Seventh-Eighth Grade Spikers Split a Pair

Ord seventh and eighth graders split two games at Burwell Tuesday night. Ord seventh grade volleyball players were edged 15-9 and 15-12.

They served 77 percent which was "pretty fair for seventh graders," Ord coach, Richard Cecetka noted, and had some outstanding plays. The trouble was, the two never came at the same time, he related.

Leading scorer was Jenny Andersen with 6 points. She was followed by Sue Smith with 4. Team mates earning 2 points included Julie Bolesen, Jennifer Hansen, and Amy Schroeder. Ellen Green, Heidi Kerchal, and Pat Wagoner scored 1 point each.

Ord eighth graders took Burwell in three sets 9-15, 15-12 and 15-3. The girls played a good game, Cecetka told the Quiz. They trailed 12-3 in the second game at one point, but held on and staged a comeback rally.

Cecetka attributed Ord's loss in the first game to a lack of confidence.

Carla Rysavy was the leading scorer with a whopping 15 points. Angie Kamrad was second 10 points to her credit. Other top score tallies included Pauline Penas with 6.

Colleen Schauer rounded out Ord's performance Tuesday with 5 points to her credit. Deb Mason and Deb Vancura each had 2 points.

One week earlier, Ord seventh and eighth graders went to Grand Island Central Catholic and were downed in two matches 15-5 and 15-10.

Aurora Huskies Edge Ord 37-28

IT'S OFFICIAL — Ord got the touchdown, but just by inches. Vailla carried the ball moving Ord ahead 27-24 in the fourth quarter.

Some missed blocks gave host Aurora a 37-28 win over Ord Friday. The two teams evenly matched teams played a seesaw scoring game until late in the fourth quarter.

Hoppes was attempting to run with the ball on a fourth down when he was swarmed under by a host of Huskies near the Ord 20 yard line. Aurora promptly took possession of the ball and staged an assault that ended in a touchdown.

After moving the ball to the 15 and then to the 12 they passed to end man in the end zone for what looked like a touchdown.

Officials stayed their hopes of scoring by a ruling that put the ball back at the Ord 20.

Undeterred, Aurora ran it to the Chant five yard line and then booted it in. With 41 seconds left in the last quarter, Aurora pulled ahead 36-28, with the extra point.

Until then, few would have speculated on the final outcome of the game. A supposed underdog, Ord was giving the Aurora Huskies a real fight.

When the first half ended, Ord had a 14-12 edge.

Prognostications by pigskin pundits that the Chants would be edged or swamped were in doubt. Sideline spectators were heard commenting what a difference a year makes.

Twelve months earlier, the Chant team looked a lot different. During the 1977 season a victory was regarded as a major feat.

This year things changed. Ord rocked the best of some Albion Cardinals one week earlier with a 17-0 victory.

During first half play, touchdowns by Vailla and a well run defense forced Aurora to fight hard for their share of the action on the field.

Second half competition proved no different. This opened with Kalhoff kicking near the Aurora end zone. The Huskies ran it about 30 yards. After a gain of two and a busted play, they connected on a pass to near their 40. Aurora's Mitch Carter caught a third pass and ran it in for a touchdown.

With 10:20 on the clock, Aurora pulled ahead 18-14.

Their lead proved a temporary one. Ord soon had the ball down in the Huskies end zone. This started with Pelton taking the kickoff from deep in Chant territory to near the Ord 40, and then to midfield.

Novosad ran it to about the Aurora 36 and Hoppes carried to near the 25.

Ord got further ground gains to just over the Aurora five yard line. Hoppes carried near the three and Vailla plunger over making the score 20-18. With Ron Kalhoff booting the extra point, Ord pulled ahead 21-18.

The Chants came near recapturing the ball when the following kickoff proved to be a verticle one. The Huskies recovered it, however, and ran it near midfield.

A smooth ground gaining drive faltered near the Ord 20, when officials ruled Aurora offside and moved the ball back to the Ord 25.

Recouping their loss, Aurora ran near the Ord 18 and then passed into the end zone. With 1:43 on the clock, they nosed Ord aside 24-21.

Aurora wasn't alone in committing infractions. During the fourth quarter Ord had a 15 yard holding penalty called against them. This came just after Hoppes had run to the Aurora 38. The ruling placed the ball near the 45 yard mark, and gave Ord a first and 25 call.

Pelton and Hoppes moved Ord out of the hole by carrying the ball just inside the five. After a big shove by the entire Chant team, Vailla made it over for the touchdown, barely. He got it by inches.

One extra point being good, Ord moved ahead 28-24.

Aurora quickly snapped back and was at the Ord 10 with a second and three call. The Chant defense held at the six and received a boost from a call moving the ball back to the Ord 20.

After running to the 15, Aurora connected on a pass to the end zone, and pulled ahead 30-28.

Then disaster struck. Facing a fourth down, Pelton had the ball near the 20 and was attempting a fake punt. His run for the first down might have been successful, but some missed blocks let Aurora Huskies leak into the backfield halting Ord short of the first down.

With two teams so evenly matched, that was all that was needed to give the Huskies the necessary edge. Aurora's final touchdown moved them further ahead a short time later.

An Aurora interception with just 19 seconds left on the clock locked in their victory.

Ord's loss Friday gives them a 2-2-1 record for the season. Next week, they play host to Central City. Those Central Bison sacked Grand Island Northwest 41-6 Friday.

Coach Jim Blessen praised the Chant offensive line for their efforts Friday. This includes Dan Martin, Paul Beran, Jim Welniak, Jeff Wolf, Ron Kalhoff, Paul Bredthauer, and Kurt Kremke.

Their efforts enabled Kevin Vailla and Keith Pelton to both gain over 100 yards rushing during the game. Blessen told the Chants.

"I'm proud of the job of hitting his receivers in crucial third down situations. He threw four completions, each good for a first down."

Ord first downs 13 rushing 4 passing.

Rushing yardage: Ord carried the ball 51 times for 285 yards. Aurora carried 35 times for 179 yards.

Passing: Ord 4 for 6 and 1 interception for 76 yards. Aurora 10 for 21 for 191 yards.

Total yardage: Ord 361 and Aurora 370.

Ord 7 7 7 7 28
Aurora 6 6 12 13 37

Other game situations Patch recalled was a third down and first call with 2:05 left to play in the fourth quarter. Williams passed to Linke, gaining the needed ten yards.

Reserve Hike Record By Downing Northwest Reserve Ord High spikers boosted their record to 6-1 with a win over Grand Island Northwest Tuesday, September 26.

Visiting Northwest was downed in two out of three sets played here. Ord was victorious with scores of 10-15, 15-8, and 16-14.

Ord coach Angie Batenhorst contended mental errors cost the Ord girls their first game. She listed these as not covering defensive positions, having problems communicating, and not moving with the count.

The girls rallied in games number two and three to take the Viking team.

Said Batenhorst, "We have a team with much spiking potential, but we need to get more consistent about getting set for an attack."

Tuesday, Kathy Hansen led the Ord assault. Top servers were Cindy Kamarad with 17 points and Kathy Hansen with 9.

Sue Sevenker and Anne Smith were credited by Batenhorst for being fine setters in the Ord-Northwest game. Hansen had a 75 percent efficiency rating while Smith had 72.2 percent.

Anderson Gets Two Chris Anderson, freshman at Concordia College in Seward, was one of the high point servers on the Concordia volleyball team.

Anderson, a former Ord High outstanding spiker, scored two points in the Doane-Concordia game at Crete September 20.

Varsity Spikers Whip Northwest Ord varsity spikers downed guest Grand Island Northwest 15-9 Tuesday night. The win makes the Ord varsity spikers 6-1 for the season.

Ord coach Jan Weber revealed fears that the guests from Northwest height and ability would cause Ord trouble. This didn't prove to be the case.

They had difficulty in handling the serves dished up by Ord, and seldom had a chance to cash in on their chief assets during the game. Ord had a 55.6 percent team serve efficiency rating.

Other statistics attest to Ord's effectiveness in handling the girls from Northwest. Like Mason's leading Ord's attack with five ace spikes. Kittle followed through with three of her own.

Brass led Ord's setting with 100 percent in five assists, setting the ball up for an ace spike, and more points for Ord.

Ord coach Jan Weber lauded her varsity girls for a good defense, singling out Pam Meese and Vicki Mason for individual praise.

Leading scorers for Ord were Rhonda Brass with 11 points and Shari Fox with 6. Vickie Mason and Pam Meese chipped in five points each for the game.

Next Tuesday, the JV second team will play Broken Bow at Ord, before the regularly scheduled competition. Tuesday's match is the Ord spikers last game at home for the season.

Ord cross country runners won the Ord-Central City duo here Monday and placed three runners in the top five in individual placings. Ord had 17 points to Central's 20 in the one-day meet.

Greg Linke was first in individual ratings with a time of 12:48. Close behind in third place was Bob Rasmussen with 13:00. Kyle Novosad was fourth with a time of 13:12.

John Scheidler was ranked tenth and Tom Papiernik eleventh. Their times were 14:49 and 16:00, respectively.

Quinn Helps Engineer Big Red's 69-7 Win Ord's pigskin eyes and ears were on the Nebraska-Indiana game Friday searching for number 11 of the Big Red squad, Jeff Quinn. The former Ord High athlete went in with 10:36 left in the game.

Quinn helped engineer Nebraska's last touchdown of the game at Bloomington, IN. That came when Katera went into the end zone, making the score 68-10. A kick by Sukup made it 69-10.

Indiana scored again, but it wasn't until Ceramics tried to win the game. Indiana coach Leo Corso was quoted as saying, "I didn't think the first quarter would end, I felt like it was a nightmare, and I'd wake up in a minute."

"This was my worst defeat," Corso reportedly said. "I was beaten 69-19 by Memphis State and threw in the towel. Today I couldn't find a towel to throw in."

Mira Valley United Methodist Men of the Mira Valley Church met Sunday evening. Mike Schudel led devotions and refreshments were in charge of Leonard and Don Marks.

Rev. and Mrs. Hughes Morris, Kearney, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Moorer at the Covenant Fellowship at the Mira Valley United Methodist Church Sunday morning.

Revs. Charles and Ruth Moorer attended a Men's Breakfast at the Elba United Methodist Church Monday morning. Rev. Hughes Morris of Kearney was the speaker. Rev. Morris is a speaker for special services at the Elba United Methodist Church this week. This breakfast was followed by a parish staff meeting and visitation in the Elba community.

Mrs. Harry Foth visited her daughter, Mrs. Wayne Urwiler and family at Ravenna Monday.

Mrs. Ed Huffman, Mrs. Anna Visek and Mrs. Fred Veskerna accompanied Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lange to Grand Island Friday. They were joined by Mary Huffman of Hastings.

Rites at Burwell For Elden Key

Funeral services were Sunday, September 24, 1978 for Elden L. Key who died September 22 at the Burwell Hospital.

Rev. Richard Shapland officiated at the 2 p.m. rites at the Burwell United Methodist Church. Music was provided by Lanny Johnson and Dennis Bonnell with Dr. Robert Ellsworth as organist. Pallbearers were Dee Koger, Eddie Bartos, Henry Kohde, Ed McMullen, Vic Zalud and Vernon Woods. Honorary pallbearers were Dr. Roy Cram, Dr. Ben Meckel, Edward Mach, Richard Banks, Don Mattern, Henry Kusek, John Bartusiak and Melvin Beardsley. Interment was at the Cottonwood Cemetery in Burwell.

Elden Lloyd Key was born November 17, 1889 in a sod house to pioneer parents, Scott and Jennie Scofield Key, northeast of Burwell in the Dry Cedar Precinct. He spent the first 12 years of his life there before moving to the present home where he had resided nearly 87 years, his entire life having been spent in Garfield County.

As a boy, he attended West Side School, also built of sod and on April 12, 1911 he was united in marriage to Clara Wieberg at the farm home of her parents.

For two years Elden ran a Company Threshing Machine, then purchased it and for the next 48 years he shelled corn in the winter and threshed in the summer. He served on the Board of Directors for the Old Telephone Company for 30 years and his local school district for about the same number of years.

He entered the Burwell Hospital and Nursing Home in June 1978, due to failing health.

His wife Clara, preceded him in death December 27, 1963.

Survivors include one son Stanley, daughter-in-law, Dorothy, two granddaughters, three brothers, Walter of Martin, SD, Everett of Columbus and Lloyd of Burwell; one half sister, Mrs. Clara Johnson of Burwell and a half brother, Virgil Key, along with other relatives, friends and neighbors.

Preceding him in death besides his wife were an infant daughter, Elsie, a sister, Hazel Wettische and half sister, Ruth Johnson.

Differing Views On Project Work Halt

Work on the Calamus or North Loop Project has been halted while a supplement to the project's environmental impact statement is circulated. Project opponents are calling the work stoppage good news while project proponents claim it is holding up progress.

Last week, the Nebraska Water Resources Association appealed to Nebraska Governor J. James Exon to use his influence to allow construction to continue. NWRRA director Jack Ogdard called the work halt "arbitrary and costly".

Opponents' spokesman Bob Stowell has called the work halt "good news".

Robert Klima Buried at Ord

Funeral services were Saturday, September 30, 1978 in Baytown, TX for Robert Klima, 55, who died Sept. 27 at Houston, TX. Additional services were held in Ord, October 3 at the Ord Memorial Chapel in Ord with Rev. Earl Reed officiating at the 2 p.m. rites. Honorary pallbearers were members of the Ord V.F.W. Pallbearers were Dean Misko, Henry Benda, Harold Christensen, Arthur Carlson, James Sich and Lloyd Geveke. Burial was in the Ord City Cemetery.

Robert Lyle Klima was born February 7, 1923 at Ord, the son of Ign and Rebecca Williams Klima. His early life was spent in Ord where he attended school, graduating from the Ord High School in 1941. Bob then entered the U.S. Army Air Corp. during World War II, serving until 1946.

He was united in marriage to Moreen Woods June 14, 1943 at Omaha. They made their home in Baytown, TX with the exception of 10 years, 1963 to 1973, when they lived in Ord and Omaha. Bob was a retired Millrite for the Brown and Root Company. He was also a member of the V.F.W.

Survivors include his wife, Moreen of Baytown, TX; one daughter, Mrs. Jane Clement of Ord; three grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Doris Stasney of Crosby, TX. He was preceded in death by his parents. Memorials may be given in his memory to the Heart Fund.

Corn Harvesting Shows Excellent Quality & Weight

Ord area farmers have started harvesting their share of what the USDA says could be a 6.8 billion bushel corn crop, nationwide. Lloyd Zikmund of the ASCS office in Ord termed area crop quality and weight as excellent.

Corn from irrigated fields has had 24 to 30 percent moisture, he stated, with that from non-irrigated fields reported to be as low as 14 percent.

While yield per acre figures have not been determined yet, Zikmund reported some non-irrigated corn around Arcadia was running 100 bushels per acre. For most fields, however, yield figures are still sketchy and will be computed at a later date.

Most corn now coming in, Zikmund told the Quiz, will be used for wet storage and for feeding hogs and steers for slaughter. He warned of cornborer damage being reported in nearly every field, during the Quiz interview Thursday. Weather conditions in the next few months will, to a large extent, determine the amount of loss the small insects cause. They thrive in damp, cold conditions.

Wheat stands are at best spotty, and need a good rain, he stated.

The area alfalfa harvest is nearing completion and the soybean harvest will be completed very soon.

City Council

(Continued from page 1) across the hall and returned with several pages listing unclaimed utilities deposits. Some, she said, go back to 1914. Persons and businesses like the Cozy Nook, long since departed, made the required payment but never returned for their refund.

After discussion the council inked an interlocal agreement between the city and Omaha. The City of Omaha, under terms of the contract, will act as co-council in the suit filed against the city by Marvin Timmons.

Timmons filed the $253,000 suit in U.S. District Court in Lincoln. He claims former Ord Policeman Terry Barnell broke his jaw and three teeth during an assault in Ord last September.

He further charges other lawmen witnessed the assault but didn't try to stop it.

City Attorney Jensen said he had no idea how much the total bill from lawyers retained by Omaha would be, but did say the lawyers he classified as class four would charge $22.10 an hour and class one lawyers $11.90 an hour for their services.

These charges will be in addition to other costs including 12 cents a mile for any driving involved in the case.

Federal District Court

Jensen revealed he got a call Monday from the lawyer representing the Bituminous Casualty Company of Omaha. The lawyer, according to Jensen, stated he wants the lawsuit between it and the City of Ord moved to Federal District Court.

Omaha has denied coverage existed for the Ord Policemen involved in the Timmons case. The city had a policy with them through the Ord Insurance Agency.

Jensen recently filed suit on behalf of the city against Bituminous in District Court here.

Street Assessments

Councilmen passed a resolution paving a 1/2 mile maximum street as a segment Monday night. Property owners will be charged $22.50 a front foot on streets to be repaved that are 35 feet wide. Streets marked for paving 30 feet wide will cost property owners $19 a front foot, maximum.

Paving costs could be less, according to attorney Jensen. In that case property owners will pay only the actual costs.

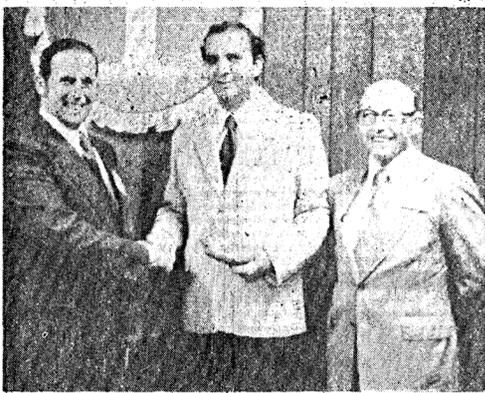

Should costs rise above either maximum amount, the additional required funds would come from the city's general fund.

There will be a public hearing on paving districts 7-12 October 9 in council chambers at City Hall. Past Quiz legal notices have had complete accounts of where these will be. The hearing will start at 7 p.m.

Fifth Floor Senator

Fancy Ringling, daughter of Cleo Ringling of Ord, was recently elected as fifth floor senator at Centennial Towers East at Kearney State College. Some of the many floor senator duties include: conducting dorm floor meetings; keeping dorm residents posted on dorm activities; attending executive board meetings of which the senator automatically becomes a member when elected.

Nancy is a freshman at Kearney State studying political science and journalism.

Liss Among Top Wheeler Managers

At a recent two day company-wide product show and awards banquet held at the holiday Inn Holiday in Kearney, Rich Liss, manager of the Ord Wheelers Store received recognition as one of the top 12 store managers in the company.

Wheelers operates 58 retail stores in the states of Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Georgia and South Carolina.

Liss received the award for managing the outstanding medium size store in this regional area. Categories considered in the competition included sales improvement, profitability and general merchandising practices.

Hil and Run Driver Bashes Railroad Sign-Knocks Garage Off Foundation

A late night joy ride September 19 ended with charges pending against Tim McIntyre, 26, of Wolbach. The Greeley County resident faces charges of leaving the scene of an accident and destruction of property.

Around 11:30 p.m. September 19, a pickup truck knocked over two railroad warning signs just north of 19th and H Streets in Ord and later knocked a garage off its foundation at 1005 North 19th Street here.

The vehicle then left Ord, and was later observed by police in Loup City. After they halted the truck the driver fled on foot.

Around 9:30 the next morning McIntyre turned himself into Ord Police.

Other items included in the police report are a broken glass door panel at Ord High. It was reported September 21. Damage is estimated at $200.

September 22 at 316 North 18th a 1964 Chevrolet pickup driven by Paul Bredthauer and a 1966 Dodge pickup driven by Bryce Buoy collided. The Dodge was headed south on 18th Street and the Dodge truck was backing from a residence.

There was $100 damage to the Chevrolet truck and no apparent damage to the Dodge.

On M Street between 11th and 12th Streets, September 28, a 1972 Ford van struck a bridge and a bridge warning sign. Kevin G. Stevens of Scotia was headed west on M when the right front rim apparently broke causing the vehicle to veer into the bridge.

Damage to the van was estimated at $500. The bridge and sign had $100 damage.

Two persons escaped injury in a car-truck crash in front of the Grand Island School. The car, a 1978 GMC pickup and Marie Cetak of Ord was driving a 1969 Ambassador.

The truck was backing from a parking space and the Ambassador headed west on L when the accident occurred.

There was no apparent damage to the pickup and under $25 to the Ambassador.

A 1973 Chevrolet pickup driven by Brian K. Kirby of Ord was struck by an unknown vehicle near 24th and L September 30. Kirby was headed east on L when another vehicle believed to be a pickup truck struck him in the rear.

There was $200 damage to the truck, and no injuries.

Bolesen Seed reported the theft of two 15 inch tires and rims from his pickup October 1. The truck was parked near 15th and G when the theft occurred. It was reported October 1.

Robert Turek reported the theft of two 15 inch tires and rims from his pickup October 1. The truck was parked on 27th Street just south of Highway 11.

Lightning is believed to have caused a grass fire about four miles west of Vinton School Sunday night. The blaze covered an estimated 25 to 30 acres of land, according to Ord Fire Chief, Ivan Sorenson.

Firemen were called around 11:45 p.m. Sorenson told the Quiz. There were no injuries.

Social Security Agent Coming Here Oct. 17

The social security representative will be in Ord at the Courthouse, on Tuesday, October 17, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

If you work long enough under social security you have disability protection. If you have an accident or illness that keeps you from working for at least a year, you and your family may be able to get monthly social security disability checks.

For answers to questions on social security, telephone the Grand Island Social Security Office, 308-384-1971.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Gydesen were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Peterson.

Dr. Miller to Medical Meeting

Dr. Otis W. Miller of Ord attended the 30th Annual Scientific Assembly of the American Academy of Family Physicians in San Francisco, Sept. 25 through Sept. 28. More than 4,000 family doctors took part in the once-a-year continuing medical education conference.

The rates reflect additional costs incurred by Kansas-Nebraska. These are passed along to the consumer.

The City of Ord avoided a 6.6 cent rate increase per thousand cubic feet of gas. That rate hike, effective September 20, won't involve the city's electrical rates, according to Gene Baugh, City Utilities Commissioner.

City electrical generators burn both natural gas and diesel fuel. Under a lease agreement signed by the city and the Nebraska Public Power District last December, NPPD pays for all fuel used by the city's generating plant, Baugh told the Quiz.

In return NPPD purchases Ord's surplus or off-peak power for use in its state-wide power grid.

Before the agreement was signed raises in fuel costs meant near-automatic rate hikes for Ord residential electrical users.

The present electrical rates, agreed upon by Ord and NPPD officials will be in effect for another two years, according to Baugh.

K-N Rate Hike in Effect October 1

Kansas-Nebraska residential rate increases went into effect October 1, Sunday. Under the new schedule, residential users will pay an additional 14.5 cents per thousand cubic feet of natural gas consumed.

Lu Gibb Included In Outstanding Young Women of America Directory

The Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Women of America Awards program has announced that Lu Gibb of Ord has been selected for inclusion in the 1978 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America.

The Outstanding Young Women of America Program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, in their professions, and in their communities. Accomplishments such as these are the result of dedication, service, and leadership qualities deserving recognition.

This is the goal of the many leading women's organizations, college alumni associates and public officials who nominate deserving young women to participate in the program.

Miss Gibb, along with about 12,000 fellow Outstanding Young Women of America from across the United States will be presented in the annual awards volume. In addition, they are now being considered for one of the 51 state awards to be presented to those women who have made noteworthy contributions in their individual states.

From these 51 state winners the Ten Outstanding Young Women of America will be chosen. The ten winners will be honored at a luncheon in Washington D.C. this fall.

Lu has been with the Ord Public Schools eight years and has taught second grade during that time. "It was my first job," she recalled in a Quiz interview. Miss Gibb came here after graduating from Emporia State College in Emporia, KS in 1970.

A native of Cottonwood Falls, KS she is no stranger to small town living. Her home town, located in the east central part of the state, is about half the size of Ord.

She revealed her aunt and uncle own the Cottonwood Falls newspaper, The Chase County Leader News. Her father is a butcher while her mother works as a school secretary. Out of this varied background, Lu opted for a teaching career.

"I felt I wanted to be a teacher," she recalled, "and felt I had more to contribute as a teacher." In the grocery store she could almost predict what would happen on a given day, she said. Teaching is different, with no two days ever the same, Lu related.

"I guess if I got into anything else it would be working with children," the award winning instructor said. She has had an affinity for working with youngsters a long time. "It's something I really enjoyed," she enthused, "even while babysitting when I was a teenager."

While her interest may have been long-term, the route to channel it wasn't as clear-cut and decided. Lu revealed she changed her major three times after starting classes in Emporia, KS. Initially a business major, she later decided to switch to psychology, and then opted for an "undecided" status as a student.

Her junior year she settled on education as a major, "and I've been with it ever since," she quipped. Asked why she has stayed in teaching these years, and the secret of her enjoyment, Lu remarked, "I believe education is the most important of all professions. Without it, the other professions wouldn't exist."

"No two days are the same," she added, "and this keeps you on your toes."

Recently one of her young students brought some snakes to class. She admitted they were in a glass jar, but confessed she still was squeamish.

She rated kids' remarks as producing some of the outstanding moments in her career. Lu recalled one health lesson dealing with the digestive tract. Included in the lesson plan was the esophagus, the tube through which food passes from the mouth to the stomach.

One young second grader later identified it as the "esnafagus". She speculated his misidentification could be linked to the snafalupagus of Sesame Street fame. The animal with a long trunk is an old friend of Big Bird, another star of the series.

Lu quickly agreed that the media including television does affect youngsters. A children's literature unit, called Star Lore, could be traced to the current movie hit "Star Wars", the teacher stated. "And the kids are really eating it up," she chuckled.

That up-dated literature is offered in connection with the Nebraska ETV network, according to Lu. That relatively recent video tool is used in many classrooms throughout the state.

She was quick to add that "They do a lot of writing, too." Most lesson units combine writing, sewing, and hearing in their strategy.

Her young students are currently learning how to write complete sentences while learning the basics of good grammar. She stated it is a hard, com-

Election Previews —

Pay for State Legislators

Legislative Pay
"Constitutional amendment to provide a per diem and expenses of members of the Legislature to be limited by law."

PURPOSE: Current compensation for members of the Legislature includes salary of $400 a month, reimbursement for one round trip from their district to Lincoln when the Legislature is in session, and expenses for official duties when the Legislature is not in session. Passage of the amendment would permit senators to receive reimbursement for expenses during the session and a daily rate of pay in addition to their salary for days in which they are engaged in official business.

SUPPORT: Backers of the concept say senators' annual salary of $4,800 discourages qualified people from seeking election. The workload, including sessions, interim studies and hearings, is increasing to the point where salaried persons cannot afford the time. Per diem pay rewards the senators who work the hardest. Passage of the amendment would let the Legislature address the question without going to the voters each time.

OPPOSITION: Because voters have traditionally voted against raising legislators' pay in the Constitution, this amendment is

Retirement Systems Amendment

Retirement Systems Amendment
"Constitutional amendment to remove constitutional restriction on the retroactive application of retirement benefits to spouses of public employees."

PURPOSE: Currently, the Constitution allows increases in pension benefits for retired public employees, but it does not specify that the surviving spouses of deceased retired employees may also receive such increases. Passage of the amendment would permit improvements for the widows and widowers of retired employees as well.

SUPPORT: Spouses of public employees who retired in years past should be entitled to benefit increases in the same manner as are employees who survive.

OPPOSITION: Retirees and their spouses are aware of pension rights when they retire and should not be entitled to subsequent increases that weren't funded during their term of employment.

Tech Board Votes to Support Gausman

Meeting in Grand Island September 17, the Central Technical Community College Area Board of Governors voted to go on record in support of Dr. Chester Gausman, area president.

Ken Wortman, at-large member of the board, offered the motion after the Board had voted to discharge a sub-committee, formed in July to investigate Gausman.

Wortman's motion was: "May this Board go on record in support of Dr. Gausman; that we approve of his performance as President of the Central Area; that we believe that he has always conducted the affairs of the Area Office in the best interest of the taxpayers and students; and that we now move along together to continue to develop the Central Technical Community College Area to best serve the citizens."

The resolution passed on a 7 to 1 vote with Wortman, Verne Moseman, Grand Island; Ron Krejci, Schuyler; Robert Schmuelle, Grand Island; Chester Marshall, Kearney; Jerry Norris, Columbus; and Samuel Helman, Lexington, voting in the affirmative. Robert Buckley, of Hastings, passed. Irv Schwartz, Hildreth; Dr. Glen Auble, Ord; and Jerry Jacupke, Hastings, were absent from Monday's meeting in Columbus.

Citing the need to improve communication and better inform the public, the Board approved the formation of three Advisory Councils. The Councils allow for area-wide membership from County Board Representatives; secondary school administrators; and business, industrial, agricultural, and professional practitioners. The Councils will start meeting in October with two Board members present at each of the six meetings scheduled for the year.

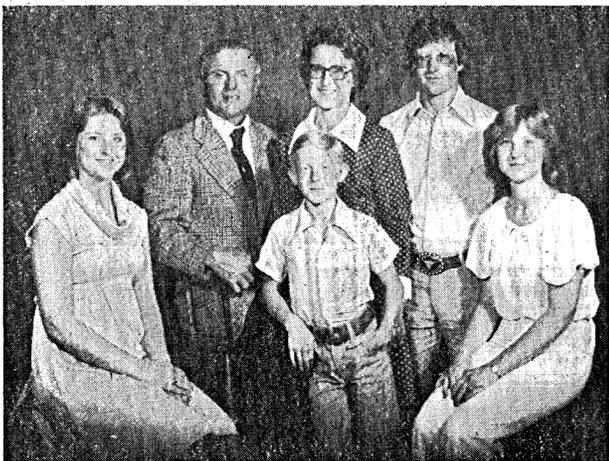

In business matters, the board heard the 1979-80 fiscal year state aid request presented by James Underwood, vice president of Administrative Services. The request is below the 7% lid passed by the special session of the unicameral and will be presented to the legislature in conjunction with requests from the other five technical community college areas. The request totals $8,693,798. The board also directed the area president to begin preliminary steps in negotiations with full-time teaching faculty for next year.

Don Nelson, Administrative Assistant/Instructional Planning, reported the 1977-78 enrollment data to the board. Last year, the Central Technical Community College Area enrolled 18,885 students, 94.3% of whom were residents of the 25-county area the college serves.

In personnel action, the Board accepted the resignation of Leland Preston, accounting instructor at CTC in Hastings at the end of his contract year; and changed the status of Beverly Freudenreich from a permanent part time to full time secretarial instructor at the Grand Island Education Center. The board also adopted a reduction in force policy mandated by the passage of LB 375 during the last legislative session. The law provides for certain procedures in reducing the full time teaching force. The next meeting of the Central Technical Community College Area Board of Governors will be Monday, October 16, in Grand Island.

Stock Growers to Support Beefeferendum

The Nebraska Stock Growers Association has committed themselves to assist in winning approval of a new Beef Research and Information program, said Pat McGinley of Oshkosh, president of the NSGA.

Before the Stock Growers can campaign for a favorable vote on the "Beefeferendum", a new beef order under provisions of the Beef Research and Information Act will have to be written. The National Cattleman's Association (NCA) will act as the catalyst in getting the new proposed Act written.

Under legislation enacted this year, a Beef Research and Information program may be approved by a simple majority rather than the previously required two thirds," said President McGinley. A new order will be issued by USDA following hearings, and cattlemen will then vote on the order in a referendum. If the order is approved, the industry will have a self-help research, information and promotion program financed by a uniform collection plan. No specific timetable has been projected for the order writing and the subsequent referendum.

Representatives from 12 other national organizations and NCA met Sept. 8 in Chicago to plan strategy for promotion of the "Beefeferendum." Each national organization was asked to name a member to the Beefeferendum Advisory Group. This group's responsibility will be to obtain all possible grass roots inputs on a revision of the previous order and then present the proposal to USDA.

After the first phase of writing the order is completed, the Stock Growers will become quite active in seeking a "yes vote" campaign.

Exon May Be Glad His Term Is Ending

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Lincoln — Outgoing Gov. J. James Exon may be glad he is constitutionally limited to serving two four-year terms.

Exon, known for his annual "hold the line on spending" speeches before the Nebraska Legislature, won't be around for another year to haggle with the lawmakers over the state budget requests.

But as the Democratic governor campaigns for the U.S. Senate, state agencies are submitting 1979-80 budget requests that appear to call for sizable budget increases.

The deadline for most budget requests was Sept. 15, and early indications are the state's lawmakers may be faced with some tough budgeting decisions when they return to Lincoln in January.

An early check of budget proposals shows the average request is for an increase of 10.5 percent over current appropriations. That average includes budget requests from 31 of the larger state governmental agencies.

Exon's administration had asked state departments to limit the increases in their budget requests to 5 percent, but it appears some governmental agencies felt the need for larger increases in their pocketbooks.

Among the 31 agencies checked, the state colleges, the University of Nebraska, the prison and court systems and the Natural Resources Commission were leading in requests for additional state tax dollars during the next fiscal year.

The one agency that requested the single largest budget increase among those checked was the Natural Resources Commission, which proposed an $8 million budget for fiscal 1979-80. The commission this year receives a $3 million appropriation.

If the Legislature goes along with the commission's request, the agency would get a nearly 175 percent increase in its state appropriation.

The University of Nebraska, consistently the largest single user of state tax dollars, again has proposed the heaviest budget among those already submitted. UN also has the largest request for an increase in state support — more than $17 million.

Percentage-wise, the university fell below several other agencies in proposed budget increases. The Department of Corrections proposed a 23.1 percent increase in its current appropriation; the university, 16 percent; the state colleges, 23.3 percent; the district courts, 17.3 percent; the Court of Industrial Relations, 76 percent; and of course the nearly 175 percent proposed increase for the Natural Resources Commission.

Although it appears few agencies can stay within the Exon administration's 5 percent increase proposal, salaries may be a key reason why.

A 1978 legislative mandate provides that agencies must base their salary requests on a survey conducted by the state Personnel Department. That meant including an 8.5 percent salary increase in 1979-80 budget requests.

Rural Doctor Bill Discussed.

Dr. Ben Meckel of Burwell, chairman of the Nebraska Rural Health Manpower Commission, expressed disappointment when the state Justice Department found constitutional problems in a bill he said was needed in Nebraska.

Meckel and his commission colleagues are going to try and rectify the problem.

The measure, passed this year, was designed to offer loans to medical students who agreed to practice in areas of the state that are short on doctors.

But the attorney general's office found constitutional problems in the bill because, as written, it appeared to make the loans available to Nebraskans who attend any accredited medical school in the United States.

So, Meckel's commission, during a recent meeting in Lincoln, set out to satisfy the attorney general. One amendment considered by the commission and likely to be before the 1979 Legislature would provide that loans could be offered only to Nebraska residents who attend medical schools at Creighton and Nebraska universities.

The new law was designed to go into effect for the 1978-79 school year and would have provided four-year loans totaling $28,000 each to 10 medical school applicants.

But, until the Legislature rectifies the problems cited by the attorney general's office, the measure cannot be implemented. With luck, however, Meckel's commission hopes to have the bill in shape and ready for implementation during the 1979-80 school year.

Mrs. Maxey Sees Help For Mobile Homes

Sen. Jo Ann Maxey of Lincoln traveled to western Nebraska recently to begin a series of hearings on what she has often termed "burdensome" mobile home taxes.

The Lincoln lawmaker, who spent much of the 1978 legislative session trying to relieve the tax burden on mobile homeowners, appeared optimistic after a hearing in Scottsbluff that relief may in fact be in sight.

"I think it's going to work," said Mrs. Maxey, chairman of an interim legislative subcommittee that is studying mobile home valuation and taxation.

During the 1978 session, she pushed for a new law that enables mobile homeowners to pay their taxes in two installments. She indicated recently that additional legislation may be considered next year to ease the tax situation even more.

During the Scottsbluff hearing, Mrs. Maxey and Sens. Martin Kahle of Kearney and William Nichol of Hastings complained of being overtaxed and unfairly taxed.

Although it may be too soon to speculate on what type of tax legislation will be before the lawmakers next year, Mrs. Maxey has shown a desire to keep digging at the mobile home tax problem until reported inequities are erased and homeowners are content.

Deaths involving motorcycle accidents reached a record 4,082 in 1977 following the repeal of helmet laws in 22 states, the U.S. Department of Transportation reports. In 1976, there were 3,312 motorcycle related highway deaths. During that same period motorcycle registrations increased only one percent.

KERRY ON Vox Pop

— Octoberfest —
Seldom do I do things worth writing about — or so it seems, to me.

Kerry Leggett

The past weekend was different. With a daughter attending school at the Medical Center in Omaha, we'd been included in a mailing to parents urging attendance at an Octoberfest. The festivities were, of course, open to the public in a public relations effort of the Med Center.

Though such activities usually leave me cold, both the special urging of the daughter and the increasing prominence of Omaha as a center of medical development and research caused me to think twice.

"I'll go," I told my wife, and we left Ord Saturday so we wouldn't have to make the trip into Omaha and back the same day.

Coffee and meeting faculty members, are not my favorite thing, either. Nor do I feel comfortable trying to hold a hot styrofoam cup of steaming liquid while I shake hands and smile.

But I made it through that brief session, which was by-passed by the general public. Immediately after lunch — for which I opted to the Hilltop House over the Med Center cafeteria — the full festivities began.

There were Shriners providing train rides and clowns for the youngsters. There were concerts by bands ranging from the Cornhusker Pep Band to the S.A.C. Stage Band to the Union Pacific German Band. And there were free refreshments in the form of pretzels and root beer and coffee and donuts.

There was even a mini-marathon and an art show.

But the main interest seemed to be in the tours of the Med Center.

Wanting to learn as much as possible about the recent advancements in medicine, we selected one of four color-coded tours which you took at your own pace by simply following the colors and the arrows and the programs provided.

Getting the most attention on our "Blue Tour" was a diabetic monkey, "Grandma," the monkey, had been made diabetic by injection over 21 years ago and continues to be observed for long-term complications of diabetes.

There were so many interesting things, I couldn't begin to mention them all in this brief column.

Probably getting most of my attention, though, were the youngsters some mothers had the insight of bringing along. They were getting an education I'd never have dreamed possible!

At one display a stethoscope was being amplified through a battery-operated speaker and youngsters could listen to their own heartbeat and breathing amplified for all to hear.

While those in our group moved on, I paused at the Anatomy display watching three little tykes — ages about three to six — as they marvelled at the slides of actual photos of the growth of the human fetus.

A lady, in charge of the display, patiently showed the youngsters the muscles in the photos — then she showed them the same muscles in their own bodies. She then took a plaster casting and ask the youngsters, "Can you IMAGINE a baby this tiny!"

The children would all grin — then delightedly look into the eyes of the lady explaining human growth through birth.

As I walked away, to find my group, I couldn't help thinking how every child should have this opportunity — and never once fear or wonder "where babies

Dear Vox Pop,
Perhaps you were also a guest at the Ord High School open house last Thursday evening, and enjoyed becoming acquainted with our faculty personnel.

It has been some time since we parents have had the privilege of finding classrooms, listen for buzzers signaling arrival and departure from classes, browsing through texts, and evaluating personally the instructor before us. It was fun. It was a learning experience. It was rewarding, hopefully for the staff and students, as it was for we parents.

We thank you for the opportunity to become better acquainted with those responsible for the education of our youth.

Dear Editor,
Last week I noted that one of the concerns of the Sheriff, reported by the Quiz, was cattle theft.

May I point out that nowhere in the article was there mentioned that any brand investigators were concerned. You can be assured however, that if the owner of those cattle had sold or moved those same cattle without paying the inspection fee, there would have been brand investigators on him (the owner) like buzzards on bones.

The fact is, sadly enough, that the main concern of the brand inspectors and investigators is not to find and return stolen cattle!!!

My experience shows that their main concern is collecting inspection fees, to the tune of millions of dollars per year.

It's a sign of the times.

It will be another year until the next Octoberfest. But I can assure you it's worth the time and drive — for young and old, alike.

The Dance

Voters in this state have had ringside seats to one of the most accomplished political ballets seen in recent years. Gov. J. James Exon has so far danced the light fantastic around the Calamus Project question.

Earlier, he stated he was for the proposed project. Later, he said he had reservations about the irrigation plan. This last announcement came just in time for the primary election last May.

With this stance, of not quite saying yes and maybe no, he artfully wooed both opponents and proponents of the project from both political parties. Political affiliations fell by the wayside, to those involved in the planned irrigation system. The key issue, to them at least, was THE PROJECT.

Exon's luck on prouetting around the subject still continues. When recent appeals for him to intercede with the Interior Department to restart project construction were heard, Exon pointed out the Calamus question was one for federal — not state — authorities.

What is more, he reminded voters there were court cases involved. For these reasons, Exon declined to get involved in this aspect of the affair.

With the election just a month away, Exon has been busy reviewing a recently completed amended environmental impact statement and yet another report on the project. When will this process be completed? No one knows.

While this stance of not quite saying yes and almost saying no infuriates some people, it leaves me breathless, and holds my attention. It is much like watching a skilled surgeon, observing a quick change artist, or hearing an accomplished violinist.

While you may not agree with the methods used, you can't help but applaud the man's political dexterity and wonder just where and when it will end. Because sometime, somewhere, this demonstration of skill will have to end and Exon will have to take a stand.

When this happens, and this political ballet ends, and Exon finally does take a stand on the issue it sure will be interesting.

Until then, I can't help but sit in awe and remark on what a performance he is giving, and what a show!

Granddaughters are such a great experience. We're learning. Firstly there's my dear little Shana Leggett, age 11. She makes lovely grades. Has a beautiful direct gaze, like her dad, Ted. A sincere smile. A willing, eager attitude. How wonderful to meet someone who is happy to greet life. And learning. So many A's!

There's Paul and Mary Ellen Sullivan's little Teresa. She's a sparkly little blonde who is also delighted with life. With books. Her grades rate one or two classrooms above her, all the time, as she dances through every day. Her smile is so infectious, she's much fun. She'd make a great little movie star.

There's Mike and Kate Sullivan's little charmer, Jill, who is the liveliest little doll, so active, so happy. Her very round blue eyes see and learn everything quickly. She responds instantly to suggestions. Nursery rhymes and numbers are no mystery at all. A jigsaw puzzle is no puzzle to her. She will be two soon, October sometime. A dear.

And Julie Leggett has her own pretty doll: a husky, cooing baby who is enjoying the world, seeing everything with big blue eyes.

Come to consider, all these little ladies have pretty blue eyes! (And I always thought I preferred brown eyes! Crazy!) So Kerry has blue eyes. Ted has blue eyes. I must have been wrong!

Even John has blue eyes, although he almost lost one of them last Thursday when pulling seed pods off lilies, and weeding some milkweed tops. A weed head poked him forcefully in the right eye. After several days of swelling and blindness, he was able to wear a black eye patch ("Like Moshe Dyan") as he announced gleefully.

Again I say, how great to be grandparents. All the fun, none of the responsibilities. No bottles, no pants to change, no one to chase or holler at except with love.

For after your children grow up — YOU'VE had your chance. You only get one opportunity, folks. Make certain you follow through when you try to be tough.

Then — enjoy your grandchildren. They are life's dividend to you.

— Irma

New Ord High Curriculum Addition a Real Lifesaver

Ord High students are taking part in a nation-wide program that could save a life in the near future. O.H.S. sophomores enrolled in the school's Biology class are being taught CPR.
 An acronym for cardiopulmonary resuscitation, CPR enables a person to maintain circulation and respiration for an unconscious person until advanced life support systems are available. It has been taught as a regular part of the sophomore biology course for the last two years.
 CPR instructor Karen Johnson estimated that more than 180 O.H.S. students have successfully completed the two-week course. She, along with instructor Jim Blessen, use a life-like resuscitator in teaching students the proper way to maintain a person's breathing and heartbeat, when needed.

 At the close of the two-week session students are given a quiz and asked to demonstrate the correct methods for maintaining a person's life support system.
 As more students complete CPR classes, they will help meet the goal established by the National Heart Association of having one in three Americans capable of administering CPR in an emergency.

Babbles by Bertha

My brother Harry Foth has a birthday Oct. 7. For an early celebration Will and Lillie Foth, Oscar and Lydia Bredthauer of Grand Island, George and I were guests of Harry and Golda for dinner at the Veteran's Club Sunday noon. Then all of us went to Harry and Golda's home for visiting. We saw slides of The Netherlands sent home by their grandson Steve Foth, who is an exchange student in that country and slides of scenic western United States. Edwin and Mildred Lenz and guests Kyle and Dorothy Miller of Lakewood, CO joined us in the afternoon. Golda served birthday cake with a 75 and other decorations, and homemade ice cream to all late in the afternoon.
 A letter from our daughter Kathleen tells us that her Jennifer is now attending New York University in New York City and that Barbara is at Kingwood School at Bloomfield, MI. The same girls' school that Jennifer had attended, and George is sailing the seas and enjoying it. Kathleen is getting pictures ready for two shows to be held in Mexico in November.
 Orel and Elinor Koelling took her father, L. E. Wallford to St. Francis Hospital in Grand Island Sunday. He is in room 206 waiting for surgery. Elinor's mother accompanied them to Grand Island.
 George and I and Beulah Clement attended Mid-Continent Association meetings at the Seventh Day Baptist Church in North Loup during the weekend. John and Ruth Ryschon, Jenny and Ben did too. We were especially glad to see George's cousins, Edwin and June Johnson and Kelly of Kansas City, MO, Dwight and Elsie Ewing of Gering, Mynor and Marian Soper of Arkansas, and other friends of Boulder, Denver and other places.
 My neighbor friend Vera Lange stopped for a chat with me Friday afternoon.
 Grandson Edwin, Dianne and Angie spent the weekend in Kearney with her mother, Mary Aspen and his folks, Don and Phyllis Clement.
 Grandson Victor came up from Kearney Sunday. He had supper with Ed, Dianne and his favorite niece, Angie.
 George spent Sunday evening with George Sperling.
 Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Peterson met Kim and Kurt, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gailey, who brought them to Grand Island

Is our best cropland disappearing? That was a question put to the readers in an article by Dana Olsen, Extension Economist. In his article Olsen said, "Current predictions of record crops tend to divert attention from the long range concern about sufficient cropland. cropland to urban uses, transportation and large water impoundments is a continuing concern. Historically, the influence of these 'irreversible' transfers has been offset by increases in the productivity of the remaining cropland. However, scarce energy, environmental restraints and soil erosion are cited as factors likely to limit opportunities to increase the productivity of agriculture to satisfy growing world-wide needs. Therefore, this description of our cropland is offered to permit readers to take stock of current trends and assess their long term effects."

"USDA estimates reveal an increase in land used for cropland from 333 to 363 million acres from 1969 to 1974, a departure from 1949 to 1969 trends. Strong export demands, and the abandonment of Federal production controls are cited as key factors affecting this reversal.

"A recent Soil Conservation Service (SCS) study, from the 1967-75 period, estimates nearly 80 million acres were taken out of cropland. However, since another 48.7 million acres were converted to cropland a net loss of 35.3 million acres was reported for this period.

"Projected future cropland needs reflect the influence of varied assumptions and the period on which trends are based. One recent USDA report provides two sets of projections — one for moderate and another for high export demands. With a moderate export level, based on 1990 to 1972 conditions, harvested cropland needs were projected at 346 million acres for 1985. In recent years we have experienced higher export demands, environmental constraints, and adverse weather conditions which may further increase the need for cropland. Just one of these factors — increased export demands — increased the projected requirement for harvested cropland to 407 million acres by 1985, 81 million acres above the 326 million cropland acres harvested in 1974.

"SCS has defined prime farmland as land with — the soil quality, growing season and moisture supply needed to economically produce sustained high yields of crops when treated and managed, including water management, according to acceptable farming methods. Critics of the prime farmland standards argued varying cost-price relationships and technological developments should also be taken into account. Irrigation and drainage projects have changed the profitability of farmland once considered unsuitable for crop production.

"The 1975 SCS study classified 384 million acres as prime farmland. However not all of this land is used for crop production nor do all present cropland acres satisfy standards set for prime farm land. According to the 1975 study about 65% of prime farmland was classified as cropland and of the 400 million cropland acres inventoried 62% satisfied standards set for prime farmland.

"With nearly 1 billion acres of noncropland in the U.S., 78.3 million acres were designated as having high potential for further development. The land with high cropland development potential included 62 million acres presently used as pasture and range, 13 million acres as forest and with the remaining 3 million in 'other' land uses. About 45% of the 78 million acres of cropland with high development potential could be classified as having no development problems.

"Irreversible Transfers' is a popularized phrase used when physical or economic barriers seem to prevent the restoration of land to some previous use. It is usually associated with land taken for urbanization, highways and reservoirs.

From what we see happening in the sandhills of Nebraska, we have another form of Irreversible Transfer when large tracts developed by outside interests become unproductive and blow away. I wonder if we will ever be able to restore that grass. More later.

READ 2 CORINTHIANS 9:1-9
"Each one must do as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." (2 Corinthians 9:7 RSV)
A project entitled "The Fellowship of the Least Coin" has reached global dimensions. Thousands of women on every continent from the poorest to the wealthiest have shared together in this fellowship. The project began when an Indian woman, in 1956, saw the need of a world fellowship among women. She asked that each woman set aside a penny each month as a symbol of her membership. The project has cut through racial and religious barriers to promote peace and love.
This spring when our local church womens group pooled our "Least Coin" collection, we had $119.00. Some of the women had given more than a penny a month. The least coin had grown in the hearts of our women.
When Jesus watched the multitudes putting money into the treasury and the poor widow put in a penny, He said to His disciples, "Truly, this poor widow has put in more than all those who are contributing to the treasury. For they all contributed out of their abundance; but she out of her poverty has put in everything she had, her whole living."
PRAYER: Father, help us to remember that how much we give is not the most important thing, but the spirit in which we give it. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
The least becomes the greatest when given cheerfully to God.

Four Paving Districts Get Approval Sans Controversy

There was little fanfare and no controversy Monday when the City Council approved four paving districts following a one-hour public hearing Monday in City Hall.

The eight persons attending the session asked a few routine questions and left early.

The one paving district petitioning out of the original five-district paving plan was district 1978-12. That runs from L to J Street on 23rd, according to Ord Mayor Gaylord Bolesen. Objections to the proposed project were filed at City Hall prior to last Thursday, Bolesen told the Quiz.

The exact cost of the remaining four districts won't be known until bids are opened. That could happen on or before next December, Bolesen speculated.

Charles A. Kemery of Great Plains Engineering and Architecture, the municipal engineer retained by the city, was on hand to answer any questions and discuss future plans with councilmen. He suggested councilmen get input from the public on what they do and don't want when the council drafts their street improvement plans each year. The press, he told councilmen, could play an important part in generating public influence in this area.

Kemery then discussed various items with the council related to paving projects. These included moving cement, tree removal, etc.

Bolesen told the eight persons attending the hearing, "We're down to the point where we've got to make permanent improvements." Councilmen Don Sears remarked drainage problems could be corrected when the city makes permanent paving improvements.

Insurance

Bolesen revealed he met with Elmer Bergman, an Ord insurance agent recently. They reviewed the city's insurance policies. They found things they thought could be eliminated, according to the mayor.

Reduced Costs

He speculated the city could reduce their annual premium by $2,000 on vehicle insurance and other items.

Gogan Tells Chamber Of Hardships Lid Would Bring To Ord's Schools

Dr. Bill Gogan told Ord Chamber members Thursday of the hardships Ord Public Schools would suffer if the Lid Bill is passed in the November election. Speaking at the Ord Elks Club during the Chamber luncheon, the Ord Public Schools Superintendent predicted the five percent budget limit would affect everything from bus transportation to roof repairs.

Basic life adjustment programs, consumer education classes, art, athletics and other curriculum offerings would have to be eliminated or curtailed, the Superintendent predicted.

Using adjectives including "strangling" and "devastating," Dr. Gogan gloomily stated that should the lid get voter approval in November, Ord Schools would be able to provide only 60 percent of the courses and services they now have in ten years.

A successful petition drive put the five percent maximum budget ceiling for local governmental entities on the November ballot. Proponents claim it would save tax dollars and curtail spending.

Those opposing the measure predict the decline and fall of most services offered by schools, city councils, and other city and county governmental entities.

Dr. Gogan maintained it would require a 4/5 vote of State Senators to remove or change the proposed constitutional amendment.

Calling the lid proposal bill "a mistake," Dr. Gogan urged those present to oppose the measure. He maintained school officials have worked years for Ord to have what he called "an outstanding school system." This would suffer, he stated, if the lid measure is passed.

Marilyn Fowler

Democratic Congressional hopeful Marilyn Fowler was another speaker at the Chamber luncheon. Candidate from the Third District, she revealed she hadn't planned to run for office until six or eight months ago. Her experiences since then have been almost a college education, "in her words."

She felt frustrated, she related, knowing something was wrong with farmers' rate of return on their investment. This feeling ultimately ended in her running for office.

She has had to "dig and dig and dig," she said to get information on this issue and other problems. Specifically mentioned with the MX missile site. Places in Nebraska, Fowler claimed, could be possible missile sites.

Fowler flatly refuted remarks she attributed to Congresswoman Virginia Smith that Nebraska's chances of having a missile site here are "as dead as a dodo."

The federal government is considering Nebraska because both power and water are readily available, according to the candidate. She called the state "prime territory..." for this and other military projects.

The candidate concluded her remarks by stating political in-

Fire Safety Speaker Scheduled October 17

Ord Public School students and the public will hear experience talking when Larry Lavine lectures on fire safety October 17. The Spearfish, SD resident was burned severely in an industrial accident. According to Duane Carson, Lavine was standing near where a huge propane gas explosion took place.

Ord Elementary and High School students will hear his safety message October 17. A meeting open to the public is scheduled for 8 p.m. that night in the Ord Elementary School.

His visit is sponsored by the Ord Volunteer Fire Department in conjunction with National Fire Safety Week, according to Carson, an Ord fireman.

Ord Ed Board Drafts Resolution Opposing Proposed State Lid Bill

The Ord School Board went on record as being against the Lid measure during their meeting at Ord High Monday night. The board adopted a formal resolution stating, "The Ord Board of Education is opposed to Initiative Measure 302 because it takes local control away and gives it to state and federal governments, it becomes a constitutional law which is most difficult to change as problems arise, it will not allow money for emergencies such as roof and boiler repair, and a 5% limit on spending in an 8% inflationary period will eventually strangle most local governments."

The rationale behind their purpose, according to a written statement, was that the purpose of a local board of education is to establish a program of learning to meet the needs of the children. The limitation of funding will limit the ability of a board of education to fulfill its purpose and will erode the control necessary to function as a governing board.

The board, according to the written statement, will continue to look carefully at its spending as it has in the past.

The ed board adopted their resolution after an hour of debate between lid advocates and opponents, during the meeting Monday, J. H. Schroder was one of the few lid proponents at the session. Between 20 to 30 teachers showed up to voice opposition to the pending measure.

In Other Business

In other business, the board gave permission for State Farm insurance to hike building replacement policy coverage eight percent. Bill French, State Farm representative, suggested the move to counter inflation rates.

Condon Shostrom was given permission to attend Ord Public Schools with payment of tuition. From Polk, he is living with his aunt and uncle here, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christensen.

A policy statement covering the superintendent's paid three-week vacation was reworded. The policy's effect wasn't changed.

NPPD Meeting Attracts SRO Crowd At Comstock

It was standing room only in the Comstock Community Hall Wednesday night. Members of the Nebraska Public Power District conducted a public information meeting explaining the proposed generating plant to be located in the Comstock area.

Ron Bogus

Ron Bogus, Public Information Manager with NPPD, opened the session by explaining NPPD is a quasi-public organization governed by an 11 man board. Director for this area, he said, is Henry Kausman of Scottsbluff.

NPPD serves 85 of the state's 93 counties, according to Bogus. Some 760,000 Nebraskans depend on NPPD in whole or in part for their electrical energy. The District operates an integrated electric utility system including facilities for generation, transmission, and distribution of electric power and energy at wholesale and retail rates, Bogus told the crowd.

Larry Kuncel

Assistant General Manager Larry Kuncel next told of the type of plant the Comstock facility will be, the need for the plant and why this location was picked. He outlined a schedule calling for the plant to be operational by 1986. Should the plant, to take four years to construct, be operational before the target date, NPPD will use the generated power or sell it to one of their many out-state users.

The Comstock plant will be coal fired, according to Kuncel. Low-sulphur coal will be pulverized and blown into a flame. The resulting heat will fire a boiler, creating steam that will turn a turbine connected to a generator.

A 100 car unit train will bring coal to the plant site two to three times a week, he said.

According to Kuncel the plant will "cycle." That is, it will run more at peak demand periods and at a slower rate when electrical demands are slack.

Who Needs It?

The plant Kuncel said, is needed to meet a steadily increasing electrical demand. He showed a chart illustrating Nebraska's projected electrical energy needs. A red line, beginning in 1978 with 1,800 megawatts and ending in 1991 with a 4,000 megawatt projected load, sloped steadily upward.

"Now someplace out here," he said, gesturing past the 1986 date, "we will have to have another plant." NPPD predicts an electrical demand of 3,000 megawatts in 1986.

The Comstock area was selected as a plant site because NPPD wanted to be near the western part of the state. Electrical demands are steadily increasing there, he said. Other factors influencing the NPPD directors in a site selection study are water supply, water quality, the lay of the land, wind direction and force, the area's geological foundation, and other factors.

Three years ago, according to Kuncel, NPPD and the Omaha Public Power District agreed to build a nuclear power plant at Fort Calhoun, north of Omaha. When that agreement collapsed, NPPD began looking for another plant site.

Their search ended with the selection of the Comstock site one-half mile west of town. However, another alternate plant site northwest of Comstock about midway between that town and Sargent, is now being considered.

The alternate site was researched at the suggestion of

Arcadia Homecoming Royalty Is Revealed

Miss Melea Sullivan was crowned Arcadia High Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies at the Arcadia-Spalding Academy football game Friday. The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sullivan, Melea plans to become a dentist.

Named king was Paul Hill son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hill of Arcadia. Mick Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson was named king's attendant and Denise Luedtke was attendant to the queen. Denise is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Luedtke.

The homecoming royalty and court were picked by a student vote held last week. Competition was open to all senior girls, and to senior boys playing on the Arcadia High football team.

Queen Selected

The 1978 Homecoming queen was picked by students from a field of six candidates. They were Melea Sullivan, Carol VanSlyke, Denise Luedtke, Betty Hunt, Cindy Wagoner and Terressa Steinke.

Injury Is Avoided In One Truck Crash

A driver narrowly escaped serious injury in a grinding one-car crash one and a half miles southeast of Ord on Highway 11 Thursday. The impact on the 1978 Chevrolet pickup driven by Larry James pushed the front wheels up into the cab near where the driver usually sits.

The truck was going north when it ran off the left side of the road, smashed through a fence, and came to a stop on an embankment. James was taken to Valley County Hospital with sprains, cuts, and abrasions.

According to Valley County Sheriff Martin Sonnenfeld, Burton Winchester discovered the accident when passing by around 6 a.m.

Sonnenfeld estimated damages at over $2,000.

Trailer Park Being Built Near Burwell

Kearney developer A. E. "Pete" Bartusek has recently started construction on a ten stall trailer park near Burwell. A former Burwell area resident, Bartusek said his enterprise is aimed at residents coming to the Ord area working on the long planned Calamus Dam.

Bartusek said all mobile home stalls will have sewage along with electricity and natural gas hook-ups.

County-State Candidates Express Views At Forum

County and state candidates squared off Thursday during a public forum at the Ord Veterans Club. Present were office seekers for county level positions, school board hopefuls, and Congressional candidate Marilyn Fowler.

The meeting opened with each of the county and ed board candidates giving a brief resume of their experience and past history. Those responding were:

—Thelma Dulitz, incumbent county clerk, Republican. She has held that office for the last several years. She plans to run on the basis of her past experience, she said.

—Ron Radil, candidate for the County Clerk's office, Democrat. This is his first try for an elective office, "Radil remarked. He said he's "having fun" being a candidate.

—Sharon Foth, County Treasurer incumbent, Republican. During her eight years in office her work load has increased considerably, Sharon told the audience. When she first started, there were 5,500 cars registered. Now that number has grown to 7,000. Many other duties have been assigned her office in that time, she said.

—G. H. Woody Woodgate, Republican candidate for County Sheriff. Woodgate told the audience he has 15 years experience in law enforcement. This has included work as a game warden for the state, his present job as a criminal justice planner, and he has also served on the Fremont police force.

—Martin Sonnenfeld, Valley County Sheriff, Democrat. Sonnenfeld stated that when he was first elected four years ago, some people wondered if a younger person could do the job. Since then, Sonnenfeld said, he feels confident he has shown a person with vitality can do the job.

He said there has been "a big change..." between the way things are now and the way they were when he first came into office.

During these last four years Sonnenfeld said he has completed many programs and schools related to law enforcement.

Bob Swenson, incumbent County Assessor, Republican. He admitted it is "real difficult" to treat everyone impartially, but that he had tried to do just that. He felt Valley County would come away from the current reassessment with more equality for everyone.

School Board

Three school board candidates were on hand Thursday. They were:

—Karen Zaruba. About one

Wildcat Homecoming Royalty Is Revealed

Bernard Ketchmark and Shirley Cadek were named Homecoming royalty in ceremonies Friday at Scotia following the North Loup-Scotia-Litchfield football game. Bernard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ketchmark. Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lumir Cadek.

Named prince and princess of the homecoming court were Craig Gydesen and Reba Ackles. Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Gydesen, while Reba is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ackles.

Selection of the homecoming royalty, was done by a vote of the North Loup-Scotia High School student body earlier this month. The votes were in and tabulated prior to the game. The identity of top vote getters was kept a secret until homecoming ceremonies Friday on the Wildcat playing field.

Qualifications for the candidates were that the king had to be a senior boy on the North Loup-Scotia football team. Members of the North Loup-Scotia Spirit Club tabbed four senior girls as queen candidates. They were Sharon Kriewald, Shirley Cadek, Chris Dutcher, and Reba Ackles.

The crowning Friday night capped Spirit Week activities designed to fire up the school spirit and set the stage for the ceremonies Friday.

Shirley Cadek

Shirley Cadek, the new queen, lists her interests as hiking, bike riding, singing and playing on the volleyball team. She is vice president of the senior class.

Sophomore attendants to the Homecoming court were Rene Ackles and Ransom Sperling. Karen Jensen and Kevin Sheldon were Junior attendants to the North Loup-Scotia homecoming court.

Heather VanHorn and Brandon Hamer were Kindergarten assistants.

Artissimos Sponsor Exhibits, Workshop

On October 7, the Loup Valley Artissimos in cooperation with the Ord High Art Department set up an art display at the high school for the enjoyment of the audience of the Hastings Civic Symphony. Committee members responsible for the show were Julie Noyes, Shirley McClure, Evelyn Jackson, Rod Adams, Connie Myers and Betty Jo Axthelm.

People exhibiting were Michele

Nelson, Golda Needham, Connie Myers, Rod Adams, Julie Noyes, Cathy Carlson, Mary Ann Bonne, Shirley McClure, Zola Schudel, Evelyn Jackson, Cinda Jensen, Doris Cronin and Betty Jo Axthelm.

Julie Noyes arranged a workshop on October 7 at Parkview for the Loup Valley Artissimos and other area artists. The instructor of the all day workshop was Pam Eb who has a studio in Omaha. She instructed artists in using acrylics and collage on mat board, illustration board, masonite and canvas. The workshop was attended by 22 artists from Ord, Burwell and Albion.

An Art exhibit sponsored by the Loup Valley Artissimos was set up at the Elk's Club on October 10 for the Cultural Arts District Meeting of the Extension Service. The exhibit was viewed by 150 women from nine counties in the central area of Nebraska.

Committee members responsible for setting up the show were Julie Noyes, Connie Myers, Shirley McClure and Betty Jo Axthelm.

Let's talk about Initiative Measure 302, better known as the 5% spending lid bill.

Local education associations were the first to fight it. Then the Nebraska League of Municipalities went on the record against it. Last week, Hastings mayor Robert Allen, an initial supporter of the lid amendment, announced he believes the amendment "would disrupt our local government" and admitted he signed the petition without really reading it. (Source: Omaha World-Herald, Oct. 5, 1978.)

More recently, 60% of the candidates assembled at the Candidate Open Forum Oct. 5 in Ord said they opposed the lid, and now the Ord Board of Education has voiced its disapproval.

Why are so many people admitting their opposition of the 5% spending lid bill? Perhaps they've taken a closer look at the confining provisions of the bill, or perhaps they've looked beyond 302, and have realized the consequences it presents. Most likely, though, they are now more informed of the facts of measure 302, and those facts have them scared.

FACT: The 5% spending lid bill takes away local control and gives it to the state. FACT: The lid allows for no increase greater than 5% of a current budget, yet the latest government statistics show double-digit inflation ranging annually between 10 and 12.8%. (Source: Newsweek — May 29, 1978.)

FACT: The 5% spending lid will not affect leading inflationary indicators. The annual price rise for food over the counter is up 13.6%; for fuel oil and coal up 19.2%; for public transportation up 10%; for medical care up 10.1%; for gas and electricity up 11.4%; and for construction costs up 14%. All of these represent areas over which the 5% spending lid bill would have no control, yet all represent increased costs local political subdivisions must pay for, or suffer the cutbacks in service. (Source: U.S. News and World Report — Aug. 22, 1978.)

FACT: Had the 5% spending lid been imposed just five years ago, more than $241,000 in accumulative educational benefits would have been cut from the Ord Public Schools' current curriculum offerings. Should the lid measure pass in November, that total would be even higher due to the rate of inflation.

Mind you, these aren't scary facts. And the fact is, most people who support Initiative Measure 302 probably don't know all they're giving away with a "yes" vote on Nov. 7.

If you'd like to know all the facts before stepping into the polling booth next month, if you'd like to know why so many people are changing their minds and voicing their opposition, please join our local community committee to educate the voters of Valley County on the lid bill issue. Interested persons can contact me at my home phone number 728-5442 most evenings.

Let's not give away things we might never get back. Vote "no" on 302.

Sincerely,
Jim Sejevic, Chairman
Of the Ord Anti-Lid Com.

Five Girls Receive First Class Award

Lori Van Winkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Van Winkle, Becky Spilnek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spilnek, Dianne Klimek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Klimek, Dana Moudry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Moudry, and Vicki Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Riley, received the First Class Girl Scout Award, the highest award in Girl Scouting, Monday evening at a banquet and ceremony held in their honor.

The evening began with a welcome by Dianne Klimek and an inspirational prayer and poem by Lori Van Winkle. Those present enjoyed a pot luck supper by candlelight and entertainment by Connie Ballou.

A candlelight ceremony was performed by the First Class Scouts and other troop members. The First Class Scouts and their parents were presented with the awards the girls had achieved.

The girls devoted many hours of effort over a two-year period preparing for this achievement. The First Class Girl Scout Award is equivalent to the Boy Scout Eagle Scout Award. The First Class Award is a very difficult award to accomplish. In the last five years only three other girls have achieved this honor. The girls will now move on to the level of Senior Scouts and continue to use what they have learned as guidelines in their lives.

Leaders, Cheri Klimek, and Julie Noyes were honored by the girls and presented white roses.

Members of the troop are Marie Wadas, Dea Dee Dubas, Regina Rogers, Dianne Klimek, Vicki Riley, Lori Van Winkle, Dana Moudry, Becky Spilnek, Roberta Barta, Jeannie Severance, Kim Wadas, and Barbara Green. Any girl between grades 7 and 12 who is interested in Scouting is encouraged to attend one of our meetings. For more information, please contact Cheri Klimek or Julie Noyes.

Scout Leader Training Sessions Are Planned

There will be a Scout leaders training conference in Ord October 18. The training sessions will be held in the basement of the First National Bank.

From 1-3 and again from 3-5 p.m. there will be sessions for Cub Scout leaders. From 7-10 p.m. there will be a Boy Scout leadership training session.

Den Leaders, Cub Masters, Assistant Scout Masters, and others of authority in the scouting program are scheduled to participate.

Included will be topics like Pack and Den Administration, Program Planning, Troop Meeting Plans, and other related topics. For further information contact Chris Larson in Grand Island, 382-3717.

NEWSPAPER'S USE — UNLIMITED... This is National Newspaper Week. The value of a newspaper is almost unlimited...
 Just think of the many ways in which a newspaper can be used. A number of examples come to mind instantly:
 ... Lining garbage pails, shelves, drawers.
 ... Providing the dog with on-the-floor facilities.
 ... Starting a fire. If you roll it up, tie it, soak it with water, and let it dry, you can also make a good log for the fireplace.
 ... Swatting bugs, flies and other undersirables.
 ... Covering rugs and floors after waxing or cleaning.
 ... Making spitballs, particularly a good passtime for the younger set.
 ... Covering objects that you don't want the neighbors to see in your garbage can.
 ... Tearing and shredding it for canary, mice and hamster cages.
 ... Making airplanes, gliders and boats.
 ... Creating funny hats for parties.
 ... Stuffing glassware and other breakables for crating when you move to another home.
 ... Using it as drop cloths when painting the ceiling or shining shoes, or for protecting when replacing a light bulb demands you stand on a clean table or chair.
 There are a great variety of uses for the newspaper and you can probably add to the list... Oh, yes, there is one other use: you can read it.

Central City Bison Defeat Ord Chants

FIRST DOWN — Kevin Valla (20) scrambles for a first down.

The Ord High Chants were trampled by Central City Bison 34-6 Friday in Ord. The top-ranked Bison outplayed, out-ran, and out-scored Ord.

Central displayed their prowess after receiving the opening kickoff. The Bison launched a drive that ran from their 35 to the Ord 20. Ord took over after Central ran out of downs, but couldn't move the ball past their 26 before kicking it away.

Central took the ball near their 48 and then the Ord 43 before fumbling. Ord recovered, but a stiff Bison defense held them at the Central 44.

Central turned Ord's punt into touchdown material, their first score of the game. Starting on their 30, they steadily moved to the Ord 42 and then the 38. Back Kevin Wilson ran it in. Central couldn't make good on the extra point with 35 seconds left in the first quarter.

Second quarter play opened with a big run by Mark Novosad to inside the Central 5. A hand-off to Valla and the ball went to the 1. Hoppes on a quarterback sneak, put Ord on the board. The extra point was no good, and the score was tied 6-6.

Key players Jeff Wolf and Cohen Hoppes were injured in the Central T.D. drive. Both reportedly had broken legs. Their absence could be critical when Ord faces Central Catholic at Grand Island.

More on their injuries elsewhere in this Quiz. Central's lead jumped again when runs got them the ball near the Ord 15. Trueblood passed into the end zone and central was in front 22-6 with the extra points bonus.

Second Half
The second half opened with Pelton running near the Ord 37 for a first and ten. He was

Ord Runners Ranked Eighth

Ord cross country runners placed seventh in the Central 10 meet Friday and had one man ranked third in individual competition. The meet, held at Central City, included teams from Grand Island Northwest, York, Aurora, Albion, Central City, Seward, Ord, and Crete.

Ord was seventh with 131 points. Seward with 127 was sixth and Crete with 171 was ranked eighth.

Greg Linke was third in individual competition at the Central 10 meet. His time was 13:08. Other individual results were:

- Kyle Novosad ranked 13th with a time of 13:46.
  - Bob Rasmussen ranked 19th with a time of 13:55.
  - John Scheidegger ranked 46th with a time of 15:29.
  - Neil Carson ranked 50th with a time of 16:01.
  - Tom Papiernik ranked 52nd with a time of 17:03.
- Team results were as follows:
- 1. Grand Island Northwest 60 points.
  - 2. York 62 points.
  - 3. Aurora 80 points.
  - 4. Albion 119 points.
  - 5. Central City 126 points.
  - 6. Seward 127 points.
  - 7. Ord 131 points.
  - 8. Crete 171 points.

Varsity Spikers Split 2 Games

The varsity Ord volleyball team split a pair of games, October 3, they trounced Burwell 15-7 and 15-11. On October 5 they bowed to Albion in two out of three sets.

Host Albion took Ord with scores of 15-10, 15-8 (Ord's win), and 15-10. Coach Jan Weber called the game, "A good match between two hard spiking teams."

Ord had difficulty in getting an attack set up, under Albion's skilled ball handling. This resulted in Ord players having trouble playing their own positions and communicating.

Ord came back after the first game and beat Albion 15-8.

In the third game, varsity coach Jan Weber recalled, "Ord might have had some momentum, but we missed several serves in the final game. I feel they made the difference in the match."

Barb Kittle had some fine spikes, 18 out of 20 attempts and 11 ace spikes. Mason added five more ace spikes. Brass and Mason rounded out Ord's attack with their serving consistency.

Mason had 17 out of 18 and Brass had 16 out of 17.

Ord-Burwell
Ord sacked guests Burwell October 3 15-7 and 15-11. High points maker was Shari Fox with 18 points.

Despite the win Coach Weber said she wasn't pleased with the Ord girls playing. According to her, Ord had difficulty with Burwell's serve receiving. They Ord had an efficiency rating of 54 percent, not high enough to suit Weber.

Other items she listed included several occasions when the ball went up in the air but wasn't directed at Ord's front row. This and other difficulties hampered Ord's attack.

The girls didn't seem to be mentally into the game. Weber terback broke his arm. Central's losses include Gothenburg, Grand Island Northwest, and Central City. They have beat St. Paul and Broken Bow.

Shamrocks-Huskies Baffle to a 14 Tie

The Arcadia Huskies battled the Spalding Shamrocks to a 14-14 tie Friday night. Two blocked punts gave host Huskies their touchdowns. These came in the second and fourth quarters.

Spalding got on the board just two minutes into the game. Dave Rankins ran 40 yards setting up their first scoring opportunity of the evening. One play later Nick Nordhus bulldozed his way in from the 10 yard line.

Arcadia got on the board in second quarter action when Doug Cox blocked a punt at the Spalding 10. Mick Anderson recovered the ball in the end zone, tying the game 6-6.

Spalding came back when, in the third quarter, Pat Fairbanks picked off an Arcadia pass near the Huskie 21 and ran it in for the Shamrock's second score of the night. Their two point conversion was good.

Next up, John Cox sneaked his way into the end zone for a two-yard touchdown play. Paul Hill set that score up when he knocked down a punt near the 25-yard line. Cox ran for two points.

Arcadia's record is now 1-3-1. Next week, they face Elba at Elba. The Blue Jays are 1-5 for the season.

Reserves Nail Broken Bow 25-6

Ord reserves nailed the Broken Bow football team 25-6 here Monday, October 2. Ord ended the first quarter with seven points and stretched their lead to 19 at the half. At the end of third quarter play, Ord was out in front with 25 points.

Broken Bow managed to score six in the third period.

Ord's Kevin Sich ran a sweep covering 38 yards for Ord's first score. Jim Kallhoff's kick was good, and Ord was up 7-0.

Brian Petska, who turned in a hard evening of running, went off-tackle 31 yards in the second stanza for Ord's TD number two. The PAT was short, but Ord still had a 13-0 edge.

Later in that same period, Barry Witherwax connected on a long, long 75 yard pass to Randy David. David sprinted to the two. Brian Petska plowed his way into the end zone for Ord's third score of the game.

Bow kicked to start the second half, setting the stage for Ord's touchdown number three. That came on a 105 yard kickoff return by Larry Sears.

Offensively, Brian Petska ran as well as any Ord back this year, according to reserve coach Al Cudly. He credited Barry Witherwax with doing a grand job of mixing the plays, and Kevin Sich for being effective as was the entire line.

Defensively, Bob Beran, Rod Ostrander, John Dworak, Kris Kremke, and Mike Blaha led the defensive stats", Cudly revealed Monday.

The win makes the Ord reserves 3-0 for the season. Their final game will be October 16 at O'Neill.

Third Time A Charm

Third time a charm is a proverb that could apply to the Ord seventh and eighth grade football team. After losses to Grand Island Northwest and Central Catholic, they came up with a beautiful 14-0 win over Burwell October 3.

The old story of all defense but no offense was rewritten and the team got a new luster. During games against Central and Northwest, the players were bugged by penalties when they got their offensive act together.

Tuesday that disappeared. Martin Rodriguez had a long run setting up a near-perfect touchdown situation for Shawn Sich. Sich took it in on a short nose dive play from inside the five.

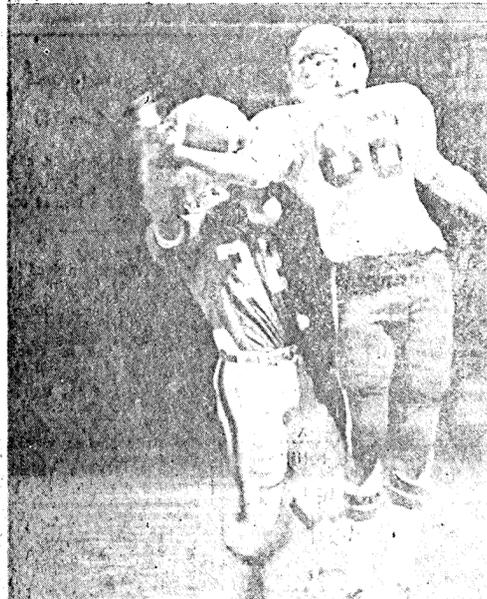

Martin scored the two extra points giving Ord an 8-0 edge in the first quarter.

Ord's other score came on a 15 yard run by Chuck Meese in the same period.

The win was a sharp change from the Grand Island game September 19. Guest Ord came home with a 20-0 defeat. Northwest scored all their points in the first half.

Coach Lon Bartholomew credited the Ord kids with playing a good game of defense.

He said the kids showed more offense than they had previously and controlled the ball better than they had previously.

NEAR INTERCEPTION — Dave Connor (32) almost snares an interception from Gregg Stephens (86) in first quarter action.

NL-S Wildcats Rip Litchfield Friday

North Loup-Scotia Wildcats romped over visiting Litchfield Trojans 82-6 Friday. Guest Trojans scored their lone touchdown against the fourth string squad with less than 10 seconds left in the game.

Their two point conversion attempt flopped. North Loup, then took the ball and rumbled it down the throat one more time. Kent Jorgensen made a long distance run from the Wildcat 30. Kevin Sheldon went in for two points with one second left on the clock.

North Loup led 25-0 when the first quarter ended. By halftime, they were in front 47-0. The last two quarters added insult to injury. There was no way the Trojans could catch up.

The game was a long nightmare for Litchfield coach Dale Blumhorst. He watched from the sidelines as the Wildcats recovered fumbles, snared interceptions, and kept scoring, and scoring. In the third quarter, North Loup-Scotia Wildcats added another touchdown to their lopsided edge in the third quarter. As the game wore on Wildcat coach Dennis Butts sent in substitutions in groups of two, then three, and finally, four players at a time. An often heard question was Butts asking, "Anyone who hasn't played yet?" A locker room interview had to wait until Butts went to the showers on his players' shoulders. Emerging wet but happy, he said, "These kind of nights come few and far between. The kids played like they are capable of playing."

Friday's win capped homecoming festivities and gave North Loup-Scotia a 3-2 record. Litchfield is 0-6 for the season.

Reserve Spikers Whip 'Bow-Albion

Ord reserve spikers made their record 8-1 with wins over Burwell and Albion last week. They were 6-1 going into the Burwell game Tuesday.

They won that handily with scores of 15-4 and 15-0. A third game was scheduled so that all players could get some time on the court. The Ord girls took that one 15-13.

Leading server at Burwell was Anne Smith with 18 points. Ord coach Angie Batenhorst called the match "A fine performance." The girls had a good attack and a serve receive to match, she told the Quiz. In the second set, Ord blitzed Burwell 15-0. Anne Smith served up 14 consecutive points in that short, five-minute match.

Thursday, the girls boosted their record to 8-1 by whipping Albion in two out of three sets. Ord was victorious 15-6, 11-15, and 15-12.

Leading server was Cindy Kaminard with 8 points. Coach Batenhorst called the match "a close game with a previously unbeaten team."

Sue Sevenker had an 83.3 percent serve receive and Peg Kramer had 75 percent statistics in the same department. Defense and efficiency statistics were as follows: 75 percent for Amy Gibbons, 62.5 percent for Julie Schiedeler, 61.5 percent for Kathy Hansen.

The girls next game is here Thursday, October 12 against Broken Bow.

St. Paul Takes Ord Reserves 8-6

Ord reserves were defeated by visiting St. Paul 8-6 in a close match here Monday. Ord was ahead 6-0 at the end of the third quarter, but a fumble at the St. Paul 38 changed that.

The first half was scoreless and St. Paul held Ord on the ground game. Most yardage gained came via the aerial route.

Ord used a balanced run-pass attack in the third quarter to their advantage. Midway through the third period, this point, Kris Kreunke hit Kevin Sich in a fair pass.

That dreaded fumble came midway through the fourth quarter. St. Paul then took the ball at their 38 and marched to the Ord two yard stripe, first and goal. The Ord defense dug in and held for three downs. On the fourth Mayberry scored.

Next Monday Ord reserves

close out their season with a game at O'Neill.

Monday's loss gives the Chant understudies a 3-1 record for the season.

Frosh Spike Squad Ends Season With Back to Back Wins

The Ord High freshmen volleyball team concluded their season Thursday, October 5, by downing Albion with twin scores of 15-7. Tuesday, October 3, the girls defeated Burwell 15-8 and 15-8, ending their season with back-to-back wins.

The frosh spikers' final record is seven wins and two losses. Coach Tom Rhodes said, "It is a season the girls can be proud of and look back on with a sense of accomplishment."

Highlights of the last two games included:

— Some very good defensive play.

— Fine serve receiving.

— The team moving well and helping each other out.

— Good communication.

"The girls were very enthusiastic and wanted to win their last two games", Rhodes told the Quiz.

Freshman spiker squad members were Tammy Sears, Deb Meese, Diane Dworak, Janine Putzreba, Mary Novosad, Susan Penas, Ellen Kusek, Kathy Hornickel, Jane Bosworth, Chris Finley, Lisa Sears, and Nancy Hartman.

Peterson Is 'Lope Player of the Week

Doug Peterson, Ord senior, and Tony Caputo, Worcester, MA sophomore, have been named Antelope Players of the Week for their play in last week's game against Pittsburg State.

Peterson, the middle guard, had his best game of the season, defensive coach Terry Renner reports. He effectively stopped the Gorilla running up the middle, forcing them to run outside. He was an Honorable Mention All-America player last fall.

Town Spikers Take Arcadia

The Ord town volleyball team won their season opening game last week by downing Arcadia in three out of four sets. The scores were 4-3 (Arcadia) and 15-2, 15-9, 15-3 for Ord.

The girls appeared nervous the first game, spiker coach Geri Warford told the Quiz, but they then settled down and took the next four sets. High scorers were Marcia Klimek and Judy Gottlob. They play in Burwell Tuesday, October 17 at 8 p.m.

NPPD Meeting

demands would be 6,000 gallons a minute.
Another important study was what effect the project would have on those living and working in the project area. He revealed 900 to 1,000 workers will be working on the plant when construction peaks. The man working most closely with this study is Robert Shively, Director of Energy Applications, Dr. Sloth announced.

Robert Shively
Shively admitted there would be both positive and negative factors when the project gets going. On the plus side of the ledger he mentioned increasing bank deposits, more job opportunities, and average incomes could likely rise. Negative aspects he listed included housing shortages, crowded recreational facilities, greater law enforcement problems, and area employers losing help to better paying jobs.

Helping ease these problems, NPPD is working on a series of studies and pledged to meet with area government officials, law enforcement officers, etc.
NPPD projections call for construction to be broken down into three phases. The first, the pre-construction phase, will last until the spring of 1982 when building starts.

The second phase will last until the summer of 1985 or 1986 when construction is completed. This second phase will undoubtedly have the greatest impact on Comstock and the surrounding area, Shively predicted.
The third, or post construction phase, will then start when the 90 permanent workers move into the area and construction work halts.

Further studies and projections will likely take an additional six months, according to Shively. When completed, they will help ease the strain on area residents and resources when the Comstock plant is built.
After closing remarks and a summary by Ron Bogus, the panel opened the meeting to a question and answer period. Some of the questions asked included:

— Why didn't you plan to build a nuclear plant here, like the one once planned in Fort Calhoun?
A nuclear plant takes 12 years to complete vs. seven years for a coal fired plant, bringing in materials would be more difficult and the ground foundation must be extremely solid.

— How many local workers will be used? Many outside workers having specialized skills will be needed, but local help will be used whenever possible.
— I'm worried about pollution and the formation of acid rains, etc. Filters, scrubbers, etc. will remove most pollutants from plant smokestacks.

Pam Roth then went into a diatribe against NPPD, industry, etc. dealing with pollution, nuclear waste, the incidence of cancer for those living near a coal-fired power plant, etc. etc.
— What if power demands fall short of your projections? We can sell it outstate. There is a demand for power all over the nation.

— How much water will you be pumping? About 6,000 gallons a minute. This won't affect the ground water recharge rate. It is the same as about half a dozen irrigation wells, according to NPPD studies.
— How far apart would these wells be spaced? We don't know yet.

— Will they affect outlying wells? We don't think so.
— Well, what if it does? Then what? We wouldn't build a plant if that was projected to happen, by University of Nebraska studies. State law gives agricultural water users priority over industrial users.

— What affect will ash storage (from burned coal) have on the underground water? None. State law says we can't allow that to happen. Storage pits will be constructed so that ash wastes can't pollute underground water supplies.
— What about blowing ash if wastes are transported out of the area? A spray system will wet waste ashes down before they are transported, preventing them from blowing.

— What will the outside noise be? The cooling towers will have large fans and there will be some hum from transformers. There may be some noise from the conveyor belts carrying coal to the plant. It isn't likely there will be noise heard in town.
— What about law enforcement? Sutherland has a 75 man jail. An NPPD project was completed at Sutherland recently. The six counties surrounding the project area don't have over 35-40 law enforcement officers. And you say there are 900 to 1,000 workers coming here?

Tom Brown allegedly from near the Sutherland project contended the NPPD panel was whitewashing potential problems for area citizens. "If Comstock wants the plant, fine," he said. "But quit lying. If it's going to be bad, tell 'em."
He then painted a picture of overcrowded schools, tax support from construction workers, unpaid rents, and phone deposits hiked to $150 to cover unpaid bills left behind by departing workers.

"The projects are great for the bar business and for getting abandoned farm houses," Brown told the audience.
The projected peak work load of 1,500 workers turned out to be 2,900 hard hats in the Sutherland area, according to Brown. Kuncel corrected him, saying there were 1,500 workers during the peak employment period.
Brown countered by saying he got his statistics from the local newspaper there. He concluded by calling the Sutherland project "a parasite on the community."

A woman asked him, "if it's so bad why do you live there, still?" Brown said earlier he presently lived in Hershey, near the project site.
"Oh well," he replied, "It's only money. I'm just sticking around to see what happens."

Candidates

luncheon story elsewhere in this Quiz.
Question and Answer
In the question and answer session that followed Marilyn Fowler was asked how she felt about the pending Comstock power plant.
Fowler replied that in the weeks she has been campaigning, she has noted the large number of power plants being built throughout the state. These and the missile sites, should they go here, will have a definite impact on the state.
She wondered why these many power plants are being built, eluding to the possibility that missile sites and perhaps other government projects could be the reason.

In her estimation, the population increase in Nebraska doesn't warrant these increases in power output by utilities companies.
She first learned of Comstock a few weeks ago, so she said. She termed what she called this type of planning "the worst type of planning" when projects are done sans public input and information.
(Editor's note: NPPD first announced the possibility of the Comstock plant over a year ago at a public meeting. They have planned a series of public forums or sessions in the Comstock area to gather public opinion, answer questions, etc.)

"I think," Fowler said, "we have to start demanding that we know more sooner." She suggested letters to the editor and to elected representatives might help speed this type of information.
Candidates were next asked their stand on the lid budget limitation proposal and where they would cut spending. Their replies are listed below.

Smith — He said he was for the lid, but wasn't sure where he would cut spending, some of which was extravagant, so he claimed.
— Zaruba — said she supported the lid measure. Taxes, she noted are constantly going up and up anyway.
She said she has attended past budget sessions "but no one listened." The budget goes through anyway. People, she continued, "are upset and feel what is the use because they are ignored."

Asked where she would trim the school budget, she listed the following possible reductions: — Travel and transportation. A total of $9,000 is allocated for this in the present budget, she said.
— Extracurricular activities. A bus rolled in from an out of town ball game around midnight recently, she told the audience. She wondered what shape the students would be in the next day.
She suggested that extracurricular activities be reduced, not eliminated.

Personnel. Zaruba noted Ord Public Schools recently hired an additional maintenance man at $11,000 annually without expanding the school grounds or school buildings.
— She questioned why out of 30 applicants Ord Public Schools hired an inexperienced principal at a higher salary than the experienced man he was replacing.
"I do feel," she concluded, "we need some control on spending."

Weems
Barbara Weems said she was definitely against the lid bill, and called it a detriment to all local agencies. "There may be fat in budgets, she speculated but in state and national budgets. Eliminating the hot lunch program was one reduction mentioned by school authorities should the lid go through, and another was doubling classes. "I would hate to see this," she told the audience.

Sevener. County Assessor Bob Sevener said he was opposed to the lid bill for two reasons: his daughters. He contended, "I'm in a position to know about taxes," the assessor reminded the audience, "and I know people are unhappy."
However, Sevener speculated he could live with a five percent budget maximum in his own (County Assessor's) office.
He criticized the lid's not allowing for unexpected expenses and noted it is a constitutional

Three Car Crash in Police Report

Motorists avoided injury in a three car crash near the Ord Elks Club Saturday night. A 1973 Ford station wagon driven by Dennis J. Ptacnick of Ord, a 1970 Mercury four-door sedan driven by Steven A. Criss of Kearney, and a 1977 Chevrolet coupe driven by Steven A. Turek of Ord collided near the Highway 11 and Sargent Road intersection. The station wagon was headed west on a county road and the Chevrolet was going north on Highway 11. The Mercury was east bound and halted for a stop sign.

The Mercury pulled across the highway and was hit by the Chevrolet. The impact forced the Mercury to collide with the station wagon.
Police placed damages at $500 for the station wagon, for the Mercury and $600 for the Chevrolet.
Criss of Kearney was issued a citation for failure to yield the right of way.

The L and W Service Center, 119 South 14, reported the theft of a 12-inch Sony color TV Friday, October 6. Estimated value of the merchandise is $400.

amendment, not a law.
Sharon Foth — told the audience she was still thinking about the issue.
Thelma Dultz — speculated it might be possible to live with a five percent spending lid if there were no emergencies.
Martin Sonnenfeld — The Valley County Sheriff said he would favor a Proposition 13 type bill but couldn't support a lid-type constitutional amendment. "A lid on spending isn't really the question," Sonnenfeld said. The question he had is how he would provide services with a five percent maximum spending limit on his budget.
Ron Radil — said he was against the constitutional amendment because it is hard to change. Expenses above the five percent maximum could be approved, he noted, but in a special election held in July.
He speculated that if a road is snowed in and opening it won't push a budget beyond the five percent limit, area residents might not want to wait from winter until summer for the needed work to be done following the scheduled special election.

Close Encounters Of A Weird Kind
Deanne Kearns reported a close encounter of a weird kind about two miles north of the river bridge early Sunday morning. Deanne said she spotted a grey, metallic saucer-shaped object hovering 200 to 300 feet off the ground there.
She described it as having observation windows or portholes and red and green flashing lights. During the five to ten minutes it remained off the ground, Deanne said two "things" about five to six feet tall came out of the saucer, looked around, took some samples of shrubs, earth etc. and then went back up inside the saucer on a beam of light.
The 10th grade Ord High

Students described the two things as being blackish-brown in color, and having tentacles on their sides. Their heads were blob-like according to the Ord High student.
After ten minutes or so, the saucer shot straight up and took off, according to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Kearns.

Ord Seventh-Eighth Grade Spikers Whip Saint Paul

Ord seventh and eighth grade volleyball teams closed out their season with wins over guest St. Paul Monday night. Coach Richard Cecetka split the girls into two teams for the matches here.

Ord eighth graders followed suit and whipped St. Paul in two out of three games 15-6, 15-17, and 15-10. Percentage-wise the girls didn't serve as well as they have previously. Coach Cecetka speculated this may have been because they used an overhand serve.

When the season opened, he had few returning seventh graders. In his words, "We had to learn as we went along this year." And the kids did learn.

Students Tour Henry Doorley Zoo

Students from Comstock and Ord Elementary third grades got some supplemental education Friday when they toured the Henry Doorley Zoo in Omaha.

The students, their teachers, and sponsors got to see lions, tigers, giraffes, monkeys, gorillas, and other animals during their one-day excursion. The youngsters left around 7 a.m. and returned around 7:30 p.m.

Adults accompanying the students were Darrel Smith, bus driver and parents: Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kearns, Mrs. James Knapp, Mrs. Richard Liss, Mrs. Myron Osentowski, Mrs. Michael Johnson, and Mrs. Gaylord Dulitz.

Farmers Elevator

Ord, Nebr. North Loup, Nebr.

By Richard Beran

By the time you read this, we may very well have had the first Legislative hearing ever held in Bartlett, Nebraska; the first held by Ag and Environment Committee at the request of the Lower Loup NRD; and maybe the first on the subject of land use as it pertains to the development of center pivot systems in the sandhill areas of Nebraska.

Before someone gets their dander up, the Lower Loup NRD is NOT AGAINST center pivots, nor are we against this type of development on the Valentine sands. If good, common horse sense is used when installing and managing these systems.

I, like many people, have driven and flown over the area in good years and bad and believe me there is a difference. I have seen systems twisted and broken, and let run until holes were gouged into the ground and only the tops of the towers were showing. We have seen systems where the sand drifted so badly, county maintainers had to plow adjacent roads open. We have seen towers buried so deep they had to be dug out with crawler tractors.

On the other hand, we have seen good stands of corn that any farmer could look on with pride. We have planted trees around the circles and in corners to prevent blowing. We know of some operators who add tons of humus to aid in production and eliminate blowing.

What's the difference? Frankly it's management and whether you like it or not, it's generally the difference between living on the land and absentee ownership.

What about water quality?

Technology and costs have brought us to the point where everything is, or is going to be injected with the water. Maybe we can live with high nitrates, after all, high nitrates only affect human infants and baby pigs. What about the herbicides and insecticides? Is the owner living 50 miles or 500 miles away really concerned?

The Holt County area is a prime example. They started out with the same water we have, now nitrates from 10 to 500 ppm are showing up. Will the public continue to let this happen, or do we say, "STOP, this is enough!"

Believe me, it's extremely more difficult to clean water up than it is to pollute it. It takes an elaborate and expensive filter system to remove these chemicals so they are fit for human consumption.

So what's the answer? Think about it. Scratch the old gray matter. Maybe you really don't like the answer you come up with; however, it just might be the only alternative.

I would hope that those attending and offering testimony at the hearing on October 11 will convey to the Senators what they really think.

We will let you know next week how the hearing went, and what some of the concerns are.

Election Preview

(Editor's Note: Nebraskans will be voting on 10 issues when they go to the general election polls on November 7. So that voters can better understand these important issues that would change the State's Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association and the Ord Quiz, have prepared a series of articles on each of the 10 proposed issues. Each story in the series concentrates on a single issue, briefly defining the issue, explaining its purpose and finally stating the arguments both for and against the issue.)

Equalization Amendment

7. Equalization Amendment
"Constitutional amendment to provide that the State Board of Equalization and Assessment fix separate and distinct tax levies and equalize assessments of property among counties as prescribed."

PURPOSE: To equalize property tax burden when counties with different property values are included in a common taxing district. The amendment allows the State Board to adjust those districts' taxes in different counties so comparable property carries a comparable tax burden. Currently, the constitution prohibits such adjustments. Beginning in 1981, the board could no longer adjust tax rates and would instead be required to equalize assessments.

SUPPORT: The amendment would give the Board of Equalization the power to eliminate inequities caused when counties revalue their property according to different timetables or standards.

OPPOSITION: Because the amendment was placed on the ballot by the June special session, it may be subject to legal challenge. The attorney general has said the special session could not legally propose constitutional amendments because it was not instructed to do so by the governor.

Denial of Bail in Sex Crimes

6. Denial of Bail in Sex Crimes
"Constitutional amendment to provide that certain sexual offenses shall be non-bailable."

PURPOSE: To permit judges to deny pre-trial bail release to persons accused of sexual offenses involving penetration by force or against the will of the victim "where the proof is evident or the presumption great." Currently, bail can be denied only to people charged with murder and treason.

SUPPORT: Protection of the public is listed as the reason for the amendment. Because of the nature of sexual assaults, accused persons should be imprisoned before the trial to avoid repetition of the crime. Backers cite the Dennis Sell murder case in 1977, in which one of the victims died while Sell was free awaiting trial on a sexual assault case.

OPPOSITION: Bail is for the purpose of guaranteeing the defendant's appearance in court and should be denied only when the accused person probably would not appear — such as an accused murderer facing a death sentence who would have little to lose by fleeing or killing again. To imprison people on lesser charges strikes at the American system of "innocent until proven guilty" and brands them as criminals before they have an opportunity to establish their innocence.

Students Meet Health Goals

According to statistics released by the State Health Department, Valley County grade school children are well above the immunization goal of that state agency. During the spring of 1978, in cooperation with a nationwide immunization program, all Nebraska schools participated in a complete assessment of their students' immunization records.

Complete immunization reports were submitted to the Nebraska Department of Health Immunization Program.

According to a State Health Department press release, any school having immunization levels of less than 90 percent in one or more areas risks experiencing a dangerous disease outbreak. All children, according to the department, under 12 years are required to have a record in their files showing they are completely immunized or to have a waiver form.

State Health Department records show 99.15 percent of Valley County students in grades K-6 have the required records. Between 92.99 and 99.15 of them have been immunized against common childhood diseases. These include mumps, rubella, measles, polio, diphtheria, and tetanus. The immunization record dips somewhat for students in grades 7-12. There, immunization percentages run from 95.11 to 41.65.

In compiling the immunization levels, those students without immunization records were considered unimmunized; therefore, the percentages are based on enrollment.

Newspaper Week

Journalists throughout the state pause October 8-14 for Newspaper Week. Governor J. James Exon has set aside that span of time to honor those working for the fourth estate.

In Nebraska, weekly newspapers outnumber major metropolitan dailies. Sometimes called "community journalism", weekly newspapers have their market in the outlying rural areas of the state. They record the hatchings, matchings, and dispatching of the area while leaving fast breaking national and international news stories to their distant cousins in the cities.

Former Quiz editor Bill Lee summed up this philosophy by saying a burp in Ord is more important to the Quiz than a revolution in China.

As the years go by, there are fewer and fewer locally owned and operated weekly newspapers around acting as repositories of community information. Constantly rising newsprint prices and government regulations force the less able and small shops out of business.

Often those remaining are owned by a syndicate of one or more papers. While they may record local items, their ownership, and perhaps allegiance, lies somewhere else.

Through astute management and an aggressive outlook, the Ord Quiz has been able to grow while other, smaller papers have faded less well. Part of the credit for this must go to Gene Leggett. That journalistic pioneer early realized the value of specialized printing. Thanks to his foresight, the Quiz family (the Ord Quiz and Quiz Graphic Arts) turns out a steady stream of national and international printing orders.

While job printing may bring in the major portion of revenue, Quiz publisher Kerry Leggett continues to insist that there is nothing more important than the Quiz on Wednesday. Home-grown editorials, coverage of area government, and personal columns provide Quiz readers with an award winning newspaper year after year after year.

Though there have been many changes in the Quiz since H. D. Leggett purchased it from W.W. Haskell 'way back when', the one constant factor since then has been that the Quiz is a locally owned, locally printed and a locally centered publication. As time goes on, this makes us rather special in the world of Nebraska's community journalism. Frankly, we're quite proud.

The Lid

Next month Nebraska voters will face a raft of proposals when entering polling places across the state. One issue drawing public attention is the lid measure. Under terms of that proposed constitutional amendment, local governmental entities would have annual budget ceilings or lids of five percent.

S. H. "Zeke" Brauer put that issue on the ballot by a successful petition drive launched earlier this year. When that started, educators were the main opponents of the lid ceiling. They contended the issue was too complex for the average person to understand, that it would strafe schools in a straight jacket, that Nebraska's schools would suffer irreparable damage.

Since that petition drive was successful, their cries against the measure have been joined by those from other persons in tax-supported offices or entities. Their arguments are many and varied. All have the common denominator that the lid won't work, that if it does it will place them in an impossible situation, and that the lid measure should receive a resounding "no" vote from the populace.

After all arguments have stopped and the smoke clears, it boils down to the fact that persons on fixed incomes are watching helplessly as the buying power of their salaries is steadily eroded by soaring taxes and ever-increasing inflation.

Faced with these forces, they see the lid measure as an alternative — and rightly so. It may be imperfect, it may have its drawbacks, but at least it is a possible solution.

We just wonder what choice John Q. Public will make in the polling place next November. Will he opt for a possible solution to steadily increasing taxes and budgets? Or will he listen to the same old tongue from administrators about trying to hold the line on ballooning budgets — while watching his taxes steadily increase?

Postal Service Getting Too Zippy!

By Edwin Feulner

After struggling for what seemed like an hour with a postage stamp that just wouldn't stick, I decided to go on to other things.

First, I picked up my morning newspaper. And there, on the front page, was an item: "4 More Digits to Zip Your Mail."

And in my morning mail, a new and not very encouraging report by the ACU-ERI Education and Research Institute on the troubled U.S. Postal Service.

To be honest, though it costs two-and-a-half times as much to mail a first class letter today (15 cents) as it did eight years ago when the postal service was created (six cents then), I'm not one of those critics who considers 15 cents an outrageous price to pay to have a letter delivered either across town or across country.

But I am disturbed by the prospects of future rate increases. For example, the ACU-ERI study projects that it may cost 36 cents to mail a letter six years from now "if the U.S. Postal Service continues its present policies..."

Candidates-Ballot Issues Vying For Public Attention

CAPITOL NEWS

By Melvin Paul

The Nebraska Press Association

Lincoln — As the November General Election draws near, ballot proposals appear to be gaining almost as much attention as candidates.

One such ballot proposal that seems to keep making news is the proposed constitutional amendment to limit budget increases of local governments.

Specifically, there seems to be growing concern over who would be covered by the proposal and exactly what impact it would have on local budgeting.

A key issue in a recent debate on the lid amendment was whether the proposal pertained to municipal electric systems; and if so, what the consequences would be.

Paul Belz, executive director of the Nebraska State Education Association, raised the possibility that the lid proposal might force municipalities to sell their systems to the Nebraska Public Power District.

Not to worry said Sen. Donald Dworak of Columbus.

Dworak called a news conference in Lincoln recently to reassure municipalities the possibility mentioned by Belz would not come about. Or at least not if he had his way.

Dworak said he would sponsor legislation next year to guarantee the exemption of municipal electric systems from the provisions of the proposed constitutional amendment.

Although Dworak said he doubted the amendment would force the sale of municipal electric systems, he says he has ordered legislation drafted to avoid the possibility — just in case.

Whelan Edging Thone? Political polls predictably are becoming more frequent these days, and political candidates are becoming more visible.

And although many pollsters remind readers their surveys are just a sampling of voters, politicians seem to place considerable weight on the survey results.

A recent telephone poll, conducted for the Lincoln Sunday Journal-Star by Selection Research Inc., had some interesting things to say about the gubernatorial race.

The poll of 941 Nebraskans, taken in September, showed Republican Charles Thone leading Democratic Lt. Gov. Gerald Whelan 46 to 32 percent statewide. Twenty-two percent were undecided, the poll showed.

Selection Research said Thone, an eight-year Congressman from the 1st District, was ahead only because of a 36-point lead in his home district.

But despite Thone's statewide lead in the Journal-Star poll, Selection Research showed the Republican hopeful was tied at 35 percent with Whelan in the 2nd Congressional District.

Predictably, Thone said he was pleased with his showing in the 2nd District and indicated he would beef up his campaign in that area.

Whelan, however, questioned the 2nd District poll results.

"Nobody else's poll showed us tied in the 2nd district. It just doesn't seem reasonable to me."

SKI's Journal-Star poll also showed Thone leading Whelan 58 to 22 percent in the 1st District and 43 to 37 percent in the Third.

State to Market Gasohol (The administrator of the state Gasohol Committee says a Nebraska City firm has agreed to aid in starting a statewide gasohol marketing campaign.)

Administrator Randy Fricke also says a Beatrice firm has agreed to step up gasohol sales to promote the campaign.

Gasohol, a 90-10 blend of unleaded gasoline and grain alcohol, already has been sold in various parts of Nebraska. But Fricke says the new marketing campaign will be just that — a campaign to market gasohol statewide.

Fricke says Dawson Oil &

Transport of Nebraska City will be the initial importer to start the gasohol campaign. Purchasing grain alcohol from an Illinois firm, Dawson will supply other outlets around the state.

Fricke said the Nebraska City firm has been selling gasohol at its local Mobile station for several months.

In addition, Fricke has announced that Bob Barnard and Barnard Oil Co. in Beatrice will step up gasohol sales and will buy its grain alcohol from Dawson Oil.

"The Gasohol Committee staff already discovered a large demand for gasohol while working at the gasohol booth at the Nebraska State Fair," Fricke said. "The staff was swamped by hundreds of requests as to where they could purchase gasohol in Nebraska."

Fricke also announced that Dawson will supply the Meadow View Waco Interstate 90 station with gasohol, where the fuel extender has been sold since early spring.

Perry Appeal Rejected Convicted murderer Wesley Perry has lost his bid to have his first degree murder conviction and death sentence appealed in the nation's highest tribunal.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently let Perry's death sentence stand, even though two justices who oppose capital punishment said they would have overturned the sentence.

But Perry's attorneys have said they will ask the Nebraska Supreme Court to continue their client's stay of execution, which was granted pending the U.S. high court's ruling on the appeal.

Although the court rejected the appeal of Wesley, convicted in the 1975 murder of Lincoln coin shop operator Marianne Mitzner, the former Wesleyan University employee still may appeal to a federal district court judge.

Perry also was convicted of robbing the Mitzner Rare Coin Shop in Lincoln on June 6, 1975, the day of Mrs. Mitzner's death.

KERRY ON

— an inside job —

"You'll make a lot of enemies," I was warned, six months ago, when I revealed to someone very close to me that step-daughter Sheri Grove was being considered and had been nominated by Countess of Ak-Sar-Ben's Royal Court.

"I can handle it," I replied, remembering my own thoughts about only the "rich" and "influential" being eligible for consideration. I considered myself neither.

Until early last Spring I was ignorant of any details of such an honor.

It was a cold, March day when that gusto he missed the first time around. He can walk in one shopping mall store, get single, get a new head of hair, a new set of teeth, a slick new outfit and come out ready for action.

Talk about one-stop service, Mister Editor, we're there. You just drive in the old model, Jack it up, drive a new one under it and head out down the Yellow Brick Road to fun and frolic forevermore, just like you see in the soda pop and chewing gum commercials.

I mentioned this divorce special to the fellers at the county store Saturday night, and I couldn't drum up much interest. This Polish feller from Sherman County, fer one, said he didn't see nothing funny about this approach. He said he was glad that lawyers are taking their services to the marketplace with everybody else. Now if they will be as open about their minimum fee rules as they are about their divorce specialties, the public might be able to afford the kind of legal service we've got to have in the kind of world we live in, and he said dentists holding clinics in them big shopping centers probably is a service fer folks who ain't got the strength to ride three different buses and still have to walk five blocks to get to the dentist's downtown office.

This service shows these professions is responding to the public's needs, and more power to 'em.

Farthermore, Leonard Hansen added, the doctors are coming right along in keeping the state of their art up to public demand. He said he had saw where "nerves" as a cover-all illness will take on a new meaning next year. The American Psychiatric Association has "thrown 'neurosis' out of the book. The doctors have decided they need to be more specific in dealing with problems that ain't physical. When the association brings out the next edition of its book telling about mental ailments, it will deal with "disorders" instead of "neuroses," Leonard said, to give the patient a better understanding of what's wrong with him.

Meanwhile, Mister Editor, if what's wrong with you does you in, I see where, for $25,000, you can be a next-door neighbor to Marilyn Monroe. A burial vault, next to hers is fer sale at that price.

Ain't progress wonderful? A broken down old geezer like me can start all over and grab all

I received a long distance call from Ak-Sar-Ben, Ambassador Jack Romans. I was sure Jack's call had something to do with either the Public Service Commission or news for this paper.

Jack promptly explained his reason for calling. "You've got a daughter, Sheri, who I'm considering submitting as a nominee for a Countess." He quickly added that there was the major expense of a gown, to be "your expense." "Of course there will be other expenses," Jack continued, "but that involves whatever you may want to spend on guests, parties, clothing, and anything you might want to do for the major expense you'll be expected to pay."

Then Jack proceeded to explain the thorough study that had already gone into his consideration — unbeknownst to us! Scholastic records, character, and references. All had been checked without us knowing. I almost had the feeling Jack knew more about my step-daughter than even I knew!

After Jack had finished, emphasizing what he considered importance of the gown, Ord, and the spotlight cast on the community, I thanked him and asked if I could call back. I wanted to talk it over with the family — especially the girl being considered. I've always wanted the girls to make their own decisions.

After much reluctance and thought, Sheri, agreed to being considered. For she's as aware of the expenses as we are, and her primary concern is completing her course of study in Medical Technology. Too, it's required that the nominee not be engaged or married and that was her personal decision to answer.

Only then did her name go into nomination and it was months later that we learned she would be one of the sixteen Countesses in the 1978 Court of Quivera. Even then secrecy is maintained until the October announcement.

So it's been an exciting experience, up to now, and an enlightening one. I know, now, that the honor isn't something you request or apply for — but another of the things that happen in the course of being yourself.

There are those, I'm sure, who will say, "But you wouldn't be considered if you didn't have money."

I'm not too sure. For the greatest wealth isn't in your bank account or billfold. For me it's the simple and antaingly clear recollection that 20 years ago I was a penniless drunk, begging and stealing for another bottle of wine.

Then, one November day, I turned it over to God. As I understood Him, He's never given me a penny — but He gave me back myself.

Everyone has to start somewhere — and inside is the best place to begin.

Yours truly,
Geranium Joe

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

As the world turns, Mister Editor, it keeps coming up with interesting wrinkles. I know from the ads in the papers that a feller can go into one of these shopping malls and come out with everything from apples to zebras, and now I see where they're offering new services in between. No sooner did lawyers start advertising than they set up in shopping centers and "now dentists are holding clinics in them big department stores."

Just the other day I was thumbing through a Sunday paper and I run across specials on brick-lined stoves, snow tires and uncontestable divorces. I don't need the tires and I can't afford the stove, so I read up on the lawyer's sale. Fer $100 plus court costs, the ad said, walk in married and walk out single. Quick and simple, just like that. He would send you all the papers by mail. You sign 'em and bring 'em, and that's it.

Ain't progress wonderful? A broken down old geezer like me can start all over and grab all

Something Different News of Other Days

So many items cry out to be written about in the Valley County area, I keep meaning to do something about them.

Every time we drive through North Loup I look at the wee log cabin on the north side of their main street. It is for real, real squared logs, chinks of mortar; I just know there's fascinating history going to waste here. Who constructed it so carefully, and when? It has to have been long, long ago.

Recently it has become an automobile agency or similar. And has had some paint put on sills and window frames; and doesn't look nearly so genuine! And now they're going to build onto it. Horrors.

Out southwest of Ord about where the highway bends there's a grove of very tall, big trees. I think it was called the John Rogers farm when I first saw this territory, but the most notable thing about it... inside the extra high fence surrounding the grove were a herd of elk! Yes, actually. It was quite a show place. Gone is the fence. Gone are the elk. And long ago, Mr. Rogers, gone too.

Also southwest of Ord and a bit farther from town on the west side of the highway is a fast deteriorating weather-beaten small house. It is rather fancy. And well it may be, this fancy chicken house in the trees.

For it was a spite affair. It was built in exact replica of a large, handsome home that crowns a hilltop across the road, up to the east. I never heard the cause of the trouble, but the elaborate chicken house was built to emphasize bad feeling between the two neighbors.

There is an extra narrow Ord street, going (?) north and south. Why? Why is it so narrow, half the width of other Ord streets?

It is narrow because the early-day Ord man who owned the ground would not allow any more of HIS land for a street!

I could tell you his name; but I won't.

A lasting testimonial to his testiness...

— Irma

More things are sold through the Yellow Pages than any other buying guide.

If you think the Yellow Pages is just a listing, think again. It contains all sorts of information that can be extremely helpful no matter what you're shopping for. Like, does the place take credit cards? What are their hours? Etc. Etc. Etc. Maybe that's why more people read the Yellow Pages last year than just about any book published. Curl up with it the next time you're shopping for something.

SCOUTING WORLDWIDE — Radio hams (amateur radio operators) contacted scouts celebrating the camporee jamboree in Portugal and were surprised to learn their conversation was being carried over a public address system to an estimated 2,000 scouts gathered at a scout campsite there. Manning radio operations at the Anderson Island camp were (back to front) Dick Carney of Grand Island Troop One, Tom Brixius of Grand Island Troop 114, Kevin Palder of Aurora, Wayne Wilson of Aurora and Ed Loeffler of Burwell.

Area Scouts Observe Camporee — Jamboree at Anderson Island

An estimated 150 Scouts and their leaders observed the international Camporee-Jamboree at Anderson Island east of Ord last weekend.

Members of the Pawnee District of the Overland Trails Council began their campout at Valley County fairgrounds Friday. From there, Scouts had to follow a marked trail leading them to their campgrounds at Anderson Island.

Members of the Loup Valley REACT team demonstrated proper procedures for using emergency channel nine and showed citizens' band radio equipment.

Ed Loeffler of Burwell manned a portable amateur radio rig at the campsite. He and others talked to Scouts around the world celebrating the camporee-jamboree.

On contacting Scouts in Portugal, they learned their remarks were being heard by an estimated 2,000 assembled Scouts over a public address system.

Dot or Dorothy Aubushon, Scouting Coordinator with Post 188 in Grand Island, gave Scouts

North Loup Project Receives $4.1 Million

The United States Congress has earmarked an additional $4.1 million for the North Loup Project in a special resolution passed recently. The resolution was needed because President Jimmy Carter vetoed the 1979 Public Works Appropriation Bill earlier this month.

The long-planned project will provide irrigation water for an estimated 53,000 acres, using water from the Calamus River, dam near Burwell and another by the Davis Creek tributary will hold back the waters. The project is under the jurisdiction of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. A BOR spokesman in Grand Island said recently a decision on awarding of a trench digging contract has been delayed until November 15. The contract won't be awarded until a new environmental supplemental study has been completed, distributed, and reviewed by the public.

The BOR spokesman said the government bureau is sending invitations to bid to interested contractors for a laboratory building to be constructed at the dam site, about seven miles northwest of Burwell.

Deb Osentowski Crowned Ord's Homecoming Queen

Weeks of suspense were ended Friday when Deb Osentowski was named Ord High Homecoming Queen. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Osentowski, Deb was chosen by a vote of the Ord High student body earlier in the week.

The 17-year-old Ord High senior is editor of the annual staff, head varsity cheerleader, and vice president of the Ord High Choir. She is active in Swing Singers and the Triple Trio. Her hobbies include tennis, sewing, and other activities.

Members of the Homecoming court included:

Becki Augustyn, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Augustyn.

Kathy Zlomke, 17-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Zlomke.

Anne Gibbons, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons.

Rhonda Brass, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Brass.

Queen candidates were picked by a vote of the O.H.S. student body. Competition was open to all senior girls at Ord High.

Friday's crowning capped a long slate of Spirit Week activities that included everything from window painting to pickle eating. Those gastronomic honors went to Mike Mulligan. He won first-place honors for the class of 1981.

Other winners in Spirit Week competition are:

Window painting contest: 1. FFA for their Flew the Coop picture at Jack and Jill. 2. Vocal Music Department for their window display on How The West Was Won. 3. The Oracle Staff for their window painting at the

Doughnut Shop of The Whiz. 4. The Pep Band for their Gone With The Wind Window at the Carpet Palace. 5. The Pep Club for their Jaws window at McDonald's.

The legs contest: Ord High seventh graders nailed down first place with sophomore boys far behind in second place. Third place went to O.H.S. Juniors and Seniors were fourth. Fifth place went to the freshmen.

Students voted on which pair of men's legs were the best by dropping pennies in marked bands or bottles. A cent counted as one vote.

In hall decorating, first place went to the sophomores, second place to the freshmen, third place to the seventh graders, fourth place to the juniors, and fifth place to the seniors.

In overall Spirit Week competition, the eighth graders took fourth place with one point. The Juniors won third place with nine points. In a three-way tie for second place seventh graders, freshmen, and seniors each had 13 points. Winners of Spirit Week Competition 1978 were the Ord High sophomores with 35 points.

The Ord High student council hosted a Homecoming dance at the Ord Vets Club to end Spirit Week activities Friday night. The rock group "Luck" played.

Ghosts and Goblins Will Roam Ord Streets

Ghosts and goblins will roam Ord's streets Tuesday, October 31 during the Ord Chamber's Halloween Parade. Ord elementary students should gather at the kindergarten park, 14th and O around 1:30 for judging.

At 2 p.m. the parade, along with the Ord High band, will march to the Valley County Courthouse in downtown Ord. There, prizes and treats will be handed out to the marchers.

Former Quiz Editor Starts New Venture

Though he didn't reveal complete details, former Quiz editor Gerald Green called Ord this week seeking information he will use starting a new weekly newspaper in Clinton, OK.

A town of about 8,000 located west of Oklahoma City, Clinton now has one daily newspaper. Gerald's new employers have hired him to start a weekly in the same city.

Green's family remain in Texas until Gerald finds housing for them in Clinton. Until then the Green family will make their home at their present address in the Dallas area.

Business address of the new enterprise Gerald heads is 609 Frisco, Clinton, OK 73601.

Clerk's Office Open Late Friday for Voter Registration

The County Clerk's Office will remain open until 6 p.m. October 27 to accommodate those who have not as yet registered to vote, or those who have changed their name or residence since the last election.

County Clerk Thelma Dulitz urges people to make sure of their registration by the Friday, October 27 deadline.

Classes Break for Teachers' Convention

Students in Ord Public Schools will get a mini-vacation while instructors attend teachers' convention. Classes dismissed at 3 p.m. Wednesday and will resume at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

Spring Forward Fall Back

On October 29, the last Sunday of the month, clocks will be turned back one hour as the nation returns to standard time until the last Sunday in April 1979.

Quiz readers unsure if they should set their clocks ahead one hour or set them back 60 minutes should remember the old saying, "Spring Forward — Fall Back."

Votes-Entertainment At Farm Bureau Rally

The election of officers, resolutions, and entertainment are on the Valley County Farm Bureau's banquet schedule for Thursday, October 26 in the Ord Vets Club. Guest speaker for the evening will be Robert Weber, Farm Bureau State vice president.

Paving Protestors Pack City Council's Chambers

It was standing room only in city council chambers Monday night. An estimated 30 to 40 people told councilmen they were caught unaware when city dads passed paving districts 1978-8 and 1978-9 earlier this month.

District 1978-8 runs from a line on 15th Street north of N to the south line of U Street in Ord. District 1978-9 is on 14th Street T to J Street and U Street between 14th and 15th.

Spokesman for the group of protestors was Ord attorney, J. Marvin Weems. He contended people hadn't been properly notified the two districts were being created, and suggested the council rescind the two districts.

"The plain language of the statute is what you have to weigh tonight," he told councilmen. "These people didn't know where the districts would be until they

Ord Jaycees Will Spook Up Funds

Ord Jaycees will scare up funds for Valley County Hospital with their haunted house project. From October 29-31, ghosts, goblins, and other creatures of the night will be in residence on 11th Street, near Kittle's Trailer Court.

Admissions paid to gain entrance to the haunted quarters will help purchase equipment at the local hospital. The unusual residence will have a living graveyard, and other spine chilling events.

Supernatural residents of the mansion will be in residence from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Those brave enough to venture forth should bring a flashlight and plenty of courage.

No Injuries in Car-Tractor Crash

Injury was narrowly avoided in a car-tractor crash two miles south and five miles east of Ord Thursday. A 1970 Ford driven by Ronald Skoll of North Loup was headed east on a county road when he started to pass an Oliver farm tractor driven by Douglas Fuss of Ord.

The tractor, headed east, started to turn left when the two vehicles collided.

There was $200 damage to the car and no apparent damage to the tractor. No injuries were reported.

Police Patrolling Halloween Night

There will be extra police officers along with Ord Firemen on patrol Halloween night, according to police chief John Young. He warned no vandalism will be tolerated.

Authorities will be especially watchful of kids turning on fire hydrants. What seems like a minor prank can seriously reduce the city's hydrant water pressure, he told the Quiz. This could be dangerous in case of a severe fire.

Last Halloween was a rather quiet one, Young recalled, and hoped this year would be the same.

Highway Project Hearing Possible

The Valley County Board and the Nebraska Department of Roads has announced an opportunity for a public hearing on Highway Project No. SOS-7088(1) described as beginning approximately 0.2 mile north of the Southeast Corner of Section 4, Township 17 North, Range 16 West, replacing the existing 90 degree turn with a 70 degree curve extending 0.5 mile east-southeast across Cottonwood Creek.

The opportunity for a public hearing is extended to give all interested persons an opportunity to express their views and to discuss the location and design features of the proposed project before the County Board is committed to a specific location or design.

Preliminary plans developed to date are available for inspection at the County Highway Superintendent's Office, Ord.

If a public hearing is desired, a written request must be made to the County Clerk of Valley County at Ord, on or before November 16. In the event that a hearing is scheduled, a notice of the date, time, and place will be published. The complete legal notice of this hearing appears with the legal notices in this issue of the Quiz.

started staking it out." Weems suggested all persons in the district should have been sent letters advising them of the pending district. State law requires that persons outside of Valley County but owning property in a pending district be sent letters notifying them of the pending district.

Those in the county are notified by a legal notice published in a newspaper, under state statute.

When these two districts were pending the Quiz ran a front page story on this and other items handled by the city council. Another front page item told readers of the sealed hearings October 9 for protests of the paving districts.

Weems wondered why the Quiz didn't run a map of the paving districts. "After all," he suggested, "isn't a picture worth a thousand words?" He asked City Attorney Greg Jensen if the city had paid the Quiz for past maps of pending districts run in the newspaper. Jensen replied the city had not.

Weems said he realized the cost of $4,500 to $5,000 already invested in the two districts, and suggested the city should back out now, rather than go forward with the project.

This problem could be avoided in the future, the lawyer suggested, if persons in a pending paving district were notified by mail.

Ord Mayor Gaylord Bolesen said he was amazed Weems didn't say the council wasn't following proper procedure when Weems was in a paving district a few months ago.

That was a different case, according to Weems. "We had a map," he said, (on the Quiz front page) "but these people didn't see it."

Dr. Otis Miller asked the council, "If this was such a worthwhile project, why was it done behind closed doors?" The Quiz asked Dr. Miller when and where these closed door sessions supposedly took place. He didn't say.

Mayor Bolesen reminded Dr. Miller there was a front page story about the districts creation in the Quiz and another front page item about the October 9 hearing for objections. Required legal notices were also carried in the Quiz, Bolesen reminded those present.

Dr. Miller then asked if paving the streets is such a good idea, why wasn't the entire city planned for paving. This question was repeated later, many times.

City Attorney Greg Jensen said more study was needed before the city started a project of that size. Bolesen later commented this would push the city near the maximum mil levy. Bumping your head on the maximum ceiling wouldn't be a good idea he told those present.

Costs

Persons present wanted to know paving costs. Jensen said maximum front footage costs were carried in the October 5 Quiz. October 2, the city pegged maximum paving costs at $22.50 a front foot for streets 35 feet wide. For streets 30 feet wide, the paving costs wouldn't exceed $19 a front foot.

Street sizes in between these two dimensions would be prorated.

City councilman Willie Skala thanked the protestors for coming and added, "I only wish you had been here earlier." He noted council chambers are always open to the public and that they didn't have to hire what he called "a mouthpiece" to make their views known.

"Anytime we have a council meeting, you just come on in. You don't have to pay dollars to talk to us," he concluded.

He contended paving street crews to do temporary patch-up jobs is ridiculous. "Go down to the school (elementary)," he suggested, "and just see what we got. That is a mess."

He predicted citizens will soon start asking the same old question of "Why don't we do something about these streets?" He maintained paving five to ten blocks at one time is "a step in the right direction."

After tabling the matter, the council returned to it, and decided to let the two paving districts stand as they were created.

Jensen warned councilmen they could be establishing a precedent. Other paving districts could then demand they be withdrawn after they were created. This would make contractors say about bidding on jobs in Ord, the City Attorney warned.

He told councilmen they had met all legal requirements in connection with these two and all other paving districts.

One opponent asked what could the council do? The mayor said the only applicable motion was one to rescind the paving district. No such motion was made.

Well then, one opponent continued, the only thing we can do is take this to court. Bolesen said that was about it, unless bids received on the paving districts were so high that the council rejected them.

Contacted Tuesday morning, Marvin Weems wasn't sure if a lawsuit would or would not be filed. He told the Quiz he hadn't contacted his clients yet concerning further action.

Hospital Posts Year End Report

The Valley County Hospital closed out fiscal year 1978 June 30 with a $30,821 profit, according to a year-end report issued Friday. Valley County Hospital administrator, Ron Edzards, posted statistics showing $19,721 non-operating revenue came from county tax collections.

These were financed by a half mill tax, down one-fourth mill from 1976. Asked why the decrease, Edzards said, the hospital didn't need it and was doing fine financially.

Along with the mill levy, tax receipts are down from last year. During 1977, they totaled $21,947. This year, 1978, they were $19,721.

These along with the average patient stay declined. Last year the hospital logged 6,500 patient days. This year they dropped to 6,226. The administrator wasn't concerned about the figures, and chalked the variance up to normal fluctuations.

Average stay of hospital patients went from 6.8 days last year to 6.7 for the year ending June 30.

Fire Association Against Lid Bill

The Nebraska Fire Chief's Association has gone on record against L.B. 302, the Lid Bill. In an October 20 press release, the association said their past frugality would become what they called "our ball and chain" if the lid bill receives voter approval in November.

Dee Meese New Quiz Society Editor

Dee Meese took over duties of the Quiz society desk Monday, October 23, replacing Betty Rienks who resigned the position after over four years working in the Quiz office and taking social items.

Betty Rienks' plans are indefinite, though she and her husband plan to move from Ord in the near future. Chuck, an electrician the past few years in Ord, is seeking employment elsewhere.

Though news-gathering and writing is new to Dee, she knows most local names and faces through her life-long residency in Ord and previous work at Carson's IGA. She hopes for a lot of cooperation from anyone with news for the paper — and patience while she learns her new job.

The wife of Bill Meese, Dee is an avid sports fan and a member of the Melody Moms, the Bethel Baptist Church and serves on the 4-H Council. She and her husband have two daughters and two sons: Pam, Deb, Paul, and Brian.

News and items of interest may be phoned in to 728-3262 from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Christensen Named Who's Who at NW

Jim Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christensen of Ord, is one of 19 Northwestern College students whose names will be in the 1978-79 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities, and Colleges.

Committee nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Jim is a senior at Northwestern, a four year Christian liberal arts college associated with the Reformed Church in America and located in Orange City, Iowa.

THIS 'N THAT ... Half of our lives are spent in dreaming of the things and deeds we're going to do. The other half in wondering why our dreams did not come true.

... Why is it when Mom has an accident with the car Dad says it is "Careless driving!" When their son had an accident, Dad said, "Reckless driving!" When Dad had an accident, he said, "Unavoidable."

... Another quip on driving: "I always drive with the emergency brake on" admitted the new driver. When asked why the reply was equally direct, "So I'll be ready for an emergency."

... It is believed that the Turtles have the largest number of card carrying members. There are supposedly five million card carrying Turtles around the world. So, who are the Turtles? They are bright-eyed, bushy tailed, fearless and unafraid folks with a happy attitude on life. They think clean, have fun a lot, and recognize the fact that you don't get anywhere worthwhile in life unless you stick your neck out. Are you a Turtle?

... An English newspaper conducted a contest in an effort to get the right answer to the question: "Who are the happiest people on earth?" In due time it published the prize-winning answers: — A craftsman or artist whistling over a job well done. — A little child building sand castles. — A mother bathing her baby after a busy day. Note there's no reference to money, to millions, to fame, to high rank, or to high office.

... Mother Goose was a real person. She was Elizabeth Foster, born in Boston in 1665, she married Isaac Goose in 1693 and wrote the famed rhymes for her grandchildren.

COFFEE CUP PHILOSOPHY: If your dreams haven't come true, you can be glad your nightmares haven't either.

Krikac-Vech Marriage Vows Exchanged at Catholic Church

Steve Vech and bride ... Jane Krikac

In a 4 o'clock afternoon ceremony October 7 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Catholic Church in Ord, Jane Krikac and Steve Vech were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Krikac of Burwell. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Vech of Cedar Bluffs.

Rev. Stanley Gorak read the marriage lines and offered the wedding Mass. Mike Johnson was organist and accompanied Annie Reiter who sang "Our Father" and "Wedding Song."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a floor length gown of white satin with white organza overlay. The full sleeves featured a fitted ruffle cuff and the softly gathered empire waist billowed into a full skirt with wide ruffle which swept into a chapel length train. White rose appliques accented the bodice, sleeves and skirt. A white hat with fingertip veil completed her attire. She carried white roses accented with baby's breath.

Linda Krikac of Kenesaw served her sister as maid of honor. Other attendants were Susan Vech, sister of the groom, Sheryl Krciek, sister of the groom, and Annette Hraban, sister of the groom. They wore blue empire dresses with ruffled front, back V-neckline and capelet sleeves complimented by matching blue hats. Each carried a wand of blue daisies and baby's breath. Wearing dresses like the bride's attendants were can-

Indians Scalp Ord Chanticleers 18-7

BREAKING TACKLE — Kevin Valla (20) on his way to Ord's touchdown. Valla set that up by driving to the 10, the 5 and finally plunged over.

Back to back touchdowns and a last minute interception spiked Ord hopes for a victory Friday against guest Broken Bow. Host Ord Chanticleers were downed 18-7.

First half play was a series of maybes, allmosts, and near misses. These started seconds after the kickoff when Barry Witherwax intercepted a pass near midfield. If the Chants had converted this into a solid drive, Ord might have had a homecoming win.

As it was, Witherwax ran to the 30 before being sacked in the backfield.

Another maybe came with Jeff Sich getting a fumble on the Broken Bow 44. Two plays later, Broken Bow got the ball back, on another fumble setting up yet another situation for discussion by Saturday morning quarterbacks.

That came when Broken Bow Superstar Jeff Briggs lost the ball near the Bow 35. Ord recovered and Valla sprinted to near the 49 before Ord fumbled and Broken Bow regained possession. This constantly changing scenario continued with Ord recovering the ball, passing, and Broken Bow intercepting.

Late in the first quarter, an official's ruling brought Ord coach Jim Blessen out on the field. That came after an Ord punt to near the Broken Bow 20. Officials ruled an Ord player touched the ball, and that Broken Bow had recovered it.

Blessen contended the player hadn't touched the ball and that officials weren't positioned correctly to make the call in the first place.

Officials listened to Blessen's side of the situation, and stuck by their decision.

Any advantage Broken Bow may have enjoyed was partially cancelled when back-to-back penalties got them a first and 20 call. Broken Bow came right back and nearly got a touchdown. But Ord's defense held them, and so it continued back and forth the rest of the first two quarters.

Two Touchdowns

Then came those two deadly touchdowns. The first of these came seconds after Ord kicked off to Broken Bow at the start of the second half. The Bow runner was halted at the 30, and Broken Bow pushed back 15 yards on a penalty.

Jeff Briggs got the ball and came screaming downfield for an 85 yard touchdown run.

The second game when Broken Bow Indian Dennis Poland blocked a punt near the Ord 25. Broken Bow snatched the ball and ran it to the 17. After a fast sweep round the end Broken Bow was at the Ord 12.

A near carbon copy of the play put Indian Scott Doty in the end zone. The point after fizzled, and Broken Bow was ahead 12 points to Ord's 0.

Broken Bow took the punt, but couldn't keep the ball long. After Jeff Briggs carried up the middle, Ord's Dave Conner snared the ball near the Indian 37. His swift recovery helped engineer Ord's first touchdown of the game.

It was half back Kevin Valla and a face mask penalty that helped finish off the job. Ord's 166 pound halfback carried to near the 32 and then the 22. A face mask call against the Indians helped pave the way.

Valla banged his way inside the 10, the five and finally plunged over with 3:48 left in the quarter. It was Valla's kick that gave Ord the extra point putting them in the game 12-7.

Broken Bow came back with a switch-pitch play that got them near their 30. Barry Witherwax then broke up an attempted pass attack and came near an interception. After a gain of two or three yards and then a few more, Broken Bow kicked to Ord. Kahlhoff ground forward for one or two yards and Sich carried to the 40. A fake punt set up a 10 yard run by Keith Pelton, but this apparent first down was shaded by a five yard penalty against Ord.

This time Ord did kick the ball, landing it inside the end zone. Officials brought it out to the 20 yard line.

Jeff Briggs then sprinted for 30 yards near the midfield line and then carried the ball for a gain of about two. Indian players slowly moved to near the Ord 35 and then got a five yard penalty.

Welnjak and Smith nailed an attempted draw play sacking the quarterback behind the line of scrimmage. The Indians countered with an option play that got them the first down.

After two runs up the middle, Broken Bow was inside the Ord 20. Jeff Briggs took a hand-off and slipped through to near the Ord 17, just short of first down. After one huge shove up the middle Broken Bow got the required last few yards.

The Indians kept the ball on the ground and in two plays had it at the Ord 10 yard line. A pass from Broken Bow quarterback Joe Eberle to Jeff Briggs in the end zone ended the drive.

One play after the kick-off, Broken Bow spiked Ord hopes for a comeback. Briggs picked off an Ord pass way down field and roaring back to the Ord 24.

Ord's Barry Witherwax thought he picked off a fumble and might save the day, but officials ruled the ball dead. The last few plays by Broken Bow were conservative, designed to eat up the clock.

LID 302 NO

Before you vote on the lid bill Nov. 7th, answer the following questions:

- 1) What if there is a need for an emergency expenditure — a county bridge needs repairs — a school bus must be replaced — sewer or water lines break — where will that budget item get attention?
- 2) How are the needs of nursing homes, hospitals, airport authorities, local electric systems, libraries, schools and other community services in city, school and county budgets to be met?
- 3) If public employees such as firemen, policemen and teachers are laid off, what jobs are there in the community for them? If they can't find work in the community, who will patronize local business and industry?
- 4) Is local government the cause of inflation or the victim of it?

Varsity Spikers Make It To Finals In Tournament

The Ord varsity volleyball team made it to the finals in the Loup City tournament before being eliminated. The Ord Lady Chants were downed by Ansley 15-10 and 15-4 Thursday, October 19.

There were 12 teams in the tournament. They were Ord, Litchfield, Grand Island, Northwest, Ansley, Burwell, Ravena, Centura, Arcadia, Gibbon, St. Paul, Pleasanton, and Loup City. Ord was seeded number three with a 7-2 record before the tournament.

Tourney action opened with Ord drawing a bye and then downing Litchfield 15-3, 8-15, 15-3 in two out of three matches on Tuesday, October 17. Rhonda Brass led Ord scoring with 14 points. Vicki Mason was second with nine.

Team serving in that game was excellent, according to Ord coach Jan Weber. Ord served up 59 out of 63 attempts for 93.6 percent. Barb Kittle led Ord's attack with 12 ace spikes, and Vicki Mason added three.

In setting, Rhonda Brass has 25 out of 25 with nine assists. Coach Weber commented, "We did some very good things. Our ultimate goal is to bump, set, and spike the ball and we had a good number of these. With that kind of attack we were able to win the game without much trouble."

Semifinals
 Ord then advanced to playing Pleasanton Thursday, October 19. The girl Chants won that one 15-10 and 15-8. Vicki Mason led Ord scoring with 10 points and Kathy Hansen had six.

Barb Kittle and Vicki Mason

led Ord's attack. Vicki made good on 12 out of 13 attempts and had four ace spikes. Barb was 13 out of 16 with five ace attacks.

Rhonda Brass led Ord's setting with 24 out of 24 attempts and 12 assists.

"Our girls did a fine job of general playing against Pleasanton," coach Weber said. "They were very good spiking and our serves were very good." The team was 44 out of 52 attempts serving for 84.6 percent.

Finals
 Then came the finals, and with them Ord's upset by Ansley. Weber called them "... an excellent spiking team that played errorless ball. An error or two here and there (on Ord's part) was all it took."

"It was one of those games when the team was having an off night," she continued, "we have a very fine team" and credited her girls with 20 bumps, sets, and spikes during the finals match.

Central 10 Tourney
 Tuesday, October 24, Ord girls were scheduled for the Central 10 Tournament in York. They were to have played Crete in the opening round. So far, Crete has a 5-1 record according to Weber, and have tackled such powerhouses as York recently. They whipped the Dukettes in two out of three series recently.

Ninth Grade Ends Play with a Win

Ord freshmen concluded their gridiron season with a 22-8 victory over host O'Neill October 9. The win closes out the frosh season with a 2-3 record.

Their last win came when Mike Williams swept around the left end and scrambled for a 75 yard touchdown. That came when the ball was at the Ord 25, third and four to go.

The game opened when Jody Smith carried the ball into the end zone on a 30 yard run. The Chant understudies made good on the two point conversion attempt. Ord got the ball back a few plays later on a fumble near the O'Neill 40 yard line. Jody Smith went in again, 40 yards for the touchdown. The two point attempt was good, and the score was 16 at the half.

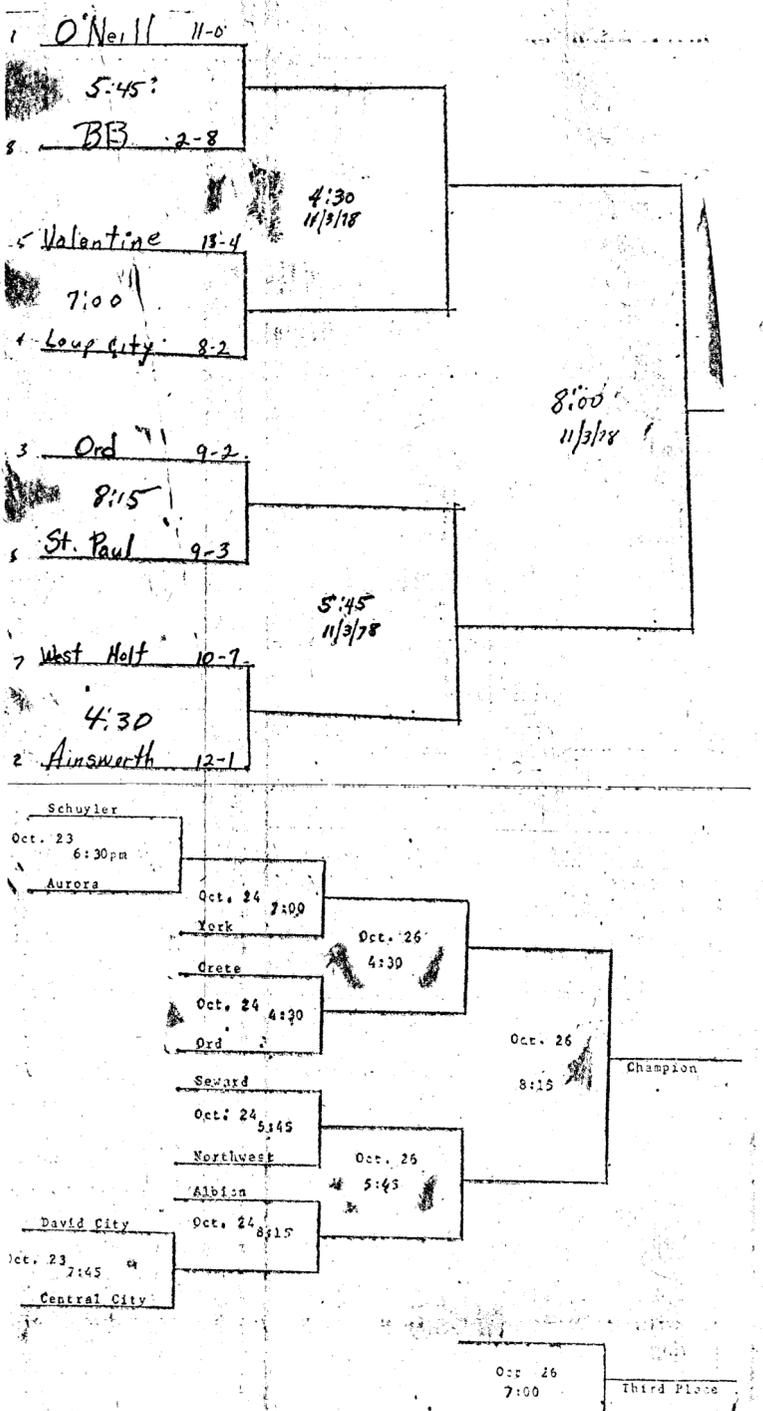

Early in the third quarter O'Neill scored their first and last touchdown and made on their two point bid. O'Neill kept up the pressure when Ord couldn't move the ball beyond the Ord 25 yard mark.

O'Neill took over and drove to the Ord 10 yard line. The defense dug in and held for four downs.

Then came the explosive run of Mike Williams, ending the game and the football season for the ninth graders.

Losses this year went to Albion, St. Paul, and Grand Island Northwest. Wins were at Burwell and O'Neill.

Arcadia Romps Over Sandhills-Dunning 50-12

Arcadia Huskies romped over Sandhills Dunning 50-12 Friday night. Arcadia coach John Cross commented, "We played with more emotion, more intensity than we have all year. The kids were ready."

Cross told the Quiz he had earlier told his players he wanted this game especially bad. Sandhills is one of his former coaching posts. The Huskies responded with a lopsided win for their pilot.

The fireworks started when Doug Cox scored on a 55 yard run in the middle of the first quarter. A Cox to Paul Hill pass was good for two points.

A solid goal line stand by Arcadia closed out first period play. The Huskies held Sandhills at the Huskies five yard line and then got the ball just as the quarter ended.

Early in the second stanza Mike Johnson plunged over on a four yard play. The two point try was no good.

Arcadia then recovered the ball on the Sandhills 35, and it was Cox again on a four yard run, in for a touchdown. Johnson went in for two on the conversion, making the score 22-0.

Just before that happened, Paul Hill connected with John Cox in the end zone for the two point conversion.

At the end of the third quarter Sandhills got on the board with six points, 42-6.

Sandhills kicked off, and Arcadia rap the ball down their throats in three quick plays. The two point conversion rounded out Arcadia's scoring for the night.

Sandhills got on the board late in the last quarter. A surprised Arcadia coach John Cross told the Quiz, "I didn't expect anything like this. I thought they had a better team." He mentioned Johnson having 134 yards in pass receptions and Cox with 122 yards rushing.

Next week, the Wildcats go to Wolbach to close out their season. With the win over Sandhills Friday, Arcadia's record is 3-3-1.

Indians Scalp Ord Chanticleers 18-7

BREAKING TACKLE — Kevin Valla (20) on his way to Ord's touchdown. Valla set that up by driving to the 10, the 5 and finally plunged over.

Back to back touchdowns and a last minute interception spiked Ord hopes for a victory Friday against guest Broken Bow. Host Ord Chanticleers were downed 18-7.

First half play was a series of maybes, almosts, and near misses. These started seconds after the kickoff when Barry Withersaw intercepted a pass near midfield. If the Chants had converted this into a solid drive, Ord might have had a homecoming win.

As it was, Withersaw ran to the 30 before being sacked in the backfield.

Another maybe came with Jeff Sich getting a fumble on the Broken Bow 44. Two plays later, Broken Bow got the ball back on another fumble setting up yet another situation for discussion by Saturday morning quarterbacks.

That came when Broken Bow Superstar Jeff Briggs lost the ball near the 35. Ord recovered and Valla sprinted to near the 40 before Ord fumbled and Broken Bow regained possession. This constantly changing scenario continued with Ord recovering the ball, passing, and Broken Bow intercepting.

Late in the first quarter, an official's ruling brought Ord coach Jim Blessen out on the field. That came after an Ord punt to near the Broken Bow 20. Officials ruled an Ord player touched the ball, and that Broken Bow had recovered it.

Blessen contended the player hadn't touched the ball and that officials weren't positioned correctly to make the call in the first place.

Officials listened to Blessen's side of the situation, and stuck by their decision.

Any advantage Broken Bow may have enjoyed was partially cancelled when back-to-back penalties got them a first and 20 call. Broken Bow came right back and nearly got a touchdown. But Ord's defense held them, and so it continued back and forth the rest of the first two quarters.

Two Touchdowns

Then came those two deadly touchdowns. The first of these came seconds after Ord kicked off to Broken Bow at the start of the second half. The Bow runner was halted at the 30, and Broken Bow pushed back 15 yards on a penalty.

Jeff Briggs got the ball and came screaming downfield for an 85 yard touchdown run.

The second game when Broken Bow Indian Dennis Poland blocked a punt near the 25. Broken Bow snatched the ball and ran it to the 17. After a fast sweep round the end Broken Bow was at the Ord 12.

A near carbon copy of the play put Indian Scott Doty in the end zone. The point after fizzled, and Broken Bow was ahead 12 points to Ord's 0.

Broken Bow took the punt, but couldn't keep the ball long. After Jeff Briggs carried up the middle, Ord's Dave Conner shared the ball near the Indian 37. His swift recovery helped engineer Ord's first touchdown of the game.

It was half back Kevin Valla and a face mask penalty that helped finish off the job. Ord's 166 pound halfback carried to near the 32 and then the 22. A face mask call against the Indians helped pave the way.

Valla banged his way inside the 10, the five and finally plunged over with 3:48 left in the quarter.

It was Valla's kick that gave Ord the extra point putting them in the 12-7 lead.

Broken Bow came back with a switch-pitch play that got them near their 30. Barry Withersaw then broke up an attempted pass attack and came near an interception. After a gain of two or three yards and then a few more, Broken Bow kicked to Ord.

Kalhoff ground forward for one or two yards and Sich carried to the 40. A fake punt set up a 40 yard run by Keith Pelton, but this apparent first down was shaded by a five yard penalty against Ord.

This time Ord did kick the ball, landing it inside the end zone. Officials brought it out to the 20 yard line.

Jeff Briggs then sprinted for 30 yards near the middle line and then carried the ball for a gain of about two. Indian players slowly moved to near the Ord 33 and then got a five yard penalty.

Welnik and Smith nailed an attempted draw play sacking the quarterback behind the line of scrimmage. The Indians countered with an option play that got them the first down.

After two runs up the middle, Broken Bow was inside the Ord 20. Jeff Briggs took a hand-off and slipped through to near the Ord 17, just short of first down. After one huge shove up the middle Broken Bow got the required last few yards.

The Indians kept the ball on the ground and in two plays had it at the Ord 10 yard line. A pass from Broken Bow quarterback Joe Eberle to Jeff Briggs in the end zone ended the drive.

One play after the kick-off, Broken Bow spiked Ord hopes for a comeback. Briggs picked off an Ord pass way down field and roaring back to the Ord 24.

Ord's Barry Withersaw thought he picked off a fumble and might save the day, but officials ruled the ball dead. The last few plays by Broken Bow were conservative, designed to eat up the clock.

Varsity Spikers Make It To Finals In Tournament

The Ord varsity volleyball team made it to the finals in the Loup City tournament before being eliminated. The Ord Lady Chants were downed by Ansley 15-10 and 15-4 Thursday, October 19.

There were 12 teams in the tournament. They were Ord, Litchfield, Grand Island Northwest, Ansley, Burwell, Ravena, Centura, Arcadia, Gibbon, St. Paul, Pleasanton, and Loup City. Ord was seeded number three with a 7-2 record before the tournament.

Tourney action opened with Ord drawing a bye and then downing Litchfield 15-3, 8-15, 15-3 in two out of three matches on Tuesday, October 17. Rhonda Brass led Ord scoring with 14 points. Vicki Mason was second with nine. Team serving in that game was excellent, according to Ord coach Jan Weber. Ord served up 59 out of 63 attempts for 93.6 percent. Barb Kittle led Ord's attack with 12 ace spikes, and Vicki Mason added three.

In setting, Rhonda Brass has 25 out of 25 with nine assists. Coach Weber commented, "We did some very good things. Our ultimate goal is to bump, set, and spike the ball and we had a good number of these. With that kind of attack we were able to win the game without much trouble."

Semifinals

Ord then advanced to playing Pleasanton Thursday, October 19. The gal Chants won that one 15-10 and 15-8. Vicki Mason led Ord scoring with 10 points and Kathy Hansen had six.

Town Spikers Nip Bartlett Garfield Co.

The Ord Town Team Volleyballers defeated Garfield County and Bartlett this past week to make their record a perfect 4-0.

The Garfield County scores were 15-12, 15-2 and 15-13. High scorers for Ord were Lois Pickar with 16 points and Jeannie Hyde with 8 points. In the second game of the match Lois Pickar ran off 15 straight points for Ord.

Ord disposed of Bartlett easily, 15-3, 15-6 and 15-6. High scorer were Judy Gottlob with 16 points and Monica Nelson with 11 points.

Ord's next game is November first at home with Loup City.

Broken Bow 0 0 12 6 18
Ord coach Jim Blessen commented the boys played well on defense but failed to execute on offense.

Tackles

Jim Welnik, 6 solos, 17 assists.
Dave Conner, 3 solos, 15 assists.
Russ Barnes, 2 solos, 12 assists.
Jim Smith, 3 solos, 12 assists.
Paul Began, 1 solo, 10 assists.
Keith Pelton, 1 solo, 10 assists.

This week Ord plays host to Gothenburg. Last year, Ord downed the Swedes 21-14. More recently, the Swedes swamped hapless Ogallala 42-6 last Friday.

SIDELINE EXPRESSIONS — A tense coach Jim Blessen and his crew paced the sidelines during the Ord-Broken Bow game here Friday. During the first half of play it was a defensive battle with neither side scoring.

led Ord's attack. Vicki made good on 12 out of 13 attempts and had four ace spikes. Barb was 13 out of 16 with five ace attacks.

Rhonda Brass led Ord's setting with 24 out of 24 attempts and 12 assists.

Our girls did a fine job of general playing against Pleasanton, coach Weber said. "They were very good spiking and our serves were very good."

The team was 44 out of 52 attempts serving for 84.6 percent.

Finals

Then came the finals, and with them Ord's upset by Ansley. Weber called them "... an excellent spiking team that played errorless ball. An error or two here and there (on Ord's part) was all it took."

"It was one of those games when the team was having an off night," she continued. "We have a very fine team," and credited her girls with 20 bump, sets, and spikes during the finals match.

Central 10 Tourney

Tuesday, October 23, Ord girls were scheduled for the Central 10 Tournament in York. They were to have played Crete in the opening round. So far, Crete has a 5-3 record according to Weber, and have tackled such powerhouse as York recently. They whipped the Dukettes in two out of three series recently.

York has been rated in the top five spiker teams in Class B Thursday, they were to play at 4:30, if they won first round action.

Ninth Grade Ends Play with a Win

Ord freshmen concluded their gridiron season with a 22-8 victory over host O'Neill October 9. The win closes out the frosh season with a 2-3 record.

Their last win came when Mike Williams swept around the left end and scrambled for a 75 yard touchdown run. That came when the ball was at the Ord 25, third and four to go.

The game opened when Jody Smith carried the ball into the end zone on a 30 yard run. The Chant understudies made good on the two point conversion attempt.

Ord got the ball back a few plays later on a fumble near the O'Neill 40 yard line. Jody Smith went in again, 40 yards for the touchdown. The two point attempt was good, and the score was 16-0 at the half.

Early in the third quarter O'Neill scored their first and last touchdown and made on their two point bid. O'Neill kept up the pressure when Ord couldn't move the ball beyond the Ord 25 yard mark.

O'Neill took over and drove to the Ord 10 yard line. The defense dug in and held for four downs.

Then came the explosive run of Mike Williams, ending the game and the football season for the ninth graders.

Losses this year were to Albion, St. Paul, and Grand Island Northwest. Wins were at Burwell and O'Neill.

Arcadia Roms Over Sandhills-Dunning 50-12

Arcadia Huskies romped over Sandhills Dunning 50-12 Friday night. Arcadia coach John Cross commented, "We played with more emotion, more intensity than we have all year. The kids were ready."

Cross told the Quiz he had earlier told his players he wanted this game especially bad. Sandhills is one of his former coaching posts. The Huskies responded with a lopsided win for their pilot.

The fireworks started when Doug Cox scored on a 55 yard run in the middle of the first quarter. A Cox to Paul Hill pass was good for two points.

A solid goal line stand by Arcadia closed out first period play. The Huskies held Sandhills at the Huskies five yard line and then got the ball just as the quarter ended.

Early in the second stanza Mike Johnson plunged over on a four yard play. The two point try was no good.

Arcadia then recovered the ball on the Sandhills 35, and it was Cox again on a four yard run, in for a touchdown. Johnson went in for two on the conversion, making the score 22-0.

It was Doug Cox once more near the end of the first half. His 12 yard run into the end zone made the score 28-0.

In third quarter action, the Huskies kept rolling right along. They had two touchdowns to the Sandhill Panthers' one. Arcadia first scored on a long 70 yard pass from John Cox to Mike Johnson. The extra point was off to one side and the score was 34-0.

Just before that happened, Paul Hill connected with John Cox in the end zone for the two point conversion.

At the end of the third quarter Sandhills got on the board with six points, 42-6.

Sandhills kicked off, and Arcadia ran the ball down their throats in three quick plays. The two point conversion rounded out Arcadia's scoring for the night.

Sandhills got on the board late in the last quarter.

A surprised Arcadia coach John Cross told the Quiz, "I didn't expect anything like this. I thought they had a better team." He mentioned Johnson having 134 yards in pass receptions and Cox with 122 yards rushing.

Next week, the Wildcats go to Wolbach to close out their season. With the win over Sandhills Friday, Arcadia's record is 3-3-1.

LID 302 NO

Before you vote on the lid bill Nov. 7th, answer the following questions:

- 1) What if there is a need for an emergency expenditure — a county bridge needs repairs — a school bus must be replaced — sewer or water lines break — where will that budget item get attention?
- 2) How are the needs of nursing homes, hospitals, airport authorities, local electric systems, libraries, schools and other community services in city, school and county budgets to be met?
- 3) If public employees such as firemen, policemen and teachers are laid off, what jobs are there in the community for them? If they can't find work in the community, who will patronize local business and industry?
- 4) Is local government the cause of inflation or the victim of it?

Linke-Rasmussen Score at State

Greg Linke and Bob Rasmussen qualified in the State Cross Country meet held in Kearney last week. Linke was 18th and Rasmussen 47th out of 103 runners.

They got their berth at the state meet by wins at the District tournament held in Albion earlier. An estimated 44 runners from nine schools turned out for that event.

Placings were:
1. Wisner-Pilger, 43 points.
2. West Holt, 45 points.

3. Albion, 51 points.
  4. Ord, 60 points.
  5. Wayne, 60 points (tie)
  6. O'Neill, 102 points.
  7. Broken Bow, 109 points.
  8. Alnsworth, 116.
  9. Hartington-Cedar Catholic, 120 points.
- In individual competition Greg Linke was first with 13:15, Bob Rasmussen second with a time of 13:48 and Kyle Novosad with a time of 14:08 was 16th. Neil Carson was 37th with 15:28 and John Scheidter was 46th with 15:45.
- All of the above and Tom Papiernick are lettermen.

Mrs. Charles Vancura Jr. Wins Quiz Football Contest

Mrs. Charles Vancura Jr., Ord, won this week's football contest by guessing 19 winners out of 24 state football games.

Mrs. Vancura picked Nebraska to beat Colorado 33 to 7 for her tie breaker score.

Randy Welniak, Elyria, and Esther Madsen, Ord, also picked 19 winners but were not as close with their tie breaker scores.

A $5.00 check is in the mail to Mrs. Vancura for her football guessing ability.

Rites Held Monday For Chester T. Papiernik

Chester T. Papiernik was born January 30, 1908 in Valley County, west of Ord, and died October 19, 1978 at the Valley County Hospital in Ord. He was 70.

He grew up on the family farm northeast of Elyria where he attended rural school later graduating from the Ord High School with the class of 1926. He farmed the home place until World War II began, then served four years in the U.S. Navy. Chester was united in marriage to Irene Osentowski on October 27, 1945 at Los Angeles, CA. They made their home on the family farm. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church at Elyria, the Elyria Lion's Club, and the Ord V.F.W.

Survivors include his wife Irene of Ord; one son, Michael of Lincoln; one daughter, JoAnn of Lincoln; two brothers, Steve of Ord, Louis of Eldorado Springs, MO and two sisters, Mrs. Ann Albers of Riverside, CA and Mrs. Helen Fluher of Omaha. He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother, Sylvester.

Funeral services were held Monday, October 23, 1978 at 10 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Elyria with Father Albert Godlewski, Father Stanley Gorak, and Father Raymond Oosdyke officiating. Burial was in the Ord Catholic Cemetery. Mrs. Irene Kapusta was the organist and pallbearers were Joe Kruml, Floyd Iwanski, Roman Lech, Adrian Kusek, Enos Zukoski, and Don Papiernik, A Rosary was held Sunday evening at 8 p.m. at the Ord Memorial Chapel.

Esther L. Meyer Rites at Scotia

Funeral services for Esther Lillie Meyer were held Tuesday, October 24, 1978 at 1:30 p.m. at the Salem United Methodist Church east of Scotia, with Rev. A. K. Saul officiating. Mrs. Gertrude Haysmeyer was the organist. Mrs. Irene Kapusta sang "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go," and "How Great Thou Art." Pallbearers were Roger Goldfish, Gordon Goldfish, Allen Meyer, Terry Meyer, Mark Meyer, Jay Meyer, and Don Kluthe. Burial was in the Mt. Hope Cemetery at Scotia with the Ord Memorial Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Esther Lillie Meyer, daughter of J. C. and Emma Richards

Sautter was born at Scotia on October 6, 1900 and died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in Kearney, October 21, 1978 at the age of 78 years.

Esther spent her entire life in the Fish Creek Community. At an early age she was baptized at the Fish Creek German Methodist Episcopal Church and on April 12, 1914 she joined the Church. On August 30, 1922 she was united in marriage to George Meyer at her parents' home. Their entire 56 years of married life were spent on the same farm east of Scotia. They were parents of three children.

Esther received her 50 year membership pin as a member of the Salem United Methodist Church and was a charter member of the Women's Society of Christian Service. She was also a charter member of the Happy Hour Extension Club which recently celebrated 41 years.

Survivors include her husband, George; one daughter, Erma and husband Harold Goldfish; two sons, Bernard and wife Norma, Richard and wife Vendell; nine grandchildren; and four great grandchildren; also two brothers, Albert and J. Y. Sautter both of Scotia, and two sisters, Mrs. Zena Barnes and Mrs. Luella Gydesen both of Scotia. She was preceded in death by her parents and six brothers.

Ralph A. Sperling Services at Ord

Ralph A. Sperling, the son of Herman and Mary Manchester Sperling, was born August 2, 1904 at Ashton and died October 19, 1978 at the rural farm home near Scotia at the age of 74.

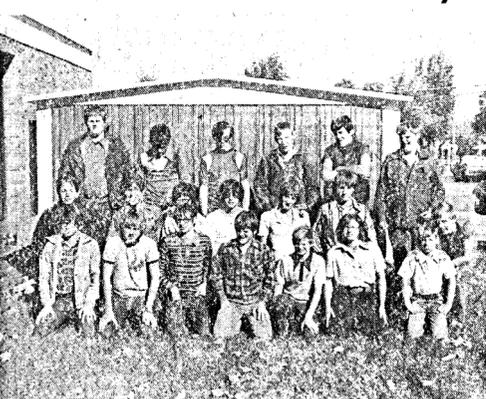

His early life was spent at Ashton where he attended rural public school.

On November 3, 1925 he was united in marriage to Ivy Ingraham at Loup City. After marriage they lived for a short period of time in Sherman County, then moved to a farm near North Loup for four years. In 1932 they moved to a farm west of Ord, later moving to the Burwell area until 1948 after which they moved to the farm in Greeley County west of Scotia. Mr. Sperling was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Ord.

Survivors include three daughters: Mrs. Evelyn Hiett, Littleton, CO; Mrs. Loretta McWilliams, Kent, WA; Mrs. Echo Durm, Overland Park, KS; one son, Rodney Sperling, Scotia; 17 grandchildren; four great grandchildren; two brothers, George of Ord and Leon of Wolbach; three sisters, Mrs. Mollie Nehler, Lincoln; Mrs. Ollie Peterson and Mrs. Eva Schudt, both of Grand Island.

Preceding him in death were his parents, two sisters and one grandchild. Funeral services were held Monday, October 23, 1978 at 10:30 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Ord with Rev. Dan E. Heitt and Rev. S. A. Hanke officiating. Burial was in the Hillside Cemetery at North Loup with the Ord Memorial Chapel in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Zola Schudel was the organist for Mrs. Nola McCready as she sang, "Peace I Leave With You," and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."

FFA Greenhand Ceremony

Tuesday, October 16, the Ord FFA Chapter had their annual Greenhand Ceremony. A total of 23 Greenhands were initiated into the FFA.

The Greenhands are as follows: Wesley Albright, Loren Bendyskowski, David Burson, Ann Conner, Darrell Conner, Ben Edwards, Deann Hopkins, Steven Iwanski, James, Mary Lueck, Raymond Maly, Bruce Petska, Dan Pierce, Randy Psota, Sterling Ritz, Steven Setlik, Jody Smith, Emil Sonnenfeld, Brad Spilnek, Bernadette Thomsen, Craig Vancura, Kevin Wagner, and Greg Wilson.

Of the 23 Greenlands, nine creed speakers consisting of Wesley Albright, Darrell Conner, Randy Psota, Sterling Ritz, Steven Setlik, Brad Spilnek, Bernadette Thomsen, Kevin Wagner and Ann Conner recited the creed.

Three judges, Jim Sajovic, Jean Bruba and Alice Berigan judged the speakers on their presentations. While the judges tabulated the scores, Julie Scheideler showed a slide presentation of Range Camp which she attended this year. There was also an open house in the Ag Shop in which instructor Frank Andreesen explained the shop to the guests, what class time the shop is being used and what rules the students have to follow.

After the open house, lunch was served and the winners were announced. Sterling Ritz won the contest and received a plaque. Brad Spilnek was second, receiving an FFA shirt, and Kevin Wagner was third and received an ID bracelet.

Since Sterling won the contest, he will represent Ord in the District 5 FFA contest. Approximately 80 members and guests were present at the ceremony. FFA Reporter, Don Proskocil nursing home occupancy rose from 87.4 percent to 93.5 percent, according to Edzards. The long-term section of the hospital showed a profit of $2,854, up sharply from a $6,478 loss posted at this time last year. Asked about plans for the new year, Edzards replied, "The lid bill could do a lot with that. If restricted to the five percent budget increase, ceiling of the hospital would have to farm out various services. That is, these would be provided under contract and not by the hospital itself" of Ackles Oil Company, 100 North 15th, requested the council give him some restricted parking space and/or access to his service station. He has received a parking ticket for cars belonging to him parked near the station, he said. The council said they would look into this.

Cable TV Eldon Mulligan told councilmen he had a plan for cable television ready to go. He and another unnamed person would manage cable television for Ord, he said.

After discussion on the matter, the council set aside November 13 to hear proposals on cable TV for Ord. The meeting will start at 7:30 in council chambers in City Hall.

The council reviewed city ordinances for approval next month and handled various routine items before adjourning at 11:15 p.m.

NEBRASKA FARM BUREAU FEDERATION
By M. M. Van Kirk, Director of Information

The technical revolution in U.S. farming is not only continuing but is apparently accelerating. Farm machinery continues to get bigger, more complicated, more automated, and certainly more expensive.

That is one major conclusion anyone, even non-farmers, would draw from the vast assemblage of farm machinery and equipment, new products, new supplies and services which were on display Oct. 10 to 12 at Husker Harvest Days sponsored by the Nebraska Farmer and the Agricultural Institute of Nebraska on grounds of the Army ordnance depot at Grand Island.

The revolution in U.S. agricultural production continues to be one of the most phenomenal accomplishments in the history of civilization. From 1910 to 1930, agricultural production in this country remained fairly static. Tractors were slowly replacing horsepower and productivity gains were being made but at a relatively low level rate.

Agriculture struggled through the 1930's, hampered by drought, low prices and lack of capital. Good economic times returned in the 1940's with a wartime spur to production, prices and incentives. The technical revolution really took over in the 1950's, expanded in the 1960's and became a headlong race to cope with the inflation of the 1970's. Obviously the end is not in sight.

American farmers today produce over 53 per cent more crops on 6 per cent fewer acres than did their fathers. Today, 1 hour of farm labor produces nearly 9 times as much food and other crops as it did in the 1919-21 period.

This year it is estimated that one farmer supplies enough food and fiber for himself and 56 other people. Just 10 years ago he was producing enough for 29.

According to the 1974 U.S. Census of Agriculture (latest available), Americans consumed an average of 187 pounds of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton; 50 pounds of chicken and turkey; 80 pounds of fresh fruits (plus 51 pounds of processed fruit and juice); 100 pounds of fresh vegetables (plus 64 pounds of canned and frozen vegetables); 540 pounds of dairy products and 117 pounds of potatoes. We also used 18 pounds of cotton, 1 pound of wool and 616 pounds of paper per person.

In addition, U.S. farmers exported more farm products than those of any other nation in the world. An estimated 1 out of every 4 acres of their production goes to the international market. For the current marketing year, U.S. agricultural exports are projected to exceed $26 billion, a great help not only to the farm sector but a tremendous contribution toward helping the nation in its battle to achieve a favorable balance of trade and bolster the value of the dollar in international trade.

All of this is tied to the technical revolution in U.S. farming which has had to compete and improve in order to survive. Costs of production have regularly forced many farmers to retire early or leave the farm to go into other vocations. Farm and ranch units continue to get larger as some operators choose to take the risks and make the capital investments that must be made to increase the size of their operations.

"Getting bigger" is not all good but in many cases the alternatives are unacceptable. The best managers will strike a balance. Every farmer doesn't need a $60,000 to $100,000 monster tractor or a 16 row planter on his particular operating unit. Hopefully the majority of farmers and ranchers in this country will continue to be "family farmers," but reality says they will never again be "small" in the oldtime concept of that description.

Lower Loop Natural Resources District

It's been quite some time since I have reported on the going on with water issues. The Nebraska Natural Resources Commission is involved, along with several state agencies, in the writing of a draft work plan for the state water planning process.

The directives putting the planning process into motion came through LB 37 and Legislative Resolution 300. In the directive the Legislature gives some direction on the content of the state water planning process. Included are the relationship to ground and surface waters, minimum stream flows, ground-water ownership, and riparian water rights.

The Natural Resources Commission was designated as the lead agency in the development of the work plan. When the draft was submitted for review, we were disappointed to find that the work plan contained a provision for establishing a State Water Council. According to the wording the Water Council was to be made up of the department heads of the state agencies with an interest in water resources.

The Water Council concept caused a great deal of concern by our District and many others. The Council would take the decision-making powers on water issues from the Natural Resources Commission and place it in the hands of appointed state agency heads. The Water Council would include the Department of Environmental Control, State Office of Planning & Programming, State Health Department, Nebraska Department of Water Resources, and Conservation & Survey Division, UNL.

The main objection is that the Natural Resources Commission members are elected representatives from the NRDs serving from the State's river basins. Those opposing the Water Council concept strongly believe that decisions on important water issues must be left in the hands of elected officials. The formation of the Water Council would place the power with the governor who appoints the before-mentioned agency heads.

Other important meetings are scheduled for this winter on the Section 208 planning process. The 208 program is aimed at the so-called non-point pollution control which includes agriculture and farming operations. Water quality in Nebraska's streams and the rating of streams will receive a great deal of attention.

The Loup Basin Policy Advisory Committee will be meeting at the ND Office in Ord, on November 15 to review and comment on the progress of the non-point pollution planning efforts to date.

Ord FFA Group Urges Fire Safety

Ord FFA members know fire is bad news for any farm or ranch family. Most fires can be prevented.

Should fire strike, lives can be saved by early warning devices and precautionary measures.

Six fire prevention steps recommended by the Ord FFA Chapter include:

- Teaching children to respect fire and not play with matches.
- Clearing away trash, paper, rags and other combustible debris.
- Storing flammable liquids in sturdy metal containers.
- Keeping electrical wiring and other equipment in good condition.
- Installing one or more smoke detectors in a residence for early fire warning.
- And installing other early warning devices.

Ord FFA members hope these fire safety tips have helped you discover fire dangers and have given steps to correct them.

Staab Is Literary Society Vice Pres.

David Bernard Staab, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard D. Staab of Berwyn, has been elected vice president of Nu Delta Chi Literary Society at Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. A senior at BJU majoring in premed, he is a 1974 graduate of Ord High School.

Membership in one of the 42 literary societies is open to the more than 5,600 students who attend Bob Jones University, which is often called the "World's Most Unusual University." The literary societies sponsor intramural competition in debating, sports, etc.

Bob Jones University is a coeducational, liberal arts, Christian institution. Its student body comes from every state in the Union and about 30 foreign countries and territories.

Golden Harvest Award Presented

Earl Leininger of Arcadia is receiving a high yield award from Golden Harvest hybrids for his yield in the 1978 Golden Yields Achievement, a project - studying corn growers who are striving for higher yields.

Mr. Leininger's entry yield was 152.4 bushels per acre made (irrig.) with Golden Harvest H-2500. His field was planted on May 13 in 36 inch rows. Final plant population was 22,000 per acre. When the field was harvested on Oct. 11 the moisture had reached 21.3 percent.

Farmers all over the cornbelt who are taking part in the Golden Yields Achievement project this year must machine harvest a minimum of one acre from adjacent rows running the length of our producers? Harvest, of course, and it's been a good year except the price, so what's new about that? We do want to remind you to be careful. We can't afford to lose any readers. How about it wives... remind Dad to watch that power machinery.

Another reminder, and it comes often from our friends at A.S.C.S. Check that corn in storage for spoilage. Don't take a step forward with a good yield and have to take it backwards with spoiled corn in storage.

of the field. A disinterested witness' presence is required during harvest. All yields are converted to No. 2 corn.

Possession: March 1st, 1979

COMMENTS:

This combination farm is located adjacent to Burwell and across the highway from the North Loup River. It consists of choice irrigated river valley bottom land and adjoining pasture land. This farm has been in the Banks family for over 80 years and is only being sold at this time in order to settle with 18 heirs from various estates over the years. Normally, a choice farm such as this would not be offered for sale.

173.2 Acres is gravity irrigated from the North Loup River Public Power & Irrigation District and is highly productive. According to A.S.C.S. records, there are 214 Acres total cropland. The pasture is native grasses and of excellent quality.

The building site is nicely painted, well kept and with a beautiful lawn. The house is modern, and the remainder of the buildings in good repair. There is a nice orchard.

The 1977 real estate taxes average $2.96 per acre for the entire farm.

It is seldom that a farm of this quality located adjacent to Burwell is offered for sale. Burwell has one of the largest livestock markets in the west, with sales each Friday. There are several grain storage facilities available in Burwell for the storage of the grain crop, with a very short hauling expense.

This is an opportunity for a money-making combination farm to be purchased, either by an owner-operator or for investment purposes.

TERMS OF SALE:

15% on date of sale, 10% on date of confirmation by District Court, and balance on March 1, 1979 when possession will be given.

TEXT OF PROPOSED ACT FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BEVERAGE CONTAINERS:

To define terms to provide for a refund to be provided by the Liquor Control Commission; to provide penalties; and to provide an operative date.

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska:

Section 1. It is the intent of this legislation to manage the conservation of energy and natural resources through promoting the use of refillable beverage containers.

Section 2. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

- (1) Beverage shall mean beer or other malt beverages, mineral water, soda water, and similar carbonated soft drinks in liquid form intended for human consumption;
- (2) Beverage container shall mean the individual, separate, sealed glass, metal or plastic bottle, can, jar, or carton containing a beverage;
- (3) Dealer shall mean any person in this state who engages in the sale of beverages in beverage containers to a consumer;
- (4) Distributor shall mean any person who engages in the sale of beverages in beverage containers to a dealer in this state including any manufacturer who engages in such sale;
- (5) In this state shall mean within the boundaries of the State of Nebraska and include all territory within such limits owned by or ceded to the United States of America;
- (6) Manufacturer shall mean any person who, bottles, cans, or otherwise fills beverage containers for sale to any distributor or dealer;
- (7) Place of business of a dealer shall mean the location at which a dealer sells or offers for sale beverages in beverage containers to consumers; and
- (8) Use or consumption shall include the exercise of any right or power over a beverage incident to the ownership thereof, other than the sale or the keeping or retention of a beverage for the purpose of sale.

Section 3. Every beverage container sold or offered for sale in this state shall have a refund value of not less than five cents.

Section 4. Except as provided in section 4 of this act:

- (1) A dealer shall not refuse to accept from any person any empty beverage containers of the kind, size, and brand sold by the distributor, or refuse to pay the dealer the refund value of a beverage container as established by section 3 of this act; and
- (2) A distributor shall not refuse to accept from a dealer any empty beverage container of the kind, size, and brand sold by the distributor, or refuse to pay the dealer the refund value of a beverage container as established by section 3 of this act.

Section 5. (1) A dealer may refuse to accept from a person, and a distributor may refuse to accept from a dealer any empty beverage container which does not state thereon a refund value as established by section 3 of this act.

- (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1) of this section, no dealer shall be required to accept from a person, nor shall a distributor be required to accept from a dealer, any container which is broken, not empty, or not reasonably clean.

Section 6. (1) Every beverage container sold or offered for sale in this state by a dealer shall clearly indicate by embossing or by a stamp, or by a label or other method securely affixed to the beverage container, the refund value of the container.

- (2) Subsection (1) of this section shall not apply to glass beverage containers designed for beverages having a brand name permanently marked thereon which, prior to the operative date of this act, had a refund value of not less than five cents.

Section 7. Any political subdivision of the state authorized to levy a tax or cause a tax to be levied shall limit its budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year to an amount not to exceed five percent more than its budget for the 1978-79 fiscal year, except as provided in Sections 13 through 16 of this Article; and for each fiscal year after the 1979-80 fiscal year, its budget shall not exceed the previous fiscal year's budget by more than five percent, except as provided in Sections 13 through 16 of this Article. Budget shall mean and include all funds except such funds as are used for employer's contributions under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act and as are used to pay interest on or for retiring, refinancing, or servicing bonded indebtedness during the upcoming fiscal year, and amounts referred to in Section 16 of this Article. No tax shall be levied or an amount budgeted in excess of the limitation contained in this section for the purpose of acquiring buildings, the erection of buildings, and additions to buildings without a majority vote of the qualified electors voting in any such election, which election shall be conducted as the Legislature shall provide by general law; provided, no such election shall be required as to any buildings acquired, erected or added to under the Provisions of Article XIII, Section 2 of this Constitution.

Section 8. The Nebraska Liquor Control Commission shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary for enforcement of labeling, embossing or exemption from such labeling or embossing requirements as found in Section 6 of this act. They shall also develop necessary procedures for adequate public notice and enforcement of this act.

Section 9. The provisions of this act shall become operative on June 1, 1979.

TEXT OF MEASURE BEING REFERRED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF NEBRASKA:

Be it enacted by the people of the State of Nebraska:

That Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska be amended by adding six new sections, to be numbered 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17, as follows:

Section 12. Every political subdivision of the state authorized to levy a tax or cause a tax to be levied shall limit its budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year to an amount not to exceed five percent more than its budget for the 1978-79 fiscal year, except as provided in Sections 13 through 16 of this Article; and for each fiscal year after the 1979-80 fiscal year, its budget shall not exceed the previous fiscal year's budget by more than five percent, except as provided in Sections 13 through 16 of this Article. Budget shall mean and include all funds except such funds as are used for employer's contributions under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act and as are used to pay interest on or for retiring, refinancing, or servicing bonded indebtedness during the upcoming fiscal year, and amounts referred to in Section 16 of this Article. No tax shall be levied or an amount budgeted in excess of the limitation contained in this section for the purpose of acquiring buildings, the erection of buildings, and additions to buildings without a majority vote of the qualified electors voting in any such election, which election shall be conducted as the Legislature shall provide by general law; provided, no such election shall be required as to any buildings acquired, erected or added to under the Provisions of Article XIII, Section 2 of this Constitution.

Section 13. Any political subdivision of the state authorized to levy a tax or cause a tax to be levied shall limit its budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year to an amount not to exceed five percent more than its budget for the 1978-79 fiscal year, except as provided in Sections 13 through 16 of this Article; and for each fiscal year after the 1979-80 fiscal year, its budget shall not exceed the previous fiscal year's budget by more than five percent, except as provided in Sections 13 through 16 of this Article. Budget shall mean and include all funds except such funds as are used for employer's contributions under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act and as are used to pay interest on or for retiring, refinancing, or servicing bonded indebtedness during the upcoming fiscal year, and amounts referred to in Section 16 of this Article. No tax shall be levied or an amount budgeted in excess of the limitation contained in this section for the purpose of acquiring buildings, the erection of buildings, and additions to buildings without a majority vote of the qualified electors voting in any such election, which election shall be conducted as the Legislature shall provide by general law; provided, no such election shall be required as to any buildings acquired, erected or added to under the Provisions of Article XIII, Section 2 of this Constitution.

Section 14. Each year, the Legislature may by resolution suspend, by a four-fifths vote, the budget limitations provided for in Sections 12 and 13 of this Article. In the resolution to suspend the Legislature shall set forth (1) the reasons for the suspension, (2) the political subdivisions affected by the sus-

Section 15. If the governing body of any political subdivision of the state authorized to levy a tax or cause a tax to be levied determines that a budget higher than that permitted in Section 12, Section 13 or Section 14 of this Article is needed, it shall by resolution call for a special election of such political subdivision for that purpose. The budget increase above the limit permitted in Section 12, Section 13 or Section 14 of this Article may be adopted if approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting in such election. The resolution calling for the election, the election notice, and the proposition appearing in the election ballot shall refer to Section 12, Section 13 or Section 14 of this Article, and shall state that the limitation contained therein is proposed to be exceeded and show the proposed increase in the budget amount in terms of dollars and percentage over the limitation as computed in Section 12, Section 13 or Section 14 of this Article, and in terms of dollars and the percent of increase over the current budget. All such elections shall be held on the third Tuesday in July of the year in which taxes will be levied to fund the budget. The form of submission upon the ballot shall be as follows:

FOR exceeding the constitutional budget limit.

AGAINST exceeding the constitutional budget limit.

Section 16. To the extent any budget category or revenue source is increased as the result of a decision based upon the provisions of the Constitution of the United States, by a court of competent jurisdiction, the amount of the increase in the budget limit or revenue source for that category shall not be considered a part of the budget for purposes of Section 12, Section 13 or Section 14 of this Article.

Section 17. The provisions of Sections 12 through 16 of this Article shall be self-executing, but the Legislature may enact legislation to facilitate their operation.

Respectfully submitted,
ALLEN J. BEERMANN
Secretary of State
(Publish three times, weeks of October 15, 22 and 29, 1978)

ARGUMENTS AGAINST INITIATIVE MEASURE #302

Initiative Measure #302 would:

- 1. Not reduce property taxes;
- 2. Give the State control over local government's ability to meet the needs of citizens;
- 3. Have little or no effect on the cost of welfare but could curtail vital services;
- 4. Curtail the use of federal funds for local needs.

Larry Miller in NATO Exercise

Navy Chief Data Systems Technician Larry J. Miller, son of Velina D. Summers of Arcadia, is participating in the major NATO exercise "Display Determination".

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Albany, homeported in Gaeta, Italy. His ship is operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

"Display Determination" is designed to demonstrate and improve NATO's capability to reinforce and resupply Southern Europe.

His command has joined with forces from Belgium, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the Federal Republic of Germany for the exercise.

The exercise began with ships from Portugal, the United Kingdom and the U.S. rendezvousing in the Eastern Atlantic. This naval force proceeded through the Strait of Gibraltar and joined with additional American and Italian ships in the Western Mediterranean. Other surface ships, submarines, and land based aircraft are acting as 'aggressors' and simulating attacks as the NATO ships transit the Mediterranean for an amphibious landing in Southern Greece.

A 1963 graduate of Arcadia High School, Miller joined the Navy in June 1963.

READ ISAIAH 53:1-6

"He was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that made us whole, and with his stripes we are healed." (Isaiah 53:5 RSV)

One day when my paternal grandfather was quite young, he was severely disciplined by his mother. In his rage he went a short distance from their rural home and sat down on a log to vent his anger. Now and then he would look up at his mother, busy with her outside chores. He began to notice that she was wiping her eyes with her apron.

After awhile it dawned upon him that maybe his mother's tears were caused by his errant ways. His heart began to melt, and soon he ran to his mother, threw his arms around her neck, and they both wept.

My grandfather claims this time as the day of his conversion. He realized that his mother, like Jesus, was suffering because of his disobedience. Both rejoiced in each other's arms that all was forgiven and that the rift between them had been healed. He saw an image of the Savior's love through his mother.

PRAYER: Lord Jesus, Thou art the Good Shepherd who searches for the lost, and doth not weary until they are found and resting quietly in Thy healing bosom. Hallelujah! Amen.

Election Preview

301. Bottle Bill Initiative

(Editor's Note: Nebraskans will be voting on 10 issues when they go to the general election polls on November 7. So that voters can better understand these important issues that would change the State's Constitution the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with the Ord Quiz has prepared a series of news reports on each of the 10 proposed issues. Each story in the series concentrates on a single issue, briefly defining the issue, explaining its purpose and finally stating arguments both for and against the issue.)

The following is the ninth in the special public service series. "The object of this petition is to vote on the issue of whether to enact an act relating to beverage containers providing for a refund of not less than 5 cents on all beverage containers."

PURPOSE: The bottle bill would ban throw-away pop and beer cans and bottles and set up a deposit system for returnables.

SUPPORT: Recycling would be encouraged, saving resources and discouraging waste. People would be less likely to litter. Roadside cans and bottles would be collected for the refund. Energy used in the manufacture of cans and bottles would be conserved.

OPPOSITION: Workers in container factories may lose their jobs. There would be more shipping and handling expenses for retailers and possible sanitary problems at retail collection points. Littering of other types of containers and trash would continue. Energy and water would be wasted in cleaning bottles. Consumers would pay extra.

Ed Wlaschins Win Free Pork Supper

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wlaschin of Spalding are winners of two pork suppers at DJ's Supper Club in North Loup. They won the honor by being parents of the first baby born in Greeley County during the month long October Pork Fest sponsored by Mid-State Pork Producers.

Little Tiffany Lynn arrived October 7 at the Albion Hospital. The Wlaschins live on a farm near Spalding.

MIRA VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Luoma joined cousins at the home of Mrs. Ruby Prickett at Spalding Sunday. A cousin, Mrs. Bernice Hamilton of Olympia, WA was the honor guest. Other cousins were Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bundy and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Fish, all of Ord. The Luomas visited here, and Mrs. Eva McNeilis at Greeley and she accompanied them to Spalding. On the way home they called at the George Meyer home at Scotia.

Sandrock Concert

Leslie Sandrock will present a concert on Saturday, October 28, at 8 p.m. at Freedom House in North Loup. The concert will feature Leslie's clear vocal style, 12-string guitar, and her captivating personality. Leslie adds a unique blend of humor that is just the touch to make people feel at home. A 1978 graduate of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota, and daughter of an Air Force General, she has lived on three continents and traveled in at least four foreign countries. Says Leslie, "It's complicated explaining when people ask me where I am from. It's been hard moving around but it's been worth it having been to the places I've been and met the people I've met." This allows Leslie to feel at home in any setting. Home is not a geographical location as her songs indicate and Leslie's enthusiasm is not in the sights she's seen or the places she's been, but in the Rock, Jesus Christ. Leslie's voice and soft spoken style make her easy to get to know. For more information call Wesley Rice at 496-2411. Call in your news—728-3262

Whose Fault?

Monday's city council meeting was a corker by any standards. An estimated 30 to 40 persons packed council chambers in City Hall and raised thunder over two approved paving districts.

According to comments made, those persons in the two districts didn't realize where the districts were, didn't know that a public hearing October 9 in council chambers was to hear protests, and were amazed to find themselves in the middle of the two areas scheduled to be paved.

Because they didn't know of the newly approved districts, the protestors requested the council to rescind the two areas.

Their argument leaves us dumfounded. The Quiz told of the districts being created in a front page article, and in a later issue carried a boxed announcement telling the time, place and date of the protest hearing.

Along with this, city council members ran all required legal notices.

Viewing these facts, we wonder how those in the districts escaped notice of where the two districts would run. And, if they didn't know of the districts until after they were approved, we wonder just whose fault it was? Theirs, or the city council's?

One excuse offered was that the Quiz didn't run a map of the proposed districts, as was done in earlier districts, prior to their approval at the October 9 public hearing. For this reason, said their lawyer J. Marvin Weems, his clients didn't have the slightest idea where the two districts would go. So he claimed.

While that argument is interesting, it poses yet another question. To wit: If this be true, then why was it people in other paving districts approved at the same time apparently knew where they would go.

One wise guy suggested a low literacy rate in the two districts drawing so much flack. Another, perhaps more logical explanation is that these sorely uninformed or misinformed people didn't take time to stop, look, and learn what was going on with the city council.

Remarks made by Dr. Ous Miller tend to confirm this latter explanation. During the session Monday, he suggested the council may have proposed and later approved the paving districts behind closed doors. Nonsense! These and all other paving districts were created, approved, and public hearings held on them in open council sessions at City Hall.

If these ill-informed people didn't take time to find out what was going on, it was their own darn fault, and not that of the City Council.

Perhaps their lawyer Marvin Weems could explain it to them this way: Ignorance of the law is no excuse.

Working Without Pay?

Though Nebraska law, governing school districts of Class II and III, states, in part, "Secretary of the board of education of a district of the second class, within ten days after any regular or special meeting thereof, shall publish one time in a legal newspaper published in or of general circulation in such district a list of claims, setting forth the name, amount and nature," it's been our experience with the Ord Board of Education to have to frequently remind them of their duty.

The aforementioned law was established so taxpaying citizens would know how their money was being spent. We feel every citizen should rightfully be provided with this information. This allows an accounting of all monies expended by the school district.

A large part of these claims — over 50% — are for salaries of school personnel including teachers and administrators. According to the law payments of these salaries and wages should be published as are any other claims against the school district.

We are sure the teachers and administrators aren't working without pay. Yet no such claims have showed up in the listing provided for publication under Nebraska law.

We wonder, first if such claims are being withheld in fear of the forthcoming vote on the Lid Bill placing a 5% limit on school spending.

Secondly we wonder how a six-member Board of Education can overlook such an obvious law when they are regularly publishing claims of private enterprises against the same school district, mandated under the same law.

We feel taxpayers have a right to know where ALL THEIR MONEY IS SPENT, and not simply that portion the Board of Education selects for publication.

Let's Hear It for Spirit Week Organizers

Hey! Let's hear it for the Ord High Student Council, Pat Grove, and Mrs. Jim Hansen, organizers of Spirit Week. In previous years the annual event has been observed, but this year it was OBSERVED.

The students got all fired up for the Broken Bow-Ord game with everything from a best legs contest to a huge bonfire on the small ball diamond. Students were selling carnations (red and white — what else?) in the school Friday. A big pep rally that same day capped a week of frantic activity all geared for the Ord High Homecoming.

During the game that night, the identity of the Ord High Homecoming Queen was revealed.

It took some time, consideration, and hard work to get this act together. Our congratulations to all Spirit Week and Homecoming organizers. Bravo!

Report Says Nebraskans Want State To Provide More Services

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association
Lincoln — A recent report said a majority of Nebraskans desire state government to do more in providing services.

Sociological Research, the report was part of a continuing study on the quality of life in the Cornhusker state.

Nearly 2,000 Nebraskans, 18 or older, were interviewed by telephone during the survey last spring.

Robbing Peter to Pay Paul

(From the Nebraska-Iowa Electrical Council's publication "Currents" August-September 1978)

Taxpayers have long suspected it, but it took a set of economists at Ford Motor Co. to come up with proof that there are more people being supported by tax dollars than there are workers in the private sector to support them.

Adding up government employees, the military on active duty, the disabled and unemployed, the retired and those on welfare, Ford economists found a total of 80,655,000 tax dependents compared with 71,650,000 non-government workers.

Halloween Hazards

By the Insurance Information Institute
Halloween, intended to be a happy time for donning masks and stuffing sacks full of candy, doesn't have to be a scary evening for parents.

This year, as approximately 33 million school children nationwide prepare for their annual trek from door to door on October 31, the Insurance Information Institute warns motorists and parents of the potential hazards of Halloween activities.

According to the Institute, the highest incidence of automobile accidents involving pedestrians is among children ages 5 to 9. Many of these accidents occur between intersections, and the number of this type of accident increases sharply at night, especially in urban areas.

The Institute stresses the importance of children's vision not being obstructed by masks; costumes should be short enough to avoid tripping and not so bulky as to allow the child to be caught by objects.

The Institute offers the following safety tips:

- Never allow young children to trick-or-treat alone.
- Use make-up instead of masks or headgear that obstruct the child's vision.
- Use reflective tape on dark colored clothing and on trick-or-treat bags.
- Make sure that costumes are made of non-flammable material.

Do not use lighted jack-o'-lanterns or candles near children or flammable materials such as paper decorations.

Inspect ALL treats before allowing children to eat them.

Plan Halloween parties at home or at neighborhood facilities, whenever possible.

Motorists are advised to drive slowly and to be alert in case a child darts out from between parked cars. The Institute also urges motorists to be extremely cautious when backing out of driveways. One final word of caution to motorists: KEEP YOUR SPEED DOWN.

Although not all Halloween hazards can be eliminated, parents and motorists can help make this Halloween safer for millions of youngsters by observing these safety tips.

We Love the Chicken

It was a shiny, golden blue-eyed day — perfect in every phase; 80 or 85 degrees, say.

We left home about 9:30 a.m. to go 20-25 miles north to the Sports Stadium where we expected a treat; watching the San Diego Chargers' buck the Miami Dolphins.

Both sides expected to win. Some 50,000 people came to see the fray, and to cheer loudly.

We took a huge jug of ice water and plenty of braunschweiger sandwiches. Also the Sunday paper, lawn chairs, and big hats. I wore my cherished, turned-up, rough straw, flat and huge.

It kept thawing out. It got to 75 degrees, then 80. Perspiration was everywhere. We dripped. We mopped.

We established a beachhead near the exit, in a corner of the vast parking area. Set out our lawn chairs, turned on the radio, settled down with the paper. Read and listened in the hot sun (got my customary ugly red sunburn). Waited for the one o'clock game.

A cream-colored Mercedes slid in beside us — a friendly couple emerged and set up a barbecue grill, asked if we minded, perched chicken halves thereon. Yes, we minded; they smelled scrumptious! So did the bacon-wrapped hors-d'oeuvres, as they toasted.

Cars whizzed by into the blocks of parking space, nearly every one shiny-new, beautiful, mostly full of happy people. Hundreds of expensive RV's coasted past us, established themselves noisily and happily.

These tailgate parties are something modern, fascinating, loud, jolly, some are elaborate, some are simple like ours.

One huge one called itself "The Leftovers". It was the last of a few dozen people in a group that had met at games for years and years. They came suitably attired in shorts, tuxedo jackets, top hats, freak ties. They feasted on turkey, caviar, fruit cake, sausages, fancy casseroles. About 50 people lined the long, long table.

Everywhere you looked there was popcorn, peanuts, (Jimmy Carter?), beer, cokes, pepsi-colas, and after we climbed and descended and climbed again to our seats — there were still many munchers and slurpers.

One reason? Hotdogs were $1. Beer was $1. Too rich for some who had already paid $8.50 per seat, like us.

The younger generation was quite bare. Guys wore only shorts, Period. And lovely tans. Gals wore as little as possible, like hanky tops, plus short shorts.

But lots and lots and oodles of hair of course. I grew really tired of the draggly long would-be blonde, trailing, not-too-shiny tresses. (Would love to have sneaked around with a pair of scissors). Don't say I don't have a dirty mind.

The game? It was atrocious.

We expected great things from Leif Cronk's cherished Johnny Rogers. He may as well have been a water boy. He was used to take in the messages!

Oh well, he did run back a couple of times, nothing great — say 50 yards in all. It was dismal to these two Nebraskans.

At the end of the third quarter we left quietly but disgustedly. (The score, then? 28 to 21 — for Miami. Just as it finished.)

The delight of the day was the playful fuzzy-red-costumed station KCG chicken, who cawts at all San Diego games. He dances, exercises his long yellow legs, portrays grief, gaiety, happiness, slumber, prancing about the aisles or the sides of the field. Children and adults all love the gleeful clown, who has become world famous. He has been offered $20, or $30 thousand more per year than he makes here to appear elsewhere... but he loves San Diego. And San Diego loves him.

Investigation into the allegations to the attorney general.

Exon reiterated his request to all other major Republican candidates to repudiate Shasteen, adding that if a Democrat made unfounded charges, it would be an embarrassment to the other candidates and to the party.

But Shasteen said even if there is no reason for a criminal investigation, the letter offering the copying machines to the ASCS offices was improper and demonstrated a conflict of interest.

In another development in the senatorial campaign, the man Shasteen said had information about the Exon administration that should be investigated said he was not accusing the governor of wrongdoing.

The man, later identified as Mayor Robert Melcher of Lincoln, said he had run into considerable difficulty in obtaining a proper investigation of the sale of a small bank to a larger bank last year.

Melcher said he discussed the matter with Exon last spring and several times since and that the state banking director contacted him later about the matter.

Charles Mitchell, deputy state banking director, said an investigation into the allegations was continuing and that he could not comment on it. But he said the 10 weeks or so the matter has been under investigation is not unusually long for that type of investigation.

Melcher said Shasteen asked him to charge Exon with several times the matter but refused.

Exon said when the case first came up he notified the attorney general who has been working on it with the state director of banking.

Plant Meets Requirements
The Nebraska Grain and Alcohol Co. says it met the Sept. 16 application deadline for a $15 million loan from the federal government to build a grain alcohol plant.

Dr. William Scheller, president of the company, said the firm is now eligible for one of four federal loan guarantees to build alcohol plants.

The company selected three Nebraska sites for the plant but would not reveal the locations. The final selection would be made by the engineering company that prepares the final designs for the facility.

Scheller said one of the main requirements for the plant was that the energy content of its products and byproducts be greater than the fossil fuel utilized in producing those products.

The company plans to make alcohol of a quality that could be used in gasoline-alcohol mixtures, such as gasohol — a blend of 90 percent unleaded gasoline and 10 percent grain alcohol.

The plant would also produce a number of industrial and chemical grades of alcohol.

Scheller said the plant planned would use about eight million bushels of grain annually, with an additional expansion planned. In its first year, he said, the facility would employ about 90 people and would have a payroll of more than $1 million.

Wont' Back Off
Even though U.S. Attorney Ed Warin said his investigation showed Gov. J. Exon clear of violating any state or federal law, the governor's Republican opponent refused to back off from his charges.

Don Shasteen said Warin's investigation was incomplete. Shasteen has sued Exon whom he opposes in the U.S. Senate election, was helped financially by improper sales by his Lincoln office equipment company to Agriculture, Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

In a news release, Warin said there was no reason for him to forward the findings of his investigation.

Statewide, those unemployed totaled 18,900 and the number of employed was 709,850. That was a decrease of 94,000 from August, but the decline reflected the usual seasonal decrease in agricultural workers, the Labor Department said.

Lincoln's unemployment rate was 2.2 percent, Omaha's was 3.5 percent and that of the outstate area was 1.9 percent.

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store heard reports Saturday night that offer good news for folks with clogged pipes, but bad news for folks that breathe. It was general agreed that together the two position papers made a strong case for old time doctoring in the wide open spaces.

First off, Bill Moudry brings this clipping where researchers in West Germany has found that Often the best answer you can give anyone is a simple and realistic one-word reply. But, if you're like me, those obvious replies don't come to mind until hours later when you're reliving an incident in self-disgust.

Sunday evening, realizing — too late — a reply I wished I'd made, I remembered something a friend once told me.

The friend, working as a counselor for delinquent girls, was alone at the time. The door to the office opened and in stepped a very confused young girl — knife in hand.

Having previous problems with the knife-wielding girl, the counselor was gripped by fear, but tried not to show it. Fear was not the answer — though it was the anticipated response of the assailant.

"What would you do if I attack you with this knife?" mumbled the confused young girl.

"My friend looked her directly in the eye and replied, quite calmly, "Bleed."

Such realism is hard to muster when it's most needed. In my friend's case, it possibly saved a life.

I won't forget that incident, though it was only told to me eating garlic keeps the blood vessels clean. They done tests that showed folks can guard against heart attacks by eating plenty of garlic to keep the cholesterol level in the blood low.

Bill said medical science has been trying to figure a way to fight cholesterol ever since they discovered the stuff. They have tried all kinds of drugs, and just have warned against eating just about everything, and Bill said they have come back to what the old herb doctor ordered.

General speaking, Mister Editor, the fellers accepted this word of a medical breakthrough with the feeling that it's great for me, but not so hot for you if I got to stay in the same room with you. But Bill went on to point out that the scientists already had dealt with side effects of global garlic gobbling.

They found out quick in their testing that what may be good for the heart for sure is bad for the breath. They come up with the finding, though, that if everybody eats garlic nobody will notice. So the smell will work in favor of clean veins and arteries. Folks that can't stand garlic will have to eat it in self defense.

Vic Benben said he recalled when he was a boy an old feller had TB in his neighborhood, and before he went away to a hospital he smelled of garlic all the time.

Vic said he learned years later that garlic was an antiseptic home remedy passed down for generations, but he figured it done about as much good as wearing a asefidity bag. Now he has found out that the stinking stuff really is good for someone.

Bill said that was mentioned in his report to. He said the German study showed garlic also kills bacteria that causes TB, Diptheria and other diseases.

Then Ed Vodehnal sifted through his clippings to come up with this item on trees being worst than smokstacks for polluting the air. For so long, Ed said, folks have thought getting out in the woods was good for them, and now it turns out all that sweet smelling air is full of hydrocarbons that are outlawed by the Environmental Protection Agency. These things are put off by trees, the EPA says, and they are the big reason the Smoky Mountains are smoky, and why you see a haze hanging over any big batch of woods burnings.

Ed said he always had thought that trees and other plants worked opposite from people. They use carbon dioxide and give off oxygen, and we do the other way around, Ed said, so we had ought to have plenty of plants around. He was of a mind that if we got to cut all the trees to clean up the air he'd rather breathe a few hydrocarbons with his oxygen. We would be in the spot of having to destroy the world in order to save it, was Ed's words.

Yours truly,

Card of Thanks

A special thank you should be extended to everyone who helped make this year's 1978 O.H.S. Homecoming one of the best.

Credit should be given to: all of the downtown businesses for the use of their windows; the police and fire department; the Veteran's Club and Rotary Club for sponsoring the homecoming dance; the Florette; the car owners who escorted the queen candidates; and finally to all of the student body and the parents who participated and supported our efforts.

Again we would like to thank you for taking such a keen interest in today's youth.

Sincerely,

Report Says Nebraskans Want State To Provide More Services

CAPITOL NEWS
By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association — Lincoln — A recent report said a majority of Nebraskans desire state government to do more in providing services.

Sociological Research, the report was part of a continuing study on the quality of life in the Cornhusker state.

The sampling of opinions covered such state programs as crime prevention, health, education, the elderly, management of water resources and programs for farmers.

Nearly 2,000 Nebraskans 18 or older, were interviewed by telephone during the survey last spring.

One interesting finding was that even when the majority of those questioned said they did not want certain programs expanded, a very small percentage said they wanted the state to cut back services in those areas.

A majority said they want the state to do more in energy resource management, prevention of crime, drug abuse and programs for the elderly.

Fewer expressed interest in the state government expanding health and elementary and secondary education services. Less than a majority favored more programs and services in the area of water resource management.

But even in those areas, the report said, nearly 40 percent of those responding wanted the state to do more. Most of the rest said Nebraska was doing "about right."

Alan Booth and Susan Welch, who assisted in the research, noted "overwhelming proportions" of those interviewed either favored the status quo or expanded programs, thus contradicting the heavy support among some Nebraskans for cutting on spending and reduction in taxes.

The researchers said this can partially be explained by other studies which show that even though people speak out against "big government," the same people do not want a cut in governmental services available to them.

The researchers theorized some Nebraskans probably believe expansion of services in one area could be accomplished by cutting services in another.

The report said the public apparently believes better efficiency could help reduce government spending and noted some politicians promise they will provide better government for less cost.

Adding up government employees, the military on active duty, the disabled and unemployed, the retired and those on welfare, Ford economists found a total of 80,655,000 tax dependents compared with 71,650,000 non-government workers.

Whose Fault?

Monday's city council meeting was a corker by any standards. An estimated 30 to 40 persons packed council chambers in City Hall and raised thunder over two approved paving districts.

According to comments made, those persons in the two districts didn't realize where the districts were, didn't know that a public hearing October 9 in council chambers was to hear protests, and were amazed to find themselves in the middle of the two areas scheduled to be paved.

Because they didn't know of the newly approved districts, the protestors requested the council to rescind the two areas.

Their argument leaves us dumbfounded. The Quiz told of the districts being created in a front page article, and a later issue carried a boxed announcement telling the time, place and date of the protest hearing.

Along with this, city council members ran all required legal notices.

Viewing these facts, we wonder how those in the districts escaped notice of where the two districts would run. And, if they didn't know of the districts until after they were approved, we wonder just whose fault it was? Theirs, or the city council's?

One excuse offered was that the Quiz didn't run a map of the proposed districts, as was done in earlier districts, prior to their approval at the October 9 public hearing. For this reason, said their lawyer J. Marvin Weems, his clients didn't have the slightest idea where the two districts would go. So he claimed.

While that argument is interesting, it poses yet another question. To wit: If this be true, then why was it people in other paving districts approved at the same time apparently knew where they would go.

One wise guy suggested a low literacy rate in the two districts drawing so much flack. Another, perhaps more logical explanation is that these sorely uninformed or misinformed people didn't take time to stop, look, and learn what was going on with the city council.

Remarks made by Dr. Otis Miller tend to confirm this latter explanation. During the session Monday, he suggested the council may have proposed and later approved the paving districts behind closed doors. Nonsense! These and all other paving districts were created, approved, and public hearings held on them in open council sessions at City Hall.

If these ill informed people didn't take time to find out what was going on, it was their own damn fault, and not that of the City Council.

Working Without Pay!

Though Nebraska law, governing school districts of Class II and III, states, in part, "Secretary of the board of education of a district of the second class, within ten days after any regular or special meeting thereof, shall publish one time in a legal newspaper published in or of general circulation in such district a list of claims, setting forth the name, amount and nature," it's been our experience with the Ord Board of Education to have to frequently remind them of their duty.

The aforementioned law was established so taxpaying citizens would know how their money was being spent. We feel every citizen should rightfully be provided with this information. This allows an accounting of all monies expended by the school district.

A large part of these claims — over 50% — are for salaries of school personnel including teachers and administrators. According to the law payments of these salaries and wages should be published as are any other claims against the school district.

We are sure the teachers and administrators aren't working without pay. Yet no such claims have showed up in the listing provided for publication under Nebraska law.

We wonder, first if such claims are being withheld in fear of the forthcoming vote on the Lid Bill placing a 3% limit on school spending.

Secondly we wonder how a six-member Board of Education can overlook such an obvious law when they are regularly publishing claims of private enterprise against the same school district, mandated under the same law.

We feel taxpayers have a right to know where ALL THEIR MONEY IS SPENT, and not simply that portion the Board of Education selects for publication.

Let's Hear It for Spirit Week Organizers

Hey! Let's hear it for the Ord High Student Council, Pat Grove, and Mrs. Jim Hansen, organizers of Spirit Week. In previous years the annual event has been observed, but this year it was OBSERVED.

The students got all fired up for the Broken Bow Ord game with everything from a best legs contest to a huge bonfire on the small ball diamond. Students were selling carnations (red and white — what else?) in the school Friday. A big pep rally that same day capped a week of frantic activity all geared for the Ord High Homecoming.

During the game that night, the identity of the Ord High Homecoming Queen was revealed.

It took some time, consideration, and hard work to get this act together. Our congratulations to all Spirit Week and Homecoming organizers. Bravo!

Dear Sir,

In response to the "FOR THE LID BILL" letter of Oct. 16, we feel several of the alleged facts are misconstrued and misleading. First, no one favors nor wants unlimited spending. On June 30, 1978, the Nebraska legislature imposed a 7% spending limitation on increases in the portion of local government budgets financed by local taxes. (Omaha World-Herald, Oct. 1, 1978) Local governments are already living under a controlled spending lid. Secondly, while it is true Nebraska ranks 8th nationally in real estate taxes, the state also ranks 33rd nationally in per capita general spending for all functions of state and local government. Nebraska also ranks 46th nationally in state aid to education. (Omaha World-Herald, Oct. 1, 1978 and Cooperative Extension Service brochure, 1978). The 5% spending lid bill would not affect monies collected in taxes; it would only affect monies spent in annual budgets. Having also attended the Oct. 9 school board meeting, the faculty representative referred to in the "FOR THE LID BILL" letter in fact said it would take two or three years for the full effect of the lid bill to be felt. Immediate impact would be felt, however, as indicated by the proposed program and service cuts listed in detail by the board that evening. In addition, a teacher may be

All teachers must serve a two-year probationary teaching period in this state before they ever qualify for tenure, or the continuous contract law. While on the subject, it should be pointed out that no public employee including policemen, firemen, teachers or others is allowed to strike under Nebraska state law. Finally, Nebraska teachers are not now nor have they ever been members of a "union". How unfortunately true that good hospital employees, county workers and educators would be drawn away from their respective fields by equal or better pay in other areas. How true and even more tragic that poorer or less-qualified workers could not afford to leave, as pointed out in the Vox Pop letter of Oct. 16. We expect quality services; why should we not expect to pay for them when delivered? As for the "fact" about title people, we challenge the author of the "FOR THE LID BILL" letter to document the charge that title people demand professional wages and do "little or no teaching". The same challenge goes for the "fact" about measuring the quality of education across the state. A fact means proof exists to back up the statement. The letter of Oct. 16 has many personal opinions, but little actual fact. Concerning the school's AA accreditation, at the time the accreditation was given to Ord Public Schools there was no cost involved. No programs or staff members were added to the curriculum to achieve the AA rating. It is simply one of three accreditations given out by the state. It does, however, reflect a total dedication on the part of Ord to a quality education for our young. Finally, no one disagrees that a more equitable tax base is in order. Too bad Measure 302 doesn't deal with that problem. No where in the wording of the bill does it guarantee lower taxes or a more equitable tax base. It simply ties that hands of local government with a 5% rope. AGAINST THE LID BILL (Name withheld at writer's request). October 24, 1978 Ord, NE 68862 Ord Quiz Readers Dear Friends: Over the years we have had the opportunity to compare how a number of local, state and federal government boards serve us. What we have seen causes us to agree with Thomas Jefferson that home rule is generally more responsible and less expensive than State or National rule. Local board members generally do what a majority of us affected by a given decision want and they watch our purse strings. The others don't. Let's give our local officials and board members a vote of confidence by voting "no" on Proposition 302. Their job is tough enough without tying their hands behind their back. Above all, let's not give up home rule. Remember, Proposition 302 is aimed against home rule, not against state or federal rule, where it is needed. Proposition 302 is a lot like buying out of town. We pay more, don't know what we are getting and we have no service. Sincerely, J. Marvin Weems October 24, 1978 Dear Vox Pop: No Athletics, Hot Lunches, Busing, Music Department, Vocational, Agriculture, Home Economics, or Special Education — yes, any one and most of these are likely to be cut from the Ord Public school system if the LID Bill 302 is passed November 7. As a concerned O.H.S. student, I feel the need to express my feelings regarding the proposed amendment to the Nebraska Constitution, the LID, which will be included in this November's ballot. 1. 302 places a 5% limit on the budgets of all subdivisions of government which levy taxes or cause taxes to be levied. This is different than Calif. Proposition 13, which limited property taxes. 2. 302 would have the effect of limiting the services of local governmental units, such as city, county, school districts, sanitary improvement districts and many others. 3. Local control would be hurt. The responsibility for services which could not be provided by local government would have to be shifted to state and federal control. 4. Since 302 places a limit on budgets, rather than taxes, local governments may be forced to increase their budgets to the

Dear For The Lid Bill:
I like you when I first heard of the Lid Bill. I thought, "Oh boy, at last we can keep the school from spending so much money and get some changes." Please look a little further at the bill. This will put a fix on all budgets. Let's take a suppose case — the hospital has more patients so needs more nurses and supplies, they have a major break down in the furnace and roof repair is needed. A member of your family needs emergency treatment, because of the Lid Bill they die. As the hospital repaired the building and couldn't hire personnel to take care of emergencies. If the coal plant comes to Comstock you are going to need a bigger police force in Ord and Valley Co. How will you get this? These are just two instances, there are many more. Please do more research before you vote yes on the lid bill. I understand it will also mean more State and Federal control all down the line. Do you want this? I don't. I changed My Mind Vote No On the Lid Bill. (name withheld at writer's request)
