowski scored while Nielsen was thrown out at second, Spiels to Leth.

St. Paul got two men on in the fourth but failed to score. They filled the bases on walks in the next inning but couldn't push a run across. Again in the eighth they put two men on but to no avail.

The win gave Loup City the series in what was supposed to be a best "two out of three" affair.

After the game Pete Wilson, Loup City manager, announced that Loup City will play Shelton, winner in the other bracket.

Darrel Johnson Here, Batted .313 With Wichita Falls Team

Darrel Johnson, who is a brother of R. M. Johnson and Mrs. F. J. Osentowski, Ord, arrived in Ord last Wednesday afternoon with his wife and will visit here several weeks before going to California to spend the winter.

Johnson, a catcher in professional baseball, got his baseball start with the Junior Legion team in Ord and later played amateur and semi-pro baseball in California. He is now the property of the St. Louis Browns.

He opened the 1951 season with San Antonio of the Texas league, catching well and batting .273 with them, and then was sent to finish the season with Wichita Falls of the West Texas league. He caught 55 games with this team and batted .313. Johnson already has his orders to report to the St. Louis Browns for spring training with the parent club, but might be optioned elsewhere for further seasoning, as is considered one of the best young catching prospects in professional baseball today.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are being entertained quite extensively by his old Ord friends while they are here.

Farwell Players Collide, Are Hurt

Jr. Dilla's Condition Feared Serious; Farwell Won, 19-10.

One of the largest crowds in Ashton's baseball history saw Farwell run rough shod over Ashton, 19 to 10, to take the first game in the two out of three game series Sunday.

Farwell had their hitting togs on as they shelled Ashton's Jakobowski from the mound with 11 runs in three innings and Cady who relieved him, was hit freely also.

Farwell started their veteran manager, Horky, who weakened in the third, but Wysocki, who followed him to the mound, was able to hold the Ashton sluggers until the eighth, when he weakened and he in turn gave up the mound chores to Dan Dilla, who finished out the game.

Farwell's victory was marred in the eighth inning when Junior Dilla, Farwell left fielder, and Uccel Kramelack, Farwell center fielder, collided in going for a high fly ball at top speed. Both collapsed on the field and were rushed to the Loup City hospital. Kramelack was later released with five stitches in the jaw and several cracked teeth and a bruised knee cap; Dilla was kept in the hospital for observation as he was in severe pain and his condition was considered serious.

Dan Dilla, with five hits in six trips, Jed Szazama with four hits in six trips, one a home run with two on, paced the Farwell hitting. Cady with three hits in five trips, paced Ashton.

Farwell had cleaned its bench of players when the collision occurred, as reported above, and Ashton Manager Jakobowski used fine sportsmanship in letting Farwell use two players who had already been in the game.

Ashton plays at Farwell on Sunday, Sept. 16, in second round play. The line score:

Farwell — 056 200 233-19-21-4.
Batteries, Horky, W. Wysocki, D. Dilla and D. Lukasiewicz, R. Horky.

Ashton — 011 050 210-10-12-2.
Batteries: Jakubowski, Cady and Bilesbach.

Leader Needed, Thanks Sam. Olympia, Wash. Sept. 7, 1951

The Ord Quiz, Dear Sirs:
Enclosed is check for $3.50 for Quiz another year. We still look forward to getting it every Monday, even if we have been in Washington over 14 years.

Our oldest son reports at San Diego, Dec. 5. We have had the driest summer in history and logging is almost at a standstill.

Wages are high, but living higher. What we need is a leader like MacArthur to get us out of this mess we are in and back to normal.

Fertilizer Spreaders.

We have two Fertilizer Spreaders to loan to our customers. One an Easy-Flow that went out last week, and the other a small Scott Lawn size spreader that has been out several weeks. Will you please return these Spreaders as we have several customers wanting to use them. We are glad to furnish them but they should be returned as soon as you have finished using them.

Seed Wheat.

We are getting pretty well sold out on our Certified Seed Wheat. As this is written we have a very small amount of Pawnee and Nebred Certified Seed. If you need Seed Wheat be sure to get it soon. And if you are planting your own seed be sure to have it tested for germination. The germination on wheat is very low this year. Treat Seed Wheat with Ceresan. You will be well repaid next harvest time.

Corn and Barley.

We are in the market for good quality Corn and Barley. We have several feeders wanting to lay in a supply at this time.

On Yellow Corn we do have a very good supply for the feeder trade and we would be glad to quote you delivered price on truckloads to your farm.

Protein and Molasses Feeds.

We are contracting delivery of Proteins and Molasses Feeds for December delivery. The price is very attractive just now and believe that you can contract your future needs at a price that will save you money. We can furnish you contract on Hog Feeds for payment after you market your hogs. Come in and ask about this plan.

Fertilizer.

Three cars of Fertilizer have arrived in the past two weeks and we have a nice stock of Triple Superphosphate and 10-20-0 and 16-16-0 on hand. More and more our better farmers are using Fertilizers and they are getting very good results. If you have any questions about fertilizer come in and ask them and we will do our best to help you to get the best fertilizer for your use.

Nitrate is very hard to buy, but we have a car of 21 Nitrogen for March or April delivery. If you want Nitrogen for spring application on Broome or small grain or for second cultivation of corn this will do an excellent job for you. Many of you could get very good results from a mixed fertilizer on your small grain of 16-16-0 and if we have your order soon we can take care of your needs. Starter fertilizer for corn should be ordered now, also. Those that have been using Starter Fertilizer like it very well and corn that Starter fertilizer has been used on is far ahead of corn that did not have the Starter fertilizer used.

We have a couple of Fertilizer Spreaders for sale. A new Gandy and a used Easy Flow. Ask about them.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holcomb, accompanied by their daughter, Kathleen, and Eilon Simpson went to Garden City, Kas., Saturday. Mr. Simpson, who is employed with the REA in this place, of which Mr. Holcomb is the superintendent, will undergo an operation in one of the Garden City hospitals, before his return here in about ten days. Miss Kathleen, who started in school here last week, will not return but will attend school in Syracuse.

—Truman V. Gross of Red Cloud, was an Ord visitor Monday. The Gross family formerly lived in Ord. Mr. Gross says that his daughter Nelva was graduated from Kearney college last spring with cum laude honors and is now teaching science in the Blue Hill schools. Their son Bud is attending his second year at Kearney college. His father, Frank Gross, in reasonably good health for a man of 85, is living in his own house at Albion. Mrs. Gross died last winter.

—Laura Ickes of Sutton, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Avers, arriving last Wednesday. A close friend of the family, she cared for the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Avers during their big furniture sale.

—Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bridge and son and daughter returned home last Wednesday from an extended vacation trip which took them to the west coast. In Albuquerque, N. M., they visited the Leland Stillmans, who are reported to be getting along very well.

More Pheasants

The state game commission has announced the rules governing the present season for 1951, which will open Oct. 28 and continue until Nov. 25, inclusive. The daily bag and possession limit will be five birds. Shooting will be permitted from sunrise until sunset each day. The west end of the state and counties on a line north of Valley county and east, including Antelope and the west half of Knox county will be closed to hunters.

The fact that the daily bag limit has been raised to five indicates that the commission has found that pheasants are on the increase in the state, and it also shows that the presence of plenty of cover gave the birds a better chance to survive last fall and through the full year of 1951 to date. Hunters found them much harder to locate last fall and bag limits were not too common.

During the summer the number of pheasants seen along Nebraska highways has been few. They seem to have hidden their nests and broods away in the thousands of safety zones established by nature by reason of good growing conditions. Even in the hills the grass is so tall that the pheasants can hide readily after flight, and probably will be difficult to find when the hunting season arrives.

For the same reason pheasant counts have been difficult and doubtless inaccurate. It is probable that the actual population has been estimated rather than counted. However, some farmers who take special interest in the birds claim that there are many chicks in each of the new flocks they have seen.

The rainy weather probably did little damage to the pheasant crop and at the same time furnished abundant hiding places. It is also likely that many couples raised a second brood, since some rather small chicks are seen from time to time. With nearly two months to grow, these second hatches should be big enough to make a tasty meal.

Rural Electrification

The general public has known for some time that REA has been growing by leaps and bounds, but few realize the extent to which it has grown. At the recent celebration of Rural Electrification Week, beginning Aug. 26, it was announced that the present lines that ramify through the rural areas of the nation, the service is available to 95 percent of the farmers of America.

It is further announced that electricity is now available to 4,900,000 of approximately 5,200,000 farms, and to 15,000,000 of the 15,500,000 rural homes. REA cooperatives serve 49 percent of the farms, privately owned utility companies serve 47 percent, and city and other government systems serve 4 percent.

Throughout the eastern states the majority of the farms are served by private utility companies. In that area, where the farms are small and the farm homes close together, it is possible to set up lines and equipment to serve the public at much less initial expense than in the west. In Nebraska, for example, private companies found the original cost too great in most cases to pay them to take the risk.

It was in the western area that rural electrification came into its own through the facilities of the REA. In the past few years a large area, comprising most of Valley county, all of Garfield county now electrified, all parts of Greeley county and nearly all of Sheridan county has been organized and operating under the name of the Loup Valleys Rural Electric Membership Assn.

This organization, must not in any sense be confused with the many government agencies that have been set up under government control. The REA is as democratic as our right to vote, to hold office, to worship as we please. The only government connection is the fact that the government furnished the money for the project. Subject to mortgage, everything in the local organization is owned by its membership.

Because of the large amount of money required by such a project, it would be difficult to find private backing for so large an undertaking, and that is the reason for the government loaning the money. The loans are no different from any other loans. The government loans the money to the cooperative and it is paid back, with interest under terms that the cooperative can meet.

Grover C. Neff, president of the Wisconsin Light & Power Co., acted as chairman of the Rural Electrification Week celebration, and he had this to say: "Increased farm production in this time of emergency is one of the 'secret weapons' of defense. With electric power available to fill some of the gaps of manpower shortage, farm production and efficiency will be increased."

Bringing special emphasis to his statement is the report by the officials of Agricultural Economics: The output of goods per man-hour on the farm has risen from 82 percent in 1925 to 156 percent in 1950 . . . and electric power has been one of the contributing factors in the increased efficiency."

Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, paints a rosy picture of conditions on the farms today as compared with what they were a generation ago. He says: "The disparity between rural living conditions is fast disappearing. Rural living conditions are fast becoming the more attractive." He might well have added that this improvement in rural living conditions has checked the movement of young men from the farms to the cities. From now on it is reasonable to expect more young people to remain on the farms and farming will once more become a young man's job. The use of modern electric appliances in the home is also attracting more and more young women back to the farms.

Experts have estimated that there are more than 300 uses for electricity on the farm. It not only saves time and labor for farmers, but it also increases production, reduces crop losses and brings better living to farm families. It makes available all the marvels of modern homemaking to the lady who presides over the kitchen.

The use of electric brooders for both chickens and pigs is increasing, and it has been proven definitely that their use decreases the death rate to a great extent. Water warmers, properly regulated lighting and ventilation for hens increases egg production. The simple turn of a switch today will unload wagons and hayracks. The farmer can use electric motors to grind and mix his feeds.

In view of all these improvements, it is pleasant to reflect that the farmer of today has a much more enjoyable time than did his father and grandfather. To stay on the farm in pioneer days meant enduring many hardships. It meant long hours both morning and evening, working by the light of a lantern to refect the chores done and leave plenty of time for the long hours necessary to spend in the field.

Today the use of tractors shortens the time afield, while electricity shortens the time for doing chores. It is a long time since Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked that lantern over and started the Chicago fire. But it is well to know that properly installed electric lighting reduces the chances of fire to a minimum. One thing is certain. It would be an agile cow indeed that could kick out an electric light.

The REA is here to stay. Some people say it costs too much, but, in the light of results attained, electricity is the cheapest investment a farmer can make. The proper use of electricity on a modern farm will dispense with the work of at least one extra man, probably two, and the electricity used will cost less than one fourth as much, needs no board and room, and stays right on the job all the time. With the coming of rural electrification the American farmer has at last come into his own.

Something Different

Ord's wash ladies were really running temperatures last week. This idea of hanging clothes out, getting a rain, taking them in, washing them over, hanging them out . . . well, ad infinitum it can get wearing. Smelly clothes, wet, heavy clothes, all that extra labor was enough to make anyone blow up. Thank goodness we have sunshine this Monday morning.

Sunshine has such extra value after days of dark skies and easy showers.

All the world seems wonderful.

When the Vern Stark's went to Yellowstone Park a couple of weeks ago to see the sights, they were astounded to meet no less than four other Ord couples, also touring. "If I'd needed to borrow some money, I'd have known just who to ask!" was Vern's reaction.

I'm laughing. A man bought a house. It had an electric hot water heater in it. First thing the new owner did was phone the authorities and say: "Come take the hot water heater out of here! Anybody knows you don't need water heated 24 hours a day for a bath once a week!"

The young walnut tree by our dining room door grew a large bounteous pair of walnuts this year as a crop. A pair of squirrels probably knew about the walnuts long before we did, and decided harvest time had come.

As I was setting breakfast on the table this morning this week, I glanced up just in time to see two squirrels in the tree, playing from branch to branch. When they spied me, one squirrel came down the trunk with one big walnut, and a couple of yards behind him a second squirrel descended the tree with the rest of our crop!

Squirrels are fun to watch as they fly like feathers through the tree-tops, travelling little branches that you'd never think of. Let them down, often across several blocks without touching foot to the ground. But their nests are ugly, and their war-cries are ugly, as they "scur-r-r" away.

But what I can not forget about them, is the destruction they bring to birds and their eggs and their young.

Ode to Highway Drives there a man with car so fancy He never to the world has cried As detours shoved him from side side side "Blankety-blank this blank blank road!"

In many places children must take examinations on their knowledge of bicycling, before they are turned loose on the public. Often the bikes are licensed, and bike riders can be warned, or even have their licenses taken away if they disobey safety rules.

Really, turning a young child loose with a bike in these days of fast cars, mammoth trucks, big farm machinery, is asking for trouble. What new bike rider has the judgement to deal with the emergencies that can appear so speedily?

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dubas and daughter, Danielle, of Washington, D. C., spent last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dubas and family, also the Steve Kapustka family, and his father, Frank Dubas.

Ward's Cookin' Column

This week and possibly next, I will be running this column in a travelogue, a name made famous by a fellow named Frank Robinson more than a generation ago. Some may recall him, but the younger generation might be interested in knowing that this man went about the country showing a flock of colored slides he had made in various parts of the country, accompanying the showing with a constant line of chatter.

He was a part of the lecture courses in the days when they were popular, but the development of the motion picture industry made it impossible for him to compete with them. This will be a travelogue without the benefit of pictures, although I took 40 of them on the trip.

I took the trip at the instance of, and with the courtesy of, W. F. (Willie) Williams, owner of the PCT bus lines, and I went along with my bus with the exception of the part from North Loup to Burwell, and I had been over that before. I traveled about 1250 miles in just three days time, which is quite a lot of travel in any man's language.

In going into Grand Island by the St. Mary's detour the bus was held up for some three minutes by a Burlington freight train. Thad Krason drove the bus to Grand Island. At the Williams garage in Grand Island I met Vernon Dye, Henry Hawley, Robert Freeman and Dan H. Roby, all drivers and mechanics in the employ of Williams. At noon I got on one of the PCT new Silverliners with Roby as pilot and headed over Highway 2, ultimate destination Scottsbluff, 313 miles away.

Those new buses are the very latest in bus construction and cost $24,000 each. We left in a shower, and were doomed to travel in the rain much of the time all three days. The road was black top all the way and most of it was in good condition. Clay bluffs along a branch of the South Platte near Cairo was a pretty sight. The grass was heavy in this area, and was good all the way to Scottsbluff. We saw a number of very fine shelterbelts in good condition. Clay bluffs along a branch of the South Platte near Cairo was a pretty sight. The grass was heavy in this area, and was good all the way to Scottsbluff.

The narrow bridges on the detours presented quite a hazard, as well as the bridge at St. Paul which is not on a detour. At one place southeast of Scotia we saw a fine bunch of pigs in clover, except that the wet weather had given the crab grass a chance to crowd out the clover. At many places along the highway there were acres and acres of the Kansas state flower, the sunflower. Why don't they keep their state flower at home? It seemed that there were more people traveling the highway than there were on the detours. Earl Hughes, southeast of Scotia, had a very cute mail box arrangement with a wagon wheel support. Between Cotesfield and Elba the road follows the old highway, the highway that everybody thought was so fine some 20 years ago.

That old highway brings one to Munson creek at a point near the site where the soldiers were stationed just before the establishment of Fort Hartsuff. It gives one the creeps when the bus approaches that "Death Corner" at Midway. Not that the buses have had any trouble there, but more people have been killed there lately than at any other crossroads in the state. There had been a bad hail storm west of St. Paul, and in most fields the stalks and ears were standing bare. The corn might make hog feed, but it would certainly not be good for much else. In that area there had been extensive damage to buildings with windows knocked out and roofs battered. A number of buildings were having new shingles put on and others were needing them.

In going into Grand Island by the St. Mary's detour the bus was held up for some three minutes by a Burlington freight train. Thad Krason drove the bus to Grand Island. At the Williams garage in Grand Island I met Vernon Dye, Henry Hawley, Robert Freeman and Dan H. Roby, all drivers and mechanics in the employ of Williams. At noon I got on one of the PCT new Silverliners with Roby as pilot and headed over Highway 2, ultimate destination Scottsbluff, 313 miles away.

Those new buses are the very latest in bus construction and cost $24,000 each. We left in a shower, and were doomed to travel in the rain much of the time all three days. The road was black top all the way and most of it was in good condition. Clay bluffs along a branch of the South Platte near Cairo was a pretty sight. The grass was heavy in this area, and was good all the way to Scottsbluff. We saw a number of very fine shelterbelts in good condition. Clay bluffs along a branch of the South Platte near Cairo was a pretty sight. The grass was heavy in this area, and was good all the way to Scottsbluff.

The narrow bridges on the detours presented quite a hazard, as well as the bridge at St. Paul which is not on a detour. At one place southeast of Scotia we saw a fine bunch of pigs in clover, except that the wet weather had given the crab grass a chance to crowd out the clover. At many places along the highway there were acres and acres of the Kansas state flower, the sunflower. Why don't they keep their state flower at home? It seemed that there were more people traveling the highway than there were on the detours. Earl Hughes, southeast of Scotia, had a very cute mail box arrangement with a wagon wheel support. Between Cotesfield and Elba the road follows the old highway, the highway that everybody thought was so fine some 20 years ago. underpass they had then, lugging a heavy suitcase and a heavier sample case. Since then the railroad has been taken up and all signs of it have disappeared.

It is remarkable how the highways scatter out. For example, Highways 2 and 281 run to the edge of Grand Island together. After a while No. 2 gets out to Alliance and No. 281 reaches O'Neill, about 300 miles apart. Wm. Karel, realtor, is bus agent at Ravenna. We passed Jawn Pesek's Ravenna a short distance west of Ravenna and a man aboard told me of the many ways he would hitch himself up to farm machinery while farming to strengthen his muscles for wrestling. The bus had 20 passengers when we left Muddy Creek, which was muddy.

The Free Methodists have a fine camp ground at the edge of Ansley. Near Broken Bow we saw a sign proclaiming "Shorthorn Hange Bull Project." We stopped for coffee there and drank our first, but not our last, ten cent cup of java. There seems to be a lot of construction going on in Broken Bow, also in Alliance, Scottsbluff and Chadron, all of which are growing rapidly at the present time. From Broken Bow on many of the ranches have a sign along the highway. Among these were the Black Farm, the C. J. Ranch, McGinnis Ranch, An-dell Ranch, 3M Ranch, Win Scott, Jennings Bros, Cooper, Forsythe and many others.

At Anselmo we saw a turkey ranch with a population of 8000 just out of town. The rancher saw a number of other turkey ranches. Anselmo is on the border line between the farming country and the ranch country and the range extends from there until a few miles east of Alliance. Included in the many towns along the route are Dunning, near the confluence of the Dignall and Middle Loup rivers, Halsey, near the big government forest reserve; Hyannis, the rich man's town; and Antioch, city of memories. It is said that Hyannis is the home town of more millionaires than any other small town in the United States, and they certainly have plenty of dollars rumpling around on the hoof there.

Antioch is the town with a past, and not too much hope for the future. The government potash plants were located there during World War I, and there was a population for a short time of several thousand, just how many nobody seems to know. When the potash bubble burst after the war the population crumbled almost over night, and it dwindled until today the sign says 30 people still live there. Old stone foundations and buildings with the roofs off, doors and windows out, still remain to remind the residents of the glory that once was Antioch's.

Will give you the rest of this story next week. J. L. W.

ROAD-TEST IT FOR PROOF OF PERFORMANCE!

It's more a treat than a test, when you put a new Mercury through its paces. You never knew that traffic could be tamed so easily, that parking could be so effortless, that hills could simply melt away! The secret? Lots of things—its husky V-type "8" engine—its low-slung design—its nimble steering. Yes, here's sweet driving, with all the thrift that makes this Mercury so popular.

BUDGET-TEST IT FOR PROOF OF VALUE!

Does it have a down-to-earth first price? Mercury's price tag you can understand—a big dollar's worth for every dollar invested.

Will you be sure of good gasoline mileage? Mercury has continually proved its more-miles-per-gallon by winning in officially sponsored economy tests.

Will upkeep stay low? Mercury engineers have engineered trouble out for extra years of money-saving dependability.

Is it famous for long life? It is indeed! 92% of all Mercurys ever built for use in this country are still on the road, according to studies of the latest annual official registration figures.

3-WAY CHOICE! For "the drive of your life" Mercury offers you a triple choice in dependable transmissions. Merc-O-Matic Drive, the new simpler, smoother, more efficient automatic transmission—or thrifty Touch-O-Matic Overdrive or optional of extra cost. There's also silent ease standard transmission.

Burdick Farm in Springdale Belatedly Identified

The Charlie Burdick farm in Springdale, whose air-photo ran as Mystery Farm in the Quiz issue of Aug. 30, was belatedly identified Friday by Paul Palser, who farmed the place this year and last. Before that Mr. Palser worked for North American Aircraft company on the west coast and he may go back to that concern unless he finds a good Valley county place to farm next year.
The Burdick place is an 80, all level and all under irrigation, with corn and alfalfa the only crops. The corn made 60 bushels to the acre last year but won't do nearly as good this season, Palser says. The soil is much depleted after being in corn for decades and Mr. Burdick plans to have it all in alfalfa and clover for a season or two, also using some fertilizer before going back to a corn rotation, Palser reports.
Paul Mortensen returned Friday from a week's trip to the Black Hills. He said he had quite a little difficulty in getting around for it was so muddy there.

"I took the Blindfold Test"

—that new Dodge Oriflow Ride sure opened my eyes!"

Says DANIEL F. HOWARD, JR. of New York City: "The Blindfold Test convinced me! The new Dodge Oriflow Ride really levels out the worst kind of bumps and ruts, continues Mr. Howard. 'No ride has ever been so smooth.'"

Come in! Try it!
FEEL HOW NEW ORIFLOW RIDE MAKES ROUGHEST ROADS BOULEVARD-SMOOTH!

Here's something new and wonderful in riding smoothness you notice from the very start!

Blindfolded you ride over a bumpy road. You're told the ruts are there—but you don't feel them! Come in the pitch, bounce and jar you experience in other cars as the new Dodge Oriflow Ride levels out the rough spots. And with blindfold off you'll be amazed you traveled over such bumps and chuckles.

Words alone can't tell it all! That's why we invite you to take this during "Blindfold Test" today. You could pay up to $1,000 more for a car and still not get all the extra roominess, ease of handling, famous Dodge dependability!

The big, dependable DODGE
Drive it 5 minutes...and you'll drive it for years!

BARGAINS BY THE BASKETFUL!

Not just a few "specials" . . . every item is PRICED LOW at SAFEWAY

We liked a phrase one of our customers used last week. She said she shops at Safeway because she gets "Bargains by the basketful." Her remark sums up our pricing policy in a nutshell. You see, we set every price right down at rock bottom. (Our profit last year was less than 1 1/2 cents on each dollar we took in.) This means that everything you buy at Safeway is an honest-to-goodness value! Start today to make each basket of foods you buy a "basketful of bargains." It will help plenty if you've been having budget blues.

Mystery Farm Last Week Was Ernest Lange Place

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange have lived on their farm in Mira Valley since 1925 but when last week's Quiz came off the press it was the first time they had ever seen an aerial view of the place.

The Lange farming operations now cover 380 acres of what is described as some of the best land in Nebraska. David Lange, their son, and Edmund Hoffman, their son-in-law are operators of the farm.

The original 160 acre tract, pictured above, was purchased by the late D. H. Bredthauer, Mrs. Lange's father, in 1921 for $75.00 per acre.

Flour and Grist Mills Played Important Part in Development of Early Towns

An important industry in territorial Nebraska was flour and grist milling. Flour brought in from a distance by steamboat was expensive at best, and as soon as the territory's farms began to produce wheat and corn, enterprising men set up little mills to grind those products into flour.

The streams of eastern Nebraska provided many suitable locations for water powered mills. Using what nature provided, the early miller would build a dam across the stream at the site of his choice, housing his imported stone burrs and reels in a small building on the bank.

Town promoters were well aware of the importance of a mill to the growth of a community—it was a definite attraction for farmers of the surrounding area—and sometimes inducements were held out by the town fathers to encourage a miller to locate in their particular community.

By 1860, there were 17 flour and grist mills doing sufficient business in Nebraska territory to be recognized in the U. S. census reports of that year.

Most of the early mills confined themselves to custom grinding that is, they ground grain for the farmers as they (the farmers) brought it in, charging so much

Nebraska mills supplied flour to distant points. As early as 1859, the Glen Hallam mill in Nemaha county was making regular shipments of cornmeal to St. Louis.

Occasionally, however, early millers would build a dam across the stream at the site of his choice, housing his imported stone burrs and reels in a small building on the bank.

Former Ordites Thrill Crowds Sunday

Leon Foulk, right, and Darrell Johnson, left, thrilled spectators with some outstanding baseball Sunday evening when Ord dumped Loup City 12-2. Foulk will be seen in action Wednesday and again Sunday, Sept. 23.

Fumbles Costly as Holdrege Trips Chanticleers

Dusters Pound Out 27-13 Victory; Lexington Next.

Fumbles proved costly for the Ord Chanticleers when they dropped their first game of the season Friday evening 27-13 to the Holdrege Dusters.

Holdrege notched one touchdown in each of the four quarters with Haines, Easter, McConnell and Solomon counting in that order. Peterson made the three extra points.

A fumble by Haines accounted for Ord's first touchdown in the opening period when Bredthauer, Ord guard, scooped up the loose ball and ran 65 yards for a touchdown.

Ord threatened through the air in the second half and a pass from Wolfe to Penas produced the Chanticleers second touchdown. Penas gave fans a thrill when he juggled the 18 yard pitch in the end zone before finally getting a touchdown grip on the ball.

The Chanticleers showed only one advantage in the second half when they started a touchdown drive. The drive bogged down deep in Holdrege territory when an attempted lateral was recovered by Holdrege. A slow drizzle throughout the game made the ball hard to handle and fumbles were numerous. Holdrege, sparked by Haines and Easter, outdowned and outgained the Chants on a 4-1 ration.

This Friday evening the Chanticleers journey to Lexington in what might be quite a football game. Lexington was dumped rudely by Broken Bow this week, and the Minutemen are smarting from the defeat. The Chants play on their home field September 28, when Ogallala comes here.

Korean Vet Gets VFW Membership

Sgt. Donald Edwards, just returned from Korea, was presented with a paid-up 1952 membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the regular meeting of the post Monday evening. Edwards, a reservist, was a charter member of the post when it was organized here in 1946. The presentation started the VFW's 1952 membership drive. Edwards told the veterans of his Korean experiences at the meeting.

Johnson and Foulk Thrill Locals Sunday

Former Ord Stars Lead Attack on Loup City, 12-2.

Darrell Johnson and Leon Foulk, former Ord American Legion junior baseball players, treated a packed house to some spectacular baseball Sunday evening. Johnson, catcher for Wichita Falls, Texas, a St. Louis Browns farm club, and Leon Foulk, who pitches for Des Moines in the Western league, formed the battery as the Ord Mustangs dumped Loup City 12-2 in an exhibition game.

Johnson got three hits in four trips to the plate, and thrilled fans with a long home run over the centerfield fence in the sixth. He slugged a triple earlier which narrowly missed clearing the fence.

Foulk hit a triple which also nearly cleared the centerfield barrier. He allowed only five hits and fanned 15 Loup City batters, and gave clear evidence that he was throwing "under wraps" most of the evening.

The two leaguers also demonstrated the ability that put them where they are. Both of them sparked on the running paths. Johnson's work behind the plate with runners on base was particularly outstanding.

Grassmire led the Loup City batting with three for five. Stan Johnson and Bud Novosad of Ord also got three hits in four trips to the plate.

Krueger, on the mound for Loup City, weakened in the sixth and gave way to Turk, who finished.

Billesbach to Catch Foulk Tonite

Mustangs to Try Staab Slants; Iowa State Sunday.

Billesbach of Loup City will catch Leon Foulk tonight when Eddie Staab and the Broken Bow Indians tangle with the Mustangs on the Ord diamond.

Billesbach replaces Darrell Johnson, former Ordite of Wichita Falls, Texas, who has been called to California.

Staab, another big leaguer, is home from a successful debut with Duith of the northern baseball league. The pitching duel between Staab and Foulk, who has been with Des Moines of the Western League all season, will be something worth seeing.

Another fine attraction will come Sunday, Sept. 23, at 3:00 p.m., when the Ord Mustangs, with Foulk pitching and Billesbach catching, tie into the Iowa State League All-Stars, who will have Bill Beasley as hurler against Ord. The Iowa State League is semi-pro but rates with Class B pro baseball and after close of the season a group of stars from Carroll, Denison, Storm Lake and other western Iowa teams formed a barnstorming group. Beasley who now coaches in that territory, hooked up with them as a pitcher and the Ord management feels fortunate in booking such a fine attraction for Ord fans.

Designate Line Road as Federal

The Custer-Valley line road has been designated as a federal secondary road by the Washington Bureau of Federal Roads, according to information reaching the two county boards. Approval is expected to pave the way for building a new bridge across the Middle Loup river.

Baylor Apprehended in Washington

Charles B. Baylor, former Ord resident, has been bound over to district court in Grand Island for trial on insufficient funds check charges. The check, dated April 13, 1948, was given to a Grand Island trucking firm. Baylor left the state shortly after that time and his car was found in a St. Louis, Mo., parking garage.

He was returned to Grand Island from Ephrata, Wash., by Sheriff Sam Stobbe of Grand Island.

New Officers Take Over

At the regular meeting of the Square Dance club, Tuesday evening, the members of which voted that they now be called the "Loup Valley Promenaders," newly elected officers were seated during the intermission. They are: presidents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wilson; vice presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Good; and secretary-treasurers, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hallock. The next meeting will be held on the evening of Sept. 27.

Spalding Farmer Killed When Tractor Upsets

Lewis Racicky, 35, Spalding farmer, was killed instantly Thursday when a tractor he was driving on his farm in the Cedar Valley east of Spalding, overturned, pinning him beneath.

Elmer Green of Bartlett, was in Spalding at the time and on of the first to reach the scene of the accident. He said the tractor overturned on a steep hillside and that a projecting lever from a propane gas attachment on the tractor, was driven through Mr. Racicky's chest.

The Racicky family were former residents of Wheeler county, having lived in the Cedar Valley community on the farm now occupied by Raymond Berni. He attended high school at Ericson and married Ethel Hoskins of Ericson.

He is survived by his wife and four small children, his father, Anton of Greeley, and several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Kron Gets 40 Days; Case to Be Appealed

North Loup Woman Sentenced on Assault Charge.

Mrs. Grace Kron of North Loup, who figured in a destruction of property case only a week ago, has been released on appeal bond, following sentence in county court on Saturday.

Mrs. Kron was given 40 days in jail on her second trip before Judge Ellsworth Ball, Jr., this time on charges of assault and battery on the person of Mrs. Leo Klingensmith of North Loup. No date has been set for a review of the case.

St. Wenceslaus Celebration Declared Big Success; Full Day of Entertainment

A large crowd met Sunday, Sept. 16 at the National hall to take part in the activities of the celebration, sponsored by the German Catholic church.

To start off the fun and excitement of the afternoon, there was a demonstration of the correct and incorrect way to drive a tractor, Leonard Ptacnik demonstrating the latter. Ted Setik and Marvin Setik led their respective groups in the tractor derby consisting of hitching to a trailer and backing it into a designated space.

Verna Sobon and Mrs. Leonard Ptacnik walked off with prizes in the women's sawing contest. Verna tied with Mrs. John Jablonski in the nail driving contest, so they drove more nails until a winner could be declared. Mrs. Jablonski was the final winner.

It rained pennies for the youngsters and several filled their pockets. Mrs. John Wells kicked a slipper over 100 feet to win that event. Mrs. Joe Hruby misunderstood and sent hers sailing up and backward.

County Teachers Meet Sept. 15 for Institute

Address and Discussion by Evangeline Waite, State Dept. Member.

More than fifty Valley county rural teachers gathered at the court house on Saturday, Sept. 15, for the first of two institutes, which are to be held during the present school year.

The program was opened with a splendid talk, followed by an open discussion, by Miss Evangeline Waite, of the State Department. Jess Kovanda of Ord president of the County Educational Association, spoke, urging all teachers to join this local group and attend the next meeting, which is in the not too far distance.

The afternoon meeting was addressed, first, by Dell Hodges, who spoke on the teaching of Nebraska history, giving some demonstrations of the material that could be used in presenting the subject to a better advantage. Mr. James W. Taylor of the University of Nebraska Extension Division, who is director of the Audio-visual Aid Dept., gave a very interesting and instructive talk on various types of aids that can be used in the average classroom, including moving pictures, film strips, flannel boards, drawings, map studies and others.

—Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kasper were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sabotka and Delores.

C. J. Mortensens Will Leave Soon on Junket to South American Points

It will be a long month of pleasure and sight seeing for Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, who will leave soon on an extended vacation to South and Central American points of interest. The couple plan to attend the American Legion national convention in New York City from October 15 to October 18, and after their visit in Franklin, N. C. with Mr. and Mrs. Hal Allen, will fly from Miami, Fla., on October 19 to San Juan, Porto Rico. They will stay at the Caribe Hilton hotel, newest of the lush tourist attractions in San Juan.

W. S. C. S. Holds First of Three Meetings in Ord Monday

Conference President Gives Report on European Trip.

The Seventh annual seminar of the Women's Society of Christian Service met at the Ord Methodist church, Monday, Sept. 17, for the first of three meetings in the Grand Island district. The other two were at Gibbon, Sept. 18, and North Platte, Sept. 19.

Mrs. Orin Kellison, Ord, district vice president, acted as chairman throughout the entire day. The morning program was as follows: Registration; organ prelude, Mrs. Ed Swopes; devotions, Mrs. I. L. Labart, Grand Island, conference spiritual life secretary.

"Churches For Our Country Needs," Mrs. Albert Osborn, Grand Island, district treasurer. "The Family—A Christian Concern," Mrs. Gaylord Hoine, Lexington, district recording secretary.

Introduction of conference officers, district officers, local W. S. C. S. president, Mrs. John Haskell, Rev. and Mrs. Keith Shepherd, and roll call of towns; Mrs. Leslie Nash played a cello solo, accompanied by Betty Luann Nash; "How Do You Rate," Mrs. Gerald Young, Lexington, district promotion secretary.

Eleven workshops were in progress for an hour, then 108 ladies attended the noon luncheon served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church.

The afternoon session convened at 1:15 and read as follows: prelude, Mrs. Ed Swopes; devotions, Mrs. Labart, "Latin America," Mrs. Kenneth Dryden, Kearney, district secretary of literature and publications; "The Book of Acts," Mrs. Orin Kellison; Mrs. Paul Bleach sang, "In the Garden of Tomorrow," accompanied by Mrs. Swopes; "Together We Lift," Mrs. Albert Osborn; registration.

122 ladies from 22 towns within the district and two towns outside the district, including three conference and ten district officers, was reported.

The feature of the day was the report of the conference president, Mrs. Wayne Harrington, York, on her very recent trip to Europe where she attended the Ecumenical conference at Oxford, England. Among the other countries she visited were Germany, France, Norway and Switzerland. In her report she mentioned the theme of the seminar, "The Church On You Doth Wait."

The closing meditation was by Mrs. Stanley Thornton, Grand Island, district spiritual life secretary.

Ushers for the day were Mrs. Lores McMinds, Mrs. Ralph Craig, Mrs. Caryn Cummins, and Mrs. Dean Hallock. There were representatives from 22 towns present. About 125 were registered.

New Citizens, All Boys

Three boys were born in the Co-op hospital last week, who no doubt several years from now will take unto themselves the task and pleasure of helping to shape the affairs of the state and nation. They are Spencer Anthony, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douthitt, who was born September 17, and weighed eight pounds and nine ounces; Dean Gerald, who was born September 15, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barr, of North Loup, and who weighed seven pounds and seven ounces; and Gary Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huebner, of Ord, whose birthday is September 13, and who weighed eight pounds and four ounces.

'Invincible' Class of 1901 Holds Reunion in Ord Sept. 12; Eight Are Present

Fifty years ago in 1901, these graduated from the Ord high school a class of 24 young people, who called themselves the "Invincibles." There were 15 boys in this group and nine girls, the largest class up to that time and for many years after to graduate. On Wednesday evening, September 12, eight members of this class gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Parkins, the former Ann Pardum, for a long planned reunion.

The dinner was served by the Presbyterian ladies, the decorations being in purple and gold, the class colors. Personalized napkins, with the word, "Invincibles" were used.

During the evening, there was given a memorial to those of the class, nine in number, who had died during the 50 years. This was prepared and presented by Mamie Harris, who came purposely for this reunion from her home in Portland, Ore.

The devotionals, once a regular part of the morning exercises, were given by Mrs. Ava Clement Johnson of North Loup. Mrs. Johnson chose as her Scripture, 2nd Corinthians, 13, since this was the chapter always chosen by her favorite teacher.

The rest of the evening was spent in reading the five letters received from members who could not attend, and in looking over the pictures sent in. The program was arranged by Mrs. Louise Brian Allen, Stanton. After the letters had been read and comments made, she called on each to tell of their lives following graduation and after each talk, gave a toast to the speaker.

On Thursday the members of the class, who were still in Ord, drove about the city, following a brunch at the New Cafe, at which time Mrs. G. R. Gard was hostess. Among those visited during the day was Bud Shirley. In the evening the group were again at the New Cafe for dinner at which the out of town members were hostesses. On Friday they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Mensing of

Nebraska Survey Trip Delayed Year

The "Nebraska in the Making" trip planned for next week under sponsorship of the Nebraska Reclamation association has been postponed until next year, it was learned this week.

Lack of time for business and industrial organizations to make arrangements for representation on the trip was given as the reason.

The trip, by train and auto, had been designed to look over the state agricultural resources, view areas proposed for irrigation under the Pick-Stoan plan, and show the benefits of present irrigation.

North Loup's Popcorn Days Great Success

Golden Anniversary of Fete Is Widely Attended; Many Floats

Traditions and customs which have gone into the making of North Loup's fall festival, Popcorn Days, for the past 50 years, were again used this year to make the Golden Jubilee celebration the success that it was.

The celebration got off to a good start on Tuesday, Sept. 11, when the crowd was much larger than usual. Entries for the various exhibits were put into place and popcorn was given out. The free sacks were distributed earlier this year than usual because the larger crowd demanded it. In the evening a big rain, measuring 1.62, fell which caused concern. The next two days were delightful.

Theresa McCall Is Pop Corn Queen for '51

Large Audience Sees Crowning Ceremony Wednesday.

Theresa McCall, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Tolbert of North Loup, was crowned Pop Corn Queen for 1951, in a fitting ceremony Wednesday evening. The progressive club had arranged the ceremony, which took place on the platform south of the community building before a large crowd.

C. J. Goodrich as master of ceremonies introduced the past queens, as they came to the platform with a lighted candle which was placed on the large three-tier cake decorated with gold.

Donnie Smith Krudop of Newark, N. J., queen of 1925, was first; 1926 was Merle Davis of North Loup; 1927 was Lois Almy Hedlon, 1927; Louise Hutchins Brennick, 1928; Dorothy Nelson Knapp, Ord, 1929; Ruth Burbank Spieder, Burbank, Calif., 1930; Kathrine Anderson, Mesa, Calif., 1931; Inez Hutchins Fox, Gary, Ind., 1932; Vesta Peterson Ingraham, North Loup, 1933; Mary Ann Barz, 1933; Onahar, Paula, Johns, 1934; Cora, Corvallis, Ore.; Maxine Barber, Vallejo, Calif., 1937; Dorothy Eyerly Barnett, Alonquin, Ill., 1938;

Ersel Goodrich Jorgensen, of North Loup, 1939; Mavis Schudel Jeffries, North Loup, 1940; Berniece Wilson Sintek, North Loup, 1941; Darlene Mulligan Goodrich, North Loup, 1942; Maxine Copeland Zyttek, Elba, 1942; Lois Barber Swenson, North Loup, 1943; Adela Walker Kretzler, Ord, 1945; Donna Manchester Sack, Belvoir, Va., 1946; Phyllis Babcock Clement, North Loup, 1947; Delores Williams, North Loup, 1948; Beverly Goodrich Stillman, North Loup, 1949; Barbara Hudson, North Loup, 1950.

Fifteen of the former queens took part in the ceremony. Barbara Hudson as last years queen, presented the scepter to the new queen and gave the crown, which she has worn the past year.

Miss McCall is a graduate of North Loup schools in 1950. She attended university summer school the term of 1950 and last year and again this year has been successfully teaching in the Riverdale district.

Of special interest to Mrs. Myra Thorngate Barber, formerly of North Loup, and now an employee in the news department of the Quiz, is the fact that every year, since 1929, up to this year, she has assisted in the ceremonies doing with the coronation of the Popcorn queen.

Blue Rock Shoot Set for Sept. 30

September 30 has been set as the date for the first blue rock shoot of the season in Ord. The shoot, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion will be held at the new permanent shooting grounds of the posts, at the Ord airport.

Zikmunds Get Antelope

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zikmund have an antelope to show for the week-long vacation they spent in Wyoming recently. The Zikmunds did a lot of fishing and hunting in the Douglas, Wyo., vicinity, part of the time in the company of Homer Mauer, former Ord resident, who operates an appliance store in Douglas.

Queen Theresa Receives Crown

Miss Theresa McCall is crowned Queen of the 1951 Golden Anniversary Pop Corn Days celebration of North Loup. Placing the ceremonial crown is C. J. Goodrich, long time North Loup resident, who has attended all 50 of the past celebrations.

Burwell. Both Wednesday and Thursday night, Miss Harris, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Bundy of Oakland, Calif., and Mrs. Hardy of Sidney were guests at the Ord hotel. Mrs. Hardy returned to her home Friday, Mrs. Bundy planned to remain here a few days, later going back to California, making several stops on the way. Miss Harris was a weekend guest of Mrs. Johnson in North Loup. Others who attended the dinner from out of town left immediately after the evening's entertainment for their homes, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Davis, who went to North Loup.

Of those who attended the gathering Wednesday evening, A. V. Mensing lives in Burwell, where he is a prominent cattle man. John Rockhold, the only other of the "boys" present, lives in Comstock, where he operates a drug store and his wife is postmistress. The Mensings have four children, the Rockholds, none.

Mamie Harris, Portland, Ore., has taught school for 39 years, 33 of these in the Portland school system. For a few terms she was in Oregon country schools, then in Elgin, Ore., for two years, and in LeGrand, Ore., for three more years. For 20 years she remained in one school, and in two more years, she was head teacher in a different city school. The last 11 years of her teaching career were given over to instructing history, social science and language arts. She has since retired.

Clara Boydston Hardy lives in Sidney. Her husband is a well known business man and Mrs. Hardy is active in bridge clubs. She has four children. She had not been in Ord, since her marriage of 1909.

Nora Waters, Bundy lives in Oakland, Calif. She has three children. She worked at one time on the Ord Quiz, with Wm. Hasel and later on the Ord Journal with Horace Davis. Mrs. Bundy says her duties were varied and ran from writing and setting locals, making the trains, reading proof and cleaning the lamp. Her husband, who has since died, was a railroad man and the family lived in several different places. After moving to California to make her home, she worked as a practical nurse.

Anne Purdum Parkins has always lived in Ord, where her husband is an operator. She is active in gardening and she also is a club member. The Parkins have three children.

Louise Beran Allen lives in Stanton. Her husband is a doctor and recently celebrated the 50th anniversary of his entrance into medicine. They have two children.

Ava Clement Johnson lives in North Loup. She is a music teacher and is active in church, club and community work. Her husband died two years ago. She has four children.

Only one of the teachers of this class of '01 was present, H. M. Davis of Lincoln. Mr. Davis is at present an organizer of executive clubs and travels extensively.

Five members were unable to attend and so sent letters to be read. One was from Will Patty of Chicago. Mr. Patty is now retired but he was employed for 13 years with Swift Co. Other communications were received from Will Watt of Seattle, Wash., who was district manager of the New York Life Insurance Co., at the time of his retirement; Earl Mickelwait, who is in real estate in Long View, Wash.; Rev. George Nethery of Marysville, Tenn. Rev. Nethery is a retired Presbyterian preacher. He is highly educated and went to Scotland for special training. Mrs. Julia Focht Osborne wrote from her home in Evanston, Wyo. She also sent a series of pictures which were very interesting. These pictures showed her life from her graduation until the present time. One picture was inscribed, "Old age is creeping up." The last picture in the group was entitled, "Old age has crept."

Two members were unable to attend, nor were they heard from. These were Horace Robbins of Omaha and Ed Anderson of Elmhurst, Ill.

During the many reminiscences which were exchanged during the time spent together, it was recalled that Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Allen and the Robbin twins had started in the first grade together and had remained together throughout their school life of 12 years. It was also told that the boys of the class would challenge the rest of the school to athletic matches and that they always won the contests. Those who assisted in the office recalled that the scholastic averages were high and that at least one half of the group were in the 90s in their class standings.

Those present also remembered the first break in their class, the death of Dora Reithardt, who died during the Christmas holidays while they were in the 10th grade. The entire class attended the funeral and sat in a group.

Others who attended the dinner Wednesday evening besides the class were Dr. Parkins, Mrs. Rockhold, Dr. Allen, Mrs. H. M. Davis, Mrs. A. V. Mensing.

There were but four teachers in the high school at that time. Two have been mentioned. The others, Supt. C. O. Anderson and Miss Thompson have died.

The following memorial was a part of the program given. This is printed by request of the class.

In Memoriam -
The 13th chapter of the 1st Corinthians brings to mind our "Three Graces," two of whom, "Faith" and "Love," are with those who hold loving memory.

Alice Armstrong passed away long ago. She devoted many years to the care of her father and mother and to making a home for her brother. At the time of her death she was serving as a librarian in Kimball, Nebraska.

Lillian Johnson Williamson passed away in the summer of 1917, after a long illness. Her keen intellect and gracious womanhood were consecrated to the task of being a good wife to a minister, and a good mother to her children.

Irving Honnol passed away several years ago in Escondido, Calif., after a very short illness. He was a man of sterling character and the friend of all who knew him.

Roy Wilbur Anderson, one of the youngest members of the "Invincible" class, died in Omaha in January of 1931. His wife and two daughters survive him. He studied civil engineering and was employed by the Standard Bridge Co. of Omaha, and became an executive in that company.

Ed Kotes died June 8, 1921. He was a wizard with figures and calculations and for some years was statistical engineer with the Railway commission. Later he went to Washington as statistician with the Interstate Commerce commission. While in Wilmington, Delaware, in connection with his work for the I. C. C., he was drowned while trying to save the life of a friend who was calling for aid.

His widow was given the Carnegie Medal for Bravery, honoring his sacrifice.

Harold Robbins died suddenly some years ago at the age of 50. His wife is a teacher in Bensenville, Ill. One of his sons, Weston, is with Standard Oil in Brazil, the other, Dr. Gordon R., is

Hilding Pearson Owned Mystery Eyes

The mystery eyes in last week's advertisement of Dr. Glen Auble belonged to Hilding Pearson, Ord mortician. Pearson, a native of Wahoo, has been a member of the board of education of Ord public schools for many years, and during the war years acted as volunteer assistant football coach. He is active in Rotary and Methodist church activities, Boy Scout and Cub Scout work.

Mrs. W. F. Fafeta returned Saturday night from Omaha where she had spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reed. A friend, Kay O'Keefe, drove back with her from Omaha and remained here for the week end, the guest of the Fafetas.

St. Wenceslaus Celebration Declared Big Success; Full Day of Entertainment

In the girls' foot race, Marianno Ptacnik came in first, followed by Barbara Waldmann and Margaret Waldmann.

In the boys' foot race Johnny Marsh, Bobby Ptacnik and Donald Vancura were first, second and third respectively.

In the race for all foot race, Larry Waldmann, Ernie Moravec and Francis Kinish came in that order.

A bicycle parade and drill proved attractive despite inclement weather and the flu bug which hampered preparations, and practice. Those taking part were Larry Waldmann, Robert Ptacnik, Jimmy Waldmann, Margaret Regdil, Margaret and Connie Waldmann, Lenny Weyerka, Marianne Ptacnik, Barbara Waldmann, Daniel Setlik and Alan Waldmann.

Ten huskies from Elyria pitted their strength against ten from Granium and won two pulls out of three in the tug of war. They claim they can even up the score at the Elyria celebration next Sunday.

Several roosters were turned loose and were captured by Francis Kinish, Beverly Vancura and Lenny Weyerka and Eugene Micek. Some of the roosters are still at large and Elmer Parkos and Elmer Lukesh are out running after them yet.

Verna Sobon carried off the prize for the potato race.

Four popular ball teams showed off their skill—Ord, Ravenna, Comstock and Granium. Ord tripped Comstock, Ravenna beat Granium, and in the finals, Ravenna beat Ord.

The blue rock shoot proved an attraction to a great number of contestants.

WELL! what do you know?

2. WHAT IS J-FACTOR?
3. CAN WATCHING TELEVISION HURT YOUR EYES?
1. WHO USUALLY WINS FAMILY ARGUMENTS?

(1.) Nobody wins family arguments, according to Paul H. Fluck, M.D., who asserts that juvenile delinquency begins more often in the home, in an exchange of caustic remarks between parents and high spirited children, than it does in taverns. The only champion of family arguments worthy of recognition is the one who can hold his tongue the longest, or better still, the one who never participates at all. Doctor Fluck says. (2.) J-factor, explains Rear Adm. Harold Cope, USN, Ret., and Capt. Walter Karig, USNR, in their book Battle Submerged, is sailor talk for Providence. The authors tell us that the J-factor figured heavily in 11 separate appendectomies, completed in enemy waters with improvised instruments by various pharmacist's mates in a submarine service during World War II. In all these amateur surgical operations there was not one fatality. A submarine crew does not include a medical officer or a chaplain. (3.) Television watching itself is not harmful to the eyes, according to an article by Ruth L. Pevsner in Today's Health, but it often makes obvious and emphasizes a weakness that is already present. Watching television, according to experts, is a skill that must be acquired. It is not just passive "seeing", for when we watch video, our eyes are almost still, while the pictures on the screen move. In reading or watching active sports or merely looking out of a window, our eyes are in constant motion. It is the unrecognition of watching a TV screen for a long time at one sitting that makes us feel our eyes are troubling us.

Ord went into the lead in the Central Nebraska league when they defeated Loup City, with whom they were tied, in a very fast game, score 8 to 6. Pidge Johnson obliged with the deciding blow, a home run. — Miss Cecelia Absalon became the bride of Frank J. Benda Aug. 31, Judge H. Gudmundsen performing the ceremony at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Louie Mazza. — Plans were complete for laying the corner stone of Ord's new city hall, which was to be laid at 7:30 p. m., Sept. 8, with the chief of the Lincoln fire department present as one of the speakers. — Plans were well underway for the big booster trip to be taken in the interests of the Valley County fair. It is said on good authority that Bert Boquet went along in the capacity of the Wild Man of Borneo. — W. L. McNutt returned from the big show at Sedalia, Mo., where he acted as judge of the Poland Chinas to the satisfaction of all concerned. — The Ord fire department had a new chemical company and Chief A. J. Shirley appointed Guy Burrows, Warren Lincoln, Archie Washburn and Tom Wright as drivers. — The one arriving first to act. — The chemical men of the company were Archie Bradt, Charles Daggett, Jake Hoffman, and W. E. Weirsen. The hose men were Joe Selters, Roy Drake, Cecil Clark and Charles Hunt.

Following the parade of youngsters, about 50 riders passed in a review on their splendid horses. — This part of the festival is but seven years old but is very popular and is a large part of the entertainment offered, besides bringing many to North Loup. Vernon Thomas was in charge.

Represented in the show were riders from Loup City, Burwell, Arcadia, Ord, Sargent, Comstock, Shelton, Taylor, Ansley and North Loup.

Entertainment on the platform both afternoons and evenings was in charge of Martin Dunklau. Several numbers by amateurs were followed by John Sanna, and his troupe from Omaha. Of special interest was the puppet show by Dean Short and the dances by Judy Jones also from Omaha. The magician, Howard Hartington, advertised to be here, was unable to come and John Sanna took his place.

On Thursday evening a Barber Shop quartet from Kearney gave several selections which everyone enjoyed.

Exhibits in the ladies division with Mrs. Ign. chairman, while not as large as some years, were unusually good. A special exhibit of old-time quilts and rugs drew a great deal of attention.

The 4-H exhibit was excellent. Four clubs with thirty contestants entered. This division paid out $42.25 in prizes.

A flower show, a canning exhibit, fancy work, a figurine display and metal work were exhibited. The school exhibit in the library room of the community building was in charge of Miss Alice Johnson and was of extra good quality.

The agriculture exhibit in charge of Don Clement, assisted by Ed Burrows, was fine but much of the corn exhibited was not mature.

Fine music by the Burwell band on Wednesday and by the Ord and Scotia bands on Thursday were an addition to the program. North Loup's band was not able to play as the school exhibit was in Omaha with his little daughter who is at the Children's hospital with polio.

1300 pounds of corn were popped, sacked and given away. The corn was furnished by the Paramount Processing Co. Joe Veleba and Paul Maiden used 215 lbs. of lard, 40 pounds of butter and 45 pounds of salt to make it delicious. The corn popped almost 100 per cent and very few old maids were in the sacks. Nearly 23,000 sacks were used.

Most of the eleven hundred people signed the register at the community building. A request for those attending all fifty celebrations to register brought the however, and the crowds were bigger than ever.

Among the traditions started years ago was the juvenile parade, and the one this year was no exception to the one given throughout the years, when many of those who are parents now were small and took part. The parade, in charge of Mrs. Carroll Swenson and Mrs. Pete Zynke, started from the Community hall and was held as usual on Wednesday afternoon. It was led by the Burwell band. Those who placed were:

Following names: Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Robbins, Frank Johnson, Mrs. Maggie Wetzel, Floyd Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox, Mrs. Roy Williams, Mrs. George E. Johnson, Carl Stude, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutelins, Mrs. E. J. Babcock, Dell Barber, George Maxson and Cliff Goodrich. No doubt there were others who did not register.

Fourteen states were represented in the register. — L. A. Manchester and Frank Johnson were the only two present who helped to start the annual celebration fifty years ago. — J. Babcock, W. G. Hood, Geo. E. Johnson, Clyde Wellman, S. L. Clement, early committee have passed on.

Judge of the show was R. E. Leach of Burwell and Charles Zanger of North Loup was official announcer.

Featured during the afternoon horse show were numbers by Miss Dianna Beck, tap dancer and baton twirler of Scotia, and the three Glasier brothers of Spalding with their electric guitars and vocal numbers.

In the competition which followed the parade the following were winners: — Parade, Alvina Teichmiller, Loup City. — Potato Race, North Loup team. — Men's pleasure class, Everett Howell, blue ribbon. — Clover leaf barrel race, Ward Heplige, Sargent. His time was 19.3 seconds. — Gear race, Roscoe Bristol, Ansley. He also placed first in the tug of war event. — Kid's pony class, Ronnie Boyce, North Loup. — Ladies pleasure class, Clarice Fiala, Ord, blue ribbon. — Stalks race, "Dude" Leach, Burwell, whose time was 12.5 seconds. — Children's horsemanship honors, Pat Higgs, Burwell. — Rescue pickup, Archie Shaffer and Pat Higgs, Burwell. — Western reining class, Eugene Koelin, Ansley, blue ribbon. — Ladies string and nail race, Janet Markricka, North Loup. — Best matched pair, Violet Obermiller and Alvina Teichmiller, Loup City. — Relay race, Burwell riding team. — In the evening came another tradition, the crowning of the Pop Corn queen.

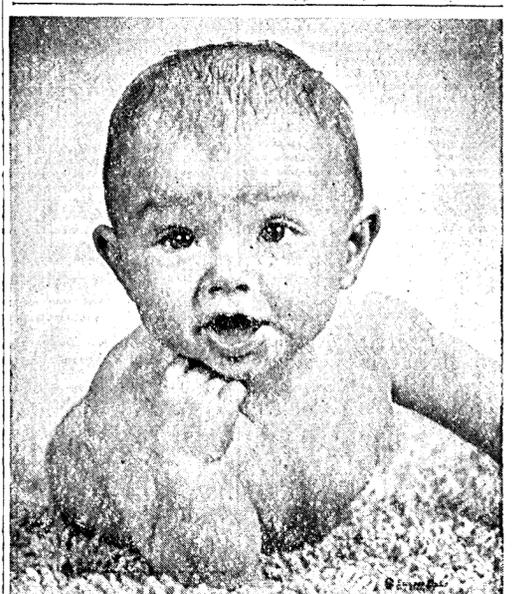

On Thursday was the float parade, which was in charge of the Portnightly club. This was led by the Scotia and Ord bands. As usual the queen's float was the first in line. This was "a wonderful one horse show," in which rode the queen of 1925, Mrs. Donnie Smith Krudop, dressed in the style of 50 years ago, and Theresa McCall, crowned the night before as the queen of 1951, who wore the coronation robes.

In the school floats shown, first place went to Barker district, taught by Mrs. Evelyn Willoughby, showing, "Sing a Song of Sixpence" second to Riverdale, taught by Theresa McCall, and showing, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary."

Funeral Rites Are Held for Charlie Bridge

North Loup Man Had Lived There Since Year 1928.

Funeral services were held in the North Loup Methodist church Monday afternoon for Charlie Bridge, who died in his home in the 12 District, Wednesday, Sept. 13. The sermon was presented by Rev. Carl Harbour of Harrison, an old friend of the family. Rev. J. Arthur Miller of the local church assisted in the service.

Bearers were Ernest Nulton, Ray Knapp, Adolph Hellewege, Harvey Barr, Benny Jensen and William Schauer. Mrs. Harold Hoepfner and Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson accompanied by Mrs. Ava Johnson, sang in duet, "Going Down the Valley." "Beyond the Sunset" and "Face to Face." Burial was made in Hillside cemetery, North Loup. The arrangements were made by the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary.

Charlie Bridge was born in St. Libory, Nebr., May 3, 1881, his parents being Frank and Anna Haggart Bridge. He passed away suddenly in his home in North Loup Wednesday, Sept. 12, 1935, following a severe heart attack aged 70 years, 4 months and 10 days.

His younger life was spent in St. Libory, where he farmed on various places.

On March 10, 1910, he was united in marriage to Emma Larson of Ord. The fall of the same year, the young couple fled on a homestead in Keyline, Wyo. The following spring they moved there and remained for 17 years.

In the spring of 1928, Mr. and Mrs. Bridge moved to the farm across from the District 42 school house, which place has been their home ever since.

Mr. Bridge received his schooling in St. Libory. He was baptized in membership in the Methodist church in North Loup.

Five years ago in January he suffered a stroke, from which he never recovered. His father, mother, six brothers and an infant daughter have preceded him in death. Left are his wife, his two sons, Delbert, of North Loup and Willis of Tucson, Ariz., five grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Stanley Stallman, Mansville, Wyo., and Mrs. Jane Calvin Livermore of California; also one brother, Roy, of Fremont.

Shriners Plan With Neophytes Here

Pioneer Federal Highway in State Was Omaha-Fort Kearny Road

The pioneer federal "highway" in Nebraska was the Omaha-Fort Kearny road, authorized in 1855 as part of an extensive road-building program provided for by the 33rd Congress. Constructed by the Army engineers, the road was primarily a military one, its principal function being to facilitate the supply of Fort Kearny.

Although the Omaha-Fort Kearny road was designed primarily for military purposes, the civilian population of Nebraska territory was much interested in it. Essentially, the road was but an improvement of the old Mormon Trail, since 1847 an important avenue of travel to the West.

As is true of roads everywhere, there was much discussion locally regarding the merits of the route selected. Residents of the South Platte section of the territory were disappointed that federal funds were to be used to improve transportation in the North Platte region—a few years later Nebraska City was to advertise its road to Fort Kearny as better and more direct than the military road.

Capt. John H. Dickerson surveyed the route during the summer of 1856. His report, which appears in the Senate Executive Documents of the 35th Congress, 1st session, contains many interesting observations regarding Nebraska territory. He wrote that while the eastern part of the territory was "fast settling up with an industrious and enterprising class of pioneers... the scarcity of timber, stone, and coal, and the remoteness of the country from a market other than home consumption will operate against its ever becoming thickly settled."

By present-day standards, the cost of the road was infinitesimal. An appropriation of $50,000 paid the expenses of the survey and sufficient construction including bridges across the Elkhorn river and a number of creeks) to provide a dry-weather road. Capt. Dickerson recommended an additional $25,000 to improve certain low sections in the road which were muddy in wet weather. This, together with a recommendation for an appropriation of $85,000 for bridging the Loup fork, was presented to Congress.

Congress took no action of these requests. Yielding to pressure from California, that body abandoned the slow, mechanical methods of the Army engineers in favor of the speedy improvement by civilian contractors.

In Howard County; Are Picked Up Magazine Salesmen Make Trouble

Crews of magazine salesmen invaded the county the past week. One of them caused a near riot in the St. Libory neighborhood, when the farmers there suspected the itinerant salesmen. As a result, three salesmen, John Morris, crew chief, M. G. Ringo and Richard Kekar, were apprehended by County Sheriff Dan Schenck. A large number of farmers appeared to protest their methods. The questioning by County Attorney R. A. Haggart continued from morning through the afternoon hours, Saturday.

From the reports it is stated the salesmen used very sympathetic methods to entice the St. Libory farmers to purchase magazines from them. Their plea, they were veterans and desired to start a service station near the Veterans hospital in Grand Island and a garage in St. Paul, and its effect. The farmers subscribed as much as $19 to $50 for magazines of their selection. Each subscription entitled the salesman to so many points and with the bonus would help reach their goals of the service stations.

The farmers after conversing with one another detected the stories were not the same and sought the aid of the law enforcing authorities. As a result, some of them received a refund. Others had Atty. Haggart write the Union Circulation Co., in New York, to cancel their subscriptions and refund the payments. The checks unfortunately were made payable to the salesmen and not to the supplying firm.

The salesmen hired the services of Doby & Doby, Atlys, to represent them in this instance. The technicality of the law made this incident a difficult situation. Hinerants can sell and deliver their wares without any violation. Obtaining a sale under false pretenses is difficult to prove. The salesmen's overall manager, is W. R. Agee. Home addresses of the group is said to be Texas.

Some of the St. Libory farmers proceeded to protect themselves by stopping payment on the checks they had given the salesmen. In most instances, these checks had already been cashed, either at a bank or business establishment. The Zlomke Service Station in this city, cashed a $13.00 check, written upon the Citizens National Bank of this city. This check was made good.

Howard county folks can protect themselves from "sob stories" that weaken their good judgment, by refusing to purchase anything from strangers.—Howard County Herald.

North Loup Wins Season Opener

Dannebrog Is Victim in First Game of Season.

North Loup's Challengers started the 1951 football season in the desired way, storming past the Dannebrog Danes 48-0 in a six-man contest Thursday night. It was an East-Central conference game.

The Challenger had a 20-0 lead at the end of the first period and continued to stretch the margin by scoring in each of the remaining quarters.

Rich Hawkes, who was converted from a center to a halfback, and Gayle Sintek, quarterback, sparked the North Loup surge and Gene Larkin, Challenger end, also turned in a top game.

A 50-yard run by Hawkes for one of the touchdowns was the game's most spectacular play.

Dannebrog was hampered by the fact that several players were unable to see action because of ineptibilities.

Score by quarters:

Farwell Takes Sherman-Howard League Crown

Farwell sacked up the Sherman-Howard league play-offs Sunday when they dumped Ashton 3-2, to take the series in two straight games. The game was a close, well played battle with Ashton showing the way for 5 1/2 innings.

D. Lukasiewicz gave Farwell a 2 to 1 lead in the 6th with his long homer with one mate on base, to turn the tide in Farwell's favor. Ashton tied the score in the 8th, and might have scored more but good relief pitching by Farwell's Dan Dilla, with loaded bases, put out the Ashton rally.

A walk to Junior Dilla who scored the winning run, and hits by Dale Olsen and D. Lukasiewicz proved to be Ashton's downfall in the 8th.

D. Lukasiewicz, with 3 hits in 4 trips, paced Farwell's hitting while Cady with 3 out of 3 led Ashton.

Farwell's Junior Dilla and Udell Krenzlack, who were both severely injured in last Sunday's lopsided battle, took part in this final game and gave a good account of themselves.

The line score:
Ashton ... 000 100 10-2 6 3
Farwell ... 000 002 01x-3 6 3
Batteries: Jakobowski & Bydalek, G. Wysocki, D. Dilla & D. Lukasiewicz, R. Borzych.

Coach W. L. Zorn's players led all the way after racking up one touchdown in the opening canto. Gothenburg added another in the second period and chalked up two additional scores in each of the remaining frames.

Duane Dethlefsen scored twice for the winners on runs of 55 and 60 yards. Don Ayers added two TD's on a pair of 20-yard jaunts and Jim Davenport crashed over from close in for the other two Gothenburg tallies.

Loup City's only score came in the third period when Dale Lewandowski tallied from three yards out.

Gothenburg had 10 first downs and Loup City made eight. Long Gothenburg runs accounted for the closeness in the first-down department.

Score by quarters:
Loup City ... 0 0 6 0-6
Gothenburg ... 7 7 13 13-40

Indians Scalp Minutemen, 18-6

Touchdowns in each of the last two periods provided the margin as Broken Bow's Indians launched the 1951 football season with an 18-6 victory over the Lexington Minutemen at Lexington. Lexington is the next opponent for the Ord Chanticleers.

Fumbleitis by the Minutemen kept Lexington in hot water much of the evening.

Broken Bow tallied first in the opening period and held a 6-0 lead until the third frame when Dick Nutter bounced off tackle for 55 yards for Lexington to tie the score.

The Indians went ahead to stay later in the third period when Bob Anderson, who had floated past the safety man, pulled in a long pass for a score on a play which had started at midfield. Broken Bow added its padding in the fourth frame.

Score by quarters:
Broken Bow ... 6 0 6 6-18
Lexington ... 0 0 6 0-6

St. Paul Beats Genoa in Opener

St. Paul high school's footballers got off to a winning start, defeating Genoa 12-0 in the season's opener Friday evening.

Touchdowns in the first and third periods provided the margin for Coach Cal Bones' Wildcat crew.

Bob Starr scored the first touchdown after eight minutes of the first period, squawping around end for 40 yards and the initial tally.

A pass from Cliff Olsufka to Frank Edwards in the third period accounted for the other score. The play covered about 10 yards and climaxed at 40-yard St. Paul drive.

Genoa's only threat came in the second period, but the losers were bothered much of the evening by fumbles.

Ray Wadas and Bert Placke, St. Paul tackles, sparked the line play.

Score by quarters:
St. Paul ... 6 6 0 0-12

Yes! FERTILIZING Your Winter Wheat Pays

Fertilizing winter wheat paid at a ratio of $6.00 for every $1.00 invested.

We PROVED the value of nitrogen phosphate again this past harvest.

Wheat that had been nitrogen-phosphated yielded up to 15 bushels more than that not receiving any fertilizer because NITROGEN-PHOSPHATE:

(1) Develops Root Structure.	(4) Better Quality Grain.
(2) Plants Better Utilize Moisture available in the fall.	(5) Gives Vigorous Starts to Plants.
(3) Makes a Hardier Plant that can withstand winter killing.	(6) HIGHER YIELDS.

NITROGEN-PHOSPHATE MUST BE APPLIED THIS FALL AT SEEDING OR BEFORE FOR MAXIMUM RETURNS

Ask your neighbor who fertilized last year about their wheat yields and stands, where nitrogen-phosphate had been applied—Produce all possible on a minimum of acres.

Order Now, to Assure Yourself of a Supply of Nitrogen-Phosphate, Triple Superphosphate, and Ammonium Sulphate.

Supplies Are Shorter Than Ever Before and Demand Greater!

Fiala Farm Could Have Been Million Dollar California Tract; But Family Not Sorry

The Mystery Farm pictured in the Valley County Implement Co.'s ad in last week's Quiz was correctly identified Thursday as the old Tully home place. The picture was recognized by Mrs. Edith Tully Fiala and her daughter, Clarice. The place is situated two miles southeast of Elyria. The farm, which now consists of 240 acres, was at one time much larger but has been split into smaller acreages.

A bit of history is connected with this farm. Mrs. Fiala says that her family lived in Geneseo, Ill., and desired to buy a western farm. Her father wrote to Peter Mortensen, who told him of the place. In the meanwhile, Mr. Tully had taken an option on a piece of land in San Francisco, overlooking the bay. The decision was left to Mrs. Fiala's mother, who choose Nebraska. The farm came into the Tully possession in 1862, and was purchased from Dave Post. Since that time, the land in San Francisco has increased in value to millions of dollars, since it is in the section of the city overlooking the bay. The farm is worked by Joe Gregory. It is made up of pasture and farming land. Corn and small grain is raised. It is partially under irrigation.

Sign of the times---

Higher Liability Rates

Stock insurance companies have raised auto liability rates in Iowa, and mutual companies are expected to follow suit. The same thing is going on in many other states. The reason is simple. Forty of the country's largest casualty companies lost a total of 23 million dollars in the first half of 1951, a goodly share of it on auto insurance.

Over a period of years, the cost of auto insurance has been going up. Repairs cost more, and today's policies for the same thing are more difficult to repair. But the principal reason for the less on automobile has a weak insurance market. The jury is clearly in favor of the plaintiff. Even if the jury is inclined to return a verdict for him, the insurance company's money. Actually, of course, it's everybody's money, including the jurors, as the higher insurance rates show. — Omaha World Herald.

Nebraska Highways

Nebraska highways are a problem, and a problem not to be lightly dismissed. The trend through the years has been to turn hauling of nearly every kind from the railroad to the trucks. Today, in many communities once served by the railroad, only the trucks remain as a means of freight transportation, and the bus and auto as a means of handling the passenger traffic. All this transportation once was handled by the railroads over roads which they maintained at their own expense. The development of our highways took this business away from the railroads and gave it to fleets of trucks and buses operating over state highways, maintained at state expense. The result has been a tremendous increase in the cost of keeping the highways in usable condition.

In addition, the railroads have been taking up branch lines when the loss of business made such economy necessary. They have thus cut down the value of their holdings in the state, and in so doing have deprived counties affected of the taxes these corporations once paid on their lines running through many communities.

4. Check automatic control operation—an electrical storm could have burned out transformers or controls.
5. Have pilot lights lighted ahead of the rush season and burner adjustment checked.
6. Be sure that heating appliances are properly vented to the outside and draft is correct.

The above suggestions will save you time and money and will help you to enjoy better heating comforts.

For Dependable GAS Service

Thus, at a time increased traffic has made increased expenditures on our highways imperative, the various communities most affected have been deprived of a once rich source of revenue. No body can blame the railroads. No organization, large or small, can afford to run even a small part of its business at a loss over a period of years. Losses in one place would have to be made up by increased revenues in another, and this simply cannot be done.

We must face the facts. Highways are here to stay, and they must be kept in a constantly improving condition. It is ridiculous to build roads for the present, as has been proven by past experience. Today there is a general demand that the weights of trucks on the highways be increased to take care of future hauling needs. The time will soon come when loads on the highways will be double what they are today.

The only answer is the building of super-highways—highways that will be able to carry any conceivable load that may be placed on them. The cost of such highways is prohibitive, but they must be built if we are to continue to enjoy the way of life we have learned to enjoy. The trouble is, all available sources of revenue are now taxed to the limit, with little chance of increase in the future.

Eventually it will simmer down to the simple fact that those who use the highways will have to pay the expense of building and maintaining them. But who uses the highways? The answer is—everybody. If we hope to keep up with the rest of the nation in the building of newer and better highways, we will have to raise the funds ourselves, and by some form of taxation fair to all concerned.

It is aptly said that no form of taxation has ever proved popular. We pay taxes, but because we enjoy the process, but because we must. Taxes have infinite variety. There are local taxes, school taxes, county, state and national taxes, excise taxes, income taxes, inheritance taxes, wheel taxes, sales taxes, liquor and tobacco taxes, luxury taxes, and dozens of other taxes, all designed to separate the taxpayer from his money.

It is now conceded that anywhere from one fourth to one half of all a man's income goes for the payment of taxes in some form. It is also agreed that the percentage cannot be raised much higher without driving the nation into some form of socialism. But, if we are to have adequate roads in Nebraska, we must spend more money on them, and we must get more road building for each dollar of taxes spent.

The problem is really one for the legislators to solve. It is up to them to figure out where funds can be saved in other departments and turned into the highway department. The legislature should be given a free hand, and not be interfered with by groups with special interests at stake. The problem must be solved on the basis of the greatest good to the greatest number.

Farm Accidents

There has been an alarming increase in farm accidents during the past year, and deaths from this cause nearly equal those in the so-called police action in Korea. Such appalling loss of life has become a problem that the whole nation should bend its best energies to solve. It may be true that boys are permitted to use tractors at too early an age, and this is inadvisable. But it is also true that men of mature years are killed in the same kind of accidents.

Any machine with the power of a farm tractor is always a potential danger. So long as this danger is recognized and properly guarded against, the machines can be used in safety. But there comes a time in the life of every tractor operator when he may forget, just for a moment, that the implement is dangerous. It is in such times as these that all accidents occur. No man can foresee when they may occur.

A generation or more ago the only tractors were the steam traction engines. In most states a special steam engine's license was required to operate one of them. These rigs could make about 3 1/2 miles per hour while traveling, and developed not more than 20 horsepower while so developing. The modern tractor can develop four or five times as much power and can travel at a speed of 20 miles per hour or more.

Now, if a special license was required to operate the old steam tractor, what should be required to run the modern tractor, the modern passenger automobile? This is not written in criticism of the men or the driving tractors, but in hope that, in the writing, some life may be saved, some accident prevented.

In view of the fact that that useful implement, the tractor, can turn into a monster of destruction at a moment's notice, it is urged that the criterion of the operator be "eternal watchfulness." The Boy Scout motto would not be out of place. Be always prepared. Keep a constant check of the tractor to know everything is in perfect working order.

But, more than this, it is important to study the problem of who should be permitted to drive. It probably is true that some boys are as well qualified to drive as some men. The boys can see an emergency and act quicker than men can, but, on the other hand, the boy is likely to permit such emergencies to arise, as he is more likely to grow careless as he becomes familiar with the machine he runs.

There is no set age that a boy must attain to be qualified to run machinery on the farm. Some are more developed mentally at ten than are others at 20. Also, some men are mentally unfit to drive a tractor or a car when they should still be in the prime of life. The law sets 16 years as the age at which a boy may obtain a driver's license. It might be well to require a license for driving a tractor, not only of the boys, but of the men as well.

There are many other types of farm accidents that take a heavy toll of young lives. We need not be reminded of the four young people who lost their lives not long ago in a swimming accident. Quite a few perish while trying out rodeo stunts. Occasionally a child is kicked by a trusted family horse. Bonfires sometimes get out of control and destroy the persons who created them.

Paraphrasing, let us remember that "Eternal Vigilance is the Price of Safety."

FEDERAL LAND BANK

4% Loans

FIRST CHOICE

With Farmers and Ranchers

A 4% loan is a good loan . . . especially when it's a Federal Land Bank loan . . . your low interest of four per cent can never be higher for the entire life of the loan.

Payments are based on your land's normal income, averaging the bad years with the good. Each payment reduces the principal, thereby cutting the interest. You can take up to 40 years to pay off your loan—or you can pay up as fast as your income permits, without penalty.

That's why farmers and ranchers make a Federal Land Bank 4% loan their first choice. And that's why we invite you to come in and talk it over with us. No obligation of course.

Ward's Cookin' Column

Last week I told about the trip I made and got as far as Alliance, which is a big town and growing bigger. We got there just about dark, thanks to the clouds and the loss of an hour of time, at Halsey, I think. When we left over Highway 19 to the southwest of Alliance, it began to rain and it kept raining heavily nearly all the way to Minatare. We met Highway 26 directly east of Minatare, turned west there and went through to Minatare, with a side run of several miles to Bayard, about half way between. We also made a short trip south into Minatare, back again, then first north, then west into Scottsbluff.

Because of the rain we were not able to see much along the road. Unfortunately, I made the trip back over this part, Scottsbluff to Alliance, in the dark all the way. It was the only area on the entire trip that I didn't get a chance to see in the daylight. Since it is one of the most scenic parts of the state, I regretted it much. I regretted it much more when I got to the big bus depot at Scottsbluff. I was met there by Willie and Carlyle Williams, Roger Freeman and Allen Bales, the latter formerly of North Loup. We had dinner at the Eagle cafe, and I spent the night at the Emery hotel. Meals but the prices are higher than in this area.

Next morning I awoke at 6 a. m., dressed and went down to the hotel lobby, where I found I had not changed my watch, and it was 5 a. m., which is plenty early. In spite of that, I found quite a lot of nightowls running around the streets. The people out there are not bound by custom as much as we are here. They sleep when they please, eat when they please and talk as they please. They all speak to you when they meet you on the street, and expect you to answer. I got breakfast and then went window shopping about 6 a. m. I met a young fellow about 16 years old, I think. I said "Good Morning, Mr. Ward." He had no business to know my name, but he certainly used it.

About 7 a. m. I went over to the bus depot and the two Williams men took me down to Terrytown, where their garage is located, just across from Terrytown city hall. This is a very good building with a capacity for six buses, and Williams was talking to Terry Carpenter, who built it about building an addition to take care of his increasing business. After looking everything over there, we got into Carlyle's Cadillac and drove south several miles to the Wildcat Hills recreation grounds. The place is true to its name and the scenery truly wild. A fine view is obtained from the top of the range, both to the north and to the south. In the latter direction one looks into a vast valley with a range of high hills beyond. We were unable to pick out the town of Harrisburg but could see the tower of an oil well in that general direction.

There are many elk and deer in the recreation grounds, but we saw only one elk, and he was about half a mile away. Returning to Gering, we went west over Highway 86 and up to the top of Scottsbluff National monument. It had been there before, five times, but on each of those occasions I climbed the zigzag path up the east side, through the tunnel and on up on the west side of the spur. Back in 1935 with a man named McCormick, we went up there and cooked our lunch on top of the bluff, using a discarded shovel we found at the top. The terminus of the monument road is located where we cooked our meal. In fact, everything is very different than it used to be.

including the view from the top. We could see Chimney Rock to the southeast, but Laramie Peak, more than 100 miles to the northwest, was obscured by the haze.

We returned to town, and at noon I left on a bus piloted by Jim VanAirdale over the western extension of the PCT Stage Lines, Scottsbluff to Wheatland, Wyo. I have not mentioned that there were beets growing everywhere around Scottsbluff, and there were beets all the way to the Wyoming state line, with a few fields beyond. Mitchell, population 2,186, is a city of lovely homes and well-kept yards. There is a "Y" on the railroad just west of Mitchell and the highway crosses it twice, the bus having to stop at both crossings, according to federal law. The same is true north of Wheatland. It looks foolish to me, but that is what the law says.

After Mitchell comes Morrill, then Henry, which is set just inside the state line. It is strange how the appearance of the hills changes right on the state line. From there on west there is plenty of rocky outcrop, the grass is lighter and not so green, the ditches convey the water from Guernsey Dam, but it is not used much in the valley, at least on the north side of the river. Torrington, 3,247, is the next town, and it looks like a very busy place. Just west of the town is the State Experiment Farm of the University of Wyoming. There is quite a lot of nice valley land in this area, but it peters out as one goes farther west.

From there Highway 27 continues up the North Platte through Lodge Pole, Laramie and Guernsey. The road climbs steadily and the country becomes wilder and more rugged. The town of Guernsey is located to the south of the dam of the same name, and the view is hidden by hills. There are plenty of jack pines along the route, but beyond Guernsey the land is strictly range country. Highway 26 continues 13 miles west of Guernsey, where it unites with Highway 87. We turned south on Highway 87 and went 13 miles into Wheatland, all of it downhill. Wheatland is located on the Laramie river valley, and really is a wheat county. There I met Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Campbell. Joe is not known here, but Mrs. Campbell, the former Mae Davis, lived at Ord more than 40 years ago. Another Ord resident there, Ainslee Loren Davis, brother of Horace M. Davis, I was unable to locate in the ten minutes time I had there.

We returned to Scottsbluff over the same route, arriving shortly after 5 p. m. Saturday, and I left on a bus for Chadron by way of Alliance, about an hour later. The driver on this bus was Merle Woodard. As usual we ran into heavy rain. North of Bridgeport at the intersection of Highway 26 and 19, we waited for quite a while for the bus coming up to Scottsbluff from Denver. When it arrived we had the bus filled to capacity the rest of the way to Alliance. From Alliance the road runs north, first over Highway 2 and then over Highway 19, but there was little to see on a dark night.

I had the good fortune of having as a seat mate Dr. Charles W. Philipot, dean emeritus of Chadron State Teachers college, a teacher in the college for 32 years. The dean told me that the college is now building a combined auditorium and building of fine arts. This building is a block long and is costing more than half a million dollars. They are building a new Methodist church in Chadron to cost $100,000, he told me. The Presbyterians are building a church to cost nearly as much. Completed not long ago was the C. & N. W. station, a remodeling job. It looks so different from the usual railway station that I had to ask what it was. It looks like a two-story hotel, has offices on the second floor and the usual business below. It is painted a light gray with white trim, and shows how neat such buildings could be if the railroad companies wanted to make them neat.

I had only a short time to look over Chadron before the bus left Sunday morning, and my activities were confined to the business section. It is not a city, but just a great big town, and the business buildings I saw would hardly compare with those in Ord. Everything is clean and neat. They tell me that the college and residence sections of the city are well worth seeing, but I had no chance to see them. However, I did see Al Dandridge, colored night porter at the Balline hotel, and Al Huke, hotel proprietor and agent for the PCT lines, both very fine men. Another real fellow to know is John E. Borders, who runs the bus line from Crawford to Gordon. Oh, yes, I met Carl Hansen, once of Ord but now of Sargent, who got on the bus at Torrington, Wyo.

I might go on for hours about the beauties of the Pine Ridge country and Chadron state park, which is part of the Pine Ridge and a lovely place indeed. What's the use? I can't do it justice, but I advise Quiz readers to see it for themselves. Nebraska has beauties as well worth seeing as those in any state in the union. At Alliance I changed to the through bus from Scottsbluff and came on to Grand Island with Willie Williams, and we had a royal time of it, including a turkey dinner at Hyannis. The bus driver on the way back was Eldon Waldo.

I finally got home, traveling some 1,250 miles in three days, a strenuous trip for a young man. I took copious notes on the trip, and 40 photos, all of which are good—I hope. In all that time I did not see a bus driver take an unnecessary chance. It simply isn't done on PCT stages. I traveled on plenty of detours, and nearly all of them are between Ord and Grand Island. I saw a food truck upset in the ditch on one of the detours, driver unhurt but plenty scared. I saw several trucks try to ride the buses, but saw all of them turned away, which is as it should be. I saw more Mexicans than there are in Mexico, to say nothing of flocks of Indians. I met a lot of fine people, and had a wonderful time, all to the credit of the owner of the PCT Stages.

If there is a nicer, more colorful little community celebration in Nebraska than North Loup's Popcorn Days, I don't know about it. It stays friendly, clean, chuck full of personality.

And incidentally, one and all hear yep!

Popcorn is one word. So states Mr. Webster, for I just went to check. The word isn't pop corn, but popcorn. (—But of course, it could be Pop Corn Days!)

Perhaps you could say popped corn, and be in the clear.

No extra syllables these days. Instead we lop off another syllable almost too frequently.

And the way these young misses are dropping names and syllables all over the place! Be careful you don't stumble over some of them.

I think the models began it, with their unique names, valuable to them in an advertising way. You know, we've had Candy and Jinx, Con, Pam, Jan, Mimi, Gina, Fifi, Trudi, Judi, and yesterday I came to one called Tanzi!

Now here in Ord we have Betti Andersen and Cory Anderson, just to mention the first two who come to mind.

"Did you see Danny Vodehnal's picture in the World Herald last week? He is still in the hospital, I hear. Your youngster might like to send him a card.

A cheerful card, in such a case, is worth about a dollar in value as a spirit-bolsterer.

If you have never been hospitalized, just take my word for it and call yourself mighty lucky, up 'til now. And cross your fingers, if you're superstitious.

For Hevenzacke don't forget to get a new driver's license soon. Or you may end up taking all those driving tests.

Now that it's fall, we're having some delightful summery weather. Yes, there's a bit of a nip added, that fall touch.

The countryside is perfectly beautiful, never before so green as after a mild winter and a moist summer.

The only thing we have too much of, is bugs. It is buggy. But how the vegetation has grown! Bushes have made a two-year growth in one. Trees and shrubs are so happy. Excepting for that one thing . . . too many bugs, insects, waterborne blights of one kind and another.

As much as anything else, writing paper and writing habits have changed a great deal in the past few years. There's the personalized postcard, for instance, accepted in society only the past ten years or 15. There's the thin paper that is now fashionable, once would have seemed "cheap," because you bought the heaviest, stiffest paper possible.

There is all the ornamentation now parked on the front of double fold note paper, the pretty rosettes, the butterflies, the reproductions of famous paintings. Everyone likes and uses the fancy papers now. There are perfumed papers, smelling of pines or good ness knows what, and papers with sequins and feathers and queer colors of ink, where once only the usual blue or black colors were acceptable.

They are lively touches that we all seem to enjoy.

I remember reading Mrs. Roosevelt's statement that she always carried the airplane weight stationery in her purse, so that if she had to wait or while she was flying, the time could be used to advantage, catching up on her correspondence.

000

Something I'm dying to learn. Do you know how to pop corn in your pressure cooker? I want to learn; for once I read, if you ever did pop it that way, it would be so tender and wonderful you'd never use any other method! Can you do it? Please phone and tell me how!

IMPORTANT NOTICE!
TO SKELGAS USERS...
The Nebraska Legislature has recently enacted a law, commonly known as Legislative Bill No. 476, which we believe will protect your security and safety in the use of Skelgas.
The new law, effective August 26, 1951, says in part as follows:
"No persons, except the owner thereof or persons authorized in writing by said owner so to do, shall fill or refill with liquefied petroleum gas, or any other gas or compound, a liquefied petroleum gas container . . . nor shall any person, other than the owner of a liquefied petroleum gas container or a person authorized in writing by said owner so to do, deface, erase, obliterate, cover up or otherwise remove or conceal any such name, mark, initial or device thereon . . . any person who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor."
The statute was enacted for your protection after much consideration by the capable members of your Legislature. We feel that we, as your Skelgas distributor, should apprise you of this law.
You are furnished with cylinders to conform to your needs without the investment required to own them, nor do you pay anything for the use of them. The SKELGAS Division of Skelly Oil Company carries a tremendous investment in these cylinders and obviously it cannot permit its own cylinders to be filled by any other than itself. THIS INSURES YOU OF SAFETY, QUALITY AND HONEST MEASURE.
We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the business we have enjoyed in the past and offer our service to answer any questions about this new regulation or Skelgas service and appliances.

Comstock

MRS. RUBY HIGGINS
Quiz Representative

Mrs. Antonia Skoll and daughter, Helen and son, Frank of Phoenix, Ariz., arrived in Comstock on Saturday afternoon from Broken Bow, where they had been visiting relatives for a few days. They are visiting at the home of Mrs. Skoll's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Tvrdik and other relatives.

P. L. Christensen, superintendent of Comstock school, was elected to two offices over the September 8 weekend. At the Loup Valley conference meeting which was held in Ord on Friday, Sept. 7, he was selected as secretary for the group. At a meeting of the Nebraska Education Association Advisory Committee, held in Kearney, he was appointed to the nominating committee.

The junior class of the Comstock High school is conducting another waste paper drive this fall. Exact date is not known but the juniors would appreciate the saving of waste paper for collection.

Mr. and Mrs. William Higgins were visitors in Grand Island last Wednesday.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the National Hall for Mrs. Anna Rohde, who passed away the previous Sunday night at her home in Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Rohde spent several months in Comstock two years ago, caring for her aged mother, Mrs. Anna Pesek, who passed away in October, 1949. Mrs. Rohde made many friends while here. She leaves to mourn her passing, two children, Mr. George Rohde of Columbus, and Mrs. Jack Fitzpatrick of Los Angeles, Calif. One son preceded her in death. Three grandchildren and three brothers, Tom Stefka of Comstock, John Stefka of Broken Bow and Joe Stefka of Holly, Colo., besides many other relatives and friends, Robert Spooner made funeral arrangements with the Rev. Merle Zook of Sargent in charge. Music was furnished by Lowen Kruse and Mrs. Wm. Higgins, who sang, "Abide With Me" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. J. Stone. Interment was in the Jungman cemetery.

A big picnic and reunion of the Nelson and Erikson families was held in the Legion Hall Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erikson, Mr. and Mrs. Condid Lindell, Cambridge, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Alex Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Nelson, Martin, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. Chris Thompson, Central City, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melker Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bergmark, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hedlund, Mrs. Ida Hedlund and daughters, all of Aurora, Mr. and Mrs. Gustafson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gustafson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Gustafson and family of Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Goertzen and family, Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Klavonn and family, Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wall and family, Henderson, Mr. Alfred Malm, Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nelson and family, Mrs. Emma Rousek, Rudolph Nelson, Oscar Nelson, Gladys Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marsh, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Eric Erikson, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Erikson and family, Dick Erikson, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erikson and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dowse and family and Mrs. Gust Anderson and Leona.

Mr. John Wells was hostess to the H. O. A. club at her home

Thursday. A large group of members and five guests were present. Guests were Mrs. Martin Essinger of Edgar, Mrs. Robert Tvrdik and Cynthia, Mrs. Leroy Wells and Steven, Mrs. Jake Chalupsky and Mrs. Paul Zocholl. A covered dish dinner was served at noon. The ladies embroidered dish towels for the hostess.

ORDINANCE NO. 93 RELATING TO FEDERAL OLD AGE AND SURVIVORS INSURANCE

An ordinance relating to the Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance System established by Title II of the Social Security Act and designated Public Law 734 (81st Congress, 2nd Session) cited as the "Social Security Act Amendments of 1950," and accepting on behalf of the (village) of Arcadia, Nebraska, its officers, appointees and employees, except as specifically excluded hereof, their dependents and survivors, the provisions, benefits and protection of such act and subsequent amendments thereto; authorizing the Mayor (Chairman of the Board of Trustees) of this (village) to make and enter into the required agreements with the administrator of said system for the State of Nebraska or such other state agency for the purpose as may be hereafter designated or created, to bring such eligibles within the provisions and benefits of said system; providing that such agreement shall be retroactive to July 1, 1951, providing for withholdings from the salaries and wages of eligible officials, appointees and employees for the Social Security Fund herein created; providing for the segregation of such fund, contributions thereto by the municipality and the payment of such fund from time to time to the state administrator as may be required by state or federal law pertaining to such fund, including the provisions of this act such as officials, appointees or employees as are covered or authorized to be covered by other municipal retirement or pension plans to the extent required by state or federal law; providing for the levy of a tax in addition to all other taxes in order to defray the cost of this city (village) in meeting the obligation arising by reason of the agreement or agreements aforesaid; providing a saving clause in case of the invalidity of any section or portion of this ordinance; reserving all orders and actions in conflict herewith and providing an effective date for this act.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Chairman and Board of Trustees of the (village) of Arcadia, Nebraska:

Section 1. The (village) of Arcadia, Nebraska, hereby accepts for itself and on behalf of its officials, appointees and employees, except such as are hereinafter excluded from the provisions hereof, their dependents and survivors, the provisions, benefits and protection of the Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance System, hereinafter designated the "System," established by Title II of the Social Security Act, the same being Public Law 734 (81st Congress, 2nd Session, H.R. 6000) and to be cited as the "Social Security Act Amendments of 1950." The term "employee" as used herein shall mean an employee as defined by said Social Security Act and shall include both officers and appointees of this village. Section 2. The (Chairman of the Board of Trustees of this village) is hereby authorized and directed to enter into such contracts and make such agreements and stipulations with the administrator of said system in and for the State of Nebraska, or such other state agency for the purpose that may hereafter be designated or created, as may be deemed necessary or expedient by said administrator, or other state agency authorized in the premises, as the case may be, or as required by general law, state or federal, or any applicable regulations of said state or federal agency, to extend the benefits and protection of such system to the eligible employees of this village, their dependents and survivors. Such contracts, stipulations or agreements shall be executed in duplicate by (Chairman of the Board of Trustees) attested clerk with the seal of the village attached thereto, one copy thereof by the signature of the village to be filed with and become a part of the permanent records of such municipality. Such agreement shall be made retroactive to July 1, 1951 in all respects. Section 3. The employees, or classes of employees, of this village shall include all such employees as are not excluded from participation in said system by the provisions of Section 4 hereof, and are hereby determined to be within and entitled to the benefits and protection of said system. Section 4. The following employees are hereby determined to be excluded by the terms of this ordinance from participation in said system: (a) Any employee whose service on the retroactive date hereof are employed in a position which is covered by an existing municipal retirement or pension system or authorized to be so covered by general law. (b) Any employee with respect to any position not authorized to be covered by applicable state or federal laws or regulations of the federal administrative agency. Section 5. Withholdings from the compensation of eligible employees of this village as found and determined by Sections 3 and hereof are hereby authorized, and the village shall impose upon such employees as to services covered by this ordinance such withholdings to be made in amounts and at such times as may be required by general law, state or federal and applicable regulations promulgated with respect thereto by state or federal administrative agencies. Section 6. There is hereby created, and the village treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to set up an account to be known as the "Social Security Fund," into which the withholdings authorized by Section 5 hereof shall be paid; also the proceeds from the tax levy as hereinafter authorized, together with any appropriations from available funds that might be made from time to time by municipal authority for the benefit of said fund. Said fund shall be kept segregated and shall be used for no other purposes than the provisions and obligations of this act, as hereinafter provided to be accomplished by such fund. Section 7. The moneys in the Federal Security Fund aforesaid shall be paid over to the Tax Collector designated by law as the administrator of the Social Security Act for the State of Nebraska, as authorized and provided by regulations promulgated to that end by such administrator.

Section 8. The village treasurer and this village shall keep such records and make such reports relevant to the administration of the Social Security Act as may be required by general law, state or federal, or as provided by regulations promulgated by either the state or federal administrator of the system.

Section 9. The (Chairman and Board of Trustees) shall levy a tax, in addition to all other taxes, of a mill upon the dollar of the actual value of real and personal property in this village in order to defray the cost of the village in meeting the obligations arising by reason of the contracts, agreements or stipulations authorized under Section 2 hereof; provided, the revenue raised by such special levy shall be used for no other purpose.

Section 10. If any provision of this ordinance, or any section or sections thereof, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid, the remainder of the ordinance and the application of such provisions, section or sections to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

Section 11. Any ordinances, or parts of ordinances, in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect upon its passage, approval and publication as provided by law.

Passed and approved this 3rd day of September, 1951. William Ramsey Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Girl Scout Troop Planned for Ord; Meeting Thursday

BPW Club Sponsoring New Organization; Mrs. Anderson Head.

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, plans are going forward to have a troop of Girl Scouts among the fifth and sixth grade girls and a troop of Brownies of the third and fourth grade ages.

Organization will be preceded by an open meeting for all eligible girls, Thursday after school dismissal at the grade school auditorium, to which the mothers have been sent special invitations. Details are being arranged by Mrs. Vern Anderson, Girl Scout chairman for the sponsoring club.

At that time basic requirements for membership and the work program will be explained by Mrs. Ed Kokes, who had up to a year ago directed girls' activities for a number of years.

Thursday evening the interested adults will be invited to a meeting for instruction and information on the eleven program fields which the organization offers and the method of earning badges and other awards.

Each troop must have a leader and at least one assistant, a troop committee of adults which should include some parents, and a sponsor's committee from the Business and Professional Women's club.

The Girl Scout program is open to all girls regardless of race, creed or color and has enthusiastic support in all parts of the U. S. It is a part of the work of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

The local troops will work for merit badges, camping assignments and achievement promotions in the style traditional to Scout work. The sponsors hope to arrange inter-city meets and perhaps attendance at some encampment.

Mrs. Howard Huff will serve as local secretary and keeper of the records. Mrs. Anderson's committee includes Mrs. James O'Halloran, Mrs. Mike Yost, Mrs. Jack Romans, and Mrs. Ed Kokes.

6 Valley Countians Enlist in Navy

Six young men from Valley county are waiting to take their physical examinations, after enlisting in the navy. They expect to go to Omaha Thursday, and if taken will go on to San Diego soon to begin their boot training. The boys are Allen Ingraham, who enlisted in Omaha, Dave Ingraham, Gerald Dean Walkup, Marvin Meyers, John McDermott, all from North Loup and Roy Zlonke of Elyria.

A family dinner was given for the Ingraham boys and Gerald Dean at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ingraham near North Loup Sunday. David and Gerald Dean have been employed in Ord for the past several weeks.

Nimrods Fear Cold May Send Waterfowl South Before Season

Dakota Ducks Reported Massing in Sand Hills; Geese Also Enroute.

Fears that most of the 1951 crop of wild ducks and geese may be driven south before the official opening season starts Oct. 19, were being expressed by Ord nimrods this week.

Because of a heavy hatch reported in the Dakotas and Saskatchewan hunters had been looking forward to the best season in years. Now the untimely cold threatens to destroy that prospect. Dakota ducks are reported to be massing in the sand hills of northern and western Nebraska, indicative that some stern weather already has visited their breeding and resting places to the north.

Flocks of the smaller ducks down the Loup rivers are observed every morning and even some geese are said to be moving southward. Gulls have been on the move for ten days or more and flocks of songbirds numbering thousands are a common sight. Vegetation in this section continues green in the absence of killing frosts but consistently cold, wet weather throughout August and September seems to have all migratory birds out of balance and on their way south weeks ahead of normal flight periods.

The open season starts Oct. 19 and lasts until Dec. 7 on waterfowl. Pheasant hunters have from Oct. 26 to Nov. 25. The open season on doves will end Sunday, Sept. 30, but most of these birds have already left the country.

CROP Meeting at Courthouse October 1

An organizational meeting for the Christian Rural Overseas Program will be held in the Valley county courthouse, Monday evening, October 1, it was announced this week.

It is planned to set up the framework for the 1951-52 campaign for CROP at this meeting. The Loup Valleys Ministerial League is in active charge of the meeting.

This year CROP will lay stress on contributions of proteins for relief in such areas as Italy, Greece, Yugoslavia and Korea. The first three countries had failures of grain crops this year. Also to be discussed will be a Livestock CROP program in cooperation with Nebraska Livestock markets, in which donated animals will be sold and funds used to buy processed meats for shipment abroad.

Two Cars Meet at Intersection

The car owned by Dean Achen received a damaged left front fender and bumper and that owned by Ivan Stones a damaged right door and fender when the two cars met at the intersection of 15th and O in this city Sunday evening. The Achen car was going west and the Stone car north. The damage was slight and no one was injured.

Two Report from Garfield County

Two men have reported for induction into the armed services from Garfield county, the past month. They are Eldon Larsen and Robert Ruzicka, both of Burwell.

Presbyterian Church to Have New Organ

The new Presbyterian church of Ord, now in construction stage, will have a new Hammond electric organ, the building committee of the church announced this week. The organ is the gift of Senator and Mrs. Hugh Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hughes returned Monday from their visit in Denver. Their daughter, Mrs. Martin Clement met them in Grand Island.

Ord's winning run came in the sixth on a single by Billsback that went through Wilkerson, left fielder, for a two-base error, and a fly ball by Moore.

Cold weather cut attendance deeply for both games, especially for the Sunday afternoon battle which was played in a drizzle before a handful of fans and cost the Ord team money to play. Beasley brought a good team to Ord and under different weather circumstances a good game would have resulted.

Although normally baseball interest continues until after the World Series, the Ord club will not attempt to book more games this year, in view of the unseasonably cold autumn. Club officials will meet within the next few days to total up accounts and arrange for a split of profits from post-season games among the local players. A balance sufficient to get the team off to a good start in 1952 will remain in the club's treasury, believes Secretary Harold Christensen.

All players having Ord uniforms are asked to turn them in at once at either Bonds's or Mike Yost's, so they may be cleaned, repaired and stored until next season.

Ord Cub Pack Has Picnic

Members of Ord's three Cub Scout dens and their families held a picnic and wiener roast Tuesday evening at the Ord park. The picnic was followed by a brief pack meeting and a white elephant auction, conducted by Adolph Sevener, Cub Master.

Will Attend N Club Fete

Senator Hugh Carson of Ord, who won his letter at the University of Nebraska in the 20's, will go to Lincoln Friday to attend the annual N Club banquet on the eve of the football game with Texas Christian University. Senator Carson will attend a highway committee meeting of the Nebraska Legislature Council Friday afternoon, and will also take in the game Saturday.

Legion Membership Hits 155 Mark

Quinn Scott, adjutant of Fidelity Post 38, American Legion, reported to the Quiz this week that post membership had passed the 155 mark for 1951. This is the largest membership enjoyed by the post in several years.

"I'm confident that we will pass the 200 mark before long," Scott said. Dr. H. J. Lynn is commander of the post this year.

Blue Rock Shoot Sunday; First of 1951 Season

Veterans Will Have Permanent Trap and Shooting Grounds.

The first blue rock shoot of the season in Ord will be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30, at the Ord airport. The shoots are sponsored jointly by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion.

Members of the two posts are now in the construction stage of a new permanent shooting grounds which they hope to have ready for the Sunday shoot. As soon as one trap is completed, the small frame building at the airport, formerly used as an office, will be moved to the trap site to be used as a storage building and lunch room. The building has been loaned to the veterans by the city council. The servicemen groups also hope to erect another permanent trap, if demand warrants, and are toying with the idea of flood lights for summer shooting.

Smolik Car and Farrell Truck Collide on Bridge, Two Are Slightly Injured

Mrs. Philip Smolik and 12-year-old daughter, Dorothy, suffered slight injuries Sunday when their car, driven by Mr. Smolik, collided with a gravel truck driven by Harry Farrell, on the Wallace Creek bridge, which is located on the heavily-traveled Scotia-Cotesfield detour.

Drivers involved were vague as to exact cause of the collision. Mr. Smolik said he saw the Farrell truck as he drove onto the bridge but thought it had stopped. Mr. Farrell said he was blinded by the sun's rays.

New Attorney Joins Manasil at Burwell

Conrad C. Erickson, recently of Lincoln, has become associated with Wm. F. Manasil in the practice of law at Burwell. Mr. Erickson is a native of Erickson and a graduate of Erickson high school.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, he was admitted to practice in the spring of 1950, and had been employed by the Nebraska State Railway Commission prior to joining Manasil.

Art Class Draws Twenty-eight Here

Twenty eight teachers were in attendance at the opening meeting of the off-campus course on last Saturday, Sept. 22. The course under the direction of Miss Dora Von Barga, promises to be one of great help in the arts and the teaching of that subject, especially to the beginning teachers.

Miss Von Barga has taught art classes in Ord at other times and those who have been previously enrolled, speak highly of her ability in this subject.

On National Legion Delegate List

C. J. Mortenson of Ord has been named a delegate-at-large from Nebraska to the national convention of the American Legion to be held in Miami, Fla., Oct. 15-18. Mrs. Mortenson, past national chapeaux of the 8 & 40, will also figure in the convention activities, and both will attend the convention prior to their departure for an extended trip to South and Central American points.

Head of Mint Asks Pennies Be Turned In

Nellie Taylor Ross, head of the United States Mint, this week sent an urgent appeal to banks of the nation asking them to help round up the tons of pennies and nickels that are hiding out in piggy banks, cupboard shelves and fruit jars.

Mrs. Ross said that copper and nickel were vital ingredients in the manufacture of armament and that the mint found it difficult to obtain enough of the two metals to continue minting the two coins. Installation of parking meters and other coin-operated machines, plus the raise in prices to odd cents denominations has made an unusually large demand for the two coins, she said.

Omaha Evangelist Coming

Rev. R. R. Brown, well known pastor of the Omaha Gospel Tabernacle, will conduct services at the Mira Valley E.U.B. church Thursday evening, Sept. 7. Everyone is invited to the services which will start at 7:45 p. m.

Rudolph Kerchal, 73, Dies Friday Eve After Heart Attack

Retired Farmer Since '34, Was Prominent in Z. C. B. J. Lodge.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 2:00 p. m. at the Ord Methodist church for Rudolph Kerchal, 73, who died suddenly at his home Friday night. Rev. K. O. Zavadil of Allen officiated, assisted by Rev. Keith Shepherd. Mrs. Orin Kellison at the piano and Don Auble as soloist furnished the music.

The pallbearers were Henry Misko, Joe Dworak, Wm. Novosad, Mike Noha, Jas. Vastcek and Henry Vodehnal.

Mr. Kerchal was laid to rest in the Ord cemetery, beside his wife who preceded him in death January 1, this year.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary personnel.

Rudolph Stanley Kerchal was born on May 18, 1878 in Studencek, Czechoslovakia and departed this life at his home in Ord, Sept. 22, 1951 at the age of 73 years, four months and four days. A heart ailment from which he suffered for quite some time caused his death.

As a lad he came with his parents to America in 1893. The family lived in Hayes and Coffey counties until 1900, at which time they moved to Valley county. In 1902 he married Miss Florentina, and started farming in the Springdale community east of Ord. In 1906 they moved to their farm in Plain Valley, northeast of Ord, where they resided until they moved to Ord in 1934.

Left to mourn his passing are his four children, Mrs. Emma Hybl of Grand Island, Edward R. of Portland, Ore., Victor L. of Ord, and Mrs. Adeline Lehecka of Omaha; also six grandchildren and two great grandchildren, together with three brothers, Raymond of Arcadia, Joseph of Waineta, and Cyril of St. Louis, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Steffel of Columbus, Mrs. Anna Viecek of Belvedere, S. D., and a host of other relatives and friends. Two brothers and a sister preceded him in death.

Mr. Kerchal was a member of the Ord branch of the Z.C.B.J. for 48 years. During that time he served in all the various offices of the lodge. In the rural community he served as a school board director and ably filled other township and community offices.

Those from a distance who attended the Kerchal funeral held Tuesday afternoon besides the children were Cyril Kerchal, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kerchal and Mrs. Russell Polly, Waineta; Mrs. Anton Kiseela, of Stratton; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Bukacek and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bukacek and family, Dodge; Mrs. Emil Osomy, Schuyler; Mrs. Frank Steffel, Dodge; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janicek and Mrs. Emma Janicek, Burwell; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hybl and family, Ainsworth; Mrs. Dean Norseen, Stanley Gross, Mrs. Ann Morris, Joe Lukes, Mrs. Mary Klmpa, all of Grand Island; Eldon Lukesh, Mrs. Leo Sells and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hadlix, of Sargent.

Ord Ag. Boys at Convention

Five F.F.A. students from Ord high school went to Ansley for a district leadership training school last Saturday. Future Farmers from more than a dozen towns attended the conference.

The local delegation included Russell Clement, Jim Urbanski, Eugene Novak, Francis Zabloudil, and Anton Kvetensky.

Francis Zabloudil took his academic awards and played several numbers for the group.

Two New Babies in Ord Hospital

The Co-op hospital reports two little ones who were born this week. One is a tiny daughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Stewart, on Wednesday morning, Sept. 26. She was a few weeks immature and has been placed in an incubator but is getting along all right. Her weight was four pounds and three ounces. Her father is manager of the Safeway store.

A little son was born on Sunday, Sept. 23 to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Johnson of Scotia. He weighed eight pounds and seven ounces and has been named Terrence Neil.

See Feeding Research

L. C. Mulligan of North Loup and Fred Clark of Ord were among 61 Wayne feed dealers and key feeders on a tour of the many feed testing projects at the Allied Mills' research farm in Libertyville, Ill., last week.

Have Lived on Same Place 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Manchester quietly celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary September 18 at their home south of North Loup. The 50 years of their life together has been spent on the one farm which they bought so long ago. Their first home was a sod house. They have five children, Gerald, Elyria; Leonard and Reatha, Mrs. Delbert Bridge, North Loup; Lois, Mrs. Roy Hite, Compton, Calif., and Lloyd of Glendora, Calif.

Gene Larkin Elected President of No. Loup High School

At the high school election which was held on Tuesday, Gene Larkin was elected president of the student body for the school year 1951-52. Others who had been nominated by the student council for this office included Carolyn Hamer, Ila Roby, and Gale Sinteck. Gene was North Loup's representative to Boys' State last spring, is a member of this year's football team and participated in basketball and track last year.

Council representatives from the senior class include Ila Roby and Darrell Fenton. The juniors elected Dale Earnest and Judy Ingerson. The sophomores will be represented on the council by Harold Placke and Helen King, and the freshmen by Lois Payton and Gale Brown.

A State Association of student councils has been organized in this state, and it will hold its first state convention in Grand Island on Saturday, Oct. 6. North Loup high school is a member of the State Association and is entitled to two delegates at the convention.

Lexington Romps Over Ord in 37-0 Scoring Spree

Chanticleers to Meet Ogallala on Local Field Friday Eve.

The Ord Chanticleers traveled to Lexington last Friday and suffered their second defeat of the year, 37-0.

The speed of the Lexington club proved too much for the Chants throughout the evening. Hodges, speedy quarterback, ran 65 yards early in the game for the first tally. Lexington recovered Ord's fumble after the kick-off and on the next play Nutter raced 25 yards for the score. Lexington converted and led 13-0. The remainder of the first half was played on even terms with Lexington scoring on a pass to Ward shortly before the end of the half, making the score, Lexington, 19, Ord, 0.

In the second half, the Minute-men scores were made by Richard Dorwart, Robert Dorwart and Lloyd Hodges, making the final score 37 to 0, Lexington.

Ord marched to the one yard line late in the game but failed to score as a fumble marred their chance.

Friday, Sept. 23 at 8 p. m., the Chanticleers meet Ogallala on the local field. Ord will be seeking its first win. Ogallala comes to Ord with a record of one win and one loss. They beat Imperial 37-0, Cozart sinking them 19-7.

Geranium Beats Ravenna, 4-0

In a hard fought battle Sunday afternoon, a softball aggregation from Geranium beat Ravenna 4-0 at Ravenna church celebration. The game was the final of a series began last Sunday at the St. Wenceslaus celebration.

Howard Jensen, with George Fryzek behind the plate, pitched a no-hit, no-run game, striking out 12 Ravenna batters. Otto Marech hit a home run with nobody on.

Television Firm Shows Interest in Ord Location

Company Officials Will Come Next Week to Make Investigation.

An Iowa firm that manufactures parts for television sets and is seeking a location for a small, new factory is showing interest in Ord as a possible location, members of the Ord chapter of commerce Industrial committee were told Tuesday evening by Glen Auble, committee chairman, and Richard Rowbal, chamber president. The committee met in the basement room of the Veterans Club with about 200 audience and several other interested Chamber members present.

The firm requires 5,000 to 10,000 feet of floor space to start and would use 25 to 50 workers, male and female, the first year and 50 to 100 the second year.

Ord's safe structure on electricity, natural gas and water interested the company and it will send representatives here to look over the city and make a decision.

While the committee was in session it discussed other matters relating to the industrial future of Ord, and many good suggestions were made.

Art Lange was commended for his energy in developing a scrap iron business which now keeps eight trucks on the road, four of which are new ones bought this summer, and covers a territory which extends north to the Dakota line and west to Alliance. Mr. Lange is discussing installation of a small smelter to melt down car bodies so heavier tonnage may be shipped on each railway car, and Chairman Auble was instructed to pledge him the support of the Chamber in this or any other of his plans for enlargement. Mr. Lange is gradually moving his business from the highway location in the southeast Ord to acreage on the railway right-of-way in north Ord.

Lange has shipped over 170 cars of scrap iron out of Ord in 1951.

To make more level, low cost industrial space available in Ord, it was suggested by Jack Romans that the route of Highway No. 11 through the city be changed to go east from the Anderson Motor company garage to the railroad right-of-way in east Ord, then southeast along the railway tracks to join present No. 11 below the fair grounds. Such a move also would improve safety conditions in a residential part of the city and give traffic a level route into and out of Ord, instead of having to pull over a big hill at the city limits. No action was taken on the suggestion but it was marked down for further consideration.

Possibilities for industrial growth from new discoveries, in farm crops processing were mentioned.

Ord has held its own in population through two decades in which Nebraska as a whole and most of Nebraska's smaller towns were losing ground and the opinion was expressed by Chamber President Rowbal that the time is ripe for industrial and population growth.

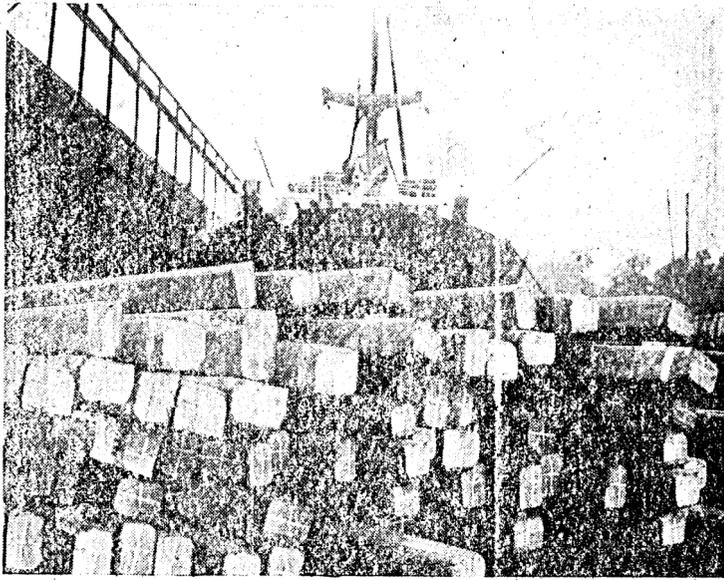

M. Biemond at N. Y. Meeting

M. Biemond, owner of the local theater, is now attending the Theater Owners of America convention and trade show in New York, Sept. 23 through the 27th.

During the course of the trade show, Mr. Biemond studied new techniques in maintenance, service, modernization of theaters and latest developments in the increase of comforts for theater patrons.

He saw screenings of the newest pictures direct from Hollywood.

Highlight of the four day work-study meetings was an address by Gale Sullivan, executive director of TOA, who discussed the part the American motion picture theater plays in every community.

In an effort to maintain peak employment in the face of material shortages, The Studebaker Corporation is reaching across the Atlantic to Belgium for steel with which to supplement domestic allotments. Shown here are steel billets soon after the freighter Axeldyk, of the Holland America Line, unloaded in New York at the end of the 3,000-mile journey from Antwerp. The vital cargo is then rushed to Studebaker suppliers who transform it into crankshafts, connecting rods and steering knuckles.

Bob Brown, jr. and John Gibbons, who attend the University of Nebraska, arrived home Saturday evening to attend funeral services for Billy Smith Sunday morning. They returned to their school work Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Edith Cleveland and the Rev. Lowen Kruse were after church luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins and Douglas Sunday evening.

Since the beginning of the fall term of football, Comstock has had a lot of hard luck. Alvin Nelson broke his arm in the first scrimmage game between the high school and town boys. Then Raymond "Rocky Stone" received a cracked elbow, which will keep both boys out of the game from four to six weeks. This will make a big difference in the team.

Walter Gibbons, jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibbons, sr. and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rockhold were Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Sargent.

Wm. Kirkpatrick, jr. of Hastings came last Sunday, Sept. 16 and stayed overnight at the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirkpatrick, sr. and family.

Wm. Higgins was a business visitor in Ord Saturday afternoon.

The W.S.C.S. met at the home of Mrs. M. F. Henderson Thursday afternoon, Sept. 20, with ten members and three guests, Mrs. Chas. Hovey, Mrs. S. V. Emry, and Mrs. J. Rockhold present. Mrs. V. Krikac had charge of devotions after which president, Mrs. R. J. Stone opened the business meeting. Several topics of interest were discussed. At the close of the meeting the hostess served a delicious dessert luncheon. The Oct. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Rockhold.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas of Aurora visited Friday evening, Sept. 14 at the home of Mrs. Thomas' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirkpatrick and family. They also attended the Anselmy-Comstock football game.

Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allemen and daughter were the Rev. Lowen Kruse, Mrs. Edith Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lenstrom of Elm Creek and Mrs. C. D. Wardrop of Kearney visited relatives over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Lenstrom visited at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Lenstrom and Janet, and Mrs. Wardrop visited at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. V. Krikac, jr.

Morris Fisher of Achilles, Kans., arrived Friday evening and attended the Anselmy-Comstock football game and visited over the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher. He returned to Kansas Sunday afternoon, accompanied by his brother, Paul Fisher, who will visit relatives and friends in Kansas before being inducted into the army, Sept. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Malon Granger and boys were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brass of Sargent.

Mrs. Hall Sheppard, Mrs. George Sheppard and Mrs. Leslie Sheppard were visitors in Broken Bow Wednesday.

Irvin Burt of Colorado Springs, Colo. and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burt and family called at the D. J. Lenstrom home Sunday afternoon.

Dennis Harris of Sargent is staying with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Malon Granger and boys, and Carol, Linda and John Harris are staying with their aunt, Evelyn Flock while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harris are in Savannah, Mo., where Mrs. Harris is receiving a checkup at the Dr. Nichols Sanatorium.

Tom Stefka left Thursday morning for Savannah, Mo. to enter the Dr. Nichols Sanatorium for an examination and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard and Mrs. Virginia Marsh and two boys took their dinner and visited at the home of Mrs. Sheppard's brother, Sam Hill, in Arcadia, Sunday.

Mrs. E. A. Haynes and Mrs. Myrtle Wait were business visitors in Omaha Saturday. While there they called on Mrs. Kenneth Myers. They drove from Omaha to Lincoln and visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Griner. They returned home Sunday night.

Honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Walter Nelson and Mrs. Ted Erikson, a dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Erikson and family Sunday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erikson and Eileen, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Allen Dick Erikson, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dowse and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Erikson.

Comstock

Gordon Hyde left last Sunday for Lincoln. He was joined by George Land of Loup City. Both boys are attending Ag. college for the second year. They were joined by Layton Hyde of Omaha who had spent the week end at home. Layton is attending medical college at Omaha.

A fellowship covered dish dinner was held at the Methodist church Sunday following morning worship services, honoring the Rev. Lowen Kruse. A large group of friends gathered to enjoy the dinner and wish Lowen God Speed as he goes back to Seminary in Chicago. Mr. Kruse left Monday afternoon for Boelus, where he will spend this week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kruse before returning to the Garrett Seminary.

Among 18 sailors promoted Sept. 1, 1951, aboard the landing ship dock, U.S.S. Tortuga, operating in the Far East, was Richard D. Ellersick, U.S.N. of Comstock, son of Chas. Ellersick. Ellersick, a member of the engineering department, was advanced to machinist mate fireman after successfully meeting the requirements of the new rating. A graduate of Comstock high school, Ellersick entered the navy in October, 1950, and received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. Wm. Kirkpatrick and Larry Dean and Mrs. Wm. Higgins were Sargent visitors Wednesday.

New Hog Cholera Serum Announced

A revolutionary vaccine for combating deadly hog cholera, most serious killer in the swine industry, was placed on the market this week by Leberle Laboratories.

The result of over five years of intensive research, this new vaccine is a dramatic departure from present hog cholera immunizing agents. It contains modified live virus obtained from rabbits, an unnatural host for the virus.

The new Leberle product, Rovac, will give dependable immunity seven days following vaccination. It is a one-injection vaccine that is not used with serum.

In contrast, old-type hog cholera vaccines contain inactivated virus and produce immunity about 21 days after vaccination, thus allowing more opportunity for a cholera outbreak to spread through the herd.

There are about 65,000,000 hogs and pigs being raised in this country. Hundreds of thousands of hogs each year do not reach the market because of cholera. These losses, running into the millions of dollars, are passed on to the consumer in the price of pork which does reach the market.

Field trials with Rovac in Missouri, Virginia, New York and New Jersey, during which more than 10,000 pigs were vaccinated, produced uniformly successful results.

Leberle officials also stressed that field trials with this new immunizing vaccine showed that it can be used on a portion of a herd without disseminating cholera to susceptible swine on the same or adjoining premises, and that it is free from post vaccination reactions, when used as recommended.

This new immunizing agent was developed by a Leberle team of scientists, led by Drs. Herald R. Cox and Hilary Koprowski.

Trade name for the new vaccine is Hog Cholera Vaccine (Modified Live Virus) Vaccum-Dried ROVAC Leberle. Available at Beranek's at prices as follows:

10 dose pkg.....	$ 5.85

for the HILL HOG FEEDING PROGRAM!

I HAVE used Hill Hog Feeds over the past years with great success. I find Hill Sow and Pig Pellets to be very satisfactory to feed pigs, bred sows, and gilts. I will recommend Hill Sow and Pig Pellets to any hog raiser. Hill Sow and Pig Pellets have proven to be good feed. I feel I get more for my money when I buy Hill Feeds. THIS PAST SPRING 13 OF MY HILL-FED SOWS FARROWED 142 PIGS

I started feeding Hill Sow and Pig Pellets as soon as the sows were bred and continued to feed Hill Sow and Pig Pellets right on through farrowing and weaning period. Seemed like the sows always had an abundance of milk. Every sow farrowed good strong, healthy pigs. I have learned to rely on Hill Hog Feeds and I know they have made me more money in every way.

Ogallala Loses to Cozad, 7-19

While the Ord Chanticleers were being lashed 37 to 0 by Lexington Friday night, others of their 1951 opponents were faring as follows: Ogallala, this week's Ord foe, lost 19 to 7 to Cozad; Broken Bow 32, Ravenna 7; Columbus 24; Blair 0; Gothenburg 33, Holdrege 13; McCook 14, Curtis 8; Albion 27, Burwell 0; St. Bonaventure of Columbus 48, Loup City 0. While losing to Columbus the Loup City Red Raiders lost the services for the season of their 194 pound sophomore lineman, Gary Smedra. He was stricken with acute appendicitis and was operated on after the game.

Mrs. Lloyd Wilson was an overnight guest Friday in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Hanson.

Neighbor Teachers Three Generations

Mrs. C. E. McGrew was especially interested in an article found in a recent copy of the Omaha World-Herald, since the Mrs. Tom Whitney spoken of is her sister-in-law, and Mrs. Whitney's son, Tom, is a nephew. The story was headed Humboldt, Neb.

Persons representing three generations of one family are teaching rural schools within a few miles of each other in this area, near Humboldt. Mrs. Tom Whitney is the instructor in the Prairie Grove school, across the line into Kansas. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Whitney, is teaching at the Lynchburg school and Mrs. John Whitney's son, Tom, 17, is teaching at Middleburg school. The last two schools are south of Humboldt, in Nebraska.

Third in Row for Biggest Cattle Market

Omaha Monday made it three in a row as world's largest livestock market. Counting Saturday arrivals, total receipts Monday topped the 42,000 mark. Included were 22,000 cattle and calves—17,000 of them Westerns. Sheep supply was 10,000—and 80% Western.

Trade on Western replacement livestock lacked some of its recent steam and stocker and feeder cattle sold unevenly steady to $1.00 under the previous Monday. Least price change was on high quality yearlings. Yearling stock steers bulked at $38.00-$39.00, with better kinds to $40.00. Also at $40.00 were 540-pound Wyoming stock steers and heifers, a new record for mixed stocker yearlings. Stock heifers brought $32.00-$36.00, yearling breeding heifers sold to $35.50 and others were held above that. Two-year-old feeder steers sold to $36.00 and $36.75, 3's to $34.25 and 3's and 4's to $33.50. Latter weighed 1,450 pounds. Plain 857-pound feeder steers, Iowa Holsteins, sold at $28.50. Missouri steer and heifer calves sold to $39.00. Top Western calves were unrepresented.

The fat cattle market, meanwhile, was unevenly steady to 50c or more lower, against last week's close. Plain shortfeds generally were hardest hit, but some good steers were also rapped in late trade. Bulk of slaughter steers and yearlings cleared at $33.50-$37.50. Better steers sold to $39.25. Last week's fat steers at Omaha reached $40.00. Plain shortfeds sold down to $29.00. Fed heifers Monday at Omaha scored $38.10, a new 3-year high.

Cow trade was largely steady, canners and cutlers $18.00-$22.00, beef cows to $29.00, odd head higher. Beef bulls sold to $29.50, a few bolognas also. The high Western bulls $25.50-$27.50, and veal calves again to $35.00. Hogs Monday opened steady to 25c lower but closed steady, butchers weighing 180-360 $18.75-$21.25. Sows sold steady to 25c up, 270-550-pounders $16.00-$19.50. Stags brought $13.50-$16.00. Fat lambs sold strong to 50c higher, native and Western spring lambs $30.50-$31.00. Fed yearling wethers were steady at $28.00-$29.00. Shorn slaughter ewes sold strong to 50c up at $10.00-$15.50. Feeder lamb prices showed little net change from last week's average, ranging from $30.50-$34.25, latter not up to the standard of last week's at $35.00. Ewe lambs sold at $31.50.

Ord Junior High Edges Loup City

Ord high school juniors took a close 7 to 6 victory from Loup City's juniors on the Red Wing football field Tuesday night. The junior Chants tallied early when the Sherman county lads fumbled their opening kickoff. Sherman Smith ran to the Loup City eight yard line. Then John Douthit scored through the middle. Larry Hurlbert slanted off tackle for the extra point, and that was the football game.

Loup City's touchdown came in the second quarter, on a forward lateral, but they fumbled the extra point away. Ord took control during the fourth period with long end sweeps by Sherman Smith and Larry Hurlbert, and was deep in scoring territory when the game ended.

Outstanding for the Red Wings was Melvin Pointkoski, 190 pounder, who is 6 feet, 4 inches, although just 14 years of age. Sherman Smith sparked the Ord backfield. Shermie weighs just 110 pounds when soaking wet. Douthit and Kasson shone on defense for Ord.

The Ord squad included Dale Strong, Ray Clark, James Kasson, Sherman Smith, John Douthit, Gary Miska, Lonnie Suchanek, Larry Jorgensen, Ron Alloway, Ron Romans, Virgil Falter, Larry Johnson, Tom Anderson, Charles Svoboda, Roger Owens, Don Kapustka, Dean Flock, Larry Hurlbert, Keith Gilroy, Marvin Vastock, and Kenneth Babka. Coaches Dickey and Kovanda accompanied the squad.

Next Tuesday, the Chicks tangle with the Broken Bow Papooses on the latter's field. Ravenna's young Bluejays come to Ord on Oct. 9, and Walnut junior high of Grand Island is tentatively scheduled at Ord for the night of Oct. 24. All games start at 7:30 p. m.

Football Fans Plan First Lincoln Trek

First trek to Lincoln of the season to watch the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers in action will come Saturday, with Texas Christian university as opponents of the Huskers in their first test of the year.

Last week Kansas university beat T. C. U., 27 to 13. The Huskers will be minus the services of Bobby Reynolds, all-American back, who is suffering from a shoulder injury and will be out of action two to four weeks.

Ord is always well represented at games in Lincoln and 1951 will be no exception. Besides the Sept. 29 opener, games include Penn State on Oct. 13, Kansas on Nov. 9, Colorado on Nov. 17, and Oklahoma on Nov. 24.

FERTILIZER.

Just at present we have on hand Tribble Superphosphate, 16% Superphosphate 0-20-0. Then we have 16-0-0 and 10-20-0.

We are making every effort to buy more 33 1/2 Ammonium Nitrate for spring and summer delivery but so far the picture on Nitrogen is not bright. We feel that many that are putting off ordering Nitrogen till later will be very disappointed. We have a car of 21% Nitrogen coming in March or April that is not sold. If you need Nitrogen be sure to get your order in soon. This 21% Nitrogen would be very good to apply on grains or grasses in the spring.

We have 16-10-0 for immediate application for fall wheat. 10-20-0 and 16-10-0 would be very good for a starter fertilizer for your corn next spring. Corn planted with a starter last spring is at least 10 days further advanced than the corn planted without the starter. If you need an attachment for your planter or harrow for early application be sure to get the attachment ordered now. If you have any trouble in getting the attachment we can help you. We have a used Eze-Flow and a Gandy Spreader for sale. We will make you a very attractive price on either of them. Then we have either in a new one at the regular price. We can furnish attachments for applying to your corn at second cultivation. This takes three rows at a time and is a very easy way to apply fertilizer to corn.

Alfalfa and Sweet Clover.

We are in the market for alfalfa and sweet clover seed. We rather feel that from crop reports that we will not see as high price on alfalfa seed as had been anticipated. It looks now as if it might not be as high as last year since the carry over this year was one of the heaviest in recent years. We can use limited amounts of all sweet clover and alfalfa seed.

Hybrid Corn.

With this kind of weather it looks to us that the earlier that you order Hybrid seed corn this year the better off you will be. You are guaranteed against change in price. You have the first call on all seed produced and should any of this corn be frost-killed there will not be enough hybrid seed corn to fill all orders. Come in and ask us about Hybrid corn. We will give you the privilege of changing your order later if you want to make any change.

Hyline Chicks.

Right now many are booking their Hylines for next year. Tests in divided flocks of Hylines and Standard breeds show about 35 eggs more per Hyline over the Standard breeds for a 40 week period. This is a little better than $1.00 per hen more income for the Hyline hens for the 40 weeks test. We believe if you would try Hylines and keep records that you would be more than pleased. In these tests there have been about 9% less death loss in the Hylines than in the Standard breeds. May we book your Hylines now.

Highway 83 Complete

State Highway Engineer Harold Aitken announced recently that State Highway 83 would be completed this fall with the surfacing of the section running from Stapleton north to Theford. A good highway already exists from McCook to North Platte to Stapleton, and from Theford to Valentine. Thus will be eliminated one of the chief bottlenecks to north and south travel in western Nebraska.

The state highway department is to be congratulated on the completion of this important link on an important highway. Now good connections can be made with Highway 20 at Valentine, Highway 2 at Theford, Highway 30 at North Platte and Highway 34 at McCook. Highway 83 runs through the vast lake region of eastern Cherry county, one of the most famous fishing sections of the entire state.

Formerly Highway 83 was routed slightly to the northwest from North Platte through Tryon in McPherson county to Mullen in Hooker county and thence east to Theford. About 30 miles will be saved over the new, direct route. Of local interest is the fact that it will connect with the PCT stage lines at Theford for travel either east or west from that point.

Highway 83 is important for the further reason that it runs through Maywood on the high line to the south of North Platte. For some time now the railroad has been trying to discontinue service over the Holdrege - Sterling line, and these efforts will doubtless succeed in time. When that time comes Highway 83 will be very useful to the many towns left without a railroad.

The new stretch of road south of Theford is being covered with bituminous mat. Up to now this road was typical sandhill road that only the hardest would dare to attempt. Another important part of the improvement is a steel-concrete bridge south of Theford. The next through road north and south is 120 miles west through Chadron, Alliance, Bridgeport and Sidney.

Peace Is Wonderful

The United Nations met recently in San Francisco and took action to the effect that war against Japan is definitely over. Japan started the war, but the United Nations finished it. That is as it should be. Every aggressor nation should meet with defeat and be compelled to accept any type of peace her conquerors choose to offer.

Now that the U. N. has acted, it is up to the separate nations to verify the finding of the group. This will take some time, and it may be a year or more before all nations have accepted the findings of the San Francisco conference. One fact is certain. Russia will not approve the treaty of peace, nor will she consider any separate treaty of peace except on her own terms.

Unless all members of the United Nations ratify what was done at the general meeting, it is doubtful if much good will have been accomplished. Russia, at present the most powerful single nation, except the United States in the entire world, by a single act of aggression against Japan could upset the plans of all the rest of the world.

Autumn Equinox

Just why it is called equinox (equal night) instead of equal days does not seem clear. But the equinoxes come twice a year, March 21 and September 21, as a rule, but not always. It is possible for either to come on the 22nd of the month. The autumn period especially has always been considered a time to expect storms and frequently frost.

In central Nebraska the usual frost comes nearly a week after the autumnal equinox. It is different in the spring when frost a full month after the vernal equinox is not unusual. The reason for this is that the weather in general follows the changes of the sun in the sky by about three weeks.

If it did not, we might normally expect the hottest time of the year June 21, and the coldest time of the year when the days are shortest, in the neighborhood of Dec. 21. It is for this reason that December, January and February are known as the winter months; March, April and May as spring; June, July and August as summer, and September, October and November as autumn.

In the early days it was usual to hold county fairs about the time of the autumnal equinox, which is usually figured as definitely figured as the end of summer. Since summer is over then it was but natural to figure that all materials for exhibit at fairs had fully matured by that time and so were as ready to put on exhibition as they would ever be.

In those days only the people from the immediate vicinity attended the county fair, and there was no object in spacing them to avoid conflict of dates. Not a dozen persons from beyond the county line would attend, and these were usually former citizens who were there on a homecoming trip.

Today it is a recognized fact that no county fair can be much of a success without drawing from the surrounding counties, and for this reason fairs are being held all the way from the first of August to the first of October. Also, in most cases entertainment is more important than exhibits.

Something Different

Shirley Martin writes her mother, Mrs. Bud Martin, that she saw and heard her first opera last week in San Francisco, and that it was a real delight. Rigoletto was the opera, the wonderful music of Verdi, and Shirley wrote that it was no effort to listen to it, that she had a wonderful evening.

Mrs. Fiala's sister is visiting here, and she brought with her some movies of a fascinating park, one made just for children.

The United Nations will agree on German peace terms.

Then, as now, these terms will need to be ratified by each of the different nations before they will become effective. If these terms include the evacuation of western Berlin by the Allies, it would then be a simple matter for Russia to take over the whole of Germany's capital city, thus creating a situation even worse than it is today. A second step would be to move against western Germany, precipitating a war that would make World War II look like a peace parade.

It is a big game the world is engaged in today, but Russia seems to be holding the best hand, and is not playing the game according to the rules, but making up the rules as she goes along, discarding whatever does not suit her convenience, injecting new angles that honest nations cannot in justice, accept.

It is high time the United Nations "get tough" with the bully. There must be a showdown some time soon, and we are as well prepared for it now as we will be later. Many world diplomats are convinced that Russia is not ready for war at this time, and a show of force might well avert a world catastrophe.

It seems like folly to concentrate on peace with two nations with whom we have had no war for the past six years instead of forcing a peace, if possible, with the one nation that is constantly threatening the peace of the world, and that will continue to do so indefinitely.

Meanwhile the "police action" in Korea goes merrily on, with more casualties than the Continental army suffered in the entire Revolution. We need a map in Washington with the nerve to call the War in Korea what it really is and give the Kremlin something to worry about.

Ward's Cookin' Column

I don't know whether somebody else is infringing on me or whether I am tramping on somebody else's toes, but I read a news story recently that makes me wonder. It is about the heading of this column, "Ward's Cookin'". Quiz readers will recall that I conducted a contest a few years back for a suitable heading, and that Mrs. Ernest Norton won with her "What's Cookin'" suggestion and that I have been using it ever since, and plan to keep right on using it until the Quiz refuses to use it any more, or until the Quiz, with it in, is disbarred from using the mails. I am not planning ever to get too old to write it. Anyway, that should make the title legal.

But now one Jack Bailey, not the Grand Island Jack Bailey, once master of ceremonies for "Queen For A Day," has come out with some kind of a fancy cook book, the title of which is "What's Cookin'". Now I am always cooking up something new for this column, and it may be that in so doing, I am infringing on his copyright. Possibly if I refrain from publishing cooking recipes I can still continue to use the heading. Of course, I have some lovely methods of cooking fish that I planned to print, but, if Bailey is the jolly good fellow he always appeared to be on the radio, maybe I am safe. Of course some people quibble over technicalities, like the mother goose who was always scolding her children

It is called Faryland, and is located near Oakland, California. Every fairy tale, or many of them, is created in miniature here, and children wander happily through the little houses and scenes.

Our young friend, Al Blessing, made a hot-in-one at the quiz course recently, the second time he has achieved this distinction! He was happy, but he would be happier—if he hadn't just received a case of Wheaties, prize for making a note-in-one not too long ago.

Looks like the Blessings will be eating lots of Wheaties!

Considering the price of golf balls and clubs, however, making a hole-in-one may not be the most inexpensive way to secure your Wheatie needs!

The Quiz didn't get to press last week before I got my wanted recipe for popping corn in the pressure cooker.

I always knew the Quiz was fast, but I didn't know it was that fast.

To explain, Mrs. Tom Hamer of North Loup was in the office on business, and the first run of the Quiz was stacked near, so she fell to reading this column.

A woman of action, she promptly picked up the phone and told me how to do the corn.

It seems you put in about a cup of popcorn, the usual oil or fat, the usual salt. Put the lid on the cooker, but do NOT put the pressure gauge on the top, just let the steam keep blowing out the little opening.

And in something like three minutes, says she, you'll have a tender, tasty cooker full of popcorn.

I think it would be safe to assume that Mrs. Hamer is an expert boy and girl pleaser. She has been busy raising good citizens for a number of years.

So I am sure she knows about popping corn!

Shall I tell you that we got our courage up, and had our Minnesota cottage painted and this summer? Just finished that work. Since it is one lean-to added to another lean-to, added to a "story-and-a-half" (as they used to call them), the Cape Cod coloring is extremely suitable, and Hi, Vernie and Gene tell me it is really beautiful!

It is trimmed in the softest gray just, around the windows and doors, not at the corners of the house. And the roof is also a sort of dove gray.

I don't suppose very many people would approve of it, but so far everyone raves about it. I haven't seen it yet, myself, though I'm eager to. Personally, I am a good deal like the late James J. Hill, famous railroad president who ordered everything on his line painted red; "I like any color, just so it's red!"

So said he: so say I.

It is so especially becoming to youngsters, don't you think? And mothers can spot their young so-o-o far away, when the boy or girl is wearing red.

—Irma.

because they had their pants "down."

You know when I went to the hospital I figured that there would be a chance to tell everybody about "my operation" and the only way they would fail to know about it would be to refuse to read the column. Said operation no doubt had several angles of interest to me, but I doubt if anybody else would be interested in them. An operation is a lot of fun. Drs. Bar and Cram had me "in stitches" almost right from the start, only I couldn't laugh much for fear of breaking said stitches.

Cards and letters are fine, and news is wonderful. For them I have no criticism to offer. But from my own experience I would say that visitors for the first three days should not be plentiful, and they should not say much or stay too long. After that, in a normal operation, the patient is feeling much better, thank you, and can put in more time talking without being tired out. I had about 40 people in to see me in 12 days, which is plenty. If you have any qualms of conscience about not going to see a friend in the hospital, don't worry about it too much. It is a place where a person can rest easily, and it is possible that you did him a favor by staying away, giving him a chance to recover that much more quickly. Who knows?

I had heard some harsh criticism of the Ord Cooperative hospital, and at first planned to go elsewhere. Now I'm glad I stayed near home and that I had home doctors handle the job. You should see the beautiful job of hematology Dr. Cram did, and he didn't charge me any more than plain stitch would have cost me elsewhere. The doctors even tried to get my appendix at the same operation, but finally decided to leave it for later, if necessary.

If there was any room for criticism of the hospital in the past, there certainly is none now. I believe the new manager, Frank Perry, is the answer. I have been in other hospitals, two of them in Hawaii, but I never had as good treatment as I received in Ord. Those nurses, all of them, go out of their way to do you any little favor they can, to make you feel just a little better. Perry seems to be just where he is needed all the time, and that chuckle of his is worth a thousand dollars. If you have any gripes about the Ord Cooperative hospital, please keep shut when I am around or you will get "told off."

I cannot say too much for group insurance, nor for the Ord Quiz, which pioneered group insurance in Ord. Until that kind of insurance came, it would have cost an old man like me more than it was worth to carry insurance of the kind. But with the young and old in the group to strike the balance, my insurance does not cost me anywhere near what it is worth to me, the Quiz paying the major part in the group setup. The answer to the medical problem in America, if there is any, is not "socialized medicine" but "group insurance." Whenever it is possible for everybody to carry group insurance, the medical problem will disappear.

One more proposition and I am through. The people of Ord may not like this, but it is true. I found I could not drink Ord water in the hospital, and had some brought from North Loup, and some from the well on the S. W. Roe farm. It takes a healthy man to stomach chlorinated water, and we might as well face the facts. The one and only objection that I have to the Ord hospital is the kind of water they find it necessary to drink there, because nothing better is available. For the sake of future patients, I hope some plan for better drinking water can be worked out, like piping it up from North Loup or down from Burwell.

To L. B. (Bennie) Nelson goes my hearty thanks for making it possible to get in a few hours fishing after being shut up for two weeks. Thursday Bennie took the Mrs. and I down to a fishing place where I got in some real fishing, and what was more, got the benefit of the sun and fresh air, which is something you never miss until and if you are so placed you cannot get all you want of it. The fact that we did not get many fish didn't matter so much. Getting out in the open once more was well worth the trouble whether we got any fish or not. I do not know how other folks feel about it, and I do not particularly care. The fact is I want fresh air and sunshine and plenty of both.

There are times when a man is hardly up to his job, and I find myself in that condition this week. I am doing my best, but just can't seem to keep my mind on what I am writing. Not that it is important, but the writing of a column of foolishness requires more acumen than a person might suppose. I have to maintain a definite standard or the public will not waste time reading my column. When that time comes I would find myself out of a job. With winter coming on and no fishing to do, I certainly would find time hanging heavy on my hands. That would be the irony of fate. Speaking of irony, reminds me of the following poem:

GRANDFATHER
Grasshopper's came, as thick as hops,
Ruined all the farmer's crops;
The prairie fire burned all his hay;
A tornado blew his house away;
Then his wife's mother came to stay;
No matter what disaster came
He stayed there and held down his claim.

FATHER
The World War came, he marched away,
Fought in the thickest fray;
Homeward came this man at last,
Wounded, crippled, shell-shocked, gassed;
A relic, through a nightmare passed;
To suffer, in this world that he had made safe for democracy.

SON
They taxed his goods and taxed his pay,
Adding taxes night and day;
Taxed his auto, taxed his gas,
Taxed his prunes and apple-sass,
Taxed his phone when he said "Yes";
When the spark of life has fled
They will tax him when he's dead.

Billy Smith, 82, Respected Negro, Dies at B. Bow

Billy Smith, 82, colored man, who has spent over half of his life at the Gibbons home in Westcott passed away Thursday evening in a nursing home in Broken Bow. Billy had many friends in this community and very few, if any enemies. Funeral services were held at the Walter Gibbons home in Westcott Sunday morning at 10 o'clock with the Rev. Lowen Kruse of Comstock in charge. Two songs were sung by Bob Brown of Sargent, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Robert Brown. Pallbearers were Walter Gibbons, sr., Walter Gibbons, jr., John Gibbons, Robert Brown, sr., John Rockhold and Robert Brown, jr. Burial was in Douglas Grove cemetery.

Billy Smith was born in Lexington, Ky., Sept. 11, 1869 and passed away at Broken Bow, Nebr., on Sept. 20, 1951 at the age of 82 years, 9 days.

He spent his early years in the south and came to Nebraska in 1894 where he worked around Alliance and Crawford, coming to Broken Bow about 1898. In 1900 he came to Comstock and has lived there and at Westcott since that time.

He was a lover of horses and took great pride in their care. He was also most industrious and particular in the care of the home and its surroundings. His friendly and congenial personality will be greatly missed by his friends.

NICKELS -- PENNIES --

Turn Them In --

The U. S. mint has asked us to help round up supplies of nickels and pennies, since they are not able to keep up with the demand for these two coins.

Probably all our customers have a small accumulation of these two coins tucked away for a rainy day or in a child's bank, or odd change receptacle.

Evidently they're needed now, so we'll be glad to take them off your hands if it is convenient with you.

Nebraska Tavernmen Proud of Their State

The tavern keeper in your town shares your pride in Nebraska's fine history, its huge livestock and grain production, its magnificent capitol building, its new oil development.

He is proud of being a Nebraska citizen—of serving his community by paying taxes, spending his money locally, providing work for your neighbors.

And, like all good businessmen, your tavern owner takes pride in his establishment. He constantly seeks ways to modernize his premises and improve his operation. Through the brewing industry's continuing educational program, your local tavernman learns of better methods so he can more easily operate in the public interest.

Pete Wittwer, Scotia Farmer, Laid to Rest

Pete Wittwer, 68, prominent stockman and farmer, died at his home south of Scotia, Friday morning after an illness of several weeks. "Pete," as he was known to all who knew him, had not been feeling well for some time. He was taken to a Grand Island hospital where a complete diagnosis could not be given, so he was sent to an Omaha hospital, where it was found that he had a brain tumor. After an operation, he was brought home, where his daughter, Mrs. Margaret Spoles, a registered nurse, and his wife, Mrs. Grace Wittwer, cared for him until his death.

Pete Wittwer

Mr. Wittwer came from a family of 11 children. He was a good neighbor and friend, being especially fond of youngsters. He was fond of his family and of his spacious farm home.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home, with the Rev. Walter Drantman in charge. The body was taken to Dawson where services were held at 2:30 from the Zion Evangelical Reformed church. Rev. C. J. Weidner conducted the services. Nephews of the deceased were pallbearers: Kenneth, LeRoy, Lyle, Roy, Chester Wittwer and Fred Windel. Burial was in the Wild Rose cemetery near Dawson.

Obituary

Peter S. Wittwer, son of the late Frederick and Mary Wittwer, was born Oct. 29, 1882 on a farm near Dawson, where he spent his boyhood days. He was baptized Jan. 2, 1885, attended catechism and was confirmed in the Zion Evangelical Reformed church near Dawson, June 6, 1897. He came to Scotia on Oct. 1, 1901, on the farm where he lived until his death.

He was married to Miss Grace Sims December 18, 1907 at Dawson. To this union one daughter, Margaret, was born.

He was preceded in death by his parents, three brothers, Charles, Joe and Edward. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Grace Wittwer; one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Spoles of Itmann, Va.; five sisters, Mrs. Salome Windel, Falls City; Mrs. Ellen Poir, Dawson; Mrs. Annie Brown, Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. Elizabeth Middleworth, Los Angeles, Calif.; and Mrs. Viola Kramer of Cleveland, Ohio; five brothers, Dr. W. F. Wittwer, Los Lunas, N. M.; Louis at Falls City; Heaton E. at Dawson; Henry of Visalia, Calif.; and James of Los Angeles, Calif.

Governor's Proclamation for NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK

A free and responsible press is one of the foundations of the United States government. It is guaranteed in the first amendment of the Constitution. Without a free press our liberty would be doomed.

The American people must never forget that the newspapers light the way of freedom. It is fitting that the attention of all of us should be called to the part newspapers play in a government of free men.

THEREFORE, I, Val Peterson, Governor of Nebraska, hereby proclaim the week of October 1 to October 8, 1951, as and urge all Nebraskans to hold fast to their faith in a free press, one of the principles of freedom.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Nebraska to be affixed.

Done at the Capitol in the City of Lincoln this 24th day of September, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-One.

An unparalleled opportunity for the training of young Christian leaders in the Philippines faces the Protestant churches today and James Franklin McKinley, Congregational Christian educationalist from Dumaguete, Negros Oriental, Dean of the College of Theology at Silliman, is a key figure in this program.

The free, democratic way of Protestant Christianity has a tremendous appeal among Filipino young men and women and the College of Theology at Silliman University has produced scores of Christian pastors, deaconesses and religious educationalists who are working in all parts of the islands.

The College of Theology student body includes young men and women who are training as pastors and teachers of the Bible, church kindergarten instructors and deaconesses.

For a year and a half the faculty were barefoot since their meager supply of clothes and shoes had given out under the strain of traveling through rough country.

Dean McKinley has served on many important committees in the Philippines including the Executive Committee of the Eastern Mindanao District Conference of the United Evangelical Church of the Philippines.

Indicating the sweep of Dean McKinley's outreach is the fact he is Charter Member of the Dumaguete City Rotary club and served as Chairman of the Club Service, International Service and Fellowship Committees of the club since World War I.

He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cebu Institute and the Farmers' Institute of Bonifacio, Misamis Occidental.

In 1948 Dean McKinley introduced to Silliman College of Theology a new type of scholarship called the Honor Scholarship.

The products of the College of Theology at Silliman are the Filipino pastors of the future and are building the church of Christ in those islands.

James Franklin McKinley was born in Adair County, Missouri, and educated at Drury College, B. A., Cum Laude; Yale Divinity School, B. D., Cum Laude; Union Theological Seminary and Columbia University, M. A.

Dean McKinley served as assistant in the Field Work office at Yale Divinity School and as pastor of the Congregational Church of Oxford, Conn., before going to the Philippines, while on one furlough he was Assistant Supervisor in the Field Work Department at Union Theological Seminary.
