

A moment of terror is mirrored on the face of Chip Wietzke, from Ericson, as he slides off bucking Brahma.

As his bareback bronc goes down on its hindquarters, Alan Svcboda of Burwell goes up with arms spread-eagled.

Scenes like this were typical of the action at Burwell's FFA Rodeo, held Saturday and Sunday. For more pictures and a list of the winners, turn to Page 1 of Section 2.

Chris Ferguson

Ord Representative Earns Trip to State In Speaking Contest

Rita Wojtasek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtasek, has won a chance to compete in the state 4-H public speaking contest at Lincoln.

An Ord High School freshman, Miss Wojtasek earned her trip to state by finishing first in the senior girls division at Saturday's district competition in Halsey. Her speech was titled "4-H, A Wheel of Fortune."

Nine girls participated in the district contest.

The state competition will be held during 4-H Club Week, June 3-6. A $100 scholarship will be presented to the winner by radio station KFAB of Omaha.

Miss Wojtasek received a purple ribbon for her performance at Halsey. She has been active in 4-H work for five years.

Receiving a red ribbon was Roger Cahill, son of Mrs. Rose Cahill. He represented Ord in the boys division of the district contest.

The winner in that division was Brian Knauus of Lexington, who called his speech "Dead-End Dropout." This is his third year to compete in the 4-H speaking contest.

DWI Charges Filed In Tuesday Accident Near Elyria Bridge

A 24-year-old Chambers man was to appear in Valley County court Wednesday afternoon to face charges stemming from a Tuesday night automobile accident near Elyria.

Neal Madsen received only a small cut on the head but his car was severely damaged when it hit a railing at the Turtle-Creek bridge near Elyria, then went out of control, up a bank, and turned over. It came to rest on its top.

Madsen was treated at Valley County Hospital for the cut, then detained overnight in the county jail. He was charged with driving while intoxicated.

The accident occurred about 7 p.m. Tuesday. Madsen was traveling south on Highway 11 at the time.

Raises Approved For City Workers

Most Ord city employees will receive five percent pay raises, beginning today.

At a special meeting Monday night, city councilmen approved straight five percent raises for everyone except themselves, the mayor, city attorney, city clerk, city treasurer, fire chief, judge, city hall custodian and those employees on hourly rates. The Councilmen will consider raises for some of the other workers later.

In other action Otto Zapp was formally sworn in as a new councilman from Ward 3. He was elected without opposition in the

Apr. 1 city election. Zapp replaced Harold Christensen, who declined to run for a third two-year term.

The councilmen also voted to transfer $200 to the Student Activities Fund at Ord High School in payment for labor performed two weeks ago. About 200 seventh and eighth grade students turned out Apr. 10 to clean up the city dump, and councilmen expressed their satisfaction at the job done by the youngsters.

The $200 will be used to help defray expenses for an American Field Service exchange student. It will be paid out of the city's general fund.

"We would have had to pay someone to get the job done," Mayor French stated. "And if the taxpayers who are dirtier the place up, they might as well pay something for having it cleaned up."

French also disclosed that he has hired Jack Hayes and Irving Westcott at $1.50 per hour to supervise the dump. They will work three days a week.

Biggest beneficiary of Tuesday night's pay action will be George Allen, city light and water commissioner. Already the highest paid city employee, Allen will get a raise of $30.50 per month. That will bring his total pay to $633.30 monthly or slightly over $7,600 per year.

Other good-sized raises will go to Wayne Pierce, chief engineer for the electric and water plant; to Bill Beaul, electric line foreman; and to Emil Penns, street commissioner. Each of them will get raises of $25.04 per month, bringing their monthly totals to $325.84, and their yearly pay to just over $6,300.

City clerk Wilma Kroeger, who's also the head bookkeeper, said she would not know how much the raises would cost the city overall until she does more figuring on the payroll.

The amounts of other individual raises and the new salaries are as follows:

Chief of police, $22.50 per month raise, bringing pay to $472.50;

Assistant chief, $20.04 raise, bringing total pay to $439.64;

Patrolman, $20 raise, bringing total to $420;

Assistant chief engineer for the electric and water plant, $20.04 raise, bringing total to $433.35;

Light plant operators, $20.06 raise, bringing total to $421.27;

Cemetery sexton, $19.28 raise, bringing total to $404.55;

Head bookkeeper, $17.42 raise, bringing total to $365.74;

Business Week Students Brighten Scene As Twenty-Eight Get Actual Experience

Twenty-eight seniors from office machines and office practice classes of Ord High School are participating in Business Week — April 28 through May 2.

Dinner Scheduled For Retiring Teacher

An appreciation dinner to honor Miss Inez Swain will be held May 24 at the Ord High School gym.

This dinner will be a potluck affair beginning at 6:30 p.m. Persons wishing to attend have been asked to bring one dish of food and their own table setting.

Miss Swain will retire at the end of this term after teaching for 57 years in Valley County schools. Former students and their families in particular have been invited.

Why It Pays To Give a Gift of Blood

By Karl Mac Kinnon, Administrator, Valley County Hospital

As we sat in the darkened administration office waiting for flight shipment orders from the Red Cross Blood Bank in Omaha, the doctor and I turned to observe the anxious face of a woman entering the lobby of the hospital. We knew her, and I am going to call her Mrs. Smith. The doctor rose to greet her, ready to answer the questions that showed in the expression on her face.

About half an hour before she had been informed that her daughter, who was coming home for a visit, had met with an accident just west of town. Her daughter had not been seriously hurt, but a 4-year-old grandson was cut severely and was in need of an unusual type of blood to replace that which he had lost.

In a later conversation, Mrs. Smith told me she had learned about the accident something like this:

A telephone rang to disturb the busy sounds in the Smith kitchen. Mrs. Smith, her face flushed with the pleasant chore of baking a cake and rolls, smiled as she lifted the receiver. The voice at the other end of the line identified herself.

"This is the ward clerk at Valley County Hospital. I am trying to locate Mrs. Melvin Smith."

"I'm Mrs. Melvin Smith," was her reply, her smile fading.

"Mrs. Smith, are you the mother of Mrs. James Vorden?"

"Yes," came the almost choked reply.

"Mrs. Smith, I wonder if you could come over to the hospital. There has been an accident, and your daughter was asking that I call you."

There was the stunning news. For a moment Mrs. Smith couldn't get her thoughts together. Her thoughts were racing ahead of her to the hospital. What had happened? Was Franice hurt bad?

"Mrs. Smith, are you there?" she heard the ward clerk calling to her.

She tried to get her voice to sound. It came out croaking as she answered the ward clerk that she was still with her. And as the ward clerk gave her some other details she left the phone, turned off all the cooking, and drove straight to the hospital.

This description of an emergency may or may not be familiar to you. It could be as close as the next fleeting minute.

My thoughts came back to the moment Mrs. Smith came through the door to the lobby of the hospital. We were waiting for the call from the Omaha Blood Bank.

Out into the corridor from the laboratory. I knew that Linda Studnicka, the blood bank technician, was preparing a cross-match of blood from the one and only donor that we could locate.

It was summer and most folks don't stop to think that we need blood any time of the year. So we were caught short on this one type of blood, which we so urgently needed for this young boy. This one local donor's contribution was enough to replace only part of the blood loss. We needed more.

Jean Newland, the laboratory supervisor, had immediately placed a call to the Red Cross Blood Center in Omaha. They had put her request for blood into the computer network, and the needed supply would be ready for shipment in a matter of minutes. A doctor was standing by ready to fly to Grand Island to get the blood from the main airline flight.

Within the next few minutes things happened in rapid succession.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Ord at the United Methodist Church from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 13.

Extension clubs will again do the soliciting of donors. During the summer months the need for blood is always greater, and officials have figured that more than 4 per cent of the population should be donating.

Dinner for the workers will be provided and served by the Mutual Benefit Club. The American Legion Auxiliaries of Ord, North Loup, and Arcadia will furnish and serve sandwiches, kolaches, coffee, and juice.

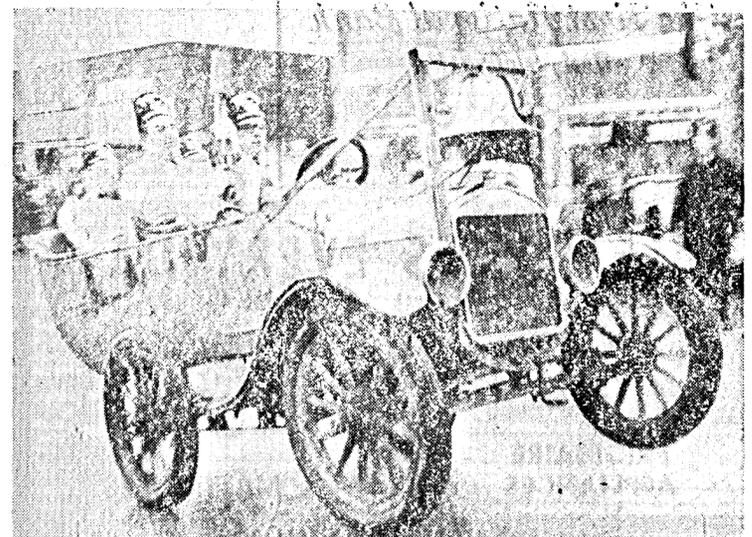

Paul Kubitschek, standing, receives thanks from Gov. Tlemann.

Special Ceremonies Scheduled Today

A joint observance of Law Day and Loyalty Day will be made this afternoon (Thursday) in ceremonies scheduled at the Valley County courthouse steps. The affair will begin at 1 o'clock. Participants will include Paul Kubitschek, Valley County Chairman for Law Day; John Wozab, county service officer; Everett Lech, commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars; the Ord High School Band; and color bearers from the VFW and American Legion.

In a recent ceremony at Lincoln, Kubitschek was presented with a certificate of appreciation signed by Gov. Norbert Tlemann. The certificate recognized Kubitschek's efforts in promoting Law Day.

This "Jumping Ford" will be one of the feature attractions at the Shrine Parade scheduled May 7 in Burwell and Ord. The parade here will begin at 1:30 p.m. Local Shrine officials have invited school children in particular to come out and watch the parade. They have purchased more than $50 worth of candy and gum and will distribute it to youngsters at the parade. The Ord Chamber of Commerce is also going all out to promote the Shriners' appearance, and will give away a bicycle, transistor radio, and change, long with two lawn chairs. A drawing will be held following the parade to determine the winners. A coupon will be printed in next week's Quiz and will be turned in to any Ord merchant who is a Chamber of Commerce member. To be eligible for the prizes, citizens must have their coupons in by 1 p.m. May 8.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clement and grandson Tom Clement called on Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ryschon Saturday evening.
After a short shopping spree, the group met at the Holiday Inn where they held a brief business session and ate lunch. The remainder of the afternoon was spent touring the Stuhr museum.

The ladies reported that the museum is a short distance southwest of Grand Island — leads one to an increased knowledge and appreciation of 19th Century history. Opened in July 1967, the museum is in the early stages of a long-range development plan to make it a showplace of Central Nebraska.

The Ord club women said that valuable historical exhibits within the building, as well as original homes, business and public buildings restored to a turn-of-the-century environment, will shortly make the museum a prime educational and cultural attraction of the Central Plains.

The summer opening will be June 1 and tours are now conducted for students and interested groups by request.
The Oconto Railroad Station (1895);

Kenesaw Bank with fixtures from the Nuckols County Bank (1883);
The Washington Township Hall (1883); and
The original Grand Island Post Office (1860).

Many of the buildings have also been restored and are available for inspection.
Mrs. George Baker, a member of the club, suggests that those planning an outing keep the museum in mind. The group considered it an afternoon well spent and are thinking of visiting other museums on the Central Nebraska Circle Tour.

Phil Tuma who is home now from the hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Homer Simpson were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Frances Tuma.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kyhn, accompanied by Josie Weiker, went to Scotia Friday. They called on Ted Lenker's Mother Dies at Oakley, Kan.

Funeral services were held Thursday in Fullerton for Mrs. Ted Lenker, who died at Oakley, Kan.
Born Aug. 10, 1898, at Genoa, Mrs. Lenker was the daughter of John and Edna Dickinson. On Sept. 25, 1918, she was united in marriage to Clement Theodore Lenker at Grand Island. To this union three sons were born: Alvin Lenker of Phillipsburg, Kan.; Donald Lenker of La Habra, Calif.; and Ted Lenker of Ord.

Mrs. Lenker spent most of her young years on the family farm in Nance County. After her marriage she and her husband moved to Colorado for a short time, then returned to Erickson where they made their home for 25 years at the local telephone exchange office. She spent her last remaining years at Parkside Manor in Oakley, Kan.

Preceded in death by her husband, Mrs. Lenker is survived by her three sons; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Brown of Holyoke, Colo., and Mrs. Pearl Stuch of Sterling, Colo.; one brother, Bill Dickinson of Gold Hill, Ore.; 12 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Stuhr Museum Tour Ends Club Activities Till Summer Leaves

For its last meeting before summer adjournment, the Women's Club of Ord spent an informative afternoon Apr. 15 in Grand Island.

After a short shopping spree, the group met at the Holiday Inn where they held a brief business session and ate lunch. The remainder of the afternoon was spent touring the Stuhr museum.

During his early years he worked for the Union Pacific Railroad, he had been a deputy sheriff in Wall County, and he had worked in the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary for several years. Upon moving to Parma, he bought the Dutchess Cafe and operated it until his retirement in 1963.

A member of the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Keep was also a life member of the Nebraska State Firemen's Assn. and had been a member of the Nebraska Sheriff's and Peace Officers' Assn.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Lynne (Eleanor) Bechly of Boise, Idaho; a son, Guy Keep of Jackson, Nev.; four grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Walter Anderson of Arcadia writes the Quiz that he daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bob (Loretta) Anderson, was involved in a holdup while shopping at the Swartz Jewelry Co. in downtown Omaha. The incident occurred in mid-March when two armed men walked into the store, tied up two salesmen and the woman customer (Mrs. Loretta Anderson), and then escaped with rings, watches, and an undisclosed amount of cash.

The bandits walked in and announced, "This is a stickup," then herded the two salesmen and Mrs. Anderson into a back room and shopping at the Swartz Jewelry Co. in downtown Omaha. This was the second time that Mrs. Anderson had been involved in a holdup at Omaha. Another such episode occurred when three Negroes robbed Kil Patrick's Credit Department where she was employed. That time she and others were held at gun point before the robbers left with a sizable amount of money.

Carol's Corner

by Carol Leggett

Not being a lover of pets (in my house, I mean), I felt I was understanding beyond my capacity when a friend of Daughter Number One rang the doorbell at 10:30 one night and greeted me with a beaming smile and a small orange and yellow cardboard box.

"Is Sue up?"

"I think so, come in. What's in the box?"

"You don't care do you?" she asked, eyes twinkling.

"Oh Deb," I groaned. "It isn't a hamper!"

"Yeah, it's a hamper. We went out for my today and I bought it for Sue. It's alright, isn't it?"

Fumbling for my smelling salts I whispered, "It's alright."

By this time the front hall was crowded with the family who were presumably bedded down for the night. They were babbling such silly talk as "Isn't it cute?" and "Oh, he's darling!"

"Darling? Cute? I thought, 'Where?'"

While they tried to convince me that this new little pet would be content overnight in the flimsy pasteboard carton, I was wondering where we could find a container that might keep the wide-eyed monster a bit "sated" until the daylight house when I could think more clearly.

At near midnight all was calm again with our newest addition presumably happy in an old (should have been discarded long ago) ice chest covered with the inside window from the bedroom window weighted down by a three pound can of coffee and two large cans of pork and beans.

Now a week later the excitement has faded but my frustration hasn't. Little "So Jo" (I've been told this is a short name for Sojore) is at home in a hamper cage borrowed from our friends the Remingtons. One thing is sure — if little "So Jo" should escape from her quarters, I won't write about it. Instead, I will scream. And my screams are loud. You will hear me!

My recipe for this week comes from the kitchen of Mrs. Clarence J. (Norma) Fox. It's for Apple Bars-Danish Pastry and one I know you will want to add to your list of favorites.

2 1/2 c. flour
1 t. salt
1 c. shortening/crisco
1 egg yolk — add enough milk to make 2/3 c. with the egg yolk
2 handfuls crushed corn flakes
8-10 large apples
1 c. sugar
1 t. cinnamon
1 egg white
Frosting: 1 T. water, 1 c. powdered sugar and vanilla

Mix ingredients including milk and egg yolk for pie crust. Roll half the dough out on plastic sheet or wax paper to fill 10 1/2 x 15 pan or cookie sheet. Pat sides up well on edge of pan. Sprinkle bottom crust with crushed corn flakes. Peel and slice apples; sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixture. Place over crust and flakes. Roll other half of dough and place on top; pinch edges together well. Beat egg white stiff or just frothy with fork and place on top of crust. Bake at 400 degrees for 60 minutes. While warm, frost with powdered sugar. Sprinkle egg whites with sugar. You may wish to just use this instead of frosting.

Mrs. Paul (Dorothy) Wray has the most interesting demonstration at the home of Mrs. Gerald Schmitt last week when she showed a group how fancy rolls are made. The finished products were beautiful and very tasty, and she made it all look so easy to do. Dorothy said her husband maintains she is not Bohemian enough to make kolaches — but he still eats the ones she makes.

The Alan Babkas... married at Ord Church — Ray's Studio
Linda Beard-Alan Babka Say Vows In Double-Ring Rites at Catholic Church

In a 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony, April 19, Linda Beard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beard of Ord and Alan V. Babka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wied Babka of Ord, were united in marriage.

The double ring ceremony took place at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Ord with the Rev. Stanley Gorek officiating. Mrs. Sylvester Wojtaszek, organist, presented appropriate nuptial music with Leroy McCormick of Grant, cousin of the bride, singing "Blessed Be This Day."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She appeared in a gown fashioned in silk organza over tulle with bodice of Chantilly lace. The scoop neckline was dotted in tiny seed pearls, and lace extended down the long fitted sleeves ending in bridal points. The floor length A-line skirt was trimmed with appliques of the same lace complemented by a detachable Watteau train attractively centered with a circular pattern of Chantilly lace insets and edged with lace appliques. The shoulder length veil of illusion was topped with a bow and petals of silk organza and lace edged with tiny seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses was topped by a white orchid.

Maid of honor was Cecelia Hruby of Ord and bridesmaid was Sharon Schmidt of Elba. Their gowns were slim, floor length, fashioned of pink crepe with Empire waistlines accented with a band of pink satin ending in a back bow. The long full sleeves were made of silk chiffon. The veils were shoulder length topped with a pink satin bow. Each carried a long steamed American Beauty rose.

Charles Hrebec of Ord was best man for his cousin and Dennis Zablouil of Hastings served as groomsman. Ushers were the bride's brothers, William Beard Jr. and Robert Beard; Thomas Fraser, cousin of the groom and Andrew Szydyk.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtaszek were the host and hostess at the reception which followed in St. Mary's auditorium. Mrs. Wojtaszek assisted Marjorie Beard, aunt of the bride, in cutting the four tier wedding cake which was baked and decorated by the bride's mother, Mrs. Dorrell Conroy, cousin of the groom, served punch and Mrs. Clifford Davidson, aunt of the bride, poured coffee. Other assistants were Mrs. J. A. McCormick of Grant; Mrs. Ray Shokoski; Mrs. Leonard Saminski; Mrs. Syl Puntak; Kathy Williams, Rita Wojtaszek and Mrs. Ign. Pokraka of North Loup and Linda Crovelli of Omaha. Joann Hrebec, cousin of the groom, presided at the guest book. The gifts were opened by Carol Moody, Nancy Barokowski of Omaha and Mrs. Evelyn Mangorski of Kenesaw.

For the wedding trip to Colorado the bride wore a pink knit ensemble with navy accessories. Her carriage was of pink sweetheart roses. The couple will be at home at 2315 1/2 No. Grand Island Ave., Grand Island.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Ord High School. The bride, a graduate of C. E. School of Commerce, Omaha is employed by Dr. Allan Gillman in Grand Island. The groom is a graduate of Vocational Technical School, Milford and has employment with Bish Machinery Co. in Grand Island.

Here Again

Mrs. Cliff Goodrich and Mrs. Doris Graul are here again after living in Mesa, Ariz. the past six months. They returned home Apr. 24. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodrich of North Loup flew to Mesa to drive them home.

All-Church Fellowship To Be Observed Friday

Mrs. Les Nelson of the Special Services School in Ord will be in charge of the All-Church Fellowship at the Mrs. Valley United Methodist Church.

Also on the agenda are a covered dish luncheon, to begin at 11:30 p.m., and an election of new officers. Fellowship of the "Sweet Corn" will also be observed and dedicated.

Women of all faiths have been invited to participate.

Anniversary Noted

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Szydyk and family were hosts for Sunday dinner and supper at their country home in honor of the seventh wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Eurek of Hastings. Guests with the Eures family were the Don Draabridge, Anthony Szydyk, Eugene White families, all of Grand Island, plus Andrew and Henry Szydyk.

One More Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young were hosts to members of the Royal Kensington Club at their home Sunday evening. After the business meeting and flower exchange, cards were played at four tables. Winners were Jens Nielsen, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kirby, and Mrs. Warner Ergan. Mrs. Ed Sheenaker, Mrs. Verjig, and Mrs. Jens Nielsen received Secret Sister birthday gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Penas will entertain the group May 19 at the last meeting of the season.

Mrs. Jay Aable left Ord by bus Monday to visit a granddaughter in Grand Island before continuing on Norfolk, where she will spend some time with a daughter, Mrs. Irwin Underberg, and family.

Spring-Time Courtesy

Mrs. Robert Norton, Mrs. Gerald Decker, and Mrs. William Goggin, guests of honor at an afternoon dessert party Saturday in the Elks Lodge. Wives of the school administration and faculty members, plus women of the Ord teaching staff were guests. Court Whist was played. The spring floral centerpieces used as the table decor during the dessert luncheon were given as prizes to the seven high and one low scorers.

Card of Thanks

I want to thank everyone for the wonderful consideration shown me since the night of our car accident. A special thanks to the emergency unit, Dr. Zienke and the nurses for the excellent care; to Rev. Higgins and Rev. Campbell for their prayers and comforting words and to my friends and relatives who remembered me with cards, flowers and visits. It was all greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Anna Visek

Card of Thanks

We are sincerely grateful to all our friends who have responded so kindly and generously during the recent illness and passing of our loved one. Your handclaps, visits, cards and letters, flowers, memorial contributions, attendance at the services, and any other considerations and sacrifices you have made in our behalf have been so much appreciated. May God bless each of you personally.

Mary Anne Owens and Robert Krason Wed In Catholic Ceremony at Burwell Church

Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Burwell was the setting for a 10 o'clock wedding Saturday morning uniting Mary Anne Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Owen of Burwell and Robert Krason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lind Krason of Ord. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Father Hubert Spajel, cousin of the groom.

Keith Kovanda sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Betty DeLashmatt at the organ. Given by her father, the bride appeared in an Albee gown of rose and lace with a scalloped bateau neckline and long lace sleeves. The gown was embellished with lace applique on the skirt and detachable train. A petal flower of pearls and lace held the full length veil. The theme of "something old, new, borrowed and blue" was used — the something old being the engagement ring of the bride's great-grandmother. Miss Owen carried a bouquet of pink rose buds surrounded by baby carnations with silver and white bells and streamers of white satin and pearls.

Penny Lamb was maid of honor. Her gown was floor-length — in a two toned shade of pink chiffon overlaid by light pink net. Matching gloves and shoes and a headpiece of sheer nylon centered with a velvet bow completed her ensemble, and she carried a small matching bouquet of pink rose buds and tiny carnations with silver bells and satin streamers.

Leonard Krason served his brother as best man; Ushers were Gaben Dulitz and Dale Zebert.

A reception for 70 guests was held at the Legion Club following the ceremony. The reception table was decorated in the bride's colors featuring a lace tablecloth made by the groom's grandmother. A four-tiered cake, decorated with pink roses and green leaves, centered the table. Mrs. Juanita Lamb was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Phyllis Johnson, Mrs. Effie Dreneman, Mrs. Minnie Anderson, and Mrs. Rita Claffin. Servers were Mary Sue Huffman and Cindy Turdik.

Mrs. Peggy Patterson, Rae Lane Owen, and Trisha Leach, cousins of the bride, were at the gift table. Kathy Hoppes presided at the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of the Burwell High School and is attending Parks Business School in Denver, Colo. The groom, a graduate of Ord High School, served a tour of duty with the Seabees in Vietnam. He is presently employed in construction work at Denver.

Ord Student Musicians Rate High In District Competition at Kearney

By Kay Green
More than a third of the Ord High School entries in last week's District 1 music contest at Kearney earned "superior" ratings of 1 — the highest that could be given.

The school had 17 entries in the various divisions of the contest. Six of them received 1s, eight of them 2s, and three of them 3s. No Ord entries received a 4, which was the lowest rating given.

Superior ratings of 1 were given to the following:

- The Saxophone Sextet (Pam Lambert, Kathy Karye, Dianne Peterson, Jan Koelling, Mike Krikac, and Sonja Swaneck) for their performance of Dvorak's "First Movement from Serenade, Opus 44"
- The Saxophone Sextet (Pam Lambert, Kathy Karye, Dianne Peterson, Jan Koelling, Mike Krikac, and Sonja Swaneck) for their performance of Dvorak's "First Movement from Serenade, Opus 44"
- The Saxophone Sextet (Pam Lambert, Kathy Karye, Dianne Peterson, Jan Koelling, Mike Krikac, and Sonja Swaneck) for their performance of Dvorak's "First Movement from Serenade, Opus 44"

North Loup-Scotia Scores Highly Too

Awarded 2 ratings were the Brass Sextet, Alan Fuss with the baritone horn, and the Flute Trio (Christy Benben, Cindy Shoemaker, Mary Jane Johnson).

Junior Girls, Mothers Guesst at Spring Tea

Marion Cast, Extension Home Economist of Boone and Nance counties was the featured speaker, Wednesday afternoon, at a tea sponsored by the Extension Clubs of Valley County. The 2 o'clock courtesy honored junior girls of Ord, North Loup and Arcadia and their mothers.

Miss Cast's talk — supplemented with the use of slides — took the more than 150 guests on an imaginary visit to Morocco. She told of the Arab hospitality outside the friendliness of the southern and western people and that mint tea is a favorite drink among the Moroccan people. Her look at the world and the visit to Morocco was made possible while Mrs. Cast was traveling with the Peace Corps. Her future itinerary includes a journey to Turkey on a three year teaching assignment with the Peace Corps.

Valley County Goods Related to Daisy Chain

More than 100 University of Nebraska goods on the Lincoln campus have been named to the Daisy Chain for the 30th Day, which begins the morning of May 3 on the lawn near Love Memorial Library.

Members of the Daisy Chain, which is composed of undergraduate students, and the Ivy Chain, composed of senior students, line the path of the May Queen and her court. Chain members are selected by their organizations on the basis of service.

Among those selected were four Valley County misses. They are Leah Bricker of Ord, freshman; Carlene Krajnik, Ord, and Gretchen Schudel, North Loup, sophomores; and Sheryl Bresley, Ord, junior.

Zabloudil Honored as Top Photographer; Marshalls Also Rate at State Convention

Francis Zabloudil, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Zabloudil of Ord, has been named Nebraska's "photographer of the year." This is the second time for him to receive the honor and the seventh straight year he has been listed among the state's top 10 photographers.

Also honored at last week's state convention of professional photographers were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marshall of Ord. They received five ribbons for six portraits entered in the general competition.

Earning blue ribbons for superior entries were a portrait of Chris Greenway, daughter of Ord, and a portrait of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall's two daughters, Mitzi and Marci. The Greenway picture was captioned "Little Miss" and the Marshall photograph "My Girls."

Good Report Due At Chamber Event

A favorable report on the status of Legislative Bill 576 is promised at today's Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting. To be held in the Veterans Club, the luncheon will begin at noon. LB 576 is the one sponsored by Senator Rudolf Kokes which would move the Game Commission to Ord. Debate was suspended in the legislative chambers last week after Senator Kokes learned that Game Commission director Mel Steen had advertised for bids on a headquarters building to be constructed in Lincoln.

Another feature of the noon luncheon will be the appearance of Jokke Jansson, foreign exchange student from the Netherlands who will soon complete her year with the Duane Wolfe family.

Clothes Dryer Industry Adjusts to New Fabrics
Manufacturers of gas clothes dryers have been hard at work adding new wrinkles to their machines in order to stay ahead of the new no-wrinkle fabrics. Reports indicate they've been successful. Gas dryers, which are less expensive to install and operate than their electric counterparts, now seem to be out in front in the variety of features they offer for drying the new miracle fabrics. One manufacturer of gas dryers offers a unit with 1/3 larger drum size. Another offers 3 warning signals at intervals while the machine keeps dry clothes tumbling to prevent wrinkles. Almost all brands give special treatment to delicate fabrics and are designed to handle permanent press fabrics. LP-Gas is piped directly to this area by a division of MAPCO — the Mid-America Pipeline System — the underground highway weather can't block.

Latest Ord Moves
In springtime, the thoughts of many folks turn to moving to a new location. Such has been the case of many Ordites.

Now at home in the former Sershen house on O Street is Mrs. Alice Johnson. Ord's new shoe repairman, Leo Blank, lives in the Noll apartment.

Arnold Frahm has parked his mobile home on the plot vacated by the Earl Greens, and Mrs. Erma Klancecky is settled in the house left empty by the Ron Kosmickis who moved to St. Liberty. The Keith Polands now reside in the house vacated by Mrs. Klancecky, which they purchased, and the Danny Studnickas have moved into the house previously occupied by the Polands. Meanwhile the Cliff Marshalls have returned to their home where the Studnickas lived.

The Ed Bosworths are getting settled in their new home — the Mortensen place — and the John Blithas have moved where the Jim Pishmas lived on North 19th Street.

Terry Ellison now resides on North 21st Street where Bruce Ehmanier was. The Frank Deckers' new home is at 2215 M Street where the Smedra family lived; and the Larry Thomsons now reside where Mrs. Maureen Reiber was.

At home in the Proskovil house on L Street is the Jim Pishma family. Lavern Peterson, manager of the Elk's Lodge, has rented the Ed Zinkund house, and the Robert Seversons plan to move soon into the Ada Mahson house on east M Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Dale and Willa were Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Senn of Bartlett and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Potts and family of Lincoln. Mr. Potts is a brother of Mrs. Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Novosad helped Mr. and Mrs. Bob Severson and family move Sunday from Grand Island to Ord.

Wildcats Again Tip Conference Rivals

A talented group of North Loup - Scotia athletes Friday completed their athletic dominance of the Logan - Hooker - Thomas - Custer Conference for this 1968-1969 school year.

By winning the conference track meet held at Merna, the Wildcats completed a sweep of championships in every major sport. Last fall they won the football championship in the eastern half of the conference, then blatted western champ Arnold, 40-0, in a playoff. During the winter they won the conference basketball title, and now they have the track championship to add to their spoils.

As in the other sports, the Wildcats did not win their track championship easily. Another fine group of athletes from Sargent - who would also be enjoying a banner year were it not for North Loup - Scotia - pushed them all the way as they had done earlier in both football and basketball. In fact, many of the protagonists Friday were the same ones who had battled so fiercely in the other sports.

In the final analysis it was a man known well to Sargent fans who again did their Bulldogs in, Chuck Wegner, who scored a total of 66 points in three basketball triumphs over Sargent during the winter, rang up 19 points Friday in the 120-yard high hurdles behind teammate Dale Coufal, and was third in the discus throw.

Other first places for the Wildcats went to Cliff Jorgensen in the mile and Al Williams in the pole vault.

Sargent had top finishers in the 440-yard dash (Anderson), 880-yard run (Green), and high jump (Cooper).

Both the Bulldogs and North Loup - Scotia had a relay win apiece. Sargent taking the 830 and its foe the mile. Arnold captured the two-mile with North Loup - Scotia running second.

Sargent's 880 relay performance was a record-breaking one as the Bulldog foursome of Cliff Jorgensen, Cooper, Green, and Anderson sped the half mile in 1 minute, 35 seconds. The mark was a new conference record.

Dale Dobesh of Ansley established the only other new mark, winning the two-mile run in 10:36.7.

Non-winners played a decisive role in the North Loup - Scotia team victory as they piled up points behind the front runners D. Williams was second in the pole vault, Coufal third, and the low hurdles, Jerry Hanson third in the mile, and Gordy Klyn fifth in the shot put. Terry Keown also tied for fourth in the 440.

Sargent got additional help from Conrad Sutton, second and third in the two hurdles events, and from Cliff Hanna, who tied for third in the high jump.

Mystery, Comedy Provide Enjoyable Mix In Annual Play Presented by Junior Class

Nearly 90 percent of the Ord High Junior class helped stage "Tune in on Terror" Tuesday night in the school auditorium. It was a mysterious farce which kept play enthusiasts intrigued trying to figure out the "why" behind all that appeared before their eyes.

Jane and Ellen Arkwright (played by Linda Roark and Chris Erikson) were twin sisters sent to spend part of the night at an abandoned private hospital as their initiation into the "Hi Phi" sorority.

The hospital was reportedly haunted, and from that setting appeared a number of unbelievable characters: i.e., a boa constrictor, a vampire, and Frankenstein's heir. The boa constrictor's name was Arnold (Gary Trepow), the Vampire's name Rozka (Merilyn Vodelnal), and Frankenstein's heir was Herr Doktor Klaus Von Schlessler (Greg Martin).

Add to this a witty old Granny Karp (Joyce Bogus); her not-so-smart son Bruno (Chuck Setlik); a young couple who were eloping, Jikki Jerrold (Kathy Urbanovsky) and Bart Barlette (Dennis Radlik); and Jikki's maid, Afidilla Deaver (Dianne Sorenson). Together they make for some highly excitable hijinks.

Also, enter Rev. Peter Moss (Dennis Mick), who got the wedding and funeral dialogues confused, and Jikki's girlfriend, Patty Larson (Julie Winterfeld).

They fall in love with one another, and THEN EVERYTHING BEGINS TO HAPPEN.

The first two acts convince the viewer that he's watching a horror play, complete with transplanted brains from humans to animals and vice versa, horrifying screams from other rooms, and the mysterious disappearances and reappearance of people. Then as one falls deeper and deeper into the web, it all suddenly makes sense as Herr Doktor removes his disguise and reveals himself as the twins' uncle and the others logically explain their part in the escapade to scare the twins — at which they are successful.

Jerry Walsh, the director, said that from a junior class of 104, approximately 90 took part in some way. Two nights of audi-

Grass Tetany Can Be Prevented

Cattle will be going to grass within a few weeks. Adequate moisture throughout the fall and winter, should put our pastures and rangelands in a condition to produce an excellent supply of nutritional roughage.

A word of caution, however, cattle coming through a hard winter such as we have experienced, often possess an unbalanced nutritional condition; and they will consume the lush, succulent foliage voraciously.

This combination of factors — going from conditions of low nutrition to an adequate supply of good roughage — can often trigger grass poisoning or grass tetany.

Grass tetany occurs primarily in lactating dairy or beef animals on pasture, and it strikes suddenly. Cattle may appear normal and then be found dead or down a few hours later.

Stricken cows at first begin to graze apart from the other cattle. Close observation will reveal a stiffness of the hind legs.

Any excitement or sudden motion may bring on the tetany spasms, causing the cow to go down. The legs will extend stiffly. The head is drawn back, the eyes roll, and the mouth is closed with a grinding of the teeth.

Many cows that go down are unable to get up without help or treatment. Some cows in a tetany condition become belligerent and may attack people or other animals without provocation.

Grass tetany can be prevented by feeding the cows a supplement containing magnesium oxide. The supplement should be a good feed, consisting of corn or milo and some molasses to act as a binder and to disguise the flavor of the magnesium.

Something New In Agriculture
A new Finnish breed of sheep that has a flock average of three to five lambs per ewe has been imported into the United States.

Ewes of Finnish Landrace breed have given birth to as many as six and seven lambs. Some flocks average from three to five lambs per ewe.

Researchers plan to study the management and rearing problems of the breed and try to develop a cross that has a substantially higher lambing average.

The research on crossing this breed with our standard breeds will be done at the University of Minnesota in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

Publication Available
On Insect Control
Farmers desiring the latest recommendations on insecticides to use for controlling insects in corn and milo are reminded to pick up EC 69-1509 at the County Extension Office.

The publication is designed to benefit the farmer when control programs are needed. No endorsement is implied by the Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service, and no discrimination is intended when, in some instances, trade names are used in the publication.

Elm Bark Beetles
Time is getting short for removal and burning of dead elms to reduce the population of elm bark beetles. Destruction of dead elms will not prevent Dutch elm disease but will reduce the probability as the number of insect carriers are reduced.

Beetle-infested trees must be burned before the spring emergence of adults. This is usually in late April or early May. Emergence of beetles will vary due to spring temperatures. Trees that died last year are the ones that will produce beetles this spring.

THE Ord Quiz

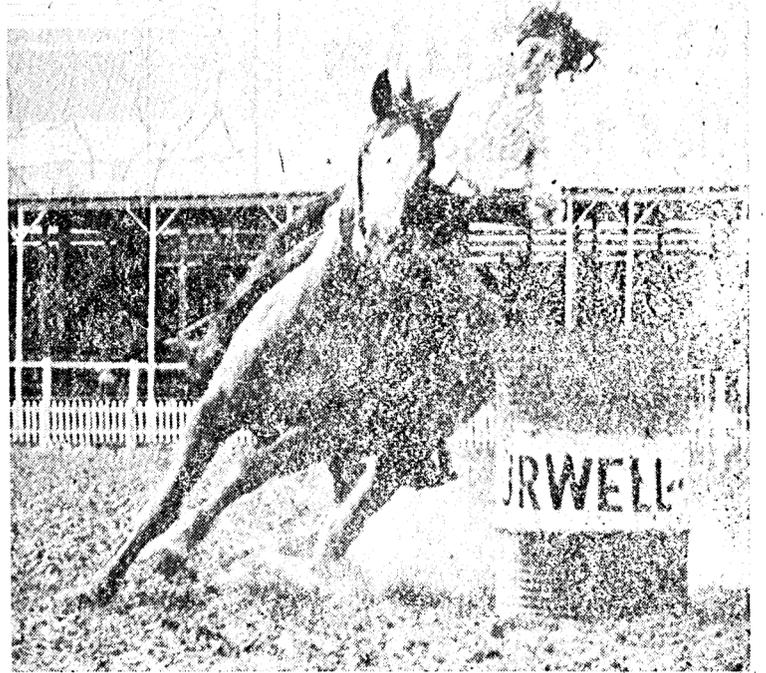

Estab. April, 1882. Ord, Nebr., Thurs., May 1, 1969. Vol. 88, No. 8. In 2 Sects.

Larry Chendler of Paxton has his calf tied, but somehow the cowboy is all trussed up too. Unmindful of his master's predicament, his faithful horse is keeping the rope tight.

Tim Griebel of Coonstock has calf on chase, but it slipped through two lasso attempts.

Jim Sheets of Burwell has his doggie just about trussed.

They Came From All Over the State To Ride in Burwell's Junior Rodeo

The loot from Burwell's fourth annual FFA Rodeo is scattered from one end of Nebraska to the other this morning.

Fifty-eight youngsters competed in the two-day affair held Saturday and Sunday afternoon at the Burwell Rodeo Grounds, and 20 of them took home prizes of one sort or another.

Named all-around cowboy was Matt Ensminger of Pender, from the northeast corner of the state. Chosen all-around cowgirl was Marcy Edwards of Ainsworth, which is located in the north-central portion of the state.

Ensminger won because of his ability to handle a horse and work with stock. He won first places in boys cutting and in calf roping, lassoing and tying two head in 32.2 seconds. That time would have earned him fourth place at last summer's professional rodeo in Burwell, which attracted top cowboys from throughout the country. It was just 5.1 seconds off the winning time posted by the pros.

Miss Edwards also won a cutting championship and accumulated additional points by finishing second in barrel racing.

Paul Tierney of Broken Bow and hometown girl Lynda Cassidy of Burwell finished second in the all-around competition.

Besides Ensminger, individual event winners in the boys division were Tierney in bareback riding, 55 points on one ride; Chip Wietzke of Ericson, saddle bronc riding, 41 points on one ride; and Rod Barthel of Burwell, bull riding, 40 points on one ride; and Bill Manning of Theford, steer wrestling, 19.6 seconds on two throws.

Although the contestants were all high school students, there was nothing "junior" about the animals they were handling. Both the broncs and the bulls were full-sized, with only the steers running a grade below those handled by the pros.

Engraved belt buckles were presented to each winner, with jeans going to second-place contestants and spur straps to third-place finishers. The prizes were donated by local merchants and area cattlemen.

The longest distance travelled by any of the contestants was the 265 miles Larry Hutchison came from Chadron.

- BOYS DIVISION
- Bareback Riding
 (1) Paul Tierney, Broken Bow, 55; (2) Rick Hiser, Broken Bow, 50; (3) Steve Chandler, Keystone, 49.

- Cutting
 (1) Marcy Edwards, Ainsworth; (2) Lynda Cassidy, Burwell; (3) Kaye Gallino, Valentine.

He looks calm here, but this saddle bronc was wanting out — even if he had to go over the chute to do it.

Jerry Clouse of Bartlett herds lone calf away from herd in cutting competition. Clouse was second in this event.

THE Ord Quiz

He'll Be Missed... But How Much?

Eleven years ago an old war hero came to power in France, bringing with him visions of grandeur.

At first the policies of Charles de Gaulle could be admired as he tried to build backbone and pride in a people that twice during this century has had to be bailed out of major wars by other friendly nations. With zeal De Gaulle tried to crase his people's dependence on the United States and other western allies and restore confidence in themselves.

To a large extent the general achieved this, and for that he can be admired. But he too quickly grew to love the power that was his to wield—and with it the havoc that was his to create. By the time he stepped down Sunday after a vote of no-confidence by his people, it was obvious that De Gaulle had out-lived his usefulness to the western alliance.

Thanks to the former French president, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is a shambles today. Its deterrent value to the threat of Communism in Europe is dubious, due in large measure to De Gaulle's decision to withdraw French troops back inside her own borders and his decision to oust foreign men and installations from inside those borders.

Furthermore, in the event of war today on the East European front, the Western allies would be hard put to maintain adequate supply lines. A look at the geography of Europe shows that by knocking out one or two key ports, West Germany and the allied troops on her eastern border could easily be cut off from outside help except by air.

Besides what he has done to destroy NATO, De Gaulle's petty jealousies concerning Great Britain have seriously speeded that country's economic collapse. By refusing her admittance into the European Common Market, De Gaulle has contributed to Britain's withdrawal from key areas of the world. That in turn has left those areas open to Soviet domination, since the United States has found she already has more than she can handle by herself.

In later years, some of De Gaulle's actions have even bordered on senility—such as the speech he made encouraging Canadians of French descent to form their own nation and secede from Canada.

But despite his many shortcomings, it will not be known if the Western allies will be better off without De Gaulle until a permanent successor is named. The chaos that he predicted if the French people rejected him is indeed a real possibility. Furthermore, the French Communist Party is one of the two largest in Western Europe, and no doubt it is pulling out all the stops to move into the vacuum left by De Gaulle.

Thus, only time will tell if the world has gained or lost by De Gaulle's voluntary resignation.

But at least in one respect, the proud old French general has given Western leaders something to take notice of and emulate. After saying he would step down unless he received a strong vote of confidence, he followed through immediately when it became obvious he would not get that vote.

Such honesty would be most welcome from other western politicians.

An Envelope Full of Proof

Across a newspaper desk each day come many pieces of mail—most of them of the junk variety.

They may be from a foreign import car dealer seeking some free publicity with news releases about his latest model... or from the railroads with material critical of the trucking industry... or from the trucking industry with material critical of the railroads. Or they may be some slick-back, full-color publications from some government department explaining its need for additional funds from the taxpayer's pocket—presumably to do something besides print more slick-back, full-color publications.

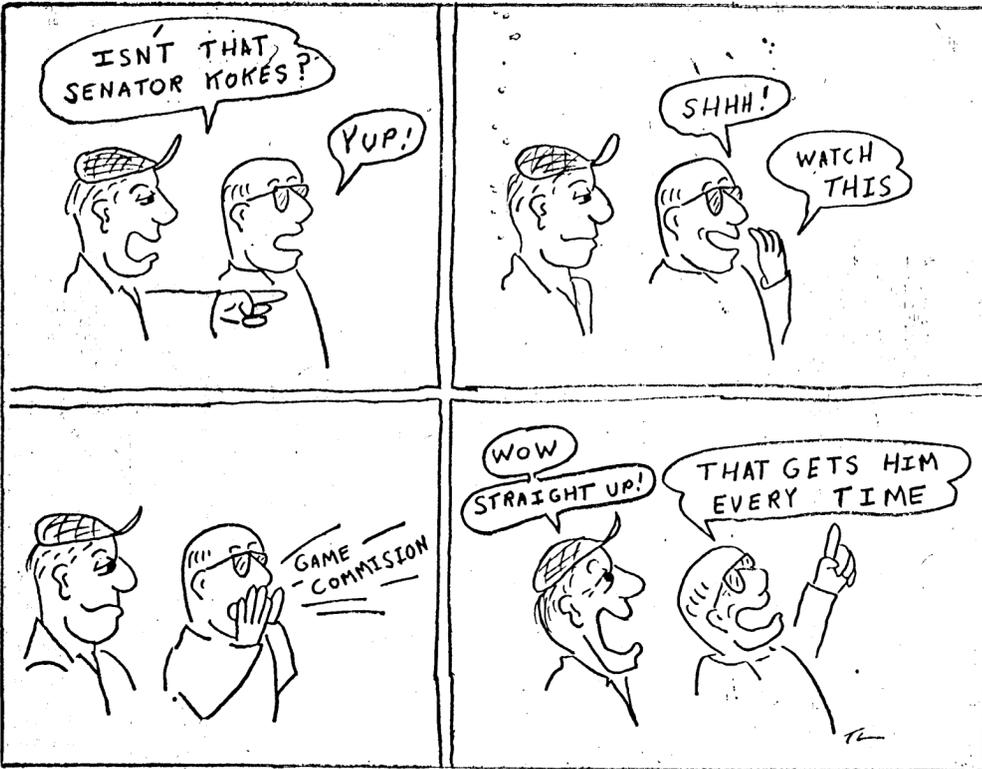

Occasionally, though, something is received which is quite extraordinary. Such a piece of mail arrived last weekend. The return address read "The University of Nebraska." Usually that alone is enough to warrant a second look, since the university is one of the better news sources for this state's papers.

But there was something even more unusual about this particular envelope: An 18-cent postage mark testified to the sheer bulk of the material inside.

Closer examination revealed that the envelope contained news releases about area youths being cited at the university's Honors Day convocation. In the usual manner, standard releases had been prepared and then each student's name typed in on a separate release.

In all, the envelope contained 15 releases concerning Ord High School graduates and five about North Loup-Scotia alumni.

It was a fine testimonial to the quality of students being turned out by Valley County schools.

Something Different

Head for the Willows!

Now that I'm back in my Ord home sitting on my rock pile, enjoying the deliberate ticks of the cuckoo clock on one hand and the chatter of TV on the other, Mexico seems very far away. And the many pleasant hours have taken on a heavenly, dreamlike quality already.

For there hasn't been TV where I've been. And my watch stopped running several days later it occurred to me that I didn't need to know the time anyway, and I got quite out of the habit of looking at my empty wrist. Yes, they have TV—mainly near Mexico City and all in Spanish, no American programs.

Also, I became used to no telephones... they have a few, to be avoided if possible. (I adjusted, though I'm a great addict of the telephone when in Ord!)

There are so many fun people and things to recall. There was the silly episode in the tremendous Guadalajara market when my friend and I were hot and thirsty and asked an eager young man where we could get cerveza. Mexican beer is very good, I may say, but when the young guide led us back through several blocks of heaped up counters we grew more and more tired and I whispered, "One of his relatives must sell beer, for him to bring us way back here!"

Proudly he halted us before two doors, one with a sign Damas and one with a sign Caballeros. "Services," he announced happily—but how his face fell when we cried, "No, No, Cerveza!" He was so embarrassed that we bought some items at his stand of leather goods, which really were most attractive. Leather is a beautiful bargain in Mexico. We laughed every time beer was mentioned thereafter.

It was fun to watch the young boys and girls who worked at the hotel throw sticks into the lime tree to loosen the ripe fruit. Different than our limes, they are delicious but cannot be shipped.

And I remember with fondness watching the same young workers chop off the rough top of a coconut, stick in straws, and suck the milk. Expensive: one peso, maybe two.

Or watching the gamblers shout as they played dominoes in the shade of the big hotel patio, hour after hour. When do they work? And who cares? They always have time for a smile and a greeting, but the greeting must be proper: before noon it is always "Buenos Dias." After 12 it becomes "Buenos Tardes." And in the evening it is "Buenas Noches." Which makes my casual "Hi" sound casual indeed.

Even tiny children say "Allo," shyly. And nearly always they add "Senora." I love their soft speech, which makes Americans sound acutely raucous, and our children brassy.

So many good visits I had during my trip, with favorite cousins Dorothy and Harry McBeth at Ontario, Calif., where we dodged mud and water; with Edwin Clements there; Lena Clements and the Hugh Carsons at Palm Desert, also in California. And I recall happy days with Les and Weesie Martz at Tucson, Ariz., following 10 pleasant days with Mr. and Mrs. John Townsend near Guaymas, Mexico.

Other friends I saw included the delightful Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harris of Fresno, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gleason of Bend, Ore.; the stimulating writer, Bonnie Frazier of Ajijie, Mexico; the fun-to-be-with Orly and Olive Marshall who are building there. Also, Fred Whelan, the thoughtful Rupert Kemps, Burton Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Harrington who have retired from Pasadena, Calif., and built a mansion overlooking Lake Chapala.

I also remember the hospitable Mr. and Mrs. Fred McConnell who avowed, "We'll never have to worry about segregation again, now that we've moved here from San Francisco." And my dear friends and hosts Brooke and Sue Waterbury, truly genial. Plus my sketching teacher, who I much admired.

Or Mr. and Mrs. Jack George from Toronto, Canada, and his brother Ralph and family, a banker who became so smitten with Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, that he extended his stay a second week to look for a place to buy. Or the companionable Albert Birches from Winnipeg, Canada. Or my dear old friends from last year, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Davern, whose home is at Conasco, Ontario, Canada. Or my former travelling companion from Salem, Ore., Lou Paulus, who showed me a royal evening in her handsome new condominium at Palm Desert, where I met her friends.

I could go on and on! But instead I think it's time to ride along the lovely North Loup river and see if the willows are greening yet.

—Irma

When You And I Were Young

(Items from files of The Ord Quiz of Years Ago)

10 Years Ago
Fifty-two Ord seniors climaxed high school studies with a series of commencement activities. Mrs. Howard Hanke, 38, a well known Mira Valley farm wife, died unexpectedly at the Ord hospital.

Reports indicated a former Ord resident, Maxrud Behrends, had shared in the reward offered for the capture of killer Charles Starkweather. Behrends had recognized the Starkweather car in a western Nebraska ditch. He phoned police officials and the call shifted the hunt for the killer westward to Wyoming from Lincoln. Behrends was given $400. Investiture rites for Right Rev. Msgr. Thomas Siudowski, a former pastor of Our Lady's Church here, were scheduled at Sidney. At the service Father Tom was invested with his new office, a domestic prelate to Pope John XXIII.

Leon Klanecky was named a deputy sheriff of Valley County. 20 Years Ago
Approximately 100 persons attended the mother-daughter banquet for former members of the Ordettes. It was held in the basement of the Ord Methodist Church.

Michael James Kochanowski, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kochanowski, was killed when the family auto overturned on the North Loup - Ashton road about two miles south of North Loup. Stock sales for a cooperative hospital here were set to begin May 19 in Ord, North Loup, and Arcadia. Par value was $100 per share, and $60,000 was set as the amount necessary if the Ord Hospital—owned by Dr. C. J. Miller—was to be purchased and operated.

Joyce Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cox, had a perfect attendance record for the 12 years she was in school at North Loup.

40 Years Ago
Frank Dworak Sr., who first entered business at Ord in 1888, sold the Model Grocery to his son, Frank Dworak Jr., and announced he would retire from business. Wesley Flynn, son of Mrs. M. Flynn of Ord, was wed in California to Miss Reva West. Alice Anderson and Charles LeMasters were married in Broken Bow.

Anton Uher, 76, a resident of Geranium township, died at his home.

Gen. George Washington, praying at Valley Forge for divine help against the enemies of freedom, symbolizes the theme of Loyalty Day, 1969. It will be celebrated across the country today (Thursday) by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and their Ladies Auxiliaries. Here in Ord a parade, flag ceremonies, and speakers will emphasize God, flag and country as well as dedication to American freedom and united actions against all subversive influences.

— character —

Maclean once said: "There is not a man or woman, however poor they be, but have in their power, by the grace of God, to lead behind them the grandest thing on earth, character; and their children will rise up after them and thank God that their mother was a pious woman, or their father a pious man."

Character—the active mark of individuality. The little thing that sets us aside from the "common man."

Geikie went on to say, "Our character is but the stamp on our souls of the free choices of good and evil we have made through life."

Character is not endowed by someone, but has to be built little by little. It is earned by a continuous effort—is not happenstance. Although it is made up of minute pieces, character includes a capacity to do large, unselfish things, not for exhibition, but because they are right.

This is where so many fail—in doing things for exhibition and exhibition only. Usually the thin mask these people hide behind less than covers the selfishness and insincerity of their real self. Manifested in great moments, character is made in small ones. It is the "big thing that comes in a little package." It is not the cheap victory, but the result of a hard-fought battle for the recompense for a job well done.

A good measure of someone's character is to ask them about another. The mind of a false character will soon betray itself. Felix Frankfurter once said that the knows of no attitude more rare than that of disliking a man and, at the same time, admiring his work. Ask a man about another—you'll find his true character will reveal itself!

People are like books in that their thoughts and deeds are written in their lives. It is good for a book to have a good title, but more important that the contents of the book be good. Likewise, it is good for a person to make a good appearance, but it is more important to live a worthy life.

Human life is character building, for remember that character means exactly what we are, while reputation is only what other people think we are. Every man builds his own character.

J. Edgar Hoover has said that many persons are so preoccupied with selfishness and greed they no longer know—nor care for that matter—where honor stops and dishonor commences. Others are simply confused. Rationalization and double standards have so clouded some moral principles that right and wrong are no longer clearly distinguishable.

Many today will disagree—but I fully agree—with Herbert Spencer, who said: "Not education, but character, is a man's greatest need and man's greatest safeguard."

For Once No Visible Harm Was Done As Fellers Told a Few Little White Lies

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: I don't rightly know what to call my little piece this week. I been trying to put a name to what the fellers done Saturday night, and the best I can come up with is they handled the truth awful careless.

It was Ray Meese who got to discussing the man operations about how California was going to fall into the sea, and how folks in Nevada are selling ocean-front lots. The fellers started talking about the weather and took off in all directions. Anyhow, Mister Editor, I figure it was a heap better fer them to get that stuff out of their system.

Fer instance, Frank Naprstek said all that flooding last month ought to mind some unusual weather. Frank said he recollected that when he was a boy the wind blew so hard it started the river running backwards.

Venard Collins said that was strange, seeing as how he grew up here and he'd seen when Frank and the strongest wind he recollected was when it turned his Ma's iron wash pot inside out.

Everybody wanted to report on unusual wind, Ed Novak said about the time he got caught up and the wind blew so hard it blew all the writing off tombstones in the church graveyard.

Ed said he recollected that storm especially, because after it passed he went to look for the stock and found a full-grown hen stuck inside a gallon jug. Then fellers that build boats in bottles ain't got nothing on the wind," was Ed's words.

Turning to other wonders of nature, Ray allowed he once knew a feller that was so buck-toothed he could get count on the cob through a screen door. And before the fellers got through swallowing that, he said he had seen by the papers where some feller fenced in his hogs because he didn't want 'em mixing with his neighbor's younguns.

Emanuel Wadas put the stopper in the jug, Mister Editor, when he reported seeing where the government is paying such high prices on defense contracts that a salesman got investigated for telling the Defense Department he could get 'em some things retail.

Emanuel said he ain't suprised at nothing that comes out of a government agency. He said he had seen where the government is going ahead with questions on this new census form that a Philadelphia lawyer can't figure out, and it's against the law not to answer 'em.

President Hoover said the good Lord don't count the time a man spends fishing. If that works for talking without saying anything, the fellers haven't aged a month in the last five years.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

Dear Editor: I was surprised to see how well Ray and Mary Marshall did at the Nebraska Professional Photographers print competition. They received superior ratings on two prints, excellent on two more, and one commendable.

When I look back and recall how I did at my first print show, I am proud to say that Ray and Mary are really doing well for their first attempt. I am positive they will be among the state's best in a very short time, and I feel Ord and the area is fortunate to have them as photographers.

I admire Ray and Mary for the intestinal fortitude they had to start out in photography with little experience in actual studio operation. They have come a long way since then and will go much further.

Knowing all the photographers in the state and the work that is done on a statewide average, no one needs to leave Ord for quality portraits. They can have them taken right there in "Good Old Ord."

Sincerely,
Francis Zabloudil

Dear Editor: During football and basketball seasons it always bothered me that so few people remained seated to watch a half-time show. These take hours of practice just like football, basketball, or a play. And the one thing that makes it all worthwhile is the attention of the audience (with mom and dad present) and the heart-warming sound of applause at the conclusion.

During the past week a large number of local high school students went to Kearney to participate in the district music contest. Many of them spent long hours practicing and extra time beyond that working with their accompanists and the music director.

Many of these students will never be music teachers or professional musicians, but they will always enjoy music and, without a great deal of additional effort, be able to play their instruments the rest of their lives, bringing them unending joy.

People like me, who loved music when in high school, know how much parental support can mean. I had it, and I feel the parents and the community here should get behind their students and give them the same encouragement and following that the football and basketball teams get. I realize more people like sports than music; yet I'm sure there are many people in this community who like music but don't take the effort to come out and encourage the students.

Come on, Ord! Be proud, not only of your football and basketball teams, but of all the students—including those who play an instrument or sing. They need your cheers, too.

'Hospital White' Are Unique Colors For Jorgensen Golden Anniversary

By Hannah Sheldon
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jorgensen celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday at the Valley County Hospital in Ord. Mrs. Jorgensen has been a patient there since falling this winter and breaking a hip in Loup City. Many friends and relatives called to wish them well. The Neighborhood Club served lunch with Mrs. Victor Benben cutting and serving the anniversary cake.

Recovering
Mrs. Nels Jorgensen is a patient in the Valley County Hospital at Ord, having had major surgery Friday. She is getting along fine.

Here A Year
Thursday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker, in honor of their son Jerry's 1st birthday, were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Shaffer, Mrs. Hannah Sheldon and Debbie, and Stephanie Stevens. Birthday cake and ice cream were served.

Warm Enough To Return
Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards returned recently after spending the winter months in Los Angeles, Calif., visiting Mr. and Mrs. James DeNoyer and family and other relatives. They also spent some time with another daughter and her family, the Wubbens family of Rock Rapids, Ia. Mrs. Wubbens brought her parents home, and they were all guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Edwards. Additional visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Edwards of Alliance for a family reunion.

Work Goes On
Sunday dinner and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Goodrich and family were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Van Horn, and Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Wert. The men helped Ron pour a cement floor in the basement of the house that he and his family will move into soon, and the ladies served dinner. Additional supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. LeVern Jess and Roy of Grand Island, Mrs. Lloyd Smith and children, and Joy Van Horn.

Guests of Granddaughter
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones attended open house Sunday at Kearney State College, Centennial Towers East. They were guests of their granddaughter, Nancy Hybl. A floor show was presented in the formal lodge, and refreshments were served. Other guests of Nancy were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Venne Hybl of Norfolk and her fiancé, Lynn Haselbring of Kearney College. Earlier in the week Mr. and Mrs. Jones spent two days in Norfolk at the Hybl home.

Attend Lane Rites
Mrs. Monzo Fuller, Mrs. Merlyn Van Horn, Mrs. Vernon Williams, and Nancy Hovey accompanied Mrs. Ronnie Goodrich to Scottsbluff Monday, where they attended funeral services for Erno Lane, formerly of North Loup. Mrs. Lane was the former Elsie daughter, Mrs. Larry Fansher of Denver, Colo. Mrs. Fansher's daughter was also present. Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kasson and family of St. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kasson of Ord. Mrs. Bert Mayer of Scotia was a Friday guest, and Edith Bartz accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Edwards to Ericson Wednesday to spend the day at their cabin.

Future Bride Honored
A miscellaneous shower was held Sunday for Linda Hansen in the Scotia Recreation Building. Around 50 guests were present. Mrs. Junior Hansen of Ord and Mrs. Russell Coufal of Scotia were hostesses. Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hansen of Scotia and will become the bride of Gary Whiting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Whiting, June 14. The future groom is employed by the University of Nebraska Experimental Farm in Concord and his fiancée attends business school in Grand Island.

Host Touring Students
The North Loup Auxiliary served dinner Tuesday to around 35 University of Nebraska Agricultural students who were on a tour of beef farms in this area.

Stitches Required
Sue Ellen Vore was rushed to the Valley County Hospital Saturday evening after falling on a broken heel and cutting her wrist and thumbs. Nine stitches were taken. She returned home the same evening.

Hospital Cash "600" PLAN

Pays you $600 per month for up to 600 days for each sickness or accident while you're hospitalized — with special renewal protection agreement. No age limit and you can enroll for only $1.00

PAYS ACCIDENTAL DEATH BENEFITS, TOO!
The average increase in deaths by accident reflects the faster pace and shifting pattern of our modern life. Today, the greatest number of accidental deaths take place in: 1. CARS; 2. HOMES; 3. FARMS. Continental General's Hospital Cash "600" Plan recognizes this situation by including: $1,000 accidental death benefit or $2,000 for travel accidental death. (See Accidental Death Endorsement Below)

YOU GET PAID IN ADDITION TO "OTHER INSURANCE OR MEDICARE!"
Yes, right when you need it most, Continental General's Hospital Cash "600" Plan pays you $600 per month (or $600 less for a car and a hill) for a maximum of up to $12,000.00 for each sickness or accident.
You get this welcome cash whether you are insured by other companies or not. As soon as your policy is in force, you are covered in case of accident. You are covered for sickness contracted 30 days after effective date of your policy.
And even if some companies say you are "uninsurable" because of some chronic ailment that can or does come back again and again, this wonderful plan covers a pre-existing condition after the policy has been in force 24 months!

AMAZINGLY LOW COST
Membership in Continental General's Hospital Cash "600" Plan costs only $1.00 for the first premium period, then only $6.00 per month thereafter.
On the Application Form below you can authorize your bank to deduct the premium monthly from your account, if you wish this convenience.
If you wonder how a plan can offer so much for so little, the answer is simple. Continental General's big "600" Plan is a smart, no-nonsense plan. All business is conducted directly between you and the company by mail, or through your local representative whom we have appointed in your area. No salesman will call on you. Thus, low administrative and sales costs add up to real savings which we pass on to you.

THE USUAL FEW EXCEPTIONS
The policy does not cover war, military service, mental disorders, alcoholism, pregnancy, dental surgery, narcotic addiction, or confinement in a government hospital.

ANOTHER BIG PLUS — FOR THOSE OVER 65
Statistics show that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have bigger medical bills than any other age group. That's why some hospital plans won't accept senior citizens, or else raise rates so high they can't afford extra cash protection just when they need it most.
But Continental General's Hospital Cash "600" Plan not only accepts applicants regardless of age over 65, it pays 50% of the specified protection in every detail, and does it for the same $6.00 per month paid by all policyholders under 65!
Yes, senior citizens get this vital extra cash in addition to Medicare or any other insurance — and they, too, can enroll now at the special $1.00 rate.

SPECIAL RENEWAL PROTECTION AGREEMENT
For as long as you live we guarantee that we will never involuntarily cancel, modify, terminate, or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons, unless we take the same action on all policies of the Plan "600" in your entire state. And further, the Company cannot change the premium rate for any one policy, unless it changes the table of premium rates for all Plan "600" policies in the state of residence of the insured.
MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is direct, honest, and easy to understand. Read it over. When you see how thoroughly you are protected for so little cost, you'll know you can't be without it.
But if for any reason whatsoever you are not completely satisfied, you may return your policy within 10 days and we will promptly refund you dollar.
Accidents do not wait to happen. Illness does not wait to strike. So ACT NOW! The application and $1.00 will have to be in Continental General's Company's office within two weeks for you to become eligible for this program during this special enrollment period.

CHECK THESE IMPORTANT POINTS

- You get $600 per month for up to 600 days when hospitalized, for each sickness or accident.
- $1,000 accidental death benefit.
- $2,000 travel accidental death benefit (world-wide coverage).
- When you are hospitalized it pays in addition to Medicare, Workman's Compensation, and other insurance.
- Chronic, pre-existing conditions are covered after policy has been in effect 24 months.
- You can collect up to $12,000.00 for any one sickness or accident under this plan.

Accidental Death Endorsement
$1,000 Accidental Death Benefit
Continental General Insurance Company will pay One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) for the loss of life because of accidental death benefits received while this policy is in force, provided that such death is directly and proximately caused by an accident which occurs within 120 days from the date of the accident, and independently of sickness and all other causes, and the death is not caused by an accident which occurred while the insured is driving or riding in any private passenger automobile or as a fare-paying passenger in any motor vehicle or air conveyance provided by a common carrier.
$2,000 Travel Accidental Death Benefit
The benefit set forth above will be INCREASED TO TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,000) if loss of life results from accidental death benefits received while the insured is driving or riding in any private passenger automobile or as a fare-paying passenger in any motor vehicle or air conveyance provided by a common carrier.

Happy Mother's Day.

The average mother, we've been told, walks more than 8 miles every day. Why not give her feet a break this Mother's Day: make sure she's got a phone within answering distance. An extension (in the kitchen or bedroom or laundry room) costs just a few cents a day. There's no faster relief for aching feet.

Lesson on Love

Thursday religious services for the 15 present were conducted by Robert Naber (vicar of St. John's Lutheran Church). The service was opened with a prayer that our petitions be heard and answered in God's way. The 13th chapter of I Corinthians (the Bible's love chapter) was read from the King James and then the Revised versions. Mr. Naber said we can be ever so good, but all is useless if not attended by love. True love is everlasting and changeless, as with Jesus' love. A nice song service was had with Sophie Fuss at the piano. We like to have extras come to our service and members of the pastor's church come with him.

Opportunity School Visit

Berenice Cornell visited the Opportunity School Thursday morning. Nine boys and two girls are enrolled. There are three from Burwell, and one each from St. Paul and O'Neill. They are so proud of their new play and exercise equipment. On the way home Berenice visited a bit with Louis Larson at the Hilda Tuma home. Mr. Larson is looking forward to the visit of a niece today (Thursday), on his 99th birthday.

Operation Performed

Word came Friday from the George Polinoski in Omaha that the doctor has completed tests on Mr. Polinoski and he was to have surgery Tuesday.

News by Letter

Eva Robertson has heard from Juanita Christian in St. Louis, Mo. Juanita said she may be home this week.

Mary Blaha and Berenice Cornell have received letters from Mr. and Mrs. Archie Rowbal of Aurora, Colo., saying they plan to be in Ord for Memorial Day. They will be at the Parkview Motel two nights and want to see friends at Parkview. We will be glad to see them. Mary also had a letter from Ada Rowbal Reed at Portland, Ore., and Eva has had word that her grandson Michael Robertson, wounded in Vietnam, is improved and out of the hospital.

Personals

Wednesday bingo was played with 41 present in our recreation center. Rose Finley, Eleanor Wegryn, and Tilly Jablonski were hostesses. Marguerite West had company Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellersick, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bailey, and Mr. Ben Edwards, all of Comstock. Mrs. Ellersick and Mrs. Bailey attended the bingo party with Marguerite.

Bertha Knudson visited with Berenice Cornell Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Helen Arnold was at her home in Arcadia Tuesday. Stephanie Zebert spent the day with Lydia Porter in Mrs. Arnold's absence. A number of Parkview folks have called on Lydia since she has been home from the hospital.

Invited guests of Mena Jorgensen for a coffee Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Harvey Thomson, Mrs. Dora Jorgensen, Alma Jorgensen, Mrs. Flossie Clark, Elsie Rathbun, and Evon Robertson. The following afternoon Mena's coffee guests were Clara King and Winnie Hallen.

Mary Jorgensen's daughter and grandson and their husband and wife were here Friday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goff Sr. of Parkview and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goff Jr. of Decatur, Ill. For noon dinner the group was with the senior Mr. Goff's mother, Mrs. Anna Holmes. In the afternoon they and Mrs. Holmes were lunch guests of Mary. Additional relatives calling in the afternoon were Mena Jorgensen and three other daughters of Mary: Mrs. Norma Knapp, Mrs. Rollin Zukoski, and Mrs. Eugene Novak. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vegin were visitors at Mary's.

Mary Blaha returned home Friday night after two weeks in Yankton, S. D., with her daughter and family, the Lyle Withersaxes.

Visitors Saturday of Mildred Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson of Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. Les Wilson of North Loup, Mrs. Albert Clausen, Mrs. Ray Melia, and Mrs. Lillian Masin. Lillian visited her sister, Mary Blaha.

Mrs. Stella Kerr, Mrs. Don Wright and Chad, and Penny Grantham spent part of Saturday with Berenice Cornell. They made program folders for the mother-daughter function to be held the evening of May 9 at the Bethel Baptist Church.

Lillian David helped a group clean the St. John's Lutheran Church last Thursday. All-day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janulewicz Sunday were two of Frank's brothers, their wife, and a sister, all of Loup City. They were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Janulewicz, Mr. and Mrs. Ignac Janulewicz, and Mrs. Eloy Lewandowski.

Eva Robertson was in the Otis Miller home from Tuesday through today with the young folks while their parents were out of town.

Supper guests of Elsie Rathbun Sunday were Mrs. Agnes Dodge, Eva Robertson, and Mena Jorgensen.

Mrs. Morreen Koelling called on Mrs. Helen Arnold at Lydia Porter's Friday. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Ezra Kuehl visited with Lydia.

Lacy McCune was at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wray of Scotia from Thursday until Sunday. They had Sunday dinner with friends at the cafe.

Elizabeth Severson's sister, Mrs. Helen Welniak of Elyria, spent a day the past week with Elizabeth. Friday and Saturday Elizabeth was in Grand Island with the Bob Seversons, who were to finish moving to Ord by today.

Jillie Massey and Berenice Cornell had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hackett. Monday Berenice spent the lunch hour with Mary Blaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Plate Jr. drove to Ainsworth Tuesday to spend the day with their son and his family, the Paul Plates.

TORNADO Safety Rules

To Know What To Do When a Warning is Received, or a Tornado is Observed, May Mean the Difference Between Life and Death !!

City Tornado Warning Signal

A Solid 2-Minute Blast Of The Siren

(The tornado warning is a non-fluctuating whistle — take shelter immediately.)

If A Tornado Is Sighted Report To CITY POLICE DEPT. — PH. 728-5771

There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

If You Are in Open Country:

1. Move at right angles to the tornadoes path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

If in a City or Town:

1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!
2. In homes: The southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east side of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building.
3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

If in Schools:

1. In city areas: Especially in school building is of good steel reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on lower floor. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS.
2. In rural districts—remove children and teachers to ravine or ditch if storm cellar is not available.

Keep tuned to your radio KNLV 1060 or tv station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Stay Under Cover:

When tornadoes strike many persons are killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a torado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."

NOTICE

Will the public please co-operate by pulling over to the curb when approaching or being followed by emergency vehicles.

Local Angler Cheered by Northern Pike Haul

By Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski
Jack Bergland, Jim Celak, and Spud Kapuska spent Thursday fishing at Watts Lake in the Valentine Refuge. Spud turned out to be the champion on this trip with a take of three northern pikes running 13 pounds, 10 pounds and 2 pounds. Jim and Jack failed to score and came home with only sore arms and hurt egos.

Attend Wedding
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Novotny went to Kearney early Saturday morning to attend the wedding of Rosemary Lipinski and Richard Ahlers at St. James Catholic Church. A reception and buffet dinner was held at the Kearney County Club. The bride is a registered nurse at St. Francis Hospital in Grand Island. In mid-afternoon the Novotny's motored to Grand Island to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Vavra and Marlowe who also attended the wedding. They returned home in the evening.

Father-in-Law Dies
Adam Radke, 84 years old of Chappell, died early Friday afternoon shortly after suffering a severe heart attack. He was the father-in-law of Mrs. Al Radke of Elyria. Accompanied by Mrs. Robert Thompson of Ord, Mrs. Radke left Monday for Chappell where funeral services were held Tuesday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Burial was in Sidney.

24th Anniversary Noted
Mr. and Mrs. Lew Bilka visited Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Michalski Saturday evening. The next evening the two families were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pesek as they helped Mr. and Mrs. Felix Gregowski celebrate their 24th wedding anniversary.

Honored at University
Mike Papiernik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Papiernik, was one of the students honored at the 41st annual honors convocation held at the University of Nebraska Coliseum in Lincoln.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barta and daughters were Sunday dinner and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Johnson at Greeley. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dubas and family spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Dubas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patty Telson, at Sargent. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riecken had friends from Elkhorn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Doll, visit them over the weekend. The Rieckens formerly lived in Elkhorn too. The two couples had supper Saturday at the Legion Club in Burwell. Junior Riecken and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Veskerna joined them in the Riecken home later for an evening of cards, and Sunday evening they were at the Charles Knight home, also playing cards. Marie Johnson and Miss Emma Tuma had coffee with Mrs. Riecken Wednesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bergland and Mr. and Mrs. James Iwanski played pinochle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Petska and boys visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Tom McMahon at Central City.

The Rene Dubas family attended a sport and awards banquet at St. Mary's Auditorium Sunday evening. Many others also attended from Elyria. Mr. and Mrs. Don Glatter and family of Amherst attended mass Sunday at St. Mary's Church and later went to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kusek's home where they had dinner. Mr. Glatter was formerly Helen Kusek. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kusek Sr., Charlene Crawford and Kim McBride of Sargent visited Wednesday afternoon at Larry Barta's. Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Barta of Burwell visited Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barta Saturday. Raylene's 2nd birthday was celebrated. Members of the Jolly Homemakers Club who attended the tea for junior girls at St. Mary's Auditorium Apr. 23 were Mrs. Leon Ciemny, Mrs. Charlie Lech, Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski, Mrs. Bill Tuma, and Mrs. Lena Jablonski. Tuma baked and donated cookies for the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Chet Papiernik were in Kearney Friday. They took their daughter JoAnn and Linda Petska, Kathy Galley, and Shirley Peterson to the music contest.

Mrs. Roy Riecken, accompanied by Mrs. Lew Zadina and Mrs. Henry Desmul, went to a spring tea at St. Mary's Auditorium Thursday. It honored the juniors Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hora and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Hora's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don McMullen, near Ericson. Donna Hora's birthday was celebrated. Jim Studnicka and Tom McFadden of Ord accompanied Keith Kuklish to Lincoln Sunday to visit Earl Green, who is in the General Hospital there.

County Welfare Director Mrs. Alma Nelson and Mrs. Theresa Benben attended a welfare conference in Lincoln Thursday and Friday.

The technique varies, but the tradition of delivering May baskets is still the same for youngsters today as it was for their parents and grandparents years ago. Below, little Ryan Shores, 16 months old, hands a basket of goodies to favorite friend Kathy Riggins, 2 years old. Ryan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shores, while Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Riggins. At right, 3-year-old Debra Mason uses a more conventional style as she leaves her basket on the front porch of a friend's house, then turns to run as fast as she can. Debra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Mason. According to tradition, the recipient is supposed to chase after his benefactor and show his appreciation for the gift with a kiss. One Ord adult, who grew up in Iowa, says the youngsters here don't really know how to enjoy May Day. She said the basket-delivering game is best when played by teenagers — preferably after dark. Hmmm . . .

Golfers Get More Water

Local golfers should have improved fairways and greens as a result of action taken at Monday night's City Council meeting. The councilmen voted unanimously to allot $4,000 from the Cray and Mortensen Memorial fund to finance installation of a permanent water system. The Mortensen fund was set up on a perpetuating basis in the will of the late Ord banker. Money from the fund can be used at the discretion of the City Council to finance either specific or long-range projects which fall within guidelines set in the will. In other action the councilmen approved a retail liquor license for the J & J Liquor Store (for newly widowed Mrs. J. B. Ferguson) and accepted the annual treasurer's report and with it the resignation of city treasurer Horace Travis, and prepared and approved an estimated budget. What is normally a routine action drew more interest than usual when Duane Carson, who had appeared before the council to discuss other matters, spoke up as the annual financial report was read. He questioned the lease arrangements on the lot where J. B. Ferguson's miniature golf course is located. Ferguson has a 10-year lease on the lot at $100 per year. "That's powerful cheap rent," Carson commented. "You could put a lemonade stand there and get more."

"It's the best offer we ever had," Mayor Bill French retorted. In his resignation statement, Travis said he was "ready to retire."

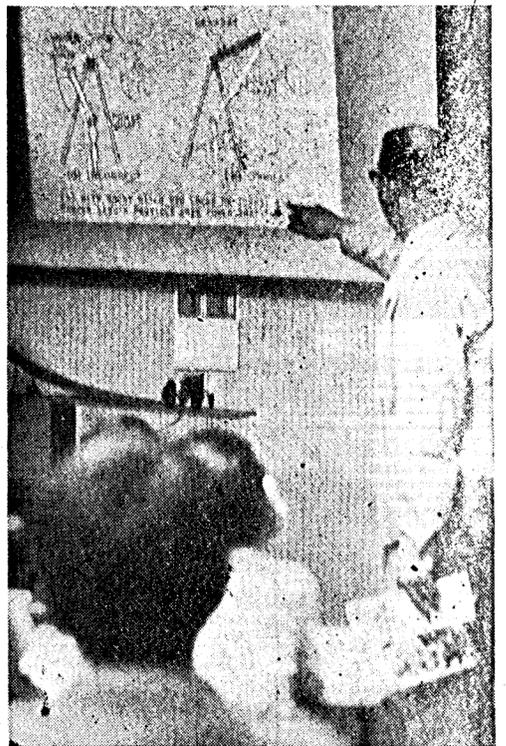

"I have enjoyed working with you these 11 years, but now I'm ready to retire and want to get out," he said. However, he did agree to work with his successor until that individual becomes acclimated to the job. The councilmen took no immediate action to name that successor.

New councilman Otto Zapp, attending his first regular meeting, got broken in the hard way as the estimated budget. In previous years the city accountant, Norm Schmidt, has prepared the budget and submitted it to the councilmen for their approval. However, no word has been received so far this year from Schmidt's firm (Schmidt himself now lives in Itavenna), so the councilmen had to do their own homework in order to meet an Aug. 1 deadline for getting their monetary requests to the Valley County Board of Supervisors. The supervisors consolidate requests from the various government agencies and determine an overall tax levy.

As chairman of the Finance Committee, Zapp was a principal man in formulating the estimated budget. After allotting for the purchase of various pieces of new equipment, the councilmen generally added 10 percent to this year's budget figures. Before designating the $4,000 for use on the golf course, the councilmen reminded themselves of what previous Mortensen funds had been used for. These projects included purchase of a site for the Valley County Hospital ($5,000), installation of greens at the golf course ($5,000), assistance in construction of the Ord Veterans Club ($7,500), financing needs of the City Planning Commission ($500), and helping the Ord School System pay for installation of its educational television facilities ($5,000).

Monday night's action was taken after two members of the Golf Board appeared before the council and requested that the money be allotted. J. B. Ferguson, head of the board, made the request and was backed by Bob Todsen. Also present to urge approval were Merlin Smith and Marv Scheideler.

"We lost all the grass on two greens in recent years," Smith stated.

Forty-two youngsters — exactly the same number as last year — showed up for the first session of the tractor safety course conducted Saturday at Ord High School. Sponsored by the Valley County Extension Office, the course attracted 14 and 15-year-olds from Garfield, Greeley, Holt, Loup, Sherman, Valley and Wheeler counties. It is designed to qualify students for work with mechanized equipment. Instructors included Frank Andreesen, vocational agriculture instructor at Ord High School; Roland Essman, voc ag teacher at North Loup-Scotia; Lawrence Lange, voc ag instructor at Loup City; Don Phillips, voc ag teacher at Burwell; Lee Nielson, Greeley County agent; Dean Robinson, Garfield County agent; and John Schade, Valley County agent.

North Loup-Scotia 10th, 9th-Graders Top Honor Roster

Sophomores and freshmen head the latest honor roll at North Loup-Scotia High School. The 10th-graders have 10 representatives on the select list for the next — to — last six-week period of the current school year, while the 9th graders have nine. Each of those classes also has two all-A representatives — Alan Fuss and Janice Williams from the 10th grade and Marilyn Cook and Keith Severance from the 9th grade.

The 12th grade has the most all-A recipients, however, with three members in that category. They are Marlyn Fuss, Colleen Keown, and JoAnn Wells. The complete honor roll, with all-A students in bold-face type:

- 12th Grade
- 11th Grade
Marlyn Fuss, Gail Goodrich, Anita Lech, Mike Hasmusen, Emily Schudel, Randy Walter, Sharon Morrow.
- 10th Grade
Phyllis Babcock, Wendy Bartz, Bruce Bergman, Alan Fuss, Lana Jensen, David Orthman, Jane Shoemaker, Steve Stefan, Susan Thompson, Janice Williams.
- 9th Grade
Cheryl Benben, Barbara Bredthauer, Marilyn Cook, Lana Hamer, Vincent Hanson, Nancy Paine, Keith Severance, Rodney Van Slyke, Sonja Winter.
- 8th Grade
Becky Ferguson, Matt Schudel, Galen Severance.
- 7th Grade
Peggy Coufal, Susan Schudel, Janice Waller.

New Donors Badly Needed

110 pints of blood are needed when the Bloodmobile visits Ord on Tuesday, May 13th, at the United Methodist Church from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Residents of Valley County received 102 pints of blood during the past year, 120 pints were used in Ord and the rest in participating hospitals. This is half of all the blood collected in the County during the whole year. So far this year 120 pints of blood have already been given in our Valley County Hospital. This May visit will be the first visit to Ord this year and we have already equaled the total amount used last year in Ord. Blood saves lives but unless we have a successful Tri-Fund drive the Bloodmobile and all the services of the Red Cross will be discontinued. Although the drive is almost completed, there has not been enough money collected to make an extra donation to the Tri-Fund and plan to donate a pint of blood on May 13th.

Besides the making of quota of the different types of blood we are now asked to obtain 18 first time donors at each bloodmobile visit. Make your appointment now to donate. Walk-ins are also appreciated.

Thirty volunteer workers from Ord, Arcadia, Burwell, Sargent, Scotia, Greeley and Broken Bow attended the district meeting of the Red Cross Bloodmobile program held at the Veterans Club in Ord Thursday, May 1st. Director of field service, Miriam Chipperfield of the regional blood center of Omaha and volunteer consultants, Mrs. R. A. House of Grand Island and Mrs. Glen Tracy of North Platte explained the Blood Program.

Eight subjects were covered including the expanded eligibility policy, the new In-Line pouch plastic container which makes it possible to use only a part of the pint of blood collected at one time; new "appointment" slip and revised schedule sheets, advances in component therapy; recruitment by blood type and the need for new donors.

Local Man Cited for Vietnam Action

Various "patriotic" activities were climaxed Thursday with the presentation of a Navy Achievement Medal to George Piskorski, recently discharged as a Technician Third Class. The presentation took place on the steps of the Valley County courthouse, where joint ceremonies were conducted recognizing Law Day and Loyalty Day. The medal was presented for Piskorski's part in detecting and capturing an enemy trawler while serving in Vietnam.

Everett Lech, commander of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, made the presentation to Piskorski. He read the citation, which stated in part:

"... On the night of 11 July 1967, while subject to enemy retaliation, Petty Officer Piskorski, as a crew member, contributed directly to the detection and eventual capture of an enemy steel hulled trawler with its cargo of explosives, small arms, and other contraband. His actions contributed significantly to this action which deprived the enemy of a large quantity of war materials. Petty Officer Piskorski's courage and devotion to duty reflected great credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Main speaker for the Loyalty Day portion of the service was John Wozab, county service officer. Paul Kubitschek, county chairman for Law Day, spoke on that subject.

Wozab called on citizens to "stand up and be counted — either for or against this government under which men have prospered and enjoyed freedom for more than 150 years."

He denounced Communism as "the very opposite of freedom."

"Under Communism, man becomes a creature of the state with only such liberties and freedoms as the state through its dictator wants to give him, only such as the whim of one man decrees," he stated.

"Forces are at work to raise the Red flag over the White House," Wozab added. "to pull down the Statue of Liberty and quench its beaconlight of freedom. We must unite to halt the Communist tide."

He concluded by saying:

"Two thousand years ago, a carpenter in Nazareth whom we Christians know as the Son of God said: 'He that is not with Me is against Me.' 'And we say to you today, 'He who is not with America is against America.'"

Kubitschek directed his Law Day remarks to the local level, advising citizens to "take an interest in government, to participate in civic and community affairs." He urged them to back worthwhile civic and community projects and to inform themselves on local issues and affairs, so that in elections they might select the best candidates available.

Anything Goes On Area Roads As Limits Lifted

Load limits imposed two months ago have been removed on 68 miles of area highways. Climate and soil conditions have improved sufficiently to permit the roads to carry vehicles with normal weights, an official of the State Roads Dept. said in announcing the removals. The limits were imposed Feb. 17 because of weak roadbeds resulting from adverse winter weather.

State-wide, restrictions have been removed on 739 miles of highway.

Highways in this area which were restricted but are now open to normal traffic are: Highway 70 running north-south from Ord, Highway 70 between Arcadia and Westerville, Highway 183 between Westerville and Ansley, Highway 22 east from Scotia, State Spur 1183 from Comstock to Highway 183, Highway 10 south from Loup City, Highway 11 north from Dannebrog, and Highway 58 east from Dannebrog.

Burglaries at Arcadia Attributed to 15 Youths

Charges of breaking and entering will be filed against 15 Arcadia youths, Valley County Sheriff Clarence Fox said Tuesday. The 15 are believed connected with a series of robberies in that community dating back over the last two years. The latest occurred Apr. 17 and led to the current investigation.

Sheriff Fox said charges have not been filed already because of the difficulty in connecting specific youths to specific break-ins, since not all of them participated in all the burglaries. He estimated the total number of break-ins at 15.

Scotty's Tavern and Waddell Motors were hit in the most recent robberies. Ten cases of beer, four fifths of whiskey, and three half-pints of vodka were taken from the tavern. A pair of binoculars, a transistor radio, change from the cash register, and miscellaneous smaller items were reported stolen from the automotive shop.

Charges against the 15 youths will probably be filed under juvenile statutes, the sheriff said. If that's the case, their trial will be closed to the public and names of the offenders will not be released.

"Trying them under juvenile law gives the judge a wider range of options to exercise in prescribing sentences," Sheriff Fox said. "Since this is their first offense, we want to give them a second chance and make productive citizens out of them if we can."

Juvenile laws may be applied in any case where the offender is under 18 years of age.

During several days of work on the case, Fox and State Patrolman Dwight Binger discovered a "substantial supply" of merchandise taken from various businesses in the Arcadia area during the past two years. It was found in a number of different locations, the sheriff said.

Ord High Graduate To Address Athletes

One of Ord High School's most distinguished alumni in the athletic field — Allen Zikmund — will return to speak at the school's athletic banquet Friday night.

Now head football coach at Kearney State College, Zikmund was an all-around athlete and a top scholar during his undergraduate days in Ord. He received his diploma in 1939.

His mother, Mrs. Ethel Zikmund, still resides here.

The banquet will be held at the high school gymnasium and will begin at 6:30 p.m.

The famed Shino Parade comes to the Loup Valley tomorrow (Friday) with performances in Ord, Burwell, Broken Bow, St. Paul, Central City, and Aurora. The parade here begins at 1:30 p.m., and an integral part will be the Motor Patrol shown here. To boost attendance, the Ord Chamber of Commerce will conduct a drawing following the parade and will give away a bicycle, transistor radio, and change lounge. To be eligible for the drawing, citizens should clip the coupon appearing on Page 5 of today's Quiz and take it to any merchant who is a Chamber of Commerce member. It must be in prior to 1 p.m. Friday. Candy will be distributed by the local Masonic lodge to youngsters.

Carol's Corner

by Carol Leggett

Most of all the other beautiful things in life come by twos and threes, by dozens and hundreds. Plenty of roses, stars, sunsets, rainbows, brothers and sisters, aunts and cousins, but only one mother in the whole world.

A mother is a woman who runs a temperature of 103 every time her child's temperature hits 100.

A mother is a person who sees that there are only four pieces of pie for five persons and promptly remarks that she's never cared for pie.

A mother is a person who spends half her time worrying how a child will turn out, and the rest of the time wondering when a child will turn in.

A young daughter paid her mother the highest compliment when she introduced her at a Mother-Daughter banquet, by saying, "She's my mother. I had nothing to say about that. But I can choose my friends, and she's first on the list."

Peel and slice 2 potatoes and lay in bottom of buttered casserole. Next add 1 large onion, sliced, then a can of whole kernel corn. Salt and pepper each layer. Roll 1 pound of sausage with 1 tablespoon flour, forming small balls. Put them on top of the casserole, then cover with one can of tomato soup. Bake covered one hour at 350 degrees. Remove cover and let brown for 30 minutes longer. Given to me by my mother-in-law, Irma.

A church displayed this sign on Mother's Day: "God could not be everywhere, so he made mothers."

One day a certain young mother was running on endlessly about the shortcoming of her children. Finally she paused long enough to ask, "What do you want out of life, anyway?" One child cautiously replied, "A quiet mother."

Busy mothers will be pleased to hear about this easy dish called Hot Pot.

Pretty Relative Wins
Exciting to Ord friends of the Vogeltanz family was the Miss Junior Universe contest Tuesday evening at Atlantic City, when a Vogeltanz great niece, pretty Judy Dowling of Seward, was among the eight finalists. Judy is the attractive daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Bob Dowling of Seward. She declares she will use the $1,500 she won toward schooling at the University of Nebraska.

Area Churches Sponsor 'The Restless Ones'

Three area churches — the Seventh Day Baptist Church of North Loup, the Scotia Baptist Church, and Grace Baptist Church of St. Paul — are sponsoring the showing of the Billy Graham film, "The Restless Ones," as part of the 1969 Crusade of the Americas.

The film showing — to be held May 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the North Loup Community Building — will be under the direction of Rev. Leonard Evely, area representative of the Billy Graham Assn. There will be no charge for the showing, but a free-will offering will be received.

The film will also be shown May 19 at 8:30 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Auditorium at Greeley.

The public has been invited to share in the ministry of this film.

Leota Crosby Ill
Miss Leota Crosby, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Marion Crosby of Ord, suffered a severe stroke shortly after Christmas and is a patient in Mesa Vista sanitarium at Boulder, Colo., says a close friend, Mrs. Frank Mottl. Leota taught at Minden for many years. Her Ord friends may write her now at room 236, 2121 Mesa Drive, Boulder 80302.

Bill Sack was 80 years young Sunday, and his family gathered to do him honor.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ham, Nopia and Mary came from Yankton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sack with Kathy and Debbie from Aurora. Saturday evening Lloyd and Virginia were hosts at dinner at the Elks club honoring Mr. Sack. Sunday Mrs. Sack was hostess at a family dinner at home. That afternoon Barbara Sack, a granddaughter, phoned greetings from Denton, Tex., where she is attending college.

Mrs. C. O. Bendz left Monday of last week for her Wahoo home after visiting her sister, Mrs. E. L. Vogeltanz.

St. James Church in Kearney Is Scene Of Lipinski-Ahlers Double-Ring Rites

Rosemary Lipinski of Grand Island and Richard Ahlers of Belgrade were married Apr. 26 in a 10 o'clock morning ceremony solemnized by Father Harold Kurtenbach at St. James Catholic Church in Kearney.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Lipinski, formerly of the Germanium and Sargent communities, and now of Kearney. Mr. and Mrs. Walt Ahlers of Belgrade are the groom's parents.

Larry Ahlers of Belgrade, brother of the groom, played organ music and accompanied Judy Frodyma of Fullerton who sang.

Maid of honor was Joan Morse of Grand Island. Miss Frodyma was the bridesmaid, and Lorraine Ahlers, sister of the groom, and Dorothy Ann Lipinski, sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in floor-length gowns of turquoise crepe and matching headpieces. Each carried a bouquet of white mums centered with roses of an apricot shade.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she selected a Victorian-style gown of satin, trimmed with lace at the bodice and at the cuffs of the long sleeves. The Empire A-line skirt had a built-in train set off in tiny bow trim. The shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was accented with pearl tear drops.

Gary Ahlers of Belgrade served as best man for his brother's wedding. Groomsmen were Tom Poland, Douglas Lipinski (brother of the bride) and Jonathan Ahlers (brother of the groom). Ushers were Dennis Hansen and Marion Lipinski Jr., the latter also a brother of the bride.

A reception and brunch at the Kearney Country Club followed the wedding.

The newlyweds have been at home in Grand Island since returning from a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado.

The new Mrs. Ahlers is a graduate of St. Francis School of Nursing at Grand Island and is employed there. Her husband graduated from Belgrade High School, served two years in the Army, and attended Chadron State colleges. He is employed as a surveyor by Hall County at Grand Island.

Special guests at the wedding were the couple's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ptacek of Ord and Mrs. John Ahlers Sr. of Belgrade.

A pre-nuptial dinner was hosted by the bride's parents at the Kearney Country Club on Friday evening following the wedding rehearsal. The groom's parents were hosts at a post-nuptial dinner in a Kearney steak house Saturday evening.

A Delightful Decision.

1969 Buick LeSabre.
What makes it such a Delightful Decision? Just price one and see.

You heard us right. It's Delightful Decision time, an event at your Buick dealer's designed to make buying a Buick right now a very delightful decision. Even this beautiful 1969 Buick LeSabre 2-door hardtop is easy to own. And look what you get in addition to an impressive list of standard equipment that begins with a 350-cubic-inch V-8.

You get AccuDrive, Buick's new suspension that makes steering over bumpy, winding roads so easy your wife may never let you have the car.

You get Buick's new upper level ventilating system. It does away with the need for vent windows as well as wind noise and uncomfortable drafts.

You get Buick's new ignition, steering and transmission control lock that lets you lock your ignition, steering column and transmission controls when you turn off the key. And that's just a quick look at the new Buick LeSabre. Why don't you take a long look at your Buick dealer's soon.

We know you'll make a decision that will delight you.

Mary Blaha, Adolph Kokes to Wed; Future Bride Honored With Shower

By Berenice Cornell
Parkview Village ladies gave a shower Monday afternoon for Mary Blaha, who is soon to be married to Adolph Kokes. Twenty-five ladies were present to enjoy a nice time. Mrs. William Schudel played appropriate piano selections, as Mary arranged. Mrs. Schudel played "Here Comes the Bride" and other numbers included "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "Always." All of us that have learned to treasure Mary as a friend during the past five years she has lived here have many good wishes for her.

Sees Granddaughter Perform
Marguerite West attended a birthday club meeting Apr. 29 at Comstock in the home of Mrs. Kaye Shepherd. In the evening she went to the Ord High School junior play. Her granddaughter, Christi Erikson, was a member of the play cast.

Home Again
Juanita Christian arrived home from St. Louis, Mo., Wednesday after being with her daughter, Mrs. Victor Le Vine, and family since October. She received a telephone call from her daughter the following day.

Recovered From Wound
Eva Robertson had a letter from her grandson, Michael Robertson in Vietnam, saying that he is able to be back on duty after receiving a leg wound several weeks ago.

Gardeners Busy
Tena Swanson returned home Wednesday with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson, and Mrs. Anna Nelson. They had been in Omaha visiting Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nelson. They also stopped in Mead to visit a son of Tena's, Merrill Swanson, and his family. Mrs. Earl Nelson also spent some time Friday with her mother, putting in some dahlia bulbs. We hope they are as big and pretty as the ones Tena had a year ago.

Who Is Jesus?
Thursday religious services were conducted by Pastor and Mrs. Don Wright of the Bethel Baptist Church. Sixteen were present. Mr. Wright used as his text, Matthew 16:13-15. He asked those present, "Who do men say Jesus is today? Who do you (or we) say Jesus is?" Knowing Jesus and who He is must be a personal fact to us and to all that really know Him. Mr. Wright said, adding that all who know Him will keep His commandments. Mrs. Wright played the piano for the song service. Mrs. Dessie Needham was a visitor. We were glad to have Juanita Christian, Lydia Porter and Mrs. Helen Arnold with us. After the services Berenice Cornell went with the Wrights to the homes of Mrs. Mariam Long and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dockhorns with a group from the Baptist Church. Pray services were held.

Sisters Travelling
Elsie Rathbun's sister, Mrs. Amy Van Wie of Los Angeles, Calif., came Friday night. Another sister, Mrs. Jessie Ketter of Hayward, Calif., arrived Monday. The three sisters and Mrs. Arthur Pierson of Arcadia, Elsie's daughter, left Tuesday night on the train from Grand Island. They were going to Chicago, Ill., for a short stay with a granddaughter of Elsie's, Mrs. Gary Babcock, and her husband and four little girls. Their eventual destination is Elmira, N.Y., where they will visit for several days with a fourth sister, Mrs. Rachel Rathbun and her son, Floyd. She is nearly 86 years old.

Hospitalized
Mrs. Will Benson was taken to the Valley County Hospital Friday evening.

Going To Germany
Mildred Anderson had her nephew, Airman First Class Grant Rickard, as a visitor Friday evening. Airman Rickard has been stationed at Grand Forks Air Force Base, N. D. but after a 38-day leave will go to Germany.

92nd Birthday Observed
A nice time was had Sunday afternoon by a small group who gathered in the recreation room at the invitation of Mrs. Oscar Hackett to help her husband celebrate his 92nd birthday. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hackett of Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clement, and Elliot Clement. Parkview folks on hand were Lucy McCune, Theodocia Schartzler, Mildred Anderson, Tillie Massey, Lillian Daudt, and Berenice Cornell. The Jay Hacketts came to have dinner with his folks, and Jay put out four rose bushes he and his wife brought as a Mother's Day gift. Mr. and Mrs. Don Vogeler of North Loup stopped at the recreation center to greet the Hacketts and friends while on their way to Ericson. Mrs. Hackett had a nice refreshments served. Another son, Chester Hackett of Tacoma, Wash., and wife telephoned Saturday evening to give his father greetings. Oscar says birthdays are not new to him after 92 of them.

Belongings Lost in Fire
Two grandsons of Mary Jorgensen — Jim Ptacnik and Don Nevrkla — had their apartment house in Hampton burn recently. Jim lost all his belongings. The two boys were at work at the time. They are sons of Mrs. Norma Knapp and Mrs. Dorothy Zul-

Congressman DAVE MARTIN Reports

Education
Last week I introduced a resolution that would set up a select committee of seven to make a complete study of federal involvement in the field of education. It is estimated there are at least 200 federal education programs scattered throughout every department of our government. Billions of dollars are appropriated and spent each year in this field, but no one has a complete catalog of all the programs, their purposes, and their accomplishments. That is the purpose of my resolution — to catalog all federal programs and to find out where we have duplication of effort, which I am sure will result in the saving of hundreds of millions of dollars. I am hopeful that we can get an early hearing in our Rules Committee on this resolution and approval by the House so that this committee can be set up to begin its work.

Personal
Eva Robertson had as supper guests Monday Mrs. Flossie Clark, Mrs. Agnes Dodge, Elsie Rathbun, and Mena Jorgensen. Mrs. Dessie Needham has visited some the past week with Lydia Porter and Mrs. Helen Arnold. Mrs. Needham returned recently from a two-week visit with a grandson and his family, the Bill Worrels of Des Moines, Ia. Berenice Cornell visited Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Grace Jensen and the Lawrence Porter children — Earnest, Dwight, Kimberly, Janelle, and Galen. Marie Jorgensen stayed Tuesday with Lydia Porter while Mrs. Helen Arnold was at her home in Arcadia.

Presidential Election
The House Judiciary Committee last week reported out a bill to provide for direct election of the President. It further provides that if no candidate receives at least 40 percent of the total vote a run-off election will be held between the two receiving the highest vote. This would be a constitutional amendment and would require approval of at least 38 state legislatures before it became effective.

I wonder what would happen if one of the Presidential candidates challenged the vote in a state — or several states — and demanded a re-count. This would, of necessity, require a great deal of time and could extend beyond the date on which the new President was to be sworn in. This proposal must be studied carefully from all angles.

Chuck Wegner was second in both Class C hurdle events.

Most Area Performers Out-Classed At Kearney Invitational Cinder Meet

Chuck Wegner and Bob Anderson — stars of the North Loup-Scotia and Sargent track teams, respectively — managed to break through some formidable opposition last weekend and make strong showings at the Kearney Invitational Track and Field Meet. But other performers from the Loup Valley locale generally found the company too fast to keep up with.

Wegner finished second in both the 120-yard high and 180-yard low hurdles and took sixth place in the shot put and the pentathlon. Anderson finished second in the 220 and 440-yard dashes and ran a leg on Sargent's third-place 880-yard relay team.

Their performances helped North Loup-Scotia take eighth place in the 30-team Class C field and Sargent seventh. Bassett and Wauneta tied for first place in that division.

In Class B, Ord contestants found that the trackmen move as fast as the winds on the state's western plains. Two teams from the open country, the pentathlon where Tim Markley stood fifth after the Class A and B teams finished competing on Friday. But the next day a couple of Class C performers, including Wegner, edged past him.

The pentathlon is based on performances in five events. For Markley they were the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the discus, broad jump, and pole vault. On the pole vault is one of his normal events.

North Loup-Scotia took only two places besides those Wegner claimed. Dale Coufal was fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles, and the Wildcat two-mile relay team was fourth.

In addition to Anderson and the half-mile relay team, Sargent picked up points from John Green, fourth in the 880, and from Conrad Sutton, fifth in the high hurdles.

Loup City, which had been moving well of late, stumbled badly. The Raiders were second in the two-mile relay but had only one individual who placed. Jack Van Slyke was sixth in the long jump.

The action was the first for Ord in 10 days, and Coach Fred Williams had warned earlier not to expect anything great from his team after such a long lay-off from actual competition.

He also warned of the tough competition, saying it would actually be stronger than the state meet. The western districts are tougher this year, Williams pointed out, and the Kearney meet included mostly western teams.

In addition to Cahill's mile showing, Ord was respectable in Concluding one of their most successful sports years ever, Ord Junior High athletes captured the Central 10 Conference track and field title Saturday at Seward.

The conference championship gave the Chicks two victories in three meets this year. In the other one they finished third in a strong 10-team field at the Barr Invitational.

Earlier in the school year the Chicks had gone undefeated through a six-game football season and compiled a 7-2 basketball record.

Once again Ord got great mileage from Larry Wells, who won four events and finished second in one and third in another. He also ran a leg on the second-place 440-yard relay team.

The Chicks led second-place York, 45-39.

Wells set two school records with his prolific outburst, enabling him to finish his junior high career with a total of three. The 440 and 880-yard relay teams he ran on also hold school marks.

Saturday's top events for the second of three athletically inclined brothers were the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Wells stepped the hundred in 10.7 seconds and was clocked in the 220 at 24.4.

Both were school marks, even though the century performance was good only for second place. Wells also holds the school high jump record with a leap of 5 feet, 5 inches. He won that event Saturday by scaling 5-4 and doing it with fewer misses than two other contestants who also got that high. One of them was teammate Bill Ziegler who finished third.

The other first places for Wells came in the broad jump, where he measured 18-2 1/2, and the shot put, which he tossed 49.3. In addition to his second-place finish in the 100-yard dash, he also had a non-winning effort in the discus throw. He was third there with a throw of 135 feet using the lighter junior high platter.

Except for Wells, the Chicks were blanketed in first-place awards. Paul Markley had the next best performance, a 56.1 quarter-mile that was also a school record. But he finished only second.

Other local athletes placing were Dale Peterson, who ran fourth in the 880-yard run with a time of 2:15.3, and Dave John, who was fifth in the 100-yard low hurdles in a time 12.9 seconds. John, Peterson, and Markley joined Wells on the second-place 440 relay team.

Jim Martin, considered a strong contender for top honors in both hurdle events, was ailing and scored no points.

Other boys who missed the meet completely because of injuries were Leon Brechbill, Lynn Sevenker, and Mike Wells.

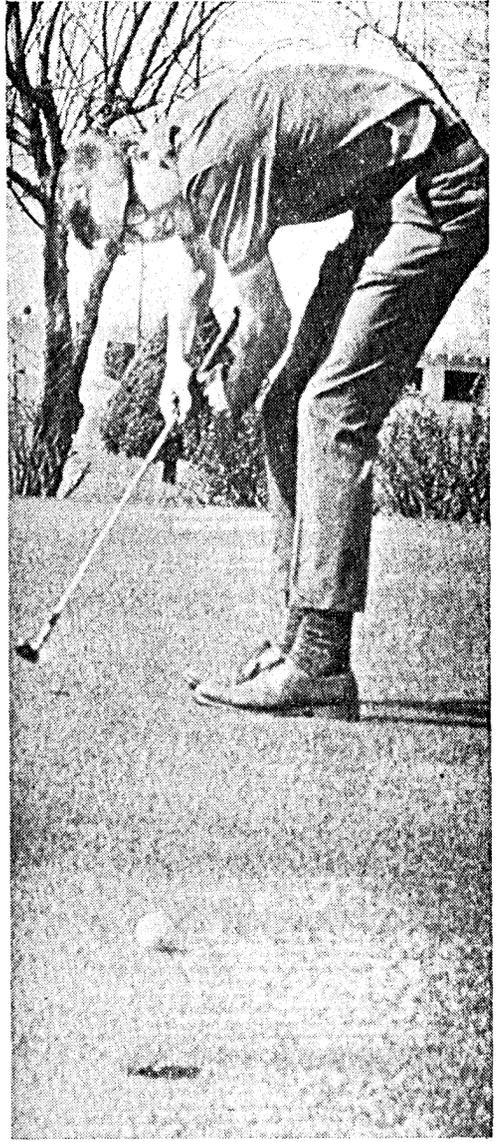

Brechbill, whom Coach Don Nekuda said "could have been a fine quarter-miler and a great help to our mile relay team," missed all three meets this year because of a pulled muscle.

Sevenker also retired earlier in the season with a muscle complication. Coach Nekuda said he shows "a lot of potential in the sprints and broad jump."

Wells, younger brother of Larry and only an eighth-grader, received a back injury while practicing for the conference meet. According to Nekuda, he has shown "promise in the high jump, long jump, and 220-yard dash."

The meet probably marked the end of the season for most of the junior high performers, since no other official action has been scheduled. However, some of them may join the varsity track team for the conference and district meets, which are the only ones left except for the state meet.

Nekuda said each boy's desires, those of varsity coach Fred Williams, and those of the boy's parents would be considered in determining if any ninth-graders are to perform with the varsity.

Dan Chichester of Ord uses body English to no avail in recent match.

Legion, Miget Boys To Practice Sunday

Boys wishing to participate in this summer's American Legion and Miget's baseball leagues have been asked to meet Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The meeting and practice will be held at the Bussell Park field in Ord.

Players are eligible for Legion baseball if they were born on or after Aug. 1, 1950 — meaning that they must not reach their 19th birthdays before Aug. 1 this year. Boys 16 and under may compete with the Miget team.

Plans are also being made for Ord to field a Pony League team this summer. It will be comprised of boys too young to participate in Miget or Legion baseball.

Chuck Squier is head of the city recreation program which will oversee the Pony team. Dr. Otis Miller and Dr. William Gogan will handle the Legion and Miget squads.

Chant Golfers Deadlock for Third In Central 10 Meet at Central City

Oakeson's score was thrown out since only the top four count.

Bill Miller led Ord with 77 strokes. Dave Wolf had 79, Dick Janda 81, Greg Martin 83, and Spencer Douthett 89.

In a nine-hole reserve contest, St. Paul took a seven-stroke victory. Hugh Wilson was low for Ord with 42 strokes, followed by Mike Hansen with 43, Steve Toden and Mark Suminski with 46 each, and Tom Beran with 48.

Medalist Dan Bahensky had a red-hot 53 for the winners in that match. His score was 15 strokes better than any other golfer competing.

Bahensky's four teammates were all in the 70s with Terry Wisner coming in at 73, Steve Hameloth at 74, Don Davolt at 77, and Doug Oakeson at 78.

Town and Country

99 Years Marked Lars Larsen of Tuma's Rest Home marked his 99th birthday Thursday May 1. There was no real celebration although Mr. Larsen seemed pleased when Gene Hastings and Chet Barnes stopped by to say "Happy Birthday."

The pace changed May 4 however when Mr. Larsen joined relatives at the Bob Hill home at Arcadia for a traditional birthday party of ice cream and cake. Among those present were a niece and husband Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wheeler of Joliet, Ill.; a great nephew, Ted Larsen and wife and a great great niece Lynda Hall of Omaha.

Mrs. Auble Honored Special recognition was given to Mrs. Glen Auble, Monday evening, when Chapter BB of P.E.O. met with Mrs. Fred Stoddard. Mrs. Auble has been a member of P.E.O. for 50 years. Helping Mrs. Auble observe this special occasion was a daughter, Mrs. Don Abernethy of Grand Island. Mrs. Sam Griminger of Grand Island was also a special guest.

Open House Held More than 200 persons stopped by the Pierce Agency Thursday and Friday to admire the plush offices of Hal Pierce and Duane Wolfe.

There was a long list of prizes given at the close of the two day open house. The grand prize, a broiler-roaster oven, went to Mrs. Eleanor Lenker. The second prize, a radio, was won by Irving King. George... looks perky

George Kirby Has 92nd Birthday

Although the day was observed in a quiet manner, May 1 was a special day for George Kirby. It was his 92nd birthday. Mr. Kirby has been a resident of the Ord Rest Home the past seven years. A native of Haderslev, Denmark, he came to the United States as a boy with his family living first in the Minden area. In 1901 he and Christina Neilsen were united in marriage. The couple farmed for many years, later retiring to a farm in North Loup.

In 1962 both George and his wife entered the Ord Rest Home and a year later they celebrated 63 years of married life. Mrs. Kirby died in 1964.

Mr. Kirby enjoys visits from his many friends and relatives and is especially proud of his six children, 17 grandchildren and 44 great-grandchildren.

Ralph Comstock Buried Tuesday

Funeral services for Ralph I. Comstock formerly of Notta Loup and more recently of Elgin, Ill., were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Mr. Comstock died May 4 in Elgin, Ill. He was 80 years of age.

The Rev. Leonard S. Clark conducted the services at the Seventh Day Baptist Church of North Loup. Mrs. Marion Soper sang "How Great Thou Art" and "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee." Mrs. Louise Brennick was the organist. Pallbearers were Clyde Baker, Ray Knapp, Cecil Knapp, George Claymen, Sheldon VanHorn and Menzo Fuller with interment in the North Loup Hillside cemetery. The Hastings-Pearson mortuary had charge of arrangements.

Mr. Comstock was born at Brookfield, N. Y. July 4, 1882. He was married to Jessie W. Watts at North Loup on June 11, 1904. For several years Mr. Comstock served as Superintendent of the Babson estate at Grange Mead, Ill., and since retirement ten years ago his home was at Elgin, Ill.

He is survived by two sons Leon of Batavia, Ill., and Ivan of Charles, Ill.; three brothers, Edgar of Key West, Fla., Leonard of LaGrange, Ill., and Myron of Grand Island; two sisters, Mrs. Martha O'Malley of Omaha and Mrs. W. H. Davis of Tekonsha, Mich. His wife preceded him in death in 1959. He was also preceded in death by his parents and one brother Donald.

Pelanowski Rites Held in Loup City

John J. Pelanowski, 83, a resident of Sherman County for nearly 70 years, died May 5 at the Burwell Community Hospital. Mr. Pelanowski was born in Lithuania and came to the United States when he was 14. For the past year he had been confined to the Valley County Hospital and the Burwell Nursing Home. Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Dale (Mary) Norman and Mrs. Florence Janda, both of Ord, and Mrs. Al (Nell) Carroll of O'Neill; two sons, Edward Pelanowski of Independence, Mo., and Raymond Pelanowski of Sugar Creek, Mo.; 13 grandchildren; and 30 great-grandchildren. Also, two sisters, Mrs. Marcella Thomas of Woodhaven, N. Y., and Mrs. Ursula Stamatulis of Lithuania; and two half brothers, Frank and George of Ord. He was preceded in death by his wife Agnes in 1934.

Funeral mass was offered at 10 a.m. Wednesday by Rev. Daniel Fishburn at St. Joseph's Catholic church. Interment was to the Evergreen Cemetery at Loup City.

Rosary was recited Tuesday evening at the Steele Funeral Home chapel.

Off The Square

Mrs. Sadie Robison of Resada, Calif., is expected to arrive here today (Thursday) to be a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tatlow and visit other relatives in the area. Mrs. Angela Philbrick of Montrose, Colo., will accompany Mrs. Robison to Ord to visit relatives. She too will be a guest in the Tatlow home.

Mrs. Howard Huff visited her daughters, Mrs. Jeanette Armas and Mrs. Darlene Lorenson, and families in Salina, Kan., from Tuesday until Friday. Mrs. Lorenson and son Mark returned to Ord with her mother and was joined here on Saturday by Mrs. Jorgensen. The family returned home Sunday.

Orleans Shooters Deadly At State BB Tournament

The bark of BB guns echoed through Ord High School's gymnasium for almost four hours Saturday afternoon as 75 of Nebraska's finest young marksmen demonstrated their frontier heritage.

The occasion was the fourth annual state shooting education tournament sponsored by Nebraska Jaycees. It climaxed 13 weeks of training in marksmanship and gun safety for the participants.

When the last of more than 3,000 rounds of ammunition had been expended, five dead-eyes from the little town of Orleans (population 698) had proved themselves the closest things to modern-day Buffalo Bills in the state. The quintet, which included two girls, scored 1,841 points out of a possible 2,000. In addition to various trophies and medals, that score earned them a repeat trip to the national finals scheduled July 4-6 at Overland Park, Kan.

Second place went to the Hastings team with 1,638 points, while host Ord finished in the show position with 1,575 points. So complete was the Orleans domination that the Harlan County team had the top three individuals in every one of the four different shooting positions. It thus received all 12 medals presented for those places.

In fact, the only thing Orleans did not win was the second and third-place team trophies and the individual medals that went to members of those squads.

Tom Ralston led the winners, who also topped last year's competition, with 381 points out of a possible 400. One of the girls, Cynthia Dunbar, was next with 374 points. Then followed Stan Rodenbaugh with 372, Jim Bass with 371, and Janet Rodenbaugh with 346.

The male Rodenbaugh had the top one-position score, putting nine of 10 shots in the bulls-eye from the prone position. He had 99 of a possible 100 points.

Orleans thus has a perfect record in the state tournament. Last year was its first time to compete, and the farming community situated near the Nebraska-Kansas border now has two championships to show for as many efforts.

Ord was led to its third-place finish by Bobby Rice, whose 344 points placed him well ahead of his teammates. Morley Koll was second with 313, followed by Steve Wolf with 312, Cindy Green with 309, and Randy Gross with 302.

Those five youngsters were selected to represent Ord from a field of more than 40 hopefuls who were enrolled for the training sessions. Emanuel Sich, who conducted the training, served as coach.

Project chairman for the tournament was Don Papiernik. The competition was conducted over a 15-foot range, which is comparable to a 50-foot range with a 22 rifle.

Youngsters ranging in age from 7 to 14 years were eligible to participate.

Fate of State's Top School Official May Be Known by Sundown Today

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Assn.

LINCOLN — The State School Board has scheduled a special meeting today (Thursday) to consider matters relating to the continued employment of Dr. Floyd Miller as state education commissioner.

The official notice of the special meeting doesn't include an announcement that Miller's firing is to be considered, but an opinion from the attorney general's office indicates that public notice isn't mandatory for all items to be considered at a special meeting.

There was a question about whether Miller could be fired without prior notice and a hearing, but the attorney general's opinion said that question was difficult to answer.

The special meeting was announced by Dr. Allen Burkhardt of Norfolk, the board president, who was responding to a request originally made by Mrs. Deborah Shepherd of Lexington. Burkhardt said he had polled the members and majority favored a special meeting.

Before he scheduled it, he asked for guidance from the attorney general's office and received two letters in reply. The first outlined procedures for calling a special meeting, and the other dealt with procedures for dismissing a commissioner.

Each of the opinions said outside legal counsel could be hired to advise the board.

The selection and employment of an outside attorney are two of the items listed on Thursday's agenda. A third agenda item is a review of the attorney general's opinions relating to the "rights, powers, and duties" of the board "in relationship to continued employment of Floyd A. Miller in the office of the commissioner of education."

Miller has hired an attorney, Warren Urbom of Lincoln. Urbom said the matter is certain to go into court if the board decides to fire Miller. "There is no question about it," he stated. "The manner in which they do whatever they do will determine what our response will be."

If the board votes to discharge the commissioner, Urbom said, Miller will continue to serve until a court determination of the issues is made.

There are eight members on the board, and five votes would be needed to dismiss Miller. Four anti-Miller votes appear to be assured. On the other hand, he appears to have the definite support of three board members.

The vote which could create a majority or a deadlock belongs to Lloyd Wright of Reynolds. He said he had promised his vote to no one and wouldn't announce it until he casts it.

There was controversy last week on the matter of hiring an outside attorney to assist the board.

After the attorney general's office authorized outside counsel, Burkhardt arranged with Lincoln attorney Asa Christensen to begin research on legal questions. Neither Burkhardt nor Christensen would discuss whether a fee had been agreed to.

The three pro-Miller members of the board objected to the selection of an attorney without their consultation. They said they hadn't seen the attorney general's opinions at the time Christensen was asked to begin his research.

The Miller supporters are Norman Otto of Millard, Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff, and Frank Landis of Lincoln. Simmons and Landis are attorneys. John Wagoner of Grand Island, an anti-Miller board member, also is an attorney.

The outside counsel was authorized by the attorney general's office because, according to the opinions sent to Burkhardt, the state justice department had provided Miller with advice during his term.

"The commissioner," the opinions said, "has to be the best of our knowledge and belief acted in accordance with our advice. Hence, it appears conceivable that some of his actions which might be subjected to critical scrutiny by the board may have been undertaken and carried out while relying on the former advice of this office."

"If so, very possibly we could be placed in a position of conflict of interest were we called upon to express an opinion as to the legality or propriety of the commissioner's action," the opinions said.

Although the opinions ducked the questions of procedures which could legally be used to fire the commissioner, they did say the attorney general's office is "inclined to the view" that he serves at the pleasure of the board.

If this is true, according to the opinions, Miller could be replaced at any regular meeting of the board or at any duly called special meeting of the board without any charges, notice of hearing, or any specific procedural requirements other than those in the call of the special meeting.

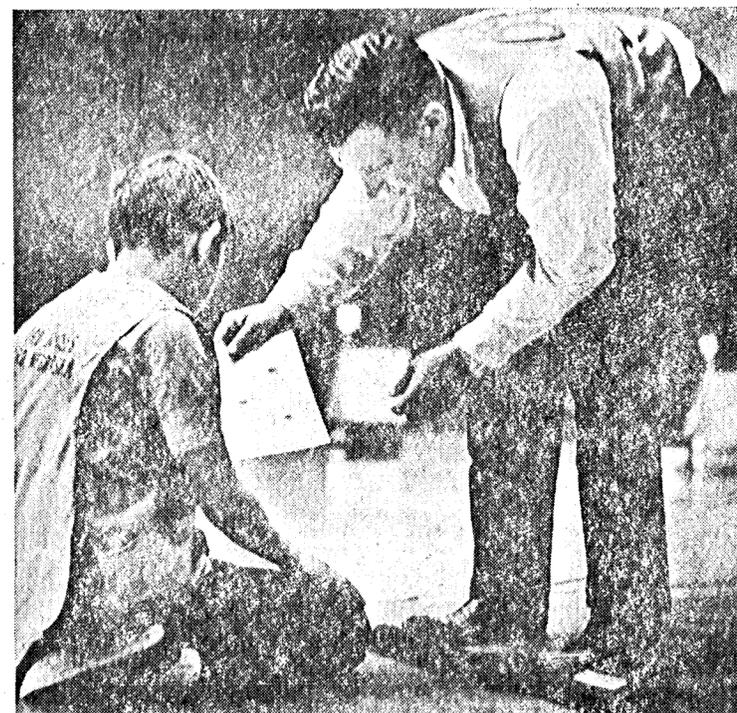

The opinions, however, also pointed out that "it could be reasonably argued that the legislature, by specifying the basic grounds for removal, contemplated that the state board of education would fix a term certain and that the statutory grounds for removal are exclusive."

"If we accept the validity of this argument," the opinions said, "then the notice and hearing requirements must be met before the commissioner may be discharged."

The attorney general's office decided the questions are "not free from doubt" and are "properly matters which special counsel should and can determine. If the matter is litigated, then he would be in a position of defending the board and back up his own opinion."

Kearney Shows the Way

While more prestigious colleges have meekly knuckled under to campus militants who aim to destroy the nation's ROTC program, Central Nebraska's most prominent institution has quietly gone about bucking the trend.

A recent news release from Kearney State College said that it would offer the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program for the first time this fall. Furthermore, not only is Kearney adding an ROTC program, it's adding one for which academic credit will be given.

Such news anathema to the dedicated Communists leading the various campus revolts, as well as the sincere but misinformed students who provide the muscle behind these Communists.

But to most patriotic Americans this news is some of the most encouraging they've heard in a long time. Kearney State administrators are to be congratulated on their decision to implement the program.

Kearney's action will help off-set the growing success enjoyed by the Students for a Democratic Society, which is bent on wrecking ROTC nation-wide.

Already several big-name schools, such as Harvard and Boston University, have withdrawn credit for ROTC courses in compliance with SDS demands. Other schools have notified the Department of Defense that they are considering restrictive changes in ROTC for the coming year. These proposals range from dropping academic credit to barring uniforms and rifles from campuses (for military training, that is, not for use by black radicals to coerce weak-kneed administrators into signing various concessions, such as occurred last week at Cornell University).

Military officials are necessarily concerned with these inroads, since the Army plans on getting approximately half its new officers during 1969 from ROTC, the Air Force 40 percent, and the Navy 30 percent.

When credit is abolished, it's obvious that many students will find ROTC too burdensome an extracurricular activity. This of course means enrollment will be greatly reduced, and subsequently so will the supply of new officers for the military forces.

Such results would fit into Communist plans for weakening the defense of this country just as surely as their placement of missiles in Cuba.

The threat against ROTC is a real one—and so is the threat against the country itself. Kearney State has provided a fine example for others to follow in the face of this threat.

Laws Are Adequate; Enforcement Is Not

One of the nation's major controversies a year ago was the proposed registration of guns.

Lyndon Johnson, then President, led the ranks of those advocating registration as a means of curtailing crime. The National Rifle Assn. led the opposition with a number of pet slogans concluding that guns themselves do not basically affect the number of persons killed—that instead the fatalities are controlled by the people who handle those guns.

While the NRA position is not fool-proof, the recent outrage at Cornell University proves that simply passing a law to register guns is not the answer either.

During that incident a group of Negroes armed themselves with 17 rifles and shotguns, plus other assorted weapons, during the illegal seizure of a university building. Threatening violence if university officials did not agree to their demands, they stood by with guns in hand as school officials signed an agreement nullifying previous disciplinary action taken against three students. The document also said no action would be taken against the group who had armed themselves and occupied the building.

While such astounding developments were happening, neither local nor federal law enforcement authorities were taking any action against the armed blackmailers.

If such a brazen act could not be prevented or action taken to punish those concerned, it's obvious that lawmen would be unable or unwilling to enforce anything so "mild" as gun registration.

Those who registered their weapons would be those who chose to do so willingly, and that would include only the decent and law-abiding citizens for whom no gun restrictions are needed in the first place. The criminals and subversives—when allowed to enforce their own brand of law on a college campus as they did at Cornell—could hardly be expected to voluntarily register their firearms.

Consequently, more laws that would go unenforced are not the answer. In fact, they can hardly even be considered until steps are taken to enforce those laws already in existence.

Something Different

Of Art and Artists

The last day or two I was in Mexico I was delighted to be joined by Kathleen Sibley, better known around Ord as Kathleen Clement.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Clement of Mira Valley, Kathleen grew up here; and like most Valley County citizens, she continues to think this is the world's most wonderful region.

You've noticed, haven't you, how dear to their hearts Ord and this valley seem to be, how those who wander love to come home to roost when they can?

But Kathleen got away. She is a lovely-looking blonde who has travelled over most of the world. An artist who is doing very well, she was born here, educated here, and helped her dad give his fun chalk talks. She even did a few herself. Then she went to Milton College at Milton, Wis., for two years, later taking a B. A. at the University of Nebraska. There she studied with Burkett, Faulkner, and Kirsh.

A member of the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh, she has studied with several fine instructors, including Frank Gonzalez of Mexico City the last year or two. She has also taken part in many shows but now is to have her own one-man show in Ajijic, Mexico, at a notable new gallery opening tomorrow. Several fine local artists are backing the new La Galeria, a white plaster building that has been brightened up to make a fine background, part of it indoors and part of it outside.

Art exhibited outdoors is one of the pleasures Mexico provides.

I wish I could see Kathleen's show.

The Richard Sibleys have lived in Mexico City seven years, having moved there from New York City. They have three children, and visited here last summer.

Closer home, another ex-Ordite is having a show in Denver, Colo.

Opening May 5 with a sherry party at the Jewish Community Center Gallery, Harold Holoun is one of seven artists who will be featured. He is the son of Mrs. Rose Holoun of Ord.

After his Ord school days, Harold went to Hastings, College and later took an M. A. at the University of Wyoming. For three years he taught art in the schools at Mapleton, Ia., then decided to paint and teach at Denver, where he has been the past two years.

He plans to return to Ord soon for a visit, bringing his wife, Mary, whom he acquired last summer.

All Not Dreary in World of Economics, Fellers Decide at Saturday Night Session

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers generally agreed Saturday night that this country is being run by computers and paid for by credit cards. Harvey Krahulik reported he had seen where a "backwards area" now is any place where cash money still is being used.

Harvey, who is a Republican even when the Republicans are trying to run the government, set the pace for the session with a short report on Mr. Nixon. Here it is May, allowed Harvey, and the country is still in business. From the way the Democrats carried on last fall, that's a lot more than was expected. Furthermore, Harvey said he had seen where the Nixon administration is seeing a budget surplus, and he didn't think the Democrats left enough money in Washington to mail a letter.

Looking ahead, Harvey said he sees a chance the Republicans can keep the country going without our war on Vietnam.

He said the first thing folks have got to realize is the government can't give more services than it has money, no more than a rancher can feed more horses than he has oats.

John Petska brought in a report on health and surplus. He said first off that he had seen where San Diego is making a swimming pool out of sewer water and that was a sign man can do a better job keeping this world clean. If we can get our sewer water fit to swim in again, allowed John, we ought to be able to get our air fit to breathe again.

A Public Health Service report says flies get so used to DDT they can take a load equal to 14 pounds for an average person and keep right on going.

If flies can learn to like DDT, said John, maybe people can grow eyes and lungs that thrive on dirt and chemicals in the air and water.

John is a fairly strong believer in government services. For instance, he told the fellers the way to clean up all the junkyards in this country was government price support for cars. If everybody else can get the government to buy their left-overs, the least the auto dealers can do is get the government to buy all their new cars and store 'em in warehouses.

That way folks would have to keep driving their old cars and use the junk for parts.

Or you could make new cars out of glass that melts when it is broken. That way, when there was a wreck the cars would clean up their own mess.

Anyhow, Mister Editor, I see there is a growing market for second-hand computers. After that computer in Georgia lowered taxes $20 million instead of raising 'em $15 million, I reckon a future run by computers ain't going to be all bad.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

growing old —
Though this came to me from a friend, and I think I've seen it before, I'd like to share the following with you that seems ever fitting . . . but even more so around Mother's Day.

I don't want mothers to take offense, just because this following prayer is about "growing old," but fact is fact. There are — I think — a few smiles in it for anyone who has lived a long, rich life.

Here goes for this week:

FOR GROWING OLDER
Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older, and will some day be old.

Keep me from getting talkative, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking that I must say something on every subject on every occasion.

Release me from craving to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Keep my mind from the recital of endless details — give me things to come to the point. I ask for grace enough to listen to the tale of others' pains. Help me to endure them with patience.

But seal my lips on my own aches and pains — they are increasing, and my love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet. I do not want to be saint — some of them are so hard to live with — but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Make me thoughtful — but not moody, helpful — but not busy. With my vast store of wisdom it seems a pity not to use it all, but thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

The Scott Report

From The Washington News-Intelligence Syndicate
By Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — The growing influence in Russian leadership of a military-political troika is causing deep concern among President Nixon's intelligence advisers.

Headed by Defense Minister Andrei Grechko, the powerful "hard-line" trio also includes Communist Party Chief Leonid Brezhnev and Gen. Alexei Yepishev, head of the chief political administration of the Soviet Defense Ministry.

These three leaders appear to be dominating the Kremlin leadership and personally formulating the Soviet Union's foreign-military policy toward the United States and Europe.

The U.S.S.R.'s new "forward strategy," under which the Russians are increasing their military forces in Eastern Europe and the Mediterranean, is credited to the Grechko-Brezhnev-Yepishev team.

The rising military-political role of Marshal Grechko was clearly indicated last month when he was entrusted with the high-priority mission on flying to Prague and arranging for the replacement of Alexander Dubcek as first secretary of the Czech Communist Party.

During his trip Grechko supervised the establishment of an advance Soviet military command post which has taken control of all Russian and Soviet bloc forces in Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, and Hungary.

Czech and Polish forces considered unreliable by the Russians are being gradually transferred to the Chinese-Soviet border area, allegedly to bolster Russian troops in disputed regions.

Elite Russian troops, including heavy armor and rocket units, are being quietly moved into the four Soviet bloc nations to replace the Czech and Polish forces sent to the Far East.

Although American intelligence authorities are puzzled over what is behind this "switching of forces," one group of NATO experts claims the military movements are part of the new Soviet forward strategy.

The Grand Strategy
With more than 60 percent of all American air, sea, and ground combat units tied down in Vietnam and the Far East, this group of NATO experts warn that the new Soviet troika is preparing to take advantage of the situation by trying to topple the pro-American government in West Germany.

The Grechko-Brezhnev-Yepishev team reportedly is convinced the time will be ripe this summer to bring political, military, and economic pressure on West Germany to relace Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger with a pro-Soviet leader.

Their plan calls for agents in the Soviet Democratic Party (SDP) to lead a campaign calling for Kiesinger to step down and let newly elected West German President Gustav Heinemann appoint a successor after he takes office July 1.

Dr. Kiesinger, leader of the Christian Democratic Union, has chko and Yepishev.

How the other members of the Soviet Politburo or the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party fit in this leadership picture is not clear to American and NATO intelligence experts.

During his missions to Prague and East Berlin, Marshal Grechko met highest officials of the three most important Soviet bloc countries — without a representative of the Politburo or Central Committee being present. This unprecedented action would indicate Grechko's dominant influence in Kremlin leadership.

NATO intelligence experts say it was Marshal Grechko who planned and directed the Soviet military invasion of Czechoslovakia in August. And when the defense minister of the United States Republic — Shasha Badran — made his hurried trip to Moscow shortly before the six-day Arab-Israeli war in June, 1967, Grechko encouraged him to put military pressure on Israel.

The Grechko-Brezhnev-Yepishev team is known to favor missile and nuclear arms negotiations with the U. S. as a cover for their own expansion of new strategic weapons.

The military-political troika also is known to favor increased Russian and Soviet-bloc arms shipments to North Vietnam and North Korea, thereby helping those nations keep American forces tied down in the Far East.

General Yepishev, chief political commissar of the Soviet armed forces, is now in charge of a campaign to convince the Russian people that the U. S. is preparing for a new world war.

In a recent article published by Kommunist, official monthly of the Soviet Communist Party Central Committee, General Yepishev wrote that the "classical Leninist teaching, which holds that a series of frightful clashes between Communism and the West is inevitable, still applies in the nuclear age."

Brezhnev's role in the troika is to organize Communist Party support within Russia and throughout the world to support the new military strategy of Grechko and Yepishev.

How the other members of the Soviet Politburo or the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party fit in this leadership picture is not clear to American and NATO intelligence experts.

During his missions to Prague and East Berlin, Marshal Grechko met highest officials of the three most important Soviet bloc countries — without a representative of the Politburo or Central Committee being present. This unprecedented action would indicate Grechko's dominant influence in Kremlin leadership.

VOX POP

Dear Sir:

I am sending a clipping that I tore out of the Bureau Tribune. It gave me an idea that it would be so nice if some of the ladies in Ord that are able would lend their services to the rest homes, such as LeBow's Home for Senior Citizens.

Our mother lives there and, having lost the use of her hands, is unable to write to anyone.

My two sisters and I would be forever grateful if we could just receive a line from Mother once in a while. We write and write and no answer. It seems so terrible, because Mother was always a faithful writer to us all.

We call as often as we can, but oh, for a letter.

I don't know what you can do about it, but just felt it worth a try.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Willis Scofield
Mitchell, Neb.

(Editor's Note: The clipping to which Mrs. Scofield refers is one requesting Burwell ladies to donate an hour of their time each week assisting in that community's nursing home. The ladies would help those who are unable to walk by themselves, who cannot write letters, and besides individual responses to the request, the ladies groups from several churches agreed to help out.)

LP-Gas Consumption High in Midwest

The modern housewife is depending more heavily than ever before on LP-Gas, recent surveys show. The "instant heat" provided by gas ranges was often cited by housewives, as was the safety provided by the "instant off" of gas heat. In the home heating area, LP-Gas preference was registered because gas burns more cleanly than other fuels, and is more economical and dependable than electric heat. Also frequently mentioned was the fast recovery rate and low operating cost of gas water heaters. Complete information on merits and economies of LP-Gas appliances is available from LP-Gas and appliance dealers. LP-Gas is piped directly to this area by a division of MAPCO - the Mid-America Pipeline System - the underground highway weather can't block.

Fun For the Family

While Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marshall attended the convention of the Professional Photographers of Nebraska held recently at Holiday Inn in Omaha, their young daughters Mitzi and Marci enjoyed a vacation of their own visiting relatives in the area.
On Thursday night and Friday the girls were with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Nancy and Jane and Friday afternoon the two boarded the school bus to Ericson with their cousins — the children of Mrs. Barbara Usasz — where they were supper guests. Fun on the farm continued the next two days while Mitzi and Marci were guests of the Vic Bodyfield family. Late Sunday afternoon their paternal grandparents, the Don Marshalls, drove to Ericson to get the girls who remained with the Marshalls for an overnight stay.
From Monday until Wednesday evening, Mitzi and Marci were cared for by Mrs. Mary Zimral during the daytime hours and they spent each night at the Robert Thompson home.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marshall visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Banks and boys while attending the convention in Omaha and they became acquainted with a new nephew, Thomas Leon Banks, Jr. born April 16, leaving Omaha Tuesday evening the Marshalls stopped in Lincoln at the East Hills Supper Club to visit with and enjoy the entertainment of their friends, The Gigolos.

Come to Church
A Lasting Thing
The newspaper recently reported that the famed Wawona Tunnel Tree in Yosemite National Park, California had fallen. It is impossible to imagine the number of tourists that have driven through this 234-foot sequoia redwood in the last 90 years. The tree itself was estimated to be between 1500 to 2000 years old. But now it is gone, that which once was a symbol of enduring endurance. Now it lies splintered upon the ground, taking its place with all gravestones as the symbol of nature's final end.
There are few lasting things in this universe. Let me recommend to you one of these, God's Word as made known in the Bible. Jesus spoke these words about the Old Testament, which are also true of the New: "... till heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the law until all is accomplished." (Matthew 5:18). Every bit of money in the bank, every board in your house, your family and friends, even your own body will go the way of nature. But God's Word will outlast them all. It doesn't make sense to neglect it, does it? It is impossible to imagine the number of people who have found lasting satisfaction from this book. With such a sure thing don't you think you should spend more time reading it and applying it? You might even become a lasting thing yourself.

Mira Valley Memo

Valley County Native Drowns in California

By Bertha Clement
Mrs. Bill Beckner, 41, of Temple City, Calif., drowned Saturday evening at a ski resort where she was sponsoring a group of young folks, according to a phone call received Sunday by Mrs. Clara Clement. Mrs. Beckner, the former Patricia Kura, was a niece of Mrs. Clement and lived in Valley County as a girl. Besides her husband, she leaves three children — Ricky in the service and David and Lee Ann at home. Funeral services were held yesterday (Wednesday).

Church Women United
Forty-six women representing nine churches were present Friday for the May luncheon of Church Women United at the Mira Valley United Methodist Church. A short business meeting, with Mrs. Jess Meyer of Fish Creek presiding, followed the luncheon. Mrs. Meyer is the outgoing president. Newly elected officers for 1970 are Mrs. Charles Anderson, president; Mrs. Lyle Siretek, vice-president; Mrs. Howard Cook, secretary; and Mrs. Richard Meyer, treasurer.

The women later adjourned to the sanctuary where Mrs. Harriet Water of Scotia presided. Mrs. Irvin Hermsmeider played a piano selection and accompanied Nadine Babcock and Kay Goldfish who sang "Savior, Thy Dying Love." All the women sang "Lord, Speak to Me" and "Oh, Master, 'Tis My Life." "Fellowship of the Least Coin" envelopes were taken up with the enclosed offering going to help needy and underprivileged people with their physical needs. Mrs. Lila Gross of the Special Service School was the guest speaker. Her topic dealt with the Ord school and was very informative. She also displayed craft articles made by the children there. Visitors are always welcome at the school as part of the children's training. Mrs. Gross said. The offering of $52.20 was designated for use at this school.

Kernels & Husks

By John Schade

A Costly Mistake
Last May a Nebraska farmer pulled up to the end of a newly planted field of corn. He emptied the insecticide hopper containing Thimet into a box and set the box along the fence.

"I'll pick that box up on the way home," he thought as he drove off. But he forgot. That box set there through the summer, fall and winter.

Early this spring 150 head of cattle were turned into the field. Some of the more inquisitive heifers found the box containing the Thimet granules.

It was long before the combination of curious animals and highly toxic corn rootworm insecticide began to take its toll. One animal dropped dead near the box, 16 others within 150 yards of it, another near a pond, and two others in the field.

A total of 20 head of 750 to 900-pound heifers were dead as a result of this costly mistake.

The above is a true story as reported to J. D. Furrer, extension specialist in pesticide chemicals.

These losses need not happen. Farmers must be made aware of the dangers involved in handling rootworm control products.

Thimet, like many other corn rootworm materials, is a highly toxic pesticide. Containers are marked with a skull and crossbones, and "danger" and the label contains antidotes and other information for safe and proper handling.

The lethal dose rating of Thimet is two to four parts per million. Translated into everyday terms, this means a fatal dose for a 1,000-pound animal is about one-half ounce. Lesser amounts could be fatal to smaller animals or humans.

There are some restrictions on the use of these insecticides. It would be advisable to check with your County Extension Office on the rate and methods of application.

Some of the more popular corn rootworm materials are almost as toxic through skin absorption and breathing as they are orally. Avoid inhalation of dusts, and keep them off the skin. Also wash as soon as possible after handling the products. Wear rubber gloves if you need to work on your applicator or — better still — take a hose and give it a good washing before repairing it.

In case of spillage, carefully clean up and bury spilled granules. Burn all containers and make certain you stay out of the smoke. The smoke can be just as dangerous as the actual product.

Take time to read all instructions and precautions on the container. A few minutes studying the label could save a life or prevent a serious financial loss.

Army Worms in Alfalfa
This past week I was called to the Gary Valasek farm south of Ord to check his alfalfa. This particular field was seeded last fall.

Mr. Valasek is experiencing a real heavy infestation of army cutworms. Damage to the alfalfa stand is quite severe. In fact, many of the plants have been chewed off next to the ground to the extent that there was nothing left.

Most cutworms feed at night. If you find your alfalfa plants chewed off, it might be well to check around the soil near the plant.

You should have no difficulty identifying this individual. You will find two distinct rows of yellow spots down his back. The variegated cutworm will have one row of yellow spots down the back. Most army cutworms have an inverted V on their head.

Cutworms, army worms, and webworms can be controlled by spraying with Dylax-parathion or Sevin.

There are some restrictions on the use of these insecticides. It would be advisable to check with your County Extension Office on the rate and methods of application.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

- Q. Why did you build the Maverick?
A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold mine. Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.
- Q. Why did you call it Maverick?
A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compact and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.
- Q. Why did you make it this size?
A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.
- Q. What do I get for the price?
A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls... important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.
- Q. What about options?
A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semi-automatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.
- Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?
A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.
- Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?
A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a reined bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.
- Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?
A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.8 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 3/4 feet to any parking space.
- Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?
A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)
- Q. How about parts and service?
A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.
- Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?
A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.
- Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?
A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points... plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.
- Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?
A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact's—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight... power... stability. Designed for American driving conditions.
- Q. How does Maverick ride?
A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.
- Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?
A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is... right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's... Fairlanes... Mustangs and Falcons. You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's... the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

'Always Play to Win,' Husker Coach Advises

Grantland Rice was wrong when he said it doesn't matter if you win or lose but how you play the game. Coach Bob Devaney told a full house Monday night at the North Loup-Scottia athletic banquet.

"You should always strive to be winners," the University of Nebraska head football coach told young athletes in his audience. "Losing doesn't help your character — you should feel badly when you lose," he stated. "And you should prepare yourself so you can win the next time."

"Remember, there's just a little bit of difference — a little extra effort — between a winner and a loser."

To parents who might wonder about his attitude of win or lose, Devaney asked: "What do you do every day? What do you do when you go to work? You're trying to do the best job you can — to sell the best groceries or grow the best corn. You're out there to win, and that's life."

Devaney said he thought he was back in Big Beaver — a supposedly fictitious high school where he once coached — when the game ended.

"Some fellow in a red hat with a big white 'N' on it walked up to me and said, 'You're a lousy coach,'" Devaney recalled. "People have called me that lots of times, but this guy bumped me on the arm at the same time and it kind of made me mad. So I said to him, 'You're drunk.'"

"Yes," he said, "but I'll be OK when I wake up in the morning."

The Nebraska coach also told how his own high school team solved a too-many-men-on-the-field problem once during his playing days.

"We discovered we had 12 men on the field, but the referee had (Continued on Page 6)

Bloodmobile Again Leaves With Full Load As 147 Persons Contribute a Pint Apiece

By Mrs. Clark Weckbach

The people of Valley County moved their unselfishness again Tuesday when 147 came to Ord to donate a pint of blood at the Red Cross bloodmobile.

Of the 141 accepted, 103 were from Ord, 18 from North Loup, 10 from Arcadia, 3 from Burwell, 3 from Elvira, and 4 from other towns. The quota was 110 pints.

Joining the four-gallon club was Alfred Burson of Ord; the three-gallon club, Eldon Foth and Mrs. Dale Karre, both of Ord; Frank Puss of North Loup, and Edward Zuboski of Elvira; two-gallon club, Mrs. Menzo Fuller of North Loup, and Kenneth Petska and Emanuel Sich of Ord; and one-gallon club, Floyd Thompson of North Loup and Ken Clement and Mrs. Andy Anderson, both of Ord. Henry Penda had joined the four-gallon club with his donation at the Ord hospital recently.

The 13 first-time donors were Denny Brechbill, Wayne Clapp, Mrs. Dorothy Holmes, Steve Grantham, Mrs. D. D. Knapp, Mrs. John Kokes, Mrs. Robert Lueck, Marvin Mach, Robert Naber, Emil Penas, Francis Ryschon of Ord, Mrs. R. G. Brown of Arcadia, and Mrs. Leonard Jacobs of North Loup. Six donating for the first time in Ord were Dean Pofahl of Norfolk, Con Schultz of Arcadia, Miss Helen Fuller of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Mrs. Karl Moe-Kaen and Marvin Belgram of Ord, and Mrs. R. W. Torgood of North Loup.

The doctors working were Paul Martin, Otis Miller, E. E. Morley, and Wayne Ziemke, Registered nurses on hand Msdms. Hal Pierce, Hilding Pearson, Don Wright, Harold Burson, Paul Martin, Mervin Hornickel, and Al Moudry. One licensed practical nurse, Mrs. Bernard Staab, also assisted.

Members of the Mutual Benefit Extension Club furnished and served dinner for the workers. Club members participating were Mrs. Walter Puss, Mrs. Lores Hornickel, and Mrs. Isaac Laoma.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliaries furnished and served food for the workers. Working were Mrs. Joe Bartu and Mrs. Louis Zabloudil of Ord, Mrs. Ronald Goodrich, Mrs. Joe Hickman and Mrs. Leonard Jacobs of North Loup, and Mrs. H. A. Masters and Mrs. Bill Leiminger of Arcadia. Cheese was furnished by the Ord Cheese Co. and candy by the Broken Bow Wholesale Co.

Men unloading and loading the bloodmobile were Emil Penas, Bill Beard, Chet Austin, Larry Konkiewicz, Tony Pokorny and Jerome Turk.

Ord Girl Wins Music Lessons

An unusual type of scholarship has been awarded to Darlyn Novosad, who will graduate from Ord High School later this month.

Miss Novosad is one of nine Nebraska high school students who will receive two semesters of free private music instruction after they enroll at Kearney State College this fall. They were selected following auditions made before members of the college music faculty.

The scholarships are made available by the Kearney State chapter of the Music Educators National Conference.

Miss Novosad plans to major in music at the Kearney school.

Truck Due on May 20

Area residents have been reminded that the Good Will truck will be at the Valley County courthouse early Tuesday to pick up articles of clothing or appliances donated to the organization. Items may be left at the courthouse any time during this week. The drive is co-sponsored by the county welfare office.

Students, Parents Cited at FFA Banquet; Alan Cahill Will Serve as New President

FFA Foundation Awards were presented to a dozen members of the local Future Farmers of America chapter at a recent parent-son banquet.

Also honored were four parents, as well as those boys who received awards at last month's state convention in Lincoln.

The Foundation Awards are presented each year for outstanding achievement in a particular field of vocational agriculture. Stanley Barr received two such awards, one for his dairy work and the other for soil and water conservation.

Parents cited were Mrs. Frank Andreesen, Stanley Barr Sr., Junior Hansen, and Rudolph Hosek. They were presented Honorary Chapter Farmer degrees for their support of FFA activities during the past year.

The annual banquet was held May 1 in the basement of the Veterans Club. Outgoing president Gary Bogus served as toastmaster, and Richard Brown of Taylor was the principal speaker. Brown is vice-chairman of the State FFA Assn. for the Central Nebraska area.

New officers were also installed. Presiding as president during the coming year will be Alan Cahill, as vice-president Glen Bredthauer, secretary Darrel Bremer, treasurer Roger St.roman, news reporter Dale Baldwin, and sentinel David Sich.

A review of the past year's chapter activities was presented by Cahill and Don Chalupa.

'Still Hope,' Kokes Says

Ord is on the ropes but not quite out, Senator Rudolf Kokes declared Wednesday with reference to the State Game Commission.

A move to amend Legislative Bill 576, which would consolidate Game Commission offices and move them to Ord, was approved last week by a 23-16 vote. The amendment would retain Lincoln as commission headquarters.

Final action could not be taken on the bill because of a new law which requires that legislation affecting more than $50,000 in appropriations be bracketed for a certain length of time. Senator Kokes said Wednesday it would be "some time" before the bill is brought out for another vote.

"When it comes up again I feel it will be a new ball game," the senator said. "I never say so many people jumping back and forth from one side to the other. That Omaha bunch is trading votes like crazy."

Kokes said a change in heart of one or two key senators could swing enough votes to change the bill's path.

What we've got to do now is stop Mel Steen next week," he added.

Steen, who is director of the Game Commission, advertised for bids on a new building several weeks ago. The building would be erected in Lincoln, and Steen now plans to open bids next week.

Kokes placed major blame for passage of last week's amendment on three western senators who were supporting Alliance's bid as commission headquarters. They supported the amendment because it would permit Game Commission officials to sift through the many offers made from communities around the state and pick the one they liked most. The three western legislators felt that would be Alliance, and they thought they could get enough support to have the bill amended from Lincoln to Alliance when it comes up again.

"It can do some good with the Alliance group, we'll be back in it," Kokes stated.

"I knew we would have to have outstate help, and when the other senators started hounding in and trying to hog the show for themselves I knew we were in trouble."

"But I do feel we can pump new life into the bill."

When the amendment was passed last week, Kokes had called it "a black day for outstate Nebraska." He complained that many outstate supporters were not present when the vote was taken.

"The 23 votes supporting Lincoln, I do not feel, will hold up in the final showdown," he said.

Dick Janda Named First Winner of Geweke Memorial Award

Dick Janda, who has excelled in scholarship as well as athletics, was named first winner of the Don Geweke Memorial Trophy as the climax to Friday night's athletic banquet at Ord High School.

The trophy was presented by the school's O Club in memory of 1964 Ord graduate who was killed last November in an automobile accident. His widow, Mrs. Carl Geweke, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke, were on hand to witness the presentation.

Janda was president of this year's Student Council and a three-sport letterman in athletics.

Criteria for receiving the award include winning letters in at least two sports, holding a scholastic standing in the upper 50 percent of the senior class, and exhibiting outstanding leadership and attitude.

While a student at Ord, Geweke lettered three years in basketball, three years in football, and once in track.

Dave Van Nordheim, athletic director at the school presented the trophy to Janda. He had coached both Geweke and Janda during their playing days.

Janda's name will be inscribed on the trophy, which will be kept in the school trophy case. He will also receive a plaque to keep for himself.

"Amidst other banquet activities, lettermen and squadmen from the various 1968-69 sports teams were recognized."

Principal speaker for the evening was Allen Zikmund, head football coach at Kearney State College. A 1939 graduate of Ord High School with an illustrious sports career, Zikmund outlined a five-point program for athletic success.

"Some things can never change in athletics," he said after devoting most of his talk to a discussion of things that are changing.

He listed these five things "which will always be necessary for anyone who hopes to excel in athletics:

(1) A desire to participate — "You must want to participate,"

Zikmund said, "not because your dad or Uncle Charley or your girl friend wants you to, but because you yourself want to. I have seen boys come to college who didn't have this desire — who were out simply because someone else wanted them to be, they didn't make it."

(2) An inborn desire to excel — "You have to want to excel," he stated, "whether it's beating somebody out for a position or beating an opponent. And that doesn't apply just to athletics — its true of life in general."

(3) Pride — "You must be able to know that you have given the best there is in you."

(4) Dedication — "In January we ran a check at Kearney State to see how many of our football players were working out on their own. Of the 75 boys we expect to report next year, 66 were working. That is dedication."

(5) Faith — "This can be a many-splendored thing. You can have faith in your town, your school, lots of things. But the most important faith is in God. Don't pray to win — pray instead for the strength to do the best you can. Without faith you are nothing — you are less than nothing."

Zikmund said earlier in his speech that "many changes are happening in athletics, and I think they are for the better."

Today anybody can win, he said, and quoted former Kearney star Randy Rasmussen to prove it.

Rasmussen, from Elba, was a starting offensive lineman for the world champion New York Jets last season. Zikmund quoted him as saying officials were so convinced the Baltimore Colts would win the Super Bowl that they had champagne delivered to the Colt dressing room and cola to the Jet quarters. Pay checks with the winner's share going to the Colts and the loser's to the Jets had also been made out in advance.

Concluding his talk, Zikmund said he felt Rich Osentowski "is the best athlete in the state of Nebraska. I think he could have won letters in all nine college sports."

Osentowski has just completed his senior year by being named Nebraska's "college athlete of the year." He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Osentowski of Ord and plans to sign a professional baseball contract soon. At Kearney he starred in both baseball and football.

Zikmund was a three-year letterman himself in track and football at the University of Nebraska. He scored a touchdown for the Cornhuskers in the 1941 Rose Bowl and went on to play professionally with the Chicago Bears. In high school at Ord he was the state broad jump champion and finished second two consecutive years in the discus.

Since going to Kearney has head coach, his teams have won 103 games, lost 24, and tied 1. They have been conference champions 10 of his 14 years there, and he has been named NAIA (national small college) coach of the year three times. He is also a member of the National Football Hall of Fame.

Ann Banks

Ord Girl Named Top Cheerleader At Kearney State

Ann Banks, an Ord sophomore at Kearney State College, has been selected as head cheerleader for the 1969-70 school year.

Ann was one of nine coeds chosen as cheerleaders following tryouts earlier this month. More than 30 women were candidates for the position.

Miss Banks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Ord.

Another of the nine whose name is a familiar one to people of this community is that of Sally Zikmund. Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Zikmund of Kearney and the granddaughter of Mrs. Ethel Zikmund of Ord.

Gold Star Mothers Receive Token Gifts

Twenty-two members attended the Monday evening meeting of the V. F. W. Auxiliary held in the lower level of the Veterans Club.

Mary Marshall briefed the group on the recent District 12 meeting. Others attending this meeting in Grand Island were Virginia Sich, Martina Zulkoski, Ruth Leeb, Norma Fox, Fern Brethauer and Anna Celak.

Goldie Hansen and Agnes Janda reported on an annual courtesy of the organization — the presenting of gifts to the Gold Star Mothers. Potted plants were given this year to Mmes. Froyne Klancey, Florence Clark, Agnes Desmul, Agnes Dodge, Vilhelmina Freeman, Helen Pierson, Eva Robertson, Mary Sowers, Amelia Vogeltanz and Amelia Philbrick.

Recognition went to six members who participated in the Loyalty Day Parade.

Hostesses for the after-meeting lunch were Sharon Blaha and Catherine Beran.

Happiness — it's that certain something you acquire while you're too busy to be miserable!

A little girl once made a list of "My Twelve Loveliest Things, People Not Counted." They were:

The scratch of dry leaves as you walk through them.
The feel of clean clothes.
Water running for a bath.
The cold of ice cream.
Cool wind on a hot day.
Climbing up and looking back.

Honey in your mouth.
Smell of a drugstore.
Hot-water bottle in bed.
Babies smiling.
The feeling inside when you sing.

Baby Kittens.
Now, if only happiness were as contagious as the common cold, wouldn't this old world be in great shape?

Looking for something different? Then join me in a dish of golden Potato Fans. An ideal meat for leg of lamb or roast beef.

POTATO FANS
6 small potatoes
2 small onions, cut into thin slices
1/3 c. salad dressing, Italian or French (or use low calorie dressing)

2 T. dry bread crumbs, seasoned.
Peel potatoes. Make vertical slashes 1/4 inch apart to within 1/4-inch of bottom of each potato. Insert onion slices in slashes. Coat well with dressing and sprinkle with crumbs. Bake, covered, at 425 degrees for 45 minutes. Uncover and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer. Baste frequently with dressing. Makes six servings.

When you repaint wooden garden furniture, give the bottoms of the legs at least one — and preferably two — coats of varnish, enamel, or paint. This will prevent moisture from being drawn up from the ground into the wood, causing it to rot and the paint to peel. They say it works!

Did you know? Now even children can make use of credit cards.

Steve Pachan of Miami, Fla., issued cards to his two sons, 7 and 5, through the cooperation of a local candy store owner. They read: "Purchases limited to 11 cents daily for each son. Mr. Pachan will pay at the end of each week."

Coffee Cup Philosophy: Put a smile on your face each morning. You've got nothing to lose but the blues.

The Dahlins... married in Ord in 1919.

Albert Dahlin Observe 50th Anniversary With Open House Reception Last Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Dahlin observed their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday, May 11, with an open house celebration. More than 250 friends and relatives greeted the honorees between 2 and 5 p.m. in the basement of the United Methodist Church of Ord.

The reception was hosted by the couple's children Mr. and Mrs. Don (Dean) Nelson of Inland, Dr. and Mrs. Don Dahlin of Kearney and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dahlin of Torrington, Wyo. A large cake, frosted white with accents of gold, complimented the serving table. The cake was baked and decorated by the couple's niece, Mrs. Lorraine Barnes. Four granddaughters Sheri Dahlin Jelinek, Kay Luann Nelson Miller, Barb Nelson and Cindy Dahlin and friends

Mrs. Lucille John, Mrs. Nema Jones, Mrs. Marie Hellwege and Mrs. Helen Sevenker served the guests. Members of the W.S.C.S. Circle I were in charge of reception duties. Mrs. Joy Wert presided at the guest book. Mrs. Rhoda Plate and Mrs. Leila Plate were at the gift table.

The Dahlins began the memorable day by attending morning services at the United Methodist Church in Ord with their children and grandchildren.

Wed At Ord Albert and Elizabeth Dahlin were married May 1, 1919, by Judge Gudmundsen at the Gudmundsen home. They were attended by Ovie Fredrickson and Lillie Dahlin. The Dahlins reside at 1115 J. Street in Ord.

Last year's leaders in the Sherman Howard Baseball League are off to winning starts. Playoff champion Scotia and regular season ruler Wood River both opened their seasons with victories Sunday. Joining them as winners were Boelus and newcomer Loup City.

Ord will join the action this week as the Mustangs journey to Greeley for a Sunday contest beginning at 2:15 p.m. The local team drew a bye in last week's opening round.

Scotia jumped off to an early lead and had no trouble winning a 9-4 decision from Gibbon. But Wood River was forced to Wolbach jumped off to a 4-1 lead in the first against Wood the hit by a plucky Wolbach team which bowed, 7-6, in 11 innings.

In the other games Boelus won a slug-fest from Greeley, 12-8, and Loup City took a similar contest from Cairo, 10-8.

John Benson got Scotia rolling with a two-out grand slam home run in the first inning. Larry Lewis added another four-bagger later as the victors built a 9-2 lead for veteran hurler Leonard Williams.

Williams allowed just three hits and two unearned runs before retiring after six innings. He had struck out 16 by that time, getting all but two of his team's 18 put-outs via that method.

River, but Norm Lashley came on to stem the tide for last year's champions. Taking over with two out in the first, he gave up only six hits and two runs in the remaining 10 1/3 innings.

Who says golf isn't a team game? Spencer Douthitt gives Dave Wolf a helping hand in a recent Ord High School match as the latter climbs out of a creek. Wolf's stray tee shot had gone in the water, and even though he replayed it he wasn't about to give up the missing ball.

Area's C, D Cindermen To Vie for State Today

Fifty-eight tickets to the state high school track and field championships will be handed out today in Ord.

These duets are not of the spectator variety, however. They're for contestants only and will go to the two top finishers in individual events and the first-place relay teams in Class C and D district meets being held at the Ord High School track.

The elimination process, which will climax the season for all but state meet qualifiers, gets underway at 9 a.m. with field event trials. Preliminaries in the running events will start an hour later.

Fifteen schools are entered in Class D's District 6 competition and 14 in Class C's District 7 eliminations.

Ravenna nosed out Sumner by half a point to win the team championship in Class C last year. But neither of those teams will be competing in Class C today, Ravenna having been moved up to Class B and Sumner dropped to Class D. That leaves third-place Burwell as the highest ranked among returning teams.

In Class D both champion Wheeler County and runner-up Amherst will be on hand to again vie for honors. Among the other teams they'll have to contest with is Sumner, which did so well in Class C last year.

Picking a team champion in advance is almost impossible, since so much depends on the way the points are split. North Loup-Scotia, for instance, defeated Sargent in their conference battle; but a week later the Kearney Invitational, where the points were spread out more evenly, Sargent finished one notch ahead of the Wildcats.

Both teams will be among the stronger delegations appearing in Class C today.

Coach LaVelle Miller of North Loup-Scotia earlier this week was bemoaning the fact that his charges will have seen no competitive action since the Kearney meet. That means they will have gone almost two weeks without having their edges sharpened under the pressure of official competition.

"I tried everywhere to get a meet," Miller stated, "but I couldn't find anything."

Miller reported that his squad is in good physical condition with only Don Williams doubtful. Williams is the team's number two pole vaulter and runs on the two-mile relay team.

At least two state leaders will be in action during the day.

Gibbon's Lonnie Jurgens shares the best 100-yard low hurdle time in Class C with C. W. McClellan of Gretna. They both have clockings of 20.6 seconds.

Dan Simmons of Sumner leads the state's Class D pole vaulters with a leap of 12 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

The complete list of teams competing in Class C includes Ames-Merna, Ansley, Arnold, Burwell, Cedar Rapids, Fullerton, Genoa, Gibbon, Loup City, North Loup - Scotia, Sargent, Shelton, St. Edward, and Wood River.

The Class D roster is composed of Amherst, Arcadia, Elba, Greeley, Greeley Sacred Heart, Kearney Catholic, Litchfield, Loup County, Overton, Palmer, Pleasanton, Spalding Academy, Sumner, Wheeler County, and Wolbach.

Two School Marks Fail to Help Chants

Trackmen at Ord High School are wondering just what it takes to win these days.

In last week's Central 10 Conference meet at Seward, the Chanticleers set one school record and tied another but came away ninth in a 10-team field. They were also blanked on first-place medals.

The Chants were hoping for more fine performances - but better mileage from them pointwise - as they competed at Norfolk yesterday (Wednesday) in their district meet. The top three individual finishers and the two best relay teams in each event there earned berths in the state meet, scheduled May 23-24 at Kearney.

In the Seward meet Roger Cahill continued to show improvement in the mile, lowering his own school record to 4 minutes, 35 seconds. But he finished second behind Lee Newcomer of York, who owns the top Class B time in the state this year. Newcomer finished with a 4:29 even three tenths of a second over the three-leading time.

Cahill had established the school record a week before, running fourth in the Kearney Invitational with a time of 4:36.5. Newcomer was also first there.

Perhaps even more frustrated than Cahill, though, was Dennis Cetak. The husky weightman has had an up-and-down year throwing the shot and discus, but Thursday he was at his best in the latter event. He sailed the discus 147 feet, 4 inches - tying a school mark set 13 years before he was born - but barely managed to place, getting only fifth.

Crete's all-state basketball performer, Dave Drevo, set a new conference record with his winning toss of 168-6 1/2. It also was the best mark in Class B this spring.

Dan Cook of David City, who single-handedly pushed his school past Ord in the team standings, was second with a throw of 159-11 1/2. Two Aurora performers, Dan VanWormer and Dan Ernst, were third and fourth with throws of 153-4 and 152-9.

The night after his record-tying effort, Cetak joined other Ord High athletes in listening to the man who originally set the school mark - Allen Zikmund - speak at this year's athletic banquet. Now head football coach at Kearney State College, Zikmund set the record in 1939.

Cook, who is one of the few stand-outs at athletically weak David City this year, scored 10 points for his school by finishing second in the discus and winning the shot put with a toss of 50-3 1/4. David City edged Ord for eighth place, scoring 12 points to 11 for the Chanticleers.

Led by versatile Carl Abele, who won the 100 and 220-yard dashes and finished second in the shot, host Seward won the team championship. The Bluejays accumulated 53 1/2 points as teams from the eastern half of the conference dominated the standings. Aurora, which tied for second, was the only western school in the top five.

In addition to Cahill and Cetak, Ord received points from Tim Markley in the pole vault, Bill Klancey in the long jump, and Bill Miller in the shot put.

Markley had his best vault of the season, clearing 11-9. He was one of four athletes topping out at that height. George Schnakenberg of Crete won with 12 feet even. Jim Gist of Seward had the fewest misses among the 11-9 quartet and was awarded second place. Markley took third.

Klancey long-jumped 19-5, which was his best effort since the second meet of the year. After starting the season hot with successive leaps of 19-9 and 19-6 1/4, Klancey had not been over 19 feet the last three times out. His performance Thursday was good for fourth place.

Miller also hit his season high in the shot put, clearing 50 feet for the first time this season. A junior, his throw of 50-4 1/4 got him fifth place.

One of the most interesting matchups of the meet was the high jump where Crete's 6-5 Dave Drevo and Seward's 6-6 Gene Harmon hooked up in an intense personal duel. Considered probably the two best Class B basketball players in the state last winter, each of them scaled 5-9 1/2, with Harmon winning on the basis of fewer misses.

Lillie Elsie Dies After Long Illness; Services at Chapel

Final services were held Friday afternoon for Lillie Elsie, 54, who died May 7 at the Burwell Community Hospital. Miss Elsie had been in failing health for a number of years and became seriously ill on May 5.

The Rev. C. R. Campbell officiated at the 2 o'clock service at the Hastings Pearson Chapel. Mrs. Sharon Fuss sang "Beyond The Sunset" and "Going Down The Valley" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Shirley Kaue.

Pollsters were Art Gebels, George Zuck, John Potrzebo, Otis Burson, Joe Pokorney and Richard Prien. Interment was in the Ord Bohemian Cemetery.

The daughter of Joseph and Louise (Bower) Elsie, Lillie Elsie was born July 14, 1914 in Loup County. At an early age she moved with her parents to Valley County and attended District 67 rural school. After her parents' retirement from the farm in 1954 she moved with them to Ord which had since been her home.

Survivors are her mother, two brothers Edward of Ord and Otto of Burwell and one sister Mrs. Mary Klancecky of Comstock, a niece Arlene Klancecky and a nephew Eugene Klancecky. She was preceded in death by her father.

Schernikau Relative Succumbs at Age 66

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Schernikau and family were out of town several days last week due to the death of his father, Elmer Schernikau.

The younger Schernikaus were visiting his parents in Beaver Crossing at the time of his father's death. Duane was attending a barber's convention in Beatrice, and on May 4 Mr. Schernikau, age 66, died in a local hospital. The senior Mr. Schernikau had suffered a slight heart attack the previous Friday and had been hospitalized since that time.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Friend. Immediate survivors include the widow, son Duane of Ord, and a daughter, Mrs. Max Eberspacher of Beaver Crossing.

Mrs. E. C. Leggett drove to Grand Island Monday morning, and then on to Hastings where she consulted doctors at Mary Lanning Hospital.

Devaney Says Play to Win . . .

noticed it," he said. "So our problem was how to get one of them off without the rest seeing in the huddle our quarterback said, 'Okay, we'll try an end sweep over near the bench and one of you dumbheads drop off.' The next play we lined up with five men in the huddle. . . .

Devaney invited graduating North Loup - Scotia football players, who helped their team compile an 8-2 season record last year, to come out for the university squad as volunteers. "We like to have you try it," he said. "We certainly give everybody an opportunity, and some of you look like you have the physical characteristics. . . .

He advised undergraduates who might be looking forward to college offers to "work on your speed," especially in the first 40 yards. . . .

Gib Babcock, a former North Loup athletic star, accompanied Devaney to North Loup and was called on to take a bow. He is now equipment manager at the university. . . .

In an after-speech interview, Devaney said the quarterback situation for next fall's Husker team is still unsettled. "It all depends on Van Brownson's arm," he said of last year's top freshman quarterback. . . .

None of the other signal callers stood out, though. Of Frank Patrick, who started two years ago as a sophomore, Devaney commented: "He was as good in the spring game as the rest of them, but he's in his fifth year." . . .

Devaney said he thought his best athletes may be on the defensive. "I would have been disappointed if our defense hadn't done well," he said, "because we have our more experienced players there. But I was certainly hoping for a little more from the offense." . . .

When questioned about two Cornhusker players from this area, Devaney said: "Carl Ashman (from Burwell) had a good spring and was our first-string left guard in the intrasquad game. . . .

"Mike Beran (from Ord) is a good competitor. He came out on his own and did a pretty good job this spring." . . .

In conclusion, Devaney stated: "We have so darn many players about even, and that's not a good situation. We like to have somebody stand out from the rest so we can, but few of our boys make a choice, but so far few have." . . .

Sunday afternoon visitors of M and Mrs. Rubin Shaffer and Linda were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Reeves of Kearney, Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Tolon, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Waller and son. . . .

Mrs. Will Skala and daughter Darlene of St. Paul were brief callers at the Will Penas home Friday. . . .

Everybody loves a parade—especially children. Ord first-graders show varied reactions to an entry in Friday's Shrine Parade.

No parade is complete without a clown.

Mrs. Babka Takes Top Prize

Mrs. Vlad Babka of Ord was the biggest winner in the Chamber of Commerce drawing held Friday following the Shrine Parade.

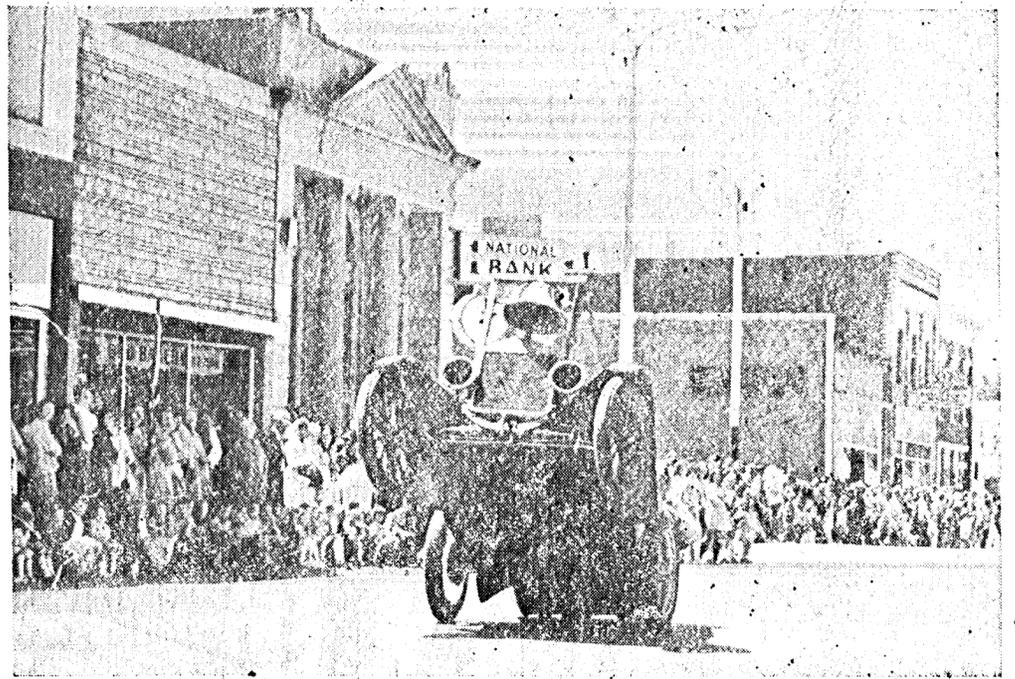

For once, though the top winner may have preferred a lesser prize. Mrs. Babka has neither children nor grandchildren of an appropriate age for regular bicycle-riding — and a bicycle was the top prize. Maybe Mrs. Babka can take up cycling herself as a means of staying in top physical condition.

The second and third-prize winners had no such problems. Mrs. Albert Lindell of Arcadia will have no trouble deciding how to use her transistor radio, and Mrs. Leon Klanecky's chaise lounge and chairs will be put to good use too.

This float tells what Shrine activities are all about as it promotes the Shrine football game to benefit crippled children.

Nebraska's Own Brand Of Forced Unionism

Statistics released over the weekend reveal that for the first time in its history, Nebraska had more factory workers than agricultural employees during the month of February, 1969.

It was pointed out that February was a low month for farm work and the agriculturalists will undoubtedly regain supremacy, but even so the trend is irrevocably clear. Nebraska now ranks as the 15th fastest growing industrial state in the country, with a 31 percent increase in the number of manufacturing employees from 1957 to 1967. This was accounted for by 19,000 new jobs.

Meanwhile, the trend in agriculture was exactly the opposite. The state showed a decline in farm jobs of 43,000 over the 10-year period.

Such a reversal of work patterns has both its good and bad aspects. One of the more onerous is the growing influence of labor union bosses.

This feature of the move from an agrarian to an industrialized society is clearly obvious in the current session of the Nebraska Legislature. A bill which would abolish the prohibition against an agency shop has been cleared from committee and is now awaiting action on the floor of the legislature.

An agency shop is defined as "a shop in which the union serves as the agent for, and receives dues and assessments from, all employees in the bargaining unit regardless of union membership."

Thus, what Legislative Bill 468 would do—if passed—is make it possible for a union to require that all employees pay dues to that union whether they are official members or not. It also would prohibit individual bargaining between employer and employee, on such subjects as pay, working hours, and working conditions.

One of Nebraska's principal attractions as a potential industrial site—and one of the reasons it is 15th in industrial growth—is its reasonable labor costs. Not so cheap that they are unfair to the worker, but reasonable.

Because of transportation costs to major markets and other criteria, many of the state's present manufacturing concerns would find it difficult or impossible to compete with companies located in more populous areas were it not for the reasonable costs of labor here. New firms would also think twice before locating here if this consideration were removed.

To pass L.B. 468 would be a major step in abolishing this advantage, and thus a critical impediment to the state's economic growth.

Like the smoldering grape controversy in California, this bill is simply another effort to cram mandatory unionism down the throats of workers whether they want it or not. It is a bill which should be resoundingly defeated.

Warped Values

The ridiculous state of affairs in the country was illustrated in a recent New York Times article. It also dealt with labor unions.

The story told of how a critic was invited to attend the filming of a wild sex orgy for a low-budget nudie film.

The film's producer told the critic that he had to be secretive concerning the site being used for the orgy. The actors and actresses were to be assembled for the cameras in a New York City apartment, but the producer refused to let the newsman know the address.

Instead he was told to wait at a certain street corner. There he was met by a driver and taken to the apartment to witness the filming.

The reporter asked the driver: "Do you have to be so secretive because you are filming in the nude?" "No," replied the driver, "because we're using a non-union crew."

Here is a document of the times. There is no fear in filming a sex orgy. But the lack of union credentials forces top-secret action.

New Business Diseases Have Government Excited

Richard Kanarad told the fella's at the store Saturday night that business and industry have come down with terrible diseases called the "franchises" and the "conglomerates."

Richard said he didn't know anything about the new ailments, but from what he sees in the papers they are the worst things to hit this country since that epidemic of "defense contract kickback."

The government is especially worried about the "conglomerates," Richard said, because it hits the real big outfits. Big companies swallow up little ones when they catch the "conglomerates," and the government is afraid the big company getting bigger will corner the market on whatever it makes or sells.

The "franchises" work differently, and the government is more tolerant of it.

The government looks at the "franchises" something like it does smoking, allowed Richard. That is, it just wants folks that the disease might be harmful to their health.

The "franchises" puts a fella in business for a price, and by setting up businesses all over the country it gets more of the market and makes it harder on the small operator, Richard explained.

After listening to Richard a spell, Leonard Moudry told the fella that runs the store to watch out for the "franchises," cause it was hitting every kind of business. The storekeeper said he wasn't worried 'cause the "franchises" don't go where they ain't no market.

He said he had seen where the "franchises" was in everything from fried chicken and car mufflers to dance halls and pet shops.

What the "franchises" does is set up standard equipment and a standard way to do whatever it gets into, from pool halls to filling out income taxes. This way, the public can expect to find the same kind of hamburger from one end of the country to the other.

Leonard said he had seen where one franchise fried chicken outfit has jumped over into the franchise "babysitting" business and it's having a little trouble using a standard operation because, like a fella said, youngsters have emotions and chickens don't.

Jerry Pesek was of a mind the "franchises" ain't as dangerous as some say. Jerry had seen where the "typical franchise holder" pays $25,000 to work an average of 12 hours a day. In the first place, there ain't too many 12-hour workers around these days, Jerry said, and in the second place them that tie up $25,000 in something probably will do right by their customers in hopes of getting their investment back.

Actually, Mister Editor, Jerry said the "franchises" may be a cure instead of a disease.

He saw where this druggist went out of business after 40 years because he wouldn't put in a line of garden seeds, goldfish, toys, and camping equipment that every modern franchise drug store has these days.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

Something Different

Mission of Mercy, Maybe!

Ord is one of the bloughest cities you could ever find just at present. Every fruit tree is heavy with blossoms, every bush is frosted with flowers, tulips wave everywhere, and lilacs perfume every street.

No one ever saw so many wild plums blooming either.

Everyone is out digging and transplanting. It is a fine time to trade slips, plant little shoots, and dig around the peonies so the crown is exposed. (This'll make them bloom, I guarantee! I, who yearn over flowers but haven't a green finger to my name.)

And it is the time for wobbly calves, those who made it after the tough winter. And tiny lambs . . . that reminds me, I served a lamb roast recently and one of my granddaughters was a bit disturbed. Said she: "I don't think I want to eat my little friends."

oOo

It is the time for shutting up dogs, poor things. I am so sorry for them, though I am sympathetic about the damage they do to expensive shrubs, too. And shrubs are extra expensive this year.

oOo

If you want to see lovely, large, healthy violets, make a stop at the inviting Emanuel Vodelmal farm, just a pleasant distance from Ord. Now the violets are blossoming profusely, and Dola will show you purple ones, white ones, pinky ones, and hybridized combinations of these colors.

She will also show you the thrifty plants that began growing by themselves when she thinned out a fine bed and tossed the leftovers across the fence. Now there is a good-sized patch of white violets, just over the fence, minding itself.

Recently Dola was weeding . . . she's a demon weed puller when an Ord police car paused near her she wondered what it was doing several miles from town. Then she picked up a sack that had landed in the ditch. On investigation, to her surprise she found it contained two endearing little puppies.

But the Vodelmals — pushovers for animals — already had 12 cats and three dogs of different varieties, sizes, plus all the other livestock they raise.

Dola knew Emanuel couldn't be persuaded to adopt anymore, not even the cutest of puppies. She was right. He couldn't. Wouldn't even consider it.

Pretty mad, they called the city police and told them to return and pick up the puppies. A shamefaced patrolman came out for the doggies.

"I know it was wrong to dump them, I hoped they'd find a good home," said he. "And I couldn't bring myself to shoot them as I was supposed to do."

"What's the moral here? Cops have hearts too. Police too break laws. You choose it."

The Scott Report

From The Washington News-Intelligence Syndicate
By Paul Scott

WASHINGTON—President Richard Nixon holds a key ace in the congressional battle over deployment of the anti-ballistic missile (ABM).

House Democratic leaders, who strongly favor deployment of the defensive missile system to protect U.S. offensive missile bases, have turned over to the President an unreleased study prepared for them on the controversy surrounding development of the hydrogen bomb.

As in the case of the ABM, the study shows that an overwhelming majority of the nation's scientific community was vigorously opposed to developing the H-bomb when former President Harry Truman made his fateful decision to build the bomb in the early 1950s.

Significantly, the study stresses that if Truman had followed the advice of these scientists he would have made a fatal mistake. Within 10 months after the President disregarded the opposition and decided to go ahead with the bomb, the Russians exploded their first H-bomb.

Prepared by Rep. Chet Hoffield (D-Calif.) for the House Energy Committee, the study was one of nine members on the Atomic Energy Commission's general advisory committee which considered the H-bomb question for

Helping The President

President Nixon was given these and other still secret details of the study recently when speaker John McCormack (D-Mass.) and House majority leader Carl Albert (D-OKA.) attended an unannounced White House meeting.

Invited for a general discussion of the great domestic and foreign problems facing the nation, McCormack told the President of the Hoffield study and suggested that he use it in his campaign for deployment of the ABM.

In briefing the President on the study, McCormack passed for a few seconds after mentioned that Hoffield had opposed development of the H-bomb. When no one — including the President — broke the silence by making a comment, McCormack then proceeded to read the defense budget section which had led to opposition to the H-bomb. Included were a number now against the ABM.

With the President taking notes, McCormack stressed that in his ABM campaign, Nixon should warn that for this nation to survive today we must be prepared in advance for all eventualities.

"If war should break out today, there would be no time to prepare our defenses," stated McCormack. "Gone are the days when the Atlantic Ocean could be counted on as our first line of defense. Russia's development of intercontinental ballistic missiles and nuclear-powered, missile-firing submarines has ended that defense. The American people must be told that we must prepare now to avoid war. There will be no time later."

Majority leader Albert said he fully agreed with McCormack. He informed the President that private polls indicated House members would overwhelmingly support his decision to deploy the ABM.

"Our tough battle is going to be in the Senate," warned Albert. "Mr. President, you should concentrate on that body."

President Nixon replied that he was planning to do just that and would use the information he had obtained from them in an effort to win over wavering Democratic and Republican senators.

The New Approach

Although it was not discussed at the White House meeting, the President is using a new approach to try to win over Senate opponents of the ABM.

In discussions with these opponents, the President has defined his proposal to go ahead with only two sites this year as "ready a prototype deployment with a kind of research and development."

The President says he can't see how any senator can come out against such a modest program since it is going to pay for the defense budget to the point where it takes funds away from essential work in the trouble great cities of the country. The President also describes his program of seeking funds this year for only two sites as what is needed for a "stand by industrial structure." This modest program, the President argues, will permit full-scale ABM deployment later should this country fail to reach a missile freeze agreement with the Russians.

At last count by White House aides, the President had won over 51 senators — or a majority — for deployment of the ABM. By the time the first vote is taken in the Senate next month, he hopes to increase that margin.

Going to the Moon

In the next three months the U.S. is going to spend $700 million to try to reach the moon.

That is the price tag the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has pinned on the coming moon flights — Apollo 10 (Sunday) and Apollo 11 (Friday).

The estimated cost of each mission is $350 million. By the time the U.S. puts its first astronauts on the moon this year, the cost for the entire program will be $25,595,400,000.

Surprisingly, the expenditure is very close to the range estimated eight years ago by the late President John Kennedy. At

KERRY ON

When I walked into my office Monday evening I wondered, "What will I come up with for a column THIS week?"

God must know I'm a worn out, tired businessman. He always seems to provide me with something when I'm at a loss for words.

Staring back at me from my littered desk was a note from my secretary: "Kerry — 'Twas wondering if this couldn't go into the QUIZ. I think the readers would get a kick out of it!"

The note was signed, "Nancy." "Nancy" is Nancy Krickle, daughter of Joe Krickle Jr. She's a senior at Ord High this year and trying hard to win some scholarships and earn enough to go on to college. Nancy has been doing her own "thing" this year as she edits the State Future Homemakers' small paper, TEEN TALK.

I have no idea where Nancy picked up the following poem, but it's signed, Freeman Lincoln, Sr., Sionish, Wash. So I turn this corner over to Nancy and Mr. Lancaster this week and bow out gracefully.

When I walked into my office Monday evening I wondered, "What will I come up with for a column THIS week?"

God must know I'm a worn out, tired businessman. He always seems to provide me with something when I'm at a loss for words.

Staring back at me from my littered desk was a note from my secretary: "Kerry — 'Twas wondering if this couldn't go into the QUIZ. I think the readers would get a kick out of it!"

The note was signed, "Nancy." "Nancy" is Nancy Krickle, daughter of Joe Krickle Jr. She's a senior at Ord High this year and trying hard to win some scholarships and earn enough to go on to college. Nancy has been doing her own "thing" this year as she edits the State Future Homemakers' small paper, TEEN TALK.

I have no idea where Nancy picked up the following poem, but it's signed, Freeman Lincoln, Sr., Sionish, Wash. So I turn this corner over to Nancy and Mr. Lancaster this week and bow out gracefully.

Graduation Scheduled Tonight for 13 Seniors

By Margaret Zentz
 Baccalaureate services were held at Arcadia High School Sunday evening with Rev. Earl Higgins of the United Methodist Church giving the sermon. The professional and recreational were played by Pam Schmidt with special music — "The Lord's Prayer" — by Anne Jackson.
 Commencement exercises will be this evening (Thursday) at 8 p.m. The 13 seniors will receive their diplomas from Max Staab, Board of Education president.
 David Scott will present the valedictory address and Paula Nash the salutatory. Main speaker will be William Cook, who will be introduced by Supt. Ralph Pluett. Also on the program is a solo by Charles Gould, presentation of the class by Eldon Kieborz, and a number by the senior girls. Reverend Higgins will officiate, with the professional and recreational again being played by Pam Schmidt.

Ramsay Granddaughters Cited
 Mr. and Mrs. J. Ramsay returned home from Lincoln Wednesday after visiting a few days with their son, Bill Ramsay and family. While there they attended Ivy Day ceremonies at the University of Nebraska. Their granddaughter, Patty Ramsay, is a freshman at the university and was a page of the Day Court. Patty is a member of the national scholastic honorary society. Another granddaughter, Barbara Ramsay, was masked as historian of the Morton Board of Selection for that honor is made on the basis of leadership, outstanding scholastic work, and service to the university. Barbara is a junior.

4-H Club Formed
 A group of eight girls met at Arcadia High School Thursday to organize a beginning 4-H club. Mrs. Rollen Sell is the leader and Mrs. Dick Bossen the assistant leader. An election of officers was held with the following selections: president, Cristy Anderson; vice-president, Vicki Anderson; secretary, Marti Erickson; and news reporter, Carla Lewandowski. Their projects will be "Let's Cook" and "Groom Your Room." The next meeting will be May 21 at the Rollen Sell home. For roll call they will present suggestions for a club name.

Hospitalized
 Dr. and Mrs. Frank Christ entered the Valley County Hospital May 5. Among those visiting the Christ Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Weddel, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Babcock, Anna Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mason.

Alumni's Son Honored
 Because of scholastic achievement, David Weddel has been selected as a member of the national junior college honor society — Phi Theta Kappa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Weddel of Everett, Wash., and attends Everett Junior College. He will become a member of the college's Kappa Kappa chapter. David's parents both graduated from Arcadia High School. His mother is the former Marjorie Lowe who made her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ramsay for several years.

In Loup City Hospital
 Mrs. Thelma Drake entered Sacred Heart Hospital at Loup City on Thursday. On Sunday her sons, Keith Drake of Grand Island and Dale Drake of Lincoln, visited her. They also visited Mrs. Rachel Platt and Herman at Arcadia. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fowler of Cairo called too on Mrs. Drake at the hospital and on her mother and brother, Mrs. Platt and Herman, in Arcadia on Sunday.

Blood Clot Removed

Who Has The Truth?
John 14:6 "I am the way, the truth, and the life."
Since Jesus claimed to be truth, let us examine his claim according to Webster's definition of truth. "That which is, has been, or must be." Can we honestly say that Jesus has been, is now and must be in the future???? Yes, for we read in Hebrews 13:8 that "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, and today and forever."

not become confused over it until they try to change the scriptures. When personal interpretation enters in, confusion comes in the same door. It amazes me at the number of Christians and clergymen who run around preaching and teaching that some particular verse of scripture means what they want it to while all the time that interpretation disagrees with the rest of the bible. We don't need man's interpretation of the scriptures. We need man's willingness and faith to accept what it says. The bible means what it says and it says what it means. I am not concerned about what someone thinks or what their personal ideas are about the bible. I WANT TO KNOW WHAT DOES THE BIBLE SAY.

Tired of the tame and the ordinary? Slip into a swinging Cutlass. This one's not excitement, even standing still. Makes you glad it's also got an anti-theft steering column lock, too - to discourage the envious. Turn on the key and you turn on a Rocket 350 V-8 to instant escape - with an action, a ride, and a certain class ordinary cars can't duplicate. It's all part of the Olds extra value that goes far beyond its price. About that price: It's lower than many "low-price" models on the road today. Here's how you slip into something exciting, without tripping on the price tag. Spring fashion plate: OLDS

Board of Education Fails To Jump At Special Meeting on Miller Case

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Assn.
LINCOLN — Another State Board of Education meeting has come and gone without a decision on the fate of Dr. Floyd Miller.

The board met in special session last week and hired an attorney to provide legal guidance as Miller's case is considered, but it made no move to put his continued employment up to a vote.

The regular May meeting is scheduled today (Thursday). Most observers think this session, also, will pass without a vote on what board member Frank Landis of Lincoln calls "the basic issue."

Landis was one of three board members who voted against hiring the attorney. He was joined in dissent by Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff and Norman Otto of Millard.

The eighth member is John Landy of Omaha, author of the controversial letter which predicted Miller's imminent "execution" as state education commissioner. Landy didn't attend last week's special session.

The special meeting originally was scheduled at the request of Mrs. Shepherd who said the Miller case needed to be resolved as soon as possible.

This put Mrs. Shepherd and Landis on the same side for the first time in many months. They both have argued that further delays are disruptive to the state's education programs.

But they have taken different views on Miller. Mrs. Shepherd says he should be fired, and Landis supports him.

Application of Harwood Rice for Commissioner was read.
Moved by Jorgensen, second by Rice to appoint Harwood Rice as Marshall, water, sewer, and street commissioner at salary of $5000 per month, one week paid vacation, one day a week off duty, and one Saturday night a month at city expense.

A representative from the Neighborhood Youth Corp. Mr. Alvin Adams and a representative from the Community Action Agency, Mrs. Vore met with the board to discuss the possibility of hiring six youth under the Neighborhood Youth Corp. These youths would work 26 hours a week at $1.30 an hour from June 2nd thru August 31st, and would be hired to take care of our Swimming Pool, Park, and Community Building.

Applications were handled in from North Loup youths to Mr. Adams who would return at a later date to discuss the matter with Ron Gedrich. Moved by Jorgensen, second by Rice to adjourn. Carried.

Bruckner was hired to serve as special counsel after Attorney General Clarence Meyer said his office might be involved in a conflict of interest if it supports the board in a decision to dismiss the commissioner.

Meyer's office said it has supplied Miller with legal advice over the years, including some relating to actions which some board members feel justifies his ouster.

Originally, it was thought the board was poised to hire Asa Christensen of Lincoln. Christensen had been tapped by Burkhardt, the board president, to begin research after Burkhardt had received the attorney general's authorization to engage counsel.

But Burkhardt and Wagoner said at last week's meeting that the press of his practice forced Christensen to withdraw from the case. Bruckner was recommended and hired.

Simmons also contended that fees for the attorney, which would be paid from the Education Department's budget, would in effect "steal from education programs."

Wagoner and Burkhardt said there was adequate money available. Landy's letter had indicated a majority of the eight-member board was ready to fire Miller last month. Landy, Mrs. Shepherd, Wagoner, and Burkhardt have said publicly they would support such a move.

Landis, Otto, and Simmons have gone on record opposing it. That leaves Wright. He could create the majority or force a tie. He hasn't said how he would vote and has said it would remain a mystery until the vote is cast.

Some observers have said, however, his vote to have Bruckner hired might be a tip on how he will vote when, or if, the Miller drama ever reaches a climax. They said there is no reason for the special counsel, whose job is to show the board how it can dismiss Miller, unless the commissioner is to be fired.

Therefore, they said, unless Wright were willing to support the dismissal effort there would 12th grade instruction and serve at least 1,400 students or encompass 550 square miles. Carpenter's motion to breathe life back into the committee-measure put the committee on record for the first time this session on the incendiary topic of redistricting. They voted 30-10 against restoring L.B. 1342.

The legislature's Education Committee, which thus was sustained on its decision, has advanced two substitute bills to the floor as its answer to the redistricting question. One would prevent new school districts from being formed unless they provide K-12 programs, and the other would make it easier to transfer property from Class I (or elementary-only) districts.

Those bills await consideration on the floor. Carpenter warned the state that the redistricting issue won't end with adjournment of the legislature. He said efforts would be made to put the question on the 1970 ballot.

Cuts, Bruises Result From Auto Crash West of Elyria

A gala night that began with the junior-senior prom ended in near-tragedy early Sunday morning for an 18-year-old Ord High senior.

Spencer Douthit escaped serious injury, but the car he was driving suffered heavy damage when it collided head-on with one driven by Emil Trojan of Comstock. Trojan, 51, suffered face cuts and chest and arm bruises. His car was also damaged heavily.

Douthit had a cut lip, face bruises, and a bruised right knee. A passenger in his car, Mike Finley of Grand Island, suffered head bruises and a cut over the left eye. The three injured persons were taken to the Valley County Hospital for treatment and released.

The accident occurred at approximately 2:30 a.m. Sunday on a country road 3 1/2 miles west of Elyria. Douthit was traveling north, the third of three automobiles in a row, while Trojan was going south. The Trojan auto was reportedly near the center of the road, and Douthit apparently did not see it since he was partially blinded by dust from the other cars.

The Douthit car was owned by George Dvoretak. Trojan has been charged with driving while under the influence of alcoholic liquors. A hearing is scheduled Friday at 10 a.m.

Art Exhibits Planned At Ord High School

The annual exhibit of student work from the Art and Industrial Arts Depts. of Ord High School will be held Monday, May 26, in conjunction with Class Night activities. This exhibit will be held in the art room and will be open to the public both before and after Class Night activities.

The art projects on display will include three-dimensional projects in plaster, wax, paper-mache, wire and wood in addition to drawings, paintings and collages done in a variety of materials — the work of students in grades 9-12. Mrs. Bev Walsh is the Art instructor at Ord High School.

Prize winning projects from the Nebraska Industrial Education Fair held recently in Kearney will also be on display in the boys' gymnasium. The entries include the following: Gary Patska, record cabinet, superior rating; Tom Osborn, bowl, excellent; Tom Swanski, sewing desk, good; Dennis Hnilsky, sewing desk, good; Mark Suminski, hexagon end table, good; Jim Novotny, dresser, good; Gary Valasek, cross bow, white; Roger Cahill, mechanical drawing sheet, good; Jim Andreason, coffee table, honorable mention; Mike Rice, end table, honorable mention; Don Stiger, antique book table, honorable mention.

This is the first time in several years that Ord's Industrial Arts Class entered in the state-wide competition.

Area Students Honored by Colleges For Varied Scholastic Achievements

As the school year draws to a close, reports continue to flow in of honors received by area students attending various colleges and universities.

One of the most significant honors was received May 6 by Larry Christensen, a senior in the College of Agriculture at the University of Nebraska. He was presented the university's Outstanding Agricultural Economics Undergraduate Award. The presentation was made by the school's Agribusiness Club.

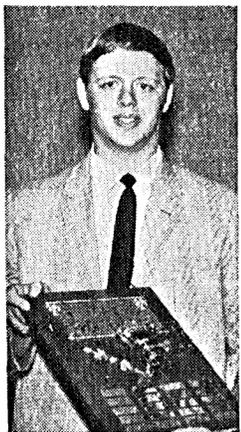

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Christensen of Ord. He was presented a citation and an inscribed plaque, which will hang in the new Agricultural Economics Headquarters building.

Another honor coming Larry's way recently was his initiation into Alpha Zeta, an honorary agricultural society. Also granted membership in this organization was Gene Wray of Scotia.

Larry Christensen's younger brother Lyle also figured in scholastic news recently at the University of Nebraska. Lyle was one of 97 freshmen initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, national scholastic honorary fraternity for first-year men.

Others from this area who were initiated were Bernard Keown of North Loup and Paul Schudel of Scotia.

To qualify for this honor, students must maintain at least a 3.5 grade average (all A's is 4.0)

Larry Christensen Outstanding Undergraduate

while carrying a minimum of 12 hours.

Schudel also earned a spot in the top 10 percent of his class, as did Gary Dale Keep of Scotia. Names of those boys were omitted from a list of "upper 10 percent" students sent out a few weeks ago by the university and printed in the Quiz.

Keep is a junior and was recently elected to two honorary fraternities, Sigma Tau and Tau Sigma Delta.

The girls too have been making scholastic news at the University of Nebraska. Shirley Cook of Arcadia is one of 29 students installed in Omicron Nu, highest ranking society for home economics majors.

Juniors ranking in the upper 10 percent of the class and seniors in the upper 20 percent are eligible for membership in the

J. B. Ferguson Elected To State Elks Position

Attending the state Elks convention in Omaha from Friday through Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill French, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Johnson of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Van Horn of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson.

Ferguson was elected as a trustee of the state association, and was also appointed state committee chairman for the 1969-70 year.

Duane Kovarik Wins State 4-H Award, County Scholarship

Duane Kovarik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kovarik of Ord, received notification this week that he has been selected for an all-expense award trip to Nebraska's 4-H Week. The State award was given to 10 in the State. Duane is entered under the Boys' Record division.

The event to be held at the Nebraska Center for Continued Education in Lincoln, June 3-6, is being sponsored by the Folger's Coffee Co. of Kansas City, Mo.

Planned activities during the four day session included a Hobo Party the evening of June 3, and a tour of Omaha firms on June 4. Duane has chosen to tour the Allied Chemical Co., Control Data Corporation and the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

Duane was also advised through the Valley County Extension Office that he has been provided the one scholarship for this county sponsored for the first time this year by Farmland Industries of Kansas City, Mo. The scholarship will entitle him to attend the Conservation Leadership Camp at Halsey the week of June 16-20.

Local Does Set Pace For Number of Initiates

Ord Does met Wednesday night at the Elks Lodge with four Does from Kearney Drove No. 14 as guests. They were notified that the Ord Drove had the largest number of charter members initiated in any Drove in the United States this year.

The supreme president, Ruby Johnson of Kearney, asked Mary Ferguson, president of the Ord Drove, to bring the greetings from Nebraska at the Grand Lodge Convention in Harlingen, Tex., June 8-12.

Tickets are now on sale for a quilt raffle. The quilt was made by Mrs. Vada Edwards, who is 95 years old. The drawing will be held July 12 and all members of the Ord Drove will be selling tickets. Sally Stevens is chairman of the committee.

Salute to Seniors

Next week's Quiz will be the annual issue recognizing graduating seniors from all three Valley County schools — Ord, North Loup, Scotia, and Arcadia.

There'll be three sections with lots of pictures about various senior activities. Watch for it!

Graduation Set Tuesday For 93 Ord High Pupils

The final countdown has begun for 93 Ord High School seniors who will receive their diplomas Tuesday night.

Saturday's junior-senior prom kicked off the final flurry of activities, which will be climaxed with Tuesday's commencement. It begins at 8 p.m.

Dr. Alan Seagren, who is with the Teacher's College at the University of Nebraska, will be the main speaker on graduation night. He has not revealed the title of his talk.

For other students the big day will be Thursday, when final report cards are handed out and classes dismissed for the year. That will hold true for Ord and Comstock elementary schools as well as the high school.

Baccalaureate is scheduled Sunday at 8 p.m. with Rev. Earl Higgins, minister of the Mira Valley and Arcadia United Methodist Churches, scheduled to speak.

A break in the series of speeches will come Monday when Class Night is held. No formal talks are scheduled; instead, scholarship winners and other students to be honored will be announced.

The final week is not without a certain amount of fun for the grade-school youngsters either. They'll hold their annual picnic Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Kindergarten students and first and second-graders will have their outing Monday, followed the next day by third and fourth-graders, with the fifth and sixth-graders concluding the festivities Wednesday.

All the senior activities will be conducted in the high school auditorium.

Donald Kluthe Salutatorian

Marilyn Fuss Valedictorian

Marilyn Fuss Tops at North Loup-Scotia

Marilyn Fuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Fuss, is the valedictorian of the North Loup-Scotia graduating class of 1969. She has a four-year high school average of 95.4.

Miss Fuss has been active in girls' volleyball, band, mixed chorus, FFA, and speech. She was rated superior in the district speech contest and participated in the interscholastic contest at Kearney State College.

A Regents' Scholarship winner, Miss Fuss is a member of the National Honor Society. She plans to attend Concordia College at Seward.

Donald Kluthe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kluthe, is the class salutatorian with an average grade of 94.8. He is active in athletics and has been class treasurer and president.

A member of the National Honor Society, Kluthe also participated in the Kearney State interscholastic contest. He is an alternate Regents' Scholarship winner and edited the school annual.

He plans to attend the University of Nebraska.

Proposed Postage Hikes Would Affect All Patrons

Details of President Nixon's proposed postage rate increase have been explained by Roland Norman, acting postmaster at Ord.

The change that would affect the greatest number of Loup Valley residents is an increase from 6 to 7 cents in the cost of first-class letters. But other postal users — the second and third-class mailers — will also pay more if the President's recommendations are adopted by Congress.

Norman said the rate increases were considered necessary because of another huge postal deficit projected for fiscal year 1970. If current rates were maintained the deficit would reach $1.2 billion, he quoted Postmaster General Winton Blount as saying. Should Congress approve all the President's recommended changes, the deficit would be cut in half to approximately $600 million.

President Nixon has said that taxpayers will have to make up the entire deficit if none of his proposals are approved.

In addition to an increase in the cost of letter mail, the President has proposed one other boost in first-class fees. He suggests raising the price of "penny" postcards from 5 to 6 cents.

Both the letter and postcard increases should be made effective July 1 this year, the President stated.

No increase is recommended in air mail rates. The cost of sending an air mail letter thus will remain at 10 cents.

The proposed rates for second and third-class mail would increase user costs a total of 16 to 20 percent above today's level, Norman said. However, that percentage includes a previous rate hike already approved by Congress but not yet effective.

Largest percentage increase in these categories would be for second-class mail, where a handling fee totalling three-tenths of a cent per piece would be imposed on mail going outside the county where it was deposited. This would represent a 12 percent increase and would be added to an 8 percent increase scheduled to take effect Jan. 1. President Nixon has asked that the proposed legislation be made effective July 1.

Rates for single-piece third class mail would be boosted one cent per piece under the President's plan. For bulk mail it would be raised from 3.8 cents to 4.2 cents.

Senior class president Steve Wells escorts Connie Peterson into the gaily decorated main ballroom to formally open Saturday night's junior-senior prom. The seniors have a busy week coming up, as they'll attend baccalaureate, Class Night, and commencement on successive evenings.

These third-graders, as well as most other students in the Ord Grade School, left no doubt recently as to who their favorite teacher was. When Miss Inez Swain was surprised with a May Basket full of flowers at the school's Spring Fancies musical program, these students and the rest of the audience gave her a rousing hand. Miss Swain will retire next week after teaching Valley County youngsters for 57 years. A pot-luck testimonial dinner is planned in her honor Saturday at the Ord High School gym. Persons wishing to attend the 6:30 p.m. function have been asked to bring one dish of food and their own table setting. For more pictures of the Spring Fancies, turn to Page 1 of Section 2.

North Loup Notes

Commencement Tonight Will Highlight Final School Activities

By Hannah Sheldon

Thirty-five seniors will graduate from North Loup-Scotia High School at this evening's commencement (Thursday).

The professional will be played by Cynthia Bredthauer with the invocation by Rev. Stanley Rosenau.

Donald Kluthe will give the salutatory speech and will be followed by the speaker of the evening, Dr. Ann Campbell. Dr. Campbell is presently with the Office of Government Services in the Lincoln schools and is a past president of the Nebraska State Education Assn.

A vocal solo by Maris Cox will precede the valedictory speech by Marilyn Fuss and the awarding of scholarships by Supt. Virgil Ferguson. Principal Charles Devine will be in charge of the class presentation and Otto Gebhardt, president of the school board will present diplomas.

Invocation will be followed by Mr. Rosenau will be followed by Cynthia Bredthauer's recessional.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate Services were held Sunday evening at the North Loup-Scotia auditorium. The professional was played by Emily Schudel and the invocation given by Rev. Duane Davis. A vocal solo by Jerry Van Horn preceded the sermon which was given by Rev. Leonard Clark. Antiphony by Nicholas Keller, followed. The benediction was given by Mr. Davis and the recessional by Emily Schudel.

Sneak Day

Sneak Day for North Loup-Scotia seniors was held Monday. They left by bus at 2:30 a.m. and had breakfast enroute to Omaha at a truck stop near Waco. In Omaha they toured Boys Town first and visited the Storz Brewery. The rest of the day was spent shopping. In the evening the class enjoyed a "Ben Hur" on a big screen. The seniors returned safe and very sleepy that evening. Sponsors for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Mory Johnson, who also drove the school buses, Mrs. Leonard Tolson, Mrs. Tom Wallin, and Mrs. Lester Wells.

Last Day

North Loup-Scotia students will pick up their report cards Tuesday morning. Final tests will be given today and tomorrow, with the students off Monday. Buses will run about an hour later than usual Tuesday. The last day for seniors was May 14.

Vietnam Veteran Visits

Chief Warrant Officer Loren Walkup, who has just returned from Vietnam, and family spent some time last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walkup. Loren has been transferred to McPherson Air Force Base in Georgia. He has spent 26 years in the Air Force. His wife and children, Mike and Lori, are moving to North Carolina near the base. They resided in Brighton, Colo., while he was overseas.

To Help at Pool

The interruptions of an average housewife and mother in one day alone can often add up to more than we care to count. A detailed account of "How To Bake A Cake" tells the story exactly and should be appreciated by all mothers.

You'll need: 5 cups finely sliced and packed rhubarb; 1/2 lb. orange slice candy (gumdrops) cut up fine; 3 c. sugar; 1 3-oz. package raspberry jello; Combine rhubarb, sugar and candy and let stand overnight in refrigerator.

In the few short weeks that the Frank Deckers sugar lived in Ord, Betty and I have had fun comparing and exchanging writings — some of the serious nature and others with a lighter air. Here's a recipe for "Cowboy coffee."

Card of Thanks

Words cannot express my grateful thanks to all my friends, neighbors, and relatives for cards, letters, flowers and food while I was in the hospital in Omaha and now at home. Your many kindnesses and visits are greatly appreciated. Thank you all so much.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends, neighbors and relatives for their prayers, flowers, cards, food and visits, given during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. We are deeply grateful to the church ladies who served the dinner, to the staff at Community Memorial Hospital, Dr. Crain, also the nurses and aids. We especially want to thank Rev. Robert Diterline, the singers, organist and pallbearers, and to all who helped in the home. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank Dr. Markley and the nursing staff for the excellent care received while in the hospital. Thanks to Rev. Davis for his visits and to everyone who sent cards, flowers and gifts. It was greatly appreciated.

Card of Thanks

Thank you to all our friends and relatives who called and sent cards and letters while I was in the hospital in Omaha. A special thank you goes to our parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Plate, for caring for our girls.

Card of Thanks

On our anniversary, and since that time, we have received about 200 beautiful cards. It is our desire to make it known to all who remembered us that these expressions were very much enjoyed and sincerely appreciated.

Three Chants Earn State Meet Berths

Three Ord athletes have earned the right to top off their high school careers in style — with an appearance at this weekend's state track meet. The three qualified for the Kearney competition by finishing high in their district meet last week at Norfolk. They are Dennis Cetak, Roger Cahill and Steve Wells.

Dennis Cetak will lead the Ord contingent to Kearney. He qualified in both the shot put and discus, finishing first in both.

Other local contestants will be Roger Cahill and Steve Wells. Cahill won the mile while Wells finished third in the discus. The top three finishers in individual events and the two best relay teams qualified for state.

Bruce Humbert, Wells, and Carl Suminski built up a six-yard lead before the baton was passed to Bill Miller. But Miller could not hold the advantage and wound up third behind Albion and Madison anchor men.

No Sprinters
"Albion and Madison each had a real fine sprinter," Coach Williams stated. (Chris Nelson won the 220-yard dash for Albion, and Jim Brom of Madison was second. They reversed positions in the hundred.)
"We just didn't have anybody who could compare with them," Williams continued. "Miller is not really a sprinter — he just runs on guts."
As it was, the Chanticleer foursome had a clocking of 1:37.3, three-tenths of a second over Madison.

Also disappointing was Ord's finish in the mile relay. In that race the Chants won their heat but finished fourth as placings were made on a time basis. "I think we might have qualified if we'd been in the other heat where the faster teams were," Coach Williams stated. "We had no competition where we were."
Making his first appearance with the relay team was Paul Markley, one of three freshmen promoted to the varsity after the junior high season ended. He ran a very respectable 56 seconds flat on his leg. That was second only to his brother Tim, who's a senior. The elder Markley had a 53.5.
Cahill's anchor leg was what hurt the Chants. Had he equalled the 54.8 he ran the previous week in the Central 10 Conference meet, the Ord quartet would have tied Madison for second. Instead, Cahill had a 56.7.

Most Action Saturday
Cetak won the shot put with a toss of 48 feet, 11 inches, and the discus with a throw of 137-11. Both were considerably below his season best, and they were also the lowest winning throws in any Class B district this year.

Heading the shot field at Kearney will be Kirk Yentes of Holdrege, who got out to 58-3/4 in his district meet. Carl Abeto of Seward has a toss of 57-3/4, and Gene Harmon of Schuyler a throw of 57-2/4. They rate 1-2-3 in state rankings in this year. Also in the top 10 is Kevin Kelly of Broken Bow, who has reached 55-1/2. Cetak's best is 52-1/4.

The discus field is headed by Dave Drevco of Crete, whose 168-6 1/2 is second best in the state this spring. Jerry Slater of Holdrege and Jack Lawler of Cozad have gone 164 3/4, while Yentes has 164.2 throw. Cetak's best here is 147.4, while Wells shows a top throw of 139 3/4.

Cetak will be in action both Friday and Saturday, while his two teammates will compete only on Saturday. He will throw the shot starting at 1 p.m. Friday, and he and Wells will chuck the discus beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday. There'll be no preliminaries in the mile, with the finals scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

Albion qualified the most men for state from the Norfolk district with seven individual places and two relay teams. Madison had six individuals and two relay teams. Ainsworth five individuals, Bloomfield, Ord, and Wayne four individuals (Cetak counts as two since he qualified in two events); Pierce three individuals and one relay team; Hartington Cedar Catholic two individuals and one relay team; Laurel two individuals; and Neligh and West Point Central Catholic one individual each.

Highlight of the all-day meet was the state's eighth best 440-yard dash this year. It was run by Tim Roewert of Fullerton, who was clocked in 50.3 seconds. Just a junior, Roewert was pushed to his fine effort by Bob Anderson of Sargent, who finished second with a 51.1 clocking.

Weather was good although quite windy.

A couple of Loup Valley performers — Chuck Wegner of North Loup-Scotia and John Green of Sargent — were the only double winners.

Chant Linksmen Finish Ninth In District Play

There'll be no state meet this year for the Ord High golf team, which finished ninth in a field of 14 Monday in district play at Norfolk.

Last year the Chantleifers were third and garnered the last spot in the state meet, but this time they were off their form and finished 27 strokes behind the winner.

The other two district teams that went to state last year—Wayne and Hartington Cedar Catholic—will be back again. But they traded positions in the district qualifications, Cedar Catholic winning first this year and defending champion Wayne taking second. Cedar Catholic had a three-man total of 248 with Wayne five strokes back.

Moving in to grab the third-place spot won by Ord last year was Albion, which had a 257 total.

Greg Martin and Dave Wolf were low men for Ord, each carding a 90. Dan Chichester had a 96 and Dick Janda a 93. Janda's score was thrown out in figuring team totals since only the three low men count.

All except Janda will be back to aid the Ord cause next year.

The final team standings: (1) Hartington Cedar Catholic, 243; (2) Wayne, 253; (3) Albion, 257; (4) Ainsworth, 259; (5) Laurel, 262; (6) Norfolk Catholic, 267; (7) O'Neill, 268; (8) Plainview, 270; (9) Ord, 275; (10) The between Pierce and Wakefield, 292; (11) Nelish, 284; (12) Hartington, 288; (13) Bloomfield, 297.

The meet was originally scheduled for Friday but was postponed because of wet grounds.

Mrs. Grace Leach had dinner with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leach on Mother's Day.

Students Will Attend Chadron Music Clinic

Four music students from Ord High School are recipients of special awards entitling them to a room, and tuition for one week at Chadron Teacher's College. They are Spencer Douthit, Dennis Cetak, and Jan Koelling, seniors, and Sonja Swanck, a junior.

During the week which begins with registration on June 1, Douthit will concentrate on vocal study; Cetak will work in vocal and band areas; and the girls will participate in vocal, band, and dance band clinics.

This will be the third year Sonja has been awarded the scholarship.

JC-Ettes Plan Ahead

New officers of the Ord JC-Ettes met May 13 with their president, Mrs. Iris Mulligan, to plan projects for the year. Other members of the board include Mrs. Barbara Andersen, vice-president; Mrs. Linda Cetak, secretary; Mrs. Doreta Petska, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Ray, scrapbook chairman; Mrs. Kathy Bollersen, past president; and Mrs. Delores Sich, state vice-president.

A state project in which the local chapter will be participating is the sending of gifts—stuffed toys, bibs, and booties—to the Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha. Anyone who has items to donate may call a member of the JC-Ettes.

A party celebrating the 25th birthday of Dennis Ringlein was held at the Cletus Ringleins on May 20. Guests helping celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Decker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Ringlein and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ringlein and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Powers of St. Paul.

Mrs. Dick Trutter of Fargo, N. D. visited her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fuss, from Saturday through Tuesday. Then she went to Lincoln to spend a day with her sister, Mrs. Ellen June Mullins, and family before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sevenker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sevenker and Christine, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Coufal, Linda Hanson, and Floyd Max, Leary, and Gary Whiting enjoyed supper Saturday evening at the Veterans Club in Ord.

Attending the funeral of James L. Pruden at Ewing Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Vlad Babka, Mr. and Mrs. James Meese, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Woods. Mr. Pruden was a long-time buyer of hogs at the Ord Livestock Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Rocheford of Omaha arrived for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novak, Sr. on Monday. Mrs. Rocheford and Mrs. Novak are cousins. Joining them for supper on Monday evening were the Eugene Novak family. The Rochefords will visit until Thursday.

Mrs. John Koll and Mrs. Nellie Loomis of Newton, Kan., returned recently from a 10-day stay in Garden Grove, Calif. Funeral services for their mother, Mrs. Agnes B. Brechbill, were held May 9 in Gardena, Calif.

Weekend guests of the Marshall Nelsons were Mrs. Kathleen Eastman and son Billy of Rosbud, S. D. They drove to Bartlett Sunday where they attended the Sonny Buhlman Rodeo with Mr. and Mrs. Vic Plugge. That evening all were lunch guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Plugge in Bartlett.

LP-Gas Finds New Home In Industry

LP-Gas, long a preferred fuel for home appliances and heating systems, has found a new use... as a fuel for industrial standby. By having an LP-Gas bulk tank, a plant or factory can take advantage of the economy provided by interruptible natural gas service rates. Then, when service is interrupted in extremely cold weather because of heavy home heating demand, the switchover to LP-Gas is fast, simple. (LP-Gas behaves exactly like natural gas.) Only a flip of a switch is needed for complete changeover. Complete information on LP-Gas for industry is available from LP-Gas dealers.

LP-Gas is piped directly to this area by a division of MAPCO—the Mid-America Pipeline System—the underground highway weather can't block.

Mothers Will Train For Camping Duties

A training session will be held Friday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. for mothers who will be helping with the Girl Scout Day Camp planned for June 9-13.

According to camp director, Mrs. Robert Sich, the session will also be conducted for the benefit of those from the Bethel Baptist Church who are making plans for their summer camping activities scheduled the same week.

The training will be held at the Veterans Grounds — regardless of the weather.

Memorial Fund Started For Our Lady Church

The two study clubs — Mother Cabrini and St. Anne's — have recently established a memorial fund at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Ord. Donations in any amount will be appreciated.

The memorial fund drive was introduced at a recent meeting of the two clubs, and as a kickoff to the drive each of the groups gave a contribution.

Mrs. Doris Savage Joins Quiz Family

The newest addition to the Ord Quiz staff is Mrs. Doris Savage who began work Monday morning as a news reporter. Doris is well acquainted in this community and formerly was employed in the Quiz news department in 1957.

The Quiz society telephone number remains the same 728-3262 and Mrs. Savage will appreciate your cooperation.

Fun for Kim

The celebrating of Kim Carson's 10th birthday continued in the Duane Carson household for three days during the past week. On Saturday Kim had Marcia Sears as her guest during the afternoon and for pizza at suppertime. The fun continued on Sunday when the Carsons and other relatives attended an IGA meeting in Lincoln, taking time out to tour Morrill Hall and other places of interest in the Capital City. Finally on Monday—Kim's birthday—the occasion was observed once more as relatives and friends gathered at the family home in the evening to share a clever kittens-shaped birthday cake and ice cream. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Carson, Mrs. Fernie Carson, Vere Carson, Bill Meese and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schmitt and Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Rocheford of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novak were visitors in the Eugene Novak home Tuesday. Also visiting in the Novak home overnight was Mrs. Mry Jorgensen, mother of Mrs. Eugene Novak. In the afternoon Mrs. Jorgensen and Mrs. Eugene Novak visited Mrs. Anna Holmes in the hospital. Mrs. Jorgensen returned to her home at Parkview Village Wednesday.

Whitings Note 25th

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Whiting of North Loup celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Saturday with an open house reception, held at the North Loup Community Building in the afternoon followed by a dance in the evening. Music was furnished by Rollie's Combo.

Mr. and Mrs. Whiting were married by Rev. Walter Grant-ham of Horace. Their attendants were Darlene Whiting and James Jensen. Mr. Jensen was present at the reception.

The Whitings have six children. All were present for the festivities Saturday. They are Floyd of Scotia, Max of Omaha, Mary Sevener of Omaha, Kan., Gary of Concord, Larry of North Loup, and Grace Coufal of Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Toogood were hosts for the reception. Mrs. Max Klingensmith presided at the guest book. Mrs. Glen Cochran poured punch, Mrs. John Farrell poured coffee, and Mrs. Derwin White cut the cake. Mrs. Leroy Hansen and Mrs. Ross Williams took care of the gifts.

Betty and Barbara Smith and Barbara Wright were in charge of kitchen duties.

Mother's Day Surprise

Mrs. Katie Palser was pleasantly surprised to have several relatives call unexpectedly at the Valley County Hospital on Mother's Day to extend special wishes. The Klingensmiths visited Mrs. Stella Kerr during the afternoon. They included Mrs. Grace Palser of Loup City, Mrs. Carl Lewandowski and small children of Arcadia; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Kerr and family of Hastings.

Mrs. Palser entertained her grandchildren and great-grandchildren for about an hour in the dining area at the Long-Term wing. It was the first time they had together for sometime.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palser and son Dean of Central City were visitors of Mrs. Palser and Mrs. Kerr.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Novosad were hosts at breakfast at St. Mary's Sunday in honor of Mark's First Holy Communion. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Novosad, Sr., Emma Novosad, Mrs. Bill Novosad, Carolyn and Jane, Mrs. Bob Severson, Dick and Susan, Mrs. Bill Vogelger and Darly, and Mark's brothers and sisters. Joining the group later for dinner at the Novosad home were Wm. Novosad, Sr., Bob Severson and Alice Dunlap.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Stoddard drove to Grand Island Sunday evening to attend the high school baccalaureate services which honored their granddaughter, Debbie Stoddard, and classmates. Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stoddard of Grand Island.

Bethel Baptist Women Host Afternoon Tea

A Christian Women's Tea held at the Bethel Baptist Church was well attended Friday afternoon in spite of rainy weather. More than 60 ladies gathered in the church fellowship room for an inspiring time of planned entertainment.

As the guests were served salad and coffee from an attractively decorated refreshment table, Mrs. Gerald Green presented an array of piano selections.

Featured on the afternoon program was Mrs. Lois Dimmitt of Lois' Floral Shop in Burwell, who led an interesting demonstration on floral arranging by sharing helpful hints of how similar bouquets could be created with garden flowers. She was assisted by Mrs. Carol Miller, also of Burwell.

Turning back to the musical side of the program, Mrs. Green then presented an accordion solo after which Mrs. Don Wright, Mrs. Joyce Grantham, and Mrs. Ken Taylor sang as a vocal trio. Mrs. Ken Christensen of St. Paul put the audience in a more serious mood with her words of assurance at the program's end.

Mrs. Christensen, who plans to go to Mexico with her family this summer to serve as a missionary, said that "as a woman can make a home in any place, God also can make himself a home in any heart."

Mrs. Taylor acted as mistress of ceremonies during the afternoon. Special door prizes were received by Mrs. Agnes Dodge of Ord and Mrs. Gladys Cooper of Arcadia. Remembrance gifts were given to guests with "flower" names.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Meier (she is the former Charlotte Blessing) of Los Angeles, Calif., are visiting Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing. While visiting in this part of the country, Dr. and Mrs. Meier attended the graduation of their daughter Patti from Colorado Women's College at Denver. They arrived in Ord Sunday evening and will return home Thursday.

Chuck Wegner, left, was first in shot and Gordy Khyrn fifth for North Loup-Scotia.

Little Leaguers Will Sign Up Today

Little League baseball players will be registered this evening (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. on the small diamond at Bussell Park.

Ord will field a north and a south team in the Loup Valley Little League this year. Boys living north and east of L Street will be assigned to the north team, and those south and west of that line to the south team.

Play will be held each Tuesday from June 10 through July 22. Fee Wees will play for three innings beginning at 6:30 p.m. with the Ponies following immediately. The latter will play five-inning contests.

Other teams in the league are Arcadia, Burwell, Comstock, North Loup-Scotia, and Sandflats.

Golfing Minister Gets Hole-in-One

May 13 wasn't so unlucky for Elyria's favorite priest, while playing golf at the Broken Bow Country Club, Father Al Godlawski of Elyria was counseled by Father Joe Szyral of Sargent to use a 9-iron. Heeding the advice, Father Godlawski lofted a shot on the seventh hole that bounced about a foot before the green, took one beautiful hop, and rolled safely into the hole.

Two other priests, Monsignor Raymond Milas of Kearney and Father Marcelus Lell of Broken Bow, festivity to the feat. When asked how he felt about the shot, the jubilant priest from Elyria said, "I felt like I had won the Kentucky Derby or a free trip to Hawaii."

Friday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Novak were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Svoboda, Sr. and Linda of Burwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novak.

THE Ord Quiz

Estab. April, 1882. Ord, Nebr., Thurs., May 22, 1969. Vol. 88, No. 11. 3 Sects.

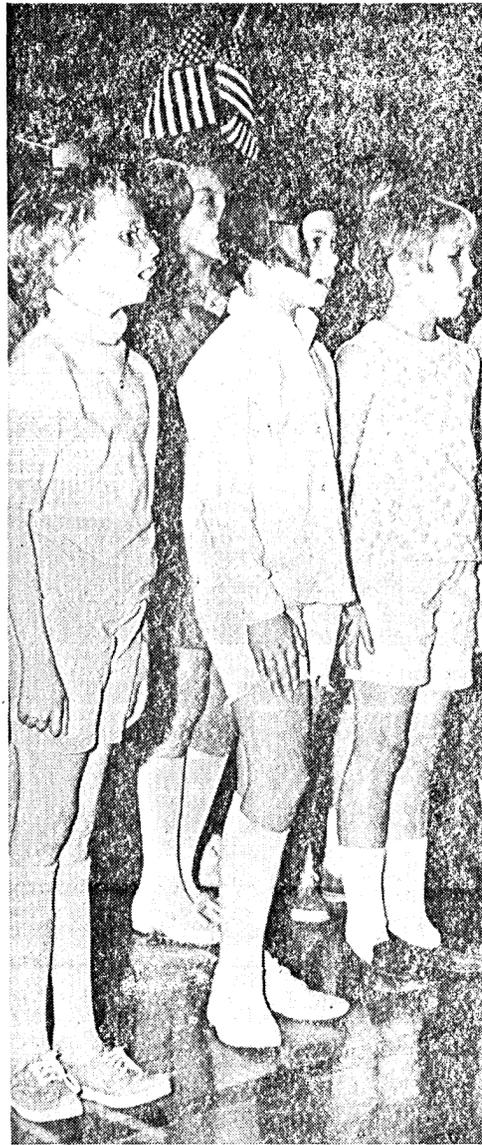

"Quack-quack," sang the first-graders in one of their numbers at the recent Spring Fancies musical program. Directed by Mrs. Kermit Erickson, the program featured pupils from all six grades of the Ord Elementary school. A few high school students also presented special numbers. As part of a song entitled "Six Little Ducks," the three first-graders above show how the quack-quack sound is made. Left to right are Marcia Mason, Lori Rainforth, and Dorolhea Janicek.

A busy bee, Renae Nckuda, buzzes around Jenny Misko and is told quite firmly to keep her distance. The scene is from the third-grade production of "Summer Day."

From the sixth grade here's Cindy Rosentz, Sherry Grove, and Eileen Hlavinka singing "Go Down Moses."

Not likely to win any Kentucky Derby is this strange-looking horse which Gene Boettcher is putting through its paces. In the background his fifth-grade classmates pour forth with a rousing rendition of "I Found a Horseshoe."

Another fifth-grade presentation was "Gypsy King," complete with campfire.

The livin' is easy and the fishin' slow for these sleepy second-graders, whose classmates are singing "Fisherman."

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

—going up—
Outside of public restrooms, name one place where you feel more self-conscious than an elevator.

Elevators have given rise to conformity faster than any other single mechanism in the world today.

The non-conformist can have a holiday on any elevator. Take —for example—the fellow that waited until the elevator was full, then pushed in just before the door went shut and FACED the crowd.

“Now that I have you all together,” he said, “I suppose you’re wondering why I called this meeting.”

Try that for a laugh some time!

While I was in college I had a friend we nicknamed “Crazy.” (I understand he now works as a broker for Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.) The reason for the nickname was obvious if you’d have known him—he’d do anything, anytime, anywhere. One of Crazy’s habits was to break out in song wherever he happened to be and whenever the urge overcame him.

One day several of us had entered an elevator in a downtown Lincoln store. As the door closed the calm was broken by Crazy’s wordless singing, “tu . . . tu . . . tu-tu-da-tu . . .”

The elevator stopped abruptly. “Second floor,” the operator said.

No one budged as we were all headed for three.

“Now listen,” the operator said sharply. “Someone said, ‘Two!’”

“That was just Crazy,” someone tried to explain to the operator. But we could see it was fruitless offering any explanation whatsoever. So we all exited on the second floor and took the stairs the rest of the way.

Then, too, elevators offer the non-conformist a chance at “people.” One of my favorite stories is that of the elevator filled with grumpy office workers at 9 a.m. on a gloomy Monday morning.

As the car started up, the elevator man began humming and dancing a little jig.

“You seem to be happy to-day,” said one of the passengers glumly.

“Yes, sir,” was the reply. “I ain’t never lived this day before.”

How about it? Do elevators give YOU a lift?

A Reasonable Request

From Washington Exclusive

There is growing feeling in the nation's Capital that the latest in the long chain of events known as the "Otepka Case" is no more than a political game.

Otto Otepka was dismissed from his State Department security evaluation post for giving information to a legally constituted committee in the U.S. Senate.

No one to our knowledge has ever questioned the validity of his testimony. In fact, he was reinstated at the State Department by Dean Rusk, but assigned to a lower position. Rather than accept the new assignment, Otepka decided to fight for complete vindication.

President Richard Nixon has now appointed Mr. Otepka to a post on the Subversive Activities Control Board, which has become an active unit rather than the ghost board it has been in the past. Attorney General John Mitchell is expected to utilize the board in his investigation of operations by radicals on the nation's campuses.

Four U.S. senators, including Ted Kennedy, have announced that they want an investigation concerning the source of funds for Otepka's legal defense during his long fight for reinstatement, the stated purpose being to ascertain whether or not members of the John Birch Society contributed to the fund.

There are murmurings and veiled allegations in connection with the Birch groups, but so far no specific charges. It appears to be a sort of McCarthyism in reverse.

We do not know what the true facts may be, but we are tired of charges and countercharges involving the Birch Society. Why doesn't the Senate grant the request of Birch leader Robert Welch and investigate this organization once and for all?

This is the only way to clear the air and allow us to get down to serious business.

(For more on the Otepka case, see today's "Scott Report" elsewhere on this page.)

Something Different

Why Go to the Hospital?

Whenever I don't have a subject for "Something Different," I can always check into a hospital and reveal to you the startling new facets of life therein.

So last week I went to Hastings to do just that. No place to park my car, no place to park my car. I drove around and around — yes, I know they're building a new hospital, but I was trying to check into the old one.

Admitted. Of all the silly questions: What was my father's name? What do you care? He's long gone.

Passed from hand to hand and floor to floor, I end up in 316 — the end of the hall. Lots of early sunshine. Goody.

Numberless little aides helping me to bed, eagerly getting in one another's way. Guess what? They took all my clothes (that suit just came from the cleaners!), dumped them in a sack, and took them to a central filing area. That's one way to be sure I pay my bill, I will say.

The slim young nurses started working on my bed. Soon it looked like a metal trellis house for the garden. They just kept screwing on one more steel bar, stringing on trapezes, cinching ropes overhead, and foot too.

It seems this is the way you are put in traction.

Traction — I think that's like in that Greek myth where travellers were put to bed, then stretched opposite ways — feet one way and arms the other (to make them taller). It wasn't Prometheus, but who was the villain?

Traction — I think that's like in that Greek myth where travellers were put to bed, then stretched opposite ways — feet one way and arms the other (to make them taller). It wasn't Prometheus, but who was the villain?

Anyway, the next thing you know, before you could say Mary Lanning Hospital, my right foot and side were all cinched up, stretched out, and a stack of weights hung over the end of the bed — from my ankle, while my knee was high up in a sling, with pillows under it. Crazy, crazy. And hurt-y, hurt-y. And tight too.

Well, things just kept happening. The bloodmobile must have needed a handout, and I was right there with a bottle of good red blood. No, not blue. A nice rich red. So they came back for more. (How would I manage to leave the hospital without all that blood?)

Pills I got. Little bitty red ones. Big white ones, even middle-sized ones. I began to see the world was fuzzy.

They kept bringing me stuff, like water. And I was to be on put-and-take, or income and outgo, account for every drop. What does this have to do with a pain in my hip, please Dr. Yost?

Well, after they got me installed in this high bed, they asked me slugs of questions. Some I thought were very intelligent, like, "Have you had your supper?" No.

Every 30 minutes another pretty little aide would pop her head around the corner and inquire, "Did you get anything to eat yet?"

I always answered NO, but that didn't seem to get me; any food. Another agreeable miss would stop in, open my window (the last one had just shut it) and ask, "You ate, didn't you?" This game went on for about two hours, until I began to suspect my doctor had plotted it.

Meantime I enjoyed the life around me. Two ranchers next door were grieving at the late spring start their hospital stay was causing.

"I ain't bought any young stuff yet." All night long they were likely to discuss this crisis again and again.

Outside they had a tornado, so they said. But it didn't bother me. I just watched the heavy clouds hurry and the trees whip wildly. I knew it would take more than a tornado to jerk me out of my bed of traction.

Fellers Have No Trouble Getting to Point— They Conclude Most Folks Are Confused

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Frank Zadina brung a newspaper clipping to the session Saturday night. It was about this new Michigan law that says words like "jumbo pint" and "giant quart" can't be used on jugs, jars, bottles, or cartons.

The law, Frank allowed, is saying there is only one kind of pint and quart and there can't be more or less.

Frank told the fellers he was strong for the law, but he was worried that folks in this country would need that kind of legislation. We have got to the place where we can't say what we mean, Frank allowed, so we use words that cover up what we say.

For instance, Frank said he had seen where the National School Public Relations Assoc. warns against calling a youngun dumb. It suggests instead, "he is capable of doing better."

If a student is selfish, just say "Richard shares with others." And if he lies, you explain to his ma and pa that he "has a tendency to stretch the truth." A youngun that cheats "depends on others to do his work."

Frank said he is in favor of calling a spade a shovel. One of the big problems in this country, he allowed, is that the government speaks one language and the people another.

Some time back, a government worker was fired cause the Federal Aviation Administration said he couldn't communicate. The feller sued and got his job back. The court ruled he hadn't been given a chance to learn how to communicate by taking the FAA writing course.

Frank allowed he ain't heard any more about that feller, but he figures he is somewhere writing in FAA to people that read English. He is telling them their requests have been given "maximum deliberation with optimal consideration" declared Frank, and they never know the FAA is thinking about their requests but doing nothing.

Rudolph John full agreed, and he thanked Frank fer getting readin' and writin' on the agenda. The only government agencies that write clear are them that write to folks who already have the message, said Rudy.

For instance, he had seen where this OEO legal aid outfit in California put out a book of instructions for people wanting welfare. The book said, "If you don't want to work, welfare cannot force you to work."

Personally, Mister Editor, I know you like to use the best word clear as you can.

You can find to inform folks as I recollect it was you that said once a good rule fer writing is the same as fer carpentering — measure twice and saw once.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

When You And I Were Young

(Items from files of The Ord Quiz of Years Ago)

10 Years Ago
Patricia Kay Tuma, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tuma of Cotesfield, was killed instantly when she was crushed by a pickup truck.

Announcement was made that George Todsden and two sons would operate the Chevrolet-Buick garage in Ord.

Al Blessing won the Ord Open golf championship here with a smoking three-round total of 88 — 11 under par.

20 Years Ago
Bonnie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mitchell, became the bride of Bohumil Conner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conner.

The tavern belonging to Ralph Zukoski at Elyria was robbed, and among the items taken was a large jar full of pennies, an odd dime that had been left in the cash register, $7 in bills that had been laid away, cigarettes, candy, and a case of beer.

Plans were being made for dedication of the new parsonage belonging to the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Welker of Cotesfield celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by holding open house at the E.U.B. Church there.

30 Years Ago
The Ord Ice Cream Parlor was open for business in the north half of the Keown building. The business was owned by Irene Welker with Robin Hardy as manager.

Mrs. Marie Janda, wife of Charles Janda who lived northeast of Ord, died at the Methodist Hospital in Omaha.

A new business began operation at the Ord Cold Storage Plant as Frank Piskorski, in cooperation with G. W. Wagner of Hastings, began manufacturing ice cream. Much equipment was bought by Piskorski and Wagner, and the plant had a capacity of 600 gallons per day. All different flavors of ice cream were made.

E. O. "Swede" Carlson, assistant buttermaker at the Ord Creamery, was badly burned when he attempted to pour a pail of paraffine into the furnace and it exploded, showering him with flaming oil.

Rural Route 3 was to be lengthened by 10 miles after July 1. Ord Postmaster Edwin Clements announced.

The first vacation church school to be held in Ord opened at the grade school building under the direction of Mrs. May Toussley.

A $2 million telephone company was organized at Columbus and was to be known as the Nebraska Centennial Telephone Co. The firm's main office was at Columbus.

Draft

President Nixon last week sent a message to Congress recommending substantial changes in the Selective Service System. His proposals are constructive and make a great deal of sense.

Major changes recommended by the President are as follows:

- Change from "oldest first" to a "youngest first" order of call.
- The prime group of men to be called would be 19-year-olds. A young man who receives a deferment to attend college would be considered in the 19 age group upon completion of his college work. By calling the youngest first, a young man could plan his life much more intelligently — and he would be primarily vulnerable to the draft for only one year rather than for seven years as at present.
- A random selection system would be followed on the call-up of 19-year-olds. Each of the dates for the 365 days in a year would be placed in a box and then drawn at random. Those whose birthdays fall on the first date drawn would be called first, and so on down the line.
- Once a person's place in the sequence were determined, that assignment would never change. If he were granted a deferment or exemption to attend college or for some other reason, he would re-enter the prime age group at the time the deferment expired — taking the same place in the sequence that he was originally assigned.

1970 Census

Congressional hearings are currently going on in regard to the 1970 census.

Due to severe criticism about the long list of questions originally proposed, some of which are personal, Secretary of Commerce Stans has announced that the form will be reduced to only 23 questions.

Sixty-six were originally scheduled.

The questions addressed to a cross-section of approximately 3 million people in the country, rather than each individual.

Farm Labor

Hearings recently began before the Senate's Labor and Public Welfare Sub-committee of Labor on a bill which would guarantee to agricultural employees the right to organize and join labor unions, bargain collectively, and strike.

This would be an amendment to the Taft-Hartley Law, as the present law prohibits this action by agricultural workers.

The Scott Report

From The Washington News-Intelligence Syndicate
By Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration's urgent need for an Otto Otepka (the State Department's former top security evaluator) is clearly indicated by the appointment of Alfred Puhani as United States ambassador to Hungary.

The selection of Puhani, who was confirmed by the Senate this month without debate, was made by the President at the same time the Federal Bureau of Investigation was turning over to the State Department some very shocking information concerning Puhani's foreign policy activities.

When Otepka — whose appointment as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board is now pending before the Senate — was in charge of security evaluation for State Department personnel, information such as this was given the President before he made an appointment.

The information on Puhani was gathered by the FBI while the new ambassador was acting as deputy assistant secretary of State for European affairs, director of the Office of German Affairs, chief of the Berlin section in the Office of German Affairs, and an employee of the United States Information Service. However, none of it was ever shown to the President or members of the Senate before they routinely confirmed the controversial foreign service officer.

During his appearance before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Puhani was questioned only briefly by Chairman J. William Fulbright during a hearing at which the committee considered several State Department appointments.

Fulbright questioned Puhani about the status of Josef Cardinal Mindenty, a refugee in the American Embassy at Budapest since the abortive 1956 Hungarian uprising. Another committee member inquired about Puhani's tour of duty in Thailand.

"At one point in the hearing, Fulbright asked Puhani to review the Mindenty case after taking over his Iron Curtain assignment and make a report directly to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee."

Puhani agreed that this would be his first order of business if the Senate confirmed his nomination and activities are as follows:

The Puhani Record

Because of the strategic importance of the American Embassy in Budapest, considered one of the key U.S. listening posts in Eastern Europe, this column has decided to reveal highlights of sworn statements gathered by the FBI in its investigation of Puhani.

The investigative file, turned over to the State Department, contained numerous statements from co-workers dating back to Puhani's employment in the U.S. Information Service. Many of these statements charged that Puhani was pro-Soviet and had eliminated criticism of Communist countries from the agency's news reports.

One statement charged that Puhani had consistently used his official position to erode, weaken, and adversely modify the institutions, policies, mechanism, and legal structures erected to shore up the U.S. position in Central Europe and Berlin.

Illustrative examples of Puhani's questionable policy judgment:

On several occasions within the past year, Puhani provided inaccurate information to senior State Department officers, including then Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In at least two instances the information related to Soviet intentions in Europe and, if accepted by State Department policy makers, could have greatly aided Russia.

Puhani vigorously opposed making an Air Force plane available to West German Chancellor Kiesinger on June 13, 1968, for a flight to West Berlin. At that time West Germany needed such a public display of U.S. support because East Germany had begun harassing travel to the beleaguered city.

Questionable Advice

State Department records clearly show that Puhani opposed constructive efforts to improve the U.S. posture in Berlin in a number of ways, including the standardization of U.S., French, and British documents.

Despite Puhani's opposition, the standardization was approved by the Berlin Task Force, an inter-departmental group that coordinated U.S. policy for Berlin. This policy was later agreed to by our allies.

Enraged at being overruled, Puhani then tried unsuccessfully to abolish the Berlin Task Force of which he served first as secretary and then director. It was this group of Berlin experts that coordinated U.S. policy during President Nixon's highly successful visit to Berlin on Feb. 27.

Another Berlin Incident

Latvian youth group. The young people were scheduled to hold a meeting in the German city which serves as an island of freedom in a Communist sea.

This is only part of the FBI information that was not made available to the President or members of the Senate before they voted earlier this month to confirm Puhani's nomination as U.S. Ambassador to Hungary.

Had Otto Otepka been in the State Department, the story would undoubtedly have been different. The Puhani case was one of those he had listed for evaluation at the time high-level State Department officials removed him from his security post.

WHOSE ZOO? When a man howls, screams, babbles, makes faces, and assumes threatening poses, according to a UPI story, his cousinship with the monkeys and apes is manifesting itself. This suggests that there's no particular need to visit the zoo. Just drop in on your nearest embattled campus.

A scene of thoughtlessness multiplied.

Meeting With Danette

The May 13 meeting of the Clever Cuties 4-H Club was held at Danette Nolte's home. Ann Zlomke, president, opened the meeting in the usual way with the group saying the two pledges followed by a song, "Beautiful Nebraska."

All members were present. They answered roll call by telling their progress in the sewing project. Mrs. Kerry Leggett was a guest.

After the meeting the girls played an outdoor game led by Shannon Grove, recreation leader. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

GONE ARE THE DAYS WHEN A WOMAN'S HOME WAS NEAR THE RANGE.

THE '69 GAS RANGES ARE HERE.

If your lament is "Oh, give me a home away from the range," then you need a modern gas range—one that cooks automatically, then cleans itself. Only a modern gas range gives you the burner-with-a-brain that knows enough not to burn foods. And automatic oven controls that let you cook dinner while you're away from home, keep it warm till you're ready. It's the versatile blue flame that fries you. See the handsome new models at your appliance dealer or nearby Kansas-Nebraska office.

SPECIAL OFFER: Buy any range priced $250 or more, and get a combination kerosene-electric decorator lamp — a $47.95 retail value — at no extra cost! A Spring Range Sale bonus — beautiful, useful! Stop in soon. If you can get away from your old range.

Lengthy Hospital Stay Ends for George Polinoski

By Berenice Cornell
Mr. and Mrs. George Polinoski returned home Friday from Omaha where George had been in the hospital for four weeks. The Gordon Polinoski family brought his parents home. On Saturday the Keith Polinoskis of Cheyenne, Wyo., came to visit his folks until Sunday, when they were all at the Rollin Davis home in North Loup. The Elden Cetsaks were also with the group and brought her folks back home. We hope that George can continue to improve. Gordon Polinoski is recuperating from spinal surgery and is still unable to work.

tea of the Bethel Baptist Church. Also attending from Parkview were Berenice Cornell and her guest, Marguerite West. Mae was honored as the mother having the largest number of children — 12.

Berenice also attended the Christian Women's Tea given Friday by the Baptist Mission Society. Lois Dimmitt and Carol Miller of Burwell gave an interesting demonstration on flower arrangements — both artificial and home-grown. Eleanor Christianson of St. Paul gave a devotional talk on "The Keeping of Our Heart" (for God to Live in).

Share in Friends' Joy

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow of Scotia came Saturday afternoon for her mother, Lucy McCune, and took her with them to North Loup. There they attended the silver anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Whiting, held in the North Loup Community Building. Lucy said she enjoyed very much getting to see the Whiting and other friends.

A Busy Week

Berenice Cornell visited the Opportunity School May 13 when the pupils participated in their rhythm band. On the 15th Mrs. Hazel Leach of Berwyn called on Berenice who here by attend the track meet. That evening Berenice's daughter Myrtle and her husband (Mr. and Mrs. Don Kapke) of Houston, Tex., called on the telephone. Berenice also got to speak with her grandson, Michael Kapke, who is with the Navy and stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. He had been home two weeks and was leaving the next day.

Also visiting Berenice last week — on Saturday morning — was Bertha Knudsen. The new week began on a nice note too as Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Cornell of Friend telephoned Sunday evening.

No other popular pickup goes to the lengths Chevy does to save you money.

Several lengths, in fact. Like offering pickup boxes that range in length from 6'2" feet to a huge 9-footer.

No matter what size you prefer, you'll get a full measure of Chevy's Pacesetter Value with each model. For instance: the biggest power choice among popular pickups, Six or V8. And the smoothest ride in trucks.

Inside the double-steel cabs, you'll find such Pacesetter Values as thick foam seats. Which provide stretch-out room for three.

Wrap it all up in a small price and it becomes pretty clear: Chevy will go to great lengths to please you.

Give To Remember, Fund Officials Ask

Local officials of the Heart Fund and the American Cancer Society have suggested that persons wishing to remember loved ones on Memorial Day do so by contributing to their respective funds.

Chairman of the Heart Fund is Horace Travis. Donations may be sent to him at 2121 M Street in Ord.

Valley County chairman for the Cancer Society is Mrs. Ed Christensen. Her address is 1820 I Street, Ord.

Both organizations accept contributions the year around. However, they are making special efforts at this time to remind residents of their need for funds to carry on research and other programs to fight the two deadly diseases.

Marilyn Foster
95.6 Average

Ericson Student Is Valedictorian At Wheeler County

An Ericson girl, Marilyn Foster, is valedictorian of the 1969 graduating class at Wheeler County High School.

Miss Foster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Foster. She maintained a 95.6 grade average during her high school years.

This fall she will enter the University of Nebraska to study for a career as a medical technologist.

Miss Foster was her school's homecoming queen this year and was the community representative to Girls State her junior year. She was co-editor of the school annual for two years and was a member of the student council also during that time.

Active in sports, music, and dramatics, Miss Foster was head cheerleader during her senior year.

93 New Graduates Join Alumni Ranks

An estimated 1,000 relatives and friends sweltered through commencement ceremonies Tuesday night as 93 members of Ord High School's Class of 1968-69 received diplomas.

The heat was stifling in the auditorium, and fans were even more popular than cameras for the assembled throng. Many of the men present shed their suit coats shortly after arriving.

No check was taken on the temperature inside the auditorium, but it was considered well above the day's official high of 90 degrees.

Dr. Alan Seagren, assistant dean of the Teachers' College at the University of Nebraska, condensed his speech because of the conditions. Other than the presentation of diplomas and the processional and recessional, Dr. Seagren's speech was the only thing on the program.

Adapting the class motto to his talk, Dr. Seagren said the faith of parents is knowing there is a man because they have seen a boy. The class motto was: "Faith Is Knowing There Is an Ocean Because You Have Seen a Brook."

Dr. Seagren said many youngsters have been led astray by thinking a college education is the only way to be successful. He went on to outline five points he considered necessary for success:

(1) Have a goal — "It's no crime to fail, but it is a crime to aim low," the doctor said.

(2) Have faith in yourself — He quoted Helen Keller as saying, "Pray not for tasks equal to your ability but for abilities equal to your tasks."

(3) Strive for excellence and be persistent — "Thomas Edison once said that genius consists of 2 percent inspiration and 98 percent perspiration. Whatever you choose as your goal, stick to it."

(4) Continue to learn — "The school's educational objective has been not to give you facts but to give you tools for continuing to learn. Shake out of your head the idea that this is the end of your education."

(5) Act with maturity — Dr. Seagren asked, "If you do this and the other points I have suggested, who will be in charge of your life?"

Cheryl Hoppes accepts diploma from Dr. Oris Miller.

man for his work on the State Outstanding Young Farmer - Rancher Banquet.

Sparkplug Awards were given to Bolesen, Sich, Lynn Kerchal, and Doug Watt. Wayne Brown received a Spoke Award, and Delores Sich recognition for her work in publishing the Jaycee newspaper.

Mrs. Sich was also honored by her fellow JC-Ettes as Outstanding Mrs. JC.

Barb Anderson won two JC-Ette awards, as the Outstanding Spokette and the Outstanding Project Chairman.

Spokette Awards were presented to Kay Kerchal, Iris Mulligan, and Janet Melia.

Principal speaker was Bill Hood, a Jaycee national director from Grand Island. He spoke on Jaycee involvement in national, state, and local governmental bodies.

Clayton Kookier
Honor Roll Member

Three Known Here Get Degrees in Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dunbar and JoAnne travelled to LaMars, Ia., Sunday for the 4 p.m. commencement exercises at Westmar College.

The Dunbars' son-in-law, Clayton Kookier, was among those graduating. He received a degree in Business Administration and was recognized as a member of the Dean's Honor Roll for having a 3.4 or higher average.

Others in the Westmar College graduating class who are known in this area were Gary Koelling, son of Rev. Melvin Koelling of Grand Island, and Mrs. Don Hackel, a daughter-in-law of the Russell Hackels.

Manager Resigns

LaVerne (Pete) Peterson, manager of the Elks Lodge in Ord, has accepted a new position at the North Platte Elks Lodge. He reportedly received a substantial increase in pay. Mr. Peterson plans to assume his new position as manager of the North Platte Lodge on July 1, 1969.

Ord Girl Earns Perfect Marks At Kearney State

Carolyn Hansen, a student at Kearney State College, is one of 13 students from an enrollment of 3,000 to receive a 4.0 grade average. That's straight A's.

Miss Hansen has also been elected president of the Kearney State Spanish Club and has been named to the Alpha Mu Gamma national foreign language society. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen of Ord.

Carolyn graduated with the Ord High School class of 1969, ranking third in her class. For her scholastic ability at Ord High School she was presented one of the most prized awards, a scholarship to Kearney State College.

Ord Teacher To Study Scandinavian Program

Dan Hersh, social studies teacher at Ord High School, is among 32 Nebraskans who plan to participate in the Nebraska-Scandinavian Summer Institute to be held June 19 to August 5.

During the first five weeks of the course, sponsored and supported by the U. S. Office of Education with a grant under the Fulbright-Hays Act, the students will be kept busy in three Danish and Norwegian schools. The last nine days before returning to the United States will be spent touring Norway and Sweden.

Most of the Nebraskans participating in this summer institute are teaching graduates of the four state colleges. Hersh is one of seven representing Chadron State College.

Head Start School Planned in Ord; Class Sessions Will Begin June 9

A Head Start program for economically and culturally deprived children will be held in Ord beginning June 9.

The eight-week school for children of pre-kindergarten age will be conducted in the Opportunity School building, which is owned by the United Methodist Church. Church officials voted to sponsor the program locally.

Earlier the Ord Board of Education had turned down a request from the Central Nebraska Community Action Program that the school system sponsor it. School officials said at the time they did not feel there were a sufficient number of students who would qualify.

The Community Action Program headquarters in Loup City will supervise the program. Mrs. Robert Norton of Ord has been hired to serve as the instructor. Two teacher aides and a cook will also be employed.

This school will be one of 10 operated in a five-county area

Albert Moore Assumes Veterans Club Duties

Taking over management duties of the Veterans Club in Ord on May 10 was Albert Moore.

A native of Broken Bow, Moore has been associated for the past five years with the Elks Club there. He and his wife Alice moved to Ord last weekend and are getting settled in the newly constructed home on O Street which Ed Vodehnal owns. The Moores have four grown children; Mrs. Mary Ellen Stone Jr. of Broken Bow; Mrs. Sharon Kay Fitzpatrick of Salina, Kan.; Mrs. Vivian Jane Sebasta of Denver, Colo.; and Lanny Moore, who attends Kearney State College.

Wesleyan Grads Include Burwellites

The largest class in Nebraska Wesleyan University's history received commencement on May 18.

Among the 284 seniors receiving degrees were two young men from Burwell. Each received a Bachelor of Science degree. The men are Robert Bradley Hoppes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hoppes, and Lumir Emil Hulinsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hulinsky.

William Clyde Martin, son of Rev. and Mrs. Allen Martin who lived formerly in Ord, received a Bachelor of Arts degree. The Martins now live in Tecumseh.

Sam Gailey To Speak At Memorial Services

Memorial Day services will be held at the east side of the Ord City Cemetery with the Ord High School band, under the direction of Jim Ochsner, participating. The program will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Rev. Kenneth Bunnell of the First Presbyterian Church in Ord will lead the prayer, and the speaker will be Sam Gailey, a major in the Air Force Reserve.

Those members of American Legion Post 38, VFW Post 7029, and their Auxiliaries, who are scheduled to take part in the services have been reminded to meet at the south cemetery gate by 10:05 Friday morning.

Four Local Workers Receive Recognition

Department of the Treasury Awards were presented this week to the American Legion Auxiliary for sponsoring the School Savings Program in Ord Grade Public School and their members who served as stamp sales volunteers during the 1968-69 school year, according to Helen Horn, chairman. The colorful awards which feature our Country's Flag and the Treasury's Savings Bonds Flag are presented for patriotic service in support of the United States Savings Bonds Program.

Total sales for this program in our school was $1039.99, and awards were received by Mrs. Helen Horn, Mrs. Dolcie Waterman, Mrs. Ray Shokoski and Mrs. Lou Zablouil.

Pam Lambert, Roger Cahill Cited As Top Students in Class of 1969

Monday was a big night for Ord High School seniors as awards and scholarships were presented and honors announced.

Named as the top student, scholastically, in the 1969 graduating class was Pamela Lambert, valedictorian. Pam is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert of Ord.

Roger Cahill, son of Mrs. Rose Cahill of Ord, held the second high average and won the salutatorian honor for the Class of 1969. Cahill was also named winner of the Regents scholarship, the Math Award presented by Danell Krenke, and a $500 award from the Broken Bow Production Credit Assn. Tom Frazer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Frazer, was an alternate in the Regents' competition.

Richard Janda was named Outstanding Senior Boy of the 1969 class — thus winning the Club "50" award. He was also recognized as an Outstanding Teacher of America with Nancy Krcilek and Chris Bishop. Janda, the son of Mrs. Florence Janda of Ord, also received a $50 savings bond from the Ord Elks Lodge.

Walking away with the most honors given during the evening was Nancy Krcilek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Krcilek Jr. of North Loup. Nancy received the Union Pacific Award presented by County Agent John Schade, for which Roger Cahill was alternate; the Home Extension Award presented by Mrs. Agnes Janda; and the Vogeltanz Award presented by Jim Cornwell of Murray, Utah, son-in-law of the late E. L. Vogeltanz. In addition to these, Nancy was named Outstanding Senior, cited by the Ord Business and Professional Women's Club and received the Valley County Teacher Education Assn. Award.

Barry Masin, outstanding ag student, was named winner of a Union Pacific Scholarship for his active participation in the high school's agriculture program and his high scholastic average.

Brad Garnick was named winner of the Ronald Babcock Memorial Scholarship. Brad has been active in extra-curricular activities while maintaining a high grade average — he ranked third in the class and was only a fraction of a point behind Cahill in this year's salutatorian competition.

Cheryl Hoppes received the $50 Business and Professional Women's Award.

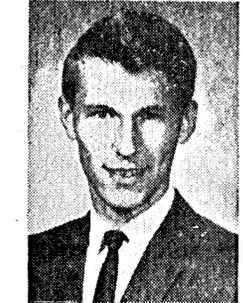

Two students were honored for their outstanding participation in music. One was Darlyn Novosad, who received awards as the most versatile music student and the outstanding vocalist. Jan Koelling received the outstanding instrumental award.

Jim Ochsner, music director, also presented awards to Dennis Cotak, Spencer Douthitt, and Miss Koelling which entitle them to a week's expenses for a music workshop at Chadron State College this summer.

Among the numerous awards were two other scholarships presented by Principal Robert Norton. Paula Waldmann and Jeanette Lange were both given $500 scholarships to Kearney State College. Pamela Lambert and Connie Peterson were announced as the alternates for this award.

In awards previously announced, Roger Cahill received the Industrial Arts Award for a mechanical drawing project. Don Stieger, Mike Rice, and Gary Valsack received honorable recognition.

Steve Wells, president of the Class of 1969, acted as master of ceremonies at the 8 p.m. program which also included a vocal solo, "To Sir With Love," by Darlyn Novosad. Brad Garnick presented the 1969 annual, and Pam Lambert announced the dedication of "The Chant" to Mrs. Harold (Phyllis) Garnick, well known teacher at the high school.

Pam Lambert
Valedictorian

Big winner Nancy Krcilek accepts B&PW Award.

Two students she taught 56 years ago were among more than 200 persons present Saturday night for a testimonial dinner honoring Miss Inez Swain, center. Reliving old times are Mrs. Mary Bailey (formerly Helen Swain), left, Miss Swain, and Mrs. Frances Kamarrad (formerly Waldmann). The two Cornsack ladies were students of Miss Swain's when she taught at the Woodman Hall School in the Geranium area in 1912. Miss Swain is retiring after 57 years of teaching at the end of today's classes.

Included in the class of seniors at Ord High School this year are three sets of twins. Probably as many as one class in Ord has ever contained. They are Connie and Mark Peterson, whose parents are the Dick Petersons; Janet and Jeannette Lange, daughters of the Elton Langes; and Dale and Shariene Wilson, son and daughter of Mrs. George Wilson.

To each of you in the graduating class I wish to express my congratulations on this happy occasion. May your new diploma be the key that opens the door to further success and achievements.

This week's recipe suggests another way to use rhubarb. It is called Rhubarb Delight.

Arrange in greased baking dish: 3 cups cut up rhubarb. Sprinkle with mixture of 1 c. sugar, 2 T. flour, 1/2 t. grated orange rind, and 1/2 t. cinnamon.

Then cover with a topping made by mixing together 1 c. flour, 1/2 c. sugar, 1/2 c. butter, 1/4 t. soda, and 1/2 t. baking powder.

Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees.

Remove from oven and pour over mixture of 1/2 c. orange juice and 2 T. sugar. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes longer. May be served with whipped cream or ice cream.

I was interested in seeing the dainty colored formal worn this year by the junior and senior girls. With very few exceptions, all were in pastel shades — yellows, blues, greens and pinks — plus four or more dainty white gowns. All with a look of freshness and loveliness.

Most classes in the Ord schools have taken a turn with an end-of-the-year school picnic.

Instead of the usual class picnic for the seniors this year, the class chose to hold a dance at the Elks Club following Class Night activities. From all indications it seemed that the change was a pleasant one.

The children of Bud and Sharon Novosad are the happy owners of six baby chickens which I learned cost them 6 cents apiece. Each little chick has been named too. When I inquired about them recently, young Kyle said there are six, "but we just about don't have one of them!"

To add to the hecticness of last Saturday, I was awakened early by the sobs of Daughter Number 3 who informed me that "So Jo" our hamster was dead in her cage. The remainder of the morning was spent planning the burial, locating the proper size box to use as a casket, and properly inscribing name in several colors.

Before the day had ended I found myself feeling a bit sorrowful too. Kids can be so dramatic at times like these!

Market Cattle Testing
The market cattle testing (MCT) program — sometimes called the back tagging program — is credited to a large extent for moving Nebraska toward its goal of having all counties Modified Certified for brucellosis in beef cattle.

Valley County met the requirements of recertification this past April with a limited amount of on-the-farm testing.

Placing back tags on cows as they are marketed, and requesting that these cows be blood tested, has saved time, effort, and expense for Valley County ranchers and cattlemen. It has also saved many tax dollars through elimination of on-ranch testing.

Ranchers and cattlemen are warned against relaxing their efforts in the MCT Program. It is highly important that the program be continued since it is necessary to maintain a check on herds and assure that brucellosis is not introduced.

Back tagging not only keeps the owner informed that brucellosis is not present, but it also aids him in locating and eliminating other diseases — such as tuberculosis and leucosis — that may enter the herd and fail to produce clinical symptoms until several animals are infected.

Market cattle testing is a quiet, unobtrusive method for keeping the county in the Modified Certified ranks.

Stockmen are all aware that Valley County must meet a recertification deadline in three years. When all ranchers and stockmen cooperate by having all cull cows tagged and tested, there should be no problem of recertification. The requirement that 15 percent of all cows in the county be tested will easily be met through this method.

Stockmen are cautioned that procrastination or slacking of their efforts may force on-the-farm testing of large numbers of cattle to meet the recertification deadline in 1972.

Gone are the days when the family spent summer all jammed up in one room.

Don't kid yourself. It'll be just as hot this summer—and you'll be just as uncomfortable as last year. Maybe it'll be hotter. Remember the nights you put in huddling up next to the window unit? Only one way to avoid that nightmare this year. Whole-house gas air conditioning. Lets you sleep in cool, relaxed comfort. And the cost won't keep you awake either. Because it'll probably hook right up to your present central heating system. Because gas is the most economical kind of air conditioning system running. And because maintenance is next to nothing. So, if the very thought of summer makes you boil, visit your nearby Kansas-Nebraska office and see how cool summer can be with whole-house gas air conditioning.

Gas air conditioning keeps your whole house cool.

Some Athletes Do Well, Others Not So Well At State Championship Track Contest in Kearney

Elation and disappointment were distributed in roughly equal proportions to the Loup Valley contingent at last weekend's state track meet in Kearney. The area took no first places, but it had some fine performances nonetheless. Two of the finest were turned in by Bob Anderson, Sargent's premier quarter-miler, and by the Loup City two-mile relay team. Anderson ran his best 440-yard dash, and passed Randy Kitt of Wauneta to a state Class C record. Kitt was timed in 49.3 seconds, shaving four-tenths of a second off the previous standard, and Anderson was clocked in 50 flat.

"I wanted to break 50, but I'm still happy," the elated Sargent athlete explained after regaining his breath. "That made my day." Anderson went to the state meet last year as a sophomore but finished seventh. "I've been waiting a year for this," he exclaimed. Even though one regular was sick, the Loup City two-mile relay set a new school record as it finished third behind Red Cloud and Battle Creek. It was clocked in 8 minutes, 27.9 seconds. "We were especially pleased with Carl Baillie," Coach Don Wagner stated afterwards. "He failed to qualify for the state meet, and he could have checked his equipment in. But he kept working out anyway. As a result, when Dennis Day got sick and we needed him, he did a real fine job. That's the type of thing we like to see in a boy — especially a senior like he is." Baillie was timed in 2 minutes, 8.5 seconds for his half-mile leg. Despite the fine time, he lost ground on his top opponent, Jim Hawk got the Raiders off to an excellent start with his 2:04.4 leg. He was in first place when he passed the baton to Jim Edwards. Edwards had a 2:11-flat and had back to second and by the time Baillie passed to anchor man Steve Burns the Raiders were in fifth place. Burns had a tremendous final quarter, however, and passed anchor men from Plainview and Elkhorn St. John. He had trailed them by about 20 yards when he set out. For his half-mile Burns was timed at 2:02.9. Day was sidelined with a bronchial infection. He, Hawk, and Edwards are all juniors. Baillie and Burns are seniors. Other good performances were registered by Rich Watson of Wheeler County in the Class D 180-yard low hurdles, by Chuck Wegner of North Loup. Scott learned his star had been given lane 7 next to Henderson's Allen Regier for the finals, he had advised him: "Stick close to Regier and you'll do alright." Wegner did just that and finished third as Regier won first.

Dick Meyers of Wisner slipped in between them to claim second. Strangely, Wegner's toughest loss and best performance came in the preliminaries. As the contestants neared the finish of their qualifying heat, it came down to a choice of Wegner or Ron Klindt of Rushville for the last spot in the finals. Wegner ran his best race ever, posting a time of 15.5 seconds and nipped his rival Klindt went on to win the state championship in the low hurdles. Previously, Wegner's best time was 15.7. He had a 15.0 in the finals as Regier won in 15.4. "Cahill finished fourth in the Class B mile but, like Watson, was somewhat disappointed. "I tightened up on the first curve," the Ord senior stated. "and I never could get loosened up. I don't know what went wrong — I had a good warm-up." Despite his problems, Cahill's time was just 1.7 seconds over his best for the year. He ran a 4:36.7.

Ord, Wolbach Both Want First Win; They'll Oppose Each Other Sunday

Barring postponements, there'll be only one wifless team in the Sherman Howard Baseball League following Sunday's games. Ord and Wolbach, the only teams without victories after three weeks of play, tangle in a 2:15 p.m. contest at Wolbach. The losers will be left in sole possession of last place. In this week's play Cairo got out of the wifless category in resounding fashion, blasting Gibbon, 13 to 4. Greeley pulled the days' big upset, though, knocking off Scotia, 4-3. Wood River and Boelus continued undefeated, the former outlasting Ord, 15-11, and the latter knocking off Wolbach, 6-2. Despite their wifless status, both Ord and Wolbach have played some good ball this year. The local team appeared for a while Sunday to have a major upset in the making as it rallied from a 9-3 deficit to the defending champion Wood River. But their relief pitcher Jim Lukesh and the Ord batters both ran out of gas at the same time, and the visitors pulled away for their win. "Wolbach has lost three times this year, but two of those defeats have been by a single run. Lukesh throttled the big Wood River bats for three innings Sunday after coming in to relieve starter Rich Psota. But his lack of stamina became clearly evident when the winners put three balls out of the park in the seventh and eighth innings. Ord showed a fairly potent hitting attack itself, getting 13 safeties. Roger Psota, who had been blanked the previous week in five times up, got three of them. All were extra-base hits — two doubles and a triple — counting his first three times up. Jim Hulinsky also hit safely three times, while Rich Psota and Kenny Watson had two hits each. In two games this Psota is six-for-nine, as he had four hits in his team's opener. Roger Psota's third hit of the day was the big blow in Ord's comeback. It came with the bases loaded in the fourth, driving in three runs to make the score 9-6. The next inning the losers pulled even with the help of some shoddy Wood River defensive play. After relief pitcher Bob Tes-

An overflow crowd packed into tiny Foster Field at Kearney to watch state's best schoolboy trackmen perform. In rear of group bunched along infield fence is Wheeler County coach Jerry Stine, who hails from North Loup.

Dennis Davenport of Burwell concentrates as he prepares to throw shot.

Barrelling down the homestretch, Steve Burns of Loup City overtakes Plainview anchor man in windup of two-mile relay. Burns moved his team from fifth to third, then collapsed in arms of teammate Jim Hawk, left, who had recovered from an equally grueling first leg. Hawk ran his half mile wearing the team's good-luck beret which was passed on from last year's Loup City two-mile quartet that also went to state.

Midget, Legion Squads Score Impressive Wins

It's on to bigger things — and bigger teams — for Ord's two teenage baseball squads this evening.

After opening their season Sunday with resounding victories over a couple of the area's smaller communities, the local Midget and American Legion nines will travel to Loup City for contests tonight (Thursday). Game time is 5:45 for the Midget game, with the Legion contest to follow at approximately 8 p.m.

In Sunday's opener the Midgets got an infusion of pitching blood from Ericson in the form of Scott Patrick and shut out Comstock, 9-0. The Legion nine blasted its way past Arcadia, 22-5.

Patrick pitched brilliantly in the Midget contest, showing no signs of wildness which plagued other pitchers on opening day. He issued three walks and gave up only three singles — one of them as misjudged pop-up on the infield.

Two Comstock pitchers also teamed up to hurl a three-hitter, but bases on balls proved their downfall. In the third inning, when Ord scored eight of its nine runs, four straight walks were issued. Before the period was over, three more free passes had been granted and one batter had been hit with a pitched ball.

And if the rally needed any other fuel, it was supplied by Darrell Farmer and Dave John who got two of Ord's three hits during the day. Farmer singled to drive in two runs in the midst of the free passes, and John doubled to score two more.

Despite his team's one-sided loss, Dean Vancura did a fine job in relief for Comstock. After getting his team out of the awful third inning, he gave up just one hit and one run the rest of the way.

Arcadia gave the older Ord team a rough time for three innings, but in the fourth the visitors scored four times to pull away. That raised their advantage from 5-4 to 9-4, and a 10-run seventh inning made it even.

John Green of Sargent had double disappointment, failing to place in both long jump and 880-yard run.

Roger Cahill has most Class B milers strung out behind him at quarter mark.

Chuck Wegner of North Loup-Scotia trails a couple of fast hurdlers with pencil-like builds, Allen Regier of Henderson and Dick Myers of Wisner. Wegner was third.

Softball Squad Bows in Opener At Greeley, 7-6

Going extra innings the first time out, Ord's softball team lost to Greeley Friday night, 7-6.

The game went eight innings before the home team pushed across two runs to off-set a 6-5 lead Ord had taken in the top half of that frame.

Coach Ron Graff, who's also doubling as the team's catcher this year, led Ord at the plate with two singles and a triple. Chuck Squier, who went the route as pitcher, had a home run and a triple.

Squier gave up only six hits as Ord won easily in that department, 11-6. But 13 walks kept Greeley in business.

State Trackmeet

Lee Newcomer of York ran away from Dave Biehl of Lexington on the last lap to win easily in 4:29.7. Biehl, who surprisingly had set the pace for Newcomer much of the way, was second in 4:33.1. Then came Fred Sommer of Omaha Cathedral in 4:35.6.

Ken Gibney of Omaha Holy Name, who had the best time in the state entering the race, failed to place. He started out in the middle of the pack and stayed there.

Both the Wheeler County and Sargent 880-yard relay teams placed also. The Wheeler County quartet was third in Class D and the Sargent foursome fourth in Class C.

Despite a leg injury to anchor man Tracy Kraus, Wheeler County shaved nine-tenths of a second off its district-winning time. Preceding Kraus with the baton were Chuck Bartak, Watson, and Bill Harpster.

Kraus, who also qualified for state in the long jump and 220-yard dash, failed to place in either. In fact, he didn't even make the finals.

Bothered all year by leg injuries, he had reinjured a knee while lifting hay bales earlier in the week.

Other athletes from the area who failed to place were Dennis Cetak of Ord in the Class B shot put and discus; Steve Wells, Ord, Class B discus; Wegner, North Loup-Scotia, Class C shot put; Al Williams, North Loup-Scotia, Class C pole vault; John Green, Sargent, Class C long jump and 880-yard run; Sandy Bonnell, Burwell, Class C two-mile run; Dennis Davenport, Burwell, Class C shot put; and Jack Van Slyke, Loup City, Class C high hurdles.

Neither Cetak nor Wells topped 140 feet with the discus, and Cetak failed to reach 50 with the shot. Both fields were loaded with talented performers, and neither Ord contestants had been expected to place.

Neither Wegner nor Davenport made the Class C shot finals either. Wegner's last toss of 48-11 1/2 was the best.

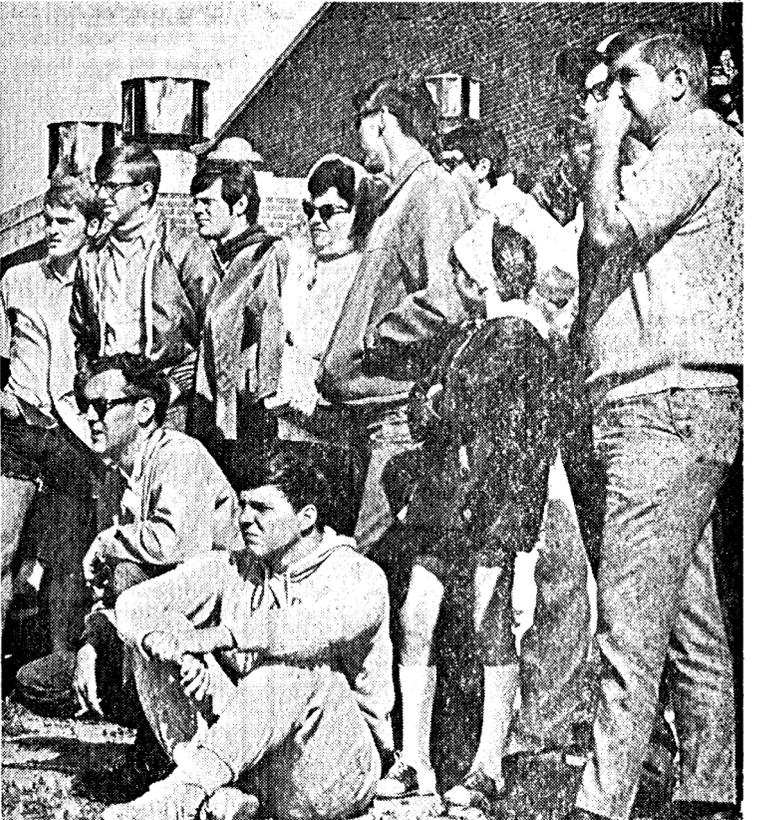

His teammate, Williams, surprisingly failed to clear 11-6 in the pole vault. Williams had made that height several times this season.

Memorial Day 1969

As the United States pauses this week to again honor its fallen defenders, a war still rages in Vietnam. This war has caused thousands of new graves during the past year that mothers and widows will visit and weep over this Memorial Day.

And as they do, there are those who publicly tell the survivors that the sacrifice of their loved ones was unnecessary and for no good cause. Even more callous individuals say that our men who are fighting and dying in Vietnam are actually the aggressors—the murderers.

Is that the case?

Anyone who saw the recent television films shot at the scene of a mass burial plot in Hue know it is not. Mothers and wives—with the same feelings as those in this country—were trying to identify the remains of their loved ones. Some of the victims still had their hands tied behind their backs. They were civilians executed by the Communists during the Tet offensive 18 months ago.

Any American mother viewing those films can rest assured that her son's sacrifice was not without a cause—not when he died to defend a people from tyrants who would perpetrate such deeds of horror and revulsion.

American mothers and widows do have a right to be concerned this Memorial Day, however, that policies of their government do not subsequently make their men's sacrifices in vain.

Every reasonable person in this country wants peace. But as our government maneuvers to obtain it, care must be exercised so that the enemy does not obtain peacefully what it has so far failed to obtain militarily. Any coalition government with Communists in it, as some have advocated, will be the first step toward giving them control of the country and a free hand to perpetrate whatever horrors they wish.

As President Nixon's negotiator maneuver in secret with the enemy, we can only hope that they will be successful in obtaining a lasting peace that will not leave the South Vietnamese people in the hands of persons like those responsible for the Hue massacre.

But after four months in office, the time has also come for the President to reconsider what still may be the quickest and least costly way of ending the war—military victory. Though the President said he had ruled out such a solution when he presented his recent six points for peace, it could yet prove the quickest and least costly means, and certainly it would bring about the most enduring peace.

Disillusioned With Deserters

From Washington-Exclusive

Just as draft evaders head north for the safety of Canada, military deserters in Europe seek asylum in Sweden.

Many such deserters and draft evaders find themselves in a deeper dilemma as a consequence of their flight: Some discover that they aren't cut out for life in exile. How to explain to the folks back home? How to erase what can become the lasting stigma of evasion of duty?

Equally important, will these confused youngsters always be welcome in their new homes?

We don't know about the Canadians, but there are growing signs of disillusionment in Sweden. Many Swedish citizens are becoming hostile to deserters who have taken refuge in their country.

A recent meeting of anti-war Swedes in support of the deserters was broken up by pro-American Swedes. The pro-American group took the anti-war group's hammer-and-sickle posters and publicly turned their into torches, a welcome contrast to the too-frequent American flag burnings we have seen in other demonstrations.

Observers report that often the U.S. deserters are not politically motivated. Many are taking refuge to avoid disciplinary action, domestic problems, pregnant girls, and other non-military problems.

They soon find that the only refuge available in Sweden is offered by the Soviet and North Vietnamese-supported indoctrination farm near Torsaker, Sandviken, north of Stockholm, according to a Copy News Service report.

The report states that there is great apprehension in Sweden that the U.S. may get fed up with the official Swedish position on deserters and take counter-measures against the government. This could force the Swedes to turn toward the East European nations of the Communist bloc, which it appears they do not wish to do.

One alternative would be to close the door to deserters and return them to the U.S. to face the consequences. We wonder if any Vietnam War veterans could be allowed to sit on the court martial boards.

FLABBY AMERICANS OF THE FUTURE: From the Daily Standard, Sikeston, Mo.: "When I was a boy we walked three miles to school and three miles home each day. Now we spend $5,000 for a bus to pick up the children so they don't have to walk. Then we spend $50,000 for a gymnasium so they can get exercise." This is inflationary two ways.

About 30 members of Ord's Cosmopolitan Club turned out to pour concrete for the new wading pool. This was an all-day job commencing at 9 a.m. and ending at 4 p.m.

An impressive dedication service was held for the new parsonage at the Mira Valley Evangelical United Brethren Church. Dr. W. J. Hemphill, beloved North Loup physician and "godfather" to about 3,000 babies in the North Loup vicinity, died of heart attack in an Omaha theater.

30 Years Ago

Advertisement for bids on the construction of a new post office in Ord appeared in the Quiz, and it seemed certain the city would have a new building sometime during the summer.

Sheriff George Round recovered a stolen car belonging to William Lankie of St. Paul about four miles north of North Loup. The car was not damaged in any way but was evidently abandoned when it ran out of gas. It was believed stolen by a man in an Army uniform.

Local entries in the Lewis and Clark contest were Delores Sobolka, Dorrita Zukoski, Janet Chlpps, Shirley Arnold, and Joyce Ann Peterson of Scotia.

A two-pound can of choice salmon steaks was selling for 25 cents. These were advertised to be the steaks from the choice part of the salmon.

Something Different

You Men Will Like This

So if you want to enjoy lambequarter this spring, hurry. They are really better when picked with only two leaves, or not more than four. And this little weed is everywhere. It is also called chickweed.

What to do with it? Treat it about like fresh spinach, friends. Wash it until you're bored with the idea. Cook it as you would turnip greens, or mustard greens, or beet greens, letting the pot liquor boil away down.

For meat you may use hog jowls, ordinary pork, bacon, salt pork, pickled pork, ham, or you choose your favorite. Drop in a potato, or two, maybe, an onion also. Serve with a little vinegar. Or mustard. We want you to be happy about the whole affair.

These baby greens are only good in the springtime, and that's when we're all hungrier for a change of fodder.

Add Fodder Day is coming up, how suitable!

Pardon the pun, I don't often do this to you.

oOo

At least it would be a change from giving the Old Fellow lace curtains for your sitting room. Haven't heard that joke lately either, have you?

oOo

I sometimes think men get quite the worst of it at gift time. They are presented with such utilitarian objects. Generally the objects are to induce Father to work in the yard, to prune the roses, to paint the screens, or to accomplish some other project. Mother has been internally bringing to a boil.

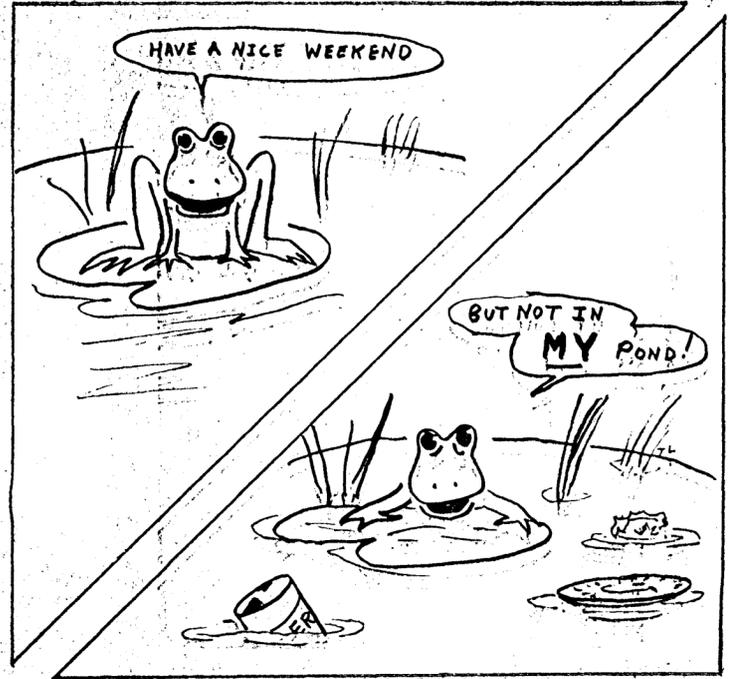

At least we may be thankful that men are released from their drab garb. When you buy slacks now, they may be violent gray, two or three years ago they would have been a lively(?) gray.

Yes, his clothes are rivaling Mother's, but isn't it about time? You remember that Mother Nature puts her boy world into bright colors, simply to attract us poor women.

But seriously, we girls have gotten by with this "I'm a precious, beautiful prize" point of view for a very long time. Several hundred years, at a guess.

So why not give the men a chance at the spotlight?

'Nation on Wheels' Fits Perfectly Since Advent of Trailer Houses

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Have you got one of them houses on wheels yet?

The fellow that runs the store told us Saturday night that he ain't never seen the like of campers passing by his place this spring. He said we have come from "two chickens in every pot" to "two houses for every family" in one generation.

Actually, he said, them rolling houses were pretty thick on the road by the store last winter.

Last fall he said he figured when the youngsters had to stop riding and go to school, the trailer traffic would slack off some. But now he figures about as many retired couples have trailers as folks with youngsters, so the old folks ride while the youngsters are in school.

During the hottest spell last August, the storekeeper recollected, a family stopped in one of them campers that's built like a bus—where you sit right inside and drive along while the trailer driving got out and came in. He said he was looking for a fuse.

He said the camper had blown a fuse right in the middle of the cartoons on TV and the youngsters were screaming bloody murder. Furthermore, he said his old lady had just finished washing her hair and her hair dryer wouldn't work without that fuse.

The fellow said they weren't going anywhere in particular. He said his camper had air conditioning and his regular house didn't, so they were just driving around 'cause it was cooler on the road than in their regular house.

The storekeeper said he was afraid to tank how thick high ways in this country would get with them rolling houses if we were to have a power failure in some big cities.

"Every family would get inside their air conditioning shells and hit the road like an endless line of turtles," was his words.

summer was a tour into Mexico with a band of them air conditioned trailers.

Leon said his daughter reported they took their own drinking water and had parties and saw moving pictures every night when they camped.

She said they had to rough it one night and cook over an open fire 'cause the cooking gas run out. Modern trailer parks, she said, are just like motels, except the customer provides the room.

More than 132,000 of them homes on wheels were sold in this country last year, Leon reported, and he figured there would be more this year.

Sharp politicians will be coming up with more programs on camping, Leon allowed, but the trouble is they'll have to set up roadblocks to stop the campers long enough to tell about 'em.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

Congressman DAVE MARTIN Reports

Space Shot

Last week I had the opportunity and the tremendously thrilling experience of seeing Apollo 10 fired from Cape Kennedy. This was one of the most dramatic events I have ever experienced.

I left shortly after the successful launching and was aboard a jet aircraft for Washington, D. C., within one hour. Flying time to Washington was only one hour and 45 minutes, but by the time I was in Washington the space craft had circled the earth twice and was 25,000 miles out in space travelling towards the moon.

I had always watched these shots on television, and they had become pretty much routine because of our successful launchings. But to be there in person, receiving briefings on the potential of this program, fires the imagination as to what man can eventually accomplish.

There are potentially great medical and industrial benefits from space research, as well as benefits in practically every line of endeavor.

From our previous trip to the moon, it is generally agreed that immediately under the moon surface is a vast amount of metal which has a very strong gravitational pull.

As a consequence, our space experts are uncertain as to our ability to leave the moon once we have landed. This is the reason the Apollo 10 shot did not land on the moon, although two astronauts did fly around it twice within about nine miles of the surface.

Because of the unknown factors in space exploration, the bravery of our astronauts is beyond description.

It took a tremendous amount of power to boost the Apollo 10 off the launch pad, as the total weight of the space craft was 6,400,000 pounds. Although the cost of this entire program is staggering, the potential benefits cannot even be completely comprehended.

Special Report

(This special report consists of a letter written to Senator Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) by Mrs. Otto Otepka, wife of the State Department security officer whose nomination to the Subversive Activities Control Board is now pending before the Senate. At the time of this writing, no reply had been received from Senator Kennedy.)

"Dear Mr. Kennedy:

"On Apr. 15 I was present at a hearing of the Subcommittee on Nominations of the Committee on the Judiciary which took testimony concerning the nomination of my husband to be a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

"No testimony was offered against my husband on that occasion. All members of the subcommittee expressed their full support for his confirmation by the Senate.

"Several days after the subcommittee's adjournment, a newspaper column authored by Mr. Drew Pearson and Mr. Jack Anderson carried a series of articles alleging that my husband had 'ties' with the 'right wing' John Birch Society and was 'connected' with the neo-Nazi Liberty Lobby and one of its officials, Willis Carto. These statements are false.

"On May 7 my husband was informed of six questions posed by you relating to the Pearson-Anderson allegations. He stated that he submit his answers for inclusion in the printed record of the committee. My husband complied with this request by submitting a full and accurate report to the committee staff. I understand that it is to be referred to you. However, on May 9 a local paper carried the text of your questions without my husband's answers—thus conveying the impression to readers and members of our community that he may be guilty of improprieties, as alleged by Messrs. Pearson and Anderson.

"My husband's answers, when printed and published, shall of course speak for themselves with respect to his paramount dedication to the security and welfare of this country.

"But as a working wife, I cannot personally remain silent regarding the implications of your question that you be provided with 'the precise sources and amounts of the financing for Mr. Otepka's living expenses since 1961.' I want the people of this country to know that the economic reprisals taken against my husband for telling the truth to a congressional committee necessitated the following measures in order to save money for our use in the long battle to obtain justice:

- I cut my husband's hair every two weeks.
- I made all my clothes and my daughter's.
- My husband and I ironed my husband's shirts.
- I dry cleaned all the family clothing.
- I canned tomatoes and other vegetables from our home garden.
- My husband cleaned and froze his catches of fish and crabs for frequent summer meals.
- We seldom ate family meals in restaurants.
- We gave up cocktail parties and other social functions.
- My husband bought ready-made, inexpensive, but serviceable suits of clothing.
- I went to work in order to supplement our income.
- I am proud to be a part of my family's cooperative effort. This effort was necessitated by harassment which extended into our neighborhood in the form of surveillance from the street, tampering with our mail, and the frequent malfunctioning of our telephone. The knowledge that my husband's office phone was tapped made many people reluctant to identify themselves for fear of reprisals.

"It has been our desire to be financially independent, but we consider ourselves fortunate that there are many Americans interested in our civil rights.

Sincerely,
Edith S. Otepka

Note: Both Senators Kennedy and Tydings have announced their opposition to Otepka's nomination by President Nixon to a post on the Subversive Activities Control Board.

KERRY ON By Kerry Leggett

—freedom—
The freedom so long sought by seniors is now theirs. Cries for more freedom echo from every campus throughout the land.

As freedom's shouts ring through the academic halls, today's young people are unaware that freedom's price is not one that is bargained for singularly. It does not come in diminutive demands, nor in a sheepskin nor by faculty agreement.

Unbeknownst to these young people, freedom is earned—not given. Today's youth seem to harbor the impression that freedom is something bestowed upon them by their elders. This is not the case!

Freedom is a sacred trust endowed through blood, sweat, and tears.

Freedom comes boxed... accompanied by an honor guard returning from Vietnam. Freedom's voice was heard in the agonized cry of a bullet-ridden body at Anzio beachhead.

For most of today's youth, the only sound of freedom they've heard is somewhere in the echos of "Parade" being played on a flag-draped casket is laid to rest somewhere between the bell of the trumpet and the bell of the funeral home.

Freedom is by choice... not by fate!

For the drug users, freedom is not getting lost, but rather in finding one's self. Freedom comes from not getting hooked but getting unhooked. It comes from suffering... the ability to overcome.

Freedom is the eternal struggle for happiness. It is never won... only shared for fleeting moments of smiling endurance. For as the wise men say—to travel hopefully is better than to arrive.

Somewhere on that journey we glimpse the freedom that these young people so falsely believe can be parcelled out in a package of permissiveness.

The value of freedom can only be known to those who have earned it. Many of them will not walk this way again.

The Scott Report

From The Washington News-Intelligence Syndicate
By Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — Those stalemated Big Four meetings on the Middle East have taken an intriguing turn at the United Nations.

In their desperate search for a way to defuse the Israeli-Arab powder keg, representatives of the United States, Russia, France, and Great Britain have begun discussing privately a billion-dollar refugee aid program.

The highly controversial plan, put forward by U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant, provides for the Big Four to support the establishment of a refugee reparations commission.

The international commission would begin work immediately on compensating Palestinians for losses of property, rentals, and farm incomes in the series of Israeli-Arab wars.

The proposal was put forward by U. Thant as a way of breaking the deadlock in the talks, which now appear to mirror a distasteful hardening of positions by Israel and the Arab nations.

If the Big Four powers, Israel, and the Arab States could agree on a reparations commission, U.N. officials believe that tensions could be lessened among the combatants and Israeli-Arab boundary discussions would eventually result.

Since the U. S. and Russia have such big stakes in the Middle East, U. Thant has suggested that the two super-powers channel the arms aid for nations of that area into a billion-dollar refugee fund. Israel, France, and Great Britain would be expected to make smaller contributions.

In his discussions with the Big Four representatives, U. Thant pointed out that West Germany had worked out reparations with Israel.

"Why can't it be done between Israelis and Arabs with the backing of the big powers?" the U.N. chief asked.

Israeli officials reportedly have indicated that such a plan is acceptable to them if the big powers help share the financial burden. Leaders of the Arab nations studying the proposal but have taken no position.

The Crucial Days

With cannonading along the Suez Canal continuing for the past 35 days, the explosive question is whether war—escalating by miscalculation or design on either side—can be avoided.

In the official U.S. view, the Arab is hardening his position powder keg that could explode at any time. Despite many talks with the Russians in New York City and Washington, Nixon Administration officials are under no illusions that the Soviet Union has given up its long-range designs of domination in the Middle East.

In an effort to fathom Russian short-range intentions, the Nixon Administration has exchanged several "situation papers" with the Soviets—including one seeking the Kremlin's views on U. Thant's latest proposal.

Since the U.S. will probably end up contributing most of the money for the refugee reparations commission, Nixon Administration officials are now studying how they could finance this country's share of the cost.

U.S. officials also expect the U.S. will support the plan is expected from President Nixon early in June.

Soviet Strategy

A pattern of Soviet maritime activities in the Middle East, which has gone largely unnoticed, is under serious study by American intelligence officials.

The activities consist of creating naval facilities and gathering intelligence under the guise of economic aid to nations ring the southern coastline of the Mediterranean Sea, the Persian Gulf, and Indian Ocean.

Long before the dramatic appearance of a Soviet fleet in various harbors from Morocco to Iraq, the Russians had built up modernized ports and developed commercial fishing for countries along the shores of the Mediterranean, the Persian Gulf, and elsewhere around Africa.

With an eye to securing easier access to the Indian Ocean, Moscow began to acquire a foothold south of Suez. The first economic aid agreement concluded with Yemen in 1959 provided for the construction of a port at Hodeida. Four years later the Soviets began working on a deep-water port at Berbera in Somalia.

Before the Arab-Israeli war broke out in May, 1967, the Russians undertook to build a fishing harbor for the United Arab Republic. Located in the Gulf of Suez, it was to serve as a base for joint Soviet-Egyptian deep-sea fishing in the Mediterranean, the Red Sea, and Indian Ocean.

The construction of shipyards at Basra in Iraq and at Alexandria in Egypt has extended the reach of Soviet sea power to the Suez Canal and the Persian Gulf.

Red units are now regularly anchored at Alexandria where Russia maintains huge supply depots.

Special Report on Muskie Resignation

Senator Edward Muskie (D-Me.) has resigned from the Senate's permanent investigating subcommittee which is now probing black militants and student radicals.

Members of the subcommittee report that Muskie was unhappy with the headline that Senator John McClellan (D-Ark.) is taking his investigations of big-city riots and campus disorders.

Muskie, who tangled with McClellan during investigation of the ill-fated TFX aircraft contract that social problems rather than militant blacks and students are at the heart of the present violence and should be highlighted by the subcommittee.

McClellan, whose probes have uncovered shocking evidence of Communist infiltration among the militant blacks and students, vigorously disagrees with Muskie's approach.

Friends of Muskie say the liberal Democrat also was concerned by his presence on the McClellan subcommittee might hurt his chances of winning over a large segment of the nation's youth to back his 1972 Presidential candidacy.

Come to Church

Unity In Christ

"There is one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling." Ephesians 4:4

As long as human nature is involved there will never be complete religious unity. Some would say that they would never change their religious beliefs even if they were shown in God's holy and inspired word that they were wrong. And this is the source of the problem. If people would stop trying to make the Bible say "this or that" and were willing to accept it for what it says, it wouldn't be very long until there was complete religious unity. But the most optimistic person knows that this is impossible.

We must agree that there is much talking about church unity. In fact, at the present time, nine different religious denominations are making plans to merge into a one world super church. No one knows for certain what this church will be called. No one knows for certain what the practice and belief will be. But we can be very certain that each denomination is going to be forced to abandon some of their personal beliefs. As a result you will find that they have united in name but not in spirit.

Thousands of people have the spirit of unity but what the religious world really needs is the unity of the Spirit. I'm not near as interested in the spirit of unity as I am in the unity of the Spirit. When you get the unity of the Spirit you will automatically have achieved the spirit of unity.

The only way churches can unite successfully is to unite on the scriptures and until man is willing to take the Bible as the final authority, chaos will continue to reign. Paul says in the book of Hebrews, "Make all things according to the pattern." And the only hope for church unity is to build the church upon the pattern that has been left in the Bible.

Therefore, I would have each individual ask themselves, "Does my personal church have as its only rule and guide, the holy inspired scriptures?" Only in the Bible can true and lasting unity be found. If anything other than GOD's holy and inspired word is being used to achieve unity, then unity isn't the real goal but is a cover-up for something else.

Let us all remember that God's word means what it says. Do you have the faith to accept it as such?

Mrs. Nelson's Relative Is Burwell Salutatorian

By Berenice Cornell
Parkview folks attending the Ord High School baccalaureate service Sunday were Mary Cetak, Eva Robertson, and Mena Jorgensen. Mary's grandson, Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cetak, is a member of the graduating class. Ona Nelson has a relative in the Burwell High School graduating class. He is Michael Nelson, son of her nephew, Lonnie Nelson, and his wife, Michael graduated Tuesday evening as salutatorian of his class. Ona was hoping to attend the exercises.

Seventh Day Baptist Church in North Loup was with 15 of us for religious services Thursday afternoon. The scripture text was from Psalms and dealt with faith as a personal experience. Mr. Davis drew pictures to illustrate his talk. Two visitors were present, Mrs. Amy VanWick of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Ruth Shepard of Lynwood, Calif. They were visiting Elsie Rathbun and Juanita Christian.

Attends Graduation
Berenice Cornell returned Sunday from Madison where she had been with a niece, Mrs. Lyle Manchester and family. Mr. and Mrs. Manchester's son Michael came May 20 for Berenice and his grandmother, Mrs. Wayne King. Then he and his mother brought Berenice home after spending Saturday night in the King home. Michael graduated from Madison High School on May 21. After the commencement exercises his parents hosted a reception in their home. Relatives from Ord numbered 16.

On the Mend
Mrs. Rolyn Davis and Becky and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilson, all of North Loup, were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. George Polinoski. We are glad to report that George is recuperating nicely at home since undergoing recent surgery.

Felled by Stroke
Mrs. Helen Arnold of Arcadia, who has been staying with Lydia Porter, suffered a stroke Monday and is in the Valley County Hospital.

Sisters Honored
Elsie Rathbun hosted a coffee Friday afternoon in honor of her two sisters who are here from California — Mrs. Amy VanWick of Los Angeles and Mrs. Jessie Keller of Castro Valley. Others present were Mrs. Arthur Pierson of Arcadia, Mrs. Mary Hanson and Laura, Mrs. Ellis Carlson, Mrs. Thead Nelson, Mrs. Margaret Nelson, Mrs. Ruth Thomson, Eva Robertson, Mena Jorgensen, and Mrs. Virginia Knecht. Eva and Elsie took Mrs. VanWick to Grand Island Saturday so she could catch a bus for home.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Pokraka of North Loup, Mrs. Agnes Karty, and Mrs. Anna John were Friday supper guests of Tillie Massey.

Visiting her sister, Juanita Christian, is Mrs. Ruth Shepard of Lynwood, Calif. She arrived Wednesday. Juanita was also pleased to receive telephone calls recently from another sister, Alice Dale of California, and a daughter, Mrs. Victor Levine of St. Louis, Mo.

Brad Smith, Randy Newland, and Douglas Stephens visited Mildred Anderson Saturday afternoon. Randy Adams spent Saturday evening with Mildred. Mr. and Mrs. William Bax of Los Angeles, Calif., spent a few days the past week with her aunt, Sophie Keller. Mrs. Bax is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Perilinski, former Ord residents. Mr. Perilinski operated a meat market here.

Mildred Anderson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray Melia to Sherman Dam Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goff of Papillion were here over the weekend visiting Mrs. Goff's mother, Mary Jorgensen. Mary and her daughter called at Mena Jorgensen's Saturday.

We at Parkview are glad to see Bill Proskocil back on his milk route after being absent several weeks due to illness.

Mae Dockhorn returned Saturday with the Gerald Dockhorn family. She had been in Lincoln with her son Gerald and daughter Pearl (the Don Norton family). She also spent a day in Omaha with the Anson Dockhorn family, helping granddaughter Ginger celebrate her 3rd birthday.

Spending the evening Thursday with Eva Robertson were Mrs. Amy VanWick of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Ruth Shepard of Lynwood, Calif., Elsie Rathbun, Juanita Christian, and Mena Jorgensen.

Marguerite West was a supper guest Sunday of the Eric Erikson family for a birthday celebration in her honor.

Town and Country

New Chairman Named
The Valley County Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Committee met May 22 with Mrs. Howard Paulsen.

After serving the committee the past five years, Mrs. Paulsen resigned as chairman. Mrs. Paul Lambert was named as her successor.

Mrs. Mary Ann Veskerna, as state representative, will attend the state convention at Lincoln in July. Mrs. Fred Veskerna and Mrs. Bob Grove will serve as alternates.

Other committee women are Mrs. Fred Veskerna, Christmas Seal chairman, Mrs. Glen Holtz, treasurer; Mrs. George Baker, publicity; and Mrs. Bob Grove, health chairman. Other members of the group include Mrs. Dorthea Mettenbrink of Arcadia; Mrs. Alice Hruby, Comstock; Mrs. James Iwanski, Elyria; Mrs. George Cox, North Loup; and Mrs. Lois Zapp, Ord. Anyone wishing to serve on the committee may contact one of the members.

He's Michael Thomas
Dr. and Mrs. F. Donald Kapp of St. Clair Shores, Mich., are the parents of an adopted son, Michael Thomas, who joined the family about two weeks ago. He was born Mar. 31, 1969. The family also includes a 5-year-old daughter, Christine.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kapuska of Ord.

Dr. Kapp and family plan to move to Omaha in July where he will be stationed at Offutt Air Force Base.

Dr. and Mrs. George Baker and Steffan, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Baker, and Stuart Baker of Ericson drove to Kearney Sunday to attend baccalaureate services at Kearney High School.

Jerome Howe, a nephew of Dr. Baker, is a member of the graduating class. After the services everyone attended an afternoon luncheon at the Russell Howe home to honor the graduate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Allen are presently on a fishing trip in Canada. The couple left about two weeks ago and plan to be gone until mid-June.

Saturday visitors of Mrs. George Baker and Steffan were Mrs. Stuart Baker and children and Mrs. Kenneth Prussa and Jill, all of Ericson.

Mrs. Herb Nelson drove to Kearney Saturday afternoon to get her mother, Mrs. Lydia Hather, who is spending this week at the Nelson country home.

Flower Fancies
Members of the Guided Mrs. Extension Club met at the Gerald Decker home Thursday afternoon to hear an informative lesson on flower arranging presented with demonstrations by Mrs. Tom Moss and Mrs. Merie Vandant.

The float for the Valley County Fair was discussed, and plans were made for a club picnic to be held July 20 at 1 p.m. in the Ord park. Mrs. Virgil Beneke gave the thought for the day. Mrs. J. Heuser of Lincoln was a guest. Mrs. Heuser is the mother of Mrs. Howard Paulsen, a member of the club. Mrs. Kenneth Calver will host the September meeting.

Formal Tea Honors Ord's Senior Girls

Senior girls of Ord High School were honored May 20 at formal tea held in the lower level of the Veterans Club. The annual affair sponsored by the Ord Business and Professional Women's Club began at 7 p.m. with Mrs. Florence Erickson giving the welcome.

As a special treat Joke Hausmann of Holland, a member of the Ord senior class, told about her life in her homeland. From her talk the audience, numbering about 70, learned that in Holland no glory is connected with being a teenager—there are no proms or dress-up occasions, and the lift of a teenager does not revolve around school activities as it does in the United States.

Joke expressed her liking for hamburgers with all the trimmings but went on to say that her country they would not think of "piling food in a stack" and then eating it!

To close the program Sheri Grove played the guitar and sang two numbers. She also provided background accompaniment as her sister Shannon recited a "Creed for Living."

News Media, Administrators Caught In Fall-Out From Miller Controversy

By Melvin Paul Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Assn.

LINCOLN — The eight-member State Board of Education has been upstaging the 49-member legislature the past few weeks.

During a week in which the senators adopted such significant legislation as bills to expand the University of Nebraska Board of Regents (from six members to eight) and to authorize the issuance of $30 million in highway revenue bonds, the big news came once again from the state school board.

Holding its regular May meeting in the Supreme Court hearing room on the second floor of the capitol before hot lights and the eyes of educational television cameras, the board once again considered the case of Dr. Floyd Miller.

Some members of the board have had Miller, the state commissioner of education, under fire for several months and have stated publicly since early in April that they think he should be dismissed.

But no action was taken at the April meeting. A special meeting was held early in May, at which the board agreed to hire an attorney to help with legal procedures, but there was no motion to oust the commissioner.

That set the stage for last week's regular May session.

At the beginning of the meeting the board's special counsel, Lincoln attorney James Bruckner, reported that he hadn't completed his research on the constitution and the statutes. He said he wouldn't be ready to provide the board with a formal opinion until Friday.

There was brief discussion about Bruckner's report. When Dr. Allen Burkhardt of Norfolk (the board president) said a special meeting probably would be called after Bruckner's opinion was received, the three board members who support Miller objected.

Frank Landis of Lincoln said the matter could wait until the regular meeting next month and made a motion that no special meeting be called. Joining him in voting for the motion were Robert G. Simmons Jr. of Scottsbluff and Norman Otto of Milford.

But there were four "no" votes. They were cast by Burkhardt, Mrs. Deborah Shepherd of Lexington, Lloyd Wright of Rainolds, and John Waggoner of Grand Island. The eighth member, John Lunday of Omaha, passed.

The board then turned to regular business, and it wasn't until near the close of the meeting that Mrs. Shepherd announced that she wished to read a statement.

Her four-page statement said the board had ample justification for a move to oust the commissioner and that, because of "hysterical" reactions on the part of the press and school administrators, the people weren't aware of the facts.

She said those facts added up to "willful neglect of duty and insubordination." Since he has been under fire, Mrs. Shepherd said, Miller had waged a "pathetic and desperate struggle to remain in office."

As soon as she finished reading her statement, Landis described it as "an unwarranted, savage, and bitter attack on a fine public official in this state."

Simmons and Otto immediately joined in demanding that Mrs. Shepherd say specifically what Miller had done to deserve dismissal. Several times during the ensuing debate they insisted that it be said publicly what the charges against him are.

Simmons, in fact, moved that the charges be put in writing and submitted to the board, to Miller, and to the news media by May 22. His motion lost on a 4-3 count, with the same split as on the earlier motion and with Lunday once again abstaining.

It was Lunday's letter to four other board members — the four who voted against the Simmons and Landis motions — which was involved in much of Mrs. Shepherd's criticism.

She said when Miller released to the press Lunday's private letter, which had been left accidentally in Miller's office after an April meeting, it was "a 12-hour attempt by a desperate and cornered man who thought he was doomed and had nothing to lose."

In his celebrated letter, Lunday predicted that he and four other board members would fire Miller. He also mentioned the campaign for mayor in Omaha and his activities on behalf of one of the candidates, Robert Cunningham.

When Eugene Leahy beat Cunningham in last week's election, analysts agreed that Lunday's letter was one of the major reasons.

The five board members involved in the letter have been made subjects of a condemnation resolution which is pending in the legislature.

Mrs. Shepherd claimed in her statement that the integrity of the board members, "along with others mentioned," had been Miller's release of the letter to the press.

She said at the board meeting the commissioner's distribution of Lunday's letter alone would justify his dismissal.

Simmons said, on the other hand, "Not one thing has been said that indicated Dr. Miller has done anything that justifies his dismissal."

The commissioner said he would "welcome" the chance to answer specific charges, if any are ever made.

The next day Bruckner released his formal opinion. It said the board had the authority to "summarily dismiss" Miller.

There appeared to be every reason to believe an attempt to do that will be made at a special meeting later this month.

Former Ordites Mourn Death of 20-Year-Old

William Joseph Stanton, 20, the son of Gleason and Muriel (Hisco) Stanton who formerly lived in this community, died April 19 in a Seattle, Wash., hospital.

Mr. Stanton was born April 13, 1949, in Everett, Wash., and had lived all his life in Granite Falls, Wash. He had been a student at the University of Washington and was studying for the ministry at Multnomah School of the Bible in Portland, Ore. He was a 1967 graduate of Granite Falls High School where he was a member of the track team, was also a member of the Community Bible Church in Granite Falls.

The young man is survived by his parents of Route 1, Granite Falls, by five sisters, Mrs. Ellen Olson, Mrs. Norma George, Linda Stanton, Mrs. Myrtle Graham and Mrs. Mariel May, and the two brothers, Gerald and Wayne Stanton, both of Granite Falls.

The family asks that memorials be made to the Community Bible Church, Multnomah School of the Bible, or to Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Granite Falls.

A New Grandson Mrs. Lou Zedina went to Omaha Monday to help care for a new grandson, John Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckenhauer. The baby was born May 13. He joins two sisters, Ann and Amy.

Dan Johnson represented the Johnson Motor Co., of Ord at a three-day Toyota diagnostic clinic in Omaha last week.

In Secretarial Work

Joyce Kruml, a 1968 graduate of Ord High School, recently completed requirements for the executive secretary's course at the Lincoln School of Commerce. She has accepted a secretarial position with the Southeast Psychiatric Clinic, Division of Rehabilitation Services, in Lincoln.

Miss Kruml is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kruml of Ord.

North Loup-Scotia Award Winners Recognized at Honors Convocation

A total of 185 awards were passed out to North Loup-Scotia students at the school's recent Honors Convocation.

The awards were for various activities conducted during the school year. They were based on such things as attendance records, grade achievement, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers activities, district academic contests, music participation, and citizenship.

Marilyn Fuss and Robert Vlach, both seniors, collected the two citizenship awards presented by the American Legion. Donald Kluthe and Jolene Wells, also seniors, were runners-up.

Honored as Greeley County's champion speller was Matt Schudel, who attended the state contest last month in Omaha.

David Lee Huebner was announced as the John Phillip Sousa award winner in music, while Nadene Babcock was the busiest and most versatile music student. She had the largest number of points according to the Music Department's rating system, whereby students receive points based on the activities in which they participate.

Five County Men Enter Service

A number of local men have entered the armed forces in recent weeks, according to an announcement from Local Board No. 91 of the Selective Service System.

Inducted into the Army were Robert Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Fuller of North Loup, and Richard Pesek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Pesek of Comstock.

New Marines are Lonnie John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lumir John of Grand Island, and Charles P. Zangger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Zangger of North Loup. John is currently undergoing recruit training at San Diego, Calif., and Zangger will report for active duty following his graduation from Kansas State University. John and his parents formerly resided in Ord.

Gary Proskocil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Proskocil of Ord, recently joined the Air Force and is in training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Meanwhile, two Valley County residents have been released from active duty following extensive service. Richard John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob John of Arcadia, was discharged from the Navy after 10 years of active duty; and Richard Janus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Janus of Ord, has been released from the Army after a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Formal Tea Honors Ord's Senior Girls

Senior girls of Ord High School were honored May 20 at a formal tea held in the lower level of the Veterans Club. The annual affair sponsored by the Ord Business and Professional Women's Club began at 7 p.m. with Mrs. Florence Erickson giving the welcome.

As a special treat Joke Hausmann of Holland, a member of the Ord senior class, told about teenagers in her homeland. From her talk the audience, numbering about 70, learned that in Holland no glory is connected with being a teenager—there are no proms or dress-up occasions, and the lift of a teenager does not revolve around school activities as it does in the United States.

Joke expressed her liking for hamburgers with all the trimmings but went on to say that in her country they would not think of "piling food in a stack" and then eating it!

To close the program Sheri Grove played the guitar and sang two numbers. She also provided background accompaniment as her sister Shannon recited a "Creed for Living."

Former Ordites Mourn Death of 20-Year-Old

William Joseph Stanton, 20, the son of Glesson and Muriel (Eisler) Stanton who formerly lived in this community, died April 19 in a Seattle, Wash., hospital.

Mr. Stanton was born April 13, 1949, in Everett, Wash., and had lived all his life in Granite Falls, Wash. He had been a student at the University of Washington and was studying for the ministry at Multnomah School of the Bible in Portland, Ore. He was a 1967 graduate of Granite Falls High School where he was a member of the track team. He was also a member of the Community Bible Church in Granite Falls.

The young man is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glesson Stanton, by five sisters, Mrs. Edna Olson, Mrs. Norma George, Linda Stanton, Mrs. Myrtle Graham, and Mrs. Muriel May, and by two brothers, Gerald and Wayne Stanton, both of Granite Falls.

The family asks that memorials be made to the Community Bible Church, Multnomah School of the Bible, or to Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Granite Falls.

News Media, Administrators Caught In Fall-Out From Miller Controversy

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent

The Nebraska Press Assn.
LINCOLN — The eight-member State Board of Education has been upstaging the 40-member legislature the past few weeks.

During a week in which the senators adopted significant legislation as bills to expand the University of Nebraska Board of Regents (from six members to eight) and to authorize the issuance of $30 million in highway revenue bonds, the big news came once again from the state school board.

Holding its regular May meeting in the Supreme Court hearing room on the second floor of the capitol before hot lights and the eyes of educational television cameras, the board once again considered the case of Dr. Floyd Miller.

Some members of the board have had Miller, the state commissioner of education, under fire for several months and have stated publicly since early in April that they think he should be dismissed.

But no action was taken at the April meeting. A special meeting was held early in May, at which the board agreed to hire an attorney to help with legal procedures, but there was no motion to oust the commissioner.

That set the stage for last week's regular May session.

At the beginning of the meeting the board's special counsel, Lincoln attorney James Bruckner, reported that he hadn't completed his research on the constitution and the statutes. He said he wouldn't be ready to provide the board with a formal opinion until Friday.

There was brief discussion about Bruckner's report. When Dr. Allen Burkhardt of Norfolk (the board president) said a special meeting probably would be called after Bruckner's opinion was received, the three board members who support Miller objected.

Frank Landis of Lincoln said the matter could wait until the regular meeting next month and made a motion that no special meeting be called. Joining him in voting for the motion were Robert G. Simmons Jr. of Scottsbluff and Norman Otto of Millard.

But there were four "no" votes. They were cast by Burkhardt, Mrs. Deborah Shepherd of Lexington, Lloyd Wright of Rainolds, and John Wagoner of Grand Island. The eighth member, John Lunday of Omaha, passed.

The board then turned to regular business, and it wasn't until near the close of the meeting that Mrs. Shepherd announced that she wished to read a statement.

Her four-page statement laid out the ample justification for a move to oust the commissioner and that, because of "hysterical" reactions on the part of the press and school administrators, the people weren't aware of the facts.

She said those facts added up to "willful neglect of duty and insubordination." Since he has been under fire, Mrs. Shepherd said, Miller had waged a "pathless and desperate struggle to remain in office."

As soon as she finished reading her statement, Landis described it as "an unwarranted, savage, and bitter attack on a fine public official in this state."

Simmons and Otto immediately joined in demanding that Mrs. Shepherd say specifically what Miller had done to deserve dismissal. Several times during the ensuing debate they insisted that it be said publicly what the charges against him are.

Simmons, in fact, moved that the charges be put in writing and submitted to the board, to Miller, and to the news media by May 22. His motion lost on a 4-3 count, with the same split as on the earlier motion and with Lunday once again abstaining.

It was Lunday's letter to four other board members — the four who voted against the Simmons and Landis motions — which was involved in much of Mrs. Shepherd's criticism.

She said when Miller released to the press Lunday's private letter, which had been left accidentally in Miller's office after an April meeting, it was a 12th-hour attempt by a desperate and cornered man who thought he was doomed and had nothing to lose.

In his celebrated letter, Lunday predicted that he and four other board members would fire Miller. He also mentioned the campaign for mayor in Omaha and his activities on behalf of one of the candidates, Robert Cunningham.

When Eugene Leahy beat Cunningham in last week's election, analysts agreed that Lunday's letter was one of the major reasons.

The five board members involved in the letter have been made subjects of a condemnation resolution which is pending in the legislature.

Mrs. Shepherd claimed in her statement that the integrity of the board members, "along with others mentioned," had been Miller's release of the letter to the press.

She said at the board meeting the commissioner's distribution of Lunday's letter alone would justify his dismissal.

Simmons said, on the other hand, "Not one thing has been said that indicated Dr. Miller has done anything that justifies his dismissal."

The commissioner said he would "welcome the chance to answer specific charges, if any are ever made."

The next day Bruckner released his formal opinion. It said the board had the authority to "summarily dismiss" Miller.

There appeared to be every reason to believe an attempt to do that will be made at a special meeting later this month.

Opportunities Stressed During Hospital Week

Who was the lady with the slide rule? That is what the famous nurse, Florence Nightingale, has been called, in addition to the more popular "Lady with the Lamp." Her birthday May 12 coincided with the observance of National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

When she founded the first hospital school of nursing in London more than a century ago, Miss Nightingale was establishing the hospital in its present-day role as an educational institution. Today, education of personnel is one of the main functions at the Valley County Hospital and other such institutions throughout the nation.

Although famous even in her own time for her expert and compassionate care for wounded soldiers of the Crimean War, Florence Nightingale was known in medical circles for her impressive range of skills. The slide rule was indicative of her use of scientific data - gathering methods, her abilities as a statistician, and her graphic methods of presenting factual evidence.

In fact, Miss Nightingale was more than a nurse. Her skills would fall under today's mushrooming category called "paramedical careers" - careers of hospital personnel having specialized training who work closely with the medical staff to provide the total services necessary to a patient's care.

Karl Mac Kinnon, administrator of the local hospital, explained that paramedical personnel perform their work at the direction of a physician. Nurses, social workers, and physical therapists work directly with the patient. Others work in such areas as pharmacy, laboratory, medical library, and medical records.

Miss Nightingale once said: "Nursing is helping people to live. Nursing is a progressive art in which to stand still is to have gone back."

Those words have not lost their freshness, and they apply today not only to nurses, but all professionals in the health care field.

Just a glance at the headlines reveals that modern medical care has not been standing still. Wide and rapid advances in medical science and allied disciplines have become almost routine.

Moreover, community hospitals, across the nation are beginning to go beyond their traditional role of providing care for the more seriously ill or injured to include community services for prevention of disease and injury, and a broadening range of outpatient and home care programs," Mac Kinnon said. "Hospitals are thus planning together to improve the health picture of whole communities."

"What improved medical science and the hospital's expanding role in total community health services mean for everyone is better and more accessible health care. What they mean for someone in - or considering - a position in the health field are virtually limitless, rewarding career possibilities."

"As growing knowledge requires more specialization and as hospitals reach out into their communities, there is underway a proliferation of health careers, so much so that the largest hospitals often have a staff that answers to more than 200 job descriptions."

"In fact, whatever a person's age, sex, experience and interests happen to be, there is every possibility that he or she can find a rewarding career in the hospital field," Mac Kinnon said.

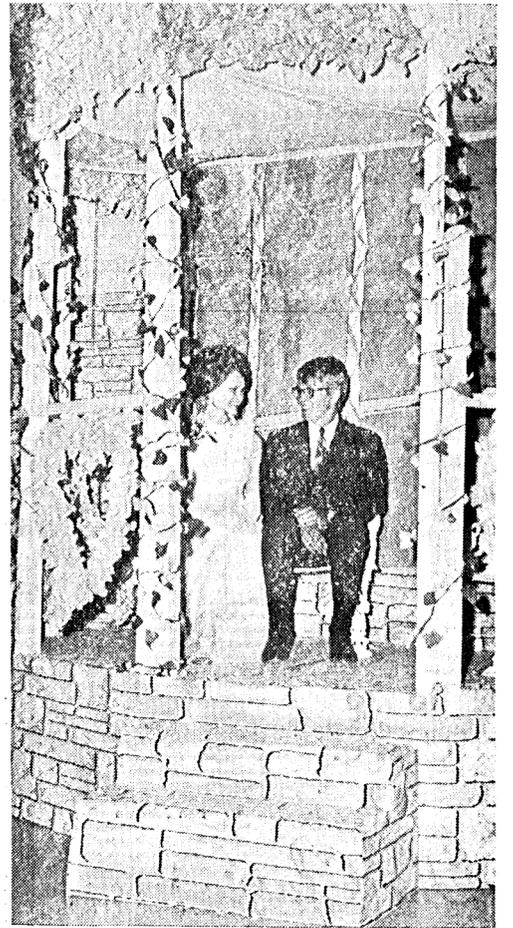

"Often what the person needs to know can be learned in the many educational and training programs of the hospital."

"And with continued training, a person can 'grow' into more challenging and responsible positions."

A few of the careers growing in prominence - some of them requiring supporting staff - include: biomedical engineering, date processing, dietetics, accounting, pharmacy, inhalation therapy, medical records librarian, medical social worker, medical technician, nuclear medical technologist, nursing aide, occupational therapy, physical therapy, recreational therapy, radiologic technology, speech therapy, and surgical aids.

"As hospitals increasingly direct their efforts to the community at large, a number of personnel in administration, community relations, health information and vocational guidance go out and advise people on what the hospital's plans are, how to get in contact with any needed health services, and how to keep themselves and their families well."

"The outlook for anyone launching a career in the health field has never been better," Mac Kinnon said. "Not only do personnel shortages currently exist, but continued expansion of hospital services to the community will create an unprecedented demand for qualified people in the future."

A Night We'll Never Forget

Among the moments to remember for the 1969 Ord High graduating class will be the junior-senior prom. Using a theme of "Love is Blue," the girls gymnasium was gaily decorated for the big night with scenes from France.

At top left Bill Miller, president of the junior class which decorated the gym, and date Sue Greenway lead the seniors on their grand entry into the banquet room. They were followed by senior class president Steve Wells and date Connie Peterson, whose pictures appeared in last week's Quiz.

Later in the evening Jan Koelling and Dan Johnson tried out the gazebo, middle right, and found it quite suitable for pleasant conversation.

Shown at lower right is a huge heart behind the head table which served as a focal point of the brilliantly decorated room.

State's Muddled Financial Picture Makes for Slow Legislative Pace

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Assn.

LINCOLN — Progress in the legislature this session has hardly maintained a dizzying pace consistent with the Space Age.

At a time when three astronauts were pioneering in the vicinity of the moon, Nebraska's state senators were creeping through their work on earth.

No one is predicting adjournment before August, many feel September is more realistic, and a few claim they wouldn't be surprised if it is October before the lawmakers finally pack their bags.

After another in a series of parliamentary tangles the other day, Senator Lester Harsh of McCook expressed what many of his colleagues were thinking. Harsh took the floor to ask for unanimous consent to be excused Dec. 22, "so I can do some Christmas shopping."

There are many theories about why the 1969 Legislature seems to be wading through deep snow. But most observers agree that the key problem is money. There are many things the senators want to do, but they all cost money and the legislators are very conscious of the taxpayers' reluctance to contribute much more than they already are doing.

Shortly after the senators return from their Memorial Day recess (they're taking off from Wednesday until next Tuesday, one of the biggest pieces of the money puzzle will be available for study.)

Early next week the budget committee will submit its estimate of how much it will cost to keep state government operating on programs already authorized. Once this figure is available, it will be translated into the rates needed for sales and income taxes to supply the cash.

Then, as the legislators consider proposals for new programs, they can relate the costs to the items already in the budget.

The budget committee's proposal is still a dark secret. But some hints have been given. Senator Richard Marvel of Hastings, veteran budget chairman, has said the committee's recommendations probably could be financed by a 2 1/2 percent sales tax and a 10 percent income tax. If much more is added in the way of new programs with fiscal impact, those rates would have to be boosted.

A 2 1/2 percent levy on sales would mean a return to the level assessed prior to this January. When the sales tax was adopted, a specification that the rate would fall to 2 percent Jan. 1, 1969, was written into the law.

Arguing that inflation and new programs were bound to require more state revenue to finance state government during the upcoming biennium, Gov. Norbert Tiemann called a special legislative session in December to seek an amendment which would prevent the automatic rate reduction.

The senators said then, however, they felt they had promised the people the rate relief and wouldn't change things until they had made their own study of cost requirements during the 1969 session and determined that higher rates were necessary.

It would be difficult today to find many senators who think the 2 percent sales rate will survive after this session. Many think even 2 1/2 percent is unlikely and that 3 percent is probably closer to the final result.

Some senators who voted against maintaining the 2 1/2 percent rate last December now say Tiemann probably was right in asking that revenue from the extra half-percentage point be collected through the first half of this year to help build reserves for the spending to come.

Complicating the revenue and spending difficulties is a demand for lower subdivisions for more state aid. Schools, which have been getting state money at the tune of $25 million per year, now claim full funding of the state aid program — or $67 million a year — is necessary. Cities and counties also are anxious to keep their hands in the state pocket and get bigger bundles than previously.

Last week there was senatorial reaction to talk in the cities about increased state assistance. If the cities need more money, the legislators said in effect, let them raise it through their own taxes. An amendment proposed by Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff which would eliminate the present ceilings on municipal mill levies was given 38-0 initial endorsement.

Present state law limits first-class cities and villages to 30 mills.

Although this action still must survive additional floor tests, the overwhelming vote was a strong indication of the way legislators feel on the subject. Basically, their feeling is that local government officials ought to face the political consequences if more money is desired.

Counties also have a ceiling on mill levies. They can't levy more than 14.28 mills.

But if they decide a higher levy is necessary they can go to the voters and ask for permission to exceed the ceiling. The legislature seemed to be inviting county officials to exercise this option if they need additional funds.

Counterbalancing this general feeling on the part of the senators is a lingering guilt that many expenses facing cities and counties are bound up in programs the state requires them to maintain. Counties, for instance, now are asked to help pay for the operation of state mental hospitals.

School aid is facing a different sort of pressure. Private and parochial schools are making one of their most determined efforts to be dealt in on the state funds. If they are, it would take a bigger pot to maintain current aid levels for the public schools.

The education committee last week advanced to the floor a bill which calls for a constitutional amendment permitting limited payments of state aid to nonpublic schools for nonreligious studies. If this bill is accepted by the legislature, it

Norman Pearce, 72 Dies After Illness

Private services were held Monday morning for Norman Action Pearce, who died May 23 at the Valley County Hospital. Rev. C. H. Campbell officiated at the 11 o'clock service in the Hastings-Pearson Chapel at Ord. Interment was at Osceola.

The son of Guy and Emily (McBeth) Pearce, the deceased was born Nov. 28, 1896, at Osceola. For the past two years he had made his home in Ord with a sister, Mrs. Vena Sanford. His home had previously been in Grand Island.

Survivors are his sister, Mrs. Sanford; one niece, Mrs. Lloyd Britton of Burwell; three grand-nephews; and two grand-nieces.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Perrotto and family of Omaha were weekend guests of Mrs. Lillian Masin and other relatives in the area. Mrs. Perrotto is the former Maxine Masin.

would put the issue on the ballot in 1970.

Meanwhile, there are numerous alternatives in state aid programs still alive before the legislature. They include hikes in payments to public schools, more state-financed vocational schools, expansion of aid to junior colleges, and the like.

Last week the senators turned thumbs down, however, on a proposal to provide grants to needy families who want to send a child to college. The bill was killed in committee, and an attempt to revive it on the floor failed by three votes.

Ord High Graduate Succumbs at Age 81; Wyoming Resident Came Here Regularly

Frederick Ralph Harris, 81, a former resident of Valley County, died suddenly May 17 at his home in Sheridan, Wyo. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Harris who resided on a farm north of Ord from 1902 to 1911.

A graduate of Ord High School, Mr. Harris was a regular attendant at the annual alumni reunions and had kept up friendships with many Ord people. For many years he served as railway mail clerk on the Burlington Railroad between Sheridan, Wyo., and Alliance.

He is survived by one son, Frederick Young, who recently taught college in India and is en route back to the United States. Mr. Young was the son of Mr. Harris' first wife and was born in 1917. When his mother — the former Bethene Johnson — died in 1919, he was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. John Young of Genoa, who are relatives.

Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. R. P. Flynn of Blair, and two brothers, Miner Harris of Palmer and Emil Harris of Hastings. The two brothers and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flynn of Fremont drove to Sheridan to attend the funeral services held May 27.

Lots of people were snapping pictures of the recent Shrine Parade held in Ord, and at least one participant in the parade was snapping back. Dr. Glen Aubly, seated with camera, turned the table on amateur photographers in the crowd. Other members of the local Shrine chapter riding on this float were Charlie Kriewald, Harvey Krahulik, Lynn Chichester, Lavern Johnson, and Dale Stice, standing left to right, and John Haskell and Ed Beranek, seated.

Elyria Excerpts

Eighth Graders Complete Schooling at St. Mary's

By Mrs. J. B. Zukoski
Several children from Elyria were among the eighth graders graduated Sunday from St. Mary's School in Ord. They and their parents, grandparents, and other relatives attended 9:30 a.m. mass at Ord, as did those graduating this year from the 12th grade of Ord High School. The students all received holy communion in their caps and gowns.

After mass the eighth graders received their diplomas, then marched to St. Mary's Auditorium where breakfast was served by the Catholic ladies.

Observe 25th Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wentek celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Thursday morning by attending mass and receiving holy communion at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Transplanting Cedars
Edward Zukoski and sons Marty, Jerry, and Douglas called on J. B. Zukoski Friday afternoon. They dug 25 cedar trees in the pasture. They say it's never too late to plant cedar trees. Edmund will plant his on his farm east of Ord.

Picnic at Sherman
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwerdtberger of Omaha stayed from Thursday until Sunday with Mrs. Lena Jablonski and other relatives. Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Roland Struckman and Craig joined them for a trip to Sherman Dam, where they fished and had a picnic supper. They all said they enjoyed it very much.

See Nephew Graduate
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riecken drove to Elkhorn Wednesday to visit a brother, William Kroeger. They all attended graduation exercises at Elwood for their nephew. The Rieckens came home Friday with a niece, Cheryl Fitzgibbon, accompanying them for a week's visit. After their return home the Rieckens hosted Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoiston of Scottsbluff for a weekend visit. Other guests Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Veckerna and Junior Riecken. The group enjoyed visiting and playing cards.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zukoski visited Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Zukoski and family Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Barta and family of Burwell were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barta, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Miller of Scotts were Sunday afternoon guests of the Bartas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Klien-smidt of Norfolk were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Iwanski. In the afternoon they all called on Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zukoski and were supper guests. Mrs. Klien-smidt was formerly Victoria Flakus.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Michalski were Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Michalski and son Darwin of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Michalski and Michelle of Ansley, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Bilka and their son Richard, and Cathy Wotaszewski of Loup City. Afternoon and supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kruml, Joyce and Joe Jr. Joyce accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Dwaine Michalski to Lincoln following supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Zukoski and family were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Zukoski. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Konkoleski and Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bergland and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zukoski played cards at Mr. and Mrs. James Iwanski's Sunday evening. The men won the most games.

Mrs. Leon Cienny accompanied Dolsie Waterman to Grand Island Saturday. They stopped to see Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flakus (cousins of Mrs. Cienny) as the Flakuses have sold their home in Grand Island and will move to California the first part of June.

Mrs. Stella Klimcek and Delores visited Mr. and Mrs. Dan Klimcek and family Friday evening. The Roger Owen and Lavern Kowalski families of Lexington were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schamp. Leonard Schamp accompanied them home to spend the week at Lexington.
