Plane Crash Near Loup City Claims Life of Omaha Man

An Omaha man was killed Saturday night when his light plane crashed on a farm southeast of Loup City.

The dead man was identified as Calvin Kehn, 35. He was returning to Omaha from Oxford when the plane went down.

The Piper Tri-Pacer plunged to earth on a bank of the Middle Loup River, on the Paul Burmood farm. Kehn's body was thrown from the wreckage and fell across a log in the edge of the river.

Although the accident occurred Saturday, Mrs. Burmood said the wreckage was not discovered until shortly before noon Sunday. She said she and her husband heard something "which sounded like somebody doing a belly-flop into a swimming pool." However, she said it did not sound like a plane crash.

She said they thought no more about it until the next day when they talked with neighbors, who had also heard the sound, and learned that a plane was missing.

The wreck site was less than half a mile from the Burmood house.

State Patrolman Phil Quinn, who stood guard at the site Sunday night waiting for officials of the Federal Aviation Authority to arrive, said it was first believed that a woman was in the plane with Kehn because of several pieces of women's clothing found at the scene. However, it was later determined that the pilot was flying alone.

The plane apparently clipped a large tree on its way down.

Game Overseers Establish Hunting Seasons

Hunters in Nebraska will have to brush up a bit on the state's geography for several of this year's seasons, since Game Commissioners recently decided to regulate hunting pressure more closely by varying bag limits and opening days by area.

The state was divided into three zones for the pheasant hunt, with U.S. Highways 81 and 34 the boundaries. All of Nebraska west of U.S. 81 will open Nov. 1 with a bag limit of 3 birds and a possession limit of 9.

U.S. 81 and north of U.S. 34 also opens on Nov. 1, but the bag limit in this northeast corner of the state was cut to 2 ringnecks and possession limit was set at 4. In the southeast, east of U.S. 81 and south of U.S. 34, the season opens a week later, Nov. 8, with bag limits of 2 and possession limits of 4 birds.

The state was also divided for the quail season, with the same boundaries of U.S. Highways 81 and 34 setting the southeast corner apart from the rest of the state. Quail hunting starts in the southeast on Nov. 8, while the rest of the Nebraska takes to the field Nov. 1.

Other seasons adopted by the commission include grouse, Sept. 20 through Oct. 31; cottontail, year-round; squirrel, Sept. 1 through Jan. 31; goose, Oct. 1 through Dec. 25, and wild turkey, Oct. 25 through Nov. 9.

Obviously awed by the wonders of school on their first day of classes Thursday were these members of Miss Clara King's afternoon Kindergarten class. Left to right are Doug Schermitzky, Carol Blaha, Judy Rasmussen, and Karen Crane. Officials reported that total enrollment in the Ord Grade School this year is 330 students, down 26 from last year. At Comstock, on the other hand, enrollment is up 12 to a total of 39 pupils. And if you want to split the middle, try Ord High School. At noon Wednesday enrollment was 508 compared to 507 last May.

School Bill's Effects Felt

Freeholding Opened Up for Residents Of Non-Accredited K-6 Rural Districts

While refusing to force the issue of mandatory school re-districting directly, the Nebraska State Legislature has quietly passed a couple of less controversial measures which apparently will have many of the same long-range effects.

The measures are Legislative Bills 1378 and 1427, and both will have direct effects here in Valley County.

The first fallout from L.B. 1378 was felt Tuesday night when the District 5 Board of Education voted unanimously to accept the freehold petition of Bill Flock, transferring his property from a rural Garfield County district to Ord, and that of James Riddle, transferring his property from a rural Custer County district to Ord, previously had been ruled ineligible to transfer his property.

L.B. 1378 in effect does away with past requirements for freeholding from a kindergarten through sixth-grade district to a kindergarten through twelfth-grade district. Mrs. Jewell Buoy, county superintendent, said Tuesday afternoon the bill could have far-reaching effects in this area.

Previously, a landowner was required: (1) To pay his children's tuition to the gaining district for at least two years if he wished to transfer from a K-6 to a K-12 district; or (2) To live at least two miles from the schoolhouse in his district and be at least half a mile closer to the schoolhouse in the gaining district or to its bus route.

Those requirements have been abolished by L.B. 1378. Now a landowner may transfer from a district which is non-accredited to an accredited one at any time.

Mrs. Buoy said that every rural district in Valley County is non-accredited. This means the door has been flung wide open for any resident of a K-6 district to transfer to the Ord district if he so desires.

Leonard Kamarad, member of the Ord school board, said Tuesday night the change had already resulted in the closing of two rural districts in Custer County. He said his information came from the Custer County superintendent.

While it probably won't affect the situation in the long run, there is one small technicality which may bar other landowners from following Flock's example immediately. That requirement is that the school board in the gaining district—in this case Ord—accept the transfer.

Because a rash of requests at this time would overload facilities here, if they were approved, Mrs. Buoy said the Ord board would be reluctant to accept very many transfers immediately.

And indeed, that seemed to be the case as the board members deliberated the Flock request. Flock himself lives in Ord, but the Kenny Martinsen family which resides on the property in question includes three school-age children.

The addition of those youngsters means there are now 52 children on the bus route serving that area. Seating capacity on the school bus is 48.

After some discussion the board members voted to accept the property anyhow. The opinion was expressed that seldom would all 52 children be riding the bus at the same day. It was also mentioned that any parents who wished to bring or send their children to school by automobile would help alleviate the situation.

Where a family is merely renting the land in question, as the Martinsens are doing, the property owner must request the transfer.

The only exception to this transfer-at-any-time rule, Mrs. Buoy said, is when a non-accredited district "is under the umbrella of a Class 6 (county) school district."

Another stipulation of L.B. 1378 is that no property owner may transfer from a Class 3 school district, which Ord is. Mrs. Buoy said this means the Ord district cannot lose any valuation through property owners freeholding into another district, such as Arcadia or Sargent.

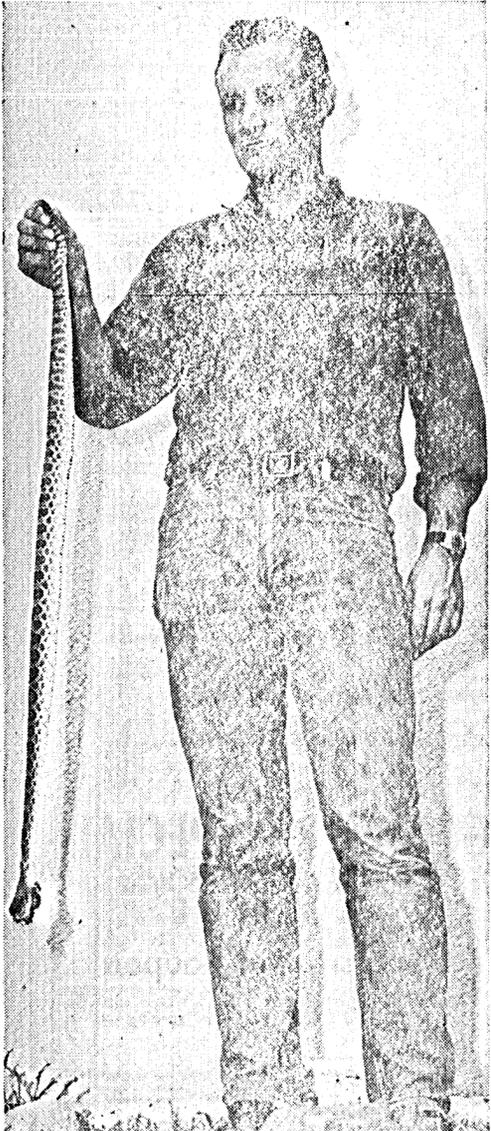

The second law passed by the legislature, L.B. 1427, affects the makeup of the County Reorganization Committee. Also effective immediately, it alters the requirement that members of the county committee be members of an elected school board. Now any citizen may serve.

More important, it will alter the makeup of the committee so that more individuals from larger districts will serve. Previously there were two members from each class of school district. In Valley County this meant there were two members from Ord (Class 3), two from Arcadia (Class 2), and two from the rural districts (Class 1). Mrs. Buoy said as a rule representatives of Classes 1 and 2 have been voting together on reorganization questions.

Under the new law, instead of the two-two-two makeup, there will be one representative from each class of school district, plus one member selected at-large. The remaining members (there must be at least six on the board but not more than 10) will be chosen on a population-proportion basis. Thus, the Ord district would gain some representation in relation to the Arcadia area and more in comparison with the rural districts.

A new reorganization committee will be elected by school boards of the various districts in the county sometime during the next four months. Mrs. Buoy said she is directed by law to call a meeting to elect a new board within 120 days from Aug. 27.

The superintendent said county reorganization committees were established by state law in 1949. She said their purpose is to make recommendations and give advice concerning reorganization, but that so far they have accomplished little in this area. One reason cited was the lack of unity between representatives of the different type districts.

Displaying the rattlesnake he slew last week south of Ord is Andy Sydzik. He and two fellow REA employees, Dan Klimek and Frank Smedera, found the snake in a road not far from the Lloyd Geweke place. Sydzik said he killed the viper "with an eight-foot lamp" while his co-workers gave directions from a safe distance. In fact, Sydzik said the distance was so safe they had to use binoculars. The snake measured 40 inches and had nine rattles, as the picture below shows.

North Loup-Scotia Student Recommended For National Degree by Future Farmers

Larry White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Randall White of North Loup, has been recommended for the American Farmer Degree.

This recommendation was made by the board of student officers and directors of the national organization of Future this honor in the history of either the North Loup school, the Scotia school, or the combined North Loup Scotia School.

Another winner of this same award in the North Loup Valley was Danny Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Morgan of Burwell.

Larry... honored

Farmers of America. It must be confirmed by the delegates at the National FFA convention in October, to be held in Kansas City, Mo.

The American Farmer Degree is conferred only by the national organization located in Washington, D. C.

Larry enrolled in the North Loup Scotia schools in the fall of 1962. At that time he registered to take vocational agriculture, and during his first and second year his production enterprises consisted of one fattening beef, three registered Yorkshire gilts, two breeding bees, and eight acres of milt. This program increased to the point that on Jan. 1, 1969, his inventory included 34 registered Yorkshire sows and gilts, 14 Hereford breeding cows and heifers, 51 beef animals, and two riding horses. He is also half owner of 160 acres of land.

Larry has the distinction of being the first person to receive

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Huff at Mickel's Restaurant in Harlan, Ia., on Aug. 22. An arrangement of tangerine carnations and green spider mums sided by green tapers made up the table centerpiece.
A buffet supper was served by the bride's parents at their home following the church reception. Approximately 100 guests were present.

Newlyweds . . . the Patrick Waldmanns

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church in Ord was the scene of the 2 p.m. wedding of Kathleen Williams and Patrick Waldmann on Aug. 23, 1969. Rev. Stanley Gorka performed the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass.
Sonja Swanek was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Shirley Uphoff at the organ.

Jones Granddaughter Weds Lexington Man

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams of Westchester, Va. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Waldmann of Burwell.
Given in marriage by her father the bride was a picture of old-fashioned charm in a hoop-skirted gown of crisp rose patterned lace moulded through the bodice, with long, pointed sleeves and scalloped decolletage. Her luxurious skirt was a cascade of ruffled tiers which dipped to form her chapel train, while her bouffant veil of silk tulle was arranged from a double crown of lace studded with pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of tropicanna roses and stephanotis.
Paula Waldmann served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cecile Waldmann, Burwell and Jan Jeffers, Grand Island. They wore lime green bonded crepe gowns with empire waists and matching headpieces. Each carried a nosegay of tropicanna sweetheart roses accented with baby's breath and a shower of ribbon.
Evelyn Williams served as best man and groomsmen were Alan Waldmann of Windsor, Wis., and Rod Uphoff of Madison, Wis. Ushers were Mike Williams, Grand Island; Larry Rutar, Ord; Ron Waldmann, Carlisle; and Mike Krikac, Burwell.
Following the ceremony a reception was held at St. Mary's Auditorium. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kiepel were hosts. Sonja Swanek presided at the guest book. The gift table was in charge of Marilyn Kutar, Kathy Waldmann and Cheryl Uphoff. Mrs. Paul Waldmann and Mrs. Clayton Montanye cut cake. Lonna Axthelm served punch, and Phyllis Harkness poured coffee. Corky Swanek and Monica Kamarad served the bride's table.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were bridesmaids Sandra Cox and Janice Hanna (the latter is a sister of the bride) and maid of honor Cheryl Wolf. Their alike street-length dresses were of pale pink brocade designed in an empire mode with short puffed sleeves and sashed with pink satin ribbon. Each wore a matching headpiece with shoulder-length veil. Their bouquets were of pink rosebuds.
The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She chose a floor-length "A-line" gown of imported organza and chantilly lace, styled with an all-lace empire bodice, a high neckline, and traditional-length sleeves tapered to the wrists. Jeweled face appliques trimmed the skirt and the detachable wateau train, of chapel length.
Miss Hanna's bouffant elbow-length illusion veil was attached to a petal cluster of pearl-edged lace, featuring small organza rosebuds. She carried a bouquet of nine pink rosebuds. Her earrings, a family heirloom, were worn by her grandmother on her wedding day.

Carol's Corner

by Carol Leggett

There's no easier way for me to get into the spirit of the fall season than by attending the Fall Festival at Arcadia. I've taken this easy way out for several years now, and for some reason after attending I feel light-hearted and ready to begin another lap of the year. I love to see the parade, the queen coronation, and the amateur acting performances.

Each year I marvel at the cooperation and organization that flows so freely among the Arcadia folks — obviously making this celebration the success it is each year. Someone once said, "Who knows how many languages you know if you can't speak Friendly?" These Arcadians know the language of Friendliness.

Welcome indeed is this dietetic recipe for Cookies With-Out Sugar submitted by Mrs. Earl Nelson.

- 3/4 c. butter or margarine
- 4 t. Sweet Tea
- 1 egg well beaten
- 1 1/2 c. sifted flour
- 1 t. soda
- 1/3 t. cloves
- 1/2 t. cinnamon
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1/4 t. salt
- 2 bananas (mashed)
- 3/4 c. nut meats
- 1/2 c. oatmeal browned in oven
- 1/2 c. dates
- 1/2 c. raisins

Four 1/2 c. boiling water on chopped dates and raisins and let stand several minutes. Cream butter and beat egg; add Sweet Tea to the egg; then add this to the butter; beat. Sift flour, soda, spice, and salt, and add to mixture. Stir by hand. Add vanilla, fruit, nuts, and oatmeal. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake 15 minutes in 400 degree oven. Do not overbake.

Remove gum from fabric by placing items inside a plastic bag in the freezer for several hours. Gum then peels off easily.

A startled Ord mother nearly collapsed last week when she noticed two boys riding down the middle of the street — each garbed in a hood-like attire made from burlap sacks. Recognizing the one bicycle as her son's, she raced to the door shouting, "Get that thing off your head!" At that moment her son — riding the bike of a playmate and wearing the same type costume — came pedaling up on the sidewalk. "But Mom, I can see perfectly!"

Instances like these are just another reason why mothers get gray!

Susan Cook Becomes Mrs. Larry Hurlburt In Methodist Ceremony at Arcadia Church

In a candlelight ceremony on Aug. 23, Susan Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orent of Ord became the bride of Larry Hurlburt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hurlburt of Arcadia. The Rev. Earl Higgins solemnized the 7:30 o'clock ceremony before the altar of the United Methodist Church of Arcadia.

Providing the setting for the service was an altar arrangement of white gladioli and lavender mums complete with white candelabras. Mrs. Mary Lou Heikel sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Mrs. Viola Hackel.

Given in marriage by her brother, James Cook of Columbus, the bride appeared wearing a full length white gown of peau d'oise with short sleeves, empire waist and princess seams. The floor and sleeves were accented with elegant embroidered lace. A double row of Galloon lace marked the full length skirt and edged the chapel train which fell from the center back. Petals of pearls and illusion held the three tiered shoulder length veil. The gown and veil were designed by the bride. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride carried a large nosegay of multi-colored daisies centered around a pink rose corsage. Three attendants led the bridal procession. Mrs. Linda Sell of Arcadia, served her sister as matron of honor; Mrs. Bonita Hawley of Kearney and Mrs. Linda Micek of Ord served as bridesmaids. They wore three length gowns of pastel shades — pink, blue and yellow respectively — fashioned with daisy patterned cotton eyelid bodices and empire waists. Matching slippers, white gloves and nylon tulle headpieces completed their ensembles. Each carried a nosegay of multi-colored daisies.

Terina Trotter of Arcadia was flower girl. The lines of her

Judith Faye Stine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stine of Bertrand, and Arnold A. (Drew) Pierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pierson of Arcadia, were united in marriage at Hope Lutheran Church of Smithfield Aug. 24 at 3:30 p.m.

Rev. William Fink performed the double-ring ceremony. Bouquets of white gladioli, yellow mums, and white daisy mums adorned the altar, which was flanked on either side by seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Walter Apperson of Blair provided organ music and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Stephen Davis of Amherst and Rev. Ray Johnson of Omaha. Mrs. Davis, a sister of the groom, sang "A Wedding Prayer" and "Walk Hand in Hand." "One Hand, One Heart" and "To Glorify Thee" were sung by Mr. Johnson. The congregation joined the soloists, in singing "The Lord's Prayer."

The organist also accompanied Miss Bonnie Haydon of Lafayette, Calif., who played the processional and recessional on the flute. "Praise to the Lord" was the processional number and "Walk Hand in Hand," the recessional.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore an empire-waist gown of nylon organza over peau de soie with a sheer chapel-length train. Daisies highlighted the Venise diamond lace bodice and encircled the neckline and full seven-eighths sleeves.

Miss Stine's chapel-length veil of bridal illusion was caught to a forward headpiece of daisies and seed pearls. Her gown and veil were made by a sister, Mrs. Eugene Burkhead.

The bride also carried a cascade of roses and mums. Sharon Stine of Bellevue, another sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sharon Mannlein of Lincoln, Mrs. Norman Hodge of Topeka, Kan., Carolyn Allen of Bellevue, and Judy Reiter of Kearney. They wore floor-length gowns of yellow voile and yellow picture hats, and carried white daisy mums.

Serving as best man was Jerry Novacek of McCook, and groomsmen were Lee Sybrant of Omaha, Norman Hodge of Topeka, Kan., Jerry Hawley of Kearney and Del John of Omaha. The groom and his attendants wore bronze tuxedo jackets made by Mrs. Pierson.

For her going-away dress the new Mrs. Pierson chose a yellow lace two-piece ensemble. The newlyweds are residing in Omaha. Both are employed by the Bellevue Schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Norman and family spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Don Wozniak of Benedict. On Sunday and Monday they all attended the Nebraska State Fair.

Kathryn Williams is back at her desk in the Valley County Welfare Department following a week of vacation. Ramona Luoma is now assisting in the office.

How BIG is a bank?

How do you measure the bigness of a bank — by its total assets, the total number of deposits, or the number of its depositors???

Yes, all of these enter into the overall evaluation of any bank, but we believe, here at First National Bank of Ord that the most important factor in being a "big" bank is the kind and amount of service given those who bank with us.

At First National, we've found that good friendly service in our everyday banking has meant — for our customers and us — better banking everyday, and better and bigger banking year after year.

Bruce Brickner and bride Jean... wed Aug. 23

Jean Absalon and Bruce Brickner Married In Evening Ceremony at Catholic Church

In a 7 o'clock evening ceremony Aug. 23, Jean Absalon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Absalon, and Bruce Brickner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brickner, were united in marriage.

The ceremony took place at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Ord, with Rev. Stanley Gorak officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she selected a white A-line gown featuring a high beaded collar and long sleeves with beaded cuffs. She wore a matching pearl crown. A triangular cascade of tropicanna roses completed the bride's ensemble.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Nancy Augustyn. Other attendants were Leah Brickner, bridesmaid; Cathy and Teresa Smith, junior bridesmaids. They were gowned in A-line dresses featuring front bows and pleats in set with lace, and carried circular bouquets of tropicanna roses. The bridesmaids' dresses were moss green, and the junior bridesmaids were dressed in gold.

Flower girls were Denise Absalon and Janet Brickner, who were attired in coral colored bell sleeved frocks and carried lace baskets.

Best man was Ron Augustyn. Groomsmen were Randy McCall, Paul Absalon, and Neal Brickner. Dennis Absalon and John Brickner seated the guests.

A reception at St. Mary's Auditorium following the ceremony was served by Circle Seven of the Church. Mrs. Joe Fajmon was hostess. Mrs. Marilyn Smith and Josie Absalon cut and served the cake. Mrs. Dennis Absalon poured punch, and Mrs. John Brickner served coffee. Peggy Kary was in charge of the guest book. Marlene Urbanski, Bethene Manchester and Sue Turek attended the gift table.

The bride, an Ord High School graduate, is a student at the Lincoln School of Commerce. The groom, also a graduate of Ord High School, is a student at Nebraska Vocational Technical School at Milford.

The couple are at home at 333 South 19th Street, Lincoln.

Comstock Comments

Town Goes Wet Despite Long Hot Dry Spell

By Wilma Nagorski
Comstock will have liquor by the drink after the special election was held Monday purposely to determine if Comstock would have a seventy-seven percent vote that day. Fifty were in favor and twenty-seven against.

This community received around 30 of rain this week. Much more would be welcome.

Facing Challenge

North Loup-Scotia Coach Sees Rosy Fall Ahead if Injuries Are Contained

For a coach who's starting a new football season minus seven graduated all-conference performers, Keith Staehr is unusually optimistic.

"I don't know if it's because I've had a year's experience or what," the North Loup-Scotia coach explained Thursday, "but I feel better about our prospects now than I did at this time a year ago."

That can mean only one thing for North Loup-Scotia fans this fall — more trouble. For in Staehr's maiden season as a coach his Wildcats posted an 8-2 record, losing only to Wolbach, 19-14, and O'Neill St. Mary's, 24-7.

Both those teams were undefeated. In a playoff for the LHFC Conference championship, North Loup-Scotia blasted Arnold, 40-0.

"You can't lose seven all-conference players and not be down some," Staehr said in assessing prospects for the coming season, "but on the other hand I feel we have a pretty dedicated bunch of kids. That 8-2 record of last year is a pretty big challenge for them. And it's a big challenge for me too — I know I'll be trying to improve on it."

Four starters return to help Staehr in the effort.

Foremost among them is Jon Reeves, who provided North Loup-Scotia with its eighth all-conference designation last year. He earned all-star laurels as both an offensive guard and a middle linebacker on defense.

Only a junior this year, Reeves has put on 15 pounds and is up to a solid 190. Yet he retains the same speed and mobility he had last season.

"He's a leader and he likes contact," Staehr said of his star lineman. "Last year he was just a sophomore, but our seniors hated to line up against him in practice."

Reeves is especially gifted at performing the difficult "pulling-guard" assignments which are so essential in a power offense like the Wildcats employ.

"We used an off-tackle power play as our most basic maneuver last year," Staehr said, "and it was Reeves and Clifford Jorgensen that made it go." Reeves was responsible for pulling from his guard position and blocking out the opposing end. Jorgensen, who played offensive end, was supposed to take down the opposing tackle, leaving a hole between him and the end for the ball carrier to shoot through. They did their jobs well, as both their coach and the record books indicate.

The other half of that premier blocking combination — Jorgensen — is also back to brighten Staehr's face when he starts counting his blessings. A mere 135-pounder, the wiry senior nevertheless handled himself well among the heavyweights last season. But chances are he'll leave the manual labor to others this fall and take on a more glamorous role.

In practice sessions Jorgensen has been working some at quarterback, which Staehr lists as his biggest question mark. There are two other candidates, but the coach says he "won't be afraid to put Jorgensen in if the others don't move the team."

"The Hawkeyes," as he called by his teammates, was also used some last year on defense as a corner back, and he'll likely draw heavier duty there this season. "I thought Jorgensen was the best end in the conference last year," his coach stated. "He didn't get the recognition because we weren't a passing team, but he did everything that was asked of him."

Bruce Bergman, a reliable performer at center last year, and Dave Edwards, a durable little back, rounded out the quartet of returning starters.

Bergman, like Reeves, will be just a junior this fall. But he's a tough 180-pounder who fits into the Wildcat line nicely alongside his more heralded classmate. Last season Bergman got to rest when North Loup-Scotia was on defense, but this year there'll be no relaxing until game's end. For Staehr is planning to use him as a defensive guard in addition to his snap-back duties on offense.

Edwards — a 135-pound senior — drew double duty in 1968 as a running back on offense and a corner back on defense, and that isn't likely to change this time around.

With that nucleus to build around, Staehr has already found a couple of new jewels that fit into the Wildcat pattern nicely. They are Craig Wegner, a versatile sophomore who will play either fullback or end, and Roger Otto, a raw-boned senior tackle who has looked good this fall even though he did not play last year.

They could be overshadowed, though, by Cordy Kriewald, a sophomore who Staehr thinks has the most potential of any of his running backs. Kriewald, however, had not reported for practice as of Thursday because he had been busy helping with farm chores. Possessing good size at 170 pounds and good speed, Kriewald will be used at fullback if he reports. That in turn will free Wegner for use at offensive end.

"There's no question but that Wegner can play fullback if we need him there," Staehr stated, "but he can really help our line if we are able to use him at end. He started some on our basketball team last year, so you know he's agile."

Wegner weighs 185 pounds, and is the younger brother of Chuck Wegner. The elder Wegner was one of last year's all-conference designees and started for North Loup-Scotia in other sports as well.

Staehr is also high on Otto, whom he terms a "big horse." "He was not out for football the last two years, but he lettered as a freshman," the coach explained, "so he must have something on the ball." Staehr said Otto was the kind of player who'll really like contact when we start knocking heads. He's another good-sized lad at 185 pounds.

Other prime candidates include Rod VanSlyke, a 135-pound sophomore who is the only quarterback with any experience; Randy Winters, 140, a senior quarterback hopeful who sat out last season; and Jeff Wert, 200-pound senior who is battling Mike Rasmussen, 170-pound senior, for the starting tackle position opposite Otto; Bruce Bredthauer, 170-pound junior who will probably start at defensive end and fill in either at tackle or guard on offense; Steve Rasmussen, 165-pound sophomore who is engaged in a fierce battle with Rod Jess, 150-pound junior, for the starting guard position opposite Reeves; Jerry Hansen, 150-pound junior who could start at end if Jorgensen has to play quarterback or Wegner fullback; Wayne Dultz, 130-pound junior who also figures in the end picture; Jerry Van Horn, 130-pound senior who's pushing for a halfback post; and Al Foss, 140-pound junior who's another halfback contender.

Quarterback is the most fluid position on the team as Staehr seeks to find a replacement for Jim Clement, the 6'3 190-pounder who completed 63 percent of his passes last year.

The problem might have been solved had Terry Keown been able to play this year, but he underwent back surgery a few weeks ago and is considered out for the season. Keown started in the defensive backfield last year and played some fullback on offense. Staehr had been counting on making a quarterback out of him this season.

Regardless of who winds up at quarterback, Staehr promises that his charges will pass "no more than we have to," and will attempt instead to play ball-control. "Too many things can happen when you throw the ball," he stated. "I learned my lesson on that last year." He then told of one game in which his team had moved down near the opponent's goal line when he sent in a play calling for a pass into the flat. It was intercepted.

Assets that will come in handy in the power game are size and quickness, and Staehr's charges have both.

"We're not as big as last year, but we're still not small by any means," Staehr pointed out, citing a potential starting line of ends that weigh 185 and 135, tackles that scale 205 and 185, guards that go 190 and 165, and a center that weighs 180. "That's not bad for Class C," he added.

As for speed, he said:

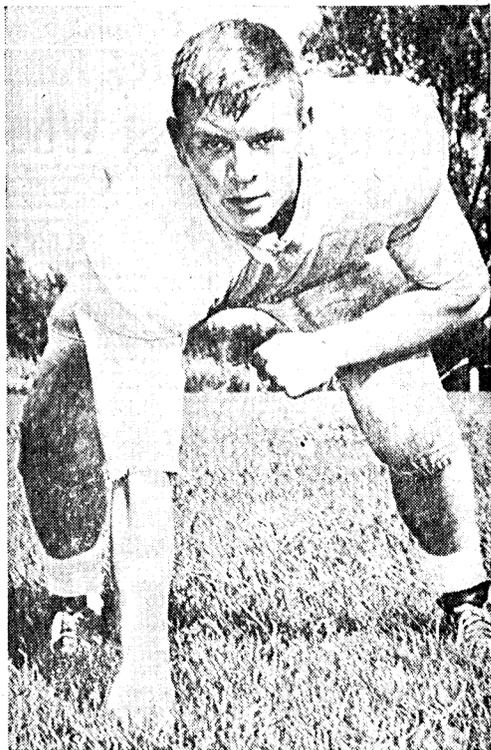

"We're not fast, but we're pretty quick. The optimism, Staehr did acknowledge that his team was short on depth and a couple of injuries to key players could wreak havoc.

Dismissing from counting his eggs at this early stage, Staehr commented:

"Too many things can go wrong."

On the other hand, a lot of things could go right, if so, it should be another good year for fans of the Black and White.

Leadership Vacuum Bothers Squier; Markley Gains in Quarterback Battle

With the 1969 football season barely more than a week away, Coach Ken Trubey has found a quarterback but is still without a leader.

Sophomore Paul Markley has advanced to the front of a three-man quarterback class, and is now considered a likely starter in his first varsity game on week from Friday. When practice opened Aug. 25, Squier had listed as his top priority the finding of a quarterback.

But the solving of one problem only leaves more time for others.

"We've got to find a leader," Squier said Tuesday night, "someone who can inspire the rest of the team and keep them fired up. We have a lot of enthusiasm, but it's not constant."

Trubey compared his problem to having a pan full of popcorn with only an occasional flicker of flame underneath it.

"We have some sporadic popping, but not enough flame to keep us going all the time. We need a spark, but we need one that might make the difference between winning and losing several close games."

Klancecky Missed Squier said Bill Klancecky possibly could have provided that leadership, but for the third year in a row he will miss the season because of ill health. A tumor was discovered on the lower part of his body when opening-day physicals were held, and he underwent surgery in a North Platte hospital to have it removed.

Squier said doctors have now completed tests and concluded that it was not malignant, but Klancecky will not be counted on for football.

Last year he missed the season because of a broken hand suffered six days before the opening game, and his sophomore season he was bothered with a kidney infection.

"Losing a kid like that really hurts," Squier said, "but we're just thankful it wasn't more serious."

"Bill was a good leader—he could get 'em moving. You like to have a kid like that."

Klancecky had been counted on as a possible quarterback, or if he failed to make the grade Trubey was thinking of using him as a halfback. "It was a good ball carrier and could throw," the coach said, "and would have given us a good threat on the halfback option play."

Offensive Line Shines In areas other than leadership, Squier continued to be optimistic. He was especially encouraged following Tuesday's workout—which included the roughest scrimmage of fall practice so far—by the development of the offensive line.

"The whole line has improved terrifically, since the start of workouts," he exclaimed. "Fred Williams (assistant coach) has done a tremendous job with them." Then he singled out junior tackle Stan Axthelm, a 170-pounder, for special praise.

"We had been playing him at defensive end, but he might be our answer at the other offensive tackle spot," Squier stated, explaining that senior Chuck Setlik—biggest man on the squad at 215 pounds—has developed sufficiently to claim one tackle position.

Speaking of Axthelm, the coach continued, "He has real good reactions, and we found out today he likes to hit. If he continues to develop, he might relieve some of our kids so they won't have to play both ways."

Squier said the offense is beginning to take on something of a set look, but that Coach Ken Trubey is continuing to take a long hard look before naming the defensive leaders.

First Offense On offense the starters look like this:

Fullback—Dennis Karamard, 170-pound senior, or Larry Wells, 170-pound sophomore.

Line May Surprise As the weights indicate, the line will be light. But Squier said boys in the 160-to-170-pound class are the kind "who can surprise you."

"We think they'll be able to get over the line faster and penetrate better than some big 'guy' boys," he said. "On defense we'll really be firing in."

Just about all the possible starters drew good remarks from Squier.

"Most of our seniors have been producing pretty well," he said. "We know boys like Paul Markowski (who plays defensive end), Bill Miller, Jim Novotny, Bruce Hurlbert, and Bruce Worm could play football. And we thought Loren Vancura would improve and could play — in fact, he was improving at the end of last season."

Besides Axthelm, the "sleeper" list includes Hruby, "who came in and picked things up pretty quickly."

"Basically we have about 15 or 16 kids who can play our kind of schedule right now," Squier stated. "But it's still a big question mark as to how the younger ones can develop and give us some depth."

Sophomores Helping At least some of the youngsters are developing quite rapidly. Squier cited four sophomores "who are really coming on."

They are Markley, Larry Wells, Jim Martin, and David John.

"Wells has really been cracking 'em," the coach stated. "I think he's as good a linebacker as we had at any time last year, and he's pushing Dennis Karamard for that starting fullback spot."

In fact, Wells is looking so good at linebacker that Squier doesn't think last year's starter — Bill Miller — will see much action at that position. "Bob Peterson is our other linebacker, and he's looking good too. I doubt if Miller will get in at that position."

Squier said Martin was being looked at as a possibility for both the offensive and defensive lines. However, he's slowed right now by a pulled groin muscle. "No doubt he'll play a lot on defense," the head mentor stated.

John also is being looked at closely on defense.

Squier said he has cut practices down to one workout a day,

Why 99 out of every 100 new homeowners heat with gas.

They know it'll be cheaper, for one thing. Cheaper to operate all winter long. Like 1/3 the cost of electric heat. Cheaper in the long run to maintain, too.

But there are other important things to consider. Cleaning and redecorating costs, for instance. Over the years, they'll be lower than with other kinds of heat because a central gas system forces stale, used air back into the furnace where it passes through a filter. The filter takes impurities out that shouldn't be there, making the air fresh again. And don't forget the proven reliability of gas heat.

Gas heat. It's best for a lot of reasons. At least 99 out of every 100 new homeowners think so. Modern gas heating equipment is available from Kansas-Nebraska... easy terms on your gas bill if you like.

Best Time To Plant Alfalfa Is Now

By John Schade

With weed problems at a minimum, alfalfa seeded during the period Aug. 15 - Sept. 20 should grow extremely well.

Weeds will pose more problems for new plantings in the spring, but stands planted this fall will be ready to go by spring.

If irrigation is possible, a sprinkling would stimulate growth of the new seedlings even more.

Once the tiny plants peak from the soil, they should be observed regularly for insects and sprayed as needed.

Prepare Grain Bins Now For Storage
With corn and milo harvest just a little over a month off, it may be well to be thinking about preparing your storage facilities for the new crop.

To prevent stored-grain insects from infesting new supplies, these pointers are important:

• Never store new grain with old grain.

• Clean bins thoroughly. Using a vacuum sweeper, clean dust and old grain from cracks, walls, and ceilings. Most insect infestations arise from insects already present in old grain or grain debris.

• Rodent-proof bins while they are empty.

• Spray on enough of a residual insecticide spray to wet the surfaces of floors, walls, and ceilings. Use either premium-grade malathion, 37 percent, at the rate of one pint in five gallons of water, or methoxychlor, 50 percent wettable powder, at three-fourths pound per three gallons of water.

• As grains are elevated into bins, use a grain protectant of premium-grade malathion or pyrethrin. Follow label instructions.

Treating Cattle for Grubs May Be Urgent
Time may be running short for Nebraska stockmen to safely treat cattle of southern-state origin for grubs. The cattle grub's life cycle varies from north to south, with earlier maturity in the warmer southern climates.

Cattle from southern Texas should already have been treated. If examination shows grubs coming up through the cattle's backs, however, the animals probably can still be treated immediately without hazardous side-effects. If large numbers of grubs in or near the cattle's backs are killed at one time, however, shock reaction may be severe.

Native Nebraska cattle can be treated for grubs ideally until Oct. 1, but if necessary until Nov. 1. For best results, grubs should be killed in the earliest part of the life cycle, or within the next two months.

The easiest and most effective treatment is a pour-on solution of Neganon, Co-Ral, or a new preparation called Famphur.

Ruelene, diluted one to three parts water, is another treatment. Pour the measured amount down the cattle's backs with dippers. This treatment penetrates into the skin, is absorbed, and systemically kills the grubs in the flesh.

If the animals are to be sprayed, spray carefully and thoroughly.

Feed additives are another method. Care must be taken, however, to assure that the animals eat the right amount of additives over a prescribed period of time.

In all cases, label instructions should be read carefully and followed precisely for effective treatment.

The Parrot Beauty Salon will be closed Sept. 6 thru Sept. 18 Except Friday, Sept. 12 you may call 728-5987 for appt.

Former Postmistress at Comstock Succumbs in Broken Bow Hospital

Funeral services were held Friday morning for Gladys Grace Rockhold, a former postmistress at Comstock. Mrs. Rockhold died Aug. 27 at the Broken Bow Community Hospital. She was 79 years old.

Rev. Robert Fresco officiated at the 10 o'clock service held at the United Methodist Church in Comstock. Deborah Stone sang "How Great Thou Art" and "Abide With Me," accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Riddle at the organist.

Interment was in the Douglas Grove Cemetery at Comstock with O. W. Riddle, Merl Henderson, Charles Howery, Adolph Bartu, Vernon Sorenson, and Ludvick Visek as pallbearers. Hastings-Pearson Mortuary had charge of arrangements.

Born Apr. 3, 1890, at Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. Rockhold was the daughter of Edward and Ida Wescott Gibbons. As a child she moved to Comstock, which had been her home since. She and John Rockhold were united in marriage there on July 25, 1910.

Mrs. Rockhold served as postmistress in Comstock from 1932 until 1960. She was a member of the Broken Bow Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and a regular attendant of the Comstock United Methodist Church.

Survivors are her husband, of Comstock, one sister, Mrs. Eva Brown of Sargent; one brother, Walter E. Gibbons Sr. of Com-

Senators Again Refuse To Tamper With Mandatory School Redistricting

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Assn.

LINCOLN — If Nebraskans are going to vote in 1970 on changing their constitution to require that all school districts provide kindergarten-through-12th grade education, the issue will have to get on the ballot by petition.

The legislature has made it clear — again — it isn't going to put it there.

Earlier in this session the Education Committee killed a bill which would have advanced the mandatory redistricting question to the voters.

Then, in the waning days of the 1969 session, Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff tried for the same thing with a resolution. The resolution was channeled to the Education Committee — and stuck there. Two motions to have it advanced to the floor failed to get enough support.

Carpenter made a motion on the floor to retrieve the resolution from the committee, but he failed. His motion, which needed at least 25 supporting votes, drew an 18-20 roll call. (Senator Rudolf Kokes, representing the 41st Legislative District, was present but abstained from voting on the controversial measure.)

This left the backers of forced consolidation only the petition method of getting the constitutional amendment onto the general election ballot.

They said they were prepared to launch the petition campaign. They will need to gather nearly 50,000 valid signatures to get the job done.

Last year a petition campaign was waged to put on the ballot an amendment which would have outlawed the state income tax. The anti-tax forces went all the way to the State Supreme Court to prove the legality of their signatures, and they did succeed in getting the issue on the ballot. But it was beaten on election day.

Many of the questions concerning validity tests for petition signatures were resolved by that court decision, so there should not be so many uncertainties if Carpenter's backers go through with their redistricting petition. The 1969 legislature also has passed laws clearing up additional areas which had been fuzzy.

School Aid Challenge
Goes to High Court

The state's highest court is scheduled to provide the final answer to questions about the proper method for distributing state school aid.

District Judge William Hastings of Lincoln recently handed down a decision in which he said the State Education Dept. hadn't been accurate when it made its distribution for the past school year.

The State Board of Education, in turn, said it was Hastings who hadn't been clear in his ruling. The members then decided the only way to resolve the issue was to appeal the district court ruling to the supreme court.

Hastings' decision came in a challenge made by the Omaha School District, which had claimed it was deprived of $1 1/2 million it should have received.

The Omaha district said it lost the money in penalties assessed because its budget for the past year represented an increase of more than 8 percent in per-pupil costs over the budget for the previous year.

When the Omaha schools appealed to the state board for a waiver of the penalties, they were turned down. That led to the court case.

But Hastings said in his opinion the entire distribution of the state aid kitty was made incorrectly by the Education Dept. and the whole thing should be done over.

According to Education Dept. officials, the judge's opinion left them confused. They said he told them they were wrong, but didn't give them any guidance about how to correct their mistakes.

Penalty Clause Removed
Lawsuits resulting from state-aid distribution may have been avoided for the future by action taken during the 1969 legislative session.

In a bill which increases the state-aid kitty by $10 million a year — to a total of $35 million annually — the penalty clause is repealed. If the bill passes, there will be no loss of state aid for districts which exceed the per-pupil cost limits and the responsibility for keeping school taxes in line will rest solely on local boards of education.

The bill was one of a few still remaining to be dealt with as the legislature moved toward adjournment last week. If the lawmakers stay at their desks long enough to make a final determination on it, there appears to be enough strength to pass it.

Budget Suggestions Sought
For obvious reasons, one of the most heated subjects during the 1969 session were the budget bills. Last week the senators passed a measure which they hoped would make the budgeting process a little easier in 1971.

The bill requires the fiscal an-

A Good Idea Gone Bad

What was intended as a safety aid for the school children of this community has turned into a giant headache for area motorists.

We refer, of course, to the new flashing stop signs which have been removed from the area of the Ord Grade School and placed on L Street, which doubles as U.S. Highways 11 and 70. The latest count showed more than 40 motorists had received tickets since the two lights went into operation Thursday. The problem had become so bad by Tuesday that some motorists were reportedly taking detours to avoid the confusing arrangement.

Several factors undoubtedly entered into the high incidence of citations. One, of course, was the fact that the lights were new and motorists who had driven by that location for years simply were not looking for them. Individual motorists will have to correct that shortcoming.

However, this cannot be the only thing wrong when such a large number of violations is involved. Happily, some officials have indicated they are already aware of the shortcomings and are making suggestions or taking actions to correct the situation.

Suggestions include placing warning signs a block in advance of the stop signs, thereby advising motorists that they will have to stop ahead. This would tip drivers off to be on the lookout for something special.

Two additional lights have been suggested also, and it was reported at Tuesday night's school board meeting that such lights have been ordered. Presently the two available lights are located at intersections one block apart. One stops traffic coming from the east; the other traffic from the west. However, at the intersection where traffic is stopped from the east it is not stopped from the west and vice versa.

Many motorists apparently are confused as to whether they must stop from both directions at both intersections. The answer is no—at least until the two additional lights are installed. They must stop only when the sign faces their lane of traffic. (However, they are required to yield anytime pedestrians are in a marked crosswalk, regardless of whether the intersection is marked with a light or stop sign.)

Finally, some motorists have complained that other signs marred their view of the stop lights. Highway Department officials have already taken action to correct that.

When installed properly, these lights should afford a greater measure of protection for the children of this community. We trust that the corrective actions which have been indicated will be accomplished promptly by the responsible officials.

One further note: motorists apparently are not the only persons disregarding the signs. School children have been seen crossing the busy highway in the middle of the block, paying no attention to the lights set up for their safety half a block away.

Parents and school officials should see to it that every child is advised of the importance of crossing at the marked intersections.

A Lonesome Night at the Fire Hall

Thousands of accidents occur daily in these United States. Some are minor, some not so minor.

Many times these accidents occur in locales where professional medical help is not quickly available. When this happens, it sometimes results in a needless death.

How many of the nation's drowning victims, for example, could have been saved this summer if someone had known how to apply mouth-to-mouth resuscitation? How many youngsters who died when they stuck bobby pins into an electrical outlet could have been saved if their mothers had known how to properly treat shock victims? And how many automobile deaths could have been averted if someone had known how to apply emergency actions immediately?

Here in rural Nebraska—where towns with doctors are often some distance apart, and where so many love to take to the lakes or the backwoods for an occasional outing—a knowledge of elementary first aid is particularly desirable.

Last Wednesday night the first in a series of 10 first-aid lessons was to be conducted at the Ord Fire Hall. One person stopped to inquire what time the lessons started. No one else bothered even to do that, even though the lessons had been announced through both local news media.

Dan Johnson, who had agreed to conduct the lessons on behalf of the Ord Volunteer Fire Department, does not give up easily. He was to be at the Fire Hall again last night (Wednesday) and make a second attempt to begin the lessons. They ordinarily last from 7 to 9 p.m.

Anyone whose formal first-aid knowledge is either non-existent or out of date should be present for these free lessons.

Even if you know the proper life-saving techniques, it may be you'll never save a life. But it's a cinch you won't if you don't know those techniques.

Fellers Agree That Companionship Is a Mighty Big Blessing

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Well—sir, here it is September. You can always tell summer is shot when new cars hit the road and youngsters that drive 'em get back in school.

It seemed like a mighty quick summer, but seasons and years have been getting shorter for a long time now.

It reeked like the dying days of summer that put the fellers in such a mellow mood Saturday night at the country store.

Herb Goff allowed he was glad to be around to see another fall, and he was thankful us fellers was in walking-around good health. He said everybody in this old world ain't lucky enough to have an old lady to go home to and a bunch of fellers to stay away from home with.

There's a lot of misery of mind and soul, allowed Herb, but old and lonesome is the worst. The average human being can't pass through this world all by himself, said Herb, and the good Lord don't want him to. Herb had seen this piece in a magazine about folks that try to get along by themselves, and how they are starving for somebody just to talk to.

The piece said that in the big cities there are telephone services where you can call when you get so lonesome you can't stand it.

Herb also saw where one outfit in New York City charges $17 a month in advance to call a lonesome person twice a day. The business has 600 customers and is growing fast, he reported, and there are other free operations where if you're lonesome and broke you can call and tell your troubles to a professional listener.

Herb said it looks like the more we try to turn everybody into a number on a card the more we need one another.

The fellers agreed that living alone ain't much living, and they said it must be worse when you're lonesome in a big apartment building in a city full of folks.

Junior Hansen said he bawled a spell once when his wife went to stay with a sister that had a new baby. He said he enjoyed all the freedom that month he could stand.

Actually, Junior said, man ain't physically equipped to get along in the kind of world he's making. He had seen where some feller in Alaska is dead set against paved streets, electricity, and running water—'cause once all that progress sets in everything gets in a worse mess. The first thing you know, this feller said, we'll be so busy with progress we won't have time for one another.

Incidentally, Mister Editor, I see where there is a booming business in $450 "executive sandboxes" for people that get so tensed up in their office jobs they have to relax by playing in the sand.

Personally, I figure anybody who'd pay that kind of money for an office sandbox is more than tensed—in fact, they're a few bricks short of a load.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

advertising contributed for the public good

KERRY ON By Kerry Leggett

—lost art—
Somewhere along the way, America has lost the art of letter writing. I—for one—think it's a shame!

Today's business letters are quite frequently programmed into a computer and then automatically run off at the rate of several hundred words per minute. Only recently I received an advertising brochure telling of a newly developed computerized typesetting system that will produce up to 6,000 characters PER SECOND! Would you believe?

People ask me "How does Quiz Graphic Arts GET customers from coast-to-coast?" The answer is two-fold:

Number One—We practice what we preach. WE ADVERTISE. Quiz ads appear regularly in a number of publications reaching subscribers throughout the world. Because we have a printing business built up doesn't mean that we QUIT advertising. We know we must CONTINUE to keep our name in front of the people.

Number Two—This national advertising campaign brings inquiries, daily, from potential customers coast-to-coast and in many foreign lands. These inquiries are answered by PERSONAL LETTER. It would be much faster to simply tuck a form letter in with our price list. Or, we COULD merely send the price list alone. But this is NOT the way I learned to do business.

Sure it's took to write personal letters to all those inquiries. At this moment I have five such inquiries on my desk that MUST go out within 24 hours. (This quick response—I've learned—is as important as the reply itself.) By the time I quit for the day, I hope to have completed typing or dictating replies to Los Angeles, Calif.; Bronx, N.Y.; Taylor, Mich.; McLean, Va.; and Irving, Tex.

Each of these inquiries are from PEOPLE—individuals like you and me! These people APPRECIATE personal replies. They like to know we're people—not machines pouring out replies through programmed tape.

Through this manner of doing business, I am rewarded not only with business, but with personal friendships people I'll never meet face-to-face. These people comment—regularly—that it's a pleasure doing business with PEOPLE.

This morning's mail was extremely gratifying when I received a "personal business letter" from one of the West Coast's leading hypnotists and entertainers. We do his printing for him and mail it in advance to the points he is scheduled to appear. He recently completed an island trip where he performed at NCO clubs and officers' clubs for the nation's military. Now he is off on another tour of the nation's Elks clubs in the Southwest.

The following excerpt from his letter of Aug. 30 is typical of the interest that can be developed—AND ADDED—to any business letter:

"Your COMPANY sounds busy as a bird dog during pheasant season. Just splendid. Wouldn't be surprised to see your business expanding continuously. It has a way of getting around when a firm does a good job. And you've personally put remarkable personality and warmth into your handling."

"We, too, are hitting it right now. Getting ready to tackle the road again."

The letter was signed, "Your friend," I've never met Ormond McGill, but he does have a standing invitation to visit Ord and I've promised him I'd try to get him a local booking if he ventures this way.

The list of customers like Ormond McGill is endless. There's the purchasing agent for the East Coast's largest manufacturer of athletic supporters... a graduate of the University of Alabama.

This Bama grad is constantly boosting the Crimson Tide and making fun of our Cornhuskers that have taken some real shortcomings from Bear Bryant and his boys from Bama. This map is also a New York Giant box-seat ticket holder. With each purchase order he sends, he keeps me posted on our ex-husker, Freeman Whitson.

As I started to say, letter writing is a lost art. Electronics and programmed typewriters have nearly destroyed the most wonderful human gift we have—the gift of personal communication.

Man Who Helped Oswald Return Gets Important New Government Job

By Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — Boris Klosson, the State Department official who played a key role in clearing the way for Lee Harvey Oswald to return from Russia in 1961, has been quietly promoted again.

A career Foreign Service officer, Klosson has been named deputy chief of the United States mission in Moscow after serving here as the State Department's director of Soviet and Eastern European exchange staffs.

It was during Klosson's last tour of duty in Moscow as U.S. counselor for political affairs that he prepared and sent a three-page dispatch to the State Department reporting that Oswald, a U.S. defector, had undergone a major change of heart and was not a dangerous person.

According to Justice Department security reports, the Klosson dispatch paved the way for Oswald to return to the U.S. where he assassinated President John Kennedy and attempted to take the life of Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker.

Titled "Citizenship and Passport for Lee Harvey Oswald," the Klosson message was dated July 11, 1961, and was sent after Oswald appeared at the American embassy and sought visas for himself and his Russian bride to return to the U.S. Oswald had defected to the Soviet Union in 1959.

Included in the records of the Warren Commission which investigated the assassinations of both Kennedy and Oswald, the Klosson dispatch states, in part, as follows:

"Twenty months of the realities of the Soviet Union have clearly had a maturing effect on Oswald. He stated frankly that he had learned a hard lesson the hard way, and that he had been completely relieved of his illusions about the Soviet Union at the same time that he acquired a new understanding and appreciation of the U.S., and the meaning of freedom."

Much of the arrogance and bravado which characterized him on his first visit to the embassy appears to have left him."

State Department files show that Klosson's dispatch was used to get Immigration Service officials to drop their opposition to permitting Oswald and his Russian bride to return to the U.S.

Klosson's dispatch also was used within the State Department to justify the granting of a government loan to finance Oswald's trip to this country. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says the dispatch was the basis for a State Department report to this agency that Oswald was a "thoroughly safe risk."

From the Files

Klosson's involvement in the Oswald case isn't the only time that government security officials have taken a close interest in the Foreign Service officer's activities.

State Department security files reveal that previous investigations showed Klosson "had presented strong pro-Soviet views on every question that came up in the USSR Country Committee (a group set up in the State Department to deal with current U.S.-Soviet relations)."

Also, during a world War II address were discovered in the contact book picked off a suspected Soviet agent upon her arrival in the U.S.

At the time of this FBI discovery, Klosson was serving in the U.S. Army and was assigned to the Communist-riddled Office of Strategic Service. After the war he and a number of other OSS officers were permitted to transfer into the State Department. He was then assigned to the Division of Research on the USSR and Eastern Europe.

State Department security files show that at the time of Klosson's transfer into the Foreign Service he gave as one of his chief references the name of another former OSS officer, who was then under government investigation for pro-Soviet activities.

Klosson's security file was among those that Otto Otepka, former chief security evaluator at the State Department, was planning to re-examine when he got into trouble with his superiors. Otepka was demoted and ousted from his security post for turning over information concerning security risks within the State Department to a Senate subcommittee.

At Work

Administration insiders report that Klosson is already at his new post in Moscow. The position does not require Senate confirmation.

Since arriving in Moscow, Klosson has taken over the handling of all dispatches and messages from the embassy in Washington. This includes reports from military, economic, and intelligence experts on the embassy staff.

Friends of Klosson say he requested the new assignment early this year. An expert in American-Soviet exchange programs, they report, he plans to work to increase these in the near future. Klosson speaks fluent Russian.

Note: Several unpublished State Department dispatches concerning Lee Harvey Oswald are among the Warren Commission papers stored in the U.S. Archives which will not be open for at least 20 more years.

Network in Trouble

The American Broadcasting Co.'s reason for not dropping cigarette commercials is its own survival as a network.

Government surveys show that almost 40 percent of its fall prime-time lineup is sponsored by cigarette companies—or nearly double that of the other networks.

In the wake of pressure from the Federal Communications Commission and the Federal Trade Commission for a ban on TV cigarette ads, the tobacco industry has agreed to end these commercials after Dec. 31 provided the networks release them from their contracts.

Of the three major networks, ABC alone has rejected the proposal completely. CBS had accepted the plan earlier. NBC rejected it but offered instead a plan of its own—to allow tobacco interests to use their purchased time for public service messages or to advertise non-cigarette products.

Today's cigarette ads amount to approximately 10 percent of TV revenues, or more than $200 million, according to FCC records. ABC, smallest and least affluent of the three networks, has been complaining to the government about financial troubles ever since the proposed merger with International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. was scotched last year.

ABC insiders say the cigarette ban would mean a loss of $50 million for the network—or enough to cripple it financially and put it out of business.

Washington Pipeline

Last year 4.3 million Americans traveled overseas and left behind some $1.6 billion. Only 1.8 million visitors came to the States, and they spent just $90 million. In order to reverse the trend, two bills have been introduced in the Senate which would increase Department of Commerce authorization for tourist promotion.

One would boost from $4.7 million to $15 million the current ceiling on promotion spending. The other would lift the lid completely and allow states to receive, on a matching basis, federal aid for foreign travel promotion.

New TOPS Club May Expand—But Not at Waist

A TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club has been organized in Ord—and after less than two months the club proudly reports a total weight loss of 71 pounds among its 12 members.

The local chapter meets each Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the home of Mrs. John Schade. Several persons have indicated an interest in belonging to an evening chapter, and if enough interest is shown the morning chapter will assist in organizing an evening group.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riecken helped Charles Knight celebrate his birthday Saturday evening. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Novak and boys; Mr. and Mrs. David Lange, David and Junior Riecken, Sunday evening Mr. Veskerna, Mr. and Mrs. Riecken and Junior were at the Knight residence for homemade ice cream.

Girls State Report
The Business & Professional Women's Club met at the Ord park recently for a 6:30 covered picnic supper with 14 members and three guests present. Guests were Mrs. George Krajnik, Donna Krajnik and Jilmena Badilla Escobar of Chile. Donna gave a report on her experience at Girls State.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Pokraka and family of Kingsport, Tenn., were honored guests at a family picnic at the park Aug. 24. Attending were Dave's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Igo Pokraka, Mrs. William Beran, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gogan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Beran and family of Sidney, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Rogers and family, Frank Beran, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beran and family of Sargeant, and Mrs. Agnes Karly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ahlschwede visited out of town friends and relatives Sunday. In York they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tarr. They then went on to Lincoln for a visit with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ahlschwede and family, and a daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Plucknett and family. On the return trip they stopped in York to see Mr. Ahlschwede's brother, Clarence Ahlschwede, and his wife and daughter, Marlene. Marlene has moved to Ord and is residing at the Clayton Noll apartments. She will be associated with the local Home Economics Department in the Ord schools for the next nine weeks as a practice teacher.

Roger Miller was a Wednesday dinner guest in the Wayne Gregory home.

Come to Church

The Power To Change driven by the shifting winds of discontent. When they find the living waters of Christian faith, their lives are completely changed! Their dead souls expand in new life and beauty, their dormant hearts discover new strength and happiness! St. Paul taught a Christian faith that changed men into something new and better! If a Christian isn't different from other people, then he isn't very much of a Christian! We have a right to expect the Christian to be more friendly, to be more kind, to be more sincere and honest than anyone else! When a man's soul is rooted in the living water of Christian faith, his life is infinitely changed for the better! The churches of our communities stand as silent sentinels to the power of this fact! If your life lacks depth and interest why not attend the church of your choice next Sunday, and make it a regular habit? Your life too, will be vastly changed, and you will be amazed at that transformation! Rev. Leonard S. Clark Scotia & North Loup United Methodist Churches

Roommates of 60 Years Ago Renew Friendship

By Berenice Cornell

Mrs. Altha Snow of Washburn, Mo., was a Sunday afternoon caller at Ona Nelson's place. Mrs. Snow and Ona were roommates when they attended St. Paul College back in 1908 and 1909. While in Ord Mrs. Snow is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Art Rux. She is an aunt of Mrs. Rux.

Great-Granddaughter Arrives

Will Benson has a new great-granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson of North Platte. The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Benson of Scotia. The new baby's mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Petska.

Reflections

Present for religious services Thursday were Rev. Leonard Clark of the North Loup and Scotia United Methodist Churches, Mrs. Harold Hoepfner of North Loup and Mrs. William Schudel, plus 10 Parkview residents.

Mr. Clark asked an opening, "Why are we here on earth?" Mrs. Schudel was the pianist for the song service, and Mrs. Hoepfner sang two individual selections — "I Know Who Holds the Future" and "How Great Thou Art."

Portions of Psalm 119 were read, and Mr. Clark brought out how people's lives reflect what they are. He illustrated this by explaining how a mirror reflects a person's physical condition and an echo reflects what he says.

In the same way, Mr. Clark said, an individual's knowledge of the Bible and how he follows it reflect the spiritual condition of his mind, heart, and soul for the love of God. He said man's purpose here is to seek and honor Christ.

After the service Eva Robertson, Mena and Marie Jorgensen, and Edith Jones visited with Mrs. Earl Nelson and her mother, Tena Swanson, at Tena's quarters. Mrs. Swanson's guests and enjoyed a fellowship hour.

Mrs. Harold Hoepfner visited with Berenice Cornell following the religious service. Later Berenice called Don, JoAnn, and Chad Wright. It was Chad's 2nd birthday.

Farewell

Lyda Porter hosted a covered dish supper Aug. 25 in the recreation room, honoring friends. Fourteen were present with Clarence Trout, the special guest. He is leaving Ord to make his home with a daughter.

Grandson to Vietnam

Berenice Cornell received word the past week that a grandson, Michael Kapke is to leave Pearl Harbor soon for Vietnam. He is a Navy radio operator and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kapke of Houston, Tex.

Personals

Theodosia Schartzler had Sunday dinner with Mary Jorgensen, Mary's daughter, Mrs. Roland Zukoski, and children of Elyria were with her part of the afternoon. Mary spent the latter part with Mrs. Anna Holmes. Her daughter, Norma Knapp, took her to the Holmes residence.

The first of the week Mr. and Mrs. Nels Jensen of Windom, Minn., came to visit with Mary and other friends for several days.

Mary Cetak spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Bender and family. She had supper with Mrs. Rohlf.

Elizabeth Severson hosted Mr. and Mrs. Robert Severson, Dick and Susan for Monday dinner as a belated birthday celebration for Dick.

Two items overlooked in last week's news were a birthday coffee held Aug. 23 for Marie Jorgensen and a visit by Rex Jewett and Claribel Chambers the same day.

Marie's granddaughter, Mary Lou Jorgensen of Lincoln, brought a birthday cake for the coffee. During the visit Mr. and Mrs. Claribel were guests of Edith Jones. They are from Lincoln.

Aug. 27 visitors of Mildred Anderson were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Melia and son and Judi Melia, all of Omaha; Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Melia, Dawn and Tad; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Melia; and Mrs. Mary Janicek.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Fairfield and Robert of Masin City visited her mother, Lucy McCune, Sunday. The Fairfield's called on Mildred Anderson in the afternoon.

Elsie Rathbun had a Sunday dinner guests Eva Robertson and Mena Jorgensen. During the afternoon Mena went with Mrs. Frank Fuser to the home of Mrs. Frank Fuser to visit with Mrs. Olsen of Fort Worth, Tex. Mrs. Kuehl and Mena then had evening lunch with Elsie and Eva, and spent the evening at Elsie's.

Dolcie Waterman and Mrs. Ann Lincoln spent Sunday afternoon with Edith Jones.

Emma Zablouit had her son Dennis of Hastings with her from Saturday until Monday evening.

Lucy McCune went Monday evening to Scotia where she will be with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Wray, and family for a few days.

Mena Jorgensen, Elsie Rathbun, and Eva Robertson were at Mrs. Dora Jorgensen's Aug. 25 to help her celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janulewicz attended the Fall Festival at Arcadia Monday.

Waiting for Nature's Fury to Strike

The greatest known storm ever to hit the United States struck with death-dealing fury against three Gulf Coast states less than a month ago.

When it was over, Hurricane Camille had left hundreds of persons dead in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama, and more than 60 drowned in Virginia. Property damage was beyond comprehension.

In a letter received last week by Mrs. Albert Clausen of Ord, her granddaughter tells what it was like to be sitting on a powder keg about to explode. The granddaughter—Mrs. Randy Baronet—lived in a trailerhouse outside Keeler Air Force Base, Miss., where her husband is stationed. They were in Florida when they received word that their area would be hit and rushed home to save what belongings they could.

Here is Mrs. Baronet's letter:

"Dearest All,
I just talked to you all last night, but while we are sitting here waiting for the hurricane to hit, I thought I'd drop you a few lines. First, after tonight, I doubt if Randy and I will have a thing in the world left except the clothes on our back and each other. The hurricane is only a few miles away and is at 240 miles per hour in the center. It is 60 miles in diameter and has been stated as the WORST HURRICANE IN HISTORY!!
I'm not too afraid at the moment because I can't accept the fact that it is so terrible. I imagine by the time it hits, I'll be in pure panic!
We are at the base along with 40,000 others. People are lying everywhere and you wouldn't believe it. Families and more families. It's so sad to think that a lot of these people will soon be homeless and have nothing left in life.

"If our trailer is destroyed, Randy and Ron will take Darlene, the baby and me to Randy's folks to stay until they get out of school. Right now the T.V. is out, the radio is out, and the lights are flickering. I'm sure glad you aren't here because this is definitely a disaster!

"We left Pensacola, Fla., this morning at 10 o'clock. We drove 95 to 100 all the way home! Rich drove us in the El Camino, and the four of us all sat fairly comfortably in the seat. I wasn't a bit afraid because he's a good racer and a grade A driver. We finally made it home by 12:00 or 12:30. Didn't give us much time to get the trailer and things in it set up for the "END".

"I just can't express how tragic this is, but all I can say is we will need a bunch of prayers and a big miracle!

"I'm going to close, because I don't feel like writing anymore. We have about two more hours — then God only knows what!
"Just remember, we love you very much — and always will.

Love,
Carol and Randy"

Mrs. Clausen said Monday her granddaughter has not been able to go back in yet and find out if any of their things left in the trailer were saved. She said the trailerhouse was definitely blown over.

A drive to raise funds for victims of the hurricane is being waged across the country by the American Red Cross. Here in Ord contributions may be made at the First National Bank or the Nebraska State Bank.

Chris Ferguson Crowned Queen Of Brown Rodeo

Chris Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson of Ord, was crowned 1969 rodeo queen at the three-day Brown County Fair held in Johnstown over the Labor Day weekend.

Miss Ferguson, 18, has competed in seven rodeo queen contests this past year, winning the title of queen or princess in five of them. Only at the Burwell Rodeo, where she competed both in 1968 and 1969, was she edged out of first and second-place honors.

Among her recent appearances was at the Nebraska State Fair, Sept. 3 and 4, when she was invited by Nebraskaand magazine to participate in the Nebraska Game Commission Show. Miss Ferguson and Ann Wendell, 1968 Miss Rodeo Nebraska, were introduced to the crowd hourly, at which time they drew the winning names for Nebraskaand murals and subscriptions that were given away.

Debbie Edwards, a striking brunette, was crowned the 1969 queen of North Loup Popcorn Days, Tuesday evening, by the outgoing crown wearer Darlene King. Debbie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Edwards of North Loup.

Legal Assistance Voted To Fight Depot Removals

Members of the Ord Chamber of Commerce voted last week to hire legal counsel in an effort to retain full-time depot offices of the Union Pacific and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroads.

Both rail lines have proposed that their depots here, as well as in most other area communities, be closed. Service to the communities involved would be rendered by mobile agents operating out of another town. For the U.P. this other town would be St. Paul, and for the Burlington & Quincy it would be Loup City.

Hearings to consider the Burlington request are scheduled Oct. 1 in both Ord and Burwell. The hearing here will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the one in Burwell at 2 p.m. They will be held at the District Court Room in both communities.

The U.P. request will be considered at a hearing Oct. 16 in Ord. It will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will also be held in the District Court Room.

Most Chamber of Commerce members joining an opinion at last week's monthly luncheon meeting agreed that closing of the depots would merely be the first step in eventual abolition of the branch lines serving this area.

Bob Anderson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, asked for volunteers to work with him in compiling evidence concerning the amount of freight business handled by the railroads. Gaylord Boltesen, who had already done some research on the subject, responded immediately. The new school stop lights on L Street were also a subject of much discussion at the meeting with comment ranging across a broad spectrum of pros and cons.

Mayor Bill French said the lights were put up at the suggestion of the State Highway Dept.

"Last year, even if it was raining, motorists were continually running the children right back up on the sidewalk," he said. "They were refusing to stop, regardless of whether a child was in the crosswalk or not. The state feels this is the best way to solve the problem."

In a later development on the stop-sign situation, State Senator Rudolf Kokes said yesterday that he had contacted the State Highway Dept. and asked that the situation be reevaluated. Kokes, who had been a victim of the lights himself, said he took the action after receiving an enormous number of complaints.

In other business at the chamber meeting, it was announced that the Union Pacific's Exposition Train definitely will be in Ord Oct. 2, and that the district American Legion convention will be held here Oct. 5.

Eldon Mulligan also recommended that a letter of thanks be sent to Harry Michalski for the excellent manner in which he maintains the courthouse lawn.

Edgar Roe thanked the chamber for sponsoring the paid vacation to Fort Robinson which he won during the Farm & Home Show last month.

Off to College

Many Local Scholars Respond to Higher Education's Call

By Carol Leggett

With classes beginning at colleges throughout the area, many youths from the Ord locale have left — or are making plans to depart soon — for various locations.

Representing the Harold Garnick family three-fold at the University of Nebraska this fall are Gary, Lory and Brad Garnick, all former Ord High students.

Gary attended summer sessions at the university and is returning this fall as a senior; Lory will be a sophomore; and Brad will be a freshman.

Dennis and John Boro, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Syl Boro of Ord, are among other local students attending school in Lincoln this fall.

Dennis leaves Saturday to resume studies at the university as a senior majoring in business administration. John will leave a day earlier than his brother. He is a freshman and will major in pre-forestry.

Steve Hanks, a 1967 graduate of Ord High School, left Sept. 4 to begin his junior year at the university's College of Agriculture in Lincoln. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanks of Burwell.

Leah Brickner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brickner, will be a sophomore at the University of Nebraska this fall. She will leave Sunday to resume her education in computer science.

Pat Novotny will also be going to extend a unique scholastic record as a freshman last year she received all A's.

Betty Shotkoski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shotkoski, will also return to Kearney this fall as a sophomore. Her majors are history and math. Betty will share an apartment with Connie Lola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lola of Ord, another sophomore at Kearney State.

Dick left Aug. 22 to serve as student manager for the football team. The son of Mrs. Mabel Collins of Gering, he is majoring in physical education.

Richard is the son of Mrs. H. B. Johnson of Arcadia. Majoring in business education, he also participates in St. Paul NFA and Phi Beta Lambda.

Majoring in architecture as a junior at Kearney is Nicolas Aquino, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dunbar of Ord. This is Nick's second year at Kearney. He had previously attended the University of Assumption in Paraguay, South America.

Alan Vancura will begin his junior year at Kearney with a major in mathematics. He is a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon and is a student assistant. Alan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vancura Jr. of Ord.

man at Kearney State College this fall. She left Sunday to begin studies in elementary teaching. Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oris Hurlbert of Ord.

Pam Lambert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert of Ord, also left Sunday to begin her freshman year at Kearney. The valedictorian of this year's Ord High graduating class, Pam plans to major in elementary education.

Lonna Athelm will be a sophomore at Kearney State College this year. She left Sunday to continue her education in home economics. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Athelm of Ord.

Chris Ferguson will be a sophomore at the University of Nebraska this fall, majoring in English and art. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Chris left for Lincoln Sept. 2 to participate in Rush Week activities and Nebraska State Fair events. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson of Ord.

Also leaving Sunday to be a freshman at Kearney was Jeanette Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Lange of Ord. Jeanette's plans include an art major and English minor.

Richard Luedtke will also be a freshman at Kearney State College, where he plans to major in business administration. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Luedtke of Arcadia.

David Kolar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Kolar Sr., left Friday to enroll as a freshman at Wayne State College. David will study social science. His parents are former residents of North Loup and now live in Dannebrog.

Ron Hisek will leave Friday for Lincoln where he will be a freshman at the University of Nebraska. Ron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hisek of Arcadia.

John and Melvin Linke are among other Ord high graduates attending school at Kearney this fall. John will be a junior at Kearney State College and Melvin a freshman. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Linke of Ord.

Dennis Cetak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cetak of Ord, is among local students attending out-of-state colleges. Dennis left Sept. 2 for Miami, Okla., where he is a freshman majoring in animal science at Northeastern Oklahoma A & M.

Kathy and Tom Gailey, children of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gailey of Ord, have also selected colleges further from home.

Kathy left Friday for Tempe, Ariz. A freshman at Arizona State University, she plans to study pre-med.

Tom will be a senior at Texas A & M University and is majoring in aerospace engineering. He will leave tomorrow for College Station, Tex.

Football Is Back; Most Teams Play Friday

King Football returns to the North Loup Valley tomorrow night (Friday) with nearly all area teams in action.

Hopes run high in almost every community as fans and players alike wait out the final countdown for opening kickoffs.

Here in Ord Coach Chuck Spiker's first edition of Chanticleer Football will be unveiled in a 7:30 p.m. contest against Gothenburg. The Swedes are also in a rebuilding year. For more on this game see today's sports page.

Around the valley other eagerly awaited contests are also scheduled.

Two area teams will butt heads right off the bat at Burwell, when Coach Red Bozcher's Longhorns host the Sargent Bulldogs of Coach Glen Hawley. The Bulldogs had one of the area's better records last fall — seven wins and two losses — but were overshadowed in their conference by champion North Loup Scotia.

Back to lend a helping hand at Sargent this season are two of the area's best pass receivers, Mark Cooper and Bob Anderson. Cooper gained 552 yards on receptions last season, and Anderson 443.

The man that threw all those passes — John Green — is missing, however. He'll be replaced by Jim Ash.

Coach Don Wagner's charges at Loup City will stay home to host Fullerton. They'll be trying to improve this year on a 5-4 record posted last season.

The area's eight-man schools will all be in action too.

Coach Tom Majors will take his Wheeler County club to Petersburg for its first test of the 1969 season. Last year the Broncos had a 7-2 record.

Another good team among the smaller schools, Elba, will stay home to host Cedar Rapids. The Blue Jays were 5-2 last year.

Loup County, which has nowhere to go but up after losing eight straight in 1968, will travel to Spalding for its opening contest. Coach John Ward feels the Wildcats should be a little better organized this year, since they won't move back and forth from 11-man to eight-man competition. They'll stick strictly with the smaller brand this fall, whereas last year they played both.

Complete schedules of these area teams appear on today's sports page.

One of the valley's most hopeful teams — North Loup-Scotia — won't make its debut until Sept. 21 when it hosts Anselmo. The Wildcat reserves, however, will meet the Ord reserves Monday night at 8.

Sargent Man Hurt In Auto Collision

A 71-year-old Sargent man remains in serious condition at the Valley County Hospital after being injured in a two-car accident Sunday.

Anton Benben was the driver of a car which was in collision with a pickup driven by Eldon Bruha of Comstock. The accident occurred about 2:15 p.m. Sunday at an unmarked intersection of two county roads.

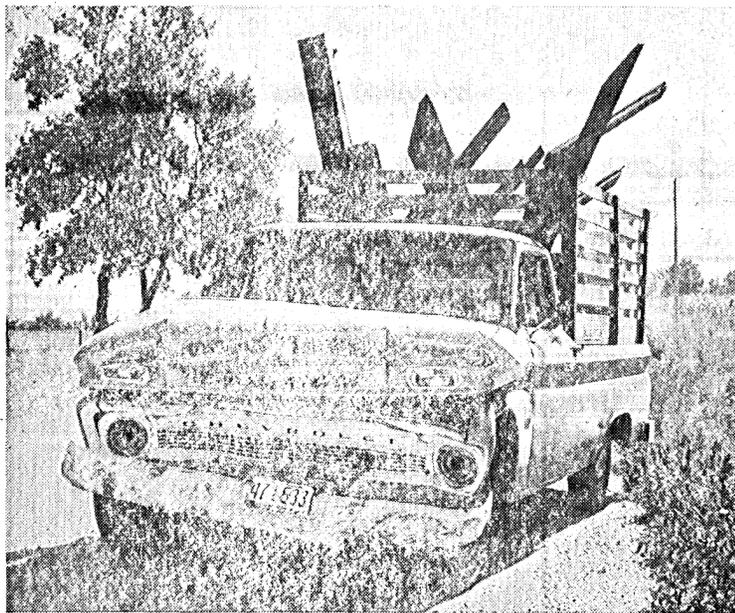

Dr. Wayne Zlomke said Benben suffered a severe injury to the left side of his chest, multiple broken ribs, and a fractured right leg. He was thrown from the automobile as it skidded sideways in a shallow ditch paralleling the roadway.

His wife, Mrs. Emma Benben, was treated at the hospital for bruises and then released.

Neither Bruha nor his young son, who was a passenger in the pickup, were injured.

The accident scene is at an intersection adjacent to the Bohemian Cemetery and the Bluegrass School, one mile north of the National Hall. Benben's car came to rest against a culvert just outside the cemetery gate.

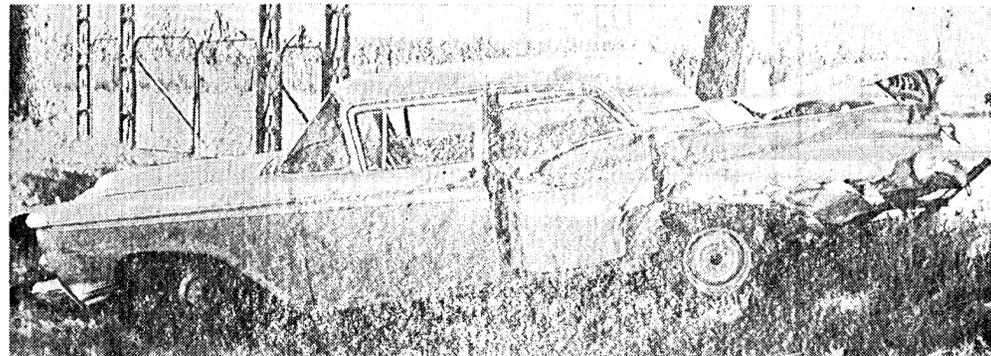

Benben was driving east on a gravel road and Bruha south on the intersecting road, also of gravel. The Bruha pickup struck the Benben car in the area of the left rear door.

Bruha pickup shows frontal damage.

Businessmen Invited To NFO Convention

The "threat" posed to small-town America by nationwide agri-business chains will be a prime topic of discussion at the state convention of the National Farmers Organization, to be held Saturday in Grand Island.

Lawrence Welniak, president of the Valley County NFO chapter, advised as many of his fellow citizens as possible to attend the convention.

He specifically suggested that they be present either at 10 a.m. or 2 p.m. when Ed Wimmer, vice-president of the National Federation of Independent Businesses, discusses the agri-business chains and their possible effects.

He said the discussion would be as important to businessmen as it is to farmers, and that non-members of the NFO would be welcome.

Season Tickets Available Now

For the first time in Ord, season tickets are being offered to all Chanticleer home games.

The tickets will admit spectators to all five varsity games plus three reserve contests and three junior high games. They are priced at $5 each and may be purchased from Dave Van-Nordheim, athletic director at Ord High School.

Single-game tickets to varsity contests sell for $1 each, while single-game tickets for reserve and junior high contests are 50 cents each. The season ticket consequently represents a $3 saving if the holder attends all 11 games.

Parkview Village Plums

Cool Weather Brings Color for Every Direction

By Berenice Cornell
The nearing of fall with cooler days is putting beauty in the flowers. Ona Nelson, Emma Zabolud, and Mena Jorgensen have pretty colors on the north sides of the units. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janulewicz, Mary Jorgensen, Mary Cetak, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hackett, and Juanita Christian have beauty toward the east, and Elsie Rathbun has showy mums for the west. Eva Robby and Lillian Daudt can boast for the south sides of their units. Lillian's passion flower on the trellis from her porch box has drawn much attention with a number of unusual flowers. Mr. Russ has the yards and walks very neat and attractive.

Thursday religious services were conducted by Pastor Duane Davis of the North Loup Seventh Day Baptist Church with 40 Parkview folks present. They enjoyed the coincidence of having the same scripture as the Bible study the evening before - Luke 15:11-32. Other parables were mentioned too, and other thoughts brought out. Mr. Davis referred to the parable of the fig tree making a "U" turn. The prodigal son, after making his mistake, made a U turn and came back to his father. Mr. Davis said that as we repent and ask forgiveness (as in 1 John 1:9) we must and come to our heavenly father. He said the scripture concerning the parable of the last son might well be called the Parable of the Loving Father.

Carol's Corner

With the fall season underway and Ord clubs and organizations starting another year, I'm reminded to tell all the women in Ord about Newcomer's Club.

Organized for the purpose of becoming acquainted and establishing new friendships, Newcomer's meets once each month and is open to all new residents of Ord — and "oldsters" as well.

Pinchle and bridge are played for entertainment and those expressing a desire may learn bridge step by step, as capable instructors are present at each meeting.

Mark the date and plan to attend the meeting each week. Further details can be learned by contacting Margaret Steinwart.

To break the monotony of cake baking, an Ord housewife suggests this idea called "Crazy Cake."

Sift into an ungreased pan or baking dish (8x8x2): 1 1/2 c. flour

1 c. sugar
3 T. cocoa
1 t. soda
1/2 t. salt

Make three holes of varied sizes in the flour mixture. Pour 6 T. salad oil or melted shortening in largest hole, 3 T. vinegar in next hole, and 1 t. vanilla in smallest hole. Pour 1 c. cold water over all. Mix well with a fork. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

Frost in baking dish with your favorite icing. This is a moist cake and will break if you try to transfer it to another dish.

A refreshing hint to keep in mind during the fast approaching Indian Summer, or one to remember next summer, is this cooler: Before retiring at night put your giraffe in the refrigerator. Next morning as you wiggle into it you'll feel oooh so refreshed — an ice-cold sensation which supposedly clings for hours.

Mrs. Clark Weckbach deserves credit for her enthusiasm and fight against litter-bugging in Ord. Gladys never fails to pick up papers off the street or ask a child to do so if she sees him throw something. She gathers the accumulated trash from the downtown flower garden and even during the Farm and Home Show was ambitious enough to sweep up a big heap of litter cluttered just outside the building entrance.

We'd have a real neat looking town if her dedication were a little contagious.

Coffee Cup Philosophy: Swallow your pride occasionally. It's non-fatiguing.

THE Ord Quiz

Rebuilding Clubs To Vie in Friday Tilt

When they line up for the opening kickoff of the 1969 football season tomorrow night, the two teams competing here in Ord may feel like they're looking into a mirror.

Some marked similarities distinguish the two teams. These common characteristics begin with the red and white colors of the two schools and continue right down through the largely untested lineups both will be fielding.

Starting time for this first game of the year is 7:30 p.m. Both teams will be trying to rebound from very poor 1968 seasons and yet both will be in what can legitimately be called "rebuilding" seasons.

Gothenburg won only one game while losing seven last year. Playing one more contest, Ord won two while losing seven. One of those triumphs was a 26-14 decision over the Swedes.

Untested Quarterbacks

Each of the two combatants boasts a number of lettermen, in short supply on both sides of the scrimmage line. Of the 22 positions on both offense and defense, Gothenburg will have returning starters at only five. Ord shows four returning regulars.

And among the lettermen, both teams will be seeking to fill will be the vital quarterback slot. Coach Virgil Meyer said Tuesday night it looks as if Terry Williams has won out in a battle among four unlettered juniors for this post at Gothenburg. Here in Ord sophomore Paul Markley has been announced as the starter — provided he's recovered from a leg injury suffered Monday in practice.

Markley was hurt when he was tackled in a scrimmage session, his father, Dr. Murray Markley, said Tuesday he thought the injury was just a broken blood vessel near the shin bone and that his son would be able to play Friday. However, he said precautionary X-rays had been taken and that the youngster's availability would not be known for sure until they were studied in more detail.

Should Markley not be ready, the call will go to one of two even more inexperienced candidates for the position other than sophomore Danny Jones. Osentowski was moved to the quarterback post last year out of sheer necessity — the Chants didn't have a single candidate for the position other than varsity starter Dick Jauder. "Tom did a good job with the reserve team, but that still didn't give him much game experience," Coach Chuck Squier said Tuesday.

Jones was the backup man for Markley on last year's undefeated junior high eleven.

The second-team quarterback post is just a tossup, Squier said as he mulled over the prospects of a Markley-less team. But then he added, "It will probably be Jones if Paul can't play. He's so much quicker than Osentowski."

One Returning Starter

The only bonafide starter from last year that the Chants will have on offense is end Bill Miller, a hefty 190-pounder. It now looks as if Miller will go double duty when the Chants are in a 3-3 defense, playing one of the line-backer spots he started at last season.

Earlier sophomore Larry Wells and junior Bob Peterson had looked so well that Squier had cast doubt about whether Miller would see playing time on defense. But the 5-3 pattern insures a three-linebacker arrangement.

Joining Miller in the starting offensive line will probably be Stan Axthelm, at 155 pounds a very light tackle; Loren Vancura, 157-pound guard; Bruce Worm, 170-pound center; Jeff Hruby, 163-pound guard; Darrell Farmer, 145-pound end; and Chuck Setlik or Jim Martin, who are taking the right tackle battle down to the wire.

"Earlier we thought Setlik had earned a regular job," Squier explained, "but we've been real disappointed in him lately." He said the 215-pounder — he's the only 200-plus man on the team — is also a question mark for a starting spot on defense. Martin is a 170-pound sophomore who's been impressive despite a pulled groin muscle much of the fall practice period.

Halfbacks Impress

Joining the quarterback — whoever he may be — in the starting backfield will be Bruce Hurlbert, Jim Novotny, and either Dennis Kamarad or Larry Wells.

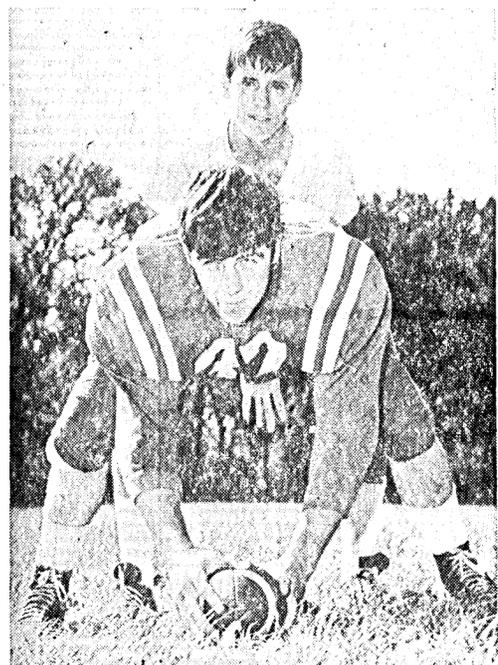

Hurlbert and Novotny both looked good catching the ball in Friday night's intrasquad game, Coach Squier observed, "and we were pleased about that. They had been fumbling pretty badly in other practice sessions."

That's one spot where Ord and Gothenburg take different paths. Coach Meyer reported that one of his Swede teams tumbled nine times in their intrasquad affair, also played Friday night. It wound up with a 12-9 final score.

The Ord family battle ended 18-0. But it was just 6-0 until 37 seconds remained in the game.

Hurry-Up Offense Clicks

"I told Paul (Markley) to act as if he were six points behind rather than six ahead," Squier

These two fellows are expected to have a big hand in whatever success the Ord Chanticleers attain this season. They're senior center Bruce Worm and sophomore quarterback Paul Markley. Worm started last year on offense but will go both ways this fall. Markley, who is currently suffering with a leg hurt in practice Monday, is one of several graduates from an undefeated 1968 freshman team that Coach Chuck Squier is counting on.

explained, "and both times his unit got possession of the ball he hit touchdown passes on his first throw."

Both tosses were to Hurlbert. On the first one the senior receiver had to evade a number of would-be tacklers after catching the ball. Overall the play covered about 45 yards with Hurlbert's running accounting for approximately 30 of them.

On the other play Hurlbert was in the end zone when he caught the pass.

The first touchdown came earlier on a halfback option pass thrown by sophomore Leon Brechbill to Farmer. It covered about 25 yards.

Line Improvement Needed

"We were disappointed with our offense, and especially our blocking," Squier said. "We didn't have a single sustained drive all night."

The young coach said he will make some personnel switches if the offensive line doesn't show some improvement in the immediate future.

"We've got to get our running game going," he said. "If this line can't do a better blocking job, we'll move some guys around."

He did acknowledge, though, that the team probably would have had a better offensive showing if the first unit had been working against the second rather than having the players equally divided. As it was, many of the players who will be working together in a real game found themselves opposing one another.

Two Returnees for Swedes

Gothenburg is a little better off than the Chants on offense — at least as far as experience goes. Guard Mike Cunniff and center Dale Gronewold give the visitors two returning starters.

On defense it's all even as each team boasts three returning regulars. For Ord they are end Paul Markowski, guard Bruce Worm, and linebacker Miller. For Gothenburg they are tackle Gronewold, linebacker Greg Hirsch, and halfback Bruce Clark.

Cited in particular were Markowski and sophomore tackle Dale Peterson.

"We knew Markowski was a good football player," Squier explained, "and now I don't think there's going to be a better defensive end in the Central 10 Conference. He played awfully well for us last year, and he's doing it again so far this year."

About Peterson, a 170-pounder, the coach said:

"He's been looking good. If he comes along, he can sure help us."

Good Attitude for Swedes

Expected to join the three returning starters on defense are Dan Timmerman and Setlik at the tackles, Martin at guard.

In contrast to the better defensive action by a better defense, the Chants are in a 6-2 defense, one linebacker or deep man will come out of the game. And when they're in a 3-3, it'll be one of the six linemen who exists.

At Gothenburg, Coach Meyer said he was "real pleased with our attitude. It may be one of the finest things we've got going for us."

He said his squad was riddled with attitude problems last year but that everything is going smoothly this season.

Slowed by Injuries Too

The Swede enthusiasm was blunted in part for several injuries which have slowed key players. Bruce Clark, a starter last year at defensive halfback, has been hobbled with an ankle ailment. Bill Greene, starting guard was reported as "90 percent" recovered from a pulled muscle. The same was said of David Boyd, prime contender for a linebacker post.

Others on the ailing list were Steve Williams, quarterback candidate, sprained ankle; Burnell Steinmeyer, starting halfback, pulled muscle; and Doug Ostendorf, starting fullback, sprained ankle.

Meyer said he expected most of the injured to be ready by game time but that the ailments had slowed down practice quite a bit.

Of the intrasquad game, he commented:

"We were encouraged by the enthusiasm, but our execution is not good yet."

20 More to Choose From

He said his team would again use the T formation, "but we hope to run it better."

In addition to fumbles in the intrasquad game, there's one other big difference between Ord and Gothenburg. Ord has 38 boys out for football this fall, while Gothenburg has 58 on hand.

And while the 1-7 record of last year makes the Swedes sound like easy pickings, it probably won't be that way. For Coach Meyer is definitely out to restore some of the luster to his own personal record, which took a beating in his first year at Gothenburg. Before going there he had consecutive 7-2 and 9-1 seasons at Class C Franklin.

Tomorrow night's game will be the first for Squier as a head coach. He came to Ord directly from Nebraska Wesleyan University and served as an assistant coach before moving up to the top job this year.

North Loup-Scotia football fans won't get to see their team in action for another week yet, but when they do they're sure to see plenty of this fellow. He's Clifford Jorgenson, senior end who's one of four returning starters for Coach Keith Stehr's contingent. All other area teams open their seasons this week, but the Wildcats won't begin play till Sept. 20 when they host Anselmo-Mcina.

beavers can stay underwater for approximately 15 minutes, due to a reduced heartbeat, a decrease of blood pressure in the smaller arteries, and a special respiratory control system in the brain. A large liver stores oxygenated blood that helps them in their underwater stays.

Brown trout have been clocked swimming up to 23 mph.

Injuries Plague Arcadia Gridders; Untested Line Is Big Question Mark

Earlier this fall Coach Eldon Kieborz considered transferring his Arcadia practice sessions to the nearest hospital lawn, but he finally decided against it for fear someone would break a leg getting there.

As the Huskies headed into their last week of preparation for tomorrow night's season opener, several of them were watching from the sidelines and two others were slowed with ailments. In addition, assistant coach Joe Tozcek's value was limited strictly to verbal contributions because of a badly sprained ankle. He was hurt when he attempted to show the secondary how to play defense and an aggressive blocker proved it wasn't all that easy.

While a simple discussion concerning the number of injuries is enough to choke Kieborz up, what really makes him break down and bawl is to ask how they happened. Only four of the nine — plus Coach Tozcek's misfortune — occurred on the football field.

Despite the long list of injured, Kieborz held out hope Thursday that all except one man would be available for the opener with Callaway. That one exception was junior end Duane Scott, who's been hobbling with an injured knee. He was one of the four hurt in practice.

The numerous injuries have of course held down performances this fall, and Kieborz was not optimistic as he surveyed the coming season.

"There's a lot of potential here if we can just get it to pop out," the veteran coach said, "but so far we haven't been able to get it to pop. We should know by the time we play Greeley (third game of the season) whether we're going to have anything or not.

Biggest problem for Kieborz is filling a huge tackle-through-tackle gap.

"We lost seven lettermen from last year, and almost all of them came right out of the middle of the line," he explained. To make his job even rougher, that's where the injuries have hit hardest too.

Dean Combs and Brad Sell, a pair of strong juniors, were being counted on to fill the two tackle spots. But both have been among the casualties. Combs, who weighed in at 200 pounds, has lost a lot of time because of a mysterious stomach infection. Sell, who also possesses good size, was sidelined with a knee injured in practice.

The other injured linemen were freshman guards Corby Drake and Richard Hawley, and senior center Chuck Gould. Drake sprained a wrist while jacking up a car, Hawley stepped on a nail, and Gould slipped on a step and sprained an ankle.

Injuries have also hit the backfield and the flanks, but better depth in those areas has kept the situation from being so serious.

The ailing backs are senior Dan Hurlburt, who started last year at halfback and is being counted on again this year, and junior Richard Nagorski. Hurlburt was hurt when he fell off a tractor and the rear wheel ran over his foot. Nagorski was injured in practice.

Sidelined earlier was another senior back, Steve Giles, with a sprained ankle.

In spite of his problems, Kieborz can see some bright spots.

One is the backfield, where he's able to field an all-veteran lineup even without Hurlburt. Directing it will probably be senior Denny Ohme, last year's starter, with juniors Arnold Urban and John Ericson running at the halfbacks and senior Tim Hurlburt at fullback. Hurlburt, who was converted last year from center to fullback after starting in the line as a sophomore, is the heavyweight of the backfield. He weighs 180. Ohme checked in at 150, Urban 150, and Ericson 140.

The ends also appear capable with senior Paul Dietz, junior Pat Murray, and junior Mike Chelowski expected to share playing time. Dietz is a 170-pounder, Murray 165, and Chelowski 140. They all started some last year.

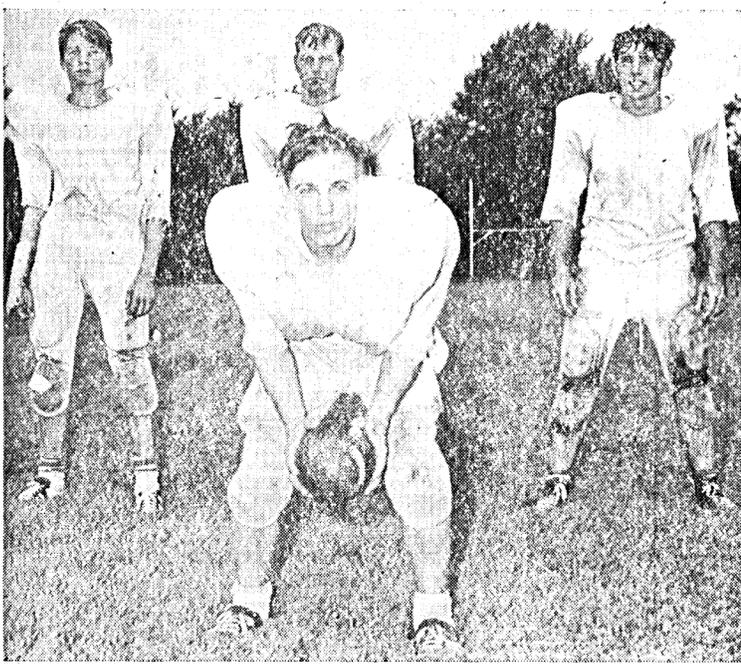

If Combs and Sell recover sufficiently from their ailments, they'll most likely handle the bulk of the tackle play. Juniors Denny Greenland (160) and Alvin Johnson (180) are in the lead for the guard spots, with Gould (175) the top center prospect.

Possible breakthroughs include Scott at end; Reed Brown and Jim Shalie, at the tackles; Dick Wilson, a guard; Terry Petersen, a center; and backs Giles, Nagorski, Marvin Dorsey, and Alan Owens.

The Huskies had a 4-5 season last year when they had an experienced line but broke in a complete new set of backs and ends. The year before they were 7-2.

This will be the fifth year for Kieborz to serve as head coach. The Huskies compete in the Class D Central Nebraska Conference. Their schedule follows (conference games in boldface type):

Sept. 12 — Callaway
Sept. 19 — at Clarks
Sept. 26 — Greeley
Oct. 3 — at Elba
Oct. 10 — at Elba
Oct. 17 — at Sarant
Oct. 24 — at Wobach
Nov. 7 — at Palmer

One of Arcadia's strong points is the backfield, where several combinations could be used and there would still be an all-lettermen lineup. One such combination consists of quarterback Denny Ohme, in foreground, and halfback John Ericson, fullback Tim Hurlburt, and halfback Arnold Urban, left to right in rear.

Ord JC-Ettes Plan 'Carnival of Fashions'

An orientation meeting of the Ord JC-Ettes was held Sept. 3. Those present discussed the possible conduct of a babysitting clinic in Ord at a later date, and they also talked about the fall style show. Mrs. Emanuel Sich hosted the meeting at her country home. Details have been completed for the style show, to be held Sept. 22 at the Ord High School auditorium. The "Carnival of Fashions" will include a modeling of men's, women's, and children's clothing plus a wig exhibition for both men and women.

More Interest Needed In Women's Workshop

Women interested in participating in the "Looking Your Best" Workshop to be held in Ord soon are urged to register at the County Extension office immediately. Mrs. Carol VanNordheim, Home Extension Agent, stressed Wednesday that pre-registration is necessary for this three session workshop scheduled to begin Wednesday, Sept. 24. Dates for the subsequent afternoon sessions are Oct. 1 and Oct. 10, instead of Oct. 8 as previously planned.

Any homemaker or working girl interested is asked to register this week. If enough interest is shown, an evening workshop is also being considered. There will be a small fee to cover the costs of materials.

The workshop, under the leadership of Gerda Petersen, State Extension Clothing Specialist from the University of Nebraska, will include the following outlines: Getting To Know Yourself — What Does Looking Your Best Mean To You; Selection of Foundation Garments; and How Lines Can Help You Look The Way You Like To Look.

Teen Hop Set For Friday Night

Ord Jaycees will again sponsor teen hops following each home football game this fall. The first of the dances will be held tomorrow night following Ord's game with Gothenburg. All of them will be held in the basement of the Veterans Club. Doug Wert, who appeared with three other Jaycees at last week's Board of Education meeting to inform those officials of the plan said he hoped live music would be provided for all the dances.

Will Worm Dances Waltz at Age 89

In observance of the 89th birthday of Will Worm, about 80 relatives and friends met, Sunday, at the Community Hall in Scotia for a covered dish dinner. The afternoon was spent informally with the renewing of old acquaintances while music and singing was provided by Percy and Ernest Thayer of Wobach, Marie Dickey of Cedar Rapids, Alberta Studley and daughter, Lonette of Greeley, and Jesslyn Weiner of North Lenoir. A highlight of the afternoon was when the honoree danced a lively waltz with his daughter Ida Spencer.

Five of the seven Worm children were able to attend the birthday celebration of their father. These were Forest Worm of Steam Boat Springs, Colo.; Guy Worm of Taylor, Fred Worm of Ord, Ida Spencer of Broken Bow and Irene Ingraham of Burwell. Clifford Worm of Portland, Ore., who had recently visited his father was unable to attend. Also absent was a daughter Marie of Seattle, Wash.

Other guests were from Taylor, Burwell, Broken Bow, Ord, North Lenoir, Scotia, Greeley, Wobach, Cedar Rapids, Minden, Colorado and Oregon.

As a climax to the enjoyable day, ice cream and birthday cake was served to the guests. The cake was baked and decorated by Mr. Worm's daughter, Irene Ingraham.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle VanZandt are the proud grandparents of Michael Lynn, born Sept. 6 to Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Zaruba of Claremore, Okla. The baby is the first child for the Zarubas (she is the former Karen VanZandt) and the first grandchild for the VanZandts. The baby weighed in at 8 pounds, 9 ounces.

Mrs. Kuehl Praised For OES Efforts

The regular meeting of Mispah No. 56 Order of the Eastern Star was held at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening. After the business portion the invited guests of the Order from Dotic Chapter No. 64, Burwell, and Crystal Chapter No. 43, Scotia, were presented and given a welcome by Lillian Krahulik, the Worthy Matron. The final honors of the Star Points were called on for comments. A corsage was given Azra Kuehl who had served at all the stations.

The program presented was a saxophone solo by Kathy Karre, Grand Senior Princess of Jobs Daughters, accompanied by her mother, Shirley Karre on the piano. A trio consisting of Lucile Tolon, Alice Wozab and Hilding Pearson climaxed the evening's entertainment singing "Let There Be Peace On Earth".

Lunch was served at a tea table setting, served by Lillian Krahulik and Grace Ahlschwede. The serving committee were Annelia Stoddard, chairman, Martha Travis, Rose Buckbee, Freda Beerline, Shirley Stevens, Elinor Rae Koelling, Viola Allen, Dora Jorgensen, Garnet Williams, Carol Van Nordheim, Lila Naeve, Lucille Gilroy and Bertha Knapeck.

Mrs. C. F. Goodrich was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Weckbach at the Veterans Club on Saturday evening.

Optional Two-Point Conversion Is Biggest Change in Grid Rules

Nebraska's high school football coaches will have a new toy to play with during the coming season. It's the exciting one or two-point conversion which college teams and the American Football League have been using for several years.

This year, instead of getting one point regardless of how the conversion is made, a team will get two points if it runs or passes successfully and one if it kicks. While offering new versatility, the new rule is almost sure to help create a greater number of gray-haired coaches.

To make way for the new rule, certain other changes have been written into the books this fall. Instead of starting conversion attempts from the two-yard line as they did last season, teams will now begin at the three-yard line. And goal posts have been widened from the 18-foot, 6-inch widths of a year ago to 23 feet, 4 inches. That change is optional for the next two seasons but will become mandatory in 1971. Ord has already switched its posts, however.

Another optional rule that will become mandatory in 1971 is a limitation on the length of cleats. "There's been a lot of controversy over this in the past," Duane Schernikau said Tuesday night. "A lot of people feel that longer cleats are contributing to unnecessary knee and ankle injuries. So beginning with the 1971 season, they'll be limited to a half inch."

Presently players may use cleats up to 7/8 of an inch in length.

Schernikau is an umpire and officiates a number of high school games each fall. He said metal or plastic cleats "which may tend to chip and develop a cutting edge" will also be outlawed this year, as will those which do not have a locking device to prevent the hard rubber outer coverings from coming loose and exposing the potentially dangerous hard metal posts inside.

For maximum enjoyment of the game, Schernikau advised fans to become familiar with all the rules.

"People watch professional and college games on television, and then they come to the high school games and think the rules are the same," he said, "but that's not necessarily so. If they would learn the high school rules it would make the games a lot more interesting for them, and they wouldn't be mad half the time."

To assist fans in carrying out Schernikau's suggestion, the Quiz will print a story next week outlining many of the possible rules where confusion might exist.

Excitement Ripples Through Community As Apparent Weather Balloon Floats By

The eyes of many Ord residents were on the western skies late Sunday afternoon as a mysterious object was sighted to the southwest.

A number of citizens watched the object for about 2 1/2 hours as it passed slowly from the southwest to the north. It was reported to be quite bright initially but diminished as darkness fell.

Among several residents holding unidentified flying object watching parties were Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Douthit. They were among the first local residents to see the object.

A number of neighbors joined them in watching the phenomenon, but Quentin Witherwax spotted much of the fun when he determined it to be a weather balloon. Radio reports later confirmed that such a balloon was located in this general area.

DRY GRAINS YOURSELF!

Yes... grains dried by farmers in York Drying systems last year returned a higher profit than grains commercially dried! Why? The answer is simple. With a York Grain Drying and handling system these farmers could harvest earlier... then dry the corn, milo or wheat to the level they wanted... right in their York Drying Bins. They also didn't have to pay the high cost of 3¢ per point for commercial drying! Think it over... how much more money could you have made on your grain operation if you had harvested your grain when you wanted... and dried it yourself?

Come in now... Let us prove what we say. Make more money on your grain operation with a York Grain Drying and Handling System.

Suffering Ends For Ex-Ord Lad Spencer Sperling

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett and Colleen, Mrs. George Sperling, and Larry Sperling were called to Lake City, Minn., last week by the death of Spencer Sperling.

The youngster died Aug. 30 in a Lake City hospital. He had been seriously ill with a brain tumor since March of this year and had been in and out of hospitals much of the time for the past several years. He would have been 14 years old Nov. 8.

Born in Ord Nov. 8, 1955, Spencer was the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sperling of Lake City, Minn. In addition to his parents he is survived by a sister, Kim, and a brother, Curt, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. George Sperling, all of Ord.

Funeral services were held Sept. 2 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Lake City, with Father A. T. Perrizo officiating. Casket bearers were Bryce Hinch, Glenn Wallerich, Dale Hallock, Jim Hallock, Elwin Sperling, and Scott Sperling. Interment was at Lake City.

Other relatives attending the services were Mrs. Jerry Rooney, Greeley; Arnold Sperling and son, Wood River; Lou Sperling and son, O'Neill; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hallock and sons and Mrs. Jarold Maxson, Kearney; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bennett, Bellevue; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bennett, Friend; and Carl Sperling, Winner, S. ## Jim Lukesh Receives Scholarship at NU

Jim Lukesh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lukesh of Ord, has been awarded a one-year Regents Scholarship to the University of Nebraska.

Jim is a sophomore in Teachers College and is majoring in history and science. He earned a grade average of 3.9 during his freshman year at the university.

After being employed by Quiz Graphic Arts during the summer, he will leave this week to resume his studies at Lincoln.

Eagle Scout Awards Will Be Given Tonight

John Boro and Dan Chichester will attain the highest rank in scouting — that of an Eagle Scout — at a Court of Honor tonight (Thursday) in the Ord Elks Club.

The two youths were approved as Eagle Scouts by a Board of Review which convened last month.

The ceremony will be open to the public and will begin at 8 p.m.

An open house honoring the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. & Mrs. Ed Klanecky will be held Sunday, afternoon Sept. 21 from 2 to 4:30 o'clock at the Rebecca Hall Sargent, Nebr.

The family requests that friends and relatives please consider this their invitation to attend.

Four of Mrs. Helen Beran's grandchildren had an eye-opening experience as they watched the big press turn out last week's Ord Quiz. The youngsters had come to the Quiz plant, where Grandma Beran works, each of the past four weeks to see the big press operate. But until last week their timing had always been bad and they had missed out. Perched atop a huge roll of newspaper are, from left, Mary O'Connor, Jane Gogan and Nancy Gogan. Back among the cardboard boxes is Bobby O'Connor. The O'Connor youngsters are children of Mr. and Mrs. Bob O'Connor, who stopped in Ord for a two-month visit as they were moving from New York City to Tempe, Ariz. The Gogan girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Gogan of Ord.

New Waves Created for Unicameral By Governor's Vetoes on L.B. 1425

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Assn.

LINCOLN — The legislators will be on familiar — if unpopular — ground when they return next week from their recess.

Once again they'll be nose-to-nose with budget problems.

And among those spending problems is an old acquaintance, Legislative Bill 1425, the capital improvements measure. That's the bill which ran afoul of constitutional provisions the first time it "passed" and was brought back, only to run into trouble all over again.

The problem with L.B. 1425 is that it includes appropriations which exceed the amounts Gov. Norbert Tiemann recommended. It's the legislature's privilege to raise the ante if it wishes, but the constitution says at least 33 senators must agree.

When L.B. 1425 first reached final reading, only 26 senators voted to pass it. Because that was shy of the constitutional requirement, the lawmakers jerked the bill back and decided to put it through all the paces again.

It was referred to the Budget Committee, which had first reported it to the floor $11 million lighter than it was when the senators were through affixing floor amendments.

The committee considered the amendments, scratched some, and let others stand. L.B. 1425 then was advanced to the floor a second time — and sponsors of the amendments which were left on the cutting-room floor immediately sought to restore them.

They were successful to the extent that the overall bill still couldn't generate 33 votes on passage although most of the amendments picked up at least 33 votes as they were adopted.

That left an already belabored L.B. 1425 still in confusion. The attorney general's office had issued an opinion, at the legislature's request, that the vote on passage wasn't important, as long as the magic 33-vote level was reached somewhere during the bill's consideration.

So L.B. 1425 was sent along to Tiemann.

Despite the senatorial conclusion that he had no veto power over any items which had picked up 33 votes at least once in the legislative process, the governor apparently felt otherwise.

He vetoed four items.

That caused a new flurry of excitement. Did he really have the power to make line-item vetoes under these circumstances? Tiemann indicated he wouldn't have done it if he hadn't considered it legal.

But many senators weren't so sure. Budget Chairman Richard Marvel of Hastings late last week was making plans for the initiation of a lawsuit which would put the problem in the lap of the courts.

"We've got to get out from under all this indecision somehow," Marvel said, "and if it takes a lawsuit to do it, fine."

He said he planned to confer with Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer and some of his fellow senators to determine strategy. When the legislators reconvene Sept. 16, he said, he wanted to be in a position to explain all the facts to them and recommend that the problem be sent to the courts for solution.

Marvel emphasized he wasn't trying to preserve the budget items the governor had vetoed. "In fact," he said, "if I had been doing the vetoing, I'd have gone much deeper."

But, the budget chairman said, questions about the validity of actions by both the legislature and the governor needed to be settled.

Three of the four items which fell under the governor's veto axe were projects which had received at least 33 votes sometime during the floor consideration.

They are $1 million for the purchase of land at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha, $1.36 million for land acquisition and planning at the university's Omaha campus, and $1.5 million for remodeling of the Kearney State College administration building.

Marvel and other senators contend those items, as they interpret the attorney general's opinion, were exempt from veto.

On the other hand, a $1,225,000 appropriation for a home economics building on the East Campus in Lincoln failed to earn 33-vote support anywhere along the line. That item — also vetoed by Tiemann — was already dead, according to the senators' argument.

Altogether, Tiemann's vetoes reduced the $22.5 million capital improvements bill by $5,075,000.

Some senators say the governor knew all along the vetoes wouldn't stand up and that his only motive was to make a show of conservatism by making $5 million in cuts.

Tiemann's side of that argument, however, is that he hadn't recommended the spending in the first place, and $5.4 million in projects which exceeded state suggestions did survive his veto knife.

The biggest chunk of that money would go for expansion of the university's Love Library on the downtown campus in Lincoln.

New Faces Appear

Two new department heads have been installed in statehouse offices.

The State Health Board selected Dr. Arnold Michael Reeve, 51, to serve in the $30,000 state health director post. Reeve moves to the Nebraska position from Iowa where he was chief of the state preventive medical service division.

Reeve succeeds Dr. Dorothy Smith who had served in an acting capacity after the resignation last spring of Dr. William Thompson as health director.

Tiemann picked Harold Strode, 33, as the new state welfare director, succeeding Robert McManus who was named to direct the Department of Administrative Services. Strode was the welfare agency's chief of finance and administration. His salary jumped from $13,800 to $17,500.

Visit by Telephone

Mrs. Eugene Leggett telephoned Mrs. C. A. Anderson Monday evening from her hospital bed in Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Leggett is gaining very slowly since undergoing extensive hip surgery last Thursday at the Methodist Hospital there. Her address is Room 412, Bed A, Mrs. C. W. Wilcox left her sister's bedside at noon Monday to return to her Grand Island home.

Ord Residents Will Compete At Polka Days

Christy Dzingle, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dzingle of Ord, has been selected to represent this community at the 1969 Nebraska Polka Days Coronation Ball in Columbus.

The Coronation Ball, scheduled Sept. 19, will be a feature at the celebration of the three-day Polka Days celebration. A state king and queen will be chosen for their work in promoting polka music in their respective communities of Nebraska.

The third annual Polka Days, sponsored in cooperation with the Platte County Agricultural Society, will be held at Agriculture Park in Columbus Sept. 19-21.

The celebration will also feature polka bands during the three day period. Leading the parade of 43 music groups will be the well known Jolly Gents Band of Ord. Members are Ken Dingle, Jerry Heubner, Myron Osentowski, Lores Wolf, Jerome Chelowski, and Lee Garrison.

Also featured will be television personalities, recording artists, musicians and dancers from throughout Nebraska.

Passenger Trains Have New Schedules

Area residents who travel from Grand Island or Kearney by train have been advised to contact depots in those cities for possible schedule changes.

The Union Pacific Railroad has announced new departure and arrival times for trains 111-105 and 112-106, operating between Chicago, Ill., and Portland, Ore. The new schedule went into effect Sunday and will cause time changes at many intermediate points.

Too Much Surplus There Too

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nedbalek returned home Friday after a 12-day sight-seeing trip.

Their first stop was at Floodwood, Minn., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sebasta. At Duluth, Minn., they called on Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sebasta and family, and from there they went on to International Falls, Minn., where they crossed into Canada.

In that country they stopped at Kenora, Ontario; Winnipeg, Manitoba; and Yorktown, Saskatchewan. In the latter city they visited Mr. Nedbalek's 85-year-old uncle, Frank Nedbalek. They eventually went on to Jasper National Park in western Alberta where they reported the traffic to be very heavy but the weather ideal.

On the trip through Canada they viewed many acres of farm land and reported the crops were very good, being mostly wheat, oats, and flax. Half the farm land is summer-fallow and the other half is in grain, they said. They reported that Canadian farmers are allowed to sell only five bushels per acre and that all the elevators are full from crops of the past two years.

On the return trip they toured Yellowstone Park. After completing the 4000 mile journey, Mr. Nedbalek comments "there is no place like home".

Meeting Time

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shoemaker entertained members of the Royal Kensington Club at their home Sunday evening for the first meeting of the season. Cards were played at four tables. High scores were held by Ed Penas and Emma Neilson. Low scorers were Mr. Shoemaker and Olga Vergin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bell and son of Des Moines, Ia., were Thursday afternoon visitors in the Emil Dlugosh home. Thursday evening Mr. Bell and son called on Mrs. Ethel Footwangler.

Spraying for Weeds This Autumn Could Pay Dividends Next Spring

By John Schade

It may be well to consider carrying out a fall spraying program for weed control.

With such a program farmers have an opportunity to help themselves get a head start on some of next year's weed problems.

Musk thistle is a good example. Where dense infestations occurred during the summer, a tremendous rosette population is likely this fall. Spraying rosettes in the fall will prevent established seed-bearing plants next year.

Musk thistle is easier to kill in the rosette stage than at any other time. Frequently in the spring, with the rush of work, spraying may be missed at the rosette stage or done later when the plant starts to bolt or bloom. This is too late for effective musk thistle control.

Spraying in the fall requires the same amounts of chemicals as spring spraying. Herbicide of choice is 2,4-D ester at the rate of two pounds active ingredients per acre.

Hard Maple To Replace Elm

Many home owners have asked the question, "What tree should I plant to replace elms lost to Dutch-elm disease?"

In eastern Nebraska and on hardland sites in central Nebraska, hard maple can be used. Either Norway or sugar maple would be good choices.

Excellent success from either of these species can be expected with only a limited amount of special care. However, hard maple does require a fertile soil and more moisture than some other shade-tree species to keep them in vigorous growing condition.

Hard maples have a very attractive form — symmetrical, dense, and compact — as they develop. Their crowns will grow to a width of approximately 30 feet, and the trees will reach 40 feet in height at maturity. In autumn their leaves change from green to brilliant reds and yellows.

Keeping the bark in good condition is important to the health of any tree. Sunscald is a problem with maple, which should be watched closely during the first several years after it is planted. The bark on maple trees is thin and when exposed to sun for long periods of the day it can be seriously damaged.

To protect newly planted maple trees from sunscald, the trunk should be wrapped for several years. After this time the crown should provide enough shade for protection.

Total Tax Takes 37 Cents Out of Every Dollar

Federal, state, and local taxes take 37 cents from every dollar of national income. This is almost 10 cents more than was required to finance World War II during the 1950s.

During the 30 years since 1939, pre-war when the total tax level was 19.5 cents on the dollar Federal taxes alone have jumped from 9 cents to 26 cents per dollar.

The figures were published in a recent issue of U.S. News and World Report, which said high taxes are causing a taxpayer's revolt among American citizens.

THE Ord Quiz

Is This Familiar?

One of the ironies of the modern free world is the vast and highly complicated intelligence-gathering system which it has set up while at the same time ignoring or disbelieving information its enemy freely gives.

In today's "Scott Report," printed elsewhere on this page, Admiral Hyman G. Rickover says that Hitler told us in "Mein Kampf" what he intended to do. Yet no one would listen.

In May of 1919 at Dusseldorf, Germany, the Allied Forces obtained a copy of some "Communist Rules for Revolution." The "Rules" explain the Communist plan for taking control of a nation.

Because of the similarity between what is said in the "Rules" and what is happening in this country today, anyone reading them at the first time will probably find it hard to believe they were written 50 years ago. Take a look:

- 1. Corrupt the young; get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial; destroy their ruggedness.
2. Get control of all means of publicity, thereby:
a. Get People's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays, and their trivialities.
b. Divide the people into hostile groups by constant harping on controversial matters of no importance.
c. Destroy the people's faith in their leaders by holding them up to contempt, ridicule, and obliquity.
3. Always preach true democracy, but seize power fast and as ruthlessly as possible.
4. By encouraging government extravagance, destroy credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent.
5. Foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders, and foster lenient and loose attitudes on part of government toward such disorders.
6. By specious argument, cause the breakdown of old moral virtues — honest, sobriety, continence, faith in the aged word.
7. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with the view of confiscating them and leaving the population defenseless.
Sounds familiar, doesn't it?

Not So Easily Satisfied

It seems that Senator Edward Kennedy might well reconsider the merits of telling the hard truth as against the pat narrative which he has sought to quiet the public. The trouble Mr. Kennedy ran into was telling bits and pieces of the truth, and then only where it accommodated his position.

Dear Editor: Well, I hate to say this, but I am afraid Ord is out to cut its own throat, and encourage boycotting of it. Last Tuesday I felt lonely, so I picked up a friend and drove to Ord for the ride as I do many, many times. As I drove into town there was quite heavy traffic, so I was watching it as usual. Then I stopped across west of the Co-op, for I wanted to see them. Just then a policeman walked up to my car. I thought he was just checking license plates, cars, etc., as they often do, but NO. He began, "You went through a red flashing light!"

The Scott Report Comparison of U.S., Soviet Naval Capabilities Proves Alarming

By Vice Admiral H. G. Rickover

(EDITOR'S NOTE: While Paul Scott is on a brief vacation, the "Scott Report" is being written by Vice Admiral H. G. Rickover, director, Division of Naval Reactors, Atomic Energy Commission.)

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union is embarked on a program which reveals a singular awareness of the importance of sea power and an unmistakable resolve to become the most powerful maritime force in the world.

1968, at least 65 of which are nuclear-powered. During the same period the United States built 90 submarines, 82 of them nuclear-powered. The Soviets have scrapped or given away all their World War II submarines as well as some built since.

estimated that by 1974 they will add about 70 nuclear-powered submarines to their fleet, whereas we will add but 26 — further increasing their numerical superiority.

The Soviets demonstrate a thorough understanding of the basic elements of sea power; knowledge of the seas, a strong modern merchant marine, and a powerful new Navy. They are forging forward with a naval and maritime program that is a technological marvel.

In the single year 1968, the Soviets put to sea a new type of ballistic missile submarine as well as several new types of nuclear attack submarines — far exceeding anything we have ever done.

In order to achieve the results so far attained in all areas of modern technology, the Soviets first had to develop their most important resource — technical and scientific personnel. The Soviet educational program enjoys highest national

Something Different

Hurray for Fairs

I should have written this column last week, before Popcorn Days at North Loup. As I said last year I consider this one of the nicest small-town celebrations I've ever attended. It is so LOCAL. Everyone takes part.

I do hope you went. And I hope you went to the State Fair. In the beginning I suppose fairs were invented so that early citizens could compete. Mother wanted everyone to know what good bread she could make and what neat embroidery she achieved.

These modern fairs received massive transfusions of energy when the 4-H programs began, and when the Extension Clubs began to flourish. Children and parents alike have learned so much, and enjoyed every minute of it.

Well, almost. Except for that time the cookies burned and the family were sick of them anyway, for after all Genevieve had practiced those cookies 18 times that summer!

(Or that time the sleeve had to be ripped out of the blouse and reset — not once, but twice!)

Still, I think they enjoyed the feeling of achievement, the ribbons earned.

So I couldn't agree more with this editorial from Keith Blackledge's North Platte Telegraph: COUNTY FAIR IS AMERICA

"The County Fair. If you've got to have your entertainment dished up in standard, television-tube-sized packages, slicked and polished and well rehearsed, the fair probably leaves you cold.

"But if you can enjoy the sights, sounds, smells of rural America live and unhearsed, the fair will never cease to entertain.

"The fair is people with pride in what they can accomplish. It is a tribute to growing things, to youth, to excellence in mundane pursuits.

"If it is also sometimes hot and dusty and smelly, or wet and muddy, that is all right, too. It is a reminder that not all of life goes on in air-conditioned comfort.

"Each fair is the same, yet each different across this food-rich, interesting, wonderful valley and north and south as far as you want to go.

"It is a cap to summer. Not just entertainment, but a ritual and tradition that would leave an emptiness if it were gone."

This Week's Meditation

Read Romans 6:1-11

You are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid. (Matthew 5:14)

Two boys spitefully beat up a classmate. They hurt him so badly he had to go to a hospital. When questioned, the victim would not reveal their names. He said, "I don't want to betray my friends."

There is little doubt his attitude toward the boys who had mistreated him influenced them. When the inquiry was started, the two boys came forward to admit they were responsible. In proper spirit they received the punishment meted out to them by the school authorities.

The attitude of the boy who was injured and the repentant spirit of the boys who hurt him resulted in a high standard of character being established in the school. There was a light that inspired others. They have been remembered, one for his loyalty to his friends who had abused him, and the others for repenting of their wrong.

Our savior is ready to forgive us our sins and lift us up despite our weaknesses and wrongdoing. It is required of us, however, that we repent and ask His forgiveness.

PRAYER: Dear Father, we thank Thee that Thou wilt forgive us for our sins and accept us as children of Thine. Guide us away from the kind of living Thou canst not approve and into the path of life that merits Thy commendation. "Well done." In the Spirit of Christ we ask. Amen.

"Fun Is Our Business" says the carnival sign framed through a criss-cross network of supports for the "Scrambler." Fun was the business not only of the carnival at Popcorn Day, but of all the people in North Loup who staged another near-perfect show. For more on the 68th annual extravaganza turn to Page 1 of Section 2.

Valley County Steer Rates Seventh In Carcass Competition at State Fair

The body of a crossbred steer owned by Doug Fuss of North Loup was rated seventh among 99 animals in the recent 411 beef carcass contest which followed the Nebraska State Fair.

Fuss' beef was the reserve champion market steer at this year's Valley County Fair, winning a purple ribbon. At the State Fair it rated a blue ribbon on the hoof, and the seventh place was worth $90 in cash to young Fuss.

Only animals which won purple or blue ribbons at the state competition could be entered in the carcass contest. And of the 97 entered, only 69 met minimum standards to be considered for awards.

After butchering, Fuss' steer weighed 712 pounds and the meat was rated choice. Only one steer was rated prime, and just two others were thought to be choice.

The steer had one of the bigger rib eye areas in the competition, measuring 15.4 inches. Its outside fat cover was half an inch.

The carcass contest proved that the judges who rate the animals while they're still alive know what they're doing, since Bruce Ash of Mason City had the grand champion steer when it was judged on the hoof and also the top animal after the hides were removed.

In other activities at the fair itself, youngsters from this area made another fine haul, taking home many ribbons of all colors.

Vancuras Hog First Grid Quiz

The leading contestants in the first Quiz football contest of the fall were all in the family — the Vancura family, to be specific.

Alan Vancura, a student at Kearney State College, nipped his dad, Charlie Vancura, by a single point on the tie-breaker after both picked 19 of 24 games correctly. Alan called the Ord-Gothenburg game 20-14 in favor of Ord while his dad called it 12-7. Alan was thus off a total of 11 points and Charlie 12, even though he hit Gothenburg's total right on the nose. (The final score was 24-7 in favor of Ord.)

And just to add interest, Dean Vancura was third with 18 correct picks and the best tie-breaker score.

It's Official: School Hikes Will Boost Overall Taxes

Valley County residents generally can expect to pay more property taxes in 1969, primarily as a result of higher school levies.

Rates for the 1969 tax year were officially adopted at a special meeting of the Valley County Board of Supervisors Tuesday night. Included in the board's action were levies for the county as a whole, each of the towns and villages, townships (libraries), school districts, and miscellaneous subdivisions such as reclamation districts and rural fire districts.

Only one school district bucked the trend to higher levies. That was Arcadia's District 21, whose rate dropped from 45.53 mills last year to 43.49 this time. Mrs. Thea Dulitz, county clerk, said the reduction was due to increased property valuations in Sherman and Custer counties from which District 21 draws some of its students.

Rural valuations in Custer County were boosted 50 percent by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment a few weeks ago, while in Sherman County rural valuations were raised by 35 percent and urban valuations by 20 percent.

This means that residents in the neighboring counties are now paying a bigger percentage of the total school levy than before.

The Custer County raises also gave residents of Ord's District 5 who live in Valley County an unexpected break. This district laps over the Valley County line into Custer County, so valuation hikes there meant a raise in total valuation for the district. This brought on a lower mill levy here.

Instead of a 15-mill hike which had been anticipated for Valley County residents of this district, the increase will be just under 12%. It will go up from 39.64 to 52.02. The 15-mill raise had been expected because of a new building levy for the Ord Grade School and because the district is budgeting for a 14-month year instead of the normal 12 months.

District 5 now has a total valuation of $11,697,362.

The board did not act on the levy for county residents living in the North Loup-Scottia school district, since that levy will have to come from the Greeley County clerk. The same was true of rural district 13, and Educational Service Unit 7.

Residents of rural districts which have no education facilities beyond the sixth or eighth grades will also be hit with heavy increases. The hikes range from 1.77 mills for District 29 to 22.5 mills for District 49, which has combined with District 58.

Mrs. Dulitz said that in most cases the increases are a result of hikes in the free high school tuition which these districts pay to have their students in the higher grades educated by the Ord district. Earlier this year the Ord Board of Education voted to increase the free high school tuition rate from $630 per pupil to $900. The result was a jump from 6 mills to 11.3 in this area alone.

What Arcadia residents living in town gained in the way of a reduced school tax they lost in the form of a higher village levy. That rate will go from 28.32 mills to 30.03.

Both Ord and North Loup city levies are reduced from last year. Ord's is down from 17.30 to 16.21, and North Loup's from 36.91 to 36.06. Elyria's rate remains the same at an even 6. The county rate is up slightly from 14 mills to 14.21. Mrs. Dulitz said this increase was due primarily to increased road work planned next year.

The hike put the county levy very near the maximum 14.28 mills which it is limited to by state law.

Use of Sound Ensiling Techniques Negates Need for Costly Additives

By John Schade

If the farmer does a good job of putting up silage, I see no reason for spending extra money on expensive additives and preservatives.

There is no substitute for following sound management practices when harvesting and storing silage. This means forage should be harvested at the proper stage of maturity, and with proper moisture content. Care should be taken also to chop it as fine as possible. Proper distribution during filling and packing to exclude air is important too in good silage making.

If these practices are followed, additives are not essential. Just remember, you cannot take more feed value from the silo than you put in it at ensiling time.

These products are analyzed with good common sense, it becomes apparent that they can do little to improve your silage.

Let's look at these products and evaluate their contribution to your silage.

Yeasts — Yeast cells will not live and multiply in properly ensiled forage.

Enzymes — There is no experimental evidence which justifies the conclusion that enzymes improve silage in any manner.

Antibiotics — When air is properly excluded, there is no need for antibiotics or mold inhibitors.

Flavor Additives — These ingredients are also completely unnecessary for the formation of high-quality silage. And if good silage is not formed, additives cannot overcome objectionable flavors and odors.

Preservative Cultures — There is no shortage of appropriate bacteria on green material at ensiling time. Adding cultures may speed the ensiling process, but the end product will be the same.

Research has demonstrated, however, that some benefits can be received by fortifying nutrients in the silage to help cattle more fully utilize the nutrients already present.

Selling Prices Average $1,556 At Geweke Quarter Horse Auction

One of the finest collections of Quarter Horses in the Midwest was sold Saturday at Ericson as Lloyd Geweke disposed of his entire herd.

The 62 horses were sold at auction for an average price of $1,556 each, with the top one bringing $5,000. Called Barry Pine, this young black stallion was sold to a buyer from Bremerton, Wash.

Forced in 1968, the horse has more brothers and sisters with American Quarter Horse Assn. championships than any other yearling in the nation.

People from all over the United States attended the sale, with buyers coming from 14 different states.

Geweke decided to dispose of the horses following the death of his son Don in an automobile accident last November.

"Without Don's ability and ambition in this part of our business, I have decided to have this complete dispersal," Geweke stated in a catalog describing each of Arnold likes children almost as much as children like Arnold — provided they have a bottle of milk in their hand. Arnold is a six-month-old shoot raised by Mr. and Mrs. Cash Welniak on their farm near Elyria. "Arnold was a runt when I brought him in the house and started feeding him by hand," Mrs. Welniak stated. "He still has to have two bottles a day, but I don't let him in the house anymore," she added. Handling the bottle here is Doug Green, while Brian and Paul Meese take a ride.

ASC Community Committees Are Named for Valley County

New Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees have been named for each of Valley County's townships in Valley County.

Ballots were counted Tuesday following Monday's deadline for voting by mail.

Newly elected chairmen, vice-chairmen and third regular members automatically become delegates to the county convention where farmers are elected to fill vacancies on the county ASC committee. The alternate committee members become alternate delegates to the convention.

The county convention will be held at the Valley County ASCS office on Sept. 28 at 1 p.m.

After the county committee members are elected, the delegates will determine which of the three-man committee will serve as committee chairman and vice-chairman for the coming year.

ASC county and community committees handle local administration of the Agricultural Conservation Program, Cropland Adjustment Program, feed grain and wheat diversion programs, the national wolf program, acreage allotments, commodity loans, and storage facility loans.

St. Mary's School Houses 142 Pupils

St. Mary's School opened in Ord with a final enrollment of 142 students. Principal of the school is Sister Mary Diane who teaches the 4th and 5th grades. Sister Mary Michaeline teaches 1st and 2nd grades, and Sister Mary Leona the 7th and 8th grades. Lay teachers are Mrs. Nellie Pernley, 3rd grade teacher and Mrs. Ruth Powers who teaches 6th grade. Mrs. Robert Bishop is a teachers aide in the 1st and 2nd grade for four hours each day.

Early Dismissal Planned For School Wednesday

Ord schools will be dismissed early next Wednesday so that teachers may attend the Valley County teacher's meeting scheduled that afternoon.

Mira Valley Memo

Mrs. Cook Discovers She Can't Trust Anyone These Days!

By Bertha Clement
Beware of lightning rod inspectors. Presumably there was one in Mira Valley the day of the Fall Festival in Arcadia. He called on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foth and Mrs. Ed Cook. At Mrs. Cook's home his line was quite convincing; credentials included, which he merely waved at her. She wouldn't give her consent to the inspection until she called her daughter, Mrs. Foth, at his request. She told her the man was reliable. Not having a ladder, he thought he might climb a tree and leap across. Mrs. Cook thought that would be too hazardous. Reuben Cook was so well disguised that his own mother didn't know him.

Korner Cutters
Mrs. Kent Hornickel entertained the Korner Cutters Extension Club in her home Thursday evening. Twelve members and one visitor, Mrs. Willard Harkness, were present. An election of officers was held, and Mrs. Hornickel was elected president; Mrs. Gene Bredthauer vice-president; and Mrs. Charles Morgan, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Eldon Foth presented the lesson, "Sandwiches." When the members arrived, they saw a cake on the table decorated with pink roses and wondered whose birthday they were celebrating. Later they found that this was a unique way to prepare sandwiches. These and a variety of fancy sandwiches were served for refreshments.

Mrs. Bryan Peterson will be the hostess at the October meeting.

Enroute to Japan
Duane Lange returned home from Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas Monday for a month's leave. When it is over, he will be sent to Japan. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Lange.

40 Years of Married Life
Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hoo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Farn Johnson of Central City at the Veterans Club in St. Paul Sunday evening. The couples were observing their 40th wedding anniversaries. The Johnsons were married on the 11th of September and the Roos on the 17th.

Paul is 8 . . .
Paul Bredthauer was 8 years old Sunday. His birthday was celebrated with a picnic supper at the Chalk Hills. Present besides the honoree were his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Bredthauer; his sister Debbie and brothers Scott, Craig and Todd; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dye; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fox; and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wolf and family.

And Victor is 13!
Victor Clement was 13 years old Sunday. His birthday was observed at the George Clement home. Present for the occasion were Don Clement, sons Edwin and Rex, and Jim Stevenson, all of Kearney. Edwin and Victor also spent Saturday night with their grandparents, having stopped on the way home from Ericson where they also saw neighbor Ackermann had attended the Geweke quarterhorse sale.

Johnsons Tour West
Mr. and Mrs. Stan Johnson and Tracy returned home Wednesday after a vacation to the West Coast. They left home Aug. 24 and headed for the Black Hills, went next to Yellowstone National Park, and then to Tonasket, Wash., to visit Mrs. Johnson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Andersen. In that state they also saw Coulee Dam. In Oregon they visited friends at Eugene and relatives at Portland. They especially enjoyed the Rose Gardens in Portland. In driving from Oregon to California they were impressed by the Redwoods. In California they visited friends at Sunnyvale and relatives at Obispo, plus a sister-in-law at Long Beach. At Anaheim they saw a ball game and toured Disneyland. Marine Land was also a highlight of the trip. They returned home by way of Grand Junction and Greeley, Colo.

Donna Johnson, who had spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Johnson at Greeley, returned home with her folks.

61st Anniversary Noted
Mr. and Mrs. Harold King and children attended a family dinner honoring the 61st wedding anniversary of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kurth of Fullerton, at the home of Mrs. John Donn in Columbus Sunday. Relatives from Salem, Ore., Aurora, Ill., Omaha, Lincoln, Belgrade, Genoa, Columbus, and Ord were present.

Former Resident Is 75
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foth, Mrs. Sophie Fuss, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer helped their cousin, Mrs. Hadie Heiden of York, celebrate her 75th birthday Sunday. Mrs. Heiden, the former Hadie Fuss, lived in Mira Valley as a girl. The family gathering was held at the home of Mrs. Heiden's son, Gerald. Mr. and Mrs. Bredthauer and Mrs. Fuss stopped at the home of Mrs. Rose Fuss in Scotia on the way home and visited Mrs. Lena Wigand of Bell, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Foth visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maroude and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Bloom at York before returning home.

Teachers of Religion
Weekday School of Religion started Sept. 9 at St. John's Lutheran Church. Mrs. Henry Lange teaches the fifth and sixth grade pupils.

Out of Hospital
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vlach returned home Thursday. They had gone to Omaha to visit his sisters, and while there Ed was hospitalized for about 10 days.

Improving
Robert Lueck, who has been seriously ill, was able to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knapp and Kevin to the Popcorn celebration for a short time Sept. 10. His small son Jeff also accompanied them.

Kriewalds Celebrate
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Rose Fuss in Scotia. Mrs. Lena Wigand of Bell, Calif., was the honored guest. Others were Bob Warten, P. J. Seefus of Scotia, Bill Vogeler of North Loup, and Mrs. Emmett Harding of Portland, Ore. The Langes attended the 25th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kriewald in Ord during the afternoon, then returned to Scotia for more visiting.

Personals
Cousins visiting Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ryschon were Mr. and Mrs. Gleason Stanton of Granite Falls, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bremick of Lake Stevens, Wash. on Friday; and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Stanton of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Elma Guggenmos of Brewster Monday. Mrs. Francis Ryschon and Mrs. Bill Ryschon spent Saturday at Covenant Cedars Bible Camp, a retreat for Baptist women. Mr. and Mrs. George Bertrand and two children flew in from Trona, Calif., Sept. 8, landing in Burwell. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Martin Fuss till Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eob White boarded their plane at Burwell early Sunday morning and returned to California after a week's visit with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fuss. Actual flying time for the trip was eight hours. Mrs. Emmett Harding of Portland, Ore., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Elsie Bremer, and George this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bell visited his cousin, John Petty, at Haden Heights, N. J., when they were houseguests of the Wendell Bells at Yardley, Pa. In Chicago, Ill., they visited another cousin, Mrs. Betty Petty Frey. George had never met these cousins.

A Saturday overnight and Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rikli, Mr. and Mrs. Ditch Rikli, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Rikli, all of Murdock. They had come to attend the Saturday evening quarterhorse sale of the Gewekes at Ericson.

Birthday callers of Mrs. Katie Marks were Mrs. Russell Hackel and Mark on Friday evening. Mrs. Albert Peterson Saturday afternoon, and Mrs. Isaac Luoma Sunday evening.

entertained at supper Tuesday evening with the following as guests: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bredthauer of Cairo; Mrs. Lena Wigand of Bell, Calif.; Mrs. Emmett Harding of Portland, Ore.; Bill Vogeler of North Loup; Mrs. Rose Fuss, P. J. Seefus, Mrs. Della Bredthauer, and Mrs. Alina Bredthauer, all of Scotia; Mrs. Sophie Fuss; and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer.

Emma and Eda Dobberstein of Grand Island visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer Saturday. They also called on Bertha Bremer in Ord, and Mrs. Bredthauer accompanied them when they visited Julius Rachuy.

Rita Waldman of Comstock was an overnight guest of Jean Foth Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cook spent the weekend at Cozad with their daughter, Mrs. Roberta Stewart, and sons Danny and Ronald (who attends Kearney State College). Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cook, Bob and Debby were additional Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Stewart.

Zola Harkness of Hastings spent Tuesday with her folks, the Willard Harkness family.

MOONLIGHT MADNESS

IN ORD, THURSDAY NIGHT, SEPTEMBER 18

Carol's Corner

by Carol Leggett

This week has been full of embarrassments. You know the kind — for instance, Monday I paraded up and down the streets of Ord with a candy bar wrapper stuck fast to my skirt back.

Noting the second glances, but thinking it must be the new pink dress I was wearing, you can imagine my feelings when Lynn Griffith called my attention to the extra accessory late in the morning!

When Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Stevens were in Ord last week from San Francisco, Calif., for the burial of her mother, they raved to relatives about the kind consideration Chris Kirby had shown them at the cemetery.

Being accustomed to things on a much more impersonal level, the Stevens couldn't get over Mr. Kirby's helpful and friendly manner. Another advantage of small town living, I'd say.

An excellent way to use those larger cucumbers is being shared this week by Mrs. Wencel Bruha of Grand Island. Here is Mrs. Bruha's recipe for Cucumber Relish.

Combine: 3 qts. ground cucumbers
1 qt. ground onions
1 c. ground green peppers.
Add: 1/3 c. salt and let stand.

Next day: drain and squeeze dry. If too salty, rinse with water in colander.
For syrup combine: 4 c. sugar
1 qt. vinegar
1 t. celery seed
1 t. black pepper
1/2 t. turmeric
Heat to boiling point, add to first mixture and cook slowly 10 minutes. Pack in hot jars and seal. Makes 6 pints.

Ord will not go unnoticed at Columbus during the weekend. Christy Dzingle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dzingle of Ord, will represent the community at the 1960 Nebraska Polka Days Coronation Ball.

Christy's costume has been designed by a well known seamstress of the Midlands, Lois Stubbert. Imported fabrics are being used, and every detail of the candidates' costumes is being kept secret until Friday evening.

There's a new margarine on the market named "Rumor" because it spreads so quickly and easily.

Coffee Cup Philosophy: If you think twice before you speak, you'll never get into the conversation!

First Granddaughter
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Grabowski are the proud grandparents of Karla Dale, born Sept. 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Larkowski of Grand Island. The baby is the first child for the Larkowskis and the first grandchild for the Grabowskis. She weighed 5 pounds, 10 ounces. Mrs. Grabowski is presently visiting in the Larkowski home for a few days. Mrs. Larkowski is the former Cheryl Grabowski.

great-grandmother. The baby boy weighing 8 pounds, 11 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Zwickel of Sacramento, Calif. Mrs. Zwickel is the former Judi Eschliman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Eschliman of Kearney. The baby had not been named at the time of the phone call.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kluna and Mr. and Mrs. Al Boro left Ord Friday for Forgas Falls, Minn., where they were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Kluna and son. They returned Monday.

Mrs. Millie Eschliman learned Sunday that she had become a

Sandy Kusek Becomes Mrs. Harold Arnold In An Exchange of Vows at Loup City

In a Saturday morning setting at St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Loup City, Sandy Kusek became the bride of Harold Arnold. Father Dan Fishburn performed the 10 o'clock double-ring ceremony and nuptial mass.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kusek of Arcadia and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Arnold of Ord.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length skimmer "A" line gown of imported organza over a peau de soie sheath. White satin ribbon and venise lace threaded the gown front, full sleeves gathered cuffed at the wrists, and a high neckline and detachable wattleau chapel-length train completed the gown details.

Miss Kusek's cathedral-length veil fell from a double crown of daisies, and she carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow roses.

Maid of honor was Jean Arnold, sister of the groom, from Ord. Bridesmaids were Coleen Kusek of Lincoln and the bride's four sisters — Phyllis, Margaret, Elizabeth, and Rita Kusek.

They wore floor-length chapel green skimmer crepe dresses trimmed with daisy lace at the necklines and elbow-length sleeves. Their veils were held by a crown of daisy lace matching the dresses. Each carried a yellow-centered white daisy pompon tied with green ribbon streamers. The dresses and veils of the attendants were designed and sewn by the bride's mother.

Ray Kusek Jr. of Grand Island served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Dick Czarnek of St. Paul and Jim Swanson of Ord. Roger Arnold, brother of the groom, and Mike Kusek, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Judy Fradyma of Fullerton played nuptial music and accompanied soloist Mary Ellen Moser of Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Arnold and

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Arthur were hosts at a dinner reception held in the V.F.W. Hall following the ceremony. Mrs. Albin Nelson cut the cake, and Mrs. Nancy Horner and Mrs. Roger Arnold served coffee and punch. Other assistants were Sandy Spilnek, Gloria Peters, Shirley Klansky, and Pat Gall. Connie Siegel presided at the guest book.

A special guest of the day was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Arthur of Kearney.

For their wedding trip to Colorado the new bride wore a green ensemble with yellow accessories. The couple will be at home at Fort Penning, Ga., where the groom is stationed with the Army.

The bride is a graduate of Loup City High School, attended Duchesne College and graduated from St. Francis School of Nursing. A graduate of Ord High School, the groom attended Universal Trade School before entering the armed forces.

At the regular meeting of the TOPS Club Sept. 23, at the John Schade home, Mrs. Carol Van Nordheim, Home Extension Agent, will present the program.

Holdrege Next Foe For Lively Chants

Two teams meeting opposite fates last week will tangle tomorrow night (Friday) on the local gridiron.

Holdrege, which drank the bitter dregs of defeat, will be in town to challenge Ord, which is still savoring the sweet taste of victory. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The visiting Dusters find themselves in an unusual role as they try to come back from a resounding defeat suffered last week. Class A McCook clobbered them, 36-0. The game was so one-sided that Holdrege showed only three first downs to McCook's 24 and 78 yards rushing to its foe's 429.

"Really, though, we don't know what they have," said Ord Coach Chuck Squier Monday as he evaluated his team's second opponent, "McCook controlled the ball so much that our scout never really got a chance to see what Holdrege had."

The position of having to bounce back from a lop-sided defeat is unusual for a Jess Keifer-coached team. The head man for the Dusters is in his 23rd season and owns a composite 106.80-7 record.

One thing the Dusters do have for sure is an unorthodox formation, although Coach Keifer wasn't sure Tuesday night how much he would use it. It's the old single-wing, and against McCook the Phelps County team went with it all the way.

"We'll use it some" was all Keifer would say Tuesday as he clicked off a starting lineup that sounded remarkably like a T-formation backfield. However, Coach Squier had his Chanticleers working on the assumption that Holdrege would go primarily with the single-wing.

"Our boys have never seen a single-wing, and we'll be working on it all week," he said. "If Holdrege goes to the T, well, I think we proved Friday night we can defend that pretty well."

Holdrege brings in an even more inexperienced team than Gothenburg sent against the Chants last week. The Dusters will be starting only four lettermen on offense and a like number on defense.

The man to watch may be a non-letterman, though. Based on the scouting report, Squier had high praise for senior center Dave Van Marter, a 192-pounder. Van Marter's own coach, however, refused to single anyone out.

"After a game like that I don't think we can say anyone is outstanding," he commented.

Coach Squier plans no major changes in the Chant lineup. However, he does definitely plan to start seniors at two positions where he was undecided until the last moment last week. That's at right tackle on offense, where Chuck Setlik gets the call over sophomore Jim Martin, and at fullback where Dennis Kamarad gets the nod over sophomore Larry Wells.

"I thought Kamarad looked real well running the ball last week," Squier observed. "But Wells was running pretty tough too."

Kamarad wound up as Ord's leading ground gainer with 82 yards on 17 carries. His longest was a 26-yarder.

An injury to senior Bill Miller may necessitate two additional substitutions. Miller twisted an ankle in the Gothenburg game and still was on crutches Tuesday. If he can't go by Friday, Paul Markowski will handle offensive end duties and Loren Vance will assume defensive linebacking chores. That means they'll be going both ways.

"Our problem is still the same one we had at the beginning of the year," Squier observed Monday. "No depth."

He said center Bruce Worm played every second of last week's game, including even the kickoffs. "Usually when you have a boy playing both ways he gets relieved on the specialty units," Squier stated, "but we didn't have anyone we could send in."

Squier said he was pleased with sophomore quarterback Paul Markley's play in the opener, and that Markley is recovering satisfactorily from a leg injury suffered last week in practice.

"We should be able to open up our offense even more than we did last week," the coach observed, "since Markley will be running better."

Ord Recovers From Initial Shock To Rocket Past Gothenburg, 24-7

The final score came late in the game when sophomore David John romped over from seven yards out the first time he handled the ball in a varsity game. John swung right on an end sweep, then made a sudden burst for the corner of the end zone when he saw the defenders strung out.

A couple of minutes earlier Ord had taken its turn at getting a touchdown called back when Kamarad pulled away from five Swede defenders and romped in from 17 yards out. That was nullified by an off-side penalty.

Ord moved the ball fairly consistently, piling up 219 yards on the ground. Squier still was not completely satisfied, though.

"We called some stupid plays that stopped some other good drives," he said, "and we can't afford that. Our line blocking has improved, but we've still got to get down lower and fire out faster. We're standing up too much."

Squier thought junior end Darrell Farmer, a 145-pounder, did an outstanding blocking job on Gothenburg's 194-pound tackle, Cal Streeter. "He was crucifying him," he stated.

The real key to victory, though, the coach with the perfect record said, was field position.

"Our defense gave the ball to the offense in good field position all night," he said. "Only on the second half kickoff were we deep in our end of the field when we got the ball."

Markowski was cited for his defensive work. Besides recovering two fumbles, he piled up a handful of tackles.

"They were persistently running at him, and he just wasn't letting them through," Squier stated. "Of course he had good help over on that side with Timmerman at tackle and Bob Peterson at linebacker. That's a pretty tough right side."

"David John played real well too," he stated, "and I'm not saying that just because he scored a touchdown. He made two of the four tackles on our kickoffs."

Although he was playing sophomore, juniors, and seniors, Squier said he was pleased with the way they worked together as a unit.

"We held our mistakes to a minimum, and that helped," he said. He added that Markley did not pass more simply because the running game was working so well. "He didn't have to," the coach stated.

The sophomore quarterback threw five times and connected on two of them.

Loup City Falts, 22-6, In Fullerton Opener

A seasoned and aggressive Fullerton team shocked Loup City, 22-6, in the season opener for the two Lou-Platte Conference foes Friday night.

Disappointed particularly in his team's line play, Coach Don Wagner will attempt to rally Loup City tomorrow night (Friday) against St. Paul. That game, like the opener, will be played in Loup City.

"We must eliminate our errors, improve our line play, and sharpen our overall execution before we can become a winning ball club," Coach Wagner stated following the loss to Fullerton. He said the Red Raider line was whipped both offensively and defensively.

Still, the game could hardly be called a disgrace for Loup City since Fullerton returned 23 lettermen from last season, including nine starters. The Warriors were rated in pre-season forecasts as one of the teams most likely to upset defending conference champion Ravenna.

Despite the loss, there were some bright spots for Loup City. One was the exceptional defensive play of Glen Epley at end, and another was the strong passing of senior quarterback Bob Guzinski.

Fullerton scored in the opening quarter when Dave Fitzgerald outran the Raider defense on a 24-yard end-around play. The two teams then traded touchdowns in the second quarter as Loup City scored on a four-yard pass from Guzinski to Ken Kuzak and Fullerton made good on a two-yard run by heralded Tim Roewert.

Acclaimed as the fastest back in the conference, he won the 440-yard dash in 50.3 seconds at last spring's district track meet in Ord. Roewert helped the Warrior backs pile up a 191-to-102 advantage in yards gained on the ground.

The third Fullerton touchdown was scored by quarterback George Palmer, like Roewert a returning starter from last year's squad. He ran two yards for the clinching TD.

"It was a very poor first game for Loup City," Coach Wagner said as he summarized the contest. "We made many mistakes and mental errors besides getting whipped in the line. Fullerton was a well-disciplined ball club and showed the influence of seasoned veterans at most positions."

Wagner is working 10 lettermen from last year's Loup City Central Catholic team into his squad following consolidation of the community's two high schools during the summer.

Wheeler Central Runs Up Big Lead In 28-18 Triumph Over Petersburg

THE YARDSTICK

Passes Completed	1	2
Passes Intercepted	1	2
Fumbles Lost	1-35.0	3-22.3

Wheeler County's lone high school has a new name this fall, but it was some old hands who boosted the Bronco football team to a 28-18 victory in its season opener Friday night.

With a starting lineup that showed lettermen at seven of eight positions, the newly named Wheeler Central team ran up a 28-0 lead at Petersburg before the home team rallied. The rally was cut short, however, and the Broncos held on for their 28-18 triumph.

Coach Tom Majors, beginning his third year at the Wheeler Central helm (the school was called Wheeler County in the past), blamed a lack of depth for his team's shortcomings in the second half. Sixteen penalties totaling 140 yards were also detrimental to the Bronco cause.

All the Wheeler Central starters had important roles as their team piled up a 277-to-205 advantage in total yards gained.

That starting lineup consisted of ends Gene Schmeits and Scott Patrick, guards Dwaine Green and Bryan Hinze, center Lyle Lenz, quarterback Tom Majors (the coach's son), tailback John Olson, and fullback Jerry Childers. Only Lenz, who was injured last year, failed to letter in 1968.

Schmeits and Olson led the Bronco scoring with two touchdowns apiece.

A 150-pound junior, Schmeits was especially impressive as he proved he has come all the way back from a broken collarbone suffered late last year. He scored one touchdown on a 32-yard pass and run play from Majors, and he got another when he intercepted a Petersburg pass and returned it 10 yards. Schmeits also served as the backup quarterback for Majors, hitting three of six tosses for 48 yards.

Olson, also a 150-pound junior, exploded for touchdown runs of 37 and 27 yards. He was the team's leading ground gainer with 99 yards on 16 carries. Last year Olson was primarily a defensive specialist, starting at line-backer.

Wheeler Central was in command all the way, holding leads of 16-0 at the end of the first quarter, 22-0 at halftime, and 28-0 three minutes into the second half. Then the Pirates rallied, scoring two touchdowns in the third quarter and one in the fourth. Jerry Bode was a one-man gang for them, as he tallied the first two TD's on runs of 1 and 43 yards. He then helped get the last one by throwing a 17-yard pass to Bob Allen.

Patrick, a 140-pound junior, was the leading Bronco pass receiver with eight receptions for 90 yards.

Majors, who was one of only two seniors in the starting lineup, hit on seven of 12 passes for 94 yards. He's a 160-pounder who was also hurt part of last season.

Childers was the other senior starter. A 180-pounder, the two-year letterman was moved from guard to fullback this fall when it became evident that Chuck Bartak would not be available.

Bartak was an honorable mention designee for all-state honors following the 1968 campaign. He also was named all-conference each of the past two seasons. However, the 180-pounder broke a leg in a tractor accident last July and is still in a cast. He plans to have the cast removed this week, and is still hoping to see enough action this fall to earn his fourth letter.

Besides the added weight and experience he could add to the Bronco lineup, Bartak was also the fastest man on the team before his injury. He ran the 100-yard dash in 10.7 seconds.

Cited for their defensive play Friday night were Childers, Majors, Schmeits, and Green.

Childers and Majors handled the end positions in Wheeler Central's 4-2-2 and 4-3-1 defensive alignments. Schmeits was a line-backer, and Green a guard.

Coach Majors considers Green, a 180-pound junior, as possibly his best football player. Besides his fine defensive play, Green did an excellent job blocking, as did Hinze and Lenz.

Hinze is a 150-pound junior who was moved into the starting lineup at right guard when Childers was shifted to fullback, and Lenz is a 180-pound junior. He won the starting center job when Dennis Lehmann had to quit the team a few days before the opening game. Lehmann's father was injured seriously when he fell while doing carpentry work at the Ericson sale barn. His son, who was the biggest man on the Wheeler Central team at 210 pounds, was forced to give up football to help out at home. He and Lenz were involved in a fierce battle for the starting berth when it became a default.

The Broncos will be on the road again tomorrow night, meeting another eastern division team — Elgin. In that game they are expected to use their regular I formation with an unbalanced line, occasionally shifting the tailback to a wingback spot just inside the end.

Sargent Passes Lead to 20-12 Win

Sargent's Bulldogs showed evidence of another strong passing game Friday night as they defeated Burwell, 20-12.

The Bulldogs, seeming not to miss graduated passing star John Green who set all sorts of school records last year, scored twice in the first quarter with aerials, then added a third touchdown by recovering a fumble in the second quarter.

That made the score 20-0 at intermission, but in the second half Burwell came roaring back. Seeking to improve on their 1-7 record of last season, the Longhorns struck twice in the third quarter as Steve Burke and Mark Robinson each scored from two yards out.

Sargent rose up, however, to contain the Longhorns from that point and get off to a winning start as it seeks to match its 7-2 record of last year.

The winners were to host tough O'Neill St. Mary's Wednesday night, while Burwell will go Friday to equally tough Gibbon for its Lou-Platte Conference opener.

Mason City Pitcher Proves Prowess In Horseshoe Meel

Horseshoe pitching enthusiasts came from as far away as Falls, Mont., to participate in North Loup's second annual tournament held last week in conjunction with Popcorn Days.

Top prize in the tournament was won by a Mason City man — Roland Jensen — who won over seven other hand-picked contestants in a special competition featuring the best tossers in this part of the state. Jensen displayed the ability that helped him win fourth place in the recent state tournament as he swept through seven opponents without losing a game. In fact, 66 percent of his throws in the opening match were ringers.

The champion's brother, Harlan Jensen, upset several higher ranked throwers to win runner-up honors.

Horseshoe pitchers from Cozad, Hastings, Central City, and Rising City, as well as Mason City, were competing for the $25 prize given in this division.

Reggie competition was conducted in three classes with Jim White of Ericson winning in Class A, Harry Foth of Ord in Class B, and Elmer Leth of Cotesfield in Class C. Ken Collins of Ord was second to White in a competition, while Eldon Foth of Ord finished second to his dad in B.

"Harry Foth proved he can pitch horseshoes as well as checkers," said tournament manager Russell Hill of the Class B champion.

One of the most unusual entries was an Indian who was with the carnival appearing at Popcorn Days. He gave no name other than his Indian moniker but showed he was no novice at the game by placing in his division.

Merchandise prizes were donated by the Jack & Jill Stores of Hastings, Fairmont Foods of Broken Bow, Wilson Packing Co., Putteumut Coffee, Goodrich Service Station of North Loup, and S&W Service, also of North Loup.

Hill, the tournament chairman, advised all "latent" horseshoe pitchers to get their equipment out of the garage now and get an early start on training for next year's competition.

Hill pointed out that by dividing the participants into classes, each entrant is assured of facing players with ability similar to his own.

Fort Hartsuff, located northwest of Ord, was built in 1875 and abandoned in 1881. It was established to protect settlers in the Loup valley from Indian raids.

Stingy Anselmo-Merna Will Vie With Wildcats

Having already waited an extra week, North Loup-Scotia football fans will learn even more patience this week as they anticipate their team's 1969 opener. The Wildcats don't play until Saturday night and by that time other area teams will have two games under their belts.

Boosters of the Black-and-White, however, are hoping the debut will be worth waiting for. It will come at home against Anselmo-Merna, which showed an impressive defense last week in an 8-0 triumph over Mullen.

"I talked with the Mullen coach afterwards," Coach Keith Staehr of North Loup-Scotia said Tuesday night, "and he told me Merna was really fired up. They started 11 seniors last year so they don't have much experience, but they sure want to play ball."

Staehr was non-committal about his own team as the opener neared.

Hurlburt Cousins Pace Arcadia Win Over Callaway

The Hurlburt cousins, Tim and Dan, each got a touchdown Friday night as Arcadia opened its 1969 football campaign on a winning note. The Huskies edged tough Callaway, 14-12.

While the Hurlburt boys got the most points, it was actually John Ericson who scored the decisive ones. He ran over a two-point conversion following Dan Hurlburt's one-yard dive in the third period.

Tim Hurlburt scored in the first quarter on a two-yard dive. It marked a good beginning for his third year as an Arcadia starter.

Jim Dodge and Mike Pandorf scored a touchdown apiece for Callaway, both scores coming in the second period. The kicked conversion attempts failed, however, and that eventually meant the ball game.

The Huskies hit the road this week, traveling to Clarks for a Friday night contest.

Callaway 0 12 0 0-12
Arcadia 5 0 9 0-14
T. Hurlburt 2 run (conversion failed).
C. — Dodge pass (kick failed).
M. — Pandorf 6 run (kick failed).
J. — D. Hurlburt 1 run (Ericson run).

"We really can't say for sure what we're going to have until we see them in action," he said.

He added that his defense is pretty much set now with the starting assignment at only one position still up for grabs. That's the right safety spot where senior Jerry Van Horn is fighting it out with juniors Wayne Dulitz and Jerry Hansen.

The quarterback battle is between senior Randy Winters and sophomore Rod Van Slyke. Staehr reported that Van Slyke looked good in Monday night's reserve game against Ord, hitting five of 10 pass attempts.

One offensive position that has solidified since the beginning of fall practice is at fullback, where sophomore Gordy Kriewald has drawn the opening assignment. Kriewald was not on hand when practice opened but has come on strong after missing time to participate in the Nebraska State Fair.

Popcorn Consumption Jumps; So Does North Loup Population

THE Ord Quiz

Estab. April, 1832. Ord, Nebr., Thurs., Sept. 18, 1969. Vol. 88, No. 28. 3 Sects.

This year's Popcorn Days celebration has been acclaimed another smashing success by those officials responsible for the three-day celebration. North Loup streets overflowed once again with visitors from near and far, as well as all the home folks. Many of the spectators were former residents returning from long distances, some for the first time in many years.

As always, the biggest hit of all with visitors were the thousand sacks of free popcorn given away. Sheldon Van Horn, who was in charge of the stand, estimated that more than 25,000 sacks of popcorn were given away this year. That was up some 5,000 sacks from 1968, which meant that people were either eating more or there were more persons in town for the festivities.

To prepare those 25,000 sacks of popcorn, Van Horn reported that 1,500 pounds of corn was used, 42 gallons of coconut oil, and 32 pounds of butter.

Parades during the daytime and stage shows at night kept visitors entertained in between visits to the midway, the horse show, and other activities. At Tuesday night's stage show 18-year-old Debbie Edwards was crowned queen of the 68th annual festivities.

A majorette with last year's North Loup-Scotia High School band, Debbie is now off to college as a freshman at Kearney State. The pretty brunette was selected by a vote of her community's citizens. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Edwards.

Her attendants, who were queen candidates themselves, were Dolores Lee Vore, Peggy Sintek, Linda Shaffer, Patsy Cadek, Mildred Williams, Martha Hill, an Colleen Keown.

Kindergarten attendants were Laurie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, and Larry Waller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Waller.

The farewell to last year's queen, Darlene King, and the salute to the new queen were sung by Maris Cox and Jerry Van Horn. The queen remained on stage for the program which followed.

The hit of the Wednesday night stage show was ventriloquist Grover Ruwe with his companions Louie and Sunshine. The two dummies had spectators laughing continually with their chatter to and about persons in the audience.

One major mishap marred the three-day celebration. That occurred the opening night when Lloyd Fitzsimmons of Greeley broke a collarbone in the scoop-shovel race. Fitzsimmons was riding in a shovel being pulled by a horse when he met disaster. The horse show Monday afternoon was well attended with Archie Shafer of Burwell serving as official judge. Place judges were Emil Cuhel of Burwell, Eldon Sintek of North Loup, and Leonard Wells of Cotesfield. Rudy Rowse of Burwell was master of ceremonies.

The Lazy K Club from Kearsaw, with several horses, came the greatest distance. Also taking part were horses and clubs from Burwell, North Loup, Loup City, Greeley, Scotia, Ericson, Ansley, Grand Island, Cotesfield, Wolbach, Arcadia and Dannebrog. Jesse Whiting had charge of the event.

60 in Juvenile Parade

The juvenile parade led off Tuesday activities, with the North Loup-Scotia band out front. Theme of the parade was "Under the Big Top."

The sweepstakes prize was won by "The Cousins Three Ring Circus" as seven youngsters pooled their talents to produce a real spectacular. They were Gale, Loretta and Twila Cargill, Nora and Beth Dutcher, and Shawn and Malinda Severance.

Daria Vogeler won first in the wagon division, riding a pink elephant, and second place went to Darien and Stacy Cox as Lion and Tamer. Eric Davis was third with his "wild panther."

In the stroller and tricycle division, Christopher Severance was first with "Peanuts, Popcorn and Cracker Jacks"; second went to Leslie Hudson, "The World's Greatest Cyclist"; and third to Tal and Dawn Melia as "Dumbo and Jumbo."

In the miscellaneous division, Jill Hamer was first with the "World's Longest Python"; Chuck Abel was second as the strong man; and Carrie Sheldon placed third as a clown.

In the pet division Kevin Sheldon and Bowzer won first with "Lion in a Cage"; second went to Becky Davis and her dog as clowns; and third to Kim Medbery and Company, which was a basket of puppies.

In the last division, Tami Neeman was first representing Bozo the clown.

Marguerite Scott was in charge of the parade, with more than 80 youngsters taking part. They were all awarded a free ride at the carnival as a thank you.

Following the parade an afternoon stage show was presented on the outdoor stage, with Mrs. Carroll Thomas in charge. The program consisted of home talent, and music for the dance following was furnished by Mike Drouby.

Dust Bowl Entry Wins

The big parade of floats took over the spotlight Wednesday with a theme of "Here Come the Years."

The North Loup-Scotia Grade School won the grand prize with "Dust, Drouth and Hoppers," depicting the lean years of the early 1930s when those natural calamities combined to drive many families off the farm.

Furnishing music for the parade were five high school bands from the surrounding territory: North Loup-Scotia, Ord, Sargent, Arcadia, and Loup City. Besides marching in the parade, the bands gave short concerts before and after.

In the competition among youth organizations, the Modest Homemakers won first with "Early USA." Second place was won by Brownies Troop No. 241 with "The Gold Miners."

In the club division, the Valley Craft Club won first with "Fashion on Parade," while the Neighboring Helpers Club took second with "Trans-Atlantic Flight."

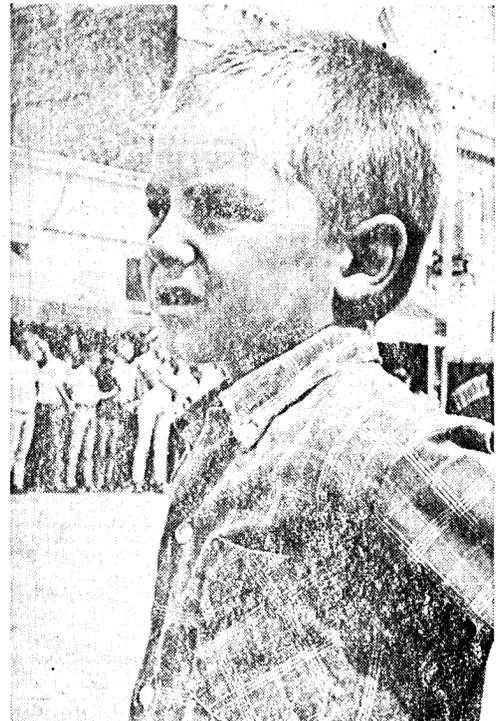

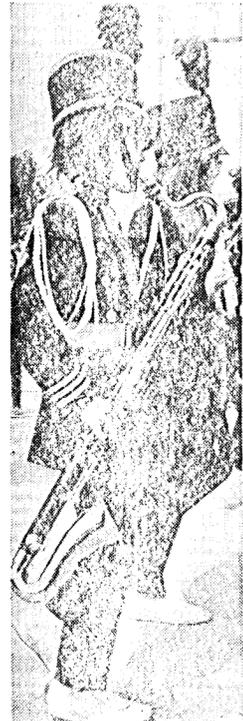

In the church group the Seventh Day Baptists won with "The Family Altar," and the United Methodist Church was second with "The Ladder from Earth to Heaven."

Among organizations, the American Legion Auxiliary won with "The Spirit of '76," and the Farm Bureau was second with its own version of "The Spirit of '76."

In the business division Cox Bros. Well Drilling was first with "Don't Let Water Shortage Make a Hippie Out of You," and North Loup Insurance was second with a "Breaking Wagon."

Members of the Tekamah Shrine unit participated in the parade with their kiddie cars, which always attract a great deal of attention and add to the parade.

Mrs. Jerry Rainforth, Mrs. Jerry Neeman, and Mrs. Dale Mulligan were in charge of the floats parade. Overall chairman was Vernon Thomas.

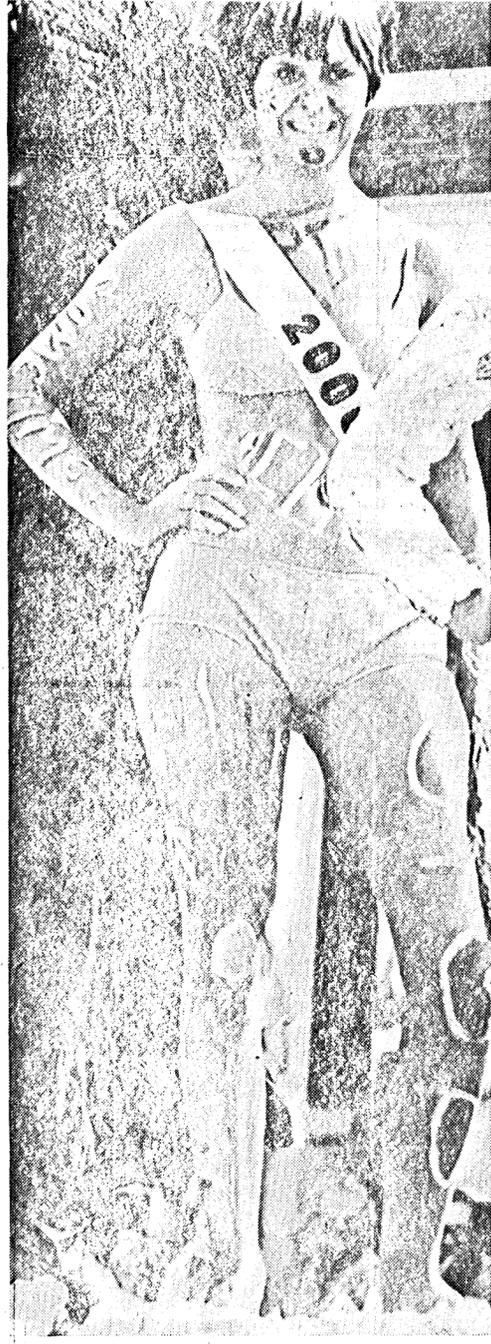

The horn was big ... the girl was small.

Everybody loves a parade ... and this look of anticipation proves it.

The popcorn man, Sheldon Van Horn, has the perfect answer to some healthy appetites.

Jolene Marshall of Scotia ... Alias "Tiny Tim"

Lots of water is needed ... even for North Loup Popcorn.

Queen Debbie is flanked by Laurie Smith and Larry Waller.

If this is what girls are going to look like in the year 2000, it might be worth sticking around. There certainly appears to be nothing wrong with this one that a little soap and water wouldn't cure.

Legalizing Incompetence

During recent years many states have passed laws prohibiting the automatic renewal of driver's licenses. Instead, these states — and Nebraska is among them — require that each person successfully pass a written driver's test before his license will be renewed.

The reason for this is obvious: where licenses are renewed automatically, there is no means of eliminating drivers who for one reason or another no longer have the ability to drive safely. We now quote from the September newsletter published by the Central Nebraska Community Action Program, which is supported fully by funds taken from the pockets of the nation's taxpayers:

"Our driver's education course helped to insure that a 74-year-old gentleman who, prior to attending our course had four times failed the examination, had the knowledge and confidence to pass the fifth time."

A Criminal Tragedy
With all due respect to the senior citizens of this area, it seems almost criminal to put a 74-year-old person who four times has failed his driver's test behind the wheel of an automobile. He is a danger not only to other drivers and pedestrians, but to himself as well.

Driving courses which promote highway safety and educate the driver to the hazards of the road are commendable. But one designed to legalize incompetence is not only ridiculous, it is downright tragic. And it becomes even more absurd when financed by the taxpayers.

We wonder how many incompetents have been turned loose on Nebraska highways as a result of these courses. A recent news release from the Central Nebraska Community Action Program said that eight persons were enrolled in the course here at Ord. (The second of its three class sessions is scheduled today at 2 p.m. in the driver's license examination room of the Valley County courthouse.) Similar programs have been conducted at Sargent and Callaway with enrollments of 13 and 10 persons respectively, the news release said, and sessions now in progress at Ansley have an enrollment of 28.

"Purpose of the seminar," states the news release, "is to assist those who anticipate difficulty in passing the Nebraska driver's examination."

Creating Busy Work
The Central Nebraska Community Action Program is of course a subsidiary of the infamous Office of Economic Opportunity. The conduct of a driving course such as this is only one example of how an agency which never should have been created in the first place is attempting to make busy work for itself and thus justify its existence.

For another example we turn to the Community Action Program's activities for the elderly.

For some time — long before the Community Action Program got into the business of "helping" the elderly — bingo was played periodically by the older citizens who reside at Parkview Village. Now the CAP apparently is going to claim credit for that program, since we see where bingo will be played Sept. 24 in the Parkview Recreation Center, "sponsored by the Community Action Program."

It is time for this busy work to cease. And if the Central Nebraska Community Action Program must do as it has done in these instances to justify its existence, then it ought to cease also.

Why?

Patriots in this country must have shook their heads in utter dismay last week when black militant Robert Williams was turned loose to preach more sedition and hate.

Williams is the leader of a revolutionary secessionist movement known as the Republic of New Africa. This organization, according to its own documents, plans eventually "to take over the states of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, and those sections of big cities in the North and West where Negroes are the dominant population." It plans to control these areas with its own government and military force.

Eight years ago Williams fled from this country while under indictment on a federal kidnapping charge. He did not return until Friday, and during the intervening years he spent time in Cuba, Red China, and Tanzania.

He made close contacts with revolutionary leaders in a number of Communist countries, and while he was in exile the Republic of New Africa's acting leaders visited him from time to time. One such occasion was in late 1968 when they met with Williams and guerrilla experts from Communist China to discuss the creation and financing of the RNA's private underground military force.

Many times Williams also has openly advocated overthrow of the United States government by force.

And if all this were not reason enough to keep him in custody, certainly the fact that he had fled the country while under indictment should have been. But it was not.

Within hours following his arrival in this country Williams was free on $11,000 personal bonds.

It is perplexing indeed to try and figure how any judge thinks such a man can be trusted enough to be turned loose again before coming to trial.

Getting Rid of Welfare by Increasing It Is a Hard Pill For the Fellers to Swallow

DEAR MISTER EDITOR: Frank Naprstek allowed Saturday night that the way this country is going is like drinking liquor. That is, a feller can't ever get just the right amount. He always thinks he ain't got enough until he gets too much. And once he gets too much, went on Frank, he figures to ease off gradually by drinking more and more.

Frank was going to speak in parables again, but he explained that he was talking about President Nixon's New Federalism and his new welfare plan. Frank, who said before elections I a s t fall that a Republican Administration was the only thing which could save this country, went on talking like a man trying to eat his words without swallowing. What worried him most, allowed Frank, is that the President practically said there ain't nothing for this country to do but hit the bottom and start over.

"If Mr. Nixon's family-plan welfare ain't a man trying to drink himself sober, there ain't no cows in Texas," were Frank's words. Furthermore, he said he had spent some weeks mulling over New Federalism, and the best he can figure is that it goes the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the New Frontier, and the Great Society one better.

For the first time in the history of give-away in this country, allowed Frank, a feller has to do to get took care of by the few working taxpayers that's left is prove he's poor. He don't have to be old, nor sick, nor crippled, nor anything — just poor.

We Try

In October we celebrate Newspaper Week, and this seems like a fine time to reprint the words of a fine, famous newspaper man, Walter Williams, who headed the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri. This school is considered the best place in the United States to learn the writing trade: oh possibly you might get an argument, Northwestern in Chicago or Columbia in New York City crowd Missouri closely.

THE CREED:

- I believe in the profession of journalism.
- I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are, to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of lesser service than the public service is betrayal of this trust.
- I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.
- I believe that a journalist should write only what he holds in his heart to be true.
- I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.
- I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.
- I believe that advertising, news, and editorial columns should alike serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and cleanness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.
- I believe that the journalism which succeeds best — and best deserves success — fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid; is quickly indignant at injustice; is unswayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance, and, as far as law and honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can make it so, an equal chance; is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting international good will and cementing world-comradeship; is a journalism of humanity, of and for today's world.

The Scott Report

Speculation Centers on Tiny Albania as Next Victim of Soviet 'Expansion'

By Paul Scott

Washington—Those recent secret talks in Belgrade between Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Yugoslavia's Marshall Tito could be the forerunner for new Russian military moves in Europe.

Members of the Warsaw pact, the Moscow-run military alliance of East European nations, are being informed privately that the Gromyko-Tito negotiations deal with "the need for establishing a friendly Communist regime in Albania."

In the language of Moscow's grand strategy for Europe, this means that the Soviet leaders believe the time is ripe for the forward positioning of Russian military forces in strategic Albania on the Adriatic Sea.

openly expressing interest in bringing about a change in the "hostile" Albanian regime, American intelligence authorities believe that Gromyko used the talks to obtain Tito's approval for overflying Yugoslav airspaces to land Soviet troops in Albania.

Although it was not publicized in the West at the time, Tito permitted Russia to fly military supplies via Yugoslavia to Egypt during and immediately after the June 1967 Arab-Israeli war. Soviet planes ferrying the supplies to Nasser used Yugoslav airfields as refueling bases.

The Secret Alliance
The Soviet-Yugoslav discussions about taking over Albania started five months ago with the visit of Russian Ambassador Ivan Benediktov to Marshall Tito.

At that meeting, Tito was told that the Russians wanted to station their military forces closer to Italy and Greece — both prime targets for Communist takeovers. In addition to moving naval forces into the Mediterranean, Tito was informed that the Russians wanted Albania so ground forces as well as air and naval units could be stationed on the Adriatic coast.

toward the Soviet Union and the West. In a speech of Aug. 27, Tito voiced opinions which might have come from Gustav Husak, the pro-Russian first secretary of Czechoslovakia's Communist Party.

"The class enemy has not been eliminated in the world," said Tito, according to an unedited transcript obtained by the Central Intelligence Agency. "He lives, he acts, he undermines our society, and hinders social progress. We are submerged by the West with theories, concepts, and conceptions of all kinds, and all are negative."

"We must act energetically and in time. We have the right to strike resolutely at those who work against the interest of socialism and to prevent their activities. We carry a tremendous responsibility, because the world Communist revolution has not yet been concluded."

As a sign of Soviet approval, Praxic announced that he had read Tito's speech and Soviet diplomats distributed the full text to Communist party officials throughout the Soviet bloc.

The Soviet government attaches great importance to the new development of ties with Yugoslavia. Both countries are linked by common ideals in striving for socialism and communism and in the struggle against the West."

Dangerous Times
With Italy and France facing prospects of paralyzing strikes and riots during the next 60 days, there is growing concern among intelligence circles here that Russia may take advantage of internal chaos in NATO countries to make its move into Albania.

Such a military move would fit into the Kremlin's grand strategy for Europe. It calls for the forward positioning of Russian forces in Europe without triggering a military response from NATO, especially the United States.

Russia used the "invasion" of Czechoslovakia in 1968 to position a new force of "more than 100,000 troops" in Central Europe near the West German border. Nearly all of this new Soviet force is still there — poised as a dagger against Western Europe.

While the Soviets in recent months have carried out a large buildup of military forces in the Far East near the Soviet-Chinese border, it was not done at

KERRY ON

—into the light—
One sleepless night last week I turned on FM stereo at 3 in the morning and sat back to enjoy the soft music filling our living room. Everything seems to be more beautiful by night!

Soon, though, a melody being played haunted me through the rest of the night and well into the next day. It would be more appropriate for a Mother's Day column, but I have to tell it now.

So I'll take you to Des Moines, Ia., where I had been invited to speak to a group of arrested alcoholics. The group was appropriately named the International Group — a group of nearly every nationality and color — men and women brought together by their one common problem of alcoholism.

It was a Sunday afternoon. The main banquet of the two-day affair was at the Airport Inn. Nearly 200 people showed up — a surprisingly large turn-out, taking into consideration this was also Mother's Day, and many of these people could have been spending their first sober Mother's Day in years with their mothers. They chose rather to spend it with the people that had given them their sobriety and a chance at a "new life."

The host for the Host Group was a colored fellow whom I knew only as Ted. These people didn't use last names. They figured none among us was any different than the next fellow was the governor of Iowa different from the Indian girl sitting at my side? They both suffered from the same disease! Names and occupations are not denominators when it comes to alcoholism.

Following the blessing of the food by a Catholic priest present, we enjoyed our catered dinner. The Indian girl acted as mistress of ceremonies. But the colored fellow — Ted — was the center of attraction. He had done all the work for months before, making sure all details were in order. He had even invited his mother who sat across the table from us. She was quite old and seemed almost tearfully happy that her son — even though he was in his 60s — was sober. This Mother's Day.

During dinner I visited with Ted. At one time he had been a night club singer — until he developed a "whiskey voice" and eventually ended up on skid row unable to get a job singing in even honky-tonks.

Ted's voice still rattled and rasped as he talked. I wondered to myself if he might have cancer of the larynx. It seemed to take nearly all his energy to even talk.

Maria — the Indian girl — introduced the head table. She passed by Ted and me during the introductions. I was being held back to be introduced as the "main speaker" and Ted, I knew, was to be honored singer for his efforts in planning the entire affair.

When Maria DID come to Ted with the introductions, he held out his hands to restrict any applause. Slowly he rose and shuffled to the microphone.

"This being Mother's Day," Ted said, "and MY mother being present, I'd like to try and sing one song."

"My voice isn't all that it used to be," he continued, "but what you'll forgive me. That's what a hard life of drinking did."

Turning to the pianist, who had played dinner music, Ted asked if she'd play the song I heard again over the radio the other night.

Far from the crackling, broken voice that had talked to me through lunch, Ted sang in the smoothest baritone voice you'll ever hear. His voice said quiver at times — more from emotion than from weak vocal cords.

The song Ted sang that day was an old one — according to him. It was titled "My Mother's Eyes," and the chorus I'll never forget:

"One bright and guiding light that taught me wrong from right... found in my mother's eyes."

"Those baby tales she told... that rood all pured with gold... I found in my mother's eyes."

"Just like a wandering sparrow — one lovely soul... I walked the straight and narrow — to reach my goal."

"God's gift sent from above... a real unselfish love... I found in my mother's eyes."

I couldn't look at the face across the table from me. The tears shined on her black skin as they streaked down her face. They were tears of joy. I could tell that.

Shoving back my chair, I turned and walked to the microphone and grasped Ted's arm. Slowly I helped him back to his chair. For Ted had not only drunk away his voice — Ted was blind!

Government Spending
Total expenditures of the United States — federal, state, and local — were $282.6 billion for the 12 months ending June 30, 1968, according to the Bureau of the Census. This was an increase of $24.8 billion over the previous fiscal year.

Of the $282.6 billion, federal expenditures totaled 152 billion, state spending 60.4 billion, and local expenditures 64.4 billion. These figures exclude revenue from and expenditures on liquor stores, utilities, and insurance trusts.

Approximately 3/5 of all tax revenue was collected by the federal government, with state and local units sharing the remainder.

The federal government relied primarily on individual and corporate taxes to supply its tax revenue. Property taxes were the principle source of revenue for local governments, while sales and gross receipt taxes formed the largest portion of state revenues.

More specifically, the Census Bureau figures show that the federal government obtained $97.4 billion from income taxes in 1968, $68.7 billion from individuals, and $28.7 billion from corporations. State governments obtained $21 billion from sales taxes, 6.2 billion from individual income taxes, and 2.5 billion from corporate income taxes. Local governments collected $26.8 billion in property taxes, 1.9 billion in sales taxes, and 1.1 billion in individual income taxes.

Total indebtedness of all governments was $49.8 billion in 1968 at the end of fiscal year.

Nebraska Population
Other figures released recently by the Bureau of the Census put Nebraska's population at 1,437,000 as of July 1, 1968. Of this total, 512,000 persons are under 18 years of age. 700,000 are 18 to 64, and 178,000 are 65 and over.

Per-capita personal income in Nebraska for calendar year 1967 was $3,081, which is slightly under the national average of $3,158.

The 3rd Congressional District, which I represent, is one of the largest in the country. It encompasses over 60,000 square miles (more than the state of Iowa) and has a population of over 500,000.

Social Security
The Ways and Means Committee is not expected to take any action on amending the Social Security law until early 1970. Then it is expected to report out legislation increasing benefits by approximately 10 percent, offsetting an increase in the cost of living.

President Richard Nixon made recommendations for increases several months ago, but the Ways and Means Committee has been tied up with its work on tax reform.

North Loup Notes

School Official Who Served During '30s Returns for Visit

By Hannah Sheldon
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bailey of Los Angeles, Calif., visited Sept. 10 and 11 with old friends in North Loup. They stayed overnight Wednesday at the Mills Hill home. Mr. Bailey was the principal and superintendent at North Loup High School in the 1930s. William Vodehnal was host to the Baileys and the Hill family at the Elks Club in Ord Thursday evening.

She was taken to the hospital by Grover Jorgensen. Nine stitches were taken to close the wound.
Switch Residences
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jacobs have moved into their newly renovated home in North Loup east of the schoolhouse, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hoppes have moved into the farm home vacated by the Jacobs.

Plastic Surgery for Carol
Barry Geweke is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Sintek, while his mother, Mrs. Carol Geweke, is a patient in the Clarkson Hospital at Omaha. She had plastic surgery performed on her ear last Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Sintek took another daughter, Peggy, to Lincoln Friday to attend the University of Nebraska. They spent the remainder of the day, as well as Saturday in Omaha visiting Carol at the hospital. She is expected to be released the first of the week.

Teaching at Loup City
Beulah Stine is student teaching in Loup City for a six-week period. Mrs. Charles Devine is replacing her during her leave of absence.

Injured in Fall
Mrs. Esther Holmes is a patient in the Valley County Hospital, having fallen Sunday evening and injured her hip.

Brazilian Missionary to Speak
Warren Danskin — a cousin of Charles Danskin, who is a North Loup-Scottia High School faculty member — has been a missionary to Brazil for three years, representing the United Methodist Church. He will be the guest speaker for a special meeting at the United Methodist Church in Scotia Monday at 2:30 p.m. All persons from the surrounding area have been invited to attend.

Vicky Is Honored
A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Sunday afternoon at the parlor of the North Loup United Methodist Church in honor of Vicky Vogeler. There were 17 guests present. Hostesses were Mrs. Albert Anthony of Scotia, Mrs. Gary Hamer of Kearney, and Mrs. Ron Shoemaker.

Married 45 Years
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sonnenfeld celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary Sept. 8 by having supper at the Veterans Club in Ord with their children and grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sonnenfeld and family of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wroblewski and family of Arcadia, and Gene Sonnenfeld and Doreen Wilson of Grand Island, Miss Wilson baked and decorated the anniversary cake. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Psota had taken their son Mike to Kearney to attend college and were unable to join the family group.

Honor Niece
Nels Jorgensens, Bill Hochreiters and Bob Edwards were hosts to a wedding reception in honor of their niece, the former Marlene Jorgensen, and her husband, Jack Lee, Sunday at the North Loup Community Hall. Many relatives and friends were present for the occasion. Mrs. Edwards served coffee and punch. Mrs. Hochreiter cut the cake. Mrs. Jorgensen took care of the gift table, and Laura Edwards and Daryl Jorgensen were in charge of the guest book. Marlene is

Training Day
New officers of the Scotia Women's Society of Christian Service will hold an all-day training session at the Scotia United Methodist Church today (Thursday) from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Personals
Mrs. LaVerne Marshall and Tori of Grand Island visited from Sept. 7 through the 10th with Mrs. Opal Beebe.
Ford Shirley and his daughters, Mrs. Opal Beebe and Pearl Eberhart of Grand Island, spent the weekend in Franklin with the Kenneth Caswells. Mrs. Caswell is also a daughter of Mr. Shirley. Mrs. Beebe and Mr. Shirley attended a family reunion at the Ted Shirley home in Hastings Sunday.

Wanted: Popcorn Pictures
Mrs. Jerry Rainforth is looking for old pictures of the North Loup Popcorn Days celebration, anyone having any may leave them at the North Loup Bank. They will be returned to their owners.

Sees Grandson Wed
Herman Maxson — accompanied by his mother, Daisy and Lester Maxson, and Mrs. Dolores Vore — attended the wedding of Mrs. Maxson's grandson, Marvin Molzer, in Lincoln Sept. 6. They also attended a reception held at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Wrist Cut Badly
Barbara Wright accidentally cut her wrist Friday evening while trying to prevent the door from slamming at Bonsall's Tavern.

Mr. and Mrs. Helen Miller and Mrs. Bessie Graham of North Platte were Popcorn Days visitors of Agnes Manchester, Duane Sack, and Mrs. Mather's son — in law from Livingston — and was a Monday visitor and also attended the horse show.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook and family of Columbus were Wednesday visitors of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams. The Cooks came also for the celebration on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Portis of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klingler of Auburn were Popcorn Days visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Portis. They also helped at the North Loup Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Atthey of Decatur were Wednesday Popcorn Days visitors of friends and relatives in North Loup and also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Currie of Los Angeles, Calif. The Attheys were

George Anderson, Former Fire Chief, Dies After Lengthy Hospital Confinement

Funeral services for George Anderson, 61, a former chief of the Ord Fire Dept., were held here Saturday afternoon. Mr. Anderson died Sept. 11 at the Valley County Hospital after an illness of several months.

Rev. Kenneth Bunnell of the First Presbyterian Church conducted the 2 p.m. service at the Hastings-Pearson Chapel. Mrs. Lucile Tolen sang "How Great Thou Art," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Shirley Karre.

Area's Catholic Women To Gather for Institute

Women of 49 parishes from the eastern half of the Grand Island diocese have been invited to attend the first biennial institute of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women. The meeting will be held in Ord Wednesday at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church and St. Mary's School.

A similar meeting for the western half of the diocese will be held Tuesday in Alliance.

Beginning at 9 a.m., workshops will be conducted on the theme "Family, Parish, Community, World." Following a 12:30 luncheon in St. Mary's auditorium, Bishop John Paschang of Grand Island and Rev. Anthony Petrusic of Omaha will speak.

Mrs. Robert Bishop is the parish chairman in charge.

Pallbearers were Rollin Dye, Russell Rose, Roland Norman, Merle VanZandt, Jay Brown, and Henry Benda. Interment was in the Ord City Cemetery.

Born at Ord Sept. 22, 1907, George William Anderson was the son of Albert and Mary Mike Anderson. He lived in the Ord vicinity all his life with the exception of three years when he worked in Iowa and Minnesota with the Peter Kiewit Construction Co. He was associated with Anderson Motor Co. of Ord for several years and more recently had been employed by Anderson Implement Co. of Burwell.

Mr. Anderson was married to Laura Johnson Nov. 4, 1927, at Wahoo. She died in 1934.

A member of the Ord Fire Dept. for several years, he served as chief in 1940, 1941, 1942, 1947, and 1948.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Carolyn Gallagher of Lexington and Mrs. Phyllis Leach of Lincoln; three brothers C. A. Anderson of Ord, Alvin Anderson of Herlong, Calif., and Walter Anderson of Fontana, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Clausen and Mrs. Florence Rickard, both of Ord; one cousin, Elden Lapacek of Aberdeen, Wash., who grew up with the Anderson family; and five grandchildren. Besides his wife, he was preceded in death by his parents, one son, and two brothers.

Showing off a king-sized spud grown in the family garden is Don Walker. The unusual vegetable, which appears at first glance to be six separate potatoes grown together, weighed 3 pounds, 9 1/2 ounces. Walker said that despite appearances, it is one potato with nodules growing off the main body rather than several potatoes grown together. Land where the garden is located has been seeded in alfalfa the past several years, Walker said, and as a result is unusually rich. He believes that is the reason his potatoes are prospering so well this year.

'Opportunity for All' Is Theme of National 4-H Week

By John Schade
County Agent

During National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-11, club members throughout the nation as well as here in Valley County will emphasize the theme "All: Opportunity for All." The point will be made that 4-H benefits are available to boys and girls of all cultural, racial, and economic backgrounds; and to youth who live in town as well as those on the farm.

Latest figures from the Co-operative Extension Service indicate that there are about 2 1/2 million youth enrolled in 4-H programs nationwide. Of these 35 percent are from the farm, 33 percent are from rural non-farm areas, and 32 percent are from towns, cities, and suburbs.

Here in Valley County there are 390 youngsters enrolled in 4-H clubs and activities. A total of 1,100 individual projects are being carried by these youths.

There are 31 active 4-H clubs under the guidance of some 70 volunteer leaders.

Leading the project parade in Valley County is animal science, with a total of 241 individual livestock projects. Running a close second is clothing with 208 individual sewing projects. Food projects are third in popularity with 195.

Other projects popular with Valley County youth are in the area of engineering, health, first aid, safety, home living, baby sitting, and junior leadership.

In today's 4-H program, young people choose projects that fit them and the place they live. They learn "why's" as well as "how's."

Varied projects may be selected in science, agriculture, home living, personal development, community service, leadership, and citizenship. Projects are also suited to various age groups.

Some are in the following areas: Agricultural production and marketing — including meat animals, dairy animals, poultry, gardens, and field crops.

Engineering — electrical, automotive, woodworking, rope, and tractor.

Conservation — forestry, wildlife, entomology, soil and water conservation, and range management.

Management — farm, home, money, town, and country business.

Family living — food and nutrition, clothing, grooming, furnishings, home lawn beautification, and child care.

Personal development — health, safety, career exploration, leadership, and citizenship.

Other popular projects include horsemanship, dog care, emergency preparedness, and public affairs.

Arcadia Activities

Tomorrow Is a Big Day for Mrs. McCleary

By Margaret Zentz Mrs. Maude McCleary, who lives at the LeBow rest home in Ord, will observe her 90th birthday tomorrow (Friday).

Buyers Rettenmayer House Jim Trotter has purchased the small Otto Rettenmayer house in the south part of town. This is the house where the Roy Norrises formerly lived.

Change Locations Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson and family moved into the Bill Sahlie property in the south part of town over the weekend. On Sunday the Wilson family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leininger.

Complete Long Trip Mr. and Mrs. John Kaminski and Edna Kaminski of the south part of town, Colo., left Aug. 30 on a two-week vacation trip.

They spent Labor Day at the Leonard Kaminski home in Union Pier, Mich. (Mrs. Leonard Kaminski is the form Monica Fische of Arcadia.) They also spent four days in Washington, D.C., where they visited the Capital, the Pentagon, and the White House. They also visited Rep. Dave Martin.

While in the District of Columbia they were house guests of Donna Jean Rucbsamen, a former roommate of Edgina's.

The Kaminskis went on to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blalock in Fosterville, Tenn., as well as Ceco Rutkowski and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Daily in Kansas City. On the way home they also stopped in Grand Island to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harold Damratowski, and in Loup City to visit at the Harry Smedra home.

They arrived home Saturday, and Edgina left for her home in Denver Monday.

Home From California Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Holmes, Bonnie and Ben returned home Monday evening after spending some time visiting at the Ron Lee home in La Habra, Calif.

Mrs. Lee, the former Nancy Holmes, graduated from nurse's training Aug. 28 and is now a licensed practical nurse. She started work Monday at the Jude Hospital in Fullerton, Calif.

Mrs. Zentz Elected The Homemakers Extension Club met Sept. 9 at the home of Mrs. Otto Fagus. Eight members and one guest, Mrs. Elvin Moody, answered roll call by giving a Christmas idea or showing something to be made for Christmas gifts or decorations.

During an election of officers the coming year Mrs. Claude Zentz was named as president. She was also reelected as news reporter. Also reelected were Mrs. Fred Milburn, vice-president, and Mrs. Bill Sahlie, secretary-treasurer.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Chester Babcock.

To Tie Comforter The Lee Park Aid met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Earl Gogan. The Aid will meet again Oct. 2 at the home of Mrs. Bob Hill when the ladies will tie a comforter.

Sick The rescue unit took Port Dunlap to the Valley County Hospital Friday morning, as he was very ill.

Future Bride Feted Mrs. Paul Owens attended a bridal shower for Peggy Miller of Belmond, Ia., at the Baptist Church in Loup City Saturday evening. Miss Miller and Mrs. Owens' grandson, Jim Apperson of Loup City, will be married Oct. 10 in the bride's hometown.

Good Time for Charlie Mrs. Ernest Easterbrook entertained Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Weddel and Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Nagel at dinner in the Elks Club at Broken Bow Friday evening. The gathering was in honor of Mr. Weddel, who had celebrated his 82nd birthday two days earlier. He was presented a beautiful birthday cake with one large candle. The group also toured the Elks Club building.

Mrs. Frank Christ had entertained the Weddels on his birthday. She hosted them at dinner in the Arrow Hotel, also in Broken Bow.

Double Birthday Celebration Mr. and Mrs. Dale Zentz and son, Duane of Grand Island and Joyce Zentz of Ord spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Zentz. On Sunday they all joined Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zentz and family for a picnic dinner at Victoria Springs. Later they were lunch guests at the Harold Zentz home. They were honoring Peggy Zentz, who was 6 years old Saturday, and Linda Zentz, who was 5 years old Sept. 2.

Home Again Floyd Armstrong, who underwent surgery at the Valley County Hospital last week, returned home Thursday. Mrs. Edgar Slingsby spent Tuesday afternoon at the Armstrong home, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wibbels were guests there Friday evening.

22 Sunset Members Frolic The Sunset Club of Arcadia held its annual Sunset Tea at the Congregational Church parlors Sept. 10. There were 22 present. The program opened with group singing, followed by a showing of the film, "Wild Shore," which dealt with the Pacific coast. Pastor J. B. Twetter of the Calvary Baptist Church also gave a talk illustrated with drawings. At an election of officers the following were elected: R. E. Wibbels, president; Mrs. R. E. Wibbels, vice-president; and Bob Hill, secretary-treasurer.

Lunch was served by the ladies of the church. The Sunset Club was organized at Arcadia under the sponsorship of the late Morris Fowler in 1951. The members meet for their annual tea each fall in August or September at one of the Arcadia churches. The tea is a time of-music, talks, fellowship, and lunch.

Any individual 70 years of age is eligible for membership, and any husband or wife reaching that age makes both eligible.

Mrs. McEwen Dies Mrs. Lottie Baller went to the Dalbert Baller home in Ansley Sunday and then attended the funeral of Mrs. Fenton McEwen at Westerville Monday afternoon.

Personals Mrs. J. B. Twetter, Mrs. R. E. Wibbels, Mrs. Frank Sybrant, Mrs. Amelia Hill, and Mrs. Arthur Pierson attended the Great Plains Baptist Women's Retreat at Conenant Cedars Bible Camp near Holdville Saturday.

Rev. J. R. Barkman of Grace Children's Home in Henderson spoke at the Calvary Baptist Church Sunday morning. Mr. Barkman founded the home 33 years ago. He and Mrs. Barkman were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pierson.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leibart of Sargent spent Sunday at the Kenneth Dorsey home. Kenny Dorsey left Sunday for Hastings where he will attend school.

Mrs. Jim Carlson and Mrs. Larry Becker of Scottsbluff and Mrs. Roy Bartlett of Ogallala spent Tuesday and Wednesday with their father, Eli Snider.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Thompson came from California to Scottsbluff recently for the funeral of Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. Eli Snider. They came on to Arcadia and visited Mr. Snider for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett White spent Tuesday in Grand Island on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Owens returned home Sept. 8 after visiting in Bancroft at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Carver, and at the John Apperson home in Blair. Their granddaughter, Susan Apperson returned to her home in Blair after spending a week visiting in their home. She is a freshman at the University of Nebraska this fall. Her sister, Sharon Apperson, is a sophomore there. They are the daughters of Walter Apperson of Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Powell of Alda, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Powell of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Nagorski and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fernau, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nagorski were Wednesday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gartside and Billy. The event was a going-away supper for Larry Nagorski.

Mr. and Mrs. Fernau accompanied the Nagorskis to Denver, Colo., on Thursday, and Friday Larry left with a group of Seabees for Mississippi where they will be stationed. His wife will make her home with the Fernaus for the present.

Stephen Hill of San Antonio, Tex., flew to Kearney and accompanied Mrs. Laura Kelly and Myrtle John to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill, on Friday. On Monday Roy Shaffer and Bernard Shaffer of Beatrice were dinner guests at the Hill home. Stephen accompanied them home for a visit. Roy Shaffer is his grandfather. The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church met Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. Twelve members and one guest attended. Mrs. Anton Nelson gave devotions, and Mrs. Freda Marvel was the hostess.

Mrs. Carol Lutz was hostess to the Hayes Creek Club at her home Sept. 10. Seven members were present with Mrs. Curtis Blakeslee serving as leader. The subject for roll call was "Odds and Ends," and some of the members showed pictures taken on their summer vacations. The club meets the second Wednesday of each month. The October meeting will be on the 8th at Mrs. Blakeslee's.

Friendship Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church will meet at the church tomorrow (Friday) at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Guy Lutz as leader and Mrs. Jim Holmes as hostess.

The American Legion Auxiliary met Monday afternoon at the Legion Hall with Mrs. W. J. Ramsay as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hamilton and family and Mrs. Hamilton's niece, Yolanda Solis of St. Paul, were Sunday afternoon and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sahlie and family.

Mrs. Tom Gidley of Kearney spent the weekend at the home of her father, Doug Gies.

Mrs. Bert Leach of Ainsworth spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. Freda Marvel. Friday visitors of Mrs. Marvel were Mrs. Maudie Smith and Emma Rousok of Constock.

Mrs. Freda Marvel spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Bob Jenner, in Loup City.

Introducing the 1970 Buicks.

Three of 36 great new Buicks. Three of the finest Buicks ever. Built with all the care and craftsmanship possible. Built with product integrity. Right down to the fine details. As a few of these fine details will prove.

Every 1970 Buick has a new cooling system that should never overheat. Every 1970 Buick equipped with a V8 engine has an exclusive carburetor time modulated choke control. It will make for easy starts in any weather. Every 1970 Buick is equipped with fiberglass belted tires as standard equipment. Every 1970 LeSabre, Wildcat, Estate Wagon, Electra 225 and Riviera has an exclusive suspension system called AccuDrive. Never has handling been easier. All the 1970 Buicks have the look that makes people look twice.

No wonder Buick owners will keep on buying Buicks. Buicks are automobiles you can believe in.

Something to believe in.

1970 Buick LeSabre Custom 2-door hardtop. With a 124-inch wheelbase. Now available with a 455 cubic inch V8.

1970 Buick Estate Wagon. Totally new. A full size wagon with a 124-inch wheelbase. The longest you can buy.

1970 Buick Riviera. An all new 455-cubic-inch V8 combined with a beautifully behaved 3-speed automatic transmission are a small part of what's standard.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick? GM

Mrs. Lena Stewart Celebrates 83rd Birthday

By Berenice Cornell
Eva Robertson, Juanita Christian, Elsie Rathbun, and Mena Jorgensen were at Mrs. Lena Stewart's Friday with a group of 12 to celebrate Mrs. Stewart's 83rd birthday. Eva baked the birthday cake.

Returns With Family
Terry Port, who was a student pastor at the Bethel Baptist Church during the summer of 1967, called on Berenice Cornell Sept. 9. He and his wife Sheryl and two little ones spent Sept. 8-10 visiting friends in Ord. They are now at Wood Lake Baptist Church in Minneapolis, Minn.

Stop, Look, and Listen!
Rev. Kenneth Bunnell of the Ord Presbyterian Church conducted religious services Thursday at Parkview. Scriptures read were 1 Samuel 3:1-10, Matthew 7:7-14, and Ecclesiastes 2:17.

18. Mr. Bunnell said that like Samuel, people today lose touch with God as they do not listen and wait. He said they lose lots of pleasure and opportunities as they do not look or listen. They therefore miss the interesting things in life and become bored. They think there is nothing left and are over-rushed looking for activities and pleasure of the physical nature.

Mr. Bunnell said people must wait and take notice of both physical and spiritual interests. If they take time to do for others — give a bit of themselves — and become a child of God, there will be a purpose and potential in life. That was the summarizing thought he left.

Lillian Daudt helped at the piano during the song service for the 10 present.

10 Study the Word
Ten persons were present Sept. 10 for a Bible study in the recreation center. The lesson was on the crucifixion of Christ and the prophecy and events leading to it. The lesson was led by Berenice Cornell. The topic last night (Wednesday) was the wedding feast. Mrs. Ruth Hyschon was the leader. The study began at 7 p.m.

Granddaughter Scores
Lillian Daudt went Sept 10 with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dobrovsky to the Popcorn Days celebration at North Loup. Will Benson was there during the day. Mr. and Mrs. George Polinoski took in the celebration part of Tuesday and Wednesday. Their granddaughter — 2-year-old Becky Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Davis of North Loup — was the second place winner in the clown-with-animals division of the children's parade. Becky had her dog with her. The grandparents enjoyed her very much. Mrs. Elsie Little of Omaha, spent some time with their mother, Mrs. Nettie Gydesen of Scotia, during their Popcorn visit.

Attend Baptist Camp
From Friday evening until Sunday afternoon Berenice Cornell was with a group of women at Covenant Cedars Bible Camp near Holdrege. The occasion was the annual women's retreat of the Great Plains Baptist Conference. Others there from Ord were Mrs. Dan Ehresman, Mrs. LaVerne Rasmussen, Mrs. Don Wright, Mrs. Richard Crang, Mrs. Francis Hyschon, Mrs. William Hyschon, Mrs. Wayne Miller, Mrs. Floyd Boilesen and Mrs.

Joyce Grantham. Mrs. Orville Hamer of Scotia also accompanied the Ord ladies. Wonderful spiritual talks and a nice fellowship time were enjoyed by more than 80 women with attended. Berenice met a relative of Tena Swanson's, Mrs. Rollin Swanson of Stromsburg, as well as a former Ord girl, who is now a minister's wife at Elkhorn. The latter woman is the daughter of Edward Johnson, who was once an Ord depot agent. His daughter, the former Carole Johnson, graduated from Ord High School. Because of the pastor exchange, her husband will be preaching Sunday at the Scotia Baptist Church.

Personals
Mary Cetak's daughter Zola (Mrs. James McFadyen) telephoned Sept. 8 to give her mother birthday greetings.

Eva Robertson and Juanita Christian drove to St. Paul Saturday and saw Parkside Plaza, the housing project there.

Mrs. Hazel Leach of Berwyn called late Saturday afternoon on Berenice Cornell.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dohl of Lincoln were at Mildred Anderson's Tuesday. They also visited at Mrs. Edward Vodehnal's. The three ladies are sisters.

Mary Cetak visited Mrs. Anna Bozant Thursday forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Hovio of Comstock and a daughter-in-law and grandson were with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janulewicz Thursday afternoon. The little fellow is a great grandson of the Janulewicz. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Janulewicz went to Omaha to be with their three daughters for a few days.

The September birthday party on the 10th honored Mary Cetak and Mae Dockhorn. Mary's guests were Mrs. Ezra Kuehl, Mrs. Bill Jablonski, Mrs. Joe Dvorak, and Mrs. Anna Rajewicz. Mae had as guests her daughter, Mrs. Eldon Kokes of Elyria, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Russell Dockhorn. Mrs. Norma Ackles joined the group for refreshments, making a total of 29 present.

Sunday supper guests of Mena Jorgensen were Mary Jorgensen, Eva Robertson, Elsie Rathbun, and Juanita Christian. Monday evening at dinner Juanita hosted Eva, Elsie, and Mena.

Luey McCune was a part time guest the past week of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Wray and family in Scotia. Mrs. Wray came again Monday morning for her mother.

Mary Jorgensen had word Monday from the Nels Jensens of Windom, Minn., that they had arrived home safely after spending several days here. Friday evening Mary's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Goff of Papillion, were with her. Saturday night they were with the Eugene Novak family. Some time was spent too with Mr. Goff's mother, Anna Holmes, and for Sunday dinner the Goffs took both mothers to the Veterans Club.

Bingo will be played in the Parkview recreation center Sept. 24 beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday visitors of the George Polinoskis were Mr. and Mrs. Anton Pawliski of Green River, Wyo., and Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDonald of North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Romans of Broken Bow visited her mother, Lydia Porter, Sunday. They also called on Mildred Anderson. Tena Swanson returned Sunday evening after being at a church convention in York since Thursday. She went with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson.

Tillie Massey had supper Saturday with Lillian Daudt. Mrs. Fanny Houser spent that evening with Lillian.

(Read Acts 17:22-23)

Ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. And I will be found of you, saith the Lord. (Jeremiah 29:13-14)

Have you ever searched high and low for something in your house only to find it was staring you in the face all the time? In having that experience now and then, we have said, "I must be blind."

It is rather like that with our relation to God. We look for Him high and low, and then suddenly we find that He is right there by our side - and has been there all the time.

This is one great truth the Bible points out to us. We can begin at Genesis and read through the two Testaments, and everywhere we find that God has always been in the world. All the great men and women in the Bible have found Him -

Stars of the Golden Spike Expo Train are these two locomotives, like the ones that rendezvoused at Promontory.

U.P. Centennial Train To Be in Ord Thursday

A century of railroad and western America progress will be on display in Ord next Thursday when the Union Pacific Railroad's Golden Spike Centennial Exposition Train comes to town. The exhibit will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. It is sponsored by Union Pacific at the invitation of the Ord Chamber of Commerce.

Recreating a portion of the historic scene at Promontory, Utah, when East met West will be the star attractions of the Expo Train — a pair of shiny red and black antique steam locomotives. These iron horses are almost identical to the two locomotives — UP's engine No. 119 and Central Pacific's Jupiter — that faced each other when the last spike was driven in 1869.

Ainsworth Man Coming Here To Practice Law

Marvin Weems, an attorney from Ainsworth, has announced that he will assume the law practice in Ord of Paul Kubitschek. The Kubitschek family returned to Denver, Colo., several weeks ago after spending four years in Ord. Mr. Kubitschek remained to take care of final business commitments and personal affairs.

Weems and his family — which consists of his wife, a 1-year-old son, and a 1-year-old daughter — will be moving to Ord in the near future. His office will remain on the second floor above the Protective Savings & Loan office.

The 29-year-old Weems is a 1964 graduate of the University of Nebraska Law School. He also holds Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of Arts and Sciences.

In Ainsworth he was associated with Ely & Weems, conducting a general law practice. He also served as deputy county attorney for Brown County.

Weems is originally from Aurora.

The two exhibit steamers ride pilot - to - pilot, Promontory-style, on a modern, high-speed flat car.

The property of Paramount Pictures, the two old steamers were loaned to Union Pacific for the exhibit. Both engines starred in the 1939 motion picture "Union Pacific" and have been used many times since in other films and on television. They have been painstakingly restored by UP crews for the centennial celebration.

Also on loan from Paramount and a part of the show are an 1869 coach and three 90-year-old cars — a derrick car, blacksmith car, and boxcar. The four old cars are also getting a soft ride on three modern roller-bearing, shock - protected flatcars. The old equipment sits on 60-ton rail and ties, similar to the track that was laid on the original Union Pacific line.

An orange and tan-colored mobile display car with a circus flavor on the outside completes the Expo show. Inside the display car, 19 exhibits executed for Union Pacific by the Nebraska State Historical Society graphically spell out the history of railroad progress, as well as that of the West, from the very first surveys to the modern lines of today.

Dean Vancura was the top individual among 139 contestants as he scored 254 of a possible 319 points. Older brother Loren Vancura was second with 255 points, followed by Allen Cahill with 225.

Ord contestants also took two other spots in the top 10 as Dale Peterson placed sixth with 210 points and Dale Baldwin 10th 205.

Three Named To College Band

Three students from this area — Nadene Batecock of North Loup and Pam Leubert and Larry Rathbun of Ord — are among 50 students at Kearney State College to be selected as members of the marching band.

The members were chosen following auditions held last week. They represent 53 Nebraska and two out-of-state cities.

Members of the band will lead the annual Band Day parade through downtown Kearney Saturday. They will also perform at the homecoming football game on Oct. 4 and the two home games in November.

Local FFA Boys Sweep Honors In Range Contest

Pasture lands surrounding Ord will be in good hands when they pass to the current generation of teenagers, if results of the Area V range judging contest at Loup City are any indication.

Members of the Ord High School chapter, Future Farmers of America, came away from the competition with five of the six ribbons handed out. Ord boys took the first two team places as well as the first three individual rankings.

Dean Vancura was the top individual among 139 contestants as he scored 254 of a possible 319 points. Older brother Loren Vancura was second with 255 points, followed by Allen Cahill with 225.

Ord contestants also took two other spots in the top 10 as Dale Peterson placed sixth with 210 points and Dale Baldwin 10th 205.

In team competition a quartet composed of the two Vancura boys, Martin Bredthauer, and David Sich was first with 722 points. Another Ord team composed of Cahill, Baldwin, Darrell Bremer, and Glen Bredthauer was second.

Two other local quartets also placed in the top 10, taking the fifth and ninth spots.

Twelve members of the Ord chapter will compete in the state contest scheduled Saturday in Thieford.

FFA chapters from Ansley, Broken Bow, Loup City, Ravenna, and Sargent participated in the area competition. All chapters in a 14-county area were eligible to take part.

Vancuras Do It Once Again; They're 1-2 in Pick'em Contest

Those Vancuras were at it again this week, dominating the Quiz football selection contest.

This week the winner was Charles Vancura Jr., who lost out by a single point on the tie-breaker to his son Alan the previous week. The elder Vancura picked 17 of 24 games correctly, just as he did a week ago, and this time he had the best tie-breaker score of Holdrege 20, Ord 13.

And who was second? Naturally another Vancura, but an unexpected one. The winner's wife, Mrs. Charles Vancura Jr., picked 18 games right and was one of two contestants to hit the tie-breaker right in the eye — Holdrege 14, Ord 6. Mrs. Vancura thus won the runner-up honor — although no money accompanied it — over Virgil Ferguson, superintendent of the North Loup-Scotia schools.

Ferguson also picked 18 games correctly but forgot to fill out the tie-breaker score.

Besides Mrs. Vancura, young Jim Stab of Ord also called the tie-breaker exactly correct. And in picking winners, he didn't do too badly either with 17 of 24 right.

Other near-misses were furnished by Mrs. George Fryzek and Harold Holoun, who each picked 17 right.

The one stumbling block for all contenders was the McCook-York contest. After McCook's impressive victory over Holdrege the previous week, the Bisons were a unanimous choice. But York staged a stunning 6-0 upset as McCook failed to score after getting inside the Duke 10-yard line on four occasions.

This week's entry blank and list of stumblers may be found on Page 6 of Section 2.

Chants Will Open Conference Wars In Friday Night Contest With Albion

The biggest game in the Central 10 forest will be the quarry this week as the Ord Chanticleers travel to Albion for their weekly hunt.

The Cardinals are co-favorites in the conference this year with Central City, and so far they've looked like they deserve the ranking in their opener they bludgeoned Hartington Cedar Catholic, 40-0, and last week they dropped Centennial, 24-6. Neither of their victims, however, are reported to be very strong this year so in a sense they're pretty much untested.

After winning its opener against Gothenburg, Ord was beaten last week by Holdrege. Coach Chuck Squier feels, though, that his team learned some things and will have a good shot at winning Friday's contest.

He promised a more evenly balanced offense, with more passing and a better distributed ball carrying load.

"We've got four backs who can run the ball," he said, "and we're going to use them." Bruce Huribert was the workhorse last week as he carried 19 times, gaining an even 100 yards.

As for passing, Squier said he wants his team to pass at least a third of the time "in situations where we don't have to" — in other words, when it's not second or third down and long yardage or the clock is getting short.

Ord backers who journey to Albion should keep their eyes on Cardinal fullback Rod Levander. He's apparently the class of Albion running backs, as he carried 36 times in last week's victory over Centennial.

Squier says that's one of the things which encourages him about Chant prospects.

"Levander is a good boy, and we respect him very much," Squier said. "He's not only a good competitor, but he's a nice clean-cut kid, not the mouthy kind. But we don't think you can build a really good football team around one boy like that."

The Cardinals do have a little to go with Levander — like seven other players who started last year against Ord. However, they're just as bad off as the Chants — if not worse — when it comes to depth. They'll have seven boys going both ways, including Levander.

The outcome of the game could hinge on Albion's highly touted but injury prone quarterback, Chris Nelson. Big things have been predicted of Nelson ever since he was a sophomore, and while he has played well he Showing off the plaque her parents received at last week's Polka Days celebration in Columbus is Christy Dingle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Dingle. Christy represented this area at the coronation ceremonies Friday. She wore the costume she's seen in here. Mr. and Mrs. Dingle were cited by the Columbus Chamber of Commerce for their work in promoting polka music.

Sargent Suffers From Giant Fire

Sargent's main street was heavily damaged when fire destroyed four large frame buildings early Tuesday morning. The buildings housed the Jack and Jill Store, Peterson's Locker and Warehouse, and the Fashion Nook dress shop. The dress shop was owned by Mrs. Norman Grint and Mrs. Lyle Gibson and the other three structures were owned by K. W. Peterson. The back storage room of the Jack and Jill store is apparently where the fire broke out shortly after midnight. The store is managed by Don Peterson and was recently remodeled by the owner.

Damages were estimated to be in excess of $200,000 by an official of the Farmers State Bank in Sargent.

Fire Departments from Broken Bow, Comstock, Taylor and Burwell were called to assist the Sargent Department in fighting the blaze.

Don Peterson was overcome by the excitement and was hospitalized for a short time. Fire officials are still investigating the cause of the blaze. It took 45 men some three hours to bring the blaze under control according to Sargent Fire Chief Leroy Matousek. He stated the buildings were a total loss.

Survey Suggested To Find Jobs For Trainable Mentally Retarded

A survey of job possibilities in this area for the trainable retarded has been suggested by Dr. Barton Kline, director of Educational Service Units 12 and 13.

Dr. Kline spoke at a Sept. 16 meeting in Ord of the North Central Assn. for Retarded Children. He said that plans should begin now to provide work opportunities for children of the Special Services School here.

Mrs. Andy Kusek of Burwell, publicity chairman of the North Central Assn., explained afterwards that trainable retarded children may enter a "workshop" when they reach 16 years of age. As part of this workshop they would perform simple jobs in the community under the guidance of a special supervisor. But in order to conduct such a workshop, the jobs must be available for the youngsters to perform.

Mrs. Kusek said Dr. Kline was suggesting that a survey be conducted to find out what jobs would be available for children enrolled in such a workshop.

The visiting speaker also expressed the need for a full-time speech therapist to work with the children at the Special Services School.

Newly passed legislative bills affecting the retarded were discussed too by Dr. Kline, including in particular LB 172. This bill makes every school district in the state responsible for training handicapped students living within its geographic confines, including the trainable mentally retarded. The new legislation says that "educational service units" may be responsible for this training.

Dr. Kline pointed out that he felt the bill was not complete enough since it provides training only for youngsters between the ages of 5 and 21. He said most mentally handicapped youths need additional supervision beyond the age of 21, and that by the time they reach that age their own parents sometimes are too old to adequately provide it.

Road Display Planned

A display and explanation of road construction projects in several counties of the North Loup Valley will be held today (Thursday) in Grand Island.

The display will be part of an open house at the district office of the State Dept. of Roads. The office is located on west Highway 30.

The open house will last from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Included in the display will be projects for Valley, Greeley, Sherman, Howard, and several other Central Nebraska counties.

Local Man Buys Yanda's Music

Eldon Mulligan, manager of Yanda's Music in Ord for the last three years, has purchased the local store from Clark Yanda. The transaction will become effective the first of the year.

A native of this area and a 1957 graduate of Ord High School, Mulligan said he will probably change the name of the store later. However, as of this time he has not decided what he will call it.

Two Escape Unhurt As Station Wagon Hits Alfa Truck

Future clients can be assured Ord's newest attorney is a fast thinker.

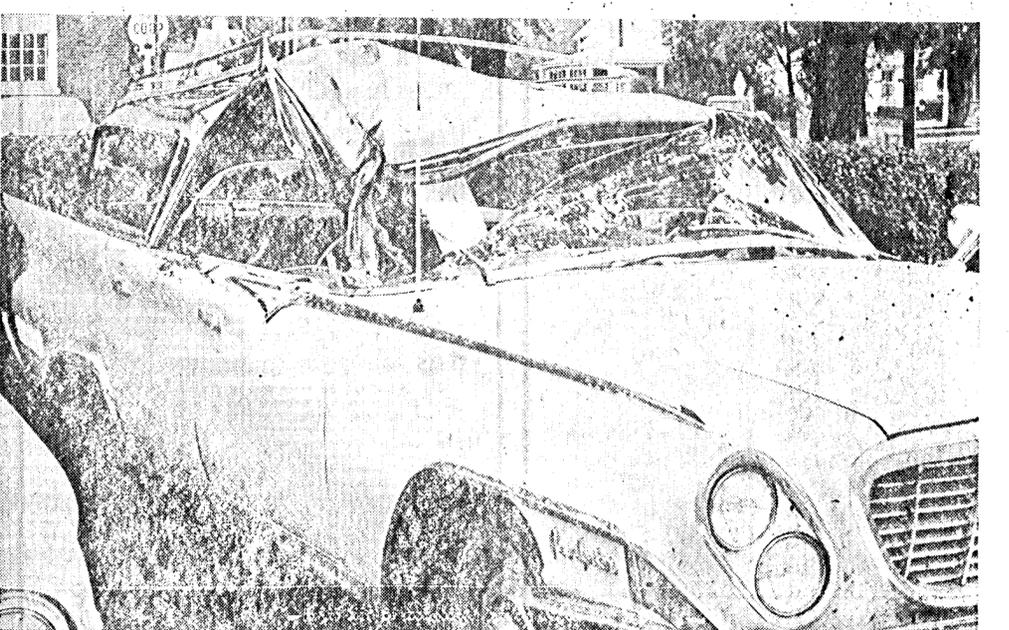

Marvin Weems, who's transferring here from Ainsworth, escaped possible death and sure injury late Wednesday night when he dove from the passenger side of fellow attorney Paul Kubitschek's station wagon onto the driver's side. A second later the right side of the windshield smashed into the back end of an alfa truck driven by Leroy Burson.

Kubitschek, who was driving the station wagon, also escaped injury.

The accident occurred about 11 p.m. several miles west of Ord on Highway 70. State Patrolman Phil Quinn, who investigated, said Burson was parked in the north-bound lane of the highway talking with Monte Hansen, who was driving another alfa truck parked in the right-hand lane.

Kubitschek reportedly did not see the Burson truck in time to stop because its taillights were obscured with dirt.

The supporting post on the right-hand side of Kubitschek's windshield was sheared off and driven back into the seat on the passenger's side. Weems said he saw the collision about to occur "and climbed in Paul's lap."

The 1970 light-your-fire Buicks are here.

They're just for you. The cars you've been asking for. From Buick 1970.

This one is the GS 455. Sleek, sporty, exciting.

Its engine? 455 cubic-inches. 350 horses strong. With a four-barrel carburetor that breathes through real air-scoops.

Four on the floor? A finely tuned 3-speed automatic? Both are available. Power disc brakes. Positive traction differential. High performance rear axle ratios, too. And lots more.

Wide-tread fiberglass belted tires that are standard on all 1970 Buicks give improved traction during braking, cornering and acceleration; significant increases in tread life; and substantially superior resistance to road hazards. Side guard beam construction for added protection. Body by Fisher.

There's luxury, too. Bucket seats, if you want them. Full carpeting.

Obviously the most exciting car we've ever made. And one that you've been asking for. See it. See all the 1970 Light Your Fire Cars. The Gran Sports and Skylark Sport Coupes and Convertibles.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

"Every Boy Should Have A Hill" ... these are the words of Otto Whittaker and I'll share them with you.

"Every boy should have a hill. He might become a millionaire or a Nobel Prize winner, or a President, but the day will come when he'll start looking back on it all, and if he didn't have a hill when he was a boy, he won't have much to look back on."

"A place to be Buffalo Bill, or Yellow Hand, or the Green Hornet. A place to build a fire and heat up pork and beans, a place with huckleberries and birds' nests, a place to set a box trap for a rabbit that was never caught. A piney place, all the pines in the world, pine saplings to be leaped upon and ridden to the ground, to be chopped down and notched for log cabins that were never finished, to ooze a piney gum that stuck to the hands almost as their piney smell sticks to the memory."

"A hill, that's it, a hill for every boy. A hill to climb up and slide down, a hill, a boy can love until girls are better things to love, and then to tuck away and be found, 40 years later, as good as 'new.' Does your child have a hill?"

Another pickle recipe — this one even easier than the two used in previous weeks — is a favorite from Linda Kearns. This time there is nothing to be cooked.

2 1/2 qts. cucumbers (peeled and cut into slices)
2 c. sugar
1 1/2 c. vinegar
1/4 c. canning salt
3/4 t. mustard seed
3/4 t. celery seed
1/2 t. turmeric
1 large white onion

Mix well. Do not seal. Simply keep in refrigerator or in a cool place. Makes 3 qts.

Fashions Were on Parade At Ord JC-Ette Style Review

Gay circus creatures and bright balloons set the stage at the high school auditorium Monday evening as the Ord JC-Ettes presented their second annual style show.

Such up to the minute fashions as the popular mini dresses, pleasing pantsuits, and cuddly fur-like coats were among the striking fall and winter wear shown.

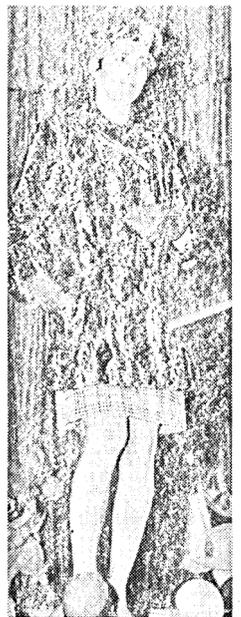

Performers at the Fall Carnival of Fashion were 34 lively models styling ensembles presented by the Lee Store, J. M. McDonald, The Carousel, Montgomery Ward-Anderson Agency, Needham's, The Classic for Men, and Helen's Dress Shop. Wilma's Beauty Shop, The Blue Haven Salon, and Diane's Barber Shop were credited with the stunning hair styles, wigs, and hair pieces worn by both the men and women of the cast.

Easy care cottons were especially stressed in the back-to-school fashions shown by models of the younger set.

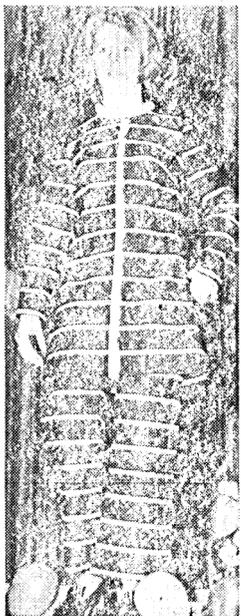

Commentator for the show was Mrs. Janet Papiernik. Christine Conner, clad in a cute clown outfit, assisted as an on-stage helper. Mellow background music was presented by Connie Brothauer on the organ provided by Yanda's Music of Ord. Mrs. Kathy Boleson was the style show chairman and Mrs. Delores Conner the co-chairman.

Announcement of door prize winners was made by Mrs. Iris Mulligan. The lucky recipients were Carolyn Jorgensen, Joanne Mottl, Shirley Shores, Mrs. Henry Lange, Helen Severen, Rose Pokorney, Verna Ruzicka, Julie Grim, Beverly Wilson, Alyce Troyer, Marjorie Kittle, Betty Holt, Veda Mars, Alma Petska, Beverly Miller, Katharine Iwanski, Aileen Wojtasek, Mrs. Eldon Sich, Mrs. Janet Edwards, and Susan Petska. The door prizes were donated by various Ord business firms.

Sharon Blaha wears a lovely faked fur — the newest thing for the fashion minded. A frosted wig adds a note of sophistication.

Janet Melia models a striking brown and white ensemble — so appropriate for cooler days ahead.

An attractive model at Monday evening's Fall Carnival of Fashion was Terry Kunz wearing a dainty navy and white striped pantsuit.

See Hurricane Damage

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Lothrop and Mrs. Dillo Troyer returned Thursday from a two-week vacation. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Parker at Elgin, Ill., and went from there to Eglin Air Force Base at Fort Walton Beach, Fla., where they visited Capt. Allen Troyer.

On their return trip they traveled through a part of the disaster area from the recent hurricane Camille. They went into this area as far as Ocean Springs, Miss., about 20 miles from Gulfport. They said every house showed signs of damage, and that many huge trees were completely unrooted and others were bent almost to the ground. (Many homes and business buildings in Gulfport were completely destroyed.) The Ord residents reported that for 70 miles of their journey the signs of the storm were in evidence all around them.

Suburbanites Convene

The Ord Suburbanites met Sept. 16 at the home of Mrs. Floyd Peterson with nine members present. An election of officers was held, and those selected to serve were Mrs. Joe Rutar, president; Mrs. George Baker, vice-president; and Mrs. Emil Sedlacek, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was "You, Papers and You" and was presented by Mrs. Sedlacek. Each member answered roll call by telling what she did over the summer.

This was the first meeting of the 1969-70 season.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

Clutch Play by Holdrege Earns Win Over Frustrated Chants in 14-6 Tilt

First Downs	Held	Orl
Rushing	62	145
Passing	193	49
Penalties	1	17
Fumbles Lost	1	0
Penalties	2-20	1-5

For the second week in a row, Ord's young Chantleers continued the fight. But this time there was no knockout punch, and they were subsequently outpointed by Holdrege, 14-6.

The Chants dominated every statistic except the one that counted in their Friday night game with the Dusters. They led in first downs, 13-5, and in total offense, 194 yards to 167. But three times they failed to score after moving close to the Duster goal line.

Holdrege, on the other hand, was able to mount only one sustained drive all night — and it was a short one. But the visitors played almost flawless ball and combined a good defense with a couple of swift offensive shots to even the season records of both teams at 1-1.

The first stunner came with just under four minutes left in the first half. Quarterback Mike Sughroue dodged Ord's hard-charging defensive line long enough for Bob Decker to slip behind the Chant secondary, then dropped a perfect aerial into the arms of his speeding teammate, Jim Navev of the Chants. He gave chase, but it was a futile effort as Decker scored easily on a 73-yard play.

To many in the stands it looked as if Ord defensive back Darrell Farmer, who was responsible for covering Decker on the play, thought Sughroue had been tackled and simply abandoned his duties. But Coach Chuck Squier of the Chants said later that wasn't the case.

"Farmer bumped Decker just before the ball was thrown," Chant coach said, explaining that this was a perfectly legal maneuver since the ball was not yet in the air. "But then he turned away and didn't recover quickly enough, and in that split half-second Decker got the step he needed."

"It's all right to hit a receiver like that," Squier continued, "but when we do we have to make sure we recover immediately."

Sughroue then carried straight up the middle — an area where the Dusters found little running room most of the night for a two-point conversion that made the score 8-0.

Errors Are Costly
The second Holdrege touchdown came early in the fourth quarter when the Dusters took advantage of a pair of Ord mistakes to drive 59 yards.

They were set up at the Chant 39-yard line when junior half-back Alan Sheffield, who played an excellent game, intercepted a Paul Markley pass and returned it to that point. The interception was the only one of the night for either team.

Two plays later the second Chant mistake occurred. As Holdrege called second and nine, Ord was called for off-sides and penalized five yards. As it turned out, that was the only penalty assessed against the Chants all night, but it provided Holdrege with the momentum needed to get something underway.

Sheffield followed with a 12-yard run — the longest of the night for Holdrege — moving the ball to the Ord 21.

Ord Defense Outstanding
Except for that run the tough Chant defense allowed just four carries of more than three yards during the entire game. One was for seven, two for five, and one for four.

One of the five-yarders came in that same series as Holdrege faced fourth and two at the Ord 13. And again it was Sheffield getting it.

Two plays later Sughroue found Sheffield open in the flat for the second Holdrege touchdown. Sughroue's attempted run for the conversion failed this time, leaving the score at 14-0.

The evening's entire offensive output for Holdrege was pretty much contained in the two scoring series. The winners got an automatic first down for each touchdown and made a pair of authentic ones in their 30-yard drive. That meant they made only one other first down the whole evening.

Field Position Hurts
They had other fine scoring opportunities, though. Because of the poor field position Ord found itself in most of the night. But they were not able to take advantage of these opportunities.

The excellent Chant defense which repeatedly squelched them was led by the left side where Paul Markowski, Dan Timmerman, and Bob Peterson held forth.

The magnitude of Ord's defensive accomplishments becomes more pronounced when field position is considered, for Holdrege took possession of the ball six times on the Chant side of the 50-yard line. In the first quarter the Dusters got the ball at the Ord 35, 30, and 38-yard lines. In the fourth period they got it at the Chant 39, 46, and 24-yard lines.

"We think field position helped us win one game," Coach Squier stated, referring to Ord's opening 24-7 victory over Gothenburg. "But now we think it has helped us lose one."

Handled Kicks Poorly
He cited not only the pressure repeatedly placed on the Chant defense because of the locations Holdrege came into possession, but the poor positions his own offense usually had to start from. Only twice all evening did the Chants take possession on the Holdrege side of the 50, and included among their takeovers were such unlikely locations as their own 1-yard line, their 12, and their 15.

Poor handling of Holdrege punts and kickoffs was a major contributing factor to this bad field position. And in addition, punter Bill Miller was still bothered by an ankle injury sustained in the Gothenburg game. He consequently did not have a particularly good night kicking.

By the time Holdrege scored its second touchdown the perfect autumn evening weather-wise had turned into a frustrating one football-wise for Ord players and fans alike. For while Holdrege was making almost all its first downs and yardage pay off in points on the scoreboard, the Chants were seeing one opportunity after another fizzle out.

Bogged down most of the first half by the poor field position, the Chants finally got something going on their last possession before intermission.

100 Yards for Huribert
That time they took over at their own 33-yard line and drove to the Holdrege 4 before being repulsed. Bruce Huribert, who gained an even 100 yards for the evening, got the drive going with consecutive carries of 11 and 17 yards.

The drive fizzled when Ord faced third and two at the Holdrege 4. Dennis Kamarad was called on for the crucial yardage, but he had no chance as he was hit two yards behind the line of scrimmage. Then on fourth down from the six, Markley underthrew Farmer who was open in the end zone.

The third quarter was when things really got frustrating for the Chants. On their first possession they drove from their 47 to the Holdrege 3.

Markley's 28-yard pass to Farmer got this one going. It was slightly underthrown, and a Holdrege defender got his hand on it. But Farmer hung tough and got it on the rebound.

When the Chants got inside the 10, though, they suddenly found things much rougher again. On third and one from the five, Huribert was thrown for a one-yard loss as he tried the left side of his line. Then on fourth and two Markley was dropped for another yard loss as he tried a keeper.

Usual Gainers Didn't Work
After Holdrege ran three plays and punted, the Chants were right back knocking. But again they were at the wrong door. They drove from the Holdrege 36 to the 14, where they again faced first and 10. But Jim Novotny, who had an even zero for his nine carries during the evening, was thrown for a three-yard loss. Then Markley threw incomplete twice, and on fourth down he was dropped for a five-yard setback as he tried to pass again.

"I think we coaches probably made some bad calls when we were down on the goal line," Squier said, taking part of the blame for his team's failure. "When the plays we were expecting to work didn't, we were a little stumped ourselves and didn't react quickly enough in calling the next play."

Squier said his team's "bread-and-butter" plays were not working, primarily because Holdrege was "keying" on Kamarad at fullback and to some extent on Novotny at halfback. Every time either of those boys got the ball, especially in goal-line situations, he had a Duster in his arms almost as soon as he had the ball.

"The crossback (Huribert off right tackle) was supposed to be used just to keep them honest, but it was the only thing we were making any yardage with," Squier stated.

Help Needed at Tackle
The young coach said he was also extremely disappointed with the play of his offensive tackles in the goal-line situations. "But Holdrege was using four or five tackles, whereas we were using two boys who went both ways," he said. "Maybe there was a reason they weren't going so well."

Ord finally ended its offensive frustrations with just under six minutes to play. Sheffield fumbled a punt at his own 21-yard line, and Navev fell on it for Ord.

Three plays later the Chants were facing fourth and one at the Holdrege 12, and this time Markley started wide on a keeper, then cut inside his own left end and went all the way for the touchdown. His pass on the conversion attempt was intercepted by Don Shield.

The Chants got two more chances with the ball, but they couldn't come close on either occasion. Once they might have been able to get something going when they faced fourth and 10 at their own 49, but Huribert and Farmer knocked each other away from Markley's pass as both went for the ball.

Pride in Defense
"I felt like we had the best team," Squier stated afterwards, "but Holdrege was well coached. They didn't miss any open field tackles, and they only made one mistake."

Squier said he was extremely pleased with Huribert's running, as well as the play of reserve tackle Dale Peterson during the little time he was in the game. "A couple of times Huribert almost broke," he said. "Once if he'd turned outside I think he would have been gone, and once somebody got him by the jersey. If he could have pulled away then he would have been gone too."

About Peterson, a sophomore, Squier said: "He really looked good. I think he may be playing quite a bit before the season is over."

Naturally he was pleased also with the overall defensive effort. "Ken Trubey (assistant coach) has done a great job with that defense," he stated. "They've got a lot of pride in themselves."

Holdrege used a variety of offensive formations, based on both the T and single wing. But the Chant defense handled them all with equal finesse.

Second-Half Bugaboo Strikes Again As Wheeler Central Is Tied, 32-32

Last week, for the second time in a row, Wheeler Central rolled up a big first-half advantage only to see it melt away after intermission. And this time the let-down was more costly, allowing Elgin to gain a 32-32 tie.

The previous week Wheeler Central had led Petersburg 28-0 before the Pirates rallied to cut the final margin to 28-18. This time the Bartlett team held a 26-8 lead at halftime before Elgin came tearing back.

Bill Bergstrom led an Eagle running game that rolled up 289 yards on the ground. In fact, the home team scored all 32 of its points without completing a single pass.

Extra-point conversions were the key to Elgin's comeback as the Eagles made good on two-point tries at every opportunity. That extraordinary feat enabled them to gain their tie even though Wheeler Central scored five touchdowns to their four.

Bergstrom scored all four of Elgin's six points, one coming from the 10-yard line and the others from inside the 3. He also ran for two conversion attempts, with Tom Kuester getting the other two.

The Elgin star's performance took some of the luster off a sensational showing by Wheeler Central's junior fullback, John Olson. Hitting his two game total to 30 points, Olson scored on runs of 52 and 55 yards and a pass reception of 9 yards. For the night he gained 139 yards on 16 rushing attempts.

Senior quarterback Tom Majors also had an unusual game for the Broncos. He completed only four of 12 passes, but three of them went for touchdowns. Besides the Gardner to Olson, he had a 34-yard strike to Scott Patrick and a 53-yard heave to Gene Schmeits.

Fullback Jerry Childers ran over the lone conversion for Wheeler Central. The 180-pound senior was also outstanding on defense as he piled up 17 tackles from his end position. Olson, who performed as a linebacker, had a good defensive game too.

Things aren't expected to get any easier for the Broncos this week, even though they will finally get to play at home. The opposition for the Friday night contest will be Orchard, which was one of two schools to beat last year's Wheeler Central eleven.

Elba Triumphs In Shutout, 26-0
Scoring once in each quarter, Elba's Blue Jays sped past Nebraska Christian of Central City, 26-0, Friday night.

Tomorrow night (Friday) the Blue Jays will travel to Oconto for a meeting with that team. Oconto is winless in two starts, having been beaten by Halsey-Dunning, 22-0, and tied by Tryon, 14-14.

The game will be a non-conference affair. In fact, Elba won't begin Central Nebraska Conference warfare until Oct. 17 when it meets Arcadia.

John Olson was offensive, defensive star too.

Trailing an inspired Sargent team by 7-6 at halftime, highly touted O'Neill St. Mary's exploded for 22 points in the second half Friday night to win easily, 28-7.

The loss evned Sargent's record at 1-1, since the Bulldogs had beaten Burwell in their opener the preceding week. They'll try to get back on the winning path tomorrow night (Friday) in a game against Rock County at Bassett.

While Sargent was having such a rough go last week with St. Mary's, Rock County was having similar problems with O'Neill's public high school. The Tigers were beaten, 26-8, after winning their first game from Spencer, 28-0.

A brilliant passing combination of Pat Gleeson to Ted Britton worked for two second-half touchdowns to help St. Mary's pull out its victory. Then when Sargent tried to get back into the game, Jed Wolfe picked off a stray Bulldog pass and rambled 49 yards for another score.

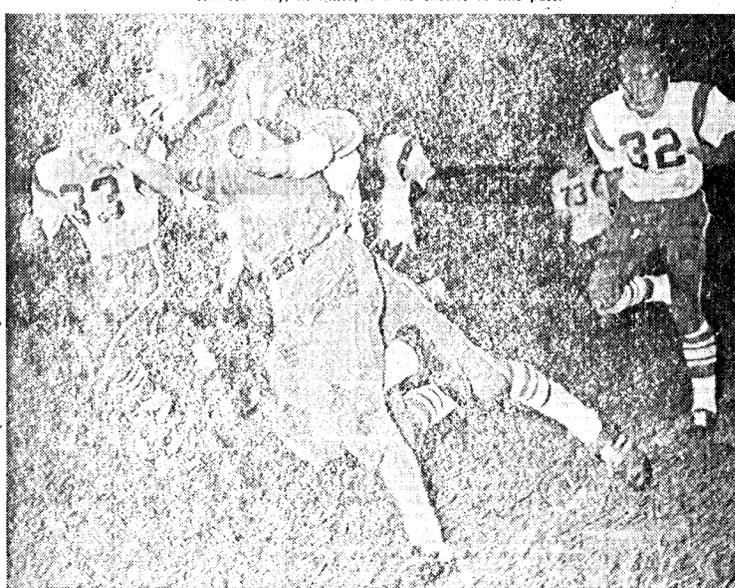

The first Gleeson to Britton aerial covered 13 yards and the second one 34 yards.

St. Mary's had taken an initial lead in the first quarter when Gleeson sneaked over for a yard out. But Tim Griebel's 20-yard pass to Mark Cooper evned things up for Sargent in the second period, and Jim Ash kicked the extra point that gave the home team its halftime advantage.

The St. Mary's pass defense was a key factor in the victory. St. Mary's — 0 0 8 11-28
Sargent — 0 7 0 0-7

Jim Novotny, in white, had no chance at this pass.

Holdrege ace Alan Sheffield nears the end of a short gain.

"Much improved" was the way Coach Don Wagner described his Loup City Red Raiders this week, despite their second consecutive setback Friday night.

Coach Wagner detected improvement in just about every area of play even though the Raiders lost to St. Paul, 14-3. The previous week they had been beaten by Fullerton, 22-6.

Clarks Triumphs Over Arcadia, 20-6

If Coach Eldon Kieborz is right with his calendar, this should be the week Arcadia finds out what kind of football year its going to be.

Before the season opened Coach Kieborz said that because of his inexperienced line he thought it would take until the third game of the season to see how his charges are going to hold up. After one win and one loss, the Huskies will play their third game tomorrow night (Friday) when they host Greeley in a Central Nebraska Conference outing.

In last week's action Arcadia lost to a strong Clarks team, 20-6. Danny Hurlbert scored the only Huskie touchdown on the 20-yard reverse.

The Clarks touchdowns were divided among Alan Beck, Dale Schultz, and Greg Douglas. Beck scored the first one on an 18-yard pass from Tim Ingel; Schultz then kicked the halftime margin to 12-0 when he ran 40 yards after recovering a fumble; and Douglas finished his team's scoring with a four-yard burst.

Loup County Bursts From Starting Gate With Two Big Wins

It was common knowledge that the Loup County Wildcats had no place to go but up this football season, but no one expected them to get there quite so quickly.

After losing every game they played last season, the Wildcats are off to an excellent start this year with two shutout victories in as many outings. In their most recent conquest, played Friday night, they blanked Ewing, 14-0.

The previous week Coach John Ward's charges had smashed Spalding, 40-0.

The win over Ewing was especially important as it was a Sandhill Gateway Conference match. Both teams play in the conference's Western Division with Chambers, Stuart, and Wheeler County. The winner in this division will meet the Eastern Division titleholder in a playoff for the conference championship. Members of that Eastern Division are Clearwater, Elgin, Humphrey, and Petersburg.

This week the Wildcats will go back outside the conference to take on unpredictable Halsey-Dunning. The Tigers opened their season with a 22-0 triumph over Oconto but were blasted last week by Theodford, 38-0. Last season they won three and lost five.

The game will be played in Taylor.

North Loup-Scotia Defense Shines In 14-0 Shutout of Anselmo-Merna

Two tough defensive clubs slugged it out at Scotia Saturday night as the 1969 North Loup-Scotia Wildcats made a successful debut against Anselmo-Merna. They defeated the visitors, 14-0.

The Wildcat defense — which was outstanding in an 8-2 season last year — not only held Anselmo-Merna at bay, it also set up both North Loup-Scotia touchdowns.

Clifford Jorgenson made arrangements for the first when he intercepted a Coyote pass and returned it to the Anselmo-Merna 23-yard line. From there the Wildcats took it in five plays with halfback Dave Edwards doing the heavy work. Edwards gained 18 of the 23 yards, including the last 6. On the touchdown play he was hit and spun around but backed into the end zone.

Coach Keith Staehr went with his sophomore quarterback, Rod Van Slyke, practically all the way. Van Slyke performed well, running right end for the two-point conversion.

Van Slyke also had a hand in the second North Loup-Scotia touchdown, throwing a 13-yard pass to Jorgenson. It came on a fourth-and-19 situation after a short Wildcat drive appeared stalled.

On the conversion attempt Van Slyke's pass was too hard for Jorgenson to handle.

That touchdown was set up by some more outstanding defensive play. Anselmo-Merna had stopped a Wildcat drive at its own 10-yard line by recovering a fumble, but on fourth down the Coyotes found themselves backed up to their one. Standing deep in his own end zone, their punter got off a short kick and North Loup-Scotia was in business at the 28-yard line.

The Wildcats began a streak of three consecutive road games this week as they travel to Spalding for a game with the tough Academy eleven. That's a Friday night contest.

Gibbon Bombs Burwell, 28-0

Treated rudely in the Lou-Platte Conference opener last week, Burwell's Longhorns will try again tomorrow night (Friday) to obtain their first victory of the season. The Longhorns will host Loup City in another conference affair.

Gibbon was the assailant last week as Burwell dropped a 28-0 tilt.

Veteran Legislative Clerk Retired, Told To Write Unicameral History

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Assn.

LINCOLN—For 32 years, as long as Nebraska has had a unicameral legislature, Hugo Srb has been clerk of the state's lawmaking body. But with the close of the marathon 1969 session Srb's long career comes to an end.

Moving in to replace the 69-year-old veteran is Vincent D. Brown, 33, who assisted Srb during the 1967 and 1969 sessions. Brown's appointment and Srb's retirement were effective with the final adjournment.

Srb's association with Nebraska's legislature goes back to 1931 and 1933 sessions, and in 1935 — the last session of the bicameral legislature — he was secretary of the senate.

Then in 1937 he was appointed clerk for the first session of the one-house system. He has been clerk ever since.

"There is some dispute about who really deserves the title of father of the unicameral system," he said, "but I've always felt I was the mother."

A resolution signed by each of the senators was passed this session. It praised Srb for his service and commissioned him to write a history of the one-house system.

The history, the resolution said, would be a useful document to have in the state's archives and would help Nebraska school children better understand the state's unique system of lawmaking.

Srb is an unrelenting advocate of the unicameral. He has traveled throughout the nation to explain how Nebraska's system works.

Although no other state has made the switch from two houses to one, several new nations have. Srb has hosted groups from all over the world who have come to Lincoln to learn about the system.

He is to be furnished with office space and clerical help while he works on the writing project. The senators agreed his $14,128 annual salary should be continued for two years while he does his research and writing.

Brown will be paid $15,750 as clerk. This salary, according to Senator C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, also will be paid to John Wilson, revisor of statutes, and Marilyn Rein, fiscal analyst. They are the other two key officials on the legislature's fulltime staff.

Holmquist is chairman of the legislative council's executive board. As the administrative arm of the legislature, it was the board's job to recommend that Srb's retirement begin with the adjournment of the 1969 unicameral.

Srb said he would have preferred to stay on the job as clerk until loose ends from the session had been tied together.

Holmquist was the chief sponsor of the resolution. Srb normally reads resolutions into the record, but that job was assigned this time to speaker Jerome Warner of Waverly.

Warner's father, Charles, was speaker of the first one-house legislature when Srb began his duties as clerk.

Tiemann Declines

"Babysitting" Payment

It was almost time for adjournment — time to laugh about some of the wounds which were opened during the long session.

One of the major controversies was the speeding ticket a State Patrol trooper gave Senator William K. Skarda Jr. of Omaha — and the reaction the trooper said Skarda had when the ticket was issued.

Skarda paid a $35 fine. Last week, under the sponsorship of Senator Thomas Kennedy of Newman Grove, the "bill" was passed for Skarda and $38.75 reportedly was collected to reimburse the Omaha.

Skarda acknowledged the money and said he was going to send the extra $3.75 to Gov. Norbert Tiemann as his pay for "babysitting" the legislature this session.

This was in reference to a remark Tiemann had made a few months earlier at North Platte. "I'm a part-time state employee," the governor said, "and a full-time babysitter for the legislature."

A page was dispatched to the governor's office with the money and a note addressed "To our leader."

Tiemann got a big chuckle out of the offering, but he declined with thanks.

"The babysitting services of this office are free," he said in a return note. "Most services of this office are non-professional."

He said the cash was being returned to be divided between Skarda and Omaha Senator Eugene Mahoney, who was with Skarda when their car was stopped by the trooper. He added a quarter for each of the lawmakers "to soothe your bruised feelings."

Town Hall Sessions

Scheduled throughout State

Governor Tiemann has a schedule of 25 "town hall" meetings starting in October and running through April.

Next month the governor will be in Omaha on the 13th, Blair the 14th, and Papillion the 21st.

The remaining schedule:

Omaha, Nov. 3; Hartington, Nov. 10; Bassett, Nov. 19; West Point, Dec. 1; Albion, Dec. 2; Fremont, Dec. 8; Wahoo, Dec. 15; Lincoln, Jan. 6; Falls City, Jan. 19; Omaha, Jan. 26; Gordon, Feb. 2; Alliance, Feb. 16; Scottsbluff, Feb. 23; Kimball, Mar. 2; Grant, Mar. 9; McCook, Mar. 16; Lexington, Mar. 17; Minden, Mar. 30; Broken Bow, Apr. 8; Grand Island, Apr. 13; Hastings, Apr. 20; and Fairbury, Apr. 27.

Price Outlook Bright For Beef Producers

By John Schade

Feeder cattle prices may vary considerably in the short term, but they are expected to remain strong throughout the rest of 1969 and 1970.

Feeder prices are expected to follow fat cattle prices in general, but are more likely to remain high this year even if the fat cattle market shows short-term declines.

Steer calves weighing 450 pounds are expected to bring from 34 to 37 dollars in October and November. These same weight steers will rise to between 35 and 38 dollars by March 1969. Choice 700-to-800-pound feeder steers are expected to sell for 28 to 31 dollars this fall, increasing between 29 and 32 dollars in the spring.

Favorable feeding margins the past 12 months will make feeders more optimistic. Good feeding profits along with an adequate supply of reasonably cheap feed usually are reflected in higher prices paid for feeder cattle.

The supply of young beef animals outside feedlots on July 1, 1969, was down from 1968. This can be attributed partly to heavy placements on feed before July 1.

This year's calf crop increased less than 1 percent from 1968. Lower slaughter of calves and more fed slaughter animals will add to the supply of feeder cattle during the last half of 1969.

Fed Cattle Prices
Somewhat Optimistic:
The outlook for fed cattle prices is also an optimistic one.

Richard Prien Accepts Position in Lincoln

A deep-rooted Valley County couple have announced their plans to leave Ord. Richard Prien, a Moorman Feed Sales representative in Valley County the past five years, and his wife, Frances, a veteran school teacher and representative of the Luzier Cosmetic Co., will move to Lincoln soon where he has accepted a position with the Nebraska State Auditing Department effective Oct. 1.

Prior to joining the Moorman Feed Company, Prien had been a farmer and more recently a custodian for the Ord Public Schools. He is a past elder in the Presbyterian Church, an officer of the Presbyterian Men's Group, Past Master of Masonic Lodge #103, Past Patron of Order of Eastern Star Chapter #56, Associate Guardian of Jobs Daughters, holds an office in both Masonic Lodge and Order of Eastern Star and is a director on the Rotary board.

His wife has taught in Valley County schools 14 years and is presently doing private tutoring. She too has been active in Order of Eastern Star, Jobs Daughters and Presbyterian church work.

The Priens' two daughters, Mrs. James Wagner and Rikky Prien, live in Omaha.

provided producers hold market weights in line.

Beef feeders can look for choice fed cattle prices to be in the 28-31 dollar range this fall, and prices may reach the 29 to 32 dollar figure during April and May of 1970.

Market weights again will be the key factor for the rest of 1969. It seems evident that if weights of fed cattle are held close to current weights, producers will receive good prices.

If weights are increased, fed cattle prices could slide lower. Consumer income is up, and the United States population is around 200 million. Therefore, it does not appear that pork supplies will be great enough to be burdensome on the red meat market. There is, however, expected to be a slight increase in competition from poultry. Competition from foreign imports of meat will probably lessen as we reach the end of 1969.

All in all, there is a good market for beef with ample supplies to satisfy consumer demands. If the feeder markets his fed cattle at a reasonable weight, it appears the price should hold near the 28-to-31 dollar figure for the rest of 1969.

Catholic Study Clubs Name New Officers

New officers were elected at the joint meeting of the Mother Cabrini and Saint Ann's Study Clubs when they met Sept. 10 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church. New officers of the Mother Cabrini Club are: Mrs. Charles Ackles, President; Mrs. Rolland Upah, Vice-President; Mrs. Clark Weckbach, Secretary-Treasurer, and Mrs. William Gog, Study Leader.

New officers of the Saint Ann's Club are: Mrs. Marvin Setlik, President; Mrs. Stanley Abelson, Vice-President; Mrs. Robert Grove, Secretary-Treasurer, and Mrs. Syl Furtak, Study Leader.

The New Testament will be studied in the coming year. Plans were made for the first Bi-Annual Institute of the D.C.C. which was held in Ord yesterday at St. Mary's Hall. It covered 49 parishes.

The Study Clubs decided to purchase a clinical microscope for Father Gerald Kapuska who is serving in Salina Cruz, Mexico.

New Officers Named

M A O Extension Club had their first meeting with Mrs. Cash Rathbun Sept. 10. Eight members were present. Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Rolland Upah, President, and Mrs. John Walker, Secretary-Treasurer. The lesson was on the care of furniture and was given by Mrs. Cash Rathbun. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Wayne Turner on Oct. 8.

THE Ord Quiz

Things CAN Be Changed

In the fallout from last week's Quiz editorial critical of the Central Nebraska Community Action Program and the way tax dollars are being spent, we heard again the familiar excuse: "Somebody's going to get it. It might as well be us."

The individuals who espouse this reasoning say that a certain amount of tax money is going to be allocated regardless, and "if we don't get our share of it it will just go somewhere else."

This is an erroneous conclusion.

Budget Being Cut

Since taking office, President Richard Nixon has been searching painstakingly for areas in which to cut the budget. He wishes to do this so that the federal government will not continue to spend more money than it receives each year, and so inflation might be curbed.

Naturally when the President looks for places to cut, he is going to eliminate or reduce in those areas which are least popular with the greatest number of voters, or where it can be shown that the money is not being used effectively. And while Congress will have the final say-so on appropriations, it will follow this general rule too.

Furthermore, the following year's appropriations will probably be based to some extent on the current year's and the manner in which they were handled. In the Air Force it is a common practice, as the end of the fiscal year approaches, for each office to spend whatever it has left in its coffers so that it can show a genuine "need" for at least as much money during the coming year as it received during the current year. Undoubtedly the same is true of other federal agencies; hence, the need to "create" projects on which to spend money.

Thus, any money which local public opinion can keep an agency from spending stands a good chance of not being allocated during the coming year.

What Can We Do?

But what can we do out here in Nebraska, so far removed from the seat of government where these appropriations are made, do to influence the President and the Congressmen who make the appropriations?

David Lawrence said it best in an editorial for U. S. News & World Report, first printed in 1952. He supposed that a reader had asked him if it does any good to write a congressman or senator if he wants a policy changed. Excerpts from his answer follow.

What would happen if everybody felt the same sense of frustration? Supposing that all the people adopted the same attitude of passiveness—the government then would find itself compelled to function without a knowledge of what the people want. The representative system would be paralyzed.

Obviously members of the Senate and House cannot read all the mail transmitted to them by their constituents. But it would be unfortunate if this in any way discouraged citizens from writing their views.

"Every member of Congress today has a staff analyzing the incoming mail. Some members make statistical surveys, but mostly they weigh the type of argument being made on each side and extract from the letters the fundamental points."

"What happens at the Capitol is true also in the executive agencies. Mail is treated as the most important means of communication between the government and the people—apart from editorials in the press, advertisements on controversial questions, and the published comments of community leaders.

He then points out the importance of voting for those officials who are following the will of the people and concludes:

"Writing to members of Congress is effective." America has been and is governed in its major policies by the wishes of the people.

Too Many Laws May Mean Less Order, Fellers Conclude at Weekly Talk Session

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

About this time last year there was a heap of talk about law and order.

Personally, I always figured politicians meant their law and everybody else's order. All they were saying was they want everybody to think like they do, and that's really what everybody wants.

Since the big vote we ain't seen much in the papers about law and order, but the fellers got the subject livened up again Saturday night.

The discussion came up after Paul Maly told the feller that runs the store he won't be none surprised if next Saturday night we find a big mean police dog guarding the cheese and crackers. Paul said he had seen by the papers where sales of watchdogs are strong all over the country.

Milo Florian told Paul them watchdogs are in the spirit of the country.

Too many folks think they got a right to steal whatever somebody else is too dumb to guard, he allowed, and that ain't a new idea. Milo said a heap of folks in this world past and present were kept from being thieves by finding everything locked up.

That's why pens in banks are chained to desks, and why out door stores in parks are locked to concrete poles. The only difference now is that thieves are more brazen.

The real trouble with calling fer law and order, Milo allowed, is that everybody has a different idea what it means.

For instance, the FBI says the crime wave is getting to be a flood, and they are right. But the FBI don't say that a heap of crimes today wouldn't have been crimes a few years back.

Paul agreed with Milo. He said that every time Congress or the Unicameral meets they make crimes out of new things.

Paul had in mind especially this law that makes it a crime

I have just sent in a $9 check for running a red light that I never saw at 18th and L Streets in your city. The two cars ahead of me that got away didn't see it either, I guess.

I am still burning. If the city of Ord needs donations, why don't its leaders ASK for one? Loup County would be glad to help. But hiding a red light in the bushes is too much to take. I might add this is my first fine, and I have driven 37 years.

Dear Public:

Do you wonder what happened to the building fund for the School for Retarded Children?

Our request for matching funds was turned down because a possibility that the county would vote out Educational Service Unit 13. A new law practically eliminates this danger.

For the time being our school is adequately housed in the rented building formerly occupied by the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and the building fund will be kept on interest for building needs as they arise. Right now our need is for housing care for children from a distance. The county and parents of children to pay for special services.

The North Central Assn. for Retarded Children (NCARC) is under the guidance of the Nebraska State Assn. for Retarded Children (NSARC), which works to upgrade the well-being of Nebraska's retarded. Our state has ranked near the lowest for such care.

NSARC is helping to change this by encouraging legislation, and by getting the state organized into associations for regional promotion. They need more than miserly support. They and all regional associations are made

New Details About Soviet Spy Network Revealed by Writer

By Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — Anatoly Kuznetsov, the popular Soviet writer who defected while visiting Great Britain recently, has caused a major sensation in Western intelligence circles with his details of Kremlin intrigue and foreign operations.

The 39-year-old author, who had close contact with Soviet leaders for several years, has revealed that the KGB (the Soviet secret police) has agents in the highest levels of most Western governments — including Great Britain and the United States.

His startling revelations of this Communist penetration of the West, Kuznetsov reported, came from conversations with high-ranking Russian officials privy to KGB espionage and spy operations throughout the world.

As a member of the editorial board of the magazine Yuzost, which has a circulation of more than 2 million, Kuznetsov attended meetings at which top Kremlin planners frankly discussed Soviet plans to dominate the world.

"The long objective of the present Soviet leaders is to dominate the world," Kuznetsov told British intelligence officials during one debriefing session. "And they all agree that the U.S. is the only nation which can keep them from achieving this goal in their life time."

During high-level discussions about the war in Vietnam, Kuznetsov said, Russian officials stressed that it was in the Soviet Union's interest to keep the U.S. bogged down in North Vietnam so as to break the will of the American people to oppose Communism in the future.

Kuznetsov confirmed that many U.S. military officers have long contended that Russia as the major military supplier for North Vietnam could end the war tomorrow, if it wanted to, by cutting off supplies to Hanoi.

Foreign Operations

The most important thing to remember about Moscow's foreign policy, according to Kuznetsov, is that it is conceived by the Communist Party — not the Soviet government — and it is largely applied by the KGB (secret police) and GRU (military intelligence service).

Kuznetsov pointed out that these are really the organizations which carry out most of the activities abroad which are known in the West as "diplomacy." The combined membership of KGB and GRU, he said, is far larger than the roster of the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The GRU is subordinate to the Defense Ministry. The more significant KGB, which really applies major diplomatic policy, is administered by the Communist Party's Central Committee.

The work of KGB and GRU is enhanced, Kuznetsov stressed, by non-Russian agents in key Western positions. Known as "agents of influence" — persons working secretly for Moscow to influence decisions of their own government — these persons reportedly include parliamentarians, politicians, and ambassadors in several Western countries.

The Unused Weapon

These and other Kuznetsov revelations passed along by the British have had a tremendous

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

—dreaming—
With the realization of a returning dream, I find a smile and a moment of contentment. And then I remember that the heart that loves little things is blessed with deep content.

I think of all the little things you've said — after you leave. I wonder if you mean them now ... as much as you did then ... for what you said meant everything to me.

You are the song that whispers on the winds. You are the answer to my every prayer. You are the realization of every dream. And, sometimes I wonder — in the deep of night — if you really care and if now you ever think of me.

Each night the silver stars shine in the firmament on high ... and dreams of all that might have been drift across the velvet sky.

Without your love the world would echo only cries of pain ... the sun would shine only to show its grief ... flowers rare would lose their beauty and fade and die.

But because you love me I can soar to heights of fame ... to happiness my heart has never sought to claim.

Your love shall be a guide through twilight hours ... through storm's immortal seas. The twilight hours ... the evening song of birds ... the rustling midnight breeze. All these are there because you love me ... and you taught me to love. To every heart that seeks your praises, lend a verse ... and warm each chilling ember before it dies.

The last of all things to ever be forgotten is real love ... never to be forgotten.

Out of a dream your eyes truly spoke to me. They spoke of times that were past and days that had never been ... of sorrows and of secrets, too, of which you were a part.

Your eyes spoke a certain language that few others have ever known — of companionship ... love ... faith ... and they promised you would never go ... that you would never leave me.

And as I reached out to take your hand, your eyes spoke ever so clearly. They said, "This is yours ... here is my heart."

For the remainder of my days ... and all of my nights ... I will always be as close to you as you will allow me to be. Your smile will always light the way. Your touch will heal. My love has been bound and cured in the brine of tears.

To leave you? No ... never would I leave you. I love you too much.

A Horizontal View

ROCHESTER, Minn. — I'm seeing an entirely different aspect of life in Rochester this visit. Having been here several times before, I had an idea that I knew Mayo's inside and out.

The first time I came was about 1957, when I brought my husband Gene, and they diagnosed his trouble as emphysema. That was the first we had known of his problem, and they spent three weeks working him over, putting him off cigarettes and on oxygen.

They told him his expectancy was three years and six months, probably. They missed it by one month.

After surgery Sept. 4, I had the strange idea that all I had to do was recover. Not so. They promptly put me into a heck of an intensive therapy course, so that before other pains subsided they offered new ones.

All the time one foot remains in a weighted sling. But twice a day they toss me on a stretcher and speed me down to a physical therapy department.

There, a variety of patients with varied ailments go through stretching, bending, contortions of every kind.

A lovely 7-year-old boy who was badly mauled by an automobile shows by the scars on his head that he's been operated on repeatedly. Now they're attempting to help him coordinate his feet when he moves. At the present he tosses them carelessly, but soon he'll walk properly, trained between low parallel aluminum bars. Two young attendants hold him on either side and his doctor backs ahead, observing and encouraging him. The child never smiles.

There is a determined gray-haired lady who is recovering from her fourth hip operation — the first one was 30-odd years ago. The early operations sometimes did not hold.

She trots along briskly, her crutches making a positive rhythm.

There's a fellow who bravely had both hips operated on within two weeks. He's exercising his arms with pulleys, to be sure they'll be strong enough for crutches or cane.

A fellow from Florida went home today. He told me he'd been in Rochester for 12 weeks. I noticed he used a new artificial leg very neatly, walking with verve.

Yesterday was the busiest program ever run through the physical therapy department. They said there were 120 patients in all. Everyone was running.

As for myself, I get lifted onto a tilt-table. Then I get strapped on and wedged into place, one foot more than the other. Then they tip the table up, degree by degree. The pressures are terrific. I ache everywhere and I'm not even perpendicular yet.

Then I have to learn to walk with parallel hand rails. Then with something else. Then to climb stairs!

When I get fairly good at it all, I'll be home!

Meantime, your bed bound friend — that the North Korean military delegation was one of the largest to come to Moscow since the Korean War in the 1950s.

General Choe and his delegation were welcomed by Soviet Defense Minister Andrei Gromyko on national security affairs.

Several Soviet officers from the Far East defense command were also spotted at the airport for General Choe's arrival.

The North Korean military delegation's appearance in Moscow comes at a time when the Pyongyang regime has stepped up spreading reports that a new Korean war could break out at any time.

In an interview broadcast Sept. 11 over Radio Pyongyang, North Korean Premier Kim Il-Song went so far as to charge that the U.S. may launch a new war against North Korea at any moment.

This is the same type of phony charge that North Korea hurled at South Korea and the U.S. shortly before the Pyongyang regime launched its invasion of South Korea in 1950.

The full text of Kim Il-Song's interview, which the North Koreans have begun to circulate widely, is now being carefully studied by the President's advisers to determine if the new threat of war should be taken more seriously.

Dear Sir: Re your editorial "Legalizing Incompetence" I do not think the 74-year-old person failed four times behind the wheel but four times at the written exam. You are required to take the written test first and must pass this.

The 74-year-old probably did not have the schooling or has forgotten some of the rules, even though he may have refreshed himself studying the rule book. He may be a competent, reliable driver — yet can't get his license because of the written exam. Perhaps and usually he is a foreign-born and can read, but the reading ability is slightly limited. Many people at 74 can run tractors, garden, farm, etc. and needs a license to go shopping and visiting. I can see failing a person for poor eye-sight or poor driving, but not for failing the written exam alone. I believe that's what these lessons are for — to help pass the written exam. Mrs. Agnes P. Wadas Ord, Nebr. 68862

Come to Church

This Week's Meditation (Read Romans 5:1-5) Think of a ship: big as it is, and driven by such strong winds, it can be steered by a very small rudder... Just think: how large a forest can be set on fire by a tiny flame! (James 3:4-5, TEV) Jesus at great importance on little things: the widow's mite, the lost coin, the mustard seed. He used such things as these to reveal and remind us of God's love and will. What value do we place on little things? How important are they? One evening as I was ironing, our four-year-old son came in the room and began making shadows on the wall with his hands. As he made each one, he would ask me to look — at the bird, or dog, or whatever he was trying to portray. Then suddenly instead of asking me to look, he spoke to God and said, "Thank You, God, for shadows." To this small child shadows were important. They drew him near to God in thankfulness. Our own lives may be filled with many shadows. If we draw near to God, He will illumine them with His purpose. Then we, too, will thank God for shadows. PRAYER: Our Father, our hearts are grateful to Thee for everything in life. For the gift of children, who fill our lives with laughter and challenge us to grow like them, we give Thee thanks. Keep us in Thy love, we pray. Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY Do I let everyday things speak to me about God? Clara T. Ellis (North Carolina) COPYRIGHT — THE UPPER ROOM

Parkview Village Plums

Mrs. Bazant Paints House Herself at Age 85

By Berenice Cornell
Mrs. Anna Bazant, who lives just south of Parkview on the highway, has just finished painting her one-story house from the foundation to the eaves. Mrs. Bazant is past 85 years young. She says she can't do as much work as she used to — she gets tired. Wonder why?

Enjoy Sights in London
Juanita Christian heard from her daughter, Mrs. Victor LeVine. The LeVine family left St. Louis, Mo., the latter part of August on their way to Africa. When Mrs. LeVine wrote, they were in London and were enjoying being there again and visiting friends. The two children were impressed when they got to see the changing of the guard. The LeVines should have reached Africa Saturday.

Walter Holmes of North Loup and Mrs. Katie Palser at the hospital Sunday. She also stayed for the church service in the long-term wing. Mrs. Holmes is a daughter of Will Benson.

Asters Take Spotlight
Asters are the main flower at present. Beauties are at Stephanie Zebert's, Mary Cetak's, Emma Zablouidil's, Gladys Walker's, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janulewicz, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hackett's, Eva Robertson's, and Mena Jorgensen's. Quite a few Parkview residents have pretty geraniums too, and Marguerite West and Edna Hackett are the rose growers with hybrids. Edna recently had a pink peace rose six inches in diameter, and Marguerite was not far behind with a deep red.

Visits at Hospital
Berenice Cornell called on Mrs.

Plymouth CHRYSLER

Here's 1970.

Plymouth makes it

1970 Hemi-Cuda.
This year, there are 10 new Barracudas. And we've changed the looks substantially. (We've packed a 426 Hemi engine under a "Shaker" hood on one of them and called it the Hemi-Cuda.)
However you look at it, our Barracuda is all-new. We've moved it two inches closer to the ground. Pushed the wheels farther apart on our standard torsion-bar suspension. Put a tough optional bumper on the front that comes in most paint colors. And given the interior the design and comfort of a jet cockpit. If you want a car that makes it . . . Plymouth makes it.

1970 Sport Fury Brougham.
Here's our luxury model. (One of 28 Fury models with a new wide stance.) It's big enough inside to carry six adults in comfort. It's plush. But the price is still Plymouth. With a front seat that has individual adjustments for the driver and passenger, center armrests, and a reclining back on the passenger's side. Of course, the carpeting is thick, the headlights are hidden, and the price is still Plymouth.
Whether you like your luxury in small packages, or as big as a 1970 Sport Fury . . . Plymouth makes it.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
County Court of Valley County, Nebraska, Estate of Gladys M. Patsch, Deceased, September 1962.
THE STATE OF NEBRASKA, TO ALL CONCERNED: Notice is hereby given that all persons interested in said Estate, both creditors and heirs: You are hereby notified that on the 19th day of September, 1962, a Petition was filed herein asking for the Probate of the Last Will and Testament of Lena L. Dowhower, also known as Lena L. Dowhower and Lena Dowhower, deceased, resident of Santa Barbara County, California, who died testate on the 26th day of July, 1964, and an individual one-third (1/3) interest in the following described real estate in this county, to-wit: The Southeast Quarter of Section Twenty-Two, Township 20 North, Range 15, West of the 6th P.M. in Valley County, Nebraska. The North Half of the Southeast Quarter of Section Thirty-Six, except the railroad right-of-way and except any part thereof heretofore duly conveyed to the State of Nebraska for use as a public road, and that part of the Northeast Quarter, described as follows: Beginning at a point on the west line of the Northeast Quarter where the south line of the right-of-way of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy R.R. Company, sometimes also referred to as the L. & N. intersects said quarter section line and running thence south 100 rods 16 feet to the Southwest corner of said quarter section, thence east on the south line of said quarter section 80 rods to the said right-of-way line, thence in a northwesterly direction along said right-of-way line to the place of beginning, except any part thereof heretofore conveyed to the State of Nebraska for use as a public highway, all in Section Thirty-Six, in Township 20 North, Range 15, West of the 6th P.M., all in Valley County, Nebraska, in which the Petitioner claims an undivided 2/3 interest therein. The Petitioner prays that the regular administration of said Estate be dispensed with and for a finding and decree that said Estate descended free of all debts against the Decedent and for an assignment of the Estate under provisions of the Will and Codicil of the Decedent and for each other relief as may be just and equitable. Said matter has been set for hearing on the 19th day of October, 1962 at the hour of 10 o'clock A.M. Dated this 19th day of September, 1962.
