Second row shows Harry Walahoski, treasurer; Mike Jackson, reporter; Larry Wagner, parliamentarian; and Brad Struckman, sentinel. Representing the chapter at a state range camp will be Albert Hruza, Bryan Mentzer, Lynn Sevenker, and Randy Gydesen. Annual parents and son banquet will be in May.

Postal Director Administers Oath

Roland R. Norman was sworn in as postmaster of Ord by J. F. Applegate, acting director of the Wichita Postal Service region in ceremonies in Ord postoffice Tuesday afternoon.

Present at the ceremonies were Leslie DeLashmutt, postmaster at Burwell; Grace Armstrong, postmaster at Arcadia; Opal Beebe, postmaster at North Loup; Joyce Bartu, postmaster at Comstock, and E. P. Kapustka, postmaster of Elyria.

Mrs. Roland Norman was also present to see her husband receive the certificate of his new office and to hear the repeating of the oath of allegiance to the Constitution.

Mr. Applegate mentioned that under the new postal organization, merit appointments are the key to advancement and that any employee can seek to better himself in the system. He asked the postmasters present to consider whether they would accept openings in larger communities in this area, and stated they would Mike Spear, shown above, is the new manager of Lee's Variety store in Ord, coming here from Grand Island, where he was store supervisor for the Newberry company for the past year. He also had service in an Aberdeen, S.D., store. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Spear who are farming near Turton, S.D. He has asked all present and former customers of the Lee store to stop in, so he may pay his respects to them.

School Mediators Cite Ten Persons

Five names have been submitted by both mediators in the Ord teacher salary impasse and if the mediators can agree on any of the 10 persons as the third member of their group, the salary question can be decided.

Former Mayor Gus Schoenstein of Ord and Richard Halama, Nebraska Educational Association are the two primary mediators. Each has submitted a list of five names to the other.

How soon a decision can be reached is not known at this time.

Trout have large, globular eyes, which give them excellent vision in the underwater environment.

THURSDAY EVENINGS

Ord stores will be open every Thursday, starting Apr. 1, until 9 p.m., according to the Retail Trades committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce. Thursday openings will continue through Christmas.

April Fool's Day promotion will be featured this week in all Ord stores and drawings for door prizes are planned. Live music around the courthouse square is planned with accordion and tuba players being there from 7 to 9 p.m.

Eldon Mulligan is director of the Retail Trades Committee.

Chamber Parking Committee Report

The parking committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce met Monday evening, to discuss a recent downtown parking survey. Ray Marshall is chairman.

A proposal was made and unanimously approved to ask employers and employees from businesses "around the square" to park on the inside of the square (cars facing the courthouse) to provide immediate relief while the survey remains under study.

Considerable progress was reported in finding suitable off-street parking. The parking committee voted to present a resolution to the Ord City Council at its next regular meeting, asking that 6½ blocks of downtown alleys be resurfaced to facilitate future off-street parking needs, drainage, cleanliness, general appearance and practical usage to our city.

Several other subjects are under careful study and will be reported at a later date. Next meeting of the committee will be in the Chamber of Commerce offices Apr. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Nebraskaland Tour Will Include Ord's Fort Hartsuff on June 19

Ord will be one of the stops in a five-day Nebraskaland sponsored tour starting June 19, it has been announced by John Sanders, tour manager, at Auburn newspapers, Auburn.

Fort Hartsuff will be the Valley County attraction and this is the first state-wide promotion that will benefit Ord following the creation of a historic park at Fort Hartsuff and the placing of a full-time park superintendent there. Other such Nebraskaland tours have included Ord

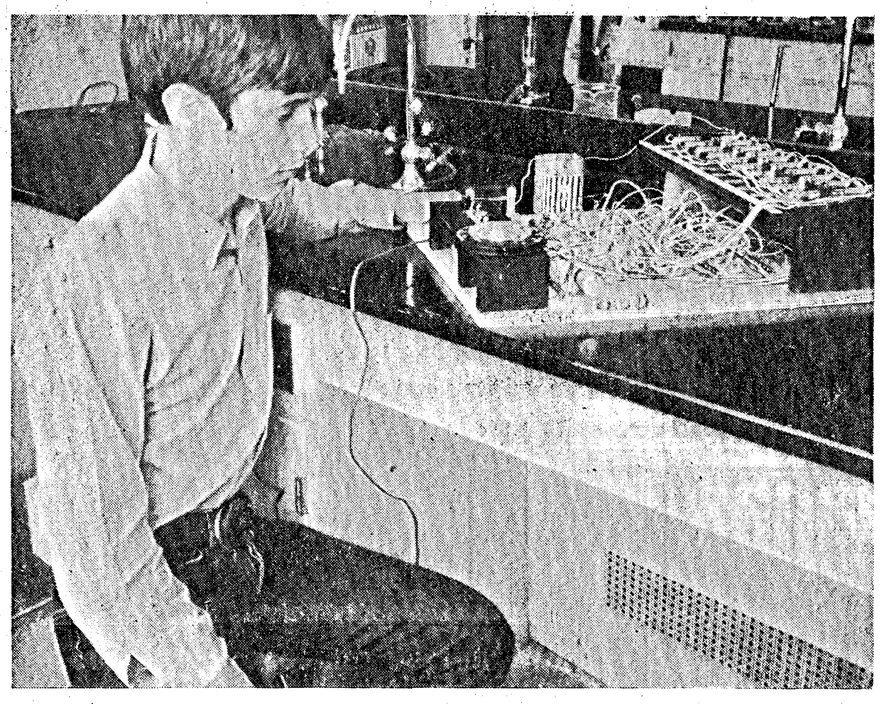
Participants in the tour will ride in an air-conditioned bus by day and stay in modern motels by night. They will see the museum of the sunken steamer "Bertrand" and Devil's Nest in northeastern Nebraska. Devil's Nest was reputedly a hideout of the Jesse James gang.

Indian dancing at Macy, a Swedish festival at Stromsburg, Nebraska national forest at Halsey, Arbor lodge at Nebraska City, the "Belle of Brownville," and a Czech dinner at Wilber, Nebraska's Czech capital.

Charlie Chace will guide the expedition, the eighth annual Nebraskaland foundation tour. April issue of Nebraskaland has more details of the tour saying, "Come and see the real Nebraska of history-rich landscapes, small-town hospitality, and varied cultural flavors. This five-day tour will take you to the land of Lewis and Clark, the homesteaders, and the cowboys."

Costs of the tour will be $110, which will cover transportation, meals and lodging.

Victor Leonard, park superintendent, says he will meet the travelers and interpret the history of the park to them. Whether the group would stay overnight in the Ord vicinity is not known, as they will make two or three other stops in a day.



Computer Processing Section Wins at Science Fair

Jim Kapustka, a senior at Ord high school, won the grand prize at the science fair staged in girl's gymnasium Mar. 25. He built a processing section of a digital computer and used a telephone dial as an input source. It has 20 transistors, 34 diodes, and 8 resistors. Lights on top of the horizontal panel at right go on to indicate how telephoned instructions would be fed into a memory bank of a regular computer. He did not construct a memory bank. Jim is planning on electrical engineering in college.

Drug Raid Involves 24, County Attorney Relates

Acting upon information provided by reliable informants, and a search warrant issued pursuant thereto by Valley County Judge Rollin Dye to Valley County Sheriff, Clarence Fox, a successful search for and seizure of contraband was carried out at a residence located in Northeast Ord, Nebraska, where a party was in progress shortly after 12:00 A.M., Sunday Morning, March 28, 1971.

24 persons including some minors were interviewed and released pending investigation. Minors were released to their parents and the others were released in their own custody pending that investigation.

A small quantity of contraband determined by the investigators to be cannabis commonly known as marijuana was found on said premises and is being analyzed for content.

The search and seizure was conducted by members of the Valley County Sheriff's office, the Ord Police Department and the Nebraska State Highway Patrol.

It has been decided that there will be at least one juvenile court case which will result and also an adult court trial. Preliminary investigations only have been made so far and much more thorough investigation is in process.

Search warrant was secured through an informant who advised V. C. Omer of the State Highway Patrol of the planned events late Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

The warrant states that the raid was necessary to discover and seize dangerous and narcotic drugs. Pep pills used at the party was also cited as a possibility in the search warrant.

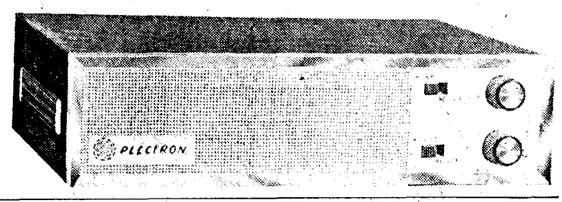
Thomas E. Furtak of Ord has been elected to the national scholarship society, Phi Beta Kappa national liberal arts and science honorary fraternity. Membership in the society is one of the top honors any student can achieve.

He is majoring in physics at the University of Nebraska, and has minors in mathematics and Reserve Officer Training Corps. He has made almost a straight A average. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Furtak.

He is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Pi Mu Epsilon fraternities, won rating as distinguished military student and won honors at convocation four years.

He will be one of 55 students to be presented for membership in Phi Beta Kappa at a banquet in Nebr. Union April 21. Guest speaker will be Dr. Herbert Schiller, research professor of economics and communications at University of California at San Diego.

The black-tailed prairie dog was once found in all of Nebraska except the extreme eastern part.



A new frequency-modulated radio receiver, tuned to Ord fire department wavelength, has been given Valley county hospital by the department. It automatically operates when any of three fire trucks or the Ord ambulance transmits to it, and thus, the hospital can be ready ahead of time when victims of fires or accidents are being brought in. Cost of the unit was $150. An all-level tiltable cot also has been given the hospital by the department, which cost $256. In photo are shown, left to right, Duane Wolfe, hospital administrator; Rich Klimek, secretary-treasurer, who installed the receiver; and Ivan Sorensen, Ord fire chief. A closeup of the receiver is also shown.

ORD ENLISTMENT

William A. Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Beard of 2121 L St., Ord, recently enlisted in the Air Force. William is presently attending 6 weeks at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Texas, prior to being assigned to his permanent base. He enlisted in the Air Force General Field. He graduated from the Ord HS in 1969.

Speaking Contest In Ord Saturday

The Valley County 4-H public speaking contest will be Saturday in the court house starting at 11 a.m., according to John Schade, county agent.

There are four participants registered in the Junior division: Sandra Svoboda "There's More to 4-H Than Ribbons;" Christine Conner, "My Best Friend;" Joan Schade, "Thanksgiving Supper," and Danette Nolte, "What is 4-H?"

In the Senior division, the two contestants registered, are Kathy Waldmann "4-H and Today's Youth," and Paul Wojtasek, "Our World of Happiness."

Senior contestants will be vying for a trip to the district contest which is scheduled for Apr. 17 at Halsey. The contest for all 4-H members is sponsored by radio station KFAB at Omaha.

Charl Schutte, Exchange Student

Among exchange students at Ord High School in prior years was Charl Schutte of South Africa, who was here in 1963 and was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke. His name was not included in the list of earlier exchange students published in the Ord Quiz last week. Eeva Karhi of Finland will be the exchange student for the next school year.

Legion Honors Peterson, Krcilek

Dale Peterson of Ord has been named Boy's Stater by the American Legion post with Charles Krcilek chosen as alternate. They will attend sessions in model government at Lincoln early in June. Both are members of the Junior class at Ord High.

Dale is a top student in the Junior class, has been active in 4-H projects for seven years, has been a football letterman and track letterman for three years; has been active in intra-mural sports, president of his class as a sophomore; is a member of the letterman's club, and has worked on Future Farmer of America projects for three years.

Charles has been a member of FFA for three years and served as president; has been a member of 4-H club since he was nine years old and also served as president and junior leader member. He was a member of the football squad in his freshman year, and competed in intramural sports three years. He also was in the Junior class play which was recently staged. He is also an honor-roll student.

band and chorus.

Friday will see the presentation of co-operative awards and Union Pacific scholarships, farm safety awards, Ak-Sar-Ben awards, and awards for nine proficiency areas. Official convention banquet will be Friday evening, also.

Saturday will see installation of new officers, and results of yo-ag competition.

Bob Peterson of Burwell is a state officer: namely central area chairman.

Three awards have already been announced from the state convention headquarters. Dean Vancura, Allen Cahill and Dale Baldwin have been named state farmers.

This is one of the highest awards a FFA youth can achieve. He has to be an active member for at least two years, and have the degree of chapter farmer. He must be able to lead group discussions of at least 40 minutes, and must have earned at least $500 in farm projects.

He also has to demonstrate proficiency in parliamentary procedures, be familiar with state and national constitutions of the FFA, have an outstanding supervised farming project and be regularly enrolled in a vocational agriculture class.

Dean had the following production projects: eight beef breeding cows, five yearling beef feeders and five beef fattening calves. Allen had 20 head of stocker feeder calves, four head of beef breeding cattle, 50 head of market geese, 300 head of market broilers and 150 laying hens. Dale had three beef breeding animals, five in dairy, 20 beef fattening steers, 20 acres of alfalfa production and 20 acres of corn.

Cynthia Marco Becomes Mrs. Dennis Lane In Methodist Rites at Arcadia Church

A Mar. 20 ceremony united Cynthia Lou Marco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max E. Marco of Arcadia, and Dennis Owen Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Lane of Newport, in marriage. Rev. Robert Hopkins officiated at the 7 p.m. candlelight service at the United Methodist Church in Arcadia, before an altar decorated with white carnations and pink roses.

Organ music was furnished by Mrs. Doris Hill of Arcadia who accompanied Mrs. Lynn Elliott of Arcadia as she sang "The Wedding Prayer", and Charles Gould of Kearney as he sang "We've Only Just Begun". Both sang a duet of "Let It Be Me".

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of sheer flocked batiste. The bodice was styled in an empire line with a high collar encircled with lace and short puffed sleeves. She carried a cascade of pink roses.

Maid of honor was Gale Craghan of Bassett. Sally Marco, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore empire styled gowns in pink with short sleeves. The dresses were trimmed in pink velvet ribbon. They each carried a single long-stemmed rose.

Kerry D. Pickinpaugh of Newport served as best man. Larry Lane, brother of the groom, of Grand Island was groomsman. Ushers were Robert Doke of Newport and Charles Fuller on leave from the U.S. Army.

Candlelighters were Paula Opfer of Fairmont and Melodee Brown of Atkinson, cousins of the bride and groom. Phyllis Lane of Grand Island registered the guests. Lana Fletcher of North Platte and Nancy Braun of Norfolk served the punch and coffee. The cake was cut by Beryl McLain of Bassett. Mary Jo Thompson, Lincoln, cousin of the bride, Mary Anne Gould, Kearney and Patty Carlson, Bassett were at the gift table.

The couple will make their home at Newport, Nebr. The bride is employed at the Rock County Hospital in Bassett; the groom is employed on the Rex Arrowsmith Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Kooiker and daughter Stacy of Cherokee, Ia. were over-the-weekend houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dunbar and JoAnne.

Dinner guests, Sunday, of Mrs. Alice Dunlap were Mrs. William Novosad, Sr., and her granddaughters, Denise Novosad and Susan Severson.

Musical Presentation Event at North Loup

The North Loup Youth Fellowship will present the musical "Life", a young world production written by Otis Skillings, Sunday afternoon at the Seventh Day Baptist Church of North Loup.

The 3 p.m. presentation will be under the direction of Mrs. Jeneane Abel with Mrs. Marian Soper assisting at the piano.

Members of the local congregation and friends from the surrounding communities are invited to attend. Sponsors of the production feel that Life can be an illuminating experience and a call to Christian commitment.

Joyce . . . a bride elect

Joyce Ann Nelson Will Be A Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Les Nelson announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Ann, to Wayne Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Erickson of Greenwood.

Miss Nelson is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron Nu, home economics honoraries, and Mortar Board.

Mr. Erickson was graduated from the University of Nebraska and is currently teaching in the Tekamah - Herman Public Schools.

The couple plan to be married this summer.

Lory Garnick

Phi Upsilon Omicron Selects Lory Garnick

Lory Garnick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garnick of Ord, was recently initiated into Xi Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron, professional home economics honorary at the University of Nebraska. Selection for membership is based on scholarship, leadership and professional potential.

Lory, a junior at the university, is currently serving as treasurer of All University Fund organizations, parliamentarian of the Home Economics Club, chairman of the University Red Cross Chapter, vice-president of Chi Omega Sorority, and is a member of the University P.E.O. Chapter.

Large Crowd Attends Spring Style Review

"Spring Fever Night" was the theme of the V.F.W. Auxiliary's style show held last Friday evening. A colorful Easter motif was used in decorations at the Veterans Club lower level where a large crowd gathered to view-up-to-the-minute fashions from The Carousel and The Classic. About 30 models took part in the fashion parade.

Jean Smith acted as narrator for the 8 o'clock style show and special music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCready.

Proceeds will go toward purchasing needed furnishings for the Ord Veterans Club.

Burwell, Ericson Holy Week Schedule

The Holy Week schedule for Sacred Heart Church of Burwell will begin at 8 a.m., on Palm Sunday with Blessing and Distribution of Palms in the Parish Center followed by a procession and Mass. On Holy Thursday at 7 p.m., Mass of the Last Supper will be offered.

At St. Theresa's Church in Ericson, where Father Hubert Spanel is also the pastor, there will be Blessing and Distribution of Palms at 10 a.m., on Palm Sunday followed by Mass. On Holy Thursday, Mass of the Last Supper will be offered at 8:30 p.m.

Confessions at the Burwell church will be from noon Friday to 1 p.m. Saturday and before a Saturday evening Mass; at the Ericson church confessions will be heard before all services.

In Memoriam

EDWARD ADAMEK

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, who passed away five years ago, April 6, 1966.

There is a home that lies beyond and past its golden door awaits the one who's now away not lost — just gone before.

And in that home that lies beyond the Master will prepare a place for us, and when He calls we'll meet our loved one there.

The 2:30 to 5 p.m. reception was hosted by their children and grandchildren. They are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund (Vesta) Huffman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Lange and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Lange and family all of (Wilma) Loseke and family of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Geraldine) Uden and family of Juniata and Mr. and Mrs. David (Carol) Uden and family of Milwaukee, Wis.

The serving table was decorated with an arrangement of yellow roses in a black compote accented by gold candles. Presiding at the table were Mrs. George Clement, Mrs. Leonora Veskerna, Mrs. Walter Foth and Mrs. Hubert Hayes.

A special table displaying portraits of the honored couple, their children and grandchildren was a focal point of the festive gathering as was a family tree portraying the family history, supplemented with snapshots which their daughter Carol had created. Another added attraction was a large bulletin board covered with gold colored net on which the cards were attractively arranged — this was the idea of their daughter Vesta.

Granddaughters had charge of the guest book and handed out rememberance cards.

Among the special guests were a close friend of the honorees, Mrs. Helen Jacobsen of Pacific Grove, Calif.; relatives Mr. and Mrs. Russell Acton of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Vernon Grauer and family of Marcus, Ia. Others attending were from Lincoln, Grand Island, Columbus, Hasloup, Arcadia, Cotesfield and Ord. Special telephone calls conveying "best wishes" came from Mrs. Lena Wiegands of Bell, Calif. and from the Lange's daughter Carol and family — the David Udens in Milwaukee, Wis. — who were unable to be present for the memorable occasion.

Ernest Lange and Esther Bredthauer were married Mar. 28, 1921. They lived all their married life in the Mira Valley community until moving to Ord about two years ago.

Carol's Corner by carol leggett

April Fool's Day is a real fun time in some homes and I hope yours is one of them. The children love it, and we need a gay touch added some days, we all do.

I'll bet if you'd put your mind to it you could think of someone whom you consider a Champion celebrator on April Fool's Day — and the witty stunts they've played.

Sometimes I wonder if April fooling has lost momentum with the years. I hope not. We can't be so busy as to not have a little fun, too, but do kids still April fool with the old stand-bys "your slip is showing" which in a few minutes follows with "there's a bug on your shoulder" or "your shoe is untied!"

Once I devilishly fixed a tray of sandwiches for lunch on April Fool's Day, substituting one neatly folded paper napkin for each slice of meat. A camouflage of crisp lettuce and a heap of mayonnaise was included. Would you believe, the family gulped down several sandwiches before realizing the difference? They did! Then came the hurt feelings and sounds of "Why Mom, I didn't think you'd do that to us!"

—O—

Did you question, at all, where the Junior Class might have found that sad-looking sofa and arm chair used on stage for Tuesday night's performance? It was MY furniture and that's no April Fool's joke!

Strange things take place when your teenager is on the Props committee. A polite group (travelling in a pack of four) called at our home one night last week and began moving furniture out of our family room and onto a truck. And before I could say "Great Heavens, I'll be sitting on the floor" — I was!

—O—

A delectable treat that's sure to please the family, and guests as well is this one for Petite Cherry Cheesecakes. The recipe calls for 2 8-ounce packages Cream Cheese, softened; 3/4 c. sugar; 2 eggs; 1 T. lemon juice; 1 t. vanilla; vanilla wafers and 1 (1 pound 5 ounce) can Cherry Pie filling.

Beat cream cheese and sugar, eggs, lemon juice and vanilla until light and fluffy. Line small muffin pans with 24 paper baking cups; place a vanilla wafer in bottom of each. Fill cups 2/3 full with cheese mixture. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or just till set. Top each with about 1 T. cherry pie filling. Chill. Makes 2 dozen cakes.

Blanche Urbanovsky Honored at Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Blanche Urbanovsky was a Sunday event at the Veterans Club lower level. Sixty - eight friends and relatives from Ord, North Loup, Burwell, Lincoln, Bloomfield and Elyria attended the mid-afternoon courtesy.

The bride's colors of pink and white were carried out in the party decorations. Several games were played before the honoree unwrapped her gifts. A green swag lamp, suitable for living room hanging was given to Miss Urbanovsky by hostesses Sharon Bogus, Wilma Drudik, Penny Erikson, Mary Lou Koll, Janet Psota, Linda Sell, Margaret Thompson and Olga Michalski.

Special guests with the honored one were her mother, Mrs. J. W. Urbanovsky and her future, mother-in-law, Mrs. Sylvester Wadas.

Miss Urbanovsky will wed Paul Wadas, Apr. 24, at the Ord Catholic Church.

Mira Valley Church Plans Prayer Service

Mark your calendar! The Rev. Doyle Hayes of the First United Methodist Church in Grand Island will be conducting special services in the Mira Valley United Methodist Church Apr. 11 through Apr. 15.

The meetings will begin at 8 o'clock each evening. The public is invited to attend these inspirational services.

At NU Honors Event

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lukesh and family spent Tuesday in Lincoln where they visited their son Jim, a student at the university and also attended the annual Honors Convocation at the University of Nebraska coliseum.

Jim was among those students recognized for high scholarship for the 1970-71 school year. He is a junior in Teacher's College, majoring in history and political science.

Six Towns in Boxing Meet

Golfers Invading Loup City Monday

First golf meet of the season will be Monday when the varsity Ord team goes into action at Loup City at 1:30 p.m. This will be followed by a four school invitational meet at Ord Apr. 16 when Albion, Broken Bow and St. Paul compete.

Lettermen on the Ord squad this year are Leon Brechbill and Steve Todsen. Squad members include Paul Markley and Dan Jones, junior class; Ed Gibbons, sophomore; and Tim Todsen, Doug Wolf, Kip Leggett, Dick Severson and Bill Misko, freshmen.

Season schedule has a meet at Central City, Apr. 19; O'Neill tournament Apr. 22; Ord at St. Paul Apr. 26; Central Ten tourney at Seward May 1; at Broken Bow May 5; Loup City at Ord May 7; and the district golf meet at Albion May 13th.

Ord Jaycees Win Second in State

Ord Jaycees won second in the Nebraska Jaycee state B-B gun competition at St. Paul Saturday placing behind Hastings, but ahead of LaVista, St. Paul, Alliance, Omaha, Valentine, Millard, Broken Bow, Fremont, North Sarpy county, and Holdrege.

Individual honors went to 18 shooters, with Hastings shooters winning most of the awards. Terri Kriewald of Ord came in fourth place kneeling.

For Ord, Mike Kriewald had 283 total, Troy Witherwax had 312, Dale Neel 299, Terri Kriewald 329, Scott Bredthauer 338; Ann Kusek was alternate for Ord. Competition was in prone, sitting, kneeling and standing positions.

A boxing smoker at St. Mary's grade school gymnasium, open to women, children as well as men will see boxers from six towns in action Saturday night at 8 p.m. This is sponsored by the Ord Box Club, of which Dan Klimek, Joe Shafer, and Dennis Proskocil are coaches.

Boys will be in action from ages of eight to 15 and from Ord, Valentine, Loup City, Broken Bow, Central City and Grand Island. 18 boys will be in competition from Ord, and about 50 from other communities.

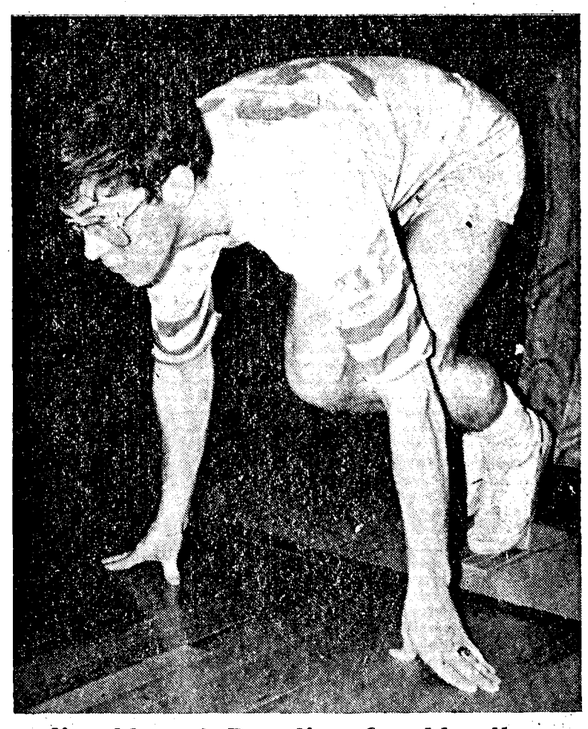
They will be matched by weight and experience and about 25 matches are expected to be arranged. More will be fought, if available youth are present.

A ring will be erected in the center of the gym floor and seats arranged around all four sides. Referee will be Skeet Cobb of Grand Island, an approved Golden Gloves tournament referee. Timekeeper will be Duane Schernikau of Ord; Don Blaha will be announcer.

Judges will be John Smedra of Ord, Jack Guthrie of Kearney, and Freddie Meyer, Sargent.

Each contestant will fight three one-minute rounds and all gloves will be 10 ounce weight. All contestants will receive a trophy, donated by Ord merchants. Each winner will get an 11 inch trophy.

Boxing with junior class youth is new in Nebraska and has been in operation for two years. It began with junior exhibitions at Golden Glove tournaments and was so well received, special showings now are being promoted. For next year, the State Junior Boxing Association will have four districts in Nebraska, and Ord has been proposed as one district headquarters. Dr. Wayne Weston of Lexington is president and Dan Klimek of Ord is on the state board of directors.



Jim Naeve Readies for Hurdles

Jim Naeve, shown above readying for a start, is expected to be one of the bright stars of the Ord high school track team this season. He will run the low hurdles, the broad jump and probably will be on the mile relay team.

Baseball League Names Ferguson as President; Scott Will be Secretary

Virgil Ferguson, Scotia, was re-elected President of the North Central Legion baseball league at its annual meeting March 23, at the Ansley Legion hall. Ed Scott, Ansley, Nebr., was elected to the position of secretary-treasurer as Dr. Wallace, Broken Bow, declined the nomination.

The League adopted most of the rules and regulations of the previous year. Two rule changes were made: Admission mission to League games this year will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for junior high and high school students. All teams are required to complete their regular scheduled games to be eligible for trophies. However, an allowance of two games during the season will be allowed as credit if they can not be played because of rain by the final date of the season — July 18. The host team is required to notify the president of the results of all games completed.

Pitch, Hit, Throw Contest for Boys

A pitch, hit and throw competition will be staged in Ord by the Ord Phillips 66 Station with 20 to 30 youths expected to take part in the competition. The event will be on the city baseball field.

Boys, 9 to 12, are elfgible and registration is open until May 20th. Local champions will be determined May 28. Winners will go to district events and then on to regional contests. National championships will be determined at the big league All-Star game in Detroit July 13.

Each boy competes with those of his own age in pitching from the mound for accuracy of control, hitting, and throwing to home place from center field. Delmer Lonowski of Ord is in charge.

Mrs. Ferris Enjoys Winter in California

Mrs. Loraine Ferris returned home Saturday afternoon by bus after a winter vacation in Santa Rosa, Calif. with her daughter and family, the Dale Axthelms.

Mrs. Ferris left Ord Dec. 17 going first to Lincoln where she was a houseguest of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGinnis. Two days later, Dr. and Mrs. McGinnis took her to Omaha where she boarded a plane for San Francisco. This was the first plane ride for Mrs. Ferris. While in Santa Rosa, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Ferris of North Bend, Ore. were added visitors of Mrs. Ferris.

Leaving Santa Rosa on Mar. 11, homeward bound, Mrs. Ferris stopped in Holbrook, Ariz. to visit a niece and family, the Roy Johnsons. Her next stop was in Albuquerque, N.M. to see Mrs. Nettie Thill and Margaret Whalley. Mrs. Thill asked to be remembered to her many Ord friends. In Pueblo, Colo. Mrs. Ferris visited two cousins whom she had not seen since girlhood days.

Winter weather closed in at Cheyenne, Wyo. and the remainder of the journey — to Grand Island — a snow storm accompanied them much of the way. In Grand Island, Mrs. Ferris was a guest of Mrs. Ada Bossen before returning to Ord.

Weekend Guests

Mrs. Josie Moller of Wichita, Kan., Mrs. Mollie Horak and Adela Vnuk of Fremont arrived in Ord, Sunday, to visit Mrs. Clara Krahulik. They were overnight houseguests and returned to their homes Monday. Mrs. Krahulik entertained her guests at dinner, Sunday, at the Veterans Club. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ruzicka, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mottl and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Krahulik called at the Krahulik home to visit the out-of-town relatives.

Jane Gogan accompanied Mrs. Helen Beran to Grand Island, Sunday, for an afternoon visit with Mr. and Mrs. Junior Dilla and family.

Anniversary Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Syl Micek and Susan were dinner guests, Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rayno. Mrs. Rayno is the former Carolyn Drudik. Dennis Micek, a student at Kearney State College, was also a guest as was Mrs. John Rayno, Sr., and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Rayno, Jr., Kelly and Michael.

The first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Don Rayno was celebrated.

Nebraska Aims for Undefeated Season Again in 1971 – Tagge

Nebraska's Big Red National Football Championship will be on the line next fall as teams throughout America scramble for the coveted ranking.

But, according to varsity quarterback Jerry Tagge, wh ospoke at the "Go, Big Red" banquet in St. Mary's School Auditorium Saturday evening, the team has a good chance to put together another undefeated season.

18 offensive team lettermen out of 27 will be returning, and 20 blackshirt defensive players who lettered will be back out of 27 from last fall's squad.

Left tackle is the most critical loss through graduation and the second vital need is a star place kicker, as regards the offensive unit. Defensive unit needs a middle guard, right tackle, and line backer.

Jerry came to Ord for the dinner with Mike Beran of Ord, 228-pound letterman offensive guard, who will be a junior next fall. Mike is expected to be a varsity substitute. Jerry made the winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl game at Miami, which he rated as his most important play of the season. He was stopped on a quarterback sneak through the line, but pushed the ball out ahead of him as he fell back and this was enough to get it over the goal line. The play started from the one yard line and Nebraska was behind at that point. Final score was 17 to 12.

Key to Nebraska's amazing winning record last year and the lifetime average of head coach Bob Devaney, 79-18, is due to his thorough knowledge of the game, and thorough organization of duties. Nebraska has a kicking coach, offensive line, offensive backs, offensive receivers, defensive line, linebacker, defensive ends and line, defensive backs, head frosh and assistant frosh coach. As a result of intensive work with individual players, the team has been able to excel on the field. Pride and determination in performance on the field is also a Devaney slogan for his players.

In his talk, Jerry advised students: "Get yourself a dream; give of yourself to someone else; develop a good sense of humor and every day will be brighter.

"My experiences as a member of the Nebraska squad have been the finest of my life. Athletics can help anyone develop qualities of teamwork, habits of health and the will to win."

He said he plans on trying for professional athletics after his college days are over.

Mike said, after the banquet was over, the greatest thing that happened to him was making the Orange Bowl trip last year. The victory was a great team effort and he said such games are typical of Devaney's coaching. Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Beran of Ord. Mr. Beran works at the Ord postoffice.

The dinner Saturday was sponsored by the Altar Society of the church. Dale Melia was master of ceremonies.

Arcadia Opening In Track Apr. 7

Arcadia High School will open its spring track season with Burwell in the Wrangler Relays Wednesday, Arp. 7, and then travel to Ord for the invitational Apr. 16th.

Arcadia will also compete in an invitational tourney at Loup City, Apr. 21, and then take part in Cedar Valley conference meet, which is tentatively set for Greeley Apr. 27th. District meet will be at Lexington May 12th.

Returning lettermen include six seniors: Reed Brown, shot and discus; Mike Chelewski, hurdles, broad jump and high jump; Marv Dorsey, broad jump; Alvin Johnson, shot and discus; Jim Sahlie, sprints; and Duane Scott, distance events.

Other squad members include sophomores: Richard Hawley, middle distance runs; Alan Luedtke, hurdles and high jump; Mike Owens, distance events; and freshmen: Rick Hawley, Curt Nagel, Bill Staab, and Norman Summers.

Duane was chosen most valuable player in 1969 by the Arcadia lettermen's club, but last year was slowed by a knee injury. Mike Chelewski was a qualifier for the state track meet last year in the hurdles. Both of these men are expected to star for Arcadia this spring.

This will be the main sport for Arcadia students this spring as there will be no baseball or golf teams.

Easiest way yet to put on Nitrogen!

No bags to lift, no special pressure tanks are needed for applying Gulf Ura-Greeen*! Gulf Ura-Greeen is a non-pressure nitrogen solution and can be applied with any tank equipment. It does not require deep soil injection—can be sprayed or dribbled on. Goes on faster because there are fewer stops for refilling! You can apply Ura-Greeen yourself, or we will apply it for you!

Gulf Ura-Greeen contains three types of nitrogen to "feed" your crops all through the growing season! Ura-Greeen is recommended for corn, cotton, small grains, pastures, sorghums, millet, sudan grass, rice, cabbage, tomatoes, sugar beets, grass, hay and most other crops. Ura-Greeen can be used as a plow-down application, as a top-dressing, or a side-dressing.

Results show that on corn, for example, you can expect to get twenty extra bushels of corn per acre by applying 80 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre.

So this year, go after extra yields and extra profits per acre with Gulf Ura-Greeen. See us right away for more information on Gulf Ura-Greeen—the easiest way yet to put on nitrogen!

Club News

Change In Date

The meeting of the Ord Suburbanites Club has been changed to Apr. 15 instead of Apr. 8 as previously calendared. Mrs. Art Larsen will be the hostess.

All About Bread

The regular meeting of the Guided Mrs. Club washeld Monday instead of last Thursday afternoon because of the snow storm. Mrs. Danny Johnson was the afternoon hostess with Mrs. Virgil Beneke as her assistant. A baking demonstration was given by Mrs. Paul Wray. Generous samples of the freshly baked homemade bread was an added treat at lunchtime.

Coffee Grounds Help

A lesson on "Organic Gardening" and helpful information concerning the use of insecticides was given by Vivian Turner, Mar. 25, when 14 members of the Valley County Garden Club met in the Odd Fellows Hall basement. One interesting hint Mrs. Turner shared with her audience was to place unused coffee grounds in the row when planting carrot seed. This, she said, will keep worms away from the carrot plant.

The 14 members answered roll call by naming a new plant each would have in her garden this spring. Mrs. Clara Ludington was the hostess.

Grab A Gift

Mrs. Ray Duda gave an informative lesson on trends in carpeting, Mar. 25, when members of the Everbusy Extension Club met with Mrs. Marvin Weems. Mrs. Allen Cetak was co-hostess at the evening meeting. Easter grab bag gifts were drawn by the ten members.

The lesson "The New Pork" will be given April 27 when the group meets with Mrs. Vernon Potrzeba.

Freedom Of Attitude

Members of the Ord Business and Professional Women's Club met last Tuesday evening at the Elk's Club. Mrs. Karen Trebus was lesson leader. Her subject "Freedom Is A Matter of Attitude" suggested ways to treat those who differ with us in outlook, opinion, race, religion and culture.

New officers for the year are: Mrs. Florence Erickson, president; Mrs. Thelma Dulitz, first vice president; Mrs. Opal Burrows, second vice president; Inez Swain, recording secretary; Mrs. Laurie Carson, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Martha Paulsen, treasurer.

Ord Rebekahs Meet

The Ord Rebekah Lodge met last week in regular form with Charlene Schauer, the Noble Grand and Agnes Bartu, the Vice Grand in charge. Much interest has been shown by the new officers for the betterment of the Lodge.

During the business session two new candidates were voted on; discussion concerned the Senior Citizen's activities now in progress within various organizations in our town; and plans for the District Meeting to be held at Arcadia in April.

A social hour with the lunch committee in charge.

Area Worker Convenes With TB Committee

Mrs. Gilbert Veskerna, Valley County Representative Director of the Nebraska Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association attended a recent meeting of the association held in Omaha.

On Mar. 17 the Qualifications and Contract Committee, of which Mrs. Veskerna is a part, met for a regular session. The duties of this committee is to determine what standards are appropriate for the county organizations affiliated with the Nebraska Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association. At the general meeting held the next day, Dr. Larry Holcolm, professor of biology at Creighton University was the guest speaker. His topic concerned Air Pollution. Also on the Thursday program was Delmar R. Serafy, executive secretary who presented The School On Air Pollution. This is an educational graph which will be available to schools, geared to different ages of children. Dr. Irving Kass, National Representative Board member stressed the need for more grants for respiratory diseases and lung diseases. He pointed out these are as high on the list for death rate as Heart disease.

A report also indicated that Christmas Seal contributions have upped each year since 1967.

Big Weekend Ahead At North Loup Church

The Mid-Contient Seventh Day Baptist Association Spring Youth Retreat is planned for Apr. 2-4 at the North Loup church. Young people from Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska will attend.

Officers of the association Youth Fellowship responsible for the programming are Terry Keown, president; Jerry VanHorn, vice-president; Jani Williams, secretary and Ruth Soper, treasurer.

The retreat theme, "An Inward Look at the Outward You," will be considered in worship, in recreation, and in discussion. Sessions open to the local congregation and the general public are as follows: Fri., Apr. 2, 8 p.m., Worship Service and Communion led by Pastor Glen Warner of Denver, Colo. They are "Let's Sew", "You Learn To Bake" and "Groom Your Room." Year books were filled out and new officers were elected. They are: Becky Schernikau, president; Vickie Mason, vice president; Kelly Sears, secretary; Lisa Moody, news reporter; Susan Bosworth, song leader and Lori Ackles, caller.

The officers will attend the officer's training session, Apr. 3 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse.

FARM BARGAINING

Senator Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota has introduced legislation in Congress to allow farmers the right to bargain collectively for prices and terms of sale of farm products. Hearings on the matter in 1968 indicated widespread support for this concept, despite intense debate on the subject, Mr. Mondale said.

Budget Bureau Report on Irrigation Project on North Loup River April 6

Office of Management of the federal budget is expected to report out favorably the North Loup irrigation project by April 6th, according to Congressman Dave Martin, who was in Grand Island Saturday for Republican Founder's Day ceremonies.

This bureau represents the executive branch of government, and their approval has been preceded by ones by the Interior department and Reclamation bureau.

Then, the project would be referred to the sub-committee of Interior and Insular Affairs, and if approved would go to the full committee. Then it would move onto the floor of Congress.

Inasmuch as the sub-committee has already had hearings in Valley County last summer and reported favorably, action could be fairly fast through Congress, according to Henry Lange, president of the Twin Loups reclamation district.

As Congress will recess for the Easter holiday, April 11th, subcommittee hearings could not probably be held prior to the 18th. Or, they might not be until May. In any case, Valley County will be represented by a delegation at the hearings.

The project would create reservoirs at Calamus dam site north of Burwell, and also at Davis creek in Valley County. Water impounded would be used to irrigate about 53,000 acres in Valley, Greeley, Howard, Nance and Merrick counties. Areas would be along both shores of the North Loup river from Burwell to Fullerton.

Attend Gruber Rites

Several former Ord people attended funeral services for Emanuel Gruber in Los Angeles, Calif. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Jack "Curly" Kokes) Cross and Dick Kokes of Hemet, Calif., also John Perlinski, Henry Kriz, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parkos, Les Flynn, Mrs. Niney Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Folke (Kitty Work) Kardell and Marie (Hall) Critchley. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Travis of Ord who were in the area at the time also attended.

Bob Gruber, son of Emanuel Gruber, who presently serves as a missionary in Lima, Peru was able to attend the Mar. 17 funeral of his father. He arrived in California on Mar. 13 and returned to Lima a week later.

Ill in California

A former Ordite, Mrs. Les Flynn, is hospitalized in Los Angeles, Calif. for a long series of ex-rays and tests reports Mrs. Frank Fafeita who returned this week from the Los Angeles area.

"Get Well" wishes can be sent to Mrs. Flynn at this address: Room 354, 1414 So. Hope, Los Angeles, Calif., 90015.

Home Again

Frank Fafeita and Joe Osentowski went to Grand Island, Tuesday, to meet Mrs. Frank Fafeita who was on the flight from Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Fafeita had been in Los Angeles for the funeral of her brother Emanuel Gruber and stayed several days longer than planned when the Jim Fafeita family became very ill with the flu and needed her help.

In Omaha Hospital

Ord relatives learned this week that Wayne Norman of Omaha is very seriously ill. He is in the Nebraska Methodist Hospital in Omaha.

Home From Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Weckbach are home again after a month at Harlingen, Tex. While there they visited Ordites Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Good at their winter homes and also saw many other Ord people who were vacationing in the Harlingen area.

Enroute to and from Texas, the Weckbachs leasurely visited friends and relatives along the way.

Bloodmobile Visit

The Bloodmobile will visit Ord on Tuesday, Apr. 27 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the United Methodist Church basement.

Essay Contest Is Open for Students

Junior and senior high school students in Nebraska are again honing their writing skills in preparation for the annual Mari Sandoz Essay Contest, sponsored by NEBRASKAland Magazine.

The contest is conducted each year in conjunction with NEBRASKAland Days to promote student interest in Nebraska's historic, scenic, and recreational attractions and potential.

Topic for the seventh annual competition is "Nebraska — Number One". In developing this theme, students are encouraged to consider the many facets of the state that are unique to Nebraska. These may include the terrain, the towns, the people, the history, and anything else in which Nebraska is "Number One".

The contest is open to grades 7 through 12, so age will be taken into consideration by the judges. Entries will be judged on the basis of subject matter, creativity, accuracy, writing ability, and neatness. Plagarism will mean automatic disqualification.

NFO Official Pleased With County Reception

National Farmers Organization vice-president Erhard Pfingsten conferred with Valley county officers of his organization for more than an hour at his speech at the annual banquet of the organization in Ord last week. He said he was well pleased with his reception, and prospects for moving ahead for his organization are improving because of favorable response by businessmen and non-members. Pictures above show him speaking, and also the capacity audience in Veteran's club which heard him.

Graveside Rites Held For Burt Craft, 32

Graveside services were conducted Wednesday for Burt R. Craft, 32, who died Mar. 27 at his home in North Loup. The Rev. Leonard S. Clark officiated at the 2 p.m. service at Hillside Cemetery, North Loup.

The son of Fred and Ruby (Whiting) Craft of North Loup, Burt Craft was born July 10, 1938 at Buena, Wash. He attended rural school near North Loup.

Survivors are his parents; two brothers Raymond and Clifton of North Loup; 2 sisters Mrs. Laura Gydesen of Grand Island and Mrs. Lynn Brennick of St. Paul; one nephew and one niece. An infant brother preceded him in death.

Police Report 2 Auto Accidents

Two recent auto accidents have been reported to Ord city police. Raymond P. Rozmiarek of Ord is owner of one car and the other car owner was Reginald L. Zulkoski of Elyria Mar. 23. Total damage was less than $100.

Randall A. Adamek was driver of one vehicle, and owner of another was William or Agnes Janda, Mar. 19. There was considerable snow at the time. Total damage of the two cars was estimated at $100.

BERT CRAFT DEAD

Ord fire department first aid unit made an emergency run to North Loup Sunday morning to administer first aid to Bert Craft, but he died before they could arrive. Cause of death has not yet been announced by Valley County coroner.

LIQUOR LICENSE

A special meeting of the Ord City Council Monday awarded re-issue of a liquor license to Darges liquor store. Next Monday, Apr. 5, will be the next regular meeting night of the council.

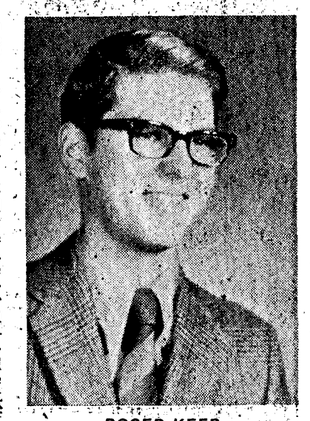
Roger Keep Wins FFA State Farmer

Roger Keep, a senior at North Loup-Scotia High School, has ben awarded the degree of "state farmer".

This honor is attained by only 2 percent of the Nebraska's FFA membership, and is one of the most sought-after degrees in the Future Farmers of America organization.

To qualify for the State Farmer degree, boys must have held the degree of Chapter Farmer preceding election; must have been an active member of FFA for at least two years; must have completed two years of instruction in vocational agriculture or completed all that was offered by their school; must have earned by his own efforts from farming or other agriculture work and deposited in a bank or otherwise invested productively at least $500.00; must show ability as evidenced by leadership and cooperation in student, chapter, and community activities; and must have satisfactory scholarship as certified by the local school superintendent.

Roger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Keep of Cotesfield, is completing his fourth year in vocational agriculture.



ROGER KEEP

He began his own farming program in 1968 with four sow and litters. During 1969 he continued his sow and litter program and added 8 acres of corn and nine beef calves. During 1970, he expanded his program to include 54 feeder pigs, 10 acres of corn and 12 beef calves. For the year 1971 he plans on having 75 feeder pigs, 20 acres of corn and 15 beef calves.

During his years in FFA, he has also completed 12 betterment projects and 40 farm skills.

Roger is a member of the North Loup-Scotia's 1970 state championship soil judging team. This team will compete in the national contest at Oklahoma City during the last week in April.

Roger plans on attending the University of Nebraska School of Technical Agriculture at Curtis next fall. He plans to major in Horticulture.

He will be presented with the degree of State Farmer during special ceremonies Thursday evening at Lincoln. Rolland Essman is vo-ag instructor at North Loup.

KERNELS & HUSKS

BY JOHN SCHADE
Valley County Agent

Hold Down Sow Farrowing

Hog prices dropped to near the $15 level in late fall of 1970. This was brought about by only one factor — too many hogs.

There were 12 percent more pigs farrowed in the spring of 1970. This coupled with a 17 percent increase in summer farrowing created an over supply of finished pork on the market in September, October and November.

Hog prices should hold fairly steady for the next 30 days. There may be some drop in price during April and May. However, summer hog prices should hold close to the $20 to $22 level.

Hog producers should use caution and hold down sow-farrowings this spring and summer.

Feeding Stilbestrol

It is now permitted, by the Food and Drug Administration, to feed cattle weighing more than 750 pounds stilbestrol at the rate of 20 milligrams per head per day. Approval for feeding stilbestrol at this rate has not been given if antibiotics are included in the ration.

If you are feeding a high concentrate ration, the addition of stilbestrol at the 10 milligram level is preferred over the higher 20 mg level.

Remember, cattle fed stilbestrol must be fed as long as those not on the drug if they are to grade satisfactorily at slaughter.

Stilbestrol must not be fed to breeding stock and dairy animals. Also, be sure to comply with the 48 hour withdrawal period for stilbestrol that's required when cattle go to slaughter. The Food and Drug Administration will prosececute when stilbestrol residues are found.

Publication Available

The 1971 circular CC-178, The 1971 Recommended Crop Varieties is now available at the County Extension Office.

This publication lists the recommended varieties by cropping districts and corn maturity zones across Nebraska, as well as new varieties available this year.

Tips on Saving Fuel

Here is a checklist to help you get more for your fuel dollar:

— Watch the air filter closely, inspect it daily if you are working in extremely dusty conditions.

— Inspect your fuel filter and sediment bowl daily during the season and clean weekly.

— Check the inside of your distributor cap for cracks, moisture and dirt.

— Inspect and adjust your breaker points periodically and replace when worn out.

— Clean and regap your spark plugs after 100 hours and replace them after 250 hours.

"U" Lawn, Garden TV Show Monday

BY JOHN SCHADE

Lawn and garden enthusiasts will again have an opportunity to get answers to their problems from the panel of experts on Back Yard Farmer starting April 5.

That's the kick-off date for the 1971 session of the popular question and answer ETV program sponsored by the University of Nebraska Extension Service. The program can be viewed on your local ETV channel starting at 9:00 p.m.

Gardeners may call their questions directly to the panel of experts on Monday night between 9:00 and 10:00 p.m. Questions will be answered on that show. They may also submit their questions to Back Yard Farmer, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska. Mail questions will be answered on the program, "Back Yard Farmer R.F.D." which will be viewed at 9:00 to 9:30 on Tuesday nights.

Headliners on this program include: Wayne Whitney, Extension Horticulturiest; Dr. John Weihing, Extension Plant Pathologist; Dr. Robert Roselle, Extension Entomologist and John Furrer, Extension Pesticide Specialist.

Farmers Preparing For Spring Work

Chief farm activity for this coming week will be caring for livestock, repairing machinery, repairing buildings and fences, ordering seed, fertilizer and supplies, according to John Schade, Valley county agent.

The mid-week snow of last week created some additional problems for livestock, as feedlots were very muddy. Additional feeding was required for those grazing corn and milo fields. Some lambing problems associated with the wet weather was reported.

Snowfall amounted to 3.5 inches but depth last Friday was 2 inches. The total acreage being pastured last week for harvested corn and milo was 30 percent, and for diverted acres 5 percent.

A crop report is made weekly for state crop reporting news.

Craft Workshop Set In Five County Area

The Central Nebraska Community Action Program is making plans for a "Community Craft Workshop" to be held Apr. 14 in the Broken Bow Community Center. The workshop is open to people over 50 years of age who reside in Howard, Valley, Custer, Greeley and Sherman counties.

A number of inexpensive crafts will be demonstrated during the 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. workshop. Materials will be available with no fees attached. Those attending are to bring a sack lunch. Coffee will be furnished.

For further information call Mrs. Oldrich (Mildred) Hrebec or Mrs. Delores Vore by Apr. 5.

CORN BLIGHT

The possibility of losing a corn crop in the corn belt states to Southern Leaf Blight in May or June is remote. This is the conclusion of Geigy scientists who recently completed a series of field experiments at the Geigy research farm in Florida. Their findings agree with earlier university research which also concluded that early season blight was unlikely.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jablonski were dinner guests Monday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Novosad, Sr.

Club News

Looking Ahead

Jackie Waldmann presented a demonstration on "Know Your Heritage" Mar. 13 when the T. O. B. 4-H met at Sherry Vodehnal's home. In the future projects of the club are to put up our welcome to the county signs and clean the roadsides of our area on Apr. 3.

Those of the younger group made cocoa for their cooking project and the older girls held a sewing lesson using different material types.

Monica Kamarad will be the Apr. 17 hostess. Sherry Vodehnal, reporter.

4-H Learning

Ten members were present at the Manchester home, Mar. 23, for the regular meeting of the Red Roses 4-H Club. Roll call was answered by showing sewing pieces and naming a favorite cookie. Christy Anderson gave a demonstration on pressing seams; Jerene Manchester and Penny Peterson showed how to make a cake.

The Apr. 6 meeting at 3:30 p.m. will be held at the Jack Holt home. Renay Nekuda, reporter.

Club Keeps Busy

The Triple T 4-H Club met with Jerome Walkowiak, Mar. 26. The group decided as a club project in the Nebraska Environmental Action Month they will clean up litter along the highway. Plans for a bake sale and roller skating party are among the future activities of the club.

Jerome gave a demonstration concerning poultry and Alan Heisner's demonstration on rope was all about rope. Sandy Svoboda presented her Timely Topic's speech. Home Living projects were judged. After recreation, lunch was served by the host. Wanda Svoboda, reporter.

Paint Horse Boosters Plan April 6 Social

An invitation is extended to 4-H members, their families and all others interested for the evening gathering, Apr. 6, at the Burwell Legion Club when Duke Neff, National Promotion Chairman for the Paint Horse Association will be the featured speaker. The 8 p.m. program also includes a 20-minute-long Paint Horse promotion film. There is no admission charge. The meeting is open to the public.

An area of "substantial" unemployment, according to the Labor Department, is one which has a current rate of unemployment of 6 percent or more, discounting seasonal or temporary factors, and where the rate is expected to remain at that level during the next 2 months.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Welfare Payments Get Intense Study by Nebraska Legislature

BY MELVIN PAUL
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Was the federal government bluffing? The Nebraska Legislature decided not to find out. The senators, at the urging of Gov. J. James Exon, last week set the stage for passage, which was expected this week, of a bill to meet federal requirements for aid to dependent children eligibility.

Federal officials had said that unless the bill was passed and made effective before the end of March the federal share of ADC payments would be shut off. That would mean, Exon said, there wouldn't be enough money to send out the April checks to ADC recipients.

There were some senators who said they didn't think Uncle Sam would go that far. They predicted Washington would back down if a crisis were created.

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter was the leader of that school of thought. "I've played enough poker to know that once in a while you've got to call what may be a bluff," Carpenter said.

But Carpenter found himself in the minority.

There was another issue which dominated the welfare debating last week. That was prorating.

Prorating means the reduction — by a percentage — of the amount of the ADC checks when there isn't enough money on hand to make all the promised payments.

This could come about if the number of persons eligible for ADC money grows faster than expected and the "kitty" has to be divided evenly among all those eligible.

Two weeks ago, the Legislature inserted into the ADC standards bill an amendment which prohibited prorating. Those supporting that amendment said that the full payments promised should be delivered even if a deficit appropriation was needed to make up the difference.

Exon objected to that provision and many legislators said the bill, LB 639, wouldn't have enough support to pass with the emergency clause as long as the anti-prorating provisions were in it.

The emergency clause, which makes a bill effective upon the Governor's signature, is needed on LB 639 if it is to take effect before April 1 and meet the federal deadline.

But the Governor also objected to the anti-prorating provision on principle.

When he made an unprecedented — for him — personal appearance before the Legislature last week to give his views on the ADC problems, Exon made this statement:

"As to prorating standards of welfare payments, we hope that no reduction of standards will be necessary under our recommended budget increase for the biennium of more than $50 million.

"I cannot honestly tell you at this time that we will not have to reduce standards, but we will resist such action if at all possible. Any reductions will be minimal.

"This administration," he said, "does not intend to accept deficit financing of welfare should the increase in recipients force such action. We have made no secret of the fact that this administration is committeed to working within our budget."

He said the amendment "would be contrary to the accepted standards of the right of the state to prorate when the treasury, supported by the taxpayers, appears to be running low because of increasing demands. Furthermore, the amendment approved would allow a blank check for the future . . . saying, in effect, that whatever amount of money is dictated from Washington will be paid Nebraska welfare recipients."

That was Tuesday of last week. The next day, the lawmakers voted 27-20 to erase the amendment Exon objected to.

In his special address to the Unicameral, Exon also gave his philosophy about welfare. "Welfare payments are intended, and should be so recognized, as supplemental," he said. "They should aid those in need over the rough spots, and not be considered as a 'way of life.'"

He also said his budget recommendations propose larger increases for welfare than for "any other function of state government." The all-funds recommendation for the 1971-73 biennium, Exon said, calls for $180.5 million, an increase of $52.7 million over what the State Welfare Department received for the current biennium.

He said that total is more than triple the size of the welfare appropriations from all fund sources for the 1963-65 biennium. The total then was $48 million, he said.

The next biennium, 1965-67, the total was $59.8 million, then $88.7 million for 1967-69 and $127.7 million for 1969-71.

"I submit that under any reasonable standards by reasonable people," Exon said, "this is a record that we need not be ashamed of, nor one which justifies the hint that we are not concerned with our legitimate welfare recipients."

RAMROD®/atrazine WORKS...
ASK ANY GOOD MILO GROWER AROUND HERE
We asked THEES WALLMAN of Martell, Nebraska: "Well, the reason we went to Ramrod/atrazine was there was less carryover, and we liked the way it mixed in that plastic bag. It doesn't need much rain to get it to work. We were real satisfied with it last year. It just works . . . that's all there is to it."
We asked CARL RICHARDS of Topeka, Kansas: "My son and I have got something like 500 acres of milo. We used Ramrod/atrazine on all of it. We were short of moisture, it was awful dry . . . and if we hadn't controlled the weeds with Ramrod/atrazine, why we just wouldn't have had a crop. We got bushels and bushels of milo . . . no weeds, just milo."
We asked RONALD WHITTMER of Bern, Kansas: "I like the results I get with it. I kind of think by using a mixture of Ramrod and atrazine, it's just like cross breeding cattle. You cross breed cattle or hogs . . . you most generally come up with better cattle and hogs. By using Ramrod/atrazine, both, . . . what the one won't do, the other one will. I'd say it works."
It's really very simple . . . Ramrod/atrazine works . . . ask any good milo grower around here. It works to control all these grasses and broadleaf weeds . . .

Valleyside Pupils Take Part In Ord High Science Fair

By Bertha Clement

Valleyside pupils participated in the Science Fair at Ord Thursday evening. Irene Hornickel and Connie King won first prize on their maze and two gerbils. Craig Bredthauer also had a gerbil project. Eighth grade girls Debby Bredthauer, Darlene Hopkins, Eilen Foth, Nancy Peterson and Carl Peterson prepared a rabbit skeleton for exhibit. Steve Pokorny and Tracy Johnson made an electric motor. Steve Pokorny, Craig Bredthauer, Keith Peterson and Arthur Duvall made an air boat with electric motor. Cheryl Hornickel and Paul Bredthauer's project was an electro magnet truck. Sharon King made an incubator, but the eggs didn't hatch as the electricity was off for about six hours during the blizzard.

Babbles by Bertha

We enjoyed being present at the golden wedding anniversary open house of Ernest and Esther Lange at St. John's Lutheran Church in Ord Sunday. As teenagers we were often together, at school and otherwise. I was at their wedding so was glad we were included as dinner guests Sunday noon. The program with Ed Huffman as emcee brought back memories. It was a chance to visit with people from away we seldom see, among them the Lange girls, Bertha Acton, Cora Frank and Ella Meyer. Coming the greatest distance to attend the anniversary was Mrs. Helen Jacobson of Pacific Grove, Calif. The Jacobsons were neighbors and employed by the Langes some years ago. Mrs. Jacobson has been a houseguest of Ernest and Esther.

The newly remodeled kitchen at St. Johns must be a pleasure to work in. Some last minute jobs were completed on Saturday, such as laying the floor tile, the last of which came Saturday. The kitchen is beautiful and I'm sure the women will be even more efficient in using it.

When we returned home Sunday we found the three Clement boys, Edwin, Victor and Rex here from Kearney. They had found the cookie jar. They had been at the Mira Valley Livestock 4-H roller skating party in North Loup. Later our son Don came and all had lunch with us before returning home.

Correction again: Gus and Agnes Foth visited his sister in North Dakota, not South Dakota. Lloyd and Naomi Geweke really made a quick trip to South Carolina by car. So it seemed, going and returning the same day. That should have been South Dakota. Using abbreviations one letter does make a big difference.

More about our recent snow storm. Edna Roe couldn't open her outside door which had snow piled against it. Luckily she was inside. Neighbors came to her rescue and removed the snow. Florence Hornickel went to get the mail from the roadside box. She slipped and fell, breaking a rib.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Bredthauer and Scott attended the state Jaycee sponsored B-B Gun contest held in St. Paul Saturday. Scott was on the Ord team, which placed second. Other team members were Ann Kusek, Terry Kriewald, Dale Neel, Troy Witherwax and Mike Kriewald with Don Stiger as coach.

Mrs. Edwin Lenz is again attending district meetings of Women's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church. Mr. Lenz took her to Broken Bow Sunday where she joined Mrs. Clyde Norris of Lincoln. She is the Nebraska Conference president. Rev. Chappel, a missionary of Congo, Africa is attending the meetings with them. From Broken Bow they went to Valentine for the first meeting Monday, then to Shelton, Minden and Sutton, returning home Thursday.

Attending the meeting at Shelton Tuesday were Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins, Mrs. Will Foth, Mrs. Harry Foth, Mrs. Harold Rice, Mrs. Maurine Koelling, Mrs. Russell Hackel and Mrs. Isaac Luoma, all of Mira Valley United Methodist Church, Mrs. Irving King of the Ord United Methodist Church, Mrs. Gus Foth, Jr. and Mrs. Francis Rychon.

Dale Peterson's 17th birthday was celebrated at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Foth Wednesday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Peterson, Dale, Patty, Nancy and Keith. Refreshments were birthday cake and strawberries.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins attended the preaching services which started at the Fish Creek Salem Church with a covered dish supper Sunday evening.

Debby Cook and Vicky Bredthauer attended an officers meeting of F.H.A. officers for the school year 1971-1972 in Lincoln Thursday to Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving King visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hagensick, Laurie and Cheryl at Red Oak, Ia. from Friday to Sunday. Laurie's 5th birthday was celebrated. Mrs. King also visited with a former pupil. On the way home they stopped at Columbus to visit her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal A. McCone.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vlach Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. William Suntych of Elba and Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Ostermeyer of Ravenna.

Mr. and Mrs. Orel Koelling and Larry attended Founders Day at Grand Island Saturday.

Margaret Hanke, who is a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson, visited her father, Howard Hanke, in the Veterans Hospital at Grand Island Monday. Howard, who is diabetic, had part of a toe removed by surgery last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Acton of Lombard, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frank of Seward were Saturday supper and overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lange. Mrs. Acton and Mrs. Frank are sisters of Mr. Lange. They had come for the Sunday golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange. Mr. and Mrs. Acton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank also visited their aunt, Mrs. Elsie Bremer and George, their aunt Mrs. Laura Fuss and cousins. Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Sohrweid and Beretha Bremer and Mrs. Clara Lange in Ord while in this area. They left for home Sunday evening.

Merry Miras 4-H Club had a roller skating party at North Loup Community Hall Friday evening. Sunday afternoon Mira Valley Livestock 4-H had a roller skating party.

Mrs. Harry Foth drove to Ravenna Thursday. That evening she accompanied the Wayne Urwillers to Grand Island to hear the Fred Waring Pennsylvanians sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Johnson and Tracy were Mrs. Elliot Johnson of Greeley, Colo. and Renae Carlson of Ogallala. Before coming here they stopped to hear the Trinity Glee Club at Kearney.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stowell, Dahn and Kris of Lincoln spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke.

Mrs. Edgar Roe, Mrs. Ralph Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Dye were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dye here from Topeka, Kan. Sunday evening the Gerald Dyes and Mrs. Hanson were guests of Mrs. Roe.

The Lawrence Dexter family of Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Pokorny and children visited the Joe Pokornys Sunday.

Mrs. Willie Miller and Deena of Lincoln spent part of last week at the George Bell home. Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Miller and Denna called on the Clare Clements Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fuss, Brian and Christie of Grand Island visited his mother Mrs. Sophie Fuss Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Arnold, Pamela and Timothy were Saturday supper guests of the Richard Knapp family. Afterwards they played cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knapp, Kevin and Kurtis visited his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knapp and Allen Sunday afternoon. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Mason and family were Sunday afternoon and lunch guests of his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hackel and Mrs. Minnie Hackel of North Loup visited Mrs. Katie Marks Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mroczek and Marci of Aurora spent the weekend with his folks, the Leo Mroczeks. Ken Kowalski of Loup City was a Friday supper guest and the Lavern Mroczek family of Loup City were Sunday afternoon and supper guests.

Jeanette Lange and Jim Rickstatler both of Kearney State College and Roger Hansen were weekend guests of the Eldon Langes. They were here for the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange. Janet Lange had been home all week.

SCHOOLS SHOULD CLOSE ON STORMY DAYS

(Name Withheld at Request)

I enjoy the Kerry On column in the Quiz very much, as many truths are brought out. I agree the majority of the time, but not with a column of sometime ago relative to school staying open on storm days.

You seem to blame the school for the running or chasing around of young people and their car driving, when they just as well could have been in class. But let's look at it again.

Do you realize the large percentage of youngsters that make up your school are bussed in from the country. Think of all the loads that come in, and suppose just one load of youngsters would have an accident in bad weather.

If school wasn't dismissed, buses could not get out or would be stranded, and maybe some partially froze. Wouldn't that be worse than delaying school?

Relative to students driving around town and wasting gasoline, who pays for this if students do not have a job? I am sure the school does not.

Years ago, youngsters got watches when they graduated, but today they must have a watch when they are hardly old enough to tell time. I don't want to go back to the old times, but if youth were given odd jobs and earned their spending money, they would do a lot less driving.

I also am indignant that all the country schools have been done away with, and I think it is the ruination of our great country. And the more state aid we get in our schools, the less right, we the taxpayers and parents, apparently have over anything that takes place. We have lost so much freedom in our day, it is becoming frightening.

I am a grandmother of 15 youngsters, was made a great-grandmother twice this past summer, although I am not quite 70. We raised nine children and they all learned to work. We milked 40 cows, all by hand.

I also enjoy the "Something Different" column by Mrs. Leggett, but I don't think we have to accept short skirts. Most women can lengthen skirts some, even if they don't know how to sew. But how can mothers and grandmothers even shorten them more?

I also compliment Mr. Leggett on your solution to your telephone situation at home. If you don't call a halt and run your home and your life, you've had it. Lack of respect for parents, teachers or God is why our world is where it is today.

Also, "Carol's Corner" is very good. I don't know any of you, but it was on my heart to write you. I pray God will give us more knowledge in all that we do. Thank you again for your efforts to put out a good paper each week.

April Fool Day Is a Good Day Anytime; Why Limit It?

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

It was full agreed at the country store Saturday night that April Fool's Day is in the same class with World Day of Prayer. Joe Knapp told the fellers that ever day is a good day fer both of em, and they ain't much use in setting aside a perticular time.

Joe allowed April was as good a time as any to take up revenue sharing and hauling counties in the court fer not paying their share of federal programs. Joe was of the mind that forcing states and counties to go broke trying to match federal giveaways makes as much since as April as it does in January. Joe said he was with the feller that said no citizen is safe when Congress is in session.

Jim Covert has stood solid agin revenue sharing all along. He says it ain't right to give states tax money they don't have to collect. Jim allowed it's bad enuff fer states and counties to depend on Washington fer matching funds that they can't match, but it'll be worst to send all our money to Washington and get a dab of it back with directions how to use it. Jim said he is reminded of the feller in Russia that raised hogs. Ever time he got hogs ready fer market, the Guvernment took em, sold em and give him back the squeel.

As fer the welfare programs, Jim said, the federal Guvernment might jest as well take it over and do away with the middlemen. At least, he went on, this would cut out the cost of taking all them counties to court fer not holding up their end of programs they are forced to put money in.

Bill Kirby said he ain't worried about the counties, not since he has saw by the papers where the courts say you can't give $30 or 30 days sentences no more. The court says this ain't treating the poor man right, cause it turns loose them that has $30. Bill said he reckons everbody will have to pull 30 days now, or the courts will have to turn everbody loose. If the counties are broke, Bill said, they'll probable be turned loose, since the jails is full all the time anyway.

Practical speaking, went on Bill, the big test will be when everbody is out of work and gitting checks from Washington. If we can pull that off, allowed Bill, we can do away with the courts cause nobody will have the $30 and they won't be room in the jails fer us.

Mister Editor, the fellers unanimus adopted a motion calling fer April Fool ever day, except two month afore ever national election. They were agreed that when elections git clost, ever politician has the medecine to make this country well, and all he wants fer it is our vote.

Yours truly,
GERANIUM JOE

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Church in Mexico

Since there are few or no Protestant churches in Spanish-speaking countries, anyone who wants to go to church attends a Catholic service.

There is a lofty, very old, very big cathedral in Puerto Vallarta. It is elaborate, attractive, the walls covered with things old and new and interesting. A great lot of sky blue and white paint keep it colorful. High up is an iron scrolled rail with engraved glass inserts, hanging on just below the tall stained glass windows. It would be most convenient for washing them or replacing broken panes.

But there are several broken out panes, and through these holes small boys crawled in and ventured a tour of the entire top, while far below the church filled with worshippers.

To an American from Estados Unidos the first impression, almost, was of the small stature of the Mexicanos.

For instance, a wedding party filed in and approached the altar, twelve young girls attending the little bride.

The bride, all in white, looked to be about twelve years of old, and her pretty attendants, all in pink, about eleven. I suppose the were older than they looked. A tiny ring bearer followed them.

I couldn't help but notice, the bride's flowers. She carried white gladiolas tied into a white tight bundle. Her floor length gown had sleeves of white lace.

She and the young groom were both attractive. It takes a lot of money down here for a church wedding, which must always be preceded by a civil ceremony.

So many poorer people are never able to afford to be married, or possibly they save all their lives for a simple civil ceremon.

The service was in Espanol of course, so I got a few words of it, but not all. There was conversation about death, especially, also life, also the good road. There was gentle pipe organ music from up at the rear of the church. There were singers.

A very young lad clad in black passed a small basket for the collection, bypassing many poorer looking people. The church was jammed, and more kept crowding in, until the aisles were full of worshippers, kneeling old ladies, playing children, toddlers clinging to a big sister or a grandmother.

On Domingo, their name for Sunday, services are at eight a.m., 12 noon and eight p.m. Some tourists wore slacks. I did not see any women in shorts, but there were some short-short skirts. There were mantillas of every color and type — often handmade lace. There were few bareheaded women, but some strange head gear.

The visitors will wear anything, even to church.

But Sunday is a big day here. It is shopping day, going-to-the beach day, fiesta day, holiday, all in one. —Irma

Republicans Set April Fund Event

Valley County Republicans will be represented at the $100 a plate fund raising dinner of the state Republican party Apr. 17 in Lincoln. New York Senator James Buckley will be chief speaker, and Nebraska senators and congressman will also be present.

Orel Koelling, Valley County GOP chairman, has tickets for sale.

Senators Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska, along with Congressman Dave Martin will be present as special guests at the dinner. E. J. Faulkner of Lincoln, chairman for the dinner said, "We hope to sell 1,500 tickets to provide funds needed by the state organization in 1971 and to lay the foundation for success of the party in 1972."

School Head Says Ord Plan Is Best

A superintendent of schools, who heads a 4,000 student system in Alief, Texas, which is located near big industrial communities, has inspected Ord's new elementary school and rated it the best he has seen.

Supt. John Hunt flew into Ord recently after checking similar open concept - individualized instruction schools in Las Vegas, and Palo Alto, Calif., and said the Ord facility is the finest he has seen.

His school system is near Houston, and is now erecting three new elementary schools.

HIGHWAYS SAFER

Information received at the Nebraska Department of Roads indicates that the annual death rate on the nation's highways decreased by approximately 1,100 in 1970 despite a five percent increase in vehicle travel, according to preliminary figures compiled by the Department of Transportation. The figures indicate that about 55,300 persons were killed in highway accidents last year, compared with the 1969 death toll of 56,900.

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

—splinters—

Though the Ord Board of Education refrains from many of their most important decisions at their "official meeting" the first Monday night of the month, I sincerely hope that a few citizens will be present at the April 5th meeting and express themselves on BOTH teacher and administrative salaries.

In last week's letter to me by the "Ord Board of Education," it should be made known that the letter — though signed by "Dale L. Karre, President," was indeed composed by the superintendent of the school, typed on school paper with a school typewriter — and, probably typed by a school secretary. Dr. Karre affixed his signature only after the letter was presented to him by the superintendent—ALREADY WRITTEN.

I could refute many of the statements contained about my "inaccuracies," but it only makes the point I've tried to stress from the beginning—the taxpayers that are asked to carry the load are NOT being presented with the complete facts.

To argue if there are four or five administrators seems of little consequence. If—as Dr. Gogan claims—Mr. Buoy is NOT an administrator and NOT a teacher—what does he get $12,000 per year for? (In fairness to Mr. Buoy, I know his title is guidance counselor, and I've personally seen him do more than many of the so-called administrators when it comes to working with both the students and the parents.)

My contention of the probable salary increase is based on a telephone conversation I had with Dr. Karre about two weeks ago. In that conversation Dr. Karre told me—in answer to my question about the administrators being rehired without a salary—"They'll get what they got last year, for sure."

I would like to point out to the Board of Education that MANY of the nation's top executives have taken voluntary cuts in high salaries merely to keep their jobs. This has been evidenced regularly in the daily papers. Many of the aero-space industries have met with their administrators and 'laid it on the line.' Rather than to become unemployed, these administrators have taken voluntary salary cuts.

When Dr. Karre told me that Ord's school administrators would "get what they got last year," it was apparent that someone knew something! Yet Dr. Gogan would like to have me believe, "Increases for the administrators have not been discussed by the board," as he states in the letter to me.

Dr. Gogan then adds, to the above statement, " . . . and the rumored 5% increase is unfounded."

The rumored 5% increase remains to be seen. I have heard it was in 'fringe benefits,' partly constituted by an insurance plan which would be better suited to the $20,000 superintendent for tax reasons. It is — indeed — an added benefit (paid by taxpayers) but non-taxable for the individual's personal benefit.

One thing I would like to see published is the TRUE salary of each of the administrators — including all fringes such as the use of cars, mileage, expense accounts, and probably more. Without digging into the records (which I fully intend to do) I'd ayer that the 'published salary' is far from the actual pay these administrators are receiving.

Without further argument, I'm merely going to say that the taxpayer is being taxed to the hilt. Unemployment is rampant in this nation and it has been caused by unrealistic wage demands. It's past time for Mr. and Mrs. America to stand up and say, "We simply can't afford it!" Until they do, the welfare roles are going to grow and the taxes are going to continue to mount to pay the bill.

ONE MAN CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

President John F. Kennedy said one man can influence the course of a democratic nation, and one way you can do this is to write a Letter to the Editor, have it published in this column, and then clip it and send copies to your Nebraska Senators Carl T. Curtis, Roman L. Hruska and your Congressman, Dave Martin, % Congress, Washington, D.C. Ask them to represent you, as far as they conscientiously can, in carrying out your proposed policies for this nation.

LUMBER CONVENTION

The Nebraska Lumber and Building Material Dealers held their 80th Annual Convention on March 3rd and 4th in the Omaha Civic Auditorium. 125 firms exhibited.

Falls in and around the home are the second most common cause of accidental deaths in Nebraska . . . second only to highway accidents. Falls in Nebraska homes account for nearly 130 fatal injuries a year.

Parents—Know the Drug Threat

TODAY'S SUBJECT: More Mind-Affecting Drugs Now in Use

To classify any one group of drugs as "mind-affecting" would be a truth, but only half true, because this would lead one to believe that some drugs in use do NOT affect the mind. The hallucinogenics, (Those which cause "trips" of the mind), are generally referred to as mind-affecting, but in reality all drugs have their effect on the mind whether direct or indirectly.

Some of the other drugs we have not mentioned thus far are MESCALINE, PEYOTE, PSILOCYBIN, DMT, STP AND MORNING GLORY SEEDS.

Mescaline is hallucinogenic in nature, a chemical found in the buttons of certain small cactus plants — peyote or mescal — and these are also available illegally in powder and liquid form. The effects, for the most part milder than from LSD, often last 10 to 12 hours. Being bitter to the taste it is often mixed with a drink to make it go down easier. American Indians have used this drug in religious rights for hundreds of years, so its use is not what could be termed new.

Peyote itself, coming from cactus, is a milder form of Mescaline. Sometimes it is referred to as "the button," "cactus", or just the letter "P". To this day it is still used in sacrament rites by the Native American Indian Church.

Psilocybin is from the Mexican mushroom and usually comes in crystal, powder or liquid form. Influence of the mind lasts from 2 to 6 hours generally and effects are similar to those of Mescaline.

DMT, (dimethyltryptamine), causes effects similar to LSD, when taken in large doses. Reaction comes quickly and the effects last an hour or two. It is made synthetically and is a natural component of seeds from plants growing in the West Indies and South America. For hundreds of years natives have used this drug by sniffing a powder from the seeds.

STP, (also known as DOM), is relatively new on the drug scene. It is a synthetic chemical related to Mescaline and the Amphetamines. Reportedly it is very mind-distorting, but not nearly so powerful as LSD.

Morning Glory Seeds of some varieties have an active principle closely related to LSD, but much less potent. The seeds are most usually chewed or made into a tea.

Then, there is the "thing" called "68"; like banana peel, "68" or, as it is sometimes called "sex juice", may be a hoax so say the specialists of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Users have reported that it produces wild, short trips as compared to LSD or STP. There are conflicting reports on the chemical make-up and over all effects. Our Food and Drug Administration says that "68" is simply oil of peppermint.

So, in summary today, you may ask yourself why it is important to know all of these minute details about all of the drugs we have discussed. Much of the information you may never have an occasion to use — BUT, if you do have occasion it is much better to know facts than fiction, hearsay and the like.

The major point of this entire series is to better understand the drug misuse problem and to do this we must know basic knowledge and basic facts. Only through open-mindedness can we save our children from the horrors of drug misuse, WE are the adults — the solution of the problem is up to US — this is OUR responsibility!

Be with me next week, won't you?

WASHINGTON REPORT

F.B.I. Director Hoover Under Attack; File on Subversives is Cause

There is a lot more intrigue behind the growing attacks on FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover than so far has come to the surface. The strategic target of the hard-core opposition to Hoover is the Federal Bureau of Investigation's files on subversives, hundreds of whose files date back to the 1920s and 1930s.

A landmark report issued by the Royal Canadian Commission, which investigated communist espionage in Canada at the end of World War II, revealed that deep cover Soviet agents began their infiltration of North America shortly after the reds seized power in the Soviet Union.

Hoover's opponents led by Senator George McGovern (D.S.D.) are planning to use the FBI Director's hard-nosed handling of controversial FBI agents, the Berrigan brothers conspiracy case, and his personal friendship with certain businessmen to try to force his retirement this year.

Once the 76-year-old Hoover is retired, the McGovern forces will then try to obtain administrative restrictions and legislative curbs on the FBI's investigative and information gathering powers and seek the destruction of vital records of the agency.

Informants in the McGovern camp report that the ultra-liberal senator is convinced he has found a vehicle in the so-called "Shaw Case" to embarrass Hoover publicly and thus force President Nixon to replace him.

Involved in the controversial case is former FBI agent John F. Shaw, of New York, father of four whose wife is seriously ill. He resigned last fall rather than accept a transfer to Butte, Montana — known as the office where agents out of favor with top agency officials are sent.

Shaw's transfer was the outgrowth of a personal letter he wrote to a professor at John Clay College of Criminal Justice in New York where he was enrolled part time. In his letter, Shaw was partially critical of Hoover while vigorously defending the FBI. Shaw's resignation was accepted with prejudice, making it impossible for him to find another law enforcement job.

McGovern, an announced candidate for President, has grabbed the limelight by criticizing Hoover for his handling of the Shaw case and is now seeking to lay the ground work for a congressional inquiry.

Should McGovern succeed in having Congress probe the Shaw Case, his strategists hope to use the forum to raise other questions about Hoover's stewardship, former associates in the FBI, and business acquaintances.

The latter include persons connected with the J. Edgar Hoover Foundation, whih was set up in honor of the FBI Director with a $1 million contribution from Dorothy and Lewis S. Rosenstiel Foundation. Louis Nichols, a former assistant to Hoover, is President of the Foundation.

Nichols was recently summoned to testify at a hearing in New York before the State Joint Legislative Committee on Crime. He told the committee that Rosenstiel, former chairman of Schenley industries and one of the targets of the probe, has "shunned any connections with the underworld like the plague". The Rosenstiel hearings are part of a broad study of organized crime's infiltration of legitimate business.

McGovern strategists are now studying Nichols testimony and that of other witnesses before the New York committee. The record shows three persons with criminal convictions and reputed ties to the underworld were "social friends" of Rosenstiel and distributors of Schenley products.

Friends of Hoover, who admit the FBI Director is in the toughest public fight of his distinguished career, are convinced that his hard-core opponents will use every method available to try to get rid of the Government's top investigator.

Most disturbing to Hoover's friends is the silence of the ex-FBI Agents Association. The Association with more than 5,000 members so far has not taken a stand in the Hoover-McGovern confrontation.

Apparently, one of the reasons for this is that a number of agents, despite their unflinching loyalty to the FBI and respect for Hoover, at one time in their careers were either sent to Butte or Little Rock (Ark.), or "on the circuit" because of a mistake in judgement.

The banishment to these outposts or to a tour of short-duty assignments to a number of FBI offices is one way FBI officials use to instill discipline in the organization, and force out unwanted agents.

An illuminating example of this was an East-Coast agent, who got his name in the paper when his auto hit the rear of another car. The FBI Director in charge in the city where the agent was stationed immediately shipped the agent off to Little Rock, although very little damage was caused to either car. The agent's crime: no FBI agent should be in a wreck.

FBI Director Hoover is far more human than his opponents would like to have you believe. Once while having his shoes shined at a Washington Hotel, he invited the shoeshine boy to call on him at the FBI headquarters. When days went by without the boy showing up, Hoover stopped by to inquire why he never took advantage of his offer. "I tried to", the boy explained, "but one of your men threw me out of the building when I told him where I was going." Hoover on returning to his office ordered a full-scale investigation to determine who had treated the boy so harshly and blocked his visit.

Come to Church

This Week's Meditation

Read Luke 3:2-11

Prepare ye the way of the Lord . . . And all flesh shall see the salvation of God. — Luke 2:4,6

A young man for want of something else to do, decided to attend a church service one Sunday morning. The music and sermon so stirred his soul that his life was changed completely. No longer did he refuse to help the poor and needy. When asked about his changed life, he replied, "I am now trying to live as God wishes."

God calls all of us to live according to His commandments, to be governed by Christian love, to carry the principles of our religion into all actions.

Religion involves far more than praying a few minutes morning and evening, or reading a chapter in the Bible, or attending church on Sunday. Religion is living out the principles of Christ each day of our lives. Our entire life must be made religious in the sense that everything is done with the thought of pleasing God, which includes doing no ill to one's neighbor. If we do this, our lives will be radically changed and happier.

PRAYER: Dear God, grant that we may do all in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. Help us to be living witnesses for Him this day and every day. We ask these things in His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Is my way of life governed by awareness of God's presence and will?

NOTICE
—to Dog Owners

The attention to those who own dogs within the city limits of Ord, Nebraska, is called to the fact that all dogs must be kept from running at large between the dates of —

APRIL 1 and SEPTEMBER 30

Numerous complaints have been received this spring about dogs, so this is a notice to all people owning or harboring dogs that they must keep them either tied or shut up between the two above dates — APRIL 1 and SEPTEMBER 30.

In case any person or persons who own or harbor a dog or dogs, do not heed the above warning, he or she will be subject to the penalty provided by the ordinance.

Furthermore, Dog License Tags for the year, 1971, will be on sale May 1. Be sure to purchase a tag for your dog on or before May 10, 1971.

Whether or not you keep your dog on your premises, you still must purchase a dog license and rabies vaccination. All dogs must have a collar and tags on. A tag does not permit a dog to run at large.

If you like your dog — keep it tied or penned — don't let it impose on your neighbors.

Ord Future Farmers of America Win First Place In Cattle Judging; Second in Two Other Events

Ord's Cattle Judging Team Best in Nebraska

Individual work on the farm, after school effort and teaching skill demonstrated by Frank Andreesen and Dave Shoemaker, vo-ag teachers at Ord High School enabled Ord Future Farmers of America chapter to make a brilliane showing at the recent state convention.

First place in the entire state went to the cattle juding team of Richard Hruza, Charles Krcilek, and John Nelson. They competed against 40 teams entered from more than 100 FFA chapters throughout Nebraska.

Second place went to the meats judging and identification team composed of Larry Wagner, Mike Jackson and Mike Usasz. Another second place was won by the Ord concrete block laying team which was a winner in district competition. Members of the team are Bill Zeigler, Richard Hruza, and Harry Walahoski.

Third place in the state went to Ord in the tractor maintenance contest when the team of Pat Hruby and Jeff Waliman ranked among the elite.

Fifth place in livestock judging went to Ord's team in this field, composed of Allen Cahill, Dale Peterson, and Dale Baldwin.

Ribbons were won by Agronomy team composed of Albert Hruza, Lynn Sevenker and Brian Mentzer; by farm management team of Dean Vancura, and

Bids on Power Expansion Sought; City Joins New Regional Police Hookup

A major improvement for citizens of the community was authorized by the city council Monday in approving tie-in with expanded police facilties. Ord will soon be a part of Federal Communications Region 26, covering nine counties. Ord police will have walki-talkies which will communicate through a new transmitter tower at Ord to a new regional tower at Sargent. This in turn will tie in to Grand Island and statewide hookups.

Police also will have a mobile unit for use in police cars, also. County sheriff and deputies also will have the instant communication service, and thus can work together in case of disasters such as fire, tornadoes, major traffic accidents, or need of ambulance or fire trucks to help individual citizens.

Most of the cost is being paid by federal taxpayers through the new U. S. crime control program advocated by the Nixon administration and approved by Congress. Cost to Ord city council will run about $800.

Use of walki-talki equipment will mean that individual policemen can summon help instantly from the interior of a store they

Ord will call for bids for adding 5,000 kilowatts of power to the municipal electric light plant with deadline set for May 6th, it was decided in one of many actions at a busy city council meeting Monday evening.

The new addition will replace a unit of only one-tenth the capacity of the new unit and will be a dual fuel generator, using either natural gas when it is available, or diesel oil on a standby basis. Funds are on hand to pay the $650,000 cost.

An engineer from the consulting firm of Lutz, Daily and Brain, Kansas City, who are working for the city in the purchase and installation of the improved power plant and distribution system, appeared before the council and presented council members with extensive specifications and analysis of the present system and future plans.

The firm has been working with city engineer George Allen and doing some work for the past three years. Purpose of the improvement is to make the city more independent of outside power and so be in a better position to negotiate for same. Also, to have the city independent of power failure caused by outside transmission lines going down in bad storms.

Representatives of Mulligan Music, Klimek TV Service, and KNLV radio were at the meeting to ask for cable TV franchise. However, the council said much more study would have to be made by themselves before any decision would be reached.

Eldon Mulligan said it would cost $60,000 to $75,000 to put in such a system and monthly charges would be about $6. 300 users would have to sign to cover the installation costs. A special reception antenna would be erected to materially improve quality

School Administrators Rehired, Salaries Set

Official minutes of the Ord school board, as carried elsewhere in this issue of The Quiz indicate that administrators and counselor for the coming school year were approved by the board at its regular meeting Monday night.

Dr. William L. Gogan was rehired as superintendent of schools for the next school year at $20,000 salary; Robert Norton was named again as secondary education principal at $13,750; Mike Johnson was named again as elementary principal at $12,500; David Van Nordheim was rechosen as assistant principal and athletic director at $12,000; and Eldon Buoy was re-selected as counselor at $12,000.

The vote was unanimous by chairman Dale Karre, Calvin, Vodehnal, Kamarad, Mason and Paulsen.

Treasurer's report indicated $71,839 in bills was paid during the month, and that $96,075 was the previous balance.

Dr. Glen Auble was present as a member of the Ord Chamber of Commerce and asked for aid in completing printing of the city brochure. Kerry Leggett, publisher of Ord Quiz, appeared before the board also. Discussion was made relative to the sale of the old elementary building and site.

Mr. Norton and Mr. Buoy discussed registration and curriculum scheduling. Mrs. Calvin Treptow met with the board to discuss school bus scheduling. Discussion of the sprinkler system for the elementary school took place.

A resignation request by Inez Ebberhart, classroom teacher, was granted.

POWER OUTAGE

Electric power will be off in some rural areas of Valley county today Apr. 8 while transformer poles are being moved to allow paving of Highway 22, which runs from North Loup west to Highway 70.

Outages may come between 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., and again in the afternoon between one to four o'clock, as per Rural Electric Power company in Ord. Outage will not affect Ord, North Loup or villages in the county.

Jefferson-Jackson Democratic Dinner

A number of Valley County Democrats are expected to attend the 1971 Jefferson-Jackson day dinner Apr. 24 in Lincoln featuring Senator Edmund Muskie of Maine as the chief speaker.

Senator Muskie is the leading candidate for President on the Democratic ticket for next year. The dinner will be the main fund raising event of the year in Ne-

New City Well Site Getting Tests

Tests are being made on a third well for the city of Ord with the firm of Layne Western of Omaha putting down a 435 foot well near the county fairgrounds. Water will be tested for quality, volume and draw down. It will take a week to determine if this location, shown above, is feasible. George Allen, city engineer, is in charge of work. The new well would give a third additional reserve for the city.

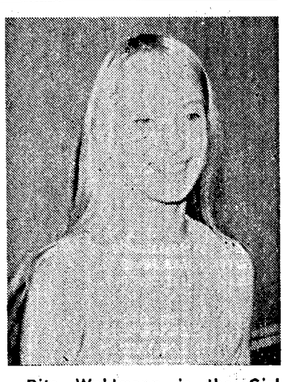
Bloodmobile Unit In Ord April 27

Dorathy Palser, who has been Secretary for the Valley County Extension Service for the past 10 years, has only good things to say about the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits to Ord. Dorathy had major surgery Jan. 13th in the Valley County Hospital and received two pints of Red Cross blood which was available when it was needed. She is back on the job and feeling fine.

You too can save a life by donating a pint of blood on Tuesday, April 27th at the Ord United Methodist Church between the hours of 9 A.M. to 2:30 P.M.

SCIENTISTS NEEDED

Young people should not forego scientific and technical carers because of the current supply-demand situation in these fields, according to Geoffrey H. Moore, Commissioner of Labor Statistics. Engineering and science have been among the fastest-growing occupational fields in recent years and projections show requirements for engineers and scientists will continue to increase rapidly during the 1970's, he said.



Rita Waldmann is the Girl Stater chosen by the Comstock American Legion Auxiliary and will attend model government sessions in Lincoln in May. She is a Junior at Ord high school, has been active on the drill team, annual staff, girl's athletic association, student council, pep club, pep band, intramural sports and also is on the girl's track team. She has been a squad leader in the pep club, been a member of the brass ensemble for the band, was in speech contest this year, and also is a member of Future Business Leaders of America

Selective Service Board Stays Here

Ord's Selective Service board will continue in operation following rescinding of preliminary plans to consolidate boards in rural areas across the nation, it was announced Monday by Colonel Lee G. Liggett, state director.

The House of Representatives in Washington voted an amendment canceling out all consolidation plans. Ord, along with all

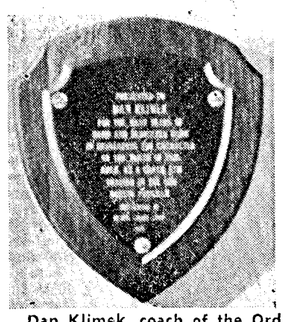
Dan Klimek Given Special Plaque for Youth Work



Dan Klimek, coach of the Ord Boxing club, who has worked with youth on the club for nine years, was given a special plaque by Misko Sport shop in Ord Saturday night at the boxing matches. Mr. Klimek is shown in typical action coaching Reggie Zulkoski of Ord, who fought in one of the last bouts on the card. Joe Shafer, at left, is handing up supplies. Other picture shows the plaque given Mr. Klimek. It says, "Presented to Dan Klimek for many years of hard and dedicated work in developing the character of the youth of this area, as a coach and trainer in the Ord boxing program." The presentation was made by Dennis Proskocil, president of the Ord Boxing club and Rich Krahulik.

Grade Schools of County, Ord Join In Conservation Day Events April 14

Rural schools of Valley county and seventh and eighth grade students from Ord's public and St. Mary's parochial schools as well as North Loup and Arcadia will join in observing Conservation Day Apr. 14.

A special program will be presented in the Ord High School gymnasium for the 200 to 300 youths expected, and then in the afternoon, the tour of the Stanley Johnson farm will take place.

The day is being arranged by the County Extension Service and The County Soil and Water Conservation District. John Schade will be master of ceremonies.

Speakers at the session at Ord High School will include Harold Gilman, extension conservationist, Lincoln; Mike Hruby, Ord Future Farmers of America; Spud Kapustka, who will discuss wildlife conservation, and Howard Paulsen, who will discuss conservation in Valley County.

Events at the school will extend from 9:30 to 12:45, when the group will leave for the farm. Students will be divided into six groups, and each in turn will check six parts of the farm. There will be specialists present in soils, grasses, trees, diversion terraces, irrigation and survey work.

Specialists at these stations, in order, will be Larry Brown, soil scientist; Mr. Paulsen, district conservationist; Willis Sanders, soil conservation service; Mr. Gilman, extension service expert, Mr. Johnson, and Allen Dunbar, soil conservation service.

Mr. Johnson runs a crop and livestock farm, which last year won the 1970 Valley County conservation award. The afternoon tour will close at 3 p.m.

Arcadia Special Good Friday Rite

Community Good Friday services in Arcadia will be held in Calvary Baptist Church 2 p.m. tomorrow, Apr. 9 with Congregational and United Methodist churches joining.

The Congregational and United Methodist churches will also supply special music. Guest speaker is Rev. Clay Deaver, from Comstock. A freewill offering will go to the American Bible Society work.

The Easter Sunrise service for young people will be on the Floyd Armstrong hill, 6 miles west of town. Service will be at 6:15 a.m. Pastor J. B. Tweter will speak. Breakfast will be served right after the service in the Calvary Baptist Church. Should the weather prove inclement, the service will be in the host church.

The Easter Worship Service at 11:00 a.m. will feature a choir number, and the pastor will speak on the subject: "The Resurrection is a Reality." The 7:30 p.m. service will feature a tape-recording of a Bethel Founder's Week speaker, Rev. Oswald Hoffman, known for this Lutheran Hour broadcast. The public is welcome to these services.

SPEED LIMITS

15 miles an hour is the speed limit at Ord elementary and high school, Ord police cautioned drivers this week. In the balance of the city, limits are 25 miles an hour.

Signs are posted at the new elementary school to specially remind motorists of these limits, but are not up at the Ord high school, as the state limit of 15 miles an hour always has applied there.

Commerce Chamber Session Due Today

April meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce will be today, Apr. 8 at noon in the Elks Club, according to Bill French, manager.

Discussions will center around Thursday night openings, parking survey results, airport dedication coming up in June, a clean-up-fix-up-and paint-up drive, additional recreation facilities, the new brochure for the city, and free movie promotions.

Guests or prospective new members are invited to attend the meeting.

Other actions of the council included amending the fireworks ordinance to provide the Ord regulations will be the same as the state of Nebraska. Hence, sales will run henceforth from June 25 through the evening of July 4.

First National Bank of Ord and Nebraska State Bank asked that they be named as depositories for this coming year. They are presently so designated. The requests were granted.

A plan to secure uniform posting of welcome flags for all business firms in the city was brought up and the council approved having police officer on duty stop in all stores adjoining the square and nearby ones, and to alert the store owner. Chamber of Commerce will notify the police on all officially designated days.

Summer employment for youths of the city was discussed and it was agreed that the city highway department continue to utilize as many as possible doing road work. Also, Ord will take part in federal work programs for youth.

Meeting as a board of equalization prior to convening as city council, members approved assessments previously advertised for the city sewer serving K & L Streets from 12th to 8th portion of the city in Woodbury addition. Property owners will have ten years to pay costs. No objections were received by the council, so members voted to go ahead.

Street changes were asked by two individuals, Lowell Jones asked for a street opening near the new elementary school, and Ed Blaha asked to have sidewalk moved out closer to the gutters on N Street in the block west of city library. Both matters were referred to the street committee.

Plumbing permits were issued to Scheidler Contracting Company, Hunk's Plumbing and Heating, electrical permit to Litt Ballou, and a dance permit effective May 1 to Eddie's tavern.

James Clement, manager of Sack Lumber company, asked for a building permit to build a 30 by 65 foot addition to the rear of Ord Glass company, and to remodel the front for paint and wall paper sales. The permit was granted.

Roland Norman, appearing for the Chamber of Commerce, asked the council to pay half the costs, up to $250 for their share, for the dedication of the new $60,000 runway at Ord municipal airport in June. The airport authority and Chamber will pay an additional $250 to cover balance of costs. A sky-diving team, fly-in-breakfast and other events are planned for the day. The council decided to take money from the special purpose Mortensen Memorial fund and to support the project.

Ray Marshall, also appearing for the Chamber, asked for paving of six and a half blocks of downtown alleys, so as to increase parking facilities. He was advised that two alleys are to be so improved this year and all are in the six year road improvement plan already sent in to the state of Nebraska. If excess funds are available later in the summer, possibly two more alleys could be improved late this summer.

Dr. Glen Auble, also appearing for the Chamber, asked for $300 to finish up work on the new brochure for the city. Chamber has $1800, but printing costs for the four color process booklet, which would have about 15 new color pictures on both sides, would run about $2,000.

Dr. Auble said brochures are one way of getting out-of-county and out-of-state advertising and are vital in securing vacation business and new industry. He also mentioned that the legislature has passed legislation allowing councils to appropriate modest sums for industrial development, and that city taxpayers would benefit through new industries and new jobs.

The council voted to delay immediate action on his request.

City council was asked for a permit for five pool tables installed at Eddie Pesek Tavern. Permit was issued.

City fire department asked for upgrading of fire department facilities on second floor of the funds already are included in city hall. They were advised funds already are included in the budget for some work there.

Mrs. Larry Wiener and Larlee were dinner guests, Tuesday, at the Leonard Hansen home. Mrs. Wilmer Nelson was an afternoon guest.

Karyl is a member of the student council and a member of the pep club an dis treasurer this year. She is a member of the Glee Club and chorus, an active member of the Valley Invaders 4-H Club and is secretary of the club.

Steven Drake, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Drake, has been chosen to represent Arcadia in Boys' State this year. Steve, a Junior, is president of his class and vice president of the A-Club. He is active in chorus and is a member of the boys' octet. Although he participated in both football and basketball during his freshman and sophomore years, he has been unable to take part in sports this year because of a broken leg. He hopes to take part in all sports again during his senior year.

No alternate was selected.

Ord also rated very high in the state when Allen Cahill was given the Union Pacific scholarship $400 award. While only two percent of state FFA members win the state farmer degree, Ord had the good fortune to have Dean Vancura, Dale Baldwin and Allen Cahill so named.

Ord also won a chapter citation of superior for the tenth time in the past eleven years. Ak-sar-ben awards also went to two chapter members as mentioned in a separate news story in this newspaper.

At Burwell Saturday, two FFA members, Dale Peterson and Randy Gydesen rated first and second place winners, out of 125 competitors from Burwell, Sargent, Loup City, Broken Bow, North Loup - Scotia, St. Edward, Fullerton and Bartlett.

Approximately 2,500 FFA members from Nebraska chapters competed in various events at Lincoln. Ord sent 29 students to Lincoln the past weekend, where the convention took place.

CAROL'S CORNER by carol leggett

In 1495, the Florentine artist Leonardo DaVinci was asked to portray the dramatic scene of Jesus's last supper with His disciples as they gathered in "the upper room" before His crucifixion. The scene was to be painted upon a large dining hall wall of a monastery at Milan. DaVinci, 43 years old at the time, and already a famous painter, sculptor and architect, agreed to the assignment.

Working carefully, he spent three years completing the painting. The disciples were grouped in threes, two groups on either side of the figure of Christ, who sat at the center of the table with arms outstretched before Him. In His right hand He held a wine cup, painted to look very realistic. When at last the painting was ready and the artist called in a friend to see it he asked for the friend's honest opinion.

"It's wonderful," the friend told him, "that cup is so real I cannot keep my eyes off it."

Immediately DaVinci took a brush and painted across the sparkling cup. "If it affects you that way, it must not remain—nothing shall distract attention from the figure of Christ."

Today, not quite 500 years later, both the beauty of his painting and the truth of his statement remain.

This Easter season, will anything take our eyes off Christ and the real meaning of His death and resurrection?

—O—

Introducing his Easter sermon to a church filled to overflowing, a popular San Francisco preacher once remarked slyly: "Now that I have you all before me I want to take this opportunity to wish each and everyone of you a Merry Christmas as I won't see many of you here again until then!"

—O—

Has your family stopped commenting on your cooking? Has it been weeks since anyone said, "Gosh, that was good." As you prepare the Easter dinner — ham to be the main meat dish, of course — why not surprise them with this quick Cherry Sauce?

You simply heat to boiling, 1 can (1 pound 5 ounces) Cherry pie filling and 1 to 2 t. finely ground ginger, in a saucepan. During the last 25 to 30 minutes of baking time, quickly spoon the filling mixture over the ham which has been scored lengthwise. The results are surprisingly delicious!

—O—

COFFEE CUP PHILOSOPHY: Let us place more emphasis on the Easter heart than on the Easter hat.

Chris Ferguson Is Candidate For NU Title

Five girls have been named finalists for the title of University of Nebraska Rodeo Queen in conjunction with the annual NU Rodeo to be held Apr. 23-24 in Lincoln.

Among them is Chris Ferguson, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson of Ord. She is a junior majoring in English and is representing Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Chris was crowned princess last August of Nebraska's Big Rodeo in Burwell.

Other NU co-eds competing for the queen's title are Betty Gergen, 20, of Geneva, a sophomore majoring in physical education and representing Delta Delta Delta sorority; Crystal Cooksley, 18, Broken Bow, a freshman home economics major representing Love Memorial Hall; Janice Lee, 18, of Omaha, a freshman majoring in animal science and Faye Barber, 19, of Grand Island, a freshman majoring in recreational leadership representing Pound Hall.

The name of the 1971 NU Rodeo Queen will be revealed during the evening performance of the rodeo at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum at 7:30 p.m., Apr. 23. The new queen will be presenting awards to winning rodeo contestants during the final evening activities on Apr. 24.

An Added Guest

Mrs. Clark Krahulik was high scorer, last Tuesday afternoon when members of the Merry Circle Club and Mrs. Emma Radil gathered at Mrs. Minnie Thomsen's home. Other prize winners were Mrs. Celia Benda and Mrs. Anna Rajewich.

Eleanore Wegrzyn will be the Apr. 13 hostess. The afternoon meeting will be held at The Chanticleer Drive In.

Mrs. Sylvia Rice visited in the K. W. Harkness home Friday afternoon.

Noon Luncheon Today

The regular noon luncheon of the Ord Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Thursday (today). New projects in the making include parking, survey results; the airport dedication; Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up; recreation and new brochures.

Ord Sets May Dates For Tri-Fund Drive

The Tri-Fund drive in Ord is slated for the week of May 3 through May 10.

The Tri-Fund is a combination of the Cancer, Heart and Red Cross drives rolled into one fund.

Party For Vicki

Gay Easter decorations brightened the setting, Friday afternoon, for the party, honoring Vicki Riley at her home. Nine young friends — Dianne Klimek, Michelle Bennett, Dana Moudry, Lisa Grove, Renea Breckbill, Kristi Greenway, Karen Gross, Sherry Darnell and Dee Dee Griffith — shared in the party fun to celebrate Vicki's eighth birthday.

Planned entertainment included an Easter egg hunt and the dying of eggs. A cake much resembling a large Easter basket was a lunchtime highlight.

Assisting Mrs. Bill Riley with hostess duties were Mrs. Dan Klimek and Cheryl Klimek.

Mr. and Mrs. Orie Hurlbert, Jackie and Shelly drove to Lincoln to spend the weekend with their daughter and sister, Pam Hurlbert. They also visited Doug Ackles. Both Pam and Doug attend the university.

Owens Takes Prize

Roger Owens of the Elwood area has just returned from a well earned company sojourn in New Orleans.

Owens was one of the top 10 producers for Continental General Insurance Co. of Omaha in competition, contest wise, with over 500 other agents offering Life and Accident and Health and Disability insurance, in the Elwood area. He is the son of Mrs. Ben Greenland of Ord.

Mira Valley Church Plans Special Event Five Nights for God

"Five Nights For God" is the theme the Rev. Doyle Hays will use for the special meetings to be held at the Mira Valley United Methodist Church, Apr. 11 through Apr. 15. The meetings will begin at 8 o'clock each evening. Everyone is welcome to these meetings.

Rev. Hays was born on a farm near Alma. After his call to the ministry, the family moved to Naperville, Ill., where he graduated from North Central College and Evangelical Theological Seminary. During seminary he also served a church near Streator, Ill. In Nebraska his first pastorate was at Monroe. He then served at Hastings for 15 years, during which time the church grew to become one of the stronger churches of the Nebraska Conference. Three building programs were undertaken. In 1968 he was assigned to Grand Island to begin the first mission church under the United Methodist denomination. In a little over two and a half years, membership has grown to 246 with attendance now up to nearly 300.

Pastor Hays has been very active in youth programs and camps. His outside interest has been in young men headed toward the ministry. Much of his time is taken up in calling and involving the laiety in lay witnessing. His wife Lois is also active in church work, both on the state and local level. They have three married children.

The Cooks . . . at home in Ord

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook Mark 60 Years of Marriage

The children of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cook were hosts at dinner recently at the Veterans Club in Ord to honor Mr. and Mrs. Cook for their wedding anniversary. Their six children are Dr. Denton Cook, Ferne Waddel, Helen Spillman, William Cook, Jr., Wayne Cook and Ruth Morrocco.

W. J. Cook and his 60 year bride the former Clara Mutchie were married Mar. 6, 1911 at Grand Island. They were engaged in farming until about 15 years ago when they retired to live in Ord.

A Week Late

Members of the Jolly Homemakers Extension Club met Apr. 1 with Mrs. Helen Horn. The afternoon meeting previously slated a week earlier had been postponed because of bad weather.

Roll call was answered with an April fool joke. The flag salute and singing preceded the lesson given by Mrs. Charlie Lech on carpeting.

The next meeting is planned for Apr. 15 at Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski's home.

$2 Million Federal Income Taxes Are Due From Valley County Families; 30% of Income Taken

Residents of Valley County are getting a sharp reminder, as they prepare for the April 15th tax deadline, of the huge bite being taken out of their earnings by the Government.

Last year their contribution to the Federal coffers, in the form of personal income taxes, came to approximately $2,067,000.

And this year, for those who were fully employed throughout 1970 and, in most cases, earning more than they did during the prior year, the tax payments will be even larger. Lower income families will be turning in somewhat less than before.

Nationally, however, because of the unemployment that accompanied the business slowdown, the Administration figures that its overall returns from individual income taxes will be slightly lower than last year's, a total of $88.3 billion as against $90.4 billion then.

As the total federal budget is slightly over $200 billion, this shows that only 44 percent is being paid in direct income taxes. Hence, for every dollar Valley County citizens pay April 15th on income tax day, they pay an additional $1.23 in indirect taxes, chiefly on food and goods. These of course, are in addition to the direct state sales tax, direct school tax, direct county and direct city taxes.

Congressman Dave Martin in his Mar. 27 news letter states, "Taxes, direct or indirect, take about 30 percent of the income of both rich and poor American families as sales and property taxes offset income taxes which are scaled to the ability to pay."

Valley County's share of the tax burden was determined through an unofficial breakdown of the returns received from the State of Nebraska as a whole. The statewide total came to $646,000,000, according to the Treasury Department, including the portion collected via withholding.

Of this amount, local residents contributed an estimated $2,067,000, or 0.32 percent of the state total.

This year, because of the reduction in the surtax to 2½ percent and because of the changes brought about by the recession, their contribution is expected to be in the neighborhood of $2,017,000.

Just how long it will remain at that level is an open question. Although politics appears to rule out any upward adjustment of tax rates, what with an election looming up next year, there is the need of massive additional revenue to help the states and cities, to meet the war costs, to improve the ecology and to provide the nation with better health and edueational facilities.

The President's budget for next year, recently submitted, calls for personal income taxes of $93.7 billion, or $5.4 billion more than this year.

Total income in Valley County will have to be about 6 percent greater this coming year than last for local residents to meet their share of this increase.

Ernie French Wins Mile Competition

Ord Gets Eight First Places, But Burwell Still Wins, 56-52

Ord won eight of 14 events in its first track meet of the season with Burwell at Ord, Mar. 31, but Burwell had the best record of second and third places and so nosed out the Chants by an overall mark of 56 to 52.

Darrell Farmer had a win for Ord in the pole vault, soaring over the cross bar at eight feet, six inches. In the high jump, Anderson and Peterson took first and second place and Farmer snared fourth.

In the 100 yard dash, Suminski won first, Miska fourth and Hansen sixth. In the mile run, Ernie French led five Burwell runners to the finish tape. In 440, Farmer came back again and won over three Burwell runners, Miska picked up fifth.

In the 880 run, Sich took first against three Burwell competitors. In the 220 yard dash, Suminski won again, Naeve was third and Gross was sixth. In mile relay, Ord's team of Farmer, Naeve, Sich and Suminski showed their heels to the opposition with an eight second victory margin.

In Burwell victory events, many Chants placed high. In the shotput, B. Peterson was second; Karre fourth, and Schamp seventh. In the broad jump, Suminski was second, Fuss was fourth, and Naeve sixth, Hansen, seventh and Gross eighth. In the high hurdles, Peterson and Andreesen of Ord tied for third place.

In low hurdles, Naeve and Farmer won fourth and fifth. In discus, Karre and Peterson were second and third. In the 880 relay, Ord's team of Fuss, Andreesen, French and Miska came in two seconds behind Burwell's runners.

Drug Raid Brings Two for Hearings

Following a drug raid involving 24 persons last month, one court hearing has been held before Judge Rollin Dye, which involves a juvenile. State law bar newspapers from publishing names, sentences, probation or any aspect of the hearing, so the Quiz cannot run results of the hearing.

One adult has been charged, but no date for hearing has yet been set. It will be in Valley county court. Other phases of the raid are still under investigation by county authorities. Marijuana was found in the raid.

other Valley countyboards, would have been merged with Broken Bow, which would have served a number of other counties also.

Protests were said very strong nationally against the original order. In Valley county, Walt Smith led the effort to secure reconsideration. He went to Lincoln to see Colonel Liggett, and worked with county G.O.P. and Democratic chairmen. Veterans of Foreign Wars national officers also asked reconsideration.

The Ord office is served by Mrs. Dorothy Hald, executive secretary, and Henry Benda is chairman of the Valley board. Two men a month are usually being processed here.

Varsity Track Teams Into Action

Ord high school varsity teams will be in action the next two weeks with many events on the schedule.

Varsity track team traveled to Burwell to take part in the invitational Wrangler's Relays there yesterday, Apr. 7, and a week from Friday, will host the big Ord invitational meet.

This will attract about six class A high schools, and about 25 smaller class B schools. Events will run all day at the Ord athletic field west of the school and will start about 9 a.m. Anselmo-Merna and Central Catholic school at Grand Island already have entered.

Girl's varsity stars are in preparation this week for an invasion Apr. 14 at Grand Island. Events there will start at 12:30 p.m.

Because of the Easter recess, school at Ord closed at 2:22 p.m. yesterday, Apr. 7. Classes will resume Apr. 14th.

Arcadia track team also was in action yesterday in the Wrangler Relays at Burwell and will be running next in the Ord invitational.

Golf team was in action Monday when they traveled to Loup City for a meet. Their next competition will be Apr. 16 when they host four schools in a meet at Ord public golf links. St. Paul, Albion and Broken Bow are the other schools.

In the action Monday, Ord Chants golf team lost to Loup City by 23 strokes. Varsity players for Ord were Brechbill, S. Todsen, Jones, Markley and Wolf. Four low scores totalled 196 for nine holes, while Loup City had 173 for a low score.

Ord reserves of Gibbons, T. Todsen, Leggett, Severson and Misko had 245 for four lowest scores while Loup City Reserves stroked in a 240. Loup City had the advantage of playing on their home course.

ORD BASEBALL

A sign up for American Legion baseball for Juniors and Midget teams will be 1 p.m. Saturday at the Ord baseball park.

Players are asked to bring gloves. All youths interested in playing on either of these teams are asked to be present.

Coyote Club Gives $260 Scholarships

The Tally-Ho Coyote Hunting Club has presented a $263 check to the North Central Association for Retarded Children at Ord for use toward a scholarship fund.

The club held their annual dinner recently in the Veterans Club. Kenneth Petska is president, Eric Erikson is secretary-treasurer, and Cork Greenway is pilot. Forty men are members.

The club hunts coyotes during fall, winter and spring. A plane is usually flown by Mr. Greenway as pilot and Emil Penas is spotter. Two way radios are used to alert members in pickup trucks. Hides bring about $4 each and this revenue as well as membership dues were used to provide the scholarship check.

Here and There

Complete Address

In last week's Ord Quiz, the name of the hospital where Ruth Flynn is a patient was inadvertently omitted. The complete address is: Ruth Flynn, California Lutheran Hospital, Room 354, 1414 Hope Street, Los Angeles, Calif., 90015.

Harbine Lad Wins

The Nebraska 4-H and F.F.A. all breed dairy calf sale was held Apr. 3, in Lincoln. There were 45 head sold.

The top calf — born Aug. 13, 1970 — sold for $775. A 4-H member from Harbine was the door prize winner. He became new owner of a registered calf.

SERVICE UNIT

Educational Service Unit 10, which serves Ord High School and other schools in Valley county, has a new director, Louis L. Hansen. Mr. Hansen is formerly with the York school system and recently completed his doctorate at the University of Nebraska.

COIN SHOW

The Minden Coin Club will host their annual coin show, April 18th in the Minden City Hall from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Award plaques will be presented for the most outstanding displays of coins and currency. A number of exhibits of rare and unusual material has been promised for the show.

Mira Valley Memo

Sophie Fuss Witnesses Grandson's Confirmation

By Bertha Clement

Mrs. Sophie Fuss drove to Grand Island Friday, then accompanied her son and family, the Kenneth Fusses to Texas Saturday. Sunday they attended the confirmation of Jim Gohl, son of Mrs. Maxine Gohl and grandson of Mrs. Sophie Fuss. The Nebraskans visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gohl and family at Richardson, Tex. and Mrs. Maxine Gohl and sons at Dallas. Mrs. Fuss plans to return home this week.

Babbles by Bertha

Kenneth Koelling moved his mother Lucy Koelling from Valley County Hospital to Sargent Nursing Home in an ambulance Wednesday. She uses a wheel chair and enjoys the view from her window which is next to the highway. Her son the Rev. Harold Koelling is pastor of the Evangelical Free Church at Sargent.

Junior Foth took his children, Paul and Patty and nieces Debbiie and Loree Foth to the boxing match at St. Marys Saturday night. I wonder who enjoyed it most.

Helen Peterson and I spent part of Wednesday afternoon with our neighbor Katie Marks. I hope Katie enjoyed the visit as much as we did. She is past 90 but doesn't seem that age. Her windows are full of house plants and each of us received a slip.

It was nice visiting with Evelyn Ramquist of Redmond, Wash. last week. She is a house guest of James and Jane Ollis and plans to take her sister, Dorothy Ollis to Washington when she returns home. Evelyn grew up in Mira Valley and was our next door neighbor. Later she taught school at Dist. 9 where our four attended.

We were glad to be present for part of the Seventh Day Baptist Mid-Continent Youth Fellowship Spring Retreat activities at North Loup the past weekend. This youth group is really enthusiastic in their work for the Lord. Our son, Don and his family were up from Kearney for some of the activities, including the musical "Life". Theresa stayed in for Vespers on Happy Jack and the youth supper at the church. Don and Phyllis visited George and Muriel Cox — what a recovery George is making from his recent open heart surgery! — The boys came out to the farm with us and stayed till their folks came for them.

Sunday George's cousin, Edwin Johnson, his three girls, Becky, Cheryl and Cindy of Kansas City, Mo. and Jody Osborn of Nortonville, Kan. came out for dinner after the close of Retreat at North Loup. Clare and Beulah Clement also joined us. Stopping to greet Edwin and the girls were Mary Bell, our son Ken and Charlene and neighbors, Stan and Esther Johnson and son Tracy.

My sister Lydia Bredthauer of Grand Island has a new granddaughter. Jessica Lee is the new 7 poiund, 9 ounce daughter of John and Juli Bredthauer of Houston, Tex. The baby was born Mar. 30 missing her Grandpa Bredthauer's April birthday by five days.

I was pleased that Dale Peterson was named as Boy's Stater of Ord with Charles Krcilek as alternate. Both are Mira Vallians and Dale is the son of my niece, Carolyn.

Vera Lange and I spent Thursday evening with Golda Foth. We missed Sophie Fuss. At Scrabble Vera and I each won a game. Regardless of that Golda served some of her delicious brownies with ice cream and coffee. That ends the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jones of Newton, Ia., Mrs. Maxine Fisher of El Paso, Tex. and Mrs. Homer Jones of Denver, Colo. visited Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burson while here for the gradeside services of Homer Jones, an uncle of Mr. Burson. Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Jones were Tuesday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burson. All also visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burson and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rice. They left for their homes Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hopkins and son Kyle of Eudora, Kan. were houseguests of his folks, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins and family, from Friday to Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Foth, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Gust Foth, Jr. Paul and Patty attended a Lehecka family gathering at the Lloyd Lehecka home in Lincoln Sunday. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Luedtke and and Richard of Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Wilson of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zabloudil and Evelyn of Lexington, Karen Domandle of North Platte and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Zabloudil and Steve of Ottawa, Kan. Mr. and Mrs. Gust Foth Jr. and Patty also visited a cousin, Delpha Taylor while in Lincoln.

A reception at the Eldon Lange home honored Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hansen following their wedding at St. John's Lutheran Church Saturday. Among those present besides the honored couple were their attendants Lee Hansen of Hastings, Dick Hagerman of Grand Island, Ivan Schukie, Jim Rickstatter and Jeanette Lange of Kearney State College, Deb Joynt, Linda Lange and Beverly Bremer. Also present were Roger's grandmother, Mrs. Schmidt, aunts and uncles Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hansen and Dean of Holstein, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hansen and two sons of Hastings and two other aunts. Others were Jan Shugar of Kearney State College, Mr. and Mrs. John Stohs of Fremont, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Loseke and family of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Don Uden and daughters of Juniata, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bredthauer and family of Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange — grandparents of the bride —, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lange, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huffman, Marion and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lange and family, Mrs. Anna Visek, Mrs. William Bremer and Mrs. Lores Hornickel and Roger.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Mira Valley United Methodist Church met Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Rollie Staab, the vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Edwin Lenz. Mrs. Arden Koelling and Mrs. Dan Spilinek were leaders of the topic lesson "Easter Risk and Reality." Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Hopkins, Mrs. Willard Harkness and Mrs. Orville Lueck.

Mrs. Edwin Lenz conducted a study of "Out of the Depths" at a Monday morning coffee meeting with Mrs. Bryan Portis at North Loup.

Valleyside pupils will be dismissed Friday noon for the weekend.

Korner Kutters have postponed their April meeting with Mrs. Eugene Bredthauer to Friday Apr. 16.

George Bremer stopped to see his brother James of St. Libory on his way to Grand Island Wednesday and found he had been taken to the hospital. James had received a cut on the calf of his leg. This required twelve stitches and infection had set in. George saw him Friday and found his condition improved.

George Bremer met his uncle Bill Vogeler of North Loup in Grand Island Friday. He was returning from the west coast where he had spent much of the winter. Mr. Vogeler was a supper guest of Mrs. Elsie Bremer and George Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harkness of Wataga, Ill. have been visiting the Willard Harkness family and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mottl and Lucinda of Kearney visited with them at the Willard Harkness home Saturday evening. Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harkness and the Willard Harkness family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Harkness.

On returning home from the W.S.C.S. meeting at Shelton last Tuesday Mrs. Will Foth, Mrs. Harry Foth, Mrs. Isaac Luoma and Mrs. Russell Hackel visited Mrs. Walt Huebner at North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Woitalewicz, Kenneth and Lisa were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smydra at Grand Island.

The Stan Johnsons drove to Kearney Friday and saw the basketball Globe Trotters. Afterwards they were lunch guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Jurgensen of Lincoln were Saturday evening guests of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jurgensen and Calvin. Sunday the Jerry Jurgensens helped with moving chores of his sister and family the Richard Brockmans of Burwell.

Mrs. Fred Ohlman of Central City and Mrs. Gary Barder and children of Palmer visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lange following the wedding of Janet Lange and Roger Hansen Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Ohlman is a sister of Mrs. Lange.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stohs of night and Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lange. Mrs. Stohs is a sister of Mrs. Lange. They were here for the Lange - Hansen wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. David Glinsmann of Rockville were Friday supper guests of her sister and family, the Lores Hornickels.

Sandhill Cranes Fly in Nebraska by the Thousands

Thousands of Sandhill cranes arrived in Nebraska on the annual spring migration, and some 150,000 of the birds were congregated in the central Platte valley the first week of spring. Observers were treated to the sight of thousands of birds traversing the skies, landing in fields to feed, or alighting on river sandbars to roost. While in Nebraska, the big birds perform their colorful spring courtship rituals of ballet-like sparring, hopping, and flapping of wings. (Game and Parks Commission photo)

In Memoriam

In memory of Mary John who died Apr. 7, 1970.

It was just a year ago
We bid our dearest sister goodbye
Only the memories of our happy lives remain
Though we knew there'd come a time
When death would make us part
So now we feel so all alone
Since she has gone away to her heavenly home
Who've left this earth to stay and till we come to you sister dear
Beyond this earthly strife
We pray you'll wait for us up there
Because you were our sister dear.

In Memoriam

DALE BOYCE

In loving memory of our father, son, twin brother, brother and grandson, who died Apr. 10, 1966.

"The golden gate stood open
Five years ago today
He slipped gently away
So God gave us strength and courage
To bear the parting blow
But what it meant to give him up
No one will ever know."

His loving family

Some straight talk about kitchen ranges: Gas vs. Electric

Today's new kitchen range, whether it's gas or electric, is a gleaming assortment of some pretty fantastic equipment. For, instance, what housewife 10 years ago ever dreamed that someday her oven would clean itself? Or 20 years ago, who'd have believed that a range could literally cook its own goose with the advent of programmed cooking?

Today, of course, both of these breakthroughs are standard equipment on almost every range. In fact, pound for pound, feature for feature, new ranges are quite similar. And either kind can make life a lot easier for busy mothers.

But there is one very important advantage of the gas range. It offers instant and precise temperature control that the other couldn't match with all the modern equipment in the world. And if you've ever ruined a roast or botched a cake because your oven stayed too hot too long, you know why instant on and off heat is so important. You also know why 9 out of 10 professional chefs prefer to cook with gas. Now, for some straight talk about how easy it is to own a beautiful new gas range, come see us.

State F.F.A. Convention Honors To Dale Baldwin, Allen Cahill

Two Ord high school students won special honors at the state convention of Future Farmers of American in Lincoln, the past weekend.

Dale Baldwin was awarded a $50 prize from the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben for his work in farm betterment and was one of only 10 youths in the entire state to be given such an award.

Allen Cahill was named one of the 20 high-ranking F.F.A. students at the convention and so received $25 from Ak-Sar-Ben toward his expenses.

Other area F.F.A. students were also given $25 toward their convention expenses by Ak-Sar-Ben and include David Evans, Sargent; Larry Larson, Burwell; and Douglas Pollard, Taylor.

In addition to Dale, the other nine students in the state to win farm betterment awards were Carroll Alsbury, Imperial; Jim Fox, Harrison; Mark Schroeder, West Point; Craig Glause, Central City; William Push, Blair; Donald Gorecki, St. Paul; David Dannelly, St. Edward; Roy Rempe, Superior, and Bruce Staub, Newman Grove.

In addition to Allen, other students to win $25 toward convention expenses were; Mark Fleer, Pierce; Roger Kimbrough, Geneva; James Schuler, Hooper; Donald Hagstrom, Kimball; Brad Minchow, Waverly; Allen Bruhn, Wood River; Jack Kurkowski, Grant; Dave Nyffeler, Columbus; Howard Witte, Scribner; Craig McMahan, Blue Hill; Bryce Anderson, Wilcox; Blaine Wilson, Alliance; Dennis Preston, Lyons; Raymond Oschsner, Sutton, and Ronald Linke, Bassett.

Phone Firm Asks Change in Class

The General Telephone Company of Ordhas asked Nebraska State Railway Commission to consider establishing Burwell and North Loup as extended service areas, instead of the present access service.

No change in existing rates is proposed.

Copies of the letter of consideration have been sent the Mayor of Ord, Chamber of Commerce and the Ord Quiz. Any person approving or opposing this change must notify the commission at Lincoln prior to April 30.

Charges to call North Loup or Burwell from Ord would not be increased.

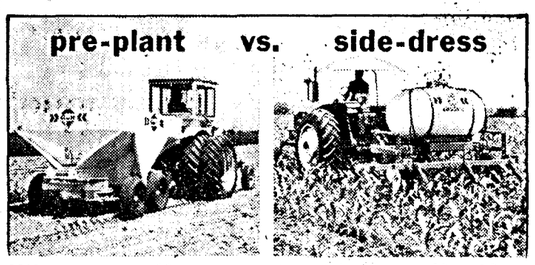
For Patricia Kay

Little Patricia Kay Smith, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Smith of Ord, was baptized Sunday morning by Father Stanley Gorak at the Ord catholic church. Mr. and Mrs. Don Blaha attended as the baby's godparents.

At noontime, Mr. and Mrs. Don Blaha and family were guests for dinner at the Smith home.



Why not split your nitrogen application and get the best of both?

Pre-plant nitrogen speeds decay of crop residues and makes more plant nutrients immediately available to your new corn.

Early nitrogen in the root zone also helps new corn reach down and tap the subsoil moisture needed to carry it through prolonged dry spells.

Later this summer, your corn will also welcome a fresh helping of nitrogen. That's the time to side-dress the other half of your nitrogen and give your corn a full season of unbroken grow-power.

A split application of Gulf Nitrogen can mean extra returns from your fertilizer investment. Just give us a call and let us arrange to put down half your nitrogen on your cornland now.

RAIL IMPROVEMENT

Union Pacific railroad's 1971 capital expenditures program for roadway and equipment will be $121 million, John C. Kenefick, chief executive officer of UP's transportation division announced today.

Kenefick said the program is down from last year's $166.9 million investment and reflects the unsettled situation of national rail earnings. He said the figure will be broken down to $20.4 million for road and $100.6 million for equipment. Union Pacific is one of two railroads to serve Ord.

Norman Gets Postal Certification

Postmaster's certification is presented to Roland R. Norman, new postmaster at Ord by J. F. Applegate, acting director of the Wichita Postal Service region, while Mrs. Norman, center, looks on. After three years as acting postmaster, Mr. Norman was recently named head of the Ord postoffice.

Everett Bishop Dies In Illinois; Funeral At Arcadia Church

Funeral services were held, Saturday, for Everett Bishop of Dannebrog who died Mar. 30 in a fatal accident near Princeton, Ill.

Mr. Bishop had owned and operated his own truck line the past 18 months and prior to that time had been employed at the ordnance plant in Grand Island. The son of Albert and Mildred Mundt Bishop he was born July 16, 1930 at Fullerton and moved to Ericson with his family in 1936. Seven years later the Bishop family moved to Greeley where he lived his boyhood days. A graduate of Greeley High School in 1948, he taught school in the Greeley area for two years and enlisted in the United States Navy, serving for four years. On Jan. 10, 1954 he was united in marriage to Carole Murray after which time he continued in the teaching profession and farmed at Greeley. In 1958 they moved to a farm near Arcadia and a few years later bought a village grocery which he operated four years. He was a member of the Dannebrog Post of the American Legion.

The Rev. C. R. Campbell officiated at the 11 a.m. services at the United Methodist Church in Arcadia. Mrs. Rena Foth and Mrs. Kay Foth sang, "God Will Take Care Of You" and "Beyond The Sunset" accompanied by organist, Mrs. Robert Bentner. Pallbearers were Ellis Douthit, Robert Johns, Andrew Seaman, Jr., Paul Kelly, Ed Holtoaf and Richard Lehn. Interment was at Fullerton with the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary in charge.

Survivors are his wife Carole, daughter Cheryl and son Chuck of Dannebrog; sisters Mary Bishop Watson of Ericson and Mrs. Patricia Bishop Graff of Grand Island; brother Jack Bishop of Hayward, Calif. His parents preceded him in death.

During 1970, some 158,170 trout were stocked at the put-and-take lake at Two Rivers State Recreation Area. Of this total, almost 95 percent were taken by anglers.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed Proposals will be received at the City Hall by Wilma D. Kroeger, City Clerk, City of Ord, Nebraska until 10:00 A.M. on the 6th day of May, 1971, for furnishing f.o.b. cars, Municipal Light Plant, Ord, Nebraska, the following:

One 4-cycle dual fuel diesel generating unit rated between 4000 and 5200 kilowatts net installed capacity, and auxiliary equipment, as specified, at which time Proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud before the Mayor and Council in session. The Proposals will be referred to the Commissioner of Utilities and Engineers for tabulation of bids, bid data on equipment and evaluation.

The report on the evaluation with recommendation of the Commissioner of Utilities and Engineers will be submitted to the Mayor and Council in session Friday morning May 7th, 1971 at 10:00 A.M. for final consideration and award of contract to the successful bidder.

Bids received after the above specified time for opening will be returned unopened to the sender.

Bidding forms are obtained at the offifce of Lutz, Daily & Brain, Consulting Engineers, 819 Finance Building, Kansas City, Missouri 64105 ,or at the office of the City Clerk, Ord, Nebraska.

The Engineer's estimate of cost for a unit rated 5000 kiolwatts with auxiliaries as specified, is $650,000. The estimate will be adjusted for unit sizes which vary from 5000 kilowatts at the rate of $130 per kilowatt.

Each bidder shall submit with his bid a certified check drawn on a solvent Nebraska bank, or a bidder's bond issued by a company licensed to do business in Nebraska, the amount of which shall be not less than five percent (5) of the bid price, and which shall guarantee good faith on the part of the bidder, and the entering into Contract within 15 days at the price bid, if accepted by the Purchaser. Checks or bonds shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the City of Ord, Nebraska.

No bid may be withdrawn for at least 30 days after the scheduled time for receipt of the bids.

Bids will be evaluated by the Purchaser, based on quality, economy of operation, experience of the manufacturer, availability of service for repair and maintenance, and adaptability of the particular equipment to the specific use intended. The Purchaser reserves the right to select the equipment which best suits its needs, whether the price is the lowest or not, and also reserves the right to reject all bids or waive informalities.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Legislators Seek Close Control Of Spending by State Agencies

BY MELVIN PAUL
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

With the committee hearing phase behind them, Nebraska's legislators are heading into the home stretch of their 1971 session.

During the first two-thirds of the session only the mornings could be devoted to consideration of bills on the floor. In the afternoons, the committees were conducting the public hearings that are required for each bill.

But — with only minor exceptions — that's behind the senators now and they can spend all day attacking the backlog of measures which have been cleared by the committees and are waiting floor consideration.

The new constitutional limit for the session is 90 legislative days and the leadership remains confident that the deadline can be met. Statistics support them. Fewer bills have been introduced — though not as few as many had hoped — and more had been either killed or passed during the first 60 days than was true during the 1969 session.

With all-day sessions, the pace is expected to pick up considerably.

But there still are plenty of bills on the board capable of sparking a full day of debate on their own. Legislative redistricting, for example. And personal property tax exemptions, increased state school aid and, of course, the budget.

Gov. J. J. Exon has had his budget bills introduced. It is the first time a chief executive has supplemented his budget message with drafted legislation.

There is no guarantee, of course, that Exon's bills will ever reach the floor in the shape they were introduced. Even if the totals the governor seeks aren't changed very much by the Legislature's Budget Committee, the odds are good the format will be.

The Exon bills provide a lump sum appropriation for each agency. The lawmakers, on the other hand, have been placing increasingly explicit restrictions on how agencies spend the funds they receive.

Budget Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings, who introduced the bills last week on the governor's behalf, said he expected the committee to either kill the bills or attach comprehensive amendments which earmark the appropriations.

The 1969 Legislature, for example, set out specific amounts for each program an agency operates and even listed how much money could be spent in each year of the biennium for personal services (salaries).

There is none of that in the Exon budget bills.

Instead of writing into the statute how the funds are to be spent, the Exon bills show the amounts the governor assigned to each major spending object as he reached the total — but this is marked for "informational purposes."

Gus Lieske, director of the State Department of Administrative Services and the governor's chief budget advisor, said Exon believes some administrative flexibility is needed, especially when the budget is tight.

He said authority to shift funds from one program to another is more desirable than padding within each program to take care of unforeseen contingencies.

Lieske said a detailed explanation of how the governor intends to have the money spent will be filed with the clerk of the Legislature and the administrative services department will monitor the agency spending to see if there are deviations.

Agencies which do make major deviations from the Exon recommendations will have to explain why, Lieske said. If the answers aren't acceptable, the agency will find its appropriations earmarked in the next budget, he said.

Lieske argued that the budgeting should start under the Exon administration with all agencies "on their honor."

But Marvel said agencies have been on their honor before Exon arrived and the Legislature has found they aren't likely to follow the budget makers' intent unless it is written into the law that they have to.

Before Marvel's committee began writing specific instructions into the law, it used to send unofficial "Letters of intent" to agencies explaining how the legislators expected the appropriations to be used. He said these instructions often were ignored.

The first two Exon bills to be introduced deal with the operating appropriations for state agencies and the appropriations for distribution back to local governmental subdivisions.

Lieske said this was done to isolate the state governmental costs and to show the citizens how much of their state tax money actually is being returned to them in various aid programs.

Exon's capital construction bill and a bill to appropriate funds for constitutional officers were still being prepared.

In a recent interview, Exon said he was optimistic that the budget totals he had recommended would be intact when the legislators were through with their review. He said he expected the 1972 rates still would be 2½ per cent for the sales tax and 13 per cent for the income tax, as he had predicted.

KERNELS & HUSKS

BY JOHN SCHADE
Valley County Agent

Valley County residents are advised to be on the alert for suspected fradulant termite control operators. They seem to make the rounds every year somewhere in Nebraska.

These con-artists usually knock on doors or solicit termite business by telephone. Should you be approached by one of these individuals get his name, the license number and issuing state. If you can get a blank copy of the contract or agreement. Take these to your county attorney or sheriff.

If suspected insects are found have them identified by a reputable firm or a qualified entomologist. We will be happy to assist you with this problem.

Never sign a contract with any control firm without first checking on the reliability of the operator.

Don't act on an impulse or a fear. There is plenty of time to obtain the services of a reliable local operator. Termites will not weaken a home in a short time. It usually takes months before serious structural damage occurs.

The reliability of an exterminator can be checked through the State Entomologist or the office of the Nebraska State Pest Control Operators Association.

Termites:

Winged termites (reproductive forms) have been positively identified emerging from residents and outbuildings. This is not uncommon as these insects may occur at any time now, especially from heated buildings. The presence of winged insects in the home need not necessarily bring panic to the home owner. Several species of ants will emerge in homes and are easily mistaken for termites. It is always advisable to have specimens identified before control action is taken.

Gleanings from North Platte Dairy Day:

Mastitis — an infection of the glandular tissue of a cows udder — is most often caused by a combination of injury and infection. The problem costs the dairy industry from 225 to 500 million dollars a year in the United States.

Management items to help reduce incidence of mastitis include: proper milking procedures; good equipment that functions correctly; reducing unnecessary "elbows" from the vacumn line; using a vacumn line that is from 1¼ to 2 inches in diameter.

Calving Intervals:

For optimum production the interval between calving for dairy cows should be no longer than 12 to 13 months. Keeping a simple set of records on each cow's overall health and reproductive performance is a must.

Some of the problems causing reproductive performance include: time of breeding during estrus; artificial insemination techniques; inadaquate nutrition; congenital problems in reproductive organs, and functional infertility.

Infertility problems can be caused by various things including; the failure to detect estrus; non-functioning overies; pregnancy; non-fertilization of the egg; and death of the fertilized egg or embryo.

Farmers Busy on Pre-Spring Work

Crop work is moving along along with preparation for field work, repairing of machinery and fences, and caring for livestock being chief activity of Valley County farmers, according toJohn Schade, county agent.

Pasture and range feed supplies is below average. All days of the past week were suitable for farm work, his weekly report indicates. Winter wheat appears to be growing but very slowly. Pastures have not yet started to green. Some snow is still in sheltered spots; alfalfa is not yet showing any growth.

Feedlots are still very muddy. Cattle on feed are not making normal gain as there are no dry areas in which they can lay down. Calving is in full swing, and no diseases reported. Weatherhas been quite favorable, but animals require added attention on cold nights.

Winter wheat is in fair condition, alfalfa is good and wild hay is fair, he reported. No acreage of corn, sorghum or soybean has yet ben planted. Moisture the past week amounted to a trace.

Nesting Sites Is Need of Wildlife

Time for spring field work is rapidly approaching, and is probably the most immediate concern for Nebraska's farmers. But, Willard Barbee, director of Nebraska Game and Parks Commission, said.

"Our pheasants, quail, and other wildlife populations suffered during the past winter, mainly because they lacked adequate habitat for protection from the snow and wind. In a few weeks, the survivors will again need cover, this time as nesting sites in which to rear replacements for those lost to winter and other hazards of the wild," he said.

Early spring is a most critical time in the lives of Nebraska's wildlife, as much of the habitat they need for spring nesting and winter cover is destroyed in farming operations. Barbee urged farmers to think twice before burning or otherwise destroying any patches of cover that might be used by birds and animals.

Former Miss America Is Noted Speaker At State F.H.A. Convention In Lincoln

The Nebraska Association of Future Homemakers of America held its 25th annual State Leadership Conference, Mar. 26-27 at Lincoln.

Ord's F.H.A. officers travelled to Lincoln, to be part of the 1,500 girls who represented 5,300 F.H.A. members from across the State of Nebraska. Mrs. Phyllis Garnick, the local Chapter adviser and Mrs. Arlo Ehresman, a sponsor, accompanied officers of the local group. Attending were Linda Stiger, Pat Hopkins, Kadi Lukesh, Vicki Bredthauer, Deb Cook, Sheri Ehresman, Sharon Petska, Jeanette Micek, Cindy Shafer and Andrea Andreesen. Also in attendance with the group was Kathy Waldmann who was the State F.H.A. First Vice President. They stayed at the Villager Inn in the capital city.

Following registration Friday morning, the Ord group gathered with girls with most of the 152 Nebraska chapters in the East Campus College Activities Building at the University of Nebraska. Keynote speaker at the opening ceremony was Marilyn VanDerbur, former Miss America and television personality. She received a standing ovation for her motivational speech, "Goals and Dreams" which she has shared with thousands of teenagers.

During the afternoon hours the same day, Ord's officers attended the District VII meeting where the chapter treasurer Vicky Bredthauer was elected to be District Treasurer. In the evening special entertainment was provided at the awards banquet by the "Youth Troupe" from the Lincoln Recreational Department. Numerous honors were presented with Kathy Waldmann among the recipients. She received her State Homemaker Degree and was selected as alternate for an F.H.A. scholarship. Mrs. Marge Harouff, State F.H.A. adviser, was given an appreciation gift.

Project meetings and officer workshops continued on Saturday. As a climax to the two-day session, a panel of four representing different races and religion presented some interesting and inspiring views concerning prejudices in America.

Mrs. Rita Barnes was hostess to a no name bridge group, Thursday evening. Winning tallies were held by Mrs. Johnny Hyde and Mrs. Kerry Leggett.

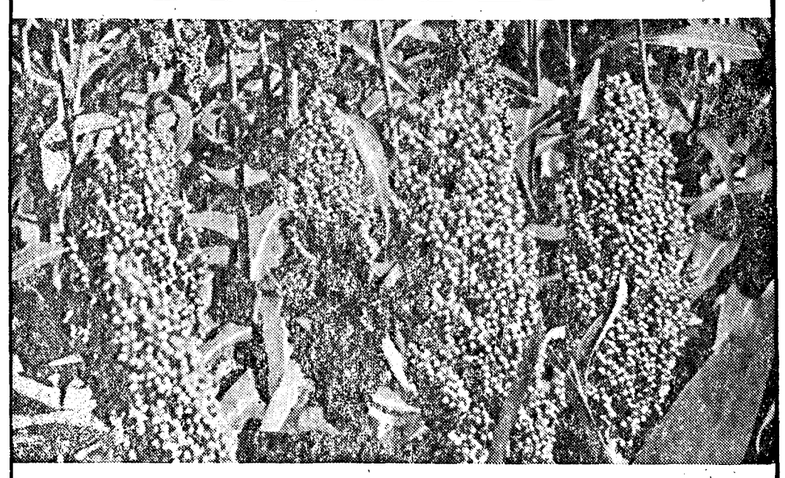
RAMROD./ATRAZINE WORKS...



ASK ANY GOOD MILO GROWER AROUND HERE

We asked THEES WALLMAN of Martell, Nebraska: "Well, the reason we went to Ramrod/atrazine was there was less carryover, and we liked the way it mixed in that plastic bag. It doesn't need much rain to get it to work. We were real satisfied with it last year. It just works . . . that's all there is to it."

We asked CARL RICHARDS of Topeka, Kansas: "My son and I have got something like 500 acres of milo. We used Ramrod/atrazine on all of it. We were short of moisture, it was awful dry . . . and if we hadn't controlled the weeds with Ramrod/atrazine, why we just wouldn't have had a crop. We got bushels and bushels of milo . . . no weeds, just milo."

We asked RONALD WHITTMER of Bern, Kansas: "I like the results I get with it. I kind of think by using a mixture of Ramrod and atrazine, it's just like cross breeding cattle. You cross breed cattle or hogs . . . you most generally come up with better cattle and hogs. By using Ramrod/atrazine, both, . . . what the one won't do, the other one will. I'd say it works."

It's really very simple . . . Ramrod/atrazine works . . . ask any good milo grower around here. It works to control all these grasses and broadleaf weeds . . .

GENERAL NOTICE

NOXIOUS WEEDS MUST BE DESTROYED

YOU ARE REQUIRED TO DESTROY NOXIOUS WEEDS ON YOUR PROPERTY

By Order Of The Valley County Weed Control Authority

Notice is hereby given this 2nd day of April 1971, pursuant to the Nebraska Noxious Weed Law Section 2-955 Subsection A, to every person who owns or controls land in Valley County, Nebraska, that noxious weeds standing, being, or growing on such land shall be destroyed or eradicated by effective cutting, tillage, cropping, pasturing, or treating with chemicals or other effective methods, or combination thereof, approved by the County Weed Control Superintendent, as often as may be required to prevent the weed from blooming and maturing seeds, or spreading by root, root stalks or other means.

Upon failure to observe this notice the county weed control superintendent is required to proceed pursuant to the law and have weeds destroyed by such method as he finds necessary, the expenses of which shall constitute a lien and be entered as a tax against the land, and be collected as other real estate taxes are collected, or by other means as provided by law.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL ARTICLES APPRECIATED

By Mike Johnson, Ord

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Ord Quiz for feature articles about the new Ord elementary school. Speaking for myself and, I'm sure, the staff, we appreciated them very much.

Since I am relatively "new" to the Ord educational system, having been hired as a principal in August, I feel I can detach myself from the school and make my next point without sounding as if I'm patting myself on the back.

District 5 voters have every right to be pleased for having had the foresight to vote for an open-concept building that points in the direction of individualized learning.

There are many things I could write about the building and program. However, I think the best indication is that representatives of other schools are coming in increasing numbers to see the building and discuss the program. We have had, or will have had, visitors from Arlington, Grand Island, Shelton, St. Mary's of David City and Clay Center, to name a few. One superintendent is being flown from Texas by Shaver and Company, architects.

Recently, John Hyde and Irene Sanders, team leaders, presented a review of the Ord Elementary System instructional program to the Nebraska Association of Elementary School Principals. The morning session had ten in the audience. The afternoon session was so packed, there wasn't enough space in the room to accommodate all who wished to attend. So you see, important news gets around and more people will then come.

But the foresight of the district and their truly fine building, would not be fulfilled or justified if it were not for the staff of teachers in Comstock and Ord working so diligently to propel the learning program forward.

Teaching in an individualized program requires longer hours of preparation and evaluation than did the old traditional program. The Ord Elementary staff has given those hours. I believe they will continue to do so.

Our Lives are Little Holes Punched in Computer Cards

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

What ever come of the idee of taxpayers sending in their returns in envelops of certain colors that would tell the Guvernment what income bracket they fell in? I hope it was forgot, but if there's a vote in it you can rest assured the plan will pop up agin one of these days.

Actual, Mister Editor, fer all I know they may already have a code color fer differunt incomes. I never pay that much attention. That is one advantage to not having enuff income to rate a color. We try to keep the taxes paid up on our little place, and that don't leave much income to be taxed these days.

The fellers was discussing all this spying by the Guvernment Saturday night at the country store, and the talk got around to Senator Sam Ervin's work to keep a little privacy fer the private citizen. The senator, allowed Paul Maly, ain't having a easy time of it.

Paul had saw where Senator Ervin reported the Guvernment has final admitted that computers can make mistakes, and that citizens can appeal to get computer errors changed. The trouble is, he allowed, Guvernment computer centers are free to exchange all kind of personal information about anybody, and if one of them machines makes a mistake, the same mistake is recorded in a dozen differunt places. This way, a citizen don't have much chanct ever gitting his record straight.

The senator is trying to git outfits like gas companies to admit their computers ain't perfect, and he says this is harder than showing the Guvernment the light. Onct a computer sends a feller a wrong bill, it's cheaper in the long run to pay it than to fight it, Paul said.

The way the Guvernment is rounding up things about us, it's hard to be suprised at what they think of. But this color coded envelop idee might catch on and spread to other collecting businesses. It would be somepun, fer instant, if the churches started sending out a envelop with two red stripes to ever member that ain't darked the doors in six month. And what if banks had three red stripes fer them that had got a couple months behind in their paymunts?

Practical speaking, Mister Editor, computers probable do some good and don't cause no more trouble than coded envelops would. I see computers is used to match homeless younguns with folks that want to adopt em, to match boys and girls fer dates and to keep Social Security records.

Our lives from cradle to grave is jest little holes in cards stored everwhere from Washington to the loan companies.

Yours truly,
GERANIUM JOE

7% Tax Credit Is Sought by Martin

Legislation has been introduced in Congress by Congressman Dave Martin which would reinstate the seven percent investment tax credit for farmers, ranchers and businessmen up to a limit of $25,000.

Mr. Martin said, "The purpose of this legislation is an attempt to stimulate business, particularly in the field of farm equipment, tractors, machinery and other items which would be subject to the 7% investment tax credit. It would give a small tax break to the small businessman and the family-size farmer, since it is restricted to apply only to total purchases of less than $25,000 for one year.

With the sluggishness in our economy still continuing, it appears that chances are vastly improved for enactment of this type of legislation.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Food in Mexico

Going into a grocery store in Mexico is a strange business.

Firstly, there are no doors nor windows. One steps through a wide opening, directly inside. At night a iron grill drops and locks.

The fancy new Super Mercados (a chain) have push carts and checkout stands. But nothing else in the shelves looks like Ord, Nebraska.

All labels are in Espanol. Colored pictures on the sides of the cans and packages are also different. And they have so many fruits and vegetables we've never heard of, so it is difficult to know what one is buying.

Many familiar foods, like sugar, are packaged in pliofilm sacks or some kind of cellophane. Many foods are packaged in small amounts, unheard of by us.

For example, you may buy six crackers. Or you may buy two eggs — or three — or five. Or one orange, or one slice of watermelon. Or one hard roll (delicious!).

They will give you a sample of cheese to taste. When did we last volunteer free samples — except in a "big promotion"?

Mayonnaise, sandwich spread etc., can be bought in about one ounce jars.

At a table are piles, beautifully arranged, of pineapple slices (so sweet and good); mangoes peeled and cut to look like pine cones, each impaled on a stick like a sucker.

Oranges will be squeezed while you wait. "They" say a good morning-after breakfast recipe is, drink a big swallow of orange juice, then beat one or two eggs into the remaining juice!

Sometimes it seems to me they eat all the time.

On a busy street corner directly outside a cafe, a huge oil drum of boiling water is full of hot sweet corn, which many people buy and happily munch as they trot down the street. Often the corn is red with chili powder — if you like. Or, they'll be munching a cucumber pink with chili powder.

Or, they'll nibble a taco, made to order — you may have any kind of meat in it, plus chopped onion, hot sauce, cabbage. They're very fond of tacos.

They are very fond of tamales. In fact, they eat much corn. A housewife will send a child with a pail to buy the makings of tortillas — it looks like a heap of yellowy cement. Or grayish cement. I prefer the pale dough, which is hand-patted out into blanco (white) tortillas, and thin. Though they can be made on a printing press affair, most women pat them out by hand — rapidly. The thinner the better.

They do anything to make a centavo. Ten centavos equals eight cents!

Yesterday, I saw a woman frying fish in the street in front of her house.

Today, I saw a little table, with careful mounds of unshelled peanuts piled on it, say ten peanuts to a stack.

The tiniest boys shine shoes and do a good polishing, too. I saw one tiny tad who couldn't carry the shoe shining box — it was dragging!

—Irma

J. P. Branden, 80, of Arcadia died at his home.

Fifteen school children watched five of their companions slowly freeze to death in a school bus when it was marooned during a recent blizzard near Towner, Colo.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

If you come upon a traffic accident, there are precautionary measures you should take, as per Nebraska Medical Association. Apply aid and comfort to the injured, but resist the impulse to move him. Improper movement of a victim with spinal inuries could make him a life-long cripple. Improper movement can also cause a broken rib to puncture a lng or increase hemorrhaging. Administer first aid where the victim is and wait for experienced ambulance personnel.

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

(NOTE: This week I'd like to relinquish my space to a "Letter to the Editor" from a former Quiz editor, Gerald Green. It was enjoyable getting this unsolicited letter from 'Gerry,' and I hope you enjoy it. KEL)

Dear Editor:

I have followed with interest the recently renewed battle between Mr. Leggett and the District 5 Board of Education. I thought Dr. Dale Karre's "facts" on administrative salaries in the March 25 issue of the Quiz were particularly noteworthy.

About Fact 1. Dr. Karre said that the Ord schools have four administrators who are being paid total salaries of $58,250 for the current year, and not five administrators who are being paid $70,000. Apparently Dr. Karre was referring to Superintendent William Gogan, High School Principal Bob Norton, Elementary Principal Mike Johnson, and High School Assistant Dave Van Nordheim.

I would like to know what Dr. Karre considers Mr. Eldon Buoy, the high school counselor who is not teaching a class now and has not taught one for several years.

Isn't his salary considered in the same manner as those of the four previously named administrators and set right along with their's? And when it is added to their's, aren't there indeed five administrators whose total salaries are in the neighborhood of $70,000 as Mr. Leggett stated?

I do not question the need for Mr. Buoy's services, but simply the fact that he is treated salary-wise as an administrator except when that fact is brought to the public's attention.

Also, in regard to Mrs. Alan Drake's letter asking for a public apology from Mr. Leggett for trying to run the schools:

I can see the need for closing school when rural children are not able to attend, and I certainly would not relish having to decide whether to hold school or discontinue it for the day. But if I were being paid $20,000 a year to make that decision, I would either make it or seek a job where the responsibility were less.

Thus, it's a little hard for me to fathom how Mrs. Drake can say Mr. Leggett was responsible for the school closing being delayed until 7:45 a.m. and a busload of kids were on the way to town in a blizzard.

Regardless of what he said in the Quiz, that decision was still the responsibility of school administrators. And it looks to me like with $58,250 worth of administration, a timely one could have been made.

Parents—Know the Drug Threat

The Child You Save May Be Your Own

By CLARENCE FOX

Valley County Sheriff

TODAY'S SUBJECT: The Appeal of Drugs to Teens

Here are some of the reasons given by youthful drug users for taking drugs, in a series of national surveys of young people in the high school-college age groups:

1. It is a way of "hitting back" at parents — getting even with them for the 1001 things parents do and make their children do in the growing-up process.
2. Taking drugs is a means of feeling love — love in general term, not physical necessarily — drugs are a way of returning to the basic fundamentals of life.
4. Some students said they felt drug exprimentation was in this modern day, a means and part of growing up.
5. Many said words to the effect that it was enjoyable to see their parents get upset about something genuinely. In short, taking drugs seems a method of telling the "old man" to go to hell with his hyprocisy.
6. There were those who gave the excuse that drugs were a release from daily tensions and the heavy demands of school work and offered relief from frustrations and the feeling of defeat!

Naturally, to combat the drug problem, we must know facts about drugs, but perhaps even more important is knowing some of the basic reasons why youngsters are using drugs in this beautiful land of opportunity we call America. The above reasons are only a smals fraction of the entire list, I am sure, but will give us all food for thought within our own personal family situations.

In trying to analyze drug misuse we must certainly bear in mind that children today are raised in a chemical society. They have come to know, from infancy, they can go to the doctor and get a shot for this ailment and a pill for that; it follows then that there is a good reason why children have built the impression they can be doctored chemically for any physical or emotional problem. And, let's not forget the influence of t.v. Wouldn't a child easily come to feel that there is a chemical cure for everything by watching t.v. commercials?

It has been reported that some of the best children, the articulate child who brings home good grades and may often be a student body officer . . . even these youngsters are high on the list of drug abusers. So then, another reason for trying drugs comes to the front: to be one of the group, to be accepted as equal, to be recognized as an un-square.

Some experts in the field of drug abuse say that it is time for the "generation gap" and all such nonsense to come to a dead halt. In other words, now is probably the best time for parents to take the reins once again and find out what is going on among the children. Let's begin to recognize the signs of a situation developing into a serious problem BEFORE it happens, instead of placing ourselves in the position of simply saying, "I'm sorry" after it has happened.

There are many professional people, doctors, ministers, family counselors, and your public services, that stand ready to help you solve problems BEFORE they become catastrophic in nature. Don't wait too long . . . that child you save may be your own!

Next week there will be another article for your consideration. Thanks for being with me.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Confidental Informants Proving Exceptionally Valuable to F.B.I.

BY PAUL SCOTT
Former Greeley Resident

There really isn't anything mysterious or secret about the Federal Bureau of Investigation's use of confidential informants to keep a watch on militant revolutionary groups including those now operating on college campuses.

This intelligence-gathering activity of the FBI is clearly spotlighted in the agency's annual report which was distributed widely throughout the U.S. earlier in the year. In a section titled "confidential informants" on page 6 of the report, the FBI states: "Extremely valuable to the FBI in its investigative and intelligence operations is criminal information gained through confidential informants who willingly cooperate with the assurance that their confidential relationship with the Bureau will be strictly maintained."

The FBI document stresses the value of these informants, which according to charts in the report now total more than 7,000. That is an increase of approximately 1,800 over the number the FBI used in 1966. The FBI says:

'On the basis of this information — which is often virtually unavailable from other sources — many important cases have been solved. In addition, these sources of information often alert the Bureau to planned crimes, thus making it possible for preventative steps to be taken."

In addition to information relating to Bureau cases, the FBI points out, the informants also provide valuable information relating to criminal matters beyond the Bureau's jurisdiction.

When this occurs, concerned law enforcement agencies throughout the U.S. are promptly advised. During the 1970 fiscal year, for instance, 544 individuals were arrested by other Federal agencies and 6,337 persons were arrested by state and local law enforcement agencies on the basis of such information.

Also attributed to FBI criminal informants were recoveries of money and merchandise valued at more than $6 million by state and local law enforcement agencies. Federal agencies realized recoveries valued at more than $4.5 million.

In a well orchestrated effort to rally college students against the FBI, several large dailies including the Washington Post in stories about stolen FBI documents distorted the code identification of informants.

In publishing details of stolen FBI documents mailed to them by a militant left-wing group, the Post carried reports that the designation "SI" stood for "Student Informer" and that initials "PSI" on some of the documents stood for "Paid Student Informer". The paper reported that the Justice Department denied this but refused to disclose what the initials mean.

What the Post failed to report to its readers is that one of stolen secret documents revealed that the designation carried a different meaning than their story indicated. Even without access to the secret documents, a person that examines the FBI's annual report can easily deduct what SI and PSI mean.

For instance, since most of the information gathered by the FBI informants deals with the internal security of this country, it is easy to see that SI must mean security informant.

PSI then must mean either "Possible or Potential Security Informant" if one is acquainted with the way the FBI closely checks out its informants and their reliability before using them in important cases. Using this line of reasoning, one can also determine that CI must mean Criminal Informant.

The $64 question that a Congressional Committee ought to look into is why did the influential Washington Post, which is helping to ramrod the campaign to force the retirement of Hoover, give its readers the definite inference that "SI and PSI" mean student informers.

An East-coast policeman would still be alive today if another agency of government had made the rapid use of information that the FBI does from informants.

A student learning that a group of militants were planning to rob a bank passed the information along to the office of another government agency (not the FBI) in one East Coast city. The information was immediately sent to the Washington Headquarters of that agency.

However, top officials of that agency for reasons still unclear did not distribute the warning to the FBI or to the local police on the scene. The bank was hit the next day and a policeman was gunned down during the robbery.

Had the information been given to the FBI office in that city, the agent in charge following the regular routine would have alerted local police and notified the FBI headquarters in Washington. Then, the militants could have been placed under close surveillance and the robbery nipped in the bud.

As reported in an earlier column, the drive to oust Hoover is part of a well planned campaign to destroy FBI security files and restrict its investigative and information gathering activities of subversives.

White House aides say President Nixon favors Miami Beach as the site for the 1972 Republican National Convention. Other cities reported to be in the running include San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Houston, and Philadelphia . . . Senator Edmund Muskie (D. Me.) says it will cost in the neighborhood of 8 million dollars for him to run in next year's presidential primaries.

Come to Church

This Week's Meditation

Read Luke 3:2-11

Prepare ye the way of the Lord . . . And all flesh shall see the salvation of God. — Luke 2:4,6

A young man for want of something else to do, decided to attend a church service one Sunday morning. The music and sermon so stirred his soul that his life was changed completely. No longer did he refuse to help the poor and needy. When asked about his changed life, he replied, "I am now trying to live as God wishes."

God calls all of us to live according to His commandments, to be governed by Christian love, to carry the principles of our religion into all actions.

Religion involves far more than praying a few minutes morning and evening, or reading a chapter in the Bible, or attending church on Sunday. Religion is living out the principles of Christ each day of our lives. Our entire life must be made religious in the sense that everything is done with the thought of pleasing God, which includes doing no ill to one's neighbor. If we do this, our lives will be radically changed and happier.

PRAYER: Dear God, grant that we may do all in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. Help us to be living witnesses for Him this day and every day. We ask these things in His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Is my way of life governed by awareness of God's presence and will?

Soil, Water Conservation On County Farms Shown

Soil Tour Sees Carl Schwartzlander Farm Features

The group which went on the soil and water conservation tour are shown above on the Carl Schwartzlander farm. At left is Mr. Schwartzlander, next to him is Harold Garnick, member of the board of supervisors of Soil and Water Conservation district; then Al Dunbar, conservation technician with the Soil Conservation service; Charles Zangger, member of SWCD; Howard Paulsen, district conservationist SCS; Rev. Clarence Campbell, pastor of First United Methodist church of Ord; Willis Sanders, conservation technician SCS; Russell Hackel, SWCD board member; Oscar Larsen, SWCD board member, and Rev. Ken Bunnell, pastor of Ord Presbyterian church. Not shown is Rev. Louis Trebus, pastor of Bethany Lutheran church in Ord who went on the morning tour only.

Soil Group Sees Mike Hulinsky Drop Inlet Layout

Here the group are studying a drop inlet structure on the Mike Hulinsky farm. The metal cage in foreground has a trash rack, to aid in keeping the water flow open. 12 inch corrugated pipe connects beneath the ground and goes through the detention dike on which the men are standing, and comes out 204 feet further on and 45 feet lower. A diversion terrace collects water from a large area to this drop inlet. High winds forced members of the group to wear parkas over their heads or to bundle up.

Soil Unit Notes Eldon Kokes Irrigation Benches

Soil Officials Note Hulinsky Diversion Terrace

This view on Mike Hulinsky farm is a diversion terrace, above a deep ravine at left. Water is retained by terrace, about ten feet wide, as seen at right center, and runs off to field in rear of picture. Thus all future erosion of the edge of the ravine is stopped. Parrallel terraces are also in place to the right of the picture and these further retain rainfall on the land.

Newest practices in soil and water conservation were depicted by staff of the Soil Conservation service to the board of directors of Valley County Soil and Water Conservation district in the annual tour last Thursday, Apr. 8.

Pastors of all churches of the county, in conjunction with national Soil Stewardship week May 16, were also invited to go on the tour. Church programs, featuring the week, have been also sent all churches.

15 farms in the county were visited in the morning trip, and 19 in the afternoon. The work is considered highly important to the future of farming in Valley county and central Nebraska as improved soil and more water are key factors in short term and long term farm income. Also, all cities and villages in Nebraska benefit from such projects, as farm income is vital to their future growth.

On the Anthony Kokes farm, a detention dam, waterway, and leveling were all constructed since 1970. Flood water and irrigation runoff is taken around a field.

On the Harold Garnick farm, a farmstead windbreak planted in 1961 was inspected.

On the Joe Ulrich farm, a detention dam constructed in 1968 was viewed. This has 24 inch barrell and culvert to control runoff from 800 acres of land.

On Wayne Gregory farm, a tailwater recovery pit was checked. This collects irrigation runoff as well as natural runoff. Water is pumped back to head of field through surface pipe. Pit capacity is approximately 1½ acre feet.

On Ernest Maly farm, a field windbreak which was planted in 1963 was seen. This cuts wind erosion on the land.

On Thead Nelson farm, an irrigation development, detention dam east of farmstead, terraces, diversion, development and seeding of lowland pasture and hayland was seen.

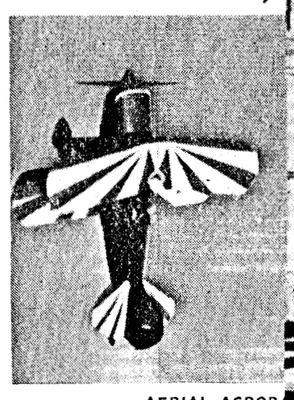
Ord's Airport Dedication American Acrobatic Star;



AERIAL ACROBA

Ord's airport dedication in June will feature sky-divers, a mock dog-fight between radio controlled model planes, a fly-in breakfast for farmers and acrobatic flying by Chuck Carothers, who placed in the top four in a national aerobatic championship meet.

Turns, loops, flips and other exciting aerial maneuvers, which trail smoke, will be part of the Carother demonstration. He has a stub-wing power-house stunt plane, which does tail over prop tumbles, upside down maneuvers, vertical climbing and other gyrations.

Ord will be dedicating the new $60,000 runway, which has been been completed. The airport now is operated by the Airport Authority, board members of which are Dr. Murray E. Markley, Lynn Chichester, Frank Kapustka, Bob Anderson and Don Blaha. Roland R. Norman, Ord postmaster, is Ord's Chamber airport dedication chairman.

Other events on Ord's businessmen's calendar is the meeting today, Apr. 15 in Omaha by University of Nebraska Medical school officers. A community day will feature attractions of small Nebraska towns for general practitioner doctors. J. Marvin Weems will represent the Ord Chamber of Commerce at the meeting and will be aided by Bill French, Chamber manager; Don Blaha, Jim McCready, Mike Johnson, Dr. Glen Auble, Mrs. Gladys Weckbach and others. Mr. French is expected to fly down one load of Ord businessmen and the rest will go by car. Slides and other material relating to Ord will be shown prospective doctors.

At the Chamber meeting Apr. 8 in Elks club, it was brought out that doctors from Korea have made excellent showing in this country, and are meeting all requirements. However, as the average physician can earn $2,000 a month, elsewhere, it may be necessary to aid them financially when they first come. Don Blaha reported that his brother,

NFO Considering Feeder Calf Sale

A multi-county meeting of the National Farmers Organization will be in Sargent Monday at 8 p.m. in Oscar's Cafe, according to Lawrence Welniak, Elyria, president. 100 farmers are expected to attend.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss a member to member feeder calf sale. All NFO members in Valley, Loup, Sherman, Garfield and Custer counties are invited to the Monday sessions.

MOTORIST KILLED

Death struck Norbert Chelewski of Loup City, who died in a one car accident Sunday morning at 10 a.m. in Valley county hospital. He had been involved in an accident two miles west and one mile south of Leonard Jacob's corner about 5 a.m. and was found at 7:30 a.m. He was alone in the car at the time. No other vehicle was involved.

REAL ESTATE TAX

Real estate taxes are due now with first half payments being delinquent May 1, according to Valley county treasurer's office.

Highway 22 Work Starting As Supplies Come in; Lines Moved

Construction has begun on Nebraska Highway 22, from North Loup west to Nebraska Highway 70, according to the Nebraska Department of Roads.

Work scheduled with the following costs includes: grading, $224,213; concrete pavement, $678,986; culverts, $158,963; bridge, $49,562; and guard rail, $1,855.

The NDOR has contracted Missouri Valley Construction company of Grand Island to do the work. The estimated completion date is October 16.

Through traffic will be routed around the project via Nebraska Highway 11, from North Loup to Ord and via Nebraska Highway 70 from Ord south. The contractor will maintain traffic originating at, or destined for, points within the project limits via the nearest intersecting public roads.

Nebraska Department of Roads project engineer is B. A. Bohy of Grand Island under the supervision of District Engineer J. W. Reed also of Grand Island.

Linemen have been at work on the scene for a week moving electric power poles, so as to allow for construction of the wider roadway. Also, supplies are being stockpiled.

Ready mix concrete for the big construction, largest concrete roadway in Valley county, will be supplied by Ord firms. A fleet of trucks will be used to haul the mix from Ord to the big automatic concrete laying machine.

National Library Week Begins Soon; Ord Loans 1,200 Books

National Library Week is being observed next week, with the Ord township library, which serves Ord, taking part in the event along with thousand of libraries throughout America.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 books a month are loaned out by the Ord library and Mrs. Ida Caselton is librarian. Members of the township board are Adrian Remington, Mrs. Carson Rogers, and Lloyd Griffith.

Mrs. Caselton said, "Libraries are storehouses of knowledge that perpetuates civilization from one generation to another. Education is impossible without resort to the great books which have been produced over the centuries. It is no coincidence that the first act of any despot is to destroy the indirect records of the growth of democracy which can be found in any library."

Present building, west of the county square by one block, was put up in 1938-1939 by funds from a trust of the old library association and from organization donations. The balance of funds came from federal W.P.A. funds. The lotwas purchased in 1936 and includes the service station next door.

Today, the Ord library is financed by a mill levy and rental from the corner lot.

Present members of the library board are Mrs. Lucille Tolen, president; Mrs. Jessie Gregory, vice president; Raymond Pocock, secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Andreessen and Ray Smith.

First library in Ord was started in 1889 when a benefit entertainment took place in the Methodist church. Persons instrumental in starting one were S. S. Gillespie, E. J. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. M. Combs, H. L. Combs, Mrs. Franklin Laverty and Mrs. Provins.

Early librarian served without pay. Nina Smith became the first regular librarian and was appointed in 1925. Others who served included Mrs. D. Tolbert, Grace Pullen, Mrs. Frank T. Johnson, and Mrs. Elsie Wiberg. Prior to Mrs. Ida Caselton, Mamie Smith served from 1940 to 1968.

Burning in City Now Prohibited

Due to extremely dry weather, and prohibition of burning in large sections of Nebraska by state fire marshall, Ord's fire department chief Ivan Sorensen and fire and judiciary council committee chairman, Marvin Scheideler have recommended no burning for householders in the city.

Because of the ease with which flames can spread, the council and fire department have asked the cooperation of all citizens. As soon as it rains, the no-burning regulation will be rescinded.

Mayor Joe Ruzicka said the prohibition applies also to the city dump, even though full-time employees are there to oversee such fires. "The situation is too critical to run the risk of having any fire get out of control," he said.

RETAIL TRADES

A luncheon meeting for members of the Retail Trades committee will be in the Veterans club Wednesday, Apr. 21 at noon, according to Bill French, Chamber of Commerce manager. Discussion of Thursday night openings and other retail promotion projects for the coming summer is planned. Customer parking program will also be studied. Kay Goodsell and Bob Moyer will preside at the luncheon.

Invitational Draw More

More than 30 schools are to take to the field in Ord Friday, Apr. 16, for a day long attack on running and field track records. The events will take place on the athletic field and are open to the public without charge.

The 28th annual running will be divided into Class A and Class B schools, with the larger schools in the first class, and smaller ones in the second class.

Entries have been coming in during the Easter vacation, with 21 Class B schools entered up to Wednesday morning, and six class A schools listed. Five other schools in class B are also expected, and entries were open until Wednesday evening.

Class A schools entered are Minden, Grand Island NW, Grand Island Catholic, Broken Bow, St. Paul, and Ord.

Class B schools are Halsey-Dunning, Litchfield, Taylor, Elba, Kearney Catholic, Pleasanton, Stromsburg, Arnold, Greeley, Sargent, Mullen, Oconto, Spalding Academy, Loup City, Amherst, Ravenna, Arcadia, Polk, Bartlett, Cairo - Centura, and Anselmo-Merna.

Other Class B schools expected include Palmer, Burwell, North Loup-Scotia, Wolbach, and Ansley.

School will be closed Friday at Ord high, but the elementary school will be in session. School buses will run Friday, but only pick up elementary students.

Oldest record holders in class A include a 1955 100 yard dash by Phillips of Burwell in 10 flat; and a 220 yard dash by the same man the same year of 23.3. Haught of Ravenna matched that time in 1969. In Class B, Witter of Atkinson in 1949 set a tournament record in the discus of 142 feet which still stands.

Ord ran at Wrangler Relays Apr. 7 and placed fifth. Grand Island N.W., and Valentine had 62½, West Holt 56, Broken Bow 50, and Ord 40. Ord won the mile relay, when Suminski, Cahill, Farmer and Sich flashed home the winners. Chants took second in the mile medley relay with Cahill, Suminski, Fuss and Sich composing the runners.

North Loup-Scotia placed high in their division with 21, but Arcadia was able to snare only 2½ points.

BANKER MEETING

Nebraska bankers will hear about the latest developments in the battle with inflation — and about significant business, financial, and agricultural trends — during a series of six economic forums scheduled for the state in April. Meetings are planned for Omaha, April 13; Lincoln, April 14; Norfolk, April 15; Grand Island, April 20; North Platte, April 21; and Scottsbluff, April 22.

The meetings are sponsored by the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City in cooperation with the Nebraska Bankers Association.

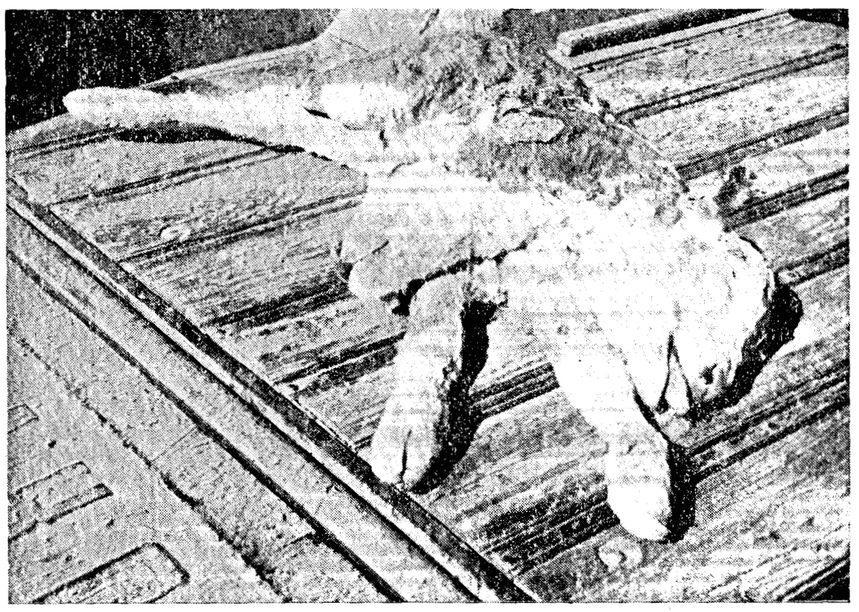
Prankster Sign: "County Jail"

Ord has no city jail, as the one on the top floor of the court house was condemned two years ago. This has led to many jokes about the city being a wide-open town (lawbreakers are actually just taken to other communities with jails), or that the people are so healthy, they just live peacefully with their neighbors. However, one prankster, without indicating what reason he believes in, wrote a sign, "Valley County Jail?" and fastened it to the door of the storage shed on east side of court house building over the weekend.



Two-Headed Calf Born in Hereford Herd at Elyria

This two-headed calf was born on the farm of Lawrence Welniak of Elyria Sunday night. Both heads are perfectly formed and completely developed, but one was turned to the rear during birth and so the calf was born dead. It was a Hereford. Such births only happen about once every 30 years in a county.

Fertilizer Stock Rated Adequate

The United States fertilizer industry has enough production capacity to meet the farmers' expected needs during 1971. Even so, weather and transportation problems may cause temporary shortages of fertilizer products during the spring season.

The farmer is expected to pay about 10% more for his fertilizer in 1971 than he paid in 1970. Fertilizer prices had been declining for several years. They "bottomed out" in 1969, and increased a bit during 1970. The additional 10% increase is expected this year.

These are the findings of a report prepared by the Economic Research Service of U.S. Department of Agriculture. The report is entitled Fertilizer Situation, and describes trends in U. S. production and consumption of fertilizers.

The study found that production capacity is sufficient to provide U. S. farmers with their requirements for all three primary plant nutrients — nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Much of the U. S. potash requirements will be furnished from Canada.

CREDIT RATINGS

A comprehensive change in Dun & Bradstreet's system of credit rating key symbols that will result in new rating designations for all of the 136 commercial businesses in Valley County reported by D&B has been announced by Lawrence T. McGinley district manager of the Omaha office. The changeover, which will become effective May 1, simplifies the present rating key system.

Soil, Water

On Dave Shoemaker land, an open drain and land shaping work was shown which improves farmability of lowland field.

Ed Osentowski's farm had special grass seeding done in 1970, terraces, diversion, waterway, land leveling, river pump station, and underground pipeline.

On Orel Koelling farm, a drop structure made in conjunction with county road department lets water down steep sandy slope, without erosion hazard.

Gerald Rainforth farm shows a completed diversion, contour leveling with terraces, and waterway. Now under construction is a land leveling project, more waterways, and tailwater recovery system.

Bill Bremer land features parallel terraces, towline sprinkler system, diversions, and detention dams.

Arvin Bredthauer farm has contour bench leveling constructed in 1956, with narrow benches and numerous curves. Today, the land would be leveled and bench made uniform.

Bryan Peterson has center pivot sprinkers.

Lloyd Geweke has contour bench leveling with underground pipe in head lands as constructed in 1970.

Ernest Vodehnal has terraces, grass seeding, grade stabilization structure, detention dam, 1963 trees plantings, and site already prepared for 1971 tree planting.

In the afternoon, Fred Dubas fish ponds were shown. They were constructed in 1956, 1964 and trees were put in those years and in 1967.

John Durand land featured bench leveling of a field construct in 1970 which psoduced 110 bushels of corn. Also bench leveling near the farmstead was constructen in 1970 and additional leveling is planned for this year.

J. B. Ferguson had bench leveling constructed about 1956. Today's design would be wider and straighter.

Carl Schwartzlander farm featured buried irrigation lines, land leveling, irrigated pasture, erosion control drop structure, and range dams.

Sam Cassidy feedlot featured diversion and detention dam above feedlots to cut off foreign drainage. Waterway below lots carries off additional drainage. 70,000 cubic yards of earth were moved in constructing conservation measures and in shaping lots.

Clarence Davenport shelterbelt was of iedar trees planted in 1958. Trees were given good care until well established.

Mike Hulinsky farm showed erosion control drop structure, constructed to control overfall created by drainage from lagoon. Diverted water feeds into the drop structure. Parallel terraces facilite farming, thus, of a problem area.

Gilbert Seidel land shows a shelterbelt planted in 1970 to give protection to a newly developed farmstead.

Ed Hulinsky has three drop structures in series to let water down 50 feet from lagoon area to canyon bottom. Seeding was done on area where old gully was shaped.

Henry Bruha farm featured a shelter belt planted 1967.

Joe Skolil and Jerry Krikac farm showed a fence line dike and drop structure for controlling overfall. Detention dam is 200 yards downstream in Krikac pasture.

Bob Bruha has a shelter belt planted in 1967 which would allow cleaning out of old trees between house and new planting.

Eldon Kokes features bench leveling with drop structures at lower end. Also, buried irrigation pipe, and surface pipe from well west along head of field to connect to underground line across canyon to supply additional acreage.

Lew Bilka has a drop structure from lagoon area, which was one of first in the county. It was installed in the early 1950's. Drop pipe was extended five years ago. Terraces and grass seeding was done in 1956.

Ted Walahoski had an erosion control dam installed in 1969. It collects natural runoff as well as irrigation tailwater and lets it down to a safe elevation.

Jim Kolar has a principal spillway installed in old dam which had lost capacity due to silting. A dike and drop structures controls overfalls on lower side of cropland. Terraces and grass seeding were shown on a higher area of cropland.

Steve Kapustka land features land leveling, underground irrigation pipe southeast from well through low area to hill top. Grass stabilization structure is located southwest of farmstead. Grass seeding established about 12 years ago, and has been in full production for several years. Diversion and waterway around cropland takes water to drop structure on south boundary line of the farm.

John Paprocki farm featured grass seedings of 1964, 1967, and 1969.

Leonard Lech land depicted underground pipe, land leveling, diversion, waterway; all of which were done in 1970.

Airport

ber approved a policy of employee parking on the side of the courthouse square which faces the courthouse. All parking thus, in front of stores will be open for customers. All employes in the city are asked to do this now.

Dr. Glen Auble reported that 25,000 brochures will be printed this year, extolling Ord as a vacation center and qualified for light industry. He is still seeking to upgrade certain color photographs, and then the printing will start. The brochures will be all four-color.

A drive is underway for more backers to the Ord's Chamber free movie show. Shows are being held every Saturday afternoon. 200 more persons are needed to donate $4 each so the shows can be certain of running a reasonable number of weeks. Funds are ahead now for financing at least a month more.

A clean-up - fix-up campaign late in April is also being planned. Jim Clement is Chamber chairman in charge. Chamber-ship membership is 52 now paid up but target goal is 125.

What will they think of next? Now it's buttons presewn to iron-on patches. Junior's front-lawn wrestling matches may still result in buttons missing, but instead of a needle and thread, all you need is your iron.

And your teen-age daughter? Let's face it, Mom. She never learned to sew on buttons like you and probably doesn't want to. But she's particular about her appearance and might find it fun replacing a broken button now, with a simple whisk of the iron.

Granny may set back tapping her toe while she listens to all this button talk—and no wonder. Never in her life had she heard of an iron-on button? You may even be in for a lecture about how easy things are now compared to in the old days. And she has good reason to remind us? Guess we could call it a new button brainstorm!

Mrs. Lyle Flynn, formerly Alice Johnson, writes that they have an American Field Service student with them this school year—a boy from Sweden. The Flynns' youngest, Randy, is a senior in high school. Their home is at Boone, Ia.

The seventh and eighth grade Home Ec girls proved themselves delightful hostesses recently. On Apr. 1 the seventh graders entertained their moms (and some grandmothers, as well) at a special tea. They had worked hard perfecting all the party details — planning, decorations, entertainment and food — and even pooled their money to buy their teacher, Mrs. Wayne Miller, a corsage for the occasion.

The very next morning, the eight hgraders took a turn with a similar party. This time a style show was the main entertainment. A nice selection of spring-looking pant outfits and dresses were modeled — each their own sewing project.

I felt honored — and proud — to be a guest at both events.

Several added requests for the Spiced Tea concoction printed months ago in this column has prompted me to offer the recipe again this week, so here goes . . . ¾ c. instant tea (more to taste); ¾ c. Tang; ½ pkg. instant lemonade mix; ¼ to ½ t. cinnamon and ¼ to ½ t. cloves. Add sugar to taste, starting with a ½ cup. Stir every time before using.

Mrs. A. T. Wilson Nears 99th Birthday

Mrs. A. T. Wilson, a longtime resident of the Arcadia community, who now makes her home at the Rest Home in Curtis will celebrate her 99th birthday on Apr. 22. Greetings may be sent to Mrs. Wilson at Box 14, Curtis, Neb., 69025.

Mrs. Wilson and the late Mr. Wilson — who died in 1967 — called Arcadia their home for many years — from 1902 until 1958. They then moved to Osceola. The couple already have established a great record for longevity as Mr. Wilson lived to mark his 100th year.

Karen Crane Is Seven; Sister Writes Story

Karen Crane and 10 of her friends went to the Ord Park for lunch Tuesday to celebrate her seventh birthday.

Those present were Debbie Meese, Judy and Lisa Rasmussen, Lisa Sears, Shannon Snow, Marlene Ellingson, Joan Bosworth, Tammy Miller, Penny Grantham, Brant Taylor, Sue and Peter Crane.

The nine girls and two boys played hard to keep warm in the cool spring weather and the wind blew out the candles on the cake before Karen could. In spite of this Karen had a good time and was a tired, happy girl at the end of the day.

(This report, written by Sue Crane, a sixth grader at Ord Elementary School, was used as her class assignment in news writing.)

Kearney College Students Wed In Apr. 3 Ceremony at Elyria

Melvin and Linda . . . to live in Kearney

Wedding voews were exchanged between Linda Petska and Melvin Linke, Apr. 3, at St. Mary's Catholic Church of Elyria. The Rev. Al Godlewski officiated at the 4 p.m. double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Petska of Elyria and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Linke of Ord.

Ruth Linke of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., a sister of the groom, was organist. Mrs. Jon Rose of Hastings was soloist. Special selections included, "One Hand, One Heart" and "More."

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a high-fitted A-line gown. The floor-length creation of ivory crepe was fashioned by the bride. A high rounded neckline accented by pearl and sequins trim accented the bodice. The full-length bishop sleeves, cuffed at the wrists, were trimmed in pearls and sequins as was the detachable chapel-length train. Her full length mantilla veil of silk illusion was held by a band of matching trim. A single lavender orchid and clusters of hyacinths made up the bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was JoAnn Papiernik of Lincoln. She wore a deep purple floor length gown with contrasting lavendar trim accenting a high fitted waistline, slash neckline and full long sleeves. Bridesmaids were Kathi Geiser of Kearney and Susan Petska, sister of the bride. Their gowns of lavender and deep purple trim were in the same style as that of the maid of honor. Each attendant carried a single long-stemmed white mum.

Best man for his brother was John Linke of Kearney. Other attendants were Dennis Linke of Grand Island and Dan Radil of Kearney. Ushers were Roger Petska, brother of the bride, of North Platte, Bill Morrow of Kearney and Steve Clark, also of Kearney.

Suzette Morrow, niece of the groom, and Jeff Petska, nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer. Suzette's dress was styled similarly to those of the bridesmaids. She carried a basket filled with rose petals.

A reception at the Elks Club in Ord followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Petska of Ord were host and hostess. Christy Hoke of Kearney registered the guests.

At the reception table were Ruth Linke, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Mrs. Ernie Morrow, Scotia, Mrs. Roger Petska, North Platte; Mrs. Ed Reeve, Holly, Colo., and Jane Petska, Ord. Connie Petska, Jennifer Polk and Kathy Hayes, cousins of the bride, served the bridal table.

Presiding at the gift table were Janet Janda, Shirley Peterson and Mrs. Richard Krahulik.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Petska of Ord, grandparents of the bride.

The bride and groom are graduates of Ord High School. They will make their home in Kearney where both attend Kearney State College.

Vere-Cording Rites To Be May 1 Event

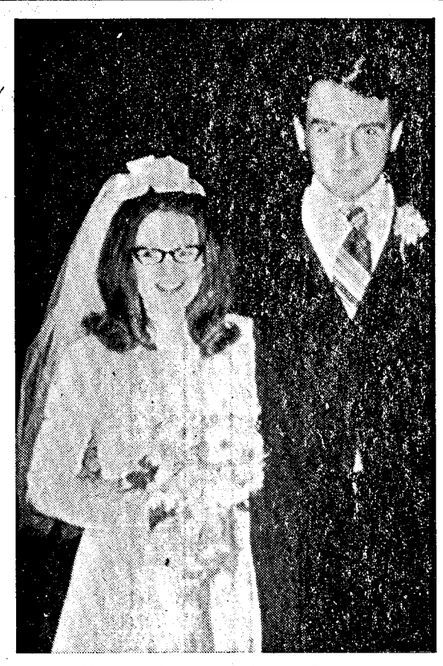
Mrs. Delores Vore of North Loup announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Delores Lee Vore, to David Cording, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cording of Hebron.

Miss Vore is a student at the University of Nebraska, majoring in English. Her fiance, also attends the university in Lincoln as a pre-law student.

A 4 p.m. wedding on May 1 at Grace Lutheran Church in Hebron is planned.

Home From Colorado

Dwain Bartu of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Visek of Comstock spent several days last week in Colorado. They visited the Francis Simoens family at Fort Collins, Colo. Mrs. Visek and Mrs. Simoens are sisters. They also spent some time with friends and relatives at Loveland, Estes Park and Denver.



Newlyweds . . . Linda and Daniel

Linda Hruza-Daniel Davenport Wed; Will Live Near Burwell

United in marriage at the Christian Church of Burwell on Mar. 27 were Linda Hruza, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Hruza of Ericson and Daniel Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davenport of Burwell.

The 2:30 p.m. double-ring ceremony performed by Pastor Philip Prickett took place before an altar flanked with white gladiolas, white daisies and seven branch candelabra.

Organ music was provided by Cindy Huffman of Burwell. She accompanied Betty Nelson of Ord and Carl Suminski, cousin of the bride, of Ord who sang the "Love Theme" from Romeo and Juliet and "Our Wedding Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by by her parents, wore a floor length gown of white satin. The empire, princess styled dress featured a lace bodice with bridal sleeves and detachable train. A crown of flowers accented with pearls held the elbow length veil of bridal illusion. White daisies highlighted with Baby's Breath, formed her bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Connie Hruza of Hastings, cousin of the bride. Judy Held of Ericson was bridesmaid. They wore dresses of light blue and carried bouquets of white mums.

Flower girl Jeannie Hruza, cousin of the bride, wore a white dress with blue lace trim and carried a basket of daisies. Kevin Hruza, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Best man was Don Koger and groomsman was the bride's brother, Rich Hruza. Larry Donner, cousin of the groom, and Albert Hruza, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Dorothy Davenport, sister of the groom and Marjorie Hruza, sister of the bride, were candlelighters.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception after the ceremony in the church basement with Mrs. Marvin Donner, aunt of the groom, as hostess. Nola Nelson of Denver, Colo., and Jean Psota of Ord cared for the gifts. The groom's sister, Mrs. Peg Helgath served punch and Mrs. Laura Hynek served coffee. Sharon Hruza and Diane Hynek, cousins of the bride, served the bridal party. The Church Worker's Society assisted with varied reception tasks.

Special guests, Mrs. Augusta Hruza, Mrs. Ben Greenland, Harold Qwens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davenport and Mrs. Roy Reineke, grandparents of the bride and groom.

The couple will make their home near Burwell.

Mary Anne Gould-Dale Paider Say Vows at Arcadia Church

Lighted candles and arrangements of daisies appointed the altar of the United Methodist Church in Arcadia for the wedding of Mary Anne Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Gould of Arcadia and Dale E. Paider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Paider of Ord on Apr. 3. The double ring ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Betty Jackson. Mrs. Joy Lutz, organist, accompanied Charles Gould, brother of the bride, who sang "Because", "The Wedding Prayer" and "A Time For Us."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding she chose a gown of satin peau and chiffon. The high waisted bodice of satin peau featured a Victorian collar and was accented by daisies. A touch of color on the collar was provided by a cameo, a gift of the groom. The full sleeves of chiffon were cuffed in satin peau. The A-line skirt of satin peau was covered with a chiffon overskirt. Her floor length veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried a white Bible with stephanotis entwined in ribbons.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Shirley King of Kearney. Denice Gould, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They appeared in floor length gowns of mint green voile accented with sleeves ending in ruffles. They wore green chokers with cameo insets and headbands matching the dresses. Each carried a basket of daisies trimmed with green ribbon.

The gowns of the bride and her attendants were created by the bride's mother.

Best man was John Paider, cousin of the groom, of North Loup. Delmer Dietz was the groomsman. Ushers were Mike King of Kearney, Randy McCall of Lincoln, Jim Hawley and Ron Hurlburt.

The candles were lighted by Dennis Gould of Kearney and Rodney Anderson of Lincoln, both cousins of the bride.

Special guests were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. George Paider.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. JoAnn Anderson of Lincoln, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Yvonne Kremer of Grand Island, cousin of the groom, cut and served the cake which was baked and decorated by Mrs. Artice Fells. Mrs. Fern Waddel poured the coffee and Florne Gould, aunt of the bride, served the punch. Merilee Sell registered the guests and Mrs. Dorothy Gould of Kearney, aunt of the bride, assisted with the flowers. Serving the bridal table and assisting with the gifts were Nancy Paider of North Loup, cousin of the groom; Susan Grossart of Wolbach; Mary Molt of Spalding; Sheryl Haddix of Overton and Lynn Elliott.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 3312 Avenue E., Kearney.

Harry Clement had Easter dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Long.

More Gas Power May be Available; Irrigation Meeting Set for Today

More areas may be eligible for natural gas power for irrigation pumping if plans of the Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas company work out. A meeting is being held this evening, Apr. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in Veterans club in Ord to contact interested farmers. The meting is open to the public.

A new line may run northeast of Ord along Highway 70 and if enough interest is shown, all the way to Ericson. Milford Jamison of the irrigation department of the company, whose home office is in Hastings, will be chief speaker.

Ivan Sorensen, district manager in Ord, will preside. Bill Whaley, member of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, will also be present and may speak.

The company may put in the line, which would serve not only farm irrigation pumping, but also heating and all other farm needs. However, they would like reasonable assurance they can secure the heavy initial investment costs involved.

The line could run 18 to 20 mil northeast of Ord. The exact distance will depend entirely on the reaction of farmers in the area.

At present, Kansas - Nebraska has pipelines coming into Valley county from the south, and these cover Arcadia, North Loup, Comstock, Elyria, Burwell and all communities to the west and east. If the new line goes in, this would secure gas power for farmers in most areas of the county.

Limits of three to a person will be observed, but more can be ordered by any interested individual. 300 will be given away in Ord, 150 in North Loup, and 100 in Arcadia.

It is planned to distribute trees in Ord, Saturday, Apr. 17th, starting at 9 a.m. and as long as the trees last. They will be distributed on a first come basis. They will be distributed on the street in front of the Soil Conservation Service Office.

Willis Sanders from the Soil Conservation Service Office who is handling most of the tree planting program for SCS will be in charge of the distribution in Ord. County Agent, John Schade, and members of the Ord Chapter of FFA will assist in the distribution.

The Arcadia Garden Club in Arcadia will make their own distribution of trees, sponsored by them, as will the North Loup Lions Club in North Loup. The North Loup Lions club plans to distribute trees in North Loup Thursday evening, if the trees are on hand, otherwise, they will distribute them on Monday evening.

In Ord, three trees will be available for a farm, ranch or city dwelling free of charge to an adult individual who will agree to plant and care for the trees. The varieties available in Ord will be Backberry, Hard or Sugar Maple, Silver Maple and Red Oak. These trees are 18 to 24 inches high. The trees in Ord are sponsored by the Valley County SWCD and the Ord Rotary Club.

New Ownership for Valley Drive-In

The Valley Drive-In theatre in North Loup has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Duane Schernikau of Ord. It will open for the season Apr. 29th and will feature shows six nights a week, with the theater closed Wednesdays. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Severance have operated the business for the past two years.

Mrs. Hefferon Dies

Mrs. Ella Hefferon — the former Ella Gray who lived in the Elyria vicinity until early womanhood — died Apr. 2 in California.

Immediate survivors include a sister Mrs. Bessie Schuyler of Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle VanZandt and Bill travelled to Okay, Okla. for an Easter visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Zaruba and son. They left Ord Thursday and returned home on Monday. Bill VanZandt spent the remainder of his holiday vacation from classes at Kearney College at the Weldon Kleckner farm near Mason City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruha and family of Scotia were Saturday supper and Sunday dinner guests of Mr. an Mrs. Will Penas. Overnight guests, Saturday, at the Penas home were Mr. and Mrs. Wencel Bruha and family of Grand Island. The Bruha family had Easter dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Wencel Bruha, Sr.

Greatly Enthused

Connie King was hostess Apr. 1 to the Merry Miras 4-H Club. Janice Mroczek is the club president. Dues for the year were set at $ .5o per member.

Members, eager to begin projects for the year, received their project information and record books.

In the absence of Mrs. Alma Bredthauer, junior leaders Vicky Bredthauer, Gretchen Foth and Patty Peterson led the group. The meeting closed with games and singing. Connie King, reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Travis had their family as holiday house-guests. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Luhrs and three sons of Imperial arrived Friday night staying until Sunday evening. The Luhrs eldest son, Arthur, a student at the University of Nebraska, joined the family in Ord from Friday until Sunday.

In Hospital

Steve Palser, son of Mrs. Dorothy Palser of Ord, is still hospitalized in Grand Island convalescing from an eye injury of Apr. 6. Reports indicate that he is "improving" but that his vision is still hazy. It is necessary that he be kept very quiet.

"Get Well" messages may be sent to Steve in care of Room 154, St. Francis Hospital, Grand Island, Neb. 68801.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fast and family of Hastings were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bresley. Dean Bresley and his mother-in-law Mrs. Marie Christensen of St. Paul were added dinner guests. Mrs. Christensen is staying at the Bresley country home while Mrs. Dean Bresley is in Washington, D. C.

Monday Meeting

Newcomers Club is scheduled to meet Monday evening (Apr. 19) at the Veterans Club in Ord. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Any newcomer to Ord — or Ord oldster as well — interested in playing cards with this group is invited to call Mrs. M. F. (Margaret) Steinwart for further details.

Marilyn Rutar of Omaha and Larry Rutar of Grand Island arrived Thursday to spend the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutar.

Card of Thanks

I want to thank each and everyone who visited me while I was in the hospital and since returning home for all the food that was brought to the home.

I want to thank Dr. Markley and the hospital staff for the wonderful care they gave me while I was in the hospital and to Jim Cetak for taking me to the hospital and everyone else that helped in any way.

May God bless you all.

Alice Pokorny

Card of Thanks

The family of Neva Barr wish to thank all their friends for their cards, visits and flowers while she was in the hospital. A special thanks to Rev. Clark, Rev. Hopkins, Rev. Campbell and Rev. Skaggs for their prayers and visits, and to the nurses and Dr. Markley for their wonderful care. We would like to thank Mrs. Irma Keown and Mrs. Genevieve Hoeppner for their music at the services. The pallbearers, Rev. Clark for his comforting message, the Hastings-Pearson Mortuary and all our friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind in our time of sorrow, the ladies of the Ruth Circle for preparing the dinner and the Legion Auxiliary for serving lunch. Thanks to all who brought food to the house and to all for their floral offerings and plants and memorials. It was all appreciated and will long be remembered.

pre-plant vs. side-dress

Why not split your nitrogen application and get the best of both?

Pre-plant nitrogen speeds decay of crop residues and makes more plant nutrients immediately available to your new corn.

Early nitrogen in the root zone also helps new corn reach down and tap the subsoil moisture needed to carry it through prolonged dry spells.

Later this summer, your corn will also welcome a fresh helping of nitrogen. That's the time to side-dress the other half of your nitrogen and give your corn a full season of unbroken grow-power.

A split application of Gulf Nitrogen can mean extra returns from your fertilizer investment. Just give us a call and let us arrange to put down half your nitrogen on your cornland now.

Three George Sisters Attend Centennial Event at Gibbon

By Bertha Clement

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mason and her sister, Mrs. Lucile Tolen met another sister, Mrs. Lorene Langevin of Omaha at Grand Island last Wednesday, then went to Gibbon for the centennial celebration which honored the Civil War Free Homestead Colony that arrived by train April 7, 1871. Mrs. Mason's great grandfather George and great grandmother Allen came with their families on that train. Her grandparents met there and were married a year later.Mr. and Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Tolen and Mrs. Langevin also attended a George family reunion. Mrs. Langevin was a houseguest of the Masons' until Tuesday and Mrs. Tolen was a weekend guest. Friday they visited a friend, Mrs. Sarah Thorpe at Broken Bow. Sunday the three George sisters, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Langevin and Mrs. Tolen had dinner at the Veterans Club in Ord.

Babbles by Bertha

Cynthia and Mark Higgins were delighted to be back in Mira Valley Sunday. They saw their friends at church and enjoyed being at Valleyside with their former school mates Monday. Little Timothy renewed his friendship with Paul Foth while his mom visited with Kay Foth.

Ralph Elliott of Omaha, vice-president of Farmers National Company stopped for a short visit Thursday. He was accompanied by the local farm manager Kent Hickman. Our son Don is employed by this company as farm manager in the Kearney area. Naturally Don's name and his work was mentioned.

Our grandson Victor came up from Kearney Friday — his Dad brought him. He really made the shingles fly and had a chance to help put on new ones before he went home Sunday. Our grandson Tom came out from Ord Saturday and Sunday morning bright and early both boys went to the Easter Sunrise Service at Happy Jack. Don, Phyllis, Theresa, Edwin and Rex came from Kearney in time for dinner Sunday. Once more I made those funny looking Easter Bunny cakes.

Sometimes things happen singly, but not so on a recent weekend. Getting food ready for guests my mixer stopped in the midst of cake baking; the cold water faucet in the kitchen wouldn't turn on; and the fan on the heater needed repair work and to top it needed repair work and to top it all the morning of the day. I expected dinner guests, the house was cold. In checking we found we were without fuel.

George and I went to the Orville Portis home in North Loup oMnday. Mrs. Portis, Mrs. Grace Thorngate and George are making plans for a class reunion in connection with the North Loup High School Alumni banquet May 30. Is it really 50 years since they were graduates?

James Goodrich, Keith Severance and Lana Hamer were in my Sabbath School class at the S.D.B. Church in North Loup when in fixth and sixth grades. How pleased I was that they were chosen as boy and girl staters and alternate!

Baptismal services were held at the Mira Valley United Methodist Church Sunday morning. Those baptized were Kurtis Allen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knapp; Janice Elaine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Hornickel; Daphne Lynne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Collins and Brandon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hopkins of Emporia, Kansas. Mrs. Keith Collins became a member of the church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Geweke entertained at a birthday dinner for their two year old granddaughter Kris Stowell Friday evening. Guests besides the little honoree were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Stowell and her sister Dahn, all of Lincoln, her other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stowell, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Foth.

Esther Circle of St. John's Lutheran Church met with Mrs. Glen Holtz Monday afternoon. Mrs. Walter Foth was leader of the topic "Who Should Go to College". Others present were Mrs. Rose Franzen, Mrs. Bud Kokes, Mrs. Ernest Lange, Mrs. John Schade, Mrs. Fred Veskerna and Mrs. Paul Stohlmann.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Higgins, Cynthia, Mark and Timothy of Holdrege arrived in Mira Valley Sunday, attended church services, had coffee with Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins and family and visited with the Dan Spilineks and Arden Koellings at the Lenz home and were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lenz. Mrs. Higgins was a Monday morning coffee guest of Mrs. Gust Foth, Jr. while Timothy played with Paul. Rev. and Mrs. Higgins and Timothy visited at the Isaac Luoma home Monday forenoon and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Foth. The Higgins family moved to Holdrege last summer after being pastor of the Mira Valley United Methodist Church.

END OF ERA

"The end of an era — riding the 'City of Los Angeles' on its last journey across the American West," Jean Shepherd's America program, will be aired nationally over the Educational Television Network at 7:00 p.m. Sunday, April 25. Jean Shepherd will recount his personal experiences riding trains, particularly his ride on a Union Pacific passenger train in a half hour color show.

JOHNSON ON TEAM

Elliot Johnson, a 1967 graduate of Ord High School, is playing for the University of Northern Colorado baseball team. Johnson, a senior, is a second baseman for the Bears who have a 7-2 season mark.

Pitch, Hit, Throw Contest Draws 60

More than 60 boys residing in the Ord area have registered to test their baseball skills in the Official Major League baseball Pitch, Hit and Throw competition. Registration closes May 20.

The competition, open to all boys aged nine through 12, is a nation-wide youth program, sponsored by Major League Baseball and Phillips Petroleum Company.

Delmer Lonowski of Ord, the coordinator for this area, said that registration is running much greater than expected. The number of boys in this area who will be signed up before registration closes may exceed 75.

Each playground will have four winners — one in each age group — determined by scores compiled in each of the three events pitching for control, hitting for distance and throwing for accuracy.

Local winners will advance to district contests in Omaha and district winners will move up to division contests in June. Eight division winners will compete for four national championships at the All-Star Game in Detroit on July 13.

TO HOMEPORT

Navy Lieutenant Commander Frederick V. Fraas, husband of the former Miss Shirley C. Thomas of Burwell, is scheduled to return to his homeport of Long Beach on April 3 after a seven month deployment in the Western Pacific.

12 Rural Schools Here For Track Meet April 28

District schools from all parts of Valley county will send pupils to Ord Apr. 28 to take part in a rural track meet, starting at 8:30 a.m. and continuing all morning.

Parents and the public are invited to the events, which will be run on Ord athletic field. There is no admission charge.

Twelve rural schools taking part include districts six, ten, 14, 19, 23, 26, 29, 31, 32, 34, 56, and 63. Both boys and girls will take part. Co-sponsors are Dr. William Gogan, Ord superintendent, and Richard Nielsen, county superintendent of schools. Dave Van Nordheim will be director of the meet and members of the varsity "O" club will be assistants.

Between 180 and 200 children are expected to compete. Ribbons will be awarded to those who place first, second, third, fourth and fifth. Champions will be determined in each class. Entries will close a week before the meet.

Contestants will be divided into age groups, with those 12 years of age and older in Class A; 10 and 11 years in Class B; eight and nine in Class C; seven and under in Class D.

First events will be 100 and 50 yard dash for boys and girls, for all four classes. Then will come the 35 and 50 yard dash for boys and girls in each of the four groups. Then will come high jump and broad jump for Class A boys only; then there will standing jumps for Class B, C, and D boys; plus all classes of girls.

Following this, shot put for boys Class A, and softball throw for girls Class A. Other classes will take part in football throw, for both boys and girls. Then, the program calls for a softball throw for boys and girls for Classes B, C, and D.

Final event on the program will be a shuttle race about 11:30 a.m., when the fastest four runners in each school will compete.

Following the events, it is expected that many parents will bring picnic lunches and remain in Ord until the afternoon. Private transportation will be employed to bring students to the track meet, as school buses will not run, it is been announced by the county superintendent's office.

Ord Captures Mile Relay Run at Wrangler Relays

Field Work Starts For County Farms

Field work is beginning on Valley county farms, according to the weekly crop report of John Schade, county agent. Shredding of stalks, plowing, fencing, fertilizing, hauling of manure and general chores make up the current scene.

Surface moisture is rated as adequate, but subsoil moisture is running short. Only a trace of rain fell during the past week.

Condition of winter wheat is rated good, as is alfalfa. Wild hay is fair, and pasture and range feed is rated below average.

Livestock conditions are rated as farmers still feeding hay, and some pasturing of stalks, calving and lambing progressing with no apparent disease problems. Feedlots, though some still quite muddy are drying out.

Fertilizer Stock Rated Adequate

The United States fertilizer industry has enough production capacity to meet the farmers' expected needs during 1971. Even so, weather and transportation problems may cause temporary shortages of fertilizer products during the spring season.

The farmer is expected to pay about 10% more for his fertilizer in 1971 than he paid in 1970. Fertilizer prices had been declining for several years. They "bottomed out" in 1969, and increased a bit during 1970. The additional 10% increase is expected this year.

These are the findings of a report prepared by the Economic Research Service of U.S. Department of Agriculture. The report is entitled Fertilizer Situation, and describes trends in U. S. production and consumption of fertilizers.

The study found that production capacity is sufficient to provide U. S. farmers with their requirements for all three primary plant nutrients — nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Much of the U. S potash requirements will be furnished from Canada.

CREDIT RATINGS

A comprehensive change in Dun & Bradstreet's system of credit rating key symbols that will result in new rating designations for all of the 136 commercial businesses in Valley County reported by D&B has been announced by Lawrence T. McGinley district manager of the Omaha office. The changeover, which will become effective May 1, simplifies the present rating key system.

County Supervisors

April 6, 1971

The Valley County Board of Supervisors met in regular session at 10:00 a.m. with all members present.

The minutes of the March 2 and 24 meetings were approved as read.

A delegation of people including Eureka farmers, a representative of the Burwell Sale Barn and of the Burwell Chamber of Commerce met with the board. A resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce was read by Bill Beat. All were interested in improving the road from the county line to the Polish church. Some of these people and some of the supervisors met later in the afternoon after board meeting at the site talked about.

A resolution and affidavit that should have been sent with the 1 and 6 year road plans was signed by all members.

Results of a recent county audit were studied and parts explained by the County Attorney.

Emanuel Petska visited about repairing a bridge, replacing another with a tube, the possibility of using federal funds on bridges, about the March 19 meeting concerning the Custer Co. line bridges, and about filling in around some auto gates.

Clare Clement met to ask the board about some properties in North Loup that had been condemned by the State Fire Marshal. County Attorney Weems answered some of his questions.

The March report of the Extension office and 1st Quarter report of the County Attorney were studied and filed. Bank reports in the amount of $333,202.36 were also filed.

The cost accounting bookkeeping system for the Valley County road program was talked about and tabled for the present.

The board recessed at 12:15 p.m. and convened again at 1:00 p.m.

A MVM representative was present to extend the lease agreement on present road and oiling machinery and add a New American #13W rubber tired roller and a Used Seaman-Gunnison #47 Pulverizer-Mixer. Dorsey moved that this agreement be executed until July 1, 1971 when another extension will be adopted according to the new budget. Burson seconded this and all present were in agreement.

Duane Carson moved that the OAA lien against Lots 1 to 8, Block 20, T. C. Davis Addition to North Loup be released and direct the Treasurer to do so. This was seconded by Nelson and all answered "Yes" to roll call.

County Assessor Mottl presented an application for tax exemption filed by Lydia Luedtke, trustee for Vesta Rebekah Lodge #74 of Arcadia, Nebraska and recommended such exemption be granted. Dorsey moved to grant this, seconded by Burson and all were in favor and signed the application. He also presented about 90 Homestead Exemption applications to be signed.

A list of 1969 and prior unpaid real estate taxes was studied and Nelson offered the following:

RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED by the County Board of Supervisors of the County of Valley, the State of Nebraska, that the County Attorney of said County be directed to foreclose according to law all tax sale certificates owned by the county on which two years have lapsed since their purchase by the county, and that said Attorney proceed to foreclose said certificates at the earliest moment possible.

WHEREAS, pursuant to law, the County Treasurer of Valley County, Nebr., has made a report of parcels of real estate in the county upon which taxes have not been paid for the period of two years and which were not sold for want of bidders at the last annual tax sale held in the county, and

WHEREAS, said report is now on file in the office of the County Clerk of said county,

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the said County Treasurer be and hereby is directed to issue TAX SALE CERTIFICATES to the County of Valley, the State of Nebraska, covering all parcels of real estate in said county upon which there are taxes delinquent for TWO years or more, as provided by law. Burson seconded this and it was unanimously adopted by all answering affirmatively to roll call.

Glen Stippick then presented jail plans showing his inside and outside versions. No further steps were taken.

Ivan Shaffer, Assistant Engineer of Custer County, then told of the meeting of the two counties representatives and the Irrigation District on county line bridges. Another meeting is being planned.

Collins moved that claims be approved and allowed in all funds except the road-bridge fund. Only salary claims are to be allowed in this fund. Nelson seconded this move and all answered affirmatively to roll call.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Coach Devaney Aids Move to Pay For Fieldhouse Through Cigarette Tax

By Melvin Paul, NPA
Statehouse Correspondent

An official of the cigarette industry told the Legislature's Government Committee the other day he really didn't object to an increase in cigarette taxes to finance construction of a new University of Nebraska fieldhouse.

But there was one thing that bothered him a little. "I suppose after you build that fieldhouse with cigarette money you'll post 'No Smoking' signs all over it," he said only half smiling.

NU Athletic Director Bob Devaney — whose stature wasn't hurt a bit because he coached the nation's No. 1 football team — was present at the hearing to endorse the pay-as-you-puff plan for the fieldhouse.

The committee recommended adding five cents to the present eight-cent cigarette tax and splitting the extra revenue evenly between funds for the fieldhouse and for a new state office building.

The bill reached the floor last week and on hand to make another pitch was the coach of the nation's No. 1 football team.

Sen. Richard F. Proud of Omaha, who was one of the few opponents of earmarking the added smokers' revenue for the athletic arena, made note of the fact that the basketball coach wasn't sent to speak for the bill. The basketball squad hasn't been quite as successful as Devaney's footballers.

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter was the man responsible for Devaney's appearance at the rostrum of the Legislature just before the decision on advancing the cigarette bill from first reading.

Carpenter, who has earned a reputation as a master showman as well as a strategist, introduced Devaney to the senators. "As a consistent loser," Carpenter said, "I present a consistent winner."

Devaney responded by saying he had talked to Carpenter about filling the halfback slot vacated by the graduated Joe Orduna. "He's to report after the spring recess," the coach said.

Then Devaney turned to the fieldhouse project. A new building is badly needed, he said, because the present Coliseum is "tremendously inadequate."

The new building would seat about 18,000 fans for basketball and provide modern facilities for other athletic activities, Devaney said.

He said the use of cigarette tax revenues probably would be the "least painful" method of financing the structure, which is to be built on the State Fairgrounds.

The measure was given 41-3 approval on first reading.

Budget Decisions Due

The fieldhouse project wasn't included among the priority items when the university submitted its budget request for capital construction.

The requests and Gov. J. J. Exon's recommendations for appropriation of tax money for construction will get the spotlight next week before the Legislature's Budget Committe.

This week, the committee is winding up its decisions on appropriations for operating expenditures. The only big decisions left concern the university.

Wednesday, just before they recessed for a long Easter weekend, the committee members had lunch with Exon at the Governor's Mansion. The NU budget was the luncheon topic, but Chairman Richard D. Marvel of Hastings declined to discuss the details.

Before reaching the final decisions this week, Marvel said, the committee wanted to have a similar private session with Chancellor Durward B. Varner and other university leaders.

Marvel, Exon and Varner have had a series of conferences behind closed doors to try to settle the controversy about where the appropriations need to be pegged.

The governor conceded recently there hadn't been a whole lot of progress, but he still was "hopeful" there would be an agreement satisfying everyone as much as possible.

Food Tax Question Hangs

As they left for their homes for the Easter holidays, the legislators still hadn't decided what to do with one of the major planks in the Exon legislative platform.

The governor's plan to eliminate the sales tax on food at the grocery counter was still bottled up in the Revenue Committee where there haven't been enough votes to advance it or kill it.

An attempt was to be made this week — maybe Tuesday — to raise the measure despite the committee.

The lawmakers earlier had passed a bill raising the amount of credit granted on state income taxes as a refund for sales taxes paid on food. But Exon vetoed the measure — and an attempt to override the veto failed.

The governor wants to have edible items exempted from the tax at the checkout stand. No tax on oranges; tax on shaving cream. No tax on green beans; tax on shoe polish. And so on.

This would cut the amount of revenue available to the state by an estimated $4.5 million because collections exceed refunds. There was a large group of lawmakers who have been saying they don't want to give up on those dollars at a time of tight budgeting.

KERNELS & HUSKS

Valley County Agent

Many management decisions, on the part of the user, are required for successful results with herbicides. First you should know the weed species present in your field. Secondly, make sure the chemical you select gives control of your most troublesome weeds. Thirdly, become as familiar with the chemical as possible before using it.

The label contains most of the information you will need to know. There is no better time spent than reading the label. Know and understand the "dos" and "don't" of the product.

Make sure your applicator or sprayer is in proper working condition. Check the pump, nozzle tips, screens, hoses, etc. before pulling into the field.

Make sure your applicator or sprayer is in proper working condition. Check the pump, nozzle tips, screens, hoses, etc. before pulling into the field.

Granules or liquid herbicide applied in bands on windy days may result in poor distribution and unsatisfactory results.

Know your soil and adjust your herbicide rate to soil type. Sandy soils and those with low organic matter content require less herbicide than do the heavier clay soils.

Pre-Emergence Lawn Weed Control

April is the ideal time to apply a herbicide to rid your lawn of that ugly crabgrass, foxtail and other annual weeds.

But don't get in a hurry. If we put on this material too early it's effectiveness may be gone before the weed seeds germinate. The best time for application is between April 20 and May 1.

The active ingredient of lawn herbicides prevents the germination and development of weeds. These preventers of seed germination have little or no effect on established plants such as dandelions and white clover. If these are your problem use a herbicide that contains 2-4,D; Benvel D; or silvex with pre-emergence chemicals. Such combinations kill both seeds and emerged weeds.

For crabgrass and foxtail use a product that contains either Dacthal, Bandane, Tupersan, Betasan, Azak, Benifin or one of the arsenicals.

For best results rake the lawn to remove dead grass, leaves and other trash. Apply the product at the recommended rate. Don't try to skimp, those ugly weeds will be there in August if we do.

Water the lawn thoroughly after the herbicide is applied. It takes a good inch of water to move the chemical into the upper soil surface where it can go to work.

The average family eats 2½ tons of food per year. This is divided up into 1,000 pounds of meat, fish and poultry; 1,500 pounds of dairy products, more than 1,000 pounds of fruit and vegetables and over 1,500 pounds of flour and cereal products, sugar, potatoes, fat, oils and eggs.

Each million people we add to our population requires another 172,000 beef cattle; 25,400 dairy cattle; 433,000 hogs; and 1.3 million hens at today's food consumption rates.

Rural Carriers Count Pheasants

Rural mail carriers throughout Nebraska will soon begin the annual spring tally of pheasants they spot along their routes, and the data gathered will help Game Commission biologists determine the status of the ringneck breeding population.

Biologists will put the data alongside similar surveys conducted in the past to get an idea of how the breeding population compares to other years.

The rural mailmen have cooperated in such counts since 1945, giving game biologists information valuable in pheasant management. One advantage this survey has over other methods is that it covers the entire state during a 4-day period, Apr. 19 thru 22.

Some 700 of the approximately 800 carriers asked to fill out survey cards do so each year, giving a much wider sample than would be possible using the limited number of game technicians and conservation officers that are available.

In addition to the spring count, rural mailmen participate in two other surveys annually. One is the post-season sex ratio count conducted in mid-winter, which gives an indication of the year's pheasant harvest. The other is conducted in early fall and gives an indication of the summer's production of young birds. The early fall count by the carriers is one of the more accurate indicators of the ringneck population that will be available for the fall hunt.

W.S.C.S. of Ord Plans Varied Events

In the future activities of the local Women's Society of Christian Service were the primary points of business at the organization's Apr. 7 meeting.

First in line were the Maundy Thursday services and Easter breakfast at the church which Rev. Clarence Campbell explained in detail. Next to be discussed was the Apr. 18 Sandwich and Salad Supper for Family Night with the Young Nebraskans as special guests.

The rummage sale, an Apr. 22-24 event, required additional planning and it was stressed that the sale would not be open to the public until 5 p.m. on Apr. 22 and that the serving of food would begin no sooner than 5 p.m. that same day.

A breakfast for members of the Ord High School graduating class is scheduled for May 8 with Mrs. Linda Pelton as chairman. Shirley Hume will be the featured speaker.

Thirty-five members attended the afternoon meeting held at the United Methodist Church basement.

Urbanski Relative Dies After Illness

Funeral rites were held at Grand Island on Monday of last week for Mrs. Barbara V. Swanek, wife of Ed Swanek who died Apr. 1 in St. Francis Hospital where she had been hospitalized the last two months.

Mrs. Swanek was the former Barbara Urbanski, born in Valley County near Elyria on Aug. 30, 1917. She was the daughter of the late Ignatious Urbanski and Mrs. Elizabeth Urbanski of Burwell. She attended school at Elyria and assisted her parents on the farm until the time of her marriage Sept. 30, 1941 at Ord.

The Swaneks began their home on a farm near Ord and in 1949 moved to Grand Island. For a time she had been employed at the ordance plant.

Survivors include her husband, one son Richard Swanek of Grand Island; one grandson, three brothers, Joe and Albin Urbanski both of Omaha and James of Loup City; three sisters Mrs. Rose Sonnenfeld and Mrs. Josephine Wadas both of Ord and Mrs. Verna Mottl of Omaha. With her father she was also preceded in death by brothers, Steve, Martin and John Urbanski.

Blooming Easter Plants Add Brighter Touch to Parkview

By Emma Zabloudil

Many Parkview folks received beautiful Easter Lilies as holiday gifts. These lucky recipients include Mildred Anderson, a gift from Mrs. Beth Adamek and Randy; Sophie Keller and Hope Dumond from the Wayne Kellers of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mary Jorgensen, Marie Jorgensen and Mena Jorgensen from Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jorgensen and Mary Lou of Papillion; Tena Swanson from Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cowell of Sterling, Colo.; Mary Cetak from Mr. and Mrs. Alden Abbott of Seattle, Wash.; Marguerite West from Mrs. Josephine Dowse of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Erikson and families; Edith Jones, Lyda Porter and Edna Hackett from the Methodist Church.

Mary Cetak and Mr. and Mrs. George Cetak and family visited Mrs. Anna Rohla Sunday, and were dinner guests.

Mrs. Arthur Pierson of Arcadia came after Elsie Rathbun Saturday evening. Elsie spent Easter Sunday with the Pierson family; they brought her home Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jorgensen and Mary Lou of Papillion and Marie Jorgensen had coffee with Mena Jorgensen Saturday afternoon.

Emma Bridge of North Loup was a lunch guest of Mena Jorgensen Saturday.

Richard Pesek and Debbie Jorgensen of Minden called on Mena Jorgensen Saturday. Debbie is Mena's great niece.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Arnold went to Wolbach Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Anthony.

Berenice Cornell has tulips which started to bloom on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Januelwicz celebrated with a birthday coffee Thursday afternoon. Calling to wish her a happy birthday were Marguerite West, Mena Jorgensen, Lillian Daudt, Emma Zabloudil, Mary Jorgensen and Tillie Massey.

Mildred Anderson and Mabel Polinoski accompanied Mrs. Ray Melia to Arcadia and Loup City Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Januelwicz went to Omaha Friday to spend the Easter weekend with their daughter, Mrs. Rose Marie McKeever and family and other members of their family.

Mrs. Harvey Thomsen called on Edith Jones Thursday afternoon, and brought her a beautiful white mum plant for Easter.

Mildred Anderson accompanied Mrs. Beth Adamek and Randy to Lincoln Saturday afternoon, and spent the weekend with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bohl.

Dennis Zabloudil of Grand Island came Saturday evening and spent the weekend with his mother, Emma Zabloudil, returning home Sunday evening.

Nola Nelson called on Edith Jones Saturday morning, and brought news that Ona Nelson is some better.

Mae Dockhorn came home Friday after spending some time visiting the Anson Dockhorns of Omaha and the Gerald Dockhorn and Paul Norton families of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dockhorn and son of Hampton, Ia., brought her home.

Mae Dockhorn was a Sunday dinner guest of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Kokes and family.

Pastor Louis Trebus of Bethany Lutheran Church conducted religious services at Parkview April 8th. Scriptures read were I Peter 3:17-22, Matthew 27:57-66 and 28:1-8. Scripture talked on was I Corinthians 15:12-20, about our faith in the resurrection and the comfort of believers knowing they will be with Christ in eternity. Some un-Christian religions believe that eternity is a repeat of some form of life. He stressed that there is no comfort and peace in such a belief. Visitors were Mrs. Bina Laursen, Marie Johnson, Emma Hansen and Mrs. Opal Kuklish. Mrs. Laursen was pianist. There were 15 present.

Berenice Cornell called Tuesday afternoon on Mrs. Joan Anderson and Zelda and Mrs. Marion Long. Wednesday Berenice had dinner with Mrs. Ruth Ray and Sam. The same afternoon Berenice and Mrs. Ray, called on Mrs. Willis Garner and Mrs. Louis Trebus. Berenice was at bible study Wednesday evening in the Joyce Grantham home.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jorgensen and Mary Lou arrived Friday evening for the Easter weekend with their mothers, Marie Jorgensen and Mary Jorgensen. They returned to Papillion Monday morning.

Mrs. Cheryl Crane and Mrs. Phyllis Rasmussen stopped at Parkview to get Berenice Cornell Saturday and all were coffee guests of Mrs. Bill Meese.

Berenice Cornell called on Ona Nelson and Dora Fauss at the Valley County Hospital Sunday afternoon.

Edith Jones had a telephone call from her son, Rex Jewett of Lincoln with Easter greetings.

Edna Hackett had a telephone call from her son, Jay Hackett and wife of Kearney Thursday evening.

Lucy McCune went to the home of her daughter and family, the Wrays of Scotia, Wednesday evening and stayed until Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wray of Scotia and Mr. and Mrs. Merl H. Fairfield and son of Mason City were Sunday guests of Lucy.

Will Benson's Easter Sunday visitors were his daughter, Mrs. Walter Holmes and Mr. Holmes of North Loup and grandson, Gerald Holmes, his wife and family of Scotia.

Tena Swanson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson to Kearney Sunday.

RAMROD®/ATRAZINE WORKS...

ASK ANY GOOD MILO GROWER AROUND HERE

We asked THEES WALLMAN of Martell, Nebraska: "Well, the reason we went to Ramrod/atrazine was there was less carryover, and we liked the way it mixed in that plastic bag. It doesn't need much rain to get it to work. We were real satisfied with it last year. It just works . . . that's all there is to it."

We asked CARL RICHARDS of Topeka, Kansas: "My son and I have got something like 500 acres of milo. We used Ramrod/atrazine on all of it. We were short of moisture, it was awful dry . . . and if we hadn't controlled the weeds with Ramrod/atrazine, why we just wouldn't have had a crop. We got bushels and bushels of milo . . . no weeds, just milo."

We asked RONALD WHITTMER of Bern, Kansas: "I like the results I get with it. I kind of think by using a mixture of Ramrod and atrazine, it's just like cross breeding cattle. You cross breed cattle or hogs . . . you most generally come up with better cattle and hogs. By using Ramrod/atrazine, both, . . . what the one won't do, the other one will. I'd say it works."

It's really very simple . . . Ramrod/atrazine works . . . ask any good milo grower around here. It works to control all these grasses and broadleaf weeds . . .

GENERAL NOTICE

YOU ARE REQUIRED TO DESTROY NOXIOUS WEEDS ON YOUR PROPERTY

By Order Of The Valley County Weed Control Authority

Notice is hereby given this 2nd day of April 1971, pursuant to the Nebraska Noxious Weed Law Section 2-955 Subsection A, to every person who owns or controls land in Valley County, Nebraska, that noxious weeds standing, being, or growing on such land shall be destroyed or eradicated by effective cutting, tillage, cropping, pasturing, or treating with chemicals or other effective methods, or combination thereof, approved by the County Weed Control Superintendent, as often as may be required to prevent the weed from blooming and maturing seeds, or spreading by root, root stalks or other means.

Upon failure to observe this notice the county weed control superintendent is required to proceed pursuant to the law and have weeds destroyed by such method as he finds necessary, the expenses of which shall constitute a lien and be entered as a tax against the land, and be collected as other real estate taxes are collected, or by other means as provided by law.

Letters to the Editor

FOR AN INDEPENDENT CONGRESS AND JUDICIARY

By Bill Holman, Ord

A few years ago, the President of Mexico, in thanking the President of the United States, said "It is fortunate the people of Mexico have the goodwill of the most powerful man in the world: the chief executive of the United States."

In view of the slaughter of German Jews by a man who killed three million of them, or the deaths by a former ruler of Russia, who shot 40,000 of his own army officers, this is a shocking statement, as it is of course, not true.

However, how much power does the President really have?

1. He vetoes laws of congress, and only one law in the last ten years has been passed over his veto. 92% of President Johnson's proposals, in one session of Congress, became law. Hence, Congressmen spend most of their time running errands for their constituents, or working in their Congressional office buildigs, and the halls of Congress are largely deserted. This is shown by the fact it is even against the law to photograph sessions of Congress.

2. He appoints all members of the Supreme Court, and the weakness of the Senate to really block his nominees is shown by a former President who said, "The Supreme Court is my court."

3. He appoints all federal judges in America, again with only nominal power of the Senate to block nomines.

4. He appoints all federal district attorneys and all federal marshals, none of whom have to run for re-election.

5. He has issued 11,246 executive orders, the most recent being a wage-price freze on the construction industry. Congress did not vote on the matter at all. Some time ago, in a labor dispute, President Truman issued an executive order temporarily taking over all the steel mills. President Johnson issued an executive order requiring five years in jail and $10,000 fine for anyone trading with Rhodesia. President Kennedy issued a series of executive orders authorizing any President, at his own discretion, to declare a national emergency and to take over all farms, all forms of news communication, all businesses, all colleges and universities, all radio and television stations, all aircraft, all forms of energy: coal, oil, gas, mineral. In addition, this executive order allows all forms of transportation as railroads, buses, private cars and commercial and private airplanes to be seized.

6. He has the power to ignore the district attorney, and to appeal to federal judges to issue court orders against anyone, any business or any group, for violating any law and have them jailed or fined, unless they bow to the court order. All of this, without any trial by jury.

7. He appoints ambassadors to the United Nations, members of the World Court, and ambassadors to all nations in the world.

8. He has $70 million to spend in maintaining the White House, and can fly favorable Congressmen back to Washington from anyplace in the world to vote on critical issues.

9. More than 32 newsmen who cover the White House give him tremendous publicity channels and he gets free television and radio time to almost unlimited extent.

10. He appoints the head of Central Intelligence Agency, a world-wide espionage system with power to establish private armies.

11. In medicine, he spends $750 million annually on one philosophy of medical research through United States Public Health Service, and through cutting off grants to colleges or universities who sponsor contrary research, he can destroy academic freedom in virtually every university in the world. Even the Nobel prize in medicine institute, gets $323,000 approximately every year, and thus its integrity is seriously undermined.

12. He has the power to set aside military court martials, so regradless of what one believes about Lt. William Calley, the fact still remains, the President has more power than any military court martial. He also has the power to pardon any federal criminal.

13. He appoints the Atomic Energy Commission, one of the most critical agencies concerned with future power.

14. He runs the biggest insurance company in the world — the Social Security system. He heads a total of five million government employees, many of whom are outside the Civil Service system. He relicenses every radio and television station in America every three years, and can cut off their operation or reduce their broadcast power. The number of employees in the executive branch of government is believed ten times larger than the biggest corporation in America: General Motors.

15. As our national sheriff, he has the power to arrest any American citizen through the F.B.I., federal attorney general, narcotics bureau, immigration, counterfeiting, Internal Revenue service and other executive agencies. Because of free legal costs to him, he can win many cases against taxpayers who cannot afford staggering legal costs in defending themselves.

16. He is also chief of the army, commander of the navy, the airforce, and the big space program. A former President committed American military forces to war in Vietnam without a declaration of war by Congress.

17. He has the sole right to ignore the charter of the United Nations and the World Court and decline to seek creation of an international army to fight agression, as Presidents Johnson and Nixon have done in the Vietam war. On the other hand, they did largely utilize the United Nations to try to settle the Holy Land war.

In conclusion, if you believe these gradual developments are now too extensive, ask your Congressman and your two U.S. Senators to sponsor a Constitutional amendment, slicing off just two powers: the right to veto laws of Congress and to name federal judges. An independent Congress requires that it pass all laws, and an independent judiciary, requires that it be elected by the people.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Too Much Paper Work

I thought our country was paper bound and that we had more forms to fill out, more nonsense to go through than any other country on this globe. We certainly do have plenty of forms, for the first of every month, for the year, for the week, for the day. Forms when we do, forms when we don't.

I am afraid of these forms: one reason I was so happy to turn the QUIZ over to my son Kerry . . . I simply couldn't cope with all the red tape and it was increasing every day, in quantity if not in quality.

But Mexico beats us in this respect. In fact, Mexico is 'way ahead of us in paper work, in inefficiency.

An effort to mail a package home from Puerto Vallarta a couple of weeks ago revealed the horrible postal situation there.

All there was in the package was two ponchos, those shawl-like scarves that are not only worn by women in Mexico but also by the men. You see, although it is very hot in the day, like at noon, it is also chilly the instant the sun goes so beautifully down. Just as in every desert country, come dark and it is time for sweaters, and a blaze in the fireplace.

So, the postoffice said there must be six copies of a special form filled out to mail a package. Also, the officials stated there must be three copies of the sales slip for the purchase . . . this meant running back to the store.

All in all, it resulted in eight trips to the postoffice and five or six back to the tiny shop where ponchos and Mexican rugs were woven to order. A most frustrating procedure, all in all. It was quite a distance down to "El Centro" where the post office was located, from my hotel.

But the frustration, you have no idea. The waiting in line, the standing, the office being closed from one until three p.m. The general inefficiency of the help . . . though should I say that? Puerto Vallarta is a city of 25,000 before the invasion of tourists every fall and winter. Probably some 7,000 or 10,000 visitors check in. It is getting entirely too popular sorry, to say the least. And the post officina does get along with only four or five employees.

This paper work hang up is not restricted to postal affairs. It permeates Mexico.

A good friend had his car break down in La Barca, a bit of a town near Guadalajara. It was a real tragedy for he had to send for parts, stated the garage people in Guadalajara where the automobile had to be worked on. But it seemed the parts had to be shipped to Ajijic, his home address at the moment.

Every day Harry's blood pressure mounted as he went to the postoffice in Ajijic and saw the missing automobile parts filed there for him, in his box. But, he could not obtain them. More forms were needed!

Every day he tried to obtain the missing parts. Every day, he had to take a taxi to La Barca, to Guadalajara and back the 38 miles to Ajijic. Every day he became more and mort frustrated, every day his taxi bills were $24 American. Or more. He grew more red-faced and furious.

He waited. He drove. He reported. He argued. He explained. He went back. He talked to the American consul. What it all cost him! And no car. No parts. His face grew redder and redder as he grew more and more indignant and his purse grew slimmer.

His business is songwriting but this situation did not inspire him, he was so angry. He has written some songs that are jumpy, fun, popular, such as "Mexican Jumping Bean," which is really fun to dance to, I can avow.

Everything is regulated in Mexico. Like the hotel business: you, the owner, may not increase the price of your hotel rooms unless you have added an additional service, like a coffee bar, a beer bar, an eating place. The national bureau really keeps an eye on you and I think this is good.

Nevertheless everything is going up in price, 10 or 15% higher this year than last. The Norteamericanos have discovered the place, and I am as much to blame as anyone else.

Easter Sunrise Rites Draw Many

Approximately 90 youths and their adult counselors attended the Easter Sunrise Service held at 6:20 a.m., atop Happy Jack Peak above the chalk mine last Sunday morning. Seventy of them were in attendance at the annual Youth Breakfast held at the Scotia United Methodist Church at 7 a.m. Ladies assisting with the breakfast were Mrs. Virgil Ferguson, Mrs. Earl Lincoln, Mrs. M. G. Williams, Mrs. Jerry Holmes, Mrs. Pete Foxworthy and Mrs. Melvin Shoemaker.

The committee in charge of arrangements this year were Rev. Leonard S. Clark, Adult Advisor; Kathy Karre of Ord, President; Marilyn Cook of North Loup, Vice President; and Larry Koelling of Mira Valley, Secretary. A brief business meeting was held following the breakfast at which time new officers were chosen and plans made for next year's event. Bethel Baptist Church of Ord will conduct the service and Mira Valley United Methodist Church will be host to the breakfast. Miss Marilyn Cook of North Loup will be President of the group and the Rev. Robert Pier of Bethel Baptist Church, Ord, the Adult Advisor.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Harvey K. Reyner, Field Representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Courthouse in Ord, Tuesday April 20, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. If you collect social security benefits, contact Mr. Reyner, to report a change of address; if your check is lost or stolen; or if you are under age 72, and earned over $16780 during 1970.

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

—lamplighter—

This is the week we attend a press meeting to try to find out what makes newspaper people 'tick.' The Nebraska Press Association holds its 98th annual convention — a meeting of the oldest trade association in the state.

Many people in many professions aren't convention-goers. I learned a long time ago that those that don't attend are not only missing out on a little social activity, but they're missing out on a vast amount of knowledge that's exchanged informally whenever ANY like group of people get together. You learn from the wisdom of others who have gone before you.

The "bull sessions" of any convention are probably the best meetings. From the experience of others, you can add to your own limited knowledge.

Our main speaker, this year, is a man who is the top public speaker in the nation. For years I've admired him and only once before was I privileged to hear Kenneth McFarland.

To most of you, the name is unfamiliar. McFarland is one of the best 'promotion men' retained by General Motors. His public speaking abilities took him from a college teaching job, in Kansas, to the top of the circuit. I've read his major book on public speaking and I'm certainly looking forward to hearing him this year.

One of the stories McFarland uses in one of his talks has turned out to be one of my favorites . . . in my feeble attempt at public speaking. In fact the story could be used by almost anyone at any time . . . and even makes the point of why convention-attending and self-betterment is of utmost importance. Here's the way McFarland relates it:

"Sir Harry Lauder loved to tell of the old lamplighter of the village where he lived as a boy. Each evening as dusk came on, the old man would make his rounds with his ladder and his light. He would put the ladder against a light post, climb up and light the lamp, step back down, pick up the ladder, and proceed to the next lamp. 'After awhile,' said Sir Harry, 'he would be out of sight down the street. But I could always tell which way he had gone from the lamps he had lighted'."

McFarland continues, "I believe that is about the greatest tribute any of us can eventually receive from our fellow citizens. With all my heart I hope some of the things I have said today lighted some lamps for you. I hope you will go out of here more resolved that as you go down this street we call Life, the people here in your home community can readily follow your course by the lamps that you have lighted."

Ken McFarland has lighted a lot of lamps, himself. I want to hear him tell about it!

Parents—Know the Drug Threat

The Child You Save May Be Your Own

By CLARENCE FOX

Valley County Sheriff

TODAY'S SUBJECT: The Human Price of Drug Use

There are probably several different ways of looking at and examining the human price of drug abuse, because there are so many hundreds of ways that it can affect personal and family life and individual futures.

It would seem obvious that anything which withdraws a person from society in general would have large potential for adversity. And, perhaps more than anything else which is happening, the drug movement in our country definitely withdraws its followers from normal futures.

It's hard to separate the drug problem from the social scene. Young people often feel opportunity is limited to them and so drugs offer a means of withdrawal from a society they find too impersonal. Drugs also offer a withdrawal from the competitive aspects of society. One cannot compete in the drug state. Youngsters often want to avoid getting involved in the "games" that mark our society. They would prefer getting pleasure in ways in which they find it unnecessary to compete against established values.

And so, regardless of the initial reason for experimenting with drugs, the user always winds up with far more real trouble than he ever had when he was seeking his personal escape from the daily realities of life.

The actual monetary of cost of using any drugs is a constantly increasing factor, but the effects on human life are much more staggering and heartbreaking. One psychiatrist at a well known university says, "I've picked up the broken pieces of young people in trouble from using drugs . . . it is anything but pleasant."

Exactly how many youths are getting themselves in trouble by abusing drugs is impossible to count, as there is no practical accurate measure. But, it is a well known fact that courts over the country are becoming inundated with drug violation cases, and this would seem to point up the vast number of people who are using drugs, if only on a trial basis.

A drug conviction in court is "on the record" and the single fact that there was a conviction is a difficult thing to live down. Aside from this, individual reaction to drugs is so varying that just one experiment can lead a person to a long term dependency on the use of certain drugs. And, to argue that some drugs have not proved permanently harmful is ridiculous in view of the case histories which show that the least harmful often lead one to the most horrifying drug use, in the search for bigger and better thrills and reactions.

Remember when the alcoholic was looked on simply as a social outcast, a weakling who was shunned and looked down on and left for the most part alone to kill himself off? That was an easy "out" for society . . . ignore it . . . look the other way when a "drunk" touched our lives. Now, of course, alcoholism is looked upon as a disease and treated accordingly. Why? Because there are approximately 6,000,000 alcoholics in this country alone!

It would seem that we waited too long to take effective treatment measures against alcoholism, for now it has a gigantic hold on many, many people. Perhaps in years to come medical science will find a single answer, but it is safe to say it may take many years.

So, let's not "look the other way" on the national drug problem. Let's face it, recognizing that it is definitely a big problem, and face up to the measures we must take to combat it. The first and most important thing in fighting any enemy is KNOWING all you can possibly learn about his nature. Thus, education on the subject of drugs is of prime importance!

Be with me next week for another discussion, won't you?

Washington Report

Bitter Anti-War Climax Due Soon in Washington

BY PAUL SCOTT
Former Greley Resident

The nation's Capital is a tense, uneasy, and uptight city, despite its outward appearance of being very calm and peaceful.

On the surface, the city is taking on the fresh look of Spring while alternating warm and cool weather teases the Japanese Cherry trees into not knowing whether to hide or show their buds of life.

Friendly and almost gay tourists by the thousands are flocking here for the annual Cherry Blossom festival, but underneath this is a deeply divided, disturbed, and troubled city really not knowing exactly what tomorrow will bring.

As the Cherry Blossom princesses prepare their make-believe court, official Washington is bracing itself for two months of carefully organized and orchestrated demonstrations, rallies and protests. There will be violence and disruption which could turn out to be the worst in the city's history.

Not a single day passes without a caller phoning a bomb threat to one or more of the government agencies. Some days there are as high as four or five threats. In the space of three hours one Saturday evening, switchboard operators at the U.S. Capitol received three bomb threats including two believed to have been made by the same person.

The terrorist boldly called back after five minutes to say "this is no prank, this is the real thing." His earlier threat was a warning that a bomb was set to go off in the Capitol building within fifteen minutes. While nothing happened, the caller or callers forced a crash search of the Capitol and surrounding office buildings each time.

The same story is repeated daily at other government agencies. If the threat comes during the day, buildings must be evacuated of all government personnel. Thousands of man hours of work are being lost daily.

Although government security officials say privately many of the calls are from pranksters, they also have detected a definite "war of nerves" campaign being waged by some of the callers. It appears to be designed to unnerve security and police officials here.

These callers are believed to be closely associated with the more militant anti-war groups which are planning acts of massive civil disobedience here later this month and early in May. The immediate objective is to try to disrupt all government operations here to force President Nixon to declare martial law in the nation's Capital.

Advance units of these militant anti-war groups already are on the scene here. They are preparing for their first protests on the anniversary of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

The protests are being sponsored by the Third World Task Force against the War in Southeast As an affiliate of the National Peace Action Coalition, which is directing the massive anti-war rally here April 24.

The misnamed National Peace Action Coalition, which is planning acts of violence, already has contracted for 400 buses, and 3 trains to bring anti-war demonstrators to Washington beginning April 23. A half million protestors are expected to be in the city before the end of the month.

Advance scouting parties from these anti-war groups, or the hard-line communists among them, are already in the city picking targets to attack or seize on Capitol Hill and other areas of Washington. Significantly, militant women groups have been given the assignment to lead the protest against the Pentagon.

While most of the demonstrators and protestors are against violence, police officials here are worried that anti-war "sappers" will be brought into to city to try to stir up the demonstrators to violence. There are even unconfirmed reports that the "sappers" will try to shoot one or more of the women or black protestors in an effort to cause a massive riot.

The anti-war groups are now distributing a 45-page manual of operations for their Spring offensive here. Details of the manual will be discussed in a future column along with the help the anti-war groups are receiving from within the executive and legislative branches of government.

All this adds up to a coming confrontation here in the streets of Washington for the Nixon Administration equally as important as that on the battlefields in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. The revolutionary movement hopes to force President Nixon to announce a timetable for withdrawing from Vietnam and then force him from office. The Vietnam issue, which was defused in the elections of 1968 and 1970, now becomes the paramount issue of the days ahead.

The recurrence of one phrase in President Nixon's recent foreign policy report to Congress must be noted. Drafted by Dr. Henry Kissinger, the President's chief foreign policy and national security adviser, it laid strong emphasis on the limits to American policy imposed by the extent of support for it by the American people.

That is the matter at issue that the "battle of the streets" will highlight. Since it weighs so heavily on Mr. Kissinger and Nixon's mind, it must be considered the controlling factor in whether or not he can carry out his present Vietnam policy.

That is why the result of the present confrontation in American domestic politics is as important, or more important that the confrontation on the battlefield. What is intriguing about all this is that Kissinger, the presidential aide who has time for secret talks with the leading anti-war protestors but not Congress, is the author of the President's Vietnam strategy both in Saigon and Washington.

In an interview with radio Prague (Czechoslovakia), Gus Hall, Secretary General of the Communist party, USA, reported: "We are just now entering a new phase of opposition to the war. This phase will begin with big demonstrations in the large cities and then continue in Washington. There, for example, 4-day actions by former Vietnam veterans will take place. Some 3 million veterans who have returned from Vietnam are in this anti-war movement, which is very active and militant. Subsequently, there will be a big demonstration in Washington beginning April 24, and there will be new demonstrations again in May. In other words, we are entering a period of truly active resistance to that war, and I believe that we will finally be victorious".

NOTICE

To Dog Owners In North Loup

Dogs Must Be Tied By April 15 Until September 30

Dog license tags for the year 1971 may be purchased April 15 thru May 1 from the Village Clerk, Janet Hansen, or the Village Marshall, Harwood Rice.

Even though you keep your dog on your premises, as required by law, you must purchase a dog license and rabies vaccination. A tag does not permit a dog to run loose; he still must be tied or penned. Tags should be on all North Loup dogs. These requirements shall be enforced.

Come to Church

This Week's Meditation

READ JOHN 6:16-21

They saw Jesus walking on the water and coming toward the boat, and they were terrified. (John 6:19, Phillip's translation)

During a seminary course in premarital counseling, our professor invited a judge from a family relations court to speak to the class. The judge said, "If you fellows would spend more time with couples before they get married, we judges would spend less time with them after they got married."

Trying to establish and maintain a stable family life in today's world without the awareness of God's presence and help is like trying to walk on water. God never intended families to exist day by day, continuously confronted with changing situations, without some spiritual undergirding.

Jesus's experience on the Sea of Galilee with the disciples — His family in training — helps us realize that by basing our family life on sound principles of faith, we can weather the storms of life. This Son of God comes to us in our time of need, walking on the troubled waters of family life. His presence strengthens our faith and enables us to sustain and maintain wholesome, productive family relationships.

PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, in our family life to regain an awareness of the divine element which will turn mere existence into meaningful living. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

No family is complete without Christ as a member.

Announcing the Gas Home-Improvement Kit.

A gas light and grill are two beautiful ways to improve your home this summer. Put them in your back yard or on your patio or terrace. In fact, anywhere you want to enjoy your home's outdoor area.

The gas light offers several improvements. It provides a soft, welcoming glow for evening entertaining. Beautifies, brightens . . . yet doesn't attract insects. And when the party's over your gas light helps guard your home till morning.

The gas grill offers several more improvements of its own. Like easy starting. Even heat distribution. Dial-a-temperature control. And all without the muss or fuss of charcoal or starter fluid. Plus the same charbroiled flavor of old-fashioned outdoor cooking.

We have many attractive styles in both lights and grills. And we're always ready to install them for you. Just call us. Low monthly payments with your gas bill if you prefer.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed Proposals will be received at the City Hall by Wilma D. Kroeger, City Clerk, City of Ord, Nebraska until 10:00 A.M. on the 6th day of May, 1971, for furnishing f.o.b. cars, Municipal Light Plant, Ord, Nebraska, the following:

One 4-cycle dual fuel diesel generating unit rated between 4000 and 5200 kilowatts net installed capacity, and auxiliary equipment, as specified,

at which time Proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud before the Mayor and Council in session. The Proposals will be referred to the Commissioner of Utilities and Engineers for tabulation of bids, bid data on equipment and evaluation.

The report on the evaluation with recommendation of the Commissioner of Utilities and Engineers will be submitted to the Mayor and Council in session Friday morning May 7th, 1971 at 10:00 A.M. for final consideration and award of contract to the successful bidder.

Bids received after the above specified time for opening will be returned unopened to the sender.

Bidding forms are obtained at the offifce of Lutz, Daily & Brain, Consulting Engineers, 819 Finance Building, Kansas City, Missouri 64105 ,or at the office of the City Clerk, Ord, Nebraska.

The Engineer's estimate of cost for a unit rated 5000 kiolwatts with auxiliaries as specified, is $650,000. The estimate will be adjusted for unit sizes which vary from 5000 kilowatts at the rate of $130 per kilowatt.

Each bidder shall submit with his bid a certified check drawn on a solvent Nebraska bank, or a bidder's bond issued by a company licensed to do business in Nebraska, the amount of which shall be not less than five percent (5) of the bid price, and which shall guarantee good faith on the part of the bidder, and the entering into Contract within 15 days at the price bid, if accepted by the Purchaser. Checks or bonds shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the City of Ord, Nebraska.

No bid may be withdrawn for at least 30 days after the scheduled time for receipt of the bids.

Bids will be evaluated by the Purchaser, based on quality, economy of operation, experience of the manufacturer, availability of service for repair and maintenance, and adaptability of the particular equipment to the specific use intended. The Purchaser reserves the right to select the equipment which best suits its needs, whether the price is the lowest or not, and also reserves the right to reject all bids or waive informalities.

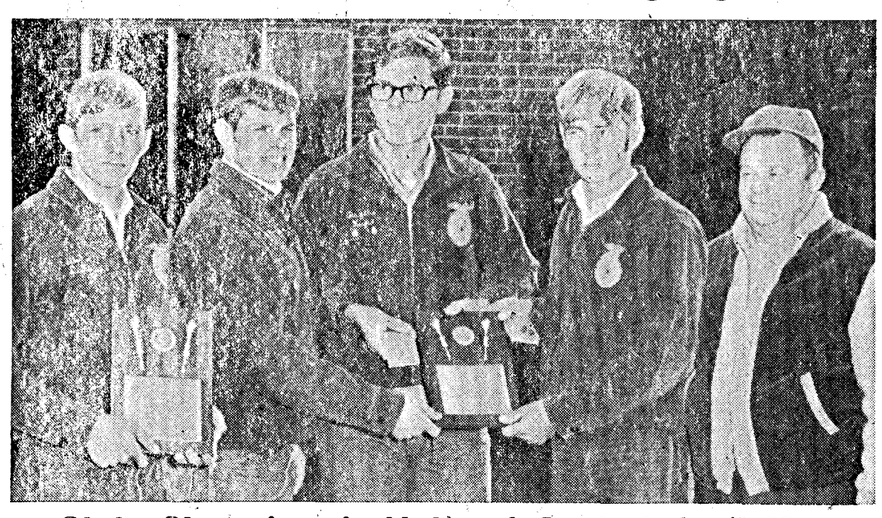
North Loup-Scotia Soil Judging Team in U.S. Test



State Champions in National Contest April 28

North Loup-Scotia's state championship Future Farmers of America soil judging team will be in action in Oklahoma City in the national contest Apr. 28 and 29th. They won the state contest last fall at North Platte.

The first day, next Wednesday, the team of four students will take part in a land judging school for out of state participants. At this school, methods of judging land will be discussed, and several practice sites will be judged in the morning. In the afternoon, the boys will accompany personnel from Soil Conservation Service for more practice.

The second day, the boys will meet at the Oklahoma fair grounds, and then proceed to the contest site. This has not been announced. After the contest, they will be free until the F.F.A. evening banquet, which will conclude the events.

This will be the seventh time that a team from North Loup-Scotia has represented Nebraska at a national contest. In 1963, a team placed fourth and Floyd Writing tied for first place as an individual. In 1967, a team placed second, and missed being first by only five points to a team from Indiana.

Allen DeNoyer of the North Loup team was the high individual in the state contest, scoring 314 out of a possible 400. Rolland Essman, chapter advisor, placed second in the professional division of the state contest. Seven-

Dedication of New Elementary School Set May 2

Dedication of Ord's new elementary school, which has won favorable comment from educators over several states, will take place May 2, a Sunday, at 2 p.m., according to Supt. Bill Gogan.

Dr. Vaughn Phelps, superintendent of schools at Omaha Westside will be chief speaker. His topic has not yet been announced.

Keys to the new school will be formally presented to the Ord school board. Master of ceremonies will be Mr. Gogan.

A musical program, which may include the grade school band and chorus is being arranged. A video tape, which will show the school in action, will probably also be in constant showing, so that visitors can see how the open concept-individualized instruction plan is carried out with students.

Grade school auditorium will

Final Rites for Mrs. John Mason, Accident Victim

Residents of Ord were shocked when an automobile tragedy took the lives of two persons and sent two other persons to the Valley County Hospital Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Mildred Lena Mason of Ord and Mrs. Lydia Stahlecker of Burwell were killed and Mrs. Vera M. Derner of Burwell and John Mason of Ord were taken to the hospital. Mr. Mason was released Sunday and Mrs. Derner was rated in good condition yesterday.

One car, driven by Mr. Mason was going east at the intersection of the Comstock road and Highway 70, and the other was going north and was driven by Mr. Derner of Burwell. The Brace school is at the same intersection.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Mason Tuesday in Ord United Methodist Church, with Rev. C. R. Campbell officiating. Last rites for Mrs. Derner were in Burwell.

At the Ord services, Mrs. Sharon Fuss sang, and was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Shirley Karre. Pallbearers were

Ord Musicians Compete Friday In District Meet at Hastings

Ord high school musicians, numbering 65, will compete in the district music contest at Hastings College, all day Friday, Apr. 23. Five teachers, led by James Oschsner, head of the music department, will accompany the students.

The 58 piece Ord stage band will compete, and also there will be a clarinet quartette, woodwind quintette, saxophone quartette and sextette, and a miscellaneous ensemble of brass and percussion instruments.

A swing choir made up of 14 singers and accompanist and a girl's trio with accompanist will also be among the performers.

Contestants will include Pam Riddle, Becky Gregory, Betty Nelson, John Dale, Al Koelling, Melvin Sich, Jan Bredthauer, Jan Remington, Rita Wojtasek, Kathy Karre, Donna Zebert, Rita Wojtasek, and Kathy Hartman.

Competition usually starts at 8 a.m.

300 Students on Conservation Service Tour

More than 300 students and leaders went on the Seventh and Eighth grade conservation tours, which had sessions in Ord high school in the morning and visited the Stanley Johnson farm in the afternoon Apr. 14th. Mr. Johnson is shown above explaining his irrigation system to part of the group. The group was welcomed at Ord high by Robert Norton, high school principal; Richard Nelson, county superintendent; and Charles Zangger, secretary-treasurer of Soil, Water Conservation district.

Ord Quiz Wins Second in Photo Contest of Nebraska Weeklies

The Ord Quiz won second prize in the Nebraska Press Association contest for best use of photography in 1970, it was announced this week. Best weekly in the state, as regards photography was the Scottsbluff Star-Herald, and Auburn Nemaha County Herald won honorable mention.

A three-quarter page of pictures, featuring Quiz printers working on the last edition of an old press, which was replaced last year, was the theme of the prize-winning page. Employees shown on the page included Louie Blaha, Elmer Lukesh, Vera Mach, Lila Naeve, Helen Beran and Meda Long.

Quiz employees who attended the 98th annual convention of the press association in Lincoln the past weekend included Kerry Leggett, publisher; Carol Leggett, society editor; and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Griffith, advertising manager.

Alton W. Wilhelms of the Stromsburg Headlight, is president of the state association, and Lyle A. Young is in charge of the state office at Lincoln.

Rain Aids Farms, Cancels 2 Meets

More than an inch of rain has fallen on Valley County in the last three days, according to Horace Travis, unofficial weather recorder for the U.S. Weather Service in Ord. He has kept records more than 46 years.

This is the best rain of the season since February, when an inch and a half approximately came down. This was very unusual for February, Mr. Travis said.

Current rainfall amounted to 27-100ths of an inch Monday, 73-100ths of an inch Tuesday and early Wednesday, 5-100ths of an inch. Precipitation to date has been four and 32-100ths inch as compared with five and 57-100ths for last year.

Because of the rain, Burwell's women's track team meet at Ord Tuesday was cancelled, and Raider Relays at Loup City, in which the men's track team was to compete, will be held today, Apr. 22.

Temperatures as reported by Mr. Travis for the past week are:

	High	Low
Apr. 15	69	45
Apr. 16	65	43
Apr. 17	73	43
Apr. 18	68	53
Apr. 19	72	56

Narcotic Addicts In County Talks

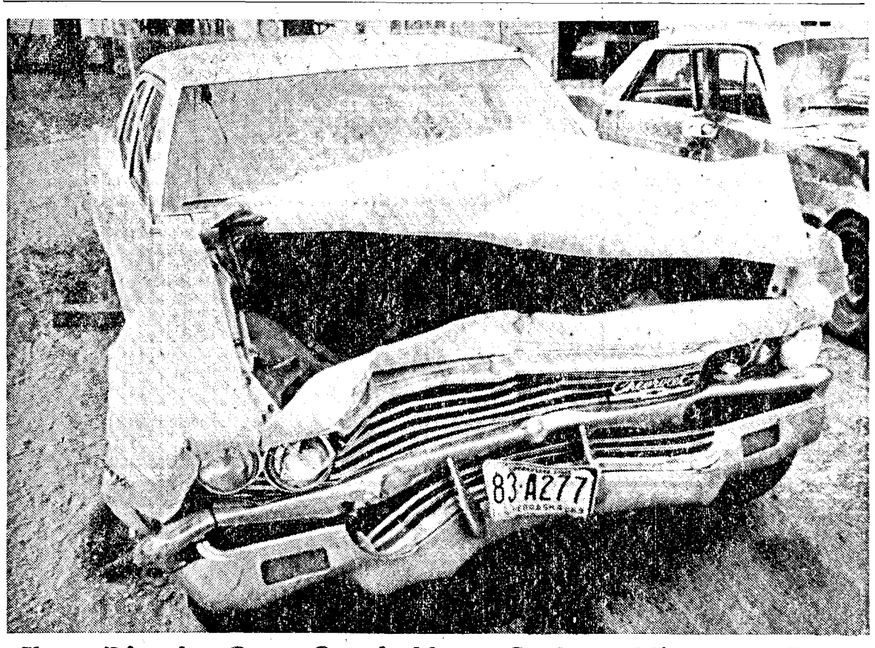
Clarence Fox, Valley county sheriff, has arranged for talks before students in Arcadia and Ord high schools on drug abuse by former narcotic addicts at the state correctional penitentiary at Lincoln.

Two men and a guard will come from the prison to speak to the students May 5th at each school. Due to prior use of the Arcadia school auditorium, the event will be held in a church at Arcadia, at 11 a.m.

At Ord, it will be in the high school at 1 p.m.

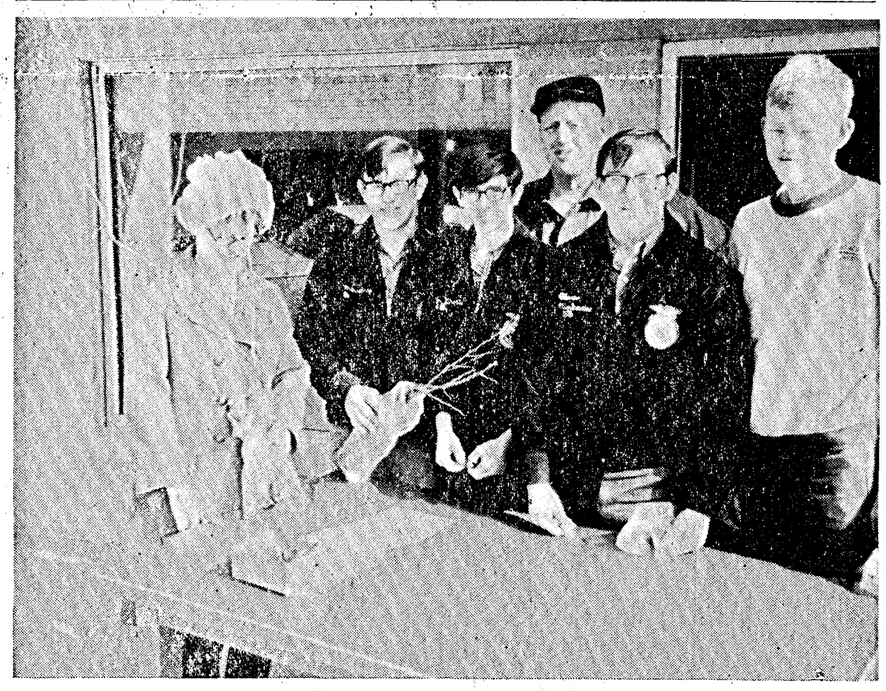
Sheriff Fox also spoke recently on drug abuse and criminal law to students of the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth grades at St. Mary's school in Ord. He also arranged for the series of drug abuse articles on the Quiz editorial page.

The house wife who wants to help her family's heart can serve more fish, chicken, veal and turkey and less of the fattier beef, lamb, pork and ham, the Nebraska Heart Association says.



Two Die As Cars Crash Near Ord on Highway 70

Two persons were killed and two others injured when two cars collided at the intersection of Comstock road and Highway 70 4:30 p.m. Friday. Mrs. Mildred Lena Mason of Ord and Mrs. Lydia Stahlecker of Burwell died, and Mrs. Vera M. Derner of Burwell and John Mason of Ord were injured. Alfred Derner, Jr., of Burwell was also in the accident, but was not injured. Mr. Mason was released from Valley county hospital Sunday, and Mrs. Derner was in good condition late yesterday. One of cars in the accidant is shown above. Force of impact drove the heads of two occupants three inches into the windshield.



Ord Joins County in Giving Away Free Trees

Free trees were given away in Ord, North Loup and Arcadia by Soil and Water conservation district; Extension service, Future Farmers of America, Arcadia Garden club, and North Loup Lions club, the past weekend. Here Mrs. Emanuel Vodehnal of Comstock is getting a tree at the Ord conservation office. Next to her, left to right, are Don Moudry, Alan Gross, Willis Sanders of the conservation staff, Alen Brittenham and Darren Dockhorn.

Ord Delegation Flies to Omaha to Solicit Doctor

Ord was well represented at the community day of the University of Nebraska medical school in Omaha last Thursday, as the Ord Chamber of Commerce delegation solicited an additional doctor for the city. Left to right are shown Duane Wolfe, Ray Smith, Mrs. Ray Marshall, Bill French, Chamber manager, and the plane in which they flew. Others who drove were Mr. and Mrs. Don Blaha, James McCready, Mrs. Gladys Weckbach, and Mike Johnson. Photo, courtesy Ray's studio, Ord.

Emanuel Skala Buys Ord Store

Emanuel Skala, who was born in Ord, has returned to the community as the new co-owner of Jack and Jill store. He has been operating a big supermarket in St. Paul. His wife, the former Lorelei Livingston of Colorado Springs, his son Scott and daughter Renee have established their home here. He is co-owner of the store, along with Jerry Klinginsmith of St. Paul. Former owner of the store, Mr. and Mrs. Provine Green will stay in Ord for the time being.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers have an important tax deadline on April 30, 1971, according to Richard P. Vinal, District Director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska. That is the last day for reporting and paying both Social Security and witheld income taxes for the quarter ending March 31, 1971.

in the state competition at Lincoln June 1-4. The contest will be staged in conjunction with state 4-H club week. All of Paul's expenses will be paid by KFAB radio station of Omaha.

Kathy Waldmann, other Valley county district contestant, won a blue ribbon. Her talk was "4-H and Today's Youth." Pam Gierau, Keya Paha county, was first in the girls' contest, and David Evans, Custer county, placed second in the boys' event.

Paul competed against county winners from Brown, Custer, Dawson, and Keya Paha counties. Girls were entered from Cherry, Garfield, Grant, Lincoln, Logan, Loup, Rock and Thomas counties, in addition to the boys' counties.

Accident

Don Zebert, Carl Kroeger, Carson Rogers, Glen Cochran, Robert Timmerman, and Russell Hackel. Interment was in Ord city cemetery. Hastings-Pearson was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Mason was the daughter of Edward and Winfred Williams Finley, was born in Ord in 1896 and lived her entire life in Valley county. She was married in 1916, and she and her husband made their home on a farm in Mira Valley and later moved to the Springdale area. In 1953, they retired and came to Ord. She was a member of the United Methodist church.

She is survived by her husband, two sons Leon and Hal; two daughters, Mrs. Darlene McKay and Mrs. Millicent Norland; and nine grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Noll of Ord.

Reunion Planned At Olean School

A reunion is being planned for Sunday, May 30, at the Olean schoolhouse. The afternoon social time with the serving of refreshments is open to anyone interested — especially former residents of the Olean community and those now living in the Olean locale.

Afternoon visitors, Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nedbalek were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baburek of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Rajda of Burwell and Mr. and Mrs. William Nemeskal and Raymond of Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruha and family of Scotia were Sunday supper guests at the Will Penas home.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nedbalek were in Broken Bow last Wednesday on business. They also called on Broken Bow residents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prochazka and Jana.

Debbie Heisner Is Outstanding Ordette at Monday Night Event

A peppy atmosphere prevailed Monday evening at the Elks Club when the senior high Ordettes feted their mothers at the annual mother-daughter banquet. Colorful springtime touches were provided by bright paper flowers and realistic sprinkling cans. On the head table was a huge vase of deep red roses and each senior girl was presented a rose by an underclassman.

Jan Bredthauer, vice president of the organization gave the invocation and president Kathy Dworak capably served as mistress of ceremonies. Another officer Kathy Waldmann, secretary, assisted as program co-ordinator.

Mrs. Carol Geweke was the guest speaker. Her words reviewed the routine of Ordettes during the past year. She pointed out the rewards of being a part of this organization and explained how these experiences in Ordettes might be applied in day-to-day living, stressing Responsibility, Loyalty and Honesty.

A girl's trio comprised of Diane Franssen, Becky Gregory and Pam Riddle added a musical air to the after-dinner program. They were accompanied by Rita Waldmann and Rita Wojtasek.

Ten awards for outstanding Ordette membership were given by sponsor Mrs. Beverly Walsh. Debbie Heisner was named as the 1971 Outstanding Ordette. Others receiving certificates for their work in accumulating more than the required 55 merits during the past year were Andrea Andreesen with 109; Debra Fryzek, 103; Janice Zapp, 92; Vickie Bredthauer, 90; Jean Foth, 90; Debra Timmerman, 87; Peg Worm, 85; Kathy Lola, 85 and Pam Moyer, 84.

Special recognition also was given to Varsity cheerleaders Terri Kunz, Jan Remington, Debbie Fish, Jackie Hurlbert and Marla Norman and to Reserve cheerleaders Peg Klanecky, Terri Hyde, Carla Collins, Jennie Belgram and Linda Stiger. Also receiving special praise were the Squad Leaders, Cindy Foth, Gretchen Foth, Diane Franssen, Jean Maresh, Karen Maresh, Pam Riddle, Julie Simpson, Cecile Waldmann, Rita Waldmann, Rita Wojtasek, Pat Winterfeld and Sally Cetak; and Assistant Squad Leaders Barb Ringlein, Chris Hansen, Sharon Bogus, Pat Peterson, Kathy Karre, Rhonda Rogers, Sue Grove, Jackie Quinn, Debbie Brown, Marilyn Staab, Linda Finley and Sue Osborn.

An anxiously awaited announcement near the program's end came when Terri Kunz tore open the envelope containing names of next year's cheerleaders. The new Varsity cheerleaders are Jackie Hurlbert, Peg Klanecky, Linda Stiger, Jenny Belgram and Marla Norman, head. Reserve cheerleaders for the coming year as announced are Vickie Bake, Marilyn Kokes, Janet Durand, Patty Veskerna and Jeannie Hyde, head.

Sue Grove was announced as the new Ordette president for the 1971-72 school year. Rita Waldmann will be the vice president; Pat Beran the secretary and Janice Zapp, treasurer.

Ord Rotary Members To District Meeting

A report of the District 563 Conference was given by Bernard Staab, Wayne Miller and Clark Weckbach, Monday evening, at the regular meeting of the Ord Rotary Club.

Several Ord Rotarians and their wives attended the Friday and Saturday event held in Grand Island. Among them were Bernard Staab, William Schudel, Fred Stoddard, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Weckbach.

The theme of the conference was "Communicate for Better Understanding." Ten foreign exchange students, sponsored by Rotary Clubs in the district were speakers at the convention.

Pork Cooking Ideas

Mrs. Frank Kapustka was hostess to members of the Home Arts Extension Club at her home this week. Eight members and Mrs. Irene Cetak attended. Some interesting hints on pork cooking were shared by Mrs. John Gregory who presented the lesson titled "New Pork." Mrs. David Enders will be the May hostess.

Scotia's New Recreation Court Would Be Multi-Purpose in Use

Scotia's new recreation court, which is proposed to be built around a new swimming pool authorized for construction in the village, was praised in the April issue of University of Nebraska's "Recreation and Park News in Nebraska."

A photograph with the article shows a group of workers, with a comprehensive blueprint showing details of the whole improvement. Individuals are Mrs. B. E. Bussell, Mrs. E. H. Reeves, Mrs. M. G. Williams, Nichols Clement, Virgil Ferguson, Millard Black and Earl Lincoln.

The article follows:

Representatives of the Board of Trustees for the Village of Scotia, the Green Thumbs Flower and Garden Club, the Community Betterment Council, and six high school students met with Robert Dula of the University of Nebraska Extension Division sometime ago to discuss the undeveloped land surrounding the newly constructed swimming pool. Dula advised that a "multi-purpose court be constructed which would accommodate tennis, basketball, shuffleboard, volleyball and other recreation activities."

Park and recreation advisory board was also recommended by Dula to be appointed by the Village Board of Scotia to plan future recreation and park programs and facilities.

A swimming pool bond issue was passed by a 126 to 52 margin by the Scotia voters on the new swimming pool for their community. The vote authorized issuance of $50,000 in bonds for the pool but the board believes that this will be held to about $40,000 and the intent is to spread the payments over a 15-year period. The site of the pool is a 200' x 200' tract of land owned by the village of Scotia.

The pool is heated, lighted, fan-shaped facility with a wading area, surrounded by a six-foot fence. It is proposed that the painting of the pool will be done by local volunteers, thus saving the community approximately $1500.

No federal funds were used to match the construction of the pool, financed by donations and contributions.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Gives Sizable Sum

A donation of $600 has been donated to the Veterans Club in Ord by the V.F.W. Auxiliary of Ord for the purchasing of a new deep fat fryer and other necessary expenses. Other action of business at the Apr. 12 meeting held at the Veterans Club lower level indicated that a flag has been ordered by the organization as a donation to St. Mary's School of Ord. Had she been present, Ottie Wade would have been the door prize winner.

New Member Added

Mrs. Jerome Turek was welcomed as a new member, Apr. 13 when members of the Lamp Lighters Extension Club met with Mrs. Lynn Griffith. Mrs. George Piskorski gave the lesson on pork. She also was cohostess for the evening.

Learning Galore

The Apr. 16 meeting of the Suzie Q's 4-H Club opened with the 4-H Pledge and the salute to the flag. All eight members were present for the meeting held at the John Wojtasek home. Reports of the officer's training meeting were given and goals and projects were planned for the new year. Members learned how to vote on a motion and made plans for a picnic and tea. A special candlelight ceremony was also held.

Rita Wojtasek, leader of the club, gave a demonstration on measuring liquid and dry ingredients; greasing and lining pans for baking. She also showed how to break an egg with a knife. Members judged cookie sheets too. Those of the Let's Sew project tried on thimbles, cut fabric, studied scissors and a sewing box.

Group singing was led by Sue Bosworth. Lunch was served by Rita Wojtasek. Lisa Moody, reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chet Swanek drove to Broken Bow, Thursday to listen to the Hastings College Band. This was their first stop on a five day concert trip throughout western Nebraska, eastern Colorado and Wyoming. The Swanek's daughter Sonja is a member of the band.

Meeting at Zulkoskis

The lesson on New Pork was given by Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski, Apr. 15, when she entertained nine members of the Jolly Homemakers Extension Club—and Mrs. Eugene Novotny—at her home. Samples of the loin roast topped with barbecue sauce was a lunchtime treat.

Mrs. Leon Ciemny will be the May 20 hostess.

Diet heavy in animal fats and cholesterol may accelerate conditions that underlie most heart attacks, the Nebraska Heart Association warns.

CAROL'S CORNER by carol leggett

Have you ever been told that a Midwesterner is different? And then have you gone on to wonder what makes him so?

For instance the Mid-westerner seems to get as much done as anyone else but he never seems to be in as much of a hurry about it.

He loves to talk but he prefers small talk to big talk. He seems to have an understanding of the fact that time has a way of punishing braggarts.

He is self-confident in peace and makes a good soldier in wartime because he learns early to adjust. He knows each winter probably will be long and cold and each summer long and hot.

He doesn't believe much in hysteria. The periodic panics and alarms that sweep people in coastal areas rarely touch him. He still retains a kind of wonderful 19th century feeling of security in both himself and his section of the country.

He is automatically friendly to everyone he meets. He enjoys doing small favors but he can be a long hater if he feels his friendship is imposed upon.

He is instinctively polite and prefers to take the other fellow at his own estimate as long as possible.

The Midwesterner is endlessly curious. He likes to hear about how other people live but he is slow to change his own ways—and won't be stampeded into doing so.

Weather rules his existence from birth and is always there to ruin or enrich him. He's a great weather-watcher and a great homebody. No other American takes a deeper pride in his home—or works harder at keeping it up.

To the average Midwesterner a steak sizzling on the backyard barbecue holds finer music than any sonata by Beethoven. Tomorrow's forecast by the weatherman is more meaningful than anything said in Russia yesterday about the international political climate.

Come up sunshine or storm there is one thing the Mid-westerner can't quite understand: why anyone would possibly want to live anywhere else in the world except where he does!

Wayne and Susan . . . to live in Ord

Susan Jacobs-Wayne Brown Exchange Vows April 6 in Methodist Church

Now at home in Ord are Wayne Brown and his bride, the former Susan Jacobs. The couple were married at Ord Apr. 6 in double ring rites at the United Methodist Church. Rev. Clarence R. Campbell read the marriage lines for the 8 o'clock evening ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jacobs of North Loup. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Brown of Ord are the groom's parents.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of organza and voile lace. The A-line silhouette featured a fitted bodice and Bishop sleeves. Panels of lace extended the length of the gown. The Wautau train sewpt from the waistline. A cluster of lace petals accented with pearls and sequins held the tiers of illusion veil. She carried a cascade of yellow roses.

Sandi Jacobs, wearing a bright figured peasant dress, attended her sister as maid of honor. She carried a single white mum.

Allen Bundy, brother-in-law of the groom, of Ord was best man.

After the ceremony the bride and groom were honored at a reception at the bride's parents home.

Local B.P.W. Club To State Convention

Five members of the Ord Business and Professional Women's Club attended the state convention at the Yancey Hotel in Grand Island Saturday. Attending from Ord were Mrs. Ella Marie Carson, local club president, Mrs. Eleanore Lenker, Mrs. Opal Burrows, Irma King and Agnes Cernik. Agnes Cernik served as State Elections Chairman for the convention. New state officers for the coming year are President, Mrs. Martha Messersmith, Gering; President-Elect, Olga Cherry, Lincoln; First Vice-President, Margene Shuck, Superior; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Lillian Simi, North Platte; Recording Secretary, Pauling Yost, Hebron; Treasurer, Mrs. Vera Quig, Hastings.

The Ord, York and Central City Clubs were the hostess clubs at the Saturday luncheon. Guest speaker at the noontime event was Mr. Richard Spelts, Grand Island.

Special speaker at the Saturday evening banquet was Jean L. McCarrey, Villa Grove, Ill., the Second-Vice-President of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Mrs. Haven Smith of Chappel was honored as the Outstanding Woman of Achievement and Sally Haythorn of Sidney was named Outstanding Young Career Girl.

Sarah Jane Cunningham of McCook, Vice-President of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. was also present at the convention.

The 1974 State Convention will be held in North Platte.

Extension Council Involved in Events

Ten clubs were present at the Spring meeting of the Valley County Extension Council held Friday afternoon at the Extension office.

Jean Remington was present to thank the clubs for their support in the Volun-Teen program and to explain briefly the work of the Volun-Teens program.

In-the-future events pertaining to the council include the Bloodmobile visit on Apr. 27; the Homemaker's Recognition Day planned for all club presidents on Apr. 29 at Broken Bow and the Spring Tea honoring junior girls and their mothers, May 4, at the Veterans Club lower level. Delores Clouse, cartoonist for NU Field of Communication will be the featured speaker at the May 4 event. Craft lessons will be given at the Great Plains Recreation Lab slated for Apr. 26-30 at Camp Kaleo near Burwell.

It was stressed that candidate names for the Queen's Tea be in at the Extension office by May 1.

Other announcements told that in order to obtain a kidney machine for the Burwell hospital with Gooch circle points 539,930 circle points are needed. To date approximately 50,000 have been collected. Anyone having Gooch circle points to donate toward this project may send them to Dorothy Freeman, Mrs. Anson Kinney or Mrs. Varley Peterson at Burwell. Betty Crocker coupons may also be sent to the three Burwell women by May 15 so that an exchange of these coupons for Gooch circle points might be made with a Broken Bow group.

The safety lesson on foods will be given to club leaders May 6 at the Extension Office in Ord. A fall event already calendared is the State Meeting, Sept. 28-30 in Alliance.

North Loup Notes

North Loup Community Dance, Social Time Tuesday at Noon

By Dena Sintek

Tuesday, April 27th, is the date for the second North Loup Community dinner and social time to be held in the North Loup Community Building from noon till 3:00 p.m. Everyone in the area is invited to attend, and to bring a covered dish and their own table service, if possible. The meat and drink will be furnished. Bingo and cards will be played till 3:00 p.m. Rides will be provided by Mrs. Louella Williams, Mrs. Carroll Thomas or Mrs. Emmett Frazer for anyone who calls them.

A nice crowd attended the carnival at the North Loup Community Building Saturday evening. This was sponsored by the Community Improvement Committee with the clubs and auxiliary assisting. Did you ever have a bucket of confetti dumped on your head when your hair is teased? Try just a little sometime and see what fun it is to get it out and how nice your hair looks afterwards. At least I hadn't just had mine fixed as some had. About $150 was made toward buying new folding chairs.

Bloodmobile

kinds and types of blood. It could not be feasible for any small hospital to try to maintain such.

"Thus, without Red Cross blood, many persons would die needlessly each year in Ord. We have given 103 pints of blood to 30 individuals in our hospital since January. As the average person has eight or nine quarts, it can be seen that we gave the average recipient almost a third of all the blood in his body."

Any resident of Valley county can get blood through the resources of the Red Cross bloodmobile.

110 pints are needed for Valley county's quota and donors are asked to be at the Ord United Methodist church between 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Local extension club members will again solicit donors to give blood. Tri-Fund drive in Ord, which supports Red Cross along with Cancer and Heart Fund, enables funds to come in to further aid the blood bank. Tri-Fund drive this year will start May 3.

Credit Concern

The Valley County Junior Leader's 4-H Club met Apr. 5 at the Extension Office with Bernard Staab, representative from the Production Credit Association as the guest speaker. His topic concerned credit and the teenager.

Members were reminded of Rural Life Sunday, May 16, and the Junior Leadership Conference, Apr. 16-17 at Halsey. Another regular meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m. on May 4. Kathy Waldmann, reporter.

Gary Teahon of Halsey-Dunning Leads Chelewski

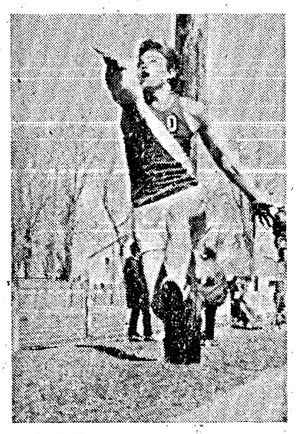
Darrell Farmer in Pole Vault

Darrell Farmer, Ord star in the pole vault, is showing going over the high cross-bar. He competed in the Ord invitational and also was in action in the Wrangler Relays at Burwell. He also competed at Loup City invitational yesterday, Apr. 21. Picture is by Ray's Studio, Ord.

Carl Suminski in Broad Jump Try



Carl Suminski, mile relay and broad jump star for the Ord track team is here shown in action in the broad jump. He competed at the Ord invitational Friday, at Loup City Apr. 21 and will be in competition Apr. 30 at Kearney invitational. Picture is by Ray's Studio, Ord.

Nebraskaland Tour Details Revealed

Overnight stops in the annual Nebraskaland Tour, which is scheduled to visit Fort Hartsuff at Ord, will not include Ord, according to the Nebraska Historical society. Overnight stops will be made in York, Syracuse, South Sioux City and O'Neill. The tour will start June 19 and run through the 23rd.

Additional information can be secured from John G. Sanders of the Auburn newspaper staff. Dr. Glen Auble of Ord will be one of the persons making the tour. All-expense costs will run $110 per person.

The road from Fort Hartsuff to Elyria is now being staked out and black-topping will be applied. Several weeks will be required to get the three and a half miles graded and corners re-curved on the stretch of roadway.

Rural Schools in Track Meet in Ord Wednesday

Everything is in readiness for the district track met of 12 rural schools of Valley county at Ord, Wednesday, Apr. 28th. Events will be run on the Ord athletic field starting at 8:30 a.m. There will be no admission charge.

Between 180 and 200 children are expected to compete. Ribbons will be awarded to the first five places in each event. Competitors will be divided into age groups, with class A being 12 years or older, and class B, 10 and 11; class C, eight and nine; and class D, seven and under.

Events will include running, high jump, broad jump, standing jumps, shot put, softball throw and football throw.

Final event will be a shuttle race, about 11:30 a.m., when the fastest four runners from each school will match skills with each other.

Girls Win Fourth In Shotput Event

Ord's girl varsity track team, in their first year of preparation, won a fourth in the shotput at the Grand Island invitational Apr. 14 with Deb Heisner taking the honors.

Rita Waldmann snared sixth in the long jump, but 17 other schools took the rest of honors.

Deb Brown did well in the high jump with four feet, seven inches, and also the 440 yard relay team of Marla Norman, Deb Brown, Kathy Lola and Rita Waldmann showed promise. Their time was 58.3 seconds, whereas the winning time was 53.2.

Hasting's St. Cecelia won the meet. Ord girls will compete next at Atkinson on the 27th.

COOKING SHOW

The modern beef industry is a many faceted operation that plays a major part in the nation's economy, says Bonita Bohnsack, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Chicago. Miss Bohnsack is scheduled to present a demonstration program, "Beef . . . An American Tradition", in Grand Island, on June 9. The session, sponsored by the Nebraska Cow-Belles, will take place at the Liederkranz Hall at 1:30 p.m., June 9.

Two Chant Stars Make Conference

Most of the basketball varsity will return next year to Ord and hence Coach Ken Trubey and assistant coach Fred Williams are busy with plans for next season.

"The Chants will be hurting a little on height," Mr. Trubey said. So, he will be making special plans in this category.

Tom Klanecky and Jim Andreesen were rated on the all-conference team for the past year, with Tom scoring 292 points with 14 points average per game, shooting 56% of all free throws, 34% of all field goal attempts, getting 93 rebounds and losing the ball 84 times on turnovers.

Jim had 194 points for the season with nine points average per game, 61% on free throws, 39% on field goal attempts, and secured 124 rebounds and lost the ball 41 times on turnovers.

Ord had a winning season with 11 victories out of 20 games.

Ord Golfers Play In Three Meets

Ord varsity golfers will carry most of the attention of sportsmen this week with the team already in action Monday at Central City, and a tourney at O'Neill yesterday. They will compete again Monday, Apr. 26th at St. Paul.

Varsity track team ran at Loup City in the Raider relays yesterday and Apr. 30th will be in action at the Kearney invitational meet. Women's track stars cancelled out a Tuesday track meet with Burwell on the 20th and will next be in action at Atkinson Apr. 27th.

Ord golfers tied for third place in the four school meet at Central City. Central golfers had 185 low tally, with Grand Island Catholic 203, and Ord and Grand Island NW tied at 205. On Apr. 16th, Ord hosted Albion, Broken Bow, and St. Paul and finished fourth.

Best players Monday at Central City were Leon Brechbill, Steve Todsen, and Doug Wolfe. Kip Leggett and Danny Jones tied for fourth best player for Ord at the meet.

Arcadia's track team was scheduled at Loup City yesterday, and at Greeley Apr. 27th.

City Publishing Tornado Warning

Tornado safety rules will be published by the Ord Quiz in the Apr. 29 issue of the paper. These have been issued by the city of Ord.

Individuals who are in the path of a tornado in the open country are asked to move at right angles, as the tornado usually moves ahead at 25 to 40 miles an hour. If there is no time to get out of the path, the best shelter is to lie flat in the nearest ditch, ravine or depression in the ground.

In a city, seek shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced concrete building. Stay away from windows. In a home, southwest corner of the lowest floor offers greatest safety. Standing against inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

In a school building, a person should avoid auditorium and gymnasiums.

Radios should be tuned to KNLV or nearest station. Citizens are asked to call KNLV or the weather bureau to report tornadoes, so others may be alerted. No other calls should be made, as lines should be kept open for outgoing calls.

Lesson Cheese

The Darling Daisies 4-H Club met recently with Lisa Hoppes. There were 14 members present. An experiment was given showing how to prevent cheese from being tough and rubbery. Mrs. Dale Hoppes served lunch. Games were played. Gloria Wetzel, reporter.

WITH SCHOOL UNIT

Mrs. Karen Goodenough, speech therapist of Ord, and wife of Larry Goodenough, physical science and life science teacher at Ord high school, will be on the staff of Educational Service Unit 10 next year, it has been announced. The unit serves schools with special services over a wide area of central Nebraska.

One of the biggest turnouts in the history of the Ord invitational track meet were ready at the starting gun Friday and by the time 400 athletes from 32 central Nebraska schools finished the 28th annual meet, three new all-time records were set.

Carl Suminski of Ord raced home first in the 220 yard finals and set a new record which had stood since 1955. His time was 23 seconds flat and this was a third of a second faster than the mark set by Phillips of Burwell in 1955, and tied by Haught of Ravenna and Wilkerson of Broken Bow.

In the pole vault, Saner of Grand Island, NW, soared over the cross bar at 12 feet five inches to set another new class A record. In the class B events, Teahon of Halsey - Dunning set a new record in the 120 yard high hurdles by shaving four-tenths of a second from the record set in 1969 by Koufal of North Loup - Scotia. He also won the 180 yard low hurdles with a time only six-tenths behind the all-time record.

Broken Bow won the class A championship with 62 points, and Grand Island NW was only one place out of seven in back, with 61 6/7ths final. Grand Island Catholic was third, Ord was fourth, Minden was fifth and St. Paul was at the bottom.

In class B, Mullen had 46 tallies, Anselmo - Merna was second with 27, and North Loup-Scotia had third with 26½. Halsey - Dunning took fourth with 25 and Loup City totalled 23.

Other schools in order were Centura, Burwell, Litchfield, Oconto, Sargent, Ansley, Polk, Wheeler Central, Arcadia, Greeley, Palmer, Amherst, Pleasanton, Wolbach, Ravenna, Kearney Catholic, and failing to score were Arnold, Elba, Spalding, Stromsburg and Taylor.

Suminski for Ord also won the 100 yard dash, only one-tenth second behind the all-time record of 10.0 and he placed second in the broad jump, Ord won the mile relay, and Melvin Sich placed third in the 440 yard dash. Dale Peterson of Ord placed fourth in the 880 run and he and Jim Andreesen tied for third in the high jump. Allen Cahill also took second in the two mile endurance grind.

Members of Ord's winning mile relay team were: Darrell Farmer, Peterson, Sich and Suminski.

In class B, North Loup-Scotia had been seeking a second place in the meet, but was nosed out by a half point. Albrecht secured second in the two mile run; Reeves secured third in the discus throw; Wegener had second in the 120 high hurdles; Wells captured second in the 880 run; Wagner took second in the 180 yard low hurdles, T. Albrecht and R. Albrecht took fourth and fifth in the Mile run, Wegner tied for fourth in the high jump and North Loup-Scotia placed third in the mile relay.

Arcadia scored with Chelewski third in the 120 yard high hurdles, and in the high jump he secured another third. He took a fifth also in the 180 yard low hurdles.

Track coach Fred Williams and assistant principal Dave Van Nordheim were in general charge of the meet. Teachers served voluntarily as judges of field events and businessmen volunteered for recording finishes in the running events.

Mr. Van Nordheim said, "Mr. Williams and myself would like to thank everyone who helped make this event successful. It was one of the largest turnouts in many years. We also would like to congratulate all the participants and the fine effort they made to do their very best."

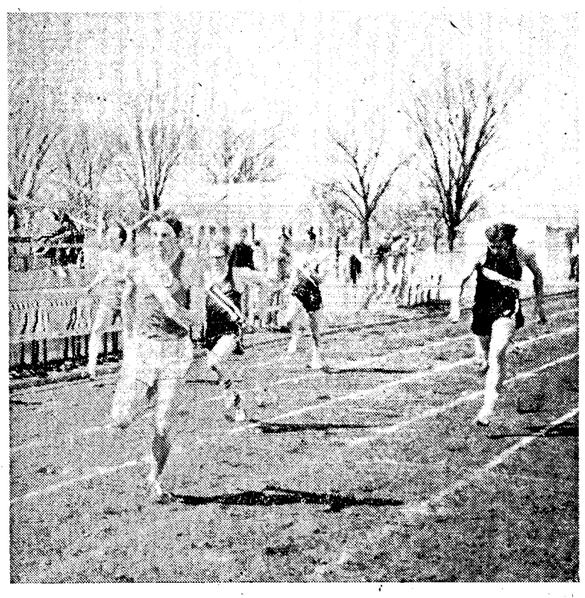
The meet is already scheduled for April, 1972 and the exact date will be announced later.

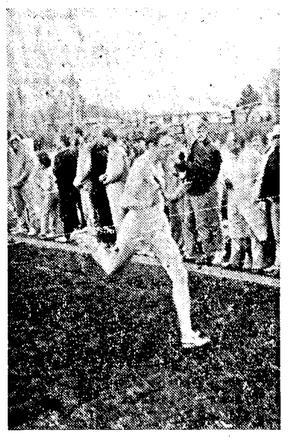
Study Extension Of Gas Pipeline

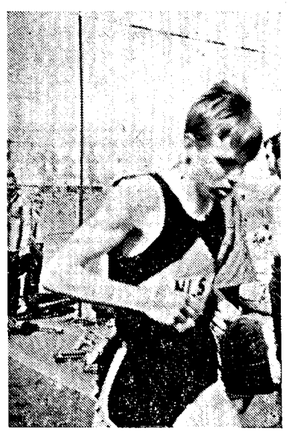
Additional power for irrigation wells in Valley county was discussed at a meeting of Kansas - Nebraska Natural Gas Co. and 14 farmers in the basement of the Veterans Club last Thursday evening.

There are 34 wells and grain dryers in the Ord area who might be powered by natural gas, it was brought out by James Jackson who led the discussion. Increased numbers would reduce the minimum billing of those who signed up.

The company now serves farms and villages to the south, west and east of Ord, and the new pipeline might service those northeast of the city. Farmers interested are asked to stop at the Ord office of Kansas - Nebraska Co., so number of customers and location can be determined.







Records Fall in 220, Pole Vault

Carl Suminski of Ord is shown in top picture setting a new all-time record for the Ord Invitational track meet when he won the 220 yard run in a flat 23 seconds. He shaved a third of a second off a record set by Phillips of Burwell, 1955; Haught, Ravenna, 1969; and Wilkerson of Broken Bow, 1970.

In second picture, Melvin Sich of Ord is struggling for the lead, with Darrell Farmer of Ord, extreme left, trying to move up. They are just a few feet from the finish line in one of the dash events.

Third picture shows Doug Saner of Grand Island N-W setting a new all-time record of 12 feet five inches for Class A schools. Prior pole vault record was held jointly by Roberts of Burwell, 1967; Lynn, Broken Bow, 1969; and Kosch, St. Paul, 1969; all of whom made 12 feet even.

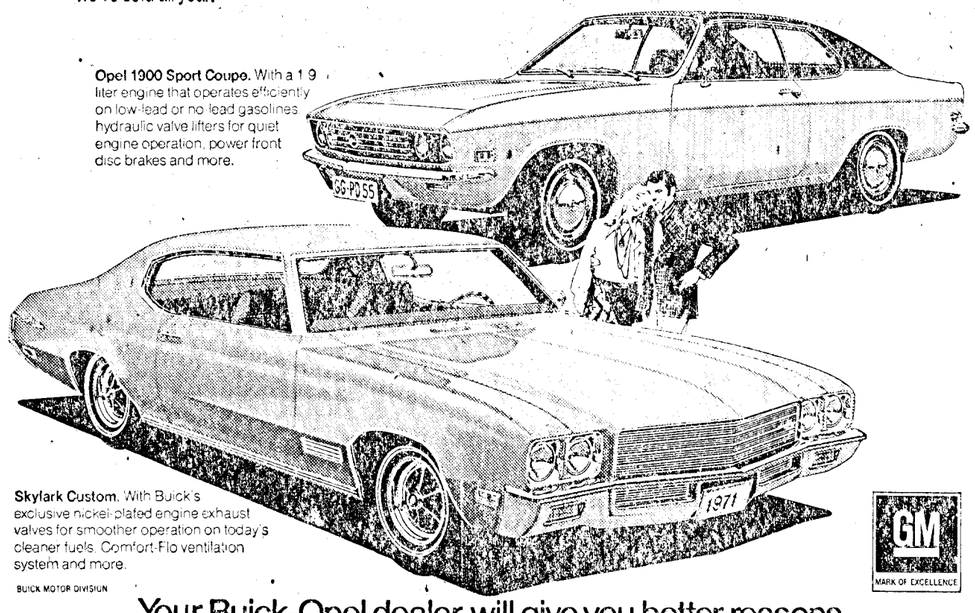
BUICK BARGAIN DAYS ARE HERE

Buick Bargain Days are saving days.

A bargain price on a stripped-down car is no bargain.
But a Buick or Opel at a bargain is something else again.
Because we're not selling some special stripped-down model.
We're selling Buicks and Opels, the same great cars we've sold all year.

With one difference. The deals have never been better.
Which means that you can move out in a new Buick or Opel at a price that's hard to believe.
When Buick talks about a bargain, we give you something to believe in.



Opel 1900 Sport Coupe. With a 1.9 liter engine that operates efficiently on low-lead or no-lead gasolines, hydraulic valve lifters for quiet engine operation, power front disc brakes and more.

Skylark Custom. With Buick's exclusive nickel-plated engine exhaust valves for smoother operation on today's cleaner fuels. Comfort-Flo ventilation system and more.

BUICK MOTOR DIVISION

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Your Buick-Opel dealer will give you better reasons to buy a new car now than anybody else.

The business of auto safety.

Auto safety is everyone's concern. But it's our business.

And we think the attention that's being paid to auto safety now is a good thing. Because it will result in better driving for everyone.

And, frankly, better driving for everyone means better business for us.

We say Buick is something to believe in. That's why we're trying to make it easy to be safe by putting in safety features that work by themselves. You don't have to do anything to make them work.

Like side guard beams. And the energy absorbing steering column. And the cargo guard between the trunk and back seat. They start "working" even before you get in the car.

But two safety features, two of the most vital, are worthless unless you do something first.

Seat and shoulder belts.

Unfastened they do nothing. And you've seen enough statistics to know what a difference they can make. So use them.

But that's not all you can do. Because the most effective safety feature of all can't be added to our cars or anybody else's.

That feature is you. And the way you drive.

Which should be defensively. And rested. And sober.

We're all in this together. And together we can solve the auto safety problem once and for all.

And the time is now.

Mira Valley Memo

Ord High Graduate Listed As "Outstanding Educator"

By Bertha Clement

Mrs. Elva Hayden is listed in the 1970 edition of "Outstanding Educators of America," published recently. She and two other members of the Fairbury Junior College faculty were among those chosen.

The book's forward, by Senator Hubert H. Humphrey says, "These are the men and women who by their actions in the class room today mold the course of History. Our hope — the nation's youth — is in their hands."

The educators are chosen from nominations sent to the book's board of editors, and after checking into their qualifications from the standpoint of professional education and accomplishments, and endorsements by administrators and other educators.

Mrs. Hayden retired at the end of 1969-1970 term, after having been head of the Fairbury Junior College English department from 1958-1970. She previously had been a member of the Fairbury high school faculty, 1949-1958, teaching English and having been assistant principal and girls counselor. She has also been active in local church and civic affairs and in professional organizations.

Mrs. Hayden is the sister of Mrs. George Bell and Clare and George Clement and grew up in Mira Valley. She is a graduate of Ord High School, received her A.B. degree at Milton College and her Master's degree at the University of Nebraska. She taught in the Ord, Calloway and North Loup high schools, as well as in Colorado before going to Fairbury.

Mutual Benefit

Mutual Benefit Extension Club met with Mrs. Jack Duvall Wednesday afternoon with eighteen members present. Mrs. Ed Cook and Mrs. Stan Johnson were visitors. Mrs. Harry Foth led in singing "Someone's in the Kitchen with Dinah" — appropriate for the cooking lesson — and "Over My Head." Reports were given by Health Chairman Mrs. Edgar Roe, Safety Chairman Mrs. Albert Peterson, Reading Chairman Mrs. Jack Duvall and Citizenship Chairman Mrs. Dan Cook. Last month a donation was made for the purchase of a Volun-teen gown to be used at Valley County Hospital.

Gretchen Foth consented to be the queen candidate of Mutual Benefit for the county fair. A float for the fair was also discussed.

Mrs. Anna Visek was leader of the lesson "The New Pork." She was assisted by Mrs. Jack Duvall, the hostess. They prepared a pork loin roast and butterfly chops which the group sampled. Refreshments were sweet sour pork with a cranberry salad, both from recipes given.

Mrs. Sophie Fuss will be the May 12 hostess.

Korner Kutters

Mrs. Eugene Bredthauer was hostess to Korner Kutters Extension Club Friday evening. Twelve members were present. A donation was made for the purchase of a volun-teen gown for Valley County Hospital use. Mrs. Orel Koelling presented the lesson "The New Pork." She prepared a pork loin roast, barbecued ribs, ham salad and pineapple jellow salad which were used for refreshments.

Mrs. Marvin Collins will be the May hostess.

Babbles by Bertha

Another house is being demolished on Highway 22. This one is near North Loup and too close to the highway. It has been vacant for years. Another house on the same road is being added to and remodeled. That is the Don Vogeler home. If stories I've heard are true my aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Ben Schwartz and family lived there and moved away during the dry nineties. The family moved to Pittsburgh, Pa. and some of the cousins still live in that area.

We had a pleasant visit with George's sister, Elva Hayden of Fairbury this past weekend. She also visited George and Mary Bell and Clare and Beulah Clement. It was like a breath of spring. She was beginning to wonder if she's get to the Bells Saturday. "Road Closed" signs were up on Highway 22 but no detour signs. After a couple of "tries" she took the highway to Ord, then going south through Mira Valley she found a bridge was being constructed across Mira Creek and she made another detour.

Our grandson Rex participated in a piano recital in Kearney Sunday afternoon. He also was accompaniest for his mother who sang a solo. We wanted to go, but didn't.

The Junior Foths have orphan kittens. The mother cat was hit by a car. After some coaxing the kittens are now lapping up their milk. The Bob Pier family came out Sunday. Now two of the kittens have a new home.

I knew we had rain Monday morning — almost half an inch — but I didn't know I'd be getting a mud bath when I got the mail. A car came by and the mud flew. I think it bothered the driver more than it did me. I needed a change of clothes. I had been saying I'd like to see mud, and I did. George laughed. By Tuesday morning we had an inch of rain.

Attending the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Spring Rally at Worms this Tuesday are Mrs. Henry Lange, Mrs. Lores Hornickel, Mrs. Eugene Bredthauer, Mrs. David Lange, Mrs. Herbert Bredthauer and Mrs. Sophie Fuss. Others from Ord also attended.

Mrs. Will Foth called on Mrs. Elsie Bremer last Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bredthauer at the Veteran's Club. Ron Bredthauer, home from Fort Benning, Ia. was also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Foth, Sr. spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huffman and family. They played cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Lores Hornickel spent Sunday evening with the Jack Duvall family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer visited Mrs. Rose Franzen, Alvin Hanke and Bertha Bremer Sunday forenoon. Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Sohrweid also visited Miss Bremer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hornickel visited Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hornickel Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Anna Visek had supper with the Jack Duvall family Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clement spent Monday evening at the Orville Portis home in North Loup.

In connection with the special meetings at the Mira Valley United Methodist Church last week, the men had a 6:30 breakfast meeting led by the Rev. Doyle Hays Tuesday. The women met at the home of Mrs. Will Foth for prayer and coffee Tuesday at 9:30.

The Rev. Doyle Hays of Grand Island was the house guest of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hopkins during the week of meetings at the United Methodist Church. He and Rev. and Mrs. Hopkins were dinner and supper guests in the homes of parishioners during the week. Wednesday they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orel Koelling and they and the Hopkins children were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foth. Thursday noon they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson and in the evening they and the Hopkins children had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Will Foth. Monday the ministers had supper with the Young Adult Class at the church and Tuesday evening with the Junior and Senior M.Y.F.

Mrs. Robert Hopkins taught a class at the Arcadia United Methodist Church Wednesday evening. Her topic was "Methodist Beliefs."

Mrs. Mervin Hornickel had ear surgery in Hastings last Wednesday. She returned home Friday. The Hornickel girls were after school visitors of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hornickel while their mother was in Hastings. Visitors of Mrs. Mervin Hornickel since her return home were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hornickel, Mrs. Lyle Foth, Mrs. Stan Johnson, Mrs. Kent Hornickel, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Luoma and Kris.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF

FLOYD CONE

It was a year ago this week
Since you first went away.
We've missed you, oh so very much,
Much more than words can say.

We know you're free of this old world
With all it's pain and care,
We still wish you were with us
The joys of life to share.

You had such a zest for life,
It didn't seem like you could leave,
But you'd want us to go on living,
And not just sit and grieve.

You loved us all so very much,
As much as we loved you,
We're glad we have our memories
To help to see us through.

Federal funds for short-term loans to local farmers, small businessmen,, minority citizens and eligible low-income individuals were deposited the past week in First National bank in Ord, North Loup Valley bank at North Loup and Citizen's state bank at Clearwater. Walt Smith, left, volunteer worker for Project 93, the federal program, is shown depositing $15,000 in the Ord bank. Center is Don Blaha, president of the bank, and at right is Clyde Hawkins, executive director of the project.

Special Teacher Workshops To Be in Five Special Fields

A one day workshop will be held at Hastings today, Apr. 22, with Ord administrators and teachers taking part. It will be in the field of mathematics and science, and will be led by Fred Curtis, consultant for the state department of education.

Robert Norton, principal of Ord high, will lead the group, along with Fred Williams, Darrell Kremke, Larry Goodenough, Dale Huebner, and Bob Curtright.

A similar workshop in Ord has been arranged by Mr. Norton for May 5. Six state department of education consultants will visit Ord and conduct in-service instruction classes.

Coming to Ord will be Mary E. Goodenberger, specialist in English; Vivian Snell, drug education; Ed Walker, social studies; Mr. Curtis, Mel Nielsen, foreign languages, and Ron Becker, general cordinator for the day.

So that teachers may have maximum opportunity to secure knowledge of the latest techniques in education, they will be continuous session with the state educators from 2 p.m. on that day. A slide presentation to all teachers will be shown by Mr. Becker, and then the Ord teachers will break up into classes according to the specialties of the visiting educators.

Classes in the high school will be dismissed at 2 p.m. that day, but elementary school will follow its usual schedule.

Special TV Program, Sunday To Show NU Rodeo Highlights

Five attractive Nebraska rodeo queen candidates will be honored guests on "Rodeo", a two-hour special program Sunday, Apr. 25 at 4 p.m. on the Nebraska Educational Television Network. The NETN program will feature highlights of the University of Nebraska Annual intercollegiate rodeo Apr. 23-24 where students from 20 colleges and universities in a nine state area will compete for top honors.

Texas championship cowboy Larry Mahan will emcee the rodeo.

Among the five lovelies competing for the queen's title is Christine Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson of Ord.

Funeral Service For Ella Ayres

Final services were held for Ella S. Ayres of Arcadia who died at the Hastings hospital at the age of 85. She had been living at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Johnson, and was a member of the Comstock United Methodist church and the South Side birthday club.

She was born to Millard F. and Martha F. Wilcox Vorhees in 1885 in Decatator county, Kansas. She was reared in Kansas and was wed to Albert B. Ayres in 1910. They made their home at Oberlin and later moved to Rifle, Kans., for a short period. In 1914, they came to Custer county, Nebr.

Funeral services were held at her Comstock church Monday with Rev. Robert Frescoln officiating. Clayton Montanye sang and was accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Riddle on the organ. Pallbearers were Robert and Albert Ayres, Richard and Alvin Johnson, Marvin Amos and James Dorey. Interment was in Douglas Grove cemetery. Hastings - Pearson were in charge of arrangements.

She is survived by two sons: Alvin, and Leroy of Ord, one daughter, Mrs. Frances Johnson of Arcadia, 10 grandchildren and seven great - grandchildren. Mr. Ayres died in 1953.

Reporters At Work

Three interesting reports were given at the Apr. 17 meeting of the Sumdale Livestock 4-H Club. The meeting was held at District 6 schoolhouse.

Eric Knapp's talk concerned how to make cocoa. Terry O'Neill reported on the horse clinic and leader Thelma Thomas told about "The Two Bum Steers." Tom Nelson, reporter.

Recreation Lab Starts Monday

A recreation laboratory will be held at Camp Kaleo, near Burwell, starting Monday and continuing all week. The public is invited to attend any day's sessions or to go all week. It has been conducted every year for more than 20 years.

Sessions in craft working will be featured. Monday, there will be gem polishing, macrame, woodcraft and seedcraft. Tuesday, sculpturing, gem polishing, macrame, wood and seedcraft is set. Wednesday, candle making, gem polishing, macrame, woodcraft and seedcraft is planned.

Thursday candle making, gem polishing, macrame, woodcraft and seedcraft is scheduled, and also small craft demonstrating with silversmithing. Friday there will be silversmithing, gem polishing, macrame, woodcraft and seedcraft.

Woodcraft will include making jewelry, pins and small articles. There will also be hiking, folk and square dancing, and games. More information can be supplied by Douglas county home agent, Mrs. Carol Van Nordheim.

Ten teachers are to conduct the sessions.

Three More Cases For Spring Court

Three new cases are scheduled for spring term of district court, which will be held in the Valley county courthouse.

G. A. C. Finance corporation filed an action Apr. 6 against Evelyn Erpelding, defendant in a judgement action.

State of Nebraska opposes John R. Duda, defendant, on an appeal from county court where he was charged with driving while under the influence. This case was filed Apr. 5.

State of Nebraska also opposes William J. Young, defendant, in a grand larceny action. The case was filed Mar. 31st.

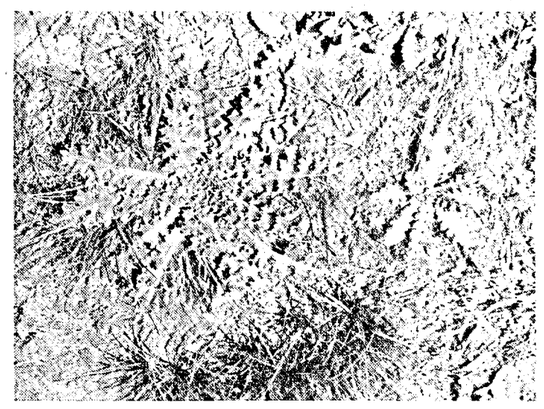
Judge W. F. Manasil of Burwell is judge of the district court and sessions are to start Friday.

Foster Homes for Children Sought

The State Department of Public Welfare announced this week that Summer Foster Homes are needed by the State Home for Children. The program, pioneered in 1965, provides an opportunity for a number of adolescents and older children to live out of the Home. They spend part of the summer in the community on farms, ranches or in the city. Some have stayed on and have become members of families. Children can be placed in Ord county homes.

Families are needed in rural and urban Nebraska areas who are interested in assisting these youngsters by providing a Summer Foster Home. Any family wishing to offer an opportunity to a young person to spend a part of the summer in their home may inquire by April 23 to Robert Rudell at the State Home for Children, Summer Foster Home Program, 5701 Walker, Lincoln, Nebraska 68507.

The Valley county welfare office is cooperating in the program.



NOXIOUS WEED

SPRING IS HERE!

Farmers and Ranchers are going all out to plant good seed, and they are expecting a big harvest this fall. Whatever seed you plant — be sure that it is clean seed. If you have seed for sale, of any kind, be sure that it is not infested with NOXIOUS WEED seed.

I will say this much about the farmers and ranchers, and womenfolk, of Valley and Garfield Counties. In 1970 about 95% of the noxius weeds were killed. They all worked hard on the noxious weed. Let's di it again this year, and not let any of the noxious weeds go to seed.

Spray musk thistle in the rosette stage. Now is the time to do your spraying to kill musk thistle and scotch thistle, and leafy spurg. This year the first part of the month of May will be the time to spray noxious weeds.

If you have noxious weed problems, or your neighbor may have some noxious weeds that are not taken care of, call on your weed superintendent, or one of the noxious weed board members. They will try and help you and your neighbor, if it is advice you need about noxious weeds.

IF you have a good neighbor — try and keep him that way. And try and be a good neighbor yourself.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Legislature, Governor Colliding On Personal Property Taxes

BY MELVIN PAUL
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

The Legislature — which has been there before — steered itself onto a collision course with Gov. J. J. Exon last week.

Even though the governor has called it "the great tax hoax of 1971" and guaranteed a veto, the lawmakers voted to give preliminary approval to the personal property tax exemption bill. After spending most of the day debating a series of amendments, the senators put a 31-13 endorsement on LB 573 and sent it to second reading.

That 31-vote total could wind up to be crucial in the stare-down with Exon. If the bill passes and the governor responds with the veto he has promised, it would take 30 votes to override him.

Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton has been faced with the veto problem before. He is sponsor of the exemption proposal and he was the introducer of the bill to increase the food sales tax credit. Exon vetoed the latter measure and Burbach decided against attempting an override. One was attempted by others, and it failed. Score that round to Exon—who, by the way, had his other veto sustained this session too.

But Burbach says he has more strength on the exemption measure and he indicated he hoped to be able to battle the governor down to the wire this time.

The Burbach bill is designed to implement Amendment 10, one of the constitutional changes authorized by the voters last fall. The amendment permits the Legislature to divide personal property into classes and exempt any class it wishes from taxation.

The Burbach bill establishes classes for business and agricultural equipment and inventories. As it was amended on the floor last week, it would exempt 50 per cent of the actual value of those classes of property from taxation in 1972, 1973 and 1974. In 1975, the waiver would be increased to 60 per cent, with an additional 10 per cent excused from taxation for each year until 90 per cent is exempted.

Burbach says local governments — the schools, the cities, the counties and other units depending on property taxes — have been getting about $48 million in revenue from those classes of personal property.

If half were erased from the rolls, the local governments would lose $24 million a year. His bill would have that loss made up from the state treasury.

The state would get its money from the sales and income taxes — which would have to be increased to provide it — and that's where Burbach and Exon part company.

The governor has promised that the sales and income tax rates won't exceed 2½ per cent and 13 per cent next year if he can help it. It would take another ½ per cent of sales tax and another 1 per cent of personal income tax to meet the demands of the Burbach bill.

The senator contends — and he had floor support last week — that Nebraskans want property tax relief even if it does force the sales and income tax rates beyond the governor's recommendations.

That same argument was used later last week when Sen. Jerome Warner's bill to raise the state school aid by $54 million a year was debated. An Exon veto also was programmed for the Waverly lawmaker's proposal.

Earmarking Method Used.

One way to sidestep an impact on sales and income taxes is to finance a project from another source.

That was the method chosen for the proposed state office building and the new University of Nebraska fieldhouse.

The senators decided to increase cigarette taxes and dedicate the additional revenue to the two construction projects.

Cornhusker Athletic Director Bob Devaney launched that campaign, and the bill reached final reading late last week.

Liquor taxes were offered as a financial resource for another legislative problem. The senators voted to have the state take over the financing of a statewide community college system — which incorporates junior colleges and area vocational - technical schools. If smokers could finance an office building and a fieldhouse, drinkers, it was proposed, could pay for the community colleges.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who had been behind the other two earmarking strategies, said there was a way to find the funds for the personal property tax exemption expenses, too.

He suggested that intangible taxes, which were repealed in 1967, could be reinstated. No formal action had been taken on that suggestion as last week moved to a close.

Classes at Home Proposed

NU Chancellor Durward B. Varner last wek suggested that the state's educational television network be used to provide a complete collegiate freshman curriculum for home study.

Varner won permission from the University Foundation to conduct a study of the idea. He said it could be ready to go—if "external" funding is found—by the middle of the next academic year.

Ed Swopes greeted friends in Ord this week. The former Ord photographer makes his home in Hollywood, Calif.

KERNELS & HUSKS

BY JOHN SCHADE
Valley County Agent

The effectiveness of a pound of nitrogen or phosphorus should be about the same regardless of which carrier you purchase. It's going to take about one and one-fourth to one and one-half pounds of nitrogen to produce a bushel of corn.

If you handle fertilizer in such a way that losses are avoided, the cost of a pound of plant food nutrient supplied in the various fertilizers would become an important consideration.

You can easily calculate the cost of a pound of nitrogen if you follow this simple step: Divide the total pounds of nitrogen in one ton of fertilizer by the total cost of that ton of fertilizer. For Example: If anhydrous ammonia is selling for $82.00 per ton the cost of nitrogen is $.05 a pound, i.e., a ton of anhydrous ammonia (82 percent N) contains 1,640 pounds of nitrogen. The 1,640 pounds of nitrogen divided by $82.00 gives the cost per pound of nitrogen, in this case $.05 per pound.

Cost calculations show that the price of plant nutrients is nearly equal for most of the commercial fertilizers on the market today.

There are, however, some new commercial products on the market which have much more expensive price tags. If you put on enough of these products to supply the needed nutrients to produce an adequate crop the cost would become prohibitive. These products may be satisfactory for high value cash crops but I do not feel you can afford their luxury for corn, soy beans, wheat, and sorghum in Valley County.

Horse Physical Fitness:

Your horse has been comparatively idle during the winter months. Now is the time to begin toning him up for the spring work season.

An abrupt step-up in activity could result in an injury to your horse. Working him too hard before he is toned up could result in pulled muscles, sprains, foot injuries or even respiratory problems.

So start gradually on the "physical - fitness" program by working him a short period of time each day.

Other spring tune-up tips are: (1). Inspect his feet — proper hoof trimming and shoeing are important. (2). Check for lice and treat if necessary. (4). Discuss a worming program for your horse with your veterinarian. (5). Have his teeth checked and have them floated necessary.

With stepped-up activity the spring you will need change your nutritional program to fit his activity needs. You will need to increase the energy content of the ration in direct proportion to his work load.

Bull Selection:

The bull you select for use this year can do a lot to improve the rate of gain, efficiency and muscling of your 1972 calf crop.

These heritability estimates of beef cattle from Iowa State University indicate the degree offsprings are effected:

Loin eye area — 70%; Rate of Gain in Feeding — 57%; Carcass grade — 48%; Slaughter grade — 47%; Dressing percentage — 46%; Fat thickness — 38%; Feed efficiency in feedlot — 36%; Weaning weight — 30%.

From the above you can see that weaning weight is influenced less by breeding than other factors.

Weaning weight is influenced more by the amount of milk the dam gives than any other factor.

Tests in Arkansas show that cows producing less than 6 pounds of milk daily wean smaller calves.

Supplemental feeding of the cow or creep feeding of the calves can be used to increase the weaning weight of low producing cows.

Tractor Operation Courses In Ord Set May 18; County Agent in Charge

A series of three tractor operation maintenance and safety training sessions are scheduled for Ord, Nebraska on May 8, 15, and 22. These sessions will be held in the Vocational Agricultural classroom, Ord high school starting at 8:00 a.m. and running through 5:00 p.m. each Saturday.

The sessions are designed to provide training for boys and girls 14 and 15 years of age to fulfill the requirements of the Hazardous Occupation Act of 1968.

This law states, among other things, that boys and girls under sixteen years of age are not permitted to operate a tractor, other than on their home farm, that has over 20 belt horsepower. This law also prohibits this age group from operating various power driven machines such as combines, farmhand loaders, mowers, balers, hay conditioners, feed grinders, and many others.

Boys and girls under 16 may receive an exemption certificate which allows them to not only operate a tractor but some of the other pieces of equipment as well.

To receive the exemption certificate, they must complete 20 hours of instruction in "Tractor Operation, Maintenance and Safety Training".

Boys and girls interested in this training are asked to register with John Schade, Valley county extension agent. A charge of $5.00 to purchase study material and accident insurance has been assessed.

Registration must be received by May 1st. The $5.00 fee should accompany the registration.

Test of Pheasants For Grand Island

Game farm hen pheasants have been taken to Cornhusker Special Use Area near Grand Island for use in an experiment testing a technique that may provide increased pheasant populations in areas of the state deficient in nesting habitat.

The project involves the placing of game farm hens with flight feathers removed in one-acre plots of alfalfa surrounded by a five-foot wire-mesh fence. The theory behind the program is that the hens will be bred by wild cocks and hatch their eggs inside the fence.

Then, about two weeks after the eggs hatch, the hens should have grown new flight feathers. By that time, the chicks should be old enough to clear the fence and leave with the hens.

Crop Report Has Cattle Doing Well

Rain which fell on Valley county farms Monday was doubly welcome as the official crop report of county agent John Schade for last week indicated very dry feedlots.

He stated that cattle are making adequate gains, and ranchers are still feeding hay supplement to their cow herds. However, he states there seems to be an increasing number of reports of scours.

Main farm work now being done is fertilizing preplant, cutting stalks, plowing and discing corn stalks, building fences, hauling manure, moving hay from fields and other general pre-planting spring work.

Dry weather had caused some soil blowing in lighter soils. A trace of moisture fell during the week ending Apr. 17. Pasture and range feed is below average.

Winter wheat is rated in good condition, as is alfalfa. Wild hay growth was rated as fair.

Connie Entertains

Nine members were present when the Busy Bees 4-H Club met with Connie Petska at the Eugene Petska home. Demonstrations at the Apr. 13 meeting were Cinnamon Toast by Kathy Hansen and Janet Waltman and Hot Chocolate by Lori Hansen and Sheryl Fuss.

Breakfast breads and cereals were discussed by the members and leader, Mrs. Frank Fuss.

The next scheduled meeting will be in June at the Frank Fuss home. Joan Fuss, reporter.

STATE EXPORTS

Nebraska exports are gaining, as per state department of economic development. Manufacturers shipped products worth $100.5 million in 1969. This is 63% over the prior year's totals.

Cooking With Pork

Betty Moudry and Bernadine Lange presented the lesson about pork and its uses, Apr. 8, at the regular meeting of the Jolly Neighbors Club. Mrs. Evelyn Jackson was the hostess. At lunchtime, 12 members enjoyed the pork loin roast and barbecued ribs which the lesson leaders prepared and served. Dilly bread and salad completed the menu.

Mrs. Howard Huff will be the May 13 hostess.

Making Muffins

Eileen Foth was hostess Apr. 15 to the Merry Miras 4-H Club. Eileen, as vice-president, led the meeting in the absence of Janice Mroczek.

The Better Breakfast group led by Gretchen Foth, made muffins which were shared with the other club members. The next meeting on May 7 will be at the Rev. Robert Hopkins home.

GENERAL NOTICE

NOXIOUS WEEDS MUST BE DESTROYED

YOU ARE REQUIRED TO DESTROY NOXIOUS WEEDS ON YOUR PROPERTY
By Order Of The Valley County Weed Control Authority

Notice is hereby given this 2nd day of April 1971, pursuant to the Nebraska Noxious Weed Law Section 2-955 Subsection A, to every person who owns or controls land in Valley County, Nebraska, that noxious weeds standing, being, or growing on such land shall be destroyed or eradicated by effective cutting, tillage, cropping, pasturing, or treating with chemicals or other effective methods, or combination thereof, approved by the County Weed Control Superintendent, as often as may be required to prevent the weed from blooming and maturing seeds, or spreading by root, root stalks or other means.

Upon failure to observe this notice the county weed control superintendent is required to proceed pursuant to the law and have weeds destroyed by such method as he finds necessary, the expenses of which shall constitute a lien and be entered as a tax against the land, and be collected as other real estate taxes are collected, or by other means as provided by law.

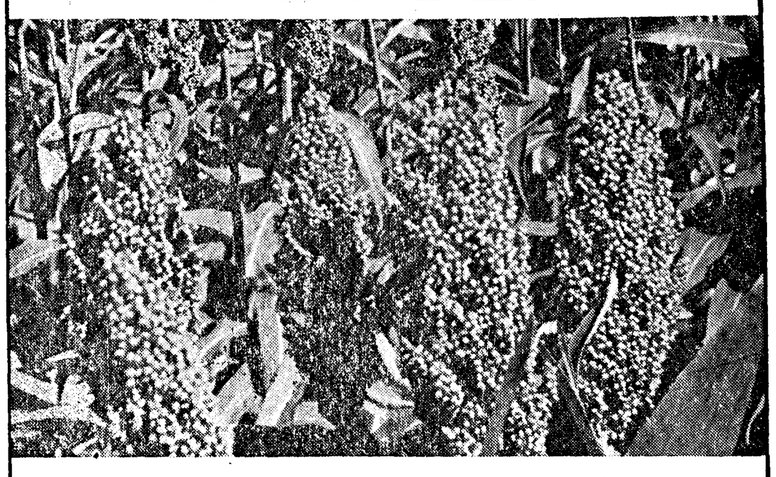
RAMROD®/ATRAZINE WORKS...



ASK ANY GOOD MILO GROWER AROUND HERE

We asked THEES WALLMAN of Martell, Nebraska: "Well, the reason we went to Ramrod/atrazine was there was less carryover, and we liked the way it mixed in that plastic bag. It doesn't need much rain to get it to work. We were real satisfied with it last year. It just works . . . that's all there is to it."

We asked CARL RICHARDS of Topeka, Kansas: "My son and I have got something like 500 acres of milo. We used Ramrod/atrazine on all of it. We were short of moisture, it was awful dry . . . and if we hadn't controlled the weeds with Ramrod/atrazine, why we just wouldn't have had a crop. We got bushels and bushels of milo . . . no weeds, just milo."

We asked RONALD WHITTMER of Bern, Kansas: "I like the results I get with it. I kind of think by using a mixture of Ramrod and atrazine, it's just like cross breeding cattle. You cross breed cattle or hogs . . . you most generally come up with better cattle and hogs. By using Ramrod/atrazine, both, . . . what the one won't do, the other one will. I'd say it works."

It's really very simple . . . Ramrod/atrazine works . . . ask any good milo grower around here. It works to control all these grasses and broadleaf weeds . . .

MORAL VALUES IMPORTANT IN EDUCATION

By Nebraska Catholic Conference

Need for support of parochial, along with public schools, has been stressed by the three Catholic bishops of Nebraska. They state,

"Children and young people have the right to be motivated to appraise moral values with a right conscience and to embrace them with personal adherence, together with a deeper knowledge and love of God.

"Parochial schools serve the Christian community as treasury for basic Christian living second only to the home. Parents have brought children to life and are bound by the most serious obligation to educate their offspring and therefore must be recognized as the primary and principal educators."

The three bishops are Glennon P. Flavin, Bishop of Lincoln; Daniel E. Sheehan, Archbishop of Omaha; and John L. Paschang, Bishop of Grand Island.

COYOTE CLUB THANKED FOR GENEROUS GIFT

By Mrs. Andrew B. Kusek, Ord

We of the North Central Aid to Retarded Children wish to thank the members of the Coyote Club for their very generous gift.

It has been put into a scholarship fund to be used by graduating seniors wishing to enter the fields of Special Education.

Due to your gift, we will be able to include schools from our four county area: Loup, Garfield, Howard and Valley.

Young people are needed to help, retarded pre-schoolers, those in trainable and educable programs, recreation programs, summer camps, physical therapy, speech therapy, family counselors and at the State Home in Beatrice to help the profoundly retarded. Workshop supervisors require special training as well as those people operating hostels for working retarded adults.

Perhaps you can see how a gift locally centered may eventually have far-reaching results. Thank you so much for remembering those "people who need people."

MANY INACCURACIES ON FORT HARTSUFF STORY

By Laverne L. Hansen, Ord

There was so much inaccuracy in your Fort Hartsuff news story of March 25, that I wonder where you get your information?! Just to point out a few of them; Cottonwood lumber was not used in any of the buildings now standing at the Fort, the new residence for the superintendent is on the north side of th Fort are and not on the west side, paneling on the interior of the guardhouse is not knotty pine but cedar, and there are other discrepancies that we won't go into at this time.

Editor's Note: Most newspapers quote individuals who are rated as competent. The Quiz article was based on data provided by Dr. Glen Auble, former owner of the Fort, and Victor Leonard, park superintendent. An article by Dr. Auble, "Short History of Fort Hartsuff," indicates that sawmills were set up to make dimension lumber from native cottonwood and shingles from cedar. Mr. Leonard says the Fort is not laid out true east and west and that though his home is assumed by most visitors to be on the west side, it is actually more north than west. He says he assumed the guardhouse paneling was knotty pine, as it appears as such. But of course, it could be cedar.

Valuators of Land

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

You can mark my word, this feller Nader has plowed up a bed of snakes fer shore this time. I see by the papers where he is investigating the way property is valued, and that he says they is unequal methods of figgering what a piece of property is worth.

I ain't never been to strong in this matter, Mister Editor, but I know enuff to know that Nader is right. I figger they is as many ways as they is valuaters, and ever one of em uses differunt ways in differunt places. I allus wonder, fer instant, if a farm is worth the same fer a four-lane road to be built acrost it, as it is fer farming. Fer dead certain it is sudden worth a heap if a gas station wants to go up on a acre or two after the road is cut thru.

I don't know how fer Nader plans to take his study, but it ought to give us some interesting reading if he goes into how all the Guvernments sets value on land fer tax purposes. They git some experts to ride around and decide what the country is worth, then they set the tax rates based on these market prices. But they use all kind of per cents fer taxing purposes, so a feller has to be a Philadelphy lawyer to figger how much tax he actual

UN Drug Control Fund Is Supported

The United States has pledged $2 million to the United Nations Drug Abuse fund, according to Congressman Dave Martin. President Nixon has also launched a campaign of worldwide cooperation in hitting hard at the drug traffic.

On October 23, 1970, the President said, "It is in the world interest that the narcotics traffice be curbed. Drugs pollute the minds and bodies of our young, bringing misery, violence and human and economic waste. This scourge of drugs can be eliminated through international cooperation. I urge all governments to support the recent recommendations of the UN Commission on Narcotics Drugs . . . I urge all governments to support a strengthened marcotics treaty that would govern all production by restricting it solely to medical and scientific purposes."

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The Nebraska Young Democrats will hold their state convention the weekend of April 23-25 at the Ramada Inn in Lincoln. Workshops will be held. Speakers include State Chairman Hess Dyas on state party posts and procedures, Mike Boyle, Douglas County Assistant Election Commissioner on voter registration, Wallace C. Peterson on national legislation, Dick White on state legislation, Richard Fellman on the Nebraska Little McGovern Reform Commission and National YD President Dave Sternoff on national YD organization.

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

—get concerned—

Though I've had no time to try and dig out facts behind it, a venture is underway in this community that every citizen should concern themselves with —if they care to retain any part of the freedom of democracy.

First let me simply define communism, from the dictionary on my desk:

com-mu-nism — n. 1. A social system characterized by the communal sharing of goods and services.

Presently being circulated (and last available at the Valley County Welfare Office) is a three page mimeographed sheet. The first page of it I'll skip for the sake of brevity. It merely explains the "intent" of "the Area III 4-C Program."

Wondering what the "4-C Program" consists of, I'll carry the second two pages in their entirety.

"WHAT IS THE 4-C PROGRAM?

"The 4-C Program is a multi-agency venture designed to identify local needs, develop planning processes to meet these needs, mobilize existing and potential resources by uniting public and private agencies in their day care and pre-school programs, and establish a climate in which cooperation of social service and educational efforts will be assured.

"WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THE 4-C PROGRAM?

"The purpose of the 4-C Program is to assist communities in organizing fragmenfal or non-existant services into comprehensive programs in support of families and children.

"WHAT ARE THE OBJECTIVES OF THE 4-C PROGRAM?

"A. To provide comprehensive and coordinated quality child care, child development, and supportive family services.

"B. To develop the most efficient, effective, and economical methods for utilizing existing and needed child care programs.

"C. To ensure an effective voice in policy and program for the parents of the children enrolled.

"D. To mobilize applicable resources of the community.

"E. To optimize administrative linkages between local programs and the state and federal governments.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE BENEFITS OF THE PROGRAMS TO A LOCAL COMMUNITY?

"A. Expansion and continuity of services to provide greater flexibility in placement through interagency cooperation.

"B. More efficient use of human resources specialists (medical, dental, and social service) to assist in establishing uniform standards and insure their availability for appropriate services from program to program. Common purchasing unit — food, medicine, toys, equipment, etc. can be purchased at a reduction in cost when bought in bulk orders.

"D. Improved transportation — pooled resources result in more efficient transportation of children and parents.

"E. Joint program activities — joint program activities such as field trips, special events, parent forums, etc. are more economically feasible and add to the cultural enrichment of all participants.

"F. Staff development — personnel referral systems to permit transfer and utilization of staff on an intra-program level.

"G. Training program for personnel are to be established as a central administrative mechanism.

"H. Reduction of administrative overhead — by establishing agreements on administrative coordination involvement of the following elements will result:

"(1) Loan of staff, supplies and equipment

"(2) Initiation of a case reference procedure to discuss the adjustment of individual children being served.

"(3) Establishment of central depositories for the distribution equipment, books, audio-visual aids, materials, etc.

"(4) Establishing uniform procedures for evaluation and reporting."

It's my understanding that the "4-C Program" is going to be discussed in the Valley County Welfare Office at a meeting April 28th.

I ask only that you reread the definition of communism. If you're concerned, I'd suggest that you be at the meeting and voice your opinion.

Parents—Know the Drug Threat

The Child You Save May Be Your Own

By CLARENCE FOX

Valley County Sheriff

TODAY'S SUBJECT: What Parents Can Do About Drug Misuse

Except for speeding in a motor vehicle on the highways, Marajuana smoking is likely the most commonly committed crime in the nation. Americans who have experimented with Marijuana smoking at least once may number as many as 20 million persons. It is estimated by the Pentagon in Washington that perhaps as much as 30% of our troops in Vietnam have tried "pot," but most people making the estimates seem to agree that this is a conservative guess. Where surveys have been taken in larger universities the extent of Marijuana users tops 50% of the undergraduates and the figure is rising.

You'll hear the argument, coming most often from very young users of Marijuana, that it is harmless, has no longlasting effects, and it is not "habit forming." In one recent survey of 200 Marijuana smokers, it was found that 49% had already experimented with LSD, 43% had tried Amphetamines and 24% some form of the Barbiturates. In all of them, two-thirds had used other illegal drugs! If, in the research now underway, Marijuana is proved physically and at the same time medically safe (which is unlikely), isn't it obvious that there still is a definite guilt by association? It seems to form a pattern that the Marijuana user seldom remains ONLY a user of this drug.

Specialists concerned with drug misuse offer these constructive suggestions to parents in dealing with their children:

1. Keep your cool — a level head thinks logically, makes better decisions and generally acts more wisely.
2. Listen to what young people are really trying to tell you. Drugs are not the cause of drug use — at least not initially — there are hundreds of reasons why a child experiments with drugs. Find those potential reasons in your home - family relationships. Correct what might become a dangerous condition BEFORE it can cause serious trouble.
3. Get the facts concerning drugs and make certain you expose your youngsters to this data in an atmosphere of sharing.
4. When setting discipline be very fair . . . but at the same time be very FIRM.
5. All experts in the field agree on this one being of utmost importance: SET GOOD PARENTAL EXAMPLES! A parent who in effect says, "Do as I say, not as I do," stands little chance of influencing his children for true good.

While many people stand doing little more than handwringing, more and more parental groups across the coutry are setting up drug study meetings which show films on the subject. If your club or organization is interested in having such meetings, here are some suggested films to obtain:

"THE MIND BENDERS" — 25 min. Subject, LSD and other hallucinogens. Write: National Medical Audiovisual Center (Annex), Chamblee, Ga., 30005.

"FDA SPECIAL REPORT" — 20 min. Subject, Drug Abuse — Bennies and Goofballs. Write same source as for "THE MIND BENDERS."

"FIGHT OR FLIGHT" — 16 min. Available for purchase only, 16mm, sound and color. Write Mrs. Quinn Tamm, International Association of Chiefs of Police, 1319 18th St., N.E., Washington, D.C., 20036.

"LSD—25" — 26 min., on LSD and hallucinogenic drugs in general. Write: Professional Arts, Inc., P.O. Box 8484, Universal City, Calif., 91608.

"DRUGS AND THE NERVOUS SYSTEM" — 18 min., on how drugs affect many different parts of the body by their influence on the central nervous system. Write: Churchill Films, 662 N. Robertson Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

"HIDE AND SEEK" — 14 min., actual experiences of a teenager caught by the narcotic habit. Write: Center For Mass Communications, Columbia University Press, 1125 Amsterdam Ave., New York, N.Y., 10025.

It goes without saying that the more complete and basically factual information parents have concerning drugs, the more effective they can be in dealing with drug temptations, difficulties and discussions. Children and young people in general must know more than just one side of the story, since most of their information comes from others who favor drug experimentation, usually those in their own age group.

Of course, this department will be happy to assist any parental group wishing to embark on a drug education program. Don't miss my article next week.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Senator Muskie Risks Future by Street Demonstration Endorsement

BY PAUL SCOTT
Former Greeley Resident

Senator Edmund Muskie (D. Me.) is taking his campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination into the streets.

The party's front - runner has adopted a risky political course by giving his full backing and endorsement to the massive anti-war demonstration that will take place in the nation's Capital Apr. 24.

Main objective of the demonstration is to force President Nixon to withdraw all American military forces from Indochina by the end of 1971. The demonstration is also designed to test this city's security forces for the more violent demonstrations that are being planned by other anti-war groups in early May.

Although the organizers are billing the Apr. 24 demonstration as a peaceful one, they are in daily contact with militant anti-war groups and radical revolutionaries who are planning actions that can only lead to violence.

Senator Muskie's endorsement of the protest is being carefully studied by the White House in light of the support being given the demonstration by Xuan Thuy, chief of the North Vietnamese communist delegation in Paris. In a bold open message to representatives of the anti-war movement in the U.S., Xuan Thuy gave his full endorsement, stating:

"Facing the serious situation as it's now presented, I call upon the progressive American people and all anti-war organizations in the U. S. to unite closely, to associate all forces and strata of the population irrespective of their skin color, religion and political trend, thus making a wide and strong movement so as to curb in time new military adventures by U.S. Administration, to demand an end to their war aggression in South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, to demand the withdrawal of all American troops from Indochina and let the Indochinese people settle their own internal affairs."

What is disturbing a number of Muskie's middle-of-the-road backers is that his open-end endorsement followed by about five weeks the call to arms that Xuan Thuy sent to the anti-war movement in the U.S. The statement of the Maine Democrat also was delivered on the Senate floor after Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the Communist Provisional Revolutionary Gov. ernment (PRG) of South Viet Nam, sent a special message to student activists in the country urging them to take to the streets.

The April 24 demonstration is being planned and staged by the National Peace Action Coalition (NPAC), which is dominated by Trotskite Communists. The protest is being actively backed by the Peoples Coalition (PC), led by convicted "Chicago 7" defendant Rennie Davis. The PC is an outgrowth of the New Mobe, whose members include dozens of pro-Soviet communists.

Congressional supporters of Muskie are seriously concerned that his endorsement could backfire and hurt his political chances should the April 24 demonstration lead to violence in and around the bomb damaged U.S. Capitol — the target of the coming protest.

Several lawmakers have privately urged Muskie to temper his endorsement by publicly calling on all groups involved in the massive demonstration to make pledges that there will be no violence or damage to buildings on the Capitol grounds.

Muskie's aides say privately he decided to get on the anti-war band wagon after four Democratic Senators — Philip Hart (Mich.), George McGovern (S.D.), Vance Hartke (Ind.), and Mike Gravel (Alaska) — announced their backing for the demonstration along with 14 liberal House lawmakers.

The content of Muskie's statement endorsing the coming demonstration, they point out, clearly indicates that he has tightly linked his political campaign against the use of U. S. military forces in Indochina to the protesters in the streets. He put it this way:

"I endorse and support this meeting (demonstration) on April 24 . . . And I urge those who participate to carry their argument on, beyond the days of demonstrations, into the political processes and institutions of our government. For the success of their cause lies there."

Muskie's statement already has caused one of his key 1968 supporters, former House Speaker John McCormack (D. Mass.), to withdraw his support for the Maine hopeful. In private talks with Democratic members of Congress, McCormack pulls no punches in saying that the only democratic presidential hopeful who is showing any kind of strong leadership in the field of foreign policy is Senator Henry Jackson (D. Wash.).

Others including Muskie, according to McCormack, are floating on a false wave of public opinion that is being whipped up by the ultra - liberal press, TV-radio, and ultra-liberal members of Congress. Other middle-of-the-road democrats in Congress are saying the same thing but using different words.

Attorney General John Mitchell, who will mastermind President Nixon's re-election bid, is predicting privately that either former Vice President Hubert Humphrey or Senator Edward Kennedy (D. Mass.) will be the 1972 Democratic Presidential nomine. Mitchell contends that a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket can win for the republicans.

How did Plymouth get so much Duster into such a small price?

Very successfully. Because Plymouth Duster is not only a leader in resale value in the class along with other Plymouth compacts, it also comes through with more power, more room, more everything than any mini-car you can name. Is it any wonder Duster's our hottest number again this year? For the right deal on the right compact, look to the right place. We'll put you into the hot one. Plymouth Duster. Right on. Right now.

Come to Church

This Week's Meditation

Read Psalm 63:1-8; Matthew 6:25-30

My mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips: when I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches. (Psalm 63:5-6)

Now and then all of us experience difficulty in going to sleep. When this happens, we aggravate matters by repeatedly checking on the time, listening for every sound, letting our impatient thoughts race about like caged animals. By fretting we only make matters worse.

How much wiser the psalmist was who used his times of wakefulness to meditate on the Lord! His words "my mouth shall praise thee" suggest that possibly some of the psalms are products of such night hours of communion with the One who "shall neither slumber not sleep."

When we lie awake, alone in the dark, grasping after oblivion, we might profit more by engaging in loving contemplation of Him who first loved us. Since our days offer little time for meditation, let us use our sleep delays creatively, moments in which to remember all the mercies of our God.

PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, for the knowledge that in sleeping we can rest in Thee and in waking we can rejoice in Thy presence. We offer our thanks in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Whether asleep or awake, we are the Lord's.

THERE IS A BIG DIFFERENCE IN BIG CARS.

CHECK THE FACTS.

1 DODGE POLARA IS ONE OF AMERICA'S ROOMIEST CARS...ROOMIER THAN ALL BUT ONE LUXURY CAR.

True. Dodge Polara gives you the kind of big-car comfort and room usually found only on more expensive cars. Take a bow, Polara.

2 DODGE POLARA HAS A BASE STICKER PRICE THAT'S OVER $300 LESS THAN A CHEVROLET IMPALA'S OR FORD GALAXIE 500'S.

It's right there on the sticker. Based on Manufacturers' Suggested Retail Prices, exclusive of state and local taxes and destination charges, Polara is priced $310* less than a Galaxie 500 and $324* less than a Chevrolet Impala.

*Prices are for 4-door sedan V8 models. Polara's standard engine is a 318-cu.-in. V8. Galaxie 500's standard engine is a 351-cu.-in. V8. Chevrolet Impala's standard engine is a 350-cu.-in. V8. Chevrolet Impala also has power disc brakes, standard.

3 ONLY DODGE POLARA OFFERS YOU OVER 50% OFF ON AIR CONDITIONING.

When you buy this specially equipped Dodge Polara, you'll get factory-installed air conditioning at more than half off. That's like having $218.70 taken right off the sticker price.

DODGE POLARA with Air-Conditioning Package.

HERE'S THE SPECIAL PACKAGE:

WITH POLARA, THINKING BIG DOESN'T COST THAT MUCH ANYMORE.

Air conditioning—Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price, $423.35 less $218.70 sales discount.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed Proposals will be received at the City Hall by Wilma D. Kroeger, City Clerk, City of Ord, Nebraska until 10:00 A.M. on the 6th day of May, 1971, for furnishing f.o.b. cars, Municipal Light Plant, Ord, Nebraska, the following:

One 4-cycle dual fuel diesel generating unit rated between 4000 and 5200 kilowatts net installed capacity, and auxiliary equipment, as specified,

at which time Proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud before the Mayor and Council in session. The Proposals will be referred to the Commissioner of Utilities and Engineers for tabulation of bids, bid data on equipment and evaluation.

The report on the evaluation with recommendation of the Commissioner of Utilities and Engineers will be submitted to the Mayor and Council in session Friday morning May 7th, 1971 at 10:00 A.M. for final consideration and award of contract to the successful bidder.

Bids received after the above specified time for opening will be returned unopened to the sender.

Bidding forms are obtained at the offiice of Lutz, Daily & Brain, Consulting Engineers, 819 Finance Building, Kansas City, Missouri 64105 ,or at the office of the City Clerk, Ord, Nebraska.

The Engineer's estimate of cost for a unit rated 5000 kiolwatts with auxiliaries as specified, is $650,000. The estimate will be adjusted for unit sizes which vary from 5000 kilowatts at the rate of $130 per kilowatt.

Each bidder shall submit with his bid a certified check drawn on a solvent Nebraska bank, or a bidder's bond issued by a company licensed to do business in Nebraska, the amount of which shall be not less than five percent (5) of the bid price, and which shall guarantee good faith on the part of the bidder, and the entering into Contract within 15 days at the price bid, if accepted by the Purchaser. Checks or bonds shall be made payable to the Treasurer of the City of Ord, Nebraska.

No bid may be withdrawn for at least 30 days after the scheduled time for receipt of the bids.

Bids will be evaluated by the Purchaser, based on quality, economy of operation, experience of the manufacturer, availability of service for repair and maintenance, and adaptability of the particular equipment to the specific use intended. The Purchaser reserves the right to select the equipment which best suits its needs, whether the price is the lowest or not, and also reserves the right to reject all bids or waive informalities.

Rural Physicians Here From Central Nebraska

Ord will host a central Nebraska conference of laymen, medical college students and physicians to study ways of meeting the shortage of physicians in rural Nebraska. The meeting will be May 8, a Saturday and will run from 8:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Elks clubrooms.

More than 150 persons are expected at the event, which will feature a blue panel roster of physicians. These will be Larry Cousins, Creighton university school of medicine; Marty Sears, also at Creighton; Dale Michels, University of Nebraska college of medicine; and Gary Carlton, Jr., University of Nebraska.

Their subject will be practising medicine in rural Nebraska, advantages and disadvantages.

Dr. Clerence R. Brott, immediate past president, Nebraska state medical association, will speak also and his subject will be rural health care.

Dr. Michael J. Haller, of Creighton university will speak on preceptorship and residency programs in medical education. Dr. Francis L. Land, chairman, department of family practise, University of Nebraska will speak on the physicians in rural areas.

Gary L. Fletcher, executive director of Central Nebraska Comprehensive Health Planning council will preside and be master of ceremonies.

Every doctor in central Nebraska has been invited to the Ord meeting, as well as every county commissioner, every hospital administrator, every Chamber of Commerce manager, and all members of the health planning council. Students in the sophomore, junior and senior college classes in medical school have also been invited to attend.

Ord is expected to have doctors, hospital staff, as well as county, city council and Chamber represented.

Duane Wolfe, administrator of Valley county hospital said that the facilities of Elks lodge and central location of Ord were the basic reasons why the conference will be held here.

May Basket Contest Saturday for Area Children Set by Ord Chamber

A May basket contest Saturday for children of the area has been announced by the Ord Chamber of Commerce Retail Trades committee.

Prizes will be given children who make the most attractice May baskets, and a grand prize of $5 will be given for the best basket of all those submitted.

In addition, the winner will receive a free ride around the courthouse square with Harry Bresley of Ord, driving H. B. Hal, a champion pacer. Hal is the son of Billy Direct, who matched the time of the former American champion Dan Patch for the mile in 1 minute and 55 seconds.

To avoid traffic, and to assure safety, Mr. Bresley will drive on the grass, just inside the sidewalk and will weave in and out of trees and benches. Thus, the youngster will get about a four block ride.

See Page seven of second section of this newspaper for picture and story of the championship pacer.

In addition, three prizes of $3, $2 and $1 will be given in each of the following classes: children in kindergarten or below; those in First or Second grades; and those in Third or Fourth grades.

Tables will be set up on the courthouse lawn and baskets should be brought there by 2 p.m. when judging will start. In case of rain, the tables will be set up in the basement of the Veterans Club.

Don Walker is chairman of of the committee in charge. Plans for the contest were developed at regular meeting of the committee in the Veterans Club May 21.

Next promotion will be a Mother's Day sale on the Thurs-

Dedication May 2 For Elementary School in Ord

Dedication of the new "open-space" Ord elementary school will take place Sunday starting at 2 p.m. in the building in south Ord. The building is the only completely open-space school in outstate Nebraska and is one of the very few in central United States.

Keys to the new building will be presented to the Ord school board by Architect Herald Holding of Shaver and Company, Salina, Kansas, designers and supervisors of the building construction. Music for the ceremony will be provided by the grade school chorus and band.

A video-tape, which will show the school in action, will be in constant showing so that visitors can see how the open-concept individualized instructional program is carried out.

Open house will follow the ceremony and school personnel will be on hand to answer any questions or inquiries. The school features the finest instructional media center, or library, at the elementary level, of any in the state.

Dr. Vaughn Phelps, superintendent of schools at Omaha Westside, which school system has a staff of 535 teachers, will be the chief speaker on the program, which will be in the auditorium.

The elementary band will be directed by Jim Ochsner; invocation will be by Rev. Stanley Gorak, pastor, Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church; and Dr. Otis Miller, past president, Ord board of education will be master of ceremonies.

Dr. Dale Karre, president,

Tri-Fund Drive Starts County-Wide on Monday

Two Ord Area Residents Hurt in Head-on Accident

Two Ord residents were hurt when two cars collided headon on Highway 11 near Elks lodge and Veterinary clinic building Saturday. Ord volunteer firemen responded to the siren with first aid ambulance and an equipment truck. Mike Hansen of Ord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen, suffered severe facial lacerations, and was taken to Valley county hospital. Mrs. Don Axthelm, also of Ord, suffered bruises and lacerations, but was discharged Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Axthelm farm west of Ord. There were no other occupants of the cars. Pictures show the rescue work and extent of car damages.

Tri-Fund drive will start in Valley County Monday and run through May 10, according to Mrs. Margaret Steinwart of Ord, chairman. The drive will co-ordinate drives for funds for cancer and heart research, and also the American Red Cross. Fund goal is $3,810.

1971 fund chairman for Red Cross is Clark Weckbach, for the Heart fund, Mrs. Bernice King, and for the cancer fund, Mrs. Steinwart.

Mrs. Elma Melia is chairman of solicitors for the Tri-Fund.

Special business district drives will be conducted in Ord by Mr. Weckbach; in North Loup, Mrs. Pat Vogeler and in Arcadia, Mrs. Velma Summers. Mrs. Jean Nickle is over-all chairman for the Arcadia area.

Memorials also are solicited for families, who have lost loved ones, due to heart disease or cancer. Heart trouble is the number one cause of death in America, and cancer is second. The Red Cross specializes in blodmobile and aid to disaster areas, such as tornadoes and flods.

When memorials are received, a thank-you note is sent to the family in the donor's name, but the amount is never specified. Donor chairman for cancer is Mrs. Ed Christensen, for the heart fund, Horace Travis, and for the Red Cross, Mr. Weckbach.

The Tri-Fund is responsible for Educational Activities including free films to show to clubs or school groups. These are available through chairmen Mrs. Sylvia Kerchal or Mrs. Mary Marshall, co-chairman.

These are on many subjects and include drug abuse, smoking, respiratory and other subjects. They are prepared to serve all age groups, and men or women. It takes about three weeks to secure them.

139 Donors for Bloodmobile Unit

Valley County can be very proud of the 139 people who came in to donate blood Tuesday when the Bloodmobile visited Ord. 130 were accepted — 20 over quota. 97 were from Ord, 17 from North Loup, 8 from Arcadia, 4 from Elyria, 2 from Burwell and 2 from Ericson.

Dr. Dale Karre joined the 6-gallon club, Maynard Schudel of North Loup the 4-gallon club and Mrs. Dean Bresley of Ord, Rene Dubas and Mrs. R. C. Vodehnal of Burwell the 3-gallon club.

The eleven who donated in Ord for the first time were Mrs. Eugene Augustine, Ron Blessing, Virginia Duvall, Eric Ericson, Larry Mason, Michael Rice, Mrs. Frank Smedra, Wm. B. Skala and John E. Wray of Ord; Mrs. Eugene Novotny of Comstock and Rev. Richard Shapland of Burwell.

Dr. Wayne Zlomke was "On Call" but was not needed. Registered nurses who worked were Maxine Pierce, Karen Johnson, Ella Burson, Stephanie Hurlbert, Lucille Pearson of Ord and Norma Fox of North Loup. Nurses Aids working were Jackie Drummond and Margaret Steinwart.

Other workers who staffed the bloodmobile were Amelia Stoddard receptionist, Janet Melia, Joan Shafer and Florence Rickard typists, Ellen Larsen, Sylvia Kirby, Zola Schudel, Helen Osentowski and Elsie Furtak bottles. Ida Noll and Gladys Weckbach the Honor Roll.

Former Addicts Drug Talks Due

Talks by former drug addicts, now in the state correctional institution at Lincoln will be in Arcadia Wednesday, May 5, at 11 a.m., and in Ord High School at 1 p.m. Sheriff Clarence Fox, Valley County Sheriff, has arranged for the addresses. The addicts will be accompanied by a guard.

Bluegill and largemouth bass can reproduce in almost all ponds and lakes in Nebraska that have at least semi-clear water.

LAW DAY, MAY 1

A May Day proclamation is carried in the Letters to the Editor column of this week's Ord Quiz. J. Marvin Weems is chairman of Valley County Law Day, scheduled for Saturday.

The proclamation is a joint proclamation of the Mayor, County Judge, and Police Magistrate in Ord. Mr. Weems explains that orderly progress through law is a precious factor of our judicial system.

Nebraska's state hook-and-line record for northern pike is held by Cletus Jacobsen of Big Springs, with a 27-pound, 8-ounce fish taken at Lake McConaughy on July 14, 1962.

Five Places Won In Music Contest

Ord won five first places in the district music contest at Hastings Friday as Coach James Ochsner's pupils closed out their competitive season. The Swing Singers, girls trio, and saxophone quartet took top places in group numbers, and Pam Riddle and Jan Bredthauer won in individual.

Second places were secured by the saxophone sextet, stage band, woodwind quintet, brass and percussion ensemble. Rita Wojtasek placed in both vocal and French horn. Others included John Dale, Betty Nelson, Becky Gregory, Al Koelling, and Melvin Sich.

Third places went to Jan Remington and Kathy Hartman. Ord's marching band did not compete.

Open House for Elementary Unit

Open house in Ord's new elementary school will be held all of next week, May 3 through May 7, for everyone in the community, school district, or other areas in the county.

Guided tours will start every day at 9:30 in the morning, or 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Sessions will begin with an orientation session in the school's "Little Theater" with discussion of the individualized program, a video-tape if desired, and the answering of questions.

A tour of the building will follow which will include instructional groups in session. Visitors may stay as long as they desire to observe the instructional process in operation, as this does not interfere in any way with class sessions.

Superintendent Bill Gogan said, "If you haven't had the opportunity of visiting the school with the students in session, please take advantage of this open house week. We welcome you and want you to see the fine educational opportunities the young people of Ord have available to them."

Principal Michael Johnson and Supt. Gogan will be directing the orientation sessions and tours and will be available to discuss aspects of the program and to answer questions.

In 1930 there were 19 million horses on American farms and less than one million tractors.

Elks Lodge Names New Officials

day before Mother's Day. Mother's Day is May 9, and the sale will be May 6th. Special bargains will be available for the Thursday evening opening in Ord stores.

May 20, 21 and 22 will see Dollar Day promotion with all stores open Thursday evening as usual until 9 p.m. on the 20th. Specials will be featured in all stores.

The same weekend, Ord Jaycees will aid in staging the Pitch Hit and Throw contest of Phillips Petroleum Company and Delmer Lonowski, [illegible] station manager in Ord. More than 65 youths so far have registered and district and division champions will eventually be determined. National winners will be decided at the all-star game of the big leagues in Detroit, July 13th.

Heats will be run in Ord in each of the three categories for youths nine, ten, 11 and 12 years of age.

The hitting and pitching contest will be held at the Ord baseball park at 10:30 a.m. May 22nd, and throwing event and awards presentation at courthouse square at 1 p.m. Lynn Griffith of the Jaycees in is charge of Jaycee officiating for the event.

May 13th, a Thursday, Ord stores will honor graduating seniors from the high school with Seniors Special night bargains.

Chief events in June will be the airport dedication on the 20th, and a crazy auction sale on a Thursday night where two or three items will be sold in front of one store, and then the auctioneer will move along and repeat in front of the next one.

Other projects discussed at the Retail Trades committee meeting included a plan to increase parking in the Ord loop by tearing down the old Walker building diagonally across from the First National Bank building. Mr. Walker has offered to allow it taken down, if volunteer help can be secured to haul rubble away and level the lot. No decision on the project was made.

To spark attendance at Chamber meetings, it was decided that a drawing will be held at Retail Trades and regular meetings and the winner will get a free luncheon for two persons.

Next regular meeting of the Chamber will be May 6 at the Elks clubrooms and next meeting of the Retail committee will be May 19th at Veterans Club. Both meetings are at noon.

Dinner guests at the Dr. H. N. Norris home, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Fredericksen and son Kelly and Mrs. Lucy Dowling all of Cozad; Walter Jensen of Omaha and Olga Burrows of Ord.

There are more than 11,000 vocational-agriculture instructors in United States high schools.

Howard Pitzer of Ericson Secures Top Place in State With Stallion

Horses from Nebraska and Georgia took top placings in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Block & Bridle Club's 16th Annual Quarter Horse Show in Lincoln April 22.

A veteran Nebraska horseman, Howard Pitzer of Ericson, showed the grand champion stallion, Boson Bell. Earlier in the show, it took first place in the class of stallions, 1967 and older.

In gelding competition, Walter B. Williams III of Milledgeville, Ga., showed the grand champion, String of Gold. Pitzer showed the reserve champion gelding, Jack Bo Peep. The reserve champion stallion, which stood first in the 1969 Stallion class, was Bear Bonanza, owned by Peter and Marion Locker, Bayside, Wisc.

Placing in various classes were Joe Bar Jag, Nancy Etzelmiller, Minden; Jack's Tune, Howard Pitzer, Ericson; Jack Bo Peep, Howard Pitzer, Ericson; Mike Bar Bob, Dwight and Bobbie Olsen, Minden; Rinski, Dwight and Bobbie Olsen, Minden; Two-Eyed Fox, Howard Pitzer, Ericson; Lancer Cat, Ladd and Arlene Leach, Arcadia.

B.P.W. Club Hears Happiness of Spring

Twenty B.P.W. Club members attended the dinner meeting Apr. 20 at the Elks Club. The lesson on Springtime Is Happiness — with what's new in fashions, foods and flowers — was given by Agnes Cernik and Jennie Biemond.

Five from the local organization attended the 53rd Annual State Convention, Apr. 17-18 in Grand Island. Ella Marie Carson, Agnes Cernik and Irma King reported events of this meeting.

Plans were completed for the May 11 breakfast when B.P.W. members will entertain senior girls and May 4 has been set as the date of the Loser's Party at the Ord High School at which time new officers of the club will be installed.

Republican Women Plan Breakfast Event

Eva Jean Beltner, State Republican Women's President, and Eldora Haythorne, Third District Chairman will be special guests, Saturday morning at the Republican Women's Spring Breakfast in Ord. The 9:30 a.m. event will be held at the Presbyterian Church.

Tickets may be obtained from Gwen Cochran, president of the local organization, or any other member of the Republican Women's group.

Toy Makers Present Gifts to Hospital

The Ord JC-Ettes made a presentation to the Valley County Hospital this week donating a variety of toys created by local JC-Ette members and those of various County Extension Clubs.

This is the second such gift since Christmastime. In mid-December a huge box of toys was presented to Children's Memorial Hospital in Omaha.

The toy giving gesture is a second year project of the Ord JC-Ettes.

Digging and seining for bait or other purposes on all state-owned and controlled lakes or other areas are prohibited.

board of education, will accept the keys to the building, and Dr. Bill Gogan, Ord superintendent, will introduce Dr. Phelps. Mrs. Everett Leach, president of the VFW auxiliary, will present a flag, and Michael Johnson, principal of the elementary school, will accept it. Benediction by Rev. Ronald Graff, pastor, Evangelical Free Church, will end the program.

Bond issue for the building was approved in February, 1969, and construction begun later that same year. It was occupied in November, 1970, and houses kindergarten through Sixth grade. The building has 38,264 square feet, and provides for 425 student with present enrollment being 320.

Construction cost was $17.07 per square foot or $374,985 for the general contract, $180,632 for mechanical and $97,695 for electrical.

Recent delegations of school officials, who have visited the building, include those from Hershey, Gibbon and Arnold, Tuesday of this week. On May 12, a bus load of citizens from Arlington, will go through the building, as school officials there have already inspected it and have recommended a similar structure for Arlington.

Jobs Daughters Host Special Pirate Party

Jobs Daughters of Ord staged a Pirate Party Thursday inviting their fathers and Masonic members as their selected "victims." Treasure chests overflowing with jewels and gold coins added the final touches to decorations in the dimly lighted Bethel dining room. The evening party was a money-making project of reigning Honored Queen Willa Baldwin.

Capturing each guest before they left the Bethel following the regular 7:30 p.m. meeting of Bethel #54, the waistline of each captive was measured and a ransom of 5 cents per inch was collected. More than $80 was collected by the fun-time event.

During lunchtime Sheri Grove presented several modern ballards with her own guitar accompaniment as added entertainment.

Large Group Gathers For Elk's Inaugural

The third annual Inaugural Ball honoring Exalted Ruler Ronald Fuller and the new officers of the 1971-72 Elks Lodge year was an Apr. 24 event at the Ord Elks Club.

The officers and their wives plus visiting honored guests were presented by emcee Keith Kovanda of Burwell. Among the honored ones in attendance were D.D.G.E.R. Gaylord Nielsen and wife Fern of Dannebrog and State Elks Associate President Walter W. Stewart and wife Letha of Ogallala. Grand Island officers in attendance were Exalted Ruler and Mrs. Wally Ott, Esteemed Loyal Knight and Mrs. Bob Levander and P.E.R. and present Secretary Howard McGee and wife Louise.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zabloudil of Grand Island were Sunday visitors of her parents, the Elmer Vergins. Other dinner guests at the Vergin home were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Williams.

Ord Students Building Garage

A garage is being built by members of the industrial arts and Voag classes at Ord high school. It will be a single car structure 14 feet by 24. It will be completed by the time school is finished and will then be sold to the public. Seven students from the two classes are doing most of the carpentry work. Teachers supervising the project are Arden Koelling and Frank Andreesen.

Mrs. George Finley returned home last Thursday after a visit with relatives. She had first been in Neligh with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herman for the funeral of a relative Matt Patsche on Apr. 12. Next they went to Columbus for several day's stay with Mrs. Finley's sister, Mrs. Catherine Cassin who is convalescing from a fractured hip. After the Hermans returned to their home in Alma, Kan., Mrs. Finley stayed with her brother and wife, the John Wlaschins in Grand Island before returning home. Mr. and Mrs. Herman — she's the former Charlotte Finley — had spent the Easter holiday in Ord with Mrs. Finley and the Jim Finley family.

The Hansens . . . Janet and Roger

Janet Lange-Roger Hansen Wed; Their Home Is in Hastings

Married Apr. 3 at St. John's Lutheran Church in Ord were Janet Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Lange of Ord and Roger Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hansen of Holstein. The double-ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Paul H. Stohlmann, Jr. at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in a white satin floor-length silhouette with scoop neckline, long puffed sleeves and empire waist. She carried a bouquet of white mums centered by an orchid.

Serving as attendants were her twin sister Jeanette Lange as maid-of-honor; sister Linda Lange and Beverly Bremer all of Ord and Debbie Joynt of Hastings. They wore blue, scoop necked, short sleeved dresses accented with deep blue empire sashes. Each carried a blue tinted mum nestled in satin ribbon.

The groom's attendants were Lee Hansen of Hastings, the best man; Dick Hagerman of Holstein, Ivan Schuekie also of Holstein and Jim Richslatter of Kearney. Marion Huffman of Ord and Dwight Loseke of Columbus seated the guests.

Dean Hansen of Holstein was soloists for his brother's wedding. Marilyn Fuss of Scotia was the organist. Candles were lighted by Reuben Bredthauer of Arcadia and LaVern Lange, brother of the bride, of Ord.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Marilyn Hansen presided at the guest book and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huffman were the acting host and hostess. Other reception assistants were Vera Lange, Geraldine Uden, Wilma Loseke, Jan Bredthauer and Patty Veskerna.

The newlyweds are at home in Hastings.

Business Week Students Brighten Scene As Fifteen Get On-The-Job Experience

Fifteen Office Practice students of Ord High School are swelling the Ord labor force this week, helping out in banks and other business firms and offices. Business Week is an educational feature not available at many schools.

The students receive class credit for their on-the-job training — but are to have their work made up in advance, says their instructor Allen Cudly.

Each student will submit a report of her activities and experiences at the end of the training period. In turn, the businessmen are also asked to evaluate the students pointing out their strengths and weaknesses in various work phases.

Roll Call

The Business Week roster includes: Jo Remington, office of J. Marvin Weems; Jean Psota, Protective Savings and Loan; Ann Cummins, office of John Sullivan; Betti Nelson, Ord Quiz; Pat Winterfeld, office of L. W. Cronk; Penny Erikson, A.S.C.S.; Jane Petska, Valley County Extension office; Janice Marshall, Valley County Hospital; Sharon Mentzer, R.E.A. office; Willa Baldwin, County Treasurer; Jean Masin, County Clerk; Barb Kluna, KNLV; Vicki Coats, Nebraska State Bank; Leann Edghill and Val French, First National Bank.

Margaret, Janice, Chuck and Carol Bruha were over-the-weekend guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Penas. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruha of Scotia were added supper guests, Sunday, when they came to get their children. Other Saturday evening and Sunday dinner and supper guests in the Penas home were Mr. and Mrs. Wencel Bruha and family of Grand Island.

CAROL'S CORNER by carol leggett

The death of "Bill" Anderson brought shock and sadness. Because of her great sense of humor "Bill" was known as the great morale booster in our neighborhood. Children who couldn't identify her Parkview Village unit by number truly believed that the curved sidewalk from the south just naturally led to "Bill's house." Many of these youngsters who kept in touch by short, frequent visits had known "Bill" as their baby-sitter at sometime in their lives.

We miss her.

One clever cook tells about the game of "spoons" to play when unexpected company arrives for dinner.

Most people, she says, when taking a serving dip the spoon into the serving dish two or three times. So, the dish that has plenty gets a big spoon — and the dish that might come up short gets a smaller spoon.

You'd be surprised how well it works out.

There seems to be a lot of everything and a little bit goes a long way!

This suppertime treat, sure to please the entire family, is called Hamburger Heaven. The ingredients needed are: 1 lb. lean Ground Beef; Onion Salt to taste; Salt and Pepper to taste; ½ lb. American Cheese, sliced; 1 c. chopped Celery; 2 c. dry Noodles; 1 No. 2 can Tomatoes; ¼ c. Water and ¼ c. sliced Ripe Olives.

Brown meat slightly in large skillet (an electric one may be used). Season and add the rest of the ingredients in layers in the order given. Rinse tomato can with the water. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Ord Varsity, Girls and Junior Teams in Competition This Week

Ord varsity track and Junior track teams will be in action this coming week as the conference season nears an end in all sports.

Varsity track runners, after competing in the big Ord invitational meet where 400 students from 32 schools took part will be running Friday in the Kearney invitational. This will close out the conference season, as their next encounter is the Central Ten Conference meet at York May 8. Following this will be the district meet at Lexington, and from here, high placers will go to the state met at Kearney May 21.

Girls varsity will compete in the district events at Grand Island May 7 and then will go after state places in the state meet at Grand Island, May 15th. They ran at Atkinson Tuesday.

Junior high track team for Ord will be in action Saturday at Crete when they take part in a Central Ten meet, starting at 9 a.m. Coach Larry Goodenough and assistant coach Allen Cudley will take a squad of 29 athletes leaving at 5 a.m.

Seventh and Eighth grade athletes will engage in one meet, while Ninth graders will have a separate one. For the Seventh-Eighth grades, competitors will be Brad Noll, Jerry Weverka, Jeff Quinn, Phil and Joe Winterfeld, Dennis Hruza, Mike Urbanovski, Bill Cicmanec, Dan Hruza, Dale Wojtasek, Lyle Vancura, Craig Struckman, Tom and Craig Clement, Bill Karre, Dale Manchester, Jim Penas, Greg Wetzel.

For the Ninth grade squad, there will be Galen Michalski, Marty Barnes, Jim Turek, Richard Krcilek, Darren Dockhorn, Jerry Collier, Dave Staab, Tim Hoppes, Paul Hansen, Steve Wolf, Duane Vasicek.

This will close out the season for the Juniors. They also ran Tuesday at Ord against Loup City.

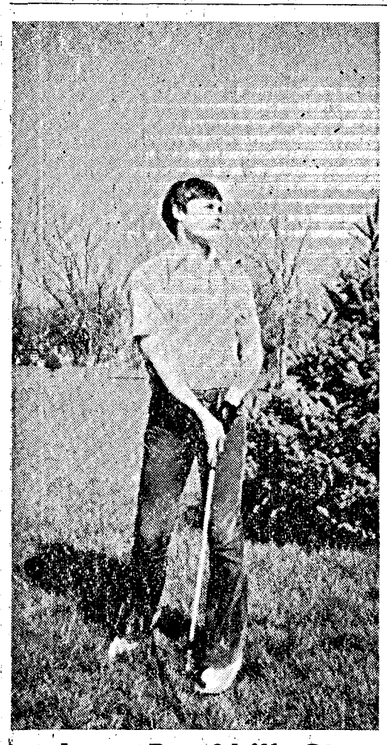
Seventh and Eighth team defeated Burwell Apr. 20th by 68 to 40 count and the same day, Ninth grade team lost 77 to 25. First places were won by Seventh graders with Cicmanec in the high jump, Brad Noll in broad jump, a tie in the pole vault by Tom Clement and Jim Penas, Bill Karre in the shot with a fine 47 feet for a first place, a tie in the 100 yard dash by Cicmanec and Dan Hruza with a good time of 12.9, Wetzel in the 880, Karre also in the discus throw, with a toss of 122 feet four inches, and a 440 yard relay was won by Cicmanex, Dan Hruza, Tom and Craig Clement in 55 flat.

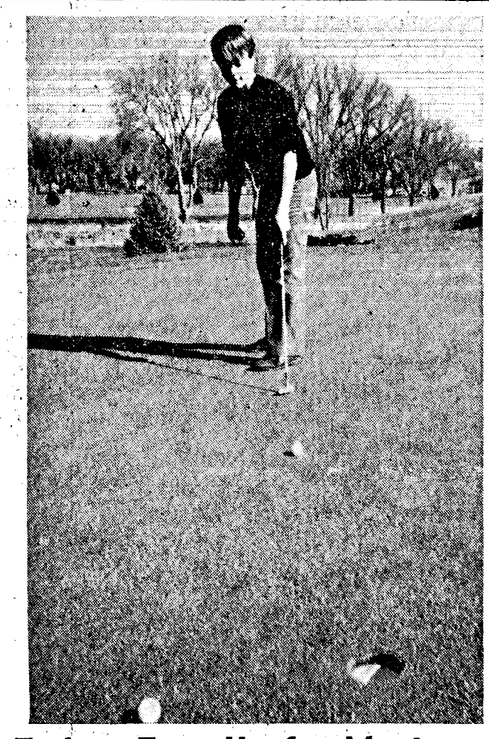
Ninth grade winners were Hoppes in the broad jump, and Hansen in the shot put.

At the St. Paul invitational last Friday, Ord tied for third against 14 teams. Aurora had 50, Shelton 29; Central City and Ord 24 each, Fullerton 23, Burwell 17, Loup City 13, Gibbon 10, North Loup-Scotia 6, Ravenna 5, St. Paul and Grand Island Central Catholic three each. Grand Island and Palmer failed to score.

Best effort of the day was by Bill Karre setting a new record in the shot put with a throw of 47 feet four inches. Dale Manchester came in second in the event. Karre also set a record in the discus with 131 feet nine inches.

Ord held second throughout the meet and nearly finished in that place, but were nosed in the final relays.





Leon Brechbill, Steve Todsen Tune Up for Meet

Future Farmers Banquet May 6th

Annual Parents and Son banquet of the Ord Future Farmers of America banquet will be held May 6th at 7:30 p.m. in the Veterans Club in Ord. Bob Peterson, area vice chairman of the state Future Farmers' organization will be chief speaker. William Ziegler is secretary of the local chapter.

Ord Track Teams Do Well Tuesday

Ord's Seventh and Eighth grade track team won over Loup City Tuesday by a score of 83 to 24, while the Chant's Ninth grade team lost by 61 to 61.

Girls varsity team was in action at West Holt and placed third out of a field of 12, missing second by only one point.

West Holt had 60, Ainsworth 24, Ord 23, Chambers 21, Elgin 17, Valentine 14, Petersberg 12, Loup County Taylor 10, Ewing two. Orchard and Naper failed to score.

EYE TRANSPLANTS

Equipment which will have the effect of substantially increasing the amount of eye tissue available for corneal transplants has been provided to the University of Nebraska Medical Center by the Lions Clubs of Nebraska. Through the Lions Eye Bank program, the university has ordered the necessary equipment to preserve corneas by freezing at extremely low temperatures.

Golfers Playing Seward Saturday

Ord golfers will be in action in the Central Ten conference meet at Seward Saturday and also will play at Broken Bow May 3. A meet with St. Paul Monday was postponed one day.

An invitational at O'Neill Apr. 21 saw Ord taking third place out of eight teams. Ord golfers had 252 strokes to follow Neligh with 247, and Norfolk Catholic with 234.

Other teams were Plainview with 253, Ainsworth with 259, O'Neill with 264, Pierce with 275, and Hartington with 280.

Leon Brechbill scored 40 and 42 on the two nines, 82 for Ord, Steve Todsen had a 40 and 41 for an 81, Doug Wolf had 43 and 46 for 89 total, and Dan Jones dropped in the putts for 50 and 47 for 97.

Ord Golfers Lose To St. Paul Team

Ord golfers placed second in a dual golf meet with St. Paul Tuesday with a 239 total as against St. Paul's score of 211. The meet was played at St. Paul.

Leon Brechbill scored 39 to lead the Chant's aces, while Doug Wolf garnered 46. Kip Leggett had 50, Steve Todsen 51 and Dan Jones took 53 shots for the nine hole course. Leon was second low individual at the meet.

Ord reserves required 274 strokes for the layout, while St. Paul won again with 239. Bill Misko had 49 tallies, Paul Markley 52, Tim Todsen 55, Ed Gibbons 58 and Dick Severson 60.

Baseball Umpire School May 2nd

The Annual Legion Baseball Umpire Clinic is scheduled for St. Paul Sunday May 2nd at 1 o'clock in the Legion Club. A veteran of 26 years in the umpiring field, George Hamitz of Lincoln, will conduct this clinic.

Mr. Hamitz' experience includes 20 years of State Legion Tournaments, National Legion World Series 9 times, 10 National Legion Regional Tournaments and the College World Series 10 times.

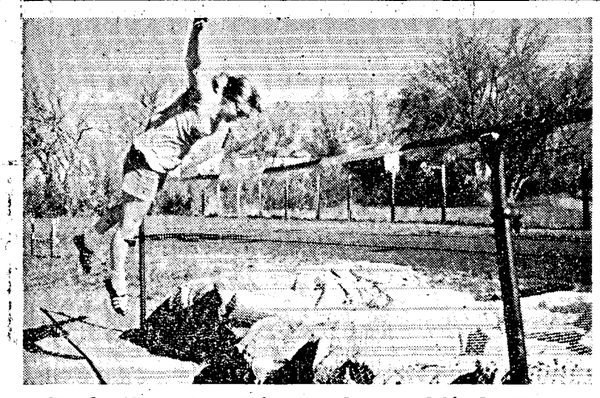
The clinic will include a film on umpiring, question and answer period on rules, everything will be covered. All umpires; not only Legion umpires, but Little League, Pony League, Town Team, all umpires are invited to attend.

This clinic is sponsored by the Nebraska State Legion athletic committee.

Fairplay School Meets Aid Status

Fairplay school district 26 compiles with federal requirements relative to the serving of reduced priced and free lunches and or breakfasts, Esther Sedlacek, principal said Wednesday.

Omaha World-Herald had said Wednesday that the district had not qualified for aid, but this was based on earlier status of the school.



Deb Brown Dives Over High Bar

Deb Brown, high jump star on the women's track team at Ord, is here shown diving over the high jump bar in practice. She makes the leap either feet first or head first. She is shown in the start of a successful try. She competed in the Atkinson meet Tuesday and next will be in action at the district track and field events in Grand Island May 7th.

Conference Meets for Arcadia, North Loup-Scotia Due in May

Arcadia track team will be in action today, Apr. 29th, at Sargent and will then run in the Cedar Valley conference meet at Greeley, May 6th. If Arcadia goes to the district contest, this will be May 12th at Lexington.

Arcadia also competed at Loup City on the 27th.

Mike Chewewski, multi-talented star on the team, will take part also in the Kearney invitational meet Saturday. He will enter the versatile pentathlon which requires ability in both field and running events.

He will compete in field events: shot put, broad jump and high jump, and in running events: high hurdles and low hurdles.

North Loup - Scotia thinclads will compete May 7th at Sargent in the Logan - Hooker Custer - Thomas conference, and if successful there, will go after district honors in the meet at Wood River May 13th.

The team also took part in a meet at Loup City Monday.

Today, Apr. 29th, the team will be in action against the Sargent "B" squad, and Saturday, the varsity will run in the Kearney invitational. State track and field meet will also be at Kearney, but on May 21 and 22nd.

Junior high team for North Loup-Scotia will run at Burwell Apr. 30th, and May 7 will compete in the LHTC conference meet at Sargent.

L. K. Steahr is coach of the team, which last year won the Ord invitational Class B championship and this year finished a half point out of second place.

Lake Ericson 31 Pound Catfish Still Holds Hook, Line Record

With spring's fast and furious angling approaching, Nebraska's anglers will have their sights set on a trophy fish and a spot in the state's record book.

Three categories of records are kept by the Game and Parks Commission, but the oldest and most difficult to crack is the hook-and-line class. The other sets of records are kept for bow-and-arrow fishermen and underwater - powered spearfishing.

The oldest record on the books is a hook-and-line mark for channel catfish, set in 1944 by Bob Nuquist of Broken Bow. His fish, taken from Lake Ericson, weighed 31 pounds, 12 ounces.

Archery fishing is a relatively new sport in Nebraska, and records in this class have considerable room for improvement. Standards for some species of fish have yet to be established.

Newest and most wide open category is underwater-powered spearfishing. Only two marks have been established in this class, so adherents of the sport have a good chance of making the record books.

Mrs. Albert Dahlin was pleasantly surprised Tuesday when a group called during the afternoon to honor her with a "Happy Birthday" party. The surprise callers were Mrs. Larry Philbrick, Toni Cech, Mrs. Will Penas, Inez Swain, Mrs. Jennie Holt, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Robert Philbrick, Mrs. Laura Rose and Mrs. Art Larsen. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of North Loup were added afternoon visitors.

Duane Kovarik Is State Delegate to National 4-H Washington Conference

Duane Kovarik of Ord returned this week from Washington, D.C., where he attended the 41st Annual 4-H Conference.

He was one of four delegates from Nebraska who joined with approximately 250 4-H members from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico to discuss the 4-H program. The delegates represented the 4,000,000 youth now being reached by 4-H throughout the United States.

Delegates had an opportunity to explore current 4-H programs and offer recommendations that will make this co-educational youth program even more relevant and worth-while to young people today. A concurrent planning conference of state 4-H leaders made possible interchange of ideas.

Duane said a highlight of the week-long conference was a visit to the White House where the president and Mrs. Nixon received the 4-H members.

In a brief talk with the delegates President Nixon said: "We welcome you to the White House for what you mean to this country, in a special way, not only because you are four million strong but because of who you are. You have a sense of dignity, of self-reliance, of respect for others and of creativity that means a great deal."

Referring to the history of the White House, the President said America is great not because it is the strongest or the richest but because of our people, "as long as we have young people like you across America this country will continue to be the hope of the world."

During the visit Mrs. Nixon was honored as a "Partner in 4-H," the highest award given to civic and business leaders for support of the program. Mrs. Nixon, a former 4-H member, serves as honorary co-chairman of the National 4-H Foundation Advisory Council. The President and Mrs. Nixon also received personal gifts, a unique and beautiful brooch and a handsome pair of cuff links — handcrafted from a piece of the famous oak memorialized in Joyce Kilmer's, poem, "Trees." They were given on behalf of all 4-H members.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Nixon personally received each delegate in the State Dining Room where refreshments were served.

For the opening day (April 18) when Duane observed progress on construction of the National 4-H Center, an educational complex being expanded to meet increased needs for citizenship and leadership training, to the closing "Clover Ball" Friday night he was busy in metings and on field trips.

Visits in the nation's capitol included a day on Capitol Hill where Duane met Nebraska Senator Curtis and Senator Hruska, Congressman Martin, Thone and McCallister.

Delegates also laid a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and saw many of Washington's historic sights.

Duane said one of the most interesting features about this year's conference was each delgate's involvement in an advisory group for in-depth discussion of specific areas of concern: respect for others, education, environment, changing life, styles, and mind and body.

Duane was in the group considering mind and body.

Accompanying the Nebraska delegation to the conference was Dr. John Orr who not only tok part in general sessions but also met with other state and national leaders in special consultation and planning sessions.

The Annual 4-H Conference is supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. It is planned and conducted by the extension service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National 4-H Foundation, aided by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Duane has been a Valley County 4-H member for 11 years and is especially interested in Livestock projects, is a member of the Triple T 4-H Club. The projects taken were Horse, Swine, Beef, Dairy, Poultry, Veterinary Science, Rope, Field Crops, Woodworking, Photography, Let's Cook, Home Living, Food Preservation, Timely Topic Public Speaking and Jr. Leader.

Duane has shown his Brown Swiss Dairy at the county fair, Canton Show at Broken Bow, District Dairy Show, Grand Island, Nebraska Sandhill National Cattle Show at Newport, State Fair, Lincoln, and Ak-Sar-Being an outstanding showman winning many trophies for his showmanship. Other awards were gold medals, plaques and trips. The last two years attended the 4-H club week in Lincoln, the State Conservation Leadership Camp at Halsey, the Citizenship Short Course in Washington, D.C., the Fact-Finding Poultry Conference at Kansas City, Mo., and the National 4-H Conference at Washington, D.C.

The Nebraska Delegation presented a $9,000 check for expansion at National 4-H Center.

Duane is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kovarik and a freshman at Kearney State College. The county extension agent for this area is John Schade. He will be glad to provide information on opportunities for young people in 4-H.

The Center, which serves as conference headquarters, will be able to accommodate more than 600 persons when the first phase of the expansion is completed in July.

During the week-long conference, the nearly 250 delegates and state 4-H leaders took part in general assemblies, daily seminars on topics vital to youth, and visits to the White House and to Capitol Hill as well as other historic sites. With a theme of "Caring and Sharing" the conference provides opportunity for youth leaders to recommend ways in which 4-H can be made even more effective in its service to youth.

Funds spent by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are often used for non-farm programs such as free lunches at schools in urban areas.

Ord Elevator Wins First in State

Ord's Farmers Cooperative Elevator company won first place in the entire state of Nebraska for highest volume of feed sales for the months of December, January and February in Co-op feeds. These included hog, cattle, chicken and dairy feeds. At left, above, is Harland Hartman and at right is Virgil Beneke. The trophy is inscribed "We are No. 1 in Co-op Feed."

District Court Has First Case

District court will continue in Valley County May 21, with Judge Wm. F. Manasil of Burwell presiding.

In a case involving Wm. J. Young, on a charge of grand larceny, Mr. Young was released on his recognizance. This is the only case heard so far in the spring term of the court.

A new case for hearing has been filed by John R. Sullivan, Ord attorney, asking for personal judgment against Valley County Board of Supervisors for $5,552. Mr. Sullivan complaint alleges this sum has been spent for jailing prisoners elsewhere since the county jail was condemned June, 1969, or for loss of services by the sheriff when he is out of the county with such prisoners.

Valley County Gulls Indicate Promise of Spring

With abundant rains the past week, spring work is in full swing on Valley county farms. Here Lyle Manchester is shown plowing on the Al Moudry farm, northwest of Ord. Beautiful gulls, zooming in behind the tractor, typify the eternal promise of spring.

$118,000 Increase in Social Security Payments in County

For the Valley County residents who are receiving social security checks each month, how much will the recently increased rates mean to them in dollars and cents?

What will their benefits amount to, on average, compared with what they were previously?

It is estimated that the 10 percent rise in retirement pensions, approved last month by Congress, will add approximately $118,000 a year to the total that local residents have been collecting.

The estimate is based upon figures for the local area, contained in the latest annual report of the Social Security Administration. It lists the number of retired and disabled workers on the pension rolls, as well as their dependents and the amounts being paid.

All of them will be aided by the new legislation. Those who have been receiving no more than $768 a year, the current minimum, will be getting $845.

The maximum for an individual will now be $2,557 a year and for a couple, $4,964.

Local residents who have been getting $100 a month, or $1,200 a year, will now receive $1,320. Those at the $1,800 level will get $1,980 in the future.

Prior to the new change in rates, pension payments in Valley County averaged $935 per recipient per year. This year, with the increase, the average will rise to $1,029 per beneficiary.

Total payments throughout the local area, based upon the number who were on the pension roll as of the early part of 1970, will add up to about $1,294,000 this year, a considerable rise over the prior total of $1,176,000.

The increase in benefits is retroactive to January. The bigger checks will start going out during the first week of June. The additional amounts for the months prior to June will be issued soon afterward.

There will be no immediate rise in payroll taxes to pay for the larger benefits. The only adjustment provided for is a change in the income base subject to such taxes from $7,800 to $9,000, effective next January.

KERNELS & HUSKS

BY JOHN SCHADE

The question of applying liquid rootworm insecticides in combination with liquid herbicides has come up several times.

At this time we cannot recommend this type of combination. None of the rootworm materials are registered for this specific purpose.

The approach may be realistic if you are willing to increase the rate of rootworm material. The present recommendations call for the rootworm insecticide to be placed in a seven inch band while the herbicide is usually placed in a fourteen inch band. If you apply only enough of the rootworm material to cover a seven inch band in a 14 inch band you can expect on 50 percent control.

At this time we are not advising the mixing of liquid insecticides and liquid fertilizers.

Elm Leaf Beetles

We have had several questions concerning a little brown beetle about one-fourth inch long, with two yellow stripes down his back. This little fellow is not a corn rootworm adult. Although he can be easily confused with the corn rootworm beetle.

This little insect is the Elm Leaf Beetle. You may find him in your home in the window sill or clustered on the foundation of your home. The insect will not bite, or chew on home furnishings or clothing. He can be very annoying however, to the housewife.

If you will recall your elm trees, especially the Chinese Elms, were attacked by a larva larva last fall about mid-August. These larva did a good job of skeletonizing Chinese Elm leaves. These are the adults from this brood. They crawled into cracks and crevices of your home to spend the winter, some of them even got inside the house last fall. Those that survived the winter are now emerging and will lay their eggs on the new developing elm leaves.

What can you do about them in our home? You can sweep them up. Pick them up either by hand or with a vacuum sweeper. Don't swat them or smash them, they will leave an unsightly spot.

You can spray your home in areas where they congregate. We recommend using an aresol spray which contains the product Pyrethrin. Pyrethrin is very safe to use in the home. About the only restriction is to not allow the product to come in direct contact with food.

When buying a product to use in the home be sure you get one which has a low content of distilent. This will eliminate the staining of furniture and woodwork as well as wallpaper and paint.

With the number of adults around it appears that we could have a sizable infestation on our elm trees this year. Bob Roselle, Extension Entomologist, tells me that this will not kill the tree unless this should happen several years in a row.

He does not feel it is economically sound to spray all of our elm trees to protect them from this pest. We can, however, cut down on the second generation by spraying only the trunk of the tree with Methoxychlor, Diazinon or Malathion. This will kill the larva as they crawl down the trunk of the tree to pupate.

For further information on this insect, pick up E.C. 71-1526 "Elm Leaf Beetle", at the County Extension Office.

Rain Aids Spring Farm Prospects

Chief farm work done the past week by Valley county farmers has been plowing, seedbed preparation, fertilizing stalk cutting, building fences, getting machinery ready for planting, hauling manure, and general livestock chores, according to the weekly crop report by John Schade, Valley county agent.

Moisture the past week has been very welcome, with pastures now beginning to green, and wheat looking excellent. Rain has stopped field work momentarily.

Supplemental feeding of cow herds are still necessary, and calf scour problems are diminishing with warmer weather.

Winter wheat looks good, while hay is fair, but alfalfa is now rated excellent. Rainfall for the week ending April 23 was 1.30 inches.

White-tailed deer change their coats twice each year. The summer coat is lightweight with fine, short hair close to the skin. This is replaced in winter by coarse, hollow bristles.

Club News

Know Your Heritage

The fourth meeting of the Fort Hartsuff 4-H Club was held Apr. 23 at the Fred Dubas's home. For the club project, "Know Your Heritage", Mrs. Ted Welniak read a short story on "The Battle at Pebble Creek", and "A Short History of Fort Hartsuff." Some of the girls volunteered to read other stories and report on them at the next meeting.

After the meeting, Mrs. Mary Jorgensen, a guest, told interesting things about her youth. She also brought pictures of Elyria which were taken when she lived in the Turtle Creek vicinity near Elyria.

The next meeting will be at the Rolland Zulkoski home. Janet Zulkoski, reporter.

Breakfast Breads

The 4-H Clovers met at the Educational Building recently for their regular after school meeting. Roll call was answered by telling a favorite breakfast bread. Members judged muffins they had baked at home. Lunch was served by Pam Novosad. Another meeting is planned for May 13. Julie Leggett, reporter.

All About Vegetables

The fifth meeting of the Red Roses 4-H Club was held Apr. 20 at the Nolte home. Nine members were present and one visitor, Mary Bennett. Roll call was answered by naming a vegetable unfamiliar to each member. Diane Nolte gave a demonstration on how to make scalloped corn. Judging was practiced on fabrics, needles and thread. Renay Nekuda served as hostess. Renay Nekuda, reporter.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

Budget, Tax Revenues are Principal Concerns of Legislature, Governor

By Melvin Paul, NPA
Statehouse Correspondent

With many of the "easy" decisions behind them, Nebraska's legislators are bumping into the tough problems of the 1971 session. Problems like the budget. And redistricting.

By the time this is published, the Budget Committee is expected to have put its final approval on the appropriations bill it is recommending.

The committee's version was expected to exceed Gov. J. James Exon's recommendations in several categories. The University of Nebraska is one. The committee recently voted 5-4 to provide the university with $3.7 million more in general fund money than the governor had suggested in his original budget message.

The spread wasn't actually that great, however, because Exon had made some concessions during the negotiations that extended over many weeks between him and NU Chancellor Durward B. Varner.

According to the best information made public, the university would get a little more than $1 million above the final Exon figure.

There may be attempts on the floor to raise the NU appropriation even higher than the committee agreed to. Even at the committee level, the university is more than $14 million away from its original requests for state tax money.

As for redistricting, the fights are being fought mostly in private these days. The metropolitan Omaha delegation held its own meetings to decide how to draw districts to accommodate the extra Douglas County senator and the additional lawmaker due neighboring Sarpy County.

The Lincoln senators also gathered privately to decide how to re-draft the Lancaster County districts.

Similar sessions were held by the "outstate" senators. The two seats which have to go to the Omaha area — because of its population growth — have to come from the remainder of the state.

There wasn't anything official available yet, but it appeared that one of the incumbents who would lose out would be Sen. Ellen Craft of North Platte, but she had already announced that she didn't plan to seek re-election.

The other senator who would see his home district dissolve could be Sen. Willard Waldo of DeWitt. Again, that wasn't official and Waldo has indicated he is working on his own redistricting plan.

Revenue Behind Expectations

Nebraska's taxes aren't bringing in as much money as had been expected, according to Tax Commissioner William E. Peters.

Peters announced the other day that the revenue this fiscal year probably would be $4 million below the total expected. That would mean the surplus which had been counted on by the budget-drafters may not be as large as they had thought.

The trend, Peters said, will continue into the coming fiscal year. He predicted the 1971-72 fiscal period would see revenue yields about $5 million under projection.

The chief reason, the tax commissioner said, is the income tax. It wasn't providing the state treasury with the revenue fiscal planners had forecast. Peters said the lower tax harvests were due to a "soft economy."

The Peters announcement arrived just before the Budget Committee completed its work. The revised revenue projections mean there will be at least $9 million less to appropriate — barring tax rate increases, which Exon has said he would do his best to avoid.

Food Tax Reaches Floor

The governor's bill to eliminate the sales tax on food at the grocery counter — instead of providing a refund through the income tax — has reached the floor.

The measure had been stuck in the Revenue Committee for weeks. The eight-member committee was split down the middle on the issue. There weren't enough votes to kill it or advance it.

But Omaha Sen. William R. Skarda Jr., who was carrying the bill for the governor, asked last week that the full Legislature raise the measure out of committee.

His motion prevailed, but the vote was a close 26-21.

Among the supporters of the Skarda motion were senators who agreed to raise the bill but who said their backing would stop there.

The statehouse speculation is that the Exon bill will fail and that the food tax will continue just as it has. That means a $7 refund per person as a credit on the income tax.

Earlier in the session, Sen. J. W. Burbach of Crofton got a bill passed to increase the refund to $10, which he said more accurately reflected the average amount a Nebraskan pays in sales taxes on his groceries. Exon vetoed that bill and the lawmakers declined to override the veto.

ETV or Law?

Still undecided at deadline time was the question of which agency should occupy a new building built on the University of Nebraska's East Campus in Lincoln — the educational television network, for which it was started, or the NU Law College, which Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter has recommended be the tenant. Carpenter has promised to bring the issue to a head soon.

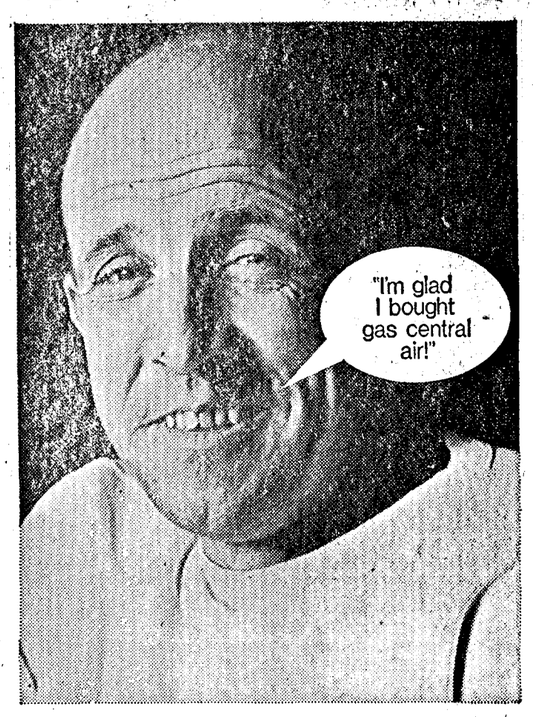
Tom Randall tells why



Last summer we really suffered from the heat and humidity. You should have seen us all crowding around that noisy old air conditioner in the living room!
But then we saw an ad from the gas company. It said that if you owned a gas central heating system—you know, a gas furnace and ductwork—then you already owned half of a gas central air conditioning system.
Well, we said, we own half, why not the whole works? And before long we were enjoying cool, wonderful comfort in every room of the house.
It was surprising how quick and easy everything was installed. And we can count on years of trouble-free operation because gas central air has fewer moving parts to wear out. Of course, the gas company assures us of prompt, sure service if we ever need it. And payments are easy, too.
We just add a regular installment with our monthly gas bill. For my money—and comfort—I'm glad I bought gas central air!

We think you'll feel the same way.

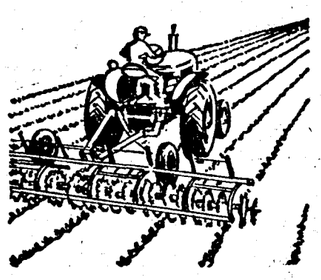
4-H Field Crops Science Program Challenges Urban and Rural Kids



Can a youngster living in an inner-city high-rise find true happiness growing crops in a windowbox?

The Cooperative Extension Service thinks so—especially if he has the opportunity to carry out some interesting, fun-to-do experiments with seeds, plants and soils.

The program also continues to be popular with farm youths who grow profitable acreages of crops. They too can appreciate the science approach as they experiment with insect, disease and weed control, fertilizers and new management concepts.

There are over 105,000 4-H'ers enrolled in the field crops science program, many from metropolitan areas. Now they have available to them a new series of educational materials providing a wide variety of exciting projects dealing with growing plants and soils.

The 4-H field crops science program is sponsored by Amchem Products, Inc., for the fifth consecutive year. The company provides incentives and recognition as well as financial support for the new materials developed by representatives of the Cooperative Extension Service and the National 4-H Service Committee.

Currently in use are educational materials on plant reproduction, soils and plant characteristics. An introductory unit briefly covers the broad areas of plant and soil science.

Still to be released are educational materials on growing and using plants, field crops production and research.

Incentives and recognition offered through Amchem Products sponsorship include four gold-plated medals of honor for outstanding members in each county. The state award is an expense-paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28 - Dec. 2. From these winners the Cooperative Extension Service will select recipients of six national educational scholarships of $700 each.

For more information about the 4-H field crops science program and how to participate as a member or local 4-H leader, contact the county extension office.

JOINT LAW DAY, MAY 1, PROCLAMATION

By Mayor Joe Ruzicka, County Judge Rollin Dye and Ord Magistrate Maynard Collier

In appreciation of our heritage of individual rights under law, Saturday, May 1, has been set aside by joint resolution of Congress and Presidential proclamation as Law Day, USA.

For nearly two centuries, our nation has looked to laws and independent courts for redress of grievances and the protection of the lives, liberties and individual rights of its citizens. The 14th annual observance of LAW DAY, USA, is an occasion for Americans to rededicate themselves to the ideals of equality and justice in their relations with each other.

The day also is a reminder that the values of a free society are not self-perpetuating; that the rights we cherish carry with them responsibilities. These include the duty to observe the law, to recognize the rights of others, to exercise the privileges of citizenship, and to support the institutions of representative government.

This year, the theme of Law Day USA is "Channel Change Through Law and Reason." It underscores the fact that law is the instrument through which issues between individuals and groups can be peaceably resolved, and which can serve as a unifying force in times of social upheaval. It points up also the fact that it has been through the processes of law that our nation has achieved its amazing growth and development in every sphere of human endeavor.

Now, therefore, we do hereby join in proclaiming Saturday, as Law Day in the City of Ord, and call upon all citizens, organizations, schools, churches, courts and businesses to review the objectives of Law Day, USA, which are as follows:

1. To foster respect for law and understanding of its essential place in American life;

2. To encourage citizen support of law observance and law enforcement;

3. To advance equality and justice under law; and

4. To point up the contrast between freedom under law in the United States and governmental tyranny under communism.

People Rate Slower Than Cars

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

With cars filling up the world twict as fast as people, it ain't no wonder planners is working on ways to cut back on both. I saw this piece in the paper where they is about 6,000 younuns born in this country ever day, but that Detroit turns out 12,000 cars a day.

This matter of the car explosion come up at the country store Saturday night during a discussion that started out on vacation season. Ed commented that people hibernate jest like animals, and with spring busting out all over folks are out scrambling fer places to go and sights to see. Ed said it looked to him like everbody was tired of being wherever they are.

What got him to thinking about folks stirring all over the country, Ed said, was this piece he had saw about ways to cut down on travel that clogs the roads and causes all the cars to clog the air. The best way to reduce travel, according to this article, Ed reported, was to travel without moving.

Ed said serious study is being give to "pseudo travel," which he said means traveling without going anywhere. Folks do a lot of this now, Ed went on, like when they watch television or use the telephone. What would we have, said Ed, if we had to deliver ever message or see ever ball game in person that we can take care of without gitting out of our easy chair.

The fellers said that Ed was on to somepun big, but that it wasn't all that new a idee. Folks has been pseudo traveling ever since the first mail order catalog come out, and writing a letter is a kind of travel, allowed Emmett Frazer. As fer traveling around fer pleasure, Emmett said he is of the mind that seeing new places and faces is overrated. Fer instant, he said, a family on vacation sets in a car all day and lives in a motel at night. They ain't that much differunce in cars, he said, and onct you're inside a Howard Johnson, you can be anywhere in the world.

Farthermore, Emmett said, younguns on a trip usual is jest interested in stopping where they is a swimming pool, and when you see one pool you seen em all. Serious, Emmett said he was agreed with the feller that said too much energy is used up in this world jest moving human freight from one place to another.

Practical speaking, Mister Editor, I think a heap of this travel is taking care of itself. I see where airlines is having a tough time because of a drop in business, and a passenger train soon is going to be as handy as a stagecoach. Buses is the cheapest way to move people, I hear, and they are doing such a business they've took to putting hostesses on em like airplanes.

Now, if we can keep the Guvernment out of the bus business, we might have somepun.

Yours truly,
GERANIUM JOE

Exams to Fill U.S. Academy Positions

Senator Carl T. Curtis has announced the Civil Service commission will conduct a written examination for young men who are interested in a nomination to the United States Air Force, Military, Naval and Merchant Marine Academies at various locations throughout the state of Nebraska on July 6.

In order to qualify, a boy must be a resident of the State of Nebraska. He must have reached his 17th birthday and not his 22nd by July 1, 1972. He must be single, responsible, trustworthy, of good moral character, and he must also pass the required physical examination.

Any Nebraska boy who meets the above requirements and is interested in attending one of the Academies, should promptly write to Senator Curtis, 2213 New Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., 20510. Additional information will be provided upon request.

TAX DEADLINE

Individuals who employ household help have an important tax deadline to meet by April 30, Richard P. Vinal, District Director of Internal Revenue for Nebraska, said this week. This is the last day to file Form 942, Employers Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees, and pay Social Security taxes for the first quarter ending March 31, 1971.

KERRY ON

By Kerry Leggett

—nationalized schools—

By the time you read this, Ord could have ANOTHER government program in the making—whether we NEED it or NOT.

Last week I gave you the few brief 'facts' I knew of the "4-C Program," calling to your attention a tentative meeting at the Valley County Welfare Office the evening of April 28th.

If I didn't step on someone's toes, I have no idea why the 4-C Program grew defensive so suddenly! Actually all I did was copy—directly from their sheet—the data provided me. Also I defined communism. To me the 4-C Program came powerfully close to fitting the definition.

Evidently the shoe fit someone.

On Friday I got the scream—nearly 55 minutes of long distance telephone conversation from Jack Stout of Lincoln. I couldn't exactly call it a conversation as it was rather one-sided. Mr. Stout talked nearly an hour—long distance— trying to explain something to me. What he was trying to explain, I still don't know. It was the biggest bunch of double-talk I've ever heard in my life . . . and that includes politicians!

Mr. Stout, I learned, is the State Coordinator of Day Care Programs. The title, 4-C, stands for Community Coordinated Child Care. This much I was able to piece together.

Though many of Stout's remarks I considered contradictory, he steadfastly defended the 4-C program. Only once did he mention something that caused me to shudder—"a national school system."

Now I didn't put these words in the mouth of Mr. Stout—nor did I even think my probing would unveil the words, "national school system." But to put things in their proper context, let me quote Mr. Stout as he tried to explain.

Referring to the federal government, Mr. Stout told me, "What Nixon has said is 'that we don't want the Feds fooling around in communities with the Day Care Program' because that starts to look like a national school system." Stout then adds that this is "antithetical to Republicanism."

I might add my own words here, saying that even the THOUGHT of a "national school system" is antithetical to Americanism!

I'd like to close this week's column by saying all I originally questioned was the 4-C Program. In reply I received nearly an hour of long distance telephone talk that would make the average American shudder! If you relish the freedoms that are your's—you'd better look closely at all state and federal programs . . . even under the guise of "Child Care."

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

Ord in Your Blood

Now they have come into their own. Alluring ones are on display and expensive in every florist shop and gift emporium. The centerpieces are imaginative and colorful and often they surround a handsome candle.

Fooling the public with plastic flowers has become a big business. The attractive tall imitation bushes and trees, blooming with unlikely flowers, ornament most living rooms, hospital corridors, fine shops, they are found everywhere.

It's also getting usual to fill flower boxes with mock evergreens in winter, to put what look like real trees beside the front door.

I don't mind if they are blatantly artificial, do you? For instance, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing make their entrance look inviting by means of some artificial flowers that aren't too obviously artificial.

To tell you the truth, I think they're fun.

So did some of my neighbors, who stuck their Christmas trees into the snow to make new houses look as though there was base planting. But Mr. Wind took care of that, whisking the trees off and away to Dr. Zlomke's hill.

Years ago, 1960 to be exact, we spent a winter in Tucson.

There was a rather large, elongated backyard. All the edges were greened up with goodsized oleander bushes, but they don't bloom until spring, even in Tucson, Arizona.

The other half of my family was often in the hospital and he received numerous potted plants and flowers, and there was always this beautiful ribbow bow that I didn't like to throw out, so I saved them. And I decided the bows would look great on those flowerless oleander bushes, so I stuck bright bows here and there.

And our visitors from the north, like Ord, were so fascinated.

They'd look out across that long green grass expanse and cry "Irma, did you know your oleanders are in bloom?"

I'd say "No, are they really?"

Usually the response to this was "I'm going out and see them, okay?" Of course they came back to the 'dobe house ready to chase me.

That reminds me, so many people from our area are traipsing south, and Henry and Vera Lang have bought a lot at Green Valley, a lush pretty new development south of Tucson a few miles.

Bill and Norma Sack always go sunward, but they were hurried this year by the news of the illness of her brother in California.

Bill and Zola Schudel are enjoying Harlingen, Texas.

Clyde and Alma Baker left for Florida several weeks ago, as it is much easier for him to breathe there.

Orpha and Joe Jirak bought a home in Texas several years ago and Ord doesn't see them often now.

Floyd and Ann Peterson bought a home in Tempe, Ariz., but they continue to return to Ord for a good part of the year. They have so many friends and relatives here. Several other Ordites live not too far from them.

Dr. Paul Martin took his four sons and wife and moved to Gallup, N.M., and they often visit with Don Edwards and family who moved near there earlier.

There are so many from here who have sought the sun. Some have enjoyed it, some of them pine for Ord. It seems to be difficult to get Ord out of your system: beware! — Irma

Parents—Know the Drug Threat

The Child You Save May Be Your Own

By CLARENCE FOX

Valley County Sheriff

TODAY'S SUBJECT: Drugs and the Laws

No matter how much we discuss the matter of drugs and their misuse, there is still one incontrovertible fact: It is illegal. People using drugs, excluding those obtained by prescription and used according to directions, may land in jail, and their lives are affected for years to come.

For example, possession of Marijuana for personal use is a felony under federal law. A conviction could mean a sentence of not less than two years and not more than 10, for the first offense. When a person applies for a job, he is often asked to state whether he has ever been convicted of a felony. An affirmative reply, of course, would limit greatly his chances for being hired. Conviction on felony charges also means loss of voting rights.

Many state laws are more severe in their penalties for possession of Mahijuana. For example the state of Ohio specifies a maximum sentence of life in prison for selling Marijuana to people who are minors.

Many states specify Marijuana as a narcotic, but the federal laws do not, as of this writing.

On the other hand, possession of LSD, a far more dangerous drug you will recall from our discussion in this series, was made a misdemeanor, subject to a fine and/or prison term, in changes made in federal laws. Prior to these changes, possession of LSD for personal use had not been a federal crime at all. Today about half of our states outlaw the possession of LSD, but the laws are changing constantly and tending to go in the direction of stiffer penalties.

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, says, "The distance from the dare to try 'pot' (Marijuana), to 'mainlining' (injecting Heroin) is very short." Other law enforcement officers seem to feel the greater use of Marijuana, especially among youngsters, will probably lead them to the use of far more dangerous drugs.

Mind-influencing drug laws continue to change in recent years. Very important changes in federal law, making far stiffer penalties concerning dangerous drugs, were passed by Congress in just the last few years, in alterations in the Drug Abuse Control Amendments of 1965.

The main changes were: LSD was placed under the category and defined as "depressant or stimulant drugs" and possession for use was made a misdemeanor on the first offense. And, indicative of a trend, it is now a misdemeanor just to have Barbiturates, Amphetamines or other drugs of this type in your possession unless they have been prescribed by a licensed physician and were obtained through a valid prescription from him. Offenders can be fined as much as $1,000 and jailed for up to one year — or both — for the first or second offense on these charges if convicted. On third offenses or beyond, the maximum fine is now $10,000 and up to three years in prison OR BOTH! There were, however, some special provisions put into the law for people whose convictions were their first on possession charges. These allow courts to suspend sentence and put the person so charged and convicted on probation for up to one year.

Under the new federal changes, the penalty for unlawful sale, manufacture, delivery or other disposal of, or possession with intent to sell a depressant or stimulant drug, or acts involving counterfeit drugs of this type, has now become subject to fines of up to $10,000 or prison terms of up to five years — or both!

The illegal sale, delivery or other disposal of such drugs by persons over age 18 to those under age 21, now can bring fines up to $15,000 or prison terms for not more than 10 years or both! For second and later offenses, the fine goes up to $20,000 and the jail term to 15 years.

Of course, there are many ins and outs to prosecution of the drug laws, and the courts across the land are being swamped more and more with drug cases, but all indications point to stiffer penalties and more stringent interpretations of existing laws for chronic offenders. And, this is what we MUST get across to our children and youngsters; the laws of the land will not let them destroy themselves with drug misuse if they are caught and eventually they will most likely be apprehended.

Next week will be our summary. Try to be with us to wind up this very important series, please.

WASHINGTON REPORT

National Child Advocacy System Would Weaken Control of Parents

BY PAUL SCOTT
Former Greeley Resident

The Senate Finance Committee is going to be the initial congressional battlefield for the developing fight over the role government will play in shaping the "minds and bodies" of the nation's children.

Little noticed legislation proposing a National Child Advocacy System was introduced last week by Senator Abraham Ribicoff (D. Conn.) former Secretary of Department of Health, Education and Welfare during the Kennedy Administration, and sent to that strategic Senate Committee for public hearings.

Although its stated purpose is "to explore the feasibility of the establishment of a National Child Advocacy System through demonstration projects", the Ribicoff measure in effect establishes one. It creates the frame-work for a "big-brother" system for all youth under 21 that would be financed and controlled by the federal government.

The controversial proposal provides for establishment of a network of federally-financed child development councils at all levels of government including a 15-member President's Council on Child Development.

Located in the White House, the President's Council would be endowed with the same power and prestige as the highly influential Council of Economic Advisers and the new Council on Environmental Quality.

As spelled out in Ribicoff's proposal (S-1414), the principal task of the President's Council at the outset would be to develop a national children's policy for the nation. The Council would have authority to "establish long-term and short-term goals" for meeting what needs that the Council would determine. It also would "set priorities for federal funding and efforts aimed at achieving the goals of the national children's policy".

In addition to the Council, an Office of Child Development would be set up in the White House to provide the information and expertise necessary for the President's Council to carry out its mandate.

The Director of the new office, with approval of the Council, is given authority to set up 20 neighborhood offices of Child Advocacy throughout the country, and to finance the establishment of 50 state offices.

Under the Ribicoff plan, the President's Council would have the power to "recommend legislation to eliminate the gap between children's needs and the nation's resources allocated to meet such needs".

A method for using the taxpayers money to help in the selling of a massive billion dollar National Child Advocacy System is cleverly hidden within the legislation. The President's Council would be authorized to submit an annual report to the President and Congress extolling the benefits that allegedly would come from such a system.

Members of the President's Council also are given "life and death" power over the budgets of all the present government programs dealing with children under the Ribicoff proposal.

Opponents of the measure claim that this far-reaching authority could be used by those backing the Child Advocacy System to launch new childrens' programs designed to help foster a "permissive" "new society".

Supporters of the Child Advocacy System, it is pointed out, are already working at the state level to weaken the control that parents now have over their children. In nearly every state legislature, they are now pushing legislation which would let youths of any age obtain birth control devices from doctors or health aides without the consent of their parents.

Another favorite play toy of this group is legislation that would allow children of 14 years and above to seek mental health treatment anywhere without having the consent of their parents.

Opponents say these measures are designed to use state law to drive a deep wedge between parents and their children, thus widening the generation gap.

The Nixon Administration is expected to endorse the legislation unless there is a great public outcry against the Ribicoff proposal. Dr. Edward F. Zigler, head of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Office of Child Development, already has publicly endorsed the idea and has been one of the prime movers behind the legislation.

The National Child Advocacy System is being vigorously supported by the American Psychiatric Association, whose members see its approval resulting in hundreds of millions of dollars in additional fees.

The Association is currently circulating widely the 650-page report of the Joint Commission on Mental Health of Children which first advocated the establishment of a National Child Advocacy System. The report also claims that there are now an estimated 10 million youth under age of 24 in need of help because of mental disorders or problems. No evidence for the claim was provided in the report.

Members of the Senate Finance Committee who will be considering this important legislation are as follows: Democrats, Russell B. Long, (La.), Clinton P. Anderson, (N.M.), Herman E. Talmadge (Ga.), Vance Hartke, (Ind.), J. W. Fulbright, (Ark.), Abraham A. Ribicoff, (Conn.), Fred R. Harris, (Okla.), Harry F. Byrd, Jr., (Va.), and Gaylord Nelson, (Wis.); Republicans, Wallace F. Bennett, (Utah), Carl T. Curtis, (Neb.), Jack Miller (ia.), Len B. Jordan, (Ida.), Paul J. Fannin, (Ariz.), Clifford P. Hansen, (Wyo.), and Robert P. Griffin, (Mich.).

Milks for 22 Years, But Now Reporter's Family Sells Them

By Dena Sintek

For the first time in the 22 years we've been married, we are not milking cows. It was either build a new barn or quit, so we quit. We sold our 20 cows and one bull Saturday at the Ord sale barn and received a good price.

I felt sorry for the cows. They didn't know what was going on. We'll miss seeing them in the yard but will never miss having to milk them and wash the milker.

Anyone having news for me, please call 496-3483 any day of the week or drop it or your name in the News Box at Hill's Jack & Jill and I will call you. Oh yes, Karen says "he's coming."

TORNADO Safety Rules

To Know What To Do When a Warning is Received, or a Tornado is Observed, May Mean the Difference Between Life and Death ! !

City Tornado Warning Signal

A Solid 2-Minute Blast Of The Siren

(The tornado warning is a non-fluctuating whistle — take shelter immediately.)

If A Tornado Is Sighted Report To CITY POLICE DEPT. — PH. 728-5771

There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

If You Are in Open Country:

1. Move at right angles to the tornadoes path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

If in a City or Town:

1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!
2. In homes: The southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east side of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building.
3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

If in Schools:

1. In city areas: Especially in school buildings if of good steel reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on lower floor. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS.
2. In rural districts—remove children and teachers to ravine or ditch if storm cellar is not available.

Keep tuned to your radio KNLV 1060 or tv station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Stay Under Cover:

When tornadoes strike many persons are killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."

Darlene Hopkins Is Fourteen Event Celebrated With Party

By Bertha Clement

Darlene Hopkins was fourteen Friday, and Sunday afternoon fifteen of her friends helped celebrate her birthday at the Rev. Robert Hopkins home. After playing games they had birthday cake and homemade ice cream. She gave treats at Valleyside Friday.

Babbles by Bertha

Our neighbor Lucy Koelling — who was taken to the Sargent Nursing Home recently — had a heart attack Friday and is now in the hospital at Sargent. Visiting her from Mira Valley were her son Kenneth Koelling and daughter Florence Hornickel, her son Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Koelling of Grand Island and Maurine Koelling and the Arden Koellings of Ord. Her son Rev. Harold Keolling and wife Evelyn are near by as they live in Sargent.

Don, his three sons and Jim Stephenson came up from Kearney Sunday. The boys came with an appetite as usual but I was ready for them even to fresh rolls.

The name of J. W. Gates was found among others on the underside of the old bridge that is being replaced across Mira Creek north of Sophie Fusses home. The bridge was built about 1905. Probably repair work was done in the early teens when J. W. Gates, known as "Bill" Gates was a Valley County Supervisor. He was the father of Beulah Clement.

We turned out clock ahead Saturday night so we could start Sunday using daylight saving time. At 5 o'clock someone knocked on the door. That someone was having car trouble and wanted to be pushed to get it started. Five isn't too early but on the first day of daylight saving time it was more than we had bargained for.

The week's rain to Tuesday morning was 1.10 inches. That added to the 1.20 we received early last week adds up to 2.30 according to our rain gauge. This gives pastures and grain a boost and George says corn won't have to wait to germinate as it sometimes does.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange attended the funeral services of the Rev. Walter Ernstmeyer, 81, at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Lincoln Monday afternoon. Rev. Ernstmeyer was pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Mira Valley from 1921-1924, and later pastor of Zion Lutheran Church in Scotia. Among others attending the funeral services were Mrs. Clarence Fox, Jr., Mrs. Alma Bredthauer and Mrs. Rose Fuss, both of Scotia and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wells of Cotesfield. On the way home the Elmer Bredthauers and Langes visited Mrs. Hadie Heiden at Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Foth, Mrs. Bryan Peterson, Dale, Nancy and Keith attended the Boy Scout Ceremony at Westward Community Church in Omaha Sunday afternoon. The Foth's grandson Bill Weeks received his Eagle award in Boy Scouts. The Mira Valley visitors had dinner with Dr. and Mrs. Dave Weeks and family and lunch at the church. Others who were guests of the Weeks family and attended the ceremony were Bill's other grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks of Kearney, an aunt and family and Shirley Peterson and her rommate, all of Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Foth, Gretchen, Eileen and Kim attended the confirmation of Mrs. Foth's nephew Craig Oswald at Superior Sunday. They were dinner guests of her sister and family, the Dave Oswalds.

The Neighborhood Card Group had a party at the William Bremer home Friday evening. Receiving prizes for high were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Luoma, for low Mrs. Dave Lange and Lores Hornickel and traveling Dave Lange.

Mrs. Ed Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange and Mrs. Calvin Treptow of Comstock accompanied Mrs. Frances McCall to the Jefferson-Jackson dinner in Lincoln Saturday evening, where they heard Senator Edmund Muskie speak.

Linda Duvall and Scott, Paul and Craig Bredthauer were participants in the organ and piano recital by pupils of Mrs. Louise Brennick at the Seventh Day Baptist Church in North Loup Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Jack Duvall and Virginia and Mrs. Arvin Bredthauer and her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dye were among those attending the recital.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving King drove to Spencer Thursday and attended the funeral services of Clyde Fisher, a relative.

Kurtis Knapp was one year old last Wednesday. To celebrate the occasion grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lenz and uncle Allen Knapp were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knapp, Kevin and Kurtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Burson entertained at supper Thursday honoring the birthday of their daughter, Mrs. Rollie Staab. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Staab and children, Mr. and Mrs. DeLyle Burson and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson and Jarrod. On that day Jarrod was three months old.

Mrs. Jerry Jurgensen went bowling in the state tournament at Norfolk Sunday. Jerry's sister Mrs. Dorothy Brockman, who is on the same Burwell team, was top in the state in singles 677 series. Jerry and son Calvin visited his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jurgensen in Burwell during that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mroczek attended the wedding of a former Sherman County neighbor in Omaha. Max Caddy and Susan Vacek were married Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Mroczek were Saturday overnight guests of her aunt, Mrs. John Kantor and daughter Clara in Omaha.

Ron and Janice Mroczek were Sunday dinner guests of the Raymond Mroczek family at Loup City and attend the confirmation of Gary Mroczek.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peterson were Sunday dinner and lunch guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Peterson, Bob and Carol. Mrs. Albert Peterson's Saturday birthday was observed.

Mrs. Lloyd Geweke visited her daughter and family, the Bob Stowells in Lincoln Friday to Sunday. While there she attended the Block and Bridle Rodeo.

LeRoy Visek of West Minster, Colo. visited his aunt, Mrs. Anna Visek last week.

Mrs. Edgar Roe spent a long

This Week's Meditation

Read II Corinthians 4:16 through 5:5

What can be seen lasts only for a time; buf what cannot be seen lasts for ever. (II Corinthians 4:18, TEV)

Go out some evening and watch God make a night. The beautiful, white, fluffy clouds become golden and breathtaking as the rays of the sun burst through. A redness fills the heavens as God pushes the sun behind the horizon. We then see the Master of the day cover the earth with a veil of darkness, tossing sprinkles of light throughout the sky.

Our lives reveal somewhat the same scene. We experience darkness and brilliant light. Amidst all this we find God's justice working out its own plan, affecting us all. We are born and live and die, only to live again.

Some sorrows seem hard to reconcile with perfect love — sometimes we doubt whether there is a God who sees. However, we can have the knowledge and trust that Christ, who has passed through the shadow of death, will be with us through our darkness until we see the sunshine again. With this assurance, our lives can radiate the glorious beauty of their sunsets.

PRAYER: O Lord, when we look at the heavens and the work of Thy fingers, we are humbled with gratitude that You are mindful of us. Amen.

THE THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever:
Its loveliness increases; it will never Pass into nothingness."

Mrs. Henry Kusek represented this area at the State Convention slated last weekend.

Due to the generosity of the Tally-Ho Coyote Club, the North Central ARC is offering two $100 scholarships this year. Any graduating senior from Loup, Valley, Garfield or Howard counties, entering the field of Special Education is eligible for the scholarships. Requirements are a letter addressed to the North Central ARC in care of Mrs. Andy Kusek of Ord, stating the reason for entering a specified field of Special Education. The committee will judge the entrants on sincerity, neatness and need. All entries should be turned in to the ARC by May 7.

More than four out of each five dollars worth of farm products are now produced on farms which have annual sales over $10,000.

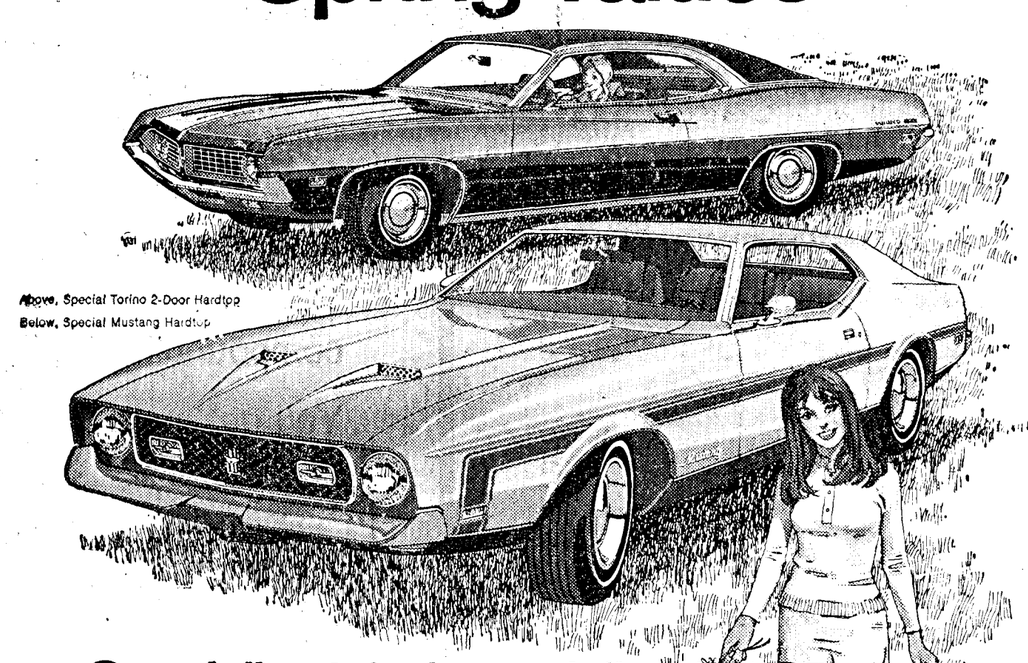
Ford's Special Spring Values



Specially styled, specially priced Mustang and Torino at your Ford Dealer's now.

Mustang..with a racy look you've never seen on our hardtop before.

You take a classic Mustang Hardtop. Add a sports car hood—NASA-type scoops and all. Dual racing mirrors. Color-keyed Spoiler bumper. A unique grille with sport lamps. Brighten the sides with Boss-tape stripes. Wide tires with special trim rings. Then cut the price of all the extras and you're home.

Spring won't last forever. Neither will your Ford Dealer's Special Spring Values.

Torino sports an all new vinyl halo roof and other extras at a very special price.

Take our beautiful Ford Torino. Put new styling accents on the roof, the wheel covers, the sides, the doors, the upholstery. Add lots of other luxury touches for a very different look. But underneath, it's the same mid-price, mid-size Torino that's big enough to seat six, small enough to handle and park easily. See the new spring Torino and the 14 other Torinos at your Ford Dealer's now.

Illustrious Blood Lines Feature Harry Bresley's Champion Pacer

Ord has one of the finest racing horses in America with Harry Bresley now the owner of H. D. Hal, a Standard breed stallion, who is a natural pacer.

Hal will be used by Mr. Bresley in giving the Ord Chamber of Commerce prize winning May basket holder a free ride around the courthouse square. See story and picture on page one of this newspaper.

Hal was foaled April 28, 1956 and his best time as a growing young horse for the mile was 2:08. He was growing rapidly and gaining sharply in strength and speed at the time, but was then injured slightly, which hurt his chances for maximum speed.

However, he was rated at one Chicago race as the best horse among more than 150 competitors.

He is the grand son of Billy Direct, who made the mile in 1:55, and is a son of H. D. Hanover, who paced it in 1:58. The all-time record of 1:55 as first set, was established by Dan Patch, a fabled Minnesota pacer who paced the mile in that speed.

Hal is a natural pacer, which means he was born with the ability to run with left legs moving in unison, and then right legs moving forward in unison. This means that at top speed, he does not gallop as most horses do. Pacers were developed for specific racing and also for easier saddle riding.

The famous Dan Patch was so fast, he was regularly raced against galloping horses, so it can be seen that if Hal could approach that speed, he would be a brilliant performer.

Mr. Bresley says, "Hal was a great race horse. His grand sire was one of the world's fastest horses."

Hal is one of four horses which Mr. Bresley has. They consist of two pacers and two trotters. Trotters run with diagonal legs operating in unison. Mr. Bresley states the horses may be shown at coming county fairs, and also can be seen by individuals at his home, if arrangements are made in advance.

The horses do not do well in parades, as they are too spirited to stand still. Hence, Mr. Bresley has to drive them around in tight circles when the parade comes to a momentary halt.

Hal will be breeding other horses of Mr. Bresley's, but will not be at stud. He was acquired last Dember, Mr. Bresely has raised purebred Percheron horses for more than 53 years and operated a big farm three miles north of Ord. His son Dean Bresley operates the farm now.

Mr. Bresley originally advertised in national horse magazines for an exceptional horse, and out of the replies he received, chose Hal on the basis of being gentle and also having best blood lines.

Standard breed of horses are common in the East, but are almost unknown in Nebraska and central America. They are rated as more gentle and as being an exceptional driving horse, as well as being faster than many other varieties.

Horses like Hal were used universally in early days for driving to town on Sunday and other special occasions. They enjoyed being groomed and having a sparkling rig to pull. Their wind was such they were tireless, and as a pacing horse, they were exceptionally easy to ride.

Horseback riding is staging a modest comeback in many parts of America with trail riding and other outdoor events being staged. One such trail ride in Minnesota draws 700 riders annually, and this is sponsored by a relatively small community.

National horse magazines are thriving, and have a devoted readership. Saddles, blankets and western riding apparel are popular in Valley county and at least one store has extensive supplies.

Vacationers are finding, in many cases, the lure of overnight camps, which can be reached only on horseback, and which are in breath-taking natural beauty locations, are irresistible.

Here and There

Jim Lukesh and his friend, Jerry McAndrew stopped briefly at the Elmer Lukesh home, Sunday. They were on their way to Lincoln to resume studies at the university after spending the weekend visiting relatives in western Nebraska. Jim visited his sister and family, the Edwin Schmidts at Scottsbluff and Jerry visited his folks at Alliance.

Mrs. Harold Christensen, Mrs. Eugene Novotny, Mrs. Sylvester Furtak and Mrs. Merle VanZandt attended a luncheon and meeting of the Auxiliary of Farmhouse Fraternity, Saturday noon, at the Yancey Hotel. Mrs VanZandt gave a cake decorating demonstration as part of the program.

Swiss Highlights

P. E. O. met Apr. 19 at Mrs. Ernest Horner's home. "Choosing Life in Another Country" was presented by Mrs. Harold Garnick. Specifically, life in Switzerland was described through the food enjoyed by the Swiss people. A series of books illustrating foods from several foreign countries was shared with the members. Mrs. Fred Stoddard was the assisting hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Baker of Milford — she's a granddaughter of Mrs. Lorraine Ferris — and Mrs. Dale Baker, Barb Trautman and Mrs. Stepch, all Turner were Sunday afternoon and lunch guests of Mrs. Ferris.
